Thunderstorms Flood Highways, Basements

House Certain to OK 33 Billion for Defense Aid

No Opposition Indicated in New Allotments for Coming Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House appeared certain today to pass without major changes a bill to give the Defense Department $33,665,066,000 in new money for the coming fiscal year.

A day of debate yesterday disclosed no major opposition to the allotments recommended by the Appropriations Committee for the Army, Navy and the Air Force.

A few members voiced belief that some of the $512,784,000 chopped by the committee from President Eisenhower's requests should be restored.

But Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.), floor manager of the bill, told newsmen he didn't believe the House would make any major alterations.

Mahon jolted his colleagues by his opening remark that the United States and Russia have "just about" reached the point where each has "the full capability to destroy the other."

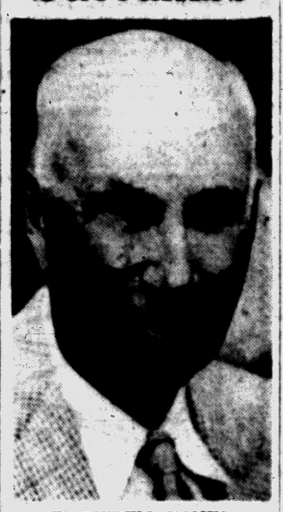

It soon may be, he said, that both sides will realize that there can be no winner in war and "the argument as to which side is the stronger will be somewhat pointless."

But until then, he cautioned, the only answer to the present day situation appears to be to provide more and more money.

A soil bank bill saddled with further provisions to boost some farm price supports was ready for final inspection by the Senate Agricultural Committee today.

Although the committee voted 13-1 last night to send the House-passed bill on to the Senate, Chairman Ellender (D-La) called the group back into closed session "to go over the complicated corn and feed grain sections."

New Picnic Areas

LANSING (AP) — Some 3,500 picnic tables currently are being placed at roadside parks by the State Highway Department for the coming summer season. Several new stopping places for tourists along state trunkline highways are being put into use for the first time this year.

Legislators Face Unfinished Work in State Capitol

LANSING (AP)—After a month at home, Michigan lawmakers returned to the capitol today and plunged into 14 items of unfinished business, including three major appropriation bills.

The work they tackled had to be cleared away to wind up the 1956 legislative session. It was pushed beyond the nominal April 6 deadline when a late session snarl developed.

The leftovers included better than 110 million dollars in money bills, one of them setting up a 35 million dollar capital improvement program.

The other appropriation bills would provide roughly 50 million dollars for mental health purposes and 17 millions for public health operations in the fiscal year starting July 1.

In the non-money field, two of the major proposals caught in the deadlock would limit combined payments of state unemployment benefits and private supplemental layoff awards, and provide for flexible controls over state deer herds.

French Attack Arabs in Algeria Reprisals

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—French troops on both sides of flaming Algeria battled nationalist rebels today in grim retaliation for continuing coordinated attacks on European farms and military posts.

* * *

Heavy rebel losses were claimed as French forces fanned out in counterstrikes against the raiders, but slashed communication lines hampered any accurate estimate of casualty totals.

In Western Algeria, where the rebels opened their concerted offensive Sunday, French authorities said strong counterattacks had taken the lives of at least 200 rebels. Twenty Europeans were reported killed and some 40 farms burned in the original nationalist assaults in that sector.

RIDING BAREBACK — A bareback riding act is among the new features of the Detroit Zoo's Chimpanzee Show which officials believe is the greatest production in the park's history. Animals Make Debut Today

5,000 Expected to Gather at Zoo for 1956 Opening

It was opening day at the Detroit Zoological Park in Royal Oak today with over 5,000 visitors expected to take part in a program beginning the 29th season. Director Frank G. McInnis predicts attendance will top the 30,000 mark Sunday if the weatherman cooperates.

"Our collection is the largest and finest we have ever had. It should be a great year," McInnis told visiting representatives of the press, radio, and television at the annual opening preview yesterday.

Greatly improved chimpanzee and elephant shows are expected to attract millions this year as will exhibits featuring apes, lions, tigers and a baby giraffe.

Other new "babies" to be found at the Zoo are "Harvey," the polar bear, a quartet of Kodiak bear cubs known as "Dot," "Ditto," "Daisy," and "Dandy," a two-toed sloth called "Sleepy," antelopes, kangaroos, llamas, baboons, and monkeys.

The leading newcomers on display for the first time today were a pair of Lesser Pandas named "Wynken" and "Blynken."

The addition of several new varieties of birds has given the zoo its largest collection of different species in history, McInnis said.

The Zoological Park leaders call the "Chimp Show" the greatest production in the zoo's history.

The cast, headed by the frolicsome foursome of "Tarzan," "Mike," "Julius" and "Bobo," perform such stunts as walking the high wire, taking the "death slide" on an inclined wire, riding ponies bareback, and balancing on rubber balls, pogo sticks, ladders and bicycles.

Visiting hours will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sundays and holidays throughout the season.

Report Tonight on Hospital Bids

Architect Leo Heenan, Trustees Will Convene With City Commission

The City Commission meets tonight with the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees to hear the final tabulation of bids for the $3 million hospital addition.

An official total of low bids submitted April 19 topped $4,000,000.

Since that date, architect Leo J. Heenan and his staff have been considering several possible alternates on each bid, which could possibly reduce the cost of the proposed wing.

These bids remain binding until June 19 according to Board Chairman William P. Babcock.

Heenan is expected to present the tabulation to the board and commission and report on his findings from the three-week study of the bids.

H-Bomb Drop Postponed for 4th Time

USS MT. McKINLEY, Off Bikini (AP) — Bikini lay lonely and still this morning, waiting for the false sun of a hydrogen bomb to light the sky.

An off-and-on H-bomb test scheduled for dawn today was postponed again 8½ hours before blast time.

The Estes said wind patterns had shifted so that the Marshall Islands might have been endangered by a blast today.

Adverse weather had caused three previous postponements from the original date of Monday, U. S. time.

Ships on their way to blast stations turned back.

Nearly 2 Inches Hits Local Area; River Overflows

All-Day Downpour Pelts Most Parts of State; Detroiter Killed

Thunderstorms pelted rain down on Pontiac and the rest of Oakland County yesterday and last night and for the second time in two weeks caused flooded basements and covered many streets and highways.

Close to two inches of rain fell beginning early yesterday, flooding many basements in Pontiac. Some 100 calls were received by the Department of Public Works.

Streets throughout the city were covered by water as the steady rain overtaxed the mains.

The Pontiac Creek and Clinton River were overflowing their banks in many spots. Other county lakes and streams were dangerously near flood stage after the all-day downpour.

Some 50 homes in the Lake Orion area were surrounded by pools of water. Similar conditions were reported in southern Oakland County and Waterford Township.

Telegraph road has been blocked off by the Wayne County Road Commission at a viaduct near Schoolcraft road. State Police reported water there reaching a depth of three to four feet.

Another danger point, police said, exists on Grand River near Ten Mile road, where 18 to 24 inches of water was reported. The roads there have not yet been blocked off, police said.

ONLY MINOR WASHOUTS

Despite the steady rain, the Oakland County Road Commission reports only minor road washouts in county areas. No roads are closed as the result of the storm, an official reported.

Lightning last night was conducted through a radio aerial in a Birmingham home and narrowly missed striking a 15-year-old boy.

Mrs. A. R. Bottler, of 617 Tottenham St., said her son Jack had just gone to bed when a bolt of lightning bounced off a tree and hit the aerial of the boy's crystal radio set setting 18 inches from the boy's bed.

It scorched the side of the bed which the frightened boy had just rolled away from. It caused about $50 damages according to the Birmingham Fire Dept.

BALDWIN FLOODED

Water was reported up to door levels of automobiles passing on Baldwin avenue near Harris Lake. The Clinton River was overflowing at Beaudette street, Arthur Hill-

"An Uncanny and Almost Terrifying Experience"

Air Force Shows Mighty Wallop in Big Demonstration

HAROLD A. FITZGERALD
Publisher, Pontiac Press

Perhaps the greatest aerial firepower demonstration in the history of aviation was held Tuesday at the Air Proving Ground Command at Eglin Air Force Base in Florida.

★ ★ ★

Your awe-struck reporter sat through two thrilling hours of aerial evolutions that outdid the Magic Carpet and Aladdin's Lamp rolled into one piece. More than 5,000 spectators from all sections of the United States including Senators, Congressmen and Governors sat spellbound as the greatest fliers in the world "poured it on" in a thrilling exhibit that left everyone limp and speechless.

★ ★ ★

Activities opened with an RF-84F flying at the grandstand at better than 500 miles an hour and taking a photograph just before the pilot whisked over the startled spectators' heads. What "stops" would you use on your personal Brownie if the camera were moving faster than eight miles a minute? Anyway, this disciple of Eastman got his picture, winged his way to a base 15 miles away (less than two minutes) and then returned with several large prints before the afternoon terminated.

★ ★ ★

Four crack American pilots known internationally as the Thunderbirds put on a demonstration of precision flying that no nation in the world can match or approach. This quartet did about everything that can be done with an airplane and they did it just a few feet apart at terrific speed. As a finale, they dove in front of the stands and then pulled up in a straight vertical climb for more than a mile, rolling only a few feet apart as they soared upward. At last they broke away in huge loops, traveling north, east, south and west respectively. They completed the loops in front of the stands and criss-crossed each other at five or six hundred miles an hour.

★ ★ ★

Remember, at this speed you travel more than 700 feet every second. Now place four objects a scant few feet apart and it becomes apparent what tremendous mastery of an airplane is required to guarantee your own safety and that of your compatriots. It also takes the maximum judgment and moxie.

★ ★ ★

At one time several 4F-100's broke the celebrated sound barrier. Watching a plane a few feet off the ground, traveling 800 miles an hour right in front of your nose, is an uncanny and almost terrifying experience. The thing comes winging in from a distance and is on you before you comprehend.

It's awesome.

It's soundless like a shadow.

Yet, it's real. It has substance and someone is controlling it — yes, handling it beautifully. It flits past, ghostlike, in the barest winking of an eye. This Machiavellian conception is traveling more than 13 miles a minute — every minute.

That's a mile in less than five seconds.

Think of it.

Pontiac to Detroit — less than two minutes.

As one flashes past, suddenly the silence ends and you're besieged with sound. First there's the crackling "boom, boom, boom," which means the sound barrier has been broken. And then, of course, as the lightning monster rips away into the distance, you're assailed by the fearful roar of the motor. The combination simply scares the daylights out of everyone honest enough to confess.

And remember also, this thing packs deadly fire

Air Force Packs Wallop in Special Bombing Show

power when it goes on the prowl. It's a great package to have on your side.

A magnificent exhibition saw fighters and bombers working over targets on the ground. They attacked four grounded planes with napalm bombs and regular bombs. They attacked a "factory" and air force "headquarters" which had been erected for the purpose and they attacked a machinegun emplacement with eight "guns" showing.

These napalm bombs burn the oxygen out of the air in the vicinity and the fire is a fearful sight. The flames leap with an intensity that commands the height of respect, followed by clouds of sickening smoke that billow and roll with the wind. Psychologically, this must be a fearful weapon in the hands of someone that doesn't have your best interests in mind.

In the rocket exhibition you can see the rockets as they leave the planes and watch them shoot out ahead, strike and explode. They're fired close to the grandstand. They are deadly, sinister and make you feel "uneasy." Most of the bombs and rockets purposely gave trails of smoke so the audience can follow them in the air. Aircraft cannons that fired 300 rounds in a few seconds were demonstrated on the ground and the empty brass casings flew out like water from a gigantic fire hose.

No one speaks.

At one time, the field was cut into the conversation between the planes in a formation far over head. Once the leader said casually: "We're at 42,000 feet and I see it's raining in Panama City (Florida.)"

Once a huge refueling plane in full flight had three fighters receiving gas at the same time. Two of them took from opposite wings and the third from the tail.

★ ★ ★

The boys dropped eleven 250 pound bombs at 2,000 feet from a B-57 and wound up with a terrific burst at the target from air cannons. Then they stepped up the cadence with seven 750-pound bombs from our newest tactical bomber, the B-66B. That's a right lethal load of death and destruction. And finally, they dropped several one thousand pound bombs. Every time a big one detonates, the grandstand actually shakes and you can feel your shirt move in the air disturbance. Some of these were handled by the C-F100's America's greatest and newest plane of this type.

★ ★ ★

Finally, to close out the show, a B-36 appeared and gave the crowd a look-see at all its awe and majesty. This is probably the biggest war plane in the world. The wing span is better than 200 feet and it carries an unbelievable amount of weight. After "passing in review," this monarch of all it surveys, started a bombing run of a mile and a half.

That's a man size distance.

Step it off.

But this gigantic monster sailed along serenely, dropping 500 pound bombs in a continuous and uninterrupted stream. One such bomb is a fearful thing, but now a steady flow of these killers followed over a distance of a mile and a half. You see them plainly as they emerged from the plane and the entire route is a stream of bombs in endless precision.

Picture a strip a mile and a half long with bombs actually "overlapping" each other in their destruction. After the first one hits, the balance follow with a continuous roar as they strike the ground and detonate.

It made a profound and lasting impression. Probably each eye witness visualized this mile and a half in his own home town —or in New York—or Detroit—or Washington—or—well, a lot of cities in Asia pop into your mind without half trying.

Then—and this is too terrible to contemplate—substitute H-bombs for the 500 pounds of TNT. And then add a whole fleet of these carriers in the sky, at the same moment, if you dare. Sobering and overpowering thoughts were in the minds of everyone.

★ ★ ★

Major General Robert W. Burns, Commander of Eglin Field stated the purpose of the demonstration was "to give a greater understanding of the part played by the U. S. Air Force in maintaining a global air superiority in defense of the free world." The exhibition uncovered the eventualities that would result if any nation wanted to "get tough" and throw its weight around.

★ ★ ★

I hope there were quite a few Russians in the 5,000 spectators. Cameras were allowed. I hope they photographed some of the activities that were "just play" this time, but which could be "for keeps" at the drop of a hat.

It was an eyeful.

For the first time in history, our government took "toss bombing" off from the secrecy list. Several planes demonstrated this new and unique technique.

It has a fearful purpose.

In toss bombing, the plane starts to climb at full speed and then releases the bomb which, of course, continues upward at several hundred miles an hour until gravity claims it and starts it earthward again. During this interval, the plane is streaking homeward with the accelerator wide open and all the horses unleashed.

★ ★ ★

That H-bomb is something.

The havoc and destruction are so far reaching, that we have to let our boys get completely out of the area of death and devastation.

Toss bombing is one answer.

Each of the bombs left trails for the spectators to watch as they soared on upward, slowed to a stop and turned towards the ground. These bombs were TNT. You fire the others on uninhabited atolls in big oceans.

★ ★ ★

Three dozen men went from South Eastern Michigan, leaving Selfridge Field with Major General Robert E. L. Eaton and Colonel Paul E. Todd as hosts. All of the Michigan party were very favorably impressed with the two Selfridge men and their handling of the trip.

I have just one piece of advice for our readers: Don't declare all-out war on the United States.

Probation Topic of Friday Talks

State, Local Officials to Discuss Officers for Area Justice Courts

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said yesterday he has scheduled a meeting with county probation officer Arthur P. McKenna and a state probation official Friday to discuss ways of providing probation officers in justice courts.

The problem stems from a Circuit Court ruling last month by Judge Clark J. Adams, whose written opinion said justices may place offenders on probation but must assign them to probation officers.

Previously, justices had issued probations but had not used probation officers. Some officials doubted they had legal authority for the move.

Ziem said Fred Bates, assistant director in charge of probations at the Michigan Department of Parole and Probation, will be here Friday for the conference.

Discussion will center on providing additional probation officers under McKenna, Ziem said. If no legal objections appear, he will ask the four County circuit judges to recommend hiring of additional officers, and ask the County Board of Auditors for funds for the purpose.

James C. Foster Jr. Seeking State Post

James C. Foster Jr., 27, of Birmingham, yesterday announced he would seek the State Representative seat from the Third District on the Republican ticket.

The post is presently held by Richard C. Van Dusen, of Birmingham, who said he would not seek re-election in the Aug. 7 primary.

Foster is a junior in the Wayne University Law School after completing his undergraduate work at the University of Michigan.

He is a charter member of the Young Republican Club of Oakland County and is active in the Wayne County GOP club.

Dondero, Wolcott Honored by Dems at Capital Dinner

George A. Dondero, retiring U.S. representative from Royal Oak, joined with another veteran legislator, colleague Jesse Wolcott of Port Huron, in receiving special tribute from Michigan's Democratic House delegation at a luncheon in Washington, D.C., yesterday.

Dondero, 72, has been a House member since 1933. Wolcott, 63, is the dean of the Michigan Congressional delegation, having served continuously since 1931.

Both are Republicans, and neither plans to seek reelection.

Democratic Rep. Louis Rabaut struck the keynote during the event, saying Michigan legislators may split politically on legislation but always join in promoting the welfare of their state.

He added: "We'll feed you today but will lick you in the fall."

The Republican guests replied in kind.

Studebaker - Packard Deal With Airline in Final Stage

NEW YORK (INS)—A deal involving control of the $250,000,000 Studebaker-Packard Corp. and strengthening of the nation's fourth largest motor car company's financial position is in the final stages of negotiation.

* * *

The completion will insure the company's continuance as one of the two independents in the motor car field.

The negotiations are being carried on in New York and Washington and part of the agreement includes a commitment by the Defense Department on $200,000,000 military orders.

Curtiss-Wright Corp., one of the nation's leading aircraft companies, is to get an option on 7,000,000 Studebaker-Packard shares at a price of approximately $5 a share. Exercise of this option will give Curtiss-Wright control, as Studebaker presently has outstanding 6,440,000 shares of an authorized 15,000,000 shares.

Eventually, the two companies may merge, creating a $500,000,000 enterprise with $1,500,000,000 annual sales.

Under the financial part of the program, the commercial banks would extend an additional $15,000,000 in credit, making $45,000,000 in funds available to the motor car company.

NEED EXTRA MONIES

Insurance companies, which hold $25,000,000 in 4 per cent notes with maturities running from 1957 to 1973, will ease some of the provisions under the proposed financial plan.

Studebaker-Packard President James Nance at the annual meeting said the company needed $50,000,000 additional financing.

The exercise of the stock option to Curtiss-Wright would provide $35,000,000 and with $15,000,000 additional credit from the banks, the company would have the needed $50,000,000.

From Detroit, Studebaker-Packard Corp. announced today that losses of $14,311,173 for the first quarter of this year have reduced the working capital of the firm to $45,759,563.

Studebaker-Packard was formed in October, 1954, by a merger of two of the leading independents—Studebaker, with its major plant at South Bend, Ind., and Packard, centered in Detroit.

* * *

As part of the program to strengthen the company's position and increase the efficiency of operation the motor car assemblies would be centered in South Bend. Defense business would provide employment for workers now engaged in car production in Detroit.

The Day in Birmingham

Schools Planning to Offer Dental Fluoride Program

BIRMINGHAM—Fluoride application to the teeth of school students is being planned, according to Dr. Paul Carter, assistant superintendent of schools.

Requests from parents have brought about the plan, Dr. Carter says. The school health service will handle the dental treatments in the schools.

Cleaning and four applications of fluoride for each child participating will be given on a low-fee basis, he says. Second and fifth graders will be eligible.

The Oakland County Dental Society has approved of the fluoride program and promises its full support and cooperation, Dr. Carter reports.

Mr. and Mrs. Early Yankee, 2115 W Lincoln, are appealing the Justice Court decision that their dog, an Irish setter valued at about $750, should be destroyed.

They have hired Attorney John Manikoff, who will ask for a decision that the family may sell the dog, for study purposes, rather than have it killed by the city.

The family isn't questioning the court decision that the dog bit Edward J. Rodgers, 3, in a neighboring yard.

Manikoff filed last weekend in city offices for appealing the case to Circuit Court. A decision on selling the dog will affect whether they continue pressing the case, he says.

City officials are planning to receive Village President A. Edward Moilanen of L'Anse on Mayor's Exchange Day, May 21. Mayor James Allen will fly to L'Anse, while Mr. and Mrs. Moilanen will drive to Birmingham.

The L'Anse couple will be met by City Commission and administration members. They will tour the Ford Tractor plant, city recreational facilities and Cranbrook Institute of Science, and will lunch with civic leaders at Northwood Inn.

Crash Injuries Kill Flint Man

Collision in Waterford Fatal Two Days Later, Autopsy Proves

An autopsy yesterday in Flint established that a Flint man involved in a Waterford Township accident Sunday died Tuesday night of peritonitis which apparently stemmed from three intestinal ruptures, township police said today.

Umberto Gallerani, 59, of 2513 Tiffin St., Flint, reported no injuries to Waterford police Sunday when his car was struck from behind by Andrew Vogt, 42, of 224 E. Court St., Flint.

But Waterford Township Police Chief Frank VanAtta said today Gallerani, who took a taxi to Flint with his wife after the accident, felt ill Sunday night and went to a Flint hospital for X-rays, which showed he had a fractured vertebra.

Gallerani remained in the hospital until Tuesday night, when he died.

VanAtta said today the accident happened at U.S.10 and Williams Lake Road. Gallerani and three other drivers, he said, were waiting for the traffic light when Vogt's car plowed into the rear of Gallerani's, touching off a chain reaction accident which involved all four cars.

VanAtta is attempting to get statements from the other three drivers, he said.

Members of a large-scale bad check ring who have been jailed in three states passed 21 bad checks totalling more than $1,700 in the Pontiac area, Pontiac Police detective Olin E. Hoffman said today.

Two alleged members of the gang, which has reportedly netted more than $100,000 in five states in the past two years, were arrested in Walled Lake last week and turned over to police in Jackson, Hoffman said.

The pair are Clarence Spencer, 46, suspected of being the brains of the gang, and Harry Rose, 31, both of Winchester, Kentucky.

Two more suspects are being held in Lima, Ohio, where Hoffman and Det. Ray Meggitt interviewed them about their local activities two months ago. They are William Hale and William Beckett.

Democrat Rivals Share Same Roof in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver, both busy chasing stray Democratic votes all over California, came to rest under the same roof last night.

Stevenson slept on the third floor, Kefauver on the second floor of the Ambassador Hotel. Tired after his major speech, Stevenson went to bed before Kefauver checked in.

There was no plan to meet at breakfast, either. Stevenson was scheduled to make an early TV appearance, Kefauver to move on to Bakersfield.

They'll get together Sunday at Los Banos where both are slated to appear in a parade and perhaps tangle in an informal discussion but no formal debate.

Delegate Nominees Must File Petitions

Voters who intend to run as precinct delegates to the August County convention must file their petitions by 4 p.m., May 29, County Clerk Lynn D. Allen said yesterday.

Allen said filing has been slow to date.

Petitions must bear signatures of not less than 10, nor more than 15 registered and qualified electors of the precinct in which the candidate intends to run, he said.

There are now 248 precincts in Oakland County.

Blaze Causes Damage of $100,000 to Apiary

ADRIAN (AP) — More than one million pounds of honey were lost Tuesday night in a fire that destroyed the Hubbard Apiaries at Springville, 15 miles northwest of Adrian. Loss was set at $100,000.

* * *

The flames leveled a 90 by 100 foot building constructed two years ago as a processing and filtration plant. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

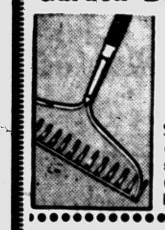

* * *

Eight township fire departments worked three hours to bring the fire under control. The honey plant is owned by L. M. Hubbard.

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (INS) — Horticulturist Charles M. VISITORS IN YOUR GARDEN—4

The Mantis

This long fellow is called a praying mantis because as he sits up with his forefeet before his face he looks as if he were in prayer. Actually he is just making ready to catch some other unwary insect.

He is harmless to man and is sometimes caged as a pet. Originally he came to this country, probably from China, about 50 years ago.

For your garden collection, color this picture with crayons. Remember the mantis is green with red eyes. Behind his head is a bit of blue sky. Now paste the picture on cardboard and cut out the parts. Fasten the forelegs to the body with a pin or brass fastener at the point indicated. Fold the end panels back and the mantis will sit up. You can swing his arms up and down as if he were catching his dinner.

(Send your idea for Junior Editors to this newspaper and you may win $10, as Mrs. A. Bernis of Weston, Vt., did in this case. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

County Still Has Room to Greatly Spread Out

The lead news story on the county page in Wednesday's issue gives some idea of the size of Oakland County.

It also shows that our immense industrial growth has not crowded out our areas for great outdoor recreational development and good living.

While it pointed out the 1956 improvements for which contracts already have been awarded in our largest recreational area, it should be remembered that we have a great many others.

Some of these already have facilities to accommodate the more than two million people who will enjoy them this year.

The news story was about the Holly Recreational Area, under development by the Michigan State Department of Conservation. It comprises over 6,000 acres.

Included in this are 16 lakes, many streams, wooded hills, plenty of native wild life including herds of deer, good side roads and parking spaces, excellent picnic grounds, bathing beaches, magnificent vistas and everything else for which the outdoor lover hankers.

Yet this is located in a central position, within 20 miles of Pontiac, and on both sides of the four-lane Dixie Highway, and with good paved roads from other directions.

This single recreational area is one-quarter the size of a whole township, or almost one-half the area within the Pontiac City limits. But it represents only one per cent of the area of Oakland County.

The present population within this area is less than one-tenth of one per cent of the more than half million people now living in the county.

Yes, we are living in a large county—large in many ways. Yet we still have plenty of room here to live well and have a good time without any overcrowding.

Progress in Burma

In contrast to the upset in Ceylon, news of the national election in Burma is encouraging.

The eight-year-old government of Prime Minister U Nu came through the test at the polls with flying colors although opposition parties got more votes than expected. At the same time, however, there was strong evidence of political progress in the fact that election contests were held in far more districts than five years ago.

U Nu's government is aligned neither with the Soviet nor Western block and is not even a member of the British Commonwealth. As a result there was no issue of foreign policy involved in the election.

