Hoffa Blocks Wayne County AFL-CIO Merger

Buddy Parker Fed Up —Quits as Lions' Coach

By Bruno L. Kearns
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Detroit Lions' coach Buddy Parker jolted a crowd of more than 500 gridiron fans last night by announcing he was quitting his job with the team.

George Wilson, formerly an assistant coach, was named to succeed him this morning, after it became evident that Parker would not reconsider his decision.

The fans, who paid ten-dollars a plate to attend the 9th annual "Meet the Lions" banquet in Detroit, sat stunned when Parker, the last speaker on the program, began his talk by saying, "There are some great ball players here. I can get them on the bus, but I can't get them off. Since I can't handle these players any more, I'm done with the Detroit Lions. I'm quitting."

With this statement Parker took his seat in silence while toastmaster Bob Reynolds, writers, coaches and fans were recovering from the shock.

Assistant coach George Wilson then took the speaker's stand and said, "I've been with coach Parker since 1951, football is Buddy's life. Players often do things they shouldn't do. We're going to win it this year and I hope Buddy stays."

The crowd stood to give Parker an ovation, but the Lions' coach broke in and repeated his statement, "I am speaking seriously, I have quit," he said.

LASHES AT POOR SPIRIT

To members of the press afterward, Parker lashed out at the poor spirit and training condition of the team. "This is the worst team I have ever seen. I can't get them to do what they are supposed to do," he said.

"I'm not satisfied with the way this team has been moving. I can't control them off the field, and I can't correct it. It has gone beyond me," he added.

Parker, 43, signed a two year contract after last season after a long period of time in which he maintained he was through coaching the Lions.

This would have been his seventh season as Lions' coach. He finished second or better five times in six years.

ENVIABLE RECORD

Parker established the enviable record of winning the division title three times, twice the World championship and finishing second twice.

He joined the Lions as a player in 1935 after starring for Centenary College, and he played a key role in bringing Detroit its first World title.

After the 1936 season he was traded to the Cardinals and his playing days ended in 1943 when he became an assistant coach to Phil Handler from 1943 to 1945 and to Jimmy Conzelman through the 1948 season.

In 1949 he came to Detroit as backfield coach to the late Bo McMillin and after the 1950 season Parker took over the head coaching job.

Edwin J. Anderson, president of the Lions, told the crowd last night, "This is a dramatic moment. Parker is emotionally upset. We will meet with him in the morning and we will persuade him to stay as coach."

DETROIT BEHIND HIM

"We hope that what he has said publicly, he will reconsider. All of Detroit is behind him," Anderson added.

During his six full seasons as head coach the Lions established a record of 50 wins, 24 losses and two ties.

Born in Kemp, Texas, Parker now makes his home in Dearborn with wife and son.

ANTHONY DORIA

Kept AIW Cash Hidden in Box

Doria Says No Account of Union Money Made to Membership

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anthony Doria, former secretary of the Allied Industrial Workers (AIW), acknowledged today he used to keep thousands of dollars of union cash in an iron strong box hidden under a heap of papers at AIW headquarters in Milwaukee.

And, Doria agreed with questioning senators, he never gave the rank and file members an accounting of how the money was spent.

But Doria insisted that union funds "were not used for my personal use" although he said the only records to show how the money was used may have disappeared.

For the second day, Doria was in the witness chair of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee. A big—238 pounds—voluable man, Doria put in a good part of yesterday defending New York racketeer Johnny Dio, who got into the union business through help from Doria. He insisted Dio, a convicted extortionist, was desirous of going straight but that a "cruel society" which declined to forget Dio's criminal record would not let him.

A FAST TALKER

Doria continued to be a fast talker as the committee turned today to his personal financial affairs.

The committee sought first to untangle how $9,620 of proceeds from the sale of a union-owned government bond ended up as an investment in a firm in which Doria had a $25,000 financial stake. Doria insisted the union lost nothing on this deal.

As to how he handled union money, Doria said he never made a financial report to the union

Meany Opposes Views of Hoffa

Cross Swords Over Union Cooperation With Congressional Probers

CHICAGO (AP)—The AFL-CIO Executive Council decided today to complete action on charges of corruption against the huge Teamsters Union before the Teamsters' convention next month.

CHICAGO (AP) — George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, has placed himself in direct opposition to the views of Teamsters bigwig James R. Hoffa on the matter of cooperation with congressional committees.

Meany reaffirmed his stand against labor leaders invoking the Fifth Amendment to protect themselves. He said the AFL-CIO will cooperate with congressional committees "turning up corruption in labor."

The labor chieftain reiterated his views yesterday in a news conference at the end of the first session of his organization's 29-man Executive Council meeting.

Hoffa, Midwest boss of the Teamsters Union and a growing power in labor ranks, has declared himself against the AFL-CIO amendment policy.

The Hoffa-led group contends this stand "has created a substantial threat to liberty and the strength of the union."

The Fifth Amendment to the Constitution holds that a person does not have to give testimony which might incriminate him.

Disagreement between Meany and Hoffa on this matter might come to a head when the council takes up the case of President Maurice A. Hutcheson of the Carpenters Union.

Issues Another China Warning

State Department Cites 'Quasi State of War' to U.S. Youths

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said today that "a quasi state of war" exists between the United States and Red China and any American youth who visits Red China will be acting as a "willing tool of Communist propaganda."

Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter also warned young Americans who may make such a trip that they may have trouble later on in obtaining passports, and may find themselves involved with "violation" of regulations.

The State Department released a letter by Herter to American young people in Moscow who have indicated they would visit Communist China in response to Peiping's invitation.

The letter was being delivered at the same time to "as many as possible" of the prospective travelers.

Reports from the Soviet capital have said more than 40 were interested in making the trans-Siberian train trip beginning tomorrow.

MOSCOW (AP) — The State Department today told 46 American youths planning a Red China tour that their passports will be taken up if they make the trip.

In a letter from Christian A. Herter, undersecretary of state, given to all Americans who accepted the Red China invitation, they were also told they may in violation of a Trading with the Enemy act.

This "constitutes a criminal offence under our law" Herter wrote.

Kalamazoo to Lease City Lines Buses

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The Kalamazoo City Commission agreed last night to accept a proposal that it lease buses of the Kalamazoo City Lines, Inc., and then hire the company to operate them. Final action, however, was deferred.

The proposition was recommended by a special advisory committee headed by J. Wade Van Valkenburg, former Republican House speaker, who said the plan would avoid payment of $17,000 in state and local taxes.

City Lines has complained of declining revenues and Van Valkenburg's committee expressed doubt it would request renewal of its franchise, which expires Aug. 31. A straight 15-cent fare prevails here.

The bus company pays both state and local taxes. The city would be exempt from both.

Society Welcomes Alexander ---an Alley Cat---at Birthday Party

By MAX E. SIMON

Alexander the Alley Cat made his debut in society yesterday.

Alexander was one-year-old and Mrs. Pauline Pelton, 397 E. Mansfield, decided that was the ideal time for her pet's "coming-out" party.

All the neighborhood cats were invited.

Last November Mrs. Pelton arranged a party for her daughter's birthday. At that time, Ilene asked, "Mommy, if I can have such a nice party, why can't we have one for Alexander?"

"I really couldn't think of a reason why we shouldn't hold one for our cat," Mrs. Pelton said yesterday, as she bustled about her backyard making last-minute preparations for the arrival of Alexander's cronies.

FOOD — LOTS OF IT

Mrs. Pelton set up a picnic table in the yard. On paper plates were delectable bits of raw hamburger, a cake with a candle on it, and to top off the birthday feast, a half-gallon of ice-cream.

By 3:15 five children had shown up with their felines to pay tribute to Alexander.

Alexander wasn't interested in any tributes.

His sole comment upon being fetched from the basement of the Pelton home was a menacing, "Hssssst."

Four of the pussies scrambled out of their owners' arms and scurried off down the street.

Just one, "Puff," belonging to six-year-old Gail Verway, thought that the meal was worth hanging around for despite the hisses and glares of Alexander.

Finally a true friend of Alexander dropped in on the party—Tiny, a three-year-old Fox terrier, and the tomcat settled down to enjoy the festivities.

All of the children sang "Happy Birthday" to Alexander as he, Puff and the dog munched away on their food.

Mrs. Pelton's daughter, Ilene, was disturbed over the affair.

"I can't understand why Alexander had to be so mean on his birthday," she mused.

"The rest of the cats won't speak to him now for a long time."

Predicts House Will Pass One-Cent Postal Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (INS) — House Republican Leader Joseph Martin predicted House approval today of a one-cent boost in first class postal rates and similar increases on other classes of mail.

But, he said, the margin probably will not be very large because of strong opposition to the measure which will affect every American pocketbook in a small degree.

The House was scheduled to start debate early in the afternoon on the legislation, designed to add a half-billion dollars a year to federal revenues at a cost of 15 cents a month to the average family.

The bill has been generally linked in Congress to pay raises for postal and other government workers. The house already has approved an 11 per cent pay raise for these employes despite the threat of a presidential veto.

Under the postal measure, the cost of mailing a first class letter would go up from three to four cents, postcards from two to three cents and air mail letters from six to seven cents.

The bill also would boost second and third class rates and the cost of mailing books.

The bill may, however, boost the cost of magazine subscriptions and mailed newspapers which make up second class mail.

The second class rate would go up 15 per cent a year for four years but the increase would not be applied to newspapers with press runs of 5,000 copies or less nor to publications to be delivered in the same county where published.

Truck Crushes Boy at Underpass Job

A 16-year-old Pontiac boy, who was helping his father on the construction job at the Telegraph road-Orchard Lake underpass, died today of injuries suffered when he was run over by a truck.

Henry Hilborn, 2477 Pontiac Rd. failed to respond to heart massage by surgeons at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac police said.

The boy was reportedly aiding his father, Forest H. Hilborn, the operator of a steam shovel, when a truck backed up to the shovel for a load of dirt and knocked Henry down, its wheels passing over his chest.

The truck driver, Norman Pearson, 26, of 1566 Richmond St. was released after making a statement to the Oakland County Prosecutor's office.

Fair, Cool Tonight, Cloudy Tomorrow

Fair and cool is predicted for the Pontiac area tonight. The low will be around 56 degrees.

Wednesday will be partly cloudy and warmer. The high will near 82.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 51 degrees. The thermometer registered 75 degrees at 2 p.m.

Hopes to Regain Justice Revenue

Suit Filed by Ingle on Attorney General's Opinion About Fees

Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle filed suit in Circuit Court yesterday in a bid to upset an Attorney General's opinion affecting justice court revenues.

Ingle, president of the county and state justice of the peace associations, asked the court for a declaratory judgment and named Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem as defendant in the suit.

Ingle wants to return to a former system, sanctioned by the county, which gave township justices discretion over what they charged convicted law-breakers as costs of prosecution.

This system, which the Farmington Justice helped develop, is at odds with the dictum laid down early this year by Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Kavanagh maintained that only those fees that are specifically set by state law can legally be charged by justices.

ABIDING BY OPINION

Ingle, who nowadays is abiding by Kavanagh's opinion—as all of the county's justices are believed to be doing, says the Attorney Gen-

Name Chairman of Reception for Pontiac Motor

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce has appointed Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press, general chairman of a reception for officials of Pontiac Motor and General Motors. It will conclude the city's festivities marking Pontiac's 50th anniversary.

The reception will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 28, at the Elks Temple.

Highlight of the social affair will be the presentation of a commemorative plaque to Pontiac Motor by the City of Pontiac.

The event is open to the general public, it was announced, and tickets, at $3 per person, can be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Demands Equal Voice for AFL From Nowak

Even Parent Group's Plan of Consolidation Faces Refusal

DETROIT (AP) — Plans to merge the CIO and AFL in big, metropolitan Wayne County were held up yesterday by the demand of James R. Hoffa for an equal voice for his minority AFL.

Hoffa made it clear in a heated meeting with Mike Nowak, president of the Wayne County CIO Council, that he wouldn't accept even a proposal by the parent AFL-CIO if it meant giving the CIO the upper hand in the consolidation.

The CIO, with a 150,000 majority in industrial Detroit and environs, proposed establishment of a five-man officer board that would assure it the balance of power.

"We're not here to tell you people that you are going to take over our people and money," declared Hoffa. "If that's what you call a merger, then we're going to have a divorce before the marriage."

At issue is the fear of 200,000 AFL members in Wayne County that they will be dominated by the 350,000-member CIO and that touchy, long-standing jurisdictional problems will be resolved in favor of the larger body.

The meeting ended with both sides agreeing to study further proposals. They have until Dec. 5 to reach agreement before the AFL-CIO steps in.

Hoffa, rough-and-tumble Midwest leader of the 1½ million member Teamsters Union and a vice president of the Detroit Wayne County Federation of Labor, headed a 12-man AFL delegation.

The conference, opened to newsmen at the last minute, got off with a lengthy exchange of remarks between Hoffa and Novak over news stories quoting Novak as predicting the merger talks would fail.

"Hi, Muscles," Hoffa greeted Novak. "I see you're making statements to the press. Since

Expect Local Gas Price Cuts

Standard, Sun, Shell, Speedway Slash Cost to Retail Dealers

Three more major oil companies, Standard Sun, and Shell joined Texaco today in slashing retail prices to dealers in the Detroit area, and a similar cut is expected locally.

Both firms announced a cut of 1.9 cents per gallon in the area, as did leading independent, Speedway.

While neither company included a cut in dealer margin in the price cut, local dealers reported such a cut was thought to be a part of the price slash.

With three major companies already cutting prices and at least one other rumored to be on the verge of such a move, Pontiac retail dealers said there was little, if any, danger of a price war in the city.

Both Sun, which sells Sunoco, and Standard said the price reductions were made to enable retail dealers to be competitive at the retail level.

20 PER CENT OF MARKET

So-called "cut raters" who sell gas several cents below major oil company prices have reportedly cornered approximately 20 per cent of the retail market. It is at this type of dealer that the price cuts are aimed, local dealers report.

There are no major "cut raters" in the Pontiac area, virtually eliminating chances of a price war here, local dealers say.

Only "two or three" Texaco dealers have accepted the Texaco price cut offer, which includes a dealer margin cut. Local Sun and Standard dealers have not made any move yet on their companies' cuts, which are only a few hours old.

Father's Open Letter to a Hit-Run Driver

Reader! This Is What Your Car Did to a Young Boy

The Press received the following letter, which is printed as a worthwhile comment from the father of an injured 15-year-old boy, struck down by a hit-and-run driver.

It goes beyond the cold facts that make up the daily accident reports, and to one reader, particularly, it has great significance.

To that special reader, this question: "Do you realize how close you came to taking a human life?"

Dear Sir:

I am the father of the victim of the hit and run accident near 17 Mile Road on Livernois last Thursday evening.

I'd like to clarify a mistaken impression as to the extent of damage to my son in that accident, as reported in the papers previously, appreciating the fact that they received their information from the police who were not yet fully informed at the time of report.

The boy's left eye-ball is sliced open; and had to be sewed together by an eye specialist. It will be many months before it can be determined whether he will lose the sight in that eye.

His right leg was not only broken, but suffered a compound fracture, with the bone protruding through the flesh and skin. The tendons of all but the index finger in the left hand were severed; and had to be sewn together.

Both ears were torn partly loose and required sewing back to the head. A cut across the mouth required sewing both above and below. Many other locations required sutures, including numerous cuts and gouges on his left leg and left arm.

The seriousness of his condition can better be appreciated when it is known that he was in surgery until five o'clock Friday morning, after being rushed to the hospital immediately by ambulance, right after the accident.

If the driver of the hit and run car reads this, I hope he realizes the enormity of his act in running away. He will have to live with himself and his conscience.

I trust that he realizes that it is only a matter of time until the police catch up with him; and that it will be much easier on him if he turns himself in voluntarily.

His car probably was scarred by flying glass from the pop bottles the boy was carrying, ten of which were smashed by the impact. It is possible that the windshield was cracked or broken.

The aerial, side view mirror, spot light and "eye-lid" from the headlight were all broken from the drivers' side of the car. The seal-beam headlight and the parking light lens from the left side were also broken.

Some alert citizen will see, or already has seen, a car of this description; or some garage, station, or store will remember selling replacements of these items. A report to the police will do the rest.

Ferrets Reds for FBI in Perilous Real-Life Drama

Film Producer Reveals Role of Spy

NEW YORK (AP)—A pudgy little man in a camel's-hair coat was about to leave his hotel room in Munich, Germany. Suddenly there was a knock.

The man opened the door and was handed a cable. He read a one-word message: "Cinerama."

It was a code word and meant: "Come home. Your life is in danger."

Thus, on last Jan. 19, the curtain fell on the fantastic cloak-and-dagger career of Boris Milhailovitch Morros.

For 12 years the Russian-born Hollywood producer acted as a master counterspy for the United States. The perilous role took him to obscure hotels, dimly lit cafes and dark street corners from Paris to Moscow.

Morros' testimony before a federal grand jury earlier this year brought an espionage indictment against Mr. and Mrs. Jack Soble and Jacob Albam, and against Mr. and Mrs. George Zlatovski. Albam and Mrs. Soble were sentenced to 5½ years in prison. Soble will be sentenced Sept. 18.

The balding producer and music director told in a thick Russian accent how he hoodwinked the Soviets into thinking he was a spy for them. Yet, the whole time, he was sending reports to the FBI.

"I was never a spy in my life," he said at the outset, "and during the war I acquired a kind of bravery, and I guess I behaved properly in the 12 years of my activity.

"That is the only reason I am alive. I don't think I could do it again."

Morros said neither his wife nor his friends had "any inkling of my activity, which took me to Europe 68 times, including Moscow and East Berlin."

He said posing as a spy for the Russians wasn't easy.

"I hated everything they stood for and when I had to express myself to high Russian officials and to American spies employed by them in terms of supporting their vicious ideology, I really had to do a more realistic acting job than any of the players whom I had ever directed in Hollywood.

"My life and my mission depended on that."

Morros, born to a family of musicians in St. Petersburg (now Leningrad), came to the United States in 1922 and became a naturalized citizen. He said he went back to Russia in 1935 to visit his mother. In 1945 the Russians asked him to become an agent for them.

"I went straight to the FBI and reported what had happened," he said. "I was told to agree to the Russian proposals and make my contacts."

Morros said the Russians asked him to get information on strategic materials and products. He handed them documents cleared by the FBI.

BORIS M. MORROS

He said an FBI agent was never more than a stone's throw away from him on his trips to Europe. One day he went to the Soviet Embassy in Paris to see a Russian film. He sat between a Soviet official and an FBI agent whom he had passed off as a "comrade in arms."

Morros said he didn't ask for money from the Russians and didn't receive any. He said he spent two million dollars of his own money on his espionage work and is now broke.

Finally, Morros was put on the Russians' "very suspect" list. He said the Soviet Embassy in Washington received charges "from their paid spies here—Americans—that I was not loyal to the Russian objectives."

"In fact," he said, "one such message came from the Soviets in Washington while I was in Moscow meeting with the top men in the Russian secret police, and I had to talk fast to get out of that one."

Morros went to Munich last January. He had an appointment to meet his Russian contact in Vienna Jan. 20. But before he left Munich he received the FBI message to come home.

The 12-year masquerade was over.

Morros said he started work as a Russian agent by taking orders from a man he knew as Edward Herbert. Later, Herbert was identified as Vassili M. Zubilin, a former Soviet Embassy secretary. Zubilin left the country in 1950 after he was declared persona non grata.

One day, Morros and Zubilin went to a Chinese restaurant in mid-Manhattan. There Morros was introduced to Soble, who was to act as his superior. The tables were turned later, however, and Soble took orders from Morros.

"I had many contacts with the Zlatovskis, who were being paid by the Russians to report on highly classified projects," Morros said. "There has never been any doubt as to their activities for Russia and they apparently accepted me at face value as one of them. Except that one night, when I met Jane Zlatovski in Paris and she had been drinking heavily, she said to me across a restaurant table:

"'Boris, somehow I don't believe you're a Communist.'"

Morros said he knows from "personal information and experience that Soviet espionage has made considerable infiltration in this country."

"Many of the agents working for Russia are important people, financially independent and often held in high esteem," he said.

"Many of the Soviet's most active workers in this country don't come from the rank and file nor the underprivileged. They are people who have the kind of contacts which will be useful to the Soviets, and they are being paid to do their jobs of treason in the United States."

He said the present regime in Moscow "has been hatching a vast imperialistic plot for a Slav-dominated world."

Morros was not allowed to tell his story in full. Gilchrist restrained him now and then from telling "too much."

The counterspy said he wasn't sure the Russian secret police had accepted him until 1950. He was in Moscow then and was wined and dined by Gen. Peter Vasilievich Fedotov, an official of the secret police.

Morros was in the Soviet capital for 21 days that time. He said he walked the streets freely. He rode the subway and chatted with Russian straphangers.

McKINLEY W. ROGERS

Funeral Slated for City Dealer

The Day in Birmingham

Conditional Okay Given on Model Plane Flying

BIRMINGHAM—Only one vote carried the decision by Birmingham City Commission last night to permit the use of city-owned land in the Southfield-Southlawn area for the flying of model airplanes.

The decision came after a session last week plus a hearing before the recreation board and a second appearance last night of a group of parents who desire to have their children fly the planes in that immediate vicinity.

Last week it was brought out that there was a questionable doubt as to whether or not the noise of the small craft could be described as "a nuisance." At that time only one objector was reported.

Last night, however, police chief Ralph W. Moxley said that there were three or four persons objecting. He said the calls had varied in time from 11 a.m. to 8:08 p.m.

Commissioner Charles Delbridge suggested from 10 a.m. to noon and 4 to 6 p.m. as the flying hours. He proposed this plan be adopted subject to immediate stoppage if any further trouble arrises.

Dissenting commissioners, Carl Ingram, Florence Willett and Mayor William Roberts were united in their feeling that since an area is designated on the disposal plant property, further sections should not be opened.

This is especially true since the land to be used is not dedicated for park purposes, they pointed out. Work was begun yesterday in perfecting the Cranbrook-Lincoln site for model plane purposes. All agreed that permission could be granted only on a conditional basis outlined.

Chief Moxley told parents that he would attempt to get permission from objectors to have interviews with the parents of children involved.

Police and firemen were called out yesterday to investigate the report that a child had drowned in Quarton Lake.

After some time questioning area residents and repeated underwater searchers for the child, they learned that the entire report was false.

Area youngsters had pushed a raft into the middle of the lake and then had reported seeing a child fall from it.

Tuesday, August 20 at 2:30 p.m. city officials will hear a member of the Michigan State Police present the analysis of the city's report in the "annual inventory of traffic safety activities."

The analysis is based on the recommendations of the President Highway Safety Conference. In addition to city officials there will be representaties from the State Safety commission, Secretary of State's office, State Highway Dept. and Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Hoffa Blocks Plans to Merge AFL, CIO

you make so many statements we invited the press to sit here and let them see how we do it."

Novak reminded Hoffa that the Teamsters leader originally agreed to hold a closed conference and issue only a joint statement.

Hoffa replied: "When I make my word I keep it. I'm not so sure you do. We don't double deal or double talk. There are certain people in the labor movement who are bums and everybody knows what to do with them."

KEEP TRAP SHUT'

Hoffa: "Then keep your trap shut outside."

Novak: "I'll do what I want. I'll take care of Novak."

Hoffa: "I'll take care of Hoffa. If you want to do something about it there's always outside . . ."

Both agreed to a recess and plans for the merger.

The CIO proposed establishment of five full-time officers to head the merged group—three from its own ranks and two from the AFL. It also proposed creation of a merged executive board with equal representation and a delegate body elected on a basis of numerical membership.

Officers and the executive board members of the merged organization were to be elected for a single two-year term and were not to draw salaries if getting pay from another union position or union source.

Hoffa countered with a demand for a six-man officer board split three and three; equal representation on a 24-man executive board and a delegate body to include one member from each local union with each member getting one vote. The AFL has 225 local unions. The CIO has 171.

Hoffa also insisted officers and board members be elected for two, two-year terms and argued against the CIO proposal of a union officer drawing salary from only one union.

"I don't get paid for any other position in the Teamsters," Hoffa said. "But when I go outside (the Teamsters) I get paid on it."

"You won't find one AFL man who finds anything wrong with being compensated for his work," Hoffa declared.

The proposal for a delegate body that includes only one representative from each local union was met with scorn by the CIO representative.

Al Barbour, secretary-treasurer of the CIO Council, said: "You're proposing that we give you 54 more delegates despite the fact that we have 150,000 more members."

ONLY ONE VOTE

The proposal would mean that a big CIO local, such as Local 600 with 45,000 members, would have only one vote—the same as a small local with perhaps only a few members.

Hoffa replied: "We're not silly enough to sit here and agree that what we got over a period of a few years by our sweating, our money and our donations be taken away. "We aren't sitting here to self-liquidate ourselves."

Exclusive Interview Required 3 Tries

Yesterday's exclusive Pontiac Press interview with a 22-year-old Utica youth planning to go to Red China in defiance of a State Department ban on travel there was the culmination of a three-day attempt to reach the youth, Larry Schwartz, by phone in Moscow, Russia.

The Press first attempted to reach Schwartz late Friday afternoon in Moscow, but the overseas wire was cut off at 6 p.m. before the call could be completed.

Saturday morning the Press call to Moscow went through, but a Russian switchboard operator at Schwartz's hotel said "that he had just gone out to a carnival." Schwartz is attending the Communist - sponsored World Youth Festival.

Sunday morning at 10:45 a.m. Pontiac time, early evening in Moscow, Pontiac Press reporter Max Simon spoke with Schwartz.

JOE CARRY

ISHMEAL POWERS

Duty Ends for Recruiters at Two Pontiac Stations

Transfers have ended the duty tours of a Navy and a Marine recruiter of the Pontiac stations.

Shipserviceman I. C. Joe Carry, a native of Pontiac, is being transferred from the Navy Recruiting Station, for two-years of sea duty.

Carry, a Pontiac High graduate, enlisted in 1945, was discharged in 1946, and re-enlisted in 1948. He is a World War II and Korean police action veteran and was first stationed here in November, 1954.

He will join the destroyer USS Rogers, based at San Diego, Calif.

Marine Recruiter M. Sgt. Ishmeal Powers has been ordered to report to Quantico, Virginia.

Sgt. Powers, a veteran of 17 years in the Corps, was named non - commissioned officer in charge of the local station in March, 1954.

A World War II veteran who spent 14 months in the South Pacific, he is also a Korean veteran.

In March, 1956, Sgt. Powers was named the nation's outstanding recruiter for that month, on the basis of the local station's average of 18 recruits a month for seven months.

Only One of Four Rescued

Tells of Mountain Disaster

LONDON (INS) — Claudio Corti told today how he and three other mountain climbers became trapped on the sheer wall of a mountain in the Swiss Alps.

The 29-year-old Italian was the only one of the four rescued after four days on the blizzard-lashed north face of Eger Mountain.

In an interview with the London Daily Mail near the site of the rescue, Corti, who was saved by a daring climber yesterday, said everything had gone well until Stefano Longhi, 44, slipped and fell 30 feet off the wall last Thursday.

"He was held only by a rope which was lashed to me," Corti said. "He swung like a pendulum in a void. It was dreadful. I couldn't help.

"Then the two Germans behind us came up. They too failed to help Stefano. So we left him hanging after securing him on the rope. We went on together.

"On Friday, I fell a hundred feet down and was badly hurt. The Germans got me back onto the rack and made camp for me. Then they continued climbing.

"They promised to get aid. From then on I was alone. Sunday morning I had no food left. I ate snow. That was all."

The two Germans, Goetz Meier, 26, and Guenther Nothdurft, 27, still are missing. Rescuers are searching for them, but hope that they are alive has failed.

Longhi's body still is dangling in the void.

Hopes to Regain Justice Court Fees

eral has no constitutional business dictating to the judicial branch of government.

Not only Kavanagh, but also the Auditor General's office has overstepped its bounds and entered into the controversy during the past two years, Ingle said in his suit. Newspaper publicity on the subject has also added to the confusion, he added.

Ingle wants Circuit Court to decide whether Kavanagh's opinion is right. The court should at least make a ruling since it has jurisdiction over the lower, justice courts, he said.

Ziem's immediate reaction to the suit was one of surprise. "I don't think I should be named as defendant," he said, "since it is Kavanagh's ruling that is in question."

But Ingle pointed out that it was Ziem's position on the state ruling that prompted local abandonment of the former justice court procedure in March.

The former system was complicated, but it provided revenues for both the county and local governments. County and local officials said these revenues were legitimate, since they helped defray the over-all costs of law enforcement and prosecution.

MORE THAN FEES

By assessing violators more in costs than actually had to be paid out in justice, witness and other fees specified by law, the county accumulated more than $50,000 last year and one township, Waterford, more than $100,000.

Both sums went to help pay for law enforcement which otherwise would have had to be supported solely through tax money. In Ingle's township, the justice court profit last year was about $35,000.

With the Attorney General's opinion, these profits were cut out. Officials who want to get the profits back say they encouraged home rule and helped make local government more profitable.

Enemies of the local profits maintain they lead to such abuses as the alleged Waterford Township "speed-trap" on U.S. 10. The township was accused early this year of encouraging traffic tickets in order to build up revenues for its police department.

As a result of the Attorney General's ruling, the township lost its justice court profits and subsequently cut its police force for lack of money from 16 men to four.

Rights Bill Sent to Committee

House Speaker to Ask Action This Week, GOP Leader Suggests Recess

WASHINGTON (INS)— The civil rights bill was sent to the House Rules Committee today and House speaker Sam Rayburn said he will ask action on the measure "this week."

The development came after House GOP leader Joseph W. Martin suggested that Congress should take a recess and reconvene in November if it deadlocks on the legislation.

Referral of the controversial bill to the Rules Committee took place in a brief parliamentary maneuver in the House chamber which pointed up conflicting Republican and Democratic strategy.

Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY), House sponsor of the bill, formally asked that differences between the House and Senate versions be sent to conferees for settlement.

A dozen Northern and Southern Democrats jumped to their feet to object to Keating's request for unanimous consent for this procedure. The formal objection came from Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa).

House Judiciary Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY), then asked for unanimous consent to have the Senate version considered by the House with a single amendment, permitting jury trials only for persons accused of violating court orders in voting cases.

Keating promptly objected to this procedure and the issue was left for the House Rules Committee to decide.

Kept Union Money Hidden in Box-Doria

members, because the AIW constitution required only a report to the union's president, Earl Heaton, who recently stepped down from that post.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) remarked "it's a lame constitution if that's all it provides."

"Tell that to the members," Doria hotly retorted. "I made an accounting to all that the constitution required," he said, and added that in this case "all" meant Heaton.

Doria said Heaton was the only person who knew that he(Doria) had the box of cash at union headquarters, hidden under a heap of papers on a shelf in a room adjoining Doria's.

14,500 Turn Out to See Exhibits at 4-H Club Fair

Although attendance at the Oakland County 4-H Club Fair last week was "normal" with approximately 14,500, exhibits entered and boys and girls participating increased from the 1956 figures, Lyle Abel, Oakland County Extension Service chief agricultural agent said today.

"The fair was very well attended and up to previous year's records, and there also was at least a 5 per cent increase in the number of 4-H club members participating in this five-day event compared to last year," Abel remarked.

He estimated 3,000 exhibits were entered in the fair. Fourteen new 4-H clubs, organized throughout the county since the last fair, were thought to be major reasons for the interest increase of the boys and girls.

The 17th annual event was sponsored by the Oakland County 4-H Leaders Association which has more than 200 members.

Over 1,500 county girls and boys are members of 4-H clubs throughout the county.

Two Expectant Mothers Unhurt in Auto Crash

Two expectant mothers underwent medical observation after they were involved in a two-car collision at State and Henderson streets yesterday.

Both Mrs. Dixie Ann Cross, 18, of 87 Thorpe St. and Mrs. Marjorie L. Dillon, 18, of 122 N. Johnson were released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac police said.

Their husbands, Charles Cross, 20, and Glen E. Dillon, were the drivers.

WALTER J. BENDIG

Walter J. Bendig Dies at Age 56

Walter J. Bendig, 56, of 536 Judson Ct., died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after being ill for several years.

He had served the City of Pontiac as lieutenant in the fire department for more than 25 years.

Mr. Bendig was a member of St. Vincent de Paul Church, Elks Lodge No. 810, Metropolitan Club No. 6 and the Holy Name Society of his church.

Surviving besides his wife, Alma, are his mother, Mrs. George Bendig of Pontiac; three children, Mrs. Lewis Funk of Detroit, Walter J. Bendig Jr. of Clarkston and Janice at home; and three sisters.

The Elks Lodge of Sorrows will be at 7 p.m. today at the Dudley H. Moore Funeral Home in Auburn Heights. Immediately following at 8 p.m., the Rosary will be recited at the funeral home.

The service will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in St. Vincent de Paul Church with the Rev. William Caroline officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham will be back at Madison Square Garden tonight after his usual Monday night off for rest. His sermons this week are being devoted to the problem of juvenile delinquency.

Waste Disposal Plant to Open

Pontiac Motor Division Treatment Unit to Start Operating Tomorrow

Pontiac Motor Division will officially open its new waste treatment plant tomorrow.

The giant industrial waste treatment system, under construction for the past year, is capable of neutralizing 1,500 gallons of noxious waste solution per minute, the division's general manager S. E. Knudsen said, and incorporates the most up-to-date waste control methods known.

Civic leaders and company officials will tour the new plant and other parts of the Pontiac Motor Division, beginning at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

An operations and laboratory building along with 34 treating tanks make up the disposal unit. These mammoth steel tanks, with individual capacities up to 500,000 gallons, cover an area of 100,000 square feet.

The system will be used to remove chemically the objectionable material in copper, nickel, cyanide and chrome solutions from metal plating and machining operations throughout the Pontiac Motor Division plants, thus preventing any contamination of sewer systems, company spokesmen said.

10-Year-Old Girl Injured When Bike Rams Auto

A 10-year-old girl suffered minor arm bruises when she was injured by a car while riding her bicycle on Edison street north of Howard street yesterday, Pontiac police said.

Cheri Jean Dudley, of 99 Gladstone Ave. had treatment at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She told police that her bike hit a stone, bouncing her into the side of the car of William S. Keys, 34, of 381 Holbrook St., Detroit.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Is lightning likely to approach nearer when you see it to the south, or in the southeast?

If you see lightning to the south or southeast, it is most likely to pass you by unharmed in most parts of the United States. In Florida or in some deep southern states—and even in other areas, occasionally—this rule will not hold true.

The dangerous lightning storms usually come from the west, or the northwest. If you spot lightning in this direction, it would be wise to plan on its arrival and take whatever precautions are wise.

The lightning that strikes you, by the way, will never be seen, so if you can see a lightning bolt, or flash, the time for fear has already passed and you can relax. There is no need to think of the next one—you won't see it, either, if it hits you.

Comet Mkros Visible Here

The Comet Mkros is making its appearance in clear summer skies over Michigan. It can be seen in the northwest sky about 10 or 20 degrees above the horizon.

The comet is named after its discoverer, a Czech astronomer.

Newspapers and radio stations through the northern United States were flooded with calls from viewers who had missed announcements by astronomers that Mkros would be visible.

Reports in Michigan indicated the comet was especially clear and could be seen with the naked eye. Viewers said it was attended by brilliant meteoric fireworks.

Investigators Hampered

Mud Hides Plane Victims

ISSOUDUN, Que. (AP) — Mud and murky water today concealed the bodies of 79 victims of Canada's worst air disaster. Investigators trying to find out what caused the DC4 to crash were hampered.

Policemen plodded through ankle deep mud yesterday collecting bits of clothing and personal effects and parts of the bodies of the 73 passengers and 6 crew members.

The Maritime Central Airways plane, bound from London to Toronto, crashed Sunday afternoon near this community 15 miles southwest of Quebec.

The DC4 was last seen flying into the thick clouds of a thunderstorm that struck the area.

The plane had been chartered by an Ontario veterans' association, primarily to take former British servicemen from Ontario back to visit Britain. However, others were permitted to travel aboard the plane, one of three on the overseas charter runs.

Alexander to Head County's New DPW

An Oak Park councilman and civil engineer was appointed yesterday as Deputy Director of Oakland County's new Department of Public Works.

R. J. Alexander, 50, was chosen from among 21 applicants for the $12,000-a-year job, said Harold K. Schone, acting DPW director.

The sewer and water engineer's selection by Schone was made effective yesterday by the DPW board.

Alexander will be in charge of coordinating the new department's proposed inter-community sewer and water projects, Schone said.

Alexander had been general manager the past 10 years for an Oak Park firm, John Monte Construction Co., specializing in the kind of projects which he will supervise on his new county job.

Lake Orion Woman Injured in Auto Crash

Mrs. Mary E. Reeves, 34, of Lake Orion was listed in good condition today at Pontiac General Hospital where she is being treated for back injuries from a two-car collision on Baldwin avenue north of Walton boulevard yesterday.

Mrs. Reeves was with her husband, Berkley Reeves, 34, whose car collided with one driven by Herman Siewer, 83, of 93 Hopkins St., Pontiac police said.

Siewer was crossing Baldwin from a parking lot when the accident occurred with Reeves' southbound car, police said.

GOP Lines Up State Alternates for Van Peursem

State Rep. Farrell Roberts of West Bloomfield Township and several other Republican state lawmakers are being sought today to carry on ailing House Speaker George VanPeursem's GOP stumping tour.

Van Peursem, who has been making the county fair circuit as leader of a young Republican group determined to do something about sagging party fortunes, entered the hospital today for minor throat surgery which may keep him off the road for six weeks.

Busily lining up substitute speakers, VanPeursem's office hoped to include Roberts and Rep. Donald A. Brown of Royal Oak for barnstorming engagements later this month.

Both young lawmakers have identified themselves with the movement to bolster their party's prestige and power. Neither was immediately available for comment.

Minor Injuries Suffered by Man in Auto Accident

Only minor injuries were suffered by Stavros I. Caffentgis, 61, 16 W. Rutgers St., whose car was struck from behind on Baldwin avenue yesterday, Pontiac police said.

Caffentgis, released after treatment at Pontiac General Hospital, was about to turn left on Rutgers, police said, when the accident occurred with a car driven by Roger E. Swelling, 19, of 1949 Grandview Rd.

Dairy Group Set for Strike

Leaders Visit Officials in Lansing to Explain Program, Problems

LANSING (AP) — The Dairy Farmers Co-Operative Assn. apparently was ready today to go ahead with strike plans after a round of visits by its leaders to state officials.

Led by Homer Martin, DFC organization director, the group yesterday called at the offices of the governor, the State Labor Mediation Board and Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Martin said their mission was to acquaint officials with the organization's program and problems. He spoke of seeing Agriculture Director George McIntyre today or tomorrow.

Last weekend, DFC members from 20 counties set up a committee and authorized it to call a strike aimed at cutting off milk supplies to southeastern Michigan dairies.

In the governor's office, where the group spent an hour with Alfred B. Fitt, Williams' legal adviser, Martin devoted most of the time to denouncing the Michigan Milk Producers' Assn., comparing it with a company union that sold out its members.

GOVERNOR VACATIONING

The governor was vacationing on Mackinac Island.

The DFC, which split off from the MMPA, is demanding a 50 cent increase in prices paid to producers of milk for bottling. That would set the price at $5.50. The DFC wants another 50 cents a hundredweight (46½ quarts), or $6, starting Oct. 1.

At the mediation board, member George Sutton said that if Martin's group filed a formal notice of the existence of a dispute with the big Detroit creameries his agency would assign a mediator to try to help adjust differences.

Sutton observed that a jurisdictional question might be raised, since the controversy would not be a labor dispute under the statute.

Kavanagh said Martin asked whether the attorney general could render legal opinions at the request of a private agency, and that he explained why this could not be done.

Delay in Atomic Test

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—The nuclear test shot "Shasta" was postponed again today, less than an hour before it was to have been detonated.

Another try will be made in 24 hours.

The AEC said adverse winds and mechanical difficulties caused the postponement, 15th for "Shasta."

Quiz Flier in Death of Japanese Woman

MITO, Japan (AP)—The U. S. Air Force said today 1st Lt. John L. Gordon, whose light plane struck and killed a Japanese woman Aug. 2, was called in by the Mito prosecutor's office yesterday for preliminary questioning.

Gordon, of Erie, Pa., reviewed details of the accident and answered "routine questions," Air Force spokesmen said.

Mrs. Haru Hojo, 63, was killed when Gordon's single-engine L-20 liaison plane took off from the Mito gunnery range, settled back to the ground and knocked her from a bicycle. Her son, 23, was injured. Gordon was unhurt.

After preliminary investigation, Japanese authorities claimed Gordon had been stunting in the plane before the accident. The Air Force offered evidence the incident was accidental, and denied Gordon had been stunting.

No charges have been filed.

"ME... a killer?"

People just like yourself become killers every day in traffic accidents . . . and so could you!

Last year, 40,000 men, women and children died tragically on our highways—a terrible record!

Can anything be done about it? YES . . . if you help!

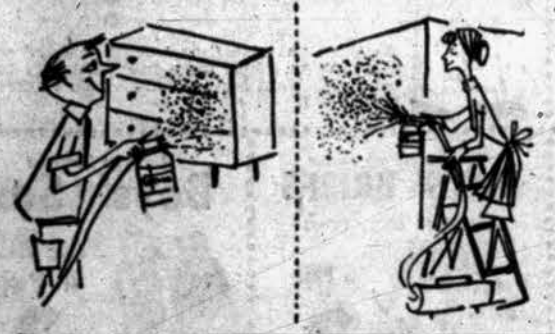

Here's how you can help:

1. Drive safely, courteously yourself. Observe speed limits, warning signs. Where traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN!
2. Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws. They work for you, not against you. Where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

Letter Asks 'Other Side' of Civil Rights Question

The following communication is self-explanatory:

"I was interested in reading your editorial concerning 'civil rights.' The press of the nation has, for the most part, presented only one side of this issue—the Negroes'.

"It seems to me that in demanding 'rights' for all Negroes, the Federal Government is abrogating the rights of the majority of the people in our country, both in the South and here in the North. Certainly it is a curtailment of civil rights under the Constitution if the Federal bureaucrats would, as they wish to do, come into a local community and dictate to a company that it must hire certain persons for certain jobs, or tell a church that it must accept colored people into its membership, or force a restaurant to serve, or come to your home and tell you who your friends are going to be and who will associate with your daughter at school and socially.

"Why don't you comment on this in next Saturday's paper and give the hushed-up other side of the argument. Most newspapers simply do not have the guts to do so."

Taxpayer and Citizen.

O.K. You've presented the "other side." And in passing, Taxpayer and Citizen, may we suggest that The PRESS editorial was signed by the publisher's name. The communication above is "strictly anonymous." Who's calling whom "gutless?"

He's a Good Sport

Regardless of the scares quite periodically put out, there are very few rattlesnakes in Oakland County. Danger of being bitten by one is practically nil.

For the rattler is a good sport. It is our only venomous snake, and nature in its all-wise plan, provided that it give ample warning before it strikes. No other snake does this.

And you cannot mistake the sound of that rattle. It is vastly different from any other sound you ever heard. You'll recognize it the first time you hear it, and you'll never forget it.

With just ordinary common sense care, there is no excuse for anybody ever being bitten by a rattler. It will do its best to get out of your way, and if you persist, intentional or otherwise, in making your presence obnoxious, it gives you a final warning. Do some humans do as much?

