By WILLIAM L. RYAN
News Analysis
AP Special Correspondent

Premier Khrushchev's latest pronouncements in the interminable dialogue with Red China may mean a Peking-Moscow meeting to explore the painful split in the world Communist front.

This does not mean the rift is closing but rather that Khrushchev is anxious to remove the war of words from public view and take it backstage.

In his attempt to accomplish this, Khrushchev has applied the soft answer to turn away Red Chinese wrath.

Only hours after Peking had lashed him violently, demanding an apology for his attitude in the quarrel over how world communism should be advanced, Khrushchev replied with notable mildness.

He reminded the Red Chinese—and those who side with Peking—that only Moscow is strong enough to go to their aid should they be in danger.

He said he would be willing to go to the aid of any Communist country attacked by "the imperialists."

But he thoughtfully singled out by name Cuba, Red China, North Viet Nam, North Korea and East Germany.

PEKING SUPPORTERS

The Communist parties of North Viet Nam and North Korea side with Peking in the quarrel. They support the Red Chinese contention that Khrushchev fears paper tigers and thus sacrifices opportunities for communism to advance swiftly, particularly in the backward areas of Latin America, Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

East Germany's Communist leadership has been nagging Khrushchev on the issue of West Berlin, which he virtually promised four years ago to deliver to them. And Cuba, of course, was included in this blanket pledge of Soviet protection for a specific purpose.

Patiently, Khrushchev repeated in his speech to a Kremlin election rally Wednesday that he did what he did to "arrest the oncoming avalanche of thermonuclear war."

He said he had definitely not "left heroic Cuba at the mercy of the big sharks of American imperialism." He assured Cuba of Soviet support in any "hour of need."

Explodes Over Guard House, Smashes Into Nearby Highway

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—A KC135 jet tanker off from Eielson Air Force Base exploded over a guard house at an entrance to the field last night, killing nine persons.

All seven aboard the plane were killed. The other two died when the explosion flattened the guard house and a nearby waiting room.

A witness said that as the plane passed over the guard house, flames appeared and then it exploded.

The four-engined plane veered to the left and crashed about a quarter of a mile from the gate. It smashed into the Alaska Highway, which runs by the base to Fairbanks, 26 miles to the north.

Officials said they did not believe any traffic was passing at the time.

On board the KC135, used to refuel Strategic Air Command bombers in flight, were the pilot, a copilot, a navigator and four technicians, the tanker was on a refueling mission.

★ ★ ★

The gate where the guard house and waiting room stood is about 200 yards from the end of the runway used by the plane.

The brick guard house, where one air policeman was reported stationed, and the frame waiting room were demolished.

The Air Force said the body of a guard was found, but whether the other body was that of a civilian or serviceman was not known.

Wreckage was scattered for a quarter of a mile beyond the point of impact, and large puddles of fuel burned through the night. The wreckage and fire blocked traffic about two hours. A temporary road was bulldozed around the crash site.

Beef Up Negro Rights—JFK

SECRET WEAPON?—Is the city really going into the rocket launching business? What is this that looms before our eyes? These are questions that passed through the minds of many persons hurrying along Montcalm Street this week. What looks like a giant rocket against the bleak dawn of a winter morning, is really just part of an elevated water tank going up near Pontiac Motor Division. It will be used when Pontiac gets its new water supply from Detroit in early summer.

Kennedy Offers Specific Plan for First Time

Appeal to Congress Calls for Work in Voting, School Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appealed to a divided Congress today to reinforce the Negro's right to vote and to attend desegregated schools in a nation where he said "the cruel disease of discrimination" still exists nearly everywhere.

For the first time, in a special message, Kennedy outlined a specific civil rights program to Congress.

In addition to legislation directed at the ballot and the school house, he asked for an extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission, with expanded duties.

"The program outlined in this message," Kennedy said, "should not provide the occasion for sectional bitterness."

Yet White House officials told reporters they recognize the built-in possibilities of a filibuster by Southerners in a Senate which has just rejected a bid to clamp down on filibustering. They said, though, that the program was tailored in realistic style, that it ought to be passed, and there is a good chance it will.

In the century since Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, the President's message said, slavery has vanished but progress for the Negro has been blocked and delayed too often.

Bosch, Johnson Get Together

Reds Held for Ruining Dominican Inaugural

SANTO DOMINGO, D.R. (UPI)—Dominican authorities today held at least 10 pro-Communist demonstrators who broke up the inauguration parade of President Juan Bosch with shouts of anti-American slogans and battles with police.

Bosch launched his term as the Dominican Republic's first constitutional president in 34 years by naming a cabinet composed largely of members of his own party.

★ ★ ★

The lone independent in the cabinet is Andres Freites, currently ambassador to Washington, who will serve as foreign minister. He is considered friendly to the United States.

Police swinging rifle butts charged into about 100 youths chanting anti-American slogans near the parade reviewing stand. At least 10 demonstrators were arrested and several were led away with bloody faces.

Johnson and Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt were hustled from the reviewing stand by security guards to the safety of a nearby building. Bosch reportedly remained on the stand until order was restored.

Chicago Alderman Was Negro Leader

From Our News Wires

★ ★ ★

Lewis, 53-year-old Negro leader of the Democratic forces in the tough West Side 24th Ward, was killed just two days after he won overwhelming re-election to a second term in the city council.

Police and politicians said the slaying might have been the work of a bandit. Merlin Nygren, chief of the uniformed police, said there was evidence that a rear door had been forced and a lock had been pulled out.

At police headquarters and in city hall, there were also fears that Lewis was the victim of a "political execution" in the tradition of bloody Chicago election battles which date back to the days of the notorious "Bloody 20th" Ward and the machine gun squads of gangster Al Capone.

Lewis, whose vote was reported unofficially as 12,189 to Alford's 888, was formerly a city building inspector.

He was the first Negro to serve as alderman of the 24th Ward which is estimated to have a population 80 per cent Negro.

Eugene Belton, the first policeman to enter the office and a high school classmate of Lewis, identified the body.

Belton said Lewis' hands were handcuffed in front of him, and a burned-out cigarette was between the fingers of one hand.

4 Ships Head for Island

Few Red Troops Depart Cuba

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — One Soviet ship carrying a small number of troops has left Cuba under the new Soviet promise to pull several thousand out of Cuba by March 15.

Reporting this today, officials said four other ships are known to be on the way to Cuba. The ships have a potential capacity to haul away eight or nine thousand Soviet soldiers.

Presumably, the one ship known to have sailed is the luxury liner Baltika, reported Feb. 21 to have set out with a then undetermined number aboard.

Commenting on a New York Times news service report that the Russians had notified the United States that a force would be left on the island, Asst. Secretary of State Robert Manning said:

"We have received no such notification. Nor have we drawn any such inference from any communication or conversation with them."

The Times story said the notice from Moscow was interpreted in Washington as meaning a pull-out of up to 7,000 men, leaving about 10,000.

The Senate Preparedness subcommittee today summoned the intelligence chiefs of the Army and Navy to tell their stories of the Cuban missile crisis.

Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., listed naval intelligence chief Rear Adm. V. L. Lawrence and Maj. Gen. Alva R. Fitch, Army intelligence chief, as today's witnessess.

The committee yesterday heard air force intelligence chief Maj. Gen. Robert A. Brietweiser report that there was complete cooperation between the air force and the central intelligence agency in the air reconnaissance of Cuba last fall.

Stennis relayed parts of Brietweiser's testimony after the closed hearing.

The chairman said Brietweiser did not indicate there was any gap in reconnaissance when the job was transferred from CIA to the Air Force just before of-

Missile-Testing Blast Hurts 12

'Was Like Howitzer Shell Dropped'

★ ★ ★

That was how a witness described the aftermath of an explosion and fire which shattered a missile test area at General Dynamics, Pomona plant last night. Twelve persons were injured, five seriously.

★ ★ ★

"It blew the hell out of the test area," the witness said.

C. D. Cornell, assistant to the president, said the blast occurred while scientists were shock-testing a missile.

Cornell said the type of missile and nature of the tests were classified and could not be disclosed.

The plant does research, development and production of tactical guided missiles, among them the Terrier, Tartar, Redeye missiles.

Cornell said most of the damage was from the explosion. The fire was quickly extinguished by the plant fire department, he said. An investigation will be made to determine the cause of the blast, Cornell said.

Mercury to Slip in Snowy City

The weatherman dished up a variety for Michigan today, including heavy snow in the south and 22 below zero in Pellston.

The Pontiac area came up with two inches of snow and moderate temperatures.

But the weatherman said he would give us a cooling off tonight with the low sliding down to 5 above zero and the high tomorrow near 23.

Cloudy, not so cold and a chance of more snow is the outlook for Saturday.

Seventeen was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 31 at 2 p.m.

Junior's a Phone-y

WASHINGTON (AP)—The parents of George Basle were puzzled but proud that somehow he had learned to dial the Weather Bureau for the latest forecasts.

"We thought it was real cute and smart," said his mother, Mrs. George A. Basle. "It was a Sunday he first did it. George was praying so bad for it to snow so he could play in it, and he went over to the phone and dialed the weather all by himself. He thought he was real big.

"My husband was proud, very proud. He was walking around with his chest out. Only 6, and already he can dial the weather. We were amazed he could get it so rapidly all the time, even when the weather was bad."

That first Sunday, George called the weather nine times. By Feb. 10 he had called the weather 42 times. Then the Basles received their telephone bill. Surprise, it came to $33 for toll calls.

Why?

George's calls all had been to the Weather Bureau in New York City.

Instead of dialing 936-1212 for the recorded Washington weather forecast he had, in each of the 42 calls, prefaced the number with 212, the New York City area code for distance dialing.

But everything turned out good for poppa and George. The telephone company canceled the charges after he explained what had happened.

Probe 'Irregularities' in AF Plane Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said today he will expect the secretaries of defense and Air Force to explain what he termed "unusual" steps in the award of the TFX warplane contract.

The contract itself amounts only to $28 million, but the Defense Department estimates the cost ultimately will rise to $6.5 billion — not all of it going to General Dynamics. It calls for final design, development and production of 1,700 revolutionary type fighter-bomber planes for the Air Force and Navy.

The Senate's Investigations subcommittee, of which McClellan is chairman, is investigating whether favoritism was involved in the awarding of the contract. The hearings are closed, but censored transcripts of the proceedings are being made public.

Documents placed in evidence before the subcommittee yesterday traced four instances in which military evaluation boards had held that Boeing had submitted a better and cheaper design. But the boards were overruled by civilian authority "at the secretary level" in the Pentagon.

Roebrt E. Dunne, a subcommittee staff lawyer, and Air Force Col. Charles A. Gayle testified that after the third reversal of the evaluation groups, the Pentagon gave $2.5 million apiece to Boeing and General Dynamics to finance a reworking of their rival designs, and also authorized previously forbidden guidance to both bidders.

Out to Make Retirement Sole Issue

FLINT (AP)—The executive board of AC Sparkplug Local 651 of the United Auto Workers Union unanimously endorsed yesterday a proposal to make early retirement benefits the sole economic bargaining goal in 1964 contract talks with General Motors Corp.

Local 651, which has 9,250 members, is teaming with the 20,000-member Chevrolet Local 659, in backing the proposal. The two locals combined make up approximately half of the UAW membership in GM's Flint plants.

The locals propose that retirement be based on years of employment rather than age. They suggest that present contract provisions on wages and fringe benefits be retained and that bargaining on economic demands be limited to the retirement proposal. This would not limit, however, bargaining on noneconomic demands, such as working conditions.

The usual retirement age for UAW members now is 65. The basic rate is $2.80 a month for each year of service.

The locals propose that a worker with 25 years of service could retire at 50 per cent of his base pay on a 40-hour week, and a worker with 30 or more years of service could retire at two-thirds of his base pay. The employed would pay this benefit until the retiree reaches the age where he is eligible to draw Social Security benefits.

Cold Air Mass Spreads Into the Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another mass of Arctic air, fanned by northerly winds, spread into the northern midwest today.

But temperatures appeared moderating in much of the eastern third of the nation after Wednesday's severe cold from Maine to northern Florida. Readings were 15 to 25 degrees higher from the lower Mississippi Valley northeastward through Tennessee and the Ohio Valley into the middle and northern Atlantic region.

It was still chilly in the southeast but temperatures were much higher than 24 hours earlier in most areas. The cold air dipped southward into northern Florida. Readings were mostly in the 30 or upper 20s, including 28 in Tallahassee, Fla.

As the fresh batch of frigid cold moved across the Canadian border into the northern Midwest, the mercury dropped below zero in many areas. It was -15 in Pellston, Mich., -9 in Marquette, Mich., -8 in International Falls, Minn., and -7 in Eau Claire, Wis.

New Congress District

County Split Probable

By JIM DYGERT

Splitting Oakland County into two Congressional districts appeared almost a certainty today following introduction in the legislature yesterday of four congressional redistricting bills.

All plans would put a part of the county into the new 19th district Michigan received as a result of the 1960 census.

The plan most likely to be passed by the Republican-controlled legislature and approved by Gov. George Romney would put all the county west of a north-south line coinciding with Inkster Road (60 per cent of county area), plus the City of Pontiac, in the new district.

★ ★ ★

Bills introduced yesterday in the Senate by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, and in the House Tuesday by Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Township, contain this plan.

The plan is considered to have approval of most Republican lawmakers.

It also would include all of Livingston and Lapeer counties in the new district, giving it a population of about 336,000.

Republicans would have an edge in the district, which probably would raise the GOP's margin in the state's congressional delegation from 11-7 to 12-7.

Two bills introduced by Rep. Joseph Gillis, D-Detroit, would include the western portion of Oakland County with a part of Wayne County.

Another bill, introduced by Rep. Donald Wismer, R-Port Huron, would put Ferndale, Hazel Park and Madison Heights with southern Macomb County in a new district, and merge northern Macomb County with the Thumb area.

The bills were referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee, of which Roberts is chairman, and the House Apportionment Committee, headed by Hogan.

All of Oakland County now comprises the 18th District, with a population of 690,603.

Under Roberts' and Hogan's plan, the eastern 40 per cent of the county (minus Pontiac) would remain the 18th with a population of about 434,000.

★ ★ ★

The average population for a district is 411,000. Roberts and Hogan said attempts would be made to keep districts within 15 or 20 per cent of this figure.

The Upper Peninsula is expected to lose one of its two congressional seats in the redistricting.

Lawmakers last year were unable to agree on a plan that former Gov. John B. Swainson would approve, and Democrat Neil Staebler filled the post in a statewide at-large election.

'Bible Read in School as Moral Need'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An attorney for a Pennsylvania school district sought today to convince several skeptical Supreme Court justices that Bible reading in Pennsylvania schools is for a "moral" not a "religious" purpose.

Attorney Philip H. Ward III, representing Abington, Pa., Township School District, appeared before the high court in the second day of argument regarding the touchy question of religion in public schools. The justices yesterday heard a Baltimore case which dealt mainly with use of the Lord's prayer at daily opening exercises.

Ward defended a state law requiring at least 10 verses of the Bible to be read without comment at the start of each school day. The law is being challenged by a Unitarian couple, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Schempp, who have two children in Abington High School.

Ward ran into a barrage of questions from the bench when he tried to explain "morality cut adrift from theology."

Report Russ Leave Cuba

fensive missiles were found on the island.

On another matter, several senators hung a "home consumption" tag on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's threat to annihilate any nation which attacks Cuba or any other Communist country.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said Khrushchev was engaging in "more braggadocio for home consumption."

He noted the Soviet leader spoke at an election rally, "although I don't know what an election rally really means in Moscow."

Sparkman said that in the past Khrushchev defended his backdown in the missile showdown over Cuba by citing U.S. missile might. "These new statements seem in sharp contrast," Sparkman said, "but I still don't believe he wants a nuclear war."

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., agreed in a separate interview it is unlikely the Soviet premier would risk a nuclear war over Cuba.

"This bluster is evidence of this rather than proof of the opposite," Allot said. "We have to keep at the job of rooting out all Red troops from Cuba and eventually destroying Castro."

President Appeals for Civil Legislation

treatment and opportunity. And the harmful, wasteful and wrongful results of racial discrimination and segregation still appear in virtually every aspect of national life, in virtually every part of the nation."

Kennedy credited his administration with a sparkling two-year record on civil rights. But he said a broad national effort still is needed, an effort embracing state and local governments, private citizens and organizations and the congressional machinery.

His requests for legislation are expected to be submitted within 10 days or so as three separate bills.

They fall into these classifications.

1. Education: The main request here was that Congress authorize a program to provide federal know-how and money to push desegregation in public schools in communities which need and seek financial help.

2. Civil Rights Commission: First set up in 1957, the commission goes out of business next November unless Congress acts. Kennedy asked that its life be extended at least four years. And he asked that Congress authorize it to expand into a national clearing house to provide information, advice and technical help to any public or private agency which wants it.

3. Voting rights: Kennedy mentioned this first and gave it more attention than any other of his bids for legislation.

"The right to vote in a free American election," the President said, "is the most powerful and precious right in the world—and it must not be denied on the grounds of race or color."

He recommended, therefore, that priority treatment be granted voting suits in federal courts. He proposed that while the suits are pending, federal referees be empowered to pass upon qualifications of would-be voters.

Under present law, referees can be appointed only after a court finds that discrimination exists.

These two requests—administration officials said each offers an entirely new idea—would apply to both federal and state elections.

Pair to Argue Constitution

County Debate Set at Cranbrook March 8

Gov. George Romney's legal adviser and a Detroit attorney who opposes the proposed new state constitution will meet next week in an Oakland County debate on the document.

Richard C. Van Dusen of Birmingham, the governor's legal adviser, will present the "yes" side on the proposed constitution. Melvin E. Nerd of Detroit will explain why he thinks it should be defeated.

The debate, sponsored by the newly formed Lawyers Committee for the New Constitution (LCNC), is scheduled for 3 p.m. March 8 in the Assembly Hall at Cranbrook Institute in Bloomfield Hills.

Both Van Dusen and Nord were constitutional convention delegates, Van Dusen as a Republican and Nord a Democrat. Romney advocates voter approval of the proposed document in the April 1 election.

Maurice A. Merritt of Birmingham is chairman of LCNC which was organized following a poll of county attorneys on the proposed constitution by the county bar association.

Attorneys voted 140 to 32 in favor of the document.

Dog Owners Given Final Tag Reminder

It's a good bet there will be lots of illegal dogs around Pontiac before the week's out.

City Clerk Olga Barkeley today issued a final reminder to Pontiac dog owners that tomorrow is the last day to obtain 1963 dog licenses for the $2 fee.

So far, around 1,700 licenses have been purchased at the city clerk's office. The number sold last year was 3,460.

The deadline in previous years has been May 15. A new city ordinance approved by voters at last April's election, changed the deadline to March 1.

It also made rabies vaccinations mandatory before dogs can be licensed.

After tomorrow the cost of a dog license will be $3. Harboring an unlicensed dog is much more costly.

Any dogowner harboring an unlicensed dog six months old or older, could get a maximum fine of $100, or 90 days in jail, or both.

Mayor, Ad Man to Head Community House Drive

BIRMINGHAM — Mayor Florence H. Willett and Area Ad Man William B. Bachman Jr., today were appointed cochairmen of the 1963 Community House Fund Drive.

Goal for the drive, which will be held during March, is $53,000.

Community House President Robert Thom called the appointments "evidence of the intense interest our community leaders have in this activities center."

MRS. WILLETT

He noted that the building's facilities were used by more than 150,000 persons last year.

This is the basis of the 1963 goal, he said.

Financing for future development not included in the goal will be arranged when "it is definitely decided such an addition would be of benefit to the community, and when we have a better idea of what costs might be involved," Thom added.

Mayor Willett has served on the city commission for eight years and as mayor for three. She recently announced her decision not to run for re-election.

BACHMAN

A special variety show for children, featuring a magician, six Australian cockatoo birds and a musician-impersonator, will be staged at the Community House Saturday.

Admission to the two-hour show, which starts at 1:30 p.m., is $1 per person.

Telstar Fails to Respond to Earth Orders

NEW YORK (AP)—The Telstar failed to respond to commands from the earth for the past week, the Bell Telephone Laboratories announced today.

The satellite, sent into space last July, had stopped functioning previously in November but was restored to operation Jan. 3.

Bell said the present malfunction resembles the earlier trouble.

It reported that in both instances the satellite had been moving into increasing areas of radiation exposure—pinpointed as the cause of the earlier difficulty.

Included in the act are veteran television and nightclub magician Karrell Fox, Bob Hammond and his trained dancing birds and Neal Hale, an impersonator and comedian.

Wisconsin Collects Statistics

Value of Seat Belts Hard to Assess

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Wisconsin is proud of its law requiring all new cars to be equipped with seat belts, but no one is sure the law has saved many lives.

"When someone doesn't die, it is difficult to say he would have died without the seat belt. The hand of God fits in there.

"We hope to indicate that a large number of people are being saved by using the belts," he said.

"The news media and wire services have been a big help by publicizing every accident where a belt is credited with an escape."

A change was recently made on the uniform accident report filled out by all officers investigating accidents to determine whether seat belts were present and whether they were being used.

"But we don't have a large enough figure to be significantly important," Willoughby said.

"Several incidents have come to the motor vehicle department's attention of accidents where seat belts have enabled a person to escape serious injury."

In one such case, Robert Smith of Sheboygan was involved in a nine-vehicle pile-up with his compact car struck by four trucks.

Smith, who was wearing his seat belt, jumped out of his car and walked a safe distance from the scene as other cars began piling into the wreckage.

Officers searching for a missing corpse, believing no one could have survived the accident, were amazed when Smith came back, suffering only bruises, said Willoughby.

One survey by the state highway patrol did indicate that 45 per cent of the motorists who did have belts were using them, indicating a need for a greater education program.

The department has produced a poster featuring a photograph of astronaut Donald "Deke" Slayton of Sparta, Wis., wearing an auto seat belt to promote use of the belts.

According to Willoughby, the greatest apparent value is that the belts are available if a motorist wants to use them.

"Having the belt in an auto by law so it is available for use eliminates the primary half of the decision," he said.

"If there were no belts in the car and a person wanted to use them, he would have to get the belts, install them and then make the decision to use them."

* * *

Willoughby added that as a result of the law and puublicity given to seat belts, a number of persons with the pre-1962 model autos were having belts installed.

Restrictive Milk-Pricing Bill Filed in Lansing

Would Prohibit Sales at Loss

Calls for Creation of Unfair Trade Act

LANSING (AP)— A new version of the milk-pricing bill, killed by a governor's veto in 1961, rode into the House atop a landslide of last-minute legislation yesterday.

The bill, proposed by Rep. Andrew Cobb, R-Elsie, would create an "unfair trade practices act" for the dairy industry and place restrictions on a broad range of business activities.

Its key point is a ban on retail sales of selected dairy products at less than "cost to the retailer," which is defined as the invoice cost plus business expenses.

The proposal is designed to prohibit super markets and other large-volume retail dispensers of dairy products from underselling smaller retailers.

Former Gov. John Swainson vetoed a similar bill in 1961 on grounds that it would not, as its backers contended, protect the smaller retailers and bring reduced prices to consumers.

The controversial 1961 bill would have forced retailers to sell at invoice cost plus eight per cent, or an eight per cent markup, unless they could prove their cost of doing business were less than eight per cent.

The present bill differs, in that a retailer's prices of milk and other products would be determined and set by the state agriculture director on the basis of average costs of a "representative group of the same type of seller" in the same area.

Other provisions of the lengthy bill would bar the use of so-called "loss leaders," or low-priced products on display to lure customers, cooperative advertising, "double" trading stamps and premiums, and supplying of signs and fixtures to retailers by dairy suppliers.

Cobb is chairman of the House Agriculture Committee.

Sponsored by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, the event will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Single and side-car racing by members of the Larks Motorcycle club as well as a spectacular aerial exhibition by the All American Sport Parachute Team of Romeo will highlight the activities.

Proceeds of the event will be used by the Jaycees to finance youth activities sponsored by the club throughout the year.

This event was inadvertently reported earlier as scheduled to take place on Saturday.

CLARKSTON — The Village Friends of Art will sponsor a 10-week ceramics course for children beginning Saturday.

The group also will offer a course in basic drawing for adults starting Monday for the same period.

Children will attend classes each Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m. in the old Methodist Church on Buffalo Street. Instructors will be Eleanore Steiner and Ingvar Davison.

Adult classes will meet each Monday from 7 to 10 p.m. at 150 Clintonville Road, Independence Township. Kate McLean will teach this course.

177 Highway Victims

EAST LANSING (UPI) — State police provisional reports today showed 177 persons have died on Michigan highways this year through yesterday. The death toll at the same time last year was 163.

Tomorrow in Farmington

To Start On Municipal Building

FARMINGTON — Construction is slated to start tomorrow on this city's new $125,000 municipal building, City Manager John Dinan said today.

A Public Safety Department building on the site was torn down earlier this week to make way for the new city offices.

The 6,000 square-foot building will house the municipal offices, municipal court, council chambers, offices of assessor and building inspector, and the safety department.

The federal government will pay half the cost of the project under its accelerated public works program.

Gordon B. Hall and Sons is contractor on the project, which is scheduled for completion by September.

Dinan also announced the partial settlement of fees for the use of the city's sewage system by Pyle's Industries and Arlan's Department Store.

RECEIVES SETTLEMENT

He said the city received a settlement from Pyle's for $1,414 covering their use of the facility.

Negotiations are still being conducted with Arlan's home office in New York for the balance of $3,826.

Unknown to city officials, the two companies had been using Farmington sewage facilities for five years.

A drive to inform township voters on the need for a $50,000 recreation program to be used by both the city and the township will be undertaken by the City Council, Dinan said.

Township voters will be asked to approve a one-half mill tax increase for the program in the April 1 election.

The city council previously approved use of $25,000 out of general funds for the city's share of the program.

The money would be used to initiate a program, and to make capital improvements and maintenance.

Troy Commissioners OK Industrial Plans

TROY — Preliminary plans for a new 38-acre industrial subdivision here — a project which when realized could bring in considerable tax dollars to the city — have been approved by the City Commission.

The project is being platted by the Birmingham Industrial Corp., headed by George R. Squibb and Samuel A. Walker.

Although actual development of the site is pending approval of final plans by the commission, preliminary plans call for 33 sites of one acre each for industrial use.

Five acres would be needed for parking facilities and roads.

The location of the proposed industrial park is bounded by the Berz Airport on the east and Crooks Road on the west. It would be enclosed on the south by Mckinley St.

JUNE DEADLINE

Developers have expressed a desire to have the land ready for industry by June. A request for final approval of the plans is expected soon.

Named the Birmingham Airport Subdivision, the site has an estimated value of $545,000.

Sewage from the area will eventually be handled by the Dequindre Interceptor, but early development may require purchase of additional sewer capacity in the Twelve-Town system.

Developers have cited the property's proximity to the airport as a particular advantage.

Industries will have opportunity to park planes at their own shops and still have the airport maintenance services at their disposal.

AREA NEWS

Public to Aid Hospital Fund

MILFORD — "You couldn't make a better investment to save your life."

With these words, residents in the 10-township area surrounding Milford will be asked to contribute to the Huron Valley Community Hospital building fund.

A goal of $1 million in public subscription has been set for the drive, which gets under way Saturday with a morning kick-off meeting at campaign offices, 447 N. Main St.

Some 60 Milford area volunteers are expected to participate in the drive.

Bruce Hutchins, Milford area chairman of the campaign, estimated that the hospital will cost close to $2 million.

He said he expected government loans and loans from hospital building funds to make up the balance.

Progress reports on the drive will be given every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., Hutchins said.

Area 'Decal Project' to Aid Fire Fighters

"Better to be safe than sorry."

This old cliche may well apply to a current project undertaken by the North East Oakland County Firefighters Association.

The organization is distributing decals to be posted on homes of cripples or invalids to guide firemen in rescue efforts in case of emergency.

The decals, which are painted red and white with a large "I" in the center, are placed at strategic locations on the house.

The larger ones are affixed to the front and back doors to alert firemen that a home-bound person lives inside.

The association has purchased 200 sets of the decals at a cost of about $140. The money was taken out of the organization's general fund.

Each of the nine-member departments has the stickers for use upon request in any of the villages or townships which they serve.

Any member of the association can be contacted to obtain the decals at no charge, according to Edward E. Emeigh of the Gingellville department, association president.

He said that the decals would serve as invaluable aids in locating occupants of homes who are unable to move quickly in case of an emergency.

Sue to Stop Construction of Sanitary Sewer Line

SOUTHFIELD — A city couple and a group of citizens who formed the Southfield Taxpayers League have filed suit in Oakland County Circuit Court to prevent construction of a $1.7-million sanitary sewer trunkline along the Rouge River.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Evans, 22005 Rougemont St., and the League seek an injunction against the city, the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and the county DPW.

They claim the sanitary sewer is unnecessary because they and others "have invested large sums of money for proper sewage disposal systems." The area's sewage is presently handled by individual septic tanks.

The county DPW, currently purchasing easements along the sewer's planned path, is handling the project under an agreement with the city.

The suit charges the sewer would not benefit homeowners in proportion to its costs, would require an illegal tax to pay for it, and is being built under a state law permitting the sale of county bonds that is unconstitutional.

The suit further alleges that the city's agreements with the county for construction of the sewer violate the city charter.

The city plans to pay for the sewer with $5 quarterly charges on water bills for 15 years, costing each user $300 total, or $20 a year. These charges would redeem the county bonds sold under a 1957 state law to pay for construction.

The sewer would serve some 3,500 Southfield homes between Lahser and Inkster roads, according to City Clerk Patrick G. Flannery.

It would tie into the Evergreen Interceptor at Eight Mile and would enable Bingham Farms and Franklin to obtain sewer service by connecting to the north end.

Prayer Day Is Tomorrow in Clarkston

CLARKSTON — The annual World Day of Prayer Service, prepared this year by the Christian Women of Korea, is slated for 1:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Calvary Lutheran Church.

Serving as cochairmen of the program are Mrs. Chris Neilson, Mrs. Stephen Cole, Mrs. Eugene McCurdy and Mrs. Russell Coltson.

Mrs. Donald Johnson will be pianist at the service, with Mrs. James Howenstine as soloist. A nursery will be provided.

St. Mary's Sets 2 Fairs This Year

ORION TOWNSHIP — The fair committee of St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Church will stage two fairs this year instead of one to avoid the risk of being rained out.

The committee decided to postpone the ham dinner usually served in connection with the fair to a later date, making room to move the summer fair under cover in case of rain.

Set for July 20, the Outdoor Country Fair will again feature games, kiddieland, a white elephant sale and home baked goods sale.

On Oct. 19 a Fall Harvest Festival will feature the annual ham dinner, with Christmas gifts and ornaments being offered to holiday shoppers.

Rochester Lions Plan Filmed Tour of France

ROCHESTER — A guided tour of France on film will be offered by the Rochester Lions Club at St. John Lutheran Church Saturday at 8 p.m.

The production summary of Colby's herd showed 53 cows with 53 records averaging 11,515 pounds of milk, 588 pounds of fat, and with an average classification for 53 cows of 84.6 per cent.

To win a Gold Star Guernsey Breeder Award, a herd must also meet rigid health requirements and an applicant for the award must be an active member of both a state Guernsey association and the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

Junior Editors Quiz on COWBOYS

QUESTION: Is the cowboy's life still romantic and exciting?

ANSWER: The cowboy's life was, and is, less romantic and glamorous than people imagine. Cowhands—as they prefer to be called—are hard working men. Cattle ranches are far from towns and are usually very large.

The cowhands spend long hours inspecting and repairing barbed wire fences—hardly romantic work. There was much routine riding and checking to be done in the old days, too. Yet, on the whole, the old time cowboy led a more adventurous life than does his modern counterpart.

There were Indians and lawless rustlers to contend with and since the ranges were open rather than fenced in, the men were continually on the move.

These were the days of the long cattle drives to market. Our picture shows an old time night rider on such a drive, singing quietly to the cattle as they rest, keeping them together.

These days, cattle are often shipped by truck and train. Yet a modern cowhand must still know cattle and horses and be a rugged outdoor man. He has exciting moments, too, even if most of his time is spent in loneliness and hard work.

FOR YOU TO DO: Each part of the cowhand's equipment has a meaning. See if you can figure what part of the night rider's equipment is used for: catching rainwater; filtering out dust; fighting Indians and rustlers; tying things to the saddle; catching cattle, protecting himself from thorns and brush.

British Get Early Art

LONDON (AP) — The British National Gallery has acquired one of the earliest of European landscape paintings. It is by the German Albrecht Altdorfer and dates about 1518.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The painting comes from the collection of Dr. L. D. Koerfer of Berne. The National Gallery has not revealed the purchase price but art critics estimate that the gallery must have paid at least 50,000 pounds ($140,000 for the picture.

Locks Himself In With the Goodies

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Returning to her auto, Mrs. Raymond Hayes deposited her 22-month-old son Andy on the front seat, along with a bag of groceries. She also laid her keys on the front seat.

★ ★ ★

Andy's sense of timing was perfect. He pushed the lock on the door and helped himself to a premature lunch of cheese and bananas as his mother watched helplessly.

A policeman came along and ended the crisis. He managed to pry a coat hanger through the window and release the lock.

Realism Becomes Part of Viet Nam Action

U. S. servicemen looking down the gun barrels of Communists in Viet Nam now have the official okay to fire first.

★ ★ ★

Belatedly, this change in strategy comes after more than 50 Americans have been killed in the guerrilla fighting there.

★ ★ ★

The archaic "code of the West" in which the hero lets the villain get off the first round will now be a thing of the past, fortunately.

True, U. S. forces there are still in a training situation, just advising the native troops. However, ferrying the locals into battles with the elusive enemy has involved U. S. servicemen. Some Americans wound up teaching the Viet Nam men how to die.

★ ★ ★

It's a pity we couldn't have changed the rules earlier. Some of the Americans who died for a very shaky government there might still be alive.

Castro's Dislodgement Solution to Red Threat

The United States and her allies currently have been concerned primarily with the military build-up and reduction of Cuba's military potential. But with the minimization of that threat, another, related to the dissemination of Communistic ideology in Latin America, continues unabated.

★ ★ ★

American officials say that the Cuban government has given financial aid to the pro-Castro Revolutionary Union of Ecuadorian Youth.

★ ★ ★

And it is estimated that between 1,000 and 1,500 persons from other Latin American countries traveled to Cuba in 1962 for ideological indoctrination in guerrilla warfare.

★ ★ ★

Since Castro's fiscal position is virtually at the breaking point, the source of funds for Communist subversion of neighboring countries may cause wonder.

The principal financial aid comes from the $1 million a day that the Soviet Union is said to be channeling into the Cuban economy. In addition, the CASTRO regime has had a recent windfall from the $2.9 million handed over by the United States last December to cover the release of 60 ailing Bay of Pigs prisoners.

Also, our experts believe, $1 million or so has probably been drained off from the $53 million in food and medicines which recently effected the release of 1,100 more prisoners. That amount was earmarked in Cuba's 1962 budget for the import of medical supplies, the expenditure of which was unnecessary in view of the ransom supplies.

These revelations today strengthen the view that there can be but one satisfactory long-range solution to the dangerous situation in the Caribbean. That is the overthrow of the bearded tyrant and his Red hierarchy and the return of the island and its suffering people to democratic sovereignty.

Lengthy Federal Trial Sets Record in NY

The jury had seen 1,890 exhibits and heard 109 witnesses give 26,731 pages of testimony.

★ ★ ★

Carrying on their assignment with extraordinary zeal, only two lost court days were chargeable to the jurors—to allow one to recover from a bad cold. Three of the original 16 and alternates were excused for one reason or another; the rest stuck it out despite occasional aches and sniffles. Said one, "I felt like a soldier doing my duty."

★ ★ ★

On a first-name basis within two days, the jurors held a World Series pool, decorated the jury room for a Christmas grab bag and made plans for an annual reunion.

Most pleasing was Federal Judge William B. Herland's tribute: "The time has come for the Government to award a Distinguished Service Cross to those who perform outstanding acts of responsibility and patriotism, and you should be the first recipients."

To which we add a journalistic accolade to the dedicated group of juridical standouts.

"WE COULD put a man on Mars by 1990, but it would cost $1 billion," says a scientist. He's probably mistaken. Between now and then inflation would doubtless run the cost up to $1.9 billion.

The Man About Town

Man Has Twins

He Hits Fruit Jackpot Winning Bonus Banana

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Twins seems to run in the family of Darrel Priestly of Waterford Township, a Twin Pines milk route deliveryman.

• • •

Grocery shopping a short time ago, he included some bananas. When one of them was peeled, it was found to be twins . . . maybe, like the Colonel's Lady and Judy O'Grady, they were sisters under the skin! . . . My treuble is, I just don't have any will power.

Odds against twins in the human department are about 200 to 1. But bananas! That really gets astronomical.

• • •

As for example. One local fruit house handles about 45 cases per day, averaging 35 pounds — or a total of 1,575 pounds. At three bananas per pound, in 26 monthly business days you're thinking about 112,850—and my proprietor friend said he hadn't seen a dual job in many months.

If you want to give your slide rule a real workout, all you've got to do is figure out how many produce sources there are in the country, how many cases they process per month, how many . . . Holy Toledo, I'm going to have to lie down.

• • •

But, a stunned bow of deference to our Top Banana on the singular—double, I mean —banana he uncovered.

The poetic reference the other day by a lady to the ice-fishing specialty of her husband evoked a few icy thoughts from

Charles (Red) Hewitt

He says that the ice in the inland lakes is the usual 15 inches thick but, oddly, in the Flats near Anchor Bay it is only about 10 inches . . . Something here, it seems, that doesn't meet the eye.

• • •

Also, he quotes a contractor friend, who is always digging into things, as authority for the frost in the ground being five to six feet—in contrast to the normal 3½.

Guess about all we can do is chin and bear it.

David Lawrence Says:

Kennedy Blunders on Budget

WASHINGTON — A bill reducing income tax rates will be enacted by Congress some time this year. In the measure will be some provisions called "reforms" but hardly any of the major proposals which the administration has submitted.

This is the outlook today on Capitol Hill, and President Kennedy is prepared to accept the result as a compromise. He has not given up his drive to get the "reforms" he wants, but the opposition in Congress is too formidable for him to let a hassle over these "reforms" kill all chance of passing a tax bill this year.

LAWRENCE

"What we need," says the President, "is the bill this year, and nothing should stand in its way."

Mr. Kennedy made it clear this week to a symposium on economic growth, sponsored by the American Bankers Association, that he still prefers a tax cut with "reforms." If, however, there is no tax cut at all, he predicts a deficit bigger than the one President Eisenhower encountered after the recession in 1958. Mr. Kennedy's exact words caused an arching of eyebrows. He said:

"In other words, the deficit, without a tax cut, would then be far higher than the projected deficit we face with a tax cut — higher even than the record deficit of $12.4 billion which followed the recession of 1958, only a few months after the President of the United States had submitted a budget which provided for a surplus of a half-billion dollars. That is how quickly a deficit can unbalance the budget."

But what is the explanation of President Kennedy's own forecast of a surplus that turned out to be a deficit? In January 1962, Mr. Kennedy told Congress that the budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1963, would show a surplus of $500 million — a balanced budget with a modest surplus.

Yet, before many months had passed, a deficit was indicated, and the latest estimate is that the red figure will be around $8.8 billion at the end of the fiscal year this June.

The year 1962, moreover, wasn't regarded here as a recession year. In fact, Mr. Kennedy in his speech to the bankers this week said: "The American economy is now in its twenty-fourth month of recovery." This means "recovery" started just after the Kennedy inauguration — a convenient date, politically speaking.

WHAT HAPPENED

But how did the President make such a mistake if it wasn't a recession that produced his deficit? The official figures in his budget messages explain what happened.

Mr. Kennedy estimated his receipts for fiscal year 1963 at $7.5 billion more than they are turning out to be, and he permitted expenses to go up by an additional $1.8 billion over his budget.

The President, in his speech here to the bankers, did not touch on these problems except to say that "We must use prudence in the management of our wages and prices."

When — after reading his prepared address — he was asked specifically by one of the bankers if it wasn't "more important than previously to prevent wage rates from increasing faster than productivity," Mr. Kennedy replied:

"I would think that wage rates would follow — I hope they would follow the general guidelines which have been suggested on several occasions, which are tied to the principle which you just described, that wage rates should be tied to productivity increases."

Bob Considine Says:

Rusk Manages Temper Before Truculent Texans

HOUSTON — Secretary of State Dean Rusk met the press, the blunt-spoken Texas press, here Tuesday eyeball-to-eyeball. He did not blink.

"We understand that Kennedy has your successor already picked out," barked a young reporter. "What do you say to that?"

The secretary of state gazed at the young man with interest rather than rancor.

"As far as I know, there has been no discussion of that," he said thoughtfully. He paused to await another question from interrogators but there was none.

CONSIDINE

So the secretary of state had one of a number of other unrelated queries rising from the floor and he never got around to doing something I always thought would be a natural human reaction if people in public office gave honest vent to their true feelings.

Why didn't he challenge the questioner and say to him, "You may be right, for all I know. But where did you get the information that led to your question? I've just leased a house and put my kids in school in Washington.

"What do you know, sitting here in Houston, that hasn't been told to me during my daily meetings with the President?"

