Ike Asks Delay in Tax Cuts

President Says Deficit in Budget Forces Request

$3 Billion Slash From Excise and Corporation Levies Was Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he will ask the new Congress to postpone the scheduled April 1 cuts—estimated at three billion dollars—on corporation and excise taxes.

The President told his news conference the budget deficit makes it necessary for him to make such a request.

He said that when you have the government going into the red, federal income must be kept up.

Under present law corporation tax rates are scheduled to go down from 52 per cent to 47 per cent on April 1.

That would mean an estimated loss of about two billion dollars in revenue.

Excise taxes on liquor, tobacco, automobiles and some other items are slated to return to pre-Korean war levels on April 1. That would cause an estimated loss of one billion dollars in revenue.

The President also dealt with these other matters:

Cooperation—The President expressed confidence he will have very real cooperation from the Democrats as well as the Republicans on foreign policy, national defense and mutual security matters.

The President said that by and large he would expect maximum cooperation from Republicans on other matters.

National Defense—He indicated but did not say so specifically, that the administration might be thinking about a further cut in the strength of the armed forces.

Second Term—The President drew a round of laughter in saying that he defends the right of White House press secretary James C. Hagerty—or any other staff member—to say it would be foolhardy for Republicans to fail to nominate Eisenhower for a second term.

Treaty Debate Starts in Bonn

Adenauer Wades Into Toughest Political Fight on Rearmament Issue

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer opened debate today in his Parliament's lower house on ratification of the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany.

Launching the toughest fight of his political life, the 78-year-old leader told the Bundestag rearmament would make successful negotiations for German unification possible.

To Socialist accusations that his government is lagging in promoting German reunification, the Chancellor said the agreements with the West offered the whole of Germany the opportunity to win by peaceful means an honorable place in the community of free nations.

The Bundestag's vote after the two-day debate will be only the first of three the lower house must hold on the treaties. But the initial poll was awaited as a telling test of strength for Adenauer and his policy to arm 500,000 West Germans within the North Atlantic Alliance.

The decisive second and third readings of the treaties will be held in late January. Then the Bundesrat, the upper house, must also approve them.

Despite outspoken opposition from the Socialists and from many supporters of his own four-party government coalition, Adenauer has expressed complete confidence that West German ratification will be completed in January and that the 14 NATO nations will give their final assent by the end of February.

County Okays Road Bond Issue

Will Back $300,000 of $11 Million Project Near Farmington

By a 75 to 5 vote this morning the Board of Supervisors approved a $300,000 bond issue as Oakland County's share in construction of a planned $11,000,000 Farmington-Brighton expressway.

The bonds will be paid off at $15,000 per year for 20 years from gas and weight taxes retutrned by the state to the county road commission.

Deputy State Highway Commissioner George Foster explained that supervisors' approval was needed before the state could complete negotiations for a $5,000,000 bond issue needed to help finance the 22-mile, four lane divided highway.

Balance of the $11,000,000 total cost is expected from federal aid, said Foster. "It will probably take until next spring to complete the federal aid transaction and sell the bonds," he added.

Designged to relieve increasing traffic congestion on Grand River (US-16), the proposed route will start at the end of the divided pavement east of Farmington, cross Grand River near Halstead road, then proceed west parallel to Grand River and about a quarter mile north.

The expressway would join Grand River at Kensington Metropolitan Park to bridge the Clinton River, then diverge northwest again before ending at a final connection with Grand River at Brighton.

A traffic interchange and grade separation will be built at Kensington Park to prevent a bottleneck from developing where the new

State Stresses Time Element in Summing Up

Jury Probably Will Get Sheppard Case by End of the Week

CLEVELAND (AP)—A state's attorney, opening his summation to the jury in the Sheppard murder trial today, asked dramatically: "Where was the defendant and what was he doing during those two long hours?"

This was a reference to the period between 4:15 on the morning of the July 4 murder of Marilyn Sheppard and roughly 6 o'clock when her husband, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, telephoned his friend, Mayor J. Spencer Houk, and told him about the crime.

Sheppard's wrist watch, stopped at 4:15, was found in the weeds near his home.

Assistant prosecutor Thomas J. Parrino held the watch close to the jury and said that its motionless hands gave some clue as to the time when the murder was committed.

He linked this with a doctor's estimate that Marilyn had been dead for possibly two hours when he saw her body shortly after 6 o'clock.

Parrino ridiculed Dr. Sheppard's account of a struggle with his wife's slayer in Marilyn's bedroom.

"Was there a struggle in that room?" the assistant prosecutor demanded. "Other than the condition of Marilyn's bed, was there a struggle? There were no signs of it on the floor, of course. The chair

Dulles, Mendes to Confer Today

German Rearmament, NATO Problems Slated for Discussion

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dulles flew to Paris today for talks on speeding German rearmament and a NATO Council debate on a controversial plan to use atomic weapons in European defense.

Accompanied by other high American officials, Dulles left Washington yesterday. In a prepared statement emphasizing the defensive character of the NATO alliance, he said the free world would "neither be intimidated nor lulled into a false sense of security" by the Communists.

Dulles was due to confer with French Premier Pierre Mendes-France shortly after landing.

They were expected to discuss ways of speeding ratification of the Paris agreements freeing and rearming West Germany and of getting that rearmament into high gear once ratification is achieved.

Snow Flurries, Colder Forecast in Pontiac Area

It looks like Pontiac will have Christmas weather a little early, as the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts wind and colder with more snow flurries tonight.

Snow continued falling this morning after an inch and a half blanketed the area last night.

Temperatures in downtown Pontiac yesterday ranged from a low of 25 to a high of 35. Tonight's low is expected to be from 24 to 28, with a high Thursday of 31 to 35. Tomorrow night will be a little colder with a predicted low of 20 to 24. Friday will bring more snow flurries and even colder weather.

Today at 8 o'clock the mercury stood at 29 degrees, rising slightly to 33 by 2 p.m.

Pope Reported Slightly Better

But Internal Bleeding Is Believed Caused by Gastric Ulcer

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican press office said today Pope Pius XII is again on the upgrade. Though internal bleeding is reported to have complicated his gastric ailment, his condition was described as improving.

Quoting a dispatch set up for publication late today by the Vatican newspaper l'Osservatore Romano, the press officer said:

"The Holy Father has overcome his stationary situation and his condition now has again started to 'improve.'"

Technicians hurriedly assembled X-ray equipment in the pontiff's Vatican apartment in preparation for an examination of his stomach tomorrow.

A source close to the Pope said the internal bleeding was believed caused by an ulcer and had brought on Pius' increased weakness during the past three days. The pontiff reportedly also is suffering from anemia as a result of the loss of blood.

The 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church has been receiving both blood and plasma as a part of a treatment designed to build up his strength following his collapse Dec. 2. He is scheduled to receive another blood transfusion today.

The doctors hope the tests will enable them to learn the exact cause of the abdominal ailment that has felled the Pope twice in 11 months. It has been described as severe gastritis, but a full diagnosis has not been possible because of the lack of X-rays.

The doctors originally planned to delay these tests until after Christmas in hope that the pontiff would gain strength on his special diet and treatment. His recent weakness caused them to advance the date.

Mounting Toll Mars Attempt to Set Record

U.S. Highways Take 11 Lives and Injure 137 Despite Extra Caution

By UNITED PRESS

American motorists attempted today to set an all-time safety mark on this "S-D Day," but a mounting number of fatal and injurious mishaps marred their record.

A United Press survey showed that 11 persons had been killed and 137 injured since the attempt to get through 24 hours without a single traffic accident, death or injury began at midnight.

The first official report on an S-D Day accident came from Wisconsin, where the Milwaukee County sheriff's office said it received a report at 12:23 a.m. CST (1:23 a.m. EST) of an accident in which Adelbert Jacobs Jr., 37, of near Waterford, was killed when his car missed a curve on a highway near Milwaukee. The sheriff's office said they considered it an S-D day death.

Bad driving conditions over most of Michigan gave the state's motorists an added challenge in making safe driving day accident-free.

Detroit police reported that "minor injury accidents" occurred at the rate of one an hour during the first eight hours. That was described as "par for the course."

The early reports were too sparse to indicate whether the nation's motorists were responding to President Eisenhower's plea for as perfect a national safety record as possible.

In Washington the President's action committee on traffic safety, which is sponsoring "S-D day," said the success or failure of the campaign will probably be decided tonight.

Three times as many traffic fatalities occur after dark, the committee said, and the danger hours will therefore be between 4 p.m. and midnight.

Eight persons were injured in five other Ohio accidents, in-

Health Chief Warns of Colds; Already Has One

LANSING (UP)—The Christmas holiday is expected to bring another wave of colds into Michigan, State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis warned today.

The first wave of colds hit Michigan early in November when heating was turned on in homes, office buildings and factories.

The annual Christmas siege is "probably due to the bringing together of family groups from all over the country for the holidays," Heustis said.

Michigan residents average about 2½ colds per person per year and about one person in four has four colds a year.

The common cold is expected to be the leading cause of lost time in schools and industry during the next several months.

Heustis' warning had to be relayed through deputies.

800 FEET OF SIGNATURES—Karen Hoff, of 270½ S. East Blvd., Miss Pontiac of 1954 and Clyle Haskill, chairman of the local S-D Day campaign, smilingly prepare a petition bearing 20,000 signatures which was sent to President Eisenhower. Local residents who signed the petition pledged to make a conscious effort today to keep Pontiac's streets free of all traffic accidents.

Ten Accidents Reported Here; None Are Fatal

Petition With 20,000 Signatures Is Mailed to President

The war on traffic accidents has begun here.

And from all indications Pontiac is spearheading the nation's battle so far against traffic accidents, as 20,000 Pontiac residents pledged in a petition dispatched to the President last night to observe Safe Driving Day today.

Adding to Pontiac's challenge is the hazardous condition of streets created by a 1½-inch snowfall.

The Oakland County Road Commission said that roads and streets are slippery and driving conditions generally are bad.

No fatal accidents have been reported here so far.

At 2 p.m. today, 10 accidents had been reported. Nine of the accidents occurred in Oakland county and one was reported in Pontiac. Six of the ten mishaps were injury accidents.

"We have our fingers crossed in Pontiac, because side streets and main thoroughfares are very slippery today," said Lt. Joseph Koren, head of the traffic and accident bureau.

"Motorists are driving more carefully and slower today, but icy road conditions may continue," he cautioned.

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley said that all of the department's available men are on duty today to help motorists avoid accidents.

"This is one day of the year when we will not tolerate even the slightest infraction of our traffic laws," said Straley. "Although it is normal for patrolmen to advise motorists sometimes when violating the law, patrolmen today will not use the ordinary procedure. Instead, violations tickets will be issued."

Last year on Dec. 16, according to police traffic records Pontiac had four property damage accidents, one injury accident and two persons hurt. On Dec. 15, 1953, two persons were injured in two separate accidents and two property damage accidents were reported.

Clyle R. Haskill, who headed the local S-D Day campaign here, said today he was assured that the petition, pledging Pontiac's leadership in national campaign, would be on the President's desk today.

The previously reported 14,000 signatures last night was swelled to over 20,000 when last minute

Waterford Girl Scout Asks First Lady to 'Roundup'

Senior Girl Scout Mary Lynn Gravelle, of Waterford Township, met Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower yesterday but admitted afterward that she was so excited she didn't hear a word the first lady said.

Mary Lynn, 14-year-old Waterford Township High School freshman, presented Mrs. Eisenhower with an engraved invitation to the first Girl Scout "Senior Roundup" to be held at the Highland Recreation Area in July, 1956.

"I was so excited I didn't hear a word," Mary Lynn confided. She had to be told later that the first lady said:

"I am very happy to have this invitation. It is nice to meet you and I hope you have a nice Christmas."

Mary Lynn, who made the presentation with Mrs. George Dunham of New Jersey, chairman of the Girl Scout Planning Committee, also gave Mrs. Eisenhower a small Michigan pine tree.

The first lady said it would be planted on the Eisenhower farm near Gettysburg, Pa. The 10-inch pine was grown in the Highland Recreation Area.

Mary Lynn and Mrs. William Gorsline, president of the North Oakland Girl Scout Council, are scheduled to return here tonight. Mrs. Gorsline accompanied the girl on the trip to the White House.

New Name for S-D

U.S. May Send 35 Chinese Back

Return of Students Seen Torpedoing Communist Hostage Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States may act before Christmas to clear 35 Chinese students for return to their Communist-ruled homeland.

That would torpedo Red China's claim, made in a broadcast Monday, that the 35 are being held as hostages for 11 U.S. airmen imprisoned by Peiping as "spies."

It would also set the stage for United Nations' efforts, projected for the week after Christmas, to have the fliers freed. U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold has offered to go to Peiping then to discuss the case. Peiping has yet to reply.

The State Department yesterday ruled out any deal in which the students would be swapped for the airmen. However, Department Press Officer Lincoln White would not say the 35 students would be refused exit permits.

A check showed screening of the cases has been completed and all that remains to be done is for the State and Justice departments to make a joint analysis and decision.

Allies who are actively trying to help the United States win freedom for the fliers — countries like Britain and Canada — are reported to have urged a decision to let the students go.

Pontiac Would Have to Spend $26 Million to Meet Traffic Needs by 1964

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

If Pontiac were to put its street system in shape to meet traffic needs forecast for 1964 it would mean spending over $26,000,000 in the ten-year period.

This formidable figure was arrived at as result of a study done by City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn and City Planner Henry C. Smith.

In 1955 Pontiac is planning about $500,000 in special assessments for street improvements paid by property owners whose streets will benefit.

The city will put about $180,000 from its public improvements fund into street work plus $125,000 as its share of the Telegraph-Orchard Lake grade, separation. An additional $375,000 is expected from the state in returned gas and weight taxes.

This $1,180,000 program is about as big as any city of comparable size and tax structure can hope to carry on its own, city officials agree.

"Needless to say, we'll have to get outside assistance even to come close to financing a $26,000,000 program," said City Manager Walter K. Willman.

"Pontiac can't step up its street spending much above $1,200,000 per year and still find funds for other necessary public facilities," he explained.

A statewise bond issue providing money for cities and a hike in the gas and weight tax bringing increased returns to cities are possible ways of getting more aid, Willman added.

"We can't handle the traffic now," Wrenn stated, "and I don't know what we'll do five years from now unless a lot of work can somehow be financed."

The Wrenn-Smith report finds a total of 54.06 miles of street in the city's "major" system including state and federal trunk lines. Of these, 26.28 are termed adequate and 27.78 inadequate.

Some 41.47 miles are needed, they say, in new work and replacement of worn-out and wearing out stretches to make the system adequate by 1964.

Surfacing costs are estimated at $5,500,000, with an additional $753,040 to supply drainage. This sets the average cost per mile of major streets at $151,000.

To complete the major system, at least four bridges must be replaced, one new span built and six grade separations constructed at an estimated cost of $11,775,000.

The "local" street system of smaller, intersecting routes now totals 147.64 miles. Of this, 50.76 miles are seen as adequate and 96.88 inadequate. Some 129 miles of new construction are needed.

Surfacing costs are set at $5,500,000 plus $2,250,000 in drainage. Completion of the "local" program would see all city streets surfaced at average cost of $68,000 per mile.

Eight bridges in the local system are marked for replacement for $400,000.

Projects seen as necesary include extending Telegraph road from Oakland avenue to Walton boulevard.

The extension of Columbia avenue to Telegraph on the west and Perry street on the east would complete a main artery through the city's industrial north allowing easier and less congested truck service to the plants.

Building Highland avenue north to the Belt Line Railroad is planned to relieve plant-traffic tie-ups at shift changeovers.

The extension of Michigan avenue west across Richardson Park to Douglas street and east from the Beltline to Opdyke road would provide a direct route to the downtown business section.

Pushing Osmun street from Clifford avenue to Opdyke would provide a route through an area zoned for industrial development.

Extending Johnson avenue from Orchard Lake avenue to Lake street and Diston avenue from Bagley street to Franklin road would complete a circle around the business section.

By building Argyle avenue northeast to Lake street vehicles could come down Johnson to Telegraph or Golf drive and Orchard Lake traffic would be thinned out.

The projects are planned and needed, the city men say, "but where will we get the money?"

YMCA Plans Proceeding on Reduced Appropriation

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Dreams for a $1.5 million permanent YMCA building here have been reduced to $100,000 dreams. But the pared figures announced Saturday by the Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund have not tempered the spirits of Edwin F. Kirbert, local Y executive secretary, or Detroit Y officials.

Already Kirbert is talking in terms of salvaging at least a portion of the original plans, which called for a 2½ story structure to be built at the site of the present building, Lincoln at Edgewood.

Instead of a large and small gymnasium, swimming pool, dormitory space, handball and squash courts and social club rooms, Kirbert is visualizing a swimming pool and an all-purpose room as a starter.

"Then, as we see how our campaign goes, which won't start for six months, we may be able to go into offices, social facilities and dormitory space," he said.

Kirbert echoed the sentiments of Ralph Hileman, general secretary of the Detroit Metropolitan YMCA, who yesterday said the YMCA's cutback to $1,334,010 from an overall request of $18,588,017, "simply means a revision of our plans."

The slash in total funds asked by the YMCA, one of 150 United Foundation agencies served through the MDBF campaign, has been "misunderstood" by some, said Hileman. He explained that the YMCA board had specifically been asked for long-range figures by the building fund, and said, "We're very glad to get what we did."

Planning Board members last night denied a request to rezone more than 2½ acres of property at the southeast corner of Lincoln and Southfield from single-family residence to income bungalow zoning.

Several property owners were present at the hearing to protest the zone change. An original request to rezone the site for terrace zoning was turned down by the City Commission in October.

At another hearing the board decided to make further flood plain studies before determining action on a request to zone to terrace classification the westerly portion of three unplatted properties on Woodward, between Bloomfield and Colonial courts.

The first 300 feet of property fronting on Woodward are zoned single family. Since the Rouge River runs through the area in question, board members want first to establish a flood plain line for protection of the Rouge Valley.

Report 10 Mishaps in Oakland County

petitions were returned by cooperating agencies.

The long scroll, bearing almost a third of Pontiac's population, finally measured approximately 500 feet, said Haskill.

"Cooperation on the part of 250 merchants, 35 manufacturers including General Motors plants and scores of individuals have made the success of the petition drive possible," said Haskill.

Whether you're a pedestrian or motorist, you're urged to take the greatest precaution today, more than on any other day.

The success of the Safety Driving Day, as proclaimed by the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety, will point out to millions of Americans that lives can be saved from highway slaughter by "our conscious effort."

The President's experiment also will demonstrate that the responsibility rests upon each individual in the community. It also will implant in the minds of all motorists and pedestrians the realization that, if they can greatly reduce accidents on 8-D Day, they can do so every day in the year.

Pontiac's efforts to spearhead the President's national test has been receiving wide attention, according to Haskill and Straley.

"Pontiac's residents deserve much praise for the hard-hitting campaign," said Straley. "It is an enlightning example of what one community can do to eliminate accidents."

Sheriff Clare Hubbell also cautioned motorists on county roads to drive with utmost care. "Drive as though your life depended on it," Hubbell said, "because it does.

"If you're a pedestrian, obey traffic lights and signs. Cross only at the intersections.

"Yield the right of way at cross walks when cars are approaching so closely as to be impossible of stopping."

Pontiac has slowly cut down its death rate due to accidents by over 100 per cent in the past year. From 16 deaths in 1951, the city last year had seven fatalities. So far this year, five have been killed.

"But even as long as one death due to traffic accidents is reported, is shows that something is wrong somewhere," said Haskill.

Ike Tells Press Tax Cut Now Not Likely

Hagerty made that remark in a radio interview Monday night.

Labor Relations—He said the question whether to ask Congress for an increase in the 75-cent-an-hour minimum wage is under intensive study. He recalled he told Congress in his last economic report that the administration does favor an adjustment in the wage floor at the proper time—a time of expanding economy.

As to whether the "right to work" laws of various states should be repealed, the President said he has reached no irrevocable decision.

Atomic Weapons—The President would not express any opinion as to where rests the power to decide possible use of atomic weapons in defense of Western Europe. Noting that the North Atlantic Treaty Council is meeting this weekend in Paris, Eisenhower said that very question is up for discussion there. He said it would be unwise for him to talk about it under the circumstances.

Bricker Amendment — Responding to a question, Eisenhower said there was no mention at his conferences this week with congressional leaders of revival of the Bricker amendment to restrict treaty making powers.

Eisenhower opposed the constitutional amendment proposed by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) at the last session of Congress, and it was killed in the Senate.

Pontiac City Affairs

No Spectators Are Present as City Commission Meets

The City Commission "played" to an empty house last night as it quickly ran through a short agenda.

For the first time in weeks not a spectator was present as the commissioners went through routine business.

They accepted the recommendation of City Attorney William A. Ewalt to accept a maintenance bond from the Sherwood Home Builders for street construction in Washington Park.

Unanimously, they agreed to turn down the applications for wholesale food licenses filed by Loren Long, of 6296 Elizabeth Lake Rd., and John L. Hoffman, of Detroit.

The commission canceled a sidewalk contract with the Monte Construction Co. on the recommendation of City Manager Walter K. Willman. The company had previously agreed to the cancellation.

Confirmed was a special assessment roll for improvements on the alley between Sanford and Ardmore streets, from Lois to Michigan.

The commissioners agreed to accept the offer of the ladies auxiliary of VFW Post 1370 to furnish the flag for the commission room in the new City Hall.

Sees Dem OK of Ike's Plans

House Speaker Says Essential Parts of '55 Program Will Pass

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass) predicted today the Democratic - controlled 84th Congress will approve the "essential parts" of President Eisenhower's 1955 legislative program.

Martin, who will turn over the House speaker's gavel to Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex) Jan. 5, said he carried from a bipartisan White House conference yesterday the impression that "Democrats will cooperate with us on some things, but not on others."

• • •

"But I don't have any doubt that we will get the essential parts of the President's program passed," he said in an interview.

He did not say what he regarded as "essential" among the Eisenhower proposals, to be delivered to Congress in the President's State of the Union message Jan. 6.

This will be followed in mid-month by the annual budget message which a informed source said will propose spending in the fiscal year starting next July 1 of between 63 billion and 64 billion dollars. This informant, a GOP lawmaker who sat in on the White House talks but who asked not to be named, said present indications are for a three-billion-dollar deficit in the new fiscal year.

Treasury estimates for the current fiscal year are that spending will be about 64 billion dollars and the dificit about 4¾ billions.

Mounting Death Toll Mars Safety Day

cluding two whose car plunged over an embankment near Columbus as they tried to outdistance a police car.

There were seven crackups in the first two hours in Chicago and two persons were injured. A Detroit woman pedestrian was critically injured when a car struck her as she stepped from between two parked autos.

President Eisenhower, who issued the "S-D Day" challenge to the nation's motorists, had asked for an absolutely spotless traffic record.

Safety officials doubted from the start that this could be achieved. They said they would be well satisfied with a dramatic demonstration of how a nationwide attempt to drive safely can save lives.

On the comparative day last year—Wednesday, Dec. 16—auto accidents killed 60 persons and injured 1,807.

A United Press "test" tabulation last Wednesday counted 67 persons dead in traffic accidents and an estimated 2,144 injured.

The average daily death toll on the highways so far this year is 94 persons. However, this figure includes weekends and holidays, when the accident rate soars.

The President's committee deliberately chose a day in the middle of the week because "lives are lost every day."

Luckily, today promised to be a good driving day in most of the nation. The main danger areas appeared to be New England and northern New York state, where freezing rain and possible icing were predicted. Light snow fell in Michigan and rain was expected in the Pacific Northwest.

Half of the foreign trade, by value, of the United States passes through the ports of New York State.

German Doctor Can't Get Fee for Stalin Case

BERLIN (AP)—A West Berlin doctor said today he has been unable to collect a 2,000-mark ($476) fee which he is asking from Soviet officials for consultations connected with Joseph Stalin's health in March 1953.

Dr. Fritz Heese told reporters he has sent a bill to officials in the Soviet sector of Berlin four times but has never received an answer.

Heese said he was called to the Soviet sector shortly before Stalin's death and asked to give his opinion of reports made by Moscow doctors.

Heese said that although he has no word concerning his subsequent bills, he has received several mysterious telephone calls in which a person with a Russian accent asked him to appear again in the Soviet sector. He said he declined to do this because he feared a kidnaping plot.

State Summing Up Sheppard Evidence in the corner did not seem to be disturbed."

Parrino then referred to Dr. Sheppard's account of the slaying as "this fantastic story he tried to tell reasonable men and women."

Sheppard, on trial charged with the murder, moved his chair around so that he was looking directly at the jury. He showed no emotion or expression of any kind.

The case is expected to go to a jury of seven men and five women by the end of this week.

The defense ended its case in the Sheppard murder trial today with a final witness whose testimony made Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard weep openly.

The last evidence was a letter written by the murdered Marilyn Sheppard to her aunt, Mrs. Mary Brown.

Tears streamed down Sheppard's face while his wife's letter was being read to the jury.

Legislator's Attacker Gets Sanity Hearing

Dr. David B. Davis and Dr. Kenneth Nickel, psychiatrists, have testified before Superior Judge Thaddeus B. Taylor that DeBoer is insane now and was at the time he assaulted Borgman with a pistol.

Police said DeBoer, disgruntled over a land purchase made through Borgman several years ago, broke into the legislator's home Nov. 14 brandishing a pistol.

Borgman told officers he struggled with the man and fell to the floor after being struck twice with the weapon. Officers said DeBoer tried five times to shoot Borgman, but the gun misfired each time.

DeBoer has pleaded innocent of attempte murdder, but the prosecutor's office requested the sanity hearing to determine if he should be made to stand trial on the charge or be committed to a mental institution

Refuses New Trial in Land Fraud Case

MUSKEGON, (UP) — A circuit judge yesterday dismissed a motion to set aside a guilty plea and grant trial for Mrs. Lois Moon Ley, sentenced to prison after she pleaded guilty to conspiracy to defraud the state in land deals.

Judge Noel P. Fox said he was satisfied that Mrs. Ley, a former Muskegon real estate saleswoman, was "properly advised" of her right to trial by jury.

Her attorney had contended in his petition for a trial that her counsel at the time did not give her adequate advice on her legal rights.

Mrs. Ley was sentenced by Judge Fox last June to 18 months to five years in the Detroit House of Correction. She had pleaded guilty of conspiracy to defraud the state of upwards of $10,000 in land purchases.

Her petition also asked the court to set aside an equity action under which she made restitution of $32,217. Judge Fox has yet to rule on that motion.

Ionia Fugitives Nabbed in Ohio, Police Report

The three, all trusties, stole the car in Battle Creek after abandoning the truck at that city, the police said.

The police named the three as attempted murder, but theJer mo Jerome Willard, Frank Villareal and Jerome B. Jones, all of Detroit.

Suit Against Producer Settled by Movie Pair

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Screen star Joanne Dru and her actor husband, John Ireland, have settled for an undisclosed sum their $500,000 suit against producer Jack Broder over the film "Hannah Lee."

The couple complained that he failed to pay them for making the picture. Broder countered with a $200,000 suit claiming Ireland spent too much time and money on the picture.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

A SLED TO COAST ON

Even when there is no snow you can have fun with an old-fashioned sled like this. Just pull it along the floor or table top and give its Junior Editor passenger a fine ride.

1. Start by painting the sled yellow, with green decorations. The runners—the parts outside of the dotted lines—can be painted red. At the same time, if you like, give the Junior Editor a red cap and pair of rubbers, blue snowsuit and green scarf.

2. Paste the whole picture down on heavy construction paper or wrapping paper.

3. Cut out the sled. You don't have to cut out the triangular shapes unless you want to. Fold the runners on the dotted lines so that the sled will stand up. Fold down the back end. Fold in tabs (A) and (B) and paste under the back end. This will make the sled strong.

4. Cut out the boy, separating arms from body, up to shoulders. Fold him forward just below the waist. Fold up his feet. Fold back scarf at shoulders and then fold scarf near the ends, so that it will help prop boy up when he is seated on sled as shown in little picture. You may want to paste him on sled.

5. Punch holes in boy's hands and in the front of the sled as indicated. Run a string through these three holes and tie together, leaving one end long.

Now, pull the sled around with this string.

Woman Facing Court in Five Poison Deaths

TULSA, Okla. (INS) — Plump, 49-year-old Nannie Doss, accused of killing four husbands and her mother, will appear in a Tulsa court for the first time today since her sensational "rat poison" murders came to light.

Mrs. Doss, who has admitted poisoning four of her five husbands but not her mother, will be brought into common pleas court for preliminary hearing in the death of her last victim, Samuel L. Doss, last Oct. 10.

The mild-appearing, often-giggling woman has been charged with murder in each of the five deaths.

Besides Doss, they are Richard L. Morton of Emporia, Kan.; Frank Harrelson of Anniston, Ala.; Arlie J. Lanning and Mrs. Louisa Holden Hazle, both of Lexington, N. C.

Authorities said she may have poisoned nine other persons, including two of her own children and her father, over the past 33 years.

Hopes Dim for Fast Solution to Murder

BRINKLEY, Ark. (UP)—A high police official who asked that he remain unidentified said today that officers are becoming discouraged about their chances for a quick solution to the slaying of pretty Sue Fuller.

Police Chief Frank Henderson and Sheriff H. K. McKenzie worked until the early morning hours today questioning men who are being held for investigation.

Nineteen men and two women are behind bars. Three men were picked up yesterday, but police quickly cleared one of them of any connection with the case.

Mrs. Fuller, 25-year-old mother of two small daughters, died of a blow on the head from a stick of stove wood, which apparently was picked up by the killer from a barbecue pit in the rear of her home.

Bury Veteran Diplomat Today in Switzerland

GENEVA, Switzerland (UP)—Veteran U.S. diplomat Hugh Gibson was buried today in the village cemetery of Genthod, just outside Geneva, following funeral services which filled the city's Notre Dame cathedral.

Gibson, 71, died Sunday of a heart attack at his home in Genthod. After representing his country at many foreign posts and international conferences, he had come out of retirement in 1952 to head the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration.

