Reds Won't Tell Name of Moscow 'Mystery Patient'

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet officials and diplomatic sources today discounted a report that a mystery patient in a Moscow hospital is Deputy Premier Lazar M. Kaganovich. But there still was no disclosure of the stricken man's identity.

An eminent German blood specialist flown here to help treat the patient, presumably a high Soviet official, described him as in critical condition.

Train Hits Car; 1 Woman Killed

Birmingham Man Fails to Hear Whistle Signal; Driver, Child Unhurt

A Birmingham woman was killed Saturday when the car in which she was riding was struck by a freight train at Lakeview road in Milford, one mile south of Highland Township.

Dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital was Mrs. Vida Irene Wohliart, 42, of 2355 Samoset Trail.

Mrs. Wohliart's husband, Albert, 43, driver of the car, told Sheriff's deputies that he, his wife and 10-year-old daughter, Joann, were returning from a fishing site at Pettibone Lake when they were struck by the train. Mrs. Wohliart was thrown from the car.

Sheriff's deputies reported that both Lakeview road and the railroad tracks are cut down about eight feet from the road level. The embankment hampered visibility, they said.

Engineer of the train, John Anheim, 56, of Plymouth, said that he sounded the train whistle as he approached the crossing as a usual warning measure, but could not stop in time to avoid colliding with the car as it loomed on the tracks.

Wohliart said he did not hear or see the train. Both he and his daughter were uninjured.

From a Shadow World Back to Reality

Many Victims of Nervous Disturbances Find Way to Health

(The following is the first of two articles on Recovery, Inc., a non-profit organization of persons who find that nervous, emotional or mental disturbances are sabotaging their happiness. Members follow a system of self-training and group therapy as a means to mental health and emotional stability.)

By WILMA GREENWAY

How does it feel to step beyond the curtain of the "normal" into the shadow world of sick nerves? To find oneself trapped on the treadmill of exaggerated fears, unable to break the vicious cycle of neurotic symptoms?

Maybe it's happened to you—for a few minutes.

Maybe you've been sent hurtling through space—watched headlights coming at you head-on—faced a potential killer, or had similar terrifying experiences.

If you have—if you have ever been, literally, paralyzed by fear —then you have an idea of what the victim of "nerves" must endure when trapped by his own sick emotions.

But the panic that grips the emotionally disturbed person is not for moments. It goes on and on, robbing its victim first of normal happiness, then of physical health, hope, and finally, endurance. In its wake it leaves shattered human beings—jobless, tormented, at odds with the world. Often it leaves broken homes or family situations riven by quarreling and explosive animosities.

ROADS TO RECOVERY

But though the emotionally or nervously upset person may be helpless, he is not hopeless. There are roads to recovery. Besides professional psychologists and psychiatrists, there are home service agencies, outpatient clinics and other sources of help at little or no cost.

In addition to these, there is another sort of help—Recovery, Inc.—a non-professional organization whose members, having themselves undergone the nightmare of nervous disorders, offer a friendly hand and a "method" for recovery to those whose nerves have got the best of them.

When leaders of the group asked The Pontiac Press to tell its readers about the movement, this reporter attended several meetings to watch Recovery Inc. in action. We found persons who were merely trying to overcome nervous tension; others so neurotic they were unable to work or live normal lives. On the "cured" side of the picture, we found vital, relaxed men and women ready to relate their experiences for the benefit of those whom they might help.

Their stories were incredible—

Recovery, Inc., a non-profit project, is not affiliated with any church or political group. Information about it may be obtained by writing its Michigan leader, Mrs. Treasure Rice, Brighton, Mich. Schedule of meetings in this area appears with tomorrow's article in this series.

Recovery, Inc., is not for psychotic people—that is, persons suffering such mental illness that they do not have the use of their reasoning power. The Recovery way to mental well-being is not intended to replace the legitimate role of physicians, according to its leaders.

children and happy husband reaffirmed the story of her "cure."

Verla's recovery was a quick one—she had been in Recovery, Inc. only a few months when she started speaking at public meetings and leading a group. Yet before she joined the group, she spent 10 agonized years so mentally and emotionally sick that she lived in a world of fear and made her home a prison, cowering within its walls, terrified to venture out alone as far as her own mailbox.

Here is her story, as she told it to your Press reporter:

"It started when I was 15, a student in a Pontiac school. There was no apparent reason for it. I was into everything, always full of fun, had loads of friends. School was easy and I usually was, at the top of my class. I took part in athletics, went to school dances and parties, sang in our church choir, got along well at home.

SUDDEN, MYSTERIOUS

"Then one day, in the school corridor on my way to a class, it happened—a feeling that the world was reeling and the ground going out from under me. I shook it off in a couple of minutes, but I was scared.

"It happened again a few days later—this time on the street. I thought I was going to die, all alone there . . .

"The doctor said I was anemic and put me to bed. I got iron, injections, vitamins, pills—and I got worse.

"The spells—I recognize them now as 'panics'—came often—in church while I was singing, in school, at shows, on the street. I became obsessed with the idea that I'd die during one of the attacks, and refused to leave the house. I even insisted that my mother stay right in the same room with me.

"The little time I was able to be in school, I spent in terror—afraid to sit in my seat lest I have an attack; afraid to leave it for the same reason. Yet much of this I did not show outwardly—I think none of my teachers and classmates, or even my parents, realized the nightmare of fear under which I lived.