TRUCULENT IKE

About the only time I ever saw a fierce reaction from a public official came from Gen. Eisenhower during his second news conference as a politician.

"Explain your association with Alger Hiss," some guy yelled to him out of the blue.

Though he did not choose to challenge the young man who would boot him out of President Kennedy's cabinet, secretary Rusk sounded off with vigor, his every word, on other subjects here in Houston.

"No aggression will be allowed from Cuba," he said at a news conference and as impassionately as a man canceling his subscription to a dead stamp magazine.

"Castroism will not be accepted as a part of this hemisphere. The shipping to Cuba will become insignificant."

(Editor's note: Only 12 ships arrived at Cuban ports during January past, as opposed to nearly 100 in October.)

★ ★ ★

Then Mr. Rusk said, "We watch with very great concern any action that would be taken to export communism from Cuba."

Voice of the People:

'Administration Waste Calls for Written Protests'

In two years, 145,342 persons have been padded to the federal payroll. This makes Andrew Jackson's "spoils system" look like penny ante played by penniless people. Though a Navy man, Kennedy has literally outflanked Jackson.

The brazen "news weaponry," or "noose weaponry" that hangs the political enemy both foreign and domestic is an action against democratic people who need to know absolute truth.

★ ★ ★

The "deficit spending" of the whiz-kids is simply credit buying in hopes that one will mysteriously receive a windfall before the first payment is due.

The foreign aid policy of the administration is a lump sum endowment to countries which already offer serious competition to higher standard industry.

A letter-writing deluge must indeed be started to drown out the greenback bonfire of the administration. As our U.S. Congressman Broomfield is strongly against any too-powerful central government, he could use any letter bullets we can lend him.

'Be Well-Informed Before You Vote'

One of the biggest problems facing the people who will be voting on the proposed constitution this April is becoming well-informed enough to make an intelligent decision. Newspapers or groups which attempt to educate the people on important issues must be wholly objective. Organizations, which believe in fair hearings, must tell the whole story. Since sections of the proposed constitution had unanimous support, why weren't the people allowed to vote on these separately?

★ ★ ★

Why is it that neither body of the proposed legislature is based solely on population? How does one justify the fact that the minority will be allowed to rule?

Tells of Strength Russia Has in Cuba

Late last December, Rear Adm. O'Donnell, one-time commander of the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo, said, "Cuba is stronger than it was before the missile crisis." Sen. Kenneth B. Keating warned that Russian strength had multiplied tenfold since October. On Feb. 3, Edward Martin, Assistant Secretary of State for Latin American affairs, confirmed Keating's statement.

Reports obtained from Cuban exile organizations, with underground contacts in the island, more than confirm the statements. In December, 41 Soviet bloc ships unloaded military equipment, troops and civilian supplies. At that time, 16 more ships were already tied up and another 18 were on the high seas, en route.

'Social Security Hike Is Needed'

President Kennedy wants to give us a raise in social security. This is long overdue. Social Security was passed during the depression when you could buy pork chops for 6 cents a pound. It has never been brought up-to-date.

★ ★ ★

How can older people pay insurance, doctor bills and other expenses on $40 to $80 a month?

★ ★ ★

The raise in social security would do more to help our economy than a tax cut. It would put the money in the right hands.

In Washington:

Congress Still Mulling Requests

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) —The 88th Congress is now nearly two months old. But in the words of House majority leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma, "It hasn't jelled yet."

Every session of Congress is different, he explains. You have to wait till it gets organized and settles down to business before you can get the feel of it and make any predictions or even guesses on what it might do.

EDSON

Some of the elements shaping up the record which this Congress will eventually make are out in the open, however, and are worth keeping in mind. For one thing, the President has sent about a dozen messages to Congress and there are more to come.

★ ★ ★

Most important of the lot is the tax message. It is at the top of the White House "must" list for action this session. And it is the one thing that can keep the Congress on the job for a long session, which this one probably will be.

There seems to be little enthusiasm in Congress or out for tax reform. Without tax reform there will have to be either a reduced tax cut or considerable reduction of government spending.

There is no indication yet how economy - minded this Congress is going to be. There is some realization that a tax cut smaller than the one recommended by the President cannot accomplish his objective of stimulating employment, reducing unemployment.

With so many controversial issues in the President's tax plan to fight over, it is doubtful if a tax bill can be passed before Labor Day. Other legislation, including an increase in the national debt limit, will be whatever can be passed between or after the tax bill battles.

Nobody seems to know just how badly the President wants his vast programs for medical care of the aged, general and mental health measures, everything in the omnibus aid to education message, the youth programs, the farm programs.

The mental retardation and National Service Corps proposals are the only really new apples in the barrel. All the others have been taken from the freezer to which they were consigned after Congress ignored them last session.

If the President is merely polishing them off again to make the record of his requests look good, that's one thing. If he really wants them and will make a fight for them, that's something else. Even so, there are many grave doubts that measures like the medicare plan under Social Security, or the aid for only public primary and secondary schools, can be passed this year.

The White House so far has shown no enthusiasm for new labor legislation. Public clamor for action has subsided a little, following settlement of the maritime strike. But a new wave of railroad strikes or shutdowns in the steel or rubber industries where contracts run out this spring and summer could kindle congressional concern and initiative in this field.

Congress has a bear by the tail in the $500 million supplemental appropriation President Kennedy has requested this year. It was intended to be a one-shot emergency measure to relieve unemployment in 1,200 depressed areas.

Some 2,000 local projects were approved in 900 areas, but there is a backlog of applications for another billion dollars' worth of projects for which no funds are available.

Area Redevelopment Administration, in charge of the program, has had to stop processing applications from 90 areas to concentrate available funds in the 240 areas hardest hit.

This has built up a tremendous pressure in Congress from local communities to get more projects approved. It would be no surprise if Congress extends this program on its own.

In general, this Congress is sized up as being a little more liberal than the last session. But the division is still so close that many cliff-hanging votes are expected on the more controversial issues.

Liberals from both parties in Senate and House are clamoring for some action to modernize congressional procedures to speed legislative action and shorten the session. No such action is expected this year, however. Unless some of the all-powerful chairmen of existing committees are recruited to this cause, no progress is expected at all.

City Approves R44 Contract

The City Commission Tuesday night gave final approval to a contract with Louis D'Hondt & Son Wrecking Co. of Mount Clemens for demolition in the R44 urban renewal project.

Signing the contract was a mere formality. Commissioners had voted to award the demolition contract to D'Hondt two weeks ago.

The wrecking firm submitted a bid of $69,800, lowest of six bids received for the job. Some 43 structures have been marked for acquisition and clearance in the project area.

★ ★ ★

With all but four or five structures already purchased by the city, demolition in the R44 project is expected to progress rapidly this spring and summer.

FEDERAL DEPT. STORES

DOWNTOWN AND DRAYTON PLAINS

Shopping Revolution Staged in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) —This city has some supermarkets that can stand tall in comparison with any supermarket in the world. They sell literally carloads of groceries every day.

Through the checkstands, past the jingling cash registers stream almost unbelievable quantities of foodstuffs. Every day each supermarket sells more than 4,000 quarts of milk, 70 to 80 sides of beef, four tons of cheese, eight to 10 tons of sugar, two tons of carrots and five tons of potatoes, to name a few of the faster moving products.

Customers line up an hour before the stores open. A man stands at the door all day to regulate the number of incoming customers to keep the store from becoming overcrowded. Each store serves more than 70,000 customers a week.

In these days when supermarkets are taken for granted in the United States, they are revolutionary in Argentina. The fact that they have been such a booming success indicates that both privately-owned or government-backed projects to help raise Latin American living standards can be highly successful if money is coupled with know-how and individual initiative.

The supermarkets here represent a stride into the 20th century for Argentine food marketing which for ages has been based on a philosophy of high mark-ups, low turnover and "customer be damned."

SUCCESSFUL COMBINATION

The foundation of the supermarkets' "overnight" success is a combination of technical and financial know-how, individual enterprise and big money.

The supermarkets are called Minimax Markets and are owned by the Rockefeller brothers' International Basic Economy Corporation (IBEC).

The methods which spelled success for Minimax Markets in Argentina were tried and perfected in IBEC's operations in Venezuela and Italy. IBEC plans to follow up the initial success by expanding into other areas.

Supermarkets hit Buenos Aires like an idea whose time had come. The first one opened in April last year the second in June. More are being added.

Grocery stores in Buenos Aires are like the ones which served the United States at the turn of the century. They are small, poorly lighted and usually untidy.

They are strictly high markup, low turn-over operations. Food is crammed into whatever space is available — on the floor, hung from the ceiling, dangling from the walls.

Meanwhile all the other customers — whether two or 10 — must wait their turn.

★ ★ ★

These grocers buy case and half case lots from wholesale houses. The resultant book work is fantastic.

NEW ATMOSPHERE

Minimax markets create an entirely new atmosphere in food buying and handling. They buy carloads of goods, not case lots. They display the merchandise in clean spacious stores where customers can select what they want from neatly stacked display islands.

★ ★ ★

Experience in supermarketing in Venezuela and Italy has paid off in Argentina. Laying aside the obvious need for big money to finance such an operation, perhaps the greatest single factor in IBEC's supermarket success is the personal initiative, contagious enthusiasm and professional excellence of Minimax general manager Richard Boogaart.

IBEC started groundwork for its Argentine operation a couple of years ago. The organization already had a thriving poultry operation here and the government under President Arturo Frondizi welcomed new industry.

Boogaart came to Argentina soon after the operation began.

NON-STOP OPERATION

Minimax employs more than 600 persons to keep shelves stocked, vegetables packaged and merchandise moving. It is a 24 hour a day, seven day a week business. The stores run three eight hour shifts a day.

Power and water — highly essential commodities in supermarket operations, are both in short supply in Buenos Aires. Frequent power failures threatened to wreck refrigeration systems and sent the cash registers loco.

The stores now have their own generators and a system of auxiliary pumps to keep water moving in the refrigeration systems.

★ ★ ★

Boogaart says once they catch up with the runaway success of the supermarkets, IBEC will probably turn its DACSA toward supplying other grocery stores with lower priced higher quality goods.

Pretty Coed Likes Life Among Ruins

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — It was all Greek to pretty Elizabeth Brokaw, but not anymore.

Miss Brokaw, a Washington University graduate student here, can boast that she was on the spot with archeologists to help uncover old worlds in Greece.

The archeology student was chosen last summer to join Dr. George Mylonas on his annual summer project of excavating at Mycenae near Argos in the Peloponnesus.

The Mycenaean excavations are jointly sponsored by the Greek Archeological Service and by Washington University, where Dr. Mylonas is chairman of the Department of Art and Archeology.

Dr. Mylonas took his wife, daughter and son-in-law with him. Miss Brokaw's job was to record and catalogue any discoveries during the excavating.

Excavating, Miss Brokaw says, is not just pick and shovel work. First, you've got to know where to dig, and that's where Dr. Mylonas came in with all his knowledge on the subject.

For example, an indentation in the ground might be the sign of a caved-in tomb. Or there might be a certain rock in the ground which could be the piece of an important wall covered for centuries.

Even the laborers who do the digging get excited on finding the trail of something important. Miss Brokaw said they can tell from the sound whether or not it's pottery or stone underneath.

After exploratory trenches are dug with pick and shovel, and if there are signs of a possible discovery, small knives are then used. The dust is swept away with paint brushes. Nothing is used to damage any possibly important find.

While Miss Brokaw was on the job, a network of corridors, staircases and rooms was uncovered.

Found in one chamber: gold, ivory, beautifully painted vases, two small libation tables and a vase fragment bearing an inscription in Mycenaean script.

But the most exciting find was the discovery of what seemed to be the base of a figurine.

"They found the hem of her skirt first," Miss Brokaw recalled. "Then, slowly and carefully they uncovered the rest of her — a beautiful terra cotta figurine."

Miss Brokaw hopes to go back again. She wants to be on the spot when they find Agamemnon's tomb, burial place of the Mycenaean king.

Gets 2-Year Term for Stabbing Pair

A 26-year-old Waterford Township man accused of stabbing his wife and her coworker last May was ordered Tuesday to serve two to four years in prison by Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero.

The stabbing occurred outside Conway's home just after his wife Melva, 23, and Carl A. Bohn, 30, of 6497 Simmons Road, Waterford Township, drove up in Bohn's car from the drive-in restaurant where Mrs. Conway and Bohn worked.

The Captivating Capri...

Ford's dashing personal coupe from England

There are many sport coupes that cost hundreds, yes, even thousands more than the captivating Capri. But there's not a solitary one that tops Ford's most personal coupe from England for the appeal of right design.

Luxurious Comfort

It's a two seater for most of your driving but there's space for the occasional extra passenger. Upholstery is soft English leather facing over foam rubber for the contoured bucket seats. Carpeting is deep tufted, bound, and hand fitted wall to wall. You get a padded dash, too, and a car wide parcel tray plus a spacious glove locker.

Nimble Performance

Capri's engine is rally bred. 4 cylinders. Overhead valves. Zero to 60 very briskly. Disc brakes up front, same as used on expensive racing machines. They're fade free! Transmission is 4 speed, with your choice of column or floor shift.

Why not let a Capri tell you the rest of its story itself? You'll agree it's . . .

Best of the imports because best of all it's a Ford PRODUCT

Survey Shows That Some Schools Penalize Steady Daters

By The Associated Press

A spot check of schools throughout the country showed today there are some that have tried to discourage steady dating among their students.

The penalties for violation generally were not as stringent as that imposed at St. Michael's Roman Catholic High School in Jersey City, N.J. The going steady practice among teen-agers there was dealt a blow by the administrator who threatened his students with expulsion for such activity.

"I want them to look over the field. I don't want any forced marriages," said the Rev. James A. Carey in issuing his edict, effective Friday.

The superintendent of San Francisco public schools, Dr. Harold Spears, has not taken any formal action against steady dating.

"I think that's a natural biological urge," he said, "and I would hate to have to enforce a ban on it."

'PARENTS' PROVINCE

Dr. Roy L. Hinderman, deputy superintendent of Denver schools, said: "We have no regulation on this because we regard this as being a province of the parents. And we think this (a going steady ban) would be an invasion of rights that belong in the home. We shouldn't attempt to dictate a policy on this particular point."

Hinderman, the father of grown children, said he didn't think steady dating is a good thing for youngsters, but he added reminiscently, "I can still recall rather vividly when we went through this state."

Three years ago, the Rev. Stephen J. Daday, principal of Allentown (Pa.) Central Catholic High School, banned steady-dating students from extracurricular activities and a national honor society.

Father Daday said then, without elaborating: "Our student body (of 2,200) is aware that this is not a new policy of the Catholic Church but a restatement of the policy that is as old as our founder, Jesus Christ."

* * *

The Roman Catholic archdiocese of New Orleans also has tried to discourage the practice. Some Catholic high schools there ban steady-dating students from positions of honor. Archbishop Francis Rummel issued a pastoral letter in recent years aimed at cutting down constant togetherness among teen-agers and persons not ready for marriage.

TRIES COUNSELING

The Chicago Catholic archdiocese, while ot having a ban on going steady, tries to regulate it through counseling of parents and pupils "rather than by issuing stringent regulations and severe penalties," according to Msgr. William McManus.

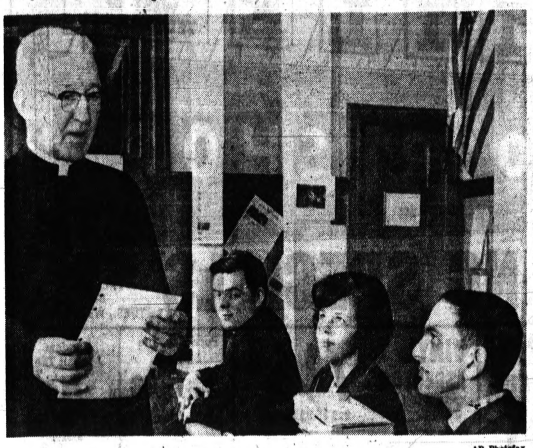
Msgr. McManus, superintendent of the 70,000-student archdiocesan schools, said "steady dating is getting to be old hat in Chicago."

Nevertheless, he said, "in our spiritual retreats and our courses on preparation for marriage and family life. We advise the students about the hazards and foolishness of steady dating.

"The response," he added, "has been good and most young people look upon steady daters as insecure and immature persons."

Msgr. McManus said pastors can expell students "if steady dating gets out of hand," but he remarked that he knew of no such recent cases.

In Chicago's public school system, a spokesman said it was not considered feasible to try to set up a blanket rule on steady dating for its 21 districts, "each with a territory as large as many cities."



AP Photofax

BANS GOING STEADY—Father James A. Carey, shown in a classroom at St. Michael's High School in Jersey City, N.J., told students of the school yesterday that they would be expelled if they continued to go steady. Father Carey, head of the 600-student parochial school, announced the rule will go into effect Friday. His action won approval of parents, and while some of the students felt the rule harsh, they agreed to obey it.

It's One of His Best Jobs

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — William Whannell, 19, a window cleaner, did his work so well that he landed in a hospital Tuesday.

"He is very proud of his work," said a colleague. "He likes to make the glass as clear as daylight."

Whannell did just that with a glass door, later thought it was open and tried to walk through it. He was treated for cuts on his face, arms and hands.

Child's IQ Relative to Teacher-Parent Insight

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Actress Jill St. John makes a stellar model for those erudite individuals who claim that the intelligence quotient (IQ) tests are valid.

Miss St. John, her press agents ecstatically revealed when she first showed up Hollywood, has an IQ of 168.

PHYLLIS BATTELLE

Later she married Lance Reventlow, heir to Babs Hutton's multimillions.

Would this not indicate that her "genius" rating is authentics?

Ah, but there are always those who doubt anything. And there are plenty of people who doubt that the IQ tests currently being given to America's youngsters, from nursery school up, have any real, permanent significance.

In itself, says Henry Dyer of the Educational Testing Service, "a score on an aptitude test tells you nothing about a particular child's native ability."

In a book, "The Schools," some points are brought out which parents with children of relatively low IQs will want to read—and parents of children with high IQs may choose to ignore:

Some people are brighter than others, in the same way that some are taller, have better vision, etc.

But a child's experiences, environment, and his ability to concentrate at a given hour, in a given room, when a given test is given, are every bit as important.

For instance, one would assume that children's IQs would increase as they grew older. However, children from backward homes drop in IQ from year to year.

Adolescents who go to academic high schools gain points in test scores, while those in vocational schools drop.

At the very top of the scale, in the genius category, there are more boys than girls. At the very bottom, in the dunce department, again there are more boys.

RATING CAN VARY

But being a dunce one year doesn't necessarily mean that a boy—or his sister—will stay in that lowly category for long.

Over a period 10 years, say between the ages of 6 to 16, a child's IQ rating may vary anywhere from 10 to 40 points.

Since two-thirds of all children rank between 84 and 116, it is easier to see, then, that it's possible for a child to jump from a sort of below-normal IQ to darn near genius in a decade!

This would be made difficult for him, however, in schools which like to use the intelligence test as a solid indication of whether students should be put in "fast," "average" or "slow" classes; a kid labeled "slow" is not likely to get the educational push that would make him "fast" and boost his IQ.

Author Martin Mayer recounts an illustrative story about a teacher named Frances Harmon. Miss Harmon was called in by an assistant principal who bawled her out about the performance of her pupils. In rebuttal, the teacher told him, "these kids can't learn anymore!"

The principal said, "how do know they can't learn any more?"

"It's a slow class."

"How do you know it's a slow class?" he asked. "Did you figure it out all by yourself, or did somebody tell you? Go back there and teach them more—they'll learn it."

"So," Miss Harmon said, "I went back there and taught them more, and they learned it."

★ ★ ★

The only limitations on the possible IQ of a normal child are the teachers and parents who can't see the potential because they're too preoccupied with the score.

Traffic Judge Stalls His Car on Freeway

DETROIT (UPI) — A traffic judge has found out that a freeway is wonderful to drive on but no place to be stalled.

Judge John D. Watts, after waiting three hours for help when his car broke down on I-94 near Dearborn, decided that a phone system should be installed on every expressway.

Watts said: "In Cleveland, they have free telephones 1,200 feet apart on freeways. They tell me it works wonderfully."

The judge asked police Supt. Eugene Reuter to call a meeting of the city's Traffic Coordination Committee to study the matter. State highway and Michigan Bell Telephone Co. officials are being invited to sit in.

Suit Initiated Against Tax

Would Prevent Detroit Levy on State Workers

A Union Lake labor mediator and a Warren attorney have filed suit in Wayne County Circuit Court to stop the City of Detroit from collecting its income tax from state employes who work in Detroit but do not live there.

Daniel M. Gallagher Sr., 54, of 9155 Longcroft St., Union Lake, and Don Binkowski, 38, Warren, both employed by the Michigan Labor Mediation Board in downtown Detroit, claim the tax is unfair to state employes who have no say in where they are assigned.

Their suit charges that "employes of the State of Michigan are forced to work at the Cadillac Square Building in Detroit for the convenience of Detroit residents.

"It's unfair to tax us just because we are forced to work in a city with an income tax," they said.

Gallagher and Binkowski said they and many other state employes perform much of their work outside the city.

They also claimed they received no city services or benefits because state and federal funds maintain the highways and freeways they use.

"If the courts do not uphold our position, I suggest the state legislature move the state offices out of Detroit," Binkowski, a former Constitutional Convention delegate, said.

Tiny TV Camera May Be Monitor for X15 Flights

WASHINGTON (AP)—A television camera no bigger than a pack of cigarettes is on the drawing boards to monitor the instrument panel during X15 rocket plane flights.

It will be mounted on the pilot's helmet, like a coal miner's lamp, and will see whatever he sees.

The compact camera, now being developed, was one of many advanced projects described for the House Space Committee by Raymond L. Bisplinghoff, director of advanced research and technology for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Tadpole Crisis Shakes 'Em Up in Freight Office

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A tadpole tangle created a crisis that never will be forgotten at a freight office here.

The shipment arrived on a Friday but nobody could locate Johnson to make delivery.

The men at the freight office were nervous wrecks by the time delivery was made on Monday. They had spent the whole weary weekend pouring fresh water over the tadpoles.

Keep Fire Trucks Down on the Farm

WEST BEND, Wis. (AP)—A Wisconsin farm, appropriately named Fire Bell Farm, boasts the best fire protection of any in the country.

The owners, Keith Franz and Wesley Kramlich, are volunteer firemen who collect fire fighting equipment, all in working order. They now own 11 pieces, including an 1875 Silsby steamer.

A truck is always ready for an emergency and they have answered fire calls in the nearby area. They also have assisted the regular West Bend Fire Department.

Romney Signs His First Bill; Benefits Area

LANSING — Gov. George Romney Tuesday signed into law his first bill since taking office — to clear the path for sale of Dequindre sewer construction bonds in Oakland County.

The bill, the first passed by the 1963 state legislature, requires that the State Municipal Finance Commission approve or disapprove the issuance of such bonds.

The sale of $5.6 million in bonds to finance construction of the sewer in southeastern Oakland County was held up when the commission refused to act in December, saying that state law did not require it to act on them.

Claude Stevens, the county's bonding attorney, recommended sale of the bonds be delayed because of prohibitive interest costs he said would be incurred without the commmission's approval.

Boys Pay Penny for Hitching Post

GLENDALE, Ariz. (AP) —Gayle Cate and Bobby Wagoner, both 13, don't ask for any favors when they ride into town.

The two rode in on their horse Sugar to buy supplies. Dismounting, they hitched him to a parking meter and dropped a penny in the slot.

Standing nearby, patrolman Orval Wilmer mused aloud to bystanders, "Wonder where I'll put the ticket in case the horse overstays the time?"

But he didn't have to worry. The boys got their saddle soap and were mounted up in plenty of time.

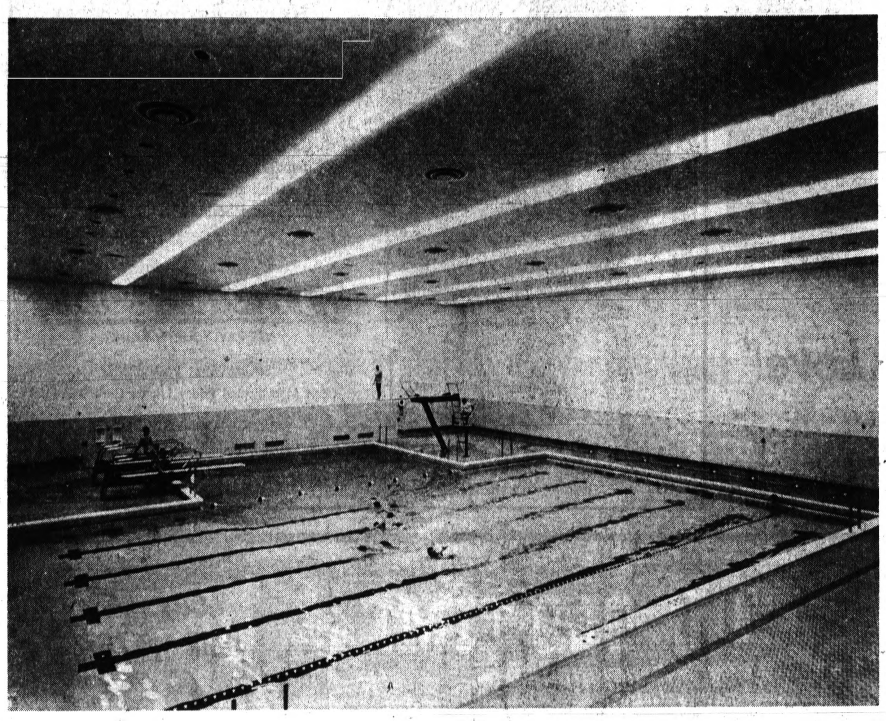
Oakland U. Has Its Own 'Sports Spectacular'



Pontiac Press Photos by Phil Webb

WHO NEEDS FLORIDA? — A favorite place for students seeking after-class relaxation is the huge pool. While it isn't regulation Olympic-size, the pool is larger than most in the metropolitan area. Most so-called Olympic-size pools actually aren't, Oakland U's athletic director Hollie Lepley pointed out. An added feature of the pool is underwater windows that allow instructors to observe the progress of students in perfecting their swimming form.

Dedication of the new Intramural Sports and Recreation Building at Oakland University is scheduled for March 15.

These include swimming, diving, gymnastics, dancing, basketball, tennis, volleyball, weightlifting, tumbling, trampoline — oh yes, and skiing on a slope outside.

Indoor archery, pingpong and handball will be added later.

The $1.5-million structure was designed for intramural activities, but it can be adapted readily for spectator events as well.

The building was opened officially to the students last month. Major construction was completed in 15 months and paid for from regular tuition fees.

★ ★ ★

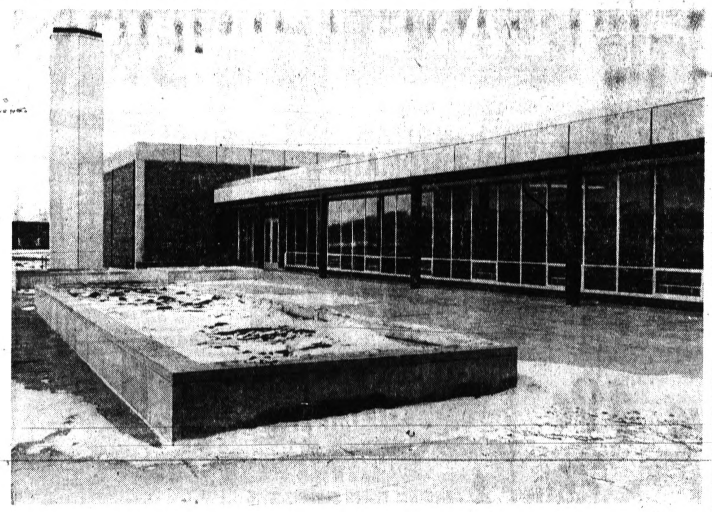
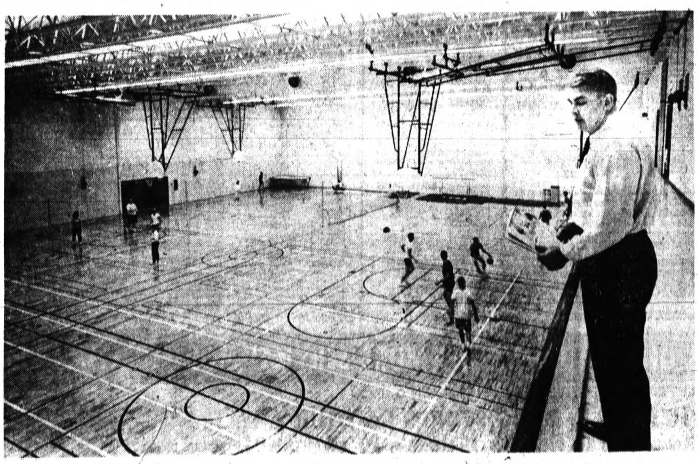
And use it they do.

ROOM TO DANCE — The new intramural building at Oakland University is more than a gymnasium. Here, Frances Swoboda, 19-year-old freshman from Rochester, practices modern dancing to records in a multipurpose room which serves as a studio.



CAMPUS ADDITION — A front view of the new intramural building belies its actual size. Much of the building is visible only from the rear because it is fitted into the side of a hill unnoticed from the main part of the campus. The marble column rising at left conceals a smoke stack for heating purposes. Lanscaping will be added in the spring.



HUGE GYM — The gymnasium is large enough to enable a variety of sports to be played simultaneously. The floor is marked off for four basketball courts, tennis and badminton courts and for volley ball. A separate room for gymnastics, wrestling and archery is yet to be completed. Athletic director Hollie Lepley watches the activity below.

'Mona, My Long Lost Love!'

By ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a love affair that began nearly 28 years ago in Paris in the late summer of 1935.

★ ★ ★

In neighboring Germany, Hitler was rearming. To the south Mussolini's Roman legions were massing against Ethiopia. But Paris was gay and unconcerned, and romance as always hung in the air like a haze above the Seine.

I had come down from Normandy, through fields that bared their ripe bosom to the reapers. The apple blossoms were long gone, and now the cider lapped in the kegs.

She had come up from Italy much earlier. But Paris was her home and she was French to her fingertips, as much a part of the city as any boulevard midinette.

True, she was an older woman. But can a youth ever really learn to love until just once he has surrendered to the beauty and charm of feminine maturity?

MET IN LOUVRE

We met late on an August afternoon in a gallery of the Louvre. There were no words exchanged, only glances. She smiled. I sighed.

I went away, back to America. She stayed behind. The years passed. War came and blotted out the sunshine that had shone upon us when we met.

In North Africa, in bleak encampments, I encountered countrymen of hers, Frenchmen fighting. They gave me word of her. With other refugees in Paris, she had sought sanctuary from the invader. But she was well, safe, still smiled. I hoped I might soon be with her again.

But for me, the war ended before Paris was liberated. Once again I crossed the Atlantic, leaving her behind. And once again the years began ticking away. My Lady of the Louvre still waited. But my chances of returning seemed to recede.

Then she came to me.

It was her first visit to the United States and she stopped off in Washington, then came on to New York. Joyfully, with great anticipation, I planned our rendezvous.

It was a cold, clear winter day when I arrived at 82nd Street and Fifth Avenue and hurried inside the Metropolitan Museum of Arts. She was waiting as I knew she would be. The gallery was crowded as it had not been when last we met. Others clamored for her attention. I stood in silence.

Kindly Judge P(l)ays Fare; Vagrant Gone

Municipal Court Judge Wilbur S. Lippincott dug into his own pocket and gave Poole bus fare to his home town of Atlantic City, 70 miles from here. Police made sure Wednesday that Poole got on the bus.

Poole, 51, appeared before Lippincott on Feb. 8 for the second time on a vagrancy charge. Poole had just completed a 20-day jail term for vagrancy and he asked to be returned to his "warm cell." Lippincott obliged.

Let out last week, Poole was picked up a third time for vagrancy and appeared before Lippincott Tuesday night. This time Lippincott declined further "free public lodging." The judge instead produced a $5-dollar bill, which he turned over to Poole saying it was for a "one-way bus ticket back to Atlantic City."

Congress Not Pokey, Just Builds Momentum Slowly

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There has been a lot of talk this year about the system under which Congress operates and whether it needs to be modernized.

★ ★

Some deep thinkers seem to feel that the legislative machinery as presently constituted is too cumbersome to permit Congress to meet its responsibilities in the space age.

WEST

In support of their position, they point out that although approximately two months have elapsed since the current session began, hardly anything has happened.

I have no intention of getting involved in this controversy, but I would like to do my bit to keep at least one aspect of the record straight.

Contrary to the way it might appear to the naked eye, Congress actually has been rather busy this year. It's just that it hasn't done anything very noticeable.

I have been looking over the legislative calendar and I find that, going into the last week of February, the House of Representatives already had passed two bills.

One of them extends the time for filing burial expenses for veterans. The other authorizes the armed forces to provide equipment and other support for the annual Boy Scout Jamboree.

Neither is exactly earth-shaking, but they certainly should quash any complaints that Congress is prone to dalliance or is composed of slugabeds.

NO ENNUI

The Senate, it is true, has not been quite as productive as the House. By that I mean that the senators haven't passed any bills as yet.

This is not a sign of ennui or lackadaisical behavior, however. The Senate has been having some trouble getting organized.

I can appreciate its problem because I often have trouble getting organized myself.

Even so, the Senate has managed to pass five resolutions. In one resolution, it notified the President that a quorum was present on opening day. In another resolution, it notified the House that a quorum was present.

★ ★

The point I'm trying to make is, the fact that nothing much has happened in Congress does not necessarily mean that Congress has been standing still.

★ ★ ★

Anyone who has spent much time around the Capitol can tell you that it's possible for nothing to happen even when Congress is going full blast.

Decides to Switch Units; So Army Chap Deserts

CATTERICK, Yorkshire (UPI)—Peter Duncan, 18, was sentenced to nine months detention Tuesday because he joined the British army twice.

An army spokesman said Duncan deserted his Royal Fusiliers unit and immediately signed up for a 22-year hitch with the 25th Royal Signals Regiment because he wanted to learn a trade.

Training Programs Set for Upper Peninsula

LANSING (AP) — The State Department of Public Instruction reports that two new training programs have been approved for the Upper Peninsula under provisions of the Area Development Act.

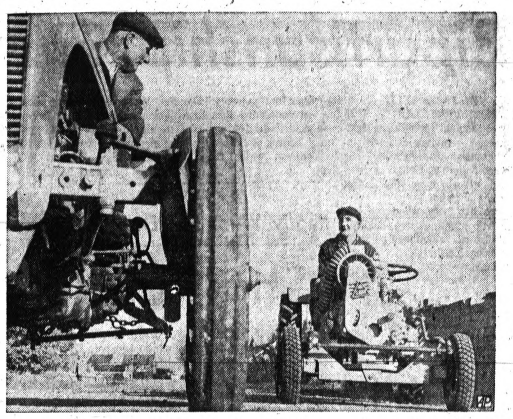
The programs will offer 12-week courses in short-order cooking and baking for 25 trainees at Ironwood and 20 at Sault Ste. Marie.



COMPACT TRACTOR — "Mini Clarkor," tiny tractor—only 36 inches high—is dwarfed by rear wheels of conventional farm tractor. Its designer says it can pull two tons with ease, and that its 10-horsepower engine will run all day on two gallons of fuel.

Bipartisanship Crushed in Congress' Fight Over Cuba

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Democrats and Republicans shaking accusing fingers at each other, bipartisan foreign policy has touched bottom in Congress' frustrated uproar over the Soviet takeover of Cuba.

Since the 1940s when the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, R-Mich., started it all, it has been politically fashionable for office seekers and holders to proclaim their adherence to the idea that partisanship stops at the water's edge.

BELL

Bipartisanship has been reserved for programs, such as foreign aid, where the executive felt he needed every vote he could scrape up in Congress to put over proposals that lacked political appeal among the voters.

But when it came to such decisions as those of former President Harry S. Truman to send American fighting men to Korea, Congress learned of the decision only after it was made.

2 CRITICISMS

Similarly, the present disturbance stems in significant part from (1) President Kennedy's rejection of Republican contentions that there was an offensive threat in Cuba and (2) GOP claims that Republicans were not consulted before Kennedy decided last October to order a quarantine on arms shipments to the island.

Party leaders were summoned to the White House at the time. Their testimony is unanimous that although their comments were asked for, they were told finally that the decision already had been made and would be put into effect.

* * *

This and other actions have led Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, to declare "there is no bipartisan foreign policy." Despite this, he contended that Republicans contribute 100 per cent to "unity in time of crisis" involving decisions in which they didn't share.

Hickenlooper, who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee and is his party's senior member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said that up to now GOP members have never been consulted in advance about major decisions.

* * *

Fulbright accused them of authoring "irresponsible, partisan attacks on foreign policy." He suggested he was at the point of believing that the "Republican party has decided to abandon bipartisanship in matters of the national interest."

QUOTE 'SENATOR'

Denying this, the Republicans produced a document containing nine quotations from Kennedy, as a senator, raising ned with the international actions of the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration.

Their prize was a June 14, 1960, Kennedy quote accusing the Eisenhower administration of "the lack of long-range preparation, the lack of policy planning, the lack of a coherent and purposeful national strategy backed by strength."

* * *

The Republicans tossed back at Fulbright a June 20, 1958, quote in which he said the Eisenhower administration "sags in apathy" so far as "a constructive foreign policy is concerned, insofar as positive action for peace is concerned."

The words might be different but the theme seemed familiar.

Really Want Full Employment

Shorter Work Week's a Labor Symbol

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — The shorter work week is more a symbol of organized labor's genuine concern over continuing high unemployment than an immediate goal.

The steady clamor for a 35-hour week is a way of drawing attention to the fact that the idle rate has been stuck at over 5 per cent for more than five years—meaning five out of every 100 workers can't find jobs.

What AFL-CIO leaders actually want, they made clear at a 10-day session concluded here Tuesday, is a full-employment, full-production economy. They feel it will take drastic government action to get it.

News Analysis

* * *

They propose a deep tax cut along with more public works and other forms of deficit spending to increase purchasing power and demand for goods and services.

The 35-hour work week is another available tool, but the labor leaders probably recognize that opposition expressed by President Kennedy and the seeming disinterest in Congress make this a dim prospect now.

POLITICAL POSSIBILITY

If unemployment should take a sharp upward jump — and the AFL-CIO leaders fear a fifth post-recession is an early probability —the groundwork carefully prepared by labor for the 35-hour week may suddenly pay off in a burst of new political support.

The labor leaders are not entirely agreed among themselves on the best way lawmakers should legislate a shorter work week.

* * *

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, said he feels the 35-hour week may well be too sharp a cut for some firms and industries. He favors, instead a basic 40-hour week that could be adjusted automatically according to economic changes.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, likes the straight 35-hour week approach. He said he isn't at all sure about Reuther's plan.

In a new brochure released today summarizing AFL-CIO arguments for a shorter work week, Meany said: "We argue only that the prosperity of the United States must be based upon full employment, and we believe full employment is possible only if the standard work week is cut."

The pamphlet makes a point that nationwide employment increased in the 1953-62 period only three-fourths as fast as the expansion of the work force. At that rate, the AFL-CIO said, the jobless total will mount 400,000 a year.

"Reducing working hours may not be the best way to create jobs," the AFL-CIO pamphlet said. "But shorter working hours can and will spread employment to some extent."

The study said about one million jobs would be created by every hour cut from the present standard 40-hour work week. At that rate a 35-hour week would wipe out all present unemployment.

Former Policeman Admits Ale Theft

LANSING (AP) — Former policeman Keith Siegel, 39, charged with the theft of a case of ale was assessed $100 fine and $56 costs in municipal court following his guilty plea to a simple larceny charge.

Siegel paid the fine and costs as an alternative to serving 90 days in county jail. Siegel, a member of the force for 18 years, admitted taking the case of ale from the warehouse while on duty.

State's Needy to Get U.S. Aid

LANSING (AP)—Michigan will receive federal grants of $19.9 million for aid to needy children, the aged, the blind and disabled adults in the first quarter starting Jan. 1, reports the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The amount is based on state estimates of how much it will need in the current quarter. Over or underpayments will be adjusted in future grants.

The grants for the quarter will include $8.2 million for old age assistance, $2.7 million for medical assistance to the aged, $7.7 million for aid to families with dependent children, $249,224 for aid to the blind and $950,216 for aid to the permanently and totally disabled.

* * *

The federal share is determined by a formula involving the state's per capita income. The remainder is paid from state and local funds.

'Crime Preventer' Jailed

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI)—Former policeman David O'Connell was sentenced to jail yesterday for stealing from parked cars. He said he "wanted to teach motorists to lock up their vehicles as I was interested in preventing crime."

Battle Against Nature Persists in India Invasion Area

HIMALAYAN MONPAS — Most Monpa people of Towang, a Buddhist monastery town high in the Indian Himalayas, wear yak-skin with tails hanging down on all sides to carry off rain water. These people remained in the area while Communist Chinese occupied that part of India's frontier. AP Photofax

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

TOWANG, India (AP)—A battle persists in India's North East Frontier Agency, though the Red Chinese invaders have withdrawn and the Indian troops they routed have never returned.

BACKGROUND AP SPECIAL REPORT OF THE NEWS

It's the age-old battle of a simple, pastoral people to wrest an existance from grain fields and herds in the high Himalayas.