Tear Up Wrong Block

TULSA, Okla. (UP)—Red-faced Tulsa Street Department officials explained to some South side residents that workmen made a mistake when they tore up 313 feet of their street. Supt. Wesley Beck promised that the street would be rebuilt immediately. He said his men had the right street but the wrong block.

Be Sure of Time, Space Before Making Greetings

Families who make their own Christmas cards derive tremendous satisfaction from sending cards that are individual and, generally speaking, they enjoy the work.

But if you plan to embark on this project, be sure you have the time and the space and that it will be enjoyable rather than a harassment and a frustration.

Made cards can range from the relatively simple snapshot made into a card by the local photographic outfit to the silk screen beauties turned out by artistic families.

If you plan on a snapshot card, take your pictures a long time in advance to give yourself a chance to get just what you want.

If there are kids in it shoot a lot of film in the hopes of getting a couple of natural-looking expressions.

Most towns have places that will take the snapshot or negative and deliver the specified number of cards with whatever greeting you pick.

If you want something more fancy, consult them or the local printing or offset shop. They will tell you what variations are possible.

Individual head shots mounted on somethting that indicates what's new with you—a "mortgage" or a child's fingerprinting or a dummy Army commission—can be made into a single negative by a photo-engraving plant, for reproduction.

Instructions can be obtained in a booklet put out by the C. Howard Hunt Pen Co.

An idea to cut eexpense on block-printed cards is to print them on the back of postcards rather than on folders to be enclosed in envelopes.

For those interested in block printing, Bassons Industries has put out a kit which doesn't require careful gouging out of areas, but rather uses a scratch tool which makes lines adequate for printing.

Subject matter on these cards is a matter of taste, but, while a copied drawing may be more artistic, even stick figures of the family carry a real touch of "how we are doing."

Simple to do is a linoleum cut of the front door, with a wreath on it.

Lovely cutouts are fun for the family that has a small Christmas card list.

Shiny green paper for a tree, with silver sprinkles or candy topping pressed into rubber cement, will be fun for a child to do. Old wrappings of fabric scraps should be saved for these.

Adjust to Mobility, Churchmen Told

DETROIT (UP) — Representatives of eight Lutheran church groups were told yesterday the church must adjust itself to a mobile society.

Dr. Paul C. Emple, of New York, executive director of the Lutheran Mobility Council, told a council conference:

"Often mbility is the result of inner frustrations and the lack of roots in local communities enhances spiritual difficulties."

Charles P. Brinkman, director of the population and housing division of the U. S. Census Bureau, told the conference about one f every five Americans change residence at least once a year.

More than 100 delegates from the eight church groups cooperating in the national Lutheran Council are attending the four day conference, which is studying the problems of American mobility and their effect on church life.

Mrs. Roosevelt Agrees to Movie on Husband

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—A moving picture depicting the life of the late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt apears one step closer to reality today.

The William Morris Agency of Hollywood says Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and her family have consented to the project.

The agency said that Mrs. Roosevelt explained in a conference with its executives that pevrously she had objected because she felt it was too soon to make such a film, but now she is willing for plans to proceed, in view of the extensive research which will be needed.

Our Mightiest Warship

Launching of the Supercarrier Forrestal marked a long and important step toward giving our Navy the world's mightiest warship.

Named in honor of our first Defense Secretary, the late James Forrestal, and christened by his widow, the ship, to be completed within a year, will cost $200,000,000. It will take a like sum to provide its complement of 90 atomic weapons carrying planes.

The Forrestal's tonnage is 59,600 and its overall length is 1,036 feet. Reports from the launching scene say it will have a top speed of 45 miles an hour. Its flight deck is longer than three full size football fields.

The supercarrier's offensive potential is unapproached by any other naval craft. If world conditions demand it, this mighty flat-top could carry destructive atomic attack to any inhabited part of the world.

For the Navy the launching was far more significant than most such ceremonies. That was so because it was material proof of the sea arm's victory over the opponents of the supercarrier idea. Among the guests were two former Navy secretaries, Sullivan and Kimball, both of whom had advocated this class of ship.

In a neighboring dock the second of three sister ships, the Ranger, is under construction and at New York a third, the Saratoga, is farther along. Congress already had authorized the building of a fourth and the Defense Department plans to request approval of a fifth.

All this strikes us as sound defense planning, especially in view of the great strides Russia is making toward being the world's second naval power.

Deeper Lake Channels

A fact worth noting is that the report doesn't use the St. Lawrence Waterway as a major argument for work that would cost an estimated $109,000,000. For sound economic reasons involving only Great Lakes shipping the engineers urge an expenditure almost equalling the amount authorized by the Wiley-Dondero Bill.

The annual cost of the project is estimated at $4,250,000. But the savings resulting from ability to use deeper draft vessels figures out at $7,600,000. In addition, of course, there would be the extra advantage of being able to accommodate the deeper draft ocean freighters.

At present, lake shipping is limited to the 22.3 foot depth of connecting channels. Deepening operations are needed in the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair, St. Clair River, Straits of Mackinac and the St. Mary's River. As originally planned but never ratified by Congress, our share of the waterway project was to include deepening of these channels.

The importance of reaping the maximum benefits from the seaway should move Congress to authorize this work at the earliest opportunity.

Europe's Auto Boom

Something sharply reminiscent of the era which revolutionized life in the United States is happening in Europe.

Most countries on the Continent are experiencing an auto boom. Cars no longer are the exclusive playthings of the rich.

Middle class people are becoming motorized in droves: Automobiles haven't reached the workers yet but motorbikes have.

According to surveys for U. S. News & World Report, the people of London, Bonn, Rome, Paris and the Scandinavian countries are hurtling full speed ahead into the motor age. As a result automobile factories are humming and car registrations are increasing by leaps and bounds.

Since 1938 automobile production in Western Europe has more than doubled. Car ownership has doubled in the last seven years. The inevitable consequence is that Europe only now is beginning to recognize and meet problems we faced and solved long ago.

Neither highways nor traffic laws have kept pace with the new travel tempo. Few European countries have speed limits. French drivers cruise the open highways at speeds as high as 80 miles an hour and accident rates are soaring.

Despite predictions that conditions will limit their business, Europe's motor makers are happy. They look out undisturbed on widening streams of traffic, rush hour jams, crowded parking areas and other products of the motor age.

The effect of this boom is to give Europe one automobile for every 36 inhabitants. Figures for Sweden are one in 17, Britain one in 18, France one in 23 and West Germany one in 47.

Postmaster Leslie H. Dean, Sr.,

announces today that all local post office vehicles are to be painted new colors, to make them more visible in traffic. In line with the nationwide switch from the old olive drab, very difficult to see in subdued light, each of them will appear in the national colors, red, white and blue. The conversion is to be made gradually, and without extra cost, as they need repainting. The upper portion of the vehicles is to be white and the lower portion blue, with a band of red reflective material running around the middle with gold letters and numerals.

Use of Word 'Christmas' Is Lauded by Pastor

I have been observing the advertisements and the seasonal publicity in your paper the last few days, and I would like to commend our merchants and the professional places of business for using the word "Christmas" as it should be spelled instead of "Xmas."

This, I hope, is indicative of a return to the true conception of this great religious holiday, or maybe I should say "Holy Day." I believe there are many thousands of other citizens who share this same feeling.

Females in Factories Just Average Women

I am writing in answer to a recent letter from "A Wife." Married men were running around with women and homes were being broken up everyday by women from every walk of life, years before women went to work in the factories.

Women in the factories are just average American women. Most of us are women with large families, divorcees and widows. Some are single, but all of us are just trying to make a living for ourselves and families.

There are exceptions to the rule but you will find that in any vocation. Just because one or two women run around with married men, that is no reason to condemn the thousands of us who don't. A married man who runs around will do so regardless of where he meets the woman.

Some men, for no special reason, can't seem to settle down with one woman and sometimes there is a very good reason for their errant ways. I think you are being very unfair blaming it all on the women in the factories.

Couples With Pensions of $50 a Month Can Live Comfortably on Tiny Farm

Soil has miraculous health values, apart from the terramycin we medics obtain from it. If you own a small plot of only five acres, it will furnish you tranquility of mind, plus a vacation spot, during the many years before you need to retire thereon.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case M-393: Hiram W., aged 64, is a wealthy Iowa farmer who owns 1,000 acres of black prairie soil.

One day recently he decided to buy an adjoining 160 acres, so went to the bank to get the money. The banker remonstrated with Hiram, telling him he already had more land than he could keep track of.

"Why under the sun are you adding more acres to your already large holdings?" the banker concluded.

"Well, Bill," replied the farmer, "I just got to thinkin' last night. And it come to me all of a sudden that they ain't makin' any more of the stuff."

Hiram is quite right. We are not making any more acres in the U.S.A. In fact, soil erosion is destroying millions of acres each year.

Meanwhile, however, our population is zooming rapidly. Before the present crop of new babies dies at the ripe age of about 75, it is estimated that our population will have doubled!

So buy yourself a small plot of second-rate land so you can rest easier in your mind during the many years before you retire.

In most places around the U.S.A. you can purchase such second-rate land for less than $100 per acre.

And on five acres you can raise all the garden vegetables you can use. For even poor soil will produce bountifully for only an elderly couple's wants.

Yesterday I described the case of a clergyman who died for lack of the will to live. And his despondency was based on the fact that he had no place to live when he retired.

He had failed to insure his future with a small plot of ground. So he knew that his pension of about $75 per month would be demanded by an Old Peoples Home to which he and his wife might retire.

If you must live in a single room in a city apartment or a rest home, then $75 per month apiece will not go far.

But if you have your own plot of ground, then an outside cash income of even $50 a month can tide an elderly couple along. And on $75 to $100 per month, you can live quite comfortably.

I'm not talking as a braintruster. I grew up on a farm and know whereof I speak even in current times of inflation.

Any elderly couple who can hobble around can till a garden that will furnish all the potatoes, beans, corn, tomatoes and other vegetables they will need all year.

You can hire a neighboring farmer to plow the garden plot with his tractor for $3 to $5.

A dozen hens will furnish you plenty of eggs. In fact, you can have enough surplus to trade to the grocer for coffee or sugar, which you do not raise on your own land.

You can keep a cow and a sow. The cow can get adequate pasturage on two acres of your five acres. Her milk will furnish you butter, cheese, cream and skim milk for chickens and a sow.

You can sell her calf and the sow's pigs for any outside corn or hay they may need for food.

Don't expect to make money on a 5-acre plot of second rate soil, but by furnishing your own labor and with an outside source of cash income as from Social Security or a modest pension, you can live comfortably.

So buy yourself five acres. Such a farm will give you tranquility of mind during the many years before you need to retire upon it in your old age.

Hearin' so much propaganda is like havin' five watches and clocks in the house. They're all so different you don't even trust the one that's right.

David Lawrence Says:

President Eisenhower Will Be Renominated

WASHINGTON—Political myths have a way of developing out of a casual remark or natural incident and then evaporating.

Because the President is building a house on his farm near Gettysburg, Pa., for weekend use, it has been widely reported that he does not intend to run for re-election in 1956.

If a president indicates he doesn't want renomination, it is assumed in the political world that he doesn't think he can win in the election. In this case, Eisenhower is supposed to be anxious for personal reasons not to serve a second term. Such reluctance, however, will be interpreted as a fear of defeat at the polls.

So far as the Republican politicians are concerned, they are virtually unanimous in wanting to see the President renominated. He can easily win the nomination because a president in power has enough strength in the party organization to get all the delegates he needs. The other potential candidates know it and will not throw their hats in the ring.

The classic remark of the late Speaker Champ Clark, Democrat, just before 1916 when it was suggested he might oppose President Wilson can be cited as applicable today. He said: "If a president doesn't want the nomination and will not run on his own record, it isn't worth anything to anybody else in his party, either."

Even if by 1956 the record of President Eisenhower is good, the fact that he for one reason or another does not wish to stand on it in an election will be regarded as a sign of political weakness.

It can, therefore, be taken for granted that Eisenhower will be renominated. Whether he can be elected in 1956, even with his personal popularity, is something else again—for the tide of protest is running heavily against the Republican Party today, as the recent congressional election so clearly showed.

Another myth is collapsing. The other day an ambiguous phrase by the junior senator from Wisconsin, saying he had every intention of supporting the Republican Party "at the present time," set off a lot of speculation. But it turns out that nobody on Capitol Hill has come out since in favor of a third party—and nobody will.

For the simple truth is that a bipartisan coalition working inside of both major parties is a far more effective way of influencing an election result. Sometimes it is an organized movement and sometimes it represents the identical feeling of a faction of Democrats paralleling a faction of Republicans but with no apparent connection one with the other.

The 1956 campaign may show such a dissent inside the Democratic and the Republican parties. Independents could move from one party to the other depending on whether one candidate or the other approximates more closely the viewpoint of the dissenters on some concrete issues.

A national issue on "peaceful coexistence" and alleged concessions to the Reds by the administration is in the making. Also the Bricker amendment is by no means dead as a political issue. It is being mentioned as one of the things that contributed to the defeat of Senator Ferguson, Republican, in Michigan last month. His single vote in the Senate against the George substitute for the Bricker amendment is pointed to as having been decisive.

While no third-party movement is in the offing, the independence of the voters shows more, instead of less, evidence of asserting itself. Perhaps the most remarkable example of this was what happened in South Carolina where former Governor Strom Thurmond, Democrat, was elected senator over Edgar Brown, Democrat, by a write-in of 143,000 to 83,000 for the printed ballot of candidate Brown.

The principal issue was the high-handed attitude of the Democratic State Committee—of which Brown himself was chairman — in refusing to hold a primary election. On the very next day after this was announced, Tom Waring, editor of the "Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier," in a front-page editorial called for a write-in vote by the people of the state. Other newspapers followed his initiative. It was a journalistic service of courage and enterprise. In less than 60 days the people did an unheard-of thing—they actually wrote in the name of a candidate whose name or party had not been printed on the ballot, and he won. It shows the strength an independent movement can attain when there's an issue on which the people are aroused.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

Seeing ex-prexy Hoover back in Germany is like waiting for the second show.

Just about 30 consecutive years ago Mr. Hoover was in Germany unloading the cornucopia of plenty unto all the inhabitants thereof.

Which benevolent largesse was based on the theory of being kind to thine enemy that thy days in the land may seem long.

Mr. Hoover and myself are old roomies. We went to different schools together. My diploma was leather in the shape of a boot.

At the time we wrote a prophetic paragraph, "Mr. Hoover is fattening Europe up for the next war." It only required twenty years for that stencil to incubate.

We didn't write that experience-based squib because we were at logger-noggins with Mr. Hoover, because we detested Europe or because we had reached that stage in numbness where we were using barbed wire for dental floss.

Europe was rebuilt by Anne Morgan, fed by Mr. Hoover and lulled into complacent belligerence by the dulcet strains of Krupp's yo-yo factory. Proof that long-range thinking also includes hiring rowboats by the hour.

Just about the time this stack of ever-blooming storm signals deponed, "When we spot a Japanese tourist with machine gun and bayonet we are not fooled by his dollar camera."

Every Sufferer From Angina Pectoris Should Carry Nitroglycerine Tablets

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Angina came upon me about 2 years ago when walking fast one day on the street. The pain seemed to start in my chest and run down both arms below the elbows and was severe. I immediately consulted my doctor, who gave me a general overhauling and a careful heart test and said "your heart is not bad at all, but don't walk so fast and don't indulge in strenuous exercise or heavy work for a while." He gave me some medicine. After that the pangs left my arms and were confined to the chest and not so severe as before. (K.E.C.)

(So far K.E.C.s discussion seems more clinical than hygienic. But we'll let him chatter a while longer and then give him the hook, while I, who wouldn't harm a flea unless I believed the insect were a typhus carrier, finish the lecture.)

Then (continues K.E.C.) I saw your statement . . .

(After all, it is obvious that my friend K.E.C. is a man of good judgment. He didn't say he saw my ad.)

. . . your statement concerning the use of nitroglycerin for the prevention or relief of seizures of angina pectoris, and I procured a vial of 100 tablets from the druggist. I have used the tablets carefully, as you advised, knowing that nitroglycerin is powerful medicine. For instance I plop just one tablet in my mouth under my tongue if I feel the pang coming on or even much distress when walking down the street, and I get relief in a few moments. Your article was certainly a God-send to me . . . forever in your debt . . . (K.E.C.).

From this report you might infer that anybody can step into the nearest drugstore and tell the man to hurry up and give you a dozen or a hundred nitroglycerin tablets. Well, anybody can, but the trick is to find a druggist who will sell one, a dozen or a hundred nitroglycerin tablets without a prescription.

For persons of ordinary intelligence, as some druggists inform me whenever I recomend nitroglycerin for angina, the law or some regulation or other prohibits sale of nitroglycerin tablets without prescription.

In Little Lesson No. 2, the booklet CVD, about heart and artery troubles, for which send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope, I say:

"Every sufferer from angina pectoris should carry at all times a few tablets of nitroglycerin (otherwise called glonoin or glyceryl trinitrate), each tablet containing 1-200th to 1-100th of a grain.

"Such a tablet, dissolved in the mouth, acts in two minutes. Nitroglycerin is not a heart stimulant. It is a vasodilator, causes relaxation of dilation of the affected arteries. Dilation of the coronary arteries, which supply blood to the heart muscle, brings more blood, more oxygen to the muscle cells. "Any adult may take such a dose of nitroglycerin without danger. Many angina patients take such a dose three or four times a day for weeks or months with benefit and without untoward effect."

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Feathered Prankster Gets Starvation Cure

WESTBROOK, Me. (UP) — A long-suffering housewife blew the whistle on a "big, black bird" that made wash day harder than ever for weeks.

Mrs. Elaine Poitras asked police to drive away the bird, which hung around her backyard, snapping open clothespins with his beak and happily watching freshly washed clothes fall to the ground.

Mrs. Poitras described the bird as "bigger than a crow."

Police solved the case by asking neighbors to stop putting out pans of food for the feathered prankster as they had been doing since it arrived in the neighborhood.

Average depth of the oceans is 10,000 to 15,000 feet.

Piano Makes Fast Trip From Second Story

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP) Judson Gardner figured the simplest way to move a piano from a second-story apartment was out a window.

With the aid of neighbors, he decided to place two planks from the window to a truck below, tie a rope around the piano and let it slide down as they plaid out the rope.

They tugged and pushed the piano through the window as planned. But seconds later power lines snapped and a window was smashed. Police said Gardner and his assistants forgot one thing — the rope.

Obliging Soldier Aids Cop, Sees Fun, Leaves

MILWAUKEE (UP) — When Patrolman Everett Lieske arrested two men here recently, he decided they were too "drunk and disorderly" to leave, so he asked a passing soldier to pull the hook for the paddy wagon at the next corner.

The obliging soldier pulled a hook — the fire hook that is part of the same box — and 29 firemen and two policemen answered the call in three fire engines, two battalion chief's cars and a police squad car. The soldier watched the proceedings quietly and then melted into the night.

South Africa Growing

JOHANNESBURG (UP) —South Africa will have more than doubled its present population by the end of this century according to Dr. L. T. Badenhorst, senior lecturer in sociology at the University of the Witwatersrand. Discounting the possibility of immigration on a large scale, there would be about 4,500,000 whites in South Africa in the year 2,000 and nearly 26,000,000 non-Europeans.

Three Minors Sent to Children's Home

Three boys who, state police said, broke into 15 homes in Farmington, Rochester and Bloomfield Hills between Nov. 27 and 31, were committed to Oakland County Children's Home yesterday by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

The trio, 8, 10 and 12 years old, were arrested by Rochester police Nov. 31 after they flashed $160 while attempting to register at a hotel.

Goods stolen and cached by the youths included three watches, two shotguns and four rifles plus $220 in cash. They told police the guns were to be used in planned holdups.

The boys will undergo observation and training in the children's home for an indefinite period, according to James Hunt, director of juvenile service.

Returned to Jackson

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Bernard McCann, 51-year-old Canadian, was returned to Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson Tuesday, to serve out the remainder of a life term for murder. McCann, who protested his innocence, escaped from a prison farm last February after serving more than 20 years. He was arrested in Windsor last March.

Mccann was convicted of the slaying of Leo Dispa at the latters Fair Haven, Mich. farm in 1926.

I'LL TAKE STEAK—That's what this man could be saying after he looks at a "meal" set before him in Hamburg, Germany. The object is a chocolate-covered tablet, made up mostly of plant extracts which supposedly swell up in the stomach giving the diner the feeling that he's had a full meal. One such "meal" has only 49 calories, causing the body to make use of its surplus fat, which results in a loss of weight.

Many Bulbs to Change in 7,000 Yule Lights

CHICAGO (INS)—If you think stringing up your Christmas tree lights is a job, consider the case of Walter Stahl, chief engineer of the Merchandise Mart.

Stahl is in charge of the 7,000 light bulbs that make up the huge building's $10,000 outdoor Yule display, which includes two green-outlined 15-story Christmas trees, bells that are six stories tall, a 3-story star, and "Merry Christmas" in red letters two stories high.

"When a bulb burns out we must replace it at once," explained Stahl, "It keeps us busy, rushing from floor to floor."

Fashion Expert Lists Tips on Buying Women Gifts

Gather around, gift-seeking males — a Hollywood expert on women (or at least what the women wear) is offering some welcome advice on how to buy female Christmas gifts.

Fashion director Bill Thomas, fresh from designing the wardrobe which Jane Russell wears in "Foxfire," admits that the trip to the women's counter is lined with dangerous pitfalls. But here, says he, is how to avoid them:

1. Make your choice a luxury item, but don't buy the laciest or silkiest lingerie in the store. Stick to something practical. Most women prefer an item they can wear and wear and wear, not a bit of fluff which soon will be filed and forgotten.

2. Be sure that you have the right size. Nothing takes the edge off a gift more than the need for exchanging it. Make a complete list of your wife or girl friend's sizes — dress, skirt, blouse, gloves, etc. — and keep it with you.

3. If you're buying a hat, take her along.

4. If you're shopping around for a bag, match it to an outfit she already has. Otherwise, you may be stuck for a whole new wardrobe to go with the bag!

5. Keep the jewelry simple—pretentious stuff is taboo.

6. Before buying cosmetics, take a peek at her dressing table to ascertain her favorites. Women are fanatically loyal to particular make-up brands.

7. Remember — what looks good on the salesgirl may not look good on your wife. And no matter what you buy, throw in a bottle — however small — of milady's perfume. This will help to atone for your other mistakes.

Rotten Utility Pole Wins Him Acquittal

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — John Robert Harris Jr. was convicted of reckless driving. The principal evidence against him was the neat clipping off of a telephone pole. Harris appealed.

He said he swerved to avoid another car and his speed was less than 25 miles an hour. The pole broke, he said, because it was rotten. After examining a section of the pole, the judge smiled and acquitted Harris.

Motel Price War End Seen Near in Florida

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla (AP)—The motel price war here is all but over.

Thirty-five motor courts advertised free rooms yesterday in protest against price signs displayed by some of the other courts, which were said to have given the area a "HONKY-TONK" LOOK. The ruse worked. All except two motels took down their price signs.

Those two courts will now be picketed, said a spokesman for the other motels.

70,000 in Tooth Test

Gas Pipeline Explodes

OSAWATOMIE, Kan (AP)—A new 30-inch natural gas pipeline exploded about seven miles west of here last night with a blast of flame that was seen in Kansas City nearly 50 miles away.

'Dateline' Lots to Squeeze Onto Television Screens

NEW YORK (INS)—The neophyte dumped into the vortex of a TV color extravaganza such as "Dateline," which saluted the opening of New York's Memorial Press Center, can comprehend the dismay of "Bugs" Baer's classic chicken which was hatched in an egg-beater.

Once he landed on stage, the bit player, in this case a reporter wandering farther afield than Taegu, looked around for an exit. There were no exists. Let him start for a likely hole in the wall and he was sternly warned, via a menacing hiss, to stand still—or he'd walk in front of a player on camera.

Let him try to flee in the direction whence he came and he found himself ensnarled in Tony Charmoli's razzle-dazzle ballet, depicting a scene from the life and times of Milt Caniff's rugged light-colonel, Steve Canyon. Extricated, he was back in dead center, flush in the great snake-pit of the fat, black writhing camera cables.

Finally, a man with an earpiece, receiving secret instructions from men in a control room some place far and remote, yet as overpoweringly in charge, as "Big Brother," took the wanderer in hand, led him to a dim blood-like mark on the incredibly cluttered studio floor and said, "Stand there until I give you the signal; then move over to that other mark, count ten if you can under your breath, and say your word."

The poor soul stood there, beached in nightmareland. Voices sounded around him. Voices that had not a care in the world. Voices that were fresh and clean and crisp though the owners had rehearsed these words and deeds for days . . . and nights.

John Daly, an incomparably deft man at this business, kept the show moving along. And on the wings of Richard Rodgers' music there entered and left such people as Bob Hope, Martha Raye, Sid Caesar, Perry Como, Eddie Fisher (by some miraculous leap to California), Marian Anderson, Carl Sandburg, Robert E. Sherwood, Carl Reiner, the aforementioned Caniff, war ace Col. Philip Cochran, Fleur Cowles, H. V. Kaltenborn, Ines Robb, Elsa Maxwell, Hal Boyle, Lawrence Spivak, and other gifted people bent upon putting on a show worthy of a memorial press center dedicated to war correspondents who fell in the line of duty.

Have there ever been two finer performances on television than those of Ray Walston, who played Ernie Pyle, and Philip Abbott, who played the dying sergeant in Bob Sherwood's great little play?

Numerically, though they were in great abundance, the artists were far outnumbered. Two dozen men were on and behind the four huge color cameras. A greater number attended the klieg lights and the lightning shifting of scenes. There were costume people, make-up, a small brigade of writers, swarms of "representatives" and agents, and hosts of masterminds.

These included the brilliant producer Fred Coe, executive producer for NBC, Jack Rayel, director Alan Handley, who flew in from Hollywood, associate producer Bill Nichols, scenery boss Theodore Cooper, costumer Rose Bogdanoff, and Harry Sosnik in charge of a 90-piece orchestra.

The President of the United States worked on this one, too. When Edward R. Murrow and a few others at the Overseas Press Club first suggested the possibility of a huge TV show built around the formal opening, we felt it proper that the President—who knew so many of the correspondents we honor — say something. The request finally reached Mr. Eisenhower in the midst of his cold war with Red China, his hot one with Sen. McCarthy, and a thousand other chores. But he found 15 minutes one day, was given the theme by John Daly, and turned in a memorable job. So did Henry Ford II.

For long weeks it did not seem possible that there could be a show. Then Toots Shor was appealed to. He got Bob Hope . . . and the floodgates of talent swung open. A lot of hardworking people around the Overseas Press Club, spit on their hands and, to quote member Herbert Bayard Swope fact emerged from fantasy. Among these were Patricia Lockridge Hartwell, Mrs. Cowles, Eileen Lange and some gents.

It was a lot to compress upon your TV screen. You saw it through the broad (or wrong) end of a mighty telescope.

Jesse Drown, 9, Saves Friend From Drowning

EAST MOLINE, Ill. (AP)—Jesse Drown, 9, rescued Ross Jones, a first grade pupils, from drowning in the Hennepin canal. An unidentified adult helped pull him up the bank.

At the Black Hawk School on Big Island where both attend, Ross was declared unhurt but "scared" and Jesse was lauded as a hero.

MENTIONED—Dr. Otto Suhr is expected to be named mayor of West Berlin, Germany, by the city assembly. At present, Suhr is city assembly speaker.

Clooney and Sinatra Rate as Most Popular Vocalists

NEW YORK (UP)—The nation's disk jockeys have picked Rosemary Clooney and Frank Sinatra as the most popular vocalists of 1954 and "Hey There" as the record most demanded by their listeners.

That's the outcome of a poll taken by the United Press of record spinners at radio stations across the country. A total of 726 ballots was received.

The 37-year-old Sinatra pulled the big surprise by barely edging out Eddie Fisher as the top male vocalist on the disk jockey list. Miss Clooney won by a sizeable margin as top female vocalist, with Kitty Kallen second.

The top recordings were "Hey There" (Rosemary Clooney—Columbia); "Little Things Mean a Lot" (Kitty Kallen — Decca); "Young at Heart" (Sinatra—Capitol); "Wanted" (Perry Como—Victor); "Secret Love" (Doris Day—Columbia).

The male vocalist outcome, with total votes, was: Sinatra 195, Fisher 190, Como 142, Nat Cole 48, Bob Manning 21, and bunched closely behind in order, Bing Crosby, Don Cornell, Tony Bennett, Tony Martin, Gordon McCrae and Frankie Laine.

The female vocalist outcome was: Rosemary Clooney 202, Kitty Kallen 112, Doris Day 86, Patti Page 50, Kay Starr 30, and, behind them, Jo Stafford, Sarah Vaughan, Ella Fitzgerald, June Christy, Dinah Shore, Peggy Lee and Joni James.

The winners in other divisions polled were:

Top vocalist group—Four Aces.
Big band—Ray Anthony.
Small instrumental group — George Shearing.
Rhythm and blues—Bill Haley.
Country artist—Eddy Arnold.

Other songs which drew a sizeable vote included "The High and the Mighty," "This Old House," "Sh-Boom," "Three Coins in the Fountain," and "Mr. Sandman."

"Hey There," composed by Dick Adler and Jerry Ross, is from the score of the Broadway musical "Pajama Game."

Columbia record's Mitch Miller used an intriguing gimmick in the Rosemary Clooney recording—an answer-back version using a multiple tape in an echo chamber. The record has passed the 1,500,000 mark in sales.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Cliff Rolfe, oil company executive, was so delightfully confused when he became a parent that he sent out cards saying: "Have a father on me. I'm the baby of an 8-lb. cigar!"

Hal Boyle Says:

Start Your Brooding Now on Mistakes During 1954

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you a last-minute brooder?

Do you wait until 1955 actually begins before you start brooding about all the wrong things you did in 1954?

Well, why keep putting it off? Why not be an early brooder? There are still 16 good brooding days left before the first of January. Why not do your brooding now, and avoid the late season rush?

* * *

It is this habit of postponing his brooding that ruins the post-holiday period for many an average man.

