U. S., Japan Become Partners in Military Pact

America to Give Millions in Arms and Assistance

Former Enemies Join in Alliance; Diet Must Ratify Agreement

TOKYO (AP) — Japan today took its biggest step on the long way back to becoming a military power.

Just 12 years, 3 months and 1 day after Pearl Harbor, the United States agreed to give Japan 100 million dollars worth of guns, tanks, airplanes, ammunition and advice.

"This is just the beginning," a highly placed American source said. "We can support any project Japan wants."

But Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki and U. S. Ambassador John M. Allison sat down and penned their names to an instrument making the military alliance legal.

Under terms of the mutual defense agreement, Japan does not have to send troops overseas—but she can if she wants to.

Japan is bound to fight side by side with the United States, leaving no doubt that Japan is definitely in the camp of the Western world.

There will be trouble pushing the ratification through the Diet. Strong Socialist opposition is expected.

But with backing from the Liberals and Progressives, a favorable vote is expected within this month.

The program will go into effect as soon as the Diet ratifies the pact.

Negotiations took a year and Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida took the same amount of time selling the program to his colleagues in the Diet.

Socialist opposition in the Diet, Communist opposition in the labor groups and anti-American sentiment generated by the reaction to the occupation took 12 months to wear down.

But Yoshida thinks he has it licked now and he has cast his political future onto the floor of parliament.

There seems no doubt any more that if war comes to the Far East again, GI Joe and Heitai-san will be fighting side by side.

Watering of Excise Tax Bill Expected to Come in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass) said today the administration will not oppose House passage of a bill to cut excise taxes nearly a billion dollars, but will seek to ease the reductions in the Senate.

He told newsmen after the weekly conference of Rpublican congressional leaders at the White House that President Eisenhower feels the proposed cut "goes a little too far."

The speaker said the present plan is to call the bill up for debate in the House on Wednesday.

The measure, in addition to cutting many excise taxes, would continue beyond April 1 the present excise or sales levies on a number of items, including liquor, tobacco, gasoline and automobiles.

On other items the existing excise rate above 10 per cent would be cut back to that level.

At his news conference last week, Eisenhower indicated he might have to accept some reduction in excises even though he has spoken out against them at this time. The President said it sometimes is necessary to swallow some castor oil along with the sugar coating.

After today's 2-hour conference at the White House, Martin was asked about Eisenhower's current position regarding the excise cuts —whether he had changed his attitude on the matter.

"I think the President shares with the Secretary of the Treasury the idea that this (the proposed cut) goes a little too far," Martin replied.

"They hope to reduce it some in the Senate."

Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader of the Senate, declined to speculate on what may happen to the tax bill when it reaches the Senate. He said it would be premature to try to figure out what position the Senate Finance Committee might take.

Harrelson Guilty in Traffic Death

Youth Faces Sentencing March 29 by Oakland County Judge

Leaun W. Harrelson Jr., 19, of 26 Delaware Dr., this morning was found guilty of negligent homicide by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

He was released on $2,500 bond and will be sentenced March 29.

Harrelson, son of Rep. Leaun W. Harrelson (D-Pontiac), was charged in the Oct. 9 death of Mrs. Veda N. Coon, 37-year-old mother of three children, of 49 Dwight Ave.

Harrelson's car struck Mrs. Coon as she was crossing Huron street at Dwight.

In making his ruling, Hartrick said: "This is not an aggravated case, and could have happened to anyone. According to testimony, the woman apparently stepped into the path of the car, but under the broad scope of the law, any negligence on the part of the driver makes him guilty."

Harrelson, in his testimony, said he "might have been going between 40 and 45" in the 35 m.p.h. zone.

Will H. Hays Dies; Once Active in GOP

SULLIVAN, Ind. (AP)—Will H. Hays, 74, who led a predepression cleanup of movie morals after uniting the Republican party behind President Harding, will be buried in his beloved home town Wednesday.

The man who served 24 years as so-called czar of the motion picture industry died in the quiet of his home here yesterday.

Once a Republican national chairman before he was 40, he kept an interest in politics till death, though a heart ailment had made him an invalid since October. Only in the last week did his condition become critical.

Kyes Resigns Deputy Defense Post

McCarthy Asks Radio, TV Time to Speak for Ike

Would Reply to Attack on Himself, Eisenhower by Adlai Stevenson

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy emerged today as the defender of President Eisenhower and the Republican Party against Democratic attacks.

The Wisconsin Republican wants free radio and television time to reply to a speech delivered Saturday night by Adlai E. Stevenson to a $100-a-plate dinner audience in Miami, Fla.

Stevenson directly assailed Eisenhower on the issue of "McCarthyism," implying that the President was appeasing McCarthy against his own beliefs and principles in strategy designed to win the 1954 congressional election for the Republican Party.

This speech was cut to fit Democratic National Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell's strategy of an all-out Democratic attack on the President.

As the southern rally was gathering in Miami, Mitchell said:

"It is now fine to make President Eisenhower our target. . . ."

Stevenson said McCarthy had made demagoguery and deceit a national movement; that Eisenhower sheltered it for political purposes. Although McCarthy was often and caustically mentioned, Stevenson's basic target was Eisenhower, on grounds that he was responsible for the Republican Party, and all in it.

McCarthy, also in Miami on a business-pleasure trip, promptly said he would demand free radio and television time from 10:30 to 11:00 p.m., next Saturday night in which to answer Stevenson. CBS televised and NBC broadcast the

Deputy Secretary Prepares to Leave Post

MR. AND MRS. ROGER M. KYES

Kyes Praises President Eisenhower for Placing U.S. Back on True Course

Deputy Secretary of Defense Roger M. Kyes at his Bloomfield Hills home this morning issued a statement relative to his decision to withdraw from his public post and return to private activity. Mr. Kyes' statement to the Pontiac Press follows:

"Many Pontiac and Oakland County friends have been wondering why I did not come home Feb. 1 which completed the year I agreed to serve. It is because our good friend, C. E. Wilson, asked me whether I could not stretch it a little and stay longer. Under such circumstances, it seemed in the best interest of all concerned to announce a definite date for my leaving government.

"Therefore, I asked that my resignation be announced as soon as possible to take effect no later than May 1.

"My term of Deputy Secretary of Defense has been a very interesting one. If I were to put a label on the first year of the activities of the Eisenhower administration, I would call it that of unscrambling its inheritance.

"Many fine Americans, Republicans and Democrats alike, have become deeply concerned as to the direction toward which this country has been drifting. Under the leadership of President Eisenhower, our Ship of State is returning to its true course with the fundamental principles which made this country a great Nation as its compass.

"I feel that the American people are indeed fortunate to have President Eisenhower as their leader.

"One closely associated with him cannot help but be impressed with his greatness and his human understanding.

"You all know my great affection and esteem for another great American, C. E. Wilson. He is our greatest industrialist and his knowledge has been invaluable to this country in overhauling the huge defense program."

Assistant Secretary to Quit on May 1, Says He Promised Only 1 Year

Roger M. Kyes, a top architect of the nation's new defense program, has resigned as deputy defense secretary effective May 1.

His resignation was announced by the White House and confirmed by Kyes at his Bloomfield Hills home.

The former head of GMC Truck and Coach Division here said the decision had nothing to do with the dispute between Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wisc) and Army Secretary Robert Stevens.

Shortly after the announcement, Defense Secretary C. E. Wilson and Sen. Leverett Saltonsall (R-Mass) issued statements praising Kyes' contribution to defense planning.

"Roger Kyes' leaving the Department of Defense is a real loss and he will be missed by all members of the defense team," said Wilson.

Sen. Saltonstall, chairman of the Senate armed forces committee, said he was "terribly sorry" to learn Kyes was leaving.

"I have grown to have great respect for his ability and understanding of the problems in Congress dealing with the defense program," he added.

Meanwhile, in Washington today, the name of Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson rode high in speculation on the administration's choice of a successor for Kyes.

Kyes has served as Wilson's top aide since the outset of the Eisenhower administration.

Both Kyes and Wilson said the deputy secretary took the job with the understanding he would remain for only a year. The year elapsed Feb. 1, but Wilson asked Kyes to remain on another three months.

"His grasp of international affairs has been especially helpful in our work with the State Department and Congress," said Wilson. "When Mr. Kyes accepted the appointment as deputy secretary he agreed to stay for only one year.

"I appreciate the fact that he was able to stay on at my request for another three months.

"Although I understand and must accept the reasons why he feels he must resign at this time, I wish he were staying on indefinitely."

Although Kyes has not revealed what he plans to do after May 1, it is expected that he will return to private industry.

"I severed all connections with business when I resigned from General Motors and sold my stock to accept the position," said Kyes, "I am trying to follow the spirit as well as the let-

Lion Roar Gone as Lamb-Like Climate Arrives

After roaring in like a lion, March apparently has swapped its mane for a sheepskin.

At least the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts more lamb-like weather for the Pontiac area. After a low of 25 to 27 tonight, the mercury is expected to rise to a high of 42 to 46 degrees Tuesday.

Sunday brought the temperatures climbing from a low of 30 to a high of 42 degrees in the city.

At 8 a.m. today the reading was 27, but by 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac the mercury registered 40 degrees.

Tax Review Board to Hear Complaints

Pontiac's Board of Tax Review this week will hear complaints from real estate owners on assessment of their property, according to James F. Spence, group chairman.

Since convening March 2, the board has considered 240 complaints on city tax assessments, Spence said.

This Thursday and Friday will be spent in the field checking complaints.

Next week the board will consider personal property assessments, Spence pointed out. After all complaints are investigated the tax roll will be given approval.

Hearings are being held at the City Hall Annex, at 35 Hill St. To determine the amount of their assessments local persons should call the city assessor's office.

Court Can't Use Senate Data

High Tribunal Rules Investigating Committee Testimony Inadmissible

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that testimony given before the Senate Crime Investigating Committee may not be used in criminal prosecutions in state courts. Justice Black delivered the unanimous decision.

The ruling overturned the 1952 conviction of William Adams, of Baltimore in Baltimore Criminal Court as a numbers operator.

He had appealed to the high court, contending testimony he gave the Senate committee in July 1951 about his numbers activities should not have been admitted at his trial in Baltimore.

Austrian Avalanches Kill 12 Over Weekend

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — Austria's toll of avalanche deaths over the past weekend climbed to 12 today as rescue workers uncovered the bodies of three more skiers buried under a 30-foot-deep snow slide.

It took rescue workers 12 hours to find the three Austrians.

Innocently Convicted Man Still Facing Dim Future

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Lawrence D. Howley faced the prospect today of getting out of prison for a crime he didn't commit and going to jail for one police said he did.

Howley, an ex-convict with a record dating back to 1940, was imprisoned last year for the robbery of the New Britain National Bank branch at Kensington, Conn. He was given a 10-year term.

On Saturday, however, Bernard La Clair, 31, was arrested at Fort Wayne, Ind., and confessed that he was the bandit who robbed the Kensington bank of $25,000 on Jan. 6, 1953. FBI agents said the confession "left no doubt" Howley was innocent.

Officials here said they would study the FBI reports and Howley may be released from the Federal Correctional Institute at Danbury, Conn., today or Tuesday. But State Police Commissioner John C. Kelly cast a shadow on any premature celebration by Howley, his wife and two young sons.

Kelly said that Howley is wanted for the robbery of a New Britain restaurant. A warrant for his arrest was issued by state police some time ago, Kelly said, but was not served when Howley was arrested by federal authorities. Kelly added that if Howley is released from prison, state police will take him into custody.

Howley, 35, has maintained steadfastly he was innocent of the Kensington robbery. The Danbury warden quoted Howley as saying "I knew it would happen," when told of La Clair's confession. How-ley maintained at his trial that he was home listening to the radio when the robbery occurred.

Vincent Garvey, manager of the Kensington Bank and one of several employes who identified Howley as the bandit, had little to say about the new turn in the case or his testimony at his trial.

"That's the way we saw it," he said, in reference to his testimony.

By JOHN L. SHERRILL

The reporter, waiting impatiently while Ralph Bunche completed another interview, turned to the secretary: "Tell me. Just what is it makes your boss tick?"

The secretary smiled. "A lot of people try to figure that out. I'm sure I don't have the answer."

Seconds later a buzzer sounded and the reporter was shown into Bunche's office. A solid, heavy-chested man was seated in a swivel chair, with his back to the door. As he swung around, the reporter paused, R. BUNCHE mentally jotted: "quiet poise — strange, deep-set, sympathetic eyes."

What makes the famous mediator tick is a perpetual question that faces interviewers. Here is one reporter's version. . .

Part of the answer certainly lies in Nana. Although Bunche has grown tired of the reference, it is still true that his grandmother, Nana, who raised him, was born a slave.

"Nana traveled the troubled road most of her life," Bunche says. "She had two families to raise: her own, and when my mother took sick, she raised our family too."

Nana was a tiny woman but she ruled the clan with her great will. Her lessons began early:

"There are going to be many and great troubles in your path," she would say. "That is the way of life. But only weaklings give up in face of trouble. Set a goal for yourself, and aim to reach it despite all obstacles."

Certainly the earliest memories in Bunche's life were of these troubles. His childhood in Detroit was humble, if not downright poverty-stricken. His father earned just enough at his barber's job to live in one of Detroit's near-slum districts.

Bunche often says that his family definitely came from the wrong side of the tracks. "In fact," he adds, "when I revisited our old frame house recently, it seemed to me that we lived on the tracks."

Evenings, Ralph roamed the streets as a newsboy, rasping his voice with frequent extras, bringing his pennies home to Nana.

"Don't worry," Nana would say, "struggle is good. It proves your worth. Your race has nothing to do with your worth. How good you may prove to be, some day, won't have anything to do with your color, but with what's

Roger Kyes Resigns U. S. Defense Post

In leaving the nation's No. 2 defense post, Kyes took no personal credit for himself.

"I was asked to go down there. I just did my best after I arrived."

But he pointed out that definite improvements have been made toward protecting this nation from enemy aggression.

"Some of the results are not immediately visible. But the improved organization and combat capability that came from last year's work should be increasingly apparent for the next three years at least."

The deputy defense secretary said his association with President Eisenhower has been the highlight of his duty in Washington.

"The biggest thing was every contact with the President. Each contact I had with him impressed me more and more with the wisdom of the American people in voting him into office.

"He will go down as one of the nation's great men.

"He has the knack of coming up with the right answer and right decision in the toughest spots."

Wilson's statement lauding Kyes was issued as the deputy defense secretary observed his 48th birthday anniversary with his family in Bloomfield Hills.

The quiet dinner was in marked contrast to the heated conferences in Washington where Wilson and Kyes pressed a new, stream-lined concept in defense planning.

Kyes was the logical choice to push through many of the manpower cutbacks decided by Wilson — a concept which both insist will not hamper our military strength.

In a speech last fall, Kyes took the wraps off the defense strategy.

He said the military must "have the courage to discard the outmoded procedures and weapons which no longer serve more than tradition."

Before being named to the defense post, he won respect of General Motors Corp. when he put the GMC Truck & Coach Division here on a paying basis.

He was known as a shrewd executive with plenty of drive to put his program through. He often "put his office in his pocket" and personally ironed out problems at the production-line level.

A Harvard graduate, Kyes served as assistant to the president of Glenn L. Martin Co. from 1928 to 1930. He held executive positions with other firms before joining GM in 1948.

Kyes became assistant general manager of the GM Truck Division on Oct. 3, 1949, and was appointed general manager April 1, 1950.

While in Pontiac, he was described by employes as a "very firm, yet a fair man . . . a man who gets to the bottom of things."

Executives credit him with taking over a "tough division" and taking it out of the red after only a year as manager.

In leaving his General Motors position for service to his country, Kyes swapped an $82,500 salary plus a $210,000 bonus as a GM vice president for a government salary of $20,000. He also sacrificed another large source of income by selling his GM stock.

Pentagon sources indicated today the decision on a new deputy defense secretary already has been made and that the announcement of his identity could be expected shortly, perhaps by tomorrow.

While Navy Secretary Anderson's name was mentioned prominently in guesses today, it actually was only one of several names of men, both in and out of government.

Other names mentioned were those of Paul G. Hoffman, former foreign aid program administrator, and John J. McCloy, New York banker.

$6,000 Blaze Destroys Home

Fuel Spilled on Floor From Burning Oil Stove Spreads Fire

Fire destroyed the 5-room Pontiac Township home of Earl Jeffries, at 1453 Vinewood, Sunday night when several neighbors were unable to control roaring flames shooting from an oil stove.

Damage was estimated at $6,000. No one was reported injured.

Mrs. Elmer Willis, of 1455 Vinewood, owner of the Jeffries home, said her husband and two other neighbors were called to help extinguish the flames after the township fire department was called.

"They tried to carry the stove out, but tipped it, spilled oil on the floor and ignited the rug," she said.

The fire gutted the home and destroyed the roof after the blaze spread to the rest of the structure.

Mrs. Willis said she saw flames leaping from the chimney after Jeffries returned home from a weekend trip with his family.

St. Francis Group Holds Special Meeting Sunday

A special meeting of the St. Ignatius of Laconi Fraternity of the Third Order of St. Francis was held Sunday due to a visit from the Rev. Conrad Polyer, O.F.M., of the Capuchin Fathers of Milwaukee.

Father Polyer, whose duties include the examination of each fraternity under his jurisdiction at least once a year, spoke to the group assembled at St. Joseph Church.

He spoke on the life of St. Francis. It was announced that there will be no other meetings in March.

Prefers Suicide to Red Quizzing

Gen. Dean Claims He'd Poison Self if Captured Again, to Keep Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, captive of the Communists for three years, testified today he would take poison if he ever were captured again, to make sure he did not reveal military secrets.

Gen. Dean, a Medal of Honor holder, testified as a defense witness before a military court of inquiry in the case of Marine Col. Frank Schwable, who confessed falsely to germ warfare while a prisoner in Korea. The purpose of the inquiry is to determine whether court-martial action shall be taken against the flier.

Under questioning, Dean retold the story of his own attempt at suicide after 32 hours of continuous interrogation by the Communists. He was too weak to get away, Dean testified, but he thought he could seize an unguarded machine-gun, kill his interrogator and then "put the barrel in my mouth." He got the gun but the trigger mechanism wouldn't work. He was knocked down and disarmed.

"Never having been subjected to physical torture—pierced with bamboo spears, or had splinters stuck under my finger nails and set fire—I didn't know whether I might have given him (the interrogator) what he was working on at that time, the defense plans for Japan," Dean said.

"If I had not known the plans, I might have been curious to see how much torture I could take. . . ."

"Did you have classified information?" asked Col. Paul B. Sherman, defense counsel for the Marine aviation officer.

"That's right."

"And you had great fear you would give something away?"

"Yes. If I ever go to war again, "I'll carry along a pill which I'll take if I'm captured."

However, the general testified that he received continuous, although inadequate medical care while in Red hands; was never subjected to physical torture, was permitted to interrupt the questioning repeatedly when he was suffering from dysentery. He was not required to stand at attention, he said.

Schwable has told of long periods of examination when he was forced to stand at attention without a break for any purpose.

Just before a noon recess, Dean testified that, although he had been informed of germ warfare "confessions," he never heard of Schwable until his release from prison.

Dean said he was never subjected to any "tough" interrogation about germ warfare. But he said one interrogator tried vodka and a "dear old pal" approach.

"I think it was one Fourth of July," Dean said. "We were drinking vodka rapidly and before he passed out he asked me some of those questions."

UM Biological Chemist Howard Lewis Dies

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Dr. Howard B. Lewis, 66, head of the University of Michigan's Department of Biological Chemistry and director of its College of Pharmacy from 1933 to 1947, died yesterday in Univeristy Hospital.

He was a former president of both the American Institute of Nutrition and the American Society of Biological Chemists. Before coming to Michigan in 1922, he had taught at Yale and the Universities of Illinois and Pennsylvania.

List Pontiac Soldier Missing in Korea

Sgt. Robert J. Cloutier, 21, the son of Arthur E. Cloutier, of 526½ S. Saginaw St., has been listed as missing and presumed dead by the U. S. Army.

SGT. CLOUTIER

The elder Cloutier was notified Saturday that his son is believed to have died June 30, 1951, in a North Korean prison camp. Sgt. Cloutier was captured Dec. 1, 1950.

Sgt. Cloutier joined the service in 1949 after attending Pontiac High School.