In miniature it's the pounding of grease from wet raw wool by a pigtailed Monpa woman squatting beside a white stone fountain in this 350-year-old Buddhist monastery town.

Or the struggle of families down the mountainside toward the Towang River, thousands of feet below, to live on the harvests of barley and millet from terraced fields and provide through icy winters for their pigs and chickens and shaggy yak.

In the past India's government has kept most outsiders from the 31,438 square miles of the North East Frontier to allow its 336,000 people to progress into the modern world in an unhurried way that would preserve their traditional values.

POLICY QUESTIONED

This "philosophy of NEFA," like the Indian defense policy that proved inadequate, is now being questioned.

If and when India builds up a military shield around the territory, it may institute changes to speed up the process of modernization.

Some of these tribesmen fled south when Red China sent its brigades across the crest of the Himalayas last fall to enforce its claim to thousands of square miles of disputed frontier territory.

★ ★

But most were scarcely touched by the ebb and flow of lowland soldiers who, invader and defender alike, panted for breath in the thin, cold air. Towang is two miles high.

Indian civilian administrators and police are back.

NO-MAN'S-LAND

The Chinese are presumed to be camped on the Tibetan side of the McMahon Line, the frontier 12 miles north of Towang.

The battered Indian army is rebuilding in the area of Tezpur, a city in the flatlands of Assam State 90 miles southeast of Towang. Prime Minister Nehru has decided against returning his troops to the vacated territory at this time, feeling it might provoke another armed clash.

In Texpur, a city which the Chinese menaced but never reached, open-front shops are busy and government offices bustle with activity.

Tezpur has recovered from immediate effects of its moment of panic last November when thousands fled south across the Bragmaputra River.

However, the people are apprehensive about the possibility of another Chinese attack. They talk in terms of when it may come, rather than if it will.

Bandit Had His Choice in Self-Service Store

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A bandit showed a pistol to clerk Lloyd A. Anderson Wednesday night and demanded the money in the liquor store's cash register.

★ ★ ★

The holdup man helped himself.

Warn Only Alaska as Radioactivity Up

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Public Health Service (PHS) today reported that radioactive fallout increased slightly in several parts of the nation during January but only Palmer, Alaska, was getting a warning level dose of any kind.

★ ★ ★

For the fifth consecutive month, the PHS reported that Palmer received a 12-month accumulation of iodine 131 that was above the federal radiation council's "acceptable health risk" guide.

★ ★ ★

Despite increases in some cases, none of the 62 radiation monitoring stations across the nation recorded monthly or yearly accumulations of strontium 89 or the more dangerous strontium 90 that were anywhere near the warning range.

Midget Joins Auto Firms in Wailing GM Blues

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Midget Motors, Inc., of Athens, Ohio, had a common problem with Chrysler, Ford, Studebaker and American Motors last year.

Official registration figures are now in. They show Midget boosted its volume 12.2 per cent. Although considerably shy of Pontiac's 41.8 per cent increase, it compared favorably with Ford's more modest 10.6 per cent gain.

But while Midget was showing a tidy sales increase, the share of total sales taken by the 9½ horsepower King Midget cars ($960.50 FOB Athens) shrank from .0025 per cent in 1961, when it marketed 148 cars, to .0024 per cent in 1962 when it sold 166.

The other companies suffered an even greater loss as General Motors accounted for 51.8 per cent of all sales, most in its history. Ford was off from 28.5 per cent to 26.3, Chrysler from 10.8 to 9.6, American Motors from 6.3 as statisticians to the auto industry, divides cars into five price classes. The biggest gain in 1962 came in the middle price range, from $2,701 to $3,300 before taxes.

Imports dropped again, taking 4.9 per cent of the total market compared with 6.5 per cent in 1961. Volume dropped, too, for the foreign cars. The 339,160 total was the smallest in five years.

CAME CLOSE

The Detroit companies came unusually close in this assessment of the imported car market. Virtually every domestic estimate of the total volume said imports would account for 300,000 to 350,000 sales, a figure being repeated in 1963 forecasts.

Outside of the five major manufacturers, Polk's registration figures list a catch-all category called "miscellaneous domestic." It's here the King Midget shows up.

Only one other make is listed by name in the miscellaneous group—Checker, which is available as a standard passenger car as well as a taxi cab.

Unlike Midget, Checker bucked the GM trend. Its sales were up 20 per cent and its share of the market increased as well—from .09 per cen to .15 per cent.

ROUGH ON OTHERS

Midget doesn't really mind not being included with the giants of the industry. But from a prestige standpoint it was rough on the others.

Ford's share was its smallest in a decade. Chrysler slipped to its lowest point since 1930 even though the Chrysler car was the only non-GM make to show a year-to-year percentage increase.

American Motors took less of the market than at any time since 1959 and Studebaker's slice was the thinnest since it switched to compact cars in 1958.

Compacts generally slipped a notch, from 32.8 to 31.9 per cent, even though registration of the 11 entries was up more than 200,000 units to a combined total of 2,211,832. Rambler was the leading compact with Falcon second and Chevy 11 a close third. The previous year Falcon edged Rambler.

In line with the reduced share by compacts were the changes in price groupings of the cars registered.

End Payless Paydays Under New Constitution

LIVONIA (AP) — Gov. George Romney says that if the proposed new constitution is adopted, Michigan would not have another payless payday such as occurred in 1959.

"The new constitution would protect against another payless payday, and improve the ability of the state to pay its bills on time," Romney told a Republican meeting in Livonia last night.

Under the present constitution, Romney said, the state has the authority to borrow only $250,000 — enough to run state operations for less than half a day.

The governor observed that under the proposed document, the state could borrow up to 15 per cent of its general fund revenue, now about $64 million, to tide state operations over any temporary rough spots.

Romney said that the 1959 payless payday gave Michigan a "financial black eye from which we have not yet recovered,

"This would not happen under the new constitution," he asserted.

DOUBT AND FEAR

In urging adoption of the new constitution, Romney accused its opponents of seeking to sow seeds of doubt and fear.

"These opponents are irresponsibly predicting both confiscatory taxes and starving public services, and both at the same time," he said.

Romney said the finance and taxation provisions of the new document include some badly needed improvements in state and local finances.

These improvements, he said, include allowing altering of the base of the sales tax by the legislature—such as removing the tax from food and drugs.

Another provision Romney described as an improvement was a ban against a graduated personal income tax, although a flat rate tax would be permitted.

"Wage-earners would be protected from any possibility that the state might duplicate the steeply-graduated income tax pattern that the federal government now imposes," he contended.

Romney said a flat rate income tax, however, would provide flexibility in working out long-range tax reform for the state.

Detroiter Presents Plan to Tanganyika

Armful of Blocks May Help Solve Housing Problems

DETROIT (AP)—A man with an armful of wooden blocks hopes he has the answer to low-cost housing in undeveloped parts of the world.

And Joseph Blair, 58, a Detroit hotel owner who claims a varied background as an inventor, plans to start putting up buildings in Tanganyika this year.

Blair contends his plan for a home made of blocks can be erected for considerably less than $20,000 in the African republic.

★ ★ ★

This would be a minimun, one-story, four to five room home. But says Blair, it would be far better than what most of the natives of Tanganyika now have.

"You should see how they take branches off a tree and use mud and build themselves some kind of home," said Blair.

"And you don't even have to go out to the outskirts of the cities to see mud huts, either," he added. "Africans live in them right in town."

GOVERNMENT INVITATION

He says the Tanganyika government has invited him back this spring. The balding, chunky Negro says Tanganyika needs three and a half to four million housing units and thinks his idea will help provide them. He says other emerging nations have indicated an interest.

It carries both a tongue and a groove and is so designed that it cannot be installed incorrectly.

Other pieces of slightly different shape allow corners, windows, doors, and leveling off for a roof. The blocks are placed with one point down, so that a wall would appear made up of diamond-shaped blocks.

The blocks carry holes through them lengthwise. Alternate holes would carry rods or dowels and cement to bind and strengthen the building. The other holes could carry electrical wires or serve as insulation.

He has a working model and quickly and easily constructs walls, doors, windows and corners with the scaled down blocks.

UNSKILLED LABOR

Blair contends skilled labor would be needed only for the foundation and for the roof. He envisions the foundation being laid one day, the interior and exterior walls being erected the next day by two men who need no special training or skills, and the roof put up on the third day.

He says the U.S. State Department has shown an interest in the plan. Blair also says some domestic firms have talked with him about the idea.

His blocks could be, he says, cast from clay, cement or plastic.

Blair met Sheikh Amri Abedi, then mayor of Dar Es Salaam, in 1961 when he visited Detroit. Abedi told Blair of his country's housing problems and Blair says he started working on a way to overcome them.

The native of Atlanta, Ga., was invited to Tanganyika for the country's independence celebration last December and, as guest of the government, he met with several officials and described his plan.

It was well-received and he has been invited to return this spring with formal plans for a start.

Blair says the first thing needed will be a plan to cast the blocks. He estimates this will cost less than $100,000.

Then, he says, he wants to build a mobile or portable plant, costing about $40,000.

The bespectabled man says the Tanganyika government will pay him for his time and will work out a royalty payment for the use of the blocks.

Union Workers Halt A-Site Construction

NEVADA TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—Construction at the atomic test site was delayed further yesterday when 2,000 employes walked off their jobs in sympathy with electricians striking over the presence of nonunion workers.

A spokesman for Reynolds Electrical and Engineering Co., prime contractor at the site, said he expected 3,000 workers to stay away from their jobs today.

Workers put up a sign about five miles from the main gate which read, "Nonunion labor on site."

About 100 workers milled around and talked, but there were no pickets.

To Offer Legislation for Service Corps

NEW YORK (AP)—Legislation to set up the proposed National Service Corps will be introduced by the administration before Easter, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said Wednesday night.

Disclosing this pre-April 14 deadline in a speech for a New York Police Athletic Club dinner, Kennedy said the corps will be ready to get into operation immediately upon congressional approval.

Conceived as a sort of domestic peace corps, the organization would enlist volunteers to help improve the lot of slum-dwellers, residents of economically depressed areas, the mentally retarded, and others in need.

MANHATTAN IN '88 — Today there's hardly a corporal's guard of old-timers around to recall the Blizzard of '88, but that phrase is still used to measure severe winter weather. Rare photo shows snow piled along one of Manhattan's elevated lines when two vast weather systems collided Monday, March 12, 1888. Hardest-hit area extended from Washington, D.C. to Maine and from New York to Pittsburgh.

Havoc of Blizzard of '88 Yet Has No Peer

Snowstorms come and snowstorms go, but the Blizzard of '88 fills a permanent niche in weather lore. It was a blast.

The great storm wreaked white havoc from Washington, D.C., to Maine, and from New York to Pittsburgh in March 1888. Fierce winds piled up 40-foot drifts. Cities were isolated, ships wrecked, trains stranded. The blizzard took some 200 lives.

A Long Island farmer who ventured outside at the height of the storm perished in his own barnyard. A determined commuter sank nearly out of sight in drifts while trying to cross the closed Brooklyn Bridge.

The main street of Pittsfield, Mass., was buried under 20 feet of snow; some houses were completely covered.

DETAILED BIOGRAPHY

The National Geographic Society, founded in January 1888, featured a detailed biography of the storm in the first issue of its magazine, published in October of the same year.

The blizzard, a Navy scientist explained in the Geographic, resulted from the cataclysmic meeting of two storms.

One was a great arched line of cold winds and snow stretching from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. It swept eastward 600 miles a day.

* * *

The two weather juggernauts collided head-on early on Monday, March 12, 1888. High pressure over Newfoundland kept the storm from surging out to sea.

The blizzard seemed to concentrate its fury on New York City. Snow began sifting down Sunday night. By Monday morning, drifts were knee-high.

Before noon, every horsecar, cable car, and elevated train had stopped running. Firemen raised ladders to rescue passengers from stalled elevated trains.

DANGER IN THE STREETS

Streets were perilous. Wind ripped off signs and rocketed them about. Stone cornices toppled.

Loose ends of broken telephone and telegraph wires whipped through the air. Ice and snow from 2 to 15 feet deep choked Broadway and other main thoroughfares.

Department stores had hopefully designated Monday as Spring Opening Day; a handful of customers appeared. Clerks, stranded in the stores at day's end, spent the night on mattresses — under the watchful eyes of chaperones.

Saloons did a brisk business. Even bedraggled sparrows hopped inside one and were treated to crumbs from the free lunch.

* * *

Winds raged with hurricane force at sea. From Chesapeake Bay to Nantucket, 200 ships were blown ashore, sunk, damaged, or abandoned, the young National Geographic Society reported. Nine New York pilot boats were lost with all hands.

Forty to 50 inches of snow fell in Connecticut and western Massachusetts. A drift in a New Haven street towered 53 feet.

The blizzard abated on Tuesday. Princeton students on snowshoes carried food to passengers trapped nearby on trains. New York City operated irregularly scheduled sleighs, and the mammoth task of digging out began.

Boats started limping into port on Wednesday; some trains broke through. By Thursday it was business almost as usual in cities — amid a sea of slush.

On Friday, trains were running, and communications wires had been repaired.

* * *

A buyer for a New York department store was one of the few adults who really enjoyed the blizzard. Twelve days earlier he had taken a chance on purchasing a whole carload of unclaimed snow shovels.

Slate Debate on Constitution

Delegates to Appear at Waterford Meeting

A debate on the state's proposed new constitution will highlight Tuesday's 8 p.m. meeting of the Greater Waterford Community Council at Pierce Junior High School.

Presenting negative arguments will be Adelaide Hart, delegate from Detroit's 17th District.

The proposed slate is as follows: chairman, Millard James; vice chairman, Mrs. Norman Pankner; recording secretary, Mrs. Eldon Rosegart; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Wayne Seifert; and treasurer, Arthur C. Evans.

Proposed for two year terms on the board of directors are Mrs. Walter Forbes, Mrs. Gerald Lewis and Wayne Seifert. Mrs. E. L. Windeler is slated to fill one-year term.

Now serving on the board with a year remaining are Mrs. John Sauter and Byron Zink.

Sets Pressure on Small Loan

Ferency Asks Scholle, Romney to Defeat Bill

LANSING (AP) — A top Democratic official has put both Gov. George Romney and Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle on the spot on the controversial revision of the state small loans act.

Zolton Ferency, Democratic state chairman, said Romney should "exercise his leadership" to prevent the bill from passing the Senate. The proposal won by an overwhelming 84-20 margin in the House.

If Romney can't stop it in the Senate, Ferency said, he "should brace himself and veto the legislation."

* * *

At the same time, Ferency took Scholle to task for failing to state his position on the proposal, which would hike the legal ceiling on small loans from $500 to $1,500 and increase interest rates.

"I am surprised and chagrined that Gus Scholle has chosen to take a hands-off position on this vital question," said the Democratic official.

Scholle, who opposed the small loans revision proposal vetoed by former Gov. John Swainson two years ago, was quoted earlier as saying he would not fight the new version because it would be "no worse than the present law."

Scholle was among the Democratic party leaders who battled against Ferency's election to the state chairmanship at the party's state convention earlier this month.

Romney, at his new conference yesterday, said he has not determined what position he will take on the controversial small loans revision.

Strangled to Death in Tractor Accident

Washtenaw County deputy sheriffs said it appeared Beckington's heavy winter clothing was caught in the drive shaft which operated a fertilizer spreader. His clothing was wound tightly around his neck.

Dr. Paul Gikas, medical examiner, said death was almost instantaneous from strangulation.

Sir Hiram S. Maxim made history with the first practicable machinegun in 1888.

Colored glass was used in Christian churches as early as the 5th Century.

FAA Considering County Request

No Decision on Funds for Airport

A decision on an Oakland County supervisors' bid to expand Allen Airport hasn't been reached by the Federal Aviation Agency regional office at Kansas City, Mo.

The board of supervisors is seeking FAA approval to qualify for matching funds to help extend runways capacity at the airport in Orion Township by 1970-75.

Meanwhile the FAA regional office is accepting letters voicing opinions both for and against the proposed expansion.

An FAA spokesman said no effort has been made yet to determine the ratio of supporters and objectors.

★ ★ ★

He added that the letters will be studied during the last week in March to determine if an informal hearing should be held in Kansas City before reaching a decision whether to pursue the issue.

A favorable decision would have to be made before April 15 if the airport is to be considered for federal funds this year. That is the date the "National Aviation Plan" will be submitted to Congress in Washington.

The board of supervisors' plans call for expanding the county-owned airport on Giddings Road nearly four times its present 126 acres.

Most of the land proposed for expansion already has been purchased by the county.

WHY ACTION SOUGHT

The expansion is necessary to develop a proposed 5,500-foot north-south runway and a 5,000-foot secondary runway at right angles.

It would enable stepping up operations from the present 500 landings per month to 3,400.

The increased traffic would generate from area industries using the field for corporate flights, according to county officials. They see no demand for increased passenger service in the area between now and 1975.

★ ★ ★

Objections to the county's plans have been raised by the Pontiac City Commission, the Orion Township board and many private citizens in the area.

The commission is opposed to any further expenditure of public funds at the airport.

The commissioners are anxious instead to have the county's financial assistance in the further development of Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Several housewives have banded together to oppose the expansion of Allen Airport as well.

Their spokesman, Mrs. Charles Nasstrom of 502 E. Mansfield Avenue, said they have approximately 2,000 signatures on petitions in protest gathered throughout the county.

★ ★ ★

The aviation committee of the board of supervisors also has been soliciting countywide letters of support.

These letters are being sent directly to the FAA in Kansas City.

Send Local Man to Circuit Court in Assault Case

A 47-year-old Pontiac man charged with assault with intent to murder has been bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment Monday.

Infant Death Under Probe in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — The death of a baby boy, whose mother was sent home from Receiving Hospital three hours after giving birth to her first child, was under investigation today by city health officials.

The child died at home within 15 hours of birth. Wayne County Medical Examiner Dr. Edward S. Zawadski said the boy died of a "massive abdominal hemorrhage, apparently caused by pressure from the thumbs or hands in handling."

He said he suspected the pressure was caused at home.

The 7-pound boy was born to Mrs. Geraldine Slayton, 31, at 3:30 a.m. Tuesday in the emergency ward of the hospital.

Because of lack of facilities for newborn infants at Receiving, hospital authorities attempted to transfer the case to one of two hospitals that handle post-obstetric cases. But rooms were not available.

The mother and child were sent home about 6 a.m. and a visiting nurse was dispatched to their home about four hours later. The nurse said that the child was in good condition.

It was 2:30 that afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. Slayton noticed the child was ill.

The infant was taken to the offices of Dr. Mort Levin, an osteopath who had cared for Mrs. Slayton during pregnancy. But the baby was dead when it arrived.

25,000 State Employes Enroll for Insurance

LANSIN G (UP —An all-time high of 25,000 state Civil Service workers are enrolled in the state-contributory group health insurance program, reports the Civil Service Commission.

The state expects to contribute $1.8 million of the $5.5 million total in premiums paid during the year.

County GOP Hires Staffer

Finance, Organization Are Duties of Post

A former Republican State Central organization worker has been hired by the Oakland County GOP to work full time on finance and organization, County Republican Chairman Charles L. Lyle announced today.

SLAUGHTER

Robert L. Slaughter, 30, of Detroit, has filled the newly created position of field representative for the county GOP, Lyle said.

Slaughter was hired because of "his unique abilities and experiences in the political arena," Lyle explained. "He has established a reputation among party people for getting the job done.

The county GOP had been looking for a man versed in financial aspects of party work. Slaughter's appointment brings to five the total of fulltime paid staff members at county Republican headquarters.

Slaughter is a former vice-chairman of Young Republicans in Detroit's 17th Congressional District, former regional vice chairman of the Michigan Federation of Young Republicans and a Constitutional Convention candidate.

Hurt in Pontiac Twp. as Car Goes in Ditch

A Detroit man was injured last night when his car went out of control on South Lapeer Road in Pontiac Township.

Sheriff deputies said Ferchek's car went into a ditch after he came off the northbound ramp of I-75.

New Site Eyed for Water Tank

Waterford Township's consulting engineers will test a site proposed last night for a water storage tank in the northeast section of the township.

★ ★ ★

The site at Clintonville Road and Walton Boulevard was suggested at a meeting of the Lake Oakland Heights Subdivision Association attended by some Township Board members as well as representatives of the County DPW and the consulting engineers.

Subdivision association members, intent on persuading the Township Board to rescind a motion to locate the tank in their area, explored several prospective sites before selecting this one.

The proposed parcel is available, the group pointed out. And, it isn't adjacent to any residential development, they added.

Objections to locating the 750,000 tank in the Lake Oakland Subdivision area have centered around the theory that its presence would reduce property values considerably.

Results of the engineer's tests on the suggested site will be reported to the Township Board.

TUNA STUFFED ONIONS — Perfect for a luncheon entree are these handsome, mild-flavored onions piled high with a tuna-curried rice stuffing. A crisp salad and fruit for dessert round out the menu.

Tasty Chicken Dish Made With Soup

Chicken Mac Casserole

3 cups cooked macaroni (1½ cups uncooked)
1½ cups cubed, cooked chicken
1-3 cup sliced ripe olives
2 tablespoons minced pimiento
½ teaspoon salt
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed cheese soup, undiluted
¼ cup milk
Dash cayenne
1-3 cup crumbled crackers

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Combine first eight ingredients in a 1½ quart casserole. Top with crackers. Bake 30-35 minutes or until hot. Makes six servings.

Check Alcohol

For a flaming garnish for baked alaska, you can soak sugar cubes in flavoring extract and ignite them; but make sure your extract is at least 80 per cent alcohol or your flaming may not be sucessful.

Stuff Spanish Onions With Rice and Tuna

Though many of you may not be aware of it, much of the canned tuna which you use in sandwiches, casseroles, soups and salads has been supplied to us by the Japanese. Over a period of approximately 11 years the demand for tuna in this country became so great that our own fishing fleets simply could not supply it. So they turned to the Japanese for help. Today, about 40 per cent of all the tuna packed by American canners is caught by Japanese fishermen.

The reasons for tuna's tremendous popularity are numerous. Flavor, simplicity of preparation and nutritive value . . . it's an excellent source of protein . . . are only a few.

Tuna Stuffed Onions

6 medium (3-inch) Spanish onions, peeled
Boiling water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup chicken bouillon or stock
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 package (6-ounces) curried rice, cooked
2 Cans (6½ to 7-ounces each) tuna, drained and flaked
1 can (10½-ounces) condensed cream of celery soup
½ cup dairy sour cream

Cut off tops of onions, remove and reserve centers leaving ½-inch shell. Chop centers; measure and reserve ½ cup. Place onion shells in 1-inch boiling water; cover and cook 5 minutes. Invert and drain.

Saute chopped onion in butter until tender. Blend in flour; gradually add bouillon and cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add salt, pepper, rice and tuna; mix well.

Arrange stuffed onions in shallow baking dish and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 50 to 60 minutes or until onions are tender. Meanwhile, combine soup and sour cream; heat but do not boil, stirring constantly; serve with tuna stuffed onions.

Almonds Take Place of Meat

There's no need for the cook to suffer with souffles. A good souffle recipe is no more difficult to make properly than any other. For proof positive, try this recipe for "Almond Cheese souffle."

Crunchy roasted diced almonds are the extra-added attraction that puts this souffle into a class by itself. They are combined with American cheese, mushrooms, milk, butter, eggs and seasonings to make a souffle that meets the demand for a satisfying and nutritious meatless main dish to serve during Lent.

Keep a can or package of crisp almonds on hand to add unique flavor and texture to entrees and desserts. These nuts contain as much body-building protein as lean meat, milk or eggs and are rich in B vitamins, calcium and iron.

Almond Cheese Souffle

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
¼ cup sliced mushrooms
½ cup grated American cheese
3 eggs
¼ cup roasted diced almonds

Melt butter and blend in flour. Add milk and and cook and stir until thickened. Add salt, paprika, mushrooms and cheese and cook over low heat until cheese melts.

Separate eggs. Beat yolks and whites separately. Stir yolks and almonds into cooked mixture. Fold in whites. Turn into greased 1-quart casserole and set in pan of hot water.

Bake in 375-degree (moderately hot) oven about 45 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

New Barbecue Idea

Ever think of barbecuing short ribs of beef in spaghetti sauce? Try this! Trim meat from bone and cut 3 pounds short ribs of beef into chunks; place in shallow baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Blend a 10¾-ounce can spaghetti sauce with mushrooms with 1 tablespoon brown sugar; pour over meat. Continue baking an additional 1½ hours, basting frequently. Makes 4 servings.

Pontiac Press Photo

By JANET ODELL

Michigan's only fresh winter first was presented in a hundred or more different ways at the Hothouse Rhubarb Festival last Saturday in Utica. The attractive pink stalks lend themselves to palate tempting dishes.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Howard DuRussel who became senior champion cook at the Festival married into a rhubarb grower's family only last December. This was her first entry in a cooking contest.

1 tablespoon marshmallow cream
½ pint whipping cream

Beat egg white and cream separately, adding sugar to egg white. Fold them together with the marshmallow cream and ½ cup rhubarb mixture. Spread over cooled filling.

Suzanne Martin, the junior winner, is 12 and a 6th grader. She has tried four times to achieve a prize-winning entry in the rhubarb contest. This year she really succeeded.

Corn Is a Filler in Shrimp Dish

When the cold winter weather sharpens family appetites, hearty casserole main dishes are just the thing for suppertime satisfaction. So much variety is possible with casseroles that they provide an easy way to give a change of pace to meals.

Here's a recipe for Shrimp-Corn Casserole that can lend a different and delicious spark to winter dinners.

Shrimp-Corn Casserole

3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
¾ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 4 ounces)
2 (12-ounce) cans whole kernel corn, drained
1 tablespoon grated onion
½ teaspoon celery seed
¼ teaspoon onion salt
1 pound shrimp, cooked, shelled, and deveined
Parsley

Melt butter. Add flour and blend. Gradually add milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add cheese and cook, stirring constantly, until cheese is melted. Add corn, onion, seasoning, and half of shrimp. Mix well.

Turn into greased 1½-quart baking dish. Top with remaining shrimp, and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Garnish with parsley.

Makes 4-6 servings.

Beef and Pork Remain on Bargain List Today

Beef and pork supplies are larger than a year ago, and good values in both these meats are available in food stores again this week reports the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Processed fruits and vegetables continue to be popular choices since fresh produce supplies are smaller than usual at this season.

Shoppers will find chuck, steaks and ribs among the better beef buys this week-end. When comparing prices between featured cuts and those at regular prices, be sure that grade or quality is the same.

This is a low-price period for pork, so most cuts represent good values from a cost standpoint. Loin cuts, ham, shoulder, and bacon are receiving store emphasis to attract attention this week.

Since pork will be in abundance during the next month, how will you serve it? Cherry glaze on pork roasts or chops is one way to add variety. Braised pork roast with vegetables such as carrots, potatoes and onions is another. Have you tried pork shoulder stuffed with bread or rice stuffing with or without fruit or herbs?

LOTS OF FISH

There is plenty of canned tuna, fish sticks, sardines and canned shrimp. You may notice that sardines and canned shrimp are lower priced than last year at this time. Red salmon is in moderate supply and price is expected to stay about as it has been.

Rain and cool weather recently interrupted citrus harvest in California, and a combination of rain, wind and wet fields hampered harvesting of vegetables in many Florida areas. Shoppers will find that Navel orange supplies are small and prices high. Generally, one can see improvements in fresh vegetable supplies and quality each week.

Excellent quality apples from controlled atmosphere storage rooms are in the markets. The letters "CA" on the package are your guide to orchard-fresh flavor.

Pear supplies are large for so late in the season. Shoppers will find good supplies of Anjou pears from the West Coast at very reasonable prices.

Peak supplies of Michigan hothouse rhubarb are now available, and price is about as low as you will find for this delicate plant. Use this rhubarb without peeling, but remember to remove and discard the leaves.

Apple Compote

4 large tart apples
1 cup sugar
1 cup water
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Red food coloring

Peel apples; cut with vegetable scoop to make 24 small balls; save trimmings. Combine sugar, water and lemon juice; stir over medium heat until sugar dissolves. Add apple balls to syrup; put through sieve or food mill. Tint resulting applesause pink with a drop or two of food coloring. Put equal amount applesauce in each of 4 dessert dishes; top with apple balls. Makes 4 servings.

Wheat Germ Coats

To bread chicken with wheat germ: place in paper bag ½ cup flour, ½ cup toasted wheat germ, tablespoon of salt and teaspoon each of paprika and pepper. Put in several pieces of chicken at time and shake well. Chicken is breaded quickly, easily and evenly. Fry in ½ inch hot fat in skillet. Cook slowly about 35 minutes.

Coconut Crunch

Delicious topping for ice cream: mix together brown sugar, melted butter and flaked coconut; toast lightly in a moderate oven for about five minutes. Spread the coconut mixture evenly on a sheet of heavy foil or over the bottom of a shallow pan before toasting.

Make Own Cooky Mix for Speed, Economy

Quantity recipes for cookies aren't necessarily reserved for large families; we know one homemaker with only two children who makes up brownies in lots of 100. She freezes the extra ones.

HOMEMADE COOKY MIX

6 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons soda
2 cups shortening, soft
4 cups Quaker or Mother's Oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)

Sift together three times flour, sugar, salt and soda into large bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in oats. Store mix in covered container at room temperature. Makes 14 cups.

HONEY SPICE COOKIES: To 3½ cups Homemade Cooky Mix, add 1 egg, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon mace, ½ cup honey and 2 eggs; mix well. Drop by teaspoons onto greased cooky sheets. Bake in preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes. Frost with confectioners' sugar frosting; sprinkle with toasted slivered almonds. Makes 3½ dozen cookies.

COCONUT--ORANGE SQUARES: To 3½ cups Homemade Cooky Mix, add 1 egg, ¾ cup orange juice and 1 cup flaked or shredded coconut; mix well. Spread dough evenly in two greased 8-inch square pans. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. Frost with orange confectioners' sugar frosting. Makes 32 squares.

Sliced Bananas Cover Cake Before Frosting

Bananas are for everybody. Young, old or in the hey-day of life. In season all year, bananas are good eating raw or cooked, for breakfast, lunch or dinner. A yen for bananas is developed at a very early age for bananas are among the first foods, other than milk, given to infants. The sweetness and smooth texture of this fruit, its easy digestibility and high nutritional value make bananas enjoyable and valuable throughout life.

Obviously in Europe they are just discovering the many virtues and delights of bananas, for banana imports jumped an amazing 60 per cent in the five years between 1955 to 1960. West Germany, in fact, doubled its banana consumption in that period.

It takes a crop of 9-billion pounds of bananas to take care of the world's banana-munchers. Bananas grow in a belt around the earth at the equator or not far from it—wherever it's nice and steamy. It is the most important fruit in the tropics. The largest area of production is Central America, but the greatest single grower is Ecuador in South America.

Some authorities say the banana is native to India where it has been cultivated for 4,000 years; at any rate the armies of Alexander the Great found the fruit abundant in the Valley of the Indus around 327 B.C. From there bananas were spread throughout the tropics generally by explorers, slave traders, missionaries.

Virginia Banana Cake

3 cups sifted cake flour
4 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup (1½ sticks) butter or margarine
2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
1½ cups sugar
3 large eggs, unbeaten
1 cup milk
*Brown sugar frosting
10 medium-large firm ripe bananas
2 tablespoons chopped nuts

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Set aside to use later. Soften butter or margarine and blend in pure vanilla extract. Gradually add sugar, mixing until fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add sifted flour alternately with milk. Beat batter ½ minute.

Turn into 3 well greased lightly floured 9-inch, round cake pans. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees) 25 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean.

Place a layer on a cake plate and slice bananas over the top, making two layers. Spread with brown sugar frosting. Repeat using the second layer. Top with the third layer and cover it with 2 layers sliced bananas and frosting. Sprinkle chopped nuts over the top.

Brown Sugar Frosting

1½ cups brown sugar
⅓ cup water
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
2 large egg whites
1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract

Cook over boiling water, beating constantly with an electric or rotary beater until the frosting stands in soft, stiff peaks. Remove from water and continue beating until frosting stands in very stiff peaks. Yield: Enough to cover tops of three 9-inch layers.

Meringue Top Covers Jam in Cookies

Tea for two or twenty becomes extra-special when you pass a tray of dainty Little Twinks. Meringue puffs top rich cookie dough and hide a bright filling of raspberry preserves.

To make these hidden-treasure cookies, sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour and ½ teaspoon salt. Cream ⅔ cup butter or margarine with 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar until light and fluffy.

Add 2 egg yolks and 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Beat well. Blend in flour gradually, stirring to make a smooth dough. Add ½ cup flaked coconut and mix thoroughly.

Drop dough by tablespoonfuls on ungreased baking sheet. Make a depression in the center of each cookie and fill with ¼ teaspoon red raspberry preserves. (You'll need ⅓ cup preserves to fill all the cookies.)

Beat 2 egg whites with a dash of salt until frothy. Add ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar gradually and continue beating until stiff peaks are formed. Top each cookie with a teaspoonful of meringue to cover preserves.

Bake in slow oven (300 degrees) about 30 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen cookies.

Landry has issued a proclamation urging all citizens to participate in this day.

Women's Section

Olde . . . and Expensive

NEW YORK — One thing is being proved this week at the antiques show — in Madison Square Garden — in the good old days the advertising didn't come off with the wrapper.

In fact, it appears from many of the show's exhibits that the manufacturers of an earlier time did everything they could — stamping, chiseling, engraving, molding and glueing — to preserve their names for posterity.

Or at least to preserve them for the life of the tin can, bottle, jar, jug or whathave you in which they marketed their wares.

The 19th annual National Antiques Show, which opened an eight-day run Wednesday, offers a head-swimming collection of gleaming furniture, oddities, all old and beautiful — or hideous, depending on your tastes.

$375 CAROUSEL

You can buy a German double-decker miniature carousel for $375 or a 1640 blunderbuss for $1,850. You can spend $35 on a tiny china plate, or use the same amount of money to acquire a lovely table or chair.

But if you belong to the school of collectors who are charmed by anything that's obviously old, and you don't want to spend too much, you are likely to end up helping to preserve those old trade names.

★ ★ ★

A Hackensack, N. J., shop offers a tin dispenser for penny boxes of matches, indelibly stamped with a reminder that "safety matches" was a registered trade mark. The same shop perpetuates on the top of a lovely maple bench the name of "J. P. Larison, Miller and Grain Dealer, Washington, N. J."

An Owego, N. Y. dealer is one of the leading exponents of the "junk eventually becomes valuable" school.

He sells empty tins that once contained Royal baking powder and Pilgrim peaches, a plain wooden box advertising breakfast cocoa made by a Walter Baker of Dorchester, Mass ($3) and old posters advertising Syracuse-made bock beer and Crocker's honest fertilizers from from Oriskany Falls, N. Y. Even an old Prince Albert tobacco can has a price — 85 cents.

Countless items in the show are reminders that dealers once gave out advertising gifts that are now far more valuable than the products they were selling.

A little iron trivet offered by a Baltimore dealer for $2.50 was once given away with a purchase of tea, coffee or sugar and its metal whorls read "Kennedy Co., Baltimore."

A small tin that once held ginger cookies sells for $2.50 in a shop transported from Billerica, Mass. The same shop sells huge glass jars, from which the Planters peanuts are missing but the name is forever there, for from $10 to $18.

BIG SIGN

For $12.50 you can buy from a New York shop a big sign reading in gold on black, "Ridgeways Brass Lantern Tea Room," with an arrow pointing right and this cryptic line: "Tip of T. Wharf."

★ ★ ★

And if for some ghoulish reason you take a fancy to a big metal store sign reading "F. W. Godfrey, practical embalmer and funeral director," you'll have to pay $60 for the fancy.

Rho Chapter Initiates 2 at Meeting

Helping the president, Mrs. Morrell Jones, to initiate Mrs. Melvin Newton and Mrs. Robert Snow were Wilma Webb, Mrs. Melvin Boersma, Mrs. Curtis Cheek, Mrs. E. Cleo Wiley and Evelyn Woodworth.

WCTU Members Hear Instrument Theme Talk

Mrs. Mary Carls spoke on "The Ten-String Instrument" before Emor L. Calkins Unit of Women's Christian Temperance Union, Tuesday. The president, Mrs. Frank R. Hardenburg of Foster Street, was luncheon hostess.

The state WCTU will sponsor Legislative Day, March 17 in Lansing, at 9 a.m. Senators and representatives will attend the luncheon.

The spring agenda includes the 18th District Institute opening at 10 a.m. April 24, in the First Baptist Church, and the WCTU Federation breakfast at 9 o'clock May 7, in the First Congregational Church.

Mrs. Nellie Monroe, past federation president, spoke on Pontiac city problems and urged more interest in current affairs.

FRANCES WILLARD

A book review on the "Life of Frances Willard," by Mrs. J. H. Moon, was a highlight of a Frances Willard tea for members of Pontiac WCTU Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Ray Fleming on Cottage Street.

Mrs. George Stiles was soloist and Mrs. Lorne Warner gave devotions.

The sewing project for hospitalized servicemen will be resumed at the March 26 meeting.

Marriage Is for Mature Girls; Texts, Milk Bottles Don't Mix

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I think the parent-planned marriages like they had in the old country years ago should become a custom in this country.

Why not let the girls marry at 16 and finish their education in an all-married-girls' high school? It would save a lot of wear and tear on parents who have a tough time keeping their daughters in line.

MRS. C.

ABBY

DEAR MRS. C.: Marriage is for mature people — not children. Granted, some mature people make a poor choice, but the key to keeping daughters in line is not wedlock.

When a girl marries she should be mature enough to make a home for her husband and to rear any children that follow. Mixing school books with milk bottles and bills is for the birds.

DEAR ABBY: Just exactly what is an engagement ring supposed to mean, and how long should an engagement last?

I got an engagement ring two years ago Christmas and so far my boy friend has made no plans for our future. When I ask him to help me set a wedding date, he finds a hundred excuses.

The main one is that he is in debt. It is no wonder, the way he spends money before he gets it. Should I give him his ring back or wait some more? I am 22 and he is 24.

LONG ENGAGEMENT

DEAR LONG: Before you make that decision, collar your boy friend and ask him what his plans for the future are. If he has none — and doesn't want to make any — it means he is not seriously considering marriage. In which case, return his ring.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please explain why a girl has to accept a date with the first boy who asks her for a special occasion — or else stay home?

The creepiest boys get wise to this and ask unreasonably early. I realize a girl can't refuse on the grounds that she hopes someone more desirable will ask her.

But if she tells the early caller that she "might be out of town" and then shows up with a date, she makes the early caller mad at her. It seems there should be a way out for a girl.

ONE GIRL'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If a girl doesn't care to accept a date with a fellow (no matter when he calls her), she should simply say, "I'm sorry. I'm busy." (She could be "busy" at home, cleaning dresser drawers, etc.) The less fibbing a girl does, the better.

Wear That Corsage Anyway

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: When a boy sends a girl a corsage to wear to a dance and the color of the flowers he has chosen clashes with her dress, must she wear them?

A: This is a very unhappy situation and it is for this very reason that a boy should ask a girl what color flowers she would like before sending them to her.

However, even though the flowers are unsuitable, it would be very rude and deeply hurt the boy's feelings not to wear them — if not on her dress to at least pin them on her coat or wrap or on her purse.

Q: I am in the midst of addressing my wedding invitations and there seems to be a difference of opinion as to the correct way of folding and inserting them into the envelopes. Will you please straighten me out on this detail?

A: An envelope size invitation is inserted in the inner envelope with the engraved side toward you. A large invitation is folded in half with engraving inside, and inserted folded edge down, into the envelope. With the unsealed flap of the filled inner envelope in the palm of the hand, insert it in the mailing envelope.

Q: Our son is going to be married shortly and we have been informed by the bride's family that we can have only 50 guests. We have a great many relatives and friends who will be hurt if they are not invited to the wedding. We would be perfectly willing to pay for these extra guests ourselves. May we suggest this to the bride's mother?

A: I'm sorry, but it would not be proper to do as you suggest. The bride's parents are the hosts at the wedding and everything about it, including the number of guests, is entirely up to them. You may give as large and elaborate a reception as you wish to welcome the young couple home from their honeymoon.

Auxiliary Sets Dinner, Talk

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society will hold a dinner meeting at The Pagoda March 7.

★ ★ ★

The program will include music by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lindquist. Following will be a short talk on the proposed constitution by the Birmingham League of Women Voters.

Girls Ages 11, 13 Both Bear Children

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two young mothers, one 11 years old and the other 13, and their infant daughters were reported doing well today.

Medical authorities described the births as unusual, but not rare.

Both girls gave birth Tuesday. The 11-year-old mother's daughter weighed 7 pounds, 2 ounces at birth at juvenile hall. It will be up to Juvenile Court to decide their future.

City Business Women Hear Mexican Teacher

Albert Riddering, youth education director of First Presbyterian Church spoke of his 12 years teaching in Mexico before the Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday in Devon Gables.

Dinner hostesses were Violet McCoy, Mrs. Hazel McGirr and Ethelynn Peterson. The program was arranged by Mrs. Eva Clark, Bonnie Davidson and Margaret Harths.

May Adams will attend the forthcoming Institute on Organizational Leadership at Oakland University.

