German Reds Hint Blockade of West Berlin

Charge That Allies Use Air Corridors to Further Cold War Aims

BERLIN (AP)—Communist East Germany dropped a strong hint today it expects to get control over the Allied air corridors leading to isolated West Berlin.

These would be the Allied garrison's only lifelines if surface routes were closed.

The hint came in the East Berlin newspaper Neue Zeit.

It declared the United States, Britain and France are violating a four-power agreement that the air corridors—stretching between Berlin and Frankfurt, Hamburg and Hannover — would be used only for allied military purposes.

Pan American, Air France and British European Airways use them for regular passenger flight. These airlines also carry out the thousands of refugees that stream into West Berlin every month from East Germany.

Neue Zeit contended the Western Big Three were using the corridors "for purposes of the cold war" and the time has come for new negotiations on their use.

FITS INTO PATTERN

This article fits another piece into the pattern of the Soviet bloc's campaign—touched off by Premier Nikita Krushchev last week—to turn over control of supply lines to the East German Communists and force the Allies out of Berlin.

Soviet withdrawal from the four-power occupation of the old German capital is now considered a certainty, although authorities here had no idea how soon it would come.

The Western Big Three were already getting set to cope with the impending transfer of control over surface supply across 110 miles of East German territory. These were cut in the 1948-49 blockade that was broken by airlift.

The Russian action was expected to touch off the most serious Berlin crisis since the 1948-49 blockade.

Ship Breaks Up in Gale-Lashed Lake Michigan

Goes Down Off Gull Isle Last Night; Three Bodies Recovered So Far

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — Two men were found alive today in angry waters of Lake Michigan, which it was feared had claimed the lives of 33 others from the freighter Carl D. Bradley, when she went down in the cold, storm-tossed lake late Tuesday.

The Coast Guard cutter Sundew reported recovery of three unidentified bodies. An unofficial tabulation kept on ship and airplane radios in the search area indicated 18 bodies found.

Some veteran seamen expressed amazement even two had survived overnight in 50-degree water in howling gale winds that piled up mountainous waves on the Great Lakes. The air temperature was 40.

The 614-foot Bradley, longer than two football fields end-to-end, went down off Gull Island at the top of Lake Michigan in 60-mile winds.

Split apart, she apparently exploded when incoming water hit her hot boilers.

The German motorship Christian Sartori, which battled for more than an hour to cover the three miles to the sinking site, found no survivors, no life boats; nothing except a tank that came from deep inside and indicated explosion.

First mate Elmer Fleming, 45, and deckman Frank Mays, 26, both of Rogers City, were found alive today off High Island, north and east of where the Bradley went down.

A sea plane reported sighting eight bodies on a raft, but was unable to say whether there was life in any.

★ ★ ★

Verne Cole of the Grand Rapids Herald, keeping tab on ship and aircraft radioed reports at the elbow of a ham operator, said 18 bodies had been recovered.

There was no confirmation of any body recoveries from the Coast Guard.

Rescue craft, with waves still running high in 30-mile winds, were reported having difficulty getting into shallow waters where the bodies were reported sighted.

At 5:20 p.m. Tuesday the Bradley radioed its home port, Rogers City, it estimated it would arrive at 2 a.m. today.

A limestone carrier, it was en route home empty, having left its cargo for Gary steel mills at Buffington, Ind.

Then at 5:31—just 11 minutes later — Capt. Roland Bryan, the Bradley's skipper shouted into his radio: "Mayday, Mayday, Mayday. This is the Carl D. Bradley. Our position is approximately 12 miles southwest of Gull Island. We are in serious trouble."

Next, a voice was heard: "Run, grab life jackets. Get the jackets. Mayday, the ship is breaking up."

(Mayday is the voice version of an ocean-going ship's SOS. Great Lakes vessels use voice radio.)

Union Faces Big Decision

AFL-CIO Must Expel Giant Carpenters Group or Ease Corruption Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO faces a problem of backing up on its anticorruption drive or possibly losing another of the labor federation's major unions, the Carpenters.

Maurice Hutcheson, the Carpenters Union boss, has dared AFL-CIO President George Meany to stop investigating the carpenters or risk withdrawal of the 840,000-member union from the merged labor organization.

Having already tossed out the 1½ million member Teamsters Union on corruption charges, AFL-CIO leaders may think twice about further depleting federation ranks, now down to about 13½ million members.

At an AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting two weeks ago Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers, and James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, moved to oust Hutcheson as a council member and AFL-CIO vice president right then and there.

However, the council decided to give Hutcheson more time to explain his refusal to answer questions by the Senate Rackets Committee and to discuss his indictment in Indiana highway scandals.

While shunning an invitation to attend that council meeting, Hutcheson sent a written denial of wrongdoing or misuse of union funds. Then last week the Carpenters Union convention authorized Hutcheson and fellow union officials to pull the union out of the AFL-CIO if and when they see fit.

★ ★ ★

The way things stand now, the AFL-CIO council has asked Hutcheson to appear and make his explanation of corruption charges at its next meeting in February at San Juan, Puerto Rico, or at a special session whenever Hutcheson is ready.

25 Rogers City Families Can Only Hope and Pray

ROGERS CITY (UPI) — Rogers City, a shipping community of 4,000 on Lake Huron, hoped and prayed today for 25 of its seamen missing in gale-swept Lake Michigan.

Lights burned in many homes as residents stayed up all night.

"It's like one of those mine disasters," one of them said. "All we can do is sweat it out—and pray."

★ ★ ★

The local radio station broadcast on an emergency basis all night, giving relatives of the missing men bulletins on the disaster.

About 350 Rogers City men are sailors on the nine ships operated by the Bradley Transportation Line.

The Carl D. Bradley, which sank yesterday in Lake Michigan, was a limestone carrier. The 25 Rogers City men aboard sailed her during the summer and fall and do maintenance work for the company in the winter.

The city was stunned by the accident.

"It's never happened to us before," one resident said.

Rogers City pinned its hopes on the Coast Guard reports that the location of the downed vessel had not been pin-pointed.

"Maybe," the wives and mothers and sweethearts reasoned, "the rafts are floating someplace where the Coast Guard hasn't searched."

And through the night and morning, Rogers City tried to forget the slashing words of Capt. Roland Bryan, whose distress call was the last message received from the ship.

"We've broken in half. We're going down."

Statistics of the sunken Carl D. Bradley are:

Built—1927 at Lorain, Ohio. Converted to turbo-electric power in 1950.

★ ★ ★

Size—615 feet in length at the water line and 640 feet overall.

Capacity—14,800 gross tons.

At Charlevoix, Coast Guardsmen indicated today search operations for wreckage and survivors of the Carl D. Bradley cargo ship were hampered by one of the most likely causes for sinking.

★ ★ ★

The choppy waters of northern Lake Michigan are studded with small rocky islands and reefs, some of which are just solitary rocks sticking above the water.

The Coast Guard said rescue vessels combing the area had to proceed at a slow pace to avoid hitting the jutting rocks. The German motor boat Satori, first rescue ship to arrive at the scene, was particularly hampered because it was not familiar with the area.

Quick-paced winds which blew waves up to 20 feet high also tossed flares, dropped by a Coast Guard seaplane, out of their intended path. The seaplane tried to drop the flares just in front of the Satori so the ship could proceed on an illuminated path, but the 50-65-mile-an-hour winds blew several flares in undesired directions.

The turbulent lake waters also forced a 40-foot rescue vessel to abandon its attempt to reach the scene.

★ ★ ★

The other possible reason for the sinking, the Coast Guard said, was an explosion in the cargo ship's engines.

City Advances Airport Funds

$25,000 of Full Share OK'd for Construction of Terminal, Tower

City commissioners last night advanced $25,000 out of capital improvement funds for construction of a terminal and tower at Pontiac Municipal Airport and promised another $45,000 next year.

The total $70,000 is the city's matching share in a federal aid formula that has the state contributing $70,000 and the federal government $140,000.

The state and federal funds have already been allocated.

★ ★ ★

Thus the way was paved for financing construction of the building next year. Preliminary plans are being sent to Lansing this week for approval and may get a final O.K. in Washington, D. C., next month.

Homer Hoskins, airport manager, said he hopes to get construction bids early next year. Commissioners last night approved hiring William C. Zimmerman Associates as architects. The firm drew up the preliminary plans.

They also okayed the state's choice of an engineer to design $7,350 worth of ground work around the terminal. He is Robert G. Peckham, chosen by the Michigan Aeronautics Commission.

Clouds, Wind, Cold Not Ready to Leave

Partly cloudy, windy and colder is tonight's forecast by the U.S. Weather Bureau. The temperature will drop to near 36 degrees.

Thursday will be mostly cloudy and colder, the high reaching 42, the low 28. Winds will continue at 15-20 miles an hour tonight and Thursday. Friday's outlook is partly cloudy with little temperature change.

Precipitation will average less than one-fourth inch in showers about Thursday night and again about Sunday or Monday.

★ ★ ★

In downtown Pontiac the lowest recorded temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 35 degrees. The reading at 2 p.m. was 46.

Gale's Backlash Hits Eastern Half of U.S.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Strong northwest winds from the violent storm which raked the Rockies and northern Midwest fanned cold air across the eastern half of the nation today.

Gale warnings remained posted on the Great Lakes.

Wind gusts of 50 and 60 m.p.h. lashed Northern Michigan Tuesday.

Gale-like winds hammered the north shore of Lake Superior as the tailend of the storm struck the Dakotas and northern and northwestern Minnesota.

Towering waves smashed summer cabins and resorts as the storm swept into northwestern Ontario.

At least 10 deaths were attributed to the snowstorm which pounded sections from Idaho, Utah and Arizona northeastward to Minnesota.

However, skies cleared and temperatures rose from sub-zero and freezing levels in the storm-stricken areas of the West. Warmer weather was the outlook in all areas west of the Mississippi River.

★ ★ ★

The leading edge of the cold air extended from Pennsylvania southward across eastern Tennessee and Alabama into the Gulf of Mexico.

Rain fell in sections along the cold front, with rain and falling temperatures forecast along the eastern Gulf Coast and the Atlantic seaboard by tonight. Snow flurries were forecast near the lower Great Lakes region and in parts of New England.

The biggest temperature drops were in Tennessee and the lower Ohio Valley.

Readings were 25 to 35 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier. They also were 20 to 30 degrees lower than Tuesday morning in the upper Great Lakes, with some readings under 20 in northern Michigan. Strong winds added to the cold.

Rainfall along the cold front from Alabama and Mississippi northeastward to Pennsylvania varied from light in most places to about a half inch in parts of Tennessee, Alabama and Kentucky. Drizzle sprayed areas from New York City to southern New England.

4 Big Companies in Area Given Michigan Tax Cuts

The State Tax Commission has ordered tax assessment cuts for three big utility companies and the Ford Motor Co. with centers or property in Oakland County.

To bear the brunt of these reductions, totaling $845,060, will be the taxpeyers in 10 townships and cities where the companies, which won the cuts, are situated.

William B. Grabendike, director of the Oakland County Equalization Dept., said these areas will be forced to raise taxes to make up for the lesser amount of revenue that will come in now as the result of these slices.

Areas affected by the reductions granted to the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Consumers Power Co., the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., and the Ford Motor Co. will be:

West Bloomfield, Milford, Commerce, Lyon, Holly, Farmington and Rose Townships, and the cities of Northville, Oak Park and Troy.

Grabendike said because the county has already set the equalized valuations for its many town-

Man Afflicted With Bad Case of Relativity

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Chief Petty Officer John Ebaugh has in-law problems — but not the ordinary kind.

"I can't tell kinfolks without a score card," the retiring navy man said yesterday.

The confusion arose, he said, when his father married his sister-in-law. This made the sister-in-law Ebaugh's stepmother, and his wife his stepsister.

Not only that, his stepmother is both the stepmother and the grandmother, by marriage, of Ebaugh's son.

"The problem is relative," Ebaugh quipped, "once you get the hang of being your own brother-in-law."

Brother Learns Paul Transferred to Bradley Ship

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Robert Greengiski was surprised yesterday when he went down to the Soo locks to see the freighter Myron C. Taylor through and have a brief visit with his 23-year-old brother Paul.

★ ★ ★

He was told Paul had transferred to the crew of the Carl D. Bradley in September. That was at 2:10 p.m.

★ ★ ★

A few hours later, Robert was horrified to hear via radio that the Bradley had sunk in a Lake Michigan storm.

"I haven't given up hope," Robert said today, "but it looks bad."

Robert is a trainee-operator at the government's power house in the St. Marys rapids here. He said his father sailed from 1930 to 1940 and that a Detroit brother, Jerry, had spent three years as a sailor.

Gunfire Kills 7th State Hunter

Toll Matches Full '57 Season

Latest Victim Hit by Companion's Bullet; 7 Die of Heart Attacks

By The Associated Press

A seventh hunter has been killed by gunfire in Michigan's five-day-old deer season. That is the same number of gunshot victims in the entire 16-day season last year.

Latest reported victim was Alvin E. Thompson of Burt in Saginaw County. He was hunting yesterday near Hawks in Presque Ile County when he was hit in the left shoulder by a companion's bullet. Thompson died on the way to a hospital.

Another hunter was in critical condition at Tollfree Hospital in West Branch with a bullet wound suffered when a companion's loaded revolver fired accidentally.

Guido Mousti, 28, of Inkster, was hit in the arm and side by a .44 caliber bullet. His companion, Charles Becker, 24, of Taylor Township, said he was cleaning the gun last night at their Oscoda County camp when it went off.

Seven hunters have died of heart attacks. Latest victims were Carl Vernon Rice, 53 of Nashville, Mich., who was stricken near Marenisco, 24 miles east of Ironwood, and died today, and Joseph Coyer of Lansing who was stricken yesterday in Oscoda County.

Mackinac Bridge officials reported a heavy number of hunters heading south Tuesday with deer draped across their cars.

Bridge authorities said 1,456 deer were taken south in the first 81 hours of the 1958 season compared with 968 in the same period last year.

The peak eight-hour period for returning hunters was from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday when hunters took 474 deer across the bridge.

Maria Callas Actually Sings in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Maria Callas, the fiery and often fired soprano, came to Detroit to sing and that's exactly what she did.

★ ★ ★

She avoided reporters upon her arrival yesterday morning and spoke not a word after six arias at the Masonic Temple Auditorium last night.

★ ★ ★

Thus, the stormy diva still hasn't commented on her most recent run in with an opera house. The famed LaScala Opera House in Milan, Italy, announced last weekend that Maria's voice has been heard there for the last time.

★ ★ ★

LaScala became the seventh major opera house to place Mme. Callas on the "We don't want her" list.

The New York Metropolitan had fired Maria only a few days earlier.

★ ★ ★

A "do not disturb" sign hung outside the door of the presidential suite of a downtown hotel throughout the day yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Laurence J. Fitzgerald, representative of a company scheduling concerts for the singer, explained that "Mario Callas never permits interviews on the day of a performance. She doesn't see anyone."

Tentatively OK Capital Contract

Airline Awaits Approval of Mechanics to End 35-Day Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capital Airlines and the International Assn. of Machinists reached tentative agreement today to end a 35-day strike.

★ ★ ★

Details were withheld pending ratification by the 2,474 striking mechanics.

President Al G. Hayes of the Machinists Union and President David H. Baker of the airline participated in the final negotiations.

The agreement was believed to be on the pattern of a settlement reached by the union Tuesday with Northwest Airlines. That pact provides for a 41-cent-an-hour increase in a contract to run until Oct. 1, 1960.

About 5,000 employes of Capital had been idled in the month-long strike, with air service halted to areas served by the airline in principal cities east of the Mississippi River.

None of the other airlines except Capital was struck although all faced the same contract demands.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A strike against Trans World Airlines was set for Friday, Nov. 21, by the International Assn. of Machinists.

The Day in Birmingham

Talk on Book Publishing Will Give Inside Facts

BIRMINGHAM —Friends of the Baldwin Public Library will learn the behind-the-scenes story of book publishing Tuesday during a program beginning at 8:15 p.m. at the library.

James Milholland Jr., trade department editor of Harcourt, Brace and Co., Inc., New York City, will speak on "The Structure of Publishing."

Mrs. George Davis, secretary of the group, said Milholland will discuss the major areas of those fields having an important culture in America.

The meeting is open to the public.

A "Certificate of Appreciation" has been presented to Harry Mudge by the city for his 17 years of service on the Electrical Examiners Board. He has been succeeded on the Board by Hugo Clotier, electrical contractor.

The "Galaxy Ball," sponsored by the Birmingham Newcomers Club, will be held Saturday at Glenn Oaks Country Club. The evening will start with cocktails at 7 p.m. Dinner and dancing will follow.

The public is invited. Reservations may be made by noon tomorrow at the Community House.

Children of the First Presbyterian Church Sunday School are being asked to bring used clothing to the Nov. 23 church services for distribution through the church World Service Dept.

It has been estimated that 10,000,000 pounds of clothing will be made available to needy persons throughout the world by the World Service, according to Dr. W. Glen Harris, pastor of the church.

The Franklin Knolls Women's Club will open its season with a card party at 8:30 tonight at the Show Case, Inc., 312 E. Brown St., Birmingham.

Coffee and desserts will be served during the evening, according to Charlotte Rubin, chairman. All women are invited.

Oakland Republicans Start Big Campaign for Victory

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

You'd think two years hence was just around the corner if you passed the Oakland County Republican Committee headquarters on Woodward avenue in Birmingham.

Decorating the front of the headquarters is a large sign reading "Come On In, Suddenly It's 1960."

It went up yesterday as county Republicans, taking a cue from others across the nation, flashed the green light for one of the earliest and biggest campaign drives in their history.

"It's unprecedented for us to start so early," exclaimed Jack A. Gibbs, executive secretary of the committee from Royal Oak.

Republicans, nearly plowed under by a national Democratic landslide on Nov. 4, tongue-lashed themselves following the election. "We started too late," was the gist of their self-evaluation.

Their party leader, President Eisenhower, agreed.

"We learned a big lesson," said Arthur G. Elliott Jr., committee chairman. But Oakland Republicans aren't going around pouting. On the contrary, their faces carry a victory-in-the-future glow.

Elliott announced that the committee will shortly conduct a series of meetings with county precinct workers to strengthen organization. Party members hope to kill two birds with one stone with this plan.

"We'll be working for victory in next spring's election as well as the 1960 election," explained Elliott.

Adding impetus to this early start, is the fact that Republicans regained control of local county offices in the Nov. 4 election by the slimmest margins in many years.

Gibbs said the party was encouraged by the fact "that so many workers are so enthusiastic to stick with it. Things died fast after the 1956 election," he pointed out to illustrate what the party hopes won't happen this time.

Besides trying to hold on to the regular GOP precincts in Oakland County, one of the goals of the "start 'em early" program will be to concentrate on the marginal areas which have gone Democratic in the past.

Both Gibbs and Elliott, who are busy appraising the results of the past election, report the value of precinct organization. "Where we were organized we did pretty well, but where we weren't we fell down hard in defeat," explained Gibbs.

"This won't happen in the coming years," said both men hopefully.

Big Three Preparing for Crisis in Berlin

France were reliably reported to have prepared steps to take if the East Germans begin controlling Allied military truck convoys or trains. The East Germans already regulate civilian traffic from West Germany.

Western officials declined to say what Allied soldiers would do if checkpoints now manned by Russians are turned over to representatives of the East German Regime which the Allies refuse to recognize.

But experts here believe the Allies will react with these steps:

1. Formally refuse to accept East German controls.

2. Protest strongly against a one-sided Russian withdrawal from the four-power occupation agreements drawn up after World War II.

3. If left no choice, yield to East German controls while making it clear that this does not constitute recognition of the Communist regime. East Germans manning checkpoints would be regarded simply as agents of the Russians.

An alternative would be for the Allies to attempt an airlift similar to the one that broke the Soviet blockade in 1949.

Then, however, the Allies had to supply the 2,200,000 people of West Berlin. With civilian traffic not involved this time, an airlift would only have to supply the approximately 10,000 Western troops and civilian officials and families in West Berlin.

There is no assurance the Communists would let another Allied airlift proceed without harrassment from their fighter planes. But it seemed unlikely they would precipitate a war by seriously interfering. The Russians continued to participate in air safety controls during the 1948-49 blockade.

While the Allies waited for the next Russian move, a U.S. Army truck convoy returned without incident from West Germany Tuesday night. The Russians stopped three trucks last Friday because the American soldiers had orders not to permit Soviet inspection of covered cargoes. Going West Tuesday, the convoy's cargo was uncovered. The two trucks and a jeep returned empty.

Unconfirmed reports circulated in Berlin that Moscow already was preparing formal notes advising the Allies of their decision to give their share of the occupation controls to the East Germans.

In Moscow, foreign diplomats seemed convinced Premier Khrushchev meant business when he demanded Nov. 10 that the Allies leave Berlin. The impression that a transfer of occupation powers was imminent was strengthened by an editorial in Pravda Tuesday saying the Soviet Union was determined to act without Western consent.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told a political rally in Frankfurt the Kremlin obviously was preparing to break the Allied agreements on Berlin.

Lord Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin said the city's residents should have faith in the Western promise to use force if necessary to protect the Communist-surrounded area.

Mrs. Beresford Dies at Home

Bloomfield Hills Widow Will Be Buried Friday in Greenwood

Mrs. William E. Beresford, 79, the mother of James A. Beresford, vice president of Booth Newspapers, Inc., died last night at her Bloomfield Hills home, 460 Goodhue Rd.

She leaves another son, Edwin M. of Bloomfield Township; seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The former Martha McFarland, Mrs. Beresford was born Nov. 26, 1878 in Trenton, N. J. She had lived in Atlanta, Ga., until moving to Bloomfield Hills in 1944.

Mrs. Beresford was a member of the Kirk in the Hills, the National Farm and Garden Assn., Cranbrook Music Guild, Bloomfield Art Assn. and the Birmingham Organ Society.

Her body is at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham.

Service will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday at her home. Officiating will be the Rev. Harold C. DeWindt. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery, Birmingham.

Multitude of Persons Swallowed by Inland Seas

Great Lakes Are Graves for Many Ships

DETROIT (UPI) — The sinking of the cargo-carrier Carl D. Bradley yesterday in Lake Michigan adds another chapter to a long list of maritime disasters on the Great Lakes.

November storms—such as the one that caught the Bradley—fires and explosions all have taken a heavy toll of seamen and passengers on ill-fated Great Lakes ships.

Two freighters, the Novadock and Anna C. Minch, were caught in a heavy storm Nov. 11-13, 1940, and sank with a total loss of 57 lives.

★ ★ ★

On Nov. 25, 1905, a hurricane-like storm ripped the lakes dropping temperatures from zero to 12 below and killing an unknown number of seamen.

Another storm hit Lake Huron on Nov. 11, 1913, destroying 18 ships and killing 254 persons.

When the 1913 storm had finished, residents of Sarnia, Ont., found a supposedly unsinkable 9,000 ton ore carrier, the Charles S. Price, capsized eight miles north of the mouth of the St. Clair River.

BODIES WASH ASHORE

The Price had been seen the day before with two other vessels. Some of its crewmembers were wearing lifejackets from one of the other ships, when the bodies washed ashore.

Wind velocities ranged from 85-125 m.p.h. in the 1940 storm, with Lake Michigan bearing the brunt of the blast.

The Novadock and Minch passed through the Straits of Mackinac into Lake Michigan some four hours apart.

Three days later part of the Minch was found in 40 feet of water near Pentwater. The Novadock wasn't found, but it is believed it foundered near the Minch because bodies of the crews washed ashore together.

In the 1905 storm, the Ira H. Owen foundered, the Western Star was stranded and the Lafayette was wrecked on Lake Superior.

The high death tolls came in the days of passenger ships on the lakes. The Eastland capsized in the Chicago River in 1915, drowning 812 persons.

Other lake disasters include:

The Erie, burned on Lake Erie in 1841, killing 175; the Phoenix, burned on Lake Michigan in 1847, killing 247; the Griffith, burned in Lake Erie in 1850, killing 300; the Atlantic, sank in Lake Erie in 1852, killing 250; the Lady Elgin, sank in Lake Michigan in 1860, killing 287.

Big death tolls weren't all in the last century however. A total of 119 died when the steamer Noronic burned in Toronto in 1949.

★ ★ ★

The Bradley was the 12th ship to sink with a possible loss of more than 10 lives since 1940. It was the first such disaster since the freighter Henry Steinbrenner sank in Lake Superior with a loss of 17 crewmen in 1953.

2 Safe, 33 Feared Dead as Lake Freighter Sinks

miles away. But in 68-mile winds and 20-foot waves, which follow each other much more closely on the lakes than on the oceans, it took him more than an hour to get there.

"I believe," he finally reported, "all hands are lost. No lifeboats are visible."

A Coast Guard plane flew out of Traverse City, Mich., taking off over double triangular red flags signifying a gale. It dropped flares, going back and forth over the tragedy scene.

★ ★ ★

The Coast Guard cutter, Sundew sped out of Charlevoix, but smaller craft which tried to follow it were driven back. Neither the Sundew nor the plane spotted anything all night.

Then the plane's crew spotted Fleming and Mays shortly after dawn.

The Sundew, which took them aboard, radioed that Fleming said he did not recall any explosion and it was his belief that heavy seas broke the Bradley apart. He was reported suffering from exposure, but in good condition.

★ ★ ★

The Charlevoix Coast Guard station ordered crewmen flown to Beaver Island, largest in a group at the top of Lake Michigan, to man a 40-foot boat there in hopes of getting into shallow waters where bodies were reported spotted.

Lake Michigan at the spot where the ship went down is some 330 feet deep.

The Bradley, built in 1927 and then the largest ship on the Great Lakes, had a cargo capacity of 14,800 tons. Capt. Bryan was from Loudenville, N.Y., but 31 of his 35-man crew from the little Lake Huron port of Rogers City.

★ ★ ★

The Bradley flew the flag of the Bradley Transportation Co., of Rogers City. The firm is a subsidiary of U.S. Steel Corp., and hauls iron-making limestone.

Never before had Bradley lost a ship and it claimed a world record for safety.

The Carl D. Bradley was on its 46th trip of the lakes shipping season in which it had covered 27,000 miles this year. At 31 it was relatively young as lakes freighters go.

Between them, the seamen who manned the ship had 52 children.

Theodore Dhalberg of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., who skippered the Bradley from 1930 to 1940, said "her rivets probably worked loose. It could happen in a storm like this one. The lake isn't like the ocean. On the lake storms build up waves in quick succession."

The lat previous major disaster in the Great Lakes was in 1953. The American freighter Henry Steinbrenner went down in Lake Superior in 72 m.p.h. winds. Seventeen of its 31 crewmen died.

★ ★ ★

The Novadock and the Anna C. Mich went to the bottom in a Lake Michigan storm in November, 1940, with the loss of 57 lives.

A storm which hit Lake Huron Nov. 11, 1913 destroyed 18 ships and killed 254 persons.

Searches 7 Hours for Seamen

1st Assignment Proves Big One for Commander

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI) — Lt. Cmdr. Louis N. Donohoe's first assignment after reporting for duty at the Traverse City Coast Guard Air Station was a big one.

Donohoe, 35-year-old father of six, went on duty here for the first time yesterday after returning from helicopter school in Florida.

The first 10 hours of his 24-hour tour of duty were uneventful. But shortly after 6 p.m. yesterday, the air station was alerted to join the search for the freighter Carl D. Bradley.

At the time, a plane piloted by Lt. James Sigman that had been searching all day for an Air Force jet down in Lake Michigan off Chicago was returning to the air station. It was immediately rerouted to the area in northern Lake Michigan where the distress signals from the Bradley were sent.

★ ★ ★

Sigman remained in the area for less than an hour because the plane was low on fuel and had only two flares which give in excess of one million candlepower each.

When the Grumman Albatross amphibious plane returned to the air station, it was immediately refueled and loaded with 30 magnesium parachute flares and Donohoe and a crew of six others took off.

In all, Donohoe made three flights over the area last night and during the early hours today. He stayed out three hours the first time, two hours and 15 minutes the second time and two hours on his final flight.

"I've flown in a lot of rugged weather the 14 years I've been in the Coast Guard," Donohoe said. "But the wind was as turbulent as any I've ever seen."

★ ★ ★

Actually, Donohoe arrived here in July from Kodiak, Alaska, but left for helicopter school a few weeks later.

The weather over the search area was so rough that one member of Donohoe's crew—aviation mechanic Charles Schrader — became ill during the first flight and had to be replaced.

★ ★ ★

Another veteran Coast Guard officer—Lt. Cmdr. Arthur Hancock, 37, Los Angeles—coordinated the air search with Coast Guard district headquarters in Cleveland.

Hancock, a Coast Guardsman 15 years and a flyer since 1947, alerted the air station's 93 enlisted men and 14 officers within minutes after the Bradley's may day (distress signal) was monitored here.

Flight crews were awakened at 5 o'clock this morning—90 minutes earlier than usual for this takeoff. Daylight came at 7 a.m.

Hancock, who has been stationed on the east and west coasts and the Gulf of Mexico, said this was the biggest ship disaster search he has ever participated in.

★ ★ ★

Radio operator Clifford Tally, 28, of Dallas, Tex., remained on duty through the night as did three members of the search plane's ground crew.

In addition to the Coast Guardsmen, the operations office was kept busy answering queries from nearly a dozen newsmen who headquartered here.

Although there are seven large amphibious planes in the Coast Guard hangars here, only two of them are operational. The other five are being stored temporarily before going in for modification and repair at the Grumman Aircraft factory. They were transferred to the Coast Guard recently from the Air Force which used them for years in air sea rescue operations.

UF Goals Topped at Miracle Mile and Tel-Huron

The Pontiac Area United Fund today announced both Miracle Mile and Tel-Huron shopping centers have surpassed their 1958 campaign quotas.