Coercion Charged in NYC Stock Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—Financier Robert R. Young says the management of the New York Central Railroad is "coercing" its employes to fight his attempt to take over control of the line.

Young said yesterday that an employe had complained to him that department heads were telling each worker that he would be expected to solicit the proxies of six shareholders in his neighborhood.

The work, said Young, is to be done on the employe's own time.

NYC President William White said of Young's charges: "It just sounds to me like a lot more words. Cry-baby words. This is just more evidence that Young can't stand resistance."

County to Study Special Census

Extra Meeting Called Wednesday to Review Controversial Issue

A move to call off Oakland County's special census will come into the open when Oakland County Board of Supervisors meets Wednesday.

Some 40 supervisors, who want to review the census the board approved in January, asked for the unscheduled session. Meeting time is 9:30 a.m. in the county office building, 1 Lafayette St.

The new census would be used to distribute the sales, intangibles and other state tax returns among local cities and townships.

Some cities which have grown fast since 1950 would profit by the new population count; others, including Pontiac, would lose quite heavily.

Several other matters are on Wednesday's agenda.

The board's markets and buildings and grounds committees, headed by Norman R. Barnard and Harry W. Horton, will ask supervisors to approve architects' plans for a new county market on Pontiac Lake road.

William F. Nern, legislative committee chairman, will discuss bills now before the Michigan legislature which might affect Oakland County.

Nern plans to report on the fourth judge bill, clarify a bill giving boards of supervisors' chairmen the right to call special meetings, and another which would let each county prosecuting attorney, probate judge and county clerk fill vacancies in certain county offices. Boards of supervisors now appoint people to fill the vacancies.

H. Lloyd Clawson, special court house committee chairman, will submit a progress report.

McCarthy Hits Back in Defense of Ike

Stevenson speech free as a public service.

Network representatives did not immediately reveal whether McCarthy would get the time.

Last autumn McCarthy was given free time to answer former President Truman who, in turn, had free time to answer charges that he was responsible for promoting a known Communist government officer.

Mitchell welcomed the idea of free time for McCarthy on grounds that it would be good for the Democrats if the senator could be on the air and television an hour every day.

"Now we will see," Mitchell said, "whether McCarthy controls the Federal Communications Commission and the broadcasting companies. But don't get me wrong. I'm all in favor of it."

McCarthy said Stevenson had done a good police court lawyer's job in attacking him.

"It may take possibly a week to get a complete answer ready," McCarthy said. "Stevenson did a very clever job of confusing the people in his attack on me.

"Stevenson's argument (in the recent Army Department case) was that if Ike would not stop the exposure, there was something radically wrong with Ike. Obviously, Ike doesn't subscribe to that and I don't either."

OLIVER MILTON

Lecturer on Africa to Speak, Show Film

BIRMINGHAM — Replacing the traditional May breakfast of the Ruth Shain Class in International Affairs, Mrs. Charles J. Shain has announced that the group will present Oliver Milton, lecturer and game warden of Tanganyika, East Africa, at an opening meeting at the Community House at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Milton's jurisdiction encompasses about 18,000 square miles. He will speak and show pictures of his work.

His pictures, Mrs. Shain says, reflect the confidence shown in him by the natives and animals. She added that Milton's enemies are poachers and illegal ivory hunters.

2 Fires Require Off-Duty Firemen and Volunteers

BIRMINGHAM — Two fires at the same time Saturday afternoon briefly left only the 1934 pumper in the fire station, and called off-duty firemen and volunteers into action.

A basement fire at the 945 N. Glenhurst home of K. M. Lee was caused by an incinerator igniting some stored papers, Fire Chief V. W. Griffith said. Damage possibly in excess of $1,000 to building and the contents was estimated by Griffith.

The second alarm, 18 minutes later, was under control when firemen arrived at 907 Ann St. Owner Edward Dingler was using a wallpaper steamer which got out of control. There was smoke damage.

Hoffa Hearing Is Postponed

Circuit Court Grants Delay to Complainant Until March 30

A Circuit Court hearing on an injunction restraining James R. Hoffa, International Teamsters (AFL) vice president and trustee of Pontiac Local 614, from interfering with union members on their jobs was postponed from Tuesday to March 30.

The show cause order and injunction followed a bill of complaint filed Feb. 8 by Pontiac attorney Louis W. Snyder, representing an insurgent faction of union members.

Snyder said he asked for the postponement because he's been too busy to prepare for a court appearance.

All three Oakland County Circuit Judges will consider concurrently the show cause order and injunction.

Snyder's group says Hoffa and his agents have been improperly administering their trusteeship and demand an accounting of local funds claimed to be in excess of $1 million.

Hoffa has been restrained from "taking any action which will interfere with the peaceful pursuit of the plaintiffs in their employment or occupation."

The temporary injunction also prohibits Hoffa and his associates from destroying any union records until "internal affairs of the union may be adjudicated by the court."

Final figures on the March of Dimes campaign have been announced by Mrs. Ruth Parshall, executive secretary of the Oakland County Chapter. Mrs. Parshall reports that contributions reached $130,000, a new record for the county.

One third of this amount will be spent for polio prevention, furthering the use of gamma globulin and financing field trial tests of the new polio vaccine. Another third will be reserved for epidemic aid and the remaining third kept for local chapter expenses and direct help for Oakland county polio victims.

Old Car Plates Drawing Tickets

Six Autos Towed Away Over Weekend for Lack of New Tags

Pontiac Police today reported six autos were impounded and 24 motorists were ticketed over the weekend for failing to display 1954 license plates.

Sgt. Claude Evans, head of the Violations Bureau, said a total of 84 tickets have been issued since the department issued its warning to stragglers.

Local police, who say this year's violations are slightly lower than in 1953, will continue towing away cars bearing old plates.

Meanwhile, LeRoy F. Kellogg, assistant manager of the Secretary of State branch office here, said 55,000 new plates have been sold in Pontiac since Dec. 1. About 400 new plates are being sold daily since the March 1 deadline, he added.

"The larger volume of business can be attributed to the increase in population and increased sales in the auto business," Kellogg explained.

He said the branch office now has 11,000 new plates in stock, which will be sold throughout the year to buyers of new and used cars.

Plymouth Woman Has 17th Baby on Way to Doctor

DETROIT (INS) — The fabled stork altered his course yesterday and caused a 43-year-old Plymouth woman to give birth to her 17th child while police sped to her assistance.

Mrs. Charlotte Braley, wife of Samuel Braley, 46, a farmer, was moved later to Mt. Carmel Hospital where both she and a new six-and-a-half pound boy were reported doing fine.

The dash for the hospital began when Mrs. Braley was en route with friends to visit her doctor in South Lyon. The baby arrived before the hospital could be reached. Patrolmen helped convey the mother and son to West Detroit.

Booklet on City's 1953 Activities Ready by April

Work on Pontiac's 1953 annual report is completed and the book is at the printers with release date set for the end of the month, according to Henry C. Smith, city planner.

The book contains 1953 activity reports from all city departments and will be mailed to 25,000 street addresses, Smith added.

Donors Needed for Bloodmobile

To Be at Elks Temple 2 Till 8 Next Monday; Phone FE 4-3575

Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, today appealed for 250 blood donors to fill the schedule of next Monday's "bloodmobile" visit here.

The mobile unit will stop at Pontiac Elks' Temple, 114 Orchard until 8 p.m.

"You may be the next person to need a pint of blood due to surgery, accident or serious illness." Mrs. N. E. Durocher, Red Cross blood donor recruitment chairman for Pontiac, said today.

"It takes only 45 minutes to give a pint of blood. Anyone 18 through 59 years-old can give — anyone 18 through 20 needs their parents' consent."

The Red Cross office, FE 4-3575, is taking appointments for next week's "bloodmobile" call from 8:30 a. m. until 5 p.m. daily.

Pontiac Boy Injured When Struck by Car

A 7-year-old Pontiac boy was injured Saturday when he darted in front of a car on Oakland avenue, according to Pontiac Police.

Thomas Risinger of 1594 West Blvd. is reported in good condition with head injuries at Pontiac General Hospital.

Witnesses said the lad, with two companions, was walking along the south side of Oakland when he ran into the path of the car driven by L. G. Beaumont, 49, of 3031 Portman, Keego Harbor.

Witnesses said Beaumont, who was traveling about 25 in a 45 mile per mile hour zone, swerved but was unable to avoid the boy.

Vietminh Raid Hits Airstrip

American Technicians Not Involved as Reds Burn Planes

By LARRY ALLEN

HAIPHONG, Indochina (AP) — The French barred all civilians today from the area of two airfields used by 149 American air technicians following a Vietminh commando raid on one of the landing strips.

The military commanders set up "prohibited zones" around the Doson airstrip, 12 miles southeast of this major north Indochina seaport, and the Catbi field, three miles from Haiphong, after the predawn raiders yesterday destroyed what were termed officially as "several army planes."

None of the 44 U. S. Air Force personnel serving transport aircraft for French Union forces at Catbi was on the airfield when the rebel commandos attacked.

Before the arrival of the Americans, Vietminh commandos raided the Doson field about a month ago, damaging planes and blowing up gasoline storage depots.

The attack at Catbi was made by khaki-uniformed Vietminh troops who got on the airfield by convincing the sentinels they were Vietnamese soldiers.

Their leader was described as "speaking perfect French."

Then the rebels rushed to put bombs, timed to go off in a few minutes, in the planes lined up on the runway. As explosions and fires swept the planes, the rebels opened fire on the airport guards.

The French Union patrols reported they had no losses but said, "Several of the Vietminh raiders were killed, wounded or captured."

The daring night raids on the strips are designed to smash as many as possible of the planes used in the vital airlifts taking troops and war supplies to the big Vietminh-encircled French outpost fortress at Dien Bien Phu, 180 miles west of Hanoi in northwest Indochina.

Release U. S. Ship From Turkish Port

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — The American freighter Volunteer State, held three days by Turkish authorities investigating a hit-run collision at sea, has been allowed to continue her voyage to Genoa.

Maritime officials said the 7,210-ton vessel was in the area where the small Turkish ship Yayla was struck last Tuesday by a large ship which did not stop. The Yayla sank and four Turkish seamen drowned.

The crew of the Volunteer State denied knowledge of any crackup.

Her mate, William Gilmore Clary, 33, of Baltimore, Md., remained in Instanbul. He was the ship's watch officer at the approximate time the Yayla was sunk and the Turks said his help was needed to complete the inquiry. The U. S. consulate emphasized that he was neither under arrest nor charged with any violation and said he would rejoin his ship in about two weeks.

Jane Russell, Waterfield Become Film Producers

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Jane Russell and her husband, ex-football star Bob Waterfield, today announced plans to produce six motion pictures during the next three years.

Miss Russell will star in three of them and negotiations are under way for other players to head casts for the others. All are to be released through United Artists.

Miss Russell, whose contract with RKO expired last month, and Waterfield, former quarterback with UCLA and the Los Angeles Rams, have formed a company, Russ-Field, Inc., for production of the films.

Flying Enterprise to Open New Haven as a Seaport

WASHINGTON—In mid-March a big ocean-going ship will head in from Long Island Sound toward the Connecticut shore, move up a deep channel and amid bellowing whistles, reopen the city of New Haven as a regular U. S. maritime port of call.

The ship will be the Isbrandtsen Company's 10,700-ton Flying Enterprise II. Its captain will be Henrik Kurt Carlsen, whose efforts to save the first Flying Enterprise, foundering in an Atlantic storm two years ago, made him a world hero.

For New Haven it will be a gala day. Clipper ships, deep-laden square riggers, and seal hunters once sailed from its wide harbor to far seas, the National Geographic Society says. But gradually railroads and the deepening keels of ships eclipsed the port. For 50 years New Haven has had no regularly-scheduled deep-sea commerce.

Modern New Haven, best known perhaps as the seat of Yale University, actually is a manufacturing city. It produces goods ranging from guns and clocks to toys and zippers. Wholesale distributors there supply much of southern New England. Its metropolitan area holds over 250,000 people.

The port's shipping did not die out completely. Gasoline, oil, coal, and lumber regularly come in by water in coastwise vessels and occasional tankers.

In 1949 and 1950 a $4,000,000 harbor project was initiated. Dredges deepened the ship channel and basin to 35 feet, sufficient for all but the largest liners. New Haven's shipping now averages over 6,000,000 tons a year, second in New England only to Boston.

Isbrandtsen's round-the-world cargo ships will call in the future as often as every three weeks, bringing goods from the West Coast and the Orient. Inaugurating the schedule, the Flying Enterprise II is due on March 17.

Until about 125 years ago, New Haven sent ships to Europe, the West Indies, and around Cape Horn to the Pacific. New Haven sealers hunted in the cold southern ocean. They dried the skins on a bleak beach in Patagonia that became known as "New Haven Green." Then, sailing west to China, they traded for cargos of lacquered ware, jade, silk, and spices.

Nine Kent County Fires Spark Hunt for Arsonist

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Two fires Saturday set Kent County sheriff's deputies in search of a suspected arsonist, believed responsible for nine minor fires in the past week in a four-block area just south of the city limits.

The latest fire brought minor damage to a tavern and a vacant home.

MUSKEGON (AP) — Alert Sheriff Axel Pederson spotted five sawed bars in a Muskegon County Jail cell when he inspected the jail with a painting contractor. It nipped a possible jail break in the bud. Two prisoners said they had sawed the bars.

Two cottage breakins near Carroll Lake in Commerce Township were reported yesterday to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Donald Modglin of 16177 Stoppell Detroit, told deputies that someone took a .32 and a .32 calirifle from his cottage at 5950 Carroll Lake Rd.

Hunt Top Reds in Puerto Rica

Police Jail 46 in Raids; Seek 6 Key Nationalist, Communist Leaders

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Pushing its drive against political trouble makers, the Puerto Rican government today sought the "Big Four" of the island's Communist party and two Nationalist leaders still at large.

Sweeping police raids over the weekend netted 40 Nationalist party leaders and six Communists. All were jailed as possible subversives. The roundup was launched after last Monday's attack by Nationalists in the U.S. House of Representatives.

The Reds were captured without violence in a second round of arrests yesterday. This was in contrast to the gunfire and tear gas attack when Nationalist chief Pedro Albizu Campos and five of his aides were routed out of his apartment Saturday.

The four Communists being sought are Juan Santos Rivera, the party president, who reportedly had Moscow training; Juan Saez Corales, a local labor union organizer; Cesar Andeu Iglesias, former party president; and Pablo Garcia Rodriguez, a Harvard-graduated lawyer.

In custody as Reds are Consuelo Burgos de Saez, wife of Saez Corales; Jane Speed Andreu, 43, of Berkeley, Calif., Andreu's wife; Mariano Arroyo Zeppendfelt, Ramon Mirabal, Cristino Perez and Felix Ojeda.

Atty. Gen. Jose Trias said both the alleged Communists and Nationalists, jailed on $25,000 bail each, are being charged with violating a local anti-subversive law.

Authorities believe the Puerto Rican Communist party has less than 100 members but fear that it is tied in with the Nationalist faction, which has several hundred followers. Both parties demand complete independence for Puerto Rico, and reportedly the Reds furnished some of the arms for the 1950 Nationalist revolt in which 50 persons were killed.

Newspapers Test Ban on Photos in Courthouse

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two newspapers joined in a court test today to decide whether a judge can legally ban newspaper photographers from taking pictures in the corridors of courthouse buildings.

Federal Judge Wallace S. Gourley called a hearing to decide whether a temporary injunction shall be made permanent.

Judge Gourley issued the temporary injunction against an edict of the Westmoreland County Court. That edict forbid photographers from taking pictures in courthouse corridors.

Judge Gourley said it was permissable for pictures to be taken in the corridors — if the subjects first gave their written permission to the photographers.

Six Cottage Owners Report Breakins

Six cottages in the Bogey-Carroll Lake area were broken into and about $2,000 worth of household equipment taken, several cottage owners told State Police Sunday.

Warm weather brought people to Oakland County Sunday to prepare their summer cottages, police said, and they discovered the thefts, mostly bedding and electrical equipment.

Three other breakins in that area were also reported to sheriff's deputies. The two departments and Waterford Township police are investigating.

Locked Safe Irritates Repeating Masked Bandit

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—For the third time in less than three weeks, a grotesquely masked bandit held up Mrs. Myrna Ceiro, 18-year-old cashier at a drive-in movie.

He got about $130 in robberies Feb. 16 and 17. But when he got only $15 Saturday night, he asked angrily:

"Why don't you leave your safe open? How can a guy make any money with the safe locked?"

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Roger M. Kyes

Roger M. Kyes is coming home soon.

The Deputy Secretary of Defense has completed a solid year in Washington which fulfills his agreement with Defense Secretary Wilson and in addition he has just agreed to stay until May 1st at the request of his Oakland County compatriot.

Mr. Kyes has done a tremendous job.

We believe this.

The Pontiac man has tremendous capacities and possesses one of the most penetrating and analytical minds in the country. He is shrewd, farsighted and has the ability to toss aside extraneous matters and hew strictly to the line. Furthermore, he insists that those around him do likewise. Many Admirals and Generals in the Pentagon Building have probably learned more about the shortest distance between two points than in all their previous experience.

With it all, Mr. Kyes is completely fair and ready to recognize all sides in any controversy and gather all the facts.

He went to Washington to expedite the manufacturing of billions of dollars worth of goods. C. E. Wilson could have made no better selection. Both men knew the process was then bound up in red tape, backtracking, ducking, dodging and buck passing of the highest order.

They faced one of the most gigantic assignments imaginable and the Truck Plant man took along unbounded energy and know-how in the service of his country.

Quite obviously the announcement of his resignation caused discussion as to whether the imbroglio involving Senator Joseph McCarthy played any part in the action.

It did not.

Roger M. Kyes wouldn't retreat the slightest fraction of an inch before a bellowing, arm-waving McCarthy. Rather, the Wisconsin Senator's tactics would serve as an open invitation to the joust. No, Mr. Kyes is following the original script, modified by an additional three months' service.

Few Americans who were still "on the way up" ever stepped aside from big industrial opportunities for fifteen months and passed up six figure incomes to serve their country for less than board and keep. Mr. Kyes is that kind of a patriot.

Speculation is rife as to what his future plans embrace. Mr. Kyes is discreetly silent. However, if the Pontiac Press were pressed to hazard an opinion (and we have been on every hand) we would come up with these guesses and they are without the slightest confirmation from Mr. Kyes, Mr. Curtice, Mr. Wilson or anyone else in General Motors:

A—We believe Mr. Kyes will return to General Motors.

B—We believe Philip J. Monaghan will continue to run the Truck plant.

C—We believe Mr. Kyes' business address will be "General Motors Building, Detroit, Michigan."

And we may be wrong on all three counts.

The only thing we're absolutely dead sure of, beyond all peradventure of a doubt is this:

Mr. Kyes is one of the great industrialists of America and he has just rendered his Nation patriotic, faithful and capable service of the most unselfish character. Pontiac can be tremendously proud of him.

And we are.

A Graceful Gesture

Seldom have American women spoken for the Nation in as happy a vein as have the wives of five Congressmen shot down in the House by Puerto Rican terrorists.

These Congressional wives naturally were concerned over the condition of their wounded husbands. Yet they had the good sense and good will to collaborate in an unusually graceful gesture toward the Pureto Rican people.

That gesture took the form of a luncheon to Mrs. Luis Munoz Marin, wife of Puerto Rico's governor. The island's First Citizens had flown to Washington to express their people's regret over the outrageous attack.

During the luncheon it was emphasized that the shootings haven't damaged U.S.-Puerto Rican relations in any way. The hostesses also made it clear to the guest of honor that they bear no ill will toward the law abiding Puerto Rican people.

If everybody reacted as admirably in difficult situations, this would be a far happier and more peaceful world.

Cardinals' Whistling Is Temporarily Halted

This last-gasp blizzard fooled the birds as well as mankind around these parts.

Cardinals had started their well known spring whistle about two weeks ago, but the wind-whipped snow storms and descending mercury brought about a cessation.

That peculiar cardinal call is one of the most individual and challenging calls in nature.

"A little recession at this time shouldn't be viewed with alarm," says of Brown Bros. He believes a little slackening off will have a stabilizing effect on today's inflated economy.

No one wants this upward spiral to continue forever. When we have to pay two dollars for a loaf of bread, we're all buttoned up.

"In really foul weather, motorists and pedestrians alike are in fine humor and cheerfully help one another out," says boss man at Sears. "But as soon as the sun comes out," he laments, "they bawl out total strangers as though they were the bitterest of enemies."

