By ROBERT STODDARD
Athletic Director and Football Coach
Carmel, New York, High School

In the summer of 1956 Jim Mackey brilliantly pitched his Patterson (New York) Little League baseball team to the championship.

We coaches at Carmel High School looked forward to his entrance into our school, not only for baseball, but for football as well. Jim was big for 14; nearly six feet and 180 pounds, he could move with the speed of a young colt.

MACKEY

Then, the following year, "Big Jim" began to limp. An examination showed cancer. An operation removing his right leg was performed. In September 1957, Jim appeared in school on his crutches, a little awkward, but with a big smile on his face.

"I'll have to wait a while for my new leg," he said.

If he saw anyone feeling sorry for him, he would start kidding around about how he soon would be able to keep up one of his socks with a thumb tack, and "none of you guys can do that," he would finish.

When the first call went out for football candidates Jim asked if he could be one of the team managers.

"Sure Jim," I said, "but you have to be with the team every night."

ON THE JOB

And he was, hobbling on his crutches to fetch the sheets of plays, a roll of tape from the first-aid kit or a chin strap for someone's helmet. And soon his spirit and enthusiasm began to permeate the whole team.

Typical was the night that Big Jim fell down. The coaches and team were on the field warming up. Jim appeared near one end zone on his crutches, lugging the first-aid kit and my set of plays. All of a sudden one crutch slipped on the turf. Jim went down in a heap.

My first instinct was to run and help him, but quickly I restrained myself and the other boys. "Come on Jim," I shouted, "hurry up with those plays. You're holding up practice." I knew that was the way he would want it.

Jim struggled to his feet and came puffing up to us. Depositing the kit on the ground, he said, "Coach, it's a

Car Kills Woman on Berkley Street

Attempting to cross Woodward at Harvard avenue in Berkley, a woman pedestrian was fatally injured when struck by a car yesterday afternoon.

Oakland Highway Toll in '59 7

Mrs. Alphonsine Parks, 48, of 1307 Eaton Ave., Berkley, died two hours later in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Driver of the car, John S. Ballard, 23, of 3620 Linwood Ave., Royal Oak, suffered a fractured hip when he crashed his car into a tree in trying to avoid hitting Mrs. Parks, police said. His condition was reported "fair" at William Beaumont Hospital today.

An eye-witness, John Kronenberg, manager of the Secretary of State's Branch Office near where the fatal mishap occurred, told police Ballard swerved his car in a futile effort to avoid hitting Mrs. Parks.

Dulles Marks 71st Birthday in X-Ray Room

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Foster Dulles, one of the world's most traveled men, celebrates his 71st birthday today with only a short trip scheduled.

That trip: about 300 feet in a wheel chair from his room in Walter Reed Army Hospital to an X-ray room to receive radiation treatment for cancer.

President Eisenhower may visit his ailing secretary of state during the day and members of the Dulles family were sure to drop in.

But the kind of family celebration which has marked most of his birth anniversaries will be missing.

Dulles began the radiation treatments last Friday after a hernia operation a week earlier had shown a recurrence of cancer.

Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said Tuesday "there are no signs of adverse reaction at this stage" to the increasingly heavy doses of X-ray which Dulles has been given.

Teacher Appeals Jail Sentence on Traffic Charge

Suspended Waterford Township teacher Arthur C. Mooney, 50, of 1651 Grimshaw St., Commerce Township, appealed a jail sentence imposed on him yesterday by West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle on a charge of driving with a revoked driver's license.

Dieterle found Mooney guilty of the charge and sentenced him to serve 10 days in the Oakland County Jail. Mooney had stood mute to the charge when arraigned Feb. 9 before Dieterle.

He had been arrested by sheriff's deputies, who saw him driving a week after they had arrested him on a drunk driving charge for which his license was revoked.

Mooney first pleaded guilty to the drunk driving charge and then appealed it. Dieterle released him yesterday on a $100 appeal bond. His appeal was scheduled to be heard in Circuit Court March 2.

Mooney is awaiting trial before Pontiac Township Justice Robert W. Hodge Friday on a charge of furnishing beer to minors and trial in Circuit Court on a charge of gross indecency.

Pay for Repairs, Hospital Asked

City Willing to Advance Funds Only if Repaid, Commission Says

Pontiac General Hospital was asked officially last night to pay for extra repairs that have halted the expansion program.

City commissioners went on record saying they would advance needed funds out of tax monies only if the hospital promises to reimburse the city later out of hospital revenues.

Although it's still unsettled how much public funds will be needed, commissioners committed themselves to meeting the bill out of 1961 capital improvement funds.

City Manager Walter K. Willman gave assurances such a commitment would not jeopardize the city's chances of getting a $300,000 grant from the Detroit Area Hospital Council.

"The council people know that if they don't pay for the repairs, we will have to."

With the grant, only $50,000-$100,000 in local funds would have to be raised, Willman believed. Without it, the city would have to pay the whole bill estimated at $350,000-$400,000.

A resolution adopted last night asked the hospital Board of Trustees to agree to repay the city "when operating conditions permit."

Commissioners acknowledged that these conditions probably won't be right until months or years after the expansion program is completed. They agreed the hospital first should build up sufficient reserves to cover one month's operating expenses, about $400,000.

In their resolution, commissioners stressed they were asking the Board of Trustees to cover the repair costs as depreciation, not as new construction.

Thus they avoided directly ask-

Flint Bus Fares Upped in Face of Strike Threat

FLINT (AP)—A fare increase for the Flint City Coach Lines was approved last night, forestalling a strike Friday by bus drivers and maintenance men.

The city commission approved a straight 25-cent cash fare for adults with a five-cent transfer fee. Transfers were free and tickets were four for 90 cents under old schedules.

The commission also approved a company proposal to discontinue Sunday and holiday bus service.

The company estimated the increase would result in an additional $63,000 in revenue annually.

AFL-CIO Plans Drives in U.S. and Puerto Rico

Set to Organize South, Office Workers Here, Island Teamsters

From Our Wire Services

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico —The AFL-CIO announced today a new drive to organize six million industrial workers in the South and 14 million white collar workers throughout the United States.

Organizing director John Livingston said the new drive would be in addition to plans to charter a new Puerto Rican truckdrivers' union to oppose efforts by James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union to gain a foothold in the island commonwealth.

Livingston and President George Meany, who presided at the nine-day executive council meeting which ended here last night, belittled the Teamster drive to gain 12,000 Puerto Rican members, saying the Teamsters had signed up only about 200 members since their Puerto Rican campaign opened here six weeks ago.

Hoffa predicts his big truckers union will win hands down in a race with the AFL-CIO to organize workers in Puerto Rico. However, he emphasized that the Teamsters have no intention of raiding any "properly established union" in the island commonwealth.

Meany has informed fellow AFL-CIO chiefs, it was learned today, that although he will soon become 65, he has no intention of retiring as federation president.

Meany let this drop at Tuesday's closing session of the winter meeting.

The biggest story of the council session came on closing day with the disclosure that Reuther prevailed to a major extent in a hot internal AFL-CIO fight over federation policies.

"The feud established on a stronger basis than ever that Reuther, who was head of the old CIO before it was merged with the AFL, is clearly No. 2 man to Meany in the 14,000,000-member federation.

Reuther threatened to resign as chairman of the AFL-CIO Economic Committee. Part of the argument concerned Reuther's plan for the AFL-CIO to sponsor a mass march of unemployed on Washington to spur job aid action by Congress and the administration.

Meany reportedly felt this was too drastic. One word led to another. There was a good deal of cussing. Reuther charged Meany was trying to dictate AFL-CIO policies.

The upshot is that Meany and other federation leaders agreed to beef up their forthcoming Washington unemployment demonstration.

It won't be the mass march on the capital Reuther had in mind. But it is now planned to fill the capital's big armory with 3,000 to 4,000 idle workers and union officials and possibly stage a parade down Pennsylvania Avenue.

Reuther will head a special committee to work out details. He is staying on as head of the federation's economic committee.

Council members said Meany wound up the final meeting by apologizing to one and all for his opening day flare-up with Reuther.

More Mild Weather in Store for Area

More mild weather is in store for the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow, the U.S. Weather Bureau forecast today.

The low tonight will drop to near 24 degrees. Tomorrow's high will climb to a warm 45. Winds today and tonight will be southwest 5-10 miles an hour.

Temperatures for the next five days will average three degrees below the normal high of 36 and normal low of 22. Friday will be colder; Sunday and Monday warmer.

Precipitation will total two to four-tenths inches occurring as rain or snow Friday and again late Monday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 16. The reading at 2 p.m. was 37.

Auditor General Denies Rehearing Plans

Courthouse Opinion Studied

Michigan Auditor General Frank S. Szymanski today said he is studying the opinion but not considering a rehearing of last Thursday's State Supreme Court opinion freeing close to a million dollars to finance a new Oakland County courthouse.

Rumors were afloat around Pontiac today that there was a possibility that the state again would intervene in the long-disputed case by asking for a rehearing of the high court's 4-3 opinion.

"I'm not considering one, and I will have to go along with the court," said Szymanski. He said he was studying the opinion.

His statement, however, does not rule out the possibility of a rehearing on the part of the state. He said he planned to confer with Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams "in a couple of days."

Interested parties have 20 days from the time the court's opinion was handed down to file a rehearing petition. None have been filed to date, according to Donald F. Winters, clerk of the Supreme Court. The deadline would be March 11.

Szymanski disclosed this morning that he had received a letter from Supreme Court Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh saying he did not agree with the majority opinion of his fellow justices that Oakland County supervisors had accumulated funds for the courthouse within the law.

Justice Kavanagh, attorney general when the original lawsuit was filed in 1956, abstained from voting in the court's decision.

Szymanski emphasized that Kavanagh's opinion cannot have any bearing on a probable rehearing as he did not participate in the Feb. 19 opinion. No reason was given why he communicated with the auditor general.

Meanwhile, Samuel J. Torina, solicitor general, said he had no indication as yet that the Attorney General's Office might ask for a rehearing.

There was a strong feeling that should such a request be made it would come from the original complaint, the Oakland County Taxpayers' League.

Bruce J. Annett, a League member, said he could not comment at this time on whether a rehearing will be asked for.

At the same time, it was disclosed by David Levinson, chairman of the Special Courthouse Committee, that advertisement of

2nd Probate Judge Issue Sets Supervisors at Odds

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

A cry of "politics" greeted the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday when the question of a second probate judge came up for discussion.

Mrs. Harriett Phillips, Huntington Woods supervisor who last Friday was re-elected to her third term on the Democratic State Central Committee, sharply criticized a recommendation of two board committees not to try for a second judge at this time.

She called the postponing attempt a "subtle scheme" to keep Gov. Williams from making the appointment of the second judge should one be approved by the voters.

Sensing that there was a difference of opinion whether Oakland County needed a second judge, Ferndale Supervisor Clayton G. Lilly moved for a public vote to settle the question.

RULED OUT OF ORDER

Lilly's motion was ruled out of order as the Ways and Means and Juvenile Committees of the Board previously had moved that the heavy case load now facing Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, a Republican, be handled by employing a referee or clerk, who would be an attorney.

Fred W. Smith, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, said this conclusion had been reached after conferring with a committee of the County Bar Assn. Representatives of the Bar association —although they agreed "a second probate judge will be needed in the future" — concurred with this interim suggestion, Smith told fellow supervisors.

This brought criticism from a member of the association itself. Carl F. Ingraham, Birmingham mayor, supervisor and attorney, said the particular association committee expressed its opinion on a second probate judge without polling all members of the association.

"I have no concern about the political aspects of this," said Ingraham. "I'm a Republican, but I still believe there is a need for a second probate judge."

STARTED MOVE

It was Ingraham who several months ago started the move for the new judge. A countywide vote would be required, the earliest now being in August of next year.

At a meeting last Friday of the two supervisors committees, Clarence K. Patterson, chairman of the Bar committee, said the earliest a new judge could take office would be January 1961.

At the conclusion of yesterday's discussion, supervisors, with the exception of the few dissenters, agreed to the appointment of the referee or clerk and to have the two committees "study the matter further and report back to the Board."

Supervisors Not Ready to Rule on Hospital Use

A suggestion that the vacant Oakland County Contagious Hospital not be used exclusively for the mentally ill was turned down by the Board of Supervisors yesterday.

"This resolution appears to do nothing and I urge everyone to vote against it," declared Carl F. Ingraham, Birmingham supervisor.

A special study committee looking into future uses of the 80-bed facility on Telegraph road had recommended "that the use of the entire facility for the exclusive treatment and hospitalization of mentally ill patients not be considered."

The committee, directed by Royal Oak Supervisor Fred W. Smith, has been studying possible uses since Pontiac General Hospital relinquished its lease on the hospital last August.

Sole use of the hospital for the mentally ill had been urged by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, the Oakland County Chapter of the Mental Health Society and more than 30 municipalities and civic organizations.

But Smith's committee advised against it, saying that "the diagnosis and treatment of the mentally ill is solely the responsibility of the state," that it should be made a part of a general hospital and that it would be too costly.

The committee said that an offer of the Elizabeth Kenny Foundation to convert the hospital into a rehabilitation and treatment center for polio and other allied diseases "would provide the best use of this facility."

Supervisors refused, however, to rule out entirely use of the hospital for the mentally ill until Smith's committee received a definite commitment from the Kenny Foundation.

Only members of Smith's committee voted against referring his report back to committee until "a more positive" commitment is received.

Parley Goes On Under Strained Atmosphere

Red Leader's Speech Casts Doubt on Any Progress From Visit

MOSCOW (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had another long private talk today, this time with Khrushchev's latest public attack last night on the West acting as a wet blanket.

Khrushchev and his chief aides had lunch with Macmillan. After lunch, Khrushchev and Macmillan retired to a private room for conversations.

It was their third such exchange since the British leader arrived Saturday on his 10-day mission to Moscow. It was after 5 p.m. when they called it a day.

Macmillan and his foreign secretary, Selwyn Lloyd, are driving to the Bolshoi Ballet given in their honor tonight.

Khrushchev's speech last night apparently rejecting a foreign ministers' conference on Germany cast doubt today on the success of Macmillan's visit to Moscow.

The surprise speech to a political rally dumbfounded the British mission here.

Macmillan, reported "somewhat tired" after his Dubna trip, retired from last night's reception for 20 minutes to rest up. He was obviously suffering from a heavy head cold.

Observers noted the atmosphere of the reception was not so cordial as other meetings between the British and the Russians, but a British spokesman said he did not feel Khrushchev's speech was a rebuff to Macmillan.

The feeling grew that Russia would demand another summit conference to discuss the German situation. Mikoyan told reporters the Khrushchev speech "amounts to an affirmation of the need for a summit conference."

Another formal session was planned at the Kremlin Thursday before Macmillan and Lloyd leave for visits to Kiev and Leningrad. They return to Moscow Monday. The British party is due back in London Tuesday.

U. S. officials in Washington were inclined to regard the speech as a political maneuver.

British diplomats with Macmillan's party were openly shocked.

Macmillan, noting Khrushchev's buoyant manner at a British Embassy cocktail party only a few hours after his outburst, muttered: "This is an extraordinary method of diplomacy."

In his speech, the Soviet premier brushed aside as obsolete the Western proposal for a foreign ministers conference on Germany. Instead, he plumped again for summit talks and sprang a surprise by offering Britain a nonaggression pact.

Once more he insisted that German reunification was a matter for the East and West German governments, not the Big Four.

Macmillan was clearly placed in an embarrassing position.

Eastman to Tell His Side Tonight

Commission to Resume Hearing of Charges Against Straley

Public Safety Director George D. Eastman will testify tonight when the Civil Service Commission resumes hearing ouster charges against suspended Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

Eastman, whose charges form the basis of the hearing, is expected to explain them in detail at the 7:30 p.m. session in the City Commission Chambers.

Suspended Feb. 9, Straley is accused of incompetency, inefficiency, insubordination, neglect of duty and failure to maintain good behavior. He has denied all charges.

Eastman will be the second witness to testify against Straley. The other was Samuel G. Chapman of the Public Administration Service firm of Chicago, whose report on the department in 1958 was highly critical of Straley's seven-year reign.

good thing you didn't have me carrying the ball for a touchdown then, cause I'd have fumbled it sure as anything."

Jim didn't miss a practice for four weeks. Then one night he didn't appear. I checked and found that Jim was back in the hospital for examination. The result was a shocker. Jim had cancer of the lungs. They gave him six weeks to live.

It was decided not to tell Jim but to allow him to return to school and live as normally as he could. He soon reappeared on the football field with his usual smile and an apology for being absent for the few days.

It is the habit of our football team to say a prayer before each game, asking for guidance and the will to play in true fellowship. The boys also included in their prayer a word for "Big Jim." Then we closed with the Lord's Prayer.

With Jim's inspiration with us, the boys swept through an undefeated season and won the county championship. It was decided to give Jim the football, symbolic of this championship, at the annual football banquet. But Jim was too weak to attend.

Several weeks later, however, Jim appeared at a basketball game, the same big smile on his face, but more pale than any of us had ever seen him. We asked him to stop in the athletic office after the game.

STILL JOKING

He came in, leaning on his crutches, beads of sweat standing out all over his face and that big smile covering the pain that lay behind it. I scolded him a bit for missing the banquet. "I'm on a diet, Coach," he said with a grin.

Then I picked up the championship football, which all the players and coaches had signed, and gave it to Jim. "We all feel you worked as hard for this as any player or coach," I told him.

He took it in his hands and as the tears filled his eyes, he said, "Coach, I really didn't earn it this year, but if they ever fit me with that wooden leg, I'll more than make it up to you and the team."

He started to leave, then turned and gave me a long penetrating look which I'll never forget.

"Good-bye coach," he said.

"Jim, you mean 'so-long,' don't you?"

Another slow smile wrinkled the corners of his mouth. "Don't worry, coach, I'm all set." With that he was gone.

Two days later Jim was dead. He knew he was doomed all the time.

But Jim Mackey left a heritage of faith and courage that none of us who knew him will ever forget.

New Mormon Church Holding Open House

The new Mormon Church in Bloomfield Hills, known as the Detroit Stake Center of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, is holding open house all this week.

Public programs are scheduled from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday and Friday, and at 3 p.m. Sunday. Brief lectures explaining the church's locally unique structure are given, along with an explanation of the Mormon history and the sect's basic tenets.

Speakers include George Romney, president of the Stake and of American Motors Corp.; Bishop Ralph M. Johnson of the Pontiac Ward, and Jonathan W. Snow, building chairman.

The $700,000 building is the first structure to be erected in Michigan for Stake activities of the Mormon Church, Bishop Johnson explained.

It is to be used regularly by the Pontiac Ward and periodically by 11 other ward congregations from as far as Sarnia, Ont., and Toledo, Ohio.

It serves as a religious, cultural and recreational center of the church, and contains a full-size basketball floor and a fully-equipped theater stage.

Recitals on the 18-rank Estey pipe organ by Kenneth Parry of Ann Arbor and Ilia May Richardson of Detroit are part of the open house.

The church will be formally dedicated later this year, Bishop Johnson announced, "after it has been fully paid for." A general authority from Salt Lake City, Utah, will be present for the occasion, he said.

2 State Dem Candidates to Start Campaigns Here

Two Democratic candidates for state educational offices—Lynn M. Bartlett, incumbent superintendent of public instruction, and William K. McInally, University of Michigan regent nominee from Jackson — will be in Pontiac tomorrow night to kick off their campaigns for the April 6 election.

Bartlett and McInally will be guests of the Oakland County Democratic Committee at an informal gathering from 7-10 p.m. at the Roosevelt Hotel ballroom. The public is invited, the committee said.

School to Use Room in Church

Jayno Adams to Hold One Kindergarten Class at Atonement

Due to crowded conditions in the Jayno Adams kindergarten class, the Waterford Township Board of Education last night authorized rental of one room in the new Presbyterian Church of the Atonement on Clintonville road.

At present there are more than 90 children enrolled in two daily sessions at the school. With the extra room classes will be reduced to 30 pupils each, according to Supt. William Shunck.

Rental is $125 a month, and it will not be necessary to increase teaching personnel, Shunck told the board.

Dedication of the new John D. Pierce Junior High School has been set for 8 p.m. April 14. The planning committee includes board member Lester Carlson and school Principal Paul O'Neill.

Also assisting in arrangements will be PTA President Donald Redmond, Student Council President Jerry Goff, and Supt. Shunck.

A special board meeting will be held March 5 to canvass the March 3 special election results.

Another special board meeting date will be set in the near future to review the Board of Education Policy Booklet compiled during the past five years.

The board also authorized reinvestment of funds totaling $1,134,000 in U.S. Treasury bills at maturity value.

MRS. JANE E. HOERATH

Oakland County's 4-H program has been curtailed due to the lack of state funds to pay for the replacement of Mrs. Jane Hoerath, 4-H Club agent who resigned this month, according to Lyle Abel, Oakland County extension director. Leader of 4-H girls' work since January 1958, Mrs. Hoerath left her position to join her husband in Denver, Colo. The 4-H Advisory Council said it is considering a request for a grant from the county funds to hire another agent.

Pontiac's Two Municipal Judges Praised, Raised

Pontiac's two municipal judges won praise and a raise from the City Commission last night.

The salaries of Judge Maurice E. Finnegan and Cecil McCallum were boosted from $10,700 a year to $12,500, retroactive to Jan. 1.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles cited the organization of the new Traffic Violations Bureau by the two judges.

"The judges did a fine job in setting up the new bureau and it seems to be running very smoothly" Miles said.

He also cited the heavy case load carried by the Pontiac Court. The two judges last year handled around 14,000 cases, or about as many as handled in Flint by four judges.

"I am convinced our judges are doing more work and doing it very well," said Miles, who won unanimous approval of the raises.

The new salaries will remain in effect next year when the six-year terms on the Pontiac bench will be filled again by voters.

Arrest 5 Youths in Gang Fight

Four From Waterford, One Pontiac Teenager Being Held

Five teenagers were arrested last night as sheriff's deputies and Waterford Township police quelled a reported gang fight at Williams Lake and Airport roads in Drayton Plains.

Held for investigation of disorderly conduct are Robert H. Campbell, 17, of 370 Dover St., George E. Bowers, 18, of 6445 Williams Lake Rd., James R. Fish, 18, of 4081 Lanette St., and Jack Pace Jr., 17, of 6612 Williams Lake Rd., all of Waterford Township.

A Pontiac youth, Gary O. Sirbaugh, 18, of 57 S. Francis St., is also being held. Several other youths are being sought in connection with the fight.

Sheriff's Deputy Donald Kratt was first on the scene. When he arrived the youths stopped fighting and several fled afoot.

Pace was lying on the ground in a semiconscious condition, Kratt said. He was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for a head cut and released to deputies later.

Detectives are questioning the youths today to find what caused the outbreak.

construction bids will begin March 14, with bids to be taken April 21.

The dates were arrived at after Levinson's committee met with architects this morning in Birmingham.

Architects said costs for the courthouse had shot up some $160,000 since first estimates were made. Levinson said this means the courthouse unit will now cost around $2,875,000.

Original figures of $4,500,000 were for the entire county building program slated for the Service Center, he said.

WILLIAM P. WHITFIELD

Appoint Chairman of Easter Seal Drive

William P. Whitfield of 286 Cherokee Rd. has been named area chairman for the 1959 Easter Seal Campaign which opens Friday.

The appointment was announced today by Richard C. Poole, president of the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

Whitfield, a member of the Pontiac Rotary Club and the society's Board of Directors, will lead the drive which has made possible the purchase of wheel chairs, braces and crutches, and paid doctor's examinations, X-rays and dental care for the county's physically handicapped children.

William V. Vasu of Royal Oak is the general chairman of the 1959 county campaign, which ends March 29.

Urban League to Hold Concert for Scholarship

The Urban League Guild of Pontiac will sponsor a concert Tuesday at Lincoln Junior High School to raise funds for a $500 student scholarship.

The concert, beginning at 8:30 p.m., will feature two "chamber jazz" artists, Dwike Mitchell and Willie Ruff who will offer both classical and popular music.

Mrs. William Essery of Birmingham is general chairman of the affair and Mrs. Ruth Spurlock of Pontiac is chairman of the scholarship fund.

For the past five years, the Urban League Guild has given a $500 scholarship to a student to cover the first year tuition at Michigan State University or the University of Michigan.

Scour Michigan for Lost Airman

Took Off for Kinross Base After Stopover at Saginaw Sunday

GAYLORD (AP) — Air Force bases in Michigan and the Civil Air Patrol set up a search starting at dawn today for an airman unreported for four days.

Sought by 25 to 30 planes and helicopters working from an emergency base here was M. Sgt. Frank Wyman of Batavia, N.Y., who disappeared on a flight to duty Sunday.

Wyman vanished in his own single-engine Piper supercruiser after a 3 p.m. takeoff Sunday from a stopover in Saginaw on a flight from Batavia to Kinross Air Base in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Flying alone in the small plane, he was en route to duty at the northern base. His flight from Saginaw would have required less than three hours.

The Tenth Air Force at Selfridge Base sent out an alert last night after Wyman's wife, Mary, said at Batavia she had received no word from her husband and Kinross confirmed that he failed to appear at the base.

The CAP said planes and helicopters from the Kinross and Wurtsmith air bases and the Coast Guard station at Traverse City would aid in a search based from here.

The CAP search was under the direction of Maj. Warren Sutton of Brooklyn, Mich.

Commerce Water to Be Under County DPW

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday accepted Commerce Township's request that water systems in the township be operated by the County Department of Public Works.

The Township board on Feb. 13 approved the changeover.

"We feel it is for the best interest of the township and its citizens," said Thomas C. Tiley, Commerce supervisor, in urging fellow

4 Admit Guilt in Theft-Beating

Waterford Township Youths Face Sentences for Gang Mugging

Four Waterford Township youths yesterday pleaded guilty to the unarmed robbery-beating of a 52-year-old man last month.

They were Dale Owens, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Owens, 5558 Clinton River Dr.; Glenn H. Rabdeau, 18, son of Mrs. Eileen Acord, 4704 Riverview Dr; Robert Wildey, 17, son of Walter P. Wildey, 2068 Denby Dr., and Wendell Trager, 17, son of Mrs. Dorothy Trager, 7220 Ida Ter.

Meanwhile, Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, this morning waived Juvenile Court jurisdiction over the fifth youth charged with the beating-robbery.