It has been many years since a fatal snake bite was recorded in Oakland County. About 1920 there was one in Commerce Township, and a few years later one took place in Lyon Township.

Since then, most of the swamps, where the rattler likes to lurk, have been eliminated in this area, and that snake has almost been exterminated.

The habitat of those that remain is generally known in the neighborhood, and only those who look for it are in danger of being bitten.

Modern methods of treating the victims also have eliminated practically all of the danger.

West Indies Looking for DeLuxe Birthday Gift

The new West Indies Federation consisting of 10 island groups is slated to come into being in November.

In early diseussions Grenada was spoken of as the best and most logical capital. Jamaica to the north, the largest and most populous with about half the total population of the new federation, was also mentioned.

Now Trinidad, the southernmost island, off the coast of Venezuela, has been chosen tentatively. The proposal is being made that the United States surrender its naval base on that island for use as the site for a capital of the West Indies.

The base is on Chagauramas Bay and the United States has a 99 year lease from Great Britain on the property, signed in 1940. Construction was started during World War II. One of the best naval bases in the world, enclosed by a ring of islands, it is part of the defense system of this country as well as territories in the Caribbean and South America.

Federation leaders and newspapers are asking Uncle Sam to hand over the $150 million base, as a gesture of friendship, and build a new one elsewhere! These people should appreciate the fact that the U. S. now provides protection for them almost without charge. In those islands there must be many suitable sites for a capital.

Why should Uncle Sam provide such an expensive birthday gift?

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

David Lawrence Asks:

Does Smoking Cause Lung Cancer?

WASHINGTON — Does cigarette smoking really cause cancer of the lung? Scientists are divided on the subject, and evidently there is even a difference of opinion among the directors of the American Cancer Society as to how much actual proof of a cause-and-effect nature has been adduced.

LAWRENCE

This correspondent wrote two weeks ago that the statistics with reference to tobacco and lung cancer "may really turn out some day to prove a cause-and-effect relationship, but to date it is only fair to say that no such evidence has yet been produced."

M. R. Runyon, executive vice president of the American Cancer Society, sends me a letter in which he says that the case against cigarettes as an important cause of lung cancer rests upon a number of studies in the last 20 years which, when added together, form "a most convincing chain of evidence." He points to the report made by seven prominent scientists which reviewed "all the evidence available" and, on June 7, declared:

"The sum total of scientific evidence establishes beyond reasonable doubt that cigarette smoking is a causative factor in the rapidly increasing incidence of human epidemoid carcinoma of the lung."

Runyon also quotes from the report of a scientific body in Great Britain which, on June 29 last, said:

ANOTHER OPINION

"Evidence from many investigations in different countries indicates that a major part of the increase (in lung cancer) is associated with tobacco smoking, particularly in the form of cigarettes. In the opinion of the council, the most reasonable interpretation of this evidence is that the relationship is one of direct cause and effect."

But it is also a significant fact that Dr. Ian G. MacDonald, director of cancer research at the University of Southern California—who is not only chairman of the Committee on Cancer Research of the American Medical Association but is himself a director of the American Cancer Society—said to a Congressional committee on July 25:

"Although there is an apparent association between cigarette smoking and lung cancer, a review of the total evidence fails to establish a cause-and-effect relationship. . . ."

The surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service, Leroy E. Burney, in a statement issued on July 12, does not go as far as the American Cancer Society's study group in claiming that the scientific evidence "establishes beyond reasonable doubt that cigarette smoking is a causative factor" in lung cancer. Surgeon General Burney says:

"In the light of these studies, it is clear that there is an increasing and consitent body of evidence that excessive cigarette smoking is one of the causative factors in lung cancer."

But the surgeon general also adds:

"At the same time, it is clear that heavy and prolonged cigarette smoking is not the only cause of lung cancer. Lung cancer occurs among nonsmokers, and the incidence of lung cancer among various population groups does not always coincide with the amount of cigarette smoking.

"The precise nature of the factors in heavy and prolonged cigarette smoking which can cause lung cancer is not known. The Public Health Service supports the recommendation of the study group that more research is needed to identify, isolate and try to eliminate the factors in excessive cigarette smoking which can cause cancer.

There was a time when medical men throughout the country insisted that the public should take its medical advice from them and not from public discussion of controversial aspects of "cures" as well as alleged causes of various illnesses.

Today, however, mere suspicion and "guilt by association" through statistics are apparently considered sufficiently convincing to arouse the public to change its habits of life. Just as it is important for all pertinent facts and statistics to be publicized, so it is also important for the dissenting view among scientists and physicians to be presented to the same public.

Smiles

An honest confession may be good for the soul, but the good wife may start swinging.

Dr. William Brady Says:

No Law Prohibits Sale of Useful Sodium Citrate

"I am a pharmacist. I have had requests to make up your formulations and have done so many times. Incidentally I have never refused to sell sodium citrate without a prescription although the label on the bottle says "For Prescription Compounding" it does not say Federal Law Prohibits Dispensing without a Prescription.

DR. BRADY

"Although, as businessmen, pharmacists want to make money, we also like to feel that we work with doctors, not against them, in the interest of public health. Satisfaction derived from helping people means more than the money. If it were only the money, there are other more profitable occupations we could select.

(signed) ——— ———

I am grateful to this pharmacist and several others who have written lately in similar vein. Heretofore, pharmacists merely asked me rhetorically whether one should break the law in order to supply my readers with sodium citrate with which to make up a batch of my Foolproof Cough Medicine.

Instructions for preparing and using the Homemade Foolproof Cough Medicine, for children and adults, are given in the booklet Call it C R I for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

USED FOR BABIES

Sodium citrate (citrate of soda) is a mildly alkaline sedative expectorant diaphoretic diuretic. It formerly was used as lime water is sometimes used—to prevent formation of large curds in the baby milk. A grain or two of citrate was added to each ounce of the formula in the baby's bottle.

However, if you are subjected to any embarrassment when you ask the drug clerk for an ounce or a pound of sodium citrate, or if the head man shows you the legend "For Prescription Compounding" on the can or box, just smile graciously and toddle off to the next store, where you may ask for an ounce or a pound of potassium citrate (citrate of potash).

The sale of potassium citrate to the public is unrestricted—as yet. Citrate of potash has virtually the same effect as citrate of soda.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

'Seems Like Comic Opera; Let's Settle Police Issue'

I read an editorial in The Press Saturday that said the police matter ought to be settled and that primarily the Chief should run the department and not the Trial Board. On the front page of the same issue I read an article saying City Manager Willman overruled the Chief on four points. I ask you, just who is the Chief? Is it the Chief, the City Manager or the Trial Board? This begins to sound like comic opera.

If they'll give me a desk in the City Hall lobby, I'll open books and take all bets. At the outset I'm giving odds on the City Manager. I think he has the inside track, the lead and the bit in his teeth.

Let's settle the silly thing.

(Editor's Note: Running in the editorial column today is a letter from "Taxpayer and Citizen" directed to the publisher of The Press, together with a reply.)

'Replies to Letter Miss Main Point"

Those letters against Harold Blackwood's stand on zoning miss the main point completely. Mr. Blackwood favors upholding zoning ordinances. He did in the north end. He does on the west side. That's his whole point. The three letters in Saturday's paper duck the issue intentionally or because of a failure to comprehend.

Let's play fair, no matter which side we're on. Blackwood favors staying by the zoning ordinances.

'Help Pontiac Look Beautiful'

Last week while downtown I saw the flower boxes at the Courthouse. They are just what Pontiac needs. It's the little things like that which make a passer-by notice and think someone cares about the looks of the city.

Everyone should be proud to live in Pontiac. After all, we're a noted manufacturing city. The city was also named for Chief Pontiac. Haven't we a beautiful city hall and branch library?

So come on, citizens. Let this be the beginning. Let's make Pontiac look like someone cares.

Reader Is Aghast at Marriage Policy

Well, this "old goat" down South may have started things. Now I see an 18-year-old Illinois boy married a 13-year-old girl. They drove down to Mississippi to get married.

Is this going to become an epidemic? Illinois says "it's against our public policy, but if it's legal in Mississippi, it must be legal here." Are others aghast along with me?

Wants Controls Put on Boats

It seems to me it's time something is done about rules and regulations for boats on our lakes. Every weekend I see motor boats whipping in and out of areas where people are swimming, others barely avoid running into each other. There seem to be no laws to govern boat traffic, and with all the possible danger involved, there certainly should be, especially since any idiot can pilot a boat. There aren't even any laws to be sure boat owners are qualified to run them safely.

Should Parents Help Newlyweds?

Gwen's wealthy father doesn't want to spoil Gwen's marriage by placing Gwen and her husband on a "dole." So face this problem even before the wedding. For marriage is a game with just as definite rules as baseball. Rich kids don't get more than three strikes in baseball, so don't waive their marriage rules, either. It spoils the game!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-368: Gwen G., aged 23, is the daughter of a wealthy Chicagoan.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I need a little advice," Gwen's father began. "Gwen married about six months ago.

"Her husband is a fine chap. But he is young and not earning enough to let Gwen live at the level to which she has been accustomed.

"So my wife thinks we ought to subsidize the newlyweds. But I came up the hard way, and believe it is unwise to cultivate a false standard of living in young couples.

"Yet I don't want to be a hard-hearted father, either. It isn't miserliness that makes me hesitate, but fear of the disastrous effects on her husband, if he becomes a 'squaw man,' supported by his in-laws.

"What can I do in this dilemma? I want to be fair to all."

NEWLYWED PROBLEMS

Gwen's husband is a chemist. He makes $100 per week. But Gwen's father earns $1,000 per week.

Gwen has been living at the $1,000 level, but now is faced with a demotion to that $100 weekly income.

A similar problem confronts newlyweds all over America. For even if the bride comes from only a normal "white collar" type of home, she is accustomed to luxuries that her parents have worked 25 years to afford.

It is not to be expected that a young husband should start out with the same standard of living as his father or in-laws have attained after 25 years of effort and struggle.

So you parents should warn your children that it is no disgrace for them to begin at a much lower rung on the financial ladder.

Indeed, it is unfair to coddle such newlyweds and let them sponge off their in-laws, even if those in-laws are very rich. For much of the fun of early marriage consists in planning and budgeting and skimping together.

Marriage is a game, much like baseball. It has definite rules. And in baseball rich kids aren't granted more than three strikes when they get up to the plate.

Neither are the sons or daughters of rich men supposed to be granted similar violations of the standard rules of matrimony.

PROPER SUBSIDY

But the in-laws can help stabilize the newlyweds without in any way upsetting the standard rule that the couple must live on the husband's earnings.

How? Well, suppose Gwen's father makes the down payment on a little home for the newlyweds. That can be a belated wedding gift.

Gwen and her husband then must make the monthly payments just as they would pay rent. So their budget would not be upset by papa's generosity.

But papa should not make a down payment on a $50,000 home in a swanky neighborhood, for the newlyweds could not meet such monthly payments on their $100 weekly salary.

No, papa must adapt his gift to the living scale demanded by that $100 weekly income.

Papa might also offer a "baby bonus" for every new grandchild, for children are a capital investment and the in-laws can very wisely invest in this way. It may thus give them three or four grandchildren instead of only one.

If Gwen works after marriage to help her husband, her earnings should not be applied to current expenses, for that simply cultivates an exaggerated scale of living.

Send for my "Budget Booklet," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20 cents (non-profit). It shows you how to play the financial game of marriage according to Hoyle.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Phyllis Battelle Says:

Fears, Guilt Ride New York, Analyst Finds

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—"A normal person," said Eve Ross, who perhaps knows as well as anyone the meaning of that nebulous term, "is one who doesn't need to stand on his tiptoes trying to measure up to a giant.

"Some people, you know, walk through life on stilts—so heavy with guilt they may fall at any moment—never at ease. How I wish they could understand (please remember this, it is very important) that people are normal only when they can function comfortably within their own limitations."

Miss Ross, with an M.A. in mental hygiene from Columbia, and a handwriting analyst besides, leaned back wearily. Knowing her own limitations, no doubt. Then she chuckled briefly. "I think perhaps," she said, "I take my job too seriously."

The job at hand is purely one of entertainment, dreamed up by the diminutive blonde analyst in order to pave her road to a doctorate in mental hygiene. Called "fun at your table," it's a combination handwriting analysis—and—"free association" test which Miss Ross offers the clientele of the Hotel Wellington's "Medallion Room" over their demi-tasse.

"But everybody takes himself too seriously today," she said, "and I can't insult anybody by giving him fluffy reassurance. I get too wound up in their problems.

UNHAPPINESS EVERYWHERE

"There is a deep, all-prevailing unhappiness in people of New York today, which shows up in this kind of study, and when you see so much of it—some is bound to rub off."

Miss Ross' technique is this: She asks customers to answer, on a pad of paper, 10 questions dealing with money, love, comfort, pride, etc. Then she studies their handwriting and their answers together, and comes up with a "rough, but penetrating" character analysis.

In studying hundreds of Americans, from adolescents to alleged grownups like Tommy Manville and the late Serge Rubinstein, Eve has come to some general conclusions:

1. Most women today feel unlovable and rejected, whether married or single. This stems from enormous guilt complexes, and leads Eve to observe, "Guilt is the root of most evil."

2. Men object most to the trait of possessiveness in women. Nagging is one form of this female liability.

3. Outwardly, women complain of "lack of consideration" on the part of their men. Inwardly, they fear lack of consideration as a sign that they are losing the interest of their men. This contributes to their show of possessiveness.

4. Nearly every man, woman and child old enough to write has a personal inferiority coupled with false pride which makes him "tiptoe through life" to try to stand above his neighbors.

5. Most women are in love with love but ashamed or afraid of its physical manifestations.

6. Most men, secretly, are much the same.

Miss Ross, who has been at her analysis between studies for the past decade, recently returned from Camp Kilmer, N. J., where she acted as a psychological resettlement worker in the Hungarian refugee rehabilitation project.

It was a heartbreaking experience, she sighed, working with those people who, physically, had lost almost everything. But it's not much less wrenching to return to New York, where somewhere along the line so many people have, emotionally and spiritually, suffered the same fate.

But Still Cuts Hair

Barber Turns Jeweler

PORTAGE (AP)—What would you do if you were sitting in a barber's chair, your face covered with lather and the razor-wielding barber suddenly asked if you'd like to buy a watch?

Things never get quite that drastic in the barber shop of Walter Ring. But the equipment is all there.

Ring is a barber and a jeweler and he operates his businesses simultaneously from a shop in the new shopping center in Portage.

"I'm used to having my customers accuse me of trimming them, or clipping them or using my razor as a selling point in the jewelry store," says the good-natured Ring.

"I don't really care what jokes they make as long as they remember to pay the bill."

PERFECT NAME

Then he decided to take a correspondence course in watch repair.

"I didn't want to be a jeweler," he says. "I just thought it would be fun to fix watches. But pretty soon my customers found out I could do it and began leaving their watches in the barber shop."

Ring branched out into the jewelry business and in his new shop his barber chair is on one side of the store and the jewelry display casmes are on the other.

"I don't let my haircut customers waste time looking at magazines or out the window," he explained. "I face 'em right at my merchandise.

SURPRISE

"You'd be surprised how many folks remember they need a watch strap, or something."

Asked whether he prefers being a barber or a jeweler, Ring declines to say. He puts it this way:

"Whichever one happens to have a customer at the moment."

Representative Rescues Woman From River

PORT HURON (AP)—A Michigan legislator commandeered a boat and rescued a woman clinging to a life jacket in the St. Clair River near here Sunday.

Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron) was dining in a restaurant on the American shore when he heard the screams of four persons thrown into the water in the darkness when their boat struck a submerged wreck.

Phillips rescued Mrs. Joseph Alexander, 38, of Sarnia, Ont.

John McNeil, 49, of Sarnia, was missing and presumed drowned. Mrs. McNeil and Alexander were rescued by Edward Werner of Marysville, who had set out in a boat with two friends.

New Flu Shots Released Today

502,000 Vaccine Doses Ready for Use by Public and Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first 502,000 doses of the new vaccine to combat Asiatic flu were released today by the Public Health Service for military and civilian use.

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said the released vaccine consisted of 320,000 doses made by National Drug Co., Philadelphia, and 182,000 produced by Lederle Laboratories, New York.

It was understood that National Drug's vaccine would be available for civilian use through normal commercial channels to public health authorities and family physicians. There were indications the Lederle product was intended for the military.

Burney told a reporter that some 13,000 cases have been reported in influenza outbreaks in this country in which cases of Asiatic flu have been confirmed. Another 6,000 cases of influenza-like illnesses have been reported in recent weeks in outbreaks in which there has been no confirmation of the new strain.

Hundreds of government personnel and other volunteers are being used to test the new vaccine and thus far fewer adverse reactions have been observed than occur in use of the already existing flu vaccines, Burney said.

He said he knew nothing about any plan to make the vaccine available to Cabinet members and other high government officials. That was Burney's answer to questions about published reports that vaccine had been available for such persons for some time.

Detroit Savings Office Robbed by Masked Men

DETROIT (AP)—Two masked gunmen robbed a Standard Federal Savings & Loan Assn. office of an estimated $16,000 yesterday.

Seven employes and five customers were herded into a rear room and held at gunpoint. No one was injured, however.

A bandit told a receptionist: "This is a holdup. Each of us has two guns and there's a submachine gun in the car." His partner had entered a rear door.

Each gunman was wearing a handkerchief over the lower part of his face and each carried a pistol.

While the first to enter held employes and customers in a small room used as an office kitchen, the other bandit looted the safe. They escaped in a car.

Aging Great Challenge to Public Health

(In the past 50 years, much has been done to porlong life. Now some of the emphasis has shifted to keeping people healthy and happy once they get old. Ray Henry has asked a group of specialists of the Public Health Service, the government's chief health agency, to tell what's being done. This is the first of a series.)

By DR. LeROY E. BURNEY
Surgeon General of the Public Health Service

Aging is one of the great challenges facing public health in the United States. Better health can indeed enrich and strengthen the later years.

In comparison with other health fields, aging has yet been little explored. There is much we have to learn about the aging process and about the diseases that affect older people. We have to devise new ways to develop and improve community health services for the aging.

Yet there is much we do know or are studying. Many projects are under way that we hope will ultimately help older people enjoy a healthier old age.

Take the matter of research. Systematic scientific investigation in gerontology, the study of aging, is not many years old. It is expanding and will, we expect, grow in the years to come. Yet even now there is promising progress.

Through research conducted in the laboratories of the Public Health Service and through money grants to outside investigators, we are learning that:

—Age changes, except for those brought on by specific disease, appear to be slow processes that go on throughout life, beginning about age 30.

—Definite changes in the body functions occur when growth ceases. That is, when a person stops growing he begins to age.

—Aging is not necessarily connected to the deterioration of the body by disease.

—Many common beliefs about older people may be without basis in fact. For example, older people can form new tissues and accumulate calcium in their bones, once thought impossible.

We are also probing more deeply into such diseases as cancer, high blood pressure, arthritis, rheumatism, diabetes and mental illness—diseases which often result in prolonged disability for older people.

SUPPORT IDEAS

We hope to help support, improve and demonstrate such ideas as:

—Home care services for the aged and chronically ill.

—Health maintenance clinics for older people.

Restorative services to enable many older people to achieve self-care and independence.

Never Shies Away From a Battle

Hoffa 'Goes for Broke'

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

James Riddle Hoffa — short, muscled and determined — is a man accustomed to "going for broke."

Hoffa's impending "go for broke" appearance before the Senate Labor Rackets Committee, which is probing his alleged tie-ups with labor racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi in a bid for control over New York unions, will be just another of the battles Hoffa has never shied away from.

Hoffa has battled on the picket line, in the street and in union halls and at the bargaining table for his vast Central States Conference of Teamsters.

The battle has carried Hoffa from head of his own local at the age of 19 to, at the age of 44, the brink of presidency of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters — the nation's largest union.

His coal miner father died when Hoffa was seven and his mother was forced to go to work. The family wound up in Detroit in 1925, where Hoffa finished out the ninth grade of school and never returned.

He staged his first uprising against management at 18 after going to work in a grocery chain warehouse for 32 cents an hour. Not long after leading a short and successful strike against the chain, Hoffa got a local charter from the AFL and was on his way up the union ladder.

Hoffa won the reputation of being "all muscle from the shoulders down" in his early union days He has noted about those days that there was only one way to deal with "tough, anti-union employers," and that was to fight back — and we used to slug it out on the streets."

By 1952 he was an international vice president, and in 1953 President Dave Beck — who Hoffa hopes to succeed — named him chairman of the Central Teamsters Conference.

Hoffa now is admittedly "comfortably well off." His union posts pay him $21,000 a year. But his investments have included a truck equipment leasing firm, a brewery, an investment concern and a race track. Still he, his wife and two children live in a modest Detroit home bought for $6,800 in 1939.

On his "go for broke" appearance before the Senate committee rests not only Hoffa's hope of replacing the fallen Beck as head of the million plus union, but his even fonder hope of fashioning one great union embracing all the nation's transportation workers.

Complicated by Booming Germany

French Economy Growing Shaky

(The sun is shining in Paris and winter seems far away. The average Frenchman doesn't seem to be worrying much about the state of his nation, but the government is. France is in a financial crisis. The franc is wobbly, inflation is widespread and monetary reserves are down. In the following story, Preston Grover, chief of the Paris AP bureau, outlines the country's admittedly precarious condition and tells what measure might be taken or have been taken to meet the situation.)

By PRESTON GROVER

PARIS (AP)—Is France faced with a financial crisis?

"We are in it," is the blunt reply of Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury.

Prices of everything are rising steadily. A few days ago the price level broke through the cost of living index fixed three years ago by the government and an automatic increase of about 5 per cent in wages for 800,000 workers in the lowest salary brackets was ordered by law.

FUR WILL FLY

Instantly, every other wage earning group made ready to demand at least as much, and some twice as much. August is vacation month and most of the population is on holiday. When vacations end, the industrial fur will begin to fly.

What will happen? Predictions range all the way from an optimistic "nothing much," to a deeply pessimistic forecast that the whole French way of life, and way of governing, is in for a drastic change.

France has had three years of booming economy since 1954. It is still booming. But the boom money is running out.

The money to pay for the raw materials needed to keep French industry operating on a high level is being used up at a wild rate. Eighteen months ago French reserves of gold and dollars in the treasury amounted to two billion dollars. Today the reserve is just over a half billion. Moreover, the rate of spending from these resources this year is almost double what it was last year.

The problem is brutally complicated for Frenchmen by the fact that the country's old rival, Germany, is booming also, but on a sound financial base.

Germany has a five billion dollar gold and dollar reserve and her exports were never better. She is eating up French markets while the French are eating up and shooting up what they might be selling abroad.

What to do? The new government of Bourges-Maunoury, sparked by a determined 37-year-old finance minister, Felix Gaillard, ordered a belated burst of austerity.

Under threat of resigning, Gaillard bludgeoned reluctant cabinet colleagues into agreeing to keep the French budget below 15 billion dollars next year. That represents a cut of 1¾ billion dollars below this year's budget. Even this economy will leave a 1958 deficit of more than 2¼ billion dollars.

WINE GROWERS HAPPY

And there is much in the budget that is not austerity in a real sense. Wine growers get their usual subsidy for continuing excess wine production. The same for excess sugar beet production. There is no trimming in the welfare state features.

Housewives have already begun a rush with their savings to buy refrigerators and other equipment before prices begin to rocket upward.

The inflationary spiral has been supported both by labor and by industry. Industrialists have agreed to wage increases to avoid labor trouble which might slow down output. With demands for goods so active, prices could be jacked up to meet new wage levels.

"It has been almost a conspiracy between labor and industry to keep the boom going," said one economist.

Whether the boom can be controlled by tight government regulation is yet to be seen. No French legislature since the war has ever supported an austerity program such as had been launched by Finance Minister Gaillard. The battle on that front is only started.

Inevitably much of the problem stems back to the Algerian War, which drains over a billion dollars a year out of the government's pocket, and much manpower out of its mines and mills.

CAT, MOUSE AND CANARY CAGE — Just one big happy family, these traditional enemies share the same cage in the San Francisco barbershop of Grant Skuse, right. Despite his sour look, the feline, named "Peter Cat," doesn't harm the birds and mice, and even allows one mouse to perch on his back.

Vote Count Under Way; Power of Communisn to Be Determined

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—Forces on both sides of the Communist fence predicted victory today as the vote count got under way in British Guiana's first general election in four years.

Results were expected to be announced tonight in the balloting for 14 Legislative Council seats that will determine the power of communism in this British crown colony on South America's coast.

East Indians who comprise nearly half of British Guiana's 500,000 people, were expected to give 98 per cent of their votes to the Jaganites.

Burnham's followers counted a big vote in Georgetown to offset the East Indian vote.

It was the first direct vote since 1953, when the British deposed Jagan as prime minister on grounds he had tried to communize the entire government.

Abel May Face Judge Without Lawyer After Turndown by Abt

NEW YORK (AP)—Col. Rudolf Ivanovich Abel of the Soviet secret police appears in Brooklyn federal court today for a hearing in connection with the spy charges against him.

He will appear without a lawyer, unless he can make some last-minute arrangement for one.

Yesterday lawyer John J. Abt turned down the job of defending Abel. The alleged spy had asked to see Abt, who has been counsel for the Communist party here and for many of its leaders.

Abt said he had a 15-minute talk with the prisoner. He said he told him he could not serve because of other commitments.

Later, Abel sent word that he had "no one presently in mind" to defend him. If he is unable to find a lawyer, the court will appoint one.

Today's hearing was scheduled to settle the matter of bail and permit the defendant to enter a plea. Abel has been held without bail so far.

Abel, 55, is accused of having operated a military-atomic spy ring for the Kremlin in this country. For the last four years he posed as an artist and photographer with a studio in Brooklyn.

Producer Cecil DeMille Observes 76th Birthday

Cecil B. DeMille observed his 76th birthday by announcing that he hopes to make another film based on the Bible.

His last production, "The Ten Commandments," has been his most successful. Trade papers report it has grossed nearly 23 million dollars.

"While I have made 71 pictures during my 44 years in Hollywood, I can only say now that I wish there had been many more," DeMille told well wishers yesterday.

About 96 million tons of iron ore passed through the Soo canal in 1953.

QUESTION: Why is a cat said to have nine lives?

ANSWER: This is one of many sayings about cats that have developed through the years. No one is just sure where any of them started.

The saying that a cat has nine lives comes from the fact that cats seem to know how to take care of themselves no matter what happens. For example, a cat dropped upside down is so agile it always manages to land on its feet. The "nine lives" part of the saying apparently comes from a legend about an ancient king whose enemies tried unsuccessfully nine times to kill him.

Other popular sayings about cats include: Curiosity killed a cat. (A cat likes to investigate new objects and places and may get into trouble doing so.) Put an old cat to an old rat. (Animals grow wiser as they grow older, so it takes a wise old cat to catch a wise old rat.) When the cat's away the mice will play. (People often cut up if nobody in authority is about.) Honest as a cat when the cream is out of reach. (Not a person to be trusted.)

FOR YOU TO DO: If you have a cat, roll a spool of thread in front of it and watch how agile the cat is as it chases it across the room.

First Methodist Church was the setting for the Friday wedding of Delores Jean Turnbull and Donald J. Pursley. The H. T. Turnbulls are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Pursley.

MR. AND MRS. D. J. PURSLEY

Delores Jean Turnbull, Donald J. Pursley Wed

Altar vases of white gladioli banked the First Methodist Church for the 7:30 p.m. wedding Saturday of Delores Jean Turnbull and Donald J. Pursley. One hundred seventy-five guests witnessed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Turnbull of North Cass Lake road, and the bridegroom's parents are the D. E. Pursleys of Orchard Lake avenue.

For her wedding the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk taffeta featuring a mandarin collar, bodice panel trimmed with seed pearls and long fitted sleeves tapering to points over the wrists. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel sweep train.

STAR-SHAPED BOUQUET

Her headpiece was of silk taffeta trimmed with seed pearls and securing a finger-tip veil of pure silk illusion. The bride carried a silver star shaped bouquet of white roses.

Nancy Turnbull served as the bride's only attendant. She wore a pale pink chiffon gown over taffeta. Her headpiece was a small silver band with pink roses on the sides, and she carried a bouquet similar to the bride's but made of pink roses.

For a northern Michigan trip the bride changed to a beige and orange sheath dress with beige accessories. The couple will live in Pontiac.

Lawmaker Expects No Relaxation

Constituents Bring Their Problems to Mrs. Sullivan

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Nothing would please Rep. Leonor Sullivan (D-Mo) more than a chance to "sit and rock" on a breeze-swept porch when Congress adjourns. Instead, she'll be sitting behind a desk in her office in St. Louis, or traveling around her district mending political fences.

"I expect to be surrounded by people the minute I get in town," the good-looking young congresswoman explained.

SAME PROBLEMS

Constituents of her district, which covers the St. Louis area, come to her with the same problems they write about to her in Washington—veterans' affairs, social security, welfare, housing and military matters.

Mrs. Sullivan, a widow who was first elected to Congress in 1952, is a member of the House Banking and Currency and Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committees and, as chairman of the subcommittee on Panama, she expects to take an inspection tour of the Canal Zone in December.

She also plans to make some trips with members of the housing subcommittee when it holds hearings in various parts of the United States during October and November.

It's not easy to get Mrs. Sullivan off the subject which seems to concern her most—politics—though when she has time she enjoys many outside interests.

WELL DRESSED

"Sometime let's get together and cook up a fine fish dinner," she said recently. "I have an easy recipe for fish. You just clean the fish, cut off the heads and tails and lay about a dozen of them in a shallow casserole.

"Then pour a can of mushroom soup over them. Bake them in a medium oven for about a half hour and you have a wonderful meal."

Nylons Will Have More Gray Hues

Pale gray nylons, having proved their importance this past spring now branch out in the entire gray color range. This fall, they vary from light to dark — from platinum and misty grays through smoky, pewter and deep Banker's gray.

The gray nylons offer a soft melding alliance between the legs and the deeper gray shoes — as well as the many grays and frosted gray fabrics in ready-to-wear.

As always — there will be black daytime and late-day dresses, but this year the black costume can be dramatically played up by wearing smoky off-black nylons. Many hosiery manufacturers include off-blacks for daytime wear and deeper blacks for night-time drama.

Remember, that the skin tone of the legs always lightens stockings in definite colors so that they are not as dark as they appear off of the leg. Not only does the blending of off-black and black nylons to the black costume play up the fashionable one-color ensemble but, in addition, they give an enchanting and provocative long-stemmed look.

Yes, there will be beige stockings, this fall — but their importance lies ONLY in the fact that there will also be beige outfits. The role of the beige stocking in the hosiery wardrobe must, indeed, now be confined only to matching-up with beige ready-to-wear.

Obviously, in this season of the all-one color look

Mr. and Mrs. David Dunlap of Hingham, Mass., with their daughters, Mardi and Barbara, are visiting at the homes of Dr. Gregg Dunlap of Sylvan Lake and Mrs. John McHugh of Elizabeth Lake.

Mrs. C. J. Nephler and daughter, Mary, of Cherokee road returned Saturday evening from a three-weeks' vacation at their cabin on Houghton Lake.

Home from a two-weeks' vacation in the South and through Georgia are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Guy of Brookdale lane. Also returning with them was Mrs. Guy's mother, Mrs. Floyd Hollingsworth, who returned to her home in Atlanta, Ga., Saturday.

Mrs. Fritzi Stoddard of Ottawa drive had as her house-guest for the past week, her sister, Helen, of Rock Island, Ill., who left Friday evening.

Announcing the birth of a son, Charles Thomas, born Aug. 8 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, are Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Archer (nee Beverly Maguire) of South East Boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maguire of Oxford are the maternal grandparents. Paternal grandmother of the infant is Mrs. Irene Archer of Drayton Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle J. Peltier (nee Helen Noll) of Lincolnshire road are parents of a daughter, Marie Margaret, born Aug. 6 at Pontiac General Hospital.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Noll of Utica road. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peltier of Lake Orion are the paternal grandparents.

A daughter, Carrie Layn, was born Aug. 10 at Pontiac General Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Meri Dennis of South East Boulevard.

Grandparents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Adams of Irwin street and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Dennis of South East Boulevard.

Nancy K. Harger and John E. DeMund were married Saturday in First Methodist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas D. Harger and the Frederick DeMunds are the bridegroom's parents.

MRS. JOHN EVANS DeMUND

Nancy Harger Wed in Methodist Rite

First Methodist Church was the setting for the 7:30 p.m. candlelight wedding Saturday of Nancy Kay Harger and John Evans DeMund. The Rev. Paul T. Hart performed the ceremony before 200 guests.

The Douglas D. Hargers of Orchard Lake are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of former Pontiac residents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick DeMund, now of Morgantown, W. Va.

The bride chose a gown of pure silk bombazine and hand clipped French lace fashioned with a fitted basque waist featuring an off-the-shoulder scoop neckline with soft standing shirred lace edge.

HEMLINE RUFFLE

The short sleeves were of lace banded with silk. The bouffant skirt ended in an appliqued lace ruffle around the hemline. Her headpiece, in cloche styling, held a fingertip veil of pure silk French illusion. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of Amazon lilies with stephanotis.

Kathleen Elliott served as the honor attendant. Bridesmaids included a sister of the bride, Katherine Harger and Suzanne DeMund, a sister of the bridegroom. They were gowned alike in ballerina-length blue nylon chiffon with draped cowl necklines, fitted waists and full skirts. Their headpieces were of nylon sheer in bandeau style with leaf designs. The attendants carried blue delphinium with white carnations.

For a reception in the church parlors Mrs. Harger chose a mauve nylon lace with matching hat, beige accessories and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses. Mrs. DeMund wore an aqua lace dress with matching hat, white accessories and a pink rosebud corsage.

For a trip to Eastern seaboard states the new Mrs. DeMund changed to a navy shantung sheath dress with white trim, navy hat and the lilies from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in Morgantown, W. Va., where the bridegroom will enter his senior year at West Virginia University and the bride will be a sophomore. The bridegroom is affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Women Golfers Are Preparing for 'Doe Day'

Feminine golfers of Forest Lake Country Club will hold their annual "Doe Day" on Wednesday.

Golfers will wear costumes representing song titles and prizes will be awarded for the cleverest and most original. The theme will be carried through luncheon for the dining room will be decorated with giant cut-out music notes, sheet music covers and record albums.

The committee in charge of the event is Mrs. Earl A. Goyeau, Mrs. John F. McRoberts and Mrs. Donald Suhr.

Mrs. David Zuehlke was honored at a pink and blue shower. Cohostesses were Mrs. William Nelson and Mrs. George Ullom. The affair was given at the East Beverly street home of Mrs. Wilbur Burt. Twenty-three guests were present for the Thursday buffet luncheon.

Rhea Jagoe Is Married in Nashville

Rhea Jagoe of South Genesee avenue and Harry Flournoy Saunders of Detroit were married July 30 in Ferguson Chapel of Belmont Methodist Church in Nashville.

The bride is the daughter of Robert Elgin Jagoe of Madisonville, Ky. and the bridegroom is the son of Felix P. Saunders of Alta Vista, Va.

Mrs. Justice Hyde of Donelson, Tenn., served as her sister's only attendant and C. C. Saunders of Shelbyville, Tenn. was his brother's best man.

The bride, who is a teacher of English and Guidance at Eastern Junior High School, was graduated from the University of Tennessee and received an M.A. degree from George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville.

Chapter Gathers

Mrs. C. H. Kreher, Mrs. Arthur McKinniss and Mrs. H. C. Tinney were in charge of the annual cooperative dinner for members and families of Alpha Chapter of Beta Theta Phi Sorority. The event was held Sunday afternoon at the Elizabeth Lake road home of the H. C. Tinneys with forty people in attendance.

AP Wirephoto

Parisian designer Manguin chose an art display as background for these selections from his autumn fashion collection. That slinky evening gown with the oriental touch is of white silk muslin with gold and bronze embroideries and belt of brown mink. The black and red evening dress, embroidered with multi-colored velvet motifs, is worn with a black velvet beret.

Plans Set for Annual Picnic

Farm animals, a hayride, clowns, a helicopter and pony rides — all these things will be part of the third annual Farm Picnic being given tomorrow by the Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan.

The J. C. Pickering farm on North Adams road and the Russell Porritts' farm on Silver Bell road will be the site of activities. The Foundation will play host for children with leukemia and allied blood diseases from Pontiac and outlying areas.

The committee for the event has emphasized that although some 110 people (this includes parents and families of the afflicted children) are expected, any child who has not received a personal invitation to the party and is suffering from a blood disease, is welcome to attend.

Dr. Julius Rutzky, head of clinical laboratory at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, helped to organize the Detroit chapter of the Michigan foundation. The organization gives aid, both financial and physical (in the form of blood donations), to any child in Michigan having a blood disease.

Barbara Sinclair Wed in Evening Ceremony

Before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums Barbara Sue Sinclair and George L. Preston exchanged wedding vows at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The Rev. Theodore Wuggazer performed the ceremony in Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Birmingham.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Sinclair of Birmingham and the bridegroom is the son of Donald E. Preston of Clarkston and Mrs. Leta L. Preston of Kessler street.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of pleated nylon net and Chantilly lace fashioned in fitted Princess style and trimmed with iridescent sequins and pearls.

An overskirt of lace was draped over the pleated net skirt. The gown featured long sleeves. The bride wore a shoulder-length veil held in place by a wreath of sequins and pearls, and she carried a colonial arrangement of red roses and white carnations.

WEARS BLUE SILK

Mrs. Woodrow Smith served her sister as the bride's only attendant. She wore a French blue silk gown and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and blue delphinium centered with a gardenia.

Jack D. Preston attended the bridegroom as best man while Jerry Mitchell seated the guests.

The new Mrs. Preston changed to a light green sheath dress with white accessories for a trip to northern Michigan. The couple will live in Birmingham.

Convalescing

Mrs. John Boroska of Judson street is now convalescing in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after a recent operation.

A slim suit of tweed finely detailed with the small standing collar, the low three-button closing and delicate curve of the jacket. This suit, coupled with chic accessories, is a good city suit.

Pair Wed in Birmingham

Wedding vows of Margaret Ann Perkin and Lt. Wilfred James Mandley Jr., were exchanged Saturday at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. W. E. Snoxell performed the ceremony in St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Norris Perkin of Birmingham and Dr. Frank S. Perkin of Grosse Pointe. Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred James Mandley of Longview, Wash., are the bridegroom's parents.

For her wedding the bride chose a white gown of peau de soie with pleated paniers at the hipline and featuring a chapel train. Corded Alencon lace trimmed the tiny sleeves and oval neckline of the gown.

The bride wore a Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls which held a three-quarter veil of French illusion. She carried an arrangement of orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. William Heston Pruden II, Hohokus, N. J., served as the matron of honor. Attendants were Joanne K. Lichty of Ann Arbor, Linda Huntington of Grosse Pointe, Nancy James of Jackson and Mrs. Frank S. Perkin II of Detroit. They wore aqua and peacock gowns fashioned with fitted bodices, gored skirts, sabrina necklines, and featuring gathers in back forming harem skirts. They carried rubrum lilies and ivy.

Richard Lee Clement of Mountain View, Calif., assisted the bridegroom as best man. Frank S. Perkin II, Dr. William H. Pruden II, Roderick Scheele of Jackson and Thomas Coad of Birmingham seated the guests. Ringbearer was the bride's godchild, William H. Pruden III.

The bride's mother wore a champagne colored sheath of tucked organza and lace while Mrs. Mandley chose a blue and silver brocade silk. Both wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

For a wedding trip to Hidden Valley, Alameda, Calif. the new Mrs. Mandley wore a black sheath with patent accessories.

BY EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have a pet peeve that I wish you would write about in your column. I go to business and usually have lunch at a lunch counter.

"I try to get there before the rush but by the time I am halfway through with my lunch the place is crowded and before I know it someone is standing at my back watching and waiting for me to take that last mouthful of food so that he (or she) can have my place.

"This makes me very uncomfortable and I feel as though I have to rush to finish my lunch or incur the wrath of the person behind me. Don't you think such behavior is extremely rude? I would appreciate your comments on this."

Answer: I do sympathize with you, but I am afraid that as long as there are more people wanting to eat than can be accommodated nothing can be done about your peeve. You might try eating later — after the lunch crowd has thinned out.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I wish that you would settle an argument my husband and I are having on the following matter: When a husband and wife and a woman friend go somewhere in their car, who sits in the middle?

"I think the wife should but my friend thinks it would be very impolite not to let the woman friend sit in the middle. Who is right?"

Answer: In some of the newer cars the middle of the seat is uncomfortable and it is the wife who should sit there, but if in your car the middle is just as desirable as the side the woman friend should be seated there.

Many Wives Fail to Be Romantic Enough

Husbands Long for Affection, Too

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I am printing letters from men who read this column. These comment on feminine attitudes and actions. I think you will find them interesting. The letters certainly have a legitimate place in this column because it is my belief that there is no greater youthifier and beautifier than love.

The following are excerpts from a long and philosophic letter:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: Untold numbers of articles are being published in current literature, directed to men, telling them of the importance of showing their love and appreciation for their wives.

"It is evident in our changing society that the trend is away from the paternalistic family. Today it is expected to be a 50-50 proposition. Together the husband and wife decide the problems of child rearing, discuss family matters and financial concerns."

Up to here my reader seems to approve of this, but there is one fly in the ointment. He continues:

"However, it seems to me that there is one large discrepancy. Man is supposed to be the only continual lover. Do we assume then that men do not expect and long for some show of natural affection from their wives — something that is spontaneous and quite independent of their own show of affection?

"Most articles seem to be written by women who express the female attitude — that men should keep up the pre-marital show of affection. When we do, can't we expect the same from our wives—an unexpected kiss, a 'thank you,' a handclasp or a meaningful glance? Do not ALL of the human race desire to be loved?

VITAL TO HAPPINESS

Mutual warmth, appreciation and awareness are absolutely essential to any happy and satisfactory relationship between a man and a woman. It does seem to me that the majority of such articles are written to men, and certainly there are many men who need to read them.

However, there are many fine tic attitude. This may be due to women who consider themselves strains or a rut they have fallen wonderful wives (and are in into, just as it may be true of a many ways) who fall in the roman- man.

Wives, as well as husbands, should keep up the pre-marital show of affection with an unexpected kiss, a "thank you," a handclasp or meaningful glance.

However, I myself always have had a sneaking suspicion that, as a whole, men may be more sentimental and more romantic than women, if given a chance.

I believe it was Dorothy Dix who wrote that every happy marriage is an admiration society—or words to that effect.

One more short letter from a man:

"Will you write an article about helping a woman who has passed youth accept the reality of her years and make the most of them rather than try to hide them?

"It is a terrible strain to lie about age constantly. One is always forgetting and giving the secret away. When you tell the truth you can be completely relaxed"—An Annoyed Husband.

IT'S FOOLISH TO LIE

Personally, I think it is foolish for a woman to lie about her age because she seldom will get away with it. There is always someone who "knew you when."

Anyway the very fact that she feels it is necessary to lie reflects an old age attitude. When life is humming about your ears, and you are humming with it, the thought of years never occurs to the mind.

All Middle-Aged Women Ought to Study Oldsters

By Observing the Happy and Unhappy They Can Prepare for Later Years

By RUTH MILLETT

Every middle-aged woman ought to study older women so she can begin the self-discipline necessary to make her the kind of woman who meets old age with courage and good cheer.

