Killer of 15 Suffered From Brain Tumor

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — An autopsy on the body of Charles Joseph Whitman, the campus sniper who killed 15 persons yesterday, showed a small brain tumor that could have caused intense headaches that may have indirectly contributed to his shooting rampage, Justice of the Peace Jerry Dellana said today.

The autopsy was performed by Dr. C. DeChenar.

"He found a small brain tumor close to the brain stem, about the size of a pecan — this is the term he gave me," Dellana said.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — First he slaughtered the two who were closest to him, chronicling the deeds with macabre exactness:

"12:30 a.m. — Mother already dead."

"3 o'clock—Wife and mother both dead."

Then he climbed with his guns to the highest place around, where the world — with all its pressures he said he couldn't understand — was visible as far as the eye could see, and where he was determined, as he wrote, "to fight it out alone."

Alone, he fired his weapons with deadly precision for an hour and a half at the terrified humans dashing for cover on the broad campus below and when it was finished he had killed 13 more people and wounded 31 others.

RECONSTRUCT MASSACRE

That was the way police and eyewitnesses reconstructed the broad outlines of yesterday's massacre at the University of Texas.

The day's carnage left a total of 16 dead including the sniper and the unborn child of a woman he wounded who was in her eighth month of pregnancy.

Among the victims was an Alpena (Mich.) Junior College teacher, the father of six children.

Harry Walchuk, 39, had a masters degree from Texas and had returned this summer to work on a doctoral degree in political science.

ATOP TOWER

The terror ended when two policemen and a university employe crept to a platform above the sniper's position and gunned him down at close range.

HIT 2 BLOCKS AWAY

Whitman, who qualified as a sharpshooter in the Marine Corps, dropped some of his victims at distances as much as two blocks away.

Others fell on the broad campus mall surrounding the tower and lay untended in the 98-degree heat as Whitman kept rescuers at bay with his riddling fire.

POSES AS REPAIRMAN

Posing as a repairman, Whitman had hauled to his perch on a workman's three-wheeled cart a footlocker containing his arsenal: Two rifles, one equipped with a telescopic sight; a sawed-off shotgun which police said he had purchased that morning; a high-powered pistol; a semiautomatic pistol; a hunting knife.

The locker also contained a supply of food and water, a plastic container of gasoline, and hundreds of rounds of ammunition.

When police identified Whitman after the slaughter ended they received a telephone request from the sniper's father-in-law to check the Whitman home, a small duplex some distance from the campus.

They broke in through a window and discovered Whitman's wife, 23, stabbed to death.

Then they went to his mother's fashionable apartment near the campus and found her stabbed in the chest and shot in the head.

Detective Lt. Merle K. Wells said Whitman had left notes at both residences revealing something of what he planned to do and why.

Police did not reveal their

WHERE VICTIMS FELL — This diagrammed air view of area around University of Texas Tower shows key locations in yesterday's sniper killings, according to Austin police: northwest corner of tower where Charles J. Whitman was shot, northeast corner where two policemen shot him, and southwest corner of observation platform where ex-Air Force Sgt. Allen Crum worked. Eight "X" locations indicate ground areas where Whitman's victims were shot.

'He Just Snapped,' Says Killer's Father

LAKE WORTH, Fla. (AP) — The father of Charles Joseph Whitman said today, "My son has committed a crime that is a great horror to the whole world. He just snapped."

C. A. Whitman, a prosperous plumbing contractor, said he believed his son was under tremendous pressure yesterday before killing his wife and mother and pouring fatal bullets into 13 more persons from the observation section of the University of Texas tower in Austin.

"He had pushed himself tremendously in the last few months to do what was almost impossible," Whitman told a news conference in the front yard of his one-story frame home.

"He just snapped," said the father.

Whitman said the regret and sorrow he felt about the mass slayings was too great to be expressed.

'BOY IS SICK'

"My son," he said, "has committed a crime that is a great horror to the whole world. I know you all realize that this boy is sick. I don't know what else to say about him."

Whitman said he felt great sympathy for the friends and relatives of the victims. But right now, he said, he did not know what he could do for them.

"This thing is just too big," he said.

LBJ Urges Gun Control Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, deploring the "shocking tragedy" on the University of Texas campus, said today "we must press urgently" for a federal gun control law.

In a statement, Johnson said Congress has been considering such legislation for many months.

"The time has come for action," he said.

Johnson, who personally knew one of the victims of the campus sniper, joined Mrs. Johnson in sending a telegram to the university's chancellor, Harry Ransom, saying:

"We want to assure you of any personal or official assistance that would in any way be helpful."

County May Vote on Parks

The proposed network of parks in Oakland County moved a notch ahead today and increased in scope following a joint meeting of the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission and Ways and Means Committee of the Board of Supervisors.

Earmarked for the Aug. 17 meeting of the Board of Supervisors is a recommendation to place on the Nov. 8 ballot a proposition to levy ½-mill over a 10-year period for the acquisition, development and operation of the park system.

The original request of the Parks and Recreation Commission called for a ¼-mill levy extending over a 5-year span.

However, this was superceded by the new recommendation. Only one dissenting vote was cast.

May Be Building Up to a Major Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U. S. infantrymen and North Vietnamese clashed near the Cambodian border today in a series of running fire fights that could be building up to a major engagement.

U. S. military headquarters reported four sharp actions throughout the day in the rugged central plateau region 10 miles east of the Cambodian border and 235 miles north of Saigon.

Three of the clashes broke off after short fire fights but at last report the fourth was continuing toward nightfall.

Elsewhere in South Viet Nam, there was little ground action.

On the political scene, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, 35, promised South Viet Nam an elected government by November 1967 and said he would devote himself exclusively to his job as air force commander after that.

Detroit Floods Polls in Primary Balloting

DETROIT (AP)—There was a rush to the polls in vote-rich Detroit today as Michigan began balloting in a primary in which a Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate is to be chosen.

The contestants are G. Mennen Williams, 55, a former six-time governor, and Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit, a 38-year-old with burning political ambition.

At times the battle has approximated a cat-and-dog fight.

Williams is the favorite to meet Republican Sen. Robert P. Griffin, appointed by Gov. George Romney to succeed the late Sen. Patrick V. McNamara and unopposed for GOP nomination.

Call the Press

The Pontiac Press will offer primary election returns by phone beginning at 10 tonight. Area residents may call The Press at FE 2-8181 after 10 p.m. for the latest vote totals.

By 11 a.m. 44,936 Detroiters had voted. City Elections Director John A. Smith said at that pace the city would outdistance its 1950 record of 339,693 votes in a nonpresidential primary by 120,000 votes.

FEWER VOTERS

However, Smith pointed out the city now has 60,000 fewer registered voters, and stuck by a prediction 310,000 would be Detroit's total vote.

A statewide turnout of more than one million voters was anticipated.

A bedsheet-sized ballot, with scores seeking a multiplicity of judgeships, was expected to slow materially the tallying in Wayne (Detroit) County, once the polls closed.

CROSSOVER?

Some took this as an indication there might be, as Cavanagh has asked, a Republican crossover to support him. Others credited the early rush to hot localized races.

Outstate voting generally was reported light to moderate, although the weather there mostly was sunny and warm. In the Detroit area it was overcast and misty.

Marquette, in the Upper Peninsula, reported a light turnout in that immediate area, with no Republican contests in either Marquette, Alger or Baraga counties. The weather there was sunny.

Rain Expected to End Today; Cooler Tonight

Sunny and pleasant with highs 70 to 82 is the forecast for tomorrow, and sunny and a little warmer is the outlook for Thursday.

Morning southwesterly winds at 12 to 20 miles per hour shifting to northwesterly late today and diminishing tonight.

Sixty-six was the low reading prior to 8 a.m. The mercury registered 73 at 2 p.m.

Turnout Varied in County Vote

'Very Busy' Reported by Several Precincts

County election officials were finding it difficult to assess the voter turnout in today's primary, with early precinct reports varying from "very busy" to "below average."

Lines of voters were reported at several precincts when the polls opened at 7 a.m., according to County Clerk John D. Murphy, but they tapered off after the first hour of balloting.

Murphy has predicted that 150,000-175,000 of the county's 350,000 registered voters will record turnout of 100,000 set in the 1964 primary election.

County voters are narrowing down large fields of candidates in a score of races, including those for the state senate and house of representatives, U.S. Congress, Circuit and Probate Court.

Most interest in the primary has been generated by the two candidates seeking the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, former governor G. Mennen Williams and Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

LOCAL OFFICES

In addition to the county and statewide races, township voters also are nominating candidates for local offices.

Pontiac voters also are voting on a city charter amendment that would permit full-time elected officials to join the city's general employes pension plan.

Commission Votes 5-1

OK Rent-Supplement Housing

Despite dire predictions from one commissioner, the City Commission last night approved Pontiac's participation in a program of rent-supplement housing.

In a 5-1 vote, the commission approved construction of a proposed 65 units of rent-supplement housing for a three-acre site on the city's near east side.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson cast the lone dissenting vote, warning that such housing would lead to the creation in Pontiac of a "ghetto of low-income" and "haven for renters."

Hudson's opposition centered on the claim that rent-supplement housing, whereby the federal government would pay up to one-quarter of the rent for qualified low-income tenants, was another form of public housing.

The District 4 commissioner said he was against added public housing for the city.

Meantime, other commissioners and Developer Raymond J. O'Neil of O'Neil Realty, 3520 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township, disputed Hudson's view.

O'Neil added that the project, expected to cost $800,000, would not embarrass anyone on the commission.

exact contents but police reported that the notes said Whitman "hated his father with a mortal passion," and that his mother "gave the best 25 years of her life to that man."

The notes said Whitman couldn't understand "the pressures bearing down" and had "decided to fight it out alone."

Police said the notes showed Whitman "was very definitely mentally disturbed."

They also disclosed that he had talked for two hours with a psychiatrist.

POSTSCRIPTS

The note found in his mother's apartment, police reported, said he killed her to "relieve her of her suffering, that he didn't want her embarrassed by all of this."

As postscripts to the notes, police said, Whitman had written:

"12:30 a.m. — mother already dead.

"3 o'clock — wife and mother both dead."

BUYS SHOTGUN

Shortly after 9:30 a.m., he went to Sears, Roebuck and Co., bought a shotgun on credit, took it home and sawed off the stock and barrel.

At 11 a.m., officers said, Whitman carted his footlocker to the tower's elevator and rode to the 27th floor, as high as the elevator can go.

Then he dragged the heavy three-wheeled cart up four short flights of stairs to the foyer of the observation section.

There he killed four persons — the woman custodian of the tower, and a younger woman and her two children who were sight-seeing.

WARNED

Later Vera Palmer, who works in the observatory, rode up on the elevator. When the door opened, a man in a white shirt said: "Lady, don't you dare get off this elevator."

Shaken, Mrs. Palmer took the elevator back down.

At 11:48 a.m. university police received a trouble alarm from the tower. Two unarmed security officers rode to the top.

When they heard shots and saw three bodies they went back down.

RUSH OUTSIDE

"They carried no weapons," A. R. Hamilton, university police chief, said.

"We told people to stay in their offices. Then we called the police."

When the shooting began a number of persons rushed outside the campus buildings to see what it was about.

MOVES AROUND

Witnesses said the sniper's bursts were at times spaced about half a minute apart, at other times rattling off in staccato fashion.

At one point police even suspected there might be more than one man firing at them.

The sniper dashed from place to place in the observatory and his fire came from all directions.

The blistering fire pinned down rescuers. Finally armored trucks pressed into service as ambulances scurried about the no-man's land picking up the wounded.

'COULDN'T GET UP'

For more than an hour Norma Barger of Dallas sat at a library window where she had been working. She could see six persons lying on the cement near the building.

"We could see the people moving a little bit but they never could get up and walk away," she said. "The sniper would shoot at them again.

"Once I saw a policeman running across the open area and you could see the sniper's gun kicking up the cement dust right behind him."

BODY USED AS SHIELD

"A policeman would run out shooting and use his body as a guard for the others, who crouched while they ran. You could see the police bullets ricocheting off the tower."

Walter Embray, a junior from San Antonio, said he had a simple reaction to the shooting: "I just wanted to get the hell out of there."

The victims were taken to Brackenridge Hospital, operated by the city.

Many were treated in hallways on stretchers as the emergency room facilities became overtaxed with the arrival of each ambulance.

Volunteer blood donors also flocked to the hospital as news of the massacre spread about the city.

County Parks Plan May Go on Fall Ballot

acres had been projected for the northern portion of the county where the terrain and lakes, plus lower land costs, are conducive to park development.

ACQUIRE SITES

It was implied today by Ways and Means Committee members that parks also should be acquired in the southern part of the county.

The new proposed millage would yield about $1.35 million a year, double the ¼-mill yield of about $672,000.

Over the 10-year period, the millage would bring in more than $13 million.

Geared to be self-sustaining, the park areas would offer both summer and winter recreational facilities, according to Kenneth Van Natta, director of parks and recreation.

If authorized by the Board of Supervisors and approved by voters, the proposal will first draw funds in 1968 from the December 1967 tax bill.

'Would Become Dictator'

Mansfield Against Strike Power for LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today Congress will be handing dictatorial power to President Johnson if it approves legislation authorizing him to order an end to the airline strike.

"I haven't yet reached the state in my legislative life where I want to give the President powers which would in effect make him a dictator," the Montana senator told newsmen.

Mansfield, urging enactment of a formula under which Congress itself would order a six-month halt in the strike, now 26 days old, said Johnson does not want the authority.

He disagreed with the Senate Labor Committee which contended Johnson—not the House and Senate—should decide whether the situation demands a strike-ending order for up to 180 days.

"I think that the ball is now in our laps," Mansfield told newsmen, "and we'd better face up to our responsibility and not throw it back to the President.

"Now that he is out of alternatives, it is up to the Congress to do something on its own collective responsibility."

The Labor Committee proposal would have Congress erect the machinery, but leave to Johnson the decision on action to force an end to the strike.

And he said Johnson does, too.

Mansfield said it is doubtful the Senate will make its final decision on strike-stopping legislation today. He was not forecasting exactly when a final vote would come.

The Labor Committee, arguing its case in a report to the Senate, said: "The President is not required, nor is he necessarily expected to exercise that authority."

The report filed by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., was a preview for a debate in the Senate later today.

The basic issue in the Capitol Hill battle over the strike is whether Congress should act on its own, or simply hand Johnson the power, to end the walkout.

AMC Chief Sees a Surge at End of '66

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors' new board chairman, Robert B. Evans, predicted today the firm's financial outlook will be better by the end of 1966.

Evans, who took over as board chairman last June, reported Monday the firm had shown a tiny profit of $22,441 for the third quarter of its fiscal year. It was in sharp contrast with the millions of dollars in profit reported by the Big Three automakers.

The nation's fourth largest auto company operates on a fiscal year ending Oct. 1, rather than the calendar year used by the Big Three.

The 60-year-old Evans said after presiding over his first meeting as AMC chairman:

"The third quarter improvement was the result of economics effected, an increase in sales, and more efficient operation.

"We will feel the effects of the model changeover in the fourth quarter ending Sept. 30 and do not expect to do as well as we did in the third quarter."

Cry Is Out: Give Blood

Summer blood collections have been so small that a special bloodmobile will be stationed at the Pontiac Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake, Monday between 3 and 9 p.m.

"We must collect at least 350 pints of blood a day, five days a week, to serve the 108 hospitals in our area," said Kenneth Winter, Oakland Regional Red Cross manager.

"Some days this summer, our collections have been as low as 160 pints."

Cancellations at mobile units have been numerous because the donors have been either away on vacation or involved in early model changeovers in the automobile industry, according to Winter.

Volunteers at the Oakland Red Cross headquarters are working on a "phon-a-thon," calling prospective donors.

Everyone cannot be called, so the Red Cross urges eligible donors to call and make an appointment to donate blood in an account of their choice.

Construction on M59 Job Hit by Delays

Construction of the new M59 freeway within the city has hit a three-month delay, City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling reported last night.

Neipling told the City Commission that the delay resulted from construction strikes and the delay in NEIPLING awarding contracts for the Clinton River Drain No. 2.