The employes and firms at Miracle Mile have pledged $2,667.65 to this year's tenth anniversary appeal, according to Ralph Eastridge, Commercial Division co-chairman. This is $447.65 in excess of the shopping center's quota.

Tel-Huron's firms and employes have turned in $2,103.50 or 140 per cent of their $1,500 quota. Fred Niedelson is the Commercial Division cochairman in charge of United Fund solicitations at Tel-Huron.

Employes at Miracle Mile and Tel-Huron have pledged $1,365.15 and $1,192.50 respectively. Firm gifts totaled $1,302.50 at Miracle Mile and $901.00 at Tel-Huron.

★ ★ ★

Both Eastridge and Niedelson expressed satisfaction with the performances of the firms and their personnel at the two shopping centers. Moreover, Eastridge expects additional returns to swell the Miracle Mile total reported today.

Berkeley Voss, who is sharing chairmanship of the Commercial Division this year with Judge Clark J. Adams, congratulated his two cochairmen "for a difficult job successfully completed."

The Commercial Division as a whole still needs an additional $25,000 to reach its $179,371 quota by next Tuesday's final report luncheon at the Elks Temple.

4 Big Firms in Area Given State Tax Cuts

ships and cities, on which taxes are based, the reductions will necessitate those affected to raise their tax rates to still produce the same amount of tax monies had the tax commission not ordered the cuts.

TO HIT MANY

The reductions in Oakland County were part of many handed down from Lansing which are expected to hit revenues of dozens of communities in southeastern Michigan.

The largest of the 13 cuts was granted to Ford Motor Co. in Troy, where the company's Tractor & Implement Division is located. The original assessment of $1,891,600 was sliced to $1,608,850 by the tax commission, representing a $282,750 trimming.

"The commission felt these appeals were justified in that their property assessments were far in excess of the other level of assessments of properties in the cities and townships," said Edward W. Kane, commission chairman.

OTHERS LESS SUCCESSFUL

But all individuals or firms in Oakland county that appealed their 1958 assessments—there were about 70, Kane said—were not as successful as the four larger companies. "Better than half of these appeals were denied," he said.

Other approved assessed valuation cuts included:

West Bloomfield Township, Consolidated Gas Co., from $131,700 to $158,400.

Northville, Consumers Power Co., $14,000 to $6,900.

Milford, Panhandle from $86,600 to $78,800, and Consolidated from $420,270 to $384,000.

Commerce, Panhandle from $28,600 to $20,800, and Consolidated from $220,500 to $191,500.

Oak Park, Consumers from $760,040 to $433,465.

Lyon, Panhandle from $53,600 to $49,300, and Consolidated from $192,350 to $170,400.

Holly, Panhandle, from $58,400 to $47,800.

Farmington, Consolidated from $405,650 to $353,600.

Rose, Panhandle from $62,365 to $47,700.

Police Advance Stay Is Granted

State Supreme Court Holds Up Promotions Ordered in Pontiac

The Michigan Supreme Court yesterday granted the third stay in the writ of mandamus issued by Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams ordering the promotion of three Pontiac police officers.

The high court issued the last stay after Pontiac City Attorney William A. Ewart filed an application for leave to appeal Judge Adams' decision of Oct. 9.

The stay, a legal order which holds up the already ordered promotions, will be in effect until Nov. 25 when the court is scheduled to hear Ewart's request for appeal.

Judge Adams himself issued two stays while he studied the city's request for a new trial, which was later denied, and while Ewart drafted his appeal.

The judge's order called for the promotion of Sgt. Fred L. Goines to lieutenant and Detectives Herbert C. Cooley and James F. Bale to sergeant openings on the force.

They contended in their lawsuit that City Manager Walter K. Willman and Police Chief Herbert W. Straley violated the civil service law by not promoting them to these positions they claimed they were entitled to after examinations.

More Ore Boats Afloat

CLEVELAND (AP) — More iron ore carriers were operating on the Great Lakes during November than were operating at the same time a year ago. A survey by the M. A. Hanna Co. announced yesterday shows 145 of the Great Lakes' 248 ships still in operation on Nov. 15. A year ago on Nov. 15 there were 13 fewer ships still in service as the Great Lakes navigation season neared its close.

Label Children, Please

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — Seoul police asked parents today to affix a name and address to each child under school age. Police said officers are now spending altogether too much time searching for lost children and returning those they find.

Luck Not All Bad

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UPI) —Marvin Jett Jr. of Owensville spent an entire day tramping the woods without seeing a deer. As he drove home, unhappily, a 190-pound eight-point buck jumped in front of his car and was killed. Sympathetic conservation commissioners permitted him to keep it.

Be Polite, Boys

JACKSON (UPI) — An editorial in the inmate newspaper at Southern Michigan Prison complained today about the patrons who disturb other prisoners by leaving the hall before the end of the movies. "Where are they going?" the newspaper asked.

Come Back Next Year

GLAMORGAN, Wales (UPI) — Cline and Christine Jones went to a local pub for a drink to celebrate their first wedding anniversary. They were fined $2.80 each today for drinking in a bar before reaching the legal age of 18. Both are 17.

Wife Plunged in Lake When Driver Dies

DETROIT (AP) — A car, with a dead man at the wheel, plunged into shallow water in Lake St. Clair yesterday as the man's wife sought to gain control of the vehicle.

★ ★ ★

Lester G. Beeman, 71, of Detroit, apparently suffered a fatal heart attack while he and his wife were driving slowly along Lake Shore Drive.

Mrs. Beeman struggled to gain control of the car as it zigzagged for 85 feet. But it careened over a 25-foot embankment, dropped off a six-foot breakwater and landed on its wheels in bumper deep water.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Beeman, 71, was hospitalized briefly for treatment. She escaped with bruises and shock.

Deaths Elsewhere

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Manuel Schwartz, 58, father of actor Tony Curtis, died Monday of a heart attack. Schwartz formerly was in the clothing business in New York but after his son's success in the movies he joined a Beverly Hills public relations firm. He was born in Hungary.

★ ★ ★

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Walter Stewart, 52, sports editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal, died Tuesday after surgery to remove a blood clot from his brain. He began his sports writing career in 1932 and at one time was on the staff of the New York World-Telegram.

★ ★ ★

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Frederick Johnson, 85, retired New York real estate and construction company executive and prominent sportsman, died Tuesday. He was a breeder of race horses, including Omar Khayyam, winner of the Kentucky Derby in 1917.

★ ★ ★

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert C. O'Hair, 73, of Glen Ellyn, Ill., president of the Izaak Walton League of America since May, died Tuesday. O'Hair, a public accountant, was a member of the league for 21 years.

CAGLIARI, Sardinia (AP)—The Rev. Fr. Serafino Sanna, 101, the oldest Roman Catholic priest in Italy, died Tuesday.

College Girl Owns Moon, Cousin Mars

GUNTOWN, Miss. (AP)—Every time they launch a missile into space, pretty Charlene Majers worries about her property.

She owns the moon. Yes, sir.

At least, the U.S. Reclamation Bureau recognizes her legal claim.

On Oct. 14, 1950 Mrs. Katie Hopkins Majers filed her daughter's notice at Tupelo, Miss., after the proper legal investigation.

★ ★ ★

It states Miss Majers' position with admirable clarity:

"I, Charlene Majers, am hereby placing claim on planet moon and shall defend said title against any persons or nations that might attack."

The acquisition fulfilled Charlene's childhood ambition.

She isn't the only planet owner in the family. Her cousin, Mitchell Herring, now serving in the Marine Corps, owns the planet Mars. Whether the corps is cognizant of this is not known.

★ ★ ★

Charlene is a geology major at Mississippi State University at Starkville and looks forward to the day she may visit her heavenly domain.

However, she has not yet figured exactly how she would defend the moon against attackers or poachers.

★ ★ ★

Certain Horses Not Welcome in State Park

The Michigan Conservation Dept. has agreed to pass the peace pipe with Norman E. Dennison and let him, his wife and his staff ride their horses in the Highland State Park Recreation Area.

But the department won't grant entrance to the park to riders who rent horses from Dennison's Tip-Top Ranch, 5500 Highland Rd.

This concession in the park has been granted to Grant W. Ireland, who is leasing from the state certain areas for this privilege.

Arthur C. Elmer, chief of the Park and Recreation Division of the department, said that since Ireland allows some riders to bring in their own horses to ride in the park, "Dennison and those of his staff should be granted similiar privileges."

The state had filed suit to stop Dennison, 36, from entering the park illegally and competing with Ireland's business. Ingham County Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash last week issued an injunction prohibiting him from this practice, but said he should be entitled to use of the bridle paths.

Dennison and Ireland now are to work out an arrangement for the identification and entrance of his group through the legal entrance of the park, Elmer said in his letter to Ireland.

"It shows I didn't ask for anything that wasn't legally mine," said a happy Dennison when he received a copy.

Rude Awakening

WARSAW (UPI) — Building worker J. Ziolkowski spent a pleasant evening with a vodka bottle and curled up for a nap on the railroad tracks. Three trains sped over his unconscious body. The fourth engineer saw Ziolkowski first and screeched his train to a halt, waking the sleeper. That cost him a $40 fine for drunkenness.

Santa Fe, N.M., founded in 1610, is the oldest state capital in the United States.

A fellow in Knoxville, Tenn., who tried to add the moon to his possessions a couple years ago found that Charlene had got there before him.

The Reclamation Bureau turned his application back.

Industrialist to Speak

DETROIT (UPI) — Industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton of Cleveland will address the luncheon meeting of the Economic Club of Detroit Nov. 24. Eaton's subject will be "Is the Globe Big Enough for Both Capitalism and Communism?"

Nearly 2,000 species of shrimp exist.

Jackson Prison Back on Full-Scale Production

JACKSON (UPI)—The end of an inmate strike at Southern Michigan yesterday signaled a return to full production of Michigan's 1959 auto license plates.

Operations in all six of the prison's industries were halted Monday. Some 62,000 plates a day are produced by inmates.

"I have not run across a harder working bunch than those inmates on the license line," said George Holmes, assistant manager of the prison industries. "They have a lot of work and they do it well."

Welfare Milk Racket New Low in Swindling

Robbing children of their daily milk ration is the latest racket perpetrated by some welfare recipients in Oakland County. This fact was disclosed recently by the Prosecutor's Office and may involve as much as $150,000 a year.

★ ★ ★

Just how low can a person stoop and still live with himself?

Anybody that would steal from a baby has no place in our society. This cozy little racket involved milk orders issued to parents on county relief.

The cheating mothers and fathers found certain grocers and milkmen that would take the milk orders and hand out cash, beer, wine or whisky. Their children were going without milk so the parents could spend cash on non-essentials, or use the orders to finance binges.

★ ★ ★

This scummy racket should be stopped immediately. If need be, the children should be taken away from the guilty parents. How any grocer or milkman could knowingly be a part of this unsavory scheme is beyond our comprehension.

★ ★ ★

According to authorities this cheating has been going on for several months and the Prosecutor's Office has been investigating complaints. If it is impossible to stop this misuse through the dealers and grocers, it would seem to us it is up to the welfare office to discontinue issuing milk orders.

With the Oakland County Welfare budget running in the red for the past two years, this is obviously a flagrant misuse of the taxpayers' money. If it is necessary to have the welfare recipients come to the County offices to receive their milk, then this should be done.

★ ★ ★

The dollar value involved is infinitesimal in comparison with the children going without their milk.

Above the Whims of the Weather Man

The fickle, untimely and insufficient rainfall in the Pontiac area this year causes many more of our farmers to consider irrigation.

With its 423 lakes, countless ponds, rivers, creeks, copious wells and other sources of water, Oakland County is admirably situated to wage a winning battle with the whims of the weather.

★ ★ ★

Most of our farms have an abundant supply within their own borders, or are so close to it that it is easily available.

In fact there are few other areas in the entire nation with these possibilities so close at hand. Usually it is a far cry to a water reserve.

★ ★ ★

Where irrigation is most extensive in other states, the water generally comes from a long distance, up to a few hundred miles in many localities, often more than half being lost in evaporation.

Oakland County farmers who already have tried irrigation have found it to be a good investment. It stops cloud watching and other worries.

★ ★ ★

This is especially true with potatoes and other tuberous crops that must have a continuous moisture if they are to produce satisfactorily.

It makes them roll out the production that changes a heavy loss to a good profit. All that is needed is some of that nearby quietly awaiting resource.

After the first installation, an irrigation system costs very little to operate. In many cases that financial outlay is negligible.

★ ★ ★

Through a system of windmills and artificial ponds at a few feet elevation above his fields, one farmer has practically eliminated the entire cost of operation. The winds and water bulge his bank account.

Among those who have tried both, the overhead system has been found to be the most desirable here, instead of the underground piping generally in use in the arid sections of our southern states.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County's lakes and other water reservoirs evidently still have more latent sources of wealth and good living buried in their depths.

ANOTHER great advantage in being a man is that a man has sense enough to wear comfortable shoes.

First, the Doctors Have to Agree!

David Lawrence Says:

Dem Silence Encourages Kremlin

WASHINGTON — Although two weeks have passed since the congressional elections, no leader of the Democratic Party has seen fit to make a public statement denying that the American people have repudiated the foreign policy of the Eisenhower administration.

LAWRENCE

Believing that the American people do not support the administration, Moscow has been encouraged to start a crisis in Berlin. The Kremlin doubtless is expecting the Democratic Party position to be that Berlin isn't worth fighting for and that, like Quemoy and Matsu, the American notes of protest are just part of a "brink of war" maneuver by Secretary of State Dulles.

The tragic history of past behavior by dictatorship governments unfortunately confirms the fact that they move aggressively when they think the West is disunited and particularly when they think their strongest adversary is weakened by internal factionalism.

★ ★ ★

Daniel Schorr, formerly correspondent of the Columbia Broadcasting System in Moscow and now stationed in Warsaw, broadcast the other day this comment from the Polish capital:

"The accent is on Europe. The Communists have apparently convinced themselves that the Eisenhower administration has been too paralyzed by its election defeat to offer adequate resistance to a diplomatic offensive now against West Germany."

Almost immediately after the recent congressional elections in the United States, in which the Republican Party suffered a severe defeat, Premier Khrushchev told reporters that he interpreted the election to mean that the American people "have condemned the Dulles policy of positions of strength which is supported by Mr. Eisenhower."

★ ★ ★

He added:

"People everywhere, including the American people, were opposed to the foreign policies of the Western nations."

While, as usual, putting in a hypocritical disclaimer about not wanting to interfere in the internal affairs of the United States, the Communist leader has revealed nevertheless that the American elections are regarded by him as a victory for the Communist position in world affairs.

★ ★ ★

More important now is what the Moscow premier does about it. The fact that a crisis over the status of Berlin has been precipitated is significant of the Kremlin's belligerency.

Its policy is evidently based on the idea that now is the time to press an advantage because the United States has a divided government.

It is regrettable that Sen. Lyndon Johnson, majority leader, who was invited by Secretary Dulles to speak this week at the United Nations on the subject of control of outer space, has not made an unequivocal statement on down-to-earth questions like Berlin, Formosa and the Middle East, where the Soviets may be doing some "brinkmanship" of their own.

★ ★ ★

It seem unfortunate that America is not presenting, through her political leaders, some semblance of unity in world affairs.

History shows that the danger of war increases when one side thinks the other is either too weak to fight back or is "paralyzed" by an election defeat, as Schorr phrased it in his broadcast.

The Moscow regime certainly is taking risks not only in trying to force the recognition of the East German government as an independent entity, but also in shooting at the planes of the U. S. Air Force over the Baltic and over the Sea of Japan—far from land.

★ ★ ★

This is a game that could lead to a crisis with grave complications. The Moscow government has been for several months trying to test out American resoluteness.

This was tried in the Middle East and resulted in the dispatch of American Marines to Lebanon. Then the Far East was tested, and now it's central Europe.

★ ★ ★

When they look at the "cold war" map, the Communists are evidently betting on a retreat by President Eisenhower in the face of criticism from the dominant political party in America. It certainly is a time for sincere bipartisanship in America.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Give Baby Proper Food and Save Doctor Bills

"Mother and mother-in-law both insist on stuffing our 20-months-old baby with cookies and candy. They say the child needs this daily. Wife and I believe in natural foods — meats, and vegetable oils such as soybean, and no sweets. (M.C.H.)"

DR. BRADY

The foods you mention are much better for the baby than cookies and candy.

I hope your baby takes at least 1½ pints of milk daily as the main food.

A normal baby should take milk undiluted and unsweetened at six or seven months.

From the age of six or seven months, add to the milk cereal gruel, beginning with a tablespoonful of oatmeal or barley water in each feeding. Make this thin gruel by boiling a tablespoonful of oatmeal or barley in a pint of water for two hours.

Excellent food for any baby after the age of four or five months is ripe banana. At six months half a banana and after eight months a whole banana every day. Banana in the baby's everyday diet has prevented or cured constipation and malnutrition in thousands of cases.

After baby takes fresh milk undiluted, add to the regular diet such items as soft-boiled egg, clear meat broth, unstrained cereal gruels, well cooked vegetables at first strained through a coarse sieve.

From the age of four weeks every baby needs a daily ration of orange juice, or fresh or factory canned tomato juice — part of a teaspoonful at first, in water or in a milk feeding, gradually increasing to several spoonfuls when the baby is six months old. This prevents scurvy.

Likewise at three or four weeks baby should receive a daily half-teaspoonful of cod liver oil or a drop or two of viosterol two or three times a week. At three or four months, a teaspoonful of cod liver oil every day. This prevents rickets.

Never give a baby, in any circumstance, beer, wine, whisky or any of the sweetened, colored, flavored carbonated beverages.

A baby who takes 1½ pints of whole milk every day and an egg every other day (three a week) is pretty well protected from rickets. Common early indication of rickets is constant rolling of the sweaty head, perhaps wearing the hair off the back of the head.

An early indication of scurvy is failure to gain weight or actual loss of weight and great peevishness. The baby cries when handled and trivial injuries or none so regarded may produce black and blue spots.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'David Lawrence Is Union Hater'

I'm a subscriber and reader of The Pontiac Press and after reading Mr. Lawrence's column daily, I've come to the conclusion that he must be a union hater to put out so much effort against the Democratic Party and the unions.

Mr. Lawrence fails to report about one of our own Republican senators from our community who was out to prove that the Democrats were wasting dollars and was tripped up by his own extravagant spending. This Republican senator hasn't proved any Democratic waste but a Democratic member of the investigating committee has found this Republican senator rented a luxurious hotel suite which cost $42 a day during a visit to New York on state business. This Republican senator also cost the state additional expenses when he canceled committee meetings without letting other senators know about it. The Republicans have always kept Democratic minority members in the dark about committee schedules.

Let's get back to Mr. Lawrence's column. By reading it you can see that the Republicans and the big corporations are out to win an election in 1960.

'Women Like That Make U. S. Great'

I think it's a fine sign of a democracy when a very rich woman like Mrs. Philip Hart gets out and works tirelessly to help elect her husband.

She could sit in a soft seat all day long but she's raising eight children and working about 20 hours a week more than most of us. That's what makes the U.S. great.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.—I Timothy 2:4.

★ ★ ★

To love truth for truth's sake is the principal part of human perfection in this world, and the seedplot of all other virtues. — John Locke.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Youth's Loud Music Has Purpose

Zeke thinks his children must be going deaf because they like to sit beside a blaring radio or TV with the power turned up to full blast. Since children should have more sensitive hearing than adults, he can't understand why they require the excessive loudness. But there is a simple reason. Scrapbook this case.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-375: Zeke B., aged 34, is an insurance salesman.

"Dr. Crane, I come home tired to death," he commented, "and want to enjoy my newspaper, plus some soft music.

★ ★ ★

"But I have two children in Junior High. And they always have the radio or TV turned up so loud that you can actually hear it clear down the block.

"What puzzles me is why they like such noise within three feet of their ears, for they may sit not three feet from the blaring radio. I have thought maybe their hearing was bad, but they said they were tested on the audiometer at school and were perfect.

"As we grow older, don't many people become slightly hard of hearing? Then why shouldn't the children be more acute of hearing and thus want the radio on more softly than I do? I don't get it.

★ ★ ★

"Can you psychologists explain why kids prefer such loud, blaring music?"

"Jack Sprat," runs the nursery rime, "would eat no fat; his wife would eat no lean, and so between the two, they licked the platter clean."

That seems just a silly nonsense bit of verse to most people. But it expresses a medical truism.

The male requires relatively more protein than does the female. Women thus have a higher percentage of fat in their bodies.

It is this surplus fat which gives women their curvacious figures. And it also permits them to float on water more easily than men, for the specific gravity of lean meat is greater than of fat.

Thus, Jack Sprat required protein whereas his wife needed fat. And the old nursery rime unwittingly reveals this basic sex difference regarding lean meat versus suet.

★ ★ ★

A similar basic difference exists between youth versus the older generations as regards both the loudness and the tempo of music.

MUSICAL DIFFERENCES

Zeke is tired and so exhausted that he has very little surplus energy when he reaches home.

Thus, he wants to rest. And soft music does not fatigue you as much as loud music.

But his children are seated, studying their homework lessons. So they are not draining off the excessive energy which is constantly being generated in healthy youngsters.

Thus, they feel jittery and almost like "Blowing my top," as the boys used to say in World War II.

Without consciously knowing the real reason, they automatically turn the radio and TV power dials up to full volume.

For loudness consumes more energy in the listener than does soft music.

Zeke's children simply crave a fast reduction in their energy.

They have what amounts to a steam boiler that is almost reaching the explosive stage.

Loud music thus serves as a subconscious safety valve by which they can let off steam, even though they are seated at the study table.

★ ★ ★

Fast music also drains off more energy than a slow, funeral or waltz tempo, which is why they crave fox trots and rock 'n roll numbers.

They will meanwhile beat time and hum and sway, for these muscular actions likewise help them keep their "boilers" from exploding.

Once you understand the mechanics of youth, you can be more forgiving.

Zeke's kids will also prefer slow waltz music and softer tones when they are 25 years older and short of energy.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Bob Considine Says:

Stone Age Still Going On in Wahgi Valley

NEW YORK — If my friend Lewis Cotlow was one to go in for a practice named place-dropping, which is an advanced stage of name-dropping, he could clobber any gas bag bending his ear about a trip to Yellowstone or Yucatan. The New York insurance broker-explorer (twin callings which are not as alien as one might imagine) is fresh back from the Wahgi Valley.

Don't know where the Wahgi Valley is? How gauche! Well, neither did I until Lew straightened out the matter today.

"It's in the northeastern section of New Guinea, the U.N. trusteeship area administered by Australia," Lew said patiently, though confronted by abysmal ignorance. "It's still Stone Age.

"I wanted to get in there for some film and impressions before the Bronze Age and the rock 'n' roll age hit it simultaneously."

He stayed four months, came out without a scratch—not even on the emulsion of his new documentary, "The Land That Time Forgot," photographed in Eastman's newly perfected Ektakrome.

"The white man did not come to the Wahgi Valley until 1933 when the young Australian explorer, Mick Leahy, who was looking for gold, came upon it like a set in 'Lost Horizon,'" the intrepid broker said. "It was Shangri-la, with certain differences.

"The customs of the various tribes among the 400,000 people in the valley had not changed in thousands of years. Neither had the people or their appetites. The Bera-Beras and the Kukukukus still prefer human flesh for their protein."

Cotlow got where he wanted in the valley by means of light planes, which landed him on little strips dug out by the peoples of such places as Goroka, Minj, Wabog, Laiegan, Chimbu Menyama and Aimoe, where pygmies almost identical to those he found in Africa several years ago live with no knowledge of their Lilliputian brothers across the world. Where the planes could not land him, Cotlow went by Land Rover, dugout or painfully by foot. He saw wonders:

"In most of the areas the natives, especially the men, wear elaborate plumed head-dresses, plucked from birds of paradise, black cockatoos and cassowary," Lew told us.

"They embellish themselves further with possum tails, headbands of brilliant green shells, and pig tusks for their pierced noses. Some wear plumes through their noses. The men cover their chests with pearl shell, like to paint their faces red and yellow and smear their bodies with pig fat. Their weapons remain the club, the spear and, here and there, the bow and arrow."

Cotlow returned with a glowing respect for the young Australian patrol officers who police this area, persuading the tribes to cease their eternal wars.

Leahy, an alumnus of that corps, particularly impressed him. "He made me feel as if I were listening to Lewis and Clark, or La Salle." Mick is coming to New York late in January to attend the birthday party of a man for whom he once stalked Japanese — Douglas MacArthur.

Rudolph Bozak, the 48-year-old Norwalk, Conn., engineer whose firm makes speakers for high fidelity systems, pinpoints the core of the hi-fi boom:

"The professional man of means—the business executive, lawyer, doctor—is the man most responsible for what has become a $200 million annual business.

"He's over 40, makes better than $10,000 a year, has good taste. Whether he knows it or not, he derives therapeutic value from his hi-fi. The good music and true tone relaxes him, helps him 'unwind' after a day of business and professional tensions.

"Some of my devoted customers are doctors, taking the medicine of music they are increasingly recommending to their patients."

Thomas E. Murray, consultant to Congress on atomic energy, fights the administration's interest in stopping A-bomb tests thusly:

"Our security vitally depends on continued progress in perfecting the technology of small weapons; and this progress cannot be assured without tests. Limited war is still the real danger, and a small weapons program is the real need.

"If we are inferior in stocks of low-yield kiloton weapons, we become vulnerable to a particularly insidious form of nuclear blackmail. In a war begun with limited weapons we might have to bear the onus and the guilt, in our own eyes and before world opinion, of being the first to use weapons of mass destructions."

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Auto Fumes Causing Cancer, Parley Warned

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Ohio doctor said today air pollution caused by auto and truck exhausts is as much responsible as cigarettes for increasing lung cancer.

Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, assistant dean of the College of Medicine at Ohio State University, made the statement in a speech prepared for the opening of the National Conference on Air Pollution.

★ ★ ★

Foul air originally was caused largely by burning of coal in homes and industry, Leake said, but now scientific studies show half of air pollution comes from motor engine exhaust.

★ ★ ★

"In addition to eye and respiratory irritation, the increasing incidence of lung cancer is quite as referable to increased city traffic exhausts as to cigarettes," he said.

"When are the auto and truck manufacturers going to turn from the foolishness of fins, from silly style whims, from oversized models and from too much horsepower to the essential but tough job of controlling exhausts?"

In another prepared talk, Dr. Herman Hilleboe, New York State health commissioner, also pointed to motor vehicles as a main source of air pollution.

He said there were 66,400,000 of them on the nation's highways last year as compared with 40,600,000 in 1948.

The conference was called by U.S. Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney. More than 70 air pollution specialists, civic leaders and representatives of industrial and governmental agencies dealing with air pollution are participating in the three day sssions.

The Public Health Service hopes the participants will agree on a 10-year plan to fight air pollution.

Dr. Leake said nuclear weapons testing also is a "potentially very dangerous sort of air pollution, involving all living things."

"One need only spend a few hours in California or Nevada to recognize the growing public apprehension over radiation fallout," he said.

Average Family Larger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The baby boom of the 1940s has swollen the size of the average American family. The Census Bureau reported yesterday that from 1948 to 1958, the number of families with two or more children under 18 living at home rose from 11,200,000 to 16,400,000. A decade ago, families with two or more children at home represented 30 per cent of all families. As of last March they constituted 37.5 per cent.

Lynn Bartlett Plans to Seek Re-Election

LANSING (AP) — State Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett said he will run for the post again in the April election.

Bartlett said:

"When I took office, I promised the people of Michigan a thorough and complete job.

"A great deal has been accomplished in the past 20 months, but there still remain many goals that have yet to be reached if we want the best in educational opportunities for our boys and girls."

Bartlett first ran for the post in April 1955 and missed being elected by less than 3,000 votes. He ran successfully two years ago against Edgar L. Harden, now president of Northern Michigan College.

The post pays $17,500 annually.

Nevada Ranch, Cattle Sold by Bing Crosby

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — Crooner Bing Crosby has pulled out of the Nevada ranching business.

Bing sold his 19,000-acre ranch north of here, its 3,700 head of cattle and all equipment for a price exceeding one million dollars, it was announced Tuesday.

The buyers are California ranchers and businessmen Edward Johnson, Earl Presnell and William Johnson. Crosby takes over two of Presnell's small ranches near Modesto, but expects to sell them.

Austria to Present Hymn Medal to Ike

SALZBURG, Austria (AP) — President Eisenhower will soon receive a "Silent Nigh, Holy Night" medal from the municipal Council of nearby Oberndorf.

The Austrian ambassador to Washington will hand it to him shortly before Christmas.

★ ★ ★

The medals commemorate the famous Christmas song introduced in the chapel at Oberndorf 140 years ago. They are made by an Oberndorf arist, Hans Kogler.

Previous recipients include Austria's President Adolf Schaerf and Foreign Minister Leopold Figl.

With Cold-War Offensive Centered in East Germany

Beware of Russia's Swing-Back to Stalin's Grim Brink-of-War Tactics

(Twenty-five years ago this week, the United States established diplomatic relations with Communist Russia. More than one-half of that time has been a period of cold war between the U. S. and her allies on the one hand and the Soviets on the other. Two UPI correspondents—Joseph W. Grigg, chief European correspondent, and K. C. Thaler, chief diplomatic correspondent in London—have covered all important East-West developments during those turbulent cold war years. They are at present covering the two Western-Soviet conferences in Geneva. In the following joint dispatch they review the prospects for relations between Russia and the West in the coming critical months and years.)

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG and K. C. THALER

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and her Western allies face a long period of Soviet "brinkmanship."

Russia's leaders today appear tougher, more confident, readier to take risks, less willing to compromise with the West.

They will be as hard if not harder to do business with in the future than they were in the past.

But they are not likely to provoke a nuclear world war unless the West threatens one of their vital interests.

That is the rather grim outlook for the near future in Soviet-Western relations as seen by Western diplomats with long experience of dealing with the Soviets—the men who are having to deal with them again at two Geneva conference tables right now.

