Nixon Will Press for Upgrade of U.S. Maritime Fleet

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President Nixon will ask Congress this week to modernize the nation's aging merchant fleet and put it back in competition with the major maritime powers, including the fast-growing Russian fleet.

★ ★ ★

Nixon will ask for $300 million to finance construction of 30 ships a year — three times the current rate. He also is expected to urge industry to support a multi-billion private investment program to expand the Merchant Marine Administration.

Nixon pledged during his 1968 campaign to try to restore the United States "to the role of a first-rate maritime power."

★ ★ ★

But observers agree the job will not be easy. At present, two-thirds of the 963-ship American fleet is over 25 years old. The U.S. ranks 11th among the world ship-building nations, and its once-sleek fleet of passenger liners is down to a handful and is expected to get even smaller.

Worse, critics claim, is the fact that the United States now carries only 5 per cent of its foreign commerce in American-flag ships. Nixon has promised to raise the total to 30 per cent.

Nixon's new chairman of the Federal Maritime Commission, Mrs. Helen Bentley, former maritime editor of the Baltimore Sun newspaper, said last week Nixon would seek to revive goals of the 1936 Merchant Marine Act. The law fostered a shipbuilding program that helped sustain the nation during World War II and the Marshall Plan after the war, she said.

In a related development, the Pentagon indicated yesterday it does not want an extra $1 billion for naval ship-building voted by the House. The House added the figure to the Pentagon's $2.5 billion authorization request for ship-building this fiscal year.

One of the key elements in the Nixon program is expected to be an emphasis on producing a merchant fleet that may not necessarily be first in numbers, but one that will be able to take advantage of the new maritime design technology to operate both fast and efficiently — two factors needed to offset higher American operating costs.

★ ★ ★

Paul Hall, Seafarers International Union president, said the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway in 1959 "made the Great Lakes the fourth seacoast of the United States . . .

"At latest count," he continued, "approximately 45 foreign flag ships were carrying foreign commerce to and from Lake ports for every American flag vessel engaged in this trade."

★ ★ ★

The volume of trade is underscored by the fact, Hall said, that "more tons of cargo pass through the locks at Sault St. Marie each year than transit the Panama Canal" and the seaway is closed about four months a year because of ice.

General Put on Standby in Graft Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has abruptly recalled a general from Europe to the Pentagon for what may be further sensational testimony in a Senate investigation of military graft.

The Army said Brig. Gen. Earl F. Cole was being reassigned indefinitely to Washington "in connection with the current Senate hearings on alleged irregularities" in noncommissioned officers' club operations.

★ ★ ★

The Army didn't go further officially, but Pentagon sources said Cole's name has figured in military reports on the irregularities which have been turned over to a subcommittee headed by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Committee sources said Cole, who turned 50 today and is a native of Madison County, Neb., is expected to be questioned although he has not yet been subpoenaed.

Ribicoff's panel is scheduled to resume hearings tomorrow.

It was understood the subcommittee wants to question Cole about his tour in Vietnam as deputy chief of staff for personnel and administration in 1966 and 1967 — a job which made him a chief overseer of NCO club operations.

★ ★ ★

It was during that general period when M. Sgt. William Higdon, named in previous Senate testimony, was chief custodian of several service clubs in Vietnam.

Witnesses have named Higdon as a kingpin in allegedly crooked service club operations in Germany, the United States and Vietnam.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird today ordered the services to assure that officers' and NCO clubs and open messes are audited at least once a year by independent certified or licensed public accountants.

Laird said independent audits will be required for clubs and open messes spending $10,000 a year or more. He exempted activities aboard ships or in combat or remote areas overseas.

Fulbright Puts Off Inquiry on Vietnam

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, contributing to a move of optimism surrounding peace developments, put off its hearings on the war until after President Nixon's Nov. 3 policy report to the nation.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, announced postponement of the Vietnam hearings, which had been scheduled to begin next Monday.

The foreign relations inquiry is to deal with a series of resolutions seeking U. S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

Fulbright, in a subsequent meeting with newsmen, said he truly believes that Nixon is "trying to wind down the war in Vietnam."

Fulbright said he assumes Nixon's scheduled Nov. 3 speech will give additional evidence of the President's determination "to liquidate the war."

Meanwhile, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said President Nixon's latest orders to commanders in Vietnam amounted to a unilateral cease-fire.

While speculation continued over whether Nixon might announce a unilateral cease-fire — in his Nov. 3 speech, Mansfield said the President already had made a basic change in policy by ordering troops to limit themselves to "protective reaction."

Asked by a reporter if this was a de facto cease fire, Mansfield said "I think that is what protective reaction means."

However, the White House continued to warn against speculation on what Nixon would announce in his speech on Vietnam.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., predicted that all U.S. ground troops would be out of Vietnam in one year.

'MUST ASSURE SAFETY'

He cautioned against a precipitous withdrawal, saying "the safety of the minority groups must be assured unless we are now willing to assume responsibility for a wholesale massacre" in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott said there had been a "growth of optimism" and expressed hope for a "speedy de-escalation of the war."

State of Seige Is Imposed in Chile After Army Revolt

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — President Eduardo Frei Montalva imposed a state of siege on Chile today and recessed Congress indefinitely amid mounting reports of a burgeoning army rebellion in this copper-rich land where U.S. firms have about $1 billion in mining investments.

★ ★ ★

Two army units of the 2nd Division, based in Santiago, rebelled early in the day, and within hours there were persistent reports that other units were joining in. The government announced it was facing "an attempt at military sedition."

★ ★ ★

A presidential decree read to the nation over radio and television proclaimed the state of siege, which is a modified form of martial law.

The crisis in Chile, which has not had a military coup in more than 30 years, follows by only a year an army revolt which seized power in Peru, and a more recent military upheaval in Bolivia. In both cases U.S. firms were seized.

In Washington, officials said the issues in the Chilean uprising related to military pay levels and other improvements in the status of the military. The controversy between the government and officers trying to force changes has been building up for weeks. A CIA spokesman said the agency had been aware of developments leading to this turn of events in Chile for the last six weeks.

The leader of the uprising in Chile appeared to be Brig. Gen. Roberto Viaux Marambo, who was promoted to general office status nine months ago and then retired from command of the 1st infantry division at Antofagasta, 500 miles north of Santiago. His retirement stirred new unrest among army officers already disaffected because of their low pay.

★ ★ ★

Viaux told newsmen in Santiago he had "the backing of 85 per cent of the army."

★ ★ ★

The rebellion, he said, is "not against the constitutional government of the nation but against the army high command. This is purely a military matter."

Peeled From Political Plum

GOP Fires M-Day Marcher

"I think the boy has a point. A person ought to be able to express his peaceful ideas openly."

Thus, Mrs. James F. O'Laughlin of 1760 Hamilton, Bloomfield Hills, supported her son, a senior at Michigan State University and a participant in the recent antiwar Moratorium Day peace march from the university to the State Capitol.

Michael O'Laughlin, her 22-year-old son, says he was fired from his $7,800 political patronage post by Rep. Phillip O. Pittenger, R-Lansing, Thursday after attending a rally last Wednesday in front of the Capitol.

★ ★ ★

Pittenger is the "personnel officer" in charge of patronage appointments for House Republicans.

O'Laughlin, a graduate of University of Detroit High School, reportedly obtained his job with the House post office through the good will of Rep. William Hampton, R-Bloomfield Hills. His plans include attending law school, according to his mother.

"I heard I'd been fired as soon as I got inside the building (after the rally)," O'Laughlin said.

"They said I was inefficient," said O'Laughlin, who some months ago was promoted from a $5,400 job as a House page to the post office at the same wage as an assistant sergeant.

O'Laughlin was named a page after being recommended by Hampton, minority floor leader.

Pittenger recently waged a successful campaign to rescind a federal travel grant awarded a foreign-born MSU professor opposed to U.S. war policies and campus reserve officer training programs.

Pittenger said yesterday several legislators and House employes had complained to him that O'Laughlin was inefficient. He declined to name individuals making the complaints.

In addition, Pittenger said, O'Laughlin owed the state some 17 hours of work for which he already had been paid. "I looked at his time cards and then I fired him," Pittenger said.

O'Laughlin said Capitol work regulations allow employes to accumulate "34 hours in the red" without losing pay.

"I'd been in the blue the whole summer and I built up 60 hours in comp (compensatory) time at one point," O'Laughlin said.

"If they hadn't fired me, I'd have worked it off as soon as the night sessions start. If you check, somebody's always in the red."

★ ★ ★

An impeccably dressed six-footer with mutton chop sideburns, O'Laughlin said he needed the money to pay tuition and for that reason had not contributed when House Republicans asked for campaign donations equal to 1 per cent of salary from all their employes. That request, on official stationery, stirred up a controversy for a time, and drew the disapproval of Gov. William G. Milliken.

★ ★ ★

"I think I was one of only two people who didn't contribute," O'Laughlin said. "I talked to Mr. Hampton about it and told him if I had to do it to keep the job I'd try to contribute something.

"He said I didn't have to, but if Republicans lost more seats in the next election, somebody might decide they didn't need me."

Mary Jo's Father: Autopsy Would Be Like a Funeral

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (UPI) — The father of Mary Jo Kopechne testified today that permitting an autopsy on his daughter "would be just like another funeral."

"We have had it," the father said at a hearing on a request by Massachusetts authorities for an autopsy on the body of the 28-year-old Washington secretary who died last July 18 in a tidal pond on Chappaquiddick Island, Mass. in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's submerged auto.

★ ★ ★

The father, Joseph Kopechne, speaking a barely audible, voice, said he and his wife, who was not in court, felt authorities "had their chance. We absolutely do not want it now."

Edmund S. Dinis, the Massachusetts district attorney seeking the autopsy, did not cross-examine Kopechne during his one-minute appearance on the stand.

BODY WAS GONE

Dinis, the first witness at today's session, said he ordered an autopsy on the girl two days after she died but was told the body had been flown to Pennsylvania.

He asked the court to place in the record a handwritten statement Kennedy gave police concerning the accident and a videotape of the senator's televised explanation of the tragedy.

★ ★ ★

Judge Barnard C. Brominski denied the motion on the Kennedy police statement and withheld decision on the videotape.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Donald R. Mills, associate medical examiner of Dukes County, Mass., testified yesterday Dinis and he agreed six days after recovery of Mary Jo's body that an autopsy was not necessary.

AUTOPSY ORDERED

Dinis said today he ordered an autopsy at 10 a.m. July 20 but Massachusetts State Police Lt. George Killen informed him the body had been removed to Pennsylvania for burial.

MANSFIELD SUPPORTS PRESIDENT — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana is shown in his Senate office after having made a speech on the Senate floor yesterday in which he credited President Nixon with bringing about a de-escalation of the Vietnam war. Mansfield also urged the nation to support its president's war policies.

Somali Regime Is Toppled

MOGADISHU, Somalia (AP)—A military coup overthrew Somalia's elected government early today less than 24 hours after the funeral of assassinated President Abdirashid Ali Shermarke.

The self-styled Revolutionary Council said in a broadcast: "The revolution was staged to save Somalia from the corrupt malpractices of the ruling classes."

★

The council said it will "abolish all the bad things left behind. Somalia will be led by reasonable people, and tribalism will be abolished."

Troops in full battle dress with fixed bayonets took control before dawn amid an unusual heavy rain. All businesses except coffeehouses were closed. Banks, communications offices, the harbor, the government printing office and other key installations were heavily guarded.

HOUSE GUARDED

There was no official word on the whereabouts of Prime Minister Mohamed Ibrahim Egal, but his beach front house was under military guard.

He was criticized this week by local newspapers which accused him of selling public lands at drastically reduced prices to political friends.

No shooting or violence was reported by persons walking about the city.

Motor traffic was at a standstill, except for military vehicles. Some persons were forced to abandon their cars at gunpoint about sunup, but they were permitted to retrieve them later in the day.

People stood around in the shade, talking quietly or walking along backstreets to avoid the soldiers patrolling all main streets and guarding all embassies.

A radio announcement said the armed forces assumed power at 3 a.m. It said the country's foreign policy would remain the same, and all treaties and agreements with friendly countries would be respected.

Laurie's Winds Up to 110 M.P.H.

Hurricane Takes Aim at Florida

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Hurricane Laurie, her water-fed winds now up to 110 miles per hour, moved steadily eastward today and aimed an expected wallop at Florida and the eastern Gulf Coast.

The late-season storm continued the drift it started late yesterday and, at noon was located about 230 miles south of New Orleans at north latitude 26.7 and 89.8 west longitude. Laurie had moved more than 50 miles eastward since 3 a.m. today.

★ ★ ★

The Weather Bureau's noon advisory estimated winds at Laurie's center at 110 miles per hour, but Dr. Robert Simpson of the National Hurricane Center in Miami, Fla., said gusts had reached 120 miles per hour.

Simpson, one of the nation's top authorities on hurricanes, said Laurie could loop southeast from its slow, five-mile-an-hour northerly trek in the next 12 hours.

FANS WINDS

Laurie fanned hurricane-force winds more than 50 miles from its center with gales extending 160 miles to the north and east of its eye.

★ ★ ★

The move to the east lessened the threat to the southwestern Louisiana coast but the late-season storm caused concern along the Mississippi Gulf Coast, still crushed from the battering it took from Hurricane Camille just two months ago.

Despite the growing menace from the storm, Mississippians along the 30-mile beach from Pass Christian to Pascagoula didn't appear perturbed during the morning hours.

MOVE INTO CENTERS

But in the low-lying areas of Louisiana, all through the marshlands south and west of New Orleans to the Gulf's edge, evacuees moved into refuge centers on higher ground.

In Lafourche Parish, where oil is a big factor in the economy, more than 25,000 residents were asked to leave homes in low spots for evacuation stations in Raceland, Lockport and Thibodaux.

Oil companies with crews working offshore rigs closed operations yesterday and moved crews to land.

★ ★ ★

Schools in some of the coastal counties of Louisiana closed and Hancock County, Miss., just across the Louisiana line, closed its schools today.

Six on School Board Shun Relations Unit

Although all seven members of the Pontiac School Board were invited, only one attended last night's regular meeting of the School District Citizens' Committee on Human Relations.

Dr. Robert R. Turpin was the only board member to attend.

The committee had asked the board to attend last night so that it might discuss the committee's relationship with the board in an attempt to determine if the committee should continue its efforts or disband.

The committee, in its written invitation to board members, said it wished to discuss the school board's apparent lack of interest in the committee, lack of responses to recommendations submitted to the board and seeming lack of confidence in the committee's judgment or recommendations.

'RUDE TREATMENT'

The invitation also stated that a committee recommendation was treated rudely at the Sept. 18 meeting when, following its reading, the meeting was adjourned.

Committee Chairman Charles Harrison Jr. said that all board members were sent the invitation and were reminded by telephone. He said he received no calls or notes from board members not in attendance last night.

The Human Relations Committee, therefore, voted to get a permanent appointment on every agenda of regular school board meetings so that the committee's recommendations and complaints might be brought before board members in public. Dr. Turpin said he was in complete agreement with the move.

Another complaint about the school board aired by the committee last night included a verbal attack by board member Mrs. Elsie Mihalek last week on John Perdue, director of school-community and human relations for the school district.

★ ★ ★

Perdue, who attended last night's meeting, was a runner-up candidate for a third assistant superintendent's post. The candidate selected by the board turned down the position and, on the recommendation of Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, the board agreed to leave the position vacant.

Several committee members also agreed they were resentful of Whitmer's implication at the last board meeting that Perdue was not qualified for the position.

In other action last night, the Human Relations Committee agreed to formulate a task force to work with representatives of the school district in preparing plans for quelling disturbances at schools.

Members of the task force would also be available to go to a school where a demonstration is in progress to observe and offer assistance.

City Municipal Employes Eye Budding New Union

By ED BLUNDEN

The city of Pontiac could find itself dealing with an entirely new employes' union by early next year.

If the new group is successful, other municipal governments in the county also may deal with the new union.

Secretary of the newly formed union — the United Public Employes of Michigan (UPEM) — is John Gusman, a city employe and president of the existing white-collar organization, the Pontiac Municipal Employes Association (PMEA).

The PMEA will become part of UPEM, Gusman said, if the new organization is successful.

VOTE PLANNED

The present 140 members of the PMEA will be asked to vote on accepting the new UPEM before the end of the year, Gusman said.

"For the first time we feel we will have an organization that is appealing to a broad range of municipal workers," he said. The main appeal will be to the white-collar employes, he pointed out.

In Pontiac, blue-collar workers are represented by Local 100 of the American Federal of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME).

The new UPEM is a splinter group formed in Detroit just last Friday. UPEM President is William Charron, a man ousted from AFSCME in a recent internal struggle, Gusman said.

NEW UNITS ENVISIONED

In Detroit the new union faces a struggle among the membership of the former unit, but Gusman does not see this greatly affecting the Pontiac area.

What Gusman does foresee is creation of new units which will carry the UPEM banner. Employes in county government and larger municipalities, such as Waterford Township, and even employes of smaller municipal agencies will find the new union to their liking, Gusman predicts.

Drafting of a constitution and bylaws for UPEM were begun after Friday's organization meeting.

The UPEM opening statement charged: "Several other unions have demonstrated that social and economic goals of the labor movement cannot be achieved within the present framework of certain unions and federations of unions."

GOALS LISTED

As its program goals, UPEM listed:

- Coordination and direction of legislative activities.
- Servicing of affiliated local unions and affiliates.
- Effective enforcement and administration of collective bargaining agreements.
- Research and coordination of data with respect to bargaining, grievances, legal and legislative activities.
- Educational and training programs for union officers, members and their families.

Their statement concludes: "Michigans public employes have long hoped for an organization and leadership to protect and advance their interests and welfare. UPEM has undertaken that responsibility and we are confident we will suceed."

Socialist Brandt Is Elected West German Chancellor

From Our News Wires

BONN — A new era took shape in West Germany today, with Willy Brandt taking over the helm of the government and steering a course toward closer ties with his nation's Communist neighbors to the East.

★ ★ ★

By a vote of 251 to 235 — giving Brandt two more votes than he needed — the Bundestag (lower house) officially elected him chancellor — the first Socialist to hold the post in 39 years. Five members abstained, four cast invalid ballots and one was absent.

Brandt's victory, which gives him a mandate to govern for the next four years, was made possible by a coalition with the tiny Free Democratic party.

In the Sept. 28 general election, Brandt's Social Democrats won only 224 seats to the Christian Democrats' 242, but the Free Democrats control 30 seats and gave Brandt the necessary majority.

★ ★ ★

Brandt, 55, succeeds Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger of the Christian Democrats who Brandt served as foreign minister. They had formed a Christian Democratic-Socialist coalition in December 1966.

Brandt earlier was mayor of West Berlin, a Socialist stronghold.

Kiesinger said Brandt's small majority on the vote was "a sign of what is ahead. The new coalition will have a difficult time."

Bonn's foreign policy is unlikely to undergo any immediate dramatic change.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A Pan American World Airways jet plane with 37 persons aboard was hijacked Tuesday on a flight from Mexico City and was diverted to Cuba.

A Pan American spokesman in Mexico City said the pilot reported the hijacking as the plane was over Merida, Yucatan. Circumstances of the hijacking were not immediately known.

The plane, Pan American's Flight 551, took off from Mexico City International Airport with scheduled stops in Merida, Tampa, Fla., and Miami.

There were nine crew members aboard and 13 passengers destined for Tampa, 11 for Miami and four going on to San Juan, P.R.

Bishops Favor Change

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Sweeping changes in the way bishops help the Pope rule the Roman Catholic Church have been approved by majority votes in all nine subcommissions of the world synod of bishops, a synod source said today.

★ ★ ★

If approved by Pope Paul VI, the changes would mark the end of what some liberals have called an "absolute monarchy" that has ruled the Church for centuries.

Hopes to Get $2.9 Million for New Junior High

Holly Citizens Unit Using 'Soft Sell' on School Bond Issue

HOLLY — School officials here are hoping that a low-key promotional approach will help put over a bond issue program at the polls Nov. 10.

The building bond proposal calls for $2.9 million to construct a junior high school building.

A citizens committee, composed primarily of parents of students enrolled in the school district, is handling the promotional program "in a manner designed not to pressure a yes vote," according to schools Supt. Russell Haddon.

Haddon said the administration and board of education are acting only in an advisory capacity toward the citizens committee.

NO THREATS

"The citizens committee volunteers are simply pointing out there is a need for the new building and asking the question, 'How important is it to you that we have this new needed facility?' They are not threatening the voter by indicating what may happen if the bond issue fails," Haddon explained.

The additional cost that would be incurred by the taxpayer if the bond issue passes cannot be set, according to administration officials, because it is not known what the interest rate on the bonds will be.

Supt. Haddon said the rate could range from 6 to 8 per cent. At 6 per cent, the additional millage needed would be 4.99 while at 7 per cent the rate would be 5.2. An 8 per cent interest rate would cost 6.05 mills. The fluctuation range in cost is slightly over 1 mill.

An example cost increase would look like this: A millage increase of 5 mills at $5 per $1,000 of assessed valuation would mean a bill of $50 for a house assessed at $10,000.

PROPOSED SCHOOL

The school which will be a one-level open-spaces-type structure will be located on an 82-acre parcel near the intersection of Rood and Grange Hall roads.

★ ★ ★

Haddon would not speculate what the chances would be for selling the bonds if the voters approve the proposal. "Passage at the polls will by no means assure us that we be able to build the school according to the planned timetable," he said. The district would like to open the school by the opening of the 1971-72 school term.

★ ★ ★

The superintendent noted that numerous school districts in the state have recently been having difficulty selling bonds because of accelerating interest costs.

★ ★ ★

The cost breakdown for the building project is as follows: building construction, $1,932,000; land acquisition, $95,000; site development, $201,000; equipment, $217,000; bonding costs and fees, $183,000; capital interest at six per cent, $174,000; contingency, $97,000; architect, $150,000; legal fees, $24,000; financial consultant for the sale of bonds, $3,800; qualification of bonds, $800; and printing of bonds, $1,000.

Dispute Temporarily Corralled

Troy Still Horse Country

By NED ADAMSON

TROY — This town is still horse country.

At least for a while.

But a new age is dawning.

★ ★ ★

Local horse lovers who just a few years ago had lots of room for their animals to roam are feeling the pinch of urbanization.

The animals gained at least a temporary victory over man last night when over 300 of their owners stormed the city commission meeting.

FIGHT IS PROMISED

The city's "horse set" made it known to the commission it will fight to keep its four-legged pals home on their increasingly abbreviated ranges.

The subject of all the concern was a proposed amendment to the local animal ordinance which, among other things, would have made it unlawful to have a horse or other hoofed animal on any parcel of land under two acres.

The horse people came in cowboy hats, jeans and western shirts. Little girls with blue eyes made pleas for their ponies. An old man vowed he would rather be put in white Chapel Memorial Cemetery than give up his horse.

The merits of the proposed amendment were debated at a brisk and loud pace for an hour and a half.

WADING INTO IT

After one adamant horse owner, miffed about the charge that horse manure creates an offensive smell in the neighborhood said she would rather walk in horse droppings than those left by dogs, Commissioner James Damman said, with a wry grin, "It's time to wade into this matter."

When the smoke cleared and the citizens and commissioners finished their statements, the commission voted to disapprove the proposed amendment.

★ ★ ★

New legislation will be developed by the city attorney, in conjunction with representatives of the Troy Animal Owners Association and the antianimal faction.

★ ★ ★

The commission decided the legislation should be aimed toward owners who do not take care of their animals and create a nuisance in their particular neighborhood.

'WON'T SOLVE PROBLEM'

James Drury, speaking for the animal-owner group, said last night the amendment would have been unenforceable and would not have eliminated any problems.

He maintains the present ordinance is adequate.

★ ★ ★

The horse issue came to the forefront on the basis of numerous complaints from residents on alleged nuisances caused by horses.

Commissioner John Kokalis noted that the day is rapidly coming when there will be no horses in the city. "We are becoming a city, and an animal on every lot would create serious problems," he said.

NEBULOUS FACTORS

"The commission has to put some type of new ordinance together that will be enforceable against the nebulous factors such as smell and nuisace factor.

★ ★ ★

"These things are hard to identify and we have to develop some legislation that we can use against people who are not watching and taking care of their animals correctly," Kokalis said.

★ ★ ★

Most of the residents at last night's hearing seemed to fear they would lose their animals immediately if the amendment were passed. Its intention was to limit horses to larger pieces of property rather than smaller lots near and in residential areas.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Jule R. Famularo said the issue was not people against horses, but people versus people.

★ ★ ★

"The commission is not against animals or animal lovers. We have to do something that will protect the rights of the numerous citizens who have filed complaints and we also like to see to it that residents who take care of their animals can keep them," the mayor said.

Rezoning Action Rapped by Township Official

By JEAN SAILE

For a group that keeps questioning its own authority, the County Board of Supervisors Planning, Zoning and Building Committee covered a lot of ground yesterday.

Scheduled to review three rezoning problems from outlying townships, the committee drew a charge from West Bloomfield Township Supervisor John N. Doherty that it had interfered where it had no right.

★ ★ ★

Doherty's complaint concerned the rezoning to a business classification of land near the Orchard Lake and Maple Road intersection, approved by the township, but denied by the county coordinating committee.

Grounds for denial were reportedly based on the premise that the township's master plan had not been followed and that no provision had been made to allow intermediate zoning between signle-family residential and business areas.

NO REASON TO EXIST?

"If the master plan is the final zoning document, none of us (township planning groups or the county zoning committee) would have reason to exist," Doherty claimed.

The suervisor pointed out that despite county action, the Township Board had gone ahead to approve the zoning. "I just want the record cleared," Doherty said in regard to his appearance yesterday.

