Oasis in Heat of City

HEADING FOR RELIEF — While Pontiac residents swelter and mop their brows in the current 90 degree temperatures, one-year-old Jimmy Walker of Philadelphia has his own remedy. Appropriately dressed for the heat wave, he goes for a long walk for a cool treat in a mid-city water fountain.

Broomfield Set to Demand Aid for Area Roads

Puts 'Imperative' Tag on Procuring Water From Lake Huron

State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) will meet next week with the state highway commissioner to demand a "fair share" of new gasoline tax revenues for Oakland County roads, he said yesterday.

"It is very disappointing to the people of Oakland and Wayne counties, who are paying the bulk of the gas tax, not to get their fair share," Broomfield told a Chamber of Commerce committee at the Hotel Waldron.

"Traffic congestion is in the Lower Peninsula and that's were the bulk of the road money should be spent," he declared.

County officials have been disappointed in Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler's highway plan which includes only one county road—U.S. 16 from Brighton to east of Farmington. Oakland will pay the second highest share of the fund raised through the new 1½-cent levy.

Broomfield expressed confidence more road improvements for the county will result from his meeting with Ziegler.

The youthful senator also told the C. of C.'s State Governmental Affairs Committee he believes it is "most imperative" to get water from Lake Huron for Oakland County.

"We can no longer depend on wells," he said.

He said a system bringing lake water into Oakland and four or five other counties which might join the plan would cost around $200,000,000. Such a system, he added, would end water shortages which plague much of this area during the summer.

"I think we will get some action this year," he stated. "People forget about the shortages in the other months of the year. But this year I think there will be the worst shortage yet. I hope it lasts until January so the people will be aroused and tell the Legislature."

Broomfield said he believed south Oakland communities would join their northern counterparts in the program although they are committed to 30-year water purchase contracts with the city of Detroit. He said the contracts could be "rectified" when the time came.

He also indicated he would push for more than the one circuit judge the county has just been awarded. He said he hoped the county would get more judges "in a few years, after the new courthouse is built."

Missing Boy, 6, Not Lost at All, Just Ask Him

Birmingham and Troy Township police, aided by auxiliary officers and 45 volunteers, combed two wooded areas late yesterday after a woman reported her six-year-old son missing since 9 a.m.

Object of the intensive search, Craig Madvin was returned to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Madvin, 2100 Derby Rd., at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Harry Shack, 2775 Hunt Rd., saw the searchers, and asked the little boy who had spent the day with her children for his family's telephone number.

A call ended the search. Mrs. Shack said Craig, who lives only a quarter mile away, convinced her that his mother knew where he was.

Mrs. Madvin said she had been reluctant to call police because she "felt Craig would walk in the door at any minute," and because she knew he knew his phone number.

Arrest Senders of Spurious SOS

Say Two Youths Admit Touching Off Search Which Cost $50,000

WOODMERE, N.Y. (AP) — Two youths were held early today as police unravelled the mystery of the fishing boat Blue Star.

An SOS signal, purportedly coming from the vessel, sent coast guard rescue craft on a $50,000 search of the Atlantic early Thursday.

Nassau County police said one of the youths, a 21-year-old former crewman on a commercial fishing boat, admitted that he beamed the phoney distress signal to show his 17-year-old pal how a "real radio works."

The older youth was identified as Thomas Maldona, of East Rockaway, N. Y., laid off six weeks ago from the fishing boat St. Joseph.

His companion was George Teen, of Oceanside, N.Y.

Police said the youths, who broke into the radio shack of the St. Joseph, were charged with a third-degree burglary.

They are expected to be turned over for prosecution by the Federal Communications Commission as soon as a warrant is obtained from a federal judge.

Under commission regulations, a hoaxer faking a disaster at sea faces a $10,000 fine, a year in prison or both.

The message said a boiler room explosion set the boat ablaze, blocking access to life preservers. The last radio telephoned message said tersely that the Blue Star was going down and a foreign submarine was picking up survivors.

Couple Learn Daughter Killed During Vacation

ESCANABA (AP)—A distraught St. Clair Shores couple, on the verge of collapse, discovered they spent four joyful days of vacation driving across the country unaware that their 17-year-old daughter lay dead from a Fourth of July auto tragedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McKenny stumbled into the nearby Gladstone State Police post yesterday, at first refusing to believe a telephone conversation with officers to the effect that their daughter Margaret was killed near Bad Axe.

The McKennys, traveling through the Upper Peninsula from Oregon with two unidentified friends, were stopped by a passing motorist. The unidentified motorist heard a news bulletin from radio station WDBC, Escanaba, asking persons to keep an eye out for the McKenny car.

He was traveling directly behind the McKennys, pulled them over and told them they had an urgent message at the State Police post.

Permit Demand for 3 Turncoats Called 'Smart'

But Ex-GIs Will Enter Hong Kong on Status of Undocumented Aliens

HONG KONG (AP) — Hong Kong authorities today accused Chinese Communist officials of attempting to pull a fast one in demanding transit permits for three turncoat Americans who want to leave Red China.

Announcing such permits had not and would not be issued, a government spokesman said the unexpected demand "undoubtedly was a propaganda move" aimed at pressuring U. S. and British authorities into allowing the men to enter Hong Kong legally.

A government statement issued shortly afterward said the British charge d'affaires in Peiping had been authorized to inform the Chinese Red Cross Society that the men would be admitted to Hong Kong.

This was interpreted as meaning they would be allowed to enter as undocumented aliens, the status of most European refugees returning from Red China. There was no indication whether this would satisfy Peiping authorities.

As undocumented aliens, they would be turned over immediately to American authorities here. British sources said the Hong Kong government's position has been to make certain that the men would not be left on its hands through some dodge that would prevent them being handed over directly to U.S. officials

The government spokesman earlier explained that the possession of transit permits would enable the men to stay in Hong Kong until they could arrange their own transportation and would permit them to try for entry into some other country than the United States.

The three men—Korean War prisoners who first chose to remain in Red China and later changed their minds—had been scheduled to cross the Hong Kong border into British territory today. But Peiping radio announced last night their departure had been postponed.

Hopes for Long Peace

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover says he does not expect the Big Four conference in Geneva to produce "a lasting peace" but "we might get what we can call an endurable peace for years to come."

EINSTEIN SPONSORED PLEA — British philosopher Bertrand Russell reads statement in London today sponsored by the late Albert Einstein just before the latter's death April 18 and signed by eight other scientists appealing to all nations to renounce war. The last testament to the world by Einstein warned another war would "threaten the existence of mankind." Russell, one of the signers of the statement, issued the document just nine days before the Big Four summit conference in Geneva.

GM Car Sales Set Record for First Half of 1955

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors today reported its car divisions sold a record breaking 1,947,906 new and 2,510,980 used cars in this year's first six months.

The former record for new car sales was 1,475,943 units sold in the first half of 1950. The old record for used car sales was 2,170,791 units delivered in the first half of 1941.

The GM report said every passenger car division —Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac —set new records for both new and used car sales in the January-June period.

The report did not break down the sales by divisions, but Buick previously reported its January-June volume at 398,050 retail deliveries and Oldsmobile reported 312,268 deiveries for the same period.

Meanwhile, Chevrolet, biggest of the GM divisions, announced its June retail deliveries amounted to a record-breaking 170,341 cars and 38,922 trucks. It gave no figures for the January-June half. This year's June volume, it said, was the first time in Chevrolet history that

Port Huron Resident Slated for GOP Post

LANSING (AP)—Clifford O'Sullivan of Port Huron today appeared to be set as the next national Republican committeeman for Michigan.

Republican State Central Committee members met here to pick a man for the job and they had before them the strong recommendation of O'Sullivan from their executive committee.

The word was out that U. S. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield of Flint had put his stamp of approval on O'Sullivan. Summerfield had held out against choosing a successor to David W. Kendall of Jackson at this time. But several strong GOP factions had urged action.

High Tomorrow Will Be Only 86; Still Hot Today

Heat Wave Blanketing Entire Eastern Half of Sizzling U.S.

Today's Temperatures

8 a.m.	80	11 a.m.	91
9 a.m.	85	Noon	94
10 a.m.	87	1 p.m.	94

Sweltering Pontiac area residents looked forward today to a prediction of cooler weather Sunday as the heat wave which has stifled most of the eastern half of the nation entered its ninth day.

Scattered thundershowers this afternoon were expected to bring at least some relief from the scorching air which has hung over the area every day this month.

While today's high temperature is expected to range up to 94 degrees, the U. S. Weather Bureau says tomorrow's high won't be above 86 degrees.

It isn't just hot here. The steaming temperatures continue from the Mississippi River eastward to the Atlantic coast. Chicagoans were wilted after nine straight days of 90-plus heat, with yesterday's high there of 99 setting a July 8 record for the city.

High here yesterday was recorded at 4 p.m. when the thermometer hit 90 degrees.

Some relief from the sizzling heat was reported in the Dakotas and Minnesota with early morning temperatures 5 to 15 degrees lower than yesterday morning.

Locally, however, the rampaging mercury got off to an earlier start than usual. At 6 a.m. it was 74 degrees in downtown Pontiac, two degrees above the low for the night. By 8 a.m. it was 80, at 9 a.m. it was 85 and at 10 a.m. it was 87.

The official forecast calls for partly cloudy skies, warm and humid with scattered thundershowers. Mostly fair and cooler tonight and tomorrow, with a low tonight of 64-68, is the prediction.

Detroit Water Appeal Brings Demand Cut

Detroit water officials, who yesterday issued a desperate appeal to citizens to cut down water usage, reported the move has paid off.

Laurence G. Lenhardt, general superintendent of the Detroit Water Dept., said pumpage had dropped by 11 million gallons by 9 p.m. last night, compared to the day before.

Detroit officials yesterday morning asked users' cooperation in conserving water when it appeared pumpage would soar to "fantastic heights." Detroit pumped 624,890,000 gallons yesterday, down from the all-time record of 722,850,000 set Wednesday.

Conservation Experts Set to Widen Alligator Search

The alligator situation took on a more somber tone today.

Residents living on Lower Long Lake are being plagued by curious visitors who stop by, hoping to catch a glimpse of the beast. Phone calls are pouring in from cranks offering assorted luring methods.

The State Conservation Dept. today will send experts to Lower Long Lake to determine once and for all whether an alligator is actually there.

Skepticism is mounting and police have decided to keep the lagoon free from persons who have no professional knowledge of handling 'gators.

Yesterday, skindiver Fred Anderson patrolled beneath the waters for nearly an hour and found nothing—not even a big fish.

Mrs. William O. Singleton, whose five-year-old son Danny first reported news of the slimy seven-foot beast, insists the animal is in the lagoon.

"Maybe no one will ever prove it, but I know there's a 'gator in these waters," she remarked.

With all the speculation, Mrs. John Anderson of Dearborn needed no proof of the presence of alligators. Yesterday she found a dead one in her driveway.

That reptile was a mere 16 inches long and was believed to be a pet that had escaped captivity or had been abandoned.

However, a startled Mrs. Anderson theorized the 'gators were settling in the locale and beginning to raise families.

The 'gator hunt has become one of the biggest projects taken on by local citizens, and interest has spread to persons living far from Lower Long Lake lagoon.

When state conservation experts knuckle down to the 'gator problem today, the case of the elusive reptile may be closed.

Dispute Settled Over 3 Officers

To Avoid Big 4 Tension U.S. Takes Reds' Right to Order Men Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has quietly settled its latest diplomatic dispute with Russia over three American Army officers expelled from the Soviet Union.

The State Department, apparently to keep the incident from disturbing prospects for the Big Four summit conference, has accepted Russia's right to order the three embassy aide out of the country.

Three replacements for the men, all assistant Army attaches, will be named, however, with the expectation Russia will agree to accredit them for the American Embassy in Moscow.

Informed officials disclosed last June 17 that Russia had banned the trio, declaring them "persona non grata," or persons unacceptable to the Soviet Union. The three were Lt. Col. John S. Vinson of Milton, Mass.; Capt. William R. Stroud of Kewanee, Ill.; and Capt. Walter Mule of Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

The three have already returned to the United States for reassignment to new posts.

Those Little Insects Harmless, but Pesky

EAST LANSING (AP)—If you've noticed some small black bugs in your house lately, they're probably oat thrips.

Ray Hutson, Michigan State University entomologist, said the bugs are harmless although a nuisance. Hutson said the bugs take refuge in houses when the oat fields are in the ripening stage.

Ordinary screens won't keep out the minute pests, Hutson said, but a household insect spray on the screens will work.

Executives Buy Otsego Ski Club

Ford Motor Officials Purchase Site From McLouth Estate

Two Ford Motor Co. officials announced yesterday that they are buying the closed Gaylord Manufacturing Co. and the Otsego Ski Club at Gaylord from the estate of Donald E. McLouth.

Jack R. Davis, a Ford vice president, and Alan Gornick, a Ford tax consultant, declined to give price details.

Also known as Hidden Valley, the ski club includes 520 acres of rolling woodland.

Until his death a year ago, McLouth was president of the McLouth Steel Co.

Davis said the steel firm is not involved in the purchase, and that he and Gornick will continue year-round operation of the resort with its present staff.

The Gaylord plant made small automotive parts until it was closed two years ago.

Greyhound Bus Walkout Ended

Drivers Back at Work After Wildcat Strike Over Ties, Schedules

Some 25,000 area commuters who were forced to find other means than the Greyhound bus system to reach their places of employment yesterday morning, saw their problem eased at quitting time last night with the end of a wildcat bus drivers' strike.

Drivers of the Birmingham division staged the walkout early yesterday over several grievances, but agreed to return to work after meeting with officers of AFL Local 1303, Streetcar and Bus Operators' Union.

Dispatcher Charles Ueberroth said the men started returning about 3 p.m. yesterday and by last night had restored 25 of the 35 runs scheduled.

"They are all in operation this morning," he added.

The dispute grew out of company refusal to let the men remove neckties, plus a stepped-up schedule which they said forced them to exceed speed limits.

They agreed unanimously to return to work and take their grievances through usual procedures, after making two motions of their own.

One was that they would not drive above speed limits, the other that they will refuse to give up lunch and rest periods.

Service was affected in Birmingham, Pontiac, Detroit, Clawson, Royal Oak, Berkley, Redford, Farmington and Northlands.

Stassen Defends Ike on Schools Attack by Adlai

CHICAGO (AP)—Harold E. Stassen defended President Eisenhower last night against what he called an implication by Adlai Stevenson that the President is "more interested in public roads and military reserves" than education and teachers.

"No implication ever made was more remote from the truth," the president's administrative assistant for disarmament told the National Education Assn.

Stassen spoke at the closing session of the NEA's 93rd annual meeting and referred to Stevenson's address to the NEA Wednesday.

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, in his speech, said Eisenhower had asked Congress to "pass not a law but a miracle" to finance seven billion dollars worth of new school construction.

Stevenson said in the speech that "for meeting this seven billion dollar need, the President proposed grants of 66 millions a year for three years."

Harbor Commission Asks Ship to Return

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Harbor Commission, after voting unanimously not to unload the freighter Fossum here, recommended the vessel return to Sheboygan with its load of clay for the struck Kohler Co.

Milwaukee union officials opposed unloading the Norwegian ship here.

The commission suggested, in a resolution, that the ship return to Sheboygan—50 miles north of here on Lake Michigan—and try to unload its cargo there or seek legal relief in the courts.

* * *

The Fossum came here Thursday after pulling out of Sheboygan Wednesday night following an outbreak of mob violence there Tuesday. Sheboygan's mayor, Rudolph Ploetz, refused to permit the ship to unload.

The Kohler Co., of Kohler, Wis., which ordered the clay, was struck 15 months ago by Local 833 of the UAW-CIO. Major issue in the dispute is union security.

South Africa produced 30.5 million tons of coal in 1953, valued at more than the diamonds mined there the same year.

Ferndale Man Killed as Car Overturns

A 26-year-old Ferndale man, Robert H. Hartley of 1417 Albany St., was killed early this morning when the car he was driving careened off the road at West Maple and Haggerty Rds., in Commerce Township and overturned.

Two passengers, William Carr, 29, of 99 E. Davison St., Highland Park, and Venson Payton, 33, of 590 E. Nine Mile Rd., Ferndale, were injured in the 3 a.m. smash-up.

State Police of Pontiac Post said the men were driving west on Maple and attempting to make a right turn on Haggerty when the accident occurred. All three men were thrown from the car.

Police said the men had been drinking. They told police they had picked up Carr at midnight when he got off work at Highland Park Chrysler Corp. and started out for a nearby lake to go fishing. They said their car was traveling 50 to 55 miles an hour when the crash occurred.

Hartley, married, was the father of a year-old daughter.

Carr is in good condition at Pontiac General Hospital with injuries to the left shoulder. Payton has multiple cuts and neck injuries, and is in fair condition.

Await Decision by Memphis

City Must Prove Intent to Provide Own Power in Dixon-Yates Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration and the City of Memphis were at odds today over whether the city has given "proper assurance" it will build its own power plant.

On this point may hinge the fate of the controversial Dixon-Yates contract.

* * *

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said yesterday "an example of such assurance would be a vote by the mayor and city council that the city assumes the sole responsibility of providing its own power."

* * *

Hours later, Mayor Frank Tobey came back with an assertion that the Memphis City Commission June 23 had passed a resolution "authorizing our (utilities) division to commence the construction of a steam plant." Tobey indicated he felt this was assurance enough.

The Budget Bureau, the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Atomic Energy Commission now are engaged in a restudy, at President Eisenhower's order, to determine whether to cancel the Dixon-Yates contract in the light of Memphis' announced decision to build its own plant, rather than use the output of the private project.

The 107-million-dollar Dixon-Yates plant now is under construction at West Memphis, Ark. It is intended as a source of energy to replace TVA power being diverted chiefly from the Memphis area to AEC plants in the Tennessee Valley area.

Declare Need for Action on Added Public Housing

The dormant public housing program got a poke in the ribs today via the annual report of the Pontiac Housing Commission.

In the 12-page report, the commission declared a "definite need" for more public housing in Pontiac exists, "primarily among white families."

Although the City Commission in April passed an ordinance prohibiting establishment of additional public housing, the Housing commission apparently feels it is still possible that a 300-unit development authorized by the federal government will be built.

"The Housing Commission is still hopeful that the City Commission will review the site studies presented by the Housing Commission, giving these studies and the judgement of the Housing Commission . . . the serious consideration due . . ."

Noted is the fact "that in spite of our integrated inter-racial policy, Michigan 5-1 (the 400-unit Lakeside Homes project), due to location, houses mostly Negro families.

Locating a new project in an area west of East boulevard and south of Mt. Clemens street, the commission feels, "would result in a development which would be an asset to the neighborhood.

"Veteran's status and degree of housing need would indicate that 95 to 100 per cent of tenants would be white, as now prevails in the neighborhood.

The report also hits at "opponents of public housing" who say sub-standard dwellings vacated by "our tenants have been occupied by other families."

"The only answer to that is a much-needed program of enforcement of the housing code by the city of Pontiac. If such develops it should be possible to effectively remove the basis for this criticism."

In attempting to further substantiate the value of public housing developments, the commission points out that $14,796 was paid in lieu of taxes this year for the 34 acres of the Lakeside Homes development.

"Prior to construction . . . only approximately $1,500 was received in taxes for 90 acres, which included the project area . . .

"This all points up the fact that while public housing does require subsidy from federal tax incomes, the local taxpayer's load is actually lightened by the advent of public housing into a community."

Money paid in lieu of taxes covers public services normally paid through taxes, such as fire and police, street maintenance, garbage collection, schools, and is set at 10 per cent of shelter rents. As a public project, the development is not obliged to pay taxes.

Police Lieutenant Hurt in Collision

A Detroit police lieutenant was listed in temporarily serious condition at Detroit's Receiving Hospital with back injuries suffered in a two-car crash on M24 near Bald Mountain road early today.

He is Peter J. DeLuca, 42, who shares the night command at Connor Station, Detroit.

The driver of the auto in which DeLuca was riding, Robert M. Dalton, 46-year-old superintendent of Herman Kelfer Hospital, and another passenger, Verne B. Hamill, 53, were treated at the same hospital.

The three reportedly were returning from Indianwood Country Club about 12:30 a.m. when the accident occurred. James L. Jacobs, 21, of 3355 Giddings Rd., driver of the other auto, told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies Dalton's car was "at least six feet over on my side of the road." Jacobs was not injured.

Dalton, formerly personal secretary to the late Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, lives in Detroit, as does DeLuca. Hamill lives in Grosse Pointe.

Ike AEC Nominee Withdraws Name

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allen Whitfield's controversial nomination as an Atomic Energy Commission member, investigated for weeks by a Senate-House committee, appeared to be dead today.

The Des Moines, Iowa, attorney yesterday asked President Eisenhower to withdraw his name, first sent to the Senate last March 16. The White House indicated this would be done next week.

