Man Lives 4 Days Lashed to Boat; 2 Missing

By HAL WHITELEY
Editor, Presque Isle County Advance

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

Found lashed to the mast of a floundering sailboat last night, a West Bloomfield Township man was rescued from the waters of Lake Huron after going four full days and nights without food.

Marvin Mallis, 29, 2061 Appoline is in a Rogers City hospital recovering from shock and exposure suffered during his ordeal.

He told Coast Guard officials that two companions on the boat were blown overboard and probably drowned.

The missing men were identified by Presque Isle Deputy Sheriff Sam Treadwell as Dr. Donald W. Aikens, 2050 Appoline, and Richard Gardner, 33, 2081 Daintree, West Bloomfield Township.

The boat was spotted yesterday by wheelsman Nolan May on the freighter Princeton.

Two tugs from Rogers City rushed to the rescue and found Mallis tied to the mast as the ship listed heavily on one side in the choppy lake.

When picked up, Mallis was unable to speak coherently, and to give details of the tragic ending of the Labor Day outing.

RICHARD GARDNER

Dr. Robert Ries of the Rogers City Hospital, said, "It's a miracle that he (Mallis) is still alive. He couldn't have lasted out there another 24 hours."

In the hospital today, Mallis told Dr. Ries that the trio left Cheboygan on the morning of Sep. 1, and were headed up the St. Mary's River when a wind squall arose near Decatur.

Mallis said that when he saw that a storm was brewing he put on a lifejacket and warm clothing. He advised his friends to do likewise, but they didn't.

The boat apparently turned on its side in the squall, but righted itself, according to Mallis. Mallis said that he tied himself and companions to the boat, which was waterlogged.

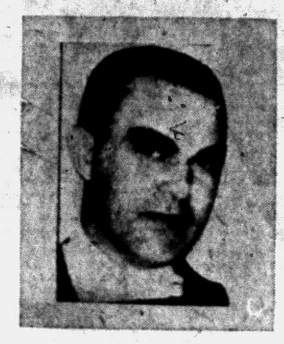

On September 2nd, Monday, Mallis said that Aikens passed out and that when he felt his pulse he was dead.

On their third day of drifting, Mallis said that Gardner apparently went "berserk" but then quieted down.

Mallis said that he blacked out that afternoon, and when he awoke the other two had disappeared.

Deputy Sheriff Treadwell said that Mallis couldn't "remember exactly" what happened.

The steamer, Princeton, upon phoned the Michigan Limestone Division offices in that area. It was from there that the tugs were sent

DONALD AIKEN

Mallis was picked up by the crew of the Dolemite. He was not unconscious, but spoke incoherently and was weak. He was immediately rushed to the Rogers City Hospital.

The Coast Guard at Charlevoix said the three men were believed to have motored from Detroit Aug. 31 to Cheboygan where they launched their boat the following day. The Coast Guard said that the trio had sailed to Mackinac Island from where they mailed post cards to their friends.

Mallis has one child, a three-year-old daughter, and his wife is expecting another within a few weeks. He is a general foreman in a Detroit plant.

All three men were charter members of the Walnut Lake Estates Boat Club. Aikens has four children, ranging from 10 months to 11 years of age. He was an osteopathic surgeon with offices on Walnut Lake road.

Gardner was employed as a photo engraver at the Service Engraving Co. in Detroit. He is commodore of the Walnut Lake Estates Boat Club and active in the Boys' Club there. He has three children, ages 1-5.

Flying Family Believed Dead in Chilly Waters

Six Bodies Hunted as Plane Debris Is Pulled From Superior

MARQUETTE, (AP)—There was little question in the minds of police search parties today that the Hietikko family of six died when their plane crashed in Lake Superior five days ago.

Parts of their small plane, scattered pieces of clothing, and debris have clothing, and debris have waters of the lake near this Upper Peninsula town.

No trace of the bodies has been found.

State Police skin divers and Coast Guard dragging teams pulled up the fuselage of the plane, a radio and part of a landing gear yesterday.

The pieces were identified by painted numbers on them as parts of the plane that carried the family en route home to Lansing from a Labor Day weekend trip to the Upper Peninsula.

Rough weather late yesterday forced the divers and draggers to give up their probe before lifting other pieces of submerged wreckage visable from the air.

Aboard the plane were Raymond Hietikko, 40-year-old owner of a Lansing photographic shop, his wife Corrine, 32, and their four children — Cameron, 9, Mark, 7, Connie, 5, and Scott, 11 months.

Flies to Capital to Study Action in School Case

May Make New Move to Isolate Communists Ruling Syria

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower flew back to the capital today for high-level talks on the Middle East, segregation, and fiscal affairs.

The President discussed the Little Rock, Ark., school integration impasse with Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., but reached no decision on federal government action.

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that no decision could be reached in the situation because it is up to Federal District Judge Roland N. Davies now to rule on the petition of the Little Rock school board for a delay in the order to integrate the city's General High School.

He pointed out that the matter is to come before the judge today. Any action from Washington, Hagerty said, "has to await the decision of the judge."

The President flew to Washington from Newport, R. I., where he has been vacationing, and immediately went into conference with Brownell and White House staff officials.

Others present at the conference, which began at 8 a.m. (EST), were Maj. Gen. Milton B. Persons, White House Liason officer with Capitol Hill, White House Counsel Gerald Morgan and Hagerty.

WHOLE PROBLEM

Hagerty said the 45-minute meeting discussed the whole problem, including what moves the federal government will make after the judge renders his decision. He

Strikes at 8 Victims

Ex-Night Watchman Seized as Chicago's 'Mad Ripper'

CHICAGO (AP)—A lean, tousled ex-night watchman was seized as Chicago's "Mad Ripper" last night, police said, shortly after the stealthy stabber knifed his seventh and eighth victims.

Tall Joseph P. Caraher, 39, was captured after a blocks-long chase by a group of rock-throwing men who drove him into the arms of an offduty policeman.