He ordered 16-year-old Gregory Clover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clover, 415 Manning St., Waterford Township, to stand trial in Circuit Court as an adult.

"This was the type of violence we haven't got a program for in Juvenile Court," Judge Moore said.

Clover is accused of luring Herman Westpfahl of 5901 Cooley Lake Rd., White Lake Township, to a dark spot on Old Orchard road in Waterford Township where he was beaten and robbed by the five youths.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland set sentencing of Owens, Rabdeau, Wildey and Trager for March 16.

The four admitted to Judge Holland yesterday that they took and split up among them $55 they had robbed Westpfahl of Jan. 31. The money was taken from Westpfahl after he was beaten unconscious by the five youths.

He remained in Pontiac General Hospital for six days with a broken nose, cuts to the face and head and some internal injuries.

Owens, Rabdeau, Wildey and Trager were returned to the county jail to await sentencing. Clover is being held in the Juvenile Home.

County Dem Election Workers to Meet

Oakland County Democratic election workers and officials will meet in Pontiac at the Roosevelt Hotel ballroom at 8 Friday night to participate in a symposium dealing with county election results.

The meeting, called by the Oakland County Democratic Committee, is the premiere of a proposed series of election analysis programs to be held after each election for the purpose of determining voter responses.

Friday night's progam will be led by August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, William Hart, deputy auditor general, and Billie S. Farnum, deputy secretary of state.

The Day in Birmingham

Sees Contest Developing for Municipal Judge Post

BIRMINGHAM — A contest is developing here for the post of municipal judge, according to City Clerk Irene Hanley. It will be decided at the polls April 6 in the spring elections.

Walter R. Denison, 28, of 615 Oakland Ave. took out a petition for the office yesterday afternoon. A member of the City Planning Board since last summer, Denison has been on the staff of the Oakland County Prosecutors' Office for about three and a half years.

Judge John E. Emery Jr., who was appointed last June when Judge John J. Gafill retired, has already filed his petition with the city clerk.

Associate Judge Edward B. Emery, a younger brother, has a petition out but has not yet filed, Miss Hanley said.

All of the commission incumbents have already filed.

Mayor Carl Ingraham and Charles Renfrew are seeking to return to the commission for three-year terms. William Burgum, named to replace William Hutchinson last June, seeks the post for another year.

The deadline for filing petitions is 4 p.m. Saturday. Each must have from 25 to 50 signatures of registered voters in the city.

"Oh, you sold the fountain," a customer commented at the McClellan-Ball Co. at 880 S. Woodward Ave. yesterday thus triggering another call to the police.

Earlier the firm had reported 35 cents taken from a desk drawer, all that was missing after the store was broken into Monday night.

The fountain, a French dolphine design, had hung on the wall. A wall-type flower pot holder had been hung in its place so that the fountain was not immediately missed.

Police said the fountain was priced at $270.

Dog owners have until Monday to license their pets at the regular fees — $1 for males and $2 for females, the city clerk announced today.

A certificate from a veterinary showing that the dog has been inoculated against rabies must be presented before the new tags can be obtained.

A bowling party and supper is planned by the Birmingham YMCA Young Adults Club for Sunday. The group will meet at the "Y" at 2 p.m. to begin the program.

Reservations must be made with Adele Youel, 345 Woodbridge Rd., by Friday.

Single persons between 18 and 42 are welcome to join club activities, Marion Cannon, president, announced today.

Residents of Birmingham may still obtain free sand by going to the DPW Yards on Eton road, Superintendent T. C. Brien said today. After tomorrow, however, the yards will not remain open other than for regular work hours from 8 to 4:30 p.m., he said.

Members of the Pilgrim Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham are holding "before school" worship services every Thursday morning during Lent.

The group meets at 7 a.m. in the Youth Chapel of the church.

ing the board to reverse its traditional policy of no financial participation in construction.

The financing plan already has been a subject of discussion between city and hospital, and trustees have generally appeared ready to accept it.

Willman said negotiations with local contractors to begin the repair work required that the city commit itself as to date of payment.

The contractors "very liberally" have agreed not to demand payment until a year after the 8 to 12-month job is completed, he said.

The work should be finished this year or early next, Willman predicted.

By 1961, the city will have completed its present commitments to Pontiac General, he pointed out. The commitments amount to $520,000 this year and $316,000 next year.

If the hospital subscribes to repayment, Willman will begin finalizing agreements with the three local contractors who have agreed to do the repairs and complete the expansion program, he said.

Repairs involve replacement of defective heating, electrical and plumbing installations in the hospital's old east wing. To keep costs down, the city has decided to make the repairs on a time-and-material basis replacing what is defective and saving what is salvable.

New Mexico Police Return Local Girl

Lucille Haglund, 16-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Haglund of 2505 Lakeside Dr. Highland Township, has been returned to her Oakland County home by New Mexico authorities.

Harry R. Payne, probation officer for San Juan County in New Mexico, reports the girl was not directly involved in any burglaries or other thefts in San Juan County or the area within the court's jurisdiction.

The girl and two male companions had been picked up Jan. 30 by Oklahoma authorities and held for New Mexico police. The two youths admitted burglaries which netted them about $3,000, police said.

Ike Sees Danger to U.S. in Oppressive Profits Tax

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today warned emphatically against taxing profits to such a dangerous point that the nation would have to find a new way of financing the federal government.

The President told his news conference that too many people were prone to decry profits and their place in the American economic system, when actually the operation of the government was based squarely on successful profit-making private enterprise.

Other news conference highlights:

—Eisenhower used some of the strongest press conference language ever employed to attack the current policies of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev toward the West. He declared they were palpably intransigent and of such a nature as to cast a mood of hopelessness over present diplomatic negotiations.

—He threw down the idea of a summit meeting under the present East-West climate, expressed the viewpoint that a nonaggression pact with Russia right now would not be worth much, and said determinedly that the United States would not give one single inch in the preservation of her rights and responsibilities in Berlin.

—He thought the steel industry could avoid a price increase this year if the steel workers held their new wage demands to a level measured solely by increased productivity.

Eisenhower visibly strove for self control when a repotrer asked him how he felt about demands by some Democratic senators that cancer-stricken Secretary of State Dulles be replaced promptly.

The President folded his arms across his chest, gritted his teeth tightly, a heavy scowl on his features. After a long pause he spoke very deliberately.

He said he would try to be mild.

—He reported that Dulles was reacting remarkably to radiation therapy, according to medical reports received by the White House. Eisenhower said the doctors were quite pleased to date.

The President also indicated that after Dulles completes his radiation treatment, they will confer on whether the cabinet officer wishes to continue in the job.

—Eisenhower said that while it was quite natural for the chiefs of the armed services to disagree among themselves on the necessity of higher defense spending, he thought because of his long military background and his position as commander-in-chief that he was more able than any single military expert to make an overall decision on the defense program.

Almost disgustedly, the President dismissed as demogogic talk certain oratorical claims for specific weapons. He said such talk ignored the vital need for a balanced approach to defense.

—He warned against tampering with the reciprocal trade program, and said it would be a grave mistake if the United States gave way to increasing tariffs all along the line.

—He announced that President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico, his recent host in Acapulco, had accepted his invitation to visit the United States sometime in the spring.

Return of Polio Feared

NEW YORK (AP) — Polio may make an even stronger comeback this summer than last because four of every seven Americans have not had any Salk vaccine.

SAFE DRIVING TIP

Watch for pedestrians when passing buses stopped at the curb.

Disembarking passengers, hurrying to make connections, often disregard street traffic.

The Chicago Motor Club reminds drivers that the blind spot in front of a bus or other vehicle is a favorite crossing point for careless pedestrians. They might step into the flow of traffic without thinking, so a motorist should be on the lookout for them.

See Trouble for Farmers in Midwest's Ice

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The Midwest's ice crust may cause trouble for farmers this year if there is a warm, dry spring, meteorologists of the University of Michigan said today.

The university's meteorological laboratories reported the ice may prevent necessary moisture from rains and snow from reaching the subsoil.

The laboratories said the situation could be harmful particularly in view of last summer's dry spells.

"With the ice crust now present, almost all precipitation runs off and is lost," the report said.

However, the laboratories also said recent thaw has been helpful and if it continues along with a "good spring soaking season" the ground water levels will be closer to normal.

The report pointed up the difference between the moisture equivalents of snow and ice.

One inch of snow equals about one-tenth inch of rain while an inch of ice is the equivalent of nine-tenths of an inch of rain.

"So we have a lot of rain on the ground right now but it's not helping much," the report said.

Hold Son in Murder of Mother, Slashing

BOSTON (AP)—A woman was hacked to death and her brother was seriously slashed early today.

Police accused the woman's son of cutting the throats of his mother and uncle.

The body of Gertrude McCarthy, 51, a widow, was found in her blood-spattered apartment on Nonquit Street, Dorchester.

A witness said he saw Mrs. McCarthy's brother, Edmund P. Walsh, 49, stabbed in two separate attacks on the street outside the apartment.

Walsh's condition at City Hospital was described as critical.

Robert McCarthy, 30, was captured trying to enter the home of a relative in Roxbury.

Police said McCarthy had a blood-stained knife in his possession. They said McCarthy, a Navy veteran, is a former mental patient and for some time has been considered a recluse. He was booked on suspicion of murder.

Deaths in Pontiac and Nearby Areas

BRIAN L. DIENER

Graveside service was held yesterday afternoon at the Lake Side Cemetery, Holly, for Brian Lee Diener, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney L. Diener of 564 Valencia Dr.

The baby was born Saturday in Pontiac General Hospital. He lived nine hours.

Arrangements were by the Huntoon Funeral Home.

MRS. DOROTHY McPHERSON

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Dorothy McPherson, 57, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. McPherson of Howell. She died Sunday in McPherson Community Health Center following a long illness of multiple sclerosis.

Her father was receiver for the former Pontiac Commercial & Savings Bank located at the present site of Community National Bank.

Mrs. McPherson is survived by two sons, Maj. Gordon D. of Quantico, Va., and Hugh A. of Fajardo, Puerto Rico; and two sisters.

Private memorial service will be held Sunday at her home, 416 E. Grand River, Howell. Friends may pay final respects from 4 to 6 p.m. Her body was cremated Monday at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

The MacDonald Funeral Home of Howell is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Grover C. (Sadia E.) Willette, 75, formerly of the Auburin Hotel of Pontiac, died Tuesday in Grand Rapids.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Gerald A. Young of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Lloyd D. Paris and Mrs. William F. Russell, both of California; and three sisters.

Service will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday at the Metcalf Chapel, 933 Cherry St., Grand Rapids.

MRS. STANLEY R. AYERS

DRYDEN — Service for Mrs. Stanley R. (Wilma E.) Ayers, 51, of 4481 Rochester Rd., will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday at Muir Brothers Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Mrs. Ayers died Monday at her home following a long illness.

She was a member of St. Johns Episcopal Church.

Surviving are her husband, Stanley R., a son, Richard of Dryden; two daughters, Barbara and Nancy, both at home, and two sisters.

Deaths Elsewhere

WASHINGTON (AP) — Theodore Schaefer, 48, organist and choirmaster at President Eisenhower's church, the National Presbyterian, was found dead Tuesday in his home. He still clutched a telephone on which he had been talking to a friend in New York. The cause of death was not determined immediately. He had been organist at the church for nearly 20 years.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) —Cornell Sidney Franklin, 67, former territorial judge of Hawaii, died Tuesday of a stroke. He came to Virginia in 1951 when the Chinese Communists permitted him to leave Red China. He had lived in Shanghai for 30 years. He was born in Columbus, Miss.

Hitler's Tribune Will Be Destroyed to Build Hall

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP) — The huge colonnaded tribune from which Hitler reviewed his followers at Nazi party celebrations is being blown up.

Five hundred explosive charges are making rubble of the grandiose structure the fuehrer called a "stone guarantee of the thousand-year Reich." The space will be used for a big meeting hall.

Legion Looks at Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—A five-man American Legion survey committee was scheduled to look over Detroit rites today for the 1961 national convention. Denver and Boston in addition to Detroit have applied formally for the 1961 American Legion Convention which annually attracts about 100,000 visitors.

Marks 100th Birthday This Year

Lansing Was Founded Because of Fraud, Became State Capital as Result of Joke

LANSING (UPI)—The first settlers in the area that is now Michigan's capital city arrived because they were victims of a fraud.

Furthermore, Lansing became the seat of state government as a result of a legislative joke 12 years before it was granted a city charter.

But it survived, and 1959 marks its 100th official birthday. Yearlong festivities which began Feb. 15 with "Centennial Sabbath" will mark the event.

The fraud was perpetrated by two timber cruisers, William and Jerry Flood, who passed through the area in 1835.

They returned to their native western New York State and sold lots in a mythical "Biddle City" for which they had drawn up plans including streets, churches and other indications of civilization.

Settlers and their families arrived from Lansing, N.Y., and found flood waters of the Grand and Red Cedar rivers covering their "property."

Some of them left but some stayed and rebought the land from its real owner, William H. Townsend, another New Yorker.

The joke, which resulted in naming a virtual wilderness in Ingham County the state capital, arose out of a dispute among Ann Arbor, Battle Creek, Saginaw, Jackson, Marshall and other cities to gain the honor of being the state capital.

The state constitution of 1835, approved by the federal Congress in 1837, made Detroit the temporary capital with a permanent site to be chosen in 10 years.

A representative to the 1847 Legislature, meeting in Detroit, proposed Lansing partly as a joke to relieve the tension of the bitter arguments over the location.

But it became apparent that Lansing was the only compromise on which the other factions could agree, and the House passed the measure by a 35-27 vote.

Then the Senate, which also got a laugh out of the proposal for a "capital in the wilderness," also saw the light and passed the bill 12-8.

Gov. William L. Greenley, who was state chief executive because Alpheus Felch resigned to become U. S. senator, signed it into law.

There were about 20 residents in Lansing that year.

In 1848, the first Legislature to meet in the new capital city convened in a 60-by-90-foot frame building with a tin dome.

In the following 11 years, "Lansing Township" continued and residents decided a permanent name was needed. Among those suggested were El Dorado, Okeema, Michigan City and Pewanogawink, but "City of Lansing" finally won out and a charter bearing the name was issued by the Legislature on Feb. 15, 1859.

Among events in the 100th anniversary celebration are dedication of a new city hall and airport administration building, a whisker-growing contest and "topper" hat sale, a pageant which will be named by a contest among school children, two musical programs and a fashion show.

Also scheduled are a centennial queen contest, a parade depicting the history of transportation in the last century, a transportation and industrial show and a golf tournament.

Gangster Pair Eludes Senators

Capone's Brother, Pal Sought in Jukebox Rackets Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Chicago gangster barons wanted for questioning in connection with the violence-plagued jukebox-amusement machine rackets are mysteriously missing, Senate investigators said today.

Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate Labor-Management Committee, said his subpoena servers have tried and failed for nearly a year to catch up with Sam (Mooney) Giancana and Ralph Capone, brother of the late Chicago gang czar, Al Capone. Kennedy has described Giancana as chief gunman for the successors to the old Capone mob.

The committee hopes to wind up by nightfall its hearings on allegations that gangsters, in league with some corrupt labor union officials, have imposed a rule of terror on thousands of coin machine operators in Chicago and its suburbs.

As major witnesses for the wind-up session Kennedy listed Hyman Larner, executive secretary and boss of the Chicago Independent Amusement Assn., and Fred Tom Smith, boss of the coin machine division of Local 134, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Committee staff investigators testified Tuesday the association was a front for mobsters to join the association and pay protection money of a dollar a month for every machine in the Chicago area.

Lab Blast Fatal to Two Scientists

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP)—Two employes of the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory were killed in an explosion Tuesday.

Laboratory officials said no radioactive material or radiation were involved.

Victims were Leo G. Guerin, 35, Santa Cruz, N.M., and Raymond A. Means, 31, Los Alamos.

A spokesman said the accident took place during normal machining of a chemical explosive used to study the phenomena of shock waves. He said the explosive had been handled here several years without accident.

Liz Buys $100,000 in Bonds for Israel

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor purchased $100,000 in bonds for Israel at a testimonial banquet Tuesday night.

The gathering was a testimonial for comedian George Jessel. Much of the evening was given over to the sale of the bonds, a pet charity project of Jessel, who has been in show business 50 years. More than $1,250,000 in bonds were sold.

The funds will be used for the establishment, in Jessel's honor, of a village of 416 homes in Israel for new immigrant families, many of them from Iron Curtain countries.

German Reds Advise Paratroopers—Don't Pray

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communists advised their future paratroopers today not to pray before jumping.

The official magazine of the Communist sport organizations, told young jumpers to rely on skill and equipment rather than what it called an "unknown god."

"We deal with known factors," said the magazine, "wind speed, drop speed and one's own skill. If it should occur that we don't reach our target, then no prayer can help us."

Iranians Stand Firm Under Red Threats

Iran's determination to strengthen ties with the West is reflected in the Shah's refusal to sign a non-aggression pact with Russia.

Fear was felt in Washington and by Iran's Baghdad Pact neighbors, Turkey and Pakistan, that Shah PAHLEVI was being pressured into making concessions to Russia. A Soviet delegation appeared in Teheran when the foreign minister was absent in Karachi. It tried to induce the Iranians to leave the Pact in exchange for elimination of a provision in the 1921 Soviet-Iranian treaty whereby Moscow has the right to send troops into Iran if it feels the Russian frontier in that area is threatened.

Teheran turned down this offer for what it was worth and incurred the anger of Kremlin leaders. Iranians are accused of co-operating with foreign aggressive forces in aggravating the situation throughout the Middle East. They threaten the Shah with the same fate that befell the late King FEISAL of Iraq.

While negotiations were going on President EISENHOWER, Prime Minister MACMILLAN and the Presidents of Turkey are reported to have sent personal messages of assurance to the Shah, an old friend of the West. Important executive economic and military agreements between Iran and the United States are being speeded to give more protection to this target of the Communists.

Russian bluster cannot be discounted wholly. Small countries under Red pressure are in an unhappy and dangerous position and must have the support of the free world to keep them free.

More Study Proposed in Science of the Seas

A committee appointed by the National Academy of Sciences has been evaluating this country's achievements and needs in oceanography, the science of the seas.

The report points out that great benefits can be obtained from the seas, such as increased food supplies, improved weather forecasting and better military defense. However, says the committee, "we know less about many regions of the ocean today than we know about the lunar surface."

Still largely unexplored and comprising three-fourths of the earth's surface, the oceans present a challenge to mankind. Studies of deep sea sediments, rocks and living creatures in those depths will tell us much about the origin and evolution of life on earth.

Oceanographers stress the point that while we are falling behind the Soviet Union in this area we also are neglecting a field of scientific research which would be of great benefit to us. We must know more, says the committee, "if we are to help solve the increasingly acute problems of providing animal protein food for the growing numbers of underfed people in the world . . . it seems appropriate, even essential that we lead the way in this respect."

This would cost money. The 10 year estimated total would be $651.5 million with the National Science Foundation, the Navy, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Atomic Energy Commission and other agencies participating. But can we afford not to approve committee suggestions of specially equipped ships, education and training for more marine scientists and more awareness of the untapped resources of the seas around us which may contain as much wealth as the land.

Medical Year Proposed

An international medical years is being proposed along the lines of the geophysical year just ended, to open up new worldwide areas of co-operation and understanding.

The aim would be to bring together top men and women in the medical sciences to promote research and to exchange findings in a concerted effort to stamp out disease. Pooling of discoveries would bring to all people the benefits of modern medical research an dskill without regard to politics or national rivalries.

The Man About Town

Stand Too Close

Children Waiting for Bus Often Menace Themselves

Child: The world's greatest enigma.

Many complaints are again being received from drivers that children often stand too close to passing autos when waiting for their school bus. They often jeopardize themselves and others by playful pranks, some even "daring" the drivers to hit them.

School officials, teachers and drivers have urged me to ask parents to talk to their children about this danger. Not long ago a Waterford child narrowly escaped death when she ran in front of a car when playing tag. Only the vigilance and quick action of the driver saved her.

Perhaps the plan of a Walled Lake mother is the best. She never allows her children to leave the house until they see the bus coming.

In all of my work in that direction, I recollect nothing finer than this recently released from its national headquarters: "Those whom we seek to serve come our way only once as boys. Neglect none of them, for somewhere among them is a great leader who will show this world the way to everlasting peace."

Boy Scout Reminder,

Early residents of the Pontiac area feared being scalped by Indians. However, there is no official record of any such incident, but was what the Indians called the white man's system of breaking up their wilderness and planting his crops.

"Scalping the soil"

Writing me from upstate Johannesburg, says that its residents think that name is much too long for such a small place, and are inclined to petition to change it to "Joburg."

Beverly Francis

Manager of the Pontiac office of the Secretary of State,

Willis M. Brewer,

urges all who have their 1959 auto plates to put them on their cars at once. The number already issued is several times the figure one would assume by an observance of 1958 plates still on cars. This leads people who like to "follow the Joneses" to delay getting their tags. See the point?

In his late teens, former Congressman taught a rural school. In order to qualify for the job, he was required to take an examination, the fee for which was a dollar for males and 50c for females. George had only 50c, so a friend registered him as and that's the way it appears on his certificate.

"That's Funny—I'm Getting Bigger, Too"

David Lawrence Says:

Bar Association Blasts High Court

WASHINGTON—Seldom in American history has there been such a scathing criticism of the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States as has just come from the American Bar Association.

LAWRENCE

This has nothing to do with the decisions of the court on segregation or integration. Nor do the members of the bar—who by overwhelming vote approved at the Chicago convention this week a committee report on the subject of Supreme Court decisions—come from any one section of the country.

The action taken is a formal disapproval of several decisions of the Supreme Court not only in matters of law but in the misuse of the judicial power itself.

The report, comprising about 20,000 words, does not criticize the Supreme Court as an institution nor recommend any limitation of its powers, but does say that Congress should at once, in the proper way, endeavor to correct the ill effects of the decisions. The report declares:

"Many cases have been decided in such a manner as to encourage an increase in Communist activity in the United States through invalidation of state sedition statutes, and limitation of state and federal investigating powers in the field of subversion although these cases might readily have been disposed of without so broadly limiting national and state security efforts.

"The paralysis of our internal security grows largely from construction and interpretation centering around technicalities emanating from our judicial process which the Communists seek to destroy, yet, use as a refuge to masquerade their diabolical objectives.

The bar association's report says it is the duty of members of the bar "to defend the institutions of the judiciary from unfair and unjust attacks" and that proposals to limit the court's jurisdiction should not be approved.

Also, a chapter is devoted to "current fallacies about communism." The report says: "It is just as false to measure the strength of communism in the United States by comparing the small number of party members with the large number of non-Communists, as it would be to measure the seaworthiness of a ship by comparing the area of its holes with the area of its hull. A few strategically placed holes can sink the largest ship."

Adding that the "danger and the menace of communism are worse than ever," the report calls on the members of the bar to alert the nation on the menace of international communism.

As one reads the report, there comes a feeling that its writers tried to be as tactful as possible in their references to the present membership of the Supreme Court but nevertheless reveal again and again their dismay at the abuse of power by the highest court.

The indifference of the public may be due to the job performed by some of the opponents of the late Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin.

Unfortunately, the period in which he struggled to direct attention to the Communist menace now is brushed off as merely one of "hysteria," and there is no effort nowadays to separate what was valid in the crusade from that which was due to overzealousness and emotionalism.

Since the famous battle took place in the Senate in 1954, moreover, it has been an open secret in Washington that the Democratic Party leaders in both houses have been under pressure from its so-called "liberal" elements to soft-pedal the inquiries into communism.

Though two committees still do some work in this field, they are restrained by word from higher up in the party whenever they really want to expose some palpable manifestation of Communist effort inside the United States. Some prominent American citizens, for example, who have been openly siding with the Soviets against their own government in certain controversies have never been called as witnesses by the committees of either the House or the Senate to explain their activities or their connections with the Communist propaganda machine.

Maybe the American Bar Association report will awaken American public opinion and help to overcome the timidity of the Democratic Party leadership on these subjects.

The Country Parson

"There's one thing you can still give a fellow without increasing his tax—a pat on the back."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Painful Shingles No Joke and Difficult to Diagnose

Intercostal means between the ribs — nerves that emerge from the spinal cord and pass around the trunk between the ribs, supplying sensation to chest wall, belly wall, flanks, hips.

DR. BRADY

The cause of intercostal neuralgia (pain in an area supplied by one or more intercostal nerves), let us say, I don't know. I won't say the cause is "unknown" — but if anybody knows the cause of intercostal neuralgia, he or she does not choose to tell the world about it.

Shingles (herpes zoster) is intercostal neuralgia with blisters. The victim suffers pretty severe pain in back, loin, flank, chest or belly for a day or two and then, when they are about ready to start the anesthesia for removal of his appendix or something, a crop of small blisters appears on the surface of the skin of the affected area. Shingles has been a diagnostic booby trap for more than one fast operator.

The pain of shingles is generally persistent and harassing. If the patient is not in vigorous health to begin with, his or her siege of shingles may be an exhausting months-long illness.

And so, two things are essential in the successful treatment of shingles. First, to build or maintain vite. Second to beware of the damage pain-killers may do the blood and heart.

If one does not know the cause of shingles — certainly I don't — one can't suggest a specific or curative remedy. Drop me and call a real doctor if you wish, but aside from internal analgesics and applications of soothing or protective dressing, I have no faith in specific remedies or methods of treatment for shingles.

In my judgment the least dangerous pain-killer for one with shingles is aspirin, and remember, aspirin is aspirin, no matter how much or how little you pay for it.

The eruption is nearly always limited to one side; but, of course, if it did occur on both sides, it would be virtually a double dose of trouble.

It is advisable to avoid liquid, oily, or greasy applications and just keep the affected area of skin heavily powdered with equal parts of cornstarch, boric acid and talc, or just borated talcum powder, or zinc stearate powder.

After drenching with the powder, apply a thick layer of cotton batting, and keep this in place with a wide tensile bandage, snugly but not tightly applied.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Dr. Crane Debunks Snooty Critics

Norma is a cousin of the famous art critics who refused to admit Michelangelo's genius. So Michelangelo tricked the critics of his day. How can we "trick" the snooty English critics of our day to admit Edgar Guest and other poets of "ordinary people" and "mundane" affairs like home, love, motherhood and religion, into the ritzy anthologies?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-463: Norma D., aged 38, is quite angry at me.

