2 Dead, 50 Injured in Tornadoes' Wake

From Our News Wires

Tornado-laden storms killed two persons and injured at least 50 in Ohio and lashed the southern Mississippi valley. Bad weather continued to pound the central part of the United States.

Other twisters dipped into Texas and Kentucky amid large hail, driving rain and strong winds.

National Guard troops were ordered on duty during the night at Dennison, Ohio, to prevent looting of the more than 20 homes destroyed by a tornado that killed one woman and caused the hospitalization of 20 persons.

Troops also were on guard at more than 30 homes severely damaged by a tornado that injured 30 persons at Kettering, a Dayton suburb of 59,000.

THREE OTHER STATES

Lighter damage was caused by at least three tornadoes that struck in southern Mississippi, at Biloxi, Quitman and Glouster. Other tornadoes hit central Kentucky and north central Texas.

Funnel clouds danced over other parts of Texas as that state remained under a siege of violent weather. Thunderstorms, egg-sized hail and 60-mile-an-hour winds hit the state yesterday.

Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes made aerial surveys of the devastation around Kettering and Dennison before ordering 200 troops to the areas to prevent looting.

Mrs. Harry Fogie, 42, was killed when a tornado hit her home at Tappan Lake, southeast of Dennison.

KILLED BY FALLING TREE

Jefferson D. Miller, 20, of Alexandria, was killed when a tree, split by lightning or wind, fell on his car near Columbus.

The Kettering tornado struck during the late-afternoon rush hour. It cut a path 150 yards wide and three miles long through a residential area and into adjacent Greene County.

Thirty houses were demolished and an estimated 185 others damaged, as were an apartment building complex and a nursing home.

No deaths or serious injuries occurred in the west Ohio storm although 25 persons were treated at Kettering Memorial Hospital for cuts and bruises.

MILLIONS IN DAMAGE

At the Crestview Nursing Home, the kitchen was destroyed and part of the roof carried away. None of the home's 75 elderly residents was injured.

Revised PAPC Elects Officers

By ED BLUNDEN

The Pontiac Area Planning Council (PAPC) held its first election of officers under new bylaws yesterday and returned Mayor William H. Taylor as chairman.

Elected vice chairman was Charles Tucker Jr., realtor and president of Harambee Inc., a black community development corporation. Both elections were unanimous and were recommended by the nominating committee chaired by E. Eugene Russell, Bell Telephone Co. executive.

Under old rules, the chairmanship and vice chairmanship automatically went to the mayor of Pontiac and president of the school board, respectively.

REORGANIZATION EFFORT

Last night's meeting was the first in four months actually spent in PAPC proceedings. The group has spent most of its time since January in a reorganization effort since the City Commission demanded the group comply with enabling resolutions.

The City Commission pointed out that PAPC had not conformed to several rules set up when the PAPC was formed in October 1967 as an advisory and planning body for the commission and school board.

The PAPC had not submitted bylaws

Cong Peace Plan: Gimmick or Real?

From Our News Wires

President Nixon is expected to instruct his Paris envoys to determine whether the Vietcong's 10-point Vietnam peace plan is a propaganda gimmick or a sign of readiness for serious bargaining.

The 10 points, proposed by the Vietcong's Tran Buu Kiem at yesterday's Paris session, stack up basically as a combination of elements in the four- and five-point plans long standard in North Vietnamese and Vietcong diplomatic presentations.

But the new text omitted their customary propaganda polemics, went into greater detail than before, used some different phrasings and left enough ambiguities to whet the appetites of U.S. strategists searching for a break in the lengthening stalemate at the conference table.

Nixon discussed the enemy plan with security affairs advisor Henry A. Kissinger at Key Biscayne, Fla., following the news from Paris.

SECRET TALKS LIKELY

Since the President sees secret talks as the best way to make negotiating progress, the U.S. mission headed by Henry Cabot Lodge probably will try to sound out enemy envoys privately.

The Saigon government today said it is willing to discuss several points in the 10-part peace program, but it rejected the new Vietcong call for a provisional coalition government.

A Foreign Ministry communique said discussions could be held on such questions as exchange of prisoners of war, the reestablishment of the demilitarized zone and respect of the 1962 Geneva agreements on Laos.

This was expected to be unacceptable to the Vietcong, which had termed its 10-point proposal an "integrated whole."

WITHDRAWAL COMING?

Meanwhile, the U.S. military command has begun administrative moves that point to the withdrawal of some GIs from Vietnam in the next 60 days, American military sources in Saigon said today.

Most affected by these moves has been the U.S. 25th Infantry Division, the unit most prominently mentioned in unconfirmed withdrawal reports in Saigon and from Washington and Paris.

The U.S. sources said all rest-and-recuperation leaves past June 30 have been delayed for the division. Soldiers holding critical jobs in the 25th have been told to expect reassignment orders soon.

Wet Weekend Is in the Offing

There's a chance Pontiac area residents will be walking in the rain again tomorrow.

Here is the official forecast of the U. S. Weather Bureau:

TODAY — Cloudy with occasional light rain ending late today, cool, with the high in the mid-50s. Partial clearing and cooler tonight, the low 36 to 42.

TOMORROW—Partly cloudy with chance of showers by afternoon, continued cool.

Precipitation probabilities are 80 per cent today and 30 both tonight and tomorrow.

A rainy 47 was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The thermometer reading at 2 p.m. was 41.

PSH Paint-In Over--for Now

By DICK ROBINSON

When the 24 regular painters — men, women and teen-agers — started the project two months ago, Hall G was a dismal, depressing sight, a maintenance man said.

Paint was peeling on the walls, plaster was falling from the walls and ceilings, windows leaked cold air and water dripped from the ceiling.

But today patients are back in the new-looking rooms and halls vacated by the paint slingers.

"I guess I'll catch up on my housework and start in again next fall," commented Mrs. Ronald Bunker, 189 W. Brooklyn, who organized the paint crew under the name "Bunker's Paint Slingers."

"I don't know what I'll do on Thursdays any more," another housewife said.

THEY'LL BE MISSED

Hospital painters along with patients, who got used to seeing the crew go to and from work in homemade uniforms, will miss them.

"I'd like to have four of them on my paint crew," hospital painter John Olson said. "They did a good job. They stuck to the job and that's why we worked hard with them."

Twenty-four regular painters — along with about 50 part-timers — saved the hospital about $6,000 in wages for their 800 hours of work, a painter estimated.

"This was a positive protest," explained Mrs. Arthur Durham, 416 Upland. "We were protesting the inadequate funds the hospital gets from the state."

At first the volunteers from all around the county—ages 14 to 60 years old—were apprehensive of their strange surroundings. Many had never been in a mental hospital before.

Farmington Twp. Officer Reinstated by Trial Board

By LOIS FRIEDLAND

All charges were dismissed and full reinstatement ordered for Detective Sgt. Earl Teeples at last night's meeting of the Farmington Township police trial board.

Teeples was returned to his rank, given back pay for a two-week suspension and relieved of a year's probation.

A crowd of some 300 persons cheered the verdict, which was announced after a brief recess during the fifth session of the five-man trial board.

Teeples had been charged with violating 12 counts of a department police code, adopted last month, for telling an Oakland County assistant prosecutor that he had seen two officers beat a prisoner July 9, 1968.

NIGHT SHIFT ABSENT

Apparent reaction to the verdict in the department itself followed by a few hours. Only the desk sergeant showed up for duty on the normally six-man midnight shift. All of the others called in sick or claimed leave days, according to Chief Irving Yakes. A full staff reported for this morning's shift.

Last night's verdict followed a statement by Township Attorney Joseph T. Brennan who recommended dismissal of the charges and reinstatement on the grounds that the police department lacked sufficient information to support the charges.

Brennan also commented that the police department investigation made prior to the charges against Teeples was "superficial at best."

He added, "I don't believe that we have now, or will have when through, enough evidence to decide."

CONFLICT IN EVIDENCE

He pointed out that the charges had been largely resolved during previous testimony. He also admitted that there was a conflict in the evidence presented by the different persons involved, but suggested that many of the discrepancies

No End in Sight to the Problem

WINDSOR, Ont. (UPI) — Two huge sewer pipes being built to connect ended up wide of the mark — in fact 25 feet wide of each other — and one was a foot higher than the other.

City officials estimate the last 1,000 feet of the five-mile, $13-million line will have to be dug up and relaid. The problem is coming up with the $500,000 cost of the unexpected work without taking the additional money out of taxpayers' pockets.

The city expects to have a difficult time making ends meet.

42 Deaths Laid to Spray-Sniffs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Forty-two youngsters looking for kicks in the common spray can have died after inhaling the mists from such products as mouthwashes and cleaning fluids, according to the Food and Drug Administration.

Victims were mostly teen-agers, but one was only 11 years old, an FDA spokesman said.

"These kids apparently have been spraying products into plastic bags and then sniffing them," reported Joshua Zatman, the FDA's assistant commissioner for education and information.

"Then if they don't withdraw their heads fast enough, they die.

'IT FREEZES . . . IT KILLS'

"It causes some dizziness and some elation with one breath, but if they take two or three breaths it freezes their esophagus, congests their lungs, causes asphyxia. It kills."

Zatman said the effect of inhaling the sprays is "what doctors call mildly hallucenogenic. It is the same effect you get when you drink a couple of ounces of bourbon or scotch in a hurry."

The lethal element in most of the sprays, he said, is Freon 12—an inert gas used to propel the products from cans.

"Freon 12 is the same as the gas used in air conditioners, only here it is compressed," he said. "It's the same as what you use to spray on a glass to chill it when you have your afternoon martini."

LABELING ORDERED

The Federal Trade Commission, Zatman said, has issued an order effective May 21 requiring manufacturers of the aerosols to label the cans with a warning.

The first death attributed to aerosols, he said, occurred in March 1967 and the FDA became aware of it shortly afterward.

At first the FDA was unsure what caused the sensation sought by the youngsters.

But the cause was pinpointed, the FDA said, by Dr. Milton Halpern, chief medical examiner of New York City, who reviewed 12 deaths.

Paul A. Pumpian, an FDA official, told Rep. Fred B. Rooney, D-Pa., who raised the matter in Congress, that there are no plans to withdraw aerosols from the market.

"Since this use is a gross abuse entirely unrelated to the purpose for which they are intended," he said, "it seems rather a draconian step to ban them from commerce."

CCNY President Quits; Fighting Continues

By The Associated Press

Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, president of strike-ravaged City College of New York, announced today he is resigning, effective Monday morning.

Gallagher said "politically motivated outside forces" had made it impossible for him to "carry on the processes of reason and persuasion."

At Howard University in Washington, D.C. riot police sent tear gas rockets into a dormitory after federal marshals, putting an end to a six-building sit-in, were pelted with rocks, bricks and cans.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY

CCNY'S Gallagher read this statement to newsmen in his office this morning:

"My own functions as a reconciler of differences and catalyst for constructive change have become increasingly difficult to carry out. And with the intrusion of politically motivated outside forces in recent days, it has become impossible to carry on the processes of reason and persuasion.

"But the forces of angry rebellion and stern repression clash . . . a man of peace, a reconciler, a man of compassion, must stand aside for a time and await the moment when sanity returns and brotherhood based on justice becomes a possibility."

City College remained open today, despite a faculty senate recommendation that the school be closed.

About 200 police moved on to the Howard campus, fired six tear gas rockets into the dormitory — where about 1,000 students live — then pulled back.

"The marshals were getting stoned and they needed help," Deputy Police Chief Jerry Wilson said. The shower of debris stopped after the tear gas attack.

About 100 marshals armed with helmets, nightsticks and a court order entered the campus at 3:30 a.m. and began clearing the six buildings. At first there was little resistance, but soon they were being pelted with debris.

Wilson said about 60 students had been arrested, all but one by marshals.

GUARDSMEN STANDING BY

At Indiana, about 150 black students took over a negotiating session between students and administrators for three hours to demand that trustees join the meeting. They left when officials said they would urge the trustees to meet with students.

Fortas Should Air Case, Senators Feel

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Several senators — Republicans and Democrats alike — say Abe Fortas should answer allegations about his financial conduct, but few appear eager for an official inquiry unless the Supreme Court justice volunteers to testify.

In the meantime, the Justice Department is investigating the Supreme Court justice's relation with the family foundation of Louis E. Wolfson to see whether criminal laws have been violated.

The department's criminal division reportedly is studying whether Fortas's relationships violated either of two laws—one forbidding any federal official to receive directly or indirectly any compensation from private parties in connection with any government proceeding; and the other forbidding federal judges from practicing privately.

ENDORSES SUGGESTION

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield endorsed a suggestion yesterday that the Senate Judiciary Committee offer a forum for Fortas.

Sen. Edward Kennedy, who originally made the suggestion, said yesterday, he had word the judiciary committee would not initiate an inquiry unless Fortas asked to be heard. Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., is said to feel any investigation is a matter for the House to initiate.

But Sen. Paul Fannin, R-Ariz., proposed the Senate create a special committee to look into the Fortas case.

Fannin said if the Wolfson fee controversy should require impeachment proceedings, the special committee he proposed could make findings of fact.

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany will not increase the value of its mark, a government spokesman said today.

Air Fare Hike Halted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Cicil Aeronautics Board (CAB) today suspended a proposed fare increase by five major airlines — American, Braniff, Trans World, United and Western.

The proposed fare increase would have brought the five airlines an estimated $30 million in additional annual revenue.

This would have been the second fare increase for the airlines this year. In February, the CAB approved an increase averaging about 3 per cent.

Conservatives Win Big

LONDON (AP) — The Conservatives reigned supreme in town halls across Britain today after routing Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Laborites in local elections for the third straight year.

The balloting yesterday did not reduce Wilson's 71-seat majority in the House of Commons. But more than 600 Labor party workers were thrown out of local offices, and the party's chances in the national elections Wilson must call within the next two years looked dimmer than ever.

Agnew, Health and Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch and Atty. Gen. John T. Mitchell along with a group of White House aides were to fly to Nixon's vacation villa for a Saturday morning conference.

RICHARD M. SAUNDERS

L. GARY THORNE

Pair of Editors Named by Press

Pontiac Press Publisher Howard H. Fitzgerald II announced today the promotion of Richard M. Saunders to managing editor and L. Gary Thorne to city editor.

Saunders, 35, of 65 Chippewa has served The Press since 1957 as a reporter, city editor and assistant to the managing editor.

He fills the post vacated by Harry J. Reed, who became editor upon the recent retirement of John W. Fitzgerald.

Thorne, 28, of 3981 Hedgerow, Oakland Township, joined The Press in 1963. He was a reporter before being named assistant city editor.

Effective May 16, he will take the position of Jerry Robbins, 37, of 3286 Golfhill, Waterford Township. Robbins has resigned to take a public relations post.

'Safeguard Cost Dwarfs Estimate'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A private study indicates the Safeguard antimissile system's ultimate cost may top $13 billion—66 per cent more than official estimates.

Disclosure of the study yesterday prompted immediate assertions, notably by Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., that the maneuvering over Safeguard "has created a credibility gap for the Nixon administration."

The study, by the Defense Marketing Survey, a McGraw-Hill Service for industrial firms, estimated the cost of Safeguard between 1969 and 1975 at more than $11 billion.

School Fund Reform 'Doubtful in 1969'

By MEL NEWMAN

The author of the education finance reform bill supported by most Michigan school officials made his pitch in Waterford Township last night.

But members of the Waterford Citizens Committee for School Legislation and Financial Reform, though they apparently liked what they heard about the Roy Spencer bill, received little encouragement for the coming school year.

Spencer, R-Attica, carefully explained his proposal, which is now House Bill 2267, and spiced his remarks with a few digs at legislators who seem unconcerned or timid about the need for reform.

And those asides made clear a basic message to the committee—that reform is highly unlikely to come by the 1969-70 school year.

'SICK OF STUDIES'

Alluding both to "certain legislators playing politics" and to the recently announced governor's educational finance study committee, Spencer commented:

"That's where I part ways with the governor. I'm sick of studies; they're all we've had since 1945. We need more legislators with enough guts to say 'We're going to keep these schools running.'"

Spencer explained that his plan is in essence an outline for equal educational opportunity throughout the state's districts.

Drafted in terms of dollars-per-pupil, the bill is based on the concept that the state would provide funds in proportion to funds provided by individual districts.

IMPORTANT ASPECT

For example, if the district levies 12 mills in local property tax, the state would provide $550 per pupil. Fifteen mills annually would bring $640 and 20 mills would get $740 from the state.

Perhaps most important, the bill would take the heat off property taxes by substituting a 1.5 per cent increase in state income tax and a 3 per cent increase in corporate tax. It also allows the substitution of additional local income taxes for all or any mills above a minimum 12.

This makes the plan, at least on its surface, attractive in Waterford Township, where a school millage proposal (property tax) was defeated twice within four months.

But neither Spencer's proposal nor any other finance reform program is imminent, due to the political and legislative climate in Lansing.

"It appears that efforts for reform are dead this year," Dr. Don O. Tatroe, superintendent of schools, summed up.

"Waterford's salvation, until reform is achieved, is in the hands of the governor," he added.

Most Incumbents Lose at Local 594

Winning the presidency was Robert J. White, while the vice presidency went to Wallace Johnson. They defeated Joe Arthur and Martin Holt, respectively.

The election was a turnaround from the results of two years ago when White and Johnson were defeated by Arthur and Holt.

Yesterday the vote went 1,794 to 1,430 for president and 1,838 to 1,322 for vice president.

OTHER NEW OFFICERS

Other new officers in two-year terms are William Freer, recording secretary, and Don Mapley, financial secretary. Trustee Elroy Mack was returned to office. New trustees are Cliff Branch and George Smith.

Other winners were Harry Stevens, sergeant-at-arms; Charles Mann, guide; and Norman Malloy, chairman of the shop committee.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Nearly 30 saints were dropped today in a drastic revision of the liturgical calendar of the Roman Catholic Church.

Among those dropped were St. Christopher, patron of travelers and the figure in millions of St. Christopher medals; St. Barbara; and St. Susanna, for whom the American Roman Catholic church in Rome is named.

Teacher to Be Tried in June

Court officials said, however, that no date has been set in the case of Charles O. Hunt, 32, of 111 Grace, Avon Township.

Hunt, a teacher at Eastern, is charged with the assault and battery of Alvin Emery, 14, son of Mrs. Betty Emery, 540 Judson. The alleged incident occurred April 28.

Hunt is charged under a city ordinance and will be prosecuted by the city attorney's office, rather than the county prosecutor.

If convicted of the misdemeanor, Hunt could be sentenced to 90 days in jail or fined $100, or both.

The teacher, who had resigned prior to the incident, effective at the end of the school year, has been reassigned to a nonteaching position in the school administration building.

Doctor Sues Gun Firm in Wife's Death

DETROIT (AP) —A 28-year-old Toledo, Ohio, doctor who was acquitted in the shotgun killing of his wife has filed a $5 million suit against the manufacturer of the gun.

Dr. Gary Crawford filed the complaint Thursday in Wayne County Circuit Court at Detroit against Browning Arms Co. of St. Louis, Mo.

Last Nov. 3, Crawford's wife, Marcia, 27, was killed by a shot at their apartment in Wayne County. Crawford at the time was an intern at a Detroit-area hospital.

He charged the Browning firm with "negligent misrepresentation" in a booklet which, the suit said, stated: "You can never be certain that your gun is unloaded unless the breech is open."

Crawford said that on Nov. 3 he was preparing to store the 20-gauge shotgun at his apartment, saw that the breech was open and thought the gun was unloaded. The suit said that Crawford pulled the trigger and the gun fired and killed his wife.

Crawford was acquitted of second-degree murder last February in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Road Commission Is Under Fire

By JEAN SAILE

The Oakland County Road Commission came under fire from a board of supervisors committee yesterday, and indications are that its displeasure with the three-man appointed commission is not going to abate.

Whether the newly elected supervisors are going to be able to do anything about the commission is questionable. Several supervisors have expressed unhappiness with the commission since taking office in January.

"You're going to have to replace them if you want action," said Mahlon Benson, R-Waterford Township.

Pending state legislation to abolish county road commissions is being studied by the county legislative committee. The legislation reportedly has little chance of passage.

EX-SUPERVISORS

Seats on the three-man commission, appointed by the Board of Supervisors to staggered six-year terms, traditionally have been occupied by ex-supervisors. Sol Lomerson is chairman and Frazer Staman and Paul McGovern are the other two commissioners. Each receives $12,000 a year and the chairman receives an additional $500.

By state law the road commission is independent of the Board of Supervisors. It receives its own state funds and formulates its own policy. This year, however, it has asked for — and been given in the preliminary county 1970 budget—$400,000 to supplement its road building program.

And this year it also has $15,000, appropriated by the old board of supervisors, for a "liaison" man at the commission. The job never has been filled.

Members of the public works committee yesterday expressed some doubt as to whether the road commission would be willing to delegate authority to another higher-paid man.

Charles B. Edwards Jr., present board chairman, said he'd like to see the job reduced to a part-time position and Willis Brewer, a former supervisor, hired to fill it. He suggested Brewer's liaison might be aimed more towards Lansing and Washington rather than local communities in an effort to latch onto additional government road funds.

The road commission has claimed for several years that it does not receive enough money from the state to meet the road needs of Oakland County.

William Richardson, D-Royal Oak, asked, "These men (the commissioners) are already being paid to represent the county. Why doesn't one of them serve as lobbyist?"

Another question regarding pay was asked by Benson. "Why do we pay our commission $12,000 a year when Wayne County pays theirs only $8,000 a year?"

JOINT MEETING

Some of the answers are expected at a joint meeting of the public works committee and the road commission later this month.

Avon Water Plan Still Stalled

AVON TOWNSHIP — A temporary restraining order against the township, sought by two Rochester area builders, was lifted Wednesday in Circuit Court at a show-cause hearing.

The suit was filed by Richard L. Cascaddan, 1427 Rochingham, and Robert Tachick, 1479 Stockport. It sought to halt the Township Board and the township's consulting engineering firm of Johnson & Anderson from proceeding with plans to build a multimillion-dollar well water (Subterranean) system.

Cascaddan and Tachick alleged that the project was originally estimated to be $5 million but had now mushroomed to $11.3 million. Further, the suit declares that the project was conceived in "secret" or executive sessions of the Township Board.

Defendants named in the suit are Supervisor Cyril E. Miller, Clerk Thelma Spencer, Treasurer Helen V. Allen and Trustees Earl J. Borden, George J. Ennis, William E. McCullough and Philip K. Trimble. Also named is the firm of Johnson & Anderson, 2300 Dixie, Pontiac.

COURT ACTION INITIATED

Court action against the project was initiated April 25 by Tachick and Cascaddan through their attorneys, Maurice A. Merritt, Birmingham, and Roscoe R. Martin, Rochester.

Although the injuction was lifted Wednesday, a trial date will be set for the future. Since the township would be unable to sell bonds for the project during litigation, the project is effectively stymied for the time being.

The suit asking for the restraining order was based on the following allegations.

- On March 19, 1968, the board held its annual meetng at 4 p.m. Supervisor Cyril Miller adjourned the meeting within minutes to meet in executive session, then announced a short time later that the water improvement program as prescribed by Johnson & Anderson had been adopted.
- The Township Board never explained to the citizens of Avon Township the advantages or disadvantages between the "well water" system and the city "city (Detroit) water" system.
- The plaintiff belives it will cost more money for well (subterranean) water than for city water from the Detroit Water Supply System, the latter being used by adjoining Pontiac, Bloomfield, Troy, and Shelby and Sterling townships.
- The mineral content in well water is damaging to pipes, clothes washers, hot water tanks, sinks, wash bowls and toilet bowls.
- Vilican-Leman & Associates, Inc. planning consultants, have strongly suggested the future elimination of well water systems from Avon Township.
- Statton Associates, the defendants' financial consultants, on March 19, 1968, termed a well water system "economically unfeasible and totally unreliable."

Kevin Demonstrates His New Skills

Kenny Foundation's Boy of Year Is From Waterford

A 2-year-old who nine months ago was unable to sit or stand will walk to a place of honor at the Kenny-Michigan Rehabilitation Foundation's annual dinner Tuesday.

Kevin Scott Hoover, 2875 Silver Hill, Waterford Township, will be honored as the foundation's 1969 Kenny Boy at the dinner at 7:30 p.m. at Veterans Memorial Building, Detroit.

The blue-eyed blond was diagnosed at the age of 5 months as hydrocephalic. The crippling condition is caused by excessive cerebrospinal fluid in the head. Neurosurgeons inserted a tube to reroute the fluid and reduce the pressure on the infant's brain.

Following surgery, Kevin was brought to the Kenny Rehabilitation Center at Pontiac General Hospital nine months ago, at 19 months. He was estimated to be at a 4-month level in many areas of physical development, such as sitting balance.

HE MADE PROGRESS

After three months of rehabilitation and therapy three times weekly, many of Kevin's muscular skills progressed to a 1-year level.

Today, Kevin sits, stands alone, crawls, walks with assistance, plays ball and is beginning to talk. Estimates are that his condition has stablized, and Kevin's development will continue. Kevin now exercised at home between his weekly visits to the Kenny Rehabilitation Center.

Speaker at the Foundation's 22nd annual dinner will be Dr. Harry A. Towsley, chairman of the department of postgraduate medicine, University of Michigan. Dr. Towsley will discuss "The Future Role of the Volunteer Agency."

Also at the dinner will be Kevin's grandmother, Mrs. John C. Hoover, 83, who once worked with polio patients at the Sister Kenny Hospital in Farmington during severe polio epidemics in the 1940s.