These diplomats believe the Kremlin's foreign policy is going through one of its periodical major shifts. It is perhaps the most significant change of wind since Nikita Khrushchev threw "Stalinism" overboard and gave the world the gleaming—but, as it turned out, only temporary—hope of a thaw in the East-West cold war.

★ ★ ★

Today the pendulum appears to have swung right back again. The world is witnessing a return to "Stalinism," at least in Russia's foreign policy.

NEW OFFENSIVE

The swing-back is marked by a new Soviet cold war offensive.

It hit the West first in the Middle East last summer, then in the Far East in September and now has struck again in Europe—the most critical and most potentially explosive point in East-West relations.

So far it has been marked by:

—Russia's threat against the West in Berlin.

—Stepped-up Soviet propaganda attacks against the West, particularly against the United States, all along the cold war battlefronts.

—Russia's successful move to swing once-recalcitrant Poland right back into the Communist line by renewed support for the Oder-Neisse frontier during this week's Moscow visit of Polish Premier Wladyslaw Gomulka.

—Revived Russian demands for a new East-West summit meeting.

—The tough, unbending Soviet line in both Geneva conferences.

What is behind this new Soviet cold war drive?

Seasoned western diplomats believe that as far as Europe is concerned it is a full-dress campaign to consolidate the whole Communist position to solidify the "cold war frontier" in Europe for years to come.

DIVERSIONARY MOVES

Experienced diplomats believe the Mideastern and Far Eastern drives probably were diversionary moves designed to shake up the West before the main offensive in Europe.

Khrushchev, they believe, has concluded that German reunification on Russia's terms is out as far as the immediate future is concerned. Hence, in order to solidify Russia's East European position, he has launched another major attempt to win international recognition and respect for his East German Communist satellite.

One step towards this was his proposal to pull Soviet troops out of East Germany. But free West Berlin, the biggest remaining window and "escape hatch" towards the West behind the Iron Curtain, must be eliminated before this can be achieved.

★ ★ ★

For this reason many Western diplomats believe Russia will step up the West Berlin squeeze to the very limit short of war. They see signs that, despite repeated Western pledges, Khrushchev still may not be fully convinced that the West would in fact go to war to save West Berlin.

★ ★ ★

The two Geneva conferences on suspension of nuclear testing and prevention of surprise attacks appear to be just minor fronts in Russia's present cold war drive. But they are important because they are the first major East-West diplomatic get-togethers since Russia's swing back to "Stalinism."

Russia's tactics here are symptomatic and typical of her present tough mood.

At both conference tables Soviet policy has been one of obstinate stalling on procedural issues—a tactic strangely reminiscent of Molotov in so many Big Four conferences of Josef Stalin's day. Not once has Russia shown a sign of yielding so much as an inch to make an East-West agreement possible.

The renewed pressure on Berlin, the repeated, polite but relentless Russian "nyet" at the Geneva conference table, Moscow's moves to isolate and insulate "heretic" Titoist Yugoslavia politically and economically from the rest of the Communist world, Poland's restoration to the fold—all add up to the inescapable conclusions that:

—"Stalinism" is back to stay.

—Russia will be harder to deal with than ever in the past.

—Although Khrushchev probably would not deliberately provoke a war, he is ready to push the West to the very brink.

May Share in Father's Estate

San Francisco Sisters Await Hapsburg Money

VIENNA (AP)—It will be some time before two San Francisco archduchesses can collect the quarter of a million dollars they are in line to get from their Hapsburg father's estate.

Austria's administrative court still must rule long-pending action to set aside the Mexican divorce the late Archduke Albrecht von Hapsburg-Lothringen obtained from the mother of his two daughters, Catherine Lorraine, a clerk in the San Francisco financial district.

★ ★ ★

The girls are Ildika, 16, and Sarolta, 18, who live in a modest flat over a San Francisco grocery. Ildika attends a convent school and Sarolta is a college freshman.

The San Francisco family moved closer to the fortune recently. The Austrian constitutional court ruled against the claim by the archduke's second wife that a constitutional law was violated when the Austrian Ministry of Justice decreed the Mexican divorce invalid. Now the administrative court must rule whether any other law was violated.

★ ★ ★

"This will take some time," said the Vienna lawyer for the girls and their mother, Hans Christian Broda. "But there can be little doubt that the administrative court will arrive at a decision similar to that of the constitutional court."

Broda explained that the suit between the two "Hapsburg widows" was only to determine which had been the archduke's lawful wife when he died in 1955. There was no challenge in his will, which named his nephew, Baron Paul Wladbott-bassenheim, as his only heir.

★ ★ ★

Under Austrian law the heir must make adequate alimony payments to Albrecht's lawful widow and pay a "legitimate portion" to the two daughters.

The fortune, estimated at about a million dollars, consists of Vilburg Castle near Vienna and other large real estate holdings.

Broda said the girl's share, after deduction of expenses, would be about a fourth. He did not estimate how much their mother might collect.

Bad Water Is Spoiling Whisky in Port Credit

PORT CREDIT, Ont. (AP)—The water in this village near Toronto is so bad it's making whisky undrinkable.

Mayor Stephen Bradley told the village council of the complaint from a whisky-and-water man.

★ ★ ★

Councillor Arthur Farrington, chairman of the water committee, said a high phenol content — which adds a flavor similar to creosote — had developed. Workers are flushing the mains to purify the highballs.

Flint Can't Decide on City Manager

FLINT (AP)—The Flint City Commission last night rescinded its appointment of former police chief James T. Byars as city manager.

The vote was 8-1 with one commissioner, Michael D. Fuller, abstaining.

The commission appointed Byars city manager last week by a 6-2 vote after forcing the resignation of Harold C. Chirgwin.

★ ★ ★

It gave no reason for either its firing of Chirgwin, its appointment of Byars or its subsequent ousting of the former police chief.

An overflow crowd attended last night's meeting. Many spoke in support of Chirgwin.

American Metals Tieup Ends With 3-Year Pact

DETROIT (AP) — An eight-week strike which idled 850 workers at the American Metal Products Co. has been settled with a new three-year labor contract, pending ratification vote.

The agreement was reached last night by negotiators for the company and the United Auto Workers Union. Neither side would disclose the terms of the settlement.

Production of auto seat tracks, seat cushions and truck axles, which had been halted since Sept. 26, was scheduled to resume Thursday.

Key issue in the dispute was plant-wide seniority. The company operates plants in Detroit and Union City, Tenn.

Salvation Army Set for Christmas Aid

The 1958 Pontiac area Christmas clearing house will be located in the basement of the Salvation Army Citadel, 29 W. Lawrence.

The office will open to receive applications for Christmas aid on Monday, Nov. 24. Office hours will be 9 to 12 noon and 1 to 5 p.m., Monday thru Friday until Dec. 20.

All applications for Christmas aid must be made in person by noon Dec. 15, to facilitate mailing of Christmas checks, according to Captain J. William Heaver, director of the clearing house.

All baskets donated for redistribution must reach the clearing house by Dec. 22, so delivery can be made before Christmas.

To insure that there are no duplications and that no one is forgotten, Capt. Heaver is asking all groups giving Christmas baskets or gratuities to first check with the clearing house.

Captains Dig Clams, Drive Taxis

Pilots Idled by Walkout Taking Part Time Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—What do highly-skilled airline pilots do when their company is shut down by a long strike?

About 850 captains and copilots have been furloughed since a mechanics' strike closed down Capital Airlines 35 days ago.

A UPI survey showed today that many pilots swallowed their professional pride when their pocketbooks were grounded.

Three pilots went from the complicated cockpits of turbo-prop Viscounts to driving taxicabs in suburban Montgomery County.

One veteran captain is digging clams along Chesapeake Bay—and happily reported he is earning $20 a day.

"I'd rather be flying," he said, "but I gotta make a living."

Other temporary jobs revealed in the survey:

★ ★ ★

One captain is refurbishing antiques—a hobby he turned into an avocation overnight.

Two are working a plant nursery owned by an Allegheny Airlines captain.

Another is painting houses.

Several are selling real estate. Five are giving private flying lessons. One is instructing in seaplane flying. Two are working in hardware stores as clerks. At least two are selling insurance and one is a part-time school teacher.

★ ★ ★

All Capital pilots receive $10 a day "subsistence" benefits from their union, the Airline Pilots Association (ALPA). When Capital was shut down, ALPA literally passed the hat among its more than 13,000 members—an extra assessment on their dues to help Capital's crews meet normal living expenses.

But these benefits fell far short of meeting all their commitments.

"You must remember that some of our men were earning as much as $14,000 a year," one pilot explained. "They have financial obligations in accordance with their normal living standards—mortgages, car payments, etc. Ten dollars a day to a man making between $8,000 and $14,000 a year is an awful letdown.

The Capital pilots officially have taken a neutral stand toward the strike. While many of them undoubtedly have private opinions about the long walkout, they have taken their financial strain with no outward bitterness toward the mechanics or the company.

A handful (how many could not be learned) have refused to apply for unemployment insurance.

"Call it professional pride, if you will," one pilot declared, "but I'd have to be a lot worst off than I am before I'd draw an unemployment check. I'm having a tough time, but I'd rather draw from my savings than apply for unemployment insurance."

Policeman's Killer Hunted in Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—All available officers joined today in a hunt for a man who shot and killed a motorcycle policeman a few minutes after a $187 liquor store holdup.

★ ★ ★

Frank Wall, 34, a veteran of the Augusta force, died Tuesday night in a hospital several hours after being shot five times.

Police quoted witnesses as saying Wall stopped a car reported stolen earlier in Augusta to question the driver. He was shot down without warning.

★ ★ ★

Police said the gunman roared away in the car. Officers chased the vehicle at speeds up to 120 miles an hour before losing it. The car later was found about 10 blocks from the scene of the shooting.

Only the Original Troublemakers Escape Woe

HUDSON (AP) — Bad manners on the highway led to trouble here.

★ ★ ★

A woman driver was hospitalized for hysteria and another motorist charged with felonious assault.

Driving home at night from deer hunting, Glenn Donaldson and Robert Williams said persons in another car heckled and threatened them.

Donaldson and Williams got out their shotguns and waited as the other car circled the block.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Suan Lough drove up. Her car was mistaken for that of the hecklers.

Ordered to halt and with shotguns aimed at her, Mrs. Lough collided with a parked car. A shot was fired at her car.

Apologies were instant when Mrs. Lough's identity was discovered.

Mrs. Lough was treated at a hospital for hysteria. She was not injured. Donaldson was charged with felonious assault. He is free on $500 bond.

Fur Workers Seek Revival

$900,000 Will Be Spent in Attempt to Recapture Female Coat Buyers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union and management forces in the fur industry united today in a three-year, $900,000 program to revive the American woman's flagging interest in buying furs.

While mink, ermine and sable remain popular with those who can afford them, the less exotic furs have slumped in feminine favor. Fur sales have dwindled to about half the volume of 10 years ago.

★ ★ ★

Improbably, it was the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's Union which took the initiative in trying to restore the glamor appeal of fur coats.

The Fur Workers Union has been adopted by the Meat Cutters as its fur and leather department, but a substantial part of the department's membership is out of work.

The Meat Cutters announced that an initial $25,000 contribution from their treasury will be supplemented with about $150,000 a year collected by a joint union-management authority for use of the union label in fur garments.

Another $150,000 annually, more or less, is to be raised by individual contributions from the many fur manufacturers — mostly small operators — and from the manufacturers' trade associations.

A study of consumers' fur-buying habits, wants, likes and dislikes has been made, the union announced. That study will provide the basis for a promotion and advertising campaign.

This program will be managed by a Fur Fashion and Information Council headed by Abe Feinglass, director of the union's fur and leather department.

In addition, Feinglass said, the council will undertake an intensive research program into fur coloring, styling and production techniques.

The fur industry acknowledges makers of cloth coats have cut deeply into their market by smart styling, the use of new fabrics, textures and finishes, and introduction of new artificial fibers.

German Car Output Tops '57 Production

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — West German automobile production and export in the first ten months of 1958 have exceeded all of last year, the Federation of German Automobile Industries state.

★ ★ ★

The ten-month production total was 1,245,982 or 25 per cent above the January-October period of 1957 and 2.5 per cent above the entire output last year.

Almost half of the cars, 606,579, were sold abroad. This was 22,000 more than the export total for all of 1957. The increase against the ten month total of last year was 28.5 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Scientist Gets Nothing but Illness From Work

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Photographing a star galaxy during a snowstorm turned out badly for Swiss-born scientist Fritz Zwicky, 59.

Dr. Zwicky, professor of astrophysics at the California Institute of Technology, became ill as a result of overexposure to the cold.

He spent 4½ hours in a small cage atop mile-high Mt. Palomar taking spectrograph pictures of the galaxy with the aid of the 200-inch telescope. When he finished at 3 a.m. Monday, he was half numb. To make matters worse, his pictures were blurred and of no use.

Ima Washout says her finances are at such a low ebb that her relatives have stopped asking about her health . . . A local husband insists that in every argument with his wife he has the last word — he apologizes. —Earl Wilson.

New Envoy in Charge of European Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Livingston T. Merchant, a career diplomat, was sworn in today as new assistant secretary of state in charge of European affairs.

The 54-year-old New Yorker, ambassador to Canada for the past two years, succeeds C. Burke Elbrick who has been assigned as ambassador to Portugal.

Change Stumps Experts

Well Giving Hot Water

MONMOUTH, Ill. (AP)—Farmer Chalmer Lovdahl has a hot well on his farm and he's in a little fever about it.

The 30-foot well, Lovdahl said, had furnished sparkling and cold water for his household for 36 years until last August.

"The water was far colder and better for drinking than water from a nearby well—125 feet deep—that I use for my stock," Lovdahl said.

★ ★ ★

But the water in the smaller well began warming up last August. It became progressively warmer and recently it leveled off at 101 degrees, where it has remained.

Lovdahl called in experts from the University of Illinois and the State Health Department to explain the phenomenon. No satisfactory explanations were given.

Lovdahl said he's undecided whether to move away on the theory he is living on top of an incipient volcano or to harness the water to his hot water heating system and forget about fuel bills.

★ ★ ★

Russell Lane, a state water survey chemist who inspected the well, said he'd never seen anything like it. University geologists said the same. A water softener service man from Madison, Wis., came, shook his head, and went away.

Lane had a theory but he was the first to admit it might be all wet. Maybe, he said, a vein of coal beneath the well has caught fire, radiating heat toward the surface.

But he sprayed his own theory with cold water: there has been no change in the temperature of the water from the deep well, 120 feet away.

"No one can tell me anything," Lovdahl lamented.

U.S. Group to Study Soviet Neurology

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service announced today that six U. S. scientists will study neurological services in the Soviet Union.

The study is sponsored by the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness under an exchange agreement.

A group of Soviet specialists will make a similar study here later.

Members of the U. S. group are: Dr. Francis M. Forster and Dr. Nathan Clinton Woolsey, of the University of Wisconsin; Dr. Paul Ivan Yakovlev, Harvard University; Dr. Louis S. Goodman, Utah University; Dr. Henry W. Woltman, Mayo Foundation graduate school; Dr. Karl Frank, National Institutes of Health, Washington.

Four PTAs in Waterford Celebrate Book Week

Celebrating National Book week Nov. 17 through 21, four Waterford Township Parent-Teacher Associations have scheduled meetings for tomorrow night in accordance with the book theme.

"Children's Books" is the title that Richard Elder, Oakland County reading consultant has chosen for the 7:30 p.m. meeting at the Covert school.

During the day, from 1 to 4 p.m. there will be a Book Fair in progress at the school.

The Covert boys and girls chorus will present several numbers during the evening's activities.

Parents of children attending the William Burt school will also have the opportunity to examine a book display, prior to the 8 p.m. meeting.

State PTA Program chairman, Mrs. William Wright will present an address titled "Studying Michigan Schools," and an "opinionaire" will be distributed among parents for completion, during the coffee hour following the meeting.

Mrs. William Shunck will present a talk on "Children's Books," in age brackets one through six, at the 7:30 p.m. Leggett school PTA meeting.

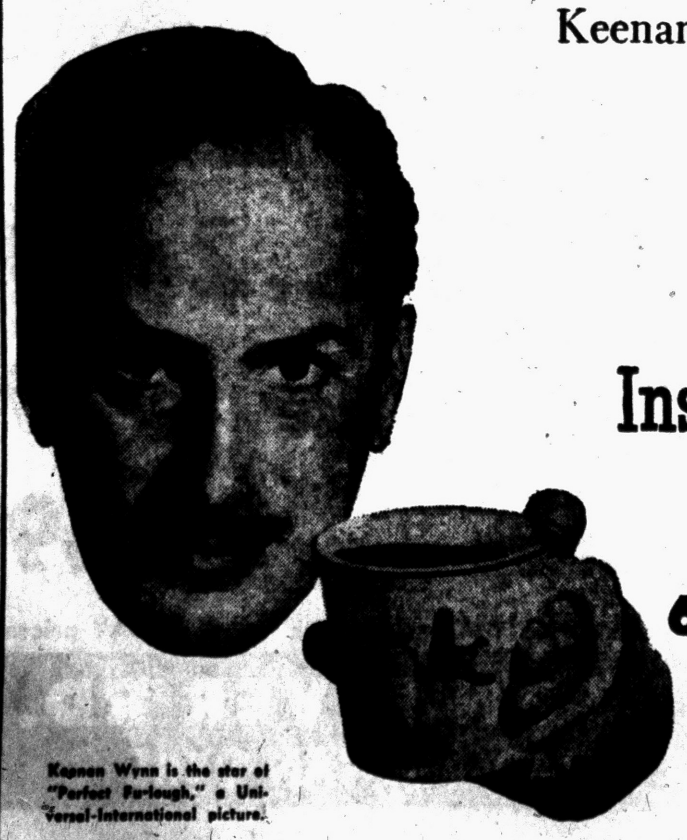

Parents and friends have been urged to "browse" through a big book display which will be set up in the Leggett school lobby, and books may be purchased during the tea hour.

Recreation director Tom Belton will present a talk on the Waterford Township recreation program at the 7:45 p.m. Donelson school PTA meeting.

Following the presentation, there will be an Open House where books will be on display, and for sale during the evening and the following day.

Bridge Probable Between Soos

Mackie Says Higher Tunnel Cost Estimate Makes Span Likely

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — A proposed international highway bridge across the Soo locks to Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., would cost an estimated $18,198,450. A tunnel would cost $27,500,000.

Announcing the cost estimates today, State Highway Commissioner John S. Mackie said, "It looks as though the bridge would be the choice."

★ ★ ★

The cost figures were in an engineering report by the staff of D. B. Steinman, designer of the Mackinac Bridge.

The estimates were asked by the Michigan and Ontario Highway Departments as another step toward getting the proposed link between the American and Canadian Soos.

The two cities now are connected by Canadian ferry service across the St. Marys River.

★ ★ ★

Plans call for construction of the bridge center section with revenue bond financing by the International Bridge Authority. The Michigan and Ontario governments would pay for the bridge approaches on their respective sides of the river.

It is estimated the American approach would cost $5,200,000 and the Canadian, $3,700,000. Michigan's share would be eligible for 90 per cent U.S. federal aid as part of the interstate highway system.

The Steinman report now goes to the bridge authority which will study it and detail financing costs, including operation, maintenance and interest charges.

★ ★ ★

Engineers said the bridge could be opened by November 1960. It estimated construction time at 20 months while a tunnel would take 36 months.

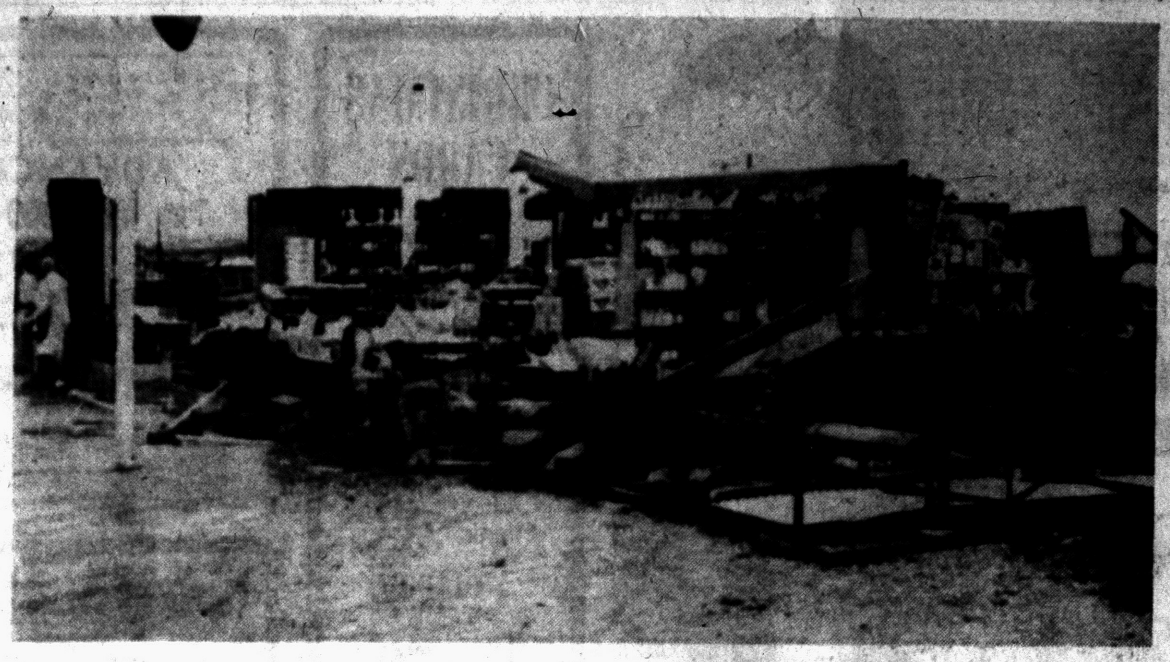

'Dumb' Safe Crackers Add Insult to Injury

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Helen Lazzari put this note on the safe at the fuel company office where she works:

"Attention, safe crackers: only papers are kept in this safe. We keep our money in the bank. Thank you.'

★ ★ ★

When she opened the office Tuesday the safe was open and $1,000 was gone. Beneath her typewritten note, the yeggs had used her own typewriter to add: "Can't read."

RAISED THE ROOF — It looks like strictly outdoor sales for this liquor store in Wichita Falls, Tex. after a twister lifted the roof from the block structure. Shelf after shelf of bottles were intact, but the outside walls and a barn across the street disappeared.

Makes Concession on 'Peaceful Use' Issue

Russia Agrees to Outer Space Study

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians have made a concession towards getting started on a study of using outer space for peaceful purposes. It's a little step, not enough to raise hopes for broad settlements in other fields.

The concession was simply on getting such a study started. That's a long way from any international agreement on how to control outer space. But at least it's something. It was some progress where none had been made before.

★ ★ ★

The United States and Russia have been dickering on three problems at the same time: on outer space in the United Nations; and, in Geneva, on ending nuclear tests and preventing surprise attacks.

★ ★ ★

Until Tuesday they had been deadlocked on all three.

The United States had proposed creation of a nine-nation study committee on the use of outer space for peaceful purposes, with the committee to report back to next year's U.N. General Assembly.

★ ★ ★

The Russians had demanded that international control of outer space be tied in with abandonment by the United States of its overseas bases. Then Tuesday the U.S.S.R. made its concessions.

★ ★ ★

Instead of this country's proposed nine-nation study committee, the Russians suggested creation of an 11-nation study group to prepare the groundwork for a permanent U.N. committee for cooperation in the study of outer space.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union dropped its demand that abandonment of American overseas bases be linked with a study of outer space. But it emphasized that the concession at the U.N. did not mean concessions at Geneva.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union also proposed — and this was in keeping with the American suggestion — that the study group report back to the General Assembly next year.

Since the gap between the United States and the Soviets — on outer space — has now been narrowed, they have to dicker some more to close it. What seems to separate them now is a matter of detail. That shouldn't be too tough to iron out.

★ ★ ★

Yet this is only the mildest kind of beginning and in the end may lead to nothing. There's a big difference between what a study group recommends and what the United States and the Soviet Union finally may agree on, perhaps years from now, if ever.

The way things are going nowadays, it's mighty tough to tell a lie big enough to attract attention . . . A man pays a quarter to park his car so he won't be fined a dollar while spending a dime for a cup of coffee worth a nickel. — Earl Wilson.

Mason Commissioner Appointed by Williams

LANSING (AP) — Wilfred Hocking of Ludington has been appointed Mason County Circuit Court Commissioner by Gov. Williams to fill a vacancy. Hocking was elected to the post Nov. 4, but his term of office does not begin until Jan. 1.

★ ★ ★

The governor also named Mrs. Loretta A. Peterson of Marshall as court stenographer for the 37th judicial circuit succeeding Margaret Fagan who resigned.

Driving Privilege Is Taken From 15 Area Residents

Fifteen Pontiac area residents had their driver's license revoked or suspended recently, according to the Michigan secretary of state's office.

Six persons ordered to furnish financial responsibility for drunk driving were:

Alfred Lee Boyce, Rochester
Thomas W. Davis, 48 Fenely Ct.
William T. Doan, Milford
George W. Dockham, Waterford Twp.
Elizabeth G. Moody, Farmington
Simon Repovsh, 67 N. Clark St.

Those found to have unsatisfactory driving records were:

David E. Chambers, 386 S. Anderson St.
Joseph Y. Clark Jr., Farmington
Sam Gabriel, 257 Ottawa Dr.
Frank C. Hoskins Jr., 143 Center St.
Jack Ostrander, 422 Linda Vista
Charles Thomas, Waterford Twp.
Sam J. Yarger Waterford Twp.
Thorveld A. York, 90 Collier St.

Richard Leonard of Milford was also ordered to furnish financial responsibility for unlawfully driving away an auto.

Mighty Poor Choice

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — It was just one of those days for Marlin Saline, 29, of Phoenix. He rammed his auto into a State Highway Patrol car, parked at the Nogales police station. Saline, promptly nabbed, was charged with drunken driving.

Charge Red Chinese Ready Island Attack

TAIPEI (AP) — The Chinese Nationalists charged the mainland Communists today with building up their fortifications opposite Quemoy in preparation for an attack.

★ ★ ★

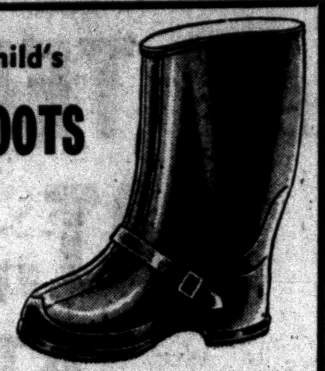

A communique said 1,400 Communist soldiers were observed constructing fortifications.

"The whole pattern of construction is for offensive purposes," the chief military spokesman, Rear Adm. Liu Hoh-tu, told newsmen.

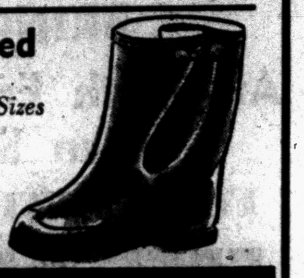

★ ★ ★

The Communists resumed their shelling of Quemoy. Only 27 Red rounds were fired before dawn, and the shelling continued very light and fitful into the afternoon.

Give Last Pleas in Caril's Trial

Starkweather's Girl Is Calm as Murder Case Nears Jury

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Prosecutors and defense lawyers squared off in final arguments today preparatory to placing in a jury's hands the fate of murder defendant Caril Ann Fugate.

The entire day was set aside for closing pleas.

The 15-year-old brunette schoolgirl is charged with aiding and abetting her ex-boy friend, condemned killer Charles Starkweather, in one of 11 killings attributed to him.

★ ★ ★

Caril is charged on two counts with first degree murder and murdes in the perpetration of a robbery as a result of the death of Robert Jensen, Bennett, Neb., schoolboy. Identical charges brought a death sentence against Starkweather last May.

Cross-examination Tuesday failed to unnerve or upset the youthful defendant. She continued to answer many questions with "I don't remember" or "I'm not sure."

★ ★ ★

County Atty. Elmer Scheele asked whether Caril, while she and Starkweather were fleeing toward Wyoming, had told her boy friend that she loved him.

"Yes I did," Caril replied. "I was afraid he would kill me."

"Did you kiss him," Scheele asked.

"No, he kissed me."

Final witness for the state was William Dixon, former Converse County attorney at Douglas, now of Aurora, Colo.

★ ★ ★

He testified Caril was told in Wyoming that her family members had been killed. This contradicted Caril's assertion she didn't know until reaching Nebraska on the return trip to Lincoln that Starkweather had slain her own family members.

Christmas Spending Record Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A government economist predicts Christmas spending will reach a new record high this year.

The holiday business spurt will get 1959 business activity off to a good start by stepping up demand for replacement stocks in retail stores, Louis J. Paradiso told the Agriculture Department's 1959 outlook conference.

Paradiso, assistant director of the Commerce Department's Office of Business Economics, said the pickup in business next year was not likely to produce a "serious inflationary situation."

He said the rise in business activity will ease off as 1959 progresses and "will probably still reflect less than full employment."

Runaway Steer Stampedes Cars in City Streets

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A 1,500 pound Brahma steer got caught in downtown traffic.

It raced through miles of busy streets. Motorists slammed on their brakes and rolled up windows.

★ ★ ★

The big steer stopped at a car lot and began butting the cars. Patrolman Jay Larson lassoed it, but when the beast charged him he dropped the rope and ran. Police finally felled the animal with 10 shots.

★ ★ ★

The steer was hauled off to a tallow works. No one knows where it came from.

Trucker Testifies Before Rackets Committee

Tells How He Beat the 'Hot Cargo' Boycott

WASHINGTON (AP) — Desmond A. Barry, a Texas truck operator who licked boycotting Teamsters unionists, tells Senate investigators today about his successful fight against the "hot cargo" practice.

