Pope Improves Slightly After Serious Stroke

Big 6th Inning Makes Turley Victor

Yanks Crush Braves 7-0

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP) — The New York Yankees knocked their nemesis, Lew Burdette, out of the box today and crushed the Milwaukee Braves in the crucial fifth game of the World Series, 7-0.

★ ★ ★

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, confounded and exasperated by the Yanks' failure to hit in this Series, mustered all the fire-power he could get into his batting order by sending Elston Howard to left field and Jerry Lumpe to third base.

FIRST INNING

BRAVES — Bruton walked. Schoendienst sacrificed Bruton to second, Turley to McDougald covering first. Mathews flied out to Bauer. Aaron flied out to Mantle. No runs, no hits.

YANKEES — Bauer singled to left. Lumpe, attempting to sacrifice, bunted the third strike foul and was automatically out with Burdette getting credit for a strikeout. Mantle singled to center, sending Bauer to third. Berra doubled to right, scoring Bauer and moving Mantle to third. Howard walked filling the bases. Skowron singled scoring Mantle. Pizarro replaced Burdette. McDougald doubled scoring Berra and Howard and Skowron stopped at third. Kubek struck out. Turley singled to left, scoring Skowron and McDougald. Turley took second on a wild pitch. Bauer struck out. Six runs, six hits.

Red Guns Still; Quemoy Gets Supply Convoy

Big Unit Unloads as Communists Declare a 7-Day Cease-Fire

From Our Wire Services

BIG QUEMOY — The Communist guns fell silent at 12:51 a.m. today and within minutes the Nationalists began unloading the biggest convoy to arrive here since the Reds opened their all out artillery blockade Aug. 23.

Peiping announced a seven-day cease-fire, effective last midnight, on the condition that the United States stop escorting Nationalist Chinese convoys to the embattled island.

The cease-fire order was coupled with a call to Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek to negotiate directly on a settlement over Formosa and the offshore islands.

There was no advance notice of the Communists' self-proclaimed cease fire.

They threw in 5,725 shells Sunday and it was assumed their bombardment would continue. Three scattered shells hit Tatan Island at 12:51 and then there was silence.

SILENCE LIES THICK

The silence lay so thick after 43 days of bombardment you felt you could cut it with a knife. No guns fired as countless Nationalist landing craft ferried supplies in from the Nationalist and American ships lying three miles offshore.

The American and Nationalist convoy, formed long before Peiping proclaimed a seven-day cease-fire, arrived off Quemoy before dawn. Five big LSTs (Landing ship, tanks) and a U.S. Navy LSD (landing ship, dock) could be seen offshore in the whitecapped water.

Beyond them was an attack transport of large tonnage plus

Oakland Reshuffle Approved

The way was cleared today to combine the functions of the Oakland County's Department of Public Works and drain commissioner, except for needed legislation next year.

By a 61-16 vote, the county supervisors approved the reorganization of the DPW, abolishing the drain commissioner position as a separate office.

Strong opposition to the move had been predicted, but only a few questions were raised this morning.

The strongest and shortest argument against the proposal came from Sydney Frid, Northville superyisor. "All that is being done is eliminating an elected office and creating a bureaucracy," Frid argued.

John L. Carey, Springfield township supervisor, said his special committee seeking improvements in governmental operations favored the consolidation.

"Since when is striving for efficiency in government a bureaucracy?" Carey asked of Frid. The debate ended here with a roll call vote favoring the move.

★ ★ ★

Alo approved was increasing the membership of the Board of Public Works, controlling body over the DPW, from five to seven members. All are presently supervisors.

Supervisors' approval today echoed the feelings of Harold K. Schone, DPW director, and Daniel W. Barry, drain commissioner, that their offices could best operate as one.

Schone cited six major reasons for the change. The main one was that "there is considerable amount of overlapping of duties and responsibilities in the two departments."

The reorganized DPW would retain a deputy under the DPW head to supervise all phases of intercounty drain projects, he said.

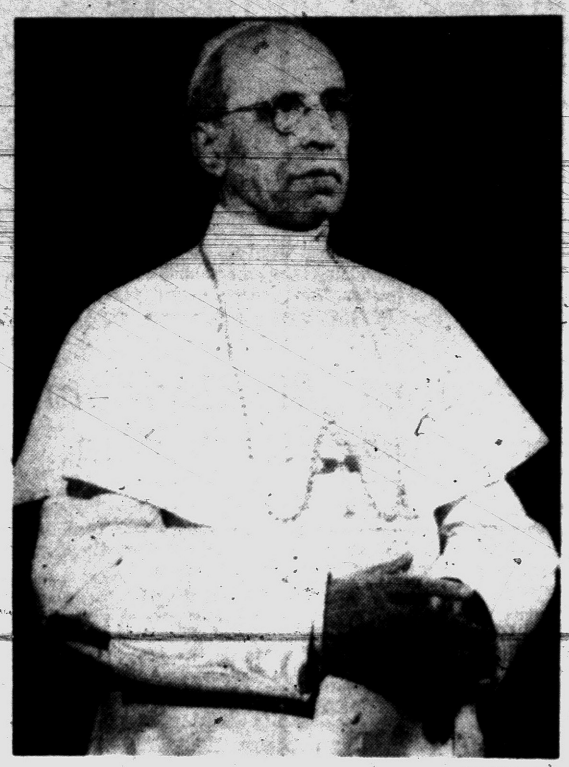

★ ★ ★

Howard H. Crenshaw, Berkley supervisor, asked that the reorganization be tabled so as not to "further jeopardize" the already legally entangled 12-Town Drain Project, presently under the supervision of Barry's office. A voice vote defeated Crenshaw's motion.

Schone expressed hope that this

GRAVELY ILL — Pope Pius XII today lies critically ill at Castel Gandolfo, Italy, his summer castle, after suffering a cerebral circulatory ailment. This portrait was made last February in connection with his 82nd birthday March 2.

Condition Still Grave, Reports Pius XII's Aide

Only His Great Stamina Holds Him Once Again From Death's Call

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Pius XII suffered a stroke today. The life of the 82-year-old pontiff hung in the balance at his summer residence here.

"All is in the hands of God," a physician reported from his bedside.

A medical bulletin at 6:30 p.m. (12:30 p.m. EST) tonight said that the condition of Pope Pius XII had "slightly improved" after "urgent treatment."

The Pope's great stamina, which brought him through a grave illness in 1954, asserted itself again.

Msgr. Angelo dell'Acqua, substitute secretary of state, visited the Pope a few hours after the stroke and reported a slight improvement in his condition. He emphasized, however, that his condition continued grave.

Informants at the press office in Vatican City said extreme unction, the church's last rites for the dying, had been given the Pope. Here at Castel Gandolfo Msgr. dell'Acqua said that to his knowledge extreme unction had not been given.

The Pope weakened suddenly during the night after showing improvement from an attack of gastritis, complicated by hiccups. The hiccups that had bothered him for several days vanished.

Then at 8:30 a.m. he suffered a circulatory cerebral attack, a bulletin from his physicians reported.

★ ★ ★

Unofficial sources said the Pope was paralyzed and could not be moved from his summer palace to Vatican City, where facilities for treatment are better.

Dr. Antonio Gasbarrini, a specialist from Bologna, was called to the Pope's bedside. This underscored the gravity of the condition of the spiritual ruler of nearly half a billion Roman Catholics.

At about noon, according to unofficial reports, the Pope roused briefly from his coma, opened his eyes, and murmured a few words.

The pontiff's immediate family, including his nephews and nieces, were ushered to an antechamber of the pontiff's bedroom.

Vatican sources gave this sequence of events in the second serious illness in four years for the aged pontiff.

The Pope addressed a special audience Sunday at his summer residence against the advice of his private physicians.

Sunday night the pontiff suddenly weakened while being treated for the gastritis and hiccups. He was being given a stomach wash in an effort to clear up the troublesome gastritis. This was caused some time ago after he had swallowed some dental medication while having a tooth treated.

Unexpectedly, while the stomach washing was under way, the Pope suffered a spell of extreme weakness. The cerebral attack followed.

Dr. Gasbarrini, the Bologna specialist, was in consultation with the Pope's private physician, Prof.

Community National Gives $6,000 to UF

The Community National Bank today announced an initial firm donation of $6,000 to the Special Gifts Division of the Pontiac Area United Fund. This represents at 12 per cent increase over their 1957 firm gift, and sets an encouraging pace for the pre-campaign Special Gifts solicitation, officials said.

Alfred C. Girard, Special Gifts chairman and president of Community National Bank, expressed the hope that the bank's increased gift would set the standard for the more than 230 other selected individuals and firms who have donated $100 or more to the Fund in past years.

"The success of this year's drive depends in great measure on the ability of the advance givers to take up the slack for the less fortunate in our community," stated Girard.

Special Gifts volunteer Torchlight solicitors, under the chairmanship of Girard, began making their pre-campaign calls on the Fund's leading contributors on Sep. 29.

All workers in the Division are redoubling their efforts in order to reach or surpass the division's $73,039.10 quota by Oct. 21 when the general campaign will begin.

Girard also announced the following gifts from leading advance gift contributors:

Temperature Dips Close to Freezing

At 6 this morning the temperature was just one degree above freezing, the coldest mercury reading for Pontiac thus far this fall.

The weatherman has a somewhat cozier outlook for tonight and tomorrow, however, with a low of from 42 to 48 degrees expected tonight and fair and warmer weather due Tuesday. The high tomorrow will be near 73.

In an extended outlook, temperatures have been predicted to average four to eight degrees above normal for the next five days.

At 2 p.m. the temperature in downtown Pontiac was 58.

Flash Bulbs Pop as Elvis, Fan Kiss 10 Minutes

BAD HOMBURG, Germany (UPI) — Elvis Presley spent an eventful afternoon yesterday visiting his father and grandmother in town.

The soldier set out by taxi from the U.S. barracks at Friedberg where he is stationed. He was followed by a convoy of autos, motor scooters, bicycles and assorted other vehicles, most of them with horns at full honk.

He made it inside fashionable Ritters Park Hotel to join his visiting relatives without undue incident.

When he emerged, for a walk in the park with his father and grandmother, it was a different story. Despite the addition of two bodyguards — Lamar Gike and Bobby West—flown from his Memphis, Tenn., headquarters, Elvis was besieged by some 300 rock 'n' roll fans, most of them demanding autographs.

A 16-year-old fan pressed close and kissed him full on the mouth. Presley kissed her right back. He held the pose for 10 full minutes while flash bulbs popped. Then he wrote down the name of Miss Margrit Buergin, of Frankfurt.

"It was wonderful actually seeing the real person instead of just pictures," said Miss Buergin.

Registration Deadline Tonight

Wasting Vote Privilege?

An estimated 1,000 to 1,500 potential Pontiac voters were urged today to register before tonight's 8 p.m. deadline.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said there have only been about 1,500 registrations so far for the Nov. 4 election, while an estimated 2,500 to 3,000 persons are eligible to register and must do so to qualify as electors next month.

The clerk's City Hall office and the registration booth at the corner of W. Huron and Saginaw streets both will be open for registrations until 8 p.m., Mrs. Evans said.

GM Plants Across Nation Blocked by Local Strikes

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors heads into a new week today with labor trouble still blocking its getting back into 1959 auto production.

Despite a national agreement with the United Auto Workers, GM's plants from coast to coast have been shut down almost completely by local disputes.

★ ★ ★

Continue Bargaining at 3 Local Plants

Negotiations on local issues continued today at Pontiac's three strike-bound General Motors Corp. plants, as approximately 14,100 UAW workers remained off the job for the fifth straight day.

With seniority agreements listed as a big issue, company and union negotiators were meeting this morning at GMC Truck & Coach and Fisher Body divisions and were scheduled to confer again this afternoon at Pontiac Motor Division.

Although there were no predictions about settlements, all sides continued to look for an early end to the strikes.

Walker Is Winner

BRIDLINGTON, England (UPI) —J. Walker was advised today he has won a competition for road safety.

Talks continued over the weekend at most of GM's 126 plants in 71 U.S. cities, striving to get the 275,000 UAW production workers back on their jobs.

Two settlements have been reached.

UAW Local 696 at the parts-making Moraine Products Division employing 2,500 at Dayton, Ohio, ironed out its differences with GM Sunday.

Also, the Harrison Radiator Division, at Lockport, N. Y., which makes radiators and air-conditioning equipment, reached an agreement covering 4,000 workers. Partial operations were scheduled today with full operations set for tomorrow.

The UAW and GM came to terms on a new three-year national contract last Thursday night when a companywide strike was 12 hours old.

But then, instead of going back to work, the Auto Workers stayed out with the blessing of UAW President Walter Reuther to demand settlement of local grievances left unresolved.

Chrysler Corp., which agreed on the major sections of a new contract with the UAW the day before the GM strike started, still had trouble with local walkouts.

Over the weekend 22,400 of Chrysler's 70,000 UAW members were idle at 16 plants.

Only Ford Motor Co., the first of the Big Three to come to terms with the UAW, was without a strike. The last Ford walkout—at a Chicago assembly plant—ended over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

On top of GM's 275,000 idle UAW members, the International Union of Electrical Workers continued a strike of its 25,000 members. Negotiations on a new master contract continued over the weekend.

Progress in bargaining talks was reported today by five United Auto Workers locals in General Motors' Flint plants.

Integration Issue Boiling Anew in Clinton?

3 Explosions Wreck Tennessee High School

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP) — Three bombs, expertly set off during early morning fog Sunday, wrecked the classrooms of Clinton High School, where enforced integration first broke into the resisting South two years ago.

But students and teachers were summoned to meet at the usual time today in the undamaged gymnasium to receive instructions for a quick resumption of classes —racially mixed as before. Ten Negroes are enrolled with about 850 white pupils.

Five Anderson County officials flew to Nashville Sunday to confer with Gov. Frank Clement, who promised them the fullest state aid in continuing classes and solving the bombing.

Agents of the Tennessee Bureau of Identification and the FBI arrived in Clinton to investigate. Two bits of spent fuse were picked up for laboratory tests, but no other clues were reported.

POLICE ACROSS STREET

Clinton police, who could see nothing through the predawn fog at the school across the street from the police station, said the blasts went off with precise three-minute timing at 4:21, 4:24 and 4:27 a. m.

★ ★ ★

The explosives were placed within the school. This was in contrast to other recent Southern bombings—Hattie Cotton School in Nashville last September, and Jewish centers in Nashville, Miami and Jacksonville last spring —where the explosives were set outside the buildings or in entranceways.

★ ★ ★

Walter Bearden, TBI agent from Knoxville, said one blast was set off in the boiler room, demolishing it and an entranceway leading to the separate gymnasium, and wrecking an adjoining science room.

Another charge tore out a wall in the center of the building, wrecked several classrooms and SCHOOL BLASTED — Three mysterious pre-dawn explosions heavily damaged integrated Clinton (Tenn.) High School Sunday. One of the blasts wrecked this entrance at the north end of the large brick building. Police called the dynamiting "a professional job." Gov. Frank Clement promised school officials the fullest state aid in continuing classes and solving the bombing. Students and teachers were summoned to meet at school time today in the undamaged gymnasium.

The third ripped out another end of the building.

"Whoever did this job knew what he was doing and was out to cause as much damage as he could," said Asst. Police Chief Jesse Braden.

He said the odor inside the building indicated that the explosive used was colite, a slow-burning type commonly used in the coal mines in this area.

The blasts ripped 16 of the 20 classrooms in the building and left only the gymnasium, a home economics section, the band room and the library undamaged.

CHURCHES OFFERED

Churches throughout this small town 20 miles northwest of Knoxville quickly offered their buildings for use as emergency classrooms. School officials in neighboring Oak Ridge offered a vacant 25-room school.

The first week of desegregation here was accomplished by growing disturbances which were climaxed at week's end by rioting. Gov. Frank Clement sent in state troopers and National Guardsmen.

Numerous other racial incidents within the school followed during 1956, but school officials reported last year and the first few weeks this year were mostly peaceful.

OVER THE TOP — Firemen clear one of the hurdles in the annual field day contests heralding National Fire Prevention Week, which began today. Shown are volunteers from the Franklin Fire Department, one of nine communities that performed before a capacity crowd at Northside Field Saturday.

Waterford, Birmingham Fire Departments Win

Birmingham and Waterford Township fire departments emerged the victors at what officials called the most successful firemen's field day ever held in Pontiac.

The six-member Birmingham team won two trophies in competition before a capacity crowd of 600 at Northside Field Saturday. Waterford took the crown away from Brooklands Fire Department in the spectacular annual water battle.

Since the events are designed to call public attention to National Fire Prevention Week, which began today, the large turnout was interpreted as a measure of this year's success, said Sherwin M. Birnkrant, chairman of the sponsoring Fire Prevention Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

An additional 5,000 to 6,000 witnessed the Saginaw street parade of fire equipment that preceded the field events, Birnkrant said.

★ ★ ★

Winning one trophy for the best overall performance of the day, Birmingham also won the ladder contest and was barely edged out of first place in the hose contest by Commerce Township in a tie-breaking playoff.

Placing behind Birmingham in the ladder contest were Pontiac Township, Waterford, Oxford, Franklin, Avondale, Clawson and Brooklands.

In the hose contest, third place was won by Pontiac Township, followed by Franklin, Avondale, Oxford, Brookland, Clawson and Waterford.

★ ★ ★

Trophies were donated by Harvey M. Johns, chairman of the safety committee; Pontiac Varnish Co., Shaws Jewelers and Radio Station WPON.

Judges were professional firemen from the Detroit area, including John A. Keefe, retired fire chief from the Detroit Fire Department; Edmund J. deCaussin, retired deputy Detroit chief; Daniel V. Sullivan, retired Detroit battalion chief; William B. Burr, Warren Fire Commissioner; and Sgt. Edgar S. Dinison, of the Harper Woods Fire Department.

Pope Suffers Stroke, Fighting for His Life

consultation Gasabarrini told reporters the case was in the hands of God.

A worldwide plea for prayers for the pontiff's recovery was broadcast by Vatican Radio.

The pontiff's vicar for the City of Rome, Clemente Cardinal Micara, urged priests and Roman Catholics of Rome to gather before the exposed Holy Eucharist in churches of Rome and pray for the Pope.

The Vatican Radio broadcast this medical bulletin of the pontiff's circulatory cerebral stroke:

★ ★ ★

"The Holy Father at 8:30 a.m., after having spent a tranquil night during which the hiccups that have molested him for several days disappeared, was struck by a circulatory cerebral attack whose development now is being followed. Immediate treatment has begun."

★ ★ ★

Then the Vatican Radio asked Catholics to pray to God and the Virgin Mary for restoration of the Pope's health, "which is so precious for the church and the world."

News of the latest illness came in the 19th year of the Pope's reign. It halted all administrative activity of the church at the Vatican.

Vatican sources said death might come swiftly or the condition could continue for a long time. In the event of long incapacity, cardinals of the church stationed in Rome would take over many of the duties. Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the College of Cardinals, was summoned from vacation.