Mrs. M. D. Stapp and Mrs. Norman Dyer are cochairmen for the annual pancake supper March 26 in the First Federal Savings of Oakland building.

The club is sponsoring a student nurse at Michigan State University.

Twenty members of the Pontiac club joined some 550 other members at the 30th annual International Night dinner Saturday in the Prince Edward Hotel, Windsor.

A former native of Pontiac, Mrs. Esther Van Wagoner Tufty of Washington, D.C., spoke on the importance of keeping pace with the news in the atomic age.

Gray Ladies to Train Volunteers

Responding to a request from St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, the Gray Lady Service of the American Red Cross will begin March 11 to train a group of volunteers for evening and weekend service among the hospital's patients.

Following a short course of instruction and orientation these volunteers will don uniforms and begin work at nursing stations, at information and admitting desks, answering phones, taking messages, feeding patients and giving services the nurses have no time to provide.

At the end of this period of supervised training volunteers will receive their certificates and be capped as members of the extensive Red Cross Gray Lady Service whose members from Pontiac and surrounding area continuously serve in various hospitals in Oakland County.

Information may be obtained or interviews may be arranged by calling the Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Will Hold Day of Recollection

Siena Heights College Alumnae Association, Oakland Chapter, will hold an annual day of recollection Sunday at the convent of the Sisters of St. Francis Xavier in Fraser.

Rev. Urbin Hoorman, retreat master, will conduct conferences from 1:15 to 4:30 p.m. followed by a light supper.

Women Hold Lent Service

Members of the Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church opened the Lenten season at Wednesday's meditation service, preceding a luncheon.

Discussion groups were formed to consider "Our Church Covenant," "A Meaningful Devotion Service," "Widening Our Horizons" and "Significance of Missions."

★ ★ ★

Study groups suggested ideas for improving fellowship meetings, projects and the church in general.

Mrs. Malcolm K. Burton displayed books to aid Bible comprehension.

Unusual Topping

For an unusual taste in salad dressing, mash one banana into a cup of mayonnaise.

Latest Details on Met Presented

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

At the home of Mrs. R. Jamison Williams on Yarmouth Road, opera volunteers gathered to hear the latest information on the Metropolitan Opera Festival which takes place at the Masonic Temple May 20 through 25.

Arrangements of daffodils and greens were in abundance throughout the house, reminding guests that spring was really in sight.

Mrs. Theodore O. Yntema, general chairman of the women's committee, informed the group that due to illness Madame Tebaldi had to cancel her performances with the Met in New York as well as the spring tour.

However, Mrs. Yntema assured the group that the Metropolitan would announce a replacement as soon as details could be worked out.

OPERA COURSE

This area's committee has planned a broad program and welcomes citizen participation.

Under chairmanship of Mrs. Benjamin Brewster, Cranbrook Music Guild is sponsoring an eight-week opera course conducted by Professor Glenn McGeoch.

On March 13 at 8 p.m. in Wylie Grove High School, Rossini's "Barber of Seville" will be presented. Mrs. Carl Sundberg is chairman for this event.

Mrs. Robert N. Green presented as a special highlight for the afternoon, Barbara M. Phillips, this year's Grinnell scholarship winner, who sang several arias.

Among guests were: Mrs. John S. Bugas, Mrs. Richard Kern, Mrs. William H. McGaughey, Mrs. Theodore Guething, Mrs. John W. Sanders, Mrs. Gilbert Richards, Mrs. Harry Hoyt, Mrs. Lynn Townsend, Mrs. Robert L. Graham and Mrs. George W. Davis.

Other women working on committees are Mrs. Willys P. Wagner, Mrs. LeRoy W. Dahlberg, Mrs. George R. Squibb, Mrs. Kenneth G. Manuel, and Mrs. John S. French.

Being Afraid to Make Mistake Is Human

By MRS. MURIAL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My little boy's nursery school teacher says that he can't make decisions. She says that the other children always get ahead of him because he can't make up his mind what colored paper or toy he wants to play with.

I have noticed myself how tense he gets when he has to select a candy from a box.

Even when he manages to pick one out he is never satisfied with it but always wants to change it...

★ ★ ★

Answer: How are you on decisions? When you've made one that turns out to be uncomfortable, do you feel obliged to stick to it?

★ ★ ★

If you do, you must be as fearful of making decisions as your little boy.

If is extremely difficult to make decisions, no matter how old we are, if we feel that there is no out from a mistaken one.

We teach a child to develope contentment with his choices by refusing punish him for a bad one.

When he hesitates between a cherry candy and a lemon one, we remove the threat from his decision by giving him an out from the one that may prove unsatisfactory.

We say, "Take the lemon one, and if you don't like it, you can have this red one." By making a correction of the bad decision available to him, we release him from fear of making any.

Do I sound subversive and overindulgent to you?

If so, that may be because you pride yourself on tolerating the uncomfortable consequences of your own mistaken choices. Many of us do suffer from this kind of self-punishing pride.

If we've chosen the wrong job, we submit to its discomforts instead of thinking, "O.K. I chose wrong. But I don't have to suffer for the rest of my life."

We regard our submission to the punishing results of our poor decision as fine and responsible, whereas the fact is, we are people who cannot forgive ourselves a mistake. We are people who must always be right.

We certainly have to pay for mistakes. But we don't have to hang on the cross of them indefinately. It is only parents who hate themselves for being wrong who create the problem of indecisiveness in children.

★ ★ ★

MSU Collegians Really in the Swim

By SUE DORMAN

As spring nears, Pontiac area students have become members of new clubs and activities at Michigan State University.

Spring Water Carnival and Greek Week head the list of events. Dormitory term parties and dorm sports also dominate students' hours.

Spring Greek Week consists of intersorority and fraternity meetings and activities. During this week, the Greek houses sponsor parties, dances, sings and teas, as well as dinners. Faculty members and students are invited to attend the Greek functions.

Sarah Barningham, a senior, has recently become a resident assistant for West Wilson dorm. Sarah has been placed in charge of 55 girls during spring term. She lives on West Huron Street.

ELECTED CHAIRMAN

Sophomore Judy Hinkley of Illinois Avenue, has been selected as a chairman for the rules and regulations committee during Spring Water Carnival. Judy's sorority, Alpha Phi, plans a semi-formal term party which she will attend this weekend.

★ ★ ★

The international student United Nations organization held a convention Saturday. Twenty-one universities were represented. Ruth Hoffman, freshman, of Miller Street, represented MSU at the winter conference.

Sophomore Patricia Burns has been chosen as the chairman for faculty exchange dinners during Greek Week. Her committee organizes exchange dinners between fraternity, sorority and MSU faculty members. Patricia is a member of the Delta Delta Sorority and lives on Ogemaw Road.

BARBARA ANNE HALE

The Clarence R. Hales of Union Lake announce the engagement of their daughter Barbara Anne to Merle Shaver, son of the Maurice Shavers of Barker Street. A May 4 wedding is set.

Virginia Norvell, freshman, of Wenonah Drive, was active in preparing the Gilchrist term-end party.

Alpha Delta Theta, a medical technology honorary, has invited Linda Wray to become a member. Linda is a junior and lives on Osceola Drive.

The Yakely dorm bowling team has Heidi Griffith in its membership. Heidi, a freshman, is heading the public relations committee for Spring Greek Week. Her address is at Dakota Drive, and she is a Chi Omega Sorority pledge.

Ted Hoffman has been basketball team captain, coach and referee for Bryan Hall this term. The men of Bryan have achieved the second flight championship this year under his leadership. Ted is a sophomore and lives on Miller Street.

Betty Conner and Sue Steinbaugh have been active in helping pledges organize a "Fort Lauderdale" party. Active Alpha Xi Delta members, both girls are seniors. Betty lives on Littlefield Road and Sue lives on Owego Drive.

Remove Odors

Homemade air freshener recipe—add one teaspoon of ammonia to a large bowl of water and let it stand overnight in a room. This works well in removing the odor of fresh paint or cigarette smoke.

WERNHER VON BRAUN

Stop Dish Sliding

A rubber jar ring glued to the bottom of the dog's dish will keep it from sliding on linoleum floors.

Wernher von Braun Due to Speak at Town Hall

Birmingham Town Hall will present Dr. Wernher von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center, at the Birmingham Theater 11 a.m. Thursday and Friday. His topic will be "Why We Must Explore Space."

Dr. von Braun, who was born at Wirsitz, Germany, in 1912, received his doctorate in physics at the University of Berlin and came to America in 1945, under contract to the U.S. Army. He directed high altitude firings of captured V2 rockets at White Sands Missile Range, N.M.

★ ★

Later, he became project director of a guided missile development unit at Fort Bliss, Tex. In 1960, the entire group was transferred to Huntsville, Ala. where the Army centered its rocketry activity.

Employing more than 5,400 persons, the Marshall Center has as its major project the Saturn space rocket.

Luncheons following both lectures will be held in the Birmingham Country Club.

Plays Hostess to Extension Group in City

Polly's Pointers

Laundry in 'Hammock'

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I have a laundry tip that should be useful for anyone who has trouble stooping.

Hang one sheet on two clothelines, hammock fashion. When gathering up the clothes, toss them in to the hammock, pull the corners of the sheet together to form a bag and make one trip do it all. MRS. J. M. R.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — Instead of throwing away an old roller shade, put it in the trunk of your car.

When trouble occurs, unroll it on the ground where you are working and your clothes will stay clean MRS. C. S.

DEAR POLLY — In the course of a year I give quite a few home permanents to family and friends.

I have discovered that if I use a toothbrush instead of cotton when applying the waving lotion, it ends much dripping and combs the hair at the same time. MRS. P. G.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — I have a decorative and useful idea for a youngster's bedroom. Take a large bare branch, preferably one that has many twigs, and hang it on the wall over a chest.

It may be sprayed any color you choose. Hang a young girl's ribbon headbands on the twigs or use them as holders for neckties in a boy's room. MRS. M. B.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

Elbows Will Reveal Age

Dermatologists maintain that elbows provide an excellent clue to age, so be sure that you devote sufficient time and care to elbow-grooming!

Before your daily bath, cover both elbows with thick soapsuds, and let this "treatment" soften imbedded grime while you finish bathing.

Then use a well-lathered loofah or brush to scrub away soil ground into the skin through the leaning and hard usage which elbows usually endure. After rinsing and drying, massage elbows with non-sticky hand lotion.

'Anything and Everything' Conflicts

Feudin', Fightin' Still Part of Brother Love

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research, Inc.

What's the biggest bone of contention between young people and their families?

With dad it concerns allowances and money; with mom, it's housework and chores, and with brothers and sisters, the source of conflict can be anything and everything.

Only about 15 per cent of the girls and 12 per cent of the boys interviewed in our latest national poll say they have no family conflicts.

* * *

However, about three-fifths of the girls and half the boys say they get along well with their fathers, and nearly 60 per cent of both girls and boys say life with mother is smooth.

Other major sources of conflict with fathers are use of the family car, for boys, and dating and curfew restrictions, for girls.

With mother the problems with boys arise over money and allowance, and again with girls, dating restrictions.

* * *

Grades, report cards and homework as sources of conflict are low on the list of sore spots.

Only about 4 per cent of the girls and 6 per cent of the boys named this area as troublesome.

SHARP DROP

But when the teeners start talking about relations with their brothers and sisters, the harmony quotient drops off sharply.

Only about 36 per cent say they get along well with their sisters, and 36 per cent of the girls and 31 per cent of the boys say the same about their brothers.

Arguments over who is to do what chores occur most often among sisters, while "little things" — small, general aggravations — cause brothers to fight.

EARLY TEENS TOUGHEST

The early teen years are named almost unanimously by our respondents as the time when conflicts with mothers and fathers have been most evident.

* * *

"He won't let me have the car," states Bruce Waters, 16, of Fort Smith, Ark.

* * *

"You're too young is all I hear," says Mike Kran, 17, of Cleveland.

But Bob Karl, 16, of Faribault, Minn., says in defense of his mother: "She always listens to me and hears me out."

* * *

The ages when brothers and sisters seem to come in conflict isn't as predictable however.

A Dover, N. J. youth complains his sister's been trouble "from 1 to 17. She's a pain."

The future looks brighter, however, to more than 70 per cent of the teen-agers. They think relationships with their brothers and sisters will be better when they all grow up.

As Linda Gordon, 16, of Oklahoma City says: "We will both be more mature and able to face problems."

And Mary Chris, 16, of New Britain, Conn., concludes: "We will be able to know each other better then."

* * *

So until all the young people are grown up and off on their own, parents will still have to put up with feudin', fightin', and fussin' that seems to be an integral part of brotherly and sisterly love.

Church Unit Has Reading at Meeting

A Lenten reading by Mrs. Julius Hoganson opened yesterday's meeting of the Mary-Martha Circle of Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church, in her home on Linda Vista Drive.

World Service chairman, Mrs. Thomas Perry, reported on the Sam Moffetts of Korea, special missionaries-of-the-month.

Mrs. Francis Oak gave the program on Korea from the book "On the Rim of East Asia."

Citizens' Unit Holds Dinner

Twenty-one members and guests attended the Senior Citizens' cooperative dinner meeting and social evening Tuesday in the Oakland Park Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Sweazy, Mrs. Dora Brown and Mrs. Lenna McCully, comprised the social committee.

Grandpa's Cookies Are Everyone's Favorite

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

We asked for it and we got it! Recipes for Grandpa's Sugar Cookies have been pouring into our office. At first we started to list the kind readers who responded to our plea; but there were too many.

We'll just say, "thank you" to all and print the recipe which everyone says is wonderful.

* * *

We did talk with Mrs. R. L. Haines of Oxford whose late father, Robert D. Cox, sent in the original recipe. Mrs. Haines says the recipe came from Canada and has been in the family for years; she is the fourth generation to use it.

GRANDPA'S SUGAR COOKIES

1 cup lard or 1¼ cups vegetable shortening
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs
⅓ cup milk
1 teaspoon grated nutmeg
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 teaspoons vanilla
Flour—about 3 cups

Mix all ingredients in large bowl. Add flour to make dough stiff enough to roll. Roll about ¼ inch thick, sprinkle with sugar and cut out.

Bake 10-12 minutes at 425 degrees; how long they bake depends upon the thickness. Watch them —they scorch easily!

Store in cookie jar or freeze after baking. Makes about 8 dozen.

The original recipe called for lard, but Mrs. Haines gave us the proper amount of other shortening to use. She sometimes substitutes orange juice for the milk.

Apprentice Students Seek Costumes, Props

Teen-agers at the Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre in Bloomfield Hills are hunting costumes and props for an open-house performance on Sunday.

The public may attend these programs made up of scenes from great plays, at 3 p. m. and 8 p. m., without charge.

New classes will register at Will-O-Way Monday through March 11. Play production classes are limited to 12 students.

Children and teens are placed with others of their own age level and development.

* * *

At age seven, they can lash flats; at eight, they may run props; at nine, they are sound engineers and at 10, they pull the curtain.

At 13, students may manage and at 14, direct.

Classes beginning the first week in March will end with performances May 25.

The Apprentice Theatre now holds classes in two locations, the Detroit Studio at 17706 West Seven Mile Road, near Southfield, and on West Long Lake Road.

'Bye, Bye, Birdie' on Program at Cranbrook

Glee clubs of Kingswood School Cranbrook and Cranbrook School will present the musical comedy "Bye Bye, Birdie" March 8 and 9 at 8:15 p.m. in the Cranbrook School auditorium.

The show is a spoof on the life of a teen-age rock 'n' roll idol who is drafted into the armed forces.

Directors are Mrs. Lois Chapman of Kingswood's music and voice department; Walter Read, Cranbrook School music instructor; and Templin Licklider of Cranbrook's English department.

Both performances are open to the public and tickets may be purchased at the

Make Final Check on Make-up Effect

Women who leave their dressing tables without first checking to see that every part of their make-up application is perfect, often overlook make-up smudges and lines of demarcation that become glaring to observers.

So that the other person's eyes will be on the total effect of your beauty efforts and not on any telltale signs of your make-up application, check your artistry from neckline to hairline as follows:

Look under your chin and jawline. If there is an obvious line of demarcation where you have stopped your foundation make-up abruptly instead of blending the color onto your neck, take a pad of cotton or a silk sponge dampened with skin freshener and stroke over the area lightly to make the correction.

If any make-up has gotten on the ear lobes or lodged in the whorls, remove the color with a tissue or dry sponge. The hairline should be completely free of make-up. A clean, damp sponge, a tissue dampened with skin freshener, or a clean eyebrow brush will leave hair roots sparkling clean.

To remove smudges of mascara or eyeliner, twist edge of tissue to a pencil point, dampen with freshener or water, dot the smudge with point for a moment and then whisk it away. If lipstick has smeared outside the lipline, wipe away with tissue. If color has already "set," cover over with make-up or erase stick and then correct lipline with lipstick.

One Week to Go

Keep Counting Calories!

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many of you who are following my 8-week Beauty Improvement Plan are well on your way to success. By that, I mean that you are feeling and looking like a new person!

This is the seventh week since I began this series. If you requested a BIP kit you had to wait a little while for it to reach you. The eight weeks started or starts for you whenever you wish to begin following the plan.

I am sure that many of you have had the experience of losing successfully for quite a while and then coming to a standstill when the scales do not give you any more happy news. Do not let this discourage you! It is a usual and expectable part of a reducing routine of any length. Just keep counting your calories and the scales will soon smile at you again.

There is another hazard at this point: stopping just before you reach the finish line, settling for just a bit less than the goal you set for yourself. This is so easy to do after you have lost enough weight to feel more comfortable and look more attractive. However, it is a shame not to stay with the plan for just a short time longer.

CAN REPEAT

Readers have asked if they can repeat this routine. Surely you can! You can keep counting your calories and holding them to 1,200 or 1,400 a day until you reach your desirable weight.

★ ★ ★

Be especially careful about daily lubrication of the face and neck during and after losing weight. This helps your epidermis shrink to your new proportions.

If you missed part of my 8-week Beauty Improvement Plan and would like to join the thousands of women who are following it, send for a BIP kit.

A BIP Weight Chart (on which you can watch your beauty line rise as your weight line falls) and a BIP booklet with the complete information that has appeared in this newspaper make up the kit.

Just send 25 cents and your printed name and address along with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

A piece of wax paper on the work area of your stove will eliminate much of the cleaning after you finish cooking.

'Women Ready to Rebel; Out to Be Housewife First'

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—Millions of words are written, hundreds of seminars held trying to determine what makes the American woman tick.

The experts speculate on her dress, creativity, emotions, political savvy, wealth, intelligence, sense of humor, her role in the labor force, her job as housewife, wife and mother.

A prominent New York sociologist today flashed a warning light.

"Woman right now is ready to be left alone," said Dr. Ruth Farkas. The men have allowed the women to get where they are. The women are ready to blow up!

She indicated the explosion might be in the form of feminine rebellion against so many activities to take her out of the home, or at least have removed the emphasis on her being a good housewife.

"No man brags about his wife's cooking these days," said Mrs. Farkas. "Even the woman's become fearful of bragging . . . Cooking's not THE thing to do now."

"It's what you're doing as a volunteer, or professionally."

CAN BLAME SELF

Mrs. Farkas, formerly of the education department faculty at New York University, said modern woman also can blame herself in part for getting in this dilemma. World War II started lifting her out of the home more than ever before and she became used to the "communal" life, she said.

"This is good if proportioned properly," she said. "But the thing to keep track of is—Home comes first."

Mrs. Farkas shaped up in some ways as one of the modern women busy with a multitude of activities of whom she talked. "But I'm a housewife first . . . and a good cook," she added.

She is the wife of George Farkas, founder and chairman of the board of the Alexander's Department Store chain. The couple has four sons—two of them in the family business—and four grandsons.

New York-born Ruth Farkas holds a bachelor's degree in languages and the behavioral sciences at NYU, a master's degree from Columbia University and a doctorate in sociology from NYU. She was on the NYU faculty until three years ago and still is on the dean's advisory board.

She is chairman of the women's division of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, where she helped set up a sociology department — "The patient is a man with a family and a community, not a digit in a vacuum," she said.

She also is a vice president of the Beth Abraham Home, a member of the board of the Jewish Family Services, on boards of half a dozen other philanthropies and on the citizens committee for the National Council of Educational Social Work.

In 1961, she was a delegate to the Pan Pacific Southeast Asian Woman's Conference.

Mrs. Farkas also is active in the department stores' operation—billing herself as a "silent director," working with personnel especially in testing. She also serves unofficially as a buyer, ordering for import from whatever part of the world she and her husband are traveling in.

Environmental Family

Jessie Was 'Human' Pig

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE O-470: Jessie, aged 2 days, was a little pig.

Our oldest son George was fixing some fence on our farm in Indiana during his college vacation.

DR. CRANE

Our collie dog was with him. It began barking, so George went over to the entrance to a fox den.

And there lay a newborn pig, all chewed up and apparently dead. But even as George looked at it, the pig's front legs started to twitch and tremble.

So George picked it up and brought it home to his mother. She spent a couple of hours cleansing the tooth wounds from the fox that must have stolen it from a farm a mile away, for nobody within a mile of us had any hogs.

Mrs. Crane rubbed it with olive oil and wrapped the pig in a warm cloth. But its left eye was injured and later became cloudy so it was permanently blind in one eye.

I gave it some sulfas, for it seemed unable to stand on its two front legs and acted as if it had polio.

★ ★ ★

As badly chewed as it was, you'd have figured the pig would die. But it lived. And soon became a pet.

Whenever George would go out to the fields to work, Jessie, followed him like a dog and stuck at his heels till he'd come home. George named the pig Jessie, after a football pal at DePauw University.

For Jessie thought he was a human being!

★ ★ ★

Maybe he also had total amnesia of pig sounds and smells, for his brain may have been inflamed at the start.

Anyway, Jessie never saw or heard or smelled a hog till he was grown, so his earliest recollections were of human companions.

HUMAN MEMBER

So Jessie actually thought he was a member of the human species. But as he grew older, we had to pen him up, much to his chagrim.

And when any of us approached his pen, Jessie would stand up on his hind legs, with his front feet on the top rail of the pen, and then he would frantically try to climb out.

Finally, a farmer cousin a mile east decided he needed a boar to go with his sows, so we sold Jessie for breeding purposes.

★ ★ ★

So we had to take Jessie back. Finally, my uncle across the road fattened him for market. He weighed about 400 pounds when he was sold.

And my fastidious city cousin Helen, who had fed Jessie from the bottle when he was a tiny pig, shed tears and went on a pork fast for months!

After hatching, the tiny sparrows grew up in an all-canary environment, so they would trill like canaries, except their voices were a little lower pitched.

★ ★

And farmers rear male donkey colts with horses so the donkeys will then think they are horses and thus breed with the mares to produce mules.

★

Otherwise, the male donkey sticks to donkeys and may ignore the mares altogether.

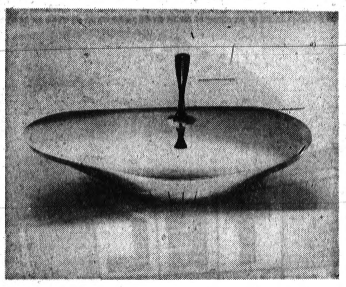
So family ties are largely due to environment; not heredity.



A Detroit man won second prize in the 1962 Sterling Today student design competition with this sterling silver candy dish. Mark A. Kelly, a graduate of the Cleveland Institute of Art, based his design on the flowing aerodynamic forms of the manta ray to create a low sleek article. Etching near the base enhances the gleaming silver.

Soak Gum Labels to Remove Easily

Those gummed labels attached to new pots and pans often leave a stick residue which is almost impossible to remove without scratching the shiny metal surface.

Next time, soak the label with carbon tetrachloride or lighter fluid to loosen the adhesive. Follow up by washing the utensil in hot soap or detergent suds and rinses.

Thermal Blanket Comes in Prints

Wonderful insulated thermal blankets made of 100% cotton are now available in both pretty prints and a variety of solid colors.

★ ★ ★

These lightweight blankets, made of a cellular weave based on the same principle as thermal underwear, can be used all year round — by themselves in summer and with a light covering in winter to hold in the body heat.

Since they can be machine-laundered and tumble-dried quickly, they eliminate any need to keep a large stock of single-purpose blankets on hand.

Make Use of Breather by Brightening Laundry

Right now homemakers are in the midst of housekeeping doldrums. There's no vital cleaning to do, for what had to be done to repair holiday wear and tear has been done.

Why not make use of this breather and inspect the state of your laundry. Perhaps you've been threatening to brighten it for some time now but never got around to it. Well, now's your chance.

First, forget about stains. Stain removal is a science unto itself and unless you can identify your spot . . . know that this one came when grandma tipped over the bowl of cranberries, or that one when junior slapped the catchup bottle too hard . . . don't bother.

Most stains eventually come out in the wash anyway with the help of a good robust detergent and sal soda concentrated . . . if not the first time 'round at least at the second or third.

Soil rings on cuffs and collars of blouses and shirts . . . if they've been resisting your prescent wash methods . . . are a different story. A pre, pretreatment is the answer.

Just dampen areas, brush with dry sal soda concentrated and toss them into the appropriate pile — the white pile or colored. Now you're ready to begin the pretreatment — the brightening operation.

LOAD MACHINE

Load up the washing machine, add three tablespoons of sal soda concentrated and start the machine rolling. You don't add any soap or detergent . . . just the sal.

This removes what the experts choose to refer to as washing scum . . . or what we know as tattle-tale gray. When this cycle's completed you go through the whole bit again but this time you use both soap or detergent and sal.

Since sal acts as a water softener as well as a pretreating agent . . . go easy on the detergent unless you want to be wading in suds.

If you happen to live in a hard water area it's advisable to add more sal when you reach the rinse stage as the sal will help cut the soap or detergent.

Wallendas to Perform Without Net

(LANSING (AP) —The Wallenda aerial balancing team will take the high wire tonight as the Hospitaler Circus begins a four-day engagement at the Lansing Civic Center.

It will be the Wallendas' first circus appearance in Michigan since their human pyramid collapsed in Detroit 13 months ago.

Two members of the act, Dieter Schepp, 23, and Richard Faughnan, 29, were killed in the fall and a third member, Mario Wallenda, 24, was paralyzed from the waist down.

Troupe leader Karl Wallenda, Mario's 58-year-old father, said that he, his 62 year-old brother Herman, and his nephew Gunther, 35, will perform a balancing act which they did before adopting the human pyramid stunt.

The act will be performed without a net, as was the pyramid.

Use of a net would take the daring out of the trick, Karl Wallenda explains, adding that a fall into the net with the equipment they use might prove fatal anyway.

Wallenda said for the first few months after the accident, "every time I went on the wire I saw the accident . . . I saw them lying down there."

★ ★ ★

But time has healed the wounds, he said, and although the shock has not gone from his mind, he doesn't think of it while he's on the high wire.

Working without a net does not bother him, he says.

"I believe when my time comes, it will come," he added with a shrug.

Car Tax Take Rises

LANSING (AP)—Sales tax collections on vehicles sold in Michigan in the first seven weeks of 1963 were up $1.25 million over the same period a year ago, the secretary of state's office reports.

Update White House Shelter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House bomb shelter is being modernized. The cost is estimated at about $500,000.

Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant press secretary, confirmed Wednesday that the work of modernizing the bomb shelter to include a modern communications system is well under way.

★ ★ ★

The underground shelter was first built during World War II when Franklin D. Roosevelt was president. It was improved during the administration of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

There were approximately 1,500,000 full and part-time public school teachers in this country at the start of the 1962-63 school year.

The sisters are in a hospital today where each is recovering with a broken left leg suffered in separate skiing accidents.

Thirst Drives Them On

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Panicky crowds of Swedes — traditionally thirsty lot—stormed the state liquor stores yesterday.

The foreman at the state liquor monopoly went on strike over vacation time.

Rumors circulated that the more popular types of drink—vodka, whisky, brandy and domestic braennvin— will be exhausted in a few days.

Each Year After 50 an Heroic Achievement

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—My wife came into my sickroom and tossed the family crying towel on the bed.

"Well, what's the bad news now?" I asked her.

"Are you sure you're man enough to take it, Rover?" said Frances.

* * *

"Of course I can," I told her proudly. "Any man who is simultaneously suffering from Asian flu and the gout . . . any man who aches from his epiglottis to his tarsus . . . any man who can't cough without feeling his foot is going to fly off . . . that man can only smile at any further blow of fate. Just what is the dreadful news?"

BOYLE

"Well, the truth is that this is your birthday," said Frances. "You are 52 years old today. Shall I call up President Kennedy and ask him to declare you a human disaster area?"

* * *

"No, just tiptoe away and bake me a cake while I lie here and revel in my boyish dreams," I replied.

Time was when I was a birthday fighter. For weeks before I tore off that annual page on the calendar, I felt blue and was afflicted by dreadful feelings of mortality.

Not any more. Every birthday now I share the feeling of Joe E. Lewis, the night club comedian, who says that his first thought on waking each morning is, "Well, I made it again!"

NO HULLABALOO

While I see no reason for hullabaloo at reaching 52, or dancing in joy across the rooftops, I find no particular reason for raging against the gods either.

Probably a million and a half or more Americans will become 52 years old this year. If they can take it without lapsing into a coma, I can too.

The fact is that this achievement leaves me with a kind of quiet smugness, a snobbery of success, if you please.

* * *

The terrible years are those from 35 to 50. Then every birthday is taken by a man as a personal defeat, as he feels the prime of life slowly ebbing.

But at 50 you turn the corner. Every birthday from then on is a personal victory—if one has the common sense to look at it in that light.

* * *

There are many rewards. Such as:

After 50 your interest in the rat-race pursuit of the dollar begins to abate. Life settles down to a calm race between your dwindling responsibilities and your dwindling endurance. But that final carrot—your pension—looms more clearly with every passing year.

After 50 you find a new pleasure in solitude. You decide it's more fun to be lonely in peace than to be bored in company—so you gradually cut down on the number of useless social functions that once cluttered up your life.

After 50 you feel less guilty about what you haven't done, and more satisfied with what you did manage to do. Your memory becomes each year an ever-growing granary.

* * *

So, at 52, I found I had only one birthday wish to make as I asthmatically huffed and puffed out the candles on the cake baked for me by my wife and daughter—to make it to 53.

Won't you join me?

'Russians Abound in Havana'

HAVANA (AP) — Visitors from North America say they are impressed by the numbers of Russians seen in the Cuban capital and other places around this island.

"We read about them but didn't quite seem to accept the reports. We thought them perhaps a bit exaggerated," a Canadian caller said.

* * *

With the exception of a very few Soviet officers attached to their embassy who turn up at selected functions in uniform, Russians seen in Havana invariably wear civilian clothes.

Among the Russians seen here, two types are clearly defined: those working as advisers to ministries, here with their families, and those who are roughly in their middle 20s and are understood to be billeted west of the city.

LODGED AT HOTELS

The advisers and their families have been lodged at various hotels and in certain subdivisions, such as the "Reparto Kohly," in the twin township of Marianao.

* * *

The others—far more numerous—come daily into Havana, riding on unmarked, Soviet-made heavy duty trucks. They seem to come from an area southwest of Havana where, before the Cuban crisis erupted last fall, facilities for them were being built. The area is well outside city limits, thus inaccessible to foreign correspondents lacking a special permit.

* * *

A number of the Russians head for a large, waterfront warehouse which appears to be used as a food depot. It is constantly under guard by uniformed Cuban soldiers and Russians in mufti.

Moon Expedition Likened to Byrd's

CHATTANOOGA (AP) —A space flight scientist says America has as good a chance "to establish a base on the moon as there was to establish one one the South Pole."

* * *

Conrad D. Swanson, assistant chief of advanced flight systems at the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., made the comment to the Chattanooga Engineers Club.

"It may be 30 years," he said, "before we have a permanent base on the moon."

Industrial Plant's Silence Betters Inside of Plane

NEW YORK (AP)—According to Steelways, publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, an industrial plant can be more quiet than the interior of an airplane.

Engineers have developed an industrial steel curtain wall with inside surface perforated to act as a blotter.

The room sound level is said to be just about the same as that inside a glider.

There are some 275 private junior colleges now operating in the United States, with enrollments exceeding 100,000 students.

Fat Due to Heredity, Not Overeating?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Being fat could well be more a matter of heredity than of eating too much, argued Dr. Victor A. McKusick, a medical geneticist, in advancing a scientific opinion which will not be popular with rigid advocates of the caloric way of thinking.

For several thousand years large numbers of human beings were subjected to severe food shortages every spring, he said. They had exhausted the food they had been able to preserve from the previous year's harvest. To eat above the starvation level again they had to wait for the new harvest.

That brought "natural selection" into play, McKusick continued. Those persons with the most stored fats on their bodies and who were endowed with a high capacity for getting the most nutrition from food, endured the spring famines with fewer fatalities and with greater vitality.

As the result they became parents more frequently and over longer spans of their lives. Their offspring inherited their genes for fat storage and metabolic efficiency and they, in turn, were more prolific breeders than thin people and passed the favorable genes along.

★ ★ ★

Multiply this natural selection by the number of generations needed to cover the several thousands years of seasonal famines and you'll see these people with the genes which helped them through starvation were the ancestors of most people now living.

FAT ON LESS FOOD

Presumably, McKusick said, many of us have the genes for fatness and high metabolic efficiency. If so, we'd get fat and fatter on less food than people without the genes.

The caloric view, which this reasoning contradicts, holds fat or lack of fat is strictly a matter of intake and output of calories—those calories not expended in activity become fat.

McKusick is a faculty member at the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore. "Obesity is not merely a matter of overeating," he said in the technical organ of the American Heart Association, "Circulation."

He sought to apply the same reasoning to diabetes and to the tendency of some people to have high cholesterol blood levels despite their low-fat diets.

Heredity is important in both disorders even though the precise means of transmission from one generation to the next is not clear.

It is reasonable to suggest the genes responsible once conferred "an advantage with reference to some selective force such as famine," he said.

All these disorders are involved in higher risks of artery and heart disease. This brought McKusick to "a final speculation," which he stated as a question: "What role may famine in the past have had in determining the present frequency of atherosclerotic (artery-hardening) cardiovascular disease?"

His answer to his own question was that people now living may have acquired through the natural selection which worked on our ancestors, physiological "mechanisms for withstanding food deprivations."

★ ★ ★

In times of famine, they'd serve us well, but these are times of plenty and in such times the "mechanisms" are like our appendixes. They no longer serve any purpose, but they are capable of getting us into trouble.

Delays Decision of Blue Cross

LANSING (AP)—State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn has notified Blue Cross-Blue Shield officials he will make no decision on their request for a rate increase until April.

The firms filed the proposed rate hikes for hospital and medical insurance subscribers on Jan. 14. Colburn ordered hearings at Detroit Feb. 4 and 5 and at Grand Rapids Feb. 8.

"Although the advantages of early action on your proposal are fully appreciated," Colburn wrote, "our intent awareness of the responsibilities of the commissioner of insurance make it mandatory that every avenue of information be fully explored prior to any commitment on a matter which is so vital to such a large segment of the population."

Colburn said transcripts of the public hearings have not yet been completed. He said every effort will be made to reach a decision by April 1.

Jet Pilot Dies as Plane Crashes During Practice

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A supersonic F105 jet plunged to the Avon Park Bombing Range while making a practice run Wednesday.

The pilot, Lt. Col. Marion C. Felts, temporarily based at MacDill Air Force Base, was killed. Felts was from the 4th Organizational Maintenance Squadron of Seymour-Johnson Air Force Base, N.C.

Winnie Close to Citizenship

★ ★ ★

The House Immigration and Nationality subcommittee unanimously authorized Chairman Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., to introduce an appropriate bill and submit it to the parent Judiciary Committee March 5.

Copter Crews Can Fire First

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. helicopter crews in South Viet Nam have been ordered to shoot first at Communist guerrillas while escorting airborne troops.

The new orders, which went into effect Tuesday, extend the role of armed escort helicopters which previously were required to hold their fire until fired on by the Communists.

★ ★ ★

Military sources said the new orders permits the UH1B and UH1A turbo helicopters to precede troop-carrying helicopters into a battle area if intelligence reports indicate that the guerrillas are dug in for a fight.

CAN COVER LANDINGS

The armed helicopters can spray the assault area with rockets and machine gun fire and cover troop landings. They also will be permitted to remain in the assault area to attack the guerrillas after the transport helicopters land their troops and retire.

★ ★ ★

The change in the restrictive rules follows a visit to South Viet Nam by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, U.S. Army chief of staff, who was urged here to "liberalize" U.S. armed helicopter activity. However, the new orders require that helicopter activity must be confined to supporting an operation.

Latest available statistics published by United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization estimate there are 700 million adult illiterates in the world—two people out of every five.

GETS THE AIR — American Nazi David Howard Patterson, 21, of Minneapolis, is carried from a Miami, Fla., building yesterday by police who said they took him into protective custody when an irate crowd gathered to protest his picketing an office of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

Academy Award Nominations Something to Be Proud of

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — This could be Oscar's finest hour.

Never have the Academy nominations seemed so apt, so free of the taint of commercialism and local interest, as those which were announced this week.

THOMAS

The 2,500 Academy members, bless their hearts, refused to be stampeded into naming some of the heavy spenders who waged noisy campaigns for nominations they didn't merit. The voters also avoided most of the other traps that have hurt Oscar's reputation in the past.

★ ★ ★

You might expect touchiness over runaway production to sway the voters. But No. "Lawrence of Arabia" was the front runner in total nominations.

Then again, you would think chauvinism would rule the voting, especially since the last Oscars went to a pair of foreigners, Sophia Loren and Maximilian Schell. Wrong again. Nominated for the top acting award was Marcello Mastroianni, who can't speak English.

MORE FOREIGNERS

Also Peter O'Toole, an Irishman. The supporting actor nominees include a Britisher (Terence Stamp) and an Egyptian (Omar Sharif).

Nor could the voters be swayed entirely by money matters. They passed up the director of the $18-million "Mutiny on the Bounty" to reward Frank Perry, who directed his first movie, "David and Lisa," at a cost of $150,000.

The directors' race signals an end to the longtime fealty of the Academy to Hollywood's veteran movie makers. Besides Perry, nominees include a Britisher (David Lean), an Italian (Pietro Germi) and two relative youngsters out of television (Arthur Penn and Robert Mulligan).

The actress categories seem highly satisfactory. Anyone with an ounce of sentiment will cheer the nominations of those great Bette Davis and Katharine Hepburn.

2 JUVENILES

The alert Academy also subscribes to the theory that youth will be served. Note the nomination of two juveniles for supporting actress: Patty Duke and Mary Badham.

The nominations seemed to contain no omissions that might be considered grave. Shirley Maclaine with "Two for the Seesaw" had her champions, but apparently not enough. My own favorite, Robert Preston of "Music Man," lost out. Perhaps the voters believed he had too much practice in the role.

★ ★ ★

Okay, so the nominations aren't perfect. The system of having each company determine whether actors are stars or supporting players still has its flaws.

Why should Terence Stamp be in the supporting race? After all, he plays the title and most important role in "Billy Budd."

Some of the categories still need fixing. There aren't enough songs in movies anymore to make a race of it. Many other awards could be consolidated.

The accordion was invented in 1829. Today some 1,500,000 persons play the instrument.

Cape Canaveral Death Nets $130,000

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A federal court jury has awarded a woman $130,000 damages for her husband's death at Cape Canaveral more than four years ago.

After a five-day trial, the jury returned Wednesday night a finding of negligence against General Dynamics Corp. in the death of Frederick Adams, who fell from a rocket-servicing tower at the missile test center in 1958.

Atom Smasher Rebuilt at Cost of $9.6 Million

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California's atom-smashing Bevatron has been rebuilt at a cost of $9.6 million for renewed research into nuclear mysteries.

★ ★ ★

"A large part of what we know about the particles of matter has come out of research with the Bevatron," Dr. Edwin M. McMillan, Lawrence Radiation Laboratory director, said Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The 10,000-ton machine went to work in 1954 as a high energy atom smasher developing 6.2 billion electron volts. It was the tool Lawrence Laboratory scientists used in discovering the antiproton in 1955 and the antineutron in 1956.

Damage Suit Settled by France Nuyen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress France Nuyen has settled a $100,000 damage suit brought by stripper Beverly Hills.

The amount of the settlement was not disclosed in the announcement Wednesday.

Miss Hills, in private life Beverly Jean Powers, 23, claimed she was injured March 10, 1961, when a car in which she was a passenger collided with the actress' auto.

BODY BLOCK — This melee during the first period of the Toronto-Chicago game last night may have triggered a second period brawl. Prominent Black Hawks are goalie Glenn Hall, Bob Turner (2) and Wayne Hillman (20). Fending off the tumbling Turner is Toronto's Frank Mahovlich. The Leafs won, 6-3.

Flint Northern Next Opponent for PCH Five

Final Contest Before District Tournaments Get Under Way

Although it may not be readily apparent, Friday night's battle against Flint Northern is one of the biggest games of the late season schedule of Pontiac Central.

True, the Chiefs could lose the game and not finish any worse than tied for second place in the Saginaw Valley Conference, and they could win it and still finish two games behind first place Saginaw Arthur Hill.

The Wildanger Fjeld House cage clash (directly behind the Flint Northern High School) will find the Huron Street quintet risking two winning streaks, state ranking and, most important, some very necessary momentum.

