11 Trapped, Die as Fire Roars Across California

National Forest Blaze Blackens 40,000 Acres

1,400 on Fighting Line as Winds Drive Inferno Toward San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Eleven fire fighters perished last night in an inferno which raged through its third day in the Cleveland National Forest today.

A great pall of smoke hung over San Diego, drifting from the inland mountain area seaward.

The U. S. forest guard station at the fire scene said that approximately 40,000 acres of brush and timber had been consumed.

Both forest supervisor Walter Puhn and the U. S. Weather Bureau said there was no end in sight.

Dry winds from the east and northeast continued to drive the flames toward the San Diego area.

Three of the men burned to death were employes of the U. S. Forest Service. Their identifications were being withheld pending notice to next of kin.

The others were county prisoners at the Vejas Honor Camp. A check of prisoners was being made before their names were released.

Six other fire fighters managed to flee to safety, Puhn said, as lightning-fast flames swept up from the dry San Diego River bed near Eagle Peak, two or three miles above the El Capitan Reservoir. The scene is about 30 miles northeast of San Diego.

The fire, which started Saturday morning from a trash fire on the Inaja Indian reservation, is one of the worst in recent California history.

On the fire lines were 1,400 men, including 500 sailors from the San Diego Naval Training Center and 75 Indian experts from New Mexico. Strong winds have hampered crews from the start.

The perimeter of the east-moving blaze is estimated to be 40 to 50 miles. It advanced yesterday into El Monte Canyon, a half mile west of El Capitan Dam, a city reservoir, and threatened El Monte County Park, 22 miles from San Diego.

Some 400 persons were evacuated from the Barona Indian reservation and the Wildcat Canyon area but 150 in the latter area later returned to their homes.

In the San Fernando Valley north of Los Angeles, meanwhile, a small fire raced unchecked near Chatsworth. Los Angeles County fire dispatcher A. J. Boutin said more than 100 acres were burned.

Gas Odor Alarms South County Area

An overdose of the chemical which gives gas its odor had residents in eight south Oakland County communities sniffing Saturday.

Consumers Power South Oakland district manager Arthur H. Lee said too much of the gas odorizer was dumped at the firm's 14 Mile Road plant, causing strong gas odors in Royal Oak, Ferndale, Birmingham, Clawson, Huntington Woods, Berkley, Pleasant Ridge and Troy.

Police and Consumers switch boards were ablaze with calls, and fire department apparatus answered many gas odor alarms before the cause was determined.

Islanders Who Moved to Receive $450,000

GUAM (AP) — Eniwetok and Bikini islanders, who were moved to facilitate U. S. atomic tests in the Pacific, will receive $450,000.

Terms were announced today by the office of the Trust Territory high commissioner.

Bikinians, who were moved to Kili, will receive $300,000. Eniwetok evacuees, now on Ujelang, get $150,000.

He may remain in Augusta a week or 10 days—provided the international situation does not become more critical.

The President was accompanied in his personal plane, Columbine III, by Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud.

Before boarding the plane, all three paused on the entrance ramp for pictures. The President, in a light tan topcoat, pulled off his brown felt hat and waved to a few dozen persons at the military terminal of National Airport.

Mrs. Eisenhower was wearing a gray flannel suit set off by a small red hat and matching gloves. A fur neck piece warded against the chill of a gray winter day.

Eisenhower's golf clubs were hauled out to the plane.

Gun Blast Fatal to Area Woman

Angry Husband Fires When Wife Returns to Rochester Home

A Rochester mother of two children was shot and killed by her enraged husband early this morning when she returned with friends from what he termed "an all-day drinking session."

Mrs. Nina Rash, 48, of 313 Woodward Ave., was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

A first degree murder charge is expected to be issued today against her husband, L. J. Rash, 52, who confessed the crime to Rochester Police Chief Samuel Howlett and Assistant Prosecutor Gerald Barry. He was lodged in the Oakland County Jail.

"I couldn't take it any longer," Rash told Chief Howlett. He admitted he had thought about killing his wife of 13 years for some time because "it would be better than to have her break up other homes."

The factory worker, who was the woman's third husband, said the drinking sessions had been going on for a long time. He said she arrived home at 2:45 a.m. today with four other people after leaving the house at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Rash told investigators he loaded his shotgun and went to order his wife and friends away from the house when they arrived and began pounding on the door. He said he held the storm door open with his foot and fired at his wife four feet away when she made a quick reply to his order.

Their two children, Nina J., 10, and Daniel 8, reportedly were home sleeping when the shooting happened. They were taken to the county Children's Home.

U.N. Continues Pressing Allies to Leave Egypt

Hammarskjold Works on Plans for Clearance of Suez Canal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly kept up pressure today on Britain, France, and Israel to pull out all the troops they still have in Egypt.

The Assembly scheduled a meeting to hear delegations explain their votes on two resolutions it adopted Saturday calling for withdrawal of the invaders' troops and clearance of the Suez Canal.

The Assembly's withdrawal demand was its fourth in three weeks, all proved by overwhelming votes.

So far, Israel says she has pulled about 6,000 troops out of Egypt. Britain sailed a battalion of 928 infantrymen from Port Said and the French claim they have withdrawn a third of their forces.

However, the three governments have announced no other concrete plans for troop evacuations. To date the only U. N. troops in the Port Said area are 190 Norwegians. More than 1,000 others from various nations are in barracks behind the Egyptian lines.

With the Assembly's go-ahead for the canal clearance project, Dag Hammarskjold, U.N. Secretary General, pledged unstinted effort to get the job done "speedily and effectively." He announced appointment of three assistants for the project: retired U. S. Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, former Panama Canal maintenance engineer and engineering consultant to the World Bank; John J. McCloy, board chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York and former U. S. high commissioner in Germany, and Alfred G. Kotzin, a South African deputy undersecretary of the U. N.

Despite Egypt's protests, the British and French already have begun clearing the canal in the northern 27 miles they hold. They say they have opened a channel 160 feet wide into Port Said's inner harbor, permitting vessels of liberty-ship size to enter.

What Are YOUR Views?

Someday, if a hard-working group of area citizens is successful, Pontiac will be a stopping place for major airlines. But the people who make up the city's Dept. of Aeronautics need to know how the community feels about service if they are to be successful in obtaining Federal approval. Turn to Page 21 of today's Press to see how you can help.

New Courthouse Hearing Is Set

Show Cause Order Debate to Be Held December 17

A Circuit Court hearing has been set for Dec. 17 on a lawsuit seeking to block the proposed new Oakland County Courthouse, attorneys in the case said today.

The suit, filed last week by the new Oakland County Taxpayers' League, charges supervisors planned the building without legal authority and padded county budgets to accumulate building funds.

At the hearing, county Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt will be asked to show cause why he should not be ordered to answer the League's financial questions about county funds, and why the county should not be ordered to suspend building operations until the suit has been decided.

According to William H. Wilmot, an attorney for the League, latest membership estimates indicate it has about 200 members.

President is Philip J. Henry, of Holly, and treasurer is Howard O. Powers, of 295 Cherokee Rd. Members say no secretary has yet been elected.

'Cooling Off' Period Starts

Wharf Workers on Job

NEW YORK (AP)—Brigades of longshoremen — 60,000 of them in ports from Maine to Texas—went back to work today, loosening the grip of a nine-day strike.

Ships and cargo, tied up during the period, started moving.

Along the miles of wharfs in New York harbor, operations were bustling—and described as normal. Loading and unloading crews swarmed over piers servicing more than a dozen ships.

Dock hands said they were glad to be back on the job, but disappointed no settlement had been reached in the dispute. No disorders were reported.

Several thousand members of the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. returned back to the piers over the weekend. Workers returned to their jobs in New York, Jersey City and Hoboken, N. J.; New Orleans, Hampton Roads, Va., and Portland, Maine.

The strike started Nov. 13 in a contract dispute between the independent ILA and the New York Shipping Assn. The employers' group represents 170 shipping and stevedoring firms.

The walkout immobilized more than 200 ships in East and Gulf Coast ports and cost the national economy an estimated 20 million dollars a day.

Last Thursday President Eisenhower initiated invocation of the Taft-Hartley law. He said continuance of the strike would "imperil the national health and safety."

The government injunction is for a 10-day period. Before the 10 days are up, the government is expected to press for extension of the order for the full 80-day "cooling off" period provided in the Taft-Hartley law.

Expect ILWU Answer on New Wage Offer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union is expected to answer a wage offer today when it resumes negotiations with the Pacific Maritime Assn.

The offer was unofficially reported to be 14 cents an hour—the same as one rejected by East Coast and Gulf Longshoremen who struck. The strike was halted temporarily by a Taft-Harley injunction.

$274,000 Theft Is 'Inside Job'

Say Kentucky Mansion Burglars Knew Secret Room, Combination

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (INS)—Police reported last night that questioning of servants yielded no clues to the robbery of $274,000 in cash from the palatial mansion of attorney William Marshall Bullitt near Louisville.

Jefferson County Detective James Wyatt said the robbery obviously was the work of a person or persons familiar with the estate.

The thieves pulled off the robbery after 11 p.m. Saturday when the 33-year-old Bullitt and his wife, Norsa, retired to their bedroom in the west wing of the mansion which has more than 50 rooms, including 10 bedroom suites.

Police Captain Bert Hart said the robbers gained entrance to the library in the east wing of the mansion by opening an unlocked first floor window.

The thieves apparently knew of a button at a desk in the center of the room which activates machinery swinging out a four-foot panel of the book wall and opening the way to Bullitt's secret inner study.

They also apparently knew the combinations of both the inner and outer doors of a steel and concrete safe in the study which contained the cash in bills ranging in demoninations from $10 to $1,000.

Mrs. Bullitt said her husband had kept big sums of money in the mansion for many years and he had recently brought a large amount of currency from his Louisville law office.

New Mount Sinai Hospital Miami Donors Are Feted

MIAMI—Twenty-eight Greater Miami businessmen, who helped materialize plans for a new 300-bed Mount Sinai Hospital with $50,000-or-more contributions for a building fund, were honored in Miami Beach at a dinner.

The contributions of these men have swelled the construction fund for the ultra-modern, $4,000,000 hosiptal to $2,507,000.

The new hospital is expected to be complete in the autumn of 1958.

The new hospital will be on Collins Island behind the present facilities. Six years of study went into the design of the eight-story structure.

The hospital will have nine major operating rooms, a fully equipped radiology department with four radiographic rooms, and a department for radioactive isotope diagnosis and treatment.

The new facilities will provide South Florida with one of the finest voluntary, non-sectarian hospitals in the country.

Mount Sinai got its start 10 years ago. A 50-room hospital was started at Alton Rd. and 7th St. Two years later the present hospital building (formerly the Nautilus Hotel) was taken over from the army.

The present facilities will be used in conjunction with the new hospital—probably to house staff members and provide auxiliary facilities.

Palsy Victim Weds

Only Rustle Missing From Dream

All that was missing from the dream was the rustle of the taffeta wedding dress as Frances Hammond, 17, went down the aisle of the Milford Presbyterian Church Saturday afternoon to become the bride of George Brantley, 19.

There was no rustle because Frances covered the distance in a wheelchair. She has had cerebral palsy since birth. But her dream of a real, big church wedding was coming true.

Some 100 guests witnessed the rites, as the bride was given in marriage by W. G. Pewitt, chairman of the Michigan Kiwanis Clubs committee for aid of underprivileged children. Frances has been a ward of the Wayne County Probate Court for the past four years.

Attending the young couple were Gloria Schmidt and Jerry Flynn, both of Milford. After a short wedding trip, the couple will begin housekeeping outside of Wixom, where George will commute to his Fisher Body Division job in Pontiac.

4-Inch Blanket Coats Highways, More in Sight

MSU Senior, Detroiter Killed in 2 Collisions Over Weekend

As the season's heaviest snow fell yesterday a Michigan State University coed was killed east of Lapeer and scores of others injured in the state as close to four inches blanketed county and state roads.

A 59-year-old Detroiter also lost his life when his car collided early Sunday morning with a truck at Telegarph and Square Lake roads.

As throughways were still being cleared by county and city crews, the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted more snow flurries tonight with the mercury to dip to a chilly 20 degrees.

Killed in the two-car collision on M21 four miles east of Lapeer was Carolyn Ann Angell, 20, of Dearborn, a senior at MSU.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Gary Howell, 24, of Lansing. Three others in the car, including Carol Ruppel, 17, of Grosse Pointe, were injured. All were MSU students.

Romeo State Police said Howell's car apparently went over the center line on the icy road and struck a car driven by Claude E. Saum, 47, of Mt. Clemens. Saum's wife, Harriet, 47, was also injured.

Killed in the Telegraph collision was Albert Roome, an employe of the Cadillac Motor Car Sales Division, and formerly Flint city clerk from 1921 to 1931.

Bloomfield Township police reported that Roome apparently did not see the traffic signal and collided with an oil truck turning onto Telegraph off Square Lake.

The accident was not attributed to bad driving conditions, the report showed.

Roome died some three hours after being admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Oakland County road officials reported most county roads "still in a generally slippery condition." Crews have worked mostly around-the-clock since early Sunday morning.

The Automobile Club of Michigan reported that highways in the state ranged from clear to slippery and snow-covered this morning.

Oakland County Sheriff Dept. reported six injury accidents and eight property damage accidents as traffic crawled along county roads. Pontiac police reported seven property damage and two injury accidents.

While the Pontiac area was digging out, most of Michigan was doing the same. Pellston saw a total of eight inches while Traverse City was hit with four.

Snow warnings were posted today for eastern New York and much of New England.

The state of emergency at Erie, Pa. was lifted last night by the mayor as exhausted crews broke the barrier of two feet of snow that pelted the city on Thanksgiving.

Accept It: Cold, Snow

Mostly cloudy and cold with snow flurries is the weatherman's forecast for Pontiac and vicinity. The predicted low for tonight is 20-24.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy with continued cold temperatures, high 30-34. Snow flurries will accompany tomorrow night's low of 20-24.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 28 degrees. The mercury reading at 1 p.m. was 32.

Police Quit Search for Lost Area Hunter

State Police said today they have called off their search for Stanley Streeter, 65, of Drayton Plains, who has been reported lost in the woods of Ontonagon County since the first day of hunting season.

Streeter, of 4746 Clinton Dr., still has not been heard from. Police said deep snows in the Upper Peninsula forced them to give up the search.

Another area hunter, Arnold Peters, 55, of Rochester, was reported missing in Antrim County Friday, but Traverse City post State Police said this morning Peters has been found.

He had gone into town, troopers said.

Checker King to Match Wits

World Mixed Champion to Play All Challengers at Branch Library

Newell W. Banks, world's champion at mixed chess and checkers for 25 years, will match wits with Pontiac area enthusiasts tonight at 7:30 in an exhibition at the Adah Shelly Branch Library, 251 E. Rundell St.

The show is being sponsored by the Chess and Checkers Club of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept.

Officials of the club have invited all participants to bring along their favorite chessmen or checkerboards. There will be no admission charge.

The 69-year-old Detroiter holds all world's speed records at blindfold and simultaneous checkers, and has set endurance records at blindfold checkers that have never been equalled.

Tonight Banks will take on all comers at once and at the same time conduct three games of blindfold checkers against the three top players.

It is reported that he loses only about one game in 2,000 of checkers and four in 100 at chess.

Although he went unbeaten in a five-hour exhibition sponsored by The Pontiac Press last year, he was held to draws by three checkers and two chess players.

Budapest Plants Operating Again

Workers Back on Jobs for Duration of Talks With Premier Kadar

VIENNA (INS) — Strikers were reported returning to their jobs in Budapest today to test the good faith of the Hungarian puppet regime during negotiations on their demands.

The Budapest workers council insisted in face-to-face talks with Premier Janos Kadar that kidnaped Imre Nagy be reinstated as Premier and that Russian troops withdraw from the strife-torn country.

However, if negotiations do not reach a satisfactory conclusion it was expected the workers, called out on a crippling strike two days ago, would leave their jobs indefinitely.

The workers of the tractor factory at Kispest reported in this morning and the Kispest textile factory said about 75 per cent of the workers returned.

Radio Budapest later reported that "considerably more miners than last week" reported to work at Tatabanya and would work only a single daily shift because of the curfew.

The broadcast hinted that workers possibly had sabotaged the mines when it reported that they were in bad condition and would have to be pumped out and then reconstructed.

Two Canadians Hurt in Ice-Caused Accident

Two Windsor residents received minor injuries when their car skidded on ice and struck a group of trees on Square Lake Rd. west of Eileen Drive, in Bloomfield Township yesterday morning.

Treated at Pontiac General Hospital for cuts and bruises were Frederick Stockinger, 25, the driver, and Christine K. Kolar, 21.

Stockinger told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies the rear of his car started sliding causing him to lose control.

Michigan Roads Take 13 Lives

Fire Death, Drowning Raise Weekend Toll of Accident Fatalities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death of a Michigan State University coed on snowy M21 near Lapeer and the state's first sledding fatality pushed Michigan's weekend traffic toll to 13 dead.

A fire death and a drowning were also recorded during the 54-hour weekend period which ended at Sunday midnight.

Carolyn Ann Angell, 20, of Dearborn was killed and four other MSU students injured when two cars crashed headon near Lapeer Sunday night and a haulaway truck skidded into the wreckage moments later.

At Whitehall Sunday, 7-year-old Barbara Pelton was crushed to death beneath the wheels of a car that struck the sled on which she and her 10-year-old brother, Ronald, were riding.

Harold Frzino, 30, of Muskegon drowned in White Lake, 14 miles north of Muskegon Saturday when his small boat capsized.

Mrs. Edna Babarski, 39, died Saturday in a bedroom fire at her Detroit apartment.

Other traffic victims included:

Mrs. Alma V. Knowlin, 53, of Onondaga.

John Henry Jones, 57, of Flint.

John R. Russell, 19, of Detroit.

Mrs. Edith Cilkey of Harbor Springs.

Christmas Tree on Its Way to White House

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP)—The nation's community Christmas tree is on its way to the White House lawn in Washington after being carefully moved from its home in the Lincoln National Forest of New Mexico.

The 65-foot Englemann spruce was cut at an altitude of 9,200 feet by members of the Alamogordo Chamber of Commerce, professional lumberjacks and civilian personnel from Holloman Air Force Base.

Wrapped in burlap and sprayed with a special wax preservative, the tree will be transported on two railroad flatcars.

President Eisenhower will throw the switch lighting the tree on December 20 and inaugurate a pageant of peace by broadcasting a worldwide Christmas message.

Resigns Canadian Post

OTTAWA (AP)—Dr. G. C. Monture, 60, a world expert on tin production, has retired from Canada's Mines and Technical Surveys Dept. to go with a private mining company. Monture is a great-grandson of Capt. Joseph Brant, famous chief of the Iroquois Indians.

Drayton Plains Store to Be Fourth of Chain in Pontiac District

A new Kroger store opens Wednesday morning in Drayton Plains, the supermarket chain said today. The store will be the fourth in the Pontiac area.

One of 80 new stores planned by the chain for the next years, the latest market will be located at 4370 Dixie Highway.

With a 185-car parking lot and seven check-out stands, the new store will be 100 by 160 feet in floor space. Co-managers will be Don Shaw and Jack Rehfus.

Store hours will be 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, and 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday.

On opening day, angel food cakes will be given to the first 500 women customers entering the store.

First Choices Made in Pro Grid Draft

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Paul Hornung, Notre Dame quarterback, was chosen today by the Green Bay Packers as the "bonus pick" in the National Football League's annual draft of college talent.

Green Bay won the right to select the bonus star in an out-of-the-hat draw with the Chicago Cardinals. These were the only teams eligible for the choice this year.

Flying to Budapest

MOSCOW, Nov. 26 (AP) — Indian Ambassador K. P. S. Menon is flying to Budapest Wednesday to prepare a special report for Prime Minister Nehru on the situation in Hungary. The Indian embassy said Menon would join the Indian envoy to Czechoslovakia, who already has gone to Budapest.

The Day in Birmingham

Office Zoning Suggested for Hunter-Edging Block

BIRMINGHAM — Office-Professional use of land bounded by Hunter Boulevard and Oakland, Lawndale and Madison Streets is being recommended tonight to city commissioners by the city planning board.

Itemizing points considered in eleven planning board sessions during the past year, Planning Board Chairman Bennett Root says, "The proposed assessment per lot discourages further consideration of acquiring the land for park purposes."

With 281 lots in question, an appraisal by David Levinson says the land is worth $220 per lot, while the owners say $285 to $356.

"A residential zoning is unreasonable," says Root, "due to Hunter boulevard's abutting the west side of the block." His board would not oppose further efforts of neighboring property owners to purchase the land for a park, he says.

"The vacuum pump is becoming too hot to touch," says R. S. Kenning, assistant city manager in his request for city commission permission for an $800 appropriation to replace steam traps in the municipal building's heating system. Steam passes through the radiators instead of forming water to be pumped out.

To combat movements of various communities to withdraw from the Twelve Town Drain district, city commissioners are being asked tonight to resolve that all areas be retained in the district.

The drafted resolution says "any area not included in the original district should be forever barred from becoming a part of it."

It asks the drainage board of the county to establish definite Twelve Town Drainage District boundaries.

T. C. Brien, DPW superintendent, recommends acceptance of a bid of $761 for two new police cars, including a turn-in of two-year-old models with 37,000 and 43,000 miles on the vehicles.

Moving of the cab stand at the Merrill-Woodward corner is recommended by T. M. Vanderstempel, traffic engineer. Chief Ralph Moxley advises the commission to approve moving the stand for two vehicles to 181 South Woodward Ave.

Edward J. Gunn Sr.

A teacher and principal in Detroit Public Schools for 50 years, Edward J. Gunn Sr., 79, died at Bloomfield Hospital Saturday after a brief illness. He lived at 920 Chester St.

Born at Cherry Hill, he received his BS degree at what is now Eastern Michigan College, and his master's at University of Detroit. He retired as prinipal of a Detroit school in 1948.

His memberships included the Nardin Park Methodist Church, North End Lions Club, Detroit Schoolmen's Club, Union Lodge No. 3, F&AM, and Detroit Commandry No. 1, Knights Templar.

He leaves his wife, Marie, a son, Edward, of Birmingham, two grandchildren, a brother, Thomas of Oak Park, and a sister in Erie, Pa.

Service will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., under auspices of the Commandry, and interment will be in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Engines Gone Visiting, Fire Razes 40 Homes

TOKUSHIMA, Japan (AP) — All 14 fire engines of this city went to rural villages today to demonstrate how to extinguish a fire.

Santas Seem Saintly

NEW YORK (AP)—To be a Santa Claus these days a man really has to be saint-like. Fifty red-clad Santas were warned by the volunteers of America not to smoke or drink while on duty and to avoid arguments. The bewhiskered collectors were also cautioned about their breaths. Onions and garlic are definitely taboo during duty hours.

Doctor Draft Program Now Being Increased

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Defense department has stepped up its doctor draft program to supply more medicos for the troops during the first three months of next year.

The latest call for 450 physicians during February in contrast to the fall quarter induction request of only 300 doctors.

The announcement indicated that another physicians' draft will be conducted for the second quarter of 1957, but the Pentagon is then expected to allow the special draft law for doctors to lapse.

It is believed that young physicians who were deferred for medical training and are still liable for the regular draft will supply the armed forces' needs after mid-1957.

Lansing became the state capital of Michigan in 1847 when it was still a frontier clearing and sawmill site.

Plan Your Yule Decorations Now

Colorful outdoor decorations have become a traditional part of our observance of the Christmas season and announcement that the Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor another lighting contest is welcome news.

During the week preceding Christmas many homes throughout the city literally blossom at dusk with warm and friendly lighting effects, as if to express in tangible form the goodwill and and neighborliness which prevails in each household.

Awards for the most original and best executed designs have been offered for a number of years by the Jaycees. But certainly the awards themselves must be incidental to the pleasure and satisfaction derived from the annual displays, both by those who make them and the many who enjoy inspecting them.

