Senate-Approved Labor Bill Tossed to Representatives

FROM OUR WIRES

WASHINGTON — The fiery election-year issue of labor legislation was tossed into the House today in the form of a Senate-adopted bill to make 50,000 employe pension and welfare funds racketeer-proof.

The measure was passed unanimously by the Senate last night after a Democratic-and-liberal-Republican coalition defeated a four-day GOP drive to transform the bill into major union clean-up legislation. The vote was 88 to 0.

Senate Minority Leader William F. Knowland (R-Calif), labeling the measure merely a "first faltering step" in labor reform, said he hoped the House would use it as an instrument to write more sweeping legislation.

Prospects appeared dim, however, that the House would move toward revising labor laws.

A more likely prospect was a bitter election-year Senate battle in mid-June, the time that Democratic leaders promised to produce a broader bill to cope with abuses disclosed in the labor-management field by the Senate Rackets Committee.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), one of the sponsors of the Pension and Welfare Fund Disclosure Bill, said he would launch hearings next Monday on comprehensive labor legislation with Knowland as an early witness.

He said the bill passed last night "goes far." But Republican senators branded it as "namby pamby" "lollipop," and "milquetoast" legislation.

★ ★ ★

The Democrat-liberal GOP bloc rejected 14 amendments proposed by the White House and by Senate Republicans, including Knowland. Unanimous acceptance, however, was accorded a proposal by Sen. Karl Mundt (R-SD), to ban from administering pension and welfare funds individuals who have been deprived of their voting rights after being convicted of a felony.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), told the Senate the Republican amendments would have impeded passage this year of the bill.

The measure marked the Senate's first legislative step to clear abuses disclosed by the Senate Rackets Committee in its first year-end report last month.

It requires full disclosure to the Secretary of Labor of all employe pension and welfare funds, including those administered by

You Can Move in Sack—Marilyn

By HENRIETTA LEITH

NEW YORK (AP)—Marilyn Monroe, the gal who can wear a sack better than most—but shouldn't—postured prettily today in an extreme sack and explained why she's buying nothing else these days.

It's the movement," she explained. "A sack allows you to move, and it moves with you. And movement is —well, movement is good."

The occasion was an interview in which the interviewer — who thinks sacks are awful—was trying to find out why Marilyn thinks they are so wonderful.

Marilyn's new living room has white walls, white drapes, an almost white rug, and almost all white furniture. Just a little bit of black here and there.

Marilyn's new chemise was all black crepe except for a big white organdy bow where there used to be a decolletage.

In fact, she said, it was shorter than any of her other sacks —maybe a little too short. So she had to keep hitching it down, which provided even more movement.

"I hate all this stuff they've been wearing, where you had to wear stays—cinched in—all that sort of thing," said Marilyn. "It stays in one place, and moves all together, like this." She imitated an old-fashioned dress, moving all together.

Impanel Jury for Trial of Van Horn in Murder

A Circuit Court jury of six men and six women was impaneled today to decide the fate of Billy Ray Van-Horn, 24-year-old unemployed welder accused of slaying a Waterford Township housewife in a drunken rage.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem was prepared to ask for a verdict finding Van Horn guilty of first-degree murder. Van Horn's counsel, Brakie J. Orr, was appointed by the court.

Trial got under way late this morning before Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty. Ziem said that about 42 witnesses would be called by both prosecution and defense.

Ziem said he intended to introduce Van Horn's confession into the trial as important evidence that the accused man brutally murdered Mrs. Hazel Murdock, 39, in her home, 127 N. Josephine St. last Jan. 24.

Orr last week had attempted to have the confession suppressed, but Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland denied this move.

The victim was stabbed, strangled, beaten and criminally assaulted. She and her husband, Drulard, 55, a carpenter, had befriended Van Horn in an attempt to help curb his drinking.

In the confession, Van Horn admitted the slaying, saying he had become enraged when the woman criticized him for having been drinking beer. Van Horn is married and the father of one child.

Gang's Chieftain Sneers, Boasts About Slaying

NEW YORK (INS)—A 20-year-old youth gang chieftain was held without bail for a hearing today following arraignment on a homicide charge in the shotgun slaying of a rival.

★ ★ ★

Ramon Serra, boastful and still breathing defiance, was scheduled to appear in Bronx Adolescent court. At the same time the Bronx district attorney was to go before a grand jury to seek a first degree murder indictment.

Serra alternately sneered at and joked with newsmen yesterday as he was whisked to the police lineup and then to Adolescent Court where he was arraigned.

Asked whether he was sorry he had killed Michael Ramos, 17, Saturday night, he declared:

"In a way I am and in a way I'm not."

★ ★ ★

Get Overcoats Out, Winter Due Back!

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued a freeze warning today for Pontiac and the entire state of Michigan.

The temperature is expected to drop to a low of near 30 tonight.

Chilly weather will continue through Thursday, when, forecasters say, snow flurries are likely in the upper peninsula and northern half of the lower peninsula.

Wednesday will be partly cloudy with little change in temperatures. Tomorrow's high will be around 45-49.

★ ★ ★

For the next five days temperatures will average about 8 degrees below the normal high of 62 degrees and the normal low of 42. Friday will be warmer. Precipitation will total around one-half inch in showers about Friday or Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The lowest recording preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 42 degrees. The mercury stood at 46 at 1 p.m.

Find Farmer, 71, Shot to Death

Believe Pearl Snover Was Murdered, Robbed in Metamora Home

A 71-year-old retired farmer found shot to death yesterday afternoon in his Metamora home is believed to have been murdered and robbed.

★ ★ ★

The body of Pearl H. Snover of 850 W. Dryden Rd. was discovered by Lapeer County Sheriff William J. Porter and Deputy Kenneth Parks when they broke open the door of his home after neighbors reported they hadn't seen Snover since Friday.

Snover had been shot in the chest with a .22 calibre rifle which lay at his side.

Snover's empty wallet also lay at his side and he had no money on him.

Dr. Lyle Riddell, Lapeer County coroner, said he could find no powder burns on the man's clothing. They were sent to Lansing for further laboratory, tests.

Tighten Speed Check

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit police Monday were directed to tighten enforcement of the 25 mile an hour speed limits in residential neighborhoods. A directive said five children already have been killed this year on residential streets.

Donaldson, Dugan Win Commission Posts

Commissioner William W. Donaldson has been elected to his third consecutive two-year term as mayor of Pontiac. Commissioner John A. Dugan has been re-elected mayor pro tem.

The two were voted back into office by the seven-member 1958-1960 City Commission at its organizational meeting last night. Both commissioners called for "teamwork and cooperation" on the part of the other commission members.

Donaldson, a District 3 insurance agent, edged out Philip E. Rowston, District 2 representative, by a five-to-two vote. Dugan was also nominated for the top office, but received no votes.

Dugan, a Pontiac Motor Division employe from District 5, was able to win sufficient votes to get back to his post of mayor pro tem. He received five votes while the other two nominees, Rowston and District 4 Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, got one vote each.

Nominations and voting were by secret ballot. All of the nominees were incumbents.

BEGINNING FIFTH TERM

Donaldson, 52, of 153 W. Lawrence St. is beginning his fifth two-year term on the commission. He served from 1944-1948 and from 1954 to date. He has been mayor since 1954.

Dugan, 49, of 363 Nelson St., was first elected to the commission in 1954 and has served as mayor pro tem since then.

Of the other commissioners, Miles is beginning his third term and Rowston his second. Beginning their first terms are Milton R. Henry, District 1; Wesley J. Wood, District 6; and Robert A. Landry, District 7.

The Mayor's job pays a flat $2,000 a year. The other Commissioners are paid $25 a meeting, with a ceiling of $1,300 a year.

Once more seated in his position at the head of the Commission table, Donaldson said:

Jobless Relief Proposal Facing Showdown Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—A controversial unemployment relief bill faces a showdown vote today in the House Rules Committee, with signs pointing to its approval for House consideration starting tomorrow.

It was drafted by House Ways and Means Committee Democrats over Republican opposition. Its sponsors say it is needed to offset the effects of widespread unemployment. Its foes have called it a dole.

The Rules Committee ended hearings on the bill yesterday as House Republicans at a party huddle spoke out almost unanimously in opposition. Most of them favor a modified administration measure.

There have been strong hints that President Eisnhower would veto the Democrats' bill in its present form. He called some of its provisions "a dole . . . nothing else" at his news conference last week. Eisenhower's own proposals are not as broad.

The bill would finance out of the U. S. Treasury up to 16 weeks of additional unemployment benefits to idle workers who have exhausted their benefits under state programs.

Similar payments would go also to those who have not been eligible for aid under these programs. Its estimated cost would be 1½ billion dollars if the benefits are fully used.

★ ★ ★

Major point of contention is the provision for payments to jobless men and women who have not been participants in federal-state conpensation programs.

Judge Postpones Retrial of Hoffa Until May 15

NEW YORK (AP) — The wiretap conspiracy retrial of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa has been postponed until May 15.

Federal Judge John M. Cashin yesterday granted a government motion to adjourn the trial until that date because of the continuing investigation of the Teamsters by a Senate committee.

It is expected that the committee will complete its investigation by then.

Cashin had said previously he would declare a mistrial if the committee hearing involved the union or Hoffa.

The first trial of Hoffa ended with a deadlocked jury last Dec. 20.

Weather Snags 5,000-Man Jump

Mass Airdrop Postponed

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky. (INS)—The 101st Airborne Division's mass drop, involving 5,000 men from 126 planes at Fort Campbell, Ky., has been postponed subject to change with better weather.

Gen. R. H. Rucker, assistant division commander, called off the jump with the explanation, "The weather doesn't look promising, but should it clear we will hold the drop later in the day."

Five paratroopers were killed and 155 injured last Wednesday when the troops attempted their first jump of exercise "Eagle Wing." Since then five jumping dates were postponed because of bad weather.

Maj. Gen. W. B. Westmoreland, the division commander, and an aide were the only men to make any jumps yesterday. The general found the conditions "unsatisfactory" and called off the attempt.