It all began when I lauded Edgar Guest as the type of poet who writes of everyday psychological situations in contrast to the famous "Ode to a Grecian Urn."

"I am amazed at Dr. Crane," Norma wrote to a friend, who then forwarded the letter to me. How can Dr. Crane say that Edgar Guest is a greater poet than Keats or Shelley?

"Why, most critics would say Dr. Crane's comment is pure poppycock and nothing else.

"I have never found a poem by Edgar Guest included in any Anthology of American poets.

"Edgar Guest writes of the ordinary and the mundane. I do not think he has any 'mighty dramas' in his writings.

"Dr. Crane cites his poem 'It Takes a Heap o' Livin' to Make a House a Home.' Why, that isn't even good grammar!

"It contains an idea that may appeal to the very ordinary person, but it is not great poetry."

SNOOTY CRITICS

Dead artists usually are rated far above those who are living, and the same is true of musicians and poets.

Why? Because snooty critics say so.

Michelangelo confronted this same dilemma in his day. The art critics depreciated his remarkable talents and confined their eulogies to painters and sculptors who had been dead for centuries.

So Michelangelo resorted to a clever ruse. He buried one of his masterpieces. Then he led an excavating party in that direction. The new discovery created a sensation. The art critics of Italy analyzed it carefully and pronounced it a product of the great masters of previous generations.

So Raffaelle Riario, cardinal di San Giorgio, purchased it at a huge sum of money.

Then Michelangelo let the cat out of the bag, and revealed the hoax.

The art critics were so far out on a limb, they couldn't back up, so they had to concede that Michelangelo rated on a par with the great artists of antiquity.

ART MONSTROSITIES

The best teacher of art is available to everybody, namely, Nature.

Yet many art museums hang monstrosities in their galleries that violate laws of Nature and the established psychological rules of art.

In psychology, for example, we have proved that an animate creature has more interest value than an inanimate. A dog or cow or child thus outweighs a much larger area of canvas devoted to a rock or house or even a vase or urn.

Hence, Edgar Guest starts out a big jump ahead of all poets who gush with any "Ode to a Grecian Urn."

For Edgar Guest writes poetry about love and sacrifice and death of loved ones.

Because Edgar Guest is a contemporary, though he has the same knack of Shakespeare and Dickens in selecting human interest material and writing voluminously, a lot of snooty critics have left him out of the "anthologies."

But Jesus was likewise left out of the theological "anthologies" in his day, for he also dealt with "ordinary people" and simple, eternal psychological truths.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Readers Express Horror at Girl's Death by Beating

Someone asked what's wrong with the Gall girl's school and father? Where was he? He admits knowing of them and yet he goes unnoticed.

What about the neighbors? But authorities, teachers and even neighbors are reluctant to step into family matters.

The father's treated as an innocent bystander while he knew and asked no help. Too many demands are made of schools by people who want to relieve themselves of the responsibility of rearing their own children.

Former Teacher and Mother of 6

(Editor's Note: Because of the large number of letters received recently, The Press is behind schedule. For this reason we are devoting more space to Voice of the People today and we have been compelled to edit letters much more closely than usual,)

Why would a big, strapping father stand for beating a sick, defenseless daughter for several years and do nothing? He said he tried to call the police once but she ripped the phone off the wall. Was that the only phone in town?

He says she's sick. Why didn't he do something about it? And why did he tell the neighbor to mind his own business when he tried to discuss it.

Thank God little Judith is in the arms of Jesus where she'll know only love, which she never had on earth.

Very Incensed Mother

It's too late to help Judith Gall, but a letter to Dear Abby tells about the man who beats his 3-month-old baby to make him stop crying.

Can't a warrant be issued or an officer and doctor go to the home before a death occurs here, too?

Joseph Badgerow
133 Auburn Ave.

My heart aches for Judith Gall's mother. If she hadn't loved her daughter, she wouldn't have been trying so desperately to make her a responsible person. The last punishment was for wading knee-deep in icy water. A 12-year-old who would do that would very likely do other irresponsible deeds and some of the scars may have been the result. Couldn't pneumonia have been brought on by winter wading?

Not all children respond the same. Probably the mother couldn't reach this daughter, though she'd been successful with the other children. The mother must have been at her wits end to know what to do about the youngster. I'm sorry for the mother, too.

Another Mother

Incensed sounds too prejudiced to be a good juryman. I'm not a sobsister but will always be against capital punishment. Two wrongs don't make a right. Press reporters can make things look bad for an individual.

I sympathize with Mrs. Gall and hope she won't be convicted. Press reports say she was administering to her sick child when the girl fell and struck her head. People can die with no bleeding. I would like to hear an M.D.'s reply.

Why do some people condemn parents for not punishing children and then criticize others who use sticks? My father used a carpenter's rule and my mother used a switch and they raised a healthy, happy family. Perhaps the Gall case was neglect that they didn't take her to a doctor.

Sincere Neighbor

A letter asks what's wrong with the school, churches and law in regards to the child's death. Where was the father? Society has a certain obligation, but parents have more. He's as guilty as she. It may be called blackout or temporary insanity but my Bible calls it sin. No wonder God had to make Hell.

Heartsick

The only sanity test that mother needs is a whipping post with a cat-o-nine tails and I would love to do it.

Every time someone does a devilish act, he's crazy. It's just another excuse to get him off the hook and use taxpayers' money. Will the sobsisters see the light for capital punishment and the whipping post?

'Are the Blind Leading Blind?'

I'm puzzled. Men in factories, stores, etc., have to retire at 65 or at most 68. Yet in guiding our grand and glorious nation we're run by old men. One just retired at 91. There are men 88, 82, 77, 71 in charge. (Lots younger, too, of course.)

Look among your 70 and 80 year old friends and you'll find that even though their minds are clear and bright, they're not what they were 10 years ago. Why?

Income Tax Notes

WHEN AND WHERE TO FILE

You must file your income tax return not later than April 15, 1959 or penalties will be invoked.

You file your tax return with the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Detroit 31, Mich.

If your tax return indicates money is owing, make checks payable to "Internal Revenue Service." Any tav that is owed must be paid at the time you file your income tax returns.

When the tax return is completed, be sure to attach a Form W-2 for each employer shown on the income tax form. Double check your arithmetic for accuracy.

Signed the return . . . if it is a joint return, both husband and wife must sign. Drop the completed tax return in the mail.

Do it early—don't wait till the last minute!

The Internal Revenue Service says "first come, first served" on refunds. Be one of the first!

making mincemeat of my cat who insists on staying out all night so he can get me up at daybreak to let him in. As I looked over The Press to see what I'd missed, I reached the Hatchet Days pages. Soon I was laughing right out loud, all because of the Osmun's ad in Thursday's paper.

'That Trip Means Cut in Payroll'

The real Walter Reuther occasionally shows through the barrage of public relations releases from the UAW. It is a Reuther relaxing 2,000 miles from Detroit in a $100-a-day suite at one of the swankiest gambling resorts in the West Indies.

It's from that setting he issues his notes about sending some of the unemployed to Washington and starts collecting an extra dollar from each worker's pay.

Before going on this jaunt, Mr. Reuther laid off 70 of the union's employes. All could have been kept on the payroll if this meeting had been held in Detroit.

Skeptic

'Let's Try Fewer Insults, Less $$'

I was disappointed to read that Eisenhower would avoid tortillas and frijoles in Mexico. Does our government think President Mateos will take Ike out and order beans and tortillas? Why insult the Mexican government by sending our own food?

Our country could spend less money helping countries and more time winning friendship with common courtesy. Would like take a foreign dignitary to dinner and order hotdogs?

Mrs. Antonio Rubalcaba

'Those Mistakes Can Be Avoided'

I heard the Internal Revenue Department had to return more than 3,000 tax forms for mistakes. If more courteous clerks were put in district offices, a person could get a word of friendly advice. If you have your money in hand, you get help. Otherwise, get on your horse and go.

One Who Knows

'Can't Law Help at Less Expense?'

I got a loan for another man to buy a car. Both our names are on the title. After his first payment he moved away without letting us know where he is. I've made the payments and he has the car. The prosecuting attorney says he can't do anything unless I bring suit and put up $600 bond, but it was only for $300 to begin with. Why can't the law help me get this car without so much cost when I can prove I paid for it?

Concerned Man

'Male Dog Owners Partly to Blame'

Owners of male dogs should control them as owners of stallions and bulls are required to. So far owners of females have taken the blame for dog troubles.

Dogs that keep to pack will bite if he decides to do so. He never goes home to tell his owner of his intentions. Common sense should be used to curb stray dogs. This applies to owners of any uncontrolled male dog.

Owner of Both Male and Female

'Shouldn't Reuther Have Best, Too?'

Some of the boys are kicking because Reuther is in an expensive hotel in an exclusive southern resort and why shouldn't he be there? The union has millions and millions and the employers meet in places like that and Reuther deserves just as good as they have.

Vet

'Must Men, Too, Fight for Rights?'

Michigan divorce laws are unfair to men. Women fought for equal rights and they certainly attained it and more. Must men do the same? I think so.

Another Supports Municipal Airport

Unhappy Pilot hasn't been in many Michigan airports the last couple of months. Our field conditions are much better than average and after the New Year's ice storm, Mr. Hoskins and his crew went to work and built a sand spreader. I'd like to know if Mr. U. Pilot is a city taxpayer and if he's the aviation expert his letter implies.

Another Complains About the Streets

Come out by Mark Twain School if you want to drive over old time country roads. People in the subdivision won't have cars left and the city hasn't helped. We'd like to drive in safety again.

Angry Student Wounds Teacher, an Ex-Grid Star

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—A high school teacher here narrowly escaped death in a shooting as he sat at his desk Tuesday. Police arrested a sophomore boy called a troublemaker.

Profirio (Porky) Leyva, 27, former University of New Mexico star quarterback and now a biology teacher and assistant football and baseball coach, suffered a scalp wound from a bullet from a .22 caliber pistol.

Taken in handcuffs to city jail was Larry David Romero, 16, who briefly held school authorities and police at bay before surrendering the pistol. He told newsmen he was mad at Leyva, who had "tried to push me around because I didn't want to do my work."

Leyva's wound was closed with eight stitches. Then he returned to his biology classroom.

Tranquilized Sirloins Best

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

NEW YORK—I just ate a tranquilized steak. But I didn't know it.

I thought an ordinary, nontenderized steak I tasted at the same time was the more tranquil of the two.

This puts me in the minority. Thirty-three other food and science editors made the test at the same time: 25 of them picked the beef from the peaceful steers as tastiest.

Object of the test, which was conducted in New York by the Jansen-Salsbery Laboratories of Kansas City, was to show food experts what happiness pills can do to improve the quality of meat.

Each editor was served two six-ounce sirloin steaks, medium rare. One steak was from a steer that had been injected with a liquid tranquilizer two days before being slaughtered. The other was from an ordinary and presumably nervous critter. After tasting —and voting—the editors were told which was which.

In a similar test in Kansas last month, a panel of judges from the livestock, packing and science fields voted 10 to four for the tranquilized sirloins.

Dr. Vladmir Dvorkovitz, president of the laboratories, explained that the tranquilization, which is approved by the Food and Drug Administration, bolsters the animal's resistance to the excitement and fright of slaughter time.

This results in tenderer meat, although scientists are not quite sure why. They are sure, however, it will give the consumer better tasting beef and veal at no extra cost.

For instance, when calves are first weaned they bawl for mama and won't eat for days. But given a shot of the happiness juice, they forget all about mother love, eat like mad and grow up into contented veal cutlets.

My only trouble was that I voted wrong. I just liked the untranquilized steak better.

Solon Stars in Movie

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Mr. Brademas goes to Washington" is the title of a new movie, starring Rep. John Brademas (D-Ind). The educational film, which will be shown to about 1½ million students, follows the 31-year-old freshman congressman from his election Nov. 4 through his first few weeks in the House.

Congressmen Rap American Embassy Waste

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressmen were in a complaining mood about American diplomatic missions Tuesday.

Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif) complained about air-conditioning at the U.S. Embassy in tropical Haiti. "It's likely the Haitian servants in the kitchen are going to come down with double pneumonia, being unaccustomed to air conditioning," he said.

Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) complained about the workload at the Copenhagen Embassy. He said there was so little work one of the 100 staff members found time to write a long paper on the habits of the Baltic eel.

Dems Tighten Chicago Grip

Crush GOP Aspirants for City Offices 6 to 1 in Primary Tuesday

CHICAGO (AP) — Democrats crushed Republicans in Tuesday's city primary election, tightening their already firm command of City Hall.

In one of the lightest primary votes in more than 30 years, the Democrats, headed by Mayor Richard J. Daley, out-voted the Republicans by more than 6 to 1 in the mayoral race.

In the aldermanic contests, 45 of the city's 50 councilmen were elected with support of the powerful Democratic organization.

Only one Republican alderman, who was unopposed and who had Democratic endorsement, won re-election. Another non-Democratic winner in the aldermanic race was an independent, who also was unopposed. In three other wards, Democrats forced GOP incumbents into runoffs in the final election April 7.

The Democrats, who since 1931 have held control of most of the city's major offices were jubilant over the returns.

Landed Right Side Up

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Dr. Ralph W. Walton, 71, a one-armed physician from Montclair, N.J., survived a 350-foot plunge down an embankment when his car left the Blue Ridge Parkway. The car did not turn over. The doctor crawled back to the highway and flagged help.

Hospital Parking Land Assured

Purchase of land for the Pontiac General Hospital parking lot was virtually completed by the City Commission last night.

Commissioners approved an option for the 10th and final home sought for parking facilities south of the hospital between Johnson and Seminole avenues.

The option was for $16,000 for the home of William H. Wright, 63 Seminole.

City Manager Walter K. Willman reported that after months of difficult negotiation, the city had managed to purchase all the needed land for around $165,000, or about $10,000 less than the ceiling set last fall.

Funds for land purchase were advanced out of capital improvement funds and will be replaced through sale of a $175,000 revenue bond issue, expected to be approved soon by the Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing.

With the aid of another $50,000 capital improvement loan to finance construction, the 114-stall lot is expected to be in operation July 1.

The home at 63 Seminole St., is the last one left for the city to resell before clearing the parking lot area for construction.

Bids for purchase of two other homes were accepted last night. The home at 64 S. Johnson St. was sold for $1,200 to Mrs. Francis O. Reed, 230 Franklin Rd. The home at 52 S. Johnson St. was sold for $170 to Carl Barnett, 728 S. Hospital Rd.

Commissioners, in other business, took under on week's study a Pension Board proposal that commission - appointed employes be included within the scope of a new retirement policy giving other city employes who want to work past age 65 only two six-month extensions before mandatory retirement.

Approved was a request to transfer an SDM license at 550 N. Perry St. from John Z. Athanas to Andrew G. Carter.

A public hearing was set for March 17 on a proposal to rezone 10 lots on the south side of West Huron street between Palmer and Green streets from residential to personal service.

American Tenor Collapses, Dies on Belgian Stage

ANTWERP, Belgium (AP)—A gala audience saw American tenor Frank Eckhart stagger to the wings and collapse last night.

He had been singing the main aria in the opening scene of Puccini's opera, Tosca.

Seconds later he died from coronary thrombosis. He was 46.

The Polish-born New Yorker was making his first appearance of the Antwerp opera season at the Royal Opera House. The gala show was a benefit for a local child charity.

As Eckhart collapsed his Belgian understudy stepped in. But after a few moments, overcome by emotion, he quit.

Then the house manager appeared on stage and told the audience of 1,000 the performance would be canceled.

Earlier in the opera, singer Maria Dolores felt ill, and was replaced by an understudy.

A four-lane boulevard in Berlin is named Clayallee, after Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former U.S. military governor of Germany.

Fight Trainer Killed in Family Squabble

CHICAGO (AP)—Sedgwick Harvey, 48, a trainer for Bobby Boyd, one of the country's ranking middleweight boxers, was fatally shot Tuesday night during a family quarrel in his home.

Police said Thurman Brooks, 47, stepfather of Harvey's wife, Carlisle, 34, admitted shooting Harvey twice "for pushing my wife around." The Brooks and Harvey families, who are Negroes, live in the same South Side apartment.

Boyd, ranked seventh among the middleweights, meets Spider Webb, ranked No. 4, also of Chicago, in a nationally televised 10-round bout in Chicago Stadium tonight.

Mrs. Harvey told police Brooks came into their bedroom and argued with her husband, accusing him of pushing his wife. She said Harvey did not reply and Brooks drew a .22 caliber pistol and shot him. Mrs. Harvey said Brooks then leaned over and shot her husband a second time.

Police said Brooks' wife, Ann, 55, told them Harvey had bruised her arm Monday night. She did not elaborate. Brooks was held for further questioning.

Bill Would Up Welfare Wait

Anderson Asks State to Require Residence of Three Years

A bill aimed at cutting Oakland County's soaring welfare costs was introduced in Lansing today by Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson (R-Waterford Township).

Its principal feature would increase the state residency requirement for direct welfare recipients from one year to three.

This requirement would be uniform throughout the state, said Anderson, but is particularly needed in Oakland and Wayne counties where welfare loads have skyrocketed in the past 20 months.

Anderson believed a substantial number of welfare recipients would be trimmed from the roles by lengthening the residency requirement.

The measure would particularly hit at Pontiac's transient labor force.

But State Welfare Director W. J. Maxey believed the measure might do more harm than good.

"A survey in Detroit showed this would affect only about two-tenths of one per cent of those on welfare," Maxey said. "Passage of the bill would set up a welfare barrier around Michigan and encourage other states to raise their residence requirements, starting a vicious circle."

The bill would not affect those on old age assistance, who already must meet a five-year residence requirement, or those receiving aid for dependent children, controlled by federal statutes.

Gov. Williams' 30-million-dollar bonding program to expand and improve the state park system also was readied for introduction in the House. The same resolution, requiring public approval at the April 6 election, came into the Senate earlier this month.

Other bills introduced would:

Create an air pollution control program under the state health commissioner.

Establish a vocational rehabilitation program for disabled persons.

Solon Gets Health Award

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman) has been notified of his selection for a distinguished health service award by the Michigan Medical Society. The award, for outstanding contribution to the health and welfare of the state, will be made March 12 in Detroit.

Bathtub Ring Denied

BILSTON, England (UPI) — Truck driver John Dussas, 33, came clean in court yesterday and admitted he stole 52 bathtubs. He denied there was a bathtub ring. He was fined $280.

7 Mexican Children Die as Stand Falls

SAN LUIS, Mexico (AP)—Seven children died and scores of adults and children were injured when a packed grandstand collapsed Tuesday night during a festival celebration at a school.

Twenty-three of the injured, including some school teachers, were in serious condition. All the casualties were Mexicans.

The Mexican highway department said the accident took place about 30 miles south of San Luis.

The injured were brought to San Luis for treatment at infirmaries, hospitals and doctors' offices. San Luis is 25 miles southwest of Yuma, Ariz.

Wind Vortex Seen Affecting Mercury

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A cyclonic vortex in the stratosphere, with winds whirling up to 300 miles an hour, may be responsible for temperature changes on earth, scientists of University of California at Los Angeles reported today.

The behavior of these winds, centered between 50,000 and 250,000 feet above the earth's North and South poles, was studied intensively by scientific expeditions to the Arctic and Antarctic during the International Geophysical Year.

Under a $32,660 National Science Foundation grant, Prof. Clarence E. Palmer and a team of geophysicists, meteorologists, and solar astronomers at UCLA will sift the IGY data and launch a three-year investigation of the behavior, causes and effects of the polar vortex.

Knew How to Smuggle

ALPENA (AP)—Authorities cracked down on an unusual kind of smuggling here. A man with an outboard motorboat was taking passengers upriver past a fairgrounds fence, depositing them inside for half the price of admission at the gate.

Hal Boyle Says:

Ben Hecht, 65, Still Plays Pranks on World

NEW YORK (AP)—"I hate people who wake up in the morning and know what they'll think and say all day," said Ben Hecht.

Hecht, who will be 65 this Saturday, has spent a prodigiously creative lifetime lighting firecrackers under the hypocrisies and foibles of his time.

Ben looks like an aging kewpie doll, or a raffish Buddha. He still has the air of a small boy playing a secret prank on everybody.

"I never achieved a real goal in life," he said cheerfully, "not even a haircut.

"My chief goal was to remain 18, never to grow up or grow old. I missed that goal."

But this onetime Chicago newspaper reporter has managed to turn out 65 movies, 25 books, 20 plays, 250 short stories and at least 300 magazine articles.

A one-man fiction factory, Ben has two books on the presses now.

One is "a sensual book without a dirty word in it," said Hecht. "It's a story of the little underworlds of sex among a small group of higher class people in a New Jersey town. They're all thinking the wrong thoughts. But it's all in their head."

Ben, using a pencil and a lap board, writes every day and turns out about 5,000 words a week, as he has nearly every week for more than 40 years.

"Writing is easy. It's the rewriting that's hard. I write a book three times," he said.

"The mind is an insufficient muscle. It can't hold anything longer than 2,000 words. I rarely write more than that at a stretch, because if I do, I simply have to throw it away. It isn't any good. The brain goes stupid."

Here is Hecht in his own words:

"I hate idleness — it gives me suicidal moods—and I hate ideas. Ideas turn men into monsters and causes turn them into scoundrels. If you siphon ideas out of their heads, people are more human.

"I'd like to see politics abolished. Politics is as bad for the spirit as war is for the body.

"I like spirited people who dislike bosses. I've always figured that whoever hired me was my immediate enemy. That made me a fortune in Hollywood. The harder you hated a boss out there the more he paid you.

"Everybody's a kibitzer. There is too much conformity. People are afraid to be individuals.

"The future of the human race, if it has one, should be good. Some tremendous leader will have to appear, but I don't see him anywhere.

"He may have to be a religious leader. It takes religion to relate a human being to himself, to God, and to life.

"But the only religion I'll join is one which asks me to love myself and love my neighbor. That religion has gone sour, but it is the only one that can save the world.

"Who is God? God is a human being, as far as I can see. We have forgotten that man has divinity in Him."

Japanese Workers in Pay Hike Offensive

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese labor's annual spring offensive for higher wages began today with four million workers striking for 24 hours or holding rallies on the job to slow production.

Unions of the large leftist Sohyo federation and a few independent unions were involved. Iron and steel production chiefly was cut.

The unions are demanding monthly pay increases ranging from $5.55 to $8.33 and a wage floor of $22.22 a month. The average monthly wage in Japan was last reported at $60.

Even Germans Shun Their Beer for Lent

MUNICH (AP) — Parliament members of the Christian Democratic party are giving up this year's traditional Munich beer festival for Lent.

Political and church dignitaries usually participate in the annual two-week funfest, which opens Friday when Munich's Socialist Mayor taps the first barrel.

This year Lent is early, and both Catholic and Lutheran newspapers have called for "quiet weeks" until Easter.

Norsemen (Norsemen and Vikings) settled in Iceland in 874.

PONTIAC NAMED CAR·OF·THE·YEAR

"Pontiac with wide-track wheels is the best combination of ride... handling... performance and styling of any '59 car" —The Editors of Motor Trend Magazine

In making its annual automotive award, the staff of Motor Trend Magazine, leading automotive publication, tests and evaluates all new cars. Here are quotations from the April 1959 issue:

"The stability of the 1959 Pontiac is the outstanding automotive advance of the year. Everyone considering a new car should experience it."

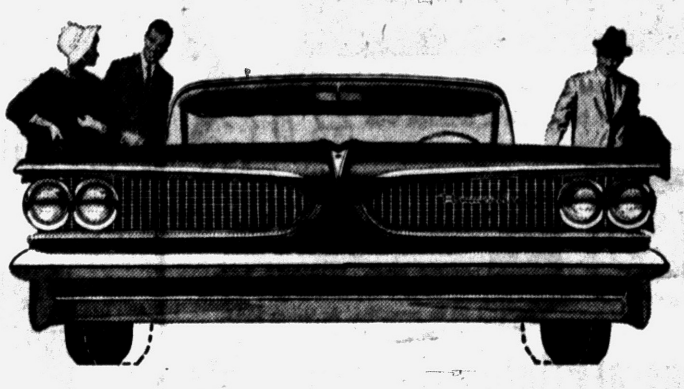

"It's the best balanced passenger car in America. We firmly believe that in moving the wheels farther apart, to develop the widest stance of any American car, Pontiac has created an entirely new sense of balance and handling security."

"Pontiac's lines are clean, simple and beautiful. It has a fleet look, a trim appearance. The wide wheel design contributes greatly to its over-all integrated styling. Any comparison with narrower track cars readily shows the difference."

"For the economy-minded, an efficient new engine. The new 420E Tempest economy engine offers remarkable performance along with exceptionally high mileage while operating on regular grade gasoline."

"Pontiac is again tops in performance, based on our extensive road testing. Acceleration is outstanding, yet the engine is unusually quiet and smooth."

Your nearest Pontiac dealer will be glad to let you road-test this award-winning automobile on your own. You'll see why it's the year's most talked-about car!

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car. Pontiac takes a better grip on the road, hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean disappear, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier. Handling is easier. You drive with a new confidence, a comforting security. Pontiac gives you roadability no "narrow gauge" car can offer.

Real Cuban Blood Bath Came Before Rebel Victory

(This is the last of three articles telling of the way the Batista regime in Cuba handled opposition elements or those suspected of opposition activity.)

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—People get hurt in revolutions.

The Batista regime, as the constituted authority threatened by Fidel Castro's rebels, fought back. Then Batista's army, his last hope for survival, began to destroy itself. One of the factors that brought about its destruction was its officers' efforts to apply the horror chamber techniques that Batista's national police had been using even before Castro landed in Oriente province in 1956.

Stories of atrocities committed against defenseless guajiros — the poor agricultural laborers of eastern Cuba — shattered army morale and led to defections and subversion.

Unable to cope with the guerrilla strategists in the Sierra Maestra, the army's leaders tortured and killed guajiros in efforts to extract information on the rebel army's movements.

One of these army leaders was Capt. Pedro Morejon, executed early this month. A Castro military tribunal convicted him on separate counts of assassination, homicide, theft, arson and damage.

He and two other officers, now dead, Firmin Cowley and Jesus Sosa Blanco, were the most dreaded operatives of repression in Oriente province. Maj. Sosa Blanco — executed last week — was accused of 108 assassinations, Morejon of 33.