The subject of supervisor authority in zoning matters where there is no conflict in regard to adjacent townships was discussed at length by committee members Paul Kasper, R-Bloomfield Township, Frank Richardson, R-Waterford Township, and William L. Mainland, D-Milford Township.

Chairman Niles Olson, D-Orion Township, presiding as committee chairman went on to hear requests for a second review of zoning requiests which would permit a garbage transfer station on Highland Road in Highland Township.

TURNED DOWN BEFORE

Turned down once before because of "inadequate information" at the county level, turned down by the township zoning board and held in abeyance by the township trustees, the matter fared no better yesterday before the county committee.

George Chapel sought rezoning of 14 acres almost surrounded by state lands as the location for a self-contained transfer station.

★ ★ ★

Olson said he would vote in favor of such zoning, but voted the lone "no" on a motion to table. Richardson had pointed out that the county is currently committed to landfills.

Mrs. William C. Chapman of 311 Walnut, Rochester, a representative of the American Association of University Women, appeared before the committee to get support for the retention of parklands in Rochester.

She claimed that the city has not enforced its ordinances in at least three instances, and specifically pointed out one case involving a county supervisor.

She said 134 West University Corp., of which Supervisor Fred Houghten is a co-owner, is attempting to obtain use of city-owned land for a parking area.

Probate Judges Eugene Moore and Norman Barnard and parks and recreation director Kenneth VanNatta differed over usage of nine acres in the Waterford-Oaks County Park.

The judges want the land for Children's Village expansion and Van Natta wants it for park development. New site plans presented by Harry Denyes, architect, would require part of the land for buildings.

The committee voted to obtain appraisals on 22 acres on Scott Lake Road in Waterford Township. Now county owned, it has been promised for open sale and a return to the Waterford Township tax base, according to Richardson.

Man Sentenced on Conspiracy Charges in Novi

NOVI — A Taylor Township man, John A. Alexander, 27, of 6001 Vivian, has been convicted on two counts of conspiracy to obstruct justice and obstructing justice by a jury.

The arrest was made by Novi policemen who claim that Alexander offered a Novi woman $1,000 to drop rape charges against another man.

★ ★ ★

The young woman contacted police about the offer and arranged to pick up $500 under their supervision, according to a police spokesman.

Another man, Eugene Gabbard, 24, of Detroit, was also accused of obstructing justice but the same jury found him not guilty after deliberation late last Friday. The case was tried by Circuit Court Judge Clark A. Adams.

★ ★ ★

Alexander will be sentenced Nov. 6.

Priorities Budget for School Offered

By LOIS FRIEDLAND

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A minibudget for priority needs was presented last night in conjunction with the annual operational budget by West Bloomfield Schools Supt. Dr. A. P. Witham.

The total operational budget presented split the estimated expenditures of $3,538,791 into eight areas with the majority going to instruction.

★ ★ ★

Next year, instruction will cost the district an estimated $2,634,792 or 74.45 per cent of the budget. Some 62 per cent of that figure will go toward teachers' salaries.

★ ★ ★

The breakdown of the remaining monies includes: administration, $187,436 (5.3 per cent); pupil transportation, $155,400 (4.3 per cent); plant operation, $318,350 (9 per cent); plant maintenance, $65,880 (1.8 per cent). Other costs include fixed charges, $108,433 or (3 per cent); capital outlay, $52,000 (1.47 per cent) and miscellaneous, $16,500 (.5 per cent).

MOST IMPORTANT NEEDS

The priorities budget was culled from different sections based on the most important educational needs. The minibudget, which totals only $413,600 of the total revenue, calls for emphasis on certain areas of instruction.

This includes reducing class sizes, building up enrichment and special programs, appraisal research, staff development and testing, according to Dr. Witham.

He noted that money would also go toward building better community relations through the Citizens Study Committee and parent newsletters to inform the public of exactly what is happening in the district.

Witham explained he chose priorities after a year of discussion with the staff, examining the community survey and board suggestions.

CUTDOWNS NECESSARY

"Hopefully I have taken into consideration most of the strong feelings people have — but we can't take them all . . ."

He added that it was necessary to cut down in several areas as field trips, out-of-town conferences for administrators and to consider cuts in the district's outdoors program.

★ ★ ★

"We decided it was most important to protect the basic program and expand it in certain basic areas as special education," said Witham.

Aide in Error, but Not Paid ---McCormack

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker John W. McCormack says his suspended top aide admitted making an error in judgment by setting up a meeting at the Securities and Exchange Commission on a stock case.

But McCormack said the aide —Martin Sweig—took no money for arranging the meeting and, although Sweig attended "He said he was looking at the pictures on the wall."

MARTIN SWEIG

Sweig was named in an SEC complaint which claimed he set up a meeting between the SEC and Nathan Voleshen, a longtime McCormack friend who had been hired by Parvin-Dohrmann Co., against which the commission had imposed a stock sale ban.

"He told me he just went there and didn't participate in the meeting in any way," McCormack said Monday. "He admitted he made a serious error in judgment."

WAS NOT PAID

The speaker was asked if he had asked Sweig if he was paid to set up the meeting.

"Yes, I did," McCormack said. "And he emphatically denied it."

Sweig was suspended from his job as McCormack's administrative assistant last Thursday. "At the appropriate time, when I have obtained all the facts, I will take such further action as is warranted," the speaker said.

Sweig was not named as a defendant in the SEC suit, which accuses a group of Parvin-Dohrmann stockholders of fraudulent activities in taking over the firm last year.

Last-Minute Campaign Charges Fly

Atlanta Votes for Mayor Today

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Voters pick the winner today of a fiery race for mayor livened by last-minute charges of campaign irregularity and anti-Semitism.

The city's 218,000 registered voters had a choice between Sam Massell, a Democrat and present vice mayor, and Rodney Cook, a Republican alderman and state legislator.

★ ★ ★

Retiring Mayor Ivan Allen Jr., a fellow Democrat, had urged Massell to quit the race on the ground that he "badly used his position" during the campaign. Massell struck back Monday at a news conference, declaring:

"Money and power shall not dictate to the electorate."

'POWER PACK'

Massell said he was being opposed by a five-man big business "power pack," including Allen and Cook, because they could not control him and because he is Jewish.

Allen, who did not seek reelection, urged Massell Sunday to withdraw his candidacy because a police captain assigned to his campaign was called on to accompany Massell's brother on fund-raising visits to nightclubs.

Massell replied that his brother had used "bad judgment" but denied any personal wrongdoing.

Negroes who make up nearly 40 per cent of the eligible voters generally were regarded as the key to the election .

In balloting two weeks ago, Massell led Cook by some 4,205 votes but did not receive a majority.

Dr. Horace E. Tate, the city's first black candidate for mayor since Reconstruction, who finished third in the eight-man field two weeks ago, endorsed Cook in the runoff.

★ ★ ★

Massell was supported by Coretta Scott King, widow of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and several other Negro leaders.

Massell, at his news conference, said the big business "power pack" also included Mills B. Lane, president of the Citizens and Southern Bank; Jack Tarver, president of Atlanta Newspapers Inc., and Frank Carter, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. Carter retorted "I don't control anybody and nobody controls me."

Tarver said, "I don't want to control anyone."

BIAS DENIED

Lane referred to the anti-Semitism charge and said, "He couldn't be more wrong."

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for Cook said the candidate's own advertising manager was Jewish and "there's no prejudice of any sort" in the campaign.

Drug-Addiction Center Revived by Donations

DETROIT (AP) — A nearly bankrupt program to rehabilitate Detroit drug addicts has been revived by donations, including one of $20,000 from an anonymous donor.

For three years, a California-based group known as Synanon has been running steadily into debt in Detroit, while quietly pulling drug addicts off the streets and providing them with a place to straighten themselves out.

Two months ago it looked as though the organization would not be able to renew the lease on its building and movement officials in California were ready to call it quits in Detroit.

But an unexpected flow of contributions sparked by publicity through local news media has suddenly brought Synanon within $3,000 of paying off the $40,000 lease on the house.

HELP FOR 550

More than 550 Detroit addicts have found help through Synanon, often at the request of judges, probation officers, police or psychiatrists, according to Ernestine Clark, director of the Detroit center.

★ ★ ★

"We may end up with $55,000 or $60,000," she said.

Senate to Act First on Reform Issues

Caucuses to Get School Bills

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Legislative leaders plan to forestall any floor work this week on Gov. William G. Milliken's bills to reorganize the state school system while they try to reach informal agreement on ways to amend them.

★ ★ ★

Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, said yesterday his 20-member Republican caucus will hold extensive private meetings this week to sound out feelings on the governor's comprehensive program.

★ ★ ★

In the House, Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, said his party will meet extensively in caucus while the Senate deliberates on the governor's program.

★ ★ ★

Lockwood said Senate Republicans will try for a consensus vote on changes in the 10 bills and two resolutions before they come out of committee.

But it may be a while before any of the measures receives enough votes to leave committee.

Taxation Chairman Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, who has a firm hold on Milliken's four fiscal proposals, claims he needs until November to finish his work.

His five-member committee is scheduling a visit to New York City the weekend of Nov. 1 to investigate problems related to a hike in the cigarette tax.

★ ★ ★

Witnesses testifying at DeMaso's three hearings forecast a rise in organized crime and cigarette bootlegging if the tax is raised from seven to 12 cents per package. They warned it would price Michigan out of the competitive range and actually would result in a loss of revenue.

Milliken says the state treasury would receive an extra $45 million per year from the smoking levy.

MINUS PAROCHIAID?

State Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, who has the remaining bills in his education committee, said he will attempt to report "some" of them out by the end of the week.

But the school aid bill may be minus parochiaid provisions if it is reported out.

Stamm's committee is divided on the issue and may remove that chapter of the bill. It could be put back on the bill when it reaches the floor.

★ ★ ★

Ryan said his chamber will wait for the Senate to pass the tax and school aid bills before approving any measures.

MAJOR BILLS

"These are major bills," Ryan said yesterday. "We may work on some of the smaller ones while we are waiting but we feel that having the major bills pass one house and not crisscrossing is the best idea."

This agreement was worked out between Ryan and Lockwood.

Senate Democratic leader Sander M. Levin already has plans to sponsor his own education reform program.

APPOINTIVE BOARD

Instead of abolishing the board of education as Milliken wants, the Berkley Democrat is recommending an appointive board which could elect its own superintendent. He also wants any change in any education to retain local control of the schools instead of centralizing it in Lansing.

Detroit Court Gets Cancer Serum Case

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Bea Hewson — linked to the treatment of patients in the Detroit area with the allegedly worthless Heft cancer serum — was arraigned Monday on a violation of the state Nursing Practice Act.

★ ★ ★

She stood mute before Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Joseph E. Maher. She was released on $1,000 personal bond, with pretrial examination set for Oct. 31.

Mrs. Hewson is the grandneice of Dr. John Emil Hett, the Canadian physician who in 1931 developed a cancer serum which came under attack in Detroit last week by a federal Food and Drug Administration representative.

The first American carding mill was established in 1680 at Wethersfield, Conn.

Police Corner Runaway ---It Was Horsing Around

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — A horse went for a stroll yesterday, got onto I-196 and galloped along between cars for three hours before officers could catch him.

The horse left the Lloyd Young farm in Walker, crossed the Grand River into Grand Rapids about 11:30 a.m., and wound up on the freeway.

★ ★ ★

Startled drivers notified the Grand Rapids police. Officers chased him for an hour and a half and almost caught him, but the animal kicked a police sergeant several times and raced on up the freeway, dodging traffic.

Kent County sheriff's officers and police gave chase and after another hour and a half finally caught the horse, hitched him to a tree and called the owner.

To: Homeowners Concerned About The New Housing Code

The Association For the Protection of Homeowners has bargained with CITY OFFICIALS, both elected and appointed, regarding the NEW HOUSING CODE. Surrendering to the impatient demand of homeowners that PRIVATE PROPERTY cannot be infringed upon, that older people and old homes must be protected from young, overzealous inspectors, HOUSING OFFICIALS have agreed to a GRANDFATHER CLAUSE.

After extensive changes, the Association For the Protection of Homeowners feels that the NEW CODE to be voted on soon by the City Commission has the necessary safeguards written into it which will assure the PROTECTION OF CITIZENS' PRIVATE HOMES against a harsh, unrealistic Code.

We also believe that citizens who understand the new Code will agree that the Code as now written will conform in many ways with the City and State Code already in effect.

Would Redefine 'Minor'

SHIRLEY TEMPLE BLACK, newly appointed member of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations General Assembly, thinks that the age of majority should be lowered from 21 to 18.

Not just the age of voting, mind you, but the age of majority. She believes that 18-year-olds should be treated as adults in the full legal sense of the word.

At first sight, this sounds like a pretty revolutionary recommendation. Yet when one gives some thought to it, there are not really many things that a 21-year-old can do that an 18- or 19- or 20-year-old cannot, except perhaps buy hard liquor in a public house or cast a ballot in a public polling booth. But in some states, even these rights have been granted to under-21s.

★ ★ ★

Those who are 18 or even younger and who want to get married had enough can usually find ways of doing it without parental consent. If they become parents, their tender age does not absolve them of responsibility for their offspring.

Under-21s can enter into contracts, though theoretically they are still legal "infants," and their age does not necessarily shield them from responsibility for debts they incur.

Those who run afoul of the law at 18 or 19 or 20 are considered to be adults and are tried as such, and in some states can be sent to the electric chair. Certainly, 18-year-olds need no parental consent to be drafted or to enlist in the armed forces.

Income tax law states that a minor is subject to tax on his own earnings, even though his parents may, under local law, have the right to the earnings and might actually have received the money. Parents may not claim exemptions for nonstudent children after they reach 19 and earn more than $600 a year.

Even support-paying divorced fathers are not generally held responsible for their minor children after they reach 18 and are able to work. When was the last time you heard of an 18-year-old suing a parent for non-support?

All in all, it's difficult to think of any advantage to society, but easy to think of many disadvantages to minors, in maintaining this legal limbo between 18 and 21. Why not lower the age of majority to 18?

Still, many people are likely to react violently to the mere suggestion, as Mrs. BLACK found out when she was bombarded by letters following her speech to the U.N. Social Committee in which she broached the idea.

★ ★ ★

Adults need not worry that it would mean the imminent take-over of the Nation by the young, however.

We are all legal infants until the age of 25 as far as being eligible for election to the House of Representatives goes. The Constitution specifies 30 as the minimum age for senators. For President, the Founding Fathers trusted no one under 35.

New Silver Dollar Weighed

The Senate has voted to authorize the U.S. Treasury to mint 300 million $1 coins bearing the likeness of the late President DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER. The coins would have 40 per cent silver content, like the current KENNEDY 50-cent piece.

On the other side of the Capitol, the House has voted for the EISENHOWER dollar, but its version would be a nonsilver, nickel-clad copper coin like quarters and dimes minted since 1965.

★ ★ ★

The matter must now be resolved by conference between the two chambers. Senators and Representatives from silver-producing states argue that a nonsilver coin would be beneath the dignity of such a great president. Others counter that the greatest president of all is on the lowly copper 1-cent piece.

The issue seems to boil down to this:

Does Congress want a new silver $1 coin which will immediately disappear into private collections and, like the KENNEDY half, be rarely seen and even more rarely spent?

Or does it want a new $1 coin that will be a common and useful medium of exchange?

Calls U.S. 'Bar to Peace'

At a Vietnam Moratorium Day rally at Macalester College in St. Paul, Minn., one Prof. THOMAS GRISSOM informed his audience, "We live in a country whose Government is the primary obstacle to peace in the world."

The charge is quite true. It is also true that the government of Winston Churchill was the primary obstacle to peace in Europe in 1940!

Press Football Contest

'State' Kills Hopes of 14 Grid Contesters

Odds-favored University of Michigan lost favor with 14 Pontiac Press Annual Football Contest entrants who had favored it to knock off Michigan State University Saturday. The grid gods decreed otherwise, however, and when hostilities ceased at East Lansing the Spartans were on top, 23-12.

The result left 33 live contestants for the $500 U.S. Savings Bond that rewards the contest winner, plus a fringe benefit of acclaim as the year's supreme soothsayer.

For what it is worth, the losers can salvage a bit of solace in the knowledge that the prestigious pigskin prophet, the omnicient obese oddsmaker, the one and only Amos B. Hoople came a cropper himself when he picked the Blue over the Green, 28-21. Our own Swami panel emerged with an impressive .600 average, three of the five turbaned mystics telling it like it was.

Looking to the upcoming weekend, the 33 contest survivors can look for a lot of action and, alas, a lot of casualties. Two games are on the agenda.

★ ★ ★

Friday night, Waterford-Kettering High School butts helmets with Clarkston High School. Twenty-three like the prospects of Waterford-Kettering, 10 are hung up on Clarkston. No one stuck a neck out for a tie. (Should a tie come to pass, however, the game will be disregarded and the contest moved ahead to the next game on the schedule.)

The next afternoon, those still in contention after the Friday evening clash will hold their collective breath while Washington and Oregon fight to a finish.

Should Waterford-Kettering have won the first encounter, 14 of the lucky pickers will be rooting for Washington, eight for Oregon. One foresees a stalemate.

★ ★ ★

But if Clarkston had picked up the marbles, its 10 backers are split 5-5 between Washington and Oregon.

Yest indeedy, it should be a big weekend — with plenty of thrills and spills for the diehard contestants. In any event, keep your cool until next Tuesday, when our next report will take you into the homestretch of the conest.

'There's More Than One Moon, Ya Know!'

Charles Bartlett

Goodell Is No Longer Obscure

WASHINGTON — Sen. Charles Goodell's experience is worth noting because the net impact of the war protest will be what the politicians read into it.

BARTLETT

Goodell's courtship of his complex New York constituency was limping until he came up with his plan to put a fixed terminal point on the U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

He had always been a driving politician but he never managed to become an attention-getter until he took his stand.

★ ★ ★

The past week has been exciting for Goodell. Hailed on campuses across his state as the "new catalyst" of the peace movement he found he was generating electricity wherever he went.

He was cheered in Washington Square by a crowd which booed Sen. Jacob Javits, New York's most popular Republican.

NEGATIVE ASPECTS

This breakthrough has of course its negative aspects. The anti-administration thrust of Goodell's peace plan has raised Republican resentments which can pose severe primary problems, particularly if Gov. Nelson Rockefeller chooses to punish the senator for his independence.

But Goodell has been rescued from a perilous obscurity by the alchemy of a protest which is antiwar, antiestablishment, and increasingly anti-Nixon.

He has touched the chords which elicit support from those who single-mindedly hate the war as well as from those who use it as a base for a wider challenge of authority.

Goodell's experience, like other vignettes of October 15, supplies the administration with only a hint of what it may be up against.

CAN'T BE CERTAIN

There is not yet any way to be certain whether a massive, undeniable wave of popular sentiment will break upon the Nixon policy of orderly withdrawal.

Mr. Nixon may face an opposition that is skillfully agitated, but so far he seems determined to stand against it.

★ ★ ★

Success or failure may turn on the quality of his November 3 speech. It must have a major impact because as he himself said last May, "Repeating the old formulas and tired rhetoric of the past is not enough."

The Gallup Poll shows the public is losing confidence in Mr. Nixon's handling of the war because he has obscured what he is doing and relied increasingly on the "old rhetoric" to defend his failure to produce peace.

NOT BELABORED

He has not belabored his withdrawal plan in public because he has not wanted to alarm the South Vietnamese or discourage the North Vietnamese from negotiating in Paris.

But now he has no choice. He has a plan which comes closer to protecting the nation's interests and integrity than any of the proposals for immediate evacuation.

★ ★ ★

He really means to do what Goodell proposes but he requires the flexibility and popular support which Goodell's resolution would deny him.

The circumstances augur that he can cap the wave of antiwar sentiment if he takes prompt steps to be more explicit in his determination to stop the fighting.

Iowa Publisher Proves He's No Hawaii Expert

NEW YORK — People . . . places . . . problems . . .

Malcolm Freeland, publisher of the Northwestern Banker, Des Moines, writes:

CONSIDINE

"In one of your recent columns you quoted Gov. Burns of the state of Hawaii as saying that Hawaii was a true melting pot and there were no major problems of integration, despite the variety of races. You held this up as an example for all Americans.

★ ★ ★

"Now, I am sure that you must be smarter than this. The Islands have very few Negro families. Here on the mainland, we do not have any major problems with the Japanese, the Chinese and Hawaiians. To reverse all of this integration thing, talk to some families from the mainland who are stationed and working in Oahu.

"Ask them how well their children are accepted in the schools. I think that you will find that a white child from the continental U.S. is treated as somewhat of an outcast.

★ ★ ★

"I am no authority on the islands . . ."

You sure ain't, Malc.

"I am against disarming the people for the simple reason that the criminal element would be armed anyway," writes Fred R. Lancaster of San Antonio, Tex., commenting on a piece I did for the San Antonio Light knocking mail order guns.

"During the past summer a group of young punks appeared at various local swimming pools. Just what they did is not now recalled, but why they did it is noteworthy: they had learned that no one present at the pools had any authority to expel or arrest them . . . I suggested that several residents of the immediate area be selected and given 'special officer' status. That's what 'militia' means to me . . . I think an updated version of 'militia' would go a long way toward keeping it cool."

So did Hitler.

'Poor Conditions Exist in Many Nursing Homes'

I appreciate the series of articles on nursing homes. As a weekly visitor to a home for the past two years, I have seen many of the conditions mentioned, and know they do exist. Many of the homes are understaffed and the help they have is inexperienced, underpaid and overworked. To complain to the board of health is a joke. The only thing you get is trouble and hard feelings at the home. It's a shame so many put their loved ones in these places and never check on how they are being treated.

There are some wonderful aides who sincerely try to take good care of these people, but because of being underpaid they rarely last long.

Expresses Concern About Highway Deaths

Why are people concerned about the dead in Vietnam when we kill more people in one year on our highways than died in 15 years of war. If concern for our fellow man is the issue, then please be just as concerned about the deaths on our highways. These people have died for nothing, and at least our boys are fighting and dying for what they believe in. Long live our country.

'Support Government's Vietnam Position'

I agree with our government's position in ending the war in Vietnam. It is unfortunate that we have these so-called moratoriums and demonstrations when our government is trying to negotiate a settlement with the enemy. My son served his time in Vietnam and was one of the fortunate who came back home alive.

★ ★ ★

I want the war in Vietnam to end. A divided nation cannot survive. Premier Khrushchev once said, "We will bury America from within." I can now believe they are doing a fine job with demonstrations, sit-ins, public meetings being disrupted, and complete disorder in our schools and on campuses.

Let us get some order back into our society by supporting our elected leaders and giving full support to our police and law enforcing agencies.

Comments on Millage Vote in Waterford

Waterford Township officials are smart to hold their school millage election before the taxpayers get their 1969 tax bills in December, which will be increased by 25 per cent. We are overtaxed now and many will have to leave the Township if this millage increase is passed. The election will be November 25, when many voters will be in northern Michigan deer hunting. I urge all these people to get absentee ballots and vote before going away.

FALL FUN — Cycling is togetherness for the George Barons and their three children, George, 3½, Pamela, 10, and Denise, 7.

'Communication Is Key to Campus Peace'

BOSTON (UPI) — Independent liberal arts colleges, according to some of their presidents, have less student unrest than larger universities because most of the nation's 500 liberal arts institutions make an effort to keep the lines of communication open.

* * *

This view has been expressed by a group of Midwest college presidents who feel their attitudes toward the students make the students become a part of the school.

William B. Crist, executive secretary of the Midwest College Council, said, "The colleges agree that one of the major factors contributing to campus unrest is a lack of communication among the three campus constituencies — administrative, faculty and students."

Four of the council's 10 member colleges were meeting here as part of a cooperative admissions conference.

Those attending were Presidents John A. Brown, Linwood College, St. Charles, Mo.; Vance Rogers, Nebraska Wesleyan University, Lincoln, Neb.; Calvin Vanderwerf, Hope College, Holland, Mich.; and John Howard, Rockford College, Rockford, Ill., chairman.

Meet Your Neighbors

They're Getting Involved

By BARBARA GRIBBON

Palmer Lake Estates—Northridge, in Wixom, is a new subdivision of Colonial, ranch and trilevel homes with access Loon Lake.

Most of its residents are interested in local affairs and hope to become active in many community activities. They plan to form an association to improve their beach lot and get their new neighborhood involved in a number of ways.

THE GEORGE BARONS

Among the new families are the George Barons, who came from Detroit. Their children are Pamela, 10, Denise, 7, and Georgie, 3.

Baron is a parts salesman for Motor City Automotive, Inc., in Detroit. He golfs, fishes and boats. Antiquing and refinishing furniture are hobbies of this couple. They also like long hikes through the woods with their children.

Mrs. Baron, who is interested in Girl Scout and PTA work, is decorating her new home. She and her husband try to attend all the city council meetings in order to know their community better.

One of the Barons' favorite hobbies is bike riding, family style. Mom and dad ride a bicycle-built-for-two with a seat on back for Georgie. The older children ride their own bikes. The family belongs to St. William Church in Walled Lake.

Slight Mix-Up in Book Order

MILES CITY, Mont. (AP) — Jack Coffrin returned home from a business trip to find 4,980 pounds of books he didn't order.

The 74 cartons were accompanied by two other items which, Coffrin said, gave him a shock —a freight bill for $376.99 and invoices from the publishers for $9,095.53.

Coffrin says he ordered about $200 worth of books from the company.

He said his order must have gotten mixed up with a book store order.