Reuther's Bid to Extend Pacts Turned Down

Chrysler Also Expected to Reject 3-Month Delay on New Agreements

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. have given Walter P. Reuther an emphatic no to his proposal to put off until September a showdown in bargaining on new labor contracts.

Chrysler Corp. is expected to make it unanimous.

The United Auto Workers Union yesterday asked the big three car makers for a three-months extension of present contracts, which run out at the end of May.

Reuther said his motive was to allow time for a gigantic clearance sale to help the car makers market 850,000 unsold new cars. He suggested the manufacturers cut prices.

The union, he said, would give up a 6 cents an hour prodictivity increase June 1 but would insist upon retaining cost of living increases and layoff pay benefits during the summer months.

General Motors and Ford accused Reuther of stalling in an attempt to improve his bargaining position by withholding threat of a strike until the companies start production of 1959 models.

Both made a counterproposal. They offered to extend the present contracts for two years, giving workers built-in annual wage increases of at least 6 cents an hour and also cost of living increases.

The lifting of a news blackout on bargaining talks that started a month ago disclosed the auto industry and the union were far apart, with no immediate prospect of reaching any kind of an agreement.

General Motors said the union demands would amount to an increase of more than 73 cents an hour. Ford estimated the demands at more than 71 cents an hour.

The companies said these were demands for wage increases and fringe benefits and did not include the union's profit sharing demand.

The union called these estimates fantastic but gave none of its own.

Harlow H. Curtice, General Motors president, and Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Co., indicated the companies are ignoring the profit sharing demand. Ford termed Reuther's proposal "representative of an attitude that is ruthlessly opportunistic."

Dr. Sullenberger Back at Hospital —as a Patient

Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger was back in Pontiac General Hospital today, this time as a patient facing possible surgery for a ruptured spinal disc.

★ ★ ★

The 42-year-old chest surgeon, who was suspended from the hospital medical staff last Nov. 13, was admitted to the hospital yesterday by Dr. Eugene J. Nalepa and listed in good condition today. The surgery to correct his condition, brought about by an old injury, has not been definitely scheduled as yet.

Dr. Sullenberger brought a $250,000 damage suit against the hospital for reinstatement, but the suit was tossed out of Circuit Court April 11 by Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn.

★ ★ ★

Judge Quinn ruled that the surgeon had not taken full advantage of grievance procedures at the hospital. But Dr. Sullenberger has said he would appeal the dismissal to the Michigan Supreme Court.

Icebreaker Calls It Quits

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — The Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw tied up at its home port here Monday, its operations completed until next winter. Capt. Evor S. Kerr, the vessel's skipper, said the ship was busy 71 days this winter, the longest icebreaking season since it was commissioned in 1944.

Third Stage Fails to Ignite in Navy Satellite Try

Vanguard Roars 1,500 Miles, Fizzles, Falls Into Sea

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy's latest Vanguard satellite rocket roared off to a grand start last night but splashed into the Atlantic 1,500 miles later when it fizzled in flight.

It carried a 20-inch sphere equipped with delicate instruments to study X rays shooting from the sun. The Navy says it did gain some important information from the abortive flight.

The Navy reported 20 minutes after the successful launching that the third stage of the vehicle — powered by a solid fuel propellant — failed to ignite. Vanguard never came close to the 18,000 m.p.h. velocity necessary to boost a satellite into orbit.

Up to this time — through four previous firings of the temperamental missile — the first and second stages, powered by liquid fuels, were the biggest Navy headaches.

It was reported that the first two stages performed flawlessly this time.

The first Vanguard satellite, the second of three moons fired into orbit, currently is circling the earth in an egg-shaped arc.

Racing along in orbit with the Navy moon are the Army's two successful projects, the cylindrical Explorers I and III, launched Jan. 31 and March 26, respectively.

The X-ray experiment, which the Navy hoped would shed some light on why solar flares interrupt short-wave communications and possibly cause violent storms on earth, apparently died with the ill-fated rocket.

Officials said there is no hope of recovering the second and third stages which plunged into the sea about 1,500 miles from here.

The failure was the latest in a series of delays and mishaps that have plagued the Vanguard program.

The Vanguard carried its heaviest payload yet, but officials said this was compensated by leaving out of this rocket some of the bulky test equipment that accompanied Vanguard I to an orbit March 17.

The Vanguard II payload, equipped with one battery-powered radio transmitter compared with two in its successful predecessor, carried two memory cores to relay data back to earth.

If the satellite had hit an orbit, the cores would automatically switch from "store" to "read out" each time the moon entered sunlight after escaping the earth's shadow.

Also aboard were microphones to record the impact on micro meteorite and telemetry equipment designed to broadcast information on the effect of the particles as they slammed against the satellite's surface.

Tallest Building in Detroit Afire

Blazing Tank of Oil in Penobscot Results in $50,000 Damage

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's tallest building, the 48-story Penobscot, caught fire today. Damage was estimated at $50,000 to $75,000.

The blaze started in a faulty filter motor in the building's ventilating system, setting off a 300-gallon tank of oil used in the second basement.

Clouds of black, greasy smoke billowed through the building and a broken pipe, believed cracked by heat, sent thousands of gallons of water cascading through the building's colonnade and basements. The fire itself was confined to the oil tank and a system of ducts in a tangle of electric conduits and water and heating pipes.

Damage was heaviest in the first-floor colonnade shops and restaurant. Despite gas masks and compressed air forced into the basements, two firemen were overcome and treated at the scene for smoke inhalation.

★ ★ ★

Charles M. Treadway, building engineer, discovered the blaze shortly after turning on the ventilating system motor. Police arson detectives John MacDonald said the filter motor apparently overheated and froze, creating a spark that set the oil tank.

"Imagine a 300-gallon smudge pot," MacDonald said. "That's what it was."

Nineteen pieces of fire fighting equipment, manned by 75 firemen, were called to the downtown, financial district (Griswold street) scene. The fire was discovered at 2:40 a.m. and was under control at 5 a.m.

Skelton's Son Holds On

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Red Skelton's son Richard, 9, is making no progress in his fight with leukemia, yet seems to be holding his own, a family spokesman said. The boy has not attended school for some time. He is tutored at home and he goes to the UCLA Medical Center once a week for checkups.

Know the Weather

By E. H. Sims

Is psychology a factor in weather's influence on our feelings?

Yes, psychology is closely interwoven with the weather. But a storm or rainy session which depresses so many works both from the psychological angle and from the physical.

A low-pressure (bad weather) system affects the nerves and tissues of the body and often irritates corns, bunions, etc., because the pressure of the air on our bodies decreases. High humidity is also often uncomfortable.

In addition, many are depressed with the darker days and dampness of cloudy, low-pressure weather, from the psychological point of view. Thus people are affected, both psychologically and physically, by a low pressure.

'Skil' Attorney Says Firm's Game Legal

The attorney for a firm dispensing a new game called "Skil" in the Pontiac area today upheld the game as legal.

Anthony Renne, of Pontiac, said the bingo-like game, which has been devised by Skil Enterprises Limited, "definitely" falls outside the definition of a lottery as established by the Supreme Court."

Last Friday, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said the game was a lottery and thus illegal in Michigan.

"The Supreme Court of Michigan decides the law and we are certain that the game of skil requires a certain amount, even though it may be small, of reason, judgment and sagacity on the part of the player," said Renne.

"Under these circumstances, it definitely falls outside the definition of a lottery as established by the Supreme Court."

★ ★ ★

The game differs from bingo in that players, using numbered squares, must reach a total of 21 with them instead of just blacking-out a line from called letter-number combinations.

Appointing Pair to Planning Unit

Commission to Get Rolls on Two Street, 5 Sidewalk Projects

City Commissioners are scheduled tonight to make two appointments to the City Planning Commission.

One is to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation this month of Frank W. Marsh, chairman the past eight years. The other appointee will be a member of the present City Commission.

Commissioners also will receive assessment rolls prepared for two street and five sidewalk projects. Public hearings on the rolls will be next week.

The street improvements include repaving and widening of Opdyke road (M 24) from Square Lake road to Walton boulevard and paving of Taylor street, Oak Hill to Ellwood.

The Opdyke project will be undertaken by the State Highway Department.

Sidewalk improvements are scheduled on the west side of Seminole avenue, Menominee to Algonquin; east side of Blaine street from High street about 500 feet south; east side of Joslyn avenue extension, Perry to Linda Vista; and in front of three lots on the east side of N. Jessie street.

State Opening Bids Thursday on Fleet of Mackinac Ferries

LANSING (AP) — The final act of "Farewell to the Fleet" begins here Thursday with the opening of bids on the five state-owned ferries at the Straits of Mackinac.

Inquiries from potential buyers have come from as far as Greece and Uruguay.

Chances are good that none of the boats will stay in Michigan.

"We don't know yet how many offers will be submitted, but we've sent out information to 89 interested parties," said Philip H. Anderson, deputy purchasing director for the State Department of Administration.

All five ferries have been sitting idle since the 100-million-dollar straits bridge was opened to traffic in November. The state has put them up for sale as surplus property.

"Possibly they'll be out of our hands within 30 days after bids are opened," said Anderson.

The boats range in size from the 345-foot Vacationland, acquired in 1952 at a cost of $4,745,000, to the 149-foot Straits of Mackinac, built in 1928 and bought by the state for $367,587.

Altogether, they cost the state $6,600,000. A marine engineering firm recently appraised them at $4,718,000, with the Vacationland accounting for all but $468,000 of the total.

"What we actually get for them depends on such things as whether there are any buyers who plan to put them into use on the Great Lakes," said Anderson. "It could be an expensive proposition to take the Vacationland out of the Great Lakes, largely because of the height of its superstructure."

"On the other hand," he said, "the Straits of Mackinac can be put to a good many uses and we expect to get more than the $38,000 appraised valuation for it."

There has been talk of turning the Straits of Mackinac into a floating laboratory for the Great Lakes Marine Institute. The State of Washington Toll Bridge Authority has shown an interest in buying one or more for transportation on Pudget Sound.

The Chicago Assn. of Commerce and Industries looked into the possibility of using the Vacationland as a floating dining room and clubhouse during a fair planned for 1959.