The chase began when two men said they saw Caraher stab a 12-year-old girl on the Northwest Side. They roused neighbors and raced after the fleeing attacker.

"Why are they picking on me?" Caraher mumbled as Policeman John Keane held him at gunpoint until more law officers arrived. He cursed his captors as "German spies."

Police said Caraher was drunk and talking incoherently. They reported he was carrying a blood-stained pearl handled switchknife when seized.

Homicide Detective Sgt. James Traut said Caraher "is definitely the stabber" who slashed eight persons in Chicago since Monday, six of them yesterday.

Later four of the knife victims identified Caraher as their assailant.

"I never stabbed nobody. I was doing a service," Caraher rambled on at the Racine Avenue police station. Earlier he had told a newsman he went on a stabbing spree "because they're trying to hold me up."

No charges have been filed against Caraher.

Cases Drop Off Sharply

State Passes Polio Peak

LANSING (AP) — Michigan is definitely past the peak of its infantile paralysis season, the State Health Department reported today.

Dr. F. S. Leeder, head of the department's Division of Disease Control, said a sharp drop was noted in the number of cases reported last week.

"We can scratch polio as a threat for this year," Dr. Leeder said.

There were 25 cases reported during the past week, only two of them paralytic. This compared with 47 cases the week previous and 53 two weeks ago.

There were 47 cases during the same week last year and 68 in the week during 1955.

There have been 307 cases reported so far this year compared to 353 during the same period last year and 802 in 1955. There have been only three polio deaths reported so far this year.

Theater Goers Ready for Whirl at New York's Top Attractions

Last minute preparations for start of the Pontiac Press Theater tour to New York today occupied 154 Pontiac area residents who hold reservations for the trip.

The party will start checking in at The Press at 6 a.m. Monday and leave by bus for Willow Run Airport by 7. Those planning to reach The Press by taxi are urged to place their calls early as there may be a last minute rush.

The Pontiac party will fly from Willow Run to Idlewild airport in two chartered United Airline planes, and will partially fill a third, TWA plane.

The schedule of activities for the tour is designed to disprove the adage that anticipation is better than the actual event.

For some the trip will be their first visit to New York. For many it will be the first time they have seen so many Broadway shows on one jaunt. For everyone there is some special item of interest.

It won't take much to convince 74-year-old Mrs. Amanda S. Holthusen, of 1150 Parkway Dr., Waterford Township, that she's going to enjoy the trip. "I know I'm going to have the time of my life," she said.

This will be the first time to New York for Mrs. Holthusen who, to prove that life can begin at 70, is learning to swim this year.

"I'm going because I love to travel," she said. "That boat trip around Manhattan will be thrilling along with everything else."

Doesn't anyone pity our poor judges? We know all contestants want to win the money, but maybe a little compassion for the woes of a Pot-O-Gold judge will spur you on.

After spending two days going over almost 20,000 entries, quite often finding solutions with only two or three errors, and hoping each time that it would be a winner, the judges wearily report that there were no entries which had all answers right or only one wrong.

Won't you take pity on the judges and try just a little harder this week? You have until Tuesday to postmark your entry, and the pot now contains $2,400.

City Hospital Plans Psychopathic Ward if Voters Approve Funds for New Wing

By HAROLD COHEN

Pontiac General Hospital will provide beds for psychopathic patients if the public approves the $950,000 bond issue which will be on the ballot Oct. 28.

Warren W. Simonds, acting hospital director in commenting on stories in The Pontiac Press detailing the total lack of emergency hospital facilities for the insane, said plans call for setting aside 10 beds on three floors for this purpose after the new wing is completed.

The Press in recent articles has pointed up a situation where doctors, police departments and families throughout Oakland County do not have a place to take a person who suddenly shows violent mental symptoms or threatens harm to himself or others.

Simonds said plans call for beds in the present hospital to be available for the insane as soon as the functions now served by the space can be moved to the new wing.

"We have money for the special facilities set aside" he added "but we cannot furnish and use the new wing, we can't even let workmen into the present building to make the necessary alterations."

Simonds stated he did not believe the use of 10 beds, scattered over three floors would lend itself to the best arrangement of the space.

"All authorities say beds for the insane should be kept together to form a psycopathic ward. This permits the employment of special nurses and orderlies to staff the ward which cannot be done under the present plans."

Simonds said he would consult with the hospital's trustees to see if it would be economically feasable to group the alloted 10 beds into a ward.

He said that establishment of

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Does a mild winter always mean bumper crops in the summer and fall ahead?

A mild winter, contrary to what some people believe, is not necessarily the best thing for trees and plants which produce salable products.

Some trees and plants require so many cold nights during the winter. If they do not receive this cooling process, which controls the dormant period, they are likely to produce little or bear too early, or both.

Thus an average winter is better than an extremely cold or an extremely warm one. And there has been little change in our average winter weather over the years—despite the fact that elderly people usually think the weather was colder in their childhood. It was slightly colder but the difference in the average winter at the turn of the century and today is relatively minor.

Killed to Protect Youngsters

Chimp Star Cheeta Shot

SANTA ANA, CALIF. (INS)—The chimpanzee movie and Television star, Cheeta, was shot to death by deputy sheriffs as she charged toward a group of children in a field.

The incident occurred yesterday in nearby Cypress at the climax of an unsuccessful attempt to recapture the 9-year-old animal.

The ape attacked her owner, Ed Rogers, just prior to the shooting and he is now under medical observation. Laboratory tests are being run to determine whether Cheeta had rabies.

The animal became enraged during the afternoon and escaped by tipping over a bottomless, 300-pound cage.

She climbed a tree and leaped to the roof of a house. Rogers called deputies after a futile attempt to lure her down. Three responded to the call.

They finally got her to the ground and were trying to rope her when she attacked Rogers, severely biting and scratching him.

One of the deputies fired a pistol at her, hitting her in a hand.