18 Children Killed in Sand Cave-In MEXICO CITY (AP) — Eighteen children were killed Sunday night when a sand pit caved in and buried them, according to reports reaching the capital today. Four youngsters escaped.

Board Feels Heat on ADC Clothing

By JEAN SAILE

As winter's cold approaches, the possibility of inadequately dressed children is proving to be a hot political issue for members of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The human resources committee will be asked Friday to consider a further emergency clothing appropriation of $52,500 for ADC schoolchildren.

★ ★ ★

The money would be used to supplement the $90,000 in county funds set aside last month and just about all used up already in meeting emergency clothing needs brought about by the opening of school.

The additional funds have been requested by the county's social services board, even as the 18th Congressional District Democratic party has taken three Democratic supervisors to task for their failure to support the initial $90,000 appropriation.

The district organization has passed a resolution scoring board Chairman Charles B. Edwards Jr., D-Madison Heights, Niles Olson, D-Orion Township, and Thomas O'Donoghue, D-Ferndale, for their opposition to the original appropriation.

"It is neither desirable nor pleasant to find the Democratic party organization at odds with persons elected on the Democratic ticket. However, it would be dishonest to let such matters go by without making party positions clear," the three Democrats were told.

The three, along with a majority of Republican supervisors, had expressed preference for the continuing distribution of clothes from the county clothing store to ADC recipients, but the clothing store lost in a close vote.

Social Services Director, Ora Hinckley reported as of yesterday that a balance of $1,211 is all that remains in the clothing fund. Nearly 3,000 children from more than 1,000 families have been provided with clothing funds since Sept. 4, she said.

REMOVED SERVICE

Another 1,000 were earlier provided with clothing from the county store.

Action by the board of supervisors, based on requests of ADC mothers and the Social Services Department and backed up by a local retailing study, removed the clothing store service to ADC families. It still remains in use for wards of the Probate Court and for the county's foster care program.

★ ★ ★

The $90,000 — appropriated Sept. 4 — was to have lasted ADC children for the remainder of the year. It was to afford some 3,000 children allowances of $30 each.

County records show, however, that there are about 5,500 ADC-supported children in Oakland County.

No provision has been made in the 1970 budget to meet clothing emergencies. Without county support, parents are expected to dress an ADC child on a $12-per-month personal allowance fund. The state this year also contributed $22 to the year's allotment.

Met, Soloists Settle; Others Still Unsigned

NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera and its solo artists have settled their contract differences. But the Met still has to sign up musicians, choristers and dancers before opening its season, already postponed a month.

The 150 soloists agreed Monday night to a three-year contract. Pay for a starting soloist will be raised from $200 to $280 over three years. Minimum pay for a soloist with five years experience will be $375.

Cornell MacNeil, Nedda Casei and Gene Boucher, who negotiated for the other artists, said the contract also reduced the number of hours worked in rehearsing, serving as an understudy and performing.

Spokesmen for the soloists expressed hope that their pact would lay the groundwork for other settlements. Negotiations resume Wednesday.

Road Project to Provide New Entrance to OU

A new entrance to the Oakland University campus will be provided in a $300,000 internal road system project approved by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

★ ★ ★

The new road will run parallel to and to the south of Walton Boulevard for about one-half mile.

The western end of the road will connect with North Meadow Brook Drive in the dormitory area of the campus and the eastern end will permit traffic to enter from and exit onto Walton.

The contract for grading and asphalt paving of the new road was awarded to the M and B Construction Co. of Warren on its low bid of $185,170.

Bids from eight other firms ranged from $213,347 to $266,352. State funds will cover the cost of the project.

The contract calls for work to begin next month and to be completed by May 30.

Few in Senate Seem Swayed by Nixon Haynsworth Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — If President Nixon swayed any undecided senators with his strongly worded defense of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., they are keeping it to themselves.

The more than 20 Senators who hold the key to confirmation of Haynsworth's nomination to the Supreme Court didn't show any signs that Nixon's statement Monday would start a stampede to back the administration.

Such senior Republicans as George D. Aiken of Vermont and John J. Williams of Delaware still are listed as undecided with an expected vote on confirmation about two weeks off.

Nixon said at a surprise news conference Monday Haynsworth has been subjected to "vicious character assassination." The President said he would not withdraw his nomination even if Haynsworth requested him to do so.

HASN'T DECIDED

Aiken said later he still hasn't decided how he will vote on Haynsworth's confirmation.

"I doubt if the President made any votes by his statement," Aiken commented.

But Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, ranking Republican member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said he is more confident than ever the Senate will confirm Haynsworth, now chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., a leader of the opposition, said conflict-of-interest charges he has made have not been refuted by the administration "and make an eloquent case against confirmation of Judge Haynsworth."

'PARTISAN EFFORT'

"It is unfortunate that the President appears to be leveling his guns at me personally in an effort to distort the true issue and make the nomination of Judge Haynsworth a partisan matter," Bayh said.

The conflict-of-interest issue centers on charges that Haynsworth held stock in companies involved in court cases in which he participated.

★ ★ ★

Supporters contend the issue is just a smoke screen for the opposition of labor and civil rights leaders, who have brought heavy pressure on senators to vote against confirmation.

Insect Researcher Dead in California

IRVINE, Calif. (AP) —Dr. Edward A. Steinhaus, first to identify insect viruses accurately and thus pave the way for wiping out insects by viruses rather than chemical pesticides, is dead at the age of 54.

Steinhaus, called "the father of modern invertebrate pathology," died Monday at his Newport Beach home. He was the first faculty member in 1963 at the founding of the University of California at Irvine and was named director of the new campus Center for Patholobiology last March.

His identification of viruses allowed the viruses—instead of chemicals—to be turned against insects.

Black Leader Fears Extradition to N.C.

LANSING (AP) — Robert Williams, leader of the black separatist Republic of New Africa, says he faces possible death if Michigan sends him back to North Carolina to answer a kidnaping charge.

"If you send me to North Carolina, I'll just assume it will be a suicidal mission for me," Williams told an extradition hearing officer Monday.

Williams' attorney, Milton Henry of Pontiac, said Union County, N.C.— where the kidnapping allegedly took place — is "Klan country. Law there is conducted on a racist basis," he said.

North Carolina's "purpose is to get him back to perhaps harass and even kill him," said Henry, vice president of RNA.

'JUSTICE ON TRIAL'

"They wouldn't want to try this case at 12th and Clairmont (in a black area of Detroit). We don't want to try it in North Carlina."

Williams, who appeared at the hearing with his wife Mabel and three other attorneys, said "American justice is on trial — not Robert Williams."

Joseph Thibodeau, assistant legal advisor to Gov. William Milliken, set Nov. 10 for a second hearing after Henry said he could produce evidence to provide the indictments forwarded by North Carolina are forgeries.

After that hearing, Milliken will decide whether to return Williams to North Carolina to face the charges stemming from a 1961 "freedom rider" demonstration. Williams and four others were accused of kidnaping a white couple, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bruce Segall. They reportedly were held briefly, then released unharmed.

Henry said indictments sent to Milliken were dated 1965.

Indictments were handed down in 1961 and later voided by the North Carolina Supreme Court, he said. Indictments were brought again in 1967.

But those issued in 1965, Henry said, were against four persons—"but not Robert Williams. Your attorney general should go down to North Carolina and see what these people have done."

Draft Math to Be Common if Lottery System Is OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's draft lottery system — if it passes Congress — is sure to bring out a talent among the country's 18-year-olds for figuring mathematical probabilities.

Critics say the plan will leave most young men guessing about just when they might be called the following year and their chances for escaping the draft entirely.

★ ★ ★

But armed with a few basic figures those guesses can get pretty close. And some men won't have to guess at all.

★ ★ ★

The plan for drafting 19-year-olds first on a lottery basis is likely to pass the House late this week. It is still an open question in the Senate.

LITTLE GUESSWORK

The 365 birthdates for the following year would be drawn out of a fishbowl at a public lottery in late September or early October each year.

★ ★ ★

There's little guesswork for able-bodied men whose 19th birthdays fall on the first dates drawn: they'll be among the first men called early the next year.

★ ★ ★

And men with birthdays on the last 150 or more dates drawn will likely escape the draft entirely.

★ ★ ★

Everybody else will have to take out his scratch pad and pencil and start figuring the odds on the basis of the number of men in the draft pool and the rate at which they're being called up each month.

WILL DROP OFF

If the system were in effect now, as Selective Service officials explain it, 18-year-olds would figure there would be something like 600,000 available for the draft next year after rejects and deferments.

★ ★ ★

Draft calls hopefully will drop off to something like 200,000 from this year's 300,000 plus.

★ ★ ★

That would mean men with birthdays on the last 200 or so dates drawn in the lottery would likely escape the draft and those with the first 100 birthdays drawn would probably be called. The remaining 65 birthdates would be borderline cases.

★ ★ ★

The call-ups vary from month to month but a man who drew the 100th date could figure he'd be called near the end of the year, a man who drew 50 would probably be called about midyear.

BACK INTO POOL

Students and technical people getting deferments would draw their draft-eligibility placement for their 19th years like everyone else and would come back into the draft pool with that same placement when their deferments ended four years later.

★ ★ ★

All this is how the lottery system is to work when it is well-established.

★ ★ ★

The first year, however, would be a transitory one in which all men between 19 and 25, not just 19-year-olds, would be subject to the draft under the system.

Armstrong carpeting is new, tough, soft, clean. And in your neighborhood now.

Bridge Tricks From Jacobys

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

One of the late Irvin Cobb's best stories was the one about the man who ordered ham and eggs with the eggs eliminated. After long consultation in the kitchen, the cook came out and explained that the eliminator had been broken and he would have to take his eggs some other way.

Today's hand is taken from the Reese-Dormer book. "How to Play a Better Game of Bridge." South can't tell in advance whether or not this eliminator is broken but he hopes that it isn't, because there is no other way to make his contract.

★ ★ ★

The defense starts out with three rounds of diamonds. South ruffs the third diamond. He makes a mental note that a lucky player would have found the ace in front of the king rather than in back. Then, if he knows what he is doing, will proceed to make his contract anyway.

He starts by playing his ace of spaces. This leaves the king as the only missing trump. Then he eliminates the clubs by cashing the ace and king. So far, his eliminator has worked perfectly.

★ ★ ★

His next plays are the ace and king of hearts. Then he leads a second spade. West is in with the king and, lo and behold, the elimination has succeeded. The queen and 10 of hearts are still held against him but they are both in the East hand and West is on lead with nothing but clubs and diamonds.

★ ★ ★

He can lead either suit but South just ruffs in dummy and discards his last heart.

Lucky, but luck based on good play.

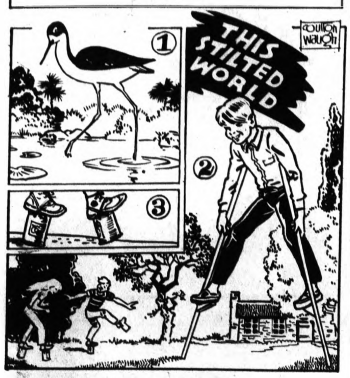
Junior Editors Quiz on STILTS



QUESTION: Why were stilts invented?

ANSWER: The stilt principle, that of walking on very long legs or extensions of them, is well worked out in nature, in the bird which is called a stilt (1). This handsome, sandpiperlike creature is found in the Gulf states and southern California, using its extremely long legs to step through the shallows as it probes with its bill for small water insects and other kinds of food.

The first use of stilts as wooden poles with footrests, on which humans could walk, seems to have been in the city of Namur, Belgium, during the times when the Meuse and Sambre rivers were flooding the city in rainy periods.

Gradually, European people became expert at stilt walking. French farmers still use stilts to cross streams and marshes. As stilt walking became a sport, experts appeared who could run and dance.

Stilts spread to America, used by clowns in circuses, by comedians on the stage, and to carry striking advertising signs. But it was the children who loved stilts best and still do.

The adult experts often fasten their stilts to their legs so the hands can be free, but children hold the poles so they can jump down easily.

MARINE CITY (AP) — State Police are attempting to trace the identity of an elderly man whose body was found by several pheasant hunters Monday in a rural area near Marine City.

Officers said the man apparently had been dead for four or five months. An autopsy was ordered in efforts to determine the cause of death.

20% of Blue-Collar Workers Move Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government report shows one out of every five blue-collar workers is likely to cross the job color line into a white-collar position —many of them taking at least a short-term pay cut.

But most workers who make the shift from production jobs to management, professional technical, clerical or sales positions figure the switch is worth it in the long run, the report says.

* * *

"Most respondents were convinced that their socioeconomic status had risen above that of their parents and above the current status of most of their boyhood friends," said the survey of 452 workers.

The report was published yesterday in the Labor Department's Monthly Labor Review. It said job switching is largely haphazard, and urged government employment agencies, employers and unions to make it easier for workers to climb up the job ladder.

MANAGERIAL JOBS

The study by University of Wisconsin economic professors David B. Johnson and James L. Stern said 39 per cent of blue-collar workers making the switch moved into managerial jobs and increased their base pay by nearly 15 per cent.

But, it added, "Men shifting into professional-technical jobs suffered an average loss of weekly gross income of 5.7 per cent. In terms of base pay without overtime, however, the loss was only 2.7 per cent."

* * *

Blue-collar workers shifting to clerical jobs lost 9.8 per cent in gross pay, 6.3 per cent when lost overtime was excluded.

The workers interviewed gave many reasons for wanting to make the job switch.

"Very prominent among them were reasons related to an improved financial situation resulting from steadier work in the white-collar job, higher fringe benefits, and prospects for better long-run earning opportunities," the report said.

"The job search patterns of blue-collar workers show that individual, unguided efforts were the most important means of achieving a shift to a white-collar job," the report said.

* *

"Our findings indicate that employers should give consideration to adoption of formal programs for upgrading blue-collar workers into professional-technical and clerical classifications," it said.

It also urged better career guidance by federal-state employment service offices for blue-collar workers who are frequently ignorant of opportunities to move into white-collar jobs.

And, it added, new training programs are needed to move more youths into apprenticeship and free skilled blue-collar workers for higher jobs without worsening the shortage of skilled men.

'U.S., Canada Using Defoliants at Border'

OTTAWA (UPI) — A Canadian official disclosed yesterday that Canada and the United States have been using chemical defoliants for the past 10 years to maintain a treeless "vista" along their border.

But A. F. Lambert, a Canadian commissioner on the International Boundary Commission, denied a charge by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., that the commission was creating a 20-foot wide "Demilitarized Zone" along the 2,964 miles of the U.S.-Canadian border.

* * *

Lambert said a 1925 treaty provided for the joint upkeep of the border and stipulated that monuments must be clearly visible on the border, "hence the decision to cut down the tall trees and bushland."

Axes and power saws were used originally, he said, but the commission switched to chemicals after U.S. highway departments and hydroelectric companies found them safe.

'HIGHLY SELECTIVE'

The chemicals are "highly selective" and destroy only trees and tall bush, leaving ferns and grass growing to create a "park" for 10 feet on either side of the border, he said.

Nelson charged in the current issue of Time Magazine that the decision to defoliate the border strip was a recent one.

* * *

"Engineers are cutting the strip by spraying Picloram, the same pesticide used by the U.S. military on the Demilitarized Zone in Vietnam. The chemical kills sizable trees and brush vegetation for at least two years," he said.

God has listened to you enough times.

Now how about listening to Him?

More than a few things are troubling our cities, our world, our souls.

Sometimes, we raise our hands heavenward and say, "When oh when are you going to change it all, Lord?" And "changing it all" is just what He expects us to do!

Listen: "Love your neighbor as yourself."

If that were put to practice—really to practice—ghettos would not exist, wars would cease, hunger would end, inhumanity would be stricken from the dictionary.

A perfect world.

Will we ever see it?

One thing certain, we won't even begin to see it, if we don't start doing what God has asked of us for heaven only knows how long.

Some City Housing Code Queries Answered

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The following question-and-answer story was prepared in cooperation with the Pontiac housing and code enforcement office. It concerns questions arising from a proposed new housing code for the city.)

Q. Is the housing code new?

A. No, the current housing code was written in 1917 and adopted in 1949 as the Pontiac Housing Code.

Q. Why a revised housing code?

A. Principally, to clarify and update the 1917 code relative to new housing standards, practices, codes and court decision.

Q. What are the objectives of the code?

A. The chief objective of the code is to protect the health, safety and welfare of occupants in buildings used for dwelling purposes and the control of neighborhood blight.

Q. What types of housing action are there?

A. There are three types of housing action: correction — for the correction of deficiencies; condemnation — whereby occupancy of dwellings must be vacated or reduced due to hazardous or unhealthful conditions; demolition — removal of dwelling.

Q. Are the rights of homeowners and tenants considered?

A. A recent U.S. Supreme Court decision requires that if the homeowner or occupant objects to inspection, a warrant must be obtained prior to an inspection of any dwelling.

Q. What does a housing inspector look for?

A. Overcrowding, more than one family per dwelling unit; cellar and attic occupancy; rodent and insect infestation; general sanitation practices in and about the premises; general state of repair of dwelling.

Q. What are the benefits to the community and to the inidvidual?

A. The community will experience a reduction of substandard housing, blighting influences, and an over-all reduction in demand for public services. The individual can be certain of living in standard housing and the assurance that the neighborhood will not deteriorate.

Q. Is the code strictly an enforcement program?

A. The code attempts to be a cooperative type of a program whereby the individual initiative effort is stimulated to correct housing violations.

Q. How are inspections determined?

A. Inspections of substandard dwellings and suspected cases of violation are conducted on a systematic program.

Library Memorial Is Dedicated

A $100,000 memorial book collection underwritten entirely by Oakland University student contributions was dedicated in weekend ceremonies at Kresge Library.

The memorial is named in honor of the university's benefactress, the late Mrs. Matilda R. Wilson.

Since 1967 the student body has been voluntarily assessing itself $1 per student per term to a maximum of $100,000. The university has contributed the money and is being repaid by student contributions which are expected to be completed by 1976.

* * *

The memorial fund was the idea of three former students, Mrs. Susan Adams Wyatt, '68, of Newark, Del.; Craig Downs, '68, of Cleveland, Ohio; and Bill Cantlon, now attending Michigan State University.

DEDICATION CEREMONY

Students, faculty and staff attended a dedication ceremony Saturday night in Kresge Library where the memorial collection is housed.

The event to honor the students for their contribution included movies, free food and dancing.

A different band played on each of the library's four stories.

A bronze plaque honoring Mrs. Wilson was unveiled during the ceremonies and it will hang in the library entry way.

Students Vote No Cash for OU Campus Paper

Oakland University's campus newspaper, the Oakland Observer, may go off-campus as the result of a student referendum vote last week.

Students voted 638 to 252 to discontinue the mandatory $2 per-student per-term added to the sudent activiies fee to help finance the Observer.

Although the vote was small — OU has nearly 6,000 students — Chancellor Durward B. Varner is expected to take the referendum results to the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, with the recommendation that the $2 be struck from student activities fees.

A university spokesman said the newspaper is considered radical by many students.

It probably will continue publication off-campus with no official university sanction or censorship.

BACKED BY PAPER

He noted that before the vote, the Observer came out in support of the referendum to eliminate student financing.

Another newspaper, Focus: Oakland, started publication when OU began school this fall and has "been doing quite well, financed by sales and advertising revenue," the spokesman said.

OU students approved a $1 fee in 1962 to assist in support of the Observer and boosted the fee another $1 in 1966.

Commission Calls Special Code Hearing

A special hearing on Pontiac's proposed housing code will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at City Hall, East Wide Track and East Pike.

* * *

The hearing was called to answer numerous questions arising about the code since its first presentation to the City Commission on Oct. 14.

The official hearing will be resumed at the regular City Commission meeting next Tuesday.

* * *

At tomorrow's meeting a revised version of the code will be presented and the public will have the opportunity to make statements and ask questions.

True Respect Is Given During Person's Life, Not After Death

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our family is divided on something and we'd like your opinion. Our father and mother were married for 32 years. Eight months ago, Mother died after a lingering illness and Dad was so broken up over it we thought we were going to have to bury him, too.

After six months Dad's grief miraculously vanished when on a vacation to recuperate he met a woman slightly younger than Mother. You guessed it. They are planning to be married soon. Some feel that out of respect to Mother, Dad should wait a full year to remarry. tOhers say it's not necessary. What do YOU say, Abby?

NO NAME OR TOWN, PLS.

DEAR NO: Waiting to show "respect" for the deceased is a pretense. The time to show "respect" is while that person is living.

If your father made your mother happy, and gave her a good life, that is all the "respect" any woman wants. If he wasn't a good husband, waiting a year to remarry (or 20 years!) will not show "respect" to a deceased wife. It's too late. She is gone!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Our teen-age daughter's boyfriend recently went into the service. He wrote and asked her to send him a picture of her in a BIKINI, and one in a SHEER SHORTY NIGHTY. He said he wants to put it on a display board!

Our daughter doesn't have any pictures of herself that fit that description yet, but she wrote and told him she would have some taken right away and send them to him.

We disapprove, for frankly we think Christians should not be seen in lustful attire as he has requested. But it seems that she desires to fulfill his every wish rather than abide by our teaching.

Don't you think if this boy really respected her he would not have asked for such pictures? Also, don't you think that if she had proper respect for herself and her parents she would try to forget this boy?

HEARTBROKEN PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: Since the boy did ask, and your daughter responded in the affirmative, I would say the matter is out of your hands. But you are correct in stating the boy lacks respect for his "girl" and she lacks respect for herself.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I notice that some of your readers object to people referring to "police officers" as "cops."

Why? There is nothing derogatory about it. I am told by a British friend that "COP" is short for "CONSTABLE ON PATROL."

In San Francisco where I grew up we had a beloved Irish cop who settled our baseball disputes and was our friend and father confessor. We all called him a "cop" and meant no disrespect. Of course this was a long time ago, as I am a veteran of World War I and II. Best regards.

CHET IN ATASCADERO

DEAR ABBY: I have a boy who is cheeky to me and will not do as he is told. I have tried smacking him and sending him to bed, and even making him do without things, which helps a little sometimes — but not always.

I also have a little girl who is five, and she has started to copy him. If I take them shopping and they misbehave, I simply smack the two of them. Of course they cry good and loud and attract attention, and then people look at me as though I have done something terribly wrong.

Can you help me with this problem?

CYNTHIA IN BELFAST, IRELAND

DEAR CYNTHIA: To "smack" a child on his bottom is one thing — and sometimes fitting. But to deliver blows to the head and face are often painful, dangerous, humiliating, and quite excessive for the boo-boo. There must be a better way.

DEAR ABBY: I was always under the impression that the bride was supposed to acknowledge the wedding gifts with a personal note, mentioning the gift, etc.

Some time ago my niece was married, and since I received an invitation to her wedding I sent what I considered a most generous gift — a month of my social security income.

There was no acknowledgment for nearly four months. Then came a printed card bearing a snapshot of the bridal couple with a commercially printed message, "WITH SINCERE APPRECIATION FOR YOUR THOUGHTFULNESS AND GOOD WISHES."

Has this age become so automated that a bride sends printed "appreciation" for her wedding gifts? If so, I would like to be informed, then I shall know what to do with future wedding invitations. Sign me . . .

QUO VADIS

DEAR QUO: The printed "thank you" barely covers the obligation, but is better than no acknowledgment at all. The most gracious "thank you" is written individually. The only exceptions are acknowledgments which number in the many hundreds or thousands. But Eleanor Roosevelt, the greatest lady of them all, somehow managed to acknowledge every gift with a personal note.

Tricia Will Fete Goblins

The President's older daughter, Tricia, will give a Halloween party for 250 D.C. school children at the White House Oct. 31, according to Women's Wear Daily. The 6- to 11-year-olds are part of the Widening Horizons Program of the Urban Service Corps which Tricia supports by her membership. Besides cookies and cokes, the children will find a magic show as well as a giant pumpkin.

Madame Columbus: The ladies of the Apollo 11 astronauts arrived in Belgrade, halfway on their world tour, still plagued by head colds and congestion but gamely went straight from the arrival motorcade and lunch with the Titos into a press conference. The first question: How would they compare themselves to the wives of other famous explorers like, say Magellan and Columbus? The reply, from Mrs. Michael Collins: "I've never heard anything at all about the wife of Columbus. And maybe that's the way it should be."

Feminine Look Is Spotlighted at California Fashion Shows

By LINDA DEUTSCH

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "It is cruel for a designer to ask a woman over 30 not to wear a bra," declared Mr. Blackwell as he unveiled his new spring couture collection. "It's a sick trend and I think it should stop."

The flamboyant designer-fashion critic thumbed his nose at the "natural" trend Monday with his most feminine collection in years. It included fitted coats, sculptured gowns, and even the return of the sheath dress. All bodices definitely have bras.

NOT HIS BAG

"All this faddist stuff is not for me," said Mr. Blackwell— that is his professional name. His first name is Richard. His own suit in beige corduroy was more subdued than his usual flashy attire.

★ ★ ★

The tone of his collection is softly elegant with flowing capes and coats over sheath gowns. A new touch for evening is the sleeveless full length satin coat over matching shortsleeved satin dress with bead trim.

Like others in this week's California Fashion Creators showing, Blackwell draws on fashion history. He brings back the chemise of the 20s, pussy-cat bows of the 40s—an enormous beaded bow forms the bodice of a bold print gown—and the sheaths of the 1950s.

But his forte remains the elaborate, flowing evening gown —this time a lime and pink daisy print silk with a five-foot-long billowing cape-train. He calls the dress "the little princess."

Following the trend of femininity without frills, there's not a ruffle in sight.

Malia of Hawaii showcased wide patio pants, hostess gowns and flowing muumuus—all in bright tropical prints that have become a West Coast signature. Malia hides little printed bikinis under flair pants and tunics—a hint at the covered-up look ahead in swimwear.