Frank Lyndall,

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Critchfield.

As a couple they really stand out in any kind of a crowd.

Everyone down at the big Truck plant on South Boulevard seems especially happy over the offerings for 1954. I've bumped into a lot of people from there lately and they are tremendously enthused. Officials believe the local organization has accomplished about as many innovations in one year as usually require four or five.

Certainly the trucks are the most attractive in appearance that have ever been glimpsed by these aging optics.

One of the biggest boosters and sharpest salesmen of the entire organization is head man who has great plans for the South Boulevard organization in the years directly ahead.

Philip J. Monaghan

Reader Tells of Entries Recorded in Day Book

A few of the entries in my old Novi day-book that were written in 1830 read as follows: calico, seven yards, $2.62; work two and one half days, $1.90; seven and one half pounds of nails, 68 cents; picking sticks from road, 33 cents; one pound tobacco, 16 cents and one half pound of tea, 31 cents.

Then the entries skip to 1834. William Peck—14 yards of sheeting, $3.04; 6 pounds of Codfish 25 cents; David Dutcher—10 pounds sugar, $1; Ransom Holley, one half pound thread, 75 cents; Peter Lambot—two quarts and two pints of whiskey at 14 and 7 cents respectively.

Ethaniel Hogg is charged with one pair shoes, $1; Russel Hopkins, four bushel of wheat $3 and two bushel buckwheat 75 cents. Peres Hopkins is charged $1 for "running off land."

Charles Orr was charged with two hind quarters of venison at 50 cents, 2 pounds of butter at 29 cents and 6 pounds of mutton at 27 cents.

By the amount of buying Russell Hopkins did according to the book, he must have been one of those "wealthy farmers."

A. K. Favors Changes in Social Security Law

To you people between 65 and 75 years of age, who are suffering from the very unfair social security squeeze. Don't you realize that now (March) is the time to advise your congressmen that you wish the limitations to be removed and you be allowed to supplement your social security benefits by what earnings you can get.

It means the difference between living and existing for many of you. You have earned your social security and the right to work without losing it.

Bury your congressmen with demands that this be done, it is up to you and everyone who is interested.

David Lawrence Says:

January-February Construction Booms; Worried Folks Will Have Red Faces

WASHINGTON — There's something dynamic happening to the American economy right now. It looks as if the business upturn has started. It may result in making 1954 one of the best business years on record.

The facts are that the latest statistics on construction are sensational in their revelation of an unprecedented building boom.

They show that the combined figures for January and February are the highest in all history; America's purchasing power is being increased by more than $1 billion in only two months.

The details of the figures are to be announced within the next 48 hours by the F. W. Dodge Corp. whose nation-wide organization is relied upon by the government and by many industries for the authoritative compilation of construction permits throughout the United States—the most extensive reporting service of its kind in the world.

It looks now as if the combined January and February figures will exceed $2,100,000,000 for construction and this is a substantial increase over 1953.

Indeed, when the multiplying factor of four is used, as is customary when estimating the resultant purchasing power, the months of January and February will represent about $9 billion in purchasing power. Compared to last year this is more than a 10 per cent gain.

The F. W. Dodge figures are always based on reports from 37 states but past experience by the Department of Commerce which estimates them for the other 11 states show that the trend revealed in the 37 states usually materializes in the remainder of the states.

What this means is that lumber, steel and other materials used in construction will be in greater demand and employment will begin to show a marked increase as permits are translated into operating contracts this year.

Businesses engaged in furnishing homes and equipping plants and buildings and offices should naturally benefit, too.

Mortgage money is beginning to flow freely and projects which were delayed last year are being approved every day now with plenty of financing available from the insurance companies and other lending instrumentalities.

The significant evidence is that an expanding economy which is feeling every year the effects of an increase in population and financial sinews cannot be interrupted for long.

What the American people are doing is to spend more money for new homes. The figures for new residence construction just compiled for February are way ahead of January 1954 and way ahead of February 1953. So also are the figures for non-residential construction which are far ahead of the same two months a year ago.

It is indicated now that February 1954 figures will show the biggest February ever reported in the country for new construction of all kinds.

Incidentally the figures for utilities and public works show a marked gain over the first two months of last year so that the advance is not merely in residential and non-residential construction. Yet the utility and public-works construction is only a small percentage of the total amount of building being done.

Many of the steel companies which are appraising the construction to be done in the next few months are already aware of what the latest statistics for January and February 1954 show and they are making plans to meet the new demands.

The main impact of the new construction will come in the spring and summer months as construction goes into its stride with the improved weather.

But the planning going on now and the applications for building permits in city and state government bureaus and offices transcend anything of the kind that has ever been recorded in private construction.

All this does not take into account the expansion that is coming in highway construction. When this gains the momentum expected, it is likely that the entire boom will prove that the politicians in Washington had an unnecessary case of jitters.

The Democrats in Congress who have been using the word "depression" so often in their speeches and a few Republicans who have grown timid and have called for tax exemptions in order to increase purchasing power will have red faces when all the facts become known about the increases in construction.

Aunt Het

Maybe folks can get used to anything if it comes gradual; but if girls had dressed like that in my time there wouldn't o' been a single man who wasn't blushin'.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Says Happiness Is Not 'All or Nothing' Affair

Happiness isn't a matter of 100% vs. 0, for you can be 95% or 87% happy. Girls, don't slavishly worship a wedding band, for you can be quite happy without a husband. So cultivate many worthy goals in life and you'll then rate higher as date bait. Men shy away from obviously love-hungry females like Beth.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-343: Beth B., aged 26, is a file clerk.

"But I haven't anything to live for," she protested miserably.

"All the men in my department are married, so I don't have much chance to meet nice boys, and here I'll be 27 on my next birthday!

"What's the use of living if you can't be happy and enjoy life?"

Young people should realise early in life that happiness is not an "all or nothing" affair.

Beth seems to think that you should be 100 per cent thrilled with life or else zero.

That is not true. If you can't be 100 per cent happy, then you can be 95 per cent or 87 per cent or 72 per cent, etc.

It's difficult for us psychologists to prescribe a yardstick for perfect happiness of the 100 per cent sort.

For example, is a married woman inevitably happier than a single girl? Well, that all depends on their various interests and harmonious adjustment to life.

Theoretically, a married person might be considered capable of greater happiness than a single person, but who would say that Jane Adams was not a happy woman?

Or what about the devout Catholic nuns and priests? You don't need to be married to enjoy life, so quit being idolatrous in worshipping a golden band called the wedding ring.

Long ago Aaron made a Golden Calf which led the Israelites into idolatry, but many modern girls are just as guilty of worshipping a yellow idol in the form of a gold band for their third finger.

Abraham Lincoln said he hoped his biographers could write of him that he "planted roses where thistles grew before."

That is the type of philosophy which all teen-agers should also cultivate. For you can make your life useful and help increase the general happiness of mankind whether you are single or married.

So count your many blessings. Rejoice if you have even one good eye with which to enjoy flowers and autumn foliage, as well as the smiles of your companions.

Be grateful that you can hear music and birds' songs, as well as the conversation of friends. One good ear is adequate for this.

Thank God that you can walk around under your own power, even though you oldsters may creak a little in the joints. Contrast yourself with the veterans who have lost both hands and feet in serving their country.

Bachelors and spinsters can still relish good meals and Thanksgiving banquets. They can enjoy movies and TV, as well as good books and inspiring sermons.

So play the batting average in life, and don't feel that you must rate zero in happiness just because you aren't married.

The girls who attract men most readily aren't those who are so overly eager to marry that they soon advertise that fact to their companions.

For men usually shy away from such obviously love-hungry females. Men are more stimulated by girls who are devoted to great causes, such as the church or music or Red Cross, etc.

Such women don't show to the world that marriage is their only aim in life. Instead, they have many other worthy goals, of which marriage is but one.

So they immediately become more attractive. For they can hold their suitors off, and this immediately enhances their rating as "date bait."

Their independence and spunk then challenge men's interest and stimulate more ardent wooing, so men beg them to accept their engagement rings.

We fail to diagnose the Republican attack even though this was one time the Democrats were deserving.

In our violent ward of partisan politics we figure it's okay to boot a man when he's down. But not when he's out.

Does anybody on this quizzical panel know the two parties were hyphenated at a time when the Mason-Dixie Line ran through the U. S. Treasury?

Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Quincy Adams were Republican-Democrats who combined the most nutritious ingredients of both parties. And on pay-day turned the other check like the Vicar of Bray.

There wasn't an out-and-out Republican until Abe Lincoln in 1861. Then again in 1932 when F.D.R. kept them out - and - out - and-out.

The Newtownian Law of the survival of the fattest is the greenhouse owner never starts a stone-fight.

That's why we are unable to fathomize why the pot calls the kettle black when they are polished with the same brush.

We know 1954 is a pungent semester in national politics because most senate seats are up for grabs.

But a rose by any other name is still out of season.

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Dear Sir: Everyone in my family (except my husband, God bless him) thinks I am out of my mind for making such a fuss about such a "simple" thing as tonsillectomy.

Our six-year-old—we have four children — has enlarged, infected tonsils. When he had sore throat last week our family doctor examined him and wanted to make immediate arrangements for tonsillectomy.

He said Dr.—would perform the operation—he always "gets all the tonsil."

This reminded me of the warnings you have sounded. . . and of three cases of tragic consequences which have occurred in our city. . . and I felt sick.

I asked the doctor about diathermy and he said the child is too young. This time the doctor found a ¼-inch yellow spot on one tonsil, which he calls infection, but the child has never had tonsillitis and this was the only serious sore throat so far this winter.

I can't seem to remember just what you say about children's infected tonsils.

The doctor wants to take care of—'s tonsils on his birthday, and half jokingly suggested that we might get a special rate if we have all four. . . (Mrs. H. B. M.)

In the first place, tonsillectomy is a major operation and by no means the "simple thing" your relatives think it is. Many tragic fatalities occur in the course of or shortly after the operation.

Your doctor is correct when he says diathermy is not applicable to young children. The patient must cooperate with the doctor and few children under 10 years of age can do so.

However, I did see a New York physician who was highly skilled in electro-coagulation successfully treat a child only 5½ years of age —a prodigy.

The mere appearance of one or more yellowish spots on one or both tonsils when the child has tonsillitis does not indicate that the tonsils should be removed.

In fact children under 10 years of age rarely have infected tonsils. They have enlarged tonsils, but that calls for no treatment unless the breathing is obstructed or hearing is affected.

In any case tonsillotomy—instantaneously slicing off the obstructing portion of tonsil—is the best treatment, in my opinion. Tonsillotomy, as this instantaneous "clipping" of the tonsil is called, is a minor operation, far less dangerous than tonsillectomy.

Diathermy (electro-coagulation) is the method I recommend for the treatment of infected tonsils. Not for the removal of tonsils.

In fact it is difficult to conceive a sound reason for attempting to "get all the tonsil" unless perchance cancer or other malignant lesion were detected while it is limited to the tonsil.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Police said Armstrong, with an uncle an da brother-in-law, was playing cards after a round of Adrian bars.

2 Survive Chase by Freight Train

St. Clair 'Men Nearly Casualties in 'Keystone Cop' Situation

PORT HURON (INS) — Two St. Clair, Mich., men today were thankful they lived through a chase with a Grand Trunk Western railway freight train that bordered on the style of a "keystone cops" scenario.

Robert W. Dandron, 23, told sheriff's officers another auto forced his car off a highway onto the train tracks near Port Huron yesterday. Dandron said the transmission in his car was damaged and he was unable to back off the track when the crossing signal began to flash warning of an approaching train.

Dandron's passenger, Chester Orzechowski, held tight, and they bumped speedily down the tracks as the freight drew closer.

Then, when the car's gas tank had busted and the locomotive was almost ready to chew the auto's rear tires, Dandron said they suddenly came to another crossing and swung safely onto the crossing road.

The freight train whistled by.

Serviceman Sought as Knife Murderer

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—An 18-year-old American soldier was stabbed 24 times and left dead on the floor of an Army mess hall last night.

The Army today said the suspected slayer, another serviceman, was being hunted by military and Japanese police.

The scene was the mess hall of the ammunition depot at Ikego, near the big naval base of Yokosuka, south of Yokohama.

Names were withheld.

The Army said the slayer was seen by a Japanese boilerman holding the victim by the shirt and waving a knife.

Mother Joins 4 Gls in Death

Killed in Accident After Losing All but One of Her Soldier Sons

CLAY, W.Va. (AP)—A Clay County mother who drew the nation's sympathy when the fourth of her five soldier-sons died in service was killed last night in a highway accident near her home.

State police said Mrs. Florida A. Jones, 63, of nearby Bickmore, a widow, was struck by an automobile about 10 p.m. as she walked along State Route 16. She was dead when the ambulance reached Laird Memorial Hospital in Montgomery.

Only one of her five sons survives. He is Air Force Sgt. William L. Jones, who reportedly now is on recruiting duty in the Charleston area.

Three of her sons were killed during World War II.

Her youngest boy, Eugene, 25, crashed to his death in paratroop training at Ft. Benning, Ga., in 1950.

Two days later, the nation acknowledged its gratitude in a letter from Louis A. Johnson, then secretary of defense, offering the discharge of her fifth son from the Air Force.

Her simple refusal was:

"I am glad that I still have one son in the service of my country."

Alaska Indian Crowned Champion Dog Musher

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — A slender Indian from the Yukon River community of Galena, who ran, not rode, most of a 70-mile race, was crowned the champion dog musher of the North American continent last night.

Raymond Paul mushed his malemutes across the finish line in the third and final lap yesterday to edge out Dan Snyder of Kotzebue by a slim four minutes at the conclusion of four days of racing.

Paul covered the 70 miles in three laps with a total elapsed time of 4 hours, 52 minutes and 33 seconds. Snyder's team recorded a time of 4:56.29.

Paul won approximately $2,500, while Snyder pocketed about $1,500.

He never rode the sled except when it was going downhill and the dogs had an easy pull.

Inmate Seriously Cut in Argument at Jackson

JACKSON (AP)—Walter F. Bukowsy, of Bay County, was in serious condition today at Southern Michigan Prison hospital from stab wounds suffered yesterday in an argument with another inmate.

Bukowsky, serving 7½ to 15 years for manslaughter, told prison officials he was stabbed by Harvey Jamison, 29, serving 25 to 40 years from Ann Arbor for robbery armed.

Wife's Oath of Loyalty Most Important of All

By BILLY ROSE

The political climate being what it is today, I wouldn't dare write this column if I hadn't (a) supported Dewey and Eisenhower for President, (b) backed my vote with substantial campaign contributions, and (c) consistently heckled the Commies in my column, and been cussed out and caricatured in Pravda and Izvestia for so doing.

BILLY ROSE

Now, having established that, politically, I am on the side of the angels, I would like to get it into the record that if I were picking a wife and had to choose between Oona O'Neill, the "traitor," and Mrs. William Remington, the "patriot," I would unhesitatingly select the "traitor."

Before you telephone the FBI, will you relax for a minute and hear me out? . . .

Oona O'Neill has been married to Charlie Chaplin for more than ten years and has had five children by him.

And despite his alleged purple past, not even his enemies have ever accused him of being unfaithful during this marriage. Or of not being a generous and devoted father.

Today, after a decade of marriage, Oona finds herself faced with a problem. Her husband is labeled a Red, a foggy internationalist and a shoddy thinker. And even worse, is accused of being ungrateful to the country which has been darned nice to him.

Oona has to make a decision. Shall she walk out on the guy around whom she built her life, or shall she string along with him and tell the country which doesn't want him to go peddle its papers?

Well, we all know which way Oona decided to jump and though I am as anti-Chaplin as the next fellow, I nevertheless feel that she acted exactly as I would want my wife to act if I were in Charlie's kind of a jam.

Yes, if I had played straight with a girl for ten years and there was a mess of kids running around the house, I would expect my missus to line up with me no matter how silly my political beliefs, and no matter how big a bum I had been before I married her.

When Ann first met Remington, he was a student of economics and pretty much a political babe-in-arms. It was only after he started holding hands with the lady that he went over to the "left." According to Ann herself, it was she who converted him to the Marxist faith.

Some years after their marriage, their yen for each other went out the window and, almost day and date, so did Ann Remington's Bolshevik belifs.

As a result, not long after their divorce, this embittered lady took the witness stand against her ex-husband, tattled about his former Commie connections, and was largely responsible for having him sent to jail on a perjury rap.

Was I in favor of throwing Remington into the clink? Yes, 1,000 per cent. But asking me, to admire his ex-wife for having played "informer" is something else again. In my book, Ann rates no higher than the children in Russia who are given medals for snitching on their parents.

To sum up:

It's okay with me if Charlie Chaplin spends the rest of his days east of the Nantucket light ship.

As for his wife, Oona, I salute her as a stand-up gal, and respect her for having observed the most important loyalty oath of all.

Girl's Dance Helps Another Amputee

BOSTON (AP)—A plucky 7-year-old girl who lost her legs in the Worcester tornado last June cheered another legless girl yesterday—by going into a snappy dance routine.

Little Diane de Fosse of West Boylston visited Katherine Benedict, 20, whose legs were amputated last December after a train accident.

Told that Kay was disappointed with new training-type artificial limbs, Diane explained she first used her artificial legs only four months ago.

"You'll soon be able to do this," said Diane as she went into her tap dance.

"This is the happiest visit I've had yet," said Kay. "Little Diane is an inspiration."

Mother Braves Fire to Rescue Daughter

DETROIT (INS) — A Detroit mother rushed through flames and rescued her four-year-old daughter when fire swept their apartment early this morning.

Mrs. Diola Bandy, 37, told fire officials she awakened early and smelled smoke. Mrs. Bandy alerted her husband, Willia, 49, his mother and a lodger, then grabbed two of her children and rushed fom the second floor apartment.

When the mother discovered moments later that her four-year-old daughter, Janette, was not with the family, she fought her way back through thick smoke and found the girl in a rear bedroom and carried her to safety.

The two-story brick building was destroyed by the fire.

$1,000 Fines for Speeding Might Cut Traffic Deaths

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
International News Service

It sounds funny to hear of anybody charged with "reckless driving" because he went 10 miles an hour, and funnier to learn that his fine was the same as if he'd been highballing along at 80.

But the press dispatch on this odd story had something in it that isn't funny at all.

The reckless one was Stacey McNeill of Philadelphia, flagged down on the New Jersey Turnpike by State Trooper T. A. Lawson, whose charge was not only the tortoise pace on a super highway, but also that the tortoise was weaving in and out of lanes.

"Such driving could lead to a chain reaction crack-up," said the magistrate. "Fined $55."

"Strictly for laughs" some motorists might say of this one case, though they know full well the danger of creepers on the road. But the final paragraph in the dispatch should wipe the grin off.

"Police usually do not press reckless driving charges," the report ended, "unless a motorist exceeds eighty miles per hour, when fines run from $50 up. The average fine for speeds between 60 and 80 miles an hour is $25 or less."

That refers to the turnpike, but a quick check shows it applies fairly generally to superhighways throughout the U. S. In other words, if you're caught hurtling two tons of steel through space at, say, 75 miles per hour, your fine about equals the cost of a dozen cartons of cigarettes.

If this isn't bargain basement stuff in human life, I don't know what would be.

And human life is what we all mean when we talk of modern traffic problems. Last year there were nearly a million and a half traffic casualties on U. S. roads—including 38,000 deaths.

New figures just given out by the National Safety Council show January '54 going along neck and neck with January '53—2,900 traffic deaths for just one month.

There are many excellent plans being urged for reducing this motor-driven slaughter—including demands for better and safer roads and highways to the tune of $35 billion dollars.

But the bargain basement fines for speeding suggest one added plan that could be effective a lot sooner.

If your fine for driving at 60 on a highway were not $25, but a cold $1,000—would you be so casual about "not realizing how fast I was going, officer?"

If your fine for doing over 80 were $3,000, do you think you'd ever risk it?

Ping-Pong Balls Given New Job, in Atom Project

LOS ANGELES (UP)—It wasn't easy, but Milt Forrest has at last found a use for his collection of 500 cracked table tennis balls, which he calls the world's largest.

Forrest is a graduate student at the University of Southern California and an official of the Southern California Table Tennis Assn.

He began saving busted balls in the hope of finding a way to repair them cheaply? When he had no luck, he went to the chemistry department, which told him there was no way to fix them for less than the price of new ones.