If you do aspire to have an elaborate display which may compete for an award, it is not too early to start planning and working at once. Many of the outstanding exhibits in former years represent hours of work in their preparation.

And let no one hold back because their lights cannot be among the brightest. The most modest of the displays may express as sincerely as the largest the spirit of the season.

So plan to light up for the holiday season and the effort you expend will repay you well in satisfaction and happiness as the Christmas lights are turned on.

Produce From Farm to Market by Truck

After feeling stuffed from overeating on Thanksgiving, Pontiac citizens should feel proud to think of the part General Motors Truck and Coach played in this general overindulgence throughout the Nation.

The overeating of turkey was not wrong; it was just part of a joyous Thanksgiving Day celebration.

Our South Boulevard GMC truck plant played a major role in producing part of the more than ten million trucks which are providing a record number of services to Americans.

The chances are better than nine out of ten that your roast turkey traveled from farm to market to grocer by truck. If he arrived "on the hoof," not already dressed for the table, the chances are very nearly 10 out of 10.

As for the trimmings, no matter what they may have been, the chances are better than even that they rode to market in a highway freighter.

Complete, precise national figures on the work that trucks do are unavailable, but the Interstate Commerce Commission does report that, last year trucks moved the Nation's goods some 208 billion ton miles in intercity travel alone.

With such a large percentage of farm goods moving by trucks it is easy to understand that 31.5 per cent of all the Nation's trucks are on farms. Another 29 per cent are concentrated in the 115 most populous U. S. counties — counties from which most industrial production originates.

With something like 5.8 million truck drivers included, the 6,725,000 Americans making, selling, servicing and using trucks account for more than one of every 10 jobs in the Nation.

Next time look your turkey over carefully — chances are a GMC truck had some part in the delivery of your bird.

Michigan Fans Back Evashevski and Iowa

With both the University of Michigan and Michigan State University unable to make the trek to the west coast and play in the Rose Bowl, Iowa is certainly the number one choice for all Michigan fans.

Evashevski was born in Detroit and for three straight years was the man running interference for All American Tom Harmon, of the University of Michigan. He was captain of the team his senior year.

Evashevski was on his way as a head coach. He moved rapidly, and now as head man with Iowa he has a winning combination that will represent the Big Ten in the number one bowl game.

The Man About Town

Prize Is Divided

Football Contest Ends in a 5-Way Tie; Each Gets $75

Uncle Sam: Who has most of the world's nations on his side—or on his back—or both.

When Michigan defeated Ohio State, 19-0, Saturday, all of the 3,678 good sports who had made entries in our football contest had been eliminated, except the five who picked Michigan to win. The last to fall by the wayside were the two who predicted that Ohio would win.

The closing game of the contest was to have been the Army-Navy game of next Saturday. And all five of the survivors predict that Army will win.

Hence, the judges have decided that the contest is over, as nobody picks Navy, nor does anybody predict a tie game. So there are five winners.

Since the prize of $300 in U.S. Savings Bonds cannot be divided five ways, a generous front office tells me to boost the total to $375, and give each of the winners $75 in bonds. They are:

Mary Sue Braunagel
of 81 East Longfellow Ave., Pontiac;

George Heck
of 2907 Middlebelt Road, Pontiac;

Ted Maxwell
of 1759 Rustic Lane, Keego Harbor;

Harry N. Meharg
of 201 Lorberta Lane, Pontiac, and

of 151 Chippewa Road, Pontiac.

"Believe Me . . . It's an Internal Affair"

David Lawrence Says:

What's Happening to Democrats?

WASHINGTON — Is the Democratic Party as a national institution on the way out in America?

Adlai Stevenson a few days ago in an outburst of indignation said to newsmen in South Carolina that "It's about time that a lot of people in the South decided whether they are Democrats or Republicans." He added:

"If they are Republicans they should candidly say so and work for that party. If they are Democrats, then they should return to that party and be a part of it."

The 1956 election shows clearly that there is much to worry about, not only for Mr. Stevenson, but for all the Democratic leaders who are meeting here this week. For something is going on in the South which slowly but surely can make the party of Jefferson into a nonentity or break it into splinters.

Without the South the Democrats could not control the committees of Congress or maintain their traditional advantage in starting every presidential campaign with a substantial number of votes in the electoral college.

But Mr. Stevenson is not alone in demanding a showdown in the Democratic party. Some of the northern "liberals" led by Senator Humphrey of Minnesota, who is joined by five other Democratic senators, now have announced that in January they will seek to have the Senate rules changed so as to prevent filibustering. This is like a declaration of war against the southern wing of the Democratic Party.

STEVENSON LOST VOTES

When it is noted that in 14 out of 16 states in the South and border states Stevenson polled fewer votes this time than he did four years ago, it is evident something is stirring which may mean the breakup of the Democratic Party itself.

Only the segregation issue has heretofore caused the South to hold firmly to the Democratic Party. But when President Truman broke with the South in 1948 on civil rights, a start was made toward a new setup, not merely in the states which cast their electoral votes for Eisenhower in 1952, but in other states as well.

The upsurge of Republican votes in North and South Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia both in 1952 and 1956, while not enough to add to Republican electoral votes, shows clearly that the Democratic Party as a national party is on the downgrade in all parts of the South.

The vote for Eisenhower in the South has been unprecedented both in 1952 and 1956. Nothing like it has happened since the days when the aftermath of the war between the states nearly 100 years ago made the Republican Party an anathema to the South.

In many a state in the South this year the regular Democratic organization was indifferent to the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket. In one state headquarters they didn't even have a picture of Stevenson on the walls during the campaign.

What will these state organizations which still use the Democratic label eventually do? They cannot, of course, give up their machinery for nominating and electing senators and representatives formally known as "Democrats" in Congress. Length of service under the seniority system is vital to the southern Democrats. It keeps them in control of the chairmanships of important committees in both houses.

But state parties can be organized to endorse the regular nominees of the Democratic Party and yet build new organizations for presidential purposes.

Dr. William Brady Says:

For Health's Sake, Take Extra Vitamins, Minerals

Theoretically, it may be possible in exceptional circumstances to get the minerals and vitamins essential to retard, arrest, or reverse physical degeneration of joint tissues (rheumatiz), from what doctors call, but seldom define, a "well-balanced diet."

A well-balanced diet is like righteousness. Which standard should one follow in reference to divorce, indulgence in alcohol or other narcotic, or the composition of the staff of life?

Only an expert with a good working knowledge of nutrition can rustle day by day the necessary foods for an adequate diet for himself and his family—and a very determined character he must have, even to restore plain wheat to the family dietary.

I dare not go any further here—send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet Wheat to Eat.

Those authorities who prate about getting all the vitamins and minerals one needs from a diet which includes adequate proportions of milk, eggs, vegetables, meat, greens, and fruit, do not specify which or how much of these foods will supply enough vitamin D, for instance. They can't, because no food or foods acceptable day by day will do so, and it spoils the dramatic effect of the assertion to acknowledge this.

MILK GIVES CALCIUM

Calcium deficiency, probably the most important factor of chronic joint disability, is perhaps the easiest to prevent or correct—by consuming not less than 1½ pints of milk daily and/or enough cheese, egg yolk, leafy vegetables and greens, peas, beans, nuts, and peanuts to insure an optimal daily intake of calcium.

Optimal means two or three times as much as nutrition authorities consider the minimum daily requirement.

Because the invisible ultraviolet rays of sunlight acting upon the skin generate vitamin D, one who gets sufficient exposure to sunshine or skyshine may manufacture enough vitamin D to maintain good calcium nutrition.

But just good calcium nutrition is not enough for a person with rheumatiz. He or she must have optimal nutrition, and hence should supplement the daily diet and the daily exposure to sunshine or skyshine with a suitable daily ration of vitamin D in one form or another.

WHEAT IMPORTANT

The vitamin B deficiency factor of chronic joint disability is best combatted, I believe, by using plain wheat items in place of refined flour items in the everyday diet.

This alone might be sufficient to prevent the numerous common ailments which are realy manifestations of B deficiency, but that is not enough for the person with rheumatiz. He or she should supplement the very best diet with a suitable daily ration of the main B vitamins.

Medical and nutrition authorities believe that almost every man, woman or child in North America needs more iodin than he or she is likely to get from food or drinking water.

That's why the authorities approve the practice of feeding everybody a minute quantity of iodin to supplement his or her iodin-poor food and drinking-water. The universal use of iodized salt in place of ordinary salt, I mean.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

School Bus Driver Asks Riders for Christmas Gift

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I would like very much to have the children that ride my school bus do these things for me, not only for Christmas, but for always, no matter who the driver might be.

1. Be on time at the bus stop, so other children would not have to wait in the rain, snow, cold weather.

2. Stay well off the road at the bus stop in a nice orderly line. In muddy weather you might get splashed from other traffic or my bus as I am approaching you. Icy or snowy weather is also dangerous. Always watch for the bus to be standing perfectly still and not sliding before you come near the bus.

3. Get seated carefully and quickly, so I may start moving my bus. It is dangerous to move around in the bus while the bus is moving. It is also dangerous to have the bus standing still on the road. It is always a traffic hazard. Many drivers of other cars and trucks sometimes get panicky and don't know really what to do. They might put the brakes on and lose control of the car or truck if it should happen to be slippery. The bus is usually safe if it keeps moving and doesn't have to make too many stops.

4. If anyone has to cross the road, please look both ways and watch the bus driver's signals in case the driver sees danger that you might not see. Cross in front of bus always.

5. God gave us a head, hands and arms attached to our body. Let's not lose our head or our hands or arms by putting them out of the windows at any time.

6. You can tell what kind of a home the children come from by their behavior on the bus and by how clean they keep the bus, like throwing paper and other things on the floor.

Thank you, Santa. If you can't reach the children, maybe you can let all the mothers and dads know what I want for Christmas. I will try my best to get the children to school and home safely.

Baruch Urges Discipline to Conquer U.S. Inflation

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Bernard M. Baruch, adviser to presidents, in his 87th year, stays young through looking ahead, instead of peering backwards.

Right now, Baruch urges Americans to strengthen their position at home and abroad through voluntary self-discipline in a manner which will arrest inflationary tendencies.

Baruch told me, as we chatted about the shape of things to come, that it is hazardous to drift in economic affairs and to hope that built-in stabilizers will save us from the consequences of excesses.

At the time of the 1954 reduction in federal taxes, Baruch opposed the move, and thinks that the current credit pinch would have been mitigated, if not averted, if the treasury had collected additional revenues at the former rates, and used the proceeds to curtail short-term governmental indebtedness.

Baruch is not impressed with the conventional argument that the tax cut was good for business. He counters this argument with the view that the credit of the government is the keystone of material well being.

PRAISE FOR BYRD

Baruch said further that no one at Washington has faced the inflation problem as consistently and as promptly as Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Virginia, Democrat.

Baruch, who served as chairman of the War Industries Board in World War I, thinks that Canada has shown exceptional practical wisdom in handling post-World War II fiscal and monetary policy.

When queried concerning the possibility of calming down inflation through curtailment of governmental expenditures, Baruch put in a plea for consolidated thinking about the total economic problem.

He pointed out that the cost of government is tied up with the price of steel. And he touched on the pressure to raise wage rates more rapidly than workers increase their productivity as a relevant problem.

In addition to his counsel to government and industry, Baruch, who made his fortune as a Wall Street speculator, has distinguished himself in the last dozen years in another area. As a memorial to his father, the late Dr. Simon Baruch, a distinguished surgeon, Baruch has given worldwide impetus to the study of physical medicine, in which his father pioneered.

AID FOR OLDSTERS

Baruch thinks that this phase of medicine has special application in adjusting oldsters to problems of comfortable living in the latter years.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Marriage Won't Solve Problems

Louise is a selfish girl. She doesn't truly love her prospective husband but is using him like a fire escape that leads from a burning building. Be sure you know the difference between true love vs. sexual infatuation. True love stands up under tests, like those shown below.

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-331: Louise M., aged 17, told her high school teacher she was going to elope, so the teacher sent Louise to me.

"Besides, my home life is so unhappy, I just feel I shall go crazy if I don't get away from my parents.

"They are quarreling all the time. And my father gets drunk almost every week. Then he comes home and beats my mother and me.

"So I think marriage would solve my problems, don't you?"

WHY GIRLS MARRY

Girls, if you simply wish to get away from an unhappy home, there are better outlets available which you should try before a hasty marriage.

For example, join the womens division in our military service. Therein you will get a good education and also be away from your quarreling parents.

But never rush into hasty marriage as an escape from unhappiness at home. That is unfair to your husband, as well as to yourself.

Outlined below are some of the underlying reasons why girls rush into weddings, even though they seldom admit them so frankly until they break down under a rigid cross-examination by a psychologist or other Marriage Counsellor.

First, girls often decide on a wedding because it seems the fashionable thing to do. This is especially true in rural and small town areas where the coeds in the senior year of high school are often engaged and planning weddings soon after commencement.

Many a girl is thus stampeded by social pressure. She feels she isn't in the approved top social bracket unless she does what the rest of her crowd are doing.

This, incidentally, indicates a "sheep" type of personality. Such a girl is also likely to smoke cigarets, drink liquor and do whatever else seems to be popular with her group.

ESCAPE WEDDING

Other girls, like Louise, have unhappy homes, so they marry to escape the situation.

Alas, girls who grow up in unhappy homes are not likely to have the know-how to build happy homes of their own.

So they often forced upon their own youngsters the same type of discord from which they tried to escape by their early elopement.

Some selfish women also marry to avoid having to get up early every week-day to go to an office or factory job.

They imagine a wife has a life of indolence. This is the opposite of the real facts, especially if a wife is accepting her proper obligations.

For a successful housewife has the most difficult career any woman can ever select. It far exceeds in complexity the demands upon a woman lawyer or a female physician.

INFATUATION VS. LOVE

Many weddings also occur because immature girls get infatuated after their first kiss and mistake such sexual excitement with true love. There is a vast difference:

True love is unselfish. Sexual infatuation is exceedingly selfish and demanding. It is the type that leads to premarital sexual affairs.

True love thus involves waiting until the prospective husband has a good trade or profession so he can support a family.

And till the wife has finished high school, plus at least a year of Business College or university work, plus another year on a job where she can learn how to earn and budget money.

True love can survive a rigid rating of yourself and your sweetheart, so send for the 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Beware the urge to rush into marriage, for that very fact usually indicates infatuation; not true love.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Standard Jet Fuel Needed for Airplanes

NEW YORK — A standard jet fuel must be available throughout the United States and many other countries by 1965 if the oil-company suppliers are to keep up with the continuing expansion in commercial aviation, the publication, Petroleum Processing, points out.

Unusual Packing Plant

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—One of the least known and most unusual seafood packing plants in California is operated here by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. The small cannery purchases tuna and albacore from the San Diego fishing fleet. The canned product is distributed to members of the Mormon church. None of the cannery workers receive compensation.

Blaring Alarm Clock Becomes a Life Saver

SHERIDAN, Wyo. (AP)—The timely ringing of an alarm clock is credited with saving the lives of three persons when their ranch home burned.

When Mr. and Mrs. Ray Colin and his brother, Rudy, were awakened by the alarm, they found the house filled with smoke. They escaped through a window.

Cause of the fire is unknown.

More Rubles Allotted for Russian Pensions

MOSCOW (AP) — A government spokesman said today the Soviet Union plans to spend 40 billion rubles annually on old age pensions under new laws which went into effect last month.

The new law provides pensions ranging from a low of 300 rubles per month to a maximum of 1,200.

The official exchange rate for the rubles is four to the dollar. But a more accurate valuation based on the amount of food, clothing and other necessites would be between 5 and 10 cents.

Unrehearsed Plastering Brings Down Ceiling

DENVER (AP) — That piece of plaster which hit her on the head was not part of the act at the historic old Central City opera house, Mrs. Katherine H. Curry of Denver callmed in a suit for $35,000 damages.

Her attorney said she "suffered a terrific injury to her cranial cavity" as a result of the accident last Aug. 5.

Mrs. Curry said she was watching a performance of "The Lark" when loose plaster crashed down from the ceiling. She names as defendant the Central City Opera Assn.

Mayor of Erie Asks U.S. Aid

Report New Snowfalls in Lake Shore Area —Motorists Warned

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Mayor Arthur Gardner today appealed for federal disaster aid in the wake of the near record Thanksgiving Day storm which dumped two feet of snow on this lakeport city of 130,000.

New snowfalls were reported early today on part of a 150-mile snow belt extending along the Lake Erie shore 50 miles west into Ohio and 100 miles east to urged to stay out of the area.

A 2 to 4 inch fall was expected by late afternoon.

Some drifting on roads was predicted in the Ohio lake section. There was little drifting last night in the Erie area and to the east Routes 5 and 20 between Buffalo and Erie were opened again in the afternoon. They had been closed a second time by widespread drifting in the morning.

These routes also were reported open into Ohio toward Cleveland.

Bus transportation resumed in Erie and businesses and industries forced to close by the storm were back at work.

However, all Erie city schools were closed as were the three colleges, the Villa Marie, Mercy Hurst and Gannon. Only a few schools were open in adjoining rural areas as bulldozers and snow plows worked to open secondary roads closed by drifts up to seven feet high.

The mayor lifted a state of emergency last midnight. Some 500 National Guardsmen, who had pitched in to help the snowbound, remained on duty until noon today.

Two Army helicopters remained in service to drop food, if needed, to isolated farm families.

Despite the severity of the storm there were no deaths attributed to it in Ohio and Pennsylvania. There were at least five storm deaths in New York State.

Debaters Meet for 2nd Round of This Season

A busy week faces Pontiac High School debaters this week. Four of the team's varsity debaters will meet Birmingham's Troy High School Tuesday night and the whole group will participate in a Saginaw Valley Conference Tournament Thursday night.

Debating tomorrow night in the first contest as members of the Detroit Metropolitan League will be Pontiac High students Violett Hewitt, Garth Johnston, Sharon Wall and Carroll Beaty, advisor W. R. Smith, revealed.

On Thursday afternoon and evening the second tournament of the season of the Saginaw Valley Conference will be held at Flint Northern, Smith said.

The first tournament held a week ago gave untied first place in the league to Pontiac who won 10 out of 12 points.

KAWASAKI, Japan (AP)—An American soldier was killed an another seriously injured when their car crashed into a concrete curbing in this Yokohama suburb Sunday.

SP3 Thomas E. Hunt, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Irwin of Adrian, Mich., was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital, the army said.

Girl Dies, Two Stricken After Making Mud Pies

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — One little girl died and two others were in critical condition after they made mud pies with an insecticide which they apparently found in a container in their grandfather's orchard.

Three-year-old Jeanie Peterson was dead on arrival at an Ogden hospital. Two hours later her cousins, Bonnie Kay Christopherson, 3, and Sherrie Christopherson, 1, were taken to the hospital with similar symptoms. The hospital said their condition was critical.

Ease German Travel

BERLIN (AP) — Beginning next summer, Communist East Germany will operate 16 trains daily between East and West Germany. The present total is only five. The increase represents another move to eliminate barriers that have divided East and West Germany. Communist guards have eased up on the tough border checks made on travelers.

Japanese Get Building

TOKYO (AP)—U.S. Far East forces are making a more that will please families of Japanese war dead. They are returning a building used to house pilgrims who came to worship at nearby Yasukuni Shrine, a momument to all Japanese soldiers killed in wars since 1867. The U.S. Air Force has used the building as a theater and chapel since 1946.

Why Should Men Monopolize Comfy Chairs, Cocktails?

Girls, It's Time to Demand Shopping Ease!

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Last year, one week before Santa's reindeer ride, this column commented that Christmas is a season when men are pampered and women are clobbered.

I suggested that this isn't altogether fair, even if the men usually do pay the bills.

Why should all the slickest department stores in town provide cozy, nightclubbish hideaways for male shoppers—serving up cocktails, pretty girls and reclining chairs—while the ladies must shin their way through the mobs?

After all, it's the girls who do most of the shopping all year 'round, and who spend most of their men's monies in these self-same stores that won't give them the time of day, much less a martini and settee, during the Yuletime rush.

Well now, that column received some hopeful replies from department store personnel. I have dug up those editorial soprifics, and would like to recall them to the attention of the senders . . .

'WILL INVESTIGATE'

"Of course it is too late to do anything about this well-taken argument this late in the season," wrote one saleslady from a snitzy Fifth avenue emporium, "but most assuredly we will investigate the matter in 1956.

"The chief problem is that women have never stood up for their shopping rights, and therefore the stores have never been put in a position of having to adhere to their demands. If enough women would write in requests, certainly the picture would change."

The director of one of the several swank "Stag Shops," "Men's Rendezvous" and "Gents' Getaway" rooms in New York stores commented that "the theory behind providing special service for men is, naturally, that they would never go shopping at all if they could not do it with ease and resourceful help from attractive salesgirls. We may be all wrong—but I doubt it."

The same kindly (to his sex) official suggested that women are "accustomed" to shopping, and doing it efficiently and well.

"It is doubtful in my mind," he said, "that they would be able to sit still long enough in the hectic Christmas shopping period to make a loungeshopping arrangement feasible."

This argument is highly debatable.

CHAIRS NEEDED

As an experienced and still-inefficient Christmas shopper of the skirted and muddle-headed sex, I'd say that, in the holiday season particularly, it's the women who need the easy chair with stimulus.

Facts prove that, despite the festive business in mink stoles and negligees, 90 per cent of which are bought by men, women do more than three-fourths of the overall spending.

Some relatively few women may have definite ideas about what they want to buy for the husband and kiddies and bridge club chums, but the vast majority would be more amenable to spending if they were met with a spot o' tea and a pleasant-faced salesman.

The time has come for women to stand—not on their aching two feet—but on the rights to an easy chair and the same privileges as men. It would only be smart business on the part of smart merchants to provide comfy quarters for ladies, as well as men.

Remember, boys, you can't use that old argument that women are physically stronger and have a longer life span than men as an excuse for not giving us a shopping lounge.

That longer life span, sirs, means we have that much more time to spend our money in your courteous, comfortable store.

Middle Eastern Crisis Could Trigger World War III

The ancient land of Egypt is at the heart of the current Middle East crisis. What events, as seen from Cairo, led to the outbreak of hostilities there? What guides the Egyptians in their relations with the outside world? This is the fifth report from world capitals explaining from all angles a situation that has brought the world to the brink of disaster.

By CHARLES P. ARNOT

CAIRO (INS)—One chilly night months before Egypt nationalized the Suez Canal Company—a broad-shouldered man with grizzly hair walked solemnly to a map, spread a big hand across the area of the oil-rich Persian Gulf.

What Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser said to Britain's foreign secretary Selwyn Lloyd after dinner that night in Cairo went roughly like this:

"We can be friends, Mister Lloyd. Take your oil. We Arabs cannot market it. We know you can. But let the Arab world have its political independence and freedom."

On one side were nearly 80 million Arabs suffering from a "colonial hangover," admiring the hard-talking young colonel and revolutionary whose bold leadership of Egypt seemed to offer new hope for welding Arab fragments into a proud, new united force.

On the other side stood the hard-pressed British, already embroiled in Cyprus, now grimly determined to halt the long westward colonial retreat in the Middle East with its vast vital oil supplies which Sir Anthony Eden constantly reminded the homefolks were their "very life blood."

And flanking the British were the French, still smarting over the loss of Indochina and furious over Nasser's encouragement of and aid to North African "rebels" in areas France had dominated.

The British learned to respect but thoroughly detest young Lt. Col. Nasser who helped direct underground warfare against the British while openly leading negotiations for their withdrawal. There were more bad feelings over the agreement ending Egyptian-British control over the Sudan and making it independent.

As Nasser grew in stature and power and became head of the government, the British chafed under his powerful "voice of the Arabs" broadcasts and other radio-casts beamed to the north, expressing sympathy for Cypriot nationalists, and south as far as British-controlled Zanzibar.