Other inquiries have come from the City Industrial Committee at Yarmouth, Nova Scotia; the Alaska Sportsman Magazine at Ketchikan, Alaska; Autobuques, S. A., Montevicdeo, Uruguay; Nemar Trading Enterprises, Piraeus, Greece; and from Miami, Montreal, San Francisco, Boston and numerous Great Lakes ports.

★ ★ ★

Chances have virtually disappeared for putting any of the ferries into service on Saginaw Bay or Lake Michigan or of keeping one in mothballs on a standby basis at the straits.

The state needs the money.

unions, by management or jointly.

The various plans now in existence involve about 35 billion dollars. They are run by employers alone, by employers and unions, or by unions or employe associations. Ninety per cent are administered by employers.

In some cases the employers pay all the costs: in some employers and employes both contribute. The bill covers all types of private — as distinguished from government or state — welfare or pensions plans although those covering fewer than 100 persons are exempted at the start.

It makes no difference how they're sponsored, financed, underwritten or administered if they provide one or more of the following benefits for employes or their dependents:

Medical, surgical or hospital care, or benefits in the event of sickness, disability, death, unemployment or retirement.

This is what the bill — if it becomes law — calls for:

Those charged with responsibility for management of a welfare or pension plan must file an annual report on it with the Labor Department and must provide this information:

Detailed accounting for the money put into a plan, the money spent by it, the salaries and fees charged to the plan, to whom paid, in what amount, and for what purpose.

And this report filed with the government must be based on an audit by an independent, licensed accountant. The various documents required to be filed with the government under this bill will be open to public inspection.

Those taking part in a plan — or other interested parties — can get a summary of the information filed with the secretary of labor by asking him for it.

In administering this act the secretary would be assisted by a 13-man advisory council made up of representatives of labor, management, the public, and other interested parties.

There are criminal penalties for willful false statements, the destruction of records, embezzlement, kickbacks and other self-dealing.

10-POINT REPORT GIVEN

Rounding out last night's brief session was a 10-point report by City Manager Walter K. Willman on problems facing the new Commission.

He said the administration would present soon a plan for a $200,000 municipal parking lot in the vicinity of Pontiac General Hospital, to be financed mostly by revenue bonding and paid off by parking meter revenues.

Another upcoming report, Willman said, would be the one on the Police Department being completed by the Public Administration Service of Chicago. This is due "most any day," Willman said, and should contain recommendations to increase "the operating efficiency of the department."

Willman's report also covered: (1) the possibility a new sewage treatment plant costing about $3,100,000 will have to be built; (2) Pontiac General Hospital operating finances; (3) a new water supply, either from Detroit or the Southeastern Michigan Water Authority; (4) continued improvements at Pontiac Municipal Airport; (5) A new policy affecting municipal services provided by Pontiac to surrounding communities; (6) Improvement of local and arterial streets under a plan proposed in the city's $18,000 traffic study; (7) urban renewal; and (8) new public buildings, such as a main fire hall, new library and the civic auditorium.

Willman told commissioners that "these problems will require your careful study and consideration during your term in office."

Gets Mad at His Wife, Vents Anger on Car

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A Kalamazoo man who assaulted his car instead of his wife has been placed on probation for a year. He pleaded guilty in Municipal Court to a charge of reckless driving.

Sidney J. Perkins, 29, told Judge Clark M. Olmsted yesterday he got mad at his wife, broke the windshield, and then drove the family car into a telephone pole. His wife called police to stop the destruction.

Judge Olmsted sentenced him to pay a fine of $25, a probationary fine of $25, and to surrender his driver's license for a year.

In the other roll call, the Senate rejected by a 52-34 vote an administration amendment to waive bargaining election requirements in the building trades field in certain cases.

Lakes Dispute Affects Canada

Pilots Group Planning to Picket in Hamilton and Toronto

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A dispute between Great Lakes pilots and the Shipping Federation of Canada spread to Canadian ports today as the Lake Pilots Assn. said it would picket in Toronto and Hamilton.

Capt. Thomas Wilson, vice-president of the Great Lakes Pilots Assn., said last night he has won the assurance of the International Longshoremens Assn. that its stevedores will honor pilots' picket lines.

Some authorities claim the dispute is costing operators $600 to $900 a ship for each day's delay during the dispute over continuous pilotage throughout the Lakes.

Capt. Wilson stid Toronto stevedores, members of the ILA, will refuse to unload cargo destined for the United States, but cargo labeled for Canada will be unloaded.

A temporary injunction was issued in Toledo yesterday against picketing of foreign vessels trying to unload there. A similar injunction was sought in Cleveland today.

Two ships have gone aground during the dispute, both in the area where the shipping federation is willing to carry pilots. The lake pilots have refused to assign pilots anywhere in the system unless they are carried on the entire voyage.

The German freighter Ciandra pulled herself free in three hours from a sandpit in the St. Clair River Saturday with little damage. She did not have a pilot aboard.

Yesterday's accident involved the Danish motorship Skern which went aground near Grosse Isle in the Detroit River. She was stranded for 14 hours and had to be assisted by a tug. The Skern carried a pilot, but Capt. Wilson said he was not a union member.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A petition asking the removal of Godfrey P. Schmidt— as a monitor of the Teamsters Union, has been filed in U.S. District Court.

John Cunningham of New York, who served as chairman of a Teamsters' rank-and-file committee which sued to bar James R. Hoffa from the union presidency, filed the petition.

Cunningham said Schmidt, a New York attorney, "serves three masters—the plaintiffs, the court, and his own interests."

The papers on file said Schmidt did not consult with Cunningham before asking a $350,000 fee for himself and two other attorneys who represented the rank-and-file committee.

The suit to bar Hoffa was terminated in January under a compromise agreement which allowed Hoffa to take over as president of the Teamsters. One section of the agreement provided for a three-member panel of monitors to watch over union affairs.

18 Months to 14 Years for Bad Check Passing

A sentence of 18 months to 14 years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson was handed to 34-year-old Frank J. Modrick of 26459 Lorenz Ave., Madison Heights, yesterday.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland pronounced sentence, with a recommendation for the minimum time. Modrick pleaded guilty April 14 to passing a $46 bad check.

The Day in Birmingham

Commissioner's Absence Deadlocks Vote on Taxis

BIRMINGHAM—The absence of Commissioner Harry Denyes from the Birmingham City Commission meeting last night might well have changed the taxicab picture in the city.

Voting on the Police and Taxicab Board's recommendation to deny bond plates to a new company and to grant three more licenses to the Birmingham Veteran's Cab Co. ended in a 3-3 deadlock.

A separate motion was made by Commissioner William Hutchinson to accept the application of the Bloomfield Cab Co. to operate four cabs in the city was adopted by 4-2.

The company, owned by Sam Reeves and Harlem Ives, will operate two cabs in Bloomfield Township and Bloomfield Hills as well as the four in Birmingham.

Commissioners also approved the necessity of the three sections of the road oiling program.

The recommendation of Traffic Engineer T. M. Vanderstempl6 and the Police Department for a traffic signal at the Adams-Lincoln intersection was approved.

A recent survey showed that more than 10,000 vehicles pass through the intersection in a 12-hour period.

The Birmingham Fire Department early Monday answered one of its most unusual calls. It was requested to put out a fire in a tree.

Carl Reynolds Jr. told police he had been burning trash behind his home at 734 Shepherdbush Rd. and the flames got into a hollow tree which acted as a chimney.

The top 20 feet of the tree had to be removed before firemen could extinguish the blaze.

The department also answered a call this morning at the apartment of Miss Janet Martin, 188 Townsend St. The blaze is believed to have started when ash trays were emptied into a waste paper basket.

Fire Chief Park Smith estimated smoke damage to the apartment and its contents at between $2,000 and $3,000. Damage to the building was not determined.

Freight Cars Derailed, No Injuries Reported

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — Eighteen cars of an eastbound Canadian National Railways freight train jack-knifed into a pile of torn and twisted metal last night at Komaka 10 miles west of here.

Traffic on the twin lines connecting London and Sarnia was halted for at least 24 hours.

First reports said a burned out journal box was the most likely reason for the derailment.

D. W. Emms, London division assistant superintendent, said it would be 24 hours at least before traffic would be moving again.

Derailed cars, most laden with grain and many of them snapped open along their seams, were strewn along a 200 yard section of the line. Telegraph lines were snapped when a box car flipped upside down and landed between two poles.

No one was injured.

Waterford Acts on Heating Code

To Seek Membership in Standard-Setting State Reciprocal Council

At last night's regular Waterford Township board meeting members discussed a proposed heating code for the township to eliminate fire hazards as well as protect new home buyers against inadequate heating installations.

The board voted to seek membership in the Heating Reciprocal Council, a recognized state organization which sets up heating standards for all townships.

In other business, board members approved the rezoning from residential to commercial of 22 lots in the Monroe Subdivision and two lots of the Frembes Subdivision.

The rezoning of four lots in the Maceday Gardens Subdivision from residential to commercial were tabled until next week pending Board investigation of the area.

Board members were authorized to send a letter to the Oakland County Road Commission requesting permission to erect a 5-by-10-foot sign on the Frank Steere property.

Steere, who has donated some 17 choice acres to the township for a cultural center, requested that the sign be set up to designate the site for the proposed center on the corner of M59 and Pontiac Lake road.

Although the board has chosen a seven-member Unemployment Arbitration Committee, the names were withheld until the appointees can be contacted to verify their acceptance.

The board approved the hiring of an additional patrolman for the Police Department, effective immediately.

A hearing has been set for May 12 for the blacktopping of Lansdowne street in Huron Gardens Subdivision and Camely street near Airport road.

Mid-Continent Chilled

Winds Blast Spring Away

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gusty northwest winds fanned cold air across the mid-continent today, blowing the bloom of the early spring weather.

★ ★ ★

The raw breezes from Canada, moving south and eastward, put a chill in the air from the Dakotas into northwest Texas and to Lake Michigan.

It was a little like winter in the northern Plains and upper Mississippi Valley as temperatures dropped into the teens and 20s, some 20 to 25 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier.