★ ★ ★

The attack came after the Pope had carried on a heavy load of work and daily audiences at this summer residence in the hills outside Rome. The Pope had done this despite the advice of doctors that he rest more. His latest address Sunday to a special audience lasted 20 minutes. Some who attended said they had noted occasional hesitance in his speech, probably caused by the hiccups, but that otherwise he seemed energetic and well.

★ ★ ★

Sunday night, however, the Pope canceled an audience scheduled for today.

Four years ago, when he was finally forced to a long confinement, he insisted as soon as possible upon making brief addresses by radio from his bed. After his recovery from that grave ailment, which brought him close to death, he resumed his burden of work and kept it up until today.

He has been frequently quoted as saying: "If one is Pope, one is Pope," meaning that the work of the head of the Roman Catholic Church must not be interrupted.

The man who was to become known as "the Pope of peace" was born Eugenio Pacelli in Rome March 2, 1876.

Created a cardinal in 1929, he traveled across the United States in 1936. He then was Vatican secretary of state. He was elected Pope March 2, 1939.

Quemoy Supplied as Red Guns Stop

what appeared to be several LSDs and several destroyers and patrol vessels.

By midmorning word of the cease-fire had not seeped down to the troops in the trenches and the civilians doing their chores with an ear cocked toward the sky for the awful sound of incoming shells.

Word had not reached the beach party crews either as they went about their task of unloading supplies, expecting a renewed bombardment at any moment.

Everyone appeared awed by the sudden halting of gunfire. Groups of civilians and soldiers in Quemoy City discussed the strange silence and shook their heads in wonderment. All feared some Communist trick to be followed by a barrage more devastating than ever.

High-ranking Nationalist and American officers met to consider the new situation. American sources said a recommendation would come from the conferences on whether to continue or withdraw American escorts.

An official of the U.S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense command said the final decision would probably be made by the National Security Council in Washington, and would depend upon "basic American interests" with "strong consideration" given to the Nationalist viewpoint.

The fact that the Nationalist convoy arriving at Quemoy early today was accompanied to the three-mile limit off the island by American warships did not mean a decision has been made, it was emphasized here.

Officers said the convoy had been formed and was on its way before Red China's defense minister, Peng Teh-huai, announced that the Red guns were being silenced after 44 days of bombardment.

Peng said the halt was ordered out of "humanitarian considerations" for the 130,000 civilians and troops on the Quemoys, whom he pictured as suffering from hunger and cold.

Nationalist officials said, however, that Peng's statement via Peiping radio was a smokescreen to cover preparations for a big offensive against the Quemoys and possibly even an invasion.

'NEED BREATHING SPELL'

One Nationalist official said the Reds needed a breathing spell to replace supplies and worn gun barrels that have fired 474,907 shells at the small islands since Aug. 23.

Washington officials, however, privately expressed their delight even at the limited and conditional cease-fire. Washington reports said a rejection of Peiping's announcement was out of the question.

These reports pointed out that with a cease-fire the reason for American escorts ceased to exist.

Both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have emphasized the central policy of getting a cease-fire in Formosa Strait and of not bowing to force.

These changes involve amending the 1957 act which created the present DPW, two acts under which the drain commission office operated, and another two establishing lake levels in the county.

The absorption of the drain office under the DPW, if the law changes pass in Lansing, will mark the second elimination of an elected office here.

In June, Carey's committee received the support of supervisors in merging the office of register of deeds with the county clerk. This will become effective Jan. 1. The law permitting this merger is already on the books.

★ ★ ★

Carey emphasized that both modernization changes will tend to streamline the county operations, save money in some cases, and, in both cases, provide more efficiency of operation.

Roseville Ex-Officials Face Trial Tomorrow

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)— The bribery trial of two former Roseville officials opens tomorrow.

Former village president Glen H. Alsip and former commissioner John H. Flanigan, both are charged with accepting $1,000 from a sewer contractor.

The Macomb County one-man grand jury indicted Alsip and Flanigan on extortion and bribery charges in 1957. The extortion charges have been dropped. Alsip and Flanigan were defeated for re-election this year.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission to Consider Renaming Randall Court

BIRMINGHAM — Randall Court apparently is destined to remain Randall Court.

In his prepared report for the City Commission meeting tonight, City Manager L. R. Gare states there is strong opposition to the proposal asking the street's name be changed to Lakeside.

The change was suggested when special assessment districts were being created, and it was pointed out that Randall Court is a short section in the middle of Lakeside drive. Dropping Randall Court would make Lakeside a continuous street.

Particularly objecting to the change is Richard L. Campbell of 839 Randall Court. He is being supported by a neighbor, Frederick F. Holt of 879 Randall Court.

Post office and utility companies have offered no objection, Gare said. He added, however, that residents would have to change house numbers as well as street names if the renaming took place. Gare said he felt Campbell's objections were reasonable, and suggested an additional street sign at the Baldwin street intersection, indicating Lakeside drive as well as Randall Court.

Commissioners also will consider the off-street parking problem of the Birmingham House Motel, which will be built at the corner of Hunter boulevard and Maple avenue. A denial of use of the Hunter right-of-way for parking makes it impossible for the motel to provide required space.

Asher N. Tilchin, one of the builders, is requesting permission to construct four parking places on the city-owned Maple right-of-way for the needed 60-car area.

Valuation of construction in Birmingham, dropped $100,000, although there were 10 more permits issued in September than the previous month. The report of Andrew F. Butt, building inspector, shows a total of 46 permits for the construction or alteration of buildings amounting to $394,110.

Permits were issued for four new single family dwellings, 40-unit multiple dwellings and a number of private garages.

Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts in the Birmingham area are busy this week with their annual calendar sale. Depicting Scouting activities throughout the year, the calendars are a fund-raising project for the development and maintenance of campsites.

NEVIN J. JAMIESON

Service for Nevin J. Jamieson, 66, of 1140 Hillside Dr., Birmingham, will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Westminster Presbyterian Church, Detroit. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery, Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

The body is at Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co.

A native of Scotland, Mr. Jamieson was sales manager and treasurer for Robertson Brothers Co., Royal Oak. He was a member of Palestine Lodge 357, F & A M, and Valley of Detroit, Scottish Rite Bodies.

Surviving are his wife, Margaret K.; a daughter, Mrs. Robert W. Riebel of Royal Oak; two sons, Nevin J. Jr., of Buffalo, N. Y.; and Richard K. of Birmingham; four grandchildren and one brother.

Weary Men Control California Fires

MONROVIA, Calif. (UPI) — Fire fighters expected to bring under control today the last of a series of disastrous brush fires which have killed one man, destroyed eight homes and an estimated 40 mountain cabins and blackened thousands of acres of Southern California foothills.

★ ★ ★

High humidity and cooler temperatures were forecast for today as some 1,000 weary men fought to control a 12,000-acre blaze in the foothills east of here. The fire was started last Thursday by two small boys playing with matches. It has been the most stubborn and most costly of a series of fires which broke out in the heat-baked brushlands.

Rooter for Braves

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gov. Averell Harriman bemoaned the fate of the Yankees at the World Series game yesterday, but his companion, Maine's Gov. Edmund S. Muskie, just grinned. "You must bear in mind," said Muskie, "that the Braves have a New England background."

Osteopathic Group in State Convenes

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The 60th annual convention of the Michigan Assn. of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons moves into general sessions today in Grand Rapids.

More than 1,000 members are expected for the three-day event.

Dr. Fred S. Leeder, director of the State Department of Health's disease control division, addressed the group's administrative board yesterday on problems in the Salk polio vaccine program.

He told the association's house of delegates that refusal of Michigan parents to immunize preschool children, plus the apparent failure of family physicians to protect these children, have contributed to a high percentage of polio victims under the age of five.

Awards Huge Contract

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit District Army Corps of Engineers recently awarded a $1,173,000 joint contract to Gilliland Construction Co. of Alpena, and B. H. Sargent Inc. of West Branch, for construction of water sewage facilities at Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda.

Bagwell to Vie With Williams

Detroit Economic Club Will Hear Both Speak at Today's Meeting

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. Williams and his Republican opponent, Paul D. Bagwell, were to come face-to-face again today for a session of speech-making.

The two gubernatorial nominees each planned to deliver 15-minute speeches before the Economic Club of Detroit and then answer questions from the audience.

The subject of their speeches: "What Are the Determining Issues in the Next November Election?"

Both candidates put their campaigning temporarily in mothballs Sunday. Williams spent the day visiting his wife, Nancy, at a Lansing hospital. She has been ill with a virus infection of the nerves for several weeks but is reported to be recovering.

Bagwell said Saturday night he will, if elected, press for a strong and fair labor relations law that includes a guaranteed secret ballot for all union members.

★ ★ ★

The GOP hopeful said thousands of workers have been outraged by expenditure of dues money by union officials for political purposes in which workers have no voice. Bagwell said he has no complaint against the dues payers themselves, only with the bosses.

The two candidates debated recently before the Michigan Municipal League.

Bird Hurt in Auto Crash Lands in Plant Hospital

DETROIT (AP)—A sparrow in flight collided with Lawrence Lilley's car near the Dodge truck plant—and wound up as a plant hospital patient.

Lilley, a hospital nurse, took the injured bird inside, gave it spirits of ammonia and an infra-red lamp treatment and fixed up a splint for its broken left leg.

He expects to let the sparrow fly away in a day or so.

Deaf Mute Drowns Caught in Rapids

SENORA, Calif. (AP) — A 23-year-old Richmond, Calif., girl on a rubber raft drowned silently in rapids on the Tuolumne River Sunday.

She was a deaf mute, Esther P. Chavez, on a camping trip with three men students of the State School of Deaf at Berkeley.

Her companions told officers through notes that Miss Chavez paddled into the river on a rubber raft while fishing. One of the party, John Smith of Oakland, saw her drifting toward rapids and signed to her to come back to shore. She signed back she thought she could hang on to the raft. Then she was torn loose from the raft in the rapids.

Six New Polio Cases

DETROIT (AP)—Six more polio cases were reported in Detroit over the weekend, boosting the city's total polio caseload for the year to 529 and 16 deaths. Three of the new cases were paralytic. At this time last year, Detroit had 170 cases and two deaths.

$60,000 Fleet Coverage to Be Awarded Tonight at Board Meeting

The Waterford Township Board will award a contract for fleet insurance vehicle policies covering some $60,000 worth of township-owned equipment, when it meets at 7:30 tonight.

Eight bids were opened at last weeks' meeting and referred to the township attorney and clerk James Seeterlin for study and recommendation.

In other business ,the board will consider a request for final approval of Highland Estates Plat 5. Action on the new 120-lot plat had been held up for street-outlet improvements.

A hearing date for the blacktopping of Marion avenue near Elizabeth Lake road will be set, and a zoning change will be considered.

Action on a request to change from recreation district to commercial property on the northwest corner of Clintonville road and Walton boulevard, for the construction of a gasoline station, is expected, according to Seeterlin.

Owners of Manny's Show Bar at Highland and Elizabeth Lake roads, wish to transfer their liquor license to Marcey, Inc., and Mr. and Mrs. Theophil J. Dobski want the license of owners of Rudy's Bar at 7960 Cooley Lake Rd. transferred to their names for ownership.

An application for fireworks to be displayed Oct. 10 from the Waterford Township High School, also will be considered.

Brighton Boy Victim of Target Practice

A Brighton youth was reported in good condition this morning at Pontiac General Hospital after being accidentally shot by two youths yesterday afternoon at Lower Pettibone Lake.

Michael Helms, 14, of 515 Church St., was wounded in the back at 4:55 p.m. yesterday as two Redford Township boys fired at a tire in the lake for target practice, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies reports.

The two who were shooting told sheriff's deputies they were unaware there was anyone in the area. They are Tom Flanick, 16, of 19209 Denby St., and Roger Hendrickson, 15, of 19360 MacArthur St.

The pair told deputies they stopped shooting when they heard screams across the lake.

Michael was picking grapes with his mother, Dorothy Walters, of 515 Church St., Brighton, when he was hit.

Hunting Accidents Injure 2 From City

Two Pontiac residents were among the accident victims in the first Michigan weekend of hunting for small game, birds and waterfowl.

James L. Stoglin, 19, of 700 Joslyn St., was shot in Iosco County by an unknown hunter. He was treated at an East Tawas hospital for wounds in the head, legs and arms, and released.

John L. Potter, 60 East Blvd. South, was shot in the face, chest and arms by birdshot from a 12-gauge shotgun fired by his son while they were hunting in Butterfield Township, Missaukee County.

2 Youths Plead Guilty to Waterford Hunting

The first offenders arrested for hunting with firearms in Waterford Township since the new law prohibiting hunting went into effect, pleaded guilty in Justice of the Peace Patrick Daly's court yesterday.

Kenneth E. Brand 18, of 1250 Meadowlawn Ave., Waterford Township and David A. Knight 17, of 220 W. Columbia St., Pontiac paid $10 costs. The boys claimed ignorance of the law, Daly said.

★ ★ ★

Waterford Township police found three mallard ducks in the bottom of the boy's aluminum boat, which had been launched from the public fishing site on the east side of Loon Lake.

Several hunters have been warned about the no hunting ordinance in the township, after complaints had been made by area residents.

Atomic Peril for Girls

ALDEBURGH, England (UPI) — Harry Tuyn asked the government to call off plans to build an atomic power station in the neighborhood because he's "frightened." Tuyn said it wasn't the atoms he was scared of, however, but the number of imported workmen needed to build the plant. He's head of an exclusive finishing school for girls.

Britons Gloating Today With Their Comet

Pan Am Jet 707 May Get the Last Laugh

By CHARLES CORDDRY

LONDON (UPI)—Britons gloated over their headline-grabbing, transatlantic jet victory today, but many feared her Majesty's rule of the jetlanes was only temporary.

★ ★ ★

For three more weeks, British Overseas Airways Corp.'s sleek jet Comets, which inaugurated transatlantic jet service last Saturday, will enjoy the privilege of being the only passenger planes flying at the 35,000-foot jet altitudes.

But on Oct. 26, Pan American World Airways will leap into the Atlantic market with its bigger and faster Boeing "707" jet Clippers, and the race may be over.

The conservative Daily Telegraph attempted to soften the blow for its readers when it warned that "civil aviation is not a sport" but a business and that Pan American may "have the last laugh."

★ ★ ★

The Telegraph said the relatively small Comet was not designed for the Atlantic run on which it carries just 48 passengers compared with more than twice that many for the "707."

It also pointed out that BOAC has ordered 15 of the American planes, which will begin arriving late next year.

The winner in this new air race will be the passengers. To this reporter, after flying in the ill-fated Comet of four years ago, the American "707" and the new Comet's record-setting hop Saturday, the jet is not just another advance in air travel. It is a wholly new mode of transport.

The jet comes close to doubling the speed of today's conventional aircraft. After a jet flight, you are scarcely more tired than when you started.

There is none of the vibration from piston engines which wears you down and makes you crave sleep after long conventional aircraft flights.

Most important to many, the jet takes you above most effects of the weather. The Oct. 4 Comet flight, which made the transatlantic run in 6 hours and 12 minutes reached 33,000 feet by the time it was over Nantucket Island, a half hour from New York.

Breaks Undersea Record

ABOARD SKYLARK at Sea (via radiophone) (UPI) — The atomic submarine USS Seawolf came up from the depths of the Atlantic Ocean today (at 10:45 a.m.) after being submerged for exactly 60 days.

The 118 crewmen of the Seawolf had their first look at sunlight in 60 days.

The Seawolf breaks a record set last May by her sister atomic ship, Skate, which submerged 31 days, 5½ hours.

Two Michigan men on the Seawolf are:

Arnold W. Toivonen, commissaryman, first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor A. Toivonen of Republic, in Marquette County.

Philip D. Trowbridge, torpedoman's mate first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Trowbridge of 1340 Bishop Ave., Grosse Pointe.

SKYLARK STANDS BY

The submarine rescue vessel Skylark, of New London, Conn., home base of the nuclear undersea fleet flagship, stood by as the Seawolf came into view in a mighty upheaval of foaming sea.

★ ★ ★

As soon as she leveled off, the deck hatches opened and Cmdr. Richard B. Laning of Amherst, Va., its skipper, took his place on the bridge.

A blinker signal on the Skylark messaged a coded welcome to the 3,260-ton sub, its 11 officers and approximately 89 crewmen who got their first breath of outer air since leaving New London Aug. 7.

Capt. Laning set a course for home, where families and friends, Navy and civic dignitaries waited at state pier to give them a rousing greeting and to whisk them off to a 90-car parade and a reception afterwards at Mohegan Hotel.

★ ★ ★

The Seawolf's exploit may help to answer such questions as: Can man endure such an extended period without contact with the atmosphere? How long would he do so? Is it practical for a submarine to act as a semipermanent underwater missile-launching station? What problems remain to be solved?

Restaurant in Area Destroyed by Blaze

Only the charred ruins and frame remained this morning of the Normandy Restaurant, 24381 Woodward Ave. at the corner of 10-Mile road in Pleasant Ridge.

The two-alarm blaze, which started around 3 a.m. this morning, caused an estimated $75,000 to $100,000 damages, leaving the building a complete loss, according to Ferndale Fire Chief William McMurray.

The cause was still undetermined this morning, he said.

No one was reported in the restaurant at the time the fire broke out, and no one was injured.

Care Enough to Give Enough

Slightly over 4,000 volunteers have pledged their services to work for the Pontiac Area United Fund starting October 21. This group comprises the backbone of the drive since they will be handling the door to door soliciting.

★ ★ ★

Without the help of these generous men and women it would be next to impossible to cover the wide territory encompassed by our United Fund.

These workers, largely housewives and businessmen, feel the need to help support the 55 charities which receive funds from the United Fund. They are taking time off from their regular household or business duties to assist in this once-a-year fund raising campaign.

★ ★ ★

This unheralded army of workers does not receive the praise and publicity that generally goes with a successful campaign. Their only compensation is in knowing that they had a part in helping to put the drive across.

Without this volunteer group of workers the drive would be stymied.

★ ★ ★

Before very long one of these solicitors will be calling on you. They do not fall in the category of an ordinary peddler; on the contrary, they are one of your neighbors asking for a pledge to support the Area United Fund.

★ ★ ★

With general business conditions somewhat off from a year ago and unemployment greater, this year's needs are increased over a year ago.

THE DRIVE NEEDS YOUR HELP.

★ ★ ★

Make the job of the solicitors easy and do your part.

IF MONEY won't buy happiness, as the saying goes, at least it buys many things that deceive a number of people into believing they're happy.

Days Are Not So Melancholy

The bard who called October days the "melancholy days" never lived in the Pontiac area or he would have penned otherwise.

He probably lived and drew his conclusions in a large city where the only difference between the seasons is a matter of temperature.

★ ★ ★

For out here in God's country October is one of the finest months of the year. There's absolutely nothing melancholic about it.

It marks the fruition of the year. It is the checking up point.

Now we take stock and render the final inventory on what nature has done for us, and on what we've done for ourselves.

★ ★ ★

And we must frankly admit that if there were any shortcomings they were not on nature's side. We usually are the culprits.

The crisp, snappy, brisk and bracing air is a relief after the summer heat. We should avail ourselves of its impetus.