Nasser began welding his Arab neighbors into alliances, backed King Saud of Saudi-Arabia in the dispute with British-backed neighbors over the Buraimi Oasis, and aging Imam (King) Ahmed of Yemen in his border troubles with the British at the Aden protectorate.

It went bone-deep with Nasser. He was born and brought up in an Egypt where the British were hated oppressors and occupiers. His whole life has been devoted to a pledge to rid the country of foreign domination.

EGYPTION VIEW

Responsible Egyptians say the Cabinet decided on the Canal company after obtaining verified information that the Anglo-French had no intention of letting Egypt take over the Canal in 1968, when the Old Suez Canal company's concession was due to expire.

But what infuriated Egyptians was what they call the "obvious conspiratorial timing of the Israeli Anglo-French assaults."

They describe as a transparent pretext Ang'o-French explanations that the latter was a police action to separate belligerents. They point out the assult was made without first notifying either the U.S. or United Nations.

The Egyptians rather expected some armed Anglo-French assault after Nasser turned down on Sept. 9 an 18-nation proposal for internationalization of the Suez Canal.

The Egyptians were convinced Eden decided to strike when both Eden and Lloyd began delaying further negotiations by demanding "more specific Egyptian proposals" after the U. N. Security Council adopted six principles for a settlement.

The outraged British charged Nasser with a propaganda intrigue behind the Glubb ouster last March, saw Nasser forging an Arab ring of steel with them excluded when Egypt, Syria and Jordan signed a joint Suez Canal company, almost wholly Anglo-French owned.

Several weeks before hostilities began, a high British embassy official told a responsible west German correspondent, "Nasser will be out in a year's time."

When this correspondent spent nearly a month on Cyprus last June the Anti-Nasser campaign was reaching a boiling point. Several high British officials said the same thing:

"Nasser must go. There's no other answer to the way things are going in the Middle East. There's only one way to deal with these people—show them the Iron fist."

Half the states rate the tourist trade as one of their three largest sources of income. In New Jersey and New Mexico it ranks first.

Cadillac

Surpasses its Own Great Reputation!

You're looking at a mighty surprised man.

Almost all of his adult life he has owned and driven Cadillac cars. And so, when he decided to take an hour out from his busy schedule to see and drive the new 1957 Cadillac, he thought he knew about what to expect.

Well, here he is—barely under way in the city—and already he is learning the startling truth.

He is learning that nothing could adequately prepare a man for the new "car of cars"—not even Cadillac ownership itself!

He suspected it, in fact, the instant he stepped into the showroom and caught his first glimpse of this newest Cadillac creation. This was an entirely new kind of Cadillac beauty—brilliantly fresh in line and in contour.

And then he opened the door and swung into the driver's seat—and found added evidence all around him. On every side were new miracles of interior beauty and comfort and convenience.

And when he turned the key and put his foot on the accelerator, his sentiment grew to conviction. The car was incredibly nimble and quiet and smooth of ride.

Surprised, did we say? Just wait until he hits the open highway and receives the final verdict.

That great new engine is incredibly responsive. There is marvelous new balance and ease of motion. And the car is so easy to handle that it seems almost to know the road.

We suggest that you come in soon to see and drive this most surprising new Cadillac in fifty-four years. It's an experience you shouldn't postpone—and one you'll not soon forget.

You'll be welcome at any time—so why not make it today?

$700 Awaiting Lucky Winner of Pot-O-Gold

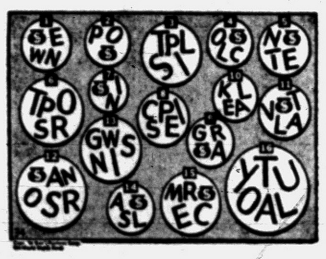

Here's a new puzzle for you fans, and with each new puzzle an additional $100 is added to Pot-O-Gold. If the judges find no winner for last week's puzzle, this one will be worth $800. How's that for a little extra spending money? It may be yours, so check below and send us your results.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 26 must bear a Tuesday, Dec. 4, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Fuel Famine Strikes Europe

Sunday Driving Banned as Most Nations Resort to Rigid Controls

LONDON (AP)—European motoring shifted into low gear over the weekend as governments clamped down on their dwindling oil stocks.

Homes and industries, too, felt the pinch from the closing of the Suez Canal, a shortcut for tankers that supply Western Europe a large part of its oil from Middle Eastern fields.

The brief war on Egypt by Israel, France and Britain had left the canal so clogged by wreckage there was little hope it could be cleared before spring. The French were among those hardest hit.

French gasoline pumps closed on government orders from 2 p.m. Saturday until 6 a.m. Monday. Only one filling station out of every 10 opened in Paris Saturday morning. There were long lines of cars before the few pumps that operated up to the early closing hour.

Sales were restricted to five or six liters—little more than a gallon—to each motorist. Black market prices soared to as much as the franc equivalent of $3 a gallon.

Continuous hot water in Paris apartment houses became as rare as a cheap meal, and many radiators were barely warm.

Sweden banned all private car traffic for the weekend. The Stockholm government slashed all oil deliveries to industry and to oil heated houses by 30 to 50 per cent.

Denmark's motorists spent a large part of Sunday lining up for coupons for gasoline rationing expected to start in about a week. The Danish government seeks to cut fuel consumption by a third.

Gasoline rationing going into effect Dec. 17 will limit the British motorist to 200 miles of driving a month, but a rigid system of self-rationing was already working at many filling stations and garages.

"Regular customers only," said signs before hundreds of pumps.

The used car trade suffered. Many dealers cut prices from 13 to 20 per cent.

The Ford Motor Co., said some of its 35,000 employes will go on a shorter working week because of a slump in the domestic demand for new cars.

In Italy, motorists were asked to curtail unnecessary driving. But they could buy all the gasoline they wanted—at prices that ran as high as a dollar a gallon.

Norway's order to oil companies to cut sales by 10 per cent was working well. The government has denied it plans to ration gas.

The only effect of the Suez crisis on West Germany's gasoline situation, so far, is a price increase of a cent a gallon.

Lumber cut in the United States in the past 140 years if stacked into one pile would make a cube exactly one mile in each of its three dimensions, statisticians estimate.

We Didn't Invent 'Em, So—Russian Praises Rockies

MOSCOW (AP)—Vladimir L. Kudryavtzev reported today he was most annoyed in the United States by the shrill whistles hotel doormen use to call taxis.

Kudryavtzev is one of three Russians who observed the American presidential election as guests of the State Department. An editor of Izvestia, he wrote in that government newspaper of his experiences.

His first article of a series omitted all mention of the election and concentrated on personal reactions.

He complained—and his complaint had a familiar ring to persons who have the same trouble in the Soviet Union—that he was unable to visit any workers' homes in the United States.

Kudryavtzev found he liked the American people, though he was surprised at seeing girl students in a Louisville high school wearing lipstick and chewing gum and a librarian in another school wearing a brightly colored sports shirt.

On the credit side he praised such things as the Rocky Mountains, express highways, the Grand Canyon, a Chicago skyscraper whose elevators whisked him up 41 floors in 25 seconds and the Golden Gate bridge.

On the debit side, the Izvestia editor wrote that he failed to visit the deep South "where most of the Negroes live," he caught only a glimpse of Chicago's slums and saw poor housing conditions in Los Angeles from a distance.

He wrote that demonstrations against him and his two companions in Ann Arbor, Mich., Wichita Kan., and Denver, Colo., because of the Soviet intervention in Hungary were not carried out by "real American people."

Nehru Offers Buddist Ideas at Gathering

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 24 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today he sometimes is very depressed at the state of world affairs. At such times, he said, he finds peace and strength in the teachings of Buddha.

Nehru spoke at an open - air meeting beginning a series of observances of the 2,500th anniversary of the birth of Buddha. The Prime Minister is a Hindu of Brahmin caste, but is known to have wide religious views crossing sectarian lines.

He and a half dozen other speakers said the Buddhist teaching of "Say no evil, do no evil, think no evil" could assure peace and justice in the world.

They spoke from a white stand modeled after a Buddhist temple. The crowd, seated on the ground, covered an area about the size of an American football field.

Bambolin Is Popular

KINGSTON, Jamaica — A musical instrument called the bambolin has found wide acceptance among Jamaicans. It is made of a hollow length of bamboo on which violin strings have been stretched, and is played with a violin bow.

From its source to its junction with the Mississippi, the Missouri river is 2,945 miles long. Their combined length of about 4,200 miles exceeds that of any other river system.

Nurse Wants to See New Year's Parade

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The chief nurse at the Emergency Hospital, given a special pin last week by the Municipal Employes Assn. for 30 years' service, has announced her ambition:

To see the Tournament of Roses parade on New Year's day.

"Every year on Jan. 1 we get a big rush of parade casualties," Mrs. Clara Sieben explained. "Seldom are they major injuries, but it keeps us working. And by the time we're done, the parade is long since ended."

Party Paper Repeats Attack

Official Soviet Organ Strikes Tito Twice for His Speech

MOSCOW (INS)—The Soviet Communist Party through its official mouthpiece Pravda turned its heaviest guns on Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito today for the second time this week.

The newspaper attacked the Communist Yugoslav leader for his speech last November 11 that criticized the soviet leaders, in a massive article of over 5,000 words.

Pravda again accused Tito of 'obvious interference" with internal affairs of other parties in an apparent reference to all the satellites including rebellion-wrecked Hungary.

At the same time, Pravda appealed to Yugoslavia and "all socialist countries" for unity "on the basis of Marxist Leninist principles."

Pravda expressed particular resentment at Tito's assertion that the 'cult of the personality" arose out of the Soviet system and not in opposition to it as the Soviet Communists claim.

The paper said, "how can this reference by Tito be interpreted otherwise than an attempt to cast a shadow over the Soviet peoples' way of life."

Pravda stongly objected to Tito's assertion that the Soviet leaders did not want to allow other communist countries to adopt relations with Russia similar to those of Yugoslavia.

The article explained, "Tito needed this strange and wholly invented assertion in order to ascribe to the Soviet union 'insufficient trust' in the socialist forces of the peoples' democroacies."

The paper accused Tito of exaggerating the role of the population in the recent Hungarian uprising but admitted "considerable sections of workers" were involved and reiterated the promise that Soviet troops eventually will leave Hungary.

Will you really enjoy your retirement . . . or barely scrape along?

You have probably given a lot of thought to how you would like to spend your time after retirement . . . maybe you have even figured how much income you would need to do the things you want.

Is the amount you can presently count on enough? Think how much peace of mind an extra $100 a month would contribute!

The question is: "Where is this extra $100 coming from?" Maybe you expect to save it. If so, it would take $30,000, invested safely at 4%, to provide a gross income of $100 monthly. Few people have the means to do this.

However, there is a simple, safe and sure way of providing for extra retirement income—a Metropolitan Retirement Program. This also provides Life insurance protection for your family in case something should happen to you before retirement. The cash and loan values in the policy can be used as nest eggs in the event of unforeseen contingencies.

Your Metropolitan Representative will show you how, step by step, you can provide for financial security during your retirement years. He will estimate the amount of retirement income Social Security will contribute, and help you review the possible income from your present policies in the light of your future retirement plans and needs. You might also ask him about a Family Income rider to give added protection to your family.

Any Metropolitan Representative will welcome this chance to show that...

Metropolitan service is as local as Main Street . . . as close as your phone

Canada Hurt by Own Boom

OTTAWA (AP)—Never before has there been so much talk in Canada over the influx of investment from other nations, in particular the United States.

The talk in some quarters is that Canadians are victims of their own prosperity.

The background is this:

Canadians tackled the biggest business expansion in their history. Investors in the United States and other countries sensed the country's growing importance.

Factories of Canada were not big enough to turn out all of the brick and mortar, the steel and other things needed. Canadian pocketbooks were not fat enough to support all the costs. More than ever, Canadians had to rely on foreign capital and supplies.

In commodity trade alone, the over-all Canadian deficit — excess of imports over exports — is expected to reach roughly a billion dollars this year, more than double the 400 millions of 1955.

Federal economists estimate that exports this year will rise by about 400 millions to a record $4,700,000,000. But imports are expected to spurt ahead by about a billion dollars to a peak of $5,700,000,000.

When all other trade is considered — tourist travel, shipping and the cross-border flow of dividends — the deficit is expected to climb to about $1,300,000,000 or more, perhaps double last year's 700 millions.

In other years, a deficit of this size might have forced the government into a batch of foreign exchange restrictions. But the exchange value of the Canadian dollar has showed no signs of weakening. The main reason: the flow of foreign capital, principally from the United States has been more than sufficient to cover the deficit.

With some minor exceptions, the Canadian dollar has remained at a premium. Its main support has been the heavy flow of foreign capital.

Nonetheless there is official uneasiness over the growth in Canada's foreign debt, boosted by the trade deficit and capital imports.

What irks some Canadians is that American capital is flowing into the dynamic segments of industry, such as mining and oil. Stocks of some American - controlled companies are not open to Canadian investors.

Clarance D. Howe, trade minister, has voiced criticism of how American corporations operate in Canada. He urged also that they select more top executives for branch plants from among Canadian technicians; that financial statements show how much profit is being made in Canada and where the profits are going.

Investigators said arsenic had been found in the family's well water at the house it rented at nearby Kearneysville, W. Va.

Apartment Fire Endangers Five

Owner Puts Out Blaze in Upstairs Bathroom; Arson Suspected

An apartment house fire, endangering the lives of five occupants, was believed to be deliberately set early Sunday, Pontiac police said.

The blaze broke out about 2 a.m. in a second floor bathroom and was extinguished by the building owner, Clarence H. Smith.

Smith also lives in the building, 154 N. Perry St., and maintains a distributing office on the first floor.

He said he suspects a drunk he chased from the building the day before.

Smith said another resident heard someone enter by an unlocked side door early Sunday, mount the stairs to the bathroom and then quickly leave.

He said he was called to the bathroom where window curtains and shade were burning. He doused the flames with water from the washbowl.

No Inherent Difference in Intelligence Proven, Official Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official of a psychological measuring service reported today he has been able to find no scientific evidence that Negroes are less intelligent than white people.

Robert D. North, assistant director of the Educational Records Bureau, New York, said in a report prepared for the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, jewish service organization:

"If the nation's school systems were segregated on the ability to learn, color lines would be crossed in a way that would bewilder advocates of white mental supremacy."

The Educational Records Bureau conducts psychological tests and entrance examinations for secondary schools. The North report, paid for by the Ford-financed Fund for the Republic, was released at the Anti-Defamation League's annual meeting here.

North's findings were along the same line as those of a group of 18 social scientists who said on Oct. 15 that there are no "innate racial differences in intelligence" between the white and Negro races.

On Sept. 17 a Villanova University professor, Frank C. J. McGurk, wrote in the magazine U. S. News & World Report that it had been "demonstrated over and over" that Negroes as a group do not have the learning capacity of whites.

North said that according to scientific evidence whatever differences show up in intelligence tests between the races may well be due to differences in the circumstances under which individuals grew up.

"The evidence that hereditary factors account for differences is so weak as to be virtually nonexistent," he said.

Dems Discuss Party Problems in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee's 11-member executive committee opens today two days of talks on party problems, the most pressing one a campaign deficit of around a million dollars.

No steps toward major changes appear in prospect, although George Rock of Colorado, a member of the full committee but not of the executive group, renewed on Saturday his call for the resignation of party chairman Paul M. Butler.

Butler offered to resign the day after the national convention ended at Chicago in August. He was retained, at the request of Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee.

The executive committee will be asked to consider a suggestion by Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota that the Democrats stage a "victory ball" because, although losing the presidential election, they continued in control of Congress.

Doggy With Fatigue Heads for the Hills

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Two hunters are hunting the hunting dog that went over the hill.

Frank Grove Jr. of Santa Ana and James Haselton of Garden Grove borrowed an elderly Labrador retriever from Haselton's sister for a Thanksgiving day quail hunt near Lake Matthews.

The first shot unstrung the dog, named Yo-Yo, and he headed into the hills at high speed, the huntsmen said.

Back home, they learned why: Yo-Yo suffered combat fatigue while serving with the K-9 Corps in World War II. He can't stand the sound of a gun.

British Lion Shaky —May Ask U.S. Help

WASHINGTON (INS)—Administration officials believe Britian eventually will have to ask the U. S. for a sizable loan to pay for American oil and to bolster its shaky economy.

It was emphasized that no overtures, formal or informal, have been made, but U. S. experts, analyzing Britian's plight, reason that England is rapidly approaching wartime austerity and some type of aid will be sought.

Officials estimate that the allied military venture in Egypt has already cost Britian about 300 million dollars and France 100 million dollars.

Avid Sports Fan, 4, Gets Some Hot Soup

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Four-year-old Mickey Impens wasn't really lost 24 hours, he was merely the victim of a misadventure.

Police said his home is only half a block from North Hollywood junior high school and Mickey wandered over there to watch sports activities. Then he accidentally got locked in a washroom.

A search party found him there, more than 24 hours after he left home. After hot soup and kind words, the youngster was pronounced fit again.

Justice Boyles to Step Down

State Court Vacancy Could Give Democrats First Majority

LANSING (AP) — Justice Emerson R. Boyles retires from the Michigan Supreme Court Dec. 30, raising the prospect of Democratic control of the high bench for possibly the first time since the Civil War era.

Boyles, 75, has submitted notice of his intention to step down after 16 years. He formally applied for his pension to the state judges' retirement board.

His successor will be named by Democratic Gov. Williams, if the governor makes a choice from within his party, it would give the Democrats a five to three margin over Republicans on the court after the first of the year.

The remainder of the Boyles term which expires Dec. 31, 1959, then will be filled permanently at the spring election next April.

The Democrats are Justices Edward M. Sharpe, Eugene F. Black, George Edwards and Talbot Smith.

Technically, Supreme Court Justices run as non partisans but they are nominated at political party conventions.

Under state law, Boyles faced the alternative of retiring before the end of the year, or continuing in office and surrendering pension rights. If he chose to continue in office, he would be ineligible for re-election.

There's Amazing Sun Around Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Amazing. That's the weather man's word for it.

So far this month, sunshine in Los Angeles has averaged 98 per cent of possible.

"We've had 21 days of 100 per cent sunshine," he exclaimed.

The 98 per cent beats the former record for sunshine in one month — 96 per cent in November 1929.

4,299 Towboats Ply Waterways of Nation

St. LOUIS—There are 4,299 towboats operating over the rivers and intracoastal channels of the United States. They push or pull 13,888 barges, capable of carrying in a single load 11,384,135 tons of cargo, a "haul" equivalent to the total average maximum freight capacity of 210,817 railroad cars.

Oil Industry Says No Rationing Needed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The domestic oil industry is confident it can offset the cut-off of Middle East supplies without bringing about any need for rationing in this country.

There is general aggreement, both in the industry and among government officials, of the ability of domestic producers to meet all of this country's needs as well as supply oil-short Western Europe.

Robert L. Wood of Midland, Tex., president of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America (IPAA), says U. S. production may be stepped up to fill the gap without creating any necessity of gasoline or oil rationing in this country.

Similar assurances have come from many other industry spokesmen.

Also elected were Mrs. Walter Hubner, vice president; Mrs. Lyle Cox, recording secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Hoyt, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Harry Lunsford, treasurer.

Devotions, "Challenge Accepted by Shepherds and Wise Men," were given by Mrs. Oak, and Mrs. Lloyd Hoyt presented the program.

A report on mittens made for Cherokee Indians was given, and it was announced that a Christmas party will be held Dec. 10.

Greer Garson True Texan Even With British Accent

By JOAN HANAUER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Greer Garson retains her clipped and cultured English accent, but otherwise she has become a true Texan.

The fair-skinned, flame-haired actress declared with incongruous British speech: "I can brag with the best of them."

This is what comes of marrying millionaire Buddy Fogelson and splitting up her living time between Dallas, a ranch near Pecos, New Mexico, and Hollywood, with side trips to New York and points east.

Her present way of life also has perfected her acting career, and explains why she gives television the nod in favor of films.

"I'm discussing a film now," she said, "And if the script comes out right I'll do it. Otherwise not. I'm not chasing movies. I've had a lot of wonderful roles, more than the average share of fine subjects.

"Television," she added, with the accent on the vision, "suits my schedule. I don't want to be tied up for four months at a time making a movie. With television, I can whip into New York, or Hollywood, stay a few weeks and I've always preferred the short, sharp sprint to the marathon."

Greer's latest adventure in television is the part of Regina in "The Little Foxes" on the Hallmark Hall of Fame.

"It was offered to me," she said, "and I said 'Thank you very much' before anyone could draw a breath. It's a good change of pace for me—I've been so associated with the virtuous, sweet, kindly, patient, understanding kind of woman."

In case those who remember Tallulah Bankhead in the Broadway version draw back in horror at the thought of the very British sounding Miss Garson handling the role, she is taking lessons to learn the dialect.

This will make her sound right at home in Dallas, where she says the people are "just wonderful," as compared to her words for people in general, "pretty nice."

"It's a good thing Texas weather's so bad during the summer," she said, turning a typical Texan trick by making a drawback into an asset. "Everybody who can afford it goes abroad, and they come back with new ideas on everything from fashions to literature. It's a land of challenge, and the people have met it beautifully."

The question often arises as to why a woman, who made a considerable amount of money and married a millionaire besides, continues to work. Miss Garson said:

"Everyone has to work. I consider it a privilege to do so. I can't imagine a more miserable existence than not working. My husband is wise enough to know if he asked me to stop I'd be miserable and he'd be the villain."

Dance Is Held by Hoedowners

The "Gobbler's Gavotte," held Saturday by the Hoedowners, had Ted Hoyt as master of ceremonies.

Calling quadrilles and novelty dances were Cecil Elsholz, Roy Burch, Fred Froede, Howard Hatfield, Harvey Gilchrist and Dewitt Hart.

New members received were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wier, Mr. and Mrs. George Beauchamp, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Skelton and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hauser.

Yule Arrangements You Can Copy Seen at Floral Exhibit

Nearly 1500 persons visited Pearce Floral Co. Sunday afternoon to view its seventh annual open house. There were arrangements for many occasions, but the majority bespoke the coming of the Christmas season. Outside, the snow added an appropriate background.

One simple arrangement — and one anyone could duplicate—was a silver compote filled with shiny red apples, pitisforum leaves, holly and a red candle. Pitisforum leaves are small slender leaves growing in a cluster.

Another simple, but effective idea showed large decanters filled with red and green water. Cones and holly were tied to the bottle necks with Christmas ribbon.

Many footed bowls—or compotes—were used. One compote arrangement had branches of white pine and eucalyptus leaves. It was centered with two green candles, at the base of which were green ornaments. The finishing touch was a bunch of large green grapes.

FRUIT ARRANGEMENT

Bananas were the center of interest in a large arrangement. Gold paint had been sprayed on holly and on a pineapple. The background consisted of Hawaiian ti leaves and desert spoons. One bright touch of color came from artificial red berries.

Sometimes the container is a distinctive feature of the flower piece. Other times it is merely the background. A madonna backed with rhododendron leaves, pine branches and big cones was an example of the first. A monochromatic arrangement of anthurim leaves, philodendron, holly, cones and evergreens in a bowl of neutral shade was the second.

Pink is becoming increasingly more important for Christmas. A whimsical centerpiece used one white branch sprayed lightly with pink. Saucy pink styrofoam angels with gold halos and gold chin bows hung from the branches. The tree was entwined with pink tinsel and spattered with clear plastic stars.

PINK PREDOMINATES

Another pink arrangement was placed in a milk glass hobnail compote. The flowers were pink sweetheart roses. White pine and fern sprays added the green touch. Pink hucklebubbles (they're tiny bits of styrofoam on huckleberry leaves) and a white candle helped give height. Two charming angel figurines completed the bouquet.

Gardenias look good against a background of Christmas greens. One Pearce designer nestled them among pitisforum, white pine and huckleberry and added one tall white candle.

Imagination will show you possibilities in ordinary household objects. Whoever thought of painting a metal colander white and gluing a scalloped collar of red felt around the top used that imagination. Then the container was filled with greens and ornaments.