At Duluth, Minn., on Lake Superior, and at Grand Forks, N. D., the mercury dropped to 14 degrees. Similar readings were indicated in northern sections of the frosty belt. Southward, temperatures were in the 30s and 40s in the central Plains and parts of the Mississippi Valley and to the 50s in northwestern Texas.

★ ★ ★

Blowing snow hit parts of the Dakotas and Minnesota yesterday and cold wave warnings were posted for areas from North Dakota to Wisconsin. Freezing weather was indicated in Iowa southward into northwestern Oklahoma.

★ ★ ★

Thunderstorms and strong winds lashed north and east Texas during the night, while a tornado destroyed several homes near Comanche. Funnel clouds were reported in parts of north Texas. Rivers and streams were bankful in many northeast communities.

Ike Reviews Economy

Tax Cut Pressure Grows

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower reviews the economic situation with Republican leaders today amid signs renewed pressure is building up in Congress to cut taxes.

Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Anderson have stood firmly against any tax reductions up to now, but no firm decision on future action has been reached.

With organized labor renewing its demands for tax relief and the administration leaving itself in a position to decide either way, influential Democrats said they are getting new pressure to do something quickly in this field.

As an example, one highly placed Democrat said economists who have been advising him have shifted in the last two weeks from advocacy of a public works program to support for general tax reductions to bolster employment.

Because corporation and some excise rates otherwise would decline on June 3, Congress must wrestle with a tax bill of some kind before that date. But there have been indications from House members that a final decision may be postponed until July. The House originates tax bills.

★ ★ ★

Surviving are his wife, Eleanor; two daughters, Marilyn and Mrs. Norbert Kulsavage, and two sons, George Jr., and Richard.

The body will be at the Ted Sullivan Funeral Home, Detroit, until time of service.

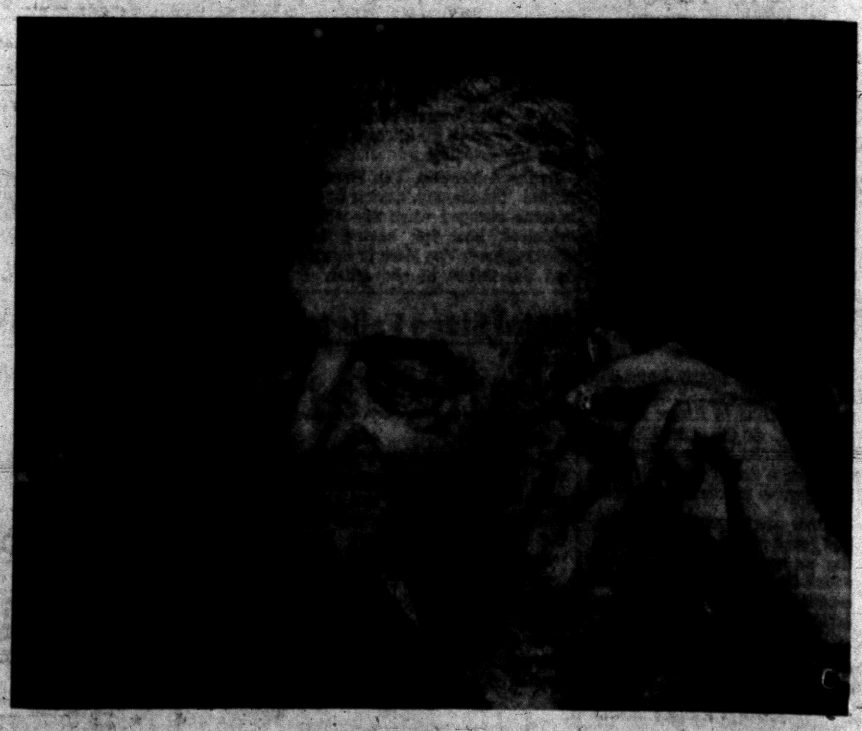

Hirohito Celebrating 57th Birthday Today

Before the day is over, 100,000 Japanese are expected to stream into the palace grounds for a glimpse of the shy, bespectacled man who once was considered a god.

An elaborate mythology traces Hirohito back 2,618 years and 124 generations to the sun-goddess Amaterasu — but today the emperor was just a "good Joe" to the thousands who shouted congratulations at him.

Tomorrow

In the next ten crucial years we must find room for some 25 million more people and automobiles. Our population and economy are expanding that fast.

This problem affects your family and neighborhood. For most of the new families will use existing facilities and roads. The increase on wear and tear will be enormous. In your community, there could be serious overcrowding, more traffic . . . poorer schools, parks, playgrounds, neighborhood facilities of all kinds.

The danger of blight growing and spreading is acute. The threat of slums raising your taxes and lowering your property values is very real. The time to act is now. Tomorrow is too late. Keep up your own home. Work with your neighbors in community-improvement groups.

Warn Soviets Cutting In

Businessmen Ask Nixon to Aid Uruguay Industry

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Warned that the Soviet Union is cutting in on U.S. markets in Latin America, Vice President Nixon was urged by local U.S. businessmen last night to back moves to revive Uruguay's wool sales to the United States.

Nixon, here on the first leg of a good will tour of eight Latin-American nations, discussed the wool situation for 40 minutes with a 15-man delegation. Assistant Secretary of State Roy R. Rubottom and Samuel C. Waugh, president of the Export-Import Bank, sat in on the talks.

The delegation said the United States is losing the Uruguayan market because of the high prices asked by this dollar-short land and stiff duties imposed by the United States.

The group urged that the United States buy wool from Uruguay for its foreign aid program with payment in dollars instead of letting aid recipients purchase the wool in softer currencies. It was also suggested that the Export-Import Bank float a loan to tide Uruguay over the balance of payment difficulties.

Wool has been Uruguay's biggest export item. Heavy sales were made recently to the Soviet Union, which has been negotiating to sell Uruguay 10 tankerloads of petroleum and 2,000 tons of cotton.

Informed sources here said Uruguay now has under consideration an import quota allocation which would give the United States only a two-million-dollar share of 75 million dollars in trade. The United States sold Uruguay more than 12 million dollars worth of goods in 1957.

Large, applauding crowds turned out for Nixon's appearances as he and his wife toured various points in the Uruguayan capital.

There was only one discordant note, a demonstration by about 40 university students who chanted "Out with Nixon" and hurled leaflets condemning him as a representative of North American imperialism.

The Nixons leave for Argentina tomorrow.

Three in Family Die of Beatings

Fourth Victim Critical; Virginia Father Held in Pickax Slayings

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Connie Lucas, 48, worked at a laundry and, her employers said, never missed a day "unless something was awfully wrong."

Yesterday she didn't show up for work. In the afternoon, her husband Grover, 49, appeared at the laundry and asked for her paycheck.

To Harry Gray, superintendent of the laundry, Lucas' story didn't sound quite right. Gray's suspicions ultimately led police last night to the Lucas apartment, a second-story walkup in the slums.

There, after smashing down a locked door and breaking a locked window, they found the bodies of Mrs. Lucas, her son Dennis, 9, and her daughter Mildred, 11. All had been bludgeoned to death with a pickax.

Writhing on the bedroom floor, critically wounded with the same heavy tool, was a third child of the family, Dorothy Smith, 15, Mrs. Lucas' daughter by a previous marriage.

Lucas was charged on three counts of murder and one of felonious assault. Two neighbors of the family found the unemployed car repairman sitting on an iron railing half a block from the apartment and took him to police.

Can't Change Foot Shape

Some Toes Point to Stylish Shoes

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

"You cannot put the same shoe on every foot." This bit of wisdom comes from Publilius, a Greek sage who lived in 42 B.C. However, after watching the shoes go by — and the feet in them — I am convinced that too many women keep trying to do so.

★ ★ ★

Although the needle-pointed toe is the most touted fashion in women's shoes this season, not every woman can wear these shoes nor are they the only new style. Many soft and supple leather shoes are available in interesting styles for every occasion and for every woman. These mold the foot with ease.

Despite their pliancy these soft leathers give support which is especially important when wearing mule backs or sandals which bare the feet.

Many soft and supple leather shoes are available in interesting styles for every occasion and every woman.

Foot specialists advise women to take a good look at their toes before deciding what type shoe they can wear with comfort. The toes are the clues! For instance, if your toes taper up to the big toe your foot is made to order for the pointed-toe shoe. You probably will find this style most comfortable.

The pointed-toe shoe is also a good choice for the woman whose second toe extends past the others. The toes spread with each step and the long second toe will be in direct line with the point of the shoe.

AVOID POINTED TOES

Women who have squarish feet or those whose toes taper only slightly should avoid the extremely pointed shoes. They are not only unbecoming but will be uncomfortable. If you have this type foot, select one of the more modified styles. These are slim and tapered but there is no accentuated point to cause pressure and to "buckle" the toes.

Women who have fleshy feet also will be more comfortable in the modified line. If you have a tendency to swollen ankles, of course you should see your doctor about this condition. However, many women have a tendency this way when there is no organic or systemic disease. These women should choose the shoe with a lower V-cut throat rather than the high-cut vamp which may bind the feet.

Do you remember what a thrill it was each spring when, as a child, you first went barefooted and felt the grass between your toes? It is that time of year again and adults would also profit by this fun! Walking barefooted is a splendid foot exercise if you will grip the grass with your toes.

If you would like to have my exercises for the feet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Jobs Daughters Bethel 40 Holds Friendship Night

Bethel 40, International Order of Jobs Daughters, observed Friendship Night Monday at Roosevelt Temple.

Marilyn Vernon, honored queen, presided. Conducting the initiation was Janet Kneale, visiting honored queen of Bethel 5 of Pontiac. Initiated into the order were Mary Weitz and Carol Wargelin.

Miss Vernon announced that members of Pontiac Bethel 40 will cooperate with Pontiac Lions Club May 9 and 10 in its White Cane Tag Day.

On May 17 members will observe "Go to Church Sunday" by attending corporate church services at Oakland Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Visiting officers and members present Monday were from Marlette, Farmington, Walled Lake, Rochester, Milford, Flint, and Detroit. A social hour followed the initiation ceremony.