She then charged into a field and headed for a group of children watching the recapture attempt.

Deputies cut her down with shotguns to keep the children from being attacked.

The chimpanzee star worked in 42 movies, among them the "Tarzan" films, and was "Beaulah" in the "Truth and Consequences" television show.

explained that this included actions conditioned on whether the judge "rules this way or that."

However, Hagerty refused to indicate what action the government may take. He declined to comment on the possibility that a court injunction may be sought to enforce integration in the Little Rock high school, saying "this would anticipate the action of the court and we can not do that."

He said that Brownell told the President of the report which is being prepared by the Justice Department and the FBI, in response to the request of the judge for a factual account of the situation, included a question as to whether Gov. Orval E. Faubus has interferred with the order of the school board to integrate the high school.

Hagerty said that this report will be submitted to the judge early next week, probably Monday or Tuesday.

He declined to discuss the report before it is submitted to the judge, but explained that it will obviously deal with the question of whether there has been interference with the integration order.

In Little Rock the segregationist forces of Gov. Faubus set about to convince an integrationist-minded judge that it would be best for him to let slide for the time being his order that nine Negro students have a right to enter all-white Central High School.

HEARS ATTORNEY

At 10 a.m. (CST), stern little Judge Ronald Norwood Davies, district judge of North Dakota on temporary duty in Little Rock, began hearing Archie House, attorney for the embattled Little Rock school board which finds itself in the middle of the possibly historic battle, blending civil rights with states rights.

The school board is expected to take the position that it would not be inconsistent on Davies' part to give it an indefinite period of time in which to iron out its integration problem, inasmuch as the Supreme Court spoke of "gradual" integration when it handed down its historic decision.

Opposed to this are certain to be spokesmen for the local outlets of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The local NAACP was joined today by Thurgood Marshall, well-known association attorney who has taken a leading role in all recent major cases involving desegregation.

President Eisenhower flew back to Washington amid reports he is ready to speak out in a new move to quarantine the Communist infection in Syria.

Eisenhower's trip comes against this background:

1. Diplomatic officials disclosed consideration is being given to a possible second airlift of American arms to a neighbor of Syria—Iraq this time.

2. The Air Force readied eight big C124 Globemasters to fly U. S. weapons, including 106 millimeter recoilless rifles, to jittery Jordan.

3. An all-out publicity boom apparently was under way in Amman, Jordan's capital, to spotlight the arrival of airlifted arms there Monday.

A muscle - flexing parade of the weapons was expected, with 200 invitations sent out for ceremonies featuring a speech by U. S. Ambassador Lester D. Mallory.

4. Secretary of State Dulles was said to favor a strong presidential warning the United States would consider its own vital interests threatened by any encroachment on Syria's neighbors.

Eisenhower arranged to meet Dulles after conferring first with Atty. Gen. Brownell on the Arkansas school integration crisis, and with Budget Director Brundage on other matters.

Police Hunt for Slayer Who Escaped Without Any Money

DETROIT (INS) — Police were searching today for a thug who fatally beat a 62-year-old grocery store owner for his empty wallet.

Barney Nove of Detroit was found behind a counter of his store suffering from multiple skull fractures. He died in Receiving Hospital without regaining consciousness.

A homemade blackjack, believed to be the murder weapon, was found in an alley behind the store.

Nove's wife Rose, 58, son, Hannan, 23 and daughter, Mrs. Sally Kaplan, 27, could not understand why the attacker would beat him so ferociously.

They said he had adopted a philosophy of doing exactly as told in a holdup and would never resist, especially since he had been roughed up by two robbers only six weeks ago.

Detettives were mystified because only Nove's wallet containing personal papers was missing. No money had been taken from the cash register. Another $250 in large bills was found in Nove's right sock.

They theorized the thug was interrupted in his robbery by the approach of another customer and ran away.

When he returned, he found the window forced and the items removed. He told police he had locked the car before he left it, adding that he had noticed a man in a pickup truck parked nearby. Both were gone when he returned, he said.

Birmingham Hi-Twelve will resume its dinner programs at the Community House Monday.

Bud Reugher of George Washington University, a club-sponsored student, will be the guest speaker.

The purchase of two pickup trucks for the city has been approved.

A one-ton pickup with dump box will be purchased from Stark Hickey Ford Inc., at a cost of $1,570. A half-ton GMC pickup will be bought from the Wilson GMC Co., at a cost of $1,174.94. Both prices are after trade-in allowance.

Fireman Hurt Fighting Blaze

Lt. Pamadge Shelton Falls Through Steps in Pontiac Home

A Pontiac fireman was injured yesterday evening while fighting a blaze in the basement of a two-story frame home at 191 Ferry St.

Lt. Pamadge Shelton, 41, 75 Summit Ave., fell through the burning basement steps. He was taken to Pontiac General Hospital, treated for slight bruises and released.

The fire, belived caused by spontaneous combustion, did $3,500 damage to the home and $2,000 damage to the contents. The occupants are the Stanley Gordon family.

Both loses are covered by insurance, the fire department reports.

A careless smoker set fire to a davenport early this morning and caused $1,000 damages to Parkside Apartments at 101 Mechanic St.

The fire started in Apt. 110, occupied by Harold Davis, the Pontiac Fire Dept. reports. His apartment suffered $200 damages to contents.

Hospital May Provide Psychopathic Ward

such a ward would result in changing the present policy of the hospital which does not now admit psychiatric patients.

The new system would treat patients on the same financial basis as others. The patient or his family would be billed for the services rendered and if unable to pay they would be referred to the Oakland County Social Welfare Dept. which would bear the cost.

Creation of 10-bed ward would have many advantages, Simonds said. It would give the police a place to take psychotic persons, instead of locking them up in jail as is now frequently done.

It would also give the hospital a place to put patents admitted for other reasons who subsequently turn psychotic.

Patients would benefit by earlier treatment, he said, and the stigma of being in an "asylum" would be avoided.