Then he heard the chemists were on the lookout for tennis balls, which are larger.

He hastened to give them his prized store, because they were perfect for what the chemists wanted—balls to make models showing the structure of atoms.

Mau Mau Leader Surrenders to British

NAIROBI, Kenya (UP) — A high chief of the Mau Mau terrorists has given himself up to British security forces.

Officials said last night "Gen. Tanganyika," former deputy to the captured "Gen. China," was taken without resistance by Kikuyu guards Saturday after sending word that he wished to surrender.

Gen. China, captured Jan. 15, dispatched messages to Mau Mau jungle hideouts last week telling other leaders to lay down their arms.

Batchelor Visited by Judge Advocate

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP)—Col. Cyril D. Hill, judge advocate at Ft. Bliss, Tex., made a preliminary visit here yesterday in his probe to decide whether Army Cpl. Claude Batchelor should be court-martialed.

Batchelor, 23, of Kermit, Tex., is the former prisoner of war who first refused to leave his Communist captors in North Korea, then changed his mind and returned to the U.N. side last New Year's Eve.

The 4th Army Saturday named Hill to conduct the investigation to determine whether Batchelor must face a court-martial on charges of misconduct and aiding the enemy.

Batchelor, in custody of the 4th Army at Ft. Sam Houston, is undergoing a medical checkup at Brooke Army Hospital.

Married in Taxi

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—A taxi driver, John H. Sartori, not only took a couple to City Hall for a marriage license but later married them in his cab. Mary C. Kratzke and Sidney H. Dean accepted his offer after learning he also is a justice of the peace.

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday

Know Temptation on Sight, Be Wise Enough to Avoid It

The Rev. Otto G. Schultz, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church preached on "A Lesson for Lent" Sunday using Matt. 4, 1-11 for the Scripture lesson. He came to the church as pastor in 1943.

The church was organized as a mission in 1928 and the members dedicated the first church on West Huron St. at N. Genesee Ave. in 1931. The new church on S. Genesee Ave. at Glendale Ave. was dedicated in 1952.

In the traditional calendar of the Christian church, this Sunday is known as the first Sunday in Lent. There are a total of six Sundays in Lent. These six Sundays are not considered a part of the passion period proper.

The Lenten season is figured from Ash Wednesday to the Saturday before Easter, a period which actually comprises a total of 46 days. If we subtract the six Sundays in Lent we have left the 40 days properly and traditionally regarded as the Lenten period.

The Scripture lessons selected by the early church for the Sundays in Lent, while not considered part of the passion history, do, nevertheless, have a definite relation.

We know, for example, that Satan was especially active during the period of our Lord's suffering, and hence the first three Sundays in Lent, in the appointed readings, have reference to the Devil and his wiles.

Actually all the lessons on these Sundays warn the Christian about yielding to the temptations of the Wicked One, and living in sin.

Christ and the Bible clearly teach the fact of the Devil. They instruct that regenerate man is the prime target of the Prince of Evil, and that every man is assailed not only by his own motives and desires but also by the great Evil Spirit himself, "who goeth about seeking whom he may devour."

Always the Tempter is present in the world, overlooking no race or age, in which regard the scene of our Lord's temptation described in the 4th chapter of the Gospel of St. Matthew, verses 1-11, is a timeless example.

It teaches that temptation by the arch-foe of man is as eternal and as universal as human nature itself. It reminds that as all the redemptive work of Jesus Christ depended upon what He did when the Tempter came, so the usefulness and strength and honor and future of our own life may depend upon what we do in the grave moment of temptation.

The record of our Lord's temptation reveals that Satan employed three methods of attack. He appealed to the carnal appetites of men. He appealed to the tendency of unregenerate man to discredit God.

REV. OTTO G. SCHULTZ

He appealed to man's desire for power and profit. These are the principal temptations which afflict the human being in this present age.

Our defense against temptation is to recognize the truth that it exists.

Martin Luther warns in this regard: "A man will have the Devil about him, who with his lying and murdering, day and night, will let him have no peace within or without, as the Scriptures picture him in John 8 and 16; 1 Peter 5, Ephesians 6, 2 Timothy 2."

A second defense against temptation is to stay away from it.

Those who are tempted are usually found in a compromising position. They are usually swimming in polluted waters.

If you are found with the wrong people in the wrong places, the Tempter knows that you are "bait" for more dangerous diversion. The advice of the Bible is good. It warns: "Flee youthful lusts."

The best defense of the Christian against temptation is the employment of his spiritual weapons — the use of God's Word and prayer. The moments we spend each morning or evening with our Bible, in our devotions on our knees, are the best protection against the moral peril in which we live and move.

Last of all, as Christians, we must resolve to behave as souls that are washed and made clean by the blood of the Lamb. We must behave as we would in the presence of our Savior; as we would if we made Him our constant companion.

This is sound advice for the Christian for Lent, and for every season of the year.

Naguib Relinquishes Powers to Nasser

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's Revolutionary Council has taken more powers away from President Mohamed Naguib and given them to the man who supplanted him as premier, Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser.

A decree last night appointed Nasser to replace Naguib as Egypt's military governor, administering the martial law in force in Egypt since the Cairo fire riots of 1952. The post since then has been held by the Premier in office.

The new decree added that Nasser also was "authorized to take any other measures considered necessary for maintenance of order and security in all or any parts of the republic of Egypt."

The Amazon river was discovered about 1500 by Yanez Pincon. It was not explored until 1540 when a European, Orellano by name, traversed its course west to east.

No Politics in Posie Show in Our Country's Capital

By ED CREAGH
(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON (AP)—You like flowers? Come along to Washington. We've got acres of them—From sassy yellow tulips to frail-as-a-wisp orchids—all under one roof at the national capital flower show. Prettiest thing you ever saw.

Maybe I shouldn't mention this but you can do more than smell the posies at this big annual event. You can get your back massaged and your personality analyzed.

Flowers are the main attraction, though, and that's fine with me. I'm a great garden fancier, and our back yard would be a solid mass of blooms in summer except that I'm too tender-hearted; I hate to see my wife's hands calloused from doing all the work.

Boris Timchenko, the landscape artist, designed this year's show, and came up with what he calls "one of the newer ideas of outdoor living . . . the newest of all necessities, or maybe the greatest of all luxuries—the private bedroom garden."

"There is," says Timchenko, a man after my own heart, "a tendency to spend more time in your bedroom, to relax in your bed, or recline in a chair; to let your mind wander over the most peaceful of all spectacles—plants and flowers growing in the early morning sunlight."

Tiptoeing away to avoid waking Timchenko—who does the planting and weeding, by the way, while he lies late abed?—you can investigate some of the sample gardens. One of the better ideas: a child-proof garden, with your prized blossoms canilly planted out of reach of the demon fingers of the young 'uns.

But oops—what's this:

"Would you care to have your back massaged?" asks a nice-looking girl in a booth at the edge of the floral display.

You look dubiously at your wife, but she's lost in rapture over some flame-red camellias so you nod a nervous assent. Don't expect too much, though. All the girl does is apply an oversize massaging gadget, something like the barber uses on your scalp, to the region of your sacro-illiac.

"Just the thing for gardeners," she says brightly. "takes out the kinks and tensions. Only $49.50. Now this reclining chair contains three massage motors. Just ease back, flip a switch and—"

You get away from there quick before you go native. Massage chairs, private bedroom gardens—what kind of outdoor life is this, anyway?

One thing puzzled us for a moment about the flower show. The "President Eisenhower" rose, a handsome specimen, is planted right next to the "Goldilocks" rose. We looked hard for some evidence of (A) Democratic or (B) Republican propaganda, but finally decided it was just one of those things. There's no politics in the flower show, so far as we could see. Maybe that's why it's such a big success.

Americas to Get Red Curb Move

Expect Quick Approval From All but Guatemala on Resolution

CARACAS (INS) — The U. S. resolution condemning Communist expansion in the Western Hemisphere is expected to receive quick approval today after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles presents it formally to the political committee of the Inter-American Conference.

Guatemala probably will offer bitter-end opposition to the measure which is designed to block Red infiltration in the Americas.

Guatemalan Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello declared again Sunday that he will stand against any move to use "the pretext of Communism" to violate "fundamental democratic principles."

But most of the other Latin-American delegates seemed reassured by the wording of the draft resolution which was circulated among them during the weekend.

Toriello's blast last week against "intervention" and North American "monopolists" apparently was designed to touch any hidden fears of U. S. economic domination among the other delegates.

But most of the Latin-American nations found the wording of the draft resolution much milder than they had expected. One delegate said that the U. S. should have circulated the draft among the foreign offices of the American states months ago.

"If the U. S. had done so," this delegate said, "the resolution would have been approved by now."

Find Baby Hippo Dead in Zoo at Royal Oak

Henrietta, a baby hippopotamus, was found dead today at the bottom of the Detroit zoo's hippo pool in Royal Oak. She had been gored by Jennifer, her mother.

"Hippos are known to get mean with their young at times," said Frank G. McInnis, zoo director, "but up to late Saturday, 4,000-pound Jennie seemed pleased."

Jennie came to the zoo from Africa less than six months ago, a $4,200 playmate for the male Hippo, Barney.

'Roll-A-Talk' Aids Banquet Speaker

DETROIT (INS) — A Detroit advertising executive has come up with a gimmick to relieve the embarrassed after-dinner speaker who finds himself thrashing through a pile of paper trying to turn to the next page of his address.

The device is called Roll-A-Talk. It's a small, portable machine which rolls a speaker's manuscript into view as he needs it. The orator has complete control at all times by means of a push button which he can hold in his hand or place on the edge of a podium or table.

The prepared talk is written or typed on a continuous length of paper, fan-folded like accordian pleats. When the speaker nears the bottom of a page and pushes the control button, the next page is advanced automatically. The last few lines just spoken before the sheet was advanced remain in view at the top so that there is little danger of the speaker losing his place.

Hearing Opens on Gas for State

American Co. Hopes to Bring In Big Pipeline, Panhandle Opposes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A power commission hearing opens today on a $154,200,000 pipeline project aimed at relieving natural gas shortages in Michigan and Wisconsin.

The American Louisiana Pipe Line Co., a recently organized subsiciary of the American Natural Gas Co., seeks authority to build a 1,200-mile, 30-inch pipeline to bring Southern Louisiana gas to the midwest.

The line would have a maximum daily capacity of 300 million cubic feet. It would deliver up to 200 million to the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., which serves Detroit and several other Southern Michigan cities.

The other 100 million would be delivered through a connection at Bridgman, Mich., to the Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., which serves the Milwaukee Gas Light Co. and 14 other utilities in Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and Missouri.

Michigan Consolidated, Michigan-Wisconsin and Milwaukee Gas Light are all units of the American Natural system.

American Natural has promised the project would "bring an end to the present natural gas shortage" in the areas it serves "and result in the removal of all restrictions on the sale of gas for heating and other purposes."

The Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. opposes the whole project. It contends Michigan Cosolidated has refused to negotiate with Panhandle on the possibility of expanding Panhandle's own facilities. Panhandle now furnished 42 per cent of Michigan Consolidated's gas supply.

Officer Resigns in Gun Dispute

Says Army Rejected Inventions, but Belgian Firm Wants Them

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A U.S. Army ordnance officer who says he resigned because the Army "calmly brushed aside" a light submachinegun and rifle he invented, says a Belgian firm has offered to manufacture the weapon.

Loren C. Cook of Vallejo, Calif., is en route home from Germany on a troopship after duty in Germany as a warrant officer. He told his story to a reporter before he left.

Cook declined to name the Belgian company he said had offered him a "fat contract" for the guns, saying he wanted to wait until he could close the deal as a civilian.

He added, however, that "both guns are still available to the Army—free for the asking."

In Washington, ordnance officers who could be reached for comment said Cook's light submachinegun was found to be good in tests but had not been developed because the Army had no need for such a weapon at present.

The officers added that the legality of selling the weapon to a Belgian firm would depend on such factors as patent rights and whether it had been developed on government time.

Cook said his light submachinegun would shoot faster, farther and straighter than the Army's standard M3 (greasegun), its counterpart. And his gun was so simple, he claimed, it could be mass produced for $10 each.

The rifle "will do anything the FN will do, and it is lighter and cheaper to manufacture," Cook said. The FN is the Belgian rifle which is being pushed for adoption as a standard gun for Atlantic pact nations.

Cook charged that the Army had not given his guns a fair trial. This, he said, is why he had decided to quit and perfect them on his own "without Pentagon politics." He said he planned to live in Vallejo and manufacture a new style of fishing lines he has designed.

Rochester Plant Swept by Fire

Damage Is Unestimated in Blaze at Production Planning Co. Unit

ROCHESTER — Fire of an undetermined origin swept through Plant 2 of Production Planning Co. here last night leaving behind extensive damage.

The plant, located at 520 Woodward Ave., manufacturers ventilation equipment.

Residents on nearby Oak street discovered the blaze at about 10:25 p. m. Rochester volunteer firemen, with five fire trucks, battled the flames for nearly five hours before bringing the raging fire under control.

No estimate of the damage had been made this morning. Firemen said there was extensive damage to the upper story of the plant and the roof. Company officials said approximately a third of the plant was destroyed.

Cause of the fire had not been determined. Firemen said the blaze apparently started in a shipping room among paper cartons.

Jews to Oppose Calendar Shift

Group Plans to Resist Proposal Before U.N. on Religious Grounds

NEW YORK (INS) — The World Jewish Congress announced plans today to spearhead opposition to world calendar reform by the United Nations on grounds the proposed secular change was an affront to all religions.

The reform proposal supported by India was to have been discussed at the 18th Session of the economic and social council which opens here at the end of this month.

Dr. Maurice L. Perlzweig, WJC consultant on UN matters urged that "when mathematical convenience took precedence over religious principles," it was time for a united stand to be taken by all religious bodies until world religious leadership has been fully consulted.

The proposed reform, he said, would not only affect Judaism by making the Sabbath fall on a working day, but would endanger observances which have been ignored by the proponents of the reform plan.

Crash Hospitalizes Troy Township Man

A Troy Township motorist, unconscious for seven hours after his car hit a parked vehicle on his way home from work early Sunday, was not found until his wife and son began a search at dawn when he did not arrive home.

James R. Williams, 45, of 2606 Iowa St., the injured man, is in fair condition today at Memorial Hospital in Van Dyke. He suffered severe chest injuries and bruises in the crash, according to Troy Township police.

Police Chief David Gratopp said Mrs. Williams and her son, Robert, reported the accident to him about 8 a. m. Williams, he said, crashed into a car owned by Anthony La Fata, 37, of 2720 Iowa. The car was parked in front of La Fata's home.

Mrs. Williams told Gratopp that she found her husband walking around in a dazed condition at the scene at 8 a. m. No one in the area could remember hearing the crash, Gratopp said.

Book Explains Profitable Home Baking

By ANNE HEYWOOD

If you have ever considered the idea of making money through your baking, there is a wonderful little book which will help you. It is called "Baking for Profit" and is by Helen Scott.

The author knows what she's talking about. After years of comfort and financial security with her husband and children, she found herself suddenly facing disaster.

As she puts it, "This comfortable and happy situation of mine was abruptly ended when my husband suddenly became ill, and remained incapacitated for a period lasting three long, nightmarish years."

This inventive woman had no training of any kind. But after taking a self-inventory, she came to the conclusion that baking was her best skill, and the one which would combine most readily with her homemaking and nursing duties.

"While cakes and pies are baking," she explains, "myriads of other household duties can be performed."

Mrs. Scott found that most people wanted their pastries over the weekend. This enabled her to take care of marketing and household chores the early part of the week.

Eventually, she found that her net profit was averaging between $40 and $45 per week.

Unlike many authors, she shares every single one of her "trade secrets" in this invaluable little book. Here are typical sections: "How to Develop Customers;" "You Must Specialize;" "Equipment You Will Need" (no extras here—she recommends starting with what you have!); "How to Determine Prices," and the last section, in which she gives all of her most successful recipes.

This sensible, practical and skillful woman surmounted any trouble which life tossed at her. She had no training, no capital at all, and no previous experience.

She did not—and insists that you do not—buy one single fancy piece of equipment. Her stove was a regular stove; and she bought a dime store thermometer, instead of feeling she must have a fancy new stove.

In my efforts to keep my readers posted, I read any number of books on how to make money at home, but this is one of the most sensible and inspiring that I have ever read.

May Fiance Visit Home of Widow?

She'll Cause Talk by Having Him as Houseguest

By EMILY POST

A reader explains: "I am a widow in my mid-30s and have two young daughters living at home with me. I am engaged to a man who lives in a city some distance from here. He visits me once or twice a month.

"He usually comes on a weekend and has been staying at my mother's house. However, my brother has just returned home from service and my family can no longer accommodate my fiance.

"I would like to know if it would be proper for him to stay at my house. I very easily could make room for him here if it has your approval. This is a small town and I would not like to do anything that could cause gossip. Your opinion will be much appreciated."

Answer: I am afraid that you will risk unpleasant gossip if he stays in your house.

Dear Mrs. Post: My son who is away at college would like me to write to a young woman whom he has been seeing a good deal and invited her to our house for a weekend.

This girl is a total stranger to me and I am completely at a loss as to what to write. Can you help me?

Answer: Write, "Dear Miss Jones, It will give us all great pleasure if you will come home with John for any weekend that you and he decide on. Hoping so much to see you then. Very sincerely yours, Mary Smith." (Do not sign your name Mrs. John Smith as you have done in your letter to me.)

Dear Mrs. Post: We are three young married couples who have been invited to the wedding reception of a mutual acquaintance. Would it be proper to combine our resources and send one very nice present, or must each couple send a separate present?

Answer: To combine and in this way send a really nice present would be entirely proper.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Spring Came Dramatically on Farm---Even for Arthur

The pigeons and squirrels in my park have had the word that spring is on its way—I can tell by a kind of extra playfulness in them. Almost any day now the brown of the city will be supplanted by a suggestion of greenish yellow, the willows' welcome to the season and spring will not be far behind.

MISS McBRIDE

It happened more dramatically on the farm. After interminable weeks of snow, freezing and bleakness, one March morning we would wake amazedly to bright sunshine, dripping eaves and great cracks in the ice on the creek.

As though an alarm clock had gone off, all the farm animals seemed to know what was happening. Horses neighed and switched their tails, sedate cows kicked up their heels and planted their legs wide apart with a foolish expression on their faces. The hens made that contented trilling sound in their throats that we children called singing.

But our family never felt sure winter was really over until Cousin Arthur had ridden up o nhis annual visit.

Cousin Arthur usually beat the first dandelion by about a week. He pinched my cheek in passing and made determinedly for the kitchen to hang over Mama's biscuit board and watch with greedy eyes as she crimped a rhubarb pie or set a pan of puff-ball yeast rolls to rise.

Cousin Arthur's long thin frame was almost impossible to fill up and Mama used to say pitingly to Papa that she just believed the man starved himself all winter. Mama had that feeling about any man who did for himself and Cousin Arthur batched it on the prairie farm, making messes for himself on an old stove that Mama said hadn't ever been cleaned.

Mama didn't like it when Cousin Arthur made fun of women and called them Kitty Janes. "The old idiot," she would mutter under her breath. Cousin Arthur was always boasting about how he kept the Kitty Janes at bay, but Mama thought the Kitty Janes were the ones who held off, for she couldn't see that Cousin Arthur was any prize package.

One spring Cousin Arthur's annual visit was much delayed. The early lettuce was already heading when I looked up from my churning and saw his horse turning in at the gate.

"Walker, I'm going to get married!" he called out to my father from the horse block as if he couldn't wait to tell the good news.

Turned out it was a plump, middle-aged widow out Strother way who had landed him. Papa reported to Mama that Cousin Arthur was still uncertain how it had happened.

He had been so sure that Teeny (his pet name for his treasure) was bespoken by a neighboring farmer that he had felt perfectly safe in paying pleasantly gallant compliments to make her feel good. Next thing he knew, her arms were around his neck and she was murmuring, "Oh Arthur, you dear, dear boy!"

That night at supper Cousin Arthur ate Mama's roast hen and dumplings as eagerly as ever but bragged so much about Teeny's cooking that I worried for fear Mama's feelings would be hurt. I was surprised to find her laughing quietly all to herself in the kitchen.

"The old rip might have known some spring would fix him," she said, and peered into the oven at the cherry pie she had made especially for Cousin Arthur.