Under this practice, unionized truck lines refused to handle freight to or from any other line involved in a dispute with the teamsters.

★ ★ ★

The Senate Rackets Committee currently is studying whether regulations against secondary boycotts, including the hot cargo practice, need tightening.

Barry is president of the Galveston Truck Lines of Houston, Tex.

His troubles with the Teamsters started in 1955 when, he said, the union insisted that he sign a contract accepting it as the collective bargaining agent for his drivers.

He said the drivers wanted no part of the union, and that he wouldn't "let anyone force such a contract down my men's throats."

★ ★ ★

His refusal, Barry said, brought a hot cargo boycott, which he claimed cut his business in half in six weeks.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, in an action started by Barry, finally ruled such tactics illegal.

The Rackets Committee announced it also would call officials of the Coffey Transfer Co., of Alma, Neb., allegedly driven out of business by a hot cargo boycott.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said John Bridge of Chicago, labor consultant to the Motor Carriers Advisory Council, would be questioned about agreements under which some of the firms Bridge represents allegedly participated in boycotts.

In its hearing Tuesday, the committee received testimony that Teamsters terrorists plotted bombings and other violence against truckers who defied them.

The committee placed in evidence a batch of secretly made tape recordings which purported to record the voices of Raymond C. Shafer and some other Teamsters officials in discussions of bombings and other violence. Shafer is business manager of Teamsters local 657 in San Antonio, Tex.

★ ★ ★

William R. (Buddy) Springer, a confessed former hoodlum, swore he had heard Shafer try to induce another man to shoot down San Antonio truck line operator Roy Gilbert, or throw a hand grenade stolen from the Army into Gilbert's house.

Springer, now a San Antonio garage worker, said he helped out on sabotage for Shafer because "I just didn't have the guts to go against him."

★ ★ ★

Shafer and several other Teamsters officials invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to say whether the tape recordings, made by Texas Rangers, carried their voices or whether they ever dealt in violence.

Six to Remain Shut

School Integration Loses Norfolk Vote

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Local voters advised the City Council in an informational referendum Tuesday that they do not want six closed white schools returned to city control for integrated operation.

It was the first time the question had been put to residents in any of the three localities in which schools are closed under Virginia's massive resistance to integration laws.

★ ★ ★

Unofficial returns from the city's 46 precincts gave 12,340 votes against requesting Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. to return the schools to 8,712 votes for making the request.

The outcome of the balloting is not binding on the council, although at least five of its seven members had indicated they would act on a majority vote.

Three junior high and three senior high schools have been closed since Sept. 29 when the City School Board, complying with a Federal Court desegregation order, enrolled 17 Negroes. State law requires the immediate closing of any public school in which the races are mixed.

The law also provides that the governor may, at his discretion, return any closed school to the locality if the local governing body and school board so ask. But if it is returned and opened on an integrated basis, state funds are cut off.

A footnote on Tuesday's ballot said that if the schools were returned and opened on an integrated basis, it would be necessary to charge parents of school children "substantial" tuition to make up for the loss of state money.

The fact that Norfolk — where some 10,000 children have been denied entrance to public schools for two months — sided with the administration's program will doubtless strengthen the view that Virginia is not wavering in its opposition to racially mixed schools.

Still Searching Utah for Lost Airman

HILL AFB, Utah (AP)—Ground parties and air force planes searched the frozen wilderness east of here again today for the missing navigator of an ill-fated C119 transport plane.

★ ★ ★

The plane's eight occupants parachuted into the storm-swept mountains of northeastern Utah last Friday after one of the craft's two engines failed. The plane crashed in eastern Idaho.

★ ★ ★

Four of the eight were rescued. Three died in the sub-zero cold before rescue parties found them.

Officials held little hope of finding the missing airman alive. He was Capt. Donald Liggett, 40, Indianapolis.

County's Corn Growers Go to the Polls Tuesday

Oakland County corn growers will go to the polls Tuesday to help make the decision on what the corn program will be for 1959 and later years.

The choice is between the present program of acreage allotments and price supports and a new program in which there would be no acreage allotments, with price supports to be determined on a different basis.

A majority vote of the corn producers voting here and in 931 other commercial corn counties throughout the nation will decide the outcome of the referendum. Anyone who had an interest in the 1958 corn crop in the commercial area is eligible to vote.

★ ★ ★

Polls in Oakland County will be open 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Locations are as follows:

For Brandon, Oxford, Addison and Independence townships — Oxford Co-op elevator at Oxford.

For Oakland, Avon and Orion townships — Oakland Township Hall at Goodison.

For Pontiac, Bloomfield, Troy, Royal Oak, Southfield and Waterford townships — the Oakland County ASC Office, 18 South Perry St., room 323 Hubbard Bldg., in Pontiac.

For West Bloomfield and Farmington townships — West Bloomfield Township Hall at Orchard Lake.

For Commerce and Novi townships — the Wixom Co-op elevator garage at Wixom.

For Milford and Lyon townships — Lyon Township Hall in New Hudson.

For Highland and White Lake townships — Highland Township Hall in Highland.

For Holly, Rose, Groveland and Springfield townships — Hamilton elevator in Holly.

The corn referendum is required under the Agricultural Act of 1958, passed by Congress late in the past session. The two programs to be voted on are designated on the ballot as No. 1 and No. 2. The County Agricultural Stabilization Commission office explains the two programs as follows:

Program No. 1 — This is a new program. There would be no acreage allotments and no designation of a commercial corn area. Price support under this program would be determined on the basis of 90 per cent of the average price farmers got for corn in the last three years, but not less than 65 per cent of parity.

It is now estimated that the national support level for 1959 under this program would be about $1.12 to $1.15 per bushel.

If the new program is approved, price supports in proper balance with corn would have to be offered each year on the other feed grains, oats, rye, barley and grain sorghums. Corn compliance would be eliminated as a soil bank, price support, or any other program requirement.

Program No. 2 — This is essentially the same program in effect in 1958 and earlier years. Corn acreage allotments would continue for farms in the commercial area.

With record corn supplies, allotments would probably drop next year about 15 per cent below 1958 and price support would probably average from $1.24 to $1.27 a bushel — at the bottom of the required 75 to 90 per cent of parity range. Corn acreage allotment compliance would be required for price support and for soil bank eligibility.

★ ★ ★

County ASC Chairman William F. Porritt urges all eligible farmers and landlords to vote in the referendum. "This is a great opportunity for corn farmers to help make an important decision," Porritt said.

"The Department of Agriculture and Congress are entitled to a turnout that would result in a representative expression of corn farmers' views."

Any farmer who has any question about voting places, eligibility or any other feature of the referendum may contact the local ASC office, Porritt said.

Pontiac City Affairs

2 Rezoning Changes Rejected

On recommendation of the city planning commission, two proposed changes were turned down last night by the city commission.

One would have corrected the non-conforming use of property at 226 East Blvd. by a lumber yard by rezoning it from Residential 1 to Manufacturing 1.

The other would have changed two lots at the southwest corner of Sanford and Midway streets from Residential 1 to Commerical 1. The plan commission said there wasn't room for an alley there.

Adopted was an ordinance rezoning 196 W. Howard St. from Residential 1 to Commercial 2. The Hall Baking Co., located there in a non-conforming status, wanted the change to expand its building. Approval was given after the company outlined its plans for off-street parking.

Adoption of another change was postponed one week. This would see five lots at the northwest corner of Walton boulevard and University street rezoned from Residential 1 to Commercial 1. Commissioner William W. Donaldson asked that before rezoning the land, the city try first to get right-of-way for possible future widening of Walton.

Two other favorable recommendations from the plan commission were accepted. One was to correct the non-conforming use of 719 W. Huron St. by the Fox Cleaners by rezoning it from Residential 3 to Commercial 1. The other would see the city vacate the alley between the new Glenwood street extension and Perry street.

Commissioners ordered ordinances prepared to effect both changes.

A public hearing was scheduled for next Tuesday to air an assessment roll prepared for a sidewalk on the south side of Linda Vista drive, Joslyn to Vernon.

No objections were raised at hearings last night on proposals to construct sidewalks on both sides of Orchard Lake avenue, Telegraph to the city limits, and the north side of Madison avenue, Perry to Arlene.

Assessments for a pumping station and sanitary sewers in the area bounded by Arlene, Clara, Fuller and Second were confirmed in four annual payments and assessments for a sidewalk on the east side of Stirling avenue, Madison to Baltimore, were confirmed in two payments.

Commissioners voted to share in the $2,200 cost of erecting a traffic signal at Elm and S. Saginaw streets as part of the progressive traffic light system under construction. The state, which controls the federal highway (U.S. 10), will pay two-thirds of the cost.

It was also agreed that the city would split with the state on the cost of erecting an illuminated no left turn sign at the intersection of Voorheis road and Telegraph road (M58).

Burglars Get $344, Guns, Liquor at Pontiac Tavern

Burglars pried open a safe and took $344 in a break-in of the Club 88, 88 Bagley St., it was reported to Pontiac police today.

The intruders, who gained entrance by breaking a window, also stole a .38-caliber revolver, a German luger and twenty bottles of liquor.

Coal, Grain Shipping Up

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coal and grain shipments during October on the Great Lakes were up 333,000 net tons over the similar 1957 month. However, iron ore shipments dropped more than 2½ million tons below October of the last year. The Lake Carriers Assn. reported yesterday coal and grain shipments last month totaled 7,673,571 net tons. Iron ore shipments were 8,480,635 gross tons.

Pontiac to Act on Compromise

Dispute Over Street Parking Meters Near Hospital Set for Vote

A compromise plan on the Oneida-Seminole street parking meter dispute will come up next Tuesday for final passage by the city commission.

★ ★ ★

It gives commissioners discretion to decide when, if ever, to erect meters on the two streets in connection with the proposed Pontiac General Hospital parking lot.

"The plan will partially allay fears, but does not offer as much as was hoped for," said Howard I. Bond, attorney for a group of residents seeking to block meters on their residential streets.

The objectors had turned in petitions bearing 240 signatures demanding that the parking lot ordinance be put to a public vote, but City Attorney William A. Ewart ruled last night that the petitions would have to have about 3,800 signatures to force a referendum.

The compromise was in the form of an amendment to the revenue bond ordinance which commissioners adopted Oct. 14 to finance the lot.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the amendment would not affect timing of the bond sale, and added that he and the city's bonding attorney, Claude Stevens, hoped it would not unfavorably affect interest rates.

The original ordinance specified that the city would erect 75 meters on Oneida, Seminole and Huron streets to protect hospital lot revenues.

★ ★ ★

The amended ordinance would require the city merely to erect on-street meters, if necessary, "to protect revenues and insure payment of principal and interest." It doesn't spell out where the meters would have to be.

"It leaves the parking restrictions outside of the lot up to the city commission," said Willman.

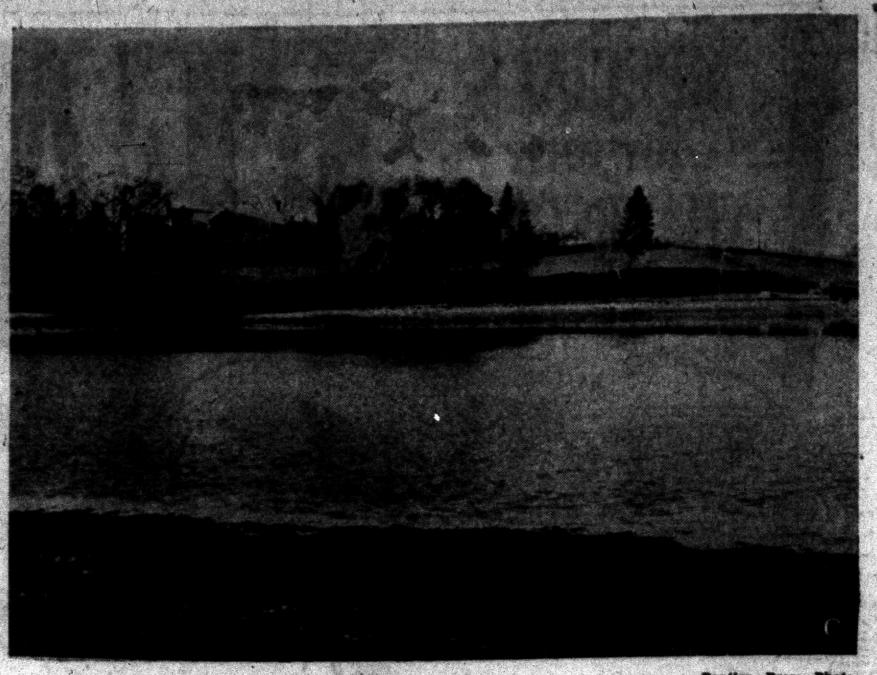

If adopted next week, the amendment will be sent to the Municipal Finance Commission, which is expected to pass on the revenue bond plan in about 10 weeks.

★ ★ ★

The $225,000 lot, financed through $175,000 in bonds and $50,000 in capital improvement funds, is scheduled to open next July 1.

Containing 214 metered stalls, it is to be located on ten lots south of the hospital between Johnson and Seminole streets.

Commissioners last night approved purchase of the lot and home owned by Mrs. Grace Olson at 52 S. Johnson for $16,500. This means the city has seven of the ten lots it wants.

WATER RISING AGAIN — This is the scene at beautiful Indianwood Lake, located between M24 and Joslyn road in Orion Township, where the lake is rising to its former level after having been practically drained during construction of a dam. The $7,000 project was completed this fall, replacing the old manually-controlled dam with an automatic one.

Indianwood Residents Build Unusual Dam

By LAOMA SANFORD
Lake Orion Correspondent

ORION TOWNSHIP — Travelers on Indianwood Lake Road between M24 and Joslyn road this fall probably wondered if Mother Nature had been playing tricks. Marl Lake was full to the shoreline while adjacent Indianwood Lake had dwindled to a trickling stream and three tiny ponds.

The startling difference was the result of a $7,000 cooperative project by property owners at Indianwood to relieve the pressure of overflow into the lake by constructing an automatic spillway.

The contractor, L. V. Shaar, pointed out that the original dam, which created a clover-shaped lake with five miles of shoreline from Paint Creek and several spring fed lakes, was constructed when trees and swamps in the immediate area held the water following rain or melting snow and released it over a period of time.

When flood conditions threatened property, the gates in the manually operated old dam were opened by volunteers. The pressure through the inadequate spillway, however, was so great it threatened nearby Indianwood road, and the area adjacent to the flumes had to be sandbagged to save the road.

This dam has been retained so the water level can be dropped when residents want to clean and sand their beaches and repair docks.

The new dam was constructed after consultations with engineers and visits to other dams, but it is unlike any the builder and George Collingwood and John Crary resident designers have seen before.

It was built like a box with a 50-foot perimeter on three sides into the lake from which the water can fall into the new spillway, like automobiles flowing into a one way street from three directions.

From a practical standpoint, it should work well, Shaar said, as it incorporates good engineering principals.

The Oakland County Road Commission will construct a larger flume, replacing two three-foot tubes under Indianwood road, which will complete the project.

Cyril Adams, State Conservation Department officer in northeast Oakland County, regularly checked the semi-dry lake but saw no evidence of fish dying. Apparently, the fish took their refuge in the original established lakes, he said.

Adams said he also checked on the Canada geese flock, about 30 birds which are year-round residents at the lake, and found they moved to the smaller lake without too much inconvenience.

Seeking to Solve Problem of County Administration

"One of the most serious problems in Oakland and other urban counties in Michigan is the lack of continual administrative direction over the multiplicity of functions which have developed upon county government."

With this theme in mind, Civic Research Inc. of Pontiac has come up with some idea as to how this problem might be licked in Oakland County.

The major recommendation that the group makes in a 13-page report is that one of the first things Oakland officials should do is to "give serious consideration to the question of what home rule would mean for the county.

This suggestion is expected to receive much attention from the Board of Supervisors' Special County Government Study Committee at a meeting tomorrow.

The committee, composed of supervisors, county officials and several citizens at large, was created a year ago to see what could be done about streamlining Oakland government.

So far it has succeeded in having the county clerk and register of deeds offices merged, and has backed the proposed consolidation of the Drain Commission Office with the Department of Public Works.

These steps, according to James Sherry, research associate who prepared the recent report, showed that the county "has already demonstrated a willingness to take action which will increase the efficiency of county operations."

Principal reason why Oakland and other Michigan counties can't install an administrator over county government is that they "have no inherent grant of power to define a unique organizational pattern best suited to meet individual county needs."

★ ★ ★

"The Michigan Constitution and state statutes provide for a fairly rigid and uniform system of county government," Sherry said in his report to the committee.

"The problem of achieving more effective administrative control in Oakland County can be approached within the existing framework of county government.

"However, the limitations imposed by the constitution and the necessity of resorting to a series of legislative changes which are difficult to achieve and limited in application, indicate that this study committee might well consider more basic changes," such as home rule.

Sherry said it will take a constitutional amendment, requiring two-thirds vote of the Michigan Senate and House of Representatives, to put the question of home rule before Oakland voters.

★ ★ ★

If such action receives the endorsement of the special committee and the Board of Supervisors, Oakland County is expected then to join with Wayne County in pushing for approval in Lansing.

Support might come from Sen. Frank Andrews' (R-Hillman) Senate committee studying home rule for counties.

Sherry's report shows how counties in Virginia, Maryland, Montana, California, Ohio, Illinois, New Jersey, New York, and Missouri have operated under home rule.

Such types of home rule government as the county manager and the chief administrative officer plan are evaluated in the report.

"This brief report is intended only as an introduction to the problem of administrative direction in county government with suggested alternatives presented for discussion," he said.

★ ★ ★

"But," he added, "the time has long since passed when Oakland and many other counties in Michigan can be considered as more extensions of the state government for administrative purposes only."

"This is an important aspect of county government and is still considered by many as the primary responsibility of the county," Sherry concluded.

Milk Ordinance Meeting Slated

Special Session Called to Consider 2 Plans to Guard City Plants

At an eleventh-hour meeting Thursday, City Commissioners will decide whether to pass a new milk ordinance for the economic protection of Pontiac dairy workers.

On Friday, the existing ordinance is expected to fail a court testing in Detroit.

Fearful that outside dairies will try to move competitively into Pontiac if the ordinance dies, about 50 members of United Dairy Workers Local 183, AFL-CIO, last night demanded immediate action by the commission.

"The city has got to come up with something that would make it economically prohibitive for outside dairies to sell milk here, or else we can kiss the Pontiac milk plants goodbye," stated Jack O'Keefe, local president.

O'Keefe said approximately 400 Pontiac dairy workers are threatened with loss of jobs.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston said commissioners would meet at a special session at 7 p.m. Thursday to consider two alternate plans.

One is based on an ordinance adopted in Port Huron, which already has stood up in circuit court, City Attorney William A. Ewart said.

The other is an ordinance drawn up locally with the help of city health officials.

Eawrt recommended that the local law be passed, but dairy workers lobbied for the Port Huron ordinance, saying that it was economically more prohibitive.

The local act would require that outside dairies pay a $1 annual fee for each farm contributing milk to their plants. The Port Huron ordinance calls for annual $5 inspections of each farm.

The key to these provisions is that major outside dairies draw milk from thousands of farms.

Friday, the city must show cause why Wayne County Circuit Court should not issue an injunction restraining it from enforcing its existing ordinance against Ira Wilson & Sons Dairy Co., a Detroit firm that wants to sell milk here.

The firm says the 1951 law is discriminatory and unconstitutional, and Ewart has conceded that the city has little chance of seeing the law hold up in court.

It requires that all milk sold in Pontiac be pasteurized here.

3 Suspects Held in Birmingham

Police Investigate Trio for Breaking, Entering After Searching Truck

Three Detroiters are being held at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of breaking and entering in the nighttime after being apprehended by Birmingham Police Tuesday.

The trio were identified by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies as Victor A. Ostrowski Jr., 17, of 9340 Cairney St.; Archibald K. Bates, 22, of 1147 Philip Ave., and his brother David, 17, of 3992 Benitau St.

Birmingham patrolmen Norman Propst and Gordon Baker noticed a pickup truck traveling south on Hunter boulevard at a "high rate of speed" shortly before 4 a.m. yesterday.

They followed the truck and noticed it had no license plate light. Upon stopping the vehicle just south of 14-Mile road they decided to make a routine search of it.

Under the front seat and in the glove compartment the officers found an array of small miscellaneous merchandise and a set of tools which they said "appeared to be likely burglar tools."

The trio was booked at the jail for investigation of possessing burglary tools. Upon investigation by sheriff's detectives and the Birmingham policemen, it was found that the merchandise was similar to that taken from the H & H Service Station, 16781 Dixie Hwy. Groveland Township, in a breakin several hours earlier.

An envelope with the name of the gas station owner on it was found in the glove compartment of the truck, said police.

Faulty Chimney Causes Waterford Garage Fire

A faulty chimney was the cause of a fire in the two-car garage of E. W. Roeseler, 7060 Hatchery Rd. early last night, Waterford Township firemen said.

The chimney had been installed when the garage was turned into a clubroom, Roeseler told firemen. Damage was estimated at $600.

Commerce Units to Be Acquainted With Blood Bank

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Church, civic and fraternal organizations in Commerce Township will be represented at a special Commerce Township Community Blood Bank meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

The meeting will be held in Walled Lake Senior High School. Its purpose will be to acquaint township organizations with the blood bank.

★ ★ ★

Speakers will be Mrs. George Eberle, civic leader of Milford, and Mrs. Dalton Sifton, Oakland County Red Cross Bloodmobile recruit chairman.

A movie will be shown and refreshments served.

Rochester Man Gets Sentence of 60 Days

ROCHESTER — A 20-year-old Rochester man was sentenced yesterday to a 60-day term in Macomb County Jail for a burglary attempt at a Sterling Township plumbing shop Oct. 10.

He is Harvey C. Cole of 3272 Emmonds St., who was arrested on a tip to police.

Cole told police he had been frightened away from the shop by a loud voice which said, "What are you doing here?"

He later learned it came from a radio in an adjoining apartment house, Cole told police.

Americans pay a total of five billion visits to the movies annually.

Nixon, Johnson to Lead Filibuster Compromise

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) apparently are preparing to take the lead toward compromising an impending fight over the Senate's filibuster rule.

★ ★ ★

Nixon has told friends he is confident the present rule — which requires 66 affirmative votes to curb debate — is going to be changed as the first order of business when the newly enlarged Senate meets in January.

★ ★ ★

As presiding officer, the vice president has made it clear he will hold in order a motion to adopt new Senate rules. In the past, the Senate traditionally has carried its rules over from one Congress to the next.

Any such precedent-breaking decision by Nixon is certain to be appealed to the Senate and to be settled by a majority of its membership, raised to 98 by the addition of two new senators from Alaska.

★ ★ ★

The vice president evidently expects to go beyond such a ruling, however, and work actively toward some compromise that will make it easier to shut off the time-consuming talk which has blocked most civil rights legislation.

As an aspirant for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination, Nixon obviously is anxious to have a record of participation in any weakening of the filibuster rule.

Johnson, the Democratic leader in the Senate, has a big stake in preventing a party split on the issue.

★ ★ ★

Some Republicans, led by Sens. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey and Jacob K. Javits of New York, have proposed a rule under which two-thirds of those voting — instead of two-thirds of the entire Senate — could curb debate immediately and 50 senators could end talk that went on beyond 15 days.

Also favoring this idea are Democratic Sens. Paul Douglas of Illinois and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, among others. These four served notice Monday they will battle any compromise that would fall short of an effective rule change.

★ ★ ★

Nixon is reported opposed to any provision by which a majority could put a gag on debate. He is said to feel this should be done only with the approval of two-thirds of those voting.

★ ★ ★

With the Senate likely to be about equally divided on that issue, the betting is that Johnson will come up with a compromise fairly early in the new session.

Trial Jury Hears of Mrs. Dodge 'Frisked' in Jail

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Horace Dodge underwent a brassiere search by policewomen while a male bluecoat stood by when she was jailed on a charge of intoxication, a municipal court jury was told.

Mrs. Dodge is the wife of auto heir Horace Dodge II. Her trial on three counts of battery and one of drunkenness resumed today.

★ ★ ★

Policewoman Gail Rice, under cross examination Tuesday, told of frisking Mrs. Dodge's brassiere and removing her stockings while a male officer was standing nearby.

Miss Rice testified that Mrs. Dodge spit and tried to bite officers when they arrested her last Aug. 26 in the company of Chicago newspaper columnist Irv Kupcinet.

★ ★ ★

Miss Rice and another policewoman, Marilyn Sperry, have filed separate civil actions for $170,000 each against Mrs. Dodge, alleging battery.

Kupcinet awaits trial Dec. 10 on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

Belgium to Reduce Conscription Time

BRUSSELS (AP) — Belgium's new coalition government said today it will reduce the service period of military conscripts next year from 18 to 20 months.

It also declared its fidelity to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, whose military staffs have advocated two years' service as the minimum efficiency.

Improvement of the recruiting and training and utilization of available forces will allow the conscription reduction to 12 months before the end of 1959, the government said.

Court Says Candy Bar Can Be Called Farouk

MILAN (AP) — A Milan court has ruled that Farouk is such a common Arab first name that the former King of Egypt can't object to a candy bar called Farouk.

The ex-king filed suit against a Milan candy manufacturer who put Farouk chocolate bars on the market.

The court ruled: "The common name Farouk is not sufficient to identify the candy bar as having any connection with a king."

LONG AGO IN MICHIGAN there lived an Indian who had quite a reputation as a weather prophet. One fall, he predicted a long, cold winter. When somebody asked him how he knew this, he pointed down the road to his neighbor's house. "Paleface put in two extra tons of coal," he said.

UNLESS YOU HAVE AN INDIAN handy you'll just have to wait and see how hard a winter this one will be. But you can be sure of one thing. You won't be able to visit friends and relatives as much as you'd like. And there'll be many days when getting to the store will be difficult, if not impossible. But cheer up, there is one thing that laughs at rain and cold—your telephone. Use it often to keep in touch, to order supplies. Since the invention of the telephone, winters are never as bad as they were. When snow piles up, just go by phone.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL where the benefits of telephone research will turn up next. Bell Telephone Laboratories have just been awarded a Navy Certificate of Merit for their work on guided missile control systems. And from Nebraska U comes word that a cow is giving cattle researchers valuable information on rumen pressure by means of a small radio in its stomach. What made the tiny radio possible is the transistor—a Bell Laboratories invention first used in Long Distance circuits. The cattle people say the information they get from the radio will help them improve the quality of beef and dairy cattle.

The only real way to celebrate Thanksgiving is to seat the whole family around the dining table and fill them with turkey. But if some of the family can't get home, remember the next best thing: have your family party by Long Distance. Call your loved ones on The Day. They'll enjoy it. So'll you!

U.S. Jetliner Victor in 'Race'

Pan Am 707 Takes Off 36 Minutes Later, Beats Comet to New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pan American World Airways won an informal trans-Atlantic jet air race with the British yesterday.

A big Pan American 707 jet carrying 110 passengers swooped down to a landing at Idlewild International Airport 11 minutes before a British Overseas Airways Corp. Comet IV that had left London with a 36-minute head start.

Both planes encountered mechanical problems during refueling stops at Gander, Nfld., with Pan American suffering the longest delay.

★ ★ ★

The four-jet 707 made the trip in a total elapsed time of 9 hours, 9 minutes, with 7 hours, 27 minutes in the air. It was a total of 47 minutes faster than the BOAC plane.

The Comet's elapsed time was 9 hours, 56 minutes, with 8 hours, 20 minutes in the air.

The BOAC plane, carrying 33 passengers, left London Airport at 5:34 a.m. EST. It arrived at Gander for fuel at 10:58 a.m., and was delayed by an electrical problem.

The 707 left London at 6:10 a.m. and reached Gander at 11:07. Instead of making a routine fuel stop that should have taken less than an hour, the plane was on the ground at Gander for more than 90 minutes.

The delay was caused by fears of a possible hydraulic leak in the utility system, which controls the brakes and landing gear. A check showed that nothing aws wrong showed that nothing was wrong atlantic hop.

U.S. Weighs Recognizing New Sudan Government

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is studying the question of granting recognition to the new government of Sudan.

Lt. Gen. Ibrahim Abboud, Sudanese army commander in chief, seized power Monday in a bloodless coup and has set himself up at the head of a new government.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White said that the United states understands the new government may submit a formal request for recognition shortly. U. S. officials say it still is too early to make any conclusion as to the direction of the new government.

Helicopter for $5,000 Due Soon

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Within a year and a half you may be able to hop into your own helicopter and whirl off to work.

The president of a helicopter firm today set that target date for marketing a two-place helicopter coupe for civilians. He said the revolutionary craft would sell for about $5,000.

The tiny copter, called the Gyro-Jet will have fold-up rotors and can be driven on the ground from home or office to heliports, Gilbert Magill said in an interview. He is president of Rotor-Craft Corp. of Glendale.

In the air the all-weather, enclosed Gyro-Jet will have a top speed of 100 miles an hour and can cruise for 2½ hours. Highway speed will be 60 m.p.h.

"First prototypes of the craft will be in the air within six months," Magill said. "We have lined up 125 distributors and have orders for 6,500 machines the first year."

The factory has yet to complete its first prototype, however.

★ ★ ★

Rotor-Craft began developing small helicopters for the Navy eight years ago. The first was the pinwheel, designed to be strapped on a service man's back to lift him aloft for observation. The Gyro-Jet resulted from this research.

"Obtaining a license to fly the Gyro-Jet will be about as simple as getting a driver's license," Magill said. "Anyone who can drive a car can fly and drive the Gyro-Jet."

The cheapest helicopter available now to civilians costs about $40,000.

"A large part of that cost," said Magill, "is due to the great number of gears necessary to transmit power from the engine to the whirling rotors.

"The Gyro-Jet has no gears. The main rotor operates on a jet principle, using liquid hydrogen peroxide as fuel with the exhaust gas providing jet propulsion as it escapes from the tips of the rotor blades."

