Viet Cuts May Be Near

SAIGON (AP) — A series of high-level meetings and an American general's report that he is satisfied with the improvement in the South Vietnamese armed forces raised new speculation today that President Nixon is about to announce a reduction in the 542,500 American troops in Vietnam.

Coinciding with these developments was a sharp decrease in Vietcong rocket, mortar, and terror attacks last night after 159 allied military positions and towns had been hit the night before.

★ ★ ★

The commendation for South Vietnam's armed forces came from Brig. Gen. James V. Galloway, who is in charge of the U.S. program of military assistance to the Vietnamese.

"I'm satisfied with the improvement in the South Vietnamese armed forces and the way we are meeting our schedule," he said in an interview.

'SENSE OF URGENCY'

"There is a sense of urgency involved."

Summing up the South Vietnamese armed forces, Galloway said:

"The improvement is steady. In some units it is significant. Across the board as a whole, they've shown steady progress in capabilities and effectiveness. There has been great improvement in the regional forces militiamen in combat performance due primarily to confidence in improved weaponry."

★ ★ ★

He explained that the regional and popular forces were getting new M79 grenade launchers and M60 machine guns to beef up their firepower.

Meanwhile, the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams flew back to Vietnam after conferring in Washington yesterday with President Nixon. The President announced he would address the nation tomorrow night on the prospects of peace.

In Saigon, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu met today for the second time in less than 24 hours. And U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers was due in Saigon tomorrow.

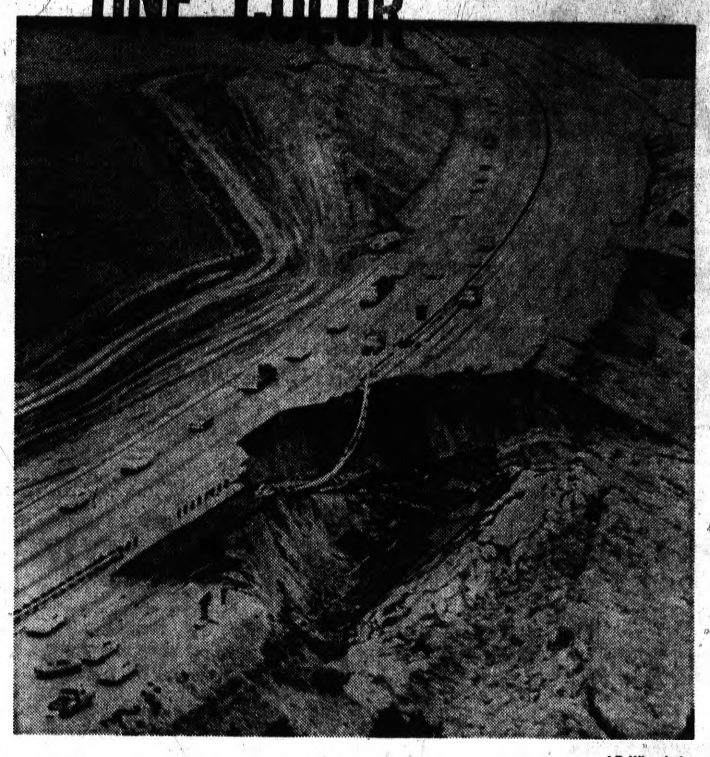

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler and Nixon sought Abrams' views on enemy military activity, the possibility of new offensive actions, the state of the training of the South Vietnamese army and the level of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Ziegler emphasized that any decision on troop withdrawals will be made on the basis of three criteria Nixon has laid down:

- The ability of the South Vietnamese to defend themselves in areas where U.S. forces are now defending them.
- Progress at the Paris peace talks.
- The level of enemy activity.

Regarding the prospect of new enemy actions, U.S. military analysts consider that the threat is greatest in the 3rd Corps Area, the belt running from the Cambodian border through and around Saigon to the South China Sea.

These analysts say that according to captured documents, the Communist command is planning a summer campaign aimed at forcing a coalition government on South Vietnam and the withdrawal of American troops.

FREEWAY GIVES WAY — Four lanes of six-lane Interstate 80 near Pinole, Calif., caved in Sunday night, completely blocking all southbound lanes of the heavily traveled main traffic artery between Sacramento and San Francisco. Only one northbound lane remained open to traffic today. The slide was blamed on heavy rains.

FIERY DEATH SCENE — Billowing smoke hampers firemen trying to quell a blaze in which five persons died yesterday at Flint. A truck pulling two gasoline tankers reportedly ran a red light. It then hit a car, one of the tankers overturned, and flaming gasoline flooded the intersection. The truck driver and four persons in autos were killed.

Raid in Royal Oak Nets $110,000 Loot

A raid on a Royal Oak residence last night by police officers, state troopers and two assistant prosecutors resulted in the arrest of two persons and confiscation of nearly $110,000 in stolen merchandise.

★ ★ ★

The raid, the second in 10 days in connection with the investigation of the wave of house burglaries in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area since Jan. 1., was made on the residence of Sophie Cadurwicz, in northwest Royal Oak about 9 p.m., police reported.

Miss Cadurwicz, 52, and Chris Wolinski, 20, of Madison Heights, are being held in Royal Oak city jail for investigation of possession of stolen property. They were to be arraigned in Royal Oak District Court later today.

Police believe the goods were taken from residences in Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Troy, Bloomfield Township and Lathrup Village.

BURGLARS' LOOT

The confiscated property included 106 furs, four sets of silverware, gems, and jewelry, portable tape recorders, television sets, record players and assorted other items.

Last night's raid is the second break in the intensive investigation of house break-ins. Police from the area communities and the state police have been cooperating in the four-month investigation.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Hills with 24 reported break-ins has been hit the hardest by the burglarly ring which police believe numbers about five persons.

Bloomfield Hills Police Chief Walter Sluiter said the investigation will continue. He indicated there is more merchandise yet to be recovered and probably more arrests to be made.

Burning Barge Poses Threat

LAGRANGE, Mo. (AP) — A blazing gasoline barge, ripped from its moorings by a series of explosions that injured four men and left four and possibly five missing here, was lodged against a railroad bridge today, posing a threat to the waterfront of Quincy, Ill., and a Mississippi River navigation lock.

The barge was one of two, each carrying about 840,000 gallons of high-octane gasoline, involved in a series of explosions and fire at the Triangle Refineries Inc.'s floating dock.

★ ★ ★

Col. Walter Gelini of the Army Corps of Engineers said there were no plans to break the burning barge free of the bridge. He said it might float downstream, and with the other two barges still linked to it, damage the lock and Dam 21 at Quincy, which controls access to the upper Mississippi.

The explosion occurred last night as the gasoline barges were being unloaded.

Weather Outlook Has a Warm Cast

The weatherman forecasts fair and warmer, with a low temperature in the high 30s tonight. Skies will become partly overcast tomorrow with temperatures warming up to the mid-60s.

FAIR AND WARMER

Mostly cloudy and mild with chance of showers is Thursday's outlook.

★ ★ ★

Probabilities of precipitation in per cent are 20 today, 10 tonight and 10 tomorrow.

Forty-four was the low reading in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The mercury reached 61 by 2 p.m.

'Warren Given Data on Fortas'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell is understood to have told Chief Justice Earl Warren that further public disclosure about the Fortas-Wolfson fee incident could strain relations between the White House and the Supreme Court.

The attorney general also is believed to have told Warren at their meeting last

Related Story, Page A-11

Wednesday considerably more about the incident than has been in the public eye.

★ ★ ★

In line with the Nixon Administration's nonpartisan stance, Mitchell made his presentation as a lawyer and friend of the Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

He is believed to have expanded on the account Life magazine gave of the fee offered Fortas in 1966 by the family of industrialist Louis E. Wolfson—rather than to have made some unrelated disclosure.

ACTION UNLIKELY

It is understood to be highly unlikely that Mitchell would ever attempt to bring charges against a sitting justice. And yet, the attorney general is convinced the substance of what he told Warren will stimulate enough pressure within the court to bring about Abe Fortas' resignation.

★ ★ ★

What Warren is doing with the information is a closely guarded secret.

"There never is comment on the chief justice's private conversations," said a spokesman in his office icily.

Inquiries at the offices of other justices to find out if they have been brought into the discussions produced similar nonresults.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, with the court in recess, Fortas is maintaining a discreet distance and a chipper optimism publicly.

Nixon Asks Draft Law Changes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon asked Congress today to modify Selective Service laws, including reversing the order of induction to take youngest instead of oldest men first.

The President said he was proposing the changes "so that a young man would become less vulnerable rather than more vulnerable to the draft as he grows older." He proposed to make 19-year-olds the first eligible.

★ ★ ★

In a message to the House and Senate, Nixon said he was proposing the changes as an interim method of "limiting the disruption caused by the system."

He said he still hoped ultimately to install his plan for all-volunter armed forces when world conditions become more stable.

REMOVES 'UNCERTAINTIES'

House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said it would "remove some uncertainties that hang over the heads" of draft-age men.

★ ★ ★

Nixon's proposals call for designating a prime group of 19-year-olds as a pool of draft-eligibles for each consecutive 12-month period.

★ ★ ★

Those within the pool would be selected for the draft on a random basis. A Selective Service year would be established each year, not necessarily coinciding with the calendar year, and those in the draft pool would take their place in the draft sequence in the same order that their birthdays come up on this scrambled calendar.

★ ★ ★

Those receiving deferments or exemptions would reenter the sequence at the time their deferment or exemption expired, at the same place they were originally assigned.

Nigeria Reassigns 3

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The Nigerian army has replaced the commanders of the three divisions that have failed to subdue the rebellious state of Biafra.

★ ★ ★

Col. Benjamin A. Adekunle, commander of the 3rd Marine Commando Division, has been named director of training and planning at army headquarters.

★ ★ ★

Also reassigned were Col. Mohamed Shuwa, 1st Division commander, who will become military secretary at army headquarters, and Col. I. B. M. Haruna of the 2nd Division who will become quartermaster general.

Phone-y Fire Not Cause for Alarm

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Next time the fire department of suburban Oakland Park lights a fire, it will let the public know.

Firemen put the torch to Porky's, an abandoned nightclub, yesterday to get some practice fighting a large blaze.

But the boys back at headquarters got the most practice. They answered more than 100 phone calls reporting a large fire.

More Study Due for Home Rule

By JEAN SAILE

Oakland County supervisors are going to learn more about home rule before they take any action to bring it to county voters.

Several members of the board appear to favor a November 1970 vote on whether the county should seek broadened powers under a home rule charter. But whether enabling legislation is adequate or can be changed in time to assist the county in setting up its charter is in doubt.

★ ★ ★

Members of the local affairs and legislative committees of the County Board of Supervisors met in joint session yesterday to discuss the merits and faults of home rule as now allowed under state acts.

Supervisor William L. Mainland, D-Milford Township, suggested members avail themselves of the home rule study report prepared by the county about four years ago. Mainland said the report showed that present legislation "poorly represents Oakland County interests."

Board Vice Chairman Alexander Perinoff, who introduced the question of home rule earlier this month, suggested the home rule bill could be improved. "The basic concept is good. There are many weaknesses, but they can be amended and strengthened," Perinoff said.

Present county governmental structure was called a "headless horseman" by Supervisor Carl O'Brien, D-Pontiac. One of the main features of home rule is that it provides for a county-manager form of government, he noted.

"There are now so many departments answering to various boards and commissions when they should be answering to us," said O'Brien, and he noted that home rule as presently conceived doesn't answer all the problems.

Main objections to present legislation appear to center around partisan elections for:

- Charter commissioners.
- The county manager.
- Sheriff, prosecutor, clerk and treasurer.

AUTONOMOUS

The fact that the drain and road commissions could still remain autonomous from county government also was faulted.

Supervisor Fred Houghten, R-Avon Township, noting that many of his constituents are not in favor of home rule, reported that home rule still contains taxing protection and provides for a tax allocation board.

★ ★ ★

Supervisor Christian Powell, R-West Bloomfield, noted the county would be allowed to levy as much as 10 mills a year under the home rule statute. Half of the 10 mills would have to be obtained from within the allocated limit, the statute reads. The county is presently allocated 5.28 mills in the 1969 budget.

Debt limits remain the same, however, under home rule legislation, it was reported.

Powell asked for a complete review of the act, setting forth the differences between present county government and government under home rule. It will be discussed by the legislative committee at 1:30 p.m. May 22.

Apollo 10 Crew Gets Last Checkups Today

From Our News Wires

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. —The Apollo 10 astronauts undergo their final major physical examinations today as the launch date nears for their ring-around - the - moon flight.

Mission Commander Thomas P. Stafford and fellow spacemen John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan anticipated no problems passing the head-to-toe, morninglong physicals.

★ ★ ★

While space agency physicians looked over the astronauts, ground crews readied the 36-story combination of the Saturn 5 booster rocket and the Apollo 10 spacecraft for a blast-off at 12:49 p.m. EDT Sunday.

★ ★ ★

First steps in the 5½-day countdown consisted of hooking up explosive devices to the rocket and spacecraft.

STARTS ON SCHEDULE

The preliminary part of the countdown began on schedule at midnight.

Stafford, Young and Cernan Monday spent their last full day practicing in two spacecraft simulators for the eight-day mission they hope will provide the go-ahead for man's first landing on the moon in July.

★ ★ ★

Mission controllers at the Manned Spaceflight Center in Houston monitored the daylong simulator "flying" and threw problems at the Apollo 10 crew. Stafford has been convinced for weeks he and his crew are ready.

★ ★ ★

For the rest of the week, the astronauts will taper off. Doctors blamed colds which grounded the Apollo 9 mission three days beyond its scheduled takeoffs in March at least partly on fatigue resulting from the grind of preparing for the flight. The Apollo 10 crewmen had colds and got over them several weeks ago.

Later today, after their physicals, the astronauts planned to review the topographical features of the parts of the moon they will fly over.

★ ★ ★

During 2½ days of orbiting the moon, Stafford and Cernan will break away from Young in the Apollo command ship and fly within 10 miles of the surface of the moon in the lunar landing vehicle they nicknamed "Snoopy." Young's spacecraft is called "Charlie Brown."

5 Candidates Vie for Three School Posts

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Five candidates have filed to run for three vacancies on the Bloomfield Hills School District Board of Education. The election is June 9.

Running for the remaining two years of an original four-year term is incumbent Mrs. Charlotte Kuzma of 3810 Carriage and Robert E. Fredrick, 4176 Westover, West Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kuzma was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Richard McGraw who resigned from the board about a year ago.

Candidates for the two four-year terms include C. Henry Haberkorn III of 2750 Pine Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township, the incumbent, Roger H. Marz of 2610 Roxie, Bloomfield Township, and H. Eugene Weiss of 2877 Courville.

BIRMINGHAM — Mrs. Elizabeth Renfrew Campbell of 741 N. Shady Hollow Circle, Bloomfield Township and George A. Schmidt, 945 N. Glenhurst remain the only candidates for the one seat available in the Birmingham School District's Board election.

Schmidt is the incumbent. The term runs four years.

Recorder's Court Judge George W. Crockett, will speak Thursday at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium of Holy Name Catholic Church, Woodland at Harmon. Judge Crockett's appearance is sponsored by the Birmingham-Bloomfield Human Relations Council.

Judge Crockett's presentation is entitled "Reflections of a Recorder's Court Judge."

★ ★ ★

Judge Crockett has been a central figure in the controversy stemming from an incident involving the Detroit police and members of the New African Republic at the New Bethel Church in Detroit several weeks ago.

House Stalls a Day on Parochiaid Issue

LANSING (AP) — More than 88 per cent of the Michigan House — according to one legislator's estimate — already has decided how to vote on parochiaid, but the lower chamber yesterday took nearly two hours to decide to put off dealing with the crucial question for one day.

Rep. Daniel Cooper, D-Oak Park, said 97 of the House's 110 members have decided how they'll vote on the controversial $100,000 proposed amendment to the state education appropriation.

Cooper said 50 legislators favor parochiaid, 47 oppose it and 13 are undecided or uncommitted.

The House voted, meanwhile, to dispense with preliminary debate on the $845.4-million bill, thereby avoiding the possibility of repeating the process as many as three times. But further action was put off until today at the request of House Speaker William A. Ryan D-Detroit, principal backer of parochiaid.

TO ALLOW CAUCUS

Ryan said the delay would allow both parties to caucus on all aspects of the bill.

"Nobody wants to take away the right of caucuses," Ryan said. "these preliminary steps would save time."

★ ★ ★

Some legislators said the delay gave parochiaid backers a final chance to curry insurance votes from uncommitted legislators. A bloc of some 12 legislators is believed willing to vote either way on parochiaid in order to gain more funds for home districts.

★ ★ ★

Although parochiaid backers have been viewed as staging recent tactical retreats in order to insure victory for the concept of state aid to private school teachers' salaries, they claim momentum still is with them.

'WE NEED TIME'

"We're the ones who need the time," agreed Mrs. Harriett Phillips, a leader of "Citizens for Public Education."

★ ★ ★

A few members, however, urged an immediate House vote yesterday on parochiaid to clear the air for later haggling on the major public school allocation.

★ ★ ★

"We spent about $250 in telegrams to get you all here," Cooper argued. "Let's vote on (parochiaid) tonight. You'll all get a lot more phone calls if you don't."

3 Held, Drugs Netted in Raid

A vice raid in Pontiac early today which resulted in three arrests and netted what are believed to be quantities of marijuana, LSD, mescaline and other drugs may uncover a multicity narcotics ring, according to police.

Officers staged the raid at 444 E. Pike, apartment 207, about 2 a.m. and arrested two Pontiac youths and a Southfield man.

Charged with sale and possession of LSD is Lawrence K. Mori, 20, of the East Pike address.

Booked on a charge of loitering in a place where narcotics are illegally used or sold was Michael D. Paul, 23, of Southfield. However, police said, Paul may be additionally charged today with possession of mescaline.

★ ★ ★

Charged with loitering was Charles E. Yockey, 19, of 715 Cameron.

Sgt. Guy White, vice bureau commander, said at least two more warrants in connection with the same raid are pending.

"We've been investigating a group of believed users and pushers for about a year and this action came as a result of our findings," he said.

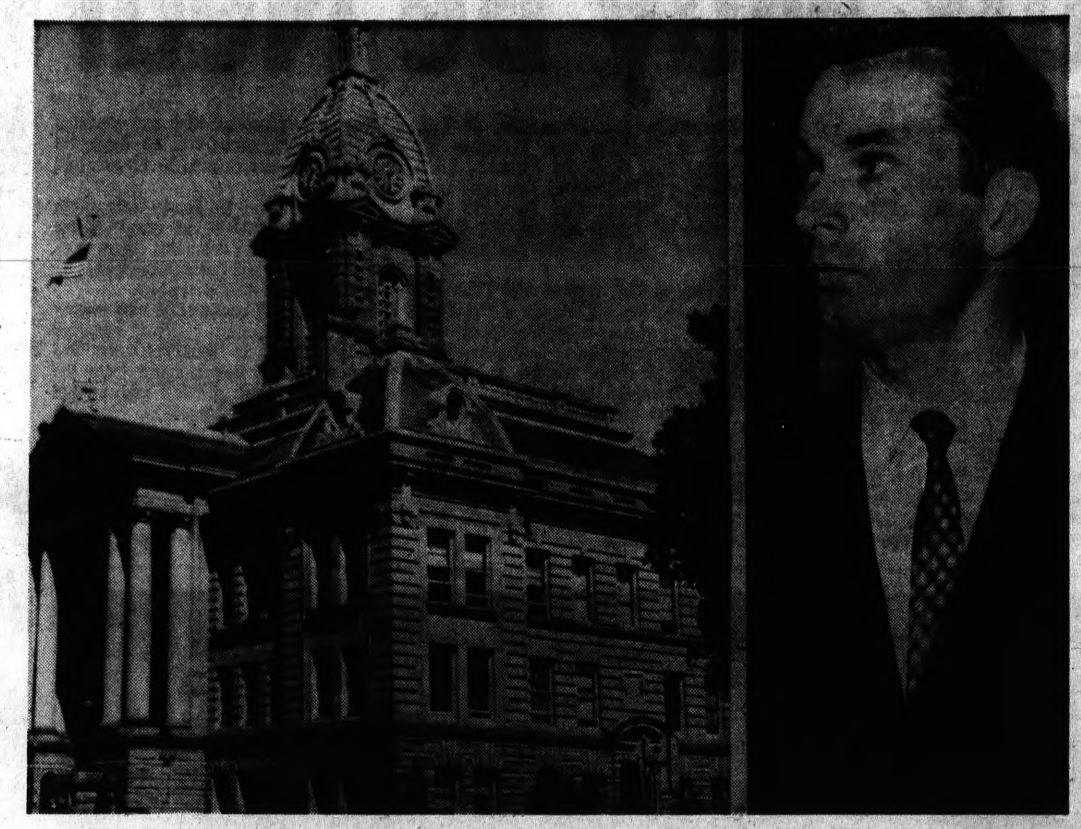

White stated that today's arrests will reveal a local narcotics ring with connections to other Michigan cities, if the results of a year-long investigation pan out.

"We confiscated what we believe to be some marijuana, LSD, mescaline and numerous other drugs not yet identified," he said.

White said he could not be specific after commenting that the raid was related to at least two previous narcotics arrests earlier this month.

"We may just be getting started," he said.

Mori, Paul and Yockey will probably be arraigned in Pontiac District Court this afternoon, according to police.

Stadium Study to Poll Fans at 10 Tiger Games

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Tiger baseball fans—those that come out and watch the team, that is—will get a chance to air their views on a question which is presumably of vital interest to them: Where should the Tigers play their games.

The Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce announced today it will sponsor a feasibility study for a downtown stadium which would replace Tiger Stadium.

★ ★ ★

The study, which is to begin soon, will be conducted by Economics Research Associates of Los Angeles.

The study comes amid recent agitation to move the site of the major league games out of downtown Detroit into surrounding suburbs. Proposals have been raised by proponents in Pontiac, Walled Lake, Southfield and other suburbs.

PLEAS BY CAVANAGH

The suburban proposals have been countered by pleas by Mayor Jerome Cavanagh and others to build a new domed stadium on an 80-acre site near Cobo Hall.

"The study will be conducted in three phases," Adams said, "with the first phase determining whether the construction of a new stadium in the 80-acre site west of Cobo Hall is practical."

Adams said Tiger fans will be polled at 10 selected games during a two-month period. The survey will include studies of parking, use of public transportation, distance traveled to games and other activities.

Algiers Motel Trial Enters Jury-Picking Stage Today

MASON (AP) — The often-delayed Algiers Motel murder trial of a former Detroit policeman reached the jury-selection stage today as a decision was awaited on whether a controversial statement can be admitted as evidence.

The statement was made by the defendant, Ronald J. August, 31, to superior officers investigating the slaying of three Negro teen-agers at the motel during Detroit's 1967 riot.

August, who is white, is accused of first-degree murder in the death of one of the youths, 29-year-old Aubrey Pollard.

Defense attorneys contend that the disputed statement, in which August said he killed Pollard in self-defense, is not admissible on grounds the patrolman had not been advised of his constitutional rights.

'IT WAS VOLUNTARY'

The prosecutor, however, maintains that August made the statement voluntarily after he had been advised of his right to refuse.

In a pretrial hearing before Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer yesterday, assistant Wayne County prosecutor Avery Weiswasser argued that the statement should be admitted.

TRIAL IN MASON

Selection of the 12-member jury is taking place in Lansing with the trial itself scheduled for the little town of Mason, the Ingham County seat.

The proceedings were moved to Ingham County after defense attorneys argued that their client could not get a fair trial in Detroit because of unfavorable publicity and the tense atmosphere in the city.

★ ★ ★

One delay in the case was ordered because of publication of a book, "The Algiers Motel Incident," by John Hersey, who wrote that the episode contained all the themes of racial strife in the United States.