Col. Cowley, their superior, has been accused of personally machinegunning the 15-man rebel crew of the yacht Corintia that made an ill-fated landing on Cuba's north shore near Holguin Nov. 7, 1957. Eyewitness accounts say Cowley was furious at seeing the captured rebels, one of them wounded, being brought in alive. He took a tommygun from a guard and shot the rebels.

Cowley's name figured in the trial of Sosa Blanco recently when a confidential field report was introduced as evidence by the prosecution. Cowley labeled Sosa Blanco an "unscrupulous assassin. A coward." Asked to comment, Sosa Blanco said:

"He was just angry because he wanted me to kill lots of rebels so his reports would look good—but I couldn't find them."

Fourten witnesses said Morejon and an army patrol came to a village near Bayamo and rounded up 600 farmers suspected of packing cartridges for the rebels. Morejon himself testified paraffin tests proved positive in 13 cases. The 13 were found shot to death shortly after being led away by Morejon's patrol.

A general officer of the army, who gained asylum in one of the Latin American embassies here, may yet face criminal charges.

In this case a deposition is on file in the legal department of the revolutionary army's national police headquarters from Lt. Jesus Castiel Jimenez, 29. He was a former sergeant in the regular army who turned into a rebel spy. His deposition accuses the general of personally torturing his brother, Eude, a private in the army suspected of rebel sympathies.

"I was one of many who turned against the army," said Lt. Castiel. "The orders we received were inhuman. The will to fight was gone. Everyone of us was sickened by the needless brutalities against defenseless people."

None of the testimony at the military tribunals has linked Batista personally to an act of brutality. He has said in his Dominican exile that he knew nothing of them. Castro leaders scorn this idea. In requesting his extradition from the Dominican Republic, as a "refugee from justice," Castro's Foreign Ministry said the deposed dictator was the "maximum author and instigator of numerous cases of assassination, theft and malversion of public funds."

More than 300 former Batista regime officials—police and army officers—have been executed for "major war crimes." A large number have been absolved or given prison sentences.

Fidel Castro once said that out of nearly 2,000 detained no more than 400 would pay the supreme penalty.

$6.50 a Year Per Waterford Family

Library Cost Announced

It would cost Waterford Township property owners approximately $6.50 annually for each family to pay for a township library, the first unit of a proposed Cultural Center, according to Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

This was disclosed at a meeting of the Waterford Library Study Committee and residents interested in the $300,000 project, which will be placed on the April 6 ballot.

When Frank Steere of 4230 South Shore Rd. donated some 17 acres of his land on Pontiac Lake road to the township for a cultural center, he stipulated that the land be used primarily for a library not to cost less than $250,000.

The 11-member committee, headed by the Rev. Walter Teeuwissen Jr., has been studying plans for almost two years to determine the best way of acquiring and maintaining the library.

If the township is to receive some said from the state, the library must have a minimum of 12,000 square feet, based on the present population of 43,000.

After continued study, the first recommendations of the committee to have a $200,000 library were discarded because of the predicted doubling of population by 1970, and the final plan was submitted to the Township Board.

The proposition to be voted upon will ask for one mill for the library and an additional one-half mill for operation and maintenance to be spread over a 10-year period.

This group will now be available for explanatory presentations to organizations and clubs desiring information on the Cultural Center, the Rev. Teeuwissen said.

U. of D. Given Army Grant for Gravity Study

DETROIT (AP) — Researchers at the University of Detroit are going to try to solve the mystery of gravity.

Dr. Charles E. Duncombe, director of the university's Institute of Science and Engineering, said the Army Transportation Corps has awarded the school a contract for basic research into gravity.

Dr. Donald J. Kenney, professor of chemistry, who will direct the project, said, "Everybody knows that gravity is a force exerted by large masses but nobody, not even the scientists, knows much more than that about it."

Scientists are divided, he said, on the idea that gravity might turn out to be the result of some type of radiation that has not yet been detected.

"This is one of the fields in which we will experiment," Kenney said, "in hopes of solidifying scientific opinion by proving or disproving the theory. But our research is basic and we don't know now in which direction it might go."

Kenney said his research team's first problem will be to process large gravitational fields in the laboratory.

Bob Considine Says:

Nasser Needs to Put Lid on the Belly Dancers

CAIRO — One reform we would like to see brother Nasser make as he goes about the difficult task of building up Egypt is to place a limit on the amount of time a belly dancer can hog a night club floor show.

One of those fullblown babes shook, rattled and rolled for a solid —make that flabby—hour the other night at a party the Egyptian representatives of 20th Century-Fox threw for Hugh O'Brien at a local deadfall or vice versa named the Fontana. She exhausted two important items after only 30 seconds of her grind—her repertoire and her audience. The rest of the hour was more of the same, done sometimes on the dance floor but much of the time on the ringside tables.

After an hour of the bumps, done to the strains of an orchestra that took its pitch from a piece of chalk being scraped the wrong way across a blackboard, a guy next to me said, "Imagine, that bum Farouk used to sit through nine of these every night.

There is no more stunning exhibition of ancient art anywhere in the world than in the Cairo Museum's huge gallery devoted to the treasures found in 1922 in the tomb of King Tutankhamun. From his exquisite ostrich feather fan down through the last of thousands of precious objects buried with the 19-year-old king nearly 2,000 years before the birth of Christ, there is nothing that fails to provoke breathless wonder.

SCIENTIST STRUCK DUMB

Archaeologist Howard Carter was the first to step into the tomb on that historic day of discovery. The head of the expedition, Lord Carnarvon, was still outside. Carter sprayed his search light here and there in the murky place and was struck dumb.

"What have you found, Carter?" Carnarvon called impatiently.

And from the depths of the unparalleled find Carter cried out, "Marvels! Marvels!"

Gives a fellow goose bumps.

We are able to present today another memorable exclamation evoked by the incredibly varied treasure that was collected and buried with Tutankhamun. Frank Conniff, a Danbury, Conn., Irishman who has tucked away many a departed relative in his time looked down the long line of showcases in King Tut's gallery and muttered, "What a wake that must've been."

Egyptian employes around the new Nile-Hilton have a touching concern to be of service. They will quickly and nervously shout "Certainly!" when you ask them to do something, even though they may have only the slightest idea about what you want. They feel it would be impolite to ask a person to repeat. We asked an electrician to repair a burned-out fuse in our room. "Certainly!" he said, "I'll have the housekeeper send you the pillow immediately."

Last night we ordered a roast beef sandwich. "Certainly," the waiter said and returned in half an hour with a huge plate of fois gras.

Then there was the trouble experienced by Welles Hangen, NBC's crack correspondent. During the recent riots in the Belgian Congo, Hangen asked a Cairo travel agent to check on how best he could fly to Leopoldville. The man was delighted to be of service. Half an hour later he called back and reported everything was arranged.

"You fly first from Cairo to London and then take the local," he said briskly. "Are you nuts?" Hangen asked. "Why should I fly to London and take a local from there to Leopoldville?" After a pause the man asked him if he would mind repeating the last city. Hangen did.

"I thought you meant Liverpool," the fellow said wistfully.

Natalie Wood Back in Studio's Graces

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Warner Brothers Studio has lifted its yearlong suspension of onetime child star Natalie Wood, now 20.

She was suspended following a dispute over her $750 weekly salary, shortly after her 1957 marriage to actor Robert Wagner, 29.

Studio spokesmen said the agreement was "amicable" but gave no details.

Movie Worker Jailed After Try for $100,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A former M-G-M Studio commissary worker must serve five years in prison for trying to extort $100,000 from Sol Siegel, studio vice president.

Herbert Strauch, 34, pleaded guilty. He was arrested while talking to Siegel Jan. 16 from a telephone booth near the studio.

"It's just a joke; I wouldn't harm anybody," Strauch said at his arraignment.

FBI agents said Strauch threatened Siegel's life in a letter.

The wor dgiraffe means "the one who moves swiftly" in native dialect.

U. of M. Receives Grant

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan School of Public Health will continue its extensive research of drugs to prevent or treat virus disease with a grant of $144,010 from the March of Dimes. The project will be directed by Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., professor of epidemiology and evaluator of the Salk polio vaccine field trials several years ago.

Soaring Classroom Needs Set Well With Desk Makers

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—School boards—and taxpayers—may be struggling today to provide classrooms for the rapidly increasing number of pupils. And debates may be raging over how much new schools should cost and how fancy they should be.

But for the makers of seats, desks, blackboards, laboratory equipment and the like every prospect pleases.

For them the baby boom of the '40s is now paying off in booming sales. And they are doing their best to convince school boards—and taxpayers—that the equipment that was good enough for grandfather isn't good enough for sonny.

Even the Russians are getting into the act, seeking to develop a market here for school laboratory equipment. Thanks to their own peculiar accounting methods, they are offering it at cut rate prices, which domestic manufacturers say is just a trick to try to upset the market.

The nation's grade and high schools now have about 1¼ million classrooms, a half million of them built since World War II.

J. J. Stefan, president of the school equipment division of Brunswick - Balke - Collender, Chicago, says that half of existing schools are more than 30 years old and a fifth of them were built in the last century. He predicts the nation will go on adding 60,000 classrooms a year.

J. M. Vermeulen, president of American Seating Co., Grand Rapids, Mich., says his firm's spending of half a million dollars in research is now paying off with new equipment designed to save costly floor space, among other things.

The Joint Economic Committee of Congress notes that since 1946 grade and high school enrollment has gone from 24 million to 34 million. It predicts this will rise by another 12 million in the next 10 years.

American Seating is offering an electronic teaching center. This includes a 21-inch TV receiver and a built-in tape recorder. Teacher can turn a knob to switch the TV from closed circuit to direct network operation. Other knobs open and close drapes or dim lights. Practically everything but standing Johnny in the corner.

Brunswick-Balke Collender is offering one-piece fiberglass chairs in six colors—like its competitor it holds that colors affect learning ability—and melamine table top surfaces to control light reflection. Desk lids have touch-lifting devices, which the firm says will keep youngsters from smashing their fingers.

Tomorrow's kids will be able to do almost anything, except putting pigtails in inkwells.

Three Times and Out for Fire-Prone Barn Site

CENTREVILLE, Md. (AP) — John Smith is about convinced he has been building his barn in the wrong place.

Fire destroyed his newest barn Tuesday with 4,000 bales of hay, 40 pigs and 7 brood sows.

It was the third time in three years flames have leveled Smith's barn on the same spot. The first two fires were caused by lightning. Tuesday's was blamed on a wiring defect.

Villagers May Return Soon

Swiss Landslide Seems to Have Stopped Moving

HERBRIGGEN, Switzerland (UPI) — A Swiss official said a gigantic landslide of ice and rocks that has threatened to crash down on Herbriggen the last two weeks apparently "has stopped moving."

Ernest Von Rothen, chief of the Valais Canton Public Works Department, said he would hold a conference with responsible officials today to decide if the 215 villagers could return to their abandoned homes.

Rothen's comments were the first ray of hope held out to the homeless villagers since Feb. 8 when the avalanche began sliding down toward a sharp cliff that hangs over Herbriggen.

Rothen made the comment after a two-hour close inspection of the landslide.

"I had already flown over the landslide on Mt. Nadelhorn, but today after being able to stand on my own feet on the mountain, I have the impression that the slide has stopped moving," Rothen said.

The official said in his opinion the ice that melted and started the landslide moving downward at a snail's pace would also "aid it in settling down."

Rothen said decayed rocks permitted water to seep through and form patches of ice which lifted the ground and set the landslide into motion.

"I do not want to make the decision to let the people of Herbriggen return to their homes without consulting the opinion of the experts who will visit the slide area today," he said.

"I will then hold a conference with the responsible officials to see if it is possible to make Herbriggen habitable again."

A small observation hut at the edge of the landslide was completed yesterday, and a four-man patrol kept a vigil on the avalanche.

U.S.-Buenos Aires Jet Flights in April

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pan American World Airways plans to inaugurate jet service between the United States and Latin America that would cut flying time between New York and Buenos Aires in half.

The airline announced it hopes to begin the service late in April.

The Boeing 707 jets to be used would make the trip in 12 hours — exactly half the present flying time from New York to the Argentinian capital. Both tourist and first class service will be offered.

The route also would include stops at Caracas, Venezuela, and possibly Asuncion, Paraguay.

14-Year-Old Mother of Twins Caught Short

BALTIMORE (AP)—Twins were born yesterday to a 14-year-old mother. The father is 17 — and unemployed.

When the twin boys arrived at Lutheran Hospital, the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Gordon had only one name ready — Richard W. Gordon Jr. The other boy was named Clarence Matthew today.

Mother and infants were reported "coming along satisfactorily" today. Richard weighed 3 pounds 9 ounces and Clarence 3 pounds 2 ounces.

To Air Wheat Controls Fight in Washington

Congress Will Hear Yankus Friday

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Fighting Dowagiac farmer Stanley Yankus will carry his wheat controls battle to Congress Friday.

The 39-year-old farmer, who plans to sell his farm and move to Australia, has been granted a hearing before the wheat subcommittee of the House Agricultural Committee.

Yankus placed his farm up for sale last week to pay off an estimated $2,600 in penalties for growing more than his quota of wheat since 1953.

Claiming the wheat quota program is unconstitutional, Yankus said he only used his wheat for chicken feed anyway and did not sell it.

Yankus plans to apply for a passport to go to Australia, which he said already has accepted him as an immigrant.

He said he would change his mind only if the government pay back about $1,700 he paid last year and if he is guaranteed complete freedom.

The Supreme Court ruled yesterday on a similar case. The court reversed a decision that Congress lacked power to regulate production of wheat as feed on a farm.

Rep. Clare Hoffman (R-Mich) informed Yankus of the hearing yesterday after making a speech in his behalf in Congress.

"He mistakenly believed that the freedom for which the forefathers fought and many of them died still existed," said Hoffman. "Unfortunately, he was mistaken."

Hoffman said Yankus "hopes to enjoy the status of a free citizen no longer possible in America" when he goes to Australia.

Hoffman said Yankus raised grain, including wheat, to feed the hens and pullets on his farm.

"But in 1938," Hoffman said, "those who insist on directing and ordering the lives of others, under Democratic leadership passed the agricultural adjustment legislation under which those producing certain crops, including wheat, were guaranteed an established price for what they raised and sold but were restricted in the acreage they might plant.

"Yankus never was permitted to vote on the plan, never participated in it. He continued to grow wheat on more than the 10 acres allotted by the local committee. He fed the wheat to his chickens, sold the eggs.

As a penalty for violating the acreage restrictions, Hoffman said, the federal government seized $1,701 of Yankus' bank account, and "he still owes around $2,643 in unpaid fines and penalties."

Hoffman's office announced later that Yankus would tell his story to the House Agriculture Committee's wheat subcommittee on Friday.

Judge Remembers and Approves

Principal Puts Paddle to Errant High Schoolers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The abortive teenage rebellion at Bartlett High will soon be history, put down by a polished maple paddle swung by Principal John Barnes.

Three more young pupils are on the waiting list for seven whacks. Fourteen have felt the sting thus far, Judge Willard Dixon heartily approves.

The judge, at a conference with seven angry parents in his office Tuesday, rejected demands for assault warrants against Barnes.

Two of the mothers came armed with photographs of their sons' smarting bottoms. The judge, after expert appraisal, said he had acquired worse bottoms himself for less.

The boys needed the whacking, he ruled. He cited a State Supreme Court ruling that teachers have, to a reasonable degree, the disciplinary rights of parents while the child is in their care.

To a mother who said the Bartlett High paddling was too severe, even if warranted, Dixon said he figured he was a better man because of the paddlings he received.

To another who said Barnes furiously kicked his office desk out of the way to gain swinging room, the judge observed: "If he wants to take a running start, maybe he needs it."

Several of the boys, 15 to 17 and wearing injured expressions, stood in a corner during the conference.

Barnes said it all started when he removed a soft drink machine from the school cafeteria because too many lead slugs were turning up in the coin box.

In retaliation, about 20 boys tried to organize a cafeteria boycott. Those caught had the choice of taking seven whacks from the paddle or taking the matter up with their parents.

"All students would love to take over the school," said Dixon, who has three youngsters of school age.

"Without such punishment pupils will not have respect for their teachers. Boys who think they can get away with anything often wind up in prison."

He paused and addressed his next remark directly to the solemn young spectators.

"We are going to make sure you are impressed."

Sales Tax Hike Still Live Issue

GOP Legislators Seek Ballot to Levy; Dems Would Raise Debt Limit

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Lawmakers today were back on the road of state finances after detouring into the realm of education yesterday, although that sidetrip largely centered on money.

Republicans planned to try again to get the one-cent increase sales tax proposal on the April 6 ballot at the same time the Democratic-favored increase in the state debt limit was scheduled for final consideration.

Both parties planned to caucus, primarily on the debt increase proposal, to get things straight before the countdown on the House floor.

A plan to make college students pay for a 100-million-dollar campus construction program also lay on the legislative scrap heap today.

House members couldn't agree whether it would help or harm the cause of education, and gave it a 57-43 vote yesterday, far short of the 74 votes needed for passage.

Rep. Willar I. Bowerman Jr. (R-Lansing) drafted the plan as an answer to the conflict between growing college building needs and inadequate state revenues.

Students in state-supported colleges and universities would sign notes agreeing to pay $90 a year on top of tuition and other fees for each year they enrolled. Payments, falling due after graduation, would retire a 100-million-dollar bond issue.

Funds would be distributed to the nine state schools in proportion to enrollment.

Legal Pair Praised for Courthouse Case

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday paid special tribute to the late Harry J. Merritt and Charles A. Davis for steering the lawsuit over a new county courthouse to victory for the county.

Merritt died Oct. 26 after nearly 20 years as the top legal aide to the county. His death came just before the courthouse suit was to be argued before the state supreme Court. Davis currently is deputy corporation counsel.

Supervisors commended "the efforts of these men whose accomplishments exemplify the highest type of public service."

"The labors Harry put into this courthouse suit shortened his life," declared Harry W. Horton, Royal Oak supervisor, who presented the resolution praising the pair.

An estimated 25 million Americans go fishing, the country's most popular outdoor participation sport.

Aviation Needs of This Region to Be Explored

The aviation needs of the six-county southeastern Michigan region will be studied by a Cincinnati, Ohio aviation engineering consultant firm.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of a special aviation subcommittee of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee, announced yesterday that the firm of Landrum & Brown had been engaged to conduct the study.

"The firm will look into the aviation needs of the six-county area based on economic structure, available transportation mediums, and the existing aviation facilities in the area," Hamlin said.

The special committee, organized in January 1958 to study aviation problems, met Monday to decide on the Ohio firm after studying similar proposals from some of the top aviation consultant firms in the country, Hamlin said.

Pair Arraigned on Armed Robbery

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yesterday entered pleas of not guilty for two Pontiac men who stood mute when arraigned on charges of armed robbery of a Waterford Township tavern.

Judge Holland entered the pleas for Richard K. Allen, 25, of 7 Short St., and Robert L. Tate, 26, of 450 Irwin Ave.

Both were returned to the county jail to await trial. No date has been set.

The two are accused of holding up the bartender and patrons of Mike's Bar, 4800 Dixie Hwy., Jan. 18 and taking $180.

3 to Get Jail Terms March 16 in Waterford Gas Station Break-In Three 17-year-old youths, two from the Pontiac area and one from Detroit, will be sentenced March 16 after pleading guilty yesterday to breaking and entering when arraigned before Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Timothy A. Pettingill, of 296 Leota St., Waterford Township, James C. Jenkins, of 8882 Arlington St., White Lake Township, and Armband L. Inkel, formerly of Waterford Township but late of Detroit, each pleaded guilty to breaking into a gas station at the corner of Andersonville and Airport roads.

Police believe the arrest of the three cleared up a series of recent burglaries in Waterford Township. Police said the youths admitted 21 break-ins during the past two weeks.

Pettingill, Jenkins, and Inkel were returned to the county jail to await sentencing.

Pettingill, who was on bond prior to today's arraignment, was ordered held when he pleaded guilty and told Judge Holland he was not in school or holding a job.

Ferris Would Be College

LANSING (UPI) — With the rush by colleges to change their names to "university," Ferris Institute has a switch. It wants to be called a college. Sen. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) said he will confer here this week with officials from the Big Rapids school who want the name change.

Graham Crusade in Australia Brings In Mail

MELBOURNE (AP) — More than 1,000 letters are pouring into the Billy Graham crusade headquarters in Melbourne daily.

Most are from local people, but some come from as far afield as the United States, from people who have been reading about Graham's crowded revival meetings in Australia.

Graham began his Australian crusade 10 days ago. Organizers say the crowds will grow even bigger as the end of the Melbourne meetings approach.

More than 22,000 packed the open air music bowl Tuesday night for Graham's meeting, and there were more than 1,500 "decisions for Christ," most of them by teenagers.

To Air Wheat Controls Fight in Washington

Congress Will Hear Yankus Friday

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Fighting Dowagiac farmer Stanley Yankus will carry his wheat controls battle to Congress Friday.

The 39-year-old farmer, who plans to sell his farm and move to Australia, has been granted a hearing before the wheat subcommittee of the House Agricultural Committee.

Yankus placed his farm up for sale last week to pay off an estimated $2,600 in penalties for growing more than his quota of wheat since 1953.

Claiming the wheat quota program is unconstitutional, Yankus said he only used his wheat for chicken feed anyway and did not sell it.

As a penalty for violating the acreage restrictions, Hoffman said, the federal government seized $1,701 of Yankus' bank account, and "he still owes around $2,643 in unpaid fines and penalties."

Hoffman's office announced later that Yankus would tell his story to the House Agriculture Committee's wheat subcommittee on Friday.

Pair Arraigned on Armed Robbery

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland yesterday entered pleas of not guilty for two Pontiac men who stood mute when arraigned on charges of armed robbery of a Waterford Township tavern.

Judge Holland entered the pleas for Richard K. Allen, 25, of 7 Short St., and Robert L. Tate, 26, of 450 Irwin Ave.

Both were returned to the county jail to await trial. No date has been set.

The two are accused of holding up the bartender and patrons of Mike's Bar, 4800 Dixie Hwy., Jan. 18 and taking $180.

Ferris Would Be College

LANSING (UPI) — With the rush by colleges to change their names to "university," Ferris Institute has a switch. It wants to be called a college. Sen. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) said he will confer here this week with officials from the Big Rapids school who want the name change.

Judge Remembers and Approves

Principal Puts Paddle to Errant High Schoolers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The abortive teenage rebellion at Bartlett High will soon be history, put down by a polished maple paddle swung by Principal John Barnes.

Three more young pupils are on the waiting list for seven whacks. Fourteen have felt the sting thus far, Judge Willard Dixon heartily approves.

The judge, at a conference with seven angry parents in his office Tuesday, rejected demands for assault warrants against Barnes.

Two of the mothers came armed with photographs of their sons' smarting bottoms. The judge, after expert appraisal, said he had acquired worse bottoms himself for less.

The boys needed the whacking, he ruled. He cited a State Supreme Court ruling that teachers have, to a reasonable degree, the disciplinary rights of parents while the child is in their care.

To a mother who said the Bartlett High paddling was too severe, even if warranted, Dixon said he figured he was a better man because of the paddlings he received.

To another who said Barnes furiously kicked his office desk out of the way to gain swinging room, the judge observed: "If he wants to take a running start, maybe he needs it."

Several of the boys, 15 to 17 and wearing injured expressions, stood in a corner during the conference.

Barnes said it all started when he removed a soft drink machine from the school cafeteria because too many lead slugs were turning up in the coin box.

In retaliation, about 20 boys tried to organize a cafeteria boycott. Those caught had the choice of taking seven whacks from the paddle or taking the matter up with their parents.

"All students would love to take over the school," said Dixon, who has three youngsters of school age.

"Without such punishment pupils will not have respect for their teachers. Boys who think they can get away with anything often wind up in prison."

He paused and addressed his next remark directly to the solemn young spectators.

"We are going to make sure you are impressed."

Sales Tax Hike Still Live Issue

GOP Legislators Seek Ballot to Levy; Dems Would Raise Debt Limit

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Lawmakers today were back on the road of state finances after detouring into the realm of education yesterday, although that sidetrip largely centered on money.

Republicans planned to try again to get the one-cent increase sales tax proposal on the April 6 ballot at the same time the Democratic-favored increase in the state debt limit was scheduled for final consideration.

Both parties planned to caucus, primarily on the debt increase proposal, to get things straight before the countdown on the House floor.

A plan to make college students pay for a 100-million-dollar campus construction program also lay on the legislative scrap heap today.

House members couldn't agree whether it would help or harm the cause of education, and gave it a 57-43 vote yesterday, far short of the 74 votes needed for passage.

Rep. Willar I. Bowerman Jr. (R-Lansing) drafted the plan as an answer to the conflict between growing college building needs and inadequate state revenues.

Students in state-supported colleges and universities would sign notes agreeing to pay $90 a year on top of tuition and other fees for each year they enrolled. Payments, falling due after graduation, would retire a 100-million-dollar bond issue.

Funds would be distributed to the nine state schools in proportion to enrollment.

Legal Pair Praised for Courthouse Case

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday paid special tribute to the late Harry J. Merritt and Charles A. Davis for steering the lawsuit over a new county courthouse to victory for the county.

Merritt died Oct. 26 after nearly 20 years as the top legal aide to the county. His death came just before the courthouse suit was to be argued before the state supreme Court. Davis currently is deputy corporation counsel.

Supervisors commended "the efforts of these men whose accomplishments exemplify the highest type of public service."

"The labors Harry put into this courthouse suit shortened his life," declared Harry W. Horton, Royal Oak supervisor, who presented the resolution praising the pair.

An estimated 25 million Americans go fishing, the country's most popular outdoor participation sport.

Bank Suspects Small Shortage

Apparent Deficit Seen in Deposit Box Rentals at Romeo Savings

ROMEO — An apparent "small" shortage in the accounting of safety deposit box rentals has been discovered, the Romeo Savings Bank reported today. Officials would not set the amount believed missing but said it is adequately covered by insurance.

The Detroit auditing firm of Touche, Niven, Bailey and Smart is presently conducting an investigation at the bank.

The purpose of the audit, now in progress, is first to confirm any loss and next, to determine if any change can be made in accounting procedure to safeguard against repetition of such loss in that department or any other department in the future, bank officials said.

They added that for the further protection of the bank these audits will be repeated at regular intervals not longer than three years apart.

Oxford Council Adopts Property Rezoning Law

OXFORD—The village council last night formally adopted an ordinance to rezone property between Lakeville and Drahner roads which was annexed by the village last March.