The Kenny Foundation is a Torch Drive and Michigan United Fund agency.

Youth Bound Over in Rail Sabotage

A Milford youth has been bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court to stand trial on charges of attempting to derail a train and endangering the lives of the train's crew.

William E. Knapp, 18, of 688 Sunset, will be arraigned on the charges before Judge Philip Pratt on May 20. He was bound over following his preliminary examination Wednesday before District Judge Gerald McNally of Clarkston.

He is accused of piling railroad ties four feet high on the tracks of the C & O Railroad in Highland Township.

CREW GAVE CHASE

The crew gave chase when they spotted Knapp hiding in weeds about 20 feet above the tracks.

Knapp is being held in the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $2,500 bond.

Lightning Torches Barn; Damage Tops $20,000

BRUCE TOWNSHIP — A fire caused by lightning destroyed a barn and its contents on the property of Stanley Nagorka, 75285 McKay, yesterday, firemen said.

Damage to the barn, stored grain and farm equipment exceeded $20,000. Township firemen said the blaze started around 5 a.m. and was extinguished about four hours later.

Israelis Raid Arabs

By The Associated Press

Israel stepped up operations against Arab guerrillas in Jordan in the past 36 hours with a commando raid that killed three Arabs and blew up 12 hourses and two air strikes.

Israeli commandos dashed a mile and a half beyond the Jordan River last night in the first such raid in nine months. They attacked houses in Wadi Jabis which Arab saboteurs were belived to have used.

Troy School Board Told

Tax Vote 'Untimely'

TROY — June would be an "inappropriate time" to ask school district voters to approve a millage renewal and a multimillion-dollar bond issue, CARE (Citizens Acting for Responsible Education) recently told the school board.

CARE suggested that the board not place millage or bond issues on the June ballot, deferring those questions until some time after the state attorney general's report on alleged financial mismanagement is released and made public.

Board members Robert Dolmage, Harold Janes, Leonard Lucas and James McFarland heard the CARE suggestions in the absence of board president Rev. Richard Snoad and vice president John Vagnetti were absent.

QUORUM LACKING

Janes excused himself midway through the discussion, leaving only three board members to decide whether to take action on CARE's proposal. Since three board members is less than a quorum no action was taken.

According to Supt. Dr. Rex B. Smith, the board "would probably look to July or August to ask the millage and bond questions."

The board has not yet taken action to place the money matters on the June ballot. Only school board seats are at issue.

In other recent school board business, Athletic Director Peyton Goodwin escorted board members on a tour of the high school locker rooms and gymnasium, pointing out the need for many improvements.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES

Smith said the athletic facilities need painting, heating improvements, some locker replacements and improved lighting.

Supervisors Fear Hitting Ceiling on per Diem Pay

Fear that county supervisors are going to run through their per diem allowances by early fall was expressed yesterday in a county public works committee meeting.

Supervisors are paid a $4,500 base salary plus $35 per day for meetings attended. A ceiling of $7,500 was established earlier this year.

"Around September you're going to have trouble getting a quorum," Lee Walker, D-Madison Heights, predicted.

"I understand you can't even get mileage when you aren't allowed per diem," Walker said.

DISCUSS ATTENDANCE

Mahlon Benson, R-Waterford Township, replied, "We'll find out how important some of these meetings really are along about that time."

The exchange followed a discussion among committee members about attendance at seminars outside the county on new methods of solid-waste disposal.

The committee will shortly attend a seminar in Columbus, Ohio, and it was suggested that a meeting be scheduled for that day in Columbus in order to allow supervisors to draw per diem pay.

Harry Horton, R-Royal Oak, noted, "You're putting in the day for county business, and I think you should get paid for it."

Horton had earlier pushed through a motion which would restrict future trips on solid-waste disposal to one member of each political party plus two county technical staffers.

"There's a lot being done in the field of solid waste and it's all new. The more we can learn, the better the county will be. We're eventually going to spend millions of dollars on solid waste, and the better we're informed, the better we're going to do it," Horton said.

Holly Men, Lost 4 Days, Still Eager to Go Camping

HOLLY — A four-day diet of swamp water and duckweed hasn't dulled two Holly men's enthusiasm for the great outdoors.

James LeGendre, 41, of 721 Richard and Robert P. Trantham, 35, of 103 Park are seasoned outdoorsmen — to say the least.

Trantham has been camping, canoeing and fishing nearly all his life. LeGendre has shot the rapids in the Snake River and canoed the entire length of the Mississippi river.

But it finally happened last Sunday.

THOROUGHLY LOST

The men became thoroughly lost while on an outing in the Dead Stream swamp near Houghton Lake and wandered helplessly with their dog for four days until they spotted a fisherman Wednesday morning and returned to civilization.

What brought them to the swamp?

"There has been no one back there for more than 60 years — since the logging days and the place is just full of fish," Trantham said.

'COULDN'T FIND WAY'

"We got some wood strips for the canoe about 50 feet away at an old deer hunter's lean-to, but the woods and bush were so dense we could not find our way back," Trantham said.

"After realizing we were making only circles in our attempt to get back to our camp site, we followed the sun and headed east — knowing eventually we would come to Houghton," he added.

Trantham and LeGendre were attired in loafers, wash pants and T-shirts, but managed to keep fairly warm in the evening with a campfire.

Though bruised, sore and tired, Trantham and LeGendre are already contemplating further camping trips.

Art Exhibit, Sale Is On

FARMINGTON — An exhibit and sale by the Farmington Artists Club is being held at the Masonic Temple, at the corner of Grand River and Farmington, today through Sunday.

The exhibit will be open until 10 tonight, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. tomorrow and from noon through 8 p.m. Sunday.

Suspended Officer Reinstated

in stories could have been caused by the repetition of events several months after the incident actually occurred.

Brennan indicated that he reached his recommendations after hearing Lt. Russell Conway's testimony Wednesday. Conway testified that he had todl Chief Yakes of Teeples' allegations in a phone conversation last August.

After the hearing, Brennan indicated he thought the entire problem was a minor incident, which had been blown up out of proportion.

He also indicated that he was going to propose steps to insure that every allegation of police misconduct would be investigated in the future.

ATTORNEYS SATISFIED

Teeples' attorneys, Alexander B. McGrrry and James Lawson, both indicated satisfaction with the decision.

Lawson, who accepted no fee for his defense, commented that "one agency or another" would be continuing the investigation of the other brutality claims against Patrolman John Hedrick, one of the two officers involved in the alleged beating.

Teeples, looking relaxed and confident before the hearing began, commented, "I've never been in such a warm room in my life."

The majority of the crowd appeared to be pro-Teeples. After the verdict was announced, he just grinned and grinned while shaking hands of well-wishers.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Considerable money from businesses and private citizens supporting Teeples' cause has come into the offices of Lawson and Anderson, Farmington attorneys.

Teeples indicated that he will keep careful records on all donated money.

"I intend to pay any necessary expenses and then I'm thinking of using the rest to help establish a police department library."

INTERCHANGE PLAN — The massive I-696 and I-75 interchange in southeast Oakland County should be under way by summer of 1970. First contracts for the estimated $95-million project will be awarded this July. Because it is part of the interstate freeway system, the project will be financed 90 per cent by federal funds and 10 per cent through local and state funds. The project was held up by some south Oakland County suburbs' protests over the route of I-696. Late in 1975 will be the earliest date for traffic to begin rolling on the 7.4 miles of I-696, the State Highway Department says.

Throws Punch, Lands Dinner

James J. Caires of Hingham, a member of the class of 1918, said a news photograph of the encounter pleased him so much he spent two days trying to find the student who landed the punch.

The fisticuffs occurred in Harvard Yard when the SDS member tried to stop the freshman from removing white crosses planted in the lawn to mark Vietnam dead.

"I was delighted when I saw that picture," Caires said. "I thought, here is the actual redemption for this sad affair. These crosses were profaning the Harvard Yard."

Caires declined to identify the freshman except to say he is a member of the freshman football and boxing teams.

It is estimated that between 25 and 30 per cent of Americans have used barbituates, amphetamines and tranquilizers with the past year.

Gregory Peck, president of the Motion Picture Academy, says the film "Young Americans," which won the Oscar for best documentary of 1968 last month, was ineligible because it was released in 1967.

The ballots were rechecked and "Journey nIto Self" was found to have run second in the voting for best documentary. It was declared the winner, and producer Bill McGaw was handed an Oscar in a special ceremony yesterday in Hollywood.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said the Metropolitan Museum of Art has agreed to accept the collection of the Museum of Primitive Art which he founded and heads.

The governor has been collecting primitive art objects for 35 years. Some date to 1200 B.C.

Walter K. Willman

A host of friends and acquaintances are saddened by the death of WALTER K. WILLMAN.

WILLMAN

This estimable citizen, born in Negaunee, had been a Pontiac resident since 1951 when he was appointed City Manager, in which capacity he served until his retirement in 1961.

Mr. WILLMAN began his career in public service shortly after his gradution from Michigan State University with a degree in civil engineering, and was city manager of several Michigan cities before assuming the local office.

"Bill," as he was widely known, was ideally suited for the exacting demands of his calling. His friendly, judicious and patient temperament steered Pontiac through some troubled times in City Hall during the latter years of his tenure, and his firm grasp of all aspects of his job won him the reputation of being one of the Nation's outstanding city managers. Indeed, he was signally honored in 1959 by being elected president of the International City Managers Association.

Mr. WILLMAN, whose recreational pursuits included fly casting and following with a practiced eye the panorama of national sports, was active in the City's civic and fraternal affairs and a willing participant in the furtherance of any worthy cause.

In passing to his reward, he leaves an enviable record of personal achievement and service to his fellows.

'Life' Bares Governor's Life

The strange case of Ohio Gov. JAMES RHODES comes to light in an exhaustive investigation of his life and times publicized in a recent issue of Life magazine.

Central to the exposé, blurred by a bewildering pattern of the governor's misuse of campaign funds, income tax evasion and a fantastic wheeler-dealer financial operation involving two Ohio corporate entities that left the Small Business Administration holding the bag for a $325,000 loan, is the file on YONNIE LICAVOLI. LICAVOLI, a leader of a Detroit-based gangster mob whose operations extend into Ohio, was sentenced to life imprisonment 35 years ago for murder.

Ever since his confinement in the Ohio State Penitentiary, he has been the beneficiary of special privileges and efforts on the part of powerful and well-heeled elements to obtain his release, with a "campaign fund" of $250,000 reportedly available for that purpose.

Since Ohio law excludes life sentences for first degree murder from consideration by the State parole board, the only road to freedom for LICAVOLI was commutation of his sentence by the governor.

Although two former governors had turned deaf ears to pleas for clemency and RHODES himself had twice denied similar overtures, the governor shocked the knowledgeable last January by announcing commutation of LICAVOLI'S prison term, thus paving the way for parole if the parole board concurred.

But for reasons of his own, RHODES last month issued a hastily prepared statement, purportedly the voice of the parole board, that LICAVOLI "will not" be pardoned. (Life found no evidence that the board had held a meeting or taken a vote on the matter.)

Regardless, the Licavoli affair has, to say the least, seriously damaged the image of Rhodes, a career politician who, now that he is barred by law from a third gubernatorial term, is known to have aspirations for a seat in the U.S. Senate.

Under Fire

Toledo Times

For more than 50 years the Reserve Officers Training Corps program on many of the nation's campuses has provided this country with a ready reserve of military officers who could be called to active duty in time of national emergency.

These officers constitute a reservoir of educated, civilian-oriented leadership consistent with our democratic institutions. Now, as another unhappy manifestation of the unpopularity of the war in Vietnam and of student activism, the ROTC program is again under fire as it has been often since its authorization under the National Defense Act of 1916.

In the past, there was the issue of compulsion. Most colleges and universities long since have decided the ROTC training should not be compulsory. Now the issue is course accreditation. Should those who volunteer for ROTC get academic credits for their work?

Several institutions — Harvard and Yale the most recent and conspicuous — have withdrawn academic credits and henceforth ROTC will function as an extra-curricular activity. The argument for denying credits is lack of faculty control over courses conducted by military officers assigned by the Pentagon or the various armed forces.

We hope that ways can be found to strengthen the ROTC program and make it more acceptable for accreditation, as at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which offers credit for academic courses such as military history and science but denies it for training courses.

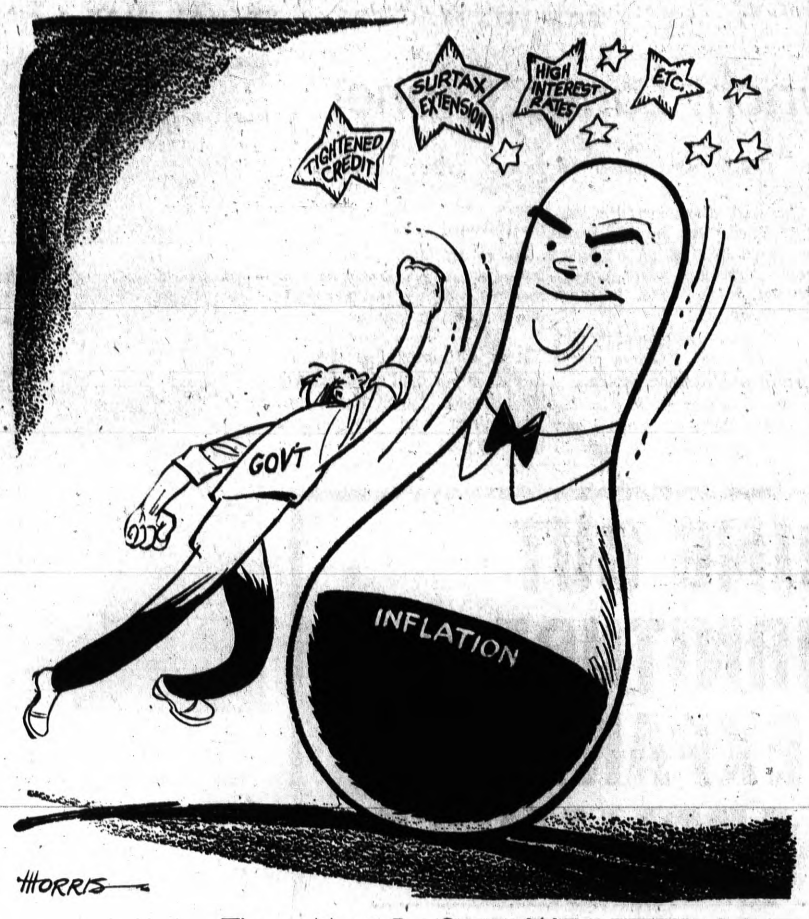
Any movement that would discredit the ROTC program and eventually drive it off the nation's campuses would be a grave disservice not only to those students who wish to take this convenient route to military commissions but also to the nation, which needs a reservoir of civilian officers.

Fathers Served

Ashbury Park (N. J.) Press

College students violently demonstrating against the Reserve Officers Training Corps should be reminded that had their fathers and grandfathers eschewed military training and burned their draft cards this country would now be ruled by a commission comprised of Nazi gauleiters and Japanese warlords. In that event, assuming we still had colleges, even a minor demonstration would be quelled by the mass slaughter by machine gun fire.



There Must Be Some Way—

David Lawrence Says:

Saigon Is Fearful of 'Coalition'

WASHINGTON — What would be regarded as an "honorable peace" in Vietnam? This question comes up often as the Paris talks drag on. For it is evident that the North Vietnamese believe that they can get more and more concessions if they prolong the negotiations.

LAWRENCE

The Communists can, for instance, let down on the fighting for a while—as they are doing now — but resume it as soon as they have reorganized their forces.

There is, of course, plenty of talk about a possible peace agreement. Already predictions are being made here and abroad that the South Vietnamese will take over the burden of the fighting and enable many of the American troops to be withdrawn. But much of this is wishful thinking.

The North Vietnamese are determined to prolong the peace talks so as to get what they want. They seek primarily a means whereby a so-called "coalition" government can be set up in South Vietnam to include the Communists.

Theoretically, the United States would be in the position of having agreed to an "honorable peace." Then, whatever ensued could not be blamed on the Communists.

RELUCTANT TO AGREE

The Saigon government has been reluctant to agree to any "coalition" with the Communists in the South. They fear that the latter, with the help of the North Vietnamese, the Red Chinese and the Soviets, will take over South Vietnam.

The end result would be that South Vietnam would become virtually a Communist satellite or colony.

The Hanoi government is well aware that pressure is being exerted upon the Nixon administration to settle the war at almost any price. This is being advocated not just by groups participating in street "demonstrations," but in outright expressions by some members of the House and Senate.

Two prominent Republican Senators are urging a "unilateral withdrawal" by the United States. It means these men are willing to have American and allied forces pulled out of South Vietnam without requiring the North Vietnamese to do the same.

These critics seem to take it for granted that the American people are not concerned with what happens at the peace table but are interested only in the idea that the American troops must come home, leaving the South Vietnamese to their fate.

But the future of Asia is at stake. To give the Communists more and more power in Southeast Asia will merely increase the possibility that a series of crises involving the United States will develop.

The South Vietnamese, of course, are being pressed to make compromises, and there are some congressmen who are saying openly that the Saigon government must grant more and more concessions.

All this is read in Hanoi and stiffens the backs of its negotiators in Paris. Indeed, there are signs that the debate inside the United States has had more to do with the course of the peace negotiations than anything else.

VIRTUAL SURRENDER

The South Vietnamese recognize that what is being demanded of them is a virtual surrender or at least a "settlement," even if it permits the Hanoi government to take control of that country.

The Saigon government is hopeful that it can make its position clear when Secretary of State Rogers soon visits Vietnam.

The fundamental question, however, is not what is written in the peace agreement, but how much trust can be placed in any Communist pledge to permit a free election to take place.

The manner in which the pact is carried out will determine whether all the sacrifices made by America and its allies will prove to have been in vain.

Whether or not an "honorable peace" has been attained is something which it may actually take two to five years to find out.

For, after the United States withdraws entirely from Vietnam, will the military power of this country be immediately available again to the Saigon government when Hanoi and its political arm in South Vietnam, the National Liberation Front, begin to turn a "coalition" government into a Communist regime?

The Communists are betting that America will not once more help the cause of self-determination — the right of every people to choose their own government.

Game Fish Endangered by Thermal Pollution

NEW YORK — It's next to impossible for an individual to do anything constructive about water pollution, unless the individual is a Howard Hughes — who is paying for the study that may clean up Lake Mead.

CONSIDINE

But if the nation's 40 million outdoor sportsmen unite in a demand that something be done, that may make a dent in the situation.

Countless millions of game fish are being killed each year, for example, by elements that change the nature of the water in which they live. If they are not done in by mine acids, pesticides, herbicides, oil slicks, detergents and raw sewage, then thermal pollution will get them.

Sounds harmless enough, thermal pollution. It is simple heat, but an unbearable amount of it is around.

AFFECTS FISH

The waste heat from a single power plant of 1-million-kilowatt capacity may raise the temperature of an adjoining river by 10 degrees. The temperature of water has a decided effect on the speed and activity of fish, their feeding habits, size and longevity.

Brook trout, frisky and healthy in waters up to 48 degrees, become sluggish and unable to feed properly if the temperature goes up.

Daphnia (minute freshwater crustaceans) can live for 108 days at 46 degrees, but only 29 days at 82 degrees.

Last summer a discharge of heated water from a new power plant on the Cape Cod Canal trapped and destroyed a large number of menhaden, of the herring family. Tons of striped bass died from a dumping of hot water from a nuclear power plant on the Hudson.

Those and other water-heating plants are growing faster than the fishes.

Ideas are being sought by the National Water Institute — especially from sportsmen. The address is 420 Lexington Ave., New York City 10017.

Voice of the People:

'Fight Against Obscenity Has Support of Readers'

Regarding the recent arrests for selling obscene literature, thank God Chief Hanger is doing something about this type of corruption. What can an average citizen do? Movies are another type of obscenity. We seldom go to the movies because of this. When we want to go to a Walt Disney movie, we can't afford it as the prices are so high for a family of seven. We closely select the movies for the children, but if stores will sell obscene literature to those under 18, parents may never know their child is reading it.

CONCERNED PARENTS

How many took time to call Chief Hanger to give him your support in his war on immoral material? I also have declared war on obscene matter by not patronizing businesses where this material is sold. As a Christian leader of Christian Services Brigade Battalion #2864 I am dedicated to the winning and training of boys for Christ. With this type of literature available, how can anyone develop healthy morals in our young men? Keep up the good work, Chief Hanger.

J. R. DECKER

Cheers for Chief Hanger for cleaning up obscene literature. If we can get someone to really work on TV, we may stand a chance of restoring decency. For years we have sung "God Bless America." We need to sing "God Save America."

CLEO DENTON

Congratulations to Chief Hanger and his department for declaring war on pornography. The Pontiac Press cooperation is excellent, as usual. A few years ago we wrote to our local drug store informing the owner we refused to patronize his store until he cleaned up his reading material. It worked. He could not afford the loss of business from a whole subdivision.

I commend Dick Robinson on his articles on the sale of obscene reading material to young people. I agree with Police Chief Hanger in everything he says about it and admire his courage and initiative to do something about it. It is also the problem of the people and we should help stamp out pornography. I'm sure young and old who want to live in a decent and moral community would be glad to help if they know what to do.

Question and Answer

How can we get action? We've called the police and dog warden several times but three dogs belonging to a neighbor are still loose. They chase children, get into garbage, bark at all hours. After we complain they're tied to a neighbor's fence on a rope no longer than four feet with no collar. The odor is awful. They're also left tied there in pouring rain. They have two other dogs. None is licensed. How could we get a copy of laws about dogs?

DISGUSTED NEIGHBORS

REPLY

You can get action by signing a complaint. The owners can then be taken to court and appropriate action taken. If the situation is as bad as you describe, you should have no trouble getting all the neighbors to sign. If one of you will stop by the Animal Shelter, Dr. Wilson will be glad to give you several copies of State law governing dogs.

for approval nor a budget. Since January the PAPC has gone through the process of writing bylaws and submitting them and a budget to the two parent bodies for approval.

All steps were completed before last night's meeting and the PAPC's fiest "official" action was the election.

HOUSING PROBLEMS

Most of the rest of the meeting was devoted to housing problems.

In a report, James Bates, city director of planning and urban renewal, said accelerated residential building is taking place in Pontiac. He said 3,000 "starts" had taken place in the last five years, 938 of them scheduled for this year.

However, 90 per cent of the new housing units were in multiples, he said. Only 400 single-family dwellings were started, and during the same period 300 were demolished. He said the new buildings would add 10,000 persons to the city population by the end of this year putting the total at about 90,000.

The "gap" in the present trend is in housing for families with children, said Roy B. MacAfee, city housing director.

DIRECTS PUBLIC HOUSING

MacAfee directs public housing in Pontiac which presently consists of the 400-unit Lakeside Homes project on the southwest side. To be added are two projects to provide some 300 units of housing for the elderly under the federal "turnkey" program. These are expected to be completed within the next two years.

Under the program, private developers build the structure then turn it over to city authorities after complete payment (federal funds).

MacAfee said the Housing Commission has been directed by the City Commission to provide more public housing under federal funding. He said a proposal for some 250 units would soon be made.

These units would be mostly for larger families and would follow recent federal guidelines by being at scattered locations around the city rather than in a single project as is Lakeside.

GIVES REPORT

C. Don Davidson, architect with Bruno Leon and Associates of Detroit, reported on housing for middle and upper-income groups. He warned that little of this type of housing has been constructed recently or is planned.

Many persons were leaving the city because their income capacity was above the type of housing available in the city. He said the matter is "most serious . . . affecting the stability of the population."

Davidson said the PAPC Housing Task Force was planning several steps including calling builders in to determine why better-grade housing was not being planned.

He said he hoped to see some positive progress soon to protect the "city's image."

Acting MSU Prexy Tells Faculty

'Revamp MSU Curriculum'

EAST LANSING (AP) — The acting president of Michigan State University has called for a major overhaul of the university's curriculum "to remove decisionmaking from the streets" and place it in the hands of scholars.

Walter Adams, an MSU economics professor, made his plea Thursday at a special meeting of the academic senate. He said no immediate action was taken but added the proposal probably would come before the board of trustees next week.

"I think it is gratuitous to tell you that a system which refuses to reform itself becomes increasingly vulnerable to revolutionary attack," Adams declared.

"If a system is inherently healthy, if it shows a congenital willingness for self-examination and self-renewal, if it displays a structural capacity to institute change and reform, it by the same token immunizes itself from the destructive force of an attacking virus."

IN WAKE OF SIT-IN

Adams made his statement in the wake of a controversial sit-in by Negro students at a campus cafeteria. The demonstrators won most of their demands, including the transfer to other jobs of two white cafeteria supervisors.

Adams said he has agreed to offer the pair a new hearing if they desire. This follows a recommendation of MSU's Academic Council after a two-day meeting on the subject.

Declaring that "history cannot wait," Adams told the academic senate that a long-range program must be adopted by MSU to grapple with what he termed the "urgent and irrepressible crisis on the home front — the crisis of our urban society."

The university, he said, must undertake the revision, modernization and reformation of its curriculum and research orientation to reflect more accurately the reality of urban America.

CONCERN FOR GHETTO

Adams indicated a concern for the educational problems of the inner city ghettos, which are populated mostly by Negroes.

He called for a search for educational techniques that would provide "effective communcation with the urban masses of America" and reach gifted students "who have been denied for a variety of historical reasons the traditional preparation for university studies."

He added:

"We must search for a more profound understanding of how students learn, so that we can teach them more effectively—and thus provide them with an equal access to the pluralistic mainstream of American life."