Pollard and the two other victims—Fred Temple, 18, and Carl Cooper, 17 — were shot in the Algiers Motel annex on the night of July 26, 1967.

Area Township Split on Police

The discharge or demotion of Farmington Township Police Chief Irving Yakes and a reprimand for police commissioner Curtis Hall, who is also township supervisor were asked for in resolutions presented at last night's township board meeting.

Township Trustee Charles Williams offered the resolutions which died for lack of a second. The board did agree, however, to discuss in a closed meeting, actions needed to be taken in the police department.

Yakes recently demoted and penalized a township police officer on charges of violating 12 counts of a department police code. In testimony at an appeal hearing for Detective Sgt. Earl Teeples, Yakes admitted that at least 10 of the charges could be eliminated. All charges against Teeple were dismissed last week at the hearing.

Father of Four Kept From Viet

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A young father of four children, drafted amid a morass of red tape he didn't understand and resigned to being shipped to Vietnam, was told by the Army today he might not have to go after all.

The Pentagon told Pvt. Harold C. Vennemann, 22, it was canceling his orders to report tomorrow to Ft. Lewis, Wash., to prepare for assignment overseas.

★ ★ ★

Instead, Vennemann was told to report to nearby Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., where he will be assigned pending processing of his application for a hardship discharge.

The Army acted on the request of Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., whose office got involved after publication of a story in The Kansas City Star telling of Vennemann's plight.

GRIM PROSPECT

Vennemann had faced the prospect of leaving his wife, Clara, 21, to take care of their four children on Army pay and allotments totaling about $200 a month. She is expecting their fifth child in August.

★ ★ ★

Drafted last Dec. 2, Vennemann had lost his home, furniture and car, and he had to move his family into an apartment which rents for $15 a month.

A clerk at the draft board office said Vennemann formerly was classified 3A, entitled to deferment as a father living with his family. But a man must prove each year that he deserves 3A.

★ ★ ★

Vennemann was changed to 1A, eligible for draft, on June 22, 1967, the clerk said, after he failed to return forms mailed to him.

GM Gives Up on Corvair

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. gave up yesterday on a onetime success —the compact, rear-engined Corvair, suffering from sales anemia since industry critic Ralph Nader jumped on it in his book, "Unsafe at Any Speed," in late 1965.

GM announced the Corvair line will be killed off tomorrow — 1,710,000 vehicles since its introduction in the fall of 1959. The terse announcement gave no explanation other than "it is our regular practice to review our product offerings."

★ ★ ★

Nader insisted in his book the Corvair, first air-cooled, rear-engined American-made car, was unstable in design and unsafe. Scores of damage suits followed against GM by Corvair owners.

While some sued, other Corvair owners plastered their bumpers with "I Love My Corvair" stickers and formed Corvair-booster clubs. GM called in British racing driver Sterling Moss to testify as to Corvair's safety.

After its introduction in GM's 1960 Chevrolet lineup, Edward M. Cole, now GM president, said: "I think the Corvair will provide plenty of competition for the imports in price, in economy and in the amount of the car for the money."

Between October and December of 1959, GM sold 47,395 Corvairs. Sales hit 235,000 in 1960, then climbed to a peak of 317,000 in 1961.

But after Nader's attack, Corvair sales plummeted from 205,000 in 1965 to 86,000 in 1966 and to 12,977 last year. Through April only 2,183 Corvairs had been sold this year.

GM said all who have purchased a new 1969 Corvair will be issued a nontransferable certificate for $150, redeemable on the purchase of any other new Chevrolet model through 1973.

PARTS, SERVICE

A spokesman also said that Corvair parts and service will be available indefinitely through Chevrolet dealers.

Remains of GI Killed in '43 Go to Final Resting Place

CLEVELAND, Ga. (AP) — A Georgia farm boy cut down by a Japanese mortar in the South Pacific nearly 26 years ago goes to his final rest today in a churchyard beside his boyhood home.

Funeral services for Pfc. Winford Humphries were to be held in the Newbridge Baptist churchyard outside Cleveland more than 19 years after the Army officially called off its search for his remains.

"Now I can go to my own grave in peace," said Mrs. Allie K. Humphries, the infantryman's 78-year-old mother.

The 24-year-old Humphries was killed in combat July 25, 1943, while serving with the 37th Infantry Division.

Army records showed that the search for the young soldier's remains was called off Jan. 30, 1949.

On March 6, 1950, the Army formally declared Humphries' body unrecoverable.

Then, chance and a Virginia man's decision to revisit some of the areas where he was stationed in World War II led to the answer to the soldier's fate.

Leslie B. Kreger of Virginia Beach, Va., a Navy aviation machinist mate in 1943, chanced to be near Munda airstrip on New Georgia Island in the Solomons during July 1967, when a native woman unearthed a body and a set of GI identification tags while clearing land for a garden.

The woman told Kreger of her discovery. He notified the American consul in Brisbane, Australia, and also wrote the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot asking the newspaper to check on what could be done.

★ ★ ★

Both the Virginian-Pilot and the State Department notified the Army's Memorial Division and a recovery team was dispatched to New Georgia from Hawaii.

Humphries' body, found beneath 18 inches of earth with a hand positioned on a rifle with bayonet fixed, was eventually identified through a pathologist's examination and dental records.

His parents, a brother and a sister were notified and a casket bearing the soldier's remains arrived in rural White County Sunday. It lay in state at his parents' farm home beside the church Monday.

State Probes Foot Surgery on Derelicts

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan State Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley announced Monday he will launch an investigation into allegations Detroit's Civic Hospital has used derelicts as human guinea pigs in surgical training courses.

Gov. William G. Milliken also Monday ordered the State Department of licensing and Regulation to investigate the complaints.

Kelley said he called a meeting in "my Detroit office for Wednesday morning, where I will meet with members of the State Podiatry Board, representatives of the State Department of Health and lawyers from certain regulatory agencies to determine what action will be taken."

The charges were labeled "ridiculous" by hospital administrator and founder Dr. Earl G. Kaplan, who claimed that Touchton had "some kind of a gripe against me."

Holdup Suspect Is Shot After Truck Is Armed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — When two milk company delivery men were killed in separate holdups in Miami's Liberty City section last year, Lewis Wilhite Sr. decided to arm his truck.

His son, Lewis Jr., put four shots from a carbine Monday into a man police said was trying to force his way into Wilhite's delivery truck.

★ ★ ★

"He had to do it," the elder Wilhite said later. "We'd been hit three times before and there just aren't enough police to protect people like us. You have to protect yourself."

Wilhite operates a small wholesale candy and tobacco company serving hotel and drugstore tobacco counters. He said he and his competitors are constantly harassed by holdup men in the slum areas.

Police said the younger Wilhite pumped four M1 carbine bullets into Willie Gordon, a 21-year-old ex-convict.

Gordon was described by a hospital spokesman as in satisfactory condition.

The younger Wilhite, 25, told police that Gordon, pistol in hand, was trying to force his way into the back of the truck. Wilhite said he warned the man he was armed and would shoot if necessary.

"But he wouldn't go away and my boy fired through the back of the truck," Wilhite Sr. said. "I don't think my boy would shoot anybody if he didn't have to."

PISTOL FOUND

Police said they found a pistol on the street where Gordon fell and that an accomplice in a rented car fled after the shooting.

Patrolman Brian McCabe said Gordon was on the pavement awaiting an ambulance when the funeral procession of a Miami policeman slain in the area last week by a holdup man passed by.

Jailed Black's Wife Arrested

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Security police Monday arrested the wife of African nationalist leader Nelson Mandela, now serving a life sentence, the African newspaper the World said.

★ ★ ★

The paper said a friend of the family confirmed that Winnie Mandela was taken away by police after a raid on Johannesburg's Soweto African Township. The reason for the arrest was not known.

Mandela was sentenced in a 1962 trial for his political activities in the banned African Nationalist Congress.

Avon Charter Panel Election Sept. 16 Backed

A Sept. 16 vote to elect a new charter commission in Avon Township has been recommended by the local affairs committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

Citizens of the township petitioned for the new commission vote within 10 days of the defeat of a charter vote last March. Residents of the township voted to seek incorporation in January 1968.

★ ★ ★

Whether the committee should take steps to seek legislation which would prevent an infinite number of votes regarding incorporation was discussed by the committee and referred to the county legislative committee for study.

County Corporation Counsel Robert Allen told the committee that while there is a two-year or three-vote limit on acceptance of a charter, there is no limit to the number of times a charter commission can be elected.

COULD BLOCK CITYHOOD

He said continuing votes for a charter commission, providing no charter is accepted, could keep the township from becoming a city and could keep Rochester from annexing any township land indefinitely.

Avon Township Clerk Mrs. Thelma Spencer said a bill on the floor of the State Senate would require a full vote of all township and city residents in any annexation matter. She urged support for the bill.

★ ★ ★

Presently, only those people to be affected by city annexation have the right to vote should Rochester attempt to take portions of township land. Petitions asking annexation are presently on file at the county and would be considered if township incorporation was allowed to die.

"This bill would protect the townships. I ask your support," said Mrs. Spencer.

School Bus Kills 2 Shelby Boys

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Two 7-year-old boys were killed late yesterday afternoon when they were struck by a school bus in front of their homes.

Dead are Malcolm McGregor III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McGregor, 8559 Robinwood, and James Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Thomas, 8453 Robinwood. Both boys died en route to Mount Clemens Hospital.

★ ★ ★

At 3:50 p.m. the youths, according to Shelby police, were playing on the grass strip between the sidewalk and the street when struck by the bus, operated by Mrs. Martha Miller, 46, of 47975 Shelby Road.

Shelby Police Chief Robert Smith refused to give further details of the accident until the Macomb County prosecutor completes his investigation.

The bus, owned by the Utica Community Schools District, has been impounded.

Leaders Dispute Editor's Dope

Almont Not High on Drug 'Expose'

EDITOR THOMAS SADLER

ALMONT — "Almont . . . Dope Capital?"

That banner headline in the weekly Almont Times-Herald grabbed the eyes of all 1,500 residents of this Lapeer County village Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Editor Thomas Sadler touched off a furor in his community with the "expose" of "extraordinary" marijuana and hard-drug trafficking in Almont.

Sadler claims, in talking with the local police as well as state troopers in nearby Romeo, that marijuana, hashish, methedrine and LSD sales are headquartered in Almont for distribution 40 miles south in Detroit, 40 miles east in Port Huron, 40 miles west in Flint and 50 miles north in Bay City.

DECLARATION ON DRUGS

In completely unattributed statements, Sadler's article declares that drugs are ". . . waved under the noses of your children in school rooms, in rest rooms, and school halls every day."

Also without attribution is Sadler's blunt statement: "It (marijuana) is sold across the counter in at least one Almont business place."

★ ★ ★

Unattributed statements of "fact," Sadler explained, were garnered from his many high school contacts. Sadler's paper prints and distributes the Almont High School Raider, on which his son is a staff member.

A bit piqued by Sadler's quotations is Almont Schools Supt. Walter Walborn.

Sadler quoted Walborn as saying: "We know it (drug use is here . . . We'll handle the problem ourselves. And . . . you'll be surprised when the whole story comes out . . . at some of the prominent names involved."

In a long letter to Sadler, Walborn writes:

★ ★ ★

"If the teen-agers in Almont are as bad as was implied . . . then Almont is a pretty sick community. If your superintendent of schools has been accurately quoted and his attitude accurately described, I think he should be fired immediately, tarred and feathered and ridden out of town on a rail." Walborn said that "at no time did I ever make the two statements for which I am quoted by Sadler."

Almont Police Chief Irving Lamson further discredits Sadler's "expose," denying that police have been conducting an intensive three-month investigation into the flow of illicit drugs.

"Actually," explained Village Manager Eugene King, "police have been investigating the allegation that a recent suicide here might have been murder. They've been investigating the question, as a matter of fact, for three months."

King said that he spoke to Sadler casually over the weekend and Sadler said that he would back up everything he stated in the paper.

★ ★ ★

"I'm sure that Sadler will be called on to back up his statements at the next Village Council meeting, May 20. We'd all like to know what business place is selling drugs over the counter," King grinned.

The over-the-counter sales alluded to were explained by the editor of the high school Raider, Lee Schwartz.

"Last summer a kid worked at a certain store here part-time and sold some marijuana once. That's all there is to it," Schwartz said.

Schwartz said that an editorial reply to Sadler's article would be made Thursday in the Raider. The reply, explained journalism class adviser John Mohn, is a composite effort by the entire journalism class.

★ ★ ★

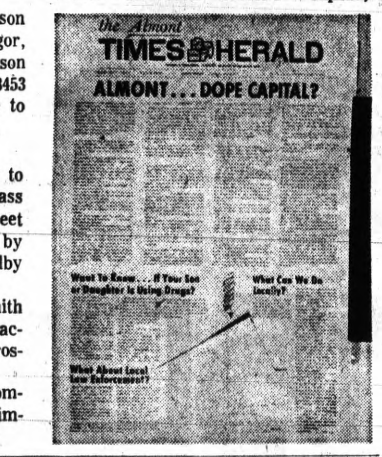

Sadler quoted a high school teacher as claiming that "at least 75 per cent of our high school students are using marijuana . . . and Lord knows what other drugs."

The student editorial reply will state that 15 per cent of the Almont High student body has tried marijuana and that perhaps 8 per cent use it.

★ ★ ★

"We conducted a rather extensive survey after Sadler's article," Schwartz said. "We found that 25 students (out of 275) have tried marijuana."

Walborn said that he questioned his faculty after Sadler's article and could "find no teacher who would own up to the statement."

Rochester

Two four-year posts and 1 two-year seat are up for election in Rochester. Incumbents Robert Ludwig and Dr. Robert Williamson did not file for reelection to their four-year seats. Incumbent James McAlpine's resignation creates the two-year vacancy.

Candidates who filed for the short term are Stanley R. DeWright, 240 Boyken, Rochester; John A. Ohlsson, 356 Broadleaf, Oakland Township; and James A. VanNocker, 536 Meadow Lane, Rochester.

★ ★ ★

Filers for the 2 four-year seats were Robert W. Jackson, 2173 Bonnie Bray, Avon Township; Joseph R. Nedrow, 415 Cherry Blossom, Avon Township; John H. Peterson, 1631 W. Avon, Avon Township; and John F. Solverson, 6255 Winkler Mill, Avon Township.

Almont

Incumbent trustee Mrs. Gertrude Brooks is retiring from the school board, leaving her four-year post up for election.

★ ★ ★

Candidates filed for the single seat are James T. Ligon, 800 S. Main, Almont, and Mrs. Audrey Allen, 4605 Howland, Almont.

Clarkston

Four candidates filed for the two vacancies on the Clarkston School Board.

Filing for the 2 four-year terms were incumbent Richard Funk, 6184 Cram Lane; John Nicholson, 6796 Almond; Ingrid Smith, 6360 East Lawn; and Walter J. Cattin, 8150 Holcomb, all Independence Township.

Trustee Frank Ronk, 6056 Overlook, Independence Township, will not seek reelection.

Novi

Four persons are running for 2 four-year terms on the Novi school board.

Contestants include incumbent Bruce Simmons of 46280 W. 10 Mile, Ronald Colden of 41679 Sycamore, Dorothy Farah of 46950 Grand River and Robert Wilkins of 23803 Ripple Creek.

★ ★ ★

Running for a single available two-year term are incumbent Claude Earl of 40670 10 Mile, and J. F. Buck of 24350 W. LeBost.

Running unopposed for a one-year term is incumbent Ray Warren of 27629 Haggerty.

Supervisors Eye Regional Airings

A series of regional public hearings to let Oakland County residents and public officials air their problems before the board of supervisors may be in the offing.

The local affairs committee yesterday moved to direct letters to officials inquiring about their interest in such hearings.

Suggested topics for discussion would include roads, drains, solid waste and other problems which local communities face.

★ ★ ★

Meetings would be held in various parts of the county, the committee agreed.

Gravel Pit Hearing Aborted: No One There to Explain

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — Lack of an explanation on what is proposed aborted a public hearing last night, despite a nearly 90-minute discussion.

The hearing, which was finally recessed, was on a request from Lyon Sand and Gravel Co. for a permit to operate a gravel pit on 105 acres at the southeast corner of Inwood and Hixon.

★ ★ ★

Relatively early in the discussion, which attracted more than 60 residents, it was determined that neither the petitioner nor the township was going to detail the proposal.

Company representatives said they had submitted their material to the township. The most township officials would indicate was that they hadn't had time to study it all.

CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT

Commented Martin E. McMurray, 5647 Rochester Road: "I can't understand how we can meet without a presentation either by the company representatives or the board."

Despite the lack of an explanation, however, it was determined in a discussion between residents and the company spokesmen that:

- Lyon Sand and Gravel had taken up a project started by Cooper Supply Co., which had sought unsuccessfully to have the property rezoned for the gravel operation.
- The hearing on the permit application was at the direction of Circuit Court Judge Clark Adams, who is hearing a suit on the question.
- Oakland Township's new conservation and natural resources ordinance would permit gravel mining without rezoning. It also sets controls for the operation, described as "very tight and restrictive" by a Lyon company spokesman.
- A 50-acre lake is to be created on the property without change in the current water level in the area, according to a company representative.
- The gravel would not be extracted 24 hours a day, but the actual hours and the number of days a week of operation haven't been determined.
- A processing plant will be erected in the Macomb County portion of the land and no trucks are to travel on Oakland Township roads according to the company.
- An estimated five to 10 years will be needed to extract 4½ million tons of sand and gravel at the rate of a half-million tons per year.
- An informal showing of hands indicated nearly all of last night's audience opposed to the gravel pit. A spokesman for the Oakland Valley Homeowners Association said his membership of 130 was also opposed.

★ ★ ★

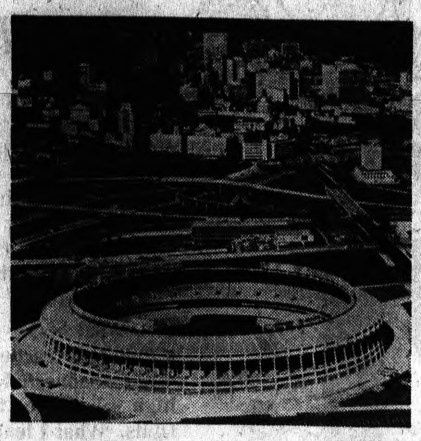

After the discussion, Township Supervisor Wesley Holyoke recessed the hearing to an unspecified date and said the matter would be referred to the township planning commission. He indicated the commission probably would go along with requests for a plan commission hearing.

The supervisor also indicated he didn't expect the issue to come back for township board consideration for about 60 days.

Meet Your Neighbors

Deerfield a Friendly Place

By BARBARA GRIBBON

Deerfield Village, in the southeastern corner of West Bloomfield Township, is an area which has been growing for the past five years. For this week's column, I confined my visits to some of the newcomers who live on Claridge Lane, one of the newer streets in this pretty subdivision.

For the most part, the homes here are two-story Colonials. Families have many activities to choose from in Deerfield Village most of which center around the Village Association. There is a swimming pool here, community clubhouse and a number of special interest clubs for the residents.

THE LEO J. MARCOUXS

The Leo J. Marcoux family moved here two years ago from northwest Detroit. The Marcouxs have a married son, plus seven other children including Patty, a graduate of the University of Michigan; Panela, 20, a graduate of American Airlines Stewardess School, Jim, now attending the University of Detroit; Deborah, 19, who goes to Western University; Timothy, 17, Suzie, 12 and Michael, 9.

Dad Marcoux is with the Ford Marketing Institute with offices in Fairlane, Henry Ford's home in Dearborn. He enjoys spending his spare time sailing and golfing.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Marcoux said that cooking is probably her main hobby. Among her children, she said, Patty is now taking art lessons at Cranbrook and Pam is an avid skier who enjoys doing needlepoint. Debby takes after mom and likes to cook as a hobby. The Marcoux family attends St. Colman's Church.

THE JULIUS NUTKINS

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Nutkin moved here last October from Cleveland. He's an engineer in the overseas division of General Motors. The Nutkins have two married children and four grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Nutkin have just recently returned to the United States from four years in Port Elizabeth, South Africa where dad was helping to set up a new GM plant. He and his wife both like to play golf which they hope to enjoy here.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Nutkin showed me some of her souvenirs that she collected while abroad. However, she said, they gave most of them away as gifts when they returned here. She told me that living in South Africa was a wonderful and exciting experience.

THE CHARLES BINGHAMS

The Charles Bingham family moved to Deerfield Village six months ago from their previous home in Southfield. The family includes Cheryl, 8 and Todd, 2½ years old.

Bingham, an insurance agent with the firm of Bingham & Bingham in Birmingham, is very active in community affairs. He is head of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce spring fair which takes place this month. He is also active in the Lions Club in Birmingham. Golfing and boating are favorites of his.

★ ★ ★

The family owns a 30-foot Chris Craft which they keep on the Clinton River and which they enjoy as a family sport. They have plans to go to Mackinal Island this summer for their annual boating vacation.

Mrs. Bingham told me that she enjoys a multitude of handicrafts including painting, sewing, refinishing furniture, and decoupage. She said she likes to try her hand at just about anything around the house. The Binghams belong to St. Colman's Church.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS A. NELSON

From Allen Park came Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Nelson and their six children, Marybeth, 13; Theresa, 12; Mark, 10, Julie, 8; Nancy, 7; and Kathleen, 5.

Nelson is a supervisor at Ford. He is quite handy around the house, his wife tells me, and enjoys golfing in his spare time. A major interest with Nelson is an investment club which he belongs to with a group of friends.

★ ★ ★

Skiing, boating and swimming all top the list of family activities in the Nelson household. In addition the children are active in Scouting and take ballet, paino and organ lessons.

Among her many family activities, Mrs. Nelson manages to find time to be a teacher at St. Colman's. She is also taking a Great Books leadership training program which will enable her to be a group leader of a children's Great Books course next fall.

THE DAN CHUPINSKY'S

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Chupinsky moved here from Dearborn Heights with their three children, Daniel, 12, Carolyn, 9, and Stephen, 7.

Chupinsky is a safety engineer with American Motors. Golf is his major outside interest. Daniel is a sports enthusiast who keeps busy with Little League baseball and football.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Chupinsky likes to play the piano in her leisure time and is currently taking bridge lessons through the community bridge group. She said that cooking and gardening are her chief hobbies. Teh family attends St. Colman's Church.

THE EDWARD ELGERTS

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Elgert moved to thir new home in Deerfield Vilaage from the northwest section of Detroit. They have one son, Edward Jr., who will be married next week. This, his mother said, is keeping her pretty busy right now.

Elgert is the owner of Capital Dye & Manufacturing in Oak Park where his son also works.

★ ★ ★

Gardening is probably the major interest with both the Elgerts. They have done extensive landscaping work on their large corner lot including a two-level patio and barbecue arrangement. Mrs. Elgert said that she loves to go out in the early morning to garden before the sun gets too hot. She pointed to a tree at the edge of the property where a bird was chirping noisily. "That's a parakeet," she told us. The bird arrived sometime last summer and managed to live through the winter and is now making its home in the Elgerts' tree.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Elgert is active in the Orchard Lake Garden Club and a number of local bridge clubs. She and her husband play golf at the Edgewood Golf Club regularly. They belong to the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Detroit.

THE DAVID MADISONS

From Southfield came Mr. and Mrs. David Madison whose family includes five children — Ken, 18; Lisa, 11; Diane, 9; Laura, 2; and a brand new addition, Ronnie, just a month old now.

Madison owns the Universal Scrap Co. He told us that his wife is an excellent cook who specializes in gourmet foods. She also sews a great deal and most of her own clothes.

★ ★ ★

Handicraft work is a favorite hobby with both of the Madisons who shared equally in the making of a beautiful hooked rug. At present, Mrs. Madison is working on a tapestry for the family-room wall. She is a member of the South Oakland Haddassah and the family belongs to Temple Israel in Detroit.