★ ★ ★

The frost on the pumpkin may stop the pumpkin's growth, but it should add an exhilaration to us that should make us tingle all over.

Nature gives us its colorful foliage extravaganza in October. Has any other month anything to match it?

It marks the summation of the verdant green which heralded spring's approach, and lays the foundation for that inevitable approach again.

★ ★ ★

In poetry June has rare days. In reality October has them. They're now with us and ready to embrace you if you'll give them the chance.

★ ★ ★

Anyway, in spite of the product he eulogized, the poet who wrote about "Brown October Ale" had a better understanding and appreciation of the situation than the cynic who critized October with his couplet: "The melancholy days are here, the saddest of the year; when it's a little too hot for whisky and a little too cold for beer."

This Was a Real Upset

When Michigan and Michigan State played a tie, 12-12, game Saturday, 2,611 entries in our football contest were eliminated, being 2,161 who predicted State would win and 450 who favored Michigan.

This leaves only 45 of the original 4,032 contestants still in the running, being those who predicted a tie. On next Saturday's game they predict: Purdue, 21; Wisconsin, 22; tie, 2.

Next in my line of approaching centenarians is

"And Above All — A Stiff Upper Lip"

David Lawrence Says:

Politics Undermine U.S. Security

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has challenged the leaders of the Democratic Party to tell the nation whether they favor appeasement and surrender to the Communists. He has, in effect, asked them to speak out and say whether they really believe the United States is going to be deserted by its allies, and hence faces military defeat if it stands up for its principles.

LAWRENCE

The President's views were expressed in a letter to Senator Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island, the sturdy 91-year-old chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who holds his post by reason of his seniority of service and the Democratic Party's control of Congress.

★ ★ ★

The issue before the American people in the November elections is whether Democrats or Republicans shall control the Congress and the selection of committee chairmen.

If the Democrats retain control, will the Communists take this as a signal that the American people repudiate the position taken by the President in the Far East and endorse the defeatist and surrender ideas which the administration attributes to the chief Democratic spokesman on foreign policy in the United States Senate?

The President points specifically to Senator Green's statement that, if the United States should become engaged in hostilities, there would not be "that support of the American people essential to successful military action."

This is an extraordinary statement for the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to make in the middle of an international crisis.

★ ★ ★

"You say," wrote the President to Senator Green, "that in the event of hostilities we would be without allies 'in fact or in heart.' . . . Not only do I believe that our friends and allies would support the United States if hostilities should tragically, and against our will, be forced upon us, but I believe that most of them would be appalled if the United States were spinelessly to retreat before the threat of Sino-Soviet armed aggression. . . .

"I deeply deplore the effect upon hostile forces of a statement that if we became engaged in battle, the United States would be defeated because of disunity at home.

"If that were believed, it would embolden our enemies and make almost inevitable the conflict which, I am sure, we both seek to avoid provided it can be avoided consistently with the honor and security of our country."

Senator Green's letter was couched in polite phrases. He didn't give out the full text of his communication originally, but extracts from it appeared nevertheless in the press and were seized upon by the Communist radio stations throughout the world as proof of American disunity.

What is at the bottom of this episode? Politics — petty partisanship — and the temptation to make an issue out of the war talk in the newspaper headlines. It was too much for some of the politicians to resist.

While former President Truman by his statements has been supporting Eisenhower's policy in the Far East, various Democrats in Congress have been assiduously cultivating the impression by their public statements that the President is trying to drag the nation into war because of a couple of unimportant islands off the coast of Red China.

The Democratic leaders in Congress know better, because the resolution passed in 1955 by both Houses with the overwhelming support of the two political parties specifically gave the President the right to use American military forces to defend Formosa and to protect the offshore islands only if they were likely to be used as a base in an attack on Formosa itself.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent.—John 17:3.

Let a disciple live as Christ lived, and he will easily believe in living again as Christ does. — William Mountford.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Major Evil of Smoking Lies in Carbon Monoxide

Since we do not know the nature or cause of cancer, it seems to me that a lot of talent, time and money is being wasted in the controversy carried on by so-called scientific investigators concerning cigarette smoking the relation of to cancer of the lung.

DR. BRADY

Until a specific cause of cancer is identified — if there is such a cause, or if cancer is a specific disease — it is bootless to expect a positive answer to the question. The best answer in any instance, I think, is the opinion of a physician who is apprised of the instant circumstances.

Indeed, medical authorities are of various complexions concerning the effects of smoking upon the heart, arteries, blood pressure, mental efficiency, digestion and the wind. About the wind, especially "second wind," most authorities agree that one with any athletic ambition cannot smoke and still succeed against competition.

In my opinion, excessive smoking almost invariably impairs health. In my opinion, any smoking at all is excessive before the age of full growth and development (22 to 25 years). The ill effects manifest themselves in one or more of the ways already suggested.

In my opinion the ill effects of smoking are due mainly to the carbon monoxide in tobacco smoke. I believe none of the bad effects is due to nicotine — for the simple reason that the nicotine in tobacco is destroyed by combustion.

There is little scientific evidence that moderate or temperate smoking does a full-grown person any harm.

Excessive smoking, like crapulous smoking (swinish, gluttonish, careless or gross), comes easier to the cigarette smoker—such as the one who smokes before a meal or in the course of a meal; or one who hangs a cigarette on his lip on any and all occasions; or one who lights a cigarette without caring or asking whether smoking may be offensive to non-smokers nearby; or the one who smokes while pretending to be at work.

Most disgusting is the character who brings her nightclub manners into the home, strews ashes and stubs in her wake, burns the furniture and napery and tries to conceal the damage until she can make her get-away. This one makes a production of lighting a cigarette, as they do in the movies, to conceal from the other morons the fact that she is one.

What I have already said about full-grown persons smoking moderately or temperately applies to women as well as to men.

Moderately or temperately means with self-control and self-control implies character. In other words the moderate or temperate smoker has the habit. If character is weak, self-control and discipline undeveloped, the habit has the smoker. After all, excessive indulgence in anything usually indicates mental deficiency or lack of character, doesn't it?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Teenagers Want Revival of Dragstrip Enthusiasm

We're members of a local hot rod club and would like to know why Chief Straley will not sanction clubs of this sort but will contribute to the parole of some convict who could prove to be a menace to the city and an expense to the government?

We also would like to know what happened to the funds that were raised through the dances held last year at PCH to go towards a dragstrip which is so badly needed in Pontiac? And why was the matter of the dragstrip dropped like a hot potato after the dances were held?

★ ★ ★

Come on, Pontiac, let's keep this idea of a strip alive and help make it a reality instead of a distant dream.

I disagree with The Pontiac Press editorial on George Higgins. If he wants to become a Democrat, that's his own personal business. Who says he can't? It simply goes to show he has finally seen the light and is backing the party he should have been with all the time.

It Might Work, but Is It Legal?

Why don't they just schedule those Hollywood people like they do big league baseball teams? Then there wouldn't be so much talk and unnecessary confusion. Actress "A" could know that she'd live with John in 1959, Edward in 1960, Lemmy in 1961, etc. Then there'd be no hard feelings.

Chides Workers Who Vetoed Raise

For the decent GM employes, my sympathy is sincere. For the birdbrains who bellowed in protest against teachers getting a raise, I have no feeling whatsoever.

★ ★ ★

Teachers were trying to get a cost of living increase mainly. Mr. Birdbrain and his friends who wrote to The Press crying about it likely received automatic cost of living increases each quarter as prices went up. Teachers' salaries are fixed in July each year, and they're the same as they were in July 1957. Cost of living has increased over three per cent since then.

★ ★ ★

Don't look for too many teachers on a 1957 salary to buy 1959 priced products. The income lost to GM families during the strike might very well have paid their school taxes for a year. To those people who know the value of good teachers, I hope you're back to work in a very short time. To Mr. Birdbrain and followers, I wish you full stomachs and pleasant dreams even if the strike lasts six months. You guessed wrong, Mr. Birdbrain; I'm not a teacher.

By JAMES J. METCALFE

This letter I am writing, dear . . . To you from overseas . . . Is just a repetition of . . . Our happy memories . . . You know them all— as well as I . . . So they are nothing new . . . And yet I want to dwell on them . . . As I am writing you . . . Because when I get home and I . . . Take off my uniform . . . Those memories will be our wall . . . Against the wildest storm . . . They are the basic structure of . . . The life we vowed to share . . . And any time that we have lost . . . Will vanish into air . . . We shall pick up where we left off . . . And happily go on . . . In love and dreams that lead us to . . . An ever brighter dawn.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Child's Compliment Eases Shock

Lest you might someday lose a child by death, be sure to read this case carefully. It has buoyed up my spirit many times to remember this conversation with George, when he was nine years old. If you parents get to feuding, re-read this case, for it will then offer you better perspective.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z - 337: George was our oldest son, who crashed in a jet plane a couple of years ago.

★ ★ ★

But when he was nine years of age, he interrupted my typing one day a few weeks before Christmas.

DR. CRANE

"Do you know why I've been good this week?" he asked.

"Santa Claus is coming to town," I sang the familiar refrain.

"No, that's not it," he replied, "but I thought that's what you'd say."

★ ★ ★

"Then I don't believe I can guess," I answered.

"Well, it's because of my visit to Bill's house last Saturday," he continued.

"Their sister wanted to go down town and her parents wouldn't even give her money for car fare.

"Besides, their father is grouchy. Oh, I don't mean like you," he tactfully added. "He is VERY grouchy.

"And I heard him swear and say some mean things to his wife.

★ ★ ★

"They're not like you and mama. I had never been in a house like that before. So I was glad to come home and get away from it. And that's why I've decided to be good," he added, with the artlessness that is so refreshing in children.

HOME COMPLIMENTS

Well, you can realize that this compliment was very much appreciated on my part.

And now as I look backward, knowing that he was snatched from this earth in the jet plane crash, I am doubly happy about that compliment.

Even though I would grow irritable when I was under the pressure of newspaper or radio deadlines, the children realized that those moments were not my typical behavior.

★ ★ ★

Judy, however, would take great delight when she was four years old, in chanting, "My Daddy's an old grouch! My Daddy's an old grouch!"

Part of the reason for that accusation was to tease me into chasing her around the house.

But I'll confess that there were many times when my frowns and irritable tones made me vulnerable to her charge.

But I always have made it a rule to apologize, at least before bedtime, so the kids could go to sleep realizing that peace pervaded the Crane domicile. And that's a good rule for all fathers to adopt.

BE AFFECTIONATE

A few mornings after George's comment concerning the profanity and ill will in his pal's home, I strode into the kitchen to tell Mrs. Crane goodbye.

★ ★ ★

I took her in my arms and was just starting to give her a mansize kiss instead of a dutiful peck on the cheek, when George came into the room.

"Break it up! Break it up!" he said with a grin.

But you can see that he appreciated realizing my fondness for his mother, as his earlier remarks bear witness.

It helped stabilize him emotionally, as it does all children. For we parents should show affection to our mates, as well as to the children themselves, to help reassure them.

★ ★ ★

Children can tolerate occasional quarrels between their parents if they see the latter make up and know that basically there is a deep, abiding love between Daddy and Mother.

Millions of children, however, are fearful lest a divorce break up their home, so please send for my 20-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

If you get a good batting average thereon, it will cushion the shock when you lose a youngster by death, as we did.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

New Sidewalks to Be Weighed

Waterford Safety Unit Meets 8 o'Clock Tonight in High School

Several specific plans to improve walking facilities for Waterford Township school children, will be presented when the Waterford Township Safety Committee meets at 8 p.m. tonight at the high school.

Cement sidewalks for some areas, township-constru ted gravel paths and promoting standard safety methods for all schools by training Safety Patrol guards, will be discussed, according to acting chairman Edward Chase.

A new slate of Safety Committee officers, which is made up of representatives from the 20 schools Parent - Teacher - Assn., will be elected at the Monday meeting.

Chairmen from each school present their individual problems for study by the committee, who try to work out sensible answers. Chase explained that this has helped to eliminate some of the headaches of the Board of Education and the Township board.

Petitions for construction of a cement sidewalk, one block long, up over a hill on the south side of Maceday drive, have been filed by residents of the McVittie School area, and are now waiting Township Board action.

This plan, which is one of the first to be tried, would not raise township taxes, but would involve assessment of property owners where the sidewalk is installed.

The project will be studied at the Monday meeting, in anticipation of establishing special assessment districts in other areas, Chase concluded.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Daniel R. Danielson of 200 Cedardale St., Bloomfield Township, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav W. Johanson of Follinge, Sweden.

The bridegroom, of 1331 Williams Lake Rd., White Lake Township, is the son of Mrs. Johannes Grefstad of Oslo, Norway, and the late Mr. Grefstad.

For her wedding, the new Mrs. Grefstad chose a gown of tissue Dupioni with a fitted bodice and Sabrina neckline trimmed with Alencon lace. Her long sleeves tapered to a point over the wrist and the bouffant skirt ended in a chapel sweep.

Her fingertip veil was secured by a pillbox cap trimmed with pearls and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered by a red sweetheart rose.

Cause of Farm Fire Remains Unknown

BRUCE TOWNSHIP — Cause of a $50,000 fire early Saturday on the W. K. Bristol farm on Boardman road near Almont was still undetermined today, according to Romeo Fire Chief Walter Werth.

The blaze, which destroyed a fruit storage building and equipment, valued at more than $50,000 was fought for nine hours by volunteers from the Romeo and Almont fire departments before being brought under control.

★ ★ ★

One section of the building contained living quarters for seven West Indian workers. One of them Naldon Carmichael, smelled smoke, saw the flames burning through the roof and woke the others. All escaped unhurt.

Among the items lost were 8,000 bushels of apples, a $10,000 refrigeration unit, two apple graders and other tools.

During the growing and harvesting season in the United States the number of hired seasonal workers increasse by 700,000 or more each year. In 1957 more than 300,000 teen-age boys and girls found summer work in agriculture about 6,400 of them living on farms all summer.

Unload First Nike Missiles at Formosa; More Follow

KEELUNG, Formosa (AP)—America's deadly Nike missile was unloaded quietly onto the docks of Keelung today to guard Nationalist China against Communist air attack.

Components for 34 of the big five-ton supersonic ground-to-air plane killers came off the transport Wyoming in metal tank containers and boxes under close watch of Chinese security guards.

The missile bodies, huge high-explosive warheads, solid-fuel rocket boosters, nose cones and launchers were loaded onto waiting trucks and immediately started rolling toward an inland staging area.

★ ★ ★

They are to be picked up later this week by the four batteries of the first Nike-Hercules battalion in the Far East, the 2nd Missile Battalion of the 71st Artillery Regiment, arriving here Wednesday aboard the USS Breckinridge.

The Breckinridge also is bringing 34 of the missiles and sufficient additional equipment to give the battalion everything it needs to set up and take over a major role in guarding Formosa against Red air attack.

Only conventional, non-atomic warheads could be seen on the tremendous fragmentation effect docks. They are said to have a that can blast entire formations of enemy planes out of the sky.

The battalion will be equipped to man 48 missiles at one time—12 by each of the batteries—at launching sites that have been rushed toward completion during the past month.

"They'll be ready for the battalion when it arrives," said 1st Lt. Russell White, Ridgway, Ill., a technical adviser from the battalion sent ahead to supervise unloading.

"It's a real sweet weapon," he said. "I've fired it in the States. It's even better than we've said it is. We're real proud of it."

How soon the missile battalion will be operational has not been disclosed.

Antihistamines Get GI Drunk

Japan Given Right to Pick Fate in Shooting of Cab Driver

TOKYO (AP)—The U.S. Army announced that a GI got drunk on antihistamine tablets today, robbed an airman of $10 and his Japanese girl friend and then shot and seriously wounded a Japanese taxi driver.

The Army said the shooting was apparently accidental and that the soldier, Pfc. Anthony W. Bracato, 21, Baltimore, Md., has been in the equivalent of a drunken stupor due to having taken two boxes of antihistamine capsules.

★ ★ ★

"The facts as presently reported indicate that the case will fall within Japanese jurisdiction," the Army said, meaning the Japanese authorities will decide whether Bracato is to be charged and that a Japanese court will try him if he is.

The Army gave this account of the incident:

Bracato, assigned to the Army's logistical depot at Tokorozawa, apparently took two boxes of the drug, then drove from the depot to the Tokorozawa railroad station. There he abandoned his car and took a cab to nearby Yokota City.

★ ★ ★

At Yokota, he picked up an unidentified airman and the airman's Japanese girl friend and drove back toward Tokorozawa in the cab. En route he pulled a .45 automatic pistol, robbed the airman of $10 and pushed him out of the car.

"Upon returning to the area of the railroad station," the Army report continued, "he again flourished the pistol and, according to the testimony of the Japanese girl, it was accidentally discharged, the shot penetrating the back of the cab driver, piercing a lung and coming out of his chest."

★ ★ ★

Military police, who arrived when Bracato and the girl sought assistance, talked him into surrendering his weapon. He was taken in custody to Johnson Air Force Base hospital, near Tokorozawa, and his stomach was pumped out. U.S. military and Japanese police began an investigation.

Officers said the boy's brother, Bobbie, 14, reported he had loaded the gun and was sighting it inside the house when David walked in front of him and the weapon discharged.

Most of the country can look for temperatures in October to average below seasonal normals, except for near to slightly above normla in New England and along the south Atlantic coast. Above normal is predicted for West Coast states and near normal in mountain areas.

Rainfall for the period is expected to exceed normal over the eastern third of the nation and also in the Gulf states. Subnormal amounts are predicted west of the Continental Divide and in the northern plains. Elsewhere, as in Michigan, near normal precipitation is in prospect.

Imperial Boosts Power, Increases Inside Space

DETROIT — More room for passengers and a new, more powerful engine with traditional outstanding fuel economy: That's the news about the 1959 Imperial which will be displayed by dealers beginning Friday, Oct. 24, according to C. E. Briggs, vice president of Chrysler Corporation and general manager of the Chrysler and Imperial Division.

★ ★ ★

The 1959 model is the first to be built in the corporation's new Imperial plant. Briggs said the new plant marks a further step in setting the Imperial apart from other cars.

"The Imperial has been completely different in sculpture and engineering since 1957," he said.

"Now it has a home of its own where men with specialized skills are giving their attention to it exclusively.

New and optional features include: A stainless steel roof creation for hardtop models, swivel front seats for convenience in entering or leaving the car, rear air suspension for maintaining level chassis under all load conditions, rear view mirror that electronically adjusts itself to avoid headlight glare, new push-button controlled heater-air conditioning unit, electronically controlled headlight beam changer.

★ ★ ★

Briggs said new Imperial standard features include new super enamel paint finishes which require no polishing up to three years, newly designed instrument panel, and new stronger body frame using heavier gauge steel.

★ ★ ★

More room and greater riding comfort for 1959 Imperial passengers has been provided by a new frame, a lower floor and greater seat height in both front and rear.

Imperial has a new 350-horsepower engine for 1959, weighing approximately 100 pounds less than the Imperial version of the Firepower engine it replaces.