Adams said the change should not come about by administrative direction from the top, but rather from the individual departments and colleges of the university.

DE-ESCALATE RHETORIC

His plea, he said, was aimed at de-escalating the rhetoric about the urban crisis and to start the thinking about how to solve it.

Adams is filling the post of president until the trustees find a replacement for John Hannah, who has been named to head the Agency for International Development in Washington.

False Teeth— a Reprieve or a Trauma?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Some people who get false teeth welcome it as a reprieve from visits to the dentist. Others, says a dental professor, regard it as a shattering change in their lives.

Dr. Nathan Fredman of the University of Southern California outlined the personalities of the two types at a meeting Wednesday of the Southern California Dental Association.

Some people get dentures because they are tired of going to the dentist," Friedman said. "They are just too anxious and fearful to keep up the visits. To such people, dentures represent relief from anxiety."

But others find the experience traumatic.

"They never adapt," the professor said. "To some it's a sign of age. Some women think of dentures as a loss of feminity. Men sometimes think of them as destroying virility."

Friedman's point was that aspiring dentists must recognize the differing emotions and needs of the persons that sit in their chairs.

Parochiaid Backers Accept Deletion of '70-71 Fund

LANSING (AP) — Supporters of parochiaid agreed Thursday to deletion of a clause in the state school aid bill which would fix a $44-million ceiling on the 1970-71 appropriation for subsidies to nonpublic schools.

The move followed a news conference remark by Gov. William Milliken earlier this week suggesting that the Legislature take another look at the plan to include a specific figure for the 1970-71 fiscal year.

The school aid bill, awaiting action on the House floor, now calls for a token appropriation for the 1969-70 year to cover administrative costs of tooling up for parochiaid the following year.

Rep. J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, who authored the parochiaid provision, told newsmen he would have no objection to withdrawing the $44 million provision.

"It's not significant," he said, "and the exact level for 1970-71 will be determined by the Legislature next year regardless of what's in the bill."

Removal of the $44-million clause was planned by Rep. William Weber, R-Kalamazoo, a foe of parochiaid.

"This kind of thing is for the Legislature to determine next year," Weber told a reporter.

Parochiaid strategists, led by Traxler and House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, have agreed that their primary goal at this legislative session is to get the principle established, with implementation to follow later.

'FITS GUIDELINES'

Milliken told reporters at his weekly news conference that the $100,000 administration provision generally fit the guidelines outlined in his education message earlier this year.

But he questioned the $44-million clause.

"The Legislature may want to ask . . whether it is appropriate," he said, pointing out that there was no such clause pertaining to public schools.

Ryan said he believes the question raised over the $44-million wording was more political than substantive.

'A RED FLAG'

"It's a reassurance for supporters of the program," he said. "But for opponents it's apparently a red flag. It boils down to which consideration outbalances the other.

Floor debate on the $845-million school aid bill is expected to begin next week. It promises perhaps the most heated controversy of the legislative session.

Senate Panel Clears 2 Bills on Abortion

LANSING (AP) — The emotion-packed issue of abortion law reform — which opponents call "murder" and supporters claim will provide a civil right for women — today faced possible debate in the State Senate.

The Senate Committee on Health, Social Services and Retirement Thursday reported out, but failed to recommend passage of, two measures aimed at liberalizing the Mcihigan law which permits abortion only when the life of the mother is in danger.

The lack of recommendation means the bills will be tabled until proponents muster the 20 votes necessary to order initial consideration.

Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, sponsor of one bill, said "I think we can get the votes."

Gov. William Milliken has indicated he could support the Bursley bill, the senator said. Sen. Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, Senate majority leader, Thursday repeated a promise to back the Bursley proposal.

That bill would allow termination of pregnancy if:

- The pregnancy resulted risk" that continuation of the pregnancy would seriously impair the physical or mental health of the mother.
- There were "significant from rape or incest.
- There were "significant risk" that the child would be born with serious physical or mental defect.

Abortions would be permitted if three doctors agreed. One of the doctors would have to be a psychiatrist if the abortion were sought on mental health grounds.

No abortion would be permitted after the 19th week of pregnancy, unless there were serious danger to the mother's life.

The second bill would remove criminal penalties for performing an abortion if the operation were conducted by a licensed and accredited physician in a licensed and accredited hospital.

That measure "takes the criminal onus off abortions," said Sen. John McCauley, D-Wyandotte, who sponsored the bill.

Another McCauley proposal which would have left the question of abortion solely to the discretion of the woman and her physician died in committee.

Voting to report out the bills were committee chairman N. Lorraine Beebe, R-Dearborn, the upper chamber's only woman member; Sen. Alvin Degrow, (R-Pigeon; Sen. Arthur Cartwright, D-Detroit; and Sen. William Faust, D-Westland.

Sen. Harry De Maso, R-Battle Creek, was absent.

Measure on Lawyer Regulation Is Stalled

LANSING (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee declined Thursday to recommend a bill that would have stripped the Michigan Bar Association and the State Supreme Court of authority to admit lawyers.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Thomas Sharpe, R-Howell, sought to transfer control over lawyers to the State Licensing Department.

Sharpe said he would seek a floor vote to overrule the committee's 13-1 vote against the bill and bring it to a debate in the House. Edmond Suski, D-Flint, cast the lone committee vote for the bill.

He proposes a board of legal grievances within the licensing department to consider "the discipline, suspension and disbarment of licensed attorneys."

Sharpe said he has information concerning some 50 cases malfeasance by attorneys. "If I have to impress the membership with those files, I'm prepared to do it," he said, "but that would be unfortunate."

James O'Neill, D-Saginaw, a committie member, said Sharpe's bill could not assure the licensing department would police lawyers any better than the bar association.

O'Neill said the licensing department admitted it is behind in inspection duties it has now.

Edgar Geerlings, R-Muskegon, said "not one person in my county has written me a letter (complaining about lawyers). I've had more complaints about the State Licensing Department."

Committee Chairman J. Robert Traxler, D-Bay City, said Sharpe should be credited "for a real service to the people" by helping bring about recent bar association proposals to change grievance hearings. Those changes were reviewed by the Supreme Court.

Sharpe denied any reform has resulted and characterized the bar association as "a secret, protective organization" and "a gravy train for a few lawyers."

GOP Caught in Time Squeeze

DETROIT (UPI) — Who would have thought, when Michigan voters vetoed Daylight Saving Time, that it would have cost the Republican party money?"

Here they had a fund-raising dinner all planned for next Tuesday, and had lined up Gov. Ronald Reagan of California as the star speaker to pull in the party faithful.

But Reagan, who agreed to stop in Detroit en route to another engagement in New York had to back out when he found out he'd be caught in a time squeeze between Michigan's Eastern Standard Time and New York's Eastern Daylight Time.

So dinner cochairman Robert Wier announced sadly yesterday the whole thing has been called off.

Joint Chiefs Seek Arms Talks Delay to Test New Missile System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Joint Chiefs of Staff reportedly are trying to convince the Nixon administration to delay U.S.-Soviet arms talks to allow testing this summer of a new missile weapons system.

The military leaders are said to be concerned that starting the talks earlier would prevent testing the Multiple Independently Targeted Reentry Vehicles—MIRVs—and put the United States behind the Soviets in deployment of the multiwarhead system.

Supporters of an early start to the disarmament talks are said by government sources to feel that a delay might dim Soviet interest in an arms agreement because of Moscow's fear of losing ground to the United States in development of MIRVs.

Defense experts feel the United States is ahead in developing MIRVs at this time.

NEXT STEP

Such a weapons system is considered the next significant step in the arms race. MIRVs involve equipping existing missiles with several nuclear warheads that can be fired at several targets or used as scatter decoys to confuse enemy radar.

In fact, many of those involved in the current debate over the Safeguard antiballistic missile system feel MIRVs would provide an even greater threat to the world's nuclear strategic balance than the ABM.

As one Safeguard opponent put it, if the ABM as planned is susceptible to being flooded by a massive Soviet missile attack, it would be even more susceptible if the missiles were equipped with MIRVs.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers' public position on the start of arms talks is that they will take place probably in the latter half of June.

INTEREST INDICATED

An indication the Soviets may be interested in early arms talks was seen in the announcement Thursday by the official Soviet news agency Tass that nuclear nonproliferation treaty, signed last July by the United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union, does not become binding until ratified by all three.

State Pushing U.S. Purchase of Dunes Area

LANSING (AP)—A group of top-level federal officials will be given an air view of the Sleeping Bear Dunes area, in hopes they will approve purchase to save the land for the public.

Ralph MacMullan, State Natural Resources Department director, said the federal group will be headed by Russell Train, undersecretary of the Department of the Interior.

The group will arrive at Grand Rapids June 19. From there, they will be given an air tour of the dunes area.

"If they see it from the air, I hope they will see the sense of setting it aside as a natural resource," Macullan said.

DUMPING NIXED

At its Thursday meeting, the Natural Resources Commission rejected an idea to allow the Dunbar & Sullivan Dredging Co. of Detroit to dump dredged materials on Stony Island, east of Grosse Isle.

The company previously had been dumping the materials in the open waters of Lake Erie. The federal corps of engineers objected, saying this contributed to lake pollution.

A job as an Air Force cook was first sought by Northern, who will receive the 1969 Avco-Aviation Space Writers Association Helicopter Herosin Award next Tuesday at Dayton, Ohio.

"I got to thinking about how boring it would be cooking eggs," he reminisced Thursday. "So I decided to do something more exciting."

McDonald: Census May Trigger Revolt

Noting that 60 per cent of the questionnaires will be distributed by mail, he said indignation against personal questions which must be answered under penalty of law may cause many Americans to refuse to cooperate "and challenge the government to prosecute them."

McDonald testified before the House Subcommittee on Census and Statistics in behalf of his bill to limit census questions requiring answers to several basic categories.

These would be name, address, relationship to head of household, sex, date of birth, race or color, marital status and visitors in the home at the time of the census.

FLOOD OF LETTERS

McDonald said he had received more letters on the census since January than on any other issue "including taxes, crime and Vietnam," and that more than 90 per cent of his constituients answering his annual questionnaire favored his bill.

He invited the subcommittee to conduct a public hearing in his district, western Oakland County including Pontiac and parts of Wayne County.

McDonald cited four constitutional amendments protecting right of privacy.

He challenged claims by the Census Bureau and executive agencies that the census would be worthless without criminal sanctions, citing his own experience as a director of the census in Wayne County in 1960.

'MOST PEOPLE

His experience, he told the subcommittee, "leads me to believe that, in general, people are most cooperative in responding without any reference to the possibility of criminal punishment for noncompliance."

Besides that, he added, "the Census Bureau and many state agencies carry out various surveys on a voluntary basis with minimal difficulty. Furthermore, private opinion and marketing organizations often deal with most sensitive areas such as income levels and political beliefs, and they have indicated that they have a very low refusal rate."

Mc Donald observed that the 1960 census missed 5.7 million people and as a result did not fully achieve its twin goals of providing accurate data for allocation of funds for social programs and legislative redistricting.

He said he was encouraged by Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans' decision to use public advisory committees and a blue ribbon commission to examine census reforms following the 1970 count.

LIMITS ASKED

For the present, he said, "in light of vital need for public cooperation to insure sound statistical readings coupled with the necessity to protect the right of privacy, it would seem more desirable for the Census Bureau in 1970 to accurately fulfill the basic Constitutional purpose of the census and more greatly satisfy Congressional mandates by limiting the number of questions to be asked under penalty of law rather than to risk the public's wrath and fail to effectively or adequately achieve either of these goals."

CELEBRATION TIME — Marking the completion of their volunteer painting work at an open house yesterday at Pontiac State Hospital are Harry Garretson of 1550 Bayview, West Bloomfield Township; Mrs. Emerson Lawson of 3059 Edgewood Park, Commerce Township (center); and Mrs. Robert Kidwell of 4139 Meigs, Waterford Township. They were among 24 "paint slingers" who donated time over the last two months to paint Hall G at the hospital, which had been described as a dismal, depressing sight before the renovation. (Story and picture, page A-1.)

Hospital Denies Charges of Luring Derelicts to Surgery

DETROIT (UPI) — The Wayne County prosecutor's office has under study grisly accusations that a local hospital specializing in foot surgery has lured in derelicts to serve as subjects in surgical-training courses for podiatrists.

Assistant Prosecutor Richard Padzieski called accusations by former intern David Touchton "absolutely ghastly, like a horror story out of medieval England."

Youth, 20, Gets a Prison Term

A Dayton, Ohio, youth who led police on a 100-mile-an-hour chase in a stolen car was sentenced yesterday to 4½ to 5 years in the state prison at Jackson.

The prison term for Ronald Lee Hasty, 20, was ordered by Oakland County Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Hasty pleaded guilty last month to unlawfully driving away an automobile.

At the time of his arrest, Hasty was being sought by military authorities as an Army deserter. The Army charge is pending.

He was apprehended by police from Waterford Township, Pontiac and the State Police after smashing the stolen car into a utility pole in Waterford Township. A 16-year-old companion has been turned over to juvenile authorities in Dayton, where the car was stolen.

Dr. Earl G. Kaplan, a part-owner of Civic General Hospital, said Touchton "has some kind of gripe against me and the hospital."

TWO RESIGN

Touchton said he spent three months at the hospital in 1965 before resigning along with a colleague over what they called "immoral and unethical practices." The 30-year-old former intern has gathered affadavits from derelicts and exchanged lengthy correspondence with state agencies.

Among his charges were that interns prowled the streets and flop houses looking for patients, who were then brought back to the hospital and subjected to extensive bone surgery, which occasionally left them in a near-crippled state.

Toughton charges surgery courses were offered out-of-state podiatrists, who often never saw the patients before or after operating.

The Detrot Free Press said one of the estimated 300 patients who have been operated on told them he was lured to the hospital for $10 and some cigarettes.

'BOTTLE OF WINE'

Leonard Sobjack, 50, who gave his address as an alcoholic rehabilitation center, said a nurse and two men in white told them they would give him free foot care, although his feet were fine. Sobjack said at the hospital, he was given a bottle of wine, a bath and operated on the next morning.

"Well, they started to cut and they were using a silver hammer and a chisel of some sort to chip away at the bone and there was a bucket there to catch the blood," Sobjack told the Free Press interviewer.

"And I saw that they were practicing on me, you know, and I got really mad. But they held me down and just kept cutting away but I was groggy and couldn't do anything."

Sobjack said now his big toes are purple and point out at a 50-degree angle and there is no feeling in his other toes.

Most Congressmen Moonlight a Little

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Speaker John W. McCormack had no outside income last year. Freshman Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., had $21,556. And Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., listed his only outside income as coming from preaching.

The information comes from Congress's new disclosure regulations, which reveal that most Congressmen do earn some form of outside income.

Of the Senators who have filed a list of contributions and honorariums above $300, Brooke earned the most —$21,556 for 20 speeches he gave last year.

Nearly two out of three House members earn outside income — either in stock investments, law firms, business enterprises or the like. How much they make, however, is not disclosed.

TOPS FULBRIGHT

The senators have until next Thursday to file their lists with the secretary of the Senate, so Brooke may be surpassed. Until he filed, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., had earned the most outside honorariums —$20,000.

The Representatives' deadline for filing their reports with the House Committee on Standards of Conduct was April 30. Three Congressmen had not met that deadline Wednesday — Charles W. Sandman Jr., R-N.J.; Torbert MacDonald, D-Mass.; and Robert H. Mollohan, D-W.Va., who got special permission to go beyond the deadline.

Each house makes its own rules governing its members. As it turned out, both the Senate and the House passed a set of regulations during the 90th congress. The regulations, however, fall far short of the complete disclosure of all income and assets that some congressmen advocate.

Finding out what the reports say is something of an effort for a newsman. In the House, the newsman must go to the ethics committee and fill out in triplicate an application in which he gives his name, address, publication and reason for wanting the report — for each representatives.

435 APPLICATIONS

Conceivably a newsman would have to fill out 435 applications to get a full report on the House. One of the copies goes to each congressman in question.

The reports showed that more than 90 representatives have stock in banks, and 37 hold a bank office or an elected position with another financial institution. Ten members of the House Banking Committee own stock in some financial institution.

Before Congress started, one group said there were 310 lawyers in the House. The ethics committee reports shows 77 House members have active practices.

Among the 25 members of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, 14 have stocks in businesses or banks. Eleven, including chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., reported no outside income.

NO OUTSIDE INCOME

Among those with no outside income were McCormack; House Democratic leader Carl B. Albert, D-Okla.; House Democratic whip Hale Boggs, D-La.; and House GOP whip Les Arends, R-Ill. House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., listed outside income as director of a Grand Rapids label-manufacturing firm.

Purgatory, What Else?

'Tween Hell 'n' Paradise

HOMESTEAD (AP) — Humorists have always had fun kicking around the names of Hell and Paradise, and commenting about the relative weather conditions in the two Michigan towns.

Nelson, who owns a resort on this southern tip of Sugar Island, wants to name a former weather station "Purgatory Point," putting Purgatory halfway between Hell and Paradise.

Sugar Island is located in the St. Mary's River near Sault Ste. Marie.

'Tired' Senate Rebuffs Leaders on Clean-Water Bonds Bill

LANSING (AP)—The Senate, tired after long hours of committee work, refused Thursday to accept leaders' plans for quick passage of a $285-million water pollution bond bill and put off further debate until next week.

Appropriations committee Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton, urged immediate approval of 18 technical amendments tacked onto the Senate-passed bill by the House. Zollar also offered amendments to two other House changes.

"The building season is upon us," Zollar said, "and if we don't pass this soon, some areas won't be able to take advantage of the funds."

The measure would set up a formula for allocating a major chunk of the 335-million water pollution control bond issue approved by voters in the November election.

Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, pointed to the Thursday midnight deadline for committees to report out bills and said, "We've all been hung up in committee. We haven't had time to study the amendments."

Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, took issue with one proposed amendment that would change the method the Senate originally approved for legislative supervision over how funds were allocated.

A House amendment would have called for passage of a resolution to approve pollution control projects submitted by the State Water Resources Commission. A resolution normally is approved by a majority of legislators present.

Zollar sought to amend the House change to require that a majority of legislators elected and serving must approve any such resolution.

Lane objected, saying he disagreed with a ruling from Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley that popular approval of the bond issue constituted an appropriation of the funds.

Mass Honoring King Will Use His Words

DETROIT (AP) — Putting Martin Luther King's words to music proved impossible, so composer James Frazier has chosen instead to intersperse them as narration in his requiem Mass honoring King.

The King requiem will be premiered tonight in Detroit with the 28-year-old Negro conducting and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra playing.

The work's premier had been scheduled for a special concert Jan. 5, but so many of the 200 choir members who were to perform were hit by Hong Kong flu that the performance was postponed until today, the symphony's next available date.

Frazier, a high school music and biology teacher who was the first Negro to conduct the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in full concert, says he chose the Mass as his medium for the tribute because "I felt Dr. King based his nonviolent philosophy on peace.

"He also was concerned with death and so I could find in his writings appropriate words for a requiem Mass, which is also concerned with peace and death," he said.

Tonight's performance will feature baritone William Warfield as principal soloist and narrator, along with 200 voices from the choirs of Inkster High School, where Frazier teaches; the Second Baptist Church, where he is music director, and the Berea Lutheran Church.

The King Mass—first work of its kind honoring the assassinated civil rights leader—was undertaken by Frazier last summer in Tanglewood, Mass., in an effort to combine his church and orchestra work.

"I'm really a conductor and not a lyricist or libreticist," he said. "What I've done is go through all Dr. King's sermons and speeches looking for words that were characteristic and would fit the theme. It helped to have seen him in person a few times and listened to him so many others."

The King Mass is the first Frazier work for a symphony orchestra.

"The most difficult part in writing the requiem was to come up with a good theme," he said. "All parts of the King Mass are related to the monumental theme I eventually used."

The only narration in the requiem are words from King's speeches. "How can you sing 'I had a dream?' " asks Frazier.

Negro History Exhibit at Groves

By BENITA ROSEN

A thousand years of Negro history and culture was depicted in the pictorial exhibit, "Black Odyssey," displayed in the Wylie E. Groves High School Humanities rooms early this week.

George Norman, creator of the 400 cardboard posters, was contracted by the Groves Social Work Club to display his work. "I'm not an artist," he stated. "I'm a graphic historian. I bring history to life through pictures."

His exhibit started by accident. "I made a poster to show to my Sunday school class. It went over well, so I made a few more. Friends of mine started to borrow them for their classes and it all kind of mushroomed from there."

"Black Odyssey" covered the black man's history in America as well as his African culture, including black leaders, inventors, cowboys and artists.

DISCUSSES EXHIBIT

Norman remained with his exhibit discussing it and the problems of black and white people with Groves students.

He suggested that students interested in promoting better race relations should contact an organization called People Against Racism.

"This way, you can meet black people on a person-to-person level, not just as a person on a stage or someone lecturing in front of a class," he said.

RATED FIRST DIVISION

Before traveling to the state festival, the band was rated first division at the District Festival in March.

At the State Festival, held at Everett High School in Lansing, the band performed a required number, "Incarnation and Chance" by John Barnes Chance, a selected piece, "Procession of Nobles" by Rimsy-Korsakov, and a march, "Emblems of Unity," by J. J. Richards.

After playing these three selections, the band members moved on to a different room where they were required to sight read (perform numbers sight unseen) a march and a concert piece.

The band received two first division ratings for their concert performance and a First Division for sightreading.

INVITED TO CONCERT

Students, teachers and parents are invited to attend the Instrumental Music Spring Concert May 15, at 8 p.m. in the Groves gym.

The concert will feature the band and orchestra, and will include a wide variety of musical members, ranging in style from Bach's "Prelude and Fugue in G" to David Rose's "Holiday for Trombones."

Debbie Thomas will also perform a flute solo, "Poem," a contemporary work by Charles Griffes.

She and Becky Behunds, violin, and Marc Smith, clarinet, have been chosen to participate in the Michigan State Honor Band and Orchestra in Grand Rapids next Saturday.

All three were chosen out of 2,500 high school musicians in the state because of their superior performances at the State Solo and Ensemble Festival in March.

Troy Girl Scholarship Winner

Loretta M. Cole, a senior at Troy High School, was honored by the Life Insurance Co. of Virginia at a luncheon Monday in recognition of her selection as the recipient of the company's 1969 National Merit Scholarship.

Joining in the recognition were members of her family, school and civic officials and two Life of Virginia senior officers, George F. Albright, senior vice president, and Eugene E. Verdon, second vice president in charge of combination agencies in Michigan, Ohio and Kentucky.

Loretta is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent E. Cole. Cole is a representative of Life of Virginia's Pontiac district office.

The four-year scholarship is awarded annually to a son or daughter of a Life of Virginia employee. Entrants are selected by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which anually conducts examinations at high schools throughout the nation, selects the recipients, and determines the amount of the scholarship on the basis of financial needs.

ANNUAL GRANT

In addition to the scholarship, the company will make an annual grant to the college the student has chosen.

Loretta will enter Oakland University this fall to study mathematics.

She is a member of the National Honor Society, treasurer of the French club, secretary and treasurer of Zion's League and a member of Future Teachers of America.

She has been named to the Society of Outstanding American High School Students, and is listed in Merit's Who's Who Among American High School Students. She is also a recipient of an Oakland University Competitive Scholarship Grant.

STRINGENT QUALIFICATIONS

Albright, who presented Miss Cole an engraved silver bowl in recognition of her accomplishment, commented: "An indication of the stringent qualifications of the competition is the fact that some 800,000 students originally competed. Approximately 15,000 finalists were selected, and one out of five of these finalists received a scholarship.

"It is refreshing to see a young person like you successfully meet the challenges of academic life and achieve so much," he added. "It's very gratifying to all of us to know someone like you whose interests, talents, ambition and leadership have made this record of accomplishment and led to this recognition."

Holly

By MARCIA CLARK

Two candidates, Mark Parker, who ran for president, and Denis Vowell, who ran for vice president, waged an all-out campaign complete with posters, pamphlets, and slogans.

Due to the administration's ban on student assemblies because of a lack of discipline at the last one, there were no speeches before the student body.

POSTERS, PAMPHLETS

Mark and Denise licked this ban by putting posters up in the halls announcing their candidacy. Pamphlets outlining their platform were distributed to the students during homeroom.

Their platform consisted mainly of the promise to truly represent the student body and to establish open communication between the administration and the student body at large.

"Many students who would not have voted are voting in this election because of the chance to change its way of working," commented an underclassman.

Oxford

By SHARON DICK

"Sign my petition!" "No, sign mine!" This is what is heard in the halls as students desiring to run for Student Council offices try to round up the 100 signatures needed to put them on the ballot for the primary election.

Seniors at Oxford High School are back from Bermuda and easy to single out with their tans and sunburns.

The school play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," opens tonight at 8.

Mrs. Thomas Kruger, Deguise Court, Avon Township, was a hostess at the tea. She and her husband are special events chairmen for the Rochester area.

Fete Festival Volunteers

Tea at the famed stately Meadow Brook Hall was the magnet that attracted some 400 women from 60 metropolitan Detroit and Windsor areas Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Marvin L. Katke, who serves with her husband as this year's general chairman of Meadow Brook Festival, arranged the event as a thank-you to the volunteers for the summer concert season.

Optimistic that the Detroit Symphony will resolve its contract difficulties before the scheduled opening on July 3, the women are hoping to sell 7,000 season tickets.

Mrs. Semon Knudsen, Bingham Road, cochairman of the first Meadow Brook Festival, takes her turn at the tea table.