He said the Michigan State Highway Department has not yet set new completion dates.

Key to the delay is construction of a trilevel bridge to be located on a site on Mount Clemens, east of Paddock.

Neipling said that without the bridge it would be impossible to open the initial section of the roadway, planned to carry traffic on East Huron extended to intersect Mount Clemens east of Paddock.

The city engineer quoted a highway department spokesman as saying that the three-month delay might be made up with unusually warm fall weather.

Soviets Vote Kosygin Chief

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Supreme Soviet (Parliament) today gave Premier Alexei N. Kosygin a new mandate to lead the Soviet government for the next four years. The unanimous vote disproved speculation in the West he was about to retire.

Kosygin has headed a caretaker government since June 12 when elections were held for the current Supreme Soviet.

Kosygin is to address the Supreme Soviet himself tomorrow. He is expected to report on his government's record, lay out its program and announce the composition of his new Council of Ministers (Cabinet). Few changes are anticipated.

Rumors flew in the West over the weekend that Kosygin would ask to step down, but Soviet Communist Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev stepped to the rostrum at a joint session of both houses today and nominated Kosygin for a four-year term to the cheers of the delegates.

The Supreme Soviet opened its first session today with a demand the United States withdraw its forces from Viet Nam. Kosygin is expected to expound on the demand in his formal address.

City Commissioners Approve Supplemented-Rental Housing

commented that private ownership and control of the project was important. Commissioner Robert C. Irwin pointed out that the city has a housing shortage.

To be located on a three-acre site on Mount Clemens, east of Maynard, the rent-supplement project is planned for 13 two-bedroom and 52 one-bedroom units.

ANSWER QUESTIONS

J. P. Giles, consultant to the realty firm, answered most of the questions asked by members of the commission.

Giles pointed out that the housing project would still have to meet city zoning and building codes. Tenants, he said, would be selected by the landlord-owner.

He added that the federal government regulations did not stipulate how many, if any, of the project's tenants had to receive the rent supplement.

Giles said government spokesmen indicated a mixture was desired. He said the low-income requirements of public housing are the guide for qualifying tenants as to rent supplement.

The maximum income for one or two persons is $4,200, while the maximum for a five- or six-member family is $4,700.

O'Neil said that his firm had preliminary government approval for a possible 350 rent-supplement units for this area if that many were needed.

Last night's commission resolution approved rent-supplement housing only for the Mount Clemens location and was not a blanket okay but limited to the 60-65 units planned.

Federal government requirements stipulate the city approve the construction of rent-supplement housing in the city, although the city itself is not involved in the project.

Hudson said his opposition to the plan was on the basis that the city desired to encourage home ownership.

"I have nothing against renters, but I think we want to encourage renters to buy a home and sink their roots," commented Hudson.

START TREND

He said rent supplements would encourage people to become renters. Hudson further claimed that builders would look at Pontiac as an area for rent supplement and the city would have more low-income type buildings.

"In essence," concluded Hudson, "we will be creating a ghetto, not of race, but of low-income."

Perimeter Road Talks Continued by Officials

BIRMINGHAM—City officials will continue to meet with representatives of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce to discuss the controversial east leg of the perimeter road planned around the central business district.

Until several weeks ago, the use of northbound Hunter Boulevard for the east leg was fairly definite, with the exception of the approval from the Michigan State Highway Department.

Objections were raised, however, by the Chamber of Commerce when the state informed the city that it would give authorization only if followed a plan which closed a few median crossovers in and out of the downtown area.

The City Commission last night reviewed a report from the Chamber but made no decisions, except for directing the city administration to meet again with the organization's traffic committee and return with a recommendation.

Negotiations with the state highway department have been delayed by the city pending the meetings with the Chamber of Commerce.

CHAMBER LETTER

In a letter to the commission, Jack Kershenbaum, president of the Chamber, said "It is our strong and considered opinion that using Hunter as the east leg of the ring road might irreparably harm our business district without permanently accomplishing what we are attempting to achieve."

Traffic has been planned to travel counter-clockwise on Oakland, Willits, Chester, Brown and Hunter.

He added that the fifth northbound lane proposed by the state calls for a "drastic reduction in width of the sodded median strip between Forest and Oakland."

CONTRARY STEP

"This is contrary to the program in which we are engaged for maintaining and enhancing the beauty of Birmingham."

The estimated $100,000 which the city would be obliged to pay for making Hunter the east leg "would best be applied to carrying out a more beneficial and effective program to accomplish our traffic flow objectives," said Kershenbaum.

He said that the proposed design of Hunter as the east leg would result in an increase of traffic on residential streets east of Hunter.

Sewer Project Hearing Slated

The Waterford Township Board last night received an engineering report on a proposed subdivision sanitary sewer project and set Aug. 29 hearing for the special assessment district.

Total estimated cost is $51,201 for the proposed Jeffrey Manor Subdivision project — $41,627 in construction expenses and $9,574 for engineering and contingencies.

According to Johnson and Anderson, Inc., consulting engineers, assessments of $7,190 each would be charged to 43 property owners in the subdivision.

Residents would be assessed the entire cost.

The project would consist of construction of about 3,250 feet of lateral sewers and 675 feet of pipe leads to homes.

ON WEST SIDE

All but three of the benefiting lots are located on the west side of Scott Lake Road between Elizabeth Lake and Pontiac Lake roads.

The remaining lots front on Elizabeth Lake Road.

Sewers in the subdivision would be hooked to the nearby Lorraine Manor Subdivision sewer system at Herbell and Fernbarry.

The proposed project was initiated when 56 per cent of the residents in the subdivision signed petitions which were submitted to the township board.

If the project is approved at the hearing, the clerk will be authorized to advertise for construction bids.

In other business, the board selected library advisory board member Roger Rapelje to replace Robert Dieball as the township's representative to the advisory committee of the North Oakland Library Contract System (NOLCS).

First notice was read on a request for an SDM license for Wonder Drugs of Waterford Inc., 5967 M-59. The board is slated to take action on the proposal at next Monday night's meeting.

Are there really any sound reasons for buying a Chevrolet in August?

GM General Motors

During August, it's as easy to own a Bel Air 4-Door Sedan as getting in the car. And that's very easy for driver and passengers alike thanks to that beautifully designed Body by Fisher.

Wait till you see how sporty you look sitting in your Impala Super Sport with that center console beside you and the open road in front of you.

In a word: Six

1. Have you ever known the instant delight of selecting a new Impala Super Sport in the color you want, slipping into its Strato-bucket seats, and driving it home from the showroom the same day? Now's your chance. Your Chevrolet dealer has a big choice of models on hand with small August price tags.

2. More than likely, your present car will never be worth as much in trade as it is right now. Money—another good reason to buy a Chevrolet this month.

3. Read those articles about when to buy a new car and they'll tell you that August is one of the best months. And your Chevrolet dealer is ready to show you why . . . with buys that are better than ever.

4. If you think winter's tough on an old car, believe us, so is summer. There's added strain on the engine because of more vacation driving. Greater tire wear. The cooling system has to work extra hard. A new Chevrolet Impala or Bel Air now can save you a lot of trouble.

5. You do a lot of driving for pleasure so why not ride on Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension. Let your feet feel that deep-twist Chevrolet carpeting. August is to enjoy.

6. Make your summer driving safer driving by taking advantage of the eight standard safety features built into every new Chevrolet. If your present car doesn't have seat belts, front and rear; back-up lights; an outside rearview mirror; padded instrument panel and visors, look into a new Chevrolet.

Contracts Are Awarded for High School Building

UTICA — Contracts totaling $3,041,281 were awarded by the board of education last night for construction of the Adlai Stevenson High School.

The bids, which included five additional classrooms originally listed as alternates, were "far below" what school officials had expected to pay.

Schools Superintendent Philip E. Runkel said original estimates were $20 per square foot, but that the bids had come in at about $17.50 per square foot.

"Even with the five additional classrooms we're still under the budget," he said.

START THIS MONTH

The mechanical contract went to Kodidek and Sons of Troy for $606,232. Fred Moot Construction Co. of Pontiac received the electrical contract for $323,944.

Construction of the school, to be located on Dodge Park Road near Utica Road in Sterling Township, is expected to get under way some time this month.

Completion is scheduled for December 1967.

Money for the school was approved by voters in December 1964 in an $8.5-million bond issue.

3 BASIC CONCEPTS

The school will be built around three basic concepts—"dignity, discovery and dispersion" — recommended by a group which studied educational planning for the building last year.

Keego Harbor Water System Grant OK'd

KEEGO HARBOR—Congressman Billie S. Farnum, D-19th District, announced Saturday that a federal housing and urban development grant of $302,500 to aid construction of the city's $738,000 water system has been approved.

The remainder of the cost will be financed through a bond issue which already has been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

The bonds will be retired in part by a 4.87-mill tax levy paid by all property owners in the city as part of their city tax bill.

Those residents using the system supplying Detroit water will have a choice of paying a capital charge of $400 or $6 a quarter over the 25-year life of the revenue bonds as part of their water use charge.

Connection and installation charges and water bills will also be levied.

COMPLETION DATE

The completion date for the construction has been tentatively set for late spring of next year.

Residents presently get their water from individual wells.

Contract Agreement Reportedly Near

MILFORD — Negotiating teams for the Huron Valley Education Association (HVEA) and the board of education will probably reach a contract agreement Friday, according to Neil H. Davis, president of the teachers' group.

Last Wednesday, the teachers presented an 11-part economic package to the board which included both a salary schedule and fringe benefits.

Davis said that, at last night's meeting, the board's negotiating team presented a counter proposal which was very close to what the teachers are asking.

There are still some points in the salary schedule to be worked out, Davis said, but he is confident that an agreement will be reached at Friday's meeting.

The teachers are asking for 59 to 60 per cent of the board's total operating money for the 1966-67 school year, a reduction from the original HVEA demand of 66 per cent.

ORIGINAL MOVE

The original 65 per cent salary package recommended by the Michigan Education Association for the region called for salaries ranging from $6,000 to a maximum of $12,000.

Salaries now start at $5,200 for beginning teachers with bachelor's degrees and scale up to a maximum of $7,800 for teachers with a master's degree and 10 years experience in the school system.

Davis said that negotiations are proceeding so well that a general membership meeting for teachers represented by the HVEA previously scheduled for tomorrow will not be necessary.

Demilitarized Zone Said Red Route

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says Communist forces are using the demilitarized zone "as an entry way to South Viet Nam."

Defending U.S. bombing raids in the zone separating North and South Viet Nam, McNamara said: "We have reason to believe as many as three North Vietnamese regiments have infiltrated through the demilitarized zone in recent weeks."

McNamara, talking with newsmen after a closed session with a Senate Appropriations subcommittee, added that there is no indication Communist troops are massing for a large-scale invasion of South Viet Nam.

Concerning U.S. troop commitments in Europe, he repeated that the United States does not plan to reduce its "present capabilities" or its share of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American University has established an educational center designed to train graduate students in political psychology and mass persuasion to combat Communist propaganda.

The center, for students going into government or foreign service, is sponsored by Arthur Meyerhoff Associates, Inc., Chicago advertising firm. It will be headed by Dr. Stephen H. Chowe of McLean, Va., formerly with the military intelligence service.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler reports preliminary figures indicate a substantial drop in the U.S. balance of payments deficit during the second quarter of this year.

Fowler declined at a news conference to cite any figures but said "we are holding our own" despite outlays required by the Viet Nam war. The deficit last year was $1.35 billion, about half that of 1964.

Varner Points to OU's Giant Strides

It was a thrilling picture that Oakland University's Chancellor DURWARD B. VARNER unveiled recently before an enthusiastic luncheon group of Pontiac area citizens.

VARNER

The canvas portrayed the continuous growth of the university from a $2-million institution with an initial class of 570 students and a faculty of 22 members in 1959 to today's $18 million building complex whose faculty of 175 will greet 3,400 students this fall.

But breath-taking as has been OU's progress in seven short years, the look ahead is even more arresting.

Projected for development within the next three years is a total of $51 million in additional or expanded buildings. Included are new academic facilities, dormitories, heating plant, a concert hall, a theater, and health and conference centers. Oakland Center will be enlarged as will the Kresge Library.

Financing of the program will be provided by legislative appropriations, self-liquidating designs, grants from foundations and corporations and support from private sources.

The concept envisions for the 1969 school year an enrollment of 6,000 students served by a staff of 1,200, vitalizing a $70 million institution. During the following decade, enrollment is projected to reach 20,000.

The chancellor was unstinting in his praise of the community interest shown in the bourgeoning university and its educational and cultural advantages, which, he said, had played a significant role in the school's outstanding progress.

We warmly commend Mr. VARNER on the substance of his report and congratulate him, his estimable staff and faculty and associated community personages whose dedicated efforts it reflects.

J. Arthur Tillson

Few men are graced to so fully live out their mortal destinies as was J. ARTHUR TILLSON.

"Jay" died at the ripe age of 92, keeping daily office hours until stricken by the brief illness to which he succumbed.

TILLSON

A native of Michigan, Mr. TILLSON early became a pharmacist and came to Pontiac in that capacity for the Pontiac State Hospital in 1895. Subsequently, he educated himself in the law and in 1899 was certified for practice.

Mr. Tillson served his community well. He was a member of the commission that drew up the first City Charter and was continuously active in civic and fraternal affairs. Dean of the Oakland County Bar Association, he was honored in 1954 by the Michigan State Bar Association for his half-century of legal practice.

During his lifetime, Mr. Tillson won a host of friends and admirers. In his passing, Pontiac loses one of its most accomplished and highly respected pioneers.

Here's the Long and Short of Women's Skirts

Prediction:

The short, short skirt is not for long.

Why?

Because there's really no direction for today's skirt to go but down—unless, of course, it's to disappear entirely. And even in the era of the undressed look, this has to be regarded as improbable.

Now, husbands, you may as well face it that while the ladies can shorten skirts ad infinitum, they can lengthen them only so much. And if you know fashion changes, even vicariously, you know only so much won't be enough.

So get set, men, to help the economy.

(But you know, fellows, it'll be kind of fun to have to guess a little again, at that.)

Speck Case Tests New Rulings

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — "You're already prejudiced without one word of evidence against Speck brought forth," Louisville attorney John T. Ballantine told the delegates to the National Association of Legal Secretaries last week.

"That's exactly what the press and bar are trying to avoid," he added.

Two-thirds of the 400 delegates, meeting in Louisville, had raised their hand when Ballantine asked how many thought Richard Speck, indicted in the slaying of eight student nurses in Chicago, should be sentenced to at least 10 years in prison.

The rest, the Louisville Courier-Journal reported, had raised their hands when he asked how many though Speck should be committed to a mental institution on the grounds of insanity.

HISTORIC DECISIONS

What makes the Speck case particularly significant is that it follows two historic Supreme Court decisions.

In one, the court cited "prejudicial news accounts" in ruling that Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard did not get a fair trial in the bludgeon slaying of his first wife.

In the other, the court imposed a series of restrictions on police questioning of suspects, including the rule that the suspect must be told of his right to remain silent and to have a lawyer at his side.

As a result, Chicago authorities have been treading very carefully in their dealings with the 24-year-old seaman and with the press. Speck has been secluded from reporters and even the state's attorney's office has been careful not to talk to him.

TOLD TO LEAVE

Newsmen were told to leave the corridors of the hospital as soon as Speck's identity was pinned down. The Supreme Court decision on police questioning had put new limits on the use of confessions at trials, and so far as is known no effort has been made to draw a confession from Speck.

However, Police Supt. O. W. Wilson's statement at a news conference 15 hours before Speck's capture that "as far as I'm concerned, there is no question he's the murderer" has brought criticism.

Harvard law professors Paul A. Freund, Mark DeWolfe Howe and Albert M. Sacks said Wilson had prejudged the case. Warren D. Wolfson, a criminal attorney who figured in the landmark Escobedo confession case, said the publicity would hinder Speck's chances for a fair trial.

More typical of the walking-on-eggs approach of authorities in the Speck case was the response of John Stamos, first assistant state's attorney, when newsmen asked if the state would try to send Speck to the electric chair.

Said Stamos: "No comment."

American Made Ambush!