He wakes up on New Year's morning, feeling the effects of too much partying the night before, takes a look at himself in a mirror, then crawls back into bed, muttering to himself:

"Boy, what a louse I've been all year!"

His 12-month collection of conscience pangs strikes him all at once, and he writhes in mental self-torment. His mind is crowded with the memories of all the ways he has let down himself, his boss, his wife, his kids—and Norman Vincent Peale—during the preceding 365 days.

* * *

Overwhelmed by a vast sense of guilt, the tortured wretch takes no joy in the bright prospects of the year ahead, because he feels he has wasted all the splendid opportunity in the year just ended.

In a blue funk he makes wild, hopeless resolves to do better—good resolutions that would test the mettle of an angel, resolutions he knows he can't possibly keep, and thus plants the seeds of future conscience pangs.

Reduced to a kind of moral jelly by this titanic attack of mass brooding, the guy really doesn't manage to lift himself out of his depression until he sees his first robin.

Meanwhile he is pretty grim company for other members of the house, and the kids keep asking:

"Mama, what's the matter with Daddy? Did somebody give him a new ulcer for Christmas?"

The way to avoid this situation is to start your year-end brooding right now. But don't do it all at once. Space it out.

You can begin gradually. Just brood 5 to 10 minutes a day until you feel you are getting the hang it. Too much sudden brooding, like too much sudden exercise, is bad for anybody, and particularly bad for people over 40.

* * *

One easy way to get into the swing of it is to start off by brooding over all the wrong things you did yourself.

But, of course, to do a thorough, all-around job of brooding you can't treat it like a one-way street. If you don't brood back over your own mistakes, you're only doing half the job, and you're missing the real scientific value of brooding.

The main thing is to buckle down to the task right now. Then, when the new year arrives, you'll be all brooded out, and eager to face the challenges ahead.

* * *

And that brings up a final suggestion. Timing is very important in constructive brooding. Don't wait until next June to get your 1955 brooding under way. Get in a little spring practice during April.

Then, if you are really getting the knack of profitable brooding you'll take time to brood about what lies ahead as well as what is already past.

The guy who is most likely to stay out of trouble in this world is the guy who does a little constructive brooding in advance—for if he doesn't like the price tag on what he sees, he won't have to buy the penalty.

Indians Considering Bids for Uranium Prospecting

VALENTINE, Ariz. (AP) — The Hualapai Indian Tribal Council is considering bids received for uranium prospecting rights on some 200,000 acres of reservation land.

Another Arizona tribe, the San Carlos Apache, is opening parts of its reservation to uranium prospectors under restrictions ordered by its tribal council.

Bob Hope Can Ad Lib With Best Despite Fact He Has Raft of Writers

By EDDIE CANTOR

My good friend, Bob Hope, has just returned from England where he appeared at a command performance and filmed several of his television shows. He has traveled more miles in a period of 10 years than any other member of our profession. We're all kind of proud of Robert.

During our last big conflict millions of GI parents included this comedian in their nightly prayers. They knew that wherever their boys were, there was Hope making them less homesick. Bob brought laughter to their lips—smiles to their faces—and home to their hearts.

Despite the fact that he has a raft of writers, take it from this minstrel, he can ad lib with the best of them. Recently when the newspapers mentioned that Henry Crown of Chicago had bought the Empire State Building for $48,000,000, Bob wired Crosby: "Congratulations, Bing. But I thought Crosby was a nice name. Why change it to Henry Crown?" You and I know that Crosby does not own the Empire State Building—just the state of Arizona.

Bob is always kidding about the trips he makes. He told me there was one trip that entailed many months, and when he arrived at the Los Angeles airport he was greeted by his wife, Dolores. "I knew it was Dolores," he cracked, "because she introduced herself to me."

When he got home, Bob went in to take a shower and fell on the floor, laughing. Dolores had new towels in the bathroom; some were labeled "Hers" and the others, "Welcome, Traveler."

Noel Post Office Expects Biggest Christmas Mail

NOEL, Mo. (INS) — Missouri's "Christmas City," Noel, expects the 1954 season to be its biggest yet.

Some 22 years ago the postmaster at Noel, Ed Rousselot, originated a special cancellation stamp advertising Noel as the Christmas City in the Ozark vacation land.

Last year more than 500,000 pieces of mail passed through the Noel postoffice for the special Christmas stamp.

Postmaster Kenneth Perry estimates that this year's business will be at least 10 per cent higher.

Much of the mail is from large corporations which send cards to the postoffice for the special imprint in green ink which looks like a Christmas tree. Stamp collectors also send hundreds of cards. Many want the cards held until Christmas Day, then handstamped.

Because of the volume, members of the Noel Lions Club have been donating their services to help postoffice employes cancel the mail.

Bee Smoker Alarming

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Policeman Robert E. Muldoon saw smoke pouring from a tree and sounded the alarm. When the firemen arrived, Floyd W. Parish, an off duty fireman, scrambled down the tree. He explained to his colleagues that he was smoking out a swarm of bees for a friend.

'Still' Fishing Nets Bootlegging Gear

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP) — Cumberland county Sheriff L. L. Guy and a deputy went fishing and hooked a 200-gallon liquor still.

One of their hooks touched a wire leading to a tree on the bank. It was attached to a submerged copper condenser, and still another wire led to other equipment.

Sheriff Guy theorized that the operators would run off a quantity of moonshine in the nearby wooded area, then hide the equipment in the pond.

Overparking Costs Dime

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — When Matt Shoemaker of Hastings got home after a drive from Kearney, Neb., he found an overtime parking ticket from Kearney police on his car.

He called long distance to ascertain the penalty and learned he should mail the police a dime — covering the time he was overparked.

Think Dead Girl Accident Victim

Police Say Gun Mishap Likely Killed UM Grad in Washington Suburb

ARLINGTON, Va. (UP) — Authorities said today the death of a 23-year-old University of Michigan graduate was apparently an "unusual accident" but indicated they had not ruled out foul play.

Sally Wood, the young woman, was found shot in the back in her apartment here Monday night amid a litter of Christmas wrappings.

The Defense Department said the victim was the daughter of Charles H. Wood, of Medfield, Mass. It said she had worked as a $4,205-a-year analyst for the National Security Agency, a top-secret outfit engaged in intelligence and cryptographic work.

At Ann Arbor, Michigan officials said Miss Wood had majored in Russian studies and last year received a master's degree. They said she had participated in several campus activities.

Arlington Detective Captain Dudley H. Rector speculated that a shotgun she had bought as a gift apparently had caught on the trigger as it fell from a table which she bumped, causing it to fire.

Rector said he thought Miss Wood had stopped her gift wrapping to examine the 12-gauge shotgun, loaded it and placed it on the table forgetting to remove the shells.

Pneumonia Hits Pair

IONIA (UP) — Mrs. Harold Hill, state president of the Rebekah Assembly, and her husband, of Ionia, were hospitalized Tuesday for pneumonia. Ionia County Memorial Hospital attendants said Mrs. Hill's condition was good. Her husband, however, was transferred from Memorial Hospital to Blodgett Memorial Hospital at Grand Rapids. He was considered more seriously ill.

Hitchhiker Pleads Guilty in Slaying

CHARLOTTE, Mich. (UP)—Paul R. Spinner, 26, of Lansing, yesterday changed his plea of innocent to guilty in the hitchhike slaying of Niles Liscomb, 30, of Lansing, last Aug. 30.

Circuit Judge Archie D. McDonald accepted the plea over the objection of defense attorney Richard Robinson.

Judge McDonald adjourned the trial until Thursday when he said he will take further testimony to determine whether Spinner will be sentenced for first or second degree murder.

Spinner moved to change his plea after the testimony of seven witnesses in the opening day of his trial.

He was accused of accepting a ride from Liscomb near Lansing and shooting his benefactor in a field eight miles southwest of Charlotte. Liscomb was shot before the eyes of his wife and mother-in-law.

Funeral Set Tomorrow for Woman Producer

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow for Ruth Selwyn, once Broadway's only woman producer. She died Monday at the age of 49.

Formerly an actress, she once was married to the late Edgar Selwyn, a founder of the old Goldwyn Studios. Her legal name was Ruth Wilcox Selwyn Warburton.

Abandon Pilot Search

EAST TAWAS (UP) — The Coast Guard has abandoned a search for Capt. Garland D. Hanson, pilot of a T33 jet trainer plane missing for the past week on a flight from Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda, Mich., to New York. The search, abandoned Tuesday night, had covered hundreds of square miles of the Saginaw Bay area of Lake Huron.

City Lawmaker Fires Blast at Planning Commission

PARKING LOT FILLED—Popularity of the city's new parking lot is shown by this airphoto taken on a recent afternoon when practically every space was filled. The lot is at 'st Pike and Parke streets. At upper right of the picture is the skeleton of the former market building, being moved by the city to make additional space for parking. Building at lower center is Central School. Bridge across the Clinton River at right of the picture will connect the two areas when the new space is available. Space next to market site held building destroyed by fire.

Charges Board Is Blocking Bagley Rezoning Request

Commissioner Roy V. Cooley let go a left-handed blast at the City Plan Commission last night and again urged a more realistic redrawing of Pontiac's zoning map.

"I've been told if you hire an expensive lawyer and present a lot of facts and figures (when seeking rezoning) the Plan Commission will go your way," Cooley told his fellow commissioners.

The controversy stemmed from a plan commission report recommending denial of a request to rezone from residential classification to commercial classification property at 56-58 Bagley St.

The owner wants to use the property for a funeral home.

In its report, the Plan Commission said the block on which the property is located is primarily residential. It is zoned for single-family dwellings on the zoning map.

Cooley produced a city directory which indicates other businesses and multiple - family dwellings are on the block.

City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn said that the businesses and multiple-family dwellings are illegal.

Commissioner John E. Carry, who also serves on the planning commission, suggested that Cooley appear before that body.

"The evidence presented here tonight never did come before the planning commission," he said.

The commission voted unanimously to return the matter to the Plan Board for further study.

Cooley, who last week recommended establishment of buffer zones between manufacturing and business areas, said the city's zoning map is not realistic.

"Nobody wants to buy those large old homes on Bagley street and Franklin boulevard, for instance," he said.

City Manager William A. Ewart agreed that the zoning map should be changed.

"If an area has changed then the commission should change the zoning" he said. "The law says if an area changes it is the commission's duty to rezone it."

Wrenn, too, again supported a complete re-evaluation of the city's zoning.

Bride Was Researcher on Travel Books for Federal Jurist

TALLULAH, La. (AP) — Associate Justice William O. Douglas and a 37-year-old member of his Washington staff were married late yesterday at her parents' home here.

The bride is Mrs. Mercedes Hester Davidson, ex-wife of former Asst. Secretary of the Interior C. Girard Davidson, now a Portland, Ore., attorney. They were divorced three years ago.

Douglas, 56, was divorced last year by his wife Mildred, who said he abandoned her while engaged in his work and world travels.

The new Mrs. Douglas did research for Douglas on his last three travel books.

The couple left last night for a two or three-week honeymoon to an undisclosed Western destination.

Mrs. Douglas is the daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. C. E. Hester, who were among the 10 friends and relatives attending the private wedding and reception.

The Rev. Arthur F. Strickland, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Douglas' children and Douglas' son were among the guests. They are Michael Davidson, 13, Joan Davidson, 11, and William Douglas Jr., a student at Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash.

Douglas' daughter, Mrs. Frank C. Wells Jr., was unable to attend.

Mrs. Douglas' children will spend the Christmas holidays with their father, and will rejoin the couple at their home in Washington after the honeymoon.

Police Seek Overtime Pay for Appearances in Court

Pontiac policemen below the rank of lieutenant may be in line for additional overtime pay after a future meeting between city officials and a three-man committee representing the Police Officers' Assn.

William L. Collins, city personnel director, said his department will meet with the committee soon to consider paying overtime to officers appearing in court on their own time.

The committee met for the first time last week with Police Chief Herbert W. Straley for discussion of several problems to be presented to the city.

Among other things, the committee is asking for a 10 per cent salary increase for motorcycle policemen, uniform and clothing allowances and ending one-man patrol car details.

According to committee members Herbert C. Cooley, chairman, Harold Hayden and Elmer Rogers, Chief Straley assured the association the problems would receive careful attention.

Straley informed the group there has not been an over-all overtime pay system in the department since he became police chief in 1951.

The group contends that officers are entitled to the overtime pay for working more than eight hours in one day. They referred to the rules of the personnel department and the official pay plan which they claim entitles them to time-and-a-half pay for overtime.

The rules state that officers, barring radio technicians and ranks above sergeant, may receive overtime pay with consent of superiors.

Collins, however, explained that officers have been getting overtime pay for holidays and on other occasions, but no regular system, to his knowledge, exists on the over-all plan the association is asking.

The major complaint is that officers spend abundant time during court sessions without any compensation.

Requesting the 10 per cent boost, the officers said motorcycle policemen face greater risks in traffic.

The committee also contends that many cities, such as Flint, furnish all uniforms for policemen.

"Due to the fact that the Pontiac Police officer does not receive a large salary, the responsibility of buying expensive uniforms throws an added burden on him and his family," Hayden said.

He added that an officer's overcoat costs $90; trousers, $24 each; shirts, $15 each, a pair of shoes, $12; caps, $4.50, and jackets, $45.

Cooley noted that "employes of the Dept. of Public Works and other city workers receive overtime for over eight hours. I think it is equally justified for a police officer, who takes on additional hazards with his job."

Winding up the meeting with Straley, the committee said that from past experience the one-man car patrol was not only dangerous, but lowered efficiency as well.

Straley and Collins both said they would work closely with the committee in an effort to develop a solution.

Negro Track Star Denies Nuptial Talk

NEW DELHI (AP)—American Negro track star Mal Whitfield denied today that he is planning to marry Birgit Johansson, a Swedish beauty.

In a telephone interview from Lahore, Pakistan, Whitfield said: "I have no commitments to marry Birgit Johansson or anyone else. If that has been reported you can say it is a false report. It is entirely negative."

The Swedish girl said in Los Angeles last Sunday that she and the athlete planned to be married next year.

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Mayor Thomas W. Flatley, who faces a possible prison term after pleading guilty to conspiracy charges stemming from a gambling probe here, has formally submitted his resignation.

Advises State on Seaway Plan

Solon Claims Existing Study Committees Can Handle Problems

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Herb Clements (R-Deckerville), chairman of the Legislative Study Committee on Marine Affairs for the St. Lawrence Seaway, today said he saw no need for the creation of a separate seaway authority in Michigan.

"The Michigan Waterways Commissions and the Economic Development Commission have sufficient staff, resources and other facilities to carry on any activities needed to prepare Michigan for the St. Lawrence Seaway," Clements said.

Gov. Williams already has set up a seaways study commission headed by C. Allen Harlan, Detroit businessman. The Study Commission, with representatives from industry, labor, state government and others, has held two general meetings and two executive meetings.

The proposal to set up a separate commission to handle St. Lawrence Seaway matters is under study by the group.

Clements said his committee does not think this will be necessary.

"Rather than set up new agencies, causing unnecessary taxpayer expense, it seems to me to be common sense and in the public interest to permit already existing agencies to take over the job," Clements said.

"The Waterways Commission now receives $18,000 a year from the tonnage tax on great lakes commercial shipping which goes into the fund to construct small boat harbors.

"This money could be devoted to the St. Lawrence Seaway purposes. The Economic Development Commission has the staff, the facilities and programs and money to attract industry to Michigan and help industrial development."

List Yule Tree Hazards

BOSTON (AP) — Hold it folks. There's something you forgot to put on your Christmas list: The telephone number of your local fire department.

If history repeats itself, as it usually does, more than a thousand American families will be rushing to phones sometime this holiday season to report their Christmas trees afire. That is, if they can get past the burning trees to telephone. Christmas fires are too often killers—killers especially of children.

"There will be 1,109 Christmas tree fires, alone, during this time if the average for the last three years stands up," says Percy Bugbee, general manager of the National Fire Protection Assn. "But these figures are only part of the story. At Christmastime most homes are packed with all sorts of extra fire dangers that even common sense wouldn't tolerate any other time of the year."

In fact, it's easily possible to have your home so booby-trapped with holiday hazards that it could look like a pyromanic's nightmare.

Bugbee today listed some of them as follows:

A tree that can flash-burn in less than two minutes, setting your curtains and furniture afire. Piles of gift wrappings. Flammable decorations and trim. Faulty lighting sets. And toys like those of fast-burning pyroxylin plastic, electrical toys without a UL (safety) label, and toy machines using flammable fuels. Also, non-flame-proofed costumes, including Santa Claus' suit and whiskers.

Now you see why fire-safety engineers suggest you have a workable, water-type fire extinguisher handy? Or why they suggest you leave a garden hose attached to a faucet within reach of potential fire?

But gadgets aren't your biggest defense; there's an even more important safety factor. What is it? To be completely aware of all the dangers, says Bugbee. That, he says, is the best guarantee of a fire-safe Christmas:

"Common sense prevention—not gadgets—is the way to stop Christmas fires."

Here are some F.P.A.—recommended prevention ideas:

Get a fresh tree with flexible small branches which don't shed needles. Store it outdoors or in water till you use it. Bring it in just before Christmas. And take it out as soon as possible (safety folks suggest Dec. 26).

Just before setting it up, cut off the base at an angle, an inch above the original cut. Keep the base in water and check daily to be sure the cut is covered. Support the tree firmly. Keep it from heat, including radiators. Place it so that even if it falls, it can't block exits.

Keep open flame, smoking, electric trains and fuel-burning toys away from tree and combustibles. Use approved lighting sets, checked yearly against frayed wire, loose connections, broken sockets. Use only 15 ampere fuses, and few cords on one outlet. Don't leave tree lights burning while you're asleep or absent.

Put wrappings quickly in a covered metal barrel. Or burn them in an incinerator, only, in a safe place. Use non-combustible or flame-proof decorations. Have a spark guard on your fire place.

P.S.—If fire starts anyway, be ready to fight it, but call the fire department first. Repeat: First.

Continued Federal Spending Dims Hopes for Tax Cuts

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen are getting their cue today on what to expect of Washington next year.

If Congress goes along, the prospect is for continued high taxes, more money earmarked for defense, the start of spending on a huge road-building program, a continued federal deficit, extension of the President's powers to lower tariffs.

* * *

And the Federal Reserve Board is hinting that, just as it manipulated money and credit to put a brake on the recession, so it plans to do the same to halt any boom threatening to get out of hand.

Most businessmen are fairly well reconciled to the prospects that the corporate income tax rate and the excise taxes won't be allowed to drop next April as was promised last spring.

* * *

Spokesmen for Commerce Secretary Weeks' Business Advisory Council say they believe businessmen won't kick too much when the matter comes up in Congress.

If taxes are to stay high to help hold down the Treasury deficit, businessmen have other points in the program to evaluate.

Notice that Defense Secretary Wilson will ask Congress to appropriate five billion dollars more for defense in the coming year would seem to put a firm floor under arms spending.

Cuts in this form of government spending were a leading factor in starting the recession of a year ago. With defense spending leveling off at around 35 billion dollars a year, and with a chance of even increasing a little in the months ahead, the economy won't have to withstand any more shocks from that direction.

* * *

Spending on highways, moreover, will be a spur to many industries that supply the construction industry.

Treasury Secretary Humphrey's estimate that the fiscal year starting next July 1 will see a federal deficit of 4¾ billion dollars has a mildly inflationary prospect, since it means pumping more "new money" into the economy that is taken out of it by taxes.

But the Federal Reserve Board, the other arm in that operation, is hinting strongly that it is watching the present upsurge in business and has no intention of letting inflation get started again. It intends to keep credit easy and money fairly cheap.

What Religion Means to Our Family

Church Brings Pruentes Close to God

By LULA B. OGDEN

"Working together as a real family is our hobby," Mrs. Francis Pruente said.

Proof of this is revealed by the fact that, although two of the boys are married and living away from home, the entire family have a practice of going to early Mass each Sunday at St. Michael Catholic Church, and coming home to put their feet under "dad's" table for breakfast afterwards.

"We love it," the mother said, "and that plan makes it possible to be together each week, and yet each family can have their own plans afterwards."

Mr. and Mrs. Pruente was born in Verona, Missouri. They were married June 27, 1928 and the following Sunday started for Michigan, and Pontiac. They have lived here since that time raising their family.

Thomas and Francis Jr. are married and live on Pontiac Lake Road and at Crescent Lake respectively.

The family look back with a great deal of gratitude on the fact that while Ernest was in Korea driving a truck back and forth from the front lines, he was returned safely home last May.

"Our religion has been a way of life for us," they said. "If it had not been for our faith in God and His care for us, we would never have had the courage to bring six children into the world. We would not have been able to endure all the common petty cares that goes with raising a family.

"By attending church and through Holy Mass, the Sacraments, and prayer, we have drawn close to God and received graces to do our duties.

"We always have put our children's souls before their bodies and when they began growing up we worried at first about their contact with the world so full of temptation," they continued.

"When we remembered how our faith, which we had passed on to them had developed their characters, we stopped worrying."

"Thus far the children have made good, moral decisions and we know religion was responsible for this.

"And best of all," they concluded, "Our faith teaches us that this life is only a stepping stone to a blissful, eternal life with God in heaven if we follow Christ's teachings."

The mother added "My religion has always furnished both me and my family with most of the social life we enjoy.

"We get a lot of fun working with the good Catholics in our parish at fish frys, bazaars and in St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Altar Society.

"Last summer, Mary and I had the privilege with other ladies of our parish, of replacing the Sisters who were away as sacristans," she said.

England Hangs Woman Killer

Native of Cyprus Dies on Gallows for Murder of Daughter-in-Law

LONDON (AP)—Mrs. Styllou Christofi was hanged in Holloway Jail today for the murder of her daughter-in-law. A native of Cyprus who spoke no English, she was the first woman sent to the gallows in London in 31 years.

A group of House of Commons members made a vain attempt last night to persuade Home Secretary Gwilym Lloyd-George to reprieve the woman on grounds of insanity.

Mrs. Christofi, 53, was found guilty two months ago of the torch and strangulation slaying of German-born Mrs. Hella Dorothea Christofis, 36.

The prosecution charged Mrs. Christofi knocked her daughter-in-law unconscious while she was taking a bath, twisted a scarf around her neck and set the nude body afire with kerosene in the back yard of their home last August.

The two women had quarreled and the elder feared her son, a waiter at the fashionable Cafe de Paris, would send her back to her native island in the eastern Mediterranean.

Her son Stavros, whose three small children were left motherless by the killing, waited on his table at the cafe as usual last night. On one arm he wore a black crepe band in memory of his wife.

"I cannot find it in my heart to forgive my mother," he told reporters. "The word 'mother' has become a mockery to me."

Dimnet died at his home in Paris of a heart attack last Wednesday and was buried Monday in Trelon, his birthplace in northern France. He was 88.

He was widely known in America as a lecturer and writer. The Roman Catholic priest made his early reputation in France as a teacher of English. He retired from teaching in 1923 to concentrate on writing and lecturing.

They included: Water skis, a comic book, a jar of peanut butter, a first baseman's mitt, a pair of lady's high-heeled shoes, a bottle of mustard — and Miss Ragen's love letters.

A contest for Thorne's $1,700,000 estate is on in Probate Court. In his first will, he left the bulk of the estate to his mother but a later will bequeathed most of it to Miss Ragen.

5 Are Injured in Derailment

Cars Pile Up Against Apartment Building in Paris, Ill.

PARIS, Ill. (AP)—Twenty cars of two New York Central freight trains left the rails in the Central's Paris yards early today and crashed into a store-apartment building, injuring five persons.

The 20 cars, police reported, were "stacked like cordwood" in the right-of-way and main track.

Ned Jewell, 22; his wife Evelyn, 22; their 4-year-old son Ben and Mrs. Irene Roberts, about 40, who live in the second floor of the building, suffered minor injuries. After treatment at the Paris hospital they were released. Crew members of both trains escaped uninjured.

• • •

An oil tank car on a train bound from Indianapolis to Cleveland left the rails as a second train, also eastbound, moved slowly out of the yards. Fifteen cars on the fast-moving train left the rails while five cars on the second train were derailed.

Some of the cars crashed into the store-apartment building knocking out two walls and the roof.

R. E. Hendershot, about 55, engineer of the train moving out of the yards, said he and other train crewmen rescued the four persons in the apartment.

Cause of the derailment of the tank car was not determined, New York Central officials said. However, trainmen said indications were the tank car left the rails because of a broken wheel.

Paris is near the Indiana border, about 160 miles south of Chicago.

Defense Chief Bags 2 Crows First Time Out

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson fired twice with a 20-gauge double barrel shotgun yesterday and brought down two birds in his first acquaintance with Louisiana crow hunting.

Making the introductions was Gov. Robert Kennon, a past master at the art of crow calling.

"I've hunted quail, duck, geese and even snipe," beamed the ruddy faced secretary as the hunting party unloaded guns at the executive mansion, "but this is the first time I ever shot crows. It's fun."

Crow hunting is done without dogs.

After a day's hunt in the hardwood forests about 35 miles north of here, the party had two dozen crows and four or five quail.

Wilson addressed the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce Monday night.

Interviewed at the executive mansion where he was a house guest of the governor, Wilson explained his ruddy complexion after the hunt:

Kirk Douglas Changed His Life by Hitchhiking

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"If every successful man has a turning point in his life," I said to actor Kirk Douglas, "what was yours?"

"It was when I hitchhiked 200 miles to enter college," he replied. "The last part of the trip was on top of a load of fertilizer. When I got to St. Lawrence College, I really smelled."

The handsome movie hero was sitting now amid the swank of the Colony.

"I'd worked as a janitor in a school building, and as a clerk in a department store, in my year out of high school at Amsterdam, N. Y.," he added. "It was fall and everybody was going back to school. I wasn't. I felt like an old man at 18.

"I had an offer of a pretty good job with a wholesale grocery house. I'd be able to afford a car.

"I said 'To hell with it' and started hitchhiking."

"Suppose you hadn't hitchhiked?" I said.

"I'd be in Amsterdam in all the hometown dramatics and everybody'd say, 'That fellow should have gone on the stage.'

"As it is," he added, "I'm in Hollywood, where everybody says, 'That fellow should have gone into the grocery business'."

Mamie Visits Meade; Once Lived on Post

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—A woman who spent four years as an Army wife here more than 30 years ago returned yesterday as the First Lady of the land.

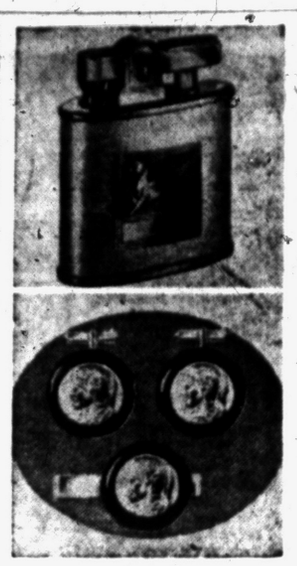

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower visited the post for a luncheon given for her by the Ft. Meade Officers' Wives Club.

She also won the gratitude of an unidentified airman whose car had run out of gas on the Baltimore-Washington Expressway. She gave him a ride in her chauffeur-driven sedan as she was en route to Meade.

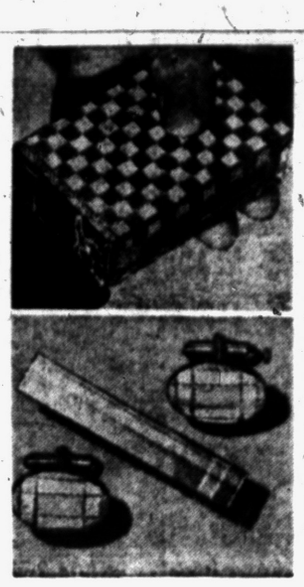

Locomotive Firm Told to Build Portable A-Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Locomotive Co. has been assigned the job of building the Army a portable atomic power plant which can be broken into sections and flown to the most remote bases.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced the award of a $2,096,753 contract to American Locomotive, of New York, to design, build and run the experimental "package" plant. The model plant is to be built at Ft. Belvoir, Va., the Army's engineer training center. AEC and the Army will share the cost.

Cigarette case (top) has a jeweler's finish. Bottom, cuff-tie set is in silver.

Traditional Jewelry and Accessories Are Always Among Men's Gift Wishes

On a list of any man's Christmas desires, precious gifts from the jewelry counter are certain to rank near the top.

Handsome accessory items are enjoyed by the men as much as by women, but in contrast to those in the female ranks, a man rarely buys for himself.

If it weren't for gift occasions, he often would go without them.

All of which offers a moral to those with gift-shopping problems. The gift of a tie pin or cuff links may seem to fall into the "duplication" class, but few other things you can give are surer to be more welcomed.

Ditto for watch bands and rings, cigarette lighters, buckles and many others.

Shoppers who choose a watch will find that the famous brand names have many new models with modest prices. Some have sweep second hands and brightly luminous dials.

They are watertight, selfwinding, shockproof, anti-magnetic and rustproof—in stainless steel or gold-filled cases.

Even if the man has a watch already, a new expansion watch band will rate you a roaring thank you.

So will the many new cuff link styles, or a handsome cigar-cigarette lighter.

Another sure-fire bet is a practical cigarette case. One new model has a unique pop-up top and a gleaming jeweler's finish.

Attempts to Sell Self for $195 to Pay Debts

TOKYO (AP)—A sullen young man with his "life for sale" kept up his lonely, chilly wait for a buyer today in downtown Tokyo. He spurned offers of charity.

Satoshita Horita's asking price is 70,000 yen (about $195).

The 22-year-old Japanese turned down offers of money from shoppers.

He said he is so deeply in debt his only way out is to sell his services for life. In two days of waiting, no takers.

Pair Convicted in Thrill Killing

Jury Suggests Youths Spend Lives in Prison for Torture-Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—Two Brooklyn youths were convicted of first-degree murder yesterday in the thrill slaying of a 34-year-old factory hand.

An all-male Kings County jury recommended that Jack Koslow, 18, and Melvin Mittman, 17, spend the rest of their lives in jail.

They were found guilty of torturing Willard Menter in a Brooklyn park last Aug. 17. The torture resulted in Menter's drowning in the East River.