Mrs. Gilbert Broughton of Milford, fastens the "Magic" button, a word that has become a password for the Meadow Brook Festival.

Fears for Children's Lives Because of Phone Call

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: After putting my husband (whom I'll call "Jim") through medical school and internship, we separated because of a girl I'll call "Nancy." Jim married her as soon as the ink was dry on the divorce papers. We have three beautiful school-age children, whom I've done my best to raise without a father. Jim has helped some financially, but not a whole lot.

I have never bothered Jim and Nancy in any way. My problem is that Nancy keeps phoning me, identifying herself as a friend of Nancy's, but I know her voice. She warns me that Nancy is going to kill my children when they're away at camp this summer.

I have told Jim about this, and he doesn't seem worried. I must admit, I am frightened, but if Jim isn't worried, should I be?

Do you think I ought to send the children to summer camp as planned?

CHARLESTON, S.C.

DEAR CHARLESTON: The police and phone company will cooperate with you in getting positive proof that these calls are from Nancy — if indeed they are. You will need this before proceeding. After you have proof, put it up to Jim. If he continues unworried, and will do nothing to stop the harassment, then ask the authorities to intervene.

DEAR ABBY: I am presently living in an old folks' home.

There is a gentleman here who I love a lot. He can't hear, so I can't tell him. He can't see, so I can't write him. What can I do?

DEAR ELLEN: What can HE do?

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and have gone steady with this guy I'll call Jeff, for nearly a year. We are very much in love and now I think I'm pregnant. I am not positive because I haven't been to a doctor yet, but I'm almost sure I am.

Jeff says he will marry me as soon as we graduate from high school. (We're both juniors.)

Ever since I told Jeff that I think I'm pregnant I have begun to doubt his love. He says if I am pregnant, when I tell my folks I should put the blame on some imaginary person so as not to cause hard feelings between him and my folks. That way it will be easier for us to continue our relationship.

Jeff says he really loves me but he's looking out for what is best for us. What do you think?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I think you'd better see a doctor, and if your suspicions are confirmed, tell Jeff that you are going to tell your parents the whole truth. And whether you are pregnant or not, do yourself a big favor and forget that little weasel.

DEAR ABBY: When a kid goes wrong, what factor is more responsible? His heredity or his environment?

NEEDS TO KNOW

DEAR NEEDS: It's a toss-up. But one thing is certain. His parents will get blamed for both.

May Date Set for DeLorean Marriage

DETROIT (AP) — John Z. DeLorean, general manager of General Motors' Chevrolet division, said Thursday he and Kelly Harmon will be married May 31 in Los Angeles.

The 20-year-old Miss Harmon is the daughter of sportscaster Tom Harmon, former University of Michigan football star, and Elyse Knox Harmon, a former Hollywood starlet.

DeLorean, 44, said the wedding will be a civil ceremony at the Bel Air Country Club. The couple will honeymoon in Europe before taking up residence in suburban Bloomfield Hills.

Asked who would stand up with the bride, DeLorean said, "I don't think she has made up her mind as yet."

He said he had not picked a best man as yet. Asked about rumors that it would be Semon E. Knudsen, president of Ford Motor Co. and former vice president of General Motors Corp., DeLorean said, "I haven't decided yet on the best man, but he (Knudsen) will be at the wedding."

It will be the first marriage for Miss Harmon, who has done some modeling and television commercials. DeLorean was divorced last January from his wife of 15 years.

Bloomfield Hills Country Club Plans Festivity

SHIRLEY GRAY

The diamond anniversary is coming up for Bloomfield Hills Country Club — that's right, 60 years, come Saturday. Among the many planning to take part in the festivities that evening are a six-some composed of the Thomas Torgersons, the M. A. Mitchells and the John L. Wiants.

This is also the weekend when golfing starts again. Ladies first, of course, starting with a breakfast meeting first thing this morning, followed by a buffet lunch, with nine holes of golf in between there somewhere.

More returnees . . . Dr. and Mrs. Howard Barker are back at their Bloomfield Hills home following a three-month stay on the sunny beaches of Del Ray. Daughter Barbara and her husband, John Ingraham, of New York City, visited them there.

ALSO BACK

Also back from Florida . . . Mr. and Mrs. William D. Downey. Mrs. M. M. Burgess has been back for some three weeks now. She, of course, stayed at her favorite spot, the Ocean Club, at Del Ray.

Village Woman's Club has scheduled a bridge luncheon for next Wednesday. It has the intriguing theme of "Daisies Are Telling." What, I wonder?

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Havana Payne of Colorado Street and the late Mr. Payne.

Gal Fire Fighters Johnny on Spot

NEW SALEM, Mass. (AP) — The town's volunteer fire department has a new look — five women members have been recruited.

Fire Chief Norman Cogswell signed on the women for a good reason. The men volunteers have jobs, and during the daytime it often takes them a long time to get to the station for a fire truck and then go to the blaze. All five "firemen" live near the station.

The women had their first workout recently, responding to an alarm for a grass fire. The fire truck was on the way within minutes of the alarm, driven by one of the women, and arrived at the fire just as the first men volunteers appeared.

Must Follow Recipe Change

If you clipped the recipe for Two-Tone Cream Pie in Cereal Crust which appeared Wednesday, you will want to make these corrections.

Under ingredients, make it 2 cups miniature marshmallows, not ⅛ teaspoon!

After you have divided the filling, this is what you do. To ½ of the mixture, stir in chocolate, 2 tablespoons sugar and ½ teaspoon vanilla; cool slightly. Pour into chilled crust.

We're always sorry when these mistakes occur.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

We women are blushing a lot these days, but not from shyness. The "blusher" is one of the most wonderful products the cosmetic industry has produced for us. More about that later on.

Eye makeup and false eyelashes have had the spotlight for some time, and I agree that they can do wonderful things for a woman. I think every woman will profit by using them. I have written about these several times recently.

We read a lot about the lipstick, its colors and consistency and its application. The eyes and the mouth are the most expressive parts of our face and deserve our attention. However, it seems to me that one factor in good looks has been neglected, and that is face coloring.

Long ago, before the days of miracle makeup, women realized how flattering pink cheeks are. If they did not come naturally, many women pinched their cheeks just before an important date. Even before that the juice of crushed red berries was used.

Then came rouge. Too often it was applied with little skill. It took women a while to learn to apply it subtly, blending it outward and upward. The result often gave women a hard look and was aging rather than flattering, with its definite line of demarcation. This is not a part of the modern scene, thank heaven!

Today we have liquid rouge, cream rouge and the blushers. Some women blend their lipstick with a drop of two of baby oil to create their own rouge. No matter what type coloring you use, the way you apply it is most important.

Apply the rouge to the full, central part of the face and blend it upward and outward. Be sure that nobody can tell where it begins and where it ends. Do not take it far down the face. This is aging.

If you have a very thin face, you can extend the coloring further out toward the temples. If you have a fat face or a wide face, hold the color in toward the nose. Liquid rouge should be applied over the foundation but under the powder, while dry rouge and blushers go on over the powder.

The blushers have many advantages. They go on easily since they are applied with a soft brush. Blending is not a problem when you use a blusher. It can be applied just as you would rouge or it can be used over the entire face to give it a warm glow.

In yesterday's article West got rid of the queen of diamonds in order to tell his partner to lead another suit. Today's West also got rid of the queen of diamonds but for a far different reason. He was false-carding in order to get declarer to go wrong in the play of a mild two-heart contract.

South's two-heart bid warned North against going on in his suits although the chances are that East and West would not find a defense to beat two spades if North had played the hand there.

East won the first trick with the ace of spades and proceeded to cash the ace of hearts and ace of clubs. He led another club and South went up with his king.

South played the queen of hearts and East was back in with the king. He led a third club to West's queen and West got out by leading his five of spades.

South was in dummy with the problem of getting back to his own hand in order to lead trumps. He played dummy's ace and king of diamonds. West dropped the queen of diamonds under the king.

The false-card worked. South tried to get to his hand by ruffing a spade and West scored the setting trick with his 10 of trumps.

The play should not have worked. West had opened the eight of spades and continued with the five. An alert declarer would have realized that the diamond queen play was a false-card. However, nothing succeeds like success and West's play did succeed.

Track Cashier Is Big Winner on Derby Day

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Curtis Moffett was one man who left Churchill Downs a winner after the Kentucky Derby May 3.

Moffett, a $50 cashier at the Downs, revealed Thursday he had overpaid a bettor $1,800 on the 1968 Derby. Moffett had to make good the difference—and track officials allowed him three years to pay off the debt.

Then, the day before this year's Derby, Moffett said he saw the bettor again and told him of his problem. The man, identified only as being from Illinois, returned the $1,800 to Moffett by Derby Day.

Pisa Tilts at Tower Problem

ROME (UPI) — The Italian government is ready to pay more than $5 million to keep the Leaning Tower of Pisa from leaning too far.

But not just yet.

The public works committee of the Chamber of Deputies Wednesday approved a $5-million grant for antitilt works.

But before the money can be spent, someone has to come up with an acceptable project for stabilizing the tower, which has been leaning for all but the first 10 of its 795 years.

In 1965 the government authorized international competition for proposals on the best way to shore up the tower. None has been adopted yet.

Suggestions have ranged from freezing the ground underneath the tower to make sure it doesn't tilt any further to injections of concrete to accomplish the same effect.

Several years ago a French tourist, who had imbibed a bit too much strong Italian wine, decided to do his own untilting early one morning. He hooked one end of a chain to the tower and the other to the rear axle of his auto in an attempt to jerk the tower straight.

Instead he jerked the rear axle out of his auto — and spent the day sobering up in the Pisa jail.

Prof. Ugo Colonnetti, president emeritus of the National Research Council, said in 1964 that a strong gust of wind could blow down the tower any day.

Prof. Livio Trevisan of the University of Pisa, a member of the surveillance commission for the tower, is more worried that cracks might appear in the soft ground around the tower.

Ex-Folk Singer Deeds Land to God

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UPI) — Lou Gottlieb, onetime folk singer with the Limelighters and part-time hippie benefactor, deeded his 30-acre ranch to God Wednesday—but said he would continue to pay the property taxes.

"It's preposterous to pay taxes for God," the bearded doctor of music said, "but for God's sake, I'll pay them."

Gottlieb advised "religious people all over the world to follow this example, because the exclusive ownership of land is the original sin from which all bad stuff flows."

Sonoma County Recorder Herbert Snyder, who at first refused to record the deed, relented after Gottlieb had it notarized.

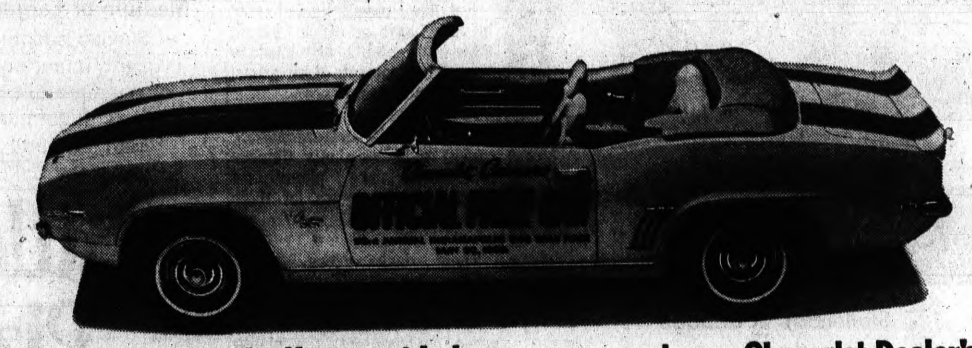
MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Chevrolet Pacesetter Values.



What they see in the Hugger at Indy you can see at your Chevrolet Dealer's

than last year's Camaro with comparable equipment.

The cost of about everything keeps rising. But not everything. For example, take Camaro. If you equip it with Powerglide, the new 250-hp 350 V8 that runs on regular gas, advance-design power disc brakes, whitewall tires and wheel covers, the price is $147* less than last year's model with comparable equipment, including head restraints. Down at Indy, they think Camaro is a Hugger of a car. That's why they chose Camaro as the Official Pace Car for this year's Indianapolis 500.

than last year's Chevelle with comparable equipment.

Just by looking at the Chevelle Malibu you would guess that its price would be higher than last year's model. Not so. It is priced less than the earlier version. We're not talking about a stripped-down car, either. We're talking about a Malibu Sport Coupe with head restraints and a 200-hp V8 that runs on regular gas. If you add Powerglide, power disc brakes, wheel covers and whitewall tires to your Malibu, you'll find it's priced $69* less. Add it all up: Chevelle is a lot more car for a lot less money.

than last year's Impala with comparable equipment.

Most people have a few favorite extras they'd like to add to America's most popular car, Impala. Like Turbo Hydra-matic. Big 300-hp V8. Power disc brakes. Head restraints. Whitewalls. Wheel covers. If these are what you had in mind, too, you're in luck. All together, the price is $101* less than it was for last year's Impala, comparably equipped.

Lawn, Garden News

Know Garden Tools Before You Invest

Faced with the first warm days of spring, the fresh green of the grass and trees freshly budding, the beginning gardener has little resistance to the handsome tool displays at the local hardware store.

There is a tool for almost every job and heaven knows the specialized tool will make a particular job far easier.

But be patient. As you get further along in your gardening you will know special tools you might want. Remember that the more specialized the tool, the more limited its use.

GOOD TOOLS BEST

Buy a few good tools rather than many cheap ones. Your dollars will go further.

Take care of them. Include a file in your first purchase so that you can keep edges sharp. Lubricating oil and rags will keep metal surfaces from rusting while tools are stored.

A wire brush and steel wool will remove dirt and any rust that may have started.

The display of shovels will confuse you. A long handle is easier on your back, best for deep digging.

SHORT HANDLE

But a short handle provides greater control of the work. Between the two, start with the short handle.

The pointed scooplike blade aids penetration and will hold a load of dirt. Later, when you want to get more specialized, get a straight blade which cuts into the earth more easily and is fine for turning over a garden.

So is the spading fork, especially if the ground is heavy.

A steel rake and a cultivator are important. The cultivator is a pronged affair, fine for breaking up lumps of earth and loosening soil around plants.

The steel rake is a great general purpose tool. You will use it for taking the lumps out of a seed bed. Turn it over, teeth up, and use it to level the seed bed. Hold it at an angle and you can use to dig a planting furrow.

HOE

Later on, add a hoe—but for now your rake and cultivator will do.

In the fall get yourself a leaf rake, the broom style, for gathering in leaves.

If you have anything taller than grass growing you will need pruning shears. Get a good pair that fits comfortably in your hand.

There are two types — the anvil type in which the blade cuts against a soft metal base, and the scissors type which has two blades that cross.

The anvil style is preferable for small work, but if you can only afford one get the scissors style for now.

Hedge shears are a must if you have large hedges and bushes around. If there are trees on your property you should have a pruning saw and a pair of lopping shears.

SPRINKLER

Aside from a lawn mower, a hose and a sprinkler you will have most of what you need with this list of tools. Add a small steel cultivator for setting out plants and you are in business.

Glad Varieties Are Growing

Especially for the moderate-sized varieties — up to 30 inches tall — best way to pick the finest is to go to your garden store and ask for All-America selections varieties, of this and previous years. Then make your choice based upon your own preferences.

In addition to these, there are many more classed as miniatures. These are ideal for home arrangements.

A few of the better-known ones are: Atom, scarlet with a gold edge; Fifth Avenue, rich velvety maroon, Green Lace, chartreuse and ruffled; Bread and Butter, ivory white with yellow; Miss Muffet, peaches and cream.

Among the All-America winners are also some miniatures such as: Snowsprite, Green 'n Gold, Goldilocks, and Blue Sapphire.

Upkeep is simple. Water well once a week in dry spells, keep all weeds hoed out and, if necessary, spray with any good all-purpose insecticide. Before the ground freezes dig the bulbs and store in a cool place.

Snow King Cauliflower

Green Comet Broccoli

Stonehead Cabbage

Vegetables for a 'Tasty' Garden

Newcomers to the cabbage family, one to each of the three most popular groups: broccoli, cabbage and cauliflower, are all medalists.

Imagine what good eating these varieties will make!

All three are hybrids, with the vigorous growth and heavy production that signifies. All three reach edible stage exceptionally early.

EASY TO GROW

Green Comet is easy to grow; produces large-size heads of small, tight buds of excellent quality. These are notable for their tardy opening, thus they remain edible for a long time.

Stonehead's characteristics are extra-earliness plus small size heads that are very firm and have small cores. The smaller size permits closer spacing, thus yielding more heads from the same area.

CAULIFLOWER

The great importance of Snow King cauliflower is its earliness. It is edible from 10 to sometimes 24 days earlier than other varieties of the well-known Snowball type.

Low, low plants; fair sized, flattish heads and good eating will endear Snow King to many gardeners.

These new varieties have been tested for two years in trial grounds throughout the United States and Canada.

If they had not been found to perform excellently under all of the varying conditions and climates in these trials, they would not be medalists.

Men's Garden Club to Meet at Mall

Wednesday at 8 p.m., the first meeting of the Men's Garden Club of Oakland will be held at the Pontiac Mall Community Room.

The only requisite for a membership in the club is an interest in gardening.

Popular demand of an organization where men could learn the rudiments of gardening and share experiences prompted the Men's Garden Club of America to sponsor the fledgling organization.

Chinese Evergreen Tolerant

For those poorly lighted spots in your home or office Chinese Evergreen plants are hard to beat. They tolerate dark areas, dry air and irratic care.

According to a Pennsylvania State University correspondence course on house plants, Chinese Evergreens are plants of tropical origin grown for their variegated foliage.

Although they tolerate adverse environment, the plants grow best in warm, moist greenhouses in a fibrous potting mixture of equal parts perlite, loam soil and peat moss.

Best temperature is 60 to 65 degrees at night and 65 to 80 in the day.

Propagation is by division of roots or by stem cuttings two inches long inserted one-half their length in moist perlite. Started plants are available at florists shops.

MSU Scientist 'Air Conditions'

Robert Carolus' vegetable crops spent a very comfortable summer — even during some of the hottest weather in Michigan history.

The professor of horticulture at Michigan State University uses tiny (1/16th" diameter) water nozzles to orrigate tomatoes, lettuce, strawberries and a host of other assorted garden crops. His aim: maintain a satisfactory water balance in the plant by reducing its water loss.

Carolus points out that the mist irrigation cools vegetables, reduces their transpiration (water loss) and conserves plant energy for producing higher yields.

TEST RESULTS

In a test, the MSU scientist calculated that the air conditioning reduced transpiration loss by more than 80 per cent when air temperature was 86 degrees, plant temperature 104 degrees and relative humidity 35 per cent. The air temperature a foot above the soil in a tomato field was actually reduced 10 to 18 degrees; the crop temperature, probably more.

Carolus says air conditioning has several advantages over common irrigation in which water is used to increase the moisture content of the soil. First of all, mist irrigation prevents temporary soil aeration probelms which frequently develop in humid areas of the country when a two-inch rain follows a two-inch irrigation application.

Secondly, control of transpiration with lighter amounts of water applied to the soil cause crop roots to grow deeper. A larger volume of roots will function more efficiently if soil water content is allowed to fall to 40 to 60 per cent of the soil's water holding capacity.

Carolus says local U.S. Weather Bureau stations can provide weather forecassts and water evaporation information which, along with careful evaluation of soil and crop conditions, can serve as a guide in deciding when and what crops to irrigate.

The air-conditioning technique, if applied at the proper time, can keep water usage low while preventing leaf wilt and crop loss, concludes Carolus.

LETTUCE TEMPERATURE-TAKER—is Robert Carolus, MSU horticulturist. He's measuring the internal temperature to find out how "air conditioning" vegetables — via mist irrigation — affects their growth. Early findings show the cooling affect of the light water spray reduces transpiration, thus allowing the plant to conserve energy or greater yields.

The Most Popular Rose Varieties

The sales of All-America Rose Selections award winners have moved up from 10 per cent of all roses sold in America in 1943 to over 40 per cent of the market at the present time.

It is estimated that well over 50,000,000 American families grow roses and rose sales amount to better than 55,000,000 units, valued at better than $150,000,000 per year.

SILVER MEDAL—A new addition to the Buttons clan, Cherry Buttons has cherry-rose flowers on stems long enough for cutting even though the plants which produce them are only a foot high.

Dwarf Zinnia Wins Judges' Recognition

Winner of a silver medal, the highest award given this year to an annual flower by the All-American Selections judges, is a little zinnia named Cherry Buttons. It's a cheery relative of the two previous varieties in the Buttons group — Red Buttons, the first of the clan, and Pink Buttons, a 1964 medalist.

The two older varieties are mentioned because you probably have already grown one or both and so know the advantages of these zinnias. With blooms the size of the liliput type but plants only a foot high to the 2 feet of the liliputs, there is obviously a greater proportion of blooms to plant.

Cherry Buttons has the additional feature of its color — a glowing cherry-rose. Its vital statistics include compact plants that grow uniform in height and width, branching from the base, flower stems that are long enough for cutting and 1½ inch wide blooms that last well in either house or garden.

For once there is ample seed available of a medalist the year the medal is awarded. Thus all who wish to grow this cheerful flower will be able to do so. Zinnias grown from seeds sown directly into the ground where plants are to bloom always are sturdier, earlier to than those that are transplanted.

Where to plant seeds? Cherry Buttons is excellent in beds because of the uniform height of the plants, looks equally well in borders and, because it is only a foot high, can be used as an edging. Take your choice!

Write Down Bulbs Needed

Tradition says fall is the time to think about spring-blooming bulbs but the wise gardener does his planning now. Then he knows what he wants and is ready to go ahead when fall comes.

The first thing is to look at other gardens and public or demonstration gardens. This will give you a chance to get some ideas to adapt to your own garden.

Make a note of the kinds you like, their colors, when they bloom and where and how you can use them.

Also notice which you can plant together and with what other plants you can combine them.

Notice, too, the size clumps that look best and what kinds look better in clumps of one color. Then mix the clumps. This is much more effective than planting mixtures. Also notice how far apart to plant them and how many you will need.

Save Time--- Pick Good Lawn Seed

It's a waste of time to plant poor lawn seed; you'll not get a worthwhile lawn nor your money's worth from it.

Good lawn seed is good for many reasons. First of all, it has the right kinds of grasses in it—species such as Kentucky bluegrass-fine fescues or bentgrass.

Secondly, it has no weeds. Seldom are bothersome weeds apt to be present, but in some of the less expensive seed blends not all foreign seed is removed, termed "crop" on the label.

And finally, you'll be buying only seed that you want, not a lot of extraneous chaff, dirt, or species which will not long survive. The seed sprouts well and goes far (good grasses run millions of seeds to the pound).

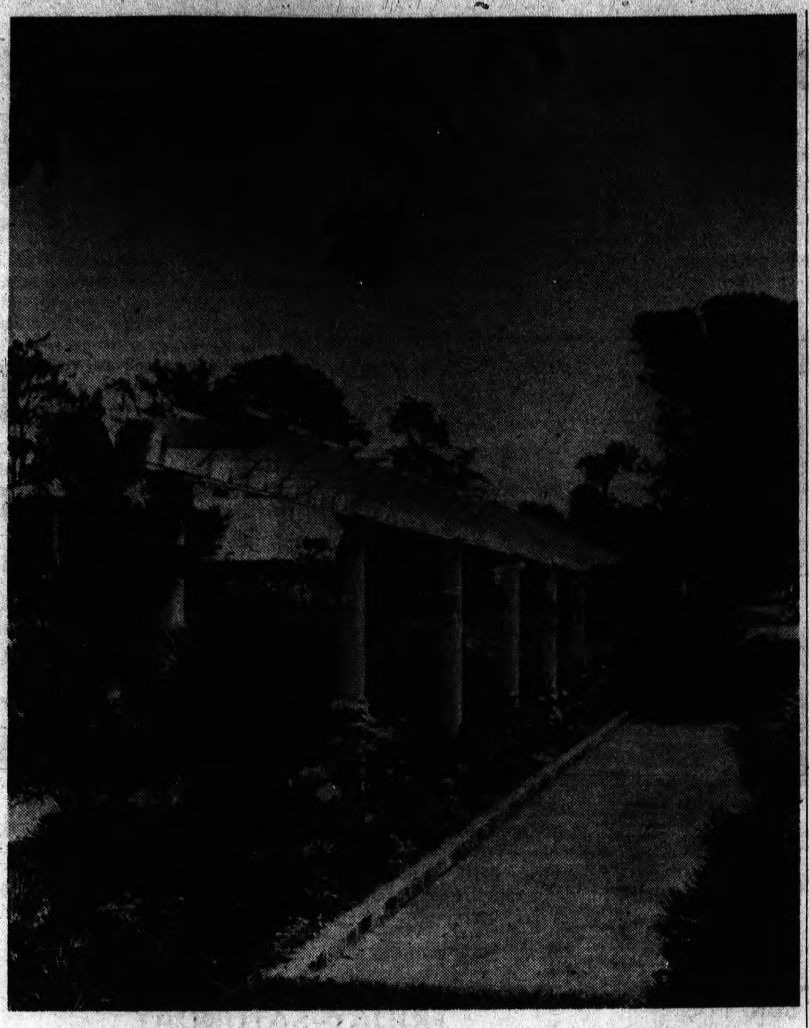
So expect to pay a fair price, avoiding economy blends, and you'll usually be assured of the above quality even without checking the label.

There are about 8,600 bird species in the world, and about 6,000 of these live in the tropics.



