

No Fast Changes With Fair Housing

By BOB WISLER

Almost no one versed on the subject of open housing believes that a local ordinance will bring about any immediate change in Pontiac's present housing patterns.

Experience in other cities which have had fair housing ordinances for some time shows that any change in housing patterns is slow in coming.

favorable vote on the ordinance in Monday's election do not see that an ordinance will put an immediate end to de-

The ordinance is seen as a symbolic victory and evidence that white people are ready to fully accept Negroes into

REASON FOR HOPE

Even Negro leaders see it as more of a reason for hope than an immediate solution to housing problems.

"We are not so naive to believe that housing patterns in this community will change overnight... but let us begin,"

Hubert Price Jr., vice president of the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth, said in urging passage of the ordinance.

The fact that passage of an open housing ordinance has been so controversial discourages many Negroes who

problems demanding immediate answers.

Dr. William Donnelly, chairman of the Friends of Fair Housing, said it "is ridiculous that there has to be so much effort to accomplish what should be

ACT OF FAITH

Donnelly said whites should ensure passage of the ordinance. "It would be an act of faith in black people, an act of faith for all people."

eliminating de facto segregation, according to those experts who have studied the problem, is economics.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday for the 30,312 registered voters in the city. The ordinance was enacted by the City Commission early this year, but a petition drive calling for the referendum election on the ordinance

If voters approve the ordinance, it will take effect immediately.

Whites, on the average, have a higher education level and higher incomes.

As Negro incomes rise they will be able to afford better housing and this will bring more integration, but this is a slow process.

Meantime, Negroes want to be able to live where they can afford to live. "We don't want to live in white neighborhoods," said Mayor Pro Tem T. Warren

Fowler Sr., a Negro.

DECENT HOUSING

"What we do want is to be able to live in decent housing, housing we can afford, no matter what neighborhood the housing is in," he added.

Now that the state has passed an open housing law there appears to be less resistance locally to a city ordinance

As a practical matter the state law is likely to be more of a deterrent to continuing discriminatory practices, particularly among real estate firms.

The city ordinance calls for a penalty on conviction of up to $100 fine or up to 90 days jail, or both. This is a maximum city penalty allowed by the city

$1,000 FINES

The state law calls for any real estate firm, bank or other violator of a professional nature to be fined up to $1,000 for committing an unfair housing practice and up to $2,000 for a repeat violation. Individuals could pay up to $500 damages, if found guilty.

It is possible that prosecution of the local ordinance would entail less time than prosecution of the state law. The state law calls for the Civil Rights Commission to investigate complaints and the cases to be processed through the state courts.

The local ordinance calls for the cases to be prosecuted locally. They would be handled the way all misdemeanor complaints are handled.

U.S. Says N. Korea Errs in Spy Ship Sinking Tale

WASHINGTON (AP) — A North Korean radio report that a U.S. "spy ship" had been sunk off the west coast of Korea was tentatively described today by U.S. authorities as incorrect.

"It would appear that this initial report is erroneous," a Pentagon spokesman said.
He emphasized that this comment was based on a hurried check of the situation.

Asked if this meant the sinking involved a ship of some other nation, the spokesman said, "There are a lot of possibilities on this. All we can say at the moment is that it appears this report is incorrect."

The sinking was claimed in a North Korean Radio broadcast, monitored in London, which said the ship was attacked by North Korean patrol vessels and sunk with its entire crew.

A spokesman for the U.S. forces in Korea said "as far as we know there is nothing to it. We have no report on it." South Korean military spokesmen made similar comments.

In Tokyo, another American

spokesman said he had been informed by the 314th Air Division command post in Korea that a distress signal had been picked up today from a South Korean fishing boat. The report did not give the time of the SOS or the location of the boat, but said this may have been the "spy ship" to which Pyongyang Radio referred.

SHIP UNNAMED

The name of the alleged spy ship was not given, nor was the name of the mother vessel.

The reported sinking came nearly six months after the U.S. Navy's intelligence ship Pueblo and her crew of 83 were captured by four North Korean patrol boats and taken to the port of Wonsan.

HISTORIC HOUSE NO MORE — A sudden fire which started about 3 a.m. this morning leveled the longtime home of T. F. MacManus, founder of the advertising firm of MacManus, John and Adams. The wooden structure, located at Woodward and Opdyke in Bloomfield Hills, was not owned by the MacManus family and had been vacant for some time. MacManus, now deceased, was responsible for construction of nearby St. Hugo's Church and the Stonycroft golf course.

Viet War Longest for U.S.

SAIGON (AP) — The Vietnam war became the longest war in American history today with thousands of U.S. troops set up in new positions to protect South Vietnam's capital against a threatened third enemy offensive.

At midnight in Saigon — noon EDT — the war will be six years, six months and one day old, measured from the death on Dec. 22, 1961, of Spec. 4 James Thomas Davis of Livingston, Tenn., the first of more than 25,000 Americans who have been killed in Vietnam.

The longest war involving American fighting men had been the War of Independence — six years and six months.

U.S. 25th Division infantrymen sweeping the outer edges of the rocket belt reported killing 12 enemy soldiers and capturing seven weapons nine miles northwest of the capital. No U.S. casualties were reported.

TROOPS PULLED IN

A senior U.S. officer declined to say how many troops were being moved closer to the capital, but it was learned that perhaps a brigade of infantrymen — 3,000 men — had been moved to the city's outer limits.

Carpenters' Pact Hit as Unrealistic

DETROIT (AP) — The manager of labor relations of the Associated General Contractors in Detroit charged today that a new pact reached between a small portion of contractors and striking carpenters was "irresponsible and absolutely unrealistic."

A $1.90-per-hour wage increase over two years was agreed to last night between the Poured Wall Contractors Association dry wall installers and roofers, hardwood floor contractors and the carpenters union district council.

He said this covers only 1,000 carpenters out of 16,000 from Monroe County to St. Clair County in the north.

7 North Koreans Killed

SEOUL (UPI) — South Korean troops today killed seven North Koreans in seven hours of fighting south of the demilitarized zone between the two countries, South Korean military officials said.

Some of the North Koreans were hunted down and shot by the South Koreans, who reported one man slightly wounded in the early morning clash, they said.

FBI Chief Decries Growing Wave of Violence in U.S.

By HAROLD A. FITZGERALD
Chairman of the Board
The Pontiac Press

WASHINGTON — With the "hot" days of summer directly ahead, J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, answers a list of important questions for conduct in general if trouble breaks out. He is directly outspoken on the restrictions of firearms.

His replies to 21 questions asked by the Associated Press follow:

Q. What in your opinion, as our nation's leading law enforcement officer, is the main cause behind the violence which is sweeping our country?

A. A rising contempt of and disrespect for law and order lie at the heart of the growing violence in America today. This disrespect is reflected in many ways: spiraling crime rate, riots, civil disobedience, rebellion on our campuses, and the rise of extremist racial and vigilante groups. Respect for law and order is the cement which holds the varied and often hostile groups of a democracy together. The moment individuals or groups distrust the law and attempt, through coercion, intimidation or violence, to take matters into their own hands, the orderly fabric of society bursts. This is what we are seeing today.

Q. What are your views on civil disobedience?

A. Civil disobedience is a pernicious doctrine which is undermining respect for law and order. Proponents of this doctrine assert that civil disobedience is justifiable if the acts are open, not violent, respectful of the rights of others, and have the purpose of focusing attention on significant moral issues of the day.

To individuals enthused about a current moral problem, to appeal to civil disobedience may seem great. But to break the law even "gently" can have eventual tragic consequences. Suppose every group or individual who felt he had a righteous cause did likewise? What would happen? We would have chaos. Moreover, what starts out as a planned, controlled incident of civil disobedience may mushroom into open violence or riots. Also, if the situation falls under the influence of extremists or avowed agitators, great damage can result.

J. EDGAR HOOVER

Q. Respect for law and order seems passe. What has brought our country to this situation?

A. We are living in an age when too many citizens are thinking about their "rights" and "privileges" and too little about their "duties" and "responsibilities." The emphasis today is too heavily weighted on the permissiveness of the individual — that anything he feels best for himself he should do regardless of how it may affect others. Respect for the laws means respect for the rights of others. America needs a reemphasis on community cooperation, mutual trust and the responsibility of the individual.

Q. Has the Communist party sought to capitalize on this breakdown in respect for law and order?

A. The Communist party, USA, is busily attempting to capitalize on the current social unrest, divisiveness and tensions in our society. Not since the depression days of the 1930s has the Communist party had such a fertile field of discontent to exploit. Social chaos and disorder are tailor-made for the growth of the communist virus. The party is elated to see Americans denounce other Americans, to see incidents of civil disobedience, to see the growing disdain for the law.

Q. What is the role of the FBI in civil disorders?

A. The FBI's responsibility is to develop and disseminate intelligent information while remaining alert to any violations of Federal law within its investigative jurisdiction. It does not have jurisdiction to protect either property or persons or to police riot situations.

Q. What should I do if lawless elements approach my store or home?

A. In cases of possible violence, local law enforcement authorities should immediately be furnished all available information. Citizens should not attempt to organize vigilante groups for protection purposes.

Q. What can news media do to aid local law enforcement when a breakdown in law and order occurs?
A. Report the facts promptly and accurately. In situations of lawlessness, great damage is done by false rumors and gossip. The news media can render tremendous aid to the restoration of law (Continued on Page A-7)

JOHANNES F. SPREEN

Detroit Police Chief a Big Man

From Our News Wires
DETROIT — Johannes F. John Spreen is big enough to carry a hefty stick — no matter how softly he talks.

There's more to the size of Detroit's major police commissioner than his 6-foot-5 frame and the 240 pounds thereon.

He's a big man from the standpoint of 25 years as a policeman, as the holder of two citations and as a respected teacher and lecturer.

Spreen, 48, will take charge of the police force in the nation's fifth largest city July 15. He will take on 4,700 men in blue and a stack of problems big enough to make anyone tremble.

PEACE STRAINED

The city still feels deeply the scars of last summer's riot, the worst civil disturbance in modern American history. And the uneasy peace that exists is strained all the harder by still fresh memories of burning buildings and blood-stained streets.

'FINE DEPARTMENT'

Spreen doesn't believe there is any special morale problem with Detroit's police department. He thinks the $10,000 maximum base pay recently won by the police will contribute to good morale.

"From what I can gather I think we have a fine department in Detroit," the German-born Spreen said in a quiet New York accent shortly after his appointment was announced.

"I believe preventive control is the important thing. And a matter of the utmost importance is to get the most out of our manpower," he added.

About the individual policeman — the man on the beat or at the other end of a telephone — Spreen said:

"I think the police officer must have a sense of social responsibility. He must have a sense of education. It's not just a law enforcing job, not just tight catching. The preventive measures and the service are more important."

WALKED BEAT 7 YEARS

Spreen's ideas about police work come from 25 years on the New York City police department, seven of them pounding a beat.

He has a master's degree in public administration from New York University and was graduated from Southern Police Institute.

Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh said that in the New York department Spreen served as troubleshooter and a consultant to foreign governments on police problems.

Spreen is anxious to try out his ideas learned from that experience as well as those from the academic world where he's been the past two years as a lecturer and teacher in police work at State University of New York.

He rates police-community relations, particularly where the Negro community is concerned, as a top priority, "24 hours a day." He said he is ready to walk the streets himself to pursue his ideas.

Spreen admits to a fascination for acronyms — those words made up from the first letters of other words. He sees the word "police" as an acronym, at least the "P-O" part of it.

"I think police," he said, "should be considered protectors of liberty."

Spreen's predecessor as Detroit Police Commissioner, Ray Girardin, a former Detroit newspaperman, announced his intended retirement last October, but his departure was postponed three times at Cavanagh's request while a replacement was sought.

Of Girardin, Cavanagh said: "Commissioner Girardin has been one of the most outstanding police commissioners in this city's history at a most difficult time. Ray Girardin has always discharged his duties with a great deal of judgment, prudence and understanding."

Waterford Man Dies Following Head-On Crash

A 33-year-old Waterford Township man died last night of multiple injuries received in a two-car head-on collision on Haggerty Road about 1/2 mile south of W. Maple in West Bloomfield Township.

The accident occurred about 6:44 p.m. Milton W. Hoover, 33, of 1016 Pelham died at 10:20 p.m. at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

Township police said Hoover was driving north when his car collided with a southbound auto which apparently had skidded over the center line.

The other driver, Andrew J. Louinger, 21, of 21110 Randall, Farmington, and two passengers, Edward Moody, 14, and Glen Moody, 21, both of 21124 Randall, were treated for cuts and bruises.

Police said that they will attempt to secure a warrant in the case charging Louinger with manslaughter or negligent homicide.

LBJ to Sign Surcharge

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to sign within a few days the 10 per cent income tax surcharge bill, and taxpayers should find paychecks smaller before the end of July. The first federal income tax hike in 17 years, coupled with a $8-billion cut in federal spending, whipped through the Senate yesterday by a surprisingly large margin, although passage had been expected.

No Contract Progress Made in Waterford Police Talks

Negotiating teams representing Waterford Township and the Waterford Township Police Officers Association met again yesterday but reportedly made no progress toward arriving at a contract settlement.

The WTPOA has been working without a contract since Jan. 1 when the 1967 contract expired. The two sides have been negotiating over a new pact since August of last year.

Glen Phelps, president of the WTPOA, said that some very strong feelings are being expressed by members of the association about what might happen if an agreement is not reached soon.

There has been some talk of picketing, he said, and some thought has been given to seeking help from employees of other township departments.

'EYE MOVE TO DETROIT'

Four or five policemen Phelps said, are considering joining the Detroit police force. There are 26 policemen in the department, all of whom are association members.

At yesterday's negotiation session, Phelps said, the WTPOA offered to agree to an across the board pay increase of $200 for men of all ranks. A request for extra pay increase for lieutenants and captains was dropped.

The association also requested that time and one-half overtime pay be paid for work over 40 hours. The provision, would be retroactive to May 1, instead of Jan. 1 as previously demanded.

'EYE MOVE TO DETROIT'

The board has offered to pay time and one-half for hours worked over 42 hours, effective as of the date of ratification of the contract.

NO COUNTEROFFER

The board made no counteroffer to the WTPOA proposals yesterday.

Township Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson said that the township negotiating team would need more time to study them.

The contract that expired Jan. 1 set top pay for patrolmen at $7,384. On Jan. 1, the township implemented an across the board raise of $800, bringing the top patrolman pay to $8,184.

No new meeting date was set.

Open Housing Bid in Waterford

The Waterford Township Board Monday night will be asked to consider adopting an open housing ordinance for the township.

The proposal will be made by the Waterford Education Association, represented by its executive director, Robert E. Crumpton.

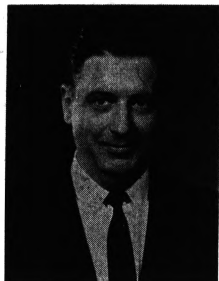

A similar WEA proposal was adopted by the Waterford Township Board of Education at its regular meeting last Thursday.

In other business, the board will consider a resolution giving the board control of the operation of the township's parks and recreation activities. The parks and recreation department currently is run by the Waterford school district.

The school board has already passed a resolution transferring control of the department to the township.

The board will also consider entering into an agreement with the school district to join in providing Waterford Mott High School with a sanitary sewer.

The board meets at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Waterford Township High School.

ROBERT H. NELSON

Area JP Files for Judge Race

Farmington Township Justice of the Peace Robert H. Nelson announced today that he has filed as a candidate for district judge in the Aug. 6 primary.

A justice of the peace for nearly nine years, Nelson, 47, of 29417 Hawberry, is seeking the post in the 47th District, which comprises the city and township of Farmington.

Under the recent lower court reorganization, justice courts throughout the state and some municipal courts will be replaced by district courts with more jurisdiction.

Nelson, a practicing attorney for 13 years, earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Detroit where he graduated Magna Cum Laude, a law degree from the Harvard Law School, and master's degree at the Harvard Business School.

PAPERS PUBLISHED

He has been a member of various professional committees and has had two professional papers published in national journals. He has been admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Before he started to practice law, Nelson was employed as a certified public accountant with a Detroit firm. He was a Navy officer in World War II.

A resident of Farmington Township for over 12 years, Nelson and his wife, Sibby, have one daughter, Ingrid.

Active on various civic committees in both the city and township of Farmington, Nelson in recent years has spearheaded an effort to restore the celebration of the Fourth of July.

For Legal Services

County OEO Gets Grant

U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart today announced that the Oakland County Commission of Economic Opportunity has been awarded a $182,527 grant for a 10-month legal services program.

Since April the OCEO has been engaged in an expanded Legal Aid Society, providing legal advice to families whose incomes are low enough to qualify them for the poverty level.

About half the cases handled by the group involve family and marriage difficulties. Other cases are divided between housing problems, rent, employment, etc.

plaints are handled: a police investigation, then a decision on prosecution by the city law department.