David Lawrence Says:

Airline Strikers at the Controls

WASHINGTON — The machinists seemed to feel they had nothing to lose and everything to gain by rejecting the agreement signed last Friday by the national union leaders and the representatives of the five airlines which are closed down by the strike.

LAWRENCE

For it only means another round of negotiations now and possibly two or more "cooling-off" periods of 60 days each in which the offers of wage benefits to be made by the airlines can go but one way — upward.

The outcome of a maneuver whereby a proposed settlement is submitted to a referendum vote of members — and turned down by an overwhelming majority — was clearly foreseen when the formula was broached on July 19.

On that day Asst. Secretary James J. Reynolds of the Labor Department announced that the machinists union would like to submit to the entire membership by 5 p.m. the next day the best offer the airlines would agree to by that time.

The administration protested that this would delay matters considerably.

MEETS PREDICTIONS

The union leaders conceded that the membership could disapprove the offer but said it would nevertheless demonstrate rank-and-file sentiment for better terms.

While the scheme was temporarily blocked by administration pressure, now it has been tried anyway, and the result conforms to the earlier predictions as to what would happen.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, saw as early as July 11 the real need — legislation to create a presidentially appointed board of five members, three to represent the public, one to represent the industry, and one to represent the labor union involved.

He introduced a bill to require that any serious dispute in transportation which is not settled through the previously prescribed procedures would be submitted to the board.

BINDING DECISIONS

After hearings, the board would, by majority vote, lay down the rates of pay, rules or working conditions, and its decision would be binding.

But Congress has been reluctant to act and has hoped that somehow the union and the management representatives of the airlines would agree and that the strike would be settled.

The labor union has everything to gain by the delays while the country has everything to lose.

President Johnson is in a delicate position politically. He doesn't want discretionary power given him by Congress to intervene in the airline negotiations.

He prefers mandatory authority, so the responsibility will be shared with the legislative body.

Certainly Congress could pass the buck by giving the President broad powers, leaving it to his judgment in each instance as to when or how they shall be exercised.

This would place the blame on the President. For, while the law might compel a settlement of the airline strike, it could leave a deep-seated hostility toward the administration in the ranks of labor generally.

This is but one of the many aspects of the situation which emphasize the part that politics and self-interest play in Washington nowadays as the American people keep on losing the battle to have their civil rights protected against huge damages inflicted by strikes which interrupt interstate commerce.

Bob Considine Says:

Our 'Clocks' Go Haywire From Jet Travel Fatigue

NEW YORK — Lowell Thomas writes in the current Reader's Digest that he was so weak from jet fatigue one night at the Detroit Press Club "my hand was shaking so I could hardly hold a pen to sign autographs."

CONSIDINE

Lowell's problem was and remains new and in some respects baffling to medical science. Fortunately, there's nothing about it that a day or two in bed won't cure.

Jet fatigue is tied up with the biological clock that is imbedded deep inside every living thing.

It's a superb instrument, or chemistry, or whatever it is. But something goes haywire with it if you travel fast longitudinally. Latitudinally, it doesn't lose a minute, never misses a beat.

APTITUDE EXAM

It gave an aptitude exam to a selected cross-section of persons, then sent one part of the group to Manila and another part to Rome, both by jet. Manila and Rome are 10 time zones away from Oklahoma City.

The same tests were given upon arrival at those places. The people were decidedly slower-witted than they had been in the test in Oklahoma City.

Still a third group was flown about an equal distance of jet miles to southern Chile. Their plane remained in the same time zone through the flight.

HOW MUCH DAMAGE?

One wonders just how much damage supersonic flight across time zones will do to our biological clocks.

Ten years from now no one will give a thought about hopping into one of those mighty monsters and whipping across the time zones at nearly 2,000 miles an hour.

Your clock isn't going to like that one little bit. It will be telling you to go to bed, and taking care of the respiration, heart beat and body temperature at high noon — if the supersonic has flown you from say Reading, Pa., to Rangoon.

The thing to do, I suppose, is keep flying to Chile. It'll be boring as hell, but it'll be kind on your clock.

Looks for Old Virtues in Makeup of Candidates

What is the purpose in voting, except to support people who might still be interested in the "old" things that made this country great. There are the old virtues of religious faith; integrity; economy in government; self-reliance; thrift and individual liberty; incorruptible service and honor in public office; patriotism; love of country and willingness to sacrifice for it.

This letter is in regard to several lake lots in Waterford Township. It is my understanding the lots for the subdivisions have been willed to the township, so no taxes need be paid on this property.

Upkeep of Rental Property Sends Rents Up

The lady must have been kidding about someone providing her with rental housing for $50 a month. It costs approximately that for taxes, insurance and upkeep. Some tenants can't drive a nail or fix a faucet, thus sending rents up by the cost of maintenance.

If the lady's husband earns $50 a week, then that is all she can afford to pay a month for housing, but I daresay he earns around $150 a week and can well afford $150 per month.

REPLY

Mr. Slating of Pontiac License Bureau, Mr. Pless of the Sheriff's Department and Officer Willer of Walled Lake where you live, are all in agreement. Bicycles are to be ridden not more than two abreast (preferably single file) well to the right of the pavement and with the traffic. You may ride on the shoulder but it isn't mandatory. In the City of Pontiac you may ride on the sidewalk except where specifically prohibited, provided you don't exceed 4 m.p.h. and give audible signal when passing a pedestrian.

Commission Orders R20 Land Condemned

Condemnation proceedings were ordered last night by the City Commission against seven properties yet to be acquired in the R20 urban renewal project.

BATES

Planning and Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates recommended that the city commence condemnation proceedings because negotiations "are not likely to be successful."

The commission directed the city attorney to institute the court action.

Bates said the seven properties, five residential and two commercial, are part of the 34 properties the city must purchase in an area added to the R20 project.

RESIGNATION

In other business last night, the commission received the resignation of Bryan French, heating contractor, from the Gas and Oil Burner Administrative Board. French has sold his business.

Also last night, no action was taken for formal commission approval of proposals to make to Oakland County for transfer of Pontiac Municipal Airport from the city to the county.

Public hearings were scheduled on several paving projects.

A public hearing was set for Aug. 16 on special assessments for curb, gutter, grade and gravel on Riker, Garner to Rundell.

SEWER CONSTRUCTION

Also set for Aug. 16 was a hearing on necessity for construction of a sanitary sewer on the south side of Walton, Highwood to the Ivy trunk sewer, assessed cost $3,180 and a city cost of $15,179.

A hearing for a similar sewer on the east side of Highwood, Princeton to Walton, was set for Aug. 16. Total cost was estimated at $10,130 with an assessed cost of $4,008 and city cost of $5,234.

Proposed sidewalk construction on the north side of Gladstone was set for an Aug. 16 hearing also. The cost was estimated at $680 assessed and the city share at $290.

Hearings were scheduled for Aug. 16 on street paving for portions of Jordan and Maxwell. Estimated cost of the Jordan paving was $10,572 assessed and a city cost of $9,958, while the Maxwell project was estimated at $7,541 assessed and a city cost of $7,636.

Cost estimates were presented last night for sidewalk construction on the east side of Telegraph, near Ruth. The assessed cost was estimated at $2,282 and the city cost at $3,587.

In still other business last night, the commission set Aug. 9 for a hearing on whether to barricade the end of Fildew and Wrenn to prevent access to a strip of land that has been used to get to the Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

City's Workers to Pick Agent

City officers received word last night that an election will be held to determine the collective bargaining agent for the city's white collar workers.

The State Labor Mediation Board notified the City Commission that a time and date would be set for the election which would involve the Pontiac Municipal Employes Association and Local 100, American Federation of State, County, Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO.

The board ordered the election after a hearing on petitions by both the PMEA and Local 100 to represent the city's estimated 300 clerical workers, excluding police, firemen and hospital employes.

During the hearing, Local 100 withdrew its petition, but maintained it should represent the white collar workers.

The mediation board directed that the election would involve a choice of either the PMEA, Local 100 or no bargaining agent.

Health Center Ceremony Set

Ground-breaking ceremonies will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow for the new $1-million South Oakland Health Center at Campus and Catalpa in Southfield.

The event will be held in conjunction with the 40th anniversary of the Oakland County Department of Health.

Presiding over the ceremony will be Dr. Bernard D. Berman, director of the Oakland County Department of Health.

Dr. Frank J. Condon, deputy director of the department of health; Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, and Thomas Rowley, president of the Southfield City Council also will participate.

Of modernistic design, the health center will be built on approximately 5½ acres of county-owned land.

TWO FLOORS

It will be a two-story structure, containing 30,000-square-feet of space.

The center will provide complete clinical facilities and office space for about 100 staff members.

Estimated completion costs of the structure total $1,027,000. A Hill-Burton grant will furnish $344,000 of this amount. The county will pay the balance.

Dr. Berman said he expects the center to be occupied and in operation by next June.

The center will provide public health services for the south Oakland County area for which a population of 500,000 is projected by 1970.

Cavanagh, Williams and Court Denounce Racist Literature on Today's Primary

DETROIT (AP) — Two Democratic U.S. Senatorial candidates and a circuit judge joined Monday in denouncing a campaign leaflet as racist—but the court said it was powerless to halt its distribution.

Judge Joseph Moynihan Jr. who had issued a temporary restraining order Sunday banning the leaflet, decided after listening to arguments that the matter was outside his court's jurisdiction.

Moynihan granted a motion for dismissal made by attorneys for a top official of the United Auto Workers Committee on Political Education (COPE), who was named as a defendant along with several employes of a printing company.

* * *

The leaflet implied that Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh supports an allegedly anti-Negro congressional candidate in Tuesday's primary election. It urged voters to support former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who is opposing Cavanagh in the race for the Senate nomination.

RACISM APPEAL

"There is no doubt in my mind," Moynihan said, "that this document...is an out-and-out baldfaced appeal to racism. It is appalling."

But, he added:

"I am compelled to agree that this court does not have jurisdiction to hear this controversy on its merits."

* * *

The judge told Robert Toohey, Cavanagh's campaign manager, that he could ask U.S. Atty. Lawrence Gubow or Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley to file criminal proceedings.

Toohey said, however, that there was not enough time to follow such a course before the election.

SEEK REPUDIATION

He appealed to UAW President Walter Reuther and Williams to repudiate the leaflet and urge that sponsors cease any distribution they may have started. The UAW has endorsed Williams' candidacy.

Shortly thereafter, Williams issued a statement repudiating "the contents of the leaflet as an appeal to prejudice."

Listed as defendants in the case were John Burton, COPE coordinator in the 1st and 13th Congressional Districts, and Edward Fishman, owner of the Goodwill Printing Company of Highland Park, which printed the leaflets.

Also included among the defendants was the so-called "Sponsors for Community Action," identified in court as having been formed by Willa Mae Johnson and Josephine Herndon.

Defense attorney Charles Marston argued that the leaflets' statements were true and not scurrilous, but the dismissal motion was made by defense attorney Theodore Sachs, who said:

"(The court) is being asked to enjoin free speech, which is guaranteed in the first amendment to the U.S. Constitution.... It is not the business of any court at any time to try to put clamps on what is said."

Although he joined in repudiating the leaflet, Williams denied that he had any knowledge of it beforehand.

When Judge Moynihan issued the temporary restraining order, Ernest Mazey, executive secretary of the Detroit branch of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), denounced the action as a "serious abuse of judicial discretion."

In court, attorney Michael Kelly, representing the Cavanagh forces, pointed out that Mazey's brother, Emil, is secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers union.

Marston countered that any imputation that the ACLU was involved in the case for political motives was "false and unfair."

Other Key Primary Contests Are Scattered Across Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Democrats decide today between former Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh for their Senate nominee, wary that Republicans may mix into their primary.

In other primaries:

Idaho—Gov. Robert E. Smylie, asking an unprecedented fourth four-year term, is in what appears to be a close contest with Don Samuelson, a state legislator, for the Republican nomination.

Missouri—Three incumbent house members have opposition for renomination. They are Republican Durward G. Hall and Democrats Richard Ichord and Paul C. Jones.

KANSAS RACE

Though the Kansas contest over the GOP Senate nomination generally is regarded as a Pearson-Ellsworth race, two others also filed candidacies. They are former Wichita Mayor William D. Tarrant and Mrs. Ava A. Anderson, wife of a Concordia dentist.

Bidding for the Democratic Senate nomination are former Rep. J. Floyd Breeding, State Sen. Harold S. Herd, J. Leigh Warner, an insurance executive, and K. L. Smith, who was the party Senate nominee in 1962.

There also are primaries for nominations for governor but neither Gov. William H. Avery nor his prospective Democratic challenger, Robert Docking, faces more than nominal opposition. Docking, an Arkansas City banker, is a son of former Gov. George Docking.

School Chief Decides Not to Quit Post

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — The superintendent of schools here Monday asked to be reinstated following the reassignment of a newly appointed high school principal.

Richard Donley, who asked to be relieved from his contract when the Board of Education appointed Richard Young principal of Big Rapids high school, said he wished to "continue to be of service to the boys and girls of ths school district."

Death Toll Rises With Weather

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan's water accident death toll is continuing to increase sharply as the hot weather continues.

State police provisional figures show 212 persons died in 368 water accidents during the first seven months of the year, compared with 159 deaths in 282 accidents on July 29, 1965.

If your gas bill could talk...

WHAT A STORY IT WOULD TELL!

Natural Gas has become so much a part of our daily lives that the service hours this bill records represent practically every hour of every day and night. Only you, the customer, are actually aware of the many ways this silent servant eliminates drudgery and provides convenience and comfort for the whole family. You know how dependably, efficiently and economically Natural Gas does your cooking, clothes drying, water heating, home heating and cooling . . . even provides pleasure for outdoor living.

Your monthly gas bill also represents many less obvious services to both customer and community alike. For example . . . over $73 million in federal, state and local taxes were paid by Consumers Power Company last year. Participation in School Safety Programs, Student Scholarship Funds, Forestry and Conservation Projects, Area Development Programs—to mention a few, are of benefit to all.

So, take a moment to evaluate your next Consumers Power Gas bill. If it could talk, imagine what a long, action-filled story it would tell!

Where "C.P." stands for Continuing Progress

WOMEN'S SECTION

Pontiac Press Photo

"Shoot for the basket," call fellow day campers to Elizabeth Corbin, Henderson Street, as she throws the ball. Standing in line behind Elizabeth anticipating their turn, are Kim Maison, Myrtle Street; Kim Sorensen of Keego Harbor; Kathy Corbin (counselor, seated) and Lisa Maison, also of Myrtle Street.

"You see, it is a fish," says YWCA Day Camp director, Jacquie Morris, to Lisa Maison who lives on Myrtle Street. Once the youngsters complete their fish drawings, their teacher, who majors in art at Western Michigan University, shows them how to use a fish net to provide an authentic background for the crayon work. Smocks, made from discarded men's shirts are ideal for art work. Each is decorated with a clever design.

Guests Ask Questions on Luci's Day

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Several hundred people in different parts of the country have opened up an envelope and been thrilled to find an invitation beginning "The President and Mrs. Johnson . . ."

Immediately questions arose. What do we wear? How should we have answered the invitation? What can we send as a gift?

The problem of how to reply to the invitation has been answered. I understand that response cards were included with the invitations. Personally, I regret that the President's implied approval of this growing custom automatically stamps it as in good taste.

I'm sure that this was done to make it easier for the recipients, since the Johnsons could hardly have been worried that prospective guests would not reply.

The question of what to wear is almost as easily solved. Washington is hot in August, and the wedding will be held at noon, so those are the important facts to consider.

The men will wear lightweight dark business suits with conservative ties and white shirts.

Women will wear the coolest possible short summer dresses. Silks, chiffons or thin synthetics are all appropriate, and the color could range from navy blue, through any pastel shades to a print.

Gloves and hats, or veils, will be a must. Dresses may be sleeveless, if they are modest in cut and design. Speaking of clothing, congratulations to the Johnson ladies for prevailing upon the President on this occasion, to wear his cutaway.

The third major question will be that of deciding a gift. What in the world can you send a girl who literally has everything? If the guests know Luci personally, perhaps they can think of something which would have a personal meaning to her.