Hair Can Offset Rounded Face

Short fluffy hair that curls about the face may look great on a woman with a thin face. But a full, chubby face looks rounder with such a hair style.

If hair is short, brush it up and back from the temples. A wave at the side of the forehead also helps offset the round look.

Club Has Luncheon

Twenty members of the Maple Leaf Club met for luncheon at Hotel Waldron Friday. The group will meet again on June 6 at the home of Mrs. Vivian Tubbs on Tubbs road for a cooperative luncheon.

Light Colors Best

Estela C. Lopez Becomes Bride of Gilbert Leal

Estela C. Lopez was gowned in a ballerina-length dress of silk organza when she exchanged wedding vows with Gilbert A. Leal. The two were married April 19 in Holy Redeemer Church in Detroit.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Eva Lopez of Detroit, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leal of Rockwell avenue.

As her sister's maid of honor was Elisa Lopez. Another sister, Ann Marie Lopez, was bridesmaid.

John O. McMahon was best man, and Joseph L. Leal Jr., brother of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

Two to Represent Women of Moose

Mrs. John Baxter and Mrs. Michael Blahut will participate in the annual state friendship meeting to be held in Belleville Sunday. They will represent Friendship Club of Women of the Moose of Pontiac.

The local group met Monday evening in the Mt. Clemens street home of Mrs. Vernon Taylor with Mrs. Robert Godfrey as cohostess. Plans were made for an annual recreation dinner to be held in June.

Alternate Linens

Bed linens last longer if allowed to rest between use periods. Put your laundered sheets at the bottom of the linen shelf, and use only those from the top.

Mix Quantity of Pie Crust at One Time

Mrs. Jeffers Keeps Prepared Dough in Refrigerator

By JANET ODELL

Here's good news for cooks who have trouble with pie crust. Mrs. Clark Jeffers says this recipe is foolproof. It makes a large quantity of dough and may be kept in the refrigerator.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Jeffers who lives at Cooley Lake has four youngsters. With them she enjoys water sports.

NEVER FAIL PIE CRUST
By Mrs. Clark Jeffers

1 pound lard
1 cup hot water
1 teaspoon salt
3 cups sifted flour

Melt lard in hot water. Add salt and flour. Mix thoroughly and chill. This may be kept in the refrigerator and taken out as needed. It rolls easily into a flaky crust. Makes about three double crusts.

★ ★ ★

For a one-crust apple pie, roll out crust to fit your pie pan. Fill with apples. Mix ½ cup butter with ½ cup brown sugar and 1 cup flour. Add cinnamon if desired. Crumble over apples. Bake 45 minutes at 425 degrees.

PEO Chapter Meets for Dessert Luncheon

Members of Chapter CL of PEO Sisterhood met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. K. Fell of Drayton Plains for a dessert luncheon.

Mrs. C. W. Buck of Oxford road was program chairman. Reporting on the PEO state convention held at Hotel Statler in Detroit were Mrs. Charles Matson of Drayton Plains and Mrs. L. V. Ostrander of Chippewa road.

Gift Was Left in Kindness

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Several months ago my husband and I visited some friends who had lived here but moved several hundred miles away to a new house. We had never exchanged gifts at any time but I thought it would be nice just this once to take a small gift for their new house.

"We had a return visit from them last week and when they left I found ten dollars on the dresser for me to buy something for my house. I thought this was uncalled for as our house is not a new one and I rather resent her leaving this money. Would it be proper to return it to her?"

Answer: I can understand your feelings, but after all the money was left with the kindest of intentions and if you return it you would surely offend your friend. If you can bring yourself to do it, write her a note thanking her for her gift and say what you bought with it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: As the bridegroom's parents we'd like to know whether we are expected to remain at the wedding reception until the very end? Someone told me it would be the height of rudeness to leave any sooner."

Answer: Unless you have some real excuse such as having to catch a train for home, you should stay until the bride and groom leave, after that you are quite free to go.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What can a woman do when a man propels her along the sidewalk by the elbow? I know she is supposed to take his arm when she needs any assistance, and I also believe that ideally he offers it to her."

Answer: About the only thing she can do is to pull her arm away and say frankly, "I'd rather take your arm!"

Beta Sigma Phi

The Third avenue home of Mrs. C. M. Shelton was opened to members of the City Council of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Monday evening.

Jean Warnock gave the financial report and Mrs. Ray Slaughter reported on members' service as volunteer hostesses at Pontiac State Hospital.

Low-closing, slightly bloused waistline, below hipline pleats, combine in newest shirtwaist dress for large figures.

Shirtwaist dresses are favored for wear for sight-seeing while traveling in almost any country. A sort of coat-over-dress effect, pleated side and a straight, sheath-like front achieve this coat-and-dress look which is slimming.

Howe Repeats on All-Star Team

Red Wing Great Honored by NHL 6th Time in Row

Name Marcel Pronovost to 2nd Squad; Kelly Is Missing This Year

DETROIT (AP) — No one was surprised today when Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings was named to the National Hockey League's first All-Star team for the sixth time.

But the selection of Detroit's Marcel Pronovost for the second team came as a mild shocker. Despite his team's mediocre season, Pronovost slipped past an array of outstanding defenseman for his All-Star berth.

Wing officials have been saying for years that Pronovost is hockey's most underrated defensemen.

He has been close at times but never before made the All-Star grade. Most of the honors went to his teammate, Red Kelly. The Detroit captain missed out in the All-Star balloting this year for the first time in nine seasons.

Kelly previously had been a first-team selection six times and a member of the second team on two occasions.

Kelly's changeover from defense to forward, and back to defense, undoubtedly hurt his All-Star chances this season but the veteran Red Wing stalwart also had a comparatively poor season.

Pronovost has been in Red Wing uniform for seven full seasons, and serves with Boston's Fern Flaman on the second All-Star team. Jean Beliveau of Montreal, Andy Bathgate and Camille (The Eel) Henry make up the forward line. Jacques Plante of Montreal is the goalie.

Plante lost out in a close race to ex-Red Wing goalie Glenn Hall, now with the Chicago Black Hawks. Three Montreal Canadiens made the first team: Doug Harvey at defense for the seventh straight season, Henri Richard at center and Dickie Moore at left wing.

Howe and defensemen Bill Gadsby of New York make up the rest of the first unit. Harvey led the balloting with 180 points, and was the only unanimous choice.

First team berths are worth $1,000 and second team berths worth $500.

The first-team selections, by hockey writers, broadcasters and telecasters in the six NHL cities, duplicated the choices at the halfway mark of the season.

Seek Simple Operation for Team Transfer

Try to Ease Shifting

CHICAGO (AP)—A move to make major league expansion of franchise shifts one simple and easy operation was made yesterday at a meeting of baseball's committee on territorial rights.

With an obvious eye on New York and the West Coast, the committee drafted an amendment which would need only the approval of the commissioner of baseball and that of the league desiring to make a switch.

The committee, which includes Commissioner Ford Frick, drafted this amendment:

"To provide and stimulate competition for the league pennants and for the world championship, and to accommodate shifts and growth of population, the circuit of either major league may be changed to include any city of the other major league after approval of the league desiring to change its circuit and the commissioner.

"Such approval by the commissioner should be withheld until after hearings have been held and the necessary investigations conducted."

At present, one league cannot enter another's territory without unanimous approval of members of both leagues. Therefore, if a National League team wanted to go to New York, the Yankees could stop the move with a veto.

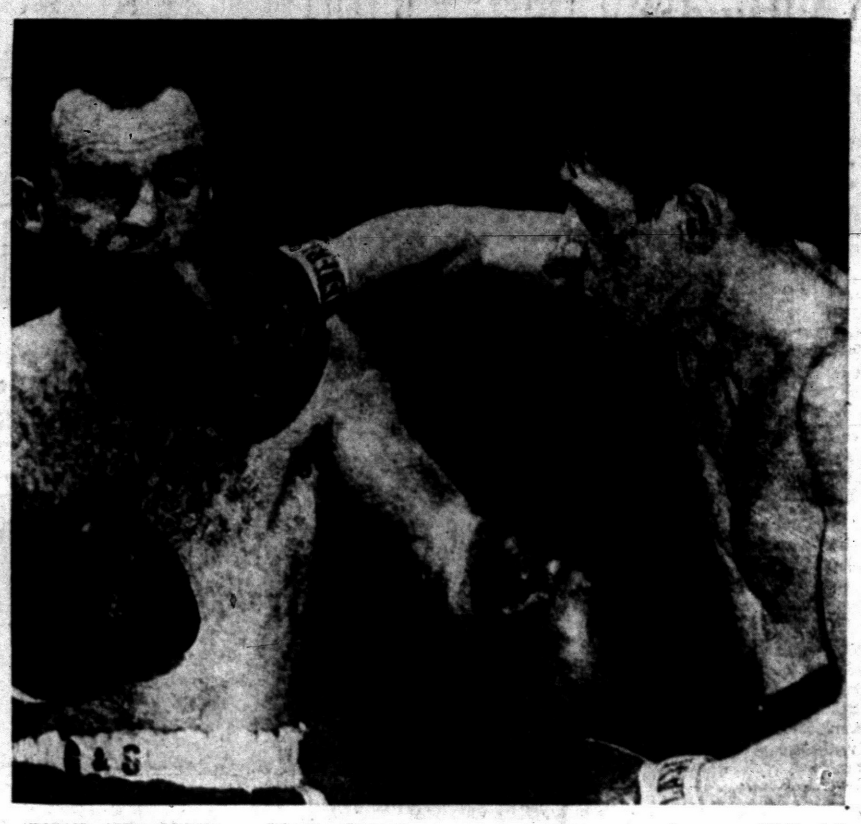

By the same token, the American League could be stopped from entering a team in Los Angeles if the Dodgers disapproved.

Last January the leagues rejected a proposal by the committee that would make any city with a population of two million or more eligible for two major league clubs.