He said he had been made the "victim of insinuations which have been widely circulated by sources unknown to me," and acted to avoid embroiling the AEC in political controversy.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy which has been investigating the matter, said the group had spent "thousands of dollars" collecting information on Whitfield.

Area Cub Packs Close Three Day Camp Program

Pontiac District Cub Scouts marked the close of their second annual Cub day camp program at Pontiac Lake Recreation Area last night with a campfire program.

Campfire ceremonies climaxed last of five three-day events, and were attended by cubs and their parents, along with the den mothers and den chiefs from five district cub packs.

Pontiac was the third district to participate in the cub day camps, which began June 21. Ottawa and Manito districts have completed their activities, while Macomb district will begin its day camps Tuesday.

Camp activities, on a "Pirate" theme, included games, contests, treasure hunts and various scout ceremonies.

To date, more than 1,000 Cub Scouts, den mothers and den chiefs have registered for the five cub day camps.

Louis Gilson, a scout and cub leader in the Clinton Valley Council for many years, directed the camp programs.

Pontiac cub packs participating in the program were Pack 4, Baldwin School; Pack 9, Webster School; Pack 29, Hawthorne School; Pack 66, LeBaron School, and Pack 13, Wisner School.

New York Men Like Stevenson

Lehman and Wagner at Odds With Others Who Like Harriman

WASHINGTON (AP) — A split among New York leaders added today to growing signs that the Democrats may be in for a battle over their 1956 presidential nomination.

Sen. Lehman (D-NY) was said by aides to be sticking solidly behind former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois as his candidate for the nomination, despite a state organization lineup for Gov. Averell Harriman.

Lehman's stand aligns with that of Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr. of New York City, who said on his return from a European trip Thursday that Stevenson remains his choice.

While Harriman himself has said he is for Stevenson, the position of De Sapio and Prendergast indicates at least a possible holdout of New York's key 97-vote delegation at next year's Chicago convention.

Such a development could cause Stevenson trouble if he goes in pitching for the nomination. So far, Stevenson hasn't said whether he will seek another try at the presidency.

Bloomfield to Decide $800,000 Bond Issue

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Registered voters of the Bloomfield Hills school district will vote on an $800,000 bond issue on Monday, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at Vaughan School.

The bonds would provide funds for a new elementary school, an addition to Wing Lake School, the purchase of four elementary school sites and one junior high school site.

In addition, it would allow for the development and purchase of equipment for the new senior high school, scheduled for completion by September.

Senator Adamant on Vet Exemption From Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga) today stuck by his proposal to exempt veterans from compulsory reserve training, despite Pentagon opposition.

"I still think I've got the best plan," said Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Russell spoke in an interview after receiving a letter in which Secretary of Defense Wilson stressed the administration's belief in the need for reserve duty by "individuals who have served with the active forces." However, Wilson assured Russell the Pentagon plans to use the least possible "enforcement measures."

There appeared to be little, if any, Senate opposition to an administration plan to recruit up to 250,000 teen-age volunteers a year for six months of active duty, followed by 7½ years active training in active reserve units. The House version of the reserve bill contains such a provision.

Instead, Senate differences appeared to be centering on a requirement that former draftees or enlistees must also take active reserve training.

Truck Hits Foreman on Road Paving Project

A 52-year-old road paving crew foreman, hit by one of his own crew's trucks, was treated for bruises at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday.

Lester M. Gardner, of Lansing, was standing beside an asphalt spreading machine at Milford and Hickory Grove Rds., Milford Township, when he was struck, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies reported.

Kent Allocations Fixed

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Kent County Allocation Board set final allocation rates Thursday at 3.5 mills for the county and 7.82 mills for the Board of Education. The county's equalized value this year is $838,600,000, while the city has been equalized at $525,759,265.

Employment Decline Seen in Area During Summer

Employment, generally holding a steady pace over the past months, will tend to decline moderately during the summer months, according to James H. Dudley, manager of the Pontiac office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

In the mid-May to mid-June period, just tabulated, employment was 81,600, Dudley said. This is an increase of 5,700 over a year ago, with the manufacturing work force up 3,600 and non-manufacturing up 2,100.

He reported local motor vehicle plants are employing 33,800 workers, an increase of 3,700 from the same period last year.

Dudley predicts a drop of 800 in manufacturing plants by mid-August. Non-manufacturing is expected to remain steady during the period.

Unemployment at mid-June was estimated at 2,600, compared with 2,100 in May and 5,500 in June, 1954. Currently, the jobless make up three per cent of the total labor force compared with 2.4 per cent in May and 6.5 per cent a year ago.

"The 500 increase in the past month was due to continuing migration into the area, the entry of some new graduates into the labor market and to the slight decrease in employment," Dudley said.

Meanwhile, unemployment insurance volume dropped to the lowest level since January, 1953, the manager said. During June, the Pontiac office issued 2,516 unemployment insurance checks valued at $67,561 compared with 2,992 checks for $83,836 in May.

The Day in Birmingham

Dana Whitman to Return as City Manager's Aide

DANA T. WHITMAN JR.

BIRMINGHAM—No stranger to Birmingham or Municipal Building circles is Dana T. Whitman Jr., who will return to this city Aug. 1 to assume his new duties as assistant city manager.

The 32-year old will come here with his wife and 21-month old son from Holden, Mass., where he has served as city manager since Dec., 1952.

Whitman was last here from July, 1950 to October, 1951, when he held the position of assistant to City Manager Donald C. Egbert.

While here, his duties included work in personnel, purchasing and public relations. He also was deputy director of civil defense.

CALLED TO COLORS

He left when he was recalled to the service and is a veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict. Receiving his discharge in November, 1952, he became Holden's (pop. 8,600) first city manager one month later.

A 1953 tornado there killed 11 persons and injured over 100, destroyed 181 buildings and damaged 197. Under Whitman's guidance, $135,000 given by the state, was expended to restore the town.

During his first year in Holden, a suburb of Worcester, the tax rate was reduced 80 cents per $1,000 and was thereafter held constant despite rising school costs and added employee benefits, according to Egbert.

TOWN SETS PRECEDENT

The town was one of the first to provide group life insurance for employees. Since taking over his managerial role, traffic regulations, a zoning bylaw and sanitary regulations have been adopted there.

Whitman is a graduate of the University of Maine and received a Master's degree in public administration at the University of Michigan.

Locate Victim of Sex Slayer

Neighbor Youth, 17, Admits Rape, Killing of 4-Year-Old

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—The nude body of a 4-year-old girl, missing since Wednesday, was found last night in a shallow grave in the cellar of a young neighbor's home.

Authorities said little blonde, blue-eyed Patricia Johnson had been sexually abused and slain with an ax and that Walter Bourque Jr., 17-year-old shoe factory worker and a volunteer searcher for her, admitted the crime.

* * *

County Solicitor Conrad Danais said Bourque admitted attacking the little girl sexually and then killing her when she said:

"I'm going to tell my mother."

Little Patricia had been the object of an intensive search since she was last seen by her father Wednesday night playing in front of her home.

* * *

When the two officers questioned Bourque, McGranaghan said, the youth promptly told his story of the slaying. Then, the police chief said, he led authorities to the body.

Danais said the young factory worker, oldest of two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bourque Sr., was "calm, cool and collected" as he admitted the slaying.

* * *

Patricia's mother, Mrs. Richard Johnson, who is expecting a fourth child momentarily, collapsed and was placed under a doctor's care. The Johnsons have two sons, John, 6, and Richard Jr., 21 months.

Chairman of GOP Would Keep Leaders

CHICAGO (AP)—The winning team of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon should be retained by the Republicans at the 1956 national convention, says Leonard W. Hall, GOP national chairman.

"Mr. Eisenhower is as popular today as he ever was," Hall told a news conference yesterday. "He will win as big in 1956 as he did in 1952."

Hall said he is working as national chairman "on the assumption that Mr. Eisenhower will seek reelection next year." The President has not announced his intentions for 1956.

Hall, who was in Chicago for a meeting of Republican campaign contributors, also said the Republicans will regain control of Congress next year.

THE STORY: Searching for a solution to a series of murders in which he is deply involved, private detective Michael Sayne is checking old newspaper stories which have a bearing on the case. He finds that the husband of a woman who has just died in Miami is wanted for bank robbery in New Orleans.

XXIII

MICHAEL SHAYNE sat down wearily in a wooden chair. "Let's assume Hugh Allerdice did escape that way and phoned his wife next morning to hitchhike to Miami and meet him here. What significance did the rooming house have? Bristow and the strangled girl? Could Allerdice be the one who phoned me?"

"Could be. Though it doesn't make much sense for his own wife to have been tied up in the trunk of his car."

"Maybe he wanted to get rid of her and not share the money."

"But he'd arranged to have her meet him here," argued Rourke.

"So she said," reminded Shayne. "We don't even know she is Beatrice Allerdice. And there's still no connection with Bristow. Listen. Do you have back files of a New Orleans paper? Can we backtrack to the date of the robbery and the trial? There should be pictures of all of them at that time."

"Sure. We should have a file for a month or so back. Let me check the date if it gives it here," Rourke studied the story again, said doubtfully, "Almost two months ago. I don't know . . ."

He went to the rear of the musty file room, turned on more lights and began searching while Shayne sat hunched forward on his wooden chair, dragging deeply on a cigaret and moodily reviewing the few things they knew and the great many things they didn't know about the affair.

Shayne tugged at his earlobe and looked up hopefully as Rourke returned carrying a heavy file of papers. "We're in luck. Just got under the deadline before they clear the old ones out. Here's your first story."

He spread a New Orleans paper under a bright light and began to read:

"Hugh Allerdice, youthful bank messenger for the City Trust Company, was being held by police late this afternoon on suspicion of theft in the disappearance of an $80,000 payroll being transported by him to the Atlas Construction Company earlier today.

DOUBT STORY

"'There are altogether too many discrepancies in this young man's story,' said Captain Allen P. Welles of the Theft Squad in a prepared statement handed to the press at four o'clock. 'We are making no charge against him as yet, but will continue questioning him until we are satisfied.'"

Shayne grunted. "Ten to one they got a confession out of him by midnight."

ROURKE continued reading: "According to Allerdice's story, he left the bank at 10 o'clock this morning with the payroll in a leather bag locked to his wrist with a steel chain. Within half a block of the bank, he claims a large black sedan drew up beside him and two men leaped out and threw a heavy sack over his head, overpowering him and thrusting him into the back of the sedan which then moved away rapidly. Unfortunately for Allerdice, no witnesses have come forward to confirm this part of his story.

"He was beaten unconscious, he claims, and when he came to slightly after nooon, he was lying beside a country road outside the city limits and the money-bag was missing. He made his way to a telephone and reported the incident to police headquarters, and has stoutly maintained his innocence of any complicity in the affair throughout an afternoon of intensive questioning."

"Wait a minute, Mike!" "here's something: 'A reporter who went to the small house in the Paradise section occupied by the Allerdices and a roomer, Jack Bristow, found no one at home in mid-afternoon, and was informed by neighbors that Mrs. Beatrice Allerdice, pretty young wife of the accused bank messenger, is in a hospital where she recently underwent an operation for appendicitis."

Shayne was sitting erect, his gray eyes gleaming with satisfaction. "So Allerdice snatched 80 grand, and Jack Bristow was rooming with him when it happened. Now this begins to add up."

FINDS PICTURE

ROURKE had been scanning the second day's story. "There's a picture of the Allerdices here, and a small inset of Bristow. Take a look at her, Mike. She the one?"

Shayne got up eagerly to lean over and study the three pictures. He shook his head slowly after a time. "Could be. I wouldn't swear to it either way. Look at the Bristow pictures. You wouldn't recognize him for sure either. I see Captain Welles got his confession," he added ironically.

"Yep. Which Allerdice repudiated the next morning and refused to sign. Said they put words in his mouth and he was so groggy by midnight he would have confessed murdering his wife to get them to lay off. But they claim they had sufficient evidence to send him up without the confession.

"But here's the interesting part, Mike. 'Police who sought to interview Jack Bristow, roomer at the Allerdice menage, have been unable to discover any trace of him. According to Allerdice, he packed his bags and departed abruptly the day preceding the theft without saying where he was going.

'He had been unemployed for some time and owed three weeks rent, and Allerdice admitted he had been nagging him about paying up and believes that may be the reason he went away. The police are seeking him as a possible material witness.'"

"And I'll bet he never did turn up," said Michael Shayne.

Police Hunt for Editor Who Fails to Keep His Thursday Appointment

CHICAGO (AP)—Police today investigated the disappearance of Howard Rushmore, 43, editor of Confidential, a bimonthly national magazine, who has been missing since early Thursday.

Rushmore, who came to Chicago Monday from his home in New York City, failed to keep an appointment yesterday with Detective Frank Heimoski.

* * *

Police said Rushmore came to Chicago to work on a story in connection with the death of James Forrestal, the former secretary of the Navy and Defense Departments. They said Rushmore had appeared on a Chicago TV program Wednesday night and said he was looking for a Chicago Communist party leader.

* * *

Rushmore at one time was film editor of the Communist Daily Worker but he broke with the party in the 1930s. He has been a witness against the Communist conspiracy before several congressional committees. Until last fall he was a reporter on the New York Journal American, specializing in articles about communism.

Police said when Rushmore returned to his hotel after appearing on the TV program he received a message from the desk clerk that a man who gave the name of "Larry" had called and asked to meet him at 1:15 a.m. EST at Roosevelt Rd. and Halsted St.

* * *

Rushmore, who is 6-foot five and weighs 200 pounds, left in a taxicab to meet "Larry," and police have not found any one who has seen him since he left the hotel.

Stephen Harrison, a Chicago newspaperman who with his wife had been with Rushmore at the TV studio and at the hotel, offered to accompany Rushmore to the meeting place on the Near Southwest Side, but Rushmore said he would go alone.

Reflections

WE'RE BUILDING A FLOOR

Just as the inconceivably deep gorges in the sea are being filled with minute particles of soil, there are chasms in our life that we may fill with kindnesses.

When we help a friend over a rough place, lend a hand to one in distress, dry the tears of a child, give good cheer to one who has passed his three score years, we make a floor of deeds that will endure for ages yet to come, e. g., the father who by being honorable teaches honor to his son, the mother who by example guides her daughter, the teacher who uses kindness to instruct a pupil, the great moral leaders who set fire to our ambitions, the Sportsmen and their creed of goodfellowship — these people are filling a gorge that we may have a better world tomorrow.

THE ANTARCTIC—6

Antarctic Birds

Birds visit the Antarctic, around the South Pole, only during chilly polar summer—which lasts from about September to March.

The friendly looking penguins are the best known of the Antarctic birds. They walk solemnly about in single file on the ice floes, and swim with grace in the water. They live in families, and hatch their eggs while keeping them warm between their feet.

Another type of bird which visits the Antarctic is the skua gull. It is the great enemy of the penguins, and steals the penguin eggs for food. The penguins are stronger than the skua gulls, and can fight them on the ice. But the penguins cannot fly, and the skua gulls are safe if they can fly away with the eggs they steal.

Today's picture shows a skua gull stealing a penguin egg before the penguin can reach the thief to fight him off. You can cut out the whole picture, color it and save it for your Antarctic collection, or you can make a cutout of the skua gull. To do this, cut out around the edges of the bird's wings and body, cut around the tabs, and fold back. It will stand up on your table.

Orrin McQuaid's Report

Further indications of Oakland County's continued and even phenomenal growth are contained in Orrin McQuaid's current report.

The Register of Deeds office shows a thirty-two per cent increase in business. "This June and the preceeding five months were the busiest in the history of the office," says Mr. McQuaid. Fees total more than $130,000 for the first half of the year as against a bare $100,000 in 1954.

McQUAID

★ ★ ★

Oakland County has long been fortunate in the directive head of this office. Orrin McQuaid is a member of a well known family prominently identified with growth and progress of Pontiac. Under him, the procedures and methods of his office have been completely revamped. McQuaid instituted modern and efficient accounting practices. He re-designed and systemized office functions. As a result, he reduced the cost of this branch of government by an astounding figure in proportion to its activities.

★ ★ ★

This is something taxpayers understand.

They applaud vigorously.

All too frequently over the past two decades, the cost of government has been on an upward escalator. It has advanced, increased and jounced skyward, even when the services rendered did now grow appreciably. The taxpayers have been taken for so many rides they have become almost immune to abuse and exploitation.

★ ★ ★ ★

Thus men in public life like McQuaid earn especially vigorous endorsement and approval.

An American Shrine Restored in Boston

An event in Boston Wednesday holds interest for all Americans.

The steeple of historic old North Church, blown down by Hurricane Carol last September, has been replaced.

This was no ordinary steeple. From here on the night of April 18, 1775 lanterns told Paul Revere that the British were crossing the river and were to march on Concord.

His alarm rallied patriots to make a gallant defense of Bunker Hill, and then soundly defeat the Redcoats at Lexington and at Concord Bridge.

Lanterns in church steeples and the insistent tattoo of racing hoofs at midnight are a far cry from our far-flung warning systems of today.

We can now flash messages instantly to all parts of the nation and to defense posts aronud the world. Time and distance has been eliminated in communications.

But over the years a basic need of a Democracy has not changed; eternal vigilance remains the price of freedom. We no longer hang signal lanterns to warn of danger, but the alarms must be sounded when there is threat to our safety, whether from without the nation or from within.

★ ★ ★

May the new steeple of North Church in Boston, an exact replica of the original shaft, be an inspiration to Americans everywhere.

May their vigilance keep our nation alert and strong.

Pipeline for Coal

There is something new under the sun, even in the very sick coal industry.

That something is the plan recently announced by the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company to ship 1,000,000 tons of its product annually via overland pipeline.

Behind this project is the inescapable economic fact that freight rates now constitute half the cost of coal when it reaches the consumer. Pittsburgh Consol long has regarded this as the main reason why coal has been losing its market to competitive fuels.

The company's answer is a coal carrying pipeline from Cadiz, Ohio, to a point on Lake Erie near Cleveland. Estimated cost of the project is $10,000,000 and construction is to be started within a few months.

At the Cadiz end of the pipeline the coal will be cleaned and mixed with water to form what is called "slurry." This will be pumped to the Cleveland end more than 100 miles distant where it will be dried and made ready for sale in the industrial rich northeast Ohio area.

★ ★ ★

The answer to the coal industry's woes won't be found in the special privileges it has sought. These include oil import quotas, limitations on sales of industrial natural gas and preferred treatment on Government contracts.

But the answer will be found in large part in the kind of imagination and initiative which produced Pittsburgh Consol's pipeline project.

Why Hire Solons?

That Is the Real Question in Firing Controversy

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING—Gov. Williams and Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, criticizing the Wayne County Road Commission for firing a legislator, might better have criticized the commission for hiring him in the first place.

• • •

Of course, in doing so Williams and Kavanagh would have put the finger on many more Democrats than Republicans.

But they could have pointed up some of the evils of a common Detroit and Wayne County practice of handing out government jobs to fellows who manage to get elected to the legislature.

In the current case, Rep. Leonard E. Wood, a young Detroit Republican, was re-elected in 1954 and thereafter was given a job by the "Republican" County Road Commission. Later, he switched to the Democratic Party, voted against the commission's wishes and was let go by the commission in a muddle of technical and contradictory statements.

CAMPAIGN FODDER

Kavanagh said his investigation showed that the commission asked Woods to vote a certain way on a highway bill, that he disobeyed and that he apparently was punished by losing his job.

• • •

Now this makes a lot of nice newspaper and campaign fodder for Williams, but it also is terribly naive.

Because one may ask why the Road Commission hired Wood in the first place.

And if you have been around the Legislature long enough to find the light switch you know that the commission gave Wood a job in the expectation that it would have a friendly vote in the House.

Anyone who thinks differently ought to go back to writing high school civics essays.

• • •

13 OUT OF 34 LISTED

The current legislative handbook lists 13 of 34 Democratic members of the House who also hold jobs with the Detroit or Wayne County governments or their employe groups and two Republicans who hold local governmental jobs outside.

It does not list Wood as having a government job, so the presumption is logical that there may be others who have disguised their employment or who got a government post after the handbook was made up.

• • •

Now, of course, some of these probably are men and women who held their local government jobs before they were elected to the Legislature. And no one should imply that these legislators holding appointive local jobs are not earning their pay while they are back home.

But it has become a familiar sight at the opening of each Legislature to see the politicians racing around frantically to find a job in the Detroit or county government for some poor unfortunate who got himself elected to the Legislature and needs some extra cash.

This was understandable when lawmakers were paid $3 a day—but it is hard to justify now when they get $5,000 a year.

But they still get jobs as bailiffs and elevator operators in the county building, and field men for this agency and investigators for that agency and deputy sheriffs and so on.

Ancient Romans Blamed Christians for Everything

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

The ancient Romans were a superstitious lot. Whenever anything unpleasant happened to them they were sure it was because the gods were annoyed, and they looked around to see what or who was annoying them.