If you're one of the lucky ones, remember to reserve your rooms in Washington immediately. There will be crowds of the curious in town, just hoping for a passing glimpse of the festivities. Get to the church early, and don't forget to have your invitation in your hand.

You should arrive, I would imagine, at least an hour ahead of time, but the time will be well passed in watching the famous guests arrive and listening to the beautiful choir music.

Miss Allston Is Engaged

Dr. and Mrs. J. Norman Allston of Bloomfield Village announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy Jane, to Lt. (j.g.) James Lyon Bonner, USN, son of the James B. Bonners of Beverly Hills.

The October bride-elect is an alumna of the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Bloomfield Hills and a graduate of the University of Detroit. Her sorority is Theta Phi Alpha.

Her fiance was graduated from Michigan State University where he was affiliated with Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Fun for 'Y' Day Campers

Fun is spelled YWCA Day Camp to a number of girls in the Pontiac area. The youngsters (ages 5-7) meet each Tuesday and Thursday from 9:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. The older group (8-12) meet all day Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Along with regular activities such as painting, games and the like, the younger group will take two field trips one to the Upland Farms and the other to the Detroit Zoo.

The other group, too, has field trips to the zoo and also to Bob-Lo Island.

Sack lunches are the order of the day for both groups and the "Y" provides milk and occasional treats.

Between the two counselors, Kathy Ball and Kathy Corbin and the camp director, Jacquie Morris who is a senior at Western Michigan University, children attending the program are kept busy with all sorts of fun activities.

Each Friday, passengers in cars traveling the Huron Street route will be amused at the sight of the campers staunchly marching two-by-two down the sidewalk, past downtown, to the YMCA.

MRS. ERIC JACKSON BEISHLAG

Kathleen Louise Crawford, daughter of the Alex M. Crawfords of Elsie Drive and Eric Jackson Beishlag of East Jordan, son of the Everett W. Beishlags of Madison Heights, spoke vows Saturday in Orchard Lake Community Church Presbyterian.

Evening Rite for Pair in Area Church

An evening ceremony and reception Saturday in the Orchard Lake Community Church Presbyterian marked the vows of Kathleen Louise Crawford and Eric Jackson Beishlag of East Jordan.

Parents of the couple who chose a honeymoon in Upper Michigan are the Alex M. Crawfords of Elsie Drive, Bloomfield Township, and the Everett W. Beishlags of Madison Heights.

A petal headpiece cradled the bride's illusion veil complementing her Empire gown and train of white silk organza over taffeta with Venise lace applique.

CRESCENT

Mrs. Maurice DeBell and Janet Crawford attended their sister as honor matron and bridesmaid, along with the bridegroom's sister, Lorna Beishlag, and Sandra Riley.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University.

Wed Saturday in All Saints Episcopal Church were Judith Ann Lembke, daughter of the George W. Lembkes of Stanley Avenue, and Arnold Lee Smith, son of the Homer H. Smiths of Pine Knob Road.

MRS. ARNOLD LEE SMITH

Honeymoon in West for Arnold Smiths

After greeting guests Saturday in the Italian-American Club, the newlywed Arnold Lee Smiths (Judith Ann Lembke) left for a trip to Colorado and North Dakota.

Vows were spoken before Rev. C. George Widdifield in a candlelight rite in All Saints Episcopal Church.

White silk organza with Venice lace applique fashioned a princess-line gown and train for the daughter of the George W. Lembkes of Stanley Avenue.

With Mrs. William Lembke, matron of honor, were bridesmaids Christine Roehring, Mrs. Dennis Pawley and Mrs. George Lembke of Jackson.

Frank Smith assisted his brother as best man. They are the sons of the Homer H. Smiths of Pine Knob Road, Independence Township. Ushers were William Lembke, Larry Smith and Michael Morrison of Saginaw.

The bride is an alumna of Central Michigan University where her husband has senior status.

ST. CLAIR SHORES (AP) — The boys at Lakeview High School may be a little blue, but their hair is the color nature intended it to be.

The school board ruled that boys will not be allowed to tint their locks.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for a number of years, and I would call ours a very happy marriage. We are compatible in every way. Recently, the matter of having affairs outside marriage came up.

ABBY

My husband feels that as long as we love and respect each other, and each rates first with the other, an occasional affair is harmless.

Although I admire his above-board approach, I find it hard to accept. Should I go along with my husband's thinking, hoping it will not hurt our relationship even though I don't accept it? HOW TO ACT

DEAR HOW: Married couples who behave as lesser animals should tear up their marriage certificates. At least they're not making a mockery of marriage.

Tell your husband that you intend to keep your marriage vows to forsake all others, and if you catch HIM breaking his, he will have a battle on his hands.

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago a young girl wrote to you and said she was the unhappiest girl in the world. I was 12 then and I had her same problem.

Now I realize that my mother wasn't so goofy after all. Please print this girl's letter again with your advice. I found it very helpful. K.B.

DEAR ABBY: Whoever said the teen-age years were the happiest didn't know what they were talking about. I am 13 and I am not the least bit happy.

Let me explain:

I can't stay overnight at anybody's house.

Had enough? Well, I have. I told my mother that she will regret it some day. And she will, too. I've been thinking of running away. I would, but I don't have any place to go. Please tell me what to do. I don't deserve this.

SICK OF BEING BOSSED

DEAR SICK: Your mother is probably sick, too — of being battled. The things you would like to do are privileges teen-agers earn by showing they are mature enough to handle them.

One of the first signs of maturity is the ability to accept a decision without putting up an argument. Accept your mother's decisions for a while, and see what happens.

Say Students, Teachers to Flee Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — An exodus of university teachers and students from Argentina was predicted today as a result of government seizure of the universities and bloody police clashes with students.

"Many of the best professors will leave," said Warren Ambrose, a professor of mathematics from Massachusetts Institute of Technology who has been teaching at the University of Buenos Aires.

Ambrose, 51, was caught in the battle Friday night between police and students and reported he and other professors were beaten and insulted by police. In Washington, the State Department expressed concern to the Argentine Embassy.

It was not learned immediately whether Ambrose would be among those leaving.

President Juan Carlos Ongania's military regime, in a drastic action rare for Latin America, took over all nine state universities Friday, contending that Communists had penetrated the faculties.

Violence broke out when students refused to leave the Buenos Aires campus after the government orders suspending the universities' autonomous status. After the disturbance, the schools were ordered closed until Aug. 16.

Ongania, an army general, seized power in a coup June 28 from President Arturo Illia, charging Illia had failed to promote Argentina's development.

The government Monday night authorized three universities to continue with classes, saying the rectors had agreed to government control. But the 150,000 students at the other six universities, whose rectors refused to submit to government direction; remained on an enforced two-week vacation.

Police guarded the six campuses.

Hilario Fernandez Long, rector of the University of Buenos Aires resigned, as did many of his faculty.

In the U.S. Senate, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said the U.S. government had extended diplomatic recognition to the Ongania regime too hastily. He urged President Johnson to withhold economic and military aid from the Argentine government on the ground it had suppressed academic freedom.

Nurse Dispute Settled on Interim Pact

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Bay area nurses dispute was settled early today when negotiators came to terms on an interim contract.

The settlement climaxed more than 12 hours of talks and came 17 hours before resignations of 1,930 nurses at 33 hospitals were scheduled to go into effect.

The U.S. Public Health Service had said that if the nurses left their jobs, it would be "the first major walkout in the nation's history" by nurses.

But they were expected to withdraw their resignations today.

State conciliator Thomas J. Nicolopulous said that the California Nurses Association (CNA) had agreed to submit the key issue of interim salary to a three-man fact finding commission — members to be appointed by Calif. Gov. Edmund G. Brown and U.S. cabinet officers Willard J. Wirtz and John W. Gardner.

"It is gratifying that both parties have reached agreement in these most difficult negotiations which has forestalled serious interference with normal patient care in the San Francisco Bay area," Nicolopulous said in his formal statement.

Later, he termed the negotiations "darned difficult." He declined to speculate on national implications but admitted there was no doubt that "the rest of California and probably the nation were watching the talks."

Both sides already had agreed to give the fact-finding committee broad powers for settling terms of next year's new contract, but it was not until early today that the CNA also agreed to let the committee also set interim salary scales retroactive to July 17.

Nurses now make $440 to $510 per month in the Bay area and had sought $600 to $720. The hospital had offered $500 to $570.

Intensive Effort Under Way

Scientists Try to Stop Viet Malaria

AUBURN, Ala. (UPI) — The most intensive antimalarial research effort since the close of World War II is under way in an effort to combat a deadly threat to American ground forces in Viet Nam.

Auburn University scientists are part of a concerted effort to find a new drug which will combat a resistant malaria strain discovered with alarmingly high incidence in the jungles and brush areas of Southeast Asia.

A contract for the research was awarded through the commanding general of the U. S. Army Medical Research and Development Command.

The sum of the grant is small — only $32,872 for two years work. But the rewards could be great.

Work began June 1 with Dr. C. Dewitt Blanton as chief investigator and Prof. George Hargreaves as adviser and assistant. Both are with the school of pharmacy at Auburn.

RESISTS DRUGS

The new malaria strain discovered in Viet Nam resists drugs which up to now have prevented infection.

Doctors have reverted to the old quinine alkaloids (plant derived medicine) in place of the newer synthetic (artificial) drugs which are of no use.

The quinine controls the infection but the researchers at Auburn are working on a synthesis and evaluation of some quinoline - quinones which possess potential antimalarial activity.

The group of synthetics presently used changes little as it passes through the body. Hargreaves has a quinine preparation which appears 16 times as active after it passes through.

PROBLEM

The problem is to harness this greatly increased activity and release it inside the body to work against and knock out the parasite causing malarial infection.

To Drown Guitars... Everything Else

WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Looking for soemthing to brighten up your day? Well, see if this grabs you, darling:

I have here a press release from the National Association of Music Merchants reporting that rock 'n' roll bands will soon be able to double, triple or maybe even quadruple their noise levels.

This happy situation has been made possible by the development of some new types of instruments, including the "varitone," the "pianotron" and the "tubon."

The varitone is an electronic saxophone, the pianotron is an electronic piano and the tubon appears to be a combination accordion and vacuum cleaner.

As things now stand, amplified, guitars in rock 'n' roll groups drown out the other instruments. The result is unbalanced cacophony.

FINE BALANCE

When other instruments boost their volume electrically as well, that condition no longer will prevail. Then we will have balanced cacophony.

In other words, America is about to enter the era of the total electric orchestra.

It remains to be seen whether the gas companies will let that happen unchallenged. Being highly competitive, they may come out with a gas-powered glockenspiel, or something of the sort.

Let us now look ahead a few months and conduct a mythical interview with America's next musical sensations, Benny Earbanker and the Wall Plugs.

"Tell us something about your group, Benny."

"We have a 10-kilowatt combo composed of five guitars, two varitones, a pianotron and a tubon."

"That's only nine instruments. What instrument do you play?"

"I play the fuse box."

"Where did you get your musical training?"

"You took a course in composition?"

"No, I took a course in electrical engineering."

"How long have you been interested in a musical career?"

"Ever since I was a kid. When I was about three years old, I stuck my finger in a lamp socket."

"Thanks very much, Benny. By the way, what is the name of your latest hit record?"

"It's called "Fugue for Six Sounds and a Ground Wire.'"

Army to Close

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced Monday it is eliminating its Mobility Command Headquarters at Warren, Mich., in a reorganization move that affects their other subordinate units.

With the headquarters phased out, Warren's Tank - Automotive Center at St. Louis will become separate elements reporting directly to the Army Material Command in Washington.

The mobility command oversees the designing and early development of plane-delivered equipment, tactical and general purpose vehicles and other surface transportation equipment.

The Army said 170 of the mobility command's 180 civilian employes will be absorbed by the tank-automotive center at Warren. The remainder will be offered positions with the St. Louis units.

The phase-out will be completed next January with headquarters commander Maj. Gen. W.W. Lapsley, taking over direction of the tank - automotive command.

Tiny Circuits Operational

By Science Service

NEW YORK — A tiny electronic device known as a tunnel diode has been made to operate at room temperature when built by thin-film methods.

Tunnel diodes, once hailed as "wonders" in the electronics field, have already replaced transistors for such uses as amplifiers, oscillators and in the logic circuits of computers.

Making tunnel diodes by thin-film techniques means they can be turned out on a mass-production basis, instead of the more laborious hand-controlled methods now required to fabricate single-crystal semiconducting transistors.

Semiconductors are made of materials that conduct electricity better than insulators but not as well as metals.

Three for County

State States Road Bids

Three Oakland County road construction projects estimated to cost $1.49 million are among the 29 jobs for which the State Highway Department plans to take bids Aug. 10 in Lansing.

Included is a proposed $1,240,000 project for I-96 in the western part of the county.

The far-reaching project is earmarked for I-96 from the Livingston County line east.

Proposed construction consists of 1.7 miles of grading and drainage structures, 2 miles of concrete widening, .93 mile of concrete pavement, 1.3 miles of concrete surface course on aggregate base and widening of two bridge structures over the Huron River and Kensington Road on I-96.

Also included in the job is a single seal coat on ramps at the I-96 and Kent Lake Road interchange.

Other Oakland County projects are 8.6 miles of landscape development on I-75 from west of Baldwin Road, northwesterly to a point west of U.S. 10, $130,000; and 12.3 miles of landscape development on I-75 from west of U.S. 10 northwesterly to M-54, $120,000.

It is estimated that 300,000 persons could be fed with food thrown into garbage pails in New York City.

Aid Given to Freshmen at New High

EAST LANSING (AP) — Freshmen entering Michigan State University this fall will be "the most aided ever to enter an educational institution in the state," says an MSU official.

About 30 per cent of the anticipated 7,700 freshmen will receive some form of financial aid — totaling about $2 million — in state, federal, university and private funds, said Gordon Sabine, vice president for special projects.

Classes will start Sept. 29 for an estimated 38,000 students, Sabine said in a back - to - school statement.

New this year will be the MSU College of Human Medicine, which will start with a class of 26 students. The program, part of a six - year curriculum, will provide students with the first two years of medical school.

MSU, however, is now asking the State Board of Education to authorize expanding the program into a four - year medical school.

EYE EXPANSION

Among the new financial aids available to students will be guaranteed bank loans and educational opportunity grants — provided under the new federal higher education act.

And an estimated 400 more students than last year will find part-time work on campus this year under the work - study program of the Federal Economic Opportunities Act.

Watts, Hough: Today's Battlegrounds

NEW YORK (UPI) — Watts, Harlem. Hough. Bedford-Stuyvesant.

"They are like Anzio and Iwo Jima a generation ago. Distant and difficult to comprehend, yet immediate and compelling because our future is being affected on those battlegrounds whether we take action or not," says architect-urban designer George E. Kostritsky of Baltimore.

We must wipe out slums and ghettoes and human deprivation, he believes. "If our country is to be a leader in the family of nations, we can't afford to let a large percentage of our people live lives without choice, under inhuman conditions.

"If we do, then obviously the National Guard is going to become busier and busier," he said.

Nothing less than a total attack — one that combines all available physical and social forces — will wipe out both the symptoms and causes of our gigantic urban sickness, he adds.

"All the problems are interrelated. Unemployment and underemployment (together with discrimination) cause the concentration of disadvantaged minorities in ghettoes with deficient housing.

INADEQUATE SCHOOLING

This inevitably leads to grossly inadequate schooling. Inferior education perpetuates the cycle — lack of employment, poverty, squalid housing, poor health, a breakdown of self-reliance and self-respect."

Total attack is not only within our capabilities, but within our finances, Kostritsky maintains, "If cities would become an aggressive and imaginative as big business.

"Private enterprises are building whole new cities from scratch, cities like Reston, Va., Cumbia, Mo., Montgomery Village in Washington, D.C. They plan to make a profit.

"If developers can build entire cities, our cities can harness this brilliance, imagination and know-how to create new 'Villages' in our cities.

REBUILDING PROFITABLE

"We've proved massive rebuilding of downtown areas is profitable. New Haven, Boston, Baltimore, Newark are examples.

"Now it is time to tackle the tough problem — take on a bold crash program using all our vast resources, financial, physical and cerebral, to build the good life for all within our cities."