Other features of the Pontiac ordinance:

Section 1—Prohibits any owner of real property, lessee, sublessee, real estate broker or salesman, builder or supplier, lender, financial institution, advertiser or agent from discriminating in regard to sale or rental because of religion, race, color or national origin.

Section 2 — Excludes from coverage rental of a room or rooms in a single family unit when the remainder of the units are occupied by the owner or member of his immediate family, a lessee of the entire unit or members of his immediate family.

Section 2—States that the ordinance does not require anyone to offer the property to the public at large before renting or selling and allows preferences to prospective tenants or purchasers for any reason other than religion, race, color or national origin.

Section 4—States that an individual can seek remedy to discrimination before the Civil Rights Commission, or state courts, or both.

Section 5—Declares that the ordinance in no way impairs existing powers of the Human Relations Commission.

Section 6—Prohibits any person, firm, partnership, association or corporation from attempting to induce the sale or rental of property by representing that neighborhoods are undergoing or will soon undergo a change in the racial composition.

Section 7—Prohibits using threats, intimidation, coercion or conspiracy in attempting to induce rental or sale of property.

Section 8—Declares punishment of up to $100 fine or 90 days in jail or both for conviction of violations.

Section 9—Declares that if any part of the ordinance is declared invalid, the rest will remain in effect.

Lahser High Principal Is Honored

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — David Cook, Bloomfield Lahser High School principal, has been named by the Institute for Development of Educational Activities (IDEA), Dayton, Ohio, as an IDEA Fellow.

He will attend the institute's 1968 summer seminars, to be held July 7-13 at Amherst College, Amherst, Mass.

Cook is one of 400 school administrators picked from nearly 15,000 nationwide to participate in the information exchange sessions on advancements in education.

The summer seminars this year will have the theme "Individuality in Learning" and will feature specialists in independent study as speakers and group leaders.

IDEA programs are designed to assist teachers, administrators and other groups with plans for building and curriculum development.

DONALD GROTHE

BIRMINGHAM — Donald Grothe, a counselor at Birmingham Seaholm High School, has been elected vice president of the Michigan Association of College Admissions Counselors.

The association, composed of counselors and college admissions administrators, is designed to exchange ideas and solve problems which exist between high schools and colleges and to promote high professional standards in guidance.

Grothe lives at 1714 Warwick, Sylvan Lake.

News Briefs off the Wire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The beleaguered Poor People's campaign enters its most crucial weekend today facing a Sunday deadline to get out of its shantytown near the Lincoln Memorial. Federal officials were reported strongly opposed to granting an extension of the permit, already extended one week from the original expiration date June 16. The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, leader of the campaign, repeated yesterday that he and his followers will not leave voluntarily.

Court Post Fight Looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Republican senators say they will oppose any effort by President Johnson to name a new chief justice of the Supreme Court after Earl Warren steps down. "For a 'lame duck' president to designate the leadership of the Supreme Court for many years in the future would break faith with our system and would be an affront to the American people," Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., told the Senate. He was joined in his opposition by Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., and Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C.

Court Led by Warren Had Profound Effect on American Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — The although it junked the 58-year-old principle that Negro children and controversial years, has had profound effect on American social and political life. The court's decision to separate the races in schools as long as the facilities were equal to those of the white children.

Negro children now attend the South. City voters have a more equal share in state and national government.

Police departments throughout the land have had to change their ways to protect the rights of crime suspects. And, as of last Monday, Negroes have the right to buy or rent homes where they please.

News Analysis

These massive alterations on the national scene have evoked probably as much criticism as admiration. And the critics, by and large, have let fly at the bulky California, Earl Warren, who steered the court's course as the 14th chief justice of the United States.

NOT FURTHERED
If the "Impeach Earl Warren" billboards or the pickets who showed up when he spoke in public or the legislation designed to trim the court's sails affected the 77-year-old former California governor, he did not show it.

"I just don't discuss it," Warren often said when invited to fire back.

Silver-haired and beaklike, he kept a tight hold on the court. His geniality dropped quickly when lawyers failed to respond directly to questions.

He insulated himself from the news media. Even at an occasional birthday interview all but the most commonplace questions were turned aside.

FIRST INKING
Still, the first inking that Warren was thinking of quitting came in March 1966 during a 75th birthday interview. He said he "was not at all adverse to a compulsory retirement date" for all public officials.

"I believe," the chief justice said, "that the strength of our system in this country depends on the infusion of new blood into all our institutions."

The fact that this is an old court, averaging 65 years in age, and that the new president who takes office in January may not be in tune with Warren's views is believed to have led him to step down now.

Justice Abe Fortas has been considered a leading possibility to succeed Warren if President Johnson is able to name the next chief justice before the chief executive leaves office next January.

COMFORTABLE FIT
Fortas, extremely close to Johnson for many years, has blended comfortably with the court's expansive views of individual rights and liberties in his three years on the bench.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower appointed Warren, a liberal Republican, to top court post Sept. 30, 1953.

In May 1954, before his first term ended, the Warren court had flatly banned segregation in public schools.

The decision was unanimous.

FAMED OPINION

"We conclude," Warren wrote, "that in the field of public education the doctrine of separate but equal has no place. Separate educational facilities are inherently unequal."

This same philosophy marked the major decision of the term just ended—interpretation of an obscure 1866 law to ban discrimination in sale or rental of housing.

Although Congress shortly before came up with a new law to strike at discrimination in 80 per cent of the nation's housing.

The court swept further. The 1866 law, it said, bans "all racial discrimination, private, as well as public, in the sale or rental of property."

A revolution of another sort was brought by the court in the early 1960s when it pronounced the "one man-one vote" doctrine.

SAME WEIGHT
States must draw their legislative and congressional districts in such a way that each citizen's vote will have substantially the same weight, the court said.

As a result, the rural hold on many state legislatures was loosened and people in the growing urban and suburban areas were given a larger say in making laws.

Appeals Court Challenges Law Shielding County Board District

LANSING (UPI) — The State Court of Appeals has added a new twist to the already tangled status of one-man, one-vote apportionment of county boards of supervisors.

The court has incited a challenge of a law, approved by Gov. George Romney June 13, that declares that no court decision shall "affect, alter, change, amend or delay" any county remap plan for the 1968 elections.

What obviously concerns the appellate court is that this language could permit acceptance of reapportionment plans that violate the equal representation dictum of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Apportionment of county boards of supervisors on a one-man, one-vote basis became a must when the U.S. Supreme Court ruled the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution "permits no substantial variation from equal population in drawing districts for local government."

ARGUMENT ORDERED

In a series of orders, the nine

State GI Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — One Michigan serviceman is listed by the Defense Department among 37 killed in action in the Vietnam war. He was Army Spec. 4 Marvin Scott, son of Mrs. Marie Scott of Coldwater.

appellate judges have ordered apportionment commissions of five counties — Sanilac, Muskegon, Allegan, Ottawa and Huron — to appear July 1 to argue that the Legislature acted improperly in passing the law.

The key question, as the court put it, is "whether a state legislature may by statute preserve an action found by a court to be in violation of the U.S. Constitution."

The remap plans submitted by the five counties have all been challenged on the grounds that they do not meet one-man, one-vote guidelines.

An authoritative court source said that the plans "on their face" fail to meet equal-population requirements of either the state's 1966 county apportionment law or the equal protection amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

The declared purpose of the legislation shielding apportionment plans from court challenge was to permit orderly implementation so that supervisors could be elected from new districts this November. Backers said that if courts were permitted to scrap apportionment plans, election deadlines — the first of which is a candidacy filing deadline of July 2 — would not be met.

Significantly, the appellate court scheduled its hearing on the five cases in question one day ahead of the filing deadline. Should the court declare the "shielding" law unconstitutional, it faces the difficult problem of sorting out the constitutional questions involved in a number of apportionment plans within the tight confines of the election schedule.

There were indications the court would try to find "some device" that would permit orderly elections this year without the "shield" language.

Strike Cost on Seaway to Be High

OTTAWA (U) — The St. Lawrence Seaway strike will cost $96,000 daily in lost toll revenues and $34,100 in lost wages, The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority estimated Friday.

The 1,200 Canadian seaway workers who walked off their jobs Friday are demanding a 9 per cent wage increase in each year of a two-year contract. They were offered 6 per cent each year.

The Seaway Authority estimated the yearly cost of a 6 per cent pay increase at $543,996. A 9 per cent increase would cost $815,994, the authority's calculations indicated.

Cargoes passing through the seaways at Montreal and the Welland Canal from Jan. 1 to June 14 this year were the highest in the 10-year history of the seaway, the authority reported.

A total of 14,671,000 tons passed through the lower section, compared to the 1967 record of 13,392,000. The 1968 total to June 14 in the Welland Canal was 16,856,000 tons, exceeding the 1966 record of 16,067,000.

TO OUR PARENTS:

some plain talk about your generation

You have taught us that all men are born with equal rights. Yet you have succeeded in suppressing the human rights of 20,000 citizens in Pontiac. Because of this, you have created a segregated community. You can choose to ignore the situation. Or, you can act to change it by voting for open housing.

If you, as parents, teach us that all men are equal and should be treated as individuals, then fail to practice these ideals, you are hypocrites.

We urge you to carry out the ideals you have taught us and assume the leadership to bring fair housing to Pontiac.

Courts Alter Board of Supervisors

A new look has been given Michigan's county boards of supervisors by two high court decisions—the United States Supreme Court and the State Court of Appeals.

The first ruled that henceforth the boards must follow the one-man one-vote principle in township and municipal representation in their make-up. The second ruled that the redistricting of Oakland County for such purpose conforms with State statute.

Voters will therefore ballot for all supervisors under the new set-up on Aug. 6.

Heretofore, the 87-man board has been composed of one supervisor from each of the County's 24 townships (regardless of population) plus those appointed by the various cities based on population. The redistricting of the County for township supervisor representation will reduce the board to 27 members.

We think the revision of the supervisor structure is an improvement in that it:

- Reduces by two-thirds the County's unwieldy governing board of 87 members.

- Redresses the inequity of townships with vastly unequal populations having identical representation of a single supervisor each.

The cry has arisen, of course, by Republicans in this case, that a certain amount of gerrymandering was employed in drawing the supervisor district lines, since the board established for the purpose was weighted by elected Democrats holding top County offices; and that the population figures used were those of 1960—figures considerably out-of-date that no longer reflect the true population spread of the County.

But these objections are at worst transitory, which over the years will yield to population shifts and the will of the electorate. After all, isn't that the working of democracy?

Teacher Retirees Acclaimed for Long Service

The Press renders a well-earned salute to a group of 14 dedicated Pontiac educators who are retiring with a combined total of 361 years devoted to the scholastic development of Pontiac's school children.

Their span of service ranges from 10 years to 41 and 42 years respectively for Mrs. MARION HINKLEY and Mrs. ANNE PELISSIER.

But, added the principal, the schools generally fill the responsibility deficiency, and declared that "children are more knowledgeable and capable today."

No body of public employees has a more important role in society than the teachers of the Nation's children. That despite occasional incidents of student misbehavior and rebellion the vast majority of youngsters find broad character and intellectual development during their school years is conclusive evidence of how well teachers fulfill their responsibility.

The community is indebted to the splendid group of retirees for the selfless service they have performed.

It's Time to Keep Our Flag Waving

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

As if our nation were in not enough unhappy turmoil during the early days of summer in this election year, the cynics and the enemies of old-fashioned patriotism are once again at work on their base theme that there is too much flag waving in the United States of America.

DIRKSEN

How can there be too much of our flag?

In a day when "patriotism" is in danger of becoming a dirty, unfashionable word, it is high time to wave the flag more than ever, for if the symbol goes, then the substance goes with it.

There has been a studied and growing contempt shown for the American flag both here at home and in foreign lands. It has been burned there, it has been trampled, it has been spat upon and spit upon and trampled and then destroyed.

It is clear that the members of Congress do not anywhere intend to put up with desecration of the flag. The U.S. Senate has a bill for approval that would severely punish those who act violently against the flag.

The House passed the bill 305 to 16—a thumping majority vote. Strangely, in the haste to enact the measure, the House omitted in it any provision that would punish those convicted of burning our national banner.

There were some curious arguments advanced against the bill. Some critics pointed out that all of the states have laws that make it a misdemeanor to desecrate the flag, so why have a federal law?

What was not emphasized was that the state laws do not provide for extradition of a desecrator if he skips across a state line.

And then there was the false and sour argument by some that to punish a person for contempt of the flag is a denial of free expression and, therefore, a denial of the constitutional right of free speech. That bill waiting for final approval in the Senate does no such thing.

A person can revile the flag to his evil heart's content, but it is only if his contempt takes physical form—such as trampling, tearing, spitting and burning the flag—that he can be punished. Only his violence is punished.

Since man first raised a banner to proclaim his love for country, flags have been symbols of greatness and faith. Many centuries ago, the Psalmist sang—"In the name of God we will set up our banners." In all ages, men and nations have fashioned beautiful and colorful banners to express their ideals and devotion.

Our banner—the Stars and Stripes—expresses our origin, our hope of expansion, our unity, our belief in God and our devotion to liberty and justice.

When the flag of the United States flies over our installations and people abroad it carries with it a recognition of extraterritoriality and the right of sanctuary for all who seek its protection.

Here at home, perhaps some 50,000 assemblies, forums, schools and public affairs recite each year the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Proud and unabashed, men, women and children recite in unison the pledge: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Reverence for our Stars and Stripes is but our simple tribute to the republic and to all of its hopes and dreams.

The argument, then, for a federal statute to provide for punishment of those who desecrate the flag is quite substantial, for don't overlook the sad fact that if our flag is desecrated with impunity here in our own country, then desecrators in other countries have an open invitation to yank it down and burn it.

And what of the men in the armed forces? What effect do you think the demeaning of the flag in incidents in any of the 50 states has on the morale of a half a million soldiers in Vietnam who fight under its folds and who find comfort in the principles for which it stands?

The flag of the republic is a national flag, not a state flag. It merits the protection of the republic for which it stands.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODY ISHMAEL

David, Israel's greatest king, was a man of many virtues and accomplishments. He was a poet, musician, a courageous and resourceful warrior, and a brilliant and wise king with a deep concern for his people.

Born in Bethlehem between 1040 and 1030 B.C., he spent his early years tending sheep before entering the court of Saul, the first king of Israel. He was recommended to Saul as a fine musician who could soothe his moods of depression. The many stories of David's faith and leadership have provided inspiration for centuries.

When David became king after the death of Saul he brought all the tribes of Israel under his rule through military and diplomatic victories, and his long and successful reign gave Israel national unity. His psalms and devout faith have been of great religious significance, not only to Judaism but to Christianity and Islam as well.

"Give unto the Lord, O ye mighty,
Give unto the Lord glory and strength.
Give unto the Lord the glory due his name;
Worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness..."

Confident Living:

Look for the Good in Our Nation

By NORMAN VINCENT

PEALE

I for one am getting fed up with the popular indoor sport of running America down. Many so-called intellectuals seem to be in on the act. Reading and listening to them you come to think that no matter what anyone else in the world does we Americans can do it worse.

DR. PEALE

Personally I think there is quite a lot right with this country and its people—and in this column we mean to say so.

One gripe I have is the slander of American youth which is being popularized. Why isn't more being said about the vast number of good kids in this country—kids who take baths, who do not use drugs?

There are incredible numbers of American young people who have ideals and the guts to stick to them. And they have a lot of fun being that way, too. But maybe we ought to be glad the drug addicts and longhairs get the publicity. As long as they are news it represents an aberration of the normal. But if it were news to come across a clean-cut, bathed, non-smelly young man, then we would be in a bad way indeed.

As long as the funny-looking shaggy are news it proves that the steady young crowd is still the big majority. But why doesn't someone just once in a while pat this crowd on the back and give thanks for them. I do that, here and now!

Young people are not as immoral as they are painted either. To read the same old stories about them that clutter up magazines of today you get the notion that sex is their big purpose in living; that it reduces people to cattle.

"Am I a dope? What is wrong with me? Am I some kind of oddball?" These sharp questions were put to me by an attractive 20-year-old girl. "I met a boy," she continued, "and about the second time he told me he loved me and wanted me to go to a motel. When I told him straight out to forget it, he announced he was through with me. What about it?" she asked.

"Well," I replied, "that love bit was as phony as your boy friend himself. He is just on the make. He couldn't care less for you beyond your body—and you are a lot more than that. Aren't you?" "I'll say I am," she replied. "I'm a human being with a soul and a mind."

"Yes," I interrupted, "and with a lot of sense and guts, too. You're really somebody if you ask me."

I might add that she soon met a real boy friend, one on the up and up, and wedding bells are about to ring. And they are happy that they played it straight!

There are more young people of this sort in this country than you may have been led to think—and don't let anyone tell you otherwise. A final thing I'm fed up with is the canard that true marriage is a passive concept. If you believed all you hear and read you would think there are no happy marriages, that there is a sour factor in just about all of them.