A political strong man, the Prime Minister has the support of a powerful machine which has operated smoothly and efficiently. However, he has had to contend with the natural desire of the Burmese for change, and some discontent over inflation. Among opposition parties are the "white flag" and "red flag" Communists who keep parts of the country in ferment, and several tribal groups.

★ ★ ★

Observers believe that the rise of opposition to U Nu's Anti-Fascist Peoples Freedom League would be a healthy sign of further progress toward democracy. So far, however, the opposition has been so unorganized as to be ineffective.

Governor's Breakfast Is Political Success

Governor Williams' "Government Day" visit to Pontiac was a well-managed affair.

Gathered with him for breakfast at the Elks Club were some 70 Democrats. They heard what was billed as a report to the people. During the tour similar reports have been made in Kalamazoo, Kent, Macomb and Genesee Counties.

The Governor devoted half of his 30 minutes to his report on State problems and half to answering questions from the audience. Seizing his opportunity, the State's first four-term Chief Executive took a verbal swing at two high Republican State officials.

He said Dr. Clair L. Taylor, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler had been invited to make the tour but were "too busy."

On the whole the Governor's report to the people was as skillful a bit of campaigning as we have heard in a long time, although he didn't identify any candidate.

However, later developments showed he was speaking for himself. The following day he announced that he would be a fifth term candidate for his present office. He undoubtedly had that in mind at the time. Yes, Soapy knows his politics.

Advance Registrations Are More Than in Former Years

Rain: What once fell for 40 days and 40 nights—and we now are living in an era for breaking records.

In spite of spring weather that does not foster a hankering for outdoor life, most of the summer camps in the Pontiac area report a record breaking advance enrollment. Largest of them all, where over a thousand boys last summer enjoyed at least one week of manhood building recreation, already has registrations that assure a full attendance when it opens next month. Scattered openings in some of its weekly periods still are available.

Boy Scout Camp Agawam,

"M-m-mff Don't Mf-f-m Worry"

David Lawrence Says:

Sen. George to Remain in Government As Adviser on Foreign Policy Questions

WASHINGTON—For many weeks the idea of a withdrawal by Sen. George, Democrat, of Georgia from his prospective race for re-election has been quietly discussed here.

This correspondent learned about it in confidence about ten days ago from a prominent Georgia businessman who happens to be a close friend of both Sen. George and former Gov. Herman Talmadge.

"We who are friends of both men," he said, "feel that it would be wiser for Sen. George to withdraw not only because the strain of the campaign would be great for a man of his advanced age but because we feel that a contest should, if possible, be avoided."

IKE OFFERS POSITION

When asked at the time what the senator's plans might be, the answer given was that these same friends hoped President Eisenhower would find an opportunity to use the senator's services, since it would be an excellent way to emphasize bipartisan cooperation on foreign policy.

It is to be noted that, when news of the withdrawal of Sen. George became known on Wednesday through a copyrighted article in the Augusta, Ga., Chronicle and was later confirmed the same day by the senator himself in Washington, there was ready at once a letter from the President offering to the Georgian a post of great importance in international affairs.

There was nothing prearranged about it in the sense that this action was designed to influence the senator's decision. Actually the senator didn't make up his mind till a few days ago that he wouldn't make the race. Incidentally, the volunteer workers in his headquarters in Atlanta are reported by the United Press to have been caught flatfooted on Wednesday by the developments in Washington and had already mailed out 30,000 pamphlets and 28,000 letters relating to his prospective campaign. So it was apparent they were not notified of George's decision till the last moment.

Politically, the action of Sen. George does not necessarily mean that Georgia will be without a contest this fall. The Democratic primary, which is equivalent to an election, will bring out opposition to former Gov. Talmadge, who has already announced his candidacy. It is believed that some of the anti-Talmadge groups have felt they would have a better chance against the former governor if they had a younger and more enthusiastic champion of their cause than Sen. George to represent them in the primary.

As for the situation in the Senate, the retirement of Sen. George is a distinct loss to the Eisenhower administration. Always objective and broad-gauged in his approach to foreign policy questions, George played an influential part in shaping the administration's course. When, however, he becomes an adviser and sits in the executive branch of the government, he will not have the same influence in the Senate as he has today.

But even if the President should be re-elected and get a Republican majority in the Senate, he would need the help of a man like Sen. George in dealing with members of both parties on Capitol Hill on matters of foreign policy. It would have been far better for the Eisenhower program in international affairs if Sen. George could have been re-elected and remained in the Senate.

But, recognizing all the factors, the President—who was appraised of the situation several weeks ago—stood ready to take advantage of the fact that Sen. George's services would be available to the administration in a few months.

★ ★ ★

There is on every side admiration for Walter George as a statesman. At heart he has been a conservative. His chairmanship of the Senate Finance Committee helped to steer the nation through the shoals of New Dealism, though he incurred the political enmity of FDR because of it. Occasionally Sen. George veered from conservatism in order to help his own party on domestic policies. On international questions, however, he never let partisanship warp his judgment—a rarity in public life nowadays.

There's No Fear of Sterility From Fluoroscope Exams

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

"My boy had three fluoroscope examinations, one a month. We thought he might have swallowed a foreign object. Since then I have heard that fluoroscope examinations may make a person sterile, but x-ray doesn't do so." (F. M.)

Fluoroscope is X-ray.

There is virtually no danger of sterility from examinations.

The correspondent does not say what sort of foreign body the boy might have swallowed He does not say what symptoms, if any, the boy developed within a day, a week or a month after the possible swallowing of the foreign body, that warranted X-ray examination.

If the boy had no unusual symptoms the X-ray examinations were gratuitous, not called for, and probably carried out merely because the doctor hadn't the courage to tell the parent it was a foolish waste of money.

If the boy actually swallowed a foreign body, the probability would be that the object would be expelled via the natural outlet in 48 hours, more or less.

When a child or an one else swallows a foreign body, don't get hysterical. Remember, in most instances parents never miss the coin, button, or other object the baby has swallowed. It passes through the alimentary canal without any trouble.

If you know or strongly suspect the child has swallowed a foreign body, instead of calling the fire department, the police, an ambulance, or a plumber just follow these sensible rules:

1. Do Not give an emetic or a laxative or physic.

2. Give a young infant all the ripe banana, mashed potato, scraped apple or apple sauce and gruel he will eat, for a day or two. Give an older child a bowl of mixed vegetables such as cabbage, celery, carrots, green beans, spinach, parsnips, beets or beet greens, spinach, lettuce, and any fruit the child likes. This should be cooked not more than fifteen minutes.

The purpose of such diet is to provide a bulky residue which will collect around the foreign object and embed it in a comparatively smooth mass. Thus it will be more easily carried through the canal and evacuated.

In any case, my advice is that you leave to the doctor the question of when and what kind of X-ray examination is necessary.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Reader Asks Explanation of Mental Health Terms

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Following Mental Health week, the general public is being urged to take part by better understanding of the mentally sick person. Wouldn't it be advisable for some qualified psychologist to explain various classified neurotic terms, and what type of behavior one can expect from someone suffering from them?

The mental health situation seems to be a serious thing, and everyone is asked to be understanding. How can they be if one psychologist presents one viewpoint and another presents another theory?

Experts have made statements that one mentally sick person can affect the mental health of an entire family or the whole community, or perhaps the whole world, like Hitler and such dictators, who were considered neurotic by their doctors.

An article explaining these different mental classifications as they apply to individuals, instead of grouping all mental illness in one lump, would bring about a more enlightened picture.

'Think Hard Before You Write and Hurt Someone'

Isn't there some other way to get a curve moved instead of bringing up the death of four young boys who lost their lives on that certain curve?

No, don't drink and drive, but everyone makes mistakes. Why wait until something happens like this and cause the parents of those boys more heartaches than they have already been through?

You may be in their place some day and how would you feel to read something like that in the paper? Think and think hard before you write and hurt someone.

Helen Kelly
4769 Cass-Elizabeth Rd.

Hal Boyle Says:

Fifteen-Cent Jaunt Takes Robert Merrill 10 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — It takes just 15 cents and a few minutes to go by subway from Brooklyn to the Metropolitan Opera House in Manhattan.

It took Robert Merrill 10 hard and often lonely years to make the journey but at 27 he came as a star. He was the youngest baritone ever to make his debut at the Metropolitan in a major role.

SCARCE BARITONES

Good operatic baritones are almost as scarce as penguins in Florida. Merrill, son of a Brooklyn laborer, is one of the best America has produced.

★ ★ ★

Like most opera stars Bob is proud to call himself "a long-hair," but he doesn't let his hair fall over his eyes and blind him to other forms of music.

"I like almost any kind of music except rock-n-roll," he said. "But that I don't go for."

★ ★ ★

STILL TOO SHY

"It did help, too," he remarked. "But I was still so shy about appearing in public that I quit singing at 12 and didn't take it up again until I was 17.

★ ★ ★

"This turned out to be a good thing. I found out later that many children ruin their voice by using it too much during the years when the voice is changing. It should be rested and allowed to strengthen."

An odd reversal takes place in boys' voices as they mature. Sopranos usually turn into baritones or even bassos. It is the altos who become tenors.

★ ★ ★

Merrill has a theory that many young singers, even after they reach physical maturity, destroy their voices by overworking them too hard too early. "They try to go after a fast buck too soon. For three years I sang nothing but simple Italian love songs before I appeared before an audience. I was working in a belt factory for $10 a week. I was paid $7 for singing four songs at a wedding reception. The $7 didn't impress me so much as the fact I got a free dinner too."

CIGAR FOR LUXURY

"In those days I used to buy a dime sandwich at a luncheon counter, then go out and buy a 50-cent cigar just to have a feeling of luxury.

★ ★ ★

"But it wasn't until I had ten full years of voice study that I felt ready to appear before an opera audience. It's dangerous for a kid to go up into the big leagues too fast. Opera is too demanding."

Merrill now does about 30 opera performances a year, 10 to 15 guest spots on television, about 20 concerts and spends three weeks in Las Vegas, where he usually is costarred with — of all people — "Satchmo" Armstrong, the jazz trumpeter.

★ ★ ★

To keep up this schedule Bob has to watch his weight like a boxer, take long walks, exercise twice a day.

TENOR GETS GIRL

What is the difference between a baritone and a tenor?

★ ★ ★

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Dr. Crane Recommends Methods for Reviving Railroad Transportation

Business psychologists are unhappy to see railroads and bus lines discontinuing passenger trains or buses. For a little aggressive sales promotion and some modern psychology would give a blood transfusion to our railroads. Alas, they have introverts in jobs that require extroverts with creative sales imagination!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-352: You faithful readers of this column are familiar with psychological advice about using the "sandwich method" for applying criticism.

Well, a year or so ago I was invited to address the big meeting of the railway presidents and other top executives in the Midwest.

And I employed that "sandwich method," very truthfully, too, by showing my personal respect and wide patronage of railroads over the past 25 years of lecture tours.

But even though I started with a big dose of honest compliments and ended likewise, my "meaty" layer didn't go across very well.

For a certain vice-president of one of the lines staggered to the lecture table half drunk and wanted to start a fight because I had even suggested that his railroad line could be improved.

"It's been in existence for 100 years and it'll still be going strong 100 years from now," he loudly proclaimed.

As I recall, he had inherited his job from his grandfather, which may explain why he is an official, for such myopia proves he doesn't rate a top post with any good railroad nowadays.

FACE FACTS

One of the few really progressive men in railroad transportation is dynamic, yet most of the executives I have met either openly or indirectly show they hate him. Why?

Because he is a real promoter with clever ideas and a fresh viewpoint.

And he taunts the ultra-conservative leaders of our railroads by showing that they still build cars about 52 inches off the ground just because the first freight train about 125 years ago was constructed at that height. And why did they want it at that height way back then?

Because a bale of cotton was to be loaded on that first freight train and the cotton happened to be lying on a platform about 52 inches above ground.

So for 125 years we have been saddled with a cumbersome railroad design that presents a high center-of-gravity hazard, just because a single bale of cotton was once lying on a platform 52 inches high.

★ ★ ★

The progressive man taunts other railroaders about their myopia and congealed thinking. For he takes the modern viewpoint of progressive Allied Psychologists.

He doesn't believe in withdrawing from the passenger field because of fear of airplane travel.

He is a vigorous modern competitor who prefers to scrap obsolete methods of the past and adapt railroads to the new age.

PICK PROMOTERS

The chief trouble with railroads, as I have analyzed them for many years, is the fact they make top executives out of maintenance men, engineers and superintendents, instead of the genial, sales minded conductors.

For engineers, maintenance superintendents, etc., are usually introverts. They are more concerned with tensile strength of steel rails than with the desires of consumers for modern service.

The railroads thus try to compete with airplanes on speed. They can't remotely do so.

And their leadership was myopic 50 years ago when they ignored the new gasoline motor and thus lost freight business to trucks and passenger traffic to buses.

Instead of realizing that speed is not the major sales point for passenger travel, they blindly try to increase speed and thus add to railroad wrecks, for their high center of gravity cars and wooden ties will not stand the strain.

Why don't you railroad officials get hep to reality and sell "pleasure in transit" instead of speed? Then you can largely ignore airplane competition.

For nobody wishes to have pleasure curtailed or cut short! So offer passengers movies en route and "free" meals, a la the airplanes, and even free ice cream cones every hour, on the hour, plus other conveniences.

Then you'll not need to petition the I. C. C. to discontinue further passenger trains!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Hope Springs Eternal in Collegiate Hearts

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

COLUMBIA, Mo. (INS) — If they're fortunate enough to be typical, university students live in a green-smelling world of fine books, amiable company and incorruptible hope.

Like their eager faces, their ambitions are well-scrubbed and held high.

Their minds are alert and thirsty for news of the "outside world" of money and family-making. But their hearts are young and resilient.

Give them warnings and discouragement and they are capable of wrapping the two in deep thought for a while, then jamming them into a niche marked "for future study."

Here at the University of Missouri's School of Journalism, a cluster of future newspapermen and women is gathered together for a bull session.

A SPECIALIST?

"Is it true," says one, "that you have to be a specialist in some field to get a newspaper job nowadays?" The questioner is a slim, soft-eyed girl, about 19, who looked like her specialty might be tending lost dogs.

"No, not exactly," you say, hoping you're right, "A well-rounded background is the thing to worry about first, then getting a job."

The girl is unsatisfied.

"Do you ever get your choice of what assignments to take? I mean for instance, I'm awfully interested in fashions."

What can you answer?

"The usual course for a beginner is to write obituaries. It's tradition. Unless you're hired for women's pages. Then I think you'd start with society items, possibly, or proofreading and coffee-delivering."

* * *

The girl looks puzzled, just for a moment. Then she laughs; certain that in her case at least, you have rocks in your head.

"Oh, well . . ."

It is all so reminiscent. Back in the uncluttered campus years, you were the same.

They of the "outside world" said the outside world was hard to get along in, that these college days were to be cherished as the best and happiest years of your life, and what happened?

You thought "how old can they get?" and continued to live in an ivy-covered dream of the days after graduation, when there would be no more snap quizzes and final exams, and life would be much easier.

They warned that there were thousands of fine writers in the outside world, and that you would have to start at the bottom, writing obituaries and making coffee deliveries to men of greater experience and ability; and what was your reaction?

* * *

You said that's all right with me, but you didn't believe it for an instant. The stuff written in college is great, every word a jewel, and an "A" on a theme is assurance that God is in His heaven, and applause is certain and close.

BUT YOU FORGET

The lovely thing about life and human nature is that when you get out of college — and write obituaries and carry coffee and struggle for recognition just as they said you would — you are so busy that you forget it couldn't happen. Not to you.

Only when you come back to the campus, and see it all over again in the laughing disbelief of a journalism student who can't wait to lick the business, do you remember.

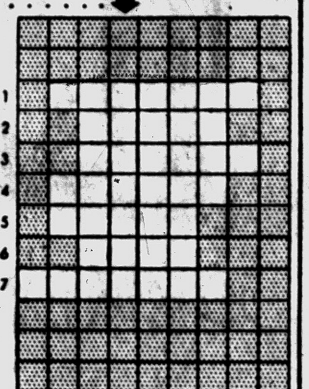

And you, like the student, only cause you realize, incredulously, even wiser, say "Oh well." Be that if you're in the newspaper business — even carrying coffee to better writers is fun.

Michigan Natural Resources Worth $250 Million

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's natural resources are worth some 250 million dollars, a University of Michigan geologist said today.

James H. Zumberge, associate professor, told the 24th annual Adult Education Institute, that nature bestowed the "gift" during more than two billion years.

In this period, he said, volcanic eruptions, sea invasions, and glacial ice carved out the Great Lakes water basin and its recreational and tourist areas.

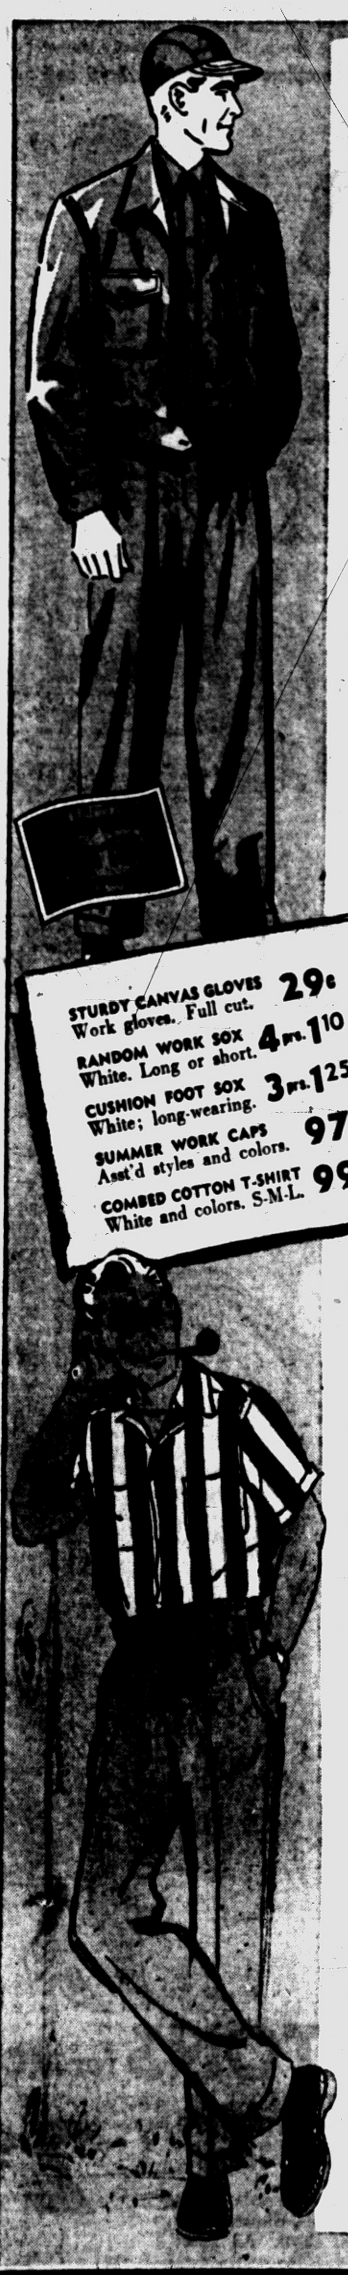

The copper of Michigan's Keweenaw Peninsula was formed more than 500 million years ago.

THE DAINTY BITE SIZE — For his daughter's wedding, Carl F. Wilke, a Cleveland baker, whipped up something special. The giant wedding cake, above, took Carl three days to make, stands four and a half feet high, weighs 150 pounds, and is valued at $150. Based with three individual four-layer chocolate cakes and a three-layer yellow cake, this unique confection is crowned by four three-and-two-layer fruit cakes. According to old English custom, use of the fruit cakes makes it an authentic "groom's cake."

Brazil Revolt Leader Faces 30-Day Term

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Maj. Haroldo Veloso, leader of a futile jungle revolt in February, has been sentenced to 30 days in the guardhouse — for granting an unauthorized interview.

The air force officer probably never will face trial on pending sedition charges for leading the revolt. An amnesty measure now awaits only President Juscelino Kubitschek's signature.

Injuries Rise, Accidents Down

No Fatality in Pontiac During Month of April, Report Reveals

Traffic injuries were on the increase last month although the total number of accidents dropped in comparison with figures the month before, according to a summary from Pontiac police Traffic and Safety Bureau. No one was killed.

• • •

Some 65 persons were injured in April, 34 of them severely, as compared with 45 injuries in March. April's figures show 91 traffic accidents compared with 103 accidents in March.

Last month nine pedestrians were injured, four of them under the age of four.

Speeding, drinking while driving, and following too closely remained the chief causes of accidents.

• • •

So far this year, only one person has died in traffic as compared with five victims last year. To date, there have been 308 accidents with 297 persons injured.

Fountain Pens Emit With Favorite Tunes

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Music instead of ink pours out of the favorite fountain pens of Ernie Walker, 34-year-old San Jose assessment clerk.

• • •

Walker has converted fountain pens to radios by using the principle of the old crystal set. He uses a crystal diode, or fixed crystal, a condenser about a quarter inch in diameter, a tuning coil.

• • •

To the old pen he attaches three earphone jacks, and inserts a slug tuner which slides in and out of the coil to select the station.

• • •

Walker attaches the pen wires to a telephone finger dial — "it makes an excellent antenna" — puts on the earphone and he's in business. Local radio stations come in "loud and clear."

Laborites Want Eden Censured

Case of 'Lost Frogman' Upsets Commons When Sir Anthony Keeps Mum

LONDON (INS) — Sir Anthony Eden, caught in the middle of the most embarrassing spy scandal since the Burgess-MacLean affair, was attacked from all quarters today in the case of the missing frogman.

* * *

The Prime Minister's refusal in the House of Commons yesterday to reveal details in the disappearance of Royal Navy Cmdr. Lionel Crabb prompted opposition Laborites to seek censure.

Nearly all British newspapers —including those with Conservative leanings — were highly critical of Eden for statements he made about the mysterious case.

The unanimous conclusion of observers who analyzed Eden's statement was that Crabb had vanished while engaged in a top-secret operation connected with the visit of a Soviet cruiser to England.

Much of the speculation about Eden's choice of words concerned the possibility that Crabb had been killed by the Russians while on an underwater spying mission planned by the secret service without authority from Eden's government.

Crabb vanished on April 19 while on an underwater mission in Portsmouth Bay, where the Soviet Cruiser Ordzhonikidze and two destroyers were anchored. The ships had arrived the previous day with Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev.

State Moving in Bribery Case

Prosecutor Places Third $100 Bill as Evidence in Optometry Case

MASON (AP) — A third $100 bill has been placed in evidence in the trial of a Chicago businessman charged with bribing three state officials.

Dr. Clare Grigware of Grand Rapids, a member of the State Board of Optometry, identified the $100 bill at Wednesday's session of the trial of Benjamin J. Ritholz, head of the King Optical Co., charged with bribing three members of the board.

Grigware said Ritholz gave him the bill at a Lansing hotel room rendezvous set up after consulting with state police and representatives of the attorney general's office.

Dr. Julien Feiler of Flint, a former board member, and Dr. C. J. Howe of Hillsdale, secretary-treasurer of the board, previously had testified they received similar amounts from Ritholz.

The state charges that Righolz offered the bribe money in an effort to get the board to drop charges of unprofessional conduct against Edwin L. Sanchick, a Lansing optometrist. Sanchick allegedly "steered" patients to the Lansing branch of Ritholz's firm.

Grigware testified that Ritholz telephoned him prior to the hotel room meeting saying he was "unhappy" about the Sanchick case.

"He asked what he could do to have the charge dropped," Grigware said. "He promised to send me a couple of hundred patients a year from his office if I could do something about it.

"Then he became somewhat threatening. He said he had power enough in Michigan to block any appointments to the State Board of Optometry that were unacceptable to him."

State and Detroit police who cooperated in arranging the hotel room meeting with Ritholz were to testify as the trial went into its fourth day today.

Mayor Proclaims Foot Health Week

The week of May 11-18 has been proclaimed Foot Health Week in Pontiac by Mayor William W. Donaldson.

The proclamation urges local residents to become familiar with the public health educational program now being sponsored by the Michigan State Chiropody Association which is designed to help citizens become more familiar with the causes of poor foot health and the care available to meet these problems.

Local chiropodists participating in answering questions about foot health during the week include Maurice Thome D.S.C., Hubert Curson, D.S.C. and Arnold Kanter, D.S.C.

International Bridge Bill Waits Ike's Pen

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to allow three additional years for building a toll highway bridge linking the Sault Ste. Maries of Michigan and Ontario awaited President Eisenhower's signature today.

* * *

Under current law Michigan's International Bridge Authority has until July 28, 1956, to start work on the proposed crossing of the St. Marys River and until July 28, 1959, to complete it.

The Senate yesterday passed a bill, drawn up by Rep. Knox (R-Mich), which would extend these deadlines to the same dates in 1959 and 1962.

* * *

Knox said highway building legislation now pending in Congress may make it possible for federal funds to be used in building approaches to the proposed bridge. This, he said, probably would remove doubts that there would be sufficient toll traffic to pay for the bridge.

'Chip' Bohlen Receives 'New' '55 Car for Use

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen finally got his new car. It is a second-hand 1955 Cadillac.

The big black 7-passenger limousine replaces an old model Chrysler with dented fenders that had been the embassy's official car.

American congressmen visiting Moscow were shocked that Bohlen had to ride in such an old car while representing the United States.

They raised such a fuss when they got back home the government agreed to send the embassy the Cadillac. It formerly had been used by an unidentified cabinet officer in Washington.

Egyptians Fire on Israel Patrol

U.N. Commission Backs Tel Aviv Report About Arabs Breaking Truce

JERUSALEM (AP) — Two more minor incidents have been reported along the Israeli-Arab frontiers despite cease-fire pledges U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold obtained on his Middle East mission.

* * *

An Israel army spokesman said an Arab infiltrator fired on a patrol south of Jerusalem and was killed in the exchange of shots.

The spokesman said another Israeli patrol drew fire from Jordan territory west of the Samarian Hills.