NINE STRAIGHT

PCH has won nine straight games this season after a dismal start. It has a 9-2 SVC record compared to Flint Central's 8-3 and Flint Northern's 5-6. Arthur Hill is 11-0.

In addition, the Chiefs have conquered Flint Northern 10 consecutive times on a basketball floor. They are ranked eighth in weekly AP Class A state high school cage poll.

Earlier this season, the Orange and Black tomahawked the Vikings by 21 points at the Huron Street court.

Coach Art Van Ryzin wants very much to keep the momentum of this season's success string in tact for the start of the high school tournament cage play next week. Central will meet Bloomfield Hills Tuesday on the Pontiac Northern court.

The Vikings have lost three of their last four starts. That includes an 80-71 verdict Tuesday night to Flint Central, a game which decided the city championship.

Coach Van Ryzin at PCH will continue his rotating lineup policy Friday with either McKinley Jones or Mel De Walt destined to be the sixth man.

Ray Sain, Jesse Hodge, Gerald Henry and Lester Hardiman appear definite starters. Flint Northern is expected to send out Henry Hopson, Don and Larry Mayfield, Lane Ellis and Bob Blair. Larry Mayfield's 16 markers were the top individual total in the two teams' first meeting.

Cash Discusses Pact With Boss; Chico Still Out

Cool Weather Greets Bengals' Workouts at Henley Field

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Holdout Rocky Colavito's contract dispute with the Tigers has become a war of nerves as he and general manager Jim Campbell try to out-wait each other.

★ ★ ★

The homerun slugger's holdout entered its third day today with no indication of an early settlement.

"The next move is up to Jim," said Colavito, offered a slight raise over the $52,000 he received last year.

"I'm not going to call him,"

Sports Editor Bruno L. Kearns of The Pontiac Press is having as much trouble shaking an illness as the Tigers are having signing players. His on-the-spot stories from Lakeland, Fla., will start when he has recovered.

said Campbell. "I said what I had to when we talked the other day."

That was Monday, the day before the Tigers opened camp for their full squad. Since then, Campbell and Colavito have not discussed the matter.

Yesterday, while his teammates worked out at Henley Field, Colavito started conditioning on his own. He put on a warmup jacket, baseball pants and spikes and ran for a while on a field at his motel.

"I had a comparable year," he said. "Why should I get only a raise that amounts to nothing? I merit a good raise.

EVERY GAME

"I had almost as many hits as I did the year before. I played in every game. The only thing I dropped much in was runs batted in."

Colavito feels he was the innocent victim of the Tigers' injury jinx. The losses of Al Kaline and Billy Bruton for various periods affected his RBI production, Colavito said.

"How could I drive in runs when the bases were empty so far?" said Colavito. "The year before Kaline was always on base or Bruton was on when I came up.

"Last year Al missed 61 games and when he played he hit more home runs than he ever did before. So the bases were empty.

"Jake Wood had a good year for us in 1961 and he was on base a lot, he flies and could score on any kind of a hit. Last year, he didn't play much.

★ ★ ★

"Yes, I think I had a comparable year."

Norm Cash, meanwhile, came closest to ending his holdout and may sign today. He spoke briefly with Campbell.

"We're not very far apart, said the 1961 American League batting champion whose average dropped 118 percentage points last year. "I'd like to sign and get this over with."

Bubba Phillips missed part of the drill with a throat ailment. It was first diagnosed as tonsilitis and Phillips had returned from the doctor and was back in uniform.

Big 'M' Back in Point Race

Leafs in 2nd After 6-3 Win Over Chicago

By The Associated Press

The Big M, Toronto's Frank Mahovlich, is back in the scramble for individual scoring honors in the National Hockey League and, as a direct result, the Maple Leafs are back in second place.

★ ★ ★

The big left winger scored one goal and assisted on three others Wednesday night in Toronto's important 6-3 conquest of the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks. It was the only game played.

★ ★ ★

The victory lifted Toronto over idle Montreal into second, seven points back of the leaders. Mahovlich's four-point burst bosted him into third place in the scoring race. He now his 31 goals and 31 assists for 62 points. Chicago's Stan Mikita leads with 66 and Gordie Howe of Detroit has 65.

ALL THE WAY

Toronto, on its home ice, didn't trail in the game and broke it open with three goals in the final period. Ron Stewart contributed two of them. Dink Duff, Tim Horton and Bob Pulford got the others. Eric Nesterenko, Murray Balfour and Mikita scored for the losers.

★ ★ ★

The game was enlivened by a stick-swinging duel and a fist-fight between Reg Fleming of the Hawks and Kent Douglas of the Leafs. They were assessed misconduct and game misconduct penalties after the battle behind the penalty bench in the second period. The misconduct will cost each player $25 and the game misconducts $50 each.

Cassius Says: Out in Sixth

MIAMI, Fla (AP) — Cassius Clay, whose gimmick is his gift of gab, said Wednesday Heavyweight Champion Sonny Liston has one, too

★ ★ ★

"It's his look," Clay said. "He's big and ugly. That look would scare a man if he didn't know him. He scared Floyd Patterson with it.

"But he don't scare me. I'll eat him up."

NIGHT CLUBBERS

Clay, whose goal is to win the title from Liston before next November, thus becoming the youngest heavyweight champ in history, said he ran into Liston last night in a Miami night club. The poetic conversation, he said, went like this:

★ ★ ★

Clay: "You're so ugly, I don't know whether to whip you or cage you. Me, I'm pretty — too pretty to be a fighter."

Liston: "That's right, I don't know whether to whip you or kiss you."

★ ★ ★

Clay: "There you go, popping off. I predicted that because I am so great, you would fall in eight. Now you're in a worse fix, because I've cut it to six."

Liston: "If I fell in six, it would be a fix."

Clay: "Keep talking and I'll cut it to five. How did you beat Patterson, with that look?"

Liston: "Not the look, the hook."

Syracuse Wins on Teamwork

By United Press International

The Nationals displayed that truth for the umpteenth time Wednesday night when they scored a 122-111 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers depite a 42-point performance by the Lakers' Elgin Baylor.

Lee Shaffer led the Syracuse scoring with 27 points, Hal Greer had 24 and Johnny Kerr had 19. And when the Lakers crept to within a six-point deficit with six minutes left, it was Greer and then Al Bianchi who chipped in with key baskets to clinch the win.

It was the seventh straight home court victory for the Nationals.

Oscar Robertson scored 30 points and Tom Hawkins had 24 to lead the Cincinnati Royals to a 119-107 win over the New York Knicks and Si Green tallied a field goal and two free throws in the final 47 seconds as the Chicago Zephyrs downed the St. Louis Hawks, 98-93, in other games.

Field of 12 All Set for 26th Annual NIT

NEW YORK (AP)—The field is set for the 26th annual National Invitation Basketball Tournament, which will be staged at Madison Square Garden March 14-23.

Fordham and St. Francis of New York were named to the NIT Wednesday, giving the tourney its full complement of 12 teams.

The two New York teams join Wichita, St. Louis, DePaul, Marquette, Providence, Canisius, La Salle, Villanova, Memphis State and Miami of Florida for the 1963 classic.

Host Berkley Friday

Huskies Eye Crown

It could well be the visiting Bears will do some growling before PNH is able to doff the Inter-Lakes League basketball crown Berkley shared with Farmington last season.

However, if the 80-63 PNH triumph on the Bears' court earlier is any indication of the two teams' comparative strength, the Huskies will own the loop title outright after Friday night's struggle.

Northern was league champions the two years preceding last season and has only lost once in nine loop starts this time around.

For Berkley, Friday's encounter will be an everything-to-gain, nothing-to-lose proposition. A win for the Bears and a triumph by Farmington at Walled Lake would produce a tie between PNH and the Falcons.

RISK RATING

It would, also, be more honey in the Bears' paws to close out their regular season schedule with a victory over the state's 15th ranked team in the weekly AP Class A poll.

★ ★ ★

Berkley is a deliberate ball club, using set patterns on offense. Northern plans to use its zone defense and hopes to spring the Huskies' outside defenders loose on fast breaks.

"We're in good shape physically and mentally," PNH coach Dick Hall said yesterday. "The players have had several days off and are well rested."

Roger Hayward led the Northern attack in the first game with 19 points while Don McReadie had 18 for Berkley. That 80-63 triumph was one of three times PNH has tallied 80 points in a game, and the highest point total the Bears have permitted all season in losing eight of 14 starts.

★ ★ ★

In addition to Walled Lake (5-4) playing host to Farmington (7-2) Friday, Waterford will be visited by last place Southfield. The Blue Jays could move into a fifth place tie with their 1-L hosts by winning.

Waterford's chances could depend a great deal on the availability of senior center Bob Readlow. The 6-4 point producer is awaiting word from the state High School Athletic Association headquarters on his playing status after an alleged altercation with a basketball official at Kettering Tuesday.

Michigan Bell Rises to Top in Rec Ball

Michigan Bell used a big second period to gain a 67-57 victory over Local 594 last night in city city recreation basketball play.

The win gave the telephone men possession of first place as the Class C division closed its regular season play.

Other games saw the Chiefs moved into a playoff with New Hope Baptist tonight for the remaining berth in the Class D playoffs next week by whipping Victor Paint, 58-49, and the Pontiac Police took Town and Country, 55-46.

First place in the Class A circuit for Waterford will be decided tonight when Lakeland clashes with Spencer Floors.

William Buck scored 21 points in the Michigan Bell, while James Moore's 18 led The Chiefs to victory.

Teenager Scores 3 Team Gets One

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Rich Mazei, a teen league basketball player, made a three point play last night, but his team got only one point.

★ ★ ★

The youngster scored a field goal for the opposition by tossing the ball in the wrong basket. Fouled on the play, he walked to the other end of the floor and scored a free throw for his side.

New Orleans Open Stiff Test for Pro

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Pro golfers may get a stiff test on the water-dotted Lakewood Country Club course in the $40,000 Greater New Orleans Open beginning Friday if pro-am results are any indication.

★ ★ ★

Only eight pros bettered par on the 7,000-yard layout Wednesday in the pro-am.

★ ★ ★

"That course is rough," said defending champion Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City, who didn't turn in a card after the pro-am.

Wininger, who won his title last year at municipally owned Cit Park, said the fairway traps were too severe. He predicted a 280 would win the tourney.

Arnold Palmer, the golden boy of golf, toured the tricky layout in a even-par 72 and said he felt it was a good score for his first time on the course.

MSU 5 in 'Sun' Classic

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California said Tuesday its basketball team would compete with Michigan State, Oklahoma and Arizona State University in the Sun Devil basketball classic Dec. 20-21 at Tempe, Ariz.

Race Cars Being Changed

Is Offenhauser Becoming Obsolete?

DETROIT (UPI)—The famous old Offenhauser engine used in the Indianapolis 500 mile race since the 1930's may be on the way out.

The reason could be the increasing use at Indianapolis of rear-engine racers which have been standard for years on Grand Prix road racing circuits in Europe.

California speedster Mickey Thompson will enter four rear-engine cars and two more may show up with Ford engines. There are others, too.

Duane Carter, a veteran of 12 Indianapolis races, regards Thompson's racers "as the prototype of the car of the future" for the "500" event.

"They are going to necessitate a new engine design," he says. Carter points out that the four-cylinder Offenhauser built by Meyer-Drake is "not adaptable" to a car design which places the engine behind the driver.

One factor arguing against it is the weight. Carter figures the present Meyer-Drake engine weighs 550 pounds, and the transmission and starting unit push the weight up to 700 pounds — too heavy for best performance in a rear-engine car.

Thus, Carter believes "somebody's going to come up with a new engine — whether it's out of Michigan or some private outside source."

CORVETTE TYPE

Thompson's engines are aluminum versions of the Chevrolet Corvette powerplant. But Carter apparently believes that what's needed is a special lightweight racing engine such as the Ford powerplant.

The Ford engine is a V-8 with double overhead camshafts. It produces about 408 horsepower and is made of light alloys.

Carter says Meyer-Drake also has designed a small V-8 with light alloy metals. This could be used in a rear-engine car. "It has been on the drawing boards for some time now," Carter said.

He believes the new engine would weigh around 325 pounds and less than 500 with transmission and other equipment attached.

Carter says Thompson will "go a long way this year" with his cars. Thompson learned a lot with the two cars he entered last year, Carter believes.

Starving Deer Invade Elizabeth's Garden

★ ★ ★

Hundreds of deer are marauding on the low-lying ground near the royal Balmoral castle. Some have broken into plots and gardens in search of food.

★ ★ ★

Because many of the deer are feeding on fodder supplies kept for cattle, they are being shot to keep down the number of marauders.

1962 Bounty Payments Amounted to $215,035

Michigan's 1962 bounty payments for foxes, coyotes and Upper Peninsula bobcats totaled $215,035, fourth highest on record, according to the Conservation Department.

The payments, made with hunting and fishing license fees, bring to nearly $3.5 million the amount of money spent on bounties in this state since 1935.

Players Break Rules, School Ends Season

CARO (AP) — Akron-Fairgrove's remaining basketball games of the season were canceled by the school yesterday after some members of the squad admitted breaking training rules.

The school had two games to play in the Thumb Class C League and one non-league game.

The school board said it will seek permission to withdraw from tournament competition next month.

UNIFORM PLAYER'S CONTRACT

American League of Professional Baseball Clubs

Parties — Between NEW YORK YANKEES, herein called the Club, and MICKEY C. MANTLE of 5730 Watson Circle, Dallas, Texas, herein called the Player.

Recital — The Club is a member of the American League of Professional Baseball Clubs, a voluntary association of ten member clubs which has subscribed to the Major League Rules with the National League of Professional Baseball Clubs and its constituent clubs and to the Professional Baseball Rules with that League and the National Association of Baseball Leagues. The purpose of those rules is to insure the public wholesome and high-class professional baseball by defining the relations between Club and Player, between club and club, between league and league, and by vesting in a designated Commissioner broad powers of control and discipline, and of decision in case of disputes.

Agreement — In consideration of the facts above recited and of the promises of each to the other, the parties agree as follows:

Employment — 1. The Club hereby employs the Player to render, and the Player agrees to render, skilled services as a baseball player during the year 1963 including the Club's training season, the Club's exhibition games, the Club's playing season, and the World Series (or any other official series in which the Club may participate and in any receipts of which the player may be entitled to share).

Payment — 2. For performance of the Player's services and promises hereunder the Club will pay the Player the sum of $ 100,000.00 (ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS) as follows: In semi-monthly installments after the commencement of the playing season covered by this contract.

Yanks Cause Stir: Sign Mantle, Maris

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—They win more than anyone else, but otherwise the New York Yankees aren't apt to cause much of a radical stir in the world of major league baseball.

★

They shook off the cloak of conservatism Wednesday, however, when they:

1. Signed slugger Mickey Mantle for $100,000.

2. Displayed the contract for all to see.

3. And then landed slugger Roger Maris for $72,000 virtually before the ink was dry on Mantle's contract, for probably the biggest one-day signing spree by one club in baseball history.

BROKE PRECEDENT

Usually a club stages its big signings separately for publicity value, but since spring training is under way the Yanks couldn't wait any longer to make a splash in their hometown, where newspapers have been shut down for almost three months by a strike.

Why the Yankees exhibited Mantle's signed contract to newsmen was not explained, but probably because the document puts the 31-year-old Oklahoman in a small circle of baseball's 100-granders. Willie Mays signed for that amount last week with the San Francisco Giants, and Stan Musial, Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio have been the only others in the club.

★ ★ ★

OVERCOME ILLS

Mantle has been an ailment-prone athlete in his 12 seasons with the Yankees but has established himself as a star of the first magnitude nevertheless. Last year, for example the switch-hitting belter missed 39 games altogether and was limited to part-time duty in several others, mostly because of leg injuries.

★ ★ ★

But he paced the Yanks to the American League pennant, wound up with a .321 batting average and 30 home runs, and was voted the Most Valuable Player award for the third time. His exploits earned him a raise of some $5,000.

★ ★ ★

Despite his history of physical setbacks and his relatively advanced athletic age, Mantle said Thursday that he hoped to "play five more seasons at top clip. Maybe more."

"Look how long Musial has lasted. Maybe I can keep going too."

Maris, the 61-homer man of 1961, was expected to take a rather hefty cut in pay after last season's considerably less spectacular showing — but he'll get the same $72,000. He hit 33 homers in '62, and batted .256.

★ ★ ★

Maris signed after a short conference with Roy Hamey, the Yankee general manager, and a phone call to Miami to Dan Topping, the club president.

Stands 5 Feet 2½ Inches

Big 'Little' Basketball Star

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Jack Chichester is a little man on campus but a big man on the Upsala College basketball team—all 5 feet 2½ inches and 135 pounds of him.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the smallest varsity basketball player in college ranks, Chichester is only a spot player but he has made the difference in victories over Moravian and St. Peter's, the latter a stunning upset.

Against Moravian he went in with several minutes left, stole the ball several times and passed off for the tying baskets, then hit six straight free throws in overtime to turn the tide.

QUICK WORK

St. Peter's led Upsala by a point when Chichester went to work. Two fouls put Upsala ahead by a point and a layup proved the deciding basket.

★

"That really felt good," said the 21-year-old junior. "I played freshman ball at St. Peter's but they said I was too small for the varsity. But baseball is really my sport.

★ ★ ★

He holds the record for most hits in a season in the fast Essex County semipro league and doubled in his first at-bat against former major leaguer Joe Black.

"In basketball, I usually guard a 6-footer. I've seen a team say we'll take the little guy in the pivot and I've seen it ruin their whole offense. Most teams don't take me in the pivot.

"On offense, I'm essentially a driver. I get a lot of points on fouls. I get my shots rammed down my throat sometimes but it doesn't bother me. I tell them, 'nick block.'

CALLED 'WILT'

"I take a lot of ribbing on the court. The other teams call me "Wilt' and tell me to get out of the hole, to stand up straight and the Biddy League's down at the other end.

"I'd definitely like to give pro baseball a fling and I've gotten feelers from a couple of major league teams but they all say the same thing—I'm good enough but I'm too small.

"But in basketball I have the speed and agility the big guys don't and I can scoot through holes they can't.

"I've never had any regrets I'm not bigger. I'm this way and that's all there is to it."

Weber, Carter Head Pro Field in Keg Classic

HOUSTON (AP) — The $25,000 Houston Professional Bowling Association Charity Classic gets under way today with a field of 96 professional bowlers entered in the third annual event.

The field includes both the previous champions, Dick Weber and Don Carter, both of St. Louis.

Andy Marzich' Long Beach, Calif., heads the list of money winners who will be shooting for the charity classic prize fund. The top eight money winners through the first seven tournaments are entered and 15 of the top 20.

Marzich has hauled down $11,028 so far to lead Earl Johnson of Minneapolis who has won $8,825 for second place.

U.S. Hockey Team Loses

GOTEBORG, Sweden (UPI)—The Trail Smoke Eaters, Canada's entry in the world ice hockey championship tournament, defeated the U.S. team, 4-1, Wednesday night in a tuneup game.

Judges to Watch 6 More Dogs Work

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn. (AP) —Judges have only six more dogs to see before picking a winner in the National Bird Dog Championship Field Trials, and four pointers were trying for the crown today.

★ ★ ★

Braced to start the day's hunting were Gunsmoke Jewel, owned by Peter Lusardi of Somerville, N.J., and Lucy Jefferson, owned by W. L. Lane and Edwin Brown of Edison, Ga.

Up for the afternoon hunt were Canon, owned by Jimmie Hinton of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Wayside King's Dot, owned by F. E. Young of Houston.

Stormy Tempest, owned by Dr. W. G. Arney and F. W. Hart of St. Louis, ran a deliberate race and found nine bevies in this 3-hour grind, two of them coming in the last 5 minutes.

Champs Deny Ducking Foes

Three Title Bouts Set in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two world champions, welterweight Emile Griffith and featherweight Davey Moore, were on record today—humorously but also seriously—denying that they were ducking their top-rated opponents.

★ ★ ★

Griffith, of New York scoffed at the question of whether he had been avoiding Luis Rodriguez of Cuba, whom he meets in one of three world title fights at Dodger Stadium, March 16.

★ ★ ★

One of the many to receive awards at the annual banquet of the Southern California Boxing Writers' Association Wednesday night, Griffith said:

BUY NOW

"I fought Luis a year and a half ago and did all right winning a split decision. I'll do my job again—buy your tickets early."

Moore, of Columbus, Ohio, who fights Sugar Ramos of Mexico City March 16, was equally loquacious.

"Me duck Ramos? I run from nothing, except my mother," Moore said.

Still another world champion at the banquet was middleweight Dick Tiker of Nigeria, fresh from his draw with Gene Fullmer at Las Vegas, Nev., last Saturday night.

"I still think I won the fight," Tiger said. "I thought Fullmer would fight the same as he did in San Francisco, when I won. I found out different. So I'm still chasing him.

"I'll fight him in Nigeria, 9,000 miles away, and I'll fight him again in his own kitchen."

Paul Warfield of Ohio State had the longest run from scrimmage in the Big Ten last season. He went 75 yards for a touchdown against Indiana.

Playoffs to Start Today

ACC, Southern Loop Seek King

By The Associated Press

The also-rans get a second chance, for whatever it may be worth, in the Atlantic Coast and Southern Conference basketball scrambles today.

Those two conferences open their annual post-season tournaments with powerful Duke, winner of 15 straight and ranked second in the nation, a lop-sided favorite in the ACC while Lest Virginia is favored to add to its history of success in the Southern Conference.

Duke ripped out a 14-0 record against ACC opponents in regular season play and West Virginia compiled an 11-2 mark against its conference opponents. Those records, however, are good only for the top spot in the bracket as the leagues go to tourney play to determine their NCAA representatives.

1ST ROUND BYE

The ACC champion gets a bye in first round NCAA Eastern Regional play and meets the winner of the Pitt-New York University game in a regional semifinal. The Southern Conference champ goes against the Yankee Conference winner in an Eastern regional first round game.

Bowling Green backed into the NCAA Mideast Regionals when Western Michigan edged Toledo 69-64 Wenesday night. Bowling Green had finished its season with a 9-3 record in the Mid-American Conference, and the loss ended Toledo's chance of gaining a tie. Bowling Green will play Notre Dame in a first round NCAA game.

The Irish warmed up with a 78-72 triumph over Evansville at South Bend while third-ranked Loyola of Chicago, also bound for the NCAA, whipped visiting Ohio University 114-94. The victory pushed Loyola's record to 24-1.

St. Francis of New York, which has accepted a bid to the National Invitation Tourney stumbled before visiting Seton Hall 71-62, even though the winners were without Nick Werkman, the nation's leading scorer.

HEYMAN STARS

Duke, sparked by 6-foot-5 Art Heyman, ran up a 21-2 regular season record and is heavily favored in the tourney at Raleigh, N.C. Heyman take an average of 25.8 points a game into tonight's first round match witt Virginia, 5-19.

North Carolina State, 9-10, plays Clemson, 12-12, in the other night game. North Carolina, 14-5, plays South Carolina, 9-14, ad defending champion Wake Forest, 14-9, takes on Maryland, 8-12, in day games. Semifinals are scheduled Friday night, the finals Saturday.

West Virginia, winner of seven of the last eight Southern Conderence tourneys, takes an 18-7 mark into the affair at Richmond, Va., but can expect tough going from at least three ambitious opponents, Davidson, Furman and William and Mary, the latter two owning regular season victories over West Virginia.

The Mountaineers go against Richmond, 7-17, in a first round match tonight with William and Mary, 15-8, playing Virginia Tech, 11-11, in the other game. Afternoon matches pit Furman, 13-13, against George Washington, 8-14, and Davidson, 18-6, against Virginia Military, 6-14.

Kansas State stayed ahead of idle Colorado in the Big Eight race Wednesday, trouncing visiting Kansas 74-60. The victory pushed the Wildcats' league record to 9-2, while Colorado is 9-3.

In some of the other major games, Air Force edged Regis of Denver 59-58, Lehigh beat Rutgers 81-65 and Niagara routed Syracuse 82-61.

ABC Enters 13th Day

Chances of Change Slim

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) —A light schedule promises little change in the standings of the American Bowling Congress Tournament today as the meet enters its 13th of 72 days of action.

★ ★ ★

Only two squads will be competing in minor events play and none of the nation's top stars are included in the slim line-up.

Every leader held to the top spots in the standings Wednesday, but there were several near-misses.

SECOND PLACE

Charles Conti, 47, of Akron, Ohio, a railroad fireman, took second in regular all-events with 1,933 and tied for fifth in singles with 695. Ken Barber, Rego Park, N.Y., leads the all-events with 1,940, while Jack Bullis of Bay City, Mich., paces the singles with 706.

Conti had a chance to lead both these divisions but a missed spare in the final frame of his singles play cost him the opportunity to be the pacesetter.

The Bell Supply Classic team from Wilmington, Del., opened its play with a 2,942 block, and Mike's Pro Shop of St. Paul finished its six-game classic appearance with a 5,641 total, far behind the leading 6,157 posted by the Helin Tackles of Detroit on Tuesday.

Zephyers Win, 10-5

MUSKEGON (AP) — The Muskegon Zephyers scored seven goals in the first period and coasted to a 10-5 International Hockey League victory over the Omaha Knights last night.

Western Michigan Becomes Spoiler

By The Associated Press

Bowling Green of Ohio won the Mid-American conference championship and a spot in the NCAA basketball tournament when Western Michigan defeated Toledo 69-64 last night.

★ ★ ★

The loss dropped Toledo out of a tie for first place with Bowling Green and gave the Falcons the league title.

Western Michigan's guard, Manny Newsome, strengthened his bid for a second straight Mid-American scoring championship. Newsome's game high 33 points moved him past Bowling Green's Nate Thurmond and Toledo's Ray Wolford.

Toledo moved into the lead early in the game, but Western Michigan surged back to lead 38-37 at the half. Toledo closed the gap to 55-54 with 3:40 left, but Newsome hit on two long one-handers and a free throw to put the Broncos out of reach.

Western Michigan is now 6-5 in the conference and 11-12 overall.

HOPE TRIUMPHS

Hope's flying dutchmen closed out their MIAA basketball season with a 12-0 record by edging Calvin 68-66 last night.

The league champions trailed most of the way in the game at Grand Rapids but they rallied in a see-saw second half and clinched victory in the closing minutes.

Calvin is 5-7 in the MIAA.

In other games, Kalamazoo edged Adrian 69-68, Olivet trimmed Hillsdale 87-80, and Ferris Institute thumped Detroit Tech, 81-52.

Olivet closed out its season with its second victory in 20 games. It avenged a 74-61 loss to Hillsdale earlier in the season. Ron Zazzora with 22 points and John Doyle with 21 were top scorers for Olivet. John Rowan led Hillsdale with 19 points. Hillsdale has a 3-19 record with two games remaining.

Kalamazoo closed its season with a 7-5 MIAA record for a share of second place in the conference standings. A free throw by Chuck Wood in the last minute gave Kalamazoo the winning edge over Adrian. Dale Southworth was top scorer for Kalamazoo with 18 points and Don Harned of Troy led Adrian with 20.

Bernard Kilpatrick scored 15 points in Ferris' non-conference victory over Detroit Tech. Ferris took a 37-20 halftime margin and led all the way. Larry Bogos was high scorer for Detroit Tech with 11 points. The victory left Ferris with a 15-6 record. Detroit Tech closed its season with a 9-15 mark.

Pairs' Crown at Stake Today

Skating Championships 3-Way Contest

CORTINA (AP)—A three-way contest between West Germany, Canada and the Soviet Union dominated the start of the 1963 World Figure Skating Championships today.

At stake was the crown for the pairs competition, first title to be decided in the four-day event at Cortina's Olympic Stadium.

Squared off against Canada and West Germany—two nations that have dominated pairs skating since its inception as a world event in 1918 — was the Soviet Union, hungry for its first world figure skating title of any kind.

LATE START

The Russian husband-wife team of Oleg and Ludmila Protopopov enjoyed a tactical advantage of a late start in the skating order—ninth place in the field of 12.

The pre-meet favorites, Mrika Kilius and Hans-Jurgen Baumler of West Germany, faced the disadvantage of an early starting time in the skating order—No. 3—just ahead of Canada's Gertrude France.

Kilius and Bumler dropped out of the world contest last year after a terrific spill. But earlier this month they scored an impressive victory over the Protopopovs in the European championships at Budapest.

CANADIANS OUT

Debbie Wilkes and Guy Revell, the Canadian and North American champions who came here as Canada's top hopes, withdrew Wednesday. Miss Wilkes suffered a head injury in a fall Monday.

But the Desjardins-LaFrance pair were rated capable of continuing Canada's five-year winning streak among world pairs.

The United States was hopeful of landing one of its three teams among the top five. All fared well in the skating order, with champions Judianne and Jerry Fotter-ingill fifth, runners-up Vivian and Ronald Joseph seventh, and third-place Patti Gustafson and Pieter Kollen 10th.

The field was reduced to 12 late Wednesday night when Austrian champions Diana Kinko and Bernhard Henhapel were sidelined. Miss Hinko re-injured a knee during final practice.

School figures in men's singles were also on the day's program. Titles will be settled Friday night in men's singles, Saturday night in ice dance, and Sunday afternoon in Ladies' singles.

Three Bruins From U. S.

MONTREAL — Only three players in the National Hockey League were born in the United States, and all three play with the Boston Bruins.

They are Tommy Williams of Duluth, Minn., Charlie Burns of Detroit and Wayne Hicks of Aberdeen, Wash. Williams and Hicks are rookies.

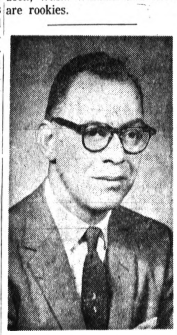
SHUTS THE DOOR — Cranbrook goalie Pete Maxwell, partially obscured by an unidentified Riverside player, blocks off the corner of the net as the visitor attempts to circle the goal and score. Puck, which is visible between feet of Riverside winger, was covered by Maxwell for one of his 30 saves. Crane defenseman moves in at right to help his goalie.



HEADS RUTH LEAGUE — Carl Wheeler of Bloomfield Hills has been named state director of the Michigan Babe Ruth Baseball League. He has been active in the league for nine years. The league encompasses players between 13-15 years of age.

Hockey Season Over for Crane Skaters

By JERE CRAIG

Cranbrook's skaters learned this yesterday as Riverside moved a giant step toward its second consecutive International High School Hockey League title with a 2-0 victory.

The Cranes, also, learned that their skating season was over for another year as they were eliminated from the loop playoffs by the visitors in the best-of-three series, 2-0.

It was a tense, at times rather disorganized stalemate after two periods with Cranbrook getting very few good shots at the winners' goalie.

LOSE CONTROL

The falling snow really made its presence felt in the third period as control of the puck became quite difficult. Long passes were almost impossible and only the small rooster tails of snow made by the moving puck enabled the players to keep track of the elusive sphere.

Finally with 8:45 elapsed in the final period, Riverside's Bruce Stott, the outstanding goal maker in the league, shook loose on the left wing to fire a fine wrist shot into the opposite corner of the net for the first score.

Dave Dent and Boyne Wiseman received assists. Another 1:12 elapsed before Dent shot a short backhander between the legs of Pete Maxwell, the Cranes' goalie, on a screen shot to make it 2-0.

Cranbrook finally put the puck behind the Riverside netminder Gord Thompson late in the period but John Theobald of the home team was ruled kicking the puck the final six inches and the goal was nullified.

Thompson had 19 saves in the contest while Maxwell, a stand-out all season for the Cranes, stopped 30 shots by the winners.

Cranbrook finished its season with a 14-4-1 ledger, although it lost the final three games by a total of five goals.

GOLD CREST MUFFLERS BRAKES

SKILL TO SPARE by Dick Weber
To make the 3-6-9-10 spare, move to the left to give yourself an angle and follow the Spare-maker, hitting the 3 on the right.
You shouldn't have any trouble making this, but examine your game to see why you got in the predicament.
The only cause for leaving this unusual cluster is a really bad ball. The ball simply flattened out, leaving no driving force. The ball probably came in high on the 1, was deflected and hit the 5 but didn't have enough steam to send the 5 over to take the 9.
If only the 3-6-9 had been left, I would say you probably had rolled a pretty good first ball which just didn't carry as well as it should have.

YOU MAY NOT FACE THIS HAZARD, BUT—
As a homeowner you may not face the same hazards as an Eskimo, but there are a great many perils that do threaten your home: wind, fire, theft, vandalism and personal liability, to name only a few. Protect yourself against financial loss with a modern Homeowners Policy.

North American Jumping Meet at Iron Mountain

Pontiac Press Photo

SWISS NOCTURNE — A touch of the Swiss Alps is depicted in this night scene of the Mt. Holly ski area lodge. The lodge area is lighted with colored lights at night.

Best Jumpers in Nation to Aim for Mark

Pine Mountain Site for Country's Top Jumping Event

IRON MOUNTAIN — One of the most spectacular activities of the winter season will take place in this Michigan-Wisconsin border city, Saturday and Sunday.

It will be the annual North American Ski Championships and the Kiwanis Invitational ski tournament.

Skiers jump from the world's highest artificial ski scaffold — a steel tower jutting 156 feet above the mountain top.

Zooming down a snow-packed incline that stretches 300 feet they take off at an estimated 70 miles an hour. The vertical drop from take-off to landing is 250 feet — which, measured by buildings, would be a 25-story drop.

For 16 of the last 24 years, Pine Mountain has held or shared the North American distance record. Pine Mountain and Westby, Wis., shared the distance record of 317 feet until recently.

★ ★ ★

It was lifted to 322 feet at Steamboat Springs, Colo., by Gene Kotlarek of Duluth, Minn. And Kotlarek will be among those competing in the North American and the Kiwanis Invitational.

Also competing will be John Balfanz of Minneapolis, who set the 317-foot-record at Westby last year. Pekka Tirkkinen of Finland equaled that jump at Pine Mountain two weeks later.

Among other American stars expected to tune up here for the U. S. olympic trials on suicide hill at Ishpeming, Mich., on March 9-10 are Ansten Samuelstuen of Steamboat Springs, a 1960 olympic team member and runner-up to Kotlarek in the nationals last weekend, and Butch Wedin of Iron Mountain, also a 1960 Olympic jumper.

TOP JUMPERS

★ ★ ★

While there have been several mishaps on Pine Mountain, only one person ever was fatally injured while jumping there. Before one is allowed to start from Pine Mountain's scaffold to end up the distance of three football fields down the mountainside and some 40 stories below where he started, he must be rated an expert and have proved it on lesser jumps.

While distance is important in ski jumping, it is no more so than style. Each is weighted 50 per cent in scoring.

Scorers keep track of distances. Judges rate the riders on style, all the way from the beginning of their runs at the top of the scaffold to the out-run.

All Turns From Stem Turn

Skiing Tips by Toni Sailer

Once a perfect "stemmer," always a perfect skier. This is the law. The Stem Turn is a basic ingredient of refined skiing.

You command it and the rest of the whole art comes your way.

From Snow Plow to Stem Turn it was low-speed skiing. Now, speed becomes a dominant factor.

Turns turn into "Swings." The fast-done Stem Turn is called Stem Swing. The difference: More speed, the periods of the "V"-positions of your skis grow shorter, i.e. you close them faster.

The swing is completed on the lower ski, requiring a perfect sense of gliding. Your shoulder work is done in one fluent move. Calves and upper body bend in the same angles.

The Stem Swing completes the pattern of school maneuvers. Now it's a good thing to re-examine what you have learned so far.

A couple of hours of bottom-to-top exercises from Sideward Slide to Plow to Stem Turn will reveal the bad habits you might have picked up and will help to correct them.

Polish the Stem Turn in all sorts of snow, on icy, hard-packed runs, in deep powder snow and in wet-heavy spring snow.

By now your leg muscles will have developed a strength sufficient to control your skis in any snow condition and on any slope no matter how steep.

The next step is the Parallel Swing, one of the most elegant maneuvers that really gives you a berth among upper-class skiers.

'IT WON'T MEAN A THING IF YOU AIN'T GOT THAT SWING.' HIP WORK IS ALL IMPORTANT IN THE PARALLEL SWING.

New Snowfall, Area Resorts Expect Rush

With, at least, two additional inches of snow arriving overnight area ski resorts should enjoy another big weekend tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday.

The below-freezing temperatures had most of the areas making snow before the arrival of the new snowfall so there is an ample base on almost every slope in the area.

Very good-to-excellent conditions have been reported by Mt. Brighton, Alpine Valley and Mt. Christie. Earlier in the week, Mt. Brighton had reported trouble with its J-bar but all facilities are operating now.

Summit Ski area also has very good conditions.

The slopes at Pine Knob, Dryden, Mt. Holly, Grampian Mt., and Teeple Hill are good-to-very good.

The adventurous skiers who like to take on the trails through the woods should find the conditions most enjoyable this weekend — during the daylight hours.

Organized competition has finished its season at most of the areas and all slopes and facilities will be at the disposal of the independent skier.

Prep Quintets Hit 190 Mark

DETROIT (AP) — Inkster and Willow Run High Schools gave the scorekeeper a workout last night as they poured in a combined total of 190 points in their basketball game, Inkster won, 96-94.

★ ★ ★

The record books showed the 190 total was just six points behind the all-time high scoring game in Michigan high school basketball records.

★ ★ ★

Close-Out Prep Ski Meet Season

Rochester, Bloomfield Hills in Tie

Rochester and Bloomfield Hills high school ski clubs closed the organized meet season for area teams by splitting a meet last night at Mt. Holly.

Geoff Smith of Hills and the Falcon's Sis Bulton won the individual competition with little opposition. Smith made the two slalom runs in a combined time of 43.2 seconds.

Miss Bulton was 32.9 seconds ahead of her teammate Kathy Voorheis to win the girls division in 71.1. Rochester's Lynne Muster made her two runs in the time of 103.7 for third place and the Barons' only competitor was Pam Waggoner who skied in 126.5.

The course reportedly was very tight with all competitors having a rough time making their two runs.

Rochester's Allen Amazeger finished second among the boys with a time of 58.6. Ken Belledau took fourth for the Falcons and Butch Blumenfeld, Dick Wood and Andy Cummins took third, fifth and sixth for Bloomfield Hills.

COUNTY MEET

The Oakland County High School Inter-club Ski championships were last weekend at Mt. Holly with Bloomfield Hills and Royal Oak Kimball edging their way to the boys and girls divisions' titles, respectively.

The course through the slalom gates was icy and few skiers were able to perform up to expectation.

Coach Don Gregory say the Hills male skiers register a surprisingly easy triumph despite the fact four of the five top team members were out with injuries or illnesses.

The Barons best foursome skied the course in a total of 224.2 seconds, 59.8 seconds better than runnerup Walled Lake. West Bloomfield was third and Waterford Kettering fourth.

Three girls from each club composed a team and Kimball's trio of Carol Clark, Diane MacKller and Cathy Sheppard joined for an overall clocking of 258.- seconds. West Bloomfield's girls ran second at 329.2 seconds and Berkley was third.

Individual pace setters were Laurie Carter of West Bloomfield who made the two girls' runs in 71.3 seconds, and John Steckling of Walled Lake led all boys with 39.6 for two races.

Butch Blumenfeld captured second among the fellows with a 42.5 reading, while teammates Andy Cummins, Bob Black and George Vilican were seventh through ninth, respectively.

Miss Clark finished third for the Knights behind Miss Carter and Berkley's Sheila Larkins. Kimball's other two finishers were Misses MacKeller and Sheppard in fifth and sixth place, respectively.

★ ★ ★

Dave Clark, brother of Carol for the Bears, captured fifth place among the boys. Other individuals among the top five in each division were Waterford's Jane Tripp, fourth among the girls; and West Bloomfield's Bob Thornton and Berkley's Rick Poa, who took third and fourth, respectively, in the boys' competition.

Adopt Name for Loop: S. E. Michigan Assn,

When the Eastern Michigan League splits nest year, the western half will be known as the Southeastern Michigan Association.

This name was adopted at a recent meeting of officials from the schools involved.

The EML schools involved in the new league are Birmingham Seaholm, Royal Oak Kimball, Hazel Park and Ferndale.

Capac, Imlay Draw

Imlay City and North Branch will settle their differences in the "C" district semifinal a week from Friday at Mt. Morris.

Capac drew Port Huron St. Stephen as its first round foe in Class C at Port Huron.

Saucy Bossy, Deer Roamed Same Land

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—Unless there is a herd of deer roaming the eternal pasture, Saucy Bossy, the mixed-up bovine, won't feel at home.

Saucy Bossy started life nearly a quarter-century ago pretty much like the rest of the cud-chewing set. She came from good stock — from the right side of the fence, you might say — and was considered an up and coming producer in farmer E. M. Slawson's herd.

Then came the war and the Slawson pastures became part of the 2,804-acre naval supply center, Cheatham Annex. Slawson moved his herd but Saucy Bossy moved deep into the briar and pine. The fact that she was a 1,500-pound purebred Holstein and her new companions skittish Virginia white-tailed deer didn't seem to matter.

THE PHANTOM

In the next few years the legend of the phantom of Cheatham Annex was born.

Annex employes and area residents reported from time to time of being flushed from the woods by a beast that seemed to come from nowhere and disappear in a flash. Many a tree-climbing record was set, they said, when the pounding hooves and angry snorts were heard.

Descriptions were vague. A huge, albino buck deer, some said.