"If we even took one city and funneled all our knowledge we could show the way," he said. "The plan should be comprehensive — social as well as physical.

"The action program should remove blight and decay through both clearance and rehabilitation; at the same time through training and retraining stimulate employment of unemployed to help rebuild their own neighborhoods. All our social know-how should be directed at the same time."

The nation's 4.6 million small businesses employ 40 per cent of the labor force.

In Deviancy

Need Careful Diagnosis

By Science Service

CHICAGO — More caution is needed in diagnosing children as psychologically disturbed simply because they show what is loosely considered "deviant" behavior, a New York psychiatrist has warned.

Some behavior, such as nail biting, bedwetting and fearfulness, may actually represent a temporary phase in normal development, said Dr. Rema Lapouse, of the New York Medical College, N. Y.

A study of 482 children aged six to 12 in Buffalo, N. Y., revealed that more than 40% had seven or more fears and worries, 30% had nightmares, were restless and bit their nails, 20% had wet their beds within the year, and 10% lost their tempers at least once a day, according to mothers' reports.

So high was the occurrence of such "suspect" behavior, that Dr. Lapouse wondered if they could be related to psychiatric disorder.

RECEIVED CLUES

A most important finding was that the fearful or anxious children, (defined by Dr. Lapouse in the study as those with seven or more worries) did not seem to be in any particular psychological trouble.

This suggests, said Dr. Lapouse, that anxieties may be part of normal child development.

NO HIT-OR-MISS Rxs FOR YOU

The prescription of years ago was largely a hit-or-miss affair. If one drug didn't work, the doctor tried another . . . then another. Often, none of the drugs did much good. But the day of the hit-or-miss prescription is no more. Now, the doctor knows exactly what each drug can do. Army Head Gets Boot in Red Chinese Purge

TOKYO (AP) — Red China disclosed today it has replaced its army chief of staff and indicated that other military leaders have fallen in the spreading Communist purge.

The army newspaper, Liberation Army Daily, said Lo Jui-ching, the army chief, had been replaced by Yang Cheng-wu, fourth ranking deputy chief of staff, a popular military figure and old friend of Mao Tze-tung, party chairman.

There were indications that the purge also may have crushed the chief of the general political department, Hsiao Hua; the chief procurator, Huang Huo-hsing; the navy commander, Hsiao Ching-kuang, the commander of public security forces, Hsieh Fuchih; the deputy defense minister, Hsu Shih-yu, and other defense department deputies.

The New China News Agency listed Yang for the first time Monday night as "acting chief of the general staff" of the Chinese People's Liberation Army.

NO REASON

It did not say why Yang had taken over from Lo. The latter had been one of the most powerful political-military figures in China.

Lo was not present at a banquet in Peking Monday night marking the 39th anniversary of the Communist army. The keynote speech, which he usually delivers, was made by Yang.

Speculation that the purge had caught up with the other leaders was touched off by the fact they also did not attend the banquet.

Yang said in a militant speech at the banquet that he would vigorously prosecute the purge and "sweep away monsters of all kinds."

He said that the Red Chinese army is "ready at any time" to move into Viet Nam to wipe out the U.S. "brigands."

LINCOLN WELTON'S PROBATE RECORD

Welton, age 52, 32635 Nottingham Knoll, Farmington, joins Grant and Moore in citing the rise in juvenile crime as a fundamental issue facing the Probate Court, like Shifman cites his experience as qualifying him to meet the problem.

Welton has lectured on probate law for 26 years, presently is Treasurer of the Probate Section of the Michigan Bar Association.

Welton has lectured on Probate law as an expert representative of the Institute of Continuing Legal Education at the University of Michigan.

In that role Welton has traveled throught the state lecturing attorneys about the probate law and trends it is taking.

His most recent project is an attempt to organize a group of lawyers to travel throughout the state lecturing people on the low cost and needs for Probate Courts to administer the wills of dead persons.

Concerned About Book—

Welton is highly concerned about a recent, best-selling book designed to instruct laymen how they can avoid getting their wills sent through Probate Court.

In addition to this involvement with probate law, Welton has played a major role in drafting the Bar Association's recent proposed legislation concerning the retention and diagnostic care of juveniles.

He has recommended caring for 17 to 21-year-olds on a basis other than that used for adults convicted of committing crime and bettering protective services activities through State Legislature.

SCENE OF TERROR — Map locates area of Austin, Tex. where sniper rampaged yesterday slaying 15 persons. Dark area in center is the campus where the University of Texas Tower is located. South of the campus on Guadalupe Street is the apartment where the body of the mother of Charles Joseph Whitman was found.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Austin sniper slayings, the latest in a grisly series of American mass murders, may be the worst in the nation's history.

A spokesman for the FBI in Washington said it kept no records on such matters, but recalled only one incident that could rival the Texas slayings.

That was when quiet, Bible-reading Howard Unruh, methodically killed 13 persons in 12 minutes on a Camden, N.J., street in 1949. Using an automatic pistol, he chose victims who were strangers to him.

Unruh was judged mentally unfit to stand trial and is now in the Trenton, N.J., State Hospital.

A dungaree-wearing killer accounted for 11 deaths in a two-state shooting spree in 1958.

Charles Starkweather, 19, killed three members of the family of a girlfriend, then drove through Nebraska and Wyoming in 1958, leaving eight bodies behind him. Starkweather was executed and his girlfriend, Carol Ann Fugate, sentenced to life in prison.

Last month, a man gained entrance to a nurses' residence in Chicago, and slowly knifed or strangled eight of them. A tattooed drifter, Richard Speck, was arraigned Monday, charged with the killings.

Another Chicago case that captured international attention was the 1929 St. Valentine's Day massacre in which seven members of the George (Bugs) Moran gang were lined up against a garage wall and machine-gunned by what was believed to be a rival underworld faction. The killers were never caught.

SIX VICTIMS

Six robbery victims died at the hands of Connecticut's "mad dog" killers, Joseph Taborsky and Arthur Culombe, in 1956.

Taborsky died in the electric chair and Culombe, who successfully appealed his first-degree murder conviction, is serving a life term.

The same year, William Bauer fatally wounded six members of his family in their Parsippany-Troy Hills, N.J., home then turned a shotgun on himself.

Another mass murder case, that of Perry Smith and Richard Hickock, who killed four members of a well-known Kansas farming family, became the basis of Truman Capote's best-selling book "In Cold Blood."

BOTH HANGED

Smith and Hickock were hanged for the crime in which Herbert Clutter, his wife and their two children lost their lives.

Other killings terrorized cities over long periods. In Boston, a man strangled 11 women over a two year period. And in Chicago in 1946, William Heirens, 18, a student, confessed to at least three of a series of seven connected murders.

Ex-Soldier Tells of Campus 'Battle'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Allen Crum, 40, who had retired from military life 60 days earlier, crouched high above the University of Texas campus, a loaded rifle in his hands, and waited for a killer.

Less than 60 feet away, Charles J. Whitman, who already had killed 15 and wounded 33, waited to add to his victims.

"I was a soldier all my life," Crum said. "I saw they needed help and I just volunteered. I got deputized and borrowed a rifle."

The sniper's firing had blocked him from crossing a street on the campus. He saw a boy get shot.

"COULD BE MINE"

"I looked at this kid and I thought, this could have been one of my kids lying there," Crum, the father of three, said.

He made his way to the base of the tower and offered help to officer Ramiro Martinez. In a few minutes Crum, retired after 20 years as an Army and Air Force gunner sergeant, found himself holding a rifle and riding an elevator up the tower with three policemen.

"We tensed each time the elevator came to a floor," he recalled. "We had no idea where the sniper was."

On the 26th floor, five victims lay on the stairway leading to the observatory deck Whitman was using as a shooting platform.

MANY DEAD

"We walked past one boy, he was dead, then a lady, she was dead, then another lady, she was alive, then a boy who was alive and then another woman. She was dead," Crum recalled, speaking slowly.

Crum recalled that he flattened himself into the southeast corner and waited, protecting the backs of two officers who crawled north along the platform. He could hear shooting, and an occasional bullet smashed into the stone facing nearby.

Then he heard running footfalls along the west deck. Crum fired a shot into the southwest corner of the deck. It made a hole so big "you could stick a saucer through it," he said. The footfalls stopped and went the other direction.

RAN BACK

"He ran back the other way and the officers terminated the fight," Crum said simply.

Crum then walked toward the dead sniper, who was killed around the corner beyond his vision.

As he walked, Crum spotted a rifle wrapped in a green towel. He took the towel and waved it. Then he waved his white handkerchief.

"I wanted them below to know it was over," he said.

NEVER FIRED

"I spent all my life flying as a gunner in the heavies" bombers, he said, "and never fired a shot."

Sirens Gave Initial Clue

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The scream of ambulance sirens was the first warning Brackenridge Hospital had of casualties from the University of Texas sniper shootings.

"We had six casualties in here before we knew what was happening," said Bud Jennings, executive housekeeper of the city-owned hospital.

"Clear the hall!" an attendant would shout as nurses pushed a stretcher from the emergency room, often with aides along side holding up bottles of plasma and blood being injected.

Now and then a stretcher and its still, covered bundle would be pushed from a room to one side of the hall to await examination by a justice of peace for the death certificate.

DISASTER PLAN

The hospital's emergency disaster plan was ordered into effect. Student nurses worked and nurses from other hospitals volunteered to help. Doctors who heard reports of the shootings on their car radios rushed to the scene.

Casualties with minor wounds were placed in wheel chairs.

Hundreds of the anxious and curious gathered outside the emergency room doors. An officer said one stretcher was pushed down the sidewalk for about half a block because the ambulance could not get closer due to the traffic jam.

Bad Bacteria May Leave 'Fingerprints'

By Science Service

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — Disease-causing organisms may soon be identified by the "fingerprints" they leave behind, a team of scientists at General Electric's Electronics Laboratory, Syracuse, N.Y., and Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., believe.

The scientists examined 32 strains of bacteria and measured the different chemical molecules excreted in the life process.

The technique, which takes from 10 to 20 minutes once the sample is ready, was devised by Dr. Martin Alexander, a microbiologist at Cornell, and John R. Gould, consulting chemist at the Electronics Laboratory.

Dr. Robert T. O'Brien, consulting microbiologist at the Laboratory, and Dr. Yigal Henis of the Hebrew University, Rehovot, Israel, conducted research in specific areas of the project.

ARSENAL USED TO KILL—These are the weapons used by Charles Joseph Whitman in his mad shooting spree yesterday in which 16 persons were killed and 31 wounded. Police seized the weapons after they gunned down Whitman in his perch in the University of Texas administration building tower, Austin, Tex.

He Grew Up in 'House Full of Guns'

By DOUG BAILEY

LAKE WORTH, Fla. (AP) — Charles Joseph Whitman, a former altar boy, was raised in a "house full of guns" by a God-fearing mother and a generous, but firm father, neighbors say.

The three sons of Charles A. Whitman, a prosperous Lake Worth plumbing contractor, got everything they wanted, but when their father said "frog," they jumped, the neighbors commented.

"You might say they were spoiled," said Charles Abrams, 17, whose family has been friends of the Whitmans for years. "But they were all-right boys."

Charles Whitman, his younger brother Pat, 21, and John, 17, were raised in a middle-class home in a Lake Worth neighborhood about eight blocks from the business section.

"He was the nicest, politest, kindest kid in the whole neighborhood," said Judy Sprague, who used to play with Charles when they were younger. "It may sound silly, but his best quality was just that he was nice, extra nice."

HAD GUNS

Anna Hamalainen, a longtime neighbor, said the three Whitman boys always had guns, first as toys and thn real firearms as they grew older. Charles, she said, once shot up the roof of her house.

"Their house was full of guns," said Glenn Miller, 18, a friend of John Whitman's. "Their father is an enthusiastic hunter. I believe there are guns in every room."

However, Frank McCarty — a schoolmate who said he and Charles were once altar boys together, reported Charles was not an especially enthusiastic hunter.

'NO GREAT SHOT'

"Oh, we'd go shoot in the Everglades sometimes but Charles was no great shot and really not interested much," he said.

Mrs. L. J. Hollern has lived next door to the Whitman family for more than 20 years. She termed Margaret Whitman, one of the victims of her son's outburst, "a good mother — very strict with the boys, a regular churchgoer who made her sons attend with her."

Another neighbor, Agnes Fabris, said Charles was hurt deeply by the separation of his parents about six months ago.

"He came back and got his mother and took her out to Texas," she said. "He was very devoted."

Charles' father secluded himself in his home with a priest after learning of the mass slayings. He notified authorities in Austin he would go to Texas to claim the bodies of his son and estranged wife as soon as he was able to get on a plane.

Police kept a vigil as curious motorists circled the Whitman home. They saw a pleasant home with a swimming pool, barbecue grill, tropical fruit trees and a big garage.

Gov. Connally to Head Up Sniper Probe

He said he expects to transfer to a private aircraft there for the flight to Austin.

"As chief executive I just feel I have to be there," Connally told newsmen.

DERANGED INDIVIDUAL

He described the multiple slayings as "the actions of one deranged individual."

Comparing the rash of sniper slayings to the kidnaping wave of the 30's Connally said "unfortunately one crime of a certain nature begets others of the same nature.

"I, of course, am unable to analyze or account for the actions of a crazy, a deranged individual."

Connally's departure cut short a scheduled three-week trip through South America to publicize the 1968 San Antonio Hemis-Fair.

U.S. Tax Plan Ripped in State

Michigan to Lose, Say Romney, Kelley

LANSING (AP) — A tax proposal in Congress would result in substantial revenue loss to the state and tax discrimination among business, Gov George Romney and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said Monday.

Their attack on the proposed interstate taxation act came in a telegram to Reps. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., and Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., both members of the House Judiciary Committee.

"This bill arbitrarily carves out vast areas of immunity and preferential treatment from state and local taxes for certain businesses at the expense of the states, their political subdivisions and the remainder of the business community," the telegram said.

And, it said, the bill would not simplify or make more uniform state and local tax laws pertaining to taxation of multistate businesses, "which is the justification for any such legislation in the first instance."

POSES QUESTION

Romney and Kelley said the bill also poses serious constitutional questions.

Assistant Atty. Gen. William Dexter said the bill would limit Michigan's power to tax companies which do business in Michigan, but own no real property in the state and do not have any full-time employes in the state.

Such companies, if their net income was under $1 million a year, would escape Michigan sales and use taxes, he said.

Meanwhile, he said they could store merchandise in public warehouses in Michigan and continue to do widespread business in the state.

Another problem, Dexter said, involves the application of the Michigan business activities tax and franchise fee to multistate businesses.

Currently, he said, to determine what portion of their tax base is in Michigan, the companies use a formula based on property, payroll and sales. He said the proposal in Congress would allow them to leave out the sales factor.

Ike, Doing 'Very Well,' Prepares to Leave Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is expected to be released Wednesday or Thursday from Walter Reed Army Hospital here, the hospital reports.

He has been undergoing a routine checkup for more than a week.

"Examination and studies are now being completed," said a medical bulletin issued late Monday. "He (Eisenhower) is getting along very well. It appears now he'll be ready to leave to return to his Gettysburg (Pa.) home in two or three days.

"He came to Walter Reed for a general checkup of his heart and arthritic conditions and no new diagnoses were found," the bulletin continued. "The examinations were of a routine nature."

Eisenhower, who suffered a major heart attack in 1955 and another last fall, entered the hospital this time July 25.

The five-star general had been hospitalized for three weeks last May for arthritis. Doctors said last Thursday there had been "a very marked improvement" in Eisenhower's arthritic condition.

Opening lead—♣8

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

North had quite a rebidding problem. He could jump to three spades but did not like that bid with only three-card support. Finally he decided that, if his partner could not act over two clubs, there would be no game for his side. When South found a second bid, North jumped right to the spade game.

JACOBY

West came up with the inspired opening lead of the eight of clubs. If South were looking at all the cards, he would have finessed but South felt sure that the eight of clubs was a singleton. He clattered up with dummy's ace. East ruffed, cashed his ace of trumps and led a diamond to dummy's singleton ace.