The Blackwell and Malia collections followed showings of five dress designers who predicted "a renaissance of romance" in the decade ahead. Flounces, flared "skater" skirts, long midcalf silk print dresses and yards of rustling silk scarves pointed the way to the future.

Aerosol Cans Are Criticized

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — The special assistant to the President for consumer affairs put the pressure on aerosol manufacturers today to put more information on their cans —including instructions on what to do if the container is punctured.

Mrs. Virginia H. Knauer told the Second Annual Aerosol Marketing Conference that recently she heard from a consumer who was injured when she dropped and punctured a can of deodorant spray.

"She wrote that the can carried warnings about what one should never do," Mrs. Knauer said. "But there was nothing about what to do if one of the 'nevers' happened. And there was no list of ingredients that might have suggested an antidote."

Mrs. Knauer recalled that during the summer the National Commission on Product Safety heard stories of exploding bottles and cans causing serious eye injuries.

★ ★ ★

She chided the aerosol manufacturers for not coming up with a voluntary agreement clearly stating just how much of a product actually is contained in their spray cans

"Certainly it's high time we satisfied the consumers" demand for truth in packaging and labeling," she said.

TWO PROBLEMS

Mrs. Knauer said consumers are worried about two other problems concerning aerosols:

● "Why do some aerosol mechanisms refuse to function long before the containers are empty?"

● "Consumers who read the 'Don't Incinerate' warning on the label wonder how they should dispose of those partially used containers when they live in a high-rise apartment building where the only way to get rid of trash is to toss it into the incinerator."

Money Shower Acceptable If Done Tastefully

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

This letter proves again that there is an exception to every rule, and when enough imagination, care and effort is put into something of questionable taste, it can often become quite acceptable. In principle, I do not approve of money trees, but the charm in the method of presentation of this tree described below is unquestionable.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: This is in reply to the bridal consultant who inquired about the "money tree shower." I do agree with you that there is nothing so disgusting as someone giving money at a shower, which is meant to be an occasion for personal mementos.

★ ★ ★

I recently attended a small intimate shower, however, with only relatives and close friends of the bride present. The shower was given by a dear friend who was a bridesmaid. The invitation stated it would be a money tree shower, with a note telling guests to wrap the money in such a way that only the bride would see the amount.

★ ★ ★

It was placed on the tree which was beautifully decorated with the disguised money, and used as a centerpiece. This was presented to the bride as her gift. Only the givers knew the amounts.

★ ★ ★

These were very prominent people, and it was done in such a tasteful way that I do feel it was correct.

Gowned in satin with Chantilly lace and bead accents at the neck and waist, the bride was attended by Doris Fletcher as maid of honor.

Large Family Eats in Shifts

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—It took a lot of advance planning to get everyone together for a family portrait at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gue, but they made it.

The Gues have 17 children — 12 girls and five boys — and with the father's long hours at his job as appliance salesman and part-time jobs for some of the children and fulltime jobs for others, the whole group is seldom home together.

* * *

"Whoever is here sits down and eats, and the rest eat when they get home, Mrs. Gue, a registered nurse, explains.

Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter are about the only times the whole family has a meal together. A daughter, 22, is married; the others range down to the age of four months.

Hard Sell Program Shows Soft Touch

Christianity in action is Mother Charleszetta Waddles of Detroit who spoke at the Pontiac YWCA Monday. Addressing a general membership meeting, she told the story of her Perpetual Help Mission.

* * *

Although she had to leave school at the age of 12, Mother Waddles is an ordained minister and a fluent persuasive speaker. Her speech Monday was a combination religious message and hard sell.

Mother Waddles believes that more individuals must get personally involved in helping other people. She has little use for most social agencies which she claims are not doing their jobs well. Anyway, she says, agencies can't do it all.

DAY AT A TIME

In her mission, which she started with $58 and keeps going day by day with donations that always miraculously appear, Mother Waddles serves meals to anyone who comes in, 12 hours a day. In addition she runs classes in skills, cultural activities and tutoring. She gives emergency help of all kinds 24 hours a day. She runs a mental health halfway house. She has a radio program.

* * *

She attracts volunteers to her like bees to honey. Her assistant, Maggie Kreischer, started with four hours a day and now, in her words, works "10 hours a day, seven days a week."

* * *

To the blacks she contacts, Mother Waddles has this message: "Trust your minds; you can create anything you want to create. Your minds are all you have; all you need is in you." And if these blacks complain that no one will hire them, she says, "Well, be the first one they've hired."

* * *

She calls for more creative classes in school. She would like to start several small industries with the skilled creative persons she has working at the mission.

* * *

Her final plea Monday was for more individuals to help lonely elderly people, many living on pitifully inadequate incomes, eating poorly and sinking into apathy because they have little or no contact with other human beings. This, she said, is a Pontiac problem just as it is a problem everywhere.

Complexion Care Will Revitalize Sun-Weary Skin

Now's the ideal time to revitalize your summer weary complexion. How? Simply by using a basic complexion care program that includes cleansing cream, skin freshener and moisture cream.

Amway suggests the following three steps for the benefits of a professional facial in the privacy of your home.

* * *

Step 1 — Cleansing: Spread cream generously over entire face using upward and outward motions, being sure to handle skin gently. Tissue off completely.

Step 2 — Freshening: Saturate a cotton pad with freshener and stroke over face and neck and enjoy the tingle!

Step 3 — Moisturizing: It's best to smooth moisture cream on nightly after cleansing and freshening or during the daytime. Apply gently with fingertips and massage well.

Use Chemical on Old Finish

One major problem in furniture refinishing is getting the old paint off. One way of doing this is with chemical paint removers that wash off with water. According to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, these removers contain an emulsifier that lifts off the remover and the old finish when combined with water.

After you have applied the remover and followed directions, old finish and the wood surface beneath should be perfectly clean. The new paint removers are non-flammable and leave no wax residue on the wood.

Called 'Halloween-Look'

Fad Fashions Rapped

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

Designer Don Loper describes contemporary fashion as pumpkin work — "365 days a year of the Halloween-look."

"I'm convinced that all the mirrors in America are broken," he said in an interview, having in mind mainly the way the mini skirt looks, fore and aft.

* * *

Loper, of Beverly Hills, Calif., heads a $25 million a year designing empire. Women on all continents wear his creations, none of which ever featured or ever will feature a hemline above the knee. Dresses with the Loper label start at $895.

"I know many women and legs who wouldn't be caught dead in a mini," he said.

REJECTS UNISEX LOOK

He also pooh-poohed the peacock revolution men's clothing and the unisex look — boy dressing like girl and the reverse.

* * *

Referring to the Nehru jacket which flopped as a fashion for men, he predicted the same fate for the current Edwardian and mod looks.

"I've never seen a successful man wear freaky clothes."

* * *

He dismissed the unisex look with:

"When you see two people walking down the street, dressed alike and holding hands, you can tell by the hair length which is the girl. Her hair is shorter, as a rule."

* * *

The trend to see-through and nude fashion turns him off, too.

"A man will turn to look at a well-turned ankle but no man will turn to look at a nude," he said.

At parties in his 22-room Bel Air mansion Loper insists that women wear long gowns and men, black tie, "no turtle necks, please."

Solid Footing in Suedes

Suede steps brightly into the party shoe scene for fall, reports Seventeen. The new suede shoes are brushed to peach-fuzz softness and snapped with staps or glistened with silvery frost. They are on a solid footing, sometimes even clunkier than ever.

* * *

Heels often rise to the loftiest heights in years. The party platform, in silver to match a flared heel and buckle, makes a strong stand for the policies of the forties. Suede colors run the gamut from black and grey to red and green.

Many Cultures Represented in Folk Art Show

A variety of handmade imported dolls are in the folk art exhibit starting Wednesday at the Pontiac Creative Arts Center.

There will also be a sale booth of foreign pastries.

Items exhibited are from the Gallery de Boicourt of Birmingham and are for sale.

Regular PCAC hours are from 1 to 4 p.m. daily except Friday.

Organ Concert Set Thursday

A pop organ concert will be presented Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Smiley Brothers Music Company recital hall on North Saginaw Street.

Hal Vincent, staff organist for the Baldwin Piano and Organ Company, will be the guest soloist.

The concert is open to the public and refreshments will be served.

New Packaging for Tissue Hankies

What comes to mind when you think of straw accessories? Something colorful, practical and decorative? Those are just the words for "The First Straw," the new straw-patterned, dispenser-size box of Kleenex tissues.

The new look for tissues is available in four shades — blue, green, pink and yellow — with matching pastel tissues, and in a natural straw color with white tissues.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Many smart members of the feminine sex learn to walk twice during their lifetimes, first as infants and again as adults. The latter is a process of "unlearning" as well as learning. Most of us form a few awkward habits while growing up.

There is something so charming about graceful movement! It is a telling ingredient in the total impression we give others. Every woman can develop a graceful walk, or at least improve on the one she has if she takes the trouble to do so.

★ ★ ★

First we must learn to stand correctly. Check yourself at the following crucial points. Are your knees relaxed? They should be. If you hyperextend them, you will encourage a protruding abdomen, a sway back and a jerky walk. Is your abdomen pulled in and is your ribcage lifted? They should be.

SHOULDERS BACK

When you pull your abdomen in you should tuck your hips under. Is your chin parallel to the floor and is your neck as long as you can make it? I hope so. Are your shoulders down and back, but relaxed? Do your feet point straight forward with your weight equally divided? If all these things are true of you, then you are ready to think of the way you walk.

★ ★ ★

The reach for your steps should be straight forward. Avoid throwing your weight from side to side. Do not extend your legs far out in front of you. Your knees should remain pretty much under you as you walk. Try for a smooth gait. This is a favorite technique for developing it.

With knees near a half-bend take long gliding steps. Work on this until it is smooth. Gradually straighten the knees and shorten the steps to normal but try to keep the feeling of gliding. The old trick of walking with a book on your head is one test for posture and the walk. If your walk is bouncy or your posture poor, the book will probably fall off.

★ ★ ★

Graceful movement creates an aura of youthfulness at any age while the opposite can cause a woman to look much older than she actually is. Place your hands on your hips and try the walking exercise I have just described. Add the book to your topknot.

Their Patches Sew Up Profit in New Venture

Quilting bees can be profitable. Florette Angel, who used to work for the Department of Commerce, and Dorothy Weatherford, a graduate of Carnegie Tech, decided to make patchwork big business in West Virginia. They've formed Mountain Artisans, Inc., a community co-op, to promote the patchwork craft, and now have 300 women hard at work making pillows, quilts, apparel and yard goods. Florette and Dorothy are now in New York showing the complete patchwork collection. Mrs. Jay Rockefeller, the wife of West Virginia's secretary of state, is a hard-working staffer.

Replace the Elastic

DEAR POLLY and Mrs. E. P. — I replace the elastic on my husband's shorts with regular 1½-inch underwear elastic, which can be bought at any notions counter. I trim off the worn elastic as close to the shorts fabric as possible.

Placing the edge of the fabric barely over the new elastic and keeping a steady pull on the elastic to make it taut, I use the zigzag stitch on my sewing machine. If one does not have the zigzag, a double row of running stitches very close together will work. Always keep the elastic pulled taut while stitching.—MRS. H. W. D.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — When the elastic on my husband's jockey shorts becomes worn and loose, I cut slits about 1½ inches apart all around the worn elastic band and loosely buttonhole stitch around them to prevent fraying. Then I thread 1½-inch elastic through these holes and cut to the length to fit comfortably around his waist.

This has worked fine and he gets twice the wear out of a pair of shorts.—MRS. E. L. B.

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — How can I get rid of the bugs on freshly-cut flowers before bringing them into the house?—MRS. G. C. H.

DEAR POLLY — I finally discovered a way to keep the hand-powered lawn mower up out of the way in the garage. I used two small hooks (screwed in the wall) and a length of chain.

One end link of the chain was put on one hook, then the rest was wrapped around the mower handle and the last link put on the other hook. The mower stands upright and only takes a fraction of the space it used to take.—MRS. E. F. M.

'Apple Tree' Opens Will-O-Way Season

By JANET ODELL
Women's Editor,
The Pontiac Press

Apples are back at Will-O-Way . . . apples in large bowls in the theatre lobby and "The Apple Tree" by Sheldon Harnick and Jerry Bock on stage. The audience ate apples between acts.

Monday was the invitational preview of the area's newest repertory company, Will-O-Way Repertory Theatre on West Long Lake Road near Telegraph.

Some 15 or 20 years ago, when Will-O-Way Theatre was in its heyday as a summer theatre, plays were presented in a building used for winter apple storage. Apples were the symbol of the theatre. And now they're back.

★ ★ ★

Celia Merrill Turner has brought six of her performing art students from Northwood Institute of Indiana where she is director of the drama department. This group, augmented by local actors, opens tonight in the first of this season's plays.

It's a bright young cast, talented and well-directed. The staging is simple but imaginative. In this intimate theatre, no one is far from the stage.

The three acts are loosely tied together by the theme of boy meets girl and the problems that follow. The first act depicts the Adam and Eve story and their fall from grace; there are charming lines and all is in good taste.

The second act is the old "Lady and the Tiger" folk tale; this is the most dramatic of the three. The third act is a combination of Hollywood, Cinderella and hard rock.

WELL DONE

Sharon Maher and Jon Tanner carry their heavy starring roles with skill. The lines give them an opportunity to display a wide range of acting ability and they are a pleasure to watch.

No nudity, no four letter words, just a few hours of pleasant participation in the age-old theme of love and its puzzlements.

Will-O-Way Repertory Theatre has performances Tuesday through Sunday at 8:30 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling the theatre.

There She Goes — Miss America

BY YOLANDA BENAVIDES

NEW YORK — The brown-bag crowd at Central Park around the noon hour had an eyeful for dessert when green-eyed, blonde Pamela Anne Eldred took a recent stroll here.

"'Hey, that's Miss America isn't it?" asked a tall bachelor in a banker's blue suit.

★ ★ ★

To the affirmative reply he declared — "That's what I thought. She sure looks good enough to win to me."

A small crowd began to mill around the 21-year-old West Bloomfield Township beauty and former Miss Michigan, who swept into the national limelight by winning the Miss America crown.

GIRL-WATCHERS' OK

Pedestrians stopped to take a second look. Those warming the benches craned their necks over newspapers to catch a view of the size-4 miss.

"Looks like we've got the girl-watchers' approval," remarked Mrs. Jean Dishongh, Miss America's official chaperone.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dishongh and her radiant charge were rounding out a brief stay in New York while Pamela was being fitted for her new wardrobe.

Like every day in Pamela's reign — which extends to August — this day was a whirlwind of meeting the public.

BUSY MORNING

A quick jaunt to Central Park for The Pontiac Press interview was sandwiched between a morning taping session for the American Cancer Society and an afternoon of the same for the armed services. Breakfast came close to the noon hour.

Meanwhile, the demure, soft-spoken attention-getter was too busy to notice her own happening.

★ ★ ★

With a photographer right behind, she shared crackerjacks with tots, ducks and pigeons, gulped down an oozing orange popsicle and climbed aboard a flower-decked horse-drawn carriage.

Ah, the spoils of success — not to mention an infected toe still smarting from the rigors that go hand in hand with winning the fairest of the fair title.

U.S. Will Surrender Control of Okinawa to Japanese by 1972

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Japan have reached an understanding for the return of Okinawa to Tokyo's administrative control by 1972 while maintaining the U.S. military base on the island, official sources say.

The agreement will call for taking U.S. nuclear weapons off the island, held by the United States since the Japanese defeat in World War II, according to the officials.

President Nixon and Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato plan to issue a joint statement about the transfer when they conclude their Nov. 19-21 meeting in Washington, the officials said.

It will provide the date and the conditions to be embodied in a formal agreement negotiated after the Sato-Nixon meeting.

Negotiation of the final agreement, Nixon administration officials said, may take a year or more. When the United States and Japan reached an agreement in 1967 for the return of two Jima and the Bonin Islands, it took seven months to negotiate the final details.

Officials say that the details are far more complicated in the case of Okinawa and the Ryukyu Islands. U.S. officials are not willing to detail in advance conditions for use of Okinawa as a major U.S. military outpost in the western Pacific.

★ ★ ★

But Japan will take over the job of actually defending the strategic chain with its own sea, ground and air defense units, they said.

The U.S. base on Okinawa would be operated under the same conditions as prevail on other U.S. military bases in Japan under the existing security treaty between the two nations.

CAN BE ENDED

After June, 1970, the security treaty can be terminated by either side on one year's notice.

The United States would be obliged to hold prior consultations with the Tokyo government on military movements in and out of the island base, and storage of nuclear weapons on Okinawa would no longer be permitted after the Japanese flag is raised over the islands.

Skyjack Has U.S. in Policy Bind

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's strong support for sending airplane hijackers back to their takeoff point has collided with its equally strong support for granting refuge to escapees from Communist countries.

The dilemma presented itself Sunday when two young East Germans forced a Polish Airliner with nine crewmen and 63 other passengers aboard to fly to West Berlin instead of East Berlin.

Although the plane landed at Tegel Field in the French sector, West Berlin is an international responsibility of the big powers. The United States, Britain and France already have started consulting on how to handle the case.

For the United States the immediate concern is how to avoid undermining its policy against hijacking by taking a stand in Germany consistent with its position on American planes pirated to Cuba.

The incident occurred at a time when the problem of hijacking is a major international concern, with action proposed both in the United Nations and the International Civil Aviation Organization—ICAO.

In a speech to the U.N. General Assembly last month President Nixon called for measures to deal with the problem.

American anxiety has grown over the forced flight of airliners to Cuba—44 from the United States since 1961.

In the ICAO the United States has been pressing for an international agreement which would require return of a hijacker to the country victimized by the hijacking.

★ ★ ★

Officials say, however, some other nations oppose a binding commitment of that kind, and Washington has looked favorably, as a practical matter, on an additional provision—if the hijacker is not returned he should be prosecuted in the country where he lands.

★ ★ ★

In the United Nations a proposal advanced by Holland with a dozen other sponsors calls on member nations to support ICAO's efforts to take measures to put an end to hijacking.

The United States is backing the Dutch proposal, though for tactical reasons it is not among the cosponsors.

★ ★ ★

Officials said if the United States had succeeded in getting an ICAO agreement to require a return of hijackers, it would now be caught in a more serious conflict of policies than it is. Given a choice of positions, however, they said the United States in dealing with the German case can advocate prosecution of the hijackers without being compelled to counsel their return to Communist control.

Japan Princess to Have Surgery

TOKYO (AP) — Crown Princess Michiko entered a hospital today for an operation to correct a slight but painful deformity of a cartilage at the end of a rib, court officials said.

The princess, wife of Crown Prince Akihito, was 35 on Monday. Court officials expect her to ramain in the hospital two or three weeks.

'Coco' First Night Tickets Seen as a Rare Commodity

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There's glamorous Broadway first night coming up two months from now that you probably couldn't get a ticket to even if you started this minute.

It's the Katharine Hepburn musical "Coco"

WILSON

Dec. 18. Producer Frederick Brisson anticipated the great demand for tickets that would come from Parisian couturiers, from the world press, from friends in Beverly Hills and Palm Springs, and from regular NY first-nighters. He began blocking out seating two months ago. It'll be Broadway's "toughest ticket" in many, many years.

Roz. Russell Brisson will have finished her 50th movie, "The Unexpected Mrs. Pollifax," shortly before, and will be there with her producer husband and James Galanos the couturier. "I am bringing my own designer!" she announces.

One day after publisher Harry Evans got a hole in one on the 17th hole at Creek Club in Locust Valley, his friend Mrs. Carl (Bubbles) Holmes, got one on the same hole. Seeing her, Evans sneered, "Copy cat!"

Real Estate Investment Benefit

Senate Unit Hits Tax Shelter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee has voted to raze part of one of the biggest tax shelters in the Internal Revenue code — the practice under which a person makes both a profit and a tax loss on his real estate investment.

Over the real estate industry's intense opposition and after four hours debate, the committee voted yesterday to change depreciation rules for nonresidential property. These rules sometimes allow real estate investors to pay no income tax despite big profits from their property and from other souces of income.

★ ★ ★

Under tax low now, a property is allowed to depreciate for tax purposes twice as fast as it actually does depreciate.

Such rapid depreciation creates a paper loss. The taxpayer can deduct that loss from his taxable income to reduce — or sometimes eliminate — his taxes.

WOULD HIKE REVENUES

The committee action, if sustained by Congress, would increase government revenues by $1.3 billion by 1979, when its full effects are felt.

This is the biggest single revenue-gainer in the sweeping tax reform bill passed by the House this summer and under consideration by the Senate committee. With a few modifications, the committee approved the House's provisions on rapid depreciation.

★ ★ ★

The committee action applies only to nonresidential buildings — motels, office buildings, warehouses, shopping centers, privately owned post offices that are leased to the government and other commercial structures. Residential construction was leftout because of the national housing shortage.

Now, an investor or a syndicate can buy or construct a building, take advantage of rapid depreciation rules, sell the structure after a few years when the benefits start to wear off, and invest the proceeds from the sale in a new building and repeat the cycle.

DEPRECIATION ALLOWED

Moreover, depreciation is allowed on the building's entire value even if it is built through mortgages, the interest on which is tax-exempt.

"The present tax treatment of real estate," a committee study said, "has been used by some high income individuals as a tax shelter to escape payment of tax on substantial portions of their economic income."

Kidney Switch Is Interstate

DETROIT (AP)—A helicopter rushed the kidneys of a Detroit woman who died Monday to transplant patients waiting in Cleveland, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

It was the first time Detroit kidney specialists joined efforts with out-of-state surgeons.

★ ★ ★

When doctors arrived by helicopter from the Veterans Administration Hospital in Cleveland, they were told by Wayne State University Medical School officials the woman donor—whose name has not been released — had not died after all.

As the Cleveland team was flying back to Ohio, they were radioed that the woman had died. They returned and picked up the kidneys packed in ice. Ninety minutes later tissues from the organs were matched with 10 possible recipients in Cleveland. The transplant took place on one of them a short time later.

Catholic Group Defends Tax-Free Property Status

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States Catholic Conference has defended the tax-exempt status of church-owned real estate as important for "keeping the complex social structure of our country in balance."

In a "friend of the court" brief filed with the Supreme Court yesterday, the conference, a successor to the National Catholic Welfare Conference, said the exemptions constitute a "rationally conceived and deep-seated policy."

★ ★ ★

"Tax exemptions have played an important part in keeping the complex social structure of our country in balance," the conference said. "Repudiation by the court of this long-standing, most deliberate and cherished tax exemption would inevitably weaken that structure."

Frederick Walz, a Staten Island property owner, is challenging in the Supreme Court New York State's real estate tax exemptions on church property.

INVOLUNTARY PAYMENT

Walz argues the exemption forces him to make, in effect, an involuntary payment to religious groups in violation of his constitutional rights. The case is scheduled for argument later in the term.

★ ★ ★

"From the very beginning," the conference said, "We have sought to accommodate our laws so that every citizen could live in as much harmony as possible with his conscience and his government."

★ ★ ★

"In a nation as religiously diverse as our own, however, it is not possible to give every citizen's conscience a right of veto over important public policies."

Effect of Soviet Space Shortcomings Eyed

By JOHN WEYLAND

MOSCOW (AP) — The failure of Soviet cosmonauts to put together a space station on the three-ship flight last week could result in a shift of emphasis back to unmanned flights.

The lack of any spectacular achievement by the seven spacemen seems to have put the proponents of manned flights on the defensive. They talk as if they are trying to stave off a return to the policy of extreme caution that followed the Soyuz 1 crash in April 1967 in which a cosmonaut was killed.

* * *

This tragic setback obviously shook the Kremlin badly and made it extremely leery of manned flights. The Soviet press took to extolling unmanned flights, saying they were just as useful as manned missions in obtaining scientific information and preferable because no risk of human life was involved.

The de-emphasis of the cosmonaut program took some of the sting from comparisons with what the United States was accomplishing with men in space during this period.

MORE FAVORABLE

A more favorable attitude toward manned flights started to show after the successful flight of Soyuz 3 last October and the linkup of Soyuz 4 and 5 in January.

The Soviet leaders seemed reassured of the safety of manned flights and once again confident that their space program could hold its own in direct competition with the U.S. effort.

If the Soyuz troika had produced a big leap foward, more manned flights could have been expected in the near future, with perhaps launchings to the moon or plants from an orbiting platform.

How serious the trouble was will be kept secret. Possibly it was minor and will not significantly slow down the manned program. But if it was serious and the Kremlin's old worries have revived, the Soviet leaders could well perfer to retreat to the former, safer position. This could mean a long reappraisal before any more manned flights.

In one interview, the unidentified chief designer of spaceships said: "No matter how perfect automatic equipment is and how high the level of automation, it is the man whose decisions are most important. In the conditions of flight, especially when various operations are being performed, the cosmonaut plays an extremely great role. In the formula man-machine, the machine is merely an object to be controlled."

Another unidentified scientist who took part in developing the Soyuz control system said: "The best results are yielded by a reasonable combination of man the researcher and automatic equipment."

* * *

Another space authority, identified only as a "leading specialist," declared: "The building of orbital stations is the central problem of cosmonautics today. Extraterrestrial laboratories will have to be first built on earth, then dismantled and taken into orbit and fitted together into a single whole."

The chief designer endorsed this, emphasizing the importance of welding in space, tried for the first time in Soyuz 6.

"Welding in space holds great promise," he said. "Some people believe now that it will be possible to build various objects in space, assembling them with the use of automation alone. But it is not like that. I believe that the assembly of various constructions will be mechanized to the utmost, but manual work will still be needed. Welding is just this type of work."