BACKS ISRAEL

The U.N. chairman of the Jordan - Israeli Mixed Armistice Commission supported Israel's censure motion against Jordan for an incident Monday, when an Israeli Frontier house was fired on from positions inside Jordan. But the chairman, U.S. Cmdr. Elmer Terrill, declined to support by occupying positions in the demilitarized area.

Diplomatic sources at U.N. headquarters in New York said Hammarskjold is advocating a three-month trial period to see if the cease-fire agreements he negotiated are effective.

* * *

If so, he reportedly would favor an attempt to work out a more enduring foundation for peace along the Israeli-Arab borders.

Sen. Millikin Weeps as He Praises George

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Millikin (R-Colo) broke down and cried yesterday in praising Sen. George (D-Ga), who is retiring from the Senate at the end of this year.

Millikin delivered his eulogy from a wheel chair in the well of the Senate; he is suffering from arthritis.

"He is a thoroughly great man," Millikin declared. "We shall miss him."

Millikin and George have long been associates on the Senate Finance Committee.

'Thirty Days Inside Red China'

Peasants Eat Better Under Peiping Regime

By PHILIP LUKER

Philip Luker, special writer for the International News Service, has just returned from spending 30 days inside Red China where he met and talked with rank and file Chinese citizens—and Europeans still behind the Bamboo Curtain. This is the fourth article in a series of five describing his visit.

It cost me three times as much to shave myself in China as it did to eat a good meal.

* * *

A meal in a Chinese cafe, simple and plain, costs about eight cents. One British-made razor blade cost me 14 cents, and by the time I'd use a squirt of "imported" shaving cream I had spent almost a quarter.

The leaders of Communist China try to see to it that the people have inexpensive food, and they find it a gruelling task. But if the food doesn't go around, the Communists have a little trick of soaking rice to make it swell.

Prices have been fairly steady since the revolution. They are fixed on a sliding basis according to the income of most people buying an article, and how necessary the Reds think it is.

SHOES—4 DOLLARS

A padded cotton coat, as worn by every man, woman and child in North China during the winter, is less than four dollars. Padded trousers are two dollars and shoes are about four dollars.

Rice and cooking oil, and often-times sugar, are rationed. The ration depends on what work a person does. An office worker in Shanghai, for example, receives 27.5 pounds of rice and 13 ounces of oil a month.

Non-Communists I met in China, including Chinese, said this ration was never enough. People had to fill up on potatoes and bread. But even the most critical Europeans said workers in China were considerably better off than before the Communists took over, so far as food for the mouth is concerned.

Trade Union Congress Officials Chin Tse-Min, Kut Ta-Chin and Wang Yung told me that wages were usually by piece rates, with equal pay for women.

Wages were in eight grades for industrial workers depending on the importance of their work and the experience and skill required. First grade workers received 30 to 35 yuan ($10 to $12) a month. Eighth grade worker received 90 to 95 yuan.

"Wages in 1952 were 66 per cent higher than in 1950," said the officials. "They will rise at least another 33 per cent by the end of the first five year plan, in 1957."

Europeans I talked with could not argue this, but they told me a lot that the Communist Trade Union Congress didn't.

AVOID ANSWERS

Unions are the tools of the Communists. Their main aim is to increase production, and they are rigidly controlled by party members. Conferences between unions and the management of government factories to settle disputes are a farce because both sides have only one aim—to please the government.

Five times I asked officials of the All-China Trade Union Congress if the worker in China has the right to strike. Five times they avoided answering.

Finally they said there was no law against strikes but no one had tried to strike since 1950, when the Reds took over. There is no plan for a 40-hour week and few wages or conditions are set down in writing. Few workers receive vacations or overtime.

* * *

Living conditions have improved a little since the revolution, especially for factory workers alloted one room flats or beds in factory dormitories, such as those which stretch for miles in Shanghai.

KILL FOREIGN FIRMS

Shanghai's slums have been partly cleared and the remainder are not nearly as dirty as the ones in Phnom Penh, Cambodia or Hong Kong. Shanghai was a breath of fresh air after drab, dirty, colorless Canton, Hankow and Peiping. In Shanghai there was a dab of lipstick, a western hairdo and the Chinese split-skirt.

This great south China port can never forget it was once about the wealthiest, poorest, most sinful, and most interesting city in Asia.

Shanghai's Communists have killed its big European firms; have turned the French Club into a workers' cultural center; the Argentina nightclub into a school; and the dog track into a cultural square with an auditorium for 15,000 people.

But the skyscrapers, the famous Bund, the odd, blustering English shop signs and the memory of opulent luxury side-by-side with grinding poverty remain.

SOME REMAIN

Six European shipping firms and two woolen mills are essential to the Communists' scheme of things and have been more or less allowed to remain and make a small profit.

Twenty other firms still exist, but are trying to wind up as quickly as the Communists will let them get out.

FRENCHMEN HONORED — Two famous Frenchmen being honored in a new series of commemorative stamps are Samuel de Champlain, navigator, explorer and soldier, and Maurice Ravel, famed composer. Above are artists' sketches of the stamps, being issued from Paris.

These are the tunes most European firms had to dance to as part of the Communist "squeeze" campaign:

1. Orders for improvements which, if not carried out, brought a government renovator around and an impossible bill to pay soon afterwards.

* * *

2. Orders to pay taxes dating back to before the war, based on claims it was useless to challenge.

* * *

3. Orders that no staff were to be dismissed, except at great expense, and that no wages were to be cut.

* * *

4. Orders to a firm's tenants to pay no rent to the "capitalist imperialist landlords."

* * *

5. Orders freezing a firm's bank deposits.

The aim, Europeans told me, was to force firms to bring in foreign currency the Communists need badly for trade.

* * *

The 4,000 Europeans in Shanghai when the Communists came are now down to about 100. Their number is diminishing slowly as the Communists build up each firm's liabilities to equal its assets, take the firm over for nothing and then permit its management to leave China.

(Tomorrow: Slits in the bamboo curtain.)

Singer Leaves Vegas to Acquire LA Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Jana Mason made a flying trip here from her engagement in a Las Vegas, Nev., night club to get a divorce from her husband A. David Victorson, 37, a host at another Las Vegas club.

She returned as soon as her interlocutory decree was granted yesterday. Miss Mason, 24, and Victorson came from New York, where she sang in night clubs.

New labor accident laws have been promoted by Argentina's Provisional President, extending the law to cover more workmen and increasing benefits, Buenos Aires reports.

MUSIC TO RECOVER BY—The newscamera catches a poignant scene in Children's Hospital, Akron, Ohio, during the semiannual Children's Concert Day. Five-year-old Letta Sublett, almost immobilized from burns, rings out a soft rhythm on the bells to Mrs. L. E. Warford's song on the piano. Under leadership of Children's Concert Society volunteers, youngsters in the hospital "roll their own" music in rhythm band fun. Those who can move go from ward to ward.

Jess Barker Escapes Child-Support Hike

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Jess Barker won't have to increase child-support payments from $50 to $250 a month, as asked by starlet Yvonne Doughty.

• • •

The actor appeared in Superior Court yesterday to answer her demand, but neither she nor her attorney showed up so Barker won by default.

• • •

Miss Doughty has a paternity suit pending against Barker, former husband of actress Susan Hayward. He denies being the father of Miss Doughty's baby daughter. The child support payments were ordered temporarily last month pending trial of the suit.

The American revolution lasted six years, 1775-1781, but it was nearly two years later, in 1783, before peace was formally proclaimed.

William Holden Will Crash Sonic Barrier Saturday

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor William Holden says he will crash the sound barrier Saturday in a TF86 Sabre Jet.

• • •

Holden will be the first actor to do it, his studio claims.

• • •

The flight will be made at Edwards Air Force Base, Edwards, Calif., where Holden recently filmed "Toward the Unknown," a move about the faster-than-sound jet pilots.

• • •

The star, whose love for high speed and danger made him soup up his foreign car so that it will go 200 m.p.h., already has gone through the necessary indoctrination course and passed the physical tests, the studio said yesterday.

• • •

Protective Mother Was Illegally Jailed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Gloria Chapman, who went to jail April 19 when she informed the court she would not disclose the whereabouts of her children, was illegally sentenced.

The District Court of Appeal ruled yesterday that Commissioner Francis Cochran was not sitting as a judge pro tem and had no authority to sentence Mrs. Chapman to jail.

Mrs. Chapman, expecting another man's child, refused to reveal where her other children were. They were to have been turned over to her divorced husband Mervin A. Chapman. Subsequently she was freed on a writ of habeas corpus, issued by the appellate court which yesterday discharged the petition against her.

Indochina Truce Team Reportedly Will Stay On

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A well-informed source said the international armistice commission supervising the Indochina truce has been told to stay on the job.

The informant said the instructions were sent by Britain and Russia as cochairmen of the 1954 Geneva conference that arranged the armistice.

There had been some doubt among commission members as to whether they would remain in divided Viet Nam after their two-year tenure expires this July. India, Poland and Canada are commission members.

New Students Lack Decision

UM Dean Says Many Who Enter College Alter Studies in 1st Two Years

Many of today's high school seniors will be starting the great adventure of college next fall. To acquaint them and their parents with some things they might expect and to provide some thought on the training they might want to take, this second in five articles has been prepared.

By JOHN BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Most of the students going to college today enter the college of literature, science and the arts. It's probably a very good thing.

Dean James Robertson, who heads that college at the University of Michigan, explains, "over half of those who come to college with a pre-conceived notion of what they want to be, change their minds in the first two years."

The literary college, he adds, gives them a chance to explore around, taste several different fields and then make up their minds.

As members of the literary college, students have to take a two-year general course before they can begin to think about specializing in any particular field.

MUST TAKE ENGLISH

He must take certain English courses, a certain number of hours in social science, physical science and language. The aim is to give him a good basis for any field he chooses.

In the social sciences he can study history, economics, sociology or other fields. There are also a certain number of extra hours in which he can take anything he wants.

Dean Robertson says, "within this college at least, there is the custom building of an education."

BIG SCHOOLS BETTER

There are all sorts of folk lore, he says, on which is better, the big university or the small college. There are many advantages to both. But, he points out, small schools are necessarily restrictive in what they can offer. Even in a big university, he says, there is "ample opportunity for students to identify themselves with small manageable groups."

Too many students put the cart before the horse in emphaslzing extra-curricular work, he adds.

"If a student can do both, all the better," Dean Robertson says, "but he should take his academic program seriously first."

Foreign languages are invaluable," he adds.

Literary scohol, or "Lit" school, as it's called serves also to prepare professional students for their specialiaztion. If a student decides he wants to be a doctor, Dean Robertson says, "it gives him the opportunity to put to a test what it takes to become a doctor."

Dewey, Cooper Under White House Pressure

By RUTH MONGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS)—Republican king-makers are secretly pouring the election-year pressure on former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and ambassador John Sherman Cooper to run the Senate this fall.

A reliable source told this writer that Dewey is "still saying no" but has lately given signs of wavering under strong pressure from President Eisenhower's top political lieutenants.

The White House is eager to snare New York's best GOP vote-getter to run against 78-year-old Sen. Herbert Lehman, who is up for re-election this November.

COOPER THINKING

The source confided that Cooper is "seriously considering a party draft" for the Kentucky seat of the late Sen. Alben W. Barkley and hopes to give his answer "in about 10 days."

At stake is control of the Senate for the two years beginning next January. Democrats now hold only a one vote majority, and the unexpected deaths of Barkley and Sen. Harry M. Kilgore of West Virginia have thrown the race wide open.

To add to Democratic woes, incumbent Sen. Alan Bible thas declined to run for re-election in Nevada, and prospects look bright for Republican candidate Clifton Young, youthful congressman who has twice won election on a statewide basis.

SHAGGY DOG HAT — Resembling some fiesta celebrant who hasn't yet got the confetti out of her hair, this model hides her blonde light under a bushel of black straw. The hat (?) is a new creation whipped up by "Anny" of Milan.

Present front-runner for the GOP nomination in New York state is attorney general Jacob Javits, only Republican to win election on the state ticket last year.

Several other Republicans are casting hopeful eyes at Lehman's seat, but according to an informed source, all are willing to step aside if Dewey can be persuaded to run.

Dewey, twice the Republican standard-bearer, is currently enjoying a lucrative law practice in New York. Party stalwarts have reminded him, however, that unlike cabinet officials, many senators and congressmen continue their private law businesses while in office.

Party hopes are high for winning Cooper's consent to run in Kentucky. Now ambassador to India, the former senator by coincidence happened to be in Washington for consultation at the time of Barkley's death.

Still in the captial, he has indicated that he will complete his "soul searching" before returning to India. The Kentucky picture is strikingly different than it was at the time that Cooper earlier this spring declined to run against incumbent Sen. Earle Clements of Kentucky.

Cooper, with a pleasant life at our embassy in New Delhi now, may hesitate to throw himself into the heated campaign this fall. However, White House pressure is not to be disregarded.

As a lame-duck senator, he owes his present post to President Eisenhower, and Ike is so eager to win the Senate for the Republican fold that he personally persuaded a reluctant Douglas McKay to resign as secretary of interior in order to run against incumbent Sen. Wayne Morse in Oregon.

Dewey, who owes the present administration nothing, may be a tougher nut to crack—unless that astute politician is becoming restive with the role of passive layman.

State Police Seeking 168 New Recruits

The Pontiac State Police Post, commanded by Sgt. Charles Mulick, is taking part in a statewide drive to fill 168 new positions in the organization. Applicants must file before midnight May 30 in order to be eligible for the next training school.

Higher pay and other benefits are available to future State Police officers, according to Sgt. Mulick. Men in trooper rank reach a high of $5,800 in salary with an additional $900 annual pay for subsistence, sick leave, etc.

Interested area residents may apply at the nearest State Police post or talk to any member of the State Police force. Applications may be sent to the State Civil Service Commission or the Michigan State Polie in Lansing.

Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 29, not less than five feet, nine inches in height, in good health, and of good character.

Area Officials Meet on Drainage Problem

A possible temporary dike to prevent surface water draining from Southfield Township and from flooding municipalities to the east was discussed at a meeting in Oak Park City Hall yesterday. County Drain Commissioner Ralph A. Main said today.

Officials of Berkley, Huntington Woods and Oak Park met with Southfield Township officials and Main.

"Southfield was left out of the 12 Towns Relief Drain project," Main explained yesterday, "since they have found it more economical, by millions of dollars, to drain off water to the west. They have planned three drains to give the southern County cities permanent relief from the flood threat, but while they are being built, the temporary dikes seemed feasible."

He said Oak Park and Berkley yesterday volunteered the services of their engineering departments to aid in studies of the project, but no decisions were made at the meeting.

Earthworms have been found over 15,000 feet above sea level.

Hills High School Plans Summer Choral Clinic

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Don Large, Detroit choral director, and Haydn Morgan, head of the Michigan State Normal College Music Department, will help conduct a high school choral clinic in Bloomfield Hills this summer.

Large is choral director at University of Detroit and directs a youth chorus on a Detroit radio station. He, Morgan, and Clarence Luchtman, Bloomfield Hills High School choir director, will share conducting duties.

The clinic, to be held July 11 to 20 at Bloomfield Hills High School, is believed to be unique in its type.

Also in the school system's summer program, instrumental music, taught by Bruce Warnock, will include band school for four weeks.

Other regular and special summer school work, including a four-week typing class will be offered starting June 25.

2-Inch Rain Pelts Most Parts of State

iker, officer manager of the Pontiac DPW, reported.

Neither Oakland County Sheriff's Dept., Pontiac State Police Post or Waterford Township Police reported any calls of assistance during the night.

The rain pelted most other parts of the state. Four inches of rain flooded the Grand Rapids area cutting off part of the city's water supply and darkened street and traffic lights.

A 65-year-old Detroit man Anthony Krolik, died of injuries after his car swerved out of control on a flooded Detroit street and crashed head-on with another auto.

Although no tornadoes were officially reported, a farmer and 18 farm workers in Grand Rapids said they had to lay flat on the ground as a funnel-shaped cloud roared overhead.

By what Oakland County Drain Commissioner Ralph A. Main calls "a timely coincidence," the Drain Committee of the County Board of Supervisors today are touring the southern part of the county viewing flood damage done in the past two weeks.

Seamen, Carrier Chiefs Meet to Avert Strike

MONTREAL (AP) — Seamen and shipping company representatives met with a federal government mediator today amid appeals from Western farmers for a last-minute effort to avert a Great Lakes strike scheduled for noon.

* * *

Some 2,000 seamen aboard 63 ships operated by two companies involved in a wage dispute were scheduled to walk off their jobs.

A united front pledged by the seven-company association of lake carriers prompted some predictions that failure to reach a settlement today could tie up 280 vessels strung along the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River transportation system.

Still on Critical List After Scaffold Fall

A Detroit construction worker, 28, today remained in critical condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following a fall from a scaffold May 1.

Robert Young suffered head injuries in the 18-foot drop while at work in a new auto assembly plant in Novi.

His physician, Dr. Edward Gates, said the injuries were "very severe."

Atomic Energy Electricity to Flow in Detroit Homes

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — John F. Anderson of the Power Reactor Development Co. of Detroit, said today electricity generated from atomic energy will flow through Detroit homes within four years.

Anderson, assistant secretary-treasurer of the 26-member corporation to further industrial use of atomic energy, made his statement in advance of an address to the Michigan Engineering Society Saturday.

"The electricity will be no different from its present form," said Anderson. He said it will be generated at a nuclear power plant at a site proposed on the shore of Lake Erie some 30 miles downriver from Detroit.

* * *

Anderson said the plant, now being designed by Atomic Power Development Associates, Inc., a similar nonprofit Detroit group formed by 44 companies, will be completed by July of 1960.

* * *

He said atomic power will be used to produce steam which will be sold to the Detroit Edison Co. The steam, in turn, will be used to run generators to produce electricity.

"A quarter of a pound of uranium would supply the electrical needs of the average home for 500 years if completely converted to energy," said Anderson, who is employed by the Edison Co.

He said his company's "breeder" reactor design actually produces more atomic fuel than it consumes to make power. Anderson said it includes a blanket of normally inert material around the core that is converted to fuel by the absorption of neutrons produced in making atomic power. "These neutrons are partially 'soaked up' by the blanket in the process of making fuel," he said.

Complete Field Work on 12 Towns Drain

Most regular field work on the Twelve Towns Relief Drain now has been completed, coordinator Anton J. Berst has reported, and design and detail work is proceeding satisfactorily.

Test borings now have been completed, Berst said, and negotiations with Grand Trunk Western Railroad for approval of four branch crossings are being conducted.

Williams Plans Commission to Study Needs of Michigan Indians

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Indians, who have taken their troubles to Washington, D.C. for 150 years, are going to get some attention from a new group of great white fathers in the state capitol.

Aides of Gov. Williams say the governor will appoint a commission within the next few weeks to study economic and educational problems of Michigan's 10,000 Indians.

* * *

Idea behind the move, they say, is a feeling that the federal government's Bureau of Indian Affairs is gradually closing shop and the state will have to step in to help out.

"The governor feels we have to have a body set up to consider these problems as the federal government gets out of the picture," says Lawrence L. Farrell, Williams' executive secretary.

* * *

"The integration of Indians into the normal life of the community is the measuring stick which gauges how fast the government moves out of the business of taking care of Indians," Farrell said.

"There is some feeling that they may withdraw too fast and leave a vacuum," he said.

STATE COMMITTED

The idea of appointing a commission to study Indian affairs got added impetus two months ago when a group of Indians from Burt Lake appeared in Williams' office with a land claim.

The Indians quoted documents which they said committed the state to protect their land rights. They said they were thrown off the land some 50 years ago and never paid for it.

* * *

Williams turned the problem over to Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh. At the same time, he told aides to look into the necessity of an Indian Commission.

Farrell said the commission will be appointed before the end of the month.

* * *

"We're looking for a chairman, now — someone who has a genuine interest in Indian problems and enough enthusiasm to do something about them."

Charles V. Adrian, another Williams' aide working on appointment of the commission, said the group's main purpose will be to discover what problems Michigan Indians have.

* * *

"We know their living conditions are substandard, as are health conditions. We also know they have trouble financing higher education," Adrian said.

"What we want to find out is if these conditions are peculiar to the Indians — if they have unique problems or suffer the same plight of other low income groups."

* * *

SCATTERED TRIBES

Most of Michigan's Indians are scattered along the western shore of Lake Michigan, southward from Emmet County.

Dr. Lewis Beeson, who has looked into their way of life, says that for the most part they live like anyone else in the state, their tribal ways long forgotten.

"There are some, though, who still keep their customs, notably the Potawatomies near Hermansville in the Upper Peninsula," Beeson said.

FOUR RESERVATIONS

Although hardly recognizable, the state still has four reservations — in Isabella county, near Cross Village in Emmet County, near L'Anse and at Hermansville.

Even these areas are interspersed with white families, Beeson said. Their only distinguishing feature is the fact that Indian landowners don't have to pay taxes.

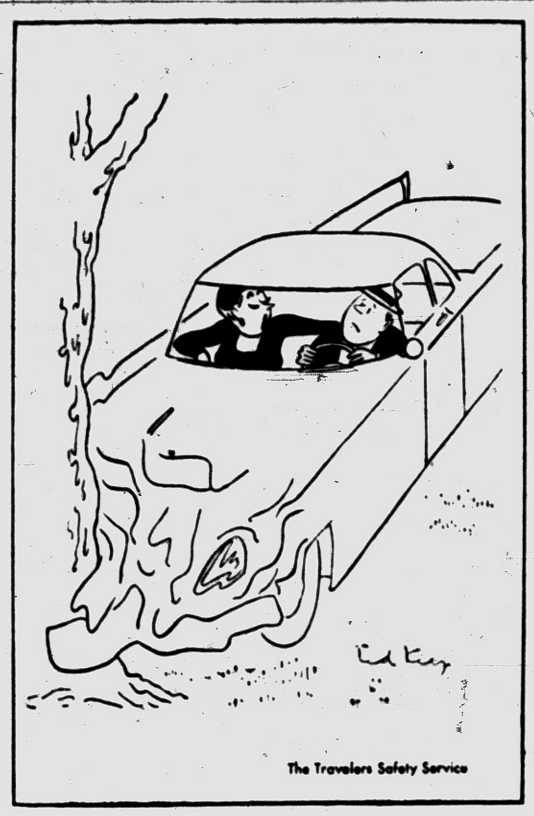

Beeson said Michigan's Indian population has remained fairly steady — at about 10,000 — since the 1880's.

"The best guess is that at no time did Michigan have more than 15,000 Indians," he said.

White settlers found four tribes, the Hurons, the Potawatomies, the Ottawas and the Chippewas. There are still remnants of all of these tribes.

Toy Sales Set Record

NEW YORK—Toy sales in the United States last year amounted to an estimated $550,000,000, a new record. About $12 was spent on toys for the average child. In 1941 the figure was $9.30.

"Lovely car, comes equipped with everything but brains."

Georgia House Built Mainly of Yardsticks

FORT OGLETHORPE, Ga. (AP)—Homer Parris built a house largely from wooden yardsticks. He doesn't know how many went into the outside as weatherboarding but the inside walls, ceilings and floors are made up of 47,600 yardsticks.

* * *

He got the sticks—culls and seconds rejected by the manufacturer—for use as kindling but then decided to install an oil burner and sought some use for the big pile of sticks.

He first used some as weatherboarding on the back of the house but his wife liked the looks so well he decided to do all the weatherboarding with the sticks and then turned to the interior.

The wood strips came in varying types of wood and colors so he did the bathroom in flamingo and yellow; the walls and ceiling of the kitchen in unpainted sticks with kitchen cupboards in yellow and wine red; the bedroom with walls and ceiling and the living room maple throughout.

The floors of the house are three yardsticks thick, the walls two. Parris says the sticks are good insulation and they are standing up under the impact of the four young children.

Floating Cow Racing Roy Rogers' Riverboat

(TV and movie cowboy hero Roy Rogers tells his adventures during a 1,000-mile boating trip down the Red and Mississippi Rivers).

By ROY ROGERS

BATON ROUGE, La. (INS)—All the people who greet us along the Mississippi River seem to think I should be dressed strictly western—cowboy boots, hats, western shirts and with "Trigger" pulling the boat.

I tried the hat and shirt, but almost passed out in the hot sun.

We left Alexandria yesterday morning and for the fourth day in a row we passed a floating cow. Ie seemed as though we can't out-run this corpse. It passed us at night when we were in camp.

When we arrived at Three Rivers we were met by many fishing families and the parish priest. Of course they all asked for "Trigger."

They were enthused by the boats and our attire.

After refueling we left for Baton Rouge. About 50 miles above Baton Rouge we met a shanty boat. I was received aboard for coffee and received a tour of their home. These people had drifted all the way from the Tennessee River.

FRESH BLACKBERRIES

We arrived about four miles above Baton Rouge in late afternoon. Here we had our evening dessert—blackberries right from the bush. It made me think of my childhood days on the Ohio River.

We were met by a fleet of approximately 25 outboard hulls, which escorted us to our landing site in Baton Rouge.

After the usual press, radio and TV interviews, I met Gov. Robert F. Kennon. He wanted to trade knives with me, but I had lost mine and he gave me his as a present.

* * *

After greeting the children and singing my theme song with them we departed for a hotel.

Alabaman Now Has Ohio Wesleyan Cane

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Benjamin Sprague Cowan, 94, of Montrose, Ala., oldest living graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, now carries OWU's alumni cane.

Cowan, an 1884 graduate, is the 11th owner of the cane, owned originally by William D. Godman, only member of the university's first graduating class in 1846.

The alumni cane is made of olive wood brought from Palestine and has a silver mounting with this inscription: "This cane, the property of William D. Godman, first graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, is held in succession by the earliest living graduate of the university."

Ain't No Buffaloes Roamin' in Jersey

WALL TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — It appears the only buffaloes seen around here recently were on nickels, but a western researcher wants to make sure there were none of the live variety.

