Steel Officials Defy Senate

Hopeful of Matching '61 Traffic Record

Traffic officials in Oakland County are keeping their fingers crossed in the hope of matching last year's long Labor Day weekend when no fatalities were recorded here.

They also are pressing into traffic service every available patrol car to police the movement of an estimated half-million vehicles through the county between now and Tuesday morning.

Sheriff's department and state police highway patrols will be operating at maximum strength during the 78-hour holiday.

"Drive carefully and be alive for Thanksgiving," Sheriff Frank Irons advised the drivers.

"Watch out for other drivers who might not be as careful as you," Sgt. Mike Ahlgrim, head of the Pontiac state police post, added.

MONDAY NIGHT BAD

"The worst period over the long weekend will be Monday night," Sgt. Ahlgrim anticipated. He said the condition would result when persons returning from a last summer fling meet returning vacationers on the highways.

Heavy activity on the county's numerous lakes also is expected over the weekend due to hot and humid weather.

The sheriff's lake patrol will be doing its utmost to assure safety among boaters expected to flock here from nearby areas, adding to the already heavy water traffic.

Banks, city and county offices, most stores and many business offices will remain closed Monday in the observance of Labor Day.

Swimmers also were cautioned by Sheriff Irons to observe the safety rules. He warned parents in particular not to let their youngsters out of sight near the water.

IN A FEW SECONDS

"Few parents seem to realize until too late how quickly a child can drown," he explained. "Mother looks away for a few seconds and the child drops from sight."

★ ★ ★

The estimate of a half-million vehicles in the area over the Labor Day weekend was made by the Michigan Auto Club. The figure includes both traffic passing through the county and local traffic to and from lakes here.

While no traffic fatalities were recorded locally over the Labor Day weekend last year the death toll elsewhere in the state mounted to 24.

Nationwide between 410 and 490 persons will die in traffic accidents between now and Tuesday, according to the National Safety Council.

"If holiday drivers obey safety rules, the toll will tend toward the 410 figure, said Howard Pyle, council president. "But it will move closer to 490 if drivers ignore these rules."

Michigan motorists could be excluded altogether from the grisly toll if drivers are careful, according to State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

Union Members Asked to Use Care on Holiday

Cecil C. Mullinix, president of Pontiac Motor Division United Auto Workers Local 653, today appealed to union members to make this Labor Day "the safest holiday ever."

"Labor's own holiday should not be one marked by tragedy," he noted. "Safe driving practices and courtesy on the road will do much to make this a great holiday for everyone.

Mullinix also appealed for common sense safety precautions on the water, while boating, swimming or fishing.

★ ★ ★

"Those who plan to spend the weekend at home," he added, "should not leave their safe practices at work Friday. Safety is everybody's job — on the highway, in the home and at play, as well as at work."

U.S. Sues GM on Car Pricing

Justice Dept. Action Parallels Indictment of Last October

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Justice Department, in a civil suit, is renewing its attempt to prevent General Motors from allegedly trying to control prices at which its dealers sell cars.

The suit, filed Thursday, in the U. S. District Court in Los Angeles parallels a criminal indictment returned last Oct. 12.

★ ★ ★

In Detroit, a General Motors spokesman said the company had not received official notification of the civil suit. He referred questioners to a statement issued by Chairman Frederick GM Donner after the October criminal indictment.

Donner said then that the government's charges were without foundation.

Donner's statement said in part: "General Motors has made no agreements with its dealers or anyone else, nor have we inflicted or threatened to inflict any sanctions on dealers supplying cars to discount house outlets.

DEFENDANTS

Named as defendant in the new suit along with General Motors were these Chevrolet dealers associations—Lossor Chevrolet Dealers Association of Los Angeles and Orange Counties; Dealers Service, Inc., of Los Angeles County; and Foothill Chevrolet Dealers

LEAVE FOR HOME — Jacqueline Kennedy and her daughter Caroline, 4, wave a windy farewell to their Italian vacation as they board a plane at Rome Airport today for a flight home. They will join the President in Newport, R.I., for the Labor Day weekend.

Jackie Bids Farewell to Her Italian Vacation

RAVELLO, Italy (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy and her daughter Caroline said goodby to the Amalfi coast and their 11th century holiday villa today and started home to spend the Labor Day weekend with the President.

For the last time, Mrs. Kennedy and her 4-year-old daughter climbed into a brightly colored, canvas-canopied beach buggy for the steep three-mile drive down from clifftop Ravello to the Gulf of Salerno.

They were driven to the dirt landing strip at Ponte Gagnano, 16 miles to the north, and a small chartered plane flew them to Rome where they boarded a Pan American World Airways jetliner for New York.

The White House announced that President Kennedy would time his departure from Washington this afternoon to reach Quonset Point about the time his wife and daughter arrived.

The family will spend the holiday weekend at Hammersmith Farm, the Newport home of Mrs. Kennedy's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss.

The American First Lady and daughter had spent 23 days on the beautiful Amalfi coast, swimming, water skiing, yachting and mingling with the local folk. They enjoyed it so much, Mrs. Kennedy extended the visit a week.

Because it was a private visit, there was only one ceremony, when Mrs. Kennedy was made an honorary citizen of Ravello on Tuesday night.

Mayor Lorenzo Manzi of Ravello said Mrs. Kennedy told him she didn't think she could ever show her full gratitude to the people of Ravello for their hospitality and courtesy.

Sen. Kefauver Asks Citations for Contempt

Executives of 4 Firms Insist Information Is Confidential

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Antitrust subcommittee recommended today that four big steel companies and nine of their top executives be cited for contempt of Congress.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top executives of four big steel companies defied subpoenas today from the Senate Antitrust subcommittee, failing to appear and produce data on production costs.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., the subcommittee chairman, denounced their refusal to appear as willful and premeditated contempt of Congress.

He recommended that his subcommittee cite the steel executives for contempt. The subcommittee was expected to go into closed session to decide whether to do so.

The four companies — Bethlehem, Republic, National and Armco — have challenged the subcommittee's jurisdiction and contended the subpoenaed cost data is confidential information.

At a public session of the subcommittee, Kefauver called out the names of nine officials from the four companies who had been subpoenaed to appear. When none responded, he directed that the record so show.

"I am amazed that such representatives of these large steel companies have completely ignored subpoenas of a duly constituted committee of the Senate," Kefauver said.

Contempt of Congress is punishable by a $1,000 fine or a year's imprisonment, or both.

Contempt citations would have to be approved not only by Kefauver's subcommittee, but by the full Senate Judiciary Committee, its parent body, and by the Senate itself.

Then it would be up to the Justice Department to decide whether to submit the citation to a grand jury.

The steel executives who were subpoenaed but failed to appear are:

Kefauver, referring to what he called the "contumacious conduct" of these officials and their companies, said he found it all the more amazing because eight other major steel producers had agreed to supply the subcommittee with the requested cost figures.

He said U.S. Steel Corp., the

Swainson Makes Stop at MESC Office Here

Some 500 persons standing in line at the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) branch office at 242 Oakland Ave., found themselves shaking hands with Gov. John B. Swainson at 10 a.m. today.

Members of the governor's party in his day-long campaign swing through Pontiac and Oakland County were almost as surprised as the people in line at the brief MESC visit.

It was an unscheduled stop.

"GOOD MORNING" — Gov. John B. Swainson and Mrs. Isabelle Flewelling, of 5798 Holland Road, Orion Township, exchange early morning greetings in front of the GMC Truck and Coach plant on South Boulevard today. The Democratic candidate seeking re-election to a second term greeted workers, most of whom gave him their best wishes for success.

Following his warm reception there by workers waiting to resume their jobs after model changeover at General Motors Corp. plants in Pontiac, the governor's day of campaigning in the city moved to a senior citizens rally at UAW Local 594 on East Boulevard.

Before some 200 retirees he charged Republicans with never having introduced to the state legislature even one measure to benefit senior citizens.

The Democratic candidate for a second term in the state capital then climbed aboard a colorful campaign trailer for a trip to the Michigan State Fair where he presented awards for outstanding contributions to education to 33 Michigan teachers.

At a breakfast at Lakeside Housing Project earlier this morning, the governor ridiculed what he called the Republican's "cosmetic approach to government."

"They put on a new face at election time," the governor said in a blast at opponents to his bid for a second term in the capitol.

"They enjoy looking like Democrats and saying they're for the things the Democrats want," he said. "But their 'liberal hour' ends at 8 p.m. on voting day."

"There's a big difference between what they say and what they do," said the governor, taking aim at a frequent target in his campaign, Republicans in the State Legislature.

His visit to the unemployment office came after a breakfast which was attended by about 30 Swainson supporters, Democratic candidates and city officials.

Among the dignitaries were State Rep. Arthur J. Law, D-Pontiac; Winford E. Bottom, mayor pro-tem; Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum; Tinsley Spraggins, Democratic national committee member; and D. Roy V. Cooley, a Pontiac supervisor and former city commissioner.

The breakfast followed a bright-and-early handshaking stint at Gate 2 of the GMC Truck & Coach Plant from 6 to 7 a.m.

Most of the workers greeted the governor enthusiastically, saying they hoped he was re-elected.

'BIGGEST DEM'

Cecil Beasley, 44, of 5231 Pontiac Lake Road, Waterford Township repeated the claim he made to Republican candidate for governor George W. Romney at the same gate — that he was "the biggest Democrat in Waterford Township."

"I think Gov. Swainson has done a really good job under the circumstances with the Republican legislature," Beasley said.

Resume Bargaining in Railway Strike

CHICAGO (UPI)—Full-scale negotiations resumed today for the first time since a strike closed down the Chicago and North Western Railway and put a pinch on the economy of the Middle West.

The day-old walkout of 1,000 telegraphers which brought the nation's third largest railroad to a halt was already having an impact upon life in the Midwest farm belt.

Wisconsin paper plants said they might have to close, wheat farmers feared there would be no box cars to carry their crops to market, and hundreds of towns were without railroad service.

Chicago commuters who rely on the North Western — 36,000 entering and leaving the city daily — struggled for the second consecutive day to make the trip to and from their jobs.

Wirtz to Change Little

Favors Goldberg Ideas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — W. Willard Wirtz, newly named secretary of labor, is expected to run the Labor Department much along the lines of his predecessor, Arthur J. Goldberg.

Sources close to Wirtz predicted today that the 50-year-old lawyer would follow Goldberg's policy of taking a personal and forceful role in mediating major labor disputes.

They indicated, however, that Wirtz was not likely to become involved in as many "extra-curricular" activities as Goldberg.

Wirtz Profile, Page 24

President Kennedy on such diverse nonlabor subjects as federal aid to the arts and juvenile delinquency.

Wirtz comes to his new role with a wealth of experience in labor relations, gained both in and out of government.

As undersecretary of labor, he was the department's No. 2 man and Goldberg's closest confidant. He accompanied his chief into most of the sticky negotiating sessions that Goldberg entered during his year-and-a-half term.

He is intimately familiar with still unsettled labor disputes such as those in the rail and airline industries.

Goldberg disclosed that he personally recommended Wirtz for the job after being told he was to replace Justice Felix Frankfurter on the Supreme Court.

The White House, in announcing the Wirtz nomination yesterday, said it would be sent to the Senate for confirmation after Goldberg's appointment has been approved. The Goldberg nomination may be presented today.

Appearing at a news conference with Wirtz yesterday afternoon, Goldberg said he was even more delighted about the promotion of Wirtz than he was about his own appointment. Kennedy, he said, "could not have made a better choice."

Wirtz, known for his gentle humor, replied that "half of the people would say who in the world could take Arthur Goldberg's place. The other half would say who in the world would want to try."

In a more serious vein, he said he had no plans to change any top officials in the department. He also said there were no essential differences between him and Goldberg on policy matters.

Uphold Deportation Order Sending Soblen to U.S.

From Our News Wires

LONDON — The British Court of Appeal today upheld a government order for deportation of Robert A. Soblen to the United States and the Soviet spy's lawyers thereupon dropped their plans to carry the fight on to the House of Lords.

Solomon Kauffman of Soblen's legal team said that, instead of appealing to the lords, Soblen will make a plea to Home Secretary Henry Brooke, who issued the deportation order Aug. 2.

At the conclusion of today's judgment, F. Elwyn Jones, another of Soblen's attorneys, told the Court of Appeal he was authorized by the attorney general, Sir John Hobson, to say that, before the deportation is put into effect, an opportunity will be given to Soblen to make representations to the home secretary.

LAST RESORT

The Court of Appeal refused to free Soblen and dismissed his appeal for a writ of habeas corpus.

As Soblen was led away from the courtroom, Kaufman told newsmen:

"There will be no more court fights. This is the last court appeal."

He said the 61-year-old Lithuanian-born psychiatrist would not appeal to the House of Lords "because no useful means would be served."

As a last resort, however, Soblen asked permission from the court through his counsel for Sir Alain not to depart him until he had made "presentations" on Monday to British Home Secretary Henry Brooke.

Kaufman said the "representations" consisted of a 20-page memorandum which set out Soblen's claim of his innocence and his insistence that he was a victim of an alleged miscarriage of justice in American courts.

Doctors said the rashes were caused by mite infestation. A mite is a spider-like insect that sometimes infests animals or plants.

But, before the case was cleared up, about 200 persons had been placed under quarantine. They included passengers aboard the Pan American World Airways plane and Idlewild employes with whom they came in contact.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Communist guerrillas have shot down two more U.S. Army helicopters, wounding four Americans serving as advisers to Vietnamese forces in a big offensive.

A U.S. military spokesman said the Americans were evacuated after their copters were downed yesterday. They were not seriously wounded. Their names were not made public.

Judge Denies Ponti-Loren Rites Voided

MILAN, Italy (AP) — The Italian attorney for film star Sophia Loren and producer Carlo Ponti said today a Ciudad Juarez court has voided their Mexican proxy marriage. But the Mexican judge involved in the case denied it.

The judge, Carlos Uranga Munoz, told a reporter in Ciudad Juarez the marriage is legal under Mexican law. He said an official ruling may be expected next week.

Voiding of the marriage might save the couple from a bigamy trial in Italy. But Uranga Munoz had this comment:

"It in Rome it is considered that the marriage is illegal because Ponti, under Italian law, is still married to his first wife, from whom he was divorced in Mexico, it is something in which the Mexican law has no interest."

Demonstrators Call for Peace

Algiers Stores Close Steel Shutters; Afraid of Violence

ALGIERS (AP) — Several hundred Moslem demonstrators calling for peace paraded through portions of Algiers today as tension built up over the possibility of armed clashes.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Algiers radio, under control of the local Wilaya No. 4 of the guerrilla army, called on the population to go into the streets to demonstrate against forces favorable to Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella and to bar the roads to these forces. Ben Bella's forces have been reported in the last 48 hours to be moving toward Algiers from the west. But so far there have been no indications they are near the city.

★ ★ ★

The guerrilla commanders of Wilaya No. 4 in Algiers sent out a call to the population to form human barricades against the regular army troops supporting Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's quest for power.

Newsmen who drove as far as Affreville, 80 miles southwest of Algiers, saw half a dozen armed guerrilla roadblocks and groups of civilians answering the mobilization call.

There was no word of the advancing army columns. Thursday night they were reported about 150 miles from Algiers.

In Changarnier, a well-armed, well-organized guerrilla company ordered the population to mass on the highway and carry slogans denouncing the threat of civil war.

Wants 3 N-Powers to Continue Talks

GENEVA (AP) — The United States proposed today that the three nuclear powers continue meeting during the recess of the disarmament talks to try to work out an agreement banning nuclear tests by the end of this year.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference his government believes it should be possible for the American, British, Soviet nuclear subcommittee to complete this task by Nov. 1 so a treaty could become effective by Jan. 1, 1963.

TALKS TO RECESS

The disarmament talks are to recess from Sept. 8 until Nov. 12 while the negotiators report back to the U.N. General Assembly.

Western conference sources said Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasilyn V. Kuznetsov told the conference his government will study the proposal for continued subcommittee meetings.

These sources said the American idea is for the meetings to continue to take place in Geneva rather than in New York.

Joseph B. Godber, British minister of state, had told the conference earlier today that Britain and the United States will not accept the uncontrolled moratorium on underground nuclear explosions proposed by the Soviet Union.

Godber praised President Kennedy for his qualified acceptance of the Soviet suggestion this week that all nuclear tests be suspended by the end of the year.

But Dean, speaking to newsmen just before the session, emphasized that the Western powers will agree to cut off all testing only on condition that the Soviet agree to the U.S.-British proposal for on-site inspections to guard against underground tests.

JFK Signs U.S.-Public Satellite Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy signed the communications satellite bill today, setting up the legal framework for a privately owned corporation to handle this country's part in a global network for messages and pictures.

He said the space system will provide benefits for all people and "contribute to world peace and understanding."

A large group of top officials and congressmen surrounded the President as he used 15 pens to sign the bill.

Kennedy said the new law, cause of a long controversy in Congress, provides "many safeguards to protect the public interest."

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson arrived today in bright, 90-degree weather for a four-day goodwill visit to Greece, a North Atlantic Treaty Organization ally in which some concern has been voiced about the trend of U.S.-Greek relations.

REVIEWS HONOR GUARD

Johnson quickly reviewed a military honor guard. Then he rode with Caramanlis in an open car at the head of a motorcade into the city.

Athenian newspapers devoted editorials to Johnson. They hailed Greek-American friendship, but criticized U.S. policy on foreign aid and the Balkans.

It was clear Johnson would have to do some fence-mending during his four-day visit.

This country remains an ardent ally of the United States, which has poured in more than $3 billion in aid since 1947.

But there is growing skepticism about a $30-million cut ordered in U.S. aid to Greece last month.

GOP Leaders Write Kennedy

Say U. S. Makes Error by Not Exploiting Wall in Propaganda

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican congressional leaders told President Kennedy today the United States has wasted a big propaganda opportunity by failing to exploit the Communist-built Berlin Wall.

The GOP leaders said in a letter to the President that this country had done "little or nothing" to tell the world about how the Communists' "Wall of shame" had fenced in their own people from the free world.

They suggested that the United States initiate "worldwide demonstrations" against the Wall and the "barbarous Communist murder" of East Berliners who tried to escape to freedom.

The White House confirmed that the letter had been received. There was no immediate comment from the President, but a spokesman indicated a prompt reply was being drafted to the GOP leaders.

★ ★ ★

The letter, signed by the nine members of the Joint House-Senate Republican leadership, suggested that all free governments be invited to join in demonstrations against the Wall.

★ ★ ★

They said every means of communication and propaganda should be used to spread the "great truth" about the Wall.

TELL THE TRUTH

"Certainly no more powerful message could be sent behind the Iron Curtain, certainly no stronger case for the cause of freedom could be impressed on the peoples of the neutral nations than the truth about the barbaric Communist performance at Berlin's 'Wall of shame,'" the letter said.

★ ★ ★

The Republican leaders said they felt "confident the course we suggest would strengthen us in any negotiations, current or future."

Collins Protests 'Red' Remark

Comment by Romney About Dem Party Draws Fire

LANSING (AP) — Democratic State Chairman John (Joe) Collins formally protested to the National Fair Campaign Practices Committee today charges by George Romney that the Democratic Party is infiltrated by Communists.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, Collins asked his Republican counterpart, George Van Peursem, to join in a pledge to observe the codes of the National and State Fair Campaign Practices Committees.

Collins protested remarks made by Romney, GOP Candidate for Governor, at a news conference in Detroit last week.

Romney said communism historically has been a problem in the Democratic party. When asked whether he thought communism was a current problem, Romney replied:

"Yes I do . . . I would think it would be more difficult to measure it now in the Democratic party because as a result of what happened. After all, communism has been driven underground and I'm sure that many were cleaned out at the time — but it's difficult to know what the current situation is.

"But I think that one of the difficulties with these extremist groups is that part of their basic approach is to infiltrate and to keep underground."

Romney got into the subject in discussing the influence of extremist groups in both political parties, including the ultra-conservative John Birch Society.

In filing his protest, Collins said that he hoped Romney's comments did not indicate the kind of campaign he intends to wage in opposing Gov. Swainson.

Wyoming Snow Closes Highway; Temperature 16

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Snow fell in the Wyoming mountains, blocking a state highway and sending temperatures plummeting to 16 degrees early today.

Snow closed state Highway 130 over the snowy range mountains west of Laramie for the night, but the road was opened today. The low of 16 was reported at Big Piney. It was 32 in Laramie.

Up to six inches of snow fell in the Big Horn Mountains in north-central Wyoming, but no roads were closed there.

Collins Plans Classes in Dramatics

A 12-week course in dramatics will be offered to young people beginning next month at the Community House.

The course, being conducted for the first time, will be divided into two classes, an elementary level for youngsters 7 through 12 years of age and a junior and senior high level.

Creative dramatics, story telling and play making, pantomime and movement will be taught the younger students. Dramatized stories will be given at the end of the term to an invited audience.

High school students will be instructed in basic acting techniques, pantomime, improvision, speech, posture and poise.

The older students will work in scenes from recent Broadway shows, which will be presented to an audience on completion of the course.

The elementary course will be held on Mondays, beginning Sept. 17, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. and the junior and senior level session will be on Wednesday, starting Sept. 19, during the same hours.

Two other youth courses will be offered beginning the same week. These are ballet dancing and painting and drawing. The Cecchetti Method, a technical form of ballet, will be used in the dance course.

Top Steel Officials Defy Subcommittee

industry's largest, had worked long and diligently with the subcommittee's staff to devise procedure for furnishing the data.

Under the arrangements agreed on, he said, shorter and simpler questionnaires had been prepared and the data was to be compiled by the General Accounting Office in a way designed to prevent disclosure of production costs of the individual companies.

Kefauver said this procedure had been worked out "as a matter of protection and accommodation to the steel companies" and he had thought it would be satisfactory to them.

7th-8th-9th Graders to Report 8:30 A.M.

In Pontiac's five junior high schools, all 7th graders and those 8th and 9th graders who are new to a particular school will report at 8:30 a.m. next Thursday.

Due to a typographical error the time previously had been set as 8:30 p.m.

Tennis Courts Cost $10,000

First Athletic Facility Opening at MSUO

The first permanent athletic facility was opened this week at Michigan State University Oakland.

The facilities take the form of $10,000 worth of four tennis courts planted in a wooded setting at the edge of a campus stream valley.

The valley runs just east of the university's $1.5-million Intra-Mural Building which is now scheduled for completion late this year, delayed by a summer steelworker's strike.

Loren Pope, assistant to Chancellor D. B. Varner, today thanked an anonymous Detroit donor for the gift of $10,000 which made the tennis courts possible.

"We're proud to open our first athletic facility at our university where the emphasis is on academics," Pope said.

MSUO had no plans for intercollegiate athletics. Its campus athletic activities will be centered around the individual rather than around teams, explained Physical Education Director Hollis Lepley.

'Sky's Not the Limit for Women Flyers'

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. — Women pioneers of the air age are numerous—Jacqueline Cochran, Jerri Cobb, the late Ruth Nichols and Amelia Earhart to name a few.

But one woman who teaches flying mostly to men doubts that the sky is the limit for women.

She points out that no woman has been selected for the astronaut program despite a lot of feminine—and a few masculine—demands that the girls be allowed to participate in space exploration. And not one has become a pilot on the commercial airliners.

Yet, says Mrs. Beverly Stone, the women have proved themselves just as capable in the air age as they have in numerous other fields once labeled for men only.

BLAMES PUBLIC OPINION

Mrs. Stone believes public opinion is a factor in women being held back in some facets of flying—commercial flying in particular.

"How would you feel," she said, "if you were one of 103 passengers on a jet and heard a feminine voice coming over the communications system saying, "Hi, everybody, I'm your pilot."

"I do think one day we women will be working as co-pilots," she said. "But maybe never as captains, unless there's a national emergency."

Mrs. Stone believes that women should have a go at space flight, because medical science pretty well agrees that women physically can stand its rigors as well as men.

The woman pilot, a 110-pound brunette in her 30s, turned a weekend hobby into a week-end job. During the week, she works for the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. here as an engineering data clerk.

WEEKEND AVIATRIX

On Saturdays and Sundays, when the weather is good, she leaves her home in Byram, Conn., and drives to Westchester Airport here where she is a fully rated instructor at Westair Flying School.

She also teaches a once-a-week refresher course in ground training including navigation for the New York State Department of Commerce and Aviation.

In an interview, Mrs. Stone, a widow and mother of three youngsters aged 8, 9 and 10, said she made her first flight when she was 14. A friend of the family took her and her brother in a plane which got up to 70 miles an hour.

* * *

I fell in love with flying right there," she said.

As of now, she has been checked out in nearly every type of aircraft including a jet fighter at Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama. She got a chance to fly the fighter because she was one of three Civil Air Patrol members of the New York region selected to be familiarized with jets.

Mrs. Stone holds private and commercial licenses and would like one day to add the airline transport rating — "the frosting on cake," she said. This last rating is one required of the men who pilot commercial transports.

MOST PUPILS MEN

Most of her students at Westair are men and mostly older businessmen. Many are taking lessons because of their jobs. "Professional people have to get around so quickly today," she said. Most of her students own their own craft or have access to a company plane.

* * *

A woman instructor of men is a rarity, she said, and some of her weekend pupils "are skeptical at the beginning. But after flying with me a few times, they relax."

She notices the masculine ego often on display. "Sort of an 'I'll listen to you now, mother, because I'll outdo you later' attitude," she said.

Most Philly Students Negro, Study Shows

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Negro enrollment in the city's public schools has gone over 50 per cent for the first time in history, a survey disclosed today.

The survey conducted by the Board of Education found that Negro pupils last June comprised 51 per cent of the city-wide enrollment. Of 238,744 pupils on the rolls at the time, 120,782 were Negroes, the survey showed.

If the recent trend—an increase in Negro enrollment of about two per cent a year—continues when schools open next month, Negro pupils will comprise 53 per cent of the enrollment.

'Illegitimate Birth, Adoption Better'

Clergy Now Discouraging 'Must' Wedlock

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

"They'll have to get married, of course."

The well-dressed woman made the statement almost apologetically, as though she were laboring the obvious. She was quite shocked when her pastor shook his head.

★ ★ ★

"No," he replied. "I'm not at all sure they should get married."

"But I told you, she protested impatiently, "my daughter is pregnant . . ."

"I know," said the clergyman. "Your teen-age daughter is pregnant by a boy who hasn't finished high school. It is a sad and serious situation. But there's no sense in trying to remedy one mistake by making another that may be even greater."

Conversations like the one above take place frequently in pastors' studies. Premarital pregnancies have become a familiar phenomenon in our sex-saturated society.

When teen-agers from middle class families are involved, the first idea that occurs to their distraught parents is to rush them into marriage. They take it for granted that their priest or minister will endorse this course.

"Pastors are increasingly unwilling to perform marriages just to 'regularize' an illicit pregnancy," says Father John C. Knott, director of the Family Life Bureau of the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

"When teen-agers marry to legitimatize a baby, the chances for disaster are enormous. Some studies indicate that four out of five such marriages go on the rocks within a few years' time.

"Rather than push immature youngsters into a marriage that has little chance of success, I would much prefer to let the baby be born illegitimately and placed for adoption."

FACILITIES AVAILABLE

Father Knott points out that nearly every city now has one or more homes where unwed mothers may bear their baby in privacy. And there are excellent public and private adoption agencies which stand ready to place babies in good homes.

"It is foolish to talk about getting married 'for the sake of the child,'" says Father Knott. "A baby adopted into a mature family will have a far better chance in life than one born into the highly unstable relationship of a 'shotgun marriage.'"

A similar attitude is expressed in a statement on "responsible marriage and parenthood" adopted by the United Presbyterian Church at its general assembly this year.

Noting that teen-age marriages have proved to be "particularly hazardous," it urges pastors and parents to exercise "great care" in counseling young people whose premarital sex relations have resulted in pregnancy.

"Marriage," it says, "must not be looked upon as an inevitable consequence."

In cases where the immaturity of one or both partners makes marriage seem "unwise," it says, "the church must be prepared to help" the young couple go through with the alternative of illegitimate birth and adoption.

'PUNISHMENT'

Pastors sometimes encounter, among the parents of teen-agers in trouble, the attitude that a forced marriage is "just what they deserve."

The Presbyterian statement repudiates the idea that unhappy marriage and early divorce constitute appropriate "punishment" for illicit sex relations.

But it also emphasizes that premarital pregnancy is not merely inconvenient and embarrassing. It is sinful.

While acting compassionately toward the young people involved, it says, the church must make clear to them that they have "acted irresponsibly — toward one another, toward the child whose life they have initiated, toward society and toward God."

"What has occurred should be the occasion for a grave self-examination and for serious repentance. A tea party and a shower are not enough."

Ruled Against Supreme Court Decision

Can't Say Part of Anthem as Prayer

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — New York's education commissioner has ruled that even a verse from the National Anthem cannot be used as a school prayer because it would violate the intention of the U.S. Supreme Court's prayer decision.

James E. Allen Jr., education commissioner, said that the anthem may be sung, recited, or read in classrooms.

However, he said, when the Hicksville, N. Y., board of education approved certain lines in the anthem for official use on July 25, 1962, they ran contrary to the Supreme Court decision banning New York's Regents' Prayer from classrooms.

He also ruled that he could find no legal objection to silent prayer in public schools. Allen added, however, that he questioned its value from an educational standpoint.

★ ★ ★

If local school authorities wish, he continued, they may set aside a period of meditation to be spent "in silent prayer or meditation according to the beliefs or desires of the individual pupils."

BOARD'S CHOICE

The Hicksville School Board had resolved that the following be used as a prayer:

"Blest with victory and peace, may the heav'n rescued land
Praise the power that hath made and preserved us a nation
Then conquer we must, when our cause is just,
And this be our motto, 'In God Is Our Trust.'"

The commissioner said the only defense of its action offered by the board was that the prayer recommended had been derived from the verses of "The Star Spangled Banner" and was written by Francis Scott Key.