Finally, last March, 30 sailors, soldiers and newsmen set out to solve the riddle and obtain pictorial proof.

Army pohtographer Michael Bachmann was starting into a clearing when the bush crackled. He aimed his movie camera at a flash of white.

Back in the darkroom the truth came out. There was saucy Bossy, bounding away like a deer but every inch a Holstein.

During the past few bitter cold weeks there were none of the customary sightings of Saucy Bossy. Monday, Ranger Buck Rogers was crossing a hill near the center of the range and found her dead — probably of natural causes expectable in her extreme age.

WSU Asks Funds for Med Students

LANSING (AP) — Wayne State University has asked the Senate Appropriations Committee for a $550,000 increase in the school's appropriation so it can expand its freshman medical school class from 100 to 125 students.

WSU President Clarence G. Hilberry and Dr. Gordon H. Scott, dean of the WSU College of Medicine, made the request yesterday before the Senate committee. The increase covers the fiscal year starting July 1.

Scott produced figures which he said showed WSU's expenditures per medical student last year were $3,572 compared with $4,517 at the University of Michigan Medical School.

Auto Makers Oppose Block to Financing

DETROIT (AP) —The auto companies have presented a united front against efforts to keep them out of the auto finance and insurance business.

★ ★ ★

Directors of the Automobile Manufacturers Association said yesterday they had approved unanimously a resolution opposing any legislation "designed to limit or prohibit the freedom of Manufacturers to engage in the financing of the sale or the insurance of their products . . ."

General Motors Acceptance Corp. is the largest financing subsidiary owned by an auto company. Ford has the Ford Motor Credit Co., and the American Road Insurance Co.

Rediseo, a subsidiary of American Motors, is mainly involved in appliance and automotive fleet financing. Chrysler and Studebaker are not involved presently.

1968 Winter Olympics May Be Held in Banff

MONTREAL (AP) — Atop Canadian Olympic official said Wednesday that, if the 1968 Winter Olympics are held in North America, they will almost certainly be awarded to Banff, Alta.

Commenting on reports that Lake Placid, N.Y., will bid for the games, Ken Farmer, past president of the Canadian Olympic Association, said: "There is almost no chance that the Winter United States twice in eight Olympics would be held in the years."

The 1960 Winter Games were held in Squaw Valley, Calif.

Lake Placid was host to the 1932 Winter Games.

No More Traffic Tickets

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — The police department got this letter yesterday from a perplexed motorist: "Here is another traffic ticket and I have now arranged to never get another traffic ticket. I removed the windshield wipers from my car."

Road Commission Named in Lawsuit

The Oakland County Road Commission is defendant in a $200,000 suit filed in the county's Circuit Court by the widow of a Milford Township man killed on Commerce Road a year ago.

Baird died of a broken neck after his car went out of control near Garner Road in Milford Township and hit a tree in February 1962.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Baird's suit alleges the car hit water standing in the road, causing her husband to lose control of the vehicle.

She charges the road commission was negligent in failing to live up to state law requiring it to keep roads "reasonably safe, fit and convenient for public travel."

Cyrus the Great, born in the 6th Century B.C., was the first Persian King. Iran's present ruler, Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, is the 90th king.

Opening lead—♥Q

By OSWALD JACOBY

How would you go about playing South's seven spade contract?

You would probably let the opening heart lead ride to your king and lay down the ace and king of spades. West would show out on the second spade lead and you would eventually have to concede a trick of trumps.

JACOBY

Now, go back to the first trick and see if you can't find some way to make the hand. You can if you start getting rid of your trumps immediately and you do this by what is called a quadruple grand coup, a classic in the bridge world.

You take the first trick with dummy's ace of hearts and smother your own king. Then you ruff a heart and lead out the ace and king of trumps to discover the bad trump break. Next you overtake your king of diamonds with dummy's ace and ruff another heart. A diamond to dummy's queen gives you a chance to ruff a third heart. Now you overtake your king of clubs with dummy's ace and ruff a diamond. At this point you have only the queen and ten of trumps left and East still holds the jack and five.

You lead your last club to dummy's queen and East has to follow. Now you are in dummy and you lead another club. East has to ruff and you overruff, then you pick up his jack to make the hand.

Nice, and maybe this hand actually was dealt sometime or other.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1♠	Double	Pass	3♥
3♠	Pass	Pass	4♥
Pass	Pass	4♠	?

You, South, hold:
♠85 ♥KQ864 ♦KJ2 ♣964
What do you do?

A—Double. They may make it, but the odds are greatly against it.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of passing to three spades your partner bids four clubs and East passes. What do you do?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Friday

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Excellent day for meeting new people, selling, cementing friendships. Better for action than for admonishing yourself for not "doing better." Time will show you did all right!

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Take time to be right about money matters. You could seek aid of Gemini individual. Tonight a quiet gathering favored over noisy, stranger-filled rooms. Consider before acting.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Lend helping hand if request is made. Doing a little extra will repay you materially as well as spiritually. Very good for planning down future plans. Exciting journey indicated ahead.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Friendship fine. But you ultimately must make your own decisions. Means start facing situation as it actually exists. Present situation as it actually exists. Present quest leads only to a long, fruitless search. Better settle for reality!

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Get routine work out of way early, and day sparkles with refreshing progress. You emanate plenty of personal appeal. Day when you are revitalized.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Your intuition serves you well. Listen to "inner voice." Especially where job factors and ambitions are concerned. May be one who misconstrues your motives. Be alert!

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Key is willingness to EXPAND base of activities. This not accomplished by day-dreaming. Instead, take steps which lead to successful fulfillment. Means you must be dynamic, confident.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Take care with details. Do the "little" jobs and the big ones will take care of themselves. Discussion today could result in added success. Be attentive! Cooperate.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): The happier you make loved ones, the happier you will be. That's key to nagging "blues." DO things with zest, enthusiasm today, showing associates you can set pace.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Your stock with "other" person rises. You can gain much by original, creative approach. Win your way through charm, drive. Show appreciation for talents associates display.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You give the impression of being satisfied, GOOD. Temptation is to "let hair down," but this not wise today. Maintaining appearance of self-satisfaction gives you advantage!

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Shouting accomplishes little. Today calm approach best. Many things appear to be "out-of-order." But some patience brings success. Excellent evening for new, exciting contacts.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Still Down Over-All

Market Shaves Some Losses

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market shaved some early losses Thursday afternoon but remained lower.

Declines among key issues generally were fractional and a few small gains appeared on the tape.

Trading was fairly active but had slowed from its opening pace.

Brokers said investors appeared to want to play it cautious for a while and take some profits in view of uncertainties over the Kennedy tax program and international affairs.

One broker said the price improvement around mid-day might be attributed to encouragement generated by the State Department's denial of a report that Russia intended to leave troops in Cuba indefinitely.

* * *

Motors, rubbers, chemicals, aircrafts and rails eased. Steels and tobaccos were mixed.

Active trading in Eastman Kodak pushed it about 3 points ahead on expectations the company would have an important announcement during the day.

Another camera company, Bell & Howell, added about a point but there was no indication of a connection between the two moves. Polaroid, which recently introduced instant color film, dropped fractionally.

* * *

Prices were lower in slow trading on the American Stock Exchange. Fractional losers included Creole Petroleum, General Development, Masco, Heli-Coil, Syntex and Dialight. Higher were Hoffman International, Belock Instruments and Cinerama.

Volvo Starts Canada Unit

HALIFAX, N. S. (UPI) — Volvo of Sweden yesterday became the first European automobile company to establish production facilities in North America when it acquired a 55,000-square foot factory in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia.

D. W. Samuel, president of Volvo (Canada) Ltd., said the plant will turn out 6,500 cars a year, with a projected annual capacity of 10,000 units.

Ask to Renew Strike Talks

Wagner Gets OK From Publishers, Unions

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner said today that publishers and striking printers have asked a renewal of negotiations to try to settle the city's 83-day newspaper blackout.

Wagner had said he would propose terms of settlement unless the disputing parties believed further talks would be helpful.

The mayor said he believed there was "some glimmer of hope."

"Both sides feel that they prefer to be able to arrive at a settlement through mediation and negotiations rather than have me make a proposal at this time," Wagner told a city hall news conference.

Wagner said Elmer Brown, president of the International Typographical Union, whose Local No. 6, is waging the strike, would arrive here this afternoon from the union's headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo.

TO SET UP MEETING

He said that, after Brown's arrival, he would set up a meeting of subcommittees of the publishers and printers.

Wagner will attend the session as mediator, he said.

The mayor said he had invited Brown to come here in view of the reports by both sides that they wanted to negotiate further.

Wagner received the printers' report here after he returned from Washington where he was a witness Wednesday at a hearing before a congressional subcommittee on President Kennedy's youth employment bill. In Washington, he reiterated his intention to outline non-binding settlement terms of his own in an effort to end the newspaper blackout. He did not say when he would make the move.

In Cleveland, where 3,000 people have been out of work for 91 days because of strikes against the city's two newspapers, a contract agreement has been reached with a second striking union, the Teamsters.

NO AGREEMENT

But the closed-down Plain Dealer and the Press & News and eight other unions still have not reached contract terms. Three unions are still on strike.

French Nab 8, OAS Leader

PARIS (AP)—Police reported today they had seized another leader of the terrorist Secret Army, Georges Buscia, and eight of his underlings.

They said the group had been assigned the mission of assassinating Premier Georges Pompidou and several other French officials.

Police claimed that Buscia and his unit were to have slain Pompidou in a small village near Paris last summer. They said the unit got its orders from Secret Army leaders in Belgium but that Belgian authorities uncovered the assassination plans and turned them over to the French.

Buscia and the others were picked up in Paris over the weekend, before the arrest of ex-Col. Antoine Argoud, described as a director of the Secret Army operating outside France.

On Lobbyists, 'Rule 9'

Bills Beat Deadline

LANSING (AP) — Bills to regulate lobbyists, provide the attorney general with subpoena powers and restore the provisions of the now-defunct "Rule 9" were filed ahead of the legislative deadline yesterday.

The bills represent the last three sections of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley's 1963 legislative program and were introduced by lawmakers on his behalf.

* * *

The lobbying bill, promised by Kelley as a result of his investigation of lobbying activities during the 1962 Senate fight over fiscal reform, is designed to control the activities of the more than 200 "legislative agents" registered with the state.

"It's not the strongest lobbying law in the country, and it's not the weakest," said Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon S. Cohan. "The bill is the result of considerable study of similar laws in other states and attempts to take a reasonable and moderate position."

"Lobbying, we agree, serves a real public purpose but it must be regulated in the public interest."

One key provision of the stiffened law would require lobbyists to make monthly sworn statements itemizing "all services, money or other thing of value" made available to legislators for each firm or organization they represent.

These written reports would be sent to the secretary of state and kept five years as public record.

'REAL TEETH'

The real teeth in the bill, Cohan said, lie in the provision that the secretary of state could revoke the licenses of any lobbyists for failure to file reports required by the law or upon conviction of a felony.

The filing of false information or other violations of the law could result in a fine of $200 to $1,000 or imprisonment for three months to a year.

Kelley started his plan to regulate lobbyists last year after he found that several of them violated legislative rules in urging defeat of former Gov. John Swainson's proposed fiscal reform program. The proposal lost by a single vote in the Senate.

The Kelley bills on lobbyists and subpoena powers were filed in the House by Reps. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, and James Karoub, D-Highland Park.

His request for a law to grant his office the power of subpoena for state agency hearings contains one major change from similar proposals of the past — the exclusion of lawmakers and state officials.

Several of Kelley's predecessors saw proposals for subpoena power defeated in the legislature because lawmakers feared they might come under its provisions.

The bill stipulates that subpoena power could be granted to the attorney general by a judge in cases where it is requested.

Identical bills introduced by Sen. Charles Blondy, D-Detroit, and Rep. James Bradley, D-Detroit, carry the exact language of the controversial "Rule 9" of the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission which the State Supreme Court ruled invalid as an agency rule last month.

It would bar licensed real estate brokers from discrimination based on race, color, creed or national origin in any manner or form in the transaction of property sales.

IN RE: BUDGET FOR FISCAL YEAR BEGINNING JANUARY 1, 1963 TO DE-CEMBER 31, 1963

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen.

Your Ways and Means Committee herewith presents to the Board of Supervisors the recommended budget for the operation of the County for the fiscal year beginning January 1, 1963 and ending December 31, 1963.

Your Committee was faced with an especially difficult task this year due to a flat-back in the requested County allocation, namely, an overall adjustment upward of $1,949,522.00 from the millage requested in the tentative budget this spring. This was a result of many unavoidable factors, all affecting the people of Oakland County, the anticipation of every possible increase projected, on an assumption of optimum conditions throughout 1963, and the use of whatever resources the County might have including possible budget balances at the end of 1962.

Your Committee feels that the tentative budget represented a reasonable and justified program. We would, in accordance with sound budgetary procedures, have preferred to project anticipated receipts on a more conservative basis. We feel that the possible safeguards should have been incorporated in the budget document and dollar requirements for those services that are dependent upon economic and outside conditions, together with increased charges in State and Federal requirements. However, we have done what we can with the funds made available to us and, to the best of our judgment, have presented a budget with the least possible impairment to those County programs most vital to the people of Oakland County. To this end, we present a Budget which we must label as an Austerity Budget.

The report of the amounts recommended by the Salaries Committee and the Board of Auditors for the salaries portion of the 1963 Budget are included in the recommended 1963 Budget in the total of the forty-one (41) new positions recommended in the budget have been deleted. This, we recognize, will in many instances, result in lower service to the public. The result in lower service to the public. The salary adjustments have been provided for any County personnel other than nonmal and customary salaries for those elected and appointed officials in the discretion of their budgeting January 1, 1963. These officials, due to statutory limitations, did not receive raises in May and in some cases for periods longer than this. The recommendation of the Salaries Committee in matter and the fringe benefits for increase some of the fringe benefits for County employees has been concurred in by the Ways and Means Committee and is included in the budget. Details of these benefits have been presented by the Salaries Committee.

Attention of the Board of the Board is brought at this time to the fact that there is presently a deficit of $131,667.00 in the Building Fund and it is recommended by the committee that this amount be automatically reimbursed to the Building Fund at the end of the present fiscal year from budget balances, if any, every year from budget balances, if any, every year from budget balances, if any, every

IN RE: VILLAGE AND CITY ANNEXATION AND INCORPORATION PROCEDURES

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

In order that your Committee and the Board may be informed in the matter of petitions for either annexation or incorporation are presented for consideration a study has been made of the various state laws and the proceedings required under each.

For villages there are two Acts — the 1895 Act 3 of the Public Acts of 1895, and the late 1909 Act (Act 278 of the Public Acts of 1909). Under the 1895 Act, villages were permitted to be incorporated and boundaries altered after Clerk fitness were filed with the County Board and hearings are held before the Board of Supervisors. No election is provided.

Under the later Village Act, an election is required if the area sought to be included for incorporation as well as alteration both as to incorporation and alteration as boundaries. If the petition to be sufficient, the County Clerk must set the date for an election. No hearings are required.

Recently the Board had before it a petition from the Clerk of Waterford Township under the 1895 law. There are at least two villages in the area of Waterford which come under this Act. It has been the practice in the past to hold hearings on the alteration area only when the County Attorney was ordered by the Board of Supervisors.

As the result of the study just completed by your Committee, it is recommended that meetings of the Committee be held in the affected area and that a hearing be a resolution by the Board of Supervisors authorizing such meetings be approved.

Moved by Thay supported by Rehard the resolution be adopted.

Preliminary plans and cost estimates are being prepared by O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach, architects, and Plans and Estimates in conjunction with the Special County Building Committee. Preliminary conference has reported to the Ways and Means Committee that there will be no report required before preliminary plans can be completed. The Ways and Means Committee on October 12, 1962, adopted a resolution authorizing the Board to employ architects to draw plans for the project requested by the Special Committee.

(c) MEDICAL CARE FACILITY

The Medical Welfare Board is presently making a study as to plans and cost estimates of this project. Report on this project will be made at a later date.

(d) UTILITIES AT SERVICE CENTER

Plans and estimates have been prepared by the County Engineer. If federal funds are available it will be possible to proceed with a $516,000 total program. This was recommended by resolution that the Ways and Means Committee adopted on October 12, 1962. Details of the projects considered by the Buildings and Grounds Committee and the Board of Auditors on October 16, 1962. This application is ready for consideration by the Board and resolution to implement this part of the County's application to the Housing and Home Finance Agency will be presented to the Board today. This application will include storm and sanitary sewers and steam and water lines at the County Service Center. It is recommended that these projects be given priority. It is further recommended that second priority be given to the Children's Village project.

(e) CIVIC AUDITORIUM

In accordance with Resolution No. 4027 adopted by the Board at the last meeting, a notice of intent to file for this project was submitted to the Housing and Home Finance Agency. Further action on this application to be held by the group of interested citizens.

Immediately following the consideration of this report by the Board, the Ways and Means Committee will present two resolutions as follows:

1. Authorize filing of formal application for storm and sanitary sewers and steam and water lines at County Service Center — estimated cost $516,000.00; County's share $258,000.00.

2. Installation of parking lots at Service Center — estimated cost $88,000.00; County's share $44,000.00.

It is recommended that Item 1 be given first priority and Item 2 second priority in the application.

It is further recommended that the other pending projects be given consideration by the joint Committees and further reports made to the Board at a later meeting.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Ways and Means Committee, I move that the foregoing report be approved and placed on file.

IN RE: TEMPORARY AGREEMENT FOR USE OF DOWNTOWN COURT HOUSE SQUARE

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Whereas the Board on January 25, 1962, approved the appointment of a Special Committee to study the use of the old Court House site, and

Whereas the Committee has since that date considered possible temporary use of the property by the City of Pontiac, and

Whereas the property was offered for sale and there were no bidders, and

Whereas the old Court House and adjacent facilities have now been demolished and the site is ready for other use, and

Whereas the City is better addressed to the future, and October, 1962, advised that they would prefer not to open negotiations for the purchase of the property by the City at this time but would prefer that the Board pursue the temporary chants upon negotiations for temporary lease of the property as a parking lot, and

Whereas the letter from the Downtown Pontiac Business Association dated November 1, 1962 offering to enter into an agreement with the County for the use of this property for free parking for shoppers is deemed to be a fair one and considered by the Committee at a meeting on November 8, 1962, and recommended to be accepted for six months, subject to ten day cancellation clause, and for payment of consideration of $1.00, and

Whereas it is also recommended that the Association as tenant agree to pay for all improvements on the site, to maintain same in accordance with all City regulations and to furnish liability insurance policy with the County named as "additional insured".

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED as follows:

1. That the Board of Auditors be authorized to enter into a temporary agreement with the Downtown Pontiac Business Association, a non-profit Corporation, for the use of the Court House site for a period not to exceed six months, subject to ten day cancellation clause after January 1, 1963 at an agreed rental of $1.00.

2. That the temporary agreement include provisions for the tenant to improve and maintain the site in accordance with City regulations and hold the County harmless from all liability or property damage.

3. That the temporary agreement be entered into after approval of the Special Committee of the terms and conditions thereof.

IN RE: SOUTHEASTERN OAKLAND COUNTY SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM

To the Board of Supervisors, Oakland County, Michigan

Mr. Calhoun, Chairman of the Drain Commissioner, submits to the Board of Supervisors the following communication, dated November 6, 1962, from the Oakland County Drain Commissioner, acting as the Board of Determination:

OAKLAND COUNTY DRAIN COMMISSIONER
550 South Telegraph Road
Pontiac, Michigan
November 6, 1962

Board of Supervisors, Oakland County, Michigan

The Board of Supervisors of Oakland County, by Resolution No. 3399 adopted on April 21, 1942 as amended by Resolution No. 3962 adopted on April 20, 1942, did establish under the provisions of Act No. 342 of the Public Acts of 1939, as amended, a system of sewer and sewage disposal improvements for the purpose of collecting and disposing of the sewage in certain territories therein described, known as the Southeastern Oakland County Sewage Disposal District, subsequently altered by the Board of Supervisors adopted Ordinance No. 58 thereof, authorizing the issue of $805,000 of revenue bonds dated January 1, 1943 for the purpose of financing the construction of said system of sewers. Said bonds were payable serially from January 1, 1944 to January 1, 1972 but were entirely retired on July 1, 1962, or approximately 10 years prior to their maturity.

The Board of Supervisors by Ordinance No. 2751 adopted on January 13, 1953, increased the said district by adding thereto the part of the City of Birmingham lying within the Rouge River Drain District. Said action was taken by Board Resolution No. 3399 establishing the boundaries of the said district so as to make the same coterminous with the Rouge River Drainage boundary line of the Evergreen-Farmington Sewage Disposal District and also of the City of Birmingham and the City of Troy. The district as it now exists is described in the attached Exhibit A.

In the aforementioned resolutions the Oakland County Drain Commissioner was designated as the agency of the county to receive, for the said County.

The existing Southeastern Oakland County Sewage Disposal System is inadequate to take care of the disposal of the sewage from the district and the Board of Supervisors in order to maintain Water Resources Commission approval, has ordered the construction of extensions to the system for the protection of the public health. Plans for some of the district have been considered by the Oakland County Drain Commissioner and by the various municipalities being served thereby and a solution of the problems has been reached by the parties concerned.

I therefore submitting the following relating to the improvement, enlargement and extension of the Southeastern Oakland County Sewage Disposal System:

1. Maps, plans and specifications which have been prepared by Hubbell, Roth & Clark, Inc. registered professional engineers.

2. Estimate of cost and period of usefulness of the project, made by said engineers.

3. A contract dated October 1, 1962 between the county and the several municipalities covered by said system relative to the operation and management of the system, the acquisition of extensions thereto and the financing thereof. A copy of this contract has been submitted to each member of the Board of Supervisors and has been approved by the Drain Commissioner of the County.

4. A contract, dated November 1, 1962, between the County and the City of Detroit for transportation rights in the Detroit sewers and a contract, dated November 1, 1962, between the same parties for the disposal of sewage from the Southeastern Oakland County Sewage Disposal District.

5. An offer of grant of $1,306,533.00 from the United States of America. (Public Law 660).

The Chairman of the Drain Committee of the Board will present the proper resolutions for your action on the foregoing.

DANIEL W. BARRY
County Drain Commissioner
as Agency of the County

Mr. Calhoun also presented the maps, plans and specifications, estimates of cost, the Engineer's report and the Offer of Federal Grant referred to in the foregoing communication and moved that Supervisor Calhoun, Chairman of the Drain Committee offer the following resolution which had been previously distributed by said committee, to-wit:

Misc. 4057

2. That the estimate of the cost and expense thereof made by the said engineers dated September 1, 1962, in the sum of $8,910,000, after deducting the sum of $1,910,000 to be paid by the City of Detroit for the amount heretofore paid by Oakland County for transportation in the Detroit sewers and for the disposal of sewage in the Detroit sewage disposal system, the acquisition of extensions thereto and the financing thereof, be and the same is hereby approved, subject to the limitations hereinafter stated.

3. Board of Supervisors, Oakland County, Michigan

The Board of Supervisors of Oakland County, by Resolution No. 3399 adopted on April 21, 1942 as amended by Resolution No. 3962 adopted on April 20, 1942, did establish under the provisions of Act No. 342 of the Public Acts of 1939, as amended, a system of sewer and sewage disposal improvements for the purpose of collecting and disposing of the sewage in certain territories therein described, known as the Southeastern Oakland County Sewage Disposal District, subsequently altered by the Board of Supervisors adopted Ordinance No. 58 thereof, authorizing the issue of $805,000 of revenue bonds dated January 1, 1943 for the purpose of financing the construction of said system of sewers. 4. A contract, dated November 1, 1962, between the County and the City of Detroit for transportation rights in the Detroit sewers and a contract, dated November 1, 1962, between the same parties for the disposal of sewage from the Southeastern Oakland County Sewage Disposal District.

5. An offer of grant of $1,306,533.00 from the United States of America (Public Law 660).

RE: AUDITOR GENERAL REPORT

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

As of October 1, 1962 the Auditor General filed his report of the examination, of the records and accounts of the County for the period of January 1, 1960 to December 31, 1960. A copy of this report was forwarded to each member of the Board of Supervisors on October 24, 1962 by the County Board of Auditors.

Immediately upon receipt of the report, your Ways and Means Committee directed the County Board of Auditors and the Corporation Counsel to make a review of the financial and legal questions mentioned therein.

This report has been widely reported in the press but these reports have failed to clearly set forth the helpful suggestions which were made by the Auditor General. They generally not mentioned the fact that the Auditor General found nothing to be improperly handled by the County Treasurer and the County Board of Auditors, and the various other County Departments which have continued to function well.

It should be noted that on page 1 of the report the Auditor General says:

"Cash on hand in the county treasurer's office was properly accounted for on November 30, 1961 and reconciled with the records as of December 31, 1960. Cash receipts were deposited daily in the designated county depositories. Cash in banks was reconciled with amounts shown on the depositories' statements."

Of great concern to your Committee is the fact that the Auditor General and the Auditor General concerning the per diem for the Chairman of the Board.

IN RE: $3,495,000 SOUTHEASTERN OAKLAND COUNTY SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM BONDS, DATED JANUARY 1, 1963

Gentlemen:

Yesterday afternoon the following telegram was sent to various bond houses in the United States:

"The sum of $3,495,000 Sewage Disposal Bonds by Oakland County has been indefinitely postponed. Bond Counsel will not opinion the bonds without the approval of the Municipal Finance Commission as to various matters required to be covered. After long negotiations final refusal by the Commission was received this morning by the Director."

DANIEL W. BARRY
"Finance Commissioner"

This action was necessary because of a refusal on the part of the Municipal Finance Commission to make an order permitting the issuance of the Sewage Bonds. Following is a copy of a letter dated December 17, 1962, addressed to the Municipal Finance Commission by bond counsel which sets forth the circumstances and the law, to-wit:

December 17, 1962

Municipal Finance Commission
Lansing, Michigan

Gentlemen:

Application for approval of the above bonds was filed with the Municipal Finance Commission on or about December 13, 1962. The Municipal Finance Commission on December 4, 1962 approved the form of notice of sale for the above bonds but did not issue its order permitting the issuance of said bonds. On the day following the meeting of the Commission we talked to Mr. Harry Carney Clerk's director of investment and were informed that the order of the Commission was not executed. The attorney General's Opinion No. 2389 dated February 28, 1962 is attached hereto as an opinion and are unable to agree with its conclusions. Our position in this respect is fully set forth in the last two following paragraphs we set forth the reasons for our position.

These bonds are to be issued under the provisions of Sections 5a and 5c of Act No. 342 of the Public Acts of 1939, as amended, providing for a contract between a county and its municipalities whereby the county agrees to construct certain other improvements and each of the municipalities agrees to pay a certain percentage of the cost thereof. The contract pertaining to the above bonds is dated January 1, 1963. The said statutory sections then provide that the contract shall be a general obligation of the municipalities to be made by the municipalities. The municipalities are authorized to raise the moneys required to be paid by several methods, one of which is by taxation. The contract between the county and the municipalities in respect to the above contract provides that the municipality does not have on hand at the time when the payment is due a sum equal to its payment due on the following October 1, then it shall levy upon the tax roll of the year an amount sufficient to make full payment of its obligation to the county. It also provides that the same may be by a two-thirds vote of the members elect of the City Council and shall pledge the full faith and credit of the county for the payment of said bonds. This faith and credit pledge would require a tax levy in the event there were not the funds available for the payment.

Section 1 of Chapter 3 of the Municipal Finance Act (Act 202 of the M.S.A.) reads as follows:

"No municipality shall hereafter borrow money and or issue any obligations payable out of taxes or assessments except as provided in accordance with the provisions of this act."

Section 2 of said Chapter 3 (Sec. 5.3187 (2) M.S.A.) contains the following provisions:

"No municipality shall advertise its proposed borrowing or issue any bonds or have first secured the approval of the commission to the notice of sale to be published."

Section 2 of Chapter 5 of the Municipal Finance Act (Act 202 of the M.S.A.) provides as follows:

"Any municipality which, by the provisions of its charter or this act, is authorized to borrow money and issue bonds therefor, payable out of taxes or special assessments, shall in addition to the requirements of such charter or law, upon a resolution precedent to the lawful issuance thereof, secure the approval of the commission thereto, and such bonds shall be subject to the provisions of this act relative thereto, as provided."

It seems to us that under the above statutory provisions of said Municipal Finance Act alone a petition for the sale of the bonds as question would have to be approved by the Municipal Finance Commission before the municipalities are obligated to levy taxes if necessary to meet the deficiency between that which the bonds are payable and the moneys on hand. Such approval is necessary to fulfill its full faith and credit pledge.

However, in addition, the very act authorizing the bonds in question provides as follows (Act 342):

"Said bonds shall be serial bonds, payable in annual installments, the last of which of years not exceeding 40 and shall be issued and sold subject to all other applicable provisions of Act 202 of the Public Acts of 1943, as amended, or any other law hereafter enacted relative thereto."

Section 1 of Act 202 of the Public Acts of 1943 (31.1 to 38.2 of the Compiled Laws of 1948)

Reading the above quoted provisions of the Municipal Finance Act and the above quoted provisions of Act 342, we have come to any conclusion except that the Municipal Finance Commission must issue an order to approve the bonds in question if they are to be valid bonds issued.

We call attention to the fact that the Supreme Court in the case of First Wisconsin National Bank vs. Pesser Township, 368 Mich. 496, held a 40 year anticipation note to be invalid because it had not been certified by the state treasurer as required by law. The Court on page 433 said:

"The note was issued in violation of the statutory protective provision and we cannot say that the defect is one to be regarded as merely technical."

We suggested to two of the assistants in the Attorney General's department that a request for a general opinion be made to the effect that the Municipal Finance Commission was authorized to write a letter to the Attorney General requesting an opinion upon the point in question.

Time is very important. The bonds were authorized by a vote of $1,750,000 and it starts construction by January 1, 1963. It is anticipated that the bonds will be sold on December 26, 1962 if the Municipal Finance Commission acts Tuesday, December 18, 1962, from the Municipal Finance Commission. Otherwise the financing cannot be completed and the contracts cannot be let so as to start the work by January 1, 1963 and consequently the grant of well over One Million Dollars will be lost to the County of Oakland. Third should not occur as it would be embarrassing to all concerned.

The Municipal Finance Commission can issue the order without revealing its former position. There is no law which prohibits it. If the order of permission is necessary then the bonds are protected. If it is not necessary then no harm has been done and the order is simply surplusage. In either event the legality of the issuance of these bonds will be issued immediately.

Respectfully yours,
DICKINSON, WRIGHT, McKEAN & CUDLIP
By Claude H. Stevens

Yesterday the Municipal Finance Commission went through the form of issuing a so-called supplemental order which does not authorize the issuance of the bonds but simply states that the Commission deems the approval of the Commission to be now unnecessary, in view of the provisions of section 5(c) of statute as construed by Opinion No. 2389 of the Attorney General of Michigan, December 19, 1962. The same opinion the bonds without the permission of the Municipal Finance Commission, and that the municipalities can levy taxes in bad faith and refuse to levy taxes without such permission.

We are attaching a copy of that portion of said Attorney General's opinion which discusses the above point. You will note that opinion states that the approval of the Municipal Finance Commission as to Act 342 bonds is not required under Act 202 of the Public Acts of 1943 for the reason that one of the basic obligations of the county, do not pledge the full faith and credit of the municipality, is not payable from taxes and or assessments, but is payable from the revenue of the system and therefore do not come within its definition of "obligations payable out of taxes or assessments" as used in the Municipal Finance Commission Act. We think it is clear that such legal conclusion is not applicable to the bonds in question which do pledge the full faith and credit of the County of Oakland. We cannot find any distinction between the provisions of the 1957 amendment to Act 342 and Act 202.

We cannot accept the construction of the Attorney General's opinion to the effect that the Attorney General places thereon in said opinion. We think it is clear that the Municipal Finance Commission is not the act under which the bonds in question are issued and sold.

Said bonds shall be serial bonds, payable in annual installments, the last of which of years not exceeding 40 and shall be issued and sold subject to all other applicable provisions of Act No. 202 of the Public Acts of 1943, as amended."

Section 1 requires the approval of the Municipal Finance Commission to the issuance of the bonds.

We have made every attempt possible to get the Municipal Finance Commission to approve but it refuses on the advice of the Attorney General and is in former position.

Respectfully submitted,

NEW MUFFLER CONCEPT — The tuning chamber pipe (top) is compared with a standard automotive muffler to show reduction in size that makes it useful to car manufacturers seeking greater design flexibility for low-slung vehicles. It will be used on some 1964 models as standard equipment, according to producers, the Walker Manufacturing Co. of Racine, Wis.

Save Woman After 32 Hours Caught in Well

SANGER, Calif. (AP) — Sheriff's officers rescued a woman from a deep well Wednesday after she had spent 32 hours trapped in water up to her armpits.

Inez Hiscock, about 50, was reported by officials to be suffering from extreme shock and exposure and may have pneumonia. They said she was very hoarse from calling for help.

★ ★ ★

The well, located under a shed in the back yard of the woman's home 9 miles north of here, caved in as she walked near it Tuesday morning. She slipped into the five-foot-wide hole, tumbling into water about 20 feet below.

Mrs. Hiscock was reported missing by her employer Tuesday morning, but was not located until Wednesday. Her husband, a poultry firm buyer, was away on business.

In 1960, only about 33 persons per 100,000 of the world's population died from cholera. In 1950, the number of cholera deaths was 212 per 100,000.

Today in Washington

U.S. Influences Here, Abroad

WASHINGTON (ap) — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, Army chief of staff, has told the Senate Armed Services Committee he was pleased with what he found on a recent trip to inspect operations by U.S. Special Forces in South Viet Nam and elsewhere in Southeast Asia.

★ ★ ★

"Training is intelligent, thorough and pointed to the job," Wheeler said Wednesday. "Small combat operations by the dozen are taking place daily throughout the country."

ATTACK PRECAUTION

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has told the Atomic Energy Commission that in the event of an enemy attack it should shut down all plants and facilities "which could otherwise constitute a significant hazard to public health and safety."

★ ★ ★

The commission also was ordered Wednesday by Kennedy to develop appropriate emergency plans for nuclear reactors and other nuclear activities licensed by the AEC, including those operated by private firms.

TAX VIOLATORS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service, looking back over 1962, reports 1,204 tax violators were sentenced last year. They drew an aggregate of 308 years in prison and $3 million in fines.

★ ★ ★

H. Alan Long, IRS chief of intelligence, said his men recommended more than 2,000 cases for prosecution. The Justice Department obtained 748 fraud indictments, 300 more than in 1961.

ASSURANCE FOR LAOS

WASHINGTON (AP)—King Savang Vathana of Laos left Wednesday night for Zurich with President Kennedy's assurance the United States will support the coalition government in establishing a neutral state.

★ ★ ★

A joint communique issued after the monarch paid an hour-long farewell call at the White House said the two men conferred on recent developments in Laos, particularly implementation of the Geneva accords and the future of Laotian-American relations.

★ ★ ★

"Respect for Lao neutrality, independence and sovereignty, the President said, is the continuing basis for United States policy toward the royal government," the communique concluded.

Otto Preminger 'A Tyrant'; 'Zey All Are,' Says Romy

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Peppery little Viennese film star Romy Schneider has flown back to Europe without having a fight with her new boss, bald and sputtery Otto Preminger, who's also Viennese—which is practically a record for both of them.

WILSON

"Preminger's quite a tyrant, isn't he?" I asked Romy just before she returned.

"Ee is!" she replied. "But all the great ones are zat way! I made 'The Trial' with Orson Welles. Ee is zat way, too. Ee scream, 'My God, do I have to teach you how to act yet?' Zay all scream, zay yell, zey tear out their hair zey don't have!"

Romy and the rest of the company will shoot in Vienna and then the Austrian fur will fly. Tom Tyron, who plays the Cardinal in "The Cardinal," paid Romy a wondrous compliment while preliminary shooting was done in Boston recently. He told her, "When looking at you, it's beastly to be priestly."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Anita Ekberg's turning 30 in a short time and Europeans are worrying about her losing her figure. Her defenders say, however, "She's still a lot of woman" . . . Kim Novak's not a very voluminous correspondent. She just sent us a postcard from Ireland where she's filming "Of Human Bondage" on which she said, "Hi," signed "Kim."

★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "A polite man is one who listens with interest to things he knows all about, when they are told by a person who knows nothing about them."—Irish Digest.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Myron Cohen says he knows a woman who has suffered tremendously for her belief. Her belief is that she can cram her size seven into a size five shoe.

EARL'S PEARLS: Cal Tinney claims that Los Angeles is growing so fast, pretty soon there won't be smog enough to go around.

At a Scotch wedding, the bridegroom suddenly disappeared and a cry went up, "Where's Angus?" The bride answered, "Oh, he's trying on all the old shoes they threw at us." . . . That's earl, brother.

Actor Paul Lukas Won't Say He Isn't Remarried

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Paul Lukas replying to rumors he is married or is planning to marry a young Majorcan girl, said, "You never know what's going to happen with a crazy man like myself."

★ ★ ★

Lukas, 68, was questioned Wednesday about a report he was planning to wed Anna Mescina of Majorca.

A friend, who declined use of his name, quoted Lukas as saying the wedding took place at the American Embassy in Madrid before Lukas came to this country several months ago.

★ ★ ★

Lukas' wife, Daisy, died about a year ago after they had been separated for a number of years.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
News Analysis
AP Special Correspondent

Premier Khrushchev's latest pronouncements in the interminable dialogue with Red China may mean a Peking-Moscow meeting to explore the painful split in the world Communist front.

This does not mean the rift is closing but rather that Khrushchev is anxious to remove the war of words from public view and take it backstage.

In his attempt to accomplish this, Khrushchev has applied the soft answer to turn away Red Chinese wrath.

Only hours after Peking had lashed him violently, demanding an apology for his attitude in the quarrel over how world communism should be advanced, Khrushchev replied with notable mildness.

★ ★ ★

He reminded the Red Chinese—and those who side with Peking—that only Moscow is strong enough to go to their aid should they be in danger.

He said he would be willing to go to the aid of any Communist country attacked by "the imperialists."

But he thoughtfully singled out by name Cuba, Red China, North Viet Nam, North Korea and East Germany.

PEKING SUPPORTERS

The Communist parties of North Viet Nam and North Korea side with Peking in the quarrel. They support the Red Chinese contention that Khrushchev fears paper tigers and thus sacrifices opportunities for communism to advance swiftly, particularly in the backward areas of Latin America, Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

East Germany's Communist leadership has been nagging Khrushchev on the issue of West Berlin, which he virtually promised four years ago to deliver to them. And Cuba, of course, was included in this blanket pledge of Soviet protection for a specific purpose.

The Red Chinese claim Khrushchev showed the white feather last October by agreeing to withdraw Soviet missiles from Cuba after the Kennedy blockade showdown.

Patiently, Khrushchev repeated in his speech to a Kremlin election rally Wednesday that he did what he did to "arrest the oncoming avalanche of thermonuclear war."

He said he had definitely not "left heroic Cuba at the mercy of the big sharks of American imperialism." He assured Cuba of Soviet support in any "hour of need."

9 Die in Blast of Jet Tanker at Alaska Base

Explodes Over Guard House, Smashes Into Nearby Highway

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) —A KC135 jet tanker off from Eielson Air Force Base exploded over a guard house at an entrance to the field last night, killing nine persons.

All seven aboard the plane were killed. The other two died when the explosion flattened the guard house and a nearby waiting room.

★ ★ ★

A witness said that as the plane passed over the guard house, flames appeared and then it exploded.

The four-engined plane veered to the left and crashed about a quarter of a mile from the gate. It smashed into the Alaska Highway, which runs by the base to Fairbanks, 26 miles to the north.

Officials said they did not believe any traffic was passing at the time.

★ ★ ★

On board the KC135, used to refuel Strategic Air Command bombers in flight, were the pilot, a copilot, a navigator and four technicians, the tanker was on a refueling mission.

★ ★ ★

The gate where the guard house and waiting room stood is about 200 yards from the end of the runway used by the plane.

The brick guard house, where one air policeman was reported stationed, and the frame waiting room were demolished.

The Air Force said the body of a guard was found, but whether the other body was that of a civilian or serviceman was not known.

★ ★ ★

Wreckage was scattered for a quarter of a mile beyond the point of impact, and large puddles of fuel burned through the night. The wreckage and fire blocked traffic about two hours. A temporary road was bulldozed around the crash site.

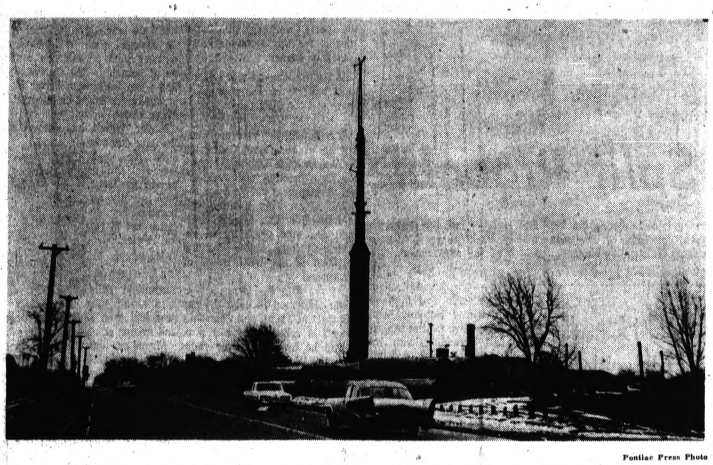
JFK Appeals for Negro Rights



Pontiac Press Photo

SECRET WEAPON?—Is the city really going into the rocket launching business? What is this that looms before our eyes? These are questions that passed through the minds of many persons hurrying along Montcalm Street this week. What looks like a giant rocket against the bleak dawn of a winter morning, is really just part of an elevated water tank going up near Pontiac Motor Division. It will be used when Pontiac gets its new water supply from Detroit in early summer.