Explosion of Missile Setback for Air Force

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—The explosion of a Navajo missile high over the Atlantic set the Air Force back a notch today in its research project for the first true intercontinental bomber.

★ ★ ★

The delta-winged Navajo, sent up to probe the effects of high-altitude supersonic flight at the 13-mile level, burst apart at about 50,000 feet yesterday and smashed into the Atlantic after a two-minute plunge.

★ ★ ★

It was the sixth missile to explode in a three-month period. The others were an intercontinental Atlas, an intermediate range Jupiter and a Thor IRBM, plus two Polaris test rockets.

Burned Body Found by Hunters

Woman Teacher Held for Murder

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — An attractive blonde teacher who, police say, told of driving for a day with the body of another woman in the trunk of her car, has been charged with first-degree murder in Clinton County.

The burned body of the victim, Martha Louise Bergen, 32, a working mother estranged from her husband, was found last Nov. 1, by duck hunters on the shore of Lake Cowan, a state reservation near Wilmington, 56 miles north of Cincinnati.

The body had been burned. An autopsy indicated her skull had been smashed. Dr. Frank Cleveland, Cincinnati pathologist, said the woman may have been alive when burned.

Detective Henry Sandman said Mrs. Klumpp told this story:

She met Mrs. Bergen at a suburban shopping center last Oct. 30 to talk over the possibility of a divorce so that Mrs. Klumpp could marry the victim's husband, William.

She drove Mrs. Bergen to a secluded spot where "something happened and Mrs. Bergen was injured." She was vague about the injury.

Mrs. Klumpp did not indicate whether the victim was alive at the time.

★ ★ ★

But she said she put the body in the trunk of her car and drove home. After washing, went to teach her sewing class at an evening school.

The next day, Mrs. Klumpp bought a can of gasoline from a neighborhood station, drove to Lake Cowan and set the body afire.

Police said they recovered a gasoline can from the garage at Mrs. Klumpp's apartment last night.

Although Mrs. Bergen disappeared on Oct. 30, Sheriff Floyd Foote said he believed the body was not burned in the Lake Cowan weeds until the next day, since workmen in the area would have noticed it.

The victim was identified by her husband who recognized car keys found under the body and necklace found nearby.

★ ★ ★

Since separating from her husband, Mrs. Bergen had been living with her mother and 9-year-old daughter, Linda Louise. Her disappearance had been reported by her husband on Oct. 31, after he was told by his mother-in-law.

The Bergen's had come here from Virginia.

Mrs. Klumpp, a native of Cincinnati, divorced her husband, Robert, last year. This marriage was her second. She has four children, one by her first husband.

State Protests Great Lakes Diversion

Water Fight in High Court

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's long-standing fight against diversion of Great Lakes water by Chicago goes to the U. S. Supreme Court Friday.

Solicitor General Samuel J. Torina said he and Asst. Atty Gen. Nicholas V. Olds will charge damage to Great Lakes shipping, property values and recreational interests.

An appeal to the high court on the matter last March was rejected for lack of specific charges.

Torina said Chicago is diverting 1,800 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan.

He added that the drain has lowered all the Great Lakes except Superior some two inches over the years with the result that:

1. Freighters plying the Great Lakes have been forced to reduce their cargoes 2,500,000 tons per year.

2. Shippers are losing four million dollars per year.

3. Summer home owners along lake shores have suffered reduced property values.

4. Michigan's fish-spawning beds have been damaged.

Torina said the court will be asked to order Chicago to treat the water it is diverting and then return it to Lake Michigan. At present, he added, it is sent in a drainage canal and ultimately ends up in the Mississippi River.

He reported Michigan will be joined in the appeal by five Great Lakes states—New York, Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Minnesota.

Deer Stolen From Car, Pontiac Hunter Reports

A Pontiac hunter reported the theft of a 150-pound deer from the trunk of his car, to Pontiac police today.

Charles Treece, 223 Parkdale St., told police the animal was taken from the car while it was parked in front of his home overnight.

Prisoners to Get Better Cuisine

But Jackson Official Warns Other Reasons for Unrest Exist

JACKSON (UPI) — Liberalized parole practices and more money for food were promised today in the wake of a 26-hour sit-down strike at the world's largest walled prison.

State Corrections Director Gus Harrison said there will be a 90-day speedup in parole of inmates at the 57-acre Southern Michigan Prison, where 350 convicts rebelled at 8:30 a.m. Monday.

★ ★ ★

Harrison also said the corrections department would juggle its funds to channel more money to the pantry of the overcrowded prison.

But Harrison warned some of the underlying causes of the unrest are still present in the sprawling institution, scene of a bloody riot in 1952.

One prison official, who asked that he not be named, said racial tensions were among the "subtle, latent pressures" causing unrest among the 4,337 convicts crowded behind the bricks and bars at 4000 Cooper Street.

Fifty per cent of the inmates are Negroes, 7 per cent more than two years ago.

Alaska Times Gift of Reindeer for Christmas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interior Department announced today Alaska is sending a herd of 10 or 12 reindeer to the Washington Zoo as a gift to the United States.

Eight of the animals will be displayed as Santa Claus' sleigh team at the annual Christmas pageant of peace on the ellipse immediately south of the White House.

The department said the reindeer gift was offered several months ago by Mike Stepovich, then governor of the territory.

The reindeer will be selected from a herd of Kobtzebue, Alaska.

The animals will be flown to Seward and then put aboard ship for Seattle, Wash. They will be brought here from Seattle by truck. They are scheduled to arrive at Seattle Dec. 4. The pageant here opens Dec. 23.

The department said the reindeer are "semi-domesticated."

'The Body' in Fine Shape, Star's Doctor Reports

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Marie McDonald, otherwise known as "The Body," was pronounced in "fine shape" Tuesday by a local doctor.

He was referring to her head, which she struck Monday night. She fainted in her motel lobby after appearing at a local club.

The young of the shrimp pass through 10 larval stages.

U.S. Offers to Hike Latin American Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today offered Latin America more technical aid, help in planning regional development programs, and increased loans to fight economic problems.

★ ★ ★

C. Douglas Dillon, undersecretary of state for economic affairs outlined these U. S. policies in a speech to an inter-American committee representing the 21 American republics.

★ ★ ★

Dillon mentioned, but did not describe, a program of cooperative, integrated economic development for the 21 countries.

School Board to Hear Report

In-Service Training of Waterford Teachers to Be Reviewed

A report on in-service training of Waterford Township school teachers, will be presented by assistant superintendent Dr. Chandos Reid, when the board of education meets at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow night.

★ ★ ★

The teachers attend various workshops, which are held three times a week, to discuss problems of their particular grade levels, textbook values and new methods of presenting educational information.

In other business, a recommendation will be presented by Schools Supt. William Shunck for re-investment of $713,000 of the debt retirement funds, and also for the re-investment of $300,000 of the building and site funds.

A question regarding the newly purchased Dill property on Walton boulevard, for a future elementary school, will be up for discussion.

A bulletin from the Michigan Department of Education regarding the financing of school construction in Michigan will be presented for board discussion.

★ ★ ★

Supt. Shunck, who has been in the hospital, has returned home and is expected to preside at the meeting, according to Asst. Supt. James DenHerder.

Tear Gas Breaks Up Virginia Student Riot

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) —A mob of University of Virginia students demonstrating against a clampdown on student automobiles was broken up by police tear gas early today.

A student spokesman said several students were injured by club-wielding police. But Police Chief J. E. Adams said no injuries were reported.

Adams said one student was arrested. He was not immediately identified.

John Healey, editor of the campus literary magazine, said approximately 3,000 of the university's 4,000 students participated in the demonstration. Adams estimated no more than 1,000 were involved.

Healey said chief cause of the riot was student resentment against a new university rule sharply limiting the number of students who can take automobiles onto the campus.

Charlie Put on Probation, Reclaims Pet Squirrel

DETROIT (AP)—Charlie Spurlock and his pet squirrel were back together today — as inseparable pals as ever.

Spurlock appeared in Recorder's Court Tuesday on a bad check charge — and was put on two years probation.

The squirrel wasn't in court. Spurlock had left the animal with a friend until he learned of his future.

The first thing Spurlock did after leaving court was to reclaim the squirrel. The animal now sits once again in Charlie's coat pocket munching nuts.

Decanters, Gift Packages Vie for Holiday Liquor Leadership

By RIP WATSON
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Fancy decanters and multi-colored, pre-wrapped gift packages battle to a standoff this year in the perennial holiday struggle to catch the eye of the liquor buyer.

★ ★ ★

Some firms emphasize the glass containers, which have been an annual holiday season arrival almost since the repeal of prohibition 25 years ago.

Others lay more stress on the outside of the package, dressing it up with ribbons, medallions, pompous, hand-tied bows, tasseled cords, chevrons with heraldic crests and glittering metallic foil in every color and design.

In nearly every case, however, distillers hedge their bets. The decanter proponents use fancy wrappings or a distinctive carton for lesser brands. The gift wrap firms, on the other hand, put their top prestige brands in cut glass, crystal containers.

ADVERTISING CONSERVATIVE

Another trend is clearly evident —distillers vote solidly for conservatism in advertising. Such phrases as "classic, conservative taste," "quiet hospitality" and "gracious giving"—plus words like "dignity," "simplicity" and "stately"—are sprinkled liberally about.

National Distillers Products Co. notes, incidentally, that it will spend a record amount for newspaper advertising in support of holiday items during the last six weeks of the year.

There are solid reasons for spending millions of dollars and man hours (Brown-Forman worked 14 months on its Old Forester decanter).

The amount of liquor given by one friend to another is impossible to guess, but business giving alone is estimated at 295 to 300 million dollars by Schenley Industries, Inc.

The company estimates industry sales in the fourth quarter of 1957 at 67 million gallons vs. an average of 48 million gallons in each of the first three quarters. Also, package stores' share of the market has risen to 70 per cent from 30 per cent before World War II.

Schenley is one firm pushing glassware. Fifteen domestic and imported whiskies, such as Schenley Reserve and I. W. Harper, will be in decanters or carafes.

DECANTERS WILL SELL

Surveys show that attractive and sensibly designed decanters, with utility value and an average price, will sell, says marketing director Walter Jahn.

Most of the Distillers Corp.-Seagrams Ltd. brands feature pre-wrapped, read-to-give items which are supposed to save the customer and retailer time and effort during the holiday season.

Seagram's 7 Crown, for example, is wrapped in a glittering foil map of the United States, complete with stars denoting each state capital. Yet its Lord Calvert comes in a decanter with a many-faceted, diamond-cut stopper and a sailing ship etched on the front.

★ ★ ★

National Distillers also goes in heavily for fancy wrappings, claiming they save time, trouble and expense for retailers, but its top attraction, Old Grand Dad bourbon, is in a low, triangular-shaped decanter.

Hiram Walker's Canadian Club features a metallic, gold-striped ribbon with a hand-tied bow (the company feels a machine just can't tie a decent bow). The Deluxe Bourbon is in a decanter, however, because the bourbon market historically has been better served by the glass containers, a spokesman said.

Arthur Bondurant, vice president of Glenmore Distilleries Co., Kentucky firm which claims to have originated the decanter idea in 1937, explains the use of special glassware for top brands by saying people like to "trade up" when buying holiday gifts for friends.

NO NICKEL CIGARS

After all, he said, you don't buy nickel cigars as a Christmas present.

Some of the more novel items this year include a black glass decanter with a Grecian motif for Kentucky bourbon put out by James B. Beam Distilling Co.; a four-lipped pouring spout on Park & Tilford's graceful decanter; a carton simulating a treasure chest for Myers Jamaica Rum; and Bols' "ballerina in a bottle," who pirouettes when the bottle is tilted.

Whatever form the liquor is packaged in, however, Uncle Sam will get the biggest gift—$2.10 in federal excise tax on each and every fifth.

Judge Agrees Man Right to Drive Without Glasses

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Municipal Judge Clark Olmsted agreed with William Van Dusen when the 70-year-old motorist said he forgot his glasses while driving because he was excited.

The judge suspended a $25 fine after Van Dusen told him his wife was expecting their seventh child.

Van Dusen said he and his wife, Maxine, 30, have six children ranging in age from one to 12 years.

To Launch 2 Fleets of New Jet Liners

NEW YORK (AP) — American Airlines will put two new fleets of jet passenger liners into commercial service on the same weekend in January.

On Jan. 25 the airline will inaugurate the nation's first transcontinental jet passenger service with a fleet of 600-mile-an-hour Boeing 707 planes, each capable of carrying 112 passengers. They'll make it from Los Angeles to New York in 4½ hours (but will take 5½ hours on westbound flights because of prevailing winds).

On Jan. 23 American will inaugurate service with 410-mile-an-hour jet-powered Lockheed Electras between Chicago and New York.

18 Banks in Kentucky Held Up This Year

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Charles Weeks, special FBI agent here, says 18 banks have been held up in Kentucky this year compared to eight in 1957.

He told a meeting of police officials, bankers and businessmen the 631 bank holdups in the nation this year is one of the worst outbreaks on record.

Husband Wrong to Toot

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My wife belongs to a bridge club of eight women and they play every other week. They met last evening at one of the member's houses. As the weather was stormy, my wife asked me to pick her up in the car at about eleven-thirty to take her home. When I arrived at the house, I tooted the horn of the car to let her know that I was there.

"She came out shortly afterwards and was very much annoyed because I did not ring the bell to let her know that I had arrived. She thinks I was not only rude for tooting the horn but that it was very belittling to her. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?"

Answer: If you did not have a raincoat, the fact that it was raining excused tooting of the horn. Otherwise your wife was right in thinking that you should have rung the bell.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married soon and I would like to give a shower for his fiancee, but first would like your opinion as to whether or not it would be proper. She is from another city and I thought such a party would be a friendly gesture on my part and at the same time give our friends an opportunity to meet her."

Answer: I'm sorry, but it would not do to ask your friends to bring presents to a perfect stranger. To give a tea instead or any other party to which you invite everyone "to meet" your son's fiancee, would be correct.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to send flowers after the funeral to a close friend whose mother passed away and we weren't notified in time to send flowers to the funeral? We didn't know the mother but were very close to the daughter."

Answer: Certainly you can send flowers. It is never improper to send flowers to a friend on any occasion you choose.

Members took part in a discussion on "Worries of Children" led by Mrs. Elwood Bigler. Mrs. Walter Godsell was guest.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. James Jenkins, Mrs. Herbert Howerth, Mrs. Jesse MacLeay and Mrs. Jack Strait. Mrs. Paul Gorman presided at the tea table.

Often Says Dye

Today's Femme Hues to Hairline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once upon a time a woman who dyed her hair was thought capable of any transgression. Why, she might even smoke a cigarette.

But the Manufacturing Chemists' Assn. reported today that in this wonderful age of chemistry, featuring everything from plastics to rocket fuels, nothing has been more remarkable than what has happened to women's hair.

IT'S A FAD

Seven out of 10 women, the association report said, have monkeyed around with hair coloring at least once. A third of all women dye their hair regularly. And of those who hit the coloring bottle regularly, only 40 per cent have gray hair.

★ ★ ★

Naturally the chemists take great pride in their hair miracles, but they freely admit this is an ancient business.

★ ★ ★

In Sturbridge, Mass., they found a formula for coloring hair that goes back to colonial times. But it wasn't for the giddy female; it was for the prideful male.

A man who wished to keep his graying hair dark was advised to mix chimney soot with lard.

★ ★ ★

This concoction, which looks as if it could be a mite messy, especially if the man were a hothead, was followed by other formulas with other drawbacks.

"Early dyes," the chemists say, "were likely to leave the hair a coarse, brittle stubble—fit only for currycombing."

All right. Let's move boldly along to the modern dye. What is it?

"Most of the permanent colorants," say the chemists, carefully avoiding the word "dye," "are based on a coal tar derivative. Used with hydrogen peroxide or a related oxidant, they work their way into the individual hair strands to combine with oxygen forming a durable color . . . the addition of oils relieves the coarseness."

BIG BUSINESS

All this adds up to a surprisingly big business.

Women will spend 42 million dollars this year on do-it-at-home dyes.

★ ★ ★

This 58 million-dollar total will mean a 50 per cent gain over 1956, so fast is this business growing.

As the fellow at the chemist association said, "You never know what you're coming home to these days."

★ ★ ★

A final note on these colorful times:

One manufacturer claims he's putting out 150 basic colors. So far as can be determined, not one of them is made up of lard and chimney soot.

Mrs. Adams Entertains 40 Dem Women at Tea

Mrs. Clark J. Adams was hostess to 40 members and guests at a membership tea Tuesday evening sponsored by the Democratic Women's Club of Waterford Township. The tea was held at the Adams' home on West Walton boulevard.

★ ★ ★

Special guest was Mrs. Philip A. Hart, in whose honor members wore large red heart name-tags.

PLANS PARTY

Plans were completed for the annual Christmas party to be held Dec. 16 at the home of Mrs. Glenn Nelsey on Evanda street. President Mrs. James Seeterlin announced that gifts purchased by members will be distributed to World War I veterans.

★ ★ ★

Program chairman Mrs. Carlos Richardson introduced Marsha Cameron, who presented two readings. Assisting Mrs. Adams were Mrs. Donald Adams, Mrs. Joseph Cooper, Mrs. Joseph McGee, Mrs. Glenn Nelsey and Mrs. Frank Molina.

★ ★ ★

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Earl Schwalm and Mrs. Robert Scott, president of the Democratic Women's Club of Oakland County.

Symphony to Play Dec. 2 in Spacious New Setting

As the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra moves to its new quarters in Pontiac Northern High School Auditorium on Dec. 2, its directors are faced with the challenge of increasing the attendance at concerts to fill the enlarged seating area.

The directors feel that many borderline concertgoers will want to come to see the new school with its lighted and paved parking lot and architecturally beautiful building area. A treat is in store for patrons who enter the spacious auditorium complete with fine acoustics, comfortable seating and splendid view of the stage.

★ ★ ★

With the increased space, the Symphony will have 15 wheelchair patients as guests at the Dec. 2 concert. In the past this was impossible.

TO STRESS VARIETY

Francesco DiBlasi, conductor, is aware of the great variety of musical tastes to which the Symphony must cater if a capacity house is to be achieved.

He has prepared a program of Mozart as well as the lighter music of Victor Herbert and Sigmund Romberg for Dec. 2. It will be possible for anyone attending to select from this variety, a portion to suit his taste.

Maria Roumell, noted soprano and guest artist for the Dec. 2 concert, will sing selections from Naughty Marietta and the Desert Song.

The Symphony's place in the cultural life of Pontiac can only be made strong if the broad based support of residents is established.

Pontiac Press Photo

Looking over the spacious auditorium of Pontiac Northern High School, which they hope will be filled to capacity for forthcoming concerts by Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, are (left to right) Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent of schools and Dr. Samuel J. Chafets, president of Pontiac Symphony. The first concert to be given in the new setting will be Dec. 2.

A Down-to-Earth Gift, Indeed — Abby

Gave His Wife a Cemetery Plot to Celebrate 35th Wedding Date

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: For my 35th wedding anniversary, my husband bought me a plot in a cemetery. Maybe I shouldn't have said the things I did, but how would any wife feel to get this kind of a present when she was expecting a new sewing machine? Was I wrong in feeling hurt?"

ABBY

STILL LIVING

DEAR STILL: Your husband's gift was "down to earth" . . . but I think he should have bought you something for the here and now.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: Maybe I have rocks in my head but I married the same man twice and we were divorced twice because we fought all the time. Everybody in my family (and his) got their mouths into it and talked us into going back together because of our kids. The same thing is happening again. Our divorce became final in October and now he wants me to remarry him again in time for Christmas. He is a heavy drinker and is always mixed up with two or three women. My children would have a nicer Christmas if I tried again. Should I marry him a third time or leave well enough alone?" UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: Don't let the Christmas spirit fog up your thinking. You have to live with him 365 days of the year. Take your time and think it over and over and over.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am madly in love with a certain boy. I am in the 9th grade and he's in the 10th. The trouble is this. We don't know each other. He is quite bashful and I'd be too embarrassed to ask anyone to introduce us and we don't live close enough to meet by accident. Don't use my name, but sign me 'Dying to meet him' and I don't mind if you put this in the paper because lots of other girls have the same problem and your answer might help them." DYING TO MEET HIM

DEAR "DYING": The best approach is the DIRECT approach. When you see him, maneuver yourself within "Hi" distance and simply smile and say "Hi!" Once the girl breaks the ice, it's easy for a bashful boy to thaw out.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My husband and I had quite an experience with Sunday pests. Pretty soon we did not dare to make any plans of our own because we knew these pests would drop in on us. They stayed so late they kept us from going to bed at our usual bedtime. Finally I could take no more without losing my dignity so I sat down and wrote to them. That ended it. They haven't spoken to us since — and they haven't spoiled any more Sundays either. The pen can be mightier than the sword, Abby."

LIVE AND LEARN

DEAR "LIVE": I'm sure they got the "point."

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "STEAMFITTER": Anyone who waits 10 years to get the last laugh is lucky if he remembers what the joke was. Forget it!

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO LEO: Good judgment comes from experience . . . and experience comes from bad judgment.

Woman's Club to Hold Silver Tea

Plans for a silver tea to be held Dec. 15 were discussed when Pontiac Woman's Club met Monday at Federal Savings and Loan Building. The Tuesday Musicale Chorus will present the program and members of Pontiac Junior Woman's Club will be guests.

Dr. Elizabeth Hsu, formerly of China and Formosa, spoke to the group on the difference between East and West and told Chinese culture fables.

Mrs. C. W. Myers, president, reported on the Southeast District Federation meeting held in Lansing last month.

Budget chairman appointed was Mrs. Herbert Watson.

Donations were given to Girls Town, and plans were made to hold money-making projects for its benefit.

On the committee will be Mrs. Turris McCully, Mrs. Joseph Panter, Mrs. C. M. Pelican, Mrs. E. M. Rose, Mrs. R. J. Boynton, Mrs. Irene G. Bowen, Mrs. Wallace Morgan, Mrs. John O'Donnel and Mrs. William Wellman.

Alpha Unit Meets

Alpha Chapter of Beta Theta Phi Sorority was entertained at the Drayton Woods home of Mrs. L. Z. Monroe Tuesday evening. A cosmetic demonstration was given and refreshments were served.

Wall Street was so named because it was adjacent to a wall built at the northern boundary of early New York City. The wall was designed to keep cattle in—and Indians out.

Crying Is a Right of the Very Young

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

As usual that Sunday morning, Joe, his parents and little sister had their dessert in the living room where they could watch a dog program on their TV set.

At its end Joe's father switched the machine off — and Joe said into the silence, "I want a dog to lick my face like that." He spoke simply, directly as we do when some deeply felt truth wells up from our hearts and makes our tongues its servant.

So the following Saturday he and his father drove over to a kennel and bought a collie puppy.

In the car coming home the puppy licked Joe's face. That night he slept with his hand on its basket beside his bed. The next day he ran all the way home from school to protect the puppy against any annoyance it might have aroused by ignoring the newspapers spread over the downstairs rugs.

But on the third day it just wagged its tail instead of trying to jump up on Joe's bed. On the fourth a vet gave it injections and prescribed pills.

But in spite of medical treatment, the morning came when Joe, awaking in the gray dawn, went down to the kitchen to find his puppy dead on the newspaper in front of its basket.

His mother said, "If you cry like that, you'll make yourself sick." His father said, "It wouldn't be fair to want Laddie to go on living when he was suffering so."

I'm glad to say that Joe paid no attention to them. When they continued to try to take his sorrow away from him, he ran upstairs to his room where he put pillows over his head and cried and cried and cried.

As a result, two weeks later he was receptive to the idea of visiting another kennel and buying a stronger puppy.

Ages ago, Jesus said, "Blessed are those that mourn for they shall be comforted." Today Dr. Viktor E. Frankl, a great, modern psychoanalyst writes, "The healthy instincts of mourners cause them to rebel against taking a sedative instead of weeping all through the night."

If children are persuaded from mourning dead turtles, kittens and puppies, they may not be comforted, and may become guilty and upset by the idea of acquiring new ones.

German Creation

The "Teddy Bear," named for the late President Theodore Roosevelt, was first created in the town of Giengen on the Brenz, Germany. And the toy factory there made a fortune manufacturing this novelty which first appeared in 1902.

Refrigerator Rolls Can Be Holiday Time Saver

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

With the holidays looming up closer and closer, anything that is a time-saver is welcome to the homemaker. For instance, a batch of refrigerator dough, ready to be made into rolls is just the thing to have at this busy season.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Burt of Maceday Lake shares her recipe with us. In addition to taking care of her own family, she babysits with other youngsters. Reading and skiing are her hobbies.

REFRIGERATOR ROLLS
By Mrs. Robert Burt

2 packages dry yeast
½ cup warm water
1 teaspoon sugar
1¾ cups warm water
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon melted shortening

Add teaspoon of sugar to the half cup of warm water. Dissolve yeast in this. Mix other ingredients in bowl. Add dissolved yeast. Add:

2 beaten eggs
4 cups sifted flour

Beat well and add another 4 to 4½ cups sifted flour. Beat well.

Place in greased bowl. Grease top of bowl and cover with a plate. Let stand in refrigerator overnight.

When rolls are needed, take out desired amount of dough and shape into rolls. Let rise 45 minutes. Bake 12-15 minutes at 400 degrees. This dough will keep 3-4 days.

Barbara Davidson Wed

Married Saturday evening at Christian and Missionary Alliance Church were Barbara Joan Davidson and Thomas E. Freeman. The Rev. G. J. Bersche officiated at the candlelight ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Davidson of North Saginaw street, and Mrs. James M. Freeman of Third street and the late Mr. Freeman.

The bride selected an intermission-length gown of embroidered taffeta. Her fingertip veil was held by a crown headpiece and she carried a cascade of white carnations, yellow roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Vernon McVety, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Mrs. Robert Dearing, and Kay Davidson of Marion, Ind., was junior bridesmaids. They wore princess style blue velveteen street-length dresses. The matron of honor carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations, and the bridesmaid's bouquets were cascades of yellow and white carnations.

MRS. THOMAS E. FREEMAN

Flower girls were Cheryl Lynn McVety and Cheryl Lynn Duffie.

Robert Ellis was best man. Ushers included Robert Davidson, the bride's brother, and William D. Davidson of Kalamazoo was junior usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. The bride changed to a royal blue wool sheath dress with matching accessories and a yellow corsage before the couple left for a honeymoon to Florida and the southern states. They will live on Third street.

The bride is a graduate of St. Paul Bible College.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Davidson wore a Copenhagen blue dress with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Freeman dressed in navy blue silk with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow roses and white carnations.

Artist Speaks Out

Mouth Reveals Your Personality

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A short time ago I had a talk with artist Martin Kellogg. Mr. Kellogg is one of America's most distinguished portrait painters. His recent one man exhibit in the windows of East River Savings Bank at Rockefeller Plaza in New York City, caused a great deal of enthusiastic comment.

The most amazing thing to me about his painting is that the skin actually looks alive and glowing. One feels that the subject might speak at any moment. After seeing the Kellogg portraits I decided that it would be interesting to ask him a few questions about women and their appearance.

Some of the things he said should be comforting to those of us who do not have classically perfect features. For instance, he prefers to paint a face which has some irregularity. He said, "Slight irregularity is relaxing. A face which has irregular balance is much more attractive than one which has perfect balance, and the owner usually has more personality, too. Absolute symmetry would be dull!"

I also asked Mr. Kellogg which could be called the most revealing feature of a face — the mouth or eyes. He replied, "You are born with your eyes the shape they are, but your mouth and chin muscles show what you have become."

It is especially intriguing to get the opinion of an artist concerning some of these questions since, by nature, necessity and experience, he must know much more about a face and what it reveals than the average person.

In speaking of beauty this talented artist said, "Young girls have a surface beauty but a face has a deeper beauty after it has been tested by life and come out on top. The very young have a transparent loveliness but you find true beauty in a face which has weathered many things in a vibrant way."

A few more interesting Kellogg thoughts; A woman's hands show how well-coordinated she is — women stand better than they sit — overplucked eyebrows depiete personality — and a hair-do can make or break a portrait. Well, we know it can make or break a woman, too.

Artist Martin Kellogg says, "You are born with your eyes the shape they are, but your mouth and chin muscles show what you have become."

When I asked Martin Kellogg what makes a face look old, without any hesitation he said, "Interest in life keeps the face youthful. When interest in daily environment dies, the face ages very rapidly."

I know you know I agree with that. I think boredom not only ages one but kills one!

Women of Moose Present Award

Mrs. Clifford Lynch Jr., graduate regent, presented the official 1957 achievement award from Moose heart to Mrs. Harold Finn, senior regent of Chapter 360, when members of Women of the Moose Pontiac chapter 360 met Monday evening at Moose Hall.

A committee was appointed to meet with members of the Loyal Order of Moose to prepare baskets for the needy Moose members at Christmas. New applications were accepted for chapter membership.

Remember to Dust Lamp Shades, Bulbs

Regular accumulation of dust around the house also falls on lampshades and the bulbs. However, many women flick at a shade and rearrange the dust instead of removing it.

Modern lampshades should be washed. Also, wash light bulbs, removed from the sockets, of course. You should have more light.

Smart Homemakers Are Businesslike

By RUTH MILLETT

Mrs. B., mother of five, was in a dither. She had forgotten Johnnie's dental appointment. The dentist was naturally put out about it, and Mrs. B. wailed, "I just can't remember everything."

Actually, the number of miscellaneous errands, appointments, meetings and so on and so forth that Mrs. B. carries in her mind from day to day is remarkable.

But, of course, in trying to remember so many things for a family of seven, Mrs. B. is bound to slip up now and then and, by forgetting something important, inconveniences others and probably make her day a lot more complicated.

No business executive would ever clutter his mind with all the things he has to do today, tomorrow and next week.