"The board insists consequently that since they are not the authors of their recommended prayer, the illegality impressed upon the Regents' Prayer by the United States Supreme Court is thereby removed," Allen said.

"Irrespective of the source from which the language set forth in the recommended prayer is derived, the adoption thereof by the board, which of course is an official body governing a political subdivision of the state, makes the prayer an official prayer."

For Telstar Performance

Actors to Ask More

LONDON (AP) — The secretary of a British actors union said yesterday, extra money should be paid for performances bounced off the Telstar satellite.

"We have told the BBC (British Broadcasting Corp.) that we will not consider our existing agreements as covering global relays," said Reginald Swinson, secretary general of the Variety Artistes Federation, a union with 3,100 members. "We want special rates for performances that go on satellites."

Attack Legality of Provision

To Ask State Bar to Fight Search - Seizure Part of 'Constitution'

LANSING (AP)—The State Bar of Michigan will be asked to pass a resolution opposing the controversial "search and seizure" provision of the proposed new state constitution.

The committee on civil liberties, in its report prepared for the bar association's annual business meeting here Sept. 27, said it finds the provision of the proposed document to be unconstitutional.

The issue of search and seizure, specifically whether a person could be prosecuted for possession of certain illegal items found through an unlawful police search, was a subject of heated debate during the constitutional convention.

After 25 hours of debate, the convention adopted, by a 76-61 vote, a provisional which, in general, retained the strong language of the 1908 state constitution.

ADMISSABLE IN COURT

Both provide that such evidence as narcotics, bombs, fire-arms or other dangerous weapons, are admissable as evidence in court even though obtained by the prosecution without a warrant or in an "unreasonable" search.

The provision of both the old and the proposed new constitutions apply not to homes—which are protected from search without a warrant in the bill of rights—but chiefly to searches of persons and automobiles.

The language of the new document reads:

"The provisions of this section shall not be construed to bar from evidence in any criminal proceedings, any narcotic drug, firearm, bomb, explosive or any other dangerous weapon, seized by a peace officer outside the curtilage of any dwelling house in this state."

★ ★ ★

In its report to the state bar, the committee on civil liberties said both a provision of the 1908 constitution, allowing use of evidence illegally obtained outside of Michigan in a Michigan court, and the above provision of the proposed new constitution "violate the United States Constitution and are void."

Grand Rapids, Battle Creek Tops in Safety

CHICAGO—(AP)—Grand Rapids and Battle Creek shared top safety honors in their population classes, based on traffic death figures for the first seven months of 1962, as compiled by the National Safety Council.

Grand Rapids and Syracuse, N. Y., each had traffic death rates of 1.0 per 10,000 registered vehicles in the 200,000-350,000 population class.

In the 25,000-50,000 class, Battle Creek; Aurora, Colo., and Lafayette, Ind., had no deaths.

Detroit, with 101 deaths and a 2.8 rate, was second among cities of more than one million population. Chicago's 2.1 rate was best in that class.

There are slightly more than a million coin phones in this country.

Government Fleet Patrols Coast

Junks Threaten Viet Cong Supply Line

DA NANG, Viet Nam (AP) — The dozen junks drifting idly in a group on Da Nang Bay were to all outward appearances just like the scores of other craft in the water.

Their triangular sails, made of reed and bamboo, swung lazily over the narrow decks. Grizzled sailors, legs dangling in the water, repaired the nets, baskets and lines strewn on the deck.

Each of these sailors, however, had a peculiarity that distinguished him. Tattooed across the left side of his chest were the words "sat cong."

That means "kill the Communists," and it is the war cry of South Viet Nam's fighting junk fleet, starting to operate along this nation's 1,500-mile coastline.

The junk fleet is being established to frustrate efforts by the North Vietnamese Communists to supply the Viet Cong guerrillas by sea. The Communists have dozens of hidden supply depots along the coast.

Paramilitary junk units are operating from the island of Phu Quoc, in the Gulf of Thailand 190 miles west of Saigon, at Rach Gia, also in the gulf, and at this northern seaport of Da Nang.

Military sources say that 28 units will eventually make up the junk force. They will be moved into fishing areas to mingle with the regular craft, keeping watch on any unusual movements.

This will be a tough job because an estimated 60,000 fishing junks are working along Viet Nam's coast.

The 20 junks at present operating out of Da Nang patrol 200 miles of South China Sea coastline, from the 17th Parallel border to Qui Nhon.

Their main job so far is to check on suspicious fishing craft. They do this by sailing in close, raising a black and white flag to their masthead to disclose official status and sending boarding parties over to investigate.

On one occasion they intercepted a Communist cadre heading south to join the Viet Cong.

The crews get two months basic training. Most of them are old sailors, but in spite of this about 30 per cent have to be taught to swim.

How Will Appointment Affect High Court?

Two important figures have been shuffled in the Washington picture. Supreme Justice FELIX FRANKFURTER, approaching 80, and in ill health, has resigned. Immediately, the president named his Secretary of Labor, ARTHUR J. GOLDBERG, to fill the vacancy.

★ ★ ★

It is interesting to speculate on just how this will affect the over-all composition and decisions of the Nation's highest tribunal. Although Justice Frankfurter stepped into his judicial robes with the nominal title of "liberal," he pursued a well-balanced course during the bulk of his occupancy. Many times, it was this elderly statesman who wrote the conservative opinion of the dissenting minority in contradiction to the findings of the Warren liberals.

★ ★ ★

Certainly, there is nothing in the record of ARTHUR GOLDBERG to suggest he will do anything but follow the lead of Chief Justice WARREN and fall in line. This means the waning cause of conservatism has slipped another notch in the rush of the liberals, the extremists and the socialist democrats.

★ ★ ★

Washington sources indicate that as Secretary of Labor, ARTHUR GOLDBERG was very close to the President and was one of the confidential advisors that "sat in" on the policy making decisions and the important conclaves. JOHN F. KENNEDY had great faith in his ability and the current appointment has been forecast.

★ ★ ★

Felix Frankfurter has served his country on the Supreme Court with honor and distinction. Possessing a keen and analytical mind, he discarded extraneous circumstances and factors quickly and reached the heart of the matter at hand. He has been a great jurist and a great American.

Press Proud of City's Recent Citation

The PRESS is proud of the fine recognition given our municipality as one of four size-class cities of the Nation meriting a Public Relations Program Citation.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Pro-Tem, Winford E. Bottom, on behalf of Mayor Robert Landry earlier called away on business, accepted the award presented by the American Municipal Association at its 39th Annual Congress just concluded in Philadelphia, Pa.

Pontiac was hailed for "its extensive public relations effort which developed much citizen interest in a sorely-needed urban renewal rehabilitation program."

This recent award, along with the extensive redevelopment of the downtown area is another sign that the future of Pontiac is in strong hands and that progress is rapidly going forward.

Will Passage of Bill Win Back Friendship?

The bill in its original state was turned down and as a result caused somewhat of a ruckus with the people of the Philippines. They felt, and we believe justifiably so, that we had let them down.

There seemed to be a great deal of misunderstanding concerning just what the war claims damage bill was. Actually, it was designed to get restitution for the Filipino people along with certain business interests.

Our Government had previously promised to pay these claims if it were felt that they were justified. It is our understanding that it was generally agreed that the damages should be paid and that they were long overdue.

Congressman WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD along with four others is responsible for reviving a new bill which has passed both Houses and was signed by President KENNEDY yesterday.

Vice President Emmanuel Pelaez and his people should be happy of the recent action. We hope that the Vice President will reconsider his trip to this country in light of passage of the bill.

The Philippine government and its people have long been valuable friends of this country and we hope this will continue.

The Man About Town

Traffic's a Risk

In Highway Congestion, No Safety in Numbers

By HOWARD V. HELDENBRAND

Labor Day is a time for fun, relaxation and regeneration for the months ahead.

Regrettably, however, it also has become a time of tragedy. Each year the toll of traffic fatalities mounts, with death and injury the fate of an increasingly large number of motorists. Left behind are heartache and crisis for those close to the victims.

Annual appeals for observance of highway safety rules, as well as statistical warning of the casualties predicted for the holiday period seemingly have little effect.

But not long ago, the MAT ran across a "Prayer for a Motorist" that seemed so apropos that it is being reprinted — with the hope that it might have the effect of tempering in some slight degree the costly rashness of irresponsible drivers.

Maybe the supplication would be a good thing to paste on your windshield!

Grant me a steady hand and watchful eye,
That no man shall be hurt when
I pass by.
Thou gavest life, and pray no act of mine
May take away or mar that gift of Thine.
Shelter those, dear Lord, who bear me company,
From the evils of fire and all calamity.
Teach me to use my car for other's need.
Nor miss through love of speed
The beauty of Thy world; that thus I may,
With joy and courtesy, go my way.

sends in this: I am a member of the committee to raise $50 million to place a statue of John F. Kennedy in the HALL OF FAME.

The committee was in a quandary about location. It was thought unwise to place it beside GEORGE WASHINGTON, who never told a lie; nor beside FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, who never told the truth — since JOHN F. KENNEDY could never tell the difference. So, we placed it beside CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS. He started out not knowing where he was going, and upon arriving did not know where he was, and on returning did not know where he had been—and did it all on borrowed money.

The Frustrated Fireman

Does Goldberg Deserve the Job?

WASHINGTON — If President Kennedy had selected to be justice of the Supreme Court a man who had just been serving for many years as chief counsel of the U. S. Steel Corp. or as a general counsel of the National Association of Manufacturers, what would people say?

If the President LAWRENCE had selected to be chief of staff of any one of the armed services a man who had never been an officer in any armed service in his life, what would people say?

Yet Mr. Kennedy has just appointed as an associate justice of the Supreme Court a man who has never been on the bench—federal, state or local.

He has picked for the post a man who has served as a partisan of the labor movement. As chief counsel for the national steelworkers union, he took an active part in its controversial negotiations with management in recent years, and for a long time was also general counsel for the AFL-CIO.

Even though there are today on the bench in the federal, state and local courts several hundred men who have given many years of their lives to judicial service, not one of them was found fit by President Kennedy to serve on the Supreme Court of the United States.

★ ★ ★

Obviously, the appointment of Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg was dictated by politics and political considerations. The motive was hardly concealed. Mr. Goldberg is a good lawyer, and in the course of the next several years he may learn how to be an able judge, perhaps even develop conservative leanings.

FRANKFURTER CHANGED

This happened during the 23 years of service by Justice Felix Frankfurter—original, considered a radical but referred to in recent years as the leader of the "conservative" bloc on the supreme court.

But how much inspiration can it be to men who conscientiously serve on the bench throughout the country, either as district judges or judges on the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals or on state supreme courts, to find not a single one of their number given consideration for the vacancy created by the retirement of Justice Frankfurter from the high court?

President Kennedy himself revealed that he learned on Tuesday of the retirement of Justice Frankfurter and within a few hours selected Secretary Goldberg as successor. His mind was made up in advance. No time or opportunity was given for consultation with leaders of the bar or of the Congress.

Shortly after President Kennedy was inaugurated, it was assumed in political circles that, because of his Jewish faith, Abraham Ribicoff, who had been named secretary of health, education, and welfare, would be appointed to the Supreme Court when Justice Frankfurter retired.

BIGGER ADVANTAGE

But apparently the President saw a bigger political advantage in appointing Mr. Goldberg, because he not only is of the Jewish faith, but also has been a tremendous influence among the labor unions of the country.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Goldberg may make a good judge, and so may Byron White—both of whom have been appointed by President Kennedy. But today, out of the nine justices presently serving, there are only three—Stewart, Harlan and Brennan—who served on the bench before going to the Supreme Court.

What an "inspiration" to the jurists of America! What a shiver of apprehension passes through the country this week as the President says, in effect, in a public speech that these same Supreme Court justices can and should rewrite our constitution to conform to ideological considerations.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Valuable Tips Offered on 'Burning' of Calories

Those of us who have to struggle with the weight problem concentrate almost exclusively on food intake. Rarely do we concern ourselves with variations in energy output.

And, on the few occasions when the relationship between weight and physical activity is brought to our attention, we are apt to be treated to exaggerated claims made by trainers, exercisers, masseurs and others of the "strong-arm" set.

A new book by an Australian authority ("Food for Better Performance") is particularly welcome for its valuable table of caloric expenditures. Here, in brief, are some of the surprising figures on hourly caloric loss:

100 to 200 — canoeing at a 2½ m.p.h., riding a walking horse, walking 3 m.p.h or working as a machine fitter, joiner or fitter.

200 to 300—bicycling at a rate of 5½ m.p.h., dancing foxtrot or waltz, golfing, swimming breast or back stroke, making beds, pushing a wheel barrow holding 22 pounds or loading a chemical mixer.

300 to 400—canoeing at a rate of 4 m.p.h., dancing the rumba, playing tennis, walking 4 m.p.h., if body weight is 200 pounds or scrubbing on hands and knees.

400 to 600—climbing slopes, bicycling at a rate of 13 m.p.h., riding a horse that is trotting or galloping, running 4 to 7 miles of cross country, skiing on hard snow at moderate speed, swimming side stroke or digging with a pick or shovel.

As an example of the average daily expenditure of calories made by a sedentary worker (typist), Dr. R. C. Hutchinson gives an estimate of but 700 calories.

Or about the amount of energy expended in just one hour in climbing, bicycling at a rate of 13 m.p.h., running 7½ miles, skiing or swimming side stroke.

"The most important things men say don't need to be shouted."

The progress of communism in the cold war revives an interest in nationalism and to call to mind the need for a renewal of old-fashioned patriotism. Just recently, the Charlotte (N.C.) School Board agreed that something is needed to stimulate the thinking of school boys and girls. Said Dr. Elmer Garinger, Superintendent, "It is very evident that something is needed to stimulate the patriotism of our youngsters and to make them proud of their country."

When our boys and girls relive our heroic past and see what men did against tremendous obstacles, it should make them proud to be Americans. It should inspire them to deeds of patriotism and heroism —still needed today as in the past.

Agree News Items Should Be Printed

We thank our stars that newspapers print events as they happen and not two years later when the courts have made a final verdict. Rev. Parker was officially charged by the police and that makes it a matter of public record. It's the duty of every newspaper everywhere to tell the people what the records show. That's a part of a democracy.

The Press didn't say the Reverend gentleman was guilty. It said he was "charged," and he was. When the girl cleared him, The Press printed that just as rapidly and with the same type.

My stomach turned sour after reading an article regarding Gus Scholle's political kick-off. He described Romney as another slick car salesman and that car salesmen are pretty well indoctrinated in the fine arts of misrepresentation. This is vulgar and dirty.

I am a car salesman and I regard my job as highly professional and honest work.

Can Gus say the same for himself?

George Romney should have an easy election. It will take a good man to clean up Michigan and Romney's the man to do it.

Patriotism

Life Lines

One of the greatest failures of our educational system in the past 15 years has been in the field of patriotic education. Not only have the schools failed to emphasize the essential elements which promote patriotism, but in many instances they have deliberately de-emphasized some of the stories of our national heroes and degraded their greatness. Little wonder, then, that our young people have become bewildered.

'Teddy'

Montgomery Advertiser

The good news from Massachusetts is that all is not going well for Teddy.

★ ★ ★

Teddy is running for the United States Senate on the promise that his last name is Kennedy and that he has two brothers whom he misses and would like to join in Washington. Other than that his prime qualification is his age; he's 30, which the United States Constitution says is the absolute minimum for a United States senator.

★ ★ ★

In Boston, Columnist Doris Fleeson finds that most Democrats conceded that Teddy is now running ahead of his opponent, Atty. Gen. Edward McCormack, but they also say that they, of course, are not going to vote for him. Even the Harvard-MIT eggs, who support John Kennedy, are overwhelmingly opposed to Teddy.

There is a feeling among many voters that — to paraphrase an old crack—one Kennedy is cute, two are a nuisance, and three are unbearable. That strikes most of us outside Massachusetts as sound thinking, especially the last two parts of the sentence.

If Teddy has that lonesome, useless feeling that a kid gets when his playmates have gone elsewhere, let him get to Washington some other way. His brother Bobby, for instance, could use a good side-de-camp —somebody to walk the dog, roast the weenies in the office fireplace, and keep the football equipment intact.

Versions Differ

New York Daily News

When the Kremlin reported bringing two astronauts safely back from many-orbit twin twirls in space, the story was that they had been landed inside their original capsules.

The pair — Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich — held a news conference and both said they came to ground by parachute, and that each did it differently. Up to now, then, we have three versions of these alleged landings, all differing in important respects.

Lacking absolute proof, such as the United States provides when it orbits astronauts, we're all entitled to question this whole claim of the Kremlin's, and to wonder just how much of this fantastic story is true.

If the boys did all it's claimed they did, why can't they and the Kremlin agree on how it was done?

Use 'Soft Sell' to Block Cuban Shipments

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. sources said today American appeals to NATO allies to discourage Communist bloc shipments to Cuba have met with limited but generally satisfactory response.

The United States brought up the Cuban question at North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council meetings in Paris. It intends to do so again soon, in view of the new wave of Russian shipments.

A larger number of Western vessels reportedly are carrying cargoes to Cuba for the Russians. President Kennedy said Wednesday NATO should consider steps to discourage this.

The U.S. pitch is expected to continue in a low key, for several reasons.

One is that if Washington presents its concern over Fidel Castro's regime as a NATO question, then other NATO members may claim their pet problems also are affairs of the alliance. Portugal, for instance, would have liked NATO help to save Goa from India.

TOUCHY QUESTIONS

Another is the touchy political, economic and legal questions posed in other countries by any prospective action against Cuba.

Thus, U.S. diplomats have been bringing up the Cuban matter for discussion with the Allies—telling them the U.S. view of the problem—rather than presenting a set of demands for NATO action.

★ ★ ★

U.S. informants who reported this said the NATO countries have kept a watchful eye on shipments from their countries to Cuba. The Allies were said to have taken steps to help avoid transshipment of American replacement parts to Cuba and to curb any flow of strategic goods.

WON'T STOP

But there is little expectation that the NATO flag ships will stop calling at Cuban ports, and U.S. sources said the United States is not proposing this. Here are some reasons they cited:

1. The big maritime countries of Western Europe count on merchant fleets as major money earners and are reluctant to interfere with them.

2. The cargoes being carried to Cuba by vessels flying flags of NATO countries, under charter to the Russians, are believed to consist of economic goods. A number of Russian vessels are reported carrying the arms aid to Cuba.

3. The type of economic items being sent to Cuba are not believed to fall within the list of strategic goods banned by the West from shipment to Iron Curtain countries.

4. The United States itself permits shipments of foodstuffs and medicines to Cuba.

Dem Leader of House Assails Van Peursem

LANSING (AP) — The House democratic floor leader took issue yesterday with Republican claims that Gov. Swainson had shown a lack of leadership and challenged the GOP to show some of its own.

Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski, D-Detroit, aimed his attack on Republican state chairman George M. Van Peursem, who said earlier that the governor had antagonized the GOP-controlled legislature and vetoed 26 bills they passed.

"Mr. Van Peursem tries to overlook and gloss over the fact that Republicans control both houses of the legislature," said Kowalski. "The governor has no vote in the legislature.

"If Van Peursem is going to point the finger at anybody, he should point it at his own party, which has not lived up to any platform promises."

Kowalski said Republican legislators themselves have repudiated their party's platform "on more than one occasion," adding:

"If their platform means anything, it should be fulfilled as soon as possible . . . bills are before the legislature to enact their platform. If there is leadership in the Republican party, they will see that the legislature does this now."

Kowalski also assailed Van Peursem for referring to the current state deficit as being $96 million.

"He never lets himself be confused by facts," said the Democratic leader. "If he had just read the newspapers, he would know that the deficit is $10 million below the expected $96 million."

Van Peursem earlier acknowledged that the Democratic administration had reported the deficit at $85.8 million, but noted they had talked in terms of $96 million for several months, and commented:

Its makers immediately voiced a hope to invade the world market.

The plane, so far designated only as the "YS11," is a two-engine medium transport powered by two Rolls-Royce turbo-jets.

It was built by a combine of six Japanese aircraft companies, and its designers include Jiro Horikoshi — father of the famed World War II zero fighters.

Claiming a short runway take off of about 3,000 feet and low operating costs, the manufacturers hope to put the 60-seat medium-sized plane on the world market—particularly for use in Southeast Asia's commercial air traffic.

Hunt Killer-Bandit in Turkey Mountains

BITLIS, Turkey (AP) — Troops and planes are searching mountains of East Anatolia for an elusive killer-bandit who has been terrorizing the countryside.

Sees an Okay for Congo Plan

Thant's Unity Program Getting Consideration of Katanga—Williams

DETROIT (AP)— Assistant Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams said today the initial evidence gives grounds for hope that the new United Nations Congo unity plan will bring about a peaceful end to Katanga's secession.

In a speech to the Jewish War Veterans national convention, Williams referred to statements by Katangan Chief Moise Tshombe and by Evariste Kimba, who handles foreign affairs for Tshombe.

The plan put forward this month by U.N. Secretary General U Thant calls for integration of Katanga into the Congo under a federal system with Katanga's mineral income to be split between Tshombe's government and the general Congolese government.

Williams, a former Democratic governor of Michigan, who now is the State Department's top officer on African affairs, said:

"While there has not yet been time for an official acceptance of the U.N. plan for the provincial government of Katanga, provision for a federal system of government for the Congo enhances the possibility of its acceptance by Katanga.

"Evariste Kimba, who handles foreign affairs for Mr. Tshombe, said in a letter to Secretary General U Thant following his announcement of the plan on Aug. 20 that the plan contains a number of positive elements.'

"There is considerable reason to hope that Mr. Tshombe will support the plan. On Aug. 1 and Aug. 21, he stated his belief that Katanga was ready to join a Congolese federation.

"On the initial evidence, then, we are hopeful that the U.N. plan is the basis for Congolese unity and can put an end to Katanga's secession . . ."

Explosive Cuban Situation May Be Political Dynamite

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Foreign policy is traditionally off-limits for politicking during an election campaign, but there are growing indications that former "good neighbor" Cuba may provide an exception to the rule.

Republican mail gives ample evidence that Americans are deeply aroused by the Communist military build-up in the nearby island, and by the lack of concrete action on the part of the administration.

A rhetorical question posed by Sen. Homer Capehart in a speech earlier this week in Rockville, Ind., may well become a rallying cry for GOP candidates in the fall campaign.

Capehart, the acknowledged Republican expert on Latin America in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, asked a cheering audience: "Whatever happened to the Monroe Doctrine?"

The Hoosier solon asserted that 3,000 to 5,000 Communist troops have already landed in Cuba since last July, and that 15 more shiploads of troops and armaments are on the way.

"How long," he demanded, "will the President 'examine' the situation? What the Russians are doing now and have been doing for many months, with the full knowledge of the White House, has been in violation of the Monroe Doctrine adopted in 1823. Never before have we allowed it to be violated."

President Kennedy subsequently denied that the administration has "evidence" of Soviet "troops" in Cuba, but admitted that Communist supplies and military technicians have been pouring into the island.

He flatly disagreed with Capehart's proposal that we invade Cuba to prevent it from being converted into an enemy missiles base.

Capehart, citing the Monroe Doctrine, argues that international law now gives us "every right to land troops, take possession of Havana and occupy the country" unless the Cuban government sends home all Soviet military personnel and discontinues the import of war materiel.

CZAR INSPIRED DOCTRINE

Coincidentally, it was Russia that inspired the Monroe Doctrine in the first place, when the Czar issued a ukase forbidding foreign ships to come within 100 miles of territory claimed by Russia on the American continent. The territory in question is now Alaska, our 49th state.

Secretary of State John Quincy Adams vigorously protested the ukase, President James Monroe officially declared the principle that the American hemisphere was "henceforth not to be considered as subject for future colonization by any European power."

Teddy Roosevelt later expanded the doctrine's scope, and under Woodrow Wilson Secretary of State Robert Lansing went still further, declaring that the United States would not "tolerate control over or interference with the political and financial affairs of (the Caribbean republics) by any European power or its nationals, or permit the occupation, even temporarily, by any European power, of any territory of such republics."

President Eisenhower was the most recent to invoke the doctrine. In the summer of 1960 when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev threatened to attack the United States with rockets if we intervened in Castro's Cuba, Ike formally stated that the United States would never permit "the establishment of a regime dominated by international communism in the Western Hemisphere."

He added that the principles of the Monroe Doctrine remained as valid as when first proclaimed in 1823.

The Kennedy administration came to power soon after and in its early months backed an abortive Cuban invasion from which it is still licking its wounds.

Since then, Ike's bold words have had a hollow ring, for there is no question but that we have permitted "the establishment of a regime dominated by international communism" on our very doorstep, only 90 miles off the Florida tip.

Capehart, in defending his call for a Cuban invasion, declared: "If Russia is willing to go to war over Cuba, it is better to know it now than 10 years hence," when the island has become an impregnable Soviet missile base.

A lot of other Americans agree. That is why, despite the usual ban on foreign policy in politics, the red-hot issue could play a decisive role in the November elections.

Islanders Raise Own New Flag

Trinidad and Tobago Solemn as They Mark Independence

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad-Tobago (AP)—The islanders of Trinidad and Tobago momentarily muted their steel drums and calypso songs early today to solemnly raise the flag of independence over the Americas' newest nation.

The two southernmost islands of the West Indies rang down 165 years of British rule in a quiet midnight ceremony in the floodlit forecourt of Red House, the government building, before 35,000 citizens and guests.

★ ★ ★

The Union Jack came down as a British Royal Marine band played taps. Then up ran the country's new red, white and black flag as massed national guard and police bands played the islands' equally new national anthem.

★ ★ ★

It was a subdued beginning as an independent member of the British Commonwealth for the Caribbean islands known for their steel bands and improvised calypso songs of African origin.

Hours before, the bands and singers had been turned off the streets as many islanders flocked to religious services conducted by a Roman Catholic archbishop, an Anglican bishop, a Protestant pastor, a Moslem shaikh and a Hindu priest.

ANOTHER CHIP

Representatives of 35 other nations—including the United States, the Soviet Union and Cuba—witnessed the ceremony. Queen Elizabeth II, still the monarch and chief of state, was represented by her Aunt Mary, the 65-year-old Princess Royal, as another piece was chipped off the Empire. For her, the bands struck up "God Save the Queen."

★ ★ ★

The new nation's prime minister, Dr. Eric Williams, has said the islands' 830,000 citizens and 1,864 square miles will remain "unequivocally west of the Iron Curtain."

JFK Receives Royalty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prince Juan Carlos of Spain and his bride Princess Sophia of Greece, stopped in to see President Kennedy Thursday on their worldwide honeymoon trip and got good luck wishes.

Having Trouble With Arab League

Nasser Wants to Bring Syria Back to Fold

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Back of the current Egyptian-Syrian dispute and the accompanying possibility of new Middle East turmoil is an interesting inside story.

★ ★ ★

It involves the efforts of Egypt's ambitious President Gamal Abdel Nasser to recoup losses suffered a year ago when Syria broke away from Nasser's United Arab Republic in a sudden military coup.

Relations between the two have been cool ever since.

In the current dispute Syria has charged Egypt with interference in her affairs and has demanded Egypt's condemnation by the 13-nation Arab League.

Egypt in turn has threatened to withdraw from the league for which she provides a third of the funds and most of the administration.

As the world conducts its affairs today, interference in the affairs of one nation by another strictly is a matter of relativity, depending upon the eye of the beholder.

Further, Arab radio broadcasters are such masters of verbal abuse and use it so frequently that it loses force by repetition.

So far as interference with Syria is concerned, this much is on the record: on July 22 and again on July 26 Nasser told mass rallies that "Egypt can no longer tolerate the suppression of the Syrian people."

And ". . . will give all support and aid needed . . . to liberate Syria from the tyranny of reaction."

These speeches followed 16 months of self-imposed silence in which Nasser contented himself with saying only that Egypt now would concentrate on perfecting her own socialist state.

The Syrians now charge that all the while Nasser also was attempting to infiltrate agents into Syria for the purpose of stirring up new revolt.

SYRIA SPLIT

Nasser's July speeches would indicate he believed such a revolt either was imminent or could be triggered with a little encouragement.

Persons familiar with the situation inside Syria report sentiment badly split. The army is split between secessionists and those favoring reunion with Egypt.

The latter element also is split between those favoring complete union and those favoring internal autonomy within a federation.

Popular sentiment is said to run strongly for reunion, but this sentiment lacks leadership.

Meanwhile, Nasser's radio pounds away on the benefits of Egyptian workers under socialism — participation in company profits and management, free education and pension and social insurance plans.

Nasser long has been known to be dissatisfied with the Arab League and to favor an Arab socialist union of "progressive Arab elements."

★ ★ ★

His current moves suggest he has two goals: to stir up the leadership necessary to a successful Syrian revolt, and, either to destroy the league or revamp it in his own image.

A prediction for the immediate future could well be a new wave of arrests in Syria.

Clothesline Breaks Fall

She Tries to Fly Away

STEVENAGE, England (AP)—Two-year-old Catherine Burton watched birds swoop around her nursery window and decided to try flying for herself.

★ ★ ★

She plunged 18 feet to a concrete path Thursday, but a clothesline broke her fall. Cathy told her mother: "I only wanted to fly like the pigeons."

★ ★ ★

Use Freezing to Treat Ulcers Successfully

CHICAGO (UPI) — Stomach freezing as a method of treating duodenal ulcers was used successfully in 86 patients, the Journal of the American Medical Association has reported.

The latest issue said today the technique consists of lowering the stomach temperature to around zero for an hour. A balloon is inserted into the stomach through which cold is circulated to achieve temperatures from four degrees below zero to 10 above.

★ ★ ★

Doctors said the procedure was "well-tolerated" and appears to depress secretion of digestive juices. The juice containing hydrochloric acid is believed to be an irritant which when suppressed, allows the ulcer to heal.

Won't Return Child to Parents' Classes

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A judge ruled yesterday that 15-year-old Rosemary Sheppard should remain with an older sister, clearing the way for her to start high school instead of attending classes at home.