12 at U-M Taking Course on Organizing of Protests

ANN ARBOR, Mich (AP) — Twelve University of Michigan upperclassmen are taking a course in how to organize successful protest movements.

The course, taught by psychology teaching fellow Maryann Hoff, 22, includes discussions on strategy for causing social change, ethical issues in violence and disruptive protest, the role of the leader, backlash and community reaction.

Engaging in protests is not among the requirements for the course.

"I couldn't onscientiously do that," Miss Hoff said. "We're not supporting radical activity. We're trying to analyze something that is relevant to these people today, teaching them to ask proper questions of themselves."

However, all 12 students have engaged in some form of campus protest, including a recently successful fight to win student-faculty control of a new university bookstore.

Students in the course receive two hours' credit in psychology.

Enrollment Up for Segregated

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Enrollment in segregated private schools in the South has increased tenfold since passage of the 1964 civil rights act, a publication of the Southern Regional Council has reported.

The publication said many of the schools are nonaccredited and substandard. It said the schools represent the largest obstacle to racial school desegregation and quality education in the South.

* * *

"South Today," the organization's monthly publication, said as many as 300,000 students may be enrolled in these schools.

The magazine said more than 150 of the schools in 11 southern states are "substantially sponsored" by the segregationist "White Citizens Council."

Bundestag Head Gets New Term

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany's new Bundestag reelected Kai-Uwe von Hassel, a former defense minister, as its president Monday to pilot the next four years of parliamentary work.

The 56-year-old Christian Democrat was voted back into office by a 411-72 majority as the new assembly, elected in balloting Sept. 28, launched the federal republic's sixth legislature.

Banner Will Greet Rochester Visitors

BY SANDY IRISH

Persons coming to Rochester High School this week will be greeted by a banner reading "Home of the Falcons." Cheerleaders are making the sign for Rochester's homecoming Friday and Saturday.

The week's activities will start with today's Junior-Senior Little Rose Bowl game.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow will be class colors day, Wednesday, school colors day, and Friday, support your team day.

Friday the festivities will climax with an assembly at 9:30 a.m. kicking off the fun. The classes' and teachers' skits will be presented and the varsity cheerleaders will do a pom-pon routine to "Goody, Goody."

The homecoming court will be introduced. Competing for the crown are Cheri Chandler, Lori Allen and Cherri Hames, seniors; Cathy Bunting and Sandy Irish, juniors; Gail Aldrich and Summer Feierabend, sophomores; and Jean Stranahan and Terry Lahy, freshmen.

Honorary court members are the foreign exchange students Anna M. Martius, senior from Italy, and Helma Marx, junior from Germany.

★ ★ ★

The traditional parade will start at 10:30 a.m. from the high school with the classes marching behind their floats.

Theme of homecoming this year is book titles.

Seniors chose "For Whom The Bell Tolls,'; juniors, "In the Heat of the Knight"; sophomores, "Behind Enemy Lines" and "When Knights Were Bowled", freshmen.

The Varsity, Art, French, and Spanish clubs are entering cars. Winners of the float competition will be announced at Friday night's game against the Lahser Knights.

The semiformal dance Saturday night is sponsored by the Student Council. "Camelot" will be the theme with the Orange Krusch providing the music.

Marian High Field Day Is a Gala Event

By MARCIA FERRAND

Weeks of preparations culminated today when Marian High School's students participated in Field Day.

During the annual event sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association, classes compete to gain the greatest number of points for floats, banners, songs, stunts and athletic competitions.

★ ★ ★

Each class selects a theme and designs a costume, float, banner, song and stunt to depict their topic.

Choosing a Spanish theme, "Si Si Senior," members of the class dressed as matadors. Girls wore white blouses, blue jeans rolled up to their knees, flaming red capes and sashes and black matador hats.

A charging bull in black and white, with a red wreath strung around his neck comprised the senior float. A bull dominated the banner along with the words "Bully for Us." During their stunt seniors used Spanish dancing steps and flung their capes.

Wearing black shirts, tights, and cardboard boxes painted to resemble cars, the junior class selected "Juniors Accelerate" for its theme.

For its float, the junior class chose a race car. Checkered flags with the class theme printed across them composed the banner.

Dressed as soup cans, sophomores wore red tights and white chefs' hats. On their banner were printed the words, "Stir 'em Up Sophs."

For its theme, this class chose "Sophs are MMM Good."

"Freshmen Are on the Right Track" was the theme as they paraded dressed like engineers, including striped hats.

★ ★ ★

The underclassmen devised a train for their float.

Marianews, Marian High School's biweekly newspaper, received top awards again this year.

From the National Scholastic Press Association All-American Critical Service, Marianews received a first-class rating.

The school publication earned two "Marks of Distinction" — one for writing and editing and the other for physical appearance.

"The news writing is excellent and leads are crisp and concise," commented the judge. "The Marianews has a slick, professional appearance."

Marianews also received the all-Catholic award from the National Catholic Press Association.

NFH Seniors Eye Caribbean

By SARAH GAHAGAN

North Farmington High School's senior class wants to try something different this year in the way of a senior trip.

Instead of the usual New York or Washington, a journey to the Bahamas is being diseussed.

★ ★ ★

Thomas Wallis, trip counselor, has already begun finding information by contacting three or four tour companies.

Easter vacation is the most likely week to be chosen.

ART PRIZE

Recently, senior Wendy Kornmiller was awarded a second-place prize of $100 in the Saginaw Valley Art Show.

Art teachers Daryl Case and Mrs. Carolyn Buessar chose Wendy's abstract felt design of people entitled "The Group" from others designed by North students to enter in the show.

★ ★ ★

There it was matched against pieces done by both high school and college students from Michigan, and awarded one of five second-place prizes.

Winners will receive their awards at an Oct. 28 dinner.

NOTED SPEAKER

Noted author and child psychologist Haim Ginott will be the guest speaker.

Recently the junior varsity cheerleaders for the 1969-70 year were chosen. Congratulations are in order for sophomores Marti Daumler, Sue Kahal, Dianne Mather, Jana Scitturo, Dottie Spencer, Sandi Steggles, Nancy Such, junior June Fedeson, and seniors Ruth and Beth Bowles.

June, Ruth and Beth were all chosen for the JV squad last year when tryouts were held for varsity cheerleaders.

Seaholm Sport: Science Club's Big Space Race

By MIKE FOX

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration might have beaten the Seaholm High Science Club to the moon, but the group is still going strong. Last year, Ascienta was so active with its model rocketry program, in fact, that some students joked about its space race with NASA.

Now headed by Ray Field, the club has five committees which offer students opportunities to pursue their special hobbies or interests: laser, amateur radio, chemical research, computer math and model rocketry.

The laser committee has plans for construction, from scratch, of a continuous-beam helium neonlaser.

The amateur radio gang, with Seaholm's own station call of WB8DHU, has started an amateur-radio training course, run by member John Lane.

Code practice and "on the air" operation are promised to acquaint interested students with ham radio. Those student wishing to extend their chemistry or computer knowledge can join one of those two committees.

A fleet of rockets (miniatures, of course), launchers, control panel, and wind tunnel are part of the club's model rocketry implements.

Other officers of the club include Andy Robinson, vice president, and John Lane, secretary - treasurer. John is issuing regular club bulletins, called "Science Nonfiction" to keep members posted on the doings.

So far, however, the club hasn't started construction of an atomic bomb.

By DEBBY NOVESS

Homecoming is over for another year and interests at Waterford Kettering are turning to other areas.

The '70 Kismet will be delivered May 28. The yearbook is now on sale to all juniors. Sophomore orders have already been taken, and seniors are yet to come.

Rrringgg!

"We do any job. What time would you like a sitter?"

These will be the sounds at Lahser High School's office Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

JUNIOR WORKDAY

After 2:30 p.m. Oct. 31, and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 1, members of the class of '71 will take orders for the "Junior Workday."

Industrious juniors will work 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Nov. 1.

The way the day operates is simple. Someone who wants a job done calls the school office and a worker will be sent to him. The cost varies according to the task starting at $1 an hour. The minimum charge is $1.

"You name it, we do it: leaf raking, baby-sitting, lawn mowing, snow shoveling (if the weather calls for it), window washing, fall cleaning anything," Jay Bond, junior class president, explained.

OPTIMISTIC

The workday was very successful for us as sophomores last year. We expect an even better day this year."

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from the work day will go toward the Senior Prom. The dance is hosted by the junior class in the spring as a gift to the graduating seniors. Even though the prom isn't scheduled until May 23, plans are already being made. Location, bands and costs are all being considered.

★ ★ ★

The class of '71 is also very busy with many other activities. It has successfully set up concession stands at several games and school functions. Confident the other classes will have a hard time beating it in homecoming events, it is currently working on thier float.

★ ★ ★

The juniors are led by Jay Bond, president; Jamie Read, vice president; Vanessa Carr, secretary; and Kurt Anderson, treasurer. Their sponsors are teachers Richard Maki and Mrs. John Greening.

WLW Spirit Award Is Set

By AUDREY WILCOX

To increase school spirit at Walled Lake Western, the Student Congress will offer an award, a tom-tom, to be presented to the class winning a particular contest.

★ ★ ★

Whenever there is a class competition, the class that wins will be awarded the tom-tom. The class will keep the trophy as long as it continues to win.

Seniors were the first to win the award when they had the greatest percentage of supporters purchasing bus tickets to an away game. The class kept it for another win by buying the most school newspaper subscriptions.

★ ★ ★

Although the first contest was sponsored by the Student Congress, the trophy will be available to all classes and clubs for sponsorship. This will make it possible to have more competitions and more circulation.

TO WIN HONOR

At the end of the year, the class with the most tom-tom awards will have its name engraved on a plaque and will also win the honor of the "most spirited" for that year.

Last week senior President Rick McClelland chaired an assembly.

Because seniors at WLW spent two years as students at Central there is still a strong link between the classes of 1970. "Spirit Week" began yesterday with an assembly first hour. Today "Penny Day," a competition was held during the school day between boys and the girls.

FIELD EVENTS

Tomorrow field events will be held the fifth and sixth hours in the gym. A student can compete in only one of the many contests. This will give as many students as possible a chance to participate.

Thursday a bonfire will be held at the school at 7 p.m. Friday, the day of the football game, a pep assembly will be held the sixth hour.

The chief and princess will be announced at halftime. To end the festivities of "Spirit Week" a dance will be sponsored Saturday night by the seniors from 8 to 11 in the Student Commons area.

★ ★ ★

There are five new faces at WLW this year. They are exchange students Regina Rieker, Germany; Kiristi Rantala, Finland; Hilde Wildiers, Belgium; Anke Enzian, Germany and Maretha Vork, Denmark.

Milford

By MARTHA SIMON

The loud hum and roar from room 911 at Milford High is the Student Council at work. It meets as a class each day third hour, with a general meeting once a week. This new system of daily meetings was set up to give the council extra time, and enable it to accomplish more.

The services and improvements committee, headed by Marg Tressler, is completing plans for a breakfast bar.

★ ★ ★

Doughnuts, milk and juice will be sold before school in the cafeteria. The committee has completed the foreign exchange bulletin board, featuring Torsten Ahs and his country, Sweden.

The student affairs and evaluation committee, headed by Jim Grondin, conducted a discussion night with DePorres High School in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Students from the predominantly black school came to MHS to discuss race relations.

"I found the exchange night interesting, and quite an experience," said sophomore Sonia Devine. Students from Milford will visit DePorres tonight.

Mercy

By VERONICA McCANN

Although the administration did not suspend classes for the day, Our Lady of Mercy High School observed last Wednesday's moratorium with a program of speeches and dialogues related to the war.

Sponsored by the social studies department and organized primarily by Mrs. A. A. Froslie, department head, and Wayne Dyer, counselor, the speakers attempted to enlighten and educate those members of the student body who were free to attend.

★ ★ ★

The presentations varied from hour to hour throughout the day. Mrs. Jack Jordan, now the mother of seven, discussed the effects of having lost her son almost two years ago.

Besides the four outside speakers who gave talks, three faculty members, each qualified to speak about a particular aspect of the war held a panel discussion on the technology of war, chemical warfare and the psychological effects of war.

★ ★ ★

The Mercy nuns, a portion of the faculty, initiated a prayer vigil the Tuesday preceding.

Students, who were at the normal attendance level, showed their endorsement by wearing buttons and black armbands.

Cranbrook

By MATT KIMBROUGH

After considerable debate, the Cranbrook administration and students came to the conclusion that it was proper to permit participation of the student body in the activities surrounding last week's Vietnam Moratorium.

The majority of those taking part remained at school for a teach-in, which consisted of three speakers, a letter-writing session in the afternoon, a joint assembly with Kingswood to observe a "Peace and Brotherhood Hour," which featured the performance of two folk singers and, finally, the participation in a march into Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Another group went up to Oakland University and took part in its activities including the Birmingham march.

Another group of some 20 students wished less to discuss the Vietnam issue than to be involved in active protest. This group went to Wayne State University to take part in the protest rally and march on Kennedy Square.

THOUSANDS OF STUDENTS

The rally in the main square involved several thousand high school and college students.

Adelphian

By JACKIE CHOLER

Adelphian Academy has been invited to send 20 students to Camp Au Sable at Grayling to attend a Bible conference tomorrow through Saturday.

Chosen were Chip Chaffin, Karen Cloos, Anne Cooke, Chuck Cooke, Claudia Edens, Pat Edwards, Frank Haynes, Sue Hayward, Donella Longcor.

★ ★ ★

Linda Marsa, Don Mathis, Cathy McMorland, Jud Nelson, Carol Rueckert, Roy Schaeffer, Dennise Smith, Lewis Smith.

Mike Terrell, Sharon Weaver, Dan Wohlers, and Judy Zager. There also will be two chaperones going.

Kingswood

By PAM MULLEN

Students and faculty experimented with a revolutionary idea at Kingswood last week — compulsory lunch was abolished.

Lunch is now being served, with cold and hot buffets, from 11:45 a.m. until 1:20 p.m. Each student and faculty member may go to lunch when she wishes, for as long as she likes. Places are set and cleared by each individual, at seats of her own choosing.

General reaction to the new arrangement has been favorable (wild applause followed the original announcement in assembly).

Senior Gail McCue expressed the sentiments of most students: "The point is: It's so much more relaxed. You don't have to rush up and fight for food, or struggle through strained conversation with people you don't know. You can finally enjoy yourself."

CONCERN EXPRESSED

However, some students have expressed concern at the new setup. "It's going to be so much harder to find people: they'll be all over the school. Besides, compulsory lunch was one of the few ways that upperclassmen could meet seventh, eight and ninth graders," said Allison Ladd.

Coming up this weekend is Cranbrook's Homecoming, against Western Reserve Academy. For the second year in a row, Kingswood will provide a float.

Gail Halsted, this year's float chairman, intends to reinforce Kingswood's good name using a theme of "Round Up Western."

★ ★ ★

The Kingswood Athletic Club is responsible for the float. Phoebe Lawrence, Nancy May, Consie Wilson, Julie Baldwin, Mary Matthaei were among the girls who began working on the float with Gail early last week.

Brother Rice

By PAUL McGILL

The Brother Rice High School Band, under the direction of J. S. Collins, began its second year of full operation this September. Now totaling 28 pieces, the band has added four new instruments, a tuba, French horn, baritone horn and string bass.

Along with the National Anthem and the school fight song, the band plays many contemporary pieces.

★ ★ ★

Band moderator Brother J. M. Lithgow reports that the band will stage Christmas and spring concerts again this year. The band also plays at all of the Brother Rice football games and some of the basketball games.

To inform passing motorists of Rice's events, Student Council has erected a sign next to the school entrance on Lahser Road. The sign is orange trimmed and has orange letters on a white background. It lists all of the school's upcoming social and athletic activities of the week.

Brother William C. Penny, principal of Brother Rice, has announced that four of the school's students have been named semifinalists in the 1969-70 National Merit Scholarship Program. The students are Robert B. Holt, Patrick T. Jarrod, Mark J. MacGuidwin and Richard D. Morrison.

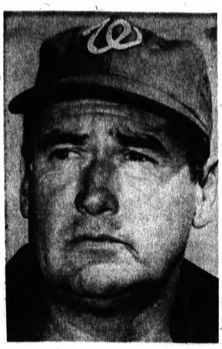
Williams Chosen American League Manager of Year



TED WILLIAMS

NEW YORK (AP) — The ragamuffin cast was virtually the same, but Washington's Senators produced an astonishing about-face last season thanks to the personal magnetism and knowledge of the game that made Ted Williams baseball's last .400 hitter.

The freshman manager, who readily admitted he was uneasy about bossing a club despite a million dollar contract, took a collection of ball players that finished dead last the season before and guided them to their first winning season in 17 years.

★ ★ ★

And, for that bit of masterminding, Williams has been named The Associated Press' American League manager of the year in a nationwide poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Williams attracted 113 votes in the balloting—11 more than another freshman manager, Billy Martin, who was dismissed after leading the Minnesota Twins to the Western Division championship.

WEAVER THIRD

Earl Weaver, who guided the Baltimore Orioles to a runaway triumph in the Eastern Division, was third with 70 votes. Lefty Phillips, a mid-season replacement who guided California to third place, received one vote.

Williams is in Zambia, Africa, filming a hunting show for television and was not available for comment.

However, late in the season he scoffed at the idea when it was suggested that he might be named the AL's manager of the year.

★ ★ ★

The award should go to Weaver, Williams said, because he won the pennant and "that's what you're supposed to do."

"I can tell you one thing," he added, "I'm not going to any of those banquets if I get it."

Williams had never managed anywhere until Bob Short, owner of the Senators, lured him away from a leisure life of hunting and fishing with a salary and stock in the Senators that totaled more than a million dollars.

Williams was presented at the start of the season with a group of players that had won only 65 of 161 games in 1968.

But he "bubbles with enthusiasm and it's contagious," said Ed Brinkman, summing up the respect that Williams commanded from his players.

GREATEST YEAR

Under the master teacher, Frank Howard had his greatest year ever, and players such as Mike Epstein, Brinkman and Hank Allen turned from .220 hitters into .280 hitters. Even the pitching staff improved 100 per cent.

The end result was an 86-76 campaign and a fourth place finish—the first time since 1952 that the Senators had finished better than .500 and the first time since 1946 that they had finished as high as fourth.

★ ★ ★

Martin, the peppery former New York Yankee second baseman, took Minnesota from a seventh place finish in 1968 to the divisional title.

But he was continually undermining himself, feuding first with Williams, then the Twins' front office officials and finally with Minnesota's 20-game winner Dave Boswell outside a Detroit bar.

And, although Martin was popular with Twin fans, owner Calvin Griffith fired him after the season ended.

Lion QB Closes Ears to Fans' First Boos

DETROIT (UPI) — A victory sure does wonders for a man's confidence — especially a 22-year-old quarterback who's just won his first pro football game and is looking forward to more action.

Even a few boos don't matter much.

★ ★ ★

"I heard the booing," says Detroit Lions' Greg Landry recalling the first period of Sunday's match with the Chicago Bears in which he threw one touchdown pass, set up two field goals and ran for 57 yards after being put in to replace the injured Bill Munson.

★ ★ ★

"That (the booing) is something you have to get used to. But the people pay good money and it's their privilege to complain if they don't like what they're doing," he said.

LOOKING AHEAD

As the Lions got down to work Monday after their 13-7 win over the Bears, Landry was looking ahead to next Sunday when the Lions travel to Minneapolis to take on the Vikings who are leading the West Division of the National Football League.

★ ★ ★

He said he wasn't nervous before the game and now he's got the confidence and the respect from the other players — something he felt was lacking when he subbed for Munson in two games last season.

★ ★ ★

"I was apprehensive last year because I knew the reputation Lion veterans had for being tough on rookies," the second-year man says. "But this season, their attitude toward me has been great and therefore I'm less nervous.

"No one tried to tell me what to call in the huddle. I received a lot of good advice — tips, you might say — that was extremely helpful. But nobody tried to correct me once I called a play," he said.

The University of Massachusetts graduate will be in the slot this Sunday and again for four or five more weeks until Munson's passing hand heals.

NOT AS BAD

Another injured Lion, fleet halfback Mel Farr, underwent surgery Monday on his injured right knee and doctors reported the injury wasn't as seriously as was iriginally feared.

However, Farr will be out for the rest of the season — the second year in a row he's been knocked out because of knee trouble.

"The ligament was snapped, but there was no damage to the cartilage and there is no reason to believe that he won't be 100 per cent next season," said a club spokesman.

Report Claims Hull Is Retired

TORONTO (UPI) — Chicago Black Hawks' star Bobby Hull announced his retirement from hockey last week, it was reported in Tuesday morning's Toronto Globe and Mail by columnist Dick Beddoes.

Beddoes said that Hull met with Hawks' General Manager Tommy Ivan in Chicago last week during the World Series in an effort to work out an agreement on their differences.

Hull signed a four-year contract, calling for about $100,000 a year, after holding out at the start of last season, but he has said that Chicago failed to live up to some of its commitments beyond the limits of the contract.

★ ★ ★

"Tommy and I had a fine meeting," Hull said according to Beddoes. "We both had counselors listening to the discussion, I thought the air was cleared for me to return. But when Ivan went to get clearance from Bill Wirtz (the chairman of the Hawks' board), he was told there'd be no concessions."

★ ★ ★

Hull also said, "when Wirtz made no concessions I sent Ivan a wire announcing my retirement. They haven't announced it yet so they must be trying to sweat me out."

Twins' Owner Admits Talking With Rigney About Manager's Post

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Sunday night Minnesota Twins' President Calvin Griffith said he was making a telephone call to the man who could succeed Billy Martin, fired as the baseball team's manager a week ago.

Monday, former California Angels' Manager Bill Rigney confirmed receiving a call from Griffith in San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

"I'm hoping to have an announcement late this week," Griffith said. "We've got to sit down with the new manager and talk for a couple of days before anything is finalized."

Rigney said, "I have talked to Calvin Griffith but beyond that I can't make any comment."

HOLDS TIGHT — Houston Oiler running back Roy Hopkins (36) hangs on to the ball as Mike Battle (40), safety for the New York Jets and defensive lineman John Elliott prepare to bring him down. Hopkins could hardly see where he was going anyway because of Battle's hand. The action took place at Shea Stadium last night where the Jets won, 26-17.

Vote Doesn't Upset Oriole

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl Weaver says "I have no feelings toward the vote" which named freshman Washington manager Ted Williams as the Associated Press' American League manager of the year.

Weaver, who finished third behind fired Minnesota manager Billy Martin, added "the only thing I'm unhappy about as far as the whole year is that we didn't beat the Mets in the World Series."

Weaver guided Baltimore to an easy victory in the AL East and a three-game sweep over Minnesota in the playoffs, only to see his Orioles lose 4-1 to New York in the series.

"Williams did a good job," Weaver commented Monday night after being called away from dinner at his home in Baltimore County.

PLAYERS' FEELINGS

"You know," Weaver continued, "the only thing that's really important to me is how my players feel toward me."

Although the battling Oriole manager did not say it, he undoubtedly wondered what it would have taken to be named the top manager.

Weaver's Orioles defeated the defending world champion Detroit Tigers by 19½ games and rushed past the Twins in three straight playoff games, only to succumb to an underrated Met team in the series.

Skier to Have a Ball

Maynard Grabs 2 TD Passes

AFL Jets Zoom Past Houston, 26-17

NEW YORK (AP) — When Don Maynard shows American Football League pass defenders the No. 13 on the back of his New York Jets jersey, they're usually out of luck.

Maynard, a slick speedster in his 12th pro season, gave Houston's Miller Farr and Ken Houston the back of his shirt Monday night as the Jets downed the Oilers 26-17 to grab first place in the AFL East.

Joe Namath fired touchdown strikes of 57 and 54 yards to Maynard and Jim Turner kicked four field goals as the Jets won their home opener before a roaring Shea Stadium crowd of 63,841—largest in AFL history.

Maynard streaked past Farr with 6½ minutes remaining in the second quarter and took Namath's floater in for a 10-7 New York lead.

Then, 18 seconds before the halftime gun, he snared another —as Houston slipped and fell on the chewed-up Shea turf—and loped into the end zone, tying Art Powell's AFL career record of 81 touchdowns.

"You've got to use a few more moves on these guys after 11 years," said the slender Texan, who caught seven passes in all for a total of 212 yards. "They're awful quick and they don't wear as much padding as I do.

"I don't think I'm slowing up, but they seem faster."

"He's one of the best," said Houston, who spent a trying night shadowing the elusive Jet veteran. "He's got the speed and he can catch the ball. And he has the experience, too."

"With his speed, he can run two or three patterns when Namath gets good protection," Farr added. "And Namath got great protection when he got past me. I think it was a broken play. He ran a post on me and then cut it up field."

The playing surface, resodded piecemeal in the past four days after the the New York Mets' World Series triumph in which fans walked off with huge strips of turf, proved treacherous for both clubs.

But Farr and Houston refused to use the poor field condition as an alibi and Jets placekicker Turner, who has booted 15 field goals in 21 attempts this season, said it didn't affect his kicking.

"I didn't have to kick from the sod," said the AFL point leader, who connected from 17, 48, 45 and 21 yards. "I had to dig in on the long one because I was kicking off the dirt and against the wind."

"Shea is a terrible football field even without the patch problem," said Jets receiver George Sauer. "The field is so hard it's easy to slip, because you can't dig your feet in. But I never had to cut tonight where I had to plant my foot on the stuff."

"We've been here five years and they haven't fixed it yet," said Maynard. "But when you win, you can't complain."