Plan Covers Vote Privilege, Public Schools

Hopes Plan Skirts 'Sectional Bitterness,' but Filibuster Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Kennedy appealed to a divided Congress today to reinforce the Negro's right to vote and to attend desegregated schools in a nation where he said "the cruel disease of discrimination" still exists nearly everywhere.

For the first time, in a special message, Kennedy outlined a specific civil rights program to Congress.

In addition to legislation directed at the ballot and the school house, he asked for an extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission, with expanded duties.

"The program outlined in this message," Kennedy said, "should not provide the occasion for sectional bitterness."

Yet White House officials told reporters they recognize the built-in possibilities of a filibuster by Southerners in a Senate which has just rejected a bid to clamp down on filibusters.

Bosch, Johnson Get Together

Reds Held for Ruining Dominican Inaugural

SANTO DOMINGO, D.R. (UPI)—Dominican authorities today held at least 10 pro-Communist demonstrators who broke up the inauguration parade of President Juan Bosch with shouts of anti-American slogans and battles with police.

Bosch launched his term as the Dominican Republic's first constitutional president in 34 years by naming a cabinet composed largely of members of his own party.

The lone independent in the cabinet is Andres Freites, currently ambassador to Washington, who will serve as foreign minister. He is considered friendly to the United States.

Yesterday's demonstrations underscored the problems facing the new government in its task of restoring orderly democracy and economic prosperity to this

U.S. Denies Report on Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — One Soviet ship carrying only a small number of troops has left Cuba for Russia under the new Soviet promise to pull several thousand out of Cuba by March 15.

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — The State Department said today the United States has not received any word from Russia about leaving Soviet troops in Cuba indefinitely.

Asst. Secretary Robert Manning, in charge of public relations, was asked about a New York Times News Service report that the Soviets have advised the United States government they intend to leave a military force in the island after the withdrawal soon of several thousand troops.

The story said that was interpreted in Washington as meaning a pull-out of up to 7,000, leaving about 10,000.

"We have received no such notification," Manning said. "Nor have we drawn any such inference from any communication or conversation with them."

Mercury to Slip in Snowy City

The weatherman dished up a variety for Michigan today, including heavy snow in the south and 22 below zero in Pellston.

But the weatherman said he would give us a cooling off tonight with the low sliding down to 5 above zero and the high tomorrow near 23.

Cloudy, not so cold and a chance of more snow is the outlook for Saturday.

Seventeen was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 25 at 1 p.m.

Pair to Argue Constitution

County Debate Set at Cranbrook March 8

Gov. George Romney's legal adviser and a Detroit attorney who opposes the proposed new state constitution will meet next week in an Oakland County debate on the document.

Richard C. Van Dusen of Birmingham, the governor's legal adviser, will present the "yes" side on the proposed constitution. Melvin E. Nord of Detroit will explain why he thinks it should be defeated.

The debate, sponsored by the newly formed Lawyers Committee for the New Constitution (LCNC), is scheduled for 3 p.m. March 8 in the Assembly Hall at Cranbrook Institute in Bloomfield Hills.

Both Van Dusen and Nord were constitutional convention delegates, Van Dusen as a Republican and Nord a Democrat. Romney advocates voter approval of the proposed document in the April 1 election.

Maurice A. Merritt of Birmingham is chairman of LCNC which was organized following a poll of county attorneys on the proposed constitution by the county bar association.

Attorneys voted 140 to 32 in favor of the document.

Out to Make Retirement Sole Issue

FLINT (AP)—The executive board of AC Sparkplug Local 651 of the United Auto Workers Union unanimously endorsed yesterday a proposal to make early retirement benefits the sole economic bargaining goal in 1964 contract talks with General Motors Corp.

Local 651, which has 9,250 members, is teaming with the 20,000-member Chevrolet Local 659, in backing the proposal. The two locals combined make up approximately half of the UAW membership in GM's Flint plants.

The locals propose that retirement be based on years of employment rather than age. They suggest that present contract provisions on wages and fringe benefits be retained and that bargaining on economic demands be limited to the retirement proposal. This would not limit, however, bargaining on noneconomic demands, such as working conditions.

The usual retirement age for UAW members now is 65. The basic rate is $2.80 a month for each year of service.

The locals propose that a worker with 25 years of service could retire at 50 per cent of his base pay on a 40-hour week, and a worker with 30 or more years of service could retire at two-thirds of his base pay. The employed would pay this benefit until the retiree reaches the age where he is eligible to draw Social Security benefits.

Gets Chill at Bill

Glad Dad Now Sad

WASHINGTON (AP)—The parents of George Basle were puzzled but proud that somehow he had learned to dial the Weather Bureau for the latest forecasts.

"We thought it was real cute and smart," said his mother, Mrs. George A. Basle. "It was a Sunday he first did it. George was praying so bad for it to snow so he could play in it, and he went over to the phone and dialed the weather all by himself. He thought he was real big.

"My husband was proud, very proud. He was walking around with his chest out. Only 6, and already he can dial the weather. We were amazed he could get it so rapidly all the time, even when the weather was bad."

That first Sunday, George called the weather nine times. By Feb. 10 he had called the weather 42 times. Then the Basles received their telephone bill. Surprise, it came to $33 for toll calls.

Why?

George's calls all had been to the Weather Bureau in New York City.

Instead of dialing 936-1212 for the recorded Washington weather forecast he had, in each of the 42 calls, prefaced the number with 212, the New York City area code for distance dialing.

But everything turned out good for poppa and George. The telephone company canceled the charges after he explained what had happened.

Missile Testing Blast Hurts 12

'Was Like Howitzer Shell Dropped'

★ ★ ★

That was how a witness described the aftermath of an explosion and fire which shattered a missile test area at General Dynamics, Pomona plant last night. Twelve persons were injured, five seriously.

★ ★ ★

"It blew the hell out of the test area," the witness said.

C. D. Cornell, assistant to the president, said the blast occurred while scientists were shock-testing a missile.

Cornell said the type of missile and nature of the tests were classified and could not be disclosed.

The plant does research, development and production of tactical guided missiles, among them the Terrier, Tartar, Redeye missiles.

Cornell said most of the damage was from the explosion. The fire was quickly extinguished by the plant fire department, he said. An investigation will be made to determine the cause of the blast, Cornell said.

★ ★ ★

The injured, all suffering from burns and contusions caused by flying debris, were treated at Pomona Valley Community Hospital.

Probe Ordered in AF Plane Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said today he will expect the secretaries of defense and Air Force to explain what he termed "unusual" steps in the award of the TFX warplane contract.

The contract itself amounts only to $28 million, but the Defense Department estimates the cost ultimately will rise to $6.5 billion — not all of it going to General Dynamics. It calls for final design, deevlopment and production of 1,700 revolutionary type fighter-bomber planes for the Air Force and Navy.

The Senate's Investigations subcommittee, of which McClellan is chairman, is investigating whether favoritism was involved in the awarding of the contract. The hearings are closed, but censored transcripts of the proceedings are being made public.

Documents placed in evidence before the subcommittee yesterday traced four instances in which military evaluation boards had held that Boeing had submitted a better and cheaper design. But the boards were overruled by civilian authority "at the secretary level" in the Pentagon.

Roebrt E. Dunne, a subcommittee staff lawyer, and Air Force Col. Charles A. Gayle testified that after the third reversal of the evaluation groups, the Pentagon gave $2.5 million apiece to Boeing and General Dynamics to finance a reworking of their rival designs, and also authorized previously forbidden guidance to both bidders.

U.S. Denies Cuba Report

Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., listed naval intelligence chief Rear Adm. V. L. Lawrence and Maj. Gen. Alva R. Fitch, Army intelligence chief, as today's witnessess.

The committee yesterday heard air force intelligence chief Maj. Gen. Robert A. Brietweiser report that there was complete cooperation between the air force and the central intelligence agency in the air reconnaissance of Cuba last fall.

Stennis relayed parts of Brietweiser's testimony after the closed hearing.

The chairman said Brietweiser did not indicate there was any gap in reconnaissance when the job was transferred from CIA to the Air Force just before offensive missiles were found on the island.

On another matter, several senators hung a "home consumption" tag on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's threat to annihilate any nation which attacks Cuba or any other Communist country.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said Khrushchev was engaging in "more braggadocio for home consumption."

He noted the Soviet leader spoke at an election rally, "although I don't know what an election rally really means in Moscow."

Sparkman said that in the past Khrushchev defended his backdown in the missile showdown over Cuba by citing U.S. missile might. "These new statements seem in sharp contrast," Sparkman said, "but I still don't believe he wants a nuclear war."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., agreed in a separate interview it is unlikely the Soviet premier would risk a nuclear war over Cuba.

"This bluster is evidence of this rather than proof of the opposite," Allot said. "We have to keep at the job of rooting out all Red troops from Cuba and eventually destroying Castro."

Cold Air Mass Spreads Into the Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another mass of Arctic air, fanned by northerly winds, spread into the northern midwest today.

But temperatures appeared moderating in much of the eastern third of the nation after Wednesday's severe cold from Maine to northern Florida. Readings were 15 to 25 degrees higher from the lower Mississippi Valley northeastward through Tennessee and the Ohio Valley into the middle and northern Atlantic region.

It was still chilly in the southeast but temperatures were much higher than 24 hours earlier in most areas. The cold air dipped southward into northern Florida. Readings were mostly in the 30 or upper 20s, including 28 in Tallahassee, Fla.

As the fresh batch of frigid cold moved across the Canadian border into the northern Midwest, the mercury dropped below zero in many areas. It was -15 in Pellston, Mich., -9 in Marquette, Mich., -8 in International Falls, Minn., and -7 in Eau Claire, Wis.

New Congress District

County Split Probable

By JIM DYGERT

Splitting Oakland County into two Congressional districts appeared almost a certainty today following introduction in the legislature yesterday of four congressional redistricting bills.

All plans would put a part of the county into the new 19th district Michigan received as a result of the 1960 census.

The plan most likely to be passed by the Republican-controlled legislature and approved by Gov. George Romney would put all the county west of a north-south line coinciding with Inkster Road (60 per cent of county area), plus the City of Pontiac, in the new district.

★ ★ ★

Bills introduced yesterday in the Senate by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, and in the House Tuesday by Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Township, contain this plan.

The plan is considered to have approval of most Republican lawmakers.

It also would include all of Livingston and Lapeer counties in the new district, giving it a population of about 336,000.

Republicans would have an edge in the district, which probably would raise the GOP's margin in the state's congressional delegation from 11-7 to 12-7.

Two bills introduced by Rep. Joseph Gillis, D-Detroit, would include the western portion of Oakland County with a part of Wayne County.

★ ★ ★

Another bill, introduced by Rep. Donald Wismer, R-Port Huron, would put Ferndale, Hazel Park and Madison Heights with southern Macomb County in a new district, and merge northern Macomb County with the Thumb area.

The bills were referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee, of which Roberts is chairman, and the House Apportionment Committee, headed by Hogan.

All of Oakland County now comprises the 18th District, with a population of 690,603.

★ ★ ★

Under Roberts' and Hogan's plan, the eastern 40 per cent of the county (minus Pontiac) would remain the 18th with a population of about 434,000.

★ ★ ★

The average population for a district is 411,000. Roberts and Hogan said attempts would be made to keep districts within 15 or 20 per cent of this figure.

The Upper Peninsula is expected to lose one of its two congressional seats in the redistricting.

★ ★ ★

Lawmakers last year were unable to agree on a plan that former Gov. John B. Swainson would approve, and Democrat Neil Staebler filled the post in a statewide at-large election.

AEC Denies Trouble With Nuclear Ship

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has denied there is anything drastically wrong with the nuclear merchant ship Savannah's power plant.

The review the sleek $53-million vessel is undergoing at Galveston, Tex., was planned from the start, AEC General Manager A. R. Luedecke said in a statement Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Concern over the fate of the world's first atom-powered merchant ship had been raised Tuesday when a letter from Dr. David B. Hall, chairman of the commission's reactor safeguards committee, to AEC Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg was made public.

Hall wrote Seaborg that the committee would not approve further operation of the Savannah until an extensive overhaul was completed and a full review of the ship's operational status made.

Henry Cleared on One Charge

City Commissioner Milton R. Henry yesterday was found innocent of malicious destruction by Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum.

At the same time McCallum delayed for a week a decision to bind Henry over to Circuit Court on a felonious assault charge.

The March 6 postponement will allow Henry's attorneys time to file briefs with the court on why their client should not be sent to the higher court, McCallum said.

Henry was accused Jan. 7 of damaging the doors of a garage where his car had been stored after it was repossessed and of attacking a policeman with his car as he left the building at 77 E. Huron St.

McCallum ruled that Henry was entitled to his car since he had made his late payments earlier that day and did not have to sign a waiver releasing the finance company from any responsibility while the car was in storage.

McCallum said he believed, however, that the assault charge should be decided by a jury because it must be determined if Henry intended to injure the officer.

President Appeals for Civil Legislation

ing. They said, though, that the program was tailored in realistic style, that it ought to be passed, and there is a good chance it will.

In the century since Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, the President's message said, slavery has vanished but progress for the Negro has been blocked and delayed too often.

UNEQUAL EQUALITY

"Equality before the law," he said, "has not always meant equal treatment and opportunity. And the harmful, wasteful and wrongful results of racial discrimination and segregation still appear in virtually every aspect of national life, in virtually every part of the nation."

Kennedy credited his administration with a sparkling two-year record on civil rights. But he said a broad national effort still is needed, an effort embracing state and local governments, private citizens and organizations and the congressional machinery.

His requests for legislation are expected to be submitted within 10 days or so as three separate bills.

They fall into these classifications.

1. Education: The main request here was that Congress authorize a program to provide federal know-how and money to push desegregation in public schools in communities which need and seek financial help.

2. Civil Rights Commission: First set up in 1957, the commission goes out of business next November unless Congress acts. Kennedy asked that its life be extended at least four years. And he asked that Congress authorize it to expand into a national clearing house to provide information, advice and technical help to any public or private agency which wants it.

3. Voting rights: Kennedy mentioned this first and gave it more attention than any other of his bids for legislation.

"The right to vote in a free American election," the President said, "is the most powerful and precious right in the world—and it must not be denied on the grounds of race or color."

He recommended, therefore, that priority treatment be granted voting suits in federal courts. He proposed that while the suits are pending, federal referees be empowered to pass upon qualifications of would-be voters.

Under present law, referees can be appointed only after a court finds that discrimination exists.

These two requests—administration officials said each offers an entirely new idea—would apply to both federal and state elections.

The vice president will go to a 12:30 p.m. luncheon of the Detroit Board of Commerce in the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel.

Mrs. Johnson will attend a noon luncheon at the Light Guard Armory. Attending will be party workers who sold tickets for the Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner.

At 2 p.m. Johnson will make a short tour of the Home Builders Show at Cobo Hall.

★ ★ ★

At 2:30 p.m. the vice president will be at McGregor Center on the Wayne State University campus for a meeting with reserach and development people from the Detroit area. This meeting will be headed by Dr. Michael Ference Jr., vice president of research at Ford Motor Co. and president of the WSU Board of Governors.

Dog Owners Given Final Tag Reminder

It's a good bet there will be lots of illegal dogs around Pontiac before the week's out.

City Clerk Olga Barkeley today issued a final reminder to Pontiac dog owners that tomorrow is the last day to obtain 1963 dog licenses for the $2 fee.

So far, around 1,700 licenses have been purchased at the city clerk's office. The number sold last year was 3,400.

The deadline in previous years has been May 15. A new city ordinance approved by voters at last April's election, changed the deadline to March 1.

It also made rabies vaccinations mandatory before dogs can be licensed.

After tomorrow the cost of a dog license will be $3. Harboring an unlicensed dog is much more costly.

Any dogowner harboring an unlicensed dog sist months old or older, could get a maximun fine of $100, or 90 days in jail, or both.

Mayor, Ad Man to Head Community House Drive

BIRMINGHAM — Mayor Florence H. Willett and Area Ad Man William B. Bachman Jr., today were appointed cochairmen of the 1963 Community House Fund Drive.

Goal for the drive, which will be held during March, is $53,000.

MRS. WILLETT

Community House President Robert Thom called the appointments "evidence of the intense interest our community leaders have in this activities center."

He noted that the building's facilities were used by more than 150,000 persons last year.

This is the basis of the 1963 goal, he said.

Financing for future development not included in the goal will be arranged when "it is definitely decided such an addition would be of benefit to the community, and when we have a better idea of what costs might be involved," Thom added.

Mayor Willett has served on the city commission for eight years and as mayor for three. She recently announced her decision not to run for re-election.

BACHMAN

★ ★ ★

A special variety show for children, featuring a magician, six Australian cockatoo birds and a musician-impersonator, will be staged at the Community House Saturday.

Admission to the two-hour show, which starts at 1:30 p.m., is $1 per person.

Included in the act are veteran television and nightclub magician Karrell Fox, Bob Hammond and his trained dancing birds and Neal Hale, an impersonetor and comedian.

Wisconsin Collects Statistics

Value of Seat Belts Hard to Assess

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Wisconsin is proud of its law requiring all new cars to be equipped with seat belts, but no one is sure the law has saved many lives.

Alan Willoughby, coordinator of the law requiring seat belts on all post-1962 cars, explains:

"When someone doesn't die, it is difficult to say he would have died without the seat belt. The hand of God fits in there.

"We hope to indicate that a large number of people are being saved by using the belts," he said.

"The news media and wire services have been a big help by publicizing every accident where a belt is credited with an escape."

A change was recently made on the uniform accident report filled out by all officers investigating accidents to determine whether seat belts were present and whether they were being used.

"But we don't have a large enough figure to be significantly important," Willoughby said.

"Several incidents have come to the motor vehicle department's attention of accidents where seat belts have enabled a person to escape serious injury."

In one such case, Robert Smith of Sheboygan was involved in a nine-vehicle pile-up with his compact car struck by four trucks.

Smith, who was wearing his seat belt, jumped out of his car and walked a safe distance from the scene as other cars began piling into the wreckage.

Officers searching for a missing corpse, believing no one could have survived the accident, were amazed when Smith came back, suffering only bruises, said Willoughby.

One survey by the state highway patrol did indicate that 45 per cent of the motorists who did have belts were using them, indicating a need for a greater education program.

The department has produced a poster featuring a photograph of astronaut Donald "Deke" Slayton of Sparta, Wis., wearing an auto seat belt to promote use of the belts.

According to Willoughby, the greatest apparent value is that the belts are available if a motorist wants to use them.

"Having the belt in an auto by law so it is available for use eliminates the primary half of the decision," he said.

"If there were no belts in the car and a person wanted to use them, he would have to get the belts, install them and then make the decision to use them."

* * *

Willoughby added that as a result of the law and puublicity given with the pre-1962 model autos to seat belts, a number of persons were having belts installed.

Realism Becomes Part of Viet Nam Action

U. S. servicemen looking down the gun barrels of Communists in Viet Nam now have the official okay to fire first.

★ ★ ★

Belatedly, this change in strategy comes after more than 50 Americans have been killed in the guerrilla fighting there.

★ ★ ★

The archaic "code of the West" in which the hero lets the villain get off the first round will now be a thing of the past, fortunately.

True, U. S. forces there are still in a training situation, just advising the native troops. However, ferrying the locals into battles with the elusive enemy has involved U. S. servicemen. Some Americans wound up teaching the Viet Nam men how to die.

★ ★ ★

It's a pity we couldn't have changed the rules earlier. Some of the Americans who died for a very shaky government there might still be alive.

Castro's Dislodgement Solution to Red Threat

The United States and her allies currently have been concerned primarily with the military build-up and reduction of Cuba's military potential. But with the minimization of that threat, another, related to the dissemination of Communistic ideology in Latin America, continues unabated.

★ ★ ★

American officials say that the Cuban government has given financial aid to the pro-Castro Revolutionary Union of Ecuadorian Youth.

★ ★ ★

And it is estimated that between 1,000 and 1,500 persons from other Latin American countries traveled to Cuba in 1962 for ideological indoctrination in guerrilla warfare.

★ ★ ★

Since Castro's fiscal position is virtually at the breaking point, the source of funds for Communist subversion of neighboring countries may cause wonder.

The principal financial aid comes from the $1 million a day that the Soviet Union is said to be channeling into the Cuban economy. In addition, the CASTRO regime has had a recent windfall from the $2.9 million handed over by the United States last December to cover the release of 60 ailing Bay of Pigs prisoners.

Also, our experts believe, $1 million or so has probably been drained off from the $53 million in food and medicines which recently effected the release of 1,100 more prisoners. That amount was earmarked in Cuba's 1962 budget for the import of medical supplies, the expenditure of which was unnecessary in view of the ransom supplies.

These revelations today strengthen the view that there can be but one satisfactory long-range solution to the dangerous situation in the Caribbean. That is the overthrow of the bearded tyrant and his Red hierarchy and the return of the island and its suffering people to democratic sovereignty.

Lengthy Federal Trial Sets Record in NY

The jury had seen 1,890 exhibits and heard 109 witnesses give 26,731 pages of testimony.

★ ★ ★

Carrying on their assignment with extraordinary zeal, only two lost court days were chargeable to the jurors—to allow one to recover from a bad cold. Three of the original 16 and alternates were excused for one reason or another; the rest stuck it out despite occasional aches and sniffles. Said one, "I felt like a soldier doing my duty."

★ ★ ★

On a first-name basis within two days, the jurors held a World Series pool, decorated the jury room for a Christmas grab bag and made plans for an annual reunion.

Most pleasing was Federal Judge William B. Herland's tribute: "The time has come for the Government to award a Distinguished Service Cross to those who perform outstanding acts of responsibility and patriotism, and you should be the first recipients."

★ ★ ★

To which we add a journalistic accolade to the dedicated group of juridical standouts.

"WE COULD put a man on Mars by 1990, but it would cost $1 billion," says a scientist. He's probably mistaken. Between now and then inflation would doubtless run the cost up to $1.9 billion.

The Man About Town

Man Has Twins

He Hits Fruit Jackpot Winning Bonus Banana

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Twins seems to run in the family of Darrel Priestly of Waterford Township, a Twin Pines milk route deliveryman.

• • •

Grocery shopping a short time ago, he included some bananas. When one of them was peeled, it was found to be twins . . . maybe, like the Colonel's Lady and Judy O'Grady, they were sisters under the skin! . . . My trouble is, I just don't have any will power.

Odds against twins in the human department are about 200 to 1. But bananas! That really gets astronomical.

• • •

As for example. One local fruit house handles about 45 cases per day, averaging 35 pounds — or a total of 1,575 pounds. At three bananas per pound, in 26 monthly business days you're thinking about 112,850—and my proprietor friend said he hadn't seen a dual job in many months.

If you want to give your slide rule a real workout, all you've got to do is figure out how many produce sources there are in the country, how many cases they process per month, how many . . . Holy Toledo, I'm going to have to lie down.

• • •

But, a stunned bow of deference to our Top Banana on the singular—double, I mean —banana he uncovered.

The poetic reference the other day by a lady to the ice-fishing specialty of her husband evoked a few icy thoughts from

Charles (Red) Hewitt

He says that the ice in the inland lakes is the usual 15 inches thick but, oddly, in the Flats near Anchor Bay it is only about 10 inches . . . Something here, it seems, that doesn't meet the eye.

• • •

Also, he quotes a contractor friend, who is always digging into things, as authority for the frost in the ground being five to six feet—in contrast to the normal 7½.

Guess about all we can do is chin and bear it.

David Lawrence Says:

Kennedy Blunders on Budget

WASHINGTON — A bill reducing income tax rates will be enacted by Congress some time this year. In the measure will be some provisions called "reforms," but hardly any of the major proposals which the administration has submitted.

This is the outlook today on Capitol Hill, and President Kennedy is prepared to accept the result as a compromise. He has not given up his drive to get the "reforms" he wants, but the opposition in Congress is too formidable for him to let a hassle over these "reforms" kill all chance of passing a tax bill this year.

LAWRENCE

Mr. Kennedy made it clear this week to a symposium on economic growth, sponsored by the American Bankers Association, that he still prefers a tax cut with "reforms." If, however, there is no tax cut at all, he predicts a deficit bigger than the one President Eisenhower encountered after the recession in 1958. Mr. Kennedy's exact words caused an arching of eyebrows. He said:

"In other words, the deficit, without a tax cut, would then be far higher than the projected deficit we face with a tax cut — higher even than the record deficit of $12.4 billion which followed the recession of 1958, only a few months after the President of the United States had submitted a budget which provided for a surplus of a half-billion dollars. That is how quickly a deficit can unbalance the budget."

But what is the explanation of President Kennedy's own forecast of a surplus that turned out to be a deficit? In January 1962, Mr. Kennedy told Congress that the budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1963, would show a surplus of $500 million — a balanced budget with a modest surplus.

Yet, before many months had passed, a deficit was indicated, and the latest estimate is that the red figure will be around $8.8 billion at the end of the fiscal year this June.

The year 1962, moreover, wasn't regarded here as a recession year. In fact, Mr. Kennedy in his speech to the bankers this week said: "The American economy is now in its twenty-fourth month of recovery." This means "recovery" started just after the Kennedy inauguration — a convenient date, politically speaking.

WHAT HAPPENED

But how did the President make such a mistake if it wasn't a recession that produced his deficit? The official figures in his budget messages explain what happened.

Mr. Kennedy estimated his receipts for fiscal year 1963 at $7.5 billion more than they are turning out to be, and he permitted expenses to go up by an additional $1.8 billion over his budget.

The President, in his speech here to the bankers, did not touch on these problems except to say that "We must use prudence in the management of our wages and prices."

When — after reading his prepared address — he was asked specifically by one of the bankers if it wasn't "more important than previously to prevent wage rates from increasing faster than productivity," Mr. Kennedy replied:

"I would think that wage rates would follow — I hope they would follow the general guidelines which have been suggested on several occasions, which are tied to the principle which you just described, that wage rates should be tied to productivity increases."

Bob Considine Says:

Rusk Manages Temper Before Truculent Texans

HOUSTON — Secretary of State Dean Rusk met the press, the blunt-spoken Texas press, here Tuesday eyeball-to-eyeball. He did not blink.

"We understand that Kennedy has your successor already picked out," barked a young reporter. "What do you say to that?"

CONSIDINE

The secretary of state gazed at the young man with interest rather than rancor.

"As far as I know, there has been no discussion of that," he said thoughtfully. He paused to await another question from interrogators but there was none.

So the secretary of state had one of a number of other unrelated queries rising from the floor and he never got around to doing something I always thought would be a natural human reaction if people in public office gave honest vent to their true feelings.

Why didn't he challenge the questioner and say to him, "You may be right, for all I know. But where did you get the information that led to your question? I've just leased a house and put my kids in school in Washington.

"What do you know, sitting here in Houston, that hasn't been told to me during my daily meetings with the President?"

TRUCULENT IKE

About the only time I ever saw a fierce reaction from a public official came from Gen. Eisenhower during his second news conference as a politician.

"Explain your association with Alger Hiss," some guy yelled to him out of the blue.

Though he did not choose to challenge the young man who would boot him out of President Kennedy's cabinet, secretary Rusk sounded off with vigor, his every word, on other subjects here in Houston.

"No aggression will be allowed from Cuba," he said at a news conference and as impassionately as a man canceling his subscription to a dead stamp magazine.

"Castroism will not be accepted as a part of this hemisphere. The shipping to Cuba will become insignificant."

(Editor's note: Only 12 ships arrived at Cuban ports during January past, as opposed to nearly 100 in October.)

★ ★ ★

Then Mr. Rusk said, "We watch with very great concern any action that would be taken to export communism from Cuba."

'Administration Waste Calls for Written Protests'

In two years, 145,342 persons have been padded to the federal payroll. This makes Andrew Jackson's "spoils system" look like penny ante played by penniless people. Though a Navy man, Kennedy has literally outflanked Jackson.

The brazen "news weaponry," or "noose weaponry" that hangs the political enemy both foreign and domestic is an action against democratic people who need to know absolute truth.

The "deficit spending" of the whiz-kids is simply credit buying in hopes that one will mysteriously receive a windfall before the first payment is due.

The foreign aid policy of the administration is a lump sum endowment to countries which already offer serious competition to higher standard industry.

A letter-writing deluge must indeed be started to drown out the greenback bonfire of the administration. As our U.S. Congressman Broomfield is strongly against any too-powerful central government, he could use any letter bullets we can lend him.

'Be Well-Informed Before You Vote'

One of the biggest problems facing the people who will be voting on the proposed constitution this April is becoming well-informed enough to make an intelligent decision. Newspapers or groups which attempt to educate the people on important issues must be wholly objective. Organizations, which believe in fair hearings, must tell the whole story. Since sections of the proposed constitution had unanimous support, why weren't the people allowed to vote on these separately?

★ ★ ★

Why is it that neither body of the proposed legislature is based solely on population? How does one justify the fact that the minority will be allowed to rule?

Tells of Strength Russia Has in Cuba

Late last December, Rear Adm. O'Donnell, one-time commander of the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo, said, "Cuba is stronger than it was before the missile crisis." Sen. Kenneth B. Keating warned that Russian strength had multiplied tenfold since October. On Feb. 3, Edward Martin, Assistant Secretary of State for Latin American affairs, confirmed Keating's statement.

Reports obtained from Cuban exile organizations, with underground contacts in the island, more than confirm the statements. In December, 41 Soviet bloc ships unloaded military equipment, troops and civilian supplies. At that time, 16 more ships were already tied up and another 18 were on the high seas, en route.

'Social Security Hike Is Needed'

President Kennedy wants to give us a raise in social security. This is long overdue. Social Security was passed during the depression when you could buy pork chops for 6 cents a pound. It has never been brought up-to-date.

★ ★ ★

How can older people pay insurance, doctor bills and other expenses on $40 to $80 a month?

★ ★ ★

The raise in social security would do more to help our economy than a tax cut. It would put the money in the right hands.

'Americans Entitled to Know the Facts'

I agree completely with The Press editorial on the Cuban situation. This is our country and the people have the right to expect our President to tell them what is happening and where things stand. This isn't a private business that belongs to a few men. It's our country, our money and our affair.

In Washington:

Congress Still Mulling Requests

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The 88th Congress is now nearly two months old. But in the words of House majority leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma, "It hasn't jelled yet."

Every session of Congress is different, he explains. You have to wait till it gets organized and settles down to business before you can get the feel of it and make any predictions or even guesses on what it might do.

EDSON

Some of the elements shaping up the record which this Congress will eventually make are out in the open, however, and are worth keeping in mind. For one thing, the President has sent about a dozen messages to Congress and there are more to come.

★ ★ ★

Most important of the lot is the tax message. It is at the top of the White House "must" list for action this session. And it is the one thing that can keep the Congress on the job for a long session, which this one probably will be.

There seems to be little enthusiasm in Congress or out for tax reform. Without tax reform there will have to be either a reduced tax cut or considerable reduction of government spending.

There is no indication yet how economy - minded this Congress is going to be. There is some realization that a tax cut smaller than the one recommended by the President cannot accomplish his objective of stimulating employment, reducing unemployment.

With so many controversial issues in the President's tax plan to fight over, it is doubtful if a tax bill can be passed before Labor Day. Other legislation, including an increase in the national debt limit, will be whatever can be passed between or after the tax bill battles.

Nobody seems to know just how badly the President wants his vast programs for medical care of the aged, general and mental health measures, everything in the omnibus aid to education message, the youth programs, the farm programs.

The mental retardation and National Service Corps proposals are the only really new apples in the barrel. All the others have been taken from the freezer to which they were consigned after Congress ignored them last session.

If the President is merely polishing them off again to make the record of his requests look good, that's one thing. If he really wants them and will make a fight for them, that's something else. Even so, there are many grave doubts that measures like the medicare plan under Social Security, or the aid for only public primary and secondary schools, can be passed this year.

The White House so far has shown no enthusiasm for new labor legislation. Public clamor for action has subsided a little, following settlement of the maritime strike. But a new wave of railroad strikes or shutdowns in the steel or rubber industries where contracts run out this spring and summer could kindle congressional concern and initiative in this field.

Congress has a bear by the tail in the $500 million supplemental appropriation President Kennedy has requested this year. It was intended to be a one-shot emergency measure to relieve unemployment in 1,200 depressed areas.

Some 2,900 local projects were approved in 900 areas, but there is a backlog of applications for another billion dollars' worth of projects for which no funds are available.

Area Redevelopment Administration, in charge of the program, has had to stop processing applications from 90 areas to concentrate available funds in the 240 areas hardest hit.

This has built up a tremendous pressure in Congress from local communities to get more projects approved. It would be no surprise if Congress extends this program on its own.

In general, this Congress is sized up as being a little more liberal than the last session. But the division is still so close that many cliff-hanging votes are expected on the more controversial issues.

Liberals from both parties in Senate and House are clamoring for some action to modernize congressional procedures to speed legislative action and shorten the session. No such action is expected this year, however. Unless some of the all-powerful chairmen of existing committees are recruited to this cause, no progress is expected at all.

Shopping Revolution Staged in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) —This city has some supermarkets that can stand tall in comparison with any supermarket in the world. They sell literally carloads of groceries every day.

Through the checkstands, past the jingling cash registers stream almost unbelievable quantities of foodstuffs. Every day each supermarket sells more than 4,000 quarts of milk, 70 to 80 sides of beef, four tons of cheese, eight to 10 tons of sugar, two tons of carrots and five tons of potatoes, to name a few of the faster moving products.

Customers line up an hour before the stores open. A man stands at the door all day to regulate the number of incoming customers to keep the store from becoming overcrowded. Each store serves more than 70,000 customers a week.

* * *

In these days when supermarkets are taken for granted in the United States, they are revolutionary in Argentina. The fact that they have been such a booming success indicates that both privately-owned or government-backed projects to help raise Latin American living standards can be highly successful if money is coupled with know-how and individual initiative.

The supermarkets here represent a stride into the 20th century for Argentine food marketing which for ages has been based on a philosophy of high mark-ups, low turnover and "customer be damned."

SUCCESSFUL COMBINATION

The foundation of the supermarkets' "overnight" success is a combination of technical and financial know-how, individual enterprise and big money.

The supermarkets are called Minimax Markets and are owned by the Rockefeller brothers' International Basic Economy Corporation (IBEC).

The methods which spelled success for Minimax Markets in Argentina were tried and perfected in IBEC's operations in Venezuela and Italy. IBEC plans to follow up the initial success by expanding into other areas.

Supermarkets hit Buenos Aires like an idea whose time had come. The first one opened in April last year the second in June. More are being added.

* * *

Grocery stores in Buenos Aires are like the ones which served the United States at the turn of the century. They are small, poorly lighted and usually untidy.

They are strictly high mark-up, low turn-over operations. Food is crammed into whatever space is available — on the floor, hung from the ceiling, dangling from the walls.

Meanwhile all the other customers — whether two or 10 — must wait their turn.

* * *

These grocers buy case and half case lots from wholesale houses. The resultant book work is fantastic.

NEW ATMOSPHERE

Minimax markets create an entirely new atmosphere in food buying and handling. They buy carloads of goods, not case lots. They display the merchandise in clean spacious stores where customers can select what they want from neatly stacked display islands.

* * *

Experience in supermarketing in Venezuela and Italy has paid off in Argentina. Laying aside the obvious need for big money to finance such an operation, perhaps the greatest single factor in IBEC's supermarket success is the personal initiative, contagious enthusiasm and professional excellence of Minimax general manager Richard Boogaart.

IBEC started groundwork for its Argentine operation a couple of years ago. The organization already had a thriving poultry operation here and the government under President Arturo Frondizi welcomed new industry.

Boogaart came to Argentina soon after the operation began.

NON-STOP OPERATION

Minimax employs more than 600 persons to keep shelves stocked, vegetables packaged and merchandise moving. It is a 24 hour a day, seven day a week business. The stores run three eight hour shifts a day.

Power and water — highly essential commodities in supermarket operations, are both in short supply in Buenos Aires. Frequent power failures threatened to wreck refrigeration systems and sent the cash registers loco.

The stores now have their own generators and a system of auxiliary pumps to keep water moving in the refrigeration systems.

* * *

* * *

Boogaart says once they catch up with the runaway success of the supermarkets, IBEC will probably turn its DACSA toward supplying other grocery stores with lower priced higher quality goods.

Survey Shows That Some Schools Penalize Steady Daters

By The Associated Press

A spot check of schools throughout the country showed today there are some that have tried to discourage steady dating among their students.

The penalties for violation generally were not as stringent as that imposed at St. Michael's Roman Catholic High School in Jersey City, N.J. The going steady practice among teen-agers there was dealt a blow by the administrator who threatened his students with expulsion for such activity.

"I want them to look over the field. I don't want any forced marriages," said the Rev. James A. Carey in issuing his edict, effective Friday.

The superintendent of San Francisco public schools, Dr. Harold Spears, has not taken any formal action against steady dating.

"I think that's a natural biological urge," he said, "and I would hate to have to enforce a ban on it."

'PARENTS' PROVINCE

Dr. Roy L. Hinderman, deputy superintendent of Denver schools, said: "We have no regulation on this because we regard this as being a province of the parents. And we think this (a going steady ban) would be an invasion of rights that belong in the home. We shouldn't attempt to dictate a policy on this particular point."

Hinderman, the father of grown children, said he didn't think steady dating is a good thing for youngsters, but he added reminicently, "I can still recall rather vividly when we went through this state."

"Three years ago, the Rev. Stephen J. Daday, principal of Allentown (Pa.) Central Catholic High School, banned steady-dating students from extracurricular activities and a national honor society.

Father Daday said then, without elaborating: "Our student body (of 2,200) is aware that this is not a new policy of the Catholic Church but a restatement of the policy that is as old as our founder, Jesus Christ."

★ ★ ★

The Roman Catholic archdiocese of New Orleans also has tried to discourage the practice. Some Catholic high schools there ban steady-dating students from positions of honor. Archbishop Francis Rummel issued a pastoral letter in recent years aimed at cutting down constant togetherness among teen-agers and persons not ready for marriage.

TRIES COUNSELING

The Chicago Catholic archdiocese, while ot having a ban on going steady, tries to regulate it through counseling of parents and pupils "rather than by issuing stringent regulations and severe penalties," according to Msgr. William McManus.

Msgr. McManus, superintendent of the 70,000-student archdiocesan schools, said "steady dating is getting to be old hat in Chicago." Nevertheless, he said, "in our spiritual retreats and our courses on preparation for marriage and family life. We advise the students about the hazards and foolishness of steady dating.

"The response," he added, "has been good and most young people look upon steady daters as insecure and immature persons."

msgr. McManus said pastors can expell students "if steady dating gets out of hand," but he remarked that he knew of no such recent cases.

In Chicago's public school system, a spokesman said it was not considered feasible to try to set up a blanket rule on steady dating for its 21 districts, "each with a territory as large as many cities."

It's One of His Best Jobs

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — William Whannell, 19, a window cleaner, did his work so well that he landed in a hospital Tuesday.

"He is very proud of his work," said a colleague. "He likes to make the glass as clear as daylight."

Whannell did just that with a glass door, later thought it was open and tried to walk through it. He was treated for cuts on his face, arms and hands.

BANS GOING STEADY—Father James A. Carey, shown in a classroom at St. Michael's High School in Jersey City, N.J., told students of the school yesterday that they would be expelled if they continued to go steady. Father Carey, head of the 600-student parochial school, announced the rule will go into effect Friday. His action won approval of parents, and while some of the students felt the rule harsh, they agreed to obey it.

Suit Initiated Against Tax

Would Prevent Detroit Levy on State Workers

A Union Lake labor mediator and a Warren attorney have filed suit in Wayne County Circuit Court to stop the City of Detroit from collecting its income tax from state employes who work in Detroit but do not live there.

Daniel M. Gallagher Sr., 54, of 9155 Longcroft St., Union Lake, and Don Binkowski, 38, Warren, both employed by the Michigan Labor Mediation Board in downtown Detroit, claim the tax is unfair to state employes who have no say in where they are assigned.

Their suit charges that "employes of the State of Michigan are forced to work at the Cadillac Square Building in Detroit for the convenience of Detroit residents.

"It's unfair to tax us just because we are forced to work in a city with an income tax," they said.

* * *

Gallagher and Binkowski said they and many other state employes perform much of their work outside the city.

They also claimed they received no city services or benefits because state and federal funds maintain the highways and freeways they use.

"If the courts do not uphold our position, I suggest the state legislature move the state offices out of Detroit," Binkowski, a former Constitutional Convention delegate, said.

Romney Signs His First Bill; Benefits Area

LANSING — Gov. George Romney Tuesday signed into law his first bill since taking office — to clear the path for sale of Dequindre sewer construction bonds in Oakland County.

The bill, the first passed by the 1963 state legislature, requires that the State Municipal Finance Commission approve or disapprove the issuance of such bonds.