If she looks and listens and tries to figure out why this older woman is happy and why that one is cheerless, she will learn more than she could in any other way about the art of living.

A few facts are sure to become clear to her as she studies older women.

One is that the happy older women "do" for themselves as long as they are able. They have an independence of spirit that keeps them doers instead of learners.

Another fact she will discover is that the happy older woman doesn't stubbornly resist change and talk about the good old days but accepts the world as it is and young people as they are.

She will also notice that the happy older woman overlooks disappointment instead of looking for it. She doesn't dwell on unpleasantness or expect too much of family or friends.

She has a live-and-let-live philosophy that extends even to those who are near and dear to her. And always the really happy older woman has a deep religious faith.

STUDY UNHAPPY, TOO

From the unhappy older woman she can learn a lot, too. She can learn what she must not do if she wants younger people to enjoy her company, if she wants to keep her friends and if she wants her life to be as rewarding as it was in her younger years.

Any middle-aged woman who will take the trouble to study both the happy and the unhappy older women she knows will be doing a great deal toward becoming a happy person in her own old age.

The triumphs and defeats are there to study, if she is wise enough to realize that the time to learn how to be a happy older person is long before old age comes.

Don't Bake Brownies Too Long

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

You know there are all sorts of ways to make Brownies. We were reminded of that when we visited the 4H Fair last week and saw plate after plate of Brownies entered in the baking contest.

Mrs. Maurice Dodge gives us her recipe for what she calls the "New Underdone Brownies." They are soft and chewey and delicious.

With five youngsters to care for, Mrs. Dodge doesn't get the sewing done she used to. But she still finds time to play a bit of bridge for relaxation.

NEW UNDERDONE BROWNIES
By Mrs. Maurice Dodge

- ½ cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup sifted flour
- ½ to ⅔ cup chopped nut meats
- 2 squares chocolate, melted

Line an 8-inch square pan with greased wax paper. Pour in cookie batter. Bake 25-30 minutes in 325-degree oven. Don't overbake. Let cool slightly and cut into squares. Remove from pan when cool.

We See What's Behind Our Eyes

By ANNE HEYWOOD

A teacher friend of mine once said, "We don't see what's in front of our eyes, we see what's behind them."

The longer I live, the more I know she's right.

When we look at a thing, we bring our whole personality, the whole body of our experience to bear on it. We "see" our own experience as much as we "see" the thing.

As an example of this, I have two letters on my desk.

One is from Mrs. Ralph Scholl of Myerstown, Pa., and the other is from a lady whom I'll call Mrs. T.

Both letters are about a column I wrote recently, on the subject of temporary jobs.

I said that the older woman, whose children are grown, often had difficulty getting a job because the employer assumed she would be set in her ways, bossy, gossipy and difficult.

I suggested that instead of stamping her feet and assuring the employer that she wasn't, she should offer to try the job on a temporary basis.

This would give him a chance to try her out, and would lead to a permanent job in many cases.

AN ANGRY REPLY

Mrs. T. wrote me one of the angriest letters I've ever received.

"Absolute nonsense!" she stormed. "I don't want a temporary job, I want a permanent job. If those young whippersnappers haven't got the sense to hire the mature woman, why play into their hands?"

The tirade which followed was against me, employers generally and these horrible modern times.

Mrs. Scholl, on the other hand, said as follows:

"I am a grandmother, 57 years old.

"My children now have families of their own. Naturally this leaves a big gap in my former busy life, which was centered around my children.

BACK TO SCHOOL

"To fill that gap, I went back to school. I also serve as a volunteer worker (receptionist) in our local VA hospital. I study bookkeeping, spelling, typing and, at the present time, am learning to operate a comptometer machine.

"I feel that perhaps in the near future I might possibly be fitted for an office job, but didn't know how to go about it. Now here is my answer — try a temporary job!"

The first woman will not get a job, but Mrs. Scholl will—and all because of their way of looking at life.

One has a closed mind, the other has an open mind. Employers, as well as the world at large, want open minds.

If you're having trouble in this regard, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I'll send you my pamphlet, "Pointers to an Open Mind."

Mary Jane Thompson Wed

Living on Prall street are Mr. and Mrs. James H. Corbett. Before their Aug. 3 marriage the bride was Mary Jane Thompson. The Rev. Luther Brokaw performe the ceremony in Central Methodist Church, Belding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Thompson of Belding and the Horace Corbetts of Ypsilanti are the bridegroom's parents.

ATTENDANTS IN PINK

Clair Wilson of Huntington, W. Va., as maid of honor, wore a pink organza gown with lace trimmed capelet and carried deeper pink colonial bouquet. Her headpiece was pink net and white lace flowers.

The bridesmaid, Armena Lennon, wore the same type gown as the honor attendant. Phyllis Thompson, niece of the bride, acted as flower maid. Her gown was of pink crystalette and she carried a basket of roses petals.

H. P. Zimmerman was the best man and Kenneth Thompson, Robert Gilchrist and Kenneth L. Loper seated the guests.

Mrs. Thompson chose a pink nylon and cotton lace dress with navy and white accessories accented by a pink carnation corsage. For her son's wedding Mrs. Corbett wore a gown of navy with navy and white accessories.

For a northern Michigan trip the new Mrs. Corbett wore a white and gray striped silk and cotton sheath suit with white accessories and a corsage of white and rust carnations.

Set October 5 for Proposals on Post Office

ALMONT—The office of Regional Real Estate officer, U. S. Post Office Department has set October 5, as the deadline for proposals for a new post office in Almont.

Inspectors last week turned down continuing operations in the present location at a raise in rent unless considerable structural and decorating changes are made by the building owners.

Almont Postmaster Earl Halsey said a floor space of about 2,200 square feet is desired in a building of reasonably central location, with accessibility to rear or side entrance for mails.

A five or ten year lease has been requested by the department.

The Thruway Authority said today it would allow motorists and truckers to take free "get-acquainted" spins on the strip from 12:45 to 4 p.m. The strip runs from Silver Creek to the Pennsylvania State line.

Fire in Corn Pile at Wixom Elevator Starts Trouble

SOUTH LYON—Police here are seeking information leading to the arrest of a band of teenagers, in regard to a series of fires and acts of vandalism in the area.

The group is believed to consist of several boys about 18 and 19 years of age. Firemen were called to the Wixom Cooperative Elevator recently where a corn cob pile had been set afire.

Due to their quick work the blaze, which could have spread to the elevator causing thousands of dollars worth of damage, was put under control, according to Donald K. Smith, manager of the cooperative.

Patrolmen Grant Dale and Hurley Smith discovered the fire. The same group of youths set off a huge firecracker behind a local hardware store, which also was discovered in time to prevent serious damage to the area, police said.

Several complaints about the group of boys have been received by police from neighboring Silver Lake and Marshall subdivision, both west of South Lyon.

City Buys Mills Property

New Interceptor to Go Into Operation Today

The interceptor, started in March, 1956, and built at a cost of $450,000, will end pollution of the Rouge River and help to ease flooding in parts of the city.

Scherffius stated that plans to begin operation were delayed last month because of problems with equipment. Then, when everything appeared ready, vandals broke into the pumping station, started a fire and splashed green paint over the walls and pumps.

He added that the damage amounted to $500.

The city this week signed a purchase agreement for the Farmington Mills property on State street, west of Farmington Road.

The purchase price of the ¾ acre parcel was $51,000 and Scherffius says the property will be used for off-street parking and the storage of city equipment.

Temporarily, he added, the building will be used as a public works office.

He said that previous plans for the construction of a new public works building on 9 Mile Road will be delayed in view of the purchase of the Mills property.

City to Abandon Tricky Hill Road

North Farmington Road Rerouted, to Open in Two Weeks

FARMINGTON — Farmington's worst traffic hazard will soon be a thing of the past and few, if any, motorists will be sorry.

Treacherous McGee Hill, with its one-way bridge at the foot, is being bypassed by the rerouting of North Farmington Road.

Earl Scherffius, city manager, said yesterday that the new section of roadway is expected to be opened to traffic within the next two weeks.

The new route, starting south at 10 Mile road, runs east of the present road and will intersect with Shiawassee street, across from the Junior High School ball field.

Since it also lies east of the bend in the Rouge River, there need be no bridge. The development of a new subdivision, located at the foot of the hill was the deciding factor in the relocation of the road.

For several years, the city has attempted to find some way of making the road between Shiawassee and 10 Mile less hazardous to motorists, but all possible improvements had been too expensive.

When the plat of the new, Twin Valley Subdivisons was approved and the developer agreed to bear much of the expense of relocating the road, City Council went immediately to work.

The Board of Education had granted an easement across school property only a few weeks ago and earth moving equipment moved in almost at once.

The road, when first opened to traffic, will be gravel, oiled to keep down the dust.

Scherffius explained that it will be used this way for about two months to pack the gravel, then it will receive its black topping.

The old road, to remain, will end in a planned city park, and perhaps another generation of Farmington children will use the big hill for sledding.

Charlotte Man Killed in Tractor Accident

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Ralph McLane, 65, was killed while pulling trees on his farm near here yesterday when a tractor overturned on top of him.

His body was found last night by his son, Ralph McLane Jr., who went searching for his father when the older man failed to return home at nightfall.

Pair to Live in Pontiac

Zwack-Banks Rite Read

CLARKSTON—Honeymooning in northern Michigan are the new Mr. and Mrs. James A. Zwack, who were united in marriage at St. Michael Church on Saturday at 10 a.m.

The bride, the former Rita D. Banks, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted B. Banks of 4815 Whipple Lake Rd., while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Zawck of 3445 Clayton.

Wearing a gown of imported Italian silk with lace applique bodice, Sabrina neckline and chapel train, the bride carried a lavender orchid on a white prayer book. Her fingertip veil was secured by a crown of seed pearls.

Attending as maid of honor was Marcee Hill of Fontiac with Keith Singles as best man. Ushers were Jerry Rose and brother of the bridegroom, William Zwack Jr.

A 7 p.m. reception was held for 100 guests at the home of the bride's sister. The couple will reside in Pontiac.

Marjorie Terry, Clifton Scheall Wed in Leonard

LEONARD—One hundred guests were present for the wedding and reception at 4 p.m. Saturday of Marjorie A. Terry and Clifton Scheall.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Terry and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Scheall.

The affair was held on the lawn at the home of the bridegroom's parents on Baza street. The bride wore a sleeveless dress of baby blue net over taffeta.

Atending as maid of honor and best man were Evelyn Green and, brother of the bridegroom, Graydon St. Crouix of Warren.

Cost Reduction Brings Results

Oxford Area to Build Two Extra Classrooms Due to Low Bids

OXFORD—A 10 per cent reduction in costs from the original estimate has made possible an additional two classrooms in new Oxford Area Community School construction.

Ward Ross of Pontiac had the low bid for general contracting for additions to the Leonard, Lakeville, and Thomas schools and a new six-room elementary unit with all-purpose room.

The outlying school additions will include two classrooms and all-purpose room at each school, with kitchen space provided. Leonard will have its kitchen completely equipped and new lavatories.

Mechanical contracting was awarded to Steve Kruchko of Drayton Plains, and the electrical work will be done by Brill Electric of Lake Orion.

Total cost of the additions and new school will be $384,000. First of Michigan Corporation of Detroit was low bidder on the first bond issue of $500,000 at 4.48 per cent.

Grading has already begun at two of the sites according to Supt. R. A. Ambrose, who hopes the buildings will be ready for occupancy by Feb. 1.

Final plans for the new community high school have been approved by the State Department of Public Instruction and are now being submitted to contractors for bids.

Bequest of Library Studied at Waterford

George Kimball, who died July 18, has willed his home and property to Waterford Township to be used as a library or public reading room.

The bequest was announced at last night's Waterford Township Board meeting, after a recent reading of the will in Justice of the Peace Donald Adams' court.

Two issues were involved, however. The will read that the township would receive the gift only if Kimball's wife were still living. She passed away a year ago.

Another phase of the will in doubt is that state law requires township libraries to be controlled by the Board of Education.

No action was taken on these matters, pending a hearing set for Aug. 26.

In other business, the township board approved the rehiring of Jack Hart as a special police officer assigned to lake duty on a part-time basis.

Hart began his patrolling duties Saturday and will continue for the balance of the summer season. Supervisor Elmer Johnson told board members that various lake subdivision organizations have been contacted and have pledged their fullest support to the project.

A minimum of $2.50 on electrical permits was established as a base rate for contractors. The Oakland County Electrical Board's recommendation was approved along with a request that a price of 30 cents per additional fixture be established.

VFW PERMIT OKED

Although the board approved the VFW license to operate an amusement park, members agreed on a policy of issuing permits only after reasonable advance notice had been received.

A recommendation from the Michigan State Liquor Control Commission regarding the issuance of DDS licenses was approved by board members. The board will act on individual applications according to the merits of each.

Board members concluded the meeting with a long discussion on the controversial Pontiac shopping center drain problem.

At the present time, the city of Pontiac is allowing store owners at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake Rds. to use its sewage disposal line. Waterford must let Pontiac annex that section or spend some $50,000 to hook into an affluent sewer line in the area.

The deadline for the board's decision on the matter has been set for Sept. 18.

Aircraft Prop Firm Plans to Leave State

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Flottorp Manufacturing Co., an aircraft propeller industry leader located in Grand Rapids since 1931, has announced plans to move to Tampa, Fla., this fall.

Roy G. Taylor, company president, yesterday said it has accepted an offer from the Tampa Airport Authority to relocate. The firm was founded in 1942 at Cicero, Ill.

Taylor said most of Flottorp's 25 employes are expected to move to the new site.

Despite Milk Supply Increase . . .

Expect Price to Remain Stable

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Agriculture Department expects milk prices for farmers to stay at or above last year's levels in spite of an increase in supply.

The department explained in its "dairy situation" report that the increase in the milk supply this year will be about one per cent — not much larger than the increase in the population.

The average American will be using about the same amount of fluid milk and cream that he did in 1956 — 355 pounds.

Supplies of feed grain and hay are going to be ample through the rest of the year except in the Northeast, where drought conditions brought dairy pasture conditions down to 78.2 per cent of normal — The lowest in seven years. The national pasture rating is 89.5 per cent — highest in 30 years.

But the department explained that the feed supply does not translate directly into milk production.

For example, several serious droughts in recent years actually increased milk production in the stricken areas. Farmers' pastures were burnt out and they were forced to give concentrated feeds to their cows.

On the other hand, the department stated, "when pastures are near normal, farmers frequently supply insufficient supplemental concentrates" — and milk output goes down.

The concentrated feeds and the good pastures are the real reason why milk output is keeping pace with the nation's baby crop.

The number of dairy cows on farms has dwindled in the last six months, part of a long-term trend. But bossy is being made more efficient than ever by the concentrated feed farmers are giving her.

If the northeast drought continues, dairy farmers there will feel the pinch in higher production costs because of the grain they will be forced to buy. This situation would be felt most strongly late next fall, when milk supplies generally reach the lowest point of the year.

Congress Shelves Natural Gas Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The controversial natural gas bill was shelved for this session of Congress with an announcement by House Speaker Rayburn that it will not be taken up. Rayburn said at a news conference that no further controversial bills will be scheduled for action. The gas bill, to free producers from utility type regulation by the federal government, is extremely controversial.

In 1885 Queen Victoria chose Ottawa, then a city of 20,000, as the seat of government of Upper and Lower Canada.

Glamour Boys—Phooey

Martha Hyers Prefers Kisses From Comics

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You girls can smooch with the movie glamour boys. Martha Hyer will take the comics.

We're talking about screen-love-making, of course. And the pretty boys leave Martha cold.

"They're always worried about camera angles and whether their noses are pressed against your cheek and if their best sides are being photographed," the luscious blonde complained. "The result is that their kisses are cold. Just nothing.

"Of course, there's not much pleasure in kissing for the movies, anyway. You're always thinking about your next line or if the kiss is lasting too long to be passed by the Johnston office.

"But I must say that it is more fun with comedians than anybody. They don't care how they look, so they can put their hearts into it. They are an uninhibited lot, so they let themselves go in a clinch. I like 'em."

Martha knows whereof she speaks. Her last four films have had her cavorting with comics. She has ranged from the wacky antics of Jerry Lewis in "The Delicate Delinquent" to the tea-cup comedics of David Niven in "My Man Godfrey."

She just returned from Paris and now she's heading out West with two new funnymen, Rowan and Martin, in "Once Upon a Horse."

"It's not easy working with many of the handsome leading men," she commented. "Many of them have been thrust into fame rapidly. They are insecure. They don't know how to handle themselves, and so they are dull to be with.

"But comedians! Most of them have worked for years in night clubs or vaudeville. They can handle any situation. They may be neurotic personally, but at least they are secure in their work. They know what they are doing."

Red Skelton's Family on Move in 2 Directions

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— The Red Skelton family is on the move again today — only this time in different directions.

The comedian and his business manager, Bo Roos, flew to Mexico City yesterday on business. Mrs. Skelton and the two children, Valentina, 10, and leukemia-stricken Richard, 9, leave today for a Honolulu vacation.

1,000 Break Curfew; Police Injure Three

NEWRY, Northern Ireland (AP)—Three persons were injured last night when police broke up a crowd of about 1,000 persons who defied a curfew imposed on the Newry area. The curfew was ordered in an effort to check violence by the underground Irish Republican Army.

Twelve persons were arrested after police armed with clubs charged into the procession of anthem-singing young men and women.

The curfew, running from 11 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. daily, was placed on Newry and nine outlying areas within 20 miles of the town after a fresh outbreak of IRA bombings over the weekend. The IRA seeks to make British-ruled Northern Ireland part of the Irish Republic.

Jane Russell Survives Cheesecake Trap

Jane Russell, who pioneered in making the three-foot tape measure obsolete, feels now that at long last she has busted that hex forever.

"People used to expect me to come in with three naked men thrown over my shoulder," recalled Miss Russell, who looks like a strapping, tall-stemmed American Beauty rose.

This happened because of her first picture, "The Outlaw." The camera seemed intent on proving that Miss Russell's heaving chest qualified her more for deep sea pearl diving than acting.

Her promotional buildup made Lana Turner, "the sweater girl," look like a fugitive from kindergarten.

"When I met women at a party," said Jane, "they'd talk to me for a while and then say in real surprise, 'Why, my dear, you're a lady!'

"This doesn't happen any more—and for this I'm grateful. Now I'm allowed to be me."

"Me"—as Jane sees herself—is a normal, wholesome young career actress happily married to Robert Waterfield, a former pro football star. And she is the proud mother of three adopted children.

HEAD OWN FIRM

She and Bob head their own film production firm and share a joint enthusiasm for WAIF, an international adoption agency which Miss Russell founded in 1954.

Miss Russell says she has old-fashioned views about family life.

"Bob is the boss in our house," she said, and added that she felt much of today's juvenile delinquency is the result of a lack of parental discipline which leaves a child feeling insecure.

Jane, one of five children herself, remembers that in her own household as a girl each of the kids had assigned chores. She did the laundry and the ironing.

"Most naughty children actually want to be stopped from doing mischief," she said.

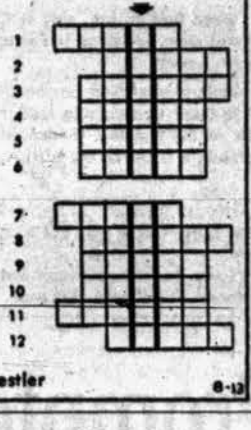

"A child needs to know that it is vitally loved, but that if it breaks the law—whammo!"

Ford Researches Auto Exhaust Gases

New Chemical Discovery May Lead to Smog Relief

DEARBORN (INS)—A chemical discovery that may lead to relief of smog conditions due to automobile exhaust gases has been announced by Ford Motor Co.

The purifying chemical or oxidation catalyst is known as vanadium pentoxide, one of many experimented with in Ford's anti-smog research program.

Ford engineers described vanadium pentoxide as " a yellow powder which effectively eliminated more than 80 per cent of the offensive hydrocabrons" in labatory tests at the Dearborn scientific laboratories.

Eugene F. Hill, manager of the Ford Chemistry Department, said the yellow chemical extracted the greater percentage of the hydrocarbons for 100 hours in tests with a single-cylinder engine.

"The duration of this high effectiveness," he explained, "equals about 4,000 miles of actual driving."

At the same time Ford announced another accomplishment in its anti-smog research which is bothered Los Angeles and other cities.

Hill said the second development is a "hydrocarbon integrator," a long-sought instrumentation system which "automatically, instantaneously and accurately measures hydrocarbon emission from the exhaust driving condition."

Technical details of these two developments will be disclosed this coming Friday by Ford engineers at a west coast meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers in Seattle, Wash.

Hill said that until recently, most auto exhaust research has been directed toward modifying the the engine, carburetor, or other control devices in order to minimize the exhaust emissions that contribute to smog formation.

"These methods," he commented, "do not appear to be as practicable or operable as the use of an oxidation catalyst which removes hydrocarbons or converts them to inoffensive products."

Hill said platinum long has been recognized as a good hydrocarbon oxidizer but cost has made it prohibitive.

"But tests with pellets coated with vanadium pentoxide surpassed even platinum in performance," he added.

"Since it is a uranium by-product, vanadium pentoxide is in excess supply at a cost which makes an exhaust device look more economically attractive than ever before," he Ford chemist explained.

"While it is much too early to estimate, it now is conceivable that a reasonably priced device might be designed."

No Reason Found for Typhoid Outbreak

OLDENBURG, Ind. (AP)—Dr. A. C. Offutt, state health commissioner, has reported the water supply had been cleared and the cause for an outbreak of 32 cases of typhoid fever in a southeastern Indiana convent is still not known.

Dr. Offutt said there probably are five more cases among nuns who have returned home after visits to the Sisters of St. Francis convent near Oldenburg.

The commissioner said there evidently have been no new cases since Aug 4. Laboratory identification of the disease was made only last night but attending physicians had considered typhoid likely.

Dr. Offutt recommended immunization for all persons who have eaten or drunk anything at the convent since July 1. He also urged immunization of all employes of the convent and said all residents of the area should consult their doctors "although the convent is in excellent quarantine."

Veterans of American wars numbered about 19 million in 1950, or 40 percent of the U. S. adult male population.

Crawford Favored at Wisner Stadium Tonight

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Pontiac becomes the capital for professional boxing in Michigan tonight with an attractive card of five bouts slated for Wisner stadium.

Under the sponsorship of Iraq Grotto, promoter Julius Piazza has brought pro boxing back to Pontiac for the first time since the Gene Linscott-Al Andrews success two years ago. And Piazza is doing it with one of Michigan's top ring attractions, Mickey Crawford of Saginaw.

Hailed as one of the brightest prospects in welterweight ranks, Crawford will be the feature attraction when he faces fast moving Sammy Rodgers of Benton Harbor and Chicago in a 10-round scrap.

For either Crawford or Rodgers this will be a chance to get a crack at Muskegon's Kenny Lane, now the number one challenger for the world's lightweight crown held by Joe Brown.

Lane's manager Jack Kearns has agreed to match Lane with the winner of tonight's bout. However, Crawford's manager Art Greenwald has not yet said anything about whether he would accept the challenge should his protege be victorious.

Rodgers' manager Ray Palma was pleased with Kearns' offer made through Piazza and indicated he would like to fight Lane should the Benton Harbor scrapper upset Crawford tonight.

For Rodgers it would be a chance to avenge a loss to Lane in a 10-round decision two years ago. Since then however, both Lane and Crawford have moved steadily up the ring ladder and are now rated highly among the list of prominent boxers in their class.

Reason for Greenwald's hesitance to match Crawford against Lane would be the fact that he has hopes of arranging a fight in the near future in New York possibly with Kid Gavilan or Gasper Ortega.

"I would like to fight Lane," said Crawford yesterday in finishing his workouts near Wisner stadium.

Rodgers' manager, however, was confident his man would be the one to meet Lane. "I think we can take Crawford," said Palma, "Sammy likes boxers with Crawford's style."

The fighters were scheduled for the official weigh-in at noon today in the office of the commissioner in Detroit.

Crawford will be aiming for his 18th pro win in 19 starts. Since becoming the 10-feature attraction Crawford has beaten former champions Paddy DeMarco, and Wallace (Bud) Smith, and in his last fight a month ago in Saginaw he scored a bloody decision over rugged Pat Lowry.

The Pontiac fight was originally scheduled for July 25th but because of a nose gash on Crawford which required several stitches to close, the program was postponed until today.

Rodgers is not a stranger to Michigan fight circles. During his amateur heydey in Benton Harbor, he amassed a fabulous record of 140 wins in 144 bouts including 112 knockouts plus several titles in Golden Gloves, AAU and the Army.

Since turning pro, now in Chicago, he has won 21 of 27, losing several close decisions, including the loss to Lane and an unpopular loss to Lowry.

Another attraction on the program is the appearance of heavyweight Osee Groom, who earlier this year moved all the way to the finals of the National Golden Gloves before losing a decision to Joe Hemphill, a boxer he defeated earlier in the AAU.

Groom's manager Al DeNapoli was pleased at the thought that the young heavyweight may get a crack at Pete Rademacher in the near future.

"I saw Rademacher fight and Osee could handle him as easily as Patterson will," said DeNapoli.

Groom will face New York heavyweight Bill Pickett. The Detroit heavy has had only 17 amateur fights and this will be only his 5th pro start in a four-rounder. A current boxing publication has Groom listed for a bright future in heavyweight ranks.

McCoy has been in town prepping for the fight by sparring with Rodgers.

On the same program of four-rounders, Johnny Williams of Detroit will meet Chuck Church of Owosso in a heavyweight scrap. The Williams-Church bout is a substitute for the scheduled battle between Detroit's Edgar Gregory and Johnny Palmer from Dayton, O. An injury to Gregory caused the change in plans.

In the other fight, handsome Ducky Dietz, the "Elvis Presley" of boxing will tangle with Huey Rader of Dayton in a light heavy scrap. Dietz is managed by Chuck Spieser's brother Joe.

The fights will get under way at 8:30 p. m. Tickets are being sold throughout the afternoon at Wisner stadium.

Three Reasons Prompted Buddy Parker to Quit

NOT TOO LONG AGO — This was the picture of satisfaction early this year when coach Buddy Parker (right) agreed to a two-year contract with the Detroit Lions. He is congratulated by president Edwin J. Anderson. Last night in a startling paragraph, Parker suddenly announced he was quitting the coach's job.

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — The way it was made known was a shock, but coach Buddy Parker's decision to quit the Detroit Lions really came after a long rehearsal of thoughts following several incidents.

Parker quit for three major reasons.

1. He was disturbed by the interference of the front office in his handling the football team and in deciding the trades.

2. Neither he nor his coaches wanted Leon Hart back on the team after the recent squabble over contract terms.

3. He was angry at the poor physical condition and the current social life of several of his leading players.

Last night when he startled over 500 guests at the banquet in honor of the Lions he stated, "I cannot handle these players any more. I'm done here, I am quitting the Lions."

"I have thought about it for a long time, and this was as good a time as any to mention it," he said.

"Material-wise this is a good team, it has some great players, but in training this is the worst team I have ever seen. It's really a dead team, and I cannot correct it," he added.

Last year following the fracas in Chicago with the Bears, Parker angrily announced he was quitting. Things which took place on the field in Chicago merely added to what was stored up in him.

Members of the board of directors were frequent visitors in the locker room following the games. Many were too free with their advice. This was especially true following the Bears' game which resulted in the title for Chicago.

A party close to the Detroit organization said just recently that "last year Parker became angry by the meddling from members on or close to the board."

Parker signed a two-year contract feeling this would change, but after two weeks at Cranbrook this season, spurred by several incidents, he realized they did not change.

The Lions' coach became irate at several players who were known to be keeping late hours in non-training places.

"He was mad when a story broke that the team was trading Lew Carpenter for Roger Zatkoff," said a Lions' source. This is what Parker meant at one point when he said, "Where you can't handle the players it's time to get out."

The trade was made known by a top club official and it was not exactly what Parker wanted. The Lions wanted Zatkoff but Parker was leery on giving up Carpenter.

Then came the Hart squabble. "Parker did not want Hart back. The coaches did not want him back," a Lions' source commented.

Hart was signed by Anderson last weekend apparently against the wishes of the staff. It was unusual inasmuch as most of the contract signings are made with general manager Nick Kerbawy. Kerbawy, however, was in Chicago for the All-Star game when Hart came to terms.

Parker denied yesterday that the Hart situation had anything to do with his quitting, however it has been commonly expressed that the big fullback and Anderson were close and if Cleveland wanted Hart then Parker would have given him for Zatkoff rather than Carpenter.

"This is a great town and it deserves a winner and it should get it," said Parker.

He said he did not talk to anyone about his planned move except his wife. "She knew ahead of time. We talked about it," said Parker, "but it doesn't mean I'm leaving football. I'm just leaving Detroit football."

"I couldn't handle another losing season. Maybe someone else could handle it better. Buster Ramsey is the best defensive coach in football, he could do it," Parker concluded.

Whatever happens at the meeting today between Parker and Lion officials has observers figuring. "This is it, Parker won't change his mind."

Wilson in Line

An informed source said this morning that veteran aide to Buddy Parker, George Wilson, would be named to succeed the resigned Lions' head coach. This source said the action would be taken later today following a Lion executive committee conference.

Parker is reported to have reaffirmed his resignation, early today.

Wilson, 43, has been a Lion assistant coach for eight seasons. Once before he was mentioned for the head coaching job when it was given Parker. He is a Northwestern man and played 12 seasons with the Chicago Bears.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — The music played gaily for over 500 guests at the 9th annual "Meet the Lions" banquet last night.

The football spirit was in the air. Toastmaster Bob Reynolds introduced the members of the press and radio in attendance, and then presented Lions' president Edwin J. Anderson as the first speaker.

Anderson congratulated the football staff for the fine job they did last year. He commented on the two fine trades which were made this year to help the Lions, and praised the facilities of Cranbrook for the training camp.

He continued by announcing the outstanding season ticket drive which is well over 35,000 sales and he then introduced all of the 51 players to take their bows.

Otto Graham, the guest speaker for the night, was then introduced by general manager Nick Kerbawy and the former star quarterback of the Cleveland Browns held the interest of the crowd with his comments on the recent All-Star game.

In regards to the Lions' first pre-season game at Briggs Stadium on Wednesday, he appraised his former club, the Browns, as a "better team this year."

"They will be stronger this year, and things will be tougher because any player caught out after hours will be fined $500," he said.

"A lot of these guys would go bankrupt," he added as a jest.

Little did he realize what was coming up next when he said this, because Coach Buddy Parker then took the speaker's position, and dropped a bombshell on the party when he said he was quitting the Lions because he "could not control them off the field."

The music stopped. Silence fell over the shocked crowd. The reporters were awed momentarily. Toastmaster Reynolds was lost for words. And the rest is now a matter of record for the 9th Annual "Meet the Lions" banquet.

Assistant-Pro Crown to Bone

Pontiac's Gene Bone, assistant pro at Tam O'Shanter, won the annual Michigan assistant-pro golf championship yesterday at Plum Hollow Country Club.

Bone's total was five strokes better than Tommy Cosmos of Oakland Hills, who took runner-up honors with 74-71—145.

Bill Langnau of Plum Hollow defeated Birmingham's Tex Ardoyne on the 1st hole of a sudden death playoff to win the caddiemaster title and Pine Lake's Gerry Prieskorn led the shop assistants with 74.

Bada and Andonian on GMC Golf Team

City medal play champion Paul Bada and runnerup Mike Andonian are members of the General Motors Truck & Coach golf team that goes after the 12th annual Midwest Industrial Golf tourney title this weekend. Tourney takes place over the Purdue University course at Lafayette, Ind.

Other team members number some of the city's leading amateurs, Walt Latozas who was low qualifier for the city medal event, Charley Barker and Chuck Cappell. Together the five make up one of the strongest teams GMC has ever sent to this tourney.

Is He Eligible for Annual Award?

Malzone's Rookie Status Clouded

NEW YORK (AP) Jack Sanford, ace of the Philadelphia Phillies' pitching staff, appears to have a stranglehold on the National League rookie-of-the-year award.

But the voting for American League honors is liable to wind up in a state of confusion.

The player involved is Frank Malzone, Boston Red Sox' third baseman. And the big question is: Is he or is he not a rookie?

The facts are these:

1. Malzone played in 27 games last season. He batted 103 times and had a .165 average.

2. No one seems to know what constitutes a rookie.

3. No regulation is likely to be put on the books this year.

The president of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America, Dan Daniel of the New York World-Telegram and Sun, believes that Malzone, who is having a fine season, is not a first year player.

"Malzone definitely is not a rookie in my opinion although some Boston writers may think he comes under that category," said Daniel.

"How can a player who actually failed as a rookie last season and played as much as he did be eligible this year? It just isn't fair. In my opinion Sanford and Tony Kubek of the Yankees should win."

Daniel pointed out quickly that, although he selects the writers who will participate in the post-season balloting — there are three from each major league city — he will not attempt to influence any of them.

"We tried to come up with a ruling last month in St. Louis," said Daniel. "But the writers couldn't get together. Some of them felt as I did that players with 15 or more games or pitchers with five complete games in previous seasons should not be eligible."

In 109 games this season, Malzone has put together a .305 batting average. He has hit eight home runs and batted in 68 runs.

Kubek, who has played five positions for the Yanks, has appeared in 84 games. He also shows a .305 batting mark. He's had two homers and 25 RBIs.

Sanford, who pitched in three games in 1956, has won 15 games and lost four. He leads his circuit in strikeouts with 142 and has an earned run average of 2.93.

Among the other National League rookies making good showings are Dick Drott of Chicago (10-9 pitching record), Von McDaniel of St. Louis (6-3), Curt Barclay of the Giants (6-7), Dick Farrell of the Phillies (4-2), Ed Kasko of the Cards (.278 batting average) and Ed Bouchee of the Phils (.289).

Also in the running for the American League award are Woody Held of Kansas City (13 homers, .253 average), Roger Maris of Cleveland (12 home runs, .251 mark) and Pitcher Bill Fischer of Chicago (4-6).

Near 6-Pounder Landed by Boy

Biggest fish he ever caught gave 11-year-old Jerry Flaler, 2000 Hillside drive, his biggest piscatorial thrill the other day.

Jerry's fish was 21½ inches long.

May Mean End of Tour

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tennis promoter Jack Kramer said last night the Dec. 16 trial date for his contract dispute with Pancho Gonzales probably means there will be no Gonzales-Lew Hoad tour in 1958.

If He Plays

Savitt Is Netter to Beat

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. (AP) — Semi-retired slammer Dick Savitt, conquerer of U. S. Davis Cuppers Vic Seixas and Ham Richardson, loomed today as the man to beat in the national tennis championships at Forest Hills—if he plays.

"I don't know if I'll be in town," the New York oil executive said after whipping Seixas 6-4, 6-4, 1-6, 8-6 yesterday for the Eastern Grass Court title. "I might be working."

If in town for the Aug. 30-Sept. 8 event, the South Orange powerhouse will be no worse than co-favorite with Australian Ashley Cooper for the U. S. title—a crown that eluded him when he won at Wimbledon and Australia in 1951.

Savitt arrived 25 minutes after Mary Ann Mitchell, San Leandro, Calif., won the women's title 7-5, 6-2 yesterday from unranked Jeanne Arth of St. Paul.

The men's doubles title went overseas. The young Australian pair of Roy Emerson and Bob Mark stopped Great Britain's Mike Davies and Bobby Wilson 4-6, 8-6, 9-7, 4-6, 6-3.

Pee-Wee Gridiron Clinic Will Have 3 Lion Tutors

The Pontiac Pee-Wee League football clinic begins today on the Whitfield School playing field and the "small fry" who attend will have the benefit of some excellent teaching before the lessons are over.

Quarterbacks Bobby Layne and Tobin Rote and end Dorne Dibble of the Detroit Lions, veteran professional gridiron stars, have promised to take charge of the clinic for one day sometime during its three-week run.

Their years of "know how" will be put to work with demonstrations, instruction and valuable advice to the midget set on the basic fundamentals of football.

Now preparing for its 2nd year of operation, the Pee-Wee League enjoyed a highly successful inaugural season in 1956 under the guidance of Frank Thompson. Six teams participated in a five-game schedule.

With Thompson returning as league director, the program is being organized again, keynoted by the clinic.

The clinic will be held each Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at Whitfield from now until Aug. 30. Starting times are 3:30 p.m. Whitfield School is located at 2000 Orchard Lake Ave.

Pee-Wee competition is restricted to boys between the ages of 9 and 12 who do not turn 13 before Oct. 1 of this year.

All youngsters must be either 4th, 5th or 6th graders and they cannot weigh less than 60 pounds or more than 110. Each player must furnish his own shoulder pads, football pants and sweatshirt.

Further information may be obtained by calling Thompson, FE 5-3625.

Mackay Gets Past First Round Test

Barry Mackay, Dayton, Ohio (University of Michigan) defeated Larry Nagler, Roslyn Heights, N. Y., 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Men's singles, second round.

MacKay defeated Johanna Kupferburger, South Africa, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Hectic NL Flag Race Rolls Along

Braves Gallop to 5½ Margin in Week's Time

Yanks Also 5½ Games Ahead of Field, but Aren't Pressured

The Associated Press

If you don't believe what happened in the National League race last week, pal, stick around. They're going to play it over this week.

And if St. Louis, Brooklyn, Cincinnati and Philadelphia ain't dead, now's the time for 'em to start breathin'.

In six days last week, Milwaukee swept three at home from Cincinnati, then took three of three at St. Louis, moving from a half game behind into a 5½-game lead. This week, the Braves play three at Cincinnati, starting tonight; and four with St. Louis, beginning Friday night at Milwaukee.

The second place Cardinals, who skidded from the top with a six-game losing streak that started with a three-game sweep by Chicago's Cubs at St. Louis, opened a three-game series at Chicago today before the return shot at the Braves.

In short, it's a week that could give the Braves a prohibitive lead when they open their last swing through the East next week. It's also a week that could leave the NL race all snarled up again.

At the moment the Braves are rolling, winning seven in a row, 14 of 16 and 21 of 26. They're the best in the league against contenders—38-22 (.633) vs. the Cards, Brooks, Reds and Phils.

There's a 5½-game spread between first and second at the moment in the American League, too. But it looks like a mile and a half compared to the NL's 5½.

The New York Yankees have the bulge, after holding a seven-game edge a week ago. The Yankees were 3-4 for the week, but Chicago's second place White Sox won four of seven. That's not the kind of ball that beats the Yankees.

New York has three games at Boston against the third place Red Sox (12 games behind), beginning tonight. The Yanks finish the week at home with four against Baltimore's surprising Orioles, now tied with Detroit for fourth, 18½ games back.

The White Sox are at Cleveland for three starting tonight, then move to Detroit for four.

Beyond the Yankees and White Sox, there's not much to be had in the way of a race. Even Cleveland, the annual contender, is long dead, stumbling in sixth place for the first time in a decade.

Foytack Opens Against A's

The Tigers, tied with Baltimore for fourth place in the standings 18½ games behind the league-leading New York Yankees, are ranked third in starter-completed games with the mound staff turning in 35 route-going performances.

Chicago, lead by Billy Pierce's 13 completed games, is first with 43, Boston is runner-up a game behind although Tom Brewer is tied with Pierce.

New York trails Detroit by three with Bob Turley and Bobby Shantz tied at seven complete games each.

Baltimore is tied with New York and Cleveland is two games behind the Orioles, Washington, with their pitchers hurling 22 complete games, is seven ahead of Kansas City which trails in both complete games and league standings.

Jim Bunning, who leads the Tiger pitchers with a 14-4 won-lost record, also leads in completed games with nine. Paul Foytack is next with eight, Duke Maaas has seven, Frank Lary six and Billy Hoeft five.

Hoeft, with a disappointing 4-7 season record, or Maas, 8-8, with encouraging recent performances as a combination starter-reliefer, will pitch the evening half of an afternoon-night set against the Kansas City A's tonight. Paul Foytack, 12-10, was scheduled for the opener.

Hoeft's last showing was disastrous. He lasted less than an inning against Chicago Sunday and had trouble getting the ball over the plate. Manager Jack Tighe said he wanted to bring Jack Hoeft in a hurry.

The Tigers haven't won a game all season at Municipal stadium here. They have lost four. And the A's currently are riding a wave of five victories in seven starts since Harry Craft replaced Lou Boudreau as manager.

Detroit may be hampered by the absence of first baseman Ray Boone and second baseman Frank Bolling. Boone missed three games because of a back ailment and Bolling was out of action in Sunday's double header at Chicago because of a bruised hand.

Tighe is holding J. W. Porter and Ron Samford on standby.

Jack Tighe says he's pleased with Sunday's performance of pitcher Bob Shaw. The Detroit manager said he will let Shaw get a little seasoning in the bullpen before giving him a starting assignment.

Tigers return to Detroit for an extended home stand after winding up the four-game series at Kansas City Thursday.

They'll open at Briggs stadium Friday night against the White Sox and remain almost continuously at home through Sept. 8.

HOLLAND (AP)—Tom Maentz, last year's University of Michigan football captain, is going to complete graduate work instead of playing with the Chicago Cardinals this League.

Jewelers Take On Flint in Class AA Tournament

Shaw's makes its bid for a berth in the Michigan Recreation Association state major softball tournament tonight.

The Jewelers, city Class AA champions with a 19-1 season record, meet Herlich's of Flint this evening in a two-team regional tourney at Beaudette Park.

A doubleheader will initiate the best-of-three series, with the 1st game starting at 7 o'clock. Shaw's and Herlich's clash again Wednesday at 7 if a 3rd contest is required.

The survivor of the playoff joins seven others in the state 'AA' tourney Aug. 23-25 at Midland.

Tonight's twin bill lifts the lid on district tournament play this week for three other city champions.

Stadium Inn, Class A winner, enters district action here Thursday through Sunday on the Beaudette diamond. Louie's Tavern, city 'B' representative, goes to Mt. Clemens and the Pontiac Police wades into the Class C tourney at Waterford on the same dates.

Stadium tuned up for its district test by playing Birmingham last night in an exhibition scrap at Beaudette. With Roger Reynolds pitching a two-hitter, Birmingham defeated Stadium, 2-1. Verle Sheldon gave up six hits in defeat.

The Police and Louie's took a pre-tourney warmup by battling each other. An eight-run outburst in the 5th inning enabled the Policemen to outscore the Tavern club, 12-9.

In girls' league games at North Side, Jo Tibbitts, Claudia Wasik and Micki Mora all smashed home runs as Commerce Drive-In Theater drubbed Gingellville, 16-1, and North Side Auto Supply garnered 11 hits to wallop the West Side Merchants, 14-10.

Boys Club Wins 'F' Opener at Dearborn

The Pontiac Boys Club moved into the 2nd round of the Class F junior baseball tournament with a 3-0 victory over Livonia yesterday at Dearborn.

Smith hurled a sparkling one-hit shutout in addition to scoring two runs and blasting a 1st-inning triple. Tillman produced a two-run single in the 3rd.

The Boys Club was scheduled to meet host Dearborn this afternoon at 1:00 in a 2nd round game.

Pontiac's Class D and Midget entries swung into action today, also at Dearborn. The Tigers met Dearborn at 10 a.m. in a Midget con- Dearborn at 6 p.m. in Class D.

Baptist, Brethren Win Church Playoff Openers

League champion First Baptist routed First Presbyterian, 10 - 3, and runner - up Church of the Brethren defeated Christian Missionary Alliance, 7-5, in Monday's opening round of the Pontiac Church Softball League playoffs.

