Bids for Airport Exceed Budget

Bright City Students Will Tackle Russian

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

A group of Pontiac's brighter youngsters will be able to match nyet for nyet (no for no) with their Russian counterparts.

The Russian language will be taught for the first time in the history of this city's school system to 35 "rapid learners" at Madison Junior High School.

The Board of Education was told of the coming "experiment," slated for the second semester of this year, at its regular meeting last night.

Dr. Russell W. Curtis, coordinator of secondary education, assisted by a team of teachers, delivered an evaluation report of the Rapid Learner program introduced in the junior high schools last year.

There are at present 10 classes of approximately 300 outstanding 7th and 8th grade students undergoing special instruction.

The average IQ (intelligence quotient) of the rapid learner student is 124. Normal IQ for students of the same age group is 90 to 110.

Major emphasis will be on Russian in the "exploratory experience in foreign languages" rapid learner class at Madison. German, French and Spanish also will be taught.

★ ★ ★

Teacher of the course will be Mrs. Joseph Davis, who has an education major in Russian.

"Russian is not easy," says Mrs. Davis. "It is one of the more difficult languages to learn. But, we have exceptional students.

"The children will learn common phrases and a basic conversational knowledge. Stories will be read to them in Russian and records and tape recording apparatus will be used to aid in their study.

"As in anything, the youngsters should understand the people better by learning something of the language. We will also try to provide them with some cultural background of Russia."

Curtis said it is contemplated that the school system will offer the study of the Russian language on an elective basis at the senior high level as soon as details and personnel can be worked out.

5 Detroit Toughs Claim Police Beat Them Up

4 Officers Are Hurt in Trying to Forestall an Expected Gang War

DETROIT (UPI) — Five youths arrested following a street battle between a teenage gang and police charged today that they were beaten by the officers.

Four patrolmen were injured in the battle, which erupted last night when police tried to break up a mob of Negro youths which had gathered for an expected fight with a group of white youths.

A four-man police cruiser crew, investigating a reported large gang gathering, came upon between eight and 10 youths crammed into an old car parked on Sixteenth St.

Police said Nolan refused and said: "What right have you to question me?"

The officer grabbed Nolan by the arm and the youth knocked him down.

At this point, the rest of the gang got out of the car and attacked the four officers.

Two squad cars with reinforcements arrived and, after a brief battle, most of the gang fled. Four youths were arrested at the scene and one was taken into custody at his home.

All four of the patrolmen were injured.

They were Walter Suchara, 38, who suffered bruises on the back and ribs; Fred Dayton, 35, who suffered a hip injury; Harold Williams, 28, who sprained his right arm and wrist, and Raymond Yates, 36, who suffered an injured arm, wrist and shoulder.

The five youths arrested charged today that they were beaten on the way to the Vernor station and at the station.

Thaddeus Steel, 16, who was accused of hitting Suchara with a chair, told the Wayne County prosecutor's office he was beaten and kicked by at least four pa-

The youths made their accusations against the police in formal statements to acting chief trial lawyer John W. Coury.

Coury said the policemen involved would be questioned today.

Ike Wants Positive Ideas From Nikita

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower has made a new bid to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev: Come to Washington next week with "constructive ideas and suggestions" instead of "suspicion, threat or stubborn prejudice."

In a radio-TV address to the nation last night, the President said he approached his talks with the Soviet boss in "good manners and candor" and without weakness. He promised that "no principle or fundamental interest will be placed upon any auction block."

★ ★ ★

He urged Americans to receive Khrushchev with "courtesy and dignity." The Soviet Premier's visit, he said, would be "a thousandfold worthwhile" if it gave him "some real appreciation" of the spirit and conscience of America.

Eisenhower's speech set the stage for his historic series of meetings with Khrushchev which open in the White House next Tuesday afternoon.

The chief executive also reported on his recent trip to West Germany, Great Britain and France. He said Allied leaders varied in their estimates of how the Khrushchev talks would turn out but agreed that Eisenhower's newest effort to melt the cold war was "clearly one that had to be made."

"It is my profound hope that some real progress will be forthcoming, even though no one would be so bold as to predict such an outcome," the President said.

"The choice before world leaders is momentous," he added. "Could we create an improved atmosphere of mutual understanding and serious purpose, it would be possible to attack, with renewed hope, the problems that divide us.

"If the chairman of the council of ministers of the U.S.S.R. has constructive ideas and suggestions that could provide the basis for responsible negotiations on the issues that divide us, we would welcome the opportunity to study them with our Allies."

American officials hoped particularly that Khrushchev would arrive in Washington with some acceptable idea for resolving the Berlin crisis. They said this was uppermost in the President's mind when he invited "constructive" proposals from the Soviet leader.

Throughout his speech Eisenhower emphasized that he does not intend to abandon any principle of basic American policy in his search for new approaches to solution of East-West problems.

Any agreement for a later summit meeting, he said, "must be based upon the certainty" of Soviet respect for the position of the Western powers in Berlin.

In addition, he said, "there must be some clear Soviet indication, no matter how given, that serious negotiation will bring about real promise of reducing the causes of world tensions."

"Firmness in support of fundamentals," Eisenhower said, "with flexibility in tactics and methods, is the key to any hope of progress in negotiation."

★ ★ ★

The President's speech created the impression that it had been written, at least in part, for Khrushchev himself to read.

It blended the themes of politeness to the visitor and toughness in support of basic principles.

Reading it, Khrushchev would be able to find no support for any hope he might have that the President was ready to make major concessions to him on such issues as Berlin, German unification and the need for enforcement machinery to safeguard any disarmament agreement.

Detroiter to Build Courthouse

Oakland County supervisors already are looking forward to ground breaking ceremonies after speedily and unanimously accepting architects' recommendations this morning that a Detroit builder be awarded the largest of three contracts for the proposed $3,000,000 courthouse.

All 83 members of the Board of Supervisors Monday must put the final okay on those chosen for general and mechanical contractors. The electrical contract already has been approved.

Acceptance of the bid of $2,061,000 by O. W. Burke Co. is expected to keep the county free of litigation which for years has snarled plans for the courthouse.

The last time the courthouse planning supervisors decided to hand the top contract to a local firm, who was second low bidder, reportedly to ease unemployment here. The low bidder filed suit, which was later dropped, permitting submission of the new bids received Wednesday.

What kept the supervisors from such entanglements this time was that the difference between the two top general (architectural) contracts came to $32,900. The last time it was but $2,305.

"This very substantial difference left no doubt in our minds who would get it this time," said David Levinson, chairman of the building committee.

Monday, Levinson will recommend to the full Board that Burke be awarded the general contract, and the R. L. Spitzley Co., of Detroit with a low mechanical bid of $679,800, be given the mechanical work. Schultz Electric Co. of Pontiac will get the electric contract.

Bringing smiles to the faces of Levinson and other supervisors this morning was the fact that the three low bids now total $3,049,700, compared to $3,054,700 in bids submitted in April. They had expected an increase.

$44,000 Deficit as Federal Aid Deadline Nears

Quality or Size May Have to Be Trimmed; 2 Other Alternatives

Low bids for the Pontiac Municipal Airport terminal project yesterday exceeded available construction funds by more than $44,000.

To get the $390,000-plus project going by the Sept. 30 deadline for federal participation, officials said there were three alternatives:

1. Either the terminal must be trimmed in size or quality.

2. The city must borrow $44,000 against next year's anticipated state and federal aid.

3. Or Pontiac itself must kick an extra $44,000 into the project.

The latter solution appeared, on the surface, to be the easiest, involving less red tape and no redesigning.

Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager, labeled the other two alternatives as "highly undesirable."

A fourth possibility — that the state might come to the city's aid with more 1959 funds — is "exceedingly slim," Hoskins said.

The airport manager ruled out any chance that more 1959 federal funds might be forthcoming.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said a conference would be called Monday to consider, among other possibilities, a request to the City Commission for more money.

Time loomed as an important factor, since the federal government has threatened to withdraw $176,830 in federal aid if construction contracts are not signed by the end of the month.

Taken alone, the low bids for construction of the one-story terminal and three-story tower totaled $318,242—more than $18,000 over the $300,000 budgeted by city, state and federal governments for this portion of the project.

PRICE: $344,154

Of the 20 bids submitted by contractors for the general, mechanical and electrical work in the project, the lowest were

Iceland Blasts U.S. Guard Acts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Icelandic ambassador protested today that American guards at Keflavik Airport forced two Iceland officials to lie in puddles of water for 10 minutes and threatened to shoot them if they opened their mouths.

Ambassador Thor Thors delivered the protest to Fey Kehler, the acting assistant secretary of state for European affairs.

Thors met with Kohler for an hour. Afterward, he told reporters that the meeting went off "in the most amiable way with the greatest understanding, and the State Department is most interested in taking urgent and immediate measures to avoid such accidents from happeng again."

Thors did not specify what measures were being taken.

In a dispatch from Reykjavik, the New York Times said the incident had caused an upsurge in anti-American feeling in Iceland.

Thors told newsmen at the State Department that the account of the incident given by the Times was correct.

The Times story said the Icelanders, one in the uniform of the Icelandic Airport Service, were escorting two German pilots to a hangar where their aircraft was under repair.

★ ★ ★

The story quoted the American command as saying the area is restricted at night though open in the daytime. It said the Icelanders said there was no indication it was a closed area.

62 Years Together

Commerce Twp. Couple Longest Married at Fair

First prize for being the longest married couple at Old Timers Day yesterday at the Michigan State Fair went to Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Lownds of 8751 Cooley Beach Dr., Commerce Township. Lownds, 80, and his wife, 77, have been married for 62 years.

This was the first time in 50 years they attended the State Fair. They said they hadn't planned to go this time either, but just decided on the spur of the moment to enjoy an outing together.

"Roy had been working quite hard in the garden during the morning, and we felt the change would be good," said Mrs. Lownds.

"We don't feel any different about winning the prize," she added, "but Roy is a little bit stiff in the joints today after all that walking."

Mrs. Lownd's hobby is crocheting when she's "not busy getting meals and straightening up the house." They live happily alone these days after raising a family of five children.

"But we miss them," said Mrs. Lownds. "That's why Thanksgiving is our favorite time of the year. It's Roy's birthday and the family usually manages to get together here for the occasion."

One of their daughters, whom they do get to see quite often though, is Mrs. E. M. Palm who lives just down the street from them. The other daughter, Mrs. A. J. Card, lives in Rose City.

The Lownds also have three sons, Glen at Whitehall, Alwyn of Kenmore, N. Y., and Ralph of Drayton Plains, who is director of personnel at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac.

Then there are 15 grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren and a great-great-grandson.

Asked what they enjoyed the most at the Fair, Mrs. Lownds said the concert at the Music Shell was best.

"It gave us a chance to sit, and the music was very good."

Six Children, Mother Killed

Freight Train Rams Car on Way to School; Father in Shock

A school patrol boy was injured. He was struck by debris from the car and a fragment imbedded in his back.

Irene Zimmerman, 39, died about three hours after the accident. Five of her children were killed outright in the crash and the sixth died a few moments later, just after reaching the hospital.

Mrs. Zimmerman's husband, James, was hospitalized for shock after a priest told him of the tragedy. The six boys and girls who died were the only children of the farm couple.

★ ★ ★

"It only sounded like a small thud," said Dean Fleming, who heard the crash from his nearby store. "It sounded like somebody dropped something on the floor."

U. S. Military at Manila Set for Any Laos Alert

From Our News Wires

MANILA — A crack Philippines "emergency force" is on combat alert and ready to rush to Laos "on a moment's notice," a Defense Department spokesman disclosed today.

At the same time, U.S. military spokesmen said American naval forces at Sangley Point and Subic Bay and the American Air Force at Clark Field are prepared for an alert.

They emphasized, however, that so far no alert had been ordered and they denied that there had been any buildup of the American forces in the Philippines as a result of the Communist activity in Laos.

At Vientiane, Laos, fighting was reported at a complete standstill today and impending arrival of United Nations observers was advanced as a possible cause.

"Not a shot has been fired anywhere in Laos in the past 24 hours," Information Minister Sisseuk Na Champassak said at a military briefing session. "Maybe it's because United Nations observers are arriving soon."

Earlier this week Laotian military sources said alleged invaders from Communist North Viet Nam began withdrawing as soon as the U.N. began studying Laotian accusations of Communist aggression.

He denied that his government has deliberately exaggerated the scope of the Communist uprising.

Panya stopped off to confer with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd before going on to New York to back the Laotian appeal for immediate assistance from the United Nations.

Arriving from Paris, he told reporters at the London airport the Laotian government regards the revolt as a grave and serious crisis.

Some British newspaper accounts have spoken of "the war that never was" and said very little fighting has taken place in the Southeast Asian country.

Justifies Questioning of Knight

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said last night that critics of police handling of Trooper Albert W. Souden's death probe should be concerned with the rights of the public as well as those of a criminal suspect.

A group of attorneys headed by Donald C. Dilley, Kent County circuit court commissioner, protested yesterday that State Police "aggressively denied Alvin Knight the basic constitutional and legal rights to which every citizen is entitled."

★ ★ ★

In reference to ex-convict Knight who has orally admitted slaying of Souden, Childs commented:

"There was no reason to violate his rights and, when talking about rights to be protected, they should be extended to the public as well as to him."

Dilley wrote Childs and questioned whether evidence obtained after "28 straight hours of interrogation" is admissible in court. He quoted a statute which says a person arrested without a warrant "must without unnecessary delay be taken before the most convenient magistrate."

Dilley's letter said Childs and other officers resorted to a "vicious and reprehensible practice more closely associated with wartime Germany and the present Communist police state."

PLAN CLERGY CONVOCATION — Michigan State University Oakland will be the setting for a clergymen's convocation on Oct. 7. Plans for the first in a series of educational programs to be conducted in cooperation with the continuing education program at the university, were completed yesterday by a steering committee of ministers from Macomb and Oakland counties. Included in the group are (from left, seated) the Rev. Raymond Wolf of Mount Clemens, the Rev. Joseph Chapman of Pontiac and the Rev. J. Douglas Parker of Rochester. Standing (from left) are the Rev. J. E. Yates of Royal Oak, Dr. Lowell R. Eklund, director of continuing education at MSUO, and the Rev. Robert Hermanson of Avon Township, committee chairman.

Ministers Group Plans Convocation at MSUO

By LEE WINBORN

A steering committee of ministers from churches in Macomb and Oakland counties met yesterday at Michigan State University Oakland to complete plans for a clergymen's convocation to be held Oct. 7 at the university.

The convocation will be the first educational program of a series which will be conducted in cooperation with the continuing education program of MSUO.

Calling themselves the "Clergy Friends of MSUO," the group has invited all ministers in the two-county area and adjoining communities to attend the meeting.

The program, which will start at 9 a.m., will feature as speakers, D. B. Varner, MSUO chancellor, and Dr. George A. Buttrick, dean of chapel at Harvard University.

According to the Rev. Robert Hermanson, chairman of the steering committee, the purpose of the convocation is "to stimulate an early phase of development of awareness on the part of the clergy and church the urgent need for professional excellence and responsible leadership in a free society through exploration of the adult programs of the university designed to serve the continuing educational needs of church personnel, both professional and volunteer."

★ ★ ★

"We are hopeful," said Hermanson, "that all clergymen of the MSUO community will attend the convocation and participate in this early phase of development of secular programs for themselves and the lay people of their churches."

Citing the proximity of the new university to their respective churches and the "philosophy and aggressive spirit" of its adult education program, the clergymen are urging all other ministers in the area to be present.

Members of the steering committee planning the Oct. 7 program are Rev. Hermanson, University Presbyterian Church, Avon Township; the Rev. Raymond Wolf, American Lutheran Church, Mount Clemens; the Rev. J. Douglas Parker, First Methodist Church, Rochester; and the Rev. J. E. Yates, Emmanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church, Royal Oak.

Others are the Rev. Lenworth R. Miner, Macedonia Baptist Church, Pontiac; the Rev. Joseph Chapman, Bethany Baptist Church, Pontiac; and Dr. Lowell R. Eklund, director of continuing education at MSUO.

One of the main objectives of the convocation, in addition to exploring the kinds of educational needs that the university can serve, is the establishment of a permanent standing committee to serve as a liaison group between the larger body of clergymen and the university.

It will be the prime function of the group to develop further programs, the Rev. Hermanson said.

Some of the fields being considered for study by the church-related groups are guidance and counseling, church business administration, church architectural trends, trends in secular education and teaching techniques and methods.

Bible education, leadership development, sermon preparation and interprofessional encounters also may be included.

In commenting upon the forthcoming convocation and its objectives, Chancellor Varner said:

"This University is committed to development and upgrading through secular education of all professional and social service groups of our society for which the university has academic resources.

"The church, of course, is one of the institutions of our culture most deserving of the benefits of secular educational opportunities," he added.

"In this respect, we are following the pattern of our parent institution, MSU, which has for several years conducted extensive and worthwhile church-related programs.

"I hope that clergy and lay people of all faiths will feel free to explore their needs with us. We would also hope that we could cooperate in providing occasional interfaith programs as well."

Those planning to attend the Oct. 7 convocation have been asked to contact the university in advance for reservations.

Terminal Bids Exceed Budget

Electrical — Fred W. Moote Electrical, Inc. of Pontiac, $27,942.

Bids for another portion of the project — an entrance drive, service road and parking lot — fell within alloted funds.

The lowest, from Shingledecker General Contractors of West Bloomfield Township, was $71,221. This, combined with contingencies and fees, will be within the budget figure of $90,000, said Hoskins.

Hoskins blamed the high bids on rises in construction costs and the shortage of steel that has come about since costs were estimated last November.

He said that the low bids appeared to be "fair" in light of the prices quoted in the other bids submitted.

The city already has earmarked $108,170 for the terminal project. The state share is $105,000 and the federal portion $176,830.

"The city may have to spend a little more than originally planned, but it still is getting a tremendous amount of aid in financing this project," said Hoskins.

The state and city planned this summer to put $95,000 each in the project, with the rest coming from the federal government. But when the federal government slashed its participation late last month, the city had to add another $10,670 to keep the project alive.

The State Department of Aeronautics was holding the bids over the weekend in Lansing. Ordinarily, when bids are favorable, the department designates its choice of contractors immediately and asks the participating municipality to approve the selections.

Sees Need for Improved Fiscal Planning by County

Oakland County's budget preparations should be "improved and modernized in order to keep supervisors better informed about the county's limited income position."

This was the general recommendation released today by Civic Research, Inc. as the Board of Supervisors prepares to receive the proposed 1960 budget of $12,626,784 at its Monday meeting.

Although it came as no surprise to most county officials, especially those who must prepare the annual budgets, the study said the county "is faced with a serious curtailment of revenues beginning in 1960."

Realizing too that additional sources of revenue are scarce, the study suggests a more thorough breakdown and explanation of how to spend more wisely what money is available.

"It is particularly difficult at the present time for the Board of Supervisors to fulfill its role of determining basic fiscal policies when they do not have available detailed information on the nature, type, costs and efficiency of the several county functions," the report said.

NOT A CRITICISM

James Sherry, Detroit researcher who made the study, said it was not meant as a criticism of the budget-preparing Board of Auditors.

Sherry suggests the auditors adopt a new "performance budgeting" system, as compared to the present line item budgeting, "to further refine the budgetary tools at hand to better assess the performance and the efficiency of operations."

He said this could be accomplished in part with a verbal summary in the budget explaining the county's current financial condition and "justifying any recommendation for changes in the previous year's programs."

Those mandatory expenditures required by law (welfare, for instance) should be separated from what Sherry terms "permissive" services of the county. He said this would develop a priority system of spending essential because annual tax yields are decreasing.

"Sound fiscal planning and management are essential if Oakland County is to cope with the fiscal problems which confront it," Sherry said.

"The trend of a stablizing tax base has been developing since 1957, and is likely to create financial difficulties in future years unless there is an unexpected change in the tax base or new source of county funds," he concluded.

Russian Is Slated for Select Students

The rapid learner program will progress into the ninth grade next year and successive grades each following year as the original 7th grade students advance through junior and senior high school.

It is available to all qualified students. Sixth grade teachers and elementary principals recommend their exceptional pupils for rapid learner classes in the junior highs.

Curtis explained to the Board last night that an "enriched program in depth" is provided rather than an emphasis on acceleration, with the exception of mathematics.

Rapid learner teachers reported their classes had more curiosity and initiative in learning than the average class, engaging in a great deal more "outside reading."

Said Curtis:

"We have not tried to hide the fact from the other students that these are special classes. We have no indication that they resent it and we have had no complaints.

"In fact, one of the best advantages of the program is that with the far superior students missing from the regular classrooms, other students get a chance to lead that they otherwise would not have."

GMC Truck Sales Jump in August

Domestic retail deliveries of GMC trucks continued their upsurge in August, with heavy-duty trucks pacing the sales gains over the corresponding period of 1958, it was announced today by Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division.

He said 110 per cent more trucks in the 5-ton-and-up weight bracket were delivered in August than in the corresponding month last year.

Diesel sales alone in that weight class ran 259.5 per cent higher last month than in August a year ago.

These sharp gains in heavy-duty sales sent GMC's total deliveries in August climbing to 6,942 units, a 23.3 per cent increase over August, 1958.

For the second time, the second low bidder in the general construction field was the Pontiac firm of J. A. Fredman, Inc. It's bid this time was for $2,093,000.

Luckenbach said the larger spread was because Fredman asked a like amount because of winter construction.

Should supervisors Monday approve recommendations construction might begin this month, Levinson said. He said ground-breaking might be held after the supervisors' meeting Sept. 21.

DETROIT — Los Angeles has twice as many automobiles as all of South America. St. Louis has twice that of Japan.

Wild Auto Hits Teenage Crowd

11 Injured on Street in Windsor; Witness Says: 'It Was Terrible'

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — An automobile went out of control in downtown Windsor yesterday and plowed into 40 teenage students waiting for a bus. Eleven were injured.

Hospital attendants said none of the children was in critical condition.

Most seriously injured was Gayle Scammell, 18, who suffered a fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries.

Police said the students were waiting for a bus when a car driven by Mrs. Antonia Sipos, 36, went out of control.

Mrs. Sipos, who was injured, was taken to a hospital and placed under sedation. Witnesses said she got out of the car, crying "Oh, my God!"

The car jumped over a curb and smashed into the group standing in front of a gasoline station. Five of them were carried forward in front of the car until it crashed into a parked car.