"We could also use the space for patents who have psyco-somatic complaints and need a careful evaluation by our staff," Simonds continued. "And family cooperation would be much better."

Other advantages he outlined were that noisy patients could be separated from others who they disturb, and the staff could have facilties for examining and treating patients as a whole, rather than drawing a line between mental and physical ills.

The plans call for each bed to be in a private room which would be under maximum security precautions to prevent escape or self-injury by the patient.

A trained staff of psychiatrists, psycologists and psychiatric social workers might also conduct an outpatient clinic where mental ills could be treated before they result in psychosis, Simonds concluded.

New Hurricane Roaring West

Carrie Moving From Mid-Atlantic, as Yet Poses No Threat

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)—Squalling westward today from mid-Atlantic was newborn hurricane Carrie, swinging 100-mile-an-hour hay-makers in the air 1,000 miles from land.

The U. S. Weather Bureau located the center of the season's third whole gale last midnight at about 2,600 miles east southeast of Miami, Fla., and 1,750 miles east southeast of San Juan.

It was still more than 1,000 miles east of the lesser Antilles, island outposts of the new world, and forecasters said that "from its present direction and forward speed, there is no immediate threat to insular areas."

Carrie was not close enough to fly a hurricane hunter plane into, and wasn't expected to be before Sunday.

H Ccarrie's westword movement rose slowly from 10 miles an hour, when the hurricane was detected late yesterday, to 12 m.p.h. at midnight and was expected to be making 15 miles an hour during the rest of today.

The Weather Bureau warned shipping in the storm's path to exercise caution.

NORMAL SCHOOL LIFE — This scene was taken Friday just before the bell rang for classes at the Little Rock High School. Students show a relaxed and unconcerned air as they dot the campus and entrance to the school. There was no hint of the integration problem which has plagued the school since last Tuesday. The Arkansas National Guard was ordered out by Gov. Orval Faubus to keep Negro students out of the school. Despite a ruling by Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies that the school be integrated, the troops were successful in turning back the nine Negro students who attempted to enter.

County Road Commission Schedules Open House

A lot of dignitaries have been invited to the Oakland County Road Commission's open house Wednesday. Those who show up are going to be impressed, the commission feels.

"The county now has one of the finest plants of any county road commission in the state," declared Paul Van Roekel, county highway engineer.

This is only fitting, he said, since Oakland's commission is the largest, with the most road mileage under its jurisdiction.

At the top of the invitation list is State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie. His road engineering staff in Lansing and at the Detroit district office also are invited.

OFFICIALS INVITED

The guest list includes members of all the state's county road commissions, Oakland County's Board of Supervisors and its six state representatives and state senator, plus officials from all of the county's cities and villages.

The general public is invited, too, said Van Roekel.

The open house will be from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday at the commission's new $800,000 headquarters, 2420 Pontiac Lake Rd., in the Oakland County service center area.

On view will be the facilities for running the county's 700 miles of primary roads, 1,870 miles of local roads, and 183 miles of state roads.

In addition, 80 to 100 miles of new subdivision streets are being added to the county's road system every year.

Lions Meet Parker on Opposite Sides

Ex-Detroit Pilot Guides Steelers in Sunday Game

Wilson's Crew After 4th Straight Pre-Season Win in Buffalo Stadium

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

BUFFALO, N.Y. — For the first time since August 12th when he broke his ties with the Detroit Lions, coach Buddy Parker will meet his former proteges on the same field — but on opposite sidelines.

This time Parker will be guiding the Pittsburgs Steelers in an attempt to snap the three-game pre-season winning streak of the Lions instead of trying to protect it.

Last week when the Steelers won their first game of the exhibition tour by downing the Eagles, 17-12, Parker was in the press box on the field phones while Walt Kiesling directed the team on the field for the last time.

The Steelers bring a record of one victory and two defeats into the contest while George Wilson, Parker's successor, has an unbeaten string of three victories. The Lions under Wilson have dumped the Cleveland Browns 20-10, conquered the Philadelphia Eagles, 34-27 and downed the Washington Redskins 31-14. Pittsburgh's losses were suffered at the hands of the Chicago Bears, 24-7, and Cleveland, 28-13.

A pair of former University of Detroit stars, quarterback Ted Marchibroda and rookie end Perry Richards turned defeat into victory against the Eagles with a 34-yard scoring pass. Marchibroda will probably carry the quarterback load against the Lions as Len Dawson, the Steelers' No. 1 draft choice, is bothered by a sore thumb. Fullback Fran Rogel, halfback Henry Flood of Pittsburgh and Jack O'Brien at the slot back position round out the Steelers backfield.

Wilson will have fullback John Henry Johnson in his starting backfield along with Tobin Rote at quarterback, Gene Gedman at halfback and Dorne Dibble at the flanking halfback post.

Today was checking out time at Cranbrook School for the Lions. After Sunday's game in Buffalo against the Pittsburgh Steelers the Lions will not return to Cranbrook but set up training camp in Detroit.

Next Saturday night Detroit will meet the Browns in Cleveland and then play the final pre-season game at Briggs Stadium, Sunday Sept. 22nd against the New York Giants.

The game tomorrow will be broadcast by WWJ.

Notre Dame is reportedly having trouble getting on Army's grid schedule again after 1958. West Point officials are said to be not interested.

Farmington will have a chance to halt a winning streak in its season opener. Falcons are hopeful of upsetting Livonia Bentley in the first game to be played at the new FHS field. Bentley has won its last 13 starts.

Red Wing Training Camp Open in Soo on Monday

The Detroit Red Wings will become the first National League team to begin preparations for the hockey season when 72 players report to Sault Sainte Marie on Monday.

The Wings, together with the Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League and a host of amateur prospects, will begin a 17-day training program at the Sault's Pullar Community Building.

This will be the 10th straight season the Wings will hold preseason workouts at the Soo.