W. J. Rice, Santa Clara, Calif., wrote to the township clerk that he was compiling a buffalo census of the United States and Canada. A spot check showed that no buffalo had wandered in these parts since the area was inhabited by the Lenni Lenape Indians.

Said researcher Rice: "I don't wish to overlook anyone."

Because of a rapid population gain in the last 20 years, nearly two-thirds of New Zealand's Maroi population is under 20 years of age, Wellington reports.

Farm Wages Average Higher in Northwest

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Farm wage rates in Washington average 3½ per cent higher than a year ago. The Washington Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said the average farm worker gets $242 on a monthly basis, or $184 with board. Its survey showed the average on an hourly pay basis is $1.10 with housing or $1.17 without it.

The agency said the hourly rate is the nation's highest, while the monthly average is exceeded by California and Utah.

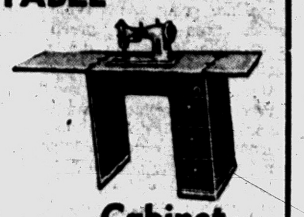

At Norway's second fur auction this season, 110,539 mink furs were sold.

Take Your Choice

The town of Ribe, Denmark, was famed in medieval times for its "code of justice," says the National Geographic Society. Under the code women were given preferential treatment. One ruling was, "a woman who has stolen and is subject to be hanged, shall, instead, be buried alive because she is a woman."

Rural Library Bill Approved

House OKs 7.5 Million Per Year to Create New Book Sources in U.S.

WASHINGTON (INS)—The House has authorized spending seven and one-half million dollars annually for five years for expansion of library services in rural areas.

* * *

It has approved and sent to the Senate a bill sponsored by Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore), which would give each state a basic allotment of $40,000, and the Virgin Islands $10,000.

The balance of the money would be divided among the states on the basis of rural population.

Each state would submit to the U. S. Commissioner of Education a plan for extension of public library services. The plan could include any method for accomplishing this purpose and each state would have complete authority in the selection of books, materials and personnel.

The House Education and Labor Committee said testimony on the bill disclosed there are about 27 million people in the U. S. who are without access to local public library services of any kind. Of this group, it was stated, 90 per cent live in rural areas.

* * *

The committee added that of the approximately 3,000 counties in the U. S., 404 do not have a single library and in only three states — Delaware, Massachusetts and Rhode Island — does local library service reach every resident.

LANSING (AP)—The Lansing City Council has been asked to create an ordinance to prevent merchants from fleeing the city at night to duck payment of taxes. City Treasurer John F. Average Income in 2033 Will Be $25,000 a Year

ANN ARBOR (AP) — If you can manage to live another 77 years, you too could make $25,000 a year.

That's a guess, at any rate, by a University of Michigan business specialist who has charted the rate of economic growth since the turn of the century.

Jerome Snyder, business school economics instructor, figures the average American will also get a month's vacation a year.

All of this, he predicts, will come to be in the year 2033—out of our reach, but still a possibility for our children and grandchildren.

Snyder has tabulated the gross national product of 1953 and compared it with similar figures for the 50 years or so before.

PRODUCT TO INCREASE

In 1953, he explains, the gross national product hit 365 billion dollars a year and the average income was $5,000.

Assuming that the national product continues to grow at the rate it has in the last 50 years—which some people might logically doubt—by 2033, it will reach a grand total of 1.8 trillion dollars.

Snyder says this would likely bring the average income to $25,000—a total earned by only a small percentage of the nation's families now.

* * *

Of course, Snyder admits that the price level will increase gradually too, but he explains, "a gradual increase in prices is not so bad as long as output increases at a relatively faster rate."

Snyder made his comments to the Michigan Journalist, the laboratory newspaper of the University's Journalism Department.

Cherry Blossom Time Approaching Festivities

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—The color of this lush fruit region will change starting this weekend and continuing through next weekend as cherry blossoms reach their height next week.

The blossoms, which range in rich color from white to a fuchsia pink, attract thousands of visitors each year. The blossoms are just starting to pop this week.

ROYAL WALTZ—Sedate is the word for it as Prince Rainier and Princess Grace dance in stately style on their Spanish honeymoon.

TV Viewing Rules May Help Your Eyes

CHICAGO (AP)—An official of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness says watching television will not wear out your eyes.

* * *

Mrs. Virginia S. Boyce of New York, assistant director of the society, said observance of a few "viewing rules" will prevent eye fatigue. They include:

Don't watch TV in a completely darkened room.

Avoid looking at the screen from too great an angle.

Sit as far from the screen as visual comfort permits.

To Talk to Tech Grads

HOUGHTON (AP) — Dr. John T. Rettaliata, president of Illinois Institute of Technology, will be commencement speaker at Michigan Tech June 3. The college will grant 307 undergraduate degrees.

State Whisky Sales Decrease During April

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Liquor Control Commission reported today that whisky sales in April totaled 189,507 cases, a decrease of almost 19 per cent from the preceding month.

Substantial declines also occurred in sales of gin, rum, brandy, cordials, prepared cocktails and wines.

American technicians will aid Nicaragua to develop a program for civil aviation.

Large Scale Production of Snark Delayed by Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Northrop Snark has flown more than 2,000 miles, but there reportedly still is debate within the Air Force over whether this guided missile should go into large - scale production.

* * *

Much the same sort of argument revolves about the faster, more advanced North American Navaho.

Rather than spend much more time and money on these two long-range airbreathing missiles, some authorities would prefer to concentrate effort on the intercontinental ballistic types—the Convair Atlas and Martin Titan.

However, Secretary of the Air Force Quarles has said that while airbreathing missiles are slower and easier to intercept, they have load-carrying ability and range equal to that of rocket-type missiles.

And Trevor Gardner, former special assistant to the secretary of the air force in charge of research and development, said both the Snark and the Navaho have "intercontinental atomic capability."

WINS NEW BACKING

The Snark recently won new backing after its 2,000-mile controlled flight out into the Caribbean. Ultimately, both the Snark and Navaho may be able to reach targets 5,000 miles away, the Snark at about nine-tenths the speed of sound—well above 600 miles an hour—and the Navaho at two or three times that speed.

Supporters of the Snark point out that the Air Force still is buying subsonic long - range bombers, and they contend the Snark can do just as good a job at much less expense.

Whitley C. Collins, president of Northrop Aircraft Inc., told a House Armed Services subcommittee that while the intercontinental ballistic missile as a fearful weapon, it is not "the answer."

NOTHING LIKE IT

"We feel there is still an important defense job for the high speed cruise type missile like the Snark, which is relatively simple and inexpensive, and flexible enough to be used in a variety of ways over a variety of ranges," Collins said, adding:

"We are glad that, as far as we know, the Soviets do not have anything like it."

The Snark was designed about 10 years ago, and has been in limited production at Northrop's Hawthorne, Calif., plant for about five years.

* * * *

Sixty feet long and pencil slim, it has swept back wings and no tail. It is powered by an Allison J71 Turbojet engine mounted near the tail and carries its fuel in the fuselage and in wing tanks.

Legion Members Seeking Aid on Patriotic Project

A three-man committee of the Cook-Nelson Post of the American Legion is trying again to beautify one of the oldest landmarks of the city.

The trio, members of the Memorial Point Committee, are seeking aid in stirring up civic price for the site south of the First Baptist Church, at the intersection of Saginaw and Oakland.

The men are Floyd E. Cremer, deputy director of veterans' affairs for the county, Leo R. Mineweaser, 484 Montcalm St., and Charles H. Crawford, 54 Williams St.

The group has plans drawn up hoping to someday make the site a war memorial to all Pontiac residents who have died in all wars.

* * *

Their attempt to correct this "eye sore" failed last year when plans were held up pending proposed grading of the sidewalks around the 50-yard site by the city.

Plans are for the site, owned by the Legion post, to be surrounded by a low stone wall with flowers and shrubs to be planted. The area around the Union Army statue will be terraced with flagstone with the rest of the area to be seeded.

—All for Nothing, Too

DURANT, Okla. (AP)—A Durant man, Wilson Hoffman, won a $25 prize for a fishing tip sent in to a national contest — but he can't collect it. The contest was sponsored by a liquor firm. Officials wrote Hoffman, congratulating him for his winning entry but said they could not pay him because he resides in constitutionally dry Oklahoma.

Home Owners Urged to Heed Police Warning

All householders have been urged to take notice of Burglary Prevention Week, which was proclaimed here by Mayor William W. Donaldson.

He joined the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police in publicizing the campaign through Sunday.

Donaldson and Police Chief Herbert W. Straley pointed out that householders bear most of the burden in keeping homes safe from burglaries.

They listed these suggestions to fool burglars when no one is at home during vacations, over the weekend or for the evening:

Leave a light on at night. Cancel deliveries of milk and newspapers. Have a neighbor pick up mail. Lock all windows and doors.

Keep lawns mowed and walks cleared of snow. Notify police of dates of departure and return during vacations. Don't leave large sums of money or valuables unguarded.

South Africa has banned export of horse, mule or donkey meat. Last year the carcases of 9,332 horses and donkeys were exported, Cape Town reports.

Bob Considine Says:

South Sea Islanders Master the Good Life

ABOARD USS MOUNT McKINLEY, ENIWETOK PROVING GROUND (INS) — The other day on Parry Island we met an important target for the Russians in their propaganda attack on the United States as a colonial-minded nation.

He is E. H. Nucker, a quiet-spoken and friendly Hoosier who is high commissioner of U.N.'s trust territory for this part of the world.

He makes you proud to be an American.

He is the undemanding Great White Father of 2,141 coral buttons flung over an ocean area just a bit larger than the United States.

The population is 60,000, which would be a disappointing World Series crowd at the Cleveland Stadium or a cause to fire the coach at Ohio State.

"These are old and wonderful peoples," Commissioner Nucker commented as we sat on the lanai of the waterside quarters of Rear Adm. Yall Hanlon, joint Task Force Seven commander in charge of Atomic Operation Redwing.

"They survived domination by Spaniards, Germans and Japanese through the last century but managed to maintain their culture and their traditions. We'd hesitate to try to change them either. They've evolved ways of life that we ourselves haven't achieved as yet.

LOVED OLDSTERS

"We're wrestling with what to do about our aged people and we have great confidence on geriatrics and the role of senior citizens. Out here, the older a person grows the more revered and waited-upon he is.

"Age is prestige, wisdom, experience, rank. Literally, they bring their oldsters their slippers and see that they never want for anything. Isn't that better than social security?

"There is no despotism, no entrenched cruelty. On one of the islands the king insists that those leaving his presence crawl out backwards on all fours. But the people like the way he works for them. When they stop liking him they can vote him out of office almost instantly.

"This king was hit by a one-man sit-down strike recently. A native refused to do his community work. As punishment he was banished to a neighboring treeless reef for the day, without food or water. He paddled back in late afternoon and went to work."

We asked Commissioner Nucker for additional contrasts between life in the U. S. and in the Marshall Islands.

NO BABYSITTERS

"Well, let's take babysitting," he smiled.

"There is no need to hire a babysitter out here. A 4-year-old child looks after his 2-year-old brother or sister. A 6-year-old child looks to the safety of the 4-year-old who is looking to the safety of the 2-year-old. And so it goes up the line to, let's say, 16.

"A 16-year-old would be in complete charge of everything. They do it without pay, as I say, and without television, and without lock and key."

We asked about the plight, as we had come to call it, of King Juda and his people, who once lived on Bikini before being bodily removed by the U. S. to make way for its atomic fireworks.

Juda, when last heard from, was said to be hopping mad. Commissioner Nucker shook his head. "The new island suits Juda and his people fine," he said.

"I was talking to him day before yesterday and he put in a big order for taro roots. He's laying out whole new groves of coconut."

HELP FROM U.N.

Through Nucker, U. N. has brought to these people medicine, education, and inter-island airways, trade and a knowledge that the world is their friend. More than 9,000 of the 60,000 are in school.

The Micronesians, who are about half Catholics and half Protestants, provide for the education of their children through the sixth grade. U. N. will take them on from there as far as they want to.

Leprosy, elephantiasis, beriberi and other old diseases have been wiped out. TB, the present No. 1 killer, is being assaulted. There is no cancer.

"They've learned one other thing," Nucker said thoughtfully, as he looked across the blue lagoon at some of the fantastic gear of the H-bomb era. "They gave up war before you were born."

Mother of the DAV

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Gold star mother Mrs. Alex Sarrault has been named DAV mother of the year by the Cheboygan County Chapter of Disabled American Veterans. Mrs. Sarrault will be honored on Mother's Day. Her son, Allen, was killed in action in World War II.

Brick Houses Increase

WASHINGTON—Use of brick in residential construction has risen 25 per cent in the last 10 years. Some 29 per cent of the million-plus single-family housing units built in the nation today are constructed with either solid brick walls or brick veneer.

Increase Valuations

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — County Supervisors have approved a $932,177 increase in valuations over last year. The new valuation was set at $29,199,727 compared with $28,267,550 last year.

Pastry Chef Gauges Work With Weather

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pastry chef Gene Vogel studies the weather forecasts to determine how he'll do his baking for the next day.

* * *

He explains it this way:

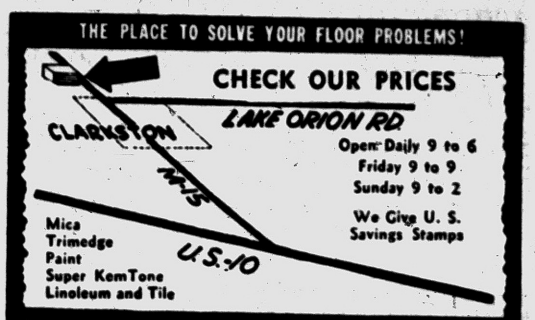

"If the weatherman says 'cold,' I bake extra coffee cake, doughnuts—other things that go with coffee.

"'Warmer,' I make fruit tarts, chiffon pies in greater quantity.

* * *

"'Rain,' I cut down on the bake shop production 30 per cent because not so many people come downtown when it rains and they don't like to carry packages."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex) said today the sidetracked $1,600,000,000 federal school aid bill will be called up for House action in June.

* * *

The bill has been shelved in the House Rules Committee since the start of the session to forestall a floor fight over a proposal to deny federal construction aid to areas which maintain racially segregated schools.

This proposed amendment is being pushed by Rep. Powell (D-NY) a Negro, and until recently it was generally believed he had sufficient backers to write it into the bill.

SITUATION CHANGED

Leaders were represented as feeling the situation has now changed, and that a majority of House members will go along with a bill lacking antisegregation provisions in preference to having no bill at all.

* * *

The threat of a Southern Democrats' filibuster in the Senate presumably would be dispelled if the House sent it a school construction bill without Powell's amendment or one similar to it.

The Democratic-sponsored bill in the Rules Committee calls for a four-year program of U.S. construction assistance at the rate of 400 million dollars a year. It would be limited to actual building, and would make funds available to the states on the basis of their public school population.

* * *

The Eisenhower administration has proposed a 1¼-billion-dollar program at the rate of 250 million dollars yearly for five years.

4-Year-Old Boy Saves His Sister With Dirty Hand

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Four-year-old John Lande stopped digging worms long enough yesterday to stick a dirty hand down his baby sister's throat and possibly saved her life.

* * *

Mrs. Irving Lande said that while she was talking on the telephone her 19-months old baby put a bottle cap in her mouth and it lodged in her throat. She said she tried desperately to dislodge it. The baby began turning blue and she yelled for someone to call an ambulance. At this point, little Johnny ran indoors, put his hand down his sister's throat and came out with the bottle cap.

Johnny had been digging worms with his hands.

Plan to Beat the Horses Backfires for Old Vets

DETROIT (AP)—Paul Carro, 82, thought he had a sure-fire way to beat the horses.

Federal agents said they arrested him when he tried to place a bet at a Toledo, Ohio, race track with a bogus $10 bill.

* * *

Carro named Paul Eifert, 72, as his accomplice. The two old age pensioners pleaded guilty to counterfeiting charges in Detroit federal court.

Judge Thomas P. Thornton ordered them held for sentencing. No date was set.

'Rickshaw Boy' Judge Drives Felon Around

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Dist. Judge Fu Enin-heng rode up yesterday to the jail at Taichung in his two-seater pedicab — a man-driven tricycle rickshaw. In the other seat the judge installed a prisoner, Su Kun.

* * *

Back at the courthouse Judge Fu sentenced prisoner Su to death for killing a policeman and wounding two others trying to arrest him for armed robbery. Then the judge escorted the prisoner back to jail, again via pedicab.

* * *

Taichung, which has a population of about 250,000, doesn't have a police van of any sort.

Ex-Cuban Chief Back in Miami

Carlos Prio Socarras Deported to America by Batista Regime

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Carlos Prio Socarras, stormy former president of Cuba, was back here in his old exile city today after being thrown out of the country, he said, by the Cuban national police.

U. S. immigration authorities, who say Prio has once violated the Neutrality Act, were somewhat at a loss whether to let him stay in this country and will probably set the matter down for a hearing.

Prio, meanwhile, was surrounded by many followers who remained here when he ended an exile of nearly four years and returned to Cuba last August. He was deposed by Fulgencio Batista, who is still the president, in a bloodless coup in 1952.

The two men were indicted at New York in 1953 on a charge of violating the Neutrality Act in connection with alleged purchase of arms. Prio pleaded no contest and paid a fine. Izquierdo, who had gone to Mexico, could not reenter the country and did not plead.

3R's Take Holiday – Pupils View Sheep Being Shorn

A little bit of farm was transported to the city yesterday when elementary students at Longfellow School witnessed something brand new to them . . . sheep shearing.

Howard Storm, Lake Orion High School senior and East Orion 4-H Club member, and his father, Leon Storm showed the young students the first step in getting wool for clothes.

Rapt attention was paid to the delicate task by enthralled youngsters with a few minor interruptions from a couple of scene stealers . . . two baby lambs.

Howard recently completed a short course at Michigan State University on sheep shearing. His father said that such a skill keeps Howard pretty busy around the area.

Tacher Mildred Gingell arranged the demonstration for the students in conjunction with a science exhibit at the school May 21.

Lost Woman Found After Night in Woods

GAYLORD (AP) — Mrs. Carmille Lawrence of New York City who disappeared yesterday during an afternoon stroll was found safe today ½ mile south of her northern lower Michigan lodge home.

* * *

State Police Lt. Francis Cole said the 72-year-old mother-in-law of NBC Vice President Harry Bannister had wandered all night in the wild and lonely Pigeon River forest near her home.

* * *

Mrs. Lawrence said she lost her way in the Hardwood forest and became separated from her dog. She walked out of the forest and up to a farm home of Carl Cherwinski about 6 a.m. Cherwinski notified police.

Cole said Mrs. Lawrence appeared to be in "very good condition" despite her ordeal.

* * *

Mrs. Lawrence's disappearance touched off a widespread police search near this resort town. Her daughter, Mrs. Harry Bannister called state troopers after Mrs. Lawrence's dog returned home alone five hours after the two set out for an after-lunch walk. Mrs. J. Bannister said her mother took walks daily.

State Polio Program Progress Continues

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's anti-polio vaccination program continues to make good progress.

* * *

A report was made yesterday by Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, to the Michigan Public Health Assn.

* * *

Heustis said the state has received more than 2,250,000 doses of vaccine. If deliveries continue, he said, the entire priority group will have had one dose of vaccine by mid-June, and many persons, two doses.

The priority group comprises children aged one through 14, and pregnant women.

* * *

Heustis reviewed other aspects of the state public health program and predicted the years ahead will bring health gains "beyond present imagination."

Memory Will Do It

CAMBRIA, Minn. (AP)—A memory game played by the three young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bowen led to the breakup of a juvenile crime ring. The girls read the number of a car parked at a filling station, memorized it and made it into a game. When Bowen learned the next day that the station had been robbed, the girls told him the license number and he gave it to authorities. The car was traced and its owner implicated other youths who later admitted a series of breakins.

PLUM PINWHEELS — Canned purple plums star in a pastry recipe. They will please particular palates. They're sweet enough to serve as a dessert. We have no doubt that the family will enjoy them for breakfast also, if the recipe is made in ring form.

Purple Plum Pinwheels Please Particular Palates

From the Pacific Northwest comes an interesting recipe for Purple Plum Pinwheels. Canned plums are arranged on rectangles of dough which are then rolled jelly-roll fashion and sliced.

For a breakfast dish do not slice the roll, but round it into a pan and bake it whole. It will be gooey, but good.

Purple Plum Pinwheels

⅔ cup granulated sugar
1 cup juice drained from can of purple plums
1 cup water
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 cups sifted, all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
¾ cup shortening
½ cup milk
1 No. 2½ can purple plums, pitted and chopped

In saucepan, combine sugar, juice, water, cinnamon, nutmeg and butter or margarine. Bring to boil and cook until butter or margarine is melted.

Meanwhile, sift together flour, salt and baking power. With pastry blender work in shortening until it looks like coarse cornmeal.

Pour in milk; mix quickly and lightly with fork. Gently shape dough into ball and roll into 9-inch x 16-inch rectangle. Arrange plums on dough. Roll dough longside up (jelly roll fashion).

Cut into 1-inch slices. Place slice cut side up in greased 8x8x2-inch baking dish. Pour on syrup.

Bake at 350 degrees (moderate oven) for 40 minutes. Delicious with cream or ice cream. Makes one large cake or 16 small pinwheels.

Loaves Feature Ham, Pineapple

Leftover ham can be prepared in many interesting ways. For instance, individual ham loaves decorated with pineapple rings and topped with a delicious sauce is a treat that even your guests will praise.

Try it. Both the ham loaves and sauce are easy to make.

Individual Ham Loaves

2 cups ground fully cooked ham
1 egg, beaten
¾ cup bread crumbs
¾ cup chopped green pepper
1-3 cup catsup
3 tablespoons chopped onion
6 pineapple rings

Combine ground ham, egg, bread crumbs, chopped green pepper, catsup, chopped onion. Make patties about 3½ inches in diameter. For each individual serving use one patty for the base and top with a pineapple ring.

Place another patty on top of the pineapple slice and punch a hole in the center. Pour the sauce into the hole and brush some over the top. Bake until done. Yields six servings.

Sauce

1 cup brown sugar
1-3 cup vinegar
3 teaspoons prepared mustard

Blend brown sugar, vinegar and mustard.

Add grated cheese and minced onion to mashed potatoes for flavor change.

Liederkranz Cheese Popular as Spread

Men usually go for this cheese spread.

Fran's Cheese Spread

1 package (4 ounces) Liederkranz cheese
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
½ teaspoon celery salt
½ teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Scrape Liederkranz very lightly with a small sharp knife to remove some of the brown coating. Beat with cream cheese, celery salt, paprika and Worcestershire sauce. Makes about 1½ cups. Store in tightly covered container in refrigerator.

Pineapple and Rice Makes Fine Dessert

Old-time recipe—still sweet and refreshing.

Pineapple And Rice Dessert

2 cups cooked rice (chilled)
1 cup drained pineapple tidbits
½ cup heavy cream
1-3 cup confectioners' sugar
1½ teaspoons vanilla
Maraschino cherries

Mix rice and pineapple together lightly. Whip cream until almost stiff; beat in sugar gradually and vanilla. Fold into rice mixture. Spoon into sherbet glasses and top with cherries. Serve at once.

Hot Dog Casserole Is Easy to Prepare

Ever try clam sauce with spaghetti? An Italian favorite worth knowing!

Spaghetti With Red Clam Sauce

1 pound spaghetti
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 clove garlic (finely minced)
2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce
½ teaspoon dried crushed oregano
1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
1 can (7 ounces) minced sea clams

Cook spaghetti in a large amount of salted water just until tender; drain in colander. Meanwhile melt butter in 9-inch skillet over moderate heat; add garlic and cook 3 minutes. Add tomato sauce, oregano and kitchen bouquet; bring to a boil. Add clams and bring to simmering. Serve at once over hot cooked spaghetti. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Lamb Shoulder Chips

Sprinkle cubes of boneless lamb shoulder with grated onion, minced garlic and oregano. Let stand for a couple of hours before threading on skewers and broiling.

Spread Features Chicken, Tongue

Have the bread for these sandwiches sliced paper-thin.

Chicken and Tongue Sandwiches

½ cup ground cooked chicken
½ cup ground cooked smoked tongue
1 tablespoon prepared Bahama-type mustard
2 teaspoons finely-grated onion (pulp and juice)
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
Mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing
Salt and pepper

Mix chicken, tongue, mustard, onion and green pepper with enough mayonnaise to moisten. Add salt and pepper to taste.

* * *

Almonds in Pie

Individual frozen cherry pies take on party airs when topped with crunchy almonds. Sprinkle the chopped blanched almonds, coated with melted butter, on top of frozen pies. Bake as directed on the package. Each pie is a generous 5-ounce serving. Frozen peach pies favor a topping of cinnamon, sugar, and grated lemon rind, blended together in equal portions. Bake as usual. Both cherry and peach go for a dollop of sour cream served on the side.

* * *

This new packaged mix comes in three flavors, chocolate, strawberry and vanilla and one package makes two tall glasses of delicious "soda fountain" milk shakes. These gaily packaged envelopes cost six cents and once tried, your family will ask you to keep a supply on hand. Furthermore, this milk shake mix that blends perfectly with ice cream, sherbet and fresh fruits is a means of getting your teenage youngsters to drink more milk.

* * *

Tall and Terrific Milk Shakes

2 cups cold milk
2 ice cubes (optional)
2 tablespoons sugar
1 package Chocolate milk shake mix

Pour milk into a shaker or quart jar. (If milk is not cold, add ice cubes.) Add sugar, then milk, shake mix. Shake vigorously for 15 to 20 seconds. Serve at once. Makes 2 tall glasses.

TALL AND TERRIFIC MILK SHAKES — While your teen-age daughter is learning to "sew a fine seam," encourage her by treating her to a tall glass of refreshing milk shake, made quickly with fresh milk and a new milk shake mix.

Wine Recipe for All Fruits

Use some of the very wine in this jewel of a recipe that you are serving at table. Vary the recipe with a different wine, different fruit.