A jelly glass wrapped in red foil and topped with a styrofoam ball made a jolly clown. Small ornaments made his features. His ruff was formed by a circlet of Mamie Eisenhower carnations.

Another "tree" was built up in pyramid shape with small artificial apples and oranges. Holly circled the base.

For New Year's Eve there was a flocked bell arrangement with "Happy New Year" written on the ribbon. The styrofoam base was sprinkled with blue glitter. Silver spray ornaments made the clappers.

There were many many more arrangements in the show, over a hundred in all. Especially festive were the old favorite vase friends, Mr. and Mrs. Claus. Both were filled with red carnations, white mums and holly berries.

Take to Night Life

Tweeds — for Elegance

Time was when the mention of tweeds brought to mind visions of briar pipes, tramping over the moors and the bluff camaraderie of the horsy set.

But tweeds have changed, along with the times, and nowadays some of the most feminine and elegant cocktail, dinner and theater outfits are made of British tweeds sheer as a whisper and light as a fluff of thistledown.

In a season notable for the return of elaborate formal fashions, some of the most dramatic are done in tweeds, alone or in combination with rich satins or brocades.

Notable examples are Vera Maxwell's striking evening ensembles which combine tweed and silk brocade in tender or vivid colors.

MANDARIN COAT

She does a full length mandarin evening coat in flame tweed, lined in brocade to match the long sheath beneath.

Another version is a short dinner ensemble in pale blue tweed and matching brocade, coat lined to match the dress.

Black tweed is another innovation of the season, used by Anthony Blotta in a strictly elegant theater coat lined and faced in white wool.

Other designers are employing tweeds in dressy separates such as an embroidered gray tweed skirt and cashmere sweater, or tweed coats trimmed with mutation mink.

Use Foot Care on Shop Days

Good advice on footcare is in order before the holiday shopping season gets underway, and here's some of the best.

A warm soapy soak relaxes the feet, rests them from the pressure of even the best-fitting shoes—and smooths out the lines in your face like nothing else will.

Don't be content to just soak your feet; instead scrub them all over with a well-lathered brush and get the circulation racing around again.

Romantic Mood Regains Favor in Home Decor

NEW YORK (INS) — A romantic mood reminiscent of the turn of the century is becoming a popular concept in home decorating.

It can be created by carefully selecting certain types of hand-screened wallpaper murals and blending or matching draperies as a complement to the total effect.

The Frence fleur-de-lys dominates another wall pattern, shown in a bathroom setting with the design matched in the lavatory bowl and on hand towels as well as in the wallpaper.

The true contemporary trend is revealed in a patio room featuring wrought-iron furniture. Over the glass-louvered windows of the room is a drapery panel repeating the wrought-iron design.

A dressing-room area is quaint yet modern with a beveled prop mirror. A design similar to the mirror itself is carried out in the surrounding wallpaper.

Terrycloth Tips for Tiny Toddlers

It's easy to sew a double duty terrycloth robe that's just what mother ordered for toddlers. Make it to slip on and snap shut in a second—to serve as a bathrobe, bib, or beach robe.

Cut it ankle length and full enough to cover anything. The most welcome feature of terrycloth, of course, is that it's machine washable and dries quickly —without ironing.

Should Failures Study Successes?

By ANNE HEYWOOD

People who feel that they are failures are often urged to read biographies and take inspiration from those who have made a success of their lives. But I have found this isn't such a good idea.

By the time a person is the subject to a biography, his life is pretty well organized and the steps that led to his success look logical and well-planned.

Actually, it's only when it has added up that a life seems to have been purposeful. The famous person, before he became famous, was groping in every bit as thick a fog as you are this minute.

I know this is true because I've watched enough people struggle, doubt and despair, before they accomplished their successes.

For example, when Mrs. K., the well-known novelist, is appearing on a television show, her whole life seems guided by destiny.

She wanted to write, so she struggled at her typewriter while the children were young.

She met the famous editor who said just the right inspiring words and she plugged along, gaily papering the wall with her rejection slips, but knowing all along that she couldn't lose.

NO SUCH THING

The truth is, she never knew any such thing.

A dozen times she gave up the whole idea of writing and went off on a tangent in another field. She was often filled with self-doubt and convinced that she was just kidding herself in thinking she could write.

But when she tells it on television, it becomes a brave, gay saga of the stout soul, convinced of her own talent, plugging along, never letting rejection slips bother her.

As far as I can tell, there's only one common denominator of the people who succeed, only one moral to be gained by reading their biographies. And that is that they learn how to live with their self-doubt.

They take it for granted that they're going to have a pretty consistent climate of despair and learn to work right along anyway.

They sail on uncharted seas, with no guarantee that they'll ever get anywhere, and persisit in the voyage for reasons they honestly couldn't explain.

STOP YEARNING

If you're trying to make something of your life and not seeming to get very far, stop longing for the perfect road map, the flawless compass.

Face the fact that the unsureness is part of the game and that all that really matters is the continued effort even though your mind tells you that nothing could possibly come of it! But something will!

Couple Rude to Carry On Public Spat

Friend Advised to Appear Unaware of Quarreling

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "Isn't it very rude for people to have disagreements before outsiders? I have a friend who frequently quarrels with her husband in my presence about one thing or another and then each one tries to get me involved by taking sides.

"This places me in a terrible spot and I don't know what to do. I would appreciate some advice on this matter."

Answer: Quarreling at any time is dreadful, but quarreling before people is inexcusable and shocking. The only thing you can do is to seem completely unaware of any disagreement.

When they appeal to you and you are forced to make some kind of answer, try to be noncommittal and not to get drawn into it. Say, "Sorry, but I don't know!"

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter thinks that 'thank you' said to each one personally at the wedding reception in return for wedding presents is sufficient. I disagree and think that she should follow up the verbal thanks with short personal notes. Will you please tell us who is right?"

Answer: The brief "thank you" said at the wedding reception is not considered appreciative or polite. When someone has taken pains to choose and send a lovely present, the least a bride can do is to send a note or else go to see the giver to say thank you personally.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I lost my mother this summer and would like to know if it would be proper for my husband and me to send Christmas cards to our friends?"

Answer: This is entirely a matter of your own personal feeling. There is no impropriety in wishing your friends a happy Christmas if you feel able to do so. On the other hand, your friends will surely understand if you don't send cards this year.

New Citizens League to Hear Italian Consul

Dr. Antonio Carloni, consul of Italy will be guest speaker at the 18th annual Citizenship Dinner being held by the New Citizens League of Pontiac Thursday. The dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Pontiac High School cafeteria.

Final arrangements for the evening were made at a meeting of the executive board of the league held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Durr on Stanley avenue. Vocal numbers will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lindquist.

Dior Stresses Mystery of Dark Stockings

Dior says this is the end-all of real winter elegance, marking the difference between average fashion sense and well-trained, high-style taste.

He was "inspired" by Shakespeare's "Hamlet" to cover women's legs with stockings in a dark shade called "Elseneur," after the palace of Elsinor.

But women should choose their hosiery from the standpoint of distinction rather than eccentricity in Dior's opinion.

Pale stockings, for instance, would clash with the new bronze-green and autumn-brown colors so fashionable this year. The new dropped skirt-length also calls for darker leg covering.

November is the time to switch from light to darker tones and Dior advises that you may come back to paler colored stockings in April.

Don't Force Child to Give Up Toys

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A sixth birthday recently brought Frank C. the usual influx of new toys. To make room for them on his shelves, his mother had to move others to his closet.

She writes, "I could hardly get them in, so jammed is the closet with toys the boy has been accumulating for years. Last year, we tried to persuade him to give some away, but he refused to part with any. What can we do about this?"

It's never wise, I think, to try to "persuade" a child to give away what he wants to keep.

However, we can recognize that Frank is unable to release the stagnation in his toy closet—and release it for him. Let's simply pack up his most outgrown toys for storage in the attic or cellar.

This removal, which we can assure him maintains his ownership of his property, also breaks his close contact with it. By next year, he may be ready to acknowledge that he hasn't missed his old toys and be willing to give some away.

DUE TO DISTRUST

Children hoard toys for the same reason that very old people cling to useless belongings—distrust of their capacity to acquire better ones. When we allow children to accumulate a lot of unused, outgrown playthings, we encourage that distrust.

Personally, I believe in retiring one outgrown toy for every new one a youngster receives at Christmas and birthdays. If we begin this custom early in his life, he accepts it, and with it, changes in his own growth.

Though we should be tender with his attachment to certain old toys, we must help him know he prefers play with his new building set to playing with his old blocks. If we keep the old blocks around him all the time, we don't focus his interest in new experience and his newly developed powers.

Until Frank has really accepted himself as a 6-year-old boy, we mustn't give his 3-year-old toys away.

In Dr. Erich Fromm's new book, "The Art of Loving," he writes, "In the act of giving, I experience my strength, my wealth, my powers. I experience myself as overflowing, spending, joyous. Giving is more joyous than receiving because in it lies the expression of my aliveness."

If we use force or moral persuasion to make a child give away what he wants to keep, he thinks of himself, not as strong and powerful, but as weak and deprived. Our aggressiveness increases his problem of self-distrust.

Dr. Heller Slated at B'nai B'rith

Dr. James G. Heller will be the speaker at the Wednesday evening meeting of B'nai B'rith Lodge 850, at Congregation B'nai Israel Hall on Oneida road.

Speaking on "Current Events," Dr. Heller has a background of community relations with State of Israel bond organization and has served as rabbi of Isaac M. Wise Temple in Cincinnati for 32 years. He has also served as president of LZOA.

All members, their families and the public are welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

About the only thing to do about those very low chairs, to avoid being awkward, is to stay out of them. Otherwise, you may need help in getting up and this is not a graceful picture.

Cook's Own Cake Recipe Is Shared

Mrs. Antrobus Says Devils Food Loaf Is Foolproof One

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Recently at a meeting we remade the acquaintance of a woman whom we had first enjoyed meeting some years ago. Mrs. Frank Antrobus, today's cook, has lived in Pontiac only a few years.

In addition to the Opti-Mrs Club and the PTA, Mrs. Antrobus spends much time helping her son with his activities. She loves to garden and to arrange flowers.

SARAH'S DEVILS FOOD CAKE
By Mrs. Frank Antrobus

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup vegetable shortening
2 cups sugar
3 eggs, separated
1 cup buttermilk or sour milk
2½ cups sifted flour
6 tablespoons cocoa
1½ teaspoons vanilla
½ cup warm water
1½ teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon baking powder

Cream shortenings and sugar, add egg yolks and beat well. Sift dry ingredients together. Dissolve soda in warm water. Add vanilla to buttermilk.

Add dry ingredients alternately with buttermilk. Add dissolved soda. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold in carefully.

Bake in two 9-inch greased layer pans or 9x13 loaf pan. It will take 35 minutes for the layers or 40-45 for the loaf in a 375-degree oven. This makes a large cake.

Icing

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon cocoa
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups confectioners sugar

Beat all together until of spreading consistency. Add more sugar if necessary.

If your legs are heavy, you can slim them down by wearing very plain, trim pumps and hosiery in a darker shade than you ordinarily choose. For legs that are too thin or bowed, seamless stockings are a great help.

For tiny figures: the cape that stops at the waist or slightly above instead of the longer length which cuts the figure in half.

To correctly proportion your figure, divide it into thirds—one-third above the waist leaving the two-thirds to give you that desirable long-limbed look and make you seem inches taller and slimmer.

Pocket Insert Saves Hankies

For the fashion-conscious male, whose handkerchiefs are initialed along the square-top in the TV manner, there's a new pocket-insert that keeps the fine linen from sagging and crumpling.

The wearer slips his folded handkerchief into this case—just the right size to be concealed by the breast pocket while revealing the full decorative intitials. When soiled, the holder can be washed in soap or detergent suds.

Jute, whose fiber makes cloth and burlap bags, grows eight to 10 feet tall.

A delightfully young sleeveless frock that can double as a jumper for cooler weather and as a smart sun dress when summer comes.

No. 8451 with Patt-O-Rama included is in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 12 (32 bust), 4½ yards of 45-inch.

For this pattern, send 35c in coins, your name, address, size desired, and the pattern number to Sue Burnett, The Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy Street, Chicago 6, Illinois.

Send an extra 25 cents now for your copy of the Fall & Winter '56 issue of our complete pattern book Basic Fashion—a complete sewing guide for every woman who sews for herself and her family.

If You Can't Be Bothered, You're Really Getting Old

Concentrate on Pleasure, Satisfaction Rather Than Weighing Trouble

By RUTH MILLETT

"I wish I didn't have all those big trees. It makes my yard so messy in the fall when the leaves start falling. And keeping them raked is such a job."

I actually heard a woman say that the other day. And I've often heard mothers say, "The kids want a dog. But I put my foot down. They are so much trouble."

In life, nothing is too much trouble when it gives pleasure and satisfaction or a feeling of accomplishment or the comforting knowledge that one has been of help to someone else.

Bringing up children is trouble. Keeping friends is trouble. Taking part in community affairs if trouble. Developing your own talents and interests is trouble. Pitching in to help others is trouble. Making your surrounding as attractive as possible is trouble.

The secret of full, rich living is to avoid weighing the trouble involved in undertakings.

NARROWING LIFE

Once you start counting the cost in terms of bother or inconvenience or responsibility, you start narrowing your life.

You would like to have this, but it too much trouble to make the effort to acquire it. You would like to do that, but maybe it isn't worth the bother.

Your husband would like to have guests entertained in his own home but it's too much trouble so you take them out. He would like to have you learn to hunt or fish or go with him on a business trip but it is easier to stay at home.

Once you start thinking more of trouble than of satisfaction you will find that there are more and more things that just aren't worth the effort.

And then, whether you know it or not, you are old. Maybe not in years, but in your attitude toward life.

What's a little trouble if it brings you or someone else pleasure or satisfaction?

Neck Mirror Frees Hands

Gift idea for any woman: A 'round-the-neck mirror that leaves both her hands free for doing her hair.

One side is a magnifying mirror, the other side plain to promote better grooming, more attention to the little aspects of beauty and neatness.

Homebody Should Snatch Time for Herself

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The following is a reproduction of part of a letter I received recently from one of my readers:

"Apropos of your article—'I am Just a Housewife' — Sister, you made me boil! So a homebody can lie down whenever she wants to, huh? She isn't under pressure, huh?

"Not under pressure? No matter how much pressure a career girl might be under, she usually has Saturdays, Sundays, holidays AND a two-week vacation. How much time does a housewife have off?

"Go to the library? The only time I ever go is to get some mystery stories for my husband. I consider it a great luxury to be able just to read today's paper today.

"I do not like the term 'housewife' either but I detest the word 'homemaker.' Every time some syrupy-voiced characer on radio or TV says 'Dear Homemakers' I feel like throwing something.

"I don't know what I think I have accomplished by writing this letter but I just had to blow off some steam."

SAFETY VALVES

You have accomplishd just what you said, "blown off steam." That is one way we writers can be of service to our readers. We often act as safety valves.

You also have presented the other side of the picture, one which I myself often have written about in this column. Over and over again I have said that there is no harder job in the world than taking care of a house and young children, without help.

I have urged that the woman in the home some way be given some time away from her job. Both the career woman and the one in the home have advantages and disadvantages.

In the article which disturbed this reader I was suggesting that the housewife always keep in mind the importance of her job, that new information about child psychology, interior decorating and nutrition would add zest to her life.

I still think, and know from experience, that the woman in the home CAN lie down once in a while for a few minutes if she really wants to do so. She CAN spend a few minutes on herself. I think the woman who wrote to me is making a mistake in not taking out a few books for herself when she does go to the library.

Every woman can spend a few moments on herself.

KEEP INDIVIDUALITY

The care of a home and small children is so demanding and constant that unless the woman makes a real effort to avoid it occasionally she will lose sight of herself as an individual.

Time wrenched from duties, even a small bit of time which is invested in rest or diversion (a hobby perhaps) will allow her to live her life with less fatigue and more zest.

The women in the home sometimes forget that many of the "career" women also run homes, and even have children. Many of them work harder over the weekend than they do during the week.

If we are determined to do so we can enliven any rut we find ourselves in.

"FAIR LADY" FASHIONS NEED SPECIAL MAKEUP

"My Fair Lady," the great Broadway hit, has had a far-reaching effect on current styles. This winter faces will be framed in sparkling satins, white fur, misty floating veils, huge Edwardian roses, ribbons, jewels and bows. Clothes are elegant and extravagant this season.

It seems to me that such garments cry for special makeup. Therefore, I went to Max Factor, adviser to the Hollywood stars, for his opinion.

Mr. Factor said, "There will be more beautiful and young looking women over 50 during this 'Fair Lady' fashion season than in years." He feels that the makeup designed for these fashions is so time-subtracting that women will use it for several years to come.

This makeup is more feminine. It will have more rose in it. Rouge will be used much more than it has been for years. Here is some advice from Mr. Factor:

Choose your foundation makeup on the pale side of the color chart but be sure it has a touch of rose in the blend. A small amount of rose in pale foundation makeup removes the chalk-line, age-making look and adds a true glow of youth to the older face.

HI-FI COLORS

The most transparent and glowing foundation makeup is the liquid type with natural high-fidelity colors. Some of these have a softening ingredient which dispels the lines caused by dryness. Rouge is a must with the new "Fair Lady" look. Liquid or cream rouge in the color most flattering to you should be an important part of your makeup.

Do not try to give your complexion a sheen. The "Fair Lady" look calls for a matte finish. Also the matte finish is more youthful looking for a woman over 40. It does not produce highlights and shadows so easily. Use your face powder generously.

At the very last, after you have completed your lip and eye makeup, look again to be sure that you have enough rouge on. You may not have applied a sufficient amount at first. If you feel you need more, use dry rouge this time.

With your "Fair Lady" clothes and your "Fair Lady" makeup, you will feel more feminine and glamorous than you have in a long time. These fashions are most flattering!

Vienna Orchestra Wants Good Look at America

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — The Venna Philharmonic Orchestra's 112 members, arriving here in two planes to begin a tour of 30 American cities, were eager to crowd in as much sightseeing as possible between rehearsals and concerts.

The orchestra was founded in 1842 and is one of the world's oldest. None of its current membership, however, has ever visited this country.

Besides the usual tourists' desire to get a good look at the nation's capital, the all-male company had a list of other American landmarks they wanted to see—New York's skyline, an Indian reservation, the Grand Canyon, Yellowstone National Park and Miami, Fla., among them.

But topping the list for the majority, according to a spokesman for the group, was a visit to the American honeymoners' mecca—Niagara Falls.

On the social side there was a reception by Austrian Ambassador and Mrs. Hans Gruber, and in New York a big shindig in the Waldorf-Astoria's Rainbow Room.

ALSO A MUSICIAN

Contrary to tradition, the philharmonic's manager is also a member of the orchestra—Helmut Wobisch, its second trumpet player.

The philharmonic, which has had such famed conductors as Richard Wagner, Verdi, Gustav Mahler and Bruno Walter, has played without interruption since 1860, giving most of its concerts in Vienna on Sunday mornings.

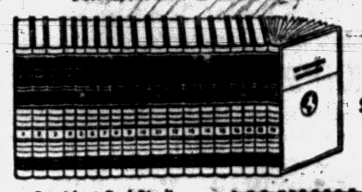

It is also the orchestra for the Vienna Opera, whose glamorous and much heralded reopening took place last year.

Besides its own National Symphony and its long list of guest arists—including violinist Yehudi Menuhin and pianists Artur Rubinstein, Iturbi, and Dame Myra Hess—it has on the agenda the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Boston Symphony and the Beethoven Festival.

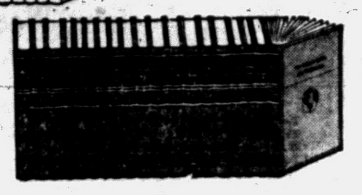

Earlier we welcomed here the famed Carabinieri Band of Rome on its first visit to this country.

Give Knits the Care They Rate

Knits are bigger news this year than in any year past. Sweaters are enjoying a resurgence. Knitted coats, jackets, dresses, costumes and accessories are fairly rushing off the machines.

Of the new items, the tapered polo coat is done in a flat but bulky stitch.

Dressed often have drawstring waistlines. In many cases, the drawstring produces the bloused look that's in great favor this fall. The bloused line is just above the hips, making the skirt look very skinny.

Caring for these knits is largely a matter of reading the labels. Generally speaking, they're best washed by hand in the basin or bath tub.

WASH WITH CARE

All wools should be washed only in lukewarm soap or detergent suds, rinsed in lukewarm water. Wool should get an extra serving of suds because wool fibers absorb more suds than others.

Unless a tag or label says the garment won't shrink, assume it will fit better if it's blocked while drying.

Heavy coats should be done in a large tub with lukewarm suds and rinses. After its washing, a knit coat should be blotted in a beach towel.

Then a plastic sheet should be laid on the floor. The coat should be spread on it and smoothed and shaped by hand. Seams and bindings should be pulled gently into line.

When that top layer is nearly dry, the coat should be turned and patted into shape again.

Good rule for a well-proportioned body line, no matter wha the current fashion, is to keep your hemlines never longer than the bottom of the rounded part of the calf and never shorter than the top of the calf.

Sees New Hope for Handicapped

Child Genius Can Also Be 'Retarded'

By JANE COCHRAN

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — The child genius who can design jet planes at the age of nine might be considered as much a retarded child as one who simply cannot learn to read — in fact, "All of us are a little bit retarded in some way."

This is the word of Dr. I. I. Goldberg, educational consultant for the National Association of Retarded Children.

In San Francisco during a nationwide tour of public and private facilities for such children, Dr. Goldberg explained his statement that all persons are a bit retarded by saying:

"Consider the prodigy, the genius who enters college age 9 or 10 or who composes music at 5 or 6.

"Such children are a terrific problem. The child who knows everything about engineering or music often loses touch in the social area. Parents cannot reach him. In the lack of social perception he is as handicapped as a child deficient in the mental area."

Dr. Goldberg believes, however, that all retarded children should be regarded as salvageable until all efforts have failed.

NEW ERA OF HOPE

Dr. Goldberg regards the past five years as the real beginning of new hope for these children.

He said:

"Five years ago parents started to get on the ball. This stimulated educators, forced things. No longer do parents regard it as a stigma to have a retarded child. They do not hide the child away.

"While it is sometimes necessary to send an older retarded child to a school where he will have companions on his own level I have noticed that infants in nurseries for retarded children respond to the grimaces and smiles of visitors staring through the glass. All the children close to the window in one place I observed were much livelier than those farther away, so we rotated the children with very good results."

WOULD TRAIN TEACHERS

Dr. Goldberg's aim is to set up others to train them in working with retarded children. He expecially would like to see the elimination of any measure for deciding what is or what is not a retarded child.

The drama of black "pearls" used in combination with fresh water "pearls" produces jewelry that gives a new look to dark jewelry for winter. Jet and crystal follow the same theme (left) in two necklaces entwined to form a hair ornament and a third used to edge the decolletage. The pearls (right) appear in necklace, earrings and another necklace for the hairdo.

British-French Act in Error, Says Greek

NEW YORK (INS) — "Britain and France have made the gravest political mistake of the century by invading Egypt," Greek Prime Minister Constantin Karamanlis stated shortly before his departure for Athens last week.

He added: "This should not be construed as an approval of Soviet policy in the Middle East, not to speak of Hungary. Moscow's threat of sending "volunteers" to Egypt recalled bitter memories of the early post-war years when Soviet "volunteers" supported the Communist insurrection in Greece. Certainly, we would never permit the violation of our air space by Soviet airplanes transporting 'volunteers' to Egypt."

The youthful Greek statesman who came to the U.S. for the current United Nations assembly session, asserted that "the British-French action has failed to solve the Middle East crisis but contributed to the deterioration of the situation in the satellite countries I believe this mistaken action has discouraged many who were ready to revolt and help the Hungarian freedom fighters. The United Nations would have had a much stronger case against Russian intervention in Hungary if the Suez invasion had never happened."