Four squads will work 90 minutes on two hour shifts each day. The current roster includes the greatest number of American-born players in history of Red Wing camp. There are seven players, born in the U. S. who have been invited to attend the training camp.

Detroit born Carl Wetzel, goalkeeper at Hamilton last year, heads the list. The other six, all juniors, are products of the Copper Country youth program. They are Tony Bukovitch Jr., son of the one-time Red Wing forward, Ron Katalin, Tony LePage, Roger Maki, Ron Norkel and Charles Rivette.

Maki has been rated one of the Copper Country's best prospects in many years and Rivette has been outstanding in two Olympia appearances in MAHA tourney play.

The top prospects returning include Terry Sawchuk, literally unchallenged for the goalie spot; defensemen Red Kelly, Marcel Pronovost, Al Arbour, Warren Godfrey, Frank Roggeveen and Gordon Strate.

Centers Alex Delvecchio, Norm Ullman and Dutch Reibel are back in addition to Guyle Fielder, Western League scoring champion. Missing are Ted Lindsay, Glenn Hall and John Bucyk through trades and Marty Pavelich through retirement.

Saxton Retired by Joe Miceli

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ex-welterweight champion Johnny Saxton, had his comeback campaign wrecked at the start by unranked Joe Miceli as the finishing touch was applied to his rapid descent from boxing heights last night before a nationwide TV-radio audience.

Jumping Joe, a 28-year-old New Yorker who has been in and out of the ratings for years, clouted the former king of the 147-pounders unmercifully for three rounds at Capitol Arena. Saxton went into the fight a 2-1 favorite.

Dr. Clark Halstead, the ring physician, examined Saxton after the third and declared Johnny unfit to continue. Under District of Columbia rules, the result went into the books as a fourth-round TKO.

Back in his dressing room, dejected and still bleeding profusely from a cut mouth, Saxton told reporters he was thinking of retiring but would leave it up to Manager Frankie Palermo.

"I'll give you the decision right now," Palermo announced. "I'm going to make him retire."

Johnny accepted the verdict.

Pistons Select 'Doc' Forsyth

Dr. Raymond (Doc) Forsyth, 54, veteran trainer once with the University of Detroit, Detroit Lions and the Detroit Tigers, was named today as team physician by the Detroit Pistons, according to general manager Fred DeLano.

DeLano also announced that trainer Stan Kenworthy will continue to serve in the same capacity.

Dr. Forsyth moved into the pro athletic picture under Potsy Clark with the old Brooklyn Dodgers football team in 1937. He was with the Lions in 1943-44 and with the Tigers in 1944-45.

A graduate of Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery in 1927, he took over the U. of D. athletic teams in 1934. He returned to the Titans after WW II and stayed until his resignation recently.

Battle Creek Wins Tournament Opener

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The home team of Battle Creek, an easy victor last night, stood aside and let the rest of the field fight throught first-round games today in the eastern playoff of the American Amateur Baseball Congress tournament.

State College Scene Looks Good

Hopes Bright at Grid Camps

From all parts of the state where the college football camps are in training, the overall outlook for 1957 looks brighter than in many years.

Michigan college grid teams are looking forward to fine seasons and the possibility of a bowl bid or two.

The state's Big Ten representatives, Michigan and Michigan State, are both rated top contenders for the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl berth. U. of D. has more depth with the help of army veterans and transfers. Central Michigan is eyeing the Aluminum Bowl; Hillsdale wants to protect a winning streak of 24 straight games, and Eastern Michigan is depending on an experienced backfield to battle Central in the IIAC.

The Spartans, with a platoon of quarterbacks led by Jim Ninowski, Mike Panitch, Greg Montgomery, Larry Bielat and a few others may do more passing this year.

This may be supported by the fact that coach Duffy Daugherty has appraised the MSU situation at end as the strongest point on the team.

Spartan passers will have six terminal lettermen, Tony Kolodziej, Bob Jewett, Sam Williams, Harold Dukes, Dave Kaiser and Larry Harding plus a couple of bright newsomers, Willie Boykin and Dave Northcross as receivers.

With Minnesota and Iowa given strong support in the Big Ten, the scent of Roses could still come out of the big October 12th clash at Ann Arbor where the Wolverines play host to the Spartans.

Michigan is priming one of the best overall backfields in the league with thoughts of its first trip to Pasadena's Rose parade since January 1951.

Two veteran quarterbacks, Jim Van Pelt and John Spidel will guide the team spearheaded by a backfield of John Herrnstein at fullback, Jim Pace, Bob Ptacek, Mike Shatusky available at halfback posts along with highly touted newcomers Fred Julian, Al Groce and Darrell Harper.

There are some big vacancies with Ron Kramer and Tom Maentz missing at ends, but 13 terminals headed by Gary Prahst give coach Benny Oosterbaan some good material from which to pick.

U. of D. went down to its worst season in history last year after losing seven regulars in the first two games, but coach Wally Fromhart feels that better depth this year will pull the Titans above board once again.

Using the variation of the winged-T as made popular by Davey Nelson, Delaware University coach, the Titans boast the best array of backs in several seasons.

Sophomore Bruce Maher will give veterans Billy Russell, Al Korpak, Tom Hunter, Dan Collins and Bill Dando strong support in the backfield.

Huge linemen are Emerson Dromgold (225), guard, ex-Quantico Marines ace; John Jereck (235), tackle transfer from Indiana; John Dingens (230), tackle; Tony Sterlitz (230), tackle out of service. Grady Alderman (235), soph from Madison Heights and 235 pound center Ernie Fritsch are the top newcomers.

Central Michigan with 15 straight wins, will have three Pontiac boys in the starting backfield with quarterback Herb Kipke. They are Walt Beach, Phil Officer and Ed Revis.

Big game will come against Hillsdale when the Chips match their streak against the Dales' 25 straight, Sept. 28 at Mt. Pleasant.