THE IVAN BLOCKS

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Block came to Deerfield Village from Oak Park. They have one son, Brian, 2½ years old.

Block is a realtor who owns Brian Realty in Waterford. He's a member of the Greater Pontiac Board of Realtors. At the moment, his wife says, the business and working on the new house is keeping him busy most of the time.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Block told us that she likes interior decorating and has many plans for her new home. She has done some furniture antiquing to fit in with her decorating scheme.

Next week we'll be introducing you to some newcomers on Avoncrest Drive in Avon Township.

Eye Officers' Loyalty

To whom does a police officer owe the greater allegiance, the general public, or another police officer?

This is the crux of the Farmington Township hassle involving Detective Sgt. Earl Teeples.

Sgt. Teeples was disciplined by his superiors, on the complaint of other officers, because he mentioned to an assistant Oakland County prosecutor what he thought was a case of police brutality.

★ ★ ★

Teeples was charged with violating a police department code of ethics, in revealing information. Subsequently, Sgt. Teeples was cleared of wrong-doing, and regained his rank.

His case brings to light a problem in law enforcement. When a policeman breaks the law, will other policemen blow the whistle on him? Harassed in recent years by court decisions which make it harder and harder to enforce the law, many police officers have developed a defensive state of mind best described as "us against the rest of the world."

Part of the code of ethics Sgt. Teeples was charged with violating reads:

"As a law enforcement officer, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation . . ."

There are also sections about use of force against prisoners.

★ ★ ★

It takes a certain amount of courage to be a police officer. It takes more courage to turn in a fellow officer when he does wrong—fully knowing this fellow officer may have your life in his hands the next day.

★ ★ ★

Many charges of police brutality today are unwarranted. But there are still some officers who exert more than necessary force when they can. Until fellow officers have the courage to root out these sadists, policemen everywhere will continue to have their reputations tarnished by those few.

'Missouri' Frosh Pass Test

The University of Missouri has released the results of a survey of freshmen who entered the school last fall.

Of particular interest to the general public is the fact that most of the new students said they believe that colleges are too lax in their handling of student protests.

The majorities ranged from 51.7 per cent to 68.9 per cent among the 5,600 freshmen answering the questionnaire at the university's four branches.

★ ★ ★

On the question of whether students should have a role in the design of the curriculum, however, the vote was overwhelmingly in favor—from 89.9 per cent to 93.3 per cent.

If the Missouri frosh are representative of students around the country, what they are saying seems fairly clear:

The majority of students are serious about this business of learning, they want to be treated like adults and they want the college to hold them accountable when they fail to live up to the standards of responsibility expected of adults.

★ ★ ★

Such an outlook on education by those benefitting from it strikes a note of reassurance in a time of widespread campus disorder.

'Modism' Ruffles Culture

Cultural backlash was inevitable. The wonder is that it took so long to happen. But one national publication has finally declared war on the tired cliches of the New, the Now, the With-it, The Swinging Generation.

Terms like up-tight, teeny-bopper, flower children, fuzz, charisma, telling it like it is, identity crisis, beautiful, commitment and value judgment are a thing of the past in its pages, TV Guide magazine has announced.

★ ★ ★

"We are brought to a state of nausea whenever we hear or read of these banal or crude or cloddish substitutes for thinking that are so horribly ubiquitous in broadcasting and in print," says an editorial in a recent issue. "So we are splitting the scene because the current cliches aren't our bag any more."

Now if the communications media would declare war on the banal or crude or cloddish substitutes for art, music, drama and entertainment that are so horribly ubiquitous in broadcasting and in print, that would really be a groovy development.

Radical Changes Unlikely for France

By LEON DENNEN

NEW YORK—France without De Gaulle will lack his touch of authoritarian rationalism, and perhaps some of its present importance. But the changes in foreign policy may not be as radical as many of France's allies would wish.

DENNEN

The NATO nations will probably find the general's successor's easier to deal with and perhaps more open to compromise, especially on such issues as Britain's membership in the Common Market.

Whether the new president is a veteran Gaullist, like former Premier Georges Pompidou, or a man representing the center-left coalition, he is likely to be less pro-Russian and pursue a more even-handed policy in the Middle East.

But France after De Gaulle is still attached to the idea of an independent nuclear force, a Europe in which French influence tries to exceed that of the United States and a foreign policy that does not hesitate to go its own way.

The question the French now face is whether any man or group of men can effectively carry on De Gaulle's work.

Despite these illusions of France's grandeur, the old general, as president, was a shrewd and realistic politician.

He had the courage to grant independence to Algeria and thus avert a bloody civil war.

He was instrumental in giving France a new constitution that reduced the power of the chaotic National Assembly and strengthened the authority of the president.

PUBLIC DISGUST

The unusual mandate De Gaulle received in 1958 was in a large measure an expression of France's accumulated disgust at the spectacle of governments coming and going like so many rejected lovers at the whim of a fickle National Assembly.

There is no doubt that De Gaulle's successor will have to discard the general's style of government, which no one can hope to imitate.

This is not to say that France will revert all the way to the chaos that brought De Gaulle to power in 1958. But it is quite likely that a compromise will be reached between the parliamentary whims of the Fourth Republic and the authoritarianism of De Gaulle.

STILL STABLE

This means a France that is still stable, but democratically oriented.

France, like most countries in western Europe, is plagued by econonomic difficulties and student riots.

★ ★ ★

It is possible that the student and worker rebellion of last May was the beginning of De Gaulle's end.

But it is hardly likely that the vast majority of French men and women, having once been showed a real alternative to the bitter, unprofitable and often degrading era before De Gaulle, will be in a mood for radical changes after De Gaulle.

Fine, But Don't Neglect The Small Fry!

David Lawrence Says:

Politicians Vacillating on Strife

WASHINGTON — The turmoil in the colleges continues as some of the militant organizations make no secret of the fact they are trying to stir up revolution in America.

LAWRENCE

A few college presidents are acting firmly, and so are the mayors of some cities. But for the most part, federal and state governmental authority appears reluctant to act.

The political mind seems to be vacillating, especially since there are in the riots and disturbances undercurrents of racial friction.

But the same federal Constitution under which desegregation of public schools was ordered declares that all citizens are entitled to "equal protection of the laws."

★ ★ ★

Certainly the orderly students in colleges and universities and the law-biding citizens of communities can hardly be said to be enjoying this "protection" as long as disturbances are deliberately provoked and the leaders of the uprisings go unpunished.

The whole story of what is happening is still untold.

FURTHER PROTESTS

What is going to be done about it? Many university presidents have been hesitant to call in the police. Apparently, too, in some instances where arrests have been made, there have been further "demonstrations" as the rights of many innocent students and teachers have been threatened.

Some indictments under federal laws have been made, and members of Congress have been talking about withholding funds from institutions which tolerate disturbances such as seizures of buildings by students.

Various measures are being proposed to make it a federal crime to interfere with the operations of educational institutions which receive federal assistance. But some senators are saying that these cutoffs come too late to be effective deterrents.

A bill introduced by Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S. C., known as the "academic Freedom Protective Act of 1969," would make it a federal crime to cause disruption by committing an act of force or violence or even uttering a threat to do so. Obstructing the entrance or exits of school property or occupation of the premises also would be punished.

BEING IMPAIRED

Academic freedom is certainly being impaired, and, unless stern measures are adopted, the activities of militants will be increased.

The number of persons actually involved in the disorders is relatively small. But the amount of publicity being given the riots and distrubances is creating a sense of unrest throughout the country, and there is evidence that many colleges are feeling the effects of the hysteria.

★ ★ ★

The states and cities are looking to the federal government for guidance, but thus far, except for a few generalities, the administration here has not tackled the problem of campus disorders.

Military recruiting is being interfered with, and research programs are being denounced, though these are carried on by the Defense Department, which is operating under the orders of Congress to provide the most effective weapons for our military forces.

MORE DISORDER

A feeling seems to prevail that the wave of discord will somehow cease merely as a result of public denunciation. But the activists are preparing to provoke more and more disorder.

Even though many of them are arrested, they have plenty of funds to furnish the necessary amount of bail and to continue their acts of provocation.

★ ★ ★

For the federal government to ignore what is going on would be a tragic example of political timidity that could only have its reaction in a nationwide protest by the voters.

Bob Considine Says:

California U. Head Ends Myths on Campus Strife

NEW YORK — The University of California at Berkeley, where it all began, can serve as a model for colleges now in a state of turmoil and anarchy.

CONSIDINE

Chancellor Roger W. Heyns spelled things out in a recent speech before the Comstock Club of Sacramento. He dealt with myths and misconceptions about his campus.

★ ★ ★

"I must warn you beforehand that my intentions here today may prove frustrating to you," Dr. Heyns said in his cheerful, outgoing manner. "Because they are to replace the simplicity of myth with the complexity of fact. I admit that my object is to complicate your view of Berkeley.

"If it is not complicated, then it is not accurate, and hence misleads you when you attempt to understand the campus, and indeed many other campuses and their young people.

FIRST MYTH

"The first myth we need to examine closely is that only some firm discipline is needed to set everything right at Cal. The suggestion clearly is that the administration at Berkely has failed to enforce the rules and to punish those who violate them.

"The record shows, however, that the facts are quite different. In the four years prior to 1969, over 350 students were disciplined for rules violations. (I do not include the types of violations some of your college contemporaries may have told you about, like beer, sex and cheating.)

"Let me cite two days of protest last fall. Seven students were dismissed, 31 suspended from school and 131 placed on probation. All also received sentences in the civil courts for breaking the law. Some $20,000 in damages done in and around Moses Hall were paid as fines by those arrested in the hall . . . The taxpayer should not have to bear that burden.

"Does it have any effect? The answer is that in the past two years only 32 of the 369 students committed a second violation, and five committed a third. University discipline is an effective method of protecting the academic community and its freedoms of inquiry and discussion."

SUPPORT FROM MAJORITY

Chancellor Heyns went on to point out that the vast majority of his students support and obey the rules. "For the few who do not, there has been and is fair, firm discipline. Moreover, there is no amnesty for rules violators, despite strike demands for it.

★ ★ ★

"There is no doubt among the militants at Berkeley that I shall ask for police assistance when needed," he said. "The only doubts about that appear to lie beyond the campus."

Berkeley has never closed down in the face of militants.

Voice of the People:

Letters Voice Approval of Sex Education Program

I am for the sex education program 100 per cent. I am going to answer all of my children's questions about sex, but I sure I am going to need help. Let's have compassion for the children who don't have the home guidance they need. I am sure I have never met a Communist school teacher, and just as sure that our school boards have no intention of corrupting our children's minds.

★ ★ ★

What better place is there to learn than with a qualified teacher, instead of in a back alley with other uneducated children. I had sex education in high school and this wasn't a bunch of dirty stag films. What I learned was educational and factual.

ALSO A CONCERNED PARENT

I am a premedical student at Oakland University. Our freshman biology teacher gave us a quick overview of a sex education course he had taught. He has had a more positive effect on my morals than my parents or the church or anyone else. You see, biology teachers tend to be prudish much more than liberal; but he had medical and physiological facts to back up his opinions. He treated sex matter-of-factly; and not as a great goal.

★ ★ ★

Kids need sex education to counteract the overplayed bit on how great sex is that they get from other kids. My parents don't know all of the medical facts that lead to credibility. The biology teacher does.

Compares Wages of Consumers Employes

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the national average wage was 5.2 per cent in 1967 and 7.4 per cent for first-year settlements in 1968. In contrast, it is my understanding Consumers Power employes received only 3.2 per cent in 1967 and 3.2 per cent in 1968. In view of this, Consumers Power employes in 1967 and 1968 ended up 6.2 per cent below the amount of wages received by the average union member across the United States.

★ ★ ★

I believe the company's last offer was 11 per cent. Subtract 6.2 per cent as "makeup" for 1967 and 1968 and the offer ends up 4.8 per cent. After more than 15 years of service, on straight time for 40 hours a week, my husband earns approximately $7,600 a year for skilled labor.

Reader Resents Being Asked to Baby Sit

Why do people make a nuisance of themselves with their children? I have seen friends and respect and love for relatives lost because of mothers dropping off their children. I love children and have stayed home and raised mine. Now that they are older I resent being called upon to baby sit.

'Smothers Brothers Should Not Be Silenced'

In regard to your comment about the Smothers Brothers being in trouble for smut, it was their dissenting views on the Vietnam war which the network would not tolerate. Although I do not agree with their anti-war stand, I feel that they should not be silenced. They should be commended for speaking out in an era when it is rather easy to say "I don't want to be involved." If nobody had ever dissented from established views, this country would still be British. (And I'm not a Communist.)

Commend Performance by Waterford Band

I recently attended a delightful band concert at Waterford Township High School. The band director and students are commended for their outstanding performance. It is unusual for a high school band to attempt such difficult numbers as these young people rendered. It was even more rewarding to see the absolute respect the band members showed their director. The conduct of the students should be applauded.

Question and Answer

I've been told on State-owned lands there are trails marked for use by snowmobiles, but no trails for motorcycles, and neither can motorcycles use snowmobile trails. Why is this?

INTERESTED READER

REPLY

We talked with the division office of Natural Resources Department in Lansing. They said, for one thing, snowmobiles aren't allowed on the roads while motorcycles are. But the main reason is that snowmobile trails are designed for use only when enough snow is present so there will be no damage to the terrain. This would not be possible with motorcycles.

Question and Answer

At a meeting of homeowners to discuss problems that might arise when the new Perry Street apartments (opposite Perry Park Cemetery) were built, we were told those streets would remain closed except for fire trucks and service vehicles. All but two of the streets between Perry and Madison were dead ends, and now they're all open to continuous traffic. Noisy and reckless driving is heard at all hours and one tenant is parking on our street instead of in front of his own place.

DISILLUSIONED TAXPAYER

REPLY

We talked with Planning Department and Traffic Engineers, who said there was discussion of leaving the streets closed, but no commitment was made. It was their decision that it was necessary to open them to allow access for emergency equipment. However, both departments felt the layout of the streets, with winding curves and frequent stops, would discourage through traffic, and they feel that once construction traffic is eliminated upon completion of the apartments, most of your problems will be eliminated.

Parts Firms Delayed on License Renewals

Representatives for three dealing in used auto parts defended their operations at last night's City Commission meeting.

The commission delayed approval of license renewals for the three firms last week and yesterday voted to delay approval for another month. In the interim the firms were directed to carry out a cleanup and beautification program.

★ ★ ★

One commissioner, Robert C. Irwin, district 2, said he felt the delay in relicensing was unfair and voted against it.

The licenses are held by the auto parts firms of M and S, 401 S. Saginaw; General, 543 S. Saginaw; and Royal, 1130 University.

'PUBLIC'S FAULT'

Bernard Schneider, owner of Royal, said much of the fault for the appearance of the firms belongs to the public. He said several old cars each week are left parked in front of his establishment. He said the wrecks were useless to him but that his firm gets rid of them as a public service.

★ ★ ★

Schneider was warned by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. that his University Drive location was adjacent to several large apartments planned in the near future and the operation would soon have to be relocated.

★ ★ ★

Charles D. Toby, lawyer representing General Auto Parts, pointed out the car parts business is a "necessary evil" that provides a definite service to the community, particularly to those who cannot afford "sleek, brand new automobiles."

In other action, the commission:

- Approved spending of $155,000 by Pontiac General Hospital to purchase the medical building on the southeast corner of Huron and Johnson.
- Agreed to share cost with Grand Trunk Western Railroad and Oakland County for the study of extending Montcalm westward to Telegraph. The study is to determine the best method for crossing the railroad and relieving area traffic congestion and is not to cost in excess of $65,000.
- Rejected a bid by Leslie Hudson of $38,500 for 6.6 acres of city land at the southwest corner of Featherston and East Boulevard. Appraisals indicate the land could sell for $100,000.
- Set public hearings for 8 p.m. May 27 for: presentation of assessment roll for curb, gutter and paving on Eastway from Auburn to M59; and for water main on Stirling between Walton and Northfield and Northfield to Giddings. This latter project carries a price of $53,500 and city engineers have recommended delaying it until 1973.
- Approved a carnival license for the Metropolitan Club and transfer of Class C and SDM license at Jack's Bar, 22 E. Kennett to Frederick L. Dennis.
- Proclaimed next Saturday as "Pride in Pontiac Day." (teens and Jaycees will be conducting a cleanup) and next week as "Michigan Week."

Planning Put Plug in Midwest Flooding Damage---Experts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The spring floods in the Midwest did $100-million damage, killed eight, and pushed 25,000 out of their homes. But it could have been a lot worse, the experts say.

Advance planning and accurate forecasting averted certain disaster, in the opinion of federal, state and local authorities. A preliminary estimate is that some $250 million damage was prevented.

★ ★ ★

A big picture is emerging as to the scale of the fight that took place along Midwestern river banks.

The Army Corps of Engineers says that it provided 10 million sandbags, built 200 miles of dikes and approved emergency construction contracts in some 400 communities.

1,000 ENGINEERS

The corps fielded 1,000 engineers while another 2,100 servicemen and national guardsmen turned out to fight the floods shoulder to shoulder with townspeople.

More than five million bushels of grain were hustled out of flood zones under the supervision of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Red Cross spent $1 million on, among other things, 250,000 meals served by 5,000 volunteers.

But, while the crisis is over, says Maj. Gen. Frederick J. Clarke, the new chief of Army Engineers, the hurriedly built dikes are not good enough for the future, and a long-range plan for the Midwest river basin is urgently needed.

Clark had told a House and Senate Public Works Appropriations subcommittee in April the nation's annual flood losses are laible to triple over the next 50 years if action isn't taken.

OVER-ALL CONTROL

The Office of Emergency Preparadness, which had over-all control of the entire Midwest flood emergency project, said the "unprecedented advance preparations were tailored to prevent as much economic fracture as possible."

George Lincoln, head of OEP, talked with President Nixon about the crisis in late February. At that time, many local governments could foresee an impending tragedy, but were short of money to do anything about it. They'd spent it on enormous snow-removal programs required throughout the winter, he said.

Seven major federal agencies, plus the American Red Cross, became involved in "Operation Foresight" which began March 1.

Ample warning of a record snow-melt in the Dakotas and Minnesota was provided by the U.S. Weather Bureau. A Washington spokesman says, "it was quite evident, very early, that the snow would cause severe flooding."

BEGAN FORECASTS

The bureau began flood situation forecasts from Minneapolis in mid-January. A weekly "flood outlook" program started in Kansas City Feb. 11, and daily, point-by-point flood crest figures were started March 13. These predictions were reported as being phenominally accurate in many places.

In spite of the early warnings, five states—Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa and Wisconisn—were designated disaster areas, but authorities there still count themselves fortunate.

Minnesota Gov. Harold Levander declared: "Minnesota citizens were spared what could have been one of the most damaging floods in the state's history by a combination of federal, state and local efforts. I don't believe I've seen a more impressive display."

Queen Elizabeth 2—Side view (upper left) and bow-on view (above) show the modern mast set forward; behind, a single funnel.

A new Elizabethan age is envisaged, for the high seas. The heiress to the throne and to a maritime tradition is the Queen Elizabeth 2, third in the dynasty of Cunard's royal ladies, now preparing to assume her full title. It hasn't been exactly an easy accession. But, after the drama and disappointment of a postponed debut, she is ready to make her challenge for the crown—"the finest ship in the world."

Capt. W.E. Warwick.

The QE 2 replaces the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth, now both playing the dowager role as tourist attractions. The Queen Mary is at Long Beach, California, and the Queen Elizabeth is at Port Everglades, Florida.

QE 2 is only two-thirds the tonnage of the Queen Elizabeth, but will carry about the same number of passengers, some 2,000. She has the same cruising speed of 28.5 knots (crossing the Atlantic in five days), but consumes only half the fuel.

There is 130 per cent more open deck space on QE 2 than on the Queen Elizabeth (claimed to be more than any other ship). Though the hull is steel, the superstructure is built of 1,100 tons of aluminum. The lightweight metal high on the ship allowed the addition of an extra deck.

Inside, all is so super-ship-shape that there is cabin space to swing a cat—to use the old sailors' phrase (in today's terms, the gently mod QE 2 seems prepared to accommodate swinging cats in a variety of night spots and discotheques).

The power plant is compact, too, but powerful (110,000 shaft h.p.). The Queen Mary had 24 boilers, the Queen Elizabeth had 12, while QE 2 has only three —the largest on any merchant ship.

The QE 2 has a 32′ draft (7′ less than the Queen Mary) which means she will be able to use both the Suez and Panama Canals. Yet she is the largest two-screw merchant ship afloat, at 65,863 tons is the second largest commercial ship in the world, with a length of 963 feet.

The cost was $72,000,000. The keel was laid in August, 1965. She was launched on September 20, 1967, by H.M. Queen Elizabeth II. May the years ahead be happy and glorious.

Double Up Room—the largest public room on any merchant ship, on two levels.

Two six-bladed propellers, each weighing 32 tons.

Part of the bow being swung into position.

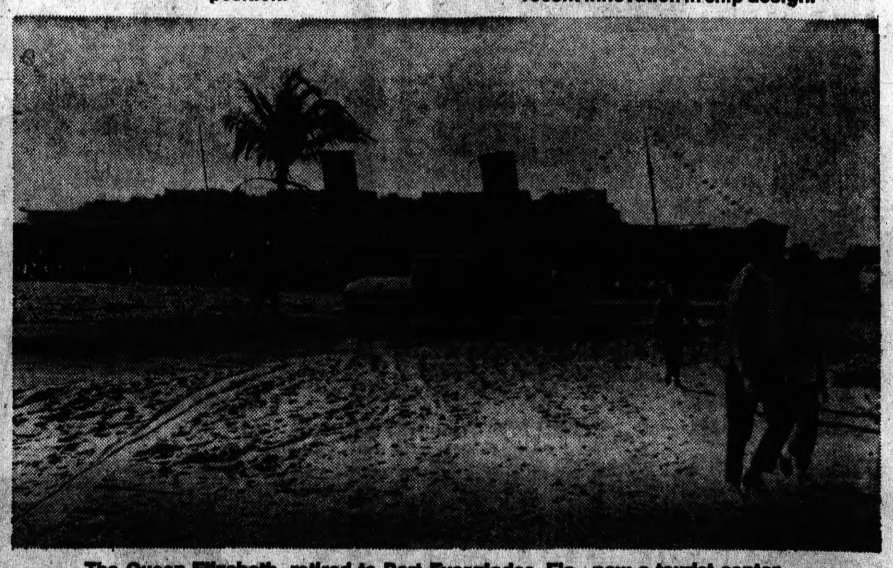

The completed bulbous bow is a recent innovation in ship design.

Entertainment in the Double Up Room, in the main room or on the upper level.

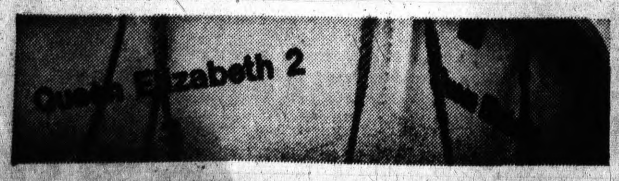

The Queen's Room—lounge extends full width of the ship.

Fortas Case Boosts Hart Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two senators hope their bill demanding full financial disclosure by congressmen will ride to passage on the crest of controversy over the Justice Abe Fortas fee incident.

Sens. Philip Hart, D-Mich., an Clifford Case, R-N.J., said they decided Monday to add federal judges to the bill's disclosure provisions in an effort to pick up support from senators concerned about Fortas' financial dealings.

★ ★ ★

Hart and Case have tried for several years to require House and Senate members to make public all outside income and holdings. Last session their bill came within four votes of passing the Senate.

But they said they didn't become optimistic about passage this year until the Fortas affair —the cyclone of criticism that whirled in after Life magazine charged the Supreme Court justice received and kept for 11 months $20,000 from the family of since-imprisoned financier Louis E. Wolfson.