South had lost two tricks and was faced with a sure club loser and was looking at two potential diamond losers. Theoretically he could ruff them out but in practice it would not work. He would run out of trumps in the process.

He could ruff one diamond without much trouble and set up a diamond discard on one of dummy's hearts if East held the ace of hearts. South planned to fall back on that play but looked around for an extra chance first.

He decided that East's plays had marked West with the last two trumps. In that case, South could afford to play a club right away. He did so and West was in with the king.

West could not stand prosperity. It never occurred to West that his ace of hearts could never run away from him. Instead, West asked, "Do we have three tricks in?" Then he slapped his ace of hearts on the table.

Vikki Carr Tells of Hazards

'Nightclub Blues' Her Song

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — So the mashed potatoes were cold, the head waiter insulted you behind a pillar and the bill is outrageous. But what about the vexations of the nightclub performer?

"Every place you work there's something wrong," reports singer Vikki Carr, who has played the top spots from New York to Tokyo. Preparing to open a three-week stand at a posh new Los Angeles hotel, she enumerated some hazards she has encountered.

—Bad acoustics and inadequate sound systems. "If you can't hear yourself, you have a tendency to over-sing."

—Small rooms with customers seating in rising tiers, which 5-foot-2 Vikkie feels put her at a disadvantage. "You sing just to the front row. On a higher level you sing to the entire room."

—Air conditioning right over the performer. "I perspire, and with that cold air coming down I invariably get a sore throat."

RAISED OUTSIDE LA

Miss Carr, born in El Paso, Tex., but reared in suburban Los Angeles along with three brothers and three sisters, is of Mexican-American ancestry. Her real name is Florencia Bisenta de Casillas Martinez Cardena. Lively and lovely, she maintains an imposing schedule of television guest appearances and recording dates but calls her Viet Nam trip last April her most rewarding experience.

That, too, had its hazards—like moving inadvertently in front of a while floodlight that turned her into a silhouette in a chiffon dress while entertaining on the aircraft carrier Hancock. The sailors didn't complain, but on the advice of tour boss Danny Kaye she switched thereafter to slacks.

2-DAY REHEARSAL

"It provides not one but two days' rehearsals. After the first show the producer, choreographer and sound and lighting experts meet to discuss needed improvements.

Also, the club provided for Vikkie a three-bedroom house with fireplace, on the lake, and a 1966 limousine.

Bud Powell's Style Admired, Imitated

NEW YORK (AP) — Pianist Bud Powell, who, with Charlie Parker and Dizzy Gillespie, brought jazz out of the swing era and into bebop, died Monday night at 41.

Death came at Kings County Hospital, a municipal institution in Brooklyn. Powell had suffered several years from a combination of malnutrition, alcoholism and tuberculosis.

Powell's fluid style, in which notes cascaded from his keyboard as if blown through a horn, influenced a generation of jazzmen.

His life was a story of mental breakdowns compounded by physical illness that diminished his talents, leaving at his death only a laboring, unsure echo of his former brilliance.

NAMED EARL

Powell, whose first name was Earl, was born in New York in 1924 to a musical family. He played as a young musician with several jazz groups, eventually graduating to sessions at Minton's Playhouse in Harlem, where he met saxophonist Parker and trumpeter Gillespie.

From 1949 his life was a series of breakdowns, accompanied by deepening mental depression. He went to Paris where he played at the Bluenote Club and seemed better, only to fall seriously ill again.

Returning to the United States, he began an engagement at Birdland in New York, but disappeared twice. One time he was found exhausted and bedraggled in a Greenwich Village doorway.

After another stay in France, he came back to New York and seemed to stumble further into a fog.

Fiedler's Kin Joins Orchestra

BRUNSWICK, Maine (AP) — When Boston pops conductor Arthur Fiedler appears here next Sunday, his 20-year-old daughter, Johanna, will be in his orchestra for the first time.

State Milk Prices Jump

By United Press International

Shoppers throughout Michigan found higher prices stamped on their cartons and bottles of milk today.

The cost of a half gallon jumped from three to six cents in some areas as higher wholesale prices became effective.

In Detroit, the price per half-gallon went from 50 to 54 cents at one dairy and from 52 to 58 at another.

Wholesale prices were increased slightly in last March and the retail price jumped by one cent.

ATTENTION MEDICARE PATIENTS!

Social Security Medicare benefits effective July 1, 1966, for those age 65 and over, do not provide drugs unless the beneficiary is confined to a hospital.

The voluntary insurance program, which also goes into effect on July 1, 1966, provides physician and other services, but does not provide drugs. Drugs prescribed under the insurance program, must be paid for by the patient.

A bill has been introduced in the Congress of the United States to correct this shortcoming in Medicare benefits under the insurance program.

H.R. 14597, WILL PROVIDE PRESCRIPTION DRUGS UNDER THE OUT-OF-HOSPITAL VOLUNTARY INSURANCE PHASE OF MEDICARE

Harmony Is Sought in Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — Lt. Col. Yakubu Gowon, a young British-trained army officer, today sought to rally Nigeria behind his new military regime and quell fears of tribal and religious civil war.

Gowon, 31, announced yesterday over the government's Lagos radio that he was assuming leadership of the 55 million persons in the nation . . . Africa's largest . . . following the overthrow of Maj. Gen. Johnson Aguiyi-Ironsi by an army mutiny of northern region Hausa tribesmen.

When Aguiyi-Ironsi came to power in a military coup last Jan. 1, Gowon was named the army's chief of staff.

Gowon, a Hausa, said Aguiyi-Ironsi — popularly known as "Big Johnny Ironsides" — was taken prisoner Friday by dissident troops at Ibadan, in Nigeria's western region.

He said he did not know the fate of Aguiyi-Ironsi, of the eastern region Ibo tribe.

SOLDIERS CLASH

It soon spread to Ibadan, the western region capital, and spilled over into Ikeja, on the outskirts of Lagos.

The Hausas, who are predominantly Moslems, feared that predominantly Christian tribesmen from southern Ibo and Yoruba sought to dominate the Hausas' northern region.

The spectre of religious civil war has hovered over Nigeria since long before it obtained independence from Britain in 1960.

3rd Day of Racial Unrest Erupts in Omaha Streets

By the Associated Press

Nebraska Gov. Frank Morrison returns to Omaha today to discuss what action might be taken to return peace to the city's North Side where racial violence has erupted for three straight days.

Even as the governor planned the return, gasoline bombs hit half a dozen stores early today. No one was injured and no serious damage was done. Some merchants stood guard with shotguns through the night seeking to prevent the looting which occurred Sunday and Monday.

The fires, lootings and vandalism which took place in the predominantly Negro neighborhood early Monday resulted in the arrests of 24 adults and seven juveniles. Mayor A. V. Sorensen, after visiting the area, said city officials would not "tolerate any more of this."

SENT TROOPS

Morrison, who sent the National Guard into Omaha during racial violence last month, was to meet with Sorensen.

In Chicago, larger police patrols prevented another potential racial explosion in a Northwest Side neighborhood after 1,500 residents, mostly Puerto Ricans, poured into the streets.

Isolated disturbances began Monday night after two officers, attempting to quell a domestic quarrel in the area, shot and killed a 37-year-old man.

When residents swarmed into the streets, more than 200 policemen moved in and prevented the crowd from breaking up into smaller groups.

POLICE PELTED

The crowd pelted policemen with rocks, smashed squad car windows and started a fire in one building with homemade bombs. However, most of the residents were off the streets by 11 p.m.

Police in Providence, R.I., were struck by stones and bottles Monday night as they broke up a disturbance involving 100 young Negroes after a civil rights rally.

Two policemen were injured, not seriously. They made several arrests to quell the disturbance. They wore helmets and carried plywood shields to ward off missiles.

The Rev. Virgil Wood of Boston had addressed a crowd of 1,000 Negroes earlier in Providence, urging them to force an end to de facto segregation in public schools. Wood called black power "one of the most beautiful phrases I've heard in a long time."

Another disturbance erupted for the second straight night at Perth Amboy, N.J., in a predominantly Puerto Rican neighborhood. It occurred shortly after city officials and antipoverty workers met with about 500 residents in an attempt to work out problems.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

The father of an 8-year-old boy whose custody suit was denied because of his "Bohemian approach to finances and life in general" has been granted an eight-day visit with his son this month.

The agreement will allow Harold W. Painter of Walnut, Calif., temporary custody of his son, Mark, from Aug. 18 to Aug. 26. The boy then must be returned to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Bannister of Ames, Iowa.

Mark has lived with his grandparents since his mother was killed in an auto accident in 1962.

Bulk of Actor's Estate to Sister, Mother

The bulk of actor Montgomery Clift's $200,000 estate has gone to his sister and mother.

The will of the 45-year-old actor who died in his Manhattan apartment July 24 of a heart attack, was made public in New York yesterday at a probate action filed in Surrogate's Court.

Besides his mother, Ethel Clift of New York, and his sister, Ethel McGinnis of Austin, Tex., the will also names the actor's brother, William B. Clift Jr. of Atlanta, Ga.

Should Have Sung 'Stormy Weather'

The words weren't out of his mouth when a downpour drowned him out last night.

The rain chased the show's opening night crowd of more than 6,000 for shelter at the open-air Starlight Theater where Jones is appearing as Curly in the musical "Oklahoma."

After a seven-minute shower, Jones returned to the stage, the audience to their seats.

Demand Is Low for Medicare

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan Hospital reports demand for outpatient services under the Medicare program is far less than expected.

Richard J. Hinds, assistant hospital administrator, said today the hospital has reduced the 11 per cent of outpatient clinic time it had reserved during July for patients over age 65.

He said specialists in 29 areas of medicine at the hospital reported less demand for services than expected.

The hospital treated 1,945 outpatients under Medicare in July —about 50 persons per working day. Hinds said greatest demand was in the internal medicine department which had 298 visits by Medicare patients. In opthalmology there was 165 and in surgery 88.

Junior Editors Quiz on WOMEN'S CLOTHES

QUESTION: Why don't women today dress as they did in the 1800's?

ANSWER: In our modern age, some of our ideas have changed. One of them is about the kind of activities which are proper for women.

Women were once supposed to be almost helpless. It was the men who handled the business and played the sports.

This change has been reflected in fashions. Most young women of today enjoy such things as are suggested at the bottom of our picture—skiing, dancing, playing actively with the children.

But now look at the three typical fashions of the 1800s, seen on top. Can you imagine a young woman of our time carrying on her busy life with a tent-size hoop skirt dragging around her?

Or a modern college or business girl trying to think and compete with men while laced so tightly that breathing is nearly impossible?

This is the answer to the question. Women still like fashions, but they want them practical and comfortable to go with the busy lives they are leading today.

Has 10 Wins, Nine Saves for Dodgers

Ex-Tiger Regan Finds Life in Bullpen Rewarding

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Phil Regan is having so much fun finishing what other people start, he might get to 30 before Sandy Koufax.

Regan picked up his 10th relief victory to go with the nine saves Monday night in Los Angeles' 5-1 victory over Pittsburgh. That's 19 victories in which Regan has a hand, though he's only pitched 71 innings.

Koufax, allowing just one run and not getting a decision for the second straight time, has 17 victories to show for 209 innings.

Regan, who won only 4 games in five years as a sometimes starter at Detroit, is finding life in the bullpen to be rewarding

"I've been lucky in a way," Regan said after his two innings of work Monday night. "They just seem to start hitting when I get in there. Sandy or someone else holds us in the game for a long time and then I come in and get a win."

FANNED NINE

Last Wednesday, Koufax pitched 11 innings, allowed four hits, struck out 16 and left with the Dodgers and Phillies tied 1-1. Regan won it in the 12th, 2-1.

Monday night, Koufax went seven innings, allowed five hits, struck out nine and was lifted for a pinch hitter as the Dodgers tied the game in the top of the eighth 1-1. In the ninth, two-run homers by John Roseboro and Jim Gilliam made a winner of Regan again.

Koufax, who won only three games in July as his bid for 30 hit the skids, merely shrugs it off.

"As long as we're winning, it doesn't matter who gets credit for it," he says. "Phil's doing a great job."

Regan said that last year he was close to quitting baseball when the Detroit Tigers shipped him to the minors after five seasons.

"I was really disappointed," he said. "I thought seriously of going home. But I remembered I only needed 14 days in the majors to complete five years (making him eligible for the pension plan) so I reported to Syracuse. The Tigers told me I'd be back soon."

Regan, who had pitched only six innings his last six weeks at Detroit, lost his first two starts at Syracuse but soon regained his stuff. Still, it wasn't until September that he was recalled.

NEW INTEREST

By then, he said he knew the Dodgers were interested in him.

"I heard it from a scout at Syracuse that the Dodgers would take me right then" Regan said. "I called Jim Campbell (Detroit's general manager) and asked to be traded. He said he would see what he could do."

Regan says this season is the first time he has relieved extensively, but it hasn't put a strain on his arm.

NFL Falcons No Patsies for Eagles

AERIAL GRID CIRCUS — Ron Smith (40) defensive back of the Atlanta Falcons finds an elusive football bouncing around him in breaking up a pass by Norm Snead of the Philadelphia Eagles in the opening NFL exhibition game last night in Atlanta. Smith nearly intercepts, drops the ball, bounces on it and is nearly trampled by teammate Bob Sherman (49). The Eagles won the game 9-7 on three field goals.

3 Field Goals Send Atlanta to 9-7 Defeat

Newest Pro Franchise Shows Tough Defense in Initial Game

"We'll whip somebody, you can count on that," Coach Norb Hecker promised Monday night after the Falcons turned back every touchdown threat but were beaten 9-7 by the Philadelphia Eagles on three field goals in the opening exhibition game of the season.

"Our defense played a helluva game," Hecker said. "It's a shame to hold a team without a touchdown and still lose."

LIMITED ACTION

The two standouts for the Falcons, however, had seen only limited pro action before being acquired by Atlanta when it started to build its team last winter.

Ron Smith, defensive halfback for the Falcons, was with the Bears last fall but was used only as a spot player. Dennis Claridge, Atlanta quarterback, had been used on only three plays in two seasons with Green Bay.

Claridge completed 10 of 16 passes, including a one-yard touchdown toss just before the half to Tom Wilson, which gave the Falcons a 7-6 lead.

The touchdown was set up by a pass interception by Smith, who earlier snuffed a Philadelphia threat with another interception. Smith also gave the Falcons a final chance at victory when he returned a punt 42 yards with a minute left.

Grid, Baseball Holdouts Differ

By the Associated Press

Pro football holdouts such as Clem Daniels and Art Powell of the Oakland Raiders do not have as strong a bargaining position as baseball holdouts such as Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The difference in bargaining power lies in the player contract, with baseball using the much criticized reserve clause and pro football using the much applauded option clause.

Under the reserve clause, a baseball player is the property of his club until it either trades or releases him. The only way a baseball player can break the bond that binds him to the club he originally signed with, is to quit.

ONE YEAR

Under the option clause, a pro football player signs for one year with the club getting an additional year's option on his services. The pro football player, however, can break the bond with the club by "playing out his option" with or without the team's permission.

When he does that he plays his second year — the option year — at a 10 per cent reduction in his previous year's salary. But he then becomes a free agent and can sign with any club in any league.

There were two cases of that recently. Kicker Pete Gogolak played out his option with Buffalo of the American Football League and signed with New York of the National, and defensive tackle Ernie Ladd played out his option with San Diego and joined the AFL's Houston Oilers.

So, under the football contract, a player working on the option year of his contract can use that as a salary wedge, threatening to take his services elsewhere if his demands are not met.

Such was the case with San Diego defensive end Earl Faison who played out his option with the Chargers but ultimately signed with the same club when they presumably agreed to his terms.

Baseball players, such as Koufax and Drysdale, cannot exercise a similar option. If they don't sign they cannot play with anyone.

LEGAL EDGE

But — when it comes to holding out a Koufax or Drysdale has the legal edge. Having signed for only one year he is free to negotiate each year without penalty of fines.

With a football player, unless he is on the option year of his contract, he is legally bound to the club for one more year. So,

Win Opening Softball Series Tilts

Town & Country and Ron's Roost posted opening game victories last night at Beaudette in best-of-three series to determine Pontiac's representatives in the Michigan Softball Association Class B and C tournament.