After yesterday's action, William A. Shea, chairman of New York City's special committee on major league baseball, called it a step in the right direction. Shea, in New York, said it would wipe out any "veto power" the Yankees have to block the transfer of a National League franchise to the city.

Neither Giles nor Frick would give their opinion as to whether they believed the amendment would pass but Giles called it "a fair solution."

"This has the effect of eliminating the veto power of any one team," Giles said. "Under this operation it would take only the approval of the commissioner for a team to make a move."

Typical of the outstanding progress being made by Oakland County schools towards improving and increasing their sports facilities is the way officials at Rochester High keep working for better things for their athletes.

The Falcons will have one of the top athletic plants around when work on a new football field is completed. Students at RHS have started a sale of revenue bonds in order to raise the $30,000 needed for lighting, seating, fencing and grading. Wooden stands will be erected to hold 1,800.

Rochester's basketball team was one of several to move into a new gym last winter. Lake Orion, Holly and Milford were others. The latter is said to even have a press box (thoughtful fellows).

Pontiac Central and Birmingham continue to improve their track layouts. Oxford now has one of the top tracks in northern Oakland County. West Bloomfield is another school making rapid strides towards ranking with the best for complete setups. Oak Park is working on a new baseball field which will have a built-in sprinkling system.

Athletes entering the new Pontiac Northern will get the use of brand new facilities in some sports. The Board of Education estimates enrollment at PN next fall will be 953. Its capacity will be 985. PCH is expected to top its capacity of 2,118 by approximately 63 students.

Speaking of the new high school, Bob Mineweaser of St. Michael is angling for Northern's November open date in football in 1959 for his Shamrocks. Certainly would make for an interesting affair.

SKIPPING AROUND

Pontiac's stellar track team hopes to make up for that Friday battering today against Waterford. Chiefs have dropped out of the Central Michigan Relays this weekend and may skip a similar event at Monroe because of a busy slate. Monroe meet comes the day after the Valley event.

Oxford's strong baseball team saving face for an otherwise dismal sports year for the Wildcats . . . Keego's Art Paddy another coach who will attend the Michigan State Coaching Clinic . . . Cranbrook tennis ace Pete King proved he had the stuff against Birmingham.

Action-packed slate on in all sports today . . . Royal Oak Shrine CYO pitcher Mike Randall struck out 18 in a no-hitter . . . Clarkston the latest area school to report boys violating training rules. Three spring sport vets were dropped . . . Tom Ridley back in school at Southfield while recovering from a previously-mentioned operation. But coach Monte Charles says, "I am not counting on him for football."

24 Meets for Area Preps

Including Monday's "triple-double" at Fitzgerald, and the triangular under the lights, lost night at Keego Harbor, this week's crop of area schoolboy track meets will be the season's biggest. There are 24 meets on the list.

Jim Drake's four wins for Orion (100-220, vault, broad jump) marked the Fitzgerald "spectacular." Bob Baker of Troy and John Volk of Clawson were double winners. Scores for this Oakland B event — Troy 71 and two thirds Fitzgerald 37 and one third; Lake Orion 91 — Madison 18; Clawson 84 — Avondale 25. Standings: Clawson 4-0, Troy, Orion 3-1; Fitzgerald 2-2; Avondale 1-3; Madison 0-4. League duals end week from Wednesday, with final O-B meet the following Wednesday.

There will be two highlighted events. Today, at 4 p.m. at Wisner field Waterford's thinclads test the slightly downcast PCH Chiefs. This will be the Mansfield champions' only action of the week, as Coach Dean Wilson will pass up the big Central Michigan College outdoor meet, Friday and Saturday. Birmingham today entertains RO Kimball (golfers, also) in an EML test as a tuneup for the CMC event. Flint Northern is the "A" favorite, and defending champion.

A change in plans sends Notre Dame and Mt. Clemens St. Mary to Orchard Lake today for a triangular, originally set for U. of D. Another "triple" today is Farmington and Southfield at Redford Union. Cranbrook at Kennedy (Windsor), Thurston at Berkley and Hazel Park at Mt. Clemens (EML) complete today's list.

A Wayne-Oakland triangular at Clarenceville (Brighton and Northville); Milford, Oak Park at Bloomfield Hills; Millington, Ortonville at Oxford (So. Central), and Rochester at Lapeer comprise Wednesday's action.

Five duals Thursday, including three I-L meets, Maples at Kimball Friday, and Rochester, Cranbrook and Troy at CMC Class B meet, on Friday, round out a big week that also includes St. Mary at Monroe CC, and St. Michael at U. of D. vs Sacred Heart.

West Bloomfield almost doubled the count, 66-34, over Oak Park in a night meet at Keego. Freshman Jack Newton again led the winners with three victories (dashes, broad jump). John Lucadam and Tom Beli were double winners. Keego won 10 of 13 events, to give the club a 2-1 mark.

Plan Bloomfield Baseball Loop

A group of Bloomfield Hills-Bloomfield Township fathers met last night to map preliminary plans for a Bloomfield Baseball League for boys 9 to 12 in any of the four Bloomfield schools.

The fathers, who said they were forming the league because their boys could not participate in the Birmingham Little League, elected Donald T. Ollesheimer, of 821 Jonathan Ln., Bloomfield Township, president.

Applications forms for the youngsters will be available at the different schools, Ollesheimer said. He urged any fathers with either high school or college baseball experience to contact him.

Presenty the new league is drafting articles forming a non-profit corporation. "We are not going to associate with the National Little League Association at this time," Ollesheimer announced.

Yankees Sweep Russians Twice in Basketball

TIFLIS, Russia (AP)—The American men's basketball team, led by Harry Schmidt and Buddy Halderson, trounced an Azerbaijan quintet 94-46 Monday night for its third straight victory in the Soviet Union.

The women's team made it a complete success for American invaders, defeating a Georgian female squad 42-37, after losing its first two games in Russia.

The Americans led all the way after Schmidt dropped in the first goal, a minute and a half from the opening whistle. They led at half time 43-20 before a crowd of 25,000.

Milford Nips Wolves; PCH Netters Lose

Evans Fires No-Hitter

There was a little bit of everything on the area prep sports scene yesterday despite the cool weather.

Some of the highlights were Dennis Evans' 1-0 no-hitter for Avondale, Romeo's beating of Oxford in a battle of baseball unbeatens, a dandy mound duel between Terry Hoy of Milford and Dave Gaddis of Clarkston, three wins for Southfield and golf victories for Walled Lake and Holly.

Orchard Lake St. Mary, Holly and Bloomfield Hills were other baseball winners while St. Frederick bowed.

Evans got Avondale's three hits and scored the only run as he survived eight errors by his mates. Romeo came from behind with five in the 6th to triumph 12-11. Bob Galan won in relief and had a homer. Jeff Brady and Jerry Hight homered in defeat.

Hoy won out 4-0 at Clarkston batting in three with a triple in the 11th. He allowed four hits and fanned 13. Gaddis whiffed 20 in 10 innings before a pain in his arm forced him out.

The victory gave Milford the Wayne-Oakland lead with 3-0 as John Dixon's pitching and a three-run home run by Bob Barnett gave Bloomfield Hills a 9-3 win over Northville. A dropped fly enabled Amos Bradsher and Holly to blank Brighton 1-0.

St. Mary whipped St. Benedict 9-4 scoring six in the 1st. St. Fred could garner only four singles in bowing to St. Rita 4-3.

★ ★ ★

George Pallan was the only Pontiac winner as the Chief tennis team dropped a 6-1 verdict to Flint Central.

Southfield won in baseball, tennis and golf. The baseballers tripped Walled Lake 6-2, the netmen down Bloomfield Hills 5-1 and Jim Gibbons' 39 paced the golfers to a 170-189 triumph over Waterford.

Walled Lake trounced Van Dyke 168-189 in golf as Bill Pingel had a 40. Holly's Darrell Kinney and Bud Badger matched 36s but the Broncos won out 162-174.

Ask That Home Run Records Be Ruled Out

Scribes Denounce LA Fence

NEW YORK (AP)—A majority of the nation's sports writers recommended today that any new home run records which may be set because of the Los Angeles Coliseum's short left field fence be declared invalid.

★ ★ ★

An Associated Press poll of nearly 200 sports writers, editors and columnists showed exactly 60 per cent are in favor of not recognizing National Leaguers who may top Babe Ruth's major league record of 60 home runs in one season. That would, of course, include Hank Wilson's National League mark of 56.

Of the 193 replies, 116 voted "no" to the following question:

"If and when a National Leaguer tops Babe Ruth's 60 homers, should it be considered a new record? Several writers qualified their answer with the provision that the record should be recognized only if a majority of the four-baggers were hit in parks other than the Coliseum. Still others said only Dodger players should be regulated against because they play 77 games in the lopsided park.

The writers also advocated uniform dimensions in parks for home run requirements as well as the extension of the Coliseum's present 42-foot screen to 100 feet. There was a variety of opinion on the size of the screen, ranging from 60 to 1,000 feet. The vote for uniform dimensions was a whopping 78 per cent while 67 per cent agreed on a height increase.

With several exceptions, there was a general distaste for the uprooted Dodgers' temporary set-up. Remarks accompanying some of the ballots included such phrases as "it's a disgrace," "a ridiculous situation," a huge farce, "unfit for baseball," "not even good enough for little league."

The Coliseum had a handful of defenders but even the majority of those who favored recognition of all records had uncomplimentary remarks to make of the Dodgers' park. The defenders emphasized that the Polo Grounds in New York, old League Park in Cleveland, Baker Bowl in Philadelphia, Ebbets' Field in Brooklyn and even Yankee Stadium, where Ruth hit 28 of his 60 home runs in 1927, were not much tougher for home run hitters than the Coliseum.

A total of 28 home runs were hit in the first nine games played this season at the Coliseum, built originally for football. All of them were hit by right-handed batters and all but two or three sailed over the left field screen. Of this total, only 11 were hit by Dodger players.

'American Women Too Fussy and Fiddly'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — J. Gregory Conway, a smallish man long known as the garden clubs' best friend, planted himself on a chair with all the confidence of a crocus in the wind.