Jewel Pie

1 can (29 oz.) sliced peaches
¼ cup Claret, Tawny Port or Dry Sherry
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 package Danish Dessert
1-9" baked pastry or graham cracker pie shell
½ cup heavy cream, whipped or sour cream

Drain peaches well. Combine peach juice, wine and lemon juice. If necessary, add enough water to make 2 cups liquid. Add Danish dessert. Bring to a boil; boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Add drained peach slices to Danish dessert and spoon into pie crust. Let cool, then chill 3 to 4 hours until filling is firm. Garnish with whipped cream.

Modern Sugar Bread

Remember that wonderful tasting sugar bread Grandma baked when you were small? It's still a pretty good idea for an afternoon or evening snack. Try it the modern way by spreading bread lightly with butter or margarine and a drizzle of molasses over all.

Vanilla Wafers Are Crisp and Delicate

This rich crisp cookie is quick to make if you have an electric mixer.

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup sifted flour
⅛ teaspoon salt

Cream butter and sugar in electric mixer; add egg and vanilla; beat thoroughly for several minutes. Blend in flour and salt gradually with spoon.

Drop dough by rounded teaspoonfuls, several inches apart to allow for spreading, on lightly buttered baking sheet. Flatten slightly.

Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven until edges are lightly browned —about 7 minutes, but watch carefully because cookies brown quickly.

Remove at once with spatula to cooling rack. Cookies will be crisp when cold. Store in tightly covered container.

Pink Cupcake Frosting

Top cupcakes with this pink frosting: Melt one-third cup currant jelly over hot water; add an egg white and three tablespoons of sugar plus a dash of salt. Beat over hot water until frosting stands in peaks. Remove from hot water and continue to beat until good spreading consistency.

Foil Baking Insures Sweet Corn on Cob

Foil-Baked Corn on the Cob

4 ears frozen corn on the cob, not defrosted
Butter or margarine
Salt and pepper

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Do not defrost corn before cooking. Spread each frozen ear of corn with butter or margarine. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Wrap each ear in aluminum foil, twisting ends.

Place in heated oven at 400 degrees and bake for one hour.

True Chinese Dishes Differ From Imitations

True Chinese cookery is something that usually escapes the attention of American cooks. We prepare American facsimiles like Chop Suey and Chow Mein, but rarely get into the realm of authentic oriental dishes. This is regrettable because many of them are very economical as well as delicious.

Actually, the Chinese have developed thousands of interesting flavor combinations. Gourmets consider theirs to be on a par with French, German and Italian food as one of the finest cuisines in the world.

Some of the best flavored Chinese dishes feature ginger. However, the far easterners use fresh ginger, an item not easy to buy in the U. S. This has probably discouraged many people from trying authentic Chinese recipes.

Going on this assumption the American Spice Trade Association has done cooking research to discover how much ground dried ginger should be substituted for fresh ginger. The recipes that follow use the ground spice. These are Americanized versions of the Chinese recipes, not to be confused with American inventions like Chop Suey.

Incidentally, we can learn more than a new recipe or two from the Chinese. Their use of ginger to heighten the flavor of vegetables is something we would do well to copy. They also use it to perk up meats and poultry. Try rubbing a chicken inside and out with ground ginger and sprinkling the spice into a vegetable soup. Its pungency seems to accent other flavors making it a spice with many uses.

TRUE CHINESE FLAVOR — A sprinkle of ground ginger gives homemade Chinese food the same warm fragrant tang found in authentic oriental dishes. You'll find the spice will give an unusual and delicious taste to commonplace vegetables.

Chow Chi Pan-Fried

2 cups cooked chicken strips
2 cups cooked pork strips
1-3 cup soy sauce
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
½ head Chinese cabbage, sliced
1 cup bean sprouts, drained
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
½ teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon cornstarch

Slice chicken and pork in thin strips, ¼ to ⅜-inch thick, in Chinese style. Soak in soy sauce 30 to 40 minutes. Remove chicken and pork from sauce and set aside. Save sauce.) Melt butter or margarine in a 9-inch skillet. Add mushrooms, chicken and pork. Saute until mushrooms are limp. Add Chinese cabbage. Cook until wilted, about 5 minutes, stirring often. Add bean sprouts, black pepper and ginger. Blend the soy sauce with cornstarch and pour over all. Heat thoroughly or until sauce is slightly thick.

Subgum Salad

¼ pound watercress
2 large green peppers
1 large head lettuce
1 cup drained bean sprouts
¼ cup olive oil
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
½ teaspoon garlic powder
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
½ teaspoon sugar
¾ teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon salt
2½ tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon catsup
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped

Cut watercress into 1-inch lengths. Slice green peppers into very thin slivers. Tear lettuce into pieces convenient for eating and mix with bean sprouts, watercress and peppers. Add remaining ingredients and toss lightly. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

Grapefruit Lends Tang to Pineapple

Tangy grapefruit is wonderfully refreshing with sweet pineapple.

Pineapple-Grapefruit Cup

1 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) crushed sweetened pineapple
2 medium-sized or large grapefruit

Have pineapple and grapefruit chilled. Empty pineapple into a serving bowl, individual serving dishes or sherbet glasses.

Cut rind away from grapefruit so no white membrane remains. With sharp paring knife, cut away grapefruit sections from dividing membranes.

Squeeze juice from membranes into pineapple. Arrange grapefruit sections in circular fashion over pineapple. Arrange grapefruit sections in circular fashion over pineapple.

Cover and refrigerate if not served immediately. Makes six servings. Pink grapefruit looks pretty with the gold-colored pineapple.

Sweet 'n' Tangy Sauce Poured Over Spareribs

Spareribs With Pineapple

3 pounds fresh spareribs
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1 can (9 ounces) sliced pineapple
1-3 cup wine vinegar
½ cup cooking sherry
2 tablespoons American-type soy sauce

Have spareribs cut in serving-size pieces. Place in single layer, meaty side up, in large shallow roasting pan. Roast in moderate (350 degrees) oven one hour; turn halfway through cooking period and pour off fat at end of it.

In a 1-quart saucepan, stir cornstarch and sugar together well; drain juice from pineapple and stir in until smooth with vinegar, cooking sherry and soy sauce.

Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until thickened and clear.

Cut pineapple rings in half crosswise; arrange over spareribs. Pour sauce over. Continue to bake, basting a number of times, until spareribs are tender—80 minutes or more.

If sauce thickens too much toward end of baking period, dilute with one-fourth cup cooking sherry and one-fourth cup water. Makes four to six servings.

Menus to Meet Three Situations

There are three occasions in a girl's life when she needs simple, quick recipes . . . but not so simple, not so quick that she's merely cooking to fill a bored need for sustenance. Here are three menus for all three situations, each geared to foods that she will have in the freezer, refrigerator or pantry shelf. The tricky little secret in each main course is the zesty addition of deviled ham.

* * *

This very week you may find yourself needing one of these time-savers:

Quick-and-Easy for a Threesome:

Heat together ready-to-use cream or cheese sauce and family size can (Underwood) deviled ham. Heat to toast frozen waffles (6 to package) as directed on package. For each serving, cover two piping hot waffles with deviled sauce and serve at once. For a completely satisfying meal add a small tossed green salad, a good hot beverage and a simple dessert such as packaged cookies and canned applesauce spiked with a dash of cinnamon.

Just Enough for Two

Bake or broil frozen potato patties (4 to a package) as directed on package. Top each one with a generous spoonful (Underwood) deviled ham and return to oven to heat through. Serve piping hot with some crisply cold relishes. To make the meal complete, add a generous bowl of soup and a sweet-tooth dessert of canned peaches topped with a creamy instant pudding sauce.

All Alone but Expecting a Call:

Slice canned brown bread and spread with (Underwood) deviled ham. Heat small can of beans with a drizzle of real New Orleans molasses and a pinch of mustard. Add crunchy bread and butter pickles for relish. Make a meal by adding favorite chilled fruit juice and a plate of assorted cookies.

Shrimp and Lobster Satisfy All Appetites

Just because it's spring, serve this delightful luncheon dish of shrimp and lobster. It's a sure cure for jaded appetites. From the freezer take 1 can (10-ounce size) of frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup.

* * *

In a saucepan or chafing dish, combine the soup, ½ cup milk, and 1 cup flaked, cooked lobster (a 6-ounce can, drained). Heat slowly, stirring frequently. Serve on toast with fresh asparagus spears, and you'll have a party for 4.

COOK'S NIGHT OFF? — If you are the family cook, give yourself a night off with any of these easy easy menus: deviled ham in prepared cheese sauce poured over frozen waffles; frozen potato patties, topped by generous helpings of deviled ham, or sliced canned brown bread spread with the spicy delicacy.

Pineapple Boats Are Delightful

If you're having a brunch, a luncheon, or an after-prom breakfast, serve Hawaiian Pineapple Boats. They're simple to prepare, delightful to look at and delicious to eat.

Each pineapple is quartered and the meat is cut out, leaving just a shell. Fresh strawberries are mixed with the cut pineapple and sprinkled with sugar. Put back in the shells, after chilling, and serve at once.

Hawaiian Pineapple Boats

2 fresh pineapples
1 pint strawberries, sliced
⅓ cup sugar

Quarter each pinapple, cutting through the top. Remove the core from each. Cut fruit from shell leaving a half-inch wall.

Cut the removed fruit into bite-sized pieces and add to strawberries; sprinkle with sugar and chill. Put fruit back into six of the pineapple shells and serve immediately. Makes six servings.

Natural cheddar cheese comes rind-free in air-resistant wrappers these days. It may be had in 8-ounce, about 14 ounces and 1-pound packages.

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLE BOATS — This pineapple treat makes good eating for breakfast, luncheon or dinner. Quartered pineapples are filled with fresh strawberries and cubes of the pineapple. They're a wonderful first course or dessert.

Ever Try Ham, Gravy With Hot Biscuits?

Ham and gravy with hot biscuits is a tempting combination. Make the biscuits from your favorite recipe or a quick to fix packaged mix. While baking, pan-broil 2 slices of ham and remove to a hot platter.

Then pour 2-3 cup of evaporated milk into the frying pan and bring to a boil. You'll have four servings of the flavorsome gravy to serve with the biscuits and ham.

To bread fish fillets or chops easily for frying, dip first in undiluted evaporated milk, then roll in bread or cracker crumbs seasoned with salt and pepper.

DINNER FOR FOUR — Two tender Spring chickens, plump with a delicious stuffing, and baked in milk to a light golden brown are perfect for dinner for four. Each guest is served half a chicken.

Spring Chickens Cooked in French Style Popular

Plump, tender Spring chickens cooked in the French style, are the taste sensation of the season. Stuffed elegantly, and baked gently in milk, these delicately flavored birds are the delight of the young bride-cook and the experienced expert as well.

Just stuff the chickens and place them in a baking dish. Then, using fresh, bottled milk, delivered to your door and always ready in the refrigerator, pour it around the chickens before baking. Cover and cook, as the French say, gently. It brings out the full flavor.

When serving, cut each chicken in half with poultry shears. This is simple to do and looks impressive. Serve one half chicken with stuffing to each guest. It makes a fine dish for a bride's first dinner for four.

Poulet au Lait

2 (2½ lb.) fryers
½ cup hot water
2 (2") slices French bread
½ cup chopped pecans
¼ cup raisins
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 cups milk
1 small onion, sliced
1 stalk celery
1 sprig parsley

Remove all pin feathers from chicken. Wash and dry thoroughly. Cook gizzard and livers in boiling salted water to cover until tender. Drain. Chop into small pieces. Start oven at 350 degrees.

Pour the hot water over bread slices. Soak for 5 minutes. Squeeze dry. Mix bread, pecans, raisins, salt, pepper, chopped liver and gizzard together. Mix well and stuff cavities of two chickens with this mixture. Truss chickens. Put chickens in deep baking dish or casserole. Pour milk around chickens. Peel onion. Cut in slices and add with celery and parsley to chickens. Cover with lid or aluminum foil and bake for 1½ hours or until tender. Baste chickens three or four times during baking period. Makes 4 servings.

Cooking Fat? Watch Smoke

"No Smoking."

You're used to seeing that sign around hospitals, filling stations, ammunition factories. If you can get hold of an extra print of one of those "No Smoking" signs, it might be a good idea to put it over the kitchen stove whenever you're frying something, whether you're pan frying or frying in deep fat.

The Department of Agriculture, whose sceintists have performed all kinds of chemical analysis on lard, butter and other fats, say that when the fat begins to smoke, it's too hot, and it's breaking down chemically. Maybe you're not concerned about the mysteries of chemistry, but you are interested in having your French fried potatoes and your pan fried fish taste good. And it boils down to the same thing: when the fat gets too hot and begins to smoke, chemical changes take place that spoil the taste.

Of the many different kinds of fat on the market now, the Department of Agriculture says lard is about the cheapest, because we've had so many hogs sent to market in the last several months.

Tea, Coffee Substitute

Mix 1 teaspoon instant coffee and 2 tablespoons water in a coffee cup. Fill with hot milk and flavor with one-quarter teaspoon pure vanilla extract. Top with vanilla whipped cream. Serve at afternoon tea parties as a change from coffee or tea.

Peanut Butter Ideal for Children Snacks

After school snacks are easily and economically made when peanut butter is chosen for sandwiches, cookies, or cake. The 1955 peanut crop was a big one, and according to Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent of the Cooperative Extension Service, the Spanish and Runner types used principally in the manufacture of peanut butter are most plentiful.

This means peanut butter is available in large quantity, and that it represents a good buy in food value for the money the shopper spends for it.

Potato Sign

Most "new" potatoes are red, but not all red potatoes are "new." If they show signs of sprouting, they're potatoes harvested last fall and kept in storage through winter and spring. For baking or mashing, "old" potatoes usually are more desirable than "new" ones.

There are 20½ square miles in the island of Bermuda.

Potatoes and Peas Top for Party Casserole

Potatoes and peas are best of friends in a party casserole made this way: Reach into your freezer for a can (10½-ounces) of frozen, condensed cream of potato soup and a package of peas. Break the soup and half the package of frozen peas into chunks with a fork; combine with ¼ cup milk in a shallow baking dish.

Sprinkle buttered bread crumbs on top and whisk into a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for just 15 minutes. Makes 3 servings.

French-Fried Onions

New ways of using onions can perk appetites every time. Shredded green cabbage slaw with fine rings of mild onions will become company fare. Slices of fresh cucumbers and onions marinated in vinegar or served with sour cream will put summer flavor into springtime meals.

Along with fried chicken, try french-fried onions dipped in waffle batter and fried to a golden brown.

Ready-to-use sheets of strudel dough now come frozen.

Stay away from stained boxes when buying strawberries. Stains on the boxes may mean the berries were overripe when picked, or have been crushed, and will spoil more easily than berries that are whole and sound.

She'll Bake a Cake for Mother

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Sunday is Mothers Day. Traditionally, it is the day when Mom is supposed to take it easy and have the rest of the family do the work.

Daughters all over the country, as well as in the Pontiac area, will be getting Sunday dinner. It may be that they are already experienced cooks. It is possible that this will be their first big meal prepared all alone.

Just a word of advice to all these young cooks: If you do careful planning ahead of time, you shouldn't have any trouble with your dinner.

Sit down with paper and pencil and decide first on your menu. Check carefully in a cookbook the length of time you will need to cook each dish. Then make out a work sheet.

Perhaps the rest of the family will help with the dishes afterwards. But Mother shouldn't be the one to do the cleaning up, not this day, anyway.

One little girl in Pontiac will contribute a cake as her part of the dinner this Mothers Day. She is Martha Gaches, young daughter of the George Gaches' of Moreland street.

Martha has a birthday next Monday—her eleventh. For some time now she has been baking cakes and cookies. Several times, her mother says, Martha has had a cake all baked and frosted before Mrs. Gaches got home from a late afternoon meeting. She cleans the kitchen afterwards, too.

MARTHA BAKES A CAKE — Martha Gaches is almost eleven years old. She is old enough to bake a cake for Mothers Day this year. Already she has learned to follow directions and to measure ingredients carefully. Martha lives with her brother, Leonard, and her parents, the George Gaches', on Moreland street.

As a member of the Camp Fire Girls Martha has learned to make such things as slumgullion. She belongs also to the Pioneer Girls. At home she has a nine-year-old brother, Leonard, with whom to play.

Martha is typical of many little girls. Such little girls are lucky for they learn to cook at an early age. They grow up liking to work with food and take pride in their accomplishments.

They use mixes, of course. But they also learn to make things like cake and cookies from the raw materials. They learn to do creative cooking too. We state as we have many times before that we believe cooking to be just as much a creative art as painting or music or designing.

Martha will use a mix for her cake this weekend. Here is the recipe for her frosting.

MARTHA'S FROSTING
By Martha Gaches

1 unbeaten egg
2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
1-3 cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 squares melted chocolate

Beat all together until of right consistency for spreading. This amount will cover two layers. The frosting stays moist for a long time.

Hollow out crusty rolls and fill foil and bake in a moderate oven with ham salad. Wrap in aluminum until hot through.

Food Choice for Mothers Day Is Large

In keeping with the observance of Mother's Day there are many choices to tempt food shoppers. According to Mrs. Josephine Lawyear, Consumer Marketing Information Agent of the Cooperative Extension Service there are good values in all food departments.

POULTRY. Small four to eight pound roast turkeys, specially priced in many stores, may suggest an elegant dinner. An estimated 8 per cent more broilers and fryers will be marketed in May than in April. This iridicates good eating for broiling, barbecueing, frying or roasting.

Whether selecting a turkey, broiler or fryer, more meat for the money is available if birds with wide bodies, plump round breasts, and short well-fleshed legs are chosen.

FISH. A fish fry is easy and economical if smelt is the selection. For best flavor, smelt should be fresh when bought and used as soon as possible. White bass, perch, pickerel, lake trout, and herring are other fresh fish most plentiful in the market.

PORK. If looking for a budget-buy, compare Boston Butt, pork steak, rib-end loin roast, or picnic shoulder with other cuts. Besides ease of preparation, the 8 to 11 pound canned hams are sometimes comparable in cost to fresh or smoked hams.

At about 80 cents a pound in some stores, these boneless hams compare to fresh or smoked hams with bones selling at about 60 cents per pound. Since more heavyweight hogs are coming to market than earlier in the spring, shoppers will notice coarser grained, darker colored pork.

BEEF. Supplies of beef are sufficient to meet the popular demand, and even though there has been a slight increase in wholesale cost, there is little or no reflection in retail prices this week. The chuck cuts, short ribs, and ground beef, form the forequarter offer the most in beef economy.

VEGETABLES. Michigan's spring agricultural activity is still retarded by cold weather. Local asparagus, which normally arrives about the first of May, is still not expected until about May 15th or 20th. In the meantime, adequate supplies of asparagus are being shipped in at about 20 to 25 cents a pound.

Supplies of old potatoes are dwindling. New potatoes, easy to spot by their thin peeling skins, are mostly the Florida Sebago variety. Potato prices are expected to be reduced when California long whites start to market in about two weeks.

The best news at vegetable counters is the abundance of green cabbage. There is cabbage galore at less than 10 cents a pound, or at less than 3 cents a serving. Uncooked cabbage is an ideal way to add Vitamin C and crisp texture to family menus.

FRUITS. Strawberries vary about 10 cents per pint with most of good color and flavor. Large 8 and 9 sizes of pineapple are reasonably priced, for each will yield about 8 one-half cup servings. A chart showing how to quickly cut fresh pineapple may be obtained by writing or calling Mrs. Lawyer at 1260 West Boulevard, Pontiac, telephone Federal 4-2564. Good quality grapefruit and bananas are available.

EGGS. Large, rather than medium-sized, eggs will give more for the egg dollar in most markets this week.

Sauce Adds Variety

Piping hot chicken dipped in a delectable sauce will add variety to spring menus. Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent of the Cooperative Extension Service suggests cranberry sauce, apple sauce, honey, orange sauce, barbecue sauce, and herb butter for complementary flavors with chicken.

Undiluted Grape Juice

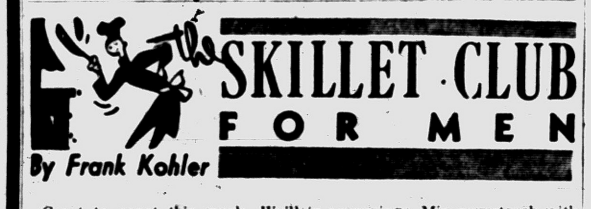

Freeze undiluted grape juice in the ice-cube tray of your refrigerator. Serve two or three of the cubes in a tall glass of ginger ale. Nice at a party for young people.

WINE LOTAN'S BEER
Dixie Highway at Telegraph Lots of Parking

Coast to coast this week, We'll first greet Jean M. MacDonald, Vancouver (B.C.) Province Chapter, who sends in a very nice SHRIMP CASSEROLE. Quick, easy, but not too gaudy. You need a greased casserole, in which you place one-half pound of cleaned shrimp—if they're large, cut them up. Then make a sauce as follows:

2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon dry mustard
Monosodium glutamate
1½ tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon butter

Heat milk in saucepan and stir in seasonings. Mix cornstarch with a little cold water, stirring to a smooth paste, then stir this into the milk, along with the butter. Stir in the shrimp, and bake at 300 degrees until browned.

You may spread the top with buttered crumbs if you like, and we added one-half cup of beer in place of one-half cup of the milk. "Serve," says Miss MacDonald, "with fresh green peas."

Next stop Tacoma, where Miss Margaret Gibson of the News-Tribune Chapter, makes her favorite recipe, "ZUCCHINI SOUFFLE," this way:

6 strips bacon, diced
4 cups diced Zucchini
1 cup diced celery
1 medium onion, diced
2 large cloves garlic, minced
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
4 eggs, well beaten

Cook bacon until bits are a light golden brown. Stir in vegetables and saute slowly for 20 minutes. Preheat your oven to 350 degrees. Beat eggs well, mix with the vegetables, and bake in a buttered casserole for 20 minutes, or until nicely puffed up.

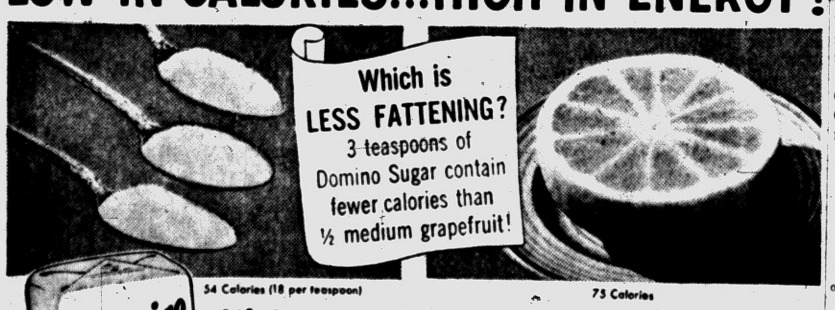

Miss Phyllis Arthur of New York City gives us a fine BLUE CHEESE TOMATO SOUP—and a right tasty soup it is, too.

3 cups cooked or canned tomatoes
2 whole cloves
1 bay leaf
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
¼ teaspoon celery seed
1 tablespoon chopped onion
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
3 cups milk
½ cup crumbled blue cheese (about 3 ounces)
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine tomatoes, cloves, bay leaf, monosodium glutamate, celery seed and onion. Cook over medium heat for 20 minutes, then put through a sieve. Melt the butter over low heat, and blend in the flour. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in the cheese and stir until it is melted. Gradually add the tomato mixture, stirring constantly, then season to taste. Heat to serving temperature.

Supervisor of School Gives Talk

Mrs. Watt Outlines Girls' Delinquency Problem

By MARGARET COLE

St. Benedict Hall was the setting for the annual dinner and installation of officers of Pontiac City Federation of Women's Clubs. One-hundred members representing 19 affiliated clubs attended the Wednesday evening gathering.

* * *

Mrs. Forrest Brown, president, welcomed members and introduced past presidents, Mrs. Paul Gorman and Mrs. Raymond L. Cole.

Mrs. Arnold Hillerman, first vice president, presented Mrs. Barbara Hall Watt, supervisor of the Girls' Training School at Adrian, speaker of the evening.

In speaking on "What 939 Delinquent Girls Have Taught Me," Mrs. Watt stated that they have taught her that it takes eight to nine years of good hard work to make a delinquent; they have taught her the resistance of adolescent personality; that delinquent youngsters are not much different than others; that they are deprived of love and attention, and that children want controls.

'DIRECT ACTION'

"A little more direct action in some cases is most desirable; a great many girls would not be in training schools if effective help had been given back home," the speaker noted.

* * *

"These children know where their love should come from and they look to us for guidance. A community has as much delinquency as it deserves," Mrs. Watt continued.

In closing, the speaker stated that we must attack this delinquent problem on all fronts and, when we do, there will be many more happy children who will develop into many more intelligent citizens.

Officers installed were Mrs. Socrates Sekles, president; Mrs. Arnold Hillerman, first vice president; Mrs. Charles Crawford, second vice president; Mrs. Russell Auten, recording secretary; Mrs. Howard Powers, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. William Dean, treasurer.

Mrs. Herman Dickstein was installed as auditor and Mrs. Leo Heenan as parliamentarian.

Just an old-fashioned quilting bee is what senior and intermediate Girl Scouts call the project they are working on. Called "Americana," the quilt which depicts the history of Oakland County will be sent to the national headquarters in New York City for judging upon completion. It also may be on display at the National Round-up to be held June 29 to July 11 at Highland Recreation Area. Members of the local council are hoping that the quilt will be accepted for display at the Juliette Low Home in Savannah, Ga. Dior Prints Emphasize Casual Look

PARIS (INS) — Style dictator Christian Dior has given a nod of approval to the casual fashion of "separates."

* * *

He has designed blouses and sweaters to be worn with different suits or skirts and suitable for women of any type or age.

Most chic are shirts of taffeta or chiffon with real looking leopard print in yellow, brown and black. Despite the fur-pattern they look extremely chic with a linen summer suit or a cotton skirt.