When Christianity began there was no longer any difficulty in finding out why the gods were angry. Obviously, it was the Christians who were upsetting them. Whatever happened — flood, epidemic, or crop failure — it was always the Christians' fault, and the only remedy was to throw a few of them to the lions.

Such nonsense was behind the torture and death of Felicitas and her sons, the Seven Holy Brothers. Felicitas was a pious widow, high up in Roman society. Pagan priests told the Emperor that the gods were distinctly irritated by the idea of a woman in her position taking up Christianity.

The lady was given a chance to renounce her dangerous doctrines. When she refused, she and her seven sons, also Christians, were brought to trial, and, of course, condemned to die. One son was beaten to death with a whip loaded with lead; one was thrown from a high rock; two were beaten with staves; three were beheaded. The mother, after watching it all and shouting words of encouragement to her sons throughout their ordeals, was herself beheaded. This is supposed to have happened on July 10, about the year 162.

St. Felicitas is prayed to by expectant women who hope their children will be boys.

NEXT SATURDAY

The Carmelites are the oldest mendicant (supported by alms) order in the Roman Catholic church, and next Saturday is their special day, the feast of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel. Their actual record goes back a long time — to 1156 when Italian Crusader Berthold of Calabria established himself and 10 companions on the famous Biblical mountain.

But their legend goes back even 20 centuries before that. According to the Carmelites' cherished tradition, they really began in the time of the prophet Elijah, who built an altar on Mt. Carmel in the Ninth Century B. C. (See I Kings, Chapter 18). At that time, the Carmelites say, Elijah had a prophetic vision of the Blessed Virgin Mary — nearly 900 years before she was born.

Most of the celebration will be in Italy and in Italian sections of American cities, where people will parade through the streets carrying statues of the Virgin.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE FOUNDER

Christian Scientists take little notice of birthdays, believing that birth and death are only insignificant transitions in man's eternal life. Next Saturday is, nevertheless, the birthday of their founder, Mary Baker Eddy, who entered this phase of her life at Bow, N. H., on July 16, 1821. Mary Baker's early religious affiliation was with the Congregational church.

In 1875, when she was 54 years old, she published the first edition (1,000 copies) of her now famous "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," in which she expounded her theology. The basic belief, now held by her half-a-million followers, was that since God created all things, and since God would be incapable of creating evil, it is therefore not possible for evil to have any real existence.

At this period of her life Mrs. Eddy was living in Lynn, Mass., where she surrounded herself with a number of students who were attracted by her teachings. In 1879 these students, with her support and approval, organized themselves and obtained a charter as The Church of Shrist, Scientist.

From 1882 Mrs. Eddy lived in Boston until her death on December 10, 1910. One of her contributions to American life, valued by thousands who are not members of her church, was the founding, in 1908, of the great Christian Science Monitor.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

And it shall come to pass, when it is seen that Moab is weary on the high place, that he shall come to his sanctuary to pray; but he shall not prevail.—Isaiah 16:12.

When we pray for any virtue, we should cultivate the virtue as well as pray for it; the form of your prayers should be the rule of your life; every petition to God is a precept to man.—Taylor.

'Combat Delinquent Society by Knowing Normality, Avoiding Tabloid Education'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

In a criminal we see the end result of all the terrible factors which have been an influence upon that person . . . the inheritance of countless generations. We see the neglect of society, the results of prenatal neglect and improper parental care, and community neglect.

And we see something far more serious, more terrifying, quite mysterious . . . the tragedy of man's complete domination by man.

Do not forget that the behavior of the problem child is never happy. The gangster, the criminal is never happy. What has become of happiness? In the hustle of business and the Jones' keeping up with the Smiths, it seems that a happy feeling has vanished from our lives, that glorious feeling in doing!

What is it doing to us? It is destroying our individual effort. We must avoid educating our children as tabloid personalities if we are to avoid a tabloid culture and civilization. Instead of being disgusted at the glorification of crime or the criminal, we need to recognize evil, to recognize perversity and immorality.

Also, we need to recognize health and normality in this world of illness.

Let us not be like the philosopher who stood detached and cold, viewing the plodding caravan while he mused to himself, "Ah, they have gained knowledge, but in gaining it they have lost wisdom."

'Regardless of Position, Most Are 'Working Men' '

A letter in this column said that workers should have had credit for catching some thieves instead of the Pontiac police.

This may or may not be true. However, what has that got to do with working men being used for political recognition?

Championing the 'working man' seems to be quite a pastime these days. But I'd like to know who isn't a working man.

Labor leaders, subversives and do-gooders have built that term into an exclusive little caption that implies everyone who doesn't wear overalls to work does nothing constructive, plays golf all day and drinks champagne all night. What makes them think that those executives they're so contemptuous of aren't working men, too?

If they would do a little honest looking, they would notice that most of the 'big bosses' work many more hours each week than the so-called 'laboring class' and don't demand overtime for it, either.

And those poor, starved 'working men' who have only two cars to their names might find that many of the 'brass' were once ordinary workers themselves. The only difference is that their vision extended a little beyond union propaganda and Friday's paycheck.

Money Needed for Roads Wasted on Straits Bridge

Instead of spending all that money on the Mackinaw Bridge, why didn't they put it to good use by using it for roads? We don't need that bridge anyway, but just because a few pleasure seekers get tired of waiting a few minutes for a ferry, a lot of our hard-earned tax money is being wasted there.

What's a little inconvenience compared to all the lives that could be saved by building adequate roads?

Expect Red Concessions on Disarmament Issue

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the best informed men in the government believe the Russians—when they meet President Eisenhower in Geneva 10 days from now—will make their most spectacular move on the issue of disarmament.

The Russians, they think, will either offer new concessions or try to force the United States to do so. They have yielded more in the past few months than in the past 10 years.

And Eisenhower, judging from his remarks at his Wednesday news conference, may be considering concessions. What he said sounded in a way like an echo of what the Russians said last May about inspection procedures.

• • •

The Russians' position until last May:

1. There must be an immediate end to making atomic weapons; those now stored up must be destroyed. This was all to the advantage of the Russians when they had no atomic bombs and the United States had plenty.

2. The nations should reduce their armed forces on a percentage basis. Since the Russians had the largest armed force, a percentage reduction would benefit them.

3. There could be no international inspection teams—such as the West proposed—allowed in any country to see that it was not cheating on making atomic weapons.

This has been the Allied position:

1. No sudden disarmament, but a gradual one step-by-step until finally atomic weapons were scrapped. The reason: To test the disarmament machinery and the sincerity of every country in living up to the agreement.

2. Armed forces reduced through a fixed limit on their size, not on a percentage basis as the Russians wanted.

3. International inspection teams stationed in every big country with full freedom to check everywhere to see there was no cheating.

The two sides stuck to those positions for years. Suddenly on May 11 the Russians made a public announcement which startled the West: They were willing to agree to some of the West's demands, in part anyway:

• • •

1. They agreed to the idea of gradual disarmament, which the West wanted.

2. They accepted the West's idea of a fixed limit on armed forces. They agreed, almost unchanged, to the very figures proposed by the West: A limit of 1½ million men each for the United States, Russia and Red China; and 650,000 men each for Britain and France.

3. They agreed, for the first time to let an international inspection team be stationed in Russia, but in a limited way. For example: The team would be restricted to airports, docks and rail centers.

4. They demanded the United States give up its overseas air bases which, because they ring Russia, are in a position to plaster her if she gets aggressive. This is something this country could hardly agree to until world disarmament was near its last stages.

Textbook Authors Must Keep in Mind That 18-Year-Olds Make Up Audience

Dorothy surprised me recently, but a good textbook at best is only an ally of a topnotch teacher. Notice the Dryden booklet's suggestion below. Good teachers talk the language of the students. They have missionary enthusiasm for their subject, and try to make it practical, which automatically means "interesting."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-378: Dorothy Good, is chief technologist in the pathology Department of the Fargo Clinic in North Dakota.

• • •

"Dr. Crane, when I began my course in Applied Psychology at Concordia College in Moorhead, Minn.," she began, "I had the good fortune to have Dr. T. O. Burgess for my professor.

"He told me that I wouldn't resell your textbook, which was our classroom text.

"Well, I had read (and resold:) many texts, all apparently valued highly by the professors, so I took this statement with a grain of salt.

• • •

"Two nights later, I happened to be sleepless so decided to scan your book—which was a mistake!

INTRIGUED

"For I grew more wide awake than ever for I was intrigued by your style of writing as well as the contents.

• • •

"And I liked the many quotations that you placed at the bottom of many pages, such as Goethe's 'Architecture is frozen music.'

"Many of these quotations have remained with me ever since leaving college. They have enriched my life.

"Incidentally, Dr. Burgess' classes are overflowing each year, for he is certainly a brilliant and talented teacher. However, he credits you with the entire success of the course.

"So thanks again from an unknown student who found a textbook she could actually enjoy for its own sake."

SOUL TONIC

This gracious compliment from a girl I have never met, was a delight to me, though I must disclaim a lot of the credit.

• • •

If you have reached middle age, you realize we do not live alone in this life, but are indebted to many, many others for our success.

For example, Dorothy lauds the fact that I appended choice quotations at the bottom of almost 200 pages in my textbook.

Well, James T. Greenlee, the printer of the book, suggested that idea to me, for he felt students should have a rich store of beautiful truths to nourish their spirit.

TEXT UNNECESSARY

And Dr. Burgess never has needed my textbook to make his classes overflow. He is an exceedingly good teacher, which automatically means a popular one.

• • •

He is one of the leading clinical psychologists in America and pioneered hypnotherapy. In fact, he has started many classes all over America in the medical and dental use of hypnosis.

And students recognize merit about as readily as their parents. They can spot good teachers as well as poor teachers.

AUTHORS, TAKE NOTE

Dr. Harold K. Fink, of New York City, is another leading expert in psychotherapy, and a popular teacher as well as textbook author.

• • •

Recently he wrote me that he had asked the Dryden Press to forward one of its booklets on advice to professors who contemplate writing a textbook.

"Please remember," said the Dryden booklet, "that those who use your textbook will be 18-year-olds; not Ph. D. professors."

"Dr. Crane," added Dr. Fink, the reason I have always enjoyed using your textbook is the fact you write for 18-year-old students, as Dryden suggests.

BORING TEXTBOOKS

"When I was a student, my interest in psychology was almost wholly destroyed by the dry, boring textbooks. I almost dropped out of psychology entirely my first year for that very reason."

Newspaper writing makes every textbook author better, for it forces writers to be direct and to use effective, simple language. A good course in house-to-house selling likewise improves a teacher.

Send for my "Test for Good Teachers," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus a dime. It makes a good self-inventory for teachers or, if they have the nerve to let their students rate them anonymously, it is stimulating to hear what the real "consumers" of education have to say.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

$250,000 Damage Suit Filed in Lapeer Eviction Battle

Stevens Heirs Renew '52 Case

Name Grace White as Defendant, Ask Return of Widow's Farm

LAPEER (AP)—Memories of the grim Lapeer County farm eviction battles of three years ago were revived again today.

A $250,000 damage suit was filed yesterday in Detroit federal court by nine heirs of Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens, 61-year-old widow who was carried off her 80-acre farm by evicting deputies, July 12, 1952.

An earlier attempt to evict her failed when more than 50 neighbors tangled in a 45-minute melee with Sheriff Clark Gregory and several deputies.

Months later, the eviction wars broke out again. This time Sheriff Gregory and his deputies staged a successful eviction raid on the elderly brothers Chris and Paul Ziegenhardt.

The brothers had withstood earlier attempts to oust them from their sign-plastered, sand-bagged, farm-fortress—"Fort Ziegenhardt."

ASSESSMENT $172

Both the widow Stevens and the Ziegenhardts were shareholders in the Lapeer Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Assn. When the insurance agency went under in 1935, they were ordered to pay assessments to cover the loss. In Mrs. Stevens' case it was $172.

When the judgments were not paid, the farms were ordered sold at public auction. Mrs. Grace White, a Lapeer attorney, bought both of them.

The ensuing eviction battles drew nationwide attention.

Mrs. White was named a defendant in the law suit. The heirs demand damages for "unlawful harrassment, loss of profits, damage to the farm, and damages for the wrongful death of Mrs. Stevens."

They also ask the widow's farm be returned to them.

The widow died of a heart attack in 1952. Physicians stated the eviction, which resulted in her being hospitalized, may have contributed to her death.

Pair Trapped at Caro After Crashing Out of Tuscola Prison

CARO (AP)—Two young escapees from the Tuscola County Jail were reported cornered today in a mile square area near East Dayton, eight miles southeast of Caro.

Cash and Thomas have both served on the board through five years of controversy.

Heights Election Hearing Slated

Madison Group to Air Validity of Petitions in Circuit Court July 18

MADISON HEIGHTS—A hearing on the validity of petitions filed by the Madison Citizens League, asking an election date for a new charter commission for Madison Heights, has been postponed until July 18.

The hearing had been slated for Monday before Oakland County Circuit Judge Russell Holland.

A suit filed by Joseph J. Nosko, supporter of the old charter commission, asks the court to prohibit the setting of a date for election of a new commission, on the grounds that the petitions have been improperly served.

The petitions were filed with Oakland County Clerk and photostats taken to the home of acting Mayor Virginia M. Solberg, where they were found next day in the yard of the Solberg residence. Mrs. Solberg says the petitions were not filed with her, and that they were refused by her husband during her absence.

The League claims it filed the petitions with the county clerk only after attempts to file with Mrs. Solberg were unsuccessful.

Township Takes Water Control

Southfield Will Operate Oakwood Hills System After Final Study

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—Control and operation of the Oakwood Hills subdivision water system will be turned over to Southfield Township, as soon as a final study of documents is made and the approval given by Eugene Swem, township supervisor, and Leonard Lamb, head of the water department, it was announced today.

Approval to have the township become the continuing authority for the subdivision's water system was given by the board at a special meeting Thursday.

The board also discussed a new zoning plan for the township and studied a zoning map, the result of a survey by the Southfield Planning Commission.

The board questioned some aspects of the plan, and it was resolved to request the commission to explain certain proposed zoning "inconsistencies." Changes in proposed amendments affecting public utilities and business parking areas also were considered.

The board approved a $300 contract with Superior Sanitation Co, to correct septic tank drainage difficulties at the No. 1 fire station.

In other action, authorization was given Fire Chief Alfred Kruck to attend the State Fire Convention July 10-15 at Port Huron, with $60 allowed for expenses. Payment for DPW rubber uniforms also was charged against the contingent fund, in the amount of $119.

Bride Lifts Face Veil After Rite

Tradition Portrays Maiden Too Shy to Face Congregation

By EMILY POST

With wedding questions far outnumbering all others, here is another: "I've been to several weddings where the bride wore a short veil coming down over her face, but not always has this been managed in the same way.

"At some weddings the veil was not lifted back until after the marriage service and in others she lifted it back as soon as she reached the altar. Will you please tell me which is the correct way?"

Answer: The first way is correct—the quaint tradition back of the face veil being that a maiden is too shy to face a congregation unveiled and reveals her face only when she is married.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be possible to mix two patterns of silver on the same table provided they are similar in design and go well together?"

Answer: You may use whatever pattern or combination of patterns you like. In countless houses—in many of the most perfectly appointed ones—the flat silver is not matching for each course. As a matter of fact, notable collectors of old silver rarely set their tables with completely matching sets.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What are the proper decorations for a wedding breakfast? This will be limited to the families and everyone will be seated at one large table. May any color be used on this table even when the bride is wearing all white?"

Answer: White is always the chosen color when possible. The chief decoration on the bridal table is the wedding cake, always elaborately iced and placed in front of the bride and bridegroom. In addition to this, there are (if possible) white flowers.

Bubble Gum Corsage? No, No, No!

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'll be 13 this month and some of my friends say bubble gum is the correct corsage, and others say dog biscuits, which is correct? What is correct up to the age of 16."

Answer: Are you kidding? Or are your friends trying to play a joke on you? Before and after the age of 16, ladies wear flowers!

Of course, you could wear a splendid splurge of cauliflower, or a drooping dozen of carrots. But the general idea is to adorn the shoulder, the wrist or the topknot with the flowers of the field. Gilding the lily, so to speak.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've been going with a girl who goes with several other boys. I'm very fond of her and she's very affectionate when she's with me.

"Recently when I asked her where I stand she simply said, 'You don't know, do you?' Just what am I supposed to do?"

Answer: Get out your divining rod, your magic globe, your tea leaves and pack of cards and try to figure out what she meant. She made a statement of fact which was quite true. You obviously don't know how you stand if you had to ask.

What she said also is a gentle tease. You don't know, you can't imagine, but you'd give your eyeteeth for inside information. That was her little joke. And she wasn't giving you the answer.

But you can tell from her attitude, her responsiveness to you and her general enthusiasm how you rate with her.

* * *

She doesn't care two bits if she's busy or has some feeble excuse every time you want a date with her. And she's not too wildly enthusiastic if practically any old thing can come along to make her break or postpone your date.

If she has parties and invites every other boy she knows except you, you don't count too big. If she's sharply critical of things you do, say, wear and think she isn't wholeheartedly for you, obviously.

If she talks about the fun she has with the other boys she dates, making it all sound more exciting than the fun she has with you, it's not hard to figure.

If she gets absent-minded in the middle of a date, does her best to stifle the yawns toward the end of a date, and sits on her own side of the car, but definitely, on the way home, you can practically tell that somebody else is on her mind. Her romantic interest isn't you.

* * *

But if she wears what you like just because you like it, if she seems to care terrifically what you think, if she dances starry-eyed and silent with you, and seems to clam up the minute you comment favorably on some other girl—it's because she cares.

If she touches you whenever she can manufacture an excuse, take heart. Your chances are good.

Her "You don't know, do you?" is a gentle reminder that it wouldn't hurt you to add up the score of all the nice little things she does because of you. And all things she doesn't do because of you.

You can figure out the answer. Must you hear it from her?

MRS. CHARLES W. PECKHAM JR.

Mary A. Crane Carries Heirloom Hanky for Rite

Mary Alice Crane carried an heirloom lace handkerchief, first carried by her grandmother as a bride, this afternoon when she became the bride of 2nd Lt. Charles Wright Peckham Jr. The bride also wore an heirloom pin of sapphires and pearls.

* * *

All Saints Episcopal Church was the setting for the 4 o'clock double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. C. George Widdifield in the presence of 200 guests.

The altar of the church was banked with large bouquets of white delphinium, stock and gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Crane of West Iroquois road and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright Peckham of Norwalk, Ohio.

* * *

Mary's waltz-length gown of Chantilly lace was fashioned with deep rounded neckline, short sleeves and full gored skirt.

LACE HEADDRESS

An open-crowned headdress of matching lace secured her tiered veil of nylon tulle in fingertip length. The bridal bouquet was composed of white roses, delphinium and greenery.

* * *

Sally Lashar of York, Pa., attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Betty Jane Spadafore, Susie Draper of Maumee, Ohio, and Sarah McQuigg of Birmingham.

They wore sky-blue gowns of silk broadcloth in princess style. The gowns featured round necklines, short sleeves and full gored skirts. Fine pleating trimmed the bodices and skirt fronts.

Open-crowned headdresses of blue veiling with nosegays of cornflowers at the back were worn in their hair.

* * *

The maid of honor carried a colonial bouquet of white garnet roses encircled by cornflowers and greenery. Cornflowers and greenery composed the colonial arrangements carried by the other attendants.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM'

Edward Henry Miller of Columbus, Ohio, served as best man. Seating the guests were David Lang and Frank Hicks, both of Cleveland, and Walter Randolph of Toledo.

* * *

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Delphinium, shasta daisies and cornflowers carried out the decorations.

Mrs. Crane greeted her guests wearing a periwinkle blue dress of silk and cotton. The tucked bodice was designed with round neckline and short sleeves, and the skirt was full and pleated. Matching accessories and a corsage of garnet roses completed her ensemble.

A gray cotton dress trimmed with lace collar and cuffs was the choice of Mrs. Peckham. It was fashioned with low waistline and softly pleated full skirt. She chose white accessories and a corsage of feathered pelargonium carnations.

* * *

When the couple left on a brief honeymoon the new Mrs. Peckham was wearing a gray silk and cotton dress with black and white checked jacket. She wore black accessories and a corsage of snowdrift chrysanthemums.

Banana Pie Delicious for Summer

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

For a rich, smooth, tempting dessert choose Banana Cream Pie. If there are small children in the family, they can have the filling alone in a custard cup.

Mrs. Warren T. Fitzgerald is today's cook. We met her recently at an Extension group meeting. Her primary interest is homemaking. As hobbies she lists the study of birds and handicrafts.

We would print a word of warning regarding this recipe and other similar ones. BE SURE TO REFRIGERATE the cooled custard until serving time and any left over afterwards. Summer weather and custards make a bad combination unless this precaution is followed.