The council action followed a public hearing on the proposed amendment held immediately prior to the regular meeting.

The newly annexed property covers some 450 acres which is mainly zoned residential. Only exceptions are a strip of land on Glaspie street for manufacturing and a section on Lakeville road which come under a commercial classification.

Two local businessmen questioned the rezoning as it applied to their particular operations. They were assured by the council that as long as their firms were well established before the new zoning ordinance goes into effect—30 days hence—they can continue under the present setup as nonconforming users.

Should an occasion arise, however—other than sale of their companies for the same use—such as damage by fire or need for expansion then their recourse would be to turn to the Rezoning Board of Appeals, they were told.

A number of Oxford area school teachers, who were invited to attend last night's council session, heard a letter from the Chamber of Commerce recommending three of its members to serve on a proposed Joint Planning Commission.

Members suggested were Peter Prince, Edward J. Bossardet Jr., and Gerald G. Olrich. No action was taken on the recommendations as the Planning Commission is still in the initial stages of formation.

The council then voted to lease a police car from Homer Hight Motors, Inc., at a cost of $150 per month, including oil changes.

In other action, council members approved an appropriation not to exceed $100 to cover cost of an actuarial study deemed necessary to set up a pension plan for village employes.

Final action of the council was the formal signing of a $1 check which was the final payment on the purchase of a $10,000 street sweeper for the village. After adjustment, refreshments were served to all present.

To Cost Industry 25 Million a Year

Start 'Ray' Fungus Fight

By United Press International

A nation-wide drive has been launched against a type of "ray" fungus which is costing America's livestock industry more than $25,000,000 a year.

The drive was launched this month as part of national livestock loss prevention year.

In cattle, the fungus causes a condition known as "actino" or "lumpy jaw," plus a related condition known as "woody tongue."

The American Foundation for Animal Health says livestock losses from these diseases has become extremely serious.

Lumpy jaw causes swellings of the lower jaw bone or facial bones of cattle. It can also cause a facial bone disease in humans.

Foundation officials say the jaw condition in cattle is responsible for thousands of condemnations at packing plants.

The fungus which causes the diseases is common on pastures and in hay crops. Minor injuries to mouth membranes apparently pave the way for infection.

If detected in its early stages, the problem can be treated by veterinarians by into-the-vein medication or surgery.

The foundation suggests that farmers have livestock on pasture or in feed lots should keep healthy stock apart from animals with lumpy jaw, thus preventing spread of the disease through contaminated bedding, feed or water.

Accused in Robbery, Enter Innocent Plea

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Three men accused of the $1,600 armed robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Pernell Allen at their home, 21026 Westview Rd., here Saturday pleaded innocent before Justice Mark Howard yesterday.

Calvin Howard (no relation), 37, of 704 Collingwood Ave., Frederick LaBarrie, 29, of 208 Westminster Ave., and Benjamin Hayward, 30, of 4422 St. Antoine St., are being held in Oakland County Jail, with bail set at $5,000 each.

Cranbrook Student's Opus to Be Premiere

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A musical composition written by a 14-year-old Battle Creek boy will get its Midwest premiere here Sunday.

It is the work of Joel Cohen, son of Dr. and Mrs. Hymen Cohen. He is a sophmore in the Cranbrook School.

The composition, "A Poem for Orchestras," will be played by the Kalamazoo Junior Symphony Orchestra. It is based on Carl Sandburg's poem, "Fog," and was written while young Cohen was a student at the Interlochen Music Camp.

It was performed for the first time last October by the combined youth orchestras of Alexandria and Arlington, Va.

Avondale PTA to Observe Founder's Day Tomorrow

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Avondale Schools PTA will observe Founder's Day at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the high school. Michael Laughlin, student vice president, will preside over the program.

The guest speaker for the evening is to be Dr. Roy Alexander of the Michigan State University Oakland faculty. Also, a Founder's Day skit has been prepared by the Curtain Call Theater Troupe for the evening. Refreshments will be served and a regular meeting conducted.

Ferndale School District Voters Reject Bonds

FERNDALE — A $561,000 school bond issue was rejected yesterday by voters of the Ferndale School District which includes part of Oak Park. The vote was 1,721 to 1,337.

The bond issue was for 13 additional classrooms and improved fire safety methods.

Classrooms were to be added at Paul Best Elementary School and at Andrew Jackson School, both in Oak Park, and at Grant School in Ferndale.

The negative vote follows a national pattern of refusing tax increases, School Supt. Roy Robinson said. He doubted that the voters' action was in any way the result of a recent furor over the demotion of former Best School Principal Scott W. Street to teacher.

Pan Am Jet Liner Safe After Engine Falls Off

LONDON (AP)—A Pan American Boeing 707 jet airliner made a safe emergency landing here today after an engine fell off on a training flight out of Paris.

A full-scale alert was called at London Airport as the huge jet limped in. Fire engines lined the runway. But the plane touched down safely with its crew of five.

A Pan American spokesman said it was not known whether the engine fell into the English Channel or over land. Cause of the mishap was not immediately determined.

Fun for All With No Nipped Toes, Skinned Knees

Try Safest Winter Sport

By LYDIA ROTHMAN

Not everyone is as enthusiastic about the great outdoors in wintertime as your reporter — in fact my "boss" doesn't even like winter sports at all. So with her in mind we dedicate this story about her favorite winter sport and one that is just as exciting as skiing or rabbit hunting — it's called — reading.

Reading is the sort of thing too many people tend to put off until they are sick in bed or on a summer vacation.

GOOD SAFE FUN

Actually it's the perfect way to spend a wintry evening or gloomy Saturday (and much safer than — let us say tobogganing.)

One of the nicest ways to go about this sport is to put on some of your favorite records and sit down in your favorite chair in front of the fireplace with a book.

(A dog is a nice extra bit if you happen to have one around the house.)

So while the winds are howling and the snow is flying, you can sit in the warm comfort of your own living room and let your fantasy run rampant. You can hike through Europe, visit with famous and exciting people or have a free lesson in a do-it-yourself enterprise.

And just think—none of this costs a penny and you don't even have to enter a contest or sell anything.

SHARPENS THE MIND

Reading will — if you let it — stimulate your curiosity and give you a whole new outlook on life. A curious mind will become an educated one and an enriched one.

Reading should also be done for pure fun and enjoyment or relaxation.

So as you find yourself becoming snowed under by this gloomy long, long winter go to your nearest book shelf and get a book and start reading—the more fields you cover, the more fun you'll have.

Age makes no difference in the enjoyment of reading. Like any sport, you're at an advantage if you start at an early age. Tim Smith is a regular visitor to the library where he likes to browse and also get books to take home.

MSUO Speaker Slated by PTSA

Herbert Stoutenberg Jr., registrar at MSUO will address the newly organized Pontiac Northern High School PTSA at a meeting March 4. Members will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the school's library.

Mr. Stoutenburg joined the staff at Michigan State University in 1948, and from 1954 to 1958 was in charge of admissions there. He became assistant to the registrar in 1958 and on Jan. 1, 1959 assumed his present position. The father of three, he earned his B.A. and M.A. Degrees at MSU. He has served in the Air Force as a navigator and was active in school affairs overseas.

The Choral Belles, Pontiac Northern girls' ensemble, will sing at the gathering.

Music Guild Meets

Mrs. Walter Schmitz and Mrs. Lester Snell joined in playing organ and piano numbers when Pontiac Music Guild met for a brunch Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Schmitz on West Kennett road. Mrs. Lester Quye assisted the hostess. The group will sponsor a workshop April 16 at First Congregational Church. Alice Kern of Ann Arbor will direct activities.

80 Attend YWCA Dinner

Myrtle Labbitt Is Speaker at Annual Event Here

Eighty members and guests attended the 14th annual dinner meeting of the YWCA, held Tuesday evening at Fellowship Hall of Grace Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Myrtle Labbitt, well known radio and TV personality, was guest speaker. Her topic was "Living All of Your Life."

She stressed the idea that we gain something from every person we know and urged her audience to do something you really enjoy when you're feeling blue.

REPORTS GIVEN

Reports were given by Mrs. Reba Ross Netzler, executive director; Mrs. A. C. Ish, treasurer; Mrs. Norma Strickland, secretary; and Mrs. Fred Stimpert, president.

Mrs. Netzler noted the progress made by the YWCA during the past year, and Mrs. Stimpert discussed the growth in membership as a goal for the coming year.

New members elected to the board of directors included Mrs. Charles Crawford, Mrs. H. R. Holland, Mrs. E. C. Russell, Mrs. William Donaldson, Mrs. George Widdifield and Mrs. Paul Gorman.

Mrs. Karl Kutz and Amy Krueger were re-elected to the board and Mrs. Ish, a board appointee, was officially elected to a full three-year term.

Mrs. David Eames was toastmistress and Mrs. Charles Buck led group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Ben Zannoth. The Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church also took part.

Mrs. Myrtle Labbitt, right, well known radio and TV personality, was guest speaker at the dinner meeting. Here she poses with Mrs. Fred Stimpert, president of the group.

Tips to Give You a New Lift

Time to Spring Out of Winter Rut

Are you tired of snow, slush, ice, and freezing rain? Has your car been stuck so many times that it has become an old story?

If you aren't lucky enough to escape to Florida this winter, here are some ways you can get rid of those mid-winter blues.

Use this dreary interval before the first welcoming signs of spring to get ready for the exciting new fashions.

To look your best, it is none too early to start "spring training." Perhaps you are thinking about a new hairdo. Don't wait until the last minute to make the change — be all set with that new coiffure before you shop for an Easter bonnet.

If you could lose a few pounds, now is the time. When the Easter parade begins, you will be slim and pretty in your new spring suit.

And consider your hands. Are they going to be a credit to your new spring finery and pretty rings and bracelets?

Start right away to repair the damage that cold winds and steam heat have done. Use lotion faithfully to overcome ugly chapping and to protect your hands. And don't forget that elbows need constant attention, too!

Experiment with makeup. It's fun and will give you a tremendous lift. Try a new shade of lipstick. Be daring with eye shadow, and if you want to feel really gay, see how those false eyelashes work!

If you use these dreary end-of-winter days to good advantage, you will find that your spirits as well as your appearance will improve.

Need Regular Care

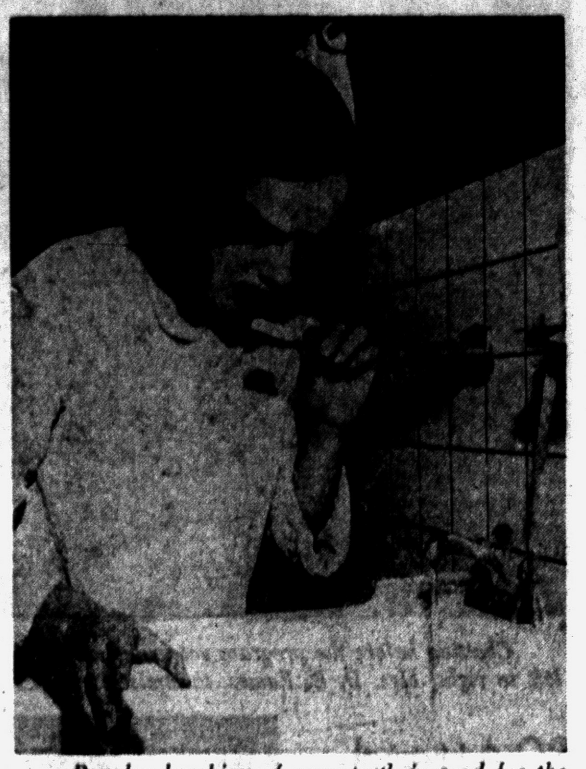

Teeth Affect Beauty and Health

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Care of the teeth is extremely important not only for beauty reasons but for reasons of health. Diseased teeth can poison us and can lead to serious conditions.

Such focal points of infection long have been suspected as factors in arthritis, for instance. Also many older people who have lost teeth and have not had them replaced are unable to chew their food properly and therefore may not eat as they should. This may lead to malnutrition or at least to some dietary deficiencies.

But, for the moment, let us consider teeth from the viewpoint of good looks and feminine allure. You may not have been born with pretty teeth but you can keep them clean and white. If you can afford the money, much can be done to improve homely teeth. If gotten early enough, protruding teeth, crooked teeth and poorly spaced teeth can be corrected. In some instances capping a few teeth can make a great difference in appearance.

Regular brushing of your teeth is good for the teeth—and good for your beauty, too.

Naturally regular brushing is the first rule. Teeth should be carefully brushed after EVERY meal whenever this is possible. We also should visit our dentist periodically just as we have physical check-ups with our doctor. Give yourself this break at least once a year. It may save your teeth and save you untold discomfort and expense. Actually, I think that every six months is better, and for those who have problem teeth every three months is indicated.

Halitosis or unpleasant breath is a real problem for those who have it. There is no sense in pretending that it is not. It is a real hazard in the romantic chapter of your life, and it can be damaging in business. I once had a dentist who had it, and I must admit that regardless of his splendid qualifications, I could not take it! I changed dentists.

Whether he could do nothing about it or whether no one ever told him, I do not know. All I know is that I did not tell him. I think that would be most embarrassing for a dentist!

Sometimes the facts of life are not too pleasant. It is certainly true that teeth which are not properly cleaned have food materials left in between the teeth and these ferment. For this rason dental floss is a great help.

Bad breath can come from many conditions. If you have this problem, first eliminate the possibility of neglect so far as tooth cleanliness is concerned. Also an antiseptic mouth wash may help.

Of course if you have decayed teeth this may be the reason. Too much smoking sometimes leads to this condition. Indigestion may be the cause. Infected tonsils or sinuses may be the culprit.

Sunglasses, especially the jeweled variety, collect their share of dirt. Swish them in cold water 'n' suds and they'll shine like new.

Memory of Cooking Is Lifetime Gift

By RUTH MILLETT

"I bake bread every week," says a busy mother, "because I want my children to remember the fragrance of loaves of bread browning in the oven and the wonderful treat of homemade bread sliced when it is still warm enough to melt butter."

I don't think she is wasting her time. All of us who are old enough to remember the days before ready-mixes and frozen foods can close our eyes and recall certain scenes vividly.

We can recall the delicious aroma of vegetable soup that had been simmering on the back of the stove half a cold winter's day; the fun of watching a three-layer cake, started from scratch and finished off with thick icing; the companionship of helping shell peas or snap beans; the fragrance of doughnuts browning in deep, bubbling fat; the anticipation that came from turning a freezer filled with homemade strawberry ice cream.

Today's easy cooking makes life simple for Mama. She can, if she hurries, leave the supermarket at 5:30 and have a meal on the table a little after 6. And the food is good and nourishing to the body.

But there's nothing that comes out of a frozen food package, a can or a box of ready-mix to stir a child's imagination. There's nothing to whet his anticipation in food that is labeled "heat and serve" or "brown and serve."

So unless a mother realizes this fact and takes the trouble to do a little old-fashioned cooking for her family, her children are missing a lot.

This two-piece cotton dress has a short bolero jacket that buttons down the back and is worn over a sleeveless sheath jumper. The polka dot sash can be interchanged with your favorite belt.

Wall Cleaning Tips

It is always best when cleaning painted walls to begin at the bottom and work upward and papered walls should be cleaned by starting at the top and working downward.

Club Hears Exchange Student

Three high school students who received American Field Service Scholarships spoke at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of Child Study Club Group III held at the Edgefield drive home of Mrs. Oliver G. Filer.

Sally Waddell, a student at Kingswood School Cranbrook, told about her six-week stay last summer with a Swiss family living in Bern. She stressed the closely knit family relationship of the Swiss people.

Another Kingswood student, Rosa Olasceaga from Mendoza, Argentina, compared the educational and family life of the United States, as she had observed it with that of her native country.

Jacqueline Baron, Pontiac Central High School student from Rouen, France, commented on her life in France as compared with her life in this country.

Mrs. Walter Godsell was welcomed as a new member. Guests were Mrs. William Burder and Mrs. Wendell Doolin.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. John Ritchie, Mrs. Robert Rogers, Mrs. Maynard Raye and Mrs. M. C. Worster. Mrs. Paul Gorman presided at the tea table. Program chairman for the day was Mrs. L. Jerome Fink.

Brdige Club Holds Masterpoint Game

Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club held its monthly masterpoint game at Elks Temple Monday evening. Twenty-two tables were in play.

Winners were Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Cress, Mr. and Mrs. Shelden Kushner, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Bronson and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Segula.

Other winners were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Waterman, James White and Julius Young, Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Kessler and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Thomas.

Delores West Feted

Delores West, bride-elect of Donald Robert Friebe was honored at a linen shower Sunday given at the home of Mrs. George Duchaine of Essexville. Cohostess was Mrs. Jack Friebe. Miss West is the daughter of Mrs. Lafayette West of Oliver street and the late Mr. West. Her fiance is the son of Elmer Friebe of Bay City.

February Hand Care
It doesn't cost a great deal of money to have beautiful hands. Nor does it require a great deal of time. All it takes is a little bit of attention everyday!
Hands reveal the years, keep yours youthful by doing these five things religiously:
1. Apply lotion every time you put your hands in water.
2. Use hand cream at night and work as well.
3. Work cleansing cream in with a handbrush if hands are very soiled.
4. Push cuticle back as you towel dry and reach for the hand lotion.
5. Wear gloves every time you step out of doors.

Jealous Child Must Learn to Trust Love

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

She writes, "Now that our baby girl is walking, our three-year-old is showing violent jealousy. If I carry the baby upstairs, he wants to be carried, too. I can't hold her on my lap without his trying to push her off and climb up, too. As you've advised, I'm accepting his jealousy but I can't seem to get him over it . . . "

Then why not stop trying to get him over it?

How long has this little brother been sharing your attention with his sister—12 months, 15? That's not much time to accumulate the day-in day-out experience he needs to trust your unlessened affection. Time is what works out children's jealousy, not you.

If you'll pass this responsibility the guilty anxiety we are bound to feel when we fail to manage something we think we ought to be able to manage,

When we are struggling with a little child's jealousy, it's helpful to understand his suspicion of time.

Tell a three-year-old, "No more candy until tomorrow"—and he'll either fight our decision or accept it. But whether he fights or accepts, he doesn't expect tomorrow to produce the candy. There isn't any tomorrow for him. There's only right now—and if it won't produce his candy, no future will. He hasn't lived through enough tomorrows to trust them to deliver.

He feels the same way about attention he doesn't get right now.

Well, that's his problem. It would be nice if we could solve it for him; but we can't. We can't wave a magic wand over him and turn him into a nine-year-old who has lived through enough tomorrows to know our love as a continuing, trustworthy thing. We can understand his fear—but we can't get him over it.

Sometimes we take on time's job. We resort to all kinds of tricks to convince little children that we love them as much as the baby. We fail at it, of course. One day the jealousy explodes again and we think, "Oh, what a bad parent I am!"

That's not good for anyone. Because it's then that we begin to resent the jealous child who makes us feel inadequate and reproached.

Fake pearl bibs, some with rhinestone pendants, are a nice way to pick up winter-weary clothes.

Musicale Has Workshop at Eliason Home

Mrs. Paul Eliason was hostess at her home in Clarkston on Tuesday for the meeting of Tuesday Musicale workshop.

Plans were discussed for the workshop program to be given at the annual May meeting of Tuesday Musicale. The program will feature original works by Mrs. M. J. Wager and Mrs. J. K. Rosenthal.

Mrs. Donald Bergeron was accepted as a new member.

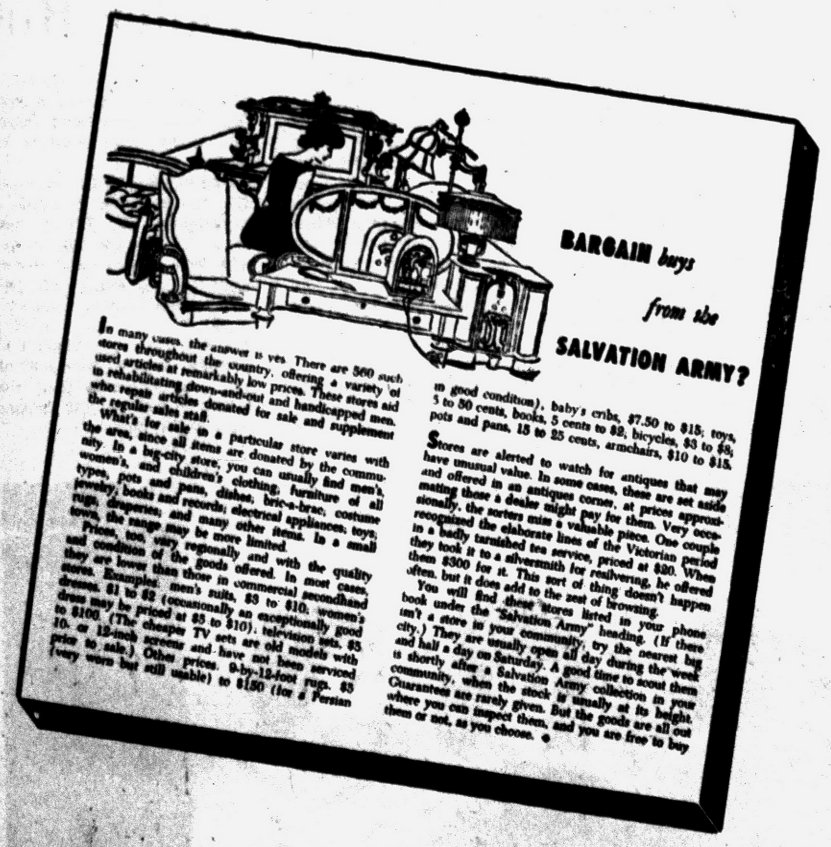

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. H. G. Woolcock and Mrs. O. L. Smith.

In many cases, the answer is yes. There are 360 such stores throughout the country, offering a variety of used articles at remarkably low prices. These stores aid in rehabilitating down-and-out and handicapped men who repair articles donated for sale and supplement the regular sales staff.

What's for sale in a particular store varies with the area, since all items are donated by the community. In a big-city store, you can usually find men's, women's, and children's clothing; furniture of all types; pots and pans, dishes, bric-a-brac, costume jewelry, books and records; electrical appliances, toys, rugs, draperies; and many other items. In a small town, the range may be more limited.

Prices, too, vary regionally and with the quality and condition of the goods offered. In most cases, they are lower than those in commercial secondhand stores. Examples: men's suits, $3 to $10; women's dresses, $1 to $2 (occasionally an exceptionally good dress may be priced at $5 to $10); television sets, $5 to $100. (The cheaper TV sets are old models with 10- or 12-inch screens and have not been serviced prior to sale.) Other prices: 9-by-12-foot rug, $5 (very worn but still usable) to $150 (for a Persian in good condition); baby's cribs, $7.50 to $15; toys, 5 to 50 cents; books, 5 cents to $2; bicycles, $3 to $8; pots and pans, 15 to 25 cents; armchairs, $10 to $15.

Stores are alerted to watch for antiques that may have unusual value. In some cases, these are set aside and offered in an antiques corner, at prices approximating what a dealer might pay for them. Very occasionally, the sorters miss a valuable piece. One couple recognized the elaborate lines of the Victorian period in a badly tarnished tea service, priced at $30. When they took it to a silversmith for resilvering, he offered them $300 for it. This sort of thing doesn't happen often, but it does add to the zest of browsing.

You will find these stores listed in your phone book under the "Salvation Army" heading. (If there isn't a store in your community, try the nearest big city.) They are usually open all day during the week and half a day on Saturday. A good time to scout them is shortly after a Salvation Army collection in your community, when the stock is usually at its height. Guarantees are rarely given. But the goods are all got where you can inspect them, and you are free to buy them or not, as you choose.

THERE ARE FIVE RED SHIELD STORES OPERATED BY THE SALVATION ARMY IN PONTIAC AND OAKLAND COUNTY, AT THE FOLLOWING LOCATIONS:

Chocolate Pieces Melt to Coat Almond Toffee

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Today we have another winner in the Betty Crocker Homemaking contest, Miriam Forbes. Miriam is a senior at Waterford Township High School and has plans to go on to college.

Most of Miriam's interests lie in the homemaking area. She enjoys oil painting, sewing and cooking. The last two are hobbies she works at often.

ENGLISH TOFFEE
By Miriam Forbes

- ⅔ cup butter or margarine
- 1½ cup sugar
- ⅓ cup water
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅔ cup blanched chopped almonds, plus a few more
- ¼ teaspoon soda
- Chocolate bits

Mix butter or margarine, sugar, water and salt. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Let mixture cook to soft boil stage (236 degrees). Add chopped almonds and cook to 290 degrees, stirring constantly. Watch it; the mixture burns easily.

Remove from stove and add soda. Pour into greased dish to thickness of ¼ inch. Sprinkle with additional almonds and chocolate bits. When cold, crack into pieces.

Bikini Bathing Suits Due to Make Big Splash in U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The bikini bathing suit will make its first real splash in the United States this summer, swimwear manufacturers predict.

Sales have increased, shops report sellouts, and all hands say the bikini is "doing splendidly." Even a staid Fifth Avenue store put bikinis in a window display.

"People took it in stride — no complaints," a spokesman said.

However, the suits hit snags in two other stores. One had to forego bikinis in windows because it faced a church. The other refused to give the suits house room because of customer complaints last year.

Most bikinis now are made with a concession to American modesty. Unlike the European variety, composed of two scant scraps of fabric, these are modified or convertible, that is, with adjustable devices or elasticized fabric.

"A customer can tie it down to just inches, as brief as she wants or can pull it up as high as a regular two-piece suit," one manufacturer explained.

A third house, which sells two models, is doing especially well with one which comes with a cover-up.

All maufacturers predicted the bikini will get a boost from two-piece suits, which bid to be big this summer. Fringe groups always will try more daring versions of a style, the firms said.

Why the sudden change of heart toward the bikini?

Anne Cole, vice president of a swimwear firm, gave these reasons: Women who wear them are young or have a private pool, or are sunworshippers and want as near an all-over tan as publicly allowed.

"We still recommend the bikini for private pools and private sunning. We're making a survey on where they're allowed — there are rules against them on some public beaches, you know," said Miss Cole who has her reservations.

"I feel that American women are still conservative and self-conscious. They're made aware of their figures at every turn. They read and hear about things to hold them in, food to take off weight, things to pat off pounds. No wonder they're more inhibited than European women who think that because God gave us figures, it's all right to show them.