"American women have a basic sense of good taste in flower arranging," he said, "But they're too fussy and fiddly.

★ ★ ★

"They do things in a little fashion — you know, little, like buying a colored post card instead of a great master. They're afraid to be big and strong and virile with their flowers. They're afraid" — and he leaned intimately forward — "of what other people will think if they put pinks and reds together."

★ ★ ★

J. Gregory sat back abruptly, lit a cigarette, and shook his head. "I have been lecturing on flower arrangement all over the world for 20 years, and I must say that I can by now tell whether a woman is a good flower decorator merely by looking at her.

"If a woman has chic, if she wears smart lines, it means she has the good taste to arrange flowers magnificently, if she'll just let herself go a bit and forget to be afraid.

"Why, you can put anything in a table arrangement. Art has absolutely no rules. To tell a lady, for instance, that she can't have a branch more than twice as high as her bowl — that's rubbish. Let go, ladies, is what I say.

"For instance I, myself, have been doing a great deal of arrangements lately with vegetables. You know, carrots and tomatoes and things, perhaps clumped around a grouping of small new potatoes. Lovely!"

Mr. Conway, who recently began a color TV series on flower arranging, has met and taught perhaps 40,000 women a year for the past two decades. In view of this, he is asked what he thinks of women.

"Enthusiastic," he says. "Not always advisedly. But thoroughly."

The little man with the great respect for growing things originally studied flower arranging in Japan, where the purest form of the art is claimed to be practiced. He says that is bunk. "They were excellent flower arrangers in the days of their isolationism, before 1898 — When a race is completely isolated, everything is within them, and their art form is pure.

"Unfortunately, since the American invasion, Japanese flower arranging is an atrocity. Cluttered and mixed-up, like the emotions of the people.

"If they see a Dali painting, they'll throw a screw into a bouquet. And the most abominable thing — they'll put pink roses into everything, because Mrs. Douglas MacArthur likes pink roses."

J. Gregory scoffs at copying and claims that a brave, pioneering spirit must be present before one can make a magnificent arrangement of flowers.

"That," he says, "is why the Texas women are better with flowers than the women of any other state. It's a new land, and self-confident, and anxious to achieve culture. Don't care what people think."

Mr. Conway insists that a true and devoted flower arranger is bold and dauntless. She would not hesitate to pinch a posy from her neighbor's garden.

Security for You

Prepare to Retire as Soon as Possible

By RAY HENRY

When should a person start preparing for retirement?

This is a $64 question. But don't expect it to pop up on any TV quiz. There could be thousands of right answers. Each person has to find his own depending on his circumstances.

★ ★ ★

If there is a single answer, it probably would be: As soon as you can afford it.

Of course, preparing for retirement isn't only a matter of setting aside enough money.

It involves developing interests and activities which you can carry over into your retirement to use up your leisure time. It involves finding a place to live that suits you—the right home, the right climate, the right environment. And, it involves taking care of your health so you'll reach retirement.

But, mainly, any preparing you do revolves around money. Money for food. Money for medical care. Money for a home. Money for recreation.

ALREADY PREPARED

You probably are already doing some financial preparing—whether you want to or not — through your payments to Social Security, Civil Service retirement or railroad retirement. You may be covered by the pension plan of your employer, union or military service. And, you may be paying on an insurance policy which will have a cash value when you reach retirement age and which you can convert into a lifetime monthly income.

But, will the money you'll get from these sources when you retire give you enough to live comfortably? Probably not.

You'll have to set aside more. Now, we're back to the question of when you should start doing it.

CHILDREN RAISED

As a practical matter, the sooner most people can afford to start is after their children have been raised. This is usually between the ages of 45 and 55.

With careful planning a man between 45 and 55 can have a good-sized nest-egg, besides his other retirement or insurance money, by the time he's ready to retire.

For instance, man needs about $16,000 in cash at 65 to have a lifetime income of $100 a month. Starting at 45 he can save $16,000 by the time he reaches 65 if he puts away $11 a week at 3 per cent compound interest. Starting at 55, he can save $16,000 in 10 years if he puts away $26 a week at 3 per cent compound interest.

Of course, how you may want to invest your money after your children have grown up is a matter of personal choice. You can put it in a savings account, a building and loan association, government bonds, stocks and bonds, mutual funds or any number of other investments.

If you're in doubt as to how you should set aside your money, ask your banker, your insurance agent, a reliable stock broker or some one else you have confidence in.

In any case, you should set up some sort of money-saving plan as soon as you can afford to. Look at it this way: Once you reach 65, the chances are you'll live 12 to 15 years longer. You should be drawing your plans so you can live those retirement years comfortably.

Law Day U.S.A. Set Thursday

Members of Oakland Bar Assn. to Join in National Observance

Members of the Oakland County Bar Assn. Thursday will join with fellow attorneys in observing the first national Law Day U. S. A.

A 20-minute ceremony will be held at 11 a.m. that day in Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland's courtroom at which time bar members, county officials and the general public will pay tribute to the place of law in American life.

The nationwide commemoration will be held in marked contrast to the Communist philosophy of state supremacy over the individual. Thursday is also May Day.

"Today with communism taking grips in many parts of the world, we must show how essential it is that we are all dedicated to a free way of life under the rule of law," said William R. Beasley, Oakland Bar president.

Judge Holland's fellow jurists will recess their sessions and attend Thursday's celebration.

The senior member of the Oakland Bar, J. A. Tillson, 84, of Pontiac, will deliver a prayer during the ceremony. The Rev. William H. Marbach will give the invocation and benediction.

Another member of the association, Carl W. Forsythe, Ferndale attorney, will talk on the significance of Law Day U. S. A.

The Supreme Court of Michigan will hold a special session commemorating the occasion at 4 p.m.

West Coast Light Opera Achieves Record Sellout

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Citizens of Los Angeles and San Francisco recently sent $2,200,000 through the mails for seats to four musical shows. The Civic Light Opera had to return $20,000 because it ran out of tickets.

★ ★ ★

This is amazing news in an era when live entertainment is supposed to be ailing. Obviously, there is nothing sick about the Civic Light Opera.

The CLO celebrates its 21st season this year but it came of age long ago. Credit for its upbringing goes to a dynamic, shrewd showman named Edwin Lester.

★ ★ ★

"We started 21 years ago by playing four musical revivals for one week apiece in Los Angeles and San Francisco," Lester recalled. "This year we'll do a revival ('The King and I'), a new musical ('Grand Hotel') and two Broadway hits ('The Most Happy Fella.' 'The Music Man') for five weeks apiece. Next year we'll have a 24-week season."

How has he done it? Taste, talent and a good bit of luck.

★ ★ ★

Turning Point No. 1 came in 1941. The CLO had thrived on a steady diet of revivals, Lester had always felt "Porgy and Bess" had not been given its due and planned to stage it. Paul Robeson eagerly sought the role; Lester agreed, although he wondered if the singer's bass could handle Porgy.

★ ★ ★

At the last minute, Robeson bowed out, leaving Lester with a hole in his season. An aide recommended a Broadway show, "Cabin in the Sky." It was the first of a distinguished list of Broadway imports for the CLO.

Turning Point No. 2 came in 1944 when Lester put on his first original show, "Song of Norway." It went on to New York success, as did "Kismet" and Mary Martin's "Peter Pan."

★ ★ ★

"Our other turning point was in 1950 when we had the first tour of 'South Pacific,'" Lester said. "We either could have coasted on its success or gone all-out to give the subscribers a top-notch season. We decided on the latter course, and I staged a stunning production of 'Chocolate Soldier' with Patrice Munsel."

HOW WALL STREET JOURNAL READERS GET MORE OUT OF LIFE

By a Subscriber

Since I started reading The Wall Street Journal, my income has increased from $9,000 to $14,000 a year.

But that is only part of the story. The Journal not only tells me how to earn more money—it also tells me how to get more value for the money I spend.

For example, an automotive article in The Journal helped me trade in my old car at the right time. An article on building supplies gave me ideas on remodeling my home and showed me how to save $700.

Articles on food and clothing point out the things to stock up on in order to save money. Articles on taxes guide me on what to do to keep my taxes down.

The Journal also gives me a better understanding of what is going on in the world. In conversation with other men I find that I know how to interpret business and government trends a little better than they do. They wonder where I get my "inside dope."

This story is typical. Because the reports in The Wall Street Journal come to you daily, you get quick warning of any new trend that may affect your income. You get the facts in time to protect your interests or seize a profit. The Journal is a wonderful aid to salaried men making $7,000 to $20,000 a year. It is valuable to owners of small business concerns. It can be of priceless benefit to ambitious young men.

The Wall Street Journal is the complete business DAILY. Has largest staff of writers on business and finance. The only business paper served by all four big press associations. It costs $20 a year, but you can get a Trial Subscription for three months for $6. Just tear out this ad and attach check for $6 and mail. Or tell us to bill you. PMP4-29

Published daily right in the Midwest to bring you vital business and Washington news immediately.

Grains Continue Unusually Slow

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices eased off slightly, but soybeans were a bit steadier in early Board of Trade dealings today.

Trade again was unusually slow and nearly all price fluctuations were in minor fractions. The steadiness in soybeans was in line with a small advance in soybean meal.

May wheat was up around 1 cent a bushel near the end of the first hour, mainly on a speculative trade. At that time wheat was 1⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, May 2.16⅞; corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, May $1.25⅝; oats ¼ lower to ⅝ higher, May 62⅝; rye unchanged to ⅝ higher, May $1.32; soybeans ⅛ to ¼ higher, May $2.26⅛; lard unchanged to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $12.25.

Residents Air Area Problems

Jam Waterford Meet to Discuss Projects in Subdivisions

Representatives from several Waterford Township associations jammed the town hall at last night's board meeting to discuss various problems concerning their respective subdivisions.

Some 25 residents of the Oakwood Manor Assn. were present objecting to the establishment of a special street lighting district in their area on Silver Lake road near Dixie highway.

The board told the group that a hearing had been held and the assessed district established and approved at last week's meeting. The Detroit Edison Company has been notified by the board to proceed with the street lighting installations.