Each Must Draw Own Standards

As a Result, Youth Is Tormeted and Obsessed

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Harvard socioligist Pitirim A. Sorokin thinks there's danger of our going "sex crazy." Reminding us that we're exposed to "some kind of sexual lure every nine minutes," he suggests that the frequency of our exposure to these lures accounts for our exaggerated interest in sex.

If we go crazy, it won't be because the lures are so frequent, but because they are so contradictory. If the lures were always the same, they'd grow so boring that we wouldn't react to them.

It's the perpetual changing of the lures that confuses us. For as each insists on a new standard of appearance or behavior, men and women don't know any longer what to expect to themselves or each other. The changing standards keep us so anxious about get sex off our minds.

The fact is, you and I are sending our children into a pretty tough sexual society. We do not define boy-girl expectations and conduct for our young people as other countries traditionally and universally define them for theirs.

The sex codes that do survive here are targets for pot-shots by critics who have neither the wisdom nor kindness to restrain their destructiveness until we either revise the old codes or make new ones.

So right now, what we offer children is the chaos of confusion and guilt that results from "every man for himself" codes.

Every day they are bombarded with some new standard of effective sex conduct. Just think of the decisions they have to sweat out without help from traditional and trusted codes.

Should Mary pet—or not? Should she listen to Mother—or Dr. Kinsey? Should she give boys movie siren allure—or behave like Jo in "Little Women?"

Should she try to "manage" boys—or tell them to manage themselves? Should she show one she likes him—or make him chase? Did he kiss her last night because he likes her—or was he just "testing" her for cheapness?

No universally accepted code provides the answer to these tormenting questions. Why wouldn't we be sex-obsessed? If each of us has to make his individual sex code, we'll have sex on our minds until we've done it.

As things are, making such a code can take a lifetime—or a psychiatrist — with everyone from parents to Dr. Kinsey and movie press agents shrieking conflicting ideas at us.

It's a human triumph that men and women dare so much as speak to another another, let alone get married.

Showers Should Keep Water Inside

If It Leaks Through Cracks, Check All Joints and Seams

By HUBBARD COBB

People who take shower baths are usually great splashers. They like to turn on the shower as hard as they can and then they make matters worse by thrashing the water about with their arms.

If there is one little crack in the shower stall, this practice will result in water getting into this crack and ending up somewhere about the house where it isn't wanted.

If the shower in question is made of ceramic tile, examine the mortar joints between the tile carefully to be sure they are all sound.

Cracked and crumbling mortar should be removed and replaced either with cement mortar or a light-colored compound made for this job.

Examine the seams at the bottom of the shower walls where they join the base for open seams. These can be filled, after they have been cleaned out with a white compound somewhat similar to caulking compound.

On steel shower stalls the great trouble spot is where the steel side join the base. If there is a leak at this point, your best bet is to remove the screws holding the sides to the base and filling the groove that the sides fit into with plumber's putty.

This type putty never becomes completely hard. The sides are then set into this bed of putty and refastened to the base.

Another spot to check is drain outlet in the base. The plate over the drain must be set in putty or else water will get in around the edge and perhaps work its way down the floor.

The big trouble spot with a bath type of shower is the joint between the bathtub and the wall. This should be cleaned out and packed with a white caulking compound or covered with a waterproof plastic strip.

Stubborn Girl Keeps Couple Apart

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

The breakup of a going-steady arrangement dissolves most girls in a puddle. Particularly when the he in question beats here to it.

She comes apart at all her seams and wallows in misery when he announces all is over. She may put on a very brave front while she's taking the bad news. But it melts once he's out of sight. She's hurt, mortified, chagrined. She feels cheated, let down and thoroughly at loose ends.

She takes his word as final. All the while hoping he'll live to regret it, then come groveling on his knees for her forgiveness.

Yes, she may hope in secret. But in public she smiles and walks with dignity. She ignores him, avoids him, pretends she doesn't even see him. She doesn't hang on tight and refuse to let him go!

Yet there's a girl doing just that in this story. And the story is written by the girl who wants to go with the boy who can't shake himself free from the other girl who's hahging on tight.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm sure he likes me as much as I like him, but he's going steady with a girl who won't let him go. He doesn't like her any more and wants to break up but she refuses to give his ring back.

"He told me he'd just let her have the ring and call it off, anyway, but it's his good school ring.

"She won't leave him alone. And she's spreading it all over school that I'm going with a boy who likes someone else — I'm trying to break them up! He stopped liking her even before we met.

"Should I stop dating him until he can get his ring back or let this girl keep on trying to spoil my reputation?"

For $14.50 (or whatever he paid for that school ring) two out of three of you in this triangle should be made miserable? If this boy had any backbone he'd consider the ring a mislaid souvenir and adopt a little manly firmness about dating you.

Your own dates with him are your concern — and his relationship (or lack of same) with his former girl friend is his business. You can slyly suggest — you can't force. You can encourage — you can't compel.

In your own quiet way, get the idea across that getting his ring back is only incidental to his breaking away from the girl. He should do that in his own quiet way.

As for the rumors she's spreading, don't let them bother you. No girl has regular dates with a boy unless he asks her for them. And he doesn't ask if he doesn't want to. And he doesn't want to if he's wildly in love with some other girl.

If the two of you act as though your going together were perfectly normal and natural, everyone will accept your attitude. And his former girl will have to!

Troops All Over Nation Celebrating

City, County Units, Planning Various Programs

By MAUDE DONAHUE

Forty-two years ago this week, a woman organized a troop of girls in Savannah, Ga., and it grew to become the Girl Scouts of America.

The woman was Juliet Lowe, who conceived the idea after observing scouts in other countries. The Girl Scout program now embraces over 2 million girls in America, with Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower as honorary president.

The Girl Scouts, who are celebrating their birthday this week, began in Pontiac in 1921 with just a few girls. In 1926 there were 315 scouts, and the organization grew until there were 3,800 Girl Scouts in Pontiac in 1953, or around 275 troops. There would be a larger number except for the lack of troop leaders.

The object of scouting is to help a girl become an intelligently participating citizen in a democratic social order. The girls range in age from 7 to 17.

The Intermediate Scouts are usually from 10 to 14 years old. Brownies, who wear brown uniforms, are the younger girls from 7 to 10. The older girls are the Senior Scouts who specialize in various services.

MAUDE

The girls are taught the rudiments of citizenship and homemaking as well as outdoor skills, and after proficiency is demonstrated by a scout in a given field, she is given a badge to wear on her uniform.

The goal is always quality rather than quantity, and the object is to show that the girl is prepared to use what she has learned to serve others as well as herself.

Friday is the actual birth date of the organization, but the whole week, from today through Sunday, is designated as Girl Scout Week.

Scouts in the area planning observations include Ortonville scouts, who will hold a birthday celebration Tuesday; Holly scouts, who will give a presentation for the PTA Thursday, and Rochester scouts, who will sponsor an international birthday party Saturday, wearing the costumes of various countries and showing the activities of scouts in the 32 different countries of the world where scouting is organized.

All events will be climaxed with a Scout's Own program Sunday at Pontiac High School. The Scout's Own is what it sounds like, an inspirational program planned and executed by the girls themselves.

An example of what can be done in the Pontiac Girl Scout program is offered by Gracia Latherow of Elizabeth Lake road who has earned 38 proficiency badges. Here she demonstrates her skills for the Camp Craft Badge, which is the next one she is trying to earn. Girl Scouts are observing their birthday this week throughout the nation.

DAR Attends PHS Program

Conservation Is Stressed

A program on conservation preceded the annual business meeting of the Gen. Richardson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held Friday afternoon in Pontiac High School.

Given by the Audio-Visual Department of Pontiac High School and directed by Vera Mae Adams, the program served as a dress rehearsal for a radio presentation, "A Way of Life" which will be broadcast on Friday.

Accompanying scripts for conservation study will be mailed to 350 teachers in the area whose classes are able to receive the broadcast.

Miss Adams was chosen by the DAR chapter to attend the Conservation School at Higgins Lake last summer. The Friday program was based on the activities at the school.

In her talk which followed the broadcast, Miss Adams told of counting grouse and deer in the Higgins Lake area and of her visit to farm land that has been rendered useless because of poor conservation methods.

Annual reports of chapter officers and committee chairmen were given by Mrs. L. L. Echtinaw, Mrs. W. F. Kalwitz, Mrs. Harry Going, Mrs. William F. Todd, Mrs. Eldon Gardner and Mrs. Harry Austin.

Others giving reports were Mrs. Harry D. Chapman, Mrs. E. V. Howlett, Alice Serrell, Mrs. Grant Beardslee, Mrs. Melville Luttrell and Mrs. Frank B. Geris.

Mrs. Going introduced a new member, Mrs. George Eldred. The advisory board submitted names of candidates to fill vacancies.

Elected to these chapter offices were Mrs. Allan Monroe, first vice president; Mrs. Everett Peterson, second vice president, and Mrs. Todd, corresponding secretary.

Prof Believes Thinking Device Is Quite Logical

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass. (AP) — A Mount Holyoke College philosophy professor today displayed his "thinking machine," which he says "is to logic what an adding machine is to arithmetic.

He says it can solve practically any problem in a book on fundamental symbolic logic.

The machine, about the size of an old-fashioned table model radio, has a complex system of electrical relays which flashes lights on a control board.

The professor sets up the questions with a series of symbols. He says the machine can't perform any function which a human operator couldn't do for himself with pencil and paper. But he claims it can tackle complex processes of reasoning with greater speed and accuracy.

He says the device can test the validity of the basic laws of logic. It also can explore the field for new principles, he says, and it can test whatever specific arguments are given it for examination.

CIO Postpones Chrysler Strike

Union, Plant Officials Seeking to Keep 20,000 Workers on Jobs

DETROIT (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers Sunday voted to put off a strike which could idle up to 20,000 Chrysler Corp. employes.

Local 212 of the UAW called off the threatened work stoppage. But a strike vote will be held, officials said, unless Chrysler agrees to rehire two men dismissed Friday.

Sixty-nine drivers at the Chrysler Mack Avenue plant — formerly a Briggs Body plant — refused to work after the firings. Following the walkout, Chrysler sent home some 1,500 employes.

Chrysler spokesmen said the walkout, if prolonged, would involve employes at Chrysler and Plymouth Division plants and the Packard Motor Car Co. Packard obtains bodies from the Mack plant.

Company spokesmen said one of the dismissed men, under orders of a shop steward, refused to remove masking tape from a newly-painted truck body. Both the workers and the steward were fired.

In another Detroit area labor dispute, federal and state labor mediators today were to meet with Nash-Kelvinator officials and representatives of the Independent Mechanics Educational Society of America.

A 13-day old dispute at the Detroit Nash-Kelvinator plant has idled 3,000 workers in Detroit and Grand Rapids.

An agreement between the AFL Detroit Building Trades Council and the AFL Teamsters union Friday, halted a jurisdictional dispute that had idled 3,000 construction workers.

The workers were scheduled to go back on the job today.

Union officers said the Detroit agreement may serve as a pattern in settling a similar dispute at Flint.

Dem to Approve Island Statehood

Sen. Mansfield Would OK Hawaii Regardless of Action on Alaska

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), said today he will vote for Hawaiian statehood regardless of the outcome of a Democratic attempt to include Alaska in the same bill.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee member said he would prefer to support a one-package bill admitting both territories to the union. He said: "But if we can't get that, I'd still be for Hawaiian statehood."

Senate Democrats will hold their first caucus of the present session Tuesday, and Hawaiian statehood is one of the issues up for discussion.

Involved in the question is the general expectation that the two senators Hawaii would send to Washington would be Republicans, while Alaska, if admitted to the Union, would likely elect Democrats to the Senate.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N. Mex), is the author of an amendment to tie Alaska to the Hawaiian statehood bill. The vote on this is expected to be close.

Mansfield said the statehood question should be considered without reference to politics. He declared in an interview: "They are both entitled to statehood and both would make fine additions to the union."

He said he anticipated a "long debate" but if the showdown vote is not reached by Easter, the senate will have to put the issue aside for other matters.

New City Hall Construction Half Done

NEARLY HALF DONE—Pontiac's new $1,000,000 city hall is shown above in a view from the northwest. The structure, located south of E. Pike street between Hill and Parke Sts. Completion of the 54,000-square-foot building is expected in the spring of 1955. As designed, the building has three floors, with provision for an added story later.

Completion Date in Spring of '55

Heating Plant, Concrete Work Mostly Finished, Some Partitions In

Construction of Pontiac's new $1,000,000 city hall is nearing the half-way point after 10 months of work.

The building lies on the south side of East Pike street between Hill and Parke streets.

H. L. Stout, city inspctor for the project, said the heating plant is nearly set up in the basement with installation of two boilers completed.

The ground floor of the three-floor building has all the rough enclosing walls and interior walls completed, Stout said.

The first floor has the interior partitions about 65 per cent complete, the inspector explained.

The electrical system is about half installed, said Stout, and 70 per cent of the plumbing is finished.

Concrete work on the 206 by 77-foot structure is about 85 per cent complete, Stout added.

Plans call for assignment of space to make offices most used by the public easiest to reach.

The public health and sanitation departments will be located on the ground floor along with a special engineering laboratory.

The treasurer's office will be included on the second floor, along with the water collections department, the city clerk's office and several inspection departments.

Offices for the city manager, engineer, finance director and a city commission assembly room will be on the third floor. A special drafting and planning room will adjoin the engineer's office.

The building will be faced with Bedford stone. It will include an elevator plus air-conditioning and ventilating systems.

Stout said tempo of the work will increase as weather conditions improve. Completion is expected in spring of 1955.

For the Record

Stray Dog Teaches Lesson of Trust to Cold Villagers

By FELIX HOLT

Felix Holt, a veteran newspaperman, is author of the best selling novel, "The Gabriel Horn."

It took a stray dog to bring a hundred or so residents of our little Pennsylvania village into a bond of common trust and understanding.

Being in commuting distance of New York and Philadelphia, the village is about equally divided between the oldtimers, or natives, and the newcomers, most of whom are employed elsewhere. There has always been a reserved politeness between the two groups.

Then one day Lady arrived. She was of mixed breed, part terrier and part foxhound. Where she came from nobody knows.

Why she chose our village is still more of a mystery because stray dogs get short shrift where people keep cats, chickens and sheep.

She was accorded the usual reception given strays: yelled at, thrown at and otherwise discouraged from lingering.

But instead of tucking her tail between her legs and running or slinking away, Lady only backed off a few yards, wagged her tail and tossed her slender head pleadingly as if to say, "I'm not a bad sort if only you'll take the time to like me."

Thus instead of a scolding or worse, Lady usually got a handout.

When she first arrived in the village she was thin to the point of starvation but as her winning ways made friends and influenced people, she filled out rapidly. But her ravenous appetite was baffling. It could not be satisfied even though she made the rounds of the village two and three times a day.

Then it dawned on us that Lady was about to become a mother. She had made the general store her headquarters from the time of her arrival. As her time came closer she made a bed for herself under the porch at the rear of the store.

One night she brought nine husky pups into this world. Feeding a litter that large is a big job, but Lady's friends responded to the emergency. They brought bones, scraps and leftovers to the store.

Meanwhile something was happening to the people of the village. I am sure none of us realized it at the time. But instead of the coolly polite "how-do-you-dos" when we met at the store, there was animated conversation about Lady and her pups, all of which were spoken for before their eyes were opened.

In them we had found a common interest but beyond that subject each of us still carried the old reserve, or putting it more plainly, distrust of each other. This was brought sharply to the fore when Lady's pups were just about old enough to be weaned and distributed to those waiting for them.

One evening, about sundown when people were watering the grass or mowing the lawns, a small truck pulled up in front of the general store. Painted on the sides of the truck were the letters SPCA. The driver went into the store.

Within a matter of seconds, or so it seemed, telephones were ringing up and down the village street.

"Some dirty so-and-so has turned Lady and her pups into the SPCA!" was the general announcement one heard upon lifting the receiver.

A few moments later we saw the SPCA man come out. We waited to see him go to the back where Lady was holed up with her litter of pups. But to our complete mystification he didn't. Instead, he climbed in his truck and drove off. Before the truck was out of sight the bulk of the village population was converging on the store.

"How did you get rid of him?" we asked, thinking that Harry, the storekeeper, had put a fast one over on the SPCA man.

"He wasn't after Lady," Harry said. "He only stopped in for a soft drink."

We all laughed. We roared laughing. We beat each other on the back, something that would never have happened before Lady came to live among us.

Why, I asked myself later on, were we acting that way. It must have been the realization that there was not one of us to be distrusted. It was a mighty good feeling and still is. Thanks to a stray dog who had more faith in us than we had shown in each other.

Biggest Issues of Session Still Facing Legislature

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Legislature starts the last month of its 1954 session tonight, with most of the major decisions still to be made.

Such issues as legalized bingo, the 1954-55 budget, unemployment compensation, fair employment practices legislation, workmen's compensation, the first Constitutional convention since 1906, controls over lobbyists still remain unsettled.

The Senate returns from a weekend recess at 7 p. m. to plunge into a docket of some 40 bills. The House reconvenes at 8 p. m. with a calendar of 70 measures facing it. There are no appropriation bills on the floor of either chamber yet.

The Senate expects to vote tonight on a "semi-official" Republican unemployment compensation bill which would raise the benefits of idle workers with families $4 a week. Close behind it on the calendar is a comparable boost in workmen's compensation benefits.

At the same time, the House will be considering a $1,100 a year increase in legislators' pay.

The Senate Judiciary Committee has delayed action on a Constitutional amendment to legalise charity bingo, arguing that it must push ordinary bills past their weekly deadlines first. But the chamber was torn between a desire to let the issue go to a popular vote and a belief the organized backers of the plan should put the measure on the ballot by the petition route.

Old battle lines will be shattered in the Senate tonight if a vote is reached on a new lobbyist control bill. This one is backed by influential Senators who helped defeat a previous bill of that nature.

There were persistent reports the bill will be withdrawn in the face of a bitter wet-dry controversy.

Tonight the House will debate the Conlin Plan, one of the major measures of 1954. It would revise the Sales Tax Diversion Amendment.

Defense Department Seeks Small A-Units

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department is shopping for small self-contained atomic power plants that can be transported by air to U.S. air bases in the arctic.

The power package would include a reactor to provide heat to run a steam plant which would produce up to 1,500 kilowatts of electricity. The fuel would be enriched uranium and would have to be replaced only once a year—a big advantage in places where arctic ice bars tankers for 10 months out of every 12.

The Atomic Energy Commission said yesterday that, at Defense Department request, it was inviting bids from private companies, to be submitted by March 20, on building an experimental plant.

Who Could Succeed FBI Chief?

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The subject of who can—or will—succeed FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover holds all records as the most durable and intriguing source of speculation in this town.

It dates back to early New Deal days when political hatchet men were after Hoover's scalp.

The latest spark is the retirement of Daniel M. (Mickey) Ladd as head of investigations, and the appointment of Leland V. Broadman as his successor.

By choice the key men around Hoover in the FBI are charter members of an organization known as "Anonymity Anonymous." And there's no question that Broadman will quickly pull the soundproof walls of the Bureau around him, and quietly disappear from public view.

Today, however, because of his lectures around the country to police and other law-enforcement groups during recent years, he's one of the better-known FBI officials outside of the bureau. Because of his promotion, he now joins the ranks of possible Hoover successors.

Before the advancement, Broadman was special agent in charge of the important New York office, a title he has also held in Milwaukee, Cleveland, Seattle, Philadelphia and Kansas City.

He is a quiet, amiable, youthful-looking man of 45, a graduate of the University of Minnesota Law School, married and has one child.

He and Hoover became friends when they worked together on the arrest of gangster Alvin Karpis in New Orleans in 1936. They're both bachelors and manage to conduct some of the bureau's business over dinner several nights a week in one of Hoover's favorite Washington restaurants. Tolson is 53. He and Hoover are both graduates of George Washington University Law School.

No story ever speculates on Hoover's successor without mentioning the name of Lou Nichols, who is in charge of the bureau's records and communications. He's very close to Hoover and if he can't produce from memory some fact or scrap of information on the FBI, which may be 10 years old, he'll get it from his voluminous files in five seconds flat.

Before Ladd's retirement the trio of Tolson, Ladd and Nichols was considered the top echelon of the bureau whose only ambition in life was the chance to put in a little more overtime for "The Boss." Now Broadman is one of them.