Decide 4th Semifinalist

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Tyrone, Pa., faces Chicago Heights, Ill. today in a second round battle to determine the fourth semifinalist in the 1957 Teener Baseball Tourney.

Gastonia, N. C., Beatrice, Neb. and the Canal Zone entered tomorrow's semifinal contests with opening round victories yesterday.

Patty Defeats Fay for Title

CHICAGO (INS) — Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., today had her fourth women's "world" championship golf crown and first prize money of $6,000 after defeating Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, in a playoff match.

Miss Berg turned in a one-over women's-par 77 yesterday at the Tam O'Shanter Country Club, while the long-hitting Miss Crocker scored a 79.

PYC Juniors Earn Sportsmanship Award

Although they did not win in their try at the recent Put-In-Bay junior rebel-class races, a Pontiac Yacht Club crew brought home a fine sportsmanship award. Jerry Gray, skipper and Doreen Flack and Douglas Johnson, his crew, were first in a preliminary flight, but finished 5th in finals. Buckeye Yachtclub of Ohio, won the event and will sail at New Orleans in the nationals.

Griff's Moves Into Finals

Griff's Grill moved into the finals of the City Baseball League playoffs with a 2-0 victory over CIO Local 594 last night at Wisner Field.

Starting next Sunday on the Wisner diamond, the Grill team meets Shaw's Jewelers in a best-of-five series for the city Class A championship.

After handing the CIO a 20-4 drubbing Sunday in the opener of the best-of-three playoff, Griff's made it two straight yesterday behind the three-hit shutout pitching of Don Bren.

Bren yielded only three singles, two in the 1st inning, and struck out nine while walking two.

Don Picman hurled the route for the CIO and allowed four safeties. Dave Zittel's double and Jim Berg's single scored one run in the 1st and Dick Ayling's infield bounder tallied Ken Stanick in the 2nd.

Mantle Right Behind Williams

Ted, Willie Top Sluggers

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams, the fabulous thumper of the Boston Red Sox and Willie Mays of the New York Giants today boast the highest slugging averages in the major leagues.

Williams, 38, has compiled 250 total bases in 346 times at bat for a slugging mark of .723. The outfielder has 24 doubles, one triple and 30 homers.

Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees, who is challenging Williams for the American League batting lead, is a close second in the slugging competition. Mantle, has a .708 slugging average on 260 total bases in 367 trips.

The Yanks' star centerfielder numbers 20 doubles, four triples and 31 homers among his 139 hits.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press also revealed Mays tops the National League by a scant margin over Milwaukee's Hank Aaron.

Mays is slugging .630 with 266 total bases in 422 at bats while Aaron is at .628 with 273 total bases—the most in the majors — in 435 tries. Among Willie's extra bases are 19 doubles, 15 triples and 26 homers. Aaron has a league-leading total of 32 homers plus 20 two-baggers and five triples.

Stan Musial of St. Louis, who owns the highest lifetime slugging percentage among National Leaguers (.578), is third with a .602 mark. He has fashioned 256 total bases in 425 times at bat.

Behind Musial come Duke Snider of Brooklyn with .593 and George Crowe of Cincinnati, .588. Snider, his circuit's 1956 champion, has put together 54 extra bases—19 doubles, six triples and 29 circuit blows.

Roy Sievers of Washington is in the No. 3 position in the American League with a .587 average. The hard-hitting outfielder has 244 bases, including 20 doubles, five triples and 30 home runs.

Sievers is followed by Gene Woodling of Cleveland with a .508 mark, Charley Maxwell of Detroit, .507, Vic Wertz of Cleveland, .499 and Gus Zernial of Kansas City, .496.

Suspended Arcaro Victor

CHICAGO (AP)—Jockey Eddie Arcaro, suspended for 10 days for "careless riding" while aboard Dedicate in the $100,000 Atlantic City Handicap Saturday, came close to blowing the Prairie State Stakes with Alhambra at Washington Park yesterday.

"If we would have lost it would have been my fault," said Arcaro after riding the Fred W. Hooper 2-year-old star to a photo finish victory over R. D. Prewitt's Terra Firma.

Alhambra, a 1-10 favorite, appeared to be beaten with about 100 feet to go when Arcaro gave a mighty urge that sent the son of Olympia to victory.

Arcaro's suspension begins today and ends Aug. 23, one day before he is scheduled to ride Alhambra in the $125,000 Washington Park Futurity.

Motor City Netter Steals Junior Show

OTTAWA (AP)—An unheralded Detroit teen-ager stole the thunder at the Canadian junior tennis championships yesterday, knocking a couple of top-seeded Canadians from two title hunts.

Fred Drilling, 14, an unseeded entry, swept through tough matches in the junior men's and boys' singles in the official first day of the week-long open tournament.

Singles and doubles matches will be run off today in eliminations for 23 Canadian titles at the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club.

Gidley Eliminated, Baptist 9 Upended

Gidley Electric fell by the wayside and Emmanuel Baptist suffered a rude jolt in the Waterford League softball playoffs last night at Drayton Plains.

Lakeland Pharmacy exploded for five runs in the 5th inning to oust Gidley 6-1. Pitcher Don Herr held Gidley in check on seven hits and Steve Ruelle delivered the big blow in the 5th with a two-run double.

Drayton Drug scored five runs in the 1st inning off Glenn (Wimpy Johnson to upset the Baptist club, 7-3. Merlin Jones slammed an inside-the-park homer with a mate aboard in the 5th for the losers.

'Texas Chief' Train Hits Truck; 3 Killed

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP) — An asphalt truck and the Santa Fe Railroad's Texas Chief collided and burst into flames at a crossing near here yesterday, killing three persons.

Hot asphalt from the Tarrant County maintenance truck spewed over a wide area. The lead unit of the streamliner's four-unit diesel was engulfed in flames along with the truck.

The victims were identified as J. H. Estes of Temple, Tex., engineer on the train; Grady Robinson, Fort Worth, fireman; and Grover C. Shivers, Fort Worth, the truck driver.

The crash was near Saginaw, Tex., 13 miles north of Fort Worth. The train was bound from Chicago to Galveston and was delayed several hours.

American Indians domesticated and developed corn, peanuts, pumpkins, squash, the white potato, tobacco, beans, the sweet potato and tomato.

Order Hearings on Stock Sales

Probe Broker - Dealer Registrations of Firms That Sold $4 Million

WASHINGTON (INS) — Hearings were ordered yesterday on the broker-dealer registrations of three firms which sold four million dollars in securities questioned by the federal government.

The investigation was announced by the Securities and Exchange Commission as part of a series of simultaneous actions in the Crowell - Collier Publishing Co. case.

Crowell - Collier issued the four million dollars in securities in 1955 and 1956 to offset operating losses which resulted in the folding last year of American, Collier's and Woman's Home Companion magazines.

The SEC looked into the sale during six weeks of hearings earlier this year and announced these results:

— Crowell - Collier registered the securities offering as a public sale instead of a private one not subject to registration as it was originally sold.

— Hearings were set Sept. 9-11 in Washington to determine whether to revoke the broker-dealer registrations of Elliott and Co., New York; Dempsey and Co., Chicago; and Gilligan, Will and Co., New York.

— Consent decrees were entered in the U. S. court for the southern district of New York prohibiting Elliott and Co. and its three partners from selling Crowell - C ollier or any other securities not properly registered prior to sale.

Truck Rental Group Opens Pontiac Office

National City Truck Rental and Leasing Company opened a Pontiac branch office today, with a fleet of 100 trucks of various makes and body styles. The rental service is located at 200 N. Paddock St.

A subisidary of National City Lines, Inc., which also operates the Pontiac bus service, the truck rental agency will be operated in conjunction with the bus service and headed by E. W. Dreasher, a veteran of many years in bus transportation work.

The rental service offers round trip or one-way service to 42 other cities with branch offices, stretching from Florida to Washington and California to Philadelphia.

Trucks may be rented by the hour, day, week, month or year by individuals or companies.

Mickey 148, Sam 143¼

Mickey Crawford of Saginaw weighed 148 pounds and Sonmy Rodgers of Benton Harbor scaled 143¼ at their official weigh-in ceremony today in the Detroit boxing commissioner's office. Crawford and Rodgers meet tonight in a 10-round bout at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium.

News in Brief

A Detroiter minor, John A. Racinski, 20, of 4934 Thirtieth St. yesterday began a 10-day term in Oakland County Jail in lieu of paying $21.30 fine and $3.70 costs on a charge of illegal possession of beer. Racinski had pleaded guilty to the charge before Farmington Justice Allen C. Ingle.

Pleading guilty yesterday to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor, Earl Smith, 39, of 21301 Telegraph Rd., Detroit, began a 15-day sentence in Oakland County Jail. Smith failed to pay $10.10 fine and $4.90 costs set by Farmington Justice Allen C. Ingle.

Approve Stock Issue to Purchase Company

DETROIT (AP) — Superior Tool and Die Co. stockholders have approved a controversial stock issue to finance the company's purchase of the Bethlehem, (Pa.), Foundry and Machine Co.

The stock issue was approved 313,602 to 167,351, according to a count completed yesterday.

However 100,000 of the favorable votes have been challenged. Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph G. Rashid will hold a hearing Monday on the challenge. Until the hearing, the stock issuance can not be put into effect.

Seek Factory Worker for Death of Bride

The body of Mrs. Betty Silvey was found yesterday by a neighbor in the young bride's trailer home.

State police said she and her husband, Billy, 20, were last seen Sunday night.

Silvey is a native of Providence, Ky.

Market Makes Feeble Attempt

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made a feeble attempt to advance in early trading today, but it found the going rough.

Prices generally were up fractions. There was a sprinkling of losers, especially among the rubbers.

Trading turned quiet after a fairly active opening.

Caution appeared to be the keynote in Wall Street, as the credit picture became tighter. Interest rates on some short-term loans were hiked for the second time in less than a week.

The U.S. Treasury's short-term borrowing cost pushed up to the highest rate since the bank holiday period of 1933. And three more regional federal reserve banks raised the discount rate to 3½ per cent.

Union Chemical & Materials, which was active and up two points yesterday, rose more than a point.

Steels and motors were unchanged to ahead fractions. Metals, oils, aircrafts and rails were irregular.

Also down a share were United Aircraft, Caterpillar, American Telephone, Chesapeake & Ohio and American Can.

Upside Down Flight Easy at Great Speeds

WASHINGTON (INS)—Flying at more than 1,000 miles an hour is so easy that you can do it upside down without knowing either that you are wrong-side up or that you are beating the speed of sound.

At least that is the case in an Air Force F-100F Super Sabre with North American test pilot Robert A. Hoover at the controls maneuvering to compensate for the slight effect of gravity.

Hoover, a 35-year-old veteran of World War II and the Korean War, guarantees you won't know you are rolling unless you look at the spinning earth below.

Cutting out the after-burner and putting on the brakes, or screaming down from nearly 40,000 feet to the comparatively solid atmosphere at 4,000 feet, is different—hard on the stomach and eardrums of the amateur jet flier.

The "supersonic roll" was a feature of a half-hour sky ride taken by this reporter at the urging of Col. Maurice Casey, air Force deputy information chief, who believes newsmen should understand the jet jockey's problems.

LONGER THAN FLIGHT

Getting fitted with a helmet and oxygen mask, and instructed on how to pull the ejection levers in case of an accident, took longer than the flight.

The two-seated version of the Super Sabre, backbone of the fighter commands, shot up from Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington.

Although passing the sound barrier used to tear planes apart, Hoover said over the intercom that it is now necessary to watch the instrument panel to know when supersonic speed — more than 700 miles an hour—has been achieved.

The signal came from the altimeter, the needle of which started spinning backwards when the speed of sound was equalled.

A few seconds later, with sonic speed well behind, the plane's needle-nosed "boom" began absorbing the difference in shock waves, and the altimeter moved back to a correct reading.

The jet did better than 1,000 miles an hour in level flight, with the after-burner going full blast. The exact speeds, including the maximum downgrade, are still secret.

Clear views of Annapolis, Baltimore and Chesapeake Bay, with the Atlantic Ocean visible in the distance, preceded Hoover's warning to "look at the ground, or you won't know you're rolling."

He proved it, by flying a considerable distance upside down. The marshes on the far side of the bay undoubtedly were below, but the setting was fun and it seemed that the earth and the plane had changed places.

A simulated bomb run to 4,000 feet was more like a first ride on a giant roller coaster.

An amateur has to keep saying he feels fine to get the full treatment on one of these flights. This reporter just managed to get the words out.

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS) — Sales and earnings of International Nickel Co. of Canada both declined in the second quarter of 1957 and lagged in the first half behind 1957. Earnings for the six months ended June 30 were $45,601,000, or $3.12 per share, compared with $51,772,000, or $3.48 a share, a year earlier. June quarter net was $1.51 as against $1.69 in 1956. Sales for the half year dropped nearly two million dollars to $223,471,000.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (INS) — Bullard Co., one of the nation's major machine tool producers, today reported second quarter sales and income were ahead of the initial three months of this year, but lagged behind the corresponding period of 1956. Shipments amounted to $10,805,203, compared with $11,069,998 a year earlier. Income of $383,625, or 53 cents per share, compares with $474,410, or 65 cents, in 1956. The company said its mid-year backlog of $11,700,000, a drop of almost $7 million in three months, was affected by air force order cutbacks.

NEW YORK (INS) — Sales increased but income dropped for M. Lowenstein & Sons in the first half of the year. Sales of $242,212,874 were more than eight million dollars ahead of the same period of 1956. Net income of $2,290,764, or 81 cents a share, compares with $3,802,852, or $1.32 a share, a year earlier.

Need for Mechanics Is Growing Rapidly

DETROIT (INS) — The "do-it-yourself" craze has not spread to tinkering with the family auto, regardless of the seemingly vast numbers of teenagers seen crawling under and over cars throughout the country.

In 1940, 16 per cent of the nation's car owners handled their own tune-ups, carburetor adjustments and certain ignition work. Only nine per cent of the owners do those chores today.

Myrie St. Aubin, chairman of the service managers committee of the automobile manufacturers association, recently pointed to the drop in do-it-yourself car "doctors" as a factor in the growing need for professional mechanics.

St. Aubin, director of General Motors' service section, told the American Vocational Association convention that 775,000 mechanics now service the 65 million motor vehicles registered in the United States. That's about one mechanic for every 84 vehicles.

He said 40,000 new mechanics will be needed annually for the next 18 years to properly maintain and service the ever-growing number of vehicles on the nation's highways.

Vocational schools, St. Aubin declared, currently are graduating about one-third of the mechanics needed.

County Hardware Assn. to Meet Wednesday

The Northern Oakland County Hardware Association will hold its monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Old Mill Tavern in Waterford Township.

Host for the evening is the George C. Weatherbee Company, and the guest speaker will be a representative from the Sealand Skate Manufacturing Co. "Ice Skates For Fall," is the theme.

Buick Building Water Tank Being Erected

A large overhead water tank is in the process of being constructed at the Buick storage building on Williams Lake road in Waterford Township.

The 150,000-gallon tank is the last phase of a $250,000 sprinkling system that has been installed in the building.

To be used only in case of fire, the tank will store water pumped from two wells. Another system supplies the drinking water.

A new brick building has been constructed at the base of the tank, to house a boiler and two pumps. The boiler will be used in extreme cold weather, to keep the storage water from freezing.

Masked Bandits Garner $12,000

Hold 16 at Gunpoint in 'Fishbowl Holdup' at Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Two masked men, in plain view of passersby, held 16 people at gunpoint yesterday and robbed the Standard Federal Savings and Loan Assn. of $12,000.

The bandits were in the modern, glass-walled office less than three minutes. They fled out a rear door where a third man waited in a getaway car.

Police said that because the front and rear walls of the building were glass it was like a "holdup in a fishbowl."

"They knew their business," said Robert Hutton, association treasurer and vice president. "They were quick, efficient and polite."

The get-away car, reported stolen, was found abandoned a mile from the association office.

Hutton said one of the gunmen came in through the front door while his partner entered from the rear. Both had handkerchiefs over their faces and wore dark glasses.

One vaulted a counter and scooped the money from a cashier's cage while the other held 10 employes and six customers at gunpoint.

Business Notes

Two Pontiac insurance men, Curtis Patton, 3-4 S. Tilden, of the Great-West Lifen Assurance Company and Robert J. Gibbens, 2563 Woodbine, of State Farm Life Insurance Company, have completed the first part of the Chartered Life Underwriters examination.

Body Is Found in Trunk of Car

Pregnant Woman Shot Three Times; Mate to Be Questioned

ORANGEBURG, S. C. (AP)—An Orangeburg man, whose pregnant wife's body was found stuffed into an automobile trunk outside a hospital here last night, was taken into custody today at a Savannah, Beach, Ga., hotel.

The Orangeburg sheriff's office said Fred Livingston, about 25, was apprehended by Deputy B. M. Collins and J. P. Strom, chief of the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division.

The office said Livingston would be brought before authorities at Savannah Beach for extradition today. No charges have been made.

The bullet-riddled body of Mrs. Livingston, mother of three children and expecting another, was found by police after a telephoned tip to the hospital. She was clad in a maternity dress. She had been shot three times.

Police Chief Harold Hall gave these details:

An unidentified man telephoned the hospital here late last night and told the switchboard operator to "get someone to see if they can do anything for the person outside in the car trunk."

The caller gave a partial description of the car.

Detective Ralph Drawdy found the car keys in the ignition switch and opened the trunk, finding the body.

The police chief said he was advised the car had been parked at the hospital since about noon yesterday.

Police said a man answering the description of the woman's husband boarded a bus here at 7:25 p. m. for Jacksonville.

Brunswick, Ga., police were notified to take him into custody when the bus arrived there. Brunswick police said early today the bus driver told them the man got off the bus at Savannah.

Detroit Plunge Listed as 'Apparent Suicide'

DETROIT (INS) — The death of John Martenill, 67, who plunged from an upper floor of Detroit's 47-story Penobscot Building, was listed by police today as an "apparent suicide."

Martinill's body narrowly missed a pedestrian yesterday.

Police said the victim was an old-age pensioner who had been treated at a mental hospital recently. He had no known relatives, according to officers.

A dry cell has been developed to work efficiently in temperatures recorded as low as 20 below zero.

Profit Taking Drops Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Profit taking on the strong advance of the previous session caused losses in grain futures in early dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Soybeans, which had led the previous advance with closing gains of three to more than six cents, led the downturn today with losses of around two cents at times. There was selling by commission houses, particularly in the September contract.

Wheat and corn dipped only fractionally and wheat then recovered. Oats held fairly steady.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was unchanged to ½ higher, Sept. $2.18½; corn was unchanged to ½ lower, Sept. $1.31; oats were unchanged to ⅜ higher, Sept. 65½; rye was ½ to higher, Sept. $1.39½; soybeans were unchanged to ¾ lower, Sept. $2.47½; and lard was unchanged to 12 cents a hundred pounds lower, Sept. $13.15.

18-Month-Old Girl Attacked at Picnic by Angry Rooster

DETROIT (AP)—A vicious rooster attacked 18-month-old Wanda G. Chapman of Brownstown Township where she was on a weekend picnic with her parents. The chicken slashed the little girl with his spurs before he was driven off.

Wanda, who suffered deep chin and back cuts, was reported in good condition today.

Mrs. Dorothy Chapman, the girl's mother, said the family was picnicking at suburban Edison Beach Park when the rooster hopped up on their table and began to pick at their food. When the mother tried to chase the bird away it jumped on Wanda and slashed her.

British to Withdraw Troops From Oman

LONDON (INS) — British troops are expected to be withdrawn from Oman within a few days.

The troops helped the Sultan of Muscat and Oman capture the rebel-held city of Nizwa and surrounding territory during the past three days.

Report reaching London said the British will leave the sultan's troops to complete the mopping-up operations in the area.

The RAF is expected to leave sufficient aircraft in the Oman area to support the sultan's forces in the event of an emergency.

Department stores usually place their feminine wares on the left and masculine goods on the right. The reason is that women always turn left and men turn right. No one has been able to explain this.

1,086 Detroit Voters

DETROIT (INS)—A total of 1,086 new voter registrations were recorded in Detroit yesterday on the final day of registration for the September primary.

There will be 886,987 voters eligible for the election as compared with 936,431 in 1953.

WALT DISNEY'S True Life Adventures

Congressional Year--Hardly Impressive

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It won't be from fatigue if Congress quits in a week or so. There's talk it may.

This Congress, starting in January and run by the Democrats, has set no records.

At the most it has passed six pieces of major legislation. All were asked by President Eisenhower.

And it killed one of his biggest items: federal aid to education.

For this, Eisenhower can thank his own House Republicans, who played fast and loose and just a little too cute with the federal aid bill.

First, they teamed up with Northern Democrats to attach an antisegregation amendment which was poison to Southern Democrats, who'd rather have no bill than that.

Then the Republicans did an about face and teamed up with the Southern Democrats to kill the bill altogether.

And Eisenhower can take a good part of the blame himself.

Because it wasn't precisely the bill he asked, he expressed himself as lukewarm to it, even though it was the only bill which seemed to have a chance of passing.

His coolness encouraged Republicans to kill it. If he had fought for it, he could have saved it. Three Republican votes would have turned the trick.

Yesterday the two Texas Democrats who are the leaders of Congress—Speaker Rayburn and Sen. Johnson — talked of possible adjournment in a week or so.

They said this either because they meant it or as a needle to the Republicans to start compromising on the civil rights bill.

That bill passed the House as Eisenhower wanted it. In the Senate, Democrats changed it so much that the Republicans are demanding the Democrats undo what they did.

Unless the two sides agree, there'll be no civil rights law. Rayburn and Johnson linked early adjournment with the bill.

Rayburn says if there's a stalemate, he's for going home. Johnson talked of a quick ending if there's no stalemate.

Also killed in this Congress — along with school aid — were the price stabilization. Eisenhower asked for both.

There were the major items passed:

Authority for Eisenhower to use American troops in the Middle East to stop Communist aggression; a federal housing program; an increase in interest rates on federal savings bonds; extension of the excise and corporation taxes for another 15 months; an increase in the loan authority of the Small Business Administration; approval for this country to join the International Atomic Energy Agency.

Dead for the year were administration proposals for a voluntary health insurance program and extension of the $1 minimum wage law to an additional 2½ million workers.

Eisenhower asked Congress to let him raise postal rates. And Congress may, before it quits, give him such authority. But—

It may do so in such a way that he'll veto it: by linking a boost in postal rates with a raise for federal employes, which he doesn't want.

After months of haggling the two houses are about to let Eisenhower have not more than $3,367,083,000 for foreign aid, or 500 million dollars less than he asked.

But Congress hasn't completed action on the authorization yet, and the actual money bill which must follow may be cut much more sharply.

Nor has Congress completed action on all the other appropriations—money Eisenhower asked for running the government. He'll get less than he asked Congress to appropriate—than anyone else.

He did this by talking of the possibility of cuts in what he had just requested and then, in desperation, making a nationwide broadcast to appeal against too much cutting.

All in all this was hardly an impressive year.

OK Construction for U.S. Military

Senate Votes Approval of Projects Costing Over $1.4 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to authorize military construction projects totaling $1,445,285,000 in the current fiscal year which started last July 1.

The Senate passed the authorization bill last night. The actual funds will be appropriated in a separate measure.

The Senate version of the authorization measure includes $1,203,412,000 in new authorizations, compared with $1,603,072,000 in the House bill. Differences will have to be compromised.

The House already has passed an appropriations bill providing $1,581,000,000 for military construction, much of which is set up in the authorization measure just passed by the Senate. The Senate will not take up the appropriations bill until a compromise has been reached on authorizations.

The subcommittee report on the bill said 40 per cent of the current year's Army construction program was devoted to Nike. Stennis (D-Miss) said the figure was supposed to be secret, but past Nike expenditures and those in prospect run to "many billions."

British Treasury Takes Art Works to Settle Debts

LONDON (AP)—The British Treasury announced today it was taking over eight major works of art and a 16th century mansion in settlement of a $3,360,000 debt on death duties owed by the Duke of Devonshire.

The art treasure includes works of Holbein, Van Dyck, Claude Lorraine and Rembrandt. Art circles here said the government's decision to take over the treasures was designed to prevent their possible sale to American collectors.

The 55-year-old 10th Duke of Devonshire died in 1950.

The 300-room mansion is Hardwick Hall, with some 934 acres of surrounding woodland. The 86-year-old dowager Duchess of Devonshire will continue to live in the mansion where she now helps bolster the family income by entertaining tourists at 35 cents a head.

American Convicted by Egyptian Court

CAIRO (AP)—American archaeologist Charles Arthur Muses was convicted by an Egyptian court today of attempting to smuggle antiquities out of Egypt and of violating currency exchange laws. He was fined 18,000 pounds ($51,840) and given a 13-month suspended sentence.

Muses, from Indian Hills, Colo., said through his Egyptian attorney he would appeal.

Muses was arrested June 20 at Cairo Airport. Police charged he was trying to smuggle out four bags full of antiquities. Under Egyptian law all antiquities found in Egypt are the property of the state and a special license is required to export them.

More Coal Shipped From Lake Erie Ports

CLEVELAND (AP)—Coal loaded at Lake Erie ports increased 150,577 tons in July over the same month last year, the Ore and Coal Exchange reported.

Last month, 4,954,860 tons were loaded bringing the total coal shipped at Lake Erie ports this year to 24,660,840. In 1956, 23,449,400 tons were shipped through July.

Cat Dances Into Shop and Out With Records

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—He walked into the record shop wearing gray flannel bermuda shorts and bright red knee socks.

After listening to some hot jazz and cha-cha rhythms, he was unable to keep his feet still. He bolted from the store — taking with him 10 record albums.

Clerk Irvin Medway dashed after him. Police joined the chase. It was an easy matter following those bare knees and red socks through the downtown, lunch hour crowds.

Finally caught, he was charged with attempted robbery, larceny and receiving stolen goods. He was identified as Harry Saywer, 18.

Recent Nutrition Study Gives Interesting Fact

WASHINGTON (INS)—Less than half the fats that Americans eat come from foods that diet - conscious people think of as high-fat products.

The Agriculture Department, which has completed an amazingly thorough study of U. S. nutrition, says that milk, cream, cheese, baked goods, eggs and similar foods supply one-third of the fats Americans eat. More than a fourth comes from the so-called lean meats: Beef, poultry and fish.

Before 1847 letters in the U. S. were sent with postage to be collected on delivery and letters were often refused by the recipients.

The cutter dredger Makasi and a floating workshop, purchased by a firm in Antwerp, Belgium, for use in the Belgian Congo, are en route to Africa, Leopoldville learns.

More than 100,000 automobiles are now being ferried across the English channel by British railway steamers annually, three times the traffic before World War 2.

Future of Hollywood May Be in Television

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD—An amazing change has come over this town. Not long ago the moviemakers were saying TV would never be a problem and were very cocky about it.

The other day I visited Paramount. There was only one project working on the whole lot. Joan Caulfield was making a film there—for television . . . in studio space that was being rented to the TV outfit. And Paramount people weren't allowed to look in or go on the TV set.

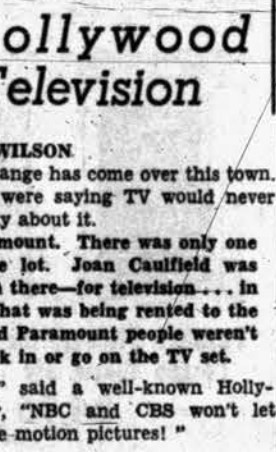

WILSON

Carol Channing'll do her cafe act in Hollywood in October. Judy Garland and Betty Hutton, whom she more or less impersonates, will probably be there. Carol's big yak in Las Vegas comes when she satirizes Tallulah Bankhead who supposedly says: "Dolling, I know a lot of things about men. With a voice like mine, I can get in places no other woman can go."

SUMMER THOUGHTS: Fishing trips were invented by a guy whose wife wouldn't let him drink at home . . . A little girl who'll probably grow up to be famous because of her keen logic threw a stick at a little boy. "Why did you do that?" her mother demanded. "Because," she explained, "afterward, he hit me" . . . An old-fashioned girl, says Ham Park, is one who hasn't yet heard about vodka martinis.

Flint Police Seek to Identify Bones

FLINT (AP)—Police today sought to identify a skull and other bones found by two boys in the sealed restroom of a downtown Flint park.

The grisly discoverey was made yesterday by Jerry Sims, 10, and John Delas, 13.

While playing in the park, they noticed a small hole through the wooden planks and sod which city workers had used to seal off the rest room two years ago.

Jerry Crawled through the hole into the stairwell and found the skull. A YMCA supervisor who had taken the youngsters to the park notified police.

Other bones taken from the rest room appeared to be from a leg and hip. A pair of shoes and what appeared to be parts of a man's leather belt were also found.

The bones and other material were sent to the state crime laboratory at Lansing.

Flint police ruled out the possibility that someone fell into the hole and died. They said the opening was only large enough to permit a small boy to squeeze through.

East German Red Boss, Nikita Reach Agreement

BERLIN (AP)—The official East German news agency ADN says Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev and East German party boss Walter Ulbricht have reached full agreement on all questions of extending cooperation between their two parties, problems of the international worker's movement and political and economic questions. It did not give details but said the talks were held in an "atmosphere of cordial friendship."

Audience Likes Familiar Theme

Star Betty White and Producer Worked on Show for 2 Years

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — There is nothing sensational about "Date With the Angels," but that doesn't particularly disappoint the show's charming star, Betty White. She and producer Don Fedderson pretty much planned it that way.

The show was in the works for two years. You might think that, in two years of intensive work, something with more originality would emerge — "Date With the Angels" is a pleasant little comedy series about the experiences of a newlywed couple.

"But we decided to stick to the tried and true," says Betty. "The Angels are designed for audience identification—cliche situations which the audience can appreciate since they're real and normal and believable."

So Gus and Vickie Angel are people you've met before. What gives this ABC-TV show its appeal is the very familiarity of the situations—plus the good work of Betty and her co-star, Bill Williams.

She picked the name Vickie, because it's her favorite — "if I ever had a daughter, she would be Vickie." The name Gus came because they wanted something that smacked of manliness and ruggedness — thus, Gus.

NAMED AFTER CAR

And Angel? That was the toughest of all. They mulled over dozens of names, finally named the couple after Betty's car. She's a carnamer, currently operating a snazzy white convertible called "White Dream."

It's just as well the show wasn't planned now, otherwise they might be called Gus and Vickie White Dream.

The two years of work were tough on Betty. She'd always been very active, but those two years she had to confine herself to a few guest shots, spending the rest of the time in the planning phase—and in quiet frustration.

"Now I'm so happy to be working steadily," she says, "that I doubt if I'll even ask for a vacation."

NOTHING SENSATIONAL — Betty White, who stars as Vickie Angel in "Date With the Angels," says the romantic comedy series deliberately sticks to tried and true situations. She feels that the audience appreciates cliches which are normal and believable. Bill Williams co-stars as Gus Angel. The show is telecast Fridays at 9 p. m. over ABC.

Terry Moore Changes Mind —No Divorce

Miss Moore and McGrath, 35, were married Jan. 1, 1956. She started divorce proceedings last June, charging him with "notorious association with other women."

She said today she will return soon to Panama, where McGrath has insurance, oil, shrimp, real estate and other interests.

GM Girls Club Donation Aids Study of Blood

A donation of $200 by the General Motors Girls Club of Pontiac to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital has been used to purchase a new machine for the study of blood diseases.

The electrophoresis machine will be used in the hospital's new hematology laboratory. Purchase of the machine is the first step in the expansion of laboratory facilities at the hospital.

The General Motors Girls Club was organized nearly eight years ago and has been active in civic and welfare affairs.

Trial Boils; Actor Denies Smear

'Had Affair With Gable to Get Confidential Story'

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Red-haired Ronnie Quillan, one of Hollywood's most notorious "party girls," is slated to testify today in the now boiling criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines.

Her testimony is expected to equal, or even surpass, the high temperature altitudes hit yesterday when it was revealed in court that Francesca de Scaffa admitted to having "an affair" with Clark Gable in order to get a scandal story for Confidential.

Gable, vacationing in Hawaii with his wife, the former Kay Spreckels, issued a quick denial, stating flagly:

"I think I would remember that, but to my knowledge I never met the lady in my life."

Miss De Scaffa, a darkly beautiful one-time actress, is reportedly living in Mexico City and is reluctant to return her to face conspiracy charges.

Miss Quillan, whose slashing of singer Billy Daniels once made a spicy feature for Confidential, is expected to follow former whisper editor, Lester Grady to the witness stand.

GRADY TESTIFIES

Grady, who took the stand late yesterday, testified that Robert Harrison, Confidential - Whisper Publisher, hired him to tone down the magazine and to make it more like a Hollywood fan publication.

Grady, round-faced former editor of Screenland and Silver Screen, also said Mrs. Marjorie Meade, Harrison's niece and a major defendant in the lurid case, told him she "could get an affidavit on any male star in Hollywood."

He added that he was told on one occasion that an affidavit backing up a story on Irish actress Maureen O'Hara was "dynamite."

Miss Quillan was a star witness recently, along with Rushmore, before the county grand jury where she "told all" about her movietown scandal activities.

MARRIAGE ANNULLED

The 40-year-old Hollywood playgirl yesterday received notice of the annulment of her marriage to 21-year-old Daniel E. O'Reilly, who brought suit for annulment through his mother before he reached the age of 21. The suit charged Miss Quillan was addicted to excessive use of enervating pills.

As a state's witness, Miss Quillan is expected to testify, among other things, that Confidential solicited local party girls for scandal tidbits about "big names" in private detectives to track them down.

Yesterday's sizzling court session which stamped Gable as the first major Hollywood casualty in the six-day-old trial, was mainly concerned with a battle of wits between former Confidential editor Rushmore and defense attorney Arthur Crowley.

Rushmore, nattily dressed in a $150 raw silk jacket, black slacks and a gold striped tie, was the main target of a blistering cross-examination from Crowley who made no secret of the fact that he is out to impeach the ex-newspaperman's testimony.

Crowley battered away at Rushmore with poison-dipped questions in an effort to prove that articles published by Harrison were true.

Boston Mailers Strike Continues

City Without Papers 5th Day; No Progress Reported in Dispute

BOSTON (AP)—A strike of mailers, which has caused suspension of Boston's six daily newspapers, continued for the fifth day today with little hope for an immediate settlement.

Massachusetts Labor Commissioner Ernest A. Johnson said last night his department was trying to set up a joint meeting of union representatives and publishers for tomorrow.

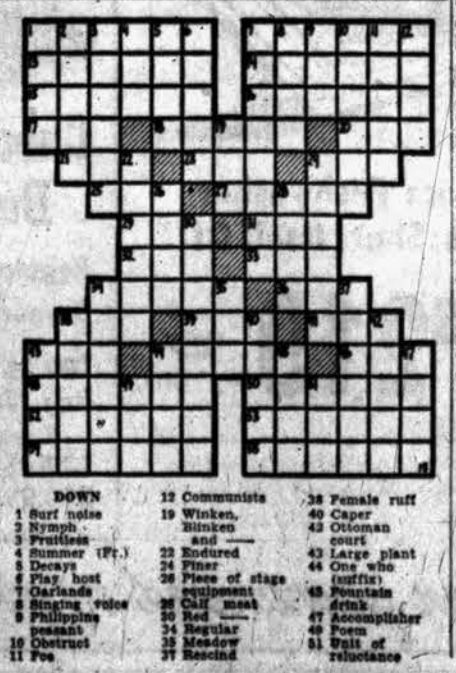

Spokesmen for the publishers and the mailers union met separately yesterday without making any progress.

The walkout over a wage dispute caused the suspension, beginning with the Saturday editions, of the morning and evening Globe, the morning Herald, the evening Traveler, the morning Record and the evening American.

The strike of the estimated 300 mailers—whose job it is to bundle and distribute the papers from the presses to the loading platforms—threw 5,000 newspaper employes out of work.

The greater Boston area, with its 2½ million population, was left without printed news. The suspended papers have a combined daily circulation of about 1,250,000.

The Christian Science Monitor, published in Boston, was not affected by the strike, but the paper withdrew the public sale of its editions in the city.

German Chief Asks U. S. Leadership

Seeks Money Revaluation

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany's economic chief said today the German mark is worth more than its official rate but that the Bonn government will not boost its value without a massive international currency revaluation.

He called for the United States to take "the moral leadership" in revamping the world's rates of exchange.

Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard, the man generally acknowledged as the driving force in Germany's spectacular economic rise after World War II, outlined his views in an interview.

What the world needs, Erhard said, is a limited period during which all currencies of the world would be free to peg themselves at their natural level.

Financial publications in Britain and other areas of Europe have been hammering away for months at the idea that the mark is worth more than its official rate and should be increased in value. Erhard conceded this point for the first time today, blaming "rigid rates of exchange" in other countries.

But even though the mark is undervalued, he said, the Bonn government has no intention of uprating it on its own. The mark now is officially worth 23.9 U.S. cents. A more realistic rate, it has been suggested, would be about 26.3 cents.

Such a proposal, he said, should come from the United States.

Erhard said his belief is that "for a limited period" the world should declare a time of free convertibility during which each currency should attain its natural level and stick there. He said the United States should take the lead "in view of the worldwide ruling position of the dollar."

He said the dollar should be revalued along with all other currencies.

Ike Makes Plea for Foreign Aid

New Efforts Spurred to Halt Deeper Slashes in Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—An 11th hour personal plea by President Eisenhower spurred new efforts today to head off even deeper cuts in his $3,864,410,000 foreign aid program for this year.

Even as the Senate got set to approve a compromise $3,367,083,000 authorization bill, the President showed alarm over reports that the appropriations bill which would provide the funds to finance foreign aid spending may be slashed below three billion dollars.

He met with leaders of the Senate and House and ranking members of their appropriations committees in an unusual White House conference to oppose drastic cuts which might endanger the program.

The foreign aid bill as an authorization measure simply sets ceilings. There have been reports the House Appropriations Committee may go far below those ceilings when it reports out a money measure later in the week.

In addition to 1½ billion dollars in military aid funds and 750 millions in economic defense supports for allies abroad, the bill authorizes establishment of the economic development fund, with authority for a 500 million dollar appropriation for next year.

The Senate had voted 500 millions for this year and authority to borrow 750 millions from the Treasury in each of the succeeding two years. The House had voted a single year's appropriation.

Filming Church History

NEW YORK (AP)—"Rome of The Popes," a four-part series of 30-minute TV programs devoted to the history of the center of the Roman Catholic Church, is being filmed in Rome and will be presented on NBC-TV's "Catholic Hour" next January.

200 on Ship in Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP)—Mild influenza of an undetermined type has hit 200 persons on a transatlantic liner docking in Manhattan today. Nearly all are young foreign exchange students.

Only tests can determine whether the disease is Asiatic flu or another type.

City and federal health officials and doctors boarded the ship, the Arosa Sky, when she dropped anchor off quarantine last night. The Swiss-owned liner sailed from Rotterdam Aug. 5 with 273 crewmen and 847 passengers. Of the passengers, 647 are students.

Dr. Markus Fischer, the ship's physician, reported in a ship-to-shore telephone call early today that 50 persons were still hospitalized or required medical treatment.

A City Health Department spokesman said there had been 200 cases of "comparatively mild" flu aboard the ship since the start of the outbreak last Thursday. Only one case was reported among the crew.

U.S. Public Health Service and City Health Department doctors examined the passengers after boarding the ship at quarantine on Staten Island.

A Health Department spokesman said flu is not a quarantinable disease. He said there is no intention of halting the entry of the Arosa Sky because the department feels that those stricken with the disease can be isolated and treated in hospitals if necessary.

More than 100 beds have been set aside in isolation wards in and in Queen's General and Elmhurst General hospitals in Queens

Syria Charges U.S. With Plot

Says $300-400 Million Aid Offered Damascus for Kuwatly Overthrow

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria accused the United States today of plotting to overthrow President Shukri Kuwatly's government.

An official government statement charged the United States had signified willingness to pay Syria between 300 and 400 million dollars in aid if Damascus changed governments and made peace with Israel.

Political quarters here said Syria would lodge a strong protest with the United States.

The U.S. Embassy in Damascus said it had received no word from the Syrian government of such charges.

The Damascus statement said major participants in the alleged conspiracy were ex-dictator Col. Adib Shishekly, and the Syrian military attache in Rome, Col. Ibrahim Husseini. Shishekly was sentenced in absentia last February to life imprisonment on a charge of leading a subversive group.

Too Many Rides on Trolley Bus Lead Into Court

The bus had a ticket-taker, pretty Gwynneth Sang, 26. Archer, a 21-year-old laborer, was infatuated with her.

"Night after night, for hours on end, Archer used to buy tickets and ride around on my bus," Gwynneth told the court yesterday. "When I refused to pay any attention to him he finally sent a letter threatening to kill me."

Archer admitted a charge of "conduct likely to cause a breach of the peace." He was released on his promise to quit riding around on Gwynneth's trolley-bus.

U.S. Youths Warned

41 Youths Defy America, Leave for Red China Tour

MOSCOW (AP)—Forty-one American youths defied the United States government today and left for a forbidden tour of Red China.

Just before the Moscow-Peiping trans-Siberian express train pulled out, two Americans withdrew from the trip. Two others said they might decide later to catch up with the group by flying to Peiping.

Jake Rosen, New York, leader of the group and organizer for the trip to the Communist-sponsored Moscow youth festival, said he would go to Peiping by way of Kiev where he would first attend another Communist-sponsored youth meeting.

resulted in an anxious 2½-hour meeting by the Americans early in the day.

The State Department told them Tuesday in a letter from Undersecretary Christian Herter that their passports would be taken from them if they made the journey.

The United States has no diplomatic relations with Communist China and considers itself in a "quasi state of war" with the Mao Tse-tung government.

Dan O'Connell of Chicago said as the train left the station, "We have six days aboard before we reach the Red Chinese border and there are some here who may change their minds and get off."

A crowd of Russians swarmed over the station platform as the well-equipped train prepared to leave. Dozens of bunches of flowers were thrown through the windows of the American compartment.

Amid shouts of "peace and friendship," a Russian band blared out tunes.

Larry's Mother Fears Trouble Over China Trip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A number of parents today eyed with misgivings the possibility of their sons and daughters making a Communist-sponsored trip to Red China in the face of stiff State Department opposition. Others, however, felt their children were able to decide for themselves.

Mrs. Evelyn Van Hevel of Detroit, mother of Larry E. Schwartz, 22 of Utica, said she didn't want her son to go either to Europe or to China.

"Larry is the kind of boy that likes to find out what is going on. I am praying for my boy. He is not the kind to get in trouble, but he might if he goes to Red China. I didn't want him to go (to Europe) because I wanted him here with me. For the same reason I don't want him going to Red China."

Indicate Delay in Senate Action on Postal Hikes

House OKs Measure, but Adjournment Nears for Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two GOP senators indicated today that action will be deferred until next year on a House-passed bill to boost postal rates.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland Calif. said that because adjournment is near, he doubts the Senate will act this year on the bill to raise the first-class letter rate to 4 cents an ounce, and airmail to 7 cents, effective Oct. 1.

Other raises also would be provided, to increase postal revenues by 1960 an estimated 527½ million dollars a year.

Sen. Carlson, Kans., ranking Republican on the Senate Post Office Committee, said he was sure the committee would have to hold hearings.

But there were reports some Senate Democrats want to pass the rate bill so that a pay increase for postal workers would have a better chance of being signed by President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower has asked for rate increases but he has opposed general pay increases for federal employes at this time.