"American women must keep a few secrets."

Marriage Is Life Sentence So Face Up to Facts, Son!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Which do you consider the most advisable course? (1) Break up my marriage now, while my wife is still young and attractive enough to make another life for herself? Or— (2) Wait until the children are grown, educated and independent? I have no intention of paying for one mistake all the rest of my life. Even a bank robber gets off in 20 years."

ABBY

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: A "sentence" imposed on a bank robber is not to be compared with the oath you VOLUNTARILY took to love, honor and cherish one woman until death do you part. Be a man, my son.

"DEAR ABBY: I have always been very jealous of my husband because he's extremely good looking and I am nothing to write home about. My best girl friend told me to fight fire with fire and make him jealous by playing up to another man. I purposely led another man on at a dance and he made a pass at me.

"I told my husband and he just laughed it off and said, 'Can't you take a joke?' Do you think my husband meant that I was so ugly that no man would make a pass at me or do you think my husband was too chicken to fight him?" — JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: Perhaps your husband had such complete confidence in your behavior as a lady that he felt a man would not seriously encourage you to act otherwise. Forget it, and don't fight fire with fire unless you want to get burned.

"DEAR ABBY: When I came home from college for Christmas vacation (I am working on my master's degree) I fell in love with a hired hand who works on our turkey ranch. He has only an eighth grade education. Do you think the difference in our education and background will bring us trouble later on if we marry?

"My parents are very much against the match because they think I am lowering myself. The romance has gone much further than anyone suspects and I am considering marrying him. Could we be happy?"

IN LOVE

DEAR IN: How old are you? How old is he? What else (besides "love") have you in common? Get to know him better and think it over carefully or you will spend the rest of your life talking turkey.

"DEAR ABBY: Some cheap neighbors of ours bought a mailbox without a flag because they got a bargain, so they use our mailbox to put their outgoing mail in. I didn't mind this until I saw her looking over my mail as she was putting hers in our box. Then later she'd ask me what did so and so have to say? Do you think it would be nervy of me to ask her not to use our mailbox any more? The lady across the road said she had the same trouble with her." — PROBLEMS

DEAR PROBLEMS: Mail is a private affair. Tell her you'd prefer that she not use your mailbox and suggest that her husband devise some makeshift flag system for their own box.

CONFIDENTIAL TO FOREMAN FRANK: The principle is the same. A man who'd steal an egg would steal a chicken. If you have to watch him after you've warned him — can him.

Take your time, kids, and enjoy the fun! Mother plans the youngsters' bath hour at a time most convenient for the family schedule. So sister and brother can play around with those soapsuds and discover what real sport bathing can be. What's more, father can join in the fun!

Time for Indoor Water Sports

Soap and water are such pleasant things to play around with, it's a pity that every little girl and boy shouldn't find it out early in life. And that means with the first bath!

The trouble with most of us grownups is that we tend to rush children too much. "Go wash your face. Hurry and wash your hands. Be out of the tub in five minutes."

The idea of being clean isn't going to appeal especially to junior, or little sister, either, for that matter. But the fun of getting clean with a lot of warm soap suds is real enchantment—provided enough time is allowed to enjoy it.

Childhood is a time for discovery, and every youngster likes to do his own research.

A wise mother, who wants to start training her children in cleanliness habits early, will plan the family bath times so that nobody feels rushed. If the little ones like to share the tub, all the better. This makes for a social occasion and it cuts the total time in half.

PICK RIGHT TIME

Set the children's bath hour at a time when the grownups aren't going to be yelling for the tub or the shower. Just getting clean is important enough, but there ought to be plenty of time to enjoy the process.

Bathtub toys are all very well. But give a child enough suds to play with and he can build mountain peaks, add a frothy beard to his chin, or just admire the pretty colors that shine in the soap bubbles.

No child is going to stay clean, goodness knows. But let each one learn that it is real sport to get clean — at least once in awhile.

Printed Cards Can Announce New Ceremony

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My next door neighbor recently lost her husband. My husband and I went to the funeral home to pay our respects. They are of the Catholic faith; we are Protestants. While we were there the parish priest came in and said the Rosary.

"All knelt and said the prayers with him. My husband and I just sat quietly but felt very conspicuous. I would like to know what was the proper thing to do in this situation.

"Should we have knelt too or should we have left the room until they had finished. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter as we have many Catholic friends and will no doubt be faced with this same situation again."

Answer: You should have remained seated, bowed your heads but not joined in the unfamiliar prayers.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My sister was supposed to have been married last Saturday but a few days before the wedding her fiance was badly hurt in an automobile accident. Her invitations were out and everything was ready.

"The wedding, of course, had to be postponed. We would like to know how to go about notifying the guests when the wedding is ready to take place."

Answer: Have cards printed, reading:

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith take pleasure in informing you that the marriage of their daughter Jane
to
Mr. John Smith which was postponed
will now take place Saturday, the fifth of May at four o'clock
St. John's Church and send them to everyone to whom you sent word of the postponement.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct way to address a letter to an ex-President of the United States?"

Answer: You address the envelope, The Honorable Henry Smith, and begin the letter Sir, or "My dear Sir."

Vinegar Cuts Smoke

Place an open bowl of vinegar in some inconspicuous place in the room the next time that you are having a large number of guests in. You will find the air will remain clean and fresh smelling

CAROLYN F. McCLURE

Mr. and Mrs. Worth McClure of Tecumseh announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn Faye, to Gayle R. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Wilson of Palmer street. A June 14 wedding is planned. Both are attending Emmanuel Missionary College.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Matheny, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. William Dayner, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dempsey, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Culver, Martin Weiberg and Sibyle Woodall.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Road, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ladd and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffman.

The next dance, "Whirlwind," will be held March 7 at Owen School.

Shower Honors Bride-Elect Kathie Young

Kathie A. Young, bride-elect of Dean R. McConkey, was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Aaron Fox on Cherokee road. Cohostesses were Mrs. Ben Bowman, Mrs. Wilma Dickinson, Mrs. Dorothy Hollway and Mrs. Floyd Schoonover.

Miss Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manley Young of Cherokee road, will marry Mr. McConkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McConkey of Durand, March 21 at First Congregational Church.

Mrs. McConkey and Mrs. Young presided at the refreshment table which featured an Italian cut-work cloth with pink and white flowers.

Some 40 members of the Niblick Club were present at the shower, as well as guests from Walled Lake, Birmingham, Detroit and Durand.

Nursery School Has Mothers Workshop

A mothers' workshop was held Tuesday evening by All Saints Cooperative Nursery School at Stevens Hall.

Mrs. Robert Girardin and Mrs. Karl Vary explained creative activities of the school, such as painting and story telling, and the theory behind these activities.

Mothers had a chance to take part in some of the art activities that their children are doing.

LEG CRAMPS?

One of the most common causes of painful muscle cramps in legs, feet, toes, arms and hands is a prolonged deficiency of calcium. So says a famous doctor and widely-read newspaper columnist, formerly with the Mayo Clinic, and other well-known health authorities.

When meals, consistently deficient in calcium, are fortified with DYNA-CAL Calcium Tablets, tormenting calcium-deficient muscle cramps can be promptly relieved. But don't confuse DYNA-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphorus products. DYNA-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNA-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker — bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles.

Pleasant-to-take DYNA-CAL Tablets with calcium, betaine hydrochloride, and vitamins D and C contain no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering miserable muscle cramps, and suspect you are not getting enough calcium, ask for DYNA-CAL Tablets, today. Bottles of 90 tablets, $1.50.

*Other causes for muscle cramps are entirely unrelated to calcium deficiency.

Huskies No Match for Falcons—67-35

Romeo Downs Avon, Milford Upsets Vikings

Waterford and Maples Lose; Other Winners Are Keego, Cranes

By CHUCK ABAIR

A game expected by many to be the most interesting of a well balanced prep hoop schedule turned out to be just the opposite last night when Rochester flattened Pontiac Northern 67-35.

The game at PNH had to take a back seat for thrills as Milford's upset of Walled Lake and a 59-52 Romeo victory over Avondale stole the spotlight.

Waterford concluded its home slate bowing to Wayne 52-45, West Bloomfield whipped Clawson 67-58, Cranbrook downed Bloomfield Hills 60-53 and Birmingham fell before Mt. Clemens 68-53 in other top attractions.

Rochester, which posted its 13th triumph in 15 starts, had tripped the Huskies by only seven last December at home. Tuesday it was never a contest. The bigger, more experienced Falcons virtually toyed with Northern.

RHS finished with a 50 per cent shooting percentage although coach Gene Konley cleaned the bench in the last quarter. The Falcons were controlling the boards and fast breaking well — especially in the opening half.

Milford followers have had little to cheer about this season but they broke out full blast as the Redskins nipped Walled Lake 60-58 avenging one of their 13 setbacks.

Scoring ace Terry Anderson clinched the 2nd Milford win with a 30-foot jump shot with three seconds remaining. The 'Skins had led most of the way paced by Anderson's 20 and 15 for Terry Hoy. Bill Allen starred for the Vikings with 19.

Romeo's rough-and-tumble triumph enabled the Bulldogs to finish regular play with nine straight successes and a 12-3 overall record.

Except for a short spell in the 2nd quarter, Romeo held the edge. The difference got as high as 15 early in the final session. Darryl Thorpe of Avondale topped both teams with 29. Little Reid Olszak swished 23 to spark the victor's attack.

Box Scores Page 28

Waterford trailed all the way despite a good last period in dropping No. 10. Barry Campbell led the Skippers with 16. West Bloomfield had things much easier than the score indicates against Clawson although Trojan Newt Acton caged 32 points. Barry Johnson headed a balanced Keego attack with 17.

Cranbrook took a 30-27 halftime advantage and went on from there to repeat an earlier conquest. Birmingham was behind all the way despite a 20-point night for Merv Gallup.

While the Maples were missing a chance to tie for 3rd place in the Eastern Michigan League, Ferndale and East Detroit moved into a three-way deadlock with Port Huron for 1st place with easy victories. Port Huron or East Detroit will be eliminated when they clash Friday but Ferndale could gain a co-title.

Toy Palmer swished 18 as Ferndale whipped Royal Oak Kimball 59-41. Mike Harris garnered 21 in defeat. East Detroit breezed past Hazel Park 66-29 with 11 players scoring two or more.

Almont clinched at least a share of the Southern Thumb title without too much trouble drubbing Memphis 61-36. Jim Ostrander with 23 and Don Eschenburg with 16 combined to outscore the losers. New Haven held on to 2nd place by belting Capac 68-45 topped by Nate Petty's 21. That title will also be settled Friday.

Utica evened its record at 8-8 by defeating Lake Shore 56-46. Ed Schneider tallied 15, Ed Weyecker and Bob Kleinow added 12 apiece. Saginaw, Pontiac's regular season final foe Friday, dropped a tune-up to Midland 73-61 and Bill Sawyer's 36 digits helped carry Millington to a 96-32 rout of Akron.

Four cagers totaled 57 points in a 62-48 South Lyon win over Howell. Paul Underhill led the pack with 16. Fitzgerald trounced Roseville 60-44, 18 by Ralph Clark led Imlay City over Mayville 63-44 and Oak Park got by Madison Lamphere 55-41. Bill Bailey of Oak Park and Mike DeSantis, Lamphere had 12 each. L'Anse Creuse walloped Madison 80-47 in the other area contest.

SPORTS

Tiger 'Hot Dogs' Win, 21-20

This Is a 'Baseball' Game?

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers have played their first practice game of spring training and they can't help but get better.

That's for certain. After all, the infielders and outfielders won't report to camp until tomorrow. So despite what their detractors say, they couldn't possibly look like they were in mid-season form yesterday when manager Bill Norman sent them out for a seven-inning contest.

The score was 21-20, won by Billy Hoeft's "hot dogs" over Jim Bunning's "crow hops." Little heed was paid to convention baseball rules.

Norman, official scorer who counted the runs, decreed each team would get six outs per inning. He played six outfielders on each club, all at the same time. The Tigers played the outfield like pitchers, which they were.

The six outs to an inning permitted baseball history to be made. Bunning's club turned in two doubleplays in one inning.

Because pitchers aren't supposed to be good hitters, batting was made easy for them. Instead of hitting against their fellow pitchers, they found catchers on the mound.

It was learned Lou Berberet, the backstop acquired from Boston, has quite a gopher ball. Pitchers Frank Lary and Jim Stump and catcher Charlie Lau nicked Berberet for home runs.

Lary was dusted off on the pitch before he clouted his circuit wallop over the center field fence.

Wry-faced Lary shouted "that'll teach you to brush me" to Berberet as he trotted around the bases after his shot over the center field fence.

Harvey Kuenn declined joining Al Kaline and Gail Harris in a workout, taking in the activity from the stands and Red Wilson reported late in the day from Madison Wis.

The entire squad will have nine days of training before opening the Grapefruit League schedule March 7 against Washington.

Hayes Has Plane Woes

Another Try for Jones

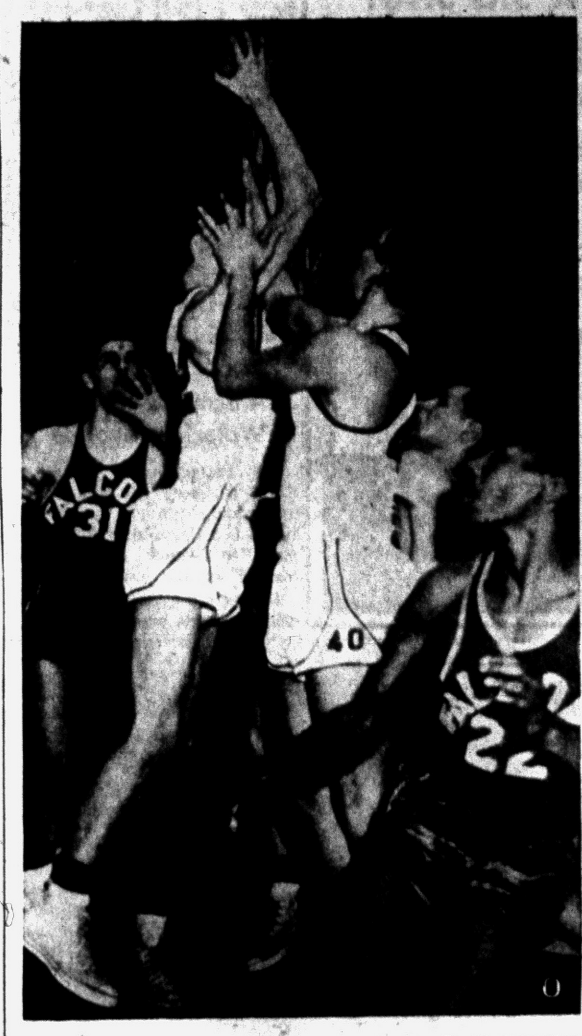

Pontiac's Hayes Jones, Eastern Michigan's outstanding high hurdler, is going to make another try to compete in a Madison Square Garden indoor meet this year.

He was entered in the New York A.C. meet Feb. 14 against Elias Gilbert of Winston-Salem college, the NCAA champ, and Lee Calhoun, Olympic king. Jones is the AAU outdoor high hurdle champion. But fog kept his plane grounded and he was unable to reach New York.

Last weekend the same trio was entered in the AAU indoor championships with Jones the defending champion. His plane reached New York after all qualifying races had been run and Jones was scratched.

Now he and the other two again are entered in the Knights of Columbus meet on March 7. To be sure he'll make it on time, Jones is going a day early.

WE WANT THE BALL — Ernie Oliver of Pontiac Northern finds himself the center of attention as he takes the ball on a rebound against Rochester. Dick Eley (40) of PNH gets tangled in a wave of arms. Larry Hummel (31) and Gene Lothery (22) of Rochester are in the photo. Rochester won, 67-35.

Defending champion Pancho Gonzales and Lew Hoad defeated their young Australian rivals, Mal Anderson and Ashley Cooper, in straight sets last night at Albuquerque, N. M. Gonzales, world pro champ five straight times, defeated Anderson, 6-2, 6-4, in the opener. Hoad conquered Cooper, 6-3, 13-11.

Communist East Germany charged yesterday that West German envy was the real reason why an East German ski team has been barred from the United States. The Reds said the West Germans, who didn't send any skiers to the current meet at Squaw Valley, Calif., were afraid East German victories there might damage West German prestige.

Ed Lubanski's Pfeiffer Squad Takes Crack at Title Tonight

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The first of the nation's top-rated quintets will take a crack at the 56th American Bowling Congress team championship tonight.

The Pfeiffers, masters of rugged Detroit league play, will be aiming at their fourth ABC title since 1952 when they take to the St. Louis Armory lanes in the 12th day of this 72-day show.

Heading the Pfeiffers is Ed Lubanski, who won the world's Invitational championship at Chicago last December. Lubanski took over the captaincy this season when Lou Sielaff left the team to manage a Detroit bowling alley.

The only change in the standings of the tournament yesterday came as Fraser Trophies of Kansas City, Mo., moved into ninth place in the Open team division with 2,931.

3-Way NL Player Trades Cooking

Braves Search for Possible 2nd Base Deal

Redlegs Offer Lynch for Pitcher; Cardinals Want Outfielder

By United Press International

The Milwaukee Braves, St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds are cooking up player trades under the hot Florida sun that could develop into a three-team smorgasbord.

All three clubs need help at vital positions. The Braves are searching for a replacement for their hospitalized second baseman Red Schoendienst; the Cardinals would like to acquire a hard-hitting outfielder, and the Reds need a first baseman or pitcher.

General managers Bing Devine of the Cardinals and Gabe Paul of the Reds exchanged views during a trade talk at St. Petersburg yesterday and John McHale, the Braves new G.M., conferred with Devine earlier this week.

Here are some of the trades reportedly being kicked around under the sheltering palms:

Jerry Lynch of the Reds for Vinegar Bend Mizell of the Cardinals; Gene Conley of the Braves for Irv Noren or Bobby Gene Smith of the Cardinals; Don Blasingame of the Cardinals for Bob Buhl of the Braves, Johnny Temple of the Reds for Conley and Buhl or Don McMahon and Joe Adcock.

Devine, following his talk with Paul, admitted "we probably will have to give up a front-line pitcher to get a front-line man who can help our attack." And Mizel shapes up as the pitcher who might be sacrificed in any trade, although he is the Cards' outstanding southpaw.

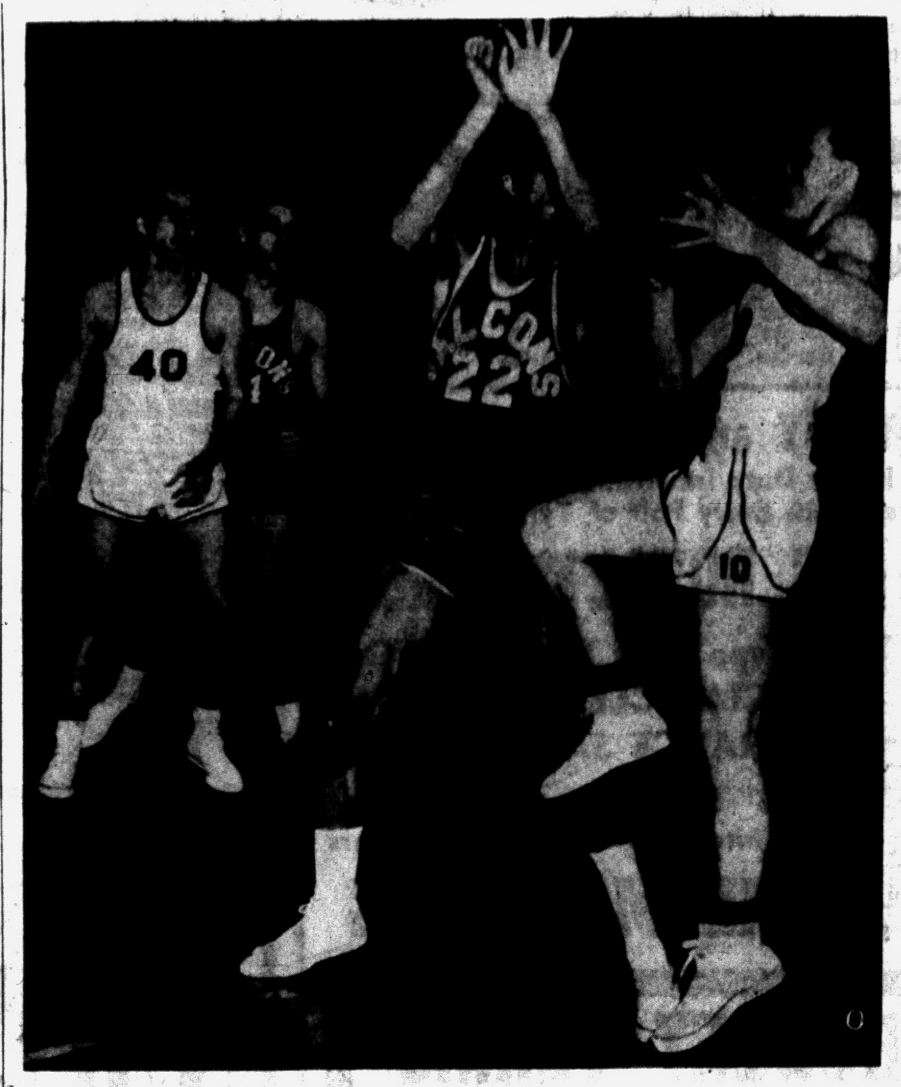

McHale conceded he was "just feeling out the other clubs to see what they have to offer." However, the Milwaukee G.M. would like to land a replacement for Schoendienst before the training season is too far advanced.

The Braves announced yesterday that Mel Roach will have his ailing left knee examined Friday by a physician at Sarasota, Fla.

Several other Major League clubs, meanwhile, may wind up with genuine holdouts when full-scale drills start tomorrow at most training camps. Among the major "stragglers" are Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, Richie Ashburn of the Phillies, and Bob Cerv of the Athletics.

The Yankees haven't heard from Mantle in more than a week although his teammate and buddy, Whitey Ford, telephoned him yesterday at Dallas, Tex., and indicated the switch-hitting slugger may be weakening in his contract squabble.

Cerv isn't satisfied with the Athletics' latest offer—a reported $28,000—and like Mantle has insisted he won't report until he reaches an amicable settlement.

Pontiac Press Photo

NO ROOM HERE — Little Bruce Norton (10) of Pontiac Northern finds little room in trying to take a shot with Gene Lothery of Rochester guarding against the drive. In the background are Dick Eley (40) of PNH and Chuck Ebersole of Rochester. The Falcons whipped the Huskies handily on the PNH court, 67-35.

Proposal Stirs Senators on Grid Game Televising

From Our Wire Services

Free television of the Michigan-Michigan State football game, proposed by two lawmakers from Detroit, stirred pro and con discussions in the state Senate yesterday.

The proposal made by Democratic Sens. Harold M. Ryan and Charles S. Blondy was that "no appropriation for the forthcoming year should be made to either of the two institutions unless they agree that they will allow this game to be openly televised in case there is a sellout."

A handful of senators expressed approval. Others dodged comment or said the schools have their hands tied on the TV policy.

Sen. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland) was not interested in proposal presently. He said he could not see holding up 55 million dollars in state appropriations to iron out a TV policy on a football game."

The game between the two rivals was televised on a commercial closed circuit basis to a dozen Michigan cities last year.

"This game belongs to the people of the state and the least the authorities of these two institutions could do to show their appreciation of the financial support of the taxpayers is to openly televise this game in case of a sellout," the resolution said.

Sen. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) applauded the idea. "I'm sick and tired of these people coming to us and saying they're a constitutional body and the public be damned," he said.

"It looks silly but it may be the start of a good thing," commented Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield).

"I think the schools owe this much to the people if there's a sellout," said Sen. Garland B. Lane (D-Flint).

"I think they ought to televise all games. These are publicly owned institutions," said Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo).

Lower Straits Wins Interlake Puck Title

With less than two minutes left in the hockey game, Lower Straits Lake sextet's Jerry MacCormack rifled a goal into the Long Lake cage to snatch a 2-1 win, and the Interlakes Hockey League's title. Championship tilt was played on indoor ice at Detroit.

Cliff Humble got the first marker and Bob Foster tied it up for Long Lake until the winning 3rd period goal.

Wolverine Lake won the consolation playoff with Walled Lake 3-1. Rich Anderson, Chris Kennedy, Pat Godfrey for Wolverine and Bob Jones for WL scored the goals.

Final standings:

Class D Royals Win in Overtime

Field Goal by Douglas in 2nd Extra Session Nips Welden's, 48-46

The Lakeside Royals clinched the regular season title in the American division of the Class D City Basketball League with a 48-46 double overtime victory over Welden's last night at Lincoln Junior High.

Larry Douglas fired Lakeside's winning field goal in the 2nd overtime period. Welden's Bill Davis took game scoring honors with 25 points while Clifton McCoy bagged 14 for the Royals.

In Class D National League action, Don Smith tallied 13 points to lead Eastside Shopping to a 48-34 triumph over Lee's Sales. Larry Bland scored 17 in a losing cause.

Winglemire's of Holly surprised league-leading Town & Country, 52-45, and the Vikings staged a big 4th-quarter rally to defeat the Pontiac Police, 50-47, in Class C games at Jefferson.

Earl Mudge of T&C was the individual point champion with 20 and Amos Bradsher hit 13 for the Holly team. Earl McKee swished 25 points to spark the Viking win while Bill Newman topped the Police with 14.

County 5s Learning District Foes

Oakland County basketball teams are beginning to learn their opposition in the district tournaments which get under way next week at numerous area sites.

Pontiac Central, Michigan's No. 1 Class A quintet, and six other county schools entered in the "A" district at Southfield won't find out who they're going to play until Thursday night.

The Southfield district draw is scheduled tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Southfield High School cafeteria.

Bloomfield Hills and West Bloomfield will tip off the Class B district tourney at Bloomfield Hills on Wednesday, March 4, at 8 p.m.

Redford St. Mary and Detroit Lutheran West collide at 7 o'clock on Friday, March 6, followed by an 8:30 engagement between Clarenceville and the Keego-Hills winner. Survivors meet Saturday, March 7, in an 8 o'clock clash for the district title.

Clarkston is pitted against Avondale and Oxford squares off with Lake Orion in the Class B district at Pontiac Central. Both games are scheduled March 4 at 7 and 8:30 with the Clarkston-Avondale scrap opening the proceedings. The two winners tangle March 6 for the district championship.