"This kept up for two years, with more time spent sick in bed than in school. I saw the doctor (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Ziegler Reveals Huge Road Plan

Propose $560 Million to Build State Highways Over 3-Year Period

LANSING (AP)—State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler today announced proposed plans for a record $560 million dollar highway construction program to cover the next three years.

Ziegler described it as "the biggest highway program that Michigan has ever seen."

The proposed program covers improvement of 2,570 miles of the 9,300 miles of state trunklines. Multi-lane divided highways would cover 800 miles of this total, and 300 miles of these would be limited access highways on the national system of interstate and defense highways laid out by state and federal authorities as the nation's primary highway network in the event of enemy attack.

Nearly half the total spending—250 million dollars—would come in federal aid as the state's share of initial allocations to be made under the government's 50 billion dollar highway building program. Current funds from gas tax money would add up to 160 million dollars, Ziegler said, and 150 million would be raised through the sale of bonds.

1957 Auto Show Crowns Queen in Closing Hours

It had been a real cinderella weekend—complete with admiring crowds and fairy princesses. The 30 glossy products of the automaker's art had been serenaded and inspected from grille to tail-light for three days—it was time to go back to showroom floors and futures on the highways.

The 1957 Auto Show was over. The admiring crowds had gone home. The fairy princesses? Well, one became a queen—specifically "Miss 1957 Auto Show." Her name is Margaret Hedden, 4607 Baldwin Rd. who won her crown during the show's closing hours to the blare of trumpets and the cheers of last-nighters.

The coronation ceremony climaxed a weekend of displays and entertainment which saw thousands of area residents flocking to Oliver Motor Sales' new service building.

The show was sponsored by eight dealer-members of the Pontiac Retail Trades Assn. Net proceeds will be donated to Pontiac General Hospital to aid in financing its new wing.

Miss Hedden, a 19-year-old brunette, is a second-term freshman at Eastern Michigan College where she is studying to become a teacher. She was awarded a $100 defense bond by the Community National Bank as one of her prizes.

By a coincidence, Miss Hedden is a cousin of Earlene Crisp, 106 S. Center St., who Friday was named the Press' "Miss Front Page" for February.

The new auto show queen was picked from three candidates after she won the greatest number of votes in balloting by persons attending the show.

Displays were highlighted by the appearance of 11 different 1957 models, including the "dream cars" Buick Wildcat, and Pontiac's La Parisienne and Bonneville.

Show Manager Richard I. Moore described the show as a "huge success," and expressed

Forced to Abandon Blazing Oil Tanker

BOSTON (INS)—The oil tanker Maid of LeHavre, a fire raging out of control in her hold, today was grounded a half-mile off gale-swept Cape Sable Light, N. S., and abandoned by her crew of seven.

The decision to abandon the ship came after the crew was unable to halt the blaze in the hold, where 5,000 barrels of oil were stored. A dragger, the Sandra and Gerry, reported it was an hour away from the position given by the Maid of LeHavre—Barrington Bay, slightly northeast of Cape Sable Light.

Two other vessels answered the tanker's emergency call. These, the Irving Light and the Robertson, also reported they were an hour away.

AFL-CIO Heads to Attempt Ousting 3 Member Unions

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The AFL-CIO charged three of its own unions today with corruption and failure to reform in a precedent-making ouster move.

Leaders of the merged AFL-CIO pushed for a showdown on charges against the Laundry Workers, Distillery Workers and Allied Industrial Workers Unions. The latter union has been the target of recent Senate investigations.

The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee accused the three unions, claiming a combined membership of 170,000, of looting welfare funds of millions of dollars.

The committee's reports were placed before the AFL-CIO Executive Council for action.

The council was reported divided between those disposed to give the three unions another chance to correct matters, and another council group, believed dominant, determined to make an example of the trio for other AFL-CIO unions.

The three unions were roundly condemned in a 1955 Senate Labor subcommittee investigation. The secret reports of the Ethical Practices Committee, summing up findings of the 1955 Senate investigation as well as private union probes, said the unions have done nothing to insure honest welfare fund handling and are guilty of associating with gangster influences.

Defendant Finds He's Ex-Sergeant of Magistrate

BALTIMORE (AP)—When the next case stepped up in northern district police court, Magistrate Henry L. Rogers did a double take.

The defendant was Orville Shaw of Baltimore, 45-year-old unemployed bricklayer. It was 16 years ago but both remembered when the defendant was first sergeant with the 110th Field Artillery Battalion and the magistrate was on KP.

Shaw had been arrested on a drunk charge. "Ten dollars and costs," said Magistrate Rogers. "Do you have any money to get home on?" "No," said Shaw.

The magistrate got change for a dollar and gave his old sergeant 50 cents. "Thank you, judge," said Shaw.

Israel Defies U.N. Resolution

Soldiers Still Occupy Disputed Areas Despite Plea From Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Israel stood fast in the Gaza Strip and along Egypt's Gulf of Aqaba coast today, defying the U.N. Assembly's sixth resolution calling on her to withdraw her troops behind the 1949 armistice line.

The Israeli Cabinet in Jerusalem announced it would still keep occupation forces for the time being in the Gaza Strip and in the Sharm el Sheikh area on the Red Sea Gulf of Aqaba.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said, "No guarantees have been obtained yet for definite stoppage of Egypt's belligerence and sea blockade of Israel."

The 80-nation Assembly late Saturday night adopted a resolution calling again for Israel's withdrawal "without delay." It approved a second resolution authorizing deployment of the U.N. Emergency Force on the armistice line plus "other measures" to keep peace.

Israel had been seeking guarantees against renewal of Arab commando raids from the Gaza Strip and resumption of Egypt's artillery blockade of Israel-bound shipping through the Gulf of Aqaba.