BANANA CREAM PIE
By Mrs. Warren T. Fitzgerald

1½ cups milk (part cream is preferable)
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup flour
3 egg yolks
½ teaspoon vanilla
Sliced bananas
Sugar and cinnamon

Heat milk to scalding in double boiler. Blend together sugar, salt and flour. Add milk and stir until thick and smooth. Cover and cook for 15-20 minutes. Beat egg yolks, add above mixture, stirring until smooth. Return to double boiler and cook for 5 minutes more.

Remove from fire, add vanilla. Cool. Alternate slice bananas, sprinkled with 2 tablespoons sugar and cinnamon, with the cream filling. Top with whipped cream sprinkled generously with sugar and cinnamon.

Refrigerate until served and afterwards if any is left over.

Parakeet Population Increasing Rapidly

Watch out for the parakeet—the parakeet population of the United States is growing 50 times faster than the human element.

A recent survey indicates that by the end of 1955 there will be nine million of the little birds—double the number listed in a 1954 bird census. More than eight per cent of all families own one or more.

Love for Garden Opens New Fields

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Too many city-dwellers, it seems to me, lose all touch with nature and their lives are not as rich as they might be. But here and there, someone is doing something about it. Mrs. T. is a good example.

* * *

"I have a part-time activity," she writes, "and while I make hardly any money out of it, it has enriched my life more than I can say.

"I have always loved flowers and plants and, when we moved to the city, I missed my garden dreadfully.

"The first thing I did was to set up window boxes and indoor shelves for plants. I experimented with all kinds and even grew avocados, strings beans and grapefruit seeds.

"I haven't a lot of money and cannot buy the fancy things, but it's astonishing how much you you can do for pennies.

NOVEL CONTAINERS

"Then I got a lot of books about plants," she continues, "and learned more and more about their care. I rigged up the most interesting containers and my indoor shelves practically became gardens in themselves.

* * *

"After a while, friends began asking my help, which I gave freely. It is so satisfying to see a moth-eaten, dying plant come to life and really bloom.

Some people are so cautious they won't go to a movie they haven't seen before.

"Next thing I knew, our woman's club asked me to give a talk about window boxes. I took samples of my plants and some good photographs my husband had taken and talked for a whole hour! I was astonished, because public speaking had always terrified me.

"But there I was, so interested in my plants that a whole hour went by. The ladies were interested, too, and asked for a repeat performance.

* * *

"The word got around," she concluded, "and now many of the clubs in our city and in adjoining towns are booking me for talks on window gardens.

"They pay expenses and a small fee, but it does mount up, and I am having the time of my life.

"It all happened because I was so blue when we had to move to the city and leave my beloved garden!"

Couple Speaks Nuptial Vows in Illinois

Daniel Joseph Hackett Jr. claimed Carmel Ursula Jensen as his bride this morning at 10 o'clock in St. Boniface Catholic Church of Edwardsville, Ill.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of William A. Jensen of Bowen, Queensland, Australia. Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Hackett of Owego drive are the bridegroom's parents.

Carmel was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Ray Rathert. For the double-ring ceremony the bride wore a floor-length gown of white lace over satin, cut on princess lines.

A scalloped neckline and long sleeves tapering to points over her hands were features of the bodice. Her waist-length veil of tulle fell in soft folds from a coronet of lace embroidered with seed pearls, and she carried a rose-tinted orchid attached to a prayerbook.

ATTENDED BY SISTERS

The bride's attendants were her sisters. Mrs. Ray Rathert served as matron of honor and Mercia Jensen was a bridesmaid. Their gowns were of white nylon, embossed with red coin dots. They carried bouquets of red carnations.

* * *

Assisting the bridegroom were his two brothers, Lt. Michael H. Hackett as best man and John M. Hackett as an usher.

Mrs. Hackett wore a pastel blue dress with pink accessories. Her corsage was composed of pale pink carnations.

Immediately following the Nuptial Mass, the newlyweds greeted their friends and relatives at a breakfast held at Wil-mar Acres. An early evening reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rathert in Edwardsville.

For a motor trip to Canada the new Mrs. Hackett chose a white embroidered nylon dress with pink accessories. They will make their home in Edwardsville.

Keep Your Children in Washable Togs

There's no magic formula for dissolving the dirt children collect in summer.

But easily sudsed wardrobes cut down on the time and effort required to keep youngsters clean from skin out.

Toy Combines Coloring, Cutting

A new toy is out which combines the child's love for coloring with the fun of a plaything with cut-out dolls.

Called "The Coloring Toy," it contains paper dolls, animals, castles, soldiers and other standard playthings which can be colored and then punched out. Along with the crayons, pliable clips are provided with which to assemble the self-colored objects.

Young People Will Work in Foreign Aid Program

A group of energetic young Americans will go abroad this month to work harder than the majority have probably ever done in their lives. They will dig ditches paint walls, lay bricks and till the soil in 18 different countries from Denmark to Korea.

In groups of from 15 to 25 they will spend an average of one month in one of 27 different church-sponsored work camps. They will work on projects ranging from reconstruction of a war-damaged village in Greece and repair of an old people's home in France to the redevelopment of flooded soil for farmers in an isolated Swiss village.

Students, teachers, ministers, social workers and others, they will labor shoulder to shoulder with young people from a dozen lands, sharing in their customs, their worship services and their lives.

With every blow of the hammer and swing of the pick ax they will be giving a concrete demonstration of the concern of American youth for the welfare of those less fortunate, says the Rev. Joseph A. Howell, of New York, secretary for the U. S. program.

PRIMITIVE LIVING

Most of them will be living in near-primitive accommodations, he added, and all camps are organized under strict disciplines of work and faith. None of the youth will be paid for their labors. Many, in fact, have had to save for months to raise the necessary funds for passage.

Sponsor of the program in this country is the United Christian Youth Movement of the National Council of Churches. Overseas the program is conducted by the Youth Department of the World Council of Churches in cooperation with the national church councils of the countries involved.

The U. S. volunteers come from 25 states and represent nine Protestant denominations. In addition to those going overseas another 27 young Americans and ten students here will stay in this country to work in three camps in the south and west.

"Work is primary in the program," says Mr. Howell. "But it is work done in a particular spirit and for a particular reason. It is the work in common which makes a unique contribution towards meeting situations of need in a community and toward giving young people a sense of active participation in the life of the world Christian community."

Postpone Hearings on Liquor Ad Ban

WASHINGTON, D.C. (RNS) — Congress has postponed until next year public hearings on a bill introduced by Rep. Eugene Siler (R-Ky) to ban liquor and beer advertising from radio, television and magazines circulating in interstate commerce.

The measure has drawn strong support from church and temperance groups.

Chairman J. Percy Priest (D-Tenn) of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, said he hopes hearings can be held early next year.

The three wise men who followed the Star of Bethlehem were the "Three Kings of Cologne," a province in Persia.

THANKS FOR TOMORROW
By Don D. Tullis

A family was preparing for a vacation in Canada, on the evening before the get-a-way. The car was packed to the very top. The little five year old lad was put to bed by his father, who also heard his prayers. After the usual Amen, the boy threw his arms about his father's neck and said, "Thank you, father, for tomorrow."

• • •

He went a step farther than most of us do, being thankful for a wonderful blessing not yet received. He was a full day ahead in thanksgiving while we are all inclined to be days or years behind. He was "paying in advance" for what he was about to receive.

We are thankful for yesterday,—for the past that made our nation great and filled our lungs with the fresh air of freedom; for our pioneer parents who carved out the highway to happiness. We rejoice in the fact that inventors have added efficiency and comfort to our existence, scholars have enlarged our vision and saints have strengthened the foundations of our faith.

We are thankful for today also! For its opportunities to labor, to learn and to love; for its friendships and its sweet communion with folks and with the Infinite; for a chance to recapture life's wonderful charm, master its miraculous moments, redeem it's faded dreams and rekindle the smoldering embers we once claimed from God's Urn,—the sparks of a deathless destiny.

But tomorrow! Who thinks of thanking God for tomorrow. After all, tomorrow seems so uncertain. It may never come. But this lad had no such misgivings. Nor do we if we believe our Father's word, for He has underwritten our tomorrow and His company always pays in full.

John Golden, the famous theatrical producer, who died his friends prepared to give him a party. He refused to allow recently, refused to live in the past. On his eightieth birthday them to do so. He said, "I have no interest in yesterday, I live only for tomorrow."

Today with its opportunities, tomorrow with its fulfillments—these are the unfailing gifts of God to man. We have today. We shall have tomorrow. Life's highway, with its dips downward and its climbs upward leads at last to the light. There is yet nothing but tomorrow.

Thank God for tomorrow. Beyond the great divide there is another side to the hill called mortality that hems us in.

Gives $1,000 Donations to Several Churches

JACKSON (RNS) — An unidentified old man walked into a number of churches here and left an envelope at each containing ten $100 bills.

The anonymous benefactor asked that the money be used where it will do the most good now. "Pay your debts with it if you have any," he said. "Use it any way you want."

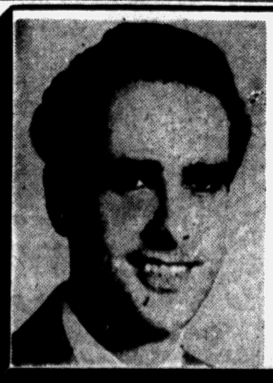

The gifts, he said, didn't deprive him or anyone else of anything.

Free Methodists Favor Merger

Will Continue Talks on Consolidating With Wesleyan Group

By Religious News Service

WINONA LAKE, Ind.—The General Conference of the Free Methodist Church, meeting here, voted to continue merger negotiations with the Wesleyan Methodist Church. The action is contingent upon the Wesleyan group taking a similar stand at its annual session in Fairmount, Ind., later this month

If negotiations are pursued, final action on the merger would be taken by the general conferences of the two denominations in 1959

In another action, the conference voted to remove restrictions on the number and kind of musical instruments used in church services.

No instrumental music of any kind was permitted in the Free Methodist Church until 1943, when the general conference authorized piano or organ music, but not both.

The delegates also approved a program to combat juvenile delinquency which they called the "national tragedy."

Prayers Are Urged for Big 4 Meeting

NEW YORK (RNS) — A worldwide "Call to Prayer" for the success of the Big Four conference opening in Geneva on July 18 was issued jointly by the six presidents of the World Council of Churches.

They asked the World Council's 162 member communions in 47 countries to arrange services of intercession on the opening day or on Sunday, July 17.

Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill of New York, the World Council's American president, urged that churches in this country set aside Sunday, July 17, for such services.

He also suggested that Christians pray daily in their homes and places of business for the conference "as long as it continues in session."

REV. L. R. MINER

Church Will Honor Pastor on Sunday

Sunday will be "Appreciation Day" at Macedonia Baptist Church, at which time the pastor, the Rev. L. R. Miner, will be honored.

Guest speaker at the 3:30 p. m. special service will be the Rev. T. S. Boone of King Solomon Baptist Church in Detroit. The day will mark the fourth anniversary of the pastor.

On the following Saturday at 8 p.m. the church will further honor the pastor with a banquet.

DR. S. R. CORRELL

Church to Have Doctor as Guest

Missionary Will Speak at Christian Temple; Also to Show Movies

Guest speaker at 7:45 p.m. Sunday in Christian Temple will be Dr. Sidney R. Correll. He also will show the sound film "In the Footsteps of the Witchdoctor."

Dr. Correll will presently be setting up his clinic among the native tribes in French West Africa.

He is asking for at least one more doctor (more if they will come), several nurses, laboratory technicians, an aviator, construction men and other specialized missionaries.

Dr. Correll is the son of the general director of United World Missions.

Dr. Leland L. Marion is pastor.

Illinois EUB Churches Ban Segregation

ELGIN, Ill. (RNS) — Evangelical United Brethren of Illinois voted by acclamation here to admit people of all races and national origins to church membership.

Delegates to the conference's 110th annual session also urged the denomination to keep churches in Chicago's changing neighborhoods open as missions, wherever necessary.

The church should recognize this work "as a crucial part of its response to the great commission of our Lord to reach all people for Him," the delegates said.

They also endorsed a sociological study of population, cultural and economic changes to maintain the church's effectiveness in shifting Chicago neighborhoods.

The conference already has lost 33 churches in Chicago "because of our retreat from transitional areas," a committee warned.

Africa Mission Now International Group

KIJABE, Kenya (RNS) — The Africa Inland Mission became an international organization with the adoption of a new constitution at a meeting here marking its 60th anniversary.

The Mission, which has headquarters in Brooklyn, N. Y., will now be able to establish Home Councils in many parts of the world. Countries now having Home Councils are the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Australia and South Africa.

Phillip S. Henman, chairman of the British Home Council, was named chairman of the international Inland Mission. The Rev. Ralph T. Davis of the American Home Council was named general secretary; and the Rev. Kenneth L. Downing of Nyakach, Kenya, field secretary.

The meeting here was attended by representatives from the British and American Home Councils and some 200 missionaries from various parts of the world.

Mission Board Okays 71 Young Applicants

Seventy-one young men and women have been accepted by the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church for special-term mission service in the United States, its territories and 33 foreign countries.

The board has approved 36 young persons for service in Methodism's overseas mission areas and 35 for service at home. The special term for overseas service is three years and in this country and its territories two years. Eleven of the group are men and 60 women. Final selections were made June 7 in New York by the board's missionary personnel department.

Special Services Planned Sunday at Bethany

The summer schedule of a combined service is in effect this Sunday at Bethany Baptist Church.

The Church School meeting at 9:30 will be followed by the Worship Service at 10:30. At this service the dedication of infants will take place.

The pastor, the Rev. Fred R. Tiffany will be assisted by Mrs. Gayle Johnson, superintendent of the Cradle Roll. A class of new members will be received at the close of the service.

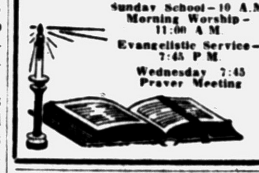

All departments of the Church School will operate each Sunday during the summer months.

Non-Sectarian School Planned for Indians

BRIGHAM CITY, Utah (RNS)—A non-denominational center for youths attending the Intermountain Indian School here, said to be "the largest boarding school in the country if not in the entire world", will be built by the Utah Council of Churches.

Dr. Henry C. Beatty, Ogden, chairman of the Utah Council's Indian Commission, said more than 2,300 Navajos are enrolled in the school this year, of whom 1,200 are listed as Protestants.

Church of God Presents Play

Purge in Catacombs Told in Three Acts by Thespians

"They Go Singing" is the title of a religious three-act drama to be presented at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the First Church of God.

The play is set in the Catacombs of Rome and is presented by the Christian Thespians, a national Protestant group who are touring the United States.

The struggles of the early Christians as they sought refuge from Nero is the story of the play. No tickets will be sold but an offering will be taken, according to the Rev. H. Eugene Ramsey, pastor of the church.

Says College Students Haunted by Religion

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (RNS) — College students today are "haunted" by religion rather than convinced about it, says the Rev. Sidney Lovett, chaplain of Yale University.

In a radio talk, he observed that "the prevalent mood in our colleges today with respect to religion is one of honest, intelligent inquiry."

"Though no mass revival of religious enthusiasm on the college campus is in the offing," Mr. Lovett said, "the truculent disdain for spiritual values, earlier nourished by the jaundiced philosophy of Theodore Dreiser and Henry L. Mencken, is largely vanished as the spirit of inquiry has succeeded negation."

He attributed the revived interest in religion among students to the "dark and melancholy" condition of the world at large.

OKs Mission at Dowling

HASTINGS (AP)—The Most Rev. Allen J. Babcock, bishop of the Grand Rapids Catholic Diocese, has given permission for the Rev. J. A. Moleski to open a new mission at Dowling. The first mass will be held Sunday at the Grange hall. Father Moleski, pastor of St. Rose Church, has helped establish parishes in Delton and Middleville.

About 40 per cent of the American Red Cross funds are spent for U.S. troops and veterans.

Confident Living:

Positive Thinking Eases Woman's Fear of Storm

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

On the Queen Elizabeth, returning from a European trip, I had a deck chair on the top deck. The first morning of the voyage, I stepped out on deck into the most glorious day I ever expect to see this side of heaven. The sea sparkled like myriads of diamonds; a cool, salty wind was blowing off the ocean; and the ship itself moved like a silent, gleaming thing of white across the blue water. It was simply wonderful.

DR. PEALE

There was a woman standing on the deck whom I did not know. But I was so inspired by the beauty of the morning that I didn't let that make any difference to me. Enthusiastically I exclaimed, "Isn't this a marvelous day?"

"It's all right so far," she replied glumly, "but the weather report says there's a big storm ahead."

"Well," I answered, "let's take the day we have while we have it and deal with that storm when it comes."

• • •

Next day I met her again. "I've been reading some of your writings," she said. "And I'm glad we've met again because I want to talk to you. My life is filled with many difficulties." Then she went on to tell me in considerable detail how badly she felt and how she was a victim of "all kinds" of fears and unhappiness.

"You need to recondition your mind and revamp your thoughts," I advised her. "To begin with, don't anticipate storms, as you did yesterday. On that glorious day you were thinking of difficulties ahead, but the storm didn't come. So it was storming only in your thoughts. Practice seeing the beautiful things of life while you have them."

"You wait and see about that storm," she warned me.

"All right," I agreed. "But remember that even storms have beauty and power, and human beings are meant to grow strong with storms. You will have a creative time experiencing that storm if you think about it from that positive point of view.

SHED UNHAPPY THOUGHTS

"And why not take those old unhappy thoughts out of your mind and drop them into the ocean?" We crossed to the railing together. "Now, I told her, "drop them from your mind into the water and watch them sink and disappear of their own weight."

• • •

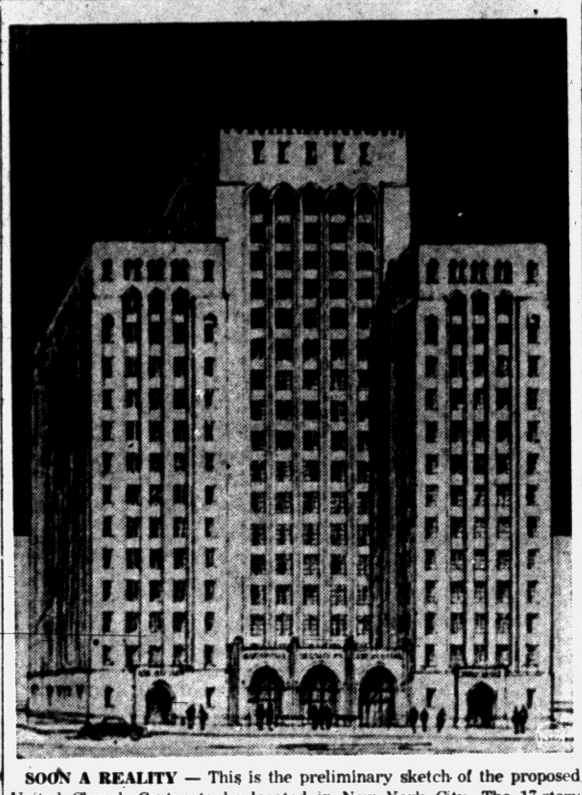

She got into the spirit of this imaginative thought changing technique. Of course, you cannot actually toss thoughts overboard, but by firm thought control, of which that act is a symbol, you can change your mental attitude to one of peace and joy.

"Now," I went on, "fill your mind with big thoughts, with thoughts of goodness and beauty. Fill it full of God thoughts. And always keep looking for the best!"

A few days later, we entered New York harbor on the tail of a whistling hurricane. It was blowing, rolling and raining; there were huge clouds of fog. I saw this woman standing on deck. As I approached, she grinned at me and said, "Isn't this the most beautiful storm you ever saw?"

The problem of this woman and people like her is that they allow apprehensive thoughts to control their minds. They are, "just sure everything is going to go wrong," and actually by such negativism they do their best to make things go badly. However, the woman on the boat was learning, by the time she got to New York, to look for the best and find it in what previously would have seemed the worst. She was mastering the art of finding the good. And it is amazing how that attitude improves and even remakes one's life.

With the help of God, through a strong faith, you can find the best in everything.

SOON A REALITY — This is the preliminary sketch of the proposed United Church Center to be located in New York City. The 17-story structure, which will occupy an entire block, will be the national headquarters of Protestant and Orthodox church groups in the United States. Planned for 20 years, the $14,000,000 building will house the offices of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and a number of its 30-member Communions, their boards and agencies.

Churches to Merge on June 25, 1957

COLUMBUS, Ohio (RNS) —Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church will merge on June 25, 1957.

The date was agreed upon by top officials of the two denominations who met here to arrange details of the union.

The merged body will be called the United Church of Christ. It will have more than 2,000,000 members, 1,263,000 from the Congregational Christian Churches and 775,000 from the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

A religious service on the night of June 25, 1957, will mark the union. Business sessions of the first General Synod of the United Chuch then will be held.