In a National League contest at Northside, Motorcar Transport kept its title hopes alive by edging J. A. Fredman, 3-2.

Walt Allison's double and two sacrifice flies gave Town & Country its first run in the fourth. The winners picked up three more in the sixth on Bob Overcashier's triple with the bases loaded.

The two teams meet again tonight at Beaudette at 8:30 and if a third game is needed it will be played Thursday.

Bill and Al Hayward each collected a home run and triple to pace Ron's Roost. Fred Miller, who took over the pitching in the first inning, allowed only a two-out single in the seventh inning. It was B & L's only hit.

The second game in the series will be Wednesday at 7 p.m. at Beaudette. The Class D best-of-three series starts tonight at Beaudette with Francis Fuel playing Bob & Ken's at 7. The second game will be Wednesday at 8:30.

Tonight's National League games at Northside will have Ray White's Boys meeting Bud & Lou's at 7 and Idletime Bar going against L & S Standard at 8:30.

3 Draft Selections Lost by Pistons

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons reported Monday the loss of three draft choices including University of Michigan star Oliver Darden, their No. 3 pick.

A Pistons spokesman said Darden told them he planned to stay in college and enter the U-M Law School.

Fourth choice Jeff Congdon, a 6-foot-1 guard from Brigham Young University, has signed with a minor league basketball team, Oklahoma's Phillips 66 Oilers, and Ted Manning, drafted seventh, also has been drafted by the Army, the Pistons said.

Tigers May Need August Inspiration

DETROIT (UPI) — Maybe it will take a little hoopla to get Detroit's baseball Tigers moving again in the month of August.

The Tigers, suffering the pangs of their most unsuccessful road trip of the season, will kick off a three-game home series tonight against Chicago with an hour-long Shrine Night pageant.

If anything, the attraction should help inspire the Tigers who are lingering in second place, 13 games behind the Baltimore Orioles.

Pitcher Denny McLain will be called on to pot the brakes on Detroit's latest skid.

LOOKING FOR GAP

But whatever the standings, Detroit still will be going through the motions, hoping for a gap to shoot through in the pennant race.

If Detroit wins all the rest of its games with the Orioles they would pick up five games in the standings but would remain eight off the pace.

If Baltimore plays at a 31-27 pace the rest of the year they will win 100 games and the Tigers would have to be 45-15 to match them.

The Tigers know any weak performance now will mean loss of second place with Cleveland and California tied for third, one game behind.

3-Day Career in Majors Big for Johnstone

By The Associated Press

Jay Johnstone has played only three major league games, but already he's displayed two things he learned in the minors —how to hit and how not to be helpful.

Johnstone, called up by California last Friday night to fill in for Rick Reichardt, stroked three hits and drove in the winning run Monday night as the Angels edged the New York Yankees 4-3.

The 20-year-old Johnstone joined the Angels Saturday after hitting .338 for Seattle of the Pacific Coast League. He was promoted after the Angels learned that Reichardt, their leading slugger, had kidney trouble and might be lost for the rest of the season.

In three games, the left-handed hitter has collected six hits in 12 at-bats, including five hits in his last six trips to the plate.

But shortly before coming to the Angels, the center fielder learned why he shouldn't be helpful.

He was batting in a game against Portland July 4 when he hit a foul which bounced up beside him. Trying to be helpful, he caught the ball and held it out for the umpire to take.

INTERFERENCE

So the Yankees couldn't have expected the rookie to do anything that would help them when he came to bat in the seventh inning with the bases loaded and the game tied 3-3.

He already had beaten out two infield hits, and this time he drilled a single to center, driving in his first major league run and helping the Yankees to their fourth straight defeat.

"I like everything I've seen of him," California Manager Bill Rigney said.

We don't like anything about him, the Yankees said.

In the only other American League games, Minnesota defeated Boston 6-2 and Washington trimmed Kansas City 6-4.

In the National League, Los Angeles downed Pittsburgh 5-1, San Francisco defeated New York 4-2, Philadelphia edged Houston 6-5 in 10 innings and Cincinnati nipped St. Louis 3-2.

RALLY STOPPED

Packers Favored Friday

All-Star Coach Likes Chances

CHICAGO (AP) — Coach John Sauer, claiming it takes one or two standout performances to beat the pros, likes his College All-Star's chances against the Green Bay Packers Friday night.

"I think our chances are as great as they have been in other years when we have won," said Sauer. "But it does take a standout performance to do the job.

"We have a great squad which has worked hard but I think our greatest strength this year is in our backfield."

Sauer, who was a member of Coach Otto Graham's staff the last seven years and is getting his first shot as head coach, said his backfield strength is collective.

"I don't mean to say the backs are individually great," said Sauer. "I mean they are the best we've had as a group. They can all run, block and catch passes.

FRESH BACKS

"One thing we plan to do against the Packers is have fresh back in there all the time. We have no injuries and everyone is eager to go."

Among the backfield corps are Donny Anderson of Texas Tech and Jim Grabowski of Illinois — both high priced rookies who will join the Packers following the game.

Then there are Mike Garrett of Southern California, the Heisman Trophy winner, Walt Garrison of Oklahoma State and Roy Shivers of Utah State, who made a fine showing in last week's scrimmage against the Chicago Bears.

Linebackers Tommy Nobis of Texas and quarterback Steve Sloan of Alabama were named co-captains by their teammates Monday.

"Both are fine selections," said Sauer "but I can't name any starting line-ups. So far there has been little to choose from among the quarterbacks.

In addition to Sloan, Sauer can call upon Bill Anderson of Tulsa and Gary Lane of Missouri.

"I'm sure we can have a fine passing game no matter who we select to start."

The only possible position in which the stars are hurting is at linebacker since Carl McAdams of Oklahoma will not play. McAdams suffered a fractured ankle stepping off a curb Saturday night.

"That's the one spot we can't count on being three deep," said Sauer "but I think the boys we have can do the job. I hated losing Carl because he was really coming along.

"Now, the only thing you can do is hope that someone comes up with the hot hand. If so, we can win a football game.

SPARKS ON SWIMMING

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourteenth in a series of 20 articles in which author and swimming coach Christian B. Sparks offers tips on swimming for beginners and experts.)

By CHRISTIAN B. SPARKS

Warm up with a six-width medley, two widths each, front crawl, side stroke, back stroke. Concentrate on gliding and resting on that side stroke. Little fellows should do one width each.

If "medley" is a new word for you, you will be hearing a lot about it as your swimming progresses. It means to swim a distance with a mixture or two or more strokes.

Now get your kickboard and kick a few widths. Try to make it about half as many as you could kick without stopping. Remember to kick from the hips and not just by bending the knees. If you have trouble going, think about trying to kick the water out in back of you.

While you rest, work on the elementary backstroke. It is probably the most restful stroke of all, a great stroke for a tired swimmer.

From the back-glide position, start by pulling the hands right up beside the body all the way to the armpits while at the same time bending the knees and bringing the feet down beneath you.

REDUCE RESISTANCE

Both of these movements are made close to the normal body position to cut down on resistance, so bring the arms up with the hands close to the body rather than spreading them from the beginning. Also drop the lower legs into position before spreading them.

Then spread both the legs and the arms at the same time as in figure (2) and, without hesitation, whip the arms and legs, pulling and kicking the water for propulsion. You are then in gliding position and you should glide as far as possible as you rest.

Just before the motion stops and before the body starts to sink, you should recover the arms and legs slowly in preparation for the next thrust. Work at this for about ten minutes.

Now start your front and back crawl sprints alternating the sidestroke and elementary back stroke about every third sprint. Do this for ten minutes, then work on your front dive a few times.

For the next lesson try to have a stop watch on hand.

STYMIED — Fullback Junior Coffey of the Atlanta Falcons is hit by a pair of Philadelphia Eagles in the opening NFL exhibition game last night. It was the first game for the Atlanta franchise in the NFL and the Falcons led 7-6 at halftime before losing 9-7 to the Eagles in Atlanta Stadium.

Davis Cup Captain Is Hopeful

Admittedly an eternal optimist, MacCall also is the U. S. Davis Cup captain.

"We have the horses to do it," he said Monday after a stopover to meet Chuck McKinley, America's fourth ranking player and a former Davis Cupper.

The meeting wasn't to talk McKinley into a Davis Cup comeback. It was a second round meeting in the annual Nassau Bowl Grass Court Tournament and McKinley won it easily, 6-2, 6-2.

"I'd like to see Chuck take three months off from his stock business and join us," MacCall grinned. "I even hope that."

MacCall said he'll begin the training program with five of the six members of the team — Dennis Ralston, Clark Graebner, Marty Riessen, Cliff Richey and Arthur Ashe. They'll meet Mexico in the American Zone finals at Cleveland Aug. 13, 14 and 15.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Wimbledon champion Billie Jean Moffitt King plays her first match today in the 44th Middle Atlantic Grass Courts Tennis Championships.

Mrs. King, the No. 1 seed from Long Beach, Calif., will oppose Emilie Burrer of San Antonio, Tex. Miss Burrer defeated Connie Jasters of Los Angeles 6-1, 8-6 in a first-round match Monday.

IN ACTION

Winnie Shaw of Scotland and Elena Subirats, the Mexican champion, were the only seeded women's players to see action Monday.

Miss Shaw, the No. 2 seed, ousted Mimi Henreid of Los Angeles, the former U.S. intercollegiate champion, 6-0, 7-1. Miss Subirats, ranked No. 8, eliminated Marylyn Montgomery of San Antonio, 6-0, 4-6, 6-1.

Hank Gowdy Succumbs

Ex-Brave Catcher Dead at 76

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hank Gowdy, old-time National League catcher celebrated for his batting feats in baseball's 1914 World Series, an untimely tumble in the 1924 Series, and as the first major leaguer to volunteer for World War I service, is dead at age 76.

The gangling fellow who hit .545 for the Miracle Boston Braves in the 1914 classic succumbed to a long illness after two weeks' hospitalization here in his home city.

Gowdy, who limited his expletives to Gee Whiz and Golly in the days of rough-and-tough ballplayers, banged a home run —the only one of the Series—a triple, three doubles and a single in 11 times at bat in the '14 Series.

He went into the set with Connie Mack's heavily favored Philadelphia Athletics after, in his first season as a regular, helping Manager George Stallings' Braves come from eighth place July 4 to win the National League pennant.

Boston swept the A's in four games.

He was born Harry Gowdy and his dad, Horace (Pop) Gowdy, wanted him to get into something with a future.

BOUNCED OUT

As it developed, Gowdy lasted 10 seasons with the Braves and didn't wind up his major league playing days until 1930 when again with the Braves he bowed out with a 4-for-5 day against Cincinnati.

In that memorable 1914 season, Gowdy caught 128 games and hit .243 in the regular season before breaking out in the World Series.

But Hank's foot became entangled with his discarded mask as he went after the ball, and he couldn't hold it.

Ruel then doubled and came home with the Series-deciding run as an infield roller took an unexpected jump over third baseman Freddie Lindstrom's head.

Gowdy volunteered for the Army on May 2, 1917, shortly after America entered World War I. He served with the Rainbow Division's 166th Infantry in France.

He came up to the majors from the Texas League late in 1910 season with the New York Giants, whose Manager John McGraw polished the catching talents of the former first baseman-outfielder.

He was traded to Boston in 1911 and farmed to the minors until late in the 1913 campaign.

Gowdy returned to his native Columbus to manage the city's American Association club in 1926. He spent 1928 with Minneapolis and 1929 with Rochester before going back up to Boston as relief catcher.

Majors Hold College-Pro Discussions

NEW YORK (UPI) — Member of the NCAA-Professional Relations Committee and the Major League College Committee met in baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert's office Monday to discuss methods of improving the relationship between college baseball and the majors.

No specific proposals were put forth by the two groups but certain points such as a better summer college baseball program and possible changing of the college player ruling were discussed.

Plans also were discussed for raising the annual $75,000 fee given by the major leagues to sponsor two summer leagues for collegiate ball players and the establishment of even more leagues.

Another meeting was scheduled for October at which time the committees will make specific proposals.

Legion Stars Play at Tiger Stadium

District 18 League managers in the American Legion Baseball program have named a 26-player squad to oppose District 2's All Stars Monday afternoon at Tiger Stadium.

Farmington's Wally Christensen will coach the District 18 All Stars assisted by Waterford's S. C. Burns. District 18 has never lost in the annual exhibition game.

Pitchers for the county league squad will be Rick Krumm, Farmington; Jack McCloud, Waterford; Mike Kuhna, Southfield; Don Freeman, Walled Lake; and Jerry Turner, Farmington.

The catchers will be Fred Ferguson, Walled Lake; Joe Darso, Waterford; and Tom Webster, Farmington. Tim Tyler of Berkley and Jim Kasper, Milford, will play first base.

Other infielders will be second basemen Dan Giroux, Waterford; Rick Perry, Farmington; and Bob Cox, Berkley; shortstops Andy Miceli, Waterford; and Miles Kearney, Farmington; and third baseman Carl Misch, Farmington; and Steve Fogle, Walled Lake.

Lion Holdout Working Out

Karras, who said he was contemplating retirement during his two-week absence, met with Russ Thomas, Lions personnel director, but the two failed to reach a contract settlement.

Karras is a nine-year veteran in the National Football League and was acquired last season from the Washington Redskins.

Playoffs Next in Church Loop

Playoffs will begin in the Waterford Church Softball League with Crescent Lake RLDS claiming the season championship in the A division and Stringham United Missionary in the B division.

Crescent Lake broke the division tie yesterday by defeating Christ Lutheran, 9-4 as Fred Brown collected three hits, scored three and had 3 rbi's. Jerry Ott also had triple and homer for 3 rbi's.

Stringham won 7-6 over St. Paul as Stan Jaworski Jr., out with a broken leg all season got a hit down the left field line for 3 rbi's, hobbling to first for a single.

Other games showed St. Paul 13, St. Stephens' Lutheran 12, and Stringham 6, Donelson Baptist 5 on Friday, and St. Stephen's 8, First Church of God 1, yesterday.

Airlines Are Strong

Rally Ends Market Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was higher early this afternoon even through profits were taken on a brisk technical rally.

Gains of fractions to a point or so were shown by key stocks throughout the list.

Airlines and aerospace issues were especially strong as the market staged its comeback late in the morning. Gains spread to motors, steels, chemicals and rails.

Later there was some sharp selling among some gainers. Anaconda dropped more than 2 points. But the general level remained higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .9 at 302.9 with industrials up 1.8, rails up .6 and utilities off .4.

From a fundamental basis — the ratio of their price to estimated 1966 earnings — many of the market wheelhorses were down as low as they were at the bottom of the 1962 plunge, some analysts noted.

Prices rose in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Syntex and Solitron Devices rose more than 3 each, New York & Honduras Rosario Mining dropped 3. Simmonds Precision, Conductron and Xtra Inc. gained about 2 each. Gains of a point or so were made by Valley Metallurgical, Zapata Off-Shore, Alloys Unlimited, Baifield Industries, Campbell Machine, Computer Sciences, Flying Tiger and TWA warrants.

Religious Mail Ban Is Blasted

Congressman William S. Broomfield of Royal Oak complained yesterday that the Defense Department has ordered Army mail service curtailed for religious organizations operating in South Viet Nam but continues to handle tons of liquor.

The 18th District representative told the House in Washington that a former constituent, Maurice C. Hall, a missionary for the Church of Christ, had sent him photographs showing "beer and wine, stacked like cordwood, case by case" being handled by the Army post office.

He said the department based its action on a desire not to "deprive host governments of postal revenue" and to reduce postal transportation and manpower costs.

Nurse Deaths Said Linked to Texas Killings

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (UPI) — The massacre on the University of Texas campus was "definitely connected" with the mass murders of eight student nurses in Chicago last month, a noted psychiatrist contended today.

And, through some strange quirk in the workings of the criminally insane mind, more mass killings can be expected, according to Dr. Frederick Wertham, one of the world's foremost authorities on criminal violence.

A second expert, however, maintained it is "conceivable but very, very unlikely" that the Chicago murders triggered the violence in Texas.