Milford is paired with Northville March 5 and Brighton goes against South Lyon March 4 in the four-team "B" district at Milford. Game time each night is 7:30.

Class C district action at Pontiac Central matches St. Frederick and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows March 3 at 7 o'clock while St. Michael faces Hartland on the same evening in the 8:15 nightcap. Orchard Lake St. Mary and Royal Oak St. Mary both drew byes.

Hamtramck, giving Pontiac Central stiff competition for the mythical state Class A crown in the weekly news service polls, really pulled a "breather" in the "A" district at Birmingham when the Cosmos drew weak Oak Park March 4 at 8:30.

Highland Park also got a "softie" when the Parkers were paired with Royal Oak Kimball in the Birmingham tournament opener March 3 at 7 p.m. Birmingham meets Van Dyke March 4 at 7 o'clock while Ferndale, unbeaten Berkley and RO Dondero all drew byes.

Country Day Cagers Win

Four players scored in double figures, headed by Jim Kramer's 17 points, as the Country Day basketball team defeated Clintondale 56-46 Tuesday night. It was Country Day's 4th win in 14 games. Country Day concludes its regular season schedule at home Thursday afternoon at 3:30 against Detroit Lutheran East.

Glowing Orange Baseball Adopted

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Adoption of a new orange-colored, glowing baseball for its 1959 district and state tournaments was announced by the National Baseball Congress today.

The non-pros' ruling body earlier had adopted the sphere for its 25th annual national tournament, opening Aug. 14 in Wichita.

Ray Dumont, congress president, said use of the ball, for which increased visibility is claimed, will be optional in franchised leagues in this and 27 affiliated nations.

Five manufacturers already have been licensed to make the new type ball, Dumont said.

Graham Named Coach

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—Former pro football great Otto Graham today was named head football coach at the Coast Guard Academy.

Graham also was appointed director of athletics.

Conference Championships in New MSU Pool

'Fast Water' for Big 10 Meet

EAST LANSING (AP) — You've heard of a fast track in horse racing and a fast green in golf.

Now they're talking about "fast water" at the new swimming pool in Michigan State's intramural building.

The pool, built to championship specifications, measures 121 feet by 50. Separate areas can be cut off for the diving and swimming races.

Although the Spartan swimming team already has done some splashing around, the grand opening will come with the Big Ten championships here March 5-7.

"It should be the fastest indoor short course pool in the world," said MSU coach Charles McCaffree Jr.

McCaffree was asked if he had a built-in current there — like a trout stream. He was asked to explain how one stretch of water could be faster than another.

His explanation, which made sense, was that certain refinements had been added to make record-breaking easier.

As instances:

Lanes for the swimmers will be seven foot, 10 inches wide instead of the seven feet allowed in the old pool. This allows the swimmers more freedom of action and creates less chance of their hitting the marker ropes.

In many pools, the side is the outside boundary for the extreme right and left lanes. Swimmers in these lanes have an extra 10 inches outside the ropes between them and the edge of the pool, doing away with the chance of hitting the concrete side of the pool.

Underwater lighting helps guide the swimmers, who flail away with heads down in most of the sprint races. This permits better judgement on when to turn at the pool's end.

For the backstrokers, who swim looking at the ceiling, overhead lights have been installed for guidance. Included is a warning light that tells them when to ready for the turn.

A movable bulkhead, with perforations to let the water through, eliminated the pileup of water ahead of the swimmers and subsequent backwash that might slow them down a tenth of a second or so. Inclined gutters take care of the wash at the other end of the pool.

Even the fancy divers are taken care of with a new refinement. Divers have complained that the glare of overhead lights on the smooth, mirror-like surface of most pools makes it difficult for them to judge distances.

A bubbler agitating the water underneath the 14-foot depth of the diving area keeps the surface constantly roiled to do away with glare that has bothered the high board specialists.

Official scorers for Major League games are usually newspapermen appointed by the league. Their rate of pay is about $20 a game. They earn it, particularly when they have to make an entry that calls for a vast knowledge of the playing rules.

Let's see how much you know about baseball's regulations. You're an expert if you get the following theoretical situation unraveled correctly.

Billy Brunton is on first base and there are none out for the Milwaukee Braves. Sam Jones is pitching for St. Louis. On a 2-2 count, Felix Mantilla attempts to bunt. However, he bunts foul on the third strike and the ball is popped in the air. It is grabbed on the fly by first baseman Stan Musial.

Do you think that:

a. Musial should get the putout?
b. It is an automatic strikeout and catcher Gene Green should get the putout?
c. It is an automatic strikeout and no one gets the putout?

Answer: A — Musial gets the putout. Green would have gotten the putout if the ball had not been caught.

Soldier Field for Cards?

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cardinals may shift their home base from Comiskey Park to Soldier Field, if terms and improvements at the huge lakefront stadium are satisfactory.

Walter Wolfner, managing director of the National Football League club said he will talk Wednesday with officials of the park district which operates Soldier Field.

The Cardinals last year sought to shift to Northwestern University's Dyche Stadium in the northern suburb of Evanston.

However, the agreement would permit a shift to Soldier Field where a decade ago the Chicago Rockets of the defunct All-America Conference operated unsuccessfully.

"We'll be back and with a better place than ever." Those were the words of courageous Joe Bonfiglio today looking over the ruins of what had been the biggest and one of the outstanding bowling establishments in this sector—Huron Bowl.

Joe and co-owner Dominic Mazza, who lost at least $400,000 in the Monday fire, are already talking about the future with high hopes of having one of the outstanding "houses" in Michigan again.

"We intend to rebuild as soon as possible but first we must get the insurance and financial problems settled. We hope to be back in business by fall," added the still shocked but hopeful proprietor and bowling enthusiast.

Joe, who answered his home phone "Huron Bowl" from force of habit and then quickly corrected himself when we called, says he will erect another place on the very same spot — 1124 W. Huron.

Since Huron with its 24 alleys had the most number of leagues in the area—15 men's, 15 women's and three mixed—there have been some busy secretaries this week trying to decide what to do and where to bowl if they continue. Most are expected to land berths at other alleys in order to finish their seasons.

Bonfiglio and Mazza have been overwhelmed by the offers of help from proprietors, bowlers and others in this sector and even in Detroit. Several offered to take over leagues or help in other ways. "I want to thank everyone who helped or offered to help during or after the fire. It was wonderful," stated Bonfiglio.

One of the hardest blows to take for the pair was the complete destruction of the 24 automatic pinsetters. They were installed at a cost of $192,000 and were 40 per cent paid for.

All this would make many throw in the towel but anyone who knows Joe Bonfiglio will not be surprised to learn he plans to come fighting right back.

He is already back in business on a small scale selling bowling equipment at a little sports shop he has opened directly across the street from the former alleys.

Huron Bowl had been well known here as a site for various tourneys and was host to the Pontiac Press Bowlerama finals two years. It gained state notice a short time ago when the opening round of the State Match Game Championships were held there.

HERE 'N THERE

The annual city women's tourney starts the 1st of four weekends at Montcalm Saturday. . .Pat Patterson made a 7-10 split and Dorothy Moore rolled a 120 triplicate in the Captain-Sponsor. Both are from Milford. . .The new Pontiac 700 Club chapter will receive its national charter at a banquet here soon. . .Awarding of bonds for top scores fine gesture by local proprietors.

Hazel Tosh, who averages 146, fired at sizzling 265 at Sylvan Lanes Tuesday. . .Carmen Moats, wife of fellow-worker Guy, got what was probably the last double pinochle at Huron Bowl last week making the 4-7, 6-10 split. . .M. Collins hit 265, E. Szot 243, E. Roberts 247-643 at Lake Orion.

Bentley Mat Winner

Walled Lake High's wrestlers salvaged four wins by decision in yesterday's dual match at Livonia Bentley, as the host squad won 27-12. Loss was the 11th against two wins for Walled Lake.

Wins for Walled Lake were chalked up by Mike Cosgrove at 112 pounds, Jim Balkwell at 133, John Van Sicklen at 175 and Jim Teddy, heavyweight.

Anthony, Ray Sign Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Light heavyweight contenders Tony Anthony of New York and Sonny Ray of Chicago Tuesday were matched for a return 10-round television fight at Madison Square Garden, March 20.

Anthony, No. 1 contender, outpointed Ray, ranked fifth, last Nov. 14.

Wings, Pistons Have Crucial Games Ahead

With their backs to the wall, Detroit's two pro winter athletic teams, the Red Wings and Pistons face "crucial" games this week.

The Wings open a three-game road trip tonight in New York in an important game against the Rangers. New York is the team Detroit must beat to claim the last niche in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

By winning tonight the Wings can narrow the gap to three points and a defeat would be disastrous for a chance to claim 4th place and a playoff berth.

The Wings have 13 games left, five at home and eight away. Saturday they are at Toronto and Sunday in Chicago.

Detroit holds a 6-4-1 advantage over the Rangers and tonight's encounter will be the first at Madison Square Garden since the Gordie Howe-Lou Fontinato fight, Feb. 1st.

After the three road games, the Wings return home for game against Boston, March 3rd, which will be "Gordie Howe Night" at the Olympia.

The Pistons are faced with an uphill battle to regain second place in the Western Division of the NBA.

Tonight they meet the St. Louis Hawks in the second game of an Olympia doubleheader. Minneapolis, holding a 3½ game bulge over the Pistons for second place, meets Cincinnati in a 7:00 p.m. opener.

St. Louis is far ahead of the pack in this division, led by Bob Pettit who is setting a dazzling 28.9 scoring pace.

This will be the last game at the Olympia. The rest of the Pistons' home schedule will be played at the U. of D. Memorial fieldhouse.

Tonight is "high school" night at the Olympia with all prep students admitted for 50 cents each.

Armada Grabs Victory in Last Seven Seconds

Trailing by one point in the final seven seconds, Armada High snatched a 53-52 win over Dryden on Terry Willis' jump shot, last night at Armada. Dryden had held a 12-point lead at halftime, but was outscored in the last period. Armada's free throw accuracy really was the winning factor, it hit 19 of 27 tries. Game was a Southern Thumb League tilt.

Dryden's John Englert was top scorer with 24, while Julius Traub paced winners with 14.

Shamrocks Upset Mountaineers 44-34

By H. GUY MOATS

Tuesday night was a good one on the basketball courts for Pontiac St. Michael and Orchard Lake St. Mary. Both clubs came through with shining victories over highly-rated opponents in tuneup contests for the coming district tourney in Pontiac Central gymnasium.

Shamrocks caught Mt. Clemens St. Mary, minus the full strength that ace point-maker Bob Joyce ordinarily gives the Mountaineers, and won 44-34. The victory evened the score with the visitors, who defeated Shamrocks 58-50 a week ago.

The Eaglets staked out an early lead over Detroit St. Hedwig, never permitted their hosts to catch up as they marked their 13th win against four losses, 67-44.

St. Michael jumped off to a 7-point edge before the visiting Mountaineers got into the scoring column. St. Mary was never square, although closing to three points several times. They were sorely hit by the loss of their star, Joyce, who collected six points before being forced out of the game by illness. In the first game with Mikemen he hit 26 points.

Joe Gillespie picked up some of the slack with 18, but the woeful freeshooting of the club really licked it. They got only 8 of 23 tries, while Shamrocks converted 14 of 20.

Shamrocks' game was one of its best of the season. Balanced scoring, with three in double figures, excellent work by George Drake, particularly, on the boards, and good ball handling turned the trick. Drake contributed 13, Pat Campbell and Tom Dabbs 12 each.

Shamrocks return to the PCH floor Friday as hosts for Detroit St. Ambrose.

Chet Wlodkowski led the Eaglets scoring with 20 points, including 10 of 13 free throws, seven in the finale. Thre teammates also hit in double figures, Glenn Hass 12, Bill Votruba 11, Mike Witkor 10. OLSM had a 44 per cent average from the floor, hit 27 of 42 free throw tries.

George Ayood had 16 for losers.

Eaglets are hosts Thursday to Detroit Sweetest Heart of Mary club in the Orchard Lake season's finale, prior to the district tests.

Area Sportsmen Donate $500

Winter Feeding Saves Ringnecks

By The Press Outdoor Editor

While the ultimate answer will come in the spring, after the winter breakup, it appears at this time that the Thumb area pheasants who survived the "deep freeze" may come through fairly well.

But many farmers and landholders in the area who live closely to the ringneck and his problems of winter existence, are agreed that where no feeding has been done Mr. Longtail has fared badly. That seems to be the general opinion expressed to Jack Greathouse and Art Perry, Pontiac shotgunners who visited many pheasant country residents during the last weekend.

SNOW SMOTHERS ROOSTING BIRDS

Greathouse and Perry turned over better than $500 to residents of the ringneck country to purchase feed. The funds were donated by sportsmen from this section who hunted the Thumb section, and who wished to aid in saving the birds. Their aid is one of the best ways to cement good farmer-hunter relations, Greathouse and Perry pointed out.

Hugh Bouck of Dunn Road reported that after last Friday's driving snow storm he had found 16 pheasants smothered in one of his ditches where they had roosted beneath the overhang of earlier thaws.

Don Hedley of South Colwell road, a farmer in summer, a bus driver in winter, has been winter-feeding a large flock back of his barn. One rooster that was seen had his tail and all his breast feathers pulled out after becoming frozen to the ice crust while roosting. Birds in Don's area were in fairly good condition.

At Bach the elevator is feeding a flock of 75. Birds in this area were in good health.

At Wildfowl Bay the Pontiac men talked with conservation officer Red Webb. His summation of the situation coincides closely with those of the farmers.

All farmers contacted were unanimous in the opinion that during the first of the crusting over of the snow and the two weeks following freezing rain pushed the mortality rate high.

At Caseville Bob Smith is king of the winter-feeders. His efforts to save the flocks is already a byword in his section and many city hunters who get their birds next fall can thank this kind-hearted farmer-builder for them. Most of the money donated by sportsmen after last week's plea for help has gone to buy grain for Bob to scatter over his wide areas.

Smith says that since he has started feeding many other farmers have followed suit. It is also his opinion that if every hunter that guns the chinks in autumn would make an effort to either feed during severe winters or reimburse the farmer for doing it there would be no farmer-hunter problem, and that the pheasant supply could be increased annually. He estimates he alone is feeding 400 to 500 birds.

NEW CANINE CHAMPIONS

The Volney R. Cottons, operators of the Englewood Kennels at Ortonville have a new champion among their fine Irish setters. Englewood's Kopper Challenge, finished his championship at the recent Macomb all-breed AKC point show, just nine months after Volney, PKC prexy, began his campaign Feb. 7, 1958, at Kalamazoo. His 15 points included three majors.

Challenge is the Cotton's 2nd champion, the other being Ch. Englewood's Sunnyflame.

Another new area champion is two-year-old Adora Sir Bullett, a handsome Pomeranian owned by Mrs. Eloise Chandler of Lake Orion. Adora was finished at the recent Canton, Ohio club show, now has only five points to go for his international championship. He is also the 2nd champion for Mrs. Chandler, whose Adora El-O-Bee (two-years-old) finished a year ago.

Only Few of Animals Left in Michigan

Peltz Would Drop State Wolf Bounty

LANSING (UPI)—Several Michigan lawmakers want to take the bounty off the few remaining wolves in the state and it appears they might be successful.

Rep. Emil Peltz (R-Rogers City) has asked for approval on a bill removing wolves from bounty classification because he doesn't want to "see the state pay a bounty for killing the last wolf."

Peltz' idea had a lot of support among the outdoor-lawmakers too.

The same try last session was killed in a Senate committee because some were afraid there might be an attempt to have bounties also lifted on foxes.

Peltz said that can't happen because the bill only applies to the law on coyote and wolves and has no effect on foxes.

Peltz, a member of the House Conservation Committee since he first became a legislator in 1944, has been chairman of the group for six years although he is not now its head.

Conservation department predator specialist Ray Schofield said only about 25 wolves remain in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

"The last authentic record of a wolf kill in the Lower Peninsula was in 1907 around Saginaw," Schofield said, "and only seven were bountied last year in the Upper Peninsula."

The bounty system in general is frowned on by Peltz who said it "biologically produces no results."

Present head of the conservation committee in the House, Rep. Hans Rasmussen of Ludington, said Peltz was the spark plug in the move for an "any deer" season also and is working hard for removal of the wolf bounty.

Rassmussen said removal of the bounty might create some protection for the few remaining wolves in the state.

"Removing all predators can cause plenty of damage," he said. "The Kaibab forest in Arizona was fenced in and all predators removed many years ago.

"The deer herd there, operating with no natural enemies, soon got out of hand and became much too big to handle.

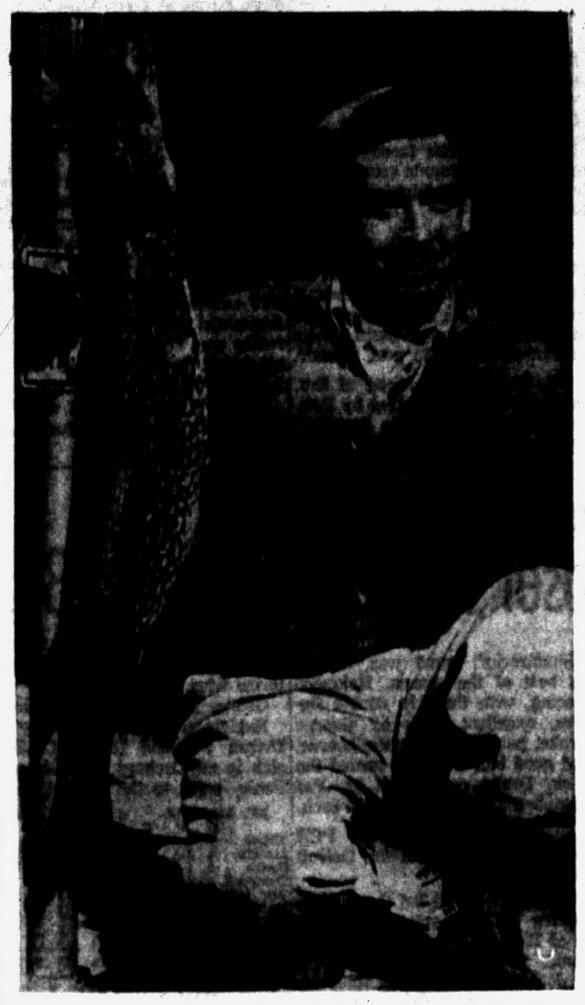

"When we start unbalancing nature, we get into trouble," he said.

Rasmussen, who like Peltz is a long-time sportsman, does his deer hunting on 440 acres of land on Drummond Island and said he was inclined to be against the any deer season until he realized that putting does in an "exalted position" and not considering them deer was actually "killing them with kindness."

Conservation specialists say the deer herd must be kept in line with the available food supply.

Peltz predicts "clear sailing" for his try at removing the wolf bounty. He has a fairly good start because five other legislators, including two from the Upper Peninsula, have joined him in sponsoring the bill.

FAT, AND HEFTY — This fat and hefty northern pike was taken from Cedar Island Lake during the weekend by the smiling angler, Jim Lobby, of Keego Harbor. The fish is 40 inches long, weighed 17 pounds and was speared through a 3x2 foot hole in ice that was 26 inches thick. Lobby was with another Keego fisherman, Pete Young. They also got a 9 pounder.

Specialty Show for Basset Hounds

Basset hounds of the Metropolitan area will have their day, Friday, at a specialty show for the breed. Show will be held at the dairy building on the Michigan State Fair Grounds, Detroit.

Judging will start at 8 p.m.

The show is under auspices of the Basset Hound Club of Greater Detroit, of which Chris G. Teeter of Birmingham is president. Membership includes many Basset hound fanciers in the Pontiac area.

Militant 'Rats Invade Angler's Fishing Shanty

OCONOMOWOC, Wis. (AP)—James Doherty unlocked his fishing shanty on frozen Upper Nashotah Lake to discover that he had had uninvited guests.

Muskrats had come up through the hole in the ice and chewed up most of his fishing equipment. He managed to chase the muskrats back into the water and started to fish.

But the retreat was only temporary. A muskrat appeared in the hole and Doherty tried to poke it down with a chisel. The animal came up and chased him out of the shanty. Looking back, Doherty saw two muskrats standing guard in the doorway. After a suitable wait, Doherty moved the shanty.

Predator Bounties $7,375 for January

Hunters and trappers collected $7,375 in bounty payments for coyotes, foxes and bobcats during January.

Payments totaled $6,135 for 1,227 foxes. The remaining bounty fees went for 65 coyotes and 24 bobcats.

Bounty payments were $9,680 during January, 1958.

He's Polite Hunter

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Okla. (AP) — Earl Lamirand saw wild geese on a farm pond. He crawled quietly within range and smack into a "keep out" sign. He carefully crawled back and walked to the farmer's house to get permission to shoot. He crawled back to the pond and the geese still were there. He shot two.

Cows Now Have Chance in Wyoming

Law Protects Livestock

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—The Wyoming Legislature's approval of a bill to revoke or suspend the licenses of hunters whose negligence caused fatal or serious injuries brought out two quips.

The bill would provide a 5-year suspension of licenses for persons fatally injuring any domestic livestock and permanent revocation for fatally injuring a human.

Sen. Albert C. Harding (R-Moorcroft) said he voted for the bill "because the last time I went elk hunting I was shot at twice. Of course, being a legislator there can be some doubt whether it was negligence or intentional."

Another legislative observer said the bill established a precedent in Wyoming. "It's the first time the penalty for shooting a man is stiffer than for shooting a cow," he said.

Diablo Dam on Rio Grande River Would Control Floods, Store Water

LAREDO, Tex. (UPI)—The proposed Diablo Dam on the Rio Grande would give the international river its second great dam between Texas and Mexico. It would help to control floods, generate hydroelectric power and store water for a growing region.

Diablo, which means "devil" in Spanish, would be much larger than Falcon Dam and would be located some 200 miles upstream from Falcon, where the truculent Devil's River meets the Rio Grande.

Diablo Dam itself would be six and a half miles long—compared to five miles for Falcon—and it would back water 70 miles up the Rio Grande past Langtry, the dusty little town where Judge Roy Bean administered his "Law West of the Pecos."

Hopes are high now for the quick construction of Diablo since President Eisenhower and President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico at their Acapulco conference, agreed to push the project.

But it still must be approved by Congress and now it is only in the planning stage.

This part of the country usually suffers from too much water or too little water. Since the last great drought—when the Rio Grande was a mere trickle—waste water going into the Gulf of Mexico has averaged 265,000 acre feet yearly. This is water originating above Falcon that Diablo would catch.

In wet years, Falcon cannot hold all the water that comes down to it and must release part of it into the Gulf of Mexico.

This country's share of the cost to construct Diablo will be 50 million dollars, according to L. H. Hewitt, commissioner of the U. S. section of the international boundary and water commission at Laredo.

As a comparison, this country's share of the cost to build Falcon was 36 million dollars.

At full capacity, Diablo reservoir would cover 84,000 acres compared to Falcon's 115,600 acres, but this is because it would be in a better location.

But Diablo would have a maximum storage capacity of 5,660,000 acre feet, of which 3,550,000 acre feet would be maximum storage capacity. The rest would be flood and super-flood storage.

The Falcon maximum is 4,085,000 acre feet, of which maximum conservation is 2,800,000 acre feet.

Diablo Dam would be 253.3 feet high, over 100 feet higher than Falcon Dam. Diablo would have 18 spillway gates compared to Falcon's 6 gates.

This country's share of electric power, with Falcon and Diablo coordinated, would be hiked to an average of 234,900,000 kilowatt hours annually, compared to Falcon's 101,900,000 kilowatt hours.

The two dams would assure a constant supply of water for irrigation development and municipal uses. This would be especially true below Falcon, in the lush, semi-tropical Rio Grande valley, where greater demands for water are being made for citrus and other crops.

Cheap Foreign Labor May Hurt U.S. Firms

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — The Assistant Secretary of the Army says modern factories abroad paying low labor costs may result in American industry losing its production advantage.

Assistant Secretary Frank H. Higgins warned that divergent plants in Japan and Russia are outproducing and underpricing the U. S. factories in many fields.

Higgins addressed the Bridgeport Manufacturers Assn. Monday night.

He said he visited Japan recently and that factories there were quoting a price og $3,368 for a military truck for which the U.S. Army is paying $7,100 to American firms.

Japanese factory workers earn 50 cents an hour compared with $2.70 an hour at American auto plants, Higgins said.

Consumer Choice in Food to Reach 6,000 Products

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The American consumer who had a choice of about 3,000 different food items 10 years ago, now has to pick from nearly 5,000, with another 1,000 new products and new brands expected to appear this year.

Mary Holmes, consumer marketing information agent at Michigan State University, said today food companies spent almost 100 million dollars for research into new products.

Development and testing of various products produces many effects and results in broad expansion in product development and improvement, new technology and mass merchandizing techniques, said Miss Holmes.

Marketing efficiency increases, leading to promotion of more new products of high quality and low relative cost.

She said that in many instances, foods thought of as luxury items, are available at little extra cost and a recent pilot study showed that convenience foods cost only one per cent more than their unserviced counterparts.

We're Sorry, Lady

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A woman visitor from St. Louis, just in from the airport, told the hotel clerk that she had left her purse in a cab. But at least I know the name of the driver she said. "It was William Thien." The clerk explained unhappily that Thien is the police inspector who signs the cabbies' ID cards.

Willys Will Produce Small Car in Brazil

TOLEO, Ohio (AP)—Willys Motors, Inc., and a Brazilian affiliate have signed an agreement with a French automobile manufacturer for production of the Dauphine passenger car in Brazil, Willys announced today.

The agreement involves Willys Motors, Inc., Willys-Overland do Brazil and Regie Nationale des Usines Renault.

S. A. Girard, vice president and general manager of Willys Motors, said Willys and Renault would jointly invest $11,968,000 in machines and equipment in Willys-Overland do Brasil (WOB). Additional financing would be provided through issuance in Brazil of WOB common stock.

The club also will elect directors at the public meeting in Owen Elementary School beginning at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Ann Arbor RR Ferries Grind Through Ice Jam

STURGEON BAY, Wis. (AP) — Two Ann Arbor Railroad car ferries, grinding their way through ice-jammed Green Bay, hope to arrive at Menominee on schedule tomorrow.

Ferries No. 5 and 7 made slow progress yesterday. They were bucking a stretch of ice windrows, some of which were about 25 feet tall.