* * *

Originally four youths had been indicted. One of them, Robert Trachtenberg, 15, previously was granted a separate trial and testified for the prosecution. A first-degree murder charge against Jerome Lieberman, 17, was dismissed last week. He still faces a manslaughter charge.

Koslow was depicted by the prosecution as leader of the gang which roamed Brooklyn parks at night, beating and torturing innocent victims "for thrills."

Attorneys for Koslow and Mittman argued that Menter's death was not murder but resulted from a mischevious prank. They said they would appeal the verdict.

The sentencing date has not been set.

Little Danger of War, Navy Secretary Says

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—There is little present danger of global war, Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas says, because "the free world is too strong, actually and potentially, and our potentional enemy is still too weak."

In a speech last night at the Institute of World Affairs, Thomas said, however, that the Korean War demonstrates that smaller wars can be "just as defeating and just as conclusive" as full-scale wars. That is why, he said, the free world still needs conventional weapons and ground troops.

India Rail Crash Kills 3

SANTA AND THE MARS KING

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

AP Newsfeatures

TOYS AND SPECTACLES

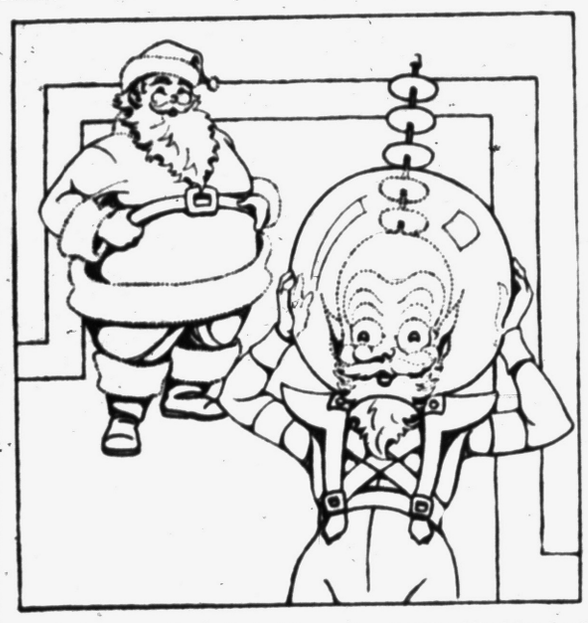

"I myself," said the King from Mars, "would be a flying saucer still if I had not been snagged by some strange object in the sky."

Santa told him the strange object had been a kite with pins in it and that it had been flown especially to catch him or any other flying saucer.

Then Santa reached into his bag and brought out a pair of spectacles from his bottom drawer. He put them on the King's nose.

The King cried out in astonishment. He looked at Santa and all the grinning elves and fairies and at Tom standing at his side.

"How strange!" he exclaimed. "Some of you have wings!" He Coloring suggestions: Santa Claus suit red with white trim, boots black. Mars King's suit green with yellow trim. Faces flesh colored.

"Because you see," said Santa, "my reindeer are afraid of flying saucers. They are so afraid that they will not fly and that means I can deliver no toys on Christmas Day."

"Reindeer?" said the old man. "Toys? Christmas? What are those things?"

By now everyone was so used to hearing the King talk backwards that they could understand him without Santa's writing the words down and changing them around frontwards for them.

* * *

Santa told the King about his magic reindeer—the only deer in the world that could fly. He told him about toys and about the meaning of Christmas on earth.

The Mars King's face brightened when he heard the tale.

"Oh, if I could see such things!" he exclaimed.

"But Santa," cried Tom, "You forget. The King is blind."

"Not blind," said Santa. "His eyes are strained from using them in a poor light. Mine used to be that way when I worked too long by candlelight."

Santa went to his desk and drew

The King smiled gratefully.

"Thank you. It makes me feel like a king. I never really felt like one before."

"Good," said Santa. "From now on we will call you Majesty. Do you suppose that if all the kings on Mars had such suits they would feel more like kings and act like kings should act?"

The King nodded. "I am sure of it. They might even be able to rule the children instead of being ruled by them."

Tom said, "What kind of toys do the children on Mars have?"

"There is no such thing," said Majesty. "Show me these toys you speak of."

They took him through the shops and showed him the bicycles and dolls and trains. They showed him baseballs and skates and wagons. Marbles and games and tennis rackets. Jackstraws and bobjacks and cowboy guns.

"Oh," said the King, "If the children on Mars had such things to play with they would be too busy to want to rule."

"I've been thinking of something," said Santa. "Why not take these spectacles and space suits and toys to Mars?"

Scarecrows Better Than Newest Gadgets

BOSTON, N. Y. (UP)—A local farmer, in anera when science can send electrons, rain, hormones, technicians and chemicals to the farmstead, advises corngrowers to go back to the use of scarecrows.

Joseph J. Kobiolka, 41, who had been using repellents, went back to scarecrows three years ago when he found that treated corn clogged his machinery. Now he has no trouble with either the birds or machinery.

His scarecrows look much like the usual thing except for a white paper bag filled with straw danging from each arm.

"They hang from a string," explained Kobiolka. "Any breeze will move them. That's the secret. You must have motion."

Retired Diplomat Trades Homburg for Pilot's Helmet

WASHINGTON (UP) — An 83 year-old retired diplomat has turned in his homburg for a weather-beaten pilot's helmet.

Ulysses Grant-Smith, a bespectacled bachelor who wears suits of old-fashioned cut, lives at the sedate Metropolitan Club. Nine years ago, the club's elderly residents raised their eyebrows when he was granted a pilot's license. Since that time he has chalked up about 450 flying hours.

"I never dreamed of flying until I was 74," Grant-Smith said. "I was at Hot Springs, Va., then, when a young girl — she was 20— asked me one day if I'd like to go up and watch her fly. I went up the next morning. She hopped in her plane, and by George, she took off into the sky. I thought 'that's very interesting!' "

Grant-Smith started taking regular lessons, and he has been flying whenever the weather is good. Every year, on his birthday, he flies solo.

Profits Are Shrinking

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Manager R. E. Daniel, 31, of a downtown finance company said he was robbed of $441 yesterday by an unmasked bandit who, before escaping into rush hour traffic, complained: "It's getting so that it doesn't pay to hold you guys up any more."

THOUGHTFUL—Gift for distant members of the family is this picture display. Rapid Mounting Cement or Dry Mounting Tissue, available at photographic supply stores, make it easy to make a gallery of all the family.

Portraits of Loved Ones Make Ideal Yule Presents

A basic knack to the gift-giving business is to choose a present that's personal — one that keeps you, the giver, in mind whenever it's used. And an item which does this always is a new portrait photograph.

Photos of loved ones are sure to be treasured, and, with care, they will last for years. Their special usage as Christmas gifts has dozens of variations.

Girl friends give them to beaus, for instance; or beaus give them to girl friends. Or servicemen give them to Mom and Dad.

But these are only the obvious gifts. For something a little different, why not have Mom and the kiddies have portraits taken in secret? Then present them to Dad — being sure that a couple are wallet-sized prints. He'll be showing them off to his friends for countless weeks to come.

This idea works equally well when applied to Mom or the inlaws, and especially to Granny and Grandpa. But keep the posing a secret so your gift will be a surprise.

And for gifts that are novel, why not arrange a studio date for the families of one or two friends? Family group photos are highly prized, but few families actually get around to having one taken.

However you decide to give them, have the portraits done by a "pro." Studio pictures are not overly expensive and the expert will capture a better likeness.

You can add a touch of your own in the portrait's presentation. With modern picture mounting methods, you can turn out a score of decorative remembrances, from greeting cards to wall displays. A new type of fast-drying mounting cement enables you to mount your photos on almost any surface — paper, matboard, fabric or glass.

For an interesting background cover a piece of lightweight wallboard or a sheet of plywood with a textured fabric. Make an attractive composition of pictures planned to fit the shape of the board. Then mount right on the fabric with Rapid Mounting Cement.

When this adhesive is used for mounting pictures on paper, matboard or glass, make a thin line of adhesive about 1-16 of an inch away from the edge of the paper to allow for seepage. But when mounting on fabric, bring adhesive to the edge of the photo, because of the fabric's absorbency.

Says Ike Wants New UMT Act

GOP Leader Claims Training Issue Stirred Friction at Briefings

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was described today as feeling it is "absolutely essential" for Congress to enact a new military training program designed to strengthen greatly the nation's armed forces reserves.

A Republican congressional leader, who asked that his name not be used, said this topic stirred up more controversy than any other in two days of White House briefings on the President's program for the 1955 session.

Several Republicans and Democrats who were at the meetings confirmed the broad outline of the training program as prerented to them. Secretary of Defense Wilson is scheduled to make details public Friday.

Informants said youths of 17 and 18 would be given this option:

1. Take six months of intensive military training, then enter an active reserve program for 9½ years during which they would be obliged to continue periodic training and would be subject to immediate call in an emergency; or

2. Wait for the regular draft and two years of active service after turning 19. Following discharge from active service, the draftee would be subject to six years of reserve duty.

Moscow Makes Friendly Noises Toward Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Moscow radio hinted in a special Japanese-language broadcast yesterday that Japan can make peace and do business with the Soviet Union and Red China without breaking her alliance with the United States.

The broadcast, distributed here today, came only two days after Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu said Japan would like a settlement with the Communists if it would not "prejudice our basic collaboration with the free nations."

The Red broadcast said:

1. Soviet Russia and Red China are prepared to talk peace with Japan without Japan breaking with the West.

2. The Communist powers are also willing to negotiate economic relations with Japan.

3. The Soviet-Red China alliance is not aimed at Japan, but is only a defense against aggression.

New Fuel Tank May End Fires

Deaths in Air Crashes Could Be Cut by Using Flexible Material

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration announced today the achievement of a major step toward preventing plane-crash fires—the development of flexible bladder-type fuel tanks for aircraft.

CAA said in a news release that Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and U.S. Rubber Co. have developed rubberized nylon materials so strong, light and elastic that:

1. It has now become possible to make integral tanks—fuel cells built into an airplane's wings—out of them.

* * *

2. In accidents where passengers can be expected to survive the crash impact, these tanks will not rupture and cause fire.

One CAA official said that fire after the crash, resulting from the rupture of fuel tanks and the spraying of gasoline over the wreckage, accounts for almost one-fourth of airplane fatalities.

"The problem of fire deaths after airplane crashes appears on its way out," he said.

Many Michigan People Say
O-JIB-WA BITTERS
Greatly Helps Arthritis

Many customers proudly tell us of the wonderful results that they are getting from O-JIB-WA BITTERS. In appreciation, these sufferers from rheumatism and arthritis relate their experiences below. Their recommendations are offered here as more convincing proof that O-JIB-WA BITTERS is worth your trial.

Mr. V. Handy
Battle Creek

"I suffered terrible pains from rheumatism and arthritis in my hip and legs for over four years, and spent over $500 for medicines and treatments with no results. Then, I tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS and after three months feel like a different person. I am better now, and found O-JIB-WA the surest and cheapest treatment of them all."

Mrs. Machine Inkster

"I was afraid I might be an invalid for the rest of my life as my right knee pained and swelled so that I couldn't get around at all. After using O-JIB-WA BITTERS just 20 days, my knee was completely better. I have only the highest praise for this wonderful herb medicine, and recomend it highly to all who suffer from rheumatism and arthritis."

Mrs. Kneeshaw
Algonac

"The pain of arthritis in my feet was so bad that many times I just sat and cried as I thought I would never walk again. Treatments failed to help me until I tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS. Why, in three weeks I could see a world of difference and in about two months I was entirely better and up and around again as good as ever. O-JIB-WA is truly a remarkable medicine."

Mr. Noeske
Dearborn

"O-JIB-WA BITTERS not only did wonders for arthritis in my wrist, but at the same time gave me lots of pep and energy. I was always tired and run down and suffered continually from indigestion and stomach trouble, but now feel better than I have in years and give full credit to O-JIB-WA. I always recommend it to the people I meet who suffer like I did."

Nixon Accused in Condon Case

Scientists Say Navy Security Move Forced by Vice President

CHICAGO (AP)—A group of scientists say that intervention by Vice President Nixon was responsible for the Navy denying security clearance to Dr. Edward U. Condon, at one time chief of the U.S. Bureau of Standards.

Condon on Monday resigned as research director of Corning Glass Works, Corning, N.Y., stating he felt he "could not secure "a fair and independent judgment" in a government review of his security status.

The Atomic Scientists of Chicago (ASC), a self-described organization of scientists concerned with the impact of science on public affairs, in a statement yesterday said "political abuse of the personnel security system has finally forced the resignation" of Dr. Condon.

• • •

The ASC said Nixon intervened last month with Secretary of the Navy Thomas to overrule a July 1954 security clearance for Condon.

The ASC statement said the personnel security system "has been degraded to such a point that its judgments are almost meaningless except for the damage they do to the individuals affected.

"Vice President Nixon and Secretary of the Navy Thomas owe this country an accounting of their action."

In Riverside, Calif., where Thomas gave a speech last night, he denied to a radio newsman in an interview that Nixon directly or indirectly entered into conversations with him at any time about Condons' security classification.

Bawdy Films, Books Being Eyed by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Hendrickson (R-NJ) said today his Senate Judiciary Delinquency subcommittee hopes to hold public hearings this month on the traffic in pornographic materials.

Earlier in the year, he told the Senate the subcommittee was looking into what he described as a growing illicit trade in "filthy and perverted" films, pictures, books, cartoons, pamphlets and recordings.

He said sales of this type of material "so utterly indecent as to shock every civilized American," total about 100 to 300 million dollars a year. He said present laws for coping with the problem are "totally inadequate."

Fragrant, Delicious Turkey Keystone for Traditional Christmas Day Feast

Two marvelous thoughts hover in the kitchen air as mother drags out her bespattered cookbook and her lists for Christmas Day: one, a turkey, crisp, shiny and brown, the moist meat falling away under father's knife as the family munches celery impatiently; two, a remnant whose bones look like the naked structure of a building, the last piece of meat gone from the platter, the last scrap of stuffing sought from its now-revealed hiding place.

The promise and happy fulfillment are both in her mind as she marshals forces for the big job. And, no matter how many times she's prepared Christmas dinner, she wants to know and use the newest and best ideas and techniques.

In answer to a popular question, both the Poultry and Egg National Board and Frigidaire people agree that freezing a stuffed turkey, either cooked or uncooked, is not good.

As for the stuffing itself, the Poultry and Egg people concede that there is much variation in what goes into a stuffing—in the South, it's crumbled cornbread and pecans, almonds and hickory nuts; in the West, it's Oregon filberts; in Massachusetts, it's cranberries and in the upper Midwest, it's walnuts and raisins.

For a good compromise — a recipe from the heart of the country — they offer Mrs. Harry Truman's recipe. This recipe will do for an eight to 10-pound bird.

All-American Stuffing

12 slices dry bread
½ pound butter
1 cup diced onions
1 cup diced celery
1 cup giblet stock
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ teaspoons poultry seasoning

Dry out bread in slow oven. Cut into half-inch cubes. Put butter into frying pan, add onions and celery. Saute until light brown. Add giblet stock and let simmer for five minutes. Add bread cubes, mix and season with salt, pepper and poultry seasoning. The dressing should be somewhat moist so that it will be light and fluffy when done.

For the last word in turkey preparation, they offer these suggestions: After bird is eviscerated and cleaned, remove pinfeathers, singe if necessary, wash outside thoroughly, rinse cavity with cold water and wipe dry. Then make stuffing; rub cavity with salt just before roasting and stuff lightly by hand.

Truss legs, even if bird is not stuffed. Grease skin with fat. Cover top and sides with fat-moistened cloth. Place in preheated 325-degree oven. When turkey is two-thirds done, cut trussing string.

One more caution—do not sear, cover or add salt to the turkey. To tell when it's exactly done, beside using your cookbook's timetable, test to see if the drumstick moves readily or twists out of joint.

Meat thermometer in center of thigh muscle should register 190-195 degrees when done.

Cavity is washed and salted. Pack lightly with any kind of stuffing you like.

Sew or truss opening. Tie drumsticks and tail together with cotton string.

Board Considering Judges' Retirement

DETROIT (AP)—The State Judges Retirement Board today took under consideration petitions on the pending retirements of State Supreme Court Justice George E. Bushnell and Wayne County Circuit Judge Vincent M. Brennan.

Justice Bushnell has asked the board to postpone his retirement from Dec. 31 to Jan. 10, to make it possible for his successor, Talbot Smith, of Ann Arbor, to run for election in November, 1956, instead of next spring.

Brennan filed his retirement application last September shortly before the State Supreme Court was to make an investigation of charges of misconduct in office by the Wayne County jurist.

Brennan said Monday he was considering withdrawing his retirement application.

Bushnell, who is retiring to take over a high-salaried Masonic post, will receive a state pension of $7,500 a year. Brennan's pension would be $4,500. In addition, Brennan is eligible for about $2,600 in pension payments from the Wayne County employes retirement system.

Running Yellow Light Safer Than Stopping

DENVER (AP)—O. Otto Moore successfully contended in Traffic Court yesterday he was wiser to have driven through an amber traffic light than to have stopped.

To stop suddenly when the light turned yellow would have jeopardized the safety of cars behind him, he said, so he proceeded.

Municipal Judge H. Joe Rawlinson listend to Moore's lengthy discussion, then dismissed the case. Moore is a State Supreme Court justice.

Two Held for Stealing From Dead Neighbor

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two men who admitted they cleaned out the apartment of a neighbor after he commited suicide in city jail were held for the grand jury here. Bail was set at $1,500 each.

"We didn't know he had any relatives and we knew he didn't have any more use for the stuff," Thomas H. Tyree and Abraham D. Golden explained.

Tyree, 35, and Golden, 48, pleaded guilty to burglarizing the apartment of Charles E. Smythe, 23. About $500 worth of stolen property was recovered from their apartments.

Koreans to Be Freed

SEOUL (AP)—Some 250 South Korean convicts will be freed by Christmas, Justice Ministry sources said today. Women with babies will get first consideration.

Triple Murder Case Reopened

New Inquiry Ordered Into Slaying of British Family in France in '52

PARIS (AP) — French police launched a new investigation today into the triple murder of British food expert Sir Jack Drummond, his wife and daughter.

The new inquiry was ordered yesterday by the French Justice Ministry after Gaston Dominici, a 77-year-old farmer convicted of the Aug. 4, 1952, slayings, gave fresh testimony in his jail cell at Marseille to court officials.

* * *

There was no official word on what the old man said but the investigation could lead to a new trial for Dominici, who was sentenced Nov. 28 to die on the guillotine.

Drummond, his wife, and their 10-year-old daughter were killed while camping on the Dominici farm in the Alpine foothills of southern France.

After 15 months of police investigation, Dominici was accused of the murders by two of his sons. He confessed and re-enacted the crimes for police. Then he went back on his confession. Throughout his trial in Digne, the gruff old peasant protested he was innocent.

The day after he was sentenced, the old man reportedly made a new statement to his lawyers. This resulted in his questioning by the court officials and the Justice Ministry's decision to reopen the case.

Although the kiwi, cassowary, penguin, ostrich, rhea and emu are all birds, none of them can fly.

OLDEST PRACTICING PHYSICIAN—Dr. J. D. Hullinger, 94, of Clinton, Iowa, believed to be the oldest practicing physician in the country, entertains his 16-month-old son by playing a 68-year-old cornet. The American Medical Association said that Dr. Hullinger is the oldest practicing doctor on their records.

Stretch Christmas Budget With Needle and Thread

Wise needles and sharp sewing machines work away for the weeks before Christmas. Their owners know that they can make wonderful personal gifts with little expense. There are many things to be made for wonderful gifts—socks, aprons, tablecloths and napkins, kitchen towels, pot holders—but sometimes a gift of something that's just for the season will solve the problem of the has-everything friend.

A charming gift for a child is a stocking for him to hang by the mantel. Some women have their own patterns for sewing or knitting and give a matching stocking to each child in a family for his second Christmas. This is wonderful. However if you haven't a pattern or the energy to make one, there is a solution.

Bernat makes a stocking pack for knitting a colorful child's stocking complete with name and an angor-beared Santa. If you can manage to make argyle socks, this kit with instructions will be easy for you.

For the young lady of the family, or a young wife, a gay holiday blouse is a refresher for the wardrobe and a present that will delight. The Singer sewing machine people suggest one of white wool, from a Butterick pattern.

Appliques of holly-green velvet leaves can match or contrast with a Christmas skirt. The zig-zag attachment for the machine will make a squared paneling for the front and a border for the collar.

An apron for the hostess of holiday parties can be strictly for Christmas, too. One can easily be made from a 100-pound cambric flour or sugar bag. A green border at the bottom and a green sash are made from an osnaburg bag, dyed. For the seasonal touch, two green trees are appliqued to the apron, one side of each left open for pockets.

To brighten the trees, sew or paste on (with special glue from art store) sequins in the patterns of Christmas tree balls.

Patterns are available for many gifts to sew and knit, but it's easy to take an old one and add the Yuletide touch with bells, sequins, ribbons and tree and wreath patterns.

Sorry Folks, No Dice

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Irate neighbors have flooded police headquarters here with reports of dice games taking place under street lights. In each instance, the men were catching crickets for fish bait.

Girl Dying of Cancer Observes Christmas

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — Four-year-old Susan Haufler had her Christmas yesterday because doctors say stomach cancer may kill her before Dec. 25.

Thousands of cards, some from as far away as Alaska, and stacks of gifts filled her room.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Haufler, had planned a Christmas party but her mother said, "She's just too sick so we had to call it off. She went into a coma for a while a couple of days ago."

Adlai, Associates Plan to Open Law Office

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson's new law partners after Jan. 1 will be Prof. W. Willard Wirtz of the Northwestern Law School, and two of his former assistants while he was governor of Illinois.

Wirtz was once chairman of the National Wage Stabilization Board. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, said William McCormick Blair Jr. and Newton N. Minow will be associated with him and Wirtz in their law offices on La Salle Street.

America's nail manufacturers make more than 100 different types of iron and steel nails.

Gets 5 Years in Prison for 'Collection' Method

DALLAS (AP)—A judge gave Leslie Johnson, 35, five years in jail for his method of "collecting" $9 for damages to his car after a minor collision.

Testimony said Johnson got out and settled the ensuing argument by drawing a pistol and persuading the other driver to hand over $9.

Second Wedding Held at Mom's Hospital Bed

ELBERTON, Ga. (AP)—Mrs. Jim Bond Sr. missed her son's wedding to Joyce Daniels at the First Baptist Church here. She was hospitalized for an operation.

About an hour later the entire wedding party showed up in Mrs. Bond's hospital room and Dr. Herman Ihley conducted the ceremony all over again.

World's Largest Home Treatment Firm Tells Truth About Hair & Scalp

Some methods are good but Collins Firm will do what they say—Not mislead

This new system of home care can save hair and give healthy scalp condition. Demonstrations will be held in Pontiac, Mich., Thursday ONLY, Dec. 16, 1954.

These private individual demonstrations will be held at the WALDRON HOTEL on Thursday ONLY Dec. 16 2 p. m. 'til 9 p. m.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 13—In an interview here today D. Russell Collins, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Collins Hair and Scalp Experts, Inc., said: "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so-called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED

The Collins firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offers a guarantee, Collins said.

Once a person avails themselves to the Collins treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee: "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress in the very first 30 days your money will be returned."

WILL NOT MISLEAD

First the Collins specialists are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin, or colorless, the Collins firm can perform wonders, if you are accepted for treatment.

Everyone is given a complete, private examination to determine the condition of his scalp, and cause for this hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATIONS

This examination is very thorough and highly technical, it requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, he makes regular reports to the Collins firm in Oklahoma City, and a trichologist will return to check his progress periodically.

To spread the opportunity of normal healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, the Collins firm is sending specialists to various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatments.

NO CUREALL

"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Collins emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and if we accept a person for treatment we will do what we say. There is one thing Collins wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME

"If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Collins said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules.

HOW'S YOUR HAIR?

If it worries you call Trichologist PAUL CONNER at the Waldron Hotel in Pontiac, Michigan on Thursday ONLY, DEC. 16, 2 P. M. 'til 9 P. M. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

Samurai Sword Has Comeback

Japan Again Produces Weapon — but Now as Art Object

WASHINGTON — The land of the cherry blossom, the paper lantern and the silken kimono once again is forging the samurai sword, for centuries a symbol of Japanese militarism.

The weapon that American soldiers learned to know so well only a decade ago now, however, will be fashioned as an art object, no longer to be unsheathed in war.

So that the swordsmith's craft can be perpetuated, Tokyo's Education Ministry is permitting swordmakers to abandon their postwar manufacture of farm implements and practice their ancient skill, says the National Georgraphic Society.

The single-edged, finely tempered, delicately whetted sword—"the soul of the samurai"—departed Japan in untold numbers after her surrender. Thousands were bought up by 8th Army GIs for $10 or less and shipped home as souvenirs.

As war trophies they were also presented to President Truman, Gen. MacArthur, Adm. Nimitz and the West Point and Annapolis academies.

In a goodwill gesture to commemorate Japan's newly achieved independence, Adm. Nimitz returned his samurai memento to its owner, Adm. Soemu Toyoda, wartime commander of the Japanese fleet.

The samurai sword was a thing of beauty, but not always a joy forever. An artisan's deft hands worked its beautiful shape. But slashing away with both hands on hilt, feudal Nippon's professional soldier — the samurai — struck fear into the enemy. A 16th Century Chinese historian gave an impression of what a fighting samurai was like:

"He brandished a 5-foot blade with such rapidity that nothing could be seen except white sheen of steel, the soldier himself being altogether invisible."

As a class the samurais died out in the 19th Century, but the samurai weapon, their red badge of courage, survived for another century.

The foundation for the modern paper industry was laid about the year 1800, when Europe's first straw pulp mill was established in London.

BABY BUREAU—Mrs. Henry Minnick, and her triplets of Fort Worth, Texas, had a bit of a housing problem. ut, that's solved. She keeps the month-old tots in bureau drawers. From top to bottom—with no distinction or seniority—are: Joe, John and June.

SALVATION ARMY CHRISTMAS

Mr. Robert M. Spindler of the Manville Manufacturing Corporation starts this year's War Cry sale off with a purchase from John J. Lee, President of Pontiac Exchange Club.

'WAR CRY'

MAGAZINE

In the Holiday Spirit

Friday evening you will see members of Pontiac Exchange Club on the streets, in stores and offices selling the Salvation Army War Cry Magazine. Each year Exchangeites do this to raise funds which are turned over to the Salvation Army for the purchase of food, clothing, bedding, toys and the other things that make Christmas real and happy for the unfortunate.

When you are asked by an Exchange Member to help, please buy a magazine! Give what you wish, and be assured your gift is from your heart to those who otherwise might be forgotten. Give in the Holiday Spirit and may your Christmas be blessed with happiness!

Vocal Group Set for Sunday Concert

Looking forward to blending their voices with their old friends in the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "Messiah" are Bruce Oakley of Walled Lake, Betty Sneed of Hudson street and Gary Nelson of Pershing drive, members of Pontiac High School vocal department who will join MacDowell Chorus and Pontiac Women's Chorus in Sunday's concert.

Pontiac Press Photos

Music has a special meaning at this time of year and the week before Christmas just wouldn't be right without the annual community musical program of the Pontiac High School Vocal Department. Diane Euler (left) of Ottawa drive rehearses with Yolanda Jackson of Evelyn court and Sue Braid of West Iroquois road for the event which will begin at 3 p.m. in the Pontiac High School gymnasium.

Marriott and Druzinsky Here

Artists Introduced by Musicale

By DORA DAWSON

The Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Club achieved a standard in Christmas music in its concert in Central Methodist Church, Tuesday evening that will be remembered as an unusual program.

It was also a concert of firsts for Pontiac, it being the first appearance of Frederick L. Marriott, organist, who has recently come to the Kirk of the Hills as organist and choir director. Edward Druzinsky, harpist with the Detroit Symphony also had his first introduction to a Pontiac audience.

Mr. Marriott opened the musical program with a traditional, joyous number, "In Dulci Jubilo," by Bach, which establishes an organ standard.

Then followed a carol, played in many moods and appealing registrations, as was the paraphrase on carols arranged by Mr. Marriott.

There were quiet renditions later to be followed by full organ that filled one with elation and showed him to be a master of all the powers of this instrument.

A "Ceremony of Carols," a suite of pieces for treble voices and harp, by Benjamin Britten, although written a few years ago, its word content went back several centuries.

The composer has caught the spirit of these early poems and produced a musical setting that is like English glees and madrigals. The accompaniment is entirely by harp.

Tuesday Musicale Chorus sang this work, directed by Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, and produced a series of songs, not easy to sing but with a spontaniety and tone color that made them most interesting and delightful.

Solo voices took the lead in different carols, adding beauty again. To Mrs. Gaensbauer goes the praise for a well trained chorus and for thoughtful selection of music that adds to musical culture.

The harp accompaniment by Mr. Druzinsky was wonderful, in its inflection of tone and perfect accord with the singers. This is not surprising, since he is first harpist with the Detroit Symphony and has toured with the NBC Symphony under the baton of Arturo Toscanini.

His harp interlude between numbers of the chorus, was of several difficult pieces that swept over the strings, with the ease and surety of an artist and gave pleasure to the audience, not often privileged to hear this beautiful instrument.

Kitchen Blues Can Be Cured

NEW YORK (UP) — If you want to breeze through kitchen chores, paint the kitchen all blue or all green.

Faber Birren, color expert, says that the cool retiring colors, such as blue and green keep attention concentrated on the job at hand, making the time fly. If on the other hand you enjoy literally living in the kitchen then an all-yellow or all-rose kitchen will drag out the time, making you linger longer over the chores.

Birren said today's kitchen provides more work stimulus than grandma's did. There's more bright color in everything.

Cold? Try Manana Land

If you have a clime that cold weather never visits, why not motor to "manana land" for your winter vacation? Whether you visit Mexico City, the picturesque postcard villages or the modern resorts of Mexico, you're sure to enjoy the tropical scenery, warm weather, low prices and Latin flavor.

Mexico City, the mile-high capital, has many attractions for the American vacationist with its potpourri of old palaces, cathedrals, modern skyscrapers, broad boulevards and excellent restaurants. The floating gardens of Xochimilco, a short motor trip from Mexico City, is a veritable Venice of the New World.