League Owners Snuff Talk of Moving Pilots

CHICAGO (AP) — President Joe Cronin and a group of American League owners met with representatives of the Seattle Pilots Monday and put down any possibility of a franchise move.

Rumors that the Seattle franchise would be moved to Milwaukee or Dallas -Fort Worth were cut down by Cronin and attending league owners.

The session was informal and requested by Seattle interests who apparently feared reprisal over the fact the Pilots drew only 680,000 in their initial year.

Although a scheduled joint meeting of the American and National leagues is on tap Tuesday, Cronin said the American League had no plans for a separate meeting which would involve any shift of the Seattle franchise.

"Why they asked for this meeting, I don't know," said Cronin in reference to the Seattle delegation request for a meeting with the league. "We are concerned about some things in Seattle but nothing that can't be worked out."

DELEGATION

No less than a half dozen representatives from Seattle were on hand including King County executive John Spellman; Perry Johanson, who heads a group designing a $40 -million domed stadium; and Jerry Grinstein and Brian Corcoran, a pair of representatives of Sens. Warren Magnuson and Henry M. Jackson of Washington.

Everything seemed cordial following the meeting and John Fetzer, owner of the Detroit Tigers, expressed the general view that "It would be morally wrong to shift a new franchise out of Seattle."

There were no representatives at the meeting from Milwaukee, but Joe Macko was on hand to represent Dallas interests in the name of Texas millionaire Lamar Hunt who is seeking a major league team for the Dallas -Fort Worth area.

Regular Home Season Finale for Firebirds at Clarkston

The regular home season draws to a close for the Pontiac Firebirds and the hopes for getting back into the Midwest Football Legue title race hang in the balance Saturday.

The Firebirds will meet the Southwest Michigan Hawks at Clarkston High School field Saturday night with two hopes in mind.

They will be hoping for a victory of their own and also hopeful that the tough Dayton Colts can upend the Lansing All-Stars in the Capitol City Saturday.

Dayton, the 1968 MFL champion, is back to full strength after having some personnel problems in mid-season and last week the Colts played Lackawanna to a 36-36 standoff.

DAYTON PROTESTS

However, Dayton has informed the league it is protesting Lackawanna's use of an ineligible player and Dayton coach Ed McCracken indicated this prior to playing the game with the Lancers.

Meanwhile, the one game lead Lansing holds in the Central Division looks pretty big.

Should Lansing lose to Dayton and the Firebirds defeat Southwest Michigan it would throw the Central Division into a tie, but the Firebirds then have the added chore of facing Dayton in the season finale.

At any rate, should the playoff between Pontiac and Lansing arise, the site will be decided by a flip of the coin.

The playoff date would be Saturday night Nov. 8 with the winner hosting the Lakes Division champion for the MFL title.

The Firebirds are back in full strength again with the return of quarterback Doug Holcomb and running back Marty Malatin. They also have several other injured players back, just hoping for another chance at Lansing.

SWITCH TO CLARKSTON

The game with Southwest Michigan was switched to Clarkston High School field due to a conflict at Wisner. Pontiac Central plays there Saturday night.

The Hawks, in their first year in the league have a speedy team, similar to that of Lansing, however depth has been the problem.

★ ★ ★

Coach Frank Schnese has several former Notre Dame players on the squad who live in the border area of Michigan-Indiana.

Willie Sam Warren, one of the league's leading runners, lead the Hawks' running attack.

In their last meeting in St. Joe, the Firebirds had to scramble to win 20-12 after holding a 13-7 halftime margin, and stopping a Hawk threat in the closing minutes.

A capacity crowd of 3,000 is expected at Clarkston High field for the kickoff at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Advance tickets can be obtained at Griff's, Bob-Ken's, Osmun's, Firebird Lounge and VFW Post 1370.

Season ticket holders will have a reserved section assigned to them.

The field is located near Waldon Road just off M-15.

Bill Toomey Bid for Record Fails

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill Toomey's on-again, off-again decathlon career—a discouraging search for the world record—is off again.

For the 32nd time in his life and the ninth time this year, both records in themselves, Toomey made a challenge for the mark and fell short Monday. He owns the gold medal for winning the decathlon at the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico City.

★ ★ ★

Going into Monday's 10th and last event, the 1500 meters, the 31-year-old athlete from Santa Barbara, Calif., had amassed 7,683 points. A mark of 4:23 would have given him 637 points for the event and 8,320 overall— one more than the world mark set two years ago by West Germany's Kurt Bendlin.

But Toomey, who has run the 1500 in 4:12, broke too quickly, went through the first lap in a fast 65 seconds, lost his timing and ran out of steam. He finished in a mediocre 4:30.4, picked up 587 points and wound up with 8,270—49 short of the mark.

Under way among area high schools is a survey designed to determine interest in a fall golf schedule.

An informal survey was taken last year with most of the Pontiac area schools indicating they'd like to take a look at fall golf.

A current questionnaire being considered was distributed by the Michigan High School Athletic Association, and that organization would take action to implement a harvest schedule if coaches indicated they wanted it.

Talk of switching golf from spring to fall has gained favor since many schools, particularly new ones, are finding it increasingly difficult to find a place to play. Courses are simply becoming overcrowded. Golfers traditionally desert the links early in September, thus the schools would have almost clear sailing.

LOOKING FOR NEW ONE

The Wayne-Oakland League is looking for a new member.

★ ★ ★

Coach Art Paddy of West Bloomfield, chairman of the league's athletic division, said that any school interested in joining the W-O should contact athletic officials at one of the schools now in the league — W. Bloomfield, B. Hills Andover, Clarkston, Brighton, Northville, Milford, Clarenceville or Waterford Kettering.

Exiting from the W-O after the 1970-71 season is Northville, which will align itself with a new conference that will also include Waterford Mott, Farmington, Walled Lake Western and Plymouth. That league is still unnamed.

Paddy said any school selected would get on the schedule in the fall of 1971. "Any new one would have to contact us by March," said Paddy, "because we will then be starting our scheduling."

DEATON

Pontiac Northern graduate Craig Deaton, a sophomore, has been one of the keys to Carthage College's 5-0 record this season.

Carthage's latest outing was a 28-6 victory over Elmhurst College.

BIG WEEK

A week before, in a 32-6 triumph over Augustana, Deaton ran for two touchdowns and passed for another.

Former Royal Oak star Mike Yankee is the third-leading ground gainer on the Eastern Michigan University football team this fall.

★ ★ ★

In four games, Yankee had collected 74 yards in 24 trips for a 3.0 average.

NOT ENOUGH AIR?

Coach Bob Kefgen of Bloomfield Hills Andover, who took football officials to task in comments last week, ran afoul of the rulekeepers before the Barons' game with Brighton Friday night.

★ ★ ★

"He said our ball didn't have enough air in it," said Kefgen. "I told him it only had to have between 11-13 pounds pressure in high school."

"Well, he felt of it and said it didn't have 11 pounds so we played with the other team's ball. The officiating was good. They watched the game closely," added Kefgen.

Andover won 54-0 to run its record to 5-0. Remaining on the schedule are Clarenceville, West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills' Lahser. Which is most important? "The first one . . . the next one. We're not looking past anyone," says Kefgen.

FOR THE METS—A blizzard of ticker tape, confetti and torn telephone books cascades on lower Broadway as a motorcade carrying the New York Mets starts up 'The Canyon of Heroes,' yesterday. The Mets were being honored by New York City for their World Series win over the Baltimore Orioles.

Champs Have Their Day

New York Celebrates Again

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City went wild for its Mets again Monday, for the last time in this improbable year.

It was Mets Day, and festivities continued until fireworks studded the clear dark skies over Shea Stadium, where the Mets were guests of the city's other world champions, the football Jets, at their game with Houston.

★ ★ ★

The Mets' evening began with a reception at Gracie Mansion, home of Mayor John V. Lindsay. Then they drove to Flushing Meadow Park, next to the stadium, for a rally with searchlights and fireworks. Then on to the ballpark for a roaring ovation from 60,000 football fans.

Mets Day began with a ticker-tape parade through Lower Manhattan that drew thousands of spectators, including many schoolchildren playing hooky. books under their arms.

TONS OF LITTER

The Sanitation Department said 578 tons of litter had been cleared from the parade route by 6 p.m., at a cost of $28,000. It was far more than the 300 tons of paper dropped on the Apollo 11 astronauts in August, but less than half the amount thrown in the spontaneous celebration last week when the Mets won the last game of the World Series.

At City Hall ceremonies, Lindsay displayed a street sign marked "Gil Hodges Place" and said it would hang for the day on the Brooklyn street where the Mets' manager lives. The Mets presented the city with a pitchers' rubber from Shea Stadium, autographed by World Series starters Jerry Koosman, Tom Seaver and Gary Gentry.

★ ★ ★

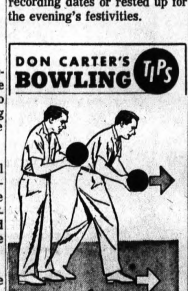
Then the parade continued through downtown Manhattan to Bryant Square Park at 42nd Street and Avenue of the Americas.

Pearl Bailey danced for the Mets and a crowd of 10,000. Then she joined opera star Robert Merrill to sing "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

★ ★ ★

Ed Charles, the Met third baseman, read some of his poetry, to the roar of the enthusiastic crowd.

Many of the ballplayers and their wives were treated to lunch by the city at the Four Seasons restaurant. Others kept recording dates or rested up for the evening's festivities.



MOVE BALL — As you begin your approach, you should have the feeling that the ball and your starting foot are locked — that they must move simultaneously. This will insure that you get your push-away going immediately and that you won't merely carry the ball for a step or two.

Purdue Can Put End to Wildcats' Dreams

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Northwestern sharing the Big Ten lead is proof anything can happen. But if all should undergo a change this week with the Ol' Swami, 26-13 for the season, sticking his neck out with these forecasts:

Iowa 32, Michigan State 29— a hunch that the Spartans are bound to have a letdown after their high pitch in defeating Michigan. And the Hawkeyes will take advantage of it at homecoming time. They will need the breaks to do it. The game will be televised.

Minnesota 21, Michigan 20— The Little Brown Jug rivalry breaks down the form sheet. The Gophers are winless, but the return of Phil Hagen who passed for 304 yards against Ohio State has added a new dimension. It certainly was needed.

Ohio State 34, Illinois 20—The No. 1 Buckeys go for their 19th straight victory. The Illini are 0-5. Just because the Illini were the last team to beat the Bucks at home (17-13 in 1967) don't try to make something out of it. Woody Hayes won't let his monsters forget it this week, especially on homecoming.

Purdue 27, Northwestern 20— The Boilermakers will be celebrating homecoming and although they have lost some of their sizzle lately, they should have the defensive savvy to check rampaging Mike Adamle. He shredded Wisconsin for 316 yards last week.

★ ★ ★

Indiana 35, Wisconsin 10—Old grads return to Badgerland but that rooting incentive won't be enough. If Wisconsin can't regroup its defense, the Hoosiers should romp. They have added something new—fullback Hank Pogue. He pinged 171 yards through Illinois.

★ ★ ★

Notre Dame 27, Tulane 18— after the defensive 14-14 battle with Southern Cal, the Irish can go point-producing again. However, Tulane, at home, could be tougher than expected. The Green Wave comes off a rallying 26-22 decision over Pitt.

Totems Real Low on Pole With Scouts

SEATTLE (AP) — Murray Costello, executive director of the Western Hockey League's Seattle Totems, had an interesting excuse for the absence of Totem Coach Bill MacFarland from a sports writers' luncheon Monday.

"We had a change in practice time at the arena.

"We have to share the Seattle Center facilities with the Girl Scouts National Convention here this week.

"The way we've been playing (sixth in the seven-team league), MacFarland thinks that is appropriate."

Wants 48 Road Players 'Up Travel Limit,' Says Duffy

EAST LANSING (AP)— Michigan State football coach Duffy Daugherty wants the Big Ten to liberalize its restriction allowing only 44 players on away game trips, terming it "penny wise and pound foolish."

The travelling roster limit at least should be raised to 48, Daugherty suggested.

★ ★ ★

The canny, Scotch-Irishman, in his 15th season as Spartan head coach, figured it this way. He said the policy mostly has been termed an economy effort by conference athletic directors.

"Most teams charter an entire plane anyway,"he said, "so you can carry a few more players at no extra cost. Say, at most, it would cost $50 more a trip to fly, feed and house four more players.

"That would amount to $200 a trip. If you make five away trips, as we do this season, it only adds up to an extra $1,000 a year," Daugherty calculated.

Daugherty for a long time has thought it a little inane to limit MSU and Michigan to the 44-man rule when they play each other less than a two-hour bus ride away.

MOVE LIBERIAL

It does give the home team an advantage, he added, noting that most other conferences are much more liberal on travelling squad numbers or have no restrictions.

In the past, Daugherty said, the Big Ten maximum has been upped from 38 to 40 and then 44 players. Two platoon football he contended, makes the present maximum unrealistic.

★ ★ ★

"You need to carry at least three quarterbacks and three centers," said Daugherty. "You can shift around players at some other positions. But you badly need your specialists, such as the kickers."

The MSU coach was worrying about Saturday's away game against Iowa.

Daugherty would like to take Hans Sudar, the barefoot, soccer-type kicker from Hamilton, Ont., who has been booming punts into the end zone to cut down on runback possibilities. Sudar also is a long distance field goal specialist.

The coach also would like to carry Pat Miller, a sophomore punter from Menominee who has been spelling Gary Boyce and getting better every game.

STAYS HOME

"A player such as Sudar, since he is from out of state, costs you about $3,000 a year for his scholarship," Daugherty said. "Now does it make sense to make him stay at home for five games because it would cost $250 a year?"

Daugherty said there are enough other restrictions in Big Ten rules. He cited such examples as:

—Not allowing the transfer of junior college prospects until they have completed two years at the college.

—The rule against "redshirting"—holding a player out for an extra year.

—The limit of 30 football athletic tenders a year.

"Allowing 48 players would be odeal," said Daugherty the dreamer, no doubt thinking back to earlier defeats by Notre Dame and Ohio State on away games.

'M' Coach Planning Changes After Loss

ANN ARBOR (AP) — After Michigan lost its first football game of the season, Coach Bo Schembechler said there was no need to make any changes.

"They played a good game except for the fumbles and interceptions," he said after the Wolverines lost to Missouri 40-17 three weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

But after last Saturday's 23-12 upset loss to arch-rival Michigan State Schembechler changed his tune.

"This week I'll make changes, both to shake up the team and also because of a lack of efficiency in some cases," he said Monday.

"Competition is a great thing," he added. But he wouldnot get specific on what lineup changes could be expected when Michigan travels to Minnesota for Saturday's game against the winless Gophers.

PRAISES FOES

Despite Minnesota's 0-4-1 record, Schembechler praised the Gophers.

"Anyone in their right mind wouldn't figure with their record they could be any good," Schembechler said, vigorously tapping a pen on the table. "But I'm telling you, Minnesota is a top football team. I really feel that way."

The nation's No. 1 team, Ohio State, had been averaging more than 50 points a game. Saturday the Buckeyes beat Minnesota 34-7.

★ ★ ★

"If you saw Minnesota against Ohio State you wouldn't think Ohio State was that good," Schembechler said.

Schembechler is a firm believer that what a team does in practice during the week it will do in Saturday's games.

But he said there were no indications in practice last week that the then 13th-ranked Wolverines would lose to the Spartans. Now both teams are 3-2 over-all and 1-1 in the jumbled up Big Ten standings.

★ ★ ★

"If we'd have played defense in the second half the way we did in the first half we would have done all right," he said of the MSU game. Michigan State scored 16 of its 23 points in the second quarter and seven more in the third.

Schembechler said he could not pinpoint why Michigan played so poorly, mainly on defense.

"Maybe they were just tense," he said of his players. "But I can't really say."

MSU Sees More Need for Better Aerial Game

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State knows it has to come up with more of a passing game if the Spartans hope to win against Iowa and stay alive in the Big Ten football race.

MSU stuck to a grind-it-out running attack for its 23-12 upset over favored Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Quarterback Bill Triplett, operating from the option and an "I" formation, netted 142 yards rushing in 18 carries.

Halfback Don Highsmith was the heart of Coach Duffy Daugherty's game plan. Highsmith accounted for 129 yards rushing in 30 carries.

Triplett hit only one pass for seven yards in four throws attempted.

DECIDED TO RUN

"Actually," Daugherty explained, "about 10 of the plays started out as passing plays. Triplett had the option to pass or to run if he saw an opening.

"If they try to gang up and stop our running," Daugherty said hopefully, "it will make them more vulnerable to the pass."

★ ★ ★

Daugherty has said the victory over traditional rival Michigan puts the Spartans back in the running in the Rose Bowl race. The assumption is that seemingly unbeatable Ohio State will go all the way and a runnerup will still have the consolation of the Pasadena trip.

Buckeye boss Woody Hayes had said he would like to see the no repeat rule suspended just for the 100th anniversary of collegiate football. He is concentrating, meanwhile, on a sweep for a second conference title.

BIG HOPES

Michigan State's offensive line was blasting holes for Highsmith.

"I like the way he runs," admired Daugherty. "He charges at top speed and keeps his nose headed for the goal line. He is a fine inside runner and always seems good for four or five yards when you needs it."

Daugherty was closemouthed about whether he would stick to the "I" formation—three men lined up behind the quarterback—or go back to the "triple option" or "veer" formation he was using earlier in the season.

Bills Lose QB Jim Harris for Rest of Season

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills, whose quarterback woes played a major role in their disastrous 1968 American Football League season, have lost promising rookie signal-caller Jim Harris for the rest of the current campaign.

Harris, who made pro football history Sept. 14 when he became the first Negro to start a season — opening game at quarterback underwent surgery Monday to repair torn ligaments in his left knee.

A spokesman for the Bills said Harris would have to wear a cast for eight weeks. Dr. Joseph Godfrey, the team physician, performed the operation in Buffalo General Hospital.

Harris was injured Sunday when Tom Keating and Ben Davidson of Oakland tackled him following a scrambling run in the third quater of the Raiders' 50-21 rout of the visiting Bills.

WIRED FOR SOUND — Ohio State coach Woody Hayes looks like he's wired for sound as he gives the signal for his team to punt in the game last Saturday against the University of Minnesota. The top ranked Buckeyes won their 18th straight game in ripping the Gophers, 34-7.

Vols Go Up in Grid Poll

Tennessee Rated 3rd in Weekly Survey

The Tennessee waltz past Alabama has put the Volunteers in third place on the major college football hit parade.

Tennessee drubbed Alabama 41-14 last Saturday and jumped from seventh to third in The Associated Press poll released Monday.

Ohio State, 34-7 winner over Minnesota, remained in first place with 27 first-place votes and 666 points. Texas, idle last Saturday, was second with five first-place ballots and 612 points, while Arkansas, also idle, remained fourth with 417 points, 18 points less than Tennessee.

Southern California, third last week, dropped to seventh after a 14-14 tie with Notre Dame which fell from 11th to 12th.

The poll of sports writers and broadcasters saw Penn State, fifth last week, drop from fifth to eighth after edging Syracuse 15-14. However, the Nittany Lions did get one first-place vote.

Despite Teachers' Strike

Flint Teams to Play

By the Associated Press

The head football coach of Flint Northwestern High School says that most Flint-area schools which are struck by teachers will still play their scheduled football games.

Dave Brines, whose Wildcats are ranked fifth in the state in Class A of this week's Associated Press High School Football Poll, says Northwestern will play its scheduled contest Friday against Midland.

★ ★ ★

"I think we're about to get kicked out of the teacher's association (the newly formed United Teachers of Flint)," Brines said, adding that the coaches from Northern, Southwestern and Central go along with him.

"But we'll keep coaching and as far as I know we'll play Friday," he said.

"I spoke with the other three head coaches and they and their staffs have agreed to keep coaching."

Brines said only the Carman School District has suspended football games.

BELIEVE IN POLL

Northwestern is only six years old and Brines said his players "believe in the poll."

"Last week we were rated seventh and that's the highest we've ever been," he said. "It gave the players a little pride."

The Wildcats are 5-1, with their only loss coming to Flint Northern 22-20 two Fridays ago. They face seventh-ranked Midland (4-1-1) and the following week go against the No. 1 team in the state, Bay City Central (6-0).

"On the loss to Northern we drove 84 yards in the last two minutes then lost the ball on Northern's four-yard-line on a fumble with only 30 seconds left," Brines lamented.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, teams which were ranked first in each class last week remained there after this week's voting by a panel of sports writers and sports editors around the state.

Bay City Central is still No. 1 in Class A. Mount Clemens Clintondale (6-0) remains on top in Class B. Battle Creek St. Philip holds the edge over Frankenmuth in Class C. And Cheboygan Catholic Central rates a one-point nod over Flint Holy Redeemer in Class D.

2nd Jump Almost Disastrous

HARRISBURG (AP) — The winning horse in the 24th Pennsylvania National Horse Show Monday night almost didn't survive the second jump.

As it was, Manon, with young Neil Shapiro aboard, negotiated all 12 jumps, the only one of the United States horses to do so.

* * *

The French bred bay mare, winner here of the doubles and triples last year, made a clean initial jump and then turned right for her second leap. But standing in the way was a youthful arena attendant who had been helping set up fallen hurdles.

Shapiro, 25, of Glen Head, N.Y., reigned his horse just a bit to the left as the boy pulled back. Manon then completed the second in a completed jump pattern and made the other 10 with no difficulty.

The exhibition tied Shapiro with Billy Steinkraus, 43-year-old Norton, Conn., veteran of five Olympic competitions.

NO 'ADVANCE'

Steinkraus aboard Advanced Ticket collected 5¼ faults and failed to add a point. Advanced Ticket refused to go over the second jump, the one which almost proved disasterous to Shapiro.

Steinkraus and Shapiro each have 20 points while Jimmy Day, a 23-year-old Auroro, Ont. car dealer is third with eight points. Moffat Dunlap, 28, Toronto, and Jared Brinsmade, 23, Bethany, Conn., have six points each.

Dunlap gave Grand Oval a faultless ride Monday night for second place. Day was third for the second time riding Hombre.

Argentina broke into the scoring column as Lt. Juan Carlos Giralda finished fourth aboard El Ganso. Mexico failed again to score any points and finished fifth and sixth. Carlos Salinas was fifth aboard Ajualeguas, while Ctp. Eduardo Higardea produced a faultless ride on Pegaso for sixth place.

In team standings the U. S. leads Canada 26-16 with two for Argentina.

Shapiro, a small wiry rider, who is starting a career as a harness racing driver, said he saw the unidentified arena attendant in front of him just as his horse was getting into stride for the second jump.

"I really forgot about the jump," he said. "I just didn't want to hit him."

He praised Manon, which he has ridden infrequently. He noted that the horse responded to the reigning, cleared the second jump and continued as if nothing out of the ordinary happened.

W-O Harrier Meet Won by Clarkston

Clarkston's cross country team is doing its best to ease the pain of a winless football season.

The Wolves won the Wayne-Oakland League's harrier championship last weekend on the strength of Fred Seyler placing second and Dan Dankert Third.

Clarkston scored 40 points, Milford 69, Kettering 72, Andover 79, Northville 116, West Bloomfield 148, Clarenceville 190 and Brighton 218.

* * *

Kettering's Kevin Reabe won the individual championship with a time of 10:13.

Following Dankert were Jim Wilson, West Bloomfield; Ron Morrison and Eric Wilamowski, Milford; Pete Kopke and Ted Cavin, Andover; Dave Perkins, Kettering; and Gerald Baker, Clarkston.

John Brodie Counted Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"How come," San Francisco 49er quarterback John Brodie once asked, "they say Joe Namath has a 'quick release,' but they say I 'unload?'"

Brodie can't unload anymore, and today the winless 49ers went shopping for another quarterback.

The 34-year-old passer, awaiting results of X-rays on his "dead right elbow," isn't "definitely counted out," 49er Coach Dick Nolan said Monday night.

"We have to get another quarterback somewhere along the line," Nolan said.

Asked if he knew of any that were available, Nolan replied, "Yes, for a big price."

The coach said third - year quarterback Steve Spurrier from Florida will be depended upon Sunday against Baltimore and that the 49ers would begin work today "to fit the offense around him."

Brodie, a 13 - year veteran from Stanford, was soundly booed Sunday by a small home crowd of 28,684 as the 49ers fell to Atlanta, 28-0. The 49ers are now 0-4-1 in National Football League play after an 0-6 exhibition season.

Brodie completed 19 of 31 passes for 159 yards, but said "most of the completions were on dinky passes.

"There's no strength in my arm, my elbow is dead," Brodie added. "I guess I've just thrown too many passes.

"I was throwing 'waffle' balls, Throwing a football is all touch. I had no feel. I had nothing, absolutely nothing on the ball. The team can't win with me throwing like that," said Brodie.

"It's not a steady pain, but comes and goes. We thought he'd shake it off," said team physician Dr. Lloyd Milburn, who explained the trouble was in the muscle on the inside of his right elbow.

The horse is better than most 1970 cars.

We are not joking. The run-of-the-mill 1970 car is an affront to progress.

It's too expensive to buy. And too expensive to run. It's almost impossible to park, and maneuvering it through city traffic would try the nerves of a saint.

You'd be better off with a horse.

Which is sure-footed, inexpensive, maneuverable and it eats hay. Nice, cheap, hay.

We, at Renault, are one of the few automakers to make a car that's better than the horse.

The Renault 10.

Since it gets 35 miles to the gallon, it is cheap to run.

And since it has independent suspension and disc brakes, it is sure-footed and easy to stop.

And since it is maneuverable, it is easy to park.

And since it costs $1725 it is easy to buy.

And it is also more comfortable than the horse.