The sale of $5.6 million in bonds to finance construction of the sewer in southeastern Oakland County was held up when the finance commission refused to act in December, saying that state law did not require it to act on them.

Claude Stevens, the county's bonding attorney, recommended sale of the bonds be delayed because of prohibitive interest costs he said would be incurred without the commmission's approval.

Boys Pay Penny for Hitching Post

GLENDALE, Ariz. (AP) —Gayle Cate and Bobby Wagoner, both 13, don't ask for any favors when they ride into town.

The two rode in on their horse Sugar to buy supplies. Dismounting, they hitched him to a parking meter and dropped a penny in the slot.

Standing nearby, patrolman Orval Wilmer mused aloud to bystanders, "Wonder where I'll put the ticket in case the horse overstays the time?"

But he didn't have to worry. The boys got their saddle soap and were mounted up in plenty of time.

Pistol-Packin' Students Studying Mental Health

They are state troopers, attending a week-long institute on mental health and its relationship to law enforcement.

Tadpole Crisis Shakes 'Em Up in Freight Office

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A tadpole tangle created a crisis that never will be forgotten at a freight office here.

The shipment arrived on a Friday but nobody could locate Johnson to make delivery.

The men at the freight office were nervous wrecks by the time delivery was made on Monday. They had spent the whole weary weekend pouring fresh water over the tadpoles.

The tag, which should have been on the crate with the 12 frogs instead of the one with the 6,000 tads, read:

"Insured for $20 each."

Grand Rapids Resident Named to State Post

LANSING (AP) — The appointment of Richard Stuur of Grand Rapids as chief examiner of the State Banking Department has been announced by Banking Commissioner Charles Slay.

Stuur has been a senior examiner with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Keep Fire Trucks Down on the Farm

WEST BEND, Wis. (AP)—A Wisconsin farm, appropriately named Fire Bell Farm, boasts the best fire protection of any in the country.

The owners, Keith Franz and Wesley Kramlich, are volunteer firemen who collect fire fighting equipment, all in working order. They now own 11 pieces, including an 1875 Silsby steamer.

A truck is always ready for an emergency and they have answered fire calls in the nearby area. They also have assisted the regular West Bend Fire Department.

Tiny TV Camera May Be Monitor for X15 Flights

It will be mounted on the pilot's helmet, like a coal miner's lamp, and will see whatever he sees.

The compact camera, now being developed, was one of many advanced projects described for the House Space Committee by Raymond L. Bisplinghoff, director of advanced research and technology for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

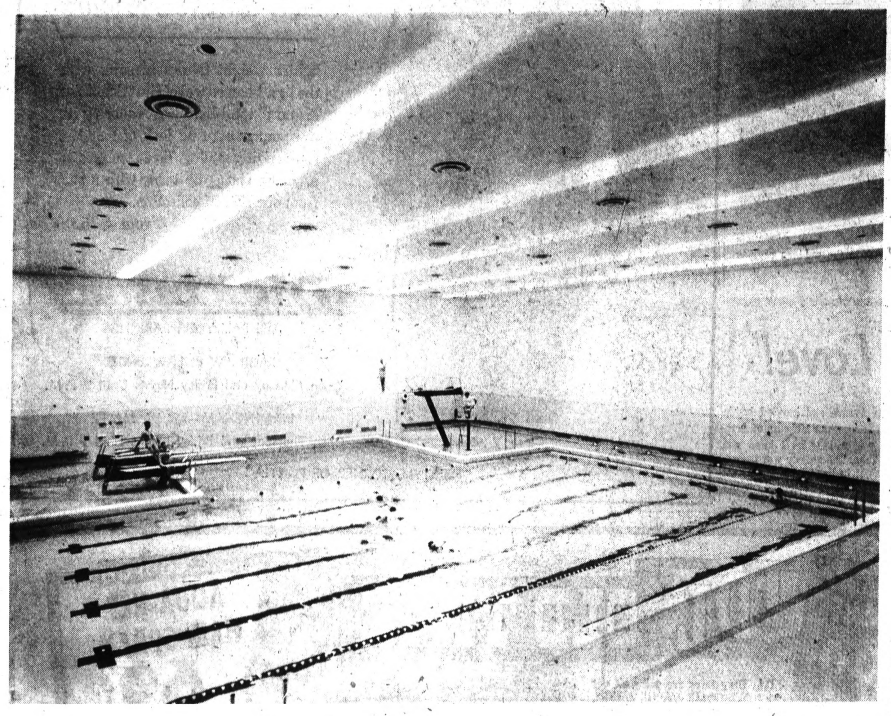
Oakland U. Has Its Own 'Sports Spectacular'



Pontiac Press Photos by Phil Webb

WHO NEEDS FLORIDA? — A favorite place for students seeking after-class relaxation is the huge pool. While it isn't regulation Olympic-size, the pool is larger than most in the metropolitan area. Most so-called Olympic-size pools actually aren't, Oakland U's athletic director Hollie Lepley pointed out. An added feature of the pool is underwater windows that allow instructors to observe the progress of students in perfecting their swimming form.

Dedication of the new Intramural Sports and Recreation Building at Oakland University is scheduled for March 15.

These include swimming, diving, gymnastics, dancing, basketball, tennis, volleyball, weightlifting, tumbling, trampoline — oh yes, and skiing on a slope outside.

Indoor archery, pingpong and handball will be added later.

The $1.5-million structure was designed for intramural activities, but it can be adapted readily for spectator events as well.

The building was opened officially to the students last month. Major construction was completed in 15 months and paid for from regular tuition fees.

★ ★ ★

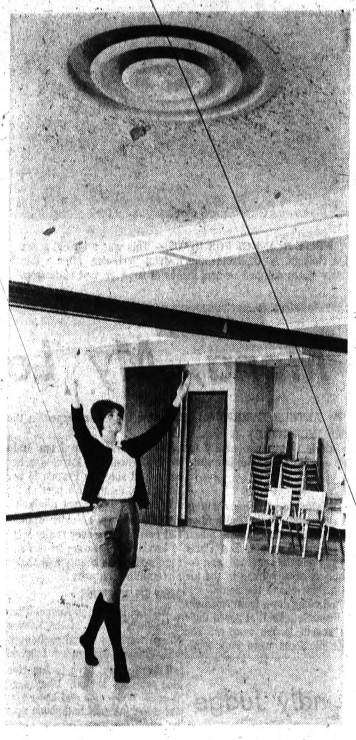
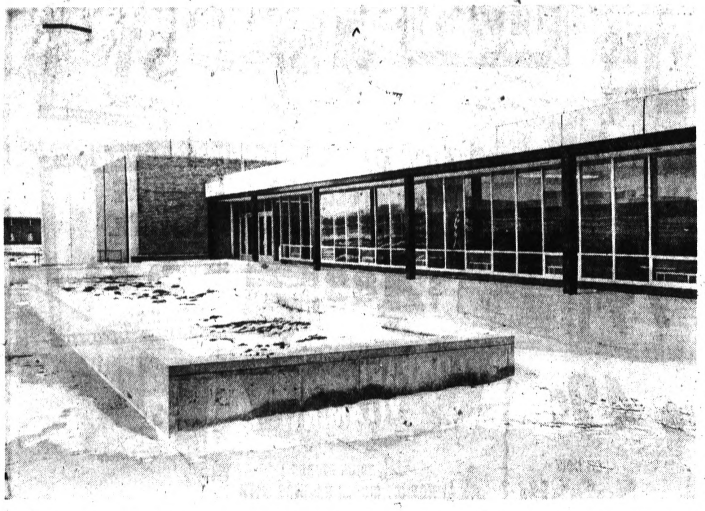
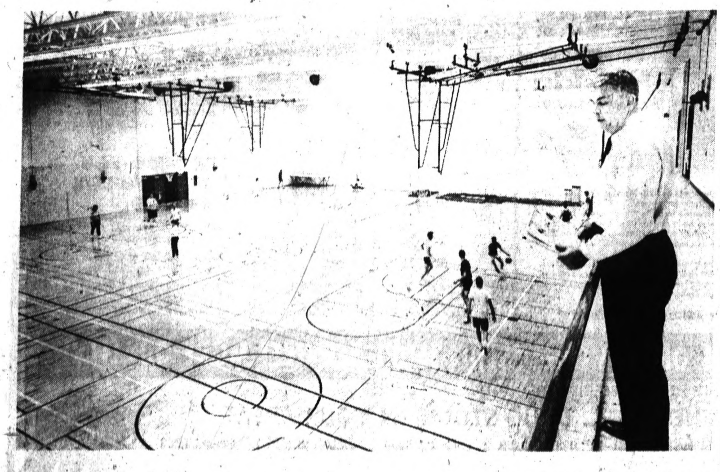
And use it they do.



ROOM TO DANCE — The new intramural building at Oakland University is more than a gymnasium. Here, Frances Swoboda, 19-year-old freshman from Rochester, practices modern dancing to records in a multipurpose room which serves as a studio.



CAMPUS ADDITION — A front view of the new intramural building belies its actual size. Much of the building is visible only from the rear because it is fitted into the side of a hill unnoticed from the main part of the campus. The marble column rising at left conceals a smoke stack for heating purposes. Lanscaping will be added in the spring.



HUGE GYM — The gymnasium is large enough to enable a variety of sports to be played simultaneously. The floor is marked off for four basketball courts, tennis and badminton courts and for volley ball. A separate room for gymnastics, wrestling and archery is yet to be completed. Athletic director Hollie Lepley watches the activity below.

Midget Joins Auto Firms in Wailing GM Blues

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Midget Motors, Inc., of Athens, Ohio, had a common problem with Chrysler, Ford, Studebaker and American Motors last year.

Its volume increased over 1961 but its share of the market took a beating from General Motors.

Official registration figures are now in. They show Midget boosted its volume 12.2 per cent. Although considerably shy of Pontiac's 41.8 per cent increase, it compared favorably with Ford's more modest 10.6 per cent gain.

But while Midget was showing a tidy sales increase, the share of total sales taken by the 9½ horsepower King Midget cars ($960.50 FOB Athens) shrank from .0025 per cent in 1961, when it marketed 148 cars, to .0024 per cent in 1962 when it sold 166.

The other companies suffered an even greater loss as General Motors accounted for 51.8 per cent of all sales, most in its history. Ford was off from 28.5 per cent to 26.3, Chrysler from 10.8 to 9.6, American Motors from 6.3 to 6.1 and Studebaker from 1.2 to 1.1.

ROUGH ON OTHERS

Midget doesn't really mind not being included with the giants of the industry. But from a prestige standpoint it was rough on the others.

Ford's share was its smallest in a decade. Chrysler slipped to its lowest point since 1930 even though the Chrysler car was the only non-GM make to show a year-to-year percentage increase.

American Motors took less of the market than at any time since 1959 and Studebaker's slice was the thinnest since it switched to compact cars in 1958.

Compacts generally slipped a notch, from 32.8 to 31.9 per cent, even though registration of the 11 entries was up more than 290,000 units to a combined total of 2,211,832. Rambler was the leading compact with Falcon second and Chevy 11 a close third. The previous year Falcon edged Rambler.

In line with the reduced share by compacts were the changes in price groupings of the cars registered.

R. L. Polk & Co., which acts as statisticians to the auto industry, divides cars into five price classes. The biggest gain in 1962 came in the middle price range, from $2,701 to $3,300 before taxes.

Imports dropped again, taking 4.9 per cent of the total market compared with 6.5 per cent in 1961. Volume dropped, too, for the foreign cars. The 339,160 total was the smallest in five years.

CAME CLOSE

The Detroit companies came unusually close in this assessment of the imported car market. Virtually every domestic estimate of the total volume said imports would account for 300,000 to 350,000 sales, a figure being repeated in 1963 forecasts.

Outside of the five major manufacturers, Polk's registration figures list a catch-all category called "miscellaneous domestic." It's here the King Midget shows up.

Only one other make is listed by name in the miscellaneous group—Checker, which is available as a standard passenger car as well as a taxi cab.

Unlike Midget, Checker bucked the GM trend. Its sales were up 20 per cent and its share of the market increased as well—from .09 per cen to .15 per cent.

'End Payless Paydays Under New Constitution'

LIVONIA (AP) — Gov. George Romney says that if the proposed new constitution is adopted, Michigan would not have another payless payday such as occurred in 1959.

"The new constitution would protect against another payless payday, and improve the ability of the state to pay its bills on time," Romney told a Republican meeting in Livonia last night.

Under the present constitution, Romney said, the state has the authority to borrow only $250,000 — enough to run state operations for less than half a day.

The governor observed that under the proposed document, the state could borrow up to 15 per cent of its general fund revenue, now about $64 million, to tide state operations over any temporary rough spots.

Romney said that the 1959 payless payday gave Michigan a "financial black eye from which we have not yet recovered.

"This would not happen under the new constitution," he asserted.

DOUBT AND FEAR

In urging adoption of the new constitution, Romney accused its opponents of seeking to sow seeds of doubt and fear.

"These opponents are irresponsibly predicting both confiscatory taxes and starving public services, and both at the same time," he said.

Romney said the finance and taxation provisions of the new document include some badly needed improvements in state and local finances.

These improvements, he said, include allowing altering of the base of the sales tax by the legislature—such as removing the tax from food and drugs.

Another provision Romney described as an improvement was a ban against a graduated personal income tax, although a flat rate tax would be permitted.

"Wage-earners would be protected from any possibility that the state might duplicate the steeply-graduated income tax pattern that the federal government now imposes," he contended.

Romney said a flat rate income tax, however, would provide flexibility in working out long-range tax reform for the state.

Detroiter Presents Plan to Tanganyika

Armful of Blocks May Help Solve Housing Problems

DETROIT (AP)—A man with an armful of wooden blocks hopes he has the answer to low-cost housing in undeveloped parts of the world.

And Joseph Blair, 58, a Detroit hotel owner who claims a varied background as an inventor, plans to start putting up buildings in Tanganyika this year.

Blair contends his plan for a home made of blocks can be erected for considerably less than $20,000 in the African republic.

★ ★ ★

This would be a minimun, one-story, four to five room home. But says Blair, it would be far better than what most of the natives of Tanganyika now have.

"You should see how they take branches off a tree and use mud and build themselves some kind of home," said Blair.

"And you don't even have to go out to the outskirts of the cities to see mud huts, either," he added. "Africans live in them right in town."

GOVERNMENT INVITATION

He says the Tanganyika government has invited him back this spring. The balding, chunky Negro says Tanganyika needs three and a half to four million housing units and thinks his idea will help provide them. He says other emerging nations have indicated an interest.

It carries both a tongue and a groove and is so designed that it cannot be installed incorrectly.

★

Other pieces of slightly different shape allow corners, windows, doors, and leveling off for a roof. The blocks are placed with one point down, so that a wall would appear made up of diamond-shaped blocks.

★

The blocks carry holes through them lengthwise. Alternate holes would carry rods or dowels and cement to bind and strengthen the building. The other holes could carry electrical wires or serve as insulation.

He has a working model and quickly and easily constructs walls, doors, windows and corners with the scaled down blocks.

UNSKILLED LABOR

Blair contends skilled labor would be needed only for the foundation and for the roof. He envisions the foundation being laid one day, the interior and exterior walls being erected the next day by two men who need no special training or skills, and the roof put up on the third day.

He says the U.S. State Department has shown an interest in the plan. Blair also says some domestic firms have talked with him about the idea.

His blocks could be, he says, cast from clay, cement or plastic.

Blair met Sheikh Amri Abedi, then mayor of Dar Es Salaam, in 1961 when he visited Detroit. Abedi told Blair of his country's housing problems and Blair says he started working on a way to overcome them.

The native of Atlanta, Ga., was invited to Tanganyika for the country's independence celebration last December and, as guest of the government, he met with several officials and described his plan.

It was well-received and he has been invited to return this spring with formal plans for a start.

Blair says the first thing needed will be a plan to cast the blocks. He estimates this will cost less than $100,000.

Then, he says, he wants to build a mobile or portable plant, costing about $40,000.

The bespectabled man says the Tanganyika government will pay him for his time and will work out a royalty payment for the use of the blocks.

Union Workers Halt A-Site Construction

NEVADA TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) —Construction at the atomic test site was delayed further yesterday when 2,000 employes walked off their jobs in sympathy with electricians striking over the presence of nonunion workers.

A spokesman for Reynolds Electrical and Engineering Co., prime contractor at the site, said he expected 3,000 workers to stay away from their jobs today.

Workers put up a sign about five miles from the main gate which read, "Nonunion labor on site."

About 100 workers milled around and talked, but there were no pickets.

To Offer Legislation for Service Corps

NEW YORK (AP)—Legislation to set up the proposed National Service Corps will be introduced by the administration before Easter, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said Wednesday night.

Disclosing this pre-April 14 deadline in a speech for a New York Police Athletic Club dinner, Kennedy said the corps will be ready to get into operation immediately upon congressional approval.

Conceived as a sort of domestic peace corps, the organization would enlist volunteers to help improve the lot of slum-dwellers, residents of economically depressed areas, the mentally retarded, and others in need.

BODY BLOCK — This melee during the first period of the Toronto-Chicago game last night may have triggered a second period brawl. Prominent Black Hawks are goalie Glenn Hall, Bob Turner (2) and Wayne Hillman (20). Fending off the tumbling Turner is Toronto's Frank Mahovlich. The Leafs won, 6-3.

Big 'M' Back in Point Race

Leafs in 2nd After 6-3 Win Over Chicago

By The Associated Press

The Big M, Toronto's Frank Mahovlich, is back in the scramble for individual scoring honors in the National Hockey League and, as a direct result, the Maple Leafs are back in second place.

★ ★ ★

The big left winger scored one goal and assisted on three others Wednesday night in Toronto's important 6-3 conquest of the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks. It was the only game played.

★ ★ ★

The victory lifted Toronto over idle Montreal into second, seven points back of the leaders. Mahovlich's four-point burst bosted him into third place in the scoring race. He now his 31 goals and 31 assists for 62 points. Chicago's Stan Mikita leads with 66 and Gordie Howe of Detroit has 65.

ALL THE WAY

Toronto, on its home ice, didn't trail in the game and broke it open with three goals in the final period. Ron Stewart contributed two of them. Dink Duff, Tim Horton and Bob Pulford got the others. Eric Nesterenko, Murray Balfour and Mikita scored for the losers.

★ ★ ★

The game was enlivened by stick-swinging duel and a fist-fight between Reg Fleming of the Hawks and Kent Douglas of the Leafs. They were assessed misconduct and game misconduct penalties after the battle behind the penalty bench in the second period. The misconduct will cost eact player $25 and the game misconducts $50 each.

Cassius Says: Out in Sixth

MIAMI, Fla (AP) — Cassius Clay, whose gimmick is his gift of gab, said Wednesday Heavyweight Champion Sonny Liston has one, too

★ ★ ★

"It's his look," Clay said. "He's big and ugly. That look would scare a man if he didn't know him. He scared Floyd Patterson with it.

"But he don't scare me. I'll eat him up."

NIGHT CLUBBERS

Clay, whose goal is to win the title from Liston before next November, thus becoming the youngest heavyweight champ in history, said he ran into Liston last night in a Miami night club. The poetic conversation, he said, went like this:

★ ★ ★

Clay: "You're so ugly, I don't know whether to whip you or cage you. Me, I'm pretty — too pretty to be a fighter."

Liston: "That's right, I don't know whether to whip you or kiss you."

Syracuse Wins on Teamwork

By United Press International

The Nationals displayed that truth for the umpteenth time Wednesday night when they scored a 122-111 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers depite a 42-point performance by the Lakers' Elgin Baylor.

Lee Shaffer led the Syracuse scoring with 27 points, Hal Greer had 24 and Johnny Kerr had 19. And when the Lakers crept to within a six-point deficit with six minutes left, it was Greer and then Al Bianchi who chipped in with key baskets to clinch the win.

It was the seventh straight home court victory for the Nationals.

Oscar Robertson scored 30 points and Tom Hawkins had 24 to lead the Cincinnati Royals to a 119-107 win over the New York Knicks and Si Green tallied a field goal and two free throws in the final 47 seconds as the Chicago Zephyrs downed the St. Louis Hawks, 98-93, in other games.

Field of 12 All Set for 26th Annual NIT

NEW YORK (AP)—The field is set for the 26th annual National Invitation Basketball Tournament, which will be staged at Madison Square Garden March 14-23.

Fordham and St. Francis of New York were named to the NIT Wednesday, giving the tourney its full complement of 12 teams.

The two New York teams join Wichita, St. Louis, DePaul, Marquette, Providence, Canisius, LaSalle, Villanova, Memphis State and Miami of Florida for the 1963 classic.

New Orleans Open Stiff Test for Pro

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Pro golfers may get a stiff test on the water-dotted Lakewood Country Club course in the $40,000 Greater New Orleans Open beginning Friday if pro-am results are any indication.

★ ★ ★

Only eight pros bettered par on tte 7,000-yard layout Wednesday in the pro-am.

★ ★ ★

"That course is rough," said defending champion Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City, who didn't turn in a card after the pro-am.

Wininger, who won his title last year at municipally owned Cit Park, said the fairway traps were too severe. He predicted a 280 would win the tourney.

Arnold Palmer, the golden boy of golf, toured the tricky layout in a even-par 72 and said he felt it was a good score for his first time on the course.

Race Cars Being Changed

Is Offenhauser Becoming Obsolete

DETROIT (UPI)—The famous old Offenhauser engine used in the Indianapolis 500 mile race since the 1930's may be on the way out.

The reason could be the increasing use at Indianapolis of rear-engine racers which have been standard for years on Grand Prix road racing circuits in Europe.

California speedster Mickey Thompson will enter four rear-engine cars and two more may show up with Ford engines. There are others, too.

Duane Carter, a veteran of 12 Indianapolis races, regards Thompson's racers "as the prototype of the car of the future" for the "500" event.

"They are going to necessitate a new engine design," he says. Carter points out that the four-cylinder Offenhauser built by Meyer-Drake is "not adaptable" to a car design which places the engine behind the driver.

One factor arguing against it is the weight. Carter figures the present Meyer-Drake engine weighs 550 pounds, and the transmission and starting unit push the weight up to 700 pounds — too heavy for best performance in a rear-engine car.

Thus, Carter believes "somebody's going to come up with a new engine — whether it's out of Michigan or some private outside source."

CORVETTE TYPE

Thompson's engines are aluminum versions of the Chevrolet Corvette powerplant. But Carter apparently believes that what's needed is a special lightweight racing engine such as the Ford powerplant.

The Ford engine is a V-8 with double overhead camshafts. It produces about 408 horsepower and is made of light alloys.

Carter says Meyer-Drake also has designed a small V-8 with light alloy metals. This could be used in a rear-engine car. "It has been on the drawing boards for some time now," Carter said.

He believes the new engine would weigh around 325 pounds and less than 500 with transmission and other equipment attached.

Carter says Thompson will "go a long way this year" with his cars. Thompson learned a lot with the two cars he entered last year, Carter believes.

Flint Northern Next Opponent for PCH Five

Final Contest Before District Tournaments Get Under Way

Although it may not be readily apparent, Friday night's battle against Flint Northern is one of the biggest games of the late season schedule of Pontiac Central.

True, the Chiefs could lose the game and not finish any worse than tied for second place in the Saginaw Valley Conference, and they could win it and still finish two games behind first place Saginaw Arthur Hill.

The Wildanger Field House cage clash (directly behind the Flint Northern High School) will find the Huron Street quintet risking two winning streaks, state ranking and, most important, some very necessary momentum.

NINE STRAIGHT

PCH has won nine straight games this season after a dismal start. It has a 9-2 SVC record compared to Flint Central's 8-3 and Flint Northern's 5-6. Arthur Hill is 11-0.

In addition, the Chiefs have conquered Flint Northern 10 consecutive times on a basketball floor. They are ranked eighth in weekly AP Class A state high school cage poll.

Earlier this season, the Orange and Black tomahawked the Vikings by 21 points at the Huron Street court.

Coach Art Van Ryzin wants very much to keep the momentum of this season's success string in tact for the start of the high school tournament cage play next week. Central will meet Bloomfield Hills Tuesday on the Pontiac Northern court.

The Vikings have lost three of their last four starts. That includes an 80-71 verdict Tuesday night to Flint Central, a game which decided the city championship.

Coach Van Ryzin at PCH will continue his rotating lineup policy Friday with either McKinley Jones or Mel De Walt destined to be the sixth man.

Ray Sain, Jesse Hodge, Gerald Henry and Lester Hardiman appear definite starters. Flint Northern is expected to send out Henry Hopson, Don and Larry Mayfield, Lane Ellis and Bob Blair. Larry Mayfield's 16 markers were the top individual total in the two teams' first meeting.

Host Berkley Friday

Huskies Eye Crown

★ ★ ★

It could well be the visiting Bears will do some growling before PNH is able to doff the Inter-Lakes League basketball crown Berkley shared with Farmington last season.

However, if the 80-63 PNH triumph on the Bears' court earlier is any indication of the two teams' comparative strength, the Huskies will own the loop title outright after Friday night's struggle.

Northern was league champions the two years preceding last season and has only lost once in nine loop starts this time around.

For Berkley, Friday's encounter will be an everything-to-gain, nothing-to-lose proposition. A win for the Bears and a triumph by Farmington at Walled Lake would produce a tie between PNH and the Falcons.

RISK RATING

It would, also, be more honey in the Bears' paws to close out their regular season schedule with a victory over the state's 15th ranked team in the weekly AP Class A poll.

★ ★ ★

Berkley is a deliberate ball club, using set patterns on offense. Northern plans to use its zone defense and hopes to spring the Huskies' outside defenders loose on fast breaks.

"We're in good shape physically and mentally," PNH coach Dick Hall said yesterday. "The players have had several days off and are well rested."

Roger Hayward led the Northern attack in the first game with 19 points while Don McReadie had 18 for Berkley. That 80-63 triumph was one of three times PNH has tallied 80 points in a game, and the highest point total the Bears have permitted all season in losing eight of 14 starts.

★ ★ ★

In addition to Walled Lake (5-4) playing host to Farmington (7-2) Friday, Waterford will be visited by last place Southfield. The Blue Jays could move into a fifth place tie with their I-L hosts by winning.

Waterford's chances could depend a great deal on the availability of senior center Bob Readler. The 6-4 point producer is awaiting word from the state High School Athletic Association headquarters on his playing status after an alleged altercation with a basketball official at Kettering Tuesday.

Michigan Bell Rises to Top in Rec Ball

Michigan Bell used a big second period to gain a 67-57 victory over Local 594 last night in city city recreation basketball play.

The win gave the telephone men possession of first place as the Class C division closed its regular season play.

Other games saw the Chiefs moved into a playoff with New Hope Baptist tonight for the remaining berth in the Class D playoffs next week by whipping Victor Paint, 58-49, and the Pontiac Police took Town and Country, 55-46.

First place in the Class A circuit for Waterford will be decided tonight when Lakeland clashes with Spencer Floors.

★ ★ ★

William Buck scored 21 points in the Michigan Bell, while James Moore's 18 led The Chiefs to victory.

Starving Deer Invade Elizabeth's Garden

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Starving deer, driven down from the mountains by the hard winter, have started invading Queen Elizabeth's garden.

Hundreds of deer are marauding on the low-lying ground near the royal Balmoral castle. Some have broken into plots and gardens in search of food.

Because many of the deer are feeding on fodder supplies kept for cattle, they are being shot to keep down the number of marauders.

Cash Discusses Pact With Boss; Chico Still Out

Cool Weather Greets Bengals' Workouts at Henley Field

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Holdout Rocky Colavito's contract dispute with the Tigers has become a war of nerves as he and general manager Jim Campbell try to out-wait each other.

★ ★ ★

The homerun slugger's holdout entered its third day today with no indication of an early settlement.

"The next move is up to Jim," said Colavito, offered a slight raise over the $52,000 he received last year.

"I'm not going to call him,"

Sports Editor Bruno L. Kearns of The Pontiac Press is having as much trouble shaking an illness as the Tigers are having signing players. His on-the-spot stories from Lakeland, Fla., will start when he has recovered.

said Campbell. "I said what I had to when we talked the other day."

That was Monday, the day before the Tigers opened camp for their full squad. Since then, Campbell and Colavito have not discussed the matter.

"I had a comparable year," he said. "Why should I get only a raise that amounts to nothing? I merit a good raise.

EVERY GAME

"I had almost as many hits as I did the year before. I played in every game. The only thing I dropped much in was runs batted in."

Colavito feels he was the innocent victim of the Tigers' injury jinx. The losses of Al Kaline and Billy Bruton for various periods affected his RBI production, Colavito said.

"How could I drive in runs when the bases were empty so far?" said Colavito. "The year before Kaline was always on base or Bruton was on when I came up.

"Last year Al missed 61 games and when he played he hit more home runs than he ever did before. So the bases were empty.

"Jake Wood had a good year for us in 1961 and he was on base a lot, he flies and could score on any kind of a hit. Last year, he didn't play much.

★ ★ ★

"Yes, I think I had a comparable year."

Norm Cash, meanwhile, came closest to ending his holdout and may sign today. He spoke briefly with Campbell.

"We're not very far apart, said the 1961 American League batting champion whose average dropped 118 percentage points last year. "I'd like to sign and get this over with."

Bubba Phillips missed part of the drill with a throat ailment. It was first diagnosed as tonsilitis and Phillips had returned from the doctor and was back in uniform.

North American Jumping Meet at Iron Mountain

Best Jumpers in Nation to Aim for Mark

Pine Mountain Site for Country's Top Jumping Event

IRON MOUNTAIN — One of the most spectacular activities of the winter season will take place in this Michigan-Wisconsin border city, Saturday and Sunday.

It will be the annual North American Ski Championships and the Kiwanis Invitational ski tournament.

Zooming down a snow-packed incline that stretches 300 feet they take off at an estimated 70 miles an hour. The vertical drop from take-off to landing is 250 feet — which, measured by buildings, would be a 25-story drop.

For 16 of the last 24 years, Pine Mountain has held or shared the North American distance record. Pine Mountain and Westby, Wis., shared the distance record of 317 feet until recently.

★ ★ ★

It was lifted to 322 feet at Steamboat Springs, Colo., by Gene Kotlarek of Duluth, Minn. And Kotlarek will be among those competing in the North American and the Kiwanis Invitational.

Also competing will be John Balfanz of Minneapolis, who set the 317-foot-record at Westby last year. Pekka Tirkkinen of Finland equaled that jump at Pine Mountain two weeks later.

Among other American stars expected to tune up here for the U. S. olympic trials on suicide hill at Ishpeming, Mich., on March 9-10 are Ansten Samuelstuen of Steamboat Springs, a 1960 olympic team member and runner-up to Kotlarek in the nationals last weekend, and Butch Wedin of Iron Mountain, also a 1960 Olympic jumper.

TOP JUMPERS

★ ★ ★

While there have been several mishaps on Pine Mountain, only one person ever was fatally injured while jumping there. Before one is allowed to start from Pine Mountain's scaffold to end up the distance of three football fields down the mountainside and some 40 stories below where he started, he must be rated an expert and have proved it on lesser jumps.

While distance is important in ski jumping, it is no more so than style. Each is weighted 50 per cent in scoring.

Scorers keep track of distances. Judges rate the riders on style, all the way from the beginning of their runs at the top of the scaffold to the out-run.

All Turns From Stem Turn

Skiing Tips by Toni Sailer

You command it and the rest of the whole art comes your way.

Turns turn into "Swings." The fast-done Stem Turn is called Stem Swing. The difference: More speed, the periods of the "V"-positions of your skis grow shorter, i.e. you close them faster.

The swing is completed on the lower ski, requiring a perfect sense of gliding. Your shoulder work is done in one fluent move. Calves and upper body bend in the same angles.

The Stem Swing completes the pattern of school maneuvers. Now it's a good thing to re-examine what you have learned so far.

A couple of hours of bottom-to-top exercises from Sideward Slide to Plow to Stem Turn will reveal the bad habits you might have picked up and will help to correct them.

★ ★ ★

Polish the Stem Turn in all sorts of snow, on icy, hard-packed runs, in deep powder snow and in wet-heavy spring snow.

By now your leg muscles will have developed a strength sufficient to control your skis in any snow condition and on any slope no matter how steep.

★ ★ ★

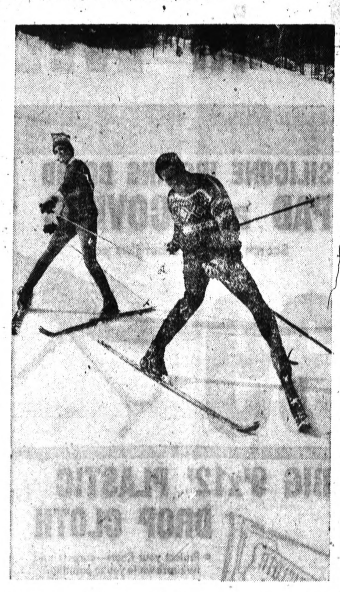
The next step is the Parallel Swing, one of the most elegant maneuvers that really gives you a berth among upper-class skiers.



'IT WON'T MEAN A THING IF YOU AIN'T GOT THAT SWING.' HIP WORK IS ALL IMPORTANT IN THE PARALLEL SWING.

New Snowfall, Area Resorts Expect Rush

With, at least, two additional inches of snow arriving overnight area ski resorts should enjoy another big weekend tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday.

The below-freezing temperatures had most of the areas making snow before the arrival of the new snowfall so there is an ample base on almost every slope in the area.

Very good-to-excellent conditions have been reported by Mt. Brighton, Alpine Valley and Mt. Christie. Earlier in the week, Mt. Brighton had reported trouble with its J-bar but all facilities are operating now.

Summit Ski area also has very good conditions.

The slopes at Pine Knob, Dryden, Mt. Holly, Grampian Mt., and Teeple Hill are good-to-very good.

The adventurous skiers who like to take on the trails through the woods should find the conditions most enjoyable this weekend — during the daylight hours.

Organized competition has finished its season at most of the areas and all slopes and facilities will be at the disposal of the independent skier.

Close-Out Prep Ski Meet Season

Rochester, Bloomfield Hills in Tie

Rochester and Bloomfield Hills high school ski clubs closed the organized meet season for area teams by splitting a meet last night at Mt. Holly.

Geoff Smith of Hills and the Falcon's Sis Bulton won the individual competition with little opposition. Smith made the two slalom runs in a combined time of 43.2 seconds.

Miss Bulton was 32.9 seconds ahead of her teammate Kathy Voorheis to win the girls division in 71.1. Rochester's Lynne Muster made her two runs in the time of 103.7 for third place and the Barons' only competitor was Pam Waggoner who skied in 126.5.

The course reportedly was very tight with all competitors having a rough time making their two runs.

Rochester's Allen Amazeger finished second among the boys with a time of 58.6. Ken Belledin took fourth for the Falcons and Butch Blumenfeld, Dick Wood and Andy Cummins took third, fifth and sixth for Bloomfield Hills.

COUNTY MEET

The Oakland County High School Inter-club Ski championships were last weekend at Mt. Holly with Bloomfield Hills and Royal Oak Kimball edging their way to the boys and girls divisions' titles, respectively.

The course through the slalom gates was icy and few skiers were able to perform up to expectation.

Coach Don Gregory say the Hills male skiers register a surprisingly easy triumph despite the fact four of the five top team members were out with injuries or illnesses.

The Barons best foursome skied the course in a total of 224.2 seconds, 59.8 seconds better than runnerup Walled Lake. West Bloomfield was third and Waterford Kettering fourth.

Three girls from each club composed a team and Kimball's trio of Carol Clark, Diane MacKiller and Cathy Sheppard joined for an overall clocking of 258.- seconds. West Bloomfield's girls ran second at 329.2 seconds and Berkley was third.

Individual pace setters were Laurie Carter of West Bloomfield who made the two girls' runs in 71.3 seconds, and John Steckling of Walled Lake led all boys with 39.6 for two races.

Butch Blumenfeld captured second among the fellows with a 42.5 reading, while teammates Andy Cummins, Bob Black and George Vilican.. were seventh through ninth, respectively.

Miss Clark finished third for the Knights behind Miss Carter and Berkley's Sheila Larkins. Kimball's other two finishers were Misses MacKeller and Sheppard in fifth and sixth place, respectively.

★ ★ ★

Dave Clark, brother of Carol for the Bears, captured fifth place among the boys. Other individuals among the top five in each division were Waterford's Jane Tripp, fourth among the girls; and West Bloomfield's Bob Thornton and Berkley's Rick Foa, who took third and fourth, respectively, in the boys' competition.

Saucy Bossy, Deer Roamed Same Land

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—Unless there is a herd of deer roaming the eternal pasture, Saucy Bossy, the mixed-up bovine, won't feel at home.

Saucy Bossy started life nearly a quarter-century ago pretty much like the rest of the cud-chewing set. She came from good stock — from the right side of the fence, you might say — and was considered an up and coming producer in farmer E. M. Slawson's herd.

Then came the war and the Slawson pastures became part of the 2,804-acre naval supply center, Cheatham Annex. Slawson moved his herd but Saucy Bossy moved deep into the briar and pine. The fact that she was a 1,500-pound purebred Holstein and her new companions skittish Virginia white-tailed deer didn't seem to matter.

THE PHANTOM

In the next few years the legend of the phantom of Cheatham Annex was born.

Annex employes and area residents reported from time to time of being flushed from the woods by a beast that seemed to come from nowhere and disappear in a flash. Many a tree-climbing record was set, they said, when the pounding hooves and angry snorts were heard.

Descriptions were vague. A huge, albino buck deer, some said.

Finally, last March, 30 sailors, soldiers and newsmen set out to solve the riddle and obtain pictorial proof.

Army pohtographer Michael Bachmann was starting into a clearing when the bush crackled. He aimed his movie camera at a flash of white.

Back in the darkroom the truth came out. There was saucy Bossy, bounding away like a deer but every inch a Holstein.

During the past few bitter cold weeks there were none of the customary sightings of Saucy Bossy.. Monday, Ranger Buck Rogers was crossing a hill near the center of the range and found her dead — probably of natural causes expectable in her extreme age.

Behavior Satisfies Brokers

Stock Mart in 2nd Day of Slip

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market extended its decline into a second day early today. Trading was lively.

Losses of most key issues ranged from fractions to around a point.

* * *

Prices were lower from the opening and the losses deepened as trading stepped up.

Brokers said, however, they remained satisfied with the market's behavior as the trading for February neared an end. February has a record of being a month of more declines than advances.

The news background wasn't considered particularly bearish and some Wall Streeters said the market was acting about as expected after its long advance.

* * *

U.S. Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, Boeing, American Telephone, Phelps Dodge and Du Pont were off fractionally.

International Business Machines declined more than 2 points.

Also down less than a point were Chrysler, Woolworth, American Cyanamid and Eastman Kodak.

Fractional gains were posted by International Harvester, Kennecott, International Nickel and Lorillard.

* * *

Prices fell on the American Stock Exchange. Declines included Reliance Insurance, Syntex, Barnes Engineering, Heli-Coil and General Development. Among gainers were Molybdenum and Shawinigan.

Report Today in News Strike

Publishers Set Reply on Position to Wagner

* * *

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City newspaper publishers report formally in writing today to Mayor Robert F. Wagner on their position in the dispute which led to the 83-day-old blackout of the city's nine major dailies.

Wagner received a similar report Wednesday from Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union whose strike against four of the papers led to the blackout. Contents of the report were not made public.

* * *

At the publishers' request, Wagner postponed the time for their report until today.

Wagner—who may soon change his role from mediator to umpire and recommend a settlement formula—had asked for the reports from both sides.

He said his next step would depend on whether the reports "call for any further talks or not."

AT HEARINGS

Wagner received the printers' report here after he returned from Washington where he was a witness Wednesday at a hearing before a congressional subcommittee on President Kennedy's youth employment bill. In Washington, he reiterated his intention to outline non-binding settlement terms of his own in an effort to end the newspaper blackout. He did not say when he would make the move.

The strike by 3,000 printers has thrown 17,000 other newspaper employes out of their regular jobs.

* * *

In Cleveland, where 3,000 people have been out of work for 91 days because of strikes against the city's two newspapers, a contract agreement has been reached with a second striking union, the Teamsters.

NO AGREEMENT

But the closed-down Plain Dealer and the Press & News and eight other unions still have not reached contract terms. Three unions are still on strike.

In Cleveland, Teamsters Union (Independent) negotiators reached agreement Wednesday with the two newspapers. The local's 455 members are expected to ratify the two-year contracts Monday night.

The Teamsters' agreement provides $5 in wage increases in each of the two years, plus improved working conditions. It matches the two-year, $10 weekly packages approved recently by the nonstriking Pressmen's and Paper Handlers' unions.

Ford Exec From Area Will Retire

Charles Moore Jr. of Bloomfield Hills, Ford Motor Co. vice president in charge of public relations, will retire March 15 after 11 years with the company.

Moore, 60, of 4305 Lahser Road has directed both the public relations staff and the civic and governmental affairs office of Ford. His position will be assumed by two men.

Following his graduation from Dartmouth College in 1925, Moore became a reporter for the Boston Herald-Traveler and later was director of promotion for the Boston Globe, Washington Post and for Nation's Business.

He was executive assistant to the governor of Massachusetts from 1946 to 1948.

In 1953-54 Moore took several leaves of absence from Ford to serve on the White House staff as a special consultant to President Eisenhower.