Purveyors of dirt have spread the lie that marriages of fidelity and happiness

Voice of the People:

Letter Suggests Reasons Public Has Lost Respect

We hear much about the sickness in our country and the reasons for violence, riots, mass demonstrations, strikes and general moral breakdown. Another committee has been formed to find out why we have become such a lawless nation. Perhaps a committee of plain, ordinary people could give a pretty intelligent reason.

The whitewash of the scandals in Washington, the driving records and tax abuses of some Lansing legislators, the troubles in Detroit and Wayne County, the decisions by our courts to protect the criminal instead of the law-abiding citizen, the handcuffing of the police to the point people have felt they had to buy guns to protect property and families, have all contributed to the present climate.

Is it any wonder people have lost respect for law and order when people in places of trust have none? The assassination of our public figures is tragic, but it is also tragic that people have become afraid to open their doors after dark.

Study Should Include All Forms of Violence

After reading article "Public Attention Focused on U.S. Gun Toll," I suggest the A.P. should include in their study all forms of violent death by firearms, knives, clubs, strangulation, etc. Perhaps it could also include auto fatalities. Then let the A.P. publish the results and accompany it with a percentage breakdown. This would be more enlightening than the rather biased study they are now undertaking. I suggest The Press could forward this suggestion to the Associated Press.

'No Comment Made on Low Cost Housing'

Just prior to President Johnson announcing he would not seek reelection, I heard a speech he made to an AFL convention in Miami. Not one word of censure was spoken about the building trades hurdling the wage-productivity guidelines. The speech amounted to flattery of Meany and his delegates—an appeal for votes rather than reason.

Meany's and the administration's ideas of low cost housing are high production costs and low rent subsidized by the taxpayers. Meany has been for LBJ all the way and I suggest he continue to follow him all the way and resign.

'Teen-Agers Have Timely Message for All'

A group of teen-agers have banded together in the Walled Lake area to create an uprising to awaken the community to see that something can be done to erase some of our problems. Known as "Sing-Out Walled Lake," this group realizes the coming responsibilities in adult life. These teens have a country in which they believe and can be proud of. They present evening entertainment pleasing for the entire family—a program that reflects the vim and exuberance of youth in its fast pace. This is a group of young people with a message that we all need badly.

Discusses Problem of Waterford Land Fill

Maceday Lake residents have fought against destruction of property and aesthetic values of our beautiful lake. We spent much money bringing in experts who proved that a sanitary land fill would ruin our lake. Within 10 to 11 years it would fill our lake with weeds; kill good fish and leave scavengers; cover the lake with a green scum of algae and surround the area with obnoxious odors. The petitioners admitted the danger of spontaneous combustion causing deep-seated fires impossible to extinguish. The health department claims these things would not cause pollution dangerous to health. What about mental health?

After this testimony, the planning board rejected the dump. Unknown to us, the petitioners had a hearing before a Pontiac judge who set aside this decision of our own board and now an appeals board will soon decide our future. Shall we destroy our natural resources for greed and because it won't affect us now? Our lake empties into five others and into the Clinton River. Whatever happens here will eventually affect thousands and cannot be reversed. The judge ruled there could be no more open hearings and no more testimony. Is this democracy and justice?

The government should support parochial institutions. Emmanuel Christian School is being closed because of lack of support. Why can't we have good Christian schools without them coming in an end? Why can't the government help with the few extra dollars it takes to keep a Christian school open?

FBI Chief Decries Growing U.S. Violence, Asks Citizen Aid

and order—or in preventing disorder—by fair and honest reporting. On the other hand, a disservice is performed if the news media overemphasize extremist statements by agitators or report isolated incidents of violence as indicative of general conditions. The news media can aid by promptly transmitting the public any instructions issued by the authorities such as hours of a curfew, data relative to traffic conditions and areas where citizens should not travel.

Q. What types of positive action can citizens take in helping reverse our constantly rising crime rate?

A. 1. Attempt to remedy the conditions, such as poverty, discrimination and poor housing, which help breed crime.

2. Obey the laws themselves—not scoff at traffic tickets, cheat on income tax returns or poke fun at law enforcement officers.

3. Be willing to pay the taxes necessary to give the local police officers the equipment, personnel and training they need. Police salaries are far too low. We must recognize that effective protection costs money—your money.

4. Accept personal responsibility—to serve on an anticrime commission, work with young people, help clear an old field for a playground.

5. Report pertinent information immediately to the proper authorities. Too many Americans today are unwilling to cooperate with law enforcement, even refusing to furnish vital data in their possession.

6. Don't be a silent confederate of the criminal by leaving your keys in the car, your front door unlocked at night or a ladder by the rear window.

7. Be optimistic. Crime is not an incurable disease. It can be reduced or even eliminated.

Q. What are some of the major crime problems we are likely to encounter this summer?

A. Serious crimes against the person, such as murder, rape and aggravated assault, increase during the summer months. Summer abets the operation of gangs and hoodlum lawlessness. Also, if extremist groups and individuals continue to inflame communities, the possibility exists that civil disorders and riots may again erupt in urban areas.

Q. What are some of the problems encountered by the FBI in its fight against the forces of organized crime?

A. A major difficulty is public indifference, stemming partly from the "Why should I get involved?" attitude and partly from the fact that the products of organized crime appeal to some segments of the population. This is true, for example, during Prohibition days, when people wanted liquor and saw nothing wrong with patronizing a murderous bootlegger to get it. It is true today with respect to gambling, in that naive persons fail to realize that by doing business with bookmakers and policy operators they are making it possible for the hoodlum element to bribe police, amass gigantic fortunes, and undermine our society.

Another difficulty is the fantastic amount of money available to the underworld, permitting hoodlums to influence legislation, bribe police and pay off judges and juries to win acquittals when they have to stand trial.

A third difficulty is the ostensibly reputable positions many hoodlums hold in their communities, mainly because their wealth enables them to engage in legitimate business, live in expensive neighborhoods, and contribute to various worthy causes. To be expected, this sense of wealth and respectability is a major cause of the public's apathy regarding their activities.

A fourth problem is the ruthlessness of the organized underworld and the number of gunmen at its disposal to kill or intimidate witnesses, enforce discipline, and actually wage the "minor wars" when the economic demands of this constitutional process. Their ruthlessness has instilled great fear in the underworld—and in "revolution" and work to some communities—and is destroy not only the university, chiefly responsible for the but our institutions of society. notorious code of "omerta"—their viewpoint is anarchistic or "silence"—which often protects hoodlums from effective prosecution.

Q. Mr. Hoover, would you care to identify some of the organizations which are today undermining respect for law and order?

A. The Communist party and its fronts have for years taught disrespect for our laws. Also, we have a number of extremist groups, both of the right and the left, such as the Ku Klux Klan, Minutemen, Nation of Islam, Revolutionary Action Movement, and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). Recently, a New Left student group, the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), has encouraged resistance to the draft and general hostility to our democratic structure of government.

Q. What role does the use of firearms play in criminal violence?

A. During 1967, serious assaults where a gun was used as a weapon rose 22 per cent over the previous year, and one out of every five assaults was committed with a gun. For the criminal, the gun represents one of the most readily available, deadly and easily used weapons in the arsenal of violence.

Q. Does the FBI have any evidence indicating that last summer's riots were the results of activities of subversive elements as distinguished from spontaneous actions by minority groups?

A. The Riots of 1967—and previous years—were characterized by spontaneous outbreaks of violence, and no evidence has been developed to reflect they were part of any over-all conspiracy. However, we must never overlook the fact that the Communists and other subversive groups like to "fish in troubled waters" and seek to exploit explosive social situations.

Q. What can citizens do to help foster a renewal in the spirit of obeying the law?

A. Citizens can set a personal example of obeying the law themselves and encouraging others to do likewise. Far too many adults set bad examples for others to follow. We must encourage respect for our flag, our history, our principles of free government. Young people in particular must learn the significance of the law. Respect for law is not something to be learned in "one big bite" but is the result of living this principle day after day.

Q. How can private citizens assist the law enforcement officer when civil disorders erupt?

A. 1. Obey the instructions of the police or other authorities on the scene.

2. Encourage others to do likewise.

3. Don't circulate rumors and misinformation.

4. Furnish promptly pertinent data to the local authorities.

5. Don't condone lawlessness, rioting and looting. They are wrong.

6. Remember that as a private citizen you, too, are part of law and order.

Q. When riots occur in one section of a city, how effective is police protection in the entire community?

A. A riot necessitates the immediate dispatch of large numbers of police personnel to the affected areas. As expected, this reduces the number of officers and the equipment available for duty in other sections of the city. Citizens in these areas do not receive the protection to which they are entitled. Moreover, if an officer is injured, he may be off duty for a number of days or weeks, thus reducing available manpower. In every possible way, riots injure the community.

Q. Where does the student "New Left" fit into this picture of chaos?

A. The student "New Left," especially the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), has become blatantly hostile to law and order. These students have engaged in civil disobedience, harassed military and industrial recruiters on campus, counseled evasion of the draft, and heckled government officials speaking at college programs. They have kidnapped university of gunmen at its disposal to kill or intimidate witnesses, enforce discipline, and actually wage the "minor wars" when the economic demands of this constitutional process. Their ruthlessness has instilled great fear in the underworld—and in "revolution" and work to some communities—and is destroy not only the university, chiefly responsible for the but our institutions of society. notorious code of "omerta"—their viewpoint is anarchistic and nihilistic. The SDS uses a Marxist vocabulary, emulates a Leninist organizational structure and welcomes Communists into membership. The Communist party is working feverishly to recruit members from the new left and great its actions. Here arises a direct danger.

Q. Has the FBI taken any stand concerning legislation to restrict the use of firearms?

A. Better control of firearms is not only desirable, but necessary. In my opinion, mail-order firearms purchases should be banned, interstate transportation of firearms controlled and local registration of weapons required and enforced. The chief responsibility is local, but federal assistance must strongly complement state gun legislation.

Q. If I recognize rioters, looters and arsonists, should I report them to the authorities by name? Am I endangering myself if I do?

A. Yes, you should report them by name. Not to do so is a failure of the citizen's duty and would mean handicapping the investigation officers. The risk in not reporting this information is far greater than any temporary security gained by overlooking it.

Q. Was there evidence of heavy involvement of criminal elements in the recent riots?

A. Our Identification Division carefully analyzed the fingerprint cards forwarded by local authorities as a result of arrests during the riots. These reflected a heavy involvement of criminal elements. Of 1,089 fingerprint submissions from Newark, 708, or 65 per cent, white and Negro individuals were found to have prior records on file. About one-half of the over-all fingerprint cards were of individuals in the 18-to 25-year-old age group. As to the 1,089 fingerprint cards submitted by the Detroit authorities, 464, or 44 per cent, of the white and Negro individuals arrested had prior criminal records.

Q. Does the FBI have evidence indicating an increase in criminal violence against the law enforcement officer?

A. Criminal violence against law enforcement officers is increasing. In 1967, some 75 officers were killed while performing their official duties, compared with 57 police officers in 1966.

in America. Officers are falsely charged with brutality, heckled, called obscene names, verbally abused. Many good citizens, by indifference, fear of personal involvement and lack of interest in police problems, are unwitting allies of violence in American society.

HUBBY'S HOME — Mrs. Johnnie Vihlen has a happy reunion in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., with her sailing husband, Hugo. He made it to Florida yesterday after sailing across the Atlantic, leaving West Africa March 29.

Ocean-Crosser Hugo Rides Last 25 Miles

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — Hugo Vihlen hadn't thought of it in years. They (AP) — Hugo Vihlen's one-man just kept popping into my mind. "Touching his gray-peppered off the coast of Florida Friday morning, he looked at the Gulf Stream with his tiny tub of a boat in the worst thing," he said reconsidering, "was the homesickness. For the first six weeks I was very lonesome."

Another disconcerting moment came during a squall off the north coast of Cuba. "I banged the bottom. I hit a reef three times, he said. "It was desolate—nothing—an island with four trees on it."

"It really shook me up. I tried to steer around it, but the storm pushed me right up. But in the next 15 minutes, everything turned rosy. Everything was okay."

TOUGHEST DAYS The last few days of his 85-day trip seemed the toughest. He said he checked his position each morning and evening and he knew Thursday he would overshoot Homestead, Fla., his home and target.

"It became painfully clear to me," he said. "I could see the whole trip go on another two or three weeks."

Vihlen—alone—was quite willing. But his father, Edward, 74, said he had a different idea. "I demanded that the Coast Guard pick him up," the elder Vihlen said.

THEY WORRIED "We were worried. Other people were worried about him. So I demanded it. I knew Hugo would be mad about it, but I said bring him in—whatever he says," Vihlen senior recounted.

Vihlen was sighted Friday by a yacht some 25 miles off the Florida coast.

MILKING A MOUSE "It was like milking a mouse," he said. "Early in the voyage the boat was too heavy. I knew that if it got swamped, it would capsize," the shaggy sailor said. "I never could relax."

He said he encountered his worst weather "right in the very middle of the ocean."

"The squalls would come in so fast. But the worst part was being so slow. I was hot, I perspired all the time."

Levin Urges Bipartisan Effort on Gun Control

LANSING (AP) — Bipartisan voice of the average citizen, not the interest group, to be heard on this subject," said Levin. He asked Republicans to join with Michigan Democrats and civic organizations in establishing a citizens action committee for strong gun controls. Levin made the proposal in a letter to Mrs. Elly Peterson, Republican state chairman. FEDERAL LEGISLATION The committee should seek passage of federal legislation to ban all mail order gun sales and require registration of all firearms owners, Levin said. Felons, aliens, alcoholics, mentally ill persons and narcotic addicts would be ineligible to own firearms under proposals urged by Levin. A mass mail campaign to gain possession of guns, Levin said. The state chairman also accused the National Rifle Association of misleading its members into believing that proposed federal gun control laws would strip them of their law-abiding citizens from firearms.

Warren Police Hunt Pair in Shooting of 3 Youths

WARREN (AP) — Police continued a search today for two young men who, for no apparent reason, allegedly shot down three Warren youths near midnight Thursday on a street in this Detroit suburb. Inspector Gordon Tullock of Warren police described the assailants as white men in their early 20s. He said they fled in a blue or green 1967 or 1968 model car. The victims, John Johnson, 18, Frank Majewski, 17, and Lawrence Wolf, 18, were reported recovering at South Macomb Hospital in Warren. A hospital spokesman said Majewski, shot in the face, was in satisfactory condition, and Johnson and Wolf, both shot in the abdominal area, were in fair condition but still under intensive care.

Junior Editors Quiz on POTATOES

QUESTION: How did potatoes get to America?

ANSWER: Potatoes originally came from South America. The first we hear about them is a mention in a Spanish book that they were growing in Peru and Colombia by 1538. By 1550, Spaniards had introduced potatoes into Europe, where they were widely grown, especially in England and Ireland.

They were then brought to the Virginia colonies in America, probably from England in 1621. Our quaint illustrations at the top are from an old book, showing potatoes growing in the Jamestown colony in Virginia in 1629.

While on the subject of potatoes, we'd like to suggest some fun ways of cooking them outdoors this summer. Take along some aluminum foil, wrap the foods to be cooked in a double layer and put the package under hot coals.

The boy at the left has cut some strips of potato, added hamburger and strips of carrot, and cooked them for 15 minutes. His foil serves as a plate.

The boy at the right has dug a hole in the earth, kept a fire over it for half an hour, then scraped the fire aside and put in potatoes. He covered them with a thin layer of earth, then with more fire and cooked them for about an hour. Served with salt they're great!

Ford Deb Steps Out

DETROIT (AP) — Josephine Clay Ford met society Friday night in spectacular fashion as a heavy rain soaked a lavish floral display and hail pelted tents erected for the occasion.

Miss Ford is a great-granddaughter of auto pioneer Henry Ford and a niece of Henry Ford II. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buhl Ford II presented their youngest daughter at the Little Club in suburban Grosse Pointe Farms.

DECOR

The decor, reportedly took more than eight months to create. It was executed by Display and Exhibit Co., which refused to disclose the price tag.

Red carpeted hallways, lavish with floral plants, lead into the main tent, paneled with mirrors.

A psychedelic medallion, in shades of magenta and red, containing the deb's profile, her initials and the year, were screened against the panels.

The debutante and her parents received guests against a floral wall in shades of purple and red.

The event was billed as the Party of the Year and the weather failed to ruin the night. At the point where the two tents joined, the floral display was

Need Lawyer to Establish Legality if You Want to Secure Guardianship

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an unmarried, middle-aged, professional man. While working in another state last summer, I became acquainted with a young woman who worked as a car hop.

She had a pretty 11-year-old daughter, and was having a hard time making ends meet. Since I was going to take an extended trip through the west, I offered to take the child with me. They were both enthused and the mother gave me the girl's birth certificate "in case I needed it."

Upon returning from the trip, the mother was nowhere to be found. I spent several days trying to locate her, but to no avail. The forwarding address she left was phony. I notified the local police, but they couldn't find the mother, nor did they try to remove the girl from my care. They took my permanent address and said they'd notify me if anything turned up.