In 1959 the Custom Imperial series is offered in a four-door sedan, two-door and four-door hardtop. The Imperial-Crown series is available in a four-door sedan, two-door and four-door hardtop, and convertible coupe. The Imperial LeBaron series offers a four-door sedan and a four-door hardtop.

Shortage of Holes Puts A-Test in Air

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) —A shortage of holes forced the Atomic Energy Commission to take to the air with one of its fighter safety tests.

The AEC conducts periodic experiments to find out if atomic weapons can be detonated accidentally. All of the current series of 500-foot shafts had been planned for the bottom But when the number of tests was increased, a shortage of holes developed. So at 6:10 a. m. Sunday the AEC made its first such test from a balloon tethered 400 feet over Yucca Flat.

About two hours later another test was conducted at the bottom of a shaft. Fallout from both was negligible, the AEC said.

Negroes Attend Service at White Church in South

MEMPHIS (AP)—Two unidentified Negroes, a middle aged woman and a boy, attended morning worship services at a white chirch here Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The pair entered the Evergreen Presbyterian church shortly after services began and left during the closing benediction. Three church mmbers reportedly walked out when the Negroes were seated by ushers.

"They were treated courteously by the ushers," said Dr. W. J. Millard, pastor. "The Church Session, or governing body, had instructed them to seat whoever came in."

★ ★ ★

Millard said the Church Session adopted a policy of seating Negroes three years ago. Sunday was the first time Negroes came to a service.

Jim Garner Ingratiatingly Cynical, Frank

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Jim Garner, known all too well to Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen as "Bret Maverick," is not only a competition-killer and a lady-killer. He also is reputed to be a reformed ne'er do well, a rejuvenated Huck Finn, a former bum.

"Sweetheart," he said, chewing amiably on a straw out of his orange juice, "they've got that all wrong. I was lazy, yes, but always a lovable American boy through it all.

"I was a beatnik before they had the name. And you know what beatniks are? I feel they are the most aimless, immature people in the world — creating nothing, existing, doing nothing for the sake of doing nothing— the biggest conformists in the world because they've banded together to be non-conformists."

Garner grinned and explained cooly that this is the way he was for 25 years before he discovered acting. He quit school because he wasn't interested. Lost jobs, because he couldn't care less about them. "But I never made a wrong move in my life. Oh, granted I shouldn't have robbed those banks, but what the h - - -."

★ ★ ★

The enormously handsome actor is also suspected of being bitter. Not true.

He is merely ingratiatingly cynical and frank. He admits that when he sits down for an interview, like this one, Warner Brothers' executives and press agents chew their knuckles, and he has a ball. "I say anything I want to," he said, "and what would you like to know?"

I'd always wanted to know how a "frank" man feels about having his story unfolded before his astounded eyes on "This Is Your Life." It happened to Garner a few weeks ago.

"It made me angry to start with," he said. "I don't know anybody who wants their life put on in front of 20 million people, especially if you haven't any idea what, and who, they're going to bring out of it. Let's face it, there are some doubts . . ."

Garner's story, stickied up considerably by the Ralph Edwards' forces, is short. He's 30. Born in Norman, Okla., he was a schoolboy from the age of five, when his mother died, till the age of 16, when he joined the Merchant Marine as an able-bodied seaman. Later, he was the first Oklahoma draftee called to the Korean War, where he received the purple heart.

★ ★ ★

Graduated from the Army, he took on a few restless jobs until director Paul Gregory hired him as an understudy in the Broadway production of "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial." The late John Hodiak, whom he was understudying, told him he should go to Hollywood—he was too much an introvert to project on the stage.

So inevitably he signed the old long-term contract with Warner's —a contract which still has five years to go, and the financial arrangements of which Jim describes as "far below what everybody thinks."

He denies being bitter about the fact that, now a big star, he has a relatively small salary. All he says of the contract is, "If it was right now, I wouldn't sign it."

Then he shrugs, admits without the contract he might not be a TV star, and acknowledges that the reason he is in this predicament is that "I'm not even too good an actor—much less a businessman."

Meantime, he works six days a week while his beautiful wife and two children wait at home by the swimming pool. ("Sure, we have a swimming pool—we live in a building that has 20 apartments, one pool.") The show he works on, ABC's "Maverick," brings him pride as well as problems. He calls it, emphatically, "a period piece—not a western."

★ ★ ★

"There is a woman in Oklahoma who is positive proof of that," Garner said. "She claims it is definitely not a western, and she should know. She only listens to the stories. She isn't swayed by the costumes.

"She is blind."

At the current World's Fair in Brussels, the symbol chosen to signify mankind's achievements and hopes is the Atomium, a structure reprseenting nine atoms in a crystal of steel.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Spot Wrecked Plane in Alaska Wilderness

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Wreckage of a plane missing since Sept. 26 with three Western Electric Co. technicians aboard was spotted yesterday near Unalakleet, about 350 miles west of here.

Civil Air Patrol pilot Harold Perkins said he positively identified the plane as the tan and white Nation which left King Salmon for Unalakleet. He said the wreckage was intact in a saddle between mountain peaks at an elevation of 2,400 feet.

There was no sign of life, he said. But the plane's canopy was missing and could have been used for a shelter. Faint radio signals, believed to come from the missing plane, were picked up on several occasions at Unalakleet, Perkins said.

Jefferson Parham, 36, El Paso, Tex., George Brummet, 36, Knoxville, Tenn., and Joe Tomczak, 25, Detroit, were aboard the missing plane.

An Air Force helicopter was to try to land near the wreckage today.

Father of Six Plagued by Hiccuping Seizure

DENVER (AP) — Pat J. Quintana is back in the hospital with another siege of hiccuping.

Quintana, 27, father of six children, first began to hiccup last April after eating an apple. The hiccups disappeared for two-day periods twice, and Quintana thought he was over them recently when all traces vanished for five days.

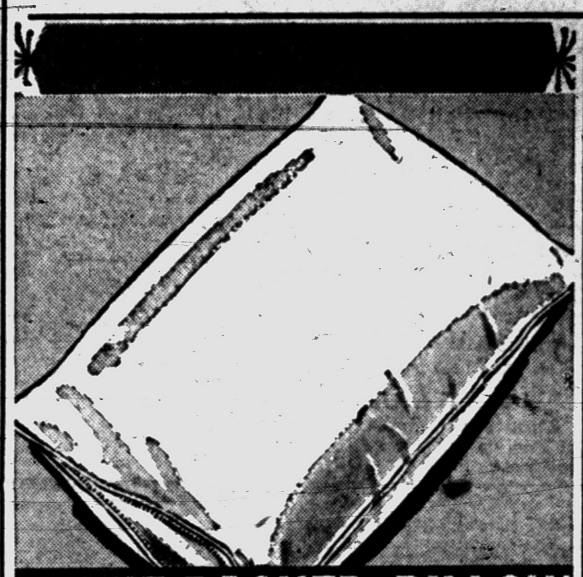

At Colorado General Hospital, more tests are being made to determine the cause of the hiccups.

Tell Him Jokes Are Offensive

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Several months ago, two couples (neighbors of ours) asked my husband and me if we would like to play cards with them one Saturday night a month. My husband and I both enjoy playing cards and were happy to join them. The first time we played with them we spent a very pleasant evening.

"However, it has not been very pleasant since then, because one of the men delights in telling dirty jokes and one has to be especially careful what one says or he picks it up and out of an innocent statement makes a vulgar remark. Neither my husband nor I want to play any more but don't know how to get out of it without telling the real reason why.

"My husband thinks we should tell them plainly our reason for dropping out even at the risk of causing hurt feelings. Will you please tell us what to do in this situation?"

Answer: Quite possibly if you told this man you dislike hearing such jokes and asked him to stop, he would realize that his habit can be offensive and will curb it. If he does not, then you will have to discontinue your card games.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary for the bride to send a car to pick up the bridesmaids at their houses on the morning of the wedding to take them to the bride's house, or do they arrange for their own transportation?"

Answer: If the bridesmaids have no family cars to bring them to the bride's house, the bride's parents should make the necessary arrangements for their transportation.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it improper for the host to mix a second cocktail for himself when none of the guests wants more than one?"

Answer: No, certainly not improper, but it might be unwise.

Let Him Hire a Model — Abby

Give Artist the Brush-Off

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I am going with a man who is very much interested in art and he has been doing a lot of painting. I don't know quite how to say it, but he paints the female figure from life and some of the girls have very little on, if anything. I know some girls pose for artists and think nothing of it but I don't think I could do it. He keeps asking me to pose for him. When I refuse he tells me I am being childish and old-fashioned. Am I?"

ABBY

NO MODEL

DEAR NO: Artists have no difficulty engaging professional models to pose for them. If he won't take "NO" for an answer — give him "the brush."

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My mother and I had a long talk about what a girl should expect from her husband and I can tell you, Abby, I am shook. She said her philosophy was: ('Accustom your husband to the idea that you intend to maintain a very high standard of living, and you will absolutely not accept anything but the best for yourself or your children and he had better make enough money to supply it.')

"I am only 18, Abby, and maybe I have a head full of romantic ideas, but I never thought material things mattered if two people loved each other. What is your opinion on love versus money in marriage?"

EIGHTEEN

DEAR EIGHTEEN: A heart full of love can't beat long on an empty stomach. A wise girl will be realistic about the earning capacity of her future husband. She'll help him all she can and be satisfied to live within his income. Good wives do not make burdensome demands on their husbands and let them die pulling the load.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My problem may seem very petty to you; but it is very serious to me. Our clergyman lives next door to us. They are always having an open house or some social gathering and first, let me say they are very nice neighbors, but their guests use our driveway and all the parking space in front of our house and we can't get anywhere near our own home with our car. I don't want to call the police and I dislike making an issue of it directly. Have you any suggestions?"

NO PARKING SPACE

DEAR NO: Your clergyman (like any other neighbor) should be informed that his guests are inconveniencing you. Tell him immediately.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: We've been married over 30 years and my husband has been as nice a man as any woman could want, except for one bad fault. He is a string and paper-bag saver. The paper wrapper of any package is carefully folded and saved. He will spend an hour untying a knot if he thinks he can save the string. Now, Abby, we seldom use any of the paper bags or strings, and he is still saving them. How can I get him to throw that stuff away and quit being so miserly?"

THE MRS.

DEAR MRS.: People who save paper bags and strings manifest a sensible concern about the future. Be glad you've got plenty of "strings" on a man like that—your security is in the bag!

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: We have a very nice gemoetry teacher for whom we are trying to find a husband. She is very pretty and young (about 25) has blonde hair and a wonderful personality. We would hate to see her become an old maid. Do you know of any nice unattached millionaires who could fill the bill? Thank you.

HER STUDENTS

DEAR STUDENTS: A young, good-looking blonde who teaches geometry should know all the angles. Don't be obtuse!

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO HARRIET: You may be younger but many men prefer to do business with an old established firm.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO BRUCE: Just call it "THE HIGH COST OF LOVING." And don't whine—you made your bed!

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Children Can Learn About Obligations

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The shop sells notions. Usually the proprietors—a man and wife—are both available to wait on customers.

But yesterday she was alone behind the counter. I asked for pink ribbon, and as she was turning to the shelves behind her the telephone rang. She said, "Excuse me," walked over to the instrument and spoke at once into its mouthpiece. "No, Nick," she said, "I can't talk to you now. I'm busy. I've got a customer."

Back with me, she selected a bolt from one of the shelves, explaining, "It was my boy. At 15 you'd think he'd have enough sense not to pester me. He knows his Pop isn't here. But kids have no sense of responsibility any more."

★ ★ ★

I had just said, "I think three yards . . ." when the telephone rang again. After the fifth ring, she answered it. "Didn't I tell you I can't talk now?" she demanded. "Leave me alone, Nick! This customer . . ."

"I don't mind waiting," I said.

But she'd already slammed the receiver back on its hook and was preparing to cut off my ribbon. The phone shrilled again.

"Oh, honestly," she said. "This time I'll show him. Let him ring." But she didn't. Snatching at the phone, she cried angrily, "You just wait, Nick, I'll punish you all week for this . . ."

As I left with my ribbon, the phone was ringing again.

Her performance was not calculated to produce a responsible child.

It was she, not Nick who had experienced the entire conflict between obligation to me and obligation to him.

What would have happened if she'd said just once?—"Nick, I've told you I'm alone here. You know what that means as well as I do. Think over what you want to ask me again. If you decide that it's more important than my work, call me back—and I'll listen to you gladly."

★ ★ ★

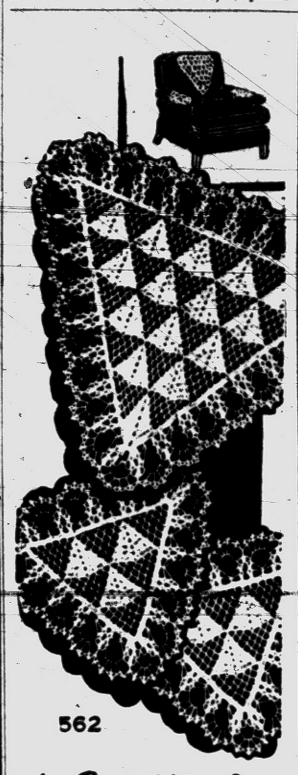

Nick himself would have had to go to work on balancing his mother's obligation to him against her obligation to business.

As it was he behaved like a baby who expects other people to do all his thinking for him.

Kay Frances Ferguson and Charles Gilbert Richards were married Saturday afternoon at St. Paul Methodist Church, Rochester. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Ferguson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Richards.

Ingrid Bergman's Own Story

Star Reaches for Happiness With New Marriage in View

(The last of a series in which Ingrid Bergman discusses her life in an interview with a British newsman who was her guest for two weeks in Wales.)

By RALPH COOPER
(For United Press International)

I reminded Ingrid Bergman that she said "my husbands—all three of them" during our interview on the Welsh mountainside.

"Did I say THAT?" she demanded, and I said, "You did."

She threw back her head and roared with laughter. Ten minutes earlier Lars Schmidt had withdrawn discreetly down the mountainside where we were chatting, so that I could be alone with Ingrid.

"When you go down—tell him about it and watch his face," she said. "Tell him 'She keeps making an embarrassing mistake by talking about her "third husband" '—and ask him what he's going to do about it?"

Ingrid laughed again. "That was a little premature of me."

Then she looked thoughtful. "But I've been surprised at the reaction this time . . . and very relieved. At first I thought, a trifle wearily perhaps, 'here we go again.'

"But it has not been like that at all. Wherever I go people seem pleased . . . and glad that I am happy."

I told Ingrid I hoped she would find lasting happiness, and she said, with a girlish, impish grin: "I have high hopes!"

WIRES WOULD BUZZ

"That," I said, "is the way rumors start. If you had been overheard making that remark in any bar or night club in London . . . Paris . . . Rome . . . the wires would be buzzing around the world, and tomorrow morning you would be hard at it denying a secret marriage. You really should be more careful . . ."

★ ★ ★

Ingrid nodded. "I know. I know. I am always being told about it. If you'd read that Garbo said that, you would KNOW it would not be true, because good old Garbo never says anything. But me! However silly it is, people know I MUST have said it, because I open my great big mouth too much. And too often.

"It's funny . . . because I don't find it easy to talk to people and I am really a very shy person. Because in Sweden we are very polite people. You never say that your house, or your dress, or your children are anything at all. If someone compliments you on your dress you always say 'But no . . . this is an old rag . . . but YOUR dress is wonderful!'

"When I went to America I was almost shocked at the way people said, 'Yes, I rather like it, too.' They were proud of everything . . . their wives, their families, their jobs, their cars . . . that was God's own country! It took some getting used to!"

"Your career is re-established and happiness has returned with Lars, so the sooner you marry and make a settled life for yourself the better," I said.

★ ★ ★

"We shall marry as soon as we are able to," Ingrid replied. "And how long that will be we do not know. We are waiting for the verdict of the Rome Court, which is deciding whether there was a marriage or not, and if there was, whether it should be annulled. They are not too optimistic.

"Over 2,000 applications are heard in Rome for marriage annulments each year, and only 50 are granted. We realize the fact that those involved are very much in the public eye might prove a difficulty, and also the fact that Roberto has already had one marriage annulled.

"A Mexican divorce? — that would not be recognized in Italy . . . and I want to be able to go back to Italy whenever I want. If my children were to be in Italy, and I wanted to visit them suddenly, I would not be able to if divorced only in Mexico."

The solution may yet have to be a Swedish divorce, which would give Ingrid Swedish nationality again, and be recognized in Italy.

★ ★ ★

The facts are that Rossellini claimed their marriage was not valid and Ingrid, through her solicitors, agreed.

"This does not affect the status of the children of the marriage," Ingrid explained, "because in Italian law, if a father accepts the children as his own, then they are legitimate, whether there has been a marriage or not."

TRAVEL TO DREAM HOUSE

Meanwhile, as they attempt to sort out the marriage tangle, Ingrid and Lars travel regularly to their dream house 25 miles outside Paris, in the village of Choisil, near the Duke of Windsor's home.

"It was once a mews," said Ingrid, "Lars found it and bought it—readapting it for about $80,000.

"It has 22 rooms, but we have taken out the whole of the interior and are rebuilding it. We do not want so many rooms, nor too many servants. We want to live comparatively simply, as we would in Sweden . . .

"We want two large ground floor rooms and a kitchen where I can do my own cooking.

"The kitchen was in mosaic; I have changed that.

★ ★ ★

"We should find seclusion there, because it is an eight-acre estate surrounded by a 10-foot wall, and Choisil is a small village with a population of only 275.

"Soon it will be 280," said Ingrid with a smile.

Good Posture First

Loveliness Is Sum of Little Things

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

When you see an unusually lovely-looking lady, one who holds your attention, do you ever stop to analyze what makes her that way, or do you just envy her?

Our first inclination is to wish we looked like that and by comparison to feel slightly run down at the heel even if we really are not. This is a natural human reaction unless a woman is full of conceit.

★ ★ ★

However, if you will analyze the source of her attractiveness you will find that it comes from the total impact of many small parts, none of which seems especially important when considered alone.

Most comforting of all, you will realize that the attributes which compound such a stunning total are within the reach of every woman if she is willing to work for them. You probably will even discover that the woman you thought so beautiful is not beautiful at all, but has only fairly good features, perhaps with one especially fine one which she has emphasized with make-up and hair styling.

What are these magic attributes which are within the reach of every woman? In the first place, she is sure to have good posture and a graceful walk. Otherwise she will not pull our gaze alone with her. Unless she carries herself well even her clothes will not look attractive.

She cannot otherwise look chic. The most expensive clothes appear nondescript on a woman with faulty posture while the simple lines of an inexpensive garment have distinction when worn by a woman with good posture and a good figure. I would say that almost the number one attribute is really good carriage.

Then, of course, there is the figure! We all know how that affects a woman's looks. However, even a good figure loses impact when it slumps.

Then she must have meticulous grooming, and last but far from least, she will have a certain glow of aliveness. You sense her superb vitality in her walk, her clear eyes and fresh skin, the tilt of her head and the expression of her face.