"During the past critical weeks we were greatly encouraged by the attitude of the United States which was both courageous and wise. It is my firm conviction that America must exercise its great influence in international affairs as a leading world power.

"This is the only way to preserve peace and prevent the outbreak of another World War. Despite the overwhelming desire for peace, there is always a danger of 'spontaneous combustion,' even though we all agree that only a crazed man could wish for war."

Praising President Eisenhower as an "outstanding statesman," Karamanlis said:

"One of the wisest decisions of the United States government was to act through the United Nations. Greece believes in strengthening the United Nations and equipping it with a permanent police force capable of maintaining world peace. We are even ready to welcome a United Nations intervention in Cyprus, although we believe that this burning problem could be satisfactorily solved by direct negotiations among Cyprus, Greece, Britain and Turkey.

"We are not hostile toward the British, we would like to restore the historic friendship between our nations and we certainly do not wish to weaken NATO. Therefore, it was with great reluctance that we had to take the Cyprus question to the United Nations. We did so only after Britain had foiled all direct negotiations by steadfastly refusing to recognize the principle of self-determination for Cyprus. We could not abandon our fellow-Greeks in this difficult hour.

"However, I firmly believe that the chances of resuming direct talks and carrying them through to a successful conclusion would improve by fifty per cent if the British government would free Archbishop Makarios who is political as well as religious leader of his people."

Answering a question as to Greece's attitude toward the current crisis in the Mediterranean, the Prime Minister said:

"We are true neutrals. We maintain traditionally good relations with Egypt and have friendly ties with all Arab states and also Israel. Despite the Cyprus controversy, we are allied to the West. Consequently I believe, we are in a good position to act as a mediator—however, we would not assume such a role unless we were requested by both sides to do so."

'Just Married' Who?

IRVINE, Ky. (AP)—It was a clean getaway—for the newlyweds. Donald Clay Hardy and the former Miss Ann Stevens drove away from the church without a single tin can or old shoe tied to their car.

But the minister, Rev. Keith Bell, found his car, one just like the newlyweds', decorated with a "Just Married" sign and long string of cans.

American aerial photographers were so accurate that they were able to estimate within 40 men the 4,000 Japanese soldiers stationed on an island in the South Pacific.

The Saratoga, U. S. aircraft carrier is 1,039 feet in length and 252 feet in width, the longest and broadest craft believed ever constructed.

Missing Tree Passes Through Many Channels

DETROIT (AP) — The mystery of the missing Christmas tree is solved. It was found growing in John Cunningham's front yard.

The 17-foot Douglas fir had been removed from an expressway project by department of public works employes. They planned to use it for a Christmas tree but it disappeared Monday before they could haul it away.

Cunningham, of suburban St. Clair Shores, proved he hadn't lifted it. He bought it fair and square for $106 from a tree service. The tree service got it for $5 from A. E. Thorpe, whose firm clears condemned houses from expressway routes.

Thorpe's contract gives him the right to dispose of discarded material. He saw the dug up tree and thought he had title so passed it on to the tree service.

After some head scratching, city officials decided Cunningham could keep the tree. But Thorpe will have to buy a replacement—costing some $300—so the DPW can have a Christmas tree.

VIEW GMC PLANT—A. A. Shantz, federal government sales manager for GMC Truck & Coach Division, describes an assembly operation to three Argentine Army officers as Lt. Col. Bascomb Montgomery, assistant commanding officer of the Detroit Ordnance District, looks on. Forty-one Argentine officers, accompanied by U. S. Army officers, toured GMC's facilities in Pontiac last week as part of a month's study of U. S. industrial techniques. Pictured from left to right: Lt. Col. Montgomery; Col. Pontiac Host Wednesday to Foreign Manufacturers

Pontiac will be hosts to industry delegates from foreign countries during the Third International Conference of Manufacturers to begin Wednesday in New York.

John H. Parsons and his wife, Helen, of 9165 Evee St., Independence Township, are part of the United States contingent of hosts to receive the foreign delegates in New York for five days of meetings and banquets.

When the New York sessions are over, the foreign delegates will be divided into groups and return with their American hosts to visit the industries in their respective parts of the country.

"The international conference of manufacturers began in 1952," said Parsons. "The NAM (National Association of Manufacturers) were hosts to European envoys sent to visit the industries in the United States.

"The meeting between industrialists of the two continents proved such a success that an international conference was established to meet alternately in Paris and New York every two years."

Parsons, an active member of NAM, was a U. S. delegate to the second conference at Paris in 1954.

After the Paris sessions the Americans were separated into eight groups and sent to different parts of Europe. Parsons went to Italy where he toured the Fiat Motor Company in Turin. Giovanni Agnelli, vice president of Fiat Motor Company, was on the reception committee that met Parsons' group at Rome.

TO RECIPROCATE

Said Parsons: "Agnelli couldn't have been a nicer host. We went to an Italian fair and toured the Fiat plant which employs 72,000 men. When Agnelli comes here I want to reciprocate in the way he treated me in Italy. He is due to arrive in Pontiac December 9.

"A good portion of the 150 foreign delegates arriving in New York will visit the industries in the Detroit area. I expect to show many of them the General Motors Truck and Coach plant in Pontiac."

For the first time invitations were sent to industrialists of Canada and South America. Countries of Asia and the Soviet Union are not included in the conference.

The main topics of reports and discussion to be presented in the meetings will be on internal organization, automation, nuclear energy and labor-management relations.

Said Parsons: "One of the best ways to cement friendships among countries is to understand each other's methods of business and industry."

Jet Pilot's Family Contacts President

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A mother of three small children has appealed to President Eisenhower to have the search for her missing husband resumed. His Marine jet plane disappeared Nov. 14 over the Lake St. Clair area.

Mrs. Dorothy Sue Wilson, in a telegram to the President, said "We plead to you to continue and widen the search for Capt. William Bennett Wilson and Col. Henry Bock. We all feel sure he is alive, knowing the excellent pilot he is. We prayerfully wait your reply." The telegram also was signed by her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Wilson Sr. of Austin.

Bock, 63, of Houston, also a Marine reservist, was a passenger.

SHOPPING SCENE — Like hundreds of other Pontiac area shoppers, Mrs. Kenneth Walker, of 841 Nash Ave., along with Bruce, 5, packed downtown stores and Tel-Huron Saturday to do some Christmas shopping. With 25 days left to shop, merchants reported a big rush Saturday. Shoppers bundled up kids and themselves to brace against chilly temperatures in the mid 20's.

Real Cool Citizens Arrive at Pole

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP) — The lonely U. S. COLONY near the South Pole swelled to 19 men today with the arrival of two plane loads of construction workers.

The new arrivals joined eight men who had been living in tents on the below-zero, snow-swept plateau since they were landed Tuesday and a St. Louis sergeant who parachuted to join them yesterday.

The sergeant, Richard J. Patton, volunteered to jump in to direct Globemasters which will parachute 450 tons of supplies for the scientific base to be built at the pole.

Two ski-equipped Navy Dakotas landed the 10 construction workers, taking off again for the main Operation Deepfreeze base at McMurdo sound after 30 minutes on the polar snow.

Arrival of the reinforcements was expected to give the construction work a big boost. Bad weather had delayed the second landing. Another flight is planned soon to fly in five more construction workers and Dr. Paul A. Siple, the antarctic veteran who will head the scientific party wintering at the polar base during the International Geophysical Year.

The chief of the construction group at the pole, Lt. Richard A. Bowers of Quonset, R. I., and Harrisburg, Pa., reported by radio that all his men were getting adjusted to the two-mile-high altitude and were well and happy.

Patton's jump, the first such in the history of the antarctic, was the 32nd of his 14 years in the Air Force. Now 31, he has served in Burma, China and Korea.

Thomas T. Montgomery of Vineyard Haven, Mass., reported the weather had averaged about 25 degrees below zero.

Ford Wins Award as Outstanding Man

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — The University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School Alumni Society has named Henry Ford II, President of the Ford Motor Co., as winner of the 1956 gold medal of merit award.

The award, made annually for "outstanding business achievement," will be presented to Ford Dec. 3 at a dinner in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia.

Ford was chosen as the 1956 award winner for his leadership in American economic progress and also for his leadership in public affairs and philanthropy.

The Society cited Ford's vision in leading his company in its current $2,870,000,000 expansion program.

Ford also was cited for his role in the founding of the United Foundation in 1949, for his work as alternate U. S. delegate to the United Nations General Assembly in 1955 and for his "Championing of Great Causes."

NEW DALI PASTIME — Salvador Dali, famed Spanish surrealist artist, takes careful aim with a 13th Century musket. The painter's latest project is engraving a slab of stone by a novel method involving a pencil, string, ink and the gun. Dali loads the musket with a pencil and then aims it at a piece of string which is saturated with ink. The pencil hits the string lying on the stone. The engraving is called "Attack on the Windmills," inspired by Don Quixote de la Manche.

Inside Story of British-French Attack on Egypt

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

NICOSIA (INS)—A small group of men met secretly in London last Aug. 10, two weeks after Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser seized and nationalized the Suez Canal.

These men were given the assignment from the British and French governments to plan military action insuring the internationalization of the vital waterway that supplied the West with oil.

The two London conferences on Suez were yet to come and every possible pressure was being considered to force Nasser to give up the canal without a fight.

But the British and French had decided together even before the first Suez conference on Aug. 16 that, if all else failed, force would be used.

Politically, this was the fulcrum whereon the over-all Anglo-French cooperation balanced better than in many years.

Militarily, a unique problem was posed for the planners. They had to prepare campaign plans for a fight which might come soon, later or never.

The planners were told from the beginning that if operations were undertaken they had to be done with the absolute minimum of loss to Egyptian property and humans.

Finally, the planners were warned that they must keep in their mind always that if action became necessary it risked blowing up the whole Middle East tinderbox and drawing Russia into the fight.

Those were the ground rules when Number Two Corps Headquarters was established on Aug. 10 with Lt. Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell in command.

Ten days later the plans had advanced so far that the over-all Allied command was organized under Gen. Sir Charles Frederick Keightley.

By this time also plans had advanced so far it was decided a Briton would command each of three task forces of the ground, air and navy with a French deputy.

The planning had gone that far before the first London Suez conference ended.

ONLY HANDFUL KNEW

The planners worked on a "need-to-know" basis so that to the very end only a handful of men knew the full picture.

Stockwell's people stuck to detailed military planning. Keightley had the task of coordinating with politicians.

Extremely early in the planning, military men agreed on a three-phase campaign: First, air assault to knock out Nasser's Russian-supplied aerial strength; second, psychological warfare to try to persuade Egypt to negotiate, and third, assault landings.

Finally, four major plans were prepared and each had a number of alternate or modified plans.

Port Said, the northern entrance to the canal, was finally chosen as the landing place because it offered the quickest access to the canal zone.

Throughout the planning period of more than two and a half months, Britian and France gave ample evidence they meant business.

Britain recalled her reservists. Two fleets were deployed to the Eastern Mediterranean. The French moved into the British protectorate of Cyprus — 250 miles from the canal — and practiced parachuting.

Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet conferred with each other in London and Paris with startling frequency.

There were many political changes during the period of planning but military staff officers insist these changes did not affect their work.

Headquarters remained in London until the very end, when all hope of negotiating with Nasser was abandoned.

Stockwell, with his naval and air task forces moved to Cyprus in the Mediterranean on Oct. 20. Keightley's headquarters was shifted to Cyrpus on Oct. 27.

Until that time, Keightley spent most of his time in London, with occasional flights to Cyrups, where he also was commander in chief of land forces in the Middle East.

WAIT FOR WORD

Troops, ships and planes already were in position when Keightley moved his headquarters to Cyprus. All that was wanting was the word from the politicians.

The Anglo-French forces, poised to strike Egypt, got the go ahead from London in the early hours of the morning of Oct. 31.

That night, bombers headed for six major Egyptian airfields with the mission of knocking out Nasser's air force of Russian jet fighters and bombers.

Planes were on their way from Malta to their target of Cairo West Airfield when London flashed a signal to divert to a secondary target because the convoy of Americans evacuating Cairo would be on a highway two miles from Cairo West at the scheduled strike time.

From the British viewpoint this was an unhappy coincidence.

At least half of Nasser's 40 to 50 Ilyushin-28 jet bombers were at Cairo West that night. Soviet equipment was one of the main objectives of the whole operation.

Rare Resins Brought as Gifts by Magi

For nearly 2,000 years people in many lands have discussed the scene of the Wise Men presenting their gifts to the infant Jesus. But somewhat nebulous is the description of the three valuable gifts themselves.

We know what gold is. But how about frankincense and myrrh? Why are they considered so precious?

Frankincense is a fragrant gum resin containing oil from trees. It was valued by the ancients for embalming and fumigation and still is an important ingredient of incense.

Myrrh is a yellow brown, aromatic gum resin with a bitter taste.

Two Believed Lost in Dallas Explosion

DALLAS (AP) — Two men were missing and 14 others were injured in an early morning explosion and fire that razed the Southland Feed Mills elevator here today.

The shattering blast, believed to have been caused by dust, rocked a large section of north Dallas and sparked the fire that turned the 135-foot-high elevator into a flaming torch.

The blast, which knocked out power lines in the immediate area occurred at 3:40 a.m. while a night crew was sacking and loading livestock feed.

The flames, battled by 80 firemen and 19 pieces of equipment, were brought under control shortly before dawn.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

Chapter 27

Wendell and I took our second drinks into the kitchen. It was gleaming white, streamlined, a cooking laboratory.

Off it was a tiny breakfast nook with a window overlooking Washington Square. It was enchanting. We stepped across a corridor. Wendell opened a door and beckoned me through it.

"This," he said, "is the bedroom."

I gasped with pleasure. It was ultra-modern. I'm not a great admirer of the modern, but I admired this. The deep, soft rug begged you to take your shoes off. The sleek, handsome chests of drawers beseeched you to fill them. The tremendous, luxurious bed with its low tables and their graceful lamps extended an irresistible invitation to tumble into it. I wrenched my eyes away from it.

"Wonderful," I murmured. "Merely wonderful."

"And the closets," he said. "Built in, custom designed."

He opened one for me. It was a miracle of efficiency . . . shelves, drawers, cubby holes, clothes racks shoe racks. The closet was almost empty. There were a few dresses in sight, two negligees, a few pairs of shoes; that was all. Mrs. Wendell Kipp must have filled a lot of luggage for her Florida weekend trip.

Wendell took down a negligee, held it up for me to see.

Wendell said, "Wouldn't you be more comfortable in this . . . ? I'll wait for you in the living room."

He leaned toward me a moment, smiling gently, then drifted away toward the living room.

"Wendell," I said.

He stopped at the doorway and turned back to me.

I returned his questioning smile with an answering one. "My purse, it's on the sofa in the living room. Would you mind? My lipstick . . ."

"Of course."

He was back in a moment. He gave me my purse without speaking a word, but his hand, as it touched mine and lingered, wrote a book. Then he was gone. I was alone . . . with the negligee.

Quickly, I put it in the closet. Quickly, I looked through the closet, through the drawers in the chests. I went into the bathroom, looked around there. I spent a frantic moment trying to figure out a way to prove my hunch.

I went to the telephone on one of the bed tables. I spoke softly to the switchboard girl who answered. "Did Mrs. Wendell Kipp leave any message before she left?"

"Mrs. Wendell Kipp? Did you say Mrs.?"

I muttered something and hung up.

The perplexity in the girl's voice had told me that my hunch was right. No woman had ever lived in this apartment and used that sterile kitchen or that barber shop bath. There had been no feminine clothes in the chests of drawers.

No woman would take all her clothes, except those few things in the closet, on a mere weekend trip.

Wendell Kipp had no wife.

His wife was only a myth, created by him to aid and abet his career as this century's Casanova. If a babe, having been informed by Wendell of his wife, still accepted his advances, she was a babe who wanted only to play, and not for keeps. Thus, Wendell saved himself a lot of time and any threat of inconvenience. Wendell Kipp had seduction down to a science.

I got going; I had news for Steve.

I slipped across the corridor, into the kitchen and through its service entrance. I walked down the stairs to the next floor and rang for the elevator there. In the lobby I found the row of house phones. I picked one up.

"Mr. Wendell Kipp, please."

He answered immediately.

"Wendell," I said, "can you talk now? Or is she with you?"

"What . . . who is this?"

"Hester."

"Hester!"

"I heard your wife come in, Wendell, so I slipped out. I'm in the lobby. Look, I hope your wife didn't . . ."

"What! Nobody came in! My wife's in Florida!"

"But I'm sure I heard her."

"Hester, you come back here this minute!"

"No, Wendell, it's spoiled now. I'll call you tomorrow."

"I don't believe you. Listen, what goes with you? Who the hell are you?"

"Wendell, your language!"

"You're giving me some kind of run-around and I don't like it! Listen, damn it, I want to talk to you. Wait down there in the lobby for me . . ."

"All right, dear, I'll wait."

"I'll be right down."

He hung up; I hung up. I got out of the Wellington Hotel as fast as I could.

It wasn't until I stepped into the raw wind pouring across Washington Square that I realized my coat was still folded neatly on a chair in Wendell Kipp's foyer. It was an old coat, but so warm. I wondered if I would ever see it again. I wondered if I would ever see Mr. Kipp again.

Then I decided to get a little pleasure out of my wonder hour so I wondered, while I was looking for a cab, if I, Connie Barton, would ever see my husband Steve again, and I found that definitely worth wondering about.

Steve might still be scouting the neighborhood of the West Twenties for Harriet Kroll and her drinking companion, Mrs. Zeigler; he might have found them and be in conference with them this very moment, or he might have completed his mission and be already home.

I climbed into a cab at Waverly Place. I would just have time to get home, see if Steve was there, pick up a coat and get back to school for my seven o'clock dance lesson. I asked the driver to hurry.

As we pulled around the corner, I looked back at the Wellington. I caught a glimpse of Wendell Kipp hurrying out of the lobby entrance. He was hatless, coatless, but he had a coat over one arm. Mine.

But I wasn't so cold that I wanted to face Mr. Kipp again. I repeated my request to the driver for speed.

Steve wasn't at home.

I slipped into my Sunday coat and back into the cab. I got to the school in time to rate a nod of approval from Leone as I went through the reception room to Studio K.

I gave a dancing lesson.

I said goodbye to my pupil. Just as I was about to follow him down the corridor to the phone booths to call Steve again, a visitor stepped into my studio. It wasn't a social call.

As Jack Walston pounded across the dance floor toward me with that vibrant, jolting walk of his, I knew that this was strictly business connected with a murder.

Young Mr. Walston was grim. When he said that he wanted to talk to me I had the feeling that if I didn't co-operate there would be hell to pay. Then and there, not on any installment plan, I cooperated. Not that I didn't want to. I did; I was curious.

Jack's voice had lashed out at me.

He said, "What's so fascinating about me?"

"That's what is known as a rhetorical question."

"You're so interested in me. You go around asking questions about me."

"Oh," I said. "You've been talking to Hooray Rose."

"You follow me all the way out to Kew Gardens . . ."

"Did you find the car all right?"

"I found it."

"Did you drive up to New Haven? Is that where you and Dottie are going to open your roadhouse?"

He didn't answer. He was doing a little thinking. It didn't seem to get him anywhere. He walked around me in a five-step square. He took a deep breath that heralded our return to speaking terms.

"I don't know," he said, "how the hell you figure in Anita's murder . . . or any of this. I'm going to stop even thinking about it. All I want is the tape recording you have of Anita and me."

"I have a tape recording?"

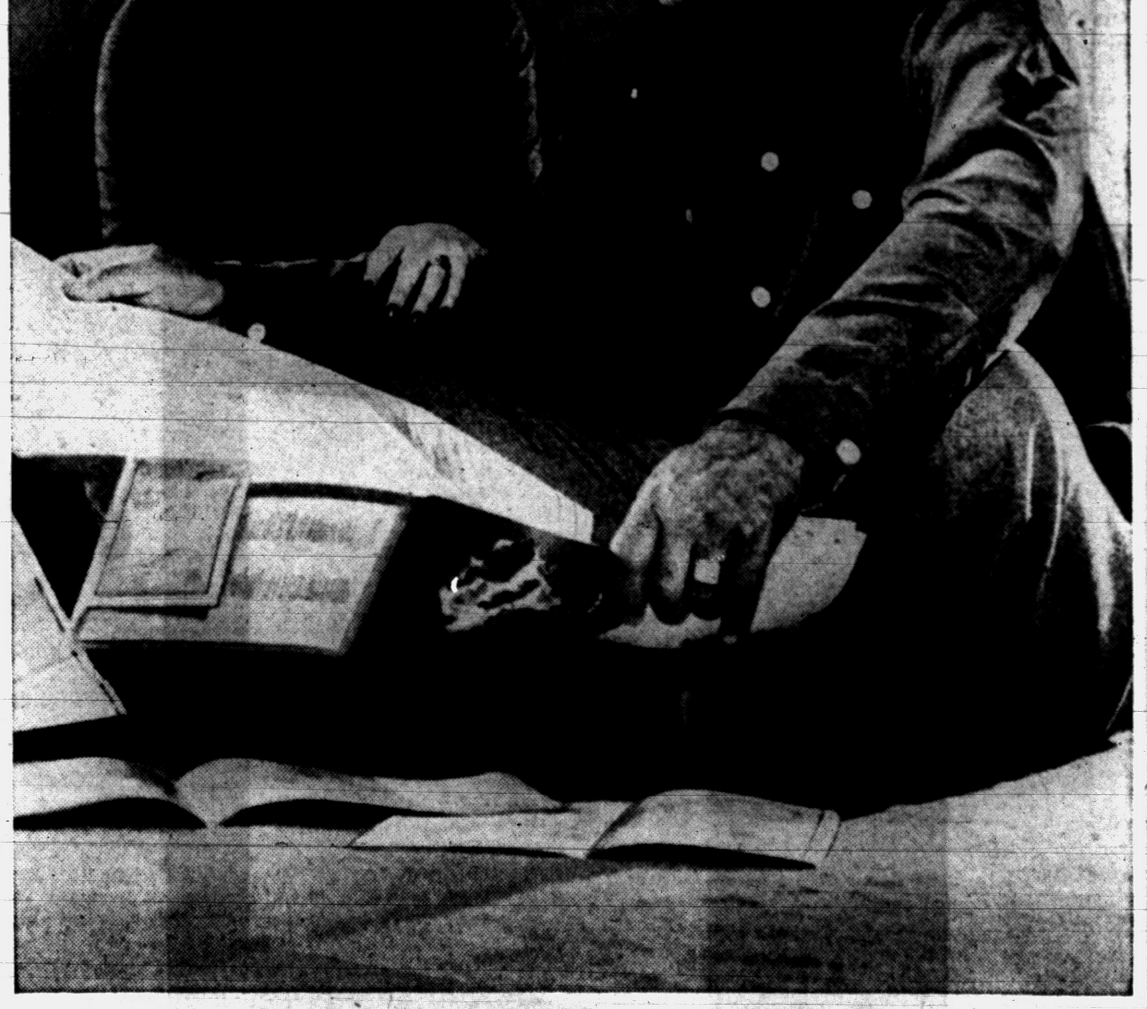

"At least you've heard it. You asked Hooray Rose about Anita and me being dancing partners. I never said a word about that to anybody but Anita . . . and later to Dottie. I know that neither of them would have told you about it. So you heard the recording."

When someone's counting on you...
you can count on life insurance

Life insurance actually provides two forms of protection: First, it enables you to protect your family now. And at the same time, it builds added security for you when you retire. It's money you can count on.

This year, for example, retired men and women will receive millions of dollars from their life insurance companies—either from annuities or their life insurance policies. Annuities alone are now providing more than $400 million a year in income to the American people.

You may be able to use your present life insurance policies to provide income for your retirement. The best person to explain how this may be done is your own life insurance agent.

You will also find helpful suggestions in the new booklet, Your Life Insurance—and How to Use It, which we have prepared as a service to America's policyholders. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. D.