On the boat trip through the canals you will see a myriad of bright, tropical flowers and colorful Indians poling their flower-bedecked "chalupas" along the waterways. One of the most popular automobile excursions from Mexico City is a one or two-day trip to Taxco and Cuernavaca.

The old silver mining village of Taxco is one of the most picturesque towns in all Mexico. Built on a mountain, it has narrow winding streets, tiny shops filled with native jewelry, pottery and baskets and an atmosphere of past ages.

Cuernavaca is a popular resort town which was once the summer home of Maximilian and Carlotta.

Mrs. Gegoux Entertains Golden Agers

Mrs. Roland Gegoux entertained members of the Golden Age group of YWCA Monday afternoon with a Christmas story, "The Small One".

Mrs. Victor Lindquist, accompanied by Charles Wilson presented vocal selections and led the group in the singing of carols.

New members, Mrs. Mary Foster and Mrs. Margaret Parry were welcomed into the group which is open to Pontiac area women who are 65 or over. Two group members, Mrs. Ione Bartholomew and Mrs. Charles Dawson celebrated birthdays in December.

Members presented a birthday gift to YWCA in commemoration of its world wide centennial celebration.

Mrs. Harold Euler, chairman of the Golden Age committee was assisted by Mrs. Harold Dudley, Mrs. Donald Hansen, Mrs. Marcus Scott who helped with transportation.

Secret Pals Revealed at Club Meeting

Secret pals were revealed and gifts exchanged when members of the Lucky Thirteen Club met Monday evening at the Parkway avenue home of Mrs. Nettie Buss for a Christmas party. A special gift was presented to the hostess on the occasion of her birthday.

Christmas candles and candy canes decorated the refreshment table. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Deem Sr. on Robinwood avenue.

Children Like It

NEW YORK (UP)—Have trouble getting Junior to eat his oatmeal? Next time, cook the breakfast cereal in chocolate milk instead of water. No sugar is needed when served. And the test kitchen which dreamed up this idea declares children love the results.

Hair Chalks Up New Coloring in New York

NEW YORK (UP) — A Manhatten hairdresser has come up with a new switch in hair coloring. He "paints" the coiffure with pastel chalks available at any art supply store.

The chalk can be used to provide a single contrasting streak or to give the whole head a rainbow brilliance. It comes in 12 colors ranging from pale yellow to deep purple and charcoal.

He hit on his chalk-it-on scheme when he sought something different for a beauty show. Women saw and liked and now he chalks about as many heads of hair as he shampoos.

The chalk goes on smoother he said, if it is applied professionally. But if you want to venture your own streak of blue, green, red or combination of colors, shampoo your hair as usual. While it's still wet, "paint" on the color, and then set.

"The color stays until you shampoo again," he said. "And the chalk won't damage your locks."

Brunettes are advised to choose the light shades such as yellow and orange. Blues, greens and reds are suggested for light hair.

More daring customers wear as many as five and six shades at once. Some women plan to wear bright red or green hair during the Yule season.

Red Cross Plans Friday Coffee Hour

A Christmas coffee hour will be given by the headquarters staff of Oakland County Chapter of American Red Cross. The gathering will be given in the Franklin boulevard chapter house for the Franklin boulevard agencies.

Invitations for the Friday morning event have been sent to staff members of Pontiac Child Guidance Clinic, Catholic Family Service Center and the YWCA.

Make Boots Last

Rubber boots will last longer and keep their shape better if the insides are propped up with cardboard when the boots are not in use.

Some Kinds of Leather Will Wash

Limited Budgets Will Welcome New Style-Right Gloves

Happily, it is now possible to have your leather gloves and wash them too.

Not all leather gloves, to be sure, but there are now enough styles, colors, and leathers in washable models to enable the most limited budget to sport several pairs. No longer are they consigned, from the first fingertip smear, to the unhappy fate of being worn dirty or being endlessly cleaned.

When you go to buy, look for the washable label or ask the salesperson. You'll find washable gloves in glace kid, capeskin, suede, doeskin, chamois, and pigskin, all good looking for winter.

Wash at the first sign of soil, if you decide that the economical course suits you. Wash them just as you would your hands, in lukewarm soapy water. Don't rub the leather, just work the suds into the leather. Do it inside and out.

Rinse them thoroughly, roll briefly in a towel and then blow into them to inflate the fingers. Spread them flat on a Turkish towel, away from a source of heat. Or, if you have plastic frames, let them dry there.

While they're still a trifle damp, work them onto your hands with an easy-does-it motion. This will soften them.

Let them complete their drying and then store them flat, never folded or rolled. Lots of style for the small investment of some care can be had with these washable gloves.

About one-half of all brides in the U.S are in the under-20 age group.

Soroptimist Club Plans Yule Party

Plans for a Christmas party were made when the Soroptimist International Club of Pontiac met for dinner in Hotel Waldron.

The party will be held Dec. 20 in the Cooley Lake road home of Mrs. Richard Paschke. Mrs. Harmon Lawyer will act as co-hostess.

Reports at the Monday meeting were given by all committee chairmen. Plans were made for the January party at Pontiac State Hospital.

Sprinkle on Flour

When shaping ground meat for loaf, hamburger or patties, try sprinkling a little flour on the waxed paper or board on which the meat is being prepared. This helps keep the meat from sticking while being shaped, and will give the meat a slight crust during cooking.

Study Club Hears Talk by YM Head

Mrs. Smith Opens Home to Members on Tuesday

The importance of the Christian home was the subject chosen by Sidney N. Geal, director of the YMCA Camp in Hale when he spoke for the Tuesday luncheon meeting of Child Study Club.

Mrs. Donald Smith was hostess for the meeting in her Wenonah drive home.

Mr. Geal pictured the home as the place for unifying the physical, mental, social and spiritual factors and for helping the child to grow, taking advantage of all his potential abilities.

He challenged the mothers to take inventory of how well they are correlating the basic elements of a unified life. The speaker cautioned against doing too much for the child and not enough with him.

Mr. Geal pointed out that respect for individual growth is developed in the home and he emphasized that it is up to the parents to decide to what degree they will concede to social pressures.

Mrs. Herbert Howerth was elected to membership in the group during the business meeting. Members brought Christmas boxes to be distributed to patients at Oakland County Convalescent Home.

Choral candle figurines flanked the yuletide centerpiece and Mrs. Roy Jones, president of the group presided at the tea table.

Mrs. R. George Tallerday, Mrs. Edwin Anderson, Mrs. Ralph Humphries and Mrs. D. E. Fraser assisted the hostess.

But Creates Makeup Problem

Glowing Halflight Lends Charm to Woman's Skin

Firelight, candlelight, lamplight —in the long midwinter season these things take on an extra symbolic luster. They shed warmth and radiance in a house. They signify the hours when a woman is at her most beautiful: relaxed and serene against the background of her home.

In the warm, glowing half-light there is that sense of privacy and shelter from the wintry out-of-doors that is the spirit of a house. And in the halflight, a woman shares this reflected radiance.

Perhaps it is in candlelight, which casts a glow along one side of her face and shadows the rest. Or firelight, its blue-tinged flames flickering on and off. These subtle wavering lights set her jewels ablaze, pick up an answering gleam in smooth and shining hair.

However, she knows that despite their beneficient and flattering influence, these same mellow evening rays can give even the loveliest complexion a slightly sallow tinge. For this reason, she learns to vary her make-up from the daytime unichrome.

To overcome the yellowing tinge of the half-light, she wears a lighter, pinker shade of foundation and face powder, thereby making the complexion paler, more delicate. Her eyes and mouth—the "speaking" features — she emphasizes with more intense make-up.

A bluer lipstick, several shades deeper than the one she wears in the bright daylight. Eyeshadow, much more lavishly applied for depth and brilliance. Heavier mascara, to color the lash tips and to lengthen them. And, finally, to round the eyes, she draws a pencil line just underneath.

In the half-light luminous fingernail polish is especially effective —some evenings she might give her usual shade a last-minute cover coat. And this is the hour, too, when fragrance comes into its own.

Use Lead Pencil to Pit Cherries

NEW YORK (UP)—Here's a good trick for pitting canned sweet cherries. Use a lead pencil, with the eraser removed. Push the metal piece through the top of the cerry, the edge makes a clean cut, and the seed pops out the other end. Try stuffing the pitted cherries with cream cheese for a tasty addition to a fruit salad.

About 47,500 taxicabs are found in the 50 largest cities of the U.S., New York City leading with 11,796.

Finding Way to East

Squaw Boots Fashion Dug From Past

TUCSON, Ariz. — Another new Southwestern fashion—fresh as an Arizona sunrise, yet centuries old —is making its way across the country.

Squaw boots, traditional footwear of the Navajo and Hopi Indians of this sun country region, have become high fashion in the West for casual wear and will probably spring into the Eastern U. S. at the close of the winter resort season in the desert land.

Perfect for wear with jeans, sport clothes, and, of course, those dashing squaw dresses, the modern boots, which originated in Tucson, are exact reproductions of those still being worn by Navajos and Hopis.

The sole of the boot is of bleached rawhide that is formed while wet. When it dries, the entire sole curves around the wearer's foot, with a peaked toe pointing the way. The upper, all of one piece, is fashioned of soft, tanned and dyed buckskin; the sole and upper are invisibly sewn together by hand and the boot, which fits snugly around the ankle, is fastened together on one side by heavy, hand-made silver buttons.

The story behind the squaw boot is as fascinating as it is different. The clue to its origin (archeologists know the boot was foreign to early Southwestern pueblo culture) is in the toe, for the oldest type of footwear known to man is the peaked toe shoe. Akkadian basereliefs of approximately 2,600 B. C. show figures wearing peaked toe shoes.

Evidence points to the squaw boot's origin as India, where it was called a "babucha." The boot traveled to Persia, then to Turkey, Africa, and into Spain. There the name changed slightly and became "bahucha." When Cortez entered Mexico in 1521, the bahucha was with him.

Once introduced to the new world, it was adapted for the rough country and soft leather was wrapped over the wearer's leg and down to the bahucha. The same shoe was worn by Spanish settlers in California as late as 1830, for American storekeepers. In ordering the shoes from Mexico, mixed their Spanish and called them "berruchis."

In the meantime, the Apaches abandoned their sandals and moccasins for bahuchas and the leg wrappings, and the new footwear was soon adopted by the Navajos and Hopis. By the late 19th Century, the latter two tribes dropped the leggings and, extending the boot to just above the ankle, fastened it closely by means of bone or wooden buttons. No change has taken place in the squaw boot (the Indians first called the bahucha "squaw man's leggings) since that time.

The making of squaw boots by hand is now gradually vanishing. On the two reservations, only a few of the older Indian men continue to make the boot and it is used primarily for ceremonial purposes. Kaibab Buckskin of Tucson, popularizer of the boot for fashion wear, hires only Hopi men to make the boots and distributes about 10,000 pair each year.

Combining every element of "sellability", the boots are unusual eye-catchers, come in all colors, are heavenly comfortable, waterproof, and are brutes for punishment. From all indications, squaw boots are the answer to the demands of the "let's go Indian" trend now under way.

Questions Led Father to Career

Kits Let Children Better Understand Wonder of World

CHICAGO (INS)—A little boy's questions about everyday things grownups take for granted pushed his father into a new career.

Millard Deutsch, Jr., a crew-cut miniature of his Dad, began asking about radio, electricity and the weather when he was eight years old.

Deutsch, Sr., tried the library but he couldn't find answers simple enough for his boy to understand. Then he tried industries and various educational institutions but their pamphlets were even more complicated.

Deutsch persuaded various industries to cooperate in developing basic kits — with working parts — to give youngsters the answers by working them out themselves.

To coordinate the venture, Deutsch sold his own business, a hydraulic equipment firm in Sheboygan, Wis., and started a firm in Chicago to market the kits.

Naturally, the first customer for a kit coming off the production line is Deutsch's son, now 11.

The firm now has a repertoire of five kits, each equipped with tools, materials and pamphlets.

The pamphlets are prepared by the Encyclopedia Britannica, and give the youngsters a fictional, but based on fact jumping off place.

Instruments in the kit teach youngsters to observe and forecast weather conditions.

With other kits, children can build radio receivers and transmitters; study light with their own telescopes and lenses; identify rocks and minerals, and get acquainted with the first aid and instruments they see in a doctor's office.

The health kit includes a transparent, inflatable plastic model named "X-Ray Eddie." On it are outlined the circulatory, respiratory, digestive and skeletal systems. "Eddie" has a heart true to science. In other words, it doesn't look like the valentine most youngsters expected it to.

Awkward Situation Is Problem

Couple Advised to Announce Betrothal Themselves

By EMILY POST

The following letter describes a very unhappy situation: "My son has just become engaged to a young woman in another city. However her parents do not approve of the marriage and refuse to acknowledge it in any way.

I would like to know what my position is in this situation. Would it be proper for me to announce the engagement of my son and what do you suggest I do about writing to the mother of the bride. Would the conventions be dispensed with in this case?"

You can't very well write to the bride's parents if they have not accepted your son. You will just have to wait and hope that when the father and mother of the girl know him better they will approve. Under the circumstances the best thing would be for your son and his fiancee to announce their own engagement in this way: "Miss Mary Jones and Mr. John Smith announce their engagement. . ."

Dear Mrs. Post: In assuming my new duties as recording secretary I am at a loss as to how to record the minutes—in particular the names of the members of the organization. I should like to know how to record the names of the married women. Should it be by their husband's names or by their own first names?

If the club is a social one it would be Mrs. John Brown. In a political or professional organization it would be Mrs. Mary Brown.

Dear Mrs. Post: I come from a large family and have six nieces ranging in age from eight to 12. I would like very much to include them all in my wedding. Would it be proper to have just the children walk in the procession with the maid of honor or would it look to much like a kindergarten class? I would appreciate your opinion.

I am sorry, but I think all your nieces in the procession would definitely give the impression of a kindergarten.

Christmas lists have blouses topping them—especially the gay plaid ones. This one is made of combed woven gingham in bright red and white box plaid enclosing dainty rose bud embroidered pattern. A demure white broadcloth collar is decorated with a single rose bud.

Teasing Can Be Useful Sometimes

Girl Shouldn't Hurt Her Good Friend by Rude Brushoff

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

A girl can lay her firmest convictions on the line in teasing banter and get away with it. But she can't be brusque. Brisk, yes. That's crisp, clear - cut, businesslike, casual — easy to understand. But brusque, no. That's rough and rude, blunt and cold. It's abrupt, clumsy and misleading. Boys no savvy.

A girl gets brusque when she's plain fed up. Her patience is at an end. She's annoyed to the teeth and she loses control. She may be brusque through embarrassment, too. If she's caught unawares, unprepared, she's likely to throw a few punches without thinking.

Too much thought — or none at all — can make things so rugged for a girl that she strikes out clumsily with no regard to the consequences. As this girl did.

"Dear Miss Woodward: He's never happy unless he's holding my hand or has his arm around me. It makes me churn with annoyance. Although I try to discourage him, he continues to do it. It's been this way for the seven months I've gone with him.

One night at the movies, I got really mad. When he asked me if I was comfortable, I said I wasn't. He took offense and didn't call me for over two months. A week ago he called again and asked if I'd like to double with him and another couple. Thinking the other couple might control his "romantic" impulses, I accepted. But I was wrong.

When he brought me home he parked his car and slipped his arm around me. I said I had to go in, and I could see that he was disgusted when he walked me to the door. Now I don't know what to do. He's about the only one who dates me, and I'd hate to hurt him, if I haven't already done so. Won't you please help me?"

This lad is undoubtedly wondering what's eating you! He can't imagine that anyone could find his touch annoying. He can't fathom a girl who rejects his slightest advance so sharply.

Your quick retort in the movies, your abrupt ending to that double date have probably misled him entirely. He doesn't know anything about your continual annoyance—you've apparently kept that from him. You've just gone snappy. And he thinks it's because you don't like him.

He's not likely to date you again unless you correct that impression. And a call from you with an invitation for him might do that. But you'll have to face his advances again. And this time do it differently. Snuggle down away from him. Let him hold your hand a minute, then gently draw it away.

Find some legitimate excuse for slipping away from his encircling arm. All of this while you're smiling at him, teasing him, chatting your head off. That's good-humoredly telling him that you like him but don't like pawing. It's being gentle, casual and smooth. He'll understand that.

Cookies Are Fussy but Worthwhile

Mrs. John Veneman Brings Unusual Idea From New Jersey

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

For those who are willing to take infinite pains to prepare unusual and delicious food, these cookies called Kukklies are the answer. They are fussy to make, also expensive. But they're worth it, says Mrs. John Veneman.

Mrs. Veneman is a former Pontiac girl who has been living in the East for the past year. Her friends will be happy to know that she will be here over the holidays and is moving back to Michigan to Grand Rapids. The Venemans have always been outdoor enthusiasts and are especially fond of skiing.

KUKKLIES
By Mrs. John Veneman

4 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 pint whipping cream
4-7 cups sifted flour
Dash of salt and cinnamon
1 quart salad oil (for frying)
Confectioner's sugar

Beat the eggs well and add the sugar. Add the stiffly beaten whipped cream. Beat in 4 cups of flour, then knead in more to make a stiff dough like noodles. Knead for ½ hour, using only enough flour to keep the dough from sticking. It helps if two people work at this.

Roll very thin on a floured board. Cut into 1x3-inch pieces and slit through the middle. Pull one end through the slit to make a bow-like cookie. Fry in the hot salad oil in a frying pan. Do not crowd the cookies while they are frying; they must have room to rise to the surface and brown lightly. Dust with confectioner's sugar while still hot.

Big Feet Good, Shoe Experts Tell Women

DETROIT (UP)—No offense intended, ma'm, but you got big feet.

What's more, they're getting bigger all the time.

Risking the chance he might be run out of town on a rail, the president of the Michigan Shoe Retailers Association gave the womenfolk this bitter news during his organization's annual convention here.

"Our women have the biggest feet in the world, on the average, and they seem to be getting still bigger," Morton Hack said.

Thirty years ago, Hack said, the average woman took a 6B shoe size. Today, he said she takes a 7½ B.

"It's all part of the changing pattern," Hack explained. "Women are getting rid of the Cinderella complex—the mistaken idea that small feet are dainty.

"Small feet usually are not dainty," Hack said. "They are generally pudgy, foreshortened with no grace."

Fear of Abandonment Causes Tantrum

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Peter, an only child nearly five, is a bedtime problem. Every night as soon as his mother has told him his bedtime story, he begins to demand other services from her that will postpone their separation. Any denial of them provokes a tantrum.

His mother writes, "Do you advise asking our doctor to prescribe a mild sedative to reduce this bedtime excitement?"

That is not a decesion for me to make.

But I would like to ask Peter's mother some questions.

What evening services does Peter render his parents? Does he always see to it that the garage doors are open for his father's car? Does he make himself useful to his mother by pulling up chairs to the dinner table? Does he share the evening meal with his parents? If so, is he expected to contribute to their conversation? As to the bedtime story, is he ever asked to give one to his mother instead of taking one from her.

Fear of abandonment is back of bedtime tantrums.

To reduce this fear, we therefore give our frightened child cause to believe himself too valuable to abandon. We take great care not to monopolize all usefulness by giving him chances to demonstrate his.

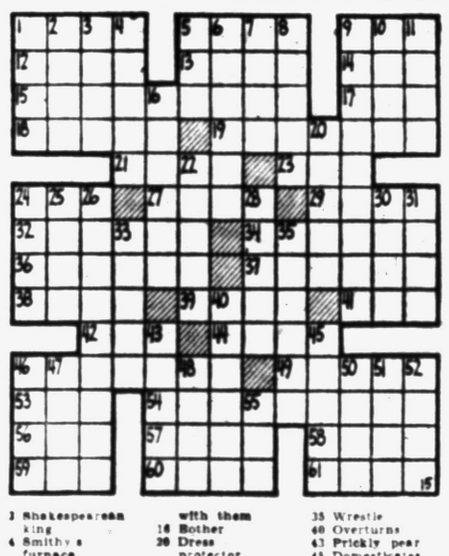

But if we deny him such chances, doing everything for Peter while he gives us nothing in return, bedtime is bound to threaten him most cruelly. As we disappear and darkness crashes down upon him, he has no reserves of certainty that he is useful and necessary to us. And begins to scream for our return and reassurance.

Neglect of Peter's need to demonstrate his usefulness to us may be an old resentment at his babyhood's demands on us.

This is not a rare resentment. A new mother is not always thrilled to be forced to give baby Peter all the time and strength she's used to expending on herself. If she's silly enough to ignore what she feels, instead of understanding it as natural, she gets to thinking of herself as a doomed slave to her baby's helplessness.

Her secret resentment gradually turns her into an emotional robot that just goes on making rigid, mechanical gestures of service to Peter as though Time had frozen them both into their inflexible roles of Giver-Taker. So immobilized in her past resentment, she has to go on treating her child as a perpetually helpless infant.

Before Peter's mother decides to drug him into sleep, I wish she'd try waking him up to the capacities he's been developing.

Distinguished Designer Sparks Wrought Iron

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

The distinguished Italian architect-designer Maurizio Tempestini has been responsible for some of the most notable of wrought iron furniture designs. His beautiful furniture which combines reed with wrought iron is well known, and he has constantly furthered the cause of graceful and high style contemporary design in this material, rather than the more traditional garden furniture types.

Here are his latest ideas. Wide chair and love seat-width sectional furniture make a gently curved grouping with an artful triangular table between them. This table is rounded at the corners and has two glass shelves. The seating pieces may also have arms and be used separately.

Another table is round and 34 inches in diamter, coffee table height, and has a big inverted reed coolie hat as its lower shelf. Although black is much favored to empasize the handsome line of Mr. Tempestini's designs, this may be the season when they appear more often in colors, lemon, yellow, clover pink, aqua, flamingo and peach.

Santa Problem Alarms Charlie

LONDON (UP)—Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, has a serious personal problem—whether to tell his kid sister, Princess Anne there is no Santa Claus.

Buckingham Palace sources say that the seven-year-old prince only recently learned that his mother and father, Queen Elizabeth II, and Prince Philip, play the role of Father Christmas as British children know the annual Christmas eve visitor.

Charles immediately consulted his mother, who suggested the secret should be just between her and her son.

Woman Wants to Write, Needs Beginning Advice

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I have always wanted to write fiction," a young woman tells me.

"I started when I was seven or eight, writing down stories. I worked on the high school paper and am now in the first year of college, and plan to be on the staff of the college paper.

"I don't want to be a reporter, though. I want to write stories and novels. I am majoring in English, and what I want to know is, how should I plan my summer jobs while in college, and what should I aim at when I am graduated? I spend all my free time working on my writing, and really mean to succeed.

"What is the best background for a writing career?"

The half dozen or so successful fiction writers of my acquaintance have all had violently different backgrounds.

One of them never finished high school, ran away to sea, then worked as longshoreman, waiter, truck driver and Lord knows what. Another is a housewife who has been writing since she was a child, and who studied at a teacher training school.

Another is a banker, who majored in accounting, and who writes his very successful books by setting his alarm for five every morning, and doing a stint before he gets to the bank. So, there seems to be no ironclad rule.

This much I can say. You'll have to live for your writing and work and work and work at it.

Jobwise, my suggestion would be summer jobs either as a sales clerk or a waitress. You'll need to know all kinds of people, since people are always the writer's stock in trade.

Also, you'd better study shorthand and typing, so you'll always be able to make a living readily. Except in rare cases, writers do not make a lot of money, and even when they do, it comes in fits and starts, and has to be supplemented by other sources of incomes.

Right out of college, you might try getting a secretarial job on a magazine or in a publishing house. The competition is fierce, but if your shorthand and typing are really good, you'll be able to get in.

Once in, you'll still have to spend most evenings and weekends on your writing. But, if you have what it takes, and work at it, you can have a marvelously satisfying life. And the best of luck! You'll need it!

Hot Water Is Problem in Winter

By HUBBARD COBB

As long as people enjoyed being dirty, there never was much of a hot water problem in the world but the minute people began to take baths, they began to worry about hot water and a lot of us are still worrying.

During the cold weather a lot of homes get the hot water for baths and for the kitchen by a big coil in the firebox of the furnace. Water circulates through this coil and by the time it has gone through the coil it's pretty hot. In very cold weather when the furnace is going full blast, the water may even be boiling hot and this can be dangerous because it will and can give you a nasty scald.

The best way to eliminate this hazard is to have a mixing valve installed into the hot water line at a point close to where it leaves the furnace.

A cold water line is run into this valve and the valve is set so that a certain amount of cold water is mixed in with the hot so that the water that comes out of the faucet has an even temperature. In mild weather when the furnace fire is not so hot, less cold water is mixed in with the hot.

We might add at this point that many people who get their hot water through a furnace coil do so because they believe that it isn't costing them any money because they have to burn fuel anyway to keep the house warm. This is not correct. It takes heat to warm up that cold water and that heat is being supplied by the burning fuel in the furnace. If the fuel must give off some of its heat to heat water, it doesn't have as much heat left for heating the house.

IF large hips, tiny waist—

You have discovered full dresses with a tight-fitting waist do suit you. Don't drop waistline with large hips

Eyeglasses Designed as Beauty Aids

Today's good looking eyeglasses are a beauty aid that discourage wrinkles.

Just by correcting vision handicaps, milady sometimes erases facial lines that haven't exactly responded to the special beauty preparations. There's no magic involved. Of course, frames can hide those crow's feet around the eyes. Even better they may remove them. That is, if poor vision has caused strain and fatigue, as is likely.

Tired eyes are brought to a sparkle again by properly fitted eyewear. Designers say modern eyewear styling makes adults look younger.

Owlish specs, of course, went out years ago. Nowadays optical fashions are geared to the young in heart, and are provided as around-the-clock accessories. Available in a rainbow of colors, they blend into every ensemble and every occasion.

Particularly flattering for business and casual wear are the combination shell-metal frames, unadorned or with dramatic jeweled trim. Gold rimless frames are rocketing to peak popularity again for evening and semi-formal wear. A shell and combination shell frames are ideal for those prescription sunglasses for sports and general outdoors fun.

Putting smart eyewear on strained, shadowed eyes can be a beauty tonic that will brighten your face and personality.

Avoid Smears on Silverware

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—To avoid finger smears on silverware when setting the table, wear clean cotton gloves.

Each piece of silver can be given a final buffing or polishing as you set the table, says Clara Leopold of the University of Nebraska.

Wash the gloves promptly after use, because the smudge marks you wipe off the silver will stain the cotton. The glove-gimmick also helps to interest the children in assisting you at meal time, she adds.

Color television experiments date back to as early as 1928.

Writer Recites Descartes but Still Won't Recant

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

Next time you get into a fierce argument, try this on mate, friend or even enemy: stop, count to the proverbial 10, and deliberately switch sides.

If everyone would do this, I could almost positively guarantee that the divorce rate would drop, neighborhood feuds would become extinct, wars would stop and any differences of opinion would end up as joyous intellectual exercises.

I must admit that so far I haven't been able to take my own advice. In truth, it begins to look as if I am the ad hominem type of arguer. Two weeks ago I didn't know what this meant and even yesterday when I began to get an inkling I was still irritably denying the impeachment.

I know it is not good to be an ad hominem type of arguer if you want to make friends and influence people, but after reading Lionel Ruby's "The Art of Making Sense," I am beginning to realize that my favorite tactic when confronted by an opinion with which I disagree is instantly to launch an offensive on, not the idea, but the proponent of it.

That is the way not to proceed. The skilled arguer, if someone makes a flatt statement about, say, Charles Dickens, impugning his prestige as a literary hero, compels the opponent to reveal the extent of his knowledge and only then enters the fray with his own facts. My technique, I discover to my chagrin, is to drop Dickens entirely and concern myself with building up a good case to prove my opponent is an unlettered slob who doesn't know Dickens from Erle Stanley Gardner.

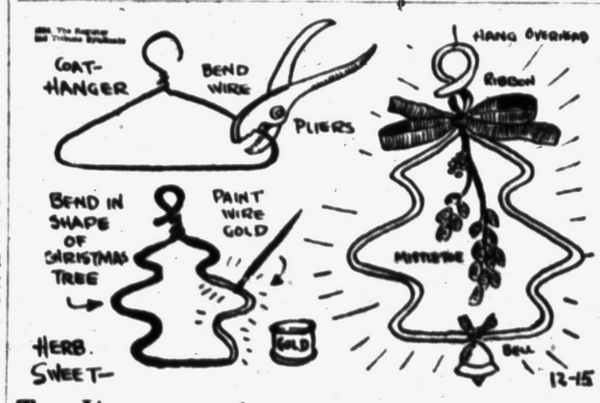

If by chance he happens to be the tu quoque brand of arguer, which Mr. Ruby translates freely as "you're another," a heated battle ensues with each one trying to tear the other down. Tempers flare, feelings get hurt and Mr. Dickens' status remains whatever it was before.

For the likes of me, Mr. Ruby quotes René Descartes, the French mathematician and philosopher, as declaring that the difference in the opinions of men is not that some human beings are endowed with more reason or native good sense than others, but that "we conduct our thoughts along different paths, and do not fix our attention on the same objects."

Descartes also developed a set of rules for clear thinking:

1. Never accept anything as true which you do not clearly know to be such; this is, avoid hasty judgments and prejudice;
2. Divide each difficulty under examination into as many parts as possible, or into as many as necessary for the solution of the problem;
3. Begin wit hthe things that are simplest and easiest to understand, and then ascend to knowledge of the more complex;
4. Make enumerations so complete and reviews so comprehensive that you may be assured nothing is omitted.

There it is—but I still think the simple method of counting 10 and changing sides is easier and just as likely to succeed.

Mistletoe is a part of Chirstmas. Do you wonder how it became a part of this holiday? I think the English had much to do with this, for they used it as a medicine, then began to use it for decoration. In Austria it is supposed to bring good luck.