A former hamburger stand in Chicago's Loop has been converted into a 125-seat chapel for busy office workers and shoppers.

Methodist Unit Urges Ending Segregation

LAKESIDE, Ohio (RNS) —Delegates to the annual meeting of the Northeast Ohio Methodist Conference urged that the denomination's 1956 general conference launch a study looking toward the abolition of the church's jurisdictional system.

Under this system all Negro Methodist churches are segregated in a Central Jurisdiction.

Closer integration of Negro and white churches and the development, wherever possible, of interracial churches also was advocated at the meeting here.

Science Admits Bible Miracles

'Christ Raised Dead' U. of Penn Physiologist Tells British Doctors

TORONTO (RNS)—Scientists now admit the possibility that Christ raised the dead and that Moses parted the waters of the Red Sea, Dr. John R. Brobeck, 41, professor of physiology at the University of Pennyslvania's medical school, said here.

He spoke to the Christian Medical Fellowship of Great Britain which met in conjunction with the conventions of the British and Canadian Medical Associations.

Science is changing. One of the results is that a scientist is no longer able to say honestly that something is impossible. He can only say it is improbable," Dr. Brobeck said.

He told the doctors the one factor that can account for the miracles is a source of energy unknown to the scientific system. "In the Bible," he said, "it is known as the word of God."

"If we could identify the power of God in the same way we study other forms of power, it seems to me we would see miracles every time they happened," the physiologist added.

The Dutch Reformed Church, Tappan, N. Y., was the scene of the trial of a notorious British spy, Major John Andre'.

Lutherans Send Young People on Church Tour

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (RNS) — The United Lutheran Church in America passed out $6,100 worth of traveler's checks and $2,100 worth of railroad tickets to 60 young people who will visit 300 churches this summer to bolster youth work.

The young folks, ranging in age from 16 to 24, gathered at Wittenberg College here for a week of briefing on their jobs with the fifth Luther League of America summer caravan.

The Rev. Oswald Elbert, eastern secretary of the division of student service, National Lutheran Council, said the group will work in 20 teams, each of which will spend about three days at 15 churches. Only churches will be visited where pastors have requested a team. The caravan will end about Aug. 10.

"Many of these youngsters could have had summer employment," Rev. Elbert said. "They chose to give this service. They have paid their transportation to the campus and will also finance their return trps to their homes. Visited churches will bear some of the expense."

Columbia Protestants Plan for Centennial

BOGOTA (INS) — Plans for observing in 1956 the centennial of Protestantism in Colombia were announced here by the Rev. Francisco Ordonez, president of the Evangelical Confederation of Colombia.

He said that 1956 will mark the 100th anniversary of the arrival in Colombia of the Rev. Henry B. Pratt, a pioneer Protestant missionary. Rev. Pratt began his evangelism work in Columbia shortly after the country had achieved its independence from Spain.

Rev. Ordonez said that during the centennial year special emphasis will be given to evangelistic campaigns, "not only from the pulpits, but also by personal contacts, and religious literature."

University of Texas Will Admit Negroes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—University of Texas regents have decided to admit Negroes to the school beginning in the fall of 1956.

They would be admitted earlier if the school weren't already overcrowded, the board said yesterday.

The regents—in what Chairman Tom Sealy called "an historic decision"—also ordered immediate admission of qualified students to the graduate school regardless of color. They ordered admission of all qualified students beginning this fall to Texas Western College, a University of Texas branch at El Paso.

The regents' action capped a series of desegregation steps in Texas and the Southwest this week. The public school system at Hxie, Ark., will open Monday on a nonsegregated basis for the first time.

Tunisia Wins Okay on Self-Government

PARIS (AP)—Responding to an appeal from Premier Edgar Faure, France's National Assembly voted overwhelmingly today for agreements granting Tunisia internal self-government by gradual stages.

The Assembly recorded its approval 540-43 after Faure warned that refusal to carry out France's repeated promises of Tunisian autonomy would lead to distrust of French motives throughout the Arab world and among Western nations as well.

"The time of colonialism is finished," Faure declared.

Pierre Mendes-France, making his first appearance in debate since his ouster as premier last February, also urged approval of the agreements which grew out of negotiations he opened when he made his dramatic trip to Tunisia last summer.

Shoe Business Enjoying New Boom

By WALTER BREEDE JR.
(For SAM DAWSON)

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans are buying shoes at a record clip. Footwear production in 1955 will smash all records.

That's the latest word from Boston, St. Louis and other big manufacturing centers. If manufacturers' guesses are correct, you'll stride along in style this year. The nation's total shoe bill in 1955 is expected to add up to 3½ billion dollars—an all-time high.

That's sweet music in the ears of manufacturers who saw sales slide in '54.

Figures for the first six months of 1955 show which way the wind is blowing now: U.S. factories turned out a record 294 million pairs—up a hefty 12 per cent from the same period last year.

* * *

Why the boom? High wages and plenty of consumer purchasing power are one answer—and with population trends on the upbeat, there are more feet to be shod. Shoe merchandisers will give you two additional reasons: Low prices and fast-changing styles.

Whether prices are too low or not low enough depends on where you sit. Manufacturers confronted with rising production costs say prices will eventually go up; retailers are holding the line. When you shop for a new pair of shoes this fall, you'll probably find prices just about the same as a year ago. That's because it's a buyer's market in shoes today; competition was never keener.

* * *

Quick shifts in styles are calculated to bring you into the store even when the shoes you already own have plenty of wear left in them. And never before have styles been changed so drastically or so often.

Even the men, long accustomed to wearing the same style shoe year in and year out—or the very same shoe with repeated resolings—have become style conscious. And the manufacturers hope to keep them that way.

The shoe with possibly the biggest impact on the male half of the U.S. population was introduced from Italy several years ago. It's called the "Continental." It has a moccasin-type toe, and it's cut very low. It frequently sports a tassle.

* * *

This summer, the industry promoted an extremely light extremely low version of the "Continental." It sold like the proverbial hot cakes. For autumn they're making it higher again—not as high as the cumbersome wing-tip oxford of yesteryear, but not quite as low-slung as the currently popular model.

Women's styles, always changeable, are more so than ever—and the lightning-like transitions in style are paying off. There's a shoe today that's selling by the millions—a trend-setter for summer wear. The uppers are of vinyl plastic in pastel colors (the favorite is pink) and the heels are made of a clear plastic that looks like glass. The toes are wide open.

* * *

Come fall, say the stylists, and the glass-heeled slipper will be tossed into a corner of the closet while mom and sis turn to an austere, conservative number patterned after the old "spectator" or "dressmaker shoe." Colors will be somber and toes tightly closed. It's being counted upon to keep retailers' cash registers jingling in the fall months, and to keep the factories humming.

Potato Salad Saga Shows Marx Impact on Viewers

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "You can't underestimate the power of television," says Groucho Marx, and he's got the potato salad to prove it.

Recently Groucho happened to remark on his NBC quiz show that you can't hardly get good old-fashioned German potato salad any more.

* * *

"I got over three thousand pieces of mail about it," he remarked. "I've been flooded with cook books and recipes and so many cans and jars of potato salad that I had to send most of it to orphanages and hospitals. Three people even came to my house in Cadillacs and delivered the salad."

This avalanche of potato salad has served to impress Groucho anew with not only the power but the responsibility of TV.

* * *

"It's an amazing thing," he reflected. "People react quickly to even the most casual remark. Perhaps it's because you're coming into their homes and they are very sensitive to what is said there."

He recalled a recent guesting with Horace Heidt. He asked about the duties of the talent searcher, who compared his work to that of a baseball scout.

* * *

"Now supposing the Yankees needed some players," Heidt suggested.

"The Yankees don't need any players," Groucho countered. "Now if you said the Boston Red Sox, that would make sense."

Marx received a storm of protest from Bostonians.

Such incidents make Groucho especially sensitive to public opinion.

"If there's any doubt about offending someone, I don't take a chance," he said. "I never pick on people who are poor or underprivileged. But when I have a chief of police or an admiral, I can have fun with them. The public likes to see dignity deflated."

Broken Main Floods Large Area in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—A break in a 24-inch water main yesterday flooded streets, homes and factories in a 9-square-block area of Detroit's east side.

The break also opened up a hole 10 feet deep, 12 feet long and 6 feet wide on heavily traveled Charlevoix avenue. City engineers said the street would be closed several weeks for repairs.

A water board spokesman said the break would have no effect on the department's hard-pressed pumping system.

No work stoppages were reported in the factories flooded by the break.

Life Insurance Sales Reported on Increase

NEW YORK (AP) — More people are buying life insurance and they are taking out bigger policies, says the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York.

In the first six months of 1955 the company sold $236,688,400 worth of ordinary life insurance for a record increase of 31 per cent over the same period last year. June sales were up 33 per cent from the year-ago month.

The average-size policy issued during the first six months reached a new high of $6,348. The 1954 average was $5,353.

To Discuss Politics

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Two practicing politicians and a political science professor will discuss the "Two Party System in Michigan" July 19 at the University of Michigan. Those participating will be Lt. Gov. Philip Hart, a Democrat; Rep. Wade Van Valkenburg, speaker of the House, a Republican, and Prof. James K. Pollock, head of the university's Political Science Department.

Torgy's 11th Inning Homer Beats A's

DETROIT (AP) — Earl Torgeson, a lean man of 31, sat in front of his locker in the Detroit Tigers' dressing room last night, a thin, thankful smile on his face.

"It sure was a long time between beers," he said. "I thought I was never going to hit another homer. I can only thank (manager) Bucky Harris for having patience in me, for playing me every day."

The slender 1st baseman — purchased from the Philadelphia Phillies last month — had just broken up a tense, 11-inning game against the pesky Kansas City A's. He rifled a three-run homer in the 11th — his 2nd three-run blast of the game—to give the Tigers a 11-8 victory before 27,770 fans.

Torgeson spoke quietly, softly. But he could have been screaming and no one in the dressing room would have been surprised.

For, indeed, it was a long time between beers for him.

"I hit a homer for the Phils early in the season," he recalled. "But I thought I'd never find the range with this club. I'm glad I've finally done something to help."

He drove a three-run homer into the rightfield stands in the 5th.

Next one was even better.

He drove his 2nd three-runner into the rightfield seats, following singles by Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline, to break up the game.

Torgeson's game-winning blast snapped Kansas City's string of six victories over Detroit. But the Tigers needed five homers (which accounted for all their runs) to do it.

Al Kaline hit one with a mate on to seize the American League home run lead with 19. Frank House hit a solo and Charley Maxwell, acting as a pinchhitter, hit another with one on.

The homers by Torgeson, House and Kaline gave the Tigers a 6-1 lead, but the A's tied it with five runs in the 8th, knocking out starter Billy Hoeft. Jim Finigan's three-run homer capped the rally.

Maxwell's pinch homer in the Tiger's half of the 8th put Detroit back into an 8-6 lead — but this, too, went by the boards when Vic Power delivered a two-run single with two out in the 9th to tie the score for the A's.

A key play followed — one which won't show up in the box scores.

Harry Simpson attempted to steal home, and appeared to have made it with ease. But he was called out by plate umpire Ed Rommel. The A's protested rather heatedly but, of course, got nowhere.

Catcher Frank House's throw bounces away from Detroit shortstop Harvey Kuenn and bounds into center field. Umpire Jim Honochick watches the play. Zernial scored on "Suitcase" Simpson's single.

Aussie Peter Thomson Joins Jones, Hagen, Locke on List of Two-Time Winners of British Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (INS) —Curly-haired Peter Thomson of Australia belonged today to an elite fraternity of golfers who have won two consecutvie British Open championships.

The handsome 25-year-old Aussie, runner-up in 1952 and '53 and winner last year, claimed the 1955 title yesterday with a 281 total—a record for open play at St. Andrews, historic cradle of golf.

Thomson defeated Scottish pro John Fallon by two strokes, overcoming a chastening seven on the 14th hole of his final round to shoot a creditable par 72 under heavy pressure and in a swriling sea fog that shrouded the Royal and Ancient fairways.

Since the tournament was increased from 36 to 72 holes in 1892, only six men have won the open twice running. In strictly modern annals, only Bobby Jones (1926-7), Walter Hagen (1928-9) and Bobby Locke (1949-50) have done so.

Ironically, Thomson never has managed to win a U.S. tournament in three years of almost steady campaigning.

Yet he outstripped the nearest of five Americans in the Open, Ed Furgol, the 1954 U.S. Open titlist from St. Louis, by 11 strokes. Furgol had a 292 total.

Air Force Lt. Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., holder of the British Amateur crown, salvaged some small satisfaction for his countrymen by finishing as low amateur in the open field at 293.

Amateur Jim McHale of Philadelphia had 295, and veteran pros Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., and Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh finished at 296 and 298, respectively.

Thomson had to hold off a strong group of challengers from Britain. Close behind Fallon, the runner-up, came qualifying medalist Frank Jowle of England with a 284, Locke at 285 and five others at 286—Antonio Cerda of Argentina, Harry Weetman, Bernard Hunt and Ken Bousfield of England and Flory Von Donck of Belgium.

The normally even - tempered Furgol, who spent a good part of the week quarreling with British authorities over the condition of the course and accommodations, wound up with a 72-73 for the final 36 holes. He said sourly:

"I'm not coming back next year. There are too many good tournaments in the states."

17-Year-Old Hits Hot Round at PCC

Firing a near-flawless round at Pontiac Country Club yesterday afternoon, 17-year-old Jack Reynolds hit a redhot 66, one of the season's best cards at PCC. Jack collected 8 birdies on the tour, four on each side, for a pair of 33s. It was the 1st time he has ever broken 70. The 66 is 8 under par for the course.

Jack, Waterford High School pupil, carded birds on the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 9th on the front nine, and on the 1st 4 of the back nine. His cards:

Par	535	444	435—37
Out	534	334	434—33
Par	544	444	435—37—74

Lilly Wins 1 Title, Puts 2 Others on Line in State Test

Ned Lilly successfully defended one of his three crowns in Friday's opening round of the 1955 Michigan State Trap Championships at the Birmingham Gun Club.

The Stanton sharpshooter captured the 16-yard resident 100 doubles title with 98 hits. His 200 singles and 100 handicaps titles are still up for grabs. Frank Anderson of Detroit took 2nd in the resident doubles with 94.

Fred Waldock of Toledo, Ohio won the non-resident doubles crown with a score of 95. Another Ohioan, Ralph Koehler, finished 2nd with 93.

Lilly's marksmanship also asserted itself in the 16-yard preliminary with a score of 98, good enough for a 1st-place deadlock with Howard Marquardt of Kalamazoo.

Russell Pillon of Harrow, Ontario posted 94 to win the 19-yard handicap prelim. L. F. Loucks from Charlotte and Waldock tied for 2nd at 93, Loucks then gaining the runnerup spot in a shoot-off, 25-24.

Lilly will place his Michigan singles championship on the block today. A total of 136 shooters participated in yesterday's competition with the number expected to increase today. Largest turnout is anticipated Sunday.

Michigan Trapshooting Association will hold its annual meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the BGC clubhouse. Officers will be elected.

Barber Making Farce of Par in St. Paul Test

Little Jerry Registers 15-Under 129 to Pace $15,000 Tourney

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Jerry Barber, packing a record-breaking 129 at the halfway mark, paced some of the nation's top professionals today in quest of major shares of the $15,000 prize pool in the St. Paul Open Golf Tournament.

* * *

Barber opened his title bid with a nine-under-par 63 Thursday and followed with a 66 yesterday to break by one stroke the 130 mark set by Henry Ransom of St. Andrew's, Ill., in 1952.

The little golfer from Los Angeles needed a 66 today in the third round to break the 54-hole record of 196 set by Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago in 1951. Mangrum and Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, share the 72-hole mark of 266.

* * *

It was magnificent putting by Barber that kept him in the lead in this wild-scoring tourney. Jerry dropped putts from 5 to 20 feet for 5 birdies on the first 9 Friday as he shot that stretch in five-under 31. Thursday he had tied the first nine record with a 30.

But Barber holds only a three-stroke lead over young Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who added a 67 to his opening 65 for 132, and a four-shot edge over Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn., one of the most feared contenders in the tournament, who fired a 68 to go with his 65 for 133.

* * *

Others still much in contention are George Bigham, Kansas City, with a pair of 68s for 136, and Fred Hawkins, St. Andrew's, also with 136 on a 64-72.

Cubs Wallop 4, Brooks Hit 3 Round-Trippers

Baltimore Ends Bosox Winning Streak, Yanks, Tribe Victors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Not only is the National League on its way to another season home run record, but it looks like it plans to club the poor ol' American League to death come next Tuesday's All-Star game in Milwaukee.

* * *

The senior circuit clubs swatted 14 last night, giving them 66 for the last five days in a tuneup for next week's classic. With the season little more than half completed the National now has 701.

That puts the major league record of 1,197, set only two years ago by the NL, in considerable jeopardy.

Chicago's Cubs led the way last night, pounding four while beating St. Louis 6-4 in 11 innings. Brooklyn hammered three in its come-from-behind 12-8 triumph over New York and Milwaukee hit three in sweeping a twi-nighter from Cincinnati 4-2 and 5-3.

Only Pittsburgh and Philadelphia failed to connect. The Phils defeated the Bucs 5-1 after the Pirates had wrapped up a suspended game of May 29 11-5.

* * *

The American League, figuring to better its 1950 record of 973 homers, hit eight for a current season total of 534. Two of them came as Baltimore ended Boston's seven-game winning streak 9-3. And Earl Torgeson swung for two three-run jobs as Detroit beat Kansas City 11-8 in 11 innings.

First place New York beat Washington 3-0 and runner-up Cleveland defeated third place Chicago 1-0.

Ernie Banks had two of the Cubs' homers, his second coming with one on to win the game. They were his 22nd and 23rd of the season to give the All-Star choice a league record for shortstops.

Don Zimmer, Don Hoak and Gil Hodges poked homers for the Brooks, who were down 6-0 after three innings when the Giants shelled Don Newcombe.

The Braves' Ed Mathews hit his 22nd with a man on as Warren Spahn won his seventh in the opener. And Hank Aaron and Bobby Thomson each homored in the nightcap.

* * *

Baltimore also ended Frank Sullivan's seven-game winning string with Dave Philley driving in three runs with a homer and two doubles. Gus Triandos added a two-run homer. Ted Williams doubled, singled and walked twice, boosting his batting average to .413.

Bob Lemon was back in form for the Indians and became the first American League pitcher to win 12 this season.

The Yankees won behind Tommy Byrne, although the Senators had a rally in the works in the seventh when rain halted the game as an official six-inning contest.

Limmer Takes Battering in Minor League Brawl

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Long considered a "dead" town as far as professional boxing is concerned, Columbus had more impromptu punch-throwing during an International League baseball game Friday night than New York's Yankee Stadium packs into a full fight card.

* * *

The occasion was a tilt between Columbus' Jets and Toronto's Maple Leafs. The Leafs took the ballgame 4-1 but the winner of the fisticuffs is still doubtful today.

Both Lou Limmer, of the Leafs, former major leaguer and early-season Jets' first baseman, and righthander Al (Dutch) Lemberger, the Jets' ace relief pitcher, wound up in Columbus White Cross Hospital.

* * *

Limmer suffered bruises about the face and body after being knocked down three times during a series of fights which broke out during the fourth and fifth innings.

Trouble first broke out in the middle of the fourth when Limmer and Jet Manager Nick Cullop both headed for the mound to intervene in an argument between Toronto pitcher Bill Miller and Jet outfielder Al Pinkston.

Limmer and Cullop exchanged words, and then Cullop floored the first sacker with a left hook. Order was restored quickly and Cullop was ejected.

The biggest part of the melee followed in the fifth when Limmer, running hard into second, knocked down his former teammate at Philadelphia and Kansas City, Spook Jacobs, Jets' second baseman. Jacobs, 5-9, got up and decked the 6-2½ Limmer with a series of four blows.

Then both benches emptied and third baseman Frank Verdi of the Jets floored Limmer again.

Before it was over 40 players were involved, and it took the umpires, 11 sheriff's deputies and 7 local policemen to restore order.

Clarkston Merchants and Cass Ponts moved into the number one challenger's positions in Class D and E of the City Junior Baseball Leagues Friday.

League-leading Griff's Grill registered its 4th straight Class D victory over Dublin Community Center via forfeit and Clarkston took 2nd place behind Griff's on a 6-5 decision over Rosebud Market.

Winning 2-run rally came in the 5th inning as Larry Brown and Bob Fargher singled and scored on a strikeout and a fielder's choice.

Cass Ponts joined Lunsford Market in a tie for 2nd place behind Class E leading Boys Club. The Cass nine edged St. George, 3-2, with Roger Vaughn out-dueling John Keating.