Bears Tie 17-17, But Still Lead Lions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the guy who makes up the National Football League schedule had booked all the Chicago Bears' games in the Windy City and points west, there would be little doubt today about the outcome of the Western Conference scramble.

As it stands, however, the Bears hold a precarious half-game lead over Detroit with a pivotal game to be played next Sunday in the Lions' den.

The Bears, outplayed but not outscored, had the New York Giants 17-17 yesterday on some excellent pass-catching by end Harlon Hill, who scored twice in the fourth quarter.

The result snapped the Bears' seven-game winning streak. Four of the triumphs were in Chicago, another against Green Bay in Milwaukee and two on the West Coast. Their lone setback was at the hands of the Colts in Baltimore in the season's opener.

Hill's heroics left the Bears with 7-1-1 record while the Lions, who were idle, are 7-2.

The Giants, Eastern Conference front-runners with a 6-2-1 mark, lost a half game to the runner-up Chicago Cardinals (6-3) who started fast and coasted to a 38-27 victory over visiting Pittsburgh.

Washington's Redskins, now winners of five straight after dropping their first three, stayed behind Eastern leaders by rallying at Cleveland to edge the Browns 20-17.

The NFL, which hadn't recorded a tie game in its first eight weekends of play, came up with the day's second at Philadelphia where the Eagles and San Francisco 49ers drew 10-10.

Host Baltimore, the West's third place club evened its record at 4-4 with a blazing 56-21 romp over the Los Angeles Rams (2-7), who along with Green Bay (3-6) and San Francisco (2-6-1), have been mathematically eliminated from title contention.

All Eastern clubs still have a chance at the crown, but Philadelphia (3-5-1), Pittsburgh (3-6), and Cleveland (3-6) are long shots.

Better line on the East should be forthcoming next Sunday when the Giants, beaten badly by the Redskins last week, entertain the Washington eleven, and the Cardinals are at home to the Packers.

If the Giants had been able to contain Hill as well as they did fullback Rick Casares—13 yards in 13 carries—and quarterback Ed Brown—his only big play was a TD pass to Hill—they could have held a 17-3 third quarter-lead built on a 17-yard pass play, Don Heinrich to Kyle Rote, Alex Webster's 2-yard plunge and a field goal and two conversions by Ben Agajanian. The Bears' George Blanda equalled Agajanian's performance and Hill hauled in scoring aerials from Bill McColl and Brown, the last with less than two minutes to go.

The Cards opened up at 24-7 halftime lead largely on the running of Ollie Matson and the passing of quarterback Jim Root, and by the time the Steelers got a 20-point final period going it meant little.

Steady Eddie LeBaron pitched 26 yards to end Johnny Carson to pull the Redskins from behind in Cleveland. The scoring play climaxed a 72-yard drive set up by a roughing-the-kicker penalty. The score came with 90 seconds to play.

A 103-yard kickoff return by the Rams' Tom Wilson was overshadowed by the Colts' all-around brilliant play. Baltimore quarterback John Unitas threw three TD strikes and Billy Vessels scored three times.

A 27-yard field goal by Gordy Soltau proved the equalizer for the 49ers. Bobby Walston scored all the Eagles' points in a tight defensive game.

AP Wirephoto

Nothing Settled by 'M' Win

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It was a decisive victory that will be remembered more for what it did not do. Except for the glory and satisfaction that is Michigan's today, little else remains in the wake of the Wolverines' triumph over Ohio State.

The 19-0 score achieved here Saturday didn't send anyone anywhere and didn't keep anyone from going. Although a victory could have pulled the Buckeyes into a first place tie in the Big Ten with Iowa, the setback didn't set off a powder keg at Broad and High, often called the hottest football corner in the land.

The "wolves" are howling for Buckeye coach Woody Hayes but their voice is scarcely heard, and before long the great Michigan victory that brought long sought revenge will be little more than a statistical reminder.

There were scattered choruses of "goodbye Woody" in the big concrete horseshoe after the 19-0 crusher, but they died out quickly. This was the same coach who had directed the Buckeyes to a new Big Ten wining streak and who has yet to have an unsuccessful season at Columbus.

Michigan enthusiasts couldn't rock the big goal posts from their footings and it didn't seem as though there was as much effort as in previous years. There were some cries of "hail to the victors" in various spots around Columbus Saturday night, but there were no wild celebrations.

It generally was a subdued Michigan crowd, apparently willing to relax out of the cold and enjoy the satisfaction of a victory over Ohio State.

Although Hayes made a few references to the 1955 OSU-Michigan game that broke into a show of tempers in the late going—and though he could have saved more praise for individual Michigan effort—he offered no alibis.

He couldn't have. It simply was a case of a good team being whipped by a better one, and there are many who believe now that Michigan is the Big Ten's finest football team.

Michigan marched 77 yards in 14 plays, picking up 46 yards passing and 31 running, from the opening kickoff. The Bucks had elected to kickoff and Hayes offered this explanation for that strategy:

* * *

"In the past, we have found many times that we can force other teams into making mistakes. If the errors are committed early, and deep in the other team's territory, it gives our boys an edge and opens up a chance for a quick score. Michigan just didn't make the mistakes, that's all."

Soviets' Giant Cager Finally Gets in Game

Huge, 7-4 Player Is Opposed by 5-Footer From Singapore

MELBOURNE (AP) — Russia finally uncovered its 7-4 basketball center, Ivan Kromouninch, today amid gales of laughter in the second half of the game with Singapore. The giant was pitted against a five-foot opponent, who could barely reach his head with his outstretched hand.

Hopelessly outclassed, the Singapore team spent the final moments of the game, freezing the ball, dribbling around the big center. The final score was Russia 91, Singapore 42. The big center scored eight points.

New Rack Leader Spoils 2 Chances

Two late entries in the wide antler division of The Pontiac Press deer contest, missed their opportunities for the leadership when a 22-inch spread came in.

The 20-inch 8-point rack reported by Pontiac's assistant fire chief Max Wells, on Saturday, was from a 170-pounder taken at the AuSable between Glennie and Hale. It was a perfect set, Wells said.

Joe Hoggart, 2887 Copperstone, near Rochester, had an 11-point, 175-pounder, with a better than 18-inch set. Buck was downed near Hilman.

Dayton Passes Beat Titans

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A red-hot passing attack in sub-freezing weather gave the University of Dayton its first home victory of the season Sunday, 27-13 over the University of Detroit.

Flyer end Fred Dugan snagged two touchdown passes from quarterbacks Jim Spoerl and Gerry Faust as the Flyers picked up their fourth victory against six defeats.

Spoerl and Faust riddled the Titan defense with 14 completions in 22 attemnts, despite snow flurries which slicked the ball.

Dayton set Detroit back on its heels on the first play from scrimmage when Spoerl passed to Dugan, who sprinted down the sidelines for a touchdown on a play that covered 64 yards.

The Titans tied the score in the first quarter on a jump pass from Larry O'Dell to end Dick Chapman for 11 yards. Detroit's other tally came in the third period when Jim Lynch broke through on a 32-yard touchdown run.

Detroit, with a 2-7 record, faces the powerful University of Houston Saturday in a Missouri Valley Conference game that will wind up the season for both teams.

Detroit	7	0	6	0	—13
Dayton	14	7	6	0	—27

Detroit scoring—Touchdowns: Chapman (11, pass-run from O'Dell); Lynch (32, run). Conversion: Lynch.

Dayton scoring—Touchdowns: Dugan 2 (64, pass-run from Spoerl; 38, pass-run from Faust); Kristopaipis 2 (65, interception of O'Dell's pass; 2, plunge). Conversions: Kristopaipis 3.

NFL Holds Annual Draft; Lions Pick Next to Last

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Representatives of the 12 National Football League franchises gathered here today to hold at least four rounds of the league's annual player draft and to allow Green Bay and the Chicago Cardinals to vie for the bonus choice.

Commissioner Bert Bell summoned the clubs for the second year in a row to a partial draft session designed to give the American pros an equal opportunity to compete with the Canadian league in negotiating with America's graduating football talent.

Prior to 1955, the NFL held its 30 rounds of player selection at the mid-January annual meeting, but November and December competition for players from the Canadians has forced the Americans to assign negotiating rights to the top graduating talent earlier. Bell announced recently that four rounds will be held with a possible fifth if there is unanimous consent, an unlikely event since George Marshall, Washington owner, has voiced opposition.

The first order of business will be the bonus choice, an out-of-the-hat drawing in which the team drawing the lucky slip earns the negotiating right to any graduating college football player of its choice. Under bonus choice rules, each team winning the draw drops out until every club in the league has won. Only Green Bay and the Cards are left in the event first started in 1947.

Although both the Packers and Cardinals have been secretive about their intentions in the bonus event, it is believed Green Bay would grab a hard running halfback if it wins, while Chicago would name an outstanding quarterback. The 1956 college crop is loaded with talent in both positions.

* * *

Los Angeles, which has the poorest record among the 12 teams in the league, will have first choice in the regular pick. San Francisco is next. Green Bay, Pittsburgh and Cleveland, each with an identical 3-6 record, will draw from a hat to decide the rotating order in which they will follow the 49ers. Then comes Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, the Cardinals, New York, Detroit, and the Chicago Bears.

Amazing Bruins Keep NHL Lead

Boston Increases Edge With 3-1 Victory Over Leafs as Wings Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thumbing their noses at the experts who picked them to finish no higher than fourth place, the Boston Bruins still are leading the National Hockey League and showing no signs of faltering.

The Bruins, who have lost only one of their last 12 starts, tripped the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1 last night to move two points in front of Detroit which was held to a 3-3 tie by Chicago.

Johnny Peirson was the big gun for the Bruins getting the tying and winning goals in the second period after the Leafs had pulled into a 1-0 lead on Gerry James' marker in the first. Doug Mohns sent home the clincher in the final minute.

Moore's goal for Montreal came at 17:39 of the third period. Dean Prentice had put New York in front with a second period marker. The result moved the Rangers one point behind fourth-place Toronto.

Russian Sets Record

MELBOURNE (INS)—Bulging Arkieli Vorobiev of Russia set a new world record of 325.18 pounds today for the press lift in the Olympic middle heavy weight weightlifting trials.

Hawks' Rally Downs Lakers

By International News Service

The St. Louis Hawks rallied from a six-point halftime deficit last night to down the Minneapolis Lakers, 95-94, and retain their one-game lead in the National Basketball Association's western division.

Elsewhere, the Rochester Royals rallied in the final period to defeat the New York Knickerbockers for the second time in two nights, 95 to 93.

BIG RACK — Newest leader in The Pontiac Press' big deer contest is the rugged set of antlers above, shown off by the hunter who bagged the 200-pound plus buck. Leland (Lee) Waltz' deer had a 22-inch spread rack, big enough to take over the lead in this division from Pontiac fireman Max Wells. Wells' entry was 20-inches wide but still was wider than two others who didn't even get a chance to hold the lead.

SETTING UP TD — Michigan's sophomore fullback Ellis Hernstein bulls his way to the 1-yard line from where quarterback Jim Maddock scored on a quarterback sneak for the Wolverines' final touchdown against Ohio State at Columbus Saturday. Michigan won, 19-0, to finish the season with a 7-1 mark and a 5-2 record in the Big Ten.

Finish 7-2 Season

Books Close on MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State closed its books on a respectable 7-2 football season after the fumble-infested 38-17 victory over Kansas State Saturday.

After three seasons as head coach, Duffy Daugherty now has an 18-9 record.

Naming of "most valuable player" at the team banquet tonight and selection of the 1957 captain will wind up Spartan football activities for the year.

MSU committed an even dozen fumbles during its final game, partly due to the chilly mid-20s temperature and lost the ball nine times. It was a modern Michigan State record for miscues, the previous high being eight fumbles.

"That's one play we've got down pat," admitted Daugherty, "for a while I was thinking of sending them in wearing mittens in the second half."

But Kansas State also had fumble troubles losing four of its eight bobbles.

Seven of the MSU fumbles came in the first half when Kansas State was briefly ahead 3-0 on a field goal from the 30-yard line by Ben Grosse. State led 6-3 at the half, the touchdown coming on a pass by Mike Panitch, third string quarterback, from the five yard line to Larry Harding in the end zone.

The Spartans finally came to life in the third period, socking in four touchdowns within a space of 10 minutes.

A 39-yard pass-play from Don Gilbert to Sammy Williams, a two-yard run by Dennis Mendyk, and a 41-yard pass play from Panitch to Harold Dukes figured in the scoring.

Kansas State managed its two touchdowns in the last four minutes of play, when MSU was emptying its bench of the last of 45 players who saw game action.

Rolls One Game for Every Year

He began his 62-game marathon at 8:24 a.m. yesterday and finished at 7:30 p.m. He rolled a 171 average. His high was 210, his low 126, and he had 10 "turkeys".

MSU Favored to Win 6th NCAA Harrier Test Today

EAST LANSING (AP)—Sub-freezing weather with three inches of snow greeted some 200 entries for the 18th annual NCAA cross-country run today.

Michigan State University, the host, was favored for both the team and the individual championships in the four-mile grind.

Pressing the Spartans for team sas, Illinois, St. Joseph's of Phila- Twenty-two schools have entered for the team title in which the placings of the first five runners are counted.

Michigan State, unbeaten this season, swept to the Big Ten and IC4A titles in the past 10 days. Pacing the Spartans is 25-year-old Henry Kennedy, individual winner in both the Big Ten and IC4A events.

Kennedy is one of the best distance men in this continent and probably would be at the Olympics in Australia except for his confused background. A native of Glasgow, Scotland, Kennedy later lived in Toronto but now spends almost full time in the United States.

He is not a citizen of the U. S., so he couldn't represent this country. He hasn't lived in Canada long enough to meet Olympic requirements in that country and he said he wasn't interested in trying to qualify for the British Olympic squad.

Michigan State has won five NCAA cross country tests, but never has won the individual championship. Kennedy was runner-up a year ago in 12 degree weather to Deacon Jones of Iowa. Jones is a member of the U. S. Olympic team.

Officials said a sweeper will brush a path for the runners along the wooded cross-country trail.

Wings Tied by Hawks

CHICAGO (AP)—Contrary to usual form, the Chicago Black Hawks balked last night at helping the Detroit Red Wings along in the race for the National Hokey League title.

Detroit had won all four previous contests between the two clubs, but Nick Mickoski's goal with five minutes left in the game enabled the last-place Hawks to pull into a 3-3 tie with the Wings.

The front - running Boston Bruins, meanwhile, swept over the Toronto Maple Leafs, 3-1, and moved into a two-point lead over runner-up Detroit.

The Wings appeared to have their fifth straight victory over the faltering Black Hawks all wrapped up when they went into a 3-1 lead after one period of play.

Chicago took a brief lead at the four minute mark on Ed Litzenberger's ninth goal of the season. Then Billy Dea, Gordie Howe and Earl (Dutch) Reibel riddled the nets for a goal apiece and Detroit took a comfortable lead.

Rookie defenseman Ron Ingham closed the gap to 3-2 with a goal for the Hawks in the second frame.

It was his first counter in big league hockey.

Detroit's Warren Godfrey set up the final marker for Chicago. He fell trying to clear the puck from behind his own cage. Chicago's Glen Skov took the puck, and passed it to Mickoski in front of the Detroit nets.

Mickoski whipped it past goalie Glenn Hall for the final score.

Chicago chalked up a 44-34 shooting edge, but Hall made some brilliant stops to keep the Wings in the lead most of the way. Hall made 41 saves to 31 for Chicago netminder Al Rollins.

Other Schools Eye MSU Pair

EAST LANSING (AP) — The names of both athletic director Biggie Munn and football coach Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State have popped up in the rumor mills as possibilities for other positions.

Recruiters for the University of Texas have talked to Munn here about the joint coaching job and athletic directorship at Texas and have been maintaining contact. Munn has been non-committal about the approaches.

Daugherty has been mentioned both for the Texas job and the University of California coaching position recently vacated by Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf.

"No, I haven't been contacted by either school," said Daugherty of this report. "California is a fine school. So is Texas, so are a lot of others. But I think I have the best coaching job in the United States right here."

Wildlife Rescue

Officer Helps Yearling Buck Ashore From Lake

Exhausted from its efforts to get a footing on the ice of Dixie Lake, a yearling buck was rescued by the "long arm" of the conservation department Saturday afternoon, and today was probably roaming the wooded area in northern Oakland county recuperating.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Soncrant, 10470 King road, Davisburg, whose home borders the lake, saw the little buck run onto the ice near the lake shore. It scrambled and finally fell. Then, exhausted by its efforts to rise, curled up went to sleep.

Soncrants called Harold Stoll, conservation officer, who roped the deer, helped it ashore, where about a dozen persons watched. So tired was the deer that it refused to run away, until Stoll urged it along to nearby woods.

The deer had been on the ice for about three hours before it was rescued, Mrs. Soncrant reported.

Providence All Alone at Top of AHL Roster

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Reds gained undisputed possession of first place, breaking a four-team tie by trouncing the Hershey Bears 6-1 last night.

Providence with 21 points held a one-point edge over the Cleveland Barons, who were tied by the Rochester Americans 3-3. The Buffalo Bisons remained deadlocked for third place with Hershey after dropping a 2-1 decision to the Springfield Indians.

Ebben vs. Tyra

Cage Duel to Come Early

DETROIT (INS) — The collegiate basketball campaign gets under way Dec. 1, but one of the best early season duels in the nation will come five days later when All-America candidates Charlie Tyra of the University of Louisville, and Bill Ebben of the University of Detroit, face each other for the first time in their collegiate careers.

Both Tyra and Ebben were named to the Helms Foundation's All-America squad a year ago as juniors. This will be the first of two meetings between the two stars. The other will come at Louisville March 6.

Detroit will warm up for the Louisville game by facing Assumption College of Windsor, Ont., at home Dec. 1 in the first of 16 home games for the Titans.

Louisville's defending NIT champions will have two games under their belts before invading the Motor City.

Tyra, 6'8" home-grown center of Coach Peck Hickman's Cardinals, was the top rebounder in the nation last season. He was picked as the National Invitational's most valuable player.

Ploen Leads Hawks to Win Over Irish

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kenny Ploen, Iowa quarterback, scored twice, passed for a third touchdown, set up a fourth, rushed for 90 yards and directed Iowa's best offensive of the year as the Hawkeyes smashed Notre Dame 48-8.

John Majors, Tennessee tailback, rallied his team, scored two touchdowns in the final period to keep Vols unbeaten, 20-7, over Kentucky, ran 23 times for 143 yards, completed three of four passes.

Bannister Doubts Aussie Will Win

MELBOURNE (AP) — Dr. Roger Bannister, first to crack the 4-minute mile barrier, figures any of a half dozen men could win the Olympic 1,500-meters crown, but has doubts about his old running rival, John Landy.

"John has a bad leg and I can't see how any man with a bad leg can win this race, which should be one of the best in Olympic history," the bushy-haired Englishman said. "I think any man who makes the final is capable of winning it."

Bannister's list of possibilities includes world record-holder Istvan Rozsavolgyi of Hungary, Gunnar Neilson of Denmark, Jim Bailey of Australia, Brain Hewson of Britain and Laszlo Tabori of Hungary.

AP All-State Teams Will Start Tomorrow

The All-State football teams as selected by the Associated Press of Michigan will start tomorrow with the announcement of the Class A team.

The B, C and D teams will follow on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Detroiters Victors in Roller Contest

Winners of the novice contest were Paul Plickta and Wilma Jenkins, also from Detroit. They skated "The College Swing."

Class B girls—Patty Reid and Janice Wilson.

U. S. Adds 49 Points to Olympic Total

MELBOURNE (AP) — A superhuman effort by Tom Courtney and an amazing pole vault by the Rev. Bob Richards gave the United States two more Olympic gold medals in track and field today. Denmark's Emil Danielsen speared a new world's record in the javelin.

Yale's comeback eight and Jack Kelly, Jr. led a parade of six American rowing entries into Tuesday's finals and the American weight lifters moved everything but the Olympic stadium.

Bobby Morrow, gunning for a 100-200-meter "double" breezed through two heats into the semi-finals along with teammates Thane Baker of Elkhart, Kan. and Andy Stanfield; the 1952 champ from Jersey City, N.J.

Failure of Cy Young to repeat in the javelin toss was a major disappointment to the American team after the giant rancher from Modesto, Calif. had broken the Olympic mark in the qualifying round. All three of Uncle Sam's men failed to make the finals.

Even before the night weight lifting events were completed, the U.S. team had picked up 49 more points and Russia had added nine. The U.S. increased its lead in the unofficial point total over the Soviets to 157-97.

Courtney, husky former Fordham half miler from Livingston, N.J. outfought Great Britain's Derek Johnson in the straightaway after Johnson forged into the lead around the last turn. The two great runners with Audun Boysen of Norway and Pitt's Arnie Sowell, the early leader, in hot pursuit, battled right up to the tape. Courtney finally won by a yard in new Olympic record time of one minute 47.7 seconds and virtually collapsed.

Sowell, who has battled Courtney in so many races, finished fourth after setting the early pace, as the first four men broke Mal Whitfield's old Olympic mark. Lou Spurrier, of Delano, Calif., the other U.S. entry, was sixth.

Richards, the vaulting parson from La Verne, Calif., successfully defended the championship he won at Helsinki in 1952 by defying a gusty wind and calling on all his strength and luck. He cleared 14 feet 11½ inches for another Olympic record. On the way down, he hit the crossbar and it bounced vigorously but stayed in place.

He failed in three attempts at 15 feet and three quarters of an inch.

Bob Gutowski of La Jolla, Calif. who had been listed as an alternate until an injury forced Jim Graham of Tulsa to withdraw, was second to Richards and George Mattos of Santa Cruz, Calif. was fourth. George Roubanis of Greece and UCLA took third place.

The outstanding performances of the day was Denielsen's javelin throw of 281 feet 2⅛ inches. The Norwegian nearly pinned down a couple of officials at the edge of pole vault runaway with his long toss.

Betty Cuthbert of Australia brought joy to the great capacity throng of 100,000 by winning the women's 100-meters for the host nation's first gold medal. Isabelle Daniels of Jakin, Ga., 19, American finalist, was fourth.

After three full days of competition the United States has seven gold medals in track, equalling the hot pace of 1952. Americans have won one event they did not score in at Helsinki, the hammer throw, and lost one that was won there, the javelin. The victories in the 100-meters, broad jump, high jump, 400-meter hurdles, 800-meters and pole vault duplicated their success of four years ago.

The only American qualifier in the 5,000-meter run was Bill Dellinger of Springfield, Ore. who placed third in the heat won by Gordon Pirie of Great Britain. Vladimir Kouts of Russia won the 10,000-meters Friday, was beaten by Australia's Alan Lawrence in one qualifying heat. Curtis Stone of Smithport, Pa., competing in his third Olympics, failed to qualify by finishing seventh. Max Truex of Warsaw, Ind., bothered by a back injury, did not compete.

Olympic Rivals Maintain Watch on Each Other

MELBOURNE (AP) — An interesting drama of the last several days was the psychological battle between Tom Courtney and Lon Spurrier, rivals for the 800-meter crown. They room across the hall from each other and both made sure they kept the other under watch.

When Courtney increased his daily number of vitamin pills, so did Spurrier. When Spurrier sat out a dance, during evening recreation hours, so did Courtney. Neither wanted to give the other an edge in training tactics.

Wolverine Skipper With Regatta Honor

CHICAGO (AP)—The University of Michigan's Bruce Goldsmith piled up 168 points to take individual skipper honors in the Timmie Anston Memorial Fegatta at Belmont Harbor.

Brown University won the regatta for the second straight year, finishing with 290 points. Bowdoin placed second with 288 and Michigan third with 283. Michigan State ended up 12th in the 13-team event.

Snow flurries and winds up to 25 miles an hour hampered competition yesterday in the finale of the three-day competition.

Gridiron Bowl Picture Still Hazy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The college football season has almost run its course but it's still easier to name the teams forbidden bowl trips than to list the ones sure to go.