★ ★ ★

Dist. Judge Eben L. Taylor denied a writ of habeas corpus which Rosemary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Sheppard, had sought to gain custody of their daughter from the sister, Mrs. Naomi McNeese. Mrs. McNeese was given care of the girl by juvenile court.

★ ★ ★

Rosemary's mother sat alone in the courtroom while her lawyer and an assistant county attorney argued the case. Rosemary walked past her mother without speaking.

Demonstrators Stage Antibomb Sit-Down

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Docile demonstrators were carried off by police after staging a sit-down antibomb show outside the Soviet and U.S. Embassies Thursday. About 60 youths between 17 to 25 demonstrated.

What Big Eyes You Have, Mr. Hoffa!

Teamsters Bad Title for Union

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You could search a long time for a word less appropriate than "Teamsters" to describe the world's largest union led by Jimmy Hoffa. Not many men are driving horses these days.

Hoffa is pretty much a lone wolf in the labor movement, and with apologies to the author of Little Red Riding Hood, what big eyes he has!

He thinks people in every line of work should belong to the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America.

Not long ago he indicated he would like to have professional baseball and football players in his union.

One source of Hoffa's strength is the skill with which he has reached out and brought workers under the Teamsters' tent.

Stewardesses on a small airline belong to his union. So do people who wrap bread, people who can fruit, people who manufacture soft drinks, people who are clerks, salesmen who sell bread.

CONSTANT WARFARE

There is a permanent state of warfare among unions and guerrilla raids are made almost every day into enemy territory. Like a baseball team, Hoffa doesn't win them all, but his batting average is pretty good.

Just the other day a special court set up by the Communications Workers of America (AFL-CIO) expelled a score of officers who had been convicted of attempting to lead their locals into the Teamsters union. The trial board heard testimony that Hoffa was willing to spend $500,000 to finance the raid.

There are some 900 locals in the Teamsters union. If a long-haul truck driver wants to work hard enough (take every available trip instead of sitting one out), the union claims he can earn up to $10,000 a year.

AREA CONTRACTS

Hoffa is largely responsible for that. One of the big contributions he made to his union was the concept of "area contracts." In the old days each local conducted its own negotiations with management.

Hoffa's idea was that a contract for truck drivers should cover several states and throughout his career he pushed that program successfully. Bargaining is much simpler for a union if it is speaking for 10,000 truck drivers than for 100 in some local union.

Hoffa's aggressive attitude in proselytizing and bargaining isn't something that has developed recently.

He has been that way ever since the age of 19, when he led a successful small strike against the Kroger Grocery Co. of Detroit by threatening to allow some strawberries to spoil. He came up the hard way and learned to both give and take hard knocks.

Hoffa was born 49 years ago in Brazil, Ind., the son of a local miner who died of tuberculosis from inhaling too much dust. His mother moved to Detroit where Jimmy quit school after the ninth grade to help support the family.

Two years after the strawberry strike Hoffa had an AFL charter and led his men into the Teamsters union. In the depression days of the thirties, Hoffa was all over Detroit — organizing, picketing, making speeches, getting arrested 18 times in 24 hours for illegal picketing, but always going back for more.

EARNED $75,000

In 1940 he negotiated a contract for truck drivers in 12 central states. From then on his rise was rapid. He became an international vice president of the Teamsters, was elected president in 1957 and re-elected in 1961.

Hoffa earns $75,000 a year plus an expense account, but money seems to interest him less than power. He lives well but not lavishly.

But let somebody try to whittle away his authority or that of his union and he fights and makes up his own rules during battle.

It was this ruthless battling that brought him before the Senate Rackets Committee and its counsel, Robert F. Kennedy. Hoffa had four separate sessions with the committee and the transcript of the Teamsters investigation fills 20,000 pages. The final report of the committee included:

'MISUSED FUNDS'

"Hoffa has repeatedly betrayed the members of his own union by entering into business relationships with employers with whom his union negotiated.

"Hoffa has misued union funds for his own benefit and that of his friends. Hoffa has consistently supported the interest of racketeer and criminal friends over those of his own members. Hoffa and his chief aids have consistently repressed democratic rights within the union. Finally, the committee remains convinced that if Hoffa continues unchecked he will successfully destroy the decent labor movement in the United States."

Considering the way Hoffa has been investigated, indicted and tried in the last six years, his power of survival appears to be untimited.

But his old sparring partner, Bobby Kennedy, is now attorney general of the United States and the end of the struggle is nowhere in sight. Federal grand juries in 14 cities are investigating the Teamsters union and Hoffa has trials pending on charges of misusing union funds.

There are supposed to be some 150 lawyers across the country working for the union and they are sometimes referred to as the "Teamsters Bar Association."

Whatever their retainer fee, they earn their money and apparently will be busy for years to come.

As for Hoffa, he sleeps soundly, eats well and exercises every day to stay in good condition. For his critics he has these words: "I don't give a damn what they say. Jimmy Hoffa can take care of himself."

Fire Scout Rocket in Heat Shield Test

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP) —Space agency scientists sent a four-stage Scout rocket aloft today in an experiment aimed at learning what kind of heat shields are needed on space vehicles returning to earth at speeds of about 18,000 miles an hour.

Fired about 80 miles high, it was expected to land in the Atlantic about 100 miles east of Bermuda. There was no attempt to recover the payload.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration experts trained cameras on the speeding space shot—fired up by two of the rocket stages and back down by the others — to record heat shield data.

E. Germans Arrest 74

BERLIN (AP) — Police of the East German Communist regime, in six months, have arrested at least 74 persons trying to escape to West Germany in the southern part of the country alone, according to reports collected from East German newspapers by Information Bureau West.

Australia and west Canada are linked by two cables.

OKs Bible Reading in Public Schools

BOSTON (AP)—Dr. Owen B. Kiernan, Massachusetts Commissioner of Education, has advised local school authorities to continue Bible readings in the public schools.

* * *

A memorandum from Kiernan said, "It is the feeling of the department that the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court in the New York case held unconstitutional only the voluntary recitation of a prayer which was composed by a public authority."

Gives Early Labor Day Talk

Romney to Union: 'I'm Pro-Public'

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — George Romney, former top management man and currently Republican candidate for governor, told a labor group today, "I am both pro-labor and pro-management.

"But, I am pro-public above all, and I want to see our state government administered as a pro-public government, treating all groups alike."

The Republican candidate for governor, undaunted by the Wayne County AFL-CIO organization's refusal to let him address a labor rally Monday at the Michigan State Fair, gave his early Labor Day address to members of UAW Local 174 here.

"Despite refusal of permission to join with others in paying my respects to the working men and women of Michigan through participation in the official Labor Day program at the State Fairgrounds, I will do so in other ways," Romney said.

He may be just a lonely face in the crowd but the former automaker still plans to show up "informally" at the fair.

Romney told members of Local 174 that "I believe it is long past time to put an end to the kind of one-sided government that has marred our state's political history for too many years.

"And I'm aware that Republican administrations have been guilty of one-sidedness in the past just as the administrations of the past 14 years also have been one-sided.

DISCUSSES UNIONS

Romney also discussed collective bargaining, labor unions, and so-called "right-to-work" laws.

He said:

"I believe very strongly in sound collective bargaining. Good strong unions are required to develp the kind of policies and practices in American industry that result in adequate concern for employes as individual human beings.

"Good strong unions also are needed to obtain the best wages, benefits and working conditions available under existing competitive circumstances."

Romney, former head of American Motors Corp., said the new AMC-UAW contract was "a new and practical expression of the common interests of labor and management."

He said the profit-sharing portion of the pact was "only a single element of a total package which reflected a fresh new approach in all its aspects based on joint union-management recognition that the objectives of each party depend upon sharing progress with customers."

* * *

As for right-to-work laws, Romney said: "I am opposed to right-to-work laws. I regard them as a problems."

However, he said, "The greatest danger facing us today in labor-management relations is the excessive power held by both unions and employers. Such power leads to national emergencies and collective bludgeoning in place of collective bargaining."

Test Shows Conformity Urge Strong

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Tests by an Ohio State University psychologist indicate that 30 to 40 per cent of persons tested will agree to something they know to be wrong just to conform.

* * *

Douglas P. Crowne of Ohio State said that when money was bet, and the pressure to conform was even greater, those who would knowingly give wrong answers increased to 70 per cent.

* * *

Crowne said the urge to conform is stronger among women than men.

He presented a paper on conformity yesterday at the annual convention of the American Psychological Association, attended by 10,000 persons.

The tests given to 110 students at Ohio State, required subjects to distinguish the larger of two groups of dots. Five persons working with Crone purposely gave the wrong answer in front of those taking the tests.

About three million adults in the U. S. never attended any kind of school.

Ionia Petitions Ask College Issue Vote

IONIA (AP) — Petitions with 480 signers asking placement of an Ionia community college question on the November ballot were filed yesterday at the county clerk's office. Only 360 signers were required.

The petitions were filed by C. Anthony Balice, former Ionia mayor now chairman of the Community College Study Committee, and Ionia County School Supt. Bruce Blanchard.

They ask approval for establishment of the college, election of a temporary board of trustees and authorization of millage levy for the school's operations.

Japanese Government forecasts say that after 1980 individual spending in Japan will be at 3½ times the present rate. A higher per capita ownership of cars is also predicted, with 42 out of every 1,000 persons expected to own a car in 1980 and one out of every two households having a telephone.

Ford Reserves Largest Site at NY World Fair

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ford Motor Co. said today it has reserved the largest exhibit site for the 1964-65 New York World's Fair.

The space reserved for the Ford exhibition covers more than seven acres — a total of 304,998 square feet. That's equivalent to a New York City area extending from Fifth Avenue to Times Square and from 42nd to 49th streets.

Land rental for the two years will be close to $2.5 million. The Ford pavilion will be located along the Grand Cental Parkway adjacent to the aluminum windsock which is one of the few remaining landmarks of the 1939-40 World's Fair on Flushing Meadows, Long Island.

IF YOU ARE THINKING OF LEAVING SCHOOL, PLEASE TAKE TIME TO READ THIS MESSAGE: IT COULD CHANGE YOUR ENTIRE FUTURE!

DON'T LEAVE SCHOOL TOO SOON or you will leave a promising future behind!

YOUR FRIENDS MAY BE ENVIOUS OF YOUR FIRST PAYCHECK, BUT IN SEVERAL YEARS, THEY'LL BE EARNING MORE THAN YOU ARE, BECAUSE THEY HAVE A DIPLOMA!

If you drop out of school early, you'll be closing the door on many opportunities which mean bigger paychecks, greater job satisfaction and more security in the future.

(1) None of the professions will be open to you because these demand training beyond high school, and of course such higher education must be preceded by a completion of high school.

(2) On-the-job training for skilled and even semi-skilled work has been sharply reduced in recent years because there are now so many people who have already been trained, in high school, to do the work.

Consider the job that is luring you away from school. The pay may look good now, but think about your chances for future advancement. And remember, the paychecks you receive during the years you should be in school will never make up for the money you can earn later if you stay in school. The educated person starts higher up the ladder of success and with the knowledge that's needed in order to climb faster.

As Benjamin Franklin said, "An investment in knowledge always pays the best dividends."

Boy Friend, 17, Strangles Girl

Leads Police to Spot, 'Wanted to See What It Felt Like'

AP Photofax

ADMITS SLAYING — Walter Tjunin, 17, sits handcuffed in a police car yesterday after he was taken into custody in the strangulation slaying of 14-year-old Suzanne Grskovic near her home in Whitestone, Queens, N. Y. He told police he "just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

NEW YORK (AP)—Pretty 14-year-old Suzanne Grskovic is dead, the boy she had a crush on told police, because he "just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

The ravished body of brown-eyed, blonde Suzanne was found Thursday in shrubbery off a dirt road in Queens, about five blocks from her home.

* * *

She had been strangled with her brassiere and strips from her dress. On her abdomen were carved an "S" and an "X"—made with a beer can opener.

Walter Tjunin, 17, on probation after spending a year at a state reform school, led police to the scene of the crime after a 6-hour grilling. He was charged with homicide and rape.

"I strangled her with her clothes," he told detectives. "I just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

TELLS HOW

Tjunin was quoted as saying he stole a case of beer and drank all 24 bottles during the day.

* * *

Tjunin told police that, as he and Suzanne walked along the road, he tripped her, ripped off a strip of her dress and wound it around her neck, and then dragged her into the bushes.

The thin, pimply-faced youth was in trouble with the law six times as a juvenile delinquent, mostly for burglaries and petty thefts.

Send for Course on Greenhouses

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa.—Want a small home greenhouse? Will it be plastic or glass?. Will you build it yourself or have it done by contract? Will you heat it from the house furnace or have a separate heater? Will it be the lean-to type or free standing?

These and scores of other questions are answered in The Home Greenhouse, a correspondence course of six lessons offered by Penn State University. It deals with building sites and types of construction, heating and ventilating, building materials and sash greenhouses.

There's a lesson on general greenhouse management. The last lesson discusses growing snapdragons, carnations and chrysanthemums as cut flowers and African violets, geraniums and chrysanthemums as potted plants.

To get the course write to Correspondence Courses, 202 Agricultural Education Building, University Park, Pennsylvania. There are no educational prerequisites. Simply include your name, address and $1.50. Make checks payable to The Pennsylvania State University.

Patch Up Lawn With Plugs of Zoysia Grass

If heat and sun bake your lawn a dull, drab brown, and you still have the heart, energy and patience to try an experiment, set out some zoysia grass, which is a sun-worshipper.

Zoysia does very well in the sun, not as well in the shade.

Zoysia is available in plugs, which are easily set into the ground with a special gouging tool. They take hold and spread in bare, loosened earth. Because zoysia is a hybrid, it cannot be sowed successfully as seed.

Once established, the distributors claim, it will require less cutting because it doesn't grow as rapidly.

There are many varieties of zoysia grass. The Meyer strain does better than most in the North. Some others are preferable in the South.

GRASS FILLS IN

The plugs are planted a foot apart, closer if you are in a hurry and can afford more plugs. At the start, your lawn will resemble a checkerboard. About two years are required for the grass to fill in the blank spaces, at least in the North. The better watering and feeding care you give zoysia, the faster it will develop into a tight sod.

Once the initial expense and effort are past, you will have an excellent, thick carpet that does not require a great deal of attention and seems not to be bothered by many pests or diseases.

In the North, "cool season" grasses such as Kentucky blue and fine fescue combinations have it over the southern types and have a longer green season.

Dr. Robert W. Schery, director of the Lawn Institute at Marysville, Ohio, sums up the features of zoysia.

1. Once established, a thick resilient turf that does not disintegrate underfoot as do more fragile grasses such as bermuda.
2. No serious pests or difficulties reported once fully established.
3. Once established, thick and tight enough to keep out most weeds.

Dr. Schery said zoysia must receive the same sort of care other grasses receive, especially when just getting started.

How expensive is zoysia: The Zoysia Farm Nurseries of Baltimore, Md., gives this recommendation:

Multiply the length times the width of the area to be planted to determine the square feet. Order one plug per square foot. An area 9 by 11 would need 99 plugs. Generally, the plugs cost about $7 per 100, less for larger quantities. (Some firms offer bonus plugs and a reduced rate for the hack-saving plug-planting tool to prepare holes.

Zoysia is deep green in color and may be planted anytime between April and October. It should be mowed shorter than other grasses — ½ to 1 inch. High nitrogen, water soluble fertilizers are recommended rather than granular fertilizers.

FOR THE BIRDS — Hungry birds will have no trouble finding food this winter around the Charles Shallberg home at 1729 Cole Ave., Birmingham. The Shallbergs have a 15-foot sunflower in their front yard whose "head" measures 18 inches across. The blossom has so many luscious sunflower seeds in it, that the huge stem couldn't hold the weight and is now drooping over. Where the original seed came from is anybody's guess, but the Shallbergs think a bird dropped it from a neighbor's birdfeeder last spring. Quite an investment for one little bird! Shown above are daughter Debbie holding the ladder while Mom measures.

USDA Has Big Seed Collection

The largest general seed collection in the world, if not the only general collection, is the property of the United States Department of Agriculture and is located at its Plant Industry Station and Agricultural Research Center in Beltsville, Md.

Started just before the turn of the century in a more or less haphazard manner, the present collections were officially inaugurated in 1905. At present the two collections contain about 100,000 samples of seeds of over 250 plant families (which are very large groups and not comparable to human families).

This vast collection includes seeds of all sizes, from the monster seed of the double coconut which may weigh 50 pounds down to the dustline seeds of various orchids. The smaller seeds are stored in glass vials.

Most of the samples are of plants which have been introduced into this country from other countries.

To aid the student or person who wishes to identify a plant by its seed, there is also a card index of names of all the plants included in this enormous assortment.

City Forester Offers Help for Sick Trees

Editor's Note—Today's garden feature story is written by Don Nagel of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. This department is happy to help citizens with their garden and yard problems. Staff members are available for lectures to group meetings.

BY DONALD E. NAGEL

Many abnormalities in trees are closely associated with plant food deficiencies. Most laymen are unaware that shade trees need to be fertilized in much the same manner as their vegetables. Woodland trees will thrive despite the absence of artificial feeding but they don't have the competition that city trees have.

Concrete and asphalt cover much of the area that is the root zone for city trees. Water is a limiting factor even on heavily sodded lawns. The heavy sod uses much of the available water and food. Moreover, lawns inhibit good soil aeration.

The symptoms of undernourishment are evident by a gradual decline in vigor or an apparent lack of growth. This decline can be rapid and is sometimes associated with insect and fungus attack.

How fertilizers act: Contrary to general belief, tree roots do not and cannot obtain food for growth from fertilizer added to the soil. All food for any part of the tree comes from the leaves. The fertilizer supplies the elements necessary for the leaf bodies that do this work.

When to fertilize: There are two times for fertilizing, early in the spring or late in the fall after the leaves have dropped. Fertilizing in summer or early fall will cause the trees to continue to grow instead of hardening off for the winter, and are therefore subject to winter injury. A starving tree however, should be fed regardless of the season. The frequency of the fertilization depends upon the species, the response, and other factors. It may have to be done once a year or every 3 or 4 years.

Types of fertilizer: There are two general types, one is chemical, the other organic. A chemical fertilizer is one that contains nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash. These are listed in that order on the bag by numbers, such as 10-6-4 or 12-6-6. This means there is 10% nitrogen, 6% available phosphoric acid and 4% soluble potash.

Organic fertilizers are such things as rotted leaves, manure, peat or composted materials. Organic fertilizers are low in amounts of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. They do have the advantage of not burning or otherwise damaging the trees. They also act as a mulch and will tend to reduce water loss.

There are liquid fertilizers that may be applied to the leaves and the soil. In general they have the advantage of being immediately available to the plant and their application requires less labor.

Rates of application: Recommendations for broad leaf trees 6" and over in diameter, are 5 lbs. per inch of diameter of a chemical fertilizer. For trees less than 6" use half the dosage. For example, a tree 10" in diameter at 4½ ft. above ground level would need 50 lbs. of fertilizer.

Narrow-leafed evergreens: Because there is danger of injury to evergreens, an organic type should be level. The rate of application is 2 pounds for each inch of trunk diameter. For evergreen foundation plantings, 5 pounds should be applied to each 100 square feet of bed area.

Broad-leafed evergreens create a problem because many of the fertilizers tend to sweeten the soil and this should be avoided. It is best to incorporate acid peat moss or oak leaf mulch into the soil around the plants.

How to apply: The area to be fertilized will be governed by the location of the feeding roots. They are usually found in the outer band of area formed by the branch spread.

The most practical method is the use of a punch bar. Holes should be spaced 2 ft. apart and 18 inches deep. A small frozen fruit juice can may be used to put the commercial fertilizer into the holes. After applying the fertilizer add some water to help dissolve it. You can leave the holes open as they will help to aerate the soil.

Garden Mums Lend Color to Fall Scene

Chrysanthemums come in many types. Small button size, pompons, singles, semi-doubles, spiders, spoons, cactus-flowered, regular and incurved double decorative types. Plant types range from a few inches to over three feet in height, in compact mounds for the cushion mums or bushy plants with longer stems and usually larger flowers for the decorative mums.

Colors range from pure white through the rainbow, reds and yellows to lavender and purple except for true blue. Some are color blends and bicolors. They cover the field of fall colors, a most glorious garden display and for harmony or contrast indoors. They are the undisputed Queen of fall flowers.

Mums normally bloom when the days become shorter towards fall. Most florist varieties of the past have been very late bloomers, especially the large decoratives, Japanese or football mums. These late bloomers must be grown in a greenhouse or under such protection from frosts, rains and winds. Now, there are newer varieties that permit large flowered mums in ordinary gardens.

Five and six inches or more across, these orange to grapefruit sized football mums make beautiful specimens on long heavy stems. The big spiders are more airy specimens, smaller mums also may be late bloomers although more in keeping for home arrangements.

Outdoor garden mums for everybody are now the most satisfactory, earliest to bloom, easiest to grow, hardiest, healthiest, vigorous, most colorful and useful of all. The newest and best varieties stand up and hold attractive coloring through all stages of bloom.

They remain beautiful through rains and frosts until finally stopped for the year over much of the country by a deep freeze. When the soil warms up again in spring, new shoots or plants start another season of garden mums.

Plant Flowering Trees for Color in Yard

The world of trees has its Cinderellas, too — fine ornamentals which homeowners unknowingly pass by in favor of their better known sisters. Get to know these prizes if you want fresh faces for your plantings.

Two of the best of these wallflowers are the golden-rain tree (Koelreuteria) and the Japanese pagoda tree (Sophora japonica). Their fairy tale names suggest their charm. Both come from the Far East . . . and both are old stand-bys of professional tree men.

Perhaps their greatest appeal, according to M. W. Staples, field supervisor of the Davey Tree Expert Co., is their late bloom after most other flowering trees have gone drab. In fact, the Japanese pagoda tree is last of all the larger trees to bloom in fall.

As befits beauties, both are of medium height and neat shape. They adapt readily, even to downtown, and are good shade trees.

The golden-rain, named for the yellow showers of bright flowers it drops to the lawn, lifts its large bloom clusters in early summer. These give way to equally striking fruits.

The Japanese pagoda tree, so-called because of its use to adorn Buddhist temple grounds, bears white, pea-like flowers in showy erect clusters tipped like a pyramid. Yellowish pods follow, and may stay on all winter.

Go Easy on Fertilizer

With the exception of a few voracious feeders like pansies and sweet peas, most flowers will bloom more freely if you are sparing with the fertilizer. Too much food encourages leafy growth at the expense of blooms.

Dry Garden Flowers for Year-Long Display

You can capture the beauty of your outdoor garden this year by drying blooms for long-lasting flowers in indoor displays.

Flower blooms can be preserved in several ways, from natural drying to a sand-and-borax treatment. Natural drying works well with cockscomb, celosia, hydranges and wild plants such as curly dock and milkweed.

All you do is place them in a container without water. Remove all leaves before any drying process, because foliage doesn't dry well.

Hanging is generally most successful with larkspur, roses, dahlias, goldenrod, thistles and flowers with florets so tiny that other drying techniques might damage them.

DRY HEAT

Use a pipe cleaner, rubberband or Pfas-ties to hold a bunch of blooms together. Hang the flowers bloom downward in a dark, dry place such as an attic or boiler room. Avoid basements which tend to be damp. You want dry heat to preserve flowers properly.

Tender flowers need slightly more care to preserve them perfectly.

Daffodils, tulips, dahlias, dogwoods, roses, marigolds, pansies and zinnias are best done with the sand-borax treatment. All you need is a cardboard box, dry sand and powdered laundry borax. Corn meal can be substituted for borax if you prefer.

Mix half sand with half borax or corn meal. Sift this mixture into the cardboard box, about two inches deep.

Cut flowers when they are about half open. Clean them of foreign material and use a blotter to soak off excess moisture. Place the blooms upside down carefully in the sand-borax mixture. Then sift more mix into the petals until the flowers are completely covered. Take care not to push petals out of their natural shape.

Place the box in a warm, dry location. You can also bake the flowers in direct sunlight. Flowers should dry in between one and two weeks.

Stems usually need reinforcement. Remove the stem, leaving about half inch near the bloom. Cut a wire stem, using 18 to 32 gauge wire, depending on the size stem you wish to duplicate. Then wrap the stems with florists' corsage tape and you are ready to brighten your rooms with dried flower arrangements throughout the year.

Gentle Treatment

Never crowd flowers into a container and handle them as little as possible, advises the Society of American Florist. If you must lay flowers on the table, have the heads extend over the table edge, SAF says.

NEW ROSE — Beautiful pinks, bright vivid reds, orange-yellows and pure yellows, are featured colors of new varieties introduced this year to rose fanciers by Peterson Dering, Oregon roses growers. Perhaps no rose has met with such immediate response by rose enthusiasts as has the Governor Mark Hatfield, named after Oregon's popular chief executive. This plant is tall, robust, full and vigorous. The branches are long and heavy, bearing clusters of beautiful long-stemmed flowers, resulting in a great abundance of bloom. The flower is medium-large, full-petaled and exquisitely formed.

Send for Authorities' Pruning Handbook

Plants can be living sculpture. An old apple tree, with a giant gnarled and twisted trunk has great character and a natural beauty of its own. However, overgrown trees and shrubs in old gardens often need major surgery to bare their trunks and cut down foliage masses. This improves not only their health but also their grace, says Thomas D. Church, nationally known landscape architect in "Trained and Sculptured Plants," a new handbook published last fall by the Brooklyn Botanic Garden.

Mr. Church tells how to improve the appearance of a tree through pruning. "First look nonsubjectively at an old tree in your garden. Has its bulk become actually oppressive, has its weight overpowered the area, has its shape become merely mass—the volume of foliage way out of balance with the volume of air space?

Try first lifting the foliage line by pruning off low, spreading branches. Then cut out all dead and dying wood and the less shapely of two branches which are rubbing one another. Now clear out the center a little more; it is pleasant to look up into a tree and through it as well as at it.

Stand away and study it. You have obtained better scale already. Soon you will be able to complete the pruning, revealing the tree's shapes and lines."

Trimming and training plants are ancient garden practices which, until recently, have been largely overlooked. Today, when house lots are smaller, their revival is appropriate. The clipped hedges and pleached trees used in Europe's formal landscapes and American colonial gardens are remarkably well adapted to the small home gardens of today.

Plants for enclosed gardens, terraces, patios and lanais must generally be controlled to keep them in proportion to their surroundings. Outside walls can be made more attractive with the tracery of the stems and leaves of vines and espaliers, trained artistically against them.

The Brooklyn Garden's handbook is a complete guide to training plants in scores of ways. The material, contributed by fifteen noted authorities, is arranged under five major headings: purposes of training plants; clipped hedges, pleached trees, and guided vines; espaliers and other flattened plants; the sculpturing of shrubs; and container-grown plants in varied forms. Strong emphasis is placed on shaping or training plants so that they become component parts of landscape rather than shearing plants into spheres and pyramids simply to create geometric forms.

From the articles, one can learn how to train woody plants in the Japanese manner, train English ivy into many forms, grow fruit trees as espaliers, train indoor plants into artistic shapes, and grow dwarf citrus trees in tubs. Of special value are complete lists of plants suitable for training and pruning for every conceivable landscape use.

This 64-page handbook is copiously illustrated with 104 half-tone and line cuts which demonstrate training techniques, and the tasteful use of sculptured plants. It is printed on quality book paper. The Handbooks are published as a public service, and are available by mail for one dollar from the Brooklyn Botanic Garden, Brooklyn 25, New York.

For Continuous Bloom

Because candytuft bursts into bloom all at once, and then, when flowers fade, is pulled and discarded, you should make several sowings of this delightful annual. Space them 3 weeks apart. Thus, when one crop of bloom fades, you'll have another starting.

State Not Quarantined

Based on testimony presented at the Japanese Beetle Quarantine hearing held at Memphis, Tenn., last December, additional study, and control programs within these states, the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has decided not to quarantine the states of Michigan, California, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri or Tennessee at this time.

Soak It Well

Vegetable gardens need the equivalent of one inch of rain each week. One good soaking is far better than many light waterings. A good method is to run the water the length of the furrows between the rows until the ground is well soaked.

"Dear Scotts..."

Last year 57,000 people deliberately killed their hopeless lawns—weeds, crabgrass and all—and got a fresh start with Scotts new ERASE.® One week later they planted grass seed on the stubble—no digging, no grubbing out.

Green with Envy. Having trouble with undesirable grass, I used Erase. That was last year. Now my new lawn is a deep green. It has been the envy of the neighborhood all year!
H M W—Cumberland, Md.

Guinea Pig. I was the first on the whole block to try Erase. Now the neighbors are seeing how my grass is coming up and are all going to do the same.
T S—Parma, Ohio

Gripe. Erase killed everything OK but when I reseeded nothing came up. Could it be all this dry weather?
M S—Waterbury, Conn.
(Sure could. New grass must have adequate moisture either from rain or watering.)

Letter Perfect. I followed your Erase program to the letter and never put in a new lawn easier or had it come in so successfully. It is good and thick and weed-free.
J R M—Cleveland, Ohio

The Old Sod. My neighbor used Erase. It worked like a charm and was so much easier than digging up all that old sod.
Mrs F N—Detroit, Mich.

J P—Providence, R I
(J P gets his money back. The junk proved to be nimblewill and other stubborn weeds. J P should have saved out a little Erase for second treatment of these toughies.)

Rags to Riches. I had one of the most miserable lawns you ever saw. Then I heard of Erase. You should see it today — as pretty as the picture on your pamphlet.
W L H—Union, N J

Happy Ending. Bought Erase and in a short time my terrible lawn was brown. Neighbors thought I was a nut. Later seeded and spread Turf Builder. It was dry so had to water and it was slow coming along. But now it looks wonderful.
J C H—Whitestone, N Y

Hodgepodge. Erase did a thorough job of killing our hodgepodge grass. Now my new lawn is emerging, bright and lusty.
I C—Seattle, Wash

Now is the right time!