Keating and St. George took a 2-1 lead into the 7th inning, but Cass pushed over 2 runs on 2 walks and a triple by Pete Ledesma.

Don Nicholie's Class F club rallied in the last 2 innings to trip Dick & Wes, 10-7. The winning run scored on Dick Delano's single, a stolen base, wild pitch and an error. Harry Van Matre had a double and 2 singles for the losing Dick & Wes nine.

Two Knothole loop contests were played and, as usual, resulted in much run-making. GMC ripped the Indians, 19-8, after spotting the Tribe an 8-5 lead. Ron Joseph homered in the Indians' big 2nd inning, and Gary Perkio hit one for GMC in the 3rd, when the Coachers matched the 8-run Indian rally.

Whitfield Cubs needed only 3 innings to surpass the 20-run limit and club Earl's Market, 22-1. Kurt Hardenburg homered for Whitfield in the 3rd and Bob Elliot collected four hits in as many tries.

Herr, Nelson Key Figures in Drayton All-Star Tilt

Two members of the Dick & Wes Sports team combined efforts to help the "Yankees" to a 4-2 victory over the "Tigers" Friday night in the all-star softball game of the Waterford Township softball League.

Don Herr pitched a steady 6-hitter and Gordon Nelson came up with a key 2-base-hit to salt away the game for the Yanks, managed by Jack McCaffree of Gidley Electric. Herr fanned 5, without giving a walk.

Single runs in the 1st and 2nd innings had put the Tigers ahead, but much the same as their namesakes in Detroit, the Bengals couldn't hold it. The Yankees got one back in the 3rd as Stu Hutchinson singled the marker across.

The winning rally came in the 6th with 2 out. Ken Spears issued 2 walks and Nelson unloaded a double to the left field fence to drive both runners home. Bill Hubbard singled home an unneeded run in the 7th.

Herr hurled shutout ball after the 2nd. Bill Goulet and Spears shared the Tiger pitching and gave up a total of 6 hits. Jack Hagen was the game's top hiter. Playing for the Tigers, coached by Frank Richardson, he collected 3 straight hits.

Game was a benefit for Frank Keelean, who suffered a broken leg in a recent league game. Now able to hobble about on crutches, Keelean was a spectator at the game.

Frick Selects Umps, Scorers

Majors' Boss Sets Up Officials for Annual All-Star Game

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick Saturday named six umpires and three official scorers for the annual All-Star game between the National and American Leagues at Milwaukee next Tuesday.

Umpires Bill Summers, Hank Soar and Ed Runge were picked from the American League, and Umpires Al Barlick, Dusty Boggess and Frank Secory from the National.

* * *

Barlick will call balls and strikes for the first 4½ innings, and Summers will be behind the plate for the rest of the game. Frick said Runge and Secory would be on the foul lines.

Scorers will be Sam Levy, Milwaukee Journal; Red Thisted, Milwaukee Sentinel, and Shirley Povich, Washington Post and Times Herald, and president of the Baseball Writers Assn.

GMC Crushes Elks Nine 14-0

Hruska Hurls Fine 2-Hit Shutout; Hitters Get 11 Blows

General Motors' baseball team continues to set the pace in the Class A city league. Friday night at Wisner Field the Coachers demonstrated in no uncertain terms why they are leading the league by crushing the cellar-dwelling Elks 723 club, 14-0.

While Jack Hruska was hurling a nifty two-hit shutout, GMC was pounding three Elks' pitchers for 11 hits, including three triples and four doubles. Centerfielder Terry Thomas continued his heavy stick-work by collecting two doubles and a single in four official times at the plate. Herman Bishop had a three-bagger and single in four attempts.

John Jackson started on the hill for the Elks, giving way to John Wagner after one-third of an inning. Wagner retired in favor of John Keel in the 5th stanza. Singles by Larry Carl and Jesse Hays were all that the Elks could muster off Hruska.

Coach club scored at least once in every inning except the 5th. Eleven men batted in the 3rd frame with six of them scoring. Victory was GMC's 9th in 10 starts.

DETROIT (AP)—Pronto Don's record breaking earnings stood at $327,500 today.

The 10-year-old gelding from the Hayes Fair Acres Farm added $4,300 to his bank account last night with victories in both divisions of the $10,000 Governor's Cup trot at Northville Downs.

He won the 1st division in the fast time of 2:03 1-5, beating out his stablemate, Darn Safe, with Nancy Song 3rd.

Nancy Song threatened in the 2nd division but Pronto Don took it in 2:05 1-5. Darn Safe was 3rd.

Your Neighbor's House

County Golf Courses Become Favorite Home Sites

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

You can "tee off" in your own backyard—or, perhaps your own frontyard—these days.

Real estate and home developers have discovered that the woods, vales and high stretches of land which fringe established golf courses offer home sites with many exclusive qualities not to be found in the average building spot:

1. As long as there is a golf course, your "future neighbors" will probably always be "green and rolling vistas."

2. Oakland County's golf courses are within close proximity to other natural recreational facilities — lakes and streams—thus offering the golf-course-dweller everything from his favorite 18 holes to fishing, swimming, boating and skating.

BETWEEN LAKE, COURSE

One new development taking place at the edge of Morey's Golf Course on Union Lake Rd. has a long, curved row of new homes intercepting the golf greens and the beach of Long Lake.

* * *

Built by Harold Young Building Co., with Multi-Lakes Realty handling the sales, a natural building site is offered with the front door overlooking the course and another front door (on the back of the house) leading to the lake shore.

Young points out that the future of this area is assured because there is no vacant land left for more construction.

* * *

These houses are ranch style and multi-level designs, with an occasional traditional line, all constructed of full-face brick. Each room of these houses is wired for hi-fi.

* * *

Closer to Pontiac, on the edge of Silver Lake Golf Course, custom home building has been going on for some time. Located just off Walton Blvd., these houses follow the contour of the sloping land—some one-story and others two and tri-level types —and are predominantly built of brick.

Many of these homes have been built by local builders. Others have been built by home owners themselves.

HOUSES WITH TWO FRONTS

At the edge of Pontiac Country Club, a recently built row of houses actually has two "fronts." One faces Westlawn Ave. and the other front overlooks Motorway Dr.

* * *

Out at the Forest Lake Country Club off Franklin Rd., the hilly terrain surrounding this lovely golf course has become the favored spot of builders interested in constructing tri-level designs.

Webster Builders, Inc., are currently constructing brick homes in this area with wide window sections placed to view the greens down at the foot of the hill.

* * *

One resident points out that anyone who buys a golf-course locale home just naturally has a nice green lawn.

* * *

"With such beautiful competition, it behooves you to keep your own grass in tip-top shape," he said.

Checking on the number of stray golf balls which might threaten windows, it was found that most of the houses are placed just out of driving range.

"Must be a lot of good golfers in these parts," observed one housewife who said she had never found one in her yard or heard of any in her neighbors' yards.

Cedar Lining Used Around Fireplace

Aromatic red cedar closet lining —the wood with the aroma that is pleasant to people but death to moths—is finding new use as a wall covering around fireplaces.

* * *

The rose-colored wood has a natural look that blends well with fireplaces, and its woodsy fragrance enhances the aroma of burning logs.

The natural look of cedar closet lining is authentic. The wood requires no varnish or other finish to give it durability or attractiveness.

Cedar is one of nature's most durable products, and varnishing or otherwise finishing it seals in the fragrance which is attractive to most people.

Persons who want to brighten up their fireplace areas will find it easy to do if aromatic red cedar closet lingin is used.

* * *

This product of the South is available at most lumber yards in convenient packages, containing enough pieces of cedar to cover at least 32 square feet of wall area. Each piece is tongued and grooved for easy application.

Wax Practical for Protection

Present Day Products Take Drudgery Out of Housecleaning

The kitchen is probably the greatest source of joy—and sorrow—in most households. From it come the mouth-watering dishes that make Mother the queen of the castle, but when the court has dined it quickly turns her into a scullery maid.

The preparation of meals makes the kitchen the place in the house that gets dirty the quickest, and yet it is the one area which is the most important to keep clean. Thankfully, quite a bit has been done in recent years to lessen this problem.

Newer materials in kitchen equipment and cleaning products offer many worksiving advantages. Appliances are now smoother and "rounder" and therefore easier to clean. Also, the greater use of such impervious materials as stainless steel, hard plastics, and porcelain for work areas aids cleaning and enhances a kitchen's attractiveness.

The most practical substance for the cleaning and protection of these surfaces, and the floor as well, is wax. A consumer service explains why. A creamy wax designed for kitchen use contains a combination of mild solvents which accomplishes the cleaning as it is being rubbed on. When this wax is wiped dry on the surface of refrigerators, ranges, cabinets, work counters, enameled walls and venetian blinds it leaves a lasting shiny coat that resists dirt, food, fingermarks and can easily be wiped clean with a damp cloth.

Abrasive powders should be avoided on these surfaces, as should polishes which leave an oily film that attracts dust and shows up fingerprints.

STAND-OUT ROOM FOR A BOY — In this room for a boy, good looks are in no way sacrificed for practicality. Practical consideration usually do come first in a room for a boy, and here they begin with the very feature that makes the room so handsome — with wood. In a natural finish, the wood provides damage-resistant, soil-defying walls and doors that seldom need refreshing and never redecorating, and these surfaces are matched by chests and a desk. The wood is mahogany. It has the character to take over beautifying the room single-handedly, so the rest of the planning can be on the practical side.

And other practical points are many — the hardy cork floor, the simple curtains, the hanging light fixture that pulls down and slides upward again as no table lamp can. Generous storage space is well-organized to free as many inches of floor space as possible.

Plan Practical Projects for New Baby's Nursery

You can make interesting necessities for baby's nursery—objects that are too practical perhaps to occur to you before the big event, but needed sorely after baby's arrival.

Skip frou-frou dust catchers like bassinett ruffles. Sweet, pretty, short-lived and frowned on by most pediatricians, they are gradually fading out of the picture in favor of washable plastic liners.

Put your time and energy into projects that will pal off in convenience.

Perhaps baby is just to share a corner of a bedroom, or maybe a tiny room that doesn't have a closet. In that case a shelf 3 or 4 feet long and 1 foot wide erected along a narrow wall will come in mighty handy. Attach a rod to the underside to hang baby's clean clothes. The shelf should be wide enough to hold booties, caps and shoes.

A couple of feet down from the ceiling erect a shelf so that baby's toys can be put up for him to admire from the crib. Later this shelf may be used for books, records, animal collections.

A coat tree is a useful gadget for baby's clothes. Make it yourself by getting a wooden disc, about 1 foot in diameter from your local lumber yard. Bore a hole in it large enough to accommodate an old broom or mop handle. Insert and glue.

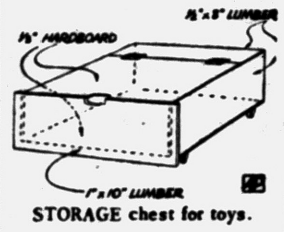

PAINT SAME COLOR

The tree should be about 3 feet tall. Put small holes at the top section. Insert dowels and glue. Paint it the same color as the room. Ambitious and creative parents might put a plywood animal cutout on the top as an added fillip.

A box on casters is a useful item in a small room. It may be put under the bed or under the crib. It can hold folded diapers and other Junior garments until it becomes a toy box at some future date. The home craftsman can put it together quickly.

Plan the back and two sides of the box for 8-inch lumber in half-inch thickness. A 1 by 10-inch board of suitable length can form the front. Top and bottom panels can be made of ⅛-inch hardboard of the tempered pressed wood type. Casters, hinges, bolts and nuts complete the material list.

The wide front board improves the appearance of the box when rolled under the bed. The top keeps out dust and lint and a cut-out can provide a finger hold for lifting the top. Prime and paint it to match the color scheme of the room.

STORAGE chest for toys.

Rubber tile is an ideal floor covering to keep the nursery quiet. Baby's room should be planned away from the main artery of the house if possible, at least away from TV, radio and other disturbances.

Wheeled Dolly Reduces Work of Farm Chores

A platform on wheels for use in the barn or milkhouse will save the farmer both time and energy. For sturdy construction, make a framework of 2 by 4-inch lumber. To this nail a panel of quarter-inch tempered hardboard.

A convenient handle may be made of discarded half-inch piping.

The outfit may be equipped with either three or four swivel wheels having a diameter of three to five inches. If three wheels are used, two should be located at the forward corners and the third at the back center.

For transporting feed about the barn or moving milk cans inside the milkhouse, a cart like this is invaluable. Its cost is negligible, as the platform on wheels may be built of scrap materials. A farmer will find that having two such time and work-savers will increase his efficiency and reduce his work.

Renew Workbench

A scarred workbench top can be renewed by adding a panel of ¼-in. composition panel, which will take more punishment than the original surface. Workbench tops of this material are common in factories. Round the corners and lightly bevel the exposed edges. Attach the panel with screws applied through drilled holes.

Construction Outlay Hits Monthly High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Outlays for new construction were higher in June, at about $3,800,000,000 than in any previous month on record, the departments of Labor and Commerce estimated today.

That rounded out a record first half of the year, with construction expenditures totaling some $19,100,000,000.

This represented an annual rate, after adjustment for seasonal factors, of $41,700,000,000, 11 per cent higher than the previous record of $37,600,000,000 in the previous peak year, 1954.

The joint monthly report from the two departments said virtually all types of construction shared in the June upsurge. Construction outlays rose 7 per cent from May to June.

Protect Livestock

Livestock is protected from injury when feeders and shelters are covered with smooth, splinter-free hardboard. Old feeders and shelters may easily be covered over with these panels. Just nail ¼" panels go right over the lumber framing, them on. In new construction, the

Serving Cart Used Also as Work Table

A handy special accessory unit made by some steel kitchen cabinet manufacturers is a combination serving cart and worktable.

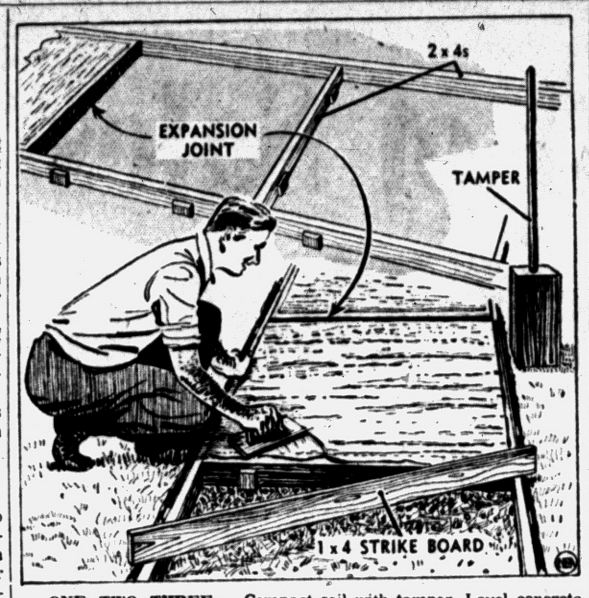

It can be rolled quietly and easily on ball-bearing wheels anywhere in the kitchen to tote foods and small appliances or function as an additional work surface near steel base cabinets.

The three sturdy steel shelves of the server are lined with stain-resistant laminated plastic or linoleum.

When not in use, the cart fits under an extended counter top in the steel kitchen.

Dry Wall Defined

Dry wall commonly refers to wall boards such as plywood, cement board, headboard, gypsum board, paper board, and fiber board, as well as any other material applied in a dry process.

ONE, TWO, THREE — Compact soil with tamper. Level concrete, using sawing motion of strike board across top of form. Smooth with wood float.

Poured Concrete Popular for All Kinds of Paving

Poured concrete is an understandably popular material for building garden walls, walks and patios. It can be given a variety of surface treatments, it is durable and permanent if properly handled, and its cost is comparatively low.

On the other side, it's only fair to point out that concrete work is hard work. If you are planning to pour any sizable volume of concrete, either round up a small army of neighbors to help, or pour small sections at a time.

There is another alternative—call for professional help. It might cost twice as much, but if the contractor would agree to you excavating the area to be covered and staking out the forms yourself, you might save an hour or two's charges for labor.

But let's assume that you are a do-it-yourselfer through and through, and that you're even going so far as to mix your own concrete. Before ordering the ingredients, you'll have to determine (1) just how many square feet of surface area you plan to cover, and (2) how thick you are going to make the concrete. (Garden walk and terrace slabs need be no more than three to four inches in thickness.)

FIGURE VOLUME

Either give these figures to your building materials dealer or compute your material requirements by referring to the following: To cover 100 square feet, three inches deep calls for six sacks of cement, 13 cubic feet of sand and 18 cubic feet of gravel. The same area four inches deep requires eight sacks of cement, 17 cubic feet of sand and 24 cubic feet of gravel.

Also available to the mix-it-yourself crowd are the cement-sand-gravel mixtures put up in 50 to 100-pound bags. These simplify the mixing process but are somewhat less economical.

You can mix concrete either by hand or with a portable mixing machine, which you might be able to rent. However, either method is hard work and does not result in any appreciable money savings over transit-mix concrete, which is trucked to building sites already mixed.

Except in communities where transit-mix is not available, or in areas inaccessible to trucks, or where the project calls for considerably less than one cubic yard of concrete, hand mixing just doesn't pay.

MIX BY HAND

For the record, however, here is a brief outline of the hand-mixing method using cement, sand and gravel in the 1:2¼:3 ratio recommended for garden paving: First pour out the measured quantity of sand, and add to this the cement. Mix them thoroughly until free of brown or gray streaks, then mix the gravel into the mass. To the mixture add 4½ gallons of water per sack of cement if sand and gravel are very wet; five gallons if aggregate is of average wetness, 5½ gallons if just damp, and six gallons if dry.

Concrete slabs and walks can be poured right on the earth, providing the ground has been leveled with a shovel, and all sod, weeds and debris have been removed. Wooden forms are necessary, of course, to confine the slab to a given area, to shape its edges and to aid in leveling it.

Since, if you are working alone, you can pour only relatively small sections at a time, erect the forms in blocks of 25 square feet each—or even smaller if this is your first experience with concrete.

The top surfaces of the form boards should be even with the planned grade of the concrete. Drive stakes into ground on outside of forms and nail form boards to them.

Sleeping Porch Ideal Retreat

Coolest Spot in House Should Be Fixed Up for All-Day Usage

If it's good enough to sleep on, it's good anough to live on.

That is the new philosophy of the sleeping porch. America's favorite evening retreat is being fixed up for daytime use as well. It's about time, too. For if the porch is the coolest place to be at night, it is likely to be cool also during the heat of the day.

If you haven't already fixed your sleeping porch up for around-the-clock use, here are ways of doing so:

First, survey the space carefully. On a small porch, a large percentage of the area goes to a double bed — and a double bed spoils any room for daytime use. Two singles placed against the walls will leave a center space free, and can be covered to double as sofas.

Dress up the sleeping porch floor. Since it is likely to be rained on occasionally, a good plan is to finish it with water-and weather-proof material.

Fit the windows with bamboo or other attractive shades. They will keep out sunlight during the day, thus cooling the room, and at the same time will add a decorative note.

Build in some shelves for books, magazines and the radio. Locate them on one of the house walls, so that rain can't reach them and damage their contents.

Furnish the sleeping porch with a couple of good but inexpensive chairs. So-called sling chairs are both colorful and inexpensive. Don't use discards on the porch, or you will spoil the effect you are trying to create.

Finally, be sure that you have two or three electrical outlets on the porch, so that floor and reading lamps can be plugged in near chairs and couches.

Basement Lack Serious Error

Homes Without Cellars Short on Space for Storage

Many millions of families who bought or built basementless homes in the post-World War II economy craze have found out too late they made a mistake, says the Small Homes Guide.

What do you lose by not having a basement? Space, obviously — space that is valuable, useful and at the same time astoundingly inexpensive, the home planning authorities point out. The cost of basement construction can be as low as $1.50 a square foot of floor space. In other words, an expenditure of 10 to 20 per cent more than the cost of a slab structure can make your home essentially twice as big.

The family gets a resilient wood floor to walk on, dad gets storage room for lawn furniture and tools, even a work bench. The modern basement can be converted into additional living quarters and storage no end.

Basement can be made more elaborate long after home is built, thus spreading cost, and materials like popular fir dimension and hemlock boards can be purchased at most retail lumber yards.

Some home owners have found out to their dismay they could actually have constructed a full basement — for Heaven's sake, don't mess around with a half basement — for less than the cost of a substitute utility room with its much smaller facilities for performing basement functions.

Home Workshop Excellent Way to Ease Tensions Produced by Modern Living

By STEVE ELLINGSON

Old Doc Smithers stopped in yesterday to use my new jig saw. While he was sawing we got to talking about the condition of the world.

I said, "Doc, how come you medical fellas haven't come up with a cure for that great American disease, tension?"

He said, "Well,I think I could cure it, but I'd have to cut off all of the telephones, stop the clocks and do away with all of the calendars. Those are the little trigermen that, more than anything else, made the American people use over 12 million pounds of aspirin last year."