South Virginia Colliery Blast Caused by Gas

Rescue Teams Retrieve Bodies; Hope to Find Some Still Alive

BISHOP, Va. (AP) — An early morning blast rocked a major coal mine in southwest Virginia today, killing at least nine miners and leaving more than a score missing.

An employee of the Pocahontas Fuel Co. said the bodies were found by rescue teams who pushed to the disaster spot in the 6-mile-long underground mine.

Dispatcher R. P. Meade said the rescuers had heard no cries from any of the missing nor had they been able to make any contact with the men seven hours after the blast reverberated through this mining community of 700.

Another employee voiced the hope that some of the missing might be found alive in a barricaded area.

The explosion occurred two hours after the midnight shift reported in one of the largest mines in the extensive Pocahontas system in Virginia and West Virginia. Bishop is about 25 miles south of Bluefield, Va., near the West Virginia border.

STILL SOME HOPE

Dispatcher Martin E. Martin said "there is still hope that some of the men will be found alive." He attributed the explosion to gas accumulation.

Martin said the shift consisted of some 170 men and that all but 34 of these were accounted for.

There was no cave-in, he added. The great danger for those trapped in the explosion sector was smoke and poisoned air.

Rescue crews were still deep in the mine at 8 a.m. as relatives and friends gathered at the entrance to the colliery.

The blast was the second major disaster to strike the area in a week. The greatest flood in southwest Virginia history did damage in the millions of dollars last week.

Ike Assures Guard of Future Backing

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower assured leaders of the National Guard today that he would not permit the guard to be "destroyed or materially reduced in strength."

The Chief Executive made the pledge to a delegation of four National Guard generals as the controversy stirred up by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson continued to boil in the nation's capital.

The four generals had what they described as a most "satisfactory" forty minute meeting with Mr. Eisenhower.

The President listened to their proposals that National Guard recruits go through a training period of only eleven weeks, instead of the six months active duty ordered by Wilson.

Other Areas Are Mopping Up

Lowland Floods Continue in Three Southern States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flooding of lowlands along rivers in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi is expected to increase Monday while unspectacular but vital cleanup operations surge ahead in flood-ravaged areas of West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Death of a lineman electrocuted while making repairs on a utility pole in Kentucky brought to 15 the number of lives claimed by the devastating floods.

Damage was estimated at more than 75 million dollars. At least 15,000 were homeless. Many thousands more were idle. Washed out roads and bridges, piled up debris and just plain mud made it difficult and often impossible for workers to get to their jobs.

Virginia authorities were preparing to send doctors and nurses into hard-hit southwest Virginia. Plans also were being made to open typhoid clinics at a number of places. Water systems were being checked for purity as rapidly as possible.

The Coosa River passed flood stage at Gadsden, Ala., while other rain-soaked north and central Alabama streams remained over their banks. The Tennessee River inundated many miles of lowlands along its winding course. Extensive flooding of low sections was expected to continue for several days. But no danger to commercial buildings and residences was seen.

Seven families were driven from their homes in low sections of Resaca, a northwest Georgia town of 325 persons, Sunday night as the Oostanaula River rose slightly above flood stage. The river stood at 30.2 feet and was still rising. Police Chief R. C. Hayes reported. Flood stage is 29 feet.

The Tombigbee River was expected to crest at Columbus, Miss., at 8 p.m. Tuesday at a height of 34 feet.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, estimated the homeless at 15,000. He also said "the worst appears to be over" in West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Ships Collide, Report 2 Die

Turkish Vessel Smacks U.S. Freighter, Sinks; 250 Rescued

IZMIR, Turkey (AP) — Quick rescue work saved nearly 250 passengers from the Turkish passenger ship Izmir. The sleek new vessel sank in Izmir Harbor after a collision with the U. S. freighter Howell Lykes.

The Turkish government said two persons were known dead. At least four others were injured. But most unofficial sources said five persons were killed.

Nobody aboard the American ship was reported hurt. A few small dents in the bow were her only visible damage. She was anchored in Izmir Harbor.

The starboard side of the 6,000-ton Turkish ship was crushed by the bow of the 7,800-ton Howell Lykes as the two vessels maneuvered in the narrow passage at the harbor mouth yesterday.

A major disaster was averted by the action of the freighter in pushing the stricken vessel about 80 yards into shallow water, and the prompt rescue efforts of lifeboats from both ships, harbor ferries and fishing boats.

The Turkish vessel, built in Germany less than two years ago, was insured for nearly two million dollars. Only Turkish passengers were believed aboard on the regular express run from Istanbul to Izmir, Turkey's major port on the Aegean.

AFL-CIO Considers Ouster of Unions

advance, said this of the three unions:

Distillery Workers — The committee said an insurance broker, Louis B. Saperstein, Newark, N. J., kicked back about $647,000 to an indicted union official, Sol Cilento. It said gangsters George Scarsale and Anthony (Little Augie) Carano shared the loot.

Laundry Workers — It was charged that Eugene James, suspended secretary-treasurer, diverted almost a million dollars of welfare funds.

Saperstein figured as insurance agent in this case too, being accused of making rebates to James.

Allied Industrial Workers — The Ethical Practices Committee charged that Angelo Inciso, head of the union's former Chicago local, took proceeds from an increased employers' insurance payment for employees without increasing benefits. The reports said Inciso and his bodyguards spent the money in lavish gifts.

Anthony Doria, secretary of the local and the national union, was implicated.