Really "Dior-ish" blouses spell the fashion designer's name in their print. What looks like a fine pin-dot pattern from a distance, turns out to be tiny letters spelling "D I O R" and printed in black in regular intervals on red, green or brown silk.

There are cashmere tie-silk or plaid printed cotton shirt blouses. The most dressy blouse with the Dior label is a man-styled shirt made of coarse white lace.

Dior fancies a new sweater fabric. He uses rib-knitted silk jersey for new looking de luxe knit-wear.

There is, for instance, a scarlet red silk cardigan with a grosgrain ribbon edging. Dior also shows a black twin-set of ribbed silk jersey which combines a low-necked, short - sleeved sweater with a straight cardigan lined in white and grey striped silk.

Juniors Scorn Sheath

Even though the sheath silhouette is the big trend in contour fashions, St. Louis designers have found that juniors still like petticoats, and so many of the summer favorites are full-skirted and have their own attached petticoats in nylon net to give them that stand-out look so dear to the hearts of the young.

Drugs Can Reduce Your Tension

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Yesterday I suggested that many women fail to correlate their unhappy moods with the time of month. For some years now the medical profession has realized that understanding of and treatment of pre-menstrual tension are important factors in successful living.

• • •

Research, clinical observation and controlled studies have proven that most women suffer from at least some of the milder symptoms. The problem of alleviating such symptoms has been given intensive study and has been approached from many viewpoints. Today your doctor can help you.

How often have you had the experience of finding life suddenly more difficult in every category? Perhaps you have had trouble with those who wait on you in the stores, the children have seemed unusually hard to manage, friction has developed between you and one or more of your friends, and you have been extremely sensitive or critical in your relationship with your husband.

This is a miserable feeling, but recognize it for what it is, and control it.

You may have wondered why everything had to go wrong at the same time! Actually, nothing had changed except you! Your whole approach to life and your personality may have changed temporarily because of pre-menstrual tension.

The important thing is that you yourself realize this. Also, you should use the medical help available today if your symptoms are a handicap to your happiness.

So much for the effect of this few days before your menstrual periods on your home and social life. Industry has found that pre-menstrual tension accounts for around 40 absentee days per month per 100 women and around 60 decreased-efficiency days per month per 100 women.

Some doctors have found that large doses of vitamin B complex are helpful during pre-menstrual tension because of their effect on carbohydrate metabolism.

A study made of the inmates of Westfield State Farms for Women shows that of 58 instances investigated of imprisonment for unpremeditated crimes of violence, 62 per cent were committed in the pre-menstrual week.

While crimes of violence which result from this tension are small statistically they indicate the extreme behavior which in everyday life can result in irritations and daily frictions of teenagers, housewives, mothers and working women.

As to treatment, consult your physician. Generally you might be wise to cut down on your salt intake since this abets the retention of water. Some doctors have found that large doses of vitamin B complex are helpful because of their effect on carbohydrate metabolism. Others use hormone therapy in combination with other measures.

• • •

The important part of my message to you concerning pre-menstrual tension is to tell you that there is a physical reason for it, even for your craving for sweets at this time.

You and your family should know this so that when you are "touchy" or unduly irritable apparently for no real reason (and you may be once in a while even though you try to control yourself), everyone will understand and act accordingly.

Chair Edge Tears Hose of Visitor

Hostess Wonders if She Should Buy New Pair

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "The other afternoon while playing bridge at my house, a guest tore her stocking on the edge of one of my chairs. As the chair had a rough edge on it, I feel responsible for her having torn it. Do you think I should buy her a new pair?"

Answer: If you knew the chair to be a menace and have done nothing about it, fairness certainly directs that you replace every stocking torn by your guests for however long you keep that unmended chair in use.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend tells me that it is not proper to put a return address on wedding invitations. Is this true, and if so, why isn't it proper to do so?

"Isn't there just as much chance of error in the sending of a wedding invitation as in anything else? In fact, perhaps more so because ordinary letters we write are usually to personal friends whose addresses we know too well to mistake."

Answer: When you are in doubt about a person's address it is permissible and necessary to put your own address in the corner if you want to have the envelope returned by the post office. But when you are certain of the address, no return address is a requirement of formality, and wedding invitations are necessarily formal.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A group of girls was invited to spend the day at a friend's house in the country. We arrived about 10 in the morning and left about 9 o'clock at night. We spent a very enjoyable day.

"Some of the girls think that we should each write a bread and butter letter to our hostess. I don't think this is necessary. What is your opinion?"

Answer: Although this is not an exaction, a note of appreciation is never a mistake. One letter written in the name of group—especially if signed by all—would be sufficient.

Couple Exchange Vows in Ferndale

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russel Smith were married Saturday at St. James Church in Ferndale. The bride is the former Margaret Theresa Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Collins of Ferndale. Charles is the son of Mrs. Mary Odessa Smith of Wall street.

For the 11:30 o'clock ceremony Margaret chose a gown of Duopioni silk in princess style. The V-neckline was detailed with sunburst pleats, and embroidered seed pearls and crystal beads accented the bodice. The long sleeves ended in points at the wrists.

Her cap was of re-embroidered Alencon lace trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a spray bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis.

Patricia Collins, sister of the bride, wore a jonquil yellow ballerina-length dress styled on princess lines for her duties as maid of honor. A sash was caught through her full skirt just below the hipline and ended in a bustle effect. Her headpiece was an open-crowned picture hat of nylon net and her flowers were miniature orange roses in a spray arrangement.

Bridesmaids Mary Joan Collins and Mary Lou Ehrmann wore gowns identical to the maid of honor's in a shade of mint green. Their flowers were yellow roses in spray bouquets.

Donalda Grix of Detroit was flower girl. She wore a jonquil yellow dress styled like the maid of honor's.

Best man was Albert Vasu of Berkley and ushers were James Smith, Mugitch Karageusion and Thomas Collins.

MRS. CHARLES R. SMITH

A reception was held at St. St. James Hall in Ferndale for the 200 guests. Mrs. Collins greeted her guests wearing a dusty rose taffeta dress with beige accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Smith wore a turquoise taffeta dress with black accessories. Her flowers were pink carnations.

The bride changed to an aqua suit with brown accessories for their motor trip to Florida. They will make their home on Wall street on their return.

Omega Mu Sigma to Hold Breakfast

New Interests Banish Old Regrets

By ANNE HEYWOOD

In the back of the minds of many of us is the large territory given over to regrets.

* * *

"If only I had been trained as a . . . ," "If only my parents had . . . ," "If only I had been given . . . ," etc.

Then, when anything goes wrong or when it's a dreary, depressing day or sometimes for no reason at all, we can reach back into that territory and haul out a nice juicy regret.

After dealing with hundreds of people, I've become convinced that we really love those regrets and would, in a way, almost hate to be bereft of them.

* * *

For one thing, they give us an excuse for self-pity, which is a pleasantly indulgent kind of feeling.

And for another thing, we can put the blame on them for the mistakes for which we are unwilling to take the blame.

WALTER'S CASE

That's the way it was with Walter G.

* * *

Walter was in his early 40s, a salesman and not very happy about it. He would love to have been an industrial designer, but his family couldn't afford to send him through school for the training.

So for years and years, Walter regretted that fact, and trudged along as a salesman.

His job took him traveling a good deal, and eventually the boredom and loneliness of the evenings and weekends away from home drove him to a hobby.

* * *

He took up photography. It helped to pass the time and he could carry a camera with him wherever his selling took him.

It didn't take long for him to become really interested in photography and he began taking awfully good shots.

Because his work was selling to factories and plants, he started to take pictures of industrial equipment and buildings.

And since he had a good eye for design and clarity, his pictures were soon winning prizes.

* * *

Walter is now an industrial photographer and is doing very well. He's so happy that he never hauls out and mulls over that old regret about not being able to be an industrial designer.

NEW ATTITUDE

"And," Walter told me, "it's changed my whole attitude. I no longer waste time with any regrets, and it's like finding a couple of hours every day!"

* * *

Next time you find yourself regretting lost opportunities, switch your mind fast to a project that interests you and get busy. Sooner or later, you'll be fresh out of things to regret!

Appearance Counts

The way you look on a rainy day is just as important as the way you look any other day. Don't go about looking as if you'd assembled raincoat and accessories in your supermaket.

On a day that's sunny, when you've time, pick out rainboots, umbrella and raincoat that harmonize.

Despite Hard Feelings, Rocky's Future's Safe

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—There are plenty hard feelings between Rocky Marciano and Al Weill—Al being miffed because The Rock quit. One dispute: Weill, strictly business, never wanted Mrs. M. along on trips. Rocky, worth half-a-million now, has a life story movie deal simmering with Columbia Pix, also a $35,000-a-year offer from a Brockton shoe company, and a $25,000-a-year offer from the Cecil Wolfson finance group in which he'd use his famous hands for glad-handing.

There's great consternation in the "Janus" company over Imogene Coca going into the Margaret Sullavan role. Friends of Claude Dauphin and Robert Preston are urging them to ask Equity's o.k. to leave the show. These advisers say Coca, while a great comedienne, isn't as dramatic or romantic as Miss Sullavan and Claudette Colbert, and that the show'll be consequently completely different. COSTLY PLAY—This play cost the Yankees a ball game against the Cleveland Indians yesterday. It allowed the winning run to score and gave the Indians a 6-5 victory. Cleveland outfielder Jim Busby (31) tapped the ball in front of the plate and on the throw by pitcher Tom Morgan he was hit in the back allowing Chico Carrasquel to score. Umpire is Hank Soar.

Foytack Goes Route as Tigers Win, 7-3

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers finally have taken some classic baseball advice: "Don't leave 'em die on base," and in doing so they ran their modest victory string to two games with a 7-3 triumph over the Washington Senators last night.

Eight Detroit batters became base runners and seven of them came around to score. You can't ask for much more.

It was a satisfying victory in many ways. First of all, young Paul Foytack went the distance for his first Major League victory. He gave up just five hits.

Second, Al Kaline, held hitless in six times at bat Tuesday night, belted a tremendous home run into the bleachers with a man aboard in the 5th inning.

And third, it moved the cellar-dwelling Tigers back to within striking distance of 7th place. The Senators are half a game ahead of the Tigers and a Detroit victory in the final game of the series today would lift the Bengals out of the basement.

Washington starter Camilo Pascual breezed through the Detroit batting order without a fault in the first three innings but Harvey Kuenn greeted him with a scratch single to open the 4th.

Wayne Belardi drew a walk. Kaline hit into a force play and Ray Boone lined out but Bill Tuttle drew a walk, loading the bases, and Frank House drilled a tremendous triple into the center field bull pen.

Charlie Maxwell followed with his 3rd homer in two nights and the Tigers had five runs.

* * *

Their other two came in the 5th. With one out Kuenn walked and stole second as Belardi fanned. Then Kaline unloaded his 4th homer of the season into the deep left field seats.

The only other Tiger hit was a wasted single by Buddy Hicks in the 7th.

Foytack found himself behind early. He walked Eddie Yost, the leadoff man, in the first inning and with one out Pete Runnels drove him home on a triple. But Foytack bore down to strike out Roy Sievers and Jim Lemon lined to Kaline.

* * *

In the 5th Sievers homered into the left field bull pen with the bases empty and in the 8th Runnels doubled with a man on second for the final run.

Maxwell's homer was his 6th of the season and his batting average is now .377, third best in the league.

Billy Hoeft was due today against Chuck Stobbs.

* * *

The Tigers return to Detroit tomorrow night against Chicago.

ONE HEAVYWEIGHT ELIMINATED — John Holman (left) 4th ranking heavyweight was supposedly eliminated in the race for Rocky Marciano's vacated crown yesterday when he lost a unanimous decision to Bob Baker of Pittsburgh, the third-ranking contender, in a Miami Beach fight last night. The 12-rounder was nationally televised. Here one of Holman's punches glances off Baker's shoulder.

The Huron Bowl team rolled this season's high game and series in the West Side Senior House League. The five-man squad bowled games of 1012, 1099, and 987 for a series total of 3098.

Bob Kelley led the way with a 675 series as his team won four points to finish the season in 2nd place in the league. The other members of the team were Dick Knapp, Jay Lovett, Ed Stemmer, and Wally Johnson.

* * *

Isaac Crary's 7th and 8th grade track team defeated Redford Union in a dual meet, 40½-36½. Crary won four out of seven events. James Hoke and Roger Myers paced the winners with nine and eight points respectively.

Mike Slivensky, a letter winner in four sports at St. Michael and one of the finest all-around athletes in the school's history, made a favorable impression on the Michigan State University coaching staff in spring football drills.

Burt Smith, MSU line coach who spoke at St. Mike's all-sports banquet Tuesday night, said Mike almost went unnoticed on the 'B' squad until freshman coach Doug Weaver brought the husky end to his attention.

Smith liked what he saw well enough to bring him up for action in the Green and White intra-squad game, which concluded spring camp. Slivensky, a 1952 graduate at St. Michael, may be shifted to guard when practice opens in the fall, Smith said.

THE POWERHOUSE By Jimmy Powers

There is certainly food for thought and searching self-analysis in the excitement stirred by the Kentucky Derby. I don't know how many parlor pools, office or factory sweepstakes revolved merrily on the result at Churchill Downs. The number must have been in the millions. There were innumerable off-the-cuff parlor wagers staged in front of almost every TV set.

* * * *

If you scan your sport pages, you will see the scores, also, of the Colonial Open staged on that magnificent millionaire's course at Fort Worth. Here, they tell you with a sort of rakish grin at the nearest United States Golf Association "badger," there is no betting.

* * * *

A man who had a dollar bill going on Needles; a hausfrau who had "an ice cream soda" riding on her boy, Eddie Arcaro; a big, easy-going, royalty-and-lease man from San Antonio who had a quiet side bet of $1,000 on Ben Hogan in the Colonial, are all gamblers under the skin.

* * * *

They are wagering on a pet, be it horse or birdie-shooter, and their kick comes not necessarily from pocketing the profit, but from that indefinable thrill of correctly forecasting the future and being "right."

212 AMATEURS BOYCOTT CALCUTTA POOLS

There are many misconceptions about gambling. In the current wave of petty Puritanism sweeping over sports, grim-lipped Blue Noses are riding so high some 212 amateur golfers (male) self-righteously signed a pledge they would never again tee up a little white golf ball in any tournament that carried a Calcutta Pool.

* * * *

I was wondering whether each signer, like a man who took a temperance pledge back in the McKinley administration, intended to wear a fluttering white bow of silk on his left arm.

* * * *

Stop now and reflect on just how many millions of wagers rode on the Derby. Junior promised to cut the grass if his choice did not finish in front of Pop's. Little Sis agreed to wash the dishes for a week if Dave Erb, her favorite jockey, didn't come galloping down in front. A case of beer here, a free trip to the movies . . . the wagers started modestly and zoomed to the $1,000 level.

Patterson Will Box 'Hurricane'

Winner of June 8 Bout Takes On Archie Moore for Heavyweight Title

NEW YORK (AP) — The master plan calls for Floyd Patterson to box Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson June 8 with the winner fighting Archie Moore for the vacant heavyweight title in September.

The Patterson - Jackson match was signed yesterday for Madison Square Garden as part of the Usual Friday night radio - television (NBC) series.

* * *

Unless something startling pops out of the other elimination bouts around the country, the Patterson-Jackson winner probably will go against Moore in the fall. Of course, Archie still has his June 5 date in London where he must defend his light-heavyweight title against Yolande Pompey.

It remains to be seen how the various boxing commissions will react as the tournament progresses. Perhaps New York may see fit to recognize one champion and the National Boxing Assn. another. With the animosities stirred up by recent investigations, it is hardly to be expected that the path will be calm and peaceful.

Course Soaked So Pro-Am Test Is Canceled

Due to heavy rains which put the Red Run golf course in bad playing condition, the Michigan PGA pro-am tournament scheduled for May 14 has been canceled, according to pro Frank Metzger yesterday.

Metzger said it would be impossible to get the course in condition in time for the tournament.

Detroit Metro Golf Circuit Announced

The Metropolitan Detroit Golf Assn. announced a 10-team circuit which will open activities May 27 with four matches scheduled.

The tournament committee is composed of Roy Iceberg, Tex Ellison and Joe Peak.

Included in the league's east division are Beverly Hills, Sylvan Glen, Sunnybrook, Hillcrest and Riverbank.

In the west division are Brae Burn, Idyl Wyld, Highlands, Hickory Hills and Plymouth.

Union Baseball Drills

The UAW-CIO Local 594 baseball team, a member of the Class A city league, will hold practice sessions today and Friday at Columbia-Joslyn's north field. Both workouts begin at 5 p.m.

Phils Drop 7th Straight; Tribe, Bosox Score Wins

NEW YORK (INS) — Philadelphia's last link with baseball is beginning to rust and unless some overhauling is done soon, the faltering Phillies will drop clear out of the National League standings.

The Phillies haven't won a ball game since April 29, losing seven in a row to plunge to within .027 percentage points of last place.

They've won only five in all — three by Robin Roberts and two by Jack Meyer in relief — while losing 12, the latest by a 3-to-0 score last night at St. Louis.

Everybody knows Mayo Smith's Quakers aren't hitting, managing only 44 hits to 65 for the opposition since leaving town, but few know why.

The Phils made the first division last year by winning 27 of 40 decisions with lefthanded pitchers, and rival managers have learned to keep their southpaws away from the Phils' predominance of right-handed power.

The Cardinals started another righty, Tom Poholsky, against the Phils last night and the big Missourian did not permit a runner past first base as he doled out four hits.

Cincinnati edged New York, 6 to 5, in another night game. Pittsburgh was rained out at Milwaukee and Brooklyn was washed out at Chicago.

Cleveland trimmed New York's American League advantage to 2½ games, 6 to 5, as Boston was beating Chicago, 7 to 5, in another daylight contest. Kansas City's Art Ditmar blanked Baltimore, 4 to 0, in one night game and Detroit topped Washington, 7 to 3, in the other.

Giant catcher Ray Katt doubled home two runs in the second inning but his error in the 7th enabled the Redlegs to register their 11th win in the last 13 games.

The Indians squared their series with the Yankees when they scored an unearned run on two ninth-inning errors. Mickey Mantle's two-base muff of Chico Carrasquel's fly ball set the stage.

Chico advanced on Gene Woodling's grounder and scored when Jim Busby hit a slow bounder to the mound but knocked pitcher Tom Morgan's throw out of first-baseman Moose Skowron's glove.

Cleveland strikeout artist Herb Score gave up ten hits, including Yogi Berra's 9th homerun, and fanned only five but recorded his second win in five decisions.

Billy Goodman rapped three doubles and a single to pace Boston's 13-hit assault against six Chicago pitchers. Successive singles by Jim Piersall, Don Buddin, Sammy White and winning pitcher Tommy Hurd scored three runs and settled the issue in the 6th inning. Sherm Lollar starred for the White Sox with a homer, double and two singles.

Ditmar struck out five and spaced seven hits for his shutout over Baltimore.

City Boxers on Ring Card

Buddy Harris and Ronnie O'Berry, a pair of Pontiac fistic hopefuls, re-enter the professional fight picture Saturday night in two bouts at Detroit's Motor City Arena.

Harris, no stranger to Pontiac boxing fans, will meet Chuck Taylor of Detroit in a six-round semi-final match. This will be Buddy's 1st outing since he dropped a close, unpopular decision to Kli Leggett in the Motor City ring.

The aggressive lightweight has been working out at Ray Monett's gym in Pontiac. Harris has completed more than 100 miles of road work and sparred 75 rounds in preparation for Saturday's bout.

O'Berry, a welterweight, resumes his boxing career after a six-year layoff. He will face Jack Sakiger of Toledo, Ohio, in a four-rounder.

Ronnie, who has also been training at Monett's, last fought in 1950 when a cut eye brought defeat in his only professional start. Prior to that he whipped six amateur foes.

Tickets for Saturday night's card are available at Monett's gym, 90 West Howard Street.

Buddy Sutton 14th Gridder on Colts' List

BALTIMORE (AP)—A signed contract received today from Air Force Lt. Buddy Sutton provided the Baltimore Colts with enough candidates to field one all-military team next season in the National Football League.

Sutton is the 14th player to be signed this year upon the verge of being discharged from military service.

Other top-notch draft choices of the Colts coming out of service are Billy Vessels and Buck McPhail of Oklahoma, Don Chelf of Iowa, Jack Allessandrini of Notre Dame and Glenn Turner of Georgia Tech.

Moose Bowlers Close Season With Banquet

Moose Lodge Bowling League wrapped up its season's activities first of the week with the annual banquet, election of officers and award of trophies. Affair was held in the Moose hall, with Della LaBarge and the women of the Moose handling the dinner arrangements.

Goodman's team was tops. Larry Norman won the high average, high single and season's average trophy. Ten individual perfect attendances were rewarded.

New officers are: president, Augie Penetle; secretary Al Ravenscroft.

Fishing Permits Up, Trout Stamps Down

LANSING (AP) — The state conservation department reported today the latest fishing license sale reports show a four per cent increase in resident permits but a 15 per cent decline in trout stamps.

Sales through the end of last month totaled 164,000 resident fishing licenses as against 158,000 in the corresponding period of 1955. Trout stamp sales were 4,700 compared with 5,500 in the like period a year ago.

Williams May Return

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams, Boston slugger out of the starting lineup since April 18 with a sore foot, may return to full-time action within a few days.

A close friend of Ted's says it won't be long now—possibly next Tuesday when the Red Sox open their first Western trip in Detroit.

Ford Favored

St. Louis Open Starts

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., is certain to have a tough time defending his title in the $25,000 St. Louis Open which started today but it is foolhardy trying to pick the man to beat him.

Top pros are shooting for the $5,000 first prize and some of them have been "hot" lately.

* * *

Gene Littler, who seems to have shaken the slump which hit him after his blazing start last year, is one. The 25-year-old Palm Springs, Calif., player, master of the greens, won the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, Nev., 10 days ago.

Some of the others are Jack Burke Jr., of Kiamesha Lake, the Masters champion; Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who won at Tucson and Houston; Julis Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., leading money winner last year, and Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn., who has been controlling his hot temper and finishing high in the money.

Other standouts in the field of 129 players include colorful Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake; Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich.; Ed Furgol and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Louis; Fred Haas Jr., of Claremont, Calif.; Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va.; Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio; and Bob Toski of Holyoke, Mass., leading money winner in 1954.

* * *

Mike Souchak, who became the year's leading money winner with his victory over Bolt in the Colonial Invitation at Fort Worth, Tex., Sunday, will be playing at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Cary Middlecoff of Dallas, No.2 money winner, is taking the week off.

* * *

Sunset Country Club's par 72 (34-38) course, which plays 6,277 yards, holds memories for Masters titlist Burke. It was in the Western Open at Sunset 10 years ago this month that Burke shot 42-43—85 and wasn't around for the finish.

To Use 8-Ouncers

Size of Gloves Argued

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The small army of Sugar Ray Robinson marched up the hill, made a stand, spoke a piece and marched down again.

* * *

The middleweight champion of the world, through his managers, Ernie Draca, Harold Johnson and George Gainsford, vigorously protested yesterday the use of 8-ounce gloves for the 15-round title fight May 18 at Wrigley Field with Carl Bobo Olson.

The middleweight champion on George Gainsford vigorously protested hestrday the use of 8-ounce gloves for th 15-round title fight May 18 at Wrigley Fild with Carl (Bobo) Olson.

At one point Gainsford, a huge man with a booming voice, declared:

"If we have to use 8-ounce gloves instead of 6, there will be no fight."

He sounded like he meant it but 10 minutes later big George returned to the room in the Hollywood Stadium and announced:

"We have decided to cooperate with the State Athletic Commission. I rescind my previous statement."

* * *

Robinson and Olson, each of whom had been approved in a physical examination by the club's physician, Dr. John Fahey, took no part in the glove debate.

Olson and his manager, Sid Flaherty, indicated they preferred 8-ounce gloves. In either case, there was no alternative. The law in California says any fighter weighing over 147 must wear the 8-ouncers.

Upsets Scored in Tennis Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Sixth seeded Bill Quillian of Seattle scored a major upset in the quarterfinals of the southern California tennis championships, knocking out Peru Alex Olmedo in straight sets, 8-6, 6-2, yesterday.

Another Seattle entrant, Janet Hopps, contributed a surprising performance in knocking off third seeded Mrs. Dorthy Cheney of Santa Monica, 2-6, 63- 6-4.

Miss Hopps showed a devastating net attack in the closing stages of her match, in the third set took a 3-1 lead, and from 3-all went out in front 5-3 and held service in the 10th game.

* * *

Miss Hopps opposes top seeded Beverly Fleitz of Belmont Shore today and Quillian probably will face Tom Brown of San Francisco.

The Tigers played five consecutive extra inning games in 1908, a record.

Mantle Unconcerned Over Slugging Spree

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle is unconcerned, almost bored, by all this talk of his being baseball's next .400 hitter and the guy most likely to break Babe Ruth's home run record.

* * *

The dynamic slugger of the New York yankees tells you with a poker face that goals, records or personal ambitions never enter his his mind as he goes about his duties day after day. He must be aware of the stir he has created by his spectacular early slugging feats but if he is, he has given no indication of it.

"Yes, I've read all those stories, too," Mantle murmured almost inaudibly. "But I pay no attention to them. Let them compare me with anyone they please. That doesn't bother me a bit. It certainly doesn't affect my playing. I just go out there every day and try to do the best I can."

Mantle was sitting in front of his locker before yesterday's game busily engaged in bandaging his left thigh when he was interrupted by an inquisitive reporter. The right leg, from below the knee clear up near the groin, already was encased in yards of tape and bandages. Below the calf on the right leg there was a big, ugly welt and the big toe was discolored and puffed up alarmingly.

Mantle's obvious physical handicaps make his record thus far all the more amazing. In the club's first 20 games, he's banged out 33 hits in 74 times at bat for a sensational .446 batting mark. Mickey got three singles yesterday as Cleveland beat New York 6-5. He has driven in 24 runs and has hammered 10 home runs to put him 13 games ahead of Ruth's record pace when the Babe got his 60 in 1927. Mickey's slugging percentage is a phenomenal .919.