When I commenced my present job in this town, I presented the girl "as a close relative." She is now 12, very happy, and doing well in school. She never asks about her mother. I think I am doing an excellent job of raising her and it would be a shame to be separated now.

Can you advise me as to the legal and social aspects of this?

NORTH CAROLINA: I think you need a lawyer to help you establish a legal guardianship over the child, satisfying whatever preliminary actions that are required. However well-intentioned, you are now vulnerable to a number of unpleasant charges.

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps Elmer could solve his problem in some manner such as this. Inscribed on the tombstone in an eastern state are these words:

"Here lies Ephraim Wise. Between his two wives. One was Tillie. The other was Sue. Both were loyal, tried, and true. I hope my friends from Adam to Willie. Will lay me out so I lean toward Tillie."

Have enjoyed your items for many years in Littleton, Colo.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you because I don't have a mother and my dad wouldn't understand.

I am 14 and have a boy friend named Gary, who is also 14. This might be only puppy love, but I do like him a whole lot. My problem is another girl. She likes Gary, too, and she's trying to get him away from me. She is having a party and she invited Gary but not me. I think she just made up this party as an excuse to get my boy friend.

I felt just terrible and cried in my pillow last night. I keep thinking that if Gary really liked me he wouldn't go.

Is Dedicated on Corregidor

CORREGIDOR, Philippines (AP) — The United States and the Philippines dedicated a $1-million Pacific war memorial today on Corregidor Island, where troops of both nations tried to resist Japanese forces in the early months of World War II.

Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos and U.S. Ambassador G. Meenen Williams led the unveiling.

The memorial honors the dead of 10 nations who fell in the Pacific war from 1941 to 1945.

Hundreds of Americans and Filipinos, including many officials and war veterans, came to the ceremonies. Corregidor is at the mouth of Manila Bay about 28 miles from Manila.

HOMAGE PAID
The speeches of Marcos and Williams, together with those of U.S. Reps. E. Teague and Armstead L. Selden, paid homage to the men who died on Corregidor and to the bonds between America and the Philippines.

Mediators Will Seek to Avert Rail Strike

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The National Mediation Board meets with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (BRT) and railroad officials in Chicago Monday in an effort to head off a paralyzing nationwide railroad strike.

The strike could be called any time after 12:01 a.m. EDT Thursday, but no deadline was set.

The BRT threatened the nation's railroads with a strike yesterday. Charles Luna, president of the union, said here "99.7 per cent" of the union's local committees voted to authorize a strike to back up contract demands.

The strike would affect more than 100 of the nation's railroads, including all major U.S. carriers. The BRT, with 140,000 members, sent out instructions to all local chairmen yesterday.

DEMANDS LISTED

The union wants a 12½ per cent wage increase, two more holidays, improved vacations and a one-year contract. The National Mediation Board released its jurisdiction of the dispute in May, leaving the union free to strike any time after midnight next Wednesday.

"We are very happy to cooperate with anybody to settle this issue through negotiation," Luna said. "We'll strike as a last resort."

BRT members were notified road and yard personnel would have to handle troop, milk and hospital trains in the event of a strike.

President Johnson could postpone any walkout for two months. He could appoint an emergency board to examine the dispute. The board would have 30 days to report back to him. Another 30-day cooling-off period would follow during which neither side would be permitted to act.

Pueblo Incident Is Becoming a Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly five months after the North Korean seizure of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo and its men, the incident is becoming something of a campaign issue.

A Republican party document lists the Pueblo affair as the most dramatic illustration of the charge that America's prestige has weakened and its prestige abroad crumpled under Democratic leadership.

A fledgling Remember the Pueblo Committee is trying to drum up support among Republicans and candidates for its call to use force if necessary to free the ship and its imprisoned crew.

Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford says patient negotiations, not precipitate action, will ultimately win back the vessel and its 82 surviving crewmen.

'INDICATION OF RELEASE'

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, running for the Democratic presidential nomination, has seen "some indication" the North Koreans may release the captives but has not gotten into specifics.

The administration reports no progress in the lengthening negotiations of Panmunjom over their return.

According to the U.S. version, this is what happened in the crisis-provoking incident of Jan. 23:

The 906-ton Pueblo, a World War II Army cargo ship recently recommissioned with the latest electronic eavesdropping gear, was patrolling 17 miles off North Korea's Wonsan harbor at midday when a North Korean subchaser showed up.

The gunboat signaled "Heave to or I will open fire."

The Pueblo replied "I am in international waters."

An hour later three more North Korean naval vessels joined the subchaser. With MIG jet fighters zooming overhead, the subchaser then backed toward the Pueblo and an armed boarding party went aboard the American ship.

The Pueblo was armed only with 50-caliber machine guns and had been under instructions to keep her weapons covered. The captain, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher and his men did not engage in a naval battle, but there was apparently some fighting during the boarding.

Before Pueblo's radio went silent, it reported several men were wounded. The crew destroyed all the secret equipment they could.

ONE DEATH

Fireman Duane D. Hodges of Creswell, Ore., wounded during the take-over of the ship, died. All other members of the ship's company are believed alive.

Friendly forces were not near, ready or strong enough to save the Pueblo in the brief time available after receiving the ship's SOS, Washington says.

After fruitless efforts through the United Nations, the Soviets and other diplomatic channels, to win return of the ship and crew, the U.S. government focuses on direct talks with the North Koreans at Panmunjom, the Korean War Truce site.

The Panmunjom sessions—17 of them have been held to date, counting the latest on May 28—have been a standoff so far.

APOLOGY PRICE

The Communists claim the Pueblo was engaged in criminal spying as close as 7.6 miles off the North Korean coastline. They say their territorial waters extend 12 miles off shore.

A U.S. confession and apology is their price for freeing the prisoners.

The U.S. negotiators have

Prison Inmates 40 Pct. of Grads

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — Forty per cent of Walla Walla Community College's spring graduating class was from the Washington State Penitentiary here.

Gov. Dan Evans, in announcing the figure Friday, said some inmates attended the college without supervision and returned to prison at night. Others among the 31 prisoners who received associate degrees in applied arts and sciences were taught in the penitentiary by college instructors.

Fiddle Festival

WEISER, Idaho (AP) — Alvin Sanderson, 73, outfiddled 17 others to win the senior division of the sixth annual Oldtime Fiddle Festival.

steadfastly denied the Red charges. They say the Pueblo was in international waters well outside even the 12-mile limit.

There has been no North Korean response to the latest U.S. proposals. Washington sources said the North Koreans have refused an alternative, a U.S. offer to let an impartial body investigate the incident while a neutral country holds the prisoners.

While the talks drag on the North Koreans have moved the ship from Wonsan. It is now reported to be further north, probably at Chongjin, about 180 miles further up the North Korean coast toward the Soviet border.

Whether the crewmen have been moved too, and if so, where, is not known with any certainty by Washington authorities.

Some South Korean sources say the prisoners have apparently been divided into three groups, each in a different city. U.S. officials are aware of these reports but also have some conflicting evidence that the men are still together.

From propaganda photographs distributed by the North Koreans, U.S. authorities deduce that the men are in relatively good health but they acknowledge they do not have independent evidence to support this.

The North Koreans have refused to let the International Red Cross or any other outside party visit the men. Nor is there any evidence that mail and parcels sent to the captives are being delivered to them, U.S. officials said.

The North Koreans did take advantage of the mails to mount what U.S. authorities regarded as a propaganda drive designed to put further pressure on the United States.

Nearly 300 letters signed by Pueblo crewmen have been received in this country by family members and by government officials, according to the most recent count. One was an open letter to President Johnson, purportedly signed by all of the prisoners.

'Just for Fun' Entry Significant

Walled Lake Lass Speeding Along

Susan Dudley's entry, "just the outstanding 880-yard run for fun," in a Walled Lake Junior Olympic track meet two years ago may turn out to be a much more significant event than she had ever dreamed.

Her participation in that Kiwanis sponsored event was her first exposure to competitive running. In an amazingly short time, she now finds herself on the brink of a promising track career.

In a sport where most of the headlines are grabbed by her male counterparts, Miss Dudley, 17, has literally raced to the top, posting one of the best times in the nation in her specialty, the 880 yard run.

Susan, who will be a senior at Walled Lake High School in the fall, lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dudley on their family farm at 6731 West Maple.

STATE CHAMPION

Last summer, in her first real season of competition, Miss Dudley became the women's state half-mile champion and barely missed the mile crown.

Legion Loop Entry Gains on Leaders

Strong pitching is boosting Walled Lake into contention in the American Legion District 18 baseball chase.

Don Thompson became the fourth WL hurler to give a sterling performance, posting a one-hit 4-0 conquest of Milford Friday night for the team's fifth victory in its last six outings.

The win enabled the third-place squad to gain ground on both unbeaten Southfield and once-defeated Waterford who battled to a 4-4 tie in eight innings.

TIES FOR FIFTH

Clarkson climbed into a tie for fifth place by nipping Farmington, 3-2, behind Dick Johnson's pitching. Don Fife had two hits and an RBI for the winners.

Wally Williams backed Thompson's seven-strikeout pitching by cracking a home run and triple to drive in three runs.

Mark Curry's fifth-inning single tied the score for Waterford, but neither team could score again as Greg Main of Southfield and reliever Mike Harkey of the visitors traded shutout efforts for the final three frames.

Troy and D Berkley were weathered out. Four twinbills are scheduled for Sunday.

The tall slender girl does most of her training on a course that she mapped out on her farm. She makes the trip to Ann Arbor about once a week to work with her coach and train with some of her Michigan teammates.

"Now that school's out," she noted, "I can work out twice a day, once in the morning and once in the afternoon."

The young runner varies her training, like most well coached athletes, between speed work and long distance running.

"I plan to get in about 25 or 30 miles a week while I practice this summer," she added.

An honor student at Walled Lake High School, Sue is as proud of her recently won National Honor Society membership as of any of her ribbons or medals.

Two of the big meets she will be pointing for are a Women's try-

Olympic development meet in Baltimore, July 8, and the AAU nationals in Denver in August.

Miss Dudley has already met the national standard of 2:16 to qualify for the nationals, and the Olympic development meet will provide her with strong competition from the East and Midwest, as a tune up.

When thoughts turn to the Olympics this fall, Coach Smith and his protegee both agree that they'll just have to wait and see. They pretty much agree that the games in Mexico might be a little too early for this latest Michigan track star, although they surely will

All American Pools are custom-designed. Each pool is planned to meet your own personal specifications and desires. American Pool's design engineers will confer with you on pool size, shape and site planning. They will give expert advice on such considerations as pool location, sun direction, shade, privacy, drainage and integration with existing landscaping or patio. With their years of experience, they can provide you with the best pool for your needs . . . a pool that gives the utmost pleasure. There is, of course, no charge for this service. Pools are on display at

To London, England Then Home Again

By MARY ANGLER
Church Editor
I love London.

Perhaps it is because my father's family came from England. Perhaps it is because flowers were everywhere. Perhaps it is because of the small door yard gardens, when there was a slight drizzle, and in window boxes of large city banks and stores there were golden daffodils and pink and purple hyacinths. I expected a dismal, foggy weekend in London but the sun was shining except for a couple of hours late one afternoon when there was a slight drizzle. There was no fog.

Our first tour took us to Westminster Abbey and the Houses of Parliament. I was glad we had a guide who spoke made of English oak, buried in French soil and covered with Belgian marble. On a column nearby hangs the American Congressional Medal which was laid on the tomb in 1921 by General Pershing. I was glad to see where Winston Churchill stood when he gave his famous speech over the radio during World War II saying "There will always be an England." He also spoke of winning the war with blood, sweat and tears.

For nearly one thousand years, history was made in the Tower of London. For many years the Tower was a royal residence and also a State prison where many infamous men and women were lodged. It was a gruesome feeling to view the place where traitors and many fine people were beheaded.

Our group joined the steady line of tourists passing through the Wakefield Tower to see the Crown Jewels and Royal Regalia.

QUEEN'S CROWN
The crown of Queen Elizabeth is sparkling with jewels and looks terribly heavy. It must be difficult to wear.

Madame Tussaud's exhibition of famous people is beyond description. The facial expressions even to the light and recognition qualities in the eyes of the waxen figures are superb.

As we climbed the first few steps in the museum I saw what I thought was a policeman on the landing. He seemed to smile at me, so I smiled back.

Just then Robin Millis, ahead of me, pointed to the policeman and called out "How do you like him?" And I discovered I was smiling at a handsome waxen figure.

Among the hundreds of figures exhibited were those of John F. Kennedy, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Benjamin Franklin, Queen Elizabeth, Prince Philip, John Glenn, Herbert Hoover, Princess Margaret, Lyndon B. Johnson, Theodore Roosevelt, William Penn, T. Woodrow Wilson, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

SHAKESPEARE'S HOME
On Sunday morning several of the group wanted to go to Stratford — Upon — Avon, home of William Shakespeare, others decided to go to church in London.

I have always dreamed of seeing the English countryside so I took the bus tour. We passed through small villages and entered the grounds of Oxford University and visited the chapel.

Later our driver parked the bus so we could climb a narrow path to the country churchyard where Winston Churchill was buried with his family.

Anne Hathaway's cottage is just like the pictures we see of it. There's a large theater where Shakespeare's plays are presented. His office and workshop were not open when we arrived but we looked in the windows. Before going in to dinner at the Alveston Manor Hotel, Dr. B. R. Lakin of Fort Gay, W. Va. led a brief worship service on the bus. The Rev. C. L. Fuqua of Marion, Ohio read the Scripture and the Rev. J. W. Bowen of Flint led in prayer.

What a delicious dinner. We had roast beef with Yorkshire pudding. Country Inns are delightful with their colorful interiors and landscaped lawns bordered with flowers.

Young artists had mounted their paintings on the fences. The trip was delightful. Hostesses, stewards and all personnel on planes were so courteous and helpful.

SEE AMERICA
Members of our group were sitting near each other on the return trip. When Mr. and Mrs. Herb Rawlings of Cincinnati, Ohio spied land, everyone broke out into singing "God Bless America." "America" and "Star Spangled Banner."

It was the first time I ever sang the "Star Spangled Banner" sitting down but our seat belts were fastened so I sat.

Our flight back to Detroit seemed short and I was glad. As I entered the airport building three little grandchildren, Betsy, John and Eric Anglemier rushed to meet me. Baby Jeffrey just looked on.

The children had seen the plane as it came in. Now when two-year-old Eric sees a plane in the sky he calls out Go-Go. That's what he calls me. I may not be up in the plane, but I'm usually up in the air about something.

REFLECTIONS
As I write this I'm remembering the delicious hardcrusted bread found in the Middle East; the beautiful tenor voice of Father Augustino Pataconi as he sang and played the organ in the church in Bethany, and calling for aqua when we wanted water in Rome.

I'm also remembering Arabs in their native dress walking along listening to transistor radios; the huge cabbages, oranges and other vegetables and fruits in Nicosia; and the time a girl working at the hotel in Jerusalem said to me "You talk so fast."

She couldn't understand what I said. I was so thoughtless. Now that I am home again I thank you again Dr. Malone for planning such a delightful and meaningful trip.

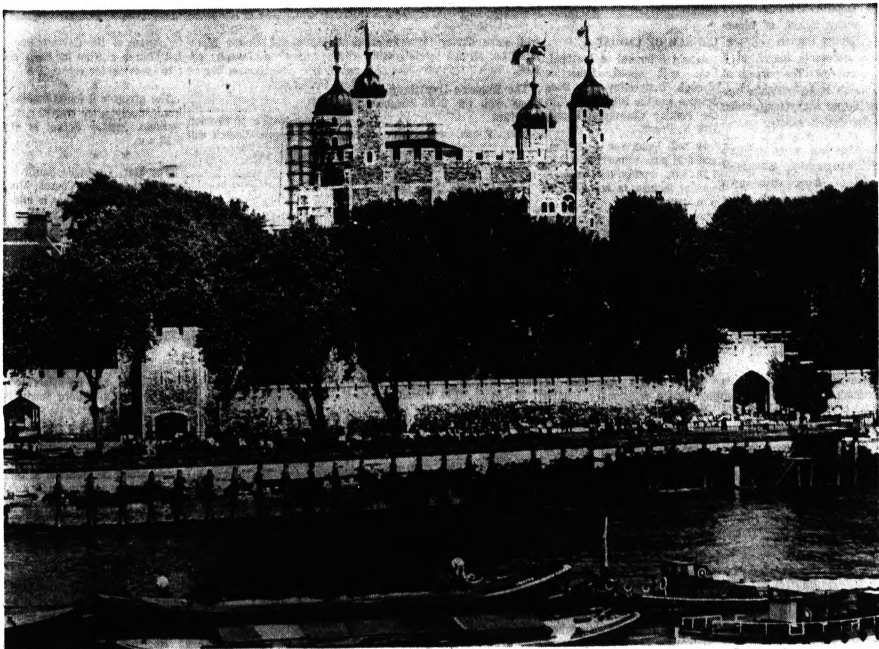

For the opportunity of visiting another part of the world, I thank you Harold A. Fitzgerald, chairman of the board, Howard H. Fitzgerald II, publisher; John W. Fitzgerald, editor; and all men of the governing board of my beloved Pontiac Press.