Daily care will build health and hair and skin beauty. These and beautiful posture are within the reach of every woman!

Middle-Aged Gal Can Hit Happy Medium

By RUTH MILLETT

It's foolish for a woman to try to look like her teenage daughter. But it's just as foolish for her to care so little about her looks and to dress so drably that she looks like her teenage daughter's grandmother.

Mrs. B. is making that mistake. She hasn't changed her way of wearing her hair in 20 years. Pulled back severely from her face and twisted into a tight knot in back, it is far from flattering, now that it is completely gray.

She wears almost no make-up, and while a freshly scrubbed look may be charming on a young girl, few middle-aged women have enough glow to set it off.

Her clothes are so dull and drab it is a wonder how she could find them in these days of bright colors and unusual color combinations.

Now, Mrs. B. is an intelligent woman, and perhaps she feels she is above making the most of her appearance. But however intelligent a woman is, she isn't very bright if she makes that mistake.

Husbands and children like to feel proud of "Mom." It gives them a feeling of pride to see her looking her best.

And it does something for a woman's personality to change her hairdo now and then, experiment with make-up, and to hunt for becoming colors and flattering fashions.

There's a happy medium between dressing too young for one's age and dressing too sedately for one's years. That's the happy medium any middle-aged woman ought to make a real effort to achieve.

The secret, of course, is CHANGE. The woman who refuses to change her appearance never manages to look like she did 20 years ago—but more than likely looks 20 years older than she is.

Turn Negroes Away From Church Doors

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—"Jesus belongs to Negroes as well as whites," a Baptist minister told his congregation Sunday after three Negro university students were denied admission.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Gerald Primm called upon the few members of the congregation who turned away the students to pray "for God's forgiveness."

★ ★ ★

The Negroes, students at Shaw University here, had agreed to sit in the balcony of Calvary Baptist Church if allowed at the services.

Many members told the minister afterward that they supported his stand in demanding the doors be opened to all. A few walked out during services.

Fortune Awaits Returning Hobo

His Invention Designed to Detect Oncoming Planes, Divert Craft

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A penniless engineer has returned from a hobo jungle to continue work on an invention that may end plane collisions and earn him a fortune.

Elmer C. Meukel, a self-taught electronic whiz, came home to his wife and three children Sunday three months after hitting the hobo trail to escape the pressure of mounting bills.

★ ★ ★

Only slightly less eager than his family to welcome the hawk-nosed 41-year-old Meukel back were the officers of the Polaris Engineering Co. of Los Angeles. They say the government is willing to spend five million dollars to develop his invention.

"We're ready to go to work on it right away," said Ben Raddatz, president of the firm. The device is designed to detect an oncoming plane and automatically divert the aircraft to avoid a collision.

★ ★ ★

It was the company's report of the apparent success of Meukel's invention that started the search for him last Sept. 24. A newspaper reporter finally tracked him down in Reno, Nev.

Meukel, who learned engineering through correspondence courses, said he abandoned his family in a fit of despondency last June after efforts to peddle his motion-detecting device proved unsuccessful, leaving him broke.

★ ★ ★

"I couldn't stand seeing any more bill collectors come around," he explained. As for why he didn't write all the time he was gone: "I didn't want to write when I didn't have anything to offer."

Meukel said he rode freight trains, hitchhikeed and visited relatives before finally settling down in a hobo jungle on an island in the Truckee River at Reno, where he found the life to his liking.

★ ★ ★

"I gained about 30 pounds and weigh more today than I ever have in my life," he said. "It's beautiful up there along the Truckee. I got acquainted with some good guys. I made a lot of friends."

Upon his return Meukel learned that another engineering firm, Compaco, Inc., has filed suit for a million dollars damage, claiming Meukel's invention infringes on patents they hold for such a device. Meukel said he was certain his invention was entirely original.

★ ★ ★

He figures his contract with Polaris should bring him about $35,000 a year if the device works and is successfully marketed. As he quoted the figure he tightened his arm around his wife Jean. She squeezed him back.

"The money isn't important," she said. "The main thing is you're home."

Although Italy has greatly increased its steel production in recent years it is still a net importer of steel products. But exports are growing more rapidly than imports.

2 Families Move, but Keep Same Street Address

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—After 11 years at the same address here, the Fultons and the Elmores are moving out of their two-family house. They wanted to remember each other's new address.

They probably will never forget it.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Elmore will be living in Kendallville, Ind., 400 miles away, and Mr. and Mrs. David Fulton in nearby Hamburg.

★ ★ ★

But they will still share the same street address—232 Clark St., in both Hamburg and Kendallville.

Styling, Utility Stressed in New Pontiac Cars

"Pontiac has broken all bonds of traditional styling and engineering in 1959 with the most progressive change in our division's 51-year history," S. E. Knudsen, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, said in announcing the company's new line of cars.

★ ★ ★

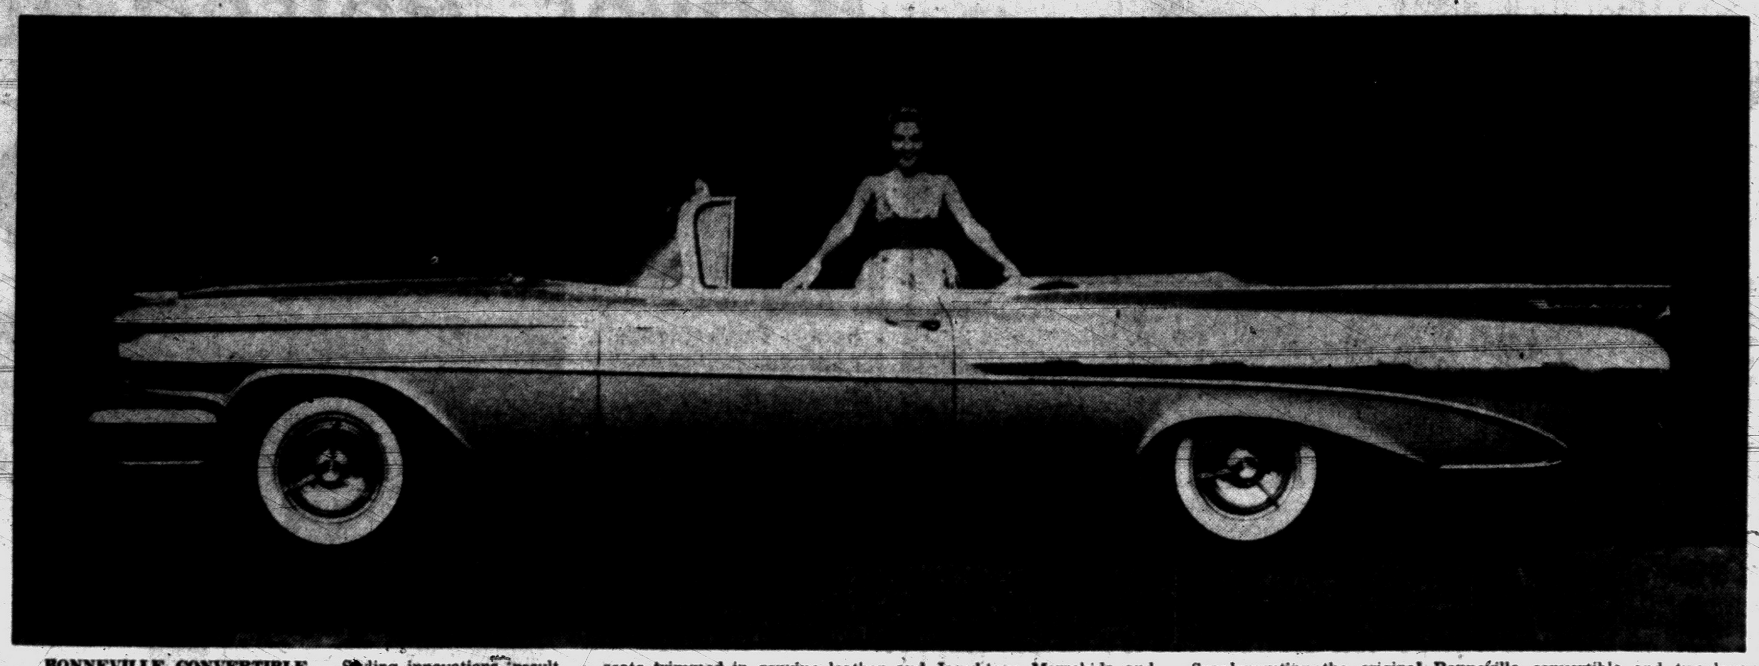

"From every angle the car reflects ultra-modern design. Unprecedented styling innovations, resulting in a lower, wider car, give the 1959 Pontiac a dramatically new appearance."

An all new body, a tread nearly five inches wider to increase handling ease and safety, a new high-performance 389 cubic inch Tempest 420 V-8 engine, new, heavier, true-contour brakes and a completely redesigned chassis frame are among the 65 brand new features.

★ ★ ★

Front to rear, inside and out, the 1959 Pontiac presents a pleasing picture of artistry in modern design, with flat surfaces and intriguing angles of simplicity and beauty.

Beautifully contoured Vista-Panoramic windshields in all models provide added driving safety with up to 60 per cent greater visibility.

BONNEVILLE CONVERTIBLE — Styling innovations, resulting in a lower, wider car, give the 1959 Pontiac Bonneville convertible a dramatically new appearance. The convertible has seats trimmed in genuine leather and Jeewl-tone Morrokide and is mounted on a 124-inch wheelbase chassis with an overall length of 220.7 inches. Front bucket seats are available as an option. Supplementing the original Bonneville convertible and two-door hardtop sport coupe in this series is a superbly styled four-door Vista hardtop and a richly appointed four-door Safari.

Ultra Modern Design, Coming and Going

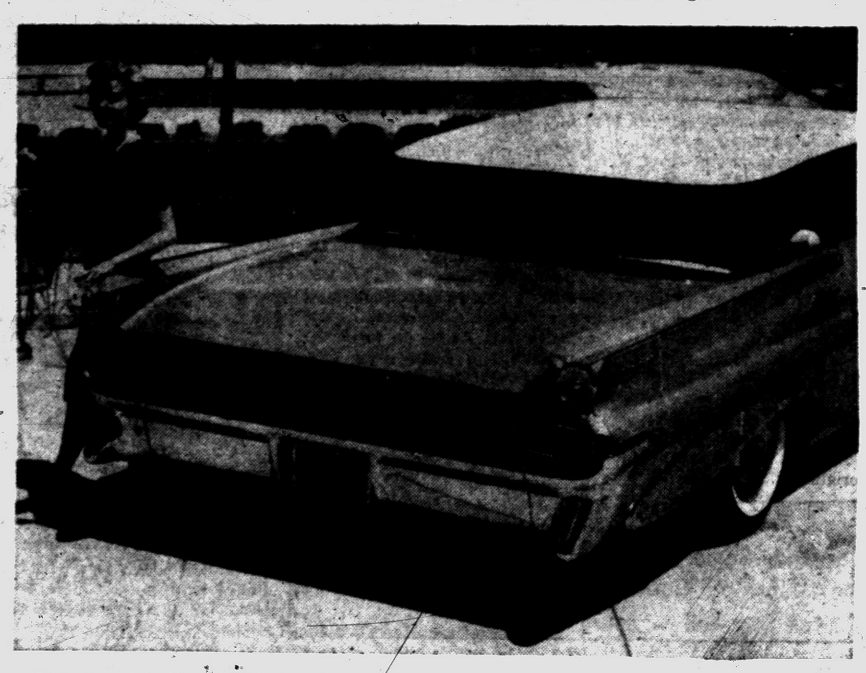

NEW LOOK — Pontiac's dramatically new appearance is illustrated by this front view (above) of the Bonneville convertible. The same beautiful simplicity is expressed in all 14 models, including the lower priced Catalina convertible.

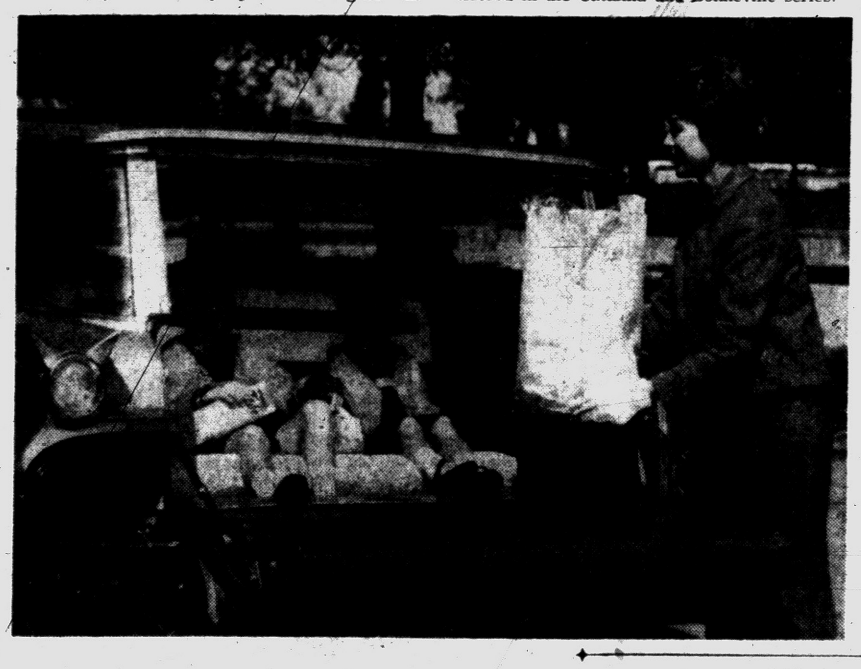

BRILLIANT INTERIORS — Interiors are the most brilliant ever offered by Pontiac. Bonneville convertible interiors are of genuine leather and Jewel-tone Morrokide in fashionable designs, while other models are finished with nylon faced fabrics and Jewel-tone Morrokide, all in many different color combinations.

EYE-CATCHING—The sculptured rear bumper is another eye-catching example of Pontiac's entry into a new era of styling. Twin rear fender flight vanes and the large wrap-around rear window on this Catalina Vista (below) complete the picture of ultra-modern design.

THREE-SEAT SAFARI—The four-door, three-seat Catalina Safari has a rearward facing third seat and an electrically operated tail gate window, with step pads on the bumper for easy entry and exit. Two-seat, four-door Safaris are offered in the Catalina and Bonneville series.

CATALINA VISTA — Representing the most progressive change in Pontiac Motor Division's 51-year history is the Catalina Vista. The beautifully contoured Vista-Panoramic windshield and large, wrap-around rear window provide unparalleled vision for driving safety. Absolute simplicity in styling is achieved with the twin "air scoop" grille housing dual headlamps and a low, cleanly styled body, topped by a slim-line roof. Vista models are also featured in the Bonneville and Star Chief series.

Violence Pushes Racial Tension

By The Associated Press

Dynamite blasts at Clinton, Tenn., and the knifing of a white man on a New Orleans bus increased racial tension in the South over the weekend.

The area had been relatively calm, pending outcome of legal moves in Arkansas and Virginia school closing cases and opening of the fall term of the U. S. Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

The high court began work today with 12 racial-case appeals already on file and more expected as some Southern states try to maintain segregated schools.

At Clirton, three sharp explosions wrecked much of the interior of the high school during pre-dawn fog Sunday. Damage was estimated at $300,000 and classes for the 850 white pupils and 10 Negroes were suspended.

★ ★ ★

Police said there was no doubt the dynamiting was connected with integration at the school, scene of sporadic violence when Negroes were admitted two years ago. The FBI quickly joined state investigators.

Gov. Frank Clement termed the blasting "a cowardly act" and offered reward for the arrest and conviction of persons responsible.

★ ★ ★

A Clinton School Board official said classes would continue on an integrated basis as soon as facilities could be provided.

In New Orleans, Charles Roof Jr., 22, was recovering from multiple stab wounds in the back received during a Saturday night fight on one of the city's recently integrated buses.

He told police that when he arose to offer his seat to a woman passenger, a Negro man approached, they had some words and other Negroes attacked him.

★ ★ ★

At St. Louis, three judges of the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals prepared to consider an injunction to prevent four Little Rock, Ark., high schools from operating on a private, segregated basis.

The injunction was requested by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. The government, acting as a friend of the court, filed a brief vigorously supporting the NAACP request.

There was no suggestion how the injunction would be enforced if it was granted, however. Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas vowed Friday the schools will never be reopened on a segregated basis.

In Virginia, where nine schools have been closed, idling some 13,000 pupils, the NAACP planned another legal maneuver designed to obtain relief from what it contended was a violation of the constitutional rights of Negroes.

Motions to this effect already have been filed seeking the reopening of two schools at Charlottesville and Front Royal High in Warren County. An NAACP attorney said he would make the same request in Norfolk's federal court. Six Norfolk schools are among the nine shut down.

★ ★ ★

In Washington, Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi declared that in some respects the school integration situation in the South might be said to be "a continuation of the Civil War." He made the remark during a television interview.

Denies Charge of False Report

Firms Directory Head Claims Only Headline May Be Misleading

JACKSON (AP) — A vice president of the Michigan Manufacturer and Financial Record has denied the directory of manufacturing firms said Michigan has gained 2,300 new industries over the last two years.

★ ★ ★

"And we never intended to say so," Jack Pickell Jr. told the Jackson Citizen Patriot.

Pickell conceded to the newspaper, however, that a headline in the manufacturing section of the Record may have been misleading. The headline reads: "2,300 Added Manufacturing Plants."

Pickell explained the headline refers to the number of listings in the 1959 edition in comparison with the 1957 directory.

The 1959 guide has been used by some Democratic politicians to support claims that Michigan has gained industries in the last two years.

★ ★ ★

Republican campaigners have said the state is losing plants.

The Jackson newspaper said the 1959 directory has 85 newly listed Jackson County plants and that 55 firms which appeared in the 1957 issue do not appear in the new one.

Farm Sales Boom, but Not to Farmers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A boom in rural real estate is reported in the west with white collar workers far outnumbering farmers as buyers.

Robert M. Chamberlain, president of the United Farm Agency which deals in rural real estate in 15 states, said a survey of buyers in California and Oregon for the first six months this year showed that only 11 per cent of all purchases were made by farmers or ranchers.

Of the remainder, 42 per cent were professional men and women, business executives and white collar workers. Another 42 per cent were wage-earners such as factory workers, and five per cent were in the military.

In Good Health, Ike Opens Drive to Boost GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is taking personal command of a drive to pep up the Republican party in the congressional election campaign.

He is moving in for an extensively active role after getting word from his doctors that he is in excellent health as his birthday nears. He will be 68 Oct. 14.

Eisenhower is pictured as determined to rout any we-can't-win attitude. As a starter, he is devoting all his scheduled engagements today to the political situation—specifically, Republican efforts to capture control of Congress.

Eisenhower's physicians last Saturday gave him a fine health rating.

On completion of his annual head-to-toe checkup at Walter Reed Army Hospital, the doctors said in a statement that "all-inclusive tests show that the President continues to maintain an excellent state of health."

Cornice Falls in Detroit, Woman Struck on Foot

DETROIT (AP) — A 200-pound piece of stone fell from a west side apartment building cornice yesterday and a fragment struck a woman's foot.