The House, which already had approved pay increases for postal workers, passed the rate increase measure late yesterday, 256-129.

Voting for it were 85 Democrats and 171 Republicans; against it were 125 Democrats and 4 Republicans.

The principal debate in the House came on raising the letter rate to four cents.

Precipitation will total around ¼ to ½ inch with expected thundershowers Thursday and over the weekend.

Lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 67. At 2 p.m. the thermometer reached 82.

Pontiac Motor Division Dedicates Mammoth Waste Treatment Plant

Pontiac Motor Division's giant industrial waste treatment plant was unveiled officially this morning, at ceremonies witnessed by state and city officials.

Under construction for the past year, the system can neutralize 1,500 gallons of noxious waste solution per minute. It incorporates the most up-to-date waste control methods in existence, S. E. Knudsen, Pontiac general manager, announced.

The disposal plant consists of an operations and laboratory building and 34 treatment tanks. These huge tanks, with individual capacities up to 500,000 gallons, cover an area of 100,000 square feet.

The system will be used to chemically remove objectionable material in copper, nickel, cyanide and chrome solution from metal plating and machining operations throughout the Pontiac Motor Division plants, to prevent contamination of sewer systems.

The disposal system handles wastes from the time they enter from the manufacturing plants through pipelines until completely neutralized.

Six employes, including laboratory technicians, are required to operate the plant during each shift.

The plant was inspected this morning by state and city officials, and representatives of the company. Among the guests were City Manager Walter K. Willman, Mayor William Donaldson, City Commissioners John E. Cary, Floyd P. Miles, Philip E. Rowston, Gilbert W. Long, three members of the State Health Department and two officials from the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

The group toured Pontiac Motor Division's V-8 engine plant, plating plant, and final assembly section, in addition to the waste control plant building.

A luncheon was held following the tour.

CYANIDE REACTOR — This cyanide reactor is an important segment of the new, giant waste treatment plant at Pontiac Motor Division where 1500 gallons of noxious wastes can be treated each minute. Through an oxidizing process this reactor breaks down cyanide solutions used in chrome plating operations by the addition of chlorine gas. Liquids remaining in the compartments are thus neutralized for safe disposal.

Drop Expected in Price of Gas

Slash of About 2 Cents Per Gallon May Follow Wholesale Rate Cut

Retail gasoline prices were believed about to drop nearly two cents a gallon today after four more major oil companies announced yesterday they would trim wholesale prices in Detroit.

Pontiac area gasoline stations, however, generally were still selling at the old prices today, waiting for any reduction in costs to reach them.

Under the new prices, the motorist should be able to buy his gasoline for 31.4 or 31.5 cents a gallon for regular grades, and 35.6 cents for premium, a cut of 1.9 cents.

Pure Oil, Sinclair, Gulf and Socony Mobil companies yesterday announced wholesale cuts in the Detroit Metropolitan Area similar to those made by Standard, Shell, Sun and Speedway oil companies.

Dangers of a price war were minimized by the companies and by the gasoline retailers association in Detroit, which said the price reductions are "to meet competitive conditions."

The first company to announce cuts, the Texas Co., faces anti-trust action before the Justice Department in Washington brought by the retail association.

It claims anti-trust laws were violated because the cut 13 days ago was made only for dealers who would absorb an extra half cent cut in the retail prices.

The Texas Co. denied the charge and said it would continue its program on an "individual assistance" basis to certain dealers.

It was expected that wholesale price reductions would become general, with the cut being passed on to the customer's benefit by most dealers.

Several smaller companies in the metropolitan area have followed suit, including Ashland Oil Products, which has four stations in the Pontiac area.

Looks On in Helpless Horror as Son Is Crushed by Truck

Excavator Forest H. Hilborn could only watch in helpless horror as his 16-year-old son, Henry, was crushed beneath the wheels of a dump truck yesterday near the Orchard Lake-Telegraph roads underpass.

Riding 25 feet above the ground in the cab of a drag-line, Hilborn could not rush to his son's aid, nor did his frantic cries of warning help as the youth walked into the moving truck's path.

"Henry probably couldn't hear me above the noise of the machinery," Hilborn said afterwards. "Besides, it all happened so quickly."

The boy died shortly after the accident, despite efforts by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital doctors to revive him through heart massage.

The father, who lives at 2477 Pontiac Rd., Pontiac Township, is a sub-contractor on the State Highway Department underpass project. Yesterday Hilborn and other workers were in a field south of Golf drive and west of the Municipal Golf Course, gathering dirt for transportation to the underpass.

From his seat in the drag-line, which picks up dirt at one end and passes it to dump trucks at the other, Hilborn saw the entire tragedy.

BOY WAS HELPING

"Henry was helping me on the job. He was handing truck drivers the tickets which they later redeem for pay."

Hilborn said he saw the youth walk away from one truck and, without looking, step into the path of another which was backing into position near the dragline.

"As the truck bore down on him, I yelled as loud as I could," the tear-eyed father said. "But it did no good.

"The truck kept on backing up, knocking my boy down, and then running over him."

OTHERS SAW DANGER

Other workers had seen the danger, too, and tried to warn the boy, according to Assistant Prosecutor Paul Mandel, who took statements in the accident.

Hilborn's son, who would have entered eleventh grade at Pontiac High School next month, had been helping his father on jobs for four years.

The truck driver, Norman Pearson, 26, of 1566 Richmond St., was released, Mandel said, after stating he had no idea the boy was in the path of his truck.

Had the accident not happened, the victim would have joined his family in a happy occasion today—his father's 44th birthday.

The Hilborns have one other son, Thomas, 12.

Senate May End Work in Week

Adjournment in Sight if Action Is Finished on Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's Democratic and Republican leaders laid out a program today for action on half a dozen major measures and adjournment of Congress next week—if the House breaks its civil rights stalemate.

Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) already has closed the door to consideration by that body of any new legislation.

Republican Leader Knowland of California said that "leaving aside civil rights, if everything goes well, we should get out of here by a week from Saturday." Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas indicated he agreed.

The civil rights conflict settled down to a political war of nerves today with House Republicans renewing talk of a special session in November to settle the issue.

As adjournment fever gripped Congress, a new move was made by Rep. Keating (R-NY) to break the stalemate and get the Senate-passed bill headed toward the House floor for a vote.

The bill, with its controversial jury trial amendment, rested on the desk of Speaker Rayburn of Texas. Objections yesterday barred direct House action, and Rayburn has not yet moved to send it to the Rules Committee to chart a new course.

Ask Bond Issue to Equip Wing With Essentials

Money Would Insure Opening of Addition at Pontiac General

A special fall election on the question of a $950,000 bond issue to equip the new $4 million Pontiac General Hospital addition was approved by the City Commission last night.

Details of the fall vote won't be known until City Manager Walter K. Willman meets with Claude Stevens, Pontiac's bond attorney.

In a communication to the commission, Willis M. Brewer, chairman of the hospital's Board of Trustees, asked that the election be held within the next two months.

The $950,000 bond issue, Brewer said, would cover the cost of bare necessities for the enlarged hospital, including $433,000 in outstanding purchase orders.

The hospital had ordered the $433,000 worth of laundry, kitchen, X-ray, sterilization and refrigeration equipment before Pontiac voters vetoed a $1,850,000 hospital bond issue May 20.

With the money, Brewer said, the hospital would not be able to replace a considerable amount of antiquated equipment, nor would the proposed bond issue allow the purchase of considerable furniture which would tend to make the operation of the hospital "more functional and aesthetic."

If the bond issue is approved, Brewer said, "There is no question that we can open up the new 200-bed wing."

Brewer said that the amount of the bond issue has been trimmed considerably by removing various items of equipment, and using some of the older equipment that the hospital has on hand.

City Commissioners last night urged an intensive educational campaign to acquaint the public with the purpose of the bond issue, prior to the election.

Brewer said that it is probable that many voters who rejected the bond issue last May will vote for the reduced amount at the coming election.

AFL-CIO to Act in Teamster Case

Pre-Convention Verdict on Corruption Charges Promised by Council

CHICAGO (AP) — The AFL-CIO Executive Council served notice yesterday that it is determined to complete action on charges of "corrupt influences" against the Teamsters before the union's convention next month.

The move against the union of Dave Beck, James R. Hoffa and 1½ million members was taken after the case had dragged on for more than four months without a decision.

Charges that the union was "dominated, controlled or substantially influenced by corrupt influences" were drawn up March 29 after Beck, Teamster president, was accused of misusing about $400,000 of his organization's funds.

The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices committee arranged to hold final hearings Sept. 5 and 6 in Washington.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said the committee "will conclude the hearings in the Teamsters case irrespective of whether the Teamsters appear."

Meany said the Executive Council will receive the committee report Sept. 23 or Sept. 24. Then, he declared, the council will make known its verdict before the Teamsters convene Sept. 30 in Miami Beach.

The council's decision could take the form of recommendations as to what steps, if any, the Teamsters must take to remain in the AFL-CIO.

Former Pontiac Doctor Sparked Leelanau Project

Dedicate Hospital Sunday

Six years of community effort, sparked by a former city physician, have borne fruit with the scheduled dedication next Sunday of the new Leelanau Memorial Hospital in Northport.

The modern 16-bed facility on a hill overlooking this Leelanau County resort village is the result of an appeal by Dr. J. W. Christie to Northport residents.

Dr. Christie, a veteran of World War II and the Korean war, left his Pontiac practice in 1951. He purchased a frame dwelling in Northport and converted it into a six-bed hospital to serve the area.

The tiny medical care facility soon became too small for village needs.

Dr. Christie asked Northport residents to help build a larger hospital. Countless bake sales, rummage sales, entertainments and fund drives by the village's population of slightly more than 500 built the hospital fund to $180,000 after three years. It was enough to break ground for the new structure.

Gifts and bequests from summer residents of nearby Northport Point swelled the total. The hospital opened last March.

Dr. L. Fernald Foster of Detroit, president of Michigan Medical Service, and Judge William V. Brothers of Chicago, long a Northport summer resident, have accepted invitations as principal speakers at dedication ceremonies.

National Steel Corporation

Humphrey Heads Board

PITSBURGH (AP) — George M. Humphrey, former secretary of the Treasury, today was named board chairman of National Steel Corp.

Humphrey, one of the founders of the corporation in 1927, was a board member and chairman of the firm's executive committee when he was appointed a member of President Eisenhower's Cabinet in 1953. He resigned.

Humphrey's appointment was announced at a meeting of the board of directors in Pittsburgh.

It was headed by Ernest T. Weir until his death June 26.

Court Ruling Stymies Cottage Plan

Children's Home Expansion Hit

Construction of a new cottage at the Oakland County Children's Home may be stymied by the legal decision that hit at financial planning for a new courthouse.

The possibility was posed yesterday before the county's Buildings and Grounds Committee, which was beginning building plans to relieve some of the overcrowding at the home.

The county's legal advisers said today the project probably will have to be held up until next year.

They were hurriedly asked yesterday to find out if construction of the proposed $45,000 cottage is as much affected by the court decision as the $4,500,000 courthouse.

Although the children's home addition costs 100 times less than the courthouse, it is equally affected by the decision handed down last month by Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke, said Assistant Corporation Counsel Charles A. Davis.

.1 MILL LIMIT

Judge Dehnke decided the county cannot exceed the .1 mill annual limitation which the constitution says can be levied for construction of new buildings and repair of old ones.

His interpretation means that Oakland County was eligible to spend about $150,000 this year, and it already has exceeded that, Davis pointed out.

The maintenance department alone has already spent about $170,000 — much of it for repairs — while other money has gone into construction of a new animal shelter ad a garage in the service center, he said.

PLANS TO APPEAL

The county is planning a State Supreme Court appeal of Judge Dehnke's decision, but this may not be heard until late this year. If the decision is upset, the county will be allowed to spend its $1,400,000 building fund equity on new buildings.

If the decision stands, the county probably will have to turn to public votes for major new construction, including the courthouse, officials believe.

Action towards settling the courthouse decision with a final decree probably will begin this week, Davis said.

He plans a meeting with attorneys for the Oakland County Taxpayers League, in a step towards determining the disposition of the building fund equity and other legal points in Judge Dehnke's decision.

The decision was based on the league's suit which, in part, challenged the county's right to exceed the .1 mill constitutional limitation.

With Love and Kisses

Khrushchev Leaves Berlin

BERLIN, (INS) — Soviet Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev kissed East German leaders goodbye today and left Berlin with promises of complete obedience ringing in his ears.

Khrushchev and the Russian delegation were bade farewell at the railroad station where they took a train for the 10-minute ride to the airport.

"The working class in Germany will fulfill its duties as part of the the big Socialist camp in every situation.

"This is how we can express our gratitude for your great work and the great aid you have granted us."

Khrushchev gave Ulbricht and President Otto Grotewohl three hearty kisses each Anastas Mikoyan, merely a first deputy premier in the Soviet Hierarchy, followed suit — but in recognition of the greater man's position, gave the Germans but two noisy smacks.

Ulbricht obviously met just about every demand Khrushchev made during the eight-day visit.

Khrushchev spoke briefly at the farewell ceremonies:

We regard your successes as our common success since we are following the same aims, which means changing the social basis for the buildup of socialism."

But he could not hide his displeasure when a German honor guard goosestepped past the speaker's podium.

Ulbricht gave a light touch to the farewell by recalling Khrushchev's criticism of the way the Germans plant corn.

He said, "and dear friend Khrushchev, you may be sure that, thanks to your advice and criticism, our corn planting will improve. Nikita Khrushchev says that will mean more meat, more fat, more butter. Right he is."

Throughout, Ulbricht stressed complete agreement on all things even though Khrushchev left Berlin with the crucial East German-Soviet economic muddle still unsolved.

BIG BROTHER — A real sourpuss where dogs are concerned, Willie the wildcat acts as a gentle protector to this "other" kitten in West Richland, Wash., where he's a house pet of Sgt. Kelly W. Ham. Only 15 months old, Willie already weighs 14 pounds, and though he has a hatred for all canines, he happily shares his new home with a mama cat and a litter of kittens.

The Day in Birmingham

Ask Officials to Inspect Dredging of Nixon Pond

BIRMINGHAM— Commissioners interested in boating may combine business and pleasure tomorrow during an inspection of the Nixon pond dredging.

The work began several weeks ago is nearing completion. City officials have been invited by the contractor to inspect the area, including the sites where river and pond silt has been deposited for drying and later sale.

A recent request has come from Arthur Zebedee, 19400 Riverside and others at the upper end where the River Rouge flows into the pond for additional dredging. They claim the same black silt supposedly outfall from the sewage treatment plant covers the bottom of the river and pond.

Assistant City Manager Robert Kenning said he had checked their claim and found it to be true. He gave an estimate of $15,000 for the additional work.

Commissioners said they preferred to wait until after the Thursday inspection before making a decision. They also indicated a plan to contact the north Evergreen authority to seek its participation and the possibility of securing federal funds as related to the Rouge flood control program. Officials also expressed the doubt of any legal obligation to do the work and a reluctance to spend Birmingham funds for the purpose.

Residents in the area already dredged expressed their satisfaction and thanks. They said the appearance is much improved and all traces of unpleasant odor have been removed.

With no written or verbal objection the Elm street sidewalk, a special assessment roll was approved Monday night. Four lots face the area between Chestnut and Hazel streets. The roll was approved on a one payment basis.

Commissioners granted permission to the Disabled American Veterans for their annual forget-me-not sale next month. The request was for two days but the group was told they may make a choice of one of the dates suggested either September 13 or 14.

Also asked to select one of their dates September 27 or 28, the Birmingham Kiwanis Club received approval on their peanut sale. Funds from this program are used to sponsor the Kiwanis Kids Day.

Mayor William Roberts has been named to represent Birmingham when the Michigan Municipal League meets at Mackinac Island September 5-7. Commissioner Harry Denyes will serve as alternate.

Pal Davidoff Uses the 5th

Dio's Friend Refuses 44 Questions in Probe; Senator Blasts Him

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry Davidoff, convicted extortionist and pal of racketeer Johnny Dio, refused today to answer when asked whether he has robbed members of Teamsters Union Local 258 in New York. He is the local's secretary-treasurer.

Davidoff pleaded to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee that answers to this and 43 other questions might incriminate him.

His stand brought a blast from the committee's chairman, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), against scoundrels the senator said have infiltrated organized labor.

Davidoff, bespectacled and mild appearing, refused to tell the committee whether he negotiated sweetheart contracts with employers. The term is applied in labor circles to contracts which provide no improvement for workers and are chiefly of benefit to the employer.

He read off his Fifth Amendment pleas from a prepared statement.

Davidoff was finally excused after taking the Fifth 44 times. On only three occasions did he vary from his self-incrimination plea in response to questions.

That was when McClellan asked him first whether he was an American citizen and second whether he was proud of it. Both times, Davidoff replied: "Yes, sir."

McClellan also asked: "Do you believe those who take the Fifth Amendment are worthy to be associated with the labor movement?"

Again, Davidoff answered, "Yes, sir."

Call-Girls-to-Cops Tell of Confidential System

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The vast operating network of the Confidential Magazine empire fell sharply into focus today following revelations that everyone from call girls to cops have supplied information to the ribald scandal sheets.

Witnesses have testified that several New York detectives, a member of the New York corporation counsel's office, party girls, an actress, several reputable news reporters, and even a next door neighbor have served up spicy reading dishes for national consumption.

To date, 117 persons, mostly movie personalities have been subpoenaed to testify for the defense in the criminal libel trial of Confidential Magazine.

The prosecution's case is expected to terminate either sometime today or Friday following the testimony of "four or five" more witnesses.

During yesterday's session the name of Desi Arnaz was introduced into the proceedings by party girl Ronnie Quillan, who said she gave a story to Confidential Magazine based on a 1944 "incident" between herself and the Cuban actor-musician.

SOME LADY

"I don't ever remember meeting the lady," he said, "and I guess I'm being kind by calling her a lady."

Later, another witness, freelance writer, Frank J. Goldberg, testified that he provided Whisper Magazine with information on the activities of his next door neighbor, Sonny Tufts and "a certain lady."

Under cross - examination by defense attorney Arthur Crowley, Goldberg said he did not think it would do Tufts any harm because similar stories had been printed about him in other publications.

Today's possible prosecution wind-up promises nothing excessively sensational in the way of witnesses or testimony. Deputy District Attorney William Ritzi said:

"We are making every effort to keep this trial clean and we will continue to do so."

FIREWORKS LATER

However, further fireworks are expected to explode all over the place when the defense presents its case which presumably will be backed up by some of the most celebrated, as well as some of the most reluctant witnesses in Hollywood.

British OK Route to Great Lakes Ports

Prospect of Seaway Trip for Mayflower II Is Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — The British owners of the Mayflower II have agreed to a proposal to send the replica of the pilgrim ship up the route of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

All that remains to make the trip a reality, Sen. Potter (R-Mich) reported today, is approval from the group of Americans which will take over ownership of the vessel in November.

Potter said he has received approval of the proposed tour of Great Lakes ports from Warwick Charlton of London, head of the British group which sponsored the ship's recent voyage from England to Plymouth, Mass.

"Commander (Alan) Villers (skipper of the Mayflower II) is personally happy and willing to make the voyage," Charlton wrote Potter. "The directors of the executive company and our sponsors here also are anxious to accept your invitation."

Potter suggested to Charlton last month that the ship travel up the route of the St. Lawrence Seaway to visit Great Lakes ports. The project since has received State Department endorsement.

Charlton said permission has been asked from Plymouth Plantation, the American group that will take over the ship at Plymouth, Mass., Thanksgiving Day. The Mayflower II now is on exhibit in New York Harbor.

TIME UNCERTAIN

The trip into the interior of the continent would be made either in October before ice makes navigation impossible or early next spring.

The St. Lawrence Seaway will not be open for all ocean-going vessels until 1959, but Potter has said it now is deep enough for the Mayflower II.

"May I take this opportunity for saying how grateful we are for your interest in the project," Charlton told Potter.

"I sailed on the Mayflower myself and when we were reaching the end of the voyage we were not a little sad at the thought that such a fine strong ship was going to become a museum piece after only one crossing of the Atlantic.

"It now seems possible that Mayflower will sail again."

The project has been endorsed by Sens. Capehart (R-Ind), Jenner (R-Ind), Thye (R-Minn) and Bricker (R-Ohio). All asked that the ship stop at ports in their states.

Aid Bill Due for New Jolt

Half-Billion Likely to Be Whacked Off Foreign Appropriations

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's foreign aid program seemed likely today to get a new jolt even as Congress completes action on a $3,367,083,000 bill setting aid ceilings for the coming year.

Members of a House Appropriations subcommittee were talking in terms of whacking off another half billion dollars or so when it comes to voting on the appropriations bill to supply the actual cash.

This would amount to a billion-dollar cut below Eisenhower's $3,865,000,000 request, in the face of a special presidential plea to congressional leaders Monday night. House Republican Leader Martin (Mass) predicted that Eisenhower will have to call Congress into special session if it cuts too deep into foreign aid.

The $3,367,083,000 authorization bill, a preliminary to the appropriations, passed the Senate by voice vote last night and is due for House action today.

Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), a floor manager for the measure, said he foresaw no trouble in getting it through the House and on to the White House for Eisenhower's signature.

That would pave the way for the House Appropriations subcommittee, headed by Rep. Passman (D-La), to vote out a money bill.

Area Students Finish College

175 From 94 Towns Have Ended Courses at Central Michigan

Included on the list are Gerald Manville of Lapeer, Gail J. Perkins of Howell, Delos F. McClew of Mariette, with bachelor of science degrees.

Also named from this area are Ruth A. Clark, of Mt. Clemens elementary; Charles N. Race of Royal Oak, secondary; and Edward P. Bilicki of Kingston, bachelor of arts degree.

drew entirely from the trip and declined to give a reason. Sherman seemed highly nervous.

David and Albert Maysles, brothers from Boston, said at the last moment they would not go now but "might fly out and catch the group later."

"There may be some of you," Herter wrote, "who feel that by going to Communist China and debating the position of democracy against communism you may be doing a service in offsetting the propaganda efforts of those less well intentioned.

"If you believe this, you are in error. By traveling to Communist China at this time you will, in the considered view of your government be acting as a willing tool of Communist propaganda . . . "

The Americans were in Moscow for the Communist-sponsored World Youth Festival when they received the invitation from the Communist Chinese government to visit China.

Urge Church Use of Press, Radio, TV

GRAND LEDGE (AP)—Greater use by churches of the mass communication media such as newspapers, radio and television was urged today by a pioneer Seventh Day Adventist radio broadcaster.

H. M. S. Richards of Glendale, Calif., who has conducted a weekly radio religious program for 25 years, spoke at a special ministerial council meeting held in conjunction with the Adventist camp meeting.

"The rapid increase of the world's population poses a mighty challenge to Christians," Richards said. "At the end of this year, there will be 43 million more people on the earth than there were at the beginning of the year. This fantastic increase in the population is a problem that can be met only by greater use of the public press, radio and television."

Vote to Postpone Area Dairy Strike

NEW HUDSON — A scheduled Dairy Farmers strike that periled the Detroit Milk supply has been postponed here. Instead, directors of the Dairy Farmers Co-Operative Association of Michigan voted to explore every possibility of peaceful settlement.

The strike had been scheduled for Wednesday. The decision to postpone the strike was reached at the meeting in New Hudson with 55 officers and members present. The directors voted 16-3 for the delay.

Traffic between India and Russia will increase in the next few years and ships of both countries will share it equally, under present arrangements, India's Government in New Delhi announced.

the postal service was set up as a service to the people."

Rep. Murray (D-Tenn) chairman of the House Post Office Committee, argued that first-class rates had not been raised since 1932. By a 106-56 standing vote, the House defeated an amendment to eliminate the raise on first-class mail.

The increases also included:

Raising airmail cards to 5 cents and post cards to 3 cents.

Boosting second - class mail — mostly advertising material — from 1½ to 2½ cents per piece on the bulk minimum rate.

The House made the third-class increase effective this year instead of in a two-step increase by 1959 and put a limitation on losses incurred in handling second-class mail. Additional revenue from these changes has not been estimated.

The House adopted an amendment by Rep. Rhodes (D-Pa) which provides that if the costs in handling second-class mail of any user exceed by $100,000 the revenues received from the user in one year, the postmaster general shall reset the rates for the remainder of the year so they will equal the costs.

Upstate New York Milk Strike Begins

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A milk strike was on in a broad area of upstate New York today. Violence started even before the strike began.

The Dairy Farmers of America posted pickets at midnight at dairy plants in the Albany area. DFA officials claimed some Teamsters Union truck drivers refused to cross the lines.

The DFA and another splinter group, the Farmers Union, are striking for higher prices for their milk.

Police Help Kenneth, 14, Complete Subway Trip

CHICAGO (AP) — Kenneth Fletcher, 14, of Kalamazoo, completed a somewhat delayed trip on Chicago's subway system with the help of police.

The youth was separated from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fletcher, while boarding a subway train for a trip to Riverview Park last night. The train door closed after his parents boarded the train, leaving Kenneth on the platform.

Plan Further Quiz on Missing Boy

Higgins, a part-time guitar player who was rooming at the Martin home, was questioned by police last night. Clay County Sheriff Joseph Russell said he is considering giving Higgins another lie detector test Saturday.

Higgins was the last person to see Billy Saturday when he accompanied the boy down an alley near his home to look at some dogs.

Russell admitted there was little evidence linking Higgins to the boy's disappearance, but said: "Higgins' story sounds good to everybody but the machine."

The sheriff was referring to a lie detector test Higgins took Monday. Authorities said it indicated "he knows something of the boy's disappearance."

Big Money for Farmer in Watermelon Thieves

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Deputy Sheriff Pat Willis says he's found a farmer, whom he refuses to name, who has made a tidy profit of people who try to swipe watermelons.

The farmer and his hired man post themselves, with shotguns, on each side of his 76-acre patch. When they catch a thief, they offer him a choice of settling out of court for $10 or going to jail.

"He's taken in as much as $150 a night," Willis said, and no one has chosen the jail.

Great Lakes Shipping Has Second Best Year

CLEVELAND (AP)—Shipping on the Great Lakes is having its second best year in history.

Ships moved 79,248,343 tons of iron ore, coal and grain over the lakes through July, a total exceeded only in the record year of 1953.

The total was 10 million tons ahead of last year, when a steel strike slowed shipments of ore.

Tonnages in July were 14,211,819 for iron ore, 4,832,610 for coal, and 1,261,162 for grain.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Can some people smell a rain before it begins?

This is an interesting claim, sometimes made by keen sailors, and is often true.

Since atmospheric pressure usually decreases before a rain, some of the odors of various plants, vegetable life, etc., are likely to be "released" which are kept weighted down during high-pressure periods of good weather.

Therefore, as the pressure decreases prior to a rain (which is not necessarily true in the case of thunderstorms), things seem to smell strongly.

On the ocean, sailors who have an especially sensitive sense of smell, can often detect the change in smell of marine life and seaweed before a rain.

Circuit Court Has Big Docket This Fall

The 139 persons awaiting Circuit Court trial this fall constitute a big criminal docket, but not a record one, Prosecufor Frederick C. Ziem said today.

Four murder cases head the list of jury trials.

Although court dockets have been steadily increasing as the county's population multiplies, the September court session has fewer criminal cases facing it than might have been expected, Ziem believed.

"There was no special jury session called this summer as there was last year," he said. "But in spite of this, there were still more cases awaiting trial last fall than are expected this year."

Perhaps 20 more accused persons will have demanded jury trials by the time the courts convene next month, Ziem figured.

FIRST TO BE TRIED

A Birmingham man accused of stabbing his wife to death will be the first person to be tried, Ziem said.

James D. Shepherd, 36, of 1509 Pierce St., has been held at Oakland County Jail since the slaying of his school-teacher wife, Elizabeth, 42, in their home May 27.

Like all persons accused in Michigan of first-degree murder, Shepherd has not been eligible for freedom under bond while he awaits trial.

Authorities claim Shepherd stabbed his wife after a quarrel in which she threatened to leave him.

Another man accused of first-degree murder already has gone through the long ordeal of trial.

NO VERDICT LAST SPRING

He is Robert Skinner, 54, of 20012 Roselawn, Detroit. A jury was unable to reach a verdict last spring so Skinner has been held this summer to await another trial. He is charged with shotgunning a Royal Oak Township man to death.

Mrs. Rose Sarduk, 48, is charged with the second-degree murder of a lodger at her home, 2435 Texter Rd., Addison Township.

Accused of shooting Martin J. Wojcinski, 48, to death March 23 after he allegedly abused her children verbally, Mrs. Sarduk has been free under $7,500 bond.

A fourth defendent, Elmer F. Martin, 33, of 264 N. Saginaw St. is charged with the second-degree murder of Joseph Compeau, 27, of West Bloomfield Township.

Free under $5,000 bond, Martin is accused of stabbing Compeau to death June 1 at Waterford Township's Cooley Lake road dump.

The fate of these four persons, plus others who face possible prison terms if found guilty, should be decided after the first juries are selected next court session, said Ziem.

Americans who usually order orange juice, bacon and eggs for breakfast, can vary their menu in Bermuda. They can, for example, try Bermuda's traditional Sunday morning repast—a combination of codfish and bananas. The bananas are sliced and fried with the fish. A very tasty dish, the Bermudians claim.

Post Cancels Article on Flier

Magazine Finds Many Discrepancies in Story of Being Lost 54 Days

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Saturday Evening Post has canceled plans to publish an article on the 54-day disappearance of Lt. David Steeves in the High Sierra because of what it called discrepancies in his story.

In addition, the Air Force is making a "thorough but routine" investigation of the 23-year-old pilot's story.

Steeves bailed out of his jet trainer over the California mountains on a routine flight last spring. He was listed as dead, but 54 days later he stumbled out of the rugged mountains and told a detailed story of a harrowing struggle for survivial.

A spokesman for the Saturday Evening Post said that on July 9 the magazine contracted for a story but terminated the agreement Aug. 6 after three weeks of investigation.

Writer Clay Blair Jr. was scheduled to do the story, the spokesman said, adding: "He went out to the Sierras, returned with Steeves to the cabin where Steeves said he survived for three weeks and interviewed Steeves at great length. Blair reported that he had detected numerous discrepancies in Steeves' story."

Steeves now is temporarily assigned to Bolling Air Force Base near Washington while Air Force experts check his story.

The Air Force emphasized that it is routine procedure to investigate and study any man involved in an accident.

When Steeves first returned to civilization, his wife Rita, of Fairfield, Conn., said it was "the happiest day of my life." But this week she said she was considering getting a divorce.

"The decision is hers," commented Steeves, but he added: "It shook me pretty hard."

Bleeding From Wound, Boy Proposes to Girl

Police said he told them he had intended to kill himself. His .22 rifle inflicted only a flesh wound in the left side and a hospital reported today he was in good condition.

After the shooting, young Fielden drove to the home of 15-year-old Patricia Ann Hoover and pressed upon her the engagement ring she had returned Sunday at her mother's insistence.

Hercules R-D-amazing Root Destroyer developed by Hercules Chemical Co.

CLEAR & PREVENT CLOGGED SEWERS

THIRSTY TREE ROOTS ARE WORKING FAST TO CLOG UP YOUR SEWERAGE SYSTEM!
REMOVE DANGEROUS ROOTS QUICKLY, ECONOMICALLY, SAFELY, WITH NEW HERCULES R-D!

FOR ONLY $3.95 2 pound treatment

"Electric rotors failed. This chemical worked." Elyria, Ohio
"Completely effective. My bills for having sewer cleaned twice a year were at least twice what R-D cost." Muskegon, Mich.
"Four different sewers that were completely stopped with roots were opened in from ½ to 6 hours." Somerville, New Jersey
"I had almost complete stoppage. Finest root exterminator I ever used." Mishawaka, Ind.
"Very well pleased with R-D. The line was completely blocked. Will purchase supply to have on hand." Buffalo, N. Y.
"I was about to dig pipe up! What a job never this Hercules R-D is." Muskegon, Mich.
"It is easy to use and R-D worked where other chemicals failed." Irvington, New Jersey
"Like its non-odor qualities and the fact you can handle it without damage to skin and clothing. Besides it's fast and efficient work." Buffalo, N. Y.
"One 5-lb. box of R-D did what 35 lbs. of another brand couldn't do." New Brunswick, N. J.
"One application of R-D has eliminated the trouble with no effect on trees and shrubs on our lot." San Antonio, Texas

ANYONE CAN DO IT—AS EASY AS POURING COFFEE!

All you have to do is pour the R-D crystals from the box into the toilet bowl or directly into the sewer line. There's no mixing or other preparation needed. R-D crystals reach the source of stoppage unaided and release the chemical agent that thoroughly destroys the root in the sewer line.

STAY TROUBLE-FREE • USE HERCULES R-D

HERE'S HOW R-D DESTROYS ROOT—PERMANENTLY!

R-D crystals dissolve. Chemical is absorbed by the root in the pipe. Fast-acting chemical kills the root—but doesn't harm the tree or shrub.
In most cases, R-D travels through the root and destroys it even beyond the sewer line. And that root cannot grow back into the sewer line.

Now is the time to stop the menace of tree root growth in your sewer line. With drier weather ahead thirsty roots, in their desperate search for water, will grow quickly toward the nearest source ... your sewerage system! These roots can block up your pipes, flood your basement and cause poisonous gases in your home. The tree root menace has become so great that a huge city like New York prohibits all but two types of trees on its property.

New Hercules R-D chemical formula is the most economical and effective method ever found for preventing and clearing root stoppages. With Hercules R-D, there's no need for expensive labor, the unsightliness and trouble of digging up lawn and pavement. All you do is pour R-D crystals directly from the box into the toilet bowl. The exclusive R-D chemical agent does the rest.

R-D clears and prevents root-blocked sewers—saves you $50 and more!
One 2 lb. application of Hercules R-D will not only remove these roots permanently, but will prevent them from forming in your sewerage system again! Semi-annual treatment with Hercules R-D will assure you root-free sewer and drain lines.

SO EFFECTIVE...YET SO SAFE! Hercules R-D is an exclusive formula of crystals and fine powders developed soley for root removal. It contains no lye, caustic soda or acid. It kills only the dangerous root ...it cannot harm trees, lawns or shrubs...in fact, it can't even discolor a single leaf. R-D IS HARMLESS TO HANDS OR CLOTHING! Whether your sewerage system has fiber, cast iron, clay or composition pipes ...whether it's a septic tank, cesspool, or city sewerage system, R-D is absolutely safe to use. And it can't harm plumbing fixtures.

Jailbird? War? Wife? Money? You Mean Me?

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Carlos Gutierrez, a Sacramento Bee reporter, hardly recognizes himself now. And all because he visited palm and mind readers for a story.

"One of them told me I am a jailbird," Gutierrez wrote. "Honestly, I do not remember ever being in jail. Another one . . . gave some advice on how to forget the horrors of war. And I don't recall every being in the service.

". . . I was told . . . my boss is a nasty man who hates me . . . that my wife is in love with my best friend . . . I'm sure I've never been married."

"Many women, I heard, show great interest in me. But I was warned that all of them are after my money. Ha!"

Raid on Marilyn Will Cost Pair $105.75 for Door

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A private detective and a deputy marshal must pay $105.75 for the wrecking of the "wrong door" in the now famed apartment raid aimed at Marilyn Monroe.

Mrs. Virginia Blasgen had filed suit in Small Claims Court for the wrecking of her front door Nov. 5, 1954. When members of the raiding party discovered Miss Monroe was not there they left hurriedly. The actress was visiting a girl friend in an apartment next door.

Municipal Judge Harold C. Shepherd yesterday awarded Mrs. Blasgen a default judgment of $100, plus $5.75 court costs. The defendants, who did not appear, were Barney Ruditsky, private investigator, and Deputy County Marshal Jack Stambler, who had loaned Ruditsky his license.

New Hospital Head Deserves Your Help

Pontiac welcomes Mr. CARL I. FLATH.

The appointment of a new chief executive for the Pontiac General Hospital is good news for all residents in this area. With our large West Huron Street institution still in a state of flux, Mr. FLATH's years of training in hospital matters should add assistance to the hospital Board of Trustees.

Completing the hospital promptly and efficiently should be No. 1 on the agenda. Mr. Flath should fit into this program exceptionally well since his last two years have been spent exclusively in this type of work.

Recently he has been a consultant in matters of design of new hospitals, construction, equipment and organization of hospitals and nursing schools.

This background should help our current needs and solve an awkward situation for the betterment of all concerned.

We are confident that Mr. FLATH will be given the wholehearted support needed to straighten out an otherwise tangled situation.

Mr. FLATH has our good wishes in his new and challenging endeavor.

It Was Bound to Happen

The world of crime has added a new dimension.

It seems but a few short years ago when an airplane was used for the first time in committing a crime. Now the skin divers are being blamed for misdemeanors underneath the sea.

This story came from Miami Beach, Florida, but still it just might be true. It reports that skin divers have been cutting fish lines beneath the surface and making off with the fish before fishermen on the Miami Beach City Pier were able to pull in their catches. If true, it is indeed a scurvy trick.

The life of a fisherman is full enough of woe without having this new burden added. Today when a follower of Izaak Walton feels a tug on his line he cannot be certain he has a fish. It may be just another skin diving joker who is playfully jiggling the fisherman's line.

No longer may a fisherman safely keep the fish he has caught on a stringer tied to the side of the boat, thereby leaving the catch in cool water until the end of the day. If he tries that and is not eternally watchful, he may find his whole catch gone to grace the table of some skin diving thief.

Area police have taken to the water; but only to control the operators of motorboats. The next move may have to be a whole posse of skin divers. The Miami Beach police are said to be looking for volunteers.

Battleship on Way Out

Battleships, once the dreadnaughts of naval warfare, are on the way out. Powerful as they are, these huge fighting ships no longer can hold their own against airplanes armed with atomic weapons.

This is but one of the many changes which have affected the armed services as a result of the application of modern science to the Nation's defense. Attention has been called to this phase of our changing navy by the announcement that the Battleship Iowa is to be placed in mothballs. It is one of sixty ships to be removed from active service as part of the Navy's latest economy move.

But one battleship, the Wisconsin, remains on active duty, according to the Navy's announcement. What a change from the day when the battleship was the very heart of naval strength.

Today, the airplane carrier has replaced the battleship, although a few navy men still do not agree. American carriers proved their worth in World War II. Today, with atomic weapons added, the airplane has taken on vast new striking power. No longer can the Navy justify the huge cost of building a new battleship.

And just as the Navy sees modern science bringing about fundamental changes, so does the Air Force face a new era with the development of the guided missile. This is the electronic age, and its surface has just been scratched.

The Man About Town

County's Second Industry Gets Proof of Permanency

Oakland County: Where you hear what lake a family lives on almost as often as on what street.

Recently covered by an editorial on this page, showing that sand and gravel now comprise Oakland County's second industry, next after manufacturing, that fact is further emphasized by a statement just issued by the and used in connection with the sale of a $500,000 bond issue by the Oxford Area Schools.

It says, "The deposits within this area are the only premium gravel deposits in Michigan, and their estimated life is 100 years." The bonds run for 26 years.

George Pincastle

of Birmingham, phones that he might now enter himself for those national bald head honors. He says, "My wife now cuts it and stores it in a thimble."

One of the most unique exhibits in connection with this golden anniversary auto celebration is in the window of

Stapp's Booterie

at 28 East Lawrence St., where is displayed footwear styles covering the last half century.

"After wearing ourselves out on vacation trips for many years," write

Mr. and Mrs. Hjalmar Neilson of Walled Lake, "we remained quietly at home this time and just loafed around for two weeks—and think it was the best vacation we ever had."

Geranium plants are supposed to be one-season bloomers, but of 1907 Warwick Drive, has a mammoth plant that bloomed last winter, and now bursts forth with 36 flowers.

I like the letter with an Oxford postmark, and signed

"A Farming Optimist,"

which says, "Despite the chronic knockers, this is a good year for the farmers. Even the weatherman generally cooperated during harvest time."

That new highway slogan is better than the old one. It is Quiet! Maybe They'll Go Away . . .

David Lawrence Says:

Unwise for Students to Visit China

WASHINGTON—Red China and Soviet Russia have conspired to utilize a group of American students in an attempt to humiliate the United States before the world.

LAWRENCE

The inviting of about 50 Americans who have been attending the Youth Festival in Moscow to go now to Red China is a palpable effort to embarrass the United States government.

Recognizing the maneuver as a propaganda stunt, the acting secretary of state, Christian A. Herter, has issued a seriously worded warning to the Americans in Moscow urging them not to act "as a willing tool of Communist propaganda."

The issue as put up to the Americans, in effect, is this: do you stand with your own government and your own country, of which you are a citizen, or do you stand with the Communists?

The letter which acting Secretary Herter transmitted to the American embassy in Moscow, to be delivered to the Americans who have been considering the invitation to go to Red China, is explicit and to the point. It says in part:

A SERIOUS MATTER

"This letter is addressed only to those citizens of the United States who are contemplating such travel to Communist China . . .

"For you to determine to travel to Communist China in violation of the declared policy of your government is a serious matter, not to be undertaken lightly. By so doing, you will be violating the restriction plainly stamped in your passport.

"If you persist in violating this restriction, at the first possible opportunity your passport will be marked valid only for travel for direct return to the United States and your passport will be taken up when you do so return. In the event that you make application for a passport at a later date, your wilful violation of passport restrictions will be duly considered in connection with such application.

"Your attention is further called to the fact that travel to and in Communist China at this time may well involve violation of regulations issued and enforced under the trading with the enemy act, which constitutes a criminal offense under our law. . . .

"By traveling to Communist China at this time you will, in the considered view of your government, be acting as a willing tool of Communist propaganda intended, wherever possible, to subvert the foreign policy and the best interests of the United States, of which you are a citizen."

It will seem strange to many people in America that it should have been necessary for the Department of State to make such an appeal to any citizens of the United States.

But Lincoln White, press officer of the department, in releasing the text of the Herter letter, said it is "well known that certain of these people (delegates), if not admitted Communists, are very close to the line."

While some of the delegates may be ideologically sympathetic to communism as a philosophy, there were a few others who didn't hesitate to argue in Moscow for the American viewpoint.

There has lately been in America an agitation by many press organizations to persuade the Department of State to lift its ban on travel in Red China to that American newsmen might enter that country.

The State Department has considered the idea of modifying slightly the restrictions, and perhaps this move has encouraged other groups to believe that the United States is ready to change its policy toward all citizens who may wish to go to Red China.

VIOLATE A PRINCIPLE

The Department of State, however, now announces emphatically why it is opposed in principle to all travel by American citizens in Red China, and says:

"Generally speaking, it is not consistent with the policy of the United States, as approved by the President, that citizens of the United States travel to the areas of China under Communist control.

"There are many reasons for this, and they are cumulative. They include the non-recognition of the regime; the existence of a quasi-state of war and the continued application of the trading with the enemy act; the refusal of Communist China to renounce the use of force; and the illegal jailing of Americans already in China despite promises to let them out."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Diabetics Use B Vitamins to Reduce Need of Insulin

One group of diabetics who were able to keep nearly or quite sugar-free with a daily dose of insulin, began supplementing their diet with an optimal daily ration of vitamin B complex and presently found they needed 10 to 20 units less insulin a day to keep them sugar-free.

DR. BRADY

Anyway, I have contended for many years that the practice of supplementing the restricted diet with a good daily ration of B complex can do no harm.