He keeps an appointment calendar that frees his mind of such clutter and the anxiety of perhaps forgetting something important.

Every housewife should have just such a calendar, too, on which she can set down just what she is supposed to get done every day, and on which she can mark down reminders for future days.

With that as a starter, she can borrow some other business techniques and devices to make her job easier — such as transacting as much business as possible by telephone, asking for written estimates on work and repairs to be done on the house, keeping a filing card index to keep track of all pertinent facts about the children's health, another to keep names and addresses of where to buy this and where to have that done.

Most housewives try to file far too many things in their minds and are much too unbusinesslike in their transactions.

Ruggles Back on Broadway--and Loves It

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Charlie Ruggles, the most gentlemanly gentleman an interviewer could hope to view, returned to Broadway this season after 29 years in that other world, Hollywood.

★ ★ ★

Feeling the footlights hot on his face again has fairly curled his white mustache.

"I love this doggone medium," he said of the stage.

And "They'e so lonely, it hurts to see them," he said of some of the now ghostly movie studios out West.

Mr. Ruggles left Broadway on the high note of a Rodgers and Hart musical, "Spring Is Here," in 1929 to make big loot and nearly 100 films in the land of screen and smog. Now, of course, movies filmed in Hollywood are passe and, at the age of something over 65, Charlie was not about to traipse to Africa or Communist China or wherever else they happen to be shooting the latest epic.

"So I went into television for awhile. I haven't made a movie in 10 years, my dear. And when we went to the enormous set that used to be a glamor center when Hollywood was in its heydey, we took a wee corner of it to shoot our TV film."

MIGHTY HAVE FALLEN

The gentle comedian shook his head slowly. "Oh, it was so lonely. I could only think, 'How the mighty have fallen,' and remember the early days of television.

"I remember, when TV was just beginning, how the big men in Hollywood reacted. Not worried at all. Their attitude was, 'Oh, let them pioneer for awhile, and then we'll step in.'

"I'm sure," he said, "that Hollywood could have controlled the entire television business today if it hadn't been so smug and complacent.

"Instead, the people who run guided tours showing the great homes of great glamor stars are going bankrupt. They don't know where anybody is anymore."

★ ★ ★

Ruggles looks back fondly on his Hollywood years. As other movie evacuees have put it before him, "How can you help feeling affectionate toward an institution that put so much money in your pocket?" But he claims the stage as his first love.

ACTOR AT 16

He began acting at the age of 16 in San Francisco. It was around the turn of the century. He was a wholesale drug salesman, making $25 a month, when he met a friend who was making $25 a week as an actor at the local Alcazar Theater.

"What do you have to do?" Charlie asked.

★ ★ ★

"Learn lines; act," the friend replied.

Since that was all there was to it, Charlie Ruggles became an actor. His father, who wanted him to be a doctor, was his worst critic.

In his first play, "Soldiers of Fortune," young Charlie was called upon to climb a papier-mache parapet, wave the American Flag, and holler "Here come the Marines!" He looked over the footlights and, to his amazement, saw his prejudiced father applauding.

"You liked it, eh?" he asked afterward.

"Not particularly," said his father.

"You applauded loud enough."

"I wasn't applauding you—I was applauding the Flag."

★ ★ ★

In 1906, Ruggles made his Broadway debut, and he stayed on the stage until Hollywood lured him off 23 years later. He often wanted to return, but he was always invited to do leads and they scared him off. "I didn't want to come back in a so-called star role where you're carrying a couple of Atlases on your shoulders. I was afraid for my ego. There's no cutting-room floor for the stage."

Now he's back—as the second male lead in "The Pleasure of His Company," with Cyril Ritchard and Cornelia Otis Skinner. It is a standing-room-only hit.

So his ego is intact. But fortunately, Charlie Ruggles being the way he is, it doesn't show.

80,000 Cigarettes Lit, but No One Feels Sad

SETE, France (AP) — Customs officials lit up 80,000 packages of contrabrand American cigarettes yesterday but no one mourned.

★ ★ ★

The cigarettes, recovered several years ago from a smuggler's boat, were stale. Besides they were soaked in sea water when the boat capsized.

Ike Requests Special Favor

Wants Next President to Appoint Hero's Son to Air Force Academy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today asked a favor of the man who will occupy the White House from 1972 until 1976.

The favor: A possible appointment to the U.S. Air Force Academy for the son of Capt. Iven C. Kincheloe Jr. killed last July while testing an experimental F104 near Edmonds Air Force Base in California.

★ ★ ★

Kincheloe was flying that more nearly conventional plane during an interval in his preparations to pilot the X15 space-traveling aircraft.

★ ★ ★

The request recalled a similar gesture by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who proposed a West Point appointment for the young son of Capt. Colin P. Kelly, who was killed when his plane dived into a Japanese warship early in World War II.

The appointment is reserved for young Kelly.

Eisenhower presented to Kincheloe's widow today a letter on behalf of Iven III, now 19½ months old.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kincheloe, an attractive brunette from Oakland, Calif., got one copy of the letter. A duplicate was sent to the National Archives for filing.

Eisenhower told his unknown successor in the letter that the death of Kincheloe, a Korean War veteran credited with downing five Communist planes, "brought a real sense of loss to our nation."

Kincheloe, who was 30 at the time of his death July 26, also is survived by a 6-month-old daughter, Jeannine.

★ ★ ★

Kincheloe had been selected shortly before his death to pilot the X15.

On Sept. 7, 1956, he had flown the X2, forerunner of the X15, to an altitude of 126,000 feet. That is the highest man has ever flown.

49th Sigma Delta Chi Convention to Open

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — More than 400 newspaper, radio, and television journalists began registering today for the 49th national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Preliminary sessions for the convention, which officially opens Thursday, will continue today as the 16-member executive council meets.

Robert J. Cavagnaro of San Francisco, general executive of The Associated Press and Sigma Delta Chi national president, said today's session will be primarily concerned with convention planning.

★ ★ ★

At a meeting Tuesday of the fraternity publication committee, headed by Cavagnaro, an expanded edition of the fraternity magazine, The Quill, was approved for next November.

Charles C. Clayton, Quill editor, and Victor Bluedorn, business manager, were instructed to combine the annual convention issue with a golden anniversary edition marking the fraternity's 50th year.

Tot Follows Tradition

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — In true theatrical fashion, Jovita Jaeger, 7, went on and did her pantomime without music in a church amateur contest after her record player was broken on the way to the church. She won first prize — a $50 savings bond.

Economy Study Unit to Begin in January

LANSING (AP)—The proposed 100-man blue ribbon study group on Michigan's economic future probably won't become operational until about Jan. 1.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Williams gave this estimate Monday after a lengthy conference with William Day, president of Michigan Bell Telephone Co., who is organizing the committee (COMEF).

★ ★ ★

The governor said he didn't know when COMEF appointments will be announced.

"All but a few of the rough edges have been straightened out," he said.

A few days after the election, Williams said the project—originated last spring when Day's assignment in organizing the group was announced—got snagged in the political campaign.

★ ★ ★

He said he didn't blame high level businessmen for their reluctance to appear to become engaged in political controversy at that time.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. (AP) — Thirty pupils had a pleasant view at Pleasant View today, though their parents found the view unpleasant. Pleasant View School burned down.

Ohio State Will Propose 12-Month School Year

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI) — Ohio State University officials, with the same rising enrollment problems confronting Iowa, plan to ask for authority to start a 12-month school year on the Ohio campus.

Gov. Herschel C. Loveless suggested the same plan for Iowa last week.

Gen. Carlton S. Dargusch, Columbus, Ohio, chairman of the board of trustees at Ohio State, said Ohio State students who graduated in the lower half of their high school classes would be forced to go to school during the summer under the Ohio plan.

By letting their physical plants stand idle for three months each year, colleges "across the country are allowing a luxury that no private business could afford," Dargusch said.

Two days earlier, Loveless in a speech at Cedar Falls, expressed the same thought.

"It is a matter of almost unbelievable inefficiency that we should allow to stand idle for a fourth of the year the multi-billion dollar investment which we have made in public school facilities," Loveless said.

Dargusch said in an interview with United Press International last weekend that his plan would have another advantage besides making better use of the school facilities.

He said the summer school sessions will give students with lower grades, who might ordinarily drop out of school during the regular year, get a chance to get accustomed to college life.

"This is especially true of the students from small schools who are dumped into the big university," he said. "We ar losing up to 40 per cent of our freshmen through dropouts now."

Cropland in the U. S. has remained at about 400 million acres since 1920 while the population of the U. S. has grown more than 50 per cent.

Cass County Plans Kinchloe Memorial

CASSOPOLIS (UPI) — A memorial will be erected in this Cass County community in honor of the of the nation's top jet aces.

Kinchloe, who had flown higher than any other human and was scheduled to pilot the first manned aircraft into outer space, was killed in a plane crash in California last July 26. He grew up here and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Iven C. Kinchloe Sr., live here.

A fund raising drive to finance construction of the memorial has been started throughout Cass County.

★ ★ ★

Site of the memorial cannot be chosen until after conference with State Highway Department officials and will depend on the type of memorial selected. Kinchloe was buried in Arlington National Cemetery.

Farmer Reports Killing Deer by Throwing Ax

ALTO (UPI) — Farmer Calvin Seese, 25, reported that he got his buck without firing a shot.

Seese said he was clearing trees with a double-bitted ax on his father-in-law's farm when a curious deer approached. Seese said he threw the ax at the deer with such force the ax became imbedded in its neck, severing its jugular vein. The buck weigned about 140 pounds, he said.

Hal Boyle Asks:

O, Nadine Philpott, Where Art Thou Now?

NEW YORK (AP)—Romance is made by the heart behind it.

Love has a focus.

The first focus usually changes, happily sometimes for the better.

Yet there is a saying that first love is best. This may be true. Certainly it is true in a way.

Oh, I'll never forget her though time has—the remorseless fugitive hungering grip that keeps a man a memory—and a girl a regret.

My first love!

★ ★ ★

She had the most ridiculous name a girl could wear. Her name was Nadine Philpott.

(Editor's note: Boyle didn't love her. He loved her name.)

★ ★ ★

Her age was about 6, and she crept across the public floor with the grace of Pavlova in flower. One watching her (particularly if he were 5) was swept by the mysterious thunder of life. He was immortally in love with a girl up there on the stage—and he would never get over it.

★ ★ ★

There as Nadine twinkled her uncertain toes I fell in love with her and the stage for all my life.

On the same stage a fellow came up and suspended himself between two supports and let them put a boulder atop his middle, and by invitation men came up and with sledge hammers beat the boulder into rocks.

(Editor's note: Later this fellow ran for public office.)

★ ★ ★

The performance lacked the delicacy of Nadine, whom I had known in school. She was my lollipop Theda Bara.

★ ★ ★

Time, that prisoner of dream and the sedulous washer-away of what was, has eroded but cannot destroy the magic of that night.

He with the strong stomach, years and broken boulder later. Where he is now?

★ ★ ★

Nadine Philpott, where art thou?

So from the clutter of what affected us before, we move toward the embracements of tomorrow, leaving behind some of the rubble of ourselves.

★ ★ ★

Beyond the rubble we are. Where the ecstasy of first love lies, still always lie we.

But that's for yesterday and later. The day changes from gray. The sun lays a yellow finger of command on the pining heart of man, and the bugle in the heart says one's had enough of being sad and sorry, and it's time to get up and do it all again.

Such a nice day. It looks as fresh as if it had never been seen before. And it hasn't.

★ ★ ★

Oh, Nadine Philpot, no matter what life did to you, or how time cripples me, you dance in unredeemable gauze from yesterday, through now, into an endless tomorrow, on tiptoe forever.

Arab League Bans Six More Firms

DAMASCUS (AP) — The Arab League's boycott-of-Israel office has announced a ban on six more western firms, including three American companies for alleged violations.

This brings the American and European firms blacklisted in the last six days to 23. They are barred from operating in or sending their products to Arab countries.

The American firms barred yesterday were Dow Chemical Co. and its branch, Dow International Ltd., both of Midland, Mich., Rogosin Industries Ltd., of New York, and Beaunit Mills Inc., of New York.

The Union Pacific and Burlington railroads were the first to use diesel locomotives for their passenger trains. The Santa Fe and Southern were diesel pioneers for freight trains.

Pontiac Northern Applies for Inter-Lakes Entry

AP Wirephoto

BUCKEYE BACK — Bruising Bob White, 210-pound junior fullback of the Ohio State Buckeyes was named AP back-of-the-week for his part in the 38-28 victory over Iowa last week. He will face Michigan in the season finale this Saturday at Columbus.

PNH Officials at Last Night's League Meeting

Local School Would Be Replacement for Van Dyke

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

An application for membership of Pontiac Northern High School was considered by officials of the Inter-Lakes conference at a meeting held at Southfield High School last night.

The decision to admit PNH into the league was tabled until a committee made up of Inter-Lakes athletic directors submits a detailed report to the principals following a tour of Northern's athletic facilities. The decision is expected to come from a special meeting of principals and athletic directors before the end of the year.

★ ★ ★

The conference last night accepted the resignation of Van Dyke thereby leaving the league with five schools.

Van Dyke officials said the resignation was effective with the 1960-61 season, however, if arrangements could be made sooner for a new entry, then Van Dyke could sever its league schedule commitments for the 1959-60 season.

Representing Pontiac at the meeting were Northern principal Philip Wargelin and athletic director Elton Johnson, and athletic director of Pontiac schools Tom Dodson.

★ ★ ★

League officials indicated they would accept Pontiac Northern if possible into athletic competition with the 1959 football season, however, this depended on whether present PNH grid commitments for 1959 and 1960 could be changed to include the five league schools.

★ ★ ★

It was suggested that PNH could take over the league commitments of Van Dyke in respect to dates, if arrangements could be made with other schools on the card. Van Dyke representatives said they might be able to help the situation by taking over some of the PNH 1959 commitments.

Presently, Northern has Southfield and Berkley already on its 1959 and 1960 schedules. It would mean adding Farmington, Waterford and Walled Lake.

★ ★ ★

Other schools presently on the 1959 PNH card are Lake Orion, Rochester, Roseville, Pontiac Central, Melvindale, Cranbrook and Hazel Park.

Except for football, the other athletic schedules for 1959-60 could be arranged for Inter-Lakes competition.

The league participates in seven varsity sports including football, basketball, baseball, track, golf, cross country and wrestling. Tennis and swimming are scheduled on an independent schedule since all members do not have teams.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac officials said they would look into the possibility of making arrangement with scheduled football opponents for release of commitment or change of dates so as to enter 1959 competition.

The five athletic directors of the Inter-Lakes Conference will visit Pontiac Northern Friday afternoon and be given a tour of the school's facilities.

★ ★ ★

These are the enrollment figures of the schools in the Inter-Lakes conference and their expected maximum in the next five years as compared to Pontiac Northern.

	1958 Enrollment	1963 Enrollment
Berkley	1350	1800
Farmington	900	1600
Southfield	1300	2000
Walled Lake	1150	1500
Waterford*	1070	1400
Pontiac Northern	1150	1800

*Figures are those of present school maximum. Second high school ballot in the spring.

Hannah Says Reports 'Exaggerated'

MSU Wants End of Rumors

EAST LANSING (AP)— John A. Hannah, Michigan State University president, has applied a firm thumb to try to keep the rumor pot from boiling over about any differences between his athletic director and football coach.

Hannah announced yesterday that he talked to athletic director Biggie Munn and coach Duffy Daugherty. His conclusions:

"Reports of any differences between them have been greatly exaggerated."

★ ★ ★

The meeting was prompted by Munn's bitter criticism of the 39-12 loss to Minnesota with such word descriptions of the play as "futile." This prompted a flurry of public printings of back stairs reports that the two former old buddies have been feuding.

★ ★ ★

Hannah said as far as the three are concerned "this is a closed incident, and there will be no additional comment."

★ ★ ★

"Everyone at Michigan State shares their disappointment that the football season has not met with more success in the season now coming to a close," said Hannah, "but there has been no loss of confidence in their ability or their dedication to the best interests of the university.

★ ★ ★

"They are united in their determination to restore the fortunes of the Spartans," Hannah said. "All of our people are going down the same road together in harmony, accord and understanding."

★ ★ ★

The MSU prexy said both Munn and Hannah "have repeatedly and consistently demonstrated beyond all question their exceptional ability and great value."

★ ★ ★

Squelching any reports of firings, he added:

"It is to give athletic administrators and coaches protection against fluctuating fortune that we have historically granted tenure of position to them."

Ram Has 102, Busch 90

Lyon County Point Champ

By CHUCK ABAIR

Jack Lyon is the scoring champion of Oakland County again. The likeable fullback, who has spearheaded St. Frederick's return to the grid limelight during the past two years, finished the 1958 season with 1-2 points on 17 touchdowns.

That total topped Birmingham star Ed Busch by 12 points. Handyman back Harvey Chapman of Farmingtion wound up 3rd with 78. 25 on extra point conversions, and Southfield's Cliff Solberg ranked 4th with 78.

West Bloomfield's do-everything quarterback John Lucadam was 5th with 69 although six other county players bettered his eight touchdowns. Twenty-one PAT kicks gave the Keego Harbor lad the edge.

Farmington was the only unbeaten Oakland team and led all opponents by placing four among the top 20 point-getters. Neil Stevenson, Mike Agee and Al LeSage were the others besides Chapman.

Lyon's total gave him 210 points in two seasons for the Rams on 35 TDs.

A four-touchdown parade by Bob Stevens vaulted the Lapeer boy into the county area lead following the final big action last weekend.

He now has 83 points which should be enough for the crown. Bob Starnes and Bill Walker of Northville are the only contenders with a game to play. Either could wind up on top by running wild against Clarenceville Friday.

Starnes currently has 66 digits and Walker 61 for the highly-ranked Mustangs.

Pistons Foul Their Way to Loss Against Celts

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Detroit Pistons fouled their way to a 115-102 defeat by the Boston Celtics last night in a National Basketball Assn. game in which Phil Jordon got a bloodied nose in a floor scrap.

★ ★ ★

Outscored from the field, the defending Eastern Division champions got more than enough points on free shots as Detroit lost its eighth in 13 games.

A brief fist fight between Jordon and Boston's Tommy Heinsohn marked the third quarter. Jordon's nose was messed up from the only clean punch. Neither man was penalized.

Boston, leading all the way, wrapped up the game from the foul line. The Celtics shot 39 of 50 free throws. Detroit outscored Boston on field goals 41-39 while doing 20-30 from the foul line.

★ ★ ★

Detroit played the Celtics deadeven in the second half after lagging 63-50 at the intermission.

Boston's Bill Sharman and Bill Russell were high scorers with 20 points each. Jordon led Detroit with 18 and George Yardley had 17. Heinsohn, sinking 9 of 10 free throws, scored 19.

The New York Knickerbockers, leaders in the Eastern Division have won their last six games. But they haven't been able to gain much ground on the Syracuse Nationals.

★ ★ ★

The Knicks were idle last night. But the Nationals continued to roll, walloping the St. Louis Hawks 120-94 in the feature of a doubleheader at St. Louis.

Syracuse, which picked up its fifth victory in its last six games, raced to a 10-point lead at the half. The Nats increased the margin to 21 by the end of the third period. Larry Costello paced the winners with 28 points and Bob Pettit led St. Louis with 21.

White of Ohio 'Back of Week'

By The Associated Press

Bob White, Ohio State's fullback, has been named The Associated Press Back of the Week by the nation's sports writers and sportscasters for his strong performance against Iowa.

The 210-pounder hammered the Iowa defenses for 209 yards on 33 carries while scoring three touchdowns in Ohio State's 38-28 victory. He bore the brunt of the attack, lugging the ball on 11 of 14 plays during the decisive 61-yard touchdown march. A year ago he almost personally licked Iowa.

White had to share the glory in 1957 with Don Clark who carried 15 times for 152 yards although neither matched the yardage total of the losers' Randy Duncan, who made 246 yards net with a passing barrage.

Almost a Sellout for Lions, Bears

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Lions box office spokesmen say Briggs Stadium is practically a sellout for Sunday's game with the Chicago Bears.

The Lions said the last of the 7,000 bleacher seats was sold yesterday. A few reserved seats — mostly singles behind posts — remain unsold.

Briggs stadium seats 52,756. Detroit sold 42,154 season tickets.

Hank Greenberg Sells His Cleveland Stock

CLEVELAND (AP) — The majority stockholders of the Cleveland Indians Tuesday bought the stock of former General Manager Hank Greenberg and brothers Charles and Andrew Baxter.

Purchase price was not disclosed.

The three, who had asked for the meeting of the board of directors after expressing dissatisfaction with the way the club is being run, held 34 per cent of the club's 6,000 shares of stock.

A statement issued by the board following the meeting said the action was taken "to bring about a harmonious conclusion for all concerned."

Kiphuth Denies Dissatisfaction With Grid Coach

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — If Yale alumni are dissatisfied with football coach Jordan Olivar, they haven't told Yale officials about it.

★ ★ ★

So says Delaney Kiphuth, Yale director of athletics.

Kiphuth's statement last night was prompted by an article by Arch Murray in the New York Post. The Post story said Yale alumni were grumbling about Olivar's practice of devoting most of the year to his West Coast insurance business.

★ ★ ★

Kiphuth denied the report about alumni discontent and added there was no objection by Yale to Olivar's business activities.

"Without spring practice there is no necessity for him to be here except during the three-month football season," Kiphuth said.

3-Goal Splurge Spearheads 6-0 Win for Wings

Sawchuk Posts Shutout as Redshirts Handcuff Bruins at Olympia

DETROIT (AP) — "Man, it feels good to breathe for a change," said coach Sid Abel.

"It seems like every other game we have won has been 1-0 or 2-1 and even if this never happens again, it feels wonderful," said the Detroit Red Wing coach after his team blanked Boston 6-0 last night.

The Wings gave Terry Sawchuk magnificent support and the goalie had 26 saves. Johnny Wilson supplied plenty of punch with the three-goal Hat trick, only the second time in eight National Hockey League seasons the popular Winger has done it.

"I'd like to figure out a way to spread that 6-0 victory into about three wins," said Sawchuk. "It's nice not to be worrying about giving up the tying or winning goal."

★ ★ ★

Wilson got a loose puck near the Boston nets for his first goal late in the first period. The Bruins were a man short when Wilson tallied midway through the second period, getting his own rebound.

He got his third just before the middle period ended. Taking a pass from Nick Mickoski, who scored a goal and assisted on four others, Wilson swept around Jim Morrison and planted a 10-footer through goalie Don Simmons.

Only 36 seconds later Mickoski capped a big rush in the Boston end by lifting a 15-footer past Simmons, who was screened out of the play.

★ ★ ★

Before the final period was six minutes old, Detroit hiked the score to 6-0. Charlie Burns scored on a power play and Jack McIrtyre applied the finisher when he zeroed in on Simmons and fired a waist-high 30-footer that Simmons never reached.

"This is what happens when you play hard and check early in the game," said general manger Jack Adams. "Our guys were hitting those Boston players early—and we got off to a good start."

Tuberculosis May Sideline Him in 1959

Schoendienst Faces Toughest Battle

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Second baseman Red Schoendienst, an "important guy" with the Milwaukee Braves, faced the toughest battle of his baseball career today —overcoming tuberculosis, a disease that probably will keep him from the diamond next season.

Schoendienst, a 35-year-old baseball veteran, was plagued with colds and soreness in his chest throughout the 1958 season and it was confirmed last night he is suffering from tuberculosis, a malady which strikes without discrimination.

Although his doctors, teammates, friends and bosses were confident the Braves' "Little General" will make a successful recovery from tuberculosis, the possibility was raised tthat being off the playing field for perhaps a year or more might make it very hard for Schoendienst to make a comeback as a player.

It is quite likely that he might not play next year," said Dr. Raymond Martin, who has been attending Schoendienst at St. Louis' Mount St. Rose Tubercular Hospital since Nov. 12. "But we are optimistic about his full recovery."

Stan Musial, the Cardinal great who roomed with Schoendienst for 11 years on St. Louis road trips, summed up the sentiment among ball players for Schoendienst.

"He'll battle back," said Musial. "As far as baseball is concerned, I guess that's up to the doctors and Red. And Red doesn't give up easily."

Catcher Del Crandall, the team captain of the Braves, said "Red is an important guy with our club and I know how important baseball is in his life. If he gets out of this and even if he can't play ball again but has his health, that's the most important thing."

Everyone connected with Schoendienst expressed deep concern over the baseball star's physical condition and how it will affect his wife, three young daughters and infant son, who was born just a few days before Schoendienst entered the sanatorium to undergo tuberculosis checks.

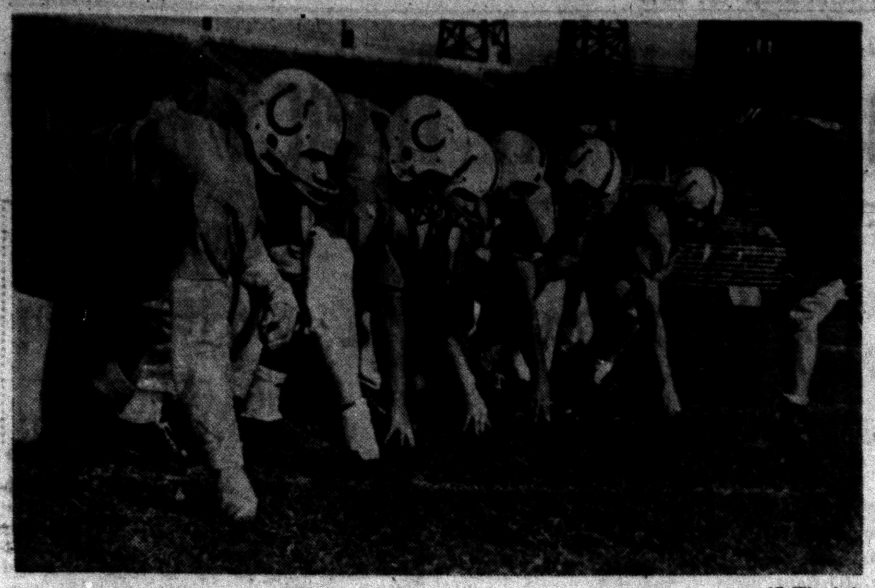

Schoendienst joined the Braves in the 1957 season, pulling them out of a slump as Milwaukee went on to win its first pennant. That was when he earned the title of "Little General," although Red, the man who held the team together on the field, stands six-feet tall and weighs about 174 pounds.

Schoendienst began his major league career with the Cardinals in 1945 after spending three years in the minors. The second baseman went to the Giants and then the Braves in 1957. He has played in three World Series and nine All-Star games.

'M' Seeks 'Going-Away' Win for Bennie

But Wolverine Chances Look Slim Saturday

Bucks Heavily Favored in Oosterbaan's 100th and Farewell Game

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Seldom has Michigan had more incentive than for its traditional game Saturday with Ohio State.

No championship nor Rose Bowl bid hinges on the outcome. But the Wolverines, to a man, want a victory as a going-away gift for retiring Bennie Oosterbaan.

Michigan can erase the memory of its dismal season by upsetting the surging Buckeyes. Ohio State stands out with Michigan State as the opponents over which the Wolverines cherish victory most.

By beating the Buckeyes, Michigan's worst season since 1936 automatically would turn into a mild success. A campaign in which neither Michigan State nor Ohio State beats Michigan can't be temed otherwise — despite the overall record.

"I don't know, it's hard to tell if we will be inspired," said Oosterbaan.

But the trend of Michigan this season has been to rise to a peak performance when the occasion and caliber of the opposition demand it.

The Wolverines hit their first peak against Michigan State. They tied the Spartans early in the season when such a stalemate was considered a moral victory.

Four weeks elapsed before Michigan could return to such heights. Its second good performance came against Iowa, a team destined to win the Big Ten championship a week later.

The Hawkeyes had too much speed and depth for the Wolverines. But with a spirited showing, Michigan held Iowa even until midway in the third period.

"That was our best game of the season," Oosterbaan said.

Michigan was able to score only one touchdown in each of the following two games. The Wolverines played poorly and lost to Illinois and Indiana.

Now it's another big game, the 55th affair with Ohio State. The Buckeyes will be heavy favorites, but Michigan seldom plays poorly against Ohio State and there is the added desire to present Oosterbaan with a victory in his 100th and final game as coach.

Campbell Says West Coast Skating 'Long Ways Off'

No Hockey Expansion Yet

NEW YORK (AP)—Expansion of the National Hockey League to the West Coast is still "a long ways off," Clarence Campbell, president of the six-team circuit, said Tuesday.

Commenting on a report that a Los Angeles group was seeking to obtain a franchise in ice hockey's big league, Campbell declared, "the transportation problem would be too difficult to overcome at the present time.

"Air travel in the winter is something you can't figure. Bad weather could ground a club and throw our schedule out of order.

"We must have both the Montreal and Toronto teams at home almost every Saturday night. The Canadiens have sold out every game for the last 14 years and Toronto every one of the last 12.

★ ★ ★

They can easily get to Chicago or Detroit for a Sunday game but the West Coast is another thing."

The Los Angeles group is headed by Chuck Johnson, 40, an inventor. Johnson was in Boston last week for talks with Walter Brown, president of the Boston Bruins and a member of the league's board of governors.

"Johnson hasn't contacted me yet," said Campbell. "I know that Los Angeles is building a 16,000-seat stadium to be ready in June. But we would have to have at least two or three teams out that way to make it feasible.

"Much more practical would be a two-division setup, one in the East and one in the West. The Western Division would include Los Angeles and perhaps San Francisco and Denver. But that's likely to take a couple of years.

At the moment we are more interested in getting the Chicago franchise on its feet. The Hawks seem to be getting someplace after several years in last place."

Campbell also ruled out Cleveland and Buffalo as future National League cities. These American League franchises have been most promiently mentioned in NHL expansion talk.

"Hockey arenas in our league must have a seating capacity of around 14,000," he said. "Cleveland and Buffalo do not measure up to that." Cleveland seats 9,850 and Buffalo 10,000.