When asked what he considered to be the most significant development in crime detection during the many years he has been in charge of the bureau's investigations, Ladd replied:

"Why, Mr. Hoover's leadership in making law-enforcement a respected profession and his development of scientific crime laboratory work, of course."

Ladd is the first to deny it, but he can share with Hoover some of the credit for developing the bureau's crime lab, the finest of its kind in existence. He was assistant to Charles A. Appel Jr., when Appel started the lab, was in charge of it for three years, and has inspired its work as overall boss of investigations.

Ladd's office was loaded with fishing gear, golf clubs and an outboard motor which bureau employes gave to him the day he retired. He's going to take up fishing and loafing in earnest in Florida from now on.

However, he could easily become one of the nation's more prosperous writers if he would agree to sell some of the fabulous stories and yarns about the FBI which he carries in his head. But on that score he says:

"I'm not the type who writes books. The information I have happens to belong to the bureau and that's that."

By BILL MARTIN

Pre-tournament favorites Rochester and Keego Harbor won district basketball championships here Saturday night, but the latter came within a hair of being upset by Pontiac St. Michael.

Presidents were forced to come from behind and then outlast the stubborn Mikes in overtime to win a 48-46 victory in Class C. Rochester had little trouble subduing Oxford, 53-36, for the "B" title.

Both teams return here Wednesday to compete in Pontiac's regional tourney. Rochester will face Walled Lake, Utica, St. Mary (MC) and St. Clair in the Class B field. Keego will compete against St. Benedict, Sweetest Heart, St. Charles, St. Thomas, Marine City, and Grosse Pointe St. Paul in Class C.

Underdog St. Michael set the Presidents back on their heels by jumping into a 13-3 lead in the 1st seven minutes, Jerry O'Shaughnessy and Bob Hobson whipped in a pair of baskets in the last 30 seconds to shave the margin to 13-7 at the end of the period.

All five Shamrock starters contributed points as the Pontiac parochials outscored their suburban foes 11-8 in the 3rd quarter to go into the finale with a 32-25 edge.

Presidents began closing the gap in the last period and reserve Bill Nicholson sank a field goal to tie the score at 40 points with a minute six seconds remaining. Shamrocks again forged ahead on a basket by Joe Wilhelm and a free throw by Marty Keller. However, a technical foul for delaying the game was called on St. Michael after Keller's free throw, and Lester O'Shaughnessy sank the resulting charity toss and added a long field goal to push the game into overtime.

Hobson dunked a layup to start the extra session, but Mikes' Joe Wilhelm dropped a 15-footer to make it 45-45. Hobson then hit for the clincher from underneath. Wilhelm and Lester O'Shaughnessy matched single free throws to end scoring.

Defensive standout of the game was St. Michael center Bud Schwartz, who controlled both boards effectively throughout the game. He also contributed 11 points, while teammate Russ Shindorf shared game honors with Lloyd Law of Keego. Each had 12 points.

Rochester, connecting on 36 per cent of its shots, roared to 12-5 1st-quarter lead over Oxford and stayed in front by a comfortable margin through the remainder of the game. Wildcats, who trailed 23-12 at halftime, were never closer than nine points in the 2nd half.

Arlan Stone, Falcons' all-state candidate and Oakland County's leading scorer, sparked the Rochester victory with 19 points. Larry Spencer of Oxford collected 15 points before fouling out in the final minute of the 3rd period.

Underdogs Enjoy Big Night in County's District Finals

By JACK SAYLOR

It was a great night for underdogs Saturday in the finals of district prep basketball tournament play in the Oakland County area.

Walled Lake, Ortonville and Utica, three teams with fine tournament backgrounds, each bounced favored teams to win district trophies. As might be expected at such a stage of tourney play, close games were the rule in the area.

Walled Lake sent Northville to the sidelines in Class B at Walled Lake, 64-55. Ortonville sprung a 58-55 upset on Clarkston, and Utica spilled Warren, 47-39.

Don Williams set a new Walled Lake career scoring record in the Vikings' win. Niles Freeland's club took the lead in the 2nd period and never was headed thereafter. Three baskets by Myrel Taulbee had given Walled Lake a 30-25 halftime margin.

Williams scored 19 points, bringing his season total to 312. Total topped the 283 posted by Jack DeCou in the 1951-52 season. Mike Ryan added 14 points for WL, while Glen Howarth had 24 in Northville's losing cause.

At Ortonville, Max Berry's Hawks carved out a 15-point lead in the 3rd period, then had to hold off a desperate rally by Clarkston, which saw its 11-game winning streak shattered.

Bob Mills sparked Ortonville, which never trailed after 5 minutes of play in the 2nd quarter. A full-court press by Clarkston, led by Dick Johnston, nearly pulled the game out of the fire, but the Wolves couldn't overcome a poor 3rd quarter, in which they failed to score a basket.

Clarkston, which ended with a 14-4 record, thus fell victim to the tournament jinx which hounded the Wolves until last year's district triumph. For Ortonville, it marks the 3rd trip to the regionals in the last four years.

Mills' 22 points were high and Leon Mozarowsky added 16. Johnston hit 19 for Clarkston.

Tournaments may not be Warren's jinx, but the Orioles could live nicely without Utica. During the regular season, Warren won 10 straight, including a 1-point win over the pesky Chieftans, then fell to Barney Swinehart's Uticans, 28-23.

Orioles marched the rest of the way, including two tourney games, to a great 17-1 record when up popped Utica again. Chieftans led all the way, but Warren tied the count at 36-36, only to see Bob Holden foul out at the start of the 4th quarter. That sounded the death knell.

Warren's biggest trouble was at the free throw line where only 7 of 19 were cashed. Meanwhile, Utica hit 17 of 25. Gordon Rogers hooked and tipped his way to 20 points and game honors.

Elsewhere, Shrine and St. Benedict's won titles at Van Dyke. Mike Carroll's only basket of the game, a "dog" shot in the last five seconds, gave St. Bens a 34-32 edge over their Suburban Catholic League rival, Royal Oak St. Mary.

Shrine handed Detroit Lutheran a 44-36 setback with Ron Troy collecting 19 points. At Brighton, a 5-point rally in the last 15 seconds gave Pinckney a 30-28 win over Fowlerville.

Trailing 28-25 at that point, Don Packer made the 1st of two free throws, then missed the 2nd intentionally.

The strategy paid off as Dave Haines rebounded to tie the score and Bob Meabon intercepted the in-bounds pass and sunk a shot from side-court to win the game.

In Class D at Troy, New Baltimore defeated Country Day, 41-31. Del Aud hit 7 of 8 free throws in the last quarter to wrap up the decision. Aud, who had 17 points Saturday, connected on 17 of 18 foul shots in three district tourney games.

Ortonville's triumph earned the Hawks a berth in the Saginaw Class C regional. Both Walled Lake and Utica will be in Pontiac's Class B tourney.

Osca Winner of Sport Car Endurance Test

Lancia Driver Pushes Car in Futile Effort to Maintain Lead

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — A tiny Italian-built Osca won the Florida International 12-hour Grand Prix Endurance test but the sport car fans never will forget the heartbreaking defeat of the Italian Lancia team.

Leading at one stage by over 88 miles, the shiny red car driven by grey-haired Piero Taruffi of Italy "conked out" last night with one hour to go.

As he pushed the car along the concrete runways of the abandoned air force field, a little red Osca sped round and round to make up a nine-lap (46.8 miles) deficit in the final hour.

The thinning remants of a crowd of 10,000 buzzed with excitement as the drama mounted.

With 20 minutes to go, Taruffi finally reached the pits and his crew of talented mechanics started to work feverishly.

The Osca, driven by Sterling Moss, former British champion, and Bill Lloyd of Green Farms, Conn. finally closed the gap with 15 minutes to go. Word drifted back that the Lancia's motor was "frozen."

Indiana, Illini, Bucks, Purdue, Title Winners

Cage, Track, Swimming and Mat Honors Won in Big Weekend

CHICAGO (AP) — Indiana, Illinois, Ohio State and Purdue won Big Ten titles Saturday in a full program of sports activity.

Hoosiers wrapped up the Big Ten basketball championship by beating Illinois 67-64 at Bloomington, Ind., in the final game of the regular season.

Illinois won its 4th straight indoor track crown at Champaign, scoring in 10 of 14 events for a total of 55 points. Indiana was 2nd with 42¾ points and Michigan 3rd with 42. Illini swept six individual titles, including the high jump, where Ron Mitchell set a conference mark of 6 feet, 7 inches.

Ohio State, winning nine of 14 events, churned to a record 6th straight swimming title at Ann Arbor, Mich., with a new high of 125 points.

Purdue won the wrestling championship, dethroning Michigan. Boilermakers had three individual winners and scored 26 points to the runnerup Wolverines' 22. Al Vega, at 123 pounds, Bud Weick, at 147, and Ahmet Senol, at 177, were the Boilermaker winners. Meet was held at East Lansing, Mich.

Illinois also won its 5th straight fencing title, at Iowa City with a 40-point total to second-place Wisconsin's 31.

Illinois won the track crown despite disqualification of Gene Maynard in the 880-yard run. Maynard came in 1st in the event but was disqualified for leaving his lane too early and bumping another runner. Second-place John Cook of Michigan State, timed in 1:54.9, was declared winner.

Indiana, whose Jack Wellman won the two-mile race in 9:25.6 with a brilliant finish kick, was a surprise runner-up over Michigan. The Wolverines were figured to give Illinois a close battle for the title.

Hoosier Pair Repeat as All Big 10 Cagers

Schlundt, Leonard Are Joined by Kerr, Ebert and Garmaker

CHICAGO (AP) — Height, heft and shooting skill prevails on the 1954 All-Big Ten basketball team selected today for the Associated Press by conference coaches.

The two Hoosiers, 218-pound, 6-foot, 10-inch Don Schlundt and 6-3, 185-pound Bob Leonard, repeated from last season's honor team. Strangely, however, All-America Schlundt was not a unanimous choice.

Schlundt missed three 1st team votes, while Leonard was No. 1 choice of all 10 coaches, only player so honored.

Rounding out the team are Johnny Kerr, Illinois' 6-9, 225-pound scoring machine; Ohio State's agile Paul Ebert, 6-4, 190; and 200-pound Dick Garmaker, 6-3, of Minnesota.

Only one coach failed to name Kerr to the 1st team. Ebert missed two 1st team votes and Garmaker three.

First team: Forwards—Paul Ebert, Ohio State and John Kerr, Illinois. Center—Don Schlundt, Indiana. Guards—Bob Leonard, Indiana and Dick Garmaker, Minnesota.

Ten Records Are Bettered in Big Ten Swimming Meet as Buckeyes Win

By GLENN ENGLE

ANN ARBOR (AP) — What's the record for records in a Big Ten swimming meet?

Nobody seemed to know for sure when the Western Conference championships wound up Saturday night. But whatever it was, it must have been broken this year.

Not counting the two diving contests, there were 12 events in the meet. Seven new unofficial Big Ten records were set.

In addition, one American and two National Collegiate marks were bettered.

Ohio State and Michigan, locked in a tight battle all the way, accounted for all except one of the records. John Dudeck of Michigan State set a new Big Ten 100-yard breast stroke mark of 59.7 seconds to break the two-school monopoly.

Ohio State finished with 125 points to Michigan's 103. The other eight conference schools were way back, led by Michigan State with 35.

These were the other record-breaking performances:

Event	Winner	Time
150-yard individual medley,	Bumpy Jones, U.M.	1:39.5
440-yard free style,	Ford Konno, OSU	4:38.8
100-yard free style,	Dick Cleveland, OSU	:49.5
50-yard free style,	Don Hill, U.M.	:23.1
400-yard free style, Michigan		5:22.5

Jones' individual medley mark erased every record in the book, though there is no recognized world record. It bettered the American, his own National Collegiate and Big Ten marks.

Konno's 440-yard freestyle time also lowered the National Collegiate mark. The smooth-stroking little Hawaiian's 220-yard and 1500-meter times bettered Big Ten records.

All in all, Ohio State's mighty team grabbed 10 1st places, including both diving events. Michigan got three and Michigan State one.

Matt Mann, winding up 30 years as Michigan coach, called his 1954 team his greatest. Mike Peppe, cagy Ohio State coach, doesn't deny claims that the Ohio State team this year is the nation's greatest ever.

The Ohio State victory established the Buckeyes as even greater favorites in the NCAA meet March 25-26-27 at Syracuse.

Jones Sets 3-Way Record in Medley

Burwell (Bumpy) Jones of Pontiac added to his great swimming record despite Michigan's loss to Ohio State in the Big 10 tank championships at Ann Arbor over the week end.

Jones set a new NCAA, American and Big 10 record by churning his specialty, the 150-yard individual medley, in 1 minutes, 29.5 seconds. Jones also was a member of the UM 400-yard free style relay team, which set a Big 10 mark by winning in 3:23.8.

Earlier in the meet, Jones had upset John Dudeck of Michigan State in the 200-yard breast stroke. Time for the versatile Pontiac star was 2:21.1.

Polish Falcons Lead

Pontiac Team Is Winner in Kaycee Pin Tourney

The 3196 total set up by Pontiac's Polish Falcons held up under the final week end attack to win the team championship of the 13th annual Knights of Columbus state bowling tournament at Motor Inn Recreation.

Members of the team are Frank and Fred Wyzgoski, Mike and Fred Figa and Chuck Riharb. They outdistanced Pfeiffer's Beer of Monroe and Glenn Funeral Home of St. Clair Shores for the team title.

A member of the Glenn team, Jim Darga, furnished the top shake-up on the final week end. In addition to pacing his team into 3rd place, Darga teamed with E. Egan to win the doubles with 1302 and hit 690 for 8th place in singls. His 2001 total for all events gave him the title in that division.

Jerry DeSantis of Detroit held on to the singles lead to win that division with 722. Otis Miller Pontiac finished 3rd with 714. Riharb was 5th in all events with 1947.

L. Clement and J. Berkley of Pontiac lost their doubles lead, but finished 2nd with 1297. Only one other Pontiac team besides the Falcons finished in the top 10 Wayne Heating took 7th with 3014.

High game of the tourney was rolled by Henry Piotrowski of St. Clair Shores. He rooled 274 for the Ritz Recreation quintet. He missed in the 3rd frame and got five pins on his final ball. His series total was 614.

BG, Western Ky. in NIT Feature

Bowling Green, Dayton, St. Francis Advance in Cage Tourney

NEW YORK (AP) — Harold Anderson, soft-spoken Bowling Green basketball coach, came up with the understatement of the month today with the following prediction on tonight's Bowling Green-Western Kentucky clash in the National Invitation Tournament: "It'll be a battle."

"They're the favorites, of course, because they beat us by 12 last month," he said. "But, heck, their Forrest Able hit 10 of 12 long ones, or something like that, and you can't beat that kind of ball."

Bowling Green played good ball indeed in downing Wichita 88-84 in the 1st round of the NIT Saturday night, whizzing away to a 26-14 lead and piling it on with a 33-point third quarter.

It was a great night for Ohio, in fact, as Dayton came from behind to trounce Manhattan 90-79. St. Francis of Brooklyn won its 1st game in the NIT 60-55 by shaking off a Louisville rally in the other game on Saturday night's tripleheader.

New Club Selects 'Interim' Officers

These men will serve until the 250 membership quota has been reached.

Blaine E. Eynon of Birmingham was named president. Others are: Lewell N. Mays, Birmingham, vice president; George Greig, Detroit, secretary; Alan Pfaff, Detroit, assistant secretary; Victor R. Cramer, Birmingham, treasurer and Leland B. Church, Birmingham, assistant treasurer.

Skating Finals Held

Pontiac Team Winner in Volley Ball Trials

Pontiac YMCA volley ball team won the Northeastern District championship Saturday at the Pontiac "Y" by defeating Port Huron. City team won three straight matches in the best-of-five series.

Scores were 15-10, 15-8, 15-14. Members of the Pontiac team, who will represent the local YMCA in state volley ball championships, include Ed Novak, Judge Arthur Moore, Dick Mineweaser, Rev. William Varian, Dick Womack and Dr. Edward Collins.

Veteran Scout Thinks Yankees Can Be Beaten; Sees Red Sox, White Sox Both Better Than Tribe

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—Red Sox and White Sox are picked by a traveling scout as the two main teams the Yankees must whip this impending season.

He has been hovering around several camps and this is what he writes: "Provided Ted Williams' broken collarbone mends in time and he's in shape for another good year, the Red Sox can be tough. I think Ted will have another very good year despite this setback. He is the keenest player in any camp I've seen prior to his accident.

"I'm sorry the Red Sox have lost Maurice McDermott. They'll need him badly. But they have a good outfield, a good infield and good catching. If their pitching holds up they can be tough—very tough.

"I like both Red Sox and White Sox over the Indians. I don't think the Indians have improved in any way. They have three fine pitchers—and that lets them out, with the exception of Al Rosen, a great ballplayer. But one man can't make an infield. I can't see that Cleveland is a bit better than last year.

"And don't forget Washington. Bucky Harris has the most improved team in either league. He has one of the best pitchers in baseball in Porterfield, recent concussion and all. He might be the best. He's only 29 years old.

"Bucky has Spec Shea, who is still good. He has McDermott who won 18 games with the Red Sox, McDermott is only 25. He should be at his best this season. Washington will always be dangerous.

"The Yankees should win, but this can be their toughest season. They are far overconfident now. They don't think they have to hustle. When you've won everything through five years, winning becomes monotonous. That 19 straight saved them last year.

"A scrappy, hard-fighting team could have stopped the Yankees more than once. Casey Stengel is a smart guy and he knows it. When the big showdown came, Chicago and Cleveland quit. This time with Boston and Washington additional threats, all four of them won't quit. This 1954 Yankee team can be beaten by more than one club if the rest of the league has a little heart left."

This comes to me from one of the veteran scouts. It sounds reasonable enough. For the Yankees, winners of five pennants and five World Series, are nothing like that great a team.

Houston Title, Cash Goes to Slender Dave Douglas

HOUSTON (AP) — Dave Douglas hadn't won a dime this year until he plucked a big one, the Houston Open's $6,000 top prize, and now is winter golf's second leading money winner.

Middlecoff's $3,200 runner-up money boosted his earnings for the year to $6,780.56 for first ranking.

Douglas clinched top money in the $30,000 tournament with a final-round, 5-under-par 67 that took most of the record gallery of from 12,000 to 15,000 by surprise.

Douglas, 36, had gone practically unnoticed with early rounds of 70 and 71 for the 7,200-yard, par 72 Memorial Park course.

A third round 69 pulled him to 210, just one stroke behind New Orleans' Freddie Haas, the leader after 36 and 54 holes. But most speculation still centered on Haas, Middlecoff and Shelley Mayfield.

On the back nine, Douglas barely missed an eagle on the 13th hole, settled for a birdie and came home in 35. Middlecoff had a par 36, Mayfield a 37.

Haas and Mayfield shared third place at 280 with Ed Oliver, Palm Springs, Calif., and Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N.Y., each won $1,700.

Hi-Y, Vocal Quintets Reach Playoff Finals

Hi-Y, sparked by Harold Richards' 22 points, dumped Wilson Avenue Methodists, 48-23. Harold Titus collected 11 points to lead Vocal to a 28-16 triumph over Phalanx.

Playoff finals are scheduled for this Saturday.

Five Berths Open as NCAA Test Starts

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—With five conference races still to be decided in down-to-the-wire battles, the involved NCAA postseason basketball tournament gets under way tonight with preliminary rounds scheduled for Buffalo, N. Y., and Durham, N. C.

Powerful La Salle of Philadelphia (21-4), Middle Atlantic Conference winner, is favored over Fordham (18-5), and Connecticut (23-2), the New England representative, is a slight choice over Navy (16-7) in the Buffalo doubleheader.

At Durham, North Carolina State (25-6), the Atlantic Coast Conference titleholder, meets Southern Conference champion George Washington (25-2). State was an upset winner in the AAC loop, but George Washington swept through the Southern like a tornado. GW is favored.

The winners all will advance to the regional finals, slated to start in Philadelphia Friday. The winner of the Connecticut-Navy game will play the still-to-be-determined Ivy League champion. The winners of the other two games also will meet.

Only one of the vacancies definitely will be filled tonight, That one will be the Pacific Coast berth. The playoff between Southern Division champion Southern California and Northern Division winner Oregon State shows one victory apiece. They play the deciding game tonight.