All-Family Outing

Fine Arts Festival at St. Hugo of Hills

For the first time in the history of St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic Church, Opdyke and Hickory Grove, Bloomfield Hills an all-family outing featuring an exhibition of fine arts will be held.

A special highlight will be sales of copies of an ink drawing of the church by Mrs. L. C. Dytmer.

MUSIC. Various groups of students

Mrs. Donald Weldon, chairman of the festival, announces the exhibition will include paintings, enamel ware, hand woven rugs, etchings and a rope bridge executed by the Boy Scouts.

A special highlight will be sales of copies of an ink drawing of the church by Mrs. L. C. Dytmer.

MUSIC. Various groups of students

Another parish group known as Christian Family Movement will provide Ricky the Clown. A Western Plains trainride and a paint-in are being arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stoye.

This event will consist of several children painting a separate picture in an allotted square on a long roll of paper.

Program, Reception Scheduled

The Baptist Training Union and Sunday School of Macedonia Baptist Church will present a debutante march at 7 p.m. tomorrow. The purpose of the march is to introduce unmarried Christian young women into the church society.

The girls are active in some church organization. Escorts of the girls are from Pontiac area churches. A march of junior debutantes will precede the program.

Mrs. Oscar Bolen and George Lamphere will give devotions. Mrs. Alice Raining and Alice Bosworth will present the dedication song and poem.

Millford Luster of Detroit will be guest speaker.

Following the program in Macedonia Church, a reception will be held at the YWCA, 265 W. Huron.

Committee members include Mrs. Israel Blake, Mrs. L. R. Miner, Mrs. Barry Sykes, Mrs. Arthur Mandy, Mrs. David Gunn, Mrs. Willie Wright, Mrs. Lionel Foster and Mrs. Jimmie Keel.

Guest Speaker

Nora Boone of Radio Station WGBR, Detroit will be guest speaker for the 11 a.m. worship service tomorrow in Greater Mt. Calvary Baptist Church, 306 Midway. Rev. T. H. Jolt Jr. is pastor.

Old Mortgage Burns Sunday

St. Trinity School Marks 50th Year

The Golden Anniversary of St. Trinity Lutheran School will be celebrated tomorrow with a special festival worship at 11 a.m. in St. Trinity Lutheran Church, Auburn and Jessie.

During the service the mortgage on the school building will be burned.

A cooperative dinner-reunion for former students and graduates will follow.

The school was opened in September 1917 as a one-room facility. Subjects common to all schools were taught with the addition of classes in Bible, catechism and doctrine.

The educational plant expanded to a four-room building. In 1967 it was dedicated to the work of the Lord, Pastor Ralph Claus said.

100 STUDENTS

At the close of the school year there was an enrollment of 100 students with five teachers. Contracts are already signed for the coming year with teachers.

Parents may still enroll their children for the fall term. Roger Morrison is the principal.

Children are taught all subjects found in Pontiac Public School System since St. Trinity Lutheran must also meet state requirements. The one difference is that religion is also taught.

MSU Receives Romanian History

EAST LANSING—A collection of 150 volumes of Rumanian history, literature, the arts and some bibliography has been given to Michigan State University's Library by the Central University Library in Bucharest.

Notice of the gift, second of its kind to MSU, was made in a letter from Nicolae Atanasiu, cultural attache to the Rumanian Embassy in Washington.

Among the most valuable titles in the collection are works by Ion Creanga and Nicolae Titulescu (Minister of Foreign Affairs in Rumania for 15 years) and a work dealing with Nicolae Iorga. Other well-known Rumanian authors like Cantacuzino, Cosbuc and Eftimiu are also represented.

An earlier gift of Rumanian writing was presented to MSU by Dumitru Chitoran, visiting professor here in 1965-66, on behalf of the Academy of Sciences, Bucharest.

REV. FORREST A. PIERCE

Pastor Pierce Assigned to Flint Church

The Rev. Forrest A. Pierce, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church in Keego Harbor, was transferred to Grace Methodist Church in Flint. He will preach his first sermon at his new assignment at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Pastor Pierce and his wife were honored with a farewell reception after morning service Sunday.

A native of Durand, the Rev. Mr. Pierce received his education from Vennard College. He served churches in Oklahoma and Minnesota before coming to Keego Harbor in 1964.

A member of the Pontiac Area Pastors' Association, Pastor Pierce served four years as a member of the chaplain's committee of Pontiac General Hospital. For the past year he served as chairman. Coming to the Keego Harbor Church is the Rev. Robert Laphew, former minister of Centerville Bethel Church.

GORDON V. COMER

Christian Scientists Choose President

Gordon V. Comer, newly elected president of the Christian Science Church for the coming year, told over 7,000 members at the annual meeting in Boston this week that what ever the turmoil of the present times, spiritual values will survive.

Chairman of the board of directors Arthur P. Wuth stressed individual effort as the first step in any attempt to help solve the world's ills.

Singling out war and racial conflict as two of the major troubles which the church must confront, Wuth said, "The church must fulfill the requirements of peace teaching the practicality of the great commandments—love God and love one's neighbor."

India College Gets U.S. Aid

The U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) has given $450,000 to the nonsectarian Ludhiana Christian Medical College in northern India for construction of a new hospital wing.

Announcing the grant, the Rev. Charles Reynolds, executive secretary of the Ludhiana Board in the United States, said it was the first made by AID to a voluntary organization for construction purposes.

The medical college is supported by 23 missionary societies and agencies but also has five representatives on its governing board from the Indian government and therefore qualified as a nonsectarian organization.

The AID money, which comes from excess U.S.-owned Indian rupees, will provide 72 additional units to the 460-bed Brown Memorial training hospital.

Students in training at present represent 14 nations and staff members 11 countries. More than 300 doctors and 175 nurses are trained at Ludhiana and an average of 100,000 patients are treated each year.

Area Ministers Come and Go

The Rev. Walter T. Ratcliffe, newly appointed Pastor of First United Methodist Church, Saginaw and Judson, will preach his first sermon in First Methodist tomorrow.

"Lord, Make Me an Instrument of Thy Peace" is his sermon subject. A graduate of Cornell University, the new pastor received theological training at Garrett Theological Seminary. He attended Yale School of Alcohol Studies in 1944.

The Rev. Mr. Ratcliffe served on the conference board of missions and retirement homes of the Detroit Methodist Conference. Before coming to Pontiac he was pastor of Westlawn Church, Detroit.

The Ratcliffes of 38 E. Iroquois have four children, Mrs. Roland Ensminger of Arlington Heights, Ill.; Mrs. Ralph Taylor of Rockville, Md.; Robert of Detroit; and Carol at Adrian College.

SALVATION ARMY

Lt. Sharon Wall stationed at the Salvation Army for the past year has received her marching orders for her new appointment. Lt. Wall will report to the Salvation Army Echo Grove Camp in Leonard.

After her wedding in August she will join her husband as the commanding officer on the Petoskey Corps. Lt. Wilma Brocksieck will arrive in Pontiac Friday to assume the responsibilities as assistant officer of the local Salvation Army. She comes from the Salvation Army School for Officers in Chicago.

WALLED LAKE METHODIST
The congregation of Walled Lake United Methodist Church will hear the Rev. Horace G. Thurston, new pastor, preach on "The Waiting Guest" tomorrow morning.

The Thurstons came to Walled Lake from Iron Mountain where they served the pastorate of Trinity Methodist church for the past seven years.

During World War II, the Rev. Mr. Thurston was a chaplain with the Army in the Pacific and with the occupation forces in Japan at the close of the war. They served as members of the Lacour Mission to Japan in 1958.

ST. PAUL METHODIST ROCHESTER

The Rev. Luren J. Strait comes to the St. Paul United Methodist Church after completing three years as pastor of the Methodist Church in the City of Riverview, a downriver community adjacent to Trenton and Wyandotte.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, he received his theological training at Oberlin College. He came to the Detroit Conference in June 1964.

The Rev. Mr. Strait is presently a member of the moving expense fund committee and secretary of the Conference Historical Society.

Mrs. Strait studies at Green Mountain Junior College and was graduated from the Conservatory of Music at Oberlin College. She is also a graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

The Straits have three children, William, a former teacher in the Wyandotte Schools and currently a second lieutenant in the Army. He will leave next month for duty in Vietnam.

Ellen is a member of this year's graduating class at Eastern Michigan, and Robert is waiting his call to active duty with the Navy.

The Thurstons have two sons, Paul, a junior at the University of Michigan, and Larry who will begin his first year at Adrian College. Larry will work at Wausaukee Family Camp in northern Wisconsin during the summer.

New Church Holds Service Tomorrow

The Rev. Galen Wightman announces the opening of a new United Methodist Church with the first service at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at 4100 Walnut Lake, just east of Orchard Lake in West Bloomfield Township.

Last year Bishop Dwight E. Loder appointed Pastor Wightman to organize and lead the new congregation.

The church began with families meeting in small groups in homes. This included group meetings, family cooperative dinners and planning sessions.

According to Pastor Wightman, United Methodist churches in the surrounding area helped to make the new church possible through the New Church Development Department of Methodist Union. The area churches helped with gifts and with the use of their own buildings.

The pastor and his wife, Anne, make their home at 5553 Fox Hunt Lane, Orchard Lake.

Students to Spend Summer Working

Debe Brooker, a student at Ohio State University, will leave Wednesday to spend the summer working with a team of college students under the Alliance Youth Corps.

The trip will begin with two days of orientation with other corps members in Miami, Fla. Debe will then fly to Cali, Colombia.

Some of the group will fly to Quito, Ecuador. A third team has already departed for Africa.

The Alliance Youth Corps is carried on in cooperation with, and under the supervision of missionaries serving The Christian and Missionary Alliance.

The college students assist missionaries in literature distribution, service with youth, music and evangelism.

One of Debe's assignments will be to assist the personnel of Campus Crusade for Christ in ministry to students, on the campus of one of the universities. She will return to Ohio State University in the fall where she is a senior in elementary education.

ST. BENEDICT
Sharon Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Hoover, 2728 Colrain, Bloomfield Township, arrived in Mexico City June 13. She is one of 44 students who left Detroit to work with the poor of Mexico.

Sharon will go with four other students to Tapachula, near Guatemala to work in a small hospital located in the poverty area. She will live with a Mexican family for the next eight weeks.

A senior at Mercy College, Sharon helped finance her education by working the past three summers in the nursery at Pontiac General Hospital as a nurse's aid.

Landlubbers Ship Ahoy

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

The Forrest E. Milzows of Waterford Township like boats. They like them so much, in fact, when Mr. Milzow designed their home he patterned the open-air decks after the bow of a ship.

"From the living room," said Mr. Milzow, "you can't see the back lawn. All you can see is the lake and the deck."

On Schoolhouse Lake, the contemporary multilevel incorporates mahogany brick with moss green vertical wood insets.

From the slate covered balcony, one can look over the living room with its floor to ceiling window expanse. Stairs carpeted in antique gold lead down to the formal living level.

PRIVACY

To provide privacy, Mrs. Milzow designed and made alternating drapery panels of antique gold and green. The room's custom sofa unit covered in a fabric of brown, beige and antiqued gold incorporates slate-topped tables in the piece. Completing the seating arrangement is a gold walnut framed chair.

A round walnut cocktail table with a massive candlestick and orange candle centers the antiqued gold carpeting.

The mahogany brick of the fireplace repeats the exterior. And, the Boston fern so popular in the Victorian age and fast making a decorator comeback adds a touch of living green to the room's decor.

Another staircase leads from the more formal living area to the family room carpeted in grass-green tile squares with a random pattern of orange, red and blue.

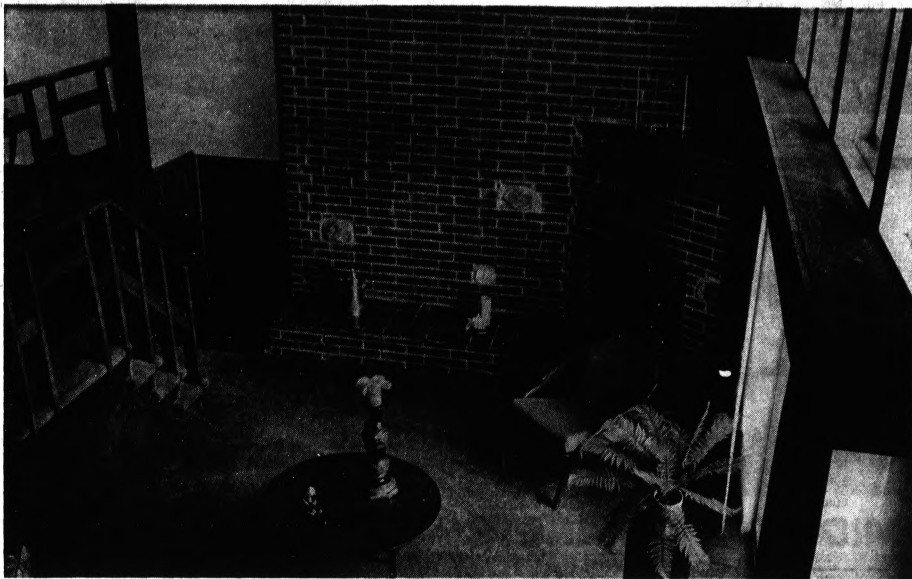

Rough textured channeled cedar, stained walnut, sets the paneled background of the informal room. To provide comfort for television viewing, Mrs. Milzow chose two sofas, one in olive green and the other in a persimmon with red, green and black plaid seats, twin chairs which match the persimmon sofa and a leather reclining chair.

FLOOR PILLOWS

Further extending the seating capacity of the room are floor pillows in gold and red velvet.

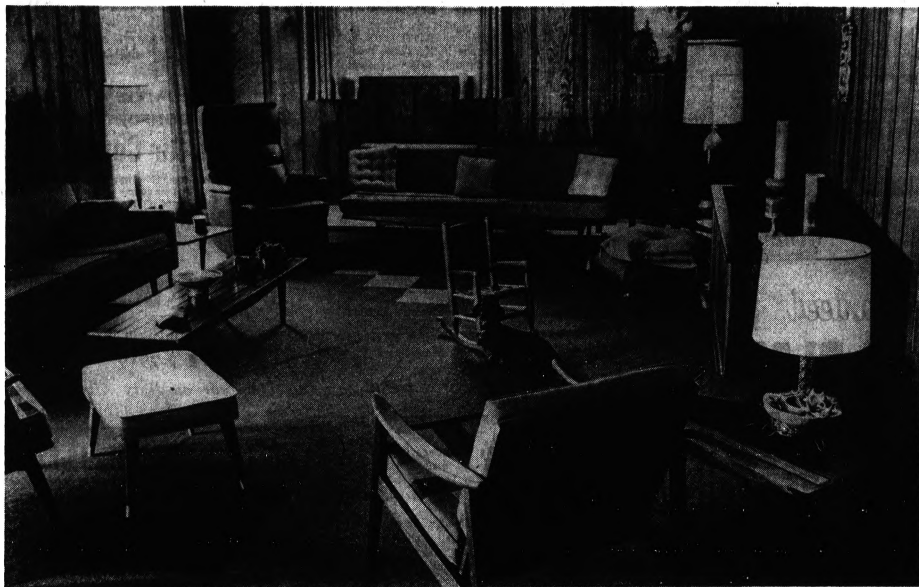

"The room's colors," said Mrs. Milzow, "were determined by the painting on the wall. It's a sunset at Walloon Lake, a favorite recreation spot of ours."

On the upper level is three-year-old Forrest's haven, a combination bedroom and playroom. Red plush carpeting, white walls and red and white valances with matching shades present a gay atmosphere ready to take the rough and tumble of Forrest and his counterparts. Stuffed animals, a rocking horse and a green turtle table are an integral part of the bright room's furnishings.

BARONIAL BEDROOM—Bright colors, handsome sculptured furniture and a regal canopy treatment set this bedroom scene. Bitter green walls and floor and bold blue carpet provide color cue for the blue/green on white fabric lavishly used as wall covering and bedspread. The canopy treatment echoes the 17th Century England feeling of the "Sheffield" furniture group and lends importance to the low-keyed, heavily carved headboard. Denying its plebeian background, the converted attic boasts the added luxury of a library retreat two steps away, an area providing ample space for the commodious armoire and, a work or comfort corner.

Campus Construction

By CARL A. VINES
UPI Newsfeature

The largest continuing building project in East Tennessee—and one of the largest campus stretching programs in the nation—is the University of Tennessee.

It was launched in 1961; it will still be going in 1971; and before it is finished more than $150 million will have been spent with an eye to providing structures which hopefully will be flexible enough to meet the needs of future educational innovations.

How do you go about predicting the future?