PERFECTION — Take a couple of pines, an arbor, and roses, then mix well with good taste and the result is family pleasure and entertainment for years to come.

Vegetables Prefer an Early Start

This doesn't mean they plant everything while the weather is still cold but they do get the hardy ones started. Most people wait much longer than necessary. In fact, in many areas it is traditional to plant garden peas on St. Patrick's Day.

Farther south, of course, things are progressively more advanced. Wherever you are, figure 5 to 7 weeks before the last frost date for planting the very earliest crops.

In any case, prepare your soil as early as you can without it forming into sticky clods, and always dig down the full depth of your spade or fork. To do less is letting an important part of your garden go unused.

Unless you have been adding humus to it regularly, also spade in an inch or two of compost of some sort. This will improve drainage in heavy soils, retain water in light ones, help retain fertilizer in any kind and slowly break down into life-giving humus everywhere.

Vegetable Medalists for Your Garden

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

The 1969 All-American vegetable awards mean that there will be new top-quality vegetables for your graden.

Here they are:

The gold medal winner announced following pre-introductory testing and comparative rating of seed varieties of North America, is the First Generation hybrid broccoli, Green Comet.

A bronze medal cabbage winner is the F1 Harvester Queen, with large global heads and medium-early maturity. The size is uniform and it holds well at ripeness with out bursting.

Depending on the location, soil and planting time, heads weigh up to five pounds — and more. The diameter is 6 to 8 inches. It is believed 100 per cent yellows resistant.

TURNIP

The F1 hybrid turnip Tokyo Cross also won a bronze medal. It has an early, very white, medium-sized, semi-glove smooth root.

The greens are short but of very satisfactory flavor, tenderness and yield. It has early and larger roots than "Just Right."

The two bronze medal squash are the F1 hybrid summer bush variety St. Pat Scallop, and the winter type, Kindred.

St. Pat Scallop is an improved, bell-shape, greenish-white version of the Patty Pan. It is very early, prolific and uniform.

The fruit should be used when very young and tender. When it ages, the color turns from pale green to white.

The bell shape with smooth scallop margins provides more tender flesh and less waste than other varieties. The plant is compact and provides more fruit over a long season and heavier yields if kept picked.

Kindred is a semivine type of Buttercup shape. The flesh is deep orange in color and the thin skin gold. It was developed by Ben Gilbertson of Kindred, N.D.

Home and market growers will appreciate the more concentrated yield on vigorous short vines. The fruit is about 3½ inches thick, 6 to 7 inches wide and weighs about 4½ pounds.

The plant remains bush type until half way through the season, when short runners appear.

Soak Clay Pots Remove Alkali

New pots for house plants should always be soaked in water for several hours, then dried out before using.

There are some 3,700 streams in Texas.

Avoid Frustration, Know Seed Type

Flowers from seed come in three classifications, annuals, biennials and perennials.

Biennials grow from seed one year, bloom and die the next, though some varieties bloom the first season when sown early.

Perennials last for several years, blooming annually after the first season, though some varieties will bloom the first season if planted early.

The U.S. oil industry has spent over $10 billion in efforts to map and secure the two billion barrel reserve of oil in offshore areas.

Bare Spot? Try Pebble Garden

As you rake over your lawn before apply crab-grass killers, fertilizers and new grass seed, you'll notice many a bare spot that apparently incurable.

Maybe you've been aware of these same spots in other springs, places where grass won't grow even under the tenderest — and most costly care.

This spring, why not try pot plant pebble gardens — a sure cure for those places in your yard that seem to be allergic to grass.

To make a pebble garden simply mark the spot you want and enclose the area with a border of string. Then dig soil inside the area to a depth of two inches, and rake off roots and debris thoroughly.

PLASTIC FILM

Cut a piece of plastic film to fit the area you've dug and raked. The film will keep weeds from growing.

Then cover the film with a two-inch layer of pebbles, or washed gravel.

On top of the pebble layer place a selection of professionally-grown plants in large red clay pots — from 8 to 12, 14, or even 16-inches in diameter.

And there's your pebble garden—portable, colorful and practically maintenance free, except for watering. And you can water freely as long as plants are in porous clay pots, which get rid of excess moisture slowly and evenly.

EXPERT ADVICE

Florists and garden centers can give you expert advice, both on building a pebble garden and porper locations for the clay-potted plants you use.

If it's a sunny location, be sure and select container plants that like sunlight. If shaded or semi-shaded, the pebble garden should have clay-potted plants that prefer less light.

Requests Sought From Area

Summer Jobs Needed for Youth

Officials of several city agencies faced with the task of finding summer jobs for hundreds of Pontiac-area youths, including the underprivileged, say they need far more requests from area businessmen.

The Pontiac Area Urban League, Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC), and Manpower Inc. each year cooperate with the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) and area employers in an effort to help youths seeking summer jobs.

Agency officials agree that salient problems encountered in their youth referral programs include transportation and the reluctance of employers to hire unskilled or untrained youth, often eliminating several job applicants.

TASK FORCE

The Urban League operates an Economic Development and Employment task force year round for the economically disadvantaged and its summer youth program is geared to locating jobs for youths from minority and poor families, beginning at age 15.

"Many employers have to be sold on the idea of hiring young persons who are unskilled but 'qualifiable', while others actively seek to employ minority youths," said William Howard Clark, director of the Pontiac Urban League.

This summer four college students will serve as Urban League Summer Interns, helping to develop job openings for youth, interviewing applicants and more important following through on placements, he said.

Also, this summer the Urban League Economic Development Committee and the Pontiac area Chamber of Commerce are planning a more comprehensive system of cooperation involving the MESC, OEO, Manpower, Inc. and the Urban League, he said.

INTENSIVE PROGRAM

This would facilitate summer youth employment by cutting down duplication of applications and job referrals, he added.

The Pontiac branch of the MESC is engaged in an intensive program to get jobs for in-school youths who are economically disadvantaged. The effort is in affiliation with the National Alliance of Businessmen (NAB).

The NAB solicits employers in the greater Detroit Metropolitan area obtaining pledges to hire a certain number of youths for summer employment. It is a national program, financed federally by the National Department of Labor.

This is the first year Pontiac area companies and businessmen will participate in NAB's program receiving federal funds for the hiring and training of young disadvantaged persons.

OPPORTUNITY CAMPAIGN

The MESC refers the job applicants to NAB employers to first establish that they meet federal requirements to be termed economically disadvantaged.

"Every year we receive hundreds of applications from in-school youths seeking summer jobs from all economic levels and there are never enough jobs available," said Merle Walls, director of the Pontiac MESC.

Every year the agency sends out all kinds of material to area employers asking them to hire youths for summer jobs who are disadvantaged or otherwise in need, he said.

LACK TRANSPORTATION

Many more disadvantaged youths could be placed if they had transportation. Another problem the agency encounters is a difficulty in placing disadvantaged females in need of employement, he added.

Youthpower, Inc., a successful youth work program begun last year by Manpower Inc. in conjunction wit the Chamber of Commerce and Pontiac area Jaycees, is set to begin again this month.

E. A. Little, manager of Manpower Inc., said the program is involved with small businessmen. After the kids are registered with Youthpower, the office then works to promote jobs — part-time, full-time or permanent, he explained.

It is an equal opportunity program, for every young person regardless of race, color or creed. Last year over 400 Youthpower participants were placed in jobs and collectively grossed almost $53,500, he said.

Little added, "When we are unable to place youngsters we refer them to the MESC or the Urban League and they do likewise."

Saturday Deadline Set for Grid Talks

Pete Rozelle May Say Who'll Go to AFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle has moved to within 24 hours of running with the realignment ball himself and personally selecting the three National Football League teams that have to switch to the American Football League.

Rozelle made that revelation himself at the end of an 11-hour day of talks with both NFL and AFL club owners Thursday in yet another session of the marathon pro football meetings that now have lasted almost two months and been held on both coasts of the United States.

Admitting that "I don't have a firm commitment from any club" to move, Rozelle said he felt a solution had to be reached by Saturday at the latest and if the NFL owners could not select the three teams "I am prepared to pick them."

The owners have been meeting on a solution to the realignment problem since mid-March when they originally sat down in Palm Springs, Calif. They held a second session last week and then reconvened again Wednesday.

EQUAL LEAGUES

The only hard fact that has evolved in the almost two months of talks is that realignment almost certainly will be accomplished by shifting three teams from the 16-team NFL into the 10-team AFL to form two conferences of 13 teams each.

The suggestion for Rozelle stepping in and tapping three teams to join the AFL for the 1970 season arose in an NFL caucus and the commissioner said he was ready to tackle the ticklish problem plaguing the owners.

Asked if he had the power to step in, Rozelle replied:

"They (the owners) may give it to me or I may insist upon having it. In that case I think I can get it."

Rozelle said he had spent some time considering his three candidates for a shift but declined to specify any of his choices or speak in other than genearlities about what factors would be taken into consideration.

THREE EXEMPT

The teams most prominently mentioned in speculation have been Baltimore, Atlanta, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Minnesota and St. Louis, but Rozelle said only three teams actually will not be considered for a move — New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

It appeared that if the NFL owners were unable to reach accord by some time in the afternoon, Rozelle then would either ask for or be handed the ball.

"One way or another," Rozelle insisted, "we'll have a decision by Saturday."

Wilson Slated Against Chance

Tigers Await Big Series With Twins

DETROIT (UPI) — The most popular game in town these days isn't baseball. It's playing "what's wrong with the Detroit Tigers?"

Manager Mayo Smith hopes his team can provide a resounding answer of "nothing!" to that question tonight when his Tigers host the Minnesota Twins for the start of a three-game series.

Earl Wilson (1-3) makes his first start since injuring his leg one week ago in the second inning against Boston while Minnesota counters with Dean Chance (2-0). The only Saturday night game of the season follows with Sunday's contest designated as Free Cap Day.

It was a fun and profit day off for Detroit Thursday. Some stayed home and puttered around while others banked a little dough.

But probably all of the Tigers, if they couldn't escape being asked, were mulling over the though of what has caused the club to get off to its lousy start.

Detroit stands 12-14 in fourth place of the East Division, six full games behind the squad which was expected to furnish them with the most opposition, the Baltimore Orioles, in their drive to repeat as American League and World Champions.

Somehow, though, providing the solution to the club's miseries seems to be like a "which came first, the chicken or the egg" problem. How do you answer the unanswerable?

Hitting? "We're just not hitting, that's the problem," say many of the players themselves. A check of the averages shows this to be at least part of the problem.

Tom Matchick has the highest percentage — .346 — while Gates Brown is next at .333. Best among the regulars is Al Kaline's 296, with the others dropping off as sharply as their home run and runs batted in production.

Pitching? The pitchers ain't, with some exceptions, notably Denny McLain, Pat Dobson and Mickey Lolich. The relief staff has faltered worse than a crippled horse in the Derby, with some sterling performances nonetheless.

Track Meet Moved

The Oxford Invitational track meet scheduled Saturday has been moved to the Waterford Township high school all-weather track. Heavy rain this morning has left the Oxford oval in less than desirable conditon.

Pitching Statistics Falter but Batters Raising Havoc

By the Associated Press

The pitching mound isn't the only thing lower for most of the hurlers who helped make 1968 the Year of the Zero in major league baseball. Their records also show quite a drop.

Of the top 10 pitchers in each league a year ago, only Juan Marichal of San Francisco and Oakland's Jim Nash show an appreciably better earned run average and some ERAs are astronomical.

Houston and Philadelphia wreaked more hitting havoc Thursday, with the Astros winning a 9-7 come-from-behind slugfest in the only scheduled game in either league.

They rallied for three runs in the eighth inning and three more in the ninth, wiping out a 7-3 Philadelphia lead and ruining a banner performance by Rich Allen, who walloped a towering grand slam homer and singled in another run.

LEADOFF HOMER

Houston fell behind despite a 3-0 lead on Joe Morgan's leadoff homer and a two-run shot by Jim Wynn in the third. But they closed in when Jesus Alou cracked a two-run double and Gary Geiger hit a sacrifice fly in the eighth.

Norm Miller began the decisive ninth against reliever Gary Wagner with a single and walks to Curt Blefary and Doug Rader loaded the bases with two out. Alou's infield single tied the score and John Edwards drilled a single to right to win it.

"It's taken us a while to get in the groove, to adjust to playing with one another and to get a little confidence," said manager Harry Walker, whose Astros have won six of their last seven games. "We started off bad and then we started to press.

"I think we'll be all right. We've got three hard throwers in Larry Dierker, Don Wilson and Tom Griffin. If they continue to improve we can be tough."

DAY OF REST

The pitchers on the other 22 teams had Thursday off to contemplate their woes. For example:

Cleveland's Luis Tiant, a 21-game winner and the American League's ERA leader at 1.60, shows an 0-6 record and 8.29 ERA. Teammate Sam McDowell's ERA is up from 1.81 to 3.23 and it took two consecutive shutouts to get it that respectible.

Baltimore's Dave McNally has a 5-0 mark but his ERA is up from 1.95 to 2.70. Denny McLain, Detroit's 31-game winner, is at 4-3 and 2.82, compared to 1.96 in 1968.

Tommy John of the Chicago White Sox is up from 1.98 to 2.66, Stan Bahsen of the New York Yankees—0-6 like Tiant—from 2.06 to 5.50, Joe Horlen of the White Sox from 2.37 to 3.60 and New York's Mel Stottlemyre and Oakland's John "Blue Moon" Odom from 2.45 to 2.64 and 2.84, respectively.

Nash, however, is down from 2.28 to 1.86 with a 3-1 record.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Over in the National League, Bob Gibson of St. Louis has a superb 1.94 ERA, but it was a record-setting 1.12 last season, when he spun 13 shutouts.

Goalie Glenn Hall Picked to NHL's All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Goalie Glenn Hall of the St. Louis Blues today became the first player in the National Hockey League's expansionist West Division to be named to the league's annual All-Star team.

Hall was named to the NHL's first All-Star team for a record seventh time in balloting by three members of the National Hockey League Writers Assocation in each of the 12 league cities.

The veteran goalie, who shared the Vezina Trophy for fewest goals allowed with teammates Jacques Plante, polled 115 points, 13 more than Ed Giacomin of New York, in the closest race in the voting.

Orr came closest to being a unanimous choice, getting 176 of a possible 180 points. Hull had 175, Esposito and Howe 174 each and Horton 123.

CANADIENS NAMED

Selection to the first team carries with it a $2,000 bonus from the league while second-team members receive $1,000 each.

Orr, Horton, Howe and Hull are all repeaters from last year's first team. Howe was a first-team selection for a record 11th time and has been picked for the first or second team in 20 of his 23 NHL seasons. Hull made the first team for the sixth straight year and the eighth time in his career.

The All-Star forward line of Esposito, Hull and Howe all soared past the previously unreached 100-point scoring mark during the 1968-69 season. Esposito scored 126 points, Hull 107 including a record 58 goals, and Howe 103.

Three NBA Clubs After Bob Cousy

CINCINNATI — Bob Cousy, one of the all-time greats of the National Basketball Association, was named today to be head coach of the Cincinnati Royals.

BOSTON (AP) — Bob Cousy, who earned the title Mr. Basketball as a star for the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association, is considering "fantastic" offers to return to the NBA—as a coach.

"I have talked with three clubs and have reached the point where I've got to fish or cut bait," Cousy said on a business trip in Boston earlier this week.

A former All-American at Holy Cross, Cousy led the Celtics to several NBA titles before he returned in 1963 to become coach at Boston College.

He resigned the BC post recently after six successful seasons.

Cousy said that when he resigned at BC, "I planned to take a year off, see how much I missed the game, and then decide on my future."

Racing Veteran Sees Big Chance

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — Neil Castles, at 34 a veteran of 16 years in stock car racing, gets his big chance for a major victory in Saturday's $68,000 Rebel 400, but isn't sure he'll be able to meet the challenge.

Castles was assigned his first ride in top grade machinery a week ago when Buddy Baker quit the Ray Fox Dodge Charger and moved to another factory machine maintained by Cotton Owens.

"They have given me the chance. I know I must produce. I must win, maybe not in this first race but soon, if I expect to keep the ride," said Castles.

Castles has spent two days trying to adjust to the car, consistently one of the fastest on the NASCAR circuit. He admits the adjustment from slow to fast machinery is harder than he had thought it would be.

After being bumped from the field on the first day of time trials Wednesday because of a comparatively slow lap of 146.727 miles per hour, Castles came back Thursday to nail down 11th spot in the 36-car field.

16 Prep Teams Begin Play May 29

Keen Interest in Pontiac Baseball Tournament

The best response in the history of the Pontiac Invitational Baseball Tournament's eight years may prompt a change in the format of the popular high school competition later this month.

The tournament is organized on a 16-team, single-elimination basis with the games annually scheduled around the Memorial Day weekend period.

Inquiries are sent to 25-30 schools each year by the co-sponsoring Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department and The Press. Central and Northern are automatically in the 16-team field as cohosts since the Michigan High School AA requires at least one such host before it will sanction the tournament.

The other 14 positions are filled by choosing among the other 16-20 schools who express a desire to participate. The decision is based on the teams' league and over-all records.

This spring 25 schools in addition to PNH and PCH want to play. Some lose interest when they develop prolong losing trends during the season, or they aren't deemed competitive with the other candidates.

But officials still anticipate 18-20 teams that rate consideration for the remaining 14 spots. Consideration will be given at a meeting Wednesday afternoon to staging a three-to-five game qualifying round May 23-24 at Jaycee Park to determine some of the field.

A final decision on this won't be made until next week; and if it is deemed appropriate, then approval must still be granted by the MHSAA to expand the dates of the tourney.

However, no first or second-place teams in league races would be asked to qualify since they already are involved in title bids and likely wouldn't be able to do both well.

Most of these would be invited into the tournament. The qualifying round would involve only six or eight teams of similar records who would be vying for the remaining 3-5 berths.

All would be advised of this opportunity at least one week prior to such a round.

In this way, tournament officials feel they can acknowledge the improving calibre of play among Oakland County prep teams and provide a better opportunity for more schools to participate.

COACHES' CONFAB

Coaches or their representatives from the schools involved in the round of 16 will meet Monday evening May 26 to finalize the pairings and tournament rules in the personnel office conference room at City Hall.

The round of 16 will begin May 29. Play will continue Memorial Day May 30, and the quarter-finals will be Saturday May 31. The semifinals are slated for Tuesday June 3 and the championship game is set for June 4.

All contests will be at Jaycee Park, located on Walton just west of Joslyn. Pontiac Northern is the defending champion.

WOLVE BAT — Clarkston Steve Warman collected a pair of hits and a couple of runs batted in to help Clarkston blank Brighton, 7-0, yesterday in a Wayne-Oakland League game.

Pacesetting Milford (7-0) and Bloomfield Hills Andover were delayed because of wet grounds and they were slated to go at it this afternoon.

TWO SHUTOUTS

In games the weatherman couldn't stop, Clarkston blanked Brighton, 7-0, Northville shut out West Bloomfield, 6-0, and Kettering pinned a 9-1 setback on Clarenceville.

Marshall Sealy gave Brighton just three hits as Clarkston ran its season record to 6-7. Steve Warman rapped out a couple of hits and knocked in two runs. Tom Layne picked up a pair of safeties and John Craven chased home two runs with one hit.

FANS 12

Dennis Wooster scattered five hits and fanned 12 to keep Kettering in the running for the baseball championship. Wooster, Steve Lyon and Ton Setter picked up two hits apiece and Lyon knocked in a pair of runs. Paul Currey doubled home a pair in the Captains' three-run sixth.

Junior right-hander Fred Holdsworth, who has given up just two earned runs in 47 innings of work, gave up a hit to the first batter he faced and then slammed the door as Northville raised it over-all record to 11-3.

THIRD SHUTOUT

Holdsworth, now 6-1, stuck out eight in recording his third shutout of the campaign.

A's After Catching 'Bat'

OAKLAND (AP) — This is the year the Oakland Athletics are supposed to win a title and one month into the season Manager Hank Bauer sees only one major problem that may prevent it.

"I'd like to improve our catching as far as the hitting end of it is concerned," says Bauer.

So far, Bauer has given Dave Duncan, Jim Pagliaroni and Phil Roof equal shots at the job, but none of them has been able to take advantage.

Through Wednesday, the three catchers had managed only 12 hits among them and Bauer isn't exactly revealing a trade secret when he says he'd like to trade for a backstop who can hit as well as catch.

"The trouble is," he says, "there are none available you can get without wrecking your ballclub. When I talk about wrecking your ballclub I mean giving up a starting pitcher."

PCH Travels in Loop Play

Rain Washes Out Match

First Round Delayed

Texas Open Hit by Storms

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The troubled Texas Open, plagued with dropouts, threatened by a tornado and buffeted by a violent, damaging thunderstorm, tried again today to get in the first round of the $100,000 golf tournament.

The 7,138 yard, par 71 Pecan Valley Country Club course still was heavy, soggy and waterlogged today when the first in the field of 155 got away.

A raging storm Thursday washed out the scheduled first round, turned the lush course into a quagmire and forced tournament officials to do some fast rescheduling.

Single 18 hole rounds now are scheduled today and Saturday, with a 36-hole windup Sunday.

The storm was brief, but frighteningly violent. It hit just before 11 a.m., CDT, and within minutes it was dark as late twilight.

STRONG WINDS

torrential rains, accompanied by gale-force winds, golf-ball size hail, thunder and lightning pounded the course and sent the Torrential rains, accompanied for any shelter available.

The winds were so severe they toppled a 20-foot steel television tower, sending it crashing across a walkway and dumping a camera on a practice green. A technician got off the tower just moments before it fell. There were no injuries.

Dondero Blanks Parkers, 2-0

Dave Reid flipped a two-hitter and struck out seven yesterday as Royal Oak Dondero blanked Highland Park, 2-0. John Adamski's fourth-inning single brought in both runs.

Romeo	4	3	Utica	2	4

They helped themselves, too. The Falcons, gaining revenge for their only loss of the season, saddled Lake Orion with a 1-0 defeat.

MADISON FALLS

FLIPS ONE-HITTER

Senior right-hander Al Thomas handcuffed Orion on just one hit — a second-inning single — in posting his second shutout and his fourth win of the season. The victory raised Rochester's record to 7-1.

Rochester managed only six hits but two came in the third and produced the lone run. Second baseman Mike Scally singled, stole second and raced across the plate on a two-out single by center fielder Mark McAllister.

SPARK TROY

Kerry Brown tripled home a pair of runs in the third and Steven Carls singled two more across in the fourth to give the Troy Colts the decision over Madison.

Semp cracked a pair of home runs and drove in three runs to pace the Romeo attack. For the campaign, the muscular center fielder — 6-0 and 185 pounds — is batting .523 with 23 hits in 44 trips. He has six home runs and 21 RBI.

Orchard Ridge 6-1 Winner Over Wayne 'B'

Left fielder Tom Snyder clouted a three-run homer in the third inning yesterday to lead Orchard Ridge-OCC to a 6-1 decision over Wayne State University's 'B' team.

The triumph was the eighth straight for the Raiders and upped their record to 8-3. They were slated to meet the same team this afternoon at WSU.

Snyder's blow plus Bob Gershman's three runs batted in on a double and two singles made the pitching effort an easy one for John Stoyka.

Stoyka fanned 11 and ran his consecutive innings without permitting an earned run to 18.

We do.

When you're running through water that might conceal rocks, stumps or other obstructions, and you have an outboard equipped with a shear pin, you worry. Because when your propeller hits an underwater obstruction hard, your shear pin snaps. Then you don't go anywhere—until you replace that pin.

Mercury outboards have a shearproof drive instead of shear pins. We attach prop to driveshaft through a live-rubber safety clutch that "gives" when you hit something—then resumes running.

Even more security: Mercury's one-piece driveshaft housing and one-piece lower unit provide rugged, lightweight, streamlined castings. No nuts, bolts or gaskets to loosen or leak—water stays out, lubricant stays in.

Our new '69 Mercs go a long way to keep you out of trouble. Stop worrying . . . come in and be convinced.

Despite DDT Scare

Coho Market Exists

LANSING (AP) — There still will be a commercial market for Great Lakes salmon, despite the DDT scare, predicts Michigan's top fish expert.

"They can still be processed and smoked or sold in a can. We are sure they can be sold for human consumption below the level set by the federal government," said Wayne Tody, head of the Department of Natural Resources fish division.

The federal government has set five parts per 1 million of DDT as the highest level allowed in fish on the commercial market.

"There will be some depression of the value of the fish on the market," Tody told the Natural Resources Commission Thursday.

"We are assured there is a market for the fish—not only for human consumption, but otherwise," he added.

The salmon can be used for fish bait, for caviar and even can be processed at a profit for use as a part of industrial oils, Tody said.

Tody said the Blackport Packing Co. of Grand Rapids, which has the contract to purchase excess salmon taken from streams after they escape anglers, will not be held to their present contract price.

The company currently is committed to pay 15.6 cents a pound for the salmon.

He indicated that the price would be negotiated so the company could continue to process the fish, but not suffer a loss.

Tody said it would be difficult to see excess fish locally— in the areas where they are caught.

ANGLERS UNHAPPY

"But the fishermen are irritated to see them shipped out commercially," he said.

Tody said as part of the solution he favored allowing anglers to keep salmon snagged accidently.

This would allow fishermen who catch fish with conventional gear to keep the salmon if they catch them elsewhere than in the mouth.

Deliberate snagging will not be allowed. Slightly larger hook sizes will be permitted to give the fishermen more chance to haul in the heavy fish.

Tody said fishermen will be allowed to keep five fish a day —all salmon, or a combination of trout and salmon.