Suffers Skull Injury in 2-Car Collision

Marjorie Stotts, 30, of 720 Cortwright Ave., was in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital where she is being treated for a skull fracture and scalp lacerations received in an auto accident Saturday.

The woman was riding in an auto driven by Norman W. Sells, 39, of 142 N. Tilden Ave.

Sells was found guilty today of drunk driving and ordered to pay $100 fine plus five days in the Oakland County Jail, or spend 30 days in jail.

Police reports the Sells' auto and a car driven by Phillip R. Banicky, 24, of 5045 E. Columbia Ave. collided at the Joslyn and Madison avenue intersection.

Insurance Man to Talk to Group on Area Topic

Scott E. Lamb, president of the Michigan Life Insurance Co., will speak on "Our Area—The Promised Land" at noon Tuesday before the Pontiac Kiwanis Club in the Hotel Waldron.

Lamb's address primarily will concern expected economic developments for Michigan upon completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The Day in Birmingham Agenda Today Runs From Beetle to Rezoning

BIRMINGHAM — Another light agenda faces city commissioners tonight, and will include a petition for the rezoning of lots in the Bowers-Elm-Hunter section, from Harold K. Turner.

Turner asks a business 'B' use of the lots for the storage of new automobiles.

He points out that this is one of the oldest subdivisions in Birmingham, having been platted as the Campbell subdivision in 1891. Turner's request coincides with other use of that immediate section.

Commissioners also will consider the purchase of spray for the destruction of the Dutch Elm beetle, municipal building alterations, water ordinance and the city's contributions to its employees' retirement system.

Two new members have been named to the Community House board of directors, Richard Cloonan and Milton Mallendar. They will fill the unexpired terms caused by the resignation of Dr. Clayton Joyce and the death of Cassius Wilson.

Mallendar, a native of Birmingham, served nine years on the city commission, two years as mayor. He is an attorney with offices in Detroit.

Cloonan is editor of the Thursday Magazine page of The Detroit News. Both will attend their first board meeting on Feb. 11.

James Houghton, 1974 Yosemite, won third place honors in a contest sponsored by a Detroit newspaper. Houghton said there will be no trouble disposing of the $2,000 cash. His present plans are to take his "bonus" prize, a boat, trailer and outdoor motor, to Walnut Lake where his father-in-law has some property.

Birmingham Child Study club will meet with Mrs. Thayer Towman, 2939 Lanerang street at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, with Mrs. D. W. Thurston and Mrs. Scott Purvis as co-hostesses. Ruth Boltz, of the newly organized special education services in Oakland county, will be the speaker.

Frank J. Post

A retired cabinet maker, Frank J. Post, 80, of 3794 Wedgewood, will be buried in Grand Lawn Cemetery, following the 2:30 p.m. services Monday at the Neeley Funeral home, Detroit.

A resident of this area for about 50 years, he was born in Germany in 1877.

He is survived by two sons, Arthur B., and Hugo J., two daughters, Mrs. H. C. Clark and Miss Irma Post of Birmingham. Six grandchildren and seven great grandchildren also survive.

Edwin A. Heacock

A native of Bloomfield Township, Edwin A. Heacock, 72, died suddenly in Clearwater, Fla., Saturday. He was born at the Heacock farm, now the site of the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club. A resident of this area all his life, he was the retired estate manager for Walter O. Briggs and family. Mr. and Mrs. Heacock celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last March. He was a member of the First Methodist Church and very active in all its affairs.

He is survived by his wife, Grace A., a daughter, Mrs. Norman G. Currin of Franklin, three sisters, Mrs. Albert Taggart of Pontiac, Mrs. Joseph Green and Grace Heacock, both of Birmingham, three brothers, Robert of Romeo, Luther A. of Birmingham, Arthur F. of Detroit. Three grandchildren also survive.

His body will be brought to Bell Chapel of Wm. R. Hamilton Co., where friends may call beginning Wednesday. Service will be Friday at 1 p.m. with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

Executive Finishes Long Pontiac Career

George A. Delaney, chief engineer for Pontiac Motor Division since 1947, retired Feb. 1 after nearly 23 years of service with the company. For the past five months Delaney has been on special assignment on the staff of S. E. Knudsen, Pontiac general manager.

A native of Centerville, Mo., and a graduate of the University of Missouri, Delaney is also retiring as 1956 National President of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Following service in World War I as a lieutenant in the Artillery, Delaney came to Detroit as a product engineer for Graham Paige Motors. In 1934 he joined General Motors and Pontiac as an electrical engineer and in 1939 was named assistant chief engineer. In 1942 he went to Fisher Body Division as supervisor of aircraft engineering and returned to Pontiac in 1945 as assistant chief engineer.

Largely responsible for the development of Pontiac's Stratostreak V-8 engine introduced in 1955, Delaney's engineering knowledge has long been regarded as a principal factor in the Company's success.

Four Teenagers Hurt as Car Hits Abutment

Four Detroit teenagers were injured late yesterday when their car hit an abutment on Gale road near Williams Lake road in Waterford Township.

Pontiac General Hospital reported as satisfactory the conditions of Elmer Wisley, 17, of 18466 Glastenbury, who suffered a back injury, and Patricia Peterson, 15, of 14166 Kentfield, with multiple lacerations.

Treated and released for their injuries were the driver, James Roby, 16, of 18456 Faust, and Patricia Moosic, 16, of 14109 Kentfield.

Roby told State Police troopers he failed to see a sharp left turn on Gale road in time and swerved off the right side of the road into the abutment. Pontiac State Police reported that there is no sign warning of the sharp turn and said that steps will be taken to have one posted.