★ ★ ★

John Ghione, 41, one of the station owners, said, "It was terrible. The kids that were hurt were moaning and crying. Some of the others were screaming."

"It was worse than anything I saw during the war," said Ghione, who fought in Europe during World War II.

Schoolgirl Grabbed, Raped on Way Home

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — A 15-year-old Grand Rapids high school girl was raped minutes after she got off a school bus yesterday, Kent County sheriff's officers reported.

★ ★ ★

The girl, a student at Grand Rapids Creston High, said a man about 30 years old drove up just after she got off the school bus about three-quarters of a mile from her home in suburban Grand Rapids Township.

★ ★ ★

She said the man leaped from the car, dragged her beneath a barbed wire fence and attacked her in the underbrush.

Keeps Stealing Away

HUDDERSFIELD, England (UPI) — A nine-year-old boy was taken to a psychiatrist in hopes the doctor could find out why he kept stealing things. Then the boy was sent to a juvenile home. He stole a toy from the psychiatrist's office.

The Day in Birmingham

Name Officials for Exhibit of Religious Art in October

BIRMINGHAM — Directors and patrons have been named for a national exhibition of contemporary American religious art to be sponsored by Holy Name Catholic Church here Oct. 15 through Oct. 26, according to the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Eugene Paddock, pastor and chairman of the exhibition.

Patrons, many of them industrialists and executives living in the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area, include D. E. Ahrens, Joseph Balder, Dan Byrne, Frederick and Louis J. Columbo Jr., John Cronin, John Davis and A. G. DeLorenzo.

Also listed are Fred Selman, Robert Taylor, Kenneth C. Tiffany, James Zeder, Walter A. Zielke and directors Roche and DiMarco.

Requests for exhibition space by high-ranking artists and craftsmen indicate the show may be one of the largest of its type ever held in the United States, according to Msgr. Paddock.

Explaining the purpose of the exhibition, he said "because there are so few such exhibitions of contemporary religious art in the United States, and these are confined to museums with naturally restricted patronage, we feel we can broaden the audience by having it on a parish level."

He added that the show also will "help re-establish the artist's awareness that the church gratefully includes his skills and talents in its workshop, as useful and meaningful to their spiritual growth."

Competition for prizes and purchase awards — believed to be among the largest offered for a specialized exhibition — is by invitation and the deadline of submittal of works is Sept. 28, Rev. Davidson said.

The Community Congregational Church of Lathrup Village will resume its regular identical church and church school services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday.

A special notice has been given to all children and youth that the church school will observe Sunday as registration day.

The church will be host to 12 foreign exchange students today, tomorrow and Sunday. They are part of a group of 150 graduate students at the University of Michigan who are taking an orientation course at Cranbrook Institute this weekend.

The students will stay in the homes of church members tonight and tomorrow night.

The Rev. John D. Rose, minister and founder of the church, was awarded a doctor of divinity degree by Piedmont College at its summer commencement exercises.

In awarding the degree, James E. Walter, college president, cited the growth of the local church under Rev. Rose's leadership and his contributions to the community and his denomination.

Circuit Courts Will Be Closed for Judges' Meet

All five Oakland County circuit courts will be closed Sept. 14, 15 and 16 in order that the circuit judges may attend the mandatory annual judicial conference of Michigan circuit and Supreme Court justices in Gaylord.

Judge William J. Beer announced, however, that he will hold the customary criminal arraignments and sentencings in his court Monday afternoon, after which he will leave for Gaylord with Judge Frank L. Doty.

Also to attend the three-day conference will be Judges H. Russel Holland, Clark J. Adams and Theodore F. Hughes and judges-elect Frederick C. Ziem and Stanton G. Dondero.

Purpose of the conference is to review judicial activities of the past year and offer suggestions for improvements.

Normal court sessions will be resumed Thursday, Sept. 17, at 9 a.m.

Dems Go Into Huddle

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Democrats opened their Midwest conference today — the biggest party get-together outside the National Convention. The top agenda item is to hammer out a farm program for the 1960 campaign platform.

Bloomfield Wife Seeking Divorce

Asking $2,000 a month temporary alimony, a Bloomfield Township housewife and mother of two filed a suppressed divorce suit against her Detroit businessman husband in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday.

Mrs. Marian Crocker of 3440 Bradway Blvd. charged her husband, Orson C., with infidelity, neglect and cruelty. A hearing on the suit has been set for Sept. 21.

Crocker, married 10 years ago to his wife, is a major stockholder in Goodale & Crocker, Inc., 15831 W. McNichols, manufacturing agents.

No Girl . . . No Football

Boy Leaves, Steals Cars

"No girl—no football" led a 14-year-old Ypsilanti boy to leave home, steal two cars and walk over 10 miles from Pontiac to Rochester yesterday before giving himself up at the Rochester police station.

John Coffey told Police Chief Sam Howlett that he had fallen in love with a 17-year-old girl and that his parents didn't like it. He added, too, that they wouldn't let him go out for football.

Finally, in a spirit of rebellion, he left home on his bicycle. He took the first car and got as far as St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, before it ran out of gas.

Then the youth took another car and was forced to abandon it at a Pontiac gas station when it began to smoke because it was out of oil.

The troubled boy took off on foot for Rochester where he turned himself in.

"He seemed like a nice, intelligent boy," the chief said. "He got good marks in school and had always taken his parents' advice before, but this time he didn't think they were giving him the right steer."

Oakland County sheriff's deputies came after the youth and booked him for unlawfully driving away an automobile. Ypsilanti authorities picked him up here.

Sen. McNamara Will Be Guest at Dem Dinner

Senator Patrick V. McNamara will be guest of honor next Thursday when the Bloomfield Democratic club holds its "Charter Dinner" at the Kingsley Inn, Bloomfield Hills.

The 8 p.m. affair will officially mark the entry of the club into the Democratic Party, according to founder and publicist for the Oakland County Democratic Committee, Mrs. William A. Clemmons.

Carlos G. Richardson, committee chairman from Waterford Township, will present the charter.

Toastmaster will be George Fulkerson, program chairman for the club founded in December of last year. At its first dinner Supreme Court Justice and author John D. Voelker was guest.

Practices What He Preaches

Aids Penniless Woman

CARROLLTON, Ga. (AP) — A homeless young Pennsylvania mother will live with a preacher and his family until her husband serves a year in a work camp for stealing $4.60.

Mrs. Harry R. Thomas, 19, said Thursday night she had no one to go back to in Shippensburg, Pa., after Carrollton residents contributed $25 for a train ticket.

She spent Wednesday night with her husband, 23, in county jail after she told police she had no place to go with her infant son and wanted to be in jail with her husband.

Thomas pleaded guilty to stealing 60 cents in cash and $4 worth of gasoline and cigarettes from a store.

Mrs. Thomas will live at the home of Bob Tumey, a barber and part time Baptist preacher.

OK Arms Talks Outside U.N.

All 82 Members Favor 10 - Nation Sessions, Though Some Growl

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —With a few sour notes, all 82 U. N. members have joined in a chorus of approval of a Big Four agreement for new 10-nation disarmament talks outside the U. N.

★ ★ ★

The 82-member U. N. disarmament Commission late Thursday gave general consent to a resolution on the talks which will start at Geneva early next year.

The vote unexpectedly brought to a close a meeting of the commission which had been expected to continue until Monday with many small nations criticizing the new machinery.

FEARS SELF-INTEREST

But Christian N. Palamas of Greece complained that the five Communist and five Western nations on the projected disarmament committee would view the subject "through the prism" of their own interest. He said Greece would deem invalid any consideration in her absence of questions affecting her interests.

Manuel Bisbe of Cuba declared that Britain, France, the Soviet Union and the United States had presented the commission with an accomplished fact which it had to accept. He voiced concern at "the trend to push the great questions outside the United Nations."

But six neutralist countries joined Ecuador in sponsoring the resolution, and 20 delegations expressed almost unqualified support for it.

Governor Faubus Bans Demonstration

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Gov. Orval Faubus has asked Arkansas residents not to demonstrate against evangelist Billy Graham if they happen to disagree with him on racial issues.

"In the present tense situation, with the people living under what many regard as the combined tyranny of the Justice Department and (Little Rock) Police Chief Gene Smith, any disagreement should not be carried to the point of demonstration," the governor said.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY?—You might think the creature above is a bear, but it happens to be Gunker, a deodorized pet skunk, his familiar white stripe not showing. He opens wide in Oconomowoc, Wis. for his favorite tidbit a marshmallow.

Six Gamblers Dodge Tax; Face Jail, $25,000 Fines

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Six big-money gamblers convicted of evading $326,315 in excise taxes face prison sentences of five years and fines of $25,000 each.

★ ★ ★

They have 10 days in which to decide whether to go to prison or appeal their conviction.

Two others, shown leniency because of their age, will not go to prison but must pay $25,000 fines.

Judge Cale J. Holder sentenced and fined the eight men in U. S. Dist. Court Thursday, suspending the five-year terms for Charles L. (Buck) Sumner, 71, and Joey Jacobs, 64, both of Indianapolis.

The judge gave the others until Sept. 21 to decide whether to appeal or to report for imprisonment. They are Leo (Bookie) Shaffer, 58, Chicago; Jules Horwick, 54, Chicago; Philip (Flippy) Share, 54, Minneapolis and Las Vegas; Irwin Gordon, 41, Las Vegas; James Tamer, 46, Detroit and Miami, and Eddie M. Wyatt, 60, Terre Haute.

Besides the fines, the eight must pay the costs of their six-week trial at Terre Haute, which may amount to $20,000. They also will face an undetermined civil liability that could run to a million dollars.

The eight gamblers were convicted July 30 of evading the 10 per cent excise tax on $3,263,150 worth of bets in 10 weeks of operation at Terre Haute in the fall of 1957. The government estimates that the syndicate handled 10 million dollars in bets during that period.

★ ★ ★

None of the defendants spoke before or after the sentencing, but Sumner, a former Marion County (Indianapolis) sheriff, and Jacobs took a tongue lashing from Judge Holder along with their probation.

Rob Coin Shop of Rare Items

Three Tie Up Owner, Take Out $50,000 in Collector's Numbers

DETROIT (AP)—Three men robbed a coins and stamps shop of an estimated $50,000 in collectors' items yesterday.

The trio, all wearing dark gloves, limited their theft to coins at the Coins and Stamps, Inc., store of Roman F. Lester, 45, in Grosse Pointe Park.

The men leisurely ransacked the store after binding Lester with wire to plumbing fixtures in the washroom.

A car used in the robbery was found abandoned in an eastside city parking lot today. Three of the stolen coins were found under the front seat.

Pact With Liberia Is Revealed by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States suddenly announced Thursday a two-month-old agreement with the African republic of Liberia promising to consult immediately on defense measures "in the event of aggression or threat of aggression against Liberia."

A State Department spokesman described the pact as an administrative agreement, not subject to Senate approval as a treaty.

State Department press officer Lincoln White was asked why, though the agreement was signed July 8, it was not made public until Sept. 10. He replied that the two months of secrecy was determined by "mutual agreement" of the two governments and he could not say more.

★ ★ ★

Asked whether a threat of aggression presently exists, White said no threat exists currently but the agreement looks to the future. He did not say from what quarter the United States thinks a threat might arise.

Approve Penal Camp for Women Prisoners

MARQUETTE (AP)—The State Corrections Commission, meeting in Marquette yesterday, unanimously approved a program to provide a conservation camp for 100 women prisoners.

Director Gus Harrison said as far as he knew it would be the first prison camp for rehabilitation of women in the United States.

Harrison said the proposal will be submitted to the legislature in the 1959-60 budget.

At present all women prisoners in Michigan are housed in the Detroit House of Correction on a lease arrangement. Harrison said there is no rehabilitation program for women prisoners in Detroit.

Traffic Bureau Corrects Saginaw Street Snarl

Smoother all-around traffic operation is now in effect on South Saginaw Street. The City traffic bureau should be commended for eliminating one unnecessary traffic signal.

★ ★ ★

The two lights formerly located at Raeburn and Rapid streets have been replaced with one traffic signal at Elm Street. This light is so adjusted that it does not cause undue traffic snarls during rush hours.

★ ★ ★

This is as it should be. Prior to the change the two lights were holding up rush hour traffic far beyond what might be expected for normal safety precautions.

Involvement in Laos Explained by Treaty

Invasion of the largely undefined border of India by Communist China is an extension of the trouble in Laos and Tibet. The main objective may be the Indian Province of Assam which is shown on Communist maps as Chinese territory.

Border fighting is challenging Indian sovereignty and the now thoroughly awakened Prime Minister NEHRU. Every one of the countries along the 2,000 mile frontier with Red China is under pressure by attack or infiltration.

The United States has a treaty obligation toward Laos and its two million people. It was signed by Sec. DULLES on Sept. 8, 1954. Other signatories to this Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) are Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines, Thailand and Britain. While Laos is not a signatory, it is specifically pledged the protection of the treaty.

★ ★ ★

Laotian capital in February, 1955, Laotian capital in February, 1955 after a meeting of the treaty powers, he promised that the U.S. would furnish air and sea power to repel Communist aggression. Under the Geneva Accords of 1954 ending the Indochina war, the U.S. is forbidden to put its own troops into Laos. We are now sending small arms and other defensive weapons into the area.

★ ★ ★

Since 1954 we have given the country many millions in military and economic aid in an effort to strengthen it against Communism. Most of this has gone to maintain Laos' 25,000 man army. At present there are 71 American military men there administering the military aid program and 100 civilian technicians instructing Laotian soldiers in the use of weapons.

Is it any wonder that Sec. Herter has warned Congressional leaders that developments in Laos are very dangerous?

Khrushchev's Presence No Excuse for Recess

Senators JOHNSON of Texas and DIRKSEN of Illinois, majority and minority leaders respectively, have used good judgment in rejecting Sen. SMATHERS' six week recess proposal. His idea seems to have been to get Congress out of Washington before the arrival of Soviet Premier KHRUSHCHEV.

Sen. JOHNSON pointed to the crowded Congressional docket and said that he thought most members of the Senate wanted to stay on the job until action was taken on labor, civil rights, housing and public works bills. These matters should not be left for the second session in January, the beginning of an election year.

Even more important, the Congress of the United States should not appear to be running away from a possible appearance of Khrushchev at a joint session of the House and Senate. That would be needless discourtesy to a guest of the President. It also would be ridiculous and cowardly. We should seize every opportunity to give Premier Khrushchev an understanding of the workings of democracy.

Congress is bogged down with work and tempers are growing short in the summer heat. Under the La Follette-Monroney reorganization of 1946, Congress is supposed to adjourn on Aug. 1 each year. But each year the sessions run longer and the work load is increasing to the point where it is almost a year long job.

The question of a future annual summer recess should be studied but adjournment at this particular time would be a bad move.

A Jungle That Might Help

David Lawrence Says:

Ike to Be Polite, Firm With Nikita

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower has served notice on Soviet Premier Khrushchev that there must be from him some sign of sincerity and good faith and of serious intention to negotiate an agreement between the East and the West, if there is to be any "summit" conference.

LAWRENCE

Eisenhower's television address, carefully prepared after his visits with the statesmen of the Western allied countries in Europe, is a warning that, while American citizens generally must be polite and the American government must show its spirit of good will toward the Soviet Premier, these manifestations of courtesy are not to be regarded as a sign of weakness or as any intention to retreat on those principles to which the West is dedicated.

It was not so much the words of the speech—which, to be sure, have been spoken in substance many times before by the President—but the fact that they were uttered on the eve of Khrushchev's arrival which causes them to take extraordinary significance.

For, in effect, Eisenhower is talking to the whole world. He is explaining the reasons for the exchange of visits and his hope that the American position will not be misconstrued by Khrushchev or anybody else.

There have been misgivings about the Khrushchev tour expressed by many elements inside the United States. Would the Soviet Premier regard the exchange of visits as a certain forerunner of a "summit" conference?

Would he take it for granted that the West is going to be content to sacrifice the people of West Berlin rather than to allow another crisis to build up around that issue?

Would the President engage in any private understandings or "negotiations" with the Soviet Premier without the presence of the heads of the other allied states?

GIVES ASSURANCE

The President covered every point in his speech. He gave an assurance that the United States does not intend to undercut its allies or to reach any agreements prior to a "summit" conference, and that even such a meeting will be held only if there is substantial proof of a serious intention on the part of the Soviets to negotiate an agreement. He said:

"Each of the leaders with whom I talked is fully aware of America's conviction that any agreement to hold a summit meeting must be based upon the certainty that our status and rights in Berlin be respected.

"In addition, we believe there must be some clear Soviet indication, no matter how given, that serious negotiation will bring about real promise of reducing the causes of world tensions.

"Should a summit meeting on such a basis ensue:

"We and our Allies stand ready always to negotiate realistically with the Soviets on any mutually enforceable plan for a reduction in armaments.

READY TO BEGIN

"We are prepared to make a real beginning toward solving the problems of a divided Germany.

"We are hopeful of arranging for wider contacts in ideas, publications, persons and information.

"We are, in short, ready to negotiate on any subject within the limits dictated by the dedication of our government and our people, to the cause of a just peace, and our loyalty to the United Nations and to its basic concept."

★ ★ ★

What this means is that, in response to a widely expressed view that some talk is better than no talk at all, the President is willing to try conversations with the Soviet Premier, but he makes clear that, after all, any real agreements must be made by all the Western powers together through their chosen leaders.

Dr. William Brady Says:

General Public's Beliefs About 'Exposure' Silly

Once the big wheel of a metropolitan paper that carried my column invited me to call on him. I hurried to his sanctum, where the great man, whose words were taken down by a secretary, proceeded to tell me some of the important facts of life—namely, that in civilized life brushing the teeth is as essential as bathing; that on a raw cold winter day baring the head even for a few moments is dangerous; and that notwithstanding theories to the contrary, anyone with common sense knows from observation and experience that exposure to cold and damp lowers resistance, particularly resistance to pneumonia, influenza and bronchial trouble.

DR. BRADY

I managed to remain quiet and deferential during this recital, but the man wasn't through yet, not by a jugful. He rounded off his lecture by saying that if he went for lunch at his club without overshoes when the pavement was at all damp he was sure to take . . .

Personally the big man was amiable and well meaning. He was a symbol of the general public's belief about "exposure" to such trivial conditions as wet feet, drafts, change of weather, bare head, bare knees, bare chest. It takes a hundred years, more or less, to correct these misconceptions in the popular mind.

It's a tough job persuading half-educated or poorly educated people that there are no "pores" in the skin, if by pore you mean an opening through which something may be absorbed or taken into the body.

Minute openings or mouths of the ducts of the sweat and sebaceous (oil) glands are commonly called "pores," but there is not only no evidence but it would be against nature to imagine anything entering the body through these openings. The sebum (skin oil) secreted by the sebaceous glands and the salt and water (perspiration) secreted by the sweat glands flow from the "pores" upon the surface, but it is impossible in any circumstance to reverse the flow through these channels.

The popular notion that the "pores" open and close with changes in temperature, clothing, etc., is as silly as the notion of absorbing food, water, medicine, chemicals etc. through the "pores." Imaginary "opening" or "closing" of the "pores" has nothing to do with personal comfort or safety or health under sudden variations in the environment.

Yes, I know. A baseball pitcher who cools off too quickly after such hard use of shoulder and arm; or a football player or a boxer or any athlete or one doing very hard work of any kind who cools off too quickly is likely to have sore muscles. Therefore, it is generally advisable for such a person to put on some extra clothing as soon as the strenuous work is finished—or else keep using the same muscles in similar activity but in only moderate degree at 5- to 10-minute intervals for an hour or two.

Whether sweating is favored or suppressed is only incidental. Soreness or stiffness in the muscles of the athlete or worker under such circumstances is due to failure of the circulation to carry the by-products of combustion away from the field fast enough. These waste products (mainly lactic acid and carbon dioxide) are excreted from the body through the lungs, liver and kidneys, not through the skin (in sweat). In any circumstance sweat is virtually just salt and water.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Readers Contemplate Visit by Khrushchev to America

What shall we show Mr. K. while he's here? Why not the social workers and juvenile officers we're taxed to pay for to care for unruly children whose parents would rather have two paychecks than train their own children?

Then show him the steel workers on strike, among the highest paid labor in the country, demanding more, not because they earn it, but because the steel companies are showing a profit.

Show him the young man starting out, asking about retirement benefits instead of asking about chance for advancement if he's willing to work. Show him the working man with a gun at his head, forced to join a union he doesn't believe in to hold his job.

Let him hear labor yell for a 30-hour week, knowing full well most employers would be glad to get 30 hours work from employes. Let him see pickets attack a fellow worker because he wants to do his job and feels he's adequately paid.

Show him a letter from a labor leader threatening reprisals against Congressmen voting to protect legitimate unions but to curb crooked unions.

Worker

Nothing can be gained by the Khrushchev visit except tremendous propaganda advantage for the Soviet. It's already being represented within the Soviet domains as proof that the U. S. is no longer hostile to communism.

★ ★ ★

This enhancement of the prestige of their persecutors is most disheartening news to captive nations, from the Baltic through the Balkans and through so much of the Orient.

★ ★ ★

Scandinavian countries had the moral strength to protest with such vigor that Mr. Khrushchev canceled his visit. We can't expect God to help us in our struggle for survival when we court the chief spokesman of the devil who repudiates God.

Helen Nord

295 Ferry Ave.

'What Does Press Know of Strike?'

What makes The Pontiac Press think it knows anything about the steel strike? Saying that it's not doing much harm is a bunch of baloney. When labor decides to put the pressure on business, it sure does it. The steel strike is showing a lot of people just who has the power and it's a good thing. Sometimes business is a little cocky and needs to be knocked down a bit.

Hourly Worker

Library Opponents Urge Issue's Defeat

In October the library committee of Waterford will ask taxpayers to vote for a new library and cultural center. This will increase our taxes, not much, but some. I have six children. If there's anything left after taxes, I like to buy them decent clothing and see they eat properly.

★ ★ ★

Paying more taxes to build a $300,000 library and cultural center seems unnecessary to me. Three of my children are in school which contain libraries. This seems enough to me.

★ ★ ★

A cultural center would be nice sometime in the future, but I can think of a lot of things I'd rather spend money on right now. I will note a definite "no" and encourage everyone I know to do the same.