Here is a Christmas decoration you can make which will bring good luck, or peace to your household, or so old stories go. Use a wire coat hanger to form a tree. This is done by overlapping the hook and pulling the hanger out, then bending it tree-shaped with pliers. Give it a coat of gold paint. Be sure that the paint is well mixed so that you will have a smooth, even coat. When it is dry, tie your mistletoe at the top with strong string. Put a large red bow over this. Tie a tiny bell at the bottom with a small, red bow. Good luck to you!

These are also known as kissin' rings, for good luck is also passed along this way. After two people have kissed under the mistletoe they should give each other one of the small white berries.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL — By Charles Dickens

Finally they began to play riddles, and Fred put this one to his guests: What was a disagreeable, savage, growling and grunting animal that lived in London and was allowed to run loose?

Fred's riddle puzzled his guests for only a moment.

Fight in Great Swamp Remembered by Indians

WEST KINGSTON, R. I. (UP)—Rhode Island Indians have never forgotten the Great Swamp Fight—one of the bloodiest massacres in 17th century America.

Armed forces of the United Colonies taking part in King Philip's War, overran the Narragansett Indian fortress in southern Rhode Island's Great Swamp on Dec. 19, 1675.

Happy Yuletide Confusion Beats Efficiency Any Day

By MARGARET LATROBE

"Cristmas shopping done?" Who are you kidding?

Maybe some people can shop for Pop's Christmas tie—in April. Or decide which friends get the potted poinsettias — in June. But not I.

Maybe some are busily wrapping gifts in gold and silver ribbons—in August. Christmas cards, all stamped and sealed, lie neatly stacked for December mailing—in September.

These fine folk, to my notion, are just a little too well organized. Their dining tables are never cluttered with stars and tinsel through the weeks before Santa's visit. Nor are they up late on Christmas Eve, adding brandy to the festive pudding for the morrow. Nor polishing spoons. They did it long ago. Everything is under control.

No one forgotten. Nothing mislaid. Christmas is a miracle of planning and precision. These orderly folk are the kind who, at the height of opening presents, fold gift wrappings in neat, smooth squares, sort ribbons as to length and color and put them tidily away. Their shopping was done so long ago they can't remember what they bought for whom. Not without consulting the list, filed under "Work completed."

But where's the fun in that? Around here we shop with mad excitement. And sometimes we hide toys so well we are up all night on Christmas Eve, searching attic and cellar for the doll bed or stuffed panda.

And some of us run out of cards at the last minute, or mail the final batch at 11:40 December 24. Or if that bachelor uncle drives in after all on Christmas morning, would he ever guess that his extra gift (just to make him extra welcome) was intended for Pop? They wear the same size sweater, don't they?

No, the shopping isn't finished, the turkey isn't ordered and the cards aren't mailed. But it will all be done somehow and we'll have fun doing it just in the nick of time. Old Saint Nick time, that is.

Corners Gas Market

DURHAM, N. H. (UP)—Norman Stiles was probably the busiest service station owner in most of New England for a while during Hurricane Carol. Power failures idled gasoline pumps, but not at Stiles' station. He riggled a sump pump to his gasoline pump and kept serving customers, including Congressman Norris. Cotton who was returning to his Lebanan home from a political meeting.

Gives Reason for Theft

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A man was arrested for stealing 50 cents and a newspaper from an unattended news stand. He told police he wanted the money to buy breakfast and the newspaper to read while he ate.

Alcoholism is a ground for divorce in the majority of states.

TRAIN SAVED QUICK AS A FLASH — Quick thinking of a newspaper photographer, who signaled the engineer of the Shaker Heights, Ohio, high-speed electric train, background, with repeated flashes from the stroposcopic flash unit on his camera, saved passengers aboard from possible injury or death. On his way to work through a blinding snowstorm, George Grant of the Cleveland Press stopped to photograph the wrecked auto at left, which had knocked a utility pole across the tracks. Driver of the auto was slightly hurt.

Lie Detector Experts Plan to Purge Fakes

CHICAGO (UP) — Lie detector experts are banding together to clean out frauds.

The founding of an American Academy of Polygraph Examiners was announced by Fred E. Inbau, of Northwestern University's law school, and John E. Reid, director of John E. Reid and Associates, a lie detection laboratory for personal testing.

Both men are among leaders of the field.

The purpose of the new organization is to promote higher professional standard and to "rout out the quackery which has led to recently publicized abuses by grossly unqualified lie detector examiners."

Incorporation Move Approved by Keego Harbor Voters

9 Also Elected to Make Charter

Mrs. Lylla Ross Tops Slate of 19 Candidates by 32 Vote Margin

KEEGO HARBOR—With slightly more than half of the eligible voters casting ballots yesterday, residents of Keego Harbor went to the polls and showed they favored incorporation.

The changeover was approved 329 yes to 151 opposed. The total vote of 480 is a little more than half of the estimated eligible voter force of 850.

At the same time that incorporation was approved, nine of 19 candidates were named to a charter commission. This group will take up the next step in the incorporation process, preparing and holding hearings on a city charter.

Topping the list of elected candidates Mrs. Lylla Ross with 327 votes, followed by Warren W. Abbott, 295; Charles M. Leaf, 293; Benjamin E. Covey, 251; Benjamin J. Moshier, 239; John A. Loveland, 233; Wilma Webb, 208; Lewis M. Doyle, 204; and Ralph Odell, 202.

Other candidates and their votes were: Wayne Vogesburg, 184; Leslie Freese, 180; Daniel L. Foxman, 163; Charlotte D. Shove, 154; George E. Hahnefeld, Sr., 146; Albert F. Crosby, 139; Francis L. Ammerman, 120; George E. Stocker, 111; George G. Ray, 60; and Joseph Nichols, 52.

If no charter is approved by the voters within two years, the area reverts back to a township.

City boundaries of the area are Waterford Township and Sylvan Lake on the north, the City of Sylvan Lake on the east, the Grand Trunk Western Railroad on the south, and the village of Orchard Lake and Cass Lake shoreline on the west.

School district boundaries will not be affected by the incorporation of the area, which is presently in West Bloomfield Township.

KEEGO VOTERS—Lined up here to cast their ballots on whether Keego Harbor should be incorporated as a city yesterday were Mrs. William Pitser and Mrs. J. George Tucker. Checking their registration were, seated, Mrs. Robert Felts and Mrs. Arthur Canon. Approximately helf the eligible voters turned out to give incorporation a 2-1 margin of approval, and elect a nine-member charter commission.

Asks Examination in Manslaughter Case

Neil A. Eriksen, 28, of Waterford Township who was involved in a fatal accident Monday, demanded examination yesterday when he was arraigned on a manslaughter charge.

Waterford Township Justice Willis D. LeFurgy set the hearing date for Dec. 23 and released Ericksen on $2,000 bond.

Police said Eriksen was the driver of a car that struck another auto driven by Danny McClusky, 23, of 2705 Chrysler, Waterford Township. The accident occurred at Pontiac Lake and Scott Lake Rds.

McClusky's wife, Donna, 20, died three hours after the accident at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital from injuries suffered in the crash.

A passenger with Eriksen, Chester Gravelle, 28, who lived at a local hotel, was arrested at the time of the crash on a drunk and disorderly charge but was released yesterday without charge on order of George Taylor, chief assistant prosecutor.

Death Drivers Face Crackdown

Manslaughter Charge Will Be Lodged Against Drinking Motorists

An alarming auto death increase in Oakland County during the past several days has resulted in a get-tough edict issued today by the prosecutor's office.

"Too many persons are being killed as a result of carelessness, negligence and drinking in this area lately and we're going to get tough about it," Chief Asst. Prosecutor George Taylor said.

"Whenever there is evidence that a driver involved in a fatal accident has been drinking, we're going to charge him with manslaughter instead of negligent homicide," he warned. Manslaughter carries a 15-year jail sentence while negligent homicide, carries only a two-year penalty.

"I've talked it over with Fred (Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem) and he is in complete accordance with the policy," Taylor said.

The latest auto death recorded in this area was that of Mrs. Donna McClusky, 20, of Waterford Township. She was injured fatally in a two-car crash at Scott Lake and Pontiac Lake Rds. Monday night.

Neil A. Eriksen, 28, of Waterford Township, driver of the car which collided with the McClusky auto, has been charged with manslaughter. He demanded examination which was set for Dec. 23.

The jail was installed in the village in 1906, but has rarely been used except to hold prisoners until they could be transferred to the county jail in St. Joseph.

Walled Lake Councilmen to Elect Mayor Thursday

WALLED LAKE — The newly elected city council of Walled Lake were installed Monday night, but have postponed naming a mayor pro tem until Thursday.

Voters approved the city charter in balloting Dec. 7, and elected a seven member council.

Sworn in were Charles Fisher, Charles Riffenburg, Marshall E. Taylor, Joseph Wiltse, Gerald Hazen, and Harry W. Thomas.

Installing them was George L. Gram, a member of the charter commission. He volunteered to serve as city clerk until the post can be filled.

The council favored soliciting applications to fill the clerk's position as soon as possible. Much of the legal work of starting the new city, like filing the charter with the state, and certifying the results of the election, are duties performed by the clerk.

Council members postponed the election of a mayor until the Thursday meeting because of the illness and absence of member Dan McVety. He is expected at the 8 p.m. Thursday meeting at the town hall.

Charter commission attorney Ray Munde has been retained by the new council. A decision to have the justice of the peace court held at 7 p.m. each Thursday in te fire hall received approval.

The new city lawmakers are also working on the creation of a police department, with the assistance of State Police and other municipal departments.

Fire protection for the Walled Lake area continues to be provided by the Commerce township it was a part of until the recent election. A division of assets between the city and township is expected in the near future.

School Officials Consider $250 Million State Loan Fund

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

A proposed plan for the State of Michigan to provide a $250-million state bond issue for assistance in school building has merit, but is a long way from being practicable, William Shunck, superintendent of Waterford Township Schools said today.

He attended a meeting in Lansing this week where the problem of school districts who are not financially able to keep pace with enrollment demands for classrooms was discussed.

Other Oakland County educators sitting in on the meet were Ray Baker, Avondale Schools; O. E. Dunckel, Farmington, and L. E. Schmidt of Clarenceville. The meeting was called by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair L. Taylor.

"For years there has been some thinking that if school districts could borrow from the state at a low rate of interest it would help the schoolhousing situation," said Supt. Shunck.

Waterford, like several other county districts, has very little industrial and business valuation to help finance its schools. Called a "bedroom" community, 80 per cent of its tax base is carried by the residents of the area who work in nearby cities.

This week's meeting was the first organized conclave to put the idea into the "talking stage." Promoters of the talks were a Detroit Metropolitan area group and the Detroit Home Builders Association.

Supt. Shunck pointed out that the plan is sufficiently intriguing to warrant further study and the group assembled in Lansing approved this continuance.

"If it could lower interest rates to school districts, there would be merit in the plan. However, it certainly does not represent anything near a solution to the financial problems in connection with the operation and building as faced by rapidly growing residential areas in the metropolitan section. I am not sure it is constitutional," he added.

The proposed plan is to make it possible for districts to borrow up to 15% of their equalized valuation by establishing a state loan fund. Ten per cent is the practical bonding limit most districts now follow.

Districts could borrow on the basis of need, pledging themselves to repay the loan by spreading extra millage.

Opposition to the proposal was voiced by the Detroit Board of Commerce, which said:

1—Reorganization of school districts should be completed in the state, thus eliminating the many small and inadequate districts who have neither tax base nor enrollments to conduct a good school program.

At least a year should be allowed to study assessments based on the recent Supreme Court decision (declaring that all districts must levy taxes on state equalized valuation), and to determine the total resources of school districts.

Questions to be answered later, said the group, included:

1—How much of a bond issue is needed?

2—What should be the yardstick for determining eligibility.

3—Should the bond issue be a revolving fund with payments from the districts deposited in the fund? If so, how will the state pay off the bond issue?

4—What means could be devised to insure economical construction procedures in the borrowing districts?

5—What measures would be necessary so that the aid will not prevent desirable reorganization?

6—What should the interest rate be, and at what rate should the loan be repaid.

The promoters of the plan conceded it is not the answer to the total state school building problem, but it is designed to help distressed areas increase their borrowing power.

Enabling legislation, said Shunck, would probably have to be passed before such a program could be put into effect.

DOILY DECORATIONS — Making plans for the decoration of the forthcoming Waterford High School Christmas and alumni dance are (l-r) teacher Miss Dorothy Lindstrom, and seniors Ralph Weaver, Stan Larkin, and Betty Richards. Called "Noel Doree," the 9-12 p. m. dance Saturday will combine two formerly separate affairs, and will be held in the gym. All former students have been invited, and alumni will provide entertainment at the orchestra intermission. Co-chairmen are Weaver and Laurene Anselmy.

Santa Rides Rails to Isolated Ranch

ALBANY, Wyo. (AP)—For months Mark and Sharon Patterson, 2-year-old twins, waved to the crew of a Union Pacific train which passed their isolated ranch home daily.

Yesterday the train halted at the ranch. Conductor Earl L. Stark, wearing red suit and whiskers, climbed down and said: "My reindeer are tired so I came by train."

He gave the twins a gaily wrapped package and then climbed aboard as the train pulled off. The package contained an electric train.

Actress, 2 Companions Fined on Drunk Charge

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Actress Abigail Adams has been fined $10, a much lighter punishment than imposed on the two men with whom she was arrested on a drunk charge in Hollywood.

One of the men, academy-award winning Broderick Crawford, was soaked $250 by the judge and called a "drunken bum." The other man, stage performer Myron McCormick, was fined $50.

'The Birth of a Nation' Still Causing a Furor

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Recently a syndicate announced it had bought rights for the refilming of "The Birth of a Nation."

The news brought a blast from the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, which said it was "as uncompromisingly opposed" to the film today as it was in 1915, when "Birth" was first released.

Thus the storm which "The Birth of a Nation" aroused when it came out 40 years ago still rages. Perhaps the most important movie in screen history, it is also the most controversial.

* * *

The picture was the product of Kentucky-born D. W. Griffith, and even his most ardent supporters do not claim that it lacks prejudice. The authoritative book "The Rise of the American Film" declares: "The film was a passionate and persuasive avowal of the inferiority of the Negro."

Scenes depicted freed slaves as "arrogant, lustful, villainous," Negro congressmen drinking heavily and reclining in Congress with bare feet on desks, other Negroes making advances to white girls.

The picture drew a violent reaction in many of the cities where it was shown. There were disturbances in New York and a race riot in Boston and other cities where abolitionist feelings still were strong. Figures like Jane Addams, President Charles Eliot of Harvard, Francis Hackett and Oswald Garrison Villard attacked the film.

* * *

Griffith was astounded and upset by the tirades. He replied with a pamphlet, "The Rise and Fall of Free Speech in America." The mulatto leader was not the heavy in the film, he argued. He claimed the real villain was a character based on the Reconstruction politico Thaddeus Stevens.

The director's answer to his critics was in his next film, "Intolerance." If "The Birth of a Nation" was stupendous in its time, "Intolerance" was colossal. Griffith poured a million dollars of his "Birth" profits into the new film, which he said was "a protest against despotism and injustice in every form." It didn't approach the success of its predecessor.

* * *

How much did "The Birth of a Nation" make?

Film historians have debated the question. Variety once cited estimates of 50 million dollars, which would make it the biggest movie moneymaker by far. Griffith himself once told me that figure was correct. And Donald Crisp says that author Dixon collected 12½ million as his one-quarter share.

Others scoff at this claim. In 1926, film historian Terry Ramsaye said the film had earned 15 million. The truth is that no one will ever know. Because he was strapped for financing, Griffith had to sell rights to the film in several states. No accounting was possible.

Four Reindeer Heading South for Yule Season

PARIS (INS) — Four Lapland reindeer leave Paris by plane today continuing their wrong-way Christmas season voyage.

The four-footed quartet spent the night at Le Bourget Airport after arriving by Swiss airliner. They fly on today to Kerguelen islands in the Antarctic.

According to Agence France Presse French officials hope the reindeer will live and multiply to be used as domestic animals by two French establishments in the cold southland.

Oakman to Get Job

DETROIT (AP) — Rep. Charles Oakman (R-Mich), will become general manager of the new city-county building when his term in Congress expires Jan. 1, Oakman was defeated last November in his re-election bid. The city-county position pays $14,900 a year. Oakman was elected to the job by the Detroit - Wayne Joint Building Authority.

Claim Furnace Firm Frightened Patrons

BALTIMORE (AP) — Several housewives told a Federl Trade Commission examiner yesterday that employes of the Holland Furnace Co. of Michigan tried to get them to buy new furnaces by frightening them about the condition of their present heating plants.

The FTC opened hearings here on a complaint that Holland Furnace used "unfair and deceptive practices" to sell furnaces.

The complaint being heard by FTC examiner James A. Purcell alleges these practices have "unfairly diverted" trade to the Holland company from competitors and have injured competition in commerce.

Earlier in the hearing Edgar R. Audet local branch manager of Holland Furnace admitted his office had received complaints that furnaces had been torn apart and not reassembled by his men. But Audet said he found no evidence his employes had represented themselves as inspectors or government officials to gain access to people's houses.

The University of San Tomas, founded by the Spanish in the Philippines in 1611, is about 25 years older than Harvard.

Buffet Service Best at Yuletime

Makes Gala Christmas Entertaining Easier for Busy Hostess

What with worrying about the big day, the kids, the tree and her gift baking, it's generally a brave hostess who tackles a dinner party during the Christmas season.

But it is among the most wonderful times of year to have a dinner party — the home is warm and inviting and many old friends and relatives are in town. But the task need not be exhausting. Whatever you serve, do it buffet-style.

Here are ideas and recipes for a dinner party that's enticing and outside the run of ordinary holiday fare.

The menu a blaze of holiday colors: The hot macaroni-frankfurter casserole has tomato juice and sweet pickle relish in it, the slaw is garnished with green and red pepper, red pimiento enlivens the pickles and the fruitcake has a garnish of red and green maraschino cherries carved into poinsettia petals and leaves.

Holiday Casserole

Add 1 tablespoon salt to 3 quarts rapidly boiling water. Gradually add 2 cups elbow macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain.

Melt 2 tablespoons margarine over low heat. Add one-fourth cup chopped onion, one-fourth cup chopped celery and saute until tender.

Add cooked macaroni, 3 cups tomato juice, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon horseradish, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 pound frankfurters, cut in quarters crosswise, one-half cup chopped sweet mixed pickles. Mix well.

Cook over low heat 10 minutes. Turn into a greased 1½-quart casserole and sprinkle with grated cheese, if you like. Bake in 350-degree oven 15 minutes. Serves four to six.

Cherry Fruitcake

Cream 1 cup margarine until light and fluffy. Add 1 cup sugar gradually and continue creaming until blended.

Beat in four egg yolks, one at a time. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla, one-half teaspoon mace, 2 tablespoons brandy; mix well.

Gradually add 1½ cups sifted cake flour while beating.

Combine one-half cup sifted cake flour with 1 cup chopped nuts and one-fourth cup chopped candied orange peel, one-fourth cup citron, one-half cup chopped candied pineapple, one-half cup shredded coconut, one-half cup white raisins, one-half cup quartered maraschino cherries, drained.

Combine four egg whites and one-half teaspoon salt, beat until foamy.

Pour into waxpaper-lined, greased 9-inch tube pan. Bake in 325-degree oven one hour.

Chapter 9 — — 'Suspect'

—By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

Dunn Wonders Why Mrs. Kit Looks So Frightened

THE STORY: Strange forebodings creep over Private Detective Jim Dunn and his wife Nancy as they start working for their client, Mrs. Kit Carlson, at The Spires, part of the Carlson estate. They are isolated from other members of the Carlson clan and Mrs. Kit has not yet arrived. Then Nancy sees a hideous, misshapen face pressed against the windowpane, looking in from the outside.

Two strides took Jim to the door. He flung it open. "Why don't you come in? We didn't hear your knock."

The huge cook, Mrs. Gelstrap, stood in the doorway, filled it. "That your missus?" she asked, nodding toward Nancy who still looked as if her eyes were playing unpleasant tricks on her.

"That's the missus," Jim said. He made the formal intruction.

"Pleased to meet you, I'm sure," the cook said. "Right cozy you are here, I'm sure." Her greedy little eyes flicked around the room. "More comfortable than we are, Mrs. Kit is cold. That's what I came over about," She sniffed and wheezed. "I can't stay now, but later your missus and I'll have a good long talk. Right now, Mrs. Kit wants you to come make a fire."

Jim got a flashlight and an armload of wood from the supply stacked under the balcony of the caretaker's cabin.

"Go on up," Jim told her. "I'll ing, all the questions he wanted explicit answers to. One look at go through the basement and send up some wood. Be up later to make the fire."

He soon found it was not to be that simple. He had forgotten that Mrs. Hilton's wrecking crew had removed the woodpile. The armload he had carried was nearly lost when he thumped it down on the platform. He went back and got another and larger load.

Dunn had a fair-sized pile in the elevator at last and began working the crank, moving the load upward to the recess with the clink-clank, clink-clank he remembered so vividly from the night before.

The elevator moved up out of sight into the recess which made the window seat above. He was not usually morbid, but the six-by-three-foot recess reminded him of only one thing.

He moved quickly across the basement, mounted the steep stairs. The door at its head was locked. He pounded on it.

"Who—is it?"

"Jim," he said impatiently. "Jim Dunn. Come to light the fire as ordered. Remember?"

He heard the sound of some piece of furniture being pulled aside, heard the key turn in the lock.

He pushed through, mentally listhis client's face, and a good look at the pasty Mrs. Gelstrap, and his questions vanished.

The two women were frightened. "What is it?" he demanded. "What happened?"

Kit Carlson sat before some smoldering papers in the mammoth fireplace. She did not look at him as she spoke. "It's just—the cold. I'm so terribly cold. I didn't realize it would be so cold here this time of year. I—I was right—before. And that terrible, terrible noise the water makes. Can't you shut it off?"

Jim had to admit that was a feat beyond his powers. He opened the window seat, found he had piled the largest pieces of wood on top, with the small pieces beneath and the kindling still farther down in the heap.

"Warmer soon," Jim said cheerfully. "Don't you think it's about time we had a talk?"

She wet her lips. "Tell me. You had trouble here last night?"

"Nothing too much," Jim said. He gave her a censored version of what had happened.

A telephone bell rang. A series of longs and shorts.

The sound appeared so out of place that Jim stopped in the middle of a sentence. The phone rang again. He located the instrument now, sitting on a hinged shelf which obviously could be used to enclose the phone in a cubbyhole. It had been so enclosed before, and had not rung, or he and Nancy certainly would have found it. The phone sounded again in a series which told of a party line.

Kit Carlson and Mrs. Gelstrap eyed the instrument hungrily.

"Isn't there some other way of heating this place? I mean beside the fireplace?" It was all too obvious the young woman was torn between a desire for warmth and an almost irresistible impulse for eavesdroppping.

Jim knew now of one possible means by which the two women could have been frightened. He had his mind on that, and he made a big mistake by not thinking about what he was saying. "There's a furnace in the basement."

Kit Carlson's face relaxed at this solution of her quandary. "Splendid. Splendid. Would you build a fire there too, right away? Please. We can have our talk in the morning.

Jim let himself be pushed from the room. He stood on the stairs until he heard the door locked behind him and the scrape of the piece of furniture being pulled before it.

He clanked open the door of the furnace, stared into its dusty maw. "Me and my big mouth," he muttered as he started hauling wood.

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)— Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB®. The price of InfraRUB is only 98¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

Goebel...first American beer to win acclaim in Switzerland

B. W. Füglistaller and O. Locher, photographed in their famous Warteck Brewery, take time out from a busy day to discuss the flavor and quality of Goebel Beer.

Directors of Warteck Brewery, Basle (Switzerland), rate Goebel with "the fine beers of the world"

"Here at our brewery in Basle (Switzerland), we have had the opportunity to sample Goebel Beer. We do not hesitate to state that it conforms to the high standards which we have set throughout our many years of brewing Warteck Beer.

"Its light texture and delicate dry flavor are highly acceptable to the taste. It has good foam stability and clear, brilliant color. Goebel is worthy of a place among the fine beers of the world."

B. W. Füglistaller
Delegate of the Board of Directors

O. Locher
Technical Director

Warteck Brewing Company

Coming as it does from the Old World, the traditional home of fine beers, this is unusual praise, indeed. Even more unusual is the fact that one brewery should praise the beer brewed by another.

If you are not now a Goebel drinker, by all means try this fine beer soon.

No 'Peace on Earth' in Dixie

By AL LANIER

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — There'll be precious little goodwill towards man on the playing field at Crampton Bowl here Christmas Day in the 17th renewal of the Blue-Gray football rivalry.

What with the game being televised nationally for the first time and a dozen or more professional football scouts on the lookout for money players, the Yuletide peace on earth theme is expected to hit a snag.

• • •

The Rebels have mauled the Yanks in the past six Blue-Gray battles, but this time the Northerners are loaded with some of the toughest football recruits ever to step below the Mason-Dixon.

• • •

The Blues are three deep in the quarterback department with a trio of the nation's finest — Missouri's Vic Eaton and Tony Scardino, No. 1 and No. 2 in the Big Seven, and Oklahoma's Gene Calame, who's never played for the losers in a college game.

• • •

The Yankee line is a pip, too, with Capt. Don Dauth of Michigan State and Co-Capt. Paul Matz of Notre Dame at the terminals. They also boast Billy Hillen of West Virginia as another offensive power at the flank.

Defensively, the North has such immovables as Maryland's giant tackle Dick Shipley; guard Ted Cachey, Michigan's captain, and tackle Gene Danzer of Penn State.

• • •

In Al Doggett of LSU and Jerry Johnson of Texas Tech the Rebels have two of the smoothest split-T quarterbacks in the nation.

• • •

Sid Fournet of LSU, All-America second-string tackle leads the Southerners in the line department. There's also Tennessee's 225-pound tackle Darris McCord and Mississippi State's agile linebacker, Hal Easterbrook.

Rounding out the Rebel defensive string are VPI end Tom Petty and tackle George Preas, Vanderbilt's All-Southeastern guard Bob Goodall, Clemson tackle Clyde White and Alabama's Sid Youngleman and Charles Eckerly, a hefty tackle and guard combo.

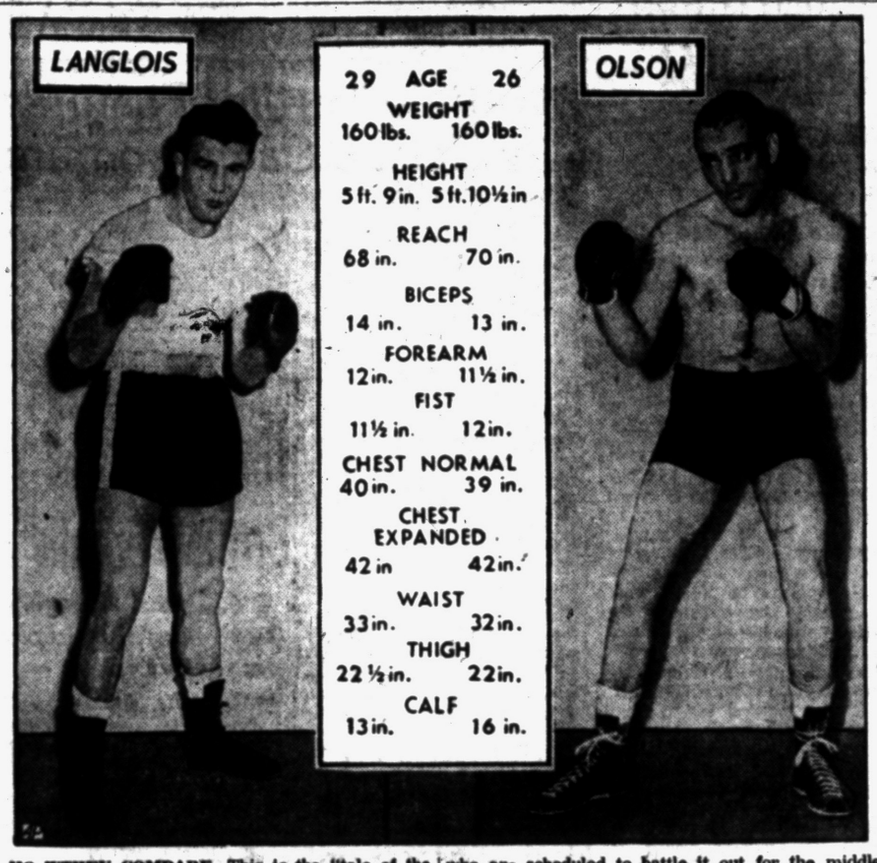

The complete rosters:

ENDS: Eddie Bravo, Tulane; Claude Harland, Texas Tech; Scott Jackson, Clemson; Tom Petty, Va. Tech.

HO WTHEY COMPARE—This is the "tale of the tape" on world middleweight champ Carl (Bobo) Olson and challenger Pierre Langlois, of France, who are scheduled to battle it out for the middleweight crown in San Francisco's Cow Palace tonight.

Tonight's Scrap Promises to Be Rough, Tough

Middleweight Crown at Stake in TV Bout in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — World middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson of San Francisco makes the third defense of the crown he won 14 months ago when he meets Pierre Langlois of France over the 15-round route tonight.

• • •

The smart boys of boxing firmly believe that 26-year-old Bobo, a product of rough-and-tumble alley fighting in his native Honolulu, will turn back the challenge of the 29-year-old Frenchman.

• • •

The scrap, one that promises to be rough, bruising and fought in close quarters, will be televised by CBS, with northern California viewers shut out.

The show goes on at 10 p.m., EST.

Expressions of confidence emanated from the camps of both warriors.

Olson has been a busy fighter since he captured the championship from Randy Turpin of England Oct. 21, 1953, in New York.

He has had six fights since then. Included were at least four humpty dumpties, but high class were his title defenses against Kid Gavilan last April and Rocky Castellani Aug. 20.

• • •

Langlois, the cauliflower from France—his left ear could pass for a well dried apricot—may suffer from inactivity. He turned in an excellent upset in his last outing, whipping the No. 1 title challenger, Joey Giardello, in 10 rounds.

• • •

But that was last May 21. Since then he has aimed at one goal, the crack at Olson and the title. He got it only because Giardello had to cancel out of a shot because of a knee injury, not to mention subsequent difficulties with the law in Philadelphia.