Detroit is in the process of removing nearly 2,000 unsafe cornices and other building projections, a job undertaken since a woman was killed downtown by a collapsing cornice June 24.

Mrs. Willy Mae Holmes, 36, was slightly injured in yesterday's incident.

A-Subs Use Diapers

GROTON, Conn. (UPI) — What are atomic submarines made of? Piano wire, chicken feed and diapers, among other things. The General Dynamics Corp. said the wire is used for determining true lines in shafting a new sub. The chicken feed serves as a filter in the ventilation system. The diapers, being lintfree, are perfect for wiping and handling materials that require utmost cleanliness.

No Change in Lions' Offensive Attack, Miss Opportunities Galore

Detroit Manages 13-13 Deadlock With Green Bay

Winning Extra Point Try Missed by Layne After First TD

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

GREEN BAY, Wisc. — "Wanted: One blood transfusion. Donor please deliver before next Sunday to 1401 Michigan Avenue."

This plea could very well apply to the Detroit Lions' anemic offensive attack which, for the second frustrating week, failed to take advantage of even a share of the available opportunities which would have brought a pair of victories instead of a loss at Baltimore last week and a 13-13 tie at Green Bay yesterday.

In two games the Lions' running attack has produced a total of 106 yards. Yesterday's rushing offensive showed 33 net yards.

What made the matters worse was the fact that victory could have been had by one of the most automatic plays in pro football—the extra point.

After the Lions' first touchdown yesterday, Bobby Layne missed his third straight extra point, including the two missed last Sunday against Baltimore. His shoe scuffed the ground as he kicked the ball and the pigskin dribbled low under the bars. He made his second extra point later in the game.

Other easy scoring chances missed were two unsuccessful field goal attempts by Jim Martin. He missed two easy ones last week and yesterday his tries from the 33 and 15 went wide.

★ ★ ★

Even after missing the various opportunities, the Lions still got a big break in the final minutes and had an easy chance to sneak out a victory but failed.

Only two minutes remained on the clock when Gil Mains grabbed a Green Bay fumble in mid-air on the 26 and pushed his way to the Packer 16.

Ken Webb picked up two to the 11 and as the clock was ticking away, everyone, including the Lions' coaches figured Layne would keep the ball in the center of the field and go for the last second field goal.

★ ★ ★

But, instead Layne elected to gamble. He tried a pitch out to Gene Gedman. The ball bounced in front of Gedman and the Packers recovered the fumble on the 16.

"The way we have been missing our kicks we might not have made the field goal, but we thought for sure Bobby (Layne) was going to hold the ball in good kicking position and get another crack at the three-pointer," said coach George Wilson afterward.

The Packers, playing without regular quarterback Babe Parilli, who was injured, scored late in the first period when Paul Hornung booted a 15-yard field goal to make it 3-0.

★ ★ ★

Early in the second quarter Joe Schmidt intercepted Bart Starr's pass on the Packer 40, but as he tried to lateral he fumbled and Hornung recovered for Green Bay.

The Lions started their first touchdown march from their own 20 after Max McGee's punt went into the end zone. From his own 35, Tobin Rote passed to Jim Doran, who bobbled the ball but held on to it for a 65-yard scoring play. Layne then missed the point.

The Packers then took the ensuing kickoff and in 13 plays, climaxed by a 40-yard pass from Starr to McGee, took the lead again 10-6 with Hornung's placement.

★ ★ ★

With only seven seconds in the half, Green Bay received three points as a gift. The Packers took over on their 47 after Yale Lary faked a punt and then passed incomplete.

Starr immediately passed to Howie Furgeson on the Detroit 23. On the next play Starr tried to pass, but Terry Barr grabbed the ball as he fell to the ground. The official, however, ruled Barr trapped the ball and the Packers then booted a field goal to lead 13-6.

"I had both arms under the ball, it never touched the ground," Barr said. Everyone agreed except the official.

Detroit's final TD came in the third quarter after Lowe intercepted a pass on the Packer 41. A penalty got to 26 and in five plays Ken Webb went over from the four. This time Layne's point was good and it was 13-13.

Webb fumbled away a chance on the Packer 10 early in the 4th quarter and Layne had a pass intercepted on Packer 11 a few minutes later to kill scoring chances, before Layne's bad pitchout ended the last threat in the final minute.

BREAKS UP PASS — Halfback Terry Barr (41) of the Detroit Lions got his claws close enough to deflect the ball from the hands of Green Bay end Gary Knafelc (84) on a pass in the opening quarter of their NFL duel yesterday. The final score was 13-13.

No Waivers on Siebern; Casey Praises Spahn

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'll tell you one thing. I'm not asking waivers on him and you can print that."

That was Casey Stengel talking about Norm Siebern whose poor play in left field helped Milwaukee to a 3-0 victory over the Yankees Sunday and a commanding 3-1 lead in the World Series.

"I know he's lost some games in the outfield for us before," said Manager Stengel in the dressing room long after the game was over.

"He's a nice kid and I know he'll worry over this. He's playing the toughest left field in baseball, don't forget. He hit .300 for me. He's good at getting walks and he's good at going from first to third. I think he did real good in his first full year in the majors. He's not an easy man to get out."

★ ★ ★

Did Siebern stay out too far?

"I don't know," Casey replied. "If he couldn't see the other balls it wouldn't make any difference where he was."

"I've had troubles before," said Siebern. "But never like this.

"I might have caught that ball in the seventh inning. But I didn't start quickly enough.

"I don't think I had much chance for that blooper in the fifth, but I should have caught the ball that went for a triple in the sixth. I shied away thinking maybe Mickey (Mantle) would get it. But it was my ball and I simply lost it.

"In the eighth, I lost the ball in the sun."

"It was another blunder for me."

★ ★ ★

The Yankee skipper gave full credit to Spahn.

"He pitched an amazing game against us," said Stengel. "Better than the first game. He cut down on his walks from four to two and gave us only two hits."

Stengel was asked about Yogi Berra's line drive after Mickey Mantle's triple in the fourth.

Berra broke stride when it appeared Schoendienst had speared the ball with a leap. The ball bounced out of the glove, but Red recovered in time to get Berra on a close play as the Yankee catcher slid into first base.

"Well," mused Stengel, "That was a line drive. If it had been a slow grounder I would say he should have beaten it out, but on a line drive it's different."

Stengel summed up: "His defenses was good, ours was bad. That's the story."

Censored—Some Words From Unhappy Coaches

GREEN BAY, Wis. — After the 13-13 tie at Green Bay yesterday someone asked coach George Wilson of the Detroit Lions what he and Packers' coach Ray "Scooter" McLean had to say to each other after the game.

Neither coach expressed any pleasure with their respective teams.

Yankees Need Miracle Today to Stay 'Alive'

Spahn Beats Stengel's Club, Sunday; Turley to Face Burdette Today

NEW YORK (AP) — This could be it. The World Series could end today.

The once mighty New York Yankees appear ready to take the count. They've never been as "down" as they are right now. It would appear that manager Casey Stengel would have to be a miracle man to get them up again.

The stage appears set, too. The pitcher the American League champions must get by today in order to stay alive is that old Yankee-killer himself, Lew Burdette. All Lew's done so far is beat the Yankees four-for-four in the last two series.

The Yankees dropped their third in four games to the Braves yesterday, 3-0. The loss was in the pattern of the pair they lost in Milwaukee — woeful hitting and leaky fielding.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday the Yankees were held to two hits by Warren Spahn, the brilliant southpaw. The day before, they managed four hits in their only winning game. Their team batting average is a microscopic .168. Their fielding percentage is a respectable .988 but it doesn't show the mental lapses and errors of omission.

Yankee manager Casey Stengel, frankly chagringed over the failure of Whitey Ford, his left-handed ace, to register at least one victory in two starts, nominated Bob Turley to pitch the "must" fifth game. The fire-balling right-hander was shelled out in the first inning of the second game of the series last Thursday.

It is not surprising, therefore, that the odds-makers have declined to accept any more Milwaukee money that the Braves will win the series. For today's game, however, the Yankees were favored 13-10.

★ ★ ★

A somewhat smaller crowd than the 71,000 that attended each of the weekend games was expected today. The estimate is that the crowd would be around 60,000. The four-game attendance of 235,896 netted the players a total of $746,044.55.

The weather forecast was "sunny and cool," with the high temperature in the upper 50's.

Stengel, up to a late hour last night, was undecided on his lineup but Fred Haney, the Braves' skipper, said he would go with the same one that flattened Turley and Duke Maas with a seven-run first inning in Milwaukee in the second game. That means the left-handed brigade — Bill Bruton in center, Wes Covington in left and Frank Torre at first — would start.

★ ★ ★

It was almost certain that Stengel would make a change in left field, subbing the right-handed hitting Elston Howard for the southpaw swinging Norm Siebern. Although Siebern struck out twice, walked once and bounced out in four times at bat yesterday, it was not his hitting that caused Casey to mutter to himself and, on two occasions, actually slam his cap to the ground.

PAIR OF HEROES—Milwaukee's Red Schoendienst, left, and Warren Spahn were a happy pair after Sunday's 3rd World Series victory in four starts over the Yankees. Spahn posted his 2nd win with a two-hit, 3-0 shutout. It was Red's triple which set up the first run and his brilliant play on a smash by Yogi Berra halted a New York threat.

Plum, Brown Spearhead Cleveland

By The Associated Press

A pair of sophomores in the play-for-pay ranks — Milt Plum and Jimmy Brown — are threatening to again make the Cleveland Browns the dominant force in the National Football League.

★ ★ ★

Plum, former Penn State Star, passed for two touchdowns and completed 13 of 14 passes for 197 yards Sunday. Brown, an All-America at Syracuse, scored three touchdowns and carried the ball for 129 yards. The result: The Browns second consecutive victory, a 45-12 whacking of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Meanwhile there were a couple of other surprises as the NFL split the second week of the season over two days.

Saturday night, Baltimore's Colts broke Lenny Moore loose for four touchdowns as they rolled up a 51-38 score over the previously unbeaten Chicago Bears. The Cardinals, usually looked upon as Chicago's poor sisters, upset the Washington Redskins 37-10.

In other Sunday action, Philadelphia defeated New York 27-24, Los Angeles belted San Francisco 33-3 with the 49ers Joe Perry setting a career rushing record, and Detroit and Green Bay played a 13-13 tie.

The Colts struck for three touchdowns in the first six minutes to knock off the Bears, undefeated in six exhibitions and the league opener. Besides Moore, Leonard Lyles, the Colts No. 1 draft choice, also was a standout. The former Louisville star returned a kickoff 103 yards for a TD. The Bears' Willie Galimore romped 99 yards with another.

M. C. Reynolds, John Crow and Bobby Joe Conrad — three-rookies — won it for the Cards against a stymied Washington offense. Reynolds replaced starting quarterback LaMar McHan in the second period and completed 16 of 25 passes for 228 yards and a pair of touchdowns. Crow scored twice, once on an 83-yard ramble. Conrad added a field goal and four extra points.

★ ★ ★

Eagles' Coach Buck Shaw made a gamble pay off to defeat the Giants. Trailing 24-17 in the third quarter, the Eagles moved goalward. Shaw elected to try for a field goal instead of the tying TD. Bobby Walston booted a 19-yarder. Still behind 24-20, Philadelphia marched 66 yards in the final stanza to win with Bill Barnes cracking over from the 6-inch line.

★ ★ ★

San Francisco's Perry gained 44 yards, surpassing Steve Van Buren's lifetime mark by 17 yards. Perry now has rushed 5,877 yards in a nine-year career. Billy Wade's engineering of an 80-yard march and his culminating 17-yard TD pass to Del Shoffner broke up a 3-3 tie and it was the Rams in front the rest of the way.

USGA Adopts New System

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. Open Golf Assn. has adopted a new double qualifying system for a trial in the 1959 National Open championship at Winged Foot and has reduced to 150 the number of golfers who will play in the championship proper.

The new plan, announced Monday, is an effort to solve two problems that have plagued this huge tournament in recent years.

Since World War II, the Open has drawn about 2,000 entries annually and, except in 1953, a single day of 36-hole sectional qualifying reduced this field to 162 for the tournament.

As a result, many players of known ability failed to survive the sectional qualifying while lesser lights made it only to fizzle in the big test. Then with 162 starters on the first two days it was difficult to get them all around the course before dark.

The new plan calls for local 36-hole qualifying rounds on May 18 at approximately 70 locations. These, plus a large number of exempt players, would send about 500 survivors into 36-hole sectional qualifying tests at about 13 locations June 1.

The same exemptions that have been granted the past few years will apply to the second qualifying rounds and a total of 150 players will become eligible for the championship June 11-13.

The championship committee, headed by Charles L. Peirson of Boston, is conducting a survey to settle the number of local qualifying locations, which may be any where from 60 to 80, and the number of first round exemptions, which may run as high as 90.

★ ★ ★

Locations under consideration for the local rounds include four each in California and New York and three each in Florida, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.

Spahn, Burdette Buddies

NEW YORK (AP) — Spahn and Burdette.

They're the inseparable "twirling twins" of the Milwaukee Braves — the 37-year-old lefthander, Warren Spahn, and his righthanded counterpart, Lew Burdette, 31, roommates.

★ ★ ★

A year ago, between them, they pitched the Braves to the World Series championship over the New York Yankees, 4 games to 3. Burdette won three of them, Spahn the other.

Today Burdette goes out to try to wrap up another series, but in shorter order. Spahn already has beaten the Yankees twice. Burdette is shooting for No. 2 today.

"My roomie will finish it up today," says Spahn, who pitched a magnificent two-hit shutout yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"If Spahn says so, that's right," quips Burdette.

The two Braves get their greatest delight in whipping the mighty Yankees. Next to that, they derive their pleasure from berating each other.

"Certainly we're roommates and good friends," says Spahn, "but also we're keen rivals. Each of us likes to outdo the other. As a result of this competition, I think we're good for each other."

★ ★ ★

Burdette frequently introduces his roommates as "the greatest" — then he pauses purposely — "lefthanded pitcher in the world."

Elliott Decides Not to Become a Professional

PERTH, Australia (AP)—Australian track officials smiled for the first time in five weeks today as miler Heerb Elliott's decision not to turn professional began to take effect.

Elliott cabled American promoter Leo Leavitt, on a tour of the Far East with the Harlem Globetrotters, that he had declined an offer of $250,000 to turn pro. Leavitt made the offer five weeks ago, during which time Elliott said he and his father considered very carefully all aspects.

Wolverines Not Happy Despite 'Moral' Victory

Dressing Room Scene of Mixed Emotions After 12-12 Tie

By CHUCK ABAIR

EAST LANSING — The Michigan dressing room was a scene of mixed emotions following Saturday's excitement-packed deadlock between the Wolverines and heavily favored Michigan State.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, his staff and all the players were naturally happy about their strong performance but there was disappointment because of their failure to win despite a 12-0 halftime advantage.

Regardless, Alumni and followers of the Maize and Blue today were still cheering a "moral victory" over the so-called mighty Spartans as the Wolverines began drills for next Saturday's home contest against unbeaten Navy.

There had been no such moral victory talk in the 'M' dressing room as Oosterbaan was barraged by questions from reporters and well wishers.

"We're not interested in moral victories. "I don't know whether to accept congratulations or not for a game like that," were among the veteran skipper's comments.

Bennie agreed the many boys sidelined by injuries in the 2nd half weakened his team considerably but refused to say it cost the ball game. "How can anyone tell what would have happened?" he said. Offensive ace John Herrnstein had been the first to leave in the opening half.

Getting well-deserved praise from the coach was a defensive line which held State to only 27 yards rushing until it piled up 83 in a last quarter touchdown march covering 97 yards.

"Don Deskins, Jerry Marciniak and everybody else was great in that line. John Halstead and Bob Johnson were outstanding at end for not having much experience," stated Oosterbaan.

Quarterback Bob Ptacek was singled out as the offensive pacesetter. "I wish Stan Noskin would have been here. Ptacek had to carry the whole load alone and did a swell job but he was weary near the end," added Bennie who stayed even with Duffy Daugherty in these big meetings at 2-2-1. Point-getters Gary Prahst and Brad Myers also were standouts.

Probably the biggest disappointment of the day for Michigan occurred on the 2nd play of the last quarter when Marciniak fell on a punt blocked by Halstead on the MSU six when he could have picked it up instead and ran into the end zone without being touched.

The talk was bound to get around to the all-important extra points — of which there were none — and Bennie was ready when it did. Asked why he went for a pass play after the 2nd touchdown, he replied: "Because I thought 14 might have been an important number." It would have proved the deciding margin if receiver Brad Myers had not been stopped by rugged Spartan Bob Bercich at the one.

GOAT STAR — Michigan State captain Sam Williams was both a goat and star for the Spartans in the deadlock against Michigan. He missed two extra points, either one of which would have won the game. But he was probably the outstanding defensive performer on the field.

Sam Williams Top Performer in MSU Cause

Spartans' Great End a Tower of Strength Against Wolverines

By BILL CORNWELL

EAST LANSING — If it's possible to earn All-America football recognition in a single afternoon's work, Michigan State's Sam Williams earned it in full measure here Saturday in Spartan Stadium.

On a clear, crisp autumn day when Michigan and Michigan State gridiron warriors were savagely butting heads for 60 minutes, the Spartan captain stood out like a lighthouse in a storm.

It's easy to see why the grid product from nearby Dansville was the target of professional scouts before he ever entered college. Watching Sam play service football was enough for the pro experts.

In a game where ferocious tackling and bruising blocking were the passwords from start to finish, Williams spearheaded MSU's defensive charge on nearly every play.

Although it's a matter of record that Sam missed both of his extra point placekick attempts which would have broken the 12-12 deadlock, it would have to be a real die-hard alumnus who would hold the errant boots against him.

All one has to do to bring forth Duffy Daugherty's most glowing adjectives is to mention the name of Williams in the Spartan mentor's presence.

"Sam is the greatest end in the country and he's a wonderful leader," said Duffy, "we wouldn't trade him for anybody."

★ ★ ★

Williams was the No. 1 defensive performer in this titanic battle of defense which had many heroes on both sides of the line. He was absolutely fabulous.

The 6-foot-5, 220-pound flanker smeared Michigan's offensive efforts repeatedly. He either turned the U. of M. ball carrier into another MSU tackler, knocked down the interference or made the stop personally.

More often than not, he personally halted the runner with well executed tackles. The way he handfought and warded off the Michigan interference was a thrill to behold.

Well, Williams missed his all-important boots, but he was All-America in this bitter football struggle—unanimously.

Captain Counsel Wins at Jackson With Late Spurt

JACKSON — Captain Counsel, racing for Rudy Nartker of Pontiac, made a bold bid on the extreme outside here Saturday in the final quarter of a mile to win the featured Michigan Special by two and a half lengths over Mr. Chief in 2:05 at Jackson Harness Raceway.

★ ★ ★

Saturday, a crowd of 4,475 turned out to wager $137,906 on the nine-race card which was a slight dip over the $138,297 pushed through the windows here two years ago.