If you have diabetes or if you are a potential diabetic, please remember: (1) I say a good daily ration of vitamin B complex to supplement your diet can do no harm; (2) some authorities have found it reduces the insulin requirement; and (3) one swallow maketh not summer.

"Dear Doctor: Taking B complex with vitamin C, two tablets three times a day for the past two months. I still take one shot of insulin a day. But before taking the B complex, I was so tired at night I couldn't make out my daily report and my selling job was getting me down." Signed — —.

DIET OFTEN SUFFICIENT

At least half of all diabetics can keep sugar-free by adhering to reasonably restricted diet without insulin.

A great many diabetics get along well with only two or three doses of insulin a week.

Every diabetic or potential diabetic should learn how to test the urine for glucose (sugar). The least expensive method is described in Little Lesson 23, Training for Diabetes (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope).

One who is a potential diabetic (that is, has inherited the tendency) should abstain from two foods which yield most of the calories in the every-day diet of most Americans — refined white sugar and refined white flour.

Saccharin or sucaryl is a sweetener to use instead of sugar. I'm a coffee lover, but the coffee must be sweetned. A quarter-grain saccharin tablet or a shake of sucaryl is as sweetening as a teaspoonful of sugar.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Mathematician's Solution Would End Police Muddle

I can solve that Police Chief muddle very easily. We have four contestants: the Chief, the City Manager, the Police Force and the Trial Board. Let's call all members of the police force Super Chiefs. Then when an important matter comes up, they can have a meeting, take a vote and advise (A) — the Chief; (B) — the Trial Board; (C) — the City Manager just what's what. If the vote of the many Super Chiefs ever ends in a tie, they can let the firemen take a ballot to see who wins.

'People Overlook This Factor'

There is one factor that a lot of people have overlooked in urging Federal money to alleviate the classroom shortage. The money would be given on a temporary basis only. But once local palms have been greased by Uncle Sam, other "emergencies" are always discovered to keep the money flowing from Washington.

A lady wrote to say the flower boxes in front of our Courthouse looked nice. I agree with her, but I'd like to know why nothing is being done about the public rest rooms in the rear. Having them remodeled is something I'd really appreciate. If they're not to be used, for goodness sake, get rid of them.

Wife Suggests New Crusade

It would be a good idea to start a "Be Good to Husbands" crusade, not just a week, but permanently. A kind word instead of a dirty look will return a hundredfold. This might work so well we wouldn't need a "Be Kind to Wives" campaign.

Nobody knows better than you what will please your husband. If you don't know, ask him. He'll love you for it. If he's overworked and tired, let him alone. Don't have jobs piled so high he'll never get them done. Give him one at a time and with a smile, and offer to help. If he has a heart attack tomorrow, you'll have less regrets.

Let him know you're on his side all the way. This will be a good start towards being kind to everybody. Let's try it.

Wants to Prohibit Ice Cream Truck

I have nothing against ice cream vendors and I agree they have to make a living, too. But you've probably read that another child has been hurt by an ice cream truck. I'm sure to be criticized, but I believe such trucks are a nuisance. The difference between these and other trucks is obvious.

When little children hear the tinkle of the bell, they become excited and forget all warnings and caution and run out to the road to meet the truck. They come from all directions and it's impossible for the driver to see all of them at once. It's understandable that once in a while a little child might be hit. I wouldn't want it to be mine, would you?

In the recent case, the mother was looking right at the child and watching her, but before anyone could say a word, she had stopped playing and darted into the street. We can't and shouldn't stop business trucks from coming down our streets, but we should stop one that is so potentially dangerous. Let's have opinions of more parents.

'Farm Machinery Presents Hazard'

For quite some time I have observed careless operations of farm machinery on highways. The other night we were driving after dark, and all at once we were practically on top of some huge piece of farm equipment being pulled by a tractor driven by a small boy.

There were no lights on any of the machinery. Fortunately we had good brakes.

After passing this successfully, we had gone only a short way when we met another outfit the same as the first, the only difference being a man driving rather than a boy. I suppose the boy was his son.

He couldn't have had any regard for the life of people on the road or for his son's. Children should not be allowed to be in control of tons of equipment. They create just as much hazard as if they were driving cars. Measures should be taken to alleviate such conditions.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Explains Coronary Thrombosis

Helen wants to know exactly what a coronary thrombosis is. Since that is one of the chief causes of death nowadays, better study this case. Over 800,000 Americans died of heart trouble and blood vessel damage last year compared with only 250,000 of cancer. So get better acquainted with your human motor (heart). "Forewarned is forearmed."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-369: Helen P., aged 39, is the wife of Henry, whom I described earlier this week as having a heart complex.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, so many people have heart attacks," she began. "And I find that many of them die from what doctors call a coronary thrombosis.

"Many of my educated friends use that phrase glibly, but I have asked several to explain it to me, and none has been able to do so.

"Could you please tell me in simple words just what a coronary thrombosis is and what causes it?"

CORONARY THROMBOSIS

Most of your readers have probably seen stalagmites and stalactites in caves.

These are rock-like icicles that rise from the floor of caverns or hang down from the ceiling.

You realize that they are formed because of the dripping of water. And that water contained various chemicals, like calcium iron, which have formed those stone icicles.

Well, a thrombosis develops in a similar manner. The artery forms a tunnel, like the cave.

When its walls thicken, little lumps like stalactites and stalagmites form on the inner lining (hardening of the arteries).

And when a stalagmite reaches up to touch the stalactite from the other side, a dam may form. The blood vessel is blocked off. And that's what is meant by a coronary thrombosis. It's a plugging of an artery.

There are two coronary arteries which carry the blood to the heart's muscle fibers. These coronary arteris fan out like the branches of a tree.

And the farther outward the thrombosis occurs, the smaller the area of the heart wall that will be deprived of blood by this dam.

If the plugging occurs almost at the very end, the victim may suddenly feel somewhat sick. Cold sweat may stand out on his forehead. He may want to lie down.

But he may have no appreciable pain and not even think anything is wrong with his heart.

"I'm a little sick at my stomach," he may say. "I believe I have a little indigestion."

HEART SYMPTOMS

If the dam (thrombosis) occurs nearer the figurative tree trunk, then the heart breaks its rhythm and oxygen hunger occurs. The victim may tear at his collar and want the windows open.

"I'm short of breath. Give me air," he explains.

This is when a little fast deep breathing may be a life saver. For oxygen applied in the few minutes following the actual thrombosis, may save your life.

Our fire trucks now carry water along with them for they, too, have found that a barrel of water in the first minute after the fire starts, may be better than a dozen tankfuls 10 minutes later.

So it is with heart attacks. Get your oxygen at once by indulging in fast deep breathing, for this method gives your laboring heart the extra oxygen it needs while trying to readjust to the crisis.

Angina pectoris is another heart condition wherein the vessels get smaller because of nervous tension.

For arteries have little circular muscles wrapped around them. When these muscles clamp down, as during apprehension, the vessels grow smaller.

Then less blood can get through them, so pain develops in the heart muscle. This pain is due to oxygen hunger.

Certain drugs will make the arteries enlarge and thus carry a bigger volume. But fast deep breathing helps, too.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Revolt in Oman Nearly Ended

Capture of Two More Rebel-Held Towns Puts Sultan in Control

MANAMA, Bahrain (UP) — The once-flaring revolt in Muscat and Oman was said by the British to have been reduced to a flicker today after two more rebel-held towns yielded to the British-led forces of the ruling Sultan.

British spokesmen said the rebellion of Imam Ghaleb bin Ali came to a virtual end as the Sultan's scarlet banners were raised over the holdout towns of Tanuf and Bakhla.

The back of the four-week-old rebellion was broken Sunday when the British took the fortress town of Firq after a brief predawn skirmish. The turn of events put the imam to flight and his headquarters city of Nizwa quickly capitulated.

"After Firq was overcome there was nothing left," Sir Bernard Burrows, British political resident in Bahrain, told reporters.

Burrows said most villagers who had supported the imam's drive to set up an independent sultanate have given up.

Sam Pope Brewer, New York Times correspondent reporting for the American press, said Oman's strongest tribal ruler, Sheik Suleiman bin Hamyar, was effectively silenced yesterday when Tanuf and Bakhla, which form the nucleus of his stronghold, gave up without a struggle.

Counter-Spy Morros Warns Free Nations

'Russian Plot to Rule World Stronger Than You Know'

By JOSEPH R. MARSHALL

NEW YORK (INS) — Noted showman Boris Morros gave a chilling glimpse today of his more than 10 years as an American counter-spy in Soviet espionage, and warned that the Russian plot against the Free World "is far more strongly organized" than is generally known.

The pudgy, 62-year-old film and Broadway producer, meeting reporters at the U. S. Courthouse in New York, said he now could tell about his dangerous counter-spy activities because his usefulness to the American government in that role has ended.

Morros, who has won high praise from federal authorities for undercover work carried out at the risk of his life, said this phase of his career "ended when my testimony was considered necessary to the indictment of Jack and Myra Soble, and George and Jane Foster Zlatovski, as spies for the Soviet Union."

Myra Soble, who pleaded guilty shortly after her arrest with her "spy mastermind" husband early this year, was sentenced last week to a prison term of five and one-half years. Sentenced with her was a third member of the trio, Jacob Albam. Jack Soble's sentencing is set for Sept. 18.

Zlatovski, one-time U. S. Army intelligence agent, and his wife, Jane, former employe of the cloak-and-dagger office of strategic services, have denied they were spies and both are now living in Paris ready to fight extradition.

From 1945, Morros worked with Soviet spies, and at the same time with representatives of the FBI, as he gathered the evidence to put the Sobles and others like them out of business.

His saga began when he brought his father to this country and the Russians began requesting him to become an active agent. He went to the FBI and they asked him to become a counter-spy.

His work ended, long after visits to Moscow and many contacts with Soviet agents, on Jan. 19 this year. He received a cable stating simply, "Cinerama," the code for "Come home at once. Your life is in danger."

A KREMLIN PLOT

Morros charged that the men in the Kremlin are directing a plot that "goes beyond Communism."

"They are for world slavism," he said, "on a scale more ambitious than Hitler's fanatical dreams of world conquest."

Morros told of going to Moscow on a trip arranged by the Sobles in 1950.

He said the chief of the GPU, the Soviet secret police, met him at a "mysterious address" because "They are more careful in Moscow where they meet than anywhere in Europe or the United States."

The secret police chief he met was named Fedotov, he said, and the meeting was an expression of confidence in him. Those days in Moscow Morros called the most tense of his long career.

AFRAID TO SLEEP

"I don't think I slept two hours in Moscow when I was there," Morros said. He was in the Soviet capital for 21 days, and on 19 of them he attended shows.

"I would mix with the crowds," he said. "People I met asked me questions. 'Why did you (Americans) assassinate Roosevelt,' was one of them. They positively believe everything they are told."

Morros said that, when he got back to Western Europe, "I took a deep breath . . . the only reason I am still alive is that I behaved properly."

In a formal statement, the counter-spy told how he went to work for the Russians and the FBI.

STARTED IN 1935

"While my work for the FBI actually commenced in 1945, coincidentally with my services as a 'Russian agent,' my contacts with the Soviet go back to 1935 when I went to Russia to see my very-ill mother.

"I told my aged father at the time that if anything happened to my mother I would try to bring him to America to live with me. My father is now 98 years old and resides in California.

"After my mother's death, I got in touch with Soviet diplomatic representatives here and started my one-man campaign to bring my father to this country. It was finally arranged and he came, the sole passenger on a liberty ship that crossed the Pacific from Vladivostok. The month was January, 1943.

RUSSIAN OVERTURES

"From the time of my father's arrival, overtures from the Russians started and developed to such a phase that in 1945 they asked me outright to become an active agent for them.

"I went straight to the FBI and reported what had happened. I was told to agree to the Russian proposals and make my contacts, which I did."

Morros added, "I know from personal information and experience that Soviet espionage has made considerable infiltration in this country. Many of the agents working for Russia are important people, financially independent and often held in high esteem.

"Many of the Soviet's most active workers in this country don't come from the rank-and-file nor the under-privileged.

"They are people who have the kind of contacts which will be useful to the Soviets, and they are being paid to do their jobs of treason to the United States."

Newspaper Dean Misses Day at Desk

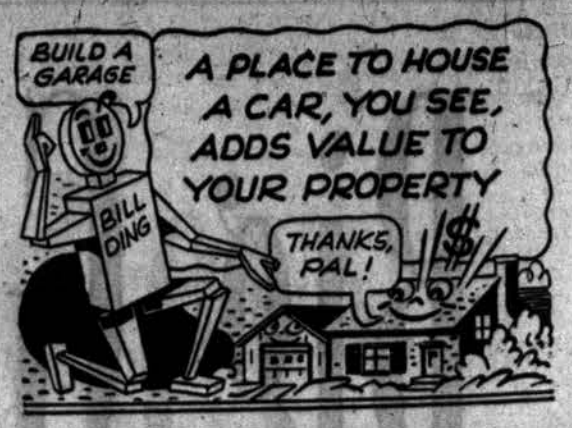

BATH, Maine (AP) — Publisher Frank B. Nichols, 89, who seldom misses even a day at his desk, had to be away today—the 60th anniversary of his purchase of the Bath Daily Times.

The dean of Maine newspapermen was in a Waterville hospital, where cataracts were removed from his eyes yesterday.

The anniversary brought dozens of congratulatory messages—one of them from President Eisenhower.

Nichols, one of the few living charter members of The Associated Press, will be off the job for about 10 days.

It's almost 40 years since ill health has kept the publisher from his office, says Paul K. Niven, his son-in-law and editor of Nichols' weekly Brunswick Record.

Israeli Sailor-Writer Released by Egyptians

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Egyptians today released an Israeli sailor-writer they took off the Danish freighter Birgitte Toft July 22 as she sailed through the Suez Canal en route to Israel's port of Haifa.

The crewman, Ralph Eylon, was sent across the Gaza Strip border this morning, it was announced. Egyptian authorities took Eylon off the ship, confiscated his camera and turned him over to Egypt's intelligence department on grounds they were protecting "the security of the state."

Scull, Farmington, and Littleton Washington, Ferndale, all for driving while licenses was suspended.

Military Polio Shots on Voluntary Basis

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Defense Department states it will continue to give anti-polio shots to servicemen on a voluntary basis.

A spokesman for the Health and Medical Division of the department said the number of cases in all three services has remained very low and the demand for anti-polio shots has not been too great.

A question had been raised as to whether anti-polio shots should be made mandatory, but the Defense Department concluded that most servicemen's children have received shots.

The spokesman added that a nationwide publicity campaign demonstrating the effectiveness of the Salk vaccine has spurred demands by servicemen to receive their shots.

Money Mounts in Pot-O-Gold to $2,100

Another $100 added to the pot puts the Pot-O-Gold prize money at the $2,100 mark. Unless you don't mind someone getting in ahead of you to collect the loot, better get started right now on the new puzzle below.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. Entries must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securly to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 63 must bear a Tuesday, Aug. 20 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Keeps Him Out of Trouble

Family Restrains Doria

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

If it weren't for his wife and four children, there's no telling how many labor movement hassles Anthony Doria would be in today.

For Doria, an impassioned admirer of New York gangster Johnny Dio, has nothing but contempt for AFL-CIO President George Meany and Ladies Garment Workers leader David Dubinsky, who have similar feeling for Dio.

But, he said, when the "pressure started affecting my family, I gave up."

Doria resigned last March as secretary-treasurer of the Allied Industrial Workers of America, formerly the AFL-United Auto Workers Union. It was in this capacity that he befriended Dio — for he said he was certain that the convicted extortionist was "sincere."

"If I had it to do over again, I would," Doria said in one of his calmer moments of testimony before the Senate committee investigating labor-management racketeering.

CHEERFUL SORT

A cheerful sort when he isn't under cross-examination -- and sometimes even when he is—Doria spoke proudly of his wife of 14 years and their four children, aged four, six, eight and eleven.

"Don't cross-examine me about why there were three years between the last two," he quipped to a newsman after a day of testimony marked by shouted exchanges with senators and committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy when they challenged his fast-spoken pleas of virtue.

The neatly-dressed, gray-black haired witness, son of an Illinois coal miner, has been in the union movement half of his 48 years. He packs a dynamism in his squat five-foot-seven 232-pound frame which is typified in the explosive outbursts of words which he spouts when his ire is aroused.

An unkind reference to Dio, or to himself, or to what has happened to his union, will bring on this reaction.

"The union was broke when I joined it and broke six months after I left," was his retort to one unfavorable allusion by the committee.

NOT BROKE

Doria, however, does not pretend to be broke. He is living comfortably with his family in their newly found serenity at Encino, Calif., and is part-owner of a copper-lead-zinc-gold-silver mining venture in Arizona. This isn't his first business enterprise, since he invested in the mining venture partly with funds obtained in real estate in Milwaukee.

He reminded the committee: "I'm not testifying as someone from labor any more. I'm testifying as a representative of industry."

Knowland Gains in Ike's Favor

Civil Rights Strategy Is Boosting Californian's White House Rating

WASHINGTON (INS) — A high ranking presidential adviser disclosed Tuesday that President Eisenhower, as a result of recent civil rights strategy meetings, has developed a "high admiration and affection" for Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland.

The new-born "friendship" could have significant political repercussions in the California gubernatorial election next year and the all-important presidential nominating race in 1960.

Until the civil rights conference began, the President was obviously cool to a possible attempt by Knowland to succeed him in the White House.

It was generally conceded that Ike, in that event, would throw his powerful support to Vice President Nixon. Since Knowland and Nixon are both Californians, and practical politics dictates that a state can have only one candidate on a presidential slate, this could automatically remove Knowland as a vice presidential possibility, as well.

An informant said that Ike, despite his "vastly increased respect" for Knowland, is still unwilling "at this point" to accept him as a White House successor, because of his "right wing stand on foreign relations."

He said the President has indicated, however, that he would now look favorably on Knowland's probable candidacy for governor of California next year. Knowland has announced his resolve to retire from the Senate at the close of his present term in 1958.

Insiders insist that Knowland intends to seek the governorship as a first step to the White House.

'Roll Your Own' Smokers Buy Machines

MUSKEGON (AP) — Hand-operated cigarette making machines, automation's answer for "roll your own" devotees, appear to be gaining favor again in parts of Michigan.

Muskegon tobacco merchants report that hundreds of the devices are being sold along with packaged tobacco and cigarette paper in this port city.

Sidney Bush, manager of the Francis Jirech Co., which wholesales smokers' supplies, says he hasn't seen anything like it since depression days of the early 30s.

"We've sold about 1,500 roll-your-own machines in the past six weeks and the trend seems to be growing," he declares.

In the depression years a little cloth package of tobacco, along with papers for "the makings," was standard requirement for many cigarette smokers.

Dealers believed the resurging interest in the roll your own machines results from a recent increase in the price of "tailor-made" cigarettes.

Charles Yokubonus, salesman for Port City Candy and Tobacco Co., said "a few years ago these machines were almost obsolete. We've sold more in the past 30 days than in the past five years."

Paul Adkins, another Muskegon smokers' supplies retailer, said a roll your own kit, including the tobacco, sells for about 75 cents. Adkins estimates an 11-cent package of tobacco will produce the equivalent of two or three packages of the tailor-make cigarettes.

the role of a killer. He was very good in "The Mountain" with Spencer Tracy, in which he played a man without a conscience, although in real life he looks anything but a villain.

The new No. 1 girl for the lead in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" is Claire Bloom, who makes no secret of the fact that she's conducting her own campaign to get the role in the Tennessee Williams play.

The bosses at MGM are impressed with Claire's work in "The Brothers Karamazov" and since Elizabeth Taylor is out of the picture I wouldn't be surprised to see Claire get it.

"Cat" starts in the fall and Elizabeth, in bowing out, said that she had already made plans to accompany Michael Todd to Spain for "Don Quixote" in which she has the lead. She probably won't be well enough to go anywhere for a little while since she is still in the Harkness Pavilion Hospital.

Bill Powell came dressed in rompers to the barbecue Fieldsie Lang gave to celebrate Walter's birthday. "Walter gets younger every year so I thought I'd wear my play clothes," said Bill.

He brought a beautifully wrapped basket which contained — now listen! canned grasshoppers, fried worms, pickled baby bees, caterpillars, broiled sparrow. This gag goes on year after year between Bill and Walter.

There were only about eight at the Lang party and it was the first steak barbecue given in the new pool house which has a beautiful Japanese decor. Mousie Powell wore gold Capri pants, and the rest of girls sweaters and skirts.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: The village prophets are saying that Buddy Bregman and Anne Francis will wed as soon as Buddy is free.

Hal Boyle Says:

Escaping From Sharks Isn't Very Difficult

NEW YORK (AP)—Most swimmers who encounter a shark merely worry how to escape him. A few brave souls, however, have a wild desire to ride him bareback.

In both cases John Tassos, a New York advertising executive and authority on skin diving, has the answer. He is the author of "The Underwater World," a guide for sportsmen who want to spear fish, explore wrecks or merely pick up shells from the floor of the sea.

How can a swimmer escape if he encounters a shark or barracuda near shore?

"The chances are, if you meet one of these big fish near shore, he is well fed and merely curious at seeing you," said Tassos.

"The main thing to do is to avoid irritating him. How do you keep him calm? By staying calm yourself. The simplest thing to do is keep your eyes on him, and swim toward shore, slowly and easily.

"Remember he is in his home and you are the stranger and intruder in his house.

"Above all, don't panic. If you thresh the water violently trying to get away, you may excite him and cause him to attack.

"If a barracuda insists on coming too close, you can turn and swim toward him and he'll go away—999,999 times out of a million.

"If a shark comes too close, put your head under water and yell as loud as you can, 'Go away, you bum! Get lost!' he can't hear you, but he can feel the vibrations. If he still comes on, hit him on the nose, which is very sensitive because his brain is right behind it. Usually, then, he'll leave. If he comes back, hit him on the nose again.

"But don't panic and start floundering toward shore. The shark and barracuda are among the swiftest fish in the sea. You can't outswim them—you have to outthink them."

Tassos has two other tips for the average swimmer.

"Stay close to shore. The fish in deep water are hungrier and more likely to attack. Don't venture into deep water unless you carry a spear and have one or more other spearmen with you for mutual protection.

However, it is possible to ride a shark bareback and come home alive. Tassos is one of a number of veteran skin divers who enjoy this hobby, now limitedly popular in the Bahamas.

Flies Wreck Your Sleep? Train Some Ichneumon

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Bothered by sorties of common houseflies zooming down and strafing you while you sleep?

If you are — and who isn't at this time of year? — You apparently don't have your own air force of Ichneumon flies to repel the attackers. Studies of the relatively unknown pest-hating Ichneumon are now being conducted at the University of Michigan.

The Ichneumon, explains U-M researcher Henry K. Townes Jr., seldom annoy humans while feasting on pesky insects.

"One reason people haven't been concerned with these flies, even though they flit around everywhere, is because they are nice little fellows who relish attacking certain pests and then mind their own business," says Townes.

About the only nuisance escaping the wrathful sting of the Ichneumon is the mosquito, says Townes.

"Those varmints lay their eggs on water," he explains.

The Ichneumon isn't amphibious although it likes moist places.

In an insect battle the Ichneumon slaughters its enemies by stinging them and leaving its eggs to the damage. The young are parasites.

Townes has been collecting various species of the Ichneumon from museums throughout the United States and Canada since starting his project last year. He now has catalogued more than 3,000 different types.

The project is scheduled to last another four years under a grant from the Dow Chemical Co. of Midland. By the time it is completed, Townes hopes to have compiled enough data to scientifically deploy "man's ally" in the battle against insects.

Reds Achieve Guiana Victory

But Appointing Power of British Governor Can Block Control Efforts

By LARRY ALLEN

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—The Communists for the second time in four years apparently have won an election victory in British Guiana. But they were left without a chance of again establishing a Red government in Britain's South American colonial possession.

British Gov. Sir Patrick Renison is empowered to appoint enough men to the colony's Legislature to block any Red control.

Cheddi Jagan's Red-dominated Peoples Progressive party last night had captured six seats and another of the 14 elective seats at stake seemed assured. His Chicago-born wife Janet held a big lead unlikely to be overcome by two Democratic opponents. Jagan is a dentist of East Indian origin.

Anti-Communist Negro lawyer Linden Forbes Burnham and his candidates won Georgetown's three seats but their strength in other districts faded as East Indians, who make up nearly half the colony's population, unleashed an avalanche of votes for the Jaganites.

Of the four other seats, one was won by the minor United Democratic party and it was expected to get one more. Count of votes in the remaining two was reported favoring the Burnhamites, but an upset by the Jaganites was not excluded.

Two Teenage Brothers Bicycle 374 Miles for $15

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Two teenage brothers from Omaha, Neb., say they are through with bicycles after pedaling 54 hours from their home to Tulsa to win a $15 bet with their grandmother.

"I'll never do it again," said John Sanko, 17, after completing the trip yesterday. He gave his bike to his Tulsa cousins. Frank Sanko, 15, was too tired to sleep.

"We were thirsty all the time," said Frank of the 374-mile trip. Then he added that expenses for the trip ran to $3.50—mostly for soda pop.

The boys will return by automobile.

ROME (INS) — Singer Mario Lanza has fallen "madly" in love with Italy, the land of his parents.

The tenor, slimmed down to a trim 200 pounds and full of new-found zest, bubbled with enthusiasm over Italy, Italians and all the people on the set of his new motion picture, being filmed in Rome.

"I am madly in love with the country," he said. "It is a beautiful, wonderful place and the people are all heart and imagination."

He waved his arms and his deep, dark eyes flashed with excitement as he described his feelings in being in Italy.

"I feel stimulated, jet-propelled. This is the fulfillment of a long dream," he said.

"For years I had dreamed of coming to Italy to see and know its people and to make a film. And when the opportunity came we quickly packed and — here we are!"

Lanza was standing in a tuxedo shirt and black tie, but no pants, during an interview in his private dressing room.

"It's 135 degrees under those lights," he explained, "and your trousers stick to your legs. When you sit down they crease terribly. So I pull them off after each scene."

The interview was suspended a few minutes later as Lanza was recalled to do one of the final scenes of his film, called "The Seven Hills of Rome."

Back in his dressing room Lanza flung open the windows looking towards Monte Mario, Rome's highest hill, saying:

"Every evening at this time there is a wonderful breeze from the country. Feel it," he said, inviting this correspondent to draw in the cool air—cooler still after 35 minutes under the arc lights.

Lanza's pretty wife, Betty, said he has been working so much on the film that they have not seen much of Rome or Italy. She indicated they plan on major trips after he concludes the film.

Asked how long he intends to remain in Italy, Lanza replied:

"Well, I have taken a two-year lease on the Villa Badoglio where we are now living."

The sumptuous villa, situated in a fashionable section of Rome, was formerly tenanted by Marshal Badoglio who negotiated Italy's surrender at the close of World War II.

DAMASCUS (AP) — Three American Embassy officials were under orders to get out of Syria today following Syrian charges that the United States had plotted to overthrow the government of President Shukri Kuwatly.

A Foreign Office spokesman announced last night the three officials had been tagged persona non grata (unwelcome) and that their immediate recall had been asked.

The three Americans were identified as Lt. Col. Robert W. Malloy, military attache; Howard E. Stone, second secretary for political affairs; and Vice Consul Francis Getton.

Robert A. Lincoln, embassy press attache, announced the three men would leave Syria today and added:

"The American Embassy can accept the Syrian request only under protest since the allegations against the three gentlemen are fabrications."

JACKSON (AP) — A convict at Southern Michigan Prison is scheduled to walk out Friday with a parole to pursue a career he began behind the prison walls.

Although he never has been inside a newspaper office, Don Lowry is going to a job as rewrite man on a Vancouver, B.C., newspaper.

He never had written for publication until he arrived at Southern Michigan Prison three years and four months ago to serve 3 to 14 years for check forgery.

Shortly after arrival, he began contributing book reviews to The Spectator, the prison's weekly newspaper. He later became a reporter and then was named editor, a post he held 18 months.

Under his hand The Spectator, the "Hometown newspaper" for more than 5,000 prisoners, was expanded from four to ten pages.

Lowry developed into a prolific writer. Dwelling mainly on prison life, he turned out many feature articles for newspapers and magazines. At the time he was notified of his parole he was sending out an average of three articles a week for outside publications.

Lowry was sentenced from Detroit in April 1954 for cashing a $50 forged check.

Prior to his arrest in Detroit, Lowry served five terms in Canada for check forgery. They ranged from 3 to 15 months.

A native of Windsor, Ont., the 42-year-old Lowry will join his 10-year-old daughter in Vancouver. She has been living with friends during his confinement.

WASHINGTON — Legend has it that, because Mrs. William McKinley didn't like the picture of her husband on 1,625,000 postal cards printed in 1902, the Postmaster General ordered them all destroyed.

But a box of the rejected cards was somehow sold to a New York garbage-disposal firm, which had its name and address printed on them.

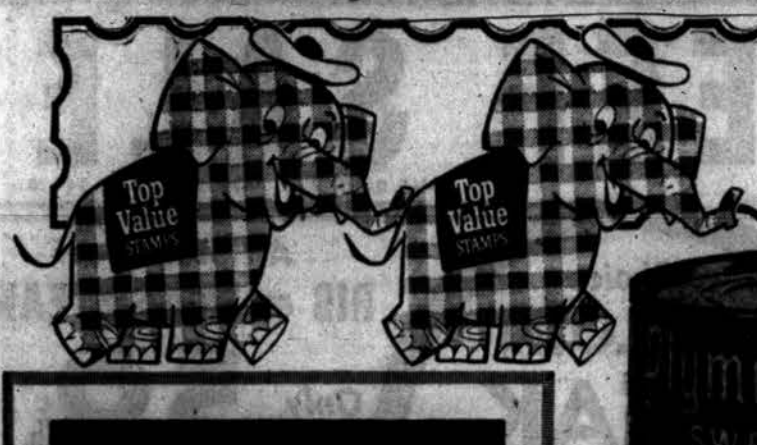

Most of them were recovered by a postal official sent from Washington, but a few reached the hands of collectors. These "garbage cards," as they are now known, are worth $300 each.

There is no substantiation of the Mrs. McKinley story. Records show the cards were destroyed because they had not been printed well on the high-speed presses then coming into use.

Pontiac Men Will Visit Fort Knox

Five Pontiac men will be among a party of 18 civic and press representatives from the Detroit Metropolitan Area flying to Fort Knox in Kentucky—to inspect army reserve units in action.

The party will leave for Fort Knox Thursday morning from the Grosse Ile Naval Air Station and return Frday evenng.

Attendng from Pontiac will be A. A. Shantz, general manager of the Federal Government Sales Division, General Motors Truck Div.; D. P. Stewart, director of government relations, Pontiac Motor Div.; Howard O. Powers, president of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce; John W. Hirlinger, manager of the C. of C.; and Donald O. Newman, Pontiac Press composing room foreman.

The two day trip, designated as an "Orientation Air Newslift," was arranged by Brig. Gen. L. S. Bork, Chief of the U.S. Army Michigan Military District, to allow the press and civic officials to watch Michigan reserve units in training.

Among the reserve units to draw special attention from the delegation will be the 743rd Tank Battalion, which is made up of troops from the Detroit metropolitan area.

Included in the itinerary will be special demonstrations of what the Army reserves will be able to do in the event of a future conflict.

The delegation will visit the Armor School, where officers and non-coms receive specialized tank training, and the Armor Training Center, where basic armor instruction is given recruits.

The local delegation will also participate in the firing of 90 mm. tanks, and will learn how to fire the infantryman's basic weapon—the M-1 rifle.. They will also be taken up for spins in helicopter.

Friday afternoon the delegation will lunch in the field with the 743rd Tank Bn.

Free time will be provided the delegation so that they may tour the Patton Museum on post, which houses weapons of World War II and the Korean War, and the vehicle in which Gen. George Patton died in an accident.

Award for Decrease

DETROIT (AP) — Police Inspector Francis E. Davey says there was a 14.4 per cent decrease in juvenile crime in Detroit in the first six months of 1957, compared with the same 1956 period. As a reward 5,000 free tickets are being passed out to youngsters for the Detroit - Chicago baseball game Sept. 3.

Asks Vaccine for Police

DETROIT (AP) — Police Commissioner Edward Piggins has requested the police department's physician to make arrangements to vaccinate his 4,500-man force against Asiatic flu before winter arrives.

To Leave for Training

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Fifth Infantry Battalion of the Marine Corps Reserve will leave Saturday for 15 days of training at the Naval Amphibious Base at Norfolk, Va.

4 of Every 5 Prisoners on Parole Make Good

WASHINGTON (INS) — The U.S. Parole Board says four out of every five former federal prisoners on parole made good during the first six months of this year.

In a report on the first half of 1957, Board Chairman George J. Reed said there were 2,269 paroles granted and 451 parole violations. A total of 9,525 ex-prisoners were on parole.

Reed said about the same "success rate" has been set by offenders under age 22 who are given indefinite sentences. Of the 1,588 committed since the program started four years ago, 600 have been released on parole and 125 have violated their paroles.

Plan Water Carnival

TAWAS (AP) — Tawas and East Tawas are planning a two-day water carnival on Tawas Bay Aug. 24-25. Water skiing and boat racing will be among features.

Woman, Baby Killed in Head-On Collision

MILLSTADT, Ill. (AP)—Two cars heading for the same wedding reception collided headon last night, killing Mrs. Herman Dammermann, 19, and an 8-month-old son, Ronald.

Dammermann and a 3-year-old son Richard were treated for broken bones. Kenneth Schaefer, 17, driver of the other car, was hurt critically.

Stage Bluegill Festival

ST. HELEN (AP) — This resort village midway between West Branch and Roscommon will stage its eighth annual Bluegill Festival Saturday and Sunday. A feature will be the crowning of 16-year-old Renee Lacey of St. Helen as Bluegill Festival Queen.

Sun Stove Is Capital's Hottest Spot

Government Uses Device for Testing New Metals

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—The capital, which takes a lot of ribbing for its hot and humid summers, is perking up this year. Diplomats returning from visits abroad where temperatures have reached unusual heights are exclaiming about "cool Washington."

But there is one hot spot in town that's hard to beat anywhere on the globe—and it's not a congressional investigation witness chair, either.

SOLAR FURNACE

It's around the solar furnace at the National Bureau of Standards, which directly harnesses the sun's energy and generates temperatures as high as 5,900 degrees Fahrenheit!

The stove is used by the bureau's test tube boys probing the properties of new metals for jet engines, guided missiles and atomic reactors.

It is hot enough to produce pure samples of the important metals. Under pure heating conditions, some materials which formerly had been unaffected by high temperatures, are completely shattered.

FOUR ALICES

There are four Alices in top positions at the Women's Bureau here.

Mrs. Alice Leopold is the assistant to the secretary of labor for women's affairs and director of the bureau. Mrs. Alice Morrison is chief of the legislative division.

Mrs. Alice Sullivan is on the administrative staff and Miss Alice Anderson is information specialist.

FAVORITE EXERCISE

Elbow-bending, a favorite exercise on the local cocktail circuit, had a real workout at the recent black-tie shindig given by the commercial counselor of the Italian Embassy, Aldo Morante.

The more than 200 guests gathered in the grand ballroom of a midtown hotel were invited to taste 19 different Italian wines.

The group, which included actor Jimmy Durante and Emilia Cundari, Metropolitan Opera Co. soprano, first sampled three Italian vermouths from an aperitif bar before sitting down to tables where they continued their tasting with a variety of wines.

First Aid Talk Given at Meeting

The program was conducted by Mrs. James Skaggs, a registered nurse, who spoke on first aid in the home. Mrs. James Elliot of Sashabaw road assisted Mrs. Osburn with refreshments.

Reunion Held

Thane Danby was elected president of the Teats, Houghten and Racham families at the group's 25th annual reunion held Sunday at the Mechanic street home of Mrs. Frank Van Horn. Elected vice president was Francis Van Horn and Mrs. Van Horn was named secretary-treasurer. Sixty-five members were present.

Danny Simpson as 'Starbuck'

'The Rainmaker' Scores at Will-O-Way

With a setting of hot dry weather, "The Rainmaker" fits well into the current weather picture. N. Richard Nash's play began its two weeks run at Will-O-Way Playhouse Monday evening, under the direction of William W. Merrill.

Danny Simpson, Pontiac's contribution to stage, screen and television, stars in the role of Bill Starbuck, the rainmaker. (Incidentally, the stage, screen and television will have to get along without Danny this next year; he is entering the University of Michigan's Medical school). This is the type of part Danny seems to relish the most—noisy, active and commanding.

PHILOSOPHICAL, TOO

However, the play has its quieter, even its philosophical moments. For all his bragging and officiousness, Starbuck manages to impart some good rules of living.

Mady Correll has the only feminine part in the play. As Lizzie, the daughter of the Curry family, she thinks she is doomed to spinsterhood because she is plain and hasn't the ability to "get a man the way he gets got!" Mady can't look plain even when she tries real hard. Her acting is a joy to watch.

Burton Wright plays a more sympathteic role than he usually has, as the father of the family. A newcomer to Will-O-Way, Whit Vernon, carries the difficult and unsympathetic part of the sensible older son. The younger son's role is filled by Douglas Turek, a Will-O-Way apprentice. As Jim he gets many of the play's laughs. Paul Caplan and Robert Dale are the other actors in the play.

"The Rainmaker" is not so fast-paced a comedy as many of the summer's offerings have been. But it is interesting and worth seeing. Curtain time is 8:40, every evening from now through August 24.

Dirt Gardeners Welcome Two

Mrs. Kenneth Gidley and Mrs. James G. Weaver were welcomed Tuesday as new members of the Dirt Gardeners Club when the group met at the Oakleaf drive home of Mrs. Everett Labadie.

Guests at the picnic were Mrs. S. Bruce Siddall, Mrs. J. Robert Hancock and Mrs. LeRoy Small.

Mrs. Everett Labadie, Mrs. John Hendry and Mrs. Louis Guellec were named as the nominating committee.

Second to TV Industry

Swimming Pools for Everyone?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — With every passing day and dollar, I become more bewildered and less benign about that nebulous phrase in modern-day advertising—"modestly priced."

Madison Avenue has a new concept of modesty. You can buy a humble color TV for $750, for instance, and an unassuming mink stole for $1,200.

DRESSES—$15 TO $100

No matter how daringly cut, dresses can be modest at anything from 15 to $100. And if you really want to show a lack of conceit, how's about a Danish bedroom suite for $899.99?

Well, I say let's brag and be done with it. All this humility is getting us nowhere in particular, except broke in the bank and starved in the ego.

If I could afford a $1,200 mink, I'd rather buy one labeled "outlandishly priced"—and feel like a rake; than get a "modest" job, same price and feel like a cheap bum.

According to Webster, modest means shy and humble, two qualities which it is difficult for a price tag to possess. Unless, of course, it has been kicked around plenty and lost all right to hold up its dollar sign.

SWIMMING POOLS NOW

All of which reminds me to wonder who's got all the money, and where has it come by? It now seems that "moderately priced" swimming pools are the second-fastest-growing industry in America (TV coming first).

A nice young man named Eugene Boe, who is as honest as his swimming-pool firm is wealthy, says that "20 years ago there were about 2,000 private pools in the U. S., and by the end of this year there will be 150,000. The prediction is that within 10 years there'll be a pool for every family that owns a car."

The prediction comes from the "Swimming Pool Institute"—figures, doesn't it? — but there is not an economic pollster in the country, Eugene dares say, who would contradict it. Not the way things are going.

He says that the swimming pool bit in America started in the late 19th century, when it was the vogue for millionaires from Long Island to ship off to Europe and collect art treasures. They also found swimming pools in the back yards of Italy and Southern France (an outgrowth of the old Roman baths), and brought the idea to roost in New York.

NEED FOR GLAMOR

"Hollywood followed. The movies made it necessary to have glamor, and pools were the easiest way for sirens to spend money ostentatiously," Boe continues, "And then it got to where the Dietrichs had to keep up with the Gables, and that sort of thing."

From surveys, Boe's company, International Swimming Pool, claims that the reason pools are getting so common in the last few years are: the increased leisure time of man; the new concern about "keeping families together;" the indefatigable American race to keep up with the neighbors in luxuries; the hot weather which ain't like it used to be; and, of course, "the new modest price of swimming pools."

Like about how much? I asked.

"The average pool today," he said, "Cost $3,500 to $4,000."

Which seems about as modest as a bikini, the way things are going . . .

Pontiac-Born Actor Is Star of Will-O-Way

Simpson and his wife appeared in "Bus Stop" at Will-O-Way. They have both appeared in each of the summer playhouse's productions this season except for the five-character play, "Janus."

SIMPSON

DIVING CHAMPION

Known in this area as a diving champion at MSU and as an All-American diver, Danny was asked whether he considered combining his aquatic and dramatic talents. He reports that he was invited to join a water show going to the Dominican Republic but he refused.

During the past three years in New York, Simpson, who holds a master's degree in dramatics from MSU, has appeared in most of the leading TV drama programs.

Danny and Janet Simpson, who appeared together in the recent "Loud Red Partick" at Will-O-Way, have arranged to fit their careers together both in Michigan and New York. Danny is starring this week as "Starbuck" in "The Rainmaker."

Have Faith in Good Instead of Bad

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The subject of faith is one about which we don't know nearly enough, and which I am constantly studying.

Lots of people will claim they wish they could develop faith, but that they just can't. Yet all the while, they have developed faith in bad things. It's just the good that they don't have faith in.

FAITH IN EVIL

Every time you say—"Just as I expected, I didn't get a raise"; or, "I knew it was too good to be true—Jim and I are not getting married after all"; or, "They promoted Jane instead of me—it doesn't surprise me a bit"—every time you say or think things like that, you are exercising very strong faith indeed. But it's faith in evil instead of faith in good.

The trick, then, is to learn to switch the faith that you already have over to the good.

It isn't easy, but here's how a girl I know did it—a "girl," 47, whom I'll call Pat.

Pat had had a lot of trouble in her life.

At 47, she found herself widowed, with lots of debts, no children, no parents, no job or likelihood of one.

READING THE BIBLE

"I was reading the Bible frantically," she told me. "I knew I had to find something to hold on to. I knew I'd have to get some kind of training and get a job, but I didn't know how or what.

"I was ready to give up when I came across a passage that startled me. It was in Mark 12, verse 24, and it said, 'What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them."

"That meant, as far as I could see, that if I could pretend I already had all the things I needed, I would get them.

"In desperation, I decided to try.

"I pretended that there was already a good job for me somewhere, and a good income. Then I pretended there was also a good husband for me somewhere.

MORE RELAXED

"Strangely enough, I began to feel much more relaxed from then on.

"I studied typing and bookkeeping and made out very well. I didn't put any energy into worrying—after all, I was pretending the job already existed for me. So all my energies went into my studies, with the result that I finished fast.

"Job-hunting was easier than I had believed. I reasoned that if a job really did exist for me, I didn't have to worry too much. If this job was for me, I'd get it; if it wasn't, another would be.

"So job-hunting was no strain and, of course, I found a job. I put all my energy into doing it, so I progressed nicely and got increases in salary.

HE'LL COME ALONG

"I haven't yet found a husband, but I'm relaxed about that, too. Therefore, he's sure to come along."

This is an example of faith in the good. Remember, all of us exercise faith of some kind. The trick is to have faith in the good instead of in the bad.