No More Taxes

The library proposal has been turned down once and I hope it will be defeated again in October. Let the faction that wants this cultural center build it by subscription with their money and others who can afford it.

★ ★ ★

People of Waterford pay a pretty sizeable tax already. Most of us don't begrudge this money, for we know most of it has been used to build and maintain schools our children must have. These same schools have libraries. Make what we've already paid for more accessible to students who need and want to use the facilities.

★ ★ ★

A cultural center would be fine. Most of us could use a little of the finer things of life. I just don't want them shoved down my throat. This raise in our taxes is for an unnecessary luxury, and if you don't want to be stuck paying for it, you'd better get out and vote an emphatic "no" once and for all. Those who want this proposal passed will be out in force to vote. You won't defeat it by staying home and talking about it.

The Country Parson

Case Records of a Psychologist:

What's Behind Teenage Suicide?

If you like practical psychology, then hold a classroom clinic about Jerry's case. Probe into the possibilities. I have outlined many of the reasons why teen-agers use the tragic escape mechanism that Jerry selected. Open discussion of such problems frees youth from a lot of abnormal dreads, so talk about this case in Sunday School.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE,

Recently his mother said she'd take him to school on her way to the beauty parlor.

★ ★ ★

Jerry wasn't quite ready so she went to the garage to get the car. When Jerry failed to come out after a few minutes, and when she got no reply to her tooting of the horn, she went back inside the house.

DR. CRANE

Jerry was nowhere to be seen. She called and he did not answer. Then she mounted the stairs to his room. A scream was her next action, for she saw Jerry lying in a pool of blood in the center of the rug.

★ ★ ★

He had his .22 caliber rifle in one hand but a bullet hole in his forehead showed he had shot himself.

★ ★ ★

It looked like suicide, though he left no notes.

FERRET THE FACTS

This type of case reappears somewhere in America every few days and rates local headlines.

So I am offering it to you readers as the basis for discussion on Sunday in your Bible Classes or as material for an English theme in high school.

Why do you suppose Jerry took his own life, for that was the police opinion in the case?

Was he so lonely and unhappy that he felt life wasn't worth going on?

Did he fear being flunked in some courses? He was a top student so a "D" grade might have made him feel that his life was ruined.

Many parents also hold up such a lofty standard that the children consider they are disgracing the family name if they don't make straight "A".

Had he caught one or the other of his parents in unfaithfulness, so his idealism couldn't endure the jolt?

Had he embezzled funds and feared he would soon be found out?

Had he high pressured a girl friend into illicit relations and now dreaded exposure due to her pregnancy?

CLASSROOM CLINICS

Was he socially humiliated at feeling overly mollycoddled, as by being refused the family car?

Had he been brought up without a firm religious faith that would sustain him through a crisis? Had some atheist demoralized his spirit?

Had he been the victim of some homosexual advances or was panicky about auto erotic practices and feared he might go insane?

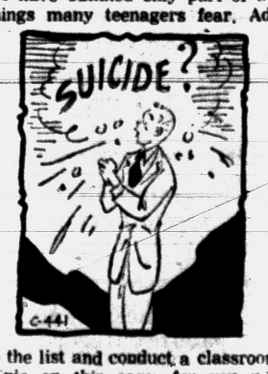

Had he been jilted by a girl friend and couldn't take it?

Had death taken some loved one so he felt it was futile to carry on?

What was it he feared so excessively that he fled from this earth via suicide to escape it?

For suicide is regarded as a cousin to other escape mechanisms, such as alcoholism, drug addiction, insanity, the rolling stone complex, etc.

I have outlined only part of the things many teenagers fear. Add to the list and conduct a classroom clinic on this case, for you will find it valuable to all concerned.

Private Sale Told by Midland

Mayor Testifies Dow Got City Land Without Competitive Bidding

MIDLAND (AP) — A private sale of city property to Dow Chemical Co.—without competitive bids — was disclosed in circuit court yesterday by Mayor James W. Stevens and Councilman Cletus E. Supinger.

Their testimony came in the trial of a suit before Judge Donald E. Holbrook against the City of Midland and Rich Publishing House Inc.

Five Midland taxpayers seek to invalidate a deed given by the city to the company in the sale of a small strip of land the publishing company plans to use for a newspaper expansion project. The company publishes the Midland Daily News.

The taxpayers contend that city property was sold to the publishing firm without competitive bids.

Supinger also asserted that the city owns subdivision lots and sells them in private sale. He referred to the Orchard subdivision project which the city owns.

In later questioning, Mayor Stevens also testified about the city property sale to Dow.

Carl H. Smith, attorney for the publishing firm, introduced as evidence minutes of a City Council meeting of June 15, 1955, granting Dow the option to buy the property and minutes of July 27, 1955, which relates the exercising of the option.

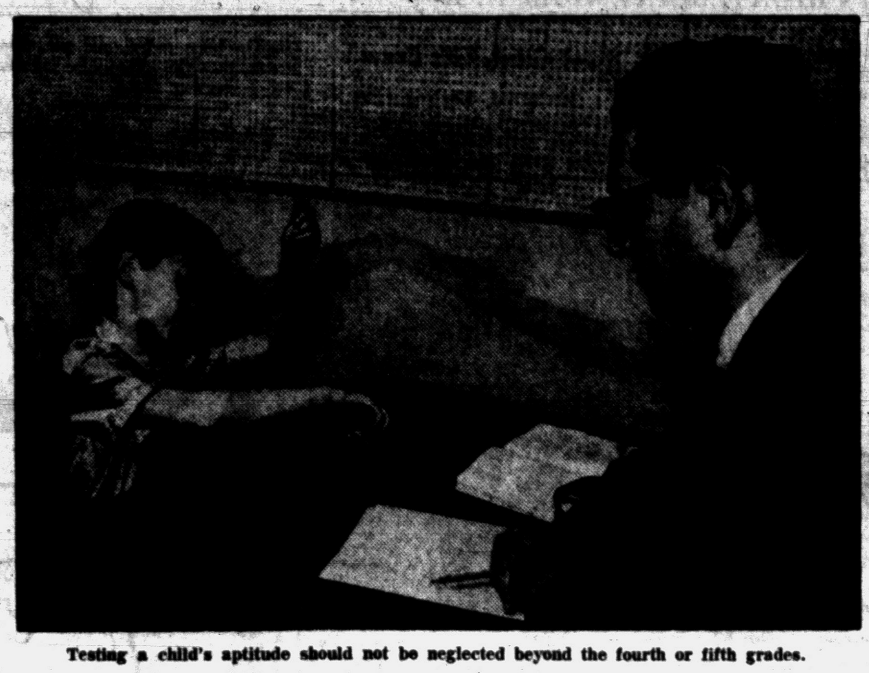

The hearing resumes today.

Card's Firm Bids Low

LANSING (AP) — Bernard Card and sons of Rose City submitted the low bids of $14,990 and $15,090, respectively, for the construction of state highway department storage buildings at Battle Creek and Kalamazoo, the state building division reported today.

Testing a child's aptitude should not be neglected beyond the fourth or fifth grades.

Best Education for Your Child

You Could Give Them Away but They Need Your Love

By DR. BENJAMIN FINE AND LILLIAN FINE

The fourth, fifth and sixth grades are a period of despondency for parents.

This age, together with that of adolescence, has been called the time when it is hardest to love your children, but the time when they need the most love.

We find ourselves nagging our child to do certain things, rather than asking his opinion or understanding his desire to be a grown up member of the family.

At the beginning of the fourth grade, a youngster should be able to read easy material fairly rapidly, and write legibly, if not beautifully.

His spelling ability is limited. He is eager to learn about the past. He likes to get money and spend it; he likes to measure things—he is ready for more intensive mathematics.

It is important to keep in mind that a 9-year-old who reads well and seems to have a sound foundation in other skills will not automatically retain those skills.

Reading must be constantly practiced. Parents can encourage children to read by having books and magazines in the home, and by setting an example.

Most 9-year-olds like to draw and paint; if they show real ability they should be encouraged and if possible given special training.

ALLOWANCE HELPS

Giving children a weekly allowance will probably help them handle money and use figures. Some may be interested in working out a budget for themselves. Discussing scores of baseball games and other sports is another way to encourage interest in figures.

Parents can do much to encourage interest in science. A young man doing cancer research told me, "My father brought me a cheap microscope on my 10th birthday, and suggested I look at a drop of water. It was the opening of a magic door to me."

The middle years of childhood are a period of increasing after-school activities. This is the time of Little League baseball teams, sand lot games, jump rope marathons, roller skating, extensive bike riding. It is also the time of music and dancing lessons, and religious school activities.

★ ★ ★

It is true we want our children to have every possible advantage, but we should also try to provide a little time for them to relax and daydream. It is not a good idea to so load a child's after-school program that he feels pressured.

★ ★ ★

What about a child who cannot do as much or as well as a fourth grader is expected to do? In such cases parents should run, not walk, to the school and insist on some remedial instruction.

The time to act is now! Any noticeable retardation, particularly in reading, should not be neglected beyond the fourth and fifth grades.

Suppose your child lisps, stutters, or cannot pronounce certain sounds correctly? Does your school system employ a speech therapist? If not, why not? A speech difficulty, however minor, is a serious handicap.

Emotional problems are often the major obstacles to a child's progress. An alert teacher knows when a student is troubled and immediately refers him to the school psychologist.

A GUIDANCE CLINIC

This is usually done after consulting parents. Sometimes the psychologist finds problems he cannot tackle and refers the child to a guidance clinic which treats the parents too. Parents are learning that early treatment of emotional maladjustments is excellent preventive medicine, smoothing the way for easier adolescence and adult living.

A psychologist also gives tests to determine scholastic achievement, mental ability, capacity to learn, personality characteristics and, later aptitude for certain vocations.

The field of testing is an intensely exciting one in which recent developments are phenomenal. There are intelligence tests, vocational tests, diagnostic tests, personality tests, and dozens of others.

★ ★ ★

Many educators have unquestioning faith in tests. And not only the educators! Personnel workers in many fields depend largely on tests to help select and even promote workers. The faith is probably justified in a majority of cases. But in individual cases tests can be misleading.

OPEN TO QUESTION

Parents should not accept test scores without question. If a parent insists, a teacher or guidance adviser can often arrange to have a child retested under more favorable conditions.

It is often advisable to have a child tested at different ages and for different purposes — to diagnose any subject matter weaknesses, test emotional maturity, discover special aptitudes and so on.

Considering the money and effort invested in preparing tests, most standardized tests are very low in price. However, some school systems refuse to buy tests, regarding them as "new fangled" frills. Others buy some tests but try to economize by making teachers mark them or by making pupils share a question sheet.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

By insisting that schools buy and use more and better tests—particularly diagnostic tests—parents can do a great deal to improve the quality of instruction their children receive.

Two Volunteer Tutors Say:

Children Find Languages Easy

MIDLAND (AP) — Two Midland women are engaged in a project to teach very young children foreign languages.

Mrs. John Van Stirum and Miss Maureen Lynch simply are interested in languages and want to see how well toddlers can learn them. Neither is a professional teacher and the program is an experiment.

Since last May they have devoted their spare time to classes in French and German for children five to 10 years old.

Mrs. Van Stirum teaches one class in French and another in German. Miss Lynch teaches two French classes. About 48 youngsters take part in the hour-a-week classes held in the homes of the two women.

UNDERSTAND TALES

"The results have exceeded expectations," the women said. "The children have learned a basic vocabulary, are able to sing songs in French or German and understand a few simple fairy tales."

Up to now the classes have been free. The two women plan to continue their teaching but will charge a nominal fee for new students to discourage those who aren't really interested and only enroll for the novelty of it.

Mrs. Van Stirum is a native of Germany. She studied languages there and at the Sorbonne in Paris. She lived a number of years in the Netherlands while her husband was associated with the Dow Chemical Co. there.

Miss Lynch, a secretary at Dow, is a graduate of Marygrove College in Detroit. She spent some time in Switzerland.

The women said they got the idea for the experiment from similar sessions conducted by the University of Nebraska. Miss Lynch noted that such classes were held in Fribourg, Switzerland, where she studied at one time.

During classes the youngsters play games using new foreign words, sing songs and are told stories.

A list of 10 to 12 new words is given to the youngsters each week to take home and study. Although records are not used in the classes the teachers recommend them for home use.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Van Stirum said that while seven or eight is an ideal age for children to start studying languages, she believes five-year-olds can benefit from an early start.

Correspondence Schools Need Soliciting Permits

LANSING (AP) — Representatives for out-of-state correspondence schools must obtain a permit to solicit prospective students in Michigan, Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams held Thursday.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, sought the opinion. He said officials of several correspondence schools asserted their representatives were not bound by state law to obtain a permit.

★ ★ ★

Predict Algeria Will Get Vote

Say De Gaulle Expects War to Finish Soon, but Will Wait 5 Years

PARIS (UPI) — Authoritative source predicted today that President Charles de Gaulle will give Algeria's voters a chance to decide their own future after a "cooling-off" period of about five years.

They said De Gaulle expected the Algerian war to be over within a year, but that it would take another four years or so to relax tensions sufficiently to provide a favorable atmosphere for a vote.

These sources predicted that this will be the substance of the new Algeria plan De Gaulle is expected to announce in a radio-television speech next Wednesday.

One key question remained unanswered—just what choices would be offered to the voters in the expected "self-determination" election.

The extremes would be complete independence or complete integration with France. In between, however, there are several varieties of home rule, and it appeared likely that the most Algeria would be offered was one of these.

★ ★ ★

Initial reaction from Algeria's European residents was cool, but they appeared to be willing for the most part to wait for the details.

Invented Living Marxism

Nikita Reorganized Soviet Politics

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

Not long after Stalin died, somebody in Nikita Khrushchev's frightened opposition — it's not clear just who it was—described him as "a man with an itch for organization — and reorganization."

★ ★ ★

Since 1955, when he emerged as the most powerful single figure in the Soviet dictatorship, Khrushchev has done some fantastic organizing and reorganizing.

A man of considerable political agility and boundless energy, he demonstrated his talent for organizing a political machine in a way which would have made him a master politician in any country.

As soon as he shoved shrewd Georgi Malenkov aside as Soviet Communist party boss in 1953, Khrushchev began populating key party posts with men who owed their careers to him. Four years later he was able to defy the majority of the party Presidium, until then the most powerful single group in Soviet politics.

★ ★ ★

That was an historic moment.

The Communist Central Committee, by then full of Khrushchev's own men, set a notable precedent by reversing the Presidium, successor to Stalin's Politburo. Khrushchev was able to throw his opposition out of the places of power. Old Bolsheviks V.M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich, along with Stalin's heir, Malenkov, aid others were licked by a wily politician.

★ ★ ★

From then on, Khrushchev was the Communist party. Any who opposed him were "antiparty."

Khrushchev reorganized Soviet

MRS. K — She'll accompany Nikita on visit.

agriculture, tossing aside the system of machine - tractor stations which under Stalin held power to allot machinery to collective farms and used it as a political bludgeon. He sent thousands of Soviet youths into "virgin lands" in Siberia and the east, to open up a new territory to farming. He demanded corn, corn and more corn to supply food for animals, one of the gravest weaknesses of Stalin era farming.

Khrushchev reorganized education. Young men and women who want to go on to higher education must take part in practical labor in Khrushchev's "work while you learn" program.

He reorganized Soviet science. No longer did it have to kowtow abjectly to Communist political theory. The result was more for agriculture, more for the military machine, the first space satellite.

He reorganized Communist theory itself. When dogmatic Marxism got in the way, he shoved it aside and substituted "living Marxism." Those dogmatists who objected were butts of his scorn, accused of being able only to quote from Marxist scriptures. His main contribution to present-day theory: all Socialist countries (meaning countries with Soviet-like systems) would achieve the ultimate goal of communism more or less at the same time. Independent socialism therefore would be impossible.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev reorganized propaganda. In the Middle East, he reversed all Stalin had done and embraced the Arab nationalist movement.

He introduced a propaganda of smiles, liberally laced with counter-balancing threats.

And he reorganized foreign policy. He forced high-level international meetings. He leaped into competition with the United States to extend economic aid to uncommitted countries. Shouting, gesticulating, pleading, he held up the U.S.S.R. as the only real champion of peace.

Through all this, Khrushchev retreated not an inch from a conviction that Soviet communism one day will conquer the world.

"If anyone believes our smiles involve the abandonment of the teachings of Marx, Engels and Lenin, he deceives himself badly," roared Khrushchev. "Those who wait for that will wait until the shrimp learns to whistle."

★ ★ ★

But communism, while developing, might use to advantage some of the ways of private enterprise and incentive. "Now I ask you," argued Khrushchev, "would it be bad for us if we spread our Marxist-Leninist teachings with a piece of butter? I say with a good bread spread like that, Marxism-Leninism would be even more tasty."

But no quarter was given capitalism in the Red drive toward world domination.

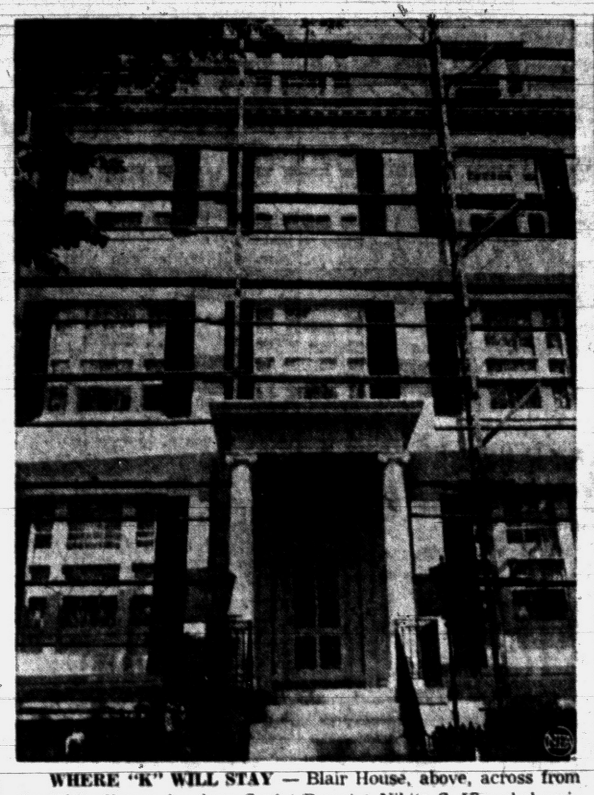

"Whether they like it or not," snorted Khrushchev, "the capitalists must die. It is like a pregnant woman who is about to give birth. It is a natural phenomenon. She has to give birth. You can't tell her to put it off. It is the same with the death of capitalism. Of course, we will contribute what we can."

★ ★ ★

And to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, whom the Soviet leader considers a true representative of the capitalist world, Khrushchev snapped:

"You are going under. We will rule the world!"

Tomorrow: Merchant of good will.

WHERE "K" WILL STAY — Blair House, above, across from the White House, is where Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is to stay while in Washington. Painters' scaffolding is coincidental. Blair House received a routine spruce-up; nothing special for the Premier's visit, say Washington sources.

Flora Storms North, Doesn't Threaten U.S.

MIAMI (UPI)—Tropical storm Flora moved northward over the Atlantic today with apparently no threat to the U.S. mainland.

Flora, packing winds of 45 miles an hour, was about 2,400 miles east of Miami last midnight, according to the weather bureau. It was moving north by northeast at about 17 miles an hour.

The weather bureau said little if any intensification of the storm was expected. It is being watched by ships and a Navy hurricane hunter plane.

1,191 South Koreans Die of Sleeping Sickness

SEOUL (UPI) — South Korea's health ministry reported today that since the first week in August the sleeping sickness known as encephalitis has claimed 294 lives of a total 1,191 patients.

★ ★ ★

Only 111, or less than 10 per cent of the total patients, have recovered to date, the ministry added.

The strongest winds ever recorded in the world blew atop 6,288-foot Mt. Washington in New Hampshire in 1934. They were clocked at 231 miles an hour.

But Lodge Used to Russian Word Fights

If He Argues, It'll Be With Boss

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Nikita Khrushchev's American traveling companion on his U. S. tour will be a man who knows how to talk back to the Soviets.

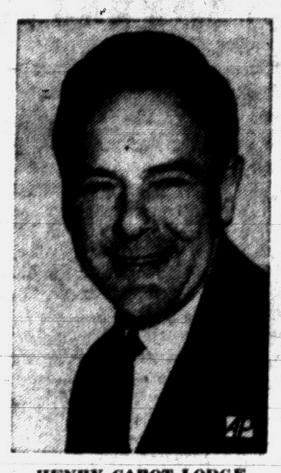

★ ★ ★

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, President Eisenhower's chosen representative to follow Khrushchev across the country, makes a policy of talking back to them at the U. N., where he is chief U. S. delegate.

He often remarks that whenever the Soviet Union makes charges against the United States in the Security Council or elsewhere, his practice is to answer them at once.

He seeks to make sure that newspapers and broadcasts will carry the American rejoinder at the same time as a Soviet charge, and give it equal prominence.

"Gigantic cock-and-bull story," said Lodge in the General Assembly in 1957 when Soviet Delegate Arkady Sobolev accused the United States of various "aggressive acts."

HENRY CABOT LODGE

"Really atrocious libels," the U. S. ambassador observed in the 1958 Assembly when Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin charged U. S. provocation of the 1956 Hungarian uprising.

"Strictures from the Moscow propaganda factory both violent and untrue," he said again to a charge of U. S. aggression in Lebanon, made by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Now he is going to meet their boss—and, between Sept. 15 and 27, travel with him from Washington to New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Iowa and Pittsburgh. He is quite as blunt spoken as his famous guest.

★ ★ ★

This could lead to a series of stateside repetitions of the famous "debate in the kitchen," which Khrushchev and Vice President Richard M. Nixon carried on at the American exhibition in Moscow last month.

But it may be that neither Khrushchev, anxious to make a good impression, nor Lodge, bent on seeming correct and hospitable, will let such a thing happen.

Khrushchev, a former miner, will have a New England blueblood for traveling companion. Lodge was born in Beverly, Mass. near Boston; went through Harvard, and traveled around writing for the Boston Transcript and New York Herald Tribune.

★ ★ ★

Grandson and namesake of a famous U. S. senator, he himself was 13 years a U. S. senator. He took time out during World War II to serve as an Army officer in Libya, Italy, France and Germany. He now divides his time between Beverly and New York. He has a wife, two sons and six grandchildren.