Examiner OKs 'Genuine' Label

Federal Group to Rule on Further Use of Term for Chevrolet Parts

WASHINGTON (AP) — General Motors Corp. will be permitted to continue use of the term "genuine Chevrolet parts" in its advertising if the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) upholds an examiner's recommendation.

Examiner James A. Purcell recommended yesterday the dismissal of commission charges that General Motors unlawfully used the term.

Purcell rejected a 1935 FTC complaint charging that use of the phrase disparages similar parts sold by other manufacturers without the "genuine" label.

Purcell said GM has a fundamental right to protect public good will and esteem for its products by terming "genuine" any parts made by or for the company to its own specifications. He said more than 90 percent of all fast-moving Chevrolet parts come under this category.

The auto company, he said, has an interest in "protecting the consumer against 'counterfeit,' 'copy' or 'spurious' parts and making it possible for the motorist driving a Chevrolet to identify replacement parts tested and approved by the manufacturer of his automobile."

He said there is no evidence the company represented that all parts which it does not distribute are "counterfeit" and will not function as well as "genuine Chevrolet parts." But he said lawyers on both sides of the case agreed some manufacturers make replacement parts for use in Chevrolets which are inferior in design, materials or workmanship.

"No fraud, misrepresentation or deception is . . . attributable to the respondent as charged," Purcell concluded.

2 Appointees Named to United Fund Panel

William B. Hartman, president of the Pontiac Area United Fund, today announced the appointment of Mrs. Ralph G. Bump of Waterford Township, and Frank Skinner, a vice president of MacManus, John and Adams, to the U.F.'s Public Relations Advisory Committee.

Mrs. Bump served as chairman of the Geographic Division during the fall 1936 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Skinner was recently appointed vice president in charge of public relations at MacManus, John and Adams advertising agency.

The Public Relations Advisory Committee is a year around committee which advises the United Fund board on its public information policies and program.

Two Injured as Car Is Forced Off Road

Two persons were injured yesterday when their car overturned at 1464 Cooks Rd. in Avon Township. Vivian Capps, 38, of 129 Edgely, Detroit, is in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital with severe scalp lacerations and fractured skull and right arm.

Driver of the car, Benson D. Martin, 40, of 653 Central, Lake Orion, was treated and released from the hospital for lacerations of the scalp and face. Benson told Sheriff's deputies an oncoming car forced him off the road as he approached a curve.

Ample Budget Assures City of Snow Removal

Despite the snowfalls that have plagued the city so far this season, the Department of Public Works has not expended its snow removal budget.

Joseph B. Jewell, department superintendent, said the city budget for about 40 inches per year. "It cost us about $1,000 per inch to remove snow," he added.

Including November and December of last year, statistics reveal that close to nine inches of snow have fallen on city streets.

"We're a long way from having expended our budget at this time," Jewell said.

Brownell Requests Civil Rights Action

WASHINGTON (INS) — Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. said today that enactment of President Eisenhower's civil rights program could "make the difference between success and failure" in federal protection of civil rights.

The cabinet member told the House Judiciary Committee that the proposals do not extend or increase the area of federal jurisdiction over civil rights.

He said: "Enactment of these proposed remedies would not enlarge or in any way clash with the constitutional limitation on the federal government to act in this field. It would rather permit the federal government to take civil remedial action instead of having to depend solely upon criminal procedures."

Brownell was the first witness in four days of hearings scheduled by Judiciary Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) in the drive to push a civil rights bill through Congress this year.

Many Find New Help to Normal Health

once a week; had balance tests, basal metabolism, tonsils taken out, took medicine constantly.

"Finally I gave up school and took a job, but there again the pattern was repeated. I was terrified of the attacks—afraid to be on the street, afraid to go on a bus, afraid to stay at home.

"I met 'Bill' (correct name withheld), and when I was 18, a few months after I gave up my job, we were married. Bill was patient, but it's hard for a man to understand why his wife hasn't the courage to go into a grocery store or on a picnic, or to a dance. Added to that, I was terrified to be left alone and I'd cry when he went off to work.

"During the next few years we had two children. By this time I was so afraid of the attack that I didn't dare walk out as far as my own mailbox, much less take the children out. For seven years I never ventured out of the house alone.

"I had every ailment imaginable—palpitations, heart pains, tremors, a feeling of unreality, constant fatigue and depression. Our friends had long since stopped coming, and since I was afraid to sit in church I even began to feel God had deserted me, too.

"I felt so tired that it was all I could manage to keep up my housework and care for the children. Grocery shopping, even with Bill along, was a nightmare. I'd feel like my feet wouldn't stay on the ground, like I was going to topple over, that people were crowding in on me and it was a world of confusion—I seldom got past the bread counter.

"Yet if my husband offered to go in alone, I'd break into a flood of tears because I was afraid to wait in the car.

"Once I read about Recovery, Inc., but I was afraid to attend a meeting. I kept saying, 'I can't go on,' but somehow I always did.

"One thing I never stopped doing was praying. I guess God heard, because in the winter of 1935 I read another article about Recovery, and this time I told my sister and she wrote and got information about our local groups.

"It was one of the hardest things I had ever made myself do, but I went to a Recovery meeting. There I saw others like myself—men and women who had been through the same torture of fear and uncertainty. Some of them had come out victors. They were relaxed, happy, attractive. Others were less sure of themselves, but trying for mental health, encouraged by the success of their fellows.

"What they were doing, perhaps I could do, too."