Bobo has scored 29 knockouts in 6 fights as compared to 12 in 83 by Langlois so he must be given the edge on punching ability. Both are strong, solid hitters. Olson can conduct what the boxing people call a flurry, and Piere's backers say their man will flurry right along with him, and start the action if Bobo is hesitant.

Old-Time Loop Organized Here

Pontiac and Detroit, Toledo, Three Canadian Cities in League

Seventy-five baseball "old-timers" from Pontiac, Toledo, Detroit and three Canadian communities met here Monday night to form an International Old-Timers' Association.

Group appointed Pontiac's Paul Parks temporary chairman and set its next meeting for Feb. 13-14 at London, Ont. Officers will be elected at the February meeting.

Organizational matters were discussed, and it was decided that the six teams would play a round-robin schedule with the top Canadian and American teams meeting in a post-season playoff next summer.

Former Detroit Tiger players Bob Swift and Paul "Dizzy" Trout spoke at the meeting.

U.S. Cup Team Under Pressure

Trabert Will Play Aggressive Swedish Star Thursday

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Slump-fighting Tony Trabert, described as the weak spot in Uncle Sam's tennis armor, meets Sweden's aggressive Sven Davidson Thursday in the first match of the inter-zone Davis Cup final.

• • •

The battle begins at 1:15 p.m. local time (10:15 p.m. EST tonight in the United States) and will be followed by a second singles match involving U.S. champion Vic Seixas and Lennart Bergelin, both in razor-sharp form.

• • •

Thus, the pressure begins quickly for the U.S. tennis forces seeking another chance to wrest the big international bowl from Australia in the challenge round at Sydney, Dec. 27-29.

The Americans' confidence was shaken slightly when they read that C. A. (Big Bill) Edwards, president of the Queensland Lawn Tennis Assn., had picked the Swedes to score a stunning upset.

Six Area Cagers on Alma Varsity Roster

Six Oakland County area players are members of the Alma College basketball team this season.

Dick Ayling, former Pontiac High School athlete, has joined the cage squad after quarterbacking the Scots' football team. Three ex-Hazel Park High School players are on the team, including Bill and Doyle McIntosh and Howard Wiley.

Glen Howarth, freshman star from Northville, also is a squad member along with Dave Stockham of Fenton.

Frank Selvy Paces Pro Cage Scorers

NEW YORK (AP)—Flashy Frank Selvy, who set all sorts of collegiate scoring records at Furman, is continuing his prolific point-production with the Milwaukee Hawks of the National Basketball Assn.

Selvy, grabbed by the Hawks when the Baltimore Bullets were disbanded, headed the NBA scoring parade Tuesday with 502 points. Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics is runner-up with 478 and Syracuse's Dolph Schayes is third with 446.

Starter Again

Joe Gattuso Regains Navy's Fullback Job

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Joe Gattuso wound up his season long contest with Dick Guest by regaining Navy's starting fullback position against Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl.

• • •

Their personal struggle is a capsule story of what made Navy tick in seven victories culminating in the bowl bid. Each pushed the other so hard for the right to play made a substitution the new man was burning up to clinch the job for the next game.

• • •

Erdelatz termed it "desire" and "want-to" by his players. He has kept it on fire by letting them know that no starting post is secure from one week to the next.

One analyst theorized that "desire" boiled down to competition on the Navy squad itself.

Such certainly seemed to be the case between Gattuso and Guest. Gattuso, the holdover fullback and a senior, started the first two games.

• • •

Before he could get any ideas of security, Erdelatz started Guest, a junior, in the third game against Stanford. When he substituted, Gattuso tore up the place by rushing for 153 yards to 12 for Guest.

• • •

The finale against Army was another case in point. Guest started but wound up with a minus seven yards rushing. Gattuso came in and stayed for most of the game to gain 72 yards, recover a fumble and get off a last-minute unorthodox punt that probably saved the game for Navy.

After looking again at the performances on movies, Erdelatz said Gattuso had finally won back the starting spot in the bowl.

Paul Richards Continues to Make Trades

Orioles' New Manager Gets Ex-Dodger Vets Cox, Roe

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Richards' dashing revue — "New Faces of '55" — will have Baltimore Oriole fans groping for a scorecard come opening day.

The way Richards is going, the new Baltimore general manager-manager, threatens to put his old boss, Frank Lane of Chicago, to shame. No Oriole knows he's still with the ball club until he reads the latest paper. Richards is the modern-day Derby Bill Clymer who used to have one team going, one team playing and one team coming.

Richards' latest move was to pick up a pair of veterans, third baseman Billy Cox and lefthanded pitcher Preacher Roe, from Brooklyn Tuesday after the pair had been waived out of the National League. Although no sale price was announced it reportedly was $55,000 with two minor leaguers thrown in. Brooklyn got pitcher John Jancse and second-baseman Harry Schwegman for its Fort Worth farm of the Texas League. Jancse had a 13-4 record and Schwegman hit .253, both at San Antonio.

Just take a look at the men Richards has brought in during the last few weeks. He probably could do as good as last years' 54-100 record by using only the 15 men he got from New York, Chicago and Brooklyn.

For pitching he has Harry Byrd, Jim McDonald, Bill Miller, Don Johnson, Don Ferrarese and Roe. There is no Bob Turley or Don Larsen among them but the newcomers, plus holdovers Lou Kretlow, Duane Pillette, Joe Coleman and Dick Littlefield should help.

Armed Guard Watches Over Davis Trophy

Traditional Net Cup Sent to Brisbane for Interzone Draw

BRISBANE (AP)—The tightest security measures have been taken to protect the Davis Cup, which has been sent here from Melburne for the interzone draw.

• • •

The cup is insured for $5,000 and has been under armed guard since it arrived last Monday. Guards are present both day and night.

At Melbourne the silver bowl, which cost approximately $1,500 when it was donated by Dwight F. Davis in 1899, was taken from a bank vault and transported by an armored car to the Essendon airport.

Guards and an armored truck were on hand at the Brisbane airport Monday and removed the trophy to a bank vault.

DETROIT (AP)—University of Detroit wound up its pre-Missouri Valley Conference basketball competition Tuesday night with a 68-61 victory over Buffalo.

The win was Detroit's 5th straight of the year.

Paced by Bob Decker's 25 points on 10 field goals and 5 free throws, the Titans took the lead after the 1st minute of play and were never headed.

Forward Guy Sparrow of Pontiac collected 17 points for the winners. Jim Horne and Curt Lang each scored 16 points for Buffalo.

Shaw Would 'Jump' at Air Force Job

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw, deposed field boss of the San Francisco Forty Niners, indicated last night he would jump at the chance to become head coach of the New Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs.

Shaw received a round-about feeler for the job yesterday from Lt. Col. Robert V. Whitlow, athletic director of the new "West Point of the Air," who is the man who will have the top say in the academy's selection of a coach.

Survey Reveals It Takes Wins to Boost Gate

Poor Teams Suffered at Box Office During Past Grid Season

By The Associated Press

Everyone loves a winner. The Associated Press' survey of major college football attendance for the 1954 season showed once more that the customers generally will storm the gates to see a winning team but will be lukewarm or ice cold in their reactions to a loser.

• • •

Teams like Ohio State, UCLA, Wichita, Arkansas, Michigan, and Miami, Fla., which had good years in the won-lost column upped their attendance over the previous year.

• • •

Schools like Pennsylvania, Kansas, Tulane, Alabama and Louisiana State, which had from poor to terrible won-lost records suffered at the gate accordingly.

Of course, if you've got a gimmick like Villanova, you can do real well at the gate no matter how badly the team fares on the field. The Wildcats wound up with a horrible 1-9 record but they drew 152,000 for two home contests compared to 120,878 for four in 1953. Villanova had a tie-in with a grocery chain and tickets were distributed by the stores.

Overall, the attendance average for 501 major games in '54 was down 3-10 of one per cent over the previous year. That figured to an average of 83 persons less per game than in 1953.

In the past season, 12,659,891 fans paid to see 501 games. In 1953, 12,523,662 fans saw 494 games. The 1953 average attendance incidentally, was the same 3-10 of one per cent better than the 1952 average.

• • •

The Midlands, Southwest and Rocky Mountains boomed at the gate, the Pacific Coast dropped a trifle, but the East and South had a big drop.

The Skyline eight was up 12.1 followed by the Big Seven with 11.8, the Midland independents, 11.2, the Missouri Valley, 6.3, the Southwest Conference, 6.1, and the Big Ten, 6.

The Pacific Coast Conference fell 3-10 of one per cent—the national average decline—with the Southern Conference down 5.6, the Ivy League, off 7.2, the Atlantic Coast Conference, 9, and the Southeastern Conference, 18.5.

Tickets were available today at the club.

German Boxer to Aid Widow of Dead Fighter

MILWAUKEE (INS) — Peter Mueller, colorful German middleweight boxer, said Tuesday he will donate $500 of his next purse to the widow of boxer Ed Sanders, who died from injuries suffered in a fight Saturday night in Boston.

Homer Taught Sam

Little-Known Brother of Snead Often Longer Off Tee Than Famous 'Slammer'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Slammin' Sam isn't the only Snead who can play golf. As a matter of fact, he isn't the only Snead who can hit a long ball.

• • •

His brother, Homer, can hit just as far as Sam — and when they play golf together, there are times when Homer outdrives his more famous brother.

• • •

Few people have heard of Homer — which seems to suit him fine. He's in the radio-TV business up in Fort Pierce, Fla.—selling them, that is. And although he can go around eighteen holes just about as well as Sam, he has no desire to play tournament golf.

It was Homer who taught Sam how to play—way back in 1918, if they don't mind a secret slipping out.

• • •

There were five boys and a girl in the Snead family then. Homer used to caddy at the Hot Springs golf course at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. His kid brother (Sam was the baby of the family) used to follow him around, but Homer says that Sam never really cared for caddying. He'd duck out of it when he could.

That's when he began teaching his brother how to play golf. They'd go out to the nine-hole course every day. He just about made Sam learn to play golf.

Homer made his kid brother a hickory club, and Sam would practice hitting hickory nuts — all day long, with a little pressure from his older brother.

• • •

It wasn't long before he got to be pretty good at driving. He still is. One of the best in the sport, in fact.

A lot of people don't know it, but Sam was a pretty fair football player in high school.

"Some college scouts were after him," Homer says. "We talked it over."

• • •

But Homer thought Sam would go further in pro golf. And the practical Sam thought there was less chance of getting banged up on a golf course.

Sam and Homer still get out on the course together once in awhile. And when they do, Homer takes a good look at Sam's style.

Ralph Kiner Pulls Switch--- Asks Tribe for Salary Cut

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three of baseball's brightest stars were signed to 1955 contracts today and one of them - former National League home run king Ralph Kiner—an an unprecedented move asked for and received a pay cut he said amounted to "about 40 per cent."

• • •

Kiner, who was bought from the Chicago Cubs by the Cleveland Indians last month, will receive about $40,000 from the American League champions next season.

The New York Yankees announced the signing of Jerry Coleman, veteran infielder, while the New York Giants got the name of third baseman Hank Thompson on the dotted line.

It was estimated that Thompson signed for $20,000 and Coleman for about $16,000.

"I want my salary in the future to be determined by my performance," said Kiner, in announcing his startling decision. The Cubs reportedly paid Kiner about $60,000-$65,000 in 1954, and under baseball rules he was protected against a slash of more than 25 per cent.

"I was afraid that some other players would think I was setting a bad precedent, but I don't feel that way. This is a personal thing for me," explained Kiner, who was a player representative in the National League.

• • •

"When I went from Pittsburgh to Chicago (in June, 1953) I felt there was some animosity—not among the players, but generally. I want to avoid that sort of thing. I think I have four or five good years left, and I want to get off to a fresh start in the American League."

49ers' Perry Takes NFL Crown in Ground-Gaining

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joe Perry of the San Francisco 49ers today clinched, unofficially, the National Football League's ground-gaining title. He gained 1,049 yards in 12 games.

• • •

The season officially doesn't end until next Sunday when Cleveland plays Detroit at Cleveland, but Perry is far in front. In fact, his ball-carrying mark is the second best in league history, behind the 1,146-yard mark set by Philadelphia's Steve Van Buren.

Thus Perry retained the title he won last year with 1,018 yards. This year he carried the ball 173 times for an average 6.1 yards per try.

Second, and far behind Perry, was another 49er, John Henry Johnson, with 681 yards. Los Angeles' Paul Younger finished third with 610, barely ahead of teammate Dan Towler with 599. New York's Eddie Price was fifth with 555.

Norm Van Brocklin, Los Angeles quarterback, finished the season with the highest average gained by passing—10.14 yards. He attempted 260 passes, completed 139 for 2,637 yards and 13 touchdowns.

Otto Graham, Cleveland Browns, was second with an 8.88 yard average; Zeke Bratkowski, Chicago Bears, third, 8.36; and Bobby Layne, Detroit, fourth, 7.79.

Chisox Get Brazle

South's Shrine '11' Roster Is Complete

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The South has completed its roster of 25 players for the North-South Shrine Football Game Christmas night in the Orange Bowl, but the North needs seven more acceptances.

Norman Howard, chairman of the Shrine Football Committee, said today, signed acceptances are expected in a day or so completing the North squad.

Paul Kernaklian, Syracuse tackle and co-captain, was the 18th player to accept. He weighs 208 pounds.

Big Reds Hand Chiefs 52-41 Setback

By BILL MARTIN

Coach Reed Laughlin's fired-up Big Reds took full advantage of a PHS "off-night" to score a 52-41 surprise victory and knock the Chiefs from the ranks of the unbeaten.

In the shooting department, Pontiac was colder than a Christmas turkey in deep-freeze. Chiefs connected on only 12 of 53 shots for a dismal .226 percentage. They did only a little better from the free throw line, sinking 17 of 36 chances. Port Huron hit on 21 of its 60 shots from the floor.

Pontiac was heavily favored after beating Flint Northern, 58-53 conqueror of Port Huron in the season's opener, by a comfortable 17-point margin last Friday.

Port Huron jumped into an early 4-0 lead on a pair of fast baskets by guard Don Capps before John James stole the ball and scored to break the ice for Pontiac. With all five Port Huron starters contributing points, the Big Reds moved into a 16-8 1st period lead and extended it ot 21-8 early in the following quarter.

Walt Poe finally came through with two foul shots and a field goal and James and Dick Blacklaw added charity tosses to narrow the margin to seven points. Big Reds came roaring back, however, to build up a 25-16 halftime bulge.

The teams battled on a par through most of the 3rd quarter until Port Huron broke loose with an unchecked 11-point spree in the late minutes. The splurge gave the hosts a 44-25 advantage and both coaches used reserves through most of the final stanza.

Capps and Dick Robins, a pair of out-court sharp-shooters, led the Big Reds with 12 and 14 points, respectively. Each had six baskets, Capps in 12 shots and Robins in 14.

An unusually high number of personal fouls slowed action throughout the game. Officials Frank Connolly and Henry Collins tooted a total of 39 personals and one technical foul the latter against the Pontiac bench during the particularly hectic 3rd quarter.

PHS junior varsity won its 3rd straight victory in the preliminary game, outlasting Port Huron's reserves, 36-30. Dave Diehm again paced the Little Chiefs with 17 points.

Orion, Rochester Win 3rd Straight Victories

By JACK SAYLOR

Lake Orion and Rochester marked up their 3rd straight basketball victories of the season Tuesday night and Clarkston made it two wins in three starts but Walled Lake's 3-game string was snapped in overtime.

Hal Carlin's Orion quintet downed Avondale, 59-51, despite the presence of 2nd stringers in the game for a long spell. When several regulars accumulated a number of personal fouls early in the ball game Carlin sent in his 2nd line players and they did a creditable job.

Sub forward Larry Miller sparked the Dragons to a 24-18 first quarter lead with seven points and Orion held on to it all the way. Lynn Hazlett's 13 points were high and Rod Wiley had 11.

Rochester rolled to its 3rd win in 4 games by whipping Grand Blanc 74-56. Dave Peters bagged 18 points and Ron LeBarre and Earl Kitchen chipped in with 15 each before substitutes took over in the fourth quarter.

Clarkston's fast start was primarily responsible for the 51-39 victory turned in by Dom Mauti's Wolves over Ortonville. Lanny Leak poured in 11 points as Clarkston leaped off to a 20-4 advantage. Leak took scoring honors with 17 points. Center Dick Johnston added 13 while Ken Harrison and Darwin Sander had 12 and 11 respectively for the Blackhawks.

With their 4th straight win almost in their grasp twice, Walled Lake's Vikings let it slip away and dropped a tough 48-47 decision to Plymouth in overtime. With only 11 seconds remaining WL held a 42-39 edge but Plymouth's Bob Middleton scored and was fouled in the act. He converted to send the tilt into overtime.

With a minute left in the extra period Niles Freeland's club held a 46-42 lead but Plymouth pulled up to 47-46 then in the final second Dan Clifford popped in a one-hander to turn victory into defeat for the Vikings.

Southfield Van Dyke and Berkley joined Walled Lake in defeat as Farmington was the lone Inter-Lakes Conference quintet to win. The Falcons downed Clarenceville 56-39 with Bud Jones and Jerry Rice each netting 15 points.

Dick Radatz collected 22 points but Berkley bowed to Ferndale 62-58. Van Dyke was beaten by East Detroit 61-52 and Southfield fell to Redford Union 57-49 despite Bob Evans' 22 points.

Troy took a 21-9 first period lead over Lakeview but ran into much adversity and suffered a 61-56 setback. Jack Acton picked up three fouls and sat out the second quarter.

Despite his foul burden Acton dumped in 24 points for the Colts. Shrine's rangy club began its Catholic League campaign with a 61-46 win over St. Theresa as Ron Troy tallied 24 points.

HEMMED IN!—Lake Orion's Nick Neira (jumping) and Dick Johnson (32) are cornered by a pair of Avondale players, but Neira leaps to save an out-of-bounds call against Orion in the 2nd quarter of their game in the Orion gym Tuesday night. Avon cagers are Ray Boyl (3) and Lyn Wright (5). Lake Orion won, 59-51.

Tarheels Deny Rumors They Want Jim Tatum

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (UP)—University of North Carolina squelched rumors last night that it has offered its head football coaching job to Jim Tatum of Maryland and that coach George Barclay's three-year contract would be "bought up."

Chancellor Robert B. House announced that Barclay's contract has another year to run and "there has never been any issue" between Barclay and the institution over the time of the contract.

The Giants used 15 players in the 1954 World series.

Schiller Lost to 'M'

ANN ARBOR (UP)—Michigan hockey coach Vic Heyliger said yesterday sophomore defenseman Bob Schiller will be sidelined until at least the end of the Christmas holidays.

Schiller, a 185-pounder from Windsor, Ontario, was hurt in the Wolverines' 2-game series last weekend with the University of Montreal.

O'Malley Refuses to Argue With Giants' Stoneham, Says Dodgers Will Do OK

BROOKLYN (UP)—Walter O'Malley, genial president of the Brooklyn Dodgers sidestepped today an opportunity to become engaged in an owners' quarrel with Horace Stoneham but he assured the boss of the New York Giants the Dodgers would give a good account of themselves next season.

Asked what he thought of Stoneham's crack Tuesday that "unless the Dodgers come up with a big deal, I can't see them as a big threat next year," O'Malley said:

"I am not claiming a National League pennant like some others may be doing," he said, "but we feel sure we will give a good account of ourselves next year.

* * *

"As for our failure to make a big deal," he added, "we won't be stampeded into making any trades. Sure we would like to make one but only if we think we can help our club. We've had several offers but we've turned them down. Why make a trade that might land you in the second division?"

O'Malley, who had just announced the sale of veterans Billy Cox, 35-year-old infielder, and Preacher Roe, 36-year-old left-handed pitcher, to Baltimore for $75,000 and two minor league players, predicted the National League would be stronger next year than it has been since before World War II.

* * *

"We have six first-division clubs in our league," O'Malley said. "Naturally, all six cannot finish in the first division but each of them is capable of finishing up there."

O'Malley didn't specify the teams but it was obvious he was referring to all but Chicago and Pittsburgh.

"A break may decide the National League pennant next year," he said. "The league will be so well balanced that a key injury is liable to drop a team from first to fifth."

Powerful UCLA Yielded Fewest Points in 1954

Mississippi, Alabama, Navy Other Defensive Standouts

NEW YORK (UP)—UCLA, Mississippi, Navy and Alabama were the defense teams of distinction in major-college football this fall, final NCAA Service Bureau Statistics showed today.

The undefeated Uclans, who led the nation in scoring, also gave up the fewest points, the first time in 10 years that this has been done by the scoring champion. And they added the ground defense crown as well.

* * *

Mississippi, which will meet Navy in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day, won the total defense championship by displacing the Middies on the last day of the season. Mississippi wound up with 172.3 yards a game given up, Richmond 174.4 and Clemson 176.1.

* * *

Navy, knocked all the way down to ninth place by Army's nation-leading offense, even though it beat the Cadets in the season's climax game, wound up with only a minor leadership — pass interception. The Middies picked off 17.6 per cent of the aerials thrown at them, 25 of 142.

Alabama led in pass defense, yielding only 45.8 yards a game, and thus completed the cycle of defense championships. Alabama has won five — in total defense in 1938 and 1945, in rushing defense in 1945, in punting in 1951, and now against passing.

UCLA gave up 40 points in winning its nine games, an average of 4.4 per game. Mississippi was second with 4.7, then Richmond with 6.0 Oklahoma had 6.2, Maryland 6.7, Navy and Auburn 7.3, Ohio State 7.6 and Boston College and West Virginia 8.2

* * *

* * *

Boston College was the only team that kept the opposition from completing at least one third of its aerials. B. C. allowed a completion percentage of 32.3 per cent, to Wichita's 33.7 per cent and Richmond's 34 per cent.

Kansas was least passed against, 81 times, and the reason lies in the 3,228 yards it yielded along the ground, the most ground yardage any major team has ever given up.

Chisox Official Hails Agreement

Calls Subsidization of Minor League Teams Vote of Confidence

CHICAGO (UP) — General Manager Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox calls the new major-minor league agreement amendment an "overwhelming vote of confidence in the excellent administration of the minor leagues."

* * *

The amendment, passed at the recent minor league meeting in Houston, provides for a liberal subsidization of Class B, C and D clubs having working agreements with major league affiliated clubs.

* * *

Lane said Tuesday it is "the most forward step baseball has made in the interests of the minor leagues in more than 20 years."

"In all," Lane said, "the majors will direct an additional $200,000 to $400,00 into the hands of the operators of B, C and D clubs next year."

* * *

He estimated it will cost each major club working with the minor league teams anywhere from $25,000 to $50,000 over and above their normal operating coast.

Davidson Dumps Hall by Unanimous Count

DETROIT (UP)—Embrel Davidson, 209, Detroit, took another step on the comeback trail last night, by scoring a unanimous 8-round decision over Henry Hall, 186, Milwaukee, at Motor City Arena.

Win was Davidson's 34th in 39 starts.

Tennis Figures Battle Verbally

U. S. Net Promoter's Davis Cup Predictions Irk Australian

BRISBANE (UP)—American tennis promoter Jack Kramer and Harry Hopman, Australian Davis Cup captain, are in a hot battle of words over Kramer's Davis Cup predictions.

Upon reaching Australia this week, Kramer forecast America would beat Australia in the challenge round later this month.

Hopman quickly countered with a charge in the Melbourne Herald that Kramer "is doing a morale-building job for the United States Davis Cup team."

Hopman added that "it reminds me of Kramers attempts to break down Frank Sedgman's morale in 1951."

That year Kramer predicted Sedgman would not be able to hold up under the strain of two singles matches as well as the doubles.

Thin Spots Dot Surfaces of Bodies of Water Fed by Warm Spring Flows

By JACK PATTERSON

The thin ice season is with us and already has begun to take its annual toll, most of it unnecessary. Where children are involved there will be accidents, for such is the nature of children when newly frozen water is available. But adults ought to know better than to trust their lives to unsafe ice.

PATTERSON

Local lakes are particularly tricky during the early freezeup because most are spring fed and the constant flow of 50 degree plus water from the springs slows up the freezing action on the surface over those springs. Thus it's pretty easy to walk from a safe three or four inches of ice onto an unsafe half inch with little or no warning.

One reason people are tempted onto lakes earlier than good judgment dictates is that ice fishing is apt to be at its best just after freezeup. And it's very tempting, with not much else to do in the outdoor line right now. (We know, because we've already caught some bluegills through the ice this season).

So, if you're a good swimmer, and can't wait any longer for heavy ice, there's one gimmick that may save your life in the event of a break-through. Carry an eight foot pole of heavy bamboo or other light wood when on the ice.

Held in a horizontal position it will probably not go through the edges of the hole and will help keep you from going all the way in. More important, it will make it possible for you to get out.

* * *

There's another problem involved in ice fishing that's pretty well covered in the following letter from a Walled Lake resident who asked to have her name withheld:

* * *

"Dear Jack:

The ice fishing season is fast approaching and I for one can hardly wait. I don't live on a lake or own lake property but I do appreciate the right to get on a lot of lakes around here.

In the past 10 or 15 years so many of the lakes have become private we can no longer get on them to fish—this I am sure is due to the way a few of our residents who have no respect for other people's property or feelings have acted.

I for one don't want to be banned from any more lakes around here so my aim is for you to urge the readers of your paper to please not leave a lot of refuse on the lakes and not to destroy people's property getting to the lakes.

I probably fish as much as any man around here and I'm sorry to say I've seen some grown up men leave the worst looking messes on some of the lakes that anyone could imagine . . . It makes one ashamed to go out and fish where this refuse is—afraid some one will think you were the guilty one."

* * *

The lady goes on to suggest that when ice fishing gets into full swing we go around some of the county lakes and take pictures to show just how acute the problem is. This is a chore which we will be very glad to undertake.

* * *

Many share the hope of this Walled Lake reader that some publicity on the matter might incline some people into better manners and, as she puts it, "maybe we can make men out of some of these bums."

CASE—End of Cushion Aid

The automatic pin-spotter, getting more and more prevalent, has robbed the bowler of two things, both of which he'll miss. Gone is his always ready alibi that the pinboy's off-spotting accounted for low scoring. Gone, too, is the big thrill of bouncing pins off the cushion to convert the 7-10, the 8-10, or the 7-9 splits.

Those were freakish breaks, true enough, but they were as much a part of the game as the pins themselves. With the mechanical spotter all pins knocked into the pit drop into a conveyor belt.

Chance of a rebound is eliminated altogether. The splits must now be made by contact. The 8 must be slid over to get the 10, as illustrated, by hitting the 8 tissue-paper thin. That goes also for the 9-7 split, and the 7-10 or the 10-7. To get these, the active pin must be sliced off the kickback and sent across the alley.

Berden Heads Coon Hunters for Next Year

Pontiac Man Named at Annual Banquet; 80 Attend Affair

Pioneer Coon Hunters association, Oakland County's veteran organization of devotees of the colorful and interesting sport, has named James Berden of Pontiac for its 1955 president.

Other officers include: vice president, Ernest Lattimer, Drayton Plains; secretary-treasurer, Lewis M. Wrenn, Pontiac; directors, John Feldman, (Orion), Jack Hamilton (Ortonville), Carl Kennady, retiring prexy (Oakwood), Ernest Maxfield (Goodrich), Freeman Peace (Holly) and Harold Smith (Pontiac).

Discussion of current dog laws and the right of property owners to shoot animals crossing their properties occupied considerable time. The group decided to have a committee study the law with a view to cooperate with other sportsmen's clubs, animal welfare societies and other interested groups to support legislation to give more protection to dogs. Wrenn, Hamilton and Kennady were named.

Reporting on the coon "harvest" for 1954, it was the opinion of the hunters that fewer young coons were taken this year than in previous periods. Total reported was 262.

Conservation Laws Trip 365 Last Week

LANSING (AP) — The conservation department said Tuesday 365 persons paid fines last week for violating conservation laws.

Most of the violations occurred during the deer season. Most common infractions were carrying loaded weapons in vehicles, hunting without licenses, hunting after hours and using artificial light to "shine" deer.

Fox Accepted as Member of Hound 'Family'

Even Sleeps With 2 Coondogs on Almont Farm

Like the lion and the lamb of Biblical lore, an Almont farm today can offer such natural enemies as the red fox and the coonhound sharing life together.

Horace Rathka, 6929 Tubspring road, Almont, is the owner of the unusual triumvirate. His two registered hounds, 3-year-old Trailing Trouper and 2-year-old Speed have accepted a red fox as pal and bedfellow.

The black and tan hounds and the fox have been getting along together for the last 2 months, Bess Reid, Press correspondent reports. The fox was taken from a den when 6 weeks old, eats the same food as that fed the dogs and sleeps in their kennel.

Rathka says he's raising the fox with the hounds so they will be familiar with the animal, and will ignore foxes when on trail for raccoons.

UM, MSC, Wayne Rate High Nationally

EAST LANSING (AP)—The University of Michigan, Michigan State College and Wayne University rate among the nation's top universities again this year on the basis of fall term enrollments.

The enrollment survey was released by Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati.

The University of Michigan was fourth in full-time enrollments with a student body of 18,750. Michigan was topped only by California, New York University and Minnesota. The Michigan enrollment last year was 17,500.

Michigan State moved from ninth to eighth place with an enrollment this year of 13,780, an increase over the 12,980 enrolled last year.

In total enrollments, including part-time students, Michigan was eighth nationally with 22,000 students. Wayne University ranked 15th with 17,296 and Michigan State was 16th with 16,234.

4 Million Trout Eggs for Michigan

LANSING (AP) — State conservation department workers will process 4,125,000 trout eggs before the end of the year, the department reports.

Brood stock at the Harrietta Hatchery provided 2½ million rainbow eggs. The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service supplied 425,000 brown trout eggs, and 1,200,000 brook trout eggs will be shipped in from outside the state, the department said.

These fish will be fingerlings in the summer of 1955 and of legal size in 1956.

Undefeated Utah Leaves Home to Take On LaSalle

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—University of Utah's "Busy B's"—undefeated in six home basketball games—are going out into the cold world to test their mettle. Their first obstacle is national champion LaSalle College in New York's Madison Square Garden Saturday.