Captain Counsel scored his 10th win of the year but it was somewhat of a surprise as the five-year-old gelding returned $16.60, $8.00, $8.40 at the windows.

Mr. Chief, owned by Martin Van Wky of Holland, Mich. paid $8.80 and $8.20 while Chief Strong produced a $9.40 show mutuel.

★ ★ ★

Billie Ellamar, driven by his owner Everett Hammell of Pinckney, Mich., set the early pace until the far turn and then gave way to the rush of Captain Counsel and Chief Strong. Mr. Chief didn't make his move until the final 75 yards.

Chippewas, Albion Set Up Weekend Title Showdowns

By United Press International

Central Michigan, enjoying the role of avenger, and Albion's still unbeaten-unscored on Britons set up a pair of important conference showdowns with lop-sided victories Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The Chippewas, ranked sixth nationally in last week's NAIA poll, whipped Illinois Normal 33-6 as speedster Walt Beach scored twice.

Central Michigan hosts defending Interstate Conference champion Eastern Michigan this Saturday. The Huron beat Youngstown in a non-league game last Friday night.

Albion ran its 1958 point production to 87 in three starts with a 39-0 conquest of Adrian to take the MIAA lead with a 2-0 mark. The Britons, rolling up 375 yards to 76 for Adrian, never allowed the Bulldogs to penetrate the Albion 20-yard line.

★ ★ ★

Albion moves into defending champion Hillsdale's field Saturday for a game that could end the Dales' title aspirations. Hillsdale bounced back from last week's loss to wallop Olivet, 44-0.

Hope scored its second straight 14-13 decision over Northern Michigan when Bill Huibregtse made good on both of his extra point attempts to keep the Dutchmen unbeaten in three starts.

Bill Klenk booted a seven-yard field goal that proved decisive in Alma's 17-14 MIAA victory over Kalamazoo and Michigan Tech made it two in a row after opening the year with a pair of losses by beating Ferris, 35-7.

★ ★ ★

A crowd of about 3,000 turned out in Titan Stadium at the University of Detroit and saw former Michigan State Spartan Ed Bagdon score a one point "rouge" when he punted into the Dutchie end zone. The Raiders' other score came on a 35-yard pass from Cliff Coughlin to Al Richmond. Bagdon converted.

State Shorthairs Win Top Places in Trial

Michigan dogs dominated the annual fall field trials for the German Shorthaired Pointer Club of Michigan, held recently at Highland recreation area. All five class winners were state-owned and handled dogs, and most place winners also were from Michigan.

Tartars Settle for Tie, at 7-7

DETROIT — Football rules say a team has four downs to move the ball ten yards or lose it.

Wayne State let Case Tech have five down nine yards from the goal line Saturday. The Cleveland visitors took advantage of the local unit's hospitality with a touchdown from the one, midway through the third quarter.

The Tartars fought back for the equalizer and finally got it with four minutes remaining in the game. The contest, season's opener for both squads, ended in a knot, 7-7.

Case halfback Jim Rudge plunged to paydirt on the extra play, set up by a penalty against Wayne after the Tartar defense had stopped a Roughrider fourth down try at the two. Tim Tyler booted the extra point.

WSU halfback Jim Macmillan took a pitchout from quarterback Mike Soluk and tossed a nine-yard fourth-down pass to end John Poplawski for the home outfit's six-pointer. Macmillan added the extra point with his toe.

Wings Capture 8th Straight Exhibition

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings, only five days away from the start of the National Hockey League season, have their eighth straight exhibition victory in the bag.

With six players sharing in the scoring, they dumped the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League 6-2 last night.

Red Wing goals were scored by Charlie Burns, Marcel Pronovost, Norm Ullman, Len Lunde, Claude Laforge and W. McNeill.

The Red Wings open their regular season at Montreal Saturday night and return to Detroit for their home opener against New York next Monday night.

Yanks Want Billy O'Dell

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees have renewed negotiations for Baltimore's left-handed pitcher Billy O'Dell, the Baltimore Sun said today.

Army, Irish Eye National Honors in Series Finale

Gridiron Farewell Saturday

By The Associated Press

Notre Dame and Army meet for the last time in their current series Saturday and it couldn't be a more important farewell.

Both teams have set this year as the target date for a high spot in the national rankings and both, so far, have showed they mean it.

Army is ranked No. 5 in The Associated Press poll and Notre Dame is No. 7. No one at either Army or Notre Dame appears ready to say when — if ever — the series will be resumed.

It will prove a mighty test for Army's bazooka offense which sends an end so far out on the flank that he doesn't even get in the huddles. The Cadets have sent movies of their game against South Carolina (their opener) to all their foes except Navy.

Penn State was the first to get a shot at it after looking over the movies. The Nittany Lions, who hoped to get in the scramble for Eastern honors, wound up with nothing for their efforts last Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Army won 26-0, doing all its scoring in the first half. Coach Red Blaik apparently didn't want the Irish scouts to see too much, so the wraps were placed over the Cadets in the second half.

Oklahoma, No. 1 in the nation, had a scare, winning by 6-0 against Oregon, one of the top defensive clubs in the country.

This week they take on Texas, the lone undefeated team in the Southwest Conference. The Longhorns whipped Texas Tech last week.

There are a couple of potential upsets down for Saturday when Michigan State plays Pitt and Iowa goes against Indiana.

★ ★ ★

Pitt, which dearly would love to win the Eastern title, had no easy time against Minnesota (13-7). The Panthers have a rough schedule including both Army and Notre Dame. Even if they don't win, this one will toughen them up for the big ones to come.

As for Iowa, another big 10 topnotcher and rated No. 8 in the AP poll, the Hawkeyes were held to a 13-13 tie by the Air Force Academy.

Iowa has a date with conference foe Indiana, which turned back tough West Virginia, 13-12.

Auburn, ranked second to Oklahoma and the national champion last year, plays Kentucky. The Tigers, perhaps the best defensive outfit of the past five years or so, whipped Chattanooga, 30-8, and appear too tough for Kentucky.

Third-rated Ohio State, which had its worries with Washington, 12-7, tangles with Illinois, which lost to Duke, 15-13. This, too, could be close.

Mississippi, possibly the class of the South behind Auburn, and No. 6 in the nation, plays Tulane. Wisconsin, No. 9, entertains Purdue, while Clemson, No. 10 goes against Vanderbilt.

★ ★ ★

California licked Washington State, 34-14, in the NCAA's television game of the week, and in an upset of sorts, Tennessee, in the midst of a rebuilding program, trounced Mississippi State, 13-8.

TYING TOUCHDOWN — Fullback Bob Bercich of Michigan State, dove on top of a heap of linemen to reach the end zone from the two-yard stripe. His effort gave the host Spartans a comeback tie. Darrell Harper (41) of Royal Oak is the Wolverine reaching for Bercich.

Crush St. James 61-7, Score 5 Times in 3rd

Shamrocks Scrape by Rita, 6-0, Eaglets Bow to St. Benedict, 19-0

By H. GUY MOATS

Suburban Catholic League coaches and area observers who early in the current football campaign pointed to St. Frederick's eleven as "the club to beat for the SCL title", apparently weren't far wrong. Way the "Rampagin' Rams" have been rolling, after an opening setback is somewhat on the spectacular side, like yesterday's terrific scoring bee against St. James. And previously, against St. Clement.

Let by low-running, speedy Jack Lyon, the Rams simply bulldozed the Ferndale club under a 9-touchdown, 61-7 count for their 2nd loop victory and a season's point total of 105. Lyon rambled, with good blocking, for four touchdowns. Tom Nesbitt and Jim (Jumbo) Kennedy each contributed two.

St. Michael ran into a tough customer at St. Rita, but squeezed by for a 6-0 victory at Hazel Park. Win was Shamrock's 2nd in loop play, and was accomplished by a last period march of 70 yards. Entertaining last year's runnerup wasn't so pleasant for Orchard Lake St. Mary. St. Benedict clipped the Eaglets' wings 19-0.

St. James scored in the final period after its only sustained move of the tilt (70 yards).

Gene Wright's club displayed midseason form in all departments. Sharp defensive play, with many outstanding boys, like Bill Cassidy, Jere Dirker, Bob Yapo, Dave Blake, Steve Pocs; alert linebackers, like Kennedy who stole the ball at midfield, galloped for the opening TD. All figured in this gridiron "ball". "Jumbo" also had a great day with his aerials, firing six completions in 10 tries, one to Nesbitt for a 45-yard TD play and another TD toss to Derocher, who went 30 yards. Jim also hit Pocs for a PAT.

Lyon hit paydirt in the last minute of the first period, was back again in the first minute of the 2nd frame; went 20 yards the first time Rams had the ball after a recovered (by Blake) Ferndale fumble in the 1st minute of the 3rd period, and midway in the period was in again on 15-yard handoff.

Other Ram TDs in the big 3rd were by Derocher, Nesbitt and Kennedy's "bootleg". Five counters were accumulated in the third, alone. One other, a 2nd period, 40-yarder by Derocher, was nullified by a penalty.

Jim Niebauer's North Siders nearly missed at St. Rita's. Most of the contest had been played in midfield. Neither club could shake runners loose and passing was ineffective. After an exchange of kicks in the finale Shamrocks began their only long march. With Bill Flanigan and Chuck Steinhelper lugging the ball, they moved to the 8-yard stripe. Steinhelper then blasted over for the winner.

It was too much Donar and Massucci, at Orchard Lake, where St. Benedict got all its points in the first half (two in the 2nd period), stopped the Eaglets' only scoring drive on the four, then was outplayed all of the 2nd half.

Dan Donar scored in the first period on 35-yard smash, went over again in the 2nd after galloping 47 yards following a pass interception. "Little" Art (185, 6-foot) Massucci drove two yards for the final marker. He also booted one conversion.

Kalamazoo Race Driver Killed

ST. MARYS, Ohio (UPI) — William E. (Bud) Bell, 28, Kalamazoo, Mich., was killed yesterday when his car skidded on a curve and crashed into another car in the "Governor's Race" at the New Bremen (Ohio) Raceway.

The crash occurred during the track's final program of the year before the season's largest crowd, including Gov. C. William O'Neill. It was the track's second fatality this season.

Bell's car crashed with a car driven by Bob Reitz of Baroda, Mich., skidded and hurtled across the track. The Reitz car went over the Bell car on the 16th lap. There were 21 cars in the 50-lap event.

★ ★ ★

He was a gas inspector for the Consumers Power Co., Kalamazoo. He is survived by his wife, Marlene, three sons and a daughter.

Jim Cushman, Columbus, won the race.

★ ★ ★

Paul Richardson, Erie, Pa., suffered a fractured skull and died in a local hospital after a spill. He ran into an overturned cycle.

One big event which escaped any serious injuries was a sports car meet at Danville, Va., where Rich Lyeth of Grosse Pointe, Mich., finished third.

National point leader Walter Hansgen piloted a jaguar to his 3rd successive triumph. Lyeth was driving his Hi-Tork Special.

★ ★ ★

Peter Mitchell, an English auto race driver, was killed Sunday when his car overshot a curve and somersaulted twice. The 28-year-old driver had only one lap to go and was leading the field at the time of his accident in London.

PCH-Indian Harrier Test Looms as Title Preview

Regarded as the season's highlighted cross-country event in eastern Michigan, Flint Central's unbeaten club invades Beaudette Park here this afternoon, in Pontiac high's first Valley test. Meet will get under way at 4 o'clock, and harrier fans can see what promises to be a hot battle.

Coach Varnard Gay's Indians are generally regarded as the "big power" in the Valley, and by many as top contender for state honors.

Gay brings the strongest Central harrier squad in years to Pontiac. It includes four sterling milers in Bill Milum, Gary Crenshaw, George Fredericksen and Buck Miley. Bob Anthony and Bill Foster also lettered last fall.

Indians have beaten Arthur Hill, Saginaw High and Northern. Chiefs have won one, lost one.

Chiefs' coach, Dean Wilson, looked for a tight battle between Johnny Jefferson and Rufus Anderson of PCH, and the top Indian runners.

Most area squads will take in the 28-team two-division, no-class invitational harrier meet at Thurston on tomorrow.

Richard Leads Canadiens' Win

MONTREAL (AP) — Maurice (Rocket) Richard, at 37 the National Hockey League's oldest player, showed he's lost none of his scoring flair with a two-goal effort Saturday night as the Montreal Canadiens downed the NHL All-Stars 6-3 in the annual preseason game.

The Rocket fired the first and last goals of the game to lead the Stanley Cup champions to victory before a crowd of 13,793, some 360 short of the All-Star game record set here in 1953.

Richard's younger brother, Henri, Donnie Marshall, Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion and rookie Alvin McDonald fired single goals for the Canadiens.

Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers counted twice for the All-Stars and Bobbie Pulford of the Toronto Maple Leafs added the third.

Geoffrion, the NHL's scoring champion in the 1954-55 season, was lost to the Habs in the second period when jolted with a solid body check by Detroit's Red Kelly. The Montreal right-winger suffered injuries to his neck and chest muscles, but it was later reported he was not severely hurt.

Detroit ace Gordie Howe was held scoreless but played a driving game and was given a big hand by the crowd when he made a rink-length rush in the last period.

Howe, second to the Rocket as the NHL's all-time highest scorer, also was applauded vigorously by the fans when introduced along with the other players before the game. It took big Gordie by surprise since he has come in for plenty of vocal abuse in past seasons from Montreal's pro-Richard fans.

Bar Liquor Up for Vote

CADILLAC (AP) — Two special items will have familiar spots on Cadillac's ballot on election day next month. Voters will decide for the third time on whether liquor by the glass may be sold in the city. And for the second time, the people of Cadillac will vote on whether their city charter should be revised.

Bob Considine Says:

'59 Model Cars All Fins and a Yard Wider

NEW YORK — Stopped by Detroit for a peek at the 1959 gas buggies. All fins and a yard wider. And real purty. Motorists who complain that all cars are getting to look alike, all striving for the day when they'll be shaped like a cigar box with pin feathers, should be told that the big companies go to extraordinary pains to conceal the silhouettes and trapping of their new products.

A cameraman I know told of wasting hours one day at a fenced off test track, while taking pictures of the latest model of one of the big three.

★ ★ ★

"Every time a plane came over, no matter if it was a big passenger job maybe 18,000 feet up, the guy in charge orders the tarpaulin dentials and just walked in with still shaken by the experience.

"The next day the fellow gets a set of eight-by-ten prints of the car from all possible angles, sent by a guy from another company. He had faked some credentials and just walked in with his camera and banged away.

★ ★ ★

"There's a guy out here who is a professional spy. He offers his services to anybody who wants them. He'll climb a tree, or a telephone pole, or rent a helicopter, and with his long lens he can get anything new that's being tried out on those test grounds.

★ ★ ★

"Always seemed to me to be a lot of trouble," my friend said. "If a company really wanted to know what the other fellow is up to, all they got to do is hire a guy from the other fellow's design division. Right?"

Still, a nice guy named Norm Steineke arranged for me to be driven to Detroit's Willow Run Airport in a 1959 Mercury. And every nameplate, from the radio to the hubcaps, from the hood by-line to the rear emblem, and even the identified push-button window controls, was carefully covered with white elastic tape.

We sped to Willow Run at a lively clip, propelled by a stealthy 400 h.p. motor. I kept a lookout, but we were not ambushed.

On the back of an envelope found among his effects after his death last summer in a plane crash, former Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Gordon Dean had scrawled:

LESSONS LEARNED:

1. — Never lose your capacity for enthusiasm.

2. — Never lose your capacity for indignation.

3. Never judge people, don't type them too quickly; but in a pinch never first assume that a man is bad; first assume always that he is good and that at worst he is in the gray area between bad and good.

4. — Never be impressed by wealth alone or thrown by poverty.

5. — If you can't be generous when it's hard to be, you won't be when it's easy.

6. — The greatest builder of confidence is the ability to do something—almost anything—well.

7. —When that confidence comes, then strive for humility; you aren't as good as all that.

8. — And the way to become truly useful is to seek the best that other brains have to offer. Use them to supplement your own, and be prepared to give credit to them when they have helped.

9. — The greatest tragedies in world and personal events stem from misunderstandings. Answer: communicate.

Gordon Dean lived by that splendid testament.

Cary Grant Turns Down Leading Role in 'Lolita'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Editor

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cary Grant was offered the leading role in the film version of "Lolita," the best-seller about a middle-aged man with a fondness for 12-year-old girls.

★ ★ ★

"No, thanks," Grant replied.

"But we're only offering the role to two stars—you and Laurence Oliviers," the producers argued.

"You've just lost one of us," the actor replied.

Grant commented on the "North by Northwest" set: "I have too much respect for the movie industry to do a picture like that. Perhaps books can deal with such subjects because they have a select audience. But they have no place on the screen."

Debbie Reynolds saw Eddie Fisher's show and termed it "very good." She still considers the crooner a great talent even though their marriage struck a rock named Liz.

★ ★ ★

She told about her first day's work on "The Mating Game" — battling with a 600-pound boar. She's acting amid pigs, geese and chickens on the MGM back lot and doesn't seem to mind it. "This is a lowdown, raucous comedy aimed strictly for laughs," she said. "I think it's just the right thing for my career at this time."

★ ★ ★

Bob Hope told a story at the opening day luncheon for his new film "Alias Jesse James." He was just leaving Moscow after his successful visit there and an official invited him into a cultural union headquarters to present an honorary membership.

Hope thanked the man, then cracked: "I may get a little behind in my dues."

Robert Taylor made the supreme sacrifice: He agreed to make "The Hangman" despite the deer hunting season. The reason is that it's Bob's first picture away from MGM.

★ ★ ★

"I thought it would be a good idea to get started on the outside right away," he said. "I wanted to establish a salary so when I start working at Monogram and Republic, I can show them what my salary used to be."

He needn't be modest. His outside salary is mighty handsome: $200,000 plus 7½ per cent of the profits. Now he wonders why he didn't find out about this loot sooner.

Won't Enter China Fight—Russia

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev's remarkable one-question, one-answer interview Sunday has the look of an extremely important development in the Far East crisis.

The Soviet Premier and party boss called in the news agency Tass to tell the world Moscow has not the slightest intention of getting into the fight between the Chinese Communists and the Nationalists on Formosa.

★ ★ ★

It is plainer than ever now that Moscow is worried by the Formosa crisis. And it is highly likely Khrushchev's words were meant particularly for the ears of the Chinese Communists.

These interviews do not come about by accident, or through the enterprise of some Soviet reporter. Tass is an instrument of Soviet policy. For all practical purposes, it is part of the Soviet Foreign Ministry. A statement like this, distributed by Tass, carries as much weight as a formal diplomatic note.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev was obliged to use an oblique approach in his warning to Peiping. But he seemed anxious to leave the Red Chinese with no illusions regarding the extent to which Moscow is committed to help them militarily.

He quoted President Eisenhower's Wednesday news conference comment questioning Red China's calling the Formosa Strait shooting only a civil war. The President had said that if it was a civil war, he wanted to know why Khrushchev indicated the Soviet Union was ready to take part in it.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev leaped to the opportunity. Acting the part of a man hitting the ceiling at the "tricks" of his antagonists, Khrushchev thundered that he never did say any such thing. What did he say, then?