Grains Show Firmer Tone

CHICAGO (AP) — A generally firmer tone marked early dealings today in grain futures on the Board of Trade.

Nearly all contracts were unchanged or slightly above previous closes in a fairly active mixed trade. Another decline last week in commercial stocks of wheat in Chicago brought out a moderate amount of short-covering in the old crop deliveries along with a light scattered demand for the new crop contracts on word that there is a possibility of some rather widespread disease damage to the winter crop in Western Kansas.

One grain firm commented that at the end of last week the wheat supply in Chicago available for delivery on contracts was down to about three million bushels. There were no cash wheat arrivals today.

Wheat was ¼ to ½ cent a bushel higher near the end of the first hour, March $1.99⅝; corn ⅜ higher to ⅛ lower, March old type contract $1.14¾; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, March 64¾; rye ⅞ higher to ¼ lower, March $1.38½; soybeans ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, March $2.19¾.

End to Strife at Mill Urged

N.C. Governor Appeals to Textile Union and Company Officials

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP)—Gov. Luther Hodges has warned union and management officials they bear "direct and personal responsibility" to prevent further violence in the bitter Henderson-Harriet Cotton Mill strike.

Negotiators received strongly-worded telegrams from the Governor as they prepared to meet again today in an effort to end the 15-week dispute.

"The rising tensions and the continuance of....acts of violence constitute a threat to the maintenance of law and order which cannot be condoned," Hodges declared.

He referred to three bombings, stoning and car-tipping incidents, threats against several workers, and an attack on vice president of the Textile Workers Union of America. All have occurred since company President John D. Cooper Jr., reopened the plants Feb. 16.

Police and sheriff's officers, reinforced by state highway patrolmen, escorted several hundred nonstrikers in and out of the company's two plants Tuesday. Several rocks were hurled and a crowd of about 200 shouted jeers and catcalls at the main plant in South Henderson. There was no demonstration at the North Henderson plant.

Seven strikers were charged with various degrees of assault as a result of earlier incidents.

Both sides indicated some progress was made toward reaching an agreement during a bargaining session with state and federal mediators. TWUA representative John Fry said, however, "we did not tackle the arbitration issue—only some areas of control."

The company's 1,200 workers voted to strike Nov. 17 when management insisted that a provision calling for arbitration in settling disputes be left out of a new contract. The provision had been in effect 14 years.

A TWUA vice president, H. D. Lisk of Charlotte, told a union mass meeting Tuesday night that Gov. Hodges should call both sides together in an effort to end the stalemate and that meanwhile the company should discontinue operations.

Sentence Area Youth to Jackson Prison

An 18-year-old Walled Lake youth who admitted breaking into the Detroit Gun Club in Commerce Township last month yesterday was sentenced to serve a term of from 2 to 15 years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

Sentenced was Gary E. Kelly, of 3972 Detroit Blvd.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland pronounced the sentence on Kelly, who on Feb. 9 pleaded guilty to taking beer and liquor from the club.

3 Local Youths Saved From Bad Beer

Three Pontiac teenagers may have experienced a greatly altered "taste" for beer had it not been for an alert citizen and Waterford Township Police, it was revealed today.

Being held at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of larceny from a building are Henry J. Abare, 18, of 1077 Argyle St.; John G. Moss, 17, of 430 Boyd St., and Robert E. Randall, 18, of 657 E. Pine St.

An unidentified man reported to police late Monday that a suspicious looking car was parked near the Huron Bowl building, 1124 W. Huron St., which had been gutted by fire earlier in the day.

Police found the trio in the car with five cases of beer and four quarts of wine. Officers said the bottles were still sealed, but badly charred.

The youths said they had taken the beverages from the basement of the burned out 300 Lounge.

According to an area beer distributor, the beer would have been "no good" after being cooked in the fire.

Solons Urged to Bar GM Retail Financing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A banker and spokesmen for auto finance companies urged Congress today to divorce the giant General Motors Corp. from its wholly-owned subsidiary, General Motors Acceptance Corp.

They also told the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee that all other automobile manufacturers should be barred by law from engaging in financing of retail auto sales or automobile insurance.

Charles B. Whiteside, vice president of the Merchants National Bank of Ft. Smith, Ark., said in prepared testimony that GM and GMAC "have practically monopolized the sales financing and insurance of General Motors dealers."

Whiteside said despite past and current antitrust actions, General Motors has "power of business life or death over each of its dealers."

Officials of independent auto finance companies joined Whiteside in contending they have been unable to obtain any volume of business on sales of GM cars at wholesale or retail.

Steel Mills After Record

DETROIT (AP) — Iron Age, a national metalworking weekly publication, said Tuesday Detroit mills are making an attempt at an all-time high output this week. Operations at 97.9 per cent of capacity have been scheduled and mills here expect to produce 149,500 tons of steel this week. The Detroit district's record production was set in the week of last Jan. 10 when 146,290 tons were produced with mills operating at 95.7 per cent of capacity. Last week Detroit mills produced 145,025 tons of steel with an operating rate of 95.1 per cent capacity.

Would Not Mean Tax Rate Hike

Waterford to Vote on School Bond Issue

A special school election will be held in Waterford Township School District Tuesday to decide a $5 million bond issue, plus a five-mill tax increase for school operation.

"If both of these proposals are approved, it will not produce an increase in any individual's annual school taxes providing his assessed valuation is not increased," Superintendent of Schools William Shunck said.

Purpose of the proposed bond issue is to construct and furnish a second high school, elementary school buildings, additions to existing elementary buildings, additions to the Maintenance and Board of Education buildings and to acquire additional sites.

The plan explaining how the bond issue could be paid for without increasing taxes has been presented to various civic organizations by Board of Education members and other school officials for the past four months.

Due to the increase in the growth of the school district, debts are being paid off more rapidly than was intially anticipated, Shunck pointed out. Therefore, the cost of the propositions can be fitted into the school program without increasing the school taxes over last year, he said.

The senior high school was built in 1949, provided by a $1,400,000 bond issue set up for a 16-year period. This was paid off in eight years, due to the large population growth which provided a high valuation.

At the present time Waterford Township School District's equalized valuation is $83 million as compared to $25 million in 1949, Shunck said.

In 1952 voters approved a $1,350,000 bond issue for the Isaac Crary Junior High School, and in 1954 a bond issue was approved for elementary school building, totaling $1,400,000.

Shunck explained that they could be paid off in one more year with a tax rate of $2 per each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

In 1956 residents again approved a bond issue of $3½ million for elementary schools, additions, sites and the new John D. Pierce Junior High School.

These bond issues have provided 10 new schools, eight large additions and 15 school building sites during the last 10 years, he said.

The proposal for an additional five mills for operation is primarily for teacher's salaries and increased personnel, Shunck said. He added that Waterford Township has one of the lowest teacher-salary schedules in Oakland County and in order to add and retain good teachers, salaries must be put on a competitive basis with other schools.

With only 400 pupils graduating in June and 1,300 kindergartners expected to enroll next September —according to census reports there is an immediate space-problem, Shunck said.

"This will become increasingly apparent as the pupil progresses through each grade, and this does not even consider future township growth."

Waterford Township school district has almost 1,000 more pupil enrollment than Battle Creek, Bay City or Ann Arbor, according to reports in the Michigan Educational Directory.

Union Rejects Offer From Michigan Bell

DETROIT (AP) — A third wage offer by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. has been rejected by the Communications Workers of America as "inadequate."

Negotiations are continuing in efforts to reach an agreement on a new contract to replace one that expired at midnight Sunday.

No strike deadline has been set by the union, but pickets have appeared at Michigan Bell plants in Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Bay City. The pickets returned to work after being ordered to go back by the international union.

Cost Estimate Error for Sewer Righted

A $641,000 error in computation on the new cost of the Farmington interceptor sanitary sewer system put Oakland County supervisors through four tedious roll call votes yesterday but probably saved the county plenty of headaches had it not been noticed.

Harold K. Schone, director of the sewer planning Department of Public Works, apologized for being "solely responsible" for the error in the new total of $5,107,000 presented in resolutions adopted by the supervisors Feb. 9.

The newer total, arrived at by staff personnel after they noticed the error in adding up enginering estimates, is $5,748,000, Schone said.

So supervisors yesterday toiled through four additional roll calls, read off by Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr., to correct resolutions related to the proposed sewer.

Schone said it was good that the mistake was caught before bonds were sold to finance the sewer based on the incorrect estimate.

The sewer is slated to serve Farmington and West Bloomfield townships and the cities of Southfield and Keego Harbor.

The DPW director said the correction also would make a proportionate difference in the costs of the sewer to the four areas, as compared to the shares published earlier.

With yesterday's approval of new resolutions, Schone said application to issue general obligation bonds would be made tomorrow to the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

Sale of the bonds, if approval is given, is scheduled for 2 p.m. March 2, Schone added, with construction to start prior to April 15.

Campy's Son Admits Theft

Arrested in Street Fight Monday, Now Faces New Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—The 15-year-old son of Roy Campanella, former baseball great, has admitted breaking into a Queens drug store.

David Campanella was arrested a little more than an hour after he was found guilty Tuesday of another juvenile delinquency charge.

The father, partially paralyzed in an auto accident a year ago, was shocked by the arrest.

"The boy's my boy," he said. "I got to try to help him when he gets messed up. I tried to help as much as I could with juvenile delinquency and here's my boy that jumped off the track."

As David's mother, Mrs. Ruthe Campanella, took the boy home following the second arrest she said: "This is going to break his father's heart."

David, a 10th grader in a private school in Queens, told police he and a friend, George Delmos, 16, broke into the drug store 11 days ago.

Campanella, a Negro, and Delmos, who is white, are accused of looting the till and taking cigarettes and cosmetics.

The store's proprietor, Daniel Statesman, said $500 was taken. David told police he took $9 and some cigarettes.

"We were acting a little crazy," David said. "I just got mixed up with some crazy kids."

David was booked for juvenile delinquency — specification burglary.

Young Campanella faces arraignment before Domestic Relations Judge Wilfred A. Waltemade who already has found him guilty of juvenile delinquency.

Waltemade convicted the boy following police charges that David and Delmos took part with others in a street fight Monday.

The judge paroled David to his mother.

"If you get in further trouble and are returned to Children's Court, you have my word, boy, you will be dealt with very severely," he said.

Plymouth Resuming Full Production

DETROIT (AP)—Plymouth, whose auto manufacturing operations were slackened by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. strike, has announced plans to resume full production in March. The strike was settled recently.

Plymouth said it would operate "full blast" in March. The Chrysler Division scheduled for production more automobiles than it has produced in any month since August 1957.

The expected total output for next month was set at nearly 60,000 units. In August 1957, Plymouth Division produced 67,716 assemblies.

"On the basis of dealer orders and public acceptance of our car," said Harry M. Chesbrough, Plymouth general manager, "there is every reason to believe we will be able to continue to build Plymouth cars at high volume."

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LAWrence Bell who passed away 15 years ago February 25, 1944.
15 years passed, how long it seems,
But in our hearts his face still beams,
For we who miss him only know
How much we lost 15 years ago.
Sadly missed by mother, sister, and brother Mrs. Herbert Bell, Azel, and Harold.

Tollefson Calls for Inquiry

'Champagne' Trips Scored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Congressman wants an investigation of the style in which government workers are traveling by airplane at taxpayer expense.

Rep. Thor C. Tollefson (R-Mich) says too many government employes are taking deluxe "champagne" flights rather than economy ones.

The Congressman requested an investigation in a letter to Chairman William L. Dawson (D-Ill) of the House Government Operations Committee, giving examples of what he is complaining about.

Tollefson told of a businessman flying from Europe to this country aboard a jet plane who found that most of the deluxe passengers were government personnel —and "most of the economy passengers were businessmen."

Roundtrip deluxe fare is $903.40, while the economy rate is $478.70, Tollefson said. Deluxe passengers are served cocktails and a hot meal; economy riders get "deluxe" sandwiches, but no liquor.

Tollefson said an airline president had told him of making a transcontinental flight to the West Coast on a plane carrying both coach and first class passengers. For coach passengers the round-trip fare was $229.50; for first class, $343.98.

"First class passengers receive two cocktails, hors d'oeuvres, wine with meal and champagne," Tollefson said. "Coach passengers receive a meal but must buy liquor if they desire it.

Tollefson said the airline president informed him that to the best of his knowledge all first class passengers on the plane were on government orders "and consisted of Marine privates, Navy ensigns and similar personnel."

Government personnel should travel in comfort, Tollefson said. "However, I do not believe that the taxpayers of our nation would approve of their traveling in deluxe fashion."

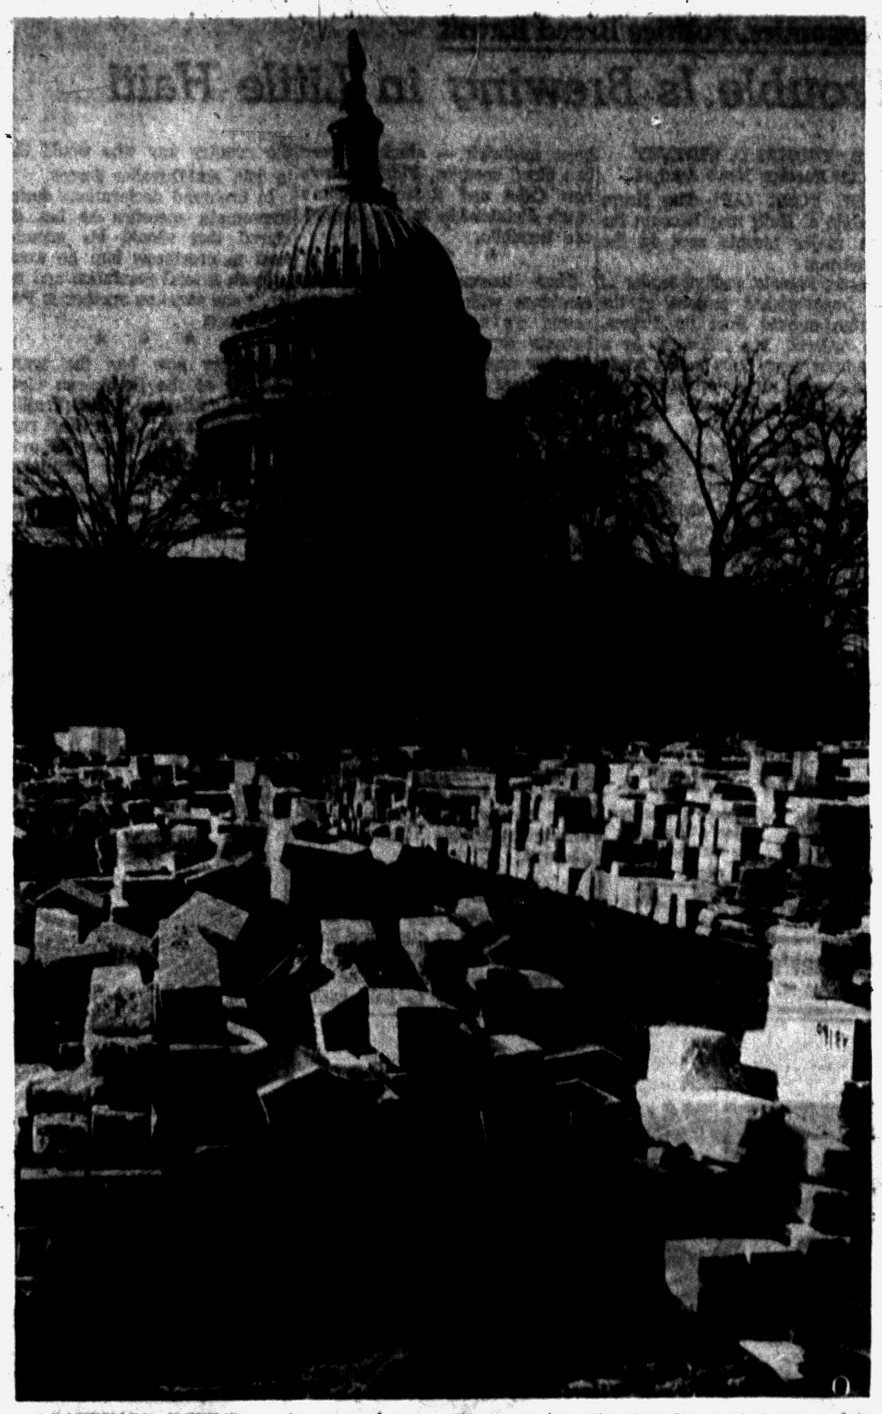

Deborah Kerr's Friend Sued for Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Screenwriter Peter Viertel, whose name has long been linked romantically with that of British actress Deborah Kerr, was sued for divorce Tuesday.

Mrs. Virginia Viertel charged extreme cruelty.

They married in 1944 and separated in 1952. They have a child, Christine, 7.

Miss Kerr sued Anthony Bartley for divorce in Santa Monica, Calif. last June, asking custody of their children, Melanie, 11, and Francesca, 7.

GRAVEYARD EFFECT — An unusual appearance is achieved by these large stones stacked outside the Capitol in Washington. The stones, carefully numbered for future use, were removed from the building during the reconstruction operation. The East Front of the Capitol is being moved forward more than 32 feet to provide more office space. The blocks will be utilized again when the new structure is erected.

To Extend East Front 32 Feet

Capitol Reconstruction Started

WASHINGTON (AP) — Using two silver-plated shovels, House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) formally broke ground yesterday for the 10 million dollar reconstruction of the Capitol's East Front.

The East Front has been removed and will be extended about 32 feet forward. The reconstruction is to be finished in time for the 1960 inauguration ceremonies.

Rayburn turned over half a dozen shovelsful of prepared soft ground to get the project officially under way.

He told several hundred visitors and Capitol officials and employes that removal and restoration of the East Front was necessary "because it was in a dangerous condition."

"In this building," he said, "is housed the legislative branch of the government, that part of the government which is closest to the people because it comes from the people."

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill), the Senate's representative at the ceremony, referred to the reconstruction job as "the modification of a great shrine."

Dirksen, GOP leader in the Senate, is a member of the commission in charge of the project. Rayburn is chairman.

No Wonder Reds Want to Keep the Refugees

British Gas African Mob

Planes Spray Crowds in Nationalist Riot at Nyasaland

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (AP)—Britain is facing up to a new nationalist threat in Africa—mounting racial unrest in black Nyasaland.

With angry native demonstrations continuing since last Friday, Royal Air Force planes sprayed rock-throwing crowds with tear gas in Lilongwe Tuesday. Members of the King's African Rifles fired on the rioters in the market place and two casualties were reported.

A spokesman for the British colonial government said the demonstrators were scattered by late afternoon, but sporadic shooting continued. The crowd turned ugly after officials prohibited the holding of a nationalist meeting.

It was the first trouble in Lilongwe, capital of Nyasaland's central province. Previous disturbances had been mostly in Blantyre, capital of the southern province.

Mainspring of the unrest is Dr. Hastings Banda, president of the Nyasaland African National party. His organization wants to take the protectorate of Nyasaland out of the Central African Federation, a member of the British Commonwealth which also includes self-governing Southern Rhodesia and the protectorate of Northern Rhodesia.

To cope with the swelling movement, Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the Rhodesia-Nyasaland Federation, summoned thousands of young white reservists for intensive training. They will be stationed in principal cities to bolster the army and police.

DeMille's Daughter Mother's Guardian

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A court has appointed Mrs. Cecilia De Mille Harper as guardian of her ailing mother, widow of the late film director, Cecil B. De Mille.

Mrs. Harper testified Tuesday that Mrs. Constance Adams De Mille, 85, for some years has been mentally confused and in need of fulltime nursing.

De Mille died Jan. 21 at the age of 77.

TV News and Reviews

Too Much Viscera Axed From Hacked Up 'Hamlet'

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—There is really only one way to approach last night's CBS-TV "Hamlet" and that is to write two reviews.

This is the first review: given 78 minutes of playing time, adaptor Michael Benthall and Producer-Director Ralph Nelson made the only choice open to them in deciding for a hot-rod version of the play. They hatcheted out whole sections, stripped down the remaining parts and juggled its structure.

In some instances they succeeded handsomely — Ophelia's mad scene had some bite; the graveyard scene had a real sense of chill; there was a marvelous stylized elegance about a scene in which Hamlet is cornered by the king's men after murdering Polonius; and the final duelling scene had movement and thrust.

It was all a little like watching an oddball Peter Gunn-Zorro-Wells Fargo show.

But then we arrive at the second review: the fact is Willie Shakespeare did not really intend to write a Peter Gunn-Zorro-Wells Fargo play.

What he was trying to create was a great and artificial cosmos, diseased and out of joint, peopled by citizens of complexity and richness, all of them spinning around a young man of whirling perplexity, a labyrinth of a man trapped within the disorder of himself.

This all may sound very untidy. But Hamlet is not an untidy play. It is an intricately knitted sleeve and adaptors unravel it at their own peril.

It is a play of language as well as a play of action. The network of lines assigned to players are not hurdles to be cleared, but the stuff of the action. They are knots of words, both pulling toward and against each other, pickaxing into character and making sense of the course of the tragedy.

When we lose sections like "how all occasions do inform against me and spur my dull revenge," like the "Priam's slaughter" speech of one of the players and subsequently, "O, what a rogue and peasant slave am I" we are losing part of the viscera of the play.

What Du Pont show of the month gave us last night, as a result of its mutilations, was a "Hamlet" forced through a sieve, a small-grained "Hamlet" without its grit, its nap, its fiber.

As for the players, the present Old Vic is not a very strong company. Its playing lacks brilliancy and depth. Margaret Courtenay as Gertrude, Oliver Neville as Claudius, Joseph O'Conor as Polonius were competent.

Barbara Jefford, a little overripe for Ophelia, played her mad scene well. John Neville's Hamlet was a small-scaled Hamlet, but perhaps he can't be blamed since he was so busy moving between his chalk marks.

Tighter Laws on Reds Urged

ABA Requests Congress to Clarify Meaning, Satisfy Courts

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Bar Assn. says Congress should tighten laws designed principally to curb Communists.

Voting approval Tuesday of a committee report which made such a recommendation, the ABA's ruling House of Delegates noted officially that some recent Supreme Court decisions dealing with Communist activity and internal security "have been severely criticized and deemed unsound by many responsible authorities."

In general, the report asks Congress to take another look at some recent Supreme Court decisions and amend the questioned laws to remove any doubts as to the intent of the legislators. Any proposals to limit the Supreme Court's jurisdiction are opposed.

But the report noted that differences over some court rulings "have given rise not only to severe criticism of the decisions, but unfortunately to condemnation of the court itself." It advocates a clear definition of the powers of the House Committee on un-American Activities.

In a stormy session ending the 246-member House's two-day session, Lloyd Wright of Los Angeles, former ABA president, led the fight to delay a vote on the report until the annual ABA meeting in Miami in August.

Senator Hart to Speak at Dem Victory Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan's junior Senator, Philip A. Hart, will be among the speakers Saturday at the Democratic national committee's $100 a plate victory dinner.

Other speakers will include Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas), Senate majority leader, House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), and several other Senators, governors and Congressmen.

The dinner is in honor of newly elected governors and members of Congress.

One for the Books: Takes Novel Over Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Here's one for the divorce book.

Night club singer Joan Dixon, 25, testified her husband, William L. Driskill, 29, informed her he couldn't write his novel and be in love. So he moved out of their Hollywood home last September after less than a year of marriage. She obtained the home under a property settlement.

She didn't say whether the novel was finished.

Those Unmarked Cars!

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The number of highway traffic arrests is doubled when violators are unaware of the presence of police, according to the State Traffic Patrol. L. E. Beier, enforcement director of Wisconsin's Motor Vehicle Department, says patrolmen in unmarked cars have stopped twice as many drivers for hazardous driving as patrolmen in marked cars.

Trouble Is Brewing in Little Haiti

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The Negro republic of Haiti may become the next major trouble spot in the Caribbean.

Daniel Fignole, radical leader of the impoverished masses of the Haitian capital Port au Prince, has ordered his followers in a broadcast from Cuba to get ready for a general strike aimed at overthrowing the government of President Francois Duvalier.

Another exiled opposition leader, Louis Dejoie, who has strong influence in the upper class and among women and shopkeepers, has been broadcasting the same message in recent weeks.

Haitians listen to these broadcasts and there is an air of anxiety and expectancy.

Haiti is the ham in the Caribbean sandwich — stuck between two blood enemies, Fidel Castro's new Cuba and Rafael Trujillo's tough dictatorship in the Dominican Republic.

This uncomfortable position combines with a desperate economic crisis, with continuing hatreds among Haitian political factions and with the absence of an efficient government based on popular support, to add up to an unstable situation which could explode at any time.

President Duvalier was voted into office in an army-run election in September 1957 after 10 months of political turmoil following the ouster of strongman President Paul Magloire. Duvalier has virtual dictatorial powers. He gives the impression now of a man of arbitrary temperament with jittery nerves.

In January Duvalier, under the shock of Castro's success in Cuba, attempted to remove the stigma of dictatorship from his regime by freeing all political opponents whom he had jailed, including some sentenced to death. A liberalization of his rule was proclaimed.

But now, in fear of an invasion by his Haitian opponents from Cuba, Duvalier is clamping down hard and uttering dire threats. He has banned all exit visas for Haitians—presumably to hold within the country any who would like to join anti-Duvalier forces.

In firebrand declarations during impromptu speeches he has declared that should his enemies seek to overthrow him he would unleash a total revolution and not leave one stone on another in Port au Prince.

Duvalier now has the active backing of the Dominican dictator, Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, another Latin American ruler marked by Fidel Castro for overthrow. Haiti and the Dominican Republic divide the island of Hispaniola. To the west of Haiti, only 50 miles across the Windward Passage, is the easternmost point of Cuba.

Frigates of the Dominican navy now apparently are patrolling the entire Haitian coastline and frequently put in at Haitian ports.

This Is Where, Darn It

WALKERS DAM, Va. (AP) — Ed Allen, who operates a boat renting service on Chickahominy Lake, got tired of customers asking where the big fish were. He and his wife went out for four hours and returned with 10 bass weighing a total of 54½ pounds, ranging from 3 to 8½ pounds. They put the bass on exhibit at their dock.

Any woman will tell that her house is too small when it comes to finding a place for everything, and too big when it comes to keeping it clean . . . It's a pretty sorry world in many respects, but it's probably better than a lot of us deserve. —Earl Wilson.