Trade Fairly Active

Stock Market Gains Strength

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market gained strength in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Advances held a firm lead over declines by a margin of 713 to 475 among individual issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

★ ★ ★

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 5.81 at 845.04.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up 1.0 at 295.6, with industrials up 1.8, rails unchanged, and utilities up .8.

Brokers said the rise in the level of the Dow had brought some investors into the market who previously had been absent.

As a backdrop to the market's price rise were Vietnam peace hopes fueled by President Nixon's speech in November, scheduled one day before elections, and some signs of a cooling economy.

Chrysler, which announced an 87 per cent decline in third-quarter earnings was delayed and opened off 2⅜ at 38⅝. By early afternoon the stock was off 1⅛ at 39⅞.

Movement of blocks of 10,000 shares or more included 179,000 shares of Del E. Webb, off ⅝ at 17, and 43,000 shares of City Investing, up ⅛ at 34⅞.

(Ameri)can Stock Exchange included Asamera Oil, off 1½ at 18⅛; AMK warrants, off ⅛ at 10⅛; Diodes, up 1 at 8¼; and Campbell Chibougamau, up ½ at 11.

Industry Rebounds From Cyclamate Ban

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The speed with which American business can adjust to changing conditions, the power of its positive thinking, the ingenuity of its marketing men should never again be doubted. Almost anything is possible.

CUNNIFF

Within hours after the government announced that the artificial sweeteners called cyclamates would be withdrawn from the general market, the multimillion-dollar diet drink industry raced to comply.

★ ★ ★

Amazing when you consider that cyclamates in diet drinks were felt to be what cocoa is in a chocolate bar: an essential ingredient without which there wouldn't be a product.

The availability of cyclamates was perhaps the main reason for the development of this relatively new industry.

FAST GROWING

In the 1960s the diet drink industry became one of the fastest growing in America. Diabetics and sufferers of high blood pressure felt they could drink them without fear. And calorie-conscious drinkers found the absence of sugar much to their liking.

★ ★ ★

After the government announced its ban Saturday, because tests showed massive doses had caused cancer in rats, there was immediate speculation that some of the best-known brand names in America might disappear.

★ ★ ★

How wrong! Within hours it was known that the impact would not be a death blow because new formulas already were prepared. And almost as quickly it was realized that to some in the industry here was a golden opportunity.

In marketing soap or cereal or soft drinks it is always useful to have something interesting on the label. "Ten cents off" is a common gimmick, but its a costly one too. "New" may be more effective and less costly.

TROUBLE WITH 'NEW'

The trouble with "new" is that people have become too used to it. "New" can mean very little indeed, perhaps just a new bottle or a label. It's very difficult to come up with something really new.

★ ★ ★

Now that they have something really new to work with—revolutionarily new, in fact—the advertising and marketing men are almost breathless, although as usual, not wordless.

★ ★ ★

Almost as fast as advertisements can be prepared, at least one major soft drink manufacturer announced a brand new package with a great big "New." And what was new about it? For one thing, it will have none of those suspect chemicals called cyclamates.

Report for Third Quarter

Chrysler Profits Sag

DETROIT (AP) — An 87 per cent slump in profits for the third quarter of this year was reported Monday by Chrysler Corp. as the firm struggled to cut its operating costs.

Board Chairman Lynn Townsend and President Virgil E. Boyd told Chrysler stockholders in a letter that profits plunged to $3.8 million, or seven cents per share, from the $29.7 million, or 63 cents a share, of the same period last year.

★ ★ ★

The top executives of the nation's third largest auto maker said profits totaled $93.2 million, or $1.97 a share, in the first nine months of this year. This was a 47 per cent decline from the record $178.5 million, or $3.83 per share, in the January-September span of 1968.

Townsend and Boyd noted the recently announced cutbacks in Chrysler's capital improvement program and orders to lay off a number of the firm's 40,000 white-collar workers.

'GOOD PROGRESS'

They said the "efforts to reduce administrative and general expense and to improve organizational and over-all efficiency are under way, and good progress is being made."

Townsend and Boyd blamed the profit nosedive on higher costs of materials, labor, selling and marketing autos, interest rates and "costs of product improvements in the new 1970 models.

"Prices of the company's 1970 cars . . . do not recover all of these higher costs," they said. Chrysler said prices of its 1970 models were increased an average of $107 per car, compared with price hikes of $108 for Ford, $125 for General Motors and $81 for American Motors.

★ ★ ★

The firm said its sales of 1.56 billion in the third quarter were about the same as the same quarter of 1968. Chrysler sales for the nine months this year totaled $5.239 billion, compared with $5.298 billion in the same period of 1968.

However, the firm's market "penetration" — its share of the U.S. passenger car market—fell from 18.5 per cent to 17 per cent in the nine months. This year, Chrysler reported retail sales of 1,070,053 cars in the first nine months. Last year, retail sales totaled 1,160,328 for the same period.

AMC Details Plan to Buy Kaiser Jeep

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. announced Monday it plans to buy Kaiser Jeep Corp., a move which probably would push AMC's yearly sales past the $1 billion mark due to government contracts.

Cost of the acquisition, figured on current value of AMC stock, would be some $80 million. Details of the purchase are still to be worked out, AMC said, and will be subject to approval by boards directors of AMC and Kaiser Industries Corp.

★ ★ ★

After the announcement, American Motors stock rose 62 cents a share to $12 on volume of 204,000 shares on the New York Stock Exchange. Kaiser gained 37 cents a share, rising to $21 on volume of 105,700 shares on the American Stock Exchange.

Terms of the sale call for payment of $10 million in cash, $10 million in negotiable five-year AMC notes and 5.5 million shares of AMC capital stock which is currently selling for about $11 a share.

NEW MARKET

For AMC the purchase will mean entry into the growing light truck and pleasure vehicle market and probably a bigger outlet for its engines. Jeep has been buying V-8 engines from Buick and straight sixes from AMC. It makes its own four-cylinder and V-6 engines.

On the surface, the two manufacturing operations seemed to be waiting for each other. Jeep specializes in four-wheel drive trucks and a station wagon-type vehicle which can also be bought with two-wheel drive.

★ ★ ★

"American Motors and Kaiser Jeep manufacture noncompetitive product lines with complementary management and dealer organizations," said the AMC announcement.

Most AMC cars are built in Wisconsin although corporate headquarters are in Detroit. Jeep headquarters are at Toledo, Ohio, while Kaiser Industries is headquartered at Oakland, Calif.

JEEP'S FACILITIES

Jeep's military production is centered at South Bend, Ind., where in 1968 the firm built 52,473 vehicles. Most other production is handled at Toledo with a little at Indianapolis, Ind. Total vehicle sales in 1968 for Jeep were 112,925.

Total Jeep sales for 1968 totaled, nearly $477 million compared to $297 million a year earlier. There was a $330 million backlog of government orders. By Monday the backlog had reached $580 million including contracts for production of right-hand drive vehicles for use by the Post Office department in mail delivery.

★ ★ ★

AMC's net sales for 1968 were $761.1 million and earnings totaled about $11.8 million. AMC hasn't paid a dividend, however, since 1965. Jeep's operating profit for 1968, before inerest expense, totaled $15 million.

$1-Million Fire Hits New York GM Building

NEW YORK (UPI) — A light bulb smashed to the floor and ignited gasoline fumes yesterday, touching off a two-alarm fire which caused an estimated $1-million damage at the new General Motors building on Fifth Avenue.

The fire started in a restaurant which was to open next month. On display in the restaurant were five new cars, two of them antiques, and four were destroyed.

★ ★ ★

Three other stores around the building's plaza also were damaged.

Fire officials said workmen in the restaurant had discovered that the gas tank of one of the cars was leaking and had just begin to drain it when the light bulb broke, creating sparks.

★ ★ ★

One woman in the lobby of the building was treated for smoke inhalation but no other injuries were reported.

Rezoning Bid to Get 2nd Look

The City Commission will take a second look at a rezoning request for a gas station at their meeting 8 p.m. tonight at City Hall, East Wide Track and East Pike.

The request was rejected in a 4-3 vote two weeks ago. It was for a Shell station on the southwest corner of Perry and Glenwood.

★ ★ ★

Two petitions from nearby residents have been presented and last week it was determined more persons living close to the corner were in favor of the gas station than were against. If the project were approved, an old structure containing a tavern would be demolished.

In other business, the commission will hold a second reading and possibly adopt an ordinance concerning licensing auctions. The proposed ordinance covers single auction events plus regular auction-house operations.

Most of the rest of the agenda applies to public utility construction projects.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Jack W. Stoops, who passed away October 21, 1965:
We do not need a special time,
To keep in our minds,
The days we do not think of you,
Are very hard to find.
They say time heals all sorrow,
And helps us to forget,
But time has only proven,
How much we miss you yet.
Sadly missed by wife Carlene and son Jackie.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Verne L. Haskin, who passed away Oct. 21, 1964.
You're not forgotten, loved one, nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last, we will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore, your loving smile, your gentle face,
As long as life and memory last, no one will ever fill your place.
Sadly missed by wife Kathrina, and family.

LA Set to Ban Both Topless and Bottomless Acts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The City Council, apparently unimpressed by a plea that topless and bottomless entertainers help relieve the tensions in society, has voted 9-1 to ban them from Los Angeles bars and nightclubs.

★ ★ ★

The balloting Monday was a preliminary move involving approval of a committee report and directing the city attorney to draft ordinances to cover the situation.

Space engineer James E. Nassar, who said he had a "keen interest" in sociology, argued unsuccessfully that for "appreciative men" to see naked women dancing is "helpful in helping preserve the fiber of society."

Councilman Edmund D. Edelman, who cast the nay vote, said he believed such ordinances would be declared unconstitutional.

Philly Violates Own Law on Air

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mayor James H. J. Tate signed a tough new air pollution code Monday, and the city's biggest industrial polluters pledged full cooperation in cleaning up dirty air. But ironically the biggest noncomplier with the new code will be the city itself.

"Even if City Council gave me $50 million I just couldn't make the six city incinerators comply with the new law," said Streets Commissioner David M. Smallwood.

Performers Chip In to Aid Showgirl

By MIKE DOAN

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Astrodella, a topless showgirl, isn't supposed to cry—it might slow her recovery from her eye operation.

But when dancers and musicians chipped in to help pay for her surgery, "I just bawled my head off," said the dark-haired dancer, whose real name is Janet Boyd.

Astrodella pops out of a "space capsule" nightly at Howard Hughes' Silver Slipper casino. Then she does an exotic dance and a strip act.

The 22-year-old dancer, a 6-footer with a 38-24-36 figure, makes about $425 per week.

RAN SHORT

But she ran short of money two months ago paying for a cancer operation for her mother, who died last month.

Then, during a routine visit to a doctor, Janet was told she would lose her sight unless she had surgery within a week.

Both eyes were affected by a hereditary condition, and the trouble was aggravated when she was shaken up in an auto accident last summer.

The operation has been performed, and the dancer expects to regain full vision.

But her health insurance had lapsed because she couldn't work while recuperating, and she faced a bill of about $5,000.

Fellow dancers and showgirls chipped in $160. The orchestra gave her $100.

Entertainers urged friends to send contributions. News columnists and radio and television people passed the word along.

So far there's $500 in the kitty.

"Show people seem to rally around their own," said Janet, who will recuperate at home and undergo treatment for another month.

Dividend in Mail

LANSING (AP) — The Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Group reports it is mailing out a dividend amounting to 10 per cent of the semi-annual premium to some 50,000 Michigan auto insurance policy holders. The dividend check total will add up to $280,000, the insurance group said.

Chicago Trial Told of 'Protest Tactic'

CHICAGO (UPI) — An undercover police detective testified yesterday that Rennard (Rennie) Davis ordered antiwar demonstrators at the Democratic National Convention to attack police lines so television cameras could film police counteraction but not the attack.

Chicago police Detective James Tobin testified at the trial of eight persons charged with inciting riots during the 1968 convention. He was to be recalled to the witness stand today.

Tobin said that on Aug. 28, 1968, when 2,000 to 3,000 protesters were massed in Grant Park across from the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Davis asked Deputy Police Supt. James Rochford to pull police lines back across Michigan Avenue.

"My people are nervous, your people are nervous," Tobin quoted Davis. The detective said Rochford replied, "Thre won't be any trouble if you obey the law."

'PLANNED CONFRONTATION'

Tobin said Davis then instructed an unidentified associate to "replace the people in front of the police with (demonstration) marshals.

"Tell the marshals to kick the police in the shins, and they will react by clubbing the demonstrators," Tobin quoted him as saying.

★ ★ ★

Davis then pointed to two television cameras, Tobin said, and said, "Those cameras are live. And they're positioned so they will pick up the clubbing but won't pick up the marshals kicking the pigs."

On cross-examination, Tobin said he never saw any marshals kick the police nor did marshals replace demonstrators as Davis allegedly directed.

RAMPAGE IN STREETS

Tobin also testified that he saw defendant Jerry Rubin, a leader of the Youth International party (Yippies), lead 200 to 300 demonstrators on a rampage through the loop screaming, "Come with me. "The streets belong to the people."

Tobin said he joined two other policemen and arrested Rubin for disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

During yesterday's proceedings, Black Panther Chairman Bobby Seale, another defendant, accused U.S. District Judge Julius J. Hoffman of being a "racist and a Fascist" after Hoffman denied Seale's motion that he be allowed to defend himself.

Seale contended in a handwritten motion that he has fired all his lawyers but Charles R. Garry of San Francisco, who has not attended the trial because of illness. In an emotional outburst, Seale said: "A black man trying to get a fair trial in the country? United States government! Ha! . . . I'll just watch and be railroaded."

Hoffman said to Seale, "There is a competent authority for dealing with a defendant who persists in talking out."

Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had a 30-minute audience today with Japanese Emperor Hirohito at the Imperial Palace in Tokyo.

Queen to Forego Usual Yule Broadcast

ELIZABETH

Queen Elizabeth II has decided to forego her usual Christmas broadcast this year and instead issue a written message to Britain and the Commonwealth nations on Christmas Eve.

The tradition of a royal Christmas broadcast was started by the Queen's grandfather, King George V, in 1931.

A Buckingham Palace spokesman said the Queen had decided on the change because of wide publicity received by the royal family in other activities already this year.

Late Actress's 5 Children Get $22,000 Each

Jayne Mansfield's five children will receive $22,000 each in a settlement of a suit filed after the actress died in a car crash.

Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Arthur Marshall also approved yesterday an agreement that three of the children receive an additional $5,000 each because of their injuries in the accident that killed their mother June 29, 1967.

Miss Mansfield was on her way from Biloxi, Miss., to New Orleans, after a nightclub appearance.

The settlement was reached with Gus Stevens, the nightclub owner in whose car Miss Mansfield was riding.

The children, by three husbands, are Jayne Marie Mansfield, 19, Miklos Hargitay, 10, Zoltan Hargitay, 9, Mariska Hargitay, 5, and Antonio Cimber, 3.

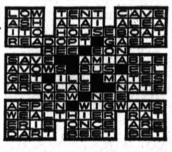
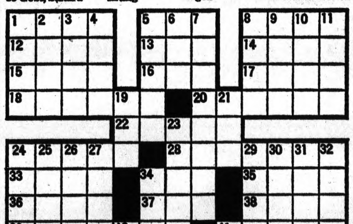
Answer to Previous Puzzle





CBS Up to 1st in Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS moved into first place in the national television ratings yesterday after starting out the new season in the cellar.

NBC was second and ABC, which had been first in the big-city ratings Friday, was third. The period covers Oct. 6-12. The ratings were CBS 18.5, NBC 17.7 and ABC 16.9.

★ ★ ★

The top 10 shows were:

1. ABC Movie of the Week. 2. Laugh-In, NBC. 3. Marcus Welby, M.D., ABC. 4. ABC Sunday Movie. 5. Bill Cosby, NBC. 6 Bonanaza, NBC, and Gunsmoke, CBS, tied. 8. Jackie Gleason, CBS. 9. Glen Campbell, CBS. 10. World of Disney, NBC, Mayberry R.F.D. and Family Affair, CBS, tied.

A Look at TV

Carol's Sketches Sparkle

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hollywood producers and directors have learned how to dress up musical numbers for an endless stream of television variety hours, but most slip into doldrums in the comedy sketch department.

"The Carol Burnett Show," breezing along in its fourth season, is, along with "The Red Skelton Show," exceptional in that it specializes in sketches and adds musical numbers mostly for a change of pace. The hour is entertaining and has a friendly informal atmosphere.

★ ★ ★

On Monday Carol had her usual strong support from Harvey Korman, a fine sketch actor, and an extra assist from Tim Conway, a funny little guy. Conway sparkled particularly as a 91-year-old Lothario in a sketch that satirized the slow and improbable pace of daytime soap operas.

★ ★ ★

Ken Berry, seen earlier in the evening playing solid Sam Brown in "Mayberry, R.F.D.," put on his dancing shoes to guest on the show and uncorked a thoroughly acceptable singing voice in a couple of numbers with the star.

As if Lana Turner and her "Survivors" on ABC didn't have enough to contend with, NBC on Monday scheduled her 1961 film "By Love Possessed" to compete with Tracy Carlyle's dramatic reunion—they were fencing—with the father of her child.

ABC's extravagent excursion into evening soap opera first ran into tough production problems and now languishes in the bottom third of the Nielsen list. In the most recent ratings, the show is in 59th position, tied with another disappointment, NBC's "Andy Williams Show," in a roster of 80.

Estimates of audiences for the week of Oct. 6-12 show CBS overtaking NBC for the lead in the averages for the first time this season. CBS had 18.5, with NBC at 17.7 and ABC 16.9.

The new list had some happy surprises for ABC. Its "Movie of the Week" was in first place, followed by NBC's "Laugh-in." "Marcus Welby, M.D." obert Young's new doctor show on ABC, was third followed by the network's broadcast of the feature film, "Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines."

★ ★ ★

As the season settles down, it appears that NBC's "Bill Cosby Show"—fifth on the list—is holding its position handily, primarily at the expense of CBS's "Ed Sullivan Show," in 49th.

CBS's "Gunsmoke," NBC's "Bonanza," CBS's "Jackie Gleason Show," "The Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour" and "Family Affair," tied with NBC's Disney hour make up the rest of the front-running shows.

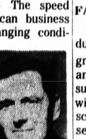
Industry Rebounds From Cyclamate Ban

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The speed with which American business can adjust to changing conditions, the power of its positive thinking, the ingenuity of its marketing men should never again be doubted. Almost anything is possible.



CUNNIFF

Within hours after the government announced that the artificial sweeteners called cyclamates would be withdrawn from the general market, the multimillion-dollar diet drink industry raced to comply.

★ ★ ★

Amazing when you consider that cyclamates in diet drinks were felt to be what cocoa is in a chocolate bar: an essential ingredient without which there wouldn't be a product.

The availability of cyclamates was perhaps the main reason for the development of this relatively new industry.

FAST GROWING

In the 1960s the diet drink industry became one of the fastest growing in America. Diabetics and sufferers of high blood pressure felt they could drink them without fear. And calorie-conscious drinkers found the absence of sugar much to their liking.

★ ★ ★

After the government announced its ban Saturday, because tests showed massive doses had caused cancer in rats, there was immediate speculation that some of the best-known brand names in America might disappear.

★ ★ ★

How wrong! Within hours it was known that the impact would not be a death blow because new formulas already were prepared. And almost as quickly it was realized that to some in the industry here was a golden opportunity.

In marketing soap or cereal or soft drinks it is always useful to have something interesting on the label. "Ten cents off" is a common gimmick, but its a costly one too. "New" may be more effective and less costly.

TROUBLE WITH 'NEW'

The trouble with "new" is that people have become too used to it. "New" can mean very little indeed, perhaps just a new bottle or a label. It's very difficult to come up with something really new.

★ ★ ★

Now that they have something really new to work with—revolutionarily new, in fact—the advertising and marketing men are almost breathless, although as usual, not wordless.

★ ★ ★

Almost as fast as advertisements can be prepared, at least one major soft drink manufacturer announced a brand new package with a great big "New." And what was new about it? For one thing, it will have none of those suspect chemicals called cyclamates.

Report for Third Quarter

Chrysler Profits Sag

DETROIT (AP) — An 87 per cent slump in profits for the third quarter of this year was reported Monday by Chrysler Corp. as the firm struggled to cut its operating costs.

Board Chairman Lynn Townsend and President Virgil E. Boyd told Chrysler stockholders in a letter that profits plunged to $3.8 million, or seven cents per share, from the $29.7 million, or 63 cents a share, of the same period last year.

★ ★ ★

The top executives of the nation's third largest auto maker said profits totaled $93.2 million, or $1.97 a share, in the first nine months of this year. This was a 47 per cent decline from the record $178.5 million, or $3.83 per share, in the January-September span of 1968.

Townsend and Boyd noted the recently announced cutbacks in Chrysler's capital improvement program and orders to lay off a number of the firm's 40,000 white-collar workers.

'GOOD PROGRESS'

They said the "efforts to reduce administrative and general expense and to improve organizational and over-all efficiency are under way, and good progress is being made."

Townsend and Boyd blamed the profit nosedive on higher costs of materials, labor, selling and marketing autos, interest rates and "costs of product improvements in the new 1970 models.

"Prices of the company's 1970 cars . . . do not recover all of these higher costs," they said. Chrysler said prices of its 1970 models were increased an average of $107 per car, compared with price hikes of $108 for Ford, $125 for General Motors and $81 for American Motors.

★ ★ ★

The firm said its sales of 1.56 billion in the third quarter were about the same as the same quarter of 1968. Chrysler sales for the nine months this year totaled $5.239 billion, compared with $5.298 billion in the same period of 1968.

However, the firm's market "penetration" — its share of the U.S. passenger car market—fell from 18.5 per cent to 17 per cent in the nine months. This year, Chrysler reported retail sales of 1,070,053 cars in the first nine months. Last year, retail sales totaled 1,160,328 for the same period.

AMC Details Plan to Buy Kaiser Jeep

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. announced Monday it plans to buy Kaiser Jeep Corp., a move which probably would push AMC's yearly sales past the $1 billion mark due to government contracts.

Cost of the acquisition, figured on current value of AMC stock, would be some $80 million. Details of the purchase are still to be worked out, AMC said, and will be subject to approval by boards directors of AMC and Kaiser Industries Corp.

★ ★ ★

After the announcement, American Motors stock rose 62 cents a share to $12 on volume of 204,000 shares on the New York Stock Exchange. Kaiser gained 37 cents a share, rising to $21 on volume of 105,700 shares on the American Stock Exchange.

Terms of the sale call for payment of $10 million in cash, $10 million in negotiable five-year AMC notes and 5.5 million shares of AMC capital stock which is currently selling for about $11 a share.

NEW MARKET

For AMC the purchase will mean entry into the growing light truck and pleasure vehicle market and probably a bigger outlet for its engines. Jeep has been buying V-8 engines from Buick and straight sixes from AMC. It makes its own four-cyclinder and V-6 engines.

On the surface, the two manufacturing operations seemed to be waiting for each other. Jeep specializes in four-wheel drive trucks and a station wagon-type vehicle which can also be bought with two-wheel drive.

★ ★ ★

"American Motors and Kaiser Jeep manufacture noncompetitive product lines with complementary management and dealer organizations," said the AMC announcement.

Most AMC cars are built in Wisconsin although corporate headquarters are in Detroit. Jeep headquarters are at Toledo, Ohio, while Kaiser Industries is headquartered at Oakland, Calif.

JEEP'S FACILITIES

Jeep's military production is centered at South Bend, Ind., where in 1968 the firm built 52,473 vehicles. Most other production is handled at Toledo with a little at Indianapolis, Ind. Total vehicle sales in 1968 for Jeep were 112,925.

Total Jeep sales for 1968 totaled nearly $477 million compared to $297 million a year earlier. There was a $330 million backlog of government orders. By Monday the backlog had reached $580 million including contracts for production of right-hand drive vehicles for use by the Post Office department in mail delivery.

★ ★ ★

AMC's net sales for 1968 were $761.1 million and earnings totaled about $11.8 million. AMC hasn't paid a dividend, however, since 1965. Jeep's operating profit for 1968, before interest expense, totaled $15 million.

AMC has sold about 203,000 cars so far this year, down slightly from 1968 figures. Jeep vehicle sales this year are lagging some 20,000 units behind the 95,000 a year ago.

$1-Million Fire Hits New York GM Building

NEW YORK (UPI) — A light bulb smashed to the floor and ignited gasoline fumes yesterday, touching off a two-alarm fire which caused an estimated $1-million damage at the new General Motors building on Fifth Avenue.

The fire started in a restaurant which was to open next month. On display in the restaurant were five new cars, two of them antiques, and four were destroyed.

* * *

Three other stores around the building's plaza also were damaged.

Fire officials said workmen in the restaurant had discovered that the gas tank of one of the cars was leaking and had just begin to drain it when the light bulb broke, creating sparks.

* * *

One woman in the lobby of the building was treated for smoke inhalation but no other injuries were reported.

Rezoning Bid to Get 2nd Look

The City Commission will take a second look at a rezoning request for a gas station at their meeting 8 p.m. tonight at City Hall, East Wide Track and East Pike.

The request was rejected in a 4-3 vote two weeks ago. It was for a Shell station on the southwest corner of Perry and Glenwood.

* * *

Two petitions from nearby residents have been presented and last week it was determined more persons living close to the corner were in favor of the gas station than were against. If the project were approved, an old structure containing a tavern would be demolished.

In other business, the commission will hold a second reading and possibly adopt an ordinance concerning licensing auctions. The proposed ordinance covers single auction events plus regular auction-house operations.