There's no guarantee, of course, but you hire an educational programmer, watch over the building program with three-man board of architects and try to construct buildings with built-in versatility.

Already the program, directed by Dr. Edward J. Boling, vice president for development, has produced two award winners.

The university's new humanities and social science building won an award from the American Institute of Architects.

URBAN RENEWAL

The urban renewal program, which is at the foundation of the expansion project, has won an award in city planning.

"We have taken a sort of unusual position from the start of the program, stressing utilization and flexibility," said Boling. "At the same time we're trying for an aesthetically coordinated project."

Starting with the older structures "on the hill," planners of the Tennessee building program sought to provide a harmonizing progression of structures on this campus in the heart of Knoxville.

"The old buildings were sort of neo-gothic," Boling said. "So the buildings immediately adjacent to the older parts of the campus were designed to avoid an abrupt break with this pattern."

The farther from this center one goes, the more modern is the architectural pattern — "always keeping the aesthetic beauty of the campus in mind," Boling stressed. There are no far-out modern structures.

Since the start, the University had added about 150 acres to the campus in Knoxville, most of it through urban renewal procedures.

As land adjacent to the campus goes on the market, the institution continues to purchase lots individually.

The university has gone to considerable pains to assure the most for their money. First, Boling has brought into the planning stages an educational programmer, Dr. William Britz of Knoxville, to make the initial study of a proposed building.

Britz meets with those who will have to live with the new building, makes an extensive study of what these educators think should happen in the building, and what it should provide them in the future.

Hydronic Heat for Flexibility

A big advantage of hydronic (hot water) home heating, according to the National Better Heating-Cooling Council, is its flexibility.

Since heated water is carried through small tubing, it is simple to "snake" tubing through the wall into addition rooms or converted attics. There is no need to tear apart walls or flooring.

There are a great many good builders who can estimate the area, he should live up to his figured a job for profit.

Be sure you are on the scene when the foundation is being dug. (She had chosen a lovely knoll, her husband had spent months taking down trees, leaving those that would flatter the site. The builder met an obstacle, shale, and decided to put the house in the hollow, removing the trees they had saved.)

Get a bill of particulars from the builder even if you are equipped with an architect's plan or the builder's pretty brochure. (The agreement should include the exact location of the site which he should have tested, specifics on all materials and so on — doors, windows, lighting fixtures, kitchen cabinets and the number of outlets he will give you.)

People are so concerned with septic tank location, well, roof shingles, terrace, garage, cellar, heating plant, that they consider other details minor. If your agreement is to pay the difference between what the builder will allow for these items and those you select, the cost of the house may rise considerably. For example, 75 electrical outlets sounds as if it will light up an armory but you may discover 100 or 150 are necessary. Think it out in advance, room by room.

One should check cellar size as soon as the foundation is laid. (This family was on its way to getting a crawl space before a check was made.)

Check on room sizes as soon as the house is in the first stage of framing, no matter how awkward you feel with workmen staring at you. It is YOUR house. They aren't going to live in it. (She had noticed a dining room looked small. When

Pick Plant for Location

Whether your windows face east, west, north or south, there's a house plant for each location.

A southern exposure means you'll get good direct sun, and is best for growing clay-potted flowering plants of all types.

African violets are an exception; they need good light, not direct sun, and usually do well in a north window. Foliage plants are decorative "old reliables" in east and west windows.

Waiting for Interest to Dip? Think Again

UPI Newsfeature

If you're putting off home buying only because mortgage interest rates are high, don't.

Naturally, the needs, finances and prospects of an individual family govern their home buying decision. Now may not be the time for you to buy. But, if you are in the market for a home and are just waiting for interest rates to go down, it might pay you to have some second thoughts on the subject.

Norman Strunk, executive vice president of the United States Savings & Loan League, says the American economy is likely to remain in a period of tight money for a long time to come, and there is little likelihood mortgage rates are going to decline appreciably in the foreseeable future.

"While there may be some reduction in mortgage rates, whatever savings may result will likely be more than offset by other increases in housing and related costs," he said.

Strunk pointed out there is a good possibility of a "house" shortage in the future and noted there has been a decline in single-family housing starts for almost the past 10 years. In 1959 there were 1.2 million single-family non-farm homes built; in 1960, 987,000; and by 1965 the figure had shrunk to 943,000. In 1966, 756,000 were built, and it is believed the total for 1967 was even less.

HOUSING SHORTAGE

Strunk said as the result of the low rate of construction, many areas are going to experience a housing shortage. As the supply of single-family homes begins to tighten, there will be an inevitable increase in prices.

Strunk said many homebuyers fail to realize there are factors other than the mortgage in the cost of their home. He named the three elements to be considered as "men, money and materials," and gave this run-down for prospects:

Men: The most important factor in the construction-cost picture continues to be the cost of construction labor. Some workers have won automatic wage increases which began to take effect in mid-1967. Others, including carpenters, bricklayers and laborers had contracts expiring then which had to be negotiated.

Money: When mortgage lending funds are plentiful, rates tend to inch downward. When they are scarce, such as in 1966, the rates tend to go up. Strunk feels that over the next decade there will be a heavy demand for all sorts of loanable funds, including home mortgage money.

Materials: The picture here, Strunk feels, is of a steady upward drift in prices. Builders reported an increase of 4 percent in many material prices from 1965 to 1966. In addition to "raw" materials, prices have gone up steadily in the home equipment field. The range, refrigerator and freezer are as much a part of the housing package as the foundation, roof and walls.

"With what lies ahead for both the economy and the building industry, costs have only one way to go—up," Strunk said. "Delaying your purchase of a home until 'things go down' could be a costly mistake, and also could deprive you of the home you want."

As an example of how housing costs rise, Strunk explained what the same house would cost the homebuyer in 1964, 1966 and 1968:

	1964	1966	1968
Selling Price	$25,000	$26,500	$28,500
20% down payment	5,000	5,300	5,700
Mortgage loan 80%	20,000	21,200	22,800
Mortgage loan term	20 yrs.	20 yrs.	20 yrs.
Mortgage interest rate	5 1/2%	6 1/2%	6 1/2%
Monthly principal & interest	$137.58	$158.08	$170.09
Total principal & interest	$33,019.20	$37,939.20	$40,797.80
Total dollar outlay including original down payment	$33,019.20	$43,239.20	$46,497.80

"Anyone looking at these figures," Strunk said, "can see the housing picture is being repainted constantly. Natural economic forces keep pushing prices up and up, and all evidence indicates this trend will continue for quite a few years. The only solution for the prospective homebuyer would seem to be buy now."

Fence Me In but With Plan

Indoor-outdoor living, creating as much need for privacy outside the home as in it, has focused new attention on fences, walls and other screening arrangements.

While privacy of a deck, patio or terrace will nearly always increase use and enjoyment of it, the screening that provides the privacy should not be thought of purely in functional terms. Fences, walls and other shields should be a decorative addition to your property.

Materials used to screen a ceramic tile patio, for example, should be selected to blend with the color, size, shape and texture of tiles, just as the tiles themselves should have been chosen to complement the overall architecture of the house.

MANY POSSIBILITIES

Possibilities are unlimited. Shrubbery can provide a variety of natural barriers, changing with each season. Patterned openings in walls or fences, whether of wood, masonry or other materials, can highlight the play of light and shadow on the surrounding landscape.

Painting portions of a fence in different colors will alter the impact of its design and bulk. Ornaments can focus attention on a masonry wall. Vines will help to hide it.

Satisfy the urge for privacy with verve and imagination. Don't let it turn the terrace into a fort, the deck into a stockade or the patio into a blockhouse that's also a visual disaster to the outsider who's not even tempted to look in.

Special Drawer Cools Cook's Ire

A special warming drawer in your kitchen can be a boon to the cook who has to provide for habitually tardy diners. A counter of ceramic tile, which will eliminate the danger of heat damage when pots and pans are removed from oven or range, can also aid the cause of serving "hot things hot."

A HOME

IS STILL THE BEST INVESTMENT a Family Can Make

THE TIME TO BUY IS NOW -

HERE ARE 8 GOOD REASONS WHY

- 1 The price of land is going up... up... up. Just the other day a group of distinguished economists predicted real estate will go up 20% in the next three years.
- 2 The steady rise in population, in virtually every section of the nation, exerts a steady upward pressure on land prices.
- 3 Today, right now, you can find real bargains in new homes. See Kampsen Realty, and you'll find the selection was never better.
- 4 Interest rates may go even higher. The actual difference between present and past interest rates is only a small factor in the cost of your home. For example: A one-half percent increase in interest rates is only $6 per month on a 25-year, $20,000 loan. Remember, your interest is deductible on your income tax.
- 5 Real estate is your best hedge against inflation. "No investment on earth is so safe, so sure, so certain to enrich its owner as real estate."
- 6 If you shop at Kampsen's, you'll find architects and engineers now figuring with sharper pencils, because of the momentary lull in demand. You can save important money by acting now.
- 7 The family who buys now will be ahead of the family that continues to collect rent receipts. Each monthly payment builds equity. At the same time, the home can be increasing in value.
- 8 The best security in the whole world, for you, your wife and children, is the security of owning land.

Wives—Take It Easy on Working Husbands

Attention ladies with working husbands, here is valuable information. Looking into the frightening government figures showing that 26 per cent of all marriages end in divorce, a recent study by the Family Research Division of the Construction Research Bureau found a critical moment in the husband-wife relationship during which wives should be especially careful — when the husband comes home from a hard day's work.

Listen to some complaints from men yearning for a comfortable chair. "I come home (exhausted from a rough day at the office)" said one man, "and my wife hands me a wrench at the door for fixing the leaky faucet."

"Next on the list is a sticky window. Don't ask me what was third I didn't stay long enough to find out."

TALE OF WOE
Another man said, "A cigarette made a burn on our tile floor and guests were coming, so 'fix it right away' says she. Well, I'm no handyman and I sure wasn't in a mood for guests."

"It is worth noting," commented Mrs. Bessie Clay, the family relations expert, "that most divorces are non-working wives. Perhaps wives should remember the old fable about 'For want of a nail, a kingdom was lost.' Very simple tasks become huge when handed to an exhausted husband. Family harmony is improved when wives do minor home repairs. They really are quite easy to handle."

A drippy faucet, for example can be fixed by using the wrench to turn off water at its source beneath the sink. The same tool is easily used to take the faucet apart.

Then, with a screwdriver, the worn washer is detached from the spindle and a new one is installed.

Another simple job is replacing an out-of-shape float ball in the toilet tank. Just unscrew the ball from the lift wire and replace it.

As for that cigarette burn on the floor tile, if it's the easy-care resilient asphalt tile or Floors of Oak Are Long-Lasting vinyl asbestos, the burn may be erased by lightly rubbing with fine steel wool, as can marks from heels. There are no-stick crayons in tubular shapes which grease the edges and allow windows, and rawers, to slide more easily. And sand papering sticky edges, stand on a dry surface, throw another.

If a fuse blows and all lights see if an overload of current is responsible. If so, correct the situation, then remove the fuse and screw in a new one. The study made shows that 90 per cent of the tasks a wife can perform with equal efficiency by feminine hands. More difficult work should be done by outside repairmen.

To Discuss Spouses' Projects

Women Gather Over Coffee

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

This is "wretched husband" stories galore.

talk about, especially if he is a hood pay-back party is founder-do-it yourself and has a flaw in his saw — or something. There are wretched husband out a wall in their recreation room so that he can fix a roof leak.)

"I've been trying to get him to do this for years," she wails, "but he has been putting it off. He chooses this particular neighbor's garage. 'But what's more wrong with that, if I get a little more light?'" she asks.

Actually, her husband provides the answer: Never, never put a picture window where Women must cope. Postpone the party or drape the walls in ivy or psychedelic posters if the show must go on.

BEST LAID PLANS

A woman is having her floors scraped and this is causing all sorts of problems because as she says, "I engineered the project so I could sell my husband on very dark fashionable floors suggested by a decorator friend. But you won't believe it — he's never even noticed the floors before but is holding out for bowling-alley shiny-finished floors. I don't want old-fashioned floors."

GOING TO DOGS

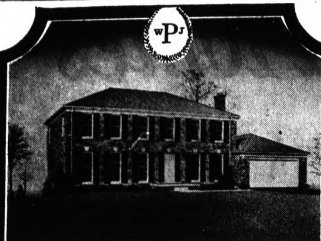

Another husband-wife controversy involves an 8-week old Corgi. It seems her husband brought one home just as they were at the end of enlarging their living room.

"Now he doesn't want to finish it off until the puppy is big enough to go outdoors (in the spring). He has even built a barrier in the living room and the place is a mess," she whimpers.

(And just think, he might have fallen for a Great Dane.)

2 Hospitalized by 2-Car Crash

Two men were admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital early today following a two-car accident at Perry and University.

In satisfactory condition are Frank Brouillette, 33, of 7300 Silver Wood, North Branch, and Troy Smith, 32, of 431 N. Saginaw, the drivers of the cars.

A passenger in Brouillette's car, Evelyn Russell, 51, of 44 Whitfield, was treated and released following the 1:10 a.m. accident. Smith was alone in his car.

Sixteen million visitors spent approximately $1.45 billion in New York City in 1967.

Woman 'Serious' After Area Crash

A 43-year-old Detroit woman is in serious condition today in Pontiac General Hospital with injuries received in a two-car crash about 12:10 a.m. today at Middle Belt and West Maple in West Bloomfield Township.

Police said Norma Redmond, 43, of Detroit was driving east on West Maple through the intersection when her car collided with a northbound auto driven by Elsa Campbell, 32, of 15000 Linda Vista, Birmingham.

Area Youth Set Teach-In on Race Crisis

FARMINGTON — A teach-in featuring leaders of area racial groups will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at the Farmington Junior High School, 33000 Thomas.

Heading the agenda is a keynote address by Hayward Wilson, the chairman of the Detroit chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE).

Next will be a panel discussion on the role of Farmington in the racial crisis.

13 Persons Hurt in Two-Car Crash

Thirteen persons, including eight children, were injured yesterday in a two-car collision at Baldwin and Clarkson roads in Orion Township. All but two were released after being treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

Listed in fair condition are Arthur Stimson, 50, of 3920 Oak, Metamora, and Mary Kowalk, 57, of 54 N. Oxford, Orion Township. They were passengers in a car driven by Wayne J. Merwin, 46, of 175 High, Metamora.

The accident occurred at 3:50 p.m. when a station wagon driven by Mrs. George Carpenter, 30, of 1544 Moccasin, Waterford Township, collided with Merwin's auto.

She, her four children and five other passengers were hospitalized for a short time.

Women in Hospital as Crash Splits Car

A Lake Orion woman was admitted to Critten Point Hospital early this morning after her car ran off Rochester Road near Rowland in Addison Township and struck a tree.

Oakland County Sheriff Deputies said that the car split in two on impact.

The driver, Frances R. Granger, 21, of 330 N. Anderson, is listed in fair condition following the 5 a.m. accident.

Hit-and-Run on City Street Injures Man

A Waterford Township man is listed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital following a hit-and-run accident yesterday at West Wide Track and Lafayette.

Injured in the 4:40 p.m. crash was Carl F. Smiddy, 26, of 4730 Hillcrest.

Pontiac police said Smiddy was thrown from his car when it careened into a pole.

The driver of the other car, Erma Frederick, 28, of 1128 Boston, left the scene of the accident, according to Pontiac police. He was taken into custody minutes later, police said, after his car was stopped on Huron and Genesee.

Frederick was released after being treated for an arm injury and told to report to police Monday for questioning. He told police that he did not remember anything about the accident.

4-Car Crash Hurts 4 in Waterford Twp.

Four persons received injuries in a four-car crash on Highway Road east of Airport Road about 9:15 last night.

Mrs. Dorothy Crisp, 25, of 2908 Airport is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital. The three others injured were treated at the hospital and released.

Waterford Township police said there were conflicting statements about how the accident occurred but believe a car driven eastbound on Airport by Omar O. Millimine, 28, of 5110 Oak Cliff, Waterford, spun on the street, crossed the center line and struck a westbound car driven by Jane H. Scott, 24, of 3060 Seebaldt, Waterford Township.

The impact knocked the Scott car into another westbound car driven by Benny J. Crisp, 29, of 2908 Airport.

The Millimine car also collided with another westbound car driven by Derwin D. Heller, 64, of 7189 Lake Lane, Independence Township.

Millimine, Crisp and Pamela Acha, 22, of 5860 Opaline,

Hare in Hospital With Ill Heart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Secretary of State James Hare, 57, was reported resting comfortably at George Washington University Hospital late Friday after sustaining what a doctor said was a possible heart attack.

Hare had been attending a meeting of the National Committee for the Ad Hoc Committee on the Hospital Thursday night.

Reflections AT THE CLOSE OF THE DAY

As the sun sinks slowly in the west at the close of each day we find some of the best hours of our lives. At this period of time, the cool of the evening shadows drives away the hot humid air of the day. This is a time of rest, relaxation and recovering our strength that has been spent during the rush of the hectic day.