At Ypsi, Kerry Keating of Waterford and Jerry Wedge, quarterback from Birmingham, head the list of backfield veterans.

The state college scene opens next Saturday in Saginaw when Central Michigan meets Bradley in the annual "Red Feather" game. The following week, Sept. 21, Marquette visits U. of D., and on the 28th the first big grid weekend gets under way.

League Becomes 7th "Big Boy"

Inter-Lakes Newest in Class A

By BILL CORNWELL

A new all-Class A league will be in operation when the 1957 high school football season gets under way on Sept. 20.

The latest addition to the growing ranks of the "big boys" is the Inter-Lakes Conference, which has been equally divided between classes A and B until now.

Changes in the status of Walled Lake, Farmington and Van Dyke have caused the shift to a circuit composed entirely of Class A schools. All three had been 'B' schools for several years.

Waterford, Southfield and Berkley — the Class A half of the six-team circuit — can feel a little more at ease from now on because they will no longer be the "big, bad boys."

A move made by the Michigan High School Athletic Association last May, which ruled that any three-grade high school must add one-third of its enrollment to the total figure for its classification, vaulted Walled Lake, Farmington and Van Dyke into the 'A' category.

The decision by the MHSAA makes the Inter-Lakes the 8th all-Class A conference in Michigan, aside from the Detroit school system.

Other member leagues of this illustrious company are the Saginaw Valley, Eastern Michigan, Border Cities, Grand Rapids, Southwestern Michigan, Six-A and Arrowhead.

Walled Lake's jump into 'A' circles has not dampened the spirit of the Vikings or scared them into a safe corner as far as the coming football season is concerned.

The Vikings, who won the Inter-Lakes crown last year and compiled an unbeaten season in the process, suffered heavily from graduation, but head coach Dave Smith it taking on that optimistic outlook.

"Developments in practice this week have boosted our hopes for a winning team," Smith said. "Guard and end are the biggest problems for us right now," he stated.

Walled Lake, co-favorite with Waterford in the Inter-Lakes race this fall, was scheduled to hold its 1st full scrimmage today.

Waterford, despite the loss of some key personnel through graduation, is expected to field a strong team.

"There will be no stars on our squad this year," said head coach Dave Freeman, "but we may develop into a sound club." The Skippers finished 2nd in the Inter-Lakes campaign last season.

Coach Monte Charles has his work cut out for him at Southfield. The Bluejays had severe graduation losses, and a big rebuilding job is facing Charles in 1957.

Flam Plays Cooper Today

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Herbie Flam, the overlooked Beverly Hills, Calif., shotmaker, and Ashley Cooper, top player in Australia, met today in the semifinal round of the National Tennis Championships.

It also figured to be a preview of the Davis Cup challenge round, although U.S. Cup brass certainly didn't want it that way.

Flam, added to the Cup team as an afterthought when Dick Savitt turned down a bid to play, was just itching to get at Cooper, the top-seeded operator in the tournament.

In yesterday's quarter finals, he eliminated Vic Seixas, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1. While Mal Anderson, a young Aussie who seems to have arrived, cut down Chile's Luis Ayala at 6-1, 6-3, 6-1. Anderson meets Sven Davidson of Sweden in the other semifinal.

The women's division followed form. In today's semifinals, top-seeded Althea Gibson of New York played Mrs. Dorothy Knode of Forest Hills, while Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., went against Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif.

Miss Gibson gained her bracket yesterday with an easy 6-2, 6-2 victory over Mrs. Mary Hawton of Australia while Miss Hard, annoyed at being seeded fifth, trounced fourth-seeded Mrs. Shirley Bloomer of England, 6-0, 6-1.

Sal Impressive in 1st NY Start

WASHINGTON (AP)—The old guy gave it the big try last night, but even Sal Maglie's ancient mound magic wasn't enough to pull out a win for th slump-stricken New York Yankees.

"He did a great job, though, and he's going to help us," said Manager Casey Stengel after Maglie's first starting assignment with the Bombers.

For six innings against the Washington Senators, Maglie toiled much like the Barber of old whose slants helped carry the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers to National League flags.

Then, with the Yanks ahead 3-1, a couple of solid pokes to left by Julio Becquer and Jim Lemon prompted Stengel to go to the bull pen. The move didn't work because the Senators tied it up and went on to tally the winning run in the ninth to take a 4-3 decision.

Basilio Leaves Camp Sunday in Top Shape

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N. Y. (AP)—Carmen Basilio will break camp here Sunday instead of next Thursday.

The welterweight champion who hopes to take Sugar Ray Robinson's middleweight crown Sept. 23, said yesterday he was reaching "peak condition."

Giant Attendance at Rock Bottom

NEW YORK (AP)—Want a simple reason for the New York Giants' planned shift to San Francisco? They've been able to count 20,000 or more cash customers at the Polo Grounds only five times this season—and it was Brooklyn's hated Dodgers who lured 'em in.

The old rivalry paid off again last night with 21,373 paying patrons on hand as the Brooks defeated the Giants 3-0 in the last scheduled night game of the season in the Polo Grounds.

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP) — The Women's World Softball Tournament enters its final two days of play today with only five of the original 19 remaining in contention.

Draper-Linklater Duo Stars at Indianwood

Eight two-man teams moved into the quarter-final round of the Indianwood Golf Club Invitational tournament today after surviving a rugged opening session Friday.

Semifinals and finals are scheduled for tomorrow with the finalists required to play two rounds and a total of 36 holes.

The team of Tom Draper and George Linklater stole the show yesterday by scoring six under par in a 6-5 victory. Also under par was the Ralph Ellstrom-Perry Byard duo.

Henny Young Can Handle Himself

EAST LANSING (AP) — Everyone connected with Michigan state football is amazed at the way little Henny Young, the 5-4, 147-pound fullback from Detroit, can take it and dish it out.

Dr. James Feurig, team physician, came up with a prize comment on Henny yesterday.