If you've decided that what you really want is a brand new lawn, don't delay. By using ERASE now, you will be ready to plant seed at the most favorable time of the whole year.

Never mind if it does seem more like deck-chair weather. Remember that with ERASE there's no digging. No lugging in topsoil.

The whole job — Erase, Scotts seed and Turf Builder — costs less than 1¢ a square foot. Your new lawn will be a reality this Fall—a delight next Spring. Like all Scotts products, ERASE is unconditionally guaranteed.

There is a Scotts dealer near you. He can supply ERASE and answer your lawn questions.

All you have to do is to fill a Scotts Spreader with clean, granular CLOUT, set the dial — and go. It takes only a ½ hour for a 5,000 sq ft lawn. Costs less than ½¢ per square foot.

The crabgrass will turn brown and begin to shrivel. The second application a week later completes the job. The time to begin is now.

Children, Mothers Get Acquainted With Teachers

Temple Beth Jacob Nursery School Holds Orientation

Temple Beth Jacob Nursery School held its orientation period at the school Thursday morning.

New enrollees and their mothers acquainted themselves with the facilities and teachers at the Elizabeth Lake Road premises.

Beginning its eighth year, Temple Beth Jacob Nursery, Inc. is for 3- and 4-year-old children, 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. The 3-year-old group goes Tuesdays and Thursdays; the 4-year-olds, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

In a cooperative nursery school such as Temple Beth Jacob, a mother is always present to serve as assistant teacher.

The school is nonprofit and nonsectarian in enrollment. It is licensed by the State Board of Education through the Department of Social Welfare and is a member of the Greater Detroit Cooperative nursery School Association.

It is also a member of the Cooperative Nursery School Association for the State of Michigan.

Mrs. Melvin Eller is director of the school. A graduate of Penn State University, Mrs. Eller received her master's degree from Wayne State University. She spent a year in graduate work at the Merrill Palmer Institute following her college studies.

Officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Harry J. Reed, chairman; Mrs. Joseph Partney, vice chairman; Mrs. Eugene Sikorski, recording secretary; Mrs. John Miller, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Morton Jacobs, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Gash, assistant treasurer; and enrollment chairmen Mrs. Morton Metzger and Mrs. Reed.

Sandbox play is one of the indoor sports enjoyed by the children of Temple Beth Jacob Nursery school. From left to right are David Solomon, 3, son of the Kenneth Solomons; Ellen Rosner, 3, daughter of the Arthur Rosners; Laura Morris, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morris; Jena Beth Nickman, 3, daughter of Mrs. Eugene Nickman; and Danny Metzger, 3, son of the Morton Metzgers.

The age-old fascination of story telling still holds true. These enrollees of Temple Beth Jacob Nursery school listen in rapt attention to the tales spun by their teacher, Mrs. Herman Stenbuck. This is only one of the activities in which she leads the children throughout the school year.

So What! You Might Be in Tub

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband and I both go to business. When I get home at night I have chores to do and it is not always convenient to receive visitors. Would it be rude not to answer the doorbell on an evening when I am busy doing things around the house?

My husband thinks it would be as the lights from our apartment can be seen from the street and visitors will know that there is someone at home. Will you please give me your opinion concerning this matter?

A: You do not have to interrupt what you are busily doing to answer the doorbell for unexpected guests. Visitors seeing your light from the street will realize that whoever may be there cannot come to the door.

To leave them with the thought that you may be taking a bath is better than opening the door only to say that you are sorry but you are too busy to see them that evening.

Q: I am going to give a bridal shower for a friend. I plan to invite about 35 guests and will assume all the expenses of the shower myself. I would like to know if it is necessary for me to give the bride-to-be a shower present in addition to paying for the shower?

A: It is not necessary, but generally a small inexpensive item is given by the hostess.

Q: My boy friend and I have been invited to the wedding of a friend of his. The boys have been friends for many years but I met the bride and bridegroom-to-be only twice. Is one gift between us sufficient, or must I give a separate present?

A: You need not send a present. The one sent by your boy friend will be sufficient and as you are not engaged, it should come from him and not from you both.

Q: When invitations are sent out two weeks in advance of the date for a wedding anniversary dinner party, how much time, or rather, how soon, before the date should answers of acceptance or regret be in the hostess' hands?

A: As soon as possible. No rudeness is greater than keeping a hostess waiting for her reply to an invitation which requires preparation for a definite number of guests.

Get Her a Date

Have Some Sympathy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is a girl in our office who is about 35. I'll bet she's never had a date in her life.

ABBY

She tells us about these romances she has on her vacations, and she even shows us lovey - dovey cards signed "Louie" and "Paul" that she buys and sends to herself.

She's not a bad-looking girl, but what an imagination! Should we take up a collection and send her to a psychiatrist?

OFFICE GANG

DEAR ABBY: I was married for 10 years to a man who was a devil to live with. Thank heavens that is all behind me and I am married now to a kind and loving man who treats me just wonderfully.

My problem is that I am still wearing the rings from my first husband and they are painful to wear because of all the unhappy memories that went with them.

I can't put them away and go without a wedding ring, and my second husband never got around to buying me any.

I guess he doesn't realize how important a wedding ring is to me. It doesn't have to be anything fancy like my first set. Any cheap set will do. How can I make him understand how I feel?

OAKIE

DEAR OAKIE: Tell him, Lady, tell him. And, if necessary, take him to the five and dime and make him buy you one.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I were married, my parents told me that as far as they were concerned I was dead.

You see, they are very orthodox in their religion and I married a boy of a different faith. We have been married three years and they have made no effort to see us.

I heard from an aunt that my father is very ill. I want to go to see him, but don't want the door slammed in my face. What should I do?

HEART-BROKEN

DEAR HEART-BROKEN: Go to see your father. The door might open. If it doesn't —you'll know you tried.

To Check Up on Promises

NEW YORK (UPI)—A women's group to check on whether politicians keep their campaign promises has been formed, it was announced yesterday.

The Associated Women for Better Government (AWBG) will report to some 20 federated women's organizations across the nation.

It hopes to reach 22 million women ultimately, "with its main interest the activity or lack of it by politicians

"Associated Women for Better Government," says Mrs. Duncan O'Brien, president of the group, "was started because ever since women have been able to vote, they have heard candidates make promises before election that are forgotten as soon as they get into office.

"Perhaps the cold, hard facts reported to women's organizations concerned about legislative matters may do something to change all that."

Careful Balance

Interesting Items About Local Doings

Mrs. Horton Graves and Bertena V. Graves of Palmer Street were hostesses recently to the Henry Diflows and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Stage and daughter Pattie. Former Pontiac residents, the Diflows just returned from a two-month tour of Europe where they visited friends and relatives. They now live in Las Vegas, Nev.

Mrs. Goldberg Shivers With Happiness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Arthur J. Goldberg, artist, popped an aspirin into her mouth today and told of skills of happiness running down her spine because of "an American dream come true."

The reason for the aspirin, she explained, was that:

1. Her telephone started jangling shortly after 4 p.m. Wednesday and has hardly stopped since.

2. She's in such an orbit of joy "I find it hard to be very coherent."

It was at 4 p.m. Wednesday that President Kennedy announced that Secretary of Labor Goldberg was being appointed to the Supreme Court to succeed Felix Frankfurter.

Mrs. Goldberg, a dark-haired woman with the emotional intensity of the professional artist, was doubly intense today. Not just because the great event happened, but because it shows that fine things can come to anybody who "responds daily to the tasks before him."

"Do you have a son?" she asked a reporter. "It could happen to him.

★ ★ ★

"Oh, don't make me sound too hammy, please. Some people say the American dream stopped with Horatio Alger! But it didn't stop."

★ ★ ★

Born in Chicago of Jewish immigrants from Russia, Goldberg married the former Dorothy Kurgans in 1931. Then he helped subsidize the completion of her education at the University of Chicago.

"And he's been subsidizing me ever since," she exclaimed.

HIS CAREER

Of her husband's career, she said:

"Oh, Arthur has special gifts, of course. But it all shows what can happen if one just concentrates on each task as it comes.

"And what a wonderful response his appointment brought! People not only have been calling me to say how wonderful, but they have been calling people who, they have heard, are friends of mine."

By concentrating on the task of the moment, Mrs. Goldberg has carved out a career of her own. Her abstract paintings hang in several well-known galleries.

Mrs. Arthur J. Goldberg plainly shows the happiness she feels over her husband's appointment as the newest Associate Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court. The attractive Mrs. Goldberg is an artist in her own right.

But since her husband joined the government she no longer sells paintings or holds one-woman shows. She does show some anonymously, in general exhibits.

Fittingly, her latest painting is about the American dream. It is fragments of color, she said, but if you look closely you sense an ancient scroll like the Constitution, and you can see letters appearing through the vapor trail of a jet.

★ ★ ★

They spell: "We, the people."

Discernible also, she said, is the exhortation of a New England clergyman in 1775; "Look back, look back, therefore, to the ancient of days when our fathers traversed a continent . . ."

★ ★ ★

Taking a look ahead, Mrs. Goldberg said that for the Goldbergs there will be "rededication" to work.

"There'll be problems to surmount, of course, she said, but that's the joy of it. The only time problems cease is when you are six feet under."

Many Bosses, Not Just One

Salesman Job All Right

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE N-411: Harry B., aged 23, is the college man who wanted to know my advice about a sales career.

DR. CRANE

"It's a rigorous profession," I told him, "but it offers you the very best job security.

"Unless you can marry the boss's daughter or have enough money to buy a big block of stock in the firm, you will have no job security to match that of a salesman."

Then I explained that in the usual office, store or factory, you have just ONE boss immediately above you.

If he dislikes you or if he dies and a new employer takes over, you may remain stuck in a pigeon-hole all your life.

Or, if the firm merges, the workers of the smaller member in the merger may be let out.

Not so in salesmanship. For every customer becomes an additional "boss." Thus, if you finally work up a clientele to the 500-figure, you have 500 bosses.

★ ★ ★

If one of them goes sour or moves away or dies, you don't then drop from your top salary clear down to zero.

No, you shrink only from 500 to 499. And with a little more cold canvassing, you can bring the number back up to 500.

STAR SALESMAN.

For business is now so competitive that most smart corporations know a good salesman will take most of his customers right across the street to a rival firm!

But salesmanship demands smart men with terrific vitality and perseverance. For you seldom sell on the first interview.

In my college textbook "Psychology Applied," I devote several chapters to advertising and selling, and have quoted a special survey made by 1,000 retail merchants.

They kept track of how many times a new salesman called on them before he quit in discouragement.

STARTLING DATA

48.2 per cent made one call and quit.

24.4 per cent made two calls and quit.

14.7 per cent made three calls and quit.

12.7 per cent made four calls and quit.

That meant that only one salesman out of eight made as many as four calls on a new prospect.

Yet these same retailers found that on the basis of their past buying habits, the bulk of their purchases were not made till AFTER the third call by a salesman.

So only one salesman out of every eight thus had any chance of getting business from those retailers.

SALESMANSHIP

Salesmanship is also not a glorified form of begging, which you often encounter on the streets when a man says:

"I've got a wife and seven sick kids, so please buy my shoe laces."

Prospects don't buy your wares, either as a doctor or merchandise salesman, unless your wares help them.

Too many novices, even with college education, ask for orders "to help ME."

Instead, show the prospect how your goods will help HIM. Keep the focus on that bull's-eye and your sales will immediately zoom.

For more advice, send for my booklet "The New Psychology of Advertising and Selling," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Be Adult, Do Things at Your Own Time

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Opening the kitchen's screen door just long enough to call, "Joe, come in to lunch," Mrs. X closes it. But her 5-year-old does not obey.

In the thick grass beside the back porch he is searching for the tiny light bulb that rolled off a step when he began to dismantle his father's old flashlight. Called again, he continues his anxious search for it.

His mother, coming out to the porch for the third time, sees him still intent on his own activity.

She feels a real sense of outrage, and says sharply, "Didn't you hear me call you for lunch? Do you think I'm going to hang around all day waiting . . .?"

For to Mrs. X the idea that anyone could be more interested in his own activity than in somebody else's is shocking. So she lives in constant apprehension of Joe's disobedience.

★ ★ ★

Any delay arouses in her mingled amazement and anger. As a result Joe, a normal child passionately committed to his own interests, gives her a difficult time.

★ ★ ★

SHE JUMPS

For Mrs. X is a person who must always jump at anyone else's demand. If she's busy and Joe calls from downstairs, she does not call back, "If you want to talk to me, come up here." Instead, with much annoyance she has never registered, she goes downstairs to discuss his question with him.

Childhood training has built into Mrs. X an automatic switch which compels her to respond immediately to any demand, regardless of the importance to her of what she is doing.

Whether she is writing a letter, or talking on the telephone, that switch of which she is entirely unaware compels her drop the activity in which she is interested to attend to some activity which interests somebody else.

Under such circumstances we can understand why this instantly obedient woman finds her child's refusals of instant obedience so unjust and bewildering.

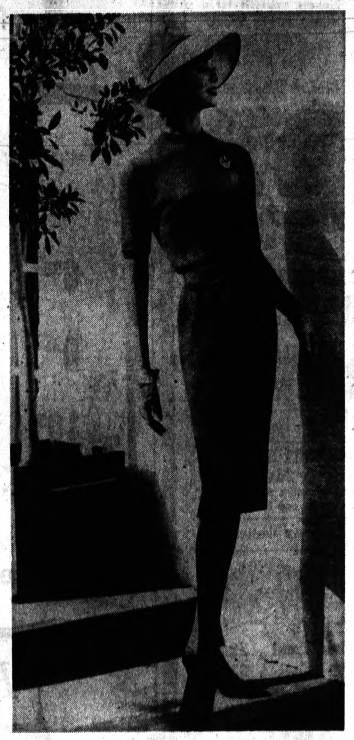
But if Mrs. X can't be helped, perhaps some of us can become aware of the irritation we feel when a child refuses to drop some activity that interests him to attend to one that interests us.

We can begin to watch for the automatic rushes we make to serve other people's demands and ask ourselves, "Why can't I take my time in doing what you ask me? Has my childhood training in instant obedience changed me from a person into an automaton?"

Make It Black!

If you can have just one evening gown in your wardrobe this fal l,make it the short black silk chiffon. Preferably with little cap sleves so that it can go out to dinner.



Classicism with the look of luxury from the fall sportswear collection by Catalina — this softened sweater-dress features an interesting pocket detail, partially covered belt and ribbed neckline and sleeves.

Club Plans Tee Affair on Monday

Forest Lake Country Club members will stage their annual "Shot Gun Golf Tournament" Monday. A shotgun blast promptly at 1:30 p. m. will set 36 couples occupying all 18 tees into action.

★ ★ ★

The event will be on a handicap basis. The younger set will compete over the holiday too in swimming and tennis events.

★ ★ ★

A special family buffet will be served later in the clubhouse.

Garden Club Plans Show

Mrs. Elvin McCarty of Fernbarry Drive was hostess to the meeting of the Lorraine Manor Garden Club, branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Tuesday evening.

★ ★ ★

Guest speaker, Mrs. Arthur Stiller, a member of the Holly Branch, instructed members on flower arranging for the group's upcoming "Miracle of Flowers" show. The affair will be held Sept. 14 and 15 at Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

★ ★ ★

Following the program a brief business meeting was held.

Garden Club to Present a Country Fair

Members and guests of the Bloomfield Hills Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will be entertained by Mrs. John Hammond of Hillwood Drive, Monday, Sept. 10.

A country fair and snack luncheon is planned for 12 noon. Chairman Mrs. Rodney Lockwood will be assisted by committeewomen Mrs. Robert C. Sadler, Mrs. Thomas R. Kilgour, Mrs. Walter Guthrie, Mrs. Lester A. Colman, Mrs. Robert H. Taylor, Mrs. Carl E. Larson and Mrs. Howard B. Barker.

The meeting will begin at 2 p.m. with a member panel discussing the topic "Gardening Delights and Defeats."

Blueberry Muffins Are Special Summer Treat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

There haye been recipes using blueberries in the food pages this summer. But who can have too many when there is an abundance of the fruit? Blueberry muffins are another treat and so easy to make for breakfast, luncheon or dinner.

Mrs. Gordon Carlson shares her recipe with us. She is active in a church group, in ESA Sorority and in the Waterford Child Study Club.

BLUEBERRY MUFFINS
By Mrs. Gordon Carlson

1¾ cups sifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1 well beaten egg
½ cup milk
⅓ cup melted shortening
1 cup fresh blueberries
2 tablespoons sugar
Mix blueberries with sugar.

Sift dry ingredients into a mixing bowl and make a well in the center of them. Mix egg, milk and shortening and add all at once. Stir quickly and only enough to moisten all the flour. Stir blueberries gently into the batter.

Fill greased muffin tins ⅔ full. Sprinkle top of batter with a little sugar. Bake 25 minutes at 400 degrees. Makes 1 dozen muffins. These freeze well.

How to Trim Fat

Raise Legs, Swing 'Em

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "I have been dieting but I do not seem to lose weight in my legs, especially the upper part of them. Due to this, my legs rub together when I walk and cause chafing. Could you recommend some exercises, and is there anything I can do which will stop the chafing while I lose weight?"

A. I judge that you are still overweight, so continue counting calories. The following is one of the best exercises for your problem.

Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor extending out from your shoulders, palms facing the floor. Raise your legs halfway up. Hold them at this angle while you swing them apart. Swing them together. Continue swinging the legs apart and together.

Q. "Will you please explain to me why my bust is always sore? It is even sore to touch."

A. This can be due to causes which are not serious, but any unusual condition should be checked by your physician without delay.

Q. "My problem is a little different. It seems that the left side of my lip is failing. It has become quite noticeable in the last year. You see I have had no back teeth (upper or lower) for several years, and have had to chew only on the right side. I am assuming that this is the reason for my trouble.

This problem is very serious to me. It has begun to get on my nerves because my lips were my best feature and now I feel that I am losing the most attractive part of my face.

At the present, bridge work is out of the question since my dentist says that the work would be quite expensive. Please help me with exercises."

A. There is no doubt that loss of teeth can affect facial contour, or that the habit of chewing on one side only may be a factor in your trouble. However, I suggest a physical check-up, and ask your dentist if he will work out a budget payment plan with you. In the meantime, try these two exercises.

Place your fingertips on your chin. Hold your lower lip in place while you lift your upper lip. Relax and continue.

Look into a mirror. Lift the left corner of your mouth up toward your left ear, (as far as possible). Slowly return mouth to normal position. Continue. Do this exercise slowly.

If any of my readers would like to have my facial exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 9, "Facial Exercises," to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tiny Things Grow Into Big Mountain

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A frequent complaint of conscientious wives is that they work hard to please their husbands only to have their husbands consistently find fault about "little things."

The question is: Are the "little things" a husband complains about actually big things in his eyes? That's what wives whose husbands don't seem to appreciate their efforts ought to try to figure out.

If a wife concentrates on doing what she thinks is important and what she thinks her husband should praise her for and all the time he keeps noticing the "little things" she neglects to do, chances are they don't seem little to him.

So if a wife is trying to please her husband, she is just spinning her wheels unless she acknowledges that little things are really big things if her husband considers them so.

★ ★ ★

If she fails to do this she is almost sure to end up counting all the things she has done to be a "good wife" and wondering what is wrong with her husband because he doesn't seem to appreciate her efforts.

A lot less effort directed toward doing what her husband considers important instead of what she is sure is important could make all the difference in the world.

Nothing so handicaps a wife in being a good wife as refusing to pay attention to the signs that tell her what pleases him most and what annoys him most.

Contest 'City' of Rochester

By DICK ROGERS

ROCHESTER — A verbal battle bloomed at a public meeting last night from seeds planted in a 1955 conflict between village and township officials over the incorporation of Rochester and a section of Avon Township as a city.

The meeting, the first on the incorporation, began in the Municipal building at 7:30, running in a smooth manner due possibly to a rehearsal staged in the village when a similar incorporation proposal was discussed in 1955.

Rochester village officials said they hope the outcome of this incorporation try would be more favorable to them.

The 1955 discussion, after a series of problems including a lawsuit against the village, resulted in a 3 to 1 defeat of the proposal by the voters.

HEAR OF DIFFERENCES

The meeting began with a nonpartisan briefing on the differences of the village and city types of governments by John Hunnewell editor of the Michigan Municipal Review, published by the Michigan Municipal League.

He stated that in order for a village, or any area to incorporate as a city, five responsibilities must be taken by the area:

1) The incorporated area must assess property for county and school tax purposes.

2) Collect these assessable taxes.

3) Provide its residents with elections on the state, county and national level.

4) Furnish representation on the county board of supervisors.

5) Establish a municipal court and pay for a municipal judge.

Hunnewell went on to say that most cities have had no trouble or expense in making the transition from being a village, except for the expense of making new election rolls.

Then the question and answer period began.

A familiar figure in the opposition to Rochester-Avon incorporations, Cyril E. Miller, Avon Township supervisor, asked "Has any city operated cheaper than when it was a village since 1955?"

Hunnewell answered that a survey was conducted that showed all villages and cities that increased in operating costs did so because of "a growing population or more and better services or a sophistication of the services offered."

He continued that many cities have realized less expense because the duplication of services between village and township were eliminated.

OPPOSED TO MOVE

Wayne Holman, a Rochester resident and member of the Avon Township Board, said that he was opposed to the incorporation because the city would only include six square miles and he felt the village officials were confining themselves by not waiting and incorporating the whole township.

Roy Rewold, village president and chairman of the study committee for incorporation, said that the committee felt the proposed city would add area by annexation. He cited Ann Arbor as an example of this.

Two large privately owned areas included in the proposed boundaries were discussed. The Parke, Davis & Co., in the Parkedale area, is included in the present plans and is expected to be one of the main tax sources of the proposed city.

Miller objected, "to any area outside the village area being incorporated. You could condemn the Parke, Davis land and I object to this on their behalf."

A Van Hoosen Farms representative objected to the proposal because, "Miss (Sarah Van Hoosen) Jones can see no advantage in her land to becoming a part of a city."

The chairman of the incorporation opposition committee in 1955, Charles Morrell, also stood up and voiced his views. "If you (the committee to study incorporation) are so concerned with the good of the township," he said, "you should take in the South Hill area — it needs the most development."

★ ★ ★

Rewold said he was confident that the area would become a part of the new city.

Following the meeting, Hunnewell pointed out that taxes would go up for a city if areas which needed a great amount of development were included in the incorporation.

He also stated that neither the village or township loses in an incorporation" unless "the city is not given services equal in proportion to those of the rest of the township for the taxes paid."

NEED 100 NAMES

Petitions, according to Rewold, will be in circulation beginning Sept. 12. A minimum of 100 names are needed on the petitions. The village president said that 10 of the names must be from the section of Avon Township that is included in the incorporation plans.

Obtaining enough names on petitions to the County Board of Supervisors would allow the steering committee to get the proposal and nominations for nine positions for a charter committee on a ballot.

Residents of the area to be incorporated would vote on the proposal to incorporate and nine committeemen.

If the proposal passed, the nine men would have the authority to draft a charter within two years of the passage.

The residents of the new city would then vote on the charter. If the charter proposal passed, the area would become a full-fledged city.

ROMEO AMBASSADOR — Functioning in her official capacity of publicizing the Romeo Peach Festival which opens today, Peach Queen Wallyne Ragel yesterday presented a basket of the succulent fruit to House Speaker John McCormack in Washington, D.C. Wallyne, who also was Miss Roseville Republican, got a 20-minute lecture on the pleasures of being a Democrat from McCormack.

PROPOSED CITY OF ROCHESTER—This map, distributed by the nine-man incorporation study committee, shows the proposed city of Rochester in relation to the present village. The proposed incorporation would make the city 4½ square miles in size as compared to the village's present area which encompasses 1 9/16 square miles. The heavy broken lines indicate the proposed city, while the shaded area represents the present boundaries of the village.

Governor Can't Crown Queen

Schedule Prevents Him From Doing Honors at Peach Festival

ROMEO — Because of "developments" in his schedule Gov. Swainson will have to forego the pleasure of crowning Romeo Peach Queen Wallyne Ragel here tomorrow night.

★ ★ ★

Taking his place will be U.S. Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Utica, who was the queen's official host in Washington, D.C., yesterday.

She was in the nation's capital to present peaches to House Speaker John McCormack and other state and national dignitaries.

Back in Romeo today Queen Wallyne's first official act of the 30th annual Peach Festival was to cut the ribbon opening the Thumb Area Art Exhibit in the Masonic Temple.

She will be crowned in impressive ceremonies tomorrow night at 8 in the auditorium of Romeo Junior High School.

Reigning with her during the Labor Day celebration will be her two maids of honor Berverly Brown of Warren and Irene Heydens of Utica.

Other events which will highlight the festival will be sky diving exhibitions all three days, the Dawn Patrol for Michigan flyers and softball games on Sunday and the two big parades on Labor Day.

The children's parade will be at 10 a.m. and the gala floral parade at 2 p.m.

Concluding the holiday festivities will be the spectacular fireworks display at 9 Monday night.

Farmers In County Stand Pat

Members of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) will withdraw their products from the market Saturday if processors do not meet their prices, but Oakland County farmers will not be taking part in the action.

A spokesman for the Oakland County Farm Bureau, which encompasses a vast majority of the county farmers said "We are against the action.

This is contrary to the enthusiasm expressed by Norwood Mills, treasurer and publicity agent for the Ingham County unit of NFO, who said the withdrawal of products by NFO farmers in the state would be supported "wholeheartedly."

★ ★ ★

Some 20,000 NFO members voted unanimously Tuesday at Des Moines, Iowa, to begin an "all-out holding action" to keep livestock, corn and soybeans off the market until processors sign collective bargaining agreements.

Eastern Michigan Fair to Open Sunday Night

IMLAY CITY — Cowboys from the Wild West will whoop it up Sunday and Monday during the first rodeo staged in many years at the 64th annual eastern Michigan fair.

McKinley's Rodeo and Wild West show will perform during the first two days of the seven-day fair at 2 and 8 p. m.

A parade of the cities will officially open the fair Sunday at 7:45 p. m., just before the second rodeo show of the day.

No gate admission will be charged for the fair Sunday, as many of the attractions, including the Happyland Shows, will not be set up until late in the day.

Gate admission charges will go into effect on Monday when the entire fair, including articles exhibited for premiums will be set up. The premium exhibits are to be in place by 10 a. m. Monday.

The work of the 4-H'ers and Future Farmers will be judged Monday morning.

The Marlette High School Band will give the first concert of the fair Monday evening at 7.

Harness racing will begin Tuesday night and continue to be a highlight of the fair the rest of the week except Wednesday when the "Hell Drivers" will put on the grandstand show.

Tractor pulling and the Almont Rube Band will also be featured Tuesday.

Wednesday, Danny Fleener's "Hell Drivers" will present their "Thrill Show" to matinee and evening audiences. B'wana Don and Bongo Billy, TV personalities also will be on the evening grandstand program.

HORSE CONTEST

Thursday afternoon 250 lightweight horses will compete in a pulling contest, matching strength with trucks.

At the evening grandstand performances Thursday and Friday, Johnnie Tillotson and the "Casuals" will entertain.

Saturday, the final day of the fair, will include professional wrestling in the afternoon, featuring "Leapin' Larry" Chene, The Beast, Ali Bey and El Gaucho.

★ ★ ★

The fair will close with the final evening harness races and a performance of "The Grand Ol' Opry" from Nashville, Tenn.

★ ★ ★

The entire fair will operate as scheduled, rain or shine, according to fair manager Kenneth D. Ruby. Everything is undercover, including the grandstand and stage.

Wheat Growers Favor Supports, Allotments

Unofficial returns from across the nation gave 161,242 for and 74,454 against marketing quotas designed to restrict production in order to reduce costly surpluses.

Oakland county farmers, casting 66 out of a possible 190 ballots, supported the issue 44 to 22.

The Michigan percentage favoring the proposal, 53.8 per cent, was under the two-thirds national approval required to continue current allotments and support.

SMALL MARGIN

Nationally, however, the proposal gained support by a favorable margin of 68.4 er cent, the smallest such margin over the necessary 66.7 per cent in 12 such referendum votes since 1941.

Edwin J. Lande, a U.S. Department of Agriculture official, reported that 373 Michigan ballots were challenged yesterday, compared to 305 challenged last year.

Challenged ballots, which are not counted in the tabulation, come about when the county referendum committee is unsure whether the grower will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat in 1963.

Lande, who estimated that some 40,000 growers in Michigan are eligible to vote, said he was surprised at the small turnout this year. Last year 7,997 voted, with 60.7 per cent favoring the proposal.

★ ★ ★

The program will allot 55-million acres to farmers for planting for the 1963 crop. It also would set marketing quotas which would limit sales to production on each farm's allotment. Excess sales would be subject to a penalty tax.

Family Reunion Slated for Avon Twp. Park

ROCHESTER — The Crissman family reunion will be held Sept. 9 at Avon Township Park here with dinner to be served at 1 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Officers in charge are Sherman Crissman of Detroit, Allan Rush of Lake Orion and Mrs. Grace C. Emory and Mrs. J. W. Marx, both of Royal Oak. The program will feature games, prizes and family movies.

Troy Man Is Struck by Car on Dequindre

TROY — Fredrick Poole, of 1051 Naughton St., is in satisfactory condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after being struck by an automobile while he was working with a city road crew on Dequindre Road yesterday.

Poole, who suffered a fractured left leg, chest injuries, and possible head injuries was struck by a car driven by Thomas Woodley, of 21456 Gilcrest St., Ferndale.

Woodley stated that he swerved to avoid hitting a car driven by Dorothy Lincoln of 1827 Birchwood St. and struck Poole. Mrs. Lincoln said that she did not see Woodley's car when she turned left on to Square Lake Road across his path.