The B's are Bunte, Bergen, Berner and Buckwalter, nucleus of a team that could be a strong contender for national honors.

* * *

Coach Jack Gardner's darlings have some of just about everything that a great basketball team needs—height, speed and shooting accuracy. If the shining prospects jell, then look out.

* * *

The Utes have tallied 499 points in six preseason games—an average of 83—against 338 for their opponents—an average of 56. That's 27-point spread per game looks impressive. The Indians' victims were University of Idaho, University of Hawaii and University of Arizona twice each. Utah connected on 40 per cent of its field goal attempts.

"We're very happy to meet LaSalle," said Gardner, beginning his second year at Utah after several successful seasons at Kansas State.

* * *

"It is my policy to play the best. This trip will probably determine just how strong we are. Our squad is comparatively inexperienced (only three seniors are on the squad) and except for Bergen (6-8) we lack height. But we're fast and have plenty of hustle."

The team is built around the four Bs—Gary Bergen, Art Bunte, Morris "Buckwalter and Ted Berner.

'What Will People Say?' Shouldn't Worry Anyone

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS) — "Dad sure picked a good one . . . it sure is wonderful." With these words Jimmy Stewart won my personal nomination for this year's Oscar, the Pulitzer Prize, the Nobel Prize for literature and anything else valuable that isn't nailed down.

And I'm also crazy about the newspicture that went with the words, of tall, lanky Jimmy, 46 years old, watching with a proud smile while his father, Alexander Stewart, 82 years old, kissed the new Mrs. Alexander Stewart, aged 76.

What's more, I wish every son and daughter of every elderly widow and widower in the whole U.S.A. would ponder both words and picture of Saturday's wedding in Indiana, Pa., when Mrs. J. J. Stothart of Canada became the bride of Jimmy Stewart's dad.

Ponder, and then do a little private sleuthing on some of their own undercover ideas.

How often have you read in the psychology column or happiness column or behavior column of your daily paper a letter that went something like this:

I'm a widow of 68, and for some reason my dearest friend, He recently asked me to marry him, but my two married daughters absolutely ridicule the idea, and say I'd be the laughing stock of the town."

Or perhaps it's this way: "I'm a widower, nearly 70 and comfortably fixed. I want to remarry but my daughter warns me she'd never accept a new 'mother' at this stage of life and neither could her children take to a new grandmother. The very idea of being cut off from my own flesh and blood - - - "

There are endless variations of this old old song of human reaching for new happiness—and too often there's also an accompaniment in a minor key from the closest relatives of the singers.

It's these forbidding and threatening undertones that set my teeth on edge every time I hear them. They make a chorus of selfishness, of egotism—and the threat of "We'll never see you again" is the most heartless note of all.

Why do old people listen to it and then fall for it so often?

In my opinion they're also afraid of being laughed at. This fear of ridicule is one of the motives that dominates too many people for all the years between the first grade and the grave.

At six, it's "the kids will make fun of me." In adolescence that gives way to a secret need to be "just like the crowd." Later on, the same panic shifts into high gear with the adult phrase, "What will people say?"

The greatest men and women, of course, never bother to ask it. For their entire lives they cut not one corner in their ideas or beliefs because of that query, nor give up one possible chance for fulfillment as a result of it.

We can't all be great and we can't all be fearless. But whatever our goal, the surest mariner to guide us always is that same independence of spirit that never sacrifices something good and true on the altar of "What will people say?"

Because there'll always be at least a few good people to echo Jimmy Stewart's "it sure is wonderful."

So Interested in Paper, Man Misses Robbery

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — John Nagin, 49, leaned on a pinball machine in a liquor store here and read his newspaper. A man walked in, pulled a gun on the proprietor, James Hawkins, 54, and commanded, "Get over by the cash register and give me your money."

The bandit took $215, forced Hawkins into the rest room and left. Nagin later told police:

"I didn't see or hear a thing. I was too interested in my newspaper."

Woodwork Is Branded

SIDE GLANCES by Galbraith

"Every Christmas my girl says 'you shouldn't have spent that much on me!' This year I think I'll just send her a card and see what happens!"

"Relax, Tony—she won't be here again for another few weeks!"

WARMINSTER, Va. (UP)—"Lady" is never a quiet cocker spaniel but she has the pardon of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Somerville for disturbing their sleep. When they switched on the light they found Lady dodging a striking copperhead on the bedroom rug. Somerville killed the snake.

Prices Steady on Grain Mart

CHICAGO, Dec. 15 (UP) — Steady prices ruled for grains on the Board of Trade today in dealings which were much less active than in the previous session.

The market appeared to have sunk back quickly into its normal pre-holiday season lethargy after having been jolted from it yesterday by announcement of lower price supports next year for several cereals.

Demand wasn't very aggressive in any pit. Wheat was helped by dry weather while relatively light cash grain receipts aided corn. Soybeans showed a nervous undertone. Oats and rye attracted some demand in view of their recent steep decline.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ⅞ higher, December $2.24; corn ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December $1.53¼; oats unchanged to ⅜ higher, December 80½; rye ½ to 1¼ higher, December $1.13¾; soybeans ¾ to 2 cents higher, January $2.81¼; and lard 15 to 40 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $13.60.

Children's Race to Be Clarified

Schooling Depends on Whether Florida Folks Are Indian or Negro

MOUNT DORA, Fla. (UP) — The head of the Christian Home and Bible School predicted last night the racial status of the Allan Platt children will be cleared by Jan. 1.

If it is determined they are not part Negro, they will be admitted to the school, President Orvel Boyd said.

Boyd issued a statement as the private school began home instruction for the five children who have been barred from the Mount Dora public white schools on complaint of Sheriff Willis McCall. The sheriff says the children are part Negro.

* * *

Boyd said, "We feel the children should be cleared. Everything indicates they are Indians instead of Negroes."

He continued that his personal investigation of the case thus far does not indicate the family has Negro blood.

Allan Platt, an orange picker, says he and his wife are a mixture of Cherokee Indian and Irish American and that the children attended white schools before they moved from Holly Hill, S.C., early this fall.

Boyd said he plans to visit Holly Hill during the Christmas holidays to interview officers and school officials and inspect records. Holly Hill school officials have said the family belonged to an Indian community and attended a school classified as white.

Sheriff McCall said civil or criminal action may be taken if the children are admitted to the Bible school. He said the Florida constitution forbids the teaching of whites and Negroes together.

COMFORT—Slippers and Yuletide go side by side. A comfortable for mother; soft-soled moccasin for older brother and the more gift for anybody in the family. Left to right: two-tone leather for junior; beaded moccasin for sister; a warm shearing lambskin scuff subdued version in darker leather for dad.

Unusual Yule Gifts for Men Are Ones That Rate High

Every Christmas, the tale is the same.

Millions of American women, shopping for gifts for their men, march over miles of pavement in the search for something that's

FOR MEN — Camera makes good men's gift. So do doeskin sport gloves.

"different." Then they march wearily home with slippers, shirts or belt and murmur a sad complaint:

"I hate to buy him the same old thing, but it's so hard to shop for a man."

If this sounds a bit familiar girls, your feeling of guilt are needless. For a gift that falls in the "usual" class is there for an excellent reason. It has proved year fater year, to be suitable and likely to please.

A good example of clothing. A gift of a new pair of slacks can hardly be called unique. Yet any man on your list would tell you it's warmly welcomed.

Your gift should appeal to his vanity, and be something he always needs, but seldom buys for himself.

Take the aforementioned slacks. Good-looking worsted woll flannels, in charcoal gray or brown, will blend with his favorite sports coat.

Others in corduroy, or wool flannel and worsted, vary in design from plaids to stripes, and are extra appealing when monogrammed.

Knitted wool gloves, with or without a matching muffler, are an excellent gift for men of any age. So are slippers and slipper socks, made of or soled with leather.

Other perennial favorites are slipon or pullover sweaters; bright wool tattersall vests, leather shoes and hats.

If you're thinking of shoes or a hat, of course, your shopping becomes a breeze. Get him a special gift certificate, which comes in a gay little box, and he'll pick out his own gift later.

CONVENIENT — Hat certificate insures his buying the hat he wants.

route and Grand River join to bridge the river, said Foster.

The grade separation is one of three which are seen as distinct benefits to Oakland County and for which major portion of the county's $300,000 will be spent, the highway expert explained.

The rest of county funds will go to extend and relocate Orchard Lake road to join with Grand River. The other two grade separations are planned just north of New Hudson and on Orchard Lake road east of Farmington, said Foster.

The new highway will be constructed so two additional lanes can be built if needed in the future, Foster stated.

County participation was recommended by the road commission, supervisor's committee on roads and bridges and the county plan commission.

Other grade separations and road relocations are planned to allow safe admittance to the expressway. These will be paid for from state and federal funds, said Foster.

The highway department is also committed to extending Northwestern Highway at least to M-59, probably within two years, Foster stated.

Norman R. Barnard, Troy Township supervisor, asked if spending the $15,000 per year on the expressway would cut funds available to maintain and improve township roads.

Foster pointed out that the new route would relieve traffic on other county roads in its vicinity thus reducing maintenance costs on them.

In response to a question from Cyril E. Miller, Avon Township supervisor, Foster said farmers whose lands will be bisected by the expressway will be provided adequate access to it or cash compensation.

Supervisor Mrs. Harriet Phillips, of Huntington Woods, urged the road commission to present long-range plans for development of county roads.

Output, Mergers Hold Spotlight

High Production Plus Sales Battle in Sight for Coming Months

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT (UP) — The record books will list 1954 as the most fantastic year in several decades of automotive history.

It was a year that brought —

Near-record output and sales — but chiefly by two companies General Motors and Ford.

More mergers by smaller companies fighting for survival. Acceptance of downward wage adjustments by some of their workers to help keep them in business.

A 50 per cent cut in production and sales by Chrysler Corp. the beginning of that company's quarter-billion dollar comeback effort.

"Blitz" or "medicine - show" type of sales: new car bootlegging; dealer complaints of "overloading" by the factories; price slashing generally at the retail level and profitless prosperity for many new car retailers.

Over - all wage payments to hourly rated workers totaling $2.-720,000,000 against $3,475,000,000 in 1953.

Ahead for 1955 most informed industry sources agree lies another big volume year with the fiercest competition the industry ever has known.

Major interest will center on the success or failure of the Chrysler comeback effort and the continuing fight between Chevrolet and Ford for top place in industry output and sales. Chevrolet has held that spot for most of the last two decades.

A possible obstacle to another top-volume production year ahead lies in the threatened show-down between labor and management on the CIO United Auto Workers guaranteed annual wage objective. Contracts that brought relative peace to the industry over the last five years expire next spring.

At that time one of the major companies probably will be asked to agree to an annual wage program or risk a strike that seriously could hamper production planning.

Authoritative estimates place the industry's 1954 output at 5,-385,000 passenger cars and 1,015,-000 trucks. In 1953 U. S. factories assembled 6,112,749 cars and 1,076,699 trucks. The 1953 passenger car total was second only to the record output of 6,-656,910 cars assembled in 1950.

The 1955 model year starting several weeks earlier than the 1954 car year, started with forecasts quite general that the year ahead would bring a passenger car output of between five and one half and six million units. The truck output, it was predicted, should exceed one million units.

At the peak of 1954 operations General Motors and Ford had 53 and 31 per cent of the car market respectively. At that point Chrysler had about 11 per cent. The remainder went to Studebaker, Nash, Packard, Hudson, Willys and Kaiser.

The GM-Ford share, of course, was abnormal. It had been enlarged at the expense of Chrysler and the smaller companies. Chrysler had dropped from about 22 per cent and the combined output of the smaller companies from approximately 10 per cent.

None of the industry analysts will predict that Chrysler and the smaller concerns will regain all the volume they lost this year. Many of them do say, however, that Chrysler has a good chance of regaining some of it.

Against this viewpoint is the fact GM and Ford probably have invested three or four times as much as Chrysler's 250 million dollars in their own 1955 model improvements.

In its Pontiac and Chevrolet cars GM has brought out two more overhead valve, V-8 engines. In its Cadillac line GM has a 9-to-1 compression ratio engine developing 250 horsepower that can be stepped up to 270 with four-barrel carburetor.

The merging of Hudson Motors and Nash-Kelvinator into American Motors Corp. and of Studebaker and Packard into the Studebaker - Packard Corp. were among major corporate developments in 1954. Thus, with the joining of Willys and Kaiser, the six so-called "independents" had become three companies.

And the view is rather widely held in industry circles that the three will become two before 1955 is far advanced. The gossip has it that some banking interests already are at work on a plan for joining American Motors and Studebaker - Packard.

By coincidence or design basic styling of all the 1955 model cars follows much the same lines. All cars are longer and lower in appearance, all have stepped up power, all have lavish chrome adornment, all stress new colors and color combinations, both in interiors and exteriors — and tubeless tires are standard equipment on most makes.

Rules Gas Cuts Must Be Equal

Plan to Curtail Service in Detroit Turned Down by Government

WASHINGTON (UP) — A federal power commission examiner has ruled against a proposal by Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. that it stop natural gas deliveries to distributors in three states including Michigan this winter if demand exceeds its supply.

Examiner Glen R. Law yesterday opposed the proposal which could cut deliveries to Detroit, Kansas City and Owenboro, Ky.

The ruling will become effective in 30 days unless a further review is ordered by the commission. It would be effective until April 15, 1954.

In event of a shortage, Panhandle had proposed suspending its deliveries to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Detroit, the Gas Service Co. of Kansas City and Texas as Transmission Corp. at Owensboro.

Panhandle, based at Kansas City, serves a total of 48 utilities in Kansas, Indiana, Missouri, Ohio, Illinois and Michigan.

Law's finding proposes that Panhandle would first suspend delivery to all industrial customers and end storage of gas. Then it would cut its deliveries proportionately to all its general service customers, up to 10 per cent of their requirements.

Law said "not under any circumstances" could he approve Panhandle's plan to settle any service curtailment on only the Detroit, Kansas City and Owensboro companies.

Junior Achievers Produce, Sell Tiny Wheelbarrows

One night each week, 21 youngsters flock into the Junior Achievement center at 53 Mill St. and get busy manufacturing table - top wheelbarrows.

During the coming months, these high school youngsters will join the members of nine other Pontiac Junior Achievement companies in hawking their products, putting into practice the sales tips given by advisors from "big league" business.

Selling the finished product will be one of the last functions of each JA firm. To get to that stage they will have had first to form the company, sell stock and set up production and sales forces.

Junior Achievement is the means by which different high school students each year get practical experience in business world operation. If the firms are successful, they come out with a modest profit and declare dividends.

The Handi-Dandi Novelty Co., formed by 21 students from St. Frederick, St. Michael and Pontiac high schools, is a typical JA company.

Avising them in the production and sales of the wheelbarrows, which can serve as a novelty planter or a nut dish, are three Pontiac Motor Division executives, representing the sponsoring group.

W. H. Taylor is sales advisor, Martin Barnhart, production advisor and Al Kray, business consultant.

The JA members will sell their products house to house and in lobbies of major manufacturers and business places throughout the city.

As one JA sponsor put it:

"They can see from their own experience the functions of the essential parts of America's private enterprise system involving private capital, wise management and responsible labor."

Use Variety, Imagination to Please Lady at Yuletide

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

The woman who is handed a mink coat every single Christmas soon wearies of opening boxes. It's the element of surprise that's lacking.

So, in order to keep her happy, mix it up a little. A bottle of perfume here, some costume jewelry there, a handbag perhaps—little things but they'll take on real meaning.

Men usually go Christmas shopping in a state of complete confusion. They clutch wildly at the nearest woman (any woman, clerk, aunt, sister, utter stranger, someone who's blind as a bat) and ask her what to buy.

Reading a few timely shopping tips in advance would give them real poise and self-confidence as they dive through a revolving door and plunge into Christmas chaos.

In a matter of handkerchiefs, for instance, don't just buy a box. Rather, buy linen handkerchiefs that have been rolled into rosebuds and mounted on fake stems.

She can wear them as lapel ornaments first, then dismantle them and tuck them into her handbag.

And while you're in velvet, take a look at the compact and lipstick sets made of velvet and embroidered in heavy gold bullion. Pretty!

Gloves come in bewitching colors and leathers this year. Pale pink, blue and white for dressy occasions, these in tissue-thin leather and often with frosty pearl trim. In hot colors, too; turquoise, straw yellow and orange.

Still with leather gifts, there are real possibilities in a fitted alligator handbag. Expensive, of course, but good for years and worth the investment both in ladylike looks and wearing qualities.

Muffs are back in fashion this year, both in flat furs and fluffy furs. But that's not all. There are fur gilets, fur blouses and fur vests.

Ropes and ropes of plain textured gold or sparkling stones are just what the girl in your life will be wearing this year. Bibs and tassels and chokers are good bets too, and if you're giving her bracelets, make it not one but a whole armful. Choker necklaces are high fashion this year, too, and are worn with the jeweled ropes.

You can't, then, give her too many fake jewels. You can even include some large button earrings or showers of glittering stones (designed for the ears) and earn a really warm "Thank you" on Christmas morning.

Tammany Leaders to Fill Secretary of State Post

NEW YORK (AP) — Tammany Hall leader Carmine G. De Sapio has been designated as Governor-Elect Averell Harriman's secretary of state.

Harriman announced De Sapio's appointment to the $17,000-a-year post following a meeting with his advisers yesterday. The Tammany chief was the spearhead of the drive to nominate Harriman as Democratic candidate for governor.

Delicious Recipes Make Afternoon Parties Simple

Afternoon entertaining during the holiday season is fun because of the variety of parties you can have — tea, coffee, punch parties, open houses. Here are delicious new recipes for all these kinds of party-giving to give you ideas.

For a coffee or tea, serve little sandwiches and fruitcake, made with Dromedary mix. To vary the fruitcake, try a dip. Cut the cake in tiny squares, insert toothpicks and serve it with the dip.

Quick Sherry Sauce

Prepare one package vanilla pudding according to directions, using twice the usual amount of milk. Allow to cool, covered. Add 1 teaspoon sherry or rum flavoring.

You can have a fine punch party whether you serve liquor or not. Here is the Tea Council's fruit punch. It makes about 5 quarts or 32 4-ounce servings.

Open House Fruit Punch

Pour 2 quarts boiling water over 5 tablespoons tea. Brew five minutes. Stir and strain. Add 1 cup sugar and stir until dissolved. Cool at room temperature. Combine 1 cup lemon juice, 2 cups orange juice, 1 cup pineapple juice, 2 cups cranberry juice. Add to tea. Chill. Just before serving, pour punch over large piece of ice in punch bowl. Add 1 quart ginger ale. Garnish with ½ lemon, sliced, 1 lime, sliced, and maraschino cherries.

If you like the gay and traditional champagne punch, here is a suggestion from the Champagne Producers of France.

Champagne Punch

Combine 2 quarts imported champagne, 2 ponies maraschino, 4 ponies cognac, 2 ponies curacao, 2 ponies yellow chartreuse, juice of 4 lemons and 2 quarts soda water. Add sugar to taste. Decorate with fruit, pour into punch bowl over ice. Makes about 30 servings.

For munching at a cocktail or punch party, there are few things so easy on the hostess' time and so pleasing to guests as dips.

Tuna Holiday Dip

Combine one 6-ounce can tomato paste, 1 cup sour cream, 1 teaspoon grated onion, ⅛ teaspoon oregano, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. Mix until blended. Break one 7-ounce can drained solid-pack tuna into large pieces with a fork and add to tomato mixture. Mix well. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Garnish with additional tuna, if desired. This makes 2 cups dip. Serve it in a bowl surrounded with potato chips or crackers.

Car Accessories Perfect Presents to Give Motorists

Suggestion to fill large-sized stocking: one brand new shiny 1955 car.

But if the stocking isn't large enough — or the bank account, either — then you can wow them all with an auto accessory gift. It's the kind of thing the motorist would never buy for himself.

Take a walk through a large housewares or auto accessories store.

You'll see things like a gadget which holds two thermos bottles and an insulated compartment for food and straps onto the car seat.

There's also a visorette — a clip for the visor which holds spare spectacles, note pad, pencil, maps and other non-valuables to keep the glove compartment uncrowded.

In apparel there are soft leather slippers in their own carrying bag for comfort on long drives. There is, too, a child's auto seat with steering wheel.

For the "pilot," there is a two-in-one compass and map measurer. And for the smoker there is a magnetized cigaret case that won't slip off the dashboard while he reaches for a smoke. And don't forget things like driving gloves, visored caps, key chains.

But if you'd rather not shop around for an auto accessory, simply go back to the first plan and give a new car

Judith Anderson Elgin Hour Star

'They Stand Accused' and 'Strike It Rich' Dropped by Sponsor

NEW YORK (INS)—Pery Como thumbed "Santa Baby" out of his next Monday telecast. Says St. Nicholas is too sacred for such irreverent tune treatment . . . George Gobel said they hand out "Do-It-Yourself Molehill-into-Mountain Kits to NBC executives" working on Spectaculars . . .

Milton Berle spent his first wedding anniversary in bed; still ill . . . leaves Wednesday for Florida, and, he hopes, recuperation. . .

. . . Red Buttons post-virus return was one of his better shows, and he needed one badly.

. . . There's less to the Sinatra-slugging story than meets the presses. For a change The Voice may have got a slightly bum rap. Sinatra may do "Foreign Intrigue" for a theater film . . . Lux Video is pitching for Gloria Swanson and Bill Holden to repeat their "Sunset Boulevard" roles . . . "Medic's" scalpel has seriously sliced "Lucy's" rating this month . . .

Johnnie Ray's TV fee is getting higher: $15,000 for two appearances with the Dorsey brothers when they sub for Gleason in January . . .

Reader named Red Hilton says Jane Froman should be added to the list of "stars with class." First on it are Jack Buchanan and Fred Astaire. Any more "class" nominations? Perry Como must be included; and Bing . . . postcard votes will do nicely.

Worth noting: Tuesday on ABC's "Elgin Hour," Judith Anderson is starring in a romantic comedy, featuring Herbert Marshall, Francis Lederer and Roddy McDowell.

Replacement of the Wednesday night "Strike It Rich" with drama called "The Millionaire," featuring an unseen millionaire and his secretary distributing huge sums of money to different types of people and watching the effect. Sounds like sort of a satire on "Strike It Rich.'

You can expect Jack Benny to blossom forth as a record artist any day now!

I only hope this move was not helped along by the rush of what fan clubs call "flooding" mail pouring in on the network and various critics . . . Letters all identical in wording, calling the new (vastly superior) "Judge" A. Bradley Eban "hard, cruel and artificial" despite the well-publicized fact that Eban is a celebrated lawyer. Since Eban joined this show, and a new producer improved the format this program has become one of the best on TV—for the TV-ridiculous, price of just $3,500.

Another NBC-TV show, the Friday "Greatest Moments in Sports" bites the dust in January . . . and, too, both "Place the Face" and the Mickey Rooney shows will die at the same time—because they couldn't compete with CBS' Gleason!

State Now Investigating Lumber Short-Changing

LANSING (UP)—The State Agriculture Department is investigating reports of short-changing by lumber dealers in various parts of the state.

Miles A. Nelson, chief of the bureau of marketing and enforcement, said the department received a complaint that bundles of hardwood flooring were short two lineal feet per board. Nelson said the complaints were the first such reports of cheating on lumber sales his bureau has had in recent years.

Gregory Peck's Wife Sues Actor for Divorce

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Actor Gregory Peck's wife Greta has sued him for divorce, charging that he caused her "grievous mental suffering, great embarrassment and humiliation."

In the complaint, filed yesterday, Mrs. Peck asked custody of their three sons, requested no alimony and said a property settlement had been agreed upon.

The Pecks married Oct. 4, 1942, and separated Jan. 13, 1953.

Give Pail of Yule Cookies to Neighbor for Christmas

There is a family you know, perhaps your neighbors. You have borrowed their lawn mower and baby carriage. You went swimming at their summer place. Christmas comes and you want to do something for them.

A marvelous solution is a cookie pail. Bake from a variety of recipes a collection of cookies. Make a set of gingerbread men, one for each member, with names on in icing.

Because father wants to show his appreciation, too, let him fix cardboard paint pails by painting them or stapling gay wraps and ribbons on them. The kids can pack and deliver on Christmas eve.

Mincemeat Cookies

Combine and mix well 1 package Nestle's cookie mix, ⅛ teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ⅛ cup dry sherry or orange juice. Add 1 cup dry mincemeat, crumbled, 1 cup mixed candied fruit, coarsely chopped.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 15 minutes. Yield: approximately 4 dozen.

Because these cookies can be frozen and kept until you're ready, here is a recipe from the Frigidaire kitchen.

Santa Claus Cookies

To 2 cups of sifted flour, add 1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ½ teaspoon soda, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon. Sift three times. Cream ½ cup butter, add 1 cup sugar gradually and cream until light and fluffy. Add 1 unbeaten egg and 3 melted squares unsweetened chocolate. Beat well.

Add flour mixture a little at a time, mixing. Add 2 tablespoons milk. Chill. Roll ⅛-inch thick on floured board. Cut with floured Santa cutter and sprinkle with sugar. Bake on ungreased sheet in 350-degree oven 9 minutes. Makes 6 dozen.

Because they make fine cutouts —stars, trees, men, for decoration, here is a recipe from Virginia Pasley's Christmas cookie book.

Molasses Cutouts

Stir together 1 cup shortening and 1 cup brown sugar. Add 3 eggs, 2 cups molasses and beat thoroughly. Then sift together 8 cups bread or all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons ginger and 2 tablespoons cinnamon.

Add to other mixture. Chill dough overnight, then roll out ¼ inch thick and cut. Bake in 375 degree F. oven for about 10 minutes.

When the selection of cookies is cold and decorated, wrap them carefully in a cellophane bundle. Lead father to his task. Sit him down at a stout table with a plastic top — one like Daystrom's, with scissors, paint, brushes, Bostitch stapler, gay wrappings and ribbons. The pails and copper handles are Lily Tulip's 2½ or 5-quart paint pails from the hardware store.

When he has completed his creations, line the pails with aluminum foil and put the cookie bundles in them. You will find your culinary art decorating your friends' trees until the kids bite the heads off the gingerbread men.

May Halt TV Strike to Show Title Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Striking CIO television workers may interrupt their wage walkout long enough to telecast tonight's title fight here between middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson and France's Pierre Langlois.

CBS said earlier it had arranged to have a TV truck come from Los Angeles and send the picture through its Hollywood outlet, KNX-TV. The San Francisco area will be blacked-out.

The union struck KPIX yesterday, demanding 13 per cent higher wages. The Westinghouse-owned station offered 5.8 per cent.

Safe Driving Film Ready

LANSING (UP)—State Police today announced they have a new traffic safety film ready for distribution to ipterested groups. The 16 millimeter safety film is primarily aimed at the education of young drivers, police said.

Suspect Shown Scalp of Wife

Grisly Exhibit at Trial Leaves Plymouth Man Unimpressed

DETROIT (UP)— A Detroit area man on trial for the murder of his wife last August showed no emotion yesterday when the scalp of the dead woman was brought in court for identification.

The scalp was severed from the body of Mrs. Verley Morse 47 when it was found in a swamp near London Ky. Aug. 22 by a farmer searching for his hogs.

Her husband Claude 44 is accused of strangling her near Detroit carrying her body to Kentucky in the trunk of his car and dumping it in a roadside ditch. He has pleaded innocent to a charge of first degree murder.

The scalp was identified by Lee Padgett of suburban Plymouth who brought Mrs. Morse's disappearance to the attention of authorities.

Mrs. Flossie Morse also of Canton Township and a sister-in-law of Morse testified in the circuit court trial that she had asked him if he had murdered his wife. She said he replied:

"I reckon I did but I just don't know."

After his wife's disappearance Morse married a 15-year-old cousin of his wife Eudena Foster. She since has returned to her parents home in Lafollette, Tenn.

Today Marks 163rd Year for Bill of Rights

Today, the 163rd anniversity of the Bill of Rights, is a most significant day for the Sons of the American Revolution, since it is the main objective of the society to protect the priceless American Heritage of freedom.

Paul H. Otis, President of the Detroit Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, said in summing up the importance of the Bill of Rights, adopted 163 years ago through endorsement by the State of Virginia:

"The import of these amendments cannot be overestimated. Had not assurances been given Thomas Jefferson and other great leaders that they would be proposed, it is altogether probable the Constitution would not have been adopted and governmental chaos might have ensued rather than the stable government that came to be."

The document sets for the four fundamental freedoms, namely: religion, speech, press and assembly. It goes on to specify personal rights; rights of free men to trial and justice, and sets forth that in so enumerating certain rights there is no denial or disparagement of others retained by the people.

Today, the original copy of the Bill of Rights, sealed in a preservative helium - filled case, is placed for exhibition in the National Archive Building, Washington, alongside the Declaration of Independence and the original Constitution.

Says Asia Aid Plan Not Very Expensive

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) said today the cost of the administration's proposed aid program for Asia will be "modest, but sufficient" to win the economic battle with communism in the Far East.

Bridges, Senate president pro tempore and Appropriations Committee chairman, mentioned no exact figure but said "reports circulated about a huge Marshall Plan for Asia are not accurate." He said the cost will not cause any significant increase in the budget President Eisenhower will submit to the new Congress.

One source said the aid program tentatively outlined to GOP and Democratic congressional leaders at a White House conference with President Eisenhower yesterday calls for spending "several hundred million" dollars. The source said no more specific figure was given at the conference.

British Parsons Now Jazzing Up Church Sermons

LONDON (INS) — British clergymen are adopting "shock tactics" to drive home sermons to their congregations.

The Rev. George Artingstall, of the North Shore Methodist Church in Blackpool, is known as the "pistol packin' parson." During a sermon to illustrate the power of words he fired off a blank cartridge from a stage pistol.

At Haughley, Suffolk County, an enlarged photograph of the Rev. Walter G. White, 76, "thumbing his nose" greets the congregation as they enter the porch of St. Mary's Church.

Explained the Rev. Mr. White: "I'm not thumbing my nose at my parishioners. The picture illustrates a Bible text in such a way that it is bound to bring people up with a jolt.