"He's the only football player I've ever seen that you have to put a life jacket on when he goes into the whirlpool bath," said Feurig.

Modify Eastern Art to Fit American Homes

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Century-old Japanese crafts are being "Americanized" to fit into U. S. homes.

One of the leaders in this blending project is San Francisco designer Paul Matte, who displayed many of the results in the "Design for Today" exhibition at the World Trade Center.

Matte just returned from a two-month tour of Japan. At the invitation of the Japanese government, he served as a design consultant for artists and craftsmen.

One example of this East and West teamwork, Matte points out, is changing the proportions of a beautifully designed rice bowl into a salad bowl for American use.

For the kitchen there is a cherry-wood cannister set with a saucy red and yellow rooster design. Cutting boards, adorned by the same gay bird, come in a set of three. Bamboo is curved into baskets, fruit bowls and trays or woven with chenille into smart placemats of black and white or brown and orange.

In the earthenware, fine Japanese workmanship fashions native clay into berry sets — individual square berry cups with a larger serving bowl—ashtrays, low wide salad bowls with lots of tossing space, and fluted flower bowls.

For the nursery, the brightly painted wooden Kokeshi dolls have been wired as lamp bases.

Don't use a screwdriver in trying to break the paint seal holding a stuck window in place or you will leave conspicuous marks on both the sash and the frame.

BRIGHTENING ENTRY — More people are discovering that the entryway to the home can be a cheerful and friendly place. Here is an example of an unusual entrance creation. Casual callers need not be taken further into the home. The soft texture and warm colors of western red cedar are ideal to develop a welcome corner. No Nails, Joints in Bookcase

A volume of knowledge isn't necessary to build a bookcase, especially if nails or cabinet joints are not used. All you need are boards and bricks . . . and some books, of course.

Simply lay a finished board across bricks spaced under the ends and center. Add more bricks on top, another board, more bricks a board, and presto! You have a bookcase.

Use good face brick. Glass brick adds a modern, decorative touch. The number you use between the boards will determine the shelf height to accommodate different book sizes.

This brick-and-board case can be as long as you wish, but tends to wobble if built too high. If you keep it long and low, the top board can support tall indoor plants, statuettes and other ornamental objects. Their weight will keep the top board steady.

For more rigidity, drill two or three holes at the end of each board and run dowels or tubular metal from top to bottom. You'll need sturdy boards, three quarters to one inch thick, and 10 to 12 inches wide to hold larger books or magazines.

Select the wood and its finish to match your other furnishings. Modern, clear finishes which accent the natural grain and beauty of the wood are popular with several varieties to provide the durability and luster you want. But whichever you choose — varnish, lacquer or wax — will require extensive sanding before and between coats. A versatile power sander will take the muscle strain out of this job, and also can be fitted with felt pads or bonnets for fianl polishing.

Pre-fabrication has demonstrated its advantages in the shower cabinet industry. Available are units which can be quickly assembled in cramped quarters and will provide a leak-proof installation.

Well Planned Entry Is Indoor Welcome Mat

There are more ways than one to welcome guests into your home, and one of the most effective is to design the home's entrance to give the preliminary greeting.

Far too often this all-important area is treated like an enlarged cloak closet when it should really have been designed as an enlarged welcome mat, for here the tribal rites of friendship are exchanged—the handshakes, the inquiries after health, the relinquishing of one's outdoor vestments into another's care and keeping—and here the first impression of your home is given.

Via a decorative motif for the entryway featuring a simple, warm and den-like setting, your friends are assured of a hearty welcome into your home. Glowing walls of western red cedar paneling, for instance, immediately envelop the guest in an atmosphere of comraderie and warmth, for there is a natural wealth of highlights and coloring in this wood which cannot be duplicated with paints or papers of any sort.

Obviously, size is also a factor to be considered. The entryway must accommodate four to six persons struggling with coats, hats and umbrellas. Lighting is another, for no visitor will be overjoyed at being received into a mysteriously darkened cell.

Windows framing scenes of the outdoors or translucent panels of glass bring the cheer of daylight into the room, and the same red cedar can be used with telling effect for planter boxes set beneath the windows.

What housewife isn't called upon several times a week to receive unexpected callers into her home—the neighbor lady looking for her child, salesmen and charity solicitors. A well designed entryway makes the perfect reception area, and there's no need to take them further into the home. A banquette seat of cedar to match the paneling may be built in along one wall, and provides a place for the salesman to show his wares, the census taker to relax while taking his necessary poll.

A built-in corner table of cedar at one end of the banquette seat and a magazine rack at the other give the final balancing touches to the decor, and to your home's signature.

Unused Openings Turn Into Shelves

Many times in home remodeling, original doors and windows are closed and converted to wall surfaces. Instead, these openings can be put to good use as bookshelves or shadow boxes for displaying hobby collections, books or handicraft items.

The back of the opening should be lined with Masonite Presdwood and the top and bottom with light lumber. Lining the sides with ⅛" "Peg-Board" panels provides a place for pegs to support wood shelves.

All surfaces should be painted with a prime coat and one or two finish coats to match the decor of the room.

New Use for Plastic Tape

Loose handles, that thread or wedge in socket-type joints, can be a problem to tighten with glue or nails. Take up the slack with a couple of twists of ellophane tape. It conforms to the shape of either a threaded or tapered joint.

Fantastic Journey

Want to Rocket to the Moon in Perhaps Twenty Years?

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA)—No man has yet seen the other side of the moon for our natural satellite keeps the same face turned toward the earth.

The only way to see the back of the moon is to go there—and man may do this in the next 10 or 20 years. The distance is only about 220,000 miles.

The first trip to the moon has enormous significance to the nation's defense. The rapid progress of America's guided missile program has already put space flight in the realm of the probable.

Neil McElroy's handling of the missile program will determine just how soon the U.S. masters space flight. And the first country able to get to the moon will also have the tools to make the world free or slave.