Southwest — Rice and Texas, which finished in a tie, have played one game of their three-game playoff series, with Rice the winner. They play No. 2 tonight.

Southeastern — Kentucky and Louisiana State finished in a tie, and since they did not meet during the regular season, they will settle matters in a one-game playoff at the Vanderbilt field house in Nashville tomorrow.

Big Seven—Kansas is in first place with 10-1 and has one game to play, against Missouri tomorrow night. Colorado, which is in second place, has finished its season with 10-2.

Ivy—Cornell (11-2), the leader, and Princeton (10-3), the runner-up, meet in Tigertown tonight.

Meanwhile, the National Invitation Tournament in Madison Square Garden will go with its second triple-header pitting Brigham Young against St. Francis of Loretto, Pa.; Niagara against Dayton; and Western Kentucky against Bowling Green.

Dayton eliminated Manhattan 90-79, Saturday night and Bowling Green edged Wichita 88-84. In the third game, St. Francis of Brooklyn advanced against Louisville 60-55.

The NAIA — the small-college tournament—also gets under way today. The 32-team event will run six days with the eventual champion having to play and win five games in that span. Springfield (Mo.) State is the defending champion.

Highland Park Novice's Win Enables Michigan to Avoid Shutout

A novice-division victory by Bill Carlysle of Highland Park enabled Michigan to avoid a complete shutout in the 19th annual state open table tennis championships held here over the weekend.

Carolee teamed with Ben Baker to reach the finals of the mixed doubles, but lost to Elaine Mitchell and John Somael, New York.

Somael also won the men's singles, beating Max Hersh of Detroit 24-22, 21-15, 21-23 and 24-22, and teamed with Warren Bondy to defeat Hersh and Sanford Gross, 21-16, 22-20 and 21-18 for the men's doubles championship.

Wings Within 3 Points of 6th NHL Title

Delvecchio's Revival Sparks Detroit to Win, Tie Over Weekend

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Red Wings today were within three points — a victory and a tie — of clinching their 6th straight National Hockey League championship.

The Wings' No. 2 center, a disappointment for most of the season, scored three goals over the week end as Detroit beat Toronto Saturday and tied Montreal 2-2 Sunday.

This gave the Wings 83 points in the standings, compared to 74 for Toronto and 73 for Montreal. Detroit has seven games to play while its rivals from Canada each has six.

Wings can nail the title at home this week. They play Chicago Thursday and New York Saturday. Two victories and a tie will do it.

Delvecchio scored twice in the 1st period Saturday to lead the Wings to their only victory of the season on Toronto ice. Then last night, he and Bill Dineen, scored within 23 seconds of a hectic 3rd period to earn a tie with the Canadiens at Olympia stadium.

Ted in Boston for Examination of Broken Bone

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Red Sox may learn today how long they'll have to wait for their big bat — Ted Williams — to get into the lineup.

The tall slugger came to Boston last night to have his broken collar bone examined. It was broken during his 1st 10 minutes of spring training in Sarasota, Fla.

Dr. Russell Sullivan, chief orthopedic surgeon at Boston City Hospital and Ted's frequent fishing companion, said it is possible the 35-year-old outfielder may have to undergo surgery.

Williams' flight to Boston came as a surprise to most observers who figured only time was needed for the broken bone to knit properly.

Harry Stein, now in his third year as Brandeis University's basketball coach, had an identical record his first two seasons—13 wins and seven losses.

Gavilan Opposes Minelli in Final Title Tune-Up

The Cuban Flash faces veteran Livio Minelli again in a nontitle 10 in Boston. Gavvy outpointed the Italian in Cleveland 11 months ago.

Handsome Bobby Dykes, the Miami middleweight contender, is an 8-5 favorite to beat hustling Ralph (Tiggr) Jones of Yonkers, N.Y., in a 10 at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena tonight.

Gil Turner, another middleweight contender, mixes with Bobby Jones, Oakland, Calif., veteran at the Philadelphia Arena Wednesday night. The 10-rounder will be telecast by CBS starting at 10 p.m., EST.

Two 6-foot-3 heavyweights, Nino Valdes of Cuba and James J. Parker of Toronto, collide in the headline 10 at Madison Square Garden Friday night. ABC will broadcast and NBC will telecast the 10 p.m., EST, tilt.

'Dogfight' Seen in Tiger Camp at Second Base

Bolling and Hatfield Do Well Sunday in First Crack at Spot

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP) — Where's the warmest place in Florida? It's the 2nd base slot on the Detroit Tigers starting squad.

Rookie Frank Bolling, anxious for 1st call, put in a good day in the field for the Tigers as they bowed to the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday 7-3.

Not only was his field play good, but he got two hits in three times at bat. By the time the 8th inning rolled around it looked like his performance afield (one out, two assists) may have given him a big step toward the job.

Then Fred Hatfield replaced him. Hatfield came to the plate just once. He connected for a single that started a two run Tiger rally in the 9th. During his short stay at the 2nd sack he turned in one assist and one out.

When the game was over, it was still a good question: "Who's going to play second?" The answer might not be Hatfield and it might not be Bolling.

Still untried are Reno Bertoia, a bonus player from Windsor, Ont., and Harry Bright, a Southern Assn. player who batted .295 with Charleston last year and can catch, play 3rd or the outfield.

Either of the two may get their 1st chance today as the Tigers take on the Pirates in a 2nd tussle to revenge yesterday's defeat.

Yesterday's defeat came, for all practical purposes, in the 1st inning. Al Aber starting the 1st exhibition for the Tigers, gave up two hits, three walks and a hit batter, which the Pirates parlayed into five runs.

The Pirates came to life again for two runs off Milo Johnson in the 8th, but Tigers had still out-hit them at game's end 11 hits to seven.

Heroic Airline Hostess Starts on Honeymoon

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—A plucky young McKeesport, Pa., airline hostess who was credited with saving 26 passengers from a flaming airliner last September, was on her way to the East Coast today on her honeymoon.

Miss Patricia Grivna, 22, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Grivna of McKeesport, was wed Saturday night in a formal ceremony to Raymond M. Cheseldine Jr., of nearby Fullerton.

She aided in saving 26 persons, including three babies, from a Northwest Airlines plane which crashlanded at McChord Air Force Base a short time after taking off from Seattle.

Police See Nine Holdups Solved

Report Arrest of Six in Indiana Clears Up Bank Robberies

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Indiana police, after six arrests, said today they had solved nine one-man bank holdups in 15 months.

Seven employes from two of the robbed banks identified Bernard E. LaClair, 31, yesterday in a police lineup as the "lunch-hour bandit" who, with a flourish of courtesy, staged the robberies.

Meanwhile, a man who strongly resembles LaClair may win his freedom from the Danbury (Conn.) Federal Correctional Institution, where he was sent after conviction for a job LaClair admitted in a signed statement.

But the convict, Laurence D. Howley, won't be completely free. There is a bench warrant waiting his release to bring charges of armed robbery in Kensington, Conn., against him.

Sheriff Harold Zeis said LaClair has admitted robbing the Kensington branch of the New Britain National Bank at Berlin, Conn., of $25,000 Jan. 6, 1953. Howley was given a 10-year sentence for this robbery.

The others arrested, along with the 31-year-old LaClair, are his sister, Mrs. Helen L. Martin, and her sons, John Henry Martin III, 20, both of East Hartford, Conn.; LaClair's brother Donald, 25, Windsor, Conn.; and Sylvester Morrison, 4, Hartford, Conn.—all four charged as accomplices—and George M. Miller.

Three employes of the First State Bank at Bourbon, Ind., robbed of $9,500 on July 25, 1953, also identified Miller, 28, as driver of the getaway car. Employes of the Hamlet State Bank, robbed last June 6 of $7,500, also identified LaAclair.

Other robberies, in addition to the four in Indiana, included Dunkirk, Ohio, $4,603 May 16, 1953; Ada, Ohio, $7,037 Oct. 22, 1952; Forest, Ohio, $8,336, Aug. 24, 1953; and Springfield, Mass., 62,0$00 Jan. 26, 1954.

The loot from the nine robberies totaled nearly $160,000. Less than $13,000 has been found of the missing money.

SHELLEY AND HER BABY—Shelley Winters' baby, Vittoria Gassman, now a year old, was 10 months old when this picture was made. Mamma Shelley was about to depart for Italy where she subsequently had a falling out with husband Vittorio. The star will soon be seen in Universal International's "Saskatchewan," with Alan Ladd, followed by the film release "Playgirl," co-starring Barry Sullivan.

Roosevelt Gets Party Backing

Wins Dem Nomination for Congress Despite Wife's Charges

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James Roosevelt, accused by his estranged wife of being a philanderer, has won the endorsement of the Democratic party as its candidate for Congress in the 26th Dstrict.

Prior to the endorsement by the 26th District Democratic Council, made by acclamation on the second ballot, the 46-year-old insurance executive said in a speech that he decided to enter the race to "obliterate" charges against him and "slurs against the ideals of my father."

The eldest son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt made no specific reference to his wife's sensational separate maintenance suit, but he did say last night, "Personal questions are being used not only against me but against the Democratic party."

He added that the "questions" left him two choices, either to retire from public life, which he said would acknowledge "evidence of guilt and lack of courage," or:

"To come before the people and get elected to Congress and make a record which forever would be an answer to any smears the opposition would make."

In her suit, Mrs. Romelle Roosevelt, 38, named three co-respondents and filed a letter signed by Roosevelt and admitting infidelities with nine other women. He has denied all the charges, saying he was forced to sign the letter in 1945 to prevent his wife from divorcing him and thus adding to the burdens of his father as president.

Eleven candidates originally were in the running for the party's backing. But Roosevelt's only serious competition came from Jerry Pacht, son of a former Superior Court judge. Pacnt trailed Roosevelt by only 12 votes on the first ballot and finally lost by only 14 on the second, when Roosevelt got 91—only one more than the 90 required for endorsement.

However, after Roosevelt received 91 votes, Pacht moved that the endorsement be made unanimous. The 197 delegates responded with a roar of applause.

Truman Says Adlai States Dem Attitude

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman says that Adlai E. Stevenson in his Miami speech Saturday night "stated the democratic attitude as clearly as could be done."

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said in Miami that a "group of political plungers" had persuaded President Eisenhower to accept the tactics of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) as "the best Republican formula for political success."

Truman, who was here to appear on a television program, said yesterday he would not comment personally "on private fights in the Republican party."

Bing Adding Fuel to Rumors of Retirement

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For many months, friends have been saying that Bing Crosby plans to ease into retirement. Today he gives some support to those statements.

"I have about five or six more pictures to make for Paramount," he says, adding with a laugh, "That should be about enough for me."

You can't always cite a trend by a Crosby remark. He tosses 'em off with the greatest of ease and declines to be pinned down on anything. But he left no doubt that he favors a slackening of pace.

"I've always said that my favorite kind of picture would be one that opened with a shot of me sitting in a rocking chair on a front porch," he chuckles. "The rest of the picture would be what I saw."

His current film is his biggest dramatic challenge to date, but he said it is also one of his easiest chores. He is acting in the film version of the Clifford Odets play "The Country Girl." Bing does the role created by Paul Kelly on Broadway and portrayed by Robert Young on the road. The part is that of a faded, alcoholic stage star who has a last chance to regain theatrical fame.

"They have to do most of the work," Bing said. "I'm the one they're always talking about."

There had been reports of protests of the casting of Crosby as a drunk in the film. "There's just one scene in which I'm supposed to get a little tipsy," he assured. "The rest of the time it is merely inferred."

Perhaps it was the prospect of leading a slower life. At any rate, I found Bing more relaxed and happy than I have ever seen him. He went through a scene with Miss Kelly and a boy actor who was portraying his son. The boy gave out with a few extra lines and Bing convulsed the set by cracking: "This kid pads his part worse than Hope."

Afterwards, he sat on a stool and chatted volubly, gossiping about the Academy Awards and other matters. I asked him if there were any pictures he would like to do.

"Not right now," he replied. "Three years ago, I wanted the studio to get 'Guys and Dolls' for me and Hope. Paramount owned part of it, but sold out for $65,000. Now I read the asking price is up to $750,000! (Sam Goldwyn bought it for a million.) I wish we could have done it here.

"I don't know if Hope and I will do a 'Road to the Moon.' We should have done it a couple of years ago. Since then Abbott and Costello have done a space picture, and Martin and Lewis will probably get in the act too. Who knows?

"I've always wanted to do a picture with Judy Garland. We've done a lot of radio programs and Army shows together, and I think she's the greatest female talent in town. As a matter of fact, I think she's the greatest talent, male or female."

Bing said he still keeps up his recording schedule. On his lunch hour, he slips over to Decca and knocks off a side or two. The disc company is only a half block from Paramount, and it's very likely that it was so situated for Bing's convenience.

His radio show is up in the air right now. "There doesn't seem to be much money left in radio," he says. He has finished his second TV film and he may do more. But, as with everything else these days, he's in no great rush.

He will hit the half-century mark May 2. Part of his slowdown may be due to his physical shape. He admits he has a kidney condition, but he has no plans for an operation, as has been rumored.

New Strike Averted by Photo-Engravers

By a vote of 209 to 76, the photo-engravers accepted a weekly package of $3.75, including wage increases and other benefits.

This was the same package that the publishers offered before the photo-engravers struck six of the city's major newspapers last November and December for 11 days during the Christmas shopping season.

The strike ended when the photo-engravers agreed to let a fact-finding panel decide whether they should get more than the $3.75 package offered. The board's decision, announced last Tuesday, was not binding on either side and the photo-engravers could have struck again.

Straits Bridge Designed Safely

Engineer Tells Group of Tolerances Allowed in Plans

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Dr. David B. Steinman, designer of the Mackinac Bridge, has assured Michigan residents that the world's largest bridge will be safe and then some.

The multi-million dollar project which will link Michigan's Lower and Upper Peninsulas by road travel presented construction problems to designers. Dr. Steinman said the problems had been solved in other bridge projects.

Speaking at a testimonial dinner Saturday, Dr. Steinman said the bridge would be the world's largest from anchorage to anchorage although the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco Bay will be larger in the span between bridge towers.

Dr. Steinman said that the Straits of Mackinac never sees winds over 78 miles per hour, which breaks down to a pressure of 20 pounds per square foot. However, the Mackinac Bridge will be built to stand 500 pounds pressures.

And even ice pressure resistance has been increased five times over the highest record of ice pressure in the Straits.

The bridge will measure 8,614 feet, not including approaches. The Golden Gate Bridge will be larger in the length of main suspended span by some 400 feet but will not reach the total length of the Mackinac Bridge.

Also at the dinner were some 1,200 persons, including Gov. Williams and Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the bridge authority.

Children Have Homework So Pop Decides to Leave

Pop, what's the square root of three-eighths divided by seven-nineteenths per cent? Can't you do that in your head?

Pop, what are the principal exports of Hispaniola? For Pete's sake, Pop, what did they teach you in school?

Poppy, help me with my ABC's You're doing them wrong. You're supposed to sing them. Don't tell me what comes after "K"—it's "Elemo."

Pop, you don't say three from nine anymore. You say nine take away three.

Pop, how do you spell transcendent? "Trrrrrrrr — annnnnnnn — sssssssss." That's wrong. Sounds don't mean anything in words. You just get the picture of a word, and you remember it.

Pop . . . where are you Pop? Chicken.

Of Sir Pierson Dixon, Britain's new ambassador to U.N., the British Information Services says:

"Dixon is fond of outdoor sports, and is able to beat his grown-up children at tennis. He likes shooting and stalking and writing about both."

The children? Heaven forfend.

Adm. Bill Halsey was present at a luncheon the other day in honor of Rear Adm. Jack Bergen.

Halsey hopes to touch down again at Guadalcanal and some of the other places he once knew. The mention of Guadalcanal stirred a memory in the veteran sailor.

"Fellow from New Zealand told us, as the sea-bees went in with their bulldozers to knock over those cocoanuts and build an airstrip, 'That will cost a pound a tree.' I asked him how New Zealand could afford that sum. He seemed quite surprised that I should think that any country except the United States was going to pay for the trees."

The Admiral had a memory of MacArthur, too.

"When we were taking the sidearms of the Japanese officers, one of them protested that MacArthur had issued an order that they could keep their revolvers. I told him I didn't think it was a good idea because those officers still looked ready to fight.

"'I was think of what Grant did at Appomattox,' MacArthur told me, referring to Grant's allowing Southern officers to retain their swords, horses and mules.

"That's all right, I said," related the Admiral. "But Grant was fighting Lee. We were fighting a bunch of ———."

MacArthur thought the matter over for a moment, whereupon he called a secretary and "dictated the gol-darndest revision of that order you ever saw."

Plan to Oppose Chiang Re-election

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—The minority Democratic Socialist party is planning token opposition to the almost-certain re-election of Chiang Kai-shek as Nationalist China's president.

The party decided yesterday to run its acting chairman, Hsu Fu-lin, for the presidency.

National Guard's Dummy Bombs Startle Expert

DALLAS (AP) — Two one-pound TNT cans strapped beneath a Dallas County bridge gave officers a bad time yesterday.

A phone call to the sheriff's office reported the cans under a farm road bridge were wired for detonation.

Soon Sheriff Bill Decker was broadcasting radio warnings and calling county commissioners and other officers to the scene. A dynamite expert, Leonard Hollifield, gingerly removed the cans.

"Man," he sighed. "Enough to blow up this end of the county."

As two of the officers drove away they spotted men in Army uniforms working under another bridge.

"We're from the 49th Armored Division," one of the National Guardsmen explained. "We're having maneuvers. We got every bridge mined in this end of the county with dummy TNT and this is our last objective to blow up."

MESC Predicts Drop in Michigan Unemployment

Soybeans Dip but Recover

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans dropped several cents at the opening and then recovered a good part of their losses in active dealings on the board of trade today. The November future, representing the 1954 crop, bounced back above Friday's close.

The rest of the market opened mixed but then developed a firm trend. This particularly true of the new crop wheat futures which were wanted because of continued dry weather in the drought area over the weekend. Old crop wheat firmed on prospects of exports.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅞ to 2⅛ cents higher, March $2.24⅞, corn ¼ lower to ⅝ higher, March $1.52½, oats unchanged to ⅜ higher, March 78, Rye 1 to 1¼ higher, March $1.22½, soybeans 2 cents lower to 2¼ higher, March $3.47

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Oakland, ss. Probate Court for said county.

At a session of the Probate Court for the said County of Oakland, held at the Probate office in the City of Pontiac, on Thursday the 4th day of March, 1954.

Present, Honorable Arthur E. Moore, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Application of the County Drain Commissioner of the County of Oakland, in said State, for the appointment of three disinterested Special Commissioners, who shall be resident freeholders of the said County of Oakland but not of the Township affected by such Drain, to determine the necessity for the taking of private property for the use and benefit of the public, for a Drain known as the "Leon Drain," through certain lands in said Commerce Township, and the just compensation to be made therefor.

Whereas, On the 4th day of March A.D. 1954, an application was made in writing, to this Court by the said Drain Commissioner for the appointment of three disinterested Special Commissioners, to ascertain and to appraise and determine the damages or compensation to be allowed to the owners or parties interested in the real estate to be taken for the right of way for such Drain.

And whereas, This Court did on the 4th day of March, 1954, upon a due examination of such application and of all the proceedings theretofore taken in the premises, find and declare the same to be in accordance with the Statute in such case made and provided, and did thereupon, by an order entered therein, appoint Monday, the 22nd day of March, 1954, at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, as the time, and the office of the Judge of Probate in the City of Pontiac in said County, as the place when and where a hearing upon such application would be had, and did then and there order that all persons, whose lands were to be traversed by such proposed Drain, and who had not released right of way, and all damages on account thereof, to appear at the time and place designated, and to be heard with respect to such application if they so desire, and to show cause, if any there be, why said application should not be granted;

And Whereas, There is now on file with this Court a description and survey of such proposed Drain from which said description and survey it appears that the lands to be traversed by such Drain, and the commencement, general course and terminus of such drain, are as follows, to-wit:

Stocks Follow Narrow Path

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market in early dealings today continued rather narrowly mixed.

Many prices held unchanged, and others moved mostly in small fractions either way. A few plus signs went to a point.

Twentieth Century-Fox, which declared a special dividend and planned to retire 100,000 common shares, opened on a block of 2,000 shares up ¼ at 22¼ and continued trading at that price.

Among gainers were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Boeing, Anaconda Copper, and Texas Co. Lower were General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, American Smelting, American Cyanamid, and Westinghouse Electric.