Saved Man From Chair in '56

Repudiates Confession

WINDER, Ga. (AP) — Charles (Rocky) Rothschild, who saved another man from the electric chair by admitting 1956 murder, has repudiated his confession, a lawyer says.

★ ★ ★

Marvin Pierce said he met with the former Cairo, Ill., policeman Thursday in the South Carolina penitentiary where Rothschild is serving a five-year term for a safe-cracking conspiracy. Prison officials confirmed that the meeting took place.

The Winder lawyer said Rothschild, 34, denied the robbery-slaying of Charles Drake, a merchant at Jefferson, Ga., and denied being present when Drake was killed.

Rothschild and A. D. Allen Jr. were given life sentences last year for the slaying.

When they were convicted, James Fulton Foster was acquitted of the murder. Rothschild's confession on July 4, 1958 had freed Foster, a 41-year-old house painter from Greer, S. C., from the shadow of the electric chair to which Foster twice was sentenced for Drake's death.

★ ★ ★

Rothschild pleaded guilty at his own trial, and was the state's star witness against Allen, a 38-year-old bootlegger. Rothschild said Allen planned the robbery of Drake and drove Rothschild to and from the murder scene.

Waving Flag Answers Nikita Visit Problem

RAILROAD LAUNCHER — A highly mobile system for launching of intermediate range and intercontinental ballistic missiles is illustrated in this launching car model shown at the Air Force Assn.'s "Aerospace Panorama" at Miami Beach, Fla. The system would be capable of launching retaliatory missiles from railroad sidings or spurs or be able to "stop-and-launch" from any point on a railroad line.

Fawning Deer Ruins Hunting

It's not that McKinney has anything against animals that take to human beings, the frustrated hunter said yesterday. It's just that the critter is scaring away all the squirrels.

The deer first appeared two weeks ago as McKinney was parking his car near the woods south of Columbus.

"He tried to get in the car but I was afraid his hooves would cut the upholstery," McKinney said.

McKinney telling the deer to scram, set off into the woods. The deer followed.

"I got two squirrels," McKinney said. "But I would have gotten four except for that deer. He kept pulling at green leaves in the woods and scaring the squirrels away.

"I got a switch and tried to shoo him off but he wouldn't go."

Since then McKinney has hunted three times in the area, and three times the deer has dogged his steps, even sharing his lunch, but passing up the onions.

McKinney said he has learned the deer was found as a newborn fawn by James Kendall of Courtland, Ind., and was tamed by the Kendall family.

★ ★ ★

Romeo School Board to Seek 4 Mill Tax Hike

Providing Entertainment at Clarkston

Saturday Night Movies in Church

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

CLARKSTON—Twenty-two young Clarkston matrons have again embarked on an entertainment project, designed to benefit the entire area.

Periodically, the group presents Hollywood movie productions in the sanctuary of the Clarkston Methodist Church. A committee first carefully studies the type of film, its moral and entertainment value then members are scheduled on various Saturday nights to chaperone and present the movies.

Sponsored by the Margaret Richards Circle, the mothers organized the Community Theater Guild early last year, and it proved so successful that it is being continued this year, announced the elected chairman, Mrs. Donald Ridley.

"Because there is no theater in Clarkston, our group realized the tremendous need for this type of entertainment, particularly for the young people," Mrs. Ridley said. Every one of the monthly performances were well attended by both young and old. she added.

Such movies as "Kelly and Me" starring Van Johnson, "So Dear to My Heart," "Away All Boats" with Jeff Chandler and Abbott and Costello in "Foreign Legion," have been scheduled. The first presentation at 7:30 p. m. Sept. 19, will be Walt Disney's "The Littlest Outlaw."

HUSBANDS HELP

The non-profit organization charges a bare minimum to pay the film-rental fee. The use of the 250-seat church is donated free.

One incident last year, proved to the women that the community theater held in a church was worth all the effort put forth.

Just after one of the presentations was started, a group of black leather-coated, rough-talking boys entered the basement under the church auditorium. According to the women, the boys had every intention of barging unannounced into the show.

One of the men in charge walked up to the group and said, "Would you boys care to be our guests tonight, as the film is already started." The astonished group flied quietly upstairs , watched the show, and later thanked the people in charge.

He Refuses Injunction on Drain

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer has refused to grant a temporary injunction to a group of Southfield residents protesting construction of the $4,760,000 Eight Mile road storm drain.

The Eight Mile Road Storm Drain Special Assessment District Taxpayers' Assn. was seeking the restraining order prohibiting Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry from proceeding with the project. They charged the project threatens "wholesale" loss of their homes because of the assessments they must pay.

Although the association lost out, its suit still stands against Barry. Robert Allen, county corporation counsel in charge of drain cases, said the case will probably come to trial sometime in October in Circuit Court.

Meanwhile, Allen said little will be done to proceed with the sewer until the litigation is cleared.

Order of Arrow in Fall Conclave

Clinton Valley Scout Group Will Highlight Event With Barbecue

An outdoor barbecue is to be the highlight event for Chippewa Lodge No. 29, Order of the Arrow, as these honor campers of the Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council gather for their annual fall conclave.

★ ★ ★

The session will be conducted starting tonight through Saturday night at Camp Agawam, on Tommy's Lake near Lake Orion, announced William Poffenberger of Pontiac, conclave chairman.

Other events are the induction of candidates to Ordeal and to Brotherhood membership. These colorful Indian ceremonials will be directed by Dennis Poosch and William Sallee of Pontiac.

Fred Heil of Milford will head the service projects to the camp, scheduled for all day Saturday. Past Lodge Chief Fred Breza of Utica will head the registration committee.

Lodge Chief J. Edward Stoughton, formerly of Pettibone Lake who has moved to Pittsburgh, Pa., appointed Paul Heil of Milford, a past lodge chief, as chairman of the nominations committee. Paul will be assisted by William Reeves of Orchard Lake, Richard Trombley of Mount Clemens and Lynn Spees of Pontiac.

Ordealmaster King Stetler of Pontiac explained that Ordeal or the first membership includes a schedule of sleeping alone, building a fire, not speaking for 24 hours, eating sparsely, working on camp improvement projects and a desire to assist in the lodge's function of promoting camp and camping.

Candidates for membership in the Order of the Arrow, a national organization under the direction of the Boy Scouts of America, are chosen by scouts in their own troop or Explorer post, as outstanding campers and leaders.

During a business meeting on Saturday night, following induction ceremonies, a proposal to change lodge bylaws will be considered by the membership.

HOW ABOUT ANOTHER PIE? — Don't let that look of dismay fool you. Tommy Mitten, 11, of Detroit, pie-eating champion at the Michigan State Fair, is wondering if he can polish off another one of his favorite desserts. The fair will close its 10-day run this Sunday night with a gigantic fireworks display.

Expect $50,000 Deficit This Year

Vote Necessary After Value of Property in District Is Lowered

ROMEO — The Board of Education of the Romeo Community Schools will request voter approval of a four-mill tax increase for school operation in a special election Oct. 3.

The additional millage will be levied for 10 years. It is needed to erase the anticipated $50,000 deficit in the current school budget and to pay increased teacher salaries, board members said.

At their regular meeting last night, the educators drafted a letter explaining the millage proposal and an accompanying tax analysis sheet to be mailed to all residents of the school district.

The board plans to levy only three mills at the present time, then the fourth mill next year, "only if absolutely necessary," members said.

★ ★ ★

Given as the main reason for the request for extra millage is the loss of state equalized valuation in the school district.

SPREAD TO VARY

How the millage will be spread on the tax rolls in the area will vary according to the township.

In Washington Township residents will pay $5.47 less per $1,000 of assessed valuation than last year. The reason for the low rate, Board members explained, is the decrease in state equalized valuation.

The decrease also will affect the levy in Shelby Township which will be 31 cents lower even with the additional millage.

The picture is different in Bruce Township where there will be an increase per $1,000 of assessed valuation of $3.69 over last year, in Ray Township an increase of 74 cents and in Armada Township, $6.02 if the millage hike is approved.

In Oakland Township the increase will be $7.43 and in Addison Township, $6.35.

The Board has been struggling with the school tax problem and budget for several months. When the state aid formula was announced a week ago the amount of the local district's deficit became evident.

★ ★ ★

Only alternative, should the millage proposal fail to pass, could be cuts in curriculum, services and activities in the system next year, the Board warned.

Avon Twp. Shopping Center Is Planned Despite Protests

AVON TOWNSHIP—A land developer in the Rochester area, Howard T. Keating, has announced tentative plans for a $2½ million shopping center to be located on a 30-acre parcel of land on the southeast corner of Adams road and Walton boulevard.

★ ★ ★

Presently zoned for agriculture, the land would have to be rezoned commercial before the plans could materialize.

Already, property owners in nearby areas have voiced disapproval of the proposed commercialization of the property.

A spokesman for the Keating organization said today that the firm had reserved the property for rezoning into multiple and commercial use several years ago.

Residents claim that the firm had set aside only five acres in the original plat.

Tentative plans call for the parcel to contain a small community-type shopping center plus multiple dwelling units which will be expanded as the growth of the area requires.

★ ★ ★

The plan first must have the approval of the Avon-Pontiac Townships Planning Commission, the organization created to promote orderly growth of the Michigan State University Oakland community. Then the Township Zoning Board will act on the proposed zoning change.

Public hearings will be held, and a recommendation will be made to the Township Board before final action is taken.

The center, called a "convenience center," will probably contain a supermarket, medical and professional offices, a cleaning establishment and a drug store to start. Shops, one of a kind, to serve day-to-day needs are the type to be included, said Robert Goodwin, subdivision coordinator for the Keating company.

SEES SELF PROTECTION

He said the residents who are complaining, feel mainly that the proposed shopping center will decrease the valuation of their property. They also don't want miltiple housing units in the vicinity of their homes, he added.

★ ★ ★

In rebuttal, Goodwin said, "The benefits to be derived by residents will more than offset the supposed disadvantages."

"The Keating company has a large investment in the area, having developed such subdivisions as Bellarmine Hills, Long Meadows, Avon Heights, Springhill and others, and we could not afford to put up less than the very best type of commercial and multiple dwelling project," the company representative said.

"Where you have increased population, you have to have a commercial development to serve the needs of the residents," Goodwin remarked.

He also said that the proposed center and dwellings would be architecturally in keeping with the university.

Two Men Accused of Assaulting Girl, 19

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Two Detroit men are being held in the Oak Park Jail for investigation of abducting and raping a 19-year-old Royal Oak Township girl in Detroit last night.

The girl told township police that she had stopped at the Glen Lodge Bar, 8806 W. Eight Mile Rd. for a drink but they would not serve her. The two men being held followed her out of the bar, she said, and Kennedy forced her into his car at gunpoint.

Surgery Hexes Curse of Bone

Australian Doctor Licks Black Magic With Fake Operation

ALICE SPRINGS, Australia (UPI) — Modern medicine triumphed over black magic in Australia's desolate north country when a young doctor pretended to operate on a native for the removal of a fatal hex.

The patient was brought into the tiny bush hospital at Yuendumu settlement, 200 miles from here, suffering from "the bone" — a curse that has been practiced for centuries by the nomadic tribes in the region.

As was usual in these cases, the patient appeared to have nothing organically wrong with him. But he was dying because, as he told Dr. G. H. Tippet, an enemy had "pointed the bone" at him, it had entered his body and even then was working its way toward his heart.

od for doing away with one's enemies in the waterless plains of Central Australia. The practitioner of this form of witchcraft merely takes a bone, usually from a kangaroo, recites a few appropriate curses, and points it at his victim. Death is supposed to follow quickly. Autopsies never have shown why.

The obvious explanation is that the death is psychological, the victim having convinced himself that he will die. But there have been cases of natives lying down and dying after having the bone pointed at them from several hundred miles away, and unbeknownst to them at the time.

Dr. Tippet, a government medical officer, made the first known scientific assault on "the bone" hex when he assured the victim of the curse that he could cure him, but only through "surgery." The native reluctantly agreed to the operation.

Tippet put the native under sedation. When he regained consciousness, Tippet informed him that the bone had been turned into a stone and showed him a wet stone to prove it.

DETROIT (AP) — The morning Detroit Free Press published all its editions today after international officers of the Pressmen's Union ordered a return to work following a three-day labor dispute between Detroit Local 13 and the city's three dailies.

Detroit's two afternoon newspapers, the News and the Times, resumed publication yesterday.

A management spokesman said publication was resumed after the local was placed under control of the union's international officers with the appointment of Walter Wisdom, secretary of the Detroit Printing Trades Council, as steward of the local.

The spokesman said 12 pressmen will be suspended for three days, starting yesterday, and if the dispute is not settled by negotiation it will be submitted to arbitration.

2 Pontiac Men Charged in Theft

One Demands Exam, Other Is Returned to County Jail

Two men, one arrested by Pontiac police Wednesday night and the other an inmate of the Oakland County Jail, were charged with breaking and entering in the nighttime Thursday before Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Stocker was being held at the Oakland County Jail after failing to furnish bond set at $4,000 by McCallum. His examination date was set for Sept. 16.

Smith, who was already in jail awaiting trial on another breaking and entering charge, had his bond set at $500 and was returned to jail to await arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court Sept. 21.

Pontiac police detectives said the two men are charged with breaking into a Pontiac trailer rental establishment last May and stealing two guns and $50 cash.

But Why? And for What?

A Million Things to Do...So Hurry!

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—We try, every day, to race faster than we did the day before.

We clamber for space on jet planes, to save a few hours. For what?

In cars, we drive as swiftly as the law allows, even if our outing is aimless, and our intent is only the absorption of fresh air, and our goal is to return home. Why?

We walk quicker, talk faster, despise dawdling. We demand speedy action on every plan or problem. Even when we're aware we may die quicker if we don't slow down, we don't slow down.

I could say, "What is the reason for all this urgency—why do we Americans want to move faster and faster and faster?" But that would take too long. So I just asked the psychiatrist, "What's the rush?"

He refused to be hurried. Although subconsciously, he admitted, his inclination was to rush out with a quick answer.

"Some of the reason we want to go faster and faster is conscious," he said, "but most of it is subliminal.

"Man's original locomotion was on his hands and feet, crawling. From the day he first stood on two feet and learned to run, his inclination—his innate drive—has been to go faster and faster.

TO LIVE UP TO DREAMS

"Gravitational forces have been responsible for increasing the speed of light through the centuries. It is quite possible that forces beyond us are pushing us to keep up with this acceleration.

"And then, as a psychiatrist, I cannot help but observe another subconscious urge in man. He wants to achieve the freedom he finds in his dreams. In his dreams, he lives in infinite speed. He is in New York one moment, and in Hong Kong the next. Freedom of movement is an innate urge in everyone."

The conscious urges for speed are more obvious, the good doctor said. Men and women of this generation, and perhaps all generations, are obsessed with a drive for personal fulfillment, for power, for survival.

"Speed gives us the illusion that we are living more in our short span of years," he said. "This, alone, would be reason enough for hurrying in the minds of those who can convince themselves that this illusion is truth.

"In the search for speed, we are trying to rebel against the limitations of nature. This is an eternal revolution in the life of man.

"And there are many of us who have the artificial goal of mastery—who want to go faster and faster merely for the sake of beating their neighbors. They are driven by ego.

"And then, there is the completely realistic goal: The men who move fast, who will settle for no slower mode of transportation than the quickest, because by getting places faster they can make deals faster and get back faster to file a fatter tax return."

There are a number of other reasons for rushing through life, but we cannot, alas, take them up now.

The doctor has a patient waiting impatiently, and I have a deadline, and you—face it, fast reader—have a million things to do . . .

Congress Eyes Minor Matters After Its Veto Victory Over Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress turned its attention today to relatively minor matters after its first veto-victory over President Eisenhower in his 6½ years in office.

★ ★ ★

It goes back into high gear Saturday in a final spurt for hoped-for adjournment next Monday just before the Washington arrival of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Two major matters and many lesser ones were disposed of Thursday.

Both houses overrode Eisenhower's objections and passed finally a $1,185,309,093 money bill to finance flood control, harbor and other public works projects. In doing so, Congress upset the first Eisenhower veto of the 146 he has issued since 1953.

The House completed congressional action on a third-try billion dollar housing bill which the White House has indicated Eisenhower will sign. He had vetoed two earlier measures.

AID TO POLAND

The Senate passed a bill which would make it easier for this country to extend aid to Poland and other Iron Curtain countries seeking a measure of independence from Moscow. But Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), whose opposition helped defeat a similar bill by a single vote last year, called for reconsideration before sending it to the House.

The House may act today on a compromise version of a farm surplus disposal bill. Worked out last night by a conference committee, the measure would extend for two years the present program of selling surplus crops overseas in return for foreign currencies.

The conferees agreed on a two-year extension, with authority to sell 1½ billion dollars worth of products a year and to give away up to 300 millions more a year for emergency relief. The bill also would permit, but not compel, the Agriculture Department to set up a food stamp plan to supply commodities to needy persons in this country.

Another conference group, though apparently deadlocked, tries again today to reach agreement on a bill to permit raising the interest rates on series E and H savings bonds.

The development watched with most interest Thursday was Congress' quick action in passing the public works bill over Eisenhower's veto.

It took the House just 39 minutes and the Senate less than 40 minutes to shatter the President's record of making all of his vetoes stick.

The House vote was 280-121, a margin of 12 votes more than the two-thirds required. Twenty Republicans joined 260 Democrats to upset the President, while 5 Democrats teamed up with 116 Republicans to support him. Just a week ago the House fell one vote short of overriding an almost identical measure.

The Senate bowled over the President by a vote of 72-23, an edge of 8 votes over the needed two thirds. Twelve Republicans and 60 Democrats were on the winning side, with 21 Republicans and 2 Democrats on the short end.

Eisenhower vetoed the bill, as he did the earlier one, because it included financing for 67 projects not provided for in his budget.

Arrest 9th for Attack

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A ninth Negro youth was arrested Thursday night in connection with a Labor Day attack on an 18-year-old white girl. He was identified as Roland Lennon, 19. Eight other Negroes were arrested Tuesday on charges of assault with intent to ravish, assault and battery and robbery. They face a hearing Sept. 23.

Spank Doesn't Sit Well With This Youngster

EL CENTRO, Calif. (UPI)—Sheriff's deputy Jess Thomas had this phone conversation with a young caller who asked information about the law, but wouldn't identify himself:

"Is there a law against spanking a child?" the caller asked.

"It depends on how hard the spanking is," Thomas said. "Why?"

"I just want to know."

"You must have a reason. Why did you call?"

"I just got spanked."

Clear Their Names

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A county grand jury has cleared city policemen John G. Shelton and Melvin R. Weaver of any wrongdoing in the fatal shooting July 17 of William Brown, 24, a Negro. The policemen said Brown had fled when they tried to question him about a complaint of brandishing a weapon.

Telling Law Passed

SHELBYVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — Shelby County is looking for tattletales. A new ordinance gives citizens the authority to turn each other in for traffic violations. It even provides special postcards for informing on offending drivers.

Need About $146 Million

State Parks Group Hears Outline of 10-Year Plan

LANSING (UP)—State parks could accommodate 40 million visitors a year—2½ times the current figure—under a proposed 10-year program of land acquisition and parks improvements.

★ ★ ★

That was the estimate of Arthur C. Elmer, parks chief of the State Conservation Department, in testimony before the newly formed Michigan Parks Assn.

Some 35 representatives of nearly 30 groups met yesterday to set up the organization and lay plans for bringing badly needed financial help to the state park system.

Gov. Williams' veto of a bill to finance parks improvements with proceeds from a $2 annual parks admission fee spurred the group to act swiftly, said Miss Genevieve Gillette of Ann Arbor, one of the founders.

The program outlined by Elmer would cost about 146 million dollars in the decade starting in 1960. It proposed 88 million dollars for parks improvements, including 68 millions for present parks, and 58 million dollars for obtaining new property.

About 390,000 requests for camping have been turned down this year for lack of facilities, she said.

The new parks group is an outgrowth of a similar organization which fought a successful battle to block copper mining in the Upper Peninsula's Porcupine Mountains state park.

Dr. Robert Belcher, head of Eastern Michigan University's biology department and another founder, said the organization was hopeful that personal contributions, as well as legislative appropriations, would help finance a parks program.

The group set up plans to incorporate and agreed to appoint a committee to look into the possibility of a governor's citizen committee to study park needs and make recommendations.

"But you've also got to sell not only the legislature, but the people of the state," said Elmer.

"It won't be as easy as in 1944 when the state had a 50 million dollar surplus, but I still think it can be done and that the people are willing to pay for it," he said.

★ ★ ★

Organizations represented at the meeting, or which have indicated an interest, include the Michigan Audubon Society, Automobile Club of Michigan, Michigan United Conservation Clubs, Michigan Natural Areas Council, Michigan Farm Bureau, Michigan Grange, Michigan Federation of Women's Club and the United Auto Workers Union.

Integration Fight Looms in N.Y.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Approximately 250 Negro students from Harlem will attempt to register at a junior high school in the exclusive Riverdale section of the Bronx next Monday in protest to the transfer of 100 white students to the school.

The move to "integrate" the school in predominantly white Riverdale will be made by an association of Harlem parents who have contended for several years that Harlem schools are "segregated and inferior."

Their protests have had the support of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Paul B. Zuber, attorney for eight families involved in a boycott of Harlem schools last year, said the new protest resulted from resentment over the transfer to Riverdale of 100 white students from an overcrowded school in a section of Manhattan adjoing Harlem. Zuber said Harlem parents feel that their children have just as much right to be transferred.

Mushrooms Are Multiplying Now

BY WAYNE B. SIEFERT
County Horticultural Agent

Though fairy ring is a common development during the warm summer months, mushrooms are not common until the fall rains of September. Fairy ring, commonly seen as dark rings in the lawn with toadstools appearing in the ring, may be seen throughout the warm summer months.

★ ★ ★

The fall crop of mushrooms in the lawns and golf courses are often edible, but are sometimes poisonous. If they look like the common field mushroom, Agaricus Campestris, collect them and store in the ice box, while you show a sample to an expert. Preventing mushrooms seems to be an impossible job.

If young children are liable to tamper with them, it is best to harvest them each day and destroy them. Sometimes stepping on them is effective. Chemical treatment does not seem practical.