Reside in Lapeer Following Nuptials

NORTH BRANCH — Residing in Lapeer are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thomas Tyrrell who exchanged their nuptial vows recently at the North Branch Methodist Church. Rev. Ralph Pratt performed the afternoon rites.

The bride is the former Karen Amanda Edwards, daughter of Warren B. Edwards, 5881 Cedar Creek Road and the late Mrs. Edwards. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Tyrrell, 1073 N. Saginaw St., Lapeer.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown with satin bodice and ruffled net skirt. A sequin crown held her shoulder-length veil, and she carried a cascade of carnations and roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Lee Peters of Lapeer with Allen Streu serving as best man. Bryan Edwards, brother of the bride, and Lee Peters of Lapeer were ushers.

OES Chapter Slates First 1962-63 Meeting

CLARKSTON — Joseph C. Bird Chapter No. 294, Order of Eastern Star, will hold its first 1962-63 meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Masonic Temple.

★ ★ ★

A ceremony dedicating new pedestals for the star points will precede the regular business meeting. Mrs. Roy Conrad, a past matron of the chapter, will present pedestal covers which she made in memory of her late husband who had served as patron.

Tells About Friend Hoot Gibson

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

★ ★ ★

"There was Tom Mix, Buck Jones, Hoot Gibson and me," he recalled. "They called us the Big Four of the westerns. We had two things in common: We were all range cowboys from wild west shows."

THOMAS

Ken's voice had a touch of sadness. This week he buried Hoot, whom he had known for 40 years in Hollywood. They had ridden the range together in a costarring series. They worked hard and played hard; in the 1930s they cracked up in a plane during air races.

"Hoot was hurt pretty bad in that crash," the old cowboy said. "But he got over it. What really banged him up was a horse he was riding in a show in Buffalo. It reared up and fell on him. Hoot had a bad back after that happened. A lot of these old injuries come back to haunt you."

BROKE SHOULDER

Ken is knitting a broken shoulder and is once again rehearsing his roping tricks. He hopes to get back on the rodeo circuit before the season closes.

How did he break his shoulder?

"I should say that my horse slipped," he said with a hearty laugh. "But it was a darnfool thing—I fell off the top of the trailer."

Ken and his wife Bertha live in a cozy trailer near the center of San Fernando, 15 miles north of Hollywood. They recently sold their Valley home and are living a less encumbered life, for a while at least.

Now a well-padded but still powerful 67, Ken spends many weeks of the year doing his roping act at rodeos and fairs. "Once I had 13 straight weeks of bookings and I never left the state of Texas," he said. He was born in Mission, Tex.

USED AS CLUB

A world's champion roper and bronc rider, he was starring in Ringling Brothers - Barnum and Bailey Circus when Fox brought him to Hollywood in 1922.

"I didn't know it at the time, but they brought me out as a kind of club to keep Tom Mix and Buck Jones in line," he said. "The boys were giving the studio trouble about options. Fox never used me, so I got out. I didn't have much trouble getting a job."

He became a star immediately and for 20 years appeared in one western series after another. His peak salary was $5,000 a week, but he netted as much as $8,000 a week when he was operating his own company.

Rising costs and television wiped out the program western after the war, and Ken dropped out of films after 1947. Asked if he saved his money, he said "I've still got a couple of bucks."

Does he watch today's westerns on television?

"No," he said. "I know what they're up against. They make a half-hour show in three days and an hour in six. In the old days, I always took six weeks to make a feature; once I had to do one in five and a half weeks and I raised hell.

"I always gave the public its money's worth. Once we had a location with 500 Indians. I sent back to the reservation for more, because I didn't think they were enough."

John Wayne Hurt in Realistic Battle

The scrit called for the 6-foot, 4-inch, 223-pound Wayne to fall onto a table. But prop men had put a breakaway table—one that falls apart at a touch—in Wayne's path. The actor slammed through the table onto the floor.

Wayne said he didn't think the injury was serious.

Kennedy Flies for Reunion With Jackie

The White House said Kennedy will time his departure for Quonset Point, R.I., Naval Air Station so that he will arrive at about the same time Mrs. Kennedy and 4½-year-old Caroline fly in from New York.

The Kennedys will go by helicopter to the Newport, R.I., home of Mrs. Kennedy's mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss. The Kennedys' 21-month-old son, John Jr., has been at the Auchincloss home since his mother and sister left for an Italian vacation Aug. 7.

Kennedy plans to return to Washington Tuesday.

Red Chinese Organize Border Family Guards

GANGTOK, Sikkim (AP) — The Communist Chinese army is settling units called "farmer guards" along the inhospitable Himalayan frontier to "secure the Tibetan border," according to reports reaching this Indian-protected border princedom.

The "farmer guards" sometimes are whole families which have the additional task of trying to convert Tibetans to communism and otherwise influence them to Chinese ways of life.

N-Ship Savannah Nearly in Collision

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The nuclear merchant ship Savannah narrowly avoided a collision with a Navy destroyer Thursday as she entered Hampton Roads on return from her maiden voyage.

A Navy spokesman said the Stickell, one of seven destroyers which entered the narrow channel at the same time as the nuclear ship, sounded emergency signals and backed down.

He said the Navy is looking into the matter.

Mackie Won't Pursue Money Request

Would Use Funds to Defeat Constitution

LANSING (AP) — State Highway Commissioner John Mackie said yesterday he believes a private fund of $3,000 to $4,000—collected three years ago to promote better highways—could properly be used in the fight against the proposed new constitution.

But Mackie added that he does not intend to pursue attempts to pry the money loose from a three-man committee which is holding it in escrow.

Originally the fund was to be turned over to Mackie to promote and promulgate highways and the public understanding of the need for them through an advertising campaign.

But it was decided to put the money in escrow temporarily after Mackie became worried that his political opposition would accuse him of pressuring contractors for support.

Mackie said he called Signor Peterson, a Detroit area contractor, Wednesday after being informed that Peterson, one of the three-man committee holding the money, might be willing to release it for Mackie's campaign against the proposed new state constitution.

However, Peterson told Mackie that he was not willing to free the money for that purpose.

DROPS MATTER

"The entire thing is a misunderstanding," said Mackie. "The only reason I called Peterson was that I was led to believe he would be willing to let the money be used in this manner. Since he told me he isn't, I don't intend to press the matter further."

Mackie said Peterson told him that he personally opposed using the money to campaign against the proposed constitution, but that he (Peterson) would check with the two other men on the escrow committee.

Mackie identified them as James Sterling and Jack Matson, both bonding contractors in Detroit.

Mackie earlier offered a report, at Gov. Swainson's request, in which he found the proposed constitution as written by the convention to be unacceptable in numerous respects and urged that it be rejected by voters.

Among his objections are the proposed revision of the highway department to establish a four-man bipartisan commission appointed by the governor in place of an elected highway commissioner.

Mackie also opposes a provision under which the legislature would have some control over gas and weight tax income which now is earmarked completely for road-building purposes.

Wirtz a Former University Professor

New Labor Chief Well-Known Arbitrator

WASHINGTON (AP) — W. Willard Wirtz, chosen by President Kennedy yesterday as secretary of labor, is a 50-year-old former professor who practices what he used to teach — labor law.

Promoted from undersecretary to succeed Supreme Court Justice designate Arthur J. Goldberg, Wirtz has been a widely known labor arbitrator before and since he joined the Kennedy administration in January 1961.

He was instrumental in settling a number of major labor disputes, particularly in the rubber and glass industries, before he entered the government.

Wirtz is a long time associate of Adlai E. Stevenson, now U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and was one of Stevenson's law partners dating from 1955.

★ ★ ★

Born in De Kalb, Ill., Wirtz has spent most of his years in his native state. He was active in the Illinois state government during Stevenson's administration as governor.

He also was a top adviser in Stevenson's two presidential campaigns.

TAUGHT AT NORTHWESTERN

At the time he joined the Kennedy administration he had been professor of law at Northwestern University, specializing in labor law, since 1946. He divided his time between the university, his law office and work as a labor arbitrator.

Earlier, from 1939 to 1942, he served as an assistant law professor at Northwestern.

He is a graduate of Beloit (Wis.) College and Harvard University Law School.

Wirtz is 6 feet 1 with graying hair and wears glasses.

When he's not working — and these moments are rare, says his wife Jane — Wirtz is most likely to join in whatever activity his family is pursuing.

At 21 Wirtz took his first teaching job as an instructor at Kewanee (Ill.) High School. Several years later he accepted a teaching post at the University of Iowa where he stayed until 1939 when he went to Northwestern.

★ ★ ★

During World War II, Wirtz served on various government boards. He was assistant general counsel of the board of economic warfare, general counsel and public member of the War Labor Board, and chairman of the National Wage Stabilization Board.

The Wirtzes have two sons, Richard, 22, and Philip, 13.

One N.Y. Doctor Says No More Evidence Needed

CHICAGO (UPI) — There is so much evidence linking cigarette smoking to lung cancer that no more is needed, a New York physician said.

"The evidence is far more precise, in fact, than that which has been accepted by physicians as adequate to take action against the causes of other plagues," Dr. Howard G. Taylor said.

"Nevertheless, the individual smoke does not relate the hazard to himself, either because the extent of the risk is not comprehended or the day of reckoning seems too remote," Taylor said.

Taylor, writing in the September issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, said, "studies already completed are adequate and are available for reevaluation if that is needed."

"There is the known presence in cigarette smoke of carcinogenic (cancer-causing) substances, the production of skin cancer in laboratory animals by smoke condensates, the predilection of precancerous lesions for the lungs of heavy smokers, and the numerous epidemiological and statistical studies showing a consistent parallelism between the number of cigarettes habitually smoked and the chance of developing lung cancer," he said.

Volcano Refugees Near Their Island

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Twelve refugees from volcano-ravaged Tristan Da Cunha sailed today on the lobster vessel Tristania on the last lap of their journey to learn if the South Atlantic island once again is habitable.

Tristan Da Cunha's 264 residents went to England last year after volcanic eruptions drove them from the island, where life had changed little in the last two centuries. Most found modern England vexing and longed to return home.

Dog's Cornea Gives Sight to Blind Man

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — An Iraqi surgeon who transplanted a dog's cornea to a blind man's eye says the man can now see a hand move 18 inches away.

The surgeon, Dr. Salah Aldin Aljarah, said in a television broadcast some complications followed the operation but they were similar to those involved in corneal transplants between humans.

"We cannot give a final decision in the case until we have made further operations of the same kind," he said.

GOP Hopefuls Anger Mackie

Highway Man Accuses Pair of Being Unfair in Their Charges

LANSING (AP) — Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie yesterday accused two Republican candidates for the legislature of "sensationalism and distortion of facts" in questioning the safety of a highway bridge in Berrien County.

★ ★ ★

"Frankly, I am disgusted with politicians who would seek publicity by undermining public confidence in the State Highway Department," said Mackie.

"We would never permit this bridge or any other to be used by the motoring public unless we were positive about its safety."

The controversy over the bridge arose when Garry E. Brown, GOP candidate for state senator from Schoolcraft, and David F. Upton of St. Joseph, a candidate for state representative, publicly questioned the safety of the bridge.

They produced photographs showing chunks of concrete to be missing from the underside of the bridge, which carries I-94 over railroad tracks near St. Joseph.

However, Mackie said the bridge had been reinforced instead of torn down and rebuilt. It now is stronger than when first built, he said.

"If these men were so concerned about the safety of the motoring public, their responsibility was to inform the highway department. That they deliberately failed to do so should be ample proof that their sole interest is a few lines of publicity."

Boy Falls, Hits Rocks but Suffers No Injuries

NEWBERRY (AP) — Doctors at a local hospital called in Jeffrey Marcus, 9, of Glencoe, Ill., for a second examination Thursday, but failed to find any damage from his 40-foot fall onto a bed of rocks.

The youth stepped off a footpath near Tahquamenon Falls Wednesday, but walked away from the scene.

Rocky Favors Silent Prayer in N.Y. Schools

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he is strongly in favor of a period of silent meditation to open the day in public schools.

The governor commented Thursday on a ruling by State Education Commissioner James E. Allen, who said there was nothing illegal about such a practice.

Allen ruled Wednesday that use of a verse of the Star-Spangled Banner as a classroom prayer is a violation of a U.S. Supreme Court decision that official prayers in public schools are unconstitutional.

Rockefeller expressed his views at a news conference.

School to Start in Waterford

Registration Times Set for Students' Return Next Week

Waterford Township school district high school students will begin regular class sessions Wednesday while in the elementary grades Friday will mark the official start of school.

Elementary pupils may register either Wednesday or Thursday at their respective schools. Kindergarten children whose last names begin with A through K inclusive will register Wednesday and the L through Z group will register Thursday.

Registration times are 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3:30 each of the two days. No bus transportation will be provided during the registration period.

Both junior and senior high school students have already registered and secured textbooks.

Teachers in the school system will hear Dr. Earl Kelley of Wayne State University speak on "The Aims of Education" at a general teacher meeting Tuesday morning at Waterford Township High School.

Elementary teachers will remain in the building for grade level meetings later in the morning. All teaching personnel will report to their respective buildings for afternoon planning sessions.

2nd Jail Term for Physician

To Serve Time on Two Charges: Drugs and Abortion

A bloomfield Township doctor who last month received a two-to-10-year prison term for prescribing narcotics illegally, was sentenced Wednesday to two to five years after pleading guilty to another charge.

Dr. Hugh H. Miley, 60, of 2759 Pendleton Road, was sentenced by Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Frank G. Schemanske for conspiracy to commit criminal abortion.

The two sentences will be served concurrently.

A Detroit woman who was co-defendant in the case also pleaded guilty and was placed under $1,000 bond to await sentencing Sept. 12.

Dr. Miley and the woman, Mrs. Myrtle M. Ward, 57, were accused of performing illegal operations on two women in Detroit.

Dr. Miley, who operates an office in Detroit, was convicted on the narcotics charge after a police plainclothesman said he bought a prescription of an opium derivative from him.

The doctor was fined and placed on probation and his license was suspended for nine months after a 1955 conviction for abortion.

Named to AEC Post

LANSING (AP) — Dr. Frank F. Hooper, a biologist with the conservation department, has been granted a leave of absence by the state to accept a one-year assignment with the Atomic Energy Commission. He will work as an aquatic ecologist with the AEC, and will assist with fresh-water research projects.

One explanation of the naming of Canada is that early Spanish explorers searched for gold there, found none and said in disgust: "Aca Nada" or "Here is nothing."

CALLING THE PLAY — Tigers' third base coach George Myatt drops to the grass to get a closer look (and indicate for the runner to slide) as Rocky Colavito skids safely into the bag in the second inning last night at Tiger Stadium. The Rock slid around third baseman Al Smith's tag attempt. The White Sox, 5-4.

Errors Beat Tigers, 5-4

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — "We should have won it, we should have won."

Bob Scheffing, his palms cupped together over his face in frustration, kept repeating it.

No matter how many games the Tigers lose, as they did last night to Chicago, 5-4, the Detroit manager doesn't adjust. Scheffing hates to lose, particularly in a give-away fashion.

Errors by second baseman Dick McAuliffe and the normally slick-fielding relief pitcher, Terry Fox, in the late stages of the game handed victory to the White Sox.

The competition for fourth place between the Tigers and White Sox is a tense struggle with enough maneuvering for a first-place showdown.

PULLED STRINGS

But Lopez—he pulled his pitchers like a puppeteer and made the act work. Lopez used five pitchers to get the last eight outs.

He lifted Frank Baumann after the southpaw struck out a batter. He yanked Turk Lown two batters later, just after the reliever was touched for a popup to short center. Dean Stone came on and retired the last two Tigers in the eighth. Then Lopez pulled Stone after he'd warmed up for the ninth, but before he threw a pitch.

Scheffing, meanwhile, was maneuvering into his bench and bullpen. The Tiger manager replaced Bubba Morton at first with southpaw swinging Bob Farley in the eighth. Before Farley got a chance to bat in the bottom of the inning, Scheffing replaced him with another left-handed hitter, Vic Wertz.

But in the end, it was Al Smith's long homer and two Tiger errors that changed the course of the game. Smith's two-run drive into the center field stands wiped out a 3-2 Tiger lead in the eighth.

The White Sox opened their lead to 5-3 on another unearned run in the ninth. Terry Fox, the third Tiger pitcher, threw away Sam Esposito's bopper in front of the plate and the deciding run scored.

The Tigers tried desperately to pull it out with two down in the ninth. Pinchhitter Bobo Osborne, Chico Fernandez and Billy Bruton singled for one run. But with the tying run on third, Lopez went to his bullpen for the fourth time. He brought his rookie Mike Joyce to replace Eddie Fisher and pitch to Al Kaline.

The kid from Royal Oak and Michigan got Kaline on a long liner to center for the final out.

Lary Throwing Well, May Pitch Sunday

DETROIT (UPI) — Frank Lary threw for about 15 minutes before last night's game with the White Sox and said he felt no pain.

"He didn't give it all he had," manager Bob Scheffing said. "But it was encouraging anyway. He looked okay."

Lary, held to only two victories — a slip of 21 from last season — before going on the disabled list, tomorrow. The 25-man player limit will be lifted then.

"If he's all right, I'll start him," Scheffing said. He indicated there was a possibility Lary might draw the starting nod for Sunday's final game with Chicago.

BULLPEN WORK

"We may use him as the situation presents itself—possibly in relief before then," Scheffing added.

Don Mossi, who pitched an encouraging inning Monday night against Boston, was sidelined yesterday with a cold.

"He came up with a fever Wednesday night and still had it Thursday," Scheffing said. "We gave him a cold shot for it and sent him to bed. I hope he's ready to pitch in a couple of days."

★

Ron Nischwitz, loser in last night's contest, twisted his right knee sliding into second in the seventh inning. It was the eighth inning that Nischwitz gave up a two-run homer to Al Smith which paved the way for Chicago's victory.

Norm Cash, recovering from his broken finger, took advantage of his idleness to have his tonsils removed yesterday. The Tigers had planned to have Cash undergo the tonsillectomy at the end of the season.

Scheffing expects to have Cash back in the lineup in two weeks.

Chico Fernandez' homer last night was the Tigers' 173rd this season. The Tigers are only seven shy of the club record of 180 homers they hit in 1961.

Reds Defeat Dodgers, Giants Edge Braves

By The Associated Press

Author-pitcher Jim Brosnan, who survived "The Long Season" and currently is wrapped up in "The Pennant Race," has just about finished his research for another literary effort. Tentative title: "Whew!"

Brosnan got a first-hand look-see Thursday night when he trudged out of the bullpen in the ninth inning and preserved a Cincinnati triumph over National League-leading los Angeles that kept the defending champion Reds within range of the Dodgers.

The third-place Reds led 5-0 behind Jim O'Toole's five-hitter when the Dodgers rallied in the ninth. Three runs were in and the bases were loaded when Brosnan got the call and started researching a sequel to his already published "The Long Season" and "The Pennant Race."

OUT OF IT

Duke Snider was the first batter against the 33-year-old right-handed relief specialist. He was called out on strikes. Maury Wills then beat out a hit, making it 5-4 and leaving the bases loaded. Jim Gilliam stepped up, worked the count to 3-2, then lifted a soft fly to center field.

"Whew!"

The triumph, salvaging the last of the three-game series, left the Reds 5½ games behind the Dodgers, who are 2½ in front of second-place San Francisco. The Giants closed ground as Jack Sanford posted his 13th straight victory, 3-2 over Milwaukee on homers by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Jim Davenport.

While the pennant race was grabbing the spotlight, some other noteworthy achievements were recorded.

Mays' homer was No. 40, marking the fourth time in his career the Giants' slugger has reached the 40-mark and started Warren Spahn down to his first August defeat in three years.

Pittsburgh clipped the Chicago Cubs 5-3, but again had to call on relief ace Elroy Face—and he responded with his 21st save. Meanwhile, Chicago second baseman Ken Hubbs played errorless ball for the 72nd game—one game short of Bobby Doerr's record.

Philadelphia used Don Demeter's grand slam homer and a run-scoring single by Roy Sievers for five runs in the eighth to beat New York 8-7, the Mets using five pitchers in the inning and tying a major league record.

FAST START

The Reds pounced on Dodger starter Stan Williams (12-9) for four runs in the first inning on run-producing singles by Frank Robinson and Gordy Coleman, an error on Coleman's hit by Willie Davis that enabled Robinson to score, and a wild pitch. Jey Lynch's double drove in the run that proved to be decisive in the fifth. When O'Toole (14-13) faltered, Bill Henry came on and then Brosnan, who has not allowed an earned run in his last 10 appearances.

Mays and Cepeda hammered consecutive homers in the first while Davenport connected in the sixth for the eventual game-winner off Spahn (14-12), who had won six in a row, Sanford (19-6) had a one-hitter until the seventh when Fank Bolling and Spahn hit back-to-back homers. Before the game was over, the Giants had used five relievers—Bob Bolin, Billy O'Dell, Stu Miller, Mike McCormick and Don Larsen.

Donn Clendenon paced the Pirates' offensive with a homer and two doubles, driving in four runs and providing Al McBean (14-8) with a big lead. McBean had allowed only two singles until the eighth when the Cubs struck for two runs, bringing on Diomedes Olivo and then Face. Don Cardwell (6-14) took the loss.

The Phillies' uprising tagged Robert G. Miller (2-2) with the defeat while giving the triumph to Jack Baldschun (8-7). Sievers also homered for the Phils as did Clay Dalrymple and John Callison while Jim Hickman connected for the Mets.

IT'S AN ERROR — Cincinnati's Eddie Kasko seems to be all set (left) to gather in Frank Howard's ninth inning grounder against the Dodgers last last night. But he fumbles the ball (right) as Jim Gilliam of the Dodgers heads from second to third. The Dodgers picked up four runs in the inning, but the Redlegs won, 5-4.

Mrs. Panasiuk Wins at PCC

WMGA Title to Canada

Mrs. Nick Panasiuk completed a successful invasion of the United States yesterday.

The Windsor housewife defeated Isobell Burrell of Detroit 4 and 2 to win the Women's Montropolitan Golf Association's match play championship at Pontiac Country Club.

Mrs. Panasiuk swept across the border this year to compete for the first time in WMGA events.

She compmleted the 18 holes yesterday to post an 82. Included in her round were seven pars and four birdies. Mrs. Panasiuk needed only 30 putts.

GOLFING FAMILY

Mrs. Panasiuk's son, Bob, is a pro in Toronto. She has two other golf playing children.

Mrs. W. W. Foster defeated Mrs. R. A. Gregory 7 and 5 for the first flight crown. Mrs. Eugene Wielock won the second flight with a 2 and 1 decision over Mrs. J. E. Vollmer. Mrs. W i l l i a m s Addlery downed Martin Stefanic 3 and 2 for the third flight title.

Mrs. Betty Edwards won over Mrs. G. R. Roth 1-up in the top consolation flight.

In the other consolation championship matches, Mrs. Delbert Raymond won the first flight with a 1-up victory over Mrs. J. M. Reed. The second flight went to Mrs. L. Gariepy, 1-up, over Mrs. A. Asulewicz, and Mrs. R. Gilcrest topped Helen Gilbert 8 and 7 in the third flight.

Dodgers May Top 2 Million Mark Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If the Los Angeles Dodgers were as far ahead in the standings as they are in attendance, they couldn't help winning the National League pennant if they played the rest of the season on stilts.

They've got a chance to go over 2 million in home attendance tonight when they open a three-game series with Milwaukee. And, with 18 home dates left, they can hardly miss breaking their own National League attendance record of 2,253,887, set two years ago at the coliseum.

Meanwhile, down on the field, the Dodgers are looking somewhat prosperous. They've lost 10 of their last 18 games.

Their lead over second-place San Francisco was reduced to 2½ games Thursday night when they were beaten 5-4 by Cincinnati before a crowd of 43,588. This turnout raised Dodger home attendance to 1,967,365.

Huron-Airway Plays at State Meet Today

Huron-Airway of Pontiac was scheduled to make its debut today at 4 p.m. as the annual Michigan Amateur Baseball Championships moved into the 2nd day at Battle Creek.

The local men will go against Saginaw district runnerup Pincon-ning. Saginaw played Jackson this afternoon and Dearborn vs. Muskegon tonight.

Play started last night when host Battle Creek outslugged Wyandotte for a 14-12 victory.

Detroit Offense at 370 Yards Game Average

Milt Plum - Etcheverry to Match Passing Wits in Two Games

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The Detroit Lions will either find out how good their running offense is for the next two weeks or the St. Louis Cardinals will learn the facts about the defensive line which they have been boasting about after three exhibition games.

The two teams face each other on consecutive weekends in Omaha, Saturday night and the following Friday night in St. Louis to close the five-game exhibition schedule.

To date, the Lions have rolled up 1,117 yards or an average of 370 in total offense per game. They have nearly doubled their opponents in passing yardage.

The Cardinals are making their biggest boast about the defensive line which has allowed the opposition only 61 yards running per game. The Lions vaunted defense however has given up 110 rushing yards on an average per game.

The apparent problem for both teams has been aerial defense, while their success has been through passing.

If statistics are any indication, it appears that the Lions and the Cards should engage in a couple good passing duels.

Milt Plum has found a sharp range with 27 completions in 44 attempts for 366 yards, but Earl Morrall stands very close in the figures with 23 out of 43 and 348 yards.

Sam "The Rifle" Etcheverry, who led the Cardinals to victory in the last three games of the 1961 season, is showing good passing form in three pre-season games. He has hit on 39 of 73 passes for 329 yards and the big target has been Sonny Randle on the receiving end of 11 passes and five touchdowns to date.

The Cardinals' running game has been hampered twh the injury to John David Crow, but rookie Bill Triplett and Prentice Gautt are expected to supply the team with sufficient ground power.

PLUM TO KICK

Coach Wilson said he was not disappointed with Walker's kicking but that the kicking job could affect his play as a linebacker.

"We want to give Plum a chance to kick, it will take some of the pressure off Walker," Wilson said, "but Walker is still the best distance kicker we have."

The Lions meanwhile gave veteran Jim Weatherall his release yesterday. The 32 year old former Oklahoma star did not play in 1961 and tried a comeback this year.

Game time at Omaha Saturday night will be 9:00 p. m.

Cincinnati Coach Fined

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach Pete Whisenant of the Cincinnati Reds was fined $100 Thursday and suspended for three days by National League President Warren Giles.

Whisenant was disciplined for his part in a dispute during the 12th inning of Cincinnati's game with the Los Angeles Dodgers Wednesday night. Whisenant and Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson were ejected from the game after a balk was called on Joey Jay in the Dodger 12th.

Polish Tennis Star Fled Nazis, Reds

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The "Iron woman" of tennis from behind the Iron Curtain is Jadwiga Jedrzejowska, still going strong after more than 30 years on the courts.

★ ★ ★

"It's wonderful to be back—I never thought it would happen," the 49-year-old Polish matron said today, scanning the broad green expanse of the West Side Tennis Club.

"It's like a dream."

Jadwiga is playing again in the United States Championships where 25 years ago—in 1937—she gained the women's singles final before losing to Anita Lizana of Chile.

★ ★ ★

"I returned in 1938 and lost in the semifinals," she recalled. "That was my last year. The war came, and. . ."

TWO OCCUPATIONS

She weathered two occupations —first by the Nazis and then by the Russians. Her home in Warsaw was bombed by the Germans and she said, "I was left without anything—no home, no food, no clothes."

She fled to Katowice, Poland's coal city, and married a man in the building trade. She went through harrowing experiences she declines to discuss in detail but continued to play tennis.

★ ★ ★

"I don't like to talk about it—I don't even want to think about it," she said. "I am here and everything is well. Let us forget what has gone behind us."

Jadwiga has been Poland's No. 1 player since 1929 and she has won the national championship 26 times. She was finalist at Wimbledon in 1937, losing to England's Dorothy Round.

INVITATION ACCEPTED

She said she was thrilled several weeks ago when she received an invitation to play at Forest Hills as part of the People-to-People sports program. Her first opponent is Margot Dittmeyer of Germany, a girl some 30 years her junior.

★ ★ ★

"Everything around the club looks just the same," Jadwiga said. "But the faces of the girls are different. They are so young and so good."

★ ★ ★

Jadwiga—popularly known as "Jaja"—is proudest of the fact that she beat America's famed Alice Marble four times, once in the semifinals at Wimbledon. She barely missed a clash with Helen Wills when the latter was eliminated in an early round of the Queens Club Tournament in England.

How will she do here—in 1962

"I don't know, and it doesn't matter," she said. "Just being here—I have already won."

San Diego Wins PCL

VANCOUVER (AP)— The San Diego Padres Thursday night won their first Pacific Coast League pennant since 1954 by edging the Vancouver Mounties, 5-2, in the seven-inning opener of a double-header.

Right-hander John Tsitouris went the distance for his 13th victory as the Padres stretched their margin to 14 full games over second-place Salt Lake City.

College Grid Drills Start

By United Press International

Everybody's an All America today.

That's what the coaches of Michigan's four major colleges hoped as they opened practice for the 1962 season.

The University of Michigan, Michigan State, Western Michigan and University of Detroit all paraded their Saturday heroes before the news' cameras in the first day of practice.

Probably the top team in the state in the pre-season forecasts was Michigan State. The Spartans have been universally pegged as one of the powers of the country this season and even dour Duffy Daugherty admits his first team looks promising.

The other Big Ten entry, the University of Michigan, figured that replacing graduating veterans would be the most difficult chore this year. Head coach Bump Elliott suffered a blow only yesterday when he learned that John Henderson, a 6-foot-3, 195-pound sophomore, would be ineligible because of scholastic difficulties.

Henderson was slated for the top contender in the fight for the right end spot. The two brightest hopes, Doug Bickle of Traverse City and Bruce McLenna of Fenton, both lettermen last year, were dropped from the squad because of book trouble.

NEEDS QUARTERBACK

At Western Michigan, Merl Schlosser will be looking for a top-notch quarterback to replace Ed Chlebek, who graduated last year.