Leukemia Takes Michigan Boy, 8

Trip to Lourdes Shrine Donated by Civic Clubs, Fails to Halt Disease

CHICAGO (AP)—An 8-year-old Protestant boy from Michigan whose mother sought a miracle cure for his leukemia at the Catholic shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes in France died of the dread blood disease yesterday.

Randy Eckman and his mother, Mrs. Helen Eckman, also a Protestant and a divorcee, made the trip to France a year ago on funds subscribed by civic clubs and newspapers in the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor, Mich., area.

The boy had been in Mt. Sinai Hospital here since October. He celebrated his eighth birthday Jan. 26. His mother had been at his bedside the past week.

Hospital aides said that many professional entertainers visited Randy at his bedside and that his last months were spent comparatively pleasantly.

Dr. Marvin Strick of Benton Harbor, who first diagnosed Randy's illness as leukemia in March, 1935, said the boy lived "at least 18 months" longer than the average child who suffers from the disease.

The public subscription to send the boy to Lourdes came after Mrs. Eckman was quoted as saying she wished her son could visit the famous shrine and bathe in its waters. Many persons believe miracle cures have been effected at the shrine.

"We are wishing for a miracle," Mrs. Eckman said at the time.

Electric power consumption in England and Wales has doubled in the last decade.

Leukemia Takes Michigan Boy, 8

Trip to Lourdes Shrine Donated by Civic Clubs, Fails to Halt Disease

CHICAGO (AP)—An 8-year-old Protestant boy from Michigan whose mother sought a miracle cure for his leukemia at the Catholic shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes in France died of the dread blood disease yesterday.

Randy Eckman and his mother, Mrs. Helen Eckman, also a Protestant and a divorcee, made the trip to France a year ago on funds subscribed by civic clubs and newspapers in the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor, Mich., area.

The boy had been in Mt. Sinai Hospital here since October. He celebrated his eighth birthday Jan. 26. His mother had been at his bedside the past week.

Hospital aides said that many professional entertainers visited Randy at his bedside and that his

last months were spent comparatively pleasantly.

Dr. Marvin Strick of Benton Harbor, who first diagnosed Randy's illness as leukemia in March, 1935, said the boy lived "at least 18 months" longer than the average child who suffers from the disease.

The public subscription to send the boy to Lourdes came after Mrs. Eckman was quoted as saying she wished her son could visit the famous shrine and bathe in its waters. Many persons believe miracle cures have been effected at the shrine.

"We are wishing for a miracle," Mrs. Eckman said at the time.

Envy Fills the Hearts of Their Fellow Workers

Winter Vacationers Arouse Distrust

By PHYLLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK (INS) — It is as plain as the nose on your grindstone that the people who take their vacations in summer are not especially cozy with the people who take their time-off in winter.

There is something about the return of a smiling, rested face with a tint of burnt banana (the shade after peeling) which tends to cause discord, sometimes downright nausea, in an office outside of which the temperature is nipping tempers.

"Man!" the pale summer people are wont to say, with more animosity than animation, "do you look healthy."

They then go on to remark to the winter vacationer about the weight he's gained and the good times he's lost — "Boy, you missed a great blow-out at Eddie's" — and finally the inevitable statement is thrown out:

"Look at that tan. Have you ever got a racket?"

Now this is a remark to which I, as one of those who wits all summer in order to take on my ennui during the frostbite season, must take exception.

This attitude is at the root of the entire summer people-vs.-winter people problem, and is the direct cause of many third-degree sunburns, snobbery, conscience complexes, inferiority feelings, deceptions and, for all we know, the commercial success of Miami Beach.

ANALYZE THE PHRASE

Let us analyze that phrase, "Have you ever got a racket?"

First of all, it implies that the winter vacationer is either shady in character and dealings, or laden with money and a member of the privileged social strata. Secondly, it puts him immediately on the defensive about his well-being, special emphasis on suntan.

The result, as even the most belligerent summer sojourner should see, is arrogance. Since no one cares to admit to shady dealings, the winter man adopts the instincts and attitudes of one overburdened with wealth; and since a good of-

B52s to Take Place of Outdated B36s

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining says the Air Force will scrap its B36 heavy bombers as they are replaced by the new all-jet B52s.

The Air Force chief of staff told the House Armed Services Committee yesterday that the B36s will be junked because no way has been found economically to convert them to transport or other use. Besides, he said, they are expensive to maintain.

Twining said the B36, a propeller-driven plane and the biggest aircraft ever flown, was "the best bomber in the world when it was introduced." But he said the B52 is "much better."

He testified that the 11 wings for which B52s are now on hand or planned will be as effective combatwise as 16½ wings of B36s.

Secretary of the Air Force Charles said the switch to B52s also is permitting the Air Force to drop five strategic fighter wings because the fast B52 does not need as much fighter protection as the B36.

fense is the best defense, he becomes obnoxious on behalf of his tan.

The conversation, then, is likely to proceed thus:

"Look at that tan. Have you ever got a racket?"
"Well, it cost plenty, but it was worth it. Those palm trees, this fancy hotel..."

The summer man, now feeling inferior and on the defensive himself, snaps back: "Whole year to your next vacation, hey? Well, you asked for work when you came here."

Where the conversation goes from there depends upon the degree of envy and enmity involved, but it's a cinch that the summer people will come out more convinced than ever that the winter people are snobs who get all the breaks, and the winter people will resolve that next year they'll get even darker tans — no matter what it costs in money and agony — for you may as well be hanged for a cannibal as a millionaire.