Measurements Reflect Weight Loss

Marathon Slims 200-Pound Woman

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I had not planned to print any more Marathon winner letters but I have one which is too good to have you miss. It says:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: To you these figures may not seem like much but when a woman has weighed around 200 pounds most of her life they mean a lot. I weighed 172½ pounds eight weeks ago and now weigh 160 pounds. My measurements:

BEFORE	AFTER
Bust 36 inches	34 inches
Waist 31 inches	28 inches
Hips 44 inches	40 inches
Thighs 25 inches	22 inches

"I have had many compliments from people who have known me a long time. My weight is only 12½ pounds less but I work outside my home and could not always eat as I wished. I intend to keep doing my exercises even though my Marathon is over."

This letter is interesting for two reasons. In the first place it takes a lot of determination and courage to begin a reducing routine when one has so much weight to lose. Also the loss in inches is most exciting since it reflects the value of exercise when slimming.

Actually, when a woman has a great many pounds to lose she will have much lovelier results if she goes slowly. Two pounds a week is enough for the long pull. She also will have periods when her weight reduction is at a standstill, but if she continues dieting the pounds again will begin dropping away.

RESTAURANT PROBLEM

It is much more difficult to diet when you eat one or two of your meals away from home. In some instances there are only "set menus" or it is too expensive to order a la carte.

Restaurant food is almost always either greasy or exotic with wonderful sauces and dressing and gravy and so forth. The luscious food is more enjoyable but the less expensive food may be loaded with just as many, but less attractive, calories.

The answer? Well, ask that the meat be broiled rather than fried whenever possible. When you are ordering a regular lunch or dinner ask that the gravy be left off. Request that you be allowed to put your own salad dressing on the salad greens or that none be put on.

You do not have to eat the dessert or rolls and crackers. Order buttermilk if they do not have skim milk. If you eat lunch at a place where the sandwiches are dunked in "goo," take your own. Even these few suggestions will be helpful to the serious reducer who must eat away from home part of the time.

If you missed Marathon and would like to lose 20 pounds in eight weeks' time, or improve yourself generally, you may want my Marathon booklet. If so, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Pineapple Fills Sugar Cookies

Milford Teenager's Filled Turnovers Win Blue Ribbon

By JANET ODELL

Today's recipe is the first in a group we are going to give you from blue ribbon winners at the recent 4-H Fair. We think the young cooks should be encouraged, and we know they have some good recipes.

Barbara Wixom of Milford has been a 4-H club member for less than a year, but she won a blue ribbon for her filled cookies. Fourteen years old, Barbara will be a freshman in high school this fall. She collects storybook dolls and likes to play badminton.

FILLED COOKIES
By Barbara Wixom

Mix thoroughly:
½ cup soft shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs

Stir in:
2 tablespoons thick cream
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift and add:
2½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt

Chill for about an hour. Roll 1-16 inch thick. Cut with 3-inch round or square cutter. Place a rounded teaspoon of filling on each cookie. Fold over and press edges together with fork. Bake on greased cookie sheet for 8-10 minutes in a 400-degree oven. Makes about 4 dozen.

Pineapple Filling

1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons flour
1½ cups crushed pineapple, well drained (a No. 2 can)
4 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¾ cup pineapple juice

Mix sugar and flour together in saucepan. Stir in rest of ingredients. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until thickened. This takes 5-10 minutes. Cool.

VACATIONS ARE OVER

By Edythe McCulloch

Vacations are about over and we've had a wonderful time but now as we approach the fall and winter season we realize that we have had too much summer sun and too many picnics.

This is a wonderful time for a program of self improvements. To be attractive, you must first be healthy. Go to your doctor for a check-up and if he approves . . . begin now on a program designed to improve your physical fitness.

This fall calls for a delightfully glamourized but still natural new you.

Hair will be brighter and make up will add life and warmth to the skin.

We have many ideas to help you.

Bonnie Wells Married in Baptist Rite

Two hundred fifty guests witnessed the 7:30 p.m. marriage Saturday of Bonnie Raye Wells and Leslie Hartzman. The Rev. R. C. Johnson performed the ceremony in the Bethany Baptist Church.

The Garland S. Wells of Ramona Terrace are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Hartzman of Monterey boulevard.

WEARS DOTTED SWISS

As matron of honor, Mrs. Paul Jankovsky wore a white dotted swiss gown with turquois bow and streamers in back. She carried an arrangement of red roses. Beverly Wells, a sister of the bride; Marlis Wells of Chicago; Carolyn Terry of Cincinnatti and Diane Hartzman, a sister of the bridegroom served as the attendants. They were gowned like the matron of honor and carried arrangements of pink roses.

Gary Hartzman served as the best man while Roger Reuter, John Leone, Paul Jankovsky and Floyd Reynolds seated the guests.

The new Mrs. Hartzman changed to a gray cotton sheath dress with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet for travel to northern Michigan. The couple will live in Waterford.

Bethany Baptist Church was the scene of the Saturday wedding of Bonnie Raye Wells and Leslie Hartzman. The Garland S. Wells are the bride's parents, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clare Hartzman.

Discover New Method to Clean Oversized Rugs

AMES, Ia. (INS) — Research has uncovered a new method for cleaning a cotton rug that is too big to toss in the washing machine.

June Brown, extension home furnishings specialist at Iowa State College, said the method is designed for commercial rug cleaners but as yet is not in production. It includes a special detergent, cleaning machine and drying procedure.

In laboratory tests sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, a single cleaning by this new method brought fluffy texture and bright colors to heavily soiled cotton carpets of a size that must be cleaned in place instead of removed and sent away.

Would Like to Reward Office Girl

May Married Man Buy Present for Single Woman?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it would be proper for me, a married man, to give a present to a young woman who is not married.

"Here is the situation: One of the young women with whom I work has gone out of her way on many occasions to do things for me. She is having a birthday soon and I thought it would be nice to give her a birthday present in appreciation of her many kindnesses. Could this possibly be misconstrued?"

Answer: I don't see how your intention could possibly be misconstrued as long as the present is not a personal one. Anything for her personal adornment would, of course, be very questionable.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We have just received a wedding invitation addressed to Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and Family and we are having an argument as to just who is included in this invitation. My husband thinks it means all our children, those living at home with us as well as our married children living elsewhere.

"His argument is that they are just as much a part of the family as those living at home. I think it means only those living at home with us. Will you settle this?"

Answer: "And Family" includes each and every member of the family living under the same roof, but does not include those living at another address.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When six or eight guests are invited to dinner and cocktails are served in the living room beforehand, would it be too far amiss to ring a small antique bell to summon them into the dining room when dinner is ready? I would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: No, please not the bell. Come into the living room and tell them that dinner is ready.

Secret of French Charm Emphasize Femininity

By VIVIAN BROWN

It is said that French women have an edge on capturing male glances.

If so, why?

That's a question that long has puzzled American women.

The consensus seems to be that French women devote themselves to pleasing the men, but not in the same vein American women do.

ACCENTS FEMINITY

Whereas we pride ourselves on culinary prowess, housekeeping, decorating and child rearing, the French women emphasizes femininity.

She chooses with infinite patience those embellishments that make her appear more feminine in the eyes of her man—clothes, fragrance, jewels. She stresses her sex as the irrefutable attraction that makes up for her lack of interest in other things.

Some American women are aware of the importance of this magnet, particularly Southern girls, who understand the importance of the feminine approach. But even they are likely to overlook some feminine foibles that contribute to romance.

Many women who can afford expensive perfumes and colognes do not know how to use them. They are used so occasionally that they shock the senses like a sudden spray of DDT at a garden party, or are used often, but in minute quantity.

Many American women pride themselves on the fact that they do not use cosmetics or fragrance at all.

The point is, that we do not take the trouble to use scents as accessories to our wardrobe. And we should. The French woman uses a perfume as a part of her personality, choosing the same scent in cologne, dusting powder, soap.

The youngest French girl learns the importance of a pleasant fragrance, using soap, bubble bath and dusting powder. These are inexpensive bath accessories that point up fastidiousness.

New scents in dusting powders for instance, include some traditional French scents such as Bellodgia (carnation), Le-Muguet du Bonheur (lily of the valley for happiness), Fleurs de Rocaille (rock garden flowers) and several others, all available to those who want to capture the spirit of the perfume in an inexpensive item.

Remove Fireplace Soot

You won't be using the fireplace much during the summer months but it will look prettier if you get the accumulated soot off.

Here is how to do it:

Fill one pail with a solution of one cap-full of liquid detergent and two tablespoonsful of sal soda per gallon of water.

Fill another pail with clear water.

Work the cleaning solution into the soot with a scrub brush. Let it soak into the brick for a few minutes, then rinse with clear water and remove the excess water with an absorbent cloth.

You can clean the fireplace screen the same way.

Andirons and other equipment can be soaked in a similar detergent and soda solution in a laundry tub for several hours. Then rub lightly with steel wool to bright en them up and dry.

To Attend Play

Mere Words Can't Kill Jealousy

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

"It isn't fair!" is the eternal complaint of the G.'s two children.

Nine-year-old Janet will come home to find her younger brother on the back porch scraping the cake batter bowl. Flying to her mother, she'll cry, "Why does he always get everything? Just because I had to go to the library, you didn't have to let him scrape the whole bowl! It isn't fair!"

Recognizing the jealousy behind these accusations, Mrs. G. tries to soothe it by declaring impartial love for both children, Doggedly, day in, day out she says, "I love you both the same."

It doesn't work.

Words do not rid children of jealousy. Time does—and their own increasing experience of our reliability.

Thus, the jealous accusations of Janet and George seek a reassurance from their mother that is beyond her power to give.

CAN'T CONVINCE THEM

It might be wise to tell them just that—to say, "I can't make you believe that I'm fair to you. You are the person who has to make up his mind about that as you get to know more and more about me."

Speaking this truth will benefit Mrs. G. quite as much as the children.

It is a characteristic of all human nature.

So, instead of wasting time wondering what awful thing she did to create it, she'd better start resisting her fear that she's to blame for it. For until she does, she'll just go on recoiling from every new evidence of it as more damning proof of her incompetence.

And the children will have to go on attacking her as "unfair."

What else, given her fear of their jealousy, can they do?

They fear what their mother fears. When their mother recoils from their jealousy as frightening, they promptly run away from it, too, crying, "You are unfair!"

Elaine A. Smith Wears White Organdy for Rite

Elaine Audrey Smith and Stanford Conn were united in marriage Sunday evening in Congregation B'nai Israel. Rabbi Israel Goodman officiated at the candlelight ceremony.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white organdy fashioned with an embroidered organdy bodice with a Sabrina neckline. Insertions of embroidered organdy created a panel effect in the skirt.

A crown of organdy flowers held the fingertip veil of French illusion. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

WEARS WHITE EYELET

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Allan J. Warshawer wore a gown of white eyelet over blue taffeta with a blue cummerbund and back panel of chiffon. Claire Silverman of Chicago was the bridesmaid. She was gowned identically to the matron of honor.

Both attendants carried semi-cascade bouquets of blue delphinium. Gail Conn, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower maid. She wore white organdy over blue taffeta and carried a miniature version of the attendants' bouquets.

Serving as his brother's best man was Dr. Melvin Conn. Seating the guests were Lionel Conn of Flint, Capt. Charles Smith, USAF of Rome, N. Y., Melvin Resnick and Meyer Shift of Toledo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Smith of Rosshire Court and the Alexander J. Conns of Toledo, O. are the bridegroom's parents.

The new Mrs. Conn changed to a silk tweed suit of dark grey with red accessories for traveling to Northwestern U. S. She wore a corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in Watkins Hills.

Couple Honored at Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Harper were honored Sunday evening at a wedding open-house given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoenstine of Henry Clay avenue. Sixty-five guests were present for a buffet luncheon.

A color motif of yellow and white was carried out in the decorations of yellow daisies and white gladioli.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lohman and Mrs. Grace Michaels of Bedford, Pa. and Sue J. Strunk of Lansing.

Average Woman in U.S. Walks 70,000 Miles

NEW YORK (INS)—The average American woman walks 70,000 miles in a lifetime, according to the National Shoe Institute.

Posture experts at the Institute said women should own three different heel heights to give various muscles in the leg a rest.

They recommend that a woman should vary the heels — from high to flats—once or twice during the day, or at least every three days. "Never wear the same heel height day in and day out," they advised.

Mrs. McCullister Feted on Birthday

Mrs. Thomas McCullister of Douglas street was honored guest at a birthday celebration Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Denison on Squirrel road.

Twenty-four guests were present for the buffet luncheon arranged with yellow roses.

Bridal Shower Held

Rosemary Bentham, bride-elect of James Brown, was feted at a luncheon and kitchen shower in the West Iroquois road home of Mrs. Nelson K. Hunter. Fourteen guests attended the recent event.

200 Attend Wedding Held in the Nazarene Church

Two hundred guests were present for the 8 o'clock wedding of Nancy Faye Misener and Donald Kenneth Hefner Saturday morning in Zion Church of the Nazarene. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert A. North.

For her wedding, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white American lace over taffeta and ruffled netting. A sequin half-crown hat held her scalloped veil. She carried a white orchid surrounded by lilies-of-the-valley and white rose buds in a cascade streamer fashion.

Pat Steward was her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Jacqueline Johnson and Henrietta Neidrick. They were gowned in blue, pink, and yellow, respectively. Their ballerina-length dresses covered with white lace, and featuring chiffon at the necklines and streamers in the back, were accented by white accessories. Each carried a bouquet of white carnations; the center being the same color as her gown.

ATTENDS BRIDEGROOM

Attending the bridegroom were E. J. Hefner as best man and Donald Sturderant and Sam Sheehy of Auburn Heights as ushers.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the church parlors.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Misener of Wall street. Donald's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hefner of Clarkston.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Misener chose a turquoise dress of crystallette with matching accessories and corsage of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Hefner wore a dusty rose lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

For a honeymoon in Niagara Falls, the bride chose a blue and white dress with white accessories and her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Upon returning, the couple will reside in Clarkston.

Adult Woman Can Enjoy Party Without New Gown

And She Can Get Real Pleasure From Making Someone Else Happy

By RUTH MILLETT

A woman isn't really grown up until—

She can have a good time at a party, even though she is wearing an old or not too becoming dress.

She can get real pleasure from making someone else happy.

She has learned a sure cure for feeling low, whether it is buying a new hat, baking a cake, visiting a sick friend, planning a party, or working in the yard.

She can dismiss an unkind or tactless remark instead of brooding over it.

She realizes that her children weren't put upon the earth to fulfill her dreams, but their own.

She can praise another woman or hear her praised without any temptation to add a belittling remark.

She can meet disappointments and frustrations without thinking, "Why did this have to happen to me?"

She realizes that other people don't really want to hear about her troubles.

She learns to do unpleasant tasks as quickly as possible, instead of letting them hang over her head.

She does things for others because she wants to, not because she expects unending gratitude.

She can laugh at herself occasionally.

She can start a conversation with anyone she meets and can learn something from almost any one she talks to for half an hour.

She can enjoy young people without envying them their youth.

She can be friends without feeling inferior to those who have more than she, and without feeling superior to those less fortunate.

Moves to Select a Single Missile

Wilson Orders but One Intermediate Range Be Decided Upon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said Tuesday the time has arrived to decide on one intermediate range ballistic missile. He appointed a joint service committee to help with the decision.

He ordered the committee to settle "at the earliest practicable date" on a single 1,500-mile missile, basing its decision upon tests of the Army's Jupiter and the Air Force Thor missiles.

Wilson is about to retire to private life. President Eisenhower has named Neil H. McElroy, head of Procter & Gamble, as his successor.

Wilson had previously told the Army and the Air Force to continue separate work on their own intermediate missiles.

Tuesday's announcement left unchanged Wilson's decision of last November to give the Air Force sole operating responsibility and authority for whatever intermediate range ballistic missile might be perfected.

That decision limited the Army to operation of bombardment type missiles with ranges of no more than 200 miles.

Wilson named the top missile experts of both the Army and the Air Force to the committee. Chairman of the group is William H. Holaday, Wilson's special assistant for guided missiles.

The Army member is Maj. Gen. Benjamin A. Schriever, chief of the ballistic missile division of the Air Research and Development Command.

Test firings of both the Thor and the Jupiter have been held at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla. One Jupiter is known to have attained an altitude of about 500 miles and to have traveled seaward over 1,500 miles. Other Jupiter tests have been less successful.

Several Thors have been tested, but no launchings to date are known to have attained either the range or the altitude reported for the Army's weapon.

The Navy has its own program for developing a 1,500-mile range missile designed for launching from shipboard.

Communicable Diseases Down in City, County

Communicable diseases in Pontiac and Oakland County decreased in number and variety of cases during the week of July 28 through Aug. 3, according to the latest report of Dr. John D. Monroe, director of public health.

Mumps still leads the list of diseases in both county and city with six and two cases respectively. This was a decrease from the previous week's report of 15 and one case.

A break-down of other communicable diseases registered with the city and county health departments includes:

Junior Editors Quiz on MAGNETS

QUESTION: Why do magnets attract metals?

ANSWER: No one is sure what causes magnetism, but most scientists believe it results from the way the molecules in a magnet are arranged. In an ordinary bar of iron, the molecules are jumbled, so that their attraction for each other cancels out. In a magnetized bar the molecules line up in rows with their north poles pointing north and their south poles south. They all pull together and therefore can attract things outside the bar.

The first magnets were stones called magnetites discovered in the ancient Asia Minor country of Magnesia. Puzzled by the way these stones attracted metal, people thought they were magic.

Centuries later, man learned that when hung by a string, one end of a piece of magnetite was attracted by the earth's North Pole and the other by the South Pole. This discovery led to the invention of the compass.

FOR YOU TO DO: Get a magnet and rub a needle on it. Balance the needle on a small cork floating in a saucer of water. You will find that the needle has been magnetized and that one end points north, the other south.

One Month, One Award

CRANSTON, R.I. (AP)—The mayor's Traffic Safety Committee says it is beginning to believe there aren't many courteous drivers in the city. Last week the committee began a monthlong campaign to award theater tickets to courteous drivers. The score up to today: one courteous driver.

We know you can't take it with you—but nowadays you can't even keep it while you're here. . .Certain radio stations now give reports on traffic conditions. It gives you something to listen to while you're stuck in the jam of cars.—Earl Wilson.

Tigers Go Overtime to Split With A's

KANSAS CITY (AP) — If the Detroit Tigers muff one now and then, they at least have the right to say they go a long way before yielding.

The Kansas City Athletics required 14 innings to down the Tigers in the night game of an afternoon-night doubleheader last night, 3-2, after Detroit won the opener, 3-1.

As a result of last night's loss —it was near the witching hour of midnight when the game finished—the Tigers today are back down in fifth place. And the Athletics have left the American League basement.

The series resumes with another game tonight with Billy Hoeft (4-7) on deck to pitch for the Tigers.

Duke Maas pitched a full 11 innings of shutout baseball in the second marathon battle but got no credit for it except in the earned run averages. He left after 12 innings.

Home runs told much of the story. Besides Kaline's three, his 10th, 11th and 12th of the year, the two first inning runs off Maas in the second game were both homers.

Vic Powers and Lou Skizas hit one each with the bases empty and there on through the 12th Maas did not permit a run.

The A's got their winning run in the 14th off two pitchers, Bob Shaw and Jim Bunning.

After the Tigers had lost scoring opportunities in both the 12th and 14th, Shaw walked both Woody Held and Hal Smith in starting a relief job. They were the first, and only, men to face him.

Manager Jack Tighe sent in Bunning? Jim got Billy Hunter on a foul-out bunt, but pinch-hitter Hector Lopez, batting for Tom Morgan, slapped a single to send Held in with the winning run.

The game, one of the longest in the majors this year, consumed three hours and 45 minutes. It ended 10 minutes before midnight.

Detroit got its second game runs on Kaline's third homer of the day in the fourth inning and a combination of singles by Frank Bolling and Red Wilson and two sacrifice hits in the fifth. Bill Tuttle's fly drove in Wilson.

The daytime opener, in 95-degree heat, found Foytack doing a sweet job on the mound for Detroit until he had to quit in the eighth inning because of a muscle spasm.

He had a five-hit shutout up to that point. Skizas led off the eighth with the first of his two homers of the day. Harry Byrd, who worked in both games, held the A's hitless the rest of the way.

Kaline smashed his first homer in the second inning and his second in the sixth. Detroit got another in the sixth on a walk.

THE POWERHOUSE
By Jimmy Powers

The Sunday sun had been baking the Polo Grounds all morning. One of the WPIX Cameramen took a thermometer and set it on the top step of the Giant dugout. The top step is white concrete and it acts as a reflector. The second step is of oak, badly spike scarred. In two minutes, the little red column shot up to 102 degrees.

Willie Mays took a look and whistled . . . "I thought some of those ball parks down south were pressure cookers, but it can really steam it up here!"

Davey Williams said the hottest ball park he could recall was in Albany, Ga. . . . "It went over 100° many a time at Atlanta, too. All you need is plenty of good mineral water. And don't forget the salt tablets."

Bobby Thomson started to rib the perspiring Mays . . . "Willie, the meanest thing you can say about a man is that he has eyes like a landlord. You're a landlord, let me take a good look at yours."

Rigney Began Talking of Blizzards

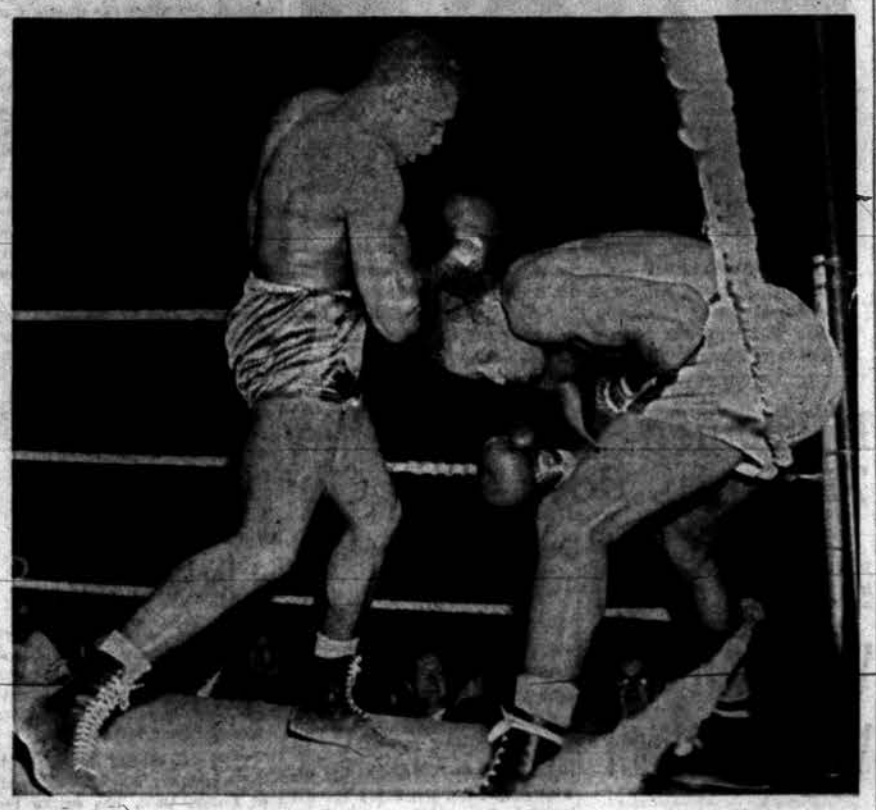

Billy Rigney started talking of blizzards, howling winter winds and snowdrifts . . . "Willie, as a landlord, would you evict a mother and her children out of one of your apartments in the dead of winter?"

"Don't they all?" asked Willie, poker-faced.

Over in the Milwaukee dugout, Eddie Mathews mopped his neck and sighed for the cooling breezes of Lake Michigan . . . "I like that town, Milwaukee. You hear players talk about how much they like a city, but few of them bother to live in it. When the season is over they have the car all packed and parked at the club house door. They don't want to waste at a second getting out of there for California or Florida."

Johnny Logan pointed out . . . "More and more Braves are making Milwaukee their permanent home. If you want to know how a town appreciates a ball club —and remember we have never brought that town a pennant—you should spend some time walking around with a player and his wife and kids and see what happens.

Rodgers Opens Nose in 1st Round

Crawford Wins Unanimously

Mickey Crawford, the pride of Saginaw, keeps winning but with every fight he has realized more that the biggest obstacle in his climb up the ladder may be his own fragile nose.

The fast stepping young welterweight won his 18th pro victory in 19 starts by gaining a unanimous 10-round decision from Sammy Rodgers of Benton Harbor at Wisner stadium last night, but again as in the last three fights his nose spouted blood early in the bout.

Rodgers got to the nose in the first round, Crawford however settled down and even though it bled throughout the fight his fast moving arms and clever maneuvering won him the nine remaining rounds.

It was an interesting fight and Rodgers refused to wilt despite the fact that he gave way five pounds to Crawford. Rodgers weighed in at 143 and Crawford at 148.

In the second round, Rodgers slipped to the canvas but the referee Herman Spinelli ruled it was not a knockdown.

Crawford, using some of Floyd Patterson's tactics of lunging and retreating several times while connecting with rights, was physically in very good conditon as he kept his footwork moving consistently throughout the fight.

'He is clever and knows when to get his punches in," said Rodgers in the locker room. "He really never hurt me until the last round when he caught me with two hard ones in the stomach," he added.

Rodgers, who normally would fight around 139 in the lightweight class, had trouble with his left arm after the second round. His manager Ray Palma said, "we knew we were in trouble when the muscle knotted, because Sammy was unable to throw the long punch from the third round."

Rodgers compared his two arms in the locker room afterward. The muscle bulge of the left arm was twice the size of the right arm, "and when it knots it hurts" he said. This often occurs with muscle-bound people.

Crawford's manager Art Greenwald said Crawford was pretty fast last night but not as fast as he could move. Several times Crawford caught Rodgers with a flurry of quick jabs.

Three times he ducked under one of Rodger's long rights and returned a couple hard rights of his own.

Greenwald said plans have been made for some surgery on the nose for the purpose of removing the cartillege. "This will help correct these bloody noses," said Greenwald.

After this Greenwald said he planned on sending his protege to training camp with Jersey Joe Wolcott so that the ex-heavyweight fighter could help Crawford with a stronger punch.

In the meantime Greenwald's objective is to set up a fight with Kid Gavilan. He has vetoed the proposal of matching Crawford against lightweight contender Kenny Lane.

"Lane is aiming for a crack at the lightweight crown and we are looking for a welterweight crack, so why should we jeopardize either one's chances," said Greenwald.

In giving the decision, judge Andy Brown voted 49-36, judge William Appleton, 48-40 and referee Spinelli 49-35.

In the preliminaries there were a couple of early blackouts. Chuck Church 184-pound heavyweight from Owosso scored a first round kayo after 35 seconds over Johnny Williams of Detroit.

Big Osee Groom was staggered with a hard left by Bill Pickett in the second round, but then Groom won his 5th pro start with a third round TKO in 1:14. Pickett was able to get only punch at Groom in the third round and he missed that one.

Baptist Squeaks by Lakeland, 7-6

Emmanuel Baptist qualified to meet Drayton Drug in the finals of the Waterford Softball League playoffs, but only after a mighty close shave.

The Baptist team shaded Lakeland Pharmacy last night at Drayton Plains, 7-6, but a hair-raising 7th inning rally almost upset the church club's applecart.

Emmanuel scored five runs in the top of the 7th to take what looked like a comfortable 7-0 cushion. The Pharmacy nine had been unable to make a hit off Harlan (Fat) Keith for six innings.

Lakeland erupted with six runs in the 7th, driving Keith from the mound in favor of Glenn (Wimpy) Johnson. Five hits and three errors went into the last-ditch stand and the tying run was on 2nd when the side was finally retired.

Emmanuel will battle Drayton Drug next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the championship finals.

Sally Leads Field in District Action

Carding her 2nd below-80 score of the season in WDGA play, yesterday, at Bloomfield Hills CC, Sally Sharp led a field of 116 in the weekly round for the league. She turned in a 40-39—79 for the par 38-40—78 layout to edge Mrs. S. E. Gawn, of the host club, who had 43-38—81.

Sally, former state champion, had posted a 76 at Western earlier in the season.

Mrs. Rylma Marquardt, Mrs. Keith LeClair, Mrs. W. H. Mosher and Mrs. R. H. Gamble tied at 84.

Braves Win Again, Up Lead to 6½

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What Milwaukee's Braves are doing to that National League pennant race may be the biggest bust-up since Cleo nixed Caesar.

In 10 days, they've rolled up eight straight victories—incredibly, all against contenders—and have surged from a half-game behind to 6½ games ahead.

Starting with the game that put them in front, the Braves have been 7-0, while the combined record of the other contenders—St. Louis, Brooklyn, Cincinnati and Philadelphia—has been 7-11 — a "natural" for Milwaukee.

The Braves stayed with it last night, again putting the whammy on fourth place Cincinnati for a 12-4 romp, their 12th victory over Cincy in 14 games. Lew Burdette, with a personal jinx working on the Redlegs, won his 11th with an eight-hitter and two home runs, his first in eight major league seasons, for his 11th victory in the last 12 decisions with the Reds.

Chicago's Cubs handed second place St. Louis a seventh successive defeat, 6-2 and the New York Giants knocked off third place Brooklyn 4-2 while Pittsburgh clipped fifth place Philadelphia 6-0 on Bob Friend's two-hit pitching.

Brooklyn trails by 7½, the Reds by eight and Philadelphia by 10.

Burdette drove in four runs with his two clouts, both off starter-loser Joe Nuxhall. Red Schoendienst, who followed Burdette's second homer with a solo home run off reliever Hersh Freeman in the sixth, drove in three runs and had three hits along with Andy Pafko in the Braves' 16-hit barrage.

The Cards were shut out on five hits until the ninth by Bob Rush, a 12-game loser who won his third, second in a row over St. Louis. The veteran righthander, giving way after Joe Cunningham's two-run pinch double, also drove in a run and doubled twice as the Cubs handed Herm Wehmeier a sixth defeat. Ernie Banks hit his 24th home run.

Bad Tooth Delays Lane-Gonsalves Tilt

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Lightweight Johnny Gonsalves has an abscessed tooth and his fight with Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich. has been postponed until next Tuesday night.

The 10-round bout between Michigan's No. 1 contender and Oakland's veteran had been scheduled for tomorrow night. The postponement was announced yesterday.

Matchmaker Don Chargin has offered a $25,000 guarantee to lightweight champion Joe Brown to defend his title against the winner of the Lane-Gonsalves bout. Lane is favored over Gonsalves.

Nothing New in AL Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's nothing new in the American League.

First place New York remained 5½ ahead, beating Boston 3-2 while Chicago's second place White Sox rapped Cleveland 10-5 for Billy Pierce's 16th victory. But in what may be the Al's only real race, Mickey Mantle was 3-for-3, drove in all the Yankee runs, hit his 32nd home run, and climbed within four points of Boston's Ted Williams, who added a point to his leading bat average with 1-for-2 for .388.

Baltimore defeated Washington 5-3 and took fourth place from Detroit as the Tigers defeated Kansas City 3-1, then lost 3-2 in 14 innings in a day-night doubleheader that hoisted the A's out of the cellar and plunked Washington in.

Mantle's home run, giving him at least one in each AL park, came with a man on to overhaul a 2-1 Boston lead in the seventh against Frank Sullivan. The Mick also took over the league RBI lead.

Tom Sturdivant won his 10th, first ever against the Red Sox, although giving up a homer to Sammy White and walking in the other run. Bobby Shantz relieved in the ninth.

Pierce, who has lost eight, had a two-hit shutout until the Tribe who have lost five in a row, scored their five in the seventh. All the Sox runs came on homers—two by Jim Rivera, good for five runs.

Billy Gardner hit two home runs, with his second beating reliever Joe Black for the Orioles. Connie Johnson won his 10th, striking out 10 while giving up 14 hits.

Katlin Injured in Crash

May End His '57 Racing

Never hurt in his wild racing exploits with modified stock cars, it took a highway crash to hospitalize Pontiac's Mickey Katlin.

Mickey, thrown from his car when it hit a bridge abutment 20 miles east of Chatham, Ont., last Friday at midnight, may have ended his racing for balance of the year. He doesn't think so, says his friend and a star hardtop driver himself, Rusty Kelly. But hospital authorities at Chatham are reported to have said it will be many weeks before he recovers.

Katlin suffered injuries to several vertebrae, plus some broken ribs and other hurts. The driver of the car, unidentified, escaped with severe bruises, but is said to have left the hospital. Katlin was in the car's rear seat. A momentary doze is believed to have caused the crash. Katlin was on the way to Toronto to drive in a Saturday night race.

Wilson Gets Feet Wet Against Browns

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

George Wilson will get his feet wet in a hurry tonight. The new Detroit Lions' head coach, who replaced Buddy Parker yesterday with a one-year contract calling for $3,000, has the task of making the decisions tonight when the Lions meet the Cleveland Browns in their first exhibition game of the season at Briggs Stadium.

Wilson inherits a team which last year made a strong bid for the NFL title after a last place finish a year ago.

Several trades made before training camp opened at Cranbrook appear to have strengthened the team, although Parker left Detroit with the statement that "this is the worst team" he had ever seen. He was referring to the physical condition of the players.

Wilson yesterday disclaimed this charge and another Parker remark that the "players have gotten out of hand."

President Edwin J. Anderson and general manager Nick Kerbawy who met with players yesterday to go over the recent developments with them, remarked that "the spirit of the team is wonderful."

"They are determined to have a fine season," said Kerbawy, "and the other coaches were happy over the appointment."

A crowd bettering 40,000 is expected to watch tonight's scrap against Browns who are figured to be much better this year after the 5-7 mark of last year. This was the poorest Cleveland record since 1950.

Last year Detroit won a pair of pre-season contests from the Browns, 17-0 and 30-14.

The game offers Detroit fans their first chance of see the newest additions to the team, quarterback Tobin Rote, fullback John Henry Johnson and defensive back Val Joe Walker.

Many familiar names are in the Cleveland lineup including fullback Ed Modzelewski, halfback Preston Carpenter, tackle Lou Groza and end Darrell Brewster.

Tommy O'Connell rates as the team's top quarterback along with Bobby Karrett who was obtained from Green Bay. The most familiar name missing for the second year is that of Otto Graham.

Graham was the guest speaker Monday night when Parker made his startling announcement about quitting. Some observers are even saying Graham could be the 1958 Lions' choice for the head coaching job should Wilson not live up to expectations.

Kickoff tonight is set for 8:15 p.m. Bleacher sale of tickets will begin at 6:00 p.m. at Briggs Stadium.

Kearns Sees Big Gate for Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"It's one of those things. The more it's panned, the more the people want it."

Jack Kearns, who piloted Jack Dempsey and a host of other boxing champions, so described the Aug. 22 bout in Seattle between heavyweight king Floyd Patterson and Olympic titlist Pete Rademacher.

Dempsey is one of those who has condemned the bout, saying if anyone in the old days had proposed tossing an amateur in with the pro champ "he'd have been locked up."

Kearns, who knows more than his share of the tricks of drumming up interest in a fistic attraction to bring dollars rolling in, sees it differently.

He looks at the promotional aspect and sees the unique situation of pro vs. amateur building a large paying attendance.

Shaw's Clips Flint Twice for State Tourney Berth

Superb pitching and timely hitting, long-standing trademarks of Pontiac Shaw softball teams, have sent the Jewelers on their way to the state Class AA tournament.

Shaw's qualified for the rugged assignment with a doubleheader victory over Herlich's of Flint last night in their best-of-three two-team regional tourney at Beaudette Park.

The Jewelers will join seven other 'AA' teams in the state major tournament Aug. 23-25 at Midland.

Jake Mazur and Perc McConner formed the Jewelers' potent 1-2 mound punch yesterday. Mazur twirled a three-hit shutout in the opening game as Shaw's won, 3-0. McConner put on the finishing touches with a two-hitter for a 6-1 triumph.

Marshall Rose was the key figure in Shaw's opening win. He ignited a three-run 3rd inning rally with a lead-off homer over the right field fence. Singles by Cecil Hanes and Jim Long and Louie Seay's double did the rest.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—Colts sired by Citation, Dark Star, War Admiral and Ponder will be up for sale tonight in the second night of bidding at the Saratoga auctions.

Fifty-one head of young stock are scheduled to be led into the ring, representing the consignments of 13 interests. The Jonabell Stables of John A. Bell heads the list with nine of its own yearlings.

Featherweights on TV

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Victor Manuel Quijano, 23, Mexico's featherweight champion who is looking for new worlds to conquer, makes his U. S. debut tonight as a 9-5 underdog to high riding Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio.

They will meet in a television ABC, 9 p.m., EST 10-rounder at War Memorial Auditorium.

Cubs Purchase Hurler

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs today announced the purchase of pitcher Glen Hobbie from Memphis of the Southern Assn. Hobbie, 20, a righthander, owns a 14-11 record with the second place Chicks and will report after Memphis has completed its Southern Assn. playoff competition.

Policemen Take 'D' Title; Tigers In, Boys Club Out

A dramatic rally Tuesday by the Pontiac Police sent the local team into the semifinals of the Class D state junior baseball tournament next Monday at Jackson.

The Policemen came from behind for an eight-inning 3-2 win over Dearborn on the Dearborn diamond to capture the 'D' district crown.

Pontiac's Midget entry, the Tigers, outscored Dearborn Township, 12-11, to move into the district finals, but the city's Class F hopeful, Boys Club, met with ill fortune at the hands of the Dearborn entry.

Dearborn held a 2-0 lead when the Police came to bat in the 7th inning. With two men out, Dave Simmons belted a two-run double to tie the score. Catcher Chuck Johnson's single in the 8th tallied Chuck McIlrath with the winning run. Tom Estes pitched the route for Pontiac.

Gary Hayward's bases-loaded single in the 7th provided the Tigers with their winning margin in a free-scoring battle. The Tigers tangle with Wayne today for the district title.

Dearborn punched across single runs in the 6th and 7th stanzas to eliminate Boys Club, which scored its lone run in the 4th.

WLYA Arranges Venetian Night

Annual "Venetian Night" will be observed Saturday by the Watkins Lake Yachting Association, beginning 6:30 p.m. This colorful parade of members sailing and power boats provides a competition for "best-dressed" boats in both divisions. Chuck Mooris' Byaes was last year's winner and will be back for a 2nd try, Saturday.

A beach party at the Brown Williams home will follow the event. Parade of boats starts at the Morris dock.

Winners of last weekend's races for WLYA were; snipes, Guy and Nancy Duffield in Geewiz; lightning, Ramblin' Rascal, Jack Buerlin and family; thistles, Tarbaby, with Harm Gillam and Paul Saghy.

Little Leaguer Ambidextrous, Handy Anywhere

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Ambidextrous Angel Marcias, 12, is something of a triple threat in Little League baseball. He can play any position and use either hand.

Angel, from Monterrey, Mexico, is here with the Monterrey little leaguers for the little league southern regional tournament Thursday and Saturday.

Monterrey coach Cesar Fez says the boy can pitch with either hand, play shortstop righthanded and play first base lefthanded. He's also a whizz at centerfield.

Fez said Angel is batting .510, off from the .750 he has maintained most of the season. He bats either way.

Other teams to compete in the tourney are Knoxville, Tenn., Owensboro, Ky., and Biloxi, Miss.

Low Net to Mrs. Jagoux

Mrs. Roland Gagoux won low net with a 30, at the weekly golf round of Silver Lake club's women's division, Tuesday. A three-way tie developed for 2nd place between Mrs. Al Bornar, Mrs. Floyd Foren and Mrs. Maynard Evsaman.

Indian Hurler Ordered Home by Physician

Bone Chips in Elbow End 1957 Campaign for Tribe Ace

CLEVELAND (AP) — For Bob Lemon the 1957 season is over, and it's one he won't forget for a long time.

In seven of the last nine seasons the Cleveland righthander has been a 20-game winner. But this year he has won six, lost 11, and finished two of his 17 starts. His earned run average is 4.59.

Last night Dr. Don Kelly, team physician for the Indians, gave the pitcher the bad news. There are bone chips in his elbow, and "elbow operations are seldom successful in cases like this," so "about the only thing he can do is rest."

Lemon, 36, is to go home to Long Beach, Calif., and report next spring.

"This is one year I'll never forget," he said. "Everything happened. It all started when my sister died and I was never able to catch up."

He missed the last week of spring training because of the sister's death. A month after the season opened his record was 3-4. On May 24, in a game with Chicago, he tore a thigh muscle while fielding a bunt. He went home to Long Beach and when he returned to action it was June 13.

About that time the elbow began bothering him. He went to a specialist, who advised a dental examination. Two teeth were pulled. The elbow did not improve. Several weeks ago X-rays showed the chips.

The pitcher's trip to the West Coast will be delayed. His son Jimmy, 6, has the mumps. He has two other sons—Jeff, 9, and Jerry, 4.

"If the others get the mumps too," said Lemon, "we could be here for the rest of the season."

3 Veteran Pros Split Honors in Tourney Tuneup

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Three veteran professionals tied for individual honors yesterday in pro-amateur play at the Esmeralda Golf Course, a warmup for Thursday's first National Senior Open golf tournament.

Jimmy Hines of Palm Springs, Calif., Abe Espinosa of Billings, Mont., and Lighthorse Harry Cooper of White Plains, N.Y., all toured the new course in two-under par 68s.

Charles Sheppard, recent PGA quarter-finalist from Massachusetts, Fred Wood of Vancouver, B.C., and Willie Goggin of Englewood, N.J. All fired 71s.

Larsen Given Divorce

He Just Wants to Bat .370

Mantle Not Interested in Outhitting Williams

BOSTON (AP)—"All I want to do is hit .370 this year and I don't care if Ted Williams hits .420."

The speaker was Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees after beating Boston 3-2.

The outfielder had just extended his American League home run lead with No. 32, assumed command in the runs-batted-in competition and was breathing heavily down the neck of Williams in the batting race.

In response to the question "Do you feel you are in a duel with Williams for the batting crown?" the Yankee switchhitter said:

"Williams is a great hitter. I've always admired his hitting. All I want to do is hit .370 and I don't care if Ted Williams hits .420. I'll know I will have had a great year."

Making a determined bid to become the first player ever to win two successive triple crowns in batting, Mantle beat the Red Sox last night on a towering, two-run homer which traveled 400 feet into the right field seats.

Mickey also connected for two singles and drew a walk for a perfect night which raised his average to .384—a five point increase. Meanwhile, Williams singled in two trips to climb a notch to .388.

Stagg Observes 95th Birthday —3 Days Early

Stagg, who's been coaching football since before the turn of the century, said he had "kept my promise to God—to work with youths as long as I'm allowed to stay here."

Canadian Pro Club Eyes Johnny Matsko

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Football Union have their eye on Johnny Matsko, former Michigan State Lineman.

General manager Jackie Gaudaur says the club has been in touch with Matsko, center and linebacker who was on the College All-Star roster at Chicago last Friday.

"I don't know just what we'll be doing but I've told Jim that if he feels he needs more strength through center to go ahead and sign Matsko," Gaudaur said.

Football Ticket Business Booms—Thanks to Queen

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—The football ticket business is booming at the University of Maryland, thanks to Britain's Queen Elizabeth.

All of the tickets being sold, of course, are for the North Carolina game Oct. 19—the game Queen Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, plan to attend.

Yesterday was the first day the ticket window had been open since announcement in Washington Friday that the royal couple planned to attend the game. To say the fans responded is putting it mildly.