With a dwindling number of tradition-laden games on tap Saturday and a single contest due Dec. 8, the bowl picture is almost as confusing as it was in mid-November.

The Rose Bowl offers the one exception where Iowa and Oregon State captured the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conference championships, respectively.

Last Saturday's only contribution toward clarification was the decision that Texas Christian would be the Cotton Bowl host for the second straight year following a tough 20-17 decision over Rice.

Here's the bowl situation at a glance:

Rose: Iowa vs. Oregon State.

Orange: Colorado vs. Clemson, Duke or South Carolina—Atlantic Coast Conference officials have put off announcement of their decision until Dec. 2.

Sugar: No announcements. Tennessee is belived to have a standing invitation but Southeastern Conference rules prohibit official action until the season is complete. Baylor, Georgia Tech and Houston are other top candidates.

Cotton: TCU to oppose a foe which probably will be selected from among Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Syracuse, Navy and Pitt.

Though unbeaten, Tennessee won't be sure of the SEC crown unless the Vols defeat Vanderbilt Saturday. Should they falter, Tech could walk in by whipping Georgia.

Navy plays Army in Philadelphia with a possible Cotton Bowl bid as added incentive. Syracuse concluded its campaign Nov. 17 by walloping Colgate 61-7 while Pitt's chances faded a little in a concluding 7-7 tie with Penn State.

Colt Fans Finally See Vessels Play

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP)—Billy Vessels lived up yesterday to what came close to being a command football performance ordered by fans of the Baltimore Colts.

They watched him with "I-told-you-so" glee as, playing fulitime halfback for the first time, he scored three touchdowns. At the same time, the Colts were scoring 56 points, the most in their eight years of professional football, to 21 for the Los Angeles Rams.

Vessels, the most outstanding college back of 1952 while playing for Oklahoma, had been the first draft choice of the Colts. But he chose to play for Edmonton in the Canadian footbal league. Then he went into the Army for two years. The Colts landed him and the fans couldn't wait to see him run for Baltimore.

They had quite a wait. Vessels was allowed to carry the ball only four times as a substitute the first seven games.

Miss. Southern Tangerine-Bound

ORLANDO, Fla. (INS)—Mississippi Southern will oppose West Texas State in the Tangerine Bowl football game at Orlando New Year's night.

Mississippi Southern, which has a season record of seven wins, one loss and a tie, accepted an invitation yesterday. West Texas, with a 6-2 record, previously had been selected.

Record Number Yank Oarsmen Make Finals

BALLARAT, Australia (AP) — The U.S. eight-oared crew-battling under the "for God, country and Yale" motto—and Jack Kelly Jr., determined to make history repeat, today led a record number of Yank oarsmen into the Olympic rowing finals.

The Eli eight, knifing into a strong headwind on another leg of their comeback, climaxed a near-sweep by the United States in semifinals for the seven gold medal events. Only the American fours with coxswain failed to make tomorrow's finals.

"In qualifying for six of the seven finals we set a record for a U.S. team," said Clifford (Tip) Goes, chairman of the U.S. Olympic Rowing Committee. "And that is a fine accomplishment indeed.

"We had no alibi in losing the fours with coxswain. I think we were just as good as the other three crews."

The U.S. entry of James McMullen, Doug Turner, Jim Wynne, Ron Cardwell and Ed Masterson, all of Buffalo, N.Y., finished last in their semifinal behind Sweden, Finland and Russia. Only the first two qualified from each heat.

America leads the qualifiers for the finals. Australia has five and Russia four. Germany, Italy, Canada, Poland and Sweden each has two crews in the finals. The Swedes' iron men doubled in both the fours with coxswain and the eights.

France, Austria and Finland each has one final crew.

The U. S. fours without coxswain the Detroit Boat Club crew of John Welchi, Jim McIntosh and the McKinlay brothers, Art and John, meet Italy, Canada and France; and the pairs with coxswain, Art Ayrault, Tacoma, Wash.; Conn Findlay, Belmont, Calif., and Kurt Seiffert, Rochester, Mich., face Russia, Poland and Germany.

Pat Costello, Birmingham, Mich., and Jim Gardiner, Detront, who qualified in the double sculls Friday, oppose Russia, Germany and Australia.

Girl Gridders in Annual Tilt

So far the juniors have suffered a broken shoulder, a dislocated jaw and a sprained ankle.

The seniors, asked if they'd suffered any practice damage, merely rolled their eyes and rubbed bruised limbs. "We've not as barbaric as they are," a senior girl said when told of the juniors' injuries.

Faking, Drawing Fouls Decried

Big Seven and Missouri Valley Want Tighter Cage Officiating

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Too many basketball players are trying to lure opponents into committing fouls, coaches and officials of the Big Seven and Missouri Valley conferences declared as they completed their annual two-day preseason meetings.

Faking or drawing a foul has no part in the game and coaches and referees shoould stamp it out, the Big Seven people asserted.

Eddie Hickey, veteran St. Louis University coach, said the Missouri Valley group agreed to stick close to the rules as written and not wander too much into interpretation.

The Big Seven coaches said technical fouls should be called on coaches and players on the bench for unsportsmanlike conduct. They also said no coach or member of his party should speak to officials about a game before, during or immediately afterward.

The meetings would up yesterday.

Canada Rejects Games TV

MELBOURNE (AP) — The chairman of the Olympic Organizing Committee today charged the British Broadcasting Company and Canadian television networks have refused to cooperate with the Olympic TV film pool.

* * *

W. S. Kent Hughes said he "deeply regretted the decision of the BBC not to show any Olympics on TV. Apparently most of the world, except for government-run stations in Canada and England, are cooperating with the film pool."

Kent Hughes pointed out that more than 100 American TV stations plan to show six Olympic programs of a half hour each.

It would seen, he said that some tieup between the BBC and European television also is preventing many stations on the continent from showing the Olympics on TV.

Texas College Wins Junior Rose Bowl Spot

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Arlington State College of Texas today was named the Eastern team in the Junior Rose Bowl football game.

The Rebels will meet undefeated Compton of California Dec. 8 in the 11th annual classic for two-year schools in Pasadena's Rose Bowl.

Farmington Launches Drive for Recreation Funds

MR. AND MRS. ELMER FRICK

TO CELEBRATE — Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Frick will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, Dec. 2, with an open house from 2 to 5 p. m., at their farm home, 451 Frick Road, Leonard. Mr. and Mrs. Frick were married on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 29, 1906, in Addison Township. They have two daughters, Mrs. Grant MacNeil of Lake Orion and Mrs. Harry Boice of Rochester; also five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

MR. AND MRS. CLYDE RIDDLE

GOLDEN WEDDING DAY — In observance of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Riddle, open house will be held at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Philip Henry, at 601 East Maple St., Holly, from two to five o'clock on Sunday, Dec. 2. Married in Battle Creek Dec. 2, 1906, Mr. and Mrs. Riddle have spent the last 35 years in the Holly area. For many years he was a farmer. They now reside on Clarence St. here. They have seven children, 14 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The children are: Kenneth of Memphis, Tenn.; Donald, Marcelle (Mrs. Henry), Clyde, Everett and Richard of Holly, and Merle of Clarkston.

Area Unit Asks Outline of Needs

'We're Through,' Says Summer Director, 'Funds Won't Last 6 Weeks

FARMINGTON—Officials of the Farmington Area Recreation Commission, faced with burgeoning population and a predicted cut in United Fund shares, are working on an outline of future needs and costs of a long-range program.

Commissioners expect to present their findings at a joint conference of city, township, and school district officials next week.

The FARC recently met with government officials to discuss the possible formation of a tax-supported program under the organization of a city-township government.

In the past the program has been supported by contributions from the United Fund, the city council, the township board and the school board.

The tremendous population growth of the area has increased enrollment of children in the recreation program to the point where present facilities are no longer adequate.

Last summer 1,236 children were registered at the five playgrounds in the area. Hundreds more not registered were on hand to participate in other games and activities that were supervised by Warren Peche, playground director, and other qualified school teachers.

Next summer more children will be registered and UF officials have notified FARC that they will allot considerably less money to the program.

"We are through unless somebody comes up with enough money to carry us through the summer," Peche says.

"As things stand now, we can operate for about six weeks. All we can do is offer the best program possible for the length of time we can run it," he says.

The commission has indicated hopes that the community will support a program that can pay for a full time director, adequate playgrounds, and expanded facilities to include activities for teenagers.

The members of the recreation commission are trying to work out a program to see what can be offered for $25,000 or $30,000 to be presented at the meeting with officials next week.

Driver Cut, Bruised When Auto Hits Pole

Joyce M. Vincent, 20, of 815 N. Main St., Rochester, received minor cuts and bruises when her car went off the road and struck a power pole Sunday morning during a snowstorm.

She was treated and released at the Avon Clinic following the crash on Auburn road near the Elmwood School.

The woman blamed icy roads for the accident. She said she lost control of her vehicle in the snow and went off the left side of the highway.

Two Pontiac Youths Arrested in Toledo

Two Pontiac boys arrested in Toledo Sunday are suspected of stealing $88 from a variety store, 1465 Baldwin Ave., Pontiac police said.

Toledo police believed the boys' cars also were stolen from Pontiac used car lots Saturday night.

Front door of the store was forced open Saturday night and the money taken from a hiding place, police said.

The boys will be returned to Pontiac today for questioning, they added.

Attempts Wheeling Out Groceries From Store

Thaddeus J. Flowers, 39, of 2401 Opdyke Rd. was stopped by a store employe as he left pushing a market cart loaded with $32 worth of groceries, they said.

Charged with larceny from a building, Flowers was freed under $100 bond set by Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan pending an examination Dec. 5.

Airlines Aid Hungarians

MONTREAL (AP) — Four international airlines with bases in Montreal have agreed to share in the free transportation of clothing and medical supplies to Hungary. Relief supplies are pouring into the airport from all over Canada.

Kiwanis to Dine Cafeteria Style, Tour New School

ROCHESTER —Local Kiwanians and their wives will tour the new high school here tonight, following a cafeteria-style dinner at 6:30 p.m. A board meeting has been planned for Dec. 3 at the home of Edwin Forbush, 312 Highland.

Plans are nearly completed for the annual Kiwanis Christmas party to be held Dec. 10 at Club Rochester, with dinner at 7:30 p.m. This will be Ladies' Night and new officers will be installed. Fred Noyes is chairman.

Girl, 18, Crash Victim, Treated in Hospital

Mary Bolton, 18, of 3298 Harrison St., is in "good" condition at Pontiac General Hospital with fractures of the ribs, one finger, and a shoulder received Saturday in an auto accident.

She was the passenger in a car which went off the left side of the road and struck both a tree and pole on Auburn Avenue near Rochester road in Avon Township.

Two-Car Collision Ends in Minor Injuries

Two persons were hospitalized and another shaken up in a two-car collision in Avon Township Sunday afternoon.

Marlene N. Osborne, 18, of Utica, one of the drivers, is under treatment at Pontiac General Hospital for a possible fractured skull and back injuries. Also at the hospital is her passenger, Martha Browning, 17, also of Utica, with a concussion.

Shaken up was Beryl M. Cochrun, 51, of Ionia, who was riding in a car operated by Ezra Cochrun, also of Ionia.

Mrs. Osborne admitted to Oakland County deputies she lost control of her vehicle and skidded into the Cochrun car on the slippery road.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Rochester Parents Night; Hearing Tests at Glengary

ROCHESTER — Under the sponsorship of the Junior High PTA, Parents' Night is being observed here tonight at 7:30 in the high school gym. The meeting is unusual in that the parents will meet at that time and immediately go to the various rooms and take up the regular schedule of work and classes which their children are doing each day.

There will be a short briefing at 7:30, prior to going to the various rooms at 8. Each teacher will give a brief outline of the year's work and the objectives of that particular class. Parents will go on to the next class in the regular student routine.

At the end of a "full day's" schedule, they will again assemble in the gym where a question and comment period will be held. Their findings will eventually work towards a panel discussion to be held at the next regular meeting.

Officers and teachers urge parents to be present.

Commerce Township

Third grade pupils of Glengary Elementary School will present a Thanksgiving play at the regular PTA meeting slated to begin at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Multi-Purpose Room.

The customary 7:30-8 p.m. visiting period between parents and teachers will not be held. Instead, PTA officials will hold their business session during that time.

Students to participate in the play received instruction from Mrs. Vicki Small and Mrs. Imogene Skeen, third grade teachers of Glengary. Choral singing by the fifth and sixth grades will also be a feature of the program.

Refreshments will be served under the direction of Miss Juanita Elftman.

The PTA of Glengary Elementary School has arranged for special hearing tests for all pupils of that school.

The tests will begin on Friday, according to Mrs. Roy Fogle, PTA publicity director. Cost of the tests will be paid by the PTA.

Keego Harbor

The executive board of Roosevelt PTA will meet at the school Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Final plans for the forthcoming school fair will be made. The fair is to be held Dec. 1.

Israel Claims Arabs Have Planted Mines

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel said today that Fedayeen commandos from Jordan crossed the Israeli border and laid mines and explosive charges in the coastal plain northeast of Tel Aviv.

An army spokesman said a settler in Einat village stepped on a mine and was wounded, a well was blown up and a car damaged.

Transfer Car Parts From Utica Depot

Transfer of 7,500 tons of Packard parts and accessories from Utica, Mich., to the new Studebaker-Packard parts depot at South Bend, Ind., has been completed, company officials said today.

The giant moving operation was completed in 22 days without interruption in dealer servicing, the corporation said. The central parts depot was formerly located at Utica.

The transfer was made to reduce costs as a result of consolidation of Packard and Studebaker parts and accessories in one plant.

David S. McNally, general manager of parts and accessories, said the change will increase efficiency and speed in handling dealer requirements.

Gun Wound Fatal—Found Dead in Home

Mrs. Alma M. Bowman, 25, of 2696 E. Commerce Rd., Commerce Township, was found dead at her home Saturday of a gun wound state police believe to have been self-inflicted.

The mother of a seven-year-old son who was home at the time of the shooting, Mrs. Bowman reportedly had been despondent in recent weeks.

All-Denomination Rally Gathers 100 Teenagers

Youngsters from White Lake, Clyde, West Highland and Milford participated in an evening of games, community singing and a serious worship service that has come to be an annual affair for boys and girls in the area.

The Presbytjrian Senior High group met at four in the afternoon and staged a "new member pick - up" campaign. They brought in prospective members and a dinner was served at 6 p.m.

At 7 o'clock, all of the groups congregated at the Methodist church for the good-fellowship gathering. Two films, "How Honest Are You" and "Ways To Say No" concluded the evening's program.

Red Cross to Talk Over East Problems

The Southeastern Michigan chapters of American Red Cross will discuss the Hungarian and Middle East situations as they relate to home service and fund raising at a joint meeting Friday.

The Rev. William Hamm, chairman of Oakland County Chapter advised chapter chairmen, administrative personnel, chapter volunteers, board members and executive directors, that the meeting will be held at the Oakland County Chapter house, 118 Franklin Blvd., Pontiac.

Oakland County chapter is participating along with four other counties in the area in mutual aid meetings. This is a continuation of those meetings which have been held in Detroit, Ann Arbor and Pontiac.

The other counties included in the program are Macomb, Genesse, Washtenaw and Wayne.

The Wake-Pratt Construction Co. has on display—of all things—a gift-wrapped house. A transparent wrapping of polyethylene film was used, with a big red bow over the front door.

Public Service From Rochester

Train 1,000 Dogs for Blind

(Editor's Note: This article, last in a series on Rochester, tells how Leader Dogs have given the village widespread publicity.)

One institution which has brought widespread publicity to Rochester is Leader Dogs for the Blind. Harold L. Pockington is executive director of this school which occupies an attractively developed site on South Rochester road. It trains dogs to serve the blind as companions and to guide them through the hazards of modern day traffic.

This institution has trained more than 1,000 dogs in the eight years it has been in operation. Its dogs are now in service all over the United States and in a few foreign countries.

Fifteen persons are employed, including six qualified trainers. This is the second oldest and second biggest institution of its kind, according to Director Pockington. Its assets have grown from $60,000 in 1950 to more than half a million dollars today.

Among other industries in Rochester is Rochester Machine Specialties. This company began as a partnership in 1936 and was incorporated in 1950. Glen W. Davies is president and Howard Hummel is vice president and plant manager.

The company manufactures small precision parts for the hydraulic and aircraft industry. It has about 7,500 square feet of manufacturing space and employs between 40 and 45 men. Among its larger customers are Vickers and Chrysler Airtemp.

Yates Machine Works is one of Rochester's older industries. It was started approximately half a century ago by Ada Yates. Today it is owned by the founder's son, Frank Yates and Ida B. Yates.

It occupies some 20,000 square feet of plant and employes between 30 and 35 men. It does custom machine work, including jigs, fixtures, tooling and rebuilding of equipment.

Crucible Brass Foundry Co. started in Detroit in 1940. It moved to Rochester Nov. 1, 1948. It occupies about 10,000 square feet of plant on a 3½ acre site on South street. It employs from 20 to 25 men.

The firm makes brass, bronze, aluminum and copper castings and operates as a jobbing and semi-production foundry. Its business was curtailed during the past year when the price of copper increased nine times in 12 months and former customers began to look for substitute materials.

Recently, however, copper prices have been cut three or four times, and business is picking up.

C. A. McMillan is president, Mrs. Bertha McMillan is treasurer, and R. M. Stack is vice president and secretary. Mr. Stack maintains an office in Detroit where he directs sales. Henry Hall is superintendent.

Keego Mothers Club to View Toy Display

KEEGO HARBOR — The Mothers Club of the Rooseveit School will hold their business meeting on Thursday, Nov. 29 at the school. The meeting will begin at 7:30.

A demonstration of toys, ceramics, and plastics will be given by Mrs. Naomi Johnston, following the meeting.

MR. AND MRS. EUGENE LAMPHERE

Lampheres See Midwest After Presbyterian Rites

CLARKSTON—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lamphere, who were wedded at First Presbyterian church recently, are living on Miller street, Pontiac, while the bridegroom completes studies at Cass Technical College.

The bride is the former Betty Jean Eslinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Eslinger of Clarkston. The bridegroom's parents are the Truman Lampheres, 940 Emerson, Pontiac.

Maid of honor was Nancy Rumph, bridesmaids were Sheila Burgin, Margaret Holser and Hazel Robinson, and flower girl was Catherine Heard, cousin of the bridegroom.

Ringbearer was Eugene Perrazzo, another cousin.

Best man was Donad Cates, and ushers were Wayne Sharpley, Carl Church, Richard Hoerth and Lyle Mix Jr. The bride was given away by Dr. H. F. Kendrick.

Thousands Struggle for Sanctuary Through Icy Waters to Austria

By SEYMOUR FREIDIN

FRONTIER (INS)—Under a brilliant winter moon illuminating the desolate plaines of Hungary loom the most macabre spectacles in all Europe today.

Thousands of men, women and children oblivious of 20-degree below winds straggle towards the promised land here. It means Austria and surcease from Soviet military repression, deportation and summary execution.

So they come—and the total at this writing is more than 60,000 — Russian troops frequently acting in amused boredom as wolfpacks at their heels.

Because bridges have been blown up and footpaths over canals demolished, anxiety-torn Hungarians stripped off their clothes and waded or swam to sanctuary.

They tell now of Russian infantry on the prowl. Tank units are being deployed deeper into the country. Foot soldiers are doing the dirty work mopping up. And they have been playing human hounds and hares with Hungarians.

No determined procedure appears to exist for sudden arrests and swift trans-shipment to the Soviet Union. Refugees told me they were penned up in meadows as they sought to negotiate the flatlands to the frontier. Without apparent rhyme or reason, except for young men between 15 and 25, adults are rounded up on the side and others are left free to continue their hazardous trek.

Infantry units are now identified as from trans-ural regions. As did their comrades who came into Budapest for the second phase of the Soviet invasion, they regard themselves as conquerors.

"It's a big risk even taking off your clothes to cross the river," a young woman in her twenties told me. "You don't want to get them frozen. So you try carrying them on a branch or in a package on your head.

"You begin to get into the water. It's terribly cold and there is such a wind. But you don't turn back. You know what is back there.

"You get across. Then you see Russian soldiers. They point their guns at you. Some even grin. Perhaps they are even embarrassed. But they go through your clothes. Sometimes they let you continue. Sometimes not."

She arrived without a stitch. A frayed blanket beneath which she quivered with cold as all she had for a wardrobe. I never realized lips could get so blue, the color of a deep dye, until I saw hers.

The preponderance of refugees are quite young. A great many are in their teens and early twenties. They talk apologetically about leaving Hungary.

"Some of my friends discussed it," a farm boy said. "We are now unarmed. We have seen our friends taken to freight cars. We know what that means when the Russians bring you to the railroad station. It is not a vacation to the Crimea. We decide in our own consciences. Those who are unable to fight any longer for one reason or another try to escape. We all agree that is better than deportation to Sibera.

As best one can estimate the grisly human roundups the Russians conduct, at least 40,000 Hungarians have been deported to the Soviet Union. Making conditions even ghastlier is the persistent report that Gen. Ivan Serov, Stalin's number one liquidator of populations, has been in Budapest the last five days directing deportation activities.

Unlike other refugees I have seen churned up in other wars and disasters these Hungarians still retain a certain pride of carriage and an embarrassment that they departed.

Examination Date Set in Shooting of Wife

Herbert B. Montgomery, 52, of 475 Arthur St. will be examined Dec. 5 on a charge of manslaughter involving the death of his wife, Elizabeth, 37, last Oct. 29.

Montgomery, who police say claims his wife was accidentally shot in the chest during a tussle for a .32 caliber revolver, was arraigned on the charge before Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan Saturday.

Finnegan set $500 bond.

Montgomery was arrested in Louisiana Nov. 14, where police say he fled after the shooting. The woman's body was discovered in their home Nov. 1.

Fails to Answer Call, Found Dead in Home

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Francese Jane Roth, 40, former wife of Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth of Flint, was found dead at her home in Grosse Pointe Sunday.

Police said her body was slumped over a desk. Her brother, C. W. Bowerman, said he notified police when she failed to answer his telephone call. He said there were several empty medicine bottles on the desk and notes addressed to her daughters in an upstairs bedroom.

Reserve Forces Act Draws City Recruit

A Pontiac unit member is among 23 volunteer Michigan National Guardsmen taking part in a six months training program at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Pvt. Frederick W. Eskildsen Jr., of the 107th Ordinance Co., was in the group which went to camp for some actual Army training early this month under the Reserve Forces Act of 1955.

Crisis Brings Silent Coup

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The country was brought under martial law— proclaimed the day fighting broke out in Egypt. Control of the army, empowered to enforce the martial law, is in the hands of a group of pro-Soviet officers under the current strong man, Col. Abdul Hamid Saraj.

These officers are not Communists. But they place a high value on Soviet arms and Soviet politial support. They permit no criticism of the Russians.

The night martial law was declared, Damascus had its first "air raid." Thereafter the sirens wailed frequently.

So far as the frightened and unsophisticated population was concerned, the raids were real. The sandbagged and blacked-out buildings of Damascus heightened the illusion of imminent danger. Anti-aircraft batteries fired often.

When the big crisis broke in Egypt, the civilian government ordered a military guard around the pumping stations for Iraq Petroleum Co. pipelines. That same night all three stations were blown up, halting the flow of Iraqi oil not only to the Mediterranean and Europe, but to Syria herself. (Iraqi Petroleum is owned by British, American, French and Dutch interests).

The press was deliberately blinded to the Soviet military subjugation of Hungary. Not a line of news from any Western source was carried by the press or radio. Only the Moscow radio and the Soviet official news agency Tass were quoted.

* * *

When Prime Minister Nehru made his statement Nov. 19 on the world's crises, the Indian legation in Damascus gave the Syrian government a translation for publication. Nehru's criticism of the Russians for the Hungarian events was suppressed. Only the Middle East sections of Nehru's remarks were used.

Lie to Police in Boy's Death

Authorities Confused by Ghastly Confessions of Young Parents

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Little Billy Beaver's father didn't smother him, dismember his body and burn it, as he had confessed to police.