Fortas said a check was "tendered" but returned without acceptance. He denied ever trying to influence the situation involving Wofson.

Amid the controversy Case decided to offer an amendment to extend their bill's provisions to the federal judiciary.

"I don't see how we can complain in the Senate about the Supreme Court justices," said Hart, "when we don't have full disclosure ourselves.

"Some of the breast thumpers in the Senate who are complaining about the Fortas case will find that they have a chance to do something about it if the bill comes to the floor for a vote," Hart said.

NOT AVAILABLE

He added the traditional answer by Senate opponents to disclosure efforts is: "We come up for review by the electorate every six years anyway."

"I wonder how the electorate can make a fair judgment when the assets of a senator are not available for public view," Hart said.

★ ★ ★

Hart said senators who vote against the bill now would have some explaining to do to their constituents.

Both houses of Congress adopted in the last session limited disclosure rules, but neither provides full public disclosure.

Senate disclosures are made in sealed envelopes to be opened only on orders of the Senate Committee on Standards and Conduct.

Top Pentagon Aide Warns of ABM Gap

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Pentagon's chief scientist says the United States will be vulnerable to a Soviet missile attack by the mid-1970s if Congress refuses to authorize the Safeguard antimissile system this year.

Dr. John S. Foster Jr. said Monday if authorization of the Safeguard system is delayed, the United States could not have an operational missile defense before 1976.

★ ★ ★

By that time, Foster said, the Soviet Union will have had in operation as long as a year a missile system capable of destroying 95 per cent of America's Minuteman silos.

"We would then be defending with too little too late," Foster told the Aviation-Space Writers Association meeting here.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY

Foster is assistant secretary of defense for research and development.

His speech came in the wake of reports that congressional opponents of Safeguard have almost enough votes to reject the system, which military planners hope to have working by 1974.

★ ★ ★

President Nixon is seeking around $900 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1 for development, tests and deployment of the first units of the system.

Estimates of the ultimate cost of the system range from $8 billion to $13 billion, depending on whether figures come from friends or foes of the project.

ALL BUT 50?

Foster warned that the Soviet Union's development of triple-warhead SS9 missiles with silo-busting capabilities could knock out all but about 50 of the 1,000 U.S. Air Force minuteman weapons if they remain undefended.

He said the Soviets already have an estimated 200 SS9s, each capable of carrying 3 five-megaton warheads and, at current deployment rates, are expected to have around 500 in 1975.

★ ★ ★

That would be more than enough needed to wipe out 95 per cent of America's Minuteman silos, Foster said.

Foster said that if authorization for deployment of the Safeguard system "were delayed until next year, the current capability would decay, and we would lose not just one year but two or more years.

"This means that the first two sites (in the northern United States) could not be in operation until 1976 at the earliest, instead of 1974."

Firm Donates $1,000 for OCC Student Loans

A $1,000 donation to the Oakland Community College Student Loan fund has been made by the Seed-Roberts Insurance Agency, Birmingham.

Under the provisions of the revoling, short-term loan program, a student may borrow up to one-half of his tuition for a period of one semester, according to Donald D. Nichols, OCC associate director of student services.

★ ★ ★

The fund is for short-term emergency needs and there is no prerequisite of financial need required. The interest charged is 3 per cent per semester although no interest is charged if the loan is repaid within 30 days, Nichols said.

The fund was established in 1968 by virtue of a donation of $150 from each of the student government organizations at the OCC Auburn Hills campus in Pontiac Township; Highland Lakes in waterford Township and Orchard Ridge in Farmington Township.

★ ★ ★

A total of 42 students have borrowed an average of $30 each from the fund, which is available to both full- and part-time students of the college.

what's a funny place for a phone?

That depends a lot on your sense of humor. If splashing through the house to answer a telephone leaves you a little cold, then perhaps there is nothing funny about an extension telephone in the bathroom or dressing room. ☐ Extension telephones save steps and let you do your telephoning from where you are. ☐ To order your extension telephone call your Michigan Bell Business Office or ask your telephone man. Organized Crime Unit Set for County

The Oakland County Prosecutor's Office will establish an organized crime division early next year, Prosecutor Thomas G. Plunkett announced today.

The new unit will be headed by Eugene S. Friedman, recently appointed by Plunkett as an assistant prosecutor.

★ ★ ★

For the last eight years Friedman has been a special agent with the Intelligence Division of the International Revenue Service in Detroit.

Presently Friedman, a Detroiter, is assigned to prosecute cases in Pontiac District Court.

REASONS FOR DELAY

Plunkett said there are several reasons for the delay in starting the new division.

First, Friedman has to become acquainted with state and local laws since he has been working under federal statutes, said Plunkett.

★ ★ ★

"Besides it will take that long for us to get additional staff members," the prosecutor said.

Plunkett said the department will not be large.

'WON'T OVERLAP'

"We don't want to overlap the work being conducted by state and federal authorities," he said. "Mainly we'll give legal advice and work closely with local police departments."

Friedman, a graduate of Wayne State Law school and the father of three children, will be assisted in the formation of the new division by F. Gerald St. Souver, investigator for the prosecutor's office.

To effectively clean the outside of an iron skillet, use oven cleaner.

'No Epidemic of Meningitis'

DETROIT (AP) — Less than two weeks after the deaths of two persons from Farmington Township from spinal meningitis, a Ferndale boy is hospitalized at Detroit with the same illness.

Despite the recurrence of the illness, Oakland County Health Department officials said there is no cause for alarm and reports of a meningitis epidemic are untrue.

★ ★ ★

Two-year-old Eric Flippo contracted the illness April 28 and has been undergoing treatment at Ford Hospital since then, officials said.

★ ★ ★

Judith L. Hilliard, 16, of 28305 Briar Hill died May 4, and George M. Andreski, 23, of 22660 Middleton died April 29, and both deaths were attributed to spinal meningitis.

New Name Proposed for County Airport

Supervisor Carl O'Brien, D-Pontiac, says he will introduce a resolution Thursday at the Board of Supervisors meeting which will change the name of Oakland - Pontiac Airport, Waterford Township, to the Willis A. Brewer Airport.

BREWER

O'Brien said he has enough support in both parties for the name change, but at least one Republican supervisor questioned the outcome of the vote.

★ ★ ★

"I suspect there may be 26 amendments to any such resolution," said Paul Kasper, R-Bloomfield Township.

Brewer is a former member of the board and has come to be known as "Mr. Democrat" in Oakland County politics.

He is a former member of the Oakland County Road Commission, former manager of the Pontiac Secretary of State's office and former Sylvan Lake councilman. He served as chairman of the county board of auditors and as Oakland County Democratic Party chairman.

Kellogg Grant to Northwestern

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The W.K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek has announced a $2.5 million grant to Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., to aid in construction of a center for the teaching professions.

The center is planned to make college and university professors more effective as teachers.

There are about 3,700,000 persons "moonlighting," that is, holding down a second job, in this country.

Investigator to Coordinate County Unit

Gerald St. Souver, chief investigator with the Oakland County prosecutor's staff, is expected to be named later this month as coordinator of the county's law enforcement committee.

And the county personnel practices committee has recommended a raise to go with the new duties.

St. Souver is expected to direct efforts of a 15-man special law enforcement committee charged with preparing a regional law enforcement program by September according to Supervisor Dennis Paron, D-Huntington Woods, special committee chairmen. The county program is in turn to be correlated with a Southeast Michigan Council of Governments plan, which officials hope will become eligible for federal funding.

St. Souver, who has been making $10,100 a year at the prosecutor's office, will be released from the prosecutor's staff while he performs the coordinator function.

The committee, on advice of Prosecutor Thomas Plunkett, has recommended a new salary scale for St. Seuver of $11,000 to $13,000 a year with the expectation that he will be paid $12,500.

The county is to be reimbursed from SEMCOG for St. Souver's salary during his efforts as law enforcement coordinator.

Plunkett, is asking for the raise, acknowledged he was in effect creating a new job. He said when St. Souver returns to county duties he will take on a new function of coordinating an organized crime and intelligence unit in the prosecutor's office. He also is expected to handle police education programs.

Python's Home Inside Walls of New York Hotel

NEW YORK (AP) — A four-foot python slid through a hole in the wall of a mid-Manhattan hotel Monday and wrapped himself around a water pipe, much to the amazement of the guest in the room, Glenn Ross.

When police arrived to check out the snake, back he went into his hole. Two patrolmen attacked the wall with crowbars, but gave up without finding the python.

★ ★ ★

Another guest in the Peerless hotel on West 45th Street, Homer Brown, told police he lost his one-foot python in November, on a previous visit there.

The snake has apparenlty lived well, within the walls, growing four-fold.

Four Are Injured in Camper Fire

CADILLAC (AP) — Moren Barney, 39, of Vicksburg was reported in critical condition Monday from burns suffered when his trailer - camper exploded and burned. Barney's wife, son and another boy who was traveling with them also were hospitalized with burns.

Police said the blast apparently was caused by a gas leak in a stove.

Czechs Line Up for Goods Before Price Increases

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovaks lined up outside shops and stores Monday to get a last crack at merchandise before expected price increases of 10 to 30 per cent today.

Some shops were closed, especially in provincial cities, and signs in the windows explained it was for changing price tags.

Czechoslovak television announced that government officials would explain new pricing and economic policies before tonight's evening news.

Price increases for consumer goods and services had long been expected. Anticipatory stocking up has put a severe strain on supplies and distribution ever since the Soviet-led invasion Aug. 20.

MARY PIERSON TODD

Mrs. Mary Pierson Todd Marks Her Hundredth Birthday Today

One hundred years ago today, Mary Pierson Todd was born in Pontiac. This afternoon, open house was held for her at the Methodist Home in Chelsea.

A dozen or more calls have come into The Press about Mrs. Todd's birthday. All her friends have wanted to make sure it is not forgotten.

Daughter of Annie E. Brown Pierson and Aaron P. Pierson, Mrs. Todd lived in Pontiac until 1965. Her father was a lieutenant in the Civil War.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Todd's husband was Dr. William F. Todd, a prominent Pontiac medical man whom she married at the age of 38 in 1907 and who died in 1931.

The couple had no children of their own, but they looked after dozens of youngsters who had no one to care for them. Mary Todd's entire life has been one of service to others.

★ ★ ★

She is a life member of the General Richardson chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and represented that group each month at meetings of the New Citizens' League. The latter group made her an honorary member.

ACTIVE LIFE

She is also a life member of Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club.

While still living in Pontiac, Mrs. Todd belonged to the Golden Age group at the Pontiac YWCA. Her talent as an elocutionist was used often in this group.

Someone reported that when Mrs. Todd first went to the home in Chelsea, she complained that there was no one there but "old" people. If age is a state of mind as well as chronological years, Mary Todd will never be old, even in her second century.

★ ★ ★

Queen of the festival expected to attract thousands of visitors, is the tulip, and the city of Holland is gaily decorated with more than eight miles of the colorful flowers in bloom.

★ ★ ★

The scrubbing Wednesday of several downtown streets is just the beginning of a multitude of concerts, parades and other displays.

CHILDREN'S PARADE

On Thursday the children's parade will feature nearly 4,000 youths dressed in native Dutch costumes and each carrying facsimiles of products made in the Netherlands.

★ ★ ★

Saturday's parade will present more than 50 high school and college bands.

Whole Deal Is Pretty "Weak" for Over-Ambitious Husband

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who demands that his wife let him stay with another woman on weekends? He claims he is "indebted" to her because she was "good" to him when he was down in the dumps and having trouble at home.

That man is my husband. He is 60, and so is this other woman. He claims there is no sex involved — just friendship. When he and I had a fight three months ago he left for a short time and admitted staying with her. Now he's back home again with a proposition. Weekends with her and week days with me.

What do you think?

ALSO SIXTY

DEAR ALSO: If you go for this proposition, your weak end is your head. Tell your husband that marriage is a full-time deal, and there's no time off for good behavior. Or "bad."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Will you settle an argument for us? When somebody ASKS you for whom you voted, what should you say? My friend says the person who is proud of his choice will come right out and say for whom he voted. I say if you prefer not to tell, it doesn't necessarily mean you are ASHAMED of your choice. What do YOU say?

JUST VOTED

DEAR JUST: I say that one's choice in voting is a personal matter, and he should not feel obliged to disclose it. It has nothing to do with being "proud" or "ashamed" — it's a matter of privacy.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a pick-up truck. It's my only means of transportation. I keep it nice and clean and polished and attempt to use it for dates. I said "attempt" to use it because I've had several dates broken because I was going to use the truck.

Two girls broke the date standing right beside it, before I could even open the door.

★ ★ ★

The odd part is that not one of these girls asked about my transportation when they accepted the date.

★ ★ ★

I dress well, and behave like a gentleman. I make a good salary, but instead of paying out for a new car I am saving for a mobile home.

★ ★ ★

Should I quit dating until I can afford to take a taxi or buy a new car? The truth is, my batting average was much better when I was wearing the sailor blues and using the old "shoe leather express."

Where are all those nice girls who would prefer a date in a pick-up truck to sitting at home? Are they back on the farm?

CAPE KENNEDY, FLA.

★ ★ ★

DEAR CAPE: Your problem isn't wheels. It's your choice of girls. There are still plenty of girls around who would like to date a well-dressed fellow who behaves as a gentleman. And they wouldn't mind being picked up in a pick-up truck either. Ask around.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO ERNIE: Show me a man who never made a mistake and I'll show you a man who never made anything. The only ones who are above making mistakes are below the sod.

Duplicate Name Starts Causing a Family Feud

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: My question concerns whether it is a breach of etiquette to give one's baby a beloved first name already in the family's current generation (a first cousin).

This concerns an accusation by my sister-in-law that I stole her baby's name, that it's against the rules of etiquette. It happened that I loved the name of Cynthia along with its being my grandmother's name and in our family for years. — Mrs. X.

Dear Mrs. X.: As far as etiquette is concerned, there is no rule that states that you must have parental permission to use the name of one of their children and give them a chance to express their feelings and gives you a chance to persuade them that it will cause no problem and is truly flattering.

★ ★ ★

Had you used the same middle name, there might be some basis for an objection, but first names are hardly "private property."

GETS A TIP

Dear Mrs. Post: In an expensive restaurant, what is the proper tipping procedure in reference to the captain (we are aware of the 20 or 25 percent addition to the bill)? — Bertha

Dear Bertha: Twenty percent is still considered a generous tip. When the tip must be divided between two people, it should certainly not exceed 25 percent, even in the most expensive restaurants.

★ ★ ★

Unless the captain actually serves or prepares some of the meal for you, it is not necessary to tip him. If he has been especially helpful, however, it is thoughtful to give him a dollar or two (depending on the bill) when you leave.

If he does perform some of the waiter's duties, you would leave a lower tip for the waiter on the table — perhaps 15 percent — and give the captain a larger sum as you leave.

PCAC Artstart Instructor Baby-Sits in Class

By JUNE ELERT

Arrangements for the care of preschoolers while mother works is a problem that hasn't come up at Margery Gibson's house. She takes her four-and-a-half-year-old twin boys with her.

Margery (Mrs. John H.) is an instructor in the "Artstart" classes at Pontiac Creative Arts Center, teaching creative drama and oral expression.

★ ★ ★

A graduate of Michigan State University with a BA in speech and speech correction, Margery taught for a time in Grand Rapids and Waterford School systems before retiring to raise four children, the older ones being Eric, 13 and Kristin, 11.

TEACHER'S ROLE

Tuesday and Thursday mornings each week, Margery and the boys relinquish the mother-child relationship as much as they can. Margery assumes the role of teacher and they become her students along with the others in each of the 15-member classes.

There are 45 children altogether. They come from Pontiac and environs, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

Fifteen are black children sponsored by COPE (Continuing Opportunities Program for Education) a federally-funded project operated through Oakland Community College which cosponsors, with PCAC, the Artstart classes.

At each two-hour session, Margery leads these children in fingerplays, storytelling, imaginative trips to faraway places (often including the local supermarket).

★ ★ ★

The goal of the course is the development of ear training and eye-hand coordination as a prelude to a successful beginning in the public school system.

Two other instructors introduce the children to crafts, drawing, creative dance, puppetry, singing, etc.

RESPONSE FANTASTIC

The youthful-looking, brown-eyed mother says she "just loves working with the children. They're so bright — their response is just fantastic. And they're honest. They'll tell you if it's 'no fun.'"

A Pontiac native, Mrs. Gibson was Margery Cote when she graduated from Pontiac Central High School in 1949.

★ ★ ★

In addition to "dabbling," as she calls it, in committee work for Meadow Brook Festival and Theatre, Margery is on the scholarship committee for Oakland University and has been taking courses at OU and Michigan State University for an advanced degree.

The rest of her time is devoted to sewing, working in the garden of the family home on Silverside Drive, and, with four children, Margery says, "I drive a lot."

Story-telling time in Margery Gibson's "Artstart" speech and drama class finds twins, Alan and Stephen, (that's Alan scratching his ear—or is it Stephen?) taking their turn with the others in adding a sentence to the great adventure.

Signing up for the state convention of the Navy Mothers' Clubs of America, Monday through Wednesday, are from left, Mrs. Neal Vander Weele of Kalamazoo, national first vice commander, and Mrs. Orville Shoemaker of Detroit, the state commander. The convention is taking place in Holiday Inn of Pontiac.

Interest Goes Higher on Student Loans

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley:

Our eldest son will be entering college next September — and we have three more who will soon follow! So I feel we should look into the financial end of it now. Maybe we may spend a little less if we know what to expect.

I have heard that the government makes federally guaranteed student loans available. Will you please advise us how to find out more about them. And how to go about applying for one?

Mrs. I. T., Chicago

Dear Mrs. T.:

The first step, I gather, has already been taken — your son has been accepted by a college. If not, he'd better apply right now, because that application must be confirmed before a federally guaranteed student loan can be obtained.

★ ★ ★

A couple of changes have been made in these government-sponsored student loans as of fairly recent date. A student may now borrow up to $150 a year regardless of whether he's just starting in college or whether he's a graduate student.

This is assuming, of course, that he's eligible, which means that the family adjusted income must be $15,000 or less, or if it's more than $15,000, the student must establish need. And repayment of the loan now isn't limited to a 10-year period, but can be spread over 15 years, starting nine months after graduation. This is how the government, through regional offices, handles these loans. State programs have some differences.

Another change in the law made recently permits a student attending a college outside his home state to qualify for a federal guaranteed loan.

The interest on these loans has gone up. Instead of the six per cent effective up until last August, it's now seven per cent, which the government pays while the student is still in school, if his family's adjusted income is $15,000 or less. The student pays the whole seven per cent when he starts repaying the loan. This is a switch from the old arrangement, whereby the government absorbed the entire interest while the student was in school and continued to assume three per cent of it when the student left school.

This arrangement held whether the government loan was obtained through a state agency or through a regional office of the Office of Education.

FORTY-NINE STATES

Forty nine states have adopted the student-pay-all — the entire seven per cent when repayment starts. The exception is New York where the student still need pay only 3 per cent interest. But a bill now before this state's legislature may result in a change in the near future, according to the New York State Higher Education Assistance Authority.

★ ★ ★

If the family adjusted income is more than 15,000, the student pays the full interest rate of seven per cent while he continues his studies.

Union Exec Finally Heeds His Calling

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — For 20 years Noah W. White Jr. wanted to spend all his life working for God because, "I love people—old people, young people, and race doesn't matter."

But economics got in the way of his full-time ministerial ambition. He had to eat, and help his 12 brothers and sisters do the same.

"Even though I was on a scholarship my family couldn't afford to let me stay in school," said White.

Last week he finally realized his ambition, quitting a union job to become pastor of a 400-member church in Sharon, Pa., just east of the Ohio line.

"It's something I wanted to do since I was 21," said White. "But I also have told the AFL-CIO I would be available to give whatever help I can in an advisory capacity.

"I don't want to completely walk away from the labor movement."

★ ★ ★

White came to Philadelphia from Salisbury, N.C., in 1950. Starting in a supermarket, he worked up to manager. Later he became business agent for a local of the Retail Clerks International.

All the while he studied nights and finally was ordained in 1956. His first pastorate was in a small Church of God in Reading, Pa. He commuted back and forth every Sunday and didn't quit his union post until he was offered the position at Sharon's Cedar Avenue Church of God.

He made $240 weekly as a union official and acknowledged he's taking a salary cut "but the parishioners are very good to me in other respects, which makes up the difference."

Junior Editors Quiz on CITIES OF GOLD

QUESTION: How was the legend of the Seven Cities of Gold started?

ANSWER: This dramatic story starts with the conquest of Mexico by the Spaniards under Cortez in 1520. The Spaniards found both gold and jewels in Mexico and began to dream of similar riches in other parts of the New World.

Indians told a fantastic story of great wealth in the little known country to the north, of a place called Cibola, where there were supposed to be seven cities piled with gold and glittering jewels.

Francisco Coronado, a Spanish explorer, led an expedition from Mexico in search of the fabulous cities early in 1540. He arrived at the country now known as New Mexico and Arizon. But the glorious cities of his dreams turned out to be Indian pueblos made of adobe, without gold, and with only turquoises instead of the precious emeralds he hoped to find.

What a strange thing history is! Columbus, searching for the Spice Islands of the East, did not realize he had discovered America.

And Coronado did not realize the full import of his own expedition — for during his trip he discovered the Continental Divide, and the Grand Canyon, which many think is the most awe-inspiring natural wonder to be seen on our planet.

She Has a Sign of His Affection

NORWOOD, Mass. (UPI) — Phyllis May has an admirer, and thousands of motorists know all about it.

The admirer, whose name Miss May refuses to reveal, purchased space on a huge billboard off the southbound lane of U.S. 1 to wish her "Happy Birthday, Number One Girl — Phyllis May."

"I am enjoying it immensely," she said.

Miss May is a private nurse who admits to being in her 30s, but would rather not divulge any personal data about herself or her admirer. That's one part that's still secret," she said with determination.

Her birthday is tomorrow, but she expects the sign to remain throughout the month.

NEW.."SLEEP+ASPIRIN" TABLETS help you
Pop right off to Sound, Safe Sleep
WITHOUT NARCOTIC SLEEPING PILLS

New York, N.Y. (Special) . . . A New York chemist has perfected a remarkable "Asper-Sleep" formula which unites in one small tablet 3 safe aids to sound, refreshing sleep. No other sleeping tablets offer so much comfort . . . yet are not habit-forming!

Never before has there been such a combination to help you solve the problem of sleeplessness—to bring restful natural-like slumber . . . without addictive drugs. No prescription is needed — just ask for "Asper-Sleep Tablets". For 100% safe sleep take as directed.

The reason you can fall asleep so fast and sleep like a log is that each Asper-Sleep tablet contains these 3 ingredients:

(1) an anti-histamine which doctors have proved as effective as the usual dose of phenobarbitol . . . yet Asper-Sleep is mild and safe.

(2) A sedative with gentle tranquilizing aid to invite mental calm.

(3) Last but not least, Asper-Sleep contains analgesic, pain-relieving aspirin. This curbs the discomforts of headaches, colds, aches, and other conditions for which aspirin is famous . . . including the minor aches and pains of arthritis and rheumatism.

So get your sleep tonight without the depressing after-effects of narcotic drugs. Asper-Sleep contains no barbiturates, no narcotics. You pop off to sleep and wake up "bright-eyed and bushy-tailed", not dull or dopey. During the night you are relaxed, yet responsive to emergencies.

Money back guarantee: We have no doubt that Asper-Sleep is the best answer to sleeplessness, the best way, the safe way to curb insomnia and give you a good night's rest . . . we just want to prove it to YOU. Unless Asper-Sleep brings you better, faster, more natural sleep than any sleeping tablet you have ever taken . . . bring back the partly-used bottle and have all your money refunded. 89¢. Ask for Asper-Sleep Tablets at druggists.