When night approaches and all about us is darkness, we have no dread, no fear, for we know that in a short while the darkness will flee and we shall once again be flooded with the bright dawning of a new day.

If, in our business, we can in some small way leave a memory picture of this with families in their hour of need, then our efforts have not been in vain.

THE QUESTION
In times past, people sought answers to questions just as we seek answers to more and more complicated questions in today's faster pace of living.

It seems the more answers we get, the more questions come up. We wonder if the answers are actually answers or merely temporized explanations. More and more people seem to be going to psychiatrists' couches for answers, explanations and help. At best psychiatrists can only point out that the answer to an anguished problem lies within the individual.

Centuries ago, even a Man from Galilee uttered a question on the cross, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" Just as He, in experiencing anguish and pain, knew the question wasn't really a question, the same uncomplicated answer to individual despair awaits us; ours to accept, where and when we will. Open Housing Backed

The Pontiac Education Association this week released a statement supporting the city's open housing ordinance and urging voter approval of the ordinance on Monday's election. The statement said, "Discrimination practices in housing against Negroes and other minority groups is in existence."

"It is well known that many Pontiac Negro teachers have left our schools and community because they have been unable to acquire public acceptance of individual and personal worth and to obtain nondiscriminatory housing facilities in favorable surroundings."

The executive committee of the Pontiac Area Council of Churches also released a statement reaffirming its previous stand in favor of the fair housing ordinance.

TO BE HONORED — The late film-maker Walt Disney is the subject of a 6-cent commemorative stamp to be issued by the Post Office Sept. 11 in Marceline, Mo., where he spent part of his boyhood. Disney died Dec. 15, 1966.

Sears Catalog Introduces New Apparel Term

Neatnik is a new word introduced today in Sears. Robert and Co.'s fall and winter general catalog, now being distributed in this area and to more than 12 million families across the nation.

A Neatnik, according to the catalog, is defined as a person "who lives in the neat, no-frown world" of permanently pressed fabrics.

James W. Button, senior vice president-merchandising, said the new term "symbolizes the revolution that has taken place in wearing apparel and home fashions. We call it the Permanent Revolution."

"Demand for permanently pressed fabrics, which Sears calls Perma-Press, has grown at a fantastic rate and changed an entire industry," Button said. "As a result, we have expanded our catalog selection of this merchandise."

ADVERTISEMENT — The City of Pontiac is receiving sealed bids for the construction of a non-sideline square yard of non-sideline treatment on 25 streets at various locations within the City of Pontiac, Michigan.

The bidders are requested to submit sealed bids to the City Clerk, 40 East Wide Track Drive, Pontiac, Michigan, by 2:00 p.m. (Eastern Daylight Savings Time), July 6, 1968, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

A certified check or a satisfactory bond for $2,000 per lot, less than 10% of the amount of the proposal will be required with each proposal as a guarantee of good faith and the same will be subject to the conditions stipulated in the instructions to bidders.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory performance and payment bond or bonds in the amount of $2,000 per lot.

The City of Pontiac reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to waive any informality in the bidding.

Bids may be held by the City of Pontiac for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days after the opening of the bids for the purpose of reviewing the bids and settling the qualifications of the bidders, prior to awarding the contract.

Goal of Drive: Let's All Help the Poor—Congressmen Packages for GIs in Viet

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The current congressional economy drive is moving apace. One step forward and a step back. The House of Representatives, for instance, expects to save about $5,000 this year on ice cubes. Unfortunately, in order to accomplish this saving the House had to spend about $12,000 for an ice-making machine.

WEST

In an effort to provide the enlisted men with "the little things we take for granted," the women plan to prepare in-kind packages to be sent overseas.

Among the items being collected for the kits are pencils, pens, stationery, toothbrushes, toothpaste, combs and soap. Playing cards, and small cans of meats and fruit juices are also needed. Other items requested most frequently by GIs are raisins, peanuts, chewing gum, hard candy, packaged soup mixes and instant tea and coffee.

CASH DONATIONS

Cash donations also are being accepted to help pay for postage, estimated at $1.45 per package.

The bundles will be sent to GIs on American Red Cross mailing lists and those whose names are furnished by area residents.

Local citizens accepting contributions for the project are Birmingham-Bloomfield — Mrs. Burton W. Lanham of 16284 Burwood and Mrs. Paul O'Kelly of 4245 Rockingham; Pontiac — Mrs. William J. Sloan of 2000 Sarona Lane; Troy — Mrs. and Glenn Sigmon, 12, of Walter R. Irlsick of 759 E. Wharton, W. Va., in the final round Friday to capture the Hardenbergh of 651 Jamaica. King of Marbles crown.

which received House committee approval this week.

It appears that the major problem confronting the lawmakers as they grapple with their own expenses is internal. Specifically, the stomach.

Present indications are that the various restaurants, cafeterias and carry-out shops operated by the House will have a balance-of-payments deficit amounting to about $36,000 in fiscal 1969.

In other words, House members, employees, guests and other customers would be eating $36,000 more than they paid for, with the balance of the tab being picked up by the taxpayers.

DEFICIT CONCERN
The appropriations committee was concerned about this and considered a number of ways to reduce the deficit, including such drastic moves as raising prices on the menus.

I must say that the committee finally dealt with the problem in a forthright manner. What it did was call for a "full-scale study" of the problem.

It is my own feeling that the lawmakers could join the marchers from Resurrection City who already are picketing the department.

No Fast Changes With Fair Housing

By BOB WISLER

Almost no one versed on the subject of open housing believes that a local ordinance will bring about any immediate change in Pontiac's present housing patterns.

Experience in other cities which have had fair housing ordinances for some time shows that any change in housing patterns is slow in coming.

Even those behind the

favorable vote on the ordinance in Monday's election do not see that an ordinance will put an immediate end to de facto neighborhood patterns of segregation.

The ordinance is seen as a symbolic victory and evidence that while people are ready to fully accept Negroes into the American society.

REASON FOR HOPE

Even Negro leaders see it as more of a reason for hope than an immediate solution to housing problems.

"We are not so naive to believe that housing patterns in this community will change overnight... but let us begin," Hubert Price Jr., vice president of the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth, said in urging passage of the ordinance.

The fact that passage of an open housing ordinance has been so controversial discourages many Negroes who see their race facing a multitude of problems demanding immediate answers.

Dr. William Donnelly, chairman of the Friends of Fair Housing, said it "is ridiculous that there has to be so much effort to accomplish what should be taken for granted."

ACT OF FAITH

Donnelly said whites should ensure passage of the ordinance. "It would be an act of faith in black people, an act of faith for all people."

The biggest stumbling block to fully eliminating de facto segregation, according to those experts who have studied the problem, is economics.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday for the 30,312 registered voters in the city. The ordinance was enacted by the City Commission early this year, but a petition drive calling for the referendum election on the ordinance delayed its effect pending the election.

If voters approve the ordinance, it will take effect immediately.

Whites, on the average, have a higher education level and higher incomes. As Negro incomes rise they will be able to afford better housing and this will bring more integration, but this is a slow process.

Meantime, Negroes want to be able to live where they can afford to live. "We don't want to live in white neighborhoods," said Mayor Pro Tem T. Warren Fowler Sr., a Negro.

DECENT HOUSING

"What we do want is to be able to live in decent housing, housing we can afford, no matter what neighborhood the housing is in," he added.

Now that the state has passed an open housing law there appears to be less resistance locally to a city ordinance governing discrimination in housing.

As a practical matter the state law is likely to be more of a deterrent to continuing discriminatory practices, particularly among realtors.

The city ordinance calls for a penalty on conviction of up to $100 fine or up to 90 days in jail, or both. This is a maximum city penalty allowed by the state charter.

$1,000 FINES

The state law calls for any real estate firm, bank or other violator of a professional nature to be fined up to $1,000 for committing an unfair housing practice and up to $2,000 for a repeat violation. Individuals could pay up to $500 damages, if found guilty.

It is possible that prosecution of the local ordinance would entail less time than prosecution of the state law. The state law calls for the Civil Rights Commission to investigate complaints and the cases to be processed through the state courts.

The local ordinance calls for the cases to be prosecuted locally. They would be handled the way all misdemeanor cases (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 3)

U.S. Says N. Korea Errs in Spy Ship Sinking Tale

WASHINGTON (AP) — A North Korean radio report that a U.S. "spy ship" had been sunk off the west coast of Korea was tentatively described today by U.S. authorities as incorrect.

"It would appear that this initial report is erroneous," a Pentagon spokesman said. He emphasized that this comment was based on a hurried check of the situation.

Asked if this meant the sinking involved a ship of some other nation, the spokesman said, "There are a lot of possibilities on this. All we can say at the moment is that it appears this report is incorrect."

The sinking was claimed in a North Korean radio broadcast, monitored in London, which said the ship was attacked by North Korean patrol vessels and sunk with its entire crew.

A spokesman for the U.S. forces in Korea said "as far as we know there is nothing to it. We have no report on it." South Korean military spokesmen made similar comments.

In Tokyo, another American

spokesman said he had been informed by the 34th Air Division command post in Korea that a distress signal had been picked up today from a South Korean fishing boat. The report did not give the time of the SOS or the location of the boat, but said this may have been the "spy ship" to which Pyongyang Radio referred.

Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, usually describes South Korean fishing boats which stray into Communist waters as "U.S. imperialist ships."

SHIP UNNAMED

The name of the alleged spy ship was not given, nor was the name of the mother vessel.

The reported sinking came nearly six months after the U.S. Navy's intelligence ship Pueblo and her crew of 83 were captured by four North Korean patrol boats and taken to the port of Wonsan.

HISTORIC HOUSE NO MORE — A sudden fire which started about 3 a.m. this morning leveled the onetime home of T. F. MacManus, founder of the advertising firm of MacManus, John and Adams. The wooden structure, located at Woodward and Opdyke in Bloomfield Hills, was not owned by the MacManus family and had been vacant for some time. MacManus, now deceased, was responsible for construction of nearby St. Hugo's Church and the Stonycroft golf course.

Viet War Longest for U.S.

SAIGON (AP) — The Vietnam war becomes the longest war in American history today with thousands of U.S. troops set up in new positions to protect South Vietnam's capital against a threatened third enemy offensive.

At midnight in Saigon — noon EDT — the war will be six years, six months and one day old, measured from the death on Dec. 22, 1961, of Spec. 4 James Thomas Davis of Livingston, Tenn., the first of more than 25,000 Americans who have been killed in Vietnam.

The longest war involving American fighting men had been the War of Independence — six years and six months.

U.S. 25th Division infantrymen sweeping the outer edges of the rocket belt reported killing 12 enemy soldiers and capturing seven weapons nine miles northwest of the capital. No U.S. casualties were reported.

TROOPS PULLED IN
The U.S. Command has pulled thousands of American infantrymen in from outlying provinces, military sources said today, in an effort to block key enemy infiltration routes and cut down enemy shellings that have terrorized Saigon's 3 million people.

A senior U.S. officer declined to say how many troops were being moved closer to the capital, but it was learned that perhaps a brigade of infantrymen — 3,000 men — had been moved to the city's outer limits.

While Saigon was spared the almost daily enemy shelling today, the South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry revealed a protest against the shellings was filed with the International Red Cross delegation in Vietnam.

Dem Gets Upset Win

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Robert L. Rock upset the Democratic state organization to win the nomination for governor by two votes Friday in a wild state convention.

Rock won over State Rep. Richard C. Bodine, backed by the state organization, 553-551.

19 Swim to Freedom

HONG KONG (AP) — Police said today 19 escapees from Red China swam the stormy sea from the neighboring province of Kwangtung to Hong Kong.

A police spokesman said 16 of them were picked up last night on an offshore island and the rest today on another island.

7 North Koreans Killed

SEOUL (UPI) — South Korean troops today killed seven North Koreans in seven hours of fighting south of the demilitarized zone between the two countries, South Korean military officials said.

Some of the North Koreans were hunted down and shot by the South Koreans, who reported one man slightly wounded in the early morning clash, they said.

FBI Chief Decries Growing Wave of Violence in U.S.

By HAROLD A. FITZGERALD
Chairman of the Board
The Pontiac Press

WASHINGTON — With the "hot" days of summer directly ahead, J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, answers a list of important questions for conduct in general if trouble breaks out. He is directly outspoken on the restrictions of firearms.

His replies to 21 questions asked by the Associated Press follow:

Q. What in your opinion, as our nation's leading law enforcement officer, is the main cause behind the violence which is sweeping our country?

A. A rising contempt of and disrespect for law and order lie at the heart of the growing violence in America today. This disrespect is reflected in many ways: a spiraling crime rate, riots, civil disobedience, rebellion on our campuses, and the rise of extremist racial and vigilante groups. Respect for law and order is the cement which holds the varied and often hostile groups of a democracy together. The moment individuals or groups distrust the law and attempt, through coercion, intimidation or violence, to take matters into their own hands, the orderly fabric of society bursts. This is what we are seeing today.

Q. What are your views on civil disobedience?

A. Civil disobedience is a pernicious doctrine which is undermining respect for law and order. Proponents of this doctrine assert that civil disobedience is justifiable if the acts are open, not violent, respectful of the rights of others, and have the purpose of focusing attention on significant moral issues of the day.

To individuals enthused about a current moral problem, to appeal to civil disobedience may seem great. But to break the law even "gently" can have eventual tragic consequences. Suppose every group or individual who felt he had a righteous cause did likewise? What would happen? We would have chaos. Moreover, what starts out as a planned, controlled incident of civil disobedience may mushroom into open violence or riots. Also, if the situation falls under the influence of extremists or avowed agitators, great damage can result.

J. EDGAR HOOVER

Q. Respect for law and order seems passe. What has brought our country to this situation?

A. We are living in an age when too many citizens are thinking about their "rights" and "privileges" and too little about their "duties" and "responsibilities." The emphasis today is too heavily weighted on the permissiveness of the individual — that anything he feels best for himself he should do regardless of how it may affect others. Respect for the laws means respect for the rights of others. America needs a reemphasis on community cooperation, mutual trust and the responsibility of the individual.

Q. Has the Communist party sought to capitalize on this breakdown in respect for law and order?

A. The Communist party, USA, is busily attempting to capitalize on the current social unrest, divisiveness and tensions in our society. Not since the depression days of the 1930s has the Communist party had such a fertile field of discontent to exploit. Social chaos and disorder are tailor-made for the growth of the communist virus. The party is elated to see Americans denounce other Americans, to see incidents of civil disobedience, to see the growing disdain for the law.

Q. What is the role of the FBI in civil disorders?

A. The FBI's responsibility is to develop and disseminate intelligent information while remaining alert to any violations of Federal law within its investigative jurisdiction. It does not have jurisdiction to protect either property or persons or to police riot situations.

Q. What should I do if lawless elements approach my store or home?

A. In cases of possible violence, local law enforcement authorities should immediately be furnished all available information. Citizens should not attempt to organize vigilante groups for protection purposes.

Q. What can news media do to aid local law enforcement when a break-down in law and order occurs?

A. Report the facts promptly and accurately. In situations of lawlessness, great damage is done by false rumors and gossip. The news media can render tremendous aid to the restoration of law (Continued on Page A-7)

JOHANNES F. SPREEN

Detroit Police Chief a Big Man

From Our News Wires
DETROIT — Johannes F. John Spreen is big enough to carry a hefty stick — no matter how softly he talks.

There's more to the size of Detroit's new police commissioner than his 6-foot-5 frame and the 240 pounds thereon.

He's a big man from the standpoint of 25 years as a policeman, as the holder of two citations and as a respected teacher and lecturer.

Spreen, 48, will take charge of the police force in the nation's fifth largest city July 15. He will take on 4,780 men in blue and a stack of problems big enough to make anyone tremble.

PEACE STRAINED

The city still feels deeply the scars of last summer's riot, the worst civil disturbance in modern American history. And the uneasy peace that exists is strained all the harder by still fresh memories of burning buildings and blood-stained streets.

'FINE DEPARTMENT'

Spreen doesn't believe there is any special morale problem with Detroit's police department. He thinks the $10,000 maximum base pay recently won by the police will contribute to good morale.

"From what I can gather I think we have a fine department in Detroit," the German-born Spreen said in a quiet New York accent shortly after his appointment was announced.

"I believe preventive control is the important thing. And a matter of the utmost importance is to get the most out of our manpower," he added.

About the individual policeman — the man on the beat or at the other end of a telephone — Spreen said:

"I think the police officer must have a sense of social responsibility. He must have a sense of education. It's not just a law enforcing job, not just thief catching. The preventive measures and the service are more important."

WALKED BEAT 7 YEARS

Spreen's ideas about police work come from 25 years on the New York City police department, seven of them pounding a beat.

He has a master's degree in public administration from New York University and was graduated from Southern Police Institute.

Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh said that in the New York department Spreen served as troubleshooter and a consultant to foreign governments on police problems.

Spreen is anxious to try out his ideas learned from that experience as well as those from the academic world where he's been the past two years as a lecturer and teacher in police work at State University of New York.