DOESN'T TAKE MUCH

Yet, he added, "someone on the very edge could be tipped by almost anything that might happen and somehow stir his psychological impulses."

Saying he was convinced the slayings in Austin were "definitely connected with the nurses only 17 days before, Wertham maintained: "When such murders occur, it very often has an influence on other susceptible people to do the same thing."

Using the same reasoning, he continued, it is possible that if the Chicago multiple slayings had not occurred, yesterday would have been just another lazy summer's day on the University of Texas campus.

Dr. Wertham left no doubt he feels more mass slayings will occur as a result of the Whitman killings.

"When mass murder occurs under any circumstances," he said, "it has to some extent a suggestive effect on other people. There'll be some more like this."

New Trial Is Asked in Steren Case

A new trial is being sought for the 20 men convicted a year ago of gambling in the Madison Heights Steren Assembly Club.

Defense Attorney Carlton Roeser of Pontiac filed the motion for the new trial yesterday with Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem, who presided over the first trial.

A hearing on the motion is scheduled for Monday, but probably will be delayed for at least 30 days to allow the prosecutor's office to answer to the 80 reasons Roeser has cited for a new trial.

Roeser's motion attacks the original search warrant, the initial arrest, 28 rulings made during the course of the trial, and newspaper publicity before and during the trial.

Prison terms were ordered for 16 of the 20 men convicted. The trial was held in Manistee last summer after Roeser requested a change of venue on the grounds that his clients could not be impartially tried in Oakland County.

WERE RELEASED

Johnson Is 'Shot Down' by Air Strike Intervention

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's venture into the role of copilot for an airlines strike settlement that never got off the runway is being chalked up as a political miss.

The contrast between Johnson's current refusal to give Congress any advice on a legislative solution and his exuberant televised announcement of the proposed settlement Friday night has become a hot topic for cloakroom discussion among members of both parties.

The consensus seems to be that the President, who had remained at arm's length while the negotiations were going, decided only after he had been advised an agreement was possible that it was time to step in personally.

RECORD TARNISHED

But the machinist union members' rejection of the settlement terms tarnished Johnson's record of being able to knock union and industry heads together and come up with an agreement the public accepted as in its interest.

It seemed that even a can-do President couldn't always prevail, even when the public was being inconvenienced to a point where some members of Congress wanted a national emergency declared.

The airlines strike has been a touchy political affair in which neither the President nor Congress wanted to become involved in an election year.

There is the definite feeling in Congress—and obviously at the White House too—that other big unions are watching the outcome of this dispute to gauge demands for increases in an economy where the cost of living has risen sharply in the last six months.

The administration's anti inflation guidelines for wage and benefit increases were all but abandoned in the rejected settlement, although the President pointed to increased productivity in the airline industry. If the union now gets an even greater increase, the ceiling for other unions' demands are expected to move up.

This could put every politician on the spot, from the President on down. They would be caught between the organized political might of the unions and an unorganized protest by householders against soaring costs of things they buy.

In this situation, Congress members who lean heavily on union support for reelection wish they didn't have to pass any strike-ending legislation. But if they do, they want the President to put it into effect and thus share with them the political onus that labor will attach to the action.

OTHER IDEAS

Johnson evidently has other ideas. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, obviously acting under White House instructions, told the Senate Labor Committee Monday the administration was neither advocating nor opposing legislation to end the strike.

There wasn't any immediate Democratic dissent when Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., seeking election in an area where the unions have strong political power, summed it up with the observation: "We're involved here in a very politically sensitive area. It's obvious that Congress, without any guidance or recommendations from the administration, is just going to have to plow ahead."

But it hasn't been fun for thousands of other nonstriking employes of five airlines grounded by the 28-day strike of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists.

An Associated Press survey of airlines personnel across the country show that many are plagued by the agony of not knowing when they will go back to work, growing financial problems, disgust and boredom.

WORK AS NURSES

Some are working as nurses and as-day laborers. Others are going to the beach and are talking about the strike — but mostly they wait for news of a break in the strike.

Reaction from other airline employes is mixed toward the striking machinists, who rejected a White House-engineered settlement Sunday. The machinists voted almost 3-1 against the agreement reached Friday night.

Some deep resentment was found against the union. "I'm angry about the whole thing," said Sandy Stewart, a United Air Lines reservations agent in Philadelphia. "I'm antiunion now. The strike is beginning to affect my pay."

News Analysis

Stewardess Is Forced to Go Go-Go

NEW YORK (AP) — An Eastern Airlines stewardess is working as a go-go dancer two nights a week in Boston to pay the rent during the airlines strike.

"I had no choice," said Julie Markakis of Lynn, Mass., a stewardess on the New York-Boston shuttle run. "My roommates in New York are also stewardesses so somebody had to come up with the rent. Besides, it's been fun."

Boat Citations Take a Plunge to Lower Level

Water patrol deputies for the Oakland County Sheriff's Department issued 17 violation tickets last weekend, one of the lowest totals of the summer.

Among offenses cited were failure to have an observer in the boat while water skiing and failure to have a fire extinguisher on board a motorboat.

Deputies also gave 109 warnings for lesser offenses, as well as rendering assistance to 18 boaters who had run out of gas or otherwise needed help.

One boating accident was listed, with no persons reported injured.

Near Accord in Grand Rapids Rift

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—The City Commission said yesterday "concessions" it had made has led to "substantial agreement" on various contract provisions in its negotiations with militant city employes.

The employes, members of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, had threatened to strike last week if contract provisions were not met by the city.

A "cooling off period" was accepted by the union last Friday while negotiations continued.

"Substantial agreement has been made in a number of areas, due in part because of concessions made by the city," the commissioners said.

"Not one of the union's original 26 demands has been withdrawn nor has it made any concessions in order to facilitate reaching a complete agreement at an early date," the commission statement said.

FILE CHARGES

The union has filed unfair labor practices charges claiming the city was not bargaining in good faith.

The major issue in the dispute is the final step arbitration procedure.

The city claimed the Civil Service Board should make all final decisions in negotiations while the union was asking for compulsory arbitration of disputes.

State Labor Mediator Robert Mason was assisting in the negotiations which were resumed yesterday after a postponement last week.

Area Attorney at Convention

A Waterford Township Attorney, Paul M. Mandel, was among the 10,000 lawyers who attended the 28th annual convention of the American Trial Lawyers Association in Los Angeles last week.

Mandel of 2611 Colrain took an active part in discussions and trial demonstrations designed to update trial attorneys on the latest legal, scientific and medical developments in the criminal, accident, industrial, consumer and aviation fields to meet changing needs of clients.

* * *

Unit Approves Lakeshore Bill

The committee passed over for the time being a Senate-passed bill to establish the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore in Western Michigan.

Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., chairman of the committee, said he expected the committee to take up the Sleeping Bear Dunes bill later this week.

Aspinall said other bills on the committee's agenda were not controversial and indicated he wanted progress on these. The Sleeping Bear Dunes bill, Aspinall said, is "somewhat controversial."

AMENDMENT

The committee agreed to an amendment by Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., to the Pictured Rocks bill, sponsored by Rep. Raymond F. Clevenger, D-Mich., which would provide that the state donate the approximately 5,000 acres of state-owned land within the proposed 67,000-acre lakeshore area.

To Stop Crime by Pulling Teeth

CHESTERFIELD, England (UPI) — A magistrate recommended yesterday that a 17-year-old boy, charged with stealing money from a coin-operated gas meter at his house, should have his teeth extracted.

Police told the court that the youth was "very intelligent" but turned to crime when the severe and constant pain of toothaches prevented him from keeping a job.

Wilson Can't Figure Out Jayne's Domestic Affairs

By EARL WILSON

WILSON

While Mickey was out, Jayne's husband, Matt Climber, whom she's suing for divorce, went to the hotel and took their son Tony, 9 months old, away with him.

"He probably took the baby son to his mother's house," I said to a party who knows all about it.

Katherine Cornell's ill at Martha's Vineyard and being treated by a famous doctor . . . The Pompeii restaurant on Park Av. is to be taken over by a representative of Gen. Franco, we hear, and operated like the late World's Fair Spanish Pavilion . . . Frank Sinatra's mother had a wedding cake for Frank and Mia at a New Jersey home-coming feast. Joe E. Lewis, the Jilly Rizzos and the Henri Ginets partook.

Busty Lanie Kazan had an opening at the Plaza Persian Room as crowded as Dinah Shore's and Polly Bergen's. She introduced her mother, Mrs. Carole Levine saying "She sold her parking lot today." Her mother did, too. Lanie at times has parked cars at the Schemerhorn St. lot. Why she wanted to give up an easy job like running a parking lot for singing, I don't know.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL ' . . .

Jackie Kennedy, looking radiant, danced one of the slow tunes with Mike Nichols at Arthur—then gave way as Nichols frugged with the lovely blonde at the next table, who happened to be Joan Van Ark, the new star of his "Barefoot in the Park" . . . Dina Merrill and Cliff Robertson took in "The Fantasticks" off-B'way.

Ronnie Martin, a hit at the Royal Box, is a newlywed. His wife Fran, upon walking into the Americana, murmured, "Don't let anyone know we've just been married." Said Ronnie: "Okay, you carry the bags" . . . That's earl, brother.

Bob Dylan Is Injured in Accident

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Dylan, 25, singer and songwriter, is under a doctor's care for injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident last Friday, a spokesman said Monday.

Jim Mosby, an assistant to Dylan's manager, Albert Grossman, said the injuries have forced cancellation of a concert scheduled for night at the Yale Bowl in New Haven, Conn.

He said Dylan may be under a doctor's care for "a couple of months," and rearrangement of his fall concert schedule might be necessary.

Mosby said he had no details on the accident or the injury, or Dylan's present whereabouts.

New Employe Carries Weight

BOURNEMOUTH, England (UPI) — Margaret Haddow, 21, and 224 pounds, got the job when she answered an advertisement for a "strong, fat woman or girl who wishes to slim offered tough but well-paid job, White Heather Laundry.

Laundry owner Charles Williams explained, "I especially wanted a fat girl because she will have the incentive to work, knowing she will get thin."

Smokers Breathe Easier Now

The city council last night turned down a proposed ordinance which would force smokers to hold their breaths.

The council also asked for the resignation of the city attorney who drafted the proposal.

City attorney Mervin Holt, acting as a private citizen on behalf of an anonymous group, drew up the proposed ordinance.

The proposal would have made it illegal for any tobacco user to exhale in the presence of a non-smoker.

Violators would have been guilty of a misdemeanor, which carries fines of up to $299 or three months imprisonment.

In Britain by Strike

12,000 Are Stranded

LONDON (AP) — The airline mechanics' strike in the United States has stranded about 12,000 passengers in Britain and Europe with signs the figure may go up to 16,000 or more by the end of the week.

The estimate was made today by Trans World Airlines officials trying to cope with a snowball problem compelling the airline to exert a maximum of effort, skill and diplomacy in the traveler's world of mounting tempers.

TWA is the only American airline flying abroad to be affected, because of its tie-in with four domestic lines which hire the 35,000 strikers.

Pan American World Airways and foreign-operated lines are straining to accommodate as many TWA passengers as possible but their spokesmen all pointed out this is their own peak season and vacant seats are at a premium.

The same squeeze is on at this time of year for hotel accommodations. Airports affected by the pileup started to resemble Gypsy camps as people of all ages and descriptions stand by helplessly, hoping to pick up a last-minute booking.

TWA gave these figures of stranded as of Tuesday: London, 2,700; Paris, 2,100; Frankfurt 1,900; Rome, 1,500; Madrid, 1,000 plus.

In Madrid, American officials estimated the 1,000 figure would go up to 1,600 by the weekend and that rate of increase probably applies to the other strategic areas involved. TWA handles 10,000 passengers a month through Madrid, many of them on 21-day excursion rates. The airline said the deadline is being lifted to accommodate the excursionists because of events beyond their control.

The Madrid scene was more provoking than most, though London and Lisbon were jammed. Paris appeared the best gateway. The U.S. Embassy in Madrid was besieged by travelers asking for help though officials said there were few cases of actual hardship as yet.

The stranded in London found their biggest problem was a place to sleep. Many had to go out into the countryside for lodgings. The embassy said "a lot of people have financial reserves" and there were relatively few requests for help.

In London and Paris, passengers besieged the airline offices after announcement that an agreement had been reached.

In Rome, the airlines and the U.S. Embassy reported only about 40 requests for aid and only "a few" of those were for funds. Some irate travelers refused to shift to non-American airline alternatives, though the less choosy ones grabbed what they could get.

Speck Back in Jail After Innocent Plea

The young drifter kept his head down and his eyes on the floor as he appeared Monday in two courts. His voice was barely audible.

It was the first time newsmen and the public were allowed to view Speck since his arrest two weeks ago. He was identified as the man wanted in the mass murder after a suicide attempt brought him to Cook County Hospital.

Judge Herbert A. Paschen of Circuit Court set Aug. 18 for a hearing at which a trial date will be announced.

Chief Circuit Court Judge Alexander J. Napoli presided over Speck's first courtroom appearance and accepted a plea of innocent. Judge Napoli turned the case over to Judge Paschen for trial.

Speck had to be told to speak louder when he was questioned about his financial status. After ruling Speck indigent, Judge Napoli appointed Gerald Getty, Public Defender of Cook County (Chicago) to represent Speck in all eight indictments.

Getty entered pleas of innocent to the eight indictments.

Security measures for Speck's two court appearances were elaborate. About 65 sheriff's police guarded Judge Napoli's fourth-floor courtroom and adjoining corridors. Speck was brought to the courtroom from the nearby Cook County Jail via an underground tunnel and private elevator.

Jose Naldo, an attache of the Philippine Embassy in Washington who was present, said he would seek compensation for the familes of two Philippine girls slain in the massacre.

Three Persons Shot on Detroit Street

DETROIT (AP) — Police charged Johnnie Carter, 33, of Detroit, with assault to commit murder Monday night after two adults and a boy were shot while strolling along a street.

The victims, none of whom was in critical condition, were Mary Spears, 20, shot in the right ankle; Charles Hubert, 28, shot in the groin, and Billy Jameson, 9, shot in the right leg.

Brazil Regime Cracks Down on Foes

By LANCE BELVILLE

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — Brazil's military government is reacting sharply to the strongest political opposition it has faced since taking power 27 months ago.

The growing opposition to the government, which has ruled by decree since ousting leftist President Joao Goulart in April 1964, is coming primarily from Brazil's student population, leaders of the Roman Catholic Church, and the press.

All three sectors object to the regime's increasingly restrictive rule and its failure to steady Brazil's inflation-beset economy.

The opposition has prompted the government to an even tougher stance.

In two separate decrees by President Humberto Castello Branco this month, 75 Brazilians were deprived of their political rights for 10 years.

ANOTHER DECREE

On the heels of his speech, Castello Branco issued another decree suspending for six months the powerful student's union in the important interior state of Minas Gerais.

At the same time, members of the Brazilian navy's secret service raided the offices of the weekly newspaper Folha da Semana, the government's principal critic in Rio.

In Recife, the major city in the nation's economically troubled northeast, Catholic bishops were ordered to publicly prove they were not subversives after a declaration in which the clergyman alleged conditions in the area "annihilate the man and the community."

As the unrest mounted, the government moved to assure its victory in indirect gubernatorial elections next December in 11 states by decreeing it would be illegal for the member of one political party to vote for a candidate of another.

RED INVOLVEMENT

Evidence points to Communist involvement in terrorist activities. But the dissatisfaction of the students, the clergy and opposition politicians seems to have grown apace with the more restrictive policy of the government.

If the trend continues, many observers fear Brazil may become dangerously enmeshed in a vicious circle in which strong government measures give rise to more desperate moves by the opposition which in turn prompt even tougher response by the government.

Argentines End 2-Week Walkout

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—More than 2,000 workers at a General Motors assembly plant ended a two-week strike Monday after accepting a recommendation for salary increases 35 per cent in the next 12 months. The wage hike, recommended by a government mediation board, calls for a 25 per cent increase in the next six months and 10 per cent in the following six months.

An estimated 43 million immigrants have come to the United States since 1820, with about 35 million emigrating from Europe.