GIANT CANNA BED — Only 10 ordinary canna bulbs were planted in a bed by Mrs. Albert Olds of 1314 Livingston St., Highland Township, and the big flaming red blossoms have attracted flower enthusiasts for miles around. Each of the bulbs have produced thick stalks some seven feet high, which have spread out until they cover an area 20 feet in diameter. Mrs. Olds says she used no fertilizer for her beautiful flower bed, but fought weeds constantly. Next year the Olds plan on installing a special watering system for insurance against this drouth.

GROWING WONDER — Perched high on a ladder, young Therese Osgood of Claremont, N. H. admires the giant sunflower that grew almost like Jack's beanstalk at her home. The towering plant sprang up from one of the sunflower seeds which Therese's mother threw out as weed for birds last winter.

The first Hybrid Tea Rose was created in 1861 and was named La France in honor of the country from which it came. If was a pink with flowers of some sixty petals and is still listed in the catalogs of some nurserymen.

No Error in Etiquette Committed

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like your opinion on the following matter: A group of friends went to a large wedding reception at a country club. Guests were seated at small tables of ten. Open sandwiches, small cakes and champagne were served.

"Several of the men at our table (my husband included) did not care for champagne and asked the waiter if they might have whiskey and soda instead. The waiter left and after a while returned with whiskey and soda for the men who requested it.

"They were severely criticized by others at table for having done this and were told that they were very much out of order for asking that they be served something other than what was being proffered to the other guests. Will you please tell me if a breach of etiquette was committed?"

Answer: It was all right to ask the waiter if they could have whiskey instead of the champagne. If the waiter had told them he was sorry there was no whiskey they would have had to content themselves with the champagne.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it always incorrect for a boy to give a girl jewelry as a gift? Wouldn't it be all right for a boy to give a girl a bracelet or pin if he knows that is what she wants most of all?

Answer: In this present day, trinkets may be given by a boy to a girl on her birthday or for Christmas, if they are trinkets and not jewels. Jewelry of real value is not given by a man to a girl unless they are engaged to be married.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are going to attend a six o'clock wedding in another city, and will have to leave our house in the early afternoon to arrive there on time. Will a dark blue suit be appropriate for my husband instead of the usual dinner jacket?"

The group decided to continue having each month's hostess send a dollar to CARE. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Thompson of Drayton Plains. The program for this year will be planned and a demonstration of artificial flowers will be given.

It's a success . . . the new length for cocktail dresses, now known as concert gowns, with a hem which hardly reaches the ankle.

Martha Elsie Johnson Recalls Experiences

Honor Nurse for 30 Years Service

By LYDIA ROTHMAN

Just 30 years ago, Martha Elsie Johnson, R. N. arrived in Pontiac to assume her duties as the first public nurse for the rural school system in this area.

Wednesday evening the Oakland County Health Department held a banquet at Elks Temple in honor of her retirement.

A sincere lover of her fellow human beings, with the charm of a spontaneous laugh and sparkle in her eyes, its no wonder that Oakland county has such a fine record, with her as assistant nursing director of the health department.

Miss Johnson arrived in Chicago from Halden, Norway in 1912. By 1928 she had become an American citizen and was nursing supervisor of Frances E. Willard Hospital. Between 1912 and 1928 she had worked and lived in South Dakota and served on the staff of the Chicago City Health Department.

Wishing to broaden her experiences, Miss Johnson joined the Oakland County Health Department in 1929. At the time she assumed her duties, there were only five other nurses in the department.

With a twinkle in her eye, Miss Johnson recalls her visits to the many one room school houses throughout northwest Oakland County. Loss of direction, snow, ice and flat tires never kept her from her many calls.

In 1936 she was appointed supervising nurse of the health department and in 1950 she was appointed assistant nursing director for Oakland County Health Department.

As a school nurse, Miss Johnson's duties consisted in following up health cases of students referred to her by teachers, and county authorities. She was not always greeted with enthusiasm. One irate mother told her she had nothing better to do than examine other people's children all day.

However, despite many heart rendering and discouraging cases, like the 17-year-old mother who didn't know diapers should be washed before being dried and used again, Miss Johnson feels her work has been gratifying and appreciated.

Typical of her cases with good results was the small boy with a crooked leg. The first doctor Miss Johnson recommended the child to said it was alright and he would grow out of it. Miss Johnson asked the mother what she thought. "No, I don't think it's alright," said the mother.

Miss Johnson agreed and directed them to another doctor who put a cast on the child's leg and prevented him from possibly being crippled for the rest of his life.

Now that she is officially retired, Miss Johnson plans to take her vacation and visit her many relatives throughout the country. When she returns to her beloved Oakland County, (and she is a real fan for the county), Miss Johnson plans to continue her church work for First Baptist Church. She already teaches Sunday school, but has never had a chance to attend afternoon church group meetings. Hand embroidery is her hobby.

Lucky You 'Found Out' . . . Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who thinks nothing of losing fifty dollars on a horse race but raises the roof when I order a three-dollar dinner in a cafe? That's my friend. I am 60 and he is 62. I've been widowed since 1938 and he lost his wife last year.

ABBY He invited me out to dinner and I suggested a nice place to eat. When we got there he looked at the menu and said he wasn't going to stay there and pay those kind of prices. We already had a cocktail so he paid the waitress for the drinks and I left the tip. He wanted to take me to a cheaper place (where can you get a dinner cheaper than $2.95 for pork chops?) but I asked him to take me home. I haven't seen him since. Should I call and apologize or forget about him?

HAZEL

DEAR HAZEL: Forget him. You're lucky he showed his colors early in the game. How would you like to be MARRIED to a penny-pincher like this one.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister who carries a rabbit's foot in her purse for luck. Once she couldn't find her purse and she wouldn't go out of the house until she found it.

Her luck has been anything but good lately. She lost her job and her husband found himself another woman.

She still thinks that rabbit's foot will bring her good luck. Can you say something in your column to change her mind?

WILLIE MAE

DEAR WILLIE MAE: The rabbit's foot your sister carries was certainly bad luck for the rabbit. This should settle it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 years old and recently had my first baby. My husband has started to call me "Mommy." My husband is 32 years old.

Abby, I just hate it, I am not his "Mommy." His mother is living and she is about 60.

Maybe this shouldn't irritate me the way it does, but I can't help it. I have told him to quit calling me "Mommy" but he says it just slips out. Now, what should I do?

"ANYTHING BUT MOMMY"

DEAR ANYTHING: Simmer down. You have already asked your husband to quit calling you "Mommy," which is all you can do. Perhaps when you address the baby you refer to yourself as "Mommy" (which is only natural). Be a little more understanding; one day you might catch yourself calling him "Daddy."

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Family 'Buggy' Over Hobby

Spend Spare Time Scouring Countryside for 'Arachnids'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Jim Robertson is a mighty big name in local bug circles. In fact, his whole family is a little buggy, and he's the first to admit it.

Robertson puts in 40 hours a week in the engineering armament section of North American Aviation, Inc. Then the Robertson family — Jim, his wife and their three children go out to scour the Southern California countryside for bugs.

Robertson is an amateur bug enthusiast — an entomologist, to be exact. Just recently he scooped up a phergodiadae which happened to be lying unwarily on a hillside within the city limits of Los Angeles.

The phergodiadae, known more commonly as a pine boring beetle, turned out to be a rare prize since it has never before been found in these parts.

Robertson says his hobby isn't altogether an outdoor one. For every hour spent in the field, he said, another hour must be spent in mounting and classifying catches according to the number of wings and claws and characteristics of antennae, legs, body and breathing holes.

'Let 'Em Hiss . . . After They Buy Tickets'

Scandal Pulls In Top Pay for Gals

By THOMAS BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movies' two highest paid feminine stars, of the moment, are the central figures of the two biggest movie scandals of the decade.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Miss Turner's first picture after her teen-age daughter fatally stabbed the actress' underworld sweetheart, Johnny Stompanato, was "Imitation of Life." For it, she was offered the best deal of her career—50 per cent of the profits.

Producer Ross Hunter estimates that the actress' cut of the box-office click, Universal-International's biggest of the year, already is two million dollars.

Miss Taylor, since the triangle headlines with Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds, has become the only million dollar salary actress in the business. Marlon Brando is the only other star with a million dollar price tag on his services.

It was not long after the headlines that Miss Taylor's agent asked and received $750,000 plus 10 per cent of the gross for her appearing in "Suddenly, Last Summer" and "Two for the See Saw."

The million dollar tag—also with 10 per cent of the gross—was reported this week by Producer Walter Wanger who wanted her for his "Cleopatra."

There's no doubt that she will get the big salary. An informal survey of studio bigwigs, to a man, predicted that she would.

★ ★ ★

One studio topper, asking anonymity, explained that scripts, good or bad, alone can make or break a talented performer—not headlines.

"Take the case of Ingrid Bergman. Her scandal in 1949 was a doozy but it coincided with three flops in a row (Arch of Triumph, Joan of Arc and Stromboli.) Her timing was bad.

"The result was that it looked as if she were washed up despite enormous talent. Then along came 'Anastasia,' an academy award, 'Indiscreet,' and a few others. She's on top again.

"When Liz' trouble broke in the papers, she was just out with 'Cat on a Hot Tin Roof,' a smash that earned her an Oscar nomination. One theater owner told me worriedly that audiences hissed Liz' first appearance on the screen.

★ ★ ★

"I asked him: 'Are your seats filled?' He replied: 'Yes, every night, it's the best business we've had all year.'

"So I told him: 'Let 'em hiss—as long as they pay to do it.' "

Alumni to Gather Here in October

The SPEBSQSA, Inc. hopes to make beautiful music at its first annual meeting of alumni on Oct. 16.

★ ★ ★

The SPEBSQSA, short for Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., was established here when the Pontiac chapter was drawn in 1942.

This first annual meeting of old time quartets will be held at the Knights of Pythias Hall on Voorheis road. More than 50 members belong to the organization.

Quartets in the Pontiac chapter have entertained at hospitals, schools and other functions, donating proceeds to charity. It is a non-profit making organization.

Builds 40 Homes With Shelters

Hopes Fallout Refuge Will Catch On; Costs $292, May Drop

ARVADA, Colo. (UPI) — Jack C. Hoerner, a Lakewood, Colo., home builder, has opened the first 40 homes here complete with low-cost built-in radioactive fallout shelters he hopes will be copied throughout the nation.

★ ★ ★

Hoerner made the decision to build shelters into his homes last year after he attended a National Defense Resources conference in Phoenix, Ariz.

"I came away from the conference concerned about the danger facing our civilian population if our nation were to be attacked." Hoerner said.

"It was evident to me from the facts presented at the conference that the hazard from radioactive fallout would pose a most serious threat to individual survival. It seemed pretty obvious that shelter was the answer to this threat.

Hoerner's design places a 12-by-14-foot shelter under a single car garage. Twelve inches of concrete provide the radiation shield for the windowless room, which also has air vent pipes, a 40-gallon water tank and chemical toilet.

Travel Tops List of Most Miss America Entrants

Tell Why They Enter Beauty Contests

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Why does a girl decide to enter a beauty and talent contest?

What makes her go through the hectic weeks of preparations for local and state competition, and come to the Miss America pageant here for the most arduous week of all?

"Becoming a state queen is one of the most wonderful honors a girl can have," said Miss Nebraska Joan Sipes of Columbus, Neb. "Becoming Miss America is perhaps THE most wonderful honor."

Blonde Virginia Noble Pailes, Miss District of Columbia, said she hoped her experience in the pageant would aid her singing career.

Kayanne Schoffner of Calhoun, Ga., Miss Georgia, entered the state competition because "I knew there would be a pageant and a dance, and I wanted to enter along with my friends."

"I don't think I would ever have gotten East any other way," said Tammy.

★ ★ ★

Most of the girls interviewed agreed that one outstanding reason for entering the competition was "the chance to meet new girls from all parts of the country, to see things we've never seen, to be places we've never been."

The 54 girls in the pageant represent every state in the union, Canada and the cities of New York, Chicago and Washington.

On Saturday night, one girl will be chosen by the 11 judges to succeed Mary Ann Mobley of Bradon, Miss., as Miss America.

The new queen will receive $10,000 in scholarships in addition to the state prizes she has already won. The other contestants will share in scholarships totaling $26,000.

Plan Trip to Bay City Via Steam Locomotive

A snack car will provide lunches.

Practically non-existent in other parts of the U. S., the steam locomotives which now are assigned to two of GTW's Durand-Pontiac-Detroit local and commuter trains have gained nationwide fame with photographers. The excursions will include special picture stops.

The trip is being sponsored by the Michigan Railroad Club.

Pontiac's steam locomotive enthusiasts will have their day again on Sunday, Sept. 27, when a sturdy coal-burner hauls a "railfan special" on the Grand Trunk Western Railroad from Pontiac to Bay City and back again.

The total round trip distance is 220 miles, almost half of it on a branch line that now has no regular passenger trains.

The locomotive is scheduled to leave Pontiac at 9:15 a.m. for Bay City and return at 7:30 p.m.

Earlier departures will be from Detroit at 8:15 a.m.; Royal Oak at 8:45 a.m.; and Birmingham at 8:55 a.m.

Committee OKs More Judges

Bill Would Authorize 25 Additional Federal Benches; One in State

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee today announced approval of a bill to authorize appointment of 25 additional federal judges, including one for eastern Michigan. Three would be Circuit Court judges and 22 District Court judges.

★ ★ ★

The Eisenhower administration has urged Congress to create 45 additional judgeships to help relieve congestion and delays in the federal courts.

At the recent American Bar Assn. meeting in Miami, Atty. General William P. Rogers said that if Congress approves the new judgeships, the President would appoint as many Democrats as Republicans to the posts.

The offer obviously was intended to overcome any reluctance by the Democratic-controlled Congress to create new judgeships to be filled by a Republican president with lifetime appointments.

The bill would provide for an addtional judge in the eastern district of Michigan.

Khrushchev will have a private luncheon at the President's guest house before going to the White House for a mid-afternoon conference with Eisenhower.

Adrift 3 Days on Lake, Pair Happy at Rescue

DETROIT (AP)—"It was a Godsend that ship saw us or we wouldn't be here."

These words were uttered with a sigh of relief Thursday night by Paul Laughlin, a 60-year-old Youngstown, Ohio, steelworker, after he and his wife Edith, 48, were rescued from the small boat in which they had drifted for three days on Lake Erie.

After almost giving up hope, the couple was picked up 27 miles offshore from Conneaut, Ohio, by a Canadian freighter, the D. C. Everest. They were taken ashore here by a Coast Guard launch.

The Laughlins said they left Conneaut about noon Monday. They intended to fish and cruise, returning before nightfall. But their 16-foot outboard developed engine trouble.

Laughlin said he rowed until he became tired, but the boat continued to drift out into the lake.

The heat spoiled the meat in a picnic lunch. "We ate dry bread and buns and drank lake water," the fisherman said.

Laughlin said he waved at several freighters, but they passed by, apparently not realizing the couple was in distress.

Auto Production Up With 1960 Models

DETROIT (AP) — Domestic auto production started its upward climb with 1960 models this week despite the Labor Day holiday, Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

Ward's said 14 companies were building cars this week with Cadillac, Thunderbird, Lincoln and Ford's Falcon entering 1960 model production for the first time.

Truck output was estimated at 13,550, down from 15,433 last week. A year ago 6,876 trucks were built in the comparable week.

Woman Drives Off Her Armed Assailant

Though suffering a gashed hand and broken jaw, Mrs. Coriane Hirakis, 47, routed the man. He fled and police are seeking him.

Mrs. Hirakis, badly hurt, crawled across the street to neighbors who called police.

Model Train Owners Have Lots of Trackage

CHICAGO (UPI)—There are 524,000 miles of railroad tracks in the United States, but only 390,000 are capable of returning any revenue, a railroad magazine said.

Nudists Are Charged With Naked Unfairness

DEVORE, Calif. (UPI) — The manager of a nudist camp here today accused Canadian nudists of resorting to unfair tactics in trying to snag the next nudist convention for their area.

"While you were disrobing," he complained in a newsletter, "someone was inscribing in black crayon on your bare back, 'Canada in '61.'"

Gromyko Again to Lead Reds at U.N. Opening

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko again will lead the Soviet delegation to the 14th session of the U. N. General Assembly opening in New York Sept. 15.

A Tass dispatch said other members will be Vassily Kuznetsov, first deputy foreign minister; Arkady Soboloev, permanent Soviet representative at the U.N.; Mikhail Yakovlev, foreign minister of the Russian Soviet Republic, and Balabek Martirosyan, foreign minister of the American Federation.

In addition there will be five alternate members. Their names were not given. If past practice is followed, Gromyko will stay in New York for a month or so, then turn over control of the delegation to a subordinate, probably Kuznetsov.

Hal Boyle Says:

Progress Gobbles Up Old-Time Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP) — Every street you live or work on becomes in time a street of dreams.

An old way of life dies out, a new one is born. In most places the change may take a generation. Here in Manhattan progress gobbles up the past at a swifter pace.

BOYLE

Manhattan is a civic cannibal feeding on its own history, obedient only to the demands of its own remorseless growth. The more it cries over its past, the faster it tears it down.

This is the obituary of one side of one city block in Manhattan—the north side of W. 51st street, between 5th and 6th avenues.

It now is a big business block, studded with banks and office buildings. A huge power shovel's hungry maw is eating through the ruins of older buildings to make way for the foundations of the new 48-story Zeckendorf Hotel.

It symbolizes the great changes now under way in mid Manhattan.

The vast mausoleum-like home of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, last of the big league society dowagers, anchored the block elegantly to 5th Ave. From there it ran raffishly downhill socially to the scream of the strident 6th Ave. elevated trains.

In the "Little Hotel," an architectural crime in terra cotta, was the spiritual home of "The Many Lands Poker Club." It got its name from the fact, when a loser griped about a bad hand, the other players chorused: "I have traveled in many lands and seen many strange sights, but never luck like yours."

The block was inhabited by a colorful crew of newsmen, actors, admen, songwriters, grifters, drifters and hipsters. On an average evening you could run into everyone from a jockey to a harpoon salesman or a lady wrestler down on her luck.

There were expensive restaurants and cheap restaurants and a few sidewalk cafes where you could sit and watch the soot from brownstone chimneys drift mellowly down on and pepper your salad. At one, a retired French professor from Columbia University held court, and made his own small Paris.

At one bar you could get an honest slug of scotch for 35 cents, and the house bought every third drink. You could get a three-course lunch for 45 cents.

Along this same melting pot of the appetite others saw the handwriting on the wall and moved away. So did the cooing pigeons, who obligingly passed up the regular neighborhood hangers-on and picked tourists for targets.

It was also a block of small craftsmen. There were the old book dealer, the shoe repair man, the violin maker, the seamstress who specialized in costumes for strip tease artists, and a hair dresser who did the best blonde bleaches in town.

They are gone now. So are the characters who made the block memorable. There was Jonathan Winters, gayest of the "sick" comedians. There was "bo-bo" known by no other name—who had a fascinating habit of looking at himself in the bar mirror and saying "bo-bo-bo-bo-bo," and never bored anybody.

And there was little Scotty who carried a rope in his hand and bet you 50 cents you couldn't tie him up so he couldn't get away. He was known as "the poor man's Houdini."

There was a famous death in this block. Collier's magazine died here — and had a magnificent wake.

★ ★ ★

Commerce has taken over the block. But as the big shovel digs the reluctant earth, one who remembers thinks less on the glory this block will know than on the lonesome glory of the good times it has already known, when the world was younger, now gone by forever.

America's Nonsecret Weapon?

Nikita to See Tall Corn

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first sightseeing by that renowned tourist, Nikita Khrushchev, may be a tip on what he really came to see: America's nonsecret weapon.

★ ★ ★

He arrives Tuesday and will spend most of the day with President Eisenhower, eating, talking, arguing.

International politics out of the way temporarily, he will be ready to look around. And so, at 9 a.m. Wednesday, he will be off to the agricultural research center at Beltsville, Md., 15 miles northeast of the White House.

Americans worry so much over their weakness, real or imaginary, they forget their strength.

But Khrushchev remembers.

It's no accident that he begins at Beltsville, or that he's stopping off for two days in Iowa, to see for himself how tall that tall corn grows.

"We aren't going to blow up the capitalist world with bombs," Khrushchev has said. "If we overtake the United States in per capita production of meat, butter and milk, we shall have hit the pillars of the capitalistic world with the most powerful torpedoes yet seen."

At Beltsville he will have a chance to see how U.S. agricultural torpedoes are developed, tested and fired in the worldwide battle against hunger.

Because of the food ads, Beltsville means turkeys to most of us. Small, compact, meaty, Beltsville turkeys got their name because they were developed at the center.

Important as this may be, turkeys are but a minute fraction of the Beltsville story. The center has 2,300 employes on its 11,000 acres. You can get an awesome idea of their work by glancing down the job classifications: dairy technologists, geneticists, helminthologists, nematologists, olericulturists.

Entourage En Route

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (UPI) — A 60-man Soviet party, headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov, will change planes here Saturday en route to New York as part of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's entourage. Khrushchev will follow the advance delegation into New York Tuesday.

The United States spent 215 million dollars on public education in 1900, compared with the 14 billion dollars being spent this year.

GOP Shunning New Tax Plan

Claims Fear It Would Cast Doubts on Belief in Legality of Use Tax

LANSING (UPI) — Republicans don't want a bi-partisan committee formed to draw up an alternate tax plan to the 1-cent use tax hike because it might look as though they anticipated the supreme count to rule the increase unconstitutional.

Sen. Clyde Geerlings (R-Holland) Thursday told Democrats the Supreme Court probably will rule in favor of the increase.

Rep. Joseph Kowalski (D-Detroit), Democratic floor leader in the House, yesterday asked Geerlings to go along with formation of a committee.

If an alternate plan were prepared, he said, it would be ready to go into operation if the high court ruled against the use tax increase.

"Since this question is before the court, I believe that action by the legislature along the lines you suggest would be improper," Geerlings said.

The idea would lead to "great public confusion," Geerlings said. "The use tax has gone into effect in an orderly manner and legislative discussion of other taxes at this time would tend to mislead the public."

To Smooth Way for Khrushchev?

Asian Reds 'Talk' Peace

TOKYO (AP)—Asian Communists are talking peace through "friendly negotiations" on two fronts—the India-china border and in Laos. But the Reds are giving no indication of a readiness to make concessions.