It "corners" with all the solid assurance of an honest-to-goodness sports car. Chevy doesn't throw its weight around on turns because it carries its pounds in the right places.

Doubles Record in Elks Meet

By CHUCK ABRA

There was plenty of action on the local bowling front over the past weekend with three different tournaments going on here while 18 city women's teams were in Battle Creek participating in the Elks Ladies State meet.

It took a record high in doubles handicap play to make the only change among the leaders from the previous week as the Michigan Elks tourney completed its 3rd of eight weekends at the Elks and Huron Bowl.

A Plymouth duo of William Fann and Vern Miller stole the spotlight with their sparkling Sunday performance to surpass the old tourney top score by 23 pins. The pair combined for 1374. The previous best had been 1351 set in 1948 and equalled in '51.

Meanwhile, Dickie's Service of Pontiac continues to pace both team divisions as does Detroit's John Gavie in singles. There was no change among the 1st three in doubles actual. E. Walker-K. Haviland of Detroit lead this department.

Battle Creek star H. Zook also remained atop the heap in competition for the all-events trophy with his 1843 total.

The Fann-Miller record duo moved 53 pins past last week's leaders but there were few other changes in the handicap top ten.

There were new threats to Dickie's in both division but none came even close. Taylor Roofing of Plymouth took over 2nd in handicap and new Pontiac contender Sam Benson's moved into the runnerup slot in actual pinfall but both trail by wide margins.

Gavie, who has been singles king since opening weekend, had a close call in handicap play when Gus Clinton of Detroit turned in a 719, five short of a tie. Two other newcomers bettered 700 to move into the 1st five.

Another kegler making his initial appearance took over behind Gavie in actual score with an impressive 663 but John's 691 still is the mark to beat.

A total of 14 new entries moved in among the leaders in all divisions. Pontiac has 7 of the 13 high-ranking teams in both department, 4 of 14 in singles, and 2 of 13 in doubles.

One of the big surprises of the weekend was the failure of the 1956 doubles champions, E. Deeds-J. Bierwagen of Niles, to finish among the leaders in either doubles division. Two defending champs have already been eliminated from repeating.

Scheduled swimming meet Saturday at Owosso YMCA, between Owosso and Pontiac's strong "Y" crew was cancelled because of an emergency appendectomy for Owosso's coach, Bob Forst, the coach, was stricken suddenly and was operated immediately, Pontiac "Y" coach Art Mann reported. Owosso comes here March 9 for a tentative date, Mann said.

Although bowing out in doubles, Bada copped the high actual pinfall for men with 247. Dick Carmichael finished with the high series with 659, while Roy Bone

Wrestlers Win, Cagers Lose
Cranbrook lost a basketball game and won its first wrestling meet of the season Saturday in Inter-State League competition with Shady Side Academy of Pittsburgh.

A 26-9 halftime deficit was too much for the Cranes to overcome as they dropped their opening Inter-State test, 45-35. The Shady Side cagers outscored the Cranes in the 2nd quarter, 19-2, to ice the decision.

Ed Eckhardt and John Birmingham led the winners with 16 and 12 points respectively. Chuck Harris made 10 points for the Cranes, whose overall record is now 1-8.

The Cranbrook wrestlers scored seven decisions and one pin to defeat Shady Side, 26-8. The losers also posted one pin.

John Miller, Pete Turner, Jim Ludwig, Duncan Black, Charles Askew, Jim Marcus and Gary Griekschmidt chalked up decisions for the Cranes. Bill Burnett pinned his man at 5:30.

Stevens to Produce, Direct 'The Diary of Anne Frank'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Ever since George Stevens signed his contract with 20th Century-Fox a year ago everyone has known that Buddy Adler would give him, a plum assignment to start the deal, and Buddy did—"The Diary of Anne Frank," the Pulitzer prize winning play.

Stevens will produce and direct as he did on "Giant," the picture which is cleaning up at the box office and is well in the running for an Academy award.

You can put it down in your little black book that when the casting on "The Diary of Anne Frank" starts, Susan Strasberg, who achieved stardom in the play on Broadway, will be the leading contender. Playwrights Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich will write the script.

Just how poor Janice Leigh with a broken arm can start "Badge of Evil" with Charlton Heston today at U-I, I wouldn't be knowing. Her doctor has told her that the broken arm must be in a cast for six weeks, and that's that.

An incredible $20,000 a day is the amount of money paid in at the Paramount Theater in New York to hear Nat "King" Cole. After closing there, Nat plans two weeks at Havana's Tropi-cana and then two weeks at Miami Beach's Eden Roc. Then the King will start filming the life story of W. C. Handy in July at Paramount Studio, with Lena Horne as his leading lady.

The only wife who has not made a claim on Sir Alexander Korda's estate is Merle Oberon. Zoltan Korda, his brother, who was to have planned out from London to help straighten out the estate, is in Cedars following emergency abdominal surgery.

The operation couldn't have come at a more inconvenient time, because there is complete confusion about the Korda estate. Zoltan, his brother Vincent, Sir Alexander's first and third wives and his son Peter are all contending for the money and various holdings in England and other countries that belonged to the deceased producer.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: London is talking about the new musical "Grab Me a Gondola," said to be the story of Diana Dors, much as "Call Me Madam" was Perle Mesta's life.

A twosome at the Coconut Grove to hear Harry Belafonte last night was Mrs. Harry Brand and 13-year-old Frankie Sinatra Jr., who approves of Belafonte.

Billy Eckstine's trademark, his moustache, is gone. He shaved it off to test for a role in "Band of Angels" with Clark Gable.