"Next," he went on, "there are a few changes I would make in radio programs. Some of the newscasters have a crisis-psychology and they keep predicting trouble. I believe in people getting the news," he said, "but I don't see any sense in people getting the news every hour. Nothing happens every hour."

"These news bropadcasters seem to feel that they've got to develop excitement in their tone and hurry in their speech. They work overtime in manufacturing exciting statements. Why, you would think all civilization was hanging in the balance," the old doctor said. "What we need on radio are more easy-going, relaxed, natural people."

NEED REFUGE

"I can take these modern contrivances just so long," the old man said, "then I have to find a place of refuge. I have only one place around my home where I can get away from the clocks, radios and telephones and that's my workshop. When I go there, I sort of get rejuvenated. You'd be surprised what an afternoon each week, working with tools, does for me."

I thought to myself, "It's easy to see why Old Doc Smithers is still practicing medicine and going strong at the age of 78. He has a fine scientific mind, but along with it an even greater quality, common sense."

Since the doctor was making a stool for his laboratory technician, we thought the one pictured here with television actress Alyse Shaw would be a good project for today.

These stools may also be used in the kitchen, for a bar, in factories, offices and all sorts of places. It has a curved seat which makes it very comfortable. The principal material used is fir plywood, which makes it very strong and rugged.

The stool is a very easy article to build when you use the full size pattern. All you need do is trace the full size pattern on wood, then saw it out and finally put it together. Simple tools are all you need. The required materials, etc., are printed on each pattern. This is a dandy project for youngsters, now that school is out.

To obtain the full size stool pattern No. 133 send 50c in coin to Steve Ellingson, The Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, Calif.

Bright-Hued Enamels Give Outdoor Pleasure

Life outdoor can be especially pleasant when you have aids like the lovely rainbow-hued enamels that are now available to brighten things up.

When you transform your garden furniture with them, you'll find that the whole family will take new interest in outdoor projects. Meals eaten under the sky will seem more appetizing. Minor household chores performed under the branches of a tree will seem less troublesome.

There is about a four million seasonal variation in a typical year in the number of U. S. people at work or looking for work.

Windows Assist Decorating Plan

Drapery Fabric Choice Important in Gaining 'Just Right' Atmosphere

Although decorating for spring and summer has often meant stripping the room of bibelots and decorative touches that add warmth to fall and winter decoration, well-planned summer window treatments can do much to give your room the light and airy look.

Don't let your windows be dull and uninteresting. Make them play an important part in your decorating scheme. Probably no two people would choose the same drapery fabric or effect for the same situation. The decisions you make, however, are often guided by certain fundamentals of good window decoration.

If a room is small, a drapery fabric in the same tone as the wall is a good choice. It helps to blend the windows into the background of the room, apparently increasing the wall area. Sometimes, even though the room is small, color interest created by a contrast in the window draperies may give a more interesting effect. There is no absolute rule, so take your choice as to blending or contrasting.

For the average room, it might be better to select a drapery pattern that is in close harmony in coloring and design with the floor covering. Don't overburden the small window with too large a pattern, especially in a room with a low ceiling. If the room is in danger of becoming "to busy," you're always smart and safe to use a self-texture or solid-color drapery fabric.

Windows that have small panes need finely woven casement curtains. Large meshes or thread patterns tend to give a heavy and confused effect.

When you have several narrow windows together, it is better to treat them as a single unit. You can use one Venetian blind across all of them, and then plan your curtains and draperies for this one window unit which you've created. You can use a cornice of the drapery fabric to pull these windows together and so create a related treatment.

Many times it is necessary to repeat a color note at the window to round out the color harmony in the room. Whether that contrasting color should be boldly patterned, plain or textured, depends upon the amount of pattern in the room and whether or not adjacent walls are strongly figured.

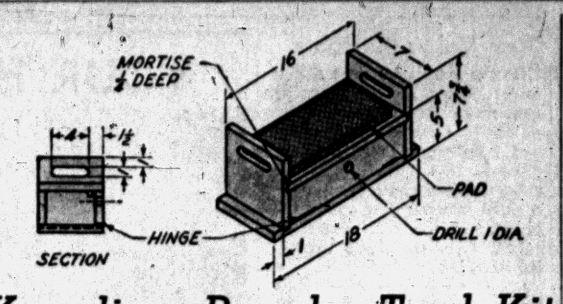

USE PLAIN COLOR

If there's much pattern in the upholstery, unless one of these same fabrics is repeated at the window, a plain colored or simply textured drapery appears more restful than the introduction of another pattern.

As a rule, if the pattern on the wall is a forceful one, it is much less confusing to define the windows with solid colors, to keep a more restful air in the room. When fabrics already used in the room are repeated at the window, there is a much greater decorative interest and definition.

Prepare for Paintng

Actually, the job of repainting your house does not begin with the painting. It starts with the proper preparation of the surfaces on which the new paint is to be applied.

Kneeling Bench—Tool Kit Saves Wear and Travel

A combination kneeling bench and garden tool kit will save the gardener's knees and keep small tools handy.

Use finished 1-inch lumber either 7 or 8 inches wide, for all wood parts. Each joint is mortised, ¼-inch deep. The mortises may be made with saw and chisel if power machinery is not available.

The base is 18 inches long, with mortises located 1 inch from each end. Make handles in the two end pieces by first boring two 1-inch holes and cutting out the area between them with a key-hole saw.

Then cut the mortises in each end piece, making sure they match as to height.

The back and the door are cut to fit after the bottom, sides and top panel are assembled. The back is not mortised in place. Use glue and 6-penny finishing nails at all joints.

BORE FINGER HOLE

Bore a finger hole, 1 inch in diameter near the top center of the door. Fasten the door in place with a pair of small hinges on the bottom edge. The door is held shut by a small cupboard latch of the spring type.

Round all sharp edges by rasping or sanding. Then sand the completed bench and finish it with paint, enamel or varnish.

A ¾-inch sponge rubber pad is then mounted on the top panel, using rubber cement.

What would be handier than this combination chair and step-stool for watching television, climbing into bed and using the grown-ups' lavatory. It is light for junior to carry about and well balanced for safety. By using a pattern for tracing the saw lines for the curves directly to the wood this useful project is quick and easy to make. The assembling directions are shown on the pattern with large 3-dimensional sketches. It is made entirely of wood except for a few small nails. Price of this pattern is 25 cents. There is also available for $1 the Children's Furniture packet of five standard size patterns for bunk beds, wardrobe, lamps and small chairs.

Coffee Table Glass Replaced With Panel

If the glass on a coffee table breaks, replace it with a panel of hardboard, and then decorate it attractively. For example, have an artist friend paint a familiar scene. Plastic sprayed on will protect the masterpiece. Or you can mount a photo blowup of a favorite subject. Or you can cover the surface with a wallpaper of unusual pattern.

Or you can glue to the panel a fabric that blends with the colors of the walls. Or you can insert a piece of beautiful plastic-finished arlite instead of the glass, using a mastic.

Prevention Is Easier Than Expensive Cures

It's not always easy to trace destructive moisture to its source or its point of invasion.

You can't very well go around ripping off siding from your house or peering under shingles to find the cause of the trouble that's betrayed by rotting lumber or peeling paint. That's why its wise to take all possible measures to prevent the initial entrance of moisture from indoors or out — from the roof or from the ground.

Children will chew matches and bits of fireworks which contain a dangerous amount of phosphorous. Be sure to keep a close watch on what they put in their mouths at all times.

Door Makes Playtable

Do the youngsters need a playtable? Using an old door, you can make one just the height needed by removing the hardware and installing old water or gas pipes for legs. Provide a smooth, splinter-free surface by attaching a panel of wood composition with brads. If the door edges are rough, cover them also with the hardboard.

Remove Old Scale

Q—What wil Iremove the hard deposits that form in the kettles?

A—Since these deposits are usually compounds of calcium, they should be loosened by a solution of vinegar and water, poured in the kettle and warmed. Then they may be rinsed out.

YOUR HOME OF TOMORROW

Nestled on a hillside, the house has a comamnding view of the valley below.

Clever Architect, Better Materials, Choice Location: Beautiful Dwelling

Clever planning and a wise selection of materials produced this charming Portland, Oregon, ranch home which is ideally suited to the hilly terrain which surrounds it.

In designing the house, Hubert Williams, Portland architect, exploited to the fullest the natural advantages of the site. Built on a hillside which protects it from chilly eastern winds, the house commands a spectacular view of the deep valley below.

* * *

The exterior of the house combines Roman brick, glass block and natural-stained cedar wood in a pleasing arrangement which harmonizes perfectly with the tall fir trees in the background. The interior is modern in decoration and choice of materials.

OVERLOOKS VALLEY

The 28 by 26-foot living room overlooks the slopes to the valley through a large, double-pane picture window. As in other rooms of the house, ceilings and walls are plastered and painted in light colors to blend with the natural-finish birch plywood doors and trim.

A massive corner fireplace of Arizona flagstone adds a feeling of warm luxury to the room. The dining area is separated from the living room by a partial divider.

The comfortably-sized kitchen shares the lovely view of the valley through a window over the sink. Kitchen cabinets are birch plywood and work counters are bright yellow ceramic tile. The breakfast nook looks out over an adjoining porch deck.

Special treatment given to the bedroom area of the house makes it unusual from the standpoint of design. The three bedrooms and the master bath are connected by by a 35-foot hallway which is highlighted by four panels of glass block which flood the hall with daylight.

* * *

Each of the glass block panels is 7 feet, 4 inches wide, and 4 feet, 8 inches high. In addition to protecting the privacy of the hallway while providing daylight, the translucent glass block panels assure insulation value equivalent to an eight-inch brick wall to meet the rigors of the rugged Northwest winters. Clear vision strips above the glass block panels provide a view to the outside and can be opened for ventilation. Two linen closets are built into the inside of the hall.

BIRCH TRIM IN BEDROOMS

The master bedroom and the other two bedrooms feature the same birch plywood doors and trim which characterize the rest of the house. Two of the bedrooms have large sliding-door closets and the third has a roomy, conventional closet. The master bath, located between the master bedroom and a second bedroom, opens into the hall.

Effective use of ceramic tile and a large glass block panel over the tub make it an unusually attractive bathroom. Here again, the protection of privacy and the insulation value of the glass block contribute real functional beauty. For convenience, a small lavatory is located at the other end of the house adjacent to the kitchen.

Imposing panels of glass block flank the entrance to the home and provide a generous supply of daylight for the entryway. Next to the entrance is a small den which has panels of glass block on two sides to assure adquate daylight for the room.

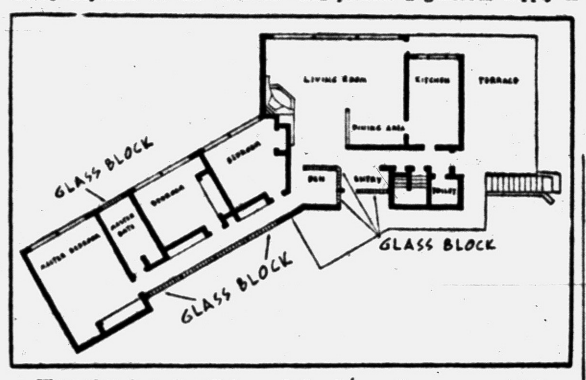

The basement area is designed to afford complete facilities for easy, informal entertaining. A party room, 13 by 28 feet, has walls of redwood siding placed in diagonal patterns to give a contrasting effect. The ceiling is insulated tile and the floor has asphalt tile in harmonizing colors. A large fireplace is located at one end of the room with conventient storage space for wood.

The room is connected to a utility kitchen completely furnished with refrigerator, range and necessary party-giving utensils and located off the basement hall. The heating equipment and laundry are located at one end of the basement. Heat is supplied by a forced warm air oil furnace. A storage room and home freezer are located at the opposite end of the basement.

The lower level of the house also has a double garage which can be reached by steps from the porch deck as well as from an interior staircase.

The entrance is accessible by a 300-foot long concrete driveway.

The outside east bank is planted with rhododendrons of various colors creating a picturesque effect when in bloom. The rest of the grounds have seasonal plantings of different flowers to blend with the natural siding of the exterior

Floor plan shows how living and sleeping quarters are separated.

Useful Roof Deck

Modern homes on hilly terrain don't have to sacrifice outdoor living. If the rocky or hilly landscape prevents a terrace extension to your living room area, surface a roof with a durable, weatherproof material like quarry tile which blends well with the out-of-doors. A roof deck will give your family years of pleasure for generations.

Beauty of Wood Enhances Homes

Timber Provides Grains Which Offer Elegance Not Found in Synthetics

There's nothing like wood to give an "elegant sense to life," according to one of the nation's leading architects. Ralph Walker, New York architect and past president of the American Institute of Architects, called for a greater use of wood in schools, homes, and auditoriums. He said that the "inherent beauty of wood is apparent from seeing it, feeling it, and sometimes even from smelling it."

Walker urged that the lumber industry work closely with architects "to help us get fine finishes in homes."

* * *

"No one," the architect observed, "cares about the past of a piece of steel or a lamp bulb. Only wood becomes a beloved antique. Only wood can be so beautiful in its natural quality that you want to touch it."

Citing the long life of medieval Japanese wooden houses and temples, and of wood windows in houses dating from pre-Shakespearen England, Walker squelched the idea that wood is "less permanent" than other materials.

WOOD PROVES 'DURABLE'

"Wood," he said, "is one of the most durable building materials. Four and five hundred years ago, the Japanese did nothing to the wood. They permitted it to weather, and many buildings are still in excellent condition."

Today, the architect pointed out, wood's durability and good service are increased by man-made treatments, such as better paints and other finishes. He singled out wood windows and exterior panel doors.

These are generally made of ponderosa pine, a strong, light wood which is treated with a water-repellent, preservative chemical solution. This treatment helps windows open easily without sticking, and close tightly, without rattling loosely in the frame or letting in air and dust.

WHITE KITCHEN OUT

Walker predicted an end "very shortly" to the design concept that "everything smooth is delightful." Even now, he said, the "cold white laboratory kind of kitchen is being rapidly replaced by warm friendly kitchens in which wood is used generously."

The wood grain in such common household articles as pine kitchen cabinets "appeals to our instinctive feeling for pattern. . . . We get bored pretty quickly with anything that presents an unbroken area of plain white or any other color. Wood has the warmth and surface interest that make us love it all the more as it gets older," the architect said.

PATTERN FOR A QUIET ROOM — Because so many rooms once had too much pattern in them, they were changed until they became too plain. Perhaps this happened at your house — tired of floral draperies, wallpaper, slipcovers, rugs you bought everything new without pattern at all. The plainness seemed restful for a while and certainly the rooms looked bigger and quieter. But it is natural for the eye to see pattern. No areas outdoors — the garden, trees or even the sky —are flat in color and unpatterned. And when everything is plain in color indoors, a room can grow flat and monotonous.

If the room you'd like to improve lacks interest this way, keep the good qualities of the plainness, but add the pick-up of pattern. It can stay a quiet room and take more color and design. One good fabric will do wonders. Choose it for the combination of colors that please your eye most and a simple pattern that is beautifully drawn. Use it for one fairly large area and repeat it in a smaller area somewhere else.

Back License Tags With Hardboard

By backing automobile license plates with a piece of 3/16" hardboard, motorists prevent the metal from becoming banged up and unsightly due to parking incidents. Cut slightly smaller than the plates, the hardboard is attached to the metal by means of the customary license plate fasteners through drilled holes.

In addition to the two fasteners at the bottom edge, two are applied at the top corners so that the metal and hardboard are drawn into close contact.

Insects Hate Them

Stel kitchen cabinets are impervious to insect and vermin infestation and cannot absorb kitchen odors, two features which make them desirable for the up-to-date kitchen.

Moisture Chief Cause of Growth in Mildew Loss

Mildew and moths are the chief dangers to safe closet storage. Persons who are confronted by either of these conditions can take steps to eliminate them

Since mildew is a result of too much moisture, be sure that water is not entering a closet through a leaky roof or damaged water pipe. These repairs should be made promptly, for such conditions may cause serious damage to the home.

* * *

If the foregoing are not creating the moisture problem, try ventilating the closet. An alternative measure is to place hygroscopic salts in the closet. These salts have a drying action on air, removing moisture which causes mildew.

There are many answers to the problem of moths, but most are just temporary safeguards. A permanent solution is to line closets with aromatic red cedar and keep them closed. This wood emits fumes which drive away moths and kill their larvae.

Ranch-Type House Pioneers Progress

The ranch type house has pioneered new progress in American home building. It's a typically American style—open, frank, efficient and yet comfortable. Stairways and halls do not take up important space. Large window areas add the refreshing feeling of the outdoors.

The interior is open, one room flowing into another. The theme is naturalness in design and materials. Such materials as ceramic tile, stone, wood are popular.

Ceramic tile, for instance, is used to unite open-plan areas such as the living-dining-kitchen area. Durable and practical, tile's handsome variety is suitable in any decorative scheme.

Modern Decor Leads Exhibit

Furniture Exposition Emphasizes Newest in Home Stylization

CHICAGO—Featured now at the International Home Furnishings Market are the furniture and furnishings which you will see in shops and stores some three to six months from now.

By and large there seems to be less emphasis upon any particular style than upon versatility. As to styles, however, Modern—with its new, softer look—is still in the lead, while Italian Provincial pre-Traditional field.
sents a strong influence in the

Because a constantly increasing number of homes are being built with an open plan, the new furniture is being designed to fit into any area, whether it be the living, dining or sleeping space. It is flexible in its uses and highly decorative wherever it is placed.

As an excellent example of this versatility, a group of modular furniture is being shown which consists of about 50 pieces. All are related in design, but have sufficient variation in detail to avoid any sense of monotony, even if they are used throughout an entire house.

DANISH MODERN

This furniture, Danish Modern in inspiration and designed by Merton L. Gershun, is of walnut. That, by the way, is now the leading cabinet wood. In appearance, this furniture is light, sleek and symmetrical. Touches of brass on leg bands and pulls, together with such devices as louver fronts, cane panels, crown glass and black lacquer doors, lend charming variety. All details are shown to full advantage by the soft, hand-rubbed finish of the walnut cabinet wood.

This finish looks much like the glowing patina on older pieces which has been produced by years of hand-rubbing of wax. It is amazingly resistant to mars of all sorts.

To achieve this tough finish, which also shows the natural beauty of the wood to full advantage, the final coats of lacquer and wax are preceded by many other steps. This finish, in fact, is built up, step by step, with a toner, a wash coat of lacquer, a filler, a sealer of thinned-down lacquer and many sandings. After the third coat of lacquer, the piece is kiln-dried before being sanded. Then follow two more coats of lacquer. Afterwards the piece is buffed with pumice and oil, then hand-rubbed with wax to a low and glowing sheen.

While much of the new furniture has the look of the old pieces with hand-rubbed, oil finish, it has far greater durability. The newer treatments assure their fitness for day-in-and-day-out use by even the most robust of families. The new furniture is destined to have wide appeal because it delights both our practical and esthetic senses.

HOW TO MATCH PAINT TO WALLPAPER—The wallpaper comes first, then the paint must be mixed to match it when the two are used together in a one-color effect. Accuracy comes from a careful tryout on the walls, not from sample matching, which can be very misleading. Avoid the danger of mistakes by hanging samples of the paper on the walls, not merely on one wall, but on all the walls the paper is to go on, because the light will hit each one differently. Pin or tape down each piece as nearly flat as possible. Then try the paint beside each strip of paper. What looked like a match up to this point may be far from it, but the action of light on both paper and paint will guide changing the shade. Mix and try again until the paint is the nearest possible repeat of the shade of the paper. The resulting match of walls and woodwork does wonders to create a spacious effect in the room.

Soapless Detergent Best for Cleaning Bath Tile

Don't use ordinary hand soap to clean the ceramic tile in your bathroom or kitchen. A household soapless detergent is best for cleaning tile. Soap will leave a sticky film on the tile surface. On walls and countertops this film can catch and hold dirt and grime; if left on floors, the slippery film is dangerous.

In all cleaning, tile should be rinsed after washing. Virtually all food and bathroom stains cannot penetrate tile's impervious surface, so cleaning is easy. The stains are removed with just a wipe of a damp cloth and a damp cloth and a simple detergent.

The National Education Assn. says adequate classrooms provide 30 square feet of floor space for each elementary school pupil and 25 square feet for each high school student.

Care Pays Off When Building With Wood Siding

If you're planning to build a new house of wood siding, a good grade of well dried material should be used. When the siding is being applied, it's important that all joints around the window and door frames and that all corner boards should be carefully fited. So should mitered corners and spliced joints. It's also the greatest wisdom to end-paint the boards before they are applied.