★ ★ ★

Red China's parliamentary standing committee was called suddenly into session today to discuss the growing dispute with India along the Tibetan border.

This came after the Laotian rebels announced Wednesday they were ready to negotiate "if the royal Laotian government still desires a peaceful settlement."

A U.N. fact-finding mission is leaving New York for Laos Saturday night in answer to an appeal for help from the royal government. The rebels accused the U.N. of interfering in the internal affairs of Laos.

There was speculation here the Communist peace gestures might be at the urging of Moscow to create a more relaxed international atmosphere for Premier Nikita Khrushchev's trip to the United States next Tuesday for talks with President Eisenhower.

The Soviet Union has shown concern over the growing bitterness between Red China and India with an open plea to both to settle their border differences.

Peiping radio said Chinese Communist newspapers today gave prominence to the statement from the Soviet news agency Tass "denouncing the exploitation of the Sino-Indian border issue by the West and to sow discord between the two greatest Asian countries, China and India."

★ ★ ★

The New China News Agency (NCNA) in a terse announcement emphasized that the meeting will be a full dress affair—"an enlarged session" of the standing committee.

Cramps Nix 2-Way Swim of Channel

WISSANT, France (UPI) — Sacramento, Calif., schoolteacher Paul Herron swam the English channel from Britain to France yesterday, but cramps forced him to abandon plans to make it a two-way trip.

★ ★ ★

Herron waded ashore here at 10:30 p.m., 15 hours and 10 minutes after leaving Dover. After a few minutes rest, he plunged back into the channel but was overcome by cramps after swimming a few hundred yards.

He returned to Britain by boat.

Wants Answers in Fatal Shooting

Coroner to Question Brazilian Athletes in Death of Oarsman

CHICAGO (AP)—Du Page County Coroner Samuel K. Lewis says he wants "some very direct answers" from Brazilian athletes in the impending inquest into the fatal shooting of Brazilian oarsman Ronaldo Duncan Arantes.

★ ★ ★

The inquest, originally scheduled for Sept. 17, was moved today to permit testimony of Arantes' fellow Pan American Games athletes before they return to Brazil tomorrow.

"They got the panty waist treatment when we talked to them Monday," Lewis said yesterday. "They were handled with kid gloves, but there's going to be a little sweating of those lads."

Arantes, 26, of Rio De Janiero, was found shot to death outside a dormitory on the North Central College campus in suburban Naperville where the Brazilians stayed. Close by was a new pistol with one shot fired.

★ ★ ★

The finding of a scrap of paper yesterday turned official attention away from two Chilean athletes who lived in the same dormitory.

Parts of Arantes' identification card had been found on the second floor ledge outside the dormitory room of Chileans Higinio Sevilla and Federico Weisse.

Authorities said it appeared the identification card fragments might have been thrown out of the Chileans' window, but the missing piece of the card was found in a bathroom next to their room yesterday, indicating the card was torn up and thrown from the bathroom window.

Reached in Chile, both Sevilla and Weisse denied any implication in the case.

Red Paper Charges 7th Fleet to Act in Laos

MOSCOW (AP) — The navy newspaper Soviet Fleet charged today that the U.S. 7th Fleet is planning armed intervention in Laos.

Soviet Fleet said Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander of all U.S. forces in the Pacific, is the main organizer of what it called a conspiracy directed from American military headquarters in Hawaii.

To Be Freed of Tax?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under a Senate-passed bill, 108 more federal government and congressional officials would be relieved of paying District of Columbia income taxes. The House had voted earlier to exempt 78 officials.

HIS GRIN'S BUILT-IN — "Bobbie," 14-year-old dachshund, is the dog with the smile that's returned for awhile. His dental-technician mistress, Mrs. Ellie Godel of Millbrae, Calif., fitted the pooch with his uppers. The crocodile-like grin results from the fact that the lowers are yet to come, once two old snags have been extracted.

'Never, Never Again,' Says Judge in Binge

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI) — A social-drinking judge went on the wagon today while his stomach recovered from a bout with science.

"I'm not going to do this again —not even in the interest of science," Justice of the Peace Robert Brown moaned at the height of his binge in a University of Illinois laboratory here.

Brown, 42, joined newspaperman Harold Stainer, 29, of Decatur, Ill., and Illinois law student James Struif, Alton, Ill., in a test to show how little alcohol it takes to make a man a dangerous driver.

The experiment, which attracted scores of volunteer applicants, was conducted before a group of JPs and judges here for a traffic court conference.

During the 45-minute test, Stainer tossed off six cans of beer and Struif, a semi-teetotaller, downed five one-ounce shots of 100 proof whisky. Both got giddy but stayed vertical.

Brown did the best — and fared the worst.

The Lake Zurich, Ill. jurist, who said he takes only a few drinks a year, drank 8½ shots of whisky in 45 minutes and got sick.

While his fellow guinea pigs went through a battery of tests, Brown repaired to a couch where he moaned like a seasick sailor for two hours.

He finally arose and took tests which showed he made 160 per cent more errors than before drinking. Stainer's errors increased by 166 per cent and Struif made 275 per cent more mistakes.

It all proved, said Dr. Robert Bordenstein, who ran the tests, that just a little drinking can cause a lot of errors.

Brown said he thought he did more than just a little drinking.

"The next drunk driver who comes before me . . . I'm going to feel very sorry for him," the repentant judge said as he gratefully accepted a ride home.

Shots Fly; Banker May Die

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Wounded in his fourth encounter with holdupmen, Ray Collins, 57, assistant manager of the Bank of Nevada, was in critical condition today.

He was shot in the stomach Thursday as he chased a robber who then killed himself as police closed in.

★ ★ ★

The gunman robbed a teller of $1,617 and ran out of the bank. As Collins made a tackle, the robber shot him. Then he fired four shots into his own chest and fell dead.

Collins, then an employe of the Bank of America in Los Angeles, wounded a holdupman in 1932, prevented a robbery by firing a shot in 1933 and killed a robber in 1936.

Lilly Dache Loses Clip

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police reported Thursday that Lilly Dache, internationally known fashion and beauty expert, lost a leaf-shaped diamond clip valued at $15,000 while attending a fashion festival here Wednesday. She told police that the clip apparently dropped from her dress while she was passing through a crowd.

Only One State Republican Against Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan's delegation in Congress split along party lines yesterday in a vote that overrode President Eisenhower's veto of the second-try public works money bill.

In the Senate, Michigan's Democrat senators, Patrick V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart, voted with the majority as the Senate overrode the veto, 72-23.

Here is the way Michigan representatives divided their vote as the House overrode the veto, 280-121:

★ ★ ★

Republicans for—Knox.

Paired against—Ford, Republican.

The average expenditure per pupil enrolled in American public schools was $76 in 1940, $186 in 1950 and $309 in 1958.

The population of New York when it was captured from the Dutch by the British in 1664 was only 1,000.

Directed by MARK ROBSON
Screenplay by ISOBEL LENNART

"I would like to tell you about a motion picture which I sincerely believe you will not easily forget. It is called 'The Inn of the Sixth Happiness' — filmed against the turbulent and troubled background of old China.

It tells the dramatic story of Gladys Aylward—who is still living and working in China today. She is the woman whose courage and humility made a miracle happen in the face of almost overwhelming danger.

It is the story of three people from different worlds . . . the past . . . the present . . . and the future — who meet and each in their way affect one another with their own meaning of life and death — of love and happiness.

The Chinese will wish you five happinesses — health . . . wealth . . . long life . . . virtue . . . and a peaceful death in old age. There is also a sixth happiness which each of us must find in our own hearts. This is the story of that sixth happiness — and how it came to the inn that bears its name!"

Know the Law

Pitfalls in Gifts to Minors

By FAYE HENLE
NEA Feature Writer

State after state has passed laws ruling on gifts of money or securities to minors.

And bankers around the country report they are amazed at the number of queries they receive regarding these rulings, especially from doting grandmas anxious to give but a share or two of stock.

While it has always been possible to make gifts to minors, serious legal red tape has frequently marred such well-intentioned giving.

To remedy the situation so far as gifts of securities were concerned, the New York Stock Exchange some years ago, in cooperation with The Association of Stock Exchange Firms, created a Model Law which now rules in some half-dozen states. In other states—with the exception of Illinois where legislation is pending—a Uniform Gifts to Minor's Act rules, which covers gifts of both money and securities.

If you are contemplating making any such gifts, here are a bunch of questions you should ask your bank or broker. (As far as I can see, the Uniform Act resembles those rules that govern French verbs; it is packed with exceptions such as Wisconsin being the only state allowing gifts of insurance under the law.)

Determine which law is in effect in your state—the Model Law or the Uniform Act—because your gift must be registered accordingly. For instance, New York has just switched from the Model Law to the Uniform Act.

Determine who may qualify as custodian. This varies not just according to state, but depending upon whether the gift is money, registered securities or bearer securities, such as a government or coupon bond.

What happens if Grandma lives in one state and Sonny in another? Under these circumstances, the gift may be made in accordance with the State that has the most favorable law.

You should also know that:

Gifts made under these laws are irrevocable.

Gifts may be made only to a single individual and only one person may act as custodian.

The laws do not apply to gifts made by will but only to gifts that are made during the donor's lifetime.

Tax consequences may result from such giving.

First there is the gift tax. You may be subject to this federal tax if your gift exceeds $3,000 ($6,000 for a married couple) in any one year to any one person or if it exceeds the once-in-a-lifetime permissable $30,000 gift ($60,000 for a married couple.)

If the income from such a gift is used for the support of a child, it is subject to tax, taxable to the person legally responsible for the support of the child.

And minors might have to pay taxes, too, when their incomes rise. Under the present law a minor child is allowed a personal exemption of $600, plus further deductions if his total income derives from dividends. Parents, however, are still entitled to their $600 exemption if they are supporting a child under 19 years of age or a student.

If a donor is also custodian for a minor, the value of the property he has given may be taxable in his gross estate should he die before the minor reaches 21.

It may be more advantageous to give money gifts rather than securities. The custodian can use the funds to invest according to a set plan he may have created.

King of Waxdom Wants to Make Statue of Callas

LONDON (UP) — Tussaud wants to put Maria Callas in wax for all to admire.

Bernard Tussaud, of the famous London waxworks which houses lifelike figures of just about everyone who has amounted to anything one way or another, said today he has asked the opera singer to sit for a wax effigy.

He expressed belief she should be shown in the costume of Medea, the Cherubini opera role in which she has starred. If that doesn't suit her, he said, La Traviata will do.

It takes a smart girl to decide if a man is too old to be considered eligible — or too eligible to be considered old . . . Some people think religious freedom means the choice of which church to stay away from. —Earl Wilson.

Confirms Appointment of Albion Man as General

LANSING, (UPI)—The appointment of Noble Owen Moore, Albion, as brigadier general has been confirmed by the Senate, Gov. G. Mennen Williams' office said Thursday.

Moore, artillery commander of the 46th division of the Michigan National Guard, was promoted from colonel by Williams March 7. Moore is Calhoun County prosecuting attorney.

Only three states — all of them in the Midwest — had an increasing number of tornado deaths in the latest five-year period. They were Kansas, Missouri and Wisconsin.

Expects Hike in Rate on FHA Mortgage Loans

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A building industry spokesman predicts the Federal Housing Administration will increase the mortgage rate on FHA-insured loans by one-half per cent, from 5¼ to 5¾ per cent.

★ ★ ★

Carl Mitnick of Merchantville, N.J., president of the National Home Builders Assn., told more than 400 builders here Thursday that he expects the increase to come within 30 days.

He didn't elaborate.

DROWSY MAIN STREET — This town of Sam Neua is the center of Communists' attention. It is the stronghold of royal Laotian army forces. Communist-led rebel troops are reported massing in three areas around the town in what could be staging operations for a three-pronged attack on the mountain-ringed town. But the tempo of Laotian life has quickened since the activity of Red rebels. Formerly, life in Laos was slow and sleepy. Nobody ever cared about what didn't get done. Siestas were long. And elephants often ambled down the main streets.

Kingdom of Laos Waking Up Fast

WASHINGTON — Laos, long a drowsy kingdom where the mythical lotus-eaters would have felt at home, has found itself in the midst of the East-West struggle.

Stretching southward from the border of Communist China, Laos nestles among Burma, Thailand, Cambodia and Viet Nam in the heart of Southeast Asia.

Unlike many Asian countries, Laos is uncrowded and free from want. With twice the area of Pennsylvania, it has only 1,655,000 residents, the National Geographic says.

Formerly, life in Laos was slow and sleepy. Siestas were long, and almost nobody cared what didn't get done. Now the tempo of Laotian life has quickened to the activity of Communist rebels. Since 1955, Laos has received $225 million in American military and economic aid.

The Laotian capital is sultry Vientiane, a town of 50,000. Except for its many pagoda temples, downtown Vientiane suggests a village in France, the nation which controlled the country up to 1949. But Vientiane's suburbs resemble a setting for a tropical movie.

Thatched cottages stand on stilts in groves of palms and bananas. Underneath, sarong-clad women weave gold cloth; young men strum soft-toned instruments. Naked tots frolic, and babies drowse. At sunset, booming drums call the Buddhist monks to prayer.

The Laotians are a gentle people. And they rarely get into trouble. Vientiane's prison serves for the entire land. The jail can accommodate 800 inmates but may actually house less than 20 at one time. A Laotian judge once remarked that, on an average, he heard less than one case a week.

Fun-loving and carefree in normal times, the Laotians enjoy festivals where they wear garlands of colored paper, beat drums, and sip sweet rice wine. Even funerals are gay. The bier is watched day and night by youths and maidens who sing songs, improvise poems, tell jokes, and flirt.

Another custom curious to Westerners is the Laotian way of showing approval at theatrical presentations. Instead of applauding, they throw cigarettes and paper cones filled with candy onto the stage. Acting stops while the players collect their rewards.

Laos is called the "Land of a Million Elephants." Its flag bears the figure of a triple-headed elephant. Visitors see few pachyderms, however, except for those in the royal palace at Luang Prabang, about 130 miles up the Mekong River from Vientiane.

The elephants often block traffic as they march down to the river for their daily bath. At times they pause before a temple to be fed bundles of grass. Incantations are whispered in their ears.

Luagn Prabang, the royal capital, gets its name from a two-foot-high golden image of the Buddha. The statue, the palladium of the kingdom, was cast in perhaps the 13th century. It has been captured in a number of wars, mainly between the Laotian kingdoms and the Thai.

College Football

by "RED" BLAIK

I was born in Detroit, brought up in Dayton, did my first college playing at the University of Miami in Oxford, Ohio, and my first coaching as an assistant to George Lyttle at Wisconsin in 1926. As a West Point assistant and head coach, I saw our teams go against Illinois, Michigan and Northwestern many times. As a West Point player and coach, I experienced all the excitement and controversy of the Army-Notre Dame rivalry. I guess, then, it is natural for me to be interested in discussing the Big Ten and the Fighting Irish this fall.

The Western Conference always has been justifiably proud of the caliber of its football and has made its point in intersection play. It is stating the obvious to say that no school ever had more impact on college football than Notre Dame, or was more popular nationally. I understand Wisconsin and Illinois will soon be reappearing on the Irish schedule, where we already find Purdue, Iowa, Northwestern and Michigan State. I think the more games the Big Ten plays with Notre Dame, the more midwest college football benefits.

It would seem Ohio State, Wisconsin, Northwestern and Purdue all have a fine chance for the title, with much depending on injuries and luck. I lean a little toward Ohio State. Their squad, especially the first 16 or so, are stalwart physical types, big, rugged, active.

Among the best are end Jim Houston, fullback Bob White, tackle Jim Tyrer, guard Ernie Wright, quarterback Jerry Fields, and right half Jim Herbstreet, a little one; also sophs Bob Ferguson, a king-sized halfback, and center-linebacker Mike Ingram.

The backfield of Fields, Ferguson, White and Herbstreet could develop into one of the Buckeyes' best, and I have a strong hunch my old friend Woody Hayes will go on the town and throw the ball this year. Defensively, the Buckeyes will continue sound; they seldom beat themselves.

This is not to imply I think Ohio will go undefeated. I don't think any Big Ten team will. The Conference winner could lose two or have a defeat and a tie. But Ohio probably will end up in the Rose Bowl which will likely be the last Big Ten appearance there for the foreseeable future.

★ ★ ★

Wisconsin and Purdue are hard-nosed teams capable of playing the Buckeyes a good line game. Tackles Jim Heineke and Dan Lanphear ,and guard Jerry Stalcup, of the Badgers, are top grade, as is Ron Maltony, Purdue guard. Wisconsin's serviceable quarterback, Dale Hackbart, gives it an edge in that department over Ohio and Purdue. But the Badgers lack some of the overall speed you like to see.

NORTHWESTERN DARK HORSE

The best-balanced Big Ten team could be Northwestern, which lost relatively little by graduation and also has sophomore depth. Dick Thornton is one of the nation's top quarterbacks and Ron Burton rates the same at halfback. There are other players of quality, and Coach Ara Parseghian (a Miami of Ohio product as are Paul Brown, Weeb Ewbank and so many other well-known coaches) does a sound job.

I give the Wildcats a very strong dark horse rating, and would not be surprised if they take it all. Much depends on their getting by Oklahoma and Iowa in the first two games without carnage.

Iowa, last year's Big Ten and Rose Bowl champ, lost its two top passers, Randy Duncan and Mitch Ogiego, and its best runner, Willie Fleming, and will feel it. Yet, I would place the Hawkeyes, Michigan State, Indiana and, perhaps, Illinois in a second group to be called serious trouble-makers. A third group is Michigan and Minnesota, temporarily in downcurves but not wholly without upsetting potential, especially in traditional games.

Joe Kuharich, who succeeded Terry Brennan at Notre Dame, can count on quarterback George Izo, halfback Red Mack and end Monty Stickles to provide the plinth of a reasonably strong attack. But the Irish have a typically rugged schedule and Kuharich faces some line rebuilding. Notre Dame's record will be stronger in November than in October. Watch for the Irish to be involved in many, high-scoring, close, crowd-pleasing games, the same as last year.

Lions' Veteran Ranks Dwindle Again

Stan Campbell Is Traded to Philadelphia

6-Year Vet Loses Job to Two Highly-Rated Rookies

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The veteran ranks from the great championship years of 1952, 1953 and 1957 are dwindling and giving way to youth on the Detroit Lions' roster.

The success of two rookie guards, Bob Grottkau and Mike Rabold has cost veteran guard Stan Campbell his job with the Lions.

He is the third regular lineman of 1958 who is gone this season. Lou Creekmur retired and Bob Miller quit after he was traded to the Eagles.

Campbell, a 230 pounder drafted from Iowa State, played for the 1952 championship team, and except for a time in the service he has been with the Lions as a regular guard.

Thus far during the current exhibition season, Campbell was pushed into the second team role behind Harley Sewell as the two rookies were used alternately in his regular position.

It was Campbell who was the target of George Blanda in the big rhubarb game against the Bears in Chicago in 1956.

It was in this game which Bobby Layne was hit by Ed Meadows and was out at halftime with a broken ankle. The injury started a series of fights throughout the second half in what was probably one of the roughest games played in the NFL.

★ ★ ★

Campbell threw hard block against one of the Bears in the second half and as he was getting up off the ground Blanda made a field goal target out of Campbell's head.

His kick caught Campbell in the shoulder. Had it connected Campbell's head may have been found in the end zone bleachers.

At this point the big brawl started outside the range of the TV cameras. The Lions lost the game and also the divisional title that day.

Coach George Wilson and line coach Aldo Forte have been pleased with Rabold and Grottkau and thus decided to stick with the rookies in trading Campbell.

Yesterday's workout at Cranbrook was considered one of the best in training camp as the Lions prepare for Sunday's exhibition game against the Browns in Briggs Stadium.

Earlier in the pre-season, Detroit defeated Cleveland 9-3 with its ground game picking up 259 yards.

Tickets for the game will go on sale at the Briggs Stadium windows Sunday morning at 11:00 a.m.

Despite Charges in Fatal Drill

Players, Lohr's Parents For Maryland Coach

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Incensed by growing criticism in the aftermath of a teammate's tragic death, a group of University of Maryland football players came to the defense of Coach Tom Nugent today.

★ ★ ★

So did the parents of the victim, Charles (Sonny) Lohr.

Four veteran members acting as spokesmen for the football squad vehemently denied a report that Lohr had undergone a prolonged workout under protest before his fatal collapse on the practice field.

They volunteered statements after Robert D. Welshmer, 17-year-old player at High Point High School in Beltsville, Md., said he saw Lohr kept on the Maryland practice field Sept. 2 after the rest of the squad was dismissed.

Two other youths have supported Welshmer's account.

Welshmer said Lohr complained, "I can't do it," after falling to the ground three or four times during one drill, yet was ordered by an assistant coach to continue.

Alan Monitor Long, 19-year-old Maryland freshman, said he saw the drill while reporting to freshman practice. He said he heard Lohr plead, "Please coach, let me stop."

The other person who supported Welshmer's account is Frank Wilkinson, 18-year-old former co-captain of the football team at nearby Montgomery - Blair High School. He said he heard Lohr say, "I can't do this. I don't have to do this."

These accounts said Lohr was running through a conditioning drill in which players race through a network of ropes strung parallel to the ground at a height of about six inches off the ground.

"I can't understand why people make statements when they don't really know what happened," declared Fletcher, a junior from Front Royal Va. "I was out there at the same time with Sonny and didn't see or hear any coach yelling or driving anybody."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lucile Lohr, the mother of the victim, wrote Nugent a note yesterday, saying the family does not feel the coach was responsible for the boy's death. Maryland opens its season against West Virginia on Sept. 19.

"My friends and I," wrote Mrs. Lohr, "will be at the game on the 19th cheering for you."

Tigers Now Trying to Regain 3rd

SPORTS

Battle Yankees Today, Saturday Needing Sweep

Thursday Loss Dropped Bengals to 4th Place; Foytack Hurls Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The Detroit Tigers have a golden opportunity today to regain third spot in the American League.

They lost it as the frustrated New York Yankees came to life yesterday and overpowered Kansas City 12-1 while the Boston Red Sox were belting the Tigers 7-3.

The Yankees, as a result, are a half game ahead of the Tigers as the two teams open their final series of the season.

If the Tigers had played as well this season against other teams as they have with the Yankees, they would be up on top instead of Chicago. The Tigers have beaten the Yankees 13 out of 20 games so far.