Campbell is here to attend a special meeting of the American League's board of governors. The discussions involved possible termination of the annual drafting of American League players by the National League and Western League players by the American League.

No positive action was taken, however.

Major Hoople Sez: Gophers Win Second

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Always Great in Night Games

HAK-KAFF! This has been a season in which a misplaced decimal point during late evening deliberations can make the difference between forecasting a startling upset or winding up with a totally wrong prognostication.

Consider the case of Ohio State. Early in the year, Mr. Red Board Daly, one of my associates, was of the opinion the mighty Buckeyes were far from the No. 1 team in the nation. All normal experts had given them this accolade.

Going to the extent of placing a Robinson's Anemometer to measure wind resistance on the Bucks' home grounds, Mr. Daly insisted that both S.M.U. and Washington would defeat Ohio State.

Ohio State won both engagements. But later, true to Daly's insistence, they went into adownward spiral and failed to win.

★ ★ ★

In re-checking the Ohio State Hoople tally sheets, I found that Red Board and I had erred! We committed the unforgivable sin of failing to add chest normal and chest expanded statistics of second string Ohio State players to the overall Buckeye total for squad strength.

This is merely one of 32 different mathematical processes we apply to games each and every week of the year. Our work is so fine, you see, that one mistake, no matter how minor, throws us completely off.

This week, with the aid of a complete re-check of every step taken, I am able to state with authority that my entire list of selections are perfect.

4 County Gridders Honored

Champs Dominate MIAA

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Hillsdale, Hope and Albion—the triple champions of the MIAA—dominate the all-league football team announced today.

Hillsdale led the selections with three choices in the voting by the MIAA coaches. The Dales' top end, Jim Reynolds, was a unanimous choice and is joined by tackle Jim Larkin of Waterford, center Ed Tallman and back Walt Poe of Pontiac.

Other unanimous choices were end Tom Taylor of Albion and tackle Larry Ter Molen of Hope. Other Albion choices are guard Lanny Leak of Clarkston and back Don Van Gilder. Named to the first team along with Ter Molen were guard Ron Paarlberg and back Ron Bekius.

Rounding out the team is back Bill Klenk of Alma.

This is the third straight year Taylor has made the honor team.

THE SECOND TEAM: Ends Rex Harkness of Albion and Jim Northrup of Alma; tackles Fraser Dean of Alma and Dan Gibson of Kalamazoo; guards Dick Tyler of Kalamazoo and Bill Huibregtse of Hope, center Gene Van Dongen of Hope, and backs Len Fase of Alma, Jim Hurd of Albion; Pete Watt of Hope and Earl O'Shaughnessy of Hillsdale. O'Shaughnessy is from Keego Harbor.

Five Schools Enter Soo Cage Tourney

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Five teams have entered the first Sault Invitational basketball tournament at Sault High School Dec. 23.

The tournament, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, will benefit a fund for underprivileged children.

Alma and Alpena Community College will play in an opening round game followed by Sault Tech and Central Michigan, with Northwestern College of Traverse City playing the winner of the Alma-Alpena game.

The championship game will be played Dec. 23.

Almont Dominates Thumb Selections

Almont dominated the Southern Thumb Conference all-star selections. The champion Raiders placed four on the first team and four on the second team.

The selections:

FIRST TEAM—Ends Jim Ostrander, Almont, and Don Smith, New Haven; Tackles Jeffrey Bagocious of Almont, Dick Tappen, Armada, and Elmer Moshier, Dryden; Guards Roland Lasbrook of Armada, Neil Pittenger, Almont, and Wayne Lobstine, Brown City; Center John Tiebler, Brown City; Backs Nate Petty of New Haven, Bob Fisher of Brown City, John Kerston, Capac, and Frank Hartway, Almont.

SECOND TEAM—Ends Wills, Armada, and Taylor, Almont; Tackles Likens, Memphis, and Miller, Brown City; Guards Upleger, Almont, and Keeler, New Haven; Center Washburn, Armada; Backs Graham of Brown City, Ostrander of Almont, Howe, Almont, and Zarate, Armada.

Saginaw Pro's 67 Heads Florida Qualifying List

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Bill Markham, a club pro from Saginaw, Mich., put together a 5-under-par 67 Tuesday for top spot among 65 qualifiers for the West Palm Beach Invitational Open.

The $15,000 Open starts Thursday at the West Palm Beach Country Club. The field will be swelled to 135 by players exempt from qualifiction.

Twenty golfers equalled or bettered par 72 over the 6,745-yard course in a brisk, favoring northeast wind.

Markham shot an eagle 3 on the 500-yard second hole. He had five birdies, with 15 and 20-yard putts figuring in two.

★ ★ ★

Toby Lyons of Jamestown, N. Y., was a stroke back at 68. Don Bisplinghoff of Winter Park, Fla., Dick Tiddy of Wake Forest, N. C., and Larry Bartosek of Skaneateles, N. Y., were in a three-way tie at 69.

★ ★ ★

Seventy-shooters were Art Dorring of Cincinnati and Ray Malain of Birmingham. Grouped at 71 were Henry Lindner of West Palm Beach, Manual De La Torre of Milwaukee, Herb Marcuseen, Wally Ulrich of Minneapolis, Mike Krak, of Weirton, W. Va., Henry Williams Jr., of Fleetwood, Pa., and Bob Goetz of Tulsa, Okla.

★ ★ ★

Matching par were Steve Isakov of Brighton, Mich., amateur Truman Connell of Tequesta, Fla., Eddie Burke of Boca Raton, Fla., Reggie Myles Jr. of Grosse Pointe, Mich., amateur Dorsey Nevergall of Boynton Beach, Fla., and Fred Wampler.

Bill Berger of Youngstown, Ohio, carded a hole in one with a three-iron shot on the 185-yard third hole.

NCAA Puts OK on 11 Contests

Postseason Football Tests May Increase in Next Two Years

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. has certified 11 post-season football games for the holiday season. Pending applications may increase the total in the next two years.

★ ★ ★

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, announced the 11 approved games. He also said another game—Liberty Bowl in Philadelphia—has been certified for the 1959 season and applications for four others would be considered at the annual NCAA convention, Jan. 7-9 in Cincinnati.

★ ★ ★

The total of 11 is the same as last year. Prior to enactment of restrictive legislation as many as 31 different games were played.

Under the rules the game must be certified by the Extra Events Committee. No school can participate in more than one game during a year.

★ ★ ★

The approved games with sites and dates:

Mineral Water Bowl, Excelsior Springs, Mo., Nov. 22, 1958.
Citrisodo Bowl, Escondido, Calif., Nov. 27, 1958.
Blue Grass Bowl, Louisville, Dec. 13, 1958.
Gator Bowl, Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 27, 1958.
Tangerine Bowl, Orlando, Fla., Dec. 27, 1958.
Sun Bowl, El Paso, Tex., Dec. 31, 1958.
Cotton Bowl, Dallas, Jan. 1, 1959.
Orange Bowl, Miami, Jan. 1, 1959.
Prairie View Bowl, Prairie View, Tex., Jan. 1, 1958.
Rose Bowl, Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 1, 1959.
Sugar Bowl, New Orleans, Jan. 1, 1959.

4 Schools Play in Cage Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — North Carolina, Notre Dame, Northwestern and Louisville will play in the annual Bluegrass Holiday Festival Basketball Tournament next month.

Billy Henry, Fairgrounds Promotion director, said Tuesday Notre Dame and North Carolina will start the Dec. 19 tourney with a game between Louisville and Northwestern following.

The title match will be Dec. 20.

Louisville won the 1956 tourney and San Francisco was last year's victor.

11th Frame

By CHUCK ABAIR

An outstanding representative team will be carrying Pontiac's colors when the big Bowling Proprietors' Association of America National Team Match Game championships get under way Saturday at the Star Lanes in Southfield.

Huron Bowl will be the local entry competing in the big event which continues through Nov. 25. It will be one of the biggest bowling productions ever staged in Oakland County.

A five-man contingent will be picked from a group consisting of Joe Bonfiglio, Les Rothbarth, Clark Balch, Jay Lovett, Dick Carmichael and John Nickell to take part in the 48-team tourney.

Teams from 11 states are entered including Falstaff Beer of St. Louis, the defending champion and ABC title winner for the 1957-58 season. Ten teams from Detroit and one each from Grand Rapids and Flint will complete the Michigan entry list.

Chicago will have seven quintets and New York State five to give further indication of the type of opposition the local stars will be facing. An outstanding performance could gain nationwide notices for the Pontiac men.

All the teams will shoot 12 games Saturday and Sunday with the top four moving into the finals slated for Monday and Tuesday. The national champion will be decided on a basis of points after the four finalists square off in head to head competition and a position round.

Other states sending keg stars here for the event will be Ohio, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Indiana, Iowa, New Jersey and even Texas.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

Right-handers will find the "clothesline" spare on the right — the 1-3-6-10 — a troublesome one to convert. Fortunately, they don't have to shoot at too many of them. Look at today's drawing to get the picture of one.

Actually, a perfect strike ball in the 1-3 pocket will turn this shot in. However, I like to play this one a bit to the left of center, taking my stance there and delivering the ball from that angle. I allow my ball to roll out a bit and then hook into the 1-3 pocket.

Because the ball can only hit the 1 and 3 pins, you must depend upon pin action to account for the 6 and the 10. The 3 must be knocked back into the 6, and the 6 back into the 10. I think shooting this spare from the left helps set up this necessary pin action because the ball is moving into the pins from the left.

You may prefer to roll your normal strike ball, however. Try both methods to see which is best for you.

Horses Absent and Team Had No Leadership

Quarterbacks Unable to Make MSU Threat by Passing

EAST LANSING (AP) — Why did the once mighty Michigan State football Spartans stumble, fumble and fall on their faces this season?

In the past three years, teams coached by Duffy Daugherty won 24, including a Rose Bowl, and lost only four games. This year, the same coach with the same assistants has won only two, lost five and tied one. MSU already is securely locked in the Big Ten basement.

★ ★ ★

There's no one easy diagnosis of the sickness that made the Spartans curl up and die on the football field.

But the most important contributing factor was lack of material.

The horses weren't there. The lightweights left couldn't pull together to do the job.

★ ★ ★

The seniors — with a few shining exceptions like end and team captain Sammy Williams—didn't have the spark of leadership. There wasn't a quarterback able to move the team consistently. There wasn't enough threat of a passing attack to keep the opposition defense honest.

★ ★ ★

The word "no passing" got around the Big Ten early. Opponents started jamming up the running attack with nine man lines.

The team was shaken up in midseason with wholesale promotions and demotions. It didn't work. Improvisions and gambles became more and more desperate. All failed.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State lost 22 lettermen from the team that won eight and lost one a year ago. Included were the likes of such stars as quarterback Jim Ninowski, halfback Walt Kowalczyk, center Dan Currie and end Dave Kaiser.

As another blow, Blanche Martin, regarded as the best all-around player and scheduled to go at fullback, was lost with a knee injury.

Mike Panitch, a stubby 5-7 who had proved a capable second man, started at quarterback. But Panitch, mostly a running back, had trouble seeing over his own line to pass.

★ ★ ★

Coaches ran quarterbacks in and out like Western Union messenger boys. A junior was started. Then a sophomore. By the last game, a reserve making his first appearance of the year was directing the outfit.

★ ★ ★

"We have more problems to be solved position-wise than on any other team I've coached here," said Daugherty at the start of the season.

It was recognized there was a lack of depth. But it took failures of some of the key players to produce and injuries to others to show how shallow the depth was.

★ ★ ★

Left half Dean Look was still leading ground-gainer despite nagging hurts. Art Johnson, counted on as a breakaway back, was slowed by injuries. State never developed a fullback to replace Martin.

Toward the tail end of the season the starter at right half, where Kowalczyk, 210-pound "spriting blacksmith" once rambled, was 143-pound scatback Henny Young.

★ ★ ★

Spirit alone couldn't pull out the Spartans. So spirits sagged. And as the experience level of the players went down, mistakes multiplied. Passers were throwing more interceptions than completions. Fumbles were almost as common as first downs.

★ ★ ★

The constant shifting of personel didn't give coaches time enough to concentrate on polishing going plays and installing new ones. The constant losing hurt team morale.

The one ray of sunshine for Daugherty, an eternal optimist is that now Michigan State has nowhere to go but up.

Can you name one family in Pontiac who wouldn't like to own a swimming pool?

A message from Esther Williams PRESIDENT, INTERNATIONAL SWIMMING POOL CORP.

A huge new industry has been born in America.

It is revolutionizing the way Americans live, and promoting increased health and family happiness.

It is providing employment for hundreds of thousands, and it is making many far-sighted businessmen well-to-do or rich.

It is the home swimming pool industry. In just five years it has grown from a few million dollars to more than half a billion —and it has barely scratched the surface of the market.

The company of which I'm President is the No. 1 company in the industry. Our growth figures are even more phenomenal than the industry's. Our name is the best known and best respected by far.

A few days from today, one of my marketing executives will visit this city to interview businessmen, one of whom will be appointed as exclusive Distributor for this community. The man appointed will almost certainly be headed for enormous rewards in the next ten years—rewards not only of material gain, but of satisfaction in helping to develop a new, important industry.

There is no franchise fee. Construction experience is not a requirement. The man will be expected to make a modest investment in self-liquidating inventory with big profit potential.

If you are of good character, with a proved record of business achievement, I believe you will be interested in meeting with our field executive when he is here. To arrange an interview, write or wire me at the address below.

Along the Outdoor Trail

With H. GUY MOATS

Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

Lot More to Hunting Than Getting a Buck

Friendly Atmosphere Covers Camps

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

CURRAN — There is a lot more to deer hunting than just killing a buck, according to John Cowe, ex-mayor of Pontiac, who is hunting here.

★ ★ ★

"It is a shame that people (deer hunters) can't retain this extremely social attitude all year," he lamented. "Everybody is so friendly, so interested in helping the other guy up here. It's hard to explain to non-hunters that people who are strangers in the cities are 'old friends' here."

He wasn't referring to drinking bouts or wild poker parties. Cowe said he meant that: "It's like the feeling you get around Christmas time. Everybody is so nice and friendly."

To attest to Cowe's thesis was Dr. B. M. Mitchell, retired Pontiac doctor.

★ ★ ★

"I almost died of a stroke eight years ago," Dr. Mitchell said. "I have a hard time getting about as a result of that, but I still enjoy coming up to our camp every deer season."

Dr. Mitchell, a member of the 24 Camp, commented "it is very enjoyable to just be here." He said:

★ ★ ★

"I like to get together with the boys, watch them hunt and just sit in front of the fireplace." Dr. Mitchell killed his last buck in 1949 and has not carried a gun since.

Of course, there are extra-curricular activities such as cutting the shirt tail off of the hunter who misses a shot at a buck. There are also ceremonies of all sorts.

Sunday night, for example, Floyd Blakeslee, Pontiac—a self-appointed high priest who "worships" Umbreago — "blessed" the crow-Bar Ranch. Blakeslee and his brother, Victor of Farmington, set up an "altar," lit candles and put on ceremonial robes.

Floyd then began his speech about Umbreago, who — in case you haven't heard — is the patron of all hunters and fishermen. The ceremony ended with the "taking of the sacred oil."

Deer hunting without the above things is dull, according to Cowe.

"Last year," he said, "one of the guys 'ruined' our whole vacation. He shot a deer."

On the dirt road leading to the Oakland Hunt Club the visitor will be in the proper mood driving to the camp by reading the signs. They proclaim: "No hunting on the golf course," "One-hour parking," and "Last chance for gas."

Of course, there is no golf course. In most sections of the road, there is no room to park even if you wanted to, and the "Last Chance gas station" is a five-gallon oil can hung on a tree limb.

Of course, it is empty!

Soo May Bring Open Fishing

Soo Seaway Project Poses Problem

LANSING (UPI) — A unique situation will come up in the not too distant future, a situation which might sound like a fisherman's dream but hasn't happened in Michigan for 27 years and it's all because of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The government is working on a deepening project for the St. Mary's River channel as it goes around the west side of Neebish Island. The island is between Canada and Michigan's Upper Peninsula below Sault Ste. Marie.

The deepening is for passage of large ships coming through the river when the seaway is opened. When the job is completed, workers will move to the other side of the island and deepen the east or southbound channel.

That channel is narrower than the west one and to do the job of deepening into the rock bottom of the channel, coffer dams will be built along a sizeable stretch.

After the dams are erected, the water in the channel between them will be removed, permitting workmen to blast into the rock between the dams.

All sounds well until it is realized that when the water is pumped out of the section—an area expected to be about 9,000 feet long—a lot of fish will be in trouble.

F. A. Westerman, chief of the conservation department's fish division, wants some changes made. He said the director of the department should be able to authorize taking of the fish after the dams are built and during the time the water is being removed.

Westerman said it would be best if the Legislature permitted the director to permit open fishing, perhaps by hook and line, by spearing or even some netting operation, to salvage the fish for use rather than letting them die and go to waste when the water is removed.

NICE BUCK — John Napley of Pontiac didn't waste much time getting his buck, opening day of the Michigan deer season. His nice trophy was downed near the Cowe-Boys Ranch at Curran.

Two Big Bucks Share Lead in Press Contest

Bob Wilson and Bill Vosburg File Entries Few Minutes Apart

With a pair of husky 210-pounders sharing the current lead, The Press "big deer derby" appears to be headed for some record, or near-record. Only four days of the season have elapsed (ends Nov. 30), and best hunting weather should be ahead.

The co-leaders were entered by Bill Vosburg, M-L member, 728 Apalachi, Walled Lake and Robert Wilson, 9217 Buckingham, Pontiac.

Vosburg took his 8-pointer on Sunday at Rudyard, where he hunted with T. V. and Eddie Blovett and Blovett's son. Blovetts are Milford residents. Entries were made only minutes apart yesterday.

Wilson was hunting with Morris Anker and William Wilson of Pontiac, in the area about Paradise. His buck sported a heavy set of horns.

Other successful area hunters included Brady Freeland, 3330 Coseyburn Dr., Drayton Plains, who bagged a nearly all-white albino spikehorn near Mio. It was his first deer in several years.

Elmer Cornell, 2647 Hartline, Rochester, took an 8-pointer near Alger, hunting with his wife Jennie.

Harry Barnett, Lake Orion (844 Hemingway Rd.), 6-pointer in Alcona County, his first buck in nine years.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Van Camp, 6453 Tucker, Holly, 8-pointer and spike (wife got her first deer). Jesse's first in five years.

Harvey W. Perry, 3795 N. Lake Dr., Drayton Plains, 8-pointer near Vanderbilt, only member of his party to connect opening day. Deer was his first in three years of hunting.

Jim Brower, 19, of 115 East Huron, Pontiac, a perfect 6-pointer, near Gladwin, his first in three years.

Alabama's unbeaten football team of 1930 allowed only 13 points in winning 10 games. Tennessee scored six points and Vanderbilt seven.

Rain Slows Area Hunters

By JACK PATTERSON

The pattering of rain on the cabin roof may, under some circumstances, be as pleasant a sound as writers like to make it out. On the opening day of deer season there's nothing pleasant about it, particularly when it continues all morning.

PATTERSON

Throughout the morning the boys, getting fidgety, eased out, one by one, into the rain and left us sitting by the fire. Then the sound of shooting became too much to ignore, so we set out to join the skirmishers.

A few hundred yards down the road we ran into Henry McNalley bringing in a fine eight-pointer. Henry claimed it was the most obliging buck he'd ever seen. He'd been watching three deer when suddenly his glasses were filled with antlers, as the big boy strode into view.

Chuck Rogers, who had been within earshot, had to help drag the deer in through some rough territory and suggested that the "colonel" be fined for shooting a buck so far from the road.

Within the next hour three good bucks were seen, but they were pretty well in and we did not want to risk being fined, so we let them pass. One of them was a real buster. We had been shooting the breeze with Charlie Wood, and after a bit Charlie had moved down into the swamp and the buck, which must have been standing close by all the time, eased around behind him and right in front of us. And while we deliberated whether or not to shoot he moved into some alders and was lost from view.

The relation of this tale, preceding dinner, didn't enhance our popularity with Bob Oliver Jr. and Roy Corwin, who had worked all day without seeing a horn. The second day was pretty much a repeat performance. Several shootable bucks were seen but their position didn't permit easy portability.

★ ★ ★

Along toward evening Oliver's .35 Remington opened up below the hill and we quickly moved out of hailing distance in case he yelled for help. A later full-scale effort brought in a nice spike.

So, at the end of three working days the Sleepy Hollow score was just two bucks.

Nearly Double 'Gills' Size

Fish Control Tests Give Exciting Results

LANSING — Conservation Department fisheries workers have produced "exciting" results from recent fish management tests on a few Michigan lakes and ponds.

★ ★ ★

Many 10-inch bluegills were produced from six-inch fish in one year in at least one pond where formerly only stunted fish were found.

The results stem from "population manipulation" work where chemical sprays or seines remove unwanted fish and plantings restore desired numbers of game fish.

An acre of water is much like a farm acre. Half weeds and half corn may be grown, or by scientific farming, weeds can be removed and a high yield of corn produced. The same is true with water. Within certain limits, modern "farming" practices can make a lake produce fewer weed fish, but more and bigger game fish.

★ ★ ★

A large number of Michigan lakes now have excess trash and "stunted" panfish populations. Where conditions permit, these lakes can be sprayed to kill unwanted fish and reduce excess panfish populations. Then additional pike, bass, and other predators can be added to keep the lake in better balance.

★ ★ ★

The predators help keep panfish populations in balance and both the surviving panfish and the predators grow bigger—like the hybrid corn taking the place of weeds in the cultivated field.

Use of chemicals to manipulate fish populations is not new, but Michigan fish researchers have adapted the idea—and some new chemicals—to obtain striking results in the last few years.

★ ★ ★

Whether or not these bigger fish will mean more pounds in the skillet, however, is still open to question. Perhaps these bigger fish, being fewer in number, will still be as elusive as big fish always seem to be.

Recent fires in the state's grasslands and forests burned over 67 acres, hiked the damage done during the year to 10,410 acres.

Solunar Tables

Late fall hunting and fishing can be quite productive if opportunity is taken to use the best periods of activity for game and fish. Effective use can be made in this connection, of the John Alden Knight solunar periods, shown below for the ensuing week:

	A.M.		P.M.

SYDNEY (AP)—The first interzone Davis Cup tennis final, between Italy and the Philippines, will be played here December 6-8 instead of December 4-6. It is the first time a Davis Cup match has been scheduled on a Sunday in Australia.

Little Stories About Outdoors

Signal honor has been extended to General Curtis E. LeMay of the U.S. Army, for his continued personal and effective interest in conservation and outdoors activities in general. He has just been named Winchester's Outdoorsman of the Year. His selection was announced today by W. Miller Hurley, general manager of the big arms firm.

This outdoor award is determined by 1,200 of the country's leading outdoors writers, as a result of a poll, first held in 1954. Last year's outdoorsman was Dr. Logan J. Bennett of the Pennsylvania Game Commission. Other previous winners were the Dodgers' Walter Alston and film star Robert Taylor.

Gen. LeMay received a beautifully inscribed and engraved custom-made 12-gauge shotgun, bearing four silver stars (for his rank).

★ ★ ★

The unnecessary accidental shooting that a few days ago cost the lives of an Oakland County high school girl and a Pontiac youth, once more point to the need for more care on the part of hunters. The sportsman who makes certain of his target, that it is NOT a human, or other than the game sought, is the only one who should be permitted to claim the privilege of hunting.

Too many injuries and deaths each year during deer season are caused by irresponsible and careless handlers of lethal weapons. There is never any excuse for this kind of a mistake.

★ ★ ★

The old argument over whether or not outboards scare fish away and spoil angling goes on. But there is apparently a lot of evidence to the contrary, some of it provided in tests by the Michigan Conservation Department. This observer might add a personal experience. He saw a 5½-pound bass smash into the prop of an idling outboard, flashing up from deep water. His temper, or curiosity proved fatal.

★ ★ ★

The Norman Ellis family, all followers of the business of working hunting dogs in the field (Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, a daughter and two sons) are proud of their national champion, Cover King. King, top U. S. amateur pheasant shooting dog, has won some 16 trial places in Michigan, Ohio and Missouri, of which seven were firsts; won the Northern Classic in 1957, and Cash Patterson Memorial this year.

King's owner is director of personnel relations for Chevrolet Motors.

14-Year-Old Bags 1st Buck on First Shot

Fourteen-year-old Barry Blackstone, 6838 Barker, Drayton Plains, hung up some kind of a record for deer-hunting firsts, during the last weekend.

Barry, who has carried The Press over his own route for the last year after aiding brother Bill since he was 10, went on his first hunting trip. He was with his grandfather, Manley McCarter of Lake Orion and his great-grandfather, William Day, of Cass City, both seasoned hunters. They hunted the area about Atlanta.

Only Barry got a buck, a fine 135-pound spike, his first deer. The youngster downed the prize with his first shot, in the first few minutes of the opening day.

Barry attends Pierce Junior High on Hatchery road, and this week was the envy of his classmates.

Another Press carrier, Ronald Haynes, 15, 966 Hollywood, Pontiac, also was lucky. Ron, son of Ilow Haynes, hunted with his dad, near Manton, downed his first deer in two years of hunting. His trophy was a 6-pointer, and was taken with one shot.

Conservation department estimates of the 1958 pheasant bag, indicate hunters took more than a million birds for the 6th year in succession. Total is, however, some 10 per cent under 1957 figures.

U. S. CHAMP — It required three years of trying but Cover King (above) this fall finally made the grade as national amateur pheasant shooting dog champion. King is 6-years-old, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ellis, 7425 Lahser, Birmingham. Championship was run off at Delaware, Ohio. Mr. Ellis holds King in picture, Mrs. Ellis displays a trophy.

De Mille's Profits Going Into Charity Trust Fund

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Of the $56,000,000 already earned by "The Ten Commandments," C. B. De Mille tells me he doesn't get a penny. It goes into the De Mille Trust Fund for education and charity. "I get my wealth out of the way it's been welcomed," C. B. told me.

He had just that day received a cable from Vienna saying that the "Ten Commandments" premiere was attended by the Chancellor of Austria, Julius Raab, and other dignitaries, and that it was sold out for weeks.

C. B. continues to amaze me. At 77 he is working on two motion picture ventures. "I call one 'Project X,' and this particular idea is being developed by John Garris," he said, "and the other is 'Project Y' which will come first. It's not based on any novel or play, but on a subject."

Frank Sinatra's flu turned out to be the 48-hour virus instead of the 24-hour, and his doctor wouldn't let him go to work. However, the "Hole in the Head" company is ahead of schedule. Keenan Wynn, who had a 10-day guarantee, finished in two-and-a-half days.

They tell me that the teenagers flocked to meet Eddie Hodges, the little boy in "Music Man," who has a part with Frankie in "Hole in the Head."

Another bit of news from this Florida location is that Eddie Robinson is again interested in art. He sent his wife, Jane, to New York to bid on some paintings, or at least to take a look at them. Jane, too, has become art conscious since she married Eddie.

Jim Hall and Rita Hayworth were colder than the icy weather to each other on the Utah location of "They Came to Cordura." Jim went to visit Rita there before he took off for Ireland where he has a date with John Huston. The echoes of their quarrel reached other members of the company.

Student Protests Live Experiment

Girl, 15, Leaves School When Biology Teacher Dissects Cat

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—"I went home shaking like a leaf. I'll never go back."

The words came from 15-year-old Anita Trotter, who walked out of a private high school because of a biology class experiment in which a kitten was put to sleep with ether and cut open.

"I couldn't watch, it makes me sick," the sophomore at Central Christian High School said. "The cat kept screaming while the teacher made the incision."

That was Friday. The girl remained out of school yesterday.

Anita called Guy Miller of the Human Welfare Assn. County Atty. John Alden said he also planned to look into it and would decide what action he would take.

Central Christian is an interdenominational private junior high school with an enrollment of 100.

The teacher, 35-year-old Irvin Jackson, a University of Richmond graduate, said the object was "to acquaint students with medical procedure and the tools of biology work."

He said the experiment provided for killing the animal during the course of the project, and it was never in pain.

"We gave the animal ether before and during the experiment," he said. "The brain was deactivated, and the outcries were from muscular contractions."

A. W. Miller, assistant superintendent of the Hutchinson public schools, said dietary experiments are performed on lower forms of life in biology classes at the public schools, but that vivisection is not to his knowledge practiced.

"We've got to develop scientists," Jackson said. "In Russia they do these things in the grammar schools."

Ex-Lawyer Is Taking New York by Storm

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — An out-of-town boy did it again.

David Merrick is Broadway's "new new Ziegfeld"—not to be confused with Broadway's "old new Ziegfelds" (Mike Todd and Billy Rose)—but a few days ago he was about to commit suicide by jumping off his money.

WILSON

"I might even go back into law practice," he said, tearing his mustache savagely.

He was feeling funereal despite his success wtih "Suzie Wong." He had briefly topped Ziegfeld's record by having five shows on B'way (counting one that hadn't opened but was playing previews). He was employing 250 actors, 200 stagehands and 150 musicians, paying them $150,000 a week. But life was a cup of ashes, because two of the new shows were financial flops and the third looked unpromising, too.

The B.W. and I went to a first-night party for the last one—"La Plume de Ma Tante." It was sort of sad.

MERRICK AND STAR

"Poor Dave didn't even show," somebody said. "Guess this one'll get murdered by the critics . . ."