Onions, Squash to Go Where Corns Grow

WOODSTOCK, Vt. (UPI) — Woodstock Union High School this summer will boast the only athletic track in the nation where onions, pumpkins and squash can grow without fear of being trampled by spiked shoes.

"People are going to think we are nuts," said track coach Don Howard. "But we are going to turn the track into a truck garden and sell the vegetables this fall to raise money to buy uniforms for the boys."

★ ★ ★

The truck garden is only part of a story Howard said dramatizes how students can be constructive instead of destructive.

Noting only $200 was budgeted for track this year for a school with no track in the first place, Howard said approval for construction of a track came only four days before the first home meet was scheduled May 1.

BORROWS EQUIPMENT

"I borrowed a tractor and other equipment," he explained, "and while I plowed, graded and leveled the field, the boys picked up rocks and boulders and other debris."

Some events at the first triangular meet could not be held because the track wasn't completed. Howard said as soon as the meet was over, he and his 50-member team started work to finish the job.

The Woodstock team placed second and third in the two meets held.

"We did well in the field events, hurdles and 100-yard dash," the coach said. "But we fell apart on the long-distance races because the boys were building the track and never had time to practice."

When the youths were not working on their track, they were building starting blocks from scraps of donated lumber.

Howard explained how the truck garden idea came about.

He said he was sitting on the borrowed tractor one night, looking at the field, and the brainstorm came to him.

"Corn was the first crop that came to mind," said Howard, who has a degree in agriculture. "But when you harvest corn you get a field of stalks. So, I decided on onions, pumpkins and squash, which are easy to grow."

Howard said all three crops can be planted in mid-June and harvested shortly after the school's 630 students return to class in September.

"Mother nature will take care of the rest," he added.

Science classes will set out the seeds and Howard's math classes are working on formulas to determine how many rows of each vegetable it will take to cover the 220-yard long, 20-foot-wide track.

★ ★ ★

"We will plant pumpkins and squash along the outside edge of the track and onions along the inside edge," Howard said. "It should be quite colorful."

He said pumpkins and squash will be sold by the students on Saturday this fall while the onions will be put in cold storage cellars and sold in the winter.

The most populous city in the world is Tokyo, which surpassed London and New York in early 1957 and presently has in excess of 11 million population.

Bullpen Stories Bring Out Tiger in Detroit Reliefer

DETROIT (AP) — Every time Fred Lasher reads a newspaper account of the Detroit Tigers' "woeful" bullpen he steams.

"When I read that stuff in the papers about what a bad bullpen we have I get so mad I tear the paper all apart," Lasher said Monday.

The defending champion Tigers are struggling with a 13-15 record in the East Division of the American League, 6½ games behind first-place Baltimore.

★ ★ ★

TAKE CRITICISM

The Tiger bullpen has taken much of the criticism, particularly 39-year-old Don McMahon and 32-year-old Dick Radatz, who have been used often.

★ ★ ★

McMahon's earned run average for eight games is 9.00 with an 0-2 record. Radatz has a 1-2 mark with a 5.73 ERA.

Meanwhile, third-year sidearmer Lasher, and rookie Mike Kilkenny are rarely called on.

★ ★ ★

Lasher has worked 7⅓ innings without allowing a run and Kilkenny has gone six without a run and has struck out 10.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know what it takes," Lasher said. "I think I'll have to go in there (Manager Mayo Smith's office) and find out why he doesn't use me."

"Look at Kilkenny. It's the same thing," he added. "Neither of us has allowed a run and he just won't use us.

"I haven't even warmed up in the last four or five days. I feel good. I don't know what's going on."

★ ★ ★

Smith has relied lately on sometime-starter, sometime-reliever Pat Dobson. Dobson picked up his third save of the year by getting starter Denny McLain out of trouble in the eighth inning Sunday as the Tigers edged Minnesota 3-2.

★ ★ ★

Dobson's record is 0-2 and his ERA for 30⅓ innings is 3.00.

"He just doesn't have confidence in me — it must be that," reasoned Lasher of Smith's pitching decisions.

★ ★ ★

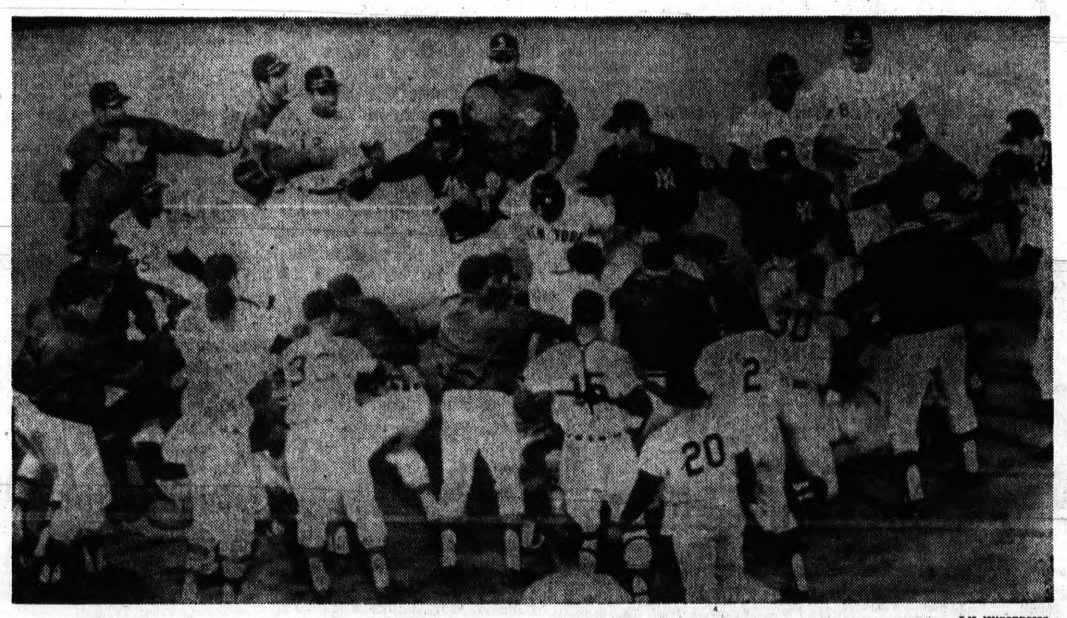

The 27-year-old right-hander from Janesville, Wis., said he's not sure if he is a long or short reliver.

"I don't know if I'm long, short or what. I'm nothing," he said.

But he mellowed and added:

★ ★ ★

"Well, there are 130-some games left and maybe things will change."

ERUPTION IN SEATTLE — It all started when New York Yankee's Bobby Murcer slid into second base and Seattle's Ray Oyler covered on the play. The two charging each made deliberate moves with elbows and legs, charged into each other. Umpire Russ Goetz (upper left) quickly leaves the scene and both teams joined the fracas on the field. Seattle won the game, 8-4, but Murcer, Oyler and Yankee manager Ralph Houk were ejected from the contest.

Pro Grid Realignment Equalizing TV Packages

NEW YORK (AP) — The pro football realignment for 1970 was a major step toward equalizing the television packages that Commissioner Pete Rozelle will try to peddle this summer.

The National Conference, including 13 of the current NFL teams, still will have the edge in top television markets with seven of the top 10. However, it shares two of them New York and San Francisco-Oakland with the new American Conference, which will be seen in five of the 10.

MIDWEST INTEREST

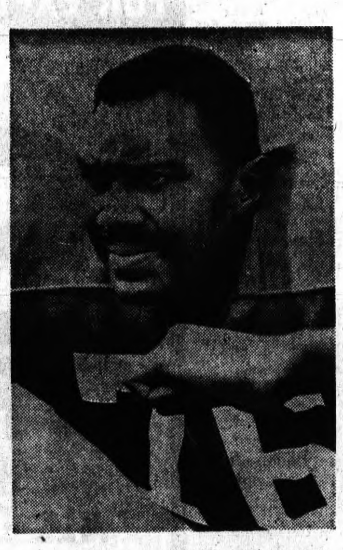

Of equal importance to the networks is the move of Cleveland and Baltimore into the AFL-oriented group because it provides midwest interests, which has been minimal, and also adds punch to the southern market where the Baltimore Colts once ruled the roost.

In other years, a Chicago Bear fan who was looking for a game to watch when the Bears were home and he was in the blacked out area, had little interest in most AFL offerings. Now he will be able to watch a Cleveland or Baltimore game, presumably on another network.

When Rozelle goes shopping for his new television contracts he will be asking for more money than the current deals. The AFL gets $36 million for five years or about $7.2 million a year. The NFL gets $18 million a year. All contracts expire with the end of the 1969 season.

The television proceeds per club average about $800,000 to AFL teams and $1.2 million to NFL teams. To raise all clubs to the $1.2 million level, the new contract would have to call for an additional $4 million.

Presumably the networks now holding the rights, NBC for the AFL and CBS for NFL, will be contacted by Rozelle before any other network is approached. The new Hughes Sports Network, formerly Sports Network, could be a dark horse contender.

TRADED — Bob Brown, (above), All-NFL offensive tackle for the Philadelphia Eagles, was traded to the Los Angeles Rams yesterday for tackle Joe Carollo, guard Don Chuy and defensive back Irv Cross. Brown had asked to be traded.

Brown 'Ecstatic' Over Deal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bob Brown now is a happy man, which means there'll be plenty of unhappiness for the Los Angeles Rams' opposition. "I'm so ecstatic I can hardly find words to describe my feelings . . .

"I just feel great," the 27-year-old All-National oFotball eLague offensive tackle said Monday atfer the Philadelphia Eagles traded him to the Rams in a five-player deal.

★ ★ ★

Along with the 6-foot-4, 295 pound lineman, often called the best in the business, the Eagles sent cornerback Jim Nettles to the Rams in return for tackle Joe Carollo, guard Don Chuy and defensive back Irv Cross.

★ ★ ★

The Eagles reacted quickly after Brown told them Monday morning he wanted to be traded. He had given General Manager Pete Retzlaff a trade-me or-else ultimatum.

Brown said his refusal to play a sixth season with the Eagles was "personal", but he wouldn't elaborate.

"I have no intention of airing my grievances," Brown told newsmen after talking to Retzlaff, a former teammate. "I want to leave without recriminations, just as quietly as possible."

Retzlaff said he was "very pleased with the trade ... and I guess Bob is."

In Los Angeles, Coach George Allen of the Rams expressed complete satisfaction in the deal.

"Bob Brown is the finest offensive linemen in pro football and with Brown and Charlie Cowman, the Rams will have the finest set of offensive tackles in the game," he exuded.

Brown was the Eagles' No. 1 draft choice in 1964. He signed for a reported $100,000 bonus out of Nebraska, where he was an All-American. He was the NFL's Rookie of the Year in 1964, was All-NFL in 1965 and 1966 and played in the Pro Bowl in 1966 and 1967.

Exhibition Tilts in 'Prime Time'

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Football League will invade "prime time" for five night exhibition games on television this summer—three on Saturday and two on Sunday.

The first game will be Cleveland vs. San Francisco at Seattle at 6 p.m. EDT Sunday, Aug. 10; the other four are Green Bay vs. Chicago at Milwaukee, 9:30 p.m. EDT Saturday, Aug. 16; Washington vs. Detroit at Tampa, Fla., 6:30 p.m. EDT. Saturday, Aug. 30; New York at Minnesota 6:30 p.m. EDT Saturday, Sept. 6 and Baltimore at Dallas, 9 p.m. EDT Sunday, Sept. 14.

The NFL has been attempting to get regular season games in prime time — after 7:30 p.m. — every week but the networks have resisted because their regular programming usually gets higher ratings than the football games do.

Bruins Trade Shack, Lonsberry to Kings

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League traded left wingers Eddie Shack and Ross Lonsberry to the Los Angeles Kings Monday night for forward-defenseman Ken Turlik and the West Division club's first amateur draft choices in 1971 and 1973.

The deal was the second major trade within a week for the Bruins. They sent winger Tommy Williams and defenseman Barry Gibbs to Minnesota for the North Stars' first amateur draft choice this year, and a player to be named later.

Oyler in Middle of Brawl

Pilots Top Nervous Yankees

SEATTLE (AP) — The New York Yankees came to town with their nerves showing Monday night and lost their 12th game in the last 13 starts, but not without a wild free-for-all in the third inning that punctuated their 8-4 defeat by the Seattle Pilots.

It was the Yanks' fifth consecutive loss and Seattle's fourth straight victory.

★ ★ ★

New York's Bobby Murcer and Seattle's Ray Oyler were thumbed out of the game for fighting and then umpire Russ Goetz tossed New York Manager Ralph Houk out for using what he said was indecent language.

"There's been too much of this stuff," said Goetz after the game, adding he would make a full report to American League President Joe Cronin.

Murcer had put the Yanks in front with a first-inning, two-run homer but the lead was brief.

THREE WALKS

Seattle's first three batters walked and Tommy Davis slammed the first of his two doubles to score three runs.

Jose Vidal's triple, followed by a pair of singles, ran the count to 7-2.

From there on, Marty Pattin, pitched steady ball to earn his fifth victory against a single defeat.

But Pattin's brush-back pitch near Murcer's head in the third irritated the Yank third baseman. When Murcer rapped a single into right field, he didn't stop at first but barrelled on to second, colliding with Oyler.

"He came in high with his elbow raised," Oyler said.

"Sure I was unhappy about that pitch," reported Murcer. "I don't like anybody to throw at me. But I didn't intend to start anything.

"After we collided, Oyler jumped on me and then I jumped back and then everybody was on top and I couldn't move."

Both teams streamed from the dugouts to get into the melee but no visibly damaging blows were struck.

In about 10 minutes order was restored and then Houk charged back out at Goetz, the second base umpire, when he learned Murcer had been called out on the play.

Houk thought Oyler had dropped the ball. Oyler and Goetz both said the former put the ball down voluntarily as the argument began.

Exercising Horse Proving Helpful to John Longden

BALTIMORE (AP) — Trainer Johnny Longden can't get any information straight from his horse's mouth. But he picks up valuable tips sitting on the back of Majestic Prince.

"I guess I have a little edge by working my own horse," Longden said of the Kentucky Derby winner who goes after his second leg of the Triple Crown in Saturday's $150,000-added Preakness at Pimlico.

★ ★ ★

"By exercising my horse, I can tell by his actions when something is bothering him," said the former jockey, who won a record 6,032 races. "Then I can use my own judgment instead of relying on someone else. I get my information first hand, because I'm always there."

Longden recalls Majestic Prince once acted a bit sluggish during a workout at Santa Anita and a subsequent check showed he had a temperature of 102 degrees.

Right now, Longden reports Majestic Prince is coming up to the 1 3-16-mile Preakness in fine shape, but the trainer still appears to be on the defensive about his unbeaten 3-year-old colt.

HARD RIGHT — Emile Griffith (right) follows through after landing a solid right to the head of Stan Hayward during the early going in their 12-round fight last night in Madison Square Garden. Griffith was awarded a unanimous decision that placed him in a position for a possible title fight with middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti of Italy.

Emile Griffith Seeks Title Bout

NEW YORK (UPI) — Emile Griffith and Nino Benvenuti need no introductions, and they wasted no time renewing their acquaintance after Griffith won an easy 12-round decision over Stanley "Kitten" Hayward Monday night in Madison Square Garden.

Griffith, on a quest for a fourth middleweight title meeting with Benvenuti, took advantage of a cut over Hayward's left eye and methodically punched out a lopsided victory that avenged a defeat last October in Philadelphia.

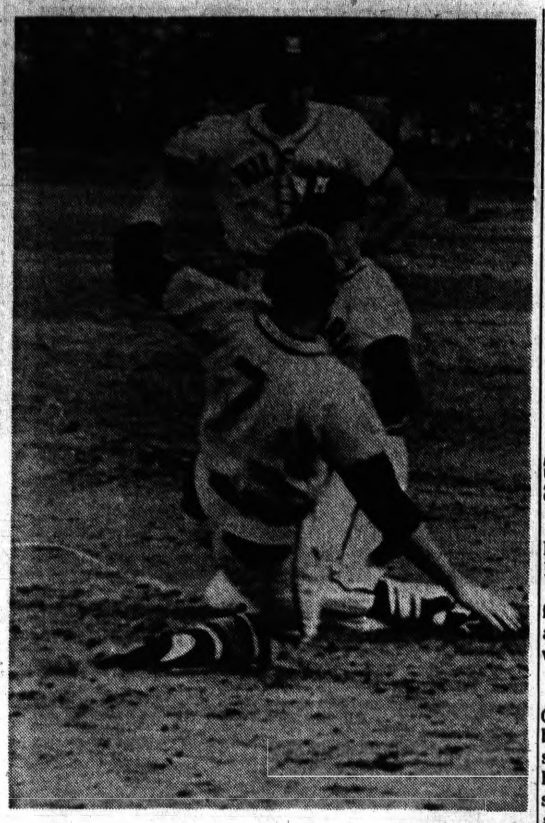

"It's all up to Nino now," said Griffith. "I am ready for him. We fought three times and twice he took something from me that I cherish very much. I want it back, but he's the champion. He must make the decision."

The 31-year-old Griffith showed no signs of weariness after the fight, and he said that the only time he was hurt was when Hayward landed a hard right to the head in the fourth round.

Benvenuti watched the bout at ringside and seemed less than impressed.

"I can see that Griffith does not move as fast as he used to," said the Italian champion, "but that is the way it looks outside the ring. I will fight him again."

2 No-Hitters in Wayne-Oakland Play

ARRIVES SAFELY — Northville ace Stan Nirider slides safely into second base in the first inning as Milford second baseman Ken Thorpe takes a late throw from catcher Larry Vick. Following the successful steal, Nirider scored on a double by pitcher Jeff Taylor. Milford scored once in the ninth to win, 3-2, and remain unbeaten in Wayne-Oakland League play.

It's feast or famine for West Bloomfield pitcher Mickey Elwood.

The Lakers of West Bloomfield have won twice this season and Elwood has won them both via the no-hit route.

★ ★ ★

The senior right-hander tamed Clarenceville yesterday, 4-0, but he had to share the spotlight with another right-hander, Dennis Wooster, who set Brighton down without a hit as Kettering triumphed, 7-0.

LEADER WINS

While the no-hitters claimed most of the attention, another noteworthy game was played at Milford where the host Redskins scored in the bottom of the ninth for a 3-2 win over Northville and raised their league-leading record in the Wayne-Oakland to 8-0.

★ ★ ★

In the other game, Clarkston, playing without seniors who were on a trip, dropped an 11-4 contest to Bloomfield Hills Andover.

GOOD HIT, TOO

Elwood struck out 16 and walked only two and proved his bat was as good as his arm as he lashed four singles and drove in two runs.

★ ★ ★

Wooster, the likely choice for Kettering (7-1) when the Captains host Milford Thursday, faced only 23 batters, fanning 14 and walking a trio.

SHARP AT PLATE

Like Elwood, Wooster proved an able performer at the plate as he collected a double and single and a pair of RBI.

★ ★ ★

Outfielder Matt Partridge slapped a wrong-field single to left with two down in the bottom of the ninth to send catcher Larry Vick scooting in from second base with the winning run for Milford.

TIMELY RETURN

Second baseman Ken Thorpe, just returning to the Milford lineup after a four-game absence with an injured hand, chased the Redskins' first two runs across with a third-inning single.

★ ★ ★

Stan Nirider, who collected two hits in five trips for Northville, scored twice, tallying in the first on Jeff Taylor's double and in the third on Pat Cayley's single.

★ ★ ★

Larry Appleby collected a home run and double and drove in four runs to pace the Andover attack.

★ ★ ★

Tom Lane rapped a two-run homer for Clarkston in the fifth and Tom Gates, making his first trip at the plate in a varsity uniform, clouted another roundtripper.

Brother Rice Runners Clinch Title

The Warriors of Birmingham Brother Rice clinched the Detroit Catholic League dual track championship yesterday with an 89-28 victory over Detroit Austin.

The decision left the Warriors with a 5-0 mark against league competition.

★ ★ ★

Setting the pace for the Brother Rice squad was Rich Park, who captured the low (21.0) and high (16.4) hurdles.

The Warriors captured all but two events.

Waterford Mott had a double winner in Doug Woods as the Corsairs routed Southfield Lathrup 83-35 and Bloomfield Andover victimized Clarenceville 105-13 by slamming four events.

★ ★ ★

The Barons had Kent Jocque as a double winner and had an easy time in sweeping all 14 events.

Pontiac Central strengthened its bid for the Saginaw Valley baseball title yesterday by taking a pair of games from Flint Central, 4-2 and 5-2.

The Chiefs now have a 7-2 record in the SVC and prior to last night were trailing Bay City Central by a half game.

Victor Quince struck out 12 in the opener and received batting help from Terry Valerio who hit a two run homer in the first inning and a two-run double by Dennis Brown.

Clyde Duncan had four hits in the two games, including a pair of doubles in the first contest.

Steven Bass was the winning pitcher in the second game and Quince helped his cause with a double and rbi as did Duncan, in the 4-run fifth inning.

Tom Stafne relieved Bass in the 6th and stopped a Flint Central rally after two runs.

Pontiac Northern took over first place in the Inter-Lakes Conference baseball race yesterday by defeating Livonia Stevenson 10-2, while the other challenger, Waterford remained idle.

In another league game Farmington defeated Lathrup, 5-1 with a five-run inning.

Waterford will meet Walled Lake Thursday in a makeup game.

Livonia Stevenson took a 2-0 lead over Pontiac Northern on doubles by Matt Stahurski and Steve Kuhlman, each of which was followed by an infield error.

The Huskies broke loose in the bottom of the fourth, loading the bases on singles on the first three pitches by Larry Heltsley, Dave Clancy and Larry Crivea. An error and bases-loaded walk tied the game with two out.

Then a wild pitch and two errors on the same play let all three runners circle the sacks. Heltsley added an RBI-double to cap the Huskies' five-run sixth inning.

The win breaks a tie between the Spartans (4-2) and PNH (5-1) avenging the only Northern league loss and giving it five straight in the Inter-Lakes League race.

Vic Forrester's single with the bases loaded and a two-run double by Mark Donoghue, along with an RBI single by Bill Lee accounted for the five runs for Farmington.

League-leading Farmington Our Lady (5-0) knocked off Waterford Our Lady yesterday, 9-1, while both Orchard Lake St. Mary and Ferndale St. James won to stay a game off the pace at 4-1.

The Eaglets of Orchard Lake St. Mary, behind the five-hit pitching of Tim Megge, whipped St. Francis de Sales, 12-4, while St. James pushed across a pair of runs in the top of the sixth to pin a 6-4 setback on Pontiac Catholic (2-3).

★ ★ ★

Junior southpaw Ross Patton fanned 6 in setting the Lakers of Waterford OLL (0-6) down on just two hits. Sophomore Don Blouin provided the support for Patton with two singles and a triple and four RBI.

Five Horses Die in Stable Fire at Garden State

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Five racehorses and possibly more died in a fire that destroyed a 56-horse stable at the Garden State Race Track early today.

★ ★ ★

Cherry Hill police reported that a search was continuing for other horses who might have perished in the blaze but that five of the animals had been found dead.

An eyewitness to the blaze, James Terlizzi of Union City, N.J., an employee at the track, said he believed six to 10 of the horses had been killed by the fire.

Cranes Net 2 Victories

Cranbrook's busy weekend trip to Pennsylvania resulted in the Cranes sweeping Inter-State Prep League net decisions over Kiski, 5-0, and Shady Side, 3-2 for a 3-0 mark in the circuit.

★ ★ ★

However, the baseball team had to settle for a split and is 2-1. "Howdy" Jones stymied Kiski, 7-1; but the Cranes managed only two safeties in losing an 8-2 verdict to Shady Side.