Usually, manager Jimmie Dykes has his Yankee killer, Frank Lary, ready to go against New York. But it is doubtful that Lary will get in this series. He started against Boston yesterday but made a quick exit after giving up four runs in two innings.

Dykes' pitching choice today is Paul Foytack who had a three-hit shutout the last time the Tigers were in New York. Don Mossi, who has five stitches in his left shoulder from having a cyst removed last week, is due to pitch Saturday.

Stephens' two-run double in the first inning and Runnels' looping single for two more in the second chased Lary. The big righthander wound up with his 10th loss instead of his 18th victory.

In the fourth inning, Pumpsie Green tripled behind a Don Buddin single and scored when Runnels grounded out to Frank Bolling. Stephens doubled home another run.

Harvey Kuenn's third inning single was good for the first Tiger score and Charlie Maxwell's single in the fifth brought in two runs, completing the Tiger scoring.

'Don't Win Any More'

Rigney Gets Warning

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bill Rigney, manager of the San Francisco Giants, received a note Thursday warning him not to win any more baseball games in the race for the National League pennant.

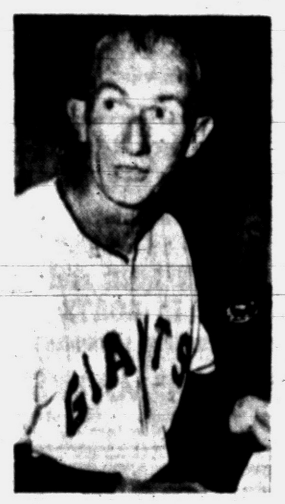

"Rigney, you don't listen to warnings now, we go in for action. We warned you don't win any more games."

Rigney commented that some crank probably wrote the note. He said he had received two similar notes in recent weeks.

The envelope, which showed up in Rigney's mail at Seals Stadium Thursday, was postmarked San Francisco, either Sept. 8 or 9, but the postmark was blurred.

The note was on a single piece of white paper, about 2 by 5 inches, and was all in typewritten capital letters.

"I didn't notify police but threw the notes into the waste basket where they belonged," Rigney told newsmen.

GETS THREAT — Bill Rigney, manager of the San Francisco Giants holds the warning note he received threatening him if he won any more games in the race for the National League pennant. He said he threw the notes in the waste basket.

Aussie Emerson Gunning for Olmedo's Scalp Today

FOREST HILLS (UPI) — Roy Emerson, the "forgotten Australian," is gunning for an upset today against Wimbledon champion Alex Olmedo of Peru in the quarterfinals of the U. S. tennis championships.

Olmedo, big Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, Neale Fraser and Rod Laver of Australia, are favored to hammer their way into the semifinals but if there's any monkey-wrench tossing Emerson figures he's the man to do it.

"It all depends on how Olmedo plays," said the 22-year-old Emerson, who ranks second to Fraser in his country but was passed over in favor of third-ranked Laver in Davis Cup singles play.

"Unless Olmedo has one of those inspired days, I think I can beat him. Anyway, I'm keen for the try."

The peculior Peruvian, however, is building up to the mental peak that carried him to the heights in 1958 Davis Cup competition, in the Australian championships and again at Wimbledon. Alex is a big favorite to face Fraser in Sunday's final.

MacKay, America's chief hope among the three U. S. survivors, meets Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., in another quarterfinal and one Yank automatically will be eliminated. Laver plays the third American, Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn.

Fraser, a slashing lefty who licked both Olmedo and MacKay in the Davis Cup challenge round and won the doubles with Emerson, plays Pan-American champ Luis Ayala of Chili in the other quarterfinal.

Fraser approaches the finals from the upper bracket while Emerson and Laver are in the lower, leaving open the possibility of an All-Australian final for the fourth straight year.

In women's singles, it's Wimbledon champ Maria Bueno vs. Louise Brough Clapp of Beverly Hills, Calif.; Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., vs. 16-year-old Karen Hantze of San Diego, Calif.; Sandra Reynolds of South Africa vs. Ann Haydon of England, and Britain's Christine Truman vs. Dorothy Head Knode of Panama.

MacKay racked up his fourth consecutive straight set victory yesterday by downing Bob Mark of Australia 6-4, 6-4, 9-7, committing only 10 double faults—good for Barry—and dropping his service only once after leading 5-4 in the final set.

Cincy Plans Cool Park

CINCINNATI (AP) — Crosley Field, home of the Cincinnati Reds, will be the coolest park in the major leagues in 1960, General Manager Gabe Paul said Thursday.

So-called jet air fans, each of which moves 10,000 cubic feet of air per minute, will be installed throughout the stands. They were tried out this year in 13 sections this summer and proved very successful, Paul declared.

Powerful Bears Host Stingy Giants Tonight

By United Press International

The New York Giants, one of the National Football League's most defensive-minded teams, run into the high-scoring Chicago Bears tonight in a nationally-televised exhibition game in Chicago.

The Bears scored 106 points in their last two pre-season games while the Giants have not permitted a touchdown in their last two exhibitions.

Tonight's contest will be televised by CBS, starting at 10:15 p.m.

George Halas' Bears, undefeated in four pre-season games, will have the services of three fine quarterbacks — Zeke Bratkowski, Ed Brown and Rudy Bukich—searching for such receivers as Willard Dewveall, Merrial Douglas and Bill McColl. Hard-running Rick Casares, who scored three touchdowns in the Bears' last game, presents a constant ground threat.

New York, second only to the world champion Baltimore Colts in holding down the opposition this summer, has a formidable array out front consisting of Andy Robustelli, Dick Modzelewski, Sam Huff, Rosey Grier and Jim Katcavage.

HERSHEY, Pa. — Coach Buck Shaw said Thursday that four rookies and possibly a fifth will start for the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday in their game with the Baltimore Colts in Philadelphia.

★ ★ ★

Rounding out a full week-end schedule are these games; Chicago Cardinals at Pittsburgh tonight; San Francisco at Los Angeles Saturday night, and Baltimore at Philadelphia Sunday afternoon.

Laugh Is Unanimous

Wins Fight, Loses Pants

★ ★ ★

MSU Starting Backfield All Set

Daugherty May Decide on 1st Team Saturday

Bump Elliott Pleased With Defensive Drills After Long Session

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Coach Duffy Daugherty has just about determined his starting backfield for Michigan State.

And that's the way it will remain when the Spartans open the season here Sept. 26 against Texas A & M — barring unforeseen developments.

"We should have the whole first team set by Saturday," Daugherty said after running his gridders through a full-dress scrimmage yesterday.

Reserve offensive teams worked against the No. 1 defense yesterday and had difficulty moving, either through the air or on the ground.

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—University of Michigan football coach Bump Elliott believes that his team's blocking and tracking is improving, and that "the defense is catching up with the offense."

Elliott made the observation after putting his squad through a two-hour scrimmage yesterday afternoon on one of the coolest days since practice began at U. of M.

Elliott hopes to narrow the team down to the 22 players that will have to carry the brunt of the Wolverines load this fall. He hopes to have two interchangeable units ready by the Sept. 26 opener with Missouri.

Chips First in Action

College Opener Saturday

SAGINAW (UPI)—Central Michigan University opens the Michigan Collegiate football schedule here Saturday night against a hefty, experienced Bolling Air Force Base team in the eighth annual Red Feather game.

Bolling, which has won 39 and tied one of its 42 games in four years under George Makris, former Michigan State boxing coach, will field two teams, each averaging about 220 pounds per man in the front line.

The Generals include fullback Jon Hobbs, whose field goal provided the difference in Wisconsin's 9-7 win over Michigan State last fall, and James Reinke, a defensive specialist for the Badgers but an offensive end for Bolling.

Robert West, an all-Southern Conference quarterback at North Carolina and already drafted by the Cleveland Browns, and Leroy Phelps, formerly of Oregon, will call signals for the Generals.

Walt Beach heads the fast-stepping Central Michigan backs. The Pontiac speedster needs only 250 yards this season to surpass Jim Podoley's all-time school rushing mark of 2,775 yards.

Jerry O'Neil of Marysville will team with Beach at halfback. Oarie Lemanski of Bad Axe, who sparked Central Michigan's early season successes last year until a leg injury slowed him, will be back at quarterback. Al Bernardi of Detroit Denby is the fullback.

Central Michigan has a 5-2 record in the Red Feather game. The Chippewas' only other meeting with a service team—Great Lakes Naval Station in 1953—resulted in one of the losses, 36-16. Last year, the Chippewas scored three times in the final 11 minutes to defeat Hillsdale, 19-13.

Outboard Dealers See Motor Preview

A half dozen outboard motor dealers handling the Evinrude line of boat power plants in Pontiac and environs attended the press-dealer preview of 1069 lines at a big gathering in Detroit, this week.

All 500 or more who saw the new line were much impressed, says Pontiac dealers Elmer Harrington. "The four new models are very fast, very good looking and have some interesting new features," says Harrington. "They are quieter, economical and highly dependable, as the demonstrations showed."

Duplication in Deer Permits Bring Fines

LANSING (UPI) — Deer hunters have been warned by the conservation department that it doesn't pay to submit more than one application for special season permits.

Persons who break the one-application rule risk fines, costs and possible loss of hunting privileges, the department said.

Pistons Sign Kenville Again

Pro Veteran Comes Out of Retirement to Join Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—In his search for a competent playmaker to lead the Detroit Pistons in their 1959-60 National Basketball Association campaign, coach Red Rocha has lured veteran guard Bill Kenville out of retirement.

Kenville, 28, quit pro basketball following the 1957-58 season with the Pistons, but he ended his one-year retirement yesterday to sign a contract with Detroit.

The 6-foot, 3-inch former St. Boneventure star will start workouts at the Pistons' rookie training camp which opens here Monday and continues the rest of the week.

Suspend Trainer in Doping Charge

NEW YORK (UPI) — The trainer of the winner of a $50,000 Roosevelt Raceway race last Friday night has been suspended pending further investigation of a report indicating the horse was doped.

Robert A. Glasser, chairman of the newly created New York State Harness Racing Commission, Thursday announced the banning of Charles Fitzpatrick Jr. of Southern Pines, N.C., and Blue Hen Stable of Dagsboro, Del., owned by William F. Wilgus Jr., the estate of Charles Fitzpatrick Sr., Charles Fitzpatrick Jr., Herbert Calhoun and G. Harvey Tingle. All horses under Fitzpatrick's control also are suspended.

Judy Eller Defeated in Trans-Miss. Event

Judy Kimball, 21, of Sioux City, Iowa, upset national Collegiate champion Judy Eller yesterday, 5 and 4, in a quarter-final match. Miss Eller had been favored to make it to the finals along with national amateur champion Barbara McIntire of Lake Park, Fla.

Miss McIntire scored a similar 5 and 4 victory over Marcella Rose of St. Louis in the quarter-finals. She was to meet Sherry Wheeler of Glasgow, Ky., who edged Mrs. Paul Dye Jr., of Indianapolis yesterday, 1-up.

Miss Kimball was paired against Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa, in the semi-finals. Mrs. Johnstone beat Beth Stone of Muskogee, Okla., 1-up on 19 holes yesterday.

Purdue Has Two Units

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI)—Purdue's football team, two deep, is as good as last year's team, coach Jock Mollenkopf said today. The Boilermakers will be trouble for the Big Ten again.

Last year Purdue, with a two platoon system in which each team played half of each period, was beaten only by Wisconsin and tied by Ohio State and Indiana in a nine-game schedule.

"We've got Bernie Allen at quarterback on the No. 2 unit," Mollenkopf said, "and he's as good as Bob Spoo, so I think we're equal."

Other losses were negligible, except for tackles Gene Selawski, a 245 pounder, and Mollenkopf discounted the importance of a lighter line because Selawski was our only big boy last year."

Defense was the Boilermakers' main threat last season, best in the Big Ten and second best in the nation, and Mollenkopf said "I don't know why we shouldn't be as good on defense as last year. We've worked unmercifully in a lot of heat, hard workouts and twice a day. This time last year our team was further advanced than we are now, but we should be just as good."

★ ★ ★

Mollenkopf has veterans for every first team position, and he has only three sophomores on the second team.

Sammy Baugh, the former professional passing star, has a 20-21 record in four years as football cach at Hardin-Simmons in Abilene, Tex.

Foxx at Hospital in Illinois Town With Ailing Heart

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP) — Jimmy Foxx, member of the baseball Hall of Fame, is confined to St. Mary's Hospital after suffering a mild heart seizure, attendants announced Thursday.

It was only Thursday, however, that Dr. Howard Graham disclosed he had a coronary.

"There was no serious damage to the heart," said Graham. "We want Jimmy to stay in the hospital another three weeks at least but we are having a hard time convincing him to do so."

Foxx, who will be 52 years old next month, manages a restaurant in Galesburg.

4 Wings Still Not In for '59

DETROIT (UPI) — Only three regulars remain unsigned as the Detroit Red Wings continue practice sessions at Olympia Stadium in preparation for the approaching National Hockey League season.

General Manager Jack Adams said that Billy McNeil and Len Lunde signed their 1959-60 contracts yesterday to bring the number of players in the fold to 19.

Unsigned are Marcel Pronovost, Red Kelly and Alex Delvecchio. Jim Morrison, veteran defenseman obtained last month from Boston, also has yet to sign a Red Wing contract.

McNeil, a 23-year-old right winger, played 53 games with Detroit last season. Lunde, 22, is a center who counted 14 goals and 12 assists last year, his first season in the NHL.

Miss Wright Early Memphis Pacesetter

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The women's national Open champion, Mickey Wright, holds a 3-stroke lead in the $7,500 Memphis women's open golf tournament today.

The San Diego ace yesterday toured the 6,675-yard, 36-37—73 Ridgeway Country Club course in 36-34—70, getting three birdies on the tough back nine.

Bonnie Randolph of Naples, Fla. was second in the 72-hole medal play tournament with 39-34—73. Tied with 74s were Kathy Cornelius of Lake Worth, Fla. and Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis.

Ortega on TV Tonight

Promoter Chris Dundee has offered Jordan $50,000 to defend his title in the new 17,000-seat Exhibition Hall here Dec. 4. Dundee has received no formal reply to his offer.

Black Hawks Buy Two Young Goalies

MONTREAL (AP)—Claude Pronovost and Eddie Johnston, minor league goalies owned by the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, were sold Thursday to the Chicago Black Hawks.

Canadiens' vice president Ken Reardon said it was a straight cash deal with no other players involved.

Pronovost, 24, has played with a number of minor league clubs. Last season, with the Montreal Royals, he won the top goaler reward in the now defunct Quebec Hockey League. He is a brother of defenseman Marcel Pronovost of the Detroit Red Wings.

Johnston, a Montreal boy, turned pro three seasons ago. He has played with Winnipeg Warriors of the Western Hockey League.

Desperate Indians to Use Hamner on Mound

Wilhelm Stops Tribe Keeping Chisox 4½ Up

By The Associated Press

Early Wynn has a 19-9 record this season for the Chicago White Sox. Bud Daley is 15-12 for Kansas City. Hoyt Wilhelm is 14-11 for Baltimore. All three have winning records over Cleveland.

So what? So it's a bit ironic that the Indians, who once owned all three, now are so hard up for pitching while trying to stay alive in that American League pennant race that they're going to give infielder Granny Hamner another crack at it.

Hamner tried once before. One of the Whiz Kids who brought the National League pennant to Philadelphia in 1950, he took a shot at pitching with the Phils in 1956 because of an ailing shoulder that gave him trouble when he batted.

The experiment didn't work. He pitched just nine innings in four games over two seasons for an 0-1 record and a 4.00 earned run average.

Wilhelm, the knuckleballing right - hander Cleveland didn't want, hung the Injuns up last night, clipping their winning streak at six with a three-hitter as Baltimore beat the second place Tribe 6-1. That left Cleveland 4½ games behind the White Sox, who were belted 8-2 by Washington but reduced their magic number to 11.

New York regained third place with a 12-1 romp over Kansas City, the A's 13th straight loss, while Detroit dropped to fourth with a 7-3 defeat at Boston.

The White Sox, who had won 11 in a row from Washington, were knocked over by three home runs that backed a four - hitter by Camilo Pascual (15-10). Harmon Killebrew, tying Cleveland's Rocky Colavito for the AL lead with his 40th, Jim Lemon and Lennie Green tagged the homers, all two-run shots.

Dick Donovan (9-8) was the loser, his third straight loss to the Nats, who dropped the season series to the Sox 6-16.

Milwaukee, Dodgers Only 2 Behind

Pirates Cut Giants Down

Things don't look good for San Francisco's Giants in that National League pennant race. Not with Milwaukee riding a five - game streak after two perk-up, come-from-behind victories and Los Angeles' pitchers back in business.

The Braves and Dodgers, tied for second, trimmed San Francisco's lead to two games yesterday as the Giants and 19-game winner Johnny Antonelli blew a 3-1 lead and lost 5-3 to Pittsburgh.

Milwaukee moved in with a four run seventh inning that beat St. Louis 7-4. And Los Angeles kept the pace with a 5-0 job on Philadelphia as Roger Craig gave the Dodger staff two consecutive three hit shutouts and a string of 23 scoreless innings.

Craig, a right - hander who hadn't put away a complete game against the Phillies in 10 tries since 1956, faced the minimum 17 men over the last six innings while matching Don Drysdale's three-hit job of Wednesday night. Craig gave up three walks—two in the sixth when a pickoff and doubleplay kept him free of trouble—and struck out four while gaining an 8-5 record.

The last place Phils, who dropped all 11 games at Los Angeles, clumped a pair of their hits in the second inning with two out. But Gene Freese, who singled, was out trying to score on Sparky Anderson's single. Richie Ashburn singled in the third with two out, but Harry Anderson flied out and Craig rolled to his third shutout and first complete game in five starts since July 29.

The Dodgers beat Don Cardwell (9-8) with a pair of unearned runs in the first inning on an error, walk and Norm Larker's single. Their other three came in the fifth when Maury Wills, who had four of their seven hits, and Charley Neal each tripled.

Milwaukee built a 3-0 lead against Larry Jackson, who had shut out the Dodgers and Giants in his last two starts. But the Cards took a 4-3 lead with three runs in the seventh against Juan Pizarro and Bob Rush. Then the Braves bounced back for their four, scoring three on Hank Aaron' double after losing reliever Lindy McDaniel (14-12) had loaded the bases with three consecutive walks.

Don McMahon (5-2) won it with a one-hit, two-inning mopup that officially eliminated the seventh-place Cards from the race.

The Pirates, who had lost four in a row, caught the Giants with four runs in the seventh. An error by Danny O'Connell let in the tying run and Bob Clemente then put it away with a two-run single. Vern Law (16-9) went all the way for the victory although giving up 11 hits, three of them homers—one by Willie Kirkland and two by Willie Mays, playing with a possible broken finger.

SQUEEZE BACKFIRES — Pittsburgh catcher Hank Foiles is caught between home and third as the attempt for the squeeze play backfired. Batter Dick Groat missed the ball and San Francisco catcher Hobie Landrith chased Foiles down the line and threw to third baseman Jose Pagan in the run down.

Mrs. Wright Metro Victor

Mrs. W. D. (Edith) Wright of Lake Orion, former Pontiac city champion, survived intense heat to win the weekly Women's Metropolitan Golf Assn. tournament at Idyl Wyld.

Mrs. Wright, who won the 1st Metro tourney of her career two weeks ago at Bald Mountain, was two strokes better than her closest pursuers as she fired 43-42—85 on the Idyl Wyld layout, 10 over women's par.

Mrs. Max Evans and Mrs. William Rodgers each shot 87 to tie for 2nd place. Low net honors went to Mrs. Harry Rosenthal, who carded 90-12—78.

Detroit Junior Legion World Champions

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—A roaring comeback has carried Detroit to the 1959 American Legion junior baseball Little World Series championship.

The Detroit club won the title last night by beating Phoebus, Va. for the second straight night, 11-4, the fourth straight win for Detroit which dropped its first game in the double elimination tourney.

Fred Bowen of Detroit, a shortstop, was awarded the Legion player of the year trophy. Hazlerock Routten, Phoebus catcher, received the sportsmanship trophy and Lou Webb, Phoenix, who hit .478 in two games, got the batting championship award.

Softball in Finals

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP) — Portland, Ore., defeated Phoenix, Ariz. 2-0 Thursday night and qualified to challenge defending champion Stratford for the women's world softball tournament title Friday.

Dallas Open Set to Start Today

Snead and Hogan Head Field; Wininger's 63 Wins Pro-Am

DALLAS (AP)—A 131-man golf field including Sam Snead and Hogan starts after the big money in the $25,000 Dallas Open today.

Art Wall, the year's leading money winner is among the missing as all except a handful of the top players play the par 35-35—70 over the 6,744-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course.

Chances are that just about all of them will make it, too. While the course has been lengthened by 400 yards over the last year, it still appears a soft touch for the game's hotshots.

★ ★ ★

Bo Wininger, the graying pro from Odessa, Tex., cut the course down to size yesterday in a pro-amateur event. Wininger, who has finished second three times this year but hasn't yet won a tournament, posted a competitive course record 63 over the changed layout. He was just one of 11 pros to better par for the day. Among them was Snead, who has won the tournament two years in a row.

Snead had a 68 and it came the day after he shot the course in 65.

Experimental Hunt Set

LANSING (AP)—An experimental grouse hunt will be held by the State Conservation Department during the small game season on High Island, a part of the Little Beaver Island State Game Area.

The hunt will help determine the most practical length for open grouse seasons on the mainland.

The department said about 100 hunters will be needed to help reach the department's harvest goal of 40 to 50 per cent of the island's 300 birds.

Hoffa Associate Gets Conviction

2 Ex-Union Officials Convicted of Conspiracy for Hiding Records

NEW YORK (AP) — Two former Teamster Union officials were convicted Thursday of conspiracy to obstruct justice by hiding records sought by a special rackets grand jury. One of the two men was described by the government as a close associate of Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

The Hoffa associate convicted in federal court was Joseph Curcio, 41, of Flushing, Queens, former president of AFL Local 649 of the United Automobile Workers. The local's charter has since been revoked.

The government said Curcio also was a former secretary-treasurer of Local 269, a "paper" local existing for purposes of union racketeering.

They were found guilty after a four-day trial before a jury of 11 men and one woman. Judge Alexander Bicks st Oct. 5 for sentencing.