Detroit's new coach, Don Idzik, said he would concentrate on defense this year in his bid to raise the Titans to football prominence. Calling signals for the Titans will be a healthy Jerry Gross, who was in contention last season for the top offensive player in the nation until he suffered a broken ankle when the Titans lost to Army.

In pre-season prognostications, Daugherty sat on top of the state heap with a power-packed Spartan aggregate. Among the 24 lettermen returning this year are fullback George Saimes; center Dave Behrman, an All America; and tackles Jim Bobbit and Ed Budde. Quarterbacking chores will be handled by Pete Smith and Chuck Miyanka.

The Wolverines might be in a spot to move this year with good backfield strength. Four talented lads will battle for the quarterback slot on the Wolverines, Bob Chandler, veteran Dave Glinka, Bob Chandler and Frosty Evashevski, who missed last season because of an injury. Speedster Dave Raimey is a cinch to brighten one of the halfback slots but his running mate, Bennie McRae graduated.

Aside from the problem at right end, it might be Elliott's year.

Western Michigan should about break even this season. Graduation hurt the Broncos badly, especially Chlebek. The chief contender to take over the signal-calling spot is Marine veteran Roger Theder, a senior who played most of his career in Chlebek's shadow.

Sixty-six men are expected to report for training with the Bronco herd, including 21 lettermen.

A strong defense and a healthy Gross could spell independent success for the Titans. Along with the pony quarterback, Idzik will have the leading rusher of last season, Vic Battani, back this fall.

The end spots were hurt by graduation but Idzik was high on John Lower and Tom Bolz as offensive flankers. The interior line of the Titans is sprinkled with veterans and in all, Idzik should have a good nucleus upon which to build his team.

The players at the schools will spend most of today posing for pictures and entertaining newsmen. Practices begin in earnest tomorrow and early next week.

TAKING AIM — Claude De Gronckel of Belgium, vying for a berth in the National Tennis Championships at Forest Hills, N. Y., concentrates on his return during a qualifying match yesterday. He lost to Chancey Steel, of Cambridge, Mass., 2-6, 13-11, 6-3, 11-9.

Seeks U.S. Repeat Over Laver

Emerson Starts Tennis Title Defense

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., (AP)— Roy Emerson, the forgotten man of Australian tennis was squarely on the spot today as he stepped on the center court of the West Side Tennis Club to begin defense of his United States National Tennis Championship.

★ ★ ★

All season long, the easy-going Emerson has been plodding along in the shadow of his Davis Cup teammate, Rod Laver. In no fewer than eight countries has Laver won the national championship this year, while cutting down everyone who stood in his way.

This is Emerson's final chance of the year to step out of Laver's shadow before the Aussies defend the Davis Cup in December.

FIRST OPPONENT

The dark-haired Emerson's first round opponent was Pancho Contreras, the sometime-playing captain of the Mexican Davis Cup team that knocked the United States out of the running in the American Zone competition earlier this month.

Contreras did not figure to be a problem for Emerson. These days, Pancho is far more occupied with whipping his team into shape for the interzone semifinal against Sweden in October than he is in advancing his own cause.

★ ★ ★

"I feel very good now," said Emerson, "and I'd have to say I'm as ready for this tournament as I'll ever be."

His aching leg that caused him to default at Wimbledon?

"All better, no complaints at all."

Emerson doesn't mind Laver getting all the glory. But he would like to show the folks back home that he still is alive.

"I did beat Rod in straight sets in the finals last year," Emerson recalled, "so I should have a chance."

Of all the top players, Emerson has the easiest road to the semi-finals. He got a big break when Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy, who was seeded seventh, scratched. Now the only player in his quarter who might make things difficult is Mike Sangster of Britain.

McKINLEY READY

Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., America's hope for the title, also was scheduled to play his first round match. He drew Bob Bowditch of Worcester, Mass. Laver and fourth-seeded Rafael Osuna of Mexico don't get into action until Friday.

In the women's division, the top match of the day was between Mrs. Karen Hantze Susman of San Diego, Calif, and Justina Bricka of St. Louis. This was a battle of 19-year-olds and Wightman Cup teammates. Mrs. Susman is ranked No. 2 nationally. Miss Bricka is No. 5.

Margaret Smith of Australia, who has dominated women's tennis all year, and Mrs. Susman are the favorites to advance to the final. Miss Smith drew a first-round bye. Maria Bueno of Brazil went against Renate Ostermann of Germany.

St. Louis Legion Wins

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — St. Louis remained undefeated in the American Legion Little World Series Thursday night, downing Billings, Mont., 7-4. Hawaii beat West Allis, Wis., 22-6 in the night's second game.

In loser's brackets games, New Orleans eliminated Buffalo, N.Y., 6-4 while Hampton, Va., sidelined Somerville, Mass., 10-0.

Suspend Uelses for Taking Pay

AAU Drops Vaulter From Amateur Ranks in Move

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., (AP)—John Uelses, the first man to pole vault 16 feet, has been suspended from further amateur competition but his mother said she felt he would continue to perform.

★ ★ ★

The suspension was announced Thursday by Mrs. June Krauser, chairman of the Florida Gold Coast chapter of the Amateur Athletic Union.

She said Uelses was accused of "demanding and receiving $185 from the Hollywood (Fla.) Optimist Club before jumping in the Hollywood Optimist Relays on March 24, 1962."

IN WASHINGTON

Uelses was reported to be in Washington, D.C., but could not be reached for comment.

Mrs. John Uelses Sr., said at Miami that her son had been living in Washington since his discharge from the Marine Corps last April.

He returned to Washington last Friday, she said, and told her before he left, "Don't worry, everything will be straightened out."

Mrs. Uelses said she felt her son would continue to perform, probably as a professional.

Houston Pony 9 Champs

THE PALMER METHOD

SWING THE CLUBHEAD

A most common error among novice golfers is the mistake of picking up the clubhead at the beginning of the backswing.

This premature cocking of the wrist takes the body right out of the shot, for a person swinging in this manner will not be able to pivot correctly. They'll use only the hands and arms.

For as long as possible, the left arm and club shaft should form a straight line, as illustrated.

By keeping the wrists passive, or unbroken, the golfer will be able to use his body and all of its power in the shot. Don't worry about your wrist-break. If you start out this way, they'll break at the right time.

Contract Talks Today

Lucas to Go Recruiting

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—All-America Jerry Lucas said here Thursday he will spend the winter recruiting players for a Cleveland team which hopes to land a berth in the National Basketball Association next year.

★ ★ ★

Lucas said he will go to Columbus, Ohio, Friday to talk with his attorneys. He then will go to Cleveland for contract talks with Howard Marks, an advertising executive who heads a syndicate hopeful of getting an NBA franchise.

Marks had said Wednesday that Lucas, a three-time All-America at Ohio State, would sign a 3-year contract for over $140,000. Marks said Lucas would be given a public relations job with his firm.

WORK FOR TEAM

Lucas said, however, that his job would be with the team and not with Marks' firm. He said he had been given an active hand in selecting the club's playing personnel.

"I will spend the winter scouting the colleges and signing players for our team," Lucas said.

Lucas, who has been attending a national Beta Theta Pi Fraternity convention here, said formation of the proposed NBA team will begin as soon as his contract terms are worked out.

★ ★ ★

"We're not trying to get in the NBA on the spur of the moment this time. With a full year to prepare ourselves, we feel we can get the franchise."

★ ★ ★

Lucas signed a 2-year contract for a reported $60,000 with George Steinbrenner, president of the American Basketball League, a rival of the NBA, after completing his eligibility at Ohio State in the spring.

He was declared a free agent, however, when the Pipers failed to land a berth in the NBA for the coming season.

Lucas said he will finish studies at Ohio State during the upcoming terms to obtain his degree.

Famed golfer Bobby Jones retired from active competition in 1930 at the age of 28 — but he had been golfing for 19 years.

Exhibitions This Weekend Next-to-Last for NFL

By the Associated Press

The continued resurgence of such question mark performers as Milt Plum, Jim Ninowski, Tom Wilson, Sonny Jurgensen, Sam Etcheverry and Zeke Bratkowski get further tests this weekend as all National Football League clubs take their next-to-last licks in exhibition play.

★ ★ ★

And it's the last chance for the American Football League teams, who begin regular season play next weekend, with Denver and Oakland meeting tonight in Stockton, Calif., and champion Houston playing the Dallas Texans in Miami, Fla.

Saturday afternoon, San Diego entertains the New York Titans while Buffalo is at Boston Saturday night, rounding out the AFL activity.

FIVE GAMES SET

There are five NFL games Saturday night, with the Cleveland Browns (3-0) playing the Los Angeles Rams (2-1) in Los Angeles; the Dallas Cowboys (0-3) taking on San Francisco (2-1) at Sacramento, Calif.; the Detroit Lions (2-1) playing the St. Louis Cards (1-1-1) in Omaha, Neb.; Philadelphia's Eagles (2-1) facing Pittsburgh (1-2) at Hershey, Pa., and two winless clubs, Chicago (0-3) and Washington (0-3) tangling in Norfolk, Va.

Sunday afternoon, the Baltimore Colts (3-0) and Minnesota Vikings (0-3) play in the Twin Cities, while the New York Giants (1-1-1) return to the scene of their 37-0 shellacking by the Green Bay Packers (4-0) in the 1961 title game for a Labor Day night game.

Ninowski, solidly entrenched at quarterback for Cleveland, and Wilson, a perfect running mate to fullback Jim Brown have been welcome additions to Coach Paul Brown's offense. Wilson, who came from the Rams, gained 109 yards and scored twice against the 49ers a week ago. Ninowski has taken a tight hold on the Browns' once-sporadic offense, as has Bratkowski, who has already thrown seven touchdown passes.

Quarterback John Brodie, who completed 23 of 33 passes for 286 yards for the 49ers against the Browns last week, may find the Cowboys' defense a bit tougher, and San Francisco's ground defense will get another severe test from the Cowboys fine runners.

ARM A-OK

Jurgensen's throwing arm, injured in a post-season game, is no longer a question—not with his sparkling 56.4 per cent completion average so far. He's thrown for five touchdowns, and gained 462 yards with 31 completions in 55 attempts. Pittsburgh, hit early by the injury bug, is beginning to jell and its ground game will test the Eagles' question-mark defenses, which are taking on a decidedly rookie tinge.

★ ★ ★

The Bears, still without a consistent attack, will try and meld fullback Rick Casares' fine running with quarterback Billy Wade's passing again. But the 'Skins' are starting to come around and what may be a rejuvenated running attack will find its true worth against the solid Chicago defense.

Denver and Oakland, AFL doormats a year ago, have improved a great deal with new personnel. Quarterback Frank Tripucka will run the Broncos, while two NFL veterans, M. C. Reynolds and Don Heinrich try and nail down the starting assignment opening day for the Raiders.

Houston, with star quarterback George Blanda back in shape, has its final dress rehearsal against what may be the AFL's fastest team, featuring All-America rookie halfback Jimmy Saxton, Abner Haynes and Jack Spikes in the backfield.

Detroit and Flint Still in Battle for National Title

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Three teams were eliminated yesterday as the National Amateur Baseball Federation tournament rolled through its second round.

Ousted in the two-loss-and-out playoff were Akron, Baltimore and Louisville. Twelve teams started play Wednesday. The championship will be decided Sunday night.

The top pitching performances in the open age class tourney have been turned in by Detroit's David Barber and Cincinnati's Larry Griffith. Both posted three-hit shutouts yesterday. Barber, a 20-year-old righthander, won over Atlanta 13-0, a game in which only two of the Detroit runs were earned.

Flint defeated Chicago 3-1 in the first round but lost to Memphis 6-3 in the second round.

Joe Archer Honored as Boxer of Month

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Joey Archer, the New York middleweight, was named boxer of the month and awarded a ranking in the top 18 by the World Boxing Association Thursday for his decisive victory over Jose Gonzalez.

The World Boxing Association is the new name for the expanded boxing group formerly known as the National Boxing Association.

Archer's victory over Gonzalez avenged the only defeat of his career. The handsome boxer model had won 30 straight when he was edged by the Puerto Rican last June. Archer was given the No. 10 rating in place of suspended Joey Giardello of Philadelphia.

Art Donovan Retires

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Art Donovan of the Baltimore Colts announced his retirement today after 12 years as a defensive tackle in the National Football League.

AP Photofax

Gains Amateur Semifinals

Gunderson Women's Favorite

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)— Joanne Gunderson, so nonchalant about golf that she frequently applauds vigorously with the rest of the gallery when her opponent sinks a nice putt, stood over a 4-footer at the 18th hole of the Country Club of Rochester Thursday.

★ ★ ★

She drew back the blade of her putter, then stopped, grinned at pretty Barbara Williams, and said: "I'm nervous, wanna putt this one for me?" Then this 23-year-old fun-loving girl from Kirkland, Wash., walked back to her ball and stroked it into the cup while a crowd of nearly a thousand persons roared.

★ ★ ★

Two holes later Gundy had won her way again into the semifinals of the U.S. Women's Amateur Championship and set herself as the favorite to nail her third title on Saturday.

GIANT KILLER

It's the strawberry blonde from the Pacific northwest, national champion in 1957 and 1960, versus Curtis Cup teammate Tish Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., and 17-year-old Annie Baker of Maryville, Tenn., against giant-killer Patsy Hahn of Wilmington, Del., in the 18-hole semifinals this afternoon.

The winners play 36 holes Saturday for the title and once again there will be a new champion. Defending champion Anne Quast Decker, attempting to become the first queen to repeat since Betty Jamson in 1939-40, ran into a Patsy who wasn't one in Miss Hahn Thursday. The 22-year-old five-times Delaware state champion fired a 1-under-par 35 on the front nine of the 6,161-yard, par 36-36—72 course, built a 5-up lead over Mrs. Decker and coasted to a 5 and 4 upset.

★ ★ ★

Miss Baker, who'll be a senior at Maryville High School starting next week, eliminated Marcia McLachlan of Danbury, Conn., 2 and 1, while Miss Preuss was one over par in downing Mrs. Harry Nevil, the New York state champion from Cooperstown, 4 and 2.

But it was Gundy's 1 up, 20-hole victory over Miss Williams a 24-year-old secretary from Richmond, Calif., and a tiger at match play, that furnished the bulk of Thursday's drama.

Three-up after 11 holes, Gundy found herself trailing going to the 17th. Miss Williams, who had seemed out of it, had dropped a 10-foot putt for a winning par on the 12th, a 5-footer for a winning birdie on the 13th, a 25-footer for a winning birdie on the 15th and then had rapped her tee shot within 18 inches of the cup for another birdie on the par 3, 16th.

SINK-OR-SWIM

After Gundy tied it with a par on No. 17, Barbara sank a 6-foofer for a par on the 18th and Miss Gunderson was faced with a sink-or-else situation.

"The putter was wobbling so much I was afraid I'd miss the ball completely," she said. "I didn't expect her to sink her putt. When she did, I got up to mine much too fast. Even after I backed away and then went to putt again, I was so nervous I thought I'd die."

Once the ball plopped into the cup, Gundy dropped her putter, looked at the heavens and put her hands together in a prayer gesture, and then marched into overtime. After they halved the first extra hole, she won at the 20th with a par 5 while Barbara hit into a ditch on her third shot, had to take a one-stroke penalty for a lift out of the hazard, pitched on the green in five and missed the putt.

Miss Preuss, runnerup to Mrs. Decker last year, said she played her best golf of the tournament so far against Mrs. Nevil but added: "I'll have to do it again against Gundy. She can hit with any woman in golf. She'll outdrive me from 30 to 40 yards on every hole."

LA Denies Plan to Trade 'Bo' at Present Time

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Any Belinsky was put on the waiver thing can happen," says a Los Angeles Angel official on the subject of Bo Belinsky's possibly being traded. "But there is nothing on it at the present time."

The official, General Manager Fred Haney, added Thursday that rumors of an impending trade of the playboy pitcher started when list Kansas City was prominently mentioned.

"That meant nothing," Haney said. "We put practically every player on the ball club on the list and you know we aren't going to get rid of this club."

It is common practice, it was explained, for clubs to ask waivers as feelers for possible future trades or sales. The names usually are withdrawn as soon as some club indicates interest in the player.

Belinsky has been in and out of Haney's doghouse for off-field activities.

This Poor Swimmer Has Problems – Girls

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI) — The fastest butterfly swimmer in the United States has a problem, or, as the logicians call it, a dilemma.

★ ★ ★

North Carolina State's Ed Spencer is the idol of girls wherever he travels to shatter swimming records. But the handsome and wiry, 6-1, All-American can't keep a girl friend.

"My girl, Susan, and I just broke up last week," the 20-year-old Wolfpack senior said. "What with traveling all over the country for swimming meets and 11 months of the year at North Carolina State College, we never got to see each other. Chicago was the trip that did it, I think."

Spencer went to Chicago to swim with the U.S. medley relay team in a triangle meet against the Japanese and West German teams, but a doctor ordered him to stay in bed at his home in Wallingford, Pa.

FELT 'LOUSY'

"As a kid, I was real sickly," he said. "Doctors advised me to take up swimming to try to build up my body and health.

"It worked and since then I've been devoted to the sport. I feel I owe the sport a lot. It's done a lot for me—both physically and socially."

N. C. State swimming coach Willis Casey's summer training schedule for his boys was admittedly rough.

"They trained for six hours a day," Casey said. "They began at five in the morning and swam about seven miles a day preparing for the meets. You could say they were kind of pooped out as far as any social life goes."

The quiet and reserved Spencer says he's willing to forego his social life next year for the Wolfpack.

"We all have espirit de corps," he said. "I know this is going to be my best year. I think I can worry about the girls after I graduate from N.C. State."

Pontiac Engines Used to Set Mark

Thompson Plans 700 MPH Car

DETROIT (UPI) — Speedster Mickey Thompson has finished plans for a rocket car he thinks will go 700 miles an hour, it was learned today.

Thompson, the world's fastest man on wheels, said his new creation would be much faster than the stock engine challenger he used to go 406 mph two years ago.

And the plucky speed ace from Long Beach, Calif., said the rocket car would top the jet car now being tested at the Bonnerville (Utah) Salt Flats by fellow Californian Craig Breedlove.

"If some people want to play around," Thompson said. "The rocket car is designed for a lot faster than 500 mph — it could go 700 mph."

The 33-year-old speedster said the car "is about one-tenth the size" of the jet vehicle Breedlove believes can go 500 mph.

Thompson said the car would be powered by a solid-fuel rocket engine. It would be 14 feet long, three feet wide and sit 22 inches from the ground. The driver would lay on his stomach in the back of the vehicle.

The car, of course, would need special tires. The ones Thompson used in 1960 were tested at 500 mph by Goodyear. Breedlove's tires were tested at 600 mph. Goodyear probably will make similar tires, which use many plys of fabric but little rubber, for the rocket car.

Thompson said, "We have the designs all finished and the front end built." He said he would complete construction "if someone beats my mark or the salt gets better."

SHORT RETIREMENT

Thompson tried to break his mark in The Challenger last month, but had to give up because of the condition of the salt. He said at that time he was retiring from high speed racing competition.

But he revealed he was coming out of retirement next month to return to Bonneville to set some new world's records.

Thompson will use one of the cars he built for the Indianapolis 500-mile race. But instead of the Buick engine he used at Indy, Thompson will power the car with a fuel injected Chevrolet Corvette engine.

"It's a very strange combination," Thompson acknowledged. "I'll probably do all the driving myself. I will try to run 175 mph for at least six hours — something that's going to be very hard to do."

Thompson, in his assault on a class record, will use a 10-mile circular course on the salt flats—the same course where he and co-driver set several records in a 1962 Pontiac last month. The high speed runs in the challenger were made on a straight 12 mile course.

A run by Thompson or Breedlove in the jet or rocket cars wouldn't qualify as a new official land speed record, breaking the late John Cobb's mark of 394.2 mph.

Sanders, Nicklaus Favorites at Dallas

DALLAS, Tex., (AP) — Doug Sanders, winner of three tournaments and among the top finishers in nine others, and National Open champion Jack Nicklaus headed the field in the $35,000 Dallas Open today.

The tournament started with Sanders and Nicklaus favorites for the $5,300 first money but with Earl Stewart, the home pro who won it last year, considered a very strong possibility.

Short-swinging Doug is the hottest player at this time, having won the last two tournaments. Nicklaus was eyed because of his great putting, since skill on the greens will be at a premium. They are not in very good shape.

Eleven players who have won tournaments this year and five of the 10 top money-winners were competing. The pros were talking about 276 or 277 winning the 72-hole event that runs through Monday. Stewart thought 275 might take the title. He won it with 278 last year.

7 Area Race Drivers in $2,000 Sunday Event

BIRCH RUN — Seven Pontiac area drivers will be competing at the Dixie Motor Speedway Sunday night for the $2,000 purse in the 4th annual Mid-Western Modified Championship races.

Among those who will hit the oval will be Bob Fredericks of Clawson, Dink Zanoni, Pontiac; Dick Dickinson, Rochester; Harold Welch, Pontiac; Tony Swaintsyn, Pontiac; Jack Harvey, Lake Orion, and Bruce Ferrell of Garden City.

Nats Nip Orioles Again

AL Battle Resumes

By th Associated Press

Joy was unrestrained in Baltimore when the Orioles swept five straight from the mighty New York Yankees over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

"If we played like that all the time, we'd win the pennant," said General Manager Lee MacPhail. The Orioles don't play like that all the time, and they are sixth.

Thursday night, the lowly Washington Senators clipped them 3-2 for the third time in four games since the Yankee sweep.

The Yankees, whose chances of blowing the pennant are really taken seriously only in Minnesota and the southern half of California, open the final month's drive by entertaining the Kansas City Athletics tonight.

GETS 'TOUGH'

"The closer they get to us, the tougher it gets on them," said Ralph Houk.

The Yankee ace, Whitey Ford (13-7), will go against Ed Rakow (12-14). The pesky A's beat the Yanks three of five during the recent road trip that wound up 6-11 for the world champions, with the five Baltimore defeats tacked on the end.

The Minnesota Twins, two games back, are at Boston, with Dick Stigman (9-3) facing Bill Monbouquette (11-12).

The Los Angeles Angels, only three games back despite having been written off about once a week since Memorial Day, met Washington in two, with Ted Bowsfield (8-7) and Don Lee (11-9) opposing Claude Osteen (7-1) and Steve Hamilton (3-5). The Angels invade Yankee Stadium for a four-game set, beginning with a Labor Day doubleheader.

Dave Stenhouse threw a one-hitter for the Senators Thursday night, as three straight hits with two out accounted for two runs in the first inning and Don Lock added the eventual winner with a home run in the second.

Russ Snyder tripled home both the Baltimore runs in the third.

Average State Farmer Sees Net Income Rise

LANSING (AP) — The average Michigan farmer had a total net income of $2,664 in 1961, a $573 increase over the previous year, Reporting Service said today.

The total net income, which includes changes in farm inventories, was $303.7 million for the state's 114,000 farms in 1961, a rise of 23 per cent over 1960.

Total cash receipts from farm products in 1961 rose 1 per cent to $733,947,000.

Motors Show Small Spurt

Trading Slow, Caution Prevails

Holiday trading was slack.

The gain was irregular and came as many Wall Streeters departed for a long weekend. The market will be closed Monday Labor Day.

Trading was at the slowest rate of the week. The advance, though slight, was the best of the week. Caution has prevailed over prospects for business and the market after the Labor Day milestone, a business "new year."

Brokers attributed some of the improvement to the fact that many of the pre-Labor Day offerings had already been absorbed.

A reported rise of factory orders to a new record in July was an encouraging note. Favorable reports about the 1963 auto models and a good outlook for profits in the auto industry were credited for the buying in motors.

STEELS RAGGED

General Motors sold at 53, off ¼ on a 10,000-share transactions, then canceled the loss.

Bond Prices Stay Mixed

One over the counter dealer in U.S. government bonds quoted long issues unchanged to 2/32 or 4/32 lower and some intermediates off 4/32. However, the market was extremely quiet, he said. Many dealers and customers already have started their holiday weekend.

Corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange barely maintained an upside edge. Industrials were up markedly but others sections only irregularly, if at all.

Chrysler to Demonstrate Turbine Car in Europe

DETROIT (AP) — The Chrysler Corp. gas turbine automobile will be demonstrated in London and Paris Sept. 29-Oct. 16, the firm has announced.

The demonstration car is similar to one Chrysler said it will produce in limited quantities late next year.

Flights Planned From Pontiac

Cleveland and Chicago Trips Start Tomorrow in New Service

Airport Service Lines, Inc., of Pontiac, will begin a new phase of business tomorrow when the company initiates direct flights to Cleveland and Chicago from Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Organized four years ago by Louis C. Linteau, of Pontiac, the company until now has specialized only in bus transportation from downtown Pontiac to Pontiac and Detroit area airports.

The air taxi service will operate on a tentative basis with a four-passenger twin engine Aero Commander. On Sept. 23 a seven-pasenger Aero Commander is due for delivery, according to Linteau.

The flight service will also carry freight.

"By Sept. 23 we hope to have scheduled flights to Chicago and Cleveland every two hours," Linteau said. "For someone boarding our bus at the Waldron Hotel, the entire trip to Chicago should take one hour, and to Cleveland, 45 minutes."

The planes are being leased on a 90-day contract with option to buy.

Grain Mart Mixed in Irregular Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market started off in an irregular range today in mixed and rather quiet dealings on the board of trade.

Most price changes were limited to small fractions either way from previous closes as speculators awaited first notices of intention to deliver on September contracts in the pits.

Corn slipped almost a cent at the extreme while wheat rallied a bit during the first few minutes and recovered small initial setbacks. Uncertainty over farm legislation in view of the narrow approval of acreage allotments and support in yesterday's farm referendum also was a factor in the trade.

Questions End (for a While)

Limelight Snubs Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Perhaps the most comfort businessmen can derive from this week's presidential news conference is that for the first time in a long spell there weren't any questions about the state of the economy.

All hands seem willing to let lie, for the moment at least, all of the summer's built-up fears about whither are we going.

And business could be the better for it. Industry and trade have problems enough of their own without everyone getting in on the guessing game. Also the publicized fears tend to feed the very trends some have direly predicted.

Even the stock market has stopped being a barometer, this week at least. It appears to be waiting for everyone to come back from vacation full of vinegar, if not big new ideas.

Business traditionally picks up after Labor Day. And stock traders seem to feel there'll be time enough to wait and see if tradition is followed rather than trying to guess ahead of time.

But the momentary truce in the talk about the economy's parlous future is about the only uncertainty that isn't still around.

STAKE IN POLITICS

What Congress will do is the most immediate. In the final weeks of a session many business plans are held up to see if specific proposals are accepted or rejected; Congress can change its mind quickly and frequently in the final days.

And business has a big stake in many of the questions President Kennedy did discuss at his news conference — foreign trade appropriations, the Cuban and Berlin problems, the atomic race, and even the make-up of the Supreme Court, which passes on a number of business problems each year.

American business has become so involved in political decisions, domestic and international, that any swift change in any of these fields can have a bearing on the business cycle.

Many factors outside of the economic trend itself affect tax policies and a great array of business regulations.

These same factors bear on consumer psychology. The results show up in stores, the home mortgage market, the balance between total spending and total saving.

The moves the government may take—or propose to take—in guiding the money market, counteracting a business slowdown or braking a speculative boom, financially aiding or retraining the unemployed, riding herd on price or wage increases—all affect the business cycle.

NOT ALL BAD

But the very act of making the proposals, and all the talk about their wisdom or necessity, can hold up or stimulate business planning, and to a lesser degree influence consumer thinking.

So the pre-Labor Day truce in heated discussions about whither we are going and why, even if the truce is fleeting, can be welcomed by many who would rather wait and see how business acts on its own and what consumers do about spending for the traditional fall goods and services.

The problems doubtless will all be dusted off again in another month or so as the congressional campaigners hit the trail. But by now Americans are used to crises, major or minor, and tend to take them in stride.

Disputes Denials Estes Got Favored Treatment

As the Senate Investigations subcommittee called Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy for a third day of questioning, Curtis suggested poor management couldn't be the entire answer.

"I cannot escape the feeling that somewhere in the top management of agriculture someone did respond to the gift-giving, free-wheeling, influential Billie Sol Estes to give him treatment far beyond what any other farmer in the United States would receive," Curtis said.

Curtis said he could not believe that the alleged influence deals of Estes resulted only because the agency is "so unwieldy that problems and even scandals were bound to occur."

POINTS TO RECORD

Curtis said the record shows that Estes had been fined for his Alabama cotton acreage allotment manipulations because they had been labeled as a scheme involving "representations to the government that are not true" and wound up "not only elevated to a high position but he had all of the attention that was given to him."

Murphy, without a direct response, said the case was a complex one, his agency is "top heavy," and added that "to the best of my information it has never been shown that Estes gave false representations" in the Alabama cotton deal.

The reference was to $48,000 of civil penalty fines levied against Estes in 1961 for planting cotton on Texas acreage in anticipation of receiving planting allotments which finally were denied him.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "My father, aged 74, has owned shares in Sears, Roebuck and Standard Oil of New Jersey for several years. He has realized good returns from these stocks. Less than a year ago, he invested in Revlon, which has been dropping ever since. Discouraged by this and the recent decline in the stock market, he is considering selling all his holdings and depositing the money in the bank at 4 per cent interest. What do you advise him to do?" W. H.

A) It is good of you to look out for your father's interests. His discouragement is very natural in view of the 1962 decline, which has had no parallel since 1946. Although there is as yet no conclusive evidence that the decline has fully bottomed out, I think your father would be unwise to sell all his stocks at present levels. I would sell Revlon, which still looks high, but I would hold Sears, Roebuck and Jersey Standard which are strong stocks that should ultimately sell higher.

Q) "I have been advised by my son to switch my U.S. savings bonds into Studebaker. I would hate to cash my bonds and take this chance unless I knew it was safe. Do you think this move would be wise?" G. B.