Chiefs Aim for Year's 5th Major Title

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac High School's all-time finest track team this weekend makes its fourth defense of a title won a year ago. At the same time it shoots for its fifth major meet victory of the year, plus its 17th consecutive overall victory.

Coach Wally Schloerke's Chief thinclads are unbeaten in two years of competition.

The PHS squad travels to Ypsilanti's Michigan Normal College Saturday to defend the MHSAA regional championship, won last spring by a record 92 points. A full squad will make the trip, and winners there will qualify for the big state meet in Ann Arbor the following Saturday. Chiefs will also be the defending titlists in the MHSAA finale.

Five Pontiac individuals, and both relay teams will seek to repeat as champions in eight events. Pontiac's ace, Hayes Jones, is just about certain to keep his high hurdles and broad jump crowns, and in all probability set new records. He has surpassed the 14.8 second 120-yard high stick mark of last year (regional record). He has consistently bettered the jump mark of 22 feet set by Jesse Thomas of Flint Central in 1946. Only last week at Saginaw Jones hung up a new Valley and state mark of 23 feet 3 inches.

Hayes also is a good bet to beat the 180 low hurdle mark of 20.2, held jointly by Pontiac's Willie Wilson (1955) and Ed Ringgold (1954). He has run the event consistently under 20 seconds. Hayes ran 2nd last year to Wilson, now graduated, but has lost only one race this year in the event.

With Rod Treais showing a remarkable improvement in his finishing kick and defending champ Bill Douglas in fine shape, PHS should be all right in the 880.

Chiefs should again score heavily in the high jump, with defending champ Hud (Goose) Ray, little Alex Barge (SVC champion) and Jimmy (Sonny) Taylor all capable of better than 6 feet. In both 880 and medley relays PHS is the heavy favorite again. Pontiac holds records in both, setting a 2:30.2 mark in the medley last year.

Perry Williams, 1955 champion in the mile, Jimmy (Sugarcane) Shorter and Charley Robinson in the quarter-mile, are rated highly, Freeman Watkins in the century, and 220, and Charley Spann, Lon Humphrey (220), Dave Payne and Joe Hill (100) should add some important points.

Others listed for the meet include Mike Hardiman, Spann and Cocking in the shot; Ken Beattie and Charley Seyler in the pole vault; Celester Boykins in the 440; Gene Cretal and either Barge or Pete Cox in the mile (latter two are possible entries in the 880 also);

Preliminaries get under way at 9:30 with finals in the afternoon.

Run Tonight

Trotters Will Try Again

Because of the heavy downpour Wednesday, the opening of the Wolverine Raceway for the trotters will get under way tonight at the Schoolcraft and Middlebelt track.

It was the first postponement at the track since 1950, and the first time the track was forced to set aside the "rain or shine" policy.

The program originally scheduled for tonight will be run with the opening night activities canceled all together.

General Fedor, the aged trotter who started a streak at Magnolia Downs in New Orleans, will highlight tonight's program.

His challengers will come from Elby Hanover, Rasmatz and Blazing Bill.

A secondary feature matches a field of eight pacers headed by Ann Goshen and Laurel Scott, recent winners at Santa Anita and Magnolia Downs.

Post time is 8:30 p.m.

Fallstaff Still Leading ABC by Wide Margin

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The leaders in the American Bowling Congress Tournament were as unruffled today as if all the balls had been rolled into the gutters last night.

The Lawandus Floor Covering team of Buffalo, N.Y., generated the most excitement when they racked up games of 1,014 and 945 only to slip to 870 for a three-game total of 2,829.

It was the best effort of the night, but not good enough to break into the first five and far behind the leading 3,092 posted by Falstaff Beer of Chicago.

Death Takes Turf Writer

DETROIT (AP)—George Krehbiel, veteran turf writer for the Detroit News, died today at Louisville, Ky. He was 64.

Krehbiel suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Sunday as he was about to return to Detroit after covering the Kentucky Derby. He had been a member of the News staff since 1923.

Survivors include his widow, the former Leonora Robinson of Cincinnati, daughter of the founder of the Robinson Circus; his brother, Franklin, and a sister, Mrs. Lillian Coles of Cincinnati.

Wade in Ram Fold

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Quarterback Billy Wade was safely in the fold of the Los Angeles Rams football squad today, signed to a contract for the 1956 season.

The development, said the club, should end speculation that the ex-Vanderbilt star might leave the Rams and play in Canada, or be used as an expensive talent for trading purposes.

Young Dave Sisler Looms as Boston's Top Reliefer

BOSTON (AP) — Coolness under pressure must have been one of the first things young Dave Sisler learned from his famous father.

Boston's rookie pitcher has mastered it so well he's threatening to take over the No. 1 relief job vacated when Ellis Kinder was sold to the St. Louis Cardinals in the off season.

* * *

Dependable Dave is a 24-year-old Princeton graduate and youngest son of Hall of Fame first baseman George Sisler.

* * *

The bespectacled righthander made his seventh appearance in 17 games yesterday when he was asked to preserve a two-run Red Sox lead in the eighth inning with the bases loaded and only one out against Chicago.

Five pitches later the inning was over.

* * *

Veteran Nellie Fox fouled off two fast balls, then missed a swing at a changeup. Usually restrained Red Sox Manager Mike Higgins jumped to his feet in the dugout as Fox fanned.

* * *

On the second pitch to dangerous Minnie Minoso, Sisler got his adversary to hit a high, shallow fly to right.

* * *

Dave got through the ninth, too, to save a 7-5 verdict for Tommy Hurd.

Sisler, who had only brief minor league experience with Albany of the Eastern League but learned much from two years playing in the Army, has an 0.82 earned run average.

Jean Beliveau of the Montreal Canadiens at 24 is the youngest member of the National Hockey League's all-star team.

Secrets of Better Golf

20th of a Series
By PATTY BERG

Putting is a highly personal part of an individual's golf game, and many professionals use varying stances. I have experimented with different stances but have generally narrowed it down to one of two—square or slightly open.

In the past few years I have used mostly a slightly open stance in my putting. While I cannot advocate it for all players, I can only say it has worked well and feels the most comfortable for me.

Comfort at the ball is very important to a smooth and well-executed putting stroke.

Your arms and hands should be close in toward your body with the right elbow close to your right hip.

I try to keep my shoulders and hips as square as possible to the line along which I intend the ball to roll. This gives me a pendulum-like stroke with the body staying square at all times throughout the swing.

Some players hit the ball off the end of the putter, but I feel better results are made by aiming for the center of the putter blade. However, the important thing is to hit the ball at the same place on the club face as when it is addressed.

When addressing your putt, have a feeling of ease and comfort. You should be ready to hit the ball when you have confidence in your grip, stance, and your decision as to the line of the putt. There should be no hesitation or tensing over the ball. Just hit it.

(Copyright 1956)

STANCE FOR PUTTING HIGHLY INDIVIDUAL

Assume a slightly open stance with the arms and hands close in toward the body. Bring the head and eyes slowly back to the ball after studying the line of flight.

Buckeyes Lead in Hits, Scores

OSU Only Unbeaten 9 in Big 10; MSU's Jim Sack Top Batter

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State, only unbeaten team in the Big Ten baseball race, also leads the league in batting and in runs scored.

The Buckeyes, defending champions, have a 4-0 record on a .283 batting average and with 26 runs scored, tops in the circuit.

Official statistics released yesterday showed runner-up Minnesota (5-1) trailing the Bucks in batting with a .244 mark. But the Gophers have two of the league's four two-game winners.

Gopher's Jerry Thomas has compiled an earned run average of below 1.0. The other Minnesota hurler sporting a 2-0 record is Rod Oistad. Other 2-0 pitchers in the conference are Galen Cisco of Ohio State and Dick Vorreyer of Illinois.

• • •

Jim Sack of Michigan State is the Big Ten's leading batter with 7 hits in 11 at bats for a .636 mark. His hits include three doubles and a triple. Minnesota, which has pulled off five double plays, is the top defensive team with .976.

CAMDEN, N.J.—Balaklava, 2nd ($11.80) gained a 3-length verdict in the William Penn Stakes at Garden State Park.

LEXINGTON, Ky. — On The Bit ($9.60) took a length and a half victory in the feature at Churchill downs.

BALTIMORE — Ricci Tavi ($5.80) romped to an easy 8-length triumph in the Calvert Purse at Pimlico.

SAN BRUNO, Calif.—Gran Vino ($9.20) gained a head victory in the feature at Tanforan.

Grand Rapids Amateur Files Western Entry

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Harold Brink of Grand Rapids, Mich., will compete in the western amateur golf championship starting in Nashville May 28.

Brink, who finished in the top 10 in last year's 72-hole qualifying at Rockport, Ill., is the first name player to file an entry.

Other entries include Glenn H. Johnson of Grosse Ile, Mich., 1955 Detroit amateur champion.

'Kids' Hold Spotlight

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Australian miler John Landy may be the big attraction but the "kids" will be kings at the 30th West Coast Relays Saturday.

And with good reason, in the opinion of relays originator and director J. Flint Hanner, He believes the meet has been directly responsible for the development of many of the world's greatest track and field athletes.

Hanner points to Bob Mathias, Cornielius (Dutch) Warmerdam, Sim Iness, Cy Young and Rafer Johnson as five champions who got their first taste of the big time in the Fresno meet.

• • •

The event, which started as a replacement for a defunct automobile race and grew into one of the nation's biggest sports carnivals, has been criticized as rambling, too cumbersome and too big, all because high school and even grammar school kids are given a place on the program. "But it always will be this way if I have anything to say," Hanner contends, adding:

"The youngsters are the reason it was established. We will never ignore them. After all, the high school freshman this year might be a Mathias or a Warmerdam in a few seasons."

Since its founding, 29 world, American and national interscholastic records—more than any other track meet can claim—have fallen before the thousands of athletes who have given the one-day meet its slogan—"where world records are broken."

Most of the 18 world marks set here have been eclipsed, but two—the 100-yard dash and the 120-yard high hurdles—still are rated the best ever.

Test 'Goal Within a Goal'

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)— An experimental type of goal post designed to return kicking to its one-time significance in the game of football will be tried out here Saturday.

• • •

The new design, featuring a goal post within a goal post, will be used in connection with West Virginia University's annual spring intrasquad game, Coach Art Lewis said.

• • •

The arrangement, devised by Charles Simmons, a wholesale meat dealer from Elkins, will have the goal posts imbedded behind the end zones, but with the cross bar extended forward to the goal line.

The normal side bars on the goal will be raised an extra 20 feet into the air, with the cross bar 18 feet, 6 inches in length.

A small goal, with a width of 6 feet, 2 inches, will be centered with the lower cross bar, but will be 10 feet higher.

• • •

Simmons has explained that kicks through the normal goal posts would bring 1 point for each conversion and 3 points for a field goal, as is the case under present rules and with standard goal posts.

• • •

Kicks through the smaller and higher goals would be good for 2 and 4 points, respectively.

MVC Athletes Begin Carnival

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Golf and tennis competition opens three-day Missouri Valley Conference spring sports carnival today.

The track and field meet, dominated by Oklahoma A & M the past 16 years, is set for Saturday.

Houston is favored to retain its tennis title, aided by the return of last year's singles champion John Been.

A & M, with 1955 medalist Bob Goetz on hand, is likely to hang onto its links crown but Houston, runnerup last year, is a strong contender.

• • •

The golf play will be 54 holes over the 6,513-yard, 72 par Indian Hills Country Club course.

Spartans Get Beefier

Michigan State's starting line in the spring football game averaged 195 pounds, a slight increase over the 191-pound average for the starting line during the 1955 season.

17 Athletes Compete in Pentathlon Games

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Seventeen athletes from Brazil, Mexico and the United States will compete here next week in the modern pentathlon as a stepping stone toward the Olympic Games.

• • •

Starting Sunday and continuing for five days, eight men from the United States, five from Brazil and four from Mexico will run off the five-event meet. The events are the 4,000-meter cross-country run, epee fencing, 300-meter free style swimming, 25-meter timed fire pistol shooting and 2,500-meter cross country ride.

• • •

The international competition was designed to develop service athletes of the three countries for the Olympics and was arranged at the suggestion of Maj. Gen. William C. Rose, chairman of the U.S. Olympic Modern Pentathlon Committee.

73,600 Bucks Taken in 1955

State Reports 421,000 Hunters Increased Bag Over 1954 Total

LANSING (AP) — Michigan deer hunters bagged more than 73,600 bucks during the 16-day deer season last November, a rise in the kill of more than 16,000 over the preceding year.

* * *

This was reported today by the State Conservation Department after an analysis of hunter report cards.

* * *

The department said the turnout of shooters last November was about 421,000, or roughly 3,500 above the year before.

Largest increases in deer kill were reported in the Northern Lower Peninsula where 275,000 hunters felled 41,390 bucks. In the previous year 10,000 more hunters took 9,100 fewer deer.

An upswing in the Upper Peninsua deer kill saw 115,000 sportsmen bring down 29,160 bucks, or 4,800 more than were bagged in 1954.

* * *

Hunter population and deer kill figures also were larger for the southern half of the Lower Peninsula. Some 31,000 hunters took 2,530 bucks, compared with 20,000 and 1,700 in 1954.

* * *

For the entire state, the percentage of successful hunters rose from the 14 per cent of 1954 to 17.5 per cent last season.

Winners at Imlay City

Winners of the Imlay City Bowling League included Baird's No. 2 team for high three games and Baird's No. 1 team for high single game. George Snyder was individual 3-game high winner and Ralph Vlieg took individual single game high honors.

Gene Tunney played tennis to keep in shape after retiring from the ring.

27 Rowers Rescued After Three Racing Shells Sink

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Harvard's No. 1 freshman crew won a race yesterday—then saw the 27 men in the three pursuing shells hauled to safety when their craft swamped in the choppy waters of the Charles River.

* * *

Another Harvard freshman boat plus two from Andover Academy, sank after following the No. 1 crew across the finish line over the classic Henley mile and five-sixteenths distance.

Darryl March of Brockport, N.Y., member of one of the swamped shells, described the mishap:

"We stopped after the race. The finish line was about 200 yards downstream from the Harvard Bridge. Then we got the order to turn around. We took about 30 strokes and the boats started to fill up. Three of the shells sank.

"The other shell, the one that won, was the last to start turning. When they saw what was happening to the rest of us, the coxswain against trying to turn around in the wind."

* * *

Winds at 33 m.p.h. with gusts to 41 prevailed at the time of the race according to the weather bureau.

A launch from the MIT Sailing Pavilion aided in the rescue operation.

Chief Golfers in Regionals at Flint

Pontiac High School's golf team will take part in the MHSAA regional round at Flint Kearsley course Friday, and if successful, will qualify for the state round later on (May 19) at Black River CC, Port Huron.

Coach John Maturo today had not named his squad for Friday's matches, but Tom Cross, Dick Singleton and Dick Whitmer are certainties, with Sammy Coleman probably the fourth man.

Match with Saginaw High, set for Tuesday, was cancelled, as was a 2nd date, Wednesday. The Flint round, in which Trojans will also take part, may be used as the rained - out round.

Souchak, 29 Today, Seeks New Honors

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP)—Mike Souchak, 29 years old today and on top of golf's dollar world, started his second try this morning for the White Sulphur Open title which he "blew" last year three holes from the end.

Souchak went into the 72-hole tourney against 40 other pros fresh from Sunday's victory in the Colonial at Fort Worth. It was his second first place of the year and gave him total earnings of $12,859.43 so far in tourneys sponsored by the Professional Golfers Assn.

The PGA isn't participating in the White Sulphur tourney, but the $2,300 first prize still would help Souchak's personal bank account.

Columbus Buys State Player From Miami Club

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Columbus Jets of the International League announced today purchase of outfielder Ed Mierkowicz from the rival Miami Marlins.

Mierkowicz, 32, is a native of Wyandotte, Mich., who broke into organized baseball in 1944 with the Hagerstown, Md., club of the old Inter-State League.

He spent parts of three seasons with the Detroit Tigers of the American League and has played 10 seasons of AAA ball.

The Jets gave relief pitcher Charlie Haag an outright release to make room for Mierkowicz.

Selfridge AFB to Display B52 Stratofortress

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The B52 Stratofortress, the Air Force's newest heavy bomber, will make its first public appearance in the Detroit area at the Armed Forces Day show May 19 and 20 at nearby Selfridge Air Force Base.

The B52 is the plane that will drop an H-bomb in the coming tests in the Pacific. The aircraft has a range of more than 6,000 miles and a speed of 650 miles per hour. It is 156 feet long and has a wing span of 185.

WMGA Rained Out

For the second week in succession, the WMGA "opening" has been rained out. Set for Wednesday, at Bald Mountain course, no play was attempted as rain soaked the layout. No date has been set for the round, but it was expected it would be played May 25.

Next scheduled round for the Metropolitan group is May 16, at Plumbrook.

TV Helps Test Cars

DETROIT (AP) — Not even a Hollywood stunt man would strap himself under an automobile for a first-hand look at what happens to a car on a sharp curve or a rough test road. So General Motors has developed a rugged little bomb-shaped television camera to do the job. The camera relays a picture of mechanical stresses through a closed TV circuit linked to a monitoring screen in the rear of the test automobile.

Virgil Akins, St. Louis, Mo., welterweight, was an amateur boxer at 15.

The Chicago Cubs have won 36 opening day games in the National League. They have lost 20 and tied one.

Pensive, grand sire of Needles, won the 1944 Kentucky Derby and Preakness.

Detroit Heavy Bout Has Title Bearing

DETROIT (AP) — The Johnny Summerlin-Bob Satterfield heavyweight fight May 23 at Detroit's Olympia is billed as one in a series of fights to find a successor to Rocky Marciano's vacated title.

Satterfield, the Chicago veteran, has fought all the name fighters in the division. He packs a big wallop but has been troubled with an inability to take a good punch.

Summerlin, a Detroit boy, is ranked No. 6 in the heavyweight ranks. He'll give away a lot of experience to the Chicago fighter.

Sport Briefs

Twenty-four American league players have been in the major leagues for 10 years or more.

Lou Groza of the pro Browns kicked 11 of 22 of his field goal attempts during the season of 1955.

Michigan played to 543,000 football fans in seven games in the Ann Arbor stadium in the 1955 season.

Major leaguers for 10 years cannot be assigned to the minor sent.

Hollywood Park Opens

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)— Hollywood Park begins its 17th season of racing tomorrow, with a small field expected to answer the call in the $25,000-added Premier Handicap at 6 furlongs. Recent rains make it likely that the track will be slow.

Welterweight in Defense

Star Athlete Gets 25 Points on Losing Team

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. (AP) — Tom Hart of Middlebury College is almost half a track team himself.

The ace basketball rebounder accounted for 25 points yesterday as RPI defeated Middlebury 71-55 in track.

• • •

All Hart did was to win the 100, 200, pole vault, high jump and broad jump.

In five meets to date, he's scored 118 points. That's about 41 per cent of the team's 228 2-3 total.

Troy Now in Throes of Zoning, Rezoning

Planners Both Okay and Deny

Decisions to Be Final After Vote of City Commission

TROY—Planning Commission approval has been given here to build a gas station and light industrial buildings, but a second industrial zoning request was denied.

The commission, whose votes have to win City Commission approval to be final, would allow Manuel and Mary Guerrero, gas station operators at 15 Mile and John R, to build another station at John R and South Boulevard.

A strip of 30 acres on Dequindre north of 14 Mile may be the site of light industrial buildings, planners decided at a meeting Tuesday night. The land, for which Jervis J. Wattles of Skira Real Estate Co., Royal Oak, asked rezoning, will be zoned industrial, provided a ten-acre site alongside be redrawn.

"I've never seen such a complicated subdivision proposal," said Lawson Lockhart, city clerk, of the 42-home plan submitted for the ten acres. "There are four courts off the 660-foot-long street, and lots are cut up in angles, triangles and all shapes.

The planners asked that only 20 lots be formed.

Mrs. Grace Yancer, 376 Minnesota, as president of the Southeast Homeowners Improvement Assn., objected strenuously to the light industry zoning so close to home areas.

Light industry zoning was denied in another area, when eight property owners on East 15 Mile Road made requests. Spot zoning was undesirable, planners decided.

A nursery stock business will have to stop operations if the planners' decision is endorsed by the city commission. R. A. Pickett and L. J. Selmlee, who have been operating the nursery stock business at Lamb Road and Rochester Road for two years, without a commercial zoning, asked planners last night for the commercial zoning.

Three plots near the proposed shopping center at 15 Mile and Livernois were rezoned commercial last night. Requests were by the Thomas Basco, Dr. Fred H. Gasow, and Victor Richard families.

Plans for the shopping center, to be on land owned by Elmer Wentworth, are now in litigation. The three lots have been residential, with one home involved.

Bloody Rioting Threatens Island

British Execute Two Greek Cypriots

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) —British authorities hanged two 23-year-old Greek Cypriots today for political shootings. The death sentences were carried out at dawn despite international clemency appeals and the threat of bloody rioting on this tense island colony.

* * *

Michael Karaolis and Andreas Demetrious went to their deaths behind the closely guarded walls of Nicosia's big Central Prison. Fellow Greek Cypriots had thronged the island's churches praying for an 11th-hour reprieve.

The pair were the first Greek Cypriots executed by the British in a fight against the 13-month-old violence campaign for Enosis —union of Cyprus with Greek. The British-Cypriot fight has cost 92 other lives on Cyprus, including 27 British soldiers and 12 Cypriot policemen.

FIRST TO BE EXECUTED

As the first Enosis fighters to be executed, Karaolis and Demetrious were assured of martyrdom in the eyes of Greek Cypriots and the Greeks. Karaolis was convicted of slaying a Nicosia police constable, Demetrious of shooting a British businessman who recovered.

Fearing a repetition of the bloody riots which killed at least four persons and seriously injured 142 in Greece yesterday, armed British troops patrolled every island community.

* * *

In Athens, news of the executions brought no immediate new violence, but armed security forces stood ready for new trouble. Barbed wire barricades already had been thrown around the British Embassy and rolls of wire were ready near U.S. installations.

Most Greek Cypriot shops in Nicosia closed in protest over the executions. Small knots of men gathered in the downtown streets. British jeeps and armored cars manned with machine guns kept constant patrol.

* * *

Only military and police officials witnessed the hangings. Soldiers blocked all approaches half a mile from the prison and searched every person and vehicle headed toward it.

Karaolis and Demetrious lost their final appeal for executive clemency Tuesday. Later their parents and attorneys appealed in vain to Queen Elizabeth II for clemency.

Authoritative informants in Washington said Secretary of State Dulles had suggested informally to British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd that postponement of the executions might ease the Cyprus crisis.

22 AF Rockets Hit Home Areas

'Accident Firing' Sends Missiles Directly Into Mt. Clemens Suburbs

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The Air Force said today 22 rockets were fired off by accident over a mile square area beyond Selfridge Air Force base today. Three reportedly exploded in residential sections.

One house was reported set afire by a rocket which shot into the South River Road area about a mile from the base.

Air Force officials warned people not to touch or handle any rockets they might find. Police sealed off a two-mile square area while officers attempted to retrieve the unexploded rockets.

The rockets were "inadvertently" ejected from their pods while being unloaded from Sabre Jet planes, the Air Force said.

Auto Safety Check Approaches Climax

An estimated 19,487 drivers have participated so far in this week's campaign for safe driving in safe automobiles, according to Robert Tricker, chairman of the May auto check.

Tricker said that public acceptance of the campaign has been "tremendous."

"I'm very pleased to see the check has gone as well as it has," he said.

Some 265 drivers have received warning citations from police for defective equipment, he said. But about 60 per cent of these drivers have returned to safety - check lanes with defects repaired, he added.

44 Firms Enter Show Planned at Rochester

ROCHESTER — Forty four different firms have already contracted for exhibition space in the Rochester Builder's Show to be held at Halbach Field on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, May 25-27, it was announced today by the Rochester Lions Club, sponsor. Several of these firms have taken two and three show spaces it was added.

This will be the second year for the show which last year attracted thousands daily.

Lions Club officials state that over $1000 in cash and merchandise will be given away during the three day show. This will include at least $100 in cash daily, and a Hamilton watch daily. It will not be necessary for winners to be present at time of the drawings, they stated.

O'Brien and Alex Young; space sales, Clinton Smith and Walter Michelson; housing, Harold Smith and Clifton Nunn; setup and parking, Wayne Michelson; cleanup and police, George Sargent; utilities, Clarence Kremer and Francis Voll; tickets, Robert Skibowski and George Hesketh Jr. and refreshments, Martin Stemmer.

School Census Canvass Begins

17 Enumerators to Take Waterford Area Count, Four at Avondale

Census takers today began knocking on doors in the Oakland County area as a house-to-house count of pre-school and school-age residents began. A report of all persons ages one day through 19 will be taken. Deadline for completion of the project is May 31.

So far, both Waterford Township and Avondale School Districts have announced that census taking is under way.

Seventeen enumerators have been employed to take the census of Waterford Township.

Last year there were 14,951 youngsters in the Waterford School Census, of which 9,672 were in the 5 to 19 years bracket. The school district's allotment from the state primary fund is determined by the census.

Four women will canvass all homes in Avondale District's four elementary school areas.

Mrs. Elmer Dancey will cover Auburn Heights School area; Mrs. Carl Grusnick, the Stone school; Mrs. Howard Carpenter, Elmwood School, and Mrs Henry Bobek, Stiles School district.

Hinges on the safe were knocked off, he said, and attempts made to pry it open.

Entry was gained through a broken rear window, Hazen said.

Alleged Plant Work Brings Court Order

An order to show cause why he should not be restrained from operating a small manufacturing plant in his Waterford Township home was issued yesterday against Myron L. Greenberg by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

A hearing was set for Monday before Judge Doty.

Waterford Township attorney John W. Bell charged Greenberg employed five people in his home at 2110 Kohler St. to manufacture gauges and charts for ammunition equipment in the glass industry.

Bell said the operation was a violation of the 1950 township zoning ordinance.