Curcio, convicted on three counts of the four-count indictment, could receive up to 15 years in jail and be fined $30,000. Baker, found guilty on two counts, could get 10 years and $20,000 in penalties.

Each is free on $10,000 bail.

Archbishop Asks Religions to Shun Soviet Premier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Catholic priests and members of religious orders have been asked by the Archbishop of Washington to stay away from Nikita S. Khrushchev when the Soviet Premier visits here next week.

The Archbishop, the Most Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle, made the request yesterday in a brief talk following a mass he celebrated in the Shrine of the Sacred Heart.

He said that prayers will be recited in all churches within the archdiocese during Khrushchev's visit. The prayers, he said, will be for world peace, "based on justice for every human being."

Unconcerned, Unaffected by Steel Strike

Auto Industry Still Plans Buildup

DETROIT (UPI) — The auto industry, still unconcerned and unaffected by the steel strike, went forward today with plans for a consistent build-up of 1960 automobile production.

All the auto companies foresaw the steel strike long ago and placed advance orders for large amounts of steel to carry them through a long shutdown. Steel stocks were piled high at the plants and some companies hired outside warehouses to store steel supplies. At the same time, they jogged their suppliers to lay in large stores of steel to assure steady delivery of component parts.

As a result, the auto industry in general believes it will not feel the pinch of the steel strike unless it runs beyond October. American Motors several weeks ago said it could continue production of new cars into December.

Ford produces about 50 per cent of its steel in its own giant Rouge plant which is not affected by the strike. Ford's steel workers are members of the United Auto Workers.

Demonstrating the confidence of the industry at large that it can outlast the steel strike, the auto companies have assigned 27 per cent of their plants to two-shift operations in the next few weeks for production of 1960 models.

By October, the industry expects to have more than half its plants on two-shift operations. Ward's Automotive Reports says production will increase steadily during the rest of September, and will ride into October with a production schedule of about 640,000 cars for that month—one of the highest levels in the industry's history for October. And all of the car makers said they took their steel stocks into consideration in planning their October schedules.

Another factor in the confidence of the auto makers is that in 1960 it will take less steel to build automobiles.

First, part of the 640,000 production figure for October will be in the manufacture of three new smaller cars hitting the market for the first time — Ford's Falcon, General Motors' Corvair, and Chrysler's Valiant — all of them several hundred pounds lighter than standard automobiles. GM expects to have 30,000 Corvairs ready for introduction Oct. 2.

In addition, an increasing amount of other metals — principally aluminum but some zinc — are being substituted for steel. The Corvair's engine will be aluminum. Ford's Falcon will have an aluminum head and intake manifold. Plastics, too, are taking the place of steel in the manufacture of some of the small component parts and trim.

One place where the auto industry feels the long steel strike has hurt is in auto sales. High as auto sales have been during 1959, the companies believe they would have been higher but for the steel strike. The shutdown threw about 650,000 persons across the nation out of work in steel plants or allied industries. And these workers were all potential customers.

★ ★ ★

But all in all, the auto industry does not feel it has to be concerned about the steel strike for another six weeks at least.

Hoffa Associate Gets Conviction

2 Ex-Union Officials Convicted of Conspiracy for Hiding Records

NEW YORK (AP) — Two former Teamster Union officials were convicted Thursday of conspiracy to obstruct justice by hiding records sought by a special rackets grand jury. One of the two men was described by the government as a close associate of Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

The Hoffa associate convicted in federal court was Joseph Curcio, 41, of Flushing, Queens, former president of AFL Local 649 of the United Automobile Workers. The local's charter has since been revoked.

The government said Curcio also was a former secretary-treasurer of Local 269, a "paper" local existing for purposes of union racketeering.

The pair was accused of hiding books and records subpoenaed by the special federal grand jury investigating racketeering in the garment and trucking industry.

They were found guilty after a four-day trial before a jury of 11 men and one woman. Judge Alexander Bicks st Oct. 5 for sentencing.

Curcio, convicted on three counts of the four-count indictment, could receive up to 15 years in jail and be fined $30,000. Baker, found guilty on two counts, could get 10 years and $20,000 in penalties.

Each is free on $10,000 bail.

Soybeans Off; Corn Boosted

CHICAGO (AP)—The government's September crop report had a mildly bullish effect on soybeans and a bearish influence on corn today in early transactions on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans were bid up as much as 1½ cents a bushel at the opening while corn slipped major fractions.

The government estimate of a 532 ½-million-bushel soybean yield was several million bushels less than some dealers expected while the boost of more than 200 million in the corn outlook from a month ago was well above trade predictions.

After about an hour wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ cent a bushel higher, September $1.91⅛; corn unchanged to 1⅛ lower, September $1.16¾; oats ⅛ to ⅝ lower, September new type contract 66; rye ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, September $1.31⅝; soybeans ½ to ¾ higher, September $2.09⅛.

Stocks Rebound in Early Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rebounded early today after three straight days of sharp losses. Trading was moderately active.

Steels and motors were pacemakers as several leaders in these groups rose more than a point.

Brokers regarded the action mainly as a technical rebound and noted that the market was close to an anticipated "support" level in the averages.

The raise in the discount rate to 4 per cent from 3½ per cent announced by the Federal Reserve Board after yesterday's market close had been well anticipated by market declines, brokers said.

Also ahead a point or so were Westinghouse Electric, General Tire and Illinois Central.

4 Per Cent Interest Rate Starts Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Member banks borrowing from eight branches of the Federal Reserve system today start paying 4 per cent interest, the highest rate in 29 years.

★ ★ ★

The expected ½ per cent increase in the discount rate was announced late Thursday for Reserve banks in New York, Cleveland, Richmond, Chicago, St. Louis, Dallas, San Francisco and Kansas City.

★ ★ ★

The system's other four banks are expected to start charging the increased rate before long.

INTEREST CLIMBS

Other short term interest charges have climbed sharply in the last month. The rate on three-month treasury bills, for example, has increased since early August from just over 3 per cent to nearly 4 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The Federal Reserve Board generally keeps the discount rate as high as the bill rate to discourage banks from borrowing from the Reserve in order to invest in the bills.

Plans call for the construction of a church on a five-acre site on Highland road in the Twin Lakes housing development, a mile west of Williams Lake road.

It will be known as Christ of the Lakes Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The driver of the car, Harold Adams, 45, of 9476 Leona Dr., White Lake Township, told Pontiac police the sun was shining in his eyes and he didn't see the approaching scooter as he made a left turn onto Voorheis road into the scooter's path.

Four Hoodlums Assault Woman

More Teen Violence Flares in New York Despite Measures

NEW YORK (UPI) — Emergency first aid measures fell short of stemming New York's teenage gang violence today.

Two fresh outbreaks were reported in Brooklyn and police issued a call for new powers to meet the epidemic.

Early today four youths — three Negroes and a Puerto Rican — abducted and raped a 44-year-old white woman on her way to work. She was beaten and robbed before the gang released her.

A band of young Puerto Ricans in the same precinct pursued a 13-year-old boy into a firehouse to beat him and when firemen came to his aid threatened to shoot up the station.

He admitted he could see "no reversal" in the steady rise of juvenile delinquency and crime unless the hand of law enforcement agencies is strengthened.

In one Brooklyn incident early this morning police said a woman was about to enter a subway station on her way to work at an all night beauty shop when a car drove up and two youths got out.

The youths, officers said hit her in the face, forced her into the car, and drove her three miles to a vacant house where they and two companions raped her and robbed her of $30.

Detectives said they were searching for a fourth youth, a Puerto Rican known as "Pancho," who was also implicated by the victim.

★ ★ ★

Officers said they believed the woman had wandered the streets for several hours in a daze after she was freed by the youths.

Shortly before, police arrested six Puerto Rican youths in the same precinct in connection with a daring invasion of a firehouse.

They were reported to have chased an intended victim, a 13-year-old boy, into the firehouse but were frustrated in their attack by several firemen.

The gang, known as the Mau Maus, threatened the firemen with clubs and promised to come back later with a gun.

Here, backers of the project, Mrs. Kenneth Valentine, Assistant Township Recreation Director Robert Bauer, Carol Saul and junior high school teacher Jack McCaffrey go over the script "Our Town," slated as the first production.

Link U.S. Fugitives With Stock Juggler

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—An investigator for the U. S. Securities Exchange Commission today linked three American fugitives from justice now in Brazil with alleged stock juggler Alexander L. Guterma.

The investigator, attorney Edward C. Jagerman, said Earle Belle of Pittsburgh, Benjack Cage, of Texas, and Lowell M. Birrell of New York all had financial dealings with Germa, also of New York, which are being investigated in the United States.

In addition to charges of stock fraud made against him, Guterma was indicted in the United States last week for failing to register as an agent of the Dominican Republic.

Belle, Cage and Birrell were wanted in their respective states in connection with fraud indictments. Because Brazil has no extradition treaty with the U. S., they cannot be handed over to U. S. officials.

Organize Theater Guild in Waterford Township

With the organization of a new theater guild in Waterford Township last night, a group of interested residents immediately began making plans for producing their first play in December.

For more than three years various groups have tried to promote theater activities in the township, but never quite succeeded, according to Township Recreation Director Tom Belton.

Several meetings were held this summer and now the Lakeland Players are set to audition people for a lively three-act comedy, "Our Town."

Auditions will be held from 8 to 11 p. m. Sept. 28 at the Community Activities Center for a cast of 26.

The group plans to rehearse at homes of members. The final productions will be presented in one of the township's two junior high schools, according to chairman Mrs. William G. Aebersold.

★ ★ ★

Others participating are Mrs. Arlene Lolley, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Valentine, treasurer; Bernard Heaney, John McCaffrey, Allen Miserezus, and newly appointed Assistant Recreation Director, Robert Bauer, and Recreation Director Tom Belton.

"Anyone in the township wishing to attend the tryouts is welcome," Belton said.

Police Hold City Man for Attack on Woman

Police said, Charles Brown of 363 Ferry St., admitted he had forced Clotee Brown, 33, from her apartment at 56 Jacokes St., and into his car shortly after 10 p.m.

Officers said Miss Brown, had been struck several times and was treated at Pontiac General Hospital. Brown had been carrying a brick under his shirt, they reported.

They are not related, police said.

Steel Industry Opposes Government Fact-Finders

NEW YORK (UPI)—R. Conrad Cooper, steel industry chief negotiator is the 59-day old steel strike, indicated today that the industry opposes any fact-finding procedure the government might set up to try to settle the walkout.

"We have made our views clear from time to time on fact-finding boards and I have nothing to add," he told newsmen.

In Washington Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) and Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) had urged President Eisenhower to set a one-week deadline for a settlement, and suggested he name a special fact-finding committee to make recommendations if the week passed without an agreement.

The steel industry's position has been against government intervention of any kind on grounds that the issues could be resolved by collective bargaining.

★ ★ ★

Cooper was asked if tomorrow's scheduled session, the first Saturday meeting of negotiators since the strike started July 15, was prompted by President Eisenhower's insistence on more intensified bargaining.

"The Saturday session is consistent with the policy we have held all the time," Cooper said.

"We have been ready, willing and anxious to reach an agreement. With the new subcommittees in operation, the negotiations have reached a point where a Saturday session is advisable.

"Certainly we subscribe to President Eisenhower's desire for an early settlement. We are anxious to reach a sound conclusion at the earliest possible time."

★ ★ ★

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steel Workers of America, said the 12 subcommittees which are working in addtion to the top level committee, have been going through the wage contract clause by clause and have been "discussing all kinds of issues."

Members of the National Governors' Conference moved to take advantage of President Eisenhower's apparent willingness to discuss with them means of ending the 59-day old steel strike.

★ ★ ★

The President sent a telegran to Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, the state hardest hit by the strike, indicating that he might meet with the conference's executive council to discuss the plight of states affected by the strike and possible avenues of settlement.

Miss Illinois, Miss New York State Win

2 Awarded $1,000 Scholarships

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) Miss Illinois and Miss New York State have learned that singing and looking good in a bathing suit can be most profitable.

★ ★ ★

Miss Illinois, 21-year-old Suzanne Ingeborg Johnson of Chicago Thursday night sang "Hello Young Lovers" to win the preliminary talent competition in the 1960 Miss America contest underway here.

Both of them get $1,000 scholarships. They now await Saturday night's finals, when a new Miss America will be selected. She'll receive $10,000 in scholarships and about $75,000 for personal appearances during her reign.

Miss Johnson said she was "perfectly thrilled" with her prize and added she selected the Rodgers-Hammerstein tune because "I felt it would fit my type of voice." She is a mezzo soprano.

Like other preliminary winners in other Miss America pageants, Miss Marquis said she was "stunned," that she didn't expect to win, and that she felt there were at least a half dozen better than she.

★ ★ ★

In fact, she told newsmen she already spotted the girl she thought would win the swim suit event but declined to name her.

★ ★ ★

Miss Marquis explained she wore a yellow bathing outfit because "I don't have much of a tan and I found that this color makes the tan you have look the best."

A reporter commented that Miss Marquis had a graceful walk as she came down the ramp before judges.

★ ★ ★

"My mother taught me that," said Miss Marquis. "She taught me that walking is an attitude, not a position."

Eddie and Liz Return to Face U. S. Public

By EARL WILSON

LONDON — Exactly one year after their romance was revealed, Eddie Fisher and Liz Taylor are returning to the U.S., blissful over the reviews of Eddie's weekend BBC telecast—and privately hoping they will launch Eddie again in American TV.

WILSON

Afterwards, at a big party, thin-looking Liz fondled Eddie's long Italian-type haircut. They phoned Jennie Grossinger, at whose Catskill hotel their romance was revealed a year ago.

Then they went to Paris with Ingemar Johansson and his fiancee. Johannson flew in from Scandinavia to guest on the show. Eddie got $10,000, the top British price.

LIZ AND EDDIE

Eddie and Liz are scoffing at newspaper stories that they ducked out on bills—rent and milk—and claim they will be paid by Sam Spiegel, producer of "Bridge on the River Kwai," who is known locally as "Aga Kwai."

Eddie was amused by one TV review which complimented him "for not having the overcasual approach of Perry Como, which is fast spoiling every song show on TV."

Dirksen Spikes Solons' Dreams of Hawaii Jaunt

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen left high and dry Thursday any hopes for a king-sized junket of the entire Senate to Hawaii. He said only about five senators would go.

Dirksen spiked dreams of the blue Pacific holiday in the wake of some sharp Democratic criticism of a purported move to have all 100 Senate members attend a statehood celebration in the 50th state next Thanksgiving.

The Senate's official delegation, he said, "will probably be very small — about five members."

Dirksen revealed earlier that a resolution had been drafted authorizing the Senate to attend the giant "luau"—at a cost of $200,000 to the taxpayers.

★ ★ ★

He said then that fellow Republicans on the Senate GOP policy committee applauded the idea with "hilarity and great exuberance of spirit."

But today, he conceded that some might consider the idea a "flight of fancy." So he moved to straighten out the record.

'I Killed Your Son,' Says N.Y. Husband

NEW YORK (AP) — John and Delia Slattery were listening to the radio newscast Thursday when the announcer told of the body of a boy being found in a trash can.

Mrs. Slattery said her husband suddenly glared at her and blurted out: "That's your son. I killed the kid. I shoved him into the garbage can."

The woman snatched up her 3-month-old son Brian; and with another son, Michael, 6, and a daughter, Jane, 3, ran to a neighbor's apartment where she called police.

Slattery, 38, who admitted he had been drinking heavily, was captured after a struggle on the rooftop of his Bronx apartment house.

'Going to Make It,' Says Hurt 'Chemist'

By REBA HEINTZELMARE

This pretty well sums up the feeling of 13-year-old Roger Mihay as he waits impatiently for Monday morning when he will start classes at Waterford Township's John D. Pierce Junior High School.

Several weeks ago it appeared very doubtful Roger could return to classes for a long time, let alone being there for the school's opening.

An amateur chemist, he suffered first, second and third degree burns when a 50-gallon drum on a pontoon raft he was making exploded. Bones in the lower part of his leg were shattered.

Roger, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mihay, 4912 Hudson St., will be entering the ninth grade.

★ ★ ★

As soon as school was out last June, with his father's help, he lugged six big air-tight drums home. The containers had a government stamp saying they were "re-usable" and seemed to be a perfect foundation for his boat.

★ ★ ★

An 8 by 8-foot platform was made, the drums secured together and brackets for the base were welded on five of the drums. Welding on the last bracket on the last drum caused the explosion. Residents heard it over two miles away.

★ ★ ★

"The boy has made remarkable recovery," said Dr. Eugene Malepa and Dr. Robert Poole who treated the youth.

His injured leg was put in a cast Saturday afternoon, and now will come the long days of learning how to operate a wheel chair through the school corridors. Later there will be crutches, and by Christmas Roger should be walking again.

TV's Latest: 'Staccato' Pulls Real Loud Clinker

NEW YORK (UPI) — The new NBC-TV mystery series, Staccato, arrived last night and promptly hit a clinker—fortissimo.

For one thing, there is a disturbing degree of the Peter Gunn-Richard Diamond influence here and while imitation may be equated with flattery, it doesn't indicate quality, necessarily.

I assume Staccato is given a sideline so that he can be a boy in a trade where leggy, legato blondes and violence are obligato for TV purposes. (Musicians, after all, never lead adventurous lives.)

Last night, Staccato was called away from a jam session to help a singer, male, out of trouble. The singer was paying blackmail to keep a scandal magazine from revealing his past. Unfortunately, the singer's past indiscretion was not given to the audience. Staccato met the singer in a steam room and the singer was thereupon stabbed in the back by the magazine publisher's strongarm guy.

Is it rude at this point to wonder about the role of the lawyer and police department in such cases?

Anyhow, Staccato presses forward, rifles the magazine files, encounters the publisher and the knifer outside the office.

He hops into a truck and crushes the knifer agains a wall. Then he hops out of the truck and kills the publisher in a showdown gunfight.

The singer recovers and Staccato has solved the problem. I hope all private eyes—especially the full-time, non-musicians among them—don't operate the way Staccato does. He's such a bungler that I wouldn't even trust his piano playing.

The channel swim: Frank Sinatra has announced the Elvis Presley will be the special guest star on Sinatra's ABC-TV special scheduled for "Early May, 1960." Theme of the show: "Sinatra's welcome home TV party for Elvis." Of course, Frankie and Our Leader will blend voices in some duets.

Philippines Ready to Back U.N. in Tibet

MANILA, Philippines (AP)—The foreign office announced today the Philippines' readiness to cosponsor a proposal to bring the Tibet question before the U.N. General Assembly.

Foreign Secretary Felixberto Serrano said instructions to this effect have been sent to the Philippines' U.N. mission.

Serrano made the statement after El Salvador's foreign minister, Alfredo Ortiz Mancia, had announced that El Salvador would not again sponsor a U.N. resolution on Tibet.

Ortiz said a similar resolution introduced by his country in the 1950 General Assembly did not receive sufficient support to get on the agenda.

Bill Would Curb Use of Islands as Tax Haven

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has sent to the Senate a bill to curb the use of the Virgin Islands as a "tax haven" for residents and business interests from the tax-ridden mainland.

★ ★ ★

The House unanimously passed the bill yesterday in response to treasury department complaints that the U.S. possession in the Caribbean is being too generous in making tax inducements to attract new capital.

At Municipal League Convention

Taxes Take Over Mackinac Meeting

MACKINAC ISLAND (UPI) — Taxes, the paramount issue of the 1959 Legislature, also grabbed the spotlight here as the 61st annual convention of the Michigan Municipal League opened.

Although the 500 officials of various Michigan cities and villages were to talk about almost everything from bonding to zoning, the increasing need for local revenues had top priority.

"Now is the time that we should look to preventive medicine by making home sources of revenue available to local units of government and by releasing the fiscal bond which restricts the financial flexibility of state government," said Rep. Joseph Kowalski (D-Detroit), Democratic floor leader in the House.

Detroit Councilman William T. Patrick Jr. told delegates the Motor City is under "constant pressure" because of revenues and increasing costs.

In what looked like a miniature legislative session, Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston), House GOP floor leader, crossed verbal swords with Kowalski on the use (sales) tax issue, the fate of which is pending before the State Supreme Court.

Green said the one-cent hike in the tax would be enough to last the state about 10 years.

Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) disputed this and predicted passage of an income tax within a few years. Sallade said the only way cities could increase their income would be in an income tax area, but such a move would have to come first at the state level.

House taxation chairman Rollo Conlin (R-Tipton) said the existing tax structure of property levies could be made more equitable but total income still would be inadequate.

The Senate's tax chief, Sen. Clyde Geerlings (R-Holland), said he favored letting individual cities decide by vote of residents whether some form of income tax would be levied locally.

He said if Michigan had a one-cent increase in the gas tax and could keep the money at the state level, it could finance all the highways it needed.

On annexation issues, Kowalski predicted the so-called Virginian plan, killed recently in the House, wouldn't be adopted in Michigan "in the near future."

The plan, initiated in Virginia, would have permitted annexation of areas to cities through action of a circuit judge. The plan was changed greatly in the House before it was beaten.

"Only by watering down the plan could it pass the Legislature," Kowalski said, "and then we would be in no better position to handle annexation than we are today."

Today's agenda calls for discussions on mall programs and downtown development. This session included Elton W. Ham, director of the Downtown Kalamazoo Assn., which had a hand in creation of that city's downtown mall which opened last month.

The league was expected to endorse a continuing study of metropolitan problems and also request safeguards against some aspects of the K-12 plan which would have abolished the one-room school district. That plan was beaten in the Legislature this year.

TV Audience Sees Baby Born on 'Lifeline'

DETROIT (AP)—A birth of a baby by caesarean section was shown on television last night, the first of a four-part series on medical subjects called "Lifeline."

The birth, a video-taped film made at the University of Michigan Medical Center, was of Thomas J. Boblitt of Ann Arbor, now 2½ months old. The program was presented over WJBK-TV.

The series is sponsored by Michigan Blue Cross and Blue Shield. The next program Sept. 20, will present a taped portrayal of preparation for an operation on a youngster suffering from polio.

Sad Over Nikita Visit

Probe Set in Death of College Counselor

DETROIT (UPI)—A hearing was scheduled this morning to look into circumstances surrounding the death of Leo F. Callahan, a counselor at Henry Ford Community College, whose body was found in a Dearborn hotel room yesterday afternoon.

Marv Johnson to Be Featured at Bandstand