A) Absolutely not. Your son undoubtedly has your best interests at heart and would like to see you increase your capital. What he is advising you to do, however, is contrary to all the rules of investment and of hard business sense. You now own the strongest security in the world. If you positively required more income, it would be possible to switch your governments into higher paying securities that would be relatively safe.

Studebaker is a non-dividend, risk situation, a speculation that an able new management will perform a near-miracle and put the company on a firm footing. There is some chance that they will do so, but you can't afford to take that chance. By all means, keep your governments.

Hearing Slated on Charges in Contract Veto

DETROIT (UPI)—A hearing will be conducted Tuesday by the State Labor Mediation Board of charges of irregularities in a board-supervised election in which employes of private clubs rejected a new contract.

A protest of the ballot was filed yesterday by Frank E. Kenney, labor committee chairman for the Detroit Club Managers Association. He charged that the Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders International Union violated an agreement against campaigning near the polling place.

News in Brief

A fire started by overcooked grease on a kitchen stove resulted in $400 damage to a single-story frame home and contents belonging to Mrs. Gayle Johnson at 23 W. New York St. yesterday. City firemen extinguished the blaze within 40 minutes.

NEW YORK (AP) — All domestic stock and commodity exchanges will be closed Monday because of the Labor Day holiday.

Canadian exchanges also will be closed, because of Canada's Labour Day holiday, which coincides with the date of the U.S. holiday this year.

Ford, GM Set October Debut

To Unveil Two Dream Cars

By ROBERT IRVIN
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — Ford and General Motors will unveil two sporty new dream cars called the Mustang and the Monza GT in October, it was learned today.

Chrysler also is considering an experimental model, which like the others would be a two-seater intended for display at auto shows and sports car circuits.

The Ford model, an open roadster called the Mustang, uses the engine and drive line from the Cardinal small car.

GM will display the Monza GT at the Paris Auto Show Oct. 4. Ford also will exhibit the Mustang at Paris before the show closes. And it will show the Mustang at the U.S. Grand Prix in Watkins Glen, N. Y., on Oct. 7.

The Chrysler model, only in the planning stage, is an open car like the Mustang, would have a 98-inch wheelbase and be built from 1963 Valiant components including a high performance 225-inch engine.

AHEAD OF REAR WHEELS

The Monza GT uses a turbo-charged Corvair engine set slightly ahead of the rear wheels, unlike the production Corvair which has the powerplant behind the wheels.

The Mustang engine also is set ahead of the rear wheels. It's the same basic V4 engine Ford built for the Cardinal—the small car the firm decided at the last minute not to bring out in this country.

The engine is believed to measure about 91 inches (1500 CC's) and produce something like 105 horsepower. The car will travel about 120 miles per hour.

The Mustang is about 90 inches long from front axle to rear axle. The Monza wheelbase is slightly bigger. The Monza is about 41 inches high to the roof. The Mustang, which doesn't have a roof, is about 31 inches high.

Both cars have air scoops in front of the rear fenders to provide ventilation for the engine compartments. Both have headlights which fold into the front end.

Pennants Exchanged at Miracle Mile Rally

Pupils from 22 Pontiac area high schools exchanged pennants representing their respective schools yesterday and today from 3-7 p.m. at the first annual high school pennant rally at Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

The event will end tonight with a dance from 8-11 p.m. in the Miracle Mile parking lot.

Maybe HE Can Offer Solution

Have Son, at 9, Start Relying on Himself

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
Professor of Education
University of Southern California

The term "self-reliance" means just what it says — reliance on one's self.

Many school children fail to live up to their potential because they lack this ability to do things on their own. That is the problem that confronts one person:

DR. NASON

Dear Dr. Nason: Our 9-year-old son in the fourth grade has great potential. He will do anything for me if I demand it, including writing highly original verse. But he does it under protest and it stops there.

I would like to develop self-reliance in this child — but am at a loss as to how!

The pattern is the same outside of school, he completes nothing that he starts.

Mrs. J. F., Hillsborough, Calif.

By doing things at your insistence and to please you, your son gets no practice in relying upon himself.

I suggest you discuss this matter with him in a calm and serious manner. Let him talk about the problem and let him suggest a solution, or at least a small beginning.

Once he decides to start and complete one project under his own steam, you have made a beginning.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our boy is entering the eighth grade. He is large for his age, a muscular, good-looking boy who made all As in the seventh grade.

He is a quiet boy. He talks very little. We have concluded that he is hiding his crooked teeth. He is now going through the process of braces to correct this situation.

How can we help him overcome his reticence in talking, once his teeth are straightened?

B. R., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Talk the problem over with your son at the time his braces are removed. Encourage him to make a special effort to talk about interesting events at the dinner table.

Cooperate by listening. Encourage him to talk to his teachers and recite and contribute in his classes.

It will take a conscious effort on his part. It is his life and he can be shown that the ability to communicate verbally is a wonderful asset.

* *

Dear Dr. Nason: I am a sophomore in college. Last year I made a C average. My parents are separated, and each insists that I should be able to make better grades. I think I am doing pretty well for a boy from a broken home, don't you?

K. A., Milwaukee

You are a big boy now. Your life is your own. Don't blame your parents for your low scholarship. Take charge of your own education. Like your parents, I too, believe you can get better grades.

* * *

(If you have a question for Dr. Nason, write him in care of The Pontiac Press. He will discuss in his column those of most general interest.)

Taking Registrations for Dancing Classes

Registrations are being accepted now for beginners' and advanced classes in social, novelty and square dancing at the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department at City Hall.

The classes are open to adults and it is preferred that registrations be made by couples to insure all class members a dancing partner.

Fees are $2 per couple for Pontiac residents and $4 per couple for out-of-city residents. Announcement of starting date, time and place will be made to those who register.

Class enrollment is limited and will be closed when the quota is reached.

Meteorites have been found to contain 10 to 90 per cent of iron.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

The American North-South bidding is shown in the box. This pair was playing a convention that a single raise in a minor suit was a game force. Hence, North's two club response. South's two spade re-bid was normal and he had to go to four spades after North raised to three. Then North bid five diamonds and South went to five spades.

JACOBY

Of course, South had just about the worst possible opening bid, even then South might have made his contract.

West opened the ten of hearts. East won the trick and shifted to the deuce of clubs. South's eight was covered by West's ten and dummy's jack.

South could have made the hand by playing two high spades from dummy and winning with the queen in his hand. Then he could lead the queen of clubs. West's best play would be to duck. East would ruff and a heart lead would establish a trick in dummy while any other lead would allow South to establish his fifth club. Of course, South would have to take a diamond finesse, but finesses are meant to be taken. South missed this play and wound up down two.

A—Bid six diamonds. Your partner is inviting a slam and you should accept. At the same time you should not try for seven since the chances are that your queen of spades is pure duplication.

Instead of going to three diamonds your partner has jumped to four hearts after your two no-trump bid. What do you do in this case?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): In dealing with family member, be diplomatic. Otherwise, flare-up results. Sharp words are spoken, later regretted. In questions of money, explain position calmly, intelligently. No shouting!

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Begin the month with resolution to clear away excess belongings. Begin campaign to "travel light." Today you can do much to get house in order. Set sights on goal. Re-establish ambitions.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Fine for entertaining and being entertained. Excellent social evening indicated. But it can be much more: it can be the spark of discovery, discovery of loved one, discovery of what you really desire, and what is to be discarded.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Attend to details early. Check driver's license, insurance policies, assets, deficits and budget in general. Tonight, pursue creative hobbies, romance. Good for basic changes, journeys, reading, planning.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Pleasure, harmony indicated through stimulating exchange of ideas. Fine for writing, conversation, visiting, meeting new people. You make a better guest than host today. You could find yourself in spotlight tonight. Maintain sense of humor.

VIRGO (Aug. 20 to Sept. 22): Analyze financial proposal made by dynamic individual. Be sure you are not swayed by what you wish instead of actual facts. Take time to think. Distinguish between what glitters and what is SOLID.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Cycle up; you are able to combine responsibility and pleasure. Be sure that your purpose is clear. Invest in your own abilities. Refuse to be "overwhelmed" by those who begin enumerating reasons for failure.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Group activity favored. Participating in sport or theater group better than simply being spectator. You have much to offer. Try to find constructive outlet. Discover persons, places, hobbies which later enhance your life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Take new approach to old questions. Allow fiery, altruistic impulse to shine. Others will come to you for advice, friendship, encouragement. Could be day in which many hopes and wishes move toward fulfillment.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Good day for initiating action related to FUTURE SECURITY. No time to simply "wait and see." Get out and around. Be independent, original. What starts out as argument with new acquaintance could actually end in solid friendship.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Excellent for attending sporting event. Being outdoors stressed, including hike, picnic or journey to beach. Be cautious while traveling. Check road maps. Listen carefully to person who tells of bargains in books, sporting goods.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Curb impulse to "tell someone off." Better to be sure of facts before you make statements. Day when tendency is to skip details. But this could lead to loss, embarrassment. Better double check!

* * *

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . this is year for new starts, new contacts, the breaking away from tradition. Pressure indicated in areas of life dealing with romance, children, change. Be willing to give up some preconceived notions and greater happiness is indicated for you.

* * *

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Surprising news could break, relating to offspring of distinguished person. All could benefit from today's PISCES interpretation.

Goldberg Successor Gets Reuther's OK

DETROIT (UPI) — United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther yesterday called the appointment of Willard Wirtz as secretary of labor "an excellent choice."

"He has great knowledge and experience in labor relations," Reuther said. "He will carry on the good work already done by retiring Secretary Arthur Goldberg.

Kennedy Praises Elder Members of Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Your presence inspires us all," President Kennedy told a dozen Peace Corps members, ranging in age from 60 to 76, who volunteered for service as teacher-trainer experts in foreign countries.

★ ★ ★

The President said the impression has been that youngsters serve in the Peace Corps. This is true, he said — "The young in spirit."

Kennedy said those in the elderly group had many talents, already had led full and useful lives in the service of their country, but now were going to serve again.

He said he hoped their example would not only inspire others to join the Peace Corps, but would point out that "life really is unlimited" when persons in their 60's and 70's are going out to serve mankind all around the world.

Crash Kills Driver, 3 Neighbor Children

NASHVILLE (AP) — A man and three neighbor children were killed when their car missed a turn about five miles northeast of here yesterday and slammed into a tree.

Sheriff's officers said the car apparently was speeding when it approached the curve, skidded about 200 feet, struck the tree and bounced back 25 feet.

Average Age Now 59 for 9 U. S. Justices

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's two selections for the Supreme Court—Byron R. (Whizzer) White, 45, and Arthur J. Goldberg, 54, have reduced the average age of the nine justices from 65 to 59.

White's predecessor, Charles E. Whittaker, was 61 when he left the court last spring. Felix Frankfurter, who retired Thursday when Goldberg's selection as a justice was announced simultaneously, is 79.

$170,000 in Loans Available at MSUO

A total of $170,000 in loans will be available to students at Michigan State University Oakland this coming academic year, it was announced today.

Of the total, $153,000 is put up by the federal government under the National Defense Education Act. The rest is made up by the university, according to Loren Pope, assistant to Chancellor D. B. Varner.

The money is more than double the $71,510 allowance MSUO students last academic year, he said.

Last year, 169 students borrowed an average of $400 apiece.

While the university ran short of loan money last year, this year's supply should be ample, Pope said.

* * *

Applications should be made to Dean of Students Duncan Sells.

The low-interest loans (at 3 per cent) do not require repayment to begin until a year after the student leaves college or graduate school.

Ten years are allowed to pay off loan and interest. Up to half is "forgiven" if the student teaches in public schools following graduation.

The "forgiveness" rate is 10 per cent a year up to five years, Pope added.

The student can borrow up to $1,500 a year, since MSUO is in a three-semester program which requires half again as much as the regular $1,000 allotted to two-semester-a-year colleges, he said.

* * *

"This maximum loan should enable an in-state resident student to go through MSUO," Pope said. "A student could get his degree in 2 2-3 years with our three-semester system."

Church School Fails to Open

Louisiana Priest Sees Crowd, Fears Violence Over Desegregation

BURAS, La. (AP) — The pastor of Our Lady of Good Harbor Catholic church unexpectedly called off classes today in the desegregated church school 20 minutes before the third day of classes was to start.

* * *

The Rev. Christopher Schneider said he feared violence.

* * *

About 100 persons were milling outside the brick school building which enrolled five Negroes Wednesday and became the first desegregated parochial elementary school in Louisiana.

* * *

Th spectators were not immediately told of the decision not to hold classes.

* * *

Father Schneider, a member of the Franciscan order, read a short statement to newsmen:

"There is no school today because of numerous threats of physical violence and fear of insufficient police protection."

He asked newsmen to read the statment back and declined to elaborate.

The five Negroes who attended classes the first day of school stayed home Thursday.

A Pontiac resident named was Howard Malwitz of 502 Moore St. Malwitz is director of the art department and director of adult education in the Birmingham School District.

Hoover Stands, Drinks Hot Tea at Hospital

NEW YORK (UPI) — Doctors at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center said yesterday that former President Herbert Hoover was recuperating satisfactorily from his operation.

The 88-year-old former chief executive had a tumor removed from his large intestine three days ago. He was well enough to get out of bed and stand up for a few minutes. He also drank some hot broth and hot tea.

* * *

His two sons, Herbert Jr. and Allan, visited him during the day. The former president also gathered his nurses in his room and thanked them for the care they were giving him.

Staff Physician Dies in Detroit

Dr. Michael E. C. Christopher, 33, of 16860 Archdale, Detroit, died today at his home of a heart ailment.

He served on the staffs of both Pontiac General and St. Joseph Mercy Hospitals, and practiced in the area for two years.

He was a member of the American Medical Society, the Oakland and Wayne County Medical Societies, the Michigan and Detroit Orthopaedic Societies, and a candidate for the American College of Surgeons.

* * *

An honor graduate of the University of Notre Dame, Dr. Christopher received his M.D. degree from the University of Michigan, and interned at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital.

The Rosary will be recited Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Ted C. Sullivan Funeral Home in Detroit. Funeral service will be Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church in Birmingham.

Surviving besides his wife, Mary, are two daughters, Katherine and Anne, both at home; and his mother, Mrs. Thomas Christopher of Detroit.

You Sing, Play? Join Waterford Chorus, Band

Waterford Township residents interested in joining the township's civic band or chorus are invited to attend the coming year's first meetings of the two groups Sept. 10 and Sept. 17 respectively.

Both meetings are scheduled for 7:30 p. m. at Waterford Kettering High School.

Earl Sommerville will direct the band and Arden Sears is the chorus director. Both organizations are sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation Department which will provide information to prospective members.

12 Pistols Stolen in Store Break-In

Also missing when proprietor Clifford Dryer opened his store in the morning were more than 10,000 rounds of ammunition and a hunting knife.

Deputies said the thief or thieves used a glass cutter to enter through a locked window.

It Goes Bang! Californian Fined $50

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP)—Dewey Jones, 25, a machinist, was on trial for illegal possession of firecrackers.

"I assume counsel will stipulate these are explosive," Deputy Dist. Atty. Gerald Regan said.

Defense attorney Tom Thorner refused. Judge William Christensen ruled one firecracker should be shot off. It was placed in a wastebasket, Regan lit the fuse and stepped back. Nothing happened.

Regan shrugged and said, "Well your honor, I guess we'll have to dismiss—"

Bang!

The judge fined Jones $50.

Near Misses in Sky to End by 5 Years

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The menace of aerial collisions will just about vanish from the skies during the next five years, the Federal Aviation Administration said yesterday.

FAA administrator Najeeb E. Halaby said a new air traffic control system should be in full operation by 1967 which will reduce near-misses to an "irreducible minimum."

Waterford Schools Get $355,500 in State Aid

The Waterford Township School District received its first state aid installment for the 1962-63 school year yesterday amounting to $355,500.

The figure represents approximately 15 per cent of anticipated aid for the coming year. Disbursements are made to school districts in six bimonthly installments.

Squirrel Makes Call

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF EARL Lane who passed away August 31, 1958.
Just when his days seemed brighter.
Just when his hopes seemed best.
God called him from among us
To his eternal rest.
Sadly missed but God knew best.
Mother, Dad and his children.

Ira Polley to Be Coordinator

State Goes After Public Works Funds

LANSING (AP) — State controller Ira Polley was appointed coordinator of public works planning yesterday as Michigan took first steps toward participation in an accelerated federal public works capital improvement program.

In addition to appointing Polley, Gov. Swainson called 10 key legislators to a planning session next Tuesday and slated a governor's conference with local officials for Sept. 11.

Michigan could receive up to $900 million in federal assistance through the $900 million accelerated program approved by Congress on Wednesday.

Differing versions of the bill have passed both houses and are expected to be compromised without important change in a congressional conference committee.

States would be required to furnish matching funds for some projects, while local communities would be expected to offer a minimum of 25 per cent of the total cost of others, depending on their financial resources.

PLANNING PROJECTS

Swainson said Michigan's part in the national program already has begun taking shape, and some $639 million worth of projects already have been proposed in the state.

"Our compilation of public works projects was begun early in the year and thus Michigan is ready to move quickly," said the governor.

"We are ready to translate congressional action into jobs, payrolls and public facilities which will meet long-felt needs."

As coordinator, Polley will be responsible for maintaining a survey of proposed public works projects in terms of how they might be financed under the federal assistance program.

He also will serve as Michigan's liaison man between federal, state and local governments. Polley reportedly is planning to resign his post as state controller Dec. 1.

★ ★ ★

Swainson announced he will invite Sidney H. Woolner, commissioner of the Community Facilities Administration, to attend the governor's conference with local officials on Sept. 11 at Michigan State University's Kellogg Center.

★ ★ ★

Invited to the meeting will be representatives of nine cities rated as surplus labor areas and from the 53 counties included in the area redevelopment administration's program.

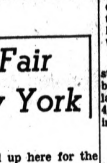
Space Needle at Fair Challenge to New York

By EARL WILSON

SEATTLE—President Kennedy's expected up here for the World's Fair and this has led to many jokes about "How are they going to find space in the Space Needle for JFK?"

This 60-story-tall building, with the rotating restaurant called "The Eye of the Needle," is the most popular attraction in the whole country. You have to write in for reservations just to have breakfast in the Needle, and the next four weeks are taken already.



WILSON

Imagine — you have to wait a month for your bacon-and-eggs.

For security, a JFK visit would probably mean a brief closing of both the Needle and the Eye of the Needle—and this prospect has horrified restaurant officials especially who hate to see any cessation in that moving line that is several hundred people long.

★ ★ ★

But I'm sure JFK'll arrange it and I hope he has the fun I had at this beautiful fair which has hurled quite a challenge at New York's '64 Fair.

(Everybody'll give NY the needle if it doesn't have one.)

I asked for a phone in the Eye of the Needle—and they brought me a radio-type phone (cordless, not attached to anything—the phone of tomorrow).

While the restaurant was slowly going around, I ordered a special fair drink, "Haystack, $1.50." Put a little more needle in your haystack and you get another special fair drink, $2.

George Burns claimed he asked a waitress, "Where's the men's room?" and she answered, "It just went by and you'll have to wait till it comes around again. It'll only be an hour."

Moist Ocean Winds Help

Mop Up 2 Fires Near LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Firefighters went into mopping up operations on two mountain brush fires north of Los Angeles today after containing one and controlling the other.

The fires were among seven which destroyed more than 45,500 acres of watershed in California since last weekend. One is still out of control on the Kings River northeast of Fresno.

CONTROL BLAZE

In Southern California, firemen have controlled the Placerita Canyon-Sylmar fire. The blaze burned 8,700 acres, to the edge of the San Fernando Valley, destroying a movie ranch, oil storage tanks and part of a county sanitarium.

★ ★ ★

A second fire in the Castaic area to the north has been contained after burning 8,500 acres.

Damage is estimated at $4.3 million.

Albany Fights in U.S. Court

Attorneys Scrap With Legal Points on Park, Library Integration

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — City officials — who told Negroes they should fight their racial battles in the courts — have mustered numerous technicalities in trying to kill the first legal thrust against segregation in Albany.

★ ★ ★

Elliott heard arguments yesterday on numerous legal points raised by the dismissal motion. Negroes have asked desegregation of parks, libraries, public recreational and travel facilities.

"A skeleton pleading," said attorney Hilliard P. Burt, counsel for the city, in describing the complaint. Burt said the action failed to show a controversy between plaintiffs and defendants.

The attorney argued that complainant Dr. W. G. Anderson, an Albany Negro leader, had never tried to use any of the facilities and, therefore, "he has not been wronged."

"He cannot sue for deprivation of anyone else's rights," Burt said. He argued further that remedies in state courts should be exhausted first.

Burt cited a string of about 300 cases to back up his motion for dismissal.

Mrs. Constance Baker Motley of New York contended the complaint was properly offered and cited several cases to support her argument. Mrs. Motley, chief counsel for the complainants, is an attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

MSUO Plans Week's Events

Students and Teachers, Parents Also, to Share School Opening

Students, parents and teachers—all will be made at home at Michigan State University Oakland next week in a weeklong series of term-starting events.

Registration of students, who did not take part in preregistration late last semester will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

Classes for an estimated 1,400 students begin at 8 a.m. Sept. 7, but the back-to-school week will be launched at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 4, when entering freshmen gather in convocation.

FRESHMEN

The freshmen — estimated to total about 450—will meet in MSUO's Oakland Center to be welcomed by Chancellor D. B. Varner. Varner then will introduce the students to keynote speaker Dr. George T. Matthews, associate dean of humanities and professor of history.

Color will be lent to the occasion by a procession of faculty members who will march in full regalia from the MSUO library across the campus to the Oakland Center where the convocation is held.

PARENTS

A convocation for parents will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 9, also at the Oakland Center.

Again the welcome will be issued in a brief speech by Chancellor Varner. The main speaker will be dean of students Duncan Sells.

The session also will give parents a chance to meet faculty members.

FACULTY

A reception and dinner for all faculty members will be held Saturday afternoon, Sept. 8.

The reception will be at the home of Chancellor D. B. Varner, 13300 S. Adams Road, Avon Township, to be followed by dinner in the Oakland Center.

Sleeping Sickness Growing in Florida

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) —Thirteen new cases of suspected encephalitis and one death from the brain disease were reported yesterday.

The latest reports boosted the number of suspected cases of encephalitis to 108 and the death total to eight since the Aug. 21 outbreak in Pinellas County.

The county has stepped up its mosquito-control program in an effort to combat the ailment, known as the sleeping sickness. Encephalitis is believed carried by migratory birds and transmitted to humans by mosquitoes.

GOP Leaders Criticize Dem Foreign Policy

At a news conference, the GOP House and Senate leadership said they expected to issue some foreign policy suggestions of their own within the next few days.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen said there was evidence the administration believed concessions to Russia would hasten an agreement. If this was true, Dirksen said, it was a miscalculation that could be proved by the Berlin Wall and Russian shipments to Cuba.

★ ★ ★

House leader Charles A. Halleck joined in Dirksen's criticism. He said the new American test ban proposal was a retreat from the essential condition of inspection.

6 Captured Cubans Sentenced to Death

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Havana Radio announced today that six Cuban counterrevolutionaries captured in Matanzas Province were sentenced to a firing squad for killing four militiamen.

★ ★ ★

The newscast, monitored in Key West, identified the head of the group as Filiberto Couto Gomez. His accomplices were identified as Laurbano Rene Pere, Icquierdo, Martin Blanco Martines, Justo Hernandez Aleman, Jose Augustin Caballero, Chavez and Juan Luis Cruz Meveros.

★ ★ ★

The Cuban government radio said the last two accomplices condemned to death were accused of supplying food, clothing and ammunition to the band.

Utah Residents Warned More Quakes Possible

★ ★ ★

The tremors also rumbled through sections of Wyoming, Montana, Nevada, Idaho and Colorado. There were no injuries.

Several small tremors followed the initial shock. Residents were warned larger aftershocks are possible.

Six old brick homes in nearby Richmond were ruined by the quake. A sugar plant north of Logan and four buildings at Utah State University here were damaged.

28 More Cubans Take Refuge in Key West

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Twenty-eight more Cuban refugees have arrived in Key West.

Twenty persons, including three women and six children, were brought in Thursday night by a U.S. Coast Guard cutter which picked them up at Cay Sal, a British key 45 miles south of Key West.

Three more refugees arrived during the day in a 17-foot boat. Five others were brought in by a Coast Guard vessel. They were picked up at Marquessas Key, 20 miles west of here.

It was the second largest group of refugees to arrive here this month in a single day. A group of 60 came Aug. 24 in four small boats.

Oil Refinery in Trenton Returns to Operation

NEW YORK (AP) — The Mobil Oil Co. refinery in the Detroit suburb of Trenton is back in operation after being shut down by a strike, the firm has announced.

Supervisory and technical personnel have refineries at Trenton, Casper, Wyo.; East St. Louis, Ill.; and East Chicago, Ind., back at nearly full operation.

High Cost Luxury Cars Retain Same Lines for Years

BY BEN PHLEGAR
Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — If a man spends $5,000 or more for an automobile, he can be more certain now than ever before that his investment won't become obsolete within a few months.

Styling changes for 1963 can be classified generally as modest, but they are the most modest on the models with the fanciest price tags.

A prime example of the theory of styling stability has been Cadillac, runaway best seller in the luxury field. The 1963 model year marks the 15th consecutive one in which the Cadillac has used some variety of fin.

TAIL LIGHT SHIFT

Chrysler has avoided tinkering seriously with Imperial styling since separating the line in 1955. And now Ford is moving into the third year of continuity with the Lincoln Continental.

Lincoln is sticking even closer to a set pattern than has Imperial or Cadillac. Not only has styling been retained but this marks the third year for the present two-car model line-up—a four-door sedan and a four-door convertible.

★ ★ ★

At his 1963 model press preview Mills said he was very pleased to note that generally the resale value of his cars is approaching its major competition (Cadillac) and already has become equal in a few areas.

★ ★ ★

If and when this happens it will be a major accomplishment since high resale has been a strong Cadillac selling point.

SALES PROGRAMS

Both Lincoln and Imperial have instituted special sales programs involving exclusive salesmen. This has been more important to them than to Cadillac since in many metropolitan areas Cadillac dealers handle their car exclusively, whereas Imperial is sold along with Chrysler and often with Plymouth and Valiant while Lincoln is sold with the Mercury line, from Comet through Monterey.

Official registrations for these six in the January - June period were 161,685 against 147,562 last year. However, the New Yorker, Thunderbird and Lincoln all were down while the Starfire was counted separately for the first time.

Significantly, Cadillac was down in its more expensive series but was up more than enough to compensate in its least expensive "62" Series.

Over-all, this luxury segment of the market is regarded as the most stable. In 1955 Cadillac dealers averaged 43 sales per dealer in the first six months. This year the average was 42. Lincoln rose from 12 to 15 per dealer and Imperial from two to five, with the increases in part accounted for by a change in the number of dealers.

Salesgirl Fired Over Hair-Do; Judges to Vote

SHEERNESS, England (AP)—Norma Sugg's job as a salesgirl rested today with the customers' opinion of her new hair-do.

Norma, 18, showed up recently sporting a bouffant hair style. Manager William Hossack gave her 14 days to change it. She didn't. He fired her. Norma appealed to her union.

Union Secretary Jose Mahney said the union will have to decide whether Hossack's order was reasonable.

"It could be that the customers objected," he said. "If they did, then the employers would be justified."

Steel Officials Defy Senate

Do Drive Carefully, Says Sheriff Irons

Traffic officials in Oakland County are keeping their fingers crossed in the hope of matching last year's long Labor Day weekend when no fatalities were recorded here.

They also are pressing into traffic service every available patrol car to police the movement of an estimated half-million vehicles through the county between now and Tuesday morning.

MONDAY NIGHT BAD

"The worst period over the long weekend will be Monday night," Sgt. Ahlgrim anticipated. He said the condition would result when persons returning from a last summer fling meet returning vacationers on the highways.

Heavy activity on the county's numerous lakes also is expected over the weekend due to hot and humid weather.

The sheriff's lake patrol will be doing its utmost to assure safety among boaters expected to flock here from nearby areas, adding to the already heavy water traffic.

Swimmers also were cautioned by Sheriff Irons to observe the safety rules. He warned parents in particular not to let their youngsters out of sight near the water.

IN A FEW SECONDS

"Few parents seem to realize until too late how quickly a child can drown," he explained, "Mother looks away for a few seconds and the child drops from sight."

★ ★ ★

The estimate of a half-million vehicles in the area over the Labor Day weekend was made by the Michigan Auto Club. The figure includes both traffic passing through the county and local traffic to and from lakes here.

While no traffic fatalities were recorded over the Labor Day the death toll elsewhere in the state mounted to 24.

Nationwide between 410 and 490 persons will die in traffic accidents between now and Tuesday, according to the National Safety Council.

"If holiday drivers obey safety rules, the toll will tend toward the 410 figure, said Howard Pyle, council president, "But it will move closer to 490 if drivers ignore these rules.

Michigan motorists could be excluded altogether from the grisly toll if drivers are careful, according to State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

He also urged boaters to observe the water safety precautions required by state law.

Union Members Asked to Use Care on Holiday

Cecil C. Mullinix, president of Pontiac Motor Division United Auto Workers Local 653, today appealed to union members to make this Labor Day "the safest holiday ever."

"Labor's own holiday should not be one marked by tragedy," he noted. "Safe driving practices and courtesy on the road will do much to make this a great holiday for everyone.

★ ★ ★

Mullinix also appealed for common sense safety precautions on the water, while boating, swimming or fishing.

★ ★ ★

"Those who plan to spend the weekend at home," he added, "should not leave their safe practices at work Friday. Safety is everybody's job — on the highway, in the home and at play, as well as at work."

State Road Toll 940

EAST LANSING (AP) — Traffic accidents have claimed 940 lives in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll on the same date a year ago was 1,400.