Residents from the Ester Lake-Whitthall Estates located near Walton boulevard were present to inquire about two lots on Woodhull Lake, which they assumed were put aside for their subdivision's lake privileges.

Several weeks ago title holder of the two lots, Gordon Ladd, offered the property to Waterford Township if it would assume the $221 delinquent taxes.

Ladd had previously offered the land to the subdivision providing they would form an association. Residents have failed to do this.

A spokesman assured the board that they would meet with Ladd and iron out their difficulties before the May 8 tax sale.

Another group from Lake Oakland Heights were present, requested all board members attend a meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow night at the Jayno Adams Elementary School in an effort to clarify various rumors regarding their subdivision-owned park on Lake Oakland. They have not received a promised deed to the property from the owner and are concerned about public use of their beach.

Guesses Nail Count, Receives New Garage

Harold W. Johnson, of 1117 Dudley St., won a 1½ car garage at the Junior Chamber of Commerce Home Improvement Show, it was announced today.

Presenting the garage was the G & M Builders, of 2260 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township. Johnson came within two nails of guessing the number of nails in a jug.

Motor Vehicle Output Down 15,000 for Week

DETROIT (INS) — The Automobile Manufacturers Association reported today U.S. motor vehicle production was down this week to 75,154 units compared to 90,146 for last week.

AMA said the industry produced 58,755 cars and 16,399 trucks and motor coaches compared to 73,315 cars and 16,831 trucks and coaches last week.

Year-to-date records were far below the total for the comparable period of 1957. The report said that through April 26, the industry turned out 1,801,601 units. This compared to 2,665,898 for the same period last year.

Metals Gainers as Others Sag

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks were lower and moderately active in early trading today.

Metals were an exception, swinging upward as a group following news of a copper price boost by a Belgian company.

Leading stocks declined fractions to a point or more. Oils and steels gave ground. Motors were unchanged to down small fractions.

The downturn was a carryover from the late selling yesterday. Much of Wall Street's attention was focused on Washington, where talk continued on a possible tax cut.

In the metals, Kennecott, Magma and Phelps Dodge worked up major fractions. Anaconda and International Nickel rose about ½.

★ ★ ★

Oils down ½ point or more included Sinclair, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Texas Co. and Socony Mobil.

Martin fell around ½ after the Navy failed to put its second Vanguard satellite into orbit. Martin is the prime contractor.

Describes Recession as Prelude to Surge

DETROIT (AP)— Financial columnist Merryle Stanley Rukeyser describes the recession as an interlude when the national economy is taking a step backwards before taking two steps forward. He warns against what he termed artificial pump-priming.

Addressing the Economic Club of Detroit, Rukeyser said:

"The offer of special interests to receive and distribute artificial increments to 'purchasing power' constitutes a bizarre concept of public service.

"Artificial shots in the arm are no substitute for a revival of confidence based on developments which enterprisers, investors and customers regard as valid, such as long-term tax reform and the setting up of better standards in the National Labor-Management Act."

Fog Delaying Landing of Irish Air Line Plane

NEW YORK (INS) — The inaugural flight of the Irish Air Lines new trans-Atlantic service was "stacked up" over foggbound Idlewild International Airport this morning with New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Mrs. Wagner, and a host of dignitaries aboard.

★ ★ ★

The Super-H Constellation carrying 78 passengers already had made an unscheduled two-hour stopover at Gander, Newfoundland, due to dense fog over the Atlantic coast.

★ ★ ★

It was due to land at Idlewild at 9:30 a.m. (EDT) but was prevented by fog. Airport officials said however they expected the weather would improve enough for a landing within the hour.

Deaf-Mute Sentenced 3 Years on Probation

A 23-year-old Rochester man received a sentence of three years probation for arson yesterday via sign language in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Deaf-mute Albert J. Hill, of 1747 Auburn Rd., was also assessed $100 costs. He pleaded guilty April 14 to setting fire to an unoccupied home in the Brooklands subdivision.

Atlantic city, famous resort and convention city, is built on an island one mile wide and about 10 miles long. It was deserted until about 1852.

Why Is There So Little Effect?

Bad News Fails to Shake Stock Market

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Why does bad news have so little effect these days on the stock market?

★ ★ ★

Bethlehem Steel reported it didn't earn enough in the first three months of this year to cover its dividend rate. But the price of the stock scarcely wobbled.

Chrysler reported a net loss and cut its dividend. The price of its stock dropped $2 but then rallied a bit and there was no rush to unload.

Some see in this and in many recent like instances evidence that traders some time ago foresaw the bad news and revalued the stocks at that time.

Others see in the market's stubborn refusal to respond to bad news a sign that stock traders generally—and these include some of the big investing institutions—have decided that the business slump which the stock market foretold in its plunge last summer and fall is bottoming out and that an upturn will be coming along in due course. The prospect of more inflation plays a big part in this.

Although last week saw a flood of corporate profit and loss statements that leaned heavily to the bad side, stock prices as a whole shrugged the news off. The Associated Press stock price index opened the week at 165 and closed at 167, high for this year.

Because it is so basic the steel industry got particular attention. With one minor exception all of the 20 companies to report so far have shown declines in earnings from the first three months of 1957. Combined their profits this year are off 66 per cent. The largest U.S. Steel, reports tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

What stock traders paid attention to wasn't the expected drop in earnings but that Bethlehem Steel paid its usual dividend despite the profit slump because it was confident of a rebound which its officials say should start in the late summer and fall.

Chief cloud on this prospect is the wage hike due July 1. A basic seven cents an hour raise with various extras, including possible cost of living boosts, could bring the total to around 20 cents an should be translated into a $10 a ton price hike if the profit line is to be held. Skeptics wonder if steel users will be in a position this summer to pay it.

Earnings of 14 companies producing other metals and 26 metal-working firms almost universally report lower earnings. Combined their profits this year are running 47 per cent behind the previous year. But expectations of better times a few months hence have sustained trading in most of their shares of late.

Steel's customers have been hurting — indeed that's the prime reason for the drop in steel production and profits. Most makers of machinery and tools show lower earnings, off an average of 40 per cent. And makers of home appliances report a like slump.

Most auto companies have felt the profit pinch — which couldn't come as a surprise to any stock trader or anyone else. With General Motors yet to be heard from, auto earnings are down 94 per cent from last year, Chrysler playing the big role in the drop.

But Chrysler has had such sharp swings in sales and profits in recent years that the stock market is inured to its being either a glamor boy or a sad sack.

And with the auto industry there is always next year. The stock market seems to be saying it believes 1959 will be better than 1958.

Two Youths Watch Boy, 11, Drowning

DALLAS (AP)— George Ralph Pounds, 17, and Jimmy White, 22, told police they saw 11-year-old Perry Louis Stephenson jumping up and down in a muddy creek yesterday and paused to watch.

They told officers the boy shot up out of the 7-foot-deep water several times before he went under and disappeared.

Pounds and White leaped to the rescue then, pulled the boy out and began artificial respiration. Firemen worked with a resuscitator but failed to revive the youngster.

Chancellor Adenauer Says:

Russia's Big Problem Is Red China

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

"Mark my words," said West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, "the probem of Red China is the decisive problem for the Soviet Union."

★ ★ ★

In his interview with William R. Hearst Jr., the chancellor put a question and readily gave an answer on a subject that long has intrigued political observers.

The question: "Where will the Chinese Reds go one day?"

The answer: China, with her 600 million population which still is growing at a great rate compared to Russia's 200 million, "can only unload in the direction of the Soviet Union."

Communist China, in the view of this veteran German statesman, "will be the Achilles heel of Soviet Russia," and a vital turn of policy may show in the next decade.

Adenauer was pretty brusque, too, in his summation of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, the bouncy Soviet Communist party boss, especially so at a time when Khrushchev is pounding hard for an East-West summit meeting.

The 82-year-old Adenauer, taking a long look at recent Soviet history and also a look ahead, says the chunky Khrushchev is a man who "is not so sure of his position as Stalin was."

"He loves to hear himself talk," said the amused chancellor, who recommended letting Khrushchev talk himself out at any chiefs of government meeting.

★ ★ ★

"Will Khrushchev be another Stalin now that he has the same power?" Adenauer asked in reverie.

"No. Khrushchev is not the same man as Stalin. He does not have the same accomplishments as Stalin. He does not have the same prestige abroad as Stalin had during the war.

"Khrushchev must gain prestige before the Russian people. . .

"Look what he has done recently. He has changed the entire organization of the economy, decentralized it. He abolished the machine tractor stations. Now he has started to take the cows away from the peasants; the cows that Stalin allowed them to have.

"This leads me to conclude that he is unsure of himself. He does one thing and then another and another thing again. In any case, he feels himself that the economic condition within the Soviet Union has not developed for the best."

This is the first such judgment of Khrushchev by a statesman whose opinions are widely respected. And the judgment is spoken with a remarkable bluntness by a man who someday hopes to reunite the divided parts of Germany.

★ ★ ★

In short, Adenauer's remarks can be interpreted as his advice to the West: Don't worry too much about the Russians at the moment; a new generation is taking over there, and one day the Russians may be glad to reach an agreement with the United States and Britain because of their own fears of the Chinese Reds.

Jet Nearly Missed Smashing Airliner

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The pilot of a jet fighter which collided April 21 with a big airliner made a frantic effort to bank clear and almost made it.

A few yards more and the jet would have skimmed past the United Air Lines DC7, Civil Aeronautics Board investigators said. The wreckage of the planes showed that the jet slashed into the wingtip of the liner.

It sheared off about eight feet of the DC7's right wing—enough to send it spinning into the desert out of control. Part of the jet's wing was found inside the transport's wing.

Phil Goldstein, who heads the CAB probe, said the collision was almost head on. He said the jet pilot apparently spotted the DC7 a split second before the collision and was veering away at a 30-degree angle when the planes' right wings touched.

★ ★ ★

Both pilots of the F100F fighter died, as did 47 passengers and crew aboard the liner.

The fighter was from Nellis Air Force Base, near Las Vegas, where the wreckage has been assembled for CAB and Air Force probes.