Second Win for Champion

Day's Sanitary Rolls in Waterford Play

Defending champion Day's Sanitary Service chalked up its second win without a loss last night in Waterford recreation softball by downing Midget Bar, 6-3.

Timberlane Lounge defeated C. Weedon Construction, 6-4, in the other game.

★ ★ ★

A triple by Paul Adkins highlighted a three-run first inning for the Day team. John Herrington checked Midget (1-1) on four hits. He struckout nine.

★ ★ ★

Timberlane (2-1) broke a 2-2 game open with three runs in the sixth. Jerry Strebe singled home the go ahead run and the other two were unearned. Weedon (0-2) was held to four hits by Roger Reynolds who fanned nine.

Garcia Top Scorer in Chiefs' Triumph

Special to The Press

FLINT — Pontiac Central easily won the Saginaw Valley Conference track championship here last night and in the process stamped itself as a definite contender for state laurels.

Led by record performances from John Costello and Ken Long and the high scoring of Rolly Garcia, the Chiefs amassed 57½ points. Midland was a distant second with 39 and Flint Central scored 33.

★ ★ ★

This was the last meet involving the current nine members. Three schools will be added and the SVC split into two divisions next fall.

PCH will start its drive toward a possible state title in the Class A regional meet Saturday at Waterford Township. The Chiefs will be heavily favored to win their fourth straight regional crown.

Costello broke his own SVC record of 4:22.7 in the mile by one-tenth of a second. He was nine seconds ahead of the second place runner.

Long's 1:58 in the 880 eclipsed the eight-year-old record of 1:58.4 set by Flint Central's John Shaw. He was pushed to the mark by teammate Gerald Williams who was timed in 2:00.5. Costello and Long are Central's co-captains.

★ ★ ★

Garcia piled up 12½ points. He won the long jump in 23-1½, missing Hayes Jones' 1956 mark by an inch and a half, placed second in the 100, fourth in the 220 and ran a leg on the fourth-place 880 team.

Sophomore Campy Russell pulled a mild surprise by giving the Chiefs a first place in the high jump at 6-3. Roger Butler of PCH was second and also was runnerup in the pole vault. He equaled the winning vault of 12-9 by Bay City Central's Bruce Remington, but dropped down a notch because of more misses.

This was the first SVC title for coach Roger Shepler. The Chiefs won the crown in 1967 during Dean Wilson's last season.

'Wounded' Angels Defeat Senators, 3-2

ANAHEIM (AP) — California's walking wounded try to make it two in a row over slumping Washington tonight, after taking a 3-2 decision from the Senators Monday night.

"I felt like we were running Good Samaritan Hospital on our bench," snapped Angel Manager Bill Rigney.

The injury list grew to a half dozen Monday night as Lou Johnson strained his back, Rick Reichardt complained of a stiff right shoulder and pitcher Jim McGlothlin was beaned in the pre-game warm-up.

Catcher-infielder Tom Satriano dislocated the ring finger on his throwing hand Sunday, pitcher Phil Ortega suffered a fractured jaw in a brawl late Saturday night, and relief pitcher Pedro Borbon came down with appendicitis last week.

Satriano, Johnson, Reichardt and McGlothlin are not too seriously injured and could play tonight, although not at 100 per cent.

In another outing, Bloomfield Hills Andover ran its record to 8-1 in Wayne-Oakland League play and to 9-1 over-all with a 4-1 decision over Clarenceville.

Gibson Hurls, Bats St. Louis Past Dodgers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Catcher Joe Torre has a simple explanation for Bob Gibson's style: "He doesn't like to lose."

Gibson, the St. Louis Cardinals' fireballing right-hander led the Cards to a 6-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Monday night. He had a perfect night at the plate, getting three hits, drove in two runs and stole a base. He did some record-tying pitching, too.

Torre had helped Gibson to his lead by doubling in one run in the first. Julian Javier drove in three runs, one on a homer off loser Claude Osteen in the fifth and two more in the seventh.

Prep Front

By JERE CRAIG

The Don Haskins' Method of how not to win friends and influence your peers in one easy lesson has spread to Birmingham.

Haskins was, and is again, the basketball coach at Texas-El Paso who said he'd be happy to succeed Bob Calihan as the mentor at the University of Detroit, then called back a few days after his press conference to say he'd be happier to stay where he was.

Now, the practice of saying yes and then thinking it over is gaining popularity in the Groves High School search for a new football coach.

Terry Hurley of St. Clair Shores became the second prep grid coach to accept the position at Groves and then drop it like a thin-handled bat that's just caught an inside fast ball on a cold day.

Detroiter Hal Beardslee was the first. Groves' distressed selection committee was impressed with the sincerity of both men when the job was offered them, and it still has five other prime candidates on its list to consider.

SERIOUS DOUBTS

But the group must be having some serious doubts about the irresponsible attitude some younger coaches are showing. Maybe a review of the qualifications for the job is in order.

The lack of respect for property and the rebellious, self-centered attitude of too many high school and college students today certainly demands a highly selective method of appointing the coaches as well as the teachers and administrators who are to work with and guide the younger generation.

While the search for a new grid coach goes on, Groves is also seeking a new athletic allignment within the county. Five schools figure prominently in the proposition and a sixth has declined a bid.

Bloomfield Hills Lahser, Royal Oak Dondero, Southfield Lathrup and Oak Park appear likely to join Groves. The Birmingham school has officially signaled its resignation from the Northwest Suburban AA effective at the end of the 1969-70 school year.

Lahser, who will start a two-year commitment in the Oakland A League next fall, and Dondero, a long-time member of the Border Cities League, have expressed definite interest.

Lathrup reportedly is anxious to withdraw from the Inter-Lakes League although the Chargers are just finishing their first year of competition therein.

Oak Park, too, is a Northwest Suburban member who is ready to consider the proposed new allignment; but North Farmington does not appear ready to pull out and make it a six-team South Oakland conference.

One Grosse Pointe school has shown some interest, but travel distances don't encourage its includion. Indidations are a five-team or even maybe a four-team setup might be acceptable for the first year or two.

The obligations to fulfill home-and-home contracts within their present leagues will undoubtedly keep the new league from swinging into regular competition before the 1971-72 school year.

Ready to become a fulltime member of the Pontiac Catholic coaching staff is Joe Garcia, a Wayne State graduate who already has worked extensively with the younger Titan athletes.

OCC Quints Slate Dates for Tourneys

The three Oakland Community College basketball teams will spend part of the 1969 Christmas vacation trying to pick up a tournament championship.

The Auburn Hills campus will be playing the role of host for the junior college tourney which is slated for the court at Oakland University.

Along with Auburn Hills, Orchard Ridge and Highland Lake of OCC will be Highland Park, Henry Ford, Kellogg, Muskegon and Schoolcraft.

The round-robin event is slated to open on Monday, Dec. 22, halt for a Christmas break and then continue on Dec. 26 and 27. Four games are slated for each day at 2, 4, 6 and 8 p.m.

Penny Squad Still Unbeaten

Penny Mfg., remained unbeaten and on top of the Walled Lake Industrial softball league by defeating Pyles' Lumber, 11-2.

In another game, Haggerty Lumber topped WL Building Supply, 6-3.

Skippers Take 8 First Places

Clarkston Edges Avon for Second Place

Waterford won eight events and swept the top three places five times to win a triangular track meet against Clarkston and Avondale yesterday.

The Skippers scored 99 points to 25 for Clarkston and 24 for Avondale.

Mike Daly took a pair of firsts and helped in the relays while Rick Pearson won one event and placed second in two others.

Avondale and Clarkston each won two firsts, and it was Clarkston's mile relay team which finished second which gave the Wolves enough points to edge out the Jackets.

Grave Digger Buries SF

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Rookie Richie Hebner got the key to the suburban city of McKeesport. His next may be Pittsburgh's.

★ ★ ★

The 21-year-old third baseman, hit a triple, double and two singles, drove in a run and scored the tying and winning runs as Pittsburgh scored a comeback victory over San Francisco 4-3 Monday night.

★ ★ ★

Hebner, a chatty guy, takes a lot of kidding from his teammates for his off season work-grave digging.

★ ★ ★

'I'll go back to digging graves this winter," he said. "Some people think it's degrading, but I enjoy it. It keeps me in shape and it's a nice quiet job," he mused.

★ ★ ★

Hebner sports a .392 average, second in the National League, and has driven in 10 runs.

The Pirates crept back from a 3-0 deficit to win in the ninth.

Cubs' Pitcher Improves Mark

CHICAGO (AP) — Chances for Ferguson Arthur Jenkins to record a third straight season of 20 or more pitching victories improved considerably Monday.

The lanky Canadian, who toils for the Chicago Cubs, finally won a game at home as he blanked San Diego 2-0 on five hits.

Jenkins, only Cub pitcher to put together consecutive 20-game seasons since Lon Warneke did it in 1934-35, heaved a sigh of relief in boosting his record to 5-2.

Senior Golf Event Going to Las Vegas

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 13th annual U.S. National Senior Open Golf Championship for a $70,000 purse will be held in Las Vegas, Nev., Sept. 15-21, President George McCallister announced today.

Tommy Bolt, eligible for the first time last year when he reached 50, won the 1968 event with a record 72-hole total of 265, five strokes under the previous mark.

★ ★ ★

Courses to be played are the Tropicana, Paradise Valley and Winterwood golf clubs.

Avondale, Oxford, Orion in Golf Wins

Larry Davis fired a 38 yesterday at Bald Mountain to lead Avondale to its eighth golf victory of the season against one loss.

★ ★ ★

The Yellow Jackets downed Madison Heights Lamphere, 223-228.

In other matches, Dennis Wait's 44 sparked Oxford to a 193-209 win over Romeo at Romeo CC and Hoyt Fredricks shot a 39 for Lake Orion as the Dragons edged Bloomfield Hills Lahser, 172-174, at Oxford Hills.

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

The continent-wide charity game of the American Contract Bridge League produced some very interesting hands this year. The expert analysis of hand No. 1 was that South would wind up at one no-trump or East at two hearts. A good North-South score would be one no-trump making three or four and a good East-West score would be two hearts bid and made.

We watched one South get a nice top because he was crowded in the bidding by his opponents. The club opening and diamond overcall were normal.

East's jump to two hearts was one of those modern nuisance bids described as "preemptive jump responses." It was pre-emptive but South refused to be pre-empted out of the action. He made an overbid of two no-trump and North raised to game.

West's heart opening was won by East's ace. The club return went to West's king and a second club was won by dummy's queen. South came to his hand with a heart. He led his nine of diamonds and let it ride.

East collected a surprise trick with his jack but South didn't care. He knew that he was in a fine contract and wanted to guard against the slight chance that West had started with all four missing diamonds.

★ ★ ★

East led his last club. South was in with the ace. He led a second diamond and finessed dummy's queen. There was no problem about the king of diamonds. West needed it for his opening bid.

When the queen of diamonds held, South claimed the rest of the diamonds suit for his nine tricks and gave West the last two tricks with the ace of spades and a good club. Three no-trump was enough. He didn't need the overtrick.

What do you do now?

A—Bid either four spades or four hearts. In duplicate we tend to bid four spades; in rubber bridge we bid four hearts on account of the honors.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You do bid four spades and North continues to five spades. What do you do now?

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Some friends may appear morose. Your task is to do some cheering. Some of your hopes, wishes are subject to revision. Necessary to be more practical, realistic. Then you gain.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Don't neglect duties. Basic issues may be at stake. Check details. Be observant. Apparent minor matter could be more important than you imagine. Steady pace is better than speed.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Travel connected with duty, job is indicated. Necessary to complete assignment. Take special care with communications, written word. You are held to promises.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Money of close associate becomes your concern. Key is to aim for security. Don't do anything to upset domestic situation. Change of residence comes up for discussion.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Someone you count on may be indisposed. Know this and be prepared. Draw upon past experience. Take special care in any legal matter.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Slow pace. There is pressure but you can succeed. Important to come to agreement with associate, co-worker. Don't be rushed into any foolish action.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Face facts concerning children, affair of the heart. If realistic, you gain. Otherwise, you could be leaving yourself open for punishment. Act accordingly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Home, property come into spotlight of attention. Fresh viewpoint proves beneficial. Be aware of security requirements. Behind-scenes maneuver plays dominant role.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Avoid unnecessary journey. Running away from problem is opposite from constructive. Some of your ideas today are not based on facts.

IF WEDNESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you possess intellectual curiosity. You are attractive and, if single, marriage could occur this year. You are in a very significant period and financial bonanza is due.

But He Waited, Watched

Lagoon Takes His Pal's Life

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The little boy sat at the edge of the water, his elbows propped on his knees.

He watched without expression as the men of the harbor patrol dragged their nets through the scum-covered, log-strewn lagoon.

The firemen offered to take him home in their shiny red truck. They told him he could ride up front right next to the driver and ring the bell and be the envy of every kid on his block.

They didn't want him to be there when they finally pulled his friend's body from the water.

But 8-year-old Mark Wakefield would have none of it.

"I'm staying here with my friend," he shouted. "I ain't gonna leave him. He'll be okay. I gotta watch his bike."

Mark stayed and the firemen left him alone.

★ ★ ★

They went back to their search for Kennedy Lockett, also eight, whose body was hidden somewhere beneath the debris of the polluted lagoon where the boys had gone while playing hooky Monday afternoon.

They had been skipping across the floating logs. Kennedy had slipped, plunged beneath the surface and disappeared. Three Coast Guardsmen standing nearby dove in after him.

'UNDER THAT LOG'

"He's over under that log," Mark called to them. They looked under the log. Kennedy wasn't there.

As the authorities set up their dredging equipment, Mark stationed himself next to a small pile of Kennedy's belongings and watched. He watched for over an hour, not moving, not saying a word except to refuse offers of a ride home.

★ ★ ★

Then they asked him once more and he accepted.

"He's dead now." Mark said. "But he'll be okay. We had a lotta fun here today."

A BOY'S VIGIL — Mark Wakefield, 8, sits on a tree snag while authorities at Portland, Ore., drag a lagoon for the body of his friend, Kennedy Lockett, 8, who had fallen in while playing. After an hour, Mark finally agreed to go home. His friend's body was recovered a few minutes later.

Earlier School Urged for Poor

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The state superintendent of public instruction called Monday for an education program for 3- and 4-year-old children to help cut deficiencies in schooling of the poor.

"Society waits too long before it attempts to address itself to the educational needs of youngsters," said Dr. Ira Polley. "This delay is the more tragic insofar as underprivileged youngsters are concerned."

Polley made the comments in a speech prepared for delivery to the Statewide Conference on Compensatory Education.

"The educational deficiencies of the children locked in poverty and discrimination will not be dealt with successfully until there is a comprehensive program for 3-year-old and 4-year-old youngsters," he said.

Last fall, Polley pointed out, the State Board of Education resubmitted a $3-million budget request so that beginning programs could be provided for 20,000 4-year-old youngsters.

"Unhappily," he said, "The evidence at the present time does not suggest that this request has an optimistic future, at least in the spring of 1969."

Boys Irked by Campus Strife Become Patriotism-Joggers

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — Bearing an American flag, 30 seniors of Owensboro Catholic High School have completed an 180-mile relay jog as a protest against campus protesters.

The youths, tired but happy, finished their 22-hour journey from the state capitol at Frankfort Monday.

★ ★ ★

"We had a job to do that was more or less patriotism," said Mike Mills, one of the joggers. "If we failed, then the whole school had failed. We did the job."

Tom St. Maxens, the student government president, who conceived the idea for the patriotic run, commented "The stiffness is just beginning to settle in on everybody."

CONVOY OF CANS

Earlier the mood was one of jubilation, as a 100-car entourage led the group into Owensboro.

"It seemed everybody in town had turned out to welcome us," said one runner.

★ ★ ★

Senior Class President Bernie Ballard carried the flag the last leg. "The closer I got to the high school, the faster I wanted to go," said Ballard.

At the end of the journey, St. Maxens ran the flag up the pole in front of the school while a crowd of 200 joined in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance and singing the national anthem.

The relay started Sunday afternoon with the first runner, Phi Carrico, carrying the flag which had been flown over both the nation's capitol at Washington and the state capitol.

★ ★ ★

The boys traveled in groups of six, jogging all night through intermittent, chilling rain.

While some ran, others found time to nap in cars, a house under construction and even in a jail. Grayson County Jailer Franklin Stanton treated the boys who slept in his cells to breakfast.

★ ★ ★

Six autos manned by friends and relatives followed the boys as they made their way along Kentucky's hilly back roads.

CHEERED HOME

As the sun came up, people began to appear along the roadside to cheer the students home.

"We might have been tired, but when we saw all the people to meet us, we were rejuvenated," said Carl Greenwell.

★ ★ ★

When it was all over St. Maxens said he hoped the run would become an annual event.

Silent School Prayer Bill Gains in N. J.

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — A controversial bill permitting silent prayer or meditation in public schools was given final legislative approval by the State Senate Monday over objections that it was "clearly illegal."

The measure, which passed by a 30-4 vote, is similar to one approved by the legislature last year, then vetoed by Gov. Richard J. Hughes.

★ ★ ★

It would permit a teacher to have her class observe a minute of silence during which time the students could "meditate" on religious subjects or other things.

Lawyer Ordered to Stand Trial

HOWELL (AP) — Martin J. Lavan, Brighton attorney and long-time power in Livingston County Democratic politics, has been ordered by a three-judge panel to stand trial on misconduct charges lodged against him by the State Bar of Michigan.

The bar asks revocation of the 66-year-old Lavan's license as a lawyer.

The panel of three circuit judges Monday gave Lavan 20 days to file answers to accusations made by the bar, adding that it will set a formal hearing within 50 days.

"Respondent may be present personally or represented by counsel," Hillsdale Circuit Judge Robert W. McIntyre wrote in drafting the panel's order filed with the Livingston County clerk.

Lavan pleaded illness in failing to attend a bar grievance committee hearing earlier this year, and physicians have reported him suffering from cardio vascular ailments which might endanger his life if he were forced to attend a hearing.

Lavan has denied any wrongdoing, and any final decision reached by the panel would be subject to Supreme Court review.

Welfare Mothers Eyed as Slum Aides

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration is considering using a militant organization of welfare mothers as the administration's broker in dealing with disadvantaged slum dwellers.

Under a plan now on the desk of Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch, a grant of $100,000 a year would be made to the National Welfare Rights Organization. The NWRO would use the money to guide persons with physical, emotional and other disabilities to state vocational rehabilitation and other agencies.

★ ★ ★

NWRO is made up almost entirely of mothers on relief. A year ago the mothers staged a shouting match with Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., during his committee's consideration of a plan to restrict welfare payments. The mothers also staged a confrontation with police on Capitol Hill a year ago during the early days of the Poor People's Campaign.

NWRO was formed in August 1967 with the goals of jobs or income now, decent jobs with adequately pay for those who can work, an adequate income for those who cannot."

250 AFFILIATES

It claims 250 affiliated local welfare rights organizations with more than 30,000 members in 100 cities. Often the local organizations have demonstrated, too.

In Michigan, the mothers promoted several protests, including a demonstration at the Washtenaw County Building in Ann Arbor where they demanded increased welfare payments to provide school clothing for their children. In Ohio, they participated in a march on the state capitol.

★ ★ ★

Undersecretary John G. Veneman of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), confirmed the proposal.

He said the department is reviewing an application from the National Self-Help Corp., an agency established by NWRO.

$100,000 A YEAR

The corporation is asking HEW for $100,000 a year for three years. Veneman could not say when a decision would be made on the application.

NWRO officials in Washington declined comment on the proposal because it is under consideration, a spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

An HEW source, who asked not to be identified, said the organization hopes to set up an information network across the country to carry out the demonstration projects.

"The idea is to get the appropriate services that are available to people who don't know they are available and don't know how to get them if they do know they are available," he said.

"And it would bring the people to the services. They are going to do a total job of evaluation and assessment. That's the difference between this program and others that have been tried."

Builder Permits Top $3 Million

Permits for more than $3 million in new construction were issued by the Pontiac Department of Public Works during April. Among the permits were two large multiple-dwelling units which will add some 197 apartments to the city.

A $1.2-million complex of 116 units is to be built on West Kennett east of Alcott School by Seligman Construction and a $810,000, 81-unit development is planned on Cherrylawn at the extension of West Columbia by Jerome Building.

★ ★ ★

A permit to construct a $400,000 storage building was granted to Pontiac Motor Division.

In single-family developments, 19 dwellings were approved at a total cost of $240,000. Demolition of nine dwellings was approved.

Red Cross Effort

Gift Drive for GIs Begun

The Pontiac Red Cross will join with communities throughout the United States in "Shop Early Vietnam, 1969," a Red Cross program to provide holiday gift-filled bags for American servicemen overseas.

★ ★ ★

Ken Winter, director of the Pontiac regional office of the Red Cross said this year's regional quota is about 5,000 gift bags.

★ ★ ★

He added, this year the Red Cross is asking other community service organizations, religious groups, business firms to join in helping to collect or provide funds for the items to fill the gift bags.

The most useful items the servicemen enjoy receiving at Christmas include ball-point pens, plastic soap cases, small address books, wash cloths, nail clippers and small vacuum-packed tins of nuts or candies.

★ ★ ★

The Christmas project is set to be completed by September.

More than 20 countries plan to issue coins with designs and inscriptions promoting higher food production and international development cooperation.

Trade Fairly Active

Stock Mart Continues Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to push higher in fairly active trading early this afternoon as brokers reported some investors apparently encouraged by the way it had pared early losses Monday.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.75 at 961.61. The Dow lost 3.75 Monday, after being off more than 6 points earlier in that session.

Gains led losses by a bit better than 100 issues.

★ ★ ★

Brokers said some encouragement apparently stemmed from the way the market cut some of Monday's losses near the close but added that they thought the market still was in a process of consolidation.

"During a consolidation phase," an analyst said, "you get days when the market advances and days when it retreats, and this sort of thing may go on for a few weeks."

SOME OPTIMISM

Brokers said that while some investors were adopting a cautious stance as they awaited President Nixon's speech on Vietnam Wednesday there also was a feeling in Wall Street that the President would not have scheduled the address "without having some semblance of progress to lay before the American people."

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 340.9, with industrials up 1.8, rails off .8, and utilities up .2.

GSC Enterprises, most-active on the American Stock Exchange on 114,100 shares, was up ½ at 10⅛.

City Experts Explain Renewal Planning

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The following information was supplied by the Pontiac Planning and Urban Renewal Department to clear up questions on current urban renewal plans.)

● What is a Neighborhood Development Program (NDP)?

A Neighborhood Development Program is a program to eliminate blighting conditions and improve neighborhood environment. The program is locally conceived, locally planned, and locally carried out.

● What are the main goals of the NDP?

To provide opportunity for new housing development; improve existing housing through rehabilitation; improve the existing environment through provisions of improved or new parks, street and sidewalk improvements, and removal of delapidated structures.

● What is the local nature of N.D.P. administration?

The City Commission is authorized by the federal government and state law to carry out the goals of the NDP under the direction of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

● Who plans and carries out NDP activities?

The citizens' district councils (CDC's) in cooperation with and through the city's department of planning and urban renewal.

● Who is responsible for preparation of the NDP plan?

The city's department of planning and urban renewal with the consultation and advice of the citizens' district council.

● What is a Citizens' District Council?

A CDC is a group of citizens living in the NDP area or having a vested interest in the area, such as an owner of a business. Members of the council may be selected by direct election of the residents of the area and other persons with a substantial interest in the area, or they may be appointed by the mayor of the city, or by a combination of appointment and election.

● Who determines the method of selection of CDC members?

Joint responsibility for determining the method for selection of CDC rests with the approval of the citizenry from the designated neighborhood district areas and the City Commission. Recommendations to the mayor may be made through informal citizen representatives interested and concerned with citizen involvement.

● How much authority do Citizen District Councils have in exercising decision making regarding district area development plans?