JACKIE KENNEDY
Enjoys Italian Ice Cream

Jacqueline Bids 'Bye' to Ravello

RAVELLO, Italy (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy and her daughter Caroline said goodby to the Amalfi coast and their 11th century holiday villa today and started home to spend the Labor Day weekend with the President.

★ ★ ★

For the last time, Mrs. Kennedy and her 4-year-old daughter climbed into a brightly colored, canvas-canopied beach buggy for the steep three-mile drive down from clifftop Ravello to the Gulf of Salerno.

They were driven to the dirt landing strip at Ponte Gagnano, 16 miles to the north, and a small chartered plane flew them to Rome where they boarded a Pan American World Airways jetliner for New York.

JFK TO MEET 'EM

The White House announced that President Kennedy would time his departure from Washington this afternoon to reach Quonset Point about the time his wife and daughter arrived.

The family will spend the holiday weekend at Hammersmith Farm, the Newport home of Mrs. Kennedy's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss.

The American First Lady and daughter had spent 23 days on the beautiful Amalfi coast, swimming, water skiing, yachting and mingling with the local folk. They enjoyed it so much, Mrs. Kennedy extended the visit a week.

Because it was a private visit, there was only one ceremony, when Mrs. Kennedy was made an honorary citizen of Ravello on Tuesday night.

Mayor Lorenzo Manzi of Ravello said Mrs. Kennedy told him she didn't think she could ever show her full gratitude to the people of Ravello for their hospitality and courtesy.

GOP Feels Governor's Bite

Swainson Campaigning Through Pontiac Today

Fortified with a warm reception at a factory gate and a bite of breakfast with ardent supporters, Gov. Johnson B. Swainson moved on to address a rally of some 300 senior citizens as he campaigned this morning in Pontiac. Swainson planned to talk about medicare at the rally at UAW-CIO Local 594 headquarters, following up his attack on what he termed the Republicans "cosmetic approach" to government after the breakfast at Lakeside Housing Project.

"GOOD MORNING" — Gov. John B. Swainson and Mrs. Isabelle Flewelling, of 5798 Holland Road, Orion Township, exchange early morning greetings in front of the GMC Truck and Coach plant on South Boulevard today. The Democratic candidate seeking re-election to a second term greeted workers, most of whom gave him their best wishes for success.

"They put on a new face at election time," the governor said in a blast at opponents to his bid for a second term in the capitol.

"They enjoy looking like Democrats and saying they're for the things the Democrats want," he said. "But their 'liberal hour' ends at 8 p.m. on voting day."

"There's a big difference between what they say and what they do," said the governor, taking aim at a frequent target in his campaign, Republicans in the State Legislature.

He spoke to about 100 supporters, Democratic candidates and Pontiac officials at the breakfast following a bright-and-early handshaking stint at Gate 2 of the GMC Truck and Coach Plant on South Boulevard from 6 to 7 a.m.

Most of the workers greeted the governor enthusiastically, saying they hoped he was re-elected.

'BIGGEST DEM'

Cevil Beasley, 44, of 5231 Pontiac Lake Road, Waterford Township, repeated the claim he made to Republican candidate for governor George W. Romney at the same gate — that he was "the biggest Democrat in Waterford Township."

"I think Gov. Swainson has done a really good job under the circumstances with the Republican legislature," Beasley said.

"I think he has the best chance to win," said Joena North, 50, of 135 N. Josephine St.

Only disruption in the praise for Gov. Swainson was a shout of "Hurray for Romney" from a worker a hundred feet away from where Swainson shook hands with workers heading for the time clock.

There were less hands to shake than is customary for a factory gate. Work forces are less than half of full strength because of inventory procedures and model changeovers.

TO STOP AT FAIR

Following the senior citizen rally, the governor's colorful campaign camp trailer will take him to the Michigan State Fair for a luncheon where he will present awards to teachers for outstanding contributions to education.

The motorized trailer, provided by Frank Motor Homes of Brown City, made its debut on the Swainson campaign trail in Pontiac this morning.

His schedule will take him to the Pontiac Mall shoppping center at 6:30 p.m.

Kefauver Asks They Be Cited for Contempt

Executives Refuse to Submit 'Confidential' Production Cost Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top executives of four big steel companies defied subpoenas today from the Senate Antitrust subcommittee, failing to appear and produce data on production costs.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., the subcommittee chairman, denounced their refusal to appear as willful and premeditated contempt of Congress.

He recommended that his subcommittee cite the steel executives for contempt. The subcommittee was expected to go into closed session to decide whether to do so.

The four companies — Bethlehem, Republic, National and Armco — have challenged the subcommittee's jurisdiction and contended the subpoenaed cost data is confidential information.

At a public session of the subcommittee, Kefauver called out the names of nine officials from the four companies who had been subpoenaed to appear. When none responded, he directed that the record so show.

SENATOR AMAZED

"I am amazed that such representatives of these large steel companies have completely ignored subpoenas of a duly constituted committee of the Senate," Kefauver said.

Contempt of Congress is punishable by a $1,000 fine or a year's imprisonment, or both.

Contempt citations would have to be approved not only by Kefauver's subcommittee, but by the full Senate Judiciary Committee, its parent body, and by the Senate itself.

★ ★ ★

Then it would be up to the Justice Department to decide whether to submit the citation to a grand jury.

The steel executives who were subpoenaed but failed to appear are:

Kefauver, referring to what he called the "contumacious conduct" of these officials and their companies, said he found it all the more amazing because eight other major steel producers had agreed to supply the subcommittee with the requested cost figures.

He said U.S. Steel Corp., the

Wet Weekend in Store for Pontiac Area

Rain and more rain!

That's all the area will get this weekend, according to the weatherman.

Precipitation will total one-half to one inch in showers and thundershowers Saturday and Sunday.

A warm Saturday and cooler Sunday is the prediction. It'll gradually become warmer again on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Sixty-nine was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The thermometer reading at 1 p.m. was 80.

Block Roads in Algeria

Pull Civilians Into Fray

ALGIERS (AP)—The rebellious guerrillas holding Algiers called on unarmed civilians today to bar the roads to the capital to motorized columns of troops advancing from western Algeria.

The guerrilla commanders of Wilaya No. 4 in Algiers sent out a call to the population to form human barricades against the regular army troops supporting Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's quest for power.

Newsmen who drove as far as Affreville, 80 miles southwest of Algiers, saw half a dozen armed guerrilla roadblocks and groups of civilians answering the mobilization call.

There was no word of the advancing army columns. Thursday night they were reported about 150 miles from Algiers.

In Chanzarnier, a well-armed, well-organized guerrilla company ordered the population to mass on the highway and carry slogans denouncing the threat of civil war.

Midwest Feels Bite of Railroad Strike

CHICAGO (UPI) — Shutdown of the nation's third longest railroad—the strokebound 10,000-mile Chicago and North Western—began pinching the Midwest economy today.

The first joint negotiating session since the strike began at 7 a.m. (Pontiac time) yesterday was set for 10 a.m. today.

But even if the walkout of 1,000 telegraphers in a job security dispute should be settled, railroad officials said up to five days would be needed to restore full freight service.

George Leighty, president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers (ORT), said there wasn't "a Chinaman's chance" for an early settlement. Outgoing Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg said at Washington there "has to be" a settlement.

In Wisconsin's Fox River Valley 11 paper mills announced they would have to close down if the strike is not settled in four days. Some 450 Wisconsin communities were left without rail service.

U.S. Sues GM on Car Pricing

Justice Dept. Action Parallels Indictment of Last October

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Justice Department, in a civil suit, is renewing its attempt to prevent General Motors from allegedly trying to control prices at which its dealers sell cars.

The suit, filed Thursday, in the U. S. District Court in Los Angeles parallels a criminal indictment returned last Oct. 12.

In Detroit, a General Motors spokesman said the company had not received official notification of the civil suit. He referred questioners to a statement issued by Chairman Frederick GM Donner, after the October criminal indictment.

Donner said then that the government's charges were without foundation.

Donner's statement said in part: "General Motors has made no agreements with its dealers or anyone else, nor have we inflicted or threatened to inflict any sanctions on dealers supplying cars to discount house outlets.

DEFENDANTS

Named as defendant in the new suit along with General Motors were these Chevrolet dealers associations—Losor Chevrolet Dealers Association of Los Angeles and Orange Counties; Dealers

Wirtz to Change Little

Favors Goldberg Ideas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — W. Willard Wirtz, newly named secretary of labor, is expected to run the Labor Department much along the lines of his predecessor, Arthur J. Goldberg.

Sources close to Wirtz predicted today that the 50-year-old lawyer would follow Goldberg's policy of taking a personal and forceful role in mediating major labor disputes.

They indicated, however, that Wirtz was not likely to become involved in as many "extra-curricular" activities as Goldberg.

Wirtz Profile, Page 24

President Kennedy on such diverse nonlabor subjects as federal aid to the arts and juvenile delinquency.

Wirtz comes to his new role with a wealth of experience in labor relations, gained both in and out of government.

As undersecretary of labor, he was the department's No. 2 man and Goldberg's closest confidant. He accompanied his chief into most of the sticky negotiating sessions that Goldberg entered during his year-and-a-half term.

He is intimately familiar with still unsettled labor disputes such as those in the rail and airline industries.

Goldberg disclosed that he personally recommended Wirtz for the job after being told he was to replace Justice Felix Frankfurter on the Supreme Court.

The White House, in announcing the Wirtz nomination yesterday, said it would be sent to the Senate for confirmation after Goldberg's appointment has been approved. The Goldberg nomination may be presented today.

Appearing at a news conference with Wirtz yesterday afternoon, Goldberg said he was even more delighted about the promotion of Wirtz than he was about his own appointment. Kennedy, he said, "could not have made a better choice."

Wirtz, known for his gentle humor, replied that "half of the people would say who in the world could take Arthur Goldberg's place. The other half would say who in the world would want to try."

In a more serious vein, he said he had no plans to change any top officials in the department. He also said there were no essential differences between him and Goldberg on policy matters.

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Robert A. Soblen's lawyers said today they would not appeal to the House of Lords but would ask Home Secretary Henry Brooke to reverse an order for Soblen's deportation to the United States.

LONDON (UPI) — Runaway Soviet spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen today lost what may have been his last court action against deportation to the United States and a life term in prison.

A three-judge court of appeal turned down his plea against deportation this afternoon leaving him only a possible further appeal to the House of Lords.

Soblen's lawyers did not indicate ing to the courtroom with their verdict, although the hearing was drawn out over several days.

SHOWS EMOTION

Soblen, who has been fighting return to the United States since he forced his removal from an airliner here July 1 by slashing his wrist and stabbing himself in the stomach, at first took the rejection of his appeal without visible emotion.

Then he buried his head in his hands.

In doing so, he upheld a high court's earlier refusal to issue a writ of habeas corpus so that Soblen could be released from London's Brixton Prison.

Soblen said he has been offered a visa to travel to Communist Czechoslovakia if the British let him go.

Mexican Court Voids Marriage of Sophia, Ponti

Havana Stirs With Troops

Guard Radio Stations, Tunnels; No Official Report of Trouble

From Our News Wires

HAVANA — Havana stirred with unexplained military activity last night. Some sources said troops and militiamen had been ordered to report to duty stations.

Sizeable details of armed soldiers or militiamen stood guard at the city's radio stations and at the mouths of the tunnels linking Havana with Marianao and East Havana.

Rumors circulating here said "something is going on" in Camaguey or Oriente provinces at Cuba's eastern end, but there was no official report of trouble.

Some will remain in Russia for as long as four years studying agriculture or mechanics, the broadcast said.

Altogether, Prime Minister Fidel Castro has announced, 2,000 Cuban youths will go to Russia this year to enroll in Soviet technical schools.

Relatives of prisoners taken in last year's ill-fated invasion waited anxiously to hear what proposals might have been brought by James B. Donovan, the New York attorney who came here to negotiate for their release.

A brief note published in the official press merely reported Donovan's arrival from Miami yesterday with Alvaro Sanchez Jr. and Ernesto Freyre, officials of the Cuban-refugee "families committee" which has been trying to ransom the invaders.

The criminal indictment, now awaiting trial, was brought against the same defendants and three Chevrolet sales officials.

The civil suit accuses the defendants of trying to pressure Chevrolet dealers from selling to discount operators or referral services—both a widespread factor in California Chevrolet sales.

Wants 3 N-Powers to Continue Talks

GENEVA (AP) — The United States proposed today that the three nuclear powers continue meeting during the recess of the disarmament talks to try to work out an agreement banning nuclear tests by the end of this year.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference his government believes it should be possible for the American, British, Soviet nuclear subcommittee to complete this task by Nov. 1 so a treaty could become effective by Jan. 1, 1963.

TALKS TO RECESS

The disarmament talks are to recess from Sept. 8 until Nov. 12 while the negotiators report back to the U.N. General Assembly.

Western conference sources said Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasilyn V. Kuznetsov told the conference his government will study the proposal for continued subcommittee meetings.

These sources said the American idea is for the meetings to continue to take place in Geneva rather than in New York.

Joseph B. Godber, British minister of state, had told the conference earlier today that Britain and the United States will not accept the uncontrolled moratorium on underground nuclear explosions proposed by the Soviet Union.

Godber praised President Kennedy for his qualified acceptance of the Soviet suggestion this week that all nuclear tests be suspended by the end of the year.

But Dean, speaking to newsmen just before the session, emphasized that the Western powers will agree to cut off all testing only on condition that the Soviet agree to the U.S.-British proposal for on-site inspections to guard against underground tests.

Ulbricht Back in East Berlin

Ends Month-Long Trip to Moscow; No Details on K Meeting Yet

From Our News Wires

BERLIN —East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht flew home from Moscow today ending a month-long Soviet visit that was shrouded in secrecy.

The East German news agency ADN said Ulbricht has been on a rest cure.

He conferred with Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev at least once but the Communists have disclosed no details of this meeting.

Informed sources in West Berlin said Khrushchev apparently had refused to commit himself to definite action on the signing of a peace treaty with East Germany despite pressure from Ulbricht.

The Russians brought along their own escort today for the three armored personnel carriers which, for the last 11 days, have carried their change of guard to the Soviet War Memorial in West Berlin.

After West Berliners — angry about the brutal shooting of Peter Fechter at the wall—stoned the buses the Soviet guards used to travel in, the Russians switched to armored personnel carriers.

Press in Greece Critical of U.S.

Hails Johnson but He Finds Cut in Aid Quite Unpopular

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's impending visit to Greece brought some pointed comment today that not all is well in Greek-American relations.

He was due from Cyprus in mid-afternoon.

Athenian newspapers devoted editorials to Johnson. They hailed Greek-American friendship, but criticized U.S. policy on foreign aid and the Balkans.

It was clear Johnson would have to do some fence-mending during his four-day visit.

There was no question about Greek friendship for the United States.

This country remains an ardent ally of the United States, which has poured in more than $3 billion in aid since 1947.

But there is growing skepticism about a $20-million cut ordered in U.S. aid to Greece last month.

The vice president and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson left Nicosia by air for Athens after a 24-hour state visit to Cyprus in which they were welcomed with special cordiality by Turkish Cypriots.

In a brief farewell address at the airport, Johnson said: "Our discussions here have been most worthwhile — and I leave with the certainty that our two countries will enjoy the understanding and mutual trust of friends dedicated to common goals."

2 Spotted Kids Quarantine 200

Smallpox Possibility at Idlewild Airport Becomes Chicken Pox

NEW YORK (AP) — Two persons suspected of having smallpox definitely do not have the disease, Bellevue Hospital said today.

NEW YORK (AP)—Two persons suspected of having smallpox causing a quarantine of 200 persons at Idlewild Airport early today, were diagnosed later as "most likely" having chicken pox.

The new diagnosis, by U.S. Public Health Service officials, was reported by Dr. Stanley Goldstein, night supervisor at Bellevue Hospital, a few minutes after the two persons arrived there.

The 200 at Idlewild were quarantined for periods up to five hours during investigation of the suspected smallpox cases.

Goldstein said the Public Health Service officials gave him the working diagnosis of likely chickenpox while a Philadelphia woman and her three children—two of them with heavy rashes—were en route from the airport to the hospital.

Goldstein said he could not tell how long it would take the hospital to make a definite diagnosis.

SPOT RASHES

The Public Health Service officials ordered the quarantine after they discovered what they considered "bad rashes" on the children.

Goldstein said they reported later that the cases were probably chickenpox and they ordered the family to the hospital for additional tests.

All the passengers were released from quarantine by 6 a.m. They had to wait at the field until their baggage was fumigated. The Pan American World Airways jet on which they arrived also was fumigated.

The quarantine was the second smallpox investigation in the city this month. The first came after a 15-year-old boy with smallpox arrived at Idlewild Aug. 11 en route from Brazil to Canada.

Collins Protests 'Red' Remark

Comment by Romney About Dem Party Draws Fire

LANSING (AP) — Democratic State Chairman John (Joe) Collins formally protested to the National Fair Campaign Practices Committee today charges by George Romney that the Democratic Party is infiltrated by Communists.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, Collins asked his Republican counterpart, George Van Peursem, to join in a pledge to observe the codes of the National and State Fair Campaign Practices Committees.

Collins protested remarks made by Romney, GOP Candidate for Governor, at a news conference in Detroit last week.

Romney said communism historically has been a problem in the Democratic party. When asked whether he thought communism was a current problem, Romney replied:

"Yes I do . . . I would think it would be more difficult to measure it now in the Democratic party because as a result of what happened. After all, communism has been driven underground and I'm sure that many were cleaned out at the time — but it's difficult to know what the current situation is.

"But I think that one of the difficulties with these extremist groups is that part of their basic approach is to infiltrate and to keep underground."

Romney got into the subject in discussing the influence of extremist groups in both political parties, including the ultra-conservative John Birch Society.

In filing his protest, Collins said that he hoped Romney's comments did not indicate the kind of campaign he intends to wage in opposing Gov. Swainson.

First Athletic Facility Opening at MSUO

The first permanent athletic facility was opened this week at Michigan State University Oakland.

The facilities take the form of $10,000 worth of four tennis courts planted in a wooded setting at the edge of a campus stream valley.

★ ★ ★

The valley runs just east of the university's $1.5-million Intra-Mural Building which is now scheduled for completion late this year, delayed by a summer steelworker's strike.

Loren Pope, assistant to Chancellor D. B. Varner, today thanked an anonymous Detroit donor for the gift of $10,000 which made the tennis courts possible.

"We're proud to open our first athletic facility at our university where the emphasis is on academics," Pope said.

MSUO had no plans for intercollegiate athletics. Its campus athletic activities will be centered around the individual rather than around teams, explained Physical Education Diretor Hollie Lepley.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Showers and thunderstorms are expected tonight in the Great Lakes, northern and central Mississippi Valley, and northern and southern Plains. Warm to hot weather will prevail over the Northeast while a cooling trend is forecast for the Plains and southern Plateau. Warmer temperatures should spread into the central Rockies and Plateau regions.

Boy Friend, 17, Strangles Girl

Leads Police to Spot, 'Wanted to See What It Felt Like'

NEW YORK (AP)—Pretty 14-year-old Suzanne Grskovic is dead, the boy she had a crush on told police, because he "just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

The ravished body of brown-eyed, blonde Suzanne was found Thursday in shrubbery off a dirt road in Queens, about five blocks from her home.

* * *

She had been strangled with her brassiere and strips from her dress. On her abdomen were carved an "S" and an "X"—made with a beer can opener.

Walter Tjunin, 17, on probation after spending a year at a state reform school, led police to the scene of the crime after a 6-hour grilling. He was charged with homicide and rape.

"I strangled her with her clothes," he told detectives. "I just wanted to see what it felt like to kill someone."

TELLS HOW

Tjunin was quoted as saying he stole a case of beer and drank all 24 bottles during the day.

* * *

Tjunin told police that, as he and Suzanne walked along the road, he tripped her, ripped off a strip of her dress and wound it around her neck, and then dragged her into the bushes.

The thin, pimply-faced youth was in trouble with the law six times as a juvenile delinquent, mostly for burglaries and petty thefts.

Prices Uneven

Market Slack Before Holiday

Changes of most key stocks were fractional.

A few selected issues moved a couple of points or so either way.

Motors were ahead on balance. Steels were mixed as some recovered moderately from recent setbacks. Oils were easy. Some gold mining stocks made small gains.

Many Wall Streeters already had departed for the Labor Day weekend, which is regarded as a business "new year" or traditional turning point. Caution was the watchword. The market will be closed Monday.

Among wider moves, IBM couped more than 2 points; Richardson-Merrell slumped 2¾ to 46 on 3,100 shares.

Homestake and Dome Mine moved fractionally higher following news of another drop in the U.S. gold supply, this time to another 23-year low.

National Steel and Wheeling Steel recovered fractionally from recent losses while Armco and Jones & Laughlin took slight losses. Republic and U.S. Steel were easy, Bethlehem about unchanged.

Pennants Exchanged at Miracle Mile Rally

Pupils from 22 Pontiac area high schools exchanged pennants representing their respective schools yesterday and today from 3-7 p.m. at the first annual high school pennant rally at Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

The event will end tonight with a dance from 8-11 p.m. in the Miracle Mile parking lot.

Average State Farmer Sees Net Income Rise

LANSING (AP) — The average Michigan farmer had a total net income of $2,664 in 1961, a $573 increase over the previous year, Reporting Service said today.

The total net income, which includes changes in farm inventories, was $303.7 million for the state's 114,000 farms in 1961, a rise of 23 per cent over 1960.

Total cash receipts from farm products in 1961 rose 1 per cent to $733,947,000.

Flights Planned From Pontiac

Cleveland and Chicago Trips Start Tomorrow in New Service

Airport Service Lines, Inc., of Pontiac, will begin a new phase of business tomorrow when the company initiates direct flights to Cleveland and Chicago from Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Organized four years ago by Louis C. Linteau, of Pontiac, the company until now has specialized only in bus transportation from downtown Pontiac to Pontiac and Detroit area airports.

The air taxi service will operate on a tentative basis with a four-passenger twin engine Aero Commander. On Sept. 23 a seven-pasenger Aero Commander is due for delivery, according to Linteau.

The flight service will also carry freight.

"By Sept. 23 we hope to have scheduled flights to Chicago and Cleveland every two hours," Linteau said. "For someone boarding our bus at the Waldron Hotel, the entire trip to Chicago should take one hour, and to Cleveland, 45 minutes."

The planes are being leased on a 90-day contract with option to buy.

Grain Mart Mixed in Irregular Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market started off in an irregular range today in mixed and rather quiet dealings on the board of trade.

Most price changes were limited to small fractions either way from previous closes as speculators awaited first notices of intention to deliver on September contracts in the pits.

Corn slipped almost a cent at the extreme while wheat rallied a bit during the first few minutes and recovered small initial setbacks. Uncertainty over farm legislation in view of the narrow approval of acreage allotments and support in yesterday's farm referendum also was a factor in the trade.

Questions End (for a While)

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Perhaps the most comfort businessmen can derive from this week's presidential news conference is that for the first time in a long spell there weren't any questions about the state of the economy.

All hands seem willing to let lie, for the moment at least, all of the summer's built-up fears about whither are we going.

And business could be the better for it. Industry and trade have problems enough of their own without everyone getting in on the guessing game. Also the publicized fears tend to feed the very trends some have direly predicted.

Even the stock market has stopped being a barometer, this week at least. It appears to be waiting for everyone to come back from vacation full of vinegar, if not big new ideas.

Business traditionally picks up after Labor Day. And stock traders seem to feel there'll be time enough to wait and see if tradition is followed rather than trying to guess ahead of time.

But the momentary truce in the talk about the economy's parlous future is about the only uncertainty that isn't still around.

STAKE IN POLITICS

What Congress will do is the most immediate. In the final weeks of a session many business plans are held up to see if specific proposals are accepted or rejected. Congress can change its mind quickly and frequently in the final days.

And business has a big stake in many of the questions President Kennedy did discuss at his news conference — foreign trade appropriations, the Cuban and Berlin problems, the atomic race, and even the make-up of the Supreme Court, which passes on a number of business problems each year.

American business has become so involved in political decisions, domestic and international, that any swift change in any of these fields can have a bearing on the business cycle.

Many factors outside of the economic trend itself affect tax policies and a great array of business regulations.

These same factors bear on consumer psychology. The results show up in stores, the home mortgage market, the balance between total spending and total saving.

The moves the government may take—or propose to take—in guiding the money market, counteracting a business slowdown or braking a speculative boom, financially aiding or retraining the unemployed, riding herd on price or wage increases—all affect the business cycle.

NOT ALL BAD

But the very act of making the proposals, and all the talk about their wisdom or necessity, can hold up or stimulate business planning, and to a lesser degree influence consumer thinking.

So the pre-Labor Day truce in heated discussions about whither we are going and why, even if the truce is fleeting, can be welcomed by many who would rather wait and see how business acts on its own and what consumers do about spending for the traditional fall goods and services.

The problems doubtless will all be dusted off again in another month or so as the congressional campaigners hit the trail. But by now Americans are used to crises, major or minor, and tend to take them in stride.

Agriculture Department Overhaul Need Cited

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating Billie Sol Estes' federal farm aid deals said today the Agriculture Department is ripe for a structural overhaul.

The suggestions came from both Democratic and Republican sides of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee as it called Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy for a third day of questioning.

The subcommittee also planned to quiz two of Estes' lawyers concerning the deals before recessing for the weekend. The two are John Dennison and Richard D. Naylor, of Pecos, Tex.

The inquiry seeks to determine whether political influence helped Estes to swing profitable cotton acreage allotment juggling deals for which the department finally levied civil fines of $554,000 against the financier.

AWAITS TRIAL

Murphy denied Estes benefitted from any influence.

Sens. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., and Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said the hearings have shown the department needs a big overhaul. But in separate interviews they voiced widely differing ideas on what is needed and how it should be done.

Mundt explained he felt the Kennedy administration could use its reorganization powers to do the job. Jackson blamed Congress for making the agency unwieldy and contended Congress should reorganize it next year.

Mundt said the evidence showed the department is "hopelessly inefficient, with nobody in charge of anything," from top down. The senator said this was illustrated by Murphy's testimony Thursday that three simultaneous investigations of Estes were under way in the department last year, with none of the three groups aware of what the others were doing, and Murphy not knowing any investigation was being made.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "My father, aged 74, has owned shares in Sears, Roebuck and Standard Oil of New Jersey for several years. He has realized good returns from these stocks. Less than a year ago, he invested in Revlon, which has been dropping ever since. Discouraged by this and the recent decline in the stock market, he is considering selling all his holdings and depositing the money in the bank at 4 per cent interest. What do you advise him to do?" W. H.

A) It is good of you to look out for your father's interests. His discouragement is very natural in view of the 1962 decline, which has had no parallel since 1946. Although there is as yet no conclusive evidence that the decline has fully bottomed out, I think your father would be unwise to sell all his stocks at present levels. I would sell Revlon, which still looks high, but I would hold Sears, Roebuck and Jersey Standard which are strong stocks that should ultimately sell higher.

Q) "I have been advised by my son to switch my U.S. savings bonds into Studebaker. I would hate to cash my bonds and take this chance unless I knew it was safe. Do you think this move would be wise?" G. B.

A) Absolutely not. Your son undoubtedly has your best interests at heart and would like to see you increase your capital. What he is advising you to do, however, is contrary to all the rules of investment and of hard business sense. You now own the strongest security in the world. If you positively required more income, it would be possible to switch your governments into higher paying securities that would be relatively safe.

Studebaker is a non-dividend, risk situation, a speculation that an able new management will perform a near-miracle and put the company on a firm footing. There is some chance that they will do so, but you can't afford to take that chance. By all means, keep your governments.

Output of '63 Cars Gaining Momentum

DETROIT (AP) —Auto production gained momentum this week with only General Motors still completely down for a changeover to 1963 models, Automotive News said today.

The trade paper estimates output at 34,940 passenger cars, all 1963 models, compared with only 8,109 last week. A year ago, with all makers in production, assemblies totaled 91,098 units.

News in Brief

Chrysler to Demonstrate Turbine Car in Europe

DETROIT (AP) — The Chrysler Corp. gas turbine automobile will be demonstrated in London and Paris Sept. 29-Oct. 16, the firm has announced.

The demonstration car is similar to one Chrysler said it will produce in limited quantities late next year.

Ford, GM Set October Debut

To Unveil Two Dream Cars

By ROBERT IRVIN
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — Ford and General Motors will unveil two sporty new dream cars called the Mustang and the Monza GT in October, it was learned today.

Chrysler also is considering an experimental model, which like the others would be a two-seater intended for display at auto shows and sports car circuits.

GM will display the Monza GT at the Paris Auto Show Oct. 4. Ford also will exhibit the Mustang at Paris before the show closes. And it will show the Mustang at the U.S. Grand Prix in Watkins Glen, N. Y., on Oct. 7.

The Chrysler model, only in the planning stage, is an open car like the Mustang, would have a 98-inch wheelbase and be built from 1963 Valiant components including a high performance 225-inch engine.

AHEAD OF REAR WHEELS

The Monza GT uses a turbocharged Corvair engine set slightly ahead of the rear wheels, unlike the production Corvair which has the powerplant behind the wheels.

The Mustang engine also is set ahead of the rear wheels. It's the same basic V4 engine Ford built for the Cardinal—the small car the firm decided at the last minute not to bring out in this country.

The engine is believed to measure about 91 inches (1500 CC's) and produce something like 105 horsepower. The car will travel about 120 miles per hour.

The Mustang is about 90 inches long from front axle to rear axle. The Monza wheelbase is slightly bigger. The Monza is about 41 inches high to the roof. The Mustang, which doesn't have a roof, is about 31 inches high.

EUROPEAN LOOK

Both cars have air scoops in front of the rear fenders to provide ventilation for the engine compartments. Both have headlights which fold into the front end.

The Monza GT, like the Mustang, has a full wrap-around windshield, so on the coupe there are no doors as such. Instead, the car has a novel method of entry. The whole roof lifts up and swings back.

GM and Ford hope the cars will fire the public imagination. Those who have seen the models think they will.