Two-year-old Billy, missing from his crude log cabin home near here since last Wednesday, was found dead yesterday. Investigators said he died of exposure and his parents and grandmother, charged earlier with murdering him, will probably be released today.

Paul Harbour, a power company employe, discovered the body along a pipeline right-of-way about 1½ miles from the Beaver home, 20 miles east of Huntington.

Dr. Robert Barrett, Cabell County coroner, said examination showed the youngster, weighing an extraordinary 60 pounds for his age, had died of exposure in subfreezing weather.

Sheriff H. D. Humphreys said the case was closed.

The weird developments came after Humphreys announced Billy's father, 24-year-old James Beaver, had signed a statement saying he had smothered the boy, hacked up the body and burned it in an open fire-place.

The sheriff added the statement said Beaver was helped by his 18-year-old wife and that both acted at the point of a gun held by his 64-year-old mother, Mrs. Virginia Beaver.

The elder Mrs. Beaver had contributed to the confusing aspects of the case by earlier making a statement that she killed Billy because "he got on my nerves."

Neither the parents nor the grandmother can read or write much, Humphreys said. Beaver was said to have attributed his bizarre statement to fear of authorities but insisted he had been treated kindly by investigators.

Building Fires Gain

NEW YORK — There were 409,044 building fires in the United States last year, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters. This was 2½ per cent more than in 1954, when such fires totaled 399,182.

Eddie Fisher to Spread Sponsor's Good Will

Old Art Collector Britain Trades Taxes for Painting

LONDON (AP)—The fifth Earl of Powis—pronounced po-is—lost a world famous painting to Britain's National Gallery today—but received credit for nearly a quarter million dollars with the tax collector.

Everyone seemed pleased with the deal. It was the first of its kind to be negotiated in Britain, where death duties can take 80 per cent of a rich man's estate.

The 15X17-inch painting, called "Pieta," is the work of the 15th Century Flemish master Rogier Van der Weyden. Experts said it could have brought $350,000 on the open market.

"Every collector and museum in the world would have bid for it," said art dealer Geoffrey Agnew.

The painting shows the dead Christ in the arms of the Virgin Mary. In the foreground are Sts. Dominic and Jerome.

The present earl's father, a descendant of Clive of India, died in 1952 at the age of 90. His estate included 35,000 acres of land and a distinguished collection of paintings at Powis castle near Welshpool.

The government valued his estate at $3,663,424 and asked the fifth earl, the heir, to turn over all but about $700,000 in death duties. Trustees and lawyers began paying over the money in instalments.

Earlier this year the government passed a new finance act, which empowered the treasury to take over property it regarded as outstanding for aesthetic or historic interest.

Probe Begins on Two Issues

Senate Opens Hearings on Federal Highway Bill and Campaign Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate investigating committee launches hearings today to scrutinize lobbying on the federal highway construction bill and to learn how political campaign funds were spent.

* * *

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) summoned Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler as leadoff witness, and Republican Chairman Leonard W. Hall for tomorrow, to give "an accounting of campaign funds and activities."

The inquiry is one of a series the special committee has been conducting under a Senate resolution instructing it to search for evidence of any improper or illegal attempts to influence senators, Senate candidates, or officials in the executive branch of the government through lobbying or campaign contributions.

Committee staff members said questioning of Butler and Hall probably would cover some matters already dealt with when Hall and Butler testified recently before another Senate Elections subcommittee headed by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn).

McClellan declined to give any advance details of the inquiry into lobbying on the multibillion dollar highway construction bill, although he said witnesses would include spokesmen for the American Automobile Assn.

Wed Thanksgiving, Bride Killed in Crash

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — A traffic accident north of here killed a Thanksgiving day bride and left her husband unable to say for certain that he was married.

The California highway patrol said William D. Wales, 26, of Long Beach, Calif., was not seriously hurt but was suffering from shock and loss of memory.

His wife, Phyllis, also 26, was killed Saturday night when the couple's car hit an embankment and was virtually demolished, officers said.

Patrolmen said Wales replied, "I can't remember; I guess I was" when they asked him if he was married.

Indians Under Bed in Heap Big Smoke

The bed caught fire.

The boy's father, Ray W. Mace, 30, told police and firemen he'd give his son a flashlight.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery
Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids
New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.
Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.
And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!
In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.
All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.
P.S. DOCTORS PRESCRIBE SPECIAL LAXATIVE TO EASE PAINFUL ELIMINATION WHILE SHRINKING PILES
The makers of Preparation H also make Petro-Syllium®, a special type laxative prescribed by doctors for hemorrhoid sufferers. Softens hard dry stool and assures easy elimination without pain. Ask for Petro-Syllium.

King Killer of Farmer Alleged in Testimony

WHITE CLOUD (AP)—James King, 48-year-old Detroit court bailiff, testified through his attorney yesterday that he fired the shot which killed George L. Krise, 34, a Newaygo County farmer.

The admission through attorney Park caused dismissal of murder charges against John Wilson Henry, 60, of Detroit, one of King's hunting companions last Friday when Krise was shot five times with a .38 caliber revolver.

Justice Wells L. Branch bound King over to the Newaygo County circuit court and directed that he be held without bond in the Newaygo County Jail. No arraignment date was set.

* * *

Henry and six other Detroiters held as witnesses in the slaying were released. All were deer hunting with King at the time of the shooting.

Soybeans Lead Grain Upsurge

CHICAGO (AP) — Return of the dock workers to their jobs plus lifting of the freight embargo on movement to Atlantic Coast and Gulf of Mexico ports, brought aggressive buying into grains on the board of trade today.

Wheat and soybeans lead a price upturn although best gains scored early were not maintained. Selling came from those who had purchased late last week on anticipation of at least temporary settlement of the dock strike.

December and March wheat sold at new seasonal highs. So did March and May soybeans, as well as all lard futures. Feed grains lagged and at times dipped under the previous close. Dealings were active in all pits.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to 1 cent higher, December $2.44⅝, corn unchanged to ⅛ lower, December $1.38¾, oats unchanged to ⅞ lower, December 80, rye ⅝ lower to ½ higher, December $1.49, soybeans ½ to 1¼ higher, January $2.61¾, and lard 2 to 7 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $15.32.

Traverse Trio Hurt in Bloomfield Accident

A Traverse City woman and her two children escaped with only cuts and bruises when their car went off the road and hit a tree in Bloomfield Hills Sunday.

Mrs. Barbara Bush, 27, her daughter, Virginia, 2, and 11-month old Jeffery were released after treatment at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Market Widens Fractional Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, oils, shipbuilding issues and aircrafts were in demand as the stock market widened its gains in early trading today.

Key stocks advanced fractions to around a point in fairly active trading.

Evidence of monting demand for steel and oil combined with the absence of any bad news regarding the Middle East helped prices.

Bethlehem Steel was up more than a point, Gulf Oil around 2 and Boeing over a point.

Shipbuilding stocks were spurred by the demand for new shipping in view of the Suez Canal blockade. Newport News Shipbuilding was up 3 and Bath Iron Works well over a point. New York Shipbuilding, which gained 7 points on Friday, was delayed at the opening, with 45 bid and 50 offered.

U. S. Steel and Republic Steel gained fractions. Douglas Aircraft was up around a point, Royal Dutch was another 1-point gainer. Texas Co. and Standard Oil (New Jersey) advanced fractionally.

Leading rails improved fractionally following news eastern carriers will ask the ICC for freight rate increases of 22 per cent.

Opening blocks included Studebaker-Packard up ⅜ at 7¼ on 7,000 shares, U. S. Steel up ¼ at 70⅛ on 2,500 and Radio Corp. up ⅛ at 35⅛ on 1,500. Lukens Steel added another 2 points to its recent advance.

On the American Stock exchange prices were higher. Gains were made by Creole Petroleum, Northeast Airlines, Eastern Gas & Fuel and Imperial Oil of Canada.

Corporate Bonds were mixed.

On Friday the market made its only advance of the week. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.60 to $176.00.

Romania Seeks Aid in Visit to Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—The leaders of Romania's Communist government came to Moscow today, apparently in search of increased economic aid from the Kremlin.

Premier Chivu Stoica said at the railway station his government's first task is to "strengthen friendship with the Soviet people and other Socialist countries."

It was apparent one reason for the negotiations at this time was Moscow's desire to strengthen its position in Romania in view of the recent developments in Hungary and Poland and the worsening relations with Yugoslavia.

The Romanian-Soviet negotiations were described only as on "questions of mutual interest." The emphasis on economic experts in the delegation indicated the main purpose of the visit was to seek additional assistance from the Soviet Union.

Arraignment Slated in Auto Death Case

John A. Killen, 24, of 986 Durant St., will be arraigned today in Circuit Court on manslaughter charges stemming from a fatal accident Nov. 3 in Brandon Township.

Killen, whose car reportedly smashed into the rear of one driven by Ernest Z. Mitchell, 74, killing Mitchell and his wife, Allie, 72, was bound over to Circuit Court after a pre-trial examination before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy.

Killen told investigators he did not see the Mitchell car before hitting it. The accident occurred on M15 near Oakhill road, and the Mitchell car reportedly was driven off the road and into a tree 40 feet away by the force of the crash.

Diphtheria Toll at 5 in Detroit This Year

DETROIT (AP)— The death of a 6-year-old girl has raised the toll from Diphtheria in Detroit this year to five.

The child lived in the lower west side area where four new cases, all in one family, were reported Friday. A total of 86 persons have come down with the disease since Jan. 1.

Freight Cars Ruined, Suspect Broken Rail

LAGRANGE, Ind. (AP) — Seven freight cars were destroyed in the derailment of a 22-car Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad train 15 miles south of Lagrange.

News in Brief

Nothing was discovered missing from a home at 446 S. Saginaw St. where there was an apparent breakin attempt Sunday, Pontiac police said. The front door lock was forced.

Melvin W. Pritchett, 35, of Brighton, was sentenced to a week-end in the Oakland County Jail Saturday after pleading guilty Saturday to drunk driving before Justice Charles T. Roby of Lyon Township.

Pleading guilty to reckless driving, Jim A. Cooper, 40, of Flint, was fined $25 and paid $25 court costs Saturday at an arraignment before Springfield Township Justice Emmett C. Leib.

Karl R. Wieladt Jr., 19, of 705 S. Stevenson St., Royal Oak, paid a total of $100 in fine and costs Saturday after pleading guilty to leaving the scene of a property damage accident before Justice Elmer C. Dieterle of West Bloomfield Township.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF JOA FLINERT who died Nov. 27, 1955. "Some may have forgotten now that you are gone
But I will remember no matter how long".
His wife Amy

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Charles Tremain who passed away 6 years ago Nov. 25, 1950.
Always so true, unselfish and kind.
Few in this world his equal you will find.
A beautiful life that came to an end.
He died as he lived. Everyone's friend.
Sadly missed by his wife, Tillie.

JOHNSON
TO OUR DARLING VICKY
We miss your curly little head and blue eyes. We know that you are with the Saviour.
Sadly missed by Daddy and Momma, Grandma Ethel and Poppa Tony.

JOHNSON
TO OUR DARLING MARKIE.
It is lonesome here without you,
And sad and weary the way;
Life has not been the same,
Since you were called away.
Sadly missed by Daddy and Momma, Grandma Ethel and Poppa Tony.

JOHNSON
TO OUR DARLING RICKY
Down the lane of Memory,
The light is never dim,
Until the stars forget to shine,
We will always remember him.
Sadly missed by Daddy and Momma, Grandma Ethel and Poppa Tony.

Children's Dictionary

Of the special children's dictionaries out, the newest is Webster's Elementary Dictionary.

The new book is written expressly for children in the forth, fifth and sixth grades and the publishers claim it is the only dictionary based on recorded usages of the words found in books and magazines for elementary school children.

ABC Network Grows Rapidly

Grid Star Blanchard to Portray Himself in 'West Point' Tale

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Ann Sothern's "Private Secretary" winds up as Jack Benny's alternate in January. The new alternate will be Marge and Gower Champion's TV series, to be filmed by Benny.

The ABC-TV network prosperity is growing by leaps and bounds—its sponsored shows have risen 20 per cent and its audiences have gained 17 per cent over a year ago.

Old West Point grid star "Doc" Blanchard will play himself in the Friday "West Point" episode; it's also the eve of the Army-Navy game. . . Mel Allen will broadcast the Army-Navy play-by-play for the umpteenth time.

NBC's radio "Monitor" adds Friday night to its Saturday-Sunday schedule. . . Friday now seems the least-viewed TV night.

Richard Kiley, first of TV's acting lads to catnip the gals but ever since making his luxurious way mostly on stage and screen, returns to the scenes of his earlier swoonings tonight as a fancy-talking dude barrister on Studio One's "The Landlady's Daughter."

LONG CAREER

Molly Goldberg (Gertrude Berg) has been broadcasting for 27 years.

"Ding Dong School" gets a great New Year's gift—it's being dropped Dec. 31. Dr. Frances Horwich's balm is "supervisor of children's programs" for NBC, which won't of course include Ding Dong School.

THE EARLY BIRD

Henny Youngman has to get up so early to do the weather-girl chores on Will Rogers Jr.'s morning CBS-TV show he swears he now gets "10 o'clock shadow."

The Federal Trade Commission, going after false radio-TV advertising, already has blasted the "mystery melody" radio come-on gimmicks.

Bandleader Wayne King, who got rich in radio as the sweet orchestral voice of Lady Esther, got richer than anyone guessed: King took much of his network pay in stock, and it zoomed him to millionaire status.

Crash Kills 5 as Police Chase a Stolen Auto

HOUSTON (AP) — The toll of an automobile crash involving the chase of a stolen car rose to five yesterday with the death of two more persons.

The crash occurred late Saturday night when the stolen car collided headon wth another in which four residents of Silsbee, Texas, were returning from a football game.

The victims from Silsbee were F. R. Mullins, 38, Elliott McDonald, 38, and Miss Alice Releford, 30. Mrs. Mullins was critically hurt.

Police identified the victims in the stolen car as Johnnie M. Phillips, 17, and Edward Woods, about 24, both of Houston.

Think Arsenic Not Accidental

Three in Family Die, Eight Left in Hospital From Poisoned Water

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP) — West Virginia state police, working on the assumption that the arsenic deaths of William Kidwell and his two sons were not accidental, have begun searching for suspects.

Kidwell and two sons, Thomas, 1, and Charles, 2, died during the past two weeks of arsenic poisoning. Mrs. Kidwell and their seven surviving children are in Washington County Memorial Hospital in Hagerstown, Md., recovering from the effects of poisoning.

State trooper J. E. Durst of the Charles Town barracks said "more than one person" was being sought as a suspect.

He said the state police laboratory at Charleston determined definitely that traces of arsenic were placed in the well water at the Kidwell family home near Kearneysville, W. Va.

Durst said police were looking for a man who was a family friend before the Kidwells moved from Hagerstown across the Potomac River to Kearneysville.

The elder Kidwell died on Thanksgiving day and the two sons died on Nov. 15.

Railway Cars Missing, Arrest 2 Merchants

MELUN, France (AP)—Police today arrested two scrap merchants on suspicion of stealing five railway locomotives.

The locomotives, parked on an isolated siding, were gradually stripped down and removed for resale as junk, police said. The French National Railways estimated damage at more than a million francs.

Boulder Club Gutted, One of Nevada's First

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — One of Nevada's oldest casinos, the Boulder Club, was gutted by fire last night at a loss estimated by fire chief Elmer Gates at $200,000.

As firemen played hoses on the flames, croupiers hurriedly removed stacks of chips and silver dollars. Money and chips were loaded into a police car and taken for safekeping to the adjoining Horseshoe Club.

Firemen said the blaze started in upstairs dressing rooms.

The club was issued its gambling license, one of the state's first, in 1929.

Storms Rage on Seas, Endangering Ships

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Winter storms raged over the North and Baltic Seas today, kicking up mountainous waves that endangered ships.

The tiny North Friesian Islands off the west coast of Germany were inundated for the third time in 24 hours by the high waves. The islands are populated by several hundred persons, mostly fishermen.

Tools for Campers

CHICAGO — A new convenience for campers is a combination ax and shovel. A washer and a screw hold the ax firm. Also new for campers and hikers is a wind-up shaver with a rotary head; it needs no electricity.

China, Greece Plan Pact

HONG KONG (AP) — Negotiations for a seven million dollar trade treaty between Red China and Greece are nearing an end. Under it, China will buy cotton, tobacco and minerals from Greece. Greece will take soya beans, asphalt, chemicals, eggs, tea and silk.

64-Foot Tree Goes 335 Miles to New York

It was the longest haul for any of the Center's famous Yuletide trees. In the past, trees have come from within 100 miles of New York.

A four-foot white plastic star was placed at the top of the tree before it was raised by crane. Tomorrow a six-story scaffold will be placed around the tree and a crew of 20 men will begin a week's work placing 2,200 firefly bulbs and 1,200 red, green and white illuminated plastic globes in the tree.

Medical Expert Dies; King Was His Patient

LONDON (AP)—The death of Sir Lionel E. H. Whitby, a bacteriologist whose patients included the late King George V and Sir Winston Churchill, was announced today. He was 60.

Sir Lionel in recent years was a visiting professor of medicine at Harvard and New York Universities. He was knighted in 1945.

Hal Boyle Says:

Napoleon Was Very Fond of Onion Soup

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail—and browse in old bookstores:

That the number of both cars and telephones in the United States is increasing faster than the number of people.

That four million persons born in the Southern states moved to other sections of America between 1950 and 1955.

That about 92 per cent of American girls get married and about 85 per cent of them land a man before they are 26.

That a colleague of ours — Missouri State Penitentiary's Charlie Rice, columnist on the monthly paper—observes, "A man all wrapped up in himself makes a small package!"

That Jacqueline Cochran, who runs a cosmetics firm and became a top airplane speed pilot, was an orphan who went to work in a beauty parlor at 14.

That Larry Mack, youthful head of a slenderizing firm that has caused U.S. gals to shed five million pounds of fat, says Italian woman have the world's worst figures.

That tiny Elaine Malbin, the opera star—she's only a half inch over five feet—keeps in trim by lying on her back and doing bicycle exercises with 10-pound lead weights built into her shoes.

That the biggest objection many women have to pipe-smoking men is, "They spend so much time trying to keep their pipe lit they have no time left to talk." Whatever happened to the pipe-puffing fad among the ladies? Haven't seen one all year.

That a generation ago most medicines came in fluid form. Now between 80 and 90 per cent comes in pills, capsules and tablets.

That the brain is fed largely by sugar and faulty sugar metabolism may be the chief factor not only in diabetes but also in arthritis, some chronic heart ailments and schizophrenia, a mental disease.

That about 8 out of 1,000 people throughout the world suffer from schizophrenia, regardless of their race or whether they are rich or poor, savage or civilized.

That Americans spend $128,000,000 a year on deodorants.

That only a third of the 70 million Americans licensed to drive cars are women. It only seems like there are more.

That more than 500,000 U.S. children now ride to school regularly in autos. Maybe that's why leather manufacturers complain teen-agers no longer do enough walking to wear out their shoes.

Although the average American is "eating higher on the hog," more than half of the 161 pounds of meat he consumed last year was beef. Most of the rest was pork.

That Canadian fishermen are now using aureomycin to protect their ocean catch from bacterial spoilage during the long voyage home to market.

That both Napoleon Bonaparte and Josephine were fond of onion soup.

That it was Francois de la Rochefoucald who said, "Most of our faults are more pardonable than the means we use to conceal them."

Gets Auto (mation) Right to the Station

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Morals squad officer J. L. Smith was in the right place at the right time to prevent a bank robbery.

Smith said he accompanied a chance acquaintance to a tavern Saturday night, where the man invited him to be his partner in a bank robbery "without no killin'."

A getaway car was needed for the job. When the instigator of the plot was unable to find an unlocked parked car, Smith said that after much discussion he convinced the man he had an auto ideal for the job.

And in it, the two shortly drove to the city jail.

B52s Show Off Knockout Ability

Eight 14-Ton Bombers Fly Non-Stop Over Pole in 17,000-Mile Trip

BALTIMORE (AP) —U.S. air officials pointed today to the awesome flights of eight B52 jet bombers as proof of the nation's ability to deliver a nuclear knockout punch anywhere in the world.

Before landing at various points in the United States yesterday, they had:

1. Completed non-stop flights of up to 17,000 miles over a 32½-hour stretch, more than eight hours longer than any other B52 had ever flown continuously.

2. Circled the North Pole at temperatures of 65 degrees below zero, reached speeds of "nearly 700 miles per hour" and maintained altitudes of "more than 35,000 feet."

3. Simulated drops of deadly bombloads at targets along a course leading from Maine, past Thule, Greenland, to the top of the world, and back by way of Anchorage, Alaska; Seattle, Wash.; San Francisco; Houston, Tex.; Miami, Fla., and Baltimore.

"We had a very successful mission," said Col. Donald E. Hillman, commander of the 42nd Bomb Wing based at Loring.

He flew in one of two B52s which were diverted to Baltimore's Friendship International Airport after being scheduled to land at Loring.

The diversion, a Strategic Air Command spokesman indicated, was part of a last-minute plan to dramatize U.S. striking power.

SAC spokesmen said the flights were "a routine mission to demonstrate the capability of the B52 and the men who fly it." They said the B52s, of which the Air Force has more than 500 among 11 wings, refuled in flight with the aid of KC97 Stratocruisers.

Cut Off by Other Car, Says Accident Victim

A driver whose car struck a utility pole Saturday night claimed he had been cut off by another car, Pontiac police said.

Richard D. Dickinson, 23, of 1160 Lakeview Rd., who also drove into a street sign and then bounced into the opposite curb, police said, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for bruised hands.

It Costs $47.36 for Bunny Hop of 9,000 Miles

BOSTON (AP)—It was a long bunny hop—and an expensive one.

It was sent by a woman Air Force lieutenant, Usbeck Peterson, 26, to her mother, Mrs. Edwin Peterson of Belmont.

It cost $45.36, plus $2 in customs charges, to ship the rabbit by air.

Mrs. Peterson claimed the rabbit, but said she hasn't quite figured out what to do with it or where to keep it.

Mrs. Peterson said she got first notice of the shipment at 3 a.m. last Wednesday when her daughter telephoned from Okinawa.

"She never writes," added the mother. "She always phones, sometimes from Formosa or Tokyo."

Mrs. Peterson said her daughter has orders for transfer to Germany. She presumed she had the rabbit as a pet and sent it home for safekeeping meanwhile.

First Death Occurs on Kansas Turnpike

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — The new Kansas Turnpike recorded its first fatality early Sunday when Edward R. Fitzpatrick, 48, an international representative of the United Packing House Workers Union at Cedar Rapids, Ia., was killed.

The 236-mile turnpike from Kansas City, Kan., to the Oklahoma line was opened a month ago.

Fitzpatrick was riding with Kermit Fry, 47, a district director of the union in Kansas City. Fry's station wagon ripped out a 95-foot length of turnpike guard rail. The right door was torn off and Fitzpatrick was thrown out.

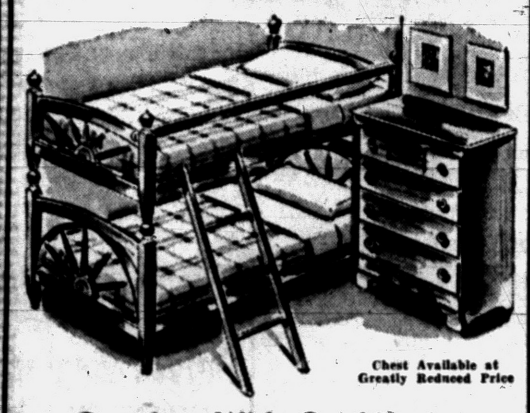

Investigators said Fry apparently fell asleep. He was charged with reckless driving and driving while intoxicated.

Insect damage in U. S. in a year amounts to about $4 billion, in addition to the costs of control.