The CDC must be included and involved jointly with all project planning once the city has officially designated Neighborhood District Areas for development. CDC may accept, recommend, and or reject planning proposals in its development. If the CDC disapproves the plan and notifies the City Commission in writing, the City Commission shall not adopt the plan for at least 30 days after receipt of the notice, and during that period, shall consult with the CDC concerning its objections. Final decisions for implementing NDP rests with the City Commission.

● Will the NDP eliminate all blighted areas in the city?

NDP is a start in this direction; however, it is carried out on a year to year basis, with progress measured in actual completion of projects for a given year. This approach allows for selection of a priority treatment project through a more systematic public and private approach.

● Can private (nonpublic) organizations work with the city in carrying out the NDP?

Yes. The city of Pontiac is extending all cooperation and resources in working with any group indicating concern, interest, and demonstrable effort to achieve the goals of NDP.

● Does NDP provide loans and grants to home owners to fix up their homes?

Yes. Grants up to $3,000 may be secured with the assistance of the City's rehabilitation officers. Homeowners desiring a grant must live in the designated NDP area to qualify. Loans at 3 per cent simple interest would also be made available.

● When will NDP start?

Execution begins after all planning processes are completed and the federal funds are approved.

Seaholm High Plays Host to Students From Pontiac

By MIKE FOX

A student exchange program at Seaholm showed results yesterday as 10 to 12 students from Pontiac Central attended school at Seaholm.

★ ★ ★

The visitors, who were accompanied by Seaholm students all day, attended classes, talked with students and ate lunch.

They were linked up wih their guides on the basis of their personal interests, such as art, social sciences, math, etc.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow, another group of students will be welcomed to Seaholm, this time from Cooley High School in Detroit.

SOLICITING STUDENTS

Last week, Congress Community Affairs Committee Chairman Chris Innes was busy soliciting students to be companions for the visitors. Numerous students volunteered.

The idea for the student exchange has been circulating among the student body for some time now and most students are strongly in favor of it.

★ ★ ★

Innes is quick to point out that it is "not only a case of integration" of all-white Seaholm, but more more an opportunity for students to "get in contact with people who might see things another way."

After school, the visitors, their guides and other interested students get together to talk with one another.

List of Activities Planned by Pontiac Central Seniors

By PURVIS LEON HUNT JR.

Now that the school year is coming to a close at Pontiac Central and other schools throughout the community, you may often hear such familiar phrases by seniors, as "Ol' Happy Days," or more commonly "Free at Last"

Without being struck by "senioristis" during the entire year, the big chiefs of PCH are still planning a list of activities, other than term papers and finals.

★ ★ ★

If you are a Central senior, you are eligible to participate in the weekly "Dress Down Day," to be held on the remaining Mondays of this school year. Everything from ragged blue jeans, to cutoffs will be acceptable!

★ ★ ★

However, since the seniors are regarded as the leaders of the school, they will also leave the underclassmen with a few fine impressions, by having "Dress-Up" days on May 9, 16, 23, and the 29.

TO BE 'DECKED OUT'

All seniors are to attend school "decked out," for the last time in their high school careers.

★ ★ ★

To many seniors, with final exams May 22, and the arrival of caps and gowns on the 26, their seems to be little doubt, as stated by upper-classman Larry Watkins, that "Clearance day for seniors, May 29, won't come soon enough!"

★ ★ ★

For those who do make it through the hectic pace set at PCH, the major event of the school year, the senior prom, will be held on June 4, from 7:30 p.m. until 1:30 a.m., at the Raleigh House in Southfield.

Tickets, on sale now, can be purchased in the main office.

UNIQUE EXPERIENCE

After recovering from the prom, which Senior Class President Horace Davis claims will be "a completely unique experience," the senior trip to New York will begin on June 6.

★ ★ ★

All those seniors who paid for this trip are to meet at Pontiac Central at 5:30 a.m. Students will return at 8 p.m., June 9.

★ ★ ★

The following evening, at 7:30 the traditional baccalaureate services will be held in the Central auditorium. Graduation ceremonies will be held at 8 p.m. June 12 in Wisner Stadium.

Eight Seek 2 Seats Open in Pontiac

5 File for School Posts

Two incumbents and three others filed nominating petitions yesterday for seats on the Pontiac Board of Education.

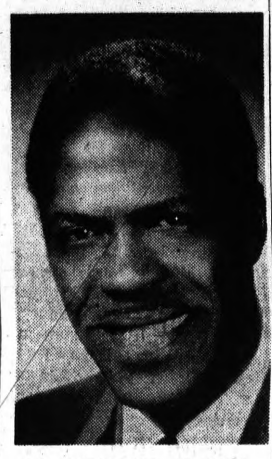

MRS. LUCILLE D. MARSHALL

Mrs. Lucille D. Marshall of 89 N. Sanford has served on the Pontiac School Board for four years and is currently its secretary. She is branch manager of the local Secretary of State office and is active in the Democratic party, United Auto Workers Local 653 and the Michigan Welfare League. She has one son, Randy, 17.

★ ★ ★

"It is essential that every child in the school district gets the best education possible, and the taxpayers must receive the full value of every tax dollar he spends. I feel that special education and remedial programs must be reevaluated and given special attention," Mrs. Marshall said.

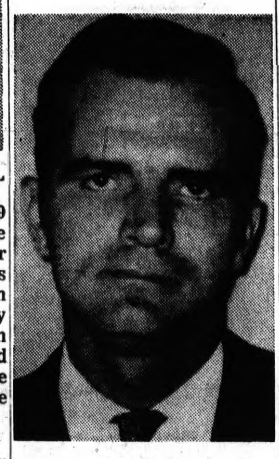

DR. ROBERT R. TURPIN

Dr. Robert R. Turpin, 47, of 108 Franklin Blvd. is also seeking a second term. He is presently board vice president. A local dentist since 1947, Dr. Turpin is married and has four children. He is a member of the Pontiac Area Planning Council (PAPC) and the budget steering committee of the Pontiac Area United Fund and co-chairman of the race relations task force of PAPC.

★ ★ ★

"In order to provide superior education in a public school system in these times, a board member must be committed not only to quality education but to the task of fostering community unity and the establishment of an atmosphere of cooperation and mutual trust between the community and the board," Dr. Turpin said.

CHARLES E. MEISSNER

Charles E. Meissner, 33, of 476 Lynch, a sales engineer for Neward Detroit Electronics, also filed his petition yesterday. He is a member of the Greater Lansing Association for Retarded Children, the Board of Canvassers and Herrington Hills Home Owners Association.

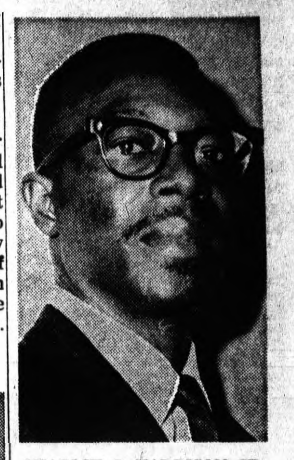

★ ★ ★

He says, "I hope to help reunite Pontiac's citizens behind a board that will earn their respect and faith by the integrity and wisdom of its decisions. I would reemphasize programs of realism in our schools and end costly experimental glamour concepts in education."

Local businessman Charlie J. Harrison Jr., 36, of 85 Carr is making his first bid for a school board seat. The father of five, he is chairman of the NAACP education committee, and of the school district's Human Relations Committee, an executive board member of Mark Twain PTA, and a member of the advisory board of Harambee, the OEO education committee and Friends of Fair Housing Committee.

★ ★ ★

Harrison says: "With the experience and knowledge I have gained from working with the various committees, I intend to contribute everything possible to provide each student in the Pontiac School system with an equal educational opportunity."

CHARLIE J. HARRISON JR.

Another candidate is Dr. Harvey Burdick of 190 Ottawa, professor of psychology and chairman of the psychology department at Oakland University. He is also vice president of the board of Family Services.

Burdick says: "Pontiac is facing a crisis of suspicion and frustration and a healthy school system cannot exist in an unhealthy community. We must find new techniques in our teaching and new ways of administering the system. As a professional educator and psychologist, I belive I can be of service in seeking and implementing the new educational strategies."

★ ★ ★

The election for two 4-year terms on the board is June 9. Other candidates are Mrs. Carole Sweeney, John Erwin and Mrs. Dorothy Furgerson.

Area Schoolmen Make Pitch for Funds to County Tax Unit

County schoolmen from Avondale to West Bloomfield yesterday made their money pitch yesterday to the County Tax Allocation Board.

Spokesmen for each of the 28 school districts in the county entered the same plea:

"We need more money, and if you can't give us more, don't cut us from last year's amount."

It was the annual attempt to get as big a slice as possible of the non-voted 15 mills split three ways between schools, townships and the county. Today the allocation board was to hear funding requests from townships.

E. Burrows Smith, vice president of the Royal Oak School Board, summarized the schools' plea.

'IMPOSSIBLE SITUATION'

"School districts today find themselves in an impossible situation, trapped by constitutional and legislative restriction between the irresistible force of rising costs and the relatively immovable body of tax inertia. We face . . . the critical factor of mandatory professional negotiation — or, to call it by its right name, union bargaining," said Smith.

"The school district is perhaps the only unit of government which spends so much money in so important an enterprise with so little control over its own sources of revenue," he reported.

Smith noted that increases in assessment and modest increases in state aid have been less than the rate of increase in expenditures, "with the result that there has been a steady deterioration in the per cent of school expense borne by the state."

The spokesman said, "It is no secret that we are in an era of taxpayer revolt. Voters are not opposed to education, but the seasonal millage proposal on the ballot is the only opportunity they have to express directly and with immediate effect their displeasure with all taxes."

Smith reported that of 28 districts who put 33 millage propositions before the voters last year in Oakland county, more than half were defeated. He said 13 of 23 millage propositions for operating funds were approved, but only one out of 10 issues relating to capital outlay met voter approval.

Smith charged county government with an ability to build out of operating revenues.

"The county plan to allocate a half mill of miscellaneous nontax revenue to such projects is a dodge, however legal it may be," the Royal Oak representative said. "If this nontax revenue were applied to the regular operating budget and not to capital programs the effect would be to reduce the county's requirement of revenue from property taxes by half a mill."

The county's 1970 tentative budget sets aside a half mill for building programs.

APPEARANCES

Smith's summation followed individual appearances by representatives of all the county's school districts.

There were stories of defeated millage votes, schools left unopened because of lack of funds, cutbacks in programs and elimination of extracurricular activities. There were reports of reduction in staff, both teaching and administrative; and the inability to take advantage of new programs.

★ ★ ★

H. A. Ambrose, president of the Oakland Intermediate School District, presented a budget of $1.4 million requiring $861,214 in property tax revenue. The county last year allocated the intermediate schools 22 mills, .20 millos of which were obtained from outside the 15-mill limit.

A recent attorney general's opinion has held that levying outside the limit for such a purpose is illegal. Ambrose said the full .22 mills would be required again this year. No new programs are proposed.

Boy Gets 'Job' Blowing Horn on High-Speed Train

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Dean Fillari applied for a job as assistant engineer with the Delaware River Port Authority's high speed trains.

The authority didn't have the heart to tell the 10-year-old fifth grader it couldn't take him on.

★ ★ ★

So the officials wrote him appointing him assistant attendant in charge of blowing the horn for a special ride with some of his classmates Tuesday.

The first car of the train will be reserved for them when they call at the Camden station.

Arrest Possible for Meredith

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bronx Criminal Court Judge Nicholas F. Delagi said yesterday civil rights leader James Meredith would be arrested if he failed to answer a summons for allegedly harassing tenants in the apartment house Meredith owns.

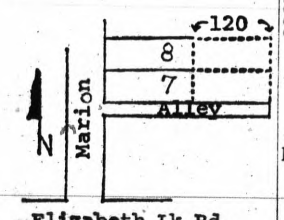

Meredith denied the charge and said that white tenants were just showing their resentment of his ownership of the building.

Julie Invents the Solution to Creeping Pantyhose Crisis

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Julie Newmar's going to lend her name and her legs to the pantihose crisis which seems to be creeping up on the nation.

"I'm 5-11 and can never buy them long enough," Julie sadly informed me, "and I have a girl friend 4-11 who can never get them short enough. When they don't fit, they creep up or sag down, and when they get saggy they get baggy and you really can't walk properly. Your'e trying to walk elegantly with your pantyhose slipping down, and you're pretty miserable."

WILSON

Some pantyhose manufacturers, meeting with Julie to discuss Julie bringing out her own line, where surprised when she said:

"I have an invention that would make all pantyhose fit. An idea I borrowed from the ballet. I now use it myself and it would even make pantyhose fit on a man."

"What is it, what is it?" they asked her.

"You'll have to buy it from me," she said.

★ ★ ★

Julie, who sandwiches inventions in between pictures like "Mackenna's Gold" and "The Maltese Bippy" which are coming out, doubts if pantyhose and miniskirts make men aggressive.

"The longer you wear your skirts, the more attentive men will be. In England the fattest girls wear the shortest skirts and the men find legs to be very boring. In France and Italy, where women don't wear minis, the men are the most excitable.

"One Frenchman told me when he was looking at girls in miniskirts, 'C'est le can can!' An Italian man told me it was worse. 'Things like that,' he said, 'could cause a revolution.'"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Liz Taylor and Richard Burton'll be here overnight May 15, en route to Paris, London, etc., traveling with five humans, five dogs and one cat. They'll go to London on their yacht "Kalizma" . . . Raquel Welch dined low-calorically at the Ground Floor: double steak and double orange juice.

John Wayne asked celebrity chauffeur Roosevelt Zanders to look after Mrs. W., who's arriving here with two friends; Roosevelt got 'em a $175-a-day hotel suit (after asking the hotel, "You got anything better?")

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Some women who claim to have hour-glass figures forgot to adjust for daylight saving time.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Figures don't lie — unless, of course, they happen to be public figures."

EARL'S PEARLS: In one small town a bank robber demanded $5,000. The teller told him, "I'll do the best I can — how about $200 in cash and $4,800 in second mortgages?"

A bachelor announced he's getting tired of the single life: "I wash the dishes, take out the garbage, clean the house, make the bed — and then six months later I have to do it all over again." . . . That's earl, brother.

Malawi Chief Hits Western Attitude

BLANTYRE, Malawi (AP) — President Hastings K. Banda said Monday that the United States, Canada, Australia and New Zealand have "settler" governments and hence have no right to criticize the white regimes in Rhodesia, South Africa and Mozambique.

"These powers that are themselves settlers must not adopt an attitude of holier-than-thou," he said. "Who are the real Americans? The American Indians. Are American Indians in power now?"

Malawi is a neighbor of the Portuguese territory of Mozambique.

Mushroom Hunt Nets Honors for 2

BAY CITY (AP) — An 18-year-old Boyne City youth and an Ypsilanti man have won top honors in the annual National Mushroom Hunting Championships here.

Stanley Boris of Boyne City picked 857 mushrooms in 90 minutes for resident honors, while Robert Sudman of Ypsilanti picked 702 for the nonresident title.

A Look at TV

'Anderson & Co.' Boring

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Once upon a time there was a warm, nostalgic television series called "Life With Father," a comedy which was adapted from the movie which was adapted from the stage play which was adapted from Clarence Day's magazine memoirs of growing up in gas-lit, turn-of-the-century New York.

Then, too, there was once a warm, nostalgic series called, "I Remember Mama," which also had a TV whirl in the old days.

★ ★ ★

So it happened that somebody decided that it had been such a long time since television had had an eastern—as opposed to a western—series, that something called "Anderson & Co." was dramed up. NBC, with a financial stake in the pilot film, broadcast the results Monday night.

It was an interesting half-hour for the student of television but a crashing bore for anyone else. It did demonstrate, however, how the best laid (if derivative) plans can go awry. "Anderson & Co." had all the ingredients of "Life With Father" and even more children—eight. But it charm and warmth.

PLAYED TOO BROADLY

Fred Gwynne, the lanky actor who once played a comedy cop in "Car 54, Where Are You?" and followed it up with the Frankenstein monster character of "The Munsters," played — too broadly—the Victorian type father of the clan. Abby Dalton, once Jackie Cooper's fiance and then Joey Bishop's wife in two series, was his sweet adoring wife. There was a roundup of cute children, but too many to sort out in a short, one-shot program.

It was just another pilot that couldn't get off the ground. Anderson & Co. failed to find a NBC niche for next season since it didn't work as a situation comedy. But at least, by tossing it into half of the "Laugh-$n" spot, a little of the money that financed the pilot was recovered.

Using a 30-minute show to fill a 60-minute gap in the schedule raises another problem. NBC solved it by starting its Monday night movie a half-hour early and letting it run longer than most features can. It was "Father Goose," one of the more forgettable Cary Grant comedies.

"The Flying Nun" has a maternity problem that can be concealed by her flowing robes. Sally Field, now the wife of Steve Craig, will be shooting next season's episodes until July and then the ABC series will take a midsummer break until after her first child arrives.

Elizabeth Montgomery expects to have her third child during the summer and so—for the third time—the shooting schedule of "Bewitched" will be planned around its anticipated arrival date.

The ABC fantasy, moving into its fifth season, will handle the star's condition by having the TV character she plays expecting a second child. But what may really confuse the viewers come fall will be the appearance of a different husband with the same name.

Four NY Patients Receive Organs From One Donor

NEW YORK (AP) — Four patients who received organs from an unidentified donor were in satisfactory condition today at New York Hospital, a spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

The multiorgan transplant, which took place Sunday and was disclosed Monday, was the second at the hospital involving one donor and more than three recipients. Four medical teams performed the surgery.

The recipients, all unidentified, were a 48-year-old man who received the heart, a 25-year-old woman who received the liver and a 20-year-old woman and 31-year-old man who were given the kidneys.

Dr. C. Walton Lillehei, chief of surgery, headed the heart transplant team, and Dr. Henry Gans, an attending surgeon, led the liver transplant team. Teams headed by Drs. John C. Whitsell II, an attending surgeon, and J. Richard Rees, chief resident in surgery, performed the kidney operations.

Crossbar Costs $45 Per Inch; Ruined Her View

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A judge has awarded a widow $45 an inch for six inches of a wooden light pole crossbar that overhangs her property line.

The Duquesne Light Co. built the pole assembly 19 months ago, crossbar costs and the crossbar extended 10 inches over the property, Mrs. Frances Schlereth of suburban Munhall said Monday.

In January Duquesne workers sawed off four inches, but the remaining piece still "ruined my view," Mrs. Schlereth said.

Judge Arthur Wessel Jr. awarded the widow $270 and ordered Duquesne to remove the remaining six inches of the crossbar.

Pause in the Power Is Felt in El Paso

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Electrical service in portions of El Paso was interrupted twice Sunday night because of animals.

The first interruption was when a crow caused a short of a 14,000-volt line with his wing, cutting off electricity to the area near the La Tuna Correctional Institution.

The second came when a cat crawled on top of a substation regulator, causing the regulator to malfunction.

Dowagiac's Historic Main Street Is Pawn In 'Improvement' Battle

Future Not So Rosy for Red Brick Road

DOWAGIAC (AP) — A goof by the State Highway Departmen has temporarily saved a rosy red brick road, some 30 tall and stately maple trees and flowers beloved by many citizens of Dowagiac.

Bids were to be taken by the Highway Department last week on an estimated $300,000 project to widen and improve Dowagiac's main street between Walnut and Front streets.

★ ★ ★

The improvement of the highway, part of M40, would mean ripping out the red bricks originally laid down in 1904 and relaid some 20 years later.

It also would entail cutting down or relocating 43 trees, 30 of them maple, and removal of sections of a center strip planted with flowers and flowering buhses.

HISTORIC HOMES

Frontage also would be taken from some of the oldest and most historic homes in this southwestern Michigan city of 7,600.

By some oversight, the Highway Department forgot to put bid specifications for subcontractors into the main contract for the work.

★ ★ ★

The error made the project unacceptable to the federal Bureau of Public Roads. Sealed bids had to be handed back to the contractors. It now is proposed to put the project up for bidding June 4.

This gives a little more operating time for a Dowagiac Citizens Committee for the Preservation of Main Street.

CONSERVATIVE NEIGHBORHOOD

"The leaders of the campaign are the people who live in the area — a conservative neighborhood," reported Lee Maager, a staff writer for the Dowagiac Daily News.

"They have the support of local garden clubs and people from other sections of the town. They also are selling bumper stickers saying "Save Main Street," Maager said.

★ ★ ★

"They are raising the money to hire an attorney and are talking about asking for an injunction to halt the construction project," he said.

The issue has created almost as much furor locally as the I-696 freeway dispute generated over the past 10 years in the affected communities near Detroit.

BRICKS CRUMBLING

Some people favor the widening and repaving of Main Street as a step toward modernization of the community. The proponents point out that the bricks, laid on a loose sand base, are crumbling to bits. They say the old-fashioned red bricks may be colorful but are not practical on a section of main highway.

City Clerk Albert First said the City Council reached an agreement with the State Highway Department on the widening on April 1, 1968.

★ ★ ★

The median strip in the middle of Main Street mostly would be spared. Some sections would have to be removed, but additional sections would be built.

The Highway Department promised to try to save as many trees as possible, relocating some and replanting where older trees had to be cut down.

'MAPLES BUD'

"The maples are mostly going bad, and a lot of them would have to be cut down eventual First said.

Promises don't satisfy the diehard citizens fighting a rearguard action to preserve their trees, flowers, red bricks and tradition.

★ ★ ★

Every spring the garden clubs and civic groups clean up the Main Street center strip. Fresh flowers are planted, old ones are watered and every piece of paper and cigarette butt is picked up.

They want Main Street to remain as it is. They don't want the Highway Department to swallow the red brick road in the name of so-called progress.

Outdoor Fun Vehicle Zooms in Popularity

NEW YORK (AP) — A fun car that skims over snow, swims rivers and lakes, climbs steep hills and threads through forests is the newest entry in the leisure-time vehicular sweepstakes.

It's called an all-terrain vehicle, and its makers think its production is going to become as big a business as snowmobiles, which zoomed to immense popularity in the last few years.

★ ★ ★

The car—which looks somewhat like a streamlined plastic bathtub on six low-pressure wheels—first appeared on the outdoor scene in 1961. Only in the last year or so has it caught on in a big way with campers, hunters, fishermen and others who go for bucolic pleasures. It's not for highway use but is hauled behind a car or truck to wilderness or winter sports areas.

It seats two to four persons, can hit 35 miles an hour on a straightaway, travels four miles an hour in the water and faster with an outboard motor, and can carry an 800-pound payload up a 45-degree incline. The cost: about $1,500.

NEWEST ENTRY

About 10 companies are turning out these vehicles. Newest entry in the field is ATV Manufacturing Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa. It's headed by 28-year-old David McCahill III, a onetime motorcycle racer and business economics student who abandoned a real estate career to manufacture all-terrain vehicles.

Using the basic idea of vehicles already on the market, McCahill and his partner, Roger Flannery, also in his late 20's, redesigned their car and went into production late last year.

★ ★ ★

They put their car—called Attex—on the market Jan. 1. Since then, McCahill says, they have sold 900 vehicles for a total of more than $1 million. He predicts sales of $4 million this year.

McCahill expects at least 50 companies to jump into the all-terrain vehicle manufacturing competition and predicts that within five years annual sales will soar to 250,000 units totaling $375 million. In 1968, about 400,000 snowmobiles were sold.

OUTDOOR REVOLUTION

"An outdoor revolution is sweeping the United States," McCahill says in explaining his confidence. "Americans in record numbers are going back outdoors for fun and recreation.

Town Faces Time to Decide on Clock

RICHMOND (AP) — The leaning Clock of Richmond may never be as famous as the Leaning Tower of Pisa, but right now city officials are leaning their ears toward an offer that could make the clock a familiar sight around the country and make the city a small fortune.