If your house is already built, check all joints and caulk any cracks that are found open. Cracked or rotten boards should be replaced. Nails should be countersunk and, after the first coat of paint, the holes puttied. Diverter strips and drip caps should be flashed so there is no danger of water finding its way behind the clapboard.

Go Easy on Painting Overhead Surfaces

When painting a porch ceiling, be sure to get only a little paint on your brush each time you dip it into the paint can. Otherwise, the grooves in the lumber will wipe off too much and drip. Working overhead also makes it necessary to be very careful to avoid spattering and having the paint run down the handle of the brush.

It's a good idea, incidentally, to have a cloth handy to wipe off the brush handle should it be necessary.

Storage Areas Built in Garage

Owners Drafting Space to Keep Tools and Junk Out of Small Kitchens

Pinched for storage by cracker-box kitchens and lack of basements, more and more modern homemakers are drafting idle garage space to solve their storage problems.

* * *

Shallow knotty pine cabinets which anyone handy with hammer and saw can build are coming into vogue because they are more sightly than open shelves and because they can be locked of the garage door is kept open.

Where space permits, deep cabinets may be used, but they are the exception rather than the rule. Garages themselves usually are not over-size. However, shallow cabinets are an advantage in any case where they are used for storing canned goods, preserves, soft drinks and staples because the stored items then are easier to see and easier to reach.

Where a garage faces the street, and the door is kept open, cabinets are being teamed up more and more with knotty western pine paneling so that the garage presents an over-all pleasing appearance to the street. Paneling, too, with or without cabinets, is an easy do-it-yourself project.

* * *

Pine paneling in garages usually is finished naturally or with a light stain, so that the garage interior will be light, interesting and warm. Such treatment is adequate to protect the wood against the wide changes in humidity to which it may be subjected through the open door.

Plate Racks Prevent Dishes From Chipping

Stainless steel plate rails may be fitted into the backs of shelves in many steel kitchen wall cabinets to hold awkward sized or colorful plates upright. HOMES FOR AMERICANS

PLAN # B-2871AP

WINDOW WALLS — Lots of glass in living room and dining room, a large main-floor recreation room, a pantry entrance to kitchen from both garage and front porch are features of this plan for a four-bedroom house with two bathrooms, one of which is compartmented to serve as a powder room. The house is 83 feet wide and covers 2,570 square feet without garage. This is plan B-2871AP by Alwin Cassens Jr., architect, 145 So. Franklin Ave., Valley Stream, N. Y.

Make Granaries Weatherproof Before Harvest

Farmers should make sure their granary space will be ample for storage of this year's harvest, and that adequate protection is provided against leakage, weather, rodents, insects, and other hazards.

Whether constructing a new storage building or reconditioning one now in service, a new asphalt roof will provide protection from weather damage, and will give long economical life.

With a wide variety of asphalt roofing available for use on farm service buildings, it is easy to select a suitable type for any structure. Nineteen-inch selvage edge roll roofing, a locked-on-type of asphalt shingle, or a standard type strip shingle may be used on barns and other permanent buildings.

If the building stands on a high, exposed location, cementing down the tabs on the asphalt strip shingles with quick-setting asphalt cement is recommended. Asphalt roll roofing may be used on low, small temporary structures.

The foundation, walls, and floor must be of sound construction, with the floor far enugh above the ground to prevent flood damage in heavy rains. Doors and hatches must be tight-fitting, and there should be no loose knots, split boards, or open joints which could cause loss of grain.

Steel Kitchen Aids Large Item Storage

The inevitable collection of large platters and trays which accumulate in every kitchen are easily stored in up-to-date steel kitchens.

Special steel cabinets, about nine inches wide, are available which have stainless steel, chrome or cadmium plated rods that partition the interior into two or four storage sections.

Out-sized platters are filed neatly on edge in the sections so that they quickly slide in and out.

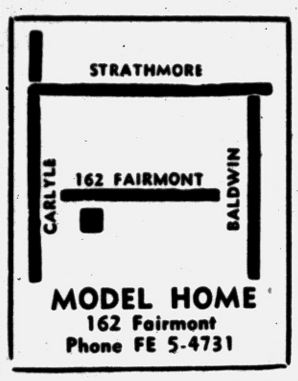

There is a somewhat similar unit which has a sliding shelf at the top for cooking utensils with tray storage panel below. All of these tray storage units are of standard height and design to fit with other steel base cabinets.

Comfort Best Clue to Saving on Fuel

Your own sweet comfort is one of the best yardsticks for judging fuel savings resulting from a home insulated with mineral wool. This may sound strange, but actually home comfort and economy go hand in hand.

A complete mineral wool installation not only saves up to 40 per cent in fuel, but cuts down on chilling drafts and body-to-wall radiation, which can seriously affect a person's comfort. A comfortable home-owner, therefore, is saving money.

Combine Wood Grains

News from the showings of furniture at the Merchandise Mart in Chicago features the fact that wood grains are often contrasted or combined with matte lacquered surfaces. Walnut, mahogany, cherry, maple, birch, teak and ash are popular in that order. Cherry has an interesting new look — as white cherry, with a soft grayed tone and handsome graining.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

SLIDING GLASS DOORS open two bedrooms of this house into a private walled-in garden as well as opening the living room onto a covered porch adjoining a garden patio. A folding wall makes one of the front bedrooms available as a study extending the living room. Basement stairs at the kitchen door and an abundance of closets are among other features. This is plan M-472AP by Rudolph A. Matern, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N.Y. The house covers 1,060 square feet without garage and porch.

Useful Cabinets Give Utility to Narrow Kitchens

The long, somewhat narrow kitchen in which work is organized along both sides of the passageway frequently offers all of the work and step saving conveniences required in a compact area.

Because of the versatility of steel kitchen cabinets and their numerous interior stylings, these units are particularly well adapted to such an arrangement.

* * *

With the sink installed on one wall, steel base and wall units can extend the entire length of the wall, providing ample space for storage.

A vegetable bin near the sink, china and glassware storage in wall shelves, cutlery drawers in base cabinets, a mixer cabinet, an under-sink cabinet for storing cleaners and a sliding towel rack are some of the conveniences permitted, in addition to the refrigerator.

The range fits against the opposite wall with an odor removing ventilating fan and hood built into wall cabinets above. Steel cupboard and drawer units flanking the the range, as well as a row of wall shelf cabinets provide plenty of storage room for food supplies, pots and pans, and the like.

* * *

In some rooms of this type, there even is space at the end of the passageway near the back door for a tall steel utility cabinet in which to house household cleaning implements.

Panel Holds Clothes

On a trip, use a panel of 3/16" hardboard cut just smaller than the automobile trunk. On it, pile extra coats and other garments, cover with a plastic cloth, tie the board and clothes lightly and place this "floating shelf" atop the suitcases. The loaded board may be taken right into a motel or hotel. Clothes packed this way travel in perfect condition.

Cabinets Not Costly

Up-to-date steel kitchens are not only for millionairs. Most steel kitchen cabinets are priced within the range of any budget. And there are various financing methods, such as FHA, and open end mortgage which many manufacturers of steel cabinets will help you arrange.

Beauty of Simplicity Seen in Modern Homes

The modern esthetic in home building is simplicity. House designs stress clean lines, open spaces, uncluttered interiors. Manufacturers of home appliances, fixtures and materials are aware of this.

Such appliances as dishwashers, garbage disposers, ovens and cooking ranges are compact and easy to operate. They can fit snugly into almost any efficient kitchen design. Honest, natural materials such as easy-to-clean ceramic tile, hardwood finishes, and durable quarry flooring fulfill the modern esthetic.

Employers Will Fight Union Plan for Layoff Plus Unemployment Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Chamber of Commerce says employer groups in four states plan to fight any union attempt to change laws to permit layoff pay along with unemployment compensation.

This was brought out in a survey of State Chambers as to what is being done or planned in connection with recently negotiated layoff pay plans in the auto industry.

The survey showed that moves are expected in 22 states to change the law so that receipt of money from a company-financed trust fund would not disqualify a worker from unemployment compensation.

The 22 include Michigan, home of the auto industry, and these other states: Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Virginia and Washington.

SOME WILL FIGHT

In three of these states, the Chambers reported, employer groups will fight any union attempt to force the issue through the legislature. These are Florida, Minnesota and Missouri.

The Utah report said "the feeling is here that efforts will be made to maintain illegality of the supplemental payment plan." The Chamber's informants in Florida predicted that "business and industry will strongly oppose" efforts to legalize the double payments.

The chamber said that in virtually all states "changes in unemployment compensation regulations will be necessary before guaranteed wage plans as provided in the auto industry settlement can function."

In Massachusetts, the CIO already has filed a bill to legalize simultaneous payments. The AFL has announced it will seek legislation in Rhode Island next year.

The survey indicated that no immediate efforts are expected to change laws in 13 states; Alabama, California, Georgia, Kentucky, Maine, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah and West Virginia.

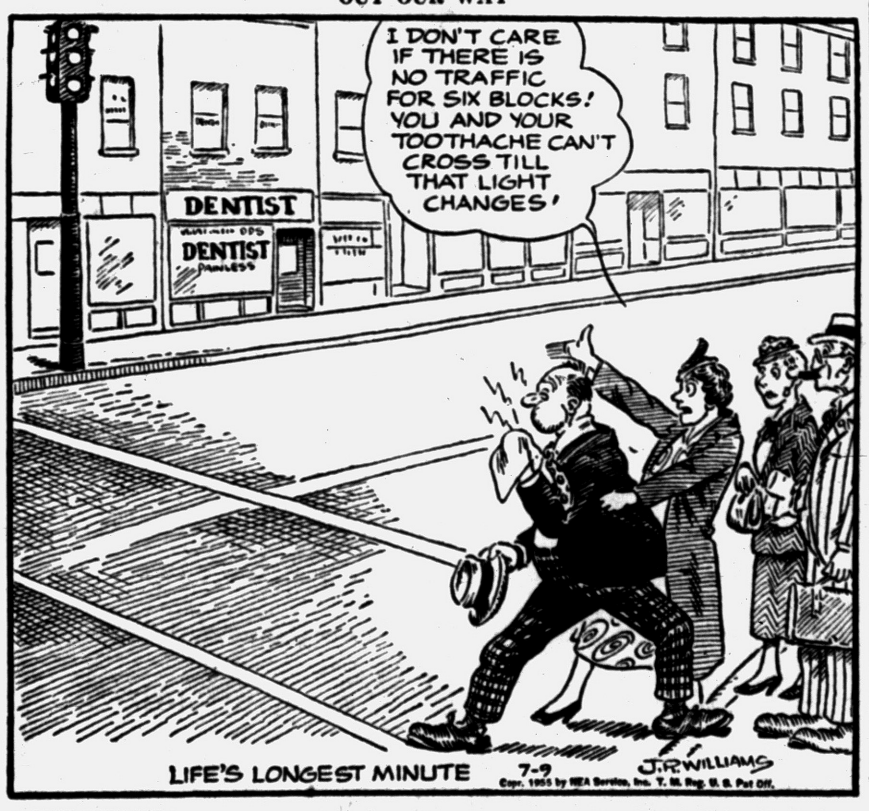

Six states reported that no efforts are expected to change laws. Forecasts were lacking from seven states.

The survey also indicated that 28 states have increased unemployment compensation benefits in the past year, while four others have increases pending.

Roberto Gets Fatter While Ingrid Stays Thin

By EARL WILSON

ROME — Ingrid Bergman seems to grow prettier with the years. When I mentioned this to her here in her attractive apartment, she laughed and said, "It's old age!"

"But how do you stay so thin?"

"It must be because you eat spaghetti in Italy. You don't want anything else after. In America I would eat a light salad —and after that two banana splits."

Plumpish Roberto Rossellini was bustling about, ready to take off in his red Ferrari — "his summer Ferrari," Ingrid said — for Spain to film "Carmen."

"He gets fatter and fatter," she commented. "He's going to be like Hitchcock was."

★ ★ ★

Laughing again, she said, "Roberto won a beauty prize as a child. Here, you must see the picture." It was on the wall, a plumpish, naked Roberto at two or three.

INGRID BERGMAN
. . . spaghetti keeps her thin . . .

After the picture she intends to do for Jean Renoir in Paris —in which Rossellini will have no part—Ingrid hopes to tour South America and maybe Mexico with her opera.

"Would you come to the United States?"

"I don't think so. I don't think I'm ready for that yet."

No one should get the idea that Signora Rossellini is pining to come back. Over coffee which she poured for me, Ingrid explained, "I get so many letters saying, 'Why don't you come home?'

"But that's not my home. This is my home. I was in America as a visitor and now I have come home."

★ ★ ★

A friend spoke up, "They regard her in Italy as Italian. They must because they gave her the Italian Oscar which is for only Italian actresses."

"It was exciting in Hollywood at first — one picture after another—but I'm older now and don't care so much about my career. I don't want to work so much. I've had it!"

Ingrid's twins were three the other day. Robertino is five and a half. Every month she gets offers to stage plays —"from America, strangely enough," but I feel it will be a long time before Broadway sees her.

"Bring the show here!" she tells the producers. "I love living in Italy so much."

★ ★ ★

When they said goodbye, she to go back to the summer home at Santa Marinella, Roberto to whiz to Spain, I had the feeling that even though they are to be on separate projects soon, Ingrid was still, after six years a happy woman. And undeniably still one of the most beautiful in the world.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP—A current expose magazine asks, "It's been years since Maria Montez has done a film in Hollywood . . . why should such competence be ignored by our film capitol?" (Miss Montez died four years ago). That's earl, brother.

Donations Flood In for Amnesia Victim

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A school bus accident robbed Shirley Farrell of her memory, but friends in 48 states have helped toward giving her a future in a new home.

Construction started yesterday on a house for the 17-year-old girl, her twin sister Betty and their parents, to replace their cramped trailer.

Shirley, injured last Nov. 23, lay in a coma for eight weeks. Hospital and doctor bills mounted and their hopes for a regular home faded.

But more than $5,400 was contributed from all parts of the United States, according to her father, Elmer.

Shirley now can remember her parents and sister, but does not recognize other relatives.

Threat of Pay Television to Spark Improved Shows

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—You're due to view some bigger and better television shows come fall. This, think many observers, is partly due to the idea of pay-see TV.

* * *

Every executive of every network would stoutly deny that his outfit is running scared because of the potential threat of coin-in-the-slot T-viewing. They prefer to say they're planning bigger and better shows because—well, just because television is naturally getting bigger and better all the time.

It's generally believed that the Federal Communications Commission will not render a decision on pay-see TV for another year. And —if program promises hold true—the networks hope an increasing number of viewers will be asking each other as the year wears on: Just what better things would we see on pay TV?"

* * *

First in the field of summer announcements a couple of days ago came NBC-TV with an earsplitting shout: "More than 75 mammoth one-shot productions and spectaculars, featuring the most celebrated stars in show business and embracing the entire field of entertainment, will spark the 1955-56 schedule."

Probing deeper into the announcement, you find this isn't empty rhetoric. Plans include:

* * *

Big names — Mary Martin, Frank Sinatra, Helen Hayes, Maurice Chevalier, Maurice Evans, the Sadler's Wells Ballet, George Abbott, Patrice Munsel, Rex Harrison, Eva LeGallienne.

Big Shows — "Our Town," "The Skin of Our Teeth," "Alice in Wonderland," "The Devil's Disciple," the world premieres of two new American operas.

* * *

Big telementaries (It's elementary that a telementary is a televised documentary); a history of Adolf Hitler as depicted on impounded German film; "Nightmare in Red," an hour-long history of the rise of communism in Russia.

Enough information has leaked to indicate that CBS-TV, too, will dedicate itself to the big show, the big name, the big chunk of time.

* * *

ABC-TV has some unusual plans in the way of feature-length films. It, too, will have a complete announcement before long.

The television mills grind out much publicity, but this week's announcement from NBC promises some real sustenance for viewers in the coming season.

Why this has come about is far less important than the fact that it has.

There are 117,000 government units in the United States.

See Senate Fight to Up Asian Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said today he will fight to restore in the Senate a House committee's 50 per cent cut in a special Asian aid fund asked by President Eisenhower.

* * *

The House Appropriations Committee, cutting 20 per cent from the President's foreign aid requests, sliced in half the 200 million dollars asked for the Asian economic development fund. The committee said that not more than 100 million dollars would be used anyhow the first year.

* * *

The full 200 million dollar fund, he said, would be a major indication the United States is unselfishly and seriously intent on building up the economies of the underdeveloped nations of Asia.

The annual oyster harvest in the U.S. yields about 63 million pounds of food.

Texas Politico Indicted in Deal

Rep. John Bell Denies Guilt in Veterans Land 1952 Program

SEGUIN, Tex. (AP)—Rep. John J. Bell (D-Tex), who helped set up the Texas veterans land program when he was in the state legislature, was indicted yesterday on charges of conspiring to steal $154,810 from the state in that program.

He immediately denied guilt. He made the same denial when questioned by a state investigating committee earlier. The freshman congressman said he received some legal fees and that was all.

Indicted with him was T. . McLarty of Denver, Colo., and formerly of Cuero, Tex., Bell's home town, and J. T. Wofford of Cuero.

* * *

It was from McLarty, Bell said in the state investigation, that he received the legal fees. McLarty was indicted in May on other counts connected with veterans land deals.

The indictments against the three involve deals in July 1952 in which 3,701.4 acres of Guadalupe County land were sold to 24 veterans.

Bascom Giles, former land commissioner and once head of the Veterans Land Board, currently is on trial on charges of $6,800 theft. He is indicted on a $30,000 bribery charge. He refused to take office last anuary, although re-elected as land commissioner and automatically a member of the Veterans Land Board.

Most indictments involve block land sales. In this type, promoters buy a large ranch or farm and divide it. These smaller pieces are sold to veterans on long terms, low interest and small down payment. The state then pays the promoter and the veterans pay the state.

Claims have been made that excessive profits were collected and that high-pressure salesmen talked veterans into signing papers without the veteran knowing what the papers concerned. Some veterans have testified they thought they were applying for a veterans' bonus.

Soviet Rejoins World Health Organization

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The Soviet Union has announced its return to membership in the World Health Organization after an absence of six years.

The Russians announced also a gift of two million rubles — $250,000 at the official exchange rate — to the U. N. children's fund. Soviet delegate Pavel Kumykin disclosed the actions at a meeting here of the U. N. Economic and Social Council.

* * *

The Soviet Union, one of the founder members of WHO, walked out of the organization in 1949 — accompanied by all its satellites — on the grounds that WHO's activities were "inadequate."

Kumykin made his announcement during discussion of the WHO annual report by the Economic and Social Council. He said the report showed that WHO was "doing valuable work," and that the Soviet government for that reason has decided to become a member of the organization."

700 Phones Cut Off

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A thunderstorm, which dropped temperatures 17 degrees—from 89 to 72—Thursday afternoon, also interrupted telephone service for about 700 patrons. Officials said the temperature change threw 25 cables out of order. The Weather Bureau recorded less than a half inch of rain in the storm.

Fire Razes Barns on Dewey Property

PAWLING, N.Y. (AP)—Three barns on former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's farm were destroyed by fire yesterday, along with one calf and possibly as much as 20 tons of hay. The loss was estimated at $30,000 to $50,000.

Dewey's large dairy herd was in the pasture at the time and thus escaped the flames.

Authorities were seeking to determine the cause of the blaze. There was one report that some kind of explosion was heard just before the flames were noted.

Dewey, who now practices law in New York city, was informed by telephone after the blaze broke out.

About 31 per cent of all the farms in the U.S. are classified as non-commercial or part-time operations.

Butcher Pawns Cherished Cash

Chicago Man Explains Certain Currency Has Sentimental Value

CHICAGO (AP) — Why would a man pawn money in a pawn shop? Joseph K. Johnson, 43, a butcher, who has been doing that, essayed an explanation today.

Johnson was in the South State St. court. He was picked up Wednesday by Sgt. John Doyle. Doyle had been looking around for him for more than a year to learn why he pawned sums of cash.

* * *

Doyle, in the hope it would set up another chance to solve the puzzle, placed a technical charge of disorderly conduct against Johnson.

"It's simple," Arthur Ahern, Johnson's attorney, told judge Emment Morrisey. "My client is a collector of certain currencies."

"How's that?" the jurist asked in the manner of one reaching for something he couldn't quite grasp.

* * *

"It's just money I want to keep for sentimental reasons," Johnson said. "There's no law against pawning it.

"And the law requires that the pawn shop hold it for 13 months. In that way I get the same bills back."

* * *

"For instance, there's the first $2 bill I ever won at a race track."

"I see," Judge Morrissey commented, "instead of framing it, you just put it in hock."

"That's it," Johnson agreed, "In that way I can have the use of the money and still have the original bills. I still have several hundred dollars in pawn shops."

There was more conversation, which seemed to shed more humor than light on the situation.

The judge ultimately dismissed the charge, and remarked:

"Somethings in the wind here, and I can't smell it."

Pumpage Hits Peak