On February 14 two beauties, Irene Dunne and Deborah Kerr, will sit with the men on the dais with Jack Benny at his Friar's Club birthday dinner. There will be 40 candles on Jack's cake instead of the usual 39.

William Holden in Ceylon has been sent the treatment of the Mark Hellinger story which Jonie Tappas thinks is right down Bill's alley.

His Wife Was Dyeing, So Hubby Dyed, Too

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Yes, it's true I dyed my hair red . . . and I'm glad.

Why should women change their hair like dresses and men be forbidden to switch hues? My wife's latest simonizing job convinced me I should assert my independence. I heard of a friend who took a blonde to dinner one night quite forgetting that his wife had changed back to brunette. At least that was his story.

"First I'm making you a platinum blonde," Larry Matthews told me at Beauty City, the all-night spot in Times Square.

Sure enough, I looked like Jayne Mansfield, above the forehead. They threw gunk on me and stung my scalp with liquids and eventually I became strawberry red—a little like Harpo Marx used to be.

"You look like an apricot poodle," Sirli, the tall show-gal, said, Dagmar, Tina Louise, Gretchen Wyler, Gwen O'Hara and Zahra Norbo all insisted that I look "darling." They, however, didn't say darling what.

I'm going to leave it red for a few days to see if life is any more interesting to redheads. Then back to the beauty parlor for another dye job. I wonder how women keep going through it. And I also wonder about that funny smell that keeps hovering over my head.

Maybe Yul Brynner has the right idea.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

George Jessel phoned Miami's Monte Carlo Hotel for a singing job for his girl friend, Karen Hanson . . . Aly Khan was backstage at "Mr. Wonderful" to congratulate the cast . . . Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer have the bridal suite at the Pierre . . . Bing Crosby's gal, Kathy Grant, will be featured on the Ford TV Theater.

Keefe Brasselle formed his own film company . . . Tom Dewey's son John is a Democrat . . . The Joanne Gilbert-Gene Norman romance is busted up; she's around with her dad, songwriter Ray Gilbert . . . Ted Collins rejected a TV "Salute to Kate Smith"; she'll do her own variety show and sub for Jackie Gleason March 16 . . . The Cotton Club revue, a hit in Miami, may come to a B'way cafe.

Earl's Pearls . . .

How come, asks Tony Vogel, that the man who comes to collect the installment payments always manages to find parking space?

WISH I'D SAID THAT: It's Herb Sheldon's description of Jayne Mansfield: "She's a girl who has everything—and a little left over."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Frank Cerutti hears that King Saud tied up New York's traffic—he insisted on facing the east on a west-bound street.

"With all the world's weighty problems," says Dick Mayer, "I like to read the etiquette columns and find there are still people whose chief worry is using the wrong fork." . . . That's earl, brother.

State Police Arrests Upped by 49 Per Cent

EAST LANSING (AP)—State police made 235,931 arrests during 1956, a 49 per cent increase over the 157,976 arrests made in 1955, commissioner Joseph A. Childs reports.

Childs said the increased activity resulted from stepped-up enforcement and the adding of more troopers during the year.

State police enlisted strength stood at 1,019 men the close of the year, an increase of 250.

Of the arrest total, 15,358 were arrests made for offenses other than traffic. The total did not include the arrest of 8,328 juvenile traffic offenders and wayward and delinquent minors, were increased 44 per cent over 1955.

State police reported their cars travelled 16,776,171 miles during the year, a 26 per cent increase over 1955.

Police made 370,893 property inspections and 47,706 liquor inspections during the year. The identification bureau received 115,902 sets of fingerprints during the year. Wanted persons identified through fingerprints totalled 365.

THEY APPLAUDED

Sunday, large audiences saw a great movie, "THE SILENT WORLD." They saw scenes of such exciting thrills and beauty they'll never forget. They saw bare-skinned divers battle man-eating sharks! They saw "fish-men" fight dread depth narcosis on the floor of the Red Sea's famed Marmar Reef! They saw the taming of a giant Grouper fish in the ocean depths off Assumption Island! They saw the amazing encounter with giant leaping porpoises in the Gulf of Eden! They saw daredevil divers explore the "Empire of Sunken Ships" with their electric undersea sleds—and at the end they burst into applause. Only once in a blue moon does spontaneous applause break out in a movie theater, but it was a sincere appreciation for a really good movie.

Science Shrinks Piles

New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—

Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified

by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly.

And, while gently relieving pain,

actual reduction or retraction

(shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without use of anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.* Ask for individually sealed convenient

Preparation H suppositories or

Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is solid at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

B. R. Sen, an Indian, told

partment that the global food reserve proposal, rejected by the

FAO, imposes many difficult problems which are not easily solved.

He said "the present time is not opportune" for establishing any food stockpile in the world.

He added, however, that continuous studies are being made by the FAO on all aspects of the problems involved.

Bands Play 'Rock' at Athletic Events

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P) — Rock 'n' roll music sometimes condemned as bad for juveniles, today was recommended by Illinois high school music teachers as a good way to arouse school spirit.

A band and chorus instructor from Chester High School, here with colleagues from throughout the state for the Illinois Music Educators Assn. conference, said rock 'n' roll is used to good effect particularly at basketball games.

"Without exception every band in Southern Illinois plays it at games," Wayne M. Thorne said. "It elicits howls and whistles and they think I've got a great band because of it."

Generally, instructors interviewed said they felt the "restless" quality in the music had no appreciable effect on students' morals or manners.