Most of the rest of the agenda applies to public utility construction projects.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Jack W. Stoops, who passed away October 21, 1965:
We do not need a special time,
To keep in our minds,
The days we do not think of you,
Are very hard to find.
They say time heals all sorrow,
And helps us to forget,
But time has only proven,
How much we miss you yet.
Sadly missed by wife Carlene and son Jackie.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Verne L. Haskin, who passed away Oct. 21, 1964.
You're not forgotten, loved one, nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last, we will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore, your loving smile, your gentle face,
As long as life and memory last, no one will ever fill your place.
Sadly missed by wife Kathrina, and family.

Senate to Act First on Reform Issues

Caucuses to Get School Bills

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Legislative leaders plan to forestall any floor work this week on Gov. William G. Milliken's bills to reorganize the state school system while they try to reach informal agreement on ways to amend them.

★ ★ ★

Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, said yesterday his 20-member Republican caucus will hold extensive private meetings this week to sound out feelings on the governor's comprehensive program.

★ ★ ★

In the House, Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, said his party will meet extensively in caucus while the Senate deliberates on the governor's program.

★ ★ ★

Lockwood said Senate Republicans will try for a consensus vote on changes in the 10 bills and two resolutions before they come out of committee.

But it may be a while before any of the measures receives enough votes to leave committee.

Taxation Chairman Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, who has a firm hold on Milliken's four fiscal proposals, claims he needs until November to finish his work.

His five-member committee is scheduling a visit to New York City the weekend of Nov. 1 to investigate problems related to a hike in the cigarette tax.

★ ★ ★

Witnesses testifying at DeMaso's three hearings forecast a rise in organized crime and cigarette bootlegging if the tax is raised from seven to 12 cents per package. They warned it would price Michigan out of the competitive range and actually would result in a loss of revenue.

Milliken says the state treasury would receive an extra $45 million per year from the smoking levy.

MINUS PAROCHIAID?

State Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, who has the remaining bills in his education committee, said he will attempt to report "some" of them out by the end of the week.

But the school aid bill may be minus parochiaid provisions if it is reported out.

Stamm's committee is divided on the issue and may remove that chapter of the bill. It could be put back on the bill when it reaches the floor.

★ ★ ★

Ryan said his chamber will wait for the Senate to pass the tax and school aid bills before approving any measures.

MAJOR BILLS

"These are major bills," Ryan said yesterday. "We may work on some of the smaller ones while we are waiting but we feel that having the major bills pass one house and not crisscrossing is the best idea."

This agreement was worked out between Ryan and Lockwood.

Senate Democratic leader Sander M. Levin already has plans to sponsor his own education reform program.

APPOINTIVE BOARD

Instead of abolishing the board of education as Milliken wants, the Berkley Democrat is recommending an appointive board which could elect its own superintendent. He also wants any change in any education to retain local control of the schools instead of centralizing it in Lansing.

Detroit Court Gets Cancer Serum Case

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Bea Hewson — linked to the treatment of patients in the Detroit area with the allegedly worthless Hett cancer serum—was arraigned Monday on a violation of the state Nursing Practice Act.

★ ★ ★

She stood mute before Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Joseph E. Maher. She was released on $1,000 personal bond, with pretrial examination set for Oct. 31.

Mrs. Hewson is the grandneice of Dr. John Emil Hett, the Canadian physician who in 1931 developed a cancer serum which came under attack in Detroit last week by a federal Food and Drug Administration representative.

The first American carding mill was established in 1680 at Wethersfield, Conn.

Police Corner Runaway ---It Was Horsing Around

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — A horse went for a stroll yesterday, got onto I-196 and galloped along between cars for three hours before officers could catch him.

The horse left the Lloyd Young farm in Walker, crossed the Grand River into Grand Rapids about 11:30 a.m., and wound up on the freeway.

★ ★ ★

Startled drivers notified the Grand Rapids police. Officers chased him for an hour and a half and almost caught him, but the animal kicked a police sergeant several times and raced on up the freeway, dodging traffic.

Kent County sheriff's officers and police gave chase and after another hour and a half finally caught the horse, hitched him to a tree and called the owner.

To: Homeowners Concerned About The New Housing Code

The Association For the Protection of Homeowners has bargained with CITY OFFICIALS, both elected and appointed, regarding the NEW HOUSING CODE. Surrendering to the impatient demand of homeowners that PRIVATE PROPERTY cannot be infringed upon, that older people and old homes must be protected from young, overzealous inspectors, HOUSING OFFICIALS have agreed to a GRANDFATHER CLAUSE.

After extensive changes, the Association For the Protection of Homeowners feels that the NEW CODE to be voted on soon by the City Commission has the necessary safeguards written into it which will assure the PROTECTION OF CITIZENS' PRIVATE HOMES against a harsh, unrealistic Code.

We also believe that citizens who understand the new Code will agree that the Code as now written will conform in many ways with the City and State Code already in effect.

Nixon Will Press for Upgrade of U.S. Maritime Fleet

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President Nixon will ask Congress this week to modernize the nation's aging merchant fleet and put it back in competition with the major maritime powers, including the fast-growing Russian fleet.

★ ★ ★

Nixon will ask for $300 million to finance construction of 30 ships a year — three times the current rate. He also is expected to urge industry to support a multi-billion private investment program to expand the Merchant Marine Administration.

Nixon pledged during his 1968 campaign to try to restore the United States "to the role of a first-rate maritime power."

★ ★ ★

But observers agree the job will not be easy. At present, two-thirds of the 963-ship American fleet is over 25 years old. The U.S. ranks 11th among the world ship-building nations, and its once-sleek fleet of passenger liners is down to a handful and is expected to get even smaller.

Worse, critics claim, is the fact that the United States now carries only 5 per cent of its foreign commerce in American-flag ships. Nixon has promised to raise the total to 30 per cent.

Nixon's new chairman of the Federal Maritime Commission, Mrs. Helen Bentley, former maritime editor of the Baltimore Sun newspaper, said last week Nixon would seek to revive goals of the 1936 Merchant Marine Act. The law fostered a shipbuilding program that helped sustain the nation during World War II and the Marshall Plan after the war, she said.

In a related development, the Pentagon indicated yesterday it does not want an extra $1 billion for naval shipbuilding voted by the House. The House added the figure to the Pentagon's $2.5 billion authorization request for shipbuilding this fiscal year.

One of the key elements in the Nixon program is expected to be an emphasis on producing a merchant fleet that may not necessarily be first in numbers, but one that will be able to take advantage of the new maritime design technology to operate both fast and efficiently — two factors needed to offset higher American operating costs.

★ ★ ★

Paul Hall, Seafarers International Union president, said the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway in 1959 "made the Great Lakes the fourth seacoast of the United States . . .

"At latest count," he continued, "approximately 45 foreign flag ships were carrying foreign commerce to and from Lake ports for every American flag vessel engaged in this trade."

★ ★ ★

The volume of trade is underscored by the fact, Hall said, that "more tons of cargo pass through the locks at Sault St. Marie each year than transit the Panama Canal" and the seaway is closed about four months a year because of ice.

General Put on Standby in Graft Case

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Army has abruptly recalled a general from Europe to the Pentagon for what may be further sensational testimony in a Senate investigation of military graft.

The Army said Brig. Gen. Earl F. Cole was being reassigned indefinitely to Washington "in connection with the current Senate hearings on alleged irregularities" in noncommissioned officers' club operations.

★ ★ ★

The Army didn't go further officially, but Pentagon sources said Cole's name has figured in military reports on the irregularities which have been turned over to a subcommittee headed by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Committee sources said Cole, who turned 50 today and is a native of Madison County, Neb., is expected to be questioned although he has not yet been subpoenaed.

Ribicoff's panel is scheduled to resume hearings tomorrow.

It was understood the subcommittee wants to question Cole about his tour in Vietnam as deputy chief of staff for personnel and administration in 1966 and 1967 — a job which made him a chief overseer of NCO club operations.

★ ★ ★

It was during that general period when M. Sgt. William Higdon, named in previous Senate testimony, was chief custodian of several service clubs in Vietnam.

Higdon, quoted by one hearing witness as having said a club custodian job "is worth $150,000 a year," ran clubs in the Long Binh area from July 1966 to July 1968.

He was one of several sergeants who joined former Sgt. Major of the Army William O. Wooldridge in forming a corporation which did a million-dollar-a-year business with NCO clubs.

Subcommittee sources said Cole also may be questioned about any relationship he had with William Crum, associated with a Hong Kong-based firm called Sarl Electronics which sold slot machines to enlisted men's clubs.

STAR-KISSED COSMONAUT — Actress Pearl Bailey, star of the Broadway musical "Hello Dolly," wipes lipstick off Soviet cosmonaut Georgi Beregovoi last night after inviting him and fellow cosmonaut Konstantin Feoktistov to the stage and kissing them. U.S. astronaut Frank Borman (right) also received a kiss from Miss Bailey. The cosmonauts arrived in New York from Moscow yesterday for a two-week tour of the United States. Borman is host for their stay here.

Senate GOP Leader Hits VP on Protests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott, rebuking Vice President Spiro T. Agnew without naming him, has called for tolerance and an end to "name calling and accusation" in the debate over Vietnam.

Scott, in his most evident disagreement with the White House since his election as the GOP's Senate leader a month ago, said "the administration must accept the sincere intent of this debate and of demonstrations" as a phenomenon of freedom and a product of anguish over the war.

The Pennsylvania senator said such protests "will not be stifled or talked down."

In New York, Secretary of State William P. Rogers said that while there were some "unpleasant aspects" of last Wednesday's demonstrations, "On the whole, it seemed to me that a great many of the demonstratos wished principally to register dramatic but dignified expression of their deep conern for peace in Vietnam."

'PLAYING POLITICS'

However, Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton, Republican national chairman, accused administration critics of playing politics over policy.

★ ★ ★

Agnew, in New Orleans, said leaders of the protest movement are "hard core dissidents and professional anarchists."

The vice president said they are being encouraged by "an effete corps of impudent snobs who characterize themselves as intellectuals."

Scott said Americans "have had enough of invective against Americans who feel a different way. They do not want to embark upon a period of name-calling and accusation, of misunderstandings and misinterpretations at a crucial time.

"Let us illuminate and discuss," Scott said. "Not invoke the darkness and curse at each other."

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, crediting Nixon with bringing about a de-escalation of the war, said yesterday he would like to see the country get behind the President.

Mansfield told the Senate his hope is that such support would encourage Nixon to keep the course he is following and take additional steps toward a responsible settlement of the war as quickly as possible.

Socialist Brandt Is Elected West German Chancellor

From Our News Wires

BONN — A new era took shape in West Germany today, with Willy Brandt taking over the helm of the government and steering a course toward closer ties with his nation's Communist neighbors to the East.

By a vote of 251 to 235 — giving Brandt two more votes than he needed — the Bundestag (lower house) officially elected him chancellor — the first Socialist to hold the post in 39 years. Five members abstained, four cast invalid ballots and one was absent.

Brandt's victory, which gives him a mandate to govern for the next four years, was made possible by a cowition with the tiny Free Democratic party.

In the Sept. 28 general election, Brandt's Social Democrats won only 224 seats to the Christian Democrats' 242, but the Free Democrats control 30 seats and gave Brandt the necessary majority.

Brandt, 55, succeeds Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger of the Christian Democrats who Brandt served as foreign minister. They had formed a Christian Democratic-Socialist coalition in December 1966.

Brandt earlier was mayor of West Berlin, a Socialist stronghold.

Kiesinger said Brandt's small majority on the vote was "a sign of what is ahead. The new coalition will have a difficult time."

Bonn's foreign policy is unlikely to undergo any immediate dramatic change.

Mercury Will Dip Into 30s Tonight

Don't let the sun fool you. "Baby, it's cold outside." It will be mostly cloudy and colder tonight with lows in the high 30s.

Partly cloudy and colder tomorrow with a slight chance of showers is how the weatherman calls it. Highs should range in the mid-40s.

Winds are northwest to west at 10-20 miles an hour tonight, 15-22 tomorrow. The probability of precipitation is 60 per cent tonight, 40 per cent tomorrow.

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Troops of two Chilean regiments revolted today in the cities of Santiago and San Filipe. The government said the army high command "has taken the necessary measures to subdue the mutineers." It called on the people of Chile "to repudiate this coup attempt and reaffirm the legal and democratic regime above all other considerations."

GOP Fires M-Day Marcher

"I think the boy has a point. A person ought to be able to express his peaceful ideas openly."

Thus, Mrs. James F. O'Laughlin of 1760 Hamilton, Bloomfield Hills, supported her son, a senior at Michigan State University and a participant in the recent antiwar Moratorium Day peace march from the university to the State Capitol.

Michael O'Laughlin, her 22-year-old son, says he was fired from his $7,800 political patronage post by Rep. Phillip O. Pittenger, R-Lansing, Thursday after attending a rally last Wednesday in front of the Capitol.

★ ★ ★

Pittenger is the "personnel officer" in charge of patronage appointments for House Republicans.

O'Laughlin, a graduate of University of Detroit High School, reportedly obtained his job with the House post office through the good will of Rep. William Hampton, R-Bloomfield Hills. His plans include attending graduate law school, according to his mother.

"I heard I'd been fired as soon as I got inside the building (after the rally)," O'Laughlin said.

"They said I was inefficient," said O'Laughlin, who some months ago was promoted from a $5,400 job as a House page to the post office at the same wage as an assistant sergeant.

O'Laughlin was named a page after being recommended by Hampton, minority floor leader.

Pittenger recently waged a successful campaign to rescind a federal travel grant awarded a foreign-born MSU professor opposed to U.S. war policies and campus reserve officer training programs.

Pittenger said yesterday several legislators and House employes had complained to him that O'Laughlin was inefficient. He declined to name individuals making the complaints.

In addition, Pittenger said, O'Laughlin owed the state some 17 hours of work for which he already had been paid. "I looked at his time cards and then I fired him," Pittenger said.

O'Laughlin said Capitol work regulations allow employes to accumulate "34 hours in the red" without losing pay.

"I'd been in the blue the whole summer and I built up 60 hours in comp (compensatory) time at one point," O'Laughlin said.

"If they hadn't fired me, I'd have worked it off as soon as the night sessions start. If you check, somebody's always in the red."

★ ★ ★

An impeccably dressed six-footer with mutton chop sideburns, O'Laughlin said he needed the money to pay tuition and for that reason had not contributed when House Republicans asked for campaign donations equal to 1 per cent of salary from all their employes. That request, on official stationery, stirred up a controversy for a time, and drew the disapproval of Gov. William G. Milliken.

★ ★ ★

"I think I was one of only two people who didn't contribute," O'Laughlin said. "I talked to Mr. Hampton about it and told him if I had to do it to keep the job I'd try to contribute something.

"He said I didn't have to, but if Republicans lost more seats in the next election, somebody might decide they didn't need me."

2 Urge Kopechne Autopsy for Its Value in Death Probe

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (UPI) — Two pathologists testified late yesterday that an autopsy "could do much" to substantiate or negate a medical finding that Mary Jo Kopechne drowned.

The testimony appeared to strengthen the case of Massachusetts authorities petitioning for an autopsy on the body of the 28-year-old Washington secretary who died July 18 in the waters off Chappaquiddick Island, Mass., in an automobile driven by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

Testimony was scheduled to resume at 9:30 today.

Earlier yesterday Dr. Donald R. Mills, associate medical examiner of Duke County, Mass., told the court that Miss Kopechne's death was "a clear case of drowning."

"There was water in her bronchial trachea and her nose and mouth," Mills said. "There was water deep in her chest. There was a characteristic foam in her mouth such as in drowning cases."

But Dr. Joseph W. Spellman, professor of pathology at the University of Pennsylvania and chief medical examiner for Philadelphia, testified that an external examination alone "frequently fails to disclose internal injuries, fractured skull, bruise to the brain, broken ribs or ruptured internal organs, or natural disease processes."

★ ★ ★

Spellman, who said he was responsible for certifying some 6,000 deaths a year, said that an autopsy in the reasonably near future "could do much to either verify the impression of Dr. Mills as to the cause of death or produce evidence that modifies or completely negates his finding."

Later a second pathologist, Dr. George T. Katsas of the Boston University Law-Medicine Institute, backed Spellman's view.

Massachusetts Dist. Atty. Edmund S. Dinis yesterday subpoenaed a video tape of Sen. Kennedy's nationally televised explanation of Miss Kopechne's death in an attempt to show his version of the accident differed from police reports.

MANSFIELD SUPPORTS PRESIDENT — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana is shown in his Senate office after having made a speech on the Senate floor yesterday in which he credited President Nixon with bringing about a de-escalation of the Vietnam war. Mansfield also urged the nation to support its president's war policies.

Somali Regime Topples

MOGADISHU, Somalia (AP)—A military coupe overthrew Somalia's elected government early today less than 24 hours after the funeral of assassinated President Abdirashid Ali Shermarke.

The self-styled Revolutionary Council said in a broadcast: "The revolution was staged to save Somalia from the corrupt malpractices of the ruling classes."

* * *

The council said it will "abolish all the bad things left behind. Somalia will be led by reasonable people, and tribalism will be abolished."

Troops in full battle dress with fixed bayonets took control before dawn amid an unusual heavy rain. All businesses except coffeehouses were closed. Banks, communications offices, the harbor, the government printing office and other key installations were heavily guarded.

HOUSE GUARDED

There was no official word on the whereabouts of Prime Minister Mohamed Ibrahim Egal, but his beach front house was under military guard.

He was criticized this week by local newspapers which accused him of selling public lands at drastically reduced prices to political friends.

No shooting or violence was reported by persons walking about the city.

Motor traffic was at a standstill, except for military vehicles. Some persons were forced to abandon their cars at gunpoint about sunup, but they were permitted to retrieve them later in the day.

People stood around in the shade, talking quietly or walking along backstreets to avoid the soldiers patrolling all main streets and guarding all embassies.

Wind Stirs Waters Off Louisiana

Erratic Laurie Nears Gulf Coast

From Our News Wires

NEW ORLEANS, La. Gale force winds from 100-mile-an-hour Hurricane Laurie began whipping Louisiana's offshore waters near the mouth of the Mississippi River today.

The powerful storm lost forward speed during the morning as it moved sluggishly through the Gulf of Mexico. The New Orleans Weather Bureau said Laurie would have a slow and erratic movement today but that a drift toward the northeast was indicated.

* * *

At 7 a.m. the hurricane center was located about 230 miles south of New Orleans after drifting eastward at 5 m.p.h. for a few hours.

Thousands of residents along Louisiana's vulnerable low coast fled inland for fear of being trapped in a danger zone.

ENDANGERED AREA

If Laurie, the eighth hurricane of the season, curved more to the northeast, she could move onto Mississippi's coast, devastated by Hurricane Camille two months ago, or even farther east to Alabama or Florida.

Mississippi Civil Defense Director Wade Guice said weather experts agreed "if the storm does come it will be late this evening," and his office was making arrangements for shelters and holding briefings with local officials.

But in Louisiana, with Hurricanes Camille, Betsy and Audrey in recent memory, local officials began moving people north early yesterday.

By nightfall, lower Plaquemines Parish county, which took the brunt of Camille's 190-mile-an-hour winds Aug. 17 and was hard hit by Betsy in 1965, was virtually deserted.

'TO SIT IT OUT'

"The evacuation is just about complete now, and all we are going to do is sit it out and watch and see what develops," said Sheriff H. B. Schoenberger.

Some parish authorities estimated 7,000 persons fled their homes. Schoenberger said, "It is hard to determine the exact amount because from Empire down a lot of people wiped out by Camille have not rebuilt."

Authorities in Cameron Parish, where Audrey killed 500 persons in 1957, told residents to leave low-lying areas.

Residents of LaForche Parish fled to higher ground, and Vermilion, Lafayette, Iberia and St. Bernard Parish authorities stood by to aid in evacuation if it became necessary.

Six on School Board Shun Relations Unit

Although all seven members of the Pontiac School Board were invited, only one attended last night's regular meeting of the School District Citizens' Committee on Human Relations.

Dr. Robert R. Turpin was the only board member to attend.

The committee had asked the board to attend last night so that it might discuss the committee's relationship with the board in an attempt to determine if the committee should continue its efforts or disband.

The committee, in its written invitation to broad members, said it wished to discuss the school board's apparent lack of interest in the committee, lack of responses to recommendations submitted to the board and seeming lack of confidence in the committee's judgment or recommendations.

'RUDE TREATMENT'

The invitation also stated that a committee recommendation was treated rudely at the Sept. 18 meeting when, following its reading, the meeting was adjourned.

Committee Chairman Charles Harrison Jr. said that all board members were sent the invitation and were reminded by telephone. He said he received no calls or notes from board members not in attendance last night.

The Human Relations Committee, therefore, voted to get a permanent appointment on every agenda of regular school board meetings so that the committee's recommendations and complaints might be brought before board members in public. Dr. Turpin said he was in complete agreement with the move.

Another complaint about the school board aired by the committee last night included a verbal attack by board member Mrs. Elsie Mihalek last week on John Perdue, director of school-community and human relations for the school district.

* * *

Perdue, who attended last night's meeting, was a runner-up candidate for a third assistant superintendent's post. The candidate selected by the board turned down the position and, on the recommendation of Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, the board agreed to leave the position vacant.

Several committee members also agreed they were resentful of Whitmer's implication at the last board meeting that Perdue was not qualified for the position.

In other action last night, the Human Relations Committee agreed to formulate a task force to work with representatives of the school district in preparing plans for quelling disturbances at schools.

Members of the task force would also be available to go to t school where a demonstration is in progress to observe and offer assistance.

City Municipal Employes Eye Budding New Union

By ED BLUNDEN

The city of Pontiac could find itself dealing with an entirely new employes' union by early next year.

If the new group is successful, other municipal governments in the county also may deal with the new union.

Secretary of the newly formed union — the United Public Employes of Michigan (UPEM) — is John Gusman, a city employe and president of the existing white-collar organization, the Pontiac Municipal Employes Association (PMEA).

he PMEA will become part of UPEM, UPEM, Gusman said, if the new organization is successful.

VOTE PLANNED

The PMEA will become part of will be sked to vote on acepting the new UPEM before the end of the year, Gusman said.

"For the first time we feel we will have an organization that is appealing to a broad range of municipal workers," he said. The main appeal will be to the white-collar employes, he pointed out.

In Pontiac, blue-collar workers are represented by Local 100 of the American Federal of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME).

The new UPEM is a splinter group formed in Detroit just last Friday. UPEM President is William Charron, a man ousted from AFSCME in a recent internal struggle, Gusman said.

NEW UNITS ENVISIONED

In Detroit the new union faces a struggle among the membership of the former unit, but Gusman does not see this greatly affecting the Pontiac area.

What Gusman does foresee is creation of new units which will carry the UPEM banner. Employes in county government and larger municipalities, such as Waterford Township, and even employes of smaller municipal agencies will find the new union to their liking, Gusman predicts.

* * *

Drafting of a constitution and bylaws for UPEM were begun after Friday's organization meeting.

The UPEM opening statement charged: "Several other unions have demonstrated that social and economic goals of the labor movement cannot be achieved within the present framework of certain unions and federations of unions."

GOALS LISTED

As its program goals, UPEM listed:

- Coordination and direction of legislative activities.
- Servicing of affiliated local unions and affiliates.

* * *

- Effective enforcement and administration of collective bargaining agreements.
- Research and coordination of data with respect to bargaining, grievances, legal and legislative activities.
- Educational and training programs for union officers, members and their families.

* * *

Their statement concludes: "Michigans public employes have long hoped for an organization and leadership to protect and advance their interests and welfare. UPEM has undertaken this responsibility and we are confident we will suceed."

Peanut Butter, Mayonnaise: Substitute for Drug Kick?

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal drug expert says youngsters in some parts of the country have taken to injecting peanut butter and mayonnaise into their veins as a substitute for narcotics.

In several documented cases the result has been death, Ernest A. Carabillo Jr., a lawyer harmacist in the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, told a news conference Monday.

* * *

Carabillo said the information that peanut butter and mayonnaise would send users "on a little trip" was contained in an underground recipe book purporting to outline "culinary escapes from reality."

Other recent fads, he said, included the use of paragoric, cleaning fluid, the local anesthetic ethylchloride and freon, the pressurized propellant gas in aerosols.

REACTION CONFUSED

Carabillo said users of narcotic substitutes confused the bizarre and toxic reactions with the so-called "high" provided by such drugs as heroin or marijuana. He cited the smoking of dried banana skins, a fad of a couple of years ago, as an example.

Frank Gulich, a narcotics bureau official stationed in Chicago, said the underground "cook books" usually sell for about $1 and often give the formulas for preparing drugs such as LSD.

Drug users, Gulich said, are "always looking for new drugs that won't be a violation of the law."

Carabillo and Gulich appeared at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

HELP URGED

Carabillo urged hospital and control centers to help the narcotics bureau by reporting new fads among users of drugs or substitutes.

"Hopefully, with this type of information, we can eliminate the necessity of waiting for widespread manifestation of a particular form of abuse," he said.

* * *

He did not specify the areas where the peanut butter-mayonnaise fad had cropped up, or how many deaths had been caused.

Bishops Favor Change

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Sweeping changes in the way bishops help the Pope rule the Roman Catholic Church have been approved by majority votes in all nine subcommissions of the world synod of bishops, a synod source said today.

If approved by Pope Paul VI, the changes would mark the end of what some liberals have called an absolute monarchy" that has ruled the Church for centuries.

Viet Protest in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — An estimated 500,000 Japanese leftists staged rowdy demonstrations against the Vietnam war throughout the country today. The most serious clashes occurred in Tokyo, where 480 persons were arrested and 20 policemen were injured.