"If problem areas develop," he promised," we will move in on them."

Tody was referring to last year, when fishermen ganged up to deliberately snag the salmon with huge hooks, particularly at Bear Creek and off the mouth of Thompson Creek.

Tody said good salmon fishing already was reported from Lakes Michigan and Huron. Patrol boats are out seeking them, to give anglers the latest fishing information.

Indy 500 Racers Covered With Ads

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Most cars at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway have something in common with the outfield walls at older baseball parks: Advertising.

But unlike baseball billboards, the racing cars in the May 30 Indianapolis 500 will carry trademarks past fans at 170 miles an hour and faster.

There's nothing amateur about the 500, however. Money is the name of the game ($710,219 purse last year) and it's what puts decals on cars.

Oil companies, tire companies and manufacturers of other automotive equipment give cash prizes to top finishing drivers using their products. In most cases, the driver has to agree to put the company's decal on his car for the race, along with signing an agreement to let the company use his name for promotional purposes.

"If a driver has a company's decal on his car, he has to use that equipment," said Pat O'Riley of the U.S. Auto Club's inspection committee. "If he changes equipment, the decal has to come off."

Accessory prizes for a 500 winner run from $7,500 offered by tire and oil companies down to a few hundred dollars from the manufacturers of such products as radiator hoses and clamps.

The car names also include lots of advertising. In this area, anything goes. Any connection between the names of some of this year's entries, the Speedy Broasted Chicken Special and Bulldog Stables Special, for example, is strictly dollars and

Racing Back at Aqueduct

Largest Race Track Resumes Operation

Members of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association voted Thursday to end their boycott in compliance with a temporary restraining order obtained by the State Attorney General. A hearing on a permanent injunction sought by Attorney General Louis Lefkowitz will be held Tuesday.

The HBPA had voted on April 25 to boycott the entry box to press demands for state aid in financing a $1.3 million pension plan for backstretch employees. Both Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and the State Racing Commission have promised an immediate investigation into the possibility of increasing purses.

Racing was resumed at Aqueduct Wednesday with horses supplied by the American Trainer Association and dissatisfied members of the HBPA. Forty persons were arrested during a disturbance that caused cancellation of the first race. There were no incidents Thursday.

Minnesota Mat Club Choice in AAU Meet

DETROIT (AP)— Led by its heavyweight champion, 270-pound Robert Johnson, the Minnesota Wrestling Club is rated as the premeet favorite to take the National AAU Greco-Roman Wrestling Championships which open today at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

The Minnesota club is expected to face its stiffest competition from a tough U.S. Army team from Ft. Sill, Okla., and the Michigan Wrestling Club, which is sponsoring the meet along with the Michigan AAU.

More than 100 wrestlers, including 10 from Mexico, six from Japan and two from Guatemala are expected to compete in 10 weight classes in the two-day meet.

In Greco - Roman wrestling, unlike the free style commonly used in American colleges and high schools, opponents are not permitted to use their legs except for support and are not allowed to grab each other below the waist.

A wrestler's score is determined by black marks which are awarded for loss by a fall (4); loss by decision (3); draw (2); win by decision (1), and win by a fall (0). Since a contestant must accumulate six black marks before being eliminated, he is assured of wrestling in at least two rounds.

The mainstay of the Detroit-based Michigan Club is 34-year-old Rudy Williams of Romulus, Mich., who wrestles in the 180.5-pound class.

The Ft. Sill team will be led by the Hazewinkel brothers, Dave and Jim, both of whom saw action in the world championships in Argentina in March and on the U.S. Olympic team in Mexico City last year.

Illinois Women Set Pace for Doubles

Jerry Rauch and Lorry Rocka of El Cajon, Calif., moved into second place in division one doubles with 1,173, with Miss Rocka contributing 607.

Waterford Rec Softball Game Needs 15 Innings

If its opening game is any indication, it'll be a long season for defending Waterford Township men's softball champion Day's Sanitary Service.

Rained out of their first start, the servicemen finally made their debut last evening at the Drayton Plains Park and it took them 15 innings to get a decision.

Day's pulled out a 4-3 victory over Milbur Industries after the two teams battled 2-2 from the fifth inning. Jerry Thomas and Max Jarrett dueled until the game's final out.

TWO IN A ROW

In the night's lidlifter, Spencer Floor Covering won its second straight with a 7-0 conquest of C. Weedon's who could manage only two hits off Doug Hall. He struck out nine.

Four runs in the opening inning put the game quickly out of Weedon's grasp. Louie Seay, Fred Milliron and Tom Dabbs each plated runs with singles.

The losers loaded the bases on walks with none out in the last inning but couldn't score.

GIFT MARKER

Milbur tied Day's in the fifth inning without the aid of a hit; then the tight defenses and strong mound work of Day's Thomas and Milbur's Jarrett kept the runners from advancing when they reached base.

Finally in the 15th, Ken Young reached on an infield single and El Sharrard doubled him to third. Milbur committed its only error at this point, mishandling the throw-in and Young scampered home.

Thomas followed with a sacrifice fly for a second tally. Tom Stilwell's run-scoring two-bagger and a hit batsmen in the last of 15th brought John Herrington to Thomas' rescue and he fanned the final batter.

Thomas fanned 16 and scattered six hits — two by Stilwell, while Jarrett was touched for 10 safeties and had seven strikeouts. Dick Ryan had three of Day's 10 hits.

Skippers Find Golf Opponents Can Be 'Tying'

Waterford's golfers have a tying problem.

The Skippers tied Milford Tuesday at 208 and they were back at it again yesterday in a 212 deadlock against rival Kettering.

West Picks Top Players

NBA Ace Likes Alcindor's Chances

NEW YORK (AP) — Superstar Jerry West, hailed by his coach as the "most complete player in the NBA today — and maybe of all time," said Thursday that if he had to pick one player to start a team today he would select Lew Alcindor.

First, the 6-foot-3, 175-pound sharpshooter of the Los Angeles Lakers said that teammate Wilt Chamberlain was a better player than Bill Russell but that if he had to pick one player for one game his choice would be the player-coach of the champion Boston Celtics.

West made his comments before a luncheon honoring him as the outstanding player in the National Basketball Association championship playoffs although his team was beaten four games to three by the Celtics in the final series.

He was presented with a 1969 Dodge Charger R-T by Sport Magazine and said he almost choked when he saw it.

CELTIC GREEN

"Ugh, it was green — Boston Celtic green," he said.

He was told later he could have any color car he wanted.

"Everyone takes Jerry for granted," said Coach Bill van Breda Kolff of the frustrated Lakers, "including me. I never compare players but I will say Jerry West is the most complete player in the NBA today — and maybe of all time. I've never said this before. There's nothing he can't do."

"For the one game that you want to win there's nobody like Russell," said West. "The man is incredible. As soon as he gets on the floor he gives the Celtics guidance and encouragement.

"He doesn't have to score. He's quick and agile for a big man and has a very sure pair of hands. He just lights that team up.

"Chamberlain is a better all-round player than Russell. He's a better scorer and rebounder, and I think he even blocks more shots than Russell.

"But for the one guy for the one game I'd have to pick Bill Russell. His record speaks for itself."

TOP CLOSE

Asked who he would pick if he had a choice of just one player to start a team, West answered quickly by saying "Lew Alcindor."

Alcindor is the 7-1½, 235-UCLA who signed a multi-year contract calling for an estimated $1.4 million with the NBA Milwaukee Bucks.

"I think he's going to be the most valuable player in the league," said West. "I've watched him play and he can do everything. He has Russell's agility. He is quick, has great hands, can shoot, and is an unselfish player.

"His one weakness is rebounding. For a guy his size he doesn't do enough. But with competition that will imprive."

West, hampered by a pulled hamstring muscle in his left leg for the final two games, scored 42 points in the losing 108-106 final. He set an NBA playoff record of 556 points, scoring 265 in the seven-game set with Boston for a 37.8 average.

'Younger Than Springtime' Feeling

Ernie Banks Happy as Cubs' Old Timer

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Ernie Banks spread his arms to encompass the ball park and, in a voice that may be described as tattered tenor, wailed with the organ background, "Younger Than Springtime Am I . . . Dee-dee-dee-dee-dooo-dee-dee-doo . . ."

At center stage, behind the batting cage, he cakewalked to a groundskeeper to engage in a waltz. The groundskeeper retreated out of sheer horror.

It was hard to say whether Banks was loony or looped.

"IT'S GREAT TO BE A MAJOR LEAGUER, ISN'T IT?" Banks asked, loud enough for the fans gettig off the elevated train a few blocks away to hear. "WHAT A LIFE!"

This kind of ebullience, along with long, crashing home runs, has been Ernie Banks' trademark throughout his 16-year career with the Chicago Cubs.

Before each season, this happiest of warriors has predicted the Cubs would win the pennant. As a prophet, he has batted .000. As a slugger, he has done much better. He is not in the top 10 of all-time home run hitters, having recently passed Stan Musial. And as a biological phenomenon, he is nearly nonpareil.

OFTEN RETIRED

Banks is not younger than Springtime, though he sings he is. And plays as though he is. Banks is 38 years old. For the last few years he has been retired often—by the club, not himself.

Before spring training three years ago Leo Durocher, the Cubs manager, came to Banks and said, "Ernie, sooner or later the snow must fall in everyone's life. It is now the winter or your playing career. I would like you to become a Cub coach. And in a pinch, swing a bat in anger now and then."

As Banks recalled the situation, his long-lashed, wide brown eyes continued to sparkle, though intensity was lowered somewhat. "I thought about it for a moment, then I said, 'That would be great. Wonderful. Wonderful. To work with the youngsters.' But I also thought in the back of my mind, 'I know I can still play regularly.'"

The usual abundance of Cub phenoms, as they say, fizzled. First basemen of all sorts dropped by for a cup of coffee and departed on the next milk train. As the season progressed, so did Banks. He was a regular again.

SHIFTS AROUND

Going back a bit further, 1962, Banks was considered slowing up even then. He was shifted from shortstop to left field. Out to pasture. He played 26 unhappy games in left. His high-cheekboned, slender brown face was still bright with being a big leaguer. But his heart and feet were not so cooperative. He was shifted again, this time to first base. And home he was.

"Hey Ernie, hey Ernie," yelled a knot of kids near the dugout. Banks clapped for himself. And the kids squealed with delight. "It's great, just great," he said. "Why, they think I'm Babe Ruth or somebody.

"It really is fun to be idolized. They don't just idolize me, though. But the Cubs, too. Oh, they love the Cubs. And they idolize the big leagues. Like I do. WHAT A GREAT LIFE. Dee-dee-dee-dee-doo-dee-doo."

2 Unbeatens Post Wins in Walled Lake

Imperial Molded Products and Liberty Tool each posted its second victory without a defeat Thursday evening in Walled Lake Industrial men's slowpitch softball play.

Larry Thompson sparkled in the field and at the plate to guide Imperial past Walled Lake Building Maintenance, 5-2. Home runs by Roger Ewald and Ken Farnstrom boosted Liberty to a 19-5 decision over Lawson Manufacturing.

Liberty spotted Lawson's four runs in the top of the first, but Ewald's two-run circuit clout helped the toolmen quickly tie the game in their first at bat, then Farnstrom connected in the second with a mate on and the rout was on.

Falcons State, Regional Champs

Rochester Again 'Fittest of Fit'

Repeating their winning performance of last year, coach Ralph Vanzo's Rochester High School six-man physical fitness team captured its second consecutive state and regional championships in the Marine Corps Youth Physical Fitness Program at Detroit's Brodhead Naval Armory.

The Falcons scored 2278 points out of a possible 2500 points. Rochester's score was also tops for the four-state region of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

By virtue of their Michigan win and four-state regional title, Rochester will be one of two teams from the 13-state Ninth Marine Corps District to compete in the national championship finals in Washington, D. C. and Quantico, Va., June 18-21.

At that meet, Rochester and 11 other regional champions will vie for team and individual trophies, plus a $1000 college scholarship from the General Foods for the highest scoring high school senior at the national competition.

In addition, General Foods has added a new $500 award to be presented to the winning high school at the nationals for purchase of school physical fitness equipment.

STATE OKAY

Though only in its second year and sanctioned by the Michigan High School Athletic Association, the state championship meet in Detroit was jointly organized and sponsored by Marine Corps League.

Featuring push-ups, sit-ups, pull-ups, squat thrusts and a 300 yard shuttle run all timed against the clock, points are awarded based on correct form and performance of each exercise.

Monroe Public High School from Monroe County took second place honors at the Michigan met with 2099 . . . moving up one slot from their third-place finish last year. Newcomer Chelsea High School from Washtenaw County finished a strong third with 2064.

Twins Shuffle Two Infielders

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Twins have sent infielder Ron Clark to their Triple-A Denver Farm team to make room for the recall from Denver of infielder Rick Renick.

Clark, informed of the decision Wednesday night in Cleveland, had batted .125 in five games with the Twins.

Northern Cindermen Run Past Walled Lake, 64-54

Pontiac Northern's Huskies moved away to a fast start and raced to a 64-54 track victory over Walled Lake yesterday.

The Huskies swept the two-mile race and took the 880-yard relay to build up a 22-0 lead and it proved too much for Walled Lake to overcome.

The triumph kept the Huskies (4-0) unbeaten in Inter-Lakes League competition.

Mel Reeves set the pace for PNH by winning both hurdles, the high jump and sharing honors on the 880 relay team.

DETROIT (AP) — The Trans-American series of a dozen endurance races for small production sedans kicks off with a $35,000 purse at Irish Hills Raceway Sunday.

All four major U.S. automakers will have factory-supported teams in the series sponsored by the Sports Car Club of America. The driver list includes such luminaries as Parnelli Jones, Mark Donohue, Jerry Titus, Ron Bucknum and Canadian Craig Fisher.

The track opens for practice at 10:30 a.m. and the race starts at 1 p.m.

While the series offers championships for manufacturers of both large and small sports sedans, the main interest centers on the Detroit-built "pony cars" of the Camaro, Mustang, Javelin and Firebird class limited to 3-liter 302 cubic inch engines.

The German-built Porsches and Alfa Romeos are expected to dominate the under-2 liter division as they have in the past.

The first race, a four-hour enduro, will be staged over a three-mile grand prix road course at the new Michigan International Speedway, 65 miles southwest of Detroit.

STEP 4 REGAINING TEMPO

ONE OF THE BEST WAYS TO REGAIN TEMPO (EVEN WHEN "LOST" DURING MID-SEASON) IS TO SWING BACK AND FORTH WHILE KEEPING YOUR FEET TOGETHER. START OFF SWINGING RATHER SLOWLY... THEN INCREASE YOUR TEMPO AS YOU GAIN A SENSE OF BALANCE.

THIS EXERCISE PRACTICALLY FORCES YOU TO TURN YOUR HIPS AND SHOULDERS PROPERLY (RATHER THAN TO SWAY THEM FROM SIDE TO SIDE). JUST "CARRY IT OVER" WHEN YOU WIDEN YOUR STANCE ACCORDINGLY.

Skipper Thinclads Tie; PCHS Wins

Waterford Township and Farmington battled to a 59-all tie in an Inter-Lakes League track meet as the Skippers dominated the field events and the Falcons won the last five races.

In Catholic League competition, Pontiac Catholic outclassed Dearborn St. Alphonsus, 77-41, by winning 10 events. Kellie Dean, Mike Albrecht and Larry Boyer all were multiple winners for PCHS.

Mike Daly's double in the long jump and high jump helped WTHS to four firsts, two seconds and a third in the field events. Daly also won the 880 run later.

But Farmington won both relays, swept the one-mile run, won all the dashes and split the hurdles.

SPARKLING WINS

Livonia Stenson topped Southfield Lathrup in another league meet, 98-20, with Dale Danver and Dave Loewe sparkling. Loewe ran a sizzling :49.3 in the 440-yard dash, while Danver put the shot 57-7¾.

Lathrup's Mark Luria won the low hurdles in :21.3 and there was a 2:03.7 dead heat in the half mile between SL's Don Clifford and Stevenson's Tim Wanner.

Pontiac Catholic received three firsts from Dean in the high jump, shot put and high hurdles. Albrecht won the long jump and 440-yard dash, and Boyer took the pole vault and low hurdles. Albrecht also was on the Titans' winning 880 relay.

Strong Gophers Face 2 Big 10 Challengers

CHICAGO (AP) — Powerful Minnesota, holding the Big Ten baseball lead by two games, takes on its two closest pursuers —Purdue and Illinois—at home this weekend and could all but sew up the pennant with sweeps.

The Gophers, whose 23-game victory string ended with a 3-2 loss at Wisconsin last week, placed their 7-1 conference mark on the line in doubleheaders with Purdue (4-2) today and Illinois (4-2) Saturday.

The only single games this weekend send Ohio State (5-3) to Indiana (2-6). The remaining doubleheader schedule includes: today—Illinois at Iowa (3-5), Northwestern (1-7) at Michigan State (2-4), and Wisconsin (5-3) at Michigan (3-3). Saturday—Northwestern at Michigan, Purdue at Iowa and Wisconsin at Michigan State.

Minnesota, led by ex-football and hockey player Noel Jenke and first baseman Mike Walseth, each with 22 total bases, tops team batting with .321 and team slugging with .558. The Gophers also share the league lead in pitching with Iowa, each with 3.11 ERAs.

But Illinois and Purdue also have fine credentials. The Illini are second in team batting with .315 and team slugging with .433.

The Illini's Clyde Kuehn has 15 total bases in 14 at bats, including three doubles. Illinois is third in pitching with a 3.20 ERA, led by Rich Binder with a 3-0 record in 19 innings and 15 strikeouts.

Purdue, seventh in team batting with .251, is No. 1 in fielding with a .997. Michigan is second with .957.

Based on a minimum of seven hits, the top batter on average is Rick Miller of MSU with .556. He has 10 hits in 18 AB. Chris Farni of Minnesota is second with .538 with 7 hits in 13 AB.

They are followed by Bob Windmiller, Illinois, .533; Augie Matejzel and Kuehn, each at .500; Phil Morgan, Ohio State, .481; Bob Olson, Northwestern, .455; Jenke, .444; Mike Baughman, Indiana, .435; and Steve Forsythe, Mich., .429.

The Gophers' Walseth, batting .357, is tops in runs batted in with 13 and homers with four.

First Home Loss for I-L Mudhens

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tidewater handed Toledo its first International League home loss of the season 5-3 Thursday night.

Home runs by Bob Pfeil, Bill Sorrell and Art Shamsky helped the Tidewater cause.

A double and a walk loaded the bases for Toledo in the eighth, but reliever Larry Bearnarth quelled the threat and preserved John Matlack's third baseball victory.

In other IL games, Buffalo conquered Columbus 7-1; and Richmond downed Syracuse 13-7. Rochester and Louisville were rained out.

Head Football Coach Chosen at Cal State

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California State College at Los Angeles announced Thursday the appointment of Walt Thurmond, a Negro, as its head football coach.

A graduate with a bachelor of arts degree at Los Angeles State in 1966, Thurmond theoretically is still a student since he is working on a thesis for his masters.

Thurmond became a full-time assistant coach in 1966 under Jim Williams, whom he succeeds. Williams resigned to take another coaching position.

A defensive end, Thurmond starred on the school's No. 1, unbeaten team of 1964 and was named on The Associated Press Little All-Coast team.

Women's Southern in Semifinals

The two youngsters were matched in one of today's semi-final battles, with veteran Betty Probasco of Chattanooga, Tenn., playing Mary Ann Rathmell of Houston in the other.

Miss Chapman and Mrs. Probasco both scored upsets in Thursday's quarter-finals to advance in the tournament which has produced surprises every day.

Miss Chapman opened up a five-hole lead on the front nine and ousted veteran Ceil McLaurin of Savannah, 3 and 2.

Mrs. Probasco stunned defending champion Phyllis "Tish" Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., 1-up on 20.

ERA Marks High

San Francisco's Bob Bolin is up from 1.98 to 4.75, Pittsburgh's Bob Veale from 2.06 to 3.82, Jerry Koosman of the New York Mets from 2.08 to 3.57 and Steve Blass of the Pirates from 2.13 to 6.82.

Don Drysdale of Los Angeles, author of a record 58 consecutive scoreless innings last year, has soared from 2.15 to 5.85 and has a sore arm, as well. Tom Seaver of the Mets and Ray Washburn of the Cardinals are virtually the same, 2.20 to 2.28 for Seaver and 2.26 to 2.50 for Washburn. But Gaylord Perry of the Giants has jumped from 2.44 to 3.12.

Marichal, who won 26 games last year, has a 4-2 record and his ERA is 1.98, compared to last season's 2.43.

STRANGE NAMES

The people doing the hitting also have some strange names. The leading batters include Coco Laboy of Montreal, Chuck Harrison of Kansas City, Mike Hegan of Seattle and Bobby Murcer of the Yankees, none of whom was in the major a year ago.

Danny Cater and Rick Monday of Oakland and Tony Oliva and Ted Uhlaender of Minnesota are hitting better but Boston's Carl Yastrzemski, the AL's batting champion, is mired at .230, Detroit's Willie Horton at 2.33, California's Vic Davalillo at .149, Oakland's Bert Campaneris at .174 and Cleveland's mod swinger, Ken Harrelson, is at .181.

The averages of Pittsburgh's Matty Alou, Atlanta's Felipe Alou, Cincinnati's Alex Johnson, New York's Cleon Jones and Montreal's Rusty Staub all show improvement, while the Giants' Willie McCovey is at 1968's .293 mark.

But defending bat champ Pete Rose of the Reds is down from .335 to .287, Curt Flood of the Cards from .301 to .259, Glen Beckert of the Cubs from .294 to .252 and Roberto Clemente of the Pirates from .291 to .242.

The current leaders are Minnesota's Rod Carew at .395 after a .273 season in 1968 and Jones of the Mets, up from .297 to .394.

Penn Oarsmen Favored to End Harvard's Rule

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Penn's heavyweight crew, big and talented, is favored to end Harvard domination begun in 1963 in the 24th annual Eastern Sprints Regatta Saturday on Lake Quinsigamond.

The Quakers were top-seeded over Harvard early this week after ending the Crimson's streak of 34 consecutive collegiate victories and winning the Adams Cup in Philadelphia last Saturday.

A record of 75 boats, representing 17 colleges, are entered for the regatta which gets under way with morning trials, all over the Olympic 2,000-meter distance.

Billy Hardwick Pads Keg Lead in All-Star Classic

MIAMI (AP) — Billy Hardwick of Louisville built his lead to 618 pins Thursday night to virtually wrap up the men's title in the 28th annual $65,000 All-Star Bowling Tournament.

The 27-year-old native Alabamian dominated the 12-man field with 16 games remaining to be played before the tournament ends Friday night.

Hardwick averaged 225 pins for the first 32 games, giving him a total of 8,403 pins—including a 1,200 pin bonus for winning 24 games.

His nearest competitors were Allie Clarke of Akron, Ohio, with 7,785 pins and Bill Allen of Orlando, Fla., with 7,702.

Defending champion Dotty Fothergill of North Attleboro, Mass., finished the day with 5,446 pins to regain the lead in the women's division. She held a 21-pin lead over Betty Kucynzki of Chicago.

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Golf's a fair-weather sport, but some amazing performances have been recorded under adverse conditions.

All things considered, Jack Nicklaus turned in what might just be the greatest golfing exhibition of all time when he played a sub-par round in a soupy, French fog back in 1963.

Asked what he considered his best effort on the links, Gary Player, on a stop in Detroit the other day, referred reporters to his watery victory in the Lucky International back in 1961 on the Harding Park Golf Club in San Francisco.

There was but a handful of fans around when Nicklaus and his partner, Arnold Palmer, teed up in the final round of the World Cup on the Saint Nom la Breteche Course in Versailles, France. Arnie and Jack were playing a pair of Spaniards for the Cup.

Among the few spectators was television commentator Bill Flemming of Bloomfield Hills, who was there on assignment to cover the World Cup.

'BEST ROUND'

"Considering the conditions, it has to be the greatest round played," said Flemming.

The two teams had finished 54 holes of the 72-hole match when fog blanketed the area. A two-day wait followed but no letup in the fog. With the contestants having other commitments, officials decided to go ahead with the match fog or no fog the following day.

FOG STAYS

The next day arrived and the fog was still there. "You could just about see 100 feet," said Flemming, who accompanied Nicklaus and Palmer on that final round which officials reduced to only nine holes.

Nicklaus' exceptional play could be attributed in great part to his intense preparation for a tournament, particularly his knowledge of the course. In this case, Big Jack had landmarks and distances carefully recorded in a little book so those figures became his eyes during the match.

UNDER PAR

Jack went around the course in four-under-par 32. Palmer had a 42. "The Spaniards were well behind Arnie," said Flemming. Arnie and Jack won the Cup by three strokes.

Flemming has seen countless rounds of golf played but this one by Nicklaus sticks with him.

"It was amazing. You could see them tee off but you couldn't see the ball beyond the end of the tee. Then silence as we listened for the sound of the ball hitting the ground.

APPLAUSE TELLS

"On the approach shots it was the same thing. A player would hit. If it was a good shot, there'd be some applause from the few fans who were near the green awaiting the players."

"That was the best I've ever played. When I shoot a 67 in weather like that, I have to be playing well," said the little South African.

WET PUTTS

The rain was so heavy during that final round that when players arrived at the greens, attendants were waiting and would use squeegees ot remove the water so the players could putt out.

"It was so bad that I used a 7-iron to putt out on a couple of holes," said Player.