'Hoppers' Good 30 Years Ago

Same Bait Still Gets 'em

By JACK PATTERSON

Given a stream with big fish in it the problem of taking one in August with the aid of grasshoppers can be a simple one to solve, depending entirely upon the patience of the angler. It's a lazy man's delight, too, once a supply of grasshoppers has been assembled.

PATTERSON

When Ernest Hemingway's "The Big Two-Hearted" first appeared in print nearly 30 years ago it was probably the best trout fishing yarn that had been published to date. As far as we're concerned it still is. Though "Papa" was a little rusty on his geography and the title river was the Fox and not the Two-Hearted, the important point of the story was that it's hero took some fine late summer fish on grasshoppers. What worked 30 years ago works just as well today.

Gone is the sometimes rough work of wading. Gone the endless business of cast after cast. For this fish we are going to make one cast only. The rest of the time we'll be sitting on the bank.

We'll have selected a spot where we know a good fish holds, or one where a good fish simply ought to be. It must be a pool or run which can be reached with a cast from downstream. We'll approach the bank quietly well above the pool, sit down and do nothing for maybe half an hour.

After awhile we'll get itchy and toss the first grasshopper into the stream. We'll repeat this every few minutes. On the first, the third, or maybe the 24th 'hopper, if we've chosen our position wisely, we should see the flashing swirl of a decent fish. Then quickly and as quietly as possible, staying well away from the stream, we'll get below the pool and enter the water. Using a Michigan 'hopper for easy casting we'll place that one, all-important, cast. It had better be good. Sloppy work at this point will undo all the missionary work of the last hour.

This arrangement is ideally suited to "fly-fishing only" waters which often contain big fish, so long as we use the 'hopper fly and not the real thing for the actual casting. It's adaptability to a two-man fishing team should be obvious.

The big thing is to keep out of sight of the fish. This is daytime fishing in low, clear August water. Big fish, under these conditions are jittery.

Cool weather the past day or so got us thinking about fall and shooting and one thing and another and we did a little dry firing just to see what a summer's layoff had done to our aiming point. We found one gun came up high, another low, one off to the left and so forth. It looks as though some work on blue rocks is badly overdue. We recommend the same to anyone who doesn't want to register a clean miss on the first half-dozen birds he blasts at. Particularly since early reports indicate we're going to have a few more birds to shoot at this year.

New Site for PKC Show

Annual Event at NS Park

Several innovations will be offered spectators at the annual all-breed, unbenched dog show at North Side Athletic field, Sunday. This fine early fall exhibition by the Pontiac Kennel Club sets under way at 9 a.m. concludes with the best-in-show award. Winner of this top feature receives the Pontiac Press torphy.

Show this year is in a new location. Site is the North Side Athletic field, on Montcalm street, between Joslyn and North Saginaw streets.

It will also have a new "wrinkle" to help spectators understand what is going on in the judging of the more than 275 dogs in many classes and groups. Running commentaries will be made by club members during group judging, explaining the dog's backgrounds, their origins, work they were bred to do and other pertinent facts regarding the breed.

TV's Pet Parade conductor Ginny Wood and her clever miniature French poodle, Sassy, will be there to greet visitors.

More than 60 breeds were listed among the entries, which closed last weekend. Great Danes led the list with 51 entries.

First class to be judged will be the miniature pinschers, at 9 a.m. From then on there will be little letup until the finale, the best-in-show at 5 p.m. Variety groups will be judged at 4:30, and the order of judging will be announced by 4:15 p.m.

An obedience trial will be held at 10 a.m. including five divisions. There will also be a junior showmanship competition beginning at 2 p.m.

Ample free parking is available.

The mink is merely a large weasel of somewhat specialized habits. He has a more robust build, is darker in color and semi-aquatic in habits.

Speedsters Run in Regatta

OCBC Has Big Program for Sunday

Preparations were complete today for a full afternoon of power-boat racing at Oakland County Boat club, Sylvan Lake, on Sunday.

Beginning at 12 o'clock noon, the many classes of inboard and outboard speedsters will be busy up to late afternoon. A closed outboard event was listed as the starter, with the unlimited class of inboards winding up the day's competition.

A water ski show, at 5 p.m. will be followed by award of prizes, and there will be a lot of them to be presented. Regatta ball, Saturday night, to which the public is invited, is a show preamble.

Ski show is arranged by Marilyn Hickson, and the performance will include members of the Sylvan Lake Ski club, Marcia Hickson, Maritta Foster, Eddie Baxter, Joan Pierce and Johnny Pierce. They will do the pyramid, top-side tandem, the turn around and a jump. Several others may also take part.

In addition to the scheduled races, Sunday, there may also be some exhibitions by high-speed hydros, although this class will not race. A drivers' meeting has been set for noon.

12:30—Class outboards (closed)
12:50—15 h.p. and under stock outboards
1:10—15 h.p. and over stock outboards

5 Sharpshooters Qualified for GM Team Shoot

General Motors Truck & Coach trapshooters will be represented by a five-man team in the coming Industrial Trapshooting championships at Middleton, Ohio. This eighth annual event is a two-day shoot, Sept. 7-8.

The five who qualified Aug. 1 at GMC skeet field, aiming to improve last year's 4th place finish include Bill Harrington, Dave Bryner, Jim Cocking, M. Combs and Ernie Meeker.

Althea Wins 1st Match

MANCHESTER, Mass. (AP)—Top seeded Wimbledon champion Althea Gibson led the advance into today's second round competition of the 20th annual Women's Invitation tennis tournament at the Essex County Club. Miss Gibson defeated Belmar Gunderson of Chambersburg, Pa., 6-0, 6-0 in yesterday's first round of singles play.

One of State's Biggest

Outdoorama Runs 2 Days

One of the state's biggest outdoor events of the season will go into action Saturday for a two-day stand at Multi-Lakes headquarters on Reed's Lake. Site of this colorful annual affair, titled Outdoorama, is three miles north of Walled Lake at 3868 Newton road. It's an event for everybody interested in archery, shooting, bait and fly-casting, and many other forms of outdoors activities.

Full programs have been set up for both Saturday and Sunday, and any one may take part. Prizes galore are ready for awarding to winners.

One big feature, among the scores of extra - interesting items is the determination of the "medalist" a composite sportsman (or sportswoman) who excels in a half dozen different events, such as rifle shooting, archery, casting, skeet and trap.

Among the other events are a novice field dog trial; pistol exhibition by Lieut. Lester Coykendall of State Police; skeet exhibition by Chet Crites, international-ist; fly-tying by John Soyka of Grayling; casting demonstrations by Ben Hardesty; obedience dog training demonstration; skin-diving exhibition; a fall stye show; fireworks Sunday night and others.

Outdoorama queen will be named Saturday. Four-H Saddle club's Lucky Horseshow group of 10-17 year olds will appear in a precision riding feature.

Trout fishing grows more popular in Michigan each year, with the addition of about 10,000 new trout anglers recorded every year since 1952.

1,700,000 Game Tags Going Out

LANSING — Michigan's 4,200 license dealers will be receiving approximately 1,700,000 deer and small game hunting licenses during the next six weeks.

Conservation Department workers started the mammoth mailing job this week and the annual distribution will be completed well ahead of the state's first hunting season this fall.

Each year, about six weeks is required to supply license dealers because Michigan sells more hunting licenses than any other state in the nation.

Michigan's 1957 Game Law Digests also are being shipped to license dealers for distribution to hunters.

Bear Hunters Set Annual Hunt Date

Date has been set for the 4th annual feature runs from Sept. 1 through Sept. 3. It will be held at Brimley, with one of the top guides in the country in charge and a great pack of bear dogs to work with.

Lock City chapter of the Izaak Walton League at the Soo, will join Michigan Bear Hunters' association in conduct of the hunt, one of most colorful of the fall season. Registrations should be made as soon as possible with Harman Knop, 704 Bingham, Sault Ste. Marie. Officials say to send the $5 fee with registration.

Pioneers Dominate Show

Members of the Pioneer Saddle club from Oxford practically "stole" the show at the annual Michigan Rangers event last weekend, at Davisburg. The Oxonians galloped off with 12 of the 22 events.

High-point award went to Marilyn Feldmann of Lake Orion, riding for the Pioneers. The Four-H Club relay was won by Dixie Saddle club. Barbara Jones, only Pontiac rider in the show, won the balloon bursting event. Marilyn won two events, adult barrel-bending and the obstacle class.

Other winners included:

Carol Feldman, musical stalls (1-10); stalls (11-15) Danny Munson; clover-leaf bending, Gerry Richards; speed, action (1-10) Tommy Wells; speed, action (11-15) Sandy Wells; parade class, Carrol Curran; speed, action (adults) Jim Gage; barrel-bending (1-10 C. T. Harris; barrel-bending (11-15) Carl Bower; pony express, Stan and Harold Feldman; musical barrels, Stan Feldman; rope and ride Jim Wilson; junior flag race, (1-10), Tom Wells; flag race (11-15) Carl Bower.

One of the highlights for the 2nd annual horse show sponsored by Troy Exchange club, Sunday, will be the selection of the affair's first "Miss Troy." Show is an all-day affair on Sunday, at Jason Scott memorial field, on Livernois, quarter mile south of Long Lake road.

Show is western-style, with 24 events, including all the regular stunts for juniors and adults, plus a grand entry trophy award for the club with most riders. Troy 4-H club makes the award.

Eugene Hales of Ortonville is judge. Show starts at 10 a.m. and in case of bad weather will be held Aug. 25.

House Passes Bill for State Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a public works appropriation bill carrying $16,705,000 for Michigan flood control and navigation projects in the fiscal year which began July 1.

For the nation as a whole, the bill appropriates $858,094,323. A compromise of Senate and House differences, it still must go to the Senate for final approval before going to the President.

As agreed to by a Senate - House conference committee the bill is $26,057,000 under the total voted by the Senate and $43,281,300 over the amount voted by the House. One item cut out originally earmarked $22,000 for big bay harbor planning in Michigan.

Michigan construction items left in the bill were:

Battle Creek, $2,000,000; Cheboygan River and Harbor, $50,000; Great Lakes connecting channels, $13,000,000; Harrisville Harbor, $100,000; Houghton - Hancock Bridge, $300,000; Saginaw River, $475,000; St. Marys River, $500,000; Whitefish Point Harbor, $130,000; Manistique Harbor, $150,000.

Wants UP History Developed Further

MARQUETTE (AP)—Development of northern Michigan's historical resources will be urged at the Eighth Annual Upper Peninsula Historical Conference here Friday and Saturday.

Completion of the Straits bridge will create a greater interest in the history of the Upper Peninsula, Dr. Lewis Beeson, secretary of the Michigan Historical Commission, declared.

Justice John D. Voelker of the state Supreme Court will speak on the legal aspects of Upper Peninsula history at the Friday night banquet.

Two historical markers will be dedicated during the conference, one at Negaunee on Friday commemorating the Iron Range of that name and one Saturday at Au Train telling of the history of Lake Superior.

Royal Oak Shooter Wins State Title

New state shotgun champion, as determined at the recent 3-way competition at the Williams Gun Sight company's fields in Davison, is Royal Oak's Ray Pace. Score of 21 on the bird field, 24 at the traps and 25 on the skeet field gave Pace a 70 x 75 score, one over the runnerup, Art Hickey of Saginaw, who had to beat Jack Patton of Detroit in a shootoff.

Mrs. Viola Vanderwater of Waterford (OCSC) won the women's title with 51, and Bob Uptegraff of Davison and Ellis McColley of Flint won the team event with 135 x 150.

Fast Start for Swim Test

Two Records Washed Out

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — With two American records already broken, the 1957 National AAU women's outdoor swimming and diving championships reach the midway point tonight with three new champions seeking additional honors.

Dawn Fraser, 19, Olympic record holder from Australia, and Carolyn Murray, 15, of North Hollywood, Calif., broke two freestyle records last night.

Miss Fraser and her Australian teammate, Lorraine Crapp, were to rest today. But Miss Murray, Paula Jean Myers, new one-meter diving champion from Los Angeles, and Mary Lou Elsevius, 110-yard breaststroke winner from Berkeley, Calif., were among the entries for the four-event schedule.

Dawn, whose humor and antics make her a favorite with the crowd, defeated Chris Von Saltza, Santa Clara, Calif., and Miss Crapp while breaking the old record of 1:05.6 in the 110-yard freestyle twice.

All three bettered the old mark while qualifying, with Miss Fraser leading the way with a 1:04.5. In the night finals Miss Fraser won with a 1:03.9 and was followed by Miss Von Saltza at 1:05.5 and Miss Crapp at 1:05.6.

Miss Murray, 1957 national junior 250-yard freestyle event, was fourth in the slow qualifying competition in the mile freestyle but led the four-way assault on the old record of 23:03.4 with a 22.13.9 in the finals.

Also bettering the mark held by Carolyn Green, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. were Brenda Dietz, Washington, D. C. 22:36.8; Donna Graram, Indianapolis, Ind., 22:44.1; and Joanna Blackwell, Los Angeles, 22:46.1.

Nancy Simons, Miami, Fla., holder of the old 110-yard record, finished fifth.

Miss Myers, 22, will be seeking her third national diving championship tonight in the three-meter event. Winner in April of both indoor events, the pretty Californian came from behind last night to win the one-meter championship with 436.95 points to 429.75 for Irene McDonald, Canadian Olympic diver now competing with the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

'Any Deer' Season Set; OK Grouse Regulations

HIGGINS LAKE (AP) — The state conservation commission has approved an "any deer" special season for this fall expected to harvest 18,540 deer. Only one delegation appeared before the commission to argue against the special seasons.

The full 41-day, five-bird-a-day grouse season also was approved. The commission also voted to go along with federal regulations on waterfowl.

Special deer season calls for the issuance of 60,450 permits for the taking of deer of any age or sex — bucks, does or fawns. This will be in addition to the regular Nov. 15-30 shooting period.

Game division experts recommend the special season to harvest deer in food shortage and crop damage areas.

Five of the proposed special season areas for this fall will be in the Upper Peninsula, 26 in the Lower Peninsula and one in Allegan County in the southern Lower Peninsula.

One major change established a concurrent Nov. 15-30 "any deer" season in all five Upper Peninsula localities and in 13 of the 26 special areas in the Lower Peninsula.

Dec. 1-2 dates were set for other northern Lower Peninsula areas and a Dec. 1-8 season was scheduled for Allegan County.

Conservation officials admitted they were surprised at the lack of any organized protest to the shooting of does and fawns — a bitter issue in past years.

Commission approved grouse shooting from Oct. 1 to Nov. 10 in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula and an Oct. the season.

Michigan Conservation Department's "general creel census" is a random sampling of sport fishing conditions over the entire state. Information collected by conservation officers is compiled and analyzed by the department's Institute for Fisheries Research at Ann Arbor.

HONORED—Amos Alonzo Stagg, who will be 95 next Friday, will be honored tonight at a party in Stockton, Calif. Stagg has been one of the country's greatest college grid coaches, with a 55-year service in the game.

As many as 15,000 eggs may be laid at one time by the American toad, but less than one tadpole in a hundred will live to reach the adult stage.

Terrible Heat Wave Hits San Francisco—77 Today

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—San Francisco is gripped by a "heat wave" — with today's high expected to hit 77 degrees.

Today's San Francisco Examiner said on page one:

". . . the thermometer soared wildly to 78 degrees" yesterday. The previous record for Aug. 12, 76 degrees, was reached only twice in recorded history — in 1886 and in 1888.

Stock Traders Cautious in Readjustment Period

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — As rolling readjustments go, the current one is about the least painful so far. If you look only at the statistics it could scarcely be more pleasant.

The factory work week shortens a bit but the average take-home pay goes up anyway — the rising cost of living has added a cent or two here and there to the hourly wage rates.

Factory employment is off a bit but total employment is up — the trades and services flourish, especially the summer jobs of catering to the pleasures of Americans taking it easy.

Summer shutdowns in some industries are more pronounced and longer than usual but those laid off climb onto state-insured unemployment rolls. This provides enough spending money to go ahead with their vacation plans.

The number of jobless has risen a bit over last year but the percentage rate holds steady at around 4 per cent of the total civilian labor force. This is because the labor force is larger than ever before.

Why then should stock traders be getting cautious and businessmen watchful?

All of the cushions that have been padded so industriously for the last 25 years seem to be working. And so, the readjustment is going along smoothly, at least so far. And few are those who see any really rough going ahead.

A rise in the cost of living brings a rise in pay for about four million workers — even if for many more millions there is no such cushion.

Unemployment benefits ease the jolts and jars when industries struggle to get their inventories, production and sales back into line with each other.

Industrial production—the making of goods for sale — is off. People aren't buying as many of these things now, especially of the durable variety and the big ticket items.

But total consumer spending continues at a peak. People are spending for other things, particularly for services.

Then why the uncertainty? Perhaps it's because these cushions have never yet had a real testing and the jittery just can't believe in them confidently until they have had.

NOTICE OF LETTING OF PONTIAC Lake Level Control Contract and Review of Apportionments.

Notice is hereby given, that I, Daniel W. Barry, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Oakland, State of Michigan, will, on the 26th day of August, A.D., 1957, at the office of the Oakland County Drain Commissioner in the City of Pontiac, in said County of Oakland receive sealed bids until 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, when bids will be opened and publicly announced for the repair of dam structure and dikes known and designated as "Pontiac Lake Level Control" located and established in the Township of Waterford and White Lake in said County.

Said project is divided into three (3) sections, each requiring the following quantities:

Section No. 1.

Dike No. 1 beginning at station number 0+00 at the lower end of said dike and extending to station number 7+34, a distance of 734 feet, and having an average top width of 15 feet.

Dike No. 2 beginning at station number 0+40 and extending to station number 3+11, a distance of 271 feet, having an average top width of 15 feet.

Dike No. 3 beginning at station number 0—05 and extending to station number 1+61, a distance of 166 feet, having an average top width of 15 feet.

Dike No. 4 beginning at station number 0+00 and extending to station number 9+37, a distance of 937 feet, having an average top width of 15 feet.

Dike No. 5 beginning at station number 0+10 and extending to station number 1+48, a distance of 138 feet, having an average top width of 15 feet.

Dike No. 6 beginning at station number 0+20 and extending to station number 2+48, a distance of 235 feet, having an average top width of 15 feet.

Dike No. 8 beginning at station number 0+25 and extending to station number 4+24, a distance of 399 feet, having an average top width of 15 feet.

Necessitating: 12,690 cu. yds. of earth fill.

31 cu. yds. rip-rap (dumped)

Fertilizing and seeding of dikes.

Section No. 2.

90 cu. yds. extrusion grout (in place)

Section No. 3.

191 cu. yds. regular or prepakt concrete.

Said job will be let in three sections as indicated above in accordance with the diagram now on file with the other papers pertaining to said project, in the office of the County Drain Commissioner of the County of Oakland to which reference may be had by all parties interested, and bids will be made and received accordingly. Contracts will be made with the lowest responsible bidder giving adequate security for the performance of the work, in the sum then and there to be fixed by me, reserving to myself the right to reject any and all bids, and to adjourn such letting to such time and place as I shall publicly announce. The date for the completion of such contract, and the terms of payment therefor, shall and will be announced at the time and place of letting.

Notice is further hereby given, that on Wednesday the 4th day of September, 1957, at the Drain Commissioner's office, No. 1 Lafayette Street in the City of Pontiac, County of Oakland, or at such other time and place thereafter, to which I, the County Drain Commissioner aforesaid, may adjourn the same, the apportionment for benefits and the lands comprised within the "Pontiac Lake Level Control Special Assessment District," and the apportionments thereof will be subject to review for one day, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon. At said review the computation of costs for said project will also be open for inspection by any parties interested.

American Airlines Tops Previous July Records

American Airlines set company records for July this year while flying more than 700,000 passengers 473,000,000 passenger miles, according to Jack A. Tompkins, Detroit district sales manager.

The passengers - carried figure was an increase of nine per cent over July of 1956 while the passenger miles traveled represented an eight per cent increase over July of 1956.

The airline's freight tonnage figures also showed major increases over last year's July totals.

Senate to Spend Day Eulogizing Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate, which voted in 1954 to condemn some of the conduct of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis), pays formal tribute to him in death today.

McCarthy, one of the most controversial figures in the nation's political history, died May 2. His body was placed in state in the Senate chamber, and a funeral service was conducted from the very Senate rostrum from which the roll call vote to criticize him was taken Dec. 2, 1954.

In today's ceremony the Senate lays aside all other business to permit members to deliver speeches of eulogy to his memory.

McCarthy's widow, Jean, was assigned an honor seat in the gallery.

Sen. Wiley, Wisconsin's surviving Republican senator, and Sen. Knowland (Calif), the Senate GOP leader, planned leadoff tributes. Wiley and McCarthy had clashed bitterly and often on many scores. But in the 67-22 vote on the resolution to condemn McCarthy's conduct, Wiley was one of six senators who refrained from voting. McCarthy himself had voted "present."

Area Teacher to Attend Driver Training Institute

Donald Beedle, of Waterford Township's school district, will be among 75 Michigan high school instructors graduating from the 29th Driver Training Institute Friday.

The two-week course is sponsored by the University of Michigan, in cooperation with the State Department of Public Instruction, State Safety Commission and Automobile Club of Michigan.

The course includes proper classroom and behind-the-wheel methods of teaching eligible high school students how to drive.

Stocks Balance, Slightly Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks were slightly higher on balance in early trading today.

It was pretty much the same story as yesterday. Changes were mostly narrow and trading continued to drag.

United Aircraft was a feature, up about two points after reporting earnings of $2.77 for the June quarter compared with $2.33 in the same period last year.

Steels, motors, oils and rails were irregularly higher. Metals and chemicals were mixed.

The day's business developments included a round of price cuts in glass used for windows and picture frames, a cut in some petroleum prices, and another hike in interest rates on some short-term loans.

American Shipbuilding, after dropping 10 to 75 yesterday, extended that loss by about three points.

Gulf Oil and U. S. Gypsum rose about a point. Ahead fractions were Johns Manville, General Electric, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Kennecott and Texas Co.

Small losers included Hiram Walker, International Paper, Boeing, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, International Nickel and Southern Railway.

Coast Guard Searching for Missing Sailboat

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Coast Guard today put out an alert for a 54-foot sailboat manned by two teenagers which left Erie, Pa., Sunday bound for Fairport Harbor in nearby Lake County.

The large sailboat, named "Intrigue," failed to arrive as scheduled, and it was feared it may have run into trouble in a storm.

Pontiac City Affairs

Improvement Items Heard

The City Commission breezed through a 28-point agenda last night consisting mostly of routine public improvement items.

Public hearings were held on two public improvement works and the city assessor was authorized to prepare an assessment roll.

They were on the city's intention to construct curbs and gutters on Homestead Drive from Astor Street to East Boulevard, and the construction of a storm drain on the block bounded by Glendale, Menominee, Genessee and Telegraph Roads.

The commission also conducted a hearing on a special assessment roll for curb and gutter work on Bagley Street from South Blvd. to Arthur but deferred confirmation.

The commission aso deferred confirmation on a special assessment roll for sidewalk and change of grade on the west side of Jessie St., from Auburn north approximately 385 feet, and on a special assessment roll for grading and graveling the alley west of Telegraph Rd. from Voorheis St. to Hazel Street.

The Commission approved a special assessment roll for curb and gutter work on Yale Street from Carlisle to Stanley.

Bids on the Perry Park Storm Sewer and West Huron sanitary Relief sewer have not been completely tabulated, City Manager Walter K. Wilman said, but will be brought before the Commission for action at next Tuesday's meeting.

The commission also approved the Floyd Hollway Land contract for the extension of E. Huron St. purchasing lot 22 of Thurber's addition for $33,000.

The commission offered the Baldwin Rubber Local of the CIO $45,000 for property on Pike St. to be used as part of the city's W. Lawrence - Pike St. parking lot. A reply in 30 days was requested.

The Commission also adopted an ordinance to rezone to Residential — a part of lot 1, Assessor's Plat 35.

The Commission asked the City Plan Commission to study the possibility of rezoning the entire north side of W. Huron St. from Thorpe to Lincoln as commercial. The commission had asked the planning group previously to study the rezoning of 3 lots on the block.

Mild Selling Drops Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — A mild wave of selling hit grain futures on the board of trade today, but losses were confined to fractions in most cases.

Wheat turned downward somewhat after two days of advances. Heavy spring wheat receipts and subsequent hedging appeared responsible for most of the downturn.

Soybeans and corn dipped on selling which in part reflected good growing weather and a five-day forecast which indicated more of the same.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, Sept. $2.18⅜; corn was ½ to 1 cent lower, Sept. $1.29½; oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, Sept. 65¼; rye was ¼ to ¾ lower, Sept. $1.38½; soybeans were ⅞ lower to ½ higher, Sept. $2.48¼; and lard was unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, Sept. $12.97.

Stubborn Rancher Nonexistent to Army

McGREGOR RANGE, N. M. (AP) —The director of the Army's McGregor missile firing range has officially ordered personnel to say nothing about its fuss with John Prather, 82-year-old rancher.

The order reads:

"1. Military personnel will not discuss, give opinions or answer questions concerning the rancher John Prather - McGregor range case.

"2. The vicinity of the John Prather ranch, east of Alamogordo, N. M., on the McGregor range is off limits to all military personnel."

The Army went to court and won possession of Prather's 27,000-acre ranch in order to expand the missile testing range. Prather refused to move.

Last week the Army relented and said Prather could keep the 15-acre plot around his ranch-house as long as he lives.

Prather still refused to budge and said he'd kill anyone sent to move him. He's still there.

Boy Falls From Car, Suffers Cuts, Bruises

Four-year-old James P. Wright tumbled out of the family car as his mother drove around a corner yesterday.

Mrs. Genevieve L. Wright, 22, of 249 High St., told Pontiac police officers she was making a left hand turn from Blaine into Montcalm street at noon when the right-hand door swung open and her son fell out. He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for cuts and bruises and then released.

Need 10 Pints of Blood to Have 3 Teeth Pulled LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Fred House, 9, has hemophilia, a disease that causes excessive bleeding from even minor wounds due to a lack of the normal blood-clotting agents.

Doctors say Fred must have three teeth pulled. But before it can be done, they must have on hand 10 pints of type A-negative blood plasma.

It took 17 pints of blood to stop bleeding the last time Fred had teeth pulled.

But despite the handicap his mother Mrs. Mary House says Fred is "the friskiest thing you ever saw."

Keego Woman Hurt in Car Collision

Rose A. Homes, 32, of Keego Harbor, was injured at 5 p.m. yesterday while riding as a passenger in a car driven by Ada E. Wideman, 50, of 7034 Hatchery Rd., Drayton Plains.

They collided with a car driven by Shiela Ann Maledon, 22, of 1011 E. Avon Rd., Rochester, at Menominee and Ottawa St.

ROBERT M. OWEN

Robert M. Owen Named Elks Ruler

Robert M. Owen, of 8476 Cascade, has been named a District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks. Owen is a member of Pontiac Lodge No. 810 and the new position will cover the Michigan Southeast District.

A 17-year veteran of Elk membership, Owen has served as Exalted Ruler of the Pontiac Lodge and a five-year term on the lodge's Board of Trustees, holding the chairmanship of that group at present.

He was elected vice president of the Michigan State Elks Association Southeast District for the year 1954 - 55 and served on the State Ritualistic Committee for 1956 - 57.

Owen will attend a regional conference of district deputies in Chicago early in September.

AA Groups Schedule Sunday Farm Picnic

More than 5,000 persons are expected to attend the first joint picnic of Alcoholics Anonymous of Eastern Michigan and Southwestern Ontario Sunday at John F. Ivory's Pitch Haven Farm, 9660 Cooley Lake Rd.

Included in the picnic attendance will be an estimated 500 members of six Pontiac groups of AA, officials said.

They're Just Bitter

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot reports that five sailors rode in a snazzy convertible down the city's main drag (Granby Street) sporting a bright bumper sign reading "Join the Army."

William Henry Harrison held the shortest term of any U.S. president. He died one month after taking office.

Plan Meeting on Drag Strip

Two Law Agencies Hope to Organize Teen Association

Two area law enforcement agencies will sponsor a second teenage meeting tomorrow night in hopes of organizing a drag-strip teen association.

Juvenile and Safety Deputy Steve Navarre, Oakland County Sheriff's Department, and his brother Patrolman Richard A. Navarre, Pontiac police vice squad, will conduct the meeting at 8 p.m. in a fifth floor classroom of the Oakland County Jail, 104 Wayne St.

Last week, more than 60 boys and girls and several parents attended a similar meeting at the Madison Junior High School.

It was called following complaints from local teenagers on the lack of sufficient recreational facilities in Pontiac for teens.

Reporting on the first meeting, Deputy Navarre said the group decided to be named the Oakland County Timing Strip Association instead of drag strip.

They felt the word drag had the connotation of roughness and unlawfulness, he explained.

Sister Kenny Center to Open

Hospital in Ferndale Will Supplement Work of Farmington Unit

Announcement of the opening of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Rehabilitation Center has been made by Dr. John C. Montgomery, president of the Kenny Hospital Medical Staff. The new Kenny facility, located at 22646 Woodward Avenue in Ferndale, will be one of the most modern in the United States with ever ytype of rehabiliation equipment available.

The Kenny program is designed not only to help patients make physical adjustment but also is directed toward the solution of problems concerning social and psychological rehabilitation.

The Center will supplement present accommodations for in-patient care at the Sister Kenny Hospital in Farmington and will provide a more convenient location for day-care patients.

Open house will be observed from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 21 with members of the Kenny trustee board and medical staff on hand to greet visitors.

The program of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation is supported in Michigan by the United Foundation and the Michigan United Fund.

Building in Commerce Township

Permit Total Hits $1,101,225

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Building activity proceeded at a brisk pace in Commerce Township during the month of July when 24 permits were issued for a total estimated cost of construction figure of $416,500.

The big upswing last month boosted the total estimated cost of construction to $1,101,225 for the first seven months of 1957, according to Morgan Reichert, township building inspector.

The July figures were the highest of any month in 1957, almost doubling June's total estimated cost of construction which amounted to $233,750.

July permits were for 20 new single residences, $231,500; one church, $28,000; one factory, $125,000; and two store buildings, $32,000.

Monthly building figures for the first six months of 1957 are tabulated below:

January — 4 single dwellings. Total estimated cost: $28,500.

February — 1 single dwelling, 1 home addition, 1 factory addition and gas station. Total estimated cost: $30,000.

March — 8 single dwellings, 6 home additions or garages, 1 shop. Total estimated cost: $117,350.

April — 8 single dwellings, 11 home additions or garages. Total estimated cost: $118,700.

May — 8 single dwellings, 25 home additions or garages, 1 factory addition, 1 drug store addition. Total estimated cost: $156,425.

Total estimated cost of construction for the first six months of 1957 was $684,725.

Holly Firm Names E. E. Baker Manager

HOLLY — Edwin E. Baker of Flint has been appointed general manager of the Holly Manufacturing Co. This announcement was made today by C. A. Fellows, president of J. P. Burroughs & Son, Inc., of Flint, of which the Holly plant is a subsidiary.

The local plant manufactures concrete and mortar products, and steps are under way to greatly expand its production. This will include bonding cement, patching plaster and water-proofing and cement paints.

METAMORA — Loretta Jane Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Scott of Lake Orion, and Stuart Colson Andress, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Andress of Metamora were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in First Baptist Church at Lake Orion.

Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. Delores Dunbar and Mrs. Phyllis Sherman. Duane Balch and David Dunbar were the bridegroom's attendants.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony, after which the couple left for a short trip to northern Michigan.

Card of Thanks 1

THE FAMILY OF EDWARD ERwin wishes to express a special thanks to friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and floral offerings during the illness and loss of our loved one. Also our thanks to Rev. Webb, employes of G.M.C. Truck & Coach Div. and Local 594 U.A.W. C.I.O. Mrs. Edward Erwin and Family.

WE WISH TO THANK OUR MANY friends & neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement. Also many thanks to the Voorhees Funeral Home and Dr. Robert Lyons. The family of Pete Aiaman.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF GLEN McPHAIL who passed away Aug. 14, 1949. Do not ask me if I miss him, for there's much a vacant place; Often I think I hear his footsteps, or I see his smiling face. For he left me broken-hearted, friends may think the world is healed; but they so little know the sorrow that is in my wound is healed; but they so little heart concealed. Sadly missed by wife and daughter.

YOU'D LIKE TO BUILD
MONEY IS TIED UP
IN YOUR OLD HOME

It is paid for or nearly so. Naturally you would like to get as much for it as you can. There are several ways this can be done. Let's see which way will be best suited to you and your old home.

1. Our tremendous buying power directed through streamlined buying sources makes our low prices possible.
2. TO SERVE YOU BETTER WE HAVE enlarged and redesigned the area's only authorized HOME PLANNERS CENTER.
3. We have added a new KING SIZE magnetic HOME PLANNER AND VISUALIZER. It will enable you to see how furnishings, cabinets and other arrangements will be in the plan of your choice or help you rearrange the plan to meet your requirements.
4. To help you we have vastly increased the number of our plans to 1500 and working blueprints and material lists to 600 in our 20 ft. long filing cases. These plans are by the world famous designer Richard B. Pollman, with architects Palmquist & Wright, A.I.A. We will price any of these or your own special plan.

Please phone for an appointment. We'll be pleased to help you with your building problems, including financing and a lot.

Refuses to Use Allen's Formula

Instead He Emphasizes Gentle Humor, Music With Melody

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — When Jack Paar took over last month as emcee of NBC's late night show, it marked the end of the era of the large toenail.

Paar, a 22-year radio and TV veteran at the age of 38, has inherited a tough spot. When the show was called "Tonight," it made Steve Allen a big star. Lately, under a variety of emcees and columnists, it has been running a poor second to the old movies on competing channels.

And now it's Paar's turn. "I am trying to present gentle, intelligent humor," he says. And then, after a moment, he adds, "And better music than any other TV show."

Defining "gentle, intelligent humor" is done by an example. He asked an associate to dig up some interesting people, people with unusual ideas, eccentrics he could talk to.

A few days later, the man returned. He had unearthed among other oddities, the man who claimed to have the largest toenail in the world. Even had to wear a special shoe.

NO MENTAL CASES

"The person who found that man," Paar says, "is no longer with us. That's not what I wanted at all. I want no freaks. No mental cases. No nuts."

Paar's idea of an interesting, albeit odd, person to talk with is a lady he located in Columbia, Mo. She is a professional fault finder—hires herself out to big companies and finds faults that can be corrected.

His humor, he insists, is based on a criterion of whether it is "nice" or not. It is always in good taste. It never hurts anybody. It never makes a fool of anyone. Hence, no nuts or large toenails need apply.

Almost inevitably, his program will be compared with the old "Tonight" under Steve Allen. For one thing, it's on the same network, same time. And it will come from the same New York studio—the Hudson Theater—that housed Allen's program.

"But," says Paar, "I'll try to do as little of Allen's format as I can. It shouldn't be too hard to be different—after all, I only saw the Allen show once in my life."

A KERN MAN

And there's a big difference in personality and viewpoint. Allen was a jozz man. Paar admits he "doesn't understand" jazz, consequently will use little or none at all. He's a self-confessed "Jerome Kern man—I like to hear the melody."

Paar got the job by the simple expedient of being the best of those who tried. When Allen first left, for a while he did two or three shows a week, with the balance of the week filled out by any comedian who was available.

Paar did two of those shows, pulled more mail than any others and was immediately offered the spot permanently.

But he refused. He would have had to work with Allen's crew, oriented to the jazz-and-freak point of view. He felt he wouldn't be happy that way.

Later, after Allen left the show completely, NBC again wanted him, but understood he wouldn't take it, because of his previous refusal. Paar was then doing a radio show and occasional guest spots with Ed Sullivan—"I wanted the job."

DEAL WAS SET

Columnist Earl Wilson acted as intermediary. He told Paar NBC wanted him, but suggested he shouldn't call. Paar didn't, putting in two days of waiting by the telephone. Finally, NBC called him and the deal was set.

Now he is beset by two emotions — "I'm scared and humble," he says. What scares him is the same thing that humbles him — he'll have to do five programs a week, an hour and 45 minutes each.

JACK PAAR

Hitherto, he's done only half-hour shows.

He's also scared and humbled by the opportunity. This could be the stepping-stone to either fame or oblivion. Steve Allen became famous on the show. Paar, with simple frankness, admits he would be delighted to have that happen to him.

Knowing Paar's record of success—success as far as the public goes—it's a good bet he'll be the next big star.

Wilson Solves Problem of Television Ratings

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD—Everybody was talking about TV ratings and nobody was doing anything about them—then Wilson came along with the Big Solution.

It was so simple, too, the way I solved it.

I happened to hear an amazingly candid speech by Manie Sacks, NBC staff vice president in charge of programming. He asked the 200 listeners how many had ever been called by a rating service.

WILSON

About a dozen held up their hands.

"That's unusual," Manie said. "Usually it's three or four." He then explained that Sid Caesar was off NBC partly because he got low ratings. But he confessed he didn't trust the ratings.

"Why didn't NBC keep Caesar on then if they believe he's good despite the ratings?" somebody asked.

"Because the sponsors go by the ratings. They have nothing else to go by," Sacks said.

Well, now if he would just accept the Wilson Plan, they would have something to go by.

Why don't the three major networks get together (fat chance!) and set up their own big rating system that would properly sample the country's opinions? They have the wealth to finance it, and they have, or could hire, the brains to do it.

An NBC man out here told me, "It's a great idea, but the networks will never buy it."

"Because CBS is on top now and they'd never go for it now. They like the ratings now. When you're on top, the ratings are lovely. And when CBS is down and we're on top, we wouldn't go for it, because then we would just love the ratings."

It certainly was simple to solve and I'm glad I thought of it.

Locates Cache of Accused Spy

FBI Finds $15,000 Hid in Manhattan Vault by Rudolf Abel

NEW YORK (AP) — FBI agents have found $15,000 cached in a Manhattan bank by accused Soviet spy Rudolf Abel. They are reportedly hunting for much more.

Newspaper reports said Abel, a 55-year-old colonel in the Soviet secret police, may have had anywhere from $50,000 to a million dollars expense money buried in Manhattan, Brooklyn, New Hyde Park, N.Y., Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and Quincy, Mass.

Abel had $6,000 on him when arrested last June as an illegal alien. Another $15,000 was found in a safe deposit box in a Manhattan bank. The box was rented under the name of Alan Winston.

The new find was disclosed yesterday.

There was speculation that the government might put a tax lien on the money. This would call on Abel to prove that it was not earned income and thus provide a clue as to its source.

Abel still was without a lawyer to defend him on spy charges. He was given a further court postponement until Friday to try to get one.

Brooklyn Federal Court Judge Matthew T. Abruzzo said he will appoint counsel if Abel is unable to find one.

Abel was indicted last week on espionage charges that could bring the death penalty. The government said he posed for nine years as a Brooklyn artist while actually serving Moscow as a spy.

Snake Nearly Panics Passengers on Bus

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Near panic broke out on a city bus yesterday when a three-foot black snake slithered down the aisle.

M. H. Peters, the driver, eased his bus to the curb, grabbed a broom and joined 13-year-old Cornell Chirila in cornering his pet.

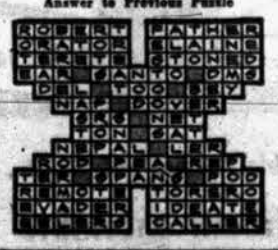

Cornell was bitten on both hands but he pleaded with Peters not to kill the snake. Cornell had just bought it at a pet shop as a companion for a five-footer he had at home. It had broken out of a paper sack he was carrying.

Police took Cornell to a hospital and the snake to the Missouri River. Cornell's father released the one at home.

What's Become of Sally? She's in Television Now

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—If you've been wondering what's become of Sally, she's in television now. Not that old gal of yours, but a modern Sally—a composite character being played by a movie producer's star wife—12 years after being created by his first wife!

"Sally," starring Joan Caulfield, with Marion Lorne (the Mrs. Gurney of the ill-fated "Mr. Peepers" shows) debuts Sept. 22 on NBC-TV as a telefilm series every Sunday night, opposite Jack Benny twice a month.

It's the second TV show for blonde, one-time movie queen Joan.

The first was a live CBS series, "My Favorite Husband," which expired in 1955 after a two-year run. This time Joan's favorite husband, Movie Producer Frank ("The Robe") Ross, is her producer boss.

The character of Sally, he frankly admits, was inspired by the light comedy role Jean Arthur played in "The Lady Takes a Chance," a 1944 movie made by Ross.

Jean Arthur, at the time, was Mrs. Frank Ross.

But the biggest news about "Sally" is that it's the first independent telefilm series being physically produced by Paramount Pictures right on the Paramount lot.

But now Paramount's handling everything for "Sally" in bigtime movie style—the crew, the sets, the film lab work and the bookkeeping—all for a percentage. Ross just brings in his scripts, his wife, his cast and his director, Bill Asher, one-time "I Love Lucy" cueman.

Joan even has a reserved auto parking space on the lot, an indication that TV stars now are right on the same social level as movie queens at Paramount.

But Paramount's star-studded mountain trademark will not appear on "Sally." That's still reserved for Vista-Vision in theaters. But the bars are down and more telefilm production is predicted for Paramount studio.

Joan Caulfield has traded in her "My Favorite Husband" pony-tail for a more sophisticated hairdo she calls a "French twist" for her role of Sally, a fey character employed as a traveling companion by Marion Lorne, who plays a fabulously rich widow.

All of the plots in the first series of 34 half-hours have European city backgrounds.

Joan and Marion, playing it for laughs, become involved with all sorts of fantastic people.

The characters they meet range from an escort service gigilo, played by Francis Lederer, to a mad French existentialist.

Graham Says Youths Have 'Giants' to Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham says the nation's youth—like the biblical David who slew the giant Goliath — also have "giants" of their own to combat.

Among these are anger, carelessness, lust, disobedience and laziness, he says.

The evangelist is devoting his Madison Square Garden meetings this week to juvenile delinquency and the problems of young people.

There was a high percentage of teen-agers last night in the crowd of 18,500.

Urging the nation's youth to follow a Christian way of life and form clubs for Christ, Graham said: "It will give you a new challenge for life, something for you to do."

"Put the principles of Christianity to work, but don't come to Christ if you're lazy," he told the young people. "There is no room for the loafer in his army."

There were 720 "decisions for Christ" at Graham's call. This raised the total so far in his New York crusade to 45,864. Total attendance since the crusade opened May 15 stands at 1,512,800.

Jobs Not Geared to Automation

Tool Engineers Report Little Relationship With Unemployment

DETROIT (AP) — The American Society of Tool Engineers said Tuesday a recent study it had made indicated only little relationship between unemployment and automation in Michigan.

A U.S. Labor Department group and a state citizens committee both are studying the effect of automation on Michigan's current unemployment rate.

In offering its services to both groups, ASTE President Harold E. Collins said the society found only 17 per cent of all industrial operations are even capable of being automated.

"Actually there is very little evidence from our survey which, on the surface, would indicate much of a relationship between unemployment in Michigan and automation," Collins said.

ASTE, with a membership of 39,000 is made up of engineers primarily concerned with the implementation of mass-production techniques.

It said it was prepared to put all the data it had compiled at the disposal of the federal and state study groups.

The studies are to determine how many people in Michigan have been put out of work because of automation, what these people are now doing and what type of retraining might be needed for them to meet the automation challenge.