Suddenly somebody was waving newspapers and saying "It's a smash!" and the party guests who hadn't liked the show half an hour ago were now crazy about it. By next day, Dave Merrick, 47, a former legal eagle from St. Louis and Austin, Texas, was trying to save "Epitaph for George Dillon," which he'd regarded as a flop, and was planning two new shows, "Gypsy" and "Destry Rides Again."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Marilyn Monroe's tardiness and days off on "Some Like It Hot" pleased the extras—gave them a lot of extra work. Xavier Cugat, returning from Europe, will go before TV quiz investigators . . . Kathy Grant Crosby, publicizing "The Seven Voyages of Sinbad," threatens to walk out if interviewers ask personal questions . . . Nelson Rockefeller bought two of Walter Slezak's Weimaraner pooches . . . Wrong Way on 'Pike Brings Stiff Sentence

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP) — Drinking and driving in the wrong direction on the Ohio Turnpike proved costly for a Michigan motorist.

Bruno A. Giacobbi, 36, of Melvindale, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. His sentence: A 30-day jail term, a $300 fine and suspension of driving privileges in Ohio for three years.

Judge David R. Goldthorpe sentenced Giacobbi in Oberlin Municipal Court last night. He will serve the jail term in the Toledo workhouse.

Giacobbi was arrested Monday while driving the wrong way on the toll road near the Vermilion service plaza.

Suit Against Dennis Day, NBC Has Been Settled

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A $400,000 invasion of privacy suit against Singer Dennis Day and the National Broadcasting Co. has been settled out of court.

Composer Hugo Friedhofer charged that Day played the role of Friedhofer in a 1954 TV skit that depicted the Hollywood composer in a derisive and derogatory manner.

The settlement — terms of which were not disclosed — was disclosed Tuesday when the 4-year case came up for trial in superior court.

News Kept From Invalid

Tyrone Power's Mother Not Told of Son's Death

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The body of Tyrone Power will be interred near the crypt of Rudolph Valentino, but Power's mother, 70 and ill, won't be told of her son's death.

"The news would kill her," a maid said Tuesday.

The disclosure recalls the benevolent family conspiracy that kept the mother of crooner Russ Colombo ignorant of her son's death. She died in 1944 unaware the crooner accidentally had shot himself 10 years before while examining an old Civil War pistol.

Power's mother, who lives quietly in a Hollywood home with a nurse and a maid, suffered a stroke several years ago. "We don't have a radio in the house and we only let her watch certain programs on television," the maid said.

★ ★ ★

Power, who died Saturday of a heart attack on a movie location in Spain, was a devoted son. He visited his mother frequently while in Hollywood and sent her a constant flow of cards when away.

The body of the 44-year-old actor was scheduled to arrive by plane tonight accompanied by his widow, the former Debbie Ann Minardos. She expects a baby in February.

★ ★ ★

A funeral service was tentatively scheduled for Thursday noon.

However, a Catholic source here said that it is doubtful Power can be buried in the Catholic faith. Although born and baptized a Catholic, a source said, Power automatically excommunicated himself when he married the former Mrs. Minardos, a divorcee and the actor's third wife.

The church considers Power's marriage to his second wife, actress Linda Christian, still a valid marriage. His first marriage to actress Annabella was not valid in the eyes of the church.

Red China Pledges People Better Life

TOKYO (AP)—Red China today promised a better life for the aged, widowed, childless and feeble.

Peiping radio said 53,447 rest homes for the aged "to provide a happy life" have been established in 12 provinces to accommodate 644,323 old people.

Peiping radio said since 1956 five guarantees were provided the aged, widowed, childless or feeble in the rural areas. They are food, clothing, fuel, the care of any children and burial costs.

Australian Lady Gives France Napoleon House

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) —Dame Mable Brookes, Australian socialite, is presenting to the French government the house and plot of land where Napoleon spent his exile on Saint Helena.

Dame Mabel's grandfather, William Balcombe, was resident agent of the East India Company on Saint Helena when Napoleon was sent to the island in the South Atlantic in 1815. Balcombe lived in a two-story house, "The Briars," next to "The Pavilion," where Napoleon lived.

Dame Mabel said today she learned of plans to demolish the two historic houses and decided to purchase the property as a gift for France.

Scientists Say Start, Finish of Trip Worst Part

Travel to the Moon in Shirtsleeves?

By JOHN BARBOUR

NEW YORK (AP)—Space pilots may whip off to Mars or the moon in their shirtsleeves, scientists said today.

The big luxuries of the trip may be only a shave and a change of underclothes from time to time.

This was the rugged future of man in space suggested by a panel of space doctors and engineers at the 13th annual meeting of the American Rocket Society.

★ ★ ★

Whatever the space pilot is allowed to wear, his worst moments may come at the beginning and end of his trip.

It is then he must withstand the enormous stresses of blast off acceleration and the braking of reentry into the earth's atmosphere.

He is scarcely likely to enjoy either ordeal, said Col. John P. Stapp, U.S. Air Force researcher who has tested these stresses on the human body in rocket sled work.

A new space capsule, being built at the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Air Force Base, Texas, was described by Capt. Willard R. Hawkins and Dr. George T. Hauty.

It will serve as a training capsule for future space fliers and as a research chamber, they said. It will incorporate many items learned in earlier space flight experiments.

Food may be one of the biggest morale items of the space flier.

★ ★ ★

In simulated space trips, volunteers said baby food and other unattractive items did their jobs poorly. They were demoralized. Some even became nauseated.

In fact, a high caloric diet with exotic foods, plenty of fruit juices and water, was the biggest morale factor in the first seven-day pretended space flight, the scientists said.

Some of the experimental items served to the space fliers were lobster, Norwegian shrimp, quail eggs and boned turkey.

★ ★ ★

Drinking water should be cool and fresh-tasting — another big morale item to men who lived for a week on stale brackish water.

Time is one of the biggest tests in space—and boredom is another.

The jobs of the space flight pretender, once mastered, become monotonous. Time hangs around the space flier. He develops fears and depressions and he gets more irritable as his flight wears on.

Recorded music, a boon at first, soon becomes irritating as the space flier hears his favorite songs repeated over and over again.

Little things — the instruments on the panel, the recording camera that takes the spaceflier's picture every three minutes—all become extremely annoying.

The space flier is deprived of his usual seven or eight hours of uninterrupted sleep. He may stand four-hour watches with periods of three or four hours, or less, to rest or sleep.

When asked to work a couple of hours longer, some of the volunteers became angry and abusive, the scientists said.

★ ★ ★

The new space flight simulator, designed to accommodate two men for periods up to 30 days, will have more room, more things to do, and will be closer to being a space home away from home.

Weight of Auto Affects Mileage

Oilmen Suggest Unit of 'Ton-Mile Per Gallon' for Comparison

TULSA, Okla (UPI) — One of the first questions the owner of a new car is likely to be asked is: "How many miles does she get to the gallon?"

Because of today's bigger, heavier and more powerful cars, the answer is likely to grow smaller every year. So much so that the oil industry is beginning to ask the public to switch to what it calls a more "accurate" formula than miles-per-gallon: ton-miles per gallon.

★ ★ ★

Gasoline mileage in any car depends on its design, its maintenance and where or how it is operated. Driving fast or under poor road conditions can reduce mileage just as can driving in mountainous or stop-and-go territory.

"Ton-mile per gallon" is the distance that one gallo n of gasoline can move one ton of automobile.

The Ethyl Corporation — which makes the anti-knock compound in "premium" gasolines — wants the public to adopt the new yardstick because it feels it is fairer to all concerned. It points out that today's automobile could not be expected to get the same gasoline mileage as the Model T Ford when the Model T weighed less than 1,700 pounds while its 1958 counterpart tips the scales at 3,400 pounds.

★ ★ ★

The new yardstick makes things look better, from the standpoint of the gasoline. Back in 1930, oilmen say, one gallon of gasoline could move one ton of 1930 auto at an average of 29 miles at 40-mph.

By 1957, one gallon could move one ton of car nearly 44 miles at the same speed. That's a 52 per cent improvement, and that's the way the gasoline folks like to see it measured.

★ ★ ★

So if the motorist who drives a new car is reluctant to answer the question about his gas mileage, he can proclaim, "I get more ton-miles to the gallon than ever before."

The oil companies hope he will.

Coin Collection Stolen in Avon

Rare Money Removed From Store Considered Worth $200

AVON TOWNSHIP — Thieves broke into Pitts Coin Shop, 1731 E. Auburn Rd., last night and stole rare coins valued at more than $200, according to Romeo State Police.

Lowell Pitts, 7566 24-Mile Rd., Utica, owner of the shop, was on his way home at midnight and drove by the store. He saw the night light was out, checked and called State Police at Romeo.

Burglars had gained entry by prying open a back window and forcing their way through iron bars on the inside, police said.

An entire set of coins, dating from 1909 to 1958, including rare pennies, nickels and dimes, plus other valuable coins, were missing, Pitts said.

The owner told police he was unable to determine the exact amount of the loss until he completes an inventory today.

Woman Dies After Stabbing

Royal Oak Township Police Say Man Admits Fatal Knifing

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Luther J. Green, 28, of 20815 Woodside St., is being held today for investigation of murder following the fatal stabbing this morning of Mrs. Ann Mosley, 33, of the same address.

According to Royal Oak Township Police, Green turned himself in at the police station at 8:15 a.m., an hour after the knifing, and admitted stabbing the woman.

Mrs. Mosley died shortly after arrival at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

She had been stabbed several times in the abdomen with an 8-10 inch hunting knife, police said.

The stabbing took place at the home of Mrs. Mosley's sister, Mrs. Mattie Hood, 21376 Reimanville St. It climaxed an all-night quarrel between Green and Mrs. Mosley, the other woman told officers.

Sgt. Henry Burks said Green had been living at the home of the slain woman. She had four children, he said.

Mrs. Griffiths Plans to Reintroduce Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Martha W. Griffiths (D-Mich) said today she will reintroduce her antibombing bill when Congress reconvenes in January.

"I believe (it) now has a good chance of passing," the Detroit congresswoman said in a statement.

★ ★ ★

The bill, introduced early last year, was the subject of brief judiciary subcommittee hearings but never reached the house floor.

An aide to Mrs. Griffiths said bombings of such establishments as gas stations and barber shops during labor organizing drives in Michigan had led originally to introduction of the bill.

★ ★ ★

However, it would apply equally to such acts of terrorism as the bombing of Jewish temples and integrated schools.

The two separate sections of Pakistan have a combined area of more than 350,000 square miles.

Grain Weakness Slightly Hinted

CHICAGO (AP)—There was a slight hint of weakness in grain futures prices in early board of trade transactions today.

The only sign of firmness was in corn and that was linked with continued light receipts. Other grains and soybeans were unchanged to small fractions easier.

Brokers said the trade appeared to be awaiting a report this afternoon by the Department of Agriculture which will show the amount of grain, principally wheat, committed to the government loan as of Oct. 31.

Other major influences were absent and dealings very slow.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ¼ to ½ cent a bushel lower, December $1.96¼; corn unchanged to ½ cent higher, December old type contract $1.15; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, December 65⅜; rye ¾ to 1⅛ lower, December $1.30¼; soybeans ¼ lower to ¼ higher, January $2.17½.

Bendix to Continue Union Negotiations

DETROIT (AP) — Bendix Aviation Corp. and United Auto Workers Union negotiators were to resume contract talks again today in an effort to halt a strike which has closed eight company plants across the country.

Negotiators recessed talks last night after failing to agree on contract terms for the company's 13,500 UAW workers.

★ ★ ★

Bendix employes walked off the job shortly before a midnight Monday strike deadline.

The UAW said it held up its formal strike call for almost 12 hours yesterday hoping for a settlement. But it said last minute efforts to reach agreement failed.

Company and union spokesmen did not venture a guess on how far both sides were from agreement.

Filipino Servant Inherits $133,333 on 1 Condition

MIAMI (UPI)—A wealthy Philadelphia widow who died two months ago has left two-thirds of her $200,000 estate to her Filipino houseboy, it was disclosed yesterday.

Mrs. Adeline Mitchell, who wintered in Coral Gables for the past several years, named Paulino Dominisac, 45, her benefactor—providing he marries a Filipino girl. Otherwise, the money goes to Jefferson Hospital in Philadelphia.

The 70-year-old woman specified in her will that the other third of her estate goes to her sister in Columbus, Ohio. When the sister dies, the remainder of her third goes to Dominisac.

Dominisac will receive the income from his share of the estate in trust, the Mitchell home, an automobile and real estate.

Mrs. Mitchell died Sept. 17 in Philadelphia.

Farmers May Get Top Income in '58

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said today the sharp increase in net farm income this year probably would boost the per capita income of farm people to more than $1,000, the highest in history.

In 1957, the per capita income of farmers was $967. The 20 per cent rise in net farm income this year stemmed from a 10 per cent rise in gross income while production expenses rose only 5 per cent from 1957.

The department expects net farm income this year to amount to 13 billion dollars, compared with $10,800,000,000 last year.

Aircrafts Help Market Trend

NEW YORK (AP)—Gains by aircrafts and steels helped give the stock market an irregularly higher trend in heavy early trading today.

Gains of key stocks ran from fractions to about a point. Losses were in the same range.

★ ★ ★

The market was irregular at the opening. Some big blocks of stock changed hands. The ticker tape ran as much as three minutes behind transactions for a period of 11 minutes. As trading became less hectic gains were held.

The market seemed likely to continue a corrective phase which brought a moderate drop yesterday after a rise to successive new highs, brokers said.

Business background included a jump in paperboard production, considered a barometer of business activity.

★ ★ ★

United Aircraft and Douglas were up around a point. General Tire, whose aerojet subsidiary has jumped in over the counter dealings, rose a point or better. North American Aviation and General Dynamics were fractionally higher.

The leading steels were fractionally higher. National Distillers continued to gain, rising about a point. Lorillard, Rheem and General Electric gained slightly. Eastman Kodak halted a retreat of the past two days and was up around a point.

City to Study Costs on Jobless Pay

The question of unemployment compensation for city employes was in the spotlight again today, with City Manager Walter K. Willman authorized to investigate costs.

City Attorney William A. Ewart reversed himself last night and reported that a provision enacted by the Legislature this year permits cities to establish compensation plans.

Last week Ewart halted talk on the subject by ruling that cities in Michigan couldn't have compensation plans.

Willman reported that the question has been broached by union officials during annual negotiations, which are now under way.

The city manager was asked to get cost figures on two types of plans: the usual arrangement in which the state controls funds contributed by employes and employer, and a layoff benefit plan under development in Detroit.

In the latter plan, the city controls the funds.

Willman said that the city would not have to make a final decision on compensation until the end of January, the deadline for passing the 1959 budget.

Medical Director of GM Named

S. D. Steiner Appointed to Succeed Burnell Starting Dec. 1

DETROIT — Appointment of Dr. S. D. Steiner as medical director of General Motors, effective Dec. 1, was announced today by Louis G. Seaton, vice president in charge of personnel staff. He succeeds Dr. Max R. Burnell, who retired on Nov. 1.

Dr. Steiner, who has been medical director of the Oldsmobile Division of General Motors in Lansing, since 1946, has devoted his medical career to the field of industrial medicine.

Born in Clarington, Ohio, 45 years ago, Dr. Steiner attended both literary college and medical school at the University of West Virginia. He transferred to the Northwestern University Medical School in 1953, receiving his medical degree from there in 1937. He served his internship at University Hospital in Pittsburgh and then became public health officer of Brooke County, West Virginia.

In 1939, he received a Rockefeller Foundation scholarship to Harvard University. He received his master's degree in public health from Harvard in 1940.

After serving for another year as public health officer in Brooke County, he joined the U. S. Public Health Service in its division of industrial hygiene in 1941. In 1942 he went with the industrial hygiene division of the Maryland State Health Department and served there until 1944.

In 1944, he joined the Cadillac Motor Car Division as plant physician and in 1945, went to Oldsmobile in the same capacity. He was made medical director of Oldsmobile a year later.

Beck Explains $798 Awning

'Used It for Comfort of Union Officials' He Entertained at Home

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Ex-Teamsters Union President Dave Beck Sr. told newsmen Tuesday he took $798 of union funds to construct an awning over his patio because he used the area to entertain union personnel.

★ ★ ★

Beck's corridor comment came after government attorneys introduced evidence showing that amount taken from a Teamsters' legal fund at the same time the awning was purchased.

The government continued to present testimony concerning Beck's purchases in an effort to prove that his tax returns for 1950-53 did not represent his true income. Beck, 64, is charged specifically with evasion of $240,000 in income taxes.

Beck's grocer, Percy Peters, told the federal court jury the union president's food bill rose from $1,871 in 1950 to $2,238 in 1953.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Jack Obenour then introduced evidence to show some of the bills had been paid by Fred Verschueren Sr., auditor for the Western Conference of Teamsters.

Verschueren has been charged with conspiring with Beck to avoid payment of Beck's income tax. He is to be tried later.

Other witnesses testified about numerous improvements Beck made to his luxurious Sheridan Beach home on Seattle's Lake Washington.

★ ★ ★

George Strom of the Cyclone Fence Co. said he had installed about $2,000 worth of fencing around the grounds.

The government introduced a note allegedly from Beck to Nathan Shefferman, Chicago labor relations man, asking Shefferman to pay an overdue bill for the fence.

Testimony concerning clothing costs in the Beck family took up a good share of the day's proceedings.

The superintendent of a Seattle women's apparel store told the court Mrs. Beck had charged $496.54 in December 1952.

Government evidence was introduced to show that a check for that amount was withdrawn from Verschueren's account and paid to the store.

$2.25 AT&T Dividend

NEW YORK (AP) — American Telephone & Telegraph Co. today declared a regular quarterly dividend of $2.25, payable Jan. 10 to shareholders of record Dec. 10. This is the company's 51st consecutive dividend at the $9 annual rate.

Predicted Within 8 Years:

Many Manned Satellites

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—Dr. Wehrner von Braun, the Army's missile expert, says that within eight years the United States will have many manned space ships in orbit. He told a gathering of 1,000 members of the General Electric Co. small aircraft engine department Tuesday night that the craft will be performing all kinds of functions including communications and weather forecasting.

Legislator Gets Sweet Revenge One Year Later

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rep. William J. Green (D-Pa) didn't mind going to a lot of trouble last year to get a pair of tickets to the Army-Navy game for a friend.

But he was a little annoyed when the friend didn't show up. And he was more than a little annoyed when the friend never explained.

This year, the friend made the same request. Green sent him the tickets—last year's.

No Negotiations Yet at Pittsburgh Glass

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The president of the United Glass and Ceramics Workers says there are no plans for any immediate reopening of negotiations with the struck Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. Talks were broken off Oct. 30.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Libby-Owens Ford, two of the nation's largest makers of auto glass, were struck by the union last month. L-O-F signed a new contract with the union Oct. 25. But 13,000 PPG workers are still out in plants around the country.

Suits Action to Name

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Francis B. Berglar, III, of Kirkwood, Mo., reported to police here that someone broke into his automobile and stole clothes valued at $384.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN OF A public hearing to be held by the Waterford Township Zoning Board at the Township Hall Wednesday, December 10, 1958 at 7:30 P.M., to consider the following change to the Zoning Map.

To change from residential to commercial:

Part of the East ½ of the Northwest ¼ of Section 9, Town 3 North, Range 9 East, more particularly described as commencing at a point on the North line of said Section 9, located N. 89°53'30" W. 272 feet from the North quarter post of said Section, thence due S. 328.24 feet to a point; thence due W. 120 feet to a point; thence due N. 328.47 feet to a point on the N. line of said section 9 located N. 89°53'30" W. 120 feet from the point of beginning, thence S. 89°53'30" E. 120 feet to the point of beginning, subject to the existing public highway. (The above described property is part of the property included in an unrecorded plat of part of the E. ½ of the N.W. ¼ of said Section 9 and would be known as Lots 1, 2, 3, 12, 13, and 14 of said unrecorded plat of Van Zandt Manor.)

Also Lots 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 122, and 123 of Burlingham Lake Park Subdivision of part of the East ½ of the N.W. ¼ of Section 9, Town 3 North, Range 9 East, Waterford Township, Oakland County, Michigan, according to the plat thereof recorded in Liber 47 of Plats, page 13, Oakland County records.

The above described property is located on Williams Lake Road across from the Community Activities Building.

Persons interested are requested to be present.

A copy of the zoning map together with a list of the proposed changes is on file in the office of the Township Supervisor and may be examined by anyone.

'Old Man' to Star on Playhouse 90

Famed River Is Villain, Hero, Setting in Story of Great Flood

HOLLYWOOD — Television City is inundated!

The star in the title role of "Old Man," William Faulkner's compelling story on "Playhouse 90," tomorrow night (9:30-11 p.m.) is the Mississippi River itself. And all of the CBS television network's Hollywood studios are awash!

The famed river is the hero, the villain and the setting for "Old Man," and more than three-quarters of the entire drama takes place either on or in its waters during the great flood of 1927, which destroyed whole towns, took thousands of lives, and created havoc up and down its wide banks for hundreds of miles.

In the story, a convict, played by Sterling Hayden, is released from his chain gang and sent by rowboat to rescue a woman, Geraldine Page, marooned miles away. He struggles against the flood, reaches the woman, learns that she expects to give birth to a child within hours, and sets out to bring her to safety.

The flood sweeps them down river, away from their goal, and for a short time the convict tastes freedom among the bayou people.

★ ★ ★

Producer Fred Coe, director John Frankenheimer and scenic designer Walter Scott Herndon are working with "Playhouse 90's" largest special effects crew to date to recreate the mammoth flood.

Two huge tanks, studio size, have been built: one, on a sound stage, holding 168,000 gallons of water; another one, in the basement of Television City, holding 6,700 gallons of water. The first will be used for full-scene shots, the latter for closeups.

The major flood studio will contain: a river boat, a houseboat, two motor boats, one patrol boat, one motor launch, one dugout canoe, three skiffs, a bayou cabin on stilts, the tops of flooded houses, and floating telephone poles to which a number of animals will be clinging.

★ ★ ★

Among the assignments of the special effects crew are a giant tidal wave — big enough to overturn Hayden's boat — endless rain, fog, and numerous bonfires on the portions of the levee which will be seen above the flood. For one sequence a periscope has been attached to a camera in order to shoot underwater action.

★ ★ ★

One of the toughest problems of producer Coe is how to keep the camera crews dry and how to get them to and from their cameras over the water. All of the technicians will work in hip boots, and for director Frankenheimer, stars Sterling Hayden, Geraldine Page and the huge supporting cast, 250 blankets and 100 dozen towels have been ordered.

"Old Man" promises to combine the rarest visual staging with one of the most distinguished and exciting stories ever presented on "Playhouse 90."

Hold Off TV Strike for Further Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Possible strike action against the nation's four major television-radio networks was deferred again today by a performers' union.

★ ★ ★

The union, the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, said its strike deadline would be extended at least through further talks scheduled for tonight.

★ ★ ★

The union made the announcement after a session which ended at 6:30 a.m. It began at 3:45 a.m.

The negotiations were recessed until 5 o'clock tonight.

Wins Starring Role

IN WONDERFUL TOWN — Pretty songstress-comedienne Jacquelyn McKeever was chosen by Rosalind Russell for the co-starring role in "Wonderful Town," the two-hour, live, musical comedy special on the CBS television network, Sunday, Nov. 30. In this television production of the Broadway hit Miss McKeever will play Rosalind Russell's sister Eileen. The show, based on "My Sister Eileen," follows the misadventures of two Ohio girls who come to New York to find fame, fortune and romance.

AMC Abandons Bonus Vacation

But Firm Complains Attorney General and MESC Out of Order

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — American Motors Corp. says it has abandoned — under protest — its controversial "bonus-vacation" plan of unemployment compensation for laid off Kelvinator Division employes.

★ ★ ★

Max Horton, executive director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, told a state House committee hearing here yesterday, that AMC has dropped the plan. Horton said he was notified Nov. 11 that the auto company had abandoned the plan.

The plan involved two company paid bonuses plus drawing of unemployment compensation by laid off Kelvinator employes in lieu of vacation pay.

Edward L. Cushman, AMC vice president, said in a letter to Horton that the "company and its attorneys feel most strongly that the opinion of the attorney general and determination of the MESC are improper and not supported by terms of the Michigan Employment Security Act of court cases decided, thereunder."

★ ★ ★

Cushman said AMC has entered a new agreement with the United Auto Workers Local 206 covering vacation pay.

Police Radar Set Used as Post Office Box

OMAHA (AP) — State Safety Patrolman W. R. Piercy wants it known he and his partner are not running a branch post office.

★ ★ ★

An out-of-state car stopped at a radar check point manned by the troopers and a passenger tried to post mail in the three-legged radar box.

"He tried to stuff it into the back flap of the set," said Piercy.

Air Force Says Atlas Launching Test Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The intercontinental Atlas that blazed through space late Tuesday performed perfectly in a 3,100-mile flight and a new full-range, 6,300-mile shot will be attempted in December, it is now learned.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force declined to disclose the results of the 14th Atlas launching, but informed sources said the test was "very successful."

Only once has the Air Force tried to fire the Atlas, designed to carry a hydrogen warhead, its full intercontinental range. That missile, fired Sept. 18, blew up only 80 seconds after blastoff.

★ ★ ★

A successful, ocean-spanning Atlas flight would be a long-sought milestone in the nation's missile program. Russia is reported to have fired an ICBM on an all-the-way flight in August 1957. The Soviets also are believed to have used their ICBM to launch their heavy Sputniks.

★ ★ ★

This last test was the fourth successful flight of a fully powered Atlas in six launchings. The first eight Atlases were equipped with only two of the three powerful engines designed to give it an ocean-hopping boost.

Peace in Space Prospects Good

Russia's Sudden Shift on Exploration Study May Bring Agreement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The prospects looked good today for unanimous U.N. agreement to get started on an international study of ways to explore outer space for peaceful purposes.

★ ★ ★

Russia's sudden shift toward the Western position brought demands from several quarters that Western and Soviet delegates meet to iron out their remaining differences and formulate a unified resolution for the U.N. Assembly.

★ ★ ★

Western delegates were heartened by the new Soviet proposal, which dropped earlier demands for abandonment of U.S. bases overseas and a ban on military space missiles. This appeared to eliminate the chief hurdle to agreement.

In presenting his new plan, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin made plain the Soviet Union would continue to press for abolition of American overseas bases and a ban on sending military missiles into outer space. But he indicated this would be done through the new 81-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission.

★ ★ ★

Russia's new proposal called for creation of an 11-nation study group to work out the "program and rules" for a permanent U.N. committee for cooperation in the study of outer space for peaceful purposes.

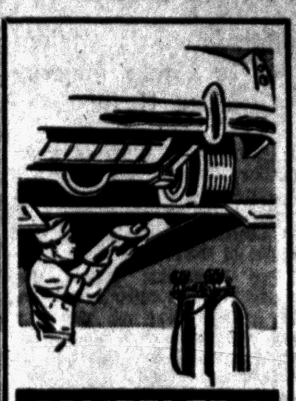

The United States and 19 associated nations have also proposed creation of a temporary committee to study the possibilities of international cooperation in outer space and to recommend the form for a future space agency. The American plan does not specifically authorize a permanent commission.

Red Crooner's Songs Offend Top Brass

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's top crooner, Mark Bernes, was officially rebuked today for "impudent actions" such as showing bad taste by singing sentimental love songs.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Ministry of Culture lashed out at the popular movie and television star and demanded sweeping measures to cope with what it called immoral behavior of some film actors.

GOP Legislator Favors Dems

Salade Says 'Wiser' to Let State Majority Organize House

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — A Republican legislator last night took a stand favoring the Democrats' view in the unprecedented 55-55 membership split in the State House of Representatives.

The Democrats argued they should be given authority to name the house speaker and select various committees on a half-and-half party basis. Republicans said the organization should be completely equal with alternate speakers, one from each party.

Rep. George W. Salade (R-Ann Arbor), a "young Turk" to his party, last night told the Kiwanis Club here that because Democrats received "some 500,000 more votes in their behalf than did my Republican colleagues" in the Nov. 4 election, "it would appear far wiser. . . both politically and morally, to permit the Democratic Party to organize the House."

If Democrats assume full control of committees, they would "bring out before us all of their (party) program with its obvious frills and the necessary tax increases to pay for it," he said.

Not to let the Democrats organize the House, Sallade said, "would only serve to give further impetus to a drive to reapportion both Houses of the legislature completely."

He said dual authority in the House "could only lead to continual bickering and an eventual breakdown of the legislative process."

Piggy-Back Method Used in New Bridge

SAULT STE. MARIE (UP) — The construction engineers call it the "piggy-back" method.

It's the way they are putting a new lift span railroad bridge across the St. Marys River in Upper Michigan.

The 369-foot bridge will be built over the old swing span, which dates back to 1887. Rail traffic is expected to be maintained almost daily.

The lift span will be put up about 65 feet above the water so the swing span can continue to operate beneath it. Ships also are expected to continue moving without interruption.

The bridge is being built for Sault Ste. Marie Bridge Co., a subsidiary of Canadian Pacific Railroad and St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railroad.

Costing about $3,350,000, the bridge is scheduled for completion in August 1960.

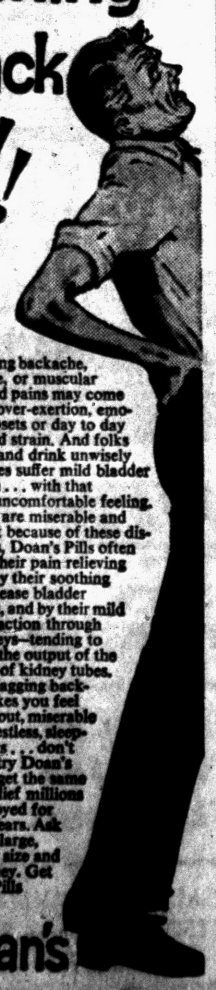

Work also is under way on supporting towers. U. S. Steel Corp.'s American Bridge Division said construction would continue through the winter.

Ranchwoman, 73, Calls on Doctor for 1st Time

HELENA (UP) — A 73-year-old Big Powder River, Montana ranchwoman, Mrs. Frieda Ullrich recently made her first trip to a physician's office.

And she has had seven children. After her checkup, she apologized: "I hope people won't think Powder River county women are sickly."