In Khrushchev's own words, he has not given the slightest hint that the U.S.S.R. is ready to take part in a Chinese civil war. The U.S.S.R. would come to Red China's help only if the Red Chinese were attacked "from without," or "speaking more concretely, if the U.S. A. attacks the Chinese People's (Communist) Republic."

★ ★ ★

What goes on, says Khrushchev, is indeed a civil war, and thus an internal Chinese affair.

This spells it out for Peiping. If the Red Chinese go too far, if they attack and are met by force, the Soviet Union reserves the right to avoid involving itself in a war with the United States. ONLY if the United States attacks is the U.S.S.R. obliged to come to Red China's help with military support.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev got this message across through the transparent device of an arranged inteview limited to one question and one answer. His anxiety to do so confirms the impression held by many in this capital that the Soviet Union cannot wholly control Peiping in the Formosa Strait crisis.

★ ★ ★

The Red Chinese, smelling a victory, might be too much inclined to pour on pressure to the limit, in their own display of brinkmanship.

So Khrushchev is saying to the Chinese: All right, that is your own internal affair. If you are not attacked directly from without, specifically by the United States, that lets us out. You go it alone.

Peiping is not likely to take kindly to the Khrushchev statement. But it will make the Red Chinese think carefully about going off the deep end.

Perfect Score Fired by Michigan Trooper

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Trooper Lester Doubleday of the Michigan State Police is credited with a remarkable performance in gun marksmanship.

Doubleday, attached to the East Lansing post, fired a perfect 200, with 11 shots in the X-ring, in the Indiana State Pistol Assn. Matches yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Officials said this was a national police record for .45 caliber rapid fire.

Trooper Joseph Flynn of Monticello won the individual over all championship with a score of 2,504 of a possible 2,700 firing with pistols of .22, .38 and .45 caliber. Trooper George Bradford of Mooresville won in the marksman class with 2,387-2,700.

Cucamonga Has to Go; Gaysters Upset Town

CUCAMONGA, Calif. (AP) — Cucamonga (population 10,000) is talking about incorporation and thinking of a name change at the same time.

★ ★ ★

President Ted Vath of the Chamber of Commerce says comedians have made the town a constant butt of their jokes.

★ ★ ★

One of the names under consideration, Vath reports, is Arpege —after the well-known perfume.

That ought to slow down the jokesters, says Vath. For awhile, at least.

Rename Base to Honor Late Gen. Vandenberg

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—This, the nation's first ballistic missile training and operational center, now is officially designated Vandenberg Air Force Base.

★ ★ ★

It once was known as Camp Cooke after a Civil War general. Then for 18 months it was called Cooke AFB.

★ ★ ★

Its name was changed Sunday in tribute to the memory of Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, the Air Force's second chief of staff who died in 1954.

Report Fugitive Seen in Seattle

He May Be Man Sought for Questioning Here in Slaying of Hoodlum

Reports that one of two men wanted in the Commerce Township slaying of Texas hoodlum George Kean might have attempted to sell a 1955 automobile in Seattle over the weekend, were being investigated by Washington authorities.

Capt. Thomas H. Grant, of the Michigan State Police, said a copy of the first-degree murder warrant issued against the two men and Demitrios Tsermengas had been immediately sent to Seattle police upon learning of the attempted sale.

Grant said it is believed that Lowell E. McComb was attempting to sell the car which was registered in another name, possibly an alias of McComb's.

What connection the auto might have, if any, with the murder last December of Kean in a lakeside home was not yet known, Capt. Grant said.

"We've received nothing back from Seattle since we dispatched the warrant as a hold on McComb," Grant said.

Still at large are McComb and Thomas D. Smith. Tsermengas, 39, of Ecorse, is being held in the Oakland County Jail pending an examination on first-degree murder Friday.

Tsermengas described to police here last week the "accidental" shooting of Kean when he and the other two men were attempting to disarm him after Kean threatened, "I ought to kill all of you right now."

This story was pretty much substantiated by Donald E. Chandler, 38, in whose Long Lake home at 1872 Point Dr. the shooting took place. The four men stopped there en route to pull a robbery in Sault Ste. Marie, police said.

Smith is reportedly free on a $10,000 bond for an armed robbery of a loan office in Texas and has not been located. Grant said Texas authorities informed him. Extradition of Smith back here to stand trial for the murder is remote because of the other charge, Grant said.

Business Notes

Four Pontiac men participated in the annual Life Insurance Agency Management Conference at Michigan State University.

National leaders in the insurance field and M.S.U. professors gave advice on the selection and training of insurance men, and also revealed new policy trends.

Participating were William Chetwood, Washington National Life Insurance Co.; Robert Gibbons, State Farm Mutual Life Insurance Co.; Olin LaBarge, Confederation Life Association, and L. A. Vincler, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

LeRoy L. Montgomery of Royal Oak has returned from a two week session at the home office orientation course of the Kansas City Life Insurance Co., of Kansas City.

Rescuers Spend Night on Ledge With Hurt Youth

SNOQUALMIE PASS, Wash. — (AP)—A rescue party spent the night on a mountain ledge high in the rugged Cascades beside a University of Washington student who was critically injured Sunday when struck by a falling boulder.

With daylight, the injured youth was to be carried to a waiting helicopter.

Ground crews, racing fog and darkness, reached the side of Jerry Burns, 25, Seattle, before dusk. But a Navy helicopter could land no closer than a meadow 1,000 feet below the 5,500-foot ledge and it grew dark before he could be moved.

A 19-man party, including a doctor, stayed with the injured youth.

"He's alive and conscious and doing as well as we might expect," said Dr. Otto Trott of Seattle in a radio report.

Burns bled profusely after being hit by the boulder while on a fishing trip near Red Mountain about four miles east of here. His companion James Holcomb, 24, tried to stop the bleeding with his shirt and then ran five miles for help.

7 Lose Lives on State Roads

Father, 3-Year-Old Son Among Victims of 2nd Autumn Weekend

By The Associated Press

Michigan traffic claimed seven lives, including those of a 26-year-old father and his 3-year-old son, over autumn's second weekend.

★ ★ ★

In addition, Sandra Holcomb, a 10-year-old Detroit girl, died today of injuries suffered Sunday when she was struck by a car, and 35-year-old Shirley Jean Baker of Ann Arbor was killed in a collision outside Ypsilanti only 10 minutes after the weekend fatality tabulation ended.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press tabulation of weekend traffic fatalities begins at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Mrs. Rosemary Beattie, 68, Detroit, was killed Friday night in a two-car collision in Van Buren Township.

William Neeley, 41, Flint, was killed Friday night when his motorcycle struck the rear of a halted truck near Saginaw.

Miles R. Slatinski, 38, Swartz Creek, was killed Saturday night when struck by a car while walking on U.S. 23 in Alcona County.

Mrs. Carmen Celia Stricker, 39, Reese, was killed Sunday when the car in which she was riding struck a tree near Saginaw.

Carol Slumpff, 7, Port Huron, was killed Sunday near Port Huron when she ran in front of a car.

★ ★ ★

Wilson H. Wyse, 26, Ogden Center, and his son, Gregg, 3, were killed Sunday in a two-car collision southwest of Blissfield.

Walled Lake Man Killed by Grader

Thomas P. Stamberger, 64, of 1393 E. Lake Dr., Walled Lake, was killed Saturday while working with a sand grader on Beech-Saly at Newcastle.

The foreman of a Taylor Township paving crew, Stamberger was standing alongside the machine, using a shovel to keep the rotating blades free of sand.

The machine operator, George Hayes, 26, of 14002 Ingram St., Livonia, told police that Stanberger's clothing caught in the machine's blades. He said the foreman was pulled into the machine up to the waist and killed.

Stamberger was an employe of Julius Porath and Sons, contractors, 12201 Beech-Daly, Taylor Township.

Grains Continue Generally Weak

CHICAGO (AP)—General weakness continued to pervade the grain futures markets today and prices dipped for losses ranging from fractions up to nearly two cents a bushel in early dealings on the board of trade.

Volume was reported small in wheat and heavy in soybeans. Other futures transactions were described as moderately active.

Rye showed the greatest decline from the start, falling back at times nearly two cents a bushel on most contracts. There was no apparent reason for the sharp decline and some traders attributed the downturn to "technical adjustment."

Further easing of the Formosa situation over the weekend was a factor in lower prices of wheat futures. The fact that the Communists ordered a cease-fire for a 7-day period caused the trader to relax its fears that war involving the United States might break out any time in the immediate future.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ¼ higher to ⅝ lower, Dec. $1.94; corn ⅛ higher to ½ lower, old style Dec. $1.13⅛; oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, Dec. 63¾; rye ⅝ to 1¼ lower, Dec. $1.30½; and soybeans ⅛ higher to ⅜ lower, Nov. $2.15⅞.

Chrysler to Try Seniority Plan for Rehiring

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The most significant item coming out of the big three auto firms' contracts with the United Auto Workers is Chrysler's experiment with an area-wide seniority unit in Detroit.

This is the opinion of Prof. Meyer S. Ryder, a University of Mchgan busness admnstrator.

"The union has been particularly concerned with the problems which arise when high seniority employes at one plant are laid off, while much lower seniority employes are recalled to jobs at another plant by the same company in the same area," Ryder said.

The plan will be in effect at Chrysler for 18 months on a trial basis. Under the agreement signed Wednesday with the UAW, Chrysler will have a Detroit-area pool of laid off workers. Chrysler will fill half the job openings in any Detroit plant from the pool with the other half coming from those with the highest seniority who formerly worked at the plant.

Accidentally Shoots Self

New Jet Travel Boosts Airlines

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines and coppers were in demand as the stock market moved to record high early today. The ticker tape was late for 13 minutes.

Steels, motors and selected issues showed strength in a general advance.

★ ★ ★

Pivotal issues rose fractions to more than a point. The market was higher from the start and widened the gains as a succession of big opening blocks was traded.

The inauguration of commercial jet aviation across the Atlantic accompanied the rise in airlines. The advance in coppers was helped by published speculation concerning another rise in copper prices.

Improvement in incoming business of major industrial firms and favorable forecasts for the economy were other factors.

★ ★ ★

Pan American World Airways rose ¼ at 22¼ on a big opening block of 10,000 shares. Magma Copper was up more than 2, Kennecott and U. S. Gypsum over a point.

Chrysler and American Motors were active and fractionally higher. U. S. Steel and Crucible Steel made similar gains in brisk dealings.

Leading rails, oils and chemicals gained fractionally on a broad front. Royal Dutch was particularly active. American Telephone also added a sizable fraction.

Federal Attorneys Seek End to Little Rock Plan for Private Operation

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Federal attorneys, asserting that "Little Rock has become the testing ground of the rule of law," come before three judges of the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals today to demand a permanent block against the maneuver to transform that city's schools into private institutions, barred to Negroes.

★ ★ ★

This is the newest action in the long struggle between the U.S. government, Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, and that state's segregationist forces.

In a 25-page brief, U.S. attorneys emphasized two major points:

★ ★ ★

1. "The persistent and resourceful schemes which have been devised for evading the decrees of the federal courts enforcing those rights" (to go to public school).

2. "Little Rock has become the testing ground of the rule of law and the capacity of the judicial process to give real meaning and effect to constitutional rights."

★ ★ ★

They said if Central High in Little Rock is allowed to reopen on a segregated basis, "the harmful effects both to the children and to the country could in no way be undone by the courts."

★ ★ ★

The judges have been asked to make permament a temporary order, issued by a federal court in Omaha last Monday, forbidding the leasing of Little Rock schools to a private organization which proposes to operate them, with state funds, as private, segregated schools.

Vermont Is Vigilant

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—Bars are illegal in Vermont. Places where alcoholic beverages are sold must be called "counters" and counter stools are required. The law permits only one glass of intoxicants on a dining table per person. Drinkers may not stand or carry their glasses around.

De Gaulle Ends 2,500-Mile Trip

Faintly Gives Policies of New Republic on Political Swing

PARIS (AP)—Premier Charles de Gaulle returned to his desk today after a 2,500-mile political swing that faintly outlined policies of the new-born Fifth Republic.

He called Cabinet ministers together for a series of meetings this week to spell out, among other things, a new election law. The law was made necessary by the proclamation of the Fifth Republic Sunday and the repudiation of the old legislature.

★ ★ ★

The 67-year-old wartime leader's patriotic speeches on his four-day tour through Algeria, Corsica, Marseille, and Lyon showed that at least he had opened the door to peace in Algeria and stability at home.

The reaction in Algeria, however, remained a big question mark. He promised massive social and economic improvements to the Algeiians, but not independence.

★ ★ ★

Drawing massive crowds throughout the tour, the gangling Premier made plain to dissident Frenchmen in Algeria that they would have to accommodate themselves to this personal power.

Says GOP Aids Small Business

Sen. Potter Calls Label as 'Big Business Party' Most Shopworn

REED CITY (AP)— Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich) today pictured the Republican party as a friend of small business and said the big-business label "is the most shopworn of all Democratic distortions."

He said the small business administration became a permanent government agency through his co-sponsorship in the 85th Congress and that SBA loans were increased and tax burdens on small businesses were reduced.

"These benefits will stimulate healthy growth and expansion of the modest enterprises which are the backbone of our economy," he said. "Republicans initiated and successfully pushed them through."

Potter made his statements in a speech prepared for delivery here at the end of a campaign swing through Macosta, Lake and Osceola Counties.

★ ★ ★

Potter, the only Republican holding a statewide elective office in Michigan, is seeking his second full term in the Senate. He first was elected in 1952 to fill the unexpired term of the late Arthur H. Vandenberg.

His Democratic opponent is Lt. Gov. Philip Hart.

First U.S. Jet Liner Hits Smoke Trouble

LONDON (AP)—America's Boeing 707, beaten by the British Comet in the race to be the first jet in commercial service across the Atlantic, ran into smoke trouble over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

People living near London airport complained the giant's four underslung jet engines give off too much smoke on take-off. Seven municipal authorities in Middlesex and Surrey Counties have sent a demand to the Ministry of Civil Aviation that Pan American must find means of reducing its smoke stream.

DEFINITELY NOT A BROWNIE — Shapely Lisa Gaye plays the Indian maid in television's "Northwest Passage" seen each Sunday, along with Buddy Ebsen, star of the show as Sgt. Hunk Marriner of Roger's Rangers. The program is based, albeit loosely, on the Jenneth Roberts novel of the same title.

They're Out Together Dancing Inside Hoops

Aly Khan—dancing chic to chic with Eleanor Whitney—would not be inveigled into one of the hoops. But others who liked the Ed Fegeen Fitzgerald idea of one rula hoop to a customer said, "It's great for togetherness, especially when you've four in a hoop." The Astor's out for some of the Waldorf ballroom business, and Col. Serge Obolensky, the Astor v.p., is introducing hand-kissing to Boardway and the West Side.

Buddy Ebsen in Rugged Role

Outdoor Hero Recounts How He Qualified for 'Northwest Passage'

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Buddy Ebsen, who plays the role of an outstanding woodsman of colonial days in the new television series "Northwest Passage," was ambushed the other day into describing his personal life in the woods and how to start a fire without matches.

"You take a couple of hot electrical wires," he said, "and touch their ends together and if you're lucky the sparks will eventually light something."

Ebsen, the most candidly refreshing TV outdoor hero who has yet crossed our wilderness path, confessed that his personal life in the woods has been confined to serving as outdoor consultant to his daughter's Brownie troop.

However, as Sgt. Hunk Marriner of Rogers' Rangers in Kenneth Roberts' "Northwest Passage," on NBC-TV Sundays, he's the craftiest woodsman on the winning side of the French and Indian War.

Ebsen has three daughters, aged 9, 8 and 6, and one attractive wife (a Brownie mother) who accompanied him to New York and listened with growing horror as he described his life in the woods as outdoor consultant for her Brownie troop.

"I have here," he said, "a card identifying me as a Brownie outdoor consultant — and I got it just the way every other consultant got his. My wife said she had to take the Brownies to the woods for a weekend and a man had to be along.

"So I, along with 24 other Brownie fathers, enlisted in this course taught by a Brownie leader.

"First she showed us pictures of things like a guy up to his armpits in snow and she'd say, 'This is snow.' I kept asking her how to make a fire without matches, but she kept ignoring me.

"Evidently it isn't required in the course, because I made the grade anyway. And that's how I mastered life in the great outdoors — with the Brownies."

Jail Seems Like Home to This Veteran Inmate

ST. CATHERINES, Ont. (UPI)—William Mallette thinks there's no place like jail. The 26-year-old Canadian has spent all but about one year since 1948 behind prison walls, according to Crown attorney Lloyd Goodwin.

He was assured another five years confinement recently when he was convicted of breaking and entering three businesses in the St. Catherines area.

Ike Implores: Contribute More

Urges Greater Help for World Bank, Monetary Fund by 86 Nations

NEW DELHI (AP)—Presient Eisenhower appealed today to the 66 member nations of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund to increase their contributions to the two financial organizations.

"A constructive increase in their resources would greatly enhance their usefulness to the free world community," Eisenhower said in a message read at the opening of the annual conference of the fund and the bank.

"It is my conviction that through these institutions we can give real encouragement and hope to all member countries in the decade ahead," he said.

The monetary fund maintains a pool of dollars and other currencies from which members may borrow when trade fluctuations bring their foreign currency reserves to dangerous lows. The World Bank makes loans for development projects, especially to underdeveloped countries.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower's message was read by U. S. Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, who urged that the conference give urgent attention to the matter of increases in their quotas of contributions to the two international agencies. He expressed hope that the meeting would direct the Excutive Board to make recommendation on increases by the end of the year.

No figure has been proposed formally for the quota increases, but 50 per cent is the amount generally talked of.

★ ★ ★

Anderson also transmitted Eisenhower's recommendation for a new international lending agency to finance projects in underdeveloped countries on easier terms than the World Bank gives. The American secretary said his government has no blueprint for such an agency but expects the conference to give it informal consideration that might produce specific plans later.

★ ★ ★

Earlier in the opening session the conference chairman, Jean Van Houtte of Belgium, had been cool to the American proposals for increased aid to underdeveloped countries. He said Belgium favors more aid to such nations but thinks too much dependence is being placed on government funds. He urged that private capital be encouraged to play a bigger role.

Per Jacobsson, the Swedish managing director of the monetary fund, in his report also urged that the contributions to the fund be increased.

Jacobsson said that the Bretton Woods conference which set up the fund in 1944 had allocated the quotas on the basis of prewar trade figures. The volume of world exports, he reported, is now 60 per cent higher, and the price of goods in international trade has increased 140 per cent.

Japanese Cameras Mount in Export Sales

TOKYO — More than 40 per cent of the 100,000 cameras Japan is producing monthly are being exported. Foreign sales amounted to $10,000,000 in 1956 and an estimated $17,000,000 in 1957. The cameras are manufactured entirely from Japanese raw materials, which make up 2 per cent of production cost.

It costs the U. S. about $80,000 to train a military jet pilot.