He rates police-community relations, particularly where the Negro community is concerned, as a top priority, "24 hours a day." He said he is ready to walk the streets himself to pursue his ideas.

Spreen admits to a fascination for acronyms — those words made up from the first letters of other words. He sees the word "police" as an acronym, at least the "P-O" part of it.

"I think police," he said, "should be considered protectors of liberty."

Spreen's predecessor as Detroit Police Commissioner, Ray Girardin, a former Detroit newspaperman, announced his intended retirement last October, but his departure was postponed three times at Cavanagh's request while a replacement was sought.

Of Girardin, Cavanagh said: "Commissioner Girardin has been one of the most outstanding police commissioners in this city's history at a most difficult time. Ray Girardin has always discharged his duties with a great deal of judgment, prudence and understanding."

Waterford Man Dies Following Head-On Crash

A 33-year-old Waterford Township man died last night of multiple injuries received in a two-car head-on collision on Hagerty Road about 1/2 mile south of W. Maple in the West Bloomfield Township.

The accident occurred about 6:44 p.m. Milton W. Hoover, 33, of 1016 Pelham died at 10:20 p.m. at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

Township police said Hoover was driving north when his car collided with a southbound auto which apparently had skidded over the center line.

The other driver, Andrew J. Louinger, 21, of 21110 Randall, Farmington, and two passengers, Edward Moody, 14, and Glen Moody, 21, both of 21124 Randall, were treated for cuts and bruises.

Police said that they will attempt to secure a warrant in the case charging Louinger with manslaughter or negligent homicide.

LBJ to Sign Surcharge

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to sign within a few days the 10 per cent income tax surcharge bill, and taxpayers should find paychecks smaller before the end of July. The first federal income tax hike in 17 years is coupled with a $4-billion cut in federal spending, whipped through the Senate yesterday by a surprisingly large margin, although passage had been expected.

Birmingham Area

Lahser High Principal Is Honored

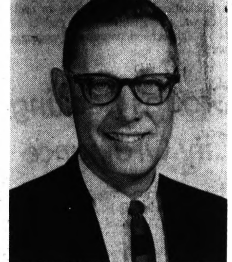

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — David Cook, Bloomfield Lahser High School principal, has been named by the Institute for Development of Educational Activities (IDEA), Dayton, Ohio, as an IDEA Fellow.

He will attend the institute's 1968 summer seminars, to be held July 7-13 at Amherst College, Amherst, Mass.

Cook is one of 400 school administrators picked from nearly 15,000 nationwide to participate in the information exchange sessions on advancements in education.

The summer seminars this year will have the theme "Individuality in Learning" and will feature specialists in independent study as speakers and group leaders.

IDEA programs are designed to assist teachers, administrators and other groups with plans for building and curriculum development.

DONALD GROTHE

BIRMINGHAM — Donald Grothe, a counselor at Birmingham Seaholm High School, has been elected vice president of the Michigan Association of College Admissions Counselors.

The association, composed of counselors and college admissions administrators, is designed to exchange ideas and solve problems which exist between high schools and colleges and to promote high professional standards in guidance.

Grothe lives at 1714 Warwick, Sylvan Lake.

Farmington Youth to Hold Teach-In on Racial Crisis

FARMINGTON — A teach-in featuring leaders of area racial groups will be held Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at the Farmington Junior High School, 33000 Thomas.

The event is open without charge to anyone from junior high school age on up.

Heading the agency is a keynote address by Hayward Wilson, the chairman of the Detroit chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE).

FIVE WORKSHOPS
Following will be workshops on the myths, fears and realities of racism, what black power means, positive courses of action in black and white communities, constructive militancy, and institutionalized racism.

Among the 15 speakers are Albert Shaw, the head of VOCAL (Voice of Oakland County Action League); Elick Shorter, staff member of the Pontiac Area Urban League; Albert Dunmore, editor of the Michigan Chronicle, and staff members of the ESVID (East Side Voice of Independent Detroit), the Detroit Challenge program, the Detroit Urban League, People Against Racism, the Farmington Board of Education and the Detroit Council of Churches' housing task force.

Sponsoring the teach-in is the Youth Action Council of the New Farmington Committee.

No Contract Progress Made in Waterford Police Talks

Negotiating teams representing Waterford Township and the Waterford Township Police Officers Association met again yesterday but reportedly made no progress toward arriving at a contract settlement.

The WTPOA has been working without a contract since Jan. 1 when the 1967 contract expired. The two sides have been negotiating over a new pact since August of last year.

Glen Phelps, president of the WTPOA, said that some very strong feelings are being expressed by members of the association about what might happen if an agreement is not reached soon.

'EYE MOVE TO DETROIT'

Four or five policemen Phelps said, are considering joining the Detroit police force. There are 26 policemen in the department, all of whom are association members.

At yesterday's negotiation session, Phelps said, the WTPOA offered to agree to an across the board pay increase of $200 for men of all ranks. A request for extra pay increase for lieutenants and captains was dropped.

The association also requested that time and one-half overtime pay be paid for work over 40 hours. The provision, would be retroactive to May 1, instead of Jan. 1 as previously demanded.

The board has offered to pay time and one-half for hours worked over 42 hours, effective as of the date of ratification of the contract.

NO COUNTEROFFER

The board made no counteroffer to the WTPOA proposals yesterday.

Township Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson said that the township negotiating team would need more time to study them.

The contract that expired Jan. 1 set pay for patrolmen at $7,384. On Jan. 1, the township implemented an across the board raise of $800, bringing the top patrolman pay to $8,184.

No new meeting date was set.

ROBERT H. NELSON

Area JP Files for Judge Race

Farmington Township Justice of the Peace Robert H. Nelson announced today that he has filed as a candidate for district judge in the Aug. 6 primary.

A justice of the peace for nearly nine years, Nelson, 47, of 28417 Hawberry, is seeking the post in the 47th District, which comprises the city and township of Farmington.

Under the recent lower court reorganization, justice courts throughout the state and some municipal courts will be replaced by district courts with more jurisdiction.

Nelson, a practicing attorney for 13 years, earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Detroit where he graduated Magna Cum Laude, a law degree from the Harvard Law School, and master's degree at the Harvard Business School.

PAPERS PUBLISHED

He has been a member of various professional committees and has had two professional papers published in national journals. He has been admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Before he started to practice law, Nelson was employed as a certified public accountant with a Detroit firm. He was a Navy officer in World War II.

A resident of Farmington Township for over 12 years, Nelson and his wife, Sibby, have one daughter, Ingrid.

Active on various civic committees in both the city and township of Farmington, Nelson in recent years has spearheaded an effort to restore the celebration of the Fourth of July.

Open Housing Bid in Waterford

The Waterford Township Board Monday night will be asked to consider adopting an open housing ordinance for the township.

The proposal will be made by the Waterford Education Association, represented by its executive director, Robert E. Crumpton.

A similar WEA proposal was adopted by the Waterford Township Board of Education at its regular meeting last Thursday.

In other business, the board will consider a resolution giving the board control of the operation of the township's parks and recreation activities. The parks and recreation department currently is run by the Waterford school district.

The school board has already passed a resolution transferring control of the department to the township.

The board will also consider entering into an agreement with the school district to join in providing Waterford Mott High School with a sanitary sewer.

The board meets at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Waterford Township High School.

For Legal Services

County OEO Gets Grant

U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart today announced that the Oakland County Commission of Economic Opportunity has been awarded a $162,527 grant, for a 10-month legal services program.

Since April the OCEO has been engaged in an expanded Legal Aid Society, providing legal advice to families whose incomes are low enough to qualify them for the poverty level.

About half the cases handled by the group involve family and marriage difficulties. Other cases are divided between housing problems, rent, employment, etc.

No Fast Housing Changes Seen

plaints are handled: a police investigation, then a decision on prosecution by the city law department.

Other features of the Pontiac ordinance:

Section 1—Prohibits any owner of real property, lessee, sublessee, real estate broker or salesman, builder or supplier, lender, financial institution, advertiser or agent from discriminating in regard to sale or rental because of religion, race, color or national origin.

Section 2 — Excludes from coverage rental of a room or rooms in a single family unit when the remainder of the units are occupied by the owner or member of his immediate family, a lessee of the entire unit or members of his immediate family.

Section 3—States that the ordinance does not require anyone to offer the property to the public at large before renting or selling and allows preferences to prospective tenants or purchasers for any reason other than religion, race, color or national origin.

Section 4—States that an individual can seek remedy to discrimination before the Civil Rights Commission, or state courts, or both.

Section 5—Declares that the ordinance in no way impairs existing powers of the Human Relations Commission.

Section 6—Prohibits any person, firm, partnership, association or corporation from attempting to induce the sale or rental of property by representing that neighborhoods are undergoing or will soon undergo a change in the racial composition.

Section 7—Prohibits using threats, intimidation, coercion, extortion or conspiracy in attempting to induce rental or sale of property.

Section 8—Declares punishment of up to $100 fine or 90 days in jail or both for conviction of violations.

Section 9—Declares that if any part of the ordinance is declared invalid, the rest will remain in effect.

To London, England Then Home Again

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Church Editor
I love London.
Perhaps it is because my father's family came from England. Perhaps it is because flowers were everywhere. In of hours late one afternoon parks, small door yard gardens, and in window boxes of large city banks and stores there were golden daffodils and pink and purple hyacinths. I expected a dismal, foggy weekend in London but the sun was shining except for a couple when there was a slight drizzle. There was no fog.

Our first tour took us to Westminster Abbey and the Houses of Parliament. I was glad we had a guide who spoke so glowingly of his country. * * * Near the West Door of the Abbey the Unknown Warrior lies in a simple grave.

His tomb symbolizes the tomb in 1921 by General Pershing. I was glad to see where Winston Churchill stood when he gave his famous speech over radio during World War II saying "There will always be an England." He also spoke of winning the war with blood, sweat and tears.

We arrived but we looked in the windows. Before going in to dinner at the Alveston Manor Hotel, Dr. B. R. Lakin of Fort Gay, W. Va. led a brief worship service on the bus. The Rev. C. L. Fuqua of Marion, Ohio read the Scripture and the Rev. J. W. Bowen of Flint led in prayer.

around some of the parks. Anyone wanting to stroll along could view them and purchase some.

LONDON FOG

Since London is noted for fog, our guide said large manufacturing plants were located some 30 miles out of the city. As we left London for the airport I wished I could have stayed a little longer but was glad we were homeward bound.

When I left home I rather dreaded crossing the Atlantic Ocean in a plane but here I was not even giving it a thought as we took off.

The trip was delightful. Hostesses, stewards and all personnel on planes were so courteous and helpful.

SEE AMERICA

Members of our group were sitting near each other on the return trip. When Mr. and Mrs. Herb Rawlings of Cincinnati, Ohio spied land, everyone broke out into singing "God Bless America," "America" and "Star Spangled Banner."

It was the first time I ever sang the "Star Spangled Banner" sitting down but our seat belts were fastened so I sat.

Our flight back to Detroit seemed short and I was glad. As I entered the airport building three little grandchildren, Betsy, John and Eric Anglemier rushed to meet me. Baby Jeffrey just looked on.

The children had seen the plane as it came in. Now when two-year-old Eric sees a plane in the sky he calls out Go-Go. That's what he calls me. I may not be up in the plane, but I'm usually up in the air about something.

REFLECTIONS

As I write this I'm remembering the delicious hardcrusted bread found in the Middle East; the beautiful tenor voice of Father Augustino Pataconi, as he sang and played the organ in the church in Bethany, and calling for aqua when we wanted water in Rome.

I'm also remembering Arabs in their native dress walking along listening to transistor radios; the huge cabbages, oranges and other vegetables and fruits in Nicosia; and the time a girl working at the hotel in Jerusalem said to me "You talk so fast."

She couldn't understand what I said. I was so thoughtful.

Now that I am home again I thank you again Dr. Malone for planning such a delightful and meaningful trip.

For the opportunity of visiting another part of the world, I thank you Harold A. Fitzgerald, chairman of the board, Howard H. Fitzgerald II, publisher; John W. Fitzgerald, editor; and all men of the governing board of my beloved Pontiac Press.

TO BE HONORED—The late film-maker Walt Disney is the subject of a 6-cent commemorative stamp to be issued by the Post Office Sept. 11 in Marcelline, Mo., where he spent part of his boyhood. Disney died Dec. 15, 1966.

Sears Catalog Introduces New Apparel Term

Neatnik is a new word introduced today in Sears and Roebuck and Co.'s fall and winter general catalog, now being distributed in this area and to more than 12 million families across the nation.

A Neatnik, according to the catalog, is defined as a person "who lives in the next, not far, of permanently pressed fabrics."

"Demand for permanently pressed fabrics, which Sears calls Perma-Prest, has grown at a fantastic rate and changed an entire industry," Button said. "As a result, we have expanded our catalog selection of this merchandise."

The City of Pontiac will receive sealed bids for the construction of a non-paved surface treatment. This work will consist of the construction of approximately 10,000 square yards of non-paved surface treatment on 25 streets in various locations within the City of Pontiac. The bids are requested to submit sealed bids to the City Clerk, 450 East Wacker Drive, Pontiac, Michigan, by 2:00 P.M. (Eastern Daylight Savings Time) July 8, 1968, at which time all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Contract Documents and Specifications are on file in the office of the City Engineer at 55 Western Street, Pontiac, Michigan, and may be obtained by making a deposit of $10.00 per set. The cash deposit will be returned after the successful bidder has been selected. The good condition within ten (10) days after opening of bids.

A certified check or a satisfactory bond for a sum not less than 10% of the amount of the proposal will be required with each proposal as a guarantee of good faith and the same will be subject to the conditions stipulated in the instructions to bidders. The successful bidder will be required to furnish and pay for satisfactory performance and payment bond or bonds and insurance policies.

The City of Pontiac reserves the right to reject any or all bids, to waive any informality in the bidding, to extend the time for the receipt of bids for a period not to exceed thirty days and to accept or reject any or all bids for the purpose of awarding the bid and inviting the successful bidder to execute the contract.

American Legion Auxiliary members in some Oakland County communities have launched a drive to collect package and mail needed items to servicemen in Vietnam.

Mrs. Arthur M. Conn of Clawson, chairman of the project, read of the success of a similar campaign carried out by a group of California women and contacted a Legion Auxiliary unit in Royal Oak to sponsor the drive.

In an effort to provide the enlisted men with "the little things we take for granted," the women plan to prepare individual packages to be sent overseas.

Among the items being collected for the kits are pencils, pens, stationery, toothbrushes, toothpaste, combs and soap.

Playing cards, and small cans of meats and fruit juices are also needed. Other items requested most frequently by GIs are raisins, peanuts, chewing gum, hard candy, packaged soup mixes and instant tea and coffee.

CASH DONATIONS—Cash donations also are being accepted to help pay for postage, estimated at $1.45 per package.

The bundles will be sent to GIs on American Red Cross mailing lists and those whose names are furnished by area residents.

Local citizens accepting contributions for the project are: Birmingham-Bloomfield—Mrs. Burton W. Lanham of 16284 Burwood; Pontiac—finalists, 4245 Buckingham; Troy—Mrs. Paul O'Kelly, 1414 Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. Glenn Sigmund, 12, Saronia Lane; Troy—Mrs. Walter R. Hisko of 759 E. Wharton, W. Va., in the final Square Lake and Mrs. Alan E. Hardenbergh of 851 Jamaica.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The current congressional economy drive is moving ahead. One step forward and a step back to the rear.

The House of Representatives, for instance, "expects to save about $5,000 this year on ice cubes."

Unfortunately, in order to accomplish this, saving the House had to spend about $12,000 for an ice-making machine.

It will, however, be a prudent transaction, long range-wise. For once the machine pays for itself, the ice cubes will be pure gravy.

NOTE APPROPRIATIONS—These and other interesting figures are included in the new legislative appropriations bill.

In other words, House members, employees, guests and other customers would be eating $536,000 more than they paid for, with the balance of the tab being picked up by the taxpayers.

DEFICIT CONCERN—The appropriations committee was concerned about this and considered a number of ways to reduce the deficit, including such drastic moves as raising prices on the menus.

I must say that the committee finally dealt with the problem in a forthright manner. What it did was call for a "full scale study" of the problem.

It is my own feeling that there is no excuse for any congressman going hungry.

which received House committee approval this week. It appears that the major problem confronting the lawmakers as they grapple with their own expenses is internal. Specifically, the stomach.

Present indications are that the various restaurants, cafeterias and carry-out shops operating by the House will have a balance-of-payments deficit amounting to about $536,000 in fiscal 1969.

probably the best solution would be for Congress to adopt a congressional food stamp plan. Each senator and House member would receive a certain number of food stamps which he could take to any Capitol restaurant and exchange for surplus agricultural commodities.

Should the Agriculture Department oppose the plan, the lawmakers could join the marchers from Resurrection City who already are picking the department.

In this land of abundance there is no excuse for any congressman going hungry.