The beginning of space flight will come on the day man places the first "artificial moon" in an orbit 200-300 miles high above earth, some time during the 18-month International Geophysical Year which began July 1.

500 MILES UP

A 250-mile altitude was reached by an Army two-stage rocket as long ago as 1949. Recent reports are that this height has been more than doubled.

Such a satellite will fulfill a 25-year dream of Doctor Wernher von Braun and his group of space enthusiasts at the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, Huntsville, Ala.—even though they are not directly engaged in the U.S. satilite program.

Doctor von Braun, now 45, received his degree of doctor of philosophy in physics at age 22. He has been working on rockets and space flight since 1930.

He envisions the next step after the unmanned satellite as a manned "space platform" 1,075 miles up in the vacuum of outer space. It will travel at 18,000 miles an hour to circle the earth every two hours indefinitely.

From such a space platform, launched in the right direction, every corner of the world would be visible at least once every day.

It would therefore provide the ideal "open sky" means of inspection and enforcing world disarmament, and thereby achieving world peace.

PLAN WAY STATION

The next step after the first manned space platform would be a bigger one to use as a base or "way station" to assemble the first interplanetary spaceship.

There are answers now in hand or in sight to all problems a "Model T" spaceship presents. The only delaying factor would be the amount of money and scientific effort the U.S. decided to invest.

An advanced spaceship would blast off years sooner if a way can be found to use atomic fission for propelling power, instead of the chemical energy which rockets use today. The Atomic Energy Commission is already at work on the problem.

McElroy will find that the Soviets to are in the "race to space." They have announced plans to launch their own "artificial moons." And Soviet scientists have indicated that intensive effort is going into space rockets. Animals are used as experimental "space passengers."

What will man discover on the far side of the moon, or on the other planets?

Perhaps nothing — perhaps treasure-houses of materials and knowledge. A big enough find of uranium would supply power to turn our deserts green and to free mankind entirely from hunger, poverty and servile work.

A dividend like this would be rich reward for our rocket research.

There is another reason why missilemen are eyeing the other planets. This is the frightening possibility that Planet Earth will become a "poison planet" — so radioactively "hot" that mankind, no longer able to survive here, will have to turn elsewhere for his home, perhaps to Mars or Venus.

This fatel degree of radioactivity could be brought about by all-out nuclear war. Or it may come short of such war, as a result of nations continuing to test nuclear weapons at the present rate, or increasing it.

In any event, one fact appears plain:

Teamsters on Trial

Asks Repudiation of Hoffa for Contacts With Hoods

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Writer

The question of rehabilitation of personalities who had served time in jail came up as a byproduct issue at the hearings before the McClellan Select Senate Committee on Improper Practices of Management and Labor.

For example, Jimmy Hoffa, of the Teamsters Union, tried to justify a record of association with some hoodlums and criminals on the noble ground that he believed in redemption and in the right of reformed men to earn a livelihood.

PROBLEMS DELICATE

This raises serious and delicate problems in human relations for government, business and the labor unions.

Whether or not it is possible for a leopard to change his spots, it seems a mere matter of common sense and integrity not to put those with a shady past in delicate positions of trust which may represent maximum temptation.

No bank president, for example, would deem it prudent to give the keys to the vault to those with blemished records, though the executive, is actuated by humane considerations, might not exclude ex-criminals from assignments as porters.

Where an executive establishes a pattern of association with riff raff, it tells something about the person himself. Sometimes, there may be a temptation deliberately to select hoodlums for strong arm work.

The revelations before the Select Committee on Racketeering must indeed have been a painful experience for Senator Irving Ives (R-NY), a member of the committee. There is no question of the senator's idealism and personal integrity.

FRIEND OF LABOR

In New York and at Washington, he has consistently been a friend of labor. From the academic side in the Industrial Relations School in New York, Senator Ives was a leader in developing the ideology of "progressive" industrial relations.

It must have been shocking to the Senator to see his good intentions perverted by racketeers.

It was a moving experience when the senator at the hearing asked Hoffa for a pledge of better standards when and if he becomes president of the Teamsters Union.

Hoffa alone is not on trial. The rank and file of the Teamsters are also before the bar of public opinion as they vote for a new national president late this month. If, in face of the disclosures Hoffa is elected, the reputation of organized labor before public opinion will suffer.

1st Cars From Japan Will Arrive Saturday

TOKYO (AP)—The first new Japanese-built passenger cars ever shipped to the United States are due Saturday in San Francisco aboard the liner President Cleveland, Toyota Motors said today.

"But they're not for sale," a Toyota export spokesman said.

The ruggedly-built cars—a Toyopet Crown and a Crown Deluxe—will be used by three company representatives now on a market research program in the Los Angeles area.

Toyota hopes to set up a direct management-sales branch in Los Angeles, a spokesman said.

"Somehow we'll have to bring the price down to about the level of European cars selling on the American market," the spokesman said.

Retail price in Japan for a Crown Deluxe is $3,056 and $2,389 for a Toyopet Crown.

"Of course the overseas price will be lower than in Japan because of tax and agent's commissions," the spokesman said.

Plan New Walled Lake Junior High

WALLED LAKE—The Citizens' Planning Committee, eyeing the need for more educational facilities for this fast-growing area, has released plans for a new junior high school.

It is proposed that the school be constructed on a 30-acre site which fronts Commerce road in Commerce Township. The property is located across from Edgewood Golf Club.

The land was purchased several months ago by the Board of Education serving the Walled Lake Consolidated School District.

The committee, separate from the Save Our Schools (SOS) organization, has studied the need for more school space. Results of the study were utilized to make recommendations and suggestions for a new junior high school.

Committee members have published a brochure containing specifications for the proposed unit. Copies have been presented to the school board for consideration and to an architect for sketches and cost estimates.

It is expected that the school board will be asked to propose a method of financing the new school. Such a proposal would be needed by January, 1958 or shortly thereafter if the proposed school is to be completed by September, 1959, as asked by the committee.