Friday's stock market was higher, a move that pushed the Associated Press average of 60 stocks to within a shade of a new 24-year high mark.

Police Arrest Man in Closed Drive-In

The man, William L. Lister, 39, of 2147 Sonoma, is being held for investigation of breaking and entering after police found him inside Lolloy's Drive-in at Stevenson and Rochester Rds.

A cigarette and pin ball machine and a pay telephone were broken into, the patrolmen said. They began a search of the building when they found the rear door smashed in. A warrant charging Lister with the break-in is expected today.

TWIN HYDRAMATIC—This is GMC Truck & Coach Division's new 'Twin Hydramatic' transmission connected to a 150-horsepower GM Diesel engine (left). The transmission, consisting of two truck units, one over the other, with a single output shaft (right) going into a three-speed gear box, provides automatically the gear shifting required under any circumstances. It will be offered in GMC heavy duty trucks.

Business Notes:

Utility Predicts Year of Growth

Consumers Men Are Optimistic as They Tell of 1953 High Pace

A prediction that 1954 will be "another year of expanding business activity" is made by Justin R. Whiting, chairman of the board, and Dan E. Karn, president, in the annual report of Consumers Power Co.

"We believe this will result from increased sales effort, notwithstanding a probably slower pace in business generally," wrote the two Consumers officers.

Mailing of the report to the company's 68,000 stockholders, located in every state and in several foreign countries, is under way in Jackson.

Continuing expansion of industry in the outstate Michigan area is cited, and the report shows that the company spent more than $1,000,000 a week on electric and gas facilities in 1953, the year's total of such expenditures reaching $56,155,000.

Electric generating capacity was increased 9 per cent through completion of the third unit of the Justin R. Whiting plant at Erie.

The company sold 14 per cent more electricity in 1953 than in 1952, and 15 per cent more natural gas.

Total operating revenue for 1953 was $157,598,700, representing an increase of 15 per cent. Operating expenses increased 12 per cent to $128,093,500, including depreciation and taxes.

Common stock earnings on shares outstanding Dec. 31, 1953, were $3.16 a share as compared with $2.65 in 1952.

Expansion of the merchandising division of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., advertising agency with headquarters in Bloomfield Hills, has been announced by James R. Adams, president.

SOBELTON

The expansion includes the addition of Robert B. Dewey to the staff of the division, headed by Ray Sobelton, former supermarket consultant.

Dewey has also had experience in the food field and in the advertising and merchandising of drug sundries.

The merchandising division conducts field surveys, coordinates national and trade advertisinig with merchandising principles, develops point-of-sale material, analyses markets and studies various media for development of merchandising programs and tie-in promotions.

GMC Truck Announces New 'Twin Hydramatic'

GMC Truck and Coach Division, which pioneered automatic transmissions for trucks, today announced a "Twin Hydramatic" for heavy duty trucks.

The new development, combining two truck hydramatic transmissions into one unit, now provides the efficiency and economy of the hydramatic drive in the light, medium and heavy GMC trucks.

"The significance of this development both for operating economy, efficiencies and highway safety cannot be over-estimated," said Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and division general manager.

"A driver who doesn't have to manipulate a gear shift lever continually is not going to be physically exhausted at the end of his run. Many accidents occur from driver fatigue. I believe we've got something to help cut down the heavy toll of highway traffic accidents."

Monaghan said the twin hydramatic would first be placed in GMC Diesel model DFM-660-47, a cab-over-engine highway tractor rated at 60,000 pounds, gross combination weight. It will be available in other 150 horsepower models later, and eventually will be engineered for use with GMC's gas and diesel power plants in the 175-225 horsepower range.

Production of the new transmission already has started and will be ready for GMC's heavy truck assembly lines shortly, Monaghan said.

The twin hydramatic consists of an upper and lower unit mounted one over the other and governed to shift alternately with each other, through seven forward speeds and one reverse. Both units are geared together at the rear, driving a single output shaft connecting with a three-speed reduction unit.

This combination of hydramatic and reduction unit provides automatically the gear shifting required under varying conditions throughout three separate ranges — creeper, low and direct.

Twin hydramatic assures a perfect gear ratio, continually, for maximum engine performance both on straightaway and climbing hills. It also automatically provides engine braking on downhill operation, said Monaghan.

In 1952 GMC was first with a fully automatic transmission in a light truck and only last fall extended it through the medium duty lines with an 8-speed hydramatic transmission.

24,000 Decline Expected Soon

Agency Director Says Recent Survey Shows Job Situation Improving

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Employment Security Commission, using employer estimates, Saturday predicted a drop of 24,000 in the number of unemployed in Michigan in the next 60 days.

Max M. Horton, MESC director, said the unemployment decline was based "on estimates from 2,500 Michigan employers."

The current state unemployment figure (based on a survey through Feb. 15) was placed at 214,000, Horton said.

Detroit area unemployment was placed at 140,000 on Feb. 15. Horton said the figure was equal to 9.3 per cent of the motor city's work force.

"In the meantime, employment in the state stood at 2,430,000 and in the Detroit area at 360,000," Horton said, "This marks a reduction of 37,000 respectively from the previous month."

The MESC said payments of unemployment insurance benefits to about 150,000 claimants a week has had a stabilizing influence upon Michigan's economy. The payments have given idle workers an added purchasing power of $8,509,000 in January and $12,893,979 in February.

Horton said benefit payments for the two months were $42,449,559.38.

During the past two months, despite rising unemployment, the MESC said it has placed over 24,000 workers in new jobs.

Unemployment benefits paid to Detroit area workers in January and February totaled $12,400,179, Horton said.

Payments to former Michigan workers who have returned to their home states amounted to $738,035 and payments to unemployed workers in outstate labor areas totaled $8,264,789.

Horton said benefits paid idle workers in Battle Creek, in the two month period, totaled $561,939; Bay City $321,752; Benton Harbor $302,108; Grand Rapids, $438,255; Muskegon, $624,178; Lansing, $488,186, and Port Huron $424,860.

The Chrysler Corp. and Hudson Motor Car Co. last week called back 9,800 idled workers in support of the MESC's prediction that unemployment may drop in the next 60 days.

The recalls in the auto industry were offset by an announcement Friday of the closing of the Studebaker Plant. Studebaker officials said closing its South Bend plant would idle 1,000 workers for one week beginning Monday. No reason was given for the plant closing.

West Bloomfield Justice Elmer Dieterle Saturday fined Warren P. Lawson, 32, of 2007 South St., Middleton, Ohio, $25 and $25 costs for reckless driving.

Series Created After Research

Reed Hadley Has Title Role of Lawyer Who Is Counsel for Poor

NEW YORK — "Public Defender," a new weekly dramatic series based on actual cases on file in courts across the country, and starring Reed Hadley in the title role, will make its debut on television March 11.

Hadley, who starred in the network's "Racket Squad" series, will bring to television a new character, Bart Matthews, a civil servant dedicated to the defense of persons without the means to pay for legal counsel in court.

Hal Roach Jr., president of Hal Roach Productions, created the series after studying numerous cases revealing the final exoneration of persons who did not have their own lawyer and were represented by the local public defender.

His study included the activities of the Los Angeles County Office of Public Defender, and of similar offices in Chicago, San Francisco, Philadelphia and other cities.

In the initial drama, Hadley, as Public Defender Matthews, defends a young parolee wrongfully accused of stealing. Christian Drake will play the parolee.

PUBLIC DEFENDER — Reed Hadley, who has portrayed agents of the law many times on TV, now has the title role in a new video series called "Public Defender." The dramatic show based on court files will make its debut March 11. As usual Hadley will be on the side of good government; he portrays a conscientious public servant defending those unable to pay for legal counsel.

Says Detectives' Shooting Reports Are Conflicting

DETROIT (INS) — The husband of a Detroit policewoman suffered a minor flesh wound in the shoulder today in what both he and his wife described as an accidental shooting.

Warren Taylor, 33, was taken immediately to Receiving Hospital for treatment. Policewoman Gwendolyn Taylor told homicide squad detectives investigating the shooting that she was unloading her service revolver when it fired.

However, the Detroit Times reported that Lt. Edward Jacque and Detective Harold W. Cooper issued conflicting statements concerning the shooting. Cooper reportedly said the shooting occurred in the Taylor's kitchen about 2 a.m., while Jacque said the accident happened in the bedroom more than an hour later.

Youngster Locks Self in Trunk of Dad's Car

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mary Challenger, 9, helping the family pack up for a picnic, locked herself in the trunk of the car yesterday.

Her father, William Challenger, had to unbolt the back seat and remove it to free Mary.

She had the key.

Man Dies in Falling From Railway Overpass

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Sam Vendell Williams Jr. of Detroit was fatally injured Saturday night when he fell from a railroad overpass.

Williams, 34, was walking from his brother's house to a neighborhood drug store and apparently was taking a short cut across the overpass. Police said he missed his footing and fell 15 feet to the pavement.

Canadian Chief in South Korea

St. Laurent Believes Red China Recognition Inevitable

SEOUL (INS) — Canada's Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent declared today he believes all nations of the free world in time will have to be "realistic" and recognize the government of Communist China.

The Prime Minister, in Korea on a world tour, told a Seoul news conference:

The 72-year-old Canadian chief executive made his remarks about Red China just before he went into a closed-door conference with South Korea's resident Syngman Rhee, one of Asia's most outspoken anti-Communist leaders.

St. Laurent told newsmen that Canada will keep her combat troops in Korea on the truce line of demarcation as long as it is necessary to see that the "job" is done.

He also declared that unification of Korea — the expressed goal of President Rhee — is not the task of the U. N. He said it is his belief that the job of the U. N. Command in Korea is to prove to the world that aggression will not be tolerated.

Koreans to Inaugurate Field Army Command

SEOUL (AP)—The Defense Ministry said today the South Korean 1st Field Army will take over operational control of three South Korean army corps next Monday.

The move will put the three corps, and practically all South Korean combat troops, under the command of Gen. Sun Yup Paik.

The U.S. 8th Army will still be at the top of the command ladder but the South Koreans will have, for the first time, a full field army command setup.

The South Koreans will take over the three corps from the U.S. 10th Corps.

Three Problems Confuse Allowable Tax Deductions

The Pontiac branch of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, processing over 700 income tax returns daily, has listed three major problems facing applicants filing their own forms.

Clarifying the three items, "which are seemingly confusing," M. A. Menninger, district director, said the issues involve joint filing and deductions of hospital payments, interest and carrying charges.

"In 9 out of 10 cases, it pays the husband and wife to file jointly," he explained. Menninger said that a wife is not considered a dependent, "but is classed as a spouse."

If the wife has any income, it must be included on the joint return and signed by both husband and wife, he said, so that the wife may be included on the return.

"But under no circumstances can the wife file separately while the husband takes credit for her on his return."

Carrying charges, he explained, are not deductible under interest.

"But if the financial institution will break down the interest and carrying charges, the interest alone may be listed as deductible," he added.

Hospital insurance payments are not deductible in a separate category, Menninger further explained, to the applicant's medical expenses.

Furthermore, all deductions must have been paid during the year in which you're going to list them. Menninger said that unpaid debts, for instance a doctor bill, cannot be listed as deductions.

Anyone desiring income tax information can contact the local branch through its special telephone service at either FEderal 4-2541 or FEderal 4-0642.

Located on the second floor of the Huron Building, at 53 W. Huron St., the branch office has extended its weekly office hours until 8 p. m. It will stay open until 4:30 p. m. next Saturday. The office opens at 8 a. m. The local branch also will remain open until 8 p. m. March 15, deadline for filing.

The chief requirement for the $4,205 yearly job is commercial, accounting or auditing training.

Byrnes to Retire in January 1955

The 74-year-old former secretary of state has spent nearly half a century in public life.

He indicated retirement yesterday when hesaid he will visit "wity old friends and go fishing" after the 1954 state general assembly adjourns later this month.

Last week Byrnes sent a message to the Spartanburg County them not to name him as a delegate to the state Democratic Convention.

Byrnes declined to comment on his possible successor as governor of the Palmetto state, but said:

"I will always reserve the right to comment on state or national affairs if I thik tt is in the public interest."

Floors Get Bare Look

NEW YORK (UP)—Rug manufacturer Edward Fields predicts the end of wall-to-wall carpeting in the home. Fields says full coverings no longer are "harmonious with modern settings," and before another year has passed, most homemakers will choose rugs for decorative value rather than use.

Pope Pius Recovering Slowly but Steadily

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius' slow but steady recovery from a dangerous gastric ailment was reported continuing today.

The sources said the 78-year-old pontiff is able to retain an increasing amount of solid food.

He has been confined to his quarters for six weeks, most of the time in bed.

Calls Herself Disabled

CONCEPTION JUNCTION, Mo. (AP)—A woman here who would rather not be named has applied for state aid as a disabled person.

Mom's Spiritual Aid Helps Ralph Bunche

in your heart and head. This is something you can control."

Nana was building, bit by bit, the practical side of Ralph's character. Yet without the opposite lessons which Ralph's own mother taught him, Bunche would perhaps never have achieved his greatness.

Ralph's mother was poetic. For one thing, she had always been sickly. With the birth of her second child, she came down with rheumatic fever, and the severe Northern winters crippled her forever.

Heating was poor in the Bunches' house; plumbing didn't even exist. Trying to help her, the entire family moved to warmer New Mexico.

It was there, during his early teens, that the importance of the poetic side of life was stamped on Ralph.

"The severe pain my mother knew," Bunche recalls, "gave her an almost nobly religious outlook. Her religion, like the way she looked at life, was poetic. She loved living and all her time of pain she never complained, never ceased smiling. That made a tremendous impression on me."

But the move to New Mexico proved unsuccessful: when Ralph was 14, his mother passed away. Three months later his father followed.

Nana picked up her charges, moved to Los Angeles, where she began to develop her plans. One theme she kept drumming into the clan was that it was impossible to have too much education.

Between jobs as a houseboy, Ralph went to high school. But already Bunche, the boy, was foreshadowing the man: Nana's realism had mixed with his mother's spiritual approach to life.

First in his class, Ralph Bunche was also a star athlete.

He became something of a hero among the Negro people of Los Angeles when he won a football scholarship to UCLA and graduated Phi Beta Kappa and summa com laude, in spite of having to drop out of school for a year because of a series of operations that left him with a $1,000 debt.

He took a job salvaging carpet from a burned-out ocean liner and, by dint of many bruised fingers and overtime, paid his debt in time to be back in school the following fall.

At graduation, his friends took up a collection to send him to Harvard for postgraduate work. From Harvard, he began to travel, again by way of scholarships, to England, Malaya, Africa, Indonesia, where his studies gained him the nickname, "Walking Colonial Institute." Bunche put his knowledge to work in the State Department, and later, in the United Nations.

Because of his unique combination of the spiritual and the practical, Bunche was ready for the dramatic break that enabled him as U. N. mediator to bring about an armistice in Palestine.

The peace meetings were deadlocked. For two months Bunche worked 16 to 20 hours a day, wearing out his colleagues, using some unfathomable source of strength, arguing, threatening, drawing on his vast reading, on all he had learned as member of a minority group, on all the practical philosophy handed down by Nana: Nothing happened.

Early one evening an Arab delegate, Col. Maayta, received a telegram that his entire family had been crushed to death beneath a collapsing building. Maayta's mother, father, wife, brothers and sisters had all been killed.

Bunche rushed into the colonel's room as soon as he heard the news. There, holding hands in Eastern custom, in a semi-circle around Maayta, were Jews and Jordanians: enemies.

Two hours earlier they would have voted to continue killing each other. Yet, there they were holding hands in mourning. As these men stood silent, the new element crept in.

It was the second side of Ralph Bunche, the spiritual side, that recognized the new element and used it to bring opposing forces together. For it was the same deep and sad note his mother had expressed in her life: love.

A few weeks later the armistice was signed, and the world learned of Ralph Bunche.

Henriquistas Kill 3 in Mexican Outbreak

CUERNAVACA, Mexico (AP)—Supporters of Gen. Miguel Henriquez Guzman shot and killed three government political leaders and critically wounded a policeman yesterday in a new outbreak of the continuing strife between the Henriquistas and the regime of President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines.

Witnesses said Ruben Jaramillo, former Henriquista candidate for governor of Morelos state, led the attack by about 30 men on the town of Ticuman, southeast of Cuernavaca. They said he shouted it was to avenge the slaying of one of his lieutenants in a clash last week with troops in the area.

Red Albanian Elections Run 99 Pct. Commie

LONDON (AP)—Albania's Communist government scored an "overwhelming success" in elections of district councils yesterday throughout the little Soviet satellite on the Adriatic Sea, Tirana radio reported today.

The broadcast cited five towns which all gave the "Democratic Front"—Albania's Communist party—more than 99 per cent of the vote.

Puerto Rico in the last 10 years has raised employment 25 per cent, doubled its national income, and raised per capita income 70 per cent.

Fate of Bikini Guarded Secret

U. S. Soon Will Begin More Tests for Dread Atomic Weapons

WASHINGTON — After nearly eight years Bikini, a placid Pacific atoll surrounded by blue-green waters, soon again will become a testing place for man's most frightful weapons.

In July 1946, the eyes of the world were focused on the coral lagoon as two atom bombs played havoc with an anchored flotilla of old warships.

Shortly the United States will begin a new series of tests, some for development of the dread hydrogen bomb, vastly more potent than the atom explosives of 1946. And again Bikini will play a part, says the National Geographic Society.

For some time American planes and ships have patrolled the 3-mile-deep ocean off the palm-fringed island.

Already units of Task Force 7, which will conduct the experiments, have converged on Bikini and Eniwetok atolls, both part of the extensive Pacific proving grounds for nuclear weapons.

On Bikini hundreds of carpenters, plumbers, electricians and other artisans have returned once again. The atoll's 167 native inhabitants voluntarily were moved away eight years ago, first to Rongerik, and later to Kili Island, 500 miles away.

Hardly a trace of the 1946 damage can now be seen. Steel wreckage has been cleared off. The once-scarred coconut and breadfruit trees sway as easily in the warm, easterly breezes as they did before the atom era came to Bikini.

Lagoon waters, less than 200 feet deep, again are teeming with life. Rock formations retain no evidence of radio-activity. The gleaming beaches appear as inviting as those of other tropic isles.

More than 4,700 miles southwest of San Francisco, Bikini atoll is 190 miles east of Eniwetok, where most U. S. atom bombs and several hydrogen devices have been tested. South toward the equator, 800 miles away, string the Marshall Islands.

Twenty isles, hardly lifting their heads above sea level, form the Bikini group. The largest are Bikini on the northeast, Enyu, Namu and Enirik. The atoll is 25 miles long, 15 miles wide. In all, land area covers less than three square miles out of 280 encompassed by the entire atoll.

What fate awaits the little islands of Bikini? The precise answer is a closely guarded secret in Washington. But high authorities have made this clear:

If a hydrogen explosion takes place over one of the smaller islands it will disappear into the sea. Such an experiment was conducted in 1952 on one of the Eniwetok isles.

When the cloud of smoke and gas had blown away, the island had been obliterated. In its place the ocean washed into a crater a full mile in diameter and 175 feet deep.

Pair Resents Intrusion in Private Engagement

BALTIMORE (AP)—Patrolman Edward J. Budacz saw a man and a woman fighting in the street yesterday, so he decided to intervene.

But when he did, the policeman testified in Central Police Court, he was attacked by both combatants.

First Willard Clark hit him with his fists, Budacz said. Then Mrs. Ann Sanbury struck him with a belt buckle.

Clark was sentenced to six months and fined $25 on charges of assault and disorderly conduct. Mrs. Sanbury drew a $25 fine and 30 days in jail.

Nahas Graft Millions Confiscated by Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's Revolutionary Court has ordered confiscation of the millions Mrs. Zeinab el Wakil Nahas made in graft but spared the wife of Wafdist ex-Premier Mustapha el Nahas from prison because she's ailing.

The three-man military tribunal found Mrs. Nahas guilty of corruption yesterday after hearing prosecution charges that she salted away nearly three million dollars in graft during her husband's two terms as head of King Farouk's government.

The court ordered her stripped of all her property except 10,000 pounds ($28,700). But during the trial the prosecutor told the court Mrs. Nahas, after Farouk's ouster, smuggled 863,000 pounds ($1,808,100) to Switzerland before she and her husband were arrested. Presumably the government won't be able to get that.