Bloomfield Hills Tax Hike Asked

$193,000 Budget Calls for Millage Increase; Public Hearing Set

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A raise of $1 per $1,000 in valuation is necessary if Bloomfield Hills is to have better roads, this city's commissioners decided at this week's meeting.

They tentatively approved a $193,000 budget, including the tax rate increase, but residents may have their say at a public hearing set for May 28, before the final commission vote.

* * *

For the exclusive residential area that it is, Bloomfield Hills should have far better roads than it does, the commissioners said.

Although few loud complaints reach the city officials, there is known to be much concern over the bumps and holes in many of the city's gravel-topped side roads, according to City Manager Elmer Kephart.

The tax increase would bring the rate to $17.80 per $1,000. That and the increase of city assessment values from $7,385,000 to $8,184,200 will bring the tax yield to $145,600, officials said.

* * *

Expenditures for the coming fiscal year would include hiring a third highway department worker, and securing more highway building supplies and equipment. Funds from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund also go towards road work.

Resurfacing part of Lone Pine road will cost from $12,000 to $17,000, commissioners learned last night. Bids for the job, from Orchard Lake Ridge to Lahser, were received and turned over to the city engineer for study.

Bad Checks Down, Prosecutor Reports

Bad checks reported to the Oakland County Prosecutor's office in the first four months of 1956 totalled $14,082.59, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said yesterday.

The figure is a slight decrease from the $14,252.60 reported for the same period last year, Ziem said, and a further drop from the $14,468.86 reported in 1954. The 1953 total was $8,528.56.

Ziem said his office sends letters to reported bad check passers, who have five days under Michigan law to make the check good or express intention of doing so.

"Better than 70 per cent make the checks good as soon as they get the letter," Ziem said. "Most bad checks seem to be just mistakes, with no intent to defraud."

Trucker Released After Jail Term for Dumping

A Detroit truck driver was to be released from Oakland County Jail today after his conviction yesterday of dumping rubbish on a public right-of-way.

W. Bloomfield Asks Bond Issue

High School Addition and New Elementary Planned

WEST BLOOMFIELD — More classrooms was a main concern of the West Bloomfield Board of Education at its business meeting this week.

The board voted to ask for a $960,000 bond issue in the school election on Monday, June 11.

This issue, they said, would cover an addition to the West Bloomfield high School, an elementary school in the south end of the district and an addition to the present Scotch school or a new building in that area.

The $60,000 amount would cover both sites and equipment.

* * *

The board approved a new salary schedule for the teaching staff. Starting salary for teachers with a bachelors degree will be $4,200, with a maximum of $5,850 after 12 years.

Teachers with a masters degree will start at $4,400 with a maximum of $6,150 after 13 years. The yearly increment will be $150.

There will be one vacancy on the Board of Education this year officials said, the candidates must have petitions filed on or before Saturday, May 12.

Dr. Leif Hougen, superintendent of schools stated that the annual school census will be taken here during the rest of the month.

Nab Holdup Suspect in Police Raid Here

A 19-year-old man, wanted in seven armed robberies, is being held for Hamtramck Police after his arreste yesterday in Waterford Township.

Taken along with John L. Koptyra, who was hiding out at 580 Oakland Ave. police say, was a woman wanted for questioning.

The arrests were made at 4 p.m. by Det. Don Gravlin of the township police when Koptyra returned unarmed to that address. Gravlin said he found Koptyra's .45 caliber revolver hidden in a trumpet case.

Pontiac detectives James Bale and Herbert Cooley aided in the arrests when it was feared that Koptyra might be armed.

Hamtramck Det. John Jelonek identified Koptyra as one of four partners who gained some $965 in a string of robberies from early March to mid-April, in Hamtramck, Highland Park and Detroit.

Steal Gun, Money in Breakin of Station

A .25 caliber automatic and about $150 in cash were reported stolen in the breakin Tuesday night of a gas station at 251 Oakland Ave., Pontiac Police said.

According to the owner, John Lyons, 125 Cadillac St., a wrist watch also was taken. He said $100 was taken from the cash drawer and about $50 in change removed from a cigarette machine.

The building was entered, police said, after a small hole was broken in the glass of the front door and the door unlocked from the inside.

UM Physicist Photographs Unknown Atomic Particles

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A University of Michigan physicist has devised a bubble bath chamber which will permit photographing of heretofore unknown aspects of atomic particles.

Associate Prof. Donald A. Glaser, 29, said his bubble bath for the short-lived gamma rays and previously invisible neutrons will give scientists a chance to see their speeding flight for the first time.

He described the chamber in detail for the first time last night.

Some scientists speculate the the chamber may reveal nuclear events not yet known.

The new device is called a xenon chamber, filled with liquid xenon gas, as dense molecularly as solid aluminum.

Because the xenon atoms are so large and so close together, any directed radiation of atomic particles into the liquid has a good chance of striking the xenon atoms.

As the atomic particles are directed into the small chamber from an outside source such as an atomic accelerator, the liquid xenon is brought to the verge of boiling.

Neutral particles race through the chamber. Suddenly one strikes an atom of xenon, and the point of collision is marked by the creation of bubbles in the liquid. By checking the photographs with coordinates and feeding the information into an electronic computer, scientists can calculate velocities, directions, energies and masses.

More than 25 institutions in the United States are adopting Glaser's earlier bubble chamber and one university has a three-million-dollar bubble chamber.

Chemist Tells of Red Dealings

Secret Probe Studied by Senate Investigators of 17-Year Contacts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Internal Security subcommittee studied today testimony from an unnamed American chemist that he had supplied technical industrial information to the Russians over a 17-year period.

* * *

"He said he worked for the Russians (from 1933) until 1940," Subcommittee Counsel Robert Morris told newsmen. "His contacts through the 1940s were spotty and his last contact was in 1950."

Morris said the witness, who was questioned behind closed doors, "answered questions apparently later whether to hear him further."

LIVES 'NEAR' GOTHAM

Beyond saying the chemist lived in "the New York area, broadly speaking," Morris declined to identify the witness, saying "he was afraid of his job and afraid of what the Russians might do." He said the man was employed for the entire time by a private concern.

Morris declined to discuss in detail the nature of the information turned over to the Russians, or to say whether any official secrets were involved. He said the witness has been in contact with the FBI.

* * *

Morris said the chemist was one of a number of persons called for questioning as a follow-up to testimony last month by Harry Gold, a onetime Philadelphia chemist now serving a 30-year prison term for espionage which included both industrial and atomic secrets.

LSU Humor? Throw Bricks at the Police

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana State University students, rushing to a girls dormitory to steal some panties, suddenly reversed strategy last night and threw bricks at police. Nobody got a panty.

* * *

Police, shooting tear gas into the crowd of 200 boys, won the battle. They arrested 29 LSU students and 13 high school boys.

There was one casualty. One brick struck Patrolman Bill Scruggs on the leg. It may be fractured.

Early in the evening, the students had crowded around Evangeline Hall, a women's dormitory.

School officials decided to break up the party. Dean of Women Helen Gordon told the girls to stay inside. Dean of Men Arden French told the boys to go away. That worked—for a while.

* * *

The boys left one dormitory for another. They encircled Pleasant Hall. When they picked up bricks and stones, officials decided it was time for the police.

GUY AND HIS DOLL — Frank Sinatra and Vivian Blaine are principals in Samuel Goldwyn's "Guys and Dolls." The multi-million dollar film version of the famed Broadway hit, also starring Marlon Brando and Jean Simmons, will open at the Strand Theater Friday.

Hollywood Headlines:

Movieland's Star System Undergoes Vast Change

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—In 10 years, Hollywood's star system has done a complete flip-flop.

A decade ago, nearly all stars of any importance—and most of the others too—were under exclusive contracts to studios.

FILM REVOLUTION

Today, most stars are not under exclusive studio contracts, and that has brought a revolution in the production of movies.

* * *

"We have 20 million dollars' worth of pictures ready to go," said one studio head recently. "But we can't start them because we can't get the stars. We have to wait until they're available."

And when the stars are available, their money demands give the studio bosses ulcers on their ulcers.

* * *

"We might as well sign over the studio to them," sighed one of the bigwigs.

STAR IS KING

The star is king in the movie world today. This puts his agent in the role of prime minister, and the studio grumbling about this can be heard from Culver City to Universal City.

* * *

When Don Hartman was production head at Paramount, he stated bluntly: "We don't do business with stars any more. We do it with their agents. They tell us who we can put in a picture, when we can have them and if we can make their pictures. And that's not all. They tell us how to make them."

This is a far cry from the days when studio bosses used to dictate what stars were to do, both on the lot and off.

* * *

How has the change come about? It was one of the results of Hollywood's postwar depression.

JAMMED LISTS

When the war was over, studio contract lists were jammed. During the war years when entertainment-hungry Americans jammed theaters, the studios could take the expense to develop new stars. These were augmented by the players returning from the service.

* * *

Peace brought a change in national habits. People were not moving all over the country and the world, in need of a few hours' diversion in movie houses. GIs returned, bought houses, settled down. Soon they were able to find entertainment in their own homes via television.

* * *

The studios were caught with their markets down. No longer could they afford to pay millions of dollars yearly to keep actors on salary. You could hear the dropping of options all over town.

Saturday I'll discuss how the star system revolution has changed film industry economics.

Digger Almost Pounds Self to Kingdom Come

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—S. M. Taylor was digging postholes yesterday when his digging tool clanked against a hard metal object.

* * *

Taylor picked up the object, didn't recognize it and got a hammer to break it open. An unidentified passer-by saw what he was doing, excitedly told him to stop and called police.

* * *

When police arrived, they took the object and dropped it in the Arkansas River.

It was a hand grenade with the pin still in it.

Hunter Coeds Dress; No Bermuda Shorts

NEW YORK (AP)—Bermuda shorts may be fashionable in many places but they're strictly taboo on the sidewalk campus of Hunter College, a city-operated college for women.

* * *

"No young woman of poise and dignity wants to go around a city with bare knees," decreed Dean Kathryn L. Hopwood.

* * *

No disciplinary action will be taken against gals wearing shorts on the campus, but Dean Hopwood said she hopes "in a friendly fashion" to encourage "behavior that is appropriate to the situation."

Glass Doors Fine —if You See Them

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—The only trouble with the plate glass doors in Charlotte's new Coliseum is that a lot of people don't. See 'em, that is.

A great many persons walking briskly through the ground floor lobbies have whammed into the transparent full-length doors.

At least four of the doors have been shattered — with no serious damage to the unwary pedestrians.

City Manager Henry A. Yancey is considering installing flashing red lights or luminous tape to protect both parties to the collisions.

WASHINGTON — During 1955 there were 76 executions carried out under civil authority, the second smallest number since 1930. The 1953 total of 62 was the smallest.

U. of M. Scientist to Use Radiation on Fishing Trip

ANN ARBOR (INS)—Attention all fishermen! Radioactivity may soon be helping you find where the best fishing lies.

This summer, a University of Michigan scientist will use radioactive solutions to tell "good lakes from "poor" ones.

George H. Lauff, zoology instructor, plans to study bodies of water ranging in size from small bog lakes to the mighty Lake Huron.

Lauff explains that the productivitiy of a lake can be measured by the rate that its microscopic plants are formed for consumption by tiny consumers such as water fleas. The fleas and other consumers are eaten by a small fish, and the small fish by larger ones, and so on up the aquatic chain.

Like a farm, a lake may lack the necessary nutrients for the growth of its plants. Or it may be choked with plants that are not consumed, much as a farm is overgrown with inedible weeds.

Ya Can't Please 'Em All—All the Time

ROCKY MONT, N. C. (AP) — To a lot of folks, the letters "VD" have come to mean venereal disease.

Several motorists put up howls when they purchased 1956 automobile license plates bearing the "VD" prefix in front of the numerals. The State Motor Vehicles Department offered to exchange them for plates bearing other letters. All of the VD plates—999—had been assigned to the Rocky Mount area.

The VD plates suddenly became popular. Folks wrote in and asked to be issued the plates that had been turned in by motorists. No soap, said the department. Turned-in plates can't be re-issued.

Grains Score Small Advances

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains stabilized on the Board of Trade today, scoring small gains on reduced volume after the sharp selling waves which have been knocking down prices in recent sessions.

* * *

Old crop soybeans managed to rally several cents at the opening, reflecting an extension in buying orders following yesterday's 10 cent break. They were not able to continue their opening advance, however.

Firmness in soybean oil and meal futures helped soybeans.

Best showing among other cereals was turned in by wheat, largely reflecting a letup in the liquidation and short selling which have been entering this cereal in recent weeks. Oats had the weakest undertone.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ to ⅞ higher, May $2.26 ½; corn lower to ¼ higher, May $1.49¾; oats ⅛ to ½ lower, May 66½; rye ¾ to 1 cent higher, May $1.27¼; soybeans 1¾ to 4¼ higher, May $3.11½, and lard 10 to 18 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $12.90.

Thieves Invade Store, Overlook Cash Register

A Commerce Township variety store was entered last night, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said, but thieves apparently missed $17 in the cash register.

The owner, Arthur Marohn, 7750 Cooley Lake Rd. reported several inexpensive articles of clothing were missing. The store was entered through an open side window, he said.

The store is located at the Union Lake Shopping Center, 1585 Union Lake Rd.

Stock Prices Decline Gently

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices slipped gently in early afternoon after an irregular start in the stock market today.

* * *

Steels turned lower and rails mixed in the wake of an encouraging start which had pushed prices higher in both divisions.

Trading was fairly actve as losses in most pivotal stocks ranged from fractions to around a point. Some issues here and there dropped around 3 points.

Gains scattered through the list went generally from fractions to about a point, with some exceptions.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 10 cents to $190.30 following yesterday's 50-cent gain in which the rail component reached a record high. Today the industrial and the rail components were each down 10 cents at noon with the utilities unchanged.

* * *

Volume for the day was estimated at around 2,500,000 shares compared with 2,530,000 yesterday.

Early in the session, Bethlehem Steel had advanced 1½ but as prices softened in the second hour it lost this and slipped about a point. U. S. Steel and Republic Steel failed to hold their early fractional gains.

The rail division, almost uniformly ahead earlier, became spotty as the session wore on.

JA Sales Unit Eats Fowl; Losers—Beans

To the victors go the spoils.

And so it was last night when six triumphant members of the Junior Achievement firm P.I.P. sat down to chicken dinners. Across the table half a dozen others put their forks into a far different fare—beans, stark and unfancy.

The contrast was provided by the fact that the chicken-eaters marked up the highest score in a recent sales contest during which P.I.P. members sold ivy planters in a year-end "clearance sale."

The top unit, one-half of the Pontiac Motor Division sponsored firm, was headed by Janis Paquette who also is the company's top saleswoman. The losing team was headed by Jackie Dubay.

Financed by the group, the banquet also featured the presntation of gifts to sponsors F. E. Mapley, R. T. Sheardy and B. M. Pitchford, of the Pontiac Motor staff.

Business Notes

Three Pontiac area truck drivers, who share a total of 22 years of driving without an accident, were among 135 honored for safety by Associated Truck Lines, Inc. at a recent banquet in Grand Rapids.

The trio includes Lawrence Hanke, 10 years; Charles Trombley, seven years; and John Carpenter, five years. Altogether the top 135 have driven 39 million miles without an accident.

Frank R. Chapel, former Pontiac resident, has been appointed industrial relations manager of the new Chrysler plant in Kokomo, Ind., according to Plant Manager James R. Cypher.

Associated with the corporation since 1933, he formerly served as budget supervisor at the Kokomo plant. He is a graduate of Pontiac High School and Michigan State Normal College, and at one time was a carrier of The Pontiac Press.

He is the son of Mrs. Viola Chapel, of 1509 Yorkshire St., Birmingham.

Burroughs Gets Contract to Build Missile 'Brain'

DETROIT (AP)—An Air Force contract to develop an electric computer that would control guided missiles as they soar into outer space was announced yesterday by Burroughs Corp.

The first models are under construction of an electric brain such as one that will guide the new Atlas missile in its 5,000 mile flight. Burroughs said the computer would direct the missiles close enough to a target area "to accomplish its purpose."

The computer can control the speed and direction of the missile by "ordering" the changes necessary to keep it on a predetermined target course even beyond the earth's atmosphere.

Pay Disputes Loom at Steel Companies

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the toughest steel industry labor bargaining sessions in years lies immediately ahead, The Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, said yesterday.

The United Steelworkers have some big and expensive demands but management is determined to hold the line on wages and fringe benefits, the weekly said.

It forecast that sparks will fly when these two opposites crash head-on. All talk of a cut-and-dried settlement has gone by the boards, said Iron Age.

The question of a peaceful settlement depends on how seriously labor will push for its more expensive demands, particularly premium pay for weekend work, which would be costly in terms of both money and in rescheduling of plant operations, the magazine added.

Social Security Fight in Offing

Senate Finance Group Seen Stripping Aid Bill of Major Features

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee appeared ready today to lay the groundwork for a major Democratic-Republican fight by stripping from a House - passed social security bill its two big features.

* * *

The provisions, both opposed by the Eisenhower administration, would lower from 65 to 62 the retirement age for women under social security and set up a system of disability benefits for persons disabled at age 50 or higher.

BYRD KEEPS MUM

Chairman Byrd (D-Va) predicted in advance that the committee would finish with the measure in today's closed sessions and send it to the Senate floor.

Byrd has declined to say how he stands on the two major provisions. But Republicans have said they expect him to vote with them in the committee to eliminate them.

* * *

If he committee does so, key Democrats have said they will fight to reverse that action in the full Senate.

* * *

The committee already has tentatively approved provisions of the House bill to extend social security coverage to about 250,000 additional persons, mostly self-employed professionals.

The House passed the bill last summer 372-31.

Japanese Ships Ignore H-Bomb Drop Alarm

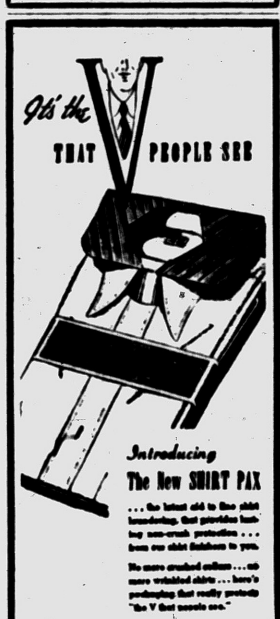

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese government spokesman estimated today that between 20 and 30 fishing vessels are operating near the prohibited zone in which the United States plans to explode an H-bomb.

The spokesman said all the fishing vessels have modern radios and have been warned to steer clear of the area in the Marshall Islands.

Sixteen Japanese freighters are in the mid-Pacific, the official added, but they also have been warned and only three are even near the Marshall area.

Boys Clean Out Cafe Office—in Many Trips

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Police today held two brothers, 7 and 8 years old, and accused them of filching $1,200 from a restaurant safe.

* * *

Lt. Don Laird, chief of the Police Department's youth bureau, said as near as he could piece together the story one or the other walked in and out of the main street cafe six times to get the money. They wanted to buy candy.

An older boy was their undoing. He told police the kids were going around with a lot of money.

COULDN'T FIND IT

Lt. Laird said the brothers operated from a theater where they went to see a Jesse James movie. It started when the older boy needed to go to the toilet. He couldn't find it.

So he wandered into the cafe next door operated by Steve Latyak and Dale Allen, still looking.

* * *

The place was full of customers. The boy walked through the dining room, into the busy kitchen, and up a stairway into the cafe office.

There were some half dollars on a table.

He went back to the theater and tol his younger brother. The little boy went over and got about $10.

SENT THEM BACK

They told some older boys they met in the theater. The older boys told them to go for more.

"They threatened to tell the cops if we didn't do it," Laird quoted the 3-year-old.

So the younger boy went back to the restaurant, this time discovering a safe in the office was unlocked. He stuffed the pockets of his jeans with bills.

* * *

Several trips later the brothers hid about $500 in a stairway near the theater. They said they turned the other loot over to the older pair and went with them to bury it.

ROB THE POLICE

Laird said $582 was recovered, mostly from the stairway. When the boys took him to the spot where the other money was supposed to be it was gone.

Laverne Caskey, 18, was arrested and asked about it. Laird said he admitted he helped bury it.

The names of the brothers were withheld.

* * *

Laird left the room once while the boys were talking into a tape recorder. He said when he came back his desk had been rifled.

India's Government decided that the earliest practicable date for introduction of a decimal coinage system for the country is April 1, 1957.

'We Miss His Wisdom'

Truman Lauds Harriman at Four Freedoms Affair

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Truman, citing Gov. Averell Harriman's warning of the Russian threat while ambassador to Moscow in 1945, says many American leaders today appear to be "taken in . . . by the smile on the face of the Kremlin."

* * *

Truman referred to Harriman's warning that the Russians were threatening to sabotage the forthcoming peace, and told a dinner audience last night:

"Averell Harriman was right then and he has been right since about the Russian threat to peace and freedom.

HARRY GIVES AWARD

"He was not taken in, as so many other political leaders were at that time, by Russian avowals of peaceful intent. He is not taken in today, as so many of our leaders seem to be, by the smile on the face of the Kremlin."

Truman and Harriman were speakers at the annual award dinner of the Four Freedoms Foundation. Truman presented the annual award to Harriman. The former President received the 1953 award.

* * *

Praising Harriman—a possibility for the Democratic presidential nomination who says he is not an "active" candidate, Truman declared:

"We miss his wisdom and energy and sure touch in our foreign policy today."

PRAISES HARRIMAN

Truman, who says he is not now supporting any candidate for the nomination, said of Harriman: "I don't think there is any man in the United States I think more highly of."

The ex-President also said Harriman has "worked with a wisdom and a skill that few others possess" to make the "vision" of the Four Freedoms a reality.

The Four Freedoms award had its genesis in 1941—one of the Red threat years cited by Truman—in the State of the Union message in which the late President Roosevelt looked forward to a world based on the Four Freedoms.

The Four Freedoms Foundation is a nonprofit organization dedicated to furthering the Four Freedoms. It polls 20,000 American leaders in their fields each year to select the award winner.

Dodson Caught in Doubletalk

Tax Dodge Case Lawyer Presents Contradictory Former Testimony

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Hattie Freeman Dodson's statement before a grand jury contradicts trial testimony that she turned over her congressional secretary's salary to her employer, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY).

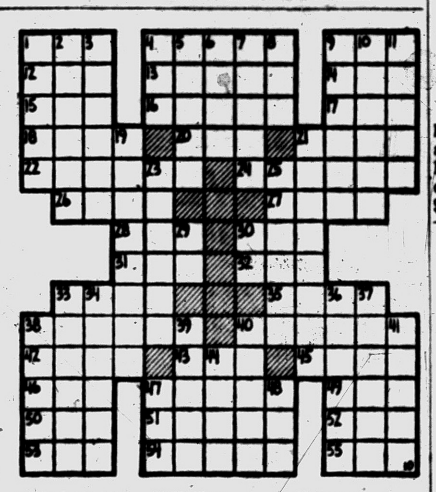

* * *

Mrs. Dodson and her husband Howard are on trial in federal court on charges that they falsified income tax returns between 1948 and 1951. Mrs. Dodson also is charged with income tax evasion and receiving illegal refunds.

Joseph E. Ford, an accountant and former campaign manager for Powell, testified Tuesday that Mrs. Dodson told him to file a separate return in her maiden name because the congressional salary "belonged to the congressman."

* * *

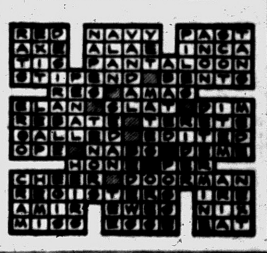

Yesterday, defense attorney Frederick Block read from 1954 grand jury minutes in which Mrs. Dodson told the panel which subsequently returned the indictments: "I never gave any money to Mr. Powell."

Due to Recreate Broadway Role

Phil Silvers May Not Be Available to Enact His Original Part

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Nanette Fabray told us she "probably" will star in "High Button Shoes" next fall when NBC-TV telecasts Nanette's old Broadway musical. Sammy Cahn, the musical's lyricist, bought all the TV rights and Sammy wants Nanette.

It'll be tougher tying up Phil Silvers, also of the Broadway cast, since he's a satisfield CBS chattel now.

Meanwhile, Phil takes several of his TV stooges to Las Vegas for his well-paid shilling.

Max Liebman's George Gershwin spectacular Saturday sounds like a fine notion but only Ethel Merman of its cast strikes us as indigenous to the Gershwin legend.

TO VISIT BELLAMYS

Ralph and Alice Bellamy will be quizzed on "Person-to-Person" Friday.

The May 18 script for "Life of Riley" is the work of comedian George O'Hanlon, who plays "Calvin Dudley," Riley's neighbor.

Godfrey's singer Pat Boone excepts his third child (Papa Pat is 22).

"The Big Surprise" may shift networks.

Peter Lind Hayes is currently filling the "What's My Line" chair turned down by Winchell, Borge and O. Levant.

After filling the seat so well so often, Robert Q. Lewis still is auditioning for the regular location left by the late Fred Allen.

HONEYMOON OVER

Julius La Rosa's honeymoon is over and he has started an unbroken schedule which by Sept. 25 will pay $180,000 to the kid crooner's coffers.

Now that her Broadway play has flopped, pert Betsy Palmer slinks back to the safer medium of TV in a "Masquerade Party" panel chair.

Anna Marie Alberghetti gets the lead opposite Barry Sullivan in the June 2 musical version of "Bell for Adano" (Ford Jubilee).

Walter Winchell's TV variety will be announced as soon as the alternate sponsor agrees (very expensive).

Tony Bennett—and not Peggy Lee (who has a long honeymoon planned) —will be the third summer sub for Perry Como (Patti Page, LaRosa and Tony will take over in June—four Saturdays apiece).

If Billy Pearson was heard correctly on "The $64,000 Challenge," he must have lost all his $64,000 Q. prize already.

Judy Garland's pre-tax take for her last TV songfest was $58,000 after hubby Sid Luft's and adviser Fred Finkehoffe's frees were deducted from Miss Talent's original $100,000.