NEW PRESIDENT

A. J. (Jack) Helganz of Bloomfield Hills is the new president of Pine Lake Country Club. He succeeds Wendell D. (Pete) Moore of Birmingham.

HELGANZ

Other new officers are Andrew W. Seed, vice president, of Birmingham; Douglas E. Trueman, treasurer, of Bloomfield Hills; and Joseph G. Pais, secretary, of Birmingham.

Elected to the Board of Directors along with the four officers were Robert Breest, Fred T. Hopkins and H. Clare Shepard, all of Birmingham; and Edward A. Maier of Pontiac.

Bill Condon of Pontiac bagged back-to-back eagles on the third and fourth holes at Waterford Hills Tuesday, while playing in the Elks Golf League. He carded a 36.

Colts to Try McMillan

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jim McMillan, one of the top all-time running backs for The Citadel, has signed to play with the Baltimore Colts of the NFL.

Course Record Tied by Golfer in OCC Victory

Paced by a course record tying 68 from Birmingham's Troy Hornberger, Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge golfers equaled their season low by shooting 301 in downing Monroe CC yesterday at Raisin River Country Club.

Hornberger's 35-33 enabled the sophomore to come in two-under-par, equaling the best ever on the comparitively new course and helping the Raiders (8-4) match their Wednesday score which is the best by a junior college in the state this spring.

U.S. Net Dates Set July 5-13

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The 1969 U.S. Amateur Tennis Championships will be held during the nine-day period July 5-13 at the Tennis Club of Rochester in the suburban town of Perinton.

The official announcement was made Thursday by the club, the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association and Marine Midland Trust Co. of Rochester, the tournament sponsor.

The national amateur championships were held for years at Forest Hills in New York City. In 1968 the New York tournament was made an open event and the amateur was played at Brookline, Mass.

Big Event on Tap for Harness Track

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — The $182,976 Messenger Stakes, harness racing's first big event of the season, goes off at Roosevelt Raceway tonight and Laverne Hanover is considered a shoo-in to win it.

The champion 2-year-old pacer of 1968, trained and driven by Billy Haughton for owner Tom Murphy, Jr., of New York, reeled off a 2:01 4-5 in a qualifying mile last Tuesday.

It was such an effortless performance that the 3-year-old colt, winner of 24 of 25 career starts, has been barred from the betting in this first leg of the Pacing Triple Crown.

Aide Promoted at N.C. State

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Jim Westcott, a 26-year-old native of Dover, N.H., will become track coach at North Carolina State University on July 1.

Westcott, an assistant coach for the last three years, will succeed Paul Derr, who is retiring after having directed the Wolfpack's track program since 1951.

6 Generals Die Within 3 Weeks

Deaths Hint at Soviet Disaster

LONDON (UPI) — A major accident, possibly an air crash or a rocket test explosion, could be the cause of the deaths of 6 Soviet generals in the past three weeks, diplomatic reports said today.

The generals were mostly in their 50s, with a few in their early 60s. Several were directly connected with air defense and rocketry.

In at least two cases, the army newspaper Red Star said the generals died in "tragic circumstances while performing their duties."

Red Star yesterday announced the death of Lt. Gen. Yevgeny I. Smornov, 51, deputy chief of the central department of the Ministry of Defense, "after a short but grave illness."

FIRST DEATH REPORTED

The sequence of these deaths began just over two weeks ago when Red Star reported the death "in tragic circumstances" of the former chief of the general staff of infantry forces, Marikyan Popov.

Next came the death announcement of Gen. Valentin Penkovsky, former commander in-chief of the Far Eastern area and a deputy foreign minister.

A week ago Red Star announced the death of Gen. Anatoly Kadomtsev, who "died tragically while performing his duties." He was 49 and was commander of the aviation section of Russia's air defense forces.

Red Star also reported the "sudden death" of Lt. Gen. Alexander Dmitriyev, 58. He headed the political administration in the Caucasus military area.

FIFTH DEATH ANNOUNCED

Another death was announced Wednesday, that of Maj. Gen. Igor Antonov, 59. He was senior political officer in the air defense forces.

The announcements gave no time for the deaths of the generals in question, nor were any further details disclosed elsewhere, as far as is known.

Diplomatic reports reaching here said some may have died naturally, since "after all, even generals die some time, especially when they get older."

The reference in some of the cases to "tragic curcumstances" in which they died while performing their duties suggested some major accident — an air crash or, more likely, some explosion during the testing of rockets, diplomatic informants said.

These developments recalled events in 1960 when the death was announced of a Soviet general who, the reports said at the time, had died while performing his duty.

Subsequently, news of the death of Marshal M. Nedelin, chief of Russia's rocket forces, was made public.

It was only some time later that it became known that several generals and a number of other Soviet officers had been killed in a rocket test explosion.

Probe Sought on Insurance Cancellations

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Grand Rapids city officials have been asked to investigate what action it could take to curtail the rash of home insurance cancellations in the inner city.

Urban League Director Paul Phillips made the request at a City Commission meeting.

"It's going to increase tension and make it difficult to rehabilitate the inner city if people can't get insurance," Phillips warned.

He said he plans to ask for state assistance if the city is unable to help.

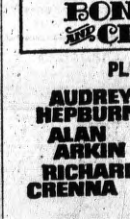
Harry Dorenbush of Grand Rapids also testified before the commissioners that his latest premium check was returned Tuesday because his property was located in a "restricted area"—and he had been insured by the company for 18 years.

There are about 61 million bicycle riders in the United States.

The Gourmet Adventures of Jayson's



There are many cooks who create quite a dilemma for themselves when they attempt to prepare fancy gourmet dinners when they entertain. Entertaining in a style to which you're not accustomed is courting disaster. You should always count on familiar recipes unless you're an exceptionally experienced cook. If chili is your specialty, then by all means serve it. Glorify it by using pottery bowls, add cornbread to the menu, serve a tangy wine, make an unusual dressing for your usual salad. Your party will be remembered for its genuine hospitality.

You can always count on the chefs at JAYSON'S, 4195 Dixie Highway at Hatchery Rd., Drayton Plains, 673-7900 to prepare gourmet food for your enjoyment. Excellent Wine selection to go with your dinners. Dancing and Entertainment Mon. thru Sat. with the J. C. Heard Trio. "Where Dining Pleasure and Hospitality Go Hand in Hand."

For Passengers of Jumbo Jets

'Fireman Pole' Escape Eyed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — How can 500 people get out of a burning airplane on the runway in 90 seconds?

By sliding down poles like firemen, perhaps.

The pole escape technique for those who ride the jumbo jets now under construction was demonstrated by Federal Aviation Administration officials Wednesday for the annual meeting of the Aerospace Medical Association.

Over closed circuit television from a gymnasium across town, scientists and doctors saw a telescoping steel pole swing out from a simulated airplane hatch and extend to the ground.

TEN SLID DOWN

Ten soldiers wrapped their arms around the pole and slid down in the manner of firemen.

Dr. Stanley R. Mohler of FAA's office of aviation medicine said the experimental device, called "telescape," is far faster than the inflatable chutes carried on today's airliners for quick evacuation of planes on the ground.

Plans call for one of the telescoping poles at each of the 10 doors on tomorrow's giant airliners, or one for every 50 passengers.

Other safety devices demonstrated included:

● Survival gear for infants in case of an emergency ditching at sea. The rig consists of a waterproof body stocking suspended from a hooded circular life buoy in which the infant is placed prior to ditching. The stocking is black—a color FAA experts said repels sharks—and is insulated against the cold of northern waters.

● A transparent plastic bag for passengers to slip over their heads if smoke gets into the cabin area. A small cannister of oxygen inside the bag will last several minutes, hopefully until the smoke can be vented through the air-conditioning system.

Mail From Vietnam Snakes On Through

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — That saying, "The mail must go through," still applies in the Post Office department, even if the mail is a nine-foot python from Vietnam.

Asst. Postmaster A. F. Whittier said mailing a snake was against the rules, "but we're going to make an exception in this case and go ahead and give it to the boy it was addressed to."

The orange-yellow-brown colored snake was mailed by PFC. Julian Fuller two weeks ago to his lifelong friend, Bobby Turnknett of rural Jacksonville, at a cost of $7.25.

The reptile was discovered when clerk Dale Richardson peeked into a broken slat of a "glass-fragile" package and the snake's head popped out like a jack in the box.

'BIG AS YOUR LEG'

The frightened clerk yelled, "There's a snake as big as your leg in there," and another clerk, Zane (Tubby) Kirkland, came running.

Kirkland, whose hobby is catching rattlers, stroked the python's head and gently lifted it out of the wooden crate.

"All it wanted was some attention," said Kirkland, reassuring his leary fellow workers, "it wouldn't hurt a flea."

Young Turnknett says he's going to give the snake to the Jacksonville Zoo after giving it a live meal of several small chickens.

'MUST BE HUNGRY'

"It sure must be hungry after that trip," he said.

They Might Have a Big Reception

WELLSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — When widower James W. Brown marries Mrs. Stella Wright, a widow, on May 18, it will be a union totaling 168 years with 285 grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren between them.

Brown, 91, of Alliance and Mrs. Wright, 77, of Wellsville received their marriage license Tuesday in Columbiana County Probate Court in Lisbon.

Drive Launched to Train Blacks for Construction

DETROIT (UPI) — The Inner City Business Improvement Forum yesterday announced a drive for $700,000 to train blacks in the construction trades.

Dr. Charles Morton, chairman of the forum, said Negroes during the years following the Civil War had been active in the construction trades.

"But by some inadvertance or strategy, blacks have been gradually taken out of this important segment of the American economy," he said.

Morton said the training program was "an attempt not only to enlarge upon the quality and quantity of black skilled tradesmen" but to restore a link with the past.

Junior Editors Quiz on CLIPPER SHIPS

QUESTION: What is meant by a clipper ship?

ANSWER: If we could look down on most sailing ships before 1800 we would see they had fat, chubby bows (upper left). Such ships were seaworthy, but slow; the round bows pushed against the water.

But in Baltimore, Md., since 1760, a type of small ship was developed which was very different (upper right). Notice this type is long and narrow. Its bows come to a sharp point. Such vessels sailed so fast that they became known as Baltimore clippers, either because their bows clipped through the water, they sailed at a good clip, or clipped time from record voyages.

It was the discovery of California's gold in 1849 which did the most to stimulate the idea of building large clipper ships. Gold prospectors in the East wanted to get to California with the utmost speed — and there were no cross-country railroads.

There was no Panama canal, either. The quickest way to go was to make the enormous sea voyage around Cape Horn, about 16,000 miles. Large, fast clipper ships (below, right) were the answer.

Overseas trade in tea and wheat also developed these ocean greyhounds — the most magnificent sailing ships ever to be built.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

TV Newsman's Son Casts His Vote for an Actor's Life

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The name is familiar: Sevareid. But this one is named Michael and he's an actor, not a news commentator.

THOMAS

He's 29, the twin son of CBS News's Eric Sevareid.

These days Mike looks more like 59, but only because of the nature of his first film role. He's playing a marathon dancer in ABC Palomar Productions' "They Shoot Horses, Don't They?"

For the benefit of youthful readers: A marathon dance was a distraction used during the great Depression, to keep folks' minds off bread lines and apple sellers. It was a torture contest to determine what couple could stay conscious on a dance floor the longest.

AMONG DANCERS

"They Shoot Horses, Don't They?" is about such a contest, and among the marathonners are Jane Fonda, Michael Sarrazan, Red Buttons, Susannah York and Michael Sevareid.

He's the first in his family to turn to acting. "When you come from a Lutheran Norwegian Midwest background, you don't find many actors in the family," he explained.

Mike Sevareid was born in Paris during the fateful year of 1940. His father had been hired by Edward R. Murrow to cover the French side of the war, but the German advance interrupted his assignment. He hurried his wife and infant sons to Genoa, from which they sailed for the United States with 6,000 other escapees from the Hitler invasion.

"My father stayed on to cover the war, and then my mother went to Europe to work for UNRRA," Mike related. "My brother and I were shipped off to live with our grandmother in Minneapolis.

SHOOK HIM UP

"We never really saw my father until he came home after the war. When he came in the house, I said to him, 'My daddy's coming home soon.' I guess that kind of shook him up."

The reunited family settled near Washington, D.C., where Sevareid's career with CBS News continued to flourish. "It was my brother who got me started with acting," said Mike.

"He talked me into appearing with him in a prep school production of 'Inherit the Wind.' I was intrigued, but I had more interest in football and track." His brother, Peter, now teaches law in Kenya for the Ford Foundation.

Mike did some plays at Middlebury College, then cut out to try his hand at acting in New York.

DAD HAD DOUBTS

"That was when Dad had his doubts about my acting," he said.

"He thought I was crazy to leave school, but I was going through a period when I couldn't face it. He was in London then and going through a divorce, and he convinced me to come over there and get into drama school. I think he just wanted to have me nearby."

Mike met an Irish girl who was working for the BBC, married her and returned to New York for another try at acting. He returned to college, then landed with the Minneapolis Theater Company, playing character roles at $85 a week. He left the company at the end of its tour here and within a brief time landed the role in "They Shoot Horses."

He is well-built and brown-haired, with the narrow face and deep-set eyes. A realist, he knows that the Sevareid name can open doors for him—"but after that, I'm on my own."

Pilot Vows to Help Man Sentenced for Hijack Try

MIAMI (AP) — Pilot Harry Davis says he'll go wherever necessary to "help make a good citizen" out of a young man who held a knife to his back and ordered his jetliner to Cuba seven months ago.

"I think he'll be alright now and I think he can be channeled toward becoming a good citizen," said the 47-year-old National Airlines captain.

The young man, Michael A. Peparo, 21, of Cold Spring, N.Y., and his 18-year-old girlfriend, Tasmine Fitzgerald of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., were found guilty of interfering with the crew of an airliner in flight and were sentenced Wednesday to indeterminate confinement in federal prison. Court officials said they could serve from three months to six years in prison.

Charges of air piracy against the two were dropped.

"I will go to this boy wherever he is confined and continue to try to help him," Davis told U.S. District Court Judge C. Clyde Atkins.

Davis, father of four children, told a newsman he decided he'd help the then long-haired Peparo minutes after the young man barged into his cockpit Sept. 4 with a paring knife in one hand and an insect spray can in the other.

"Initially I had certain reservations and didn't know whether he'd use the knife. But soon we began discussing the war in Vietnam and his position was that he didn't believe in the draft and didn't want to go over there and kill. He was a very religious boy," said the veteran of 19 years with National.

Profit-Taking Pressure

Stock Mart Continues Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued higher in fairly active trading early with brokers reporting some investor caution and profit-taking pressure.

Gains led losses by better than 150 issues.

Brokers said that investors still were encouraged by hopes of progress in the Vietnam peace talks, but that they also were concerned to some extent by the domestic economic situation as well as by the international monetary situation.

"Profit-taking also continues to cut into the market," an analyst said, "and you've got some of the usual preweekend caution."

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 341.3, with industrials up .7, rails up .1, and utilities up .6.

New Housing Setup in Works

HUD Program Aims at Mass Production

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Housing Secretary George Romney announced yesterday the start of "Operation Breakthrough," a program to find ways to build housing in larger numbers for less money.

Romney explained the program at a news conference midway in a series of meetings with labor, industry and government officials whom he hopes to enlist in the effort.

The initial phase of the program, to cost $15 to $20 million, will be the Housing and Urban Development Department's call for a series of new housing proposals from both builders and companies interested in entering the field on a mass-production scale.

HUD plans to select designs for 10 to 12 prototype dwelling units for construction at eight different sites around the country. Romney said 30 to 40 units would be built in each region and thoroughly use-tested by consumers as well as checked out for safety, durability and efficiency.

STATES COOPERATE

A group of governors appeared with Romney, former governor of Michigan, at the news conference. The HUD secretary said the governors had agreed to cooperate in the program by seeking sites for the new designs and trying to clear away state and local restrictions, such as outmoded housing codes.

Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio said governors, mayors and other state and local officials know they "will have to work together" in order to get the amount of housing needed for the nation. He said the new effort "must be given No. 1 priority."

Stockholders' Votes Back Ford Execs

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. management got an overwhelming vote of confidence from stockholders Thursday with the reelection of 15 directors and the swamping of three policy changes proposed by two small-block owners of stock.

As usual, minority gadflys Lewis D. Gilbert and Evelyn Y. Davis of New York, repeatedly popped up to question management or support policy changes they proposed. Management responses repeatedly drew cheers from most of the other 771 stockholders on hand.

Management's margin in all voting was 96-plus per cent. A proposal to limit charitable and educational gifts fared best, but only 3,076,946 shares were voted in for it, compared with 94,668,354 content to leave the decision on contributions to directors.

World Cash Crises Show Setup Flawed

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

CUNNIFF

NEW YORK — The shocks are becoming too common, the dangers too great, the efforts to avert chaos too difficult for the present world currency exchange system to remain unchanged.

Once again a crisis exists, the fifth major one in the past 18 months involving the currencies of big international trading nations. Such frequency indicates that crises are built into the system.

The present one involves the currency of West Germany, which appears to be undervalued, and the French franc, which may be overvalued. It could also involve the British pound, which has remained shaky despite devaluation.

The criticism of the present system generally has been that it is too rigid, that it forces nations to insist that their currency has been maintained at its stated value when nobody really believes this to be so.

ONLY WAY OUT

This system of fixed change rates obliges a government to step in and support the price of its currency, to buy its own money in order to keep the price within 1 per cent of the stated level.

Then, when the nation no longer can do so, a crisis develops and devaluation is the only way out. A currency that is worth $2.80 one day might be worth only $2.40 the next. This can be a serious shock to trade.

This system, arranged in 1944 at the famous Bretton Woods, N.H., monetary conference, was an attempt to avert the destructive nationalistic policies of the 1930s, a decade of depression.

During those years one country after another devalued its currency in order to obtain a competitive advantage over its neighbor. But the near-fatal result was a lessening of world trade.

WORKED WONDERS

By keeping exchange rates fixed, the conference members hoped, one nation would feel confident when it arranged long-term investments in another nation's economy. And it has worked out that way.

Despite defects, the system of fixed exchange rates has worked wonders, and world trade has prospered. But, in the opinion of many bankers and economists, it may not be suited to present times.

There is a reason for this, and it is called full employment. Once nations were willing to rout inflation and pay off international debts by getting their economies in order. This often meant deflation, and deflation meant fewer jobs. No longer is this corrective method acceptable.

Nations today seek full employment, and full employment often results in inflation, or a dilution in the stated value of a currency. But remember: Realities aside, that currency value is fixed.

DIFFERENT GROWTH RATES

There is another reason for crises: Nations grow at different rates, but the system of fixed exchange rates assumes that the economies of nations will remain in equilibrium. They don't, of course.

Nation's don't like to admit they are sluggards. Every nation wishes to say it is holding its own. Thus, to guard the fixed exchange rate of the currency is often a noble aim. That is, until reality cannot be ignored.

In perhaps the most controversial case, the world expected the French franc to be devalued last year. President Charles de Gaulle said no, largely as a point of honor, and he made it stick. But reality still exists.

The suggestions for bringing the exchange systems up to date range widely. Some economists would like to see no fixed rates; they would permit the value of currencies to float on a seat of supply and demand.

CHIEF CRITICISM

The chief criticism of this suggestion is that nations might not make long-term commitments to each other without some assurance of the future value of a currency. A fixed rate gives more assurance than a floating rate.

Another suggestion is to keep the fixed rate but permit more than 1 per cent fluctuation. Thus, when a nation has difficulties in supporting its currency it will have more room to maneuver and buy time.

The problem here is that rather than correcting the weakness in its economy that causes its currency to seem overvalued, a nation might simply adjust to the wider permissible fluctuation.

In the final analysis, the only real solution is for nations to live economically and pay their bills to each other within reasonable times.

U.S. Car Output Up Despite GM Strike

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. auto production rose this week despite a continuing strike at eight General Motors assembly plants, the industry journal Automotive News reported Thursday.

Passenger car production for the week was 165,031 autos, up from last week's 160,566 but well below the 206,911 turned out in the same week last year.

General Motors spokesmen reported that the strike had affected 68,500 workers by the end of the second shift Thursday. This includes 36,100 employes on strike at seven assembly division plants and one Fisher Body plant. Some 32,400 workers have been laid off or put on short work weeks. The strike, which stems from consolidation plans and work conditions, is now 11 days old.

The strike has cut GM production by 28,000 cars a week, but Saturday work at many plants has kept the industry total up.

3.3 MILLION TOTALS

Total car production for the year now stands at 3.30 million, down from 3.45 million at the same point in 1968.

Truck production for the week was 33,150 units, compared with 34,119 last week. Production was down from the 43,812 recorded a year ago, reflecting the GM strike.

Canadian plants produced 23,241 cars this week, above last week's 22,641 but below last year's 24,212 in the corresponding week. Canadian truck completions totaled 7,341 this week, up from last week's 7,001 and last year's 6,626.

Death of Area Girl Laid to Meningitis

An autopsy has revealed that the death of a 16-year-old Farmington Township girl was due to spinal meningitis, according to the Oakland County Health Department.

Dr. Bernard D. Berman, county health director, denied reports of other meningitis deaths in the county recently.

He said reports of other occurrences were being circulated but were untrue.

Another high school girl recently had been ill but her fever was not due to meningitis, Dr. Berman said.

Henry Found in Contempt

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Controversial Pontiac attorney Milton Henry was found in contempt of court in Macomb County today and was fined $250.

Judge Frank Jeannette levied the fine in connection with Henry's failure to appear in his court earlier this week to defend a client.

Henry said he was in Flint arguing another case at the time and could not possibly be in two places at once. The fine was the maximum allowable on a contempt charge. Henry paid the fine.

VIENNA — Martin Bormann did not commit suicide on May 1, 1945, as the Russians fought on the outskirts of Berlin, but is alive today and hiding in Brazil, or so says Simon Wiesenthal, the man who brought Adolf Eichmann to justice.

Bormann was reported to have swallowed cyanide shortly after Hitler killed himself in his Berlin bunker, but Wiesenthal, the world's No. 1 authority on Nazi war criminals, says this is nonsense.

"Bormann spends his time flitting between Chile, Paraguay and Brazil," Wiesenthal claims. "He has plenty of money, and he travels with an armed bodyguard, but his health is poor. He suffers from high blood pressure."

In fairness, it should be pointed out that other experts who have studied the case are just as convinced that Bormann is dead.

'RELIABLE REPORTS'

But Wiesenthal says he has reliable reports that Bormann, who was Hitler's personal deputy, was seen in the Rio Grande do Sul region of Brazil, near the Paraguay border, early in 1968.

"It would take a skilled commando group to smoke him out," the sleuth says. "Unfortunately, I have neither the money nor the resources for such an operation myself."

The West German government believes so strongly that Bormann is alive that it has posted a $25,000 reward for his arrest, and instructed its legal department to apply for his extradition, should he be found in South America.

Bormann is not the only Nazi big-shot hiding out in Latin America, according to Wiesenthal. Others include Heinrich Muller, the Gestapo chief; Richard Glucks, onetime inspector general of all Nazi concentration camps; and the notorious Dr. Josef Mengele, head doctor at Auschwitz.

SHIELDED BY PRESIDENT

"Mengele is living under the personal protection of the president of Paraguay," Wiesenthal claims. "We have photographs of him taken in the town of Independencia.

Wiesenthal, a Polish Jew, weighed only 90 pounds when American soldiers freed him from the Mauthausen concentration camp in 1945. Most of his family were dead, having perished in Hitler's gas ovens.

Once freed, Wiesenthal felt that he had a mission to accomplish. It was to avenge not only his family but his dead friends in Lemberg, Poland, where he had worked as an architect. Only 500 of the 150,000 Jews of Lemberg survived the gas ovens.

"I felt that somehow I must make amends to them for the privilege of having remained alive," says Wiesenthal.

He set up a one-man documentation center on Nazi war crimes, operating for two years on a shoestring budget of $50 a month contributed by a sympathizer in Geneva.

Significantly, Wiesenthal opened his office in Linz, Austria, two blocks from where Frau Eichmann lived until 1954 when she joined her husband in hiding in Argentina.

A cat-and-mouse game culminated in 1961 when Israeli agents, in one of the most daring coups of modern times, kidnaped Eichmann and took him to Israel to be tried and executed.

OTHER BIG FISH

In the recent Stuttgart trial of 37 Nazi guards accused of having committed atrocities at Lemberg, Wiesenthal was the chief prosecution witness, having personally tracked down nine of the defendants.

He is also due to be a star witness at the trial of Dr. Franz Stangl, the former commandant of the Treblinka concentration camp, scheduled to begin in Dusseldorf in January. Stangl is said to have been responsible for 700,000 deaths at Treblinka.

"I trailed Stangl for years," Wiesenthal recalls. "He was actually a prisoner of the Americans for awhile, but escaped a few days before I discovered his whereabouts.

"He went to Rome, then to Damascus, always working as a garage mechanic. Finally, I managed to locate him in Sao Paolo, Brazil, where he was working in an automobile factory."

Wiesenthal thinks his work will be ended by 1975. "By that time the biological solution will have intervened. Many of the Nazi criminals will either be dead or too old to imprison," he explains.

"In many ways," he says "my work has simply prolonged my stay in a concentration camp, spiritually at least. In dealing all day long with atrocities, one never gets far beyond the barbed wire."

Shoptalk Clues to Puzzle for NY Trash Collectors

NEW YORK (AP) — Crossword fans who speed through the most difficult newspaper puzzles might be confounded by the clues in a little puzzle printed for garbage collectors.