In March the city refused to sell the 69-year-old timepiece to clock buffs willing to pay quite a bit. Civic conscience told city officials the Victorian-type 20-foot-tall timepiece, which tilts to the north, should not be disposed of to swell the treasury.

★ ★ ★

But Patrick Nabors, a 25-year-old Grand Rapids resident, wants to have permission to take molds and casts of the clock and sell 1,000 of them around the country.

"Any town, no matter what size, could and rightfully should look upon such a clock with a great amount of civic pride," Nabors wrote the city.

'MONEY, PUBLICITY'

"The city could have $100 for every clock I sold, and they'd also have lots of publicity," he explained.

Richmond would net $100,000 for such a deal, but its clock would no longer be really theirs alone.

"This just isn't the type of thing you do with a hasty decision," said City Clerk Rosemary Scott.

"To feel the pulse of the community" on the matter, city officials have decided to appoint a committee. Meanwhile, Nabors said he plans to buy ads in three national antique and architectural magazines regarding the clocks.

Woman, 103, Wants Spouse

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Josephine Cook, 103 today, wants a husband.

"It's lonesome without a man," she tells nurses at a nursing home here, "and the the only way I'll ever get out is to get a husband."

She put it another way in a note to the Syracuse Herald-American: "A lady, 103 on May 13, wishes a husband."

She celebrated her birthday Sunday with three daughters, Mrs. Ford Aylsworth, 65, of Syracuse; Mrs. Alfred Underwood, 82, of Leicester, Mass.; and Mrs. Kathleen Keyes of Binghamton.

Her husband died 31 years ago after 55 years of marriage. They had eloped when she was 17.

DO YOU NOTICE PEOPLE WEARING HEARING AIDS?

Today's electronic hearing aids are so small that most people rarely notice them. But if you do notice, it may indicate that you're secretly worried about your own hearing.

A precise, simple electronic hearing test with the famous Beltone audiometer may well relieve your mind of this secret fear that you're losing your hearing. We'll be pleased to make this test free. If the results indicate you do need hearing help, we'll be glad to demonstrate some remarkable new Beltone aids that may be actually less noticeable than the hearing problem you've been trying to hide.

There's no cost or obligation either way. So why not take this sensible precaution soon? Drop in today or call for an appointment right in your own home.

Viet Cuts May Be Near

SAIGON (AP) — A series of high-level meetings and an American general's report that he is satisfied with the improvement in the South Vietnamese armed forces raised new speculation today that President Nixon is about to announce a reduction in the 542,500 American troops in Vietnam.

Coinciding with these developments was a sharp decrease in Vietcong rocket, mortar, and terror attacks last night after 159 allied military positions and towns had been hit the night before.

★ ★ ★

The commendation for South Vietnam's armed forces came from Brig. Gen. James V. Galloway, who is in charge of the U.S. program of military assistance to the Vietnamese.

"I'm satisfied with the improvement in the South Vietnamese armed forces and the way we are meeting our schedule," he said in an interview.

'SENSE OF URGENCY'

"There is a sense of urgency involved."

Summing up the South Vietnamese armed forces, Galloway said:

"The improvement is steady. In some units it is significant. Across the board as a whole, they're shown steady progress in capabilities and effectiveness. There has been great improvement in the regional forces militiamen in combat performance due primarily to confidence in improved weaponry."

★ ★ ★

He explained that the regional and popular forces were getting new M79 grenade launchers and M60 machine guns to beef up their firepower.

Meanwhile, the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams flew back to Vietnam after conferring in Washington yesterday with President Nixon. The President announced he would address the nation tomorrow night on the prospects of peace.

In Saigon, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu met today for the second time in less than 24 hours. And U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers was due in Saigon tomorrow.

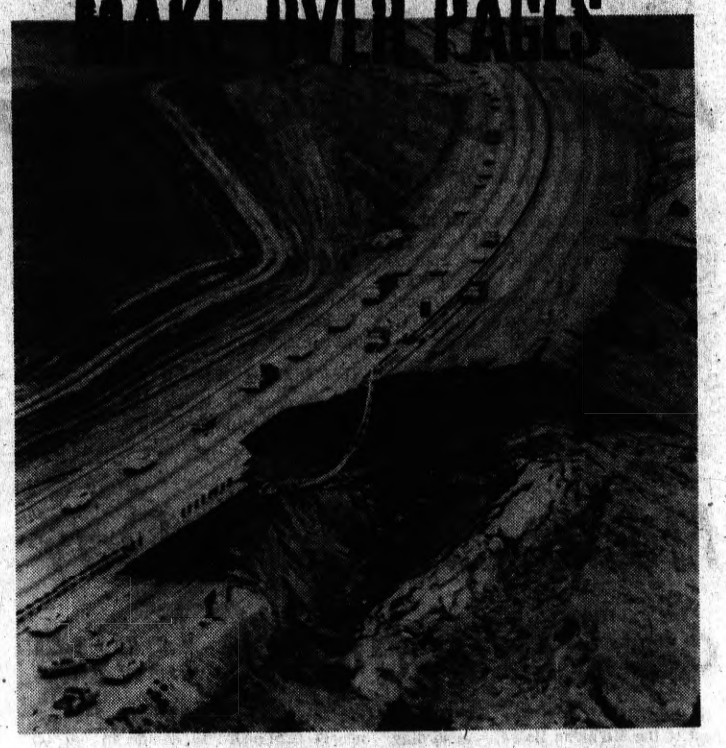

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler and Nixon sought Abrams' views on enemy military activity, the possibility of new offensive actions, the state of the training of the South Vietnamese army and the level of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Ziegler emphasized that any decision on troop withdrawals will be made on the basis of three criteria Nixon has laid down:

- The ability of the South Vietnamese to defend themselves in areas where U.S. forces are now defending them.
- Progress at the Paris peace talks.
- The level of enemy activity.

Regarding the prospect of new enemy actions, U.S. military analysts consider that the threat is greatest in the 3rd Corps Area, the belt running from the Cambodian border through and around Saigon to the South China Sea.

These analysts say that according to captured documents, the Communist command is planning a summer campaign aimed at forcing a coalition government on South Vietnam and the withdrawal of American troops.

FREEWAY GIVES WAY — Four lanes of six-lane Interstate 80 near Pinole, Calif., caved in Sunday night, completely blocking all southbound lanes of the heavily traveled main traffic artery between Sacramento and San Francisco. Only one northbound lane remained open to traffic today. The slide was blamed on heavy rains.

Raid in Royal Oak Nets $110,000 Loot

A raid on a Royal Oak residence last night by police officers, state troopers and two assistant prosecutors resulted in the arrest of two persons and confiscation of nearly $110,000 in stolen merchandise.

The raid, the second in 10 days in connection with the investigation of the wave of house burglaries in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area since Jan. 1., was made on the residence of Sophie Cadurwicz, in northwest Royal Oak about 9 p.m., police reported.

★ ★ ★

Miss Cadurwicz, 52, and Chris Wolinski, 20, of Madison Heights, are being held in Royal Oak city jail for investigation of possession of stolen property. They were to be arraigned in Royal Oak District Court later today.

Police believe the goods was taken from residences in Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Troy, Bloomfield Township and Lathrup Village.

BURGLARS' LOOT

The confiscated property included 106 furs, four sets of silverware, gems, and jewelry, portable tape recorders, television sets and record players and assorted other items.

Last night's raid is the second break in the intensive investigation of house break-ins. Police from the area communities and the state police have been cooperating in the four-month investigation.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Hills with 24 reported break-ins has been hit the hardest by the burglary ring which police believe numbers about five persons.

Bloomfield Hills Police Chief Walter Sluiter said the investigation will continue. He indicated there is more merchandise yet to be recovered and probably more arrests to be made.

Smoke Hampers Firemen At Flint Car-Truck Crash Scene

5 Die at Blazing Intersection

From Our News Wires

FLINT — Fire and death met at a crossroads yesterday and five persons were victims of the introduction.

A gasoline truck hauling two huge tankers, ran a red light, according to police, thundered over an automobile, overturned and erupted in flames. Some 11,000 gallons of gasoline from one tanker hurled a flood of fire through the busy intersection at the northwest edge of the city.

The victims were all believed to have been in their cars at Pierson Road and Clio Street when flaming gasoline gushed around them.

A tire company 40 feet from the crash was nearly destroyed and five other businesses were damaged as firemen fought the blazing gasoline for nearly an hour.

WALKING TO DEATH

One witness said he saw one victim walking with his hands stretched out and that he was the color of the pinkish foam used to put out fires.

The man stumbled a few steps farther and collapsed, the witness said.

★ ★ ★

Two victims, both men, were found in one car. An infant, burned so badly its body appeared to be that of an older child, was in another car.

The truck driver, operating the Tulsa Oil Co. vehicle out of Detroit, was believed to have been electrocuted when he stepped on a downed power line.

LYING NEAR TRUCK

The fifth victim, a 22-year-old woman, was found lying near a burned-out dump truck.

The victims were tenatively identified as Jack E. Kelley, 44, of Elsie, the truck driver; Mary K. Black, 22, of Flint, and her 2½-year-old son, Michael, who were in one car, and Bruce F. Detman, 40, of Fenton, and Homer Anderson, 32, of Flint, who were in another car.

Donald Flamondon, 22, was injured and in very serious condition with third-degree burns over 80 per cent of his body.

Burning Barge Poses Threat

LAGRANGE, Mo. (AP) — A blazing gasoline barge, ripped from its moorings by a series of explosions that injured four men and left four and possibly five missing here, was lodged against a railroad bridge today, posing a threat to the waterfront of Quincy, Ill., and a Mississippi River navigation lock.

The barge was one of two, each carrying about 840,000 gallons of high-octane gaoline, involved in a series of explosions and fire at the Triangle Refineries Inc.'s floating dock.

★ ★ ★

Col. Walter Gelini of the Army Corps of Engineers said there were no plans to break the burning barge free of the bridge. He said it might float downstream, and with the other two barges still linked to it, damage the lock and dam 21 at Quincy, which controls access to the upper Mississippi.

The explosion occurred last night as the gasoline barges were being unloaded.

Weather Outlook Has a Warm Cast

The weatherman forecasts fair and warmer, with a low temperature in the high 30s tonight. Skies will become partly overcast tomorrow with temperatures warming up to the mid-60s.

Mostly cloudy and mild with chance of showers is Thursday's outlook.

★ ★ ★

Probabilities of precipitation in per cent are 20 today, 10 tonight and 10 tomorrow.

Forty-four was the low reading in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The mercury reached 62 by 12:30 p.m.

'Mitchell Gave Warren Secret Data on Fortas'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell is understood to have told Chief Justice Earl Warren that further public disclosure about the Fortas-Wolfson fee incident could strain relations between the White House and the Supreme Court.

The attorney general also is believed to have told Warren at their meeting last Wednesday considerably more about the incident than has been in the public eye.

★ ★ ★

In line with the Nixon Administration's nonpartisan stance, Mitchell made his presentation as a lawyer and friend of the Supreme Court.

He is believed to have expanded on the account Life magazine gave of the fee offered Fortas in 1966 by the family of industrialist Louis E. Wolfson—rather than to have made some unrelated disclosure.

ACTION UNLIKELY

It is understood to be highly unlikely that Mitchell would ever attempt to bring charges against a sitting justice. And yet, the attorney general is convinced the substance of what he told Warren will stimulate enough pressure within the court to bring about Abe Fortas' resignation.

What Warren is doing with the information is a closely guarded secret.

"There never is comment on the chief justice's private conversations," said a spokesman in his office icily.

Inquiries at the offices of other justices to find out if they have been brought into the discussions produced similar nonresults.

Meanwhile, with the court in recess, Fortas is maintaining a discreet distance and a chipper optimism publicly.

Nigeria Reassigns 3

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The Nigerian army has replaced the commanders of the three divisions that have failed to subdue the rebellious state of Biafra.

Col. Benjamin A. Adekunle, commander of the 3rd Marine Commando Division, has been named director of training and planning at army headquarters.

Also reassigned were Col. Mohamed Shuwa, 1st Division commander, who will become military secretary at army headquarters, and Col. I. B. M. Haruna of the 2nd Division who will become quartermaster general.

Phone-y Fire Not Cause for Alarm

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Next time the fire department of suburban Oakland Park lights a fire, it will let the public know.

Firemen put the torch to Porky's, an abandoned nightclub, yesterday to get some practice fighting a large blaze.

But the boys back at headquarters got the most practice. They answered more than 100 phone calls reporting a large fire.

More Study Due for Home Rule

By JEAN SAILE

Oakland County supervisors are going to learn more about home rule before they take any action to bring it to county voters.

Several members of the board appear to favor a November 1970 vote on whether the county should seek broadened powers under a home rule charter. But whether enabling legislation is adequate or can be changed in time to assist the county in setting up its charter is in doubt.

★ ★ ★

Members of the local affairs and legislative committees of the County Board of Supervisors met in joint session yesterday to discuss the merits and faults of home rule as now allowed under state acts.

Supervisor William L. Mainland, D-Milford Township, suggested members avail themselves of the home rule study report prepared by the county about four years ago. Mainland said the report showed that present legislation "poorly represents Oakland County interests."

Board Vice Chairman Alexander Perinoff, who introduced the question of home rule earlier this month, suggested the home rule bill could be improved. "The basic concept is good. There are many weaknesses, but they can be amended and strengthened," Perinoff said.

Present county governmental structure was called a "headless horseman" by Supervicor Carl O'Brien, D-Pontiac. One of the main features of home rule is that it provides for a county-manager form of government, he noted.

"There are now so many departments answering to various boards and commissions when they should be answering to us," said O'Brien, and he noted that home rule as presently conceived doesn't answer all the problems.

Main objections to present legislation appear to center around partisan elections for:

- Charter commissioners
- The county manager
- Sheriff, prosecutor, clerk and treasurer.

AUTONOMOUS

The fact that the drain and road commissions could still remain autonomous from county government also was faulted.

Supervisor Fred Houghten, R-Avon Township, noting that many of his constituents are not in favor of home rule, reported that home rule still contains taxing protection and provides for a tax allocation board.

★ ★ ★

Supervisor Christian Powell, R-West Bloomfield, noted the county would be allowed to levy as much as 10 mills a year under the home rule statute. Half of the 10 mills would have to be obtained from within the allocated limit, the statute reads. The county is presently allocated 5.28 mills in the 1969 budget.

Debt limits remain the same, however, under home rule legislation, it was reported.

Powell asked for a complete review of the act, setting forth the differences between present county government and government under home rule. It will be discussed by the legislative committee at 1:30 p.m. May 22.

Romney Fights Housing Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Housing and Urban Development George Romney promised a Democratic-led subcomittee Monday to help line up Republican votes against cuts in two major housing programs.

The appropriations involved are $50 million each for interest subsidies to help low-income families buy homes and to assist nonprofit organizations in building low-cost rental housing.

★ ★ ★

The House Appropriations Committee still is working on a catchall money bill including these items and it is scheduled for a House vote next week.

Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa., said he understands the committee will recommend cutting these items in half.

QUESTIONS ROMNEY

He asked Romney, who testified Monday before the House Banking subcommittee on Housing:

"If these funds are cut and an amendment is offered on the floor to restore the amounts, will this administration put its shoulder to the wheel enough so that a majority of Republicans will vote to support the amendment?"

"We are prepared to do what we can," Romney replied.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Thomas L. Ashley, D-Ohio, told the secretary that his "Operation Breakthrough,"—intended to develop lower-cost housing by using industrial production methods and more effective planning—seems to be "little more than a public relations name for something that may come about as a result of experiments already provided for in the law."

Romney flared up, saying Ashley was accusing him unjustly of misleading people and not giving him enough chance to reply.

AUTHORITY UNUSED

He said the authority in the law for housing experiments had not been used until he came up with a plan to have industry build 30 to 40 prototype houses in eight cities.

Ashley persisted, saying Romney was talking about expanding the Model Cities program of slum clearance "when everybody knows it has been cut back."

★ ★ ★

Romney said President Nixon is standing on the figures former President Lyndon B. Johnson recommended for the interest subsidy and nonprofit housing programs. He agreed Nixon recommended a $75-million cutback on the Model Cities item, but insisted there is enough money left from previous appropriations to fund as much work in this sector as could be done this year.

★ ★ ★

About $312.5 million would be available, even with the cut, he said.

Supermarts Seen Target of SDS Plan

LANSING (UPI) — Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) may disrupt Michigan supermarkets this summer in suport of the California grape boycott, according to State Rep. Edgar A. Geerlings, R-Muskegon.

★ ★ ★

"I have seen plans to infiltrate business establishments and disrupt business activities during the summer months," Geerlings said yesterday. "Specific instructions as to how to achieve this goal have apparently been distributed to members of radical groups."

★ ★ ★

"Violent techniques" will be used to frighten customers, continued Geerlings. "If you have been shocked and frightened by the campus violence you have seen on television, you haven't seen anything yet. Wait until you run into those same revolutionaries at the grocery store."

Parochiaid Is Illegal in State, Foe Says

LANSING (AP) — Parochiaid may be legal under the U.S. Constitution, but not under the Michigan Constitution, in the opinion of House minority leader Robert Waldron.

Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, has issued a position paper highlighting his opposition to the proposed $100,000 state allocation to church-run schools.

★ ★ ★

"Aid to nonpublic schools is probably constitutional from the standpoint of the federal constitution," Waldron said, but "when we move to the State Constitution it seems to be more difficult."

Waldron noted three roadblocks to parochiaid in the Michigan Constitution:

★ ★ ★

- Article 1, Section 4 prohibiting appropriation to any religious sect or society.
- Article 4, Section 31 requiring the Legislature to take up executive budget bills before any new programs. "It can hardly be construed that aid to nonpublic schools is not a new program," Waldron said.

Article 8, Section 2 requiring the Legislature to maintain "a system of free public elementary and secondary schools."

★ ★ ★

Parochiaid, in addition, "can't be enacted without new taxes," Waldron said. "It will not be a saving to the taxpayer unless there is a substantial number of students moving to public schools."

Provisions on Drinks Mixed

Utah Liquor Law Complicated

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A new law permitting the sale of liquor in restaurants goes into effect in Utah today, but it's not that simple.

The law allows the sale of minibottles at special state liquor stores inside restaurants which obtain licenses. A minibottle contains about two ounces.

The state has a monopoly on the retail sale of liquor and earned net profits of more than $3.4 million in the last six months.

Here are the major provisions of the minibottle law:

- Restaurants would have to sell the liquor for the same price they paid the state for it. Hence, they cannot make a profit on it.
- The liquor would have to be stored and sold in a separate room not visible to meal patrons.
- The patron would have to buy his own liquor and bring it to his own table.
- A waiter or waitress could bring an ice bucket and corkscrew to a customer with a bottle of wine, but could not place the wine in a bucket, open it, or serve it.
- And in order to qualify for the privilege of going through the process of buying the booze, opening the bottle and mixing his own drink the patron would have to order a meal.

STREAMLINING PROCESS

Or if he wants to streamline the process, the drinker can take his own bottle of liquor to the restaurant and order setups, including glasses, ice and mixer.

The new law was passed by the 1969 legislature after a proposed constitutional amendment to permit legal sale of liquor by the drink was defeated soundly at the polls in November.

★ ★ ★

The law, drafted by the group that led the campaign against liquor by the glass, received the support of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon). The church is opposed to drinking and claims a majority of the state's population as members.

★ ★ ★

Supporters of the new law say it is designed to crack down on a number of private clubs which have for years been illegally selling liquor by the drink.

INSPECTORS

A group of full time state inspectors will begin work at the start of the next fiscal year in July. But many clubs seem unconcerned.

Most private clubs plan to continue operating as locker clubs, which means they can mix and serve liquor for customers.

★ ★ ★

Theoretically, every customer at a locker club has a bottle with his name on it in a special locker at the club. But in practice many clubs sell the liquor to the customer.

Trade Moderately Active

Stock Market Opens Mixed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks opened mixed today in moderately active trading.

Many traders may retreat to the sidelines as they await President Nixon's Wednesday night nationwide address on the prospects for peace in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

The peace hope, meanwhile, could still act as a constructive influence, although carry-over profit-taking from yesterday may be another factor to be reckoned with, expecially in view of recent comments from Washington that the economy is cooling off.

Shortly after the opening, the UPI stock market indicator was up 0.04 per cent on 379 issues crossing the tape. There were 150 advances and 132 declines.

OILS MIXED

Oils were mixed, while steels showed scattered strength. Motors were lower, with electronics also on the weak side.

Pennzoil eased ⅜ but Standard of California and Atlantic Richfield gained ⅛ each.

U.S. Steel rose ⅜, while Armco gained ¼. Youngstown Sheet v Tube added ⅜.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler lost ⅜ in its group. Ford dipped ⅛, but American Motors was unchanged.

In the electronics, Litton fell ½, Burroughs ⅜, Control Data 1½, General Electric ½, and RCA ⅛. Fairchild Camera edged up 1.

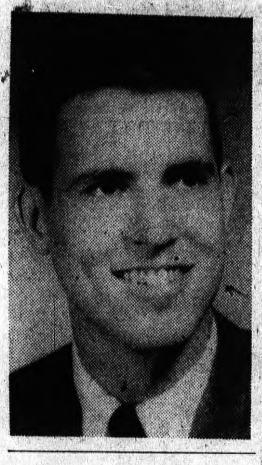

Du Pont rose ⅛ among the chemicals, with Union Carbide up ⅜. Allied Chemical eased ¼.

★ ★ ★

Area Schoolmen Make Pitch for Funds to County Tax Unit

County schoolmen from Avondale to West Bloomfield yesterday made their money pitch yesterday to the County Tax Allocation Board.

Spokesmen for each of the 28 school districts in the county entered the plea:

"We need more money, and if you can't give us more, don't cut us from last year's amount."

It was the annual attempt to get as big a slice as possible of the non-voted 15 mills split three ways between schools, townships and the county. Today the allocation board was to hear funding requests from townships.

E. Burrows Smith, vice president of the Royal Oak School Board, summarized the schools' plea.

'IMPOSSIBLE SITUATION'

"School districts today find themselves in an impossible situation, trapped by constitutional and legislative restriction between the irresistible force of rising costs and the relatively immovable body of tax inertia. We face . . . the critical factor of mandatory professional negotiation — or, to call it by its right name, union bargaining," said Smith.

"The school district is perhaps the only unit of government which spends so much money in so important an enterprise with so little control over its own sources of revenue," he reported.

Smith noted that increases in assessment and modest increases in state aid have been less than the rate of increase in expenditures, "with the result that there has been a steady deterioration in the per cent of school expense borne by the state."

The spokesman said, "It is no secret that we are in an era of taxpayer revolt. Voters are not opposed to education, but the seasonal millage proposal on the ballot is the only opportunity they have to express directly and with immediate effect their displeasure with all taxes."

Smith reported that of 28 districts who put 33 millage propositions before the voters last year in Oakland county, more than half were defeated. He said 13 of 23 millage propositions for operating funds were approved, but only one out of 10 issues relating to capital outlay met voter approval.

Smith charged county government with an ability to build out of operating revenues.

"The county plan to allocate a half mill of miscellaneous nontax revenue to such projects is a dodge, however legal it may be," the Royal Oak representative said. "If this nontax revenue were applied to the regular operating budget and not to capital programs the effect would be to reduce the county's requirement of revenue from property taxes by half a mill."

The county's 1970 tentative budget sets aside a half mill for building programs.

APPEARANCES

Smith's summation followed individual appearances by representatives of all the county's school districts.

There were stories of defeated millage votes, schools left unopened because of lack of funds, cutbacks in programs and elimination of extracurricular activities. There were reports of reduction in staff, both teaching and administrative; and the inability to take advantage of new programs.

★ ★ ★

H. A. Ambrose, president of the Oakland Intermediate School District, presented a budget of $1.4 million requiring $861,214 in property tax revenue. The county last year allocated the intermediate schools 22 mills, .20 millos of which were obtained from outside the 15-mill limit.