The puzzle appears in "Sweep," quarterly magazine for 14,000 employes of the city's Sanitation Department. It has been composed for the past nine years by James H. McBurney, the department's deputy chief of staff.

The answers often are simple words but the clues are Sanitation shoptalk. McBurney's latest puzzle has such technical clues as "incinerator rating unit" (ton), "Snow dumping ring item" (tag), DS auction sale lowest bid price" (upset) and "spreader material" (slag).

While one scours away, the other goes shopping — as her electric range cleans itself. All she did was push a button (on many ranges, it's a switch or dial). And when she returns, her oven will be "White Glove" clean. Cleaner than she could have gotten it by scouring, soaking and scrubbing. Women with electric ranges have enjoyed this great work saver for seven years now. And surface units on electric ranges have always cleaned themselves.

Then there's our exclusive no-charge repair service. If your electric range should go on the blink, we'll fix it, free of charge. Not a penny to replace electrical operating parts, either. How can you go wrong?

Funeral Held for 'Black Sox' Case Figure

FARMINGTON (UPI) — Funeral services were held yesterday for Eddie Cicotte, the former great Chicago pitcher who was banned from baseball following the Black Sox scandal of 1919.

Cicotte died Monday at the age of 84 from a heart condition. He was buried in Park View Memorial Cemetery in the Detroit suburb of Livonia.

Attending the small funeral Mass for Cicotte, who won 213 and lost 147 in his major league career, was Dan Cassidy, the lawyer who defended him in the trials charging Cicotte and seven others with throwing the World Series to the Cincinnati Reds.

"I admit I did wrong, but I paid for it," Cicotte once said. He was barred from baseball along with the other seven by Commissioner Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis despite the acquittal of all eight by a Cook County jury in 1921.

Cicotte had won 29 games and lost but seven in 1919 but was the losing pitcher in the first and third games of the Series.

"I've tried to make up for it by living as clean a life as I could," said Cicotte, who returned to his home town of Detroit and worked for the Ford Motor Co. after the scandal. He spent his last year raising strawberries on a 5½-acre plot.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY of Nettie T. Booth who passed away May 9, 1968.
Those whom we love go out of sight, but never out of mind.
They are cherished in the hearts of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all her ways,
Sincere and true in heart and mind.
Beautiful memories she left behind.
Sadly missed by her family.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Fred M. White, who passed away 4 years ago today.
He is gone, but not forgotten,
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness will come o're us,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.
Sadly missed by wife, Pat; Sons, Kevin and Keith.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY of Pfc. Michael L. Elmy who was killed in service May 9, 1967.
There is an open gate at the end of the road through which each must go alone.
And there is a light we cannot see, our Father claims His own.
Beyond this gate our loved one finds happiness and rest.
And there is comfort in the thought that a loving God knows best.
Sadly missed by mother and father.

Peter Declares the Fondas Now One Happy Family

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Peter Fonda's most unhappy about a magazine article which quotes him as saying unkind things about his father, Henry Fonda.

"I don't deny saying them," says Peter, now 25ish, married, and the producer and star of a film, "Easy Rider," which'll be shown at the Cannes Film Festival, "but that was about four years ago when I was a wise guy and it was the thing to put down your parents by ridiculing them."

WILSON

His hostility to his father, as described in the Look article by Henry Ehrlich, no longer exists, he swears. Peter had complained that Henry Fonda was cold and unable to communicate with him and his sister Jane Fonda. "Now we're a very close family," says Peter.

I want to thank Accutron for flashing birthday greetings to me about 1,000 times on its spectacular sign at 46th & Broadway — and to Barbra Streisand, Bob Hope, Richard Burton & Liz Taylor — and to President Nixon for permitting their greetings to be shown. Nixon's said, "May you have many happy midnights." Only sad note was when one guy staring at the sign said, "Who the hell is the guy having the birthday?"

Flying Special Not Lofty

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — In a world where transcontinental and transoceanic plane flights run as often as commuter trains, it is easy to forget that until the 20th century, mankind had been dreaming for centuries of soaring like a bird.

The first faltering steps in the realization of that dream, from 1902 until Charles Lindbergh's 1927 solo journey across the Atlantic, were sketched Thursday night in ABC's "Kitty Hawk to Paris."

The program used film material from archives, of course, but also had some recent color film showing reproductions of those clumsy ancient planes as well as shots of the flimsy antiques in precarious flight.

The result, while hardly an hour to make the spine tingle, did make the viewer realize that aviation has come a long way since that day 67 years ago when the Wright brothers sent a contraption made of muslin, wire and spare buggy parts up in the air for 12 seconds.

YANKS UNIMPRESSED

The program also pointed out that the United States, where the first plane flew, was not impressed with the brothers' flying machine. It was when they took it to Europe that the world began to notice.

The program avoided the obvious, familiar materials— the old motion picture shots, the old newsreel clips showing experimental planes crashing. It did point up a footnote of history: President Theodore Roosevelt took a plane ride in the early 1900s, pronounced it bully and did nothing about promoting flying.

It was a timely and well-conceived program. One could wish that with such an exciting subject, it could have been less an illustrated lecture and more of an adventure for the viewers.

2 Dead, 50 Injured in Tornadoes' Wake

From Our News Wires

Tornado-laden storms killed two persons and injured at least 50 in Ohio and lashed the southern Mississippi valley. Bad weather continued to pound the central part of the United States.

Other twisters dipped into Texas and Kentucky amid large hail, driving rain and strong winds.

National Guard troops were ordered on duty during the night at Dennison, Ohio, to prevent looting of the more than 20 homes destroyed by a tornado that killed one woman and caused the hospitalization of 20 persons.

Troops also were on guard at more than 30 homes severely damaged by a tornado that injured 30 persons at Kettering, a Dayton suburb of 59,000.

THREE OTHER STATES

Lighter damage was caused by at least three tornadoes that struck in southern Mississippi, at Biloxi, Quitman and Glouster. Other tornadoes hit central Kentucky and north central Texas.

Funnel clouds danced over other parts of Texas as that state remained under a siege of violent weather. Thunderstorms, egg-sized hail and 60-mile-an-hour winds hit the state yesterday.

Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes made aerial surveys of the devastation around Kettering and Dennison before ordering 200 troops to the areas to prevent looting.

Mrs. Harry Fogie, 42, was killed when a tornado hit her home at Tappan Lake, southeast of Dennison.

KILLED BY FALLING TREE

Jefferson D. Miller, 20, of Alexandria, was killed when a tree, split by lightning or wind, fell on his car near Columbus.

The Kettering tornado struck during the late afternoon rush hour. It cut a path 150 yards wide and three miles long through a residential area and into adjacent Greene County.

Thirty houses were demolished and an estimated 185 others damaged, as were an apartment building complex and a nursing home.

No deaths or serious injuries occurred in the west Ohio storm although 25 persons were treated at Kettering Memorial Hospital for cuts and bruises.

MILLIONS IN DAMAGE

At the Crestview Nursing Home, the kitchen was destroyed and part of the roof carried away. None of the home's 75 elderly residents were injured.

"It was like a psychedelic dream," Mrs. Susan Landrum said in describing the twister that took the roof from her apartment building at Kettering, breaking every window and overturning her furniture.

PSH Paint-In Over--for Now

By DICK ROBINSON

When the 24 regular painters — men, women and teen-agers — started the project two months ago, Hall G was a dismal, depressing sight, a maintenance man said.

Paint was peeling on the walls, plaster was falling from the walls and ceilings, windows leaked cold air and water dripped from the ceiling.

But today patients are back in the new-looking rooms and halls vacated by the paint slingers.

"I guess I'll catch up on my housework and start in again next fall, commented Mrs. Ronald Bunker, 189 W. Brooklyn, who organized the paint crew under the name "Bunker's Faint Slingers."

"I don't know what I'll do on Thursdays any more," another housewife said.

THEY'LL BE MISSED

Hospital painters along with patients, who got used to seeing the crew go to and from work in homemade uniforms, will miss them.

"I'd like to have four of them on my paint crew," hospital painter John Olson said. "They did a good job. They stuck to the job and that's why we worked hard with them."

Twenty-four regular painters — along with about 50 part-timers — saved the hospital about $5,000 in wages for their 800 hours of work, a painter estimated.

"This was a positive protest," explained Mrs. Arthur Durham, 416 Upland. "We were protesting the inadequate funds the hospital gets from the state."

At first the volunteers from all around the county—ages 14 to 60 years old—were apprehensive of their strange surroundings. Many have never been in a mental hospital before.

Revised PAPC Elects Officers

By ED BLUNDEN

The Pontiac Area Planning Council (PAPC) held its first election of officsers under new bylaws yesterday and returned Mayor William H. Taylor as chairman.

Elected vice chairman was Charles Tucker Jr., realtor and president of Harambee Inc., a black community development corporation. Both elections were unanimous and were recommended by the nominating committee chaired by E. Eugene Russell, Bell Telephone Co. executive.

Under old rules, the chairmanship and vice chairmanship automatically went to the mayor of Pontiac and president of the school board, respectively.

REORGANIZATION EFFORT

Last night's meeting was the first in four months actually spent in PAPC proceedings. The group has spent most of its time since January in a reorganization effort since the City Commission demanded the group comply with enabling resolutions.

The City Commission pointed out that PAPC had not conformed to several rules set up when the PAPC was formed in October 1967 as an advisory and planning body for the commission and school board.

The PAPC had not submitted bylaws

Cong Peace Plan: Gimmick or Real?

From Our News Wires

President Nixon is expected to instruct his Paris envoys to determine whether the Vietcong's 10-point Vietnam peace plan is a propaganda gimmick or a sign of readiness for serious bargaining.

The 10 points, proposed by the Vietcong's Tran Buu Kiem at yesterday's Paris session, stack up basically as a combination of elements in the four- and five-point plans long standard in North Vietnamese and Vietcong diplomatic presentations.

But the new text omitted their customary propaganda polemics, went into greater detail than before, used some different phrasings and left enough ambiguities to whet the appetites of U.S. strategists searching for a break in the lengthening stalemate at the conference table.

Nixon discussed the enemy plan with security affairs advisor Henry A. Kissinger at Key Biscayne, Fla., following the news from Paris.

SECRET TALKS LIKELY

Since the President sees secret talks as the best way to make negotiating progress, the U.S. mission headed by Henry Cabot Lodge probably will try to sound out enemy envoys privately.

The Saigon government today said it is willing to discuss several points in the 10-part peace program, but it rejected the new Vietcong call for a provisional coalition government.

A Foreign Ministry communique said discussions could be held on such questions as exchange of prisoners of war, the reestablishment of the demilitarized zone and respect of the 1962 Geneva agreements on Laos.

This was expected to be unacceptable to the Vietcong, which had termed its 10-point proposal an "integrated whole."

WITHDRAWAL COMING?

Meanwhile, the U.S. military command has begun administrative moves that point to the withdrawal of some GIs from Vietnam in the next 60 days, American military sources in Saigon said today.

Most affected by these moves has been the U.S. 25th Infantry Division, the unit most prominently mentioned in unconfirmed withdrawal reports in Saigon and from Washington and Paris.

The U.S. sources said all rest-and-recuperation leaves past June 30 have been delayed for the division. Soldiers holding critical jobs in the 25th have been told to expect reassignment orders soon.

Wet Weekend Is in the Offing

There's a chance Pontiac area residents will be walking in the rain again tomorrow.

Here is the official forecast of the U. S. Weather Bureau:

TODAY — Cloudy with occasional light rain ending late today, cool, with the high in the mid-50s. Partial clearing and cooler tonight, the low 36 to 42.

TOMORROW—Partly cloudy with chance of showers by afternoon, continued cool.

Precipitation probabilities are 80 per cent today and 30 both tonight and tomorrow.

A rainy 47 was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The thermometer reading at 12:30 p.m. was 44.

Farmington Twp. Officer Reinstated by Trial Board

By LOIS FRIEDLAND

All charges were dismissed and full reinstatement ordered for Detective Sgt. Earl Teeples at last night's meeting of the Farmington Township police trial board.

Teeples was returned to his rank, given back pay for a two-week suspension and relieved of a year's probation.

A crowd of some 300 persons cheered the verdict, which was announced after a brief recess during the fifth session of the five-man trial board.

Teeples had been charged with violating 12 counts of a department police code, adopted last month, for telling an Oakland County assistant prosecutor that he had seen two officers beat a prisoner July 9, 1968.

NIGHT SHIFT ABSENT

Apparent reaction to the verdict in the department itself followed by a few hours. Only the desk ergeant showed up for duty on the normally sixman midnight shift. All of the others called in sick or claimed leave days, according to Chief Irving Yakes. A full staff reported for this morning's shift.

Last night's verdict followed a statement by Township Attorney Joseph T. Brennan who recommended dismissal of the charges and reinstatement on the grounds that the police department lacked sufficient information to support the charges.

Brennan also commented that the police department investigation made prior to the charges against Teeples was "superficial at best."

He added, "I don't believe that we have now, or will have when through, enough evidence to decide."

CONFLICT IN EVIDENCE

He pointed out that the charges had been largely resolved during previous testimony. He also admitted that there was a conflict in the evidence presented by the different persons involved, but suggested that many of the discrepancies

42 Deaths Laid to Spray-Sniffs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Forty-two youngsters looking for kicks in the common spray can have died after inhaling the mists from such products as mouthwashes and cleaning fluids, according to the Food and Drug Administration.

Victims were mostly teen-agers, but one was only 11 years old, an FDA spokesman said.

"These kids apparently have been spraying products into plastic bags and then sniffing them," reported Joshua Zatman, the FDA's assistant commissioner for education and information.

"Then if they don't withdraw their heads fast enough, they die.

'IT FREEZES . . . IT KILLS'

"It causes some dizziness and some elation with one breath, but if they take two or three breaths it freezes their esophagus, congests their lungs, cause asphyxia. It kills."

Zatman said the effect of inhaling the sprays is "what doctors call mildly hallucenogenic. It is the same effect you get when you drink a couple of ounces of bourbon or scotch in a hurry."

The lethal element in most of the sprays, he said, is Freon 12—an inert gas used to propel the products from cans.

"Freon 12 is the same as the gas used in air conditioners, only here it is compressed," he said. "It's the same as what you use to spray on a glass to chill it when you have your afternoon martini."

LABELING ORDERED

The Federal Trade Commission, Zatman said, has issued an order effective May 21 requiring manufacturers of the aerosols to label the cans with a warning.

The first death attributed to aerosols, he said, occurred in March 1967 and the FDA became aware of it shortly afterward.

At first the FDA was unsure what caused the sensation sought by the youngsters.

But the cause was pinpointed, the FDA said, by Dr. Milton Halpern, chief medical examiner of New York City, who reviewed 12 deaths.

Paul A. Pumpian, an FDA official, told Rep. Fred B. Rooney, D-Pa., who raised the matter in Congress, that there are no plans to withdraw aerosols from the market.

"Since this use is a gross abuse entirely unrelated to the purpose for which they are intended," he said, "it seems rather a draconian step to ban them from commerce."

No End in Sight to the Problem

WINDSOR, Ont. (UPI) — Two huge sewer pipes being built to connect ended up wide of the mark — in fact 25 feet wide of each other — and one was a foot higher than the other.

City officials estimate the last 1,000 feet of the five-mile, $13-million line will have to be dug up and relaid. The problem is coming up with the $500,000 cost of the unexpected work without taking the additional money out of taxpayers' pockets.

The city expects to have a difficult time making ends meet.

Tickets for the show went on sale Wednesday at $1 per person.

Andover Wins Math Contest

Bloomfield Hills Andover High School took the area math competition trophy from defending Pontiac Central Wednesday afternoon when mathematicians from four high schools met in competition.

In front by 15 points with a score of 125, Andover students led in two written and in two oral events. Pontiac Central mathletes won second place. The Troy High School team was third, less than one point ahead of Bloomfield Hills Lahser.

More than 60 students from the four schools prepared for the event for weeks. Coached by teachers in each of the schools, team members explored such math topics as diophantine equations, continued fractions, matrices, transformational geometry, network theory, mathematical induction and slide rule computation.

For the third consecutive year, the Pontiac Downtown Kiwanis Club presented the first place trophy, checks for mathematics library books and certificates to all participating students.

Members of the mathematics department of Oakland University wrote the problems used in the competition. The writing team of the Oakland Schools mathematics project served as judges along with teachers from the participating schools.

Holly

By MARCIA CLARK

Two candidates, Mark Parker, who ran for president, and Denis Vowell, who ran for vice president, waged an all-out campaign complete with posters, pamphlets, and slogans.

Due to the administration's ban on student assemblies because of a lack of discipline at the last one, there were no speeches before the student body.

POSTERS, PAMPHLETS

Mark and Denise licked this ban by putting posters up in the halls announcing their candidacy. Pamphlets outlining their platform were distributed to the students during homeroom.

Their platform consisted mainly of the promise to truly represent the student body and to establish open communication between the administration and the student body at large.

"Many students who would not have voted are voting in this election because of the chance to change its way of working," commented an underclassman.

Oxford

By SHARON DICK

Even the majestic ceiling of the ballroom at Meadow Brook Hall is not high enough to contain all the sound from the Symphonic Metamorphosis at Wednesday's tea for Meadow Brook Festival volunteers. Members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, in informal garb, mixed classical beginnings with mod finales. Some 400 women attended the tea.

Mrs. George Harkless, West Walton Boulevard, finds the music easier to listen to at a distance.

Fete Festival Volunteers

Tea at the famed stately Meadow Brook Hall was the magnet that attracted some 400 women from 60 metropolitan Detroit and Windsor areas Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Marvin L. Katke, who serves with her husband as this year's general chairman of Meadow Brook Festival, arranged the event as a thank-you to the volunteers for the summer concert season.

Optimistic that the Detroit Symphony will resolve its contract difficulties before the scheduled opening on July 3, the women are hoping to sell 7,000 season tickets.

Mrs. Thomas Kruger, Deguise Court, Avon Township, was a hostess at the tea. She and her husband are special events chairmen for the Rochester area.

Mrs. Semon Knudsen, Bingham Road, cochairman of the first Meadow Brook Festival, takes her turn at the tea table.

Mrs. Gilbert Broughton of Milford, fastens the "Magic" button, a word that has become a password for the Meadow Brook Festival.

Fears for Children's Lives Because of Phone Call

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: After putting my husband (whom I'll call "Jim") through medical school and internship, we separated because of a girl I'll call "Nancy." Jim married her as soon as the ink was dry on the divorce papers. We have three beautiful school-age children, whom I've done my best to raise without a father. Jim has helped some financially, but not a whole lot.

I have never bothered Jim and Nancy in any way. My problem is that Nancy keeps phoning me, identifying herself as a friend of Nancy's, but I know her voice. She warns me that Nancy is going to kill my children when they're away at camp this summer.

I have told Jim about this, and he doesn't seem worried. I must admit, I am frightened, but if Jim isn't worried, should I be?

Do you think I ought to send the children to summer camp as planned?

CHARLESTON, S.C.

DEAR CHARLESTON: The police and phone company will cooperate with you in getting positive proof that these calls are from Nancy — if indeed they are. You will need this before proceeding. After you have proof, put it up to Jim. If he continues unworried, and will do nothing to stop the harassment, then ask the authorities to intervene.

DEAR ABBY: I am presently living in an old folks' home.

There is a gentleman here who I love a lot. He can't hear, so I can't tell him. He can't see, so I can't write him. What can I do?

DEAR ELLEN: What can HE do?

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and have gone steady with this guy I'll call Jeff, for nearly a year. We are very much in love and now I think I'm pregnant. I am not positive because I haven't been to a doctor yet, but I'm almost sure I am.

Jeff says he will marry me as soon as we graduate from high school. (We're both juniors.)

Ever since I told Jeff that I think I'm pregnant I have begun to doubt his love. He says if I am pregnant, when I tell my folks I should put the blame on some imaginary person so as not to cause hard feelings between him and my folks. That way it will be easier for us to continue our relationship.

Jeff says he really loves me but he's looking out for what is best for us. What do you think?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I think you'd better see a doctor, and if your suspicions are confirmed, tell Jeff that you are going to tell your parents the whole truth. And whether you are pregnant or not, do yourself a big favor and forget that little weasel.

DEAR ABBY: When a kid goes wrong, what factor is more responsible? His heredity or his environment?

NEEDS TO KNOW

DEAR NEEDS: It's a toss-up. But one thing is certain. His parents will get blamed for both.

May Date Set for DeLorean Marriage

DETROIT (AP) — John Z. DeLorean, general manager of General Motors' Chevrolet division, said Thursday he and Kelly Harmon will be married May 31 in Los Angeles.

The 20-year-old Miss Harmon is the daughter of sportscaster Tom Harmon, former University of Michigan football star, and Elyse Knox Harmon, a former Hollywood starlet.

DeLorean, 44, said the wedding will be a civil ceremony at the Bel Air Country Club. The couple will honeymoon in Europe before taking up residence in suburban Bloomfield Hills.

Asked who would stand up with the bride, DeLorean said, "I don't think she has made up her mind as yet."

He said he had not picked a best man as yet. Asked about rumors that it would be Semon E. Knudsen, president of Ford Motor Co. and former vice president of General Motors Corp., DeLorean said, "I haven't decided yet on the best man, but he (Knudsen) will be at the wedding."

It will be the first marriage for Miss Harmon, who has done some modeling and television commercials. DeLorean was divorced last January from his wife of 15 years.

Bloomfield Hills Country Club Plans Festivity

SHIRLEY GRAY

The diamond anniversary is coming up for Bloomfield Hills Country Club — that's right, 60 years, come Saturday. Among the many planning to take part in the festivities that evening are a six-some composed of the Thomas Torgersons, the M. A. Mitchells and the John L. Wiants.

This is also the weekend when golfing starts again. Ladies first, of course, starting with a breakfast meeting first thing this morning, followed by a buffet lunch, with nine holes of golf in between there somewhere.

Men's golf starts Saturday.

More returnees . . . Dr. and Mrs. Howard Barker are back at their Bloomfield Hills home following a three-month stay on the sunny beaches of Del Ray. Daughter Barbara and her husband, John Ingraham, of New York City, visited them there.

ALSO BACK

Also back from Florida . . . Mr. and Mrs. William D. Downey. Mrs. M. M. Burgess has been back for some three weeks now. She, of course, stayed at her favorite spot, the Ocean Club, at Del Ray.

Village Woman's Club has scheduled a bridge luncheon for next Wednesday. It has the intriguing theme of "Daisies Are Telling." What, I wonder?

Not Inclined to Rush Action

Pisa Tilts at Tower Problem

ROME (UPI) — The Italian government is ready to pay more than $5 million to keep the Leaning Tower of Pisa from leaning too far.

But not just yet.

The public works committee of the Chamber of Deputies Wednesday approved a $5-million grant for antitilt works.

But before the money can be spent, someone has to come up with an acceptable project for stabilizing the tower, which has been leaning for all but the first 10 of its 795 years.

In 1965 the government authorized international competition for proposals on the best way to shore up the tower. None has been adopted yet.

Suggestions have ranged from freezing the ground underneath the tower to make sure it doesn't tilt any further to injections of concrete to accomplish the same effect.

Several years ago a French tourist, who had imbibed a bit too much strong Italian wine, decided to do his own untilting early one morning. He hooked one end of a chain to the tower and the other to the rear axle of his auto in an attempt to jerk the tower straight.

Instead he jerked the rear axle out of his auto — and spent the day sobering up in the Pisa jail.

Prof. Ugo Colonnetti, president emeritus of the National Research Council, said in 1964 that a strong gust of wind could blow down the tower any day.

Prof. Livio Trevisan of the University of Pisa, a member of the surveillance commission for the tower, is more worried that cracks might appear in the soft ground around the tower.

Ex-Folk Singer Deeds Land to God

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UPI) — Lou Gottlieb, onetime folk singer with the Limelighters and part-time hippie benefactor, deeded his 30-acre ranch to God Wednesday—but said he would continue to pay the property taxes.

"It's preposterous to pay taxes for God," the bearded doctor of music said, "but for God's sake, I'll pay them."

Gottlieb advised "religious people all over the world to follow this example, because the exclusive ownership of land is the original sin from which all bad stuff flows."

Sonoma County Recorder Herbert Snyder, who at first refused to record the deed, relented after Gottlieb had it notarized.

GM
MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Chevrolet Pacesetter Values.

What they see in the Hugger at Indy you can see at your Chevrolet Dealer's

The cost of about everything keeps rising. But not everything. For example, take Camaro. If you equip it with Powerglide, the new 250-hp 350 V8 that runs on regular gas, advance-design power disc brakes, whitewall tires and wheel covers, the price is $147* less than last year's model with comparable equipment, including head restraints. Down at Indy, they think Camaro is a Hugger of a car. That's why they chose Camaro as the Official Pace Car for this year's Indianapolis 500.

Just by looking at the Chevelle Malibu you would guess that its price would be higher than last year's model. Not so. It is priced less than the earlier version. We're not talking about a stripped-down car, either. We're talking about a Malibu Sport Coupe with head restraints and a 200-hp V8 that runs on regular gas. If you add Powerglide, power disc brakes, wheel covers and whitewall tires to your Malibu, you'll find it's priced $69* less. Add it all up: Chevelle is a lot more car for a lot less money.

Most people have a few favorite extras they'd like to add to America's most popular car, Impala. Like Turbo Hydra-matic. Big 300-hp V8. Power disc brakes. Head restraints. Whitewalls. Wheel covers. If these are what you had in mind, too, you're in luck. All together, the price is $101* less than it was for last year's Impala, comparably equipped.

Putting you first, keeps us first.
