Study $5 Million for Building

County Bonds Would Finance New Courthouse

Board of Supervisors Might Place Proposal on April Ballot

Oakland County voters may be asked next April to approve a $5,000,000 bond issue for a new combination courthouse-office building.

H. Lloyd Clawson, chairman of Oakland County Board of Supervisors' special courthouse committee, says his group and the ways and means committee may ask the board in January to put such a proposal on the April ballot.

"We're trying to get some definite plan for financing the courthouse mapped out in time for the next board meeting," he said.

Clawson said the ways and means committee, headed by Fred W. Smith, is now considering which of the various ways of paying for the new building to suggest to supervisors as most economical and logical.

"Tax anticipation notes might be a good move," Clawson said, "if we could pay the debt in five years.

"Or, we might ask for a 30-year bond issue—that wouldn't affect taxes very much."

Clawson said a plan to set up an authority to erect the building, assume the debt and charge county departments "rent" to pay the costs, might cost the county a higher interest rate than a bond issue.

The county, Clawson said, hopes to get about, $1,000,000 by selling its courthouse at West Huron and Saginaw Streets, the Lafayette Street office building (former Masonic Temple) and other property.

The board of supervisors would, of course, have to approve any action taken—either to finance a new building or sell the present ones.

The county some time ago found its present buildings "bursting at the seams" and set out to plan a new courthouse.

Clawson's committee, which also

Predict 510 Will Die in 3-Day Yule Traffic

CHICAGO (UP) — An estimated 510 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the three-day Christmas holiday, the national safety council said today.

On that basis statistics indicate that about 8,600 persons will be injured. The council's estimate on traffic deaths covers the period from 6 p.m. Thursday to midnight Sunday.

The council suggested these driving rules:

1. Don't drive if the weather is bad.
2. Start early. Take it wasy and allow extra time.
3. Always give the other fellow a break.
4. Don't drink if you drive, and watch out for others who may not be as wise.

ALL FOR A GOOD CAUSE—Ronald Terry, 6, won't mind being a bit handicapped Christmas day, since he still has his pal, Blackie. Ronnie was hit by an auto near his Los Angeles home yesterday as he ran into the street to rescue the dog. Blackie was unhurt but the boy suffered possible fractures of skull, leg and arm.

County Garage Burns Here

Men Brave Flames to Save Vehicles in $50,000 Fire

A dozen men braved flames and choking smoke last night to drive 20 trucks and road-graders out of an Oakland County Road Commission storage garage struck by a $50,000 fire.

Quick action by Pontiac firemen and Waterford Township volunteers was credited with keeping the fire from destroying the 150x75-foot garage on Telegraph road near Orchard Lake avenue.

Pontiac Fire Chief John F. Schroeder said firefighters battled the flames for three hours after night watchman William Peterson, 48, of 2293 Walnut Rd., sounded the alarm at 7 p. m.

Peterson said he heard a noise sounding like a muffled explosion and found flames licking the ceiling of one of two garages on the road commission's grounds. The fire was blamed on a short in the wiring on a road-grader.

Both the grader and a station wagon parked nearby were ruined.

Oscar D. Loomis, general superintendent of the road commission, said between 12 and 15 road commission workers and bystanders rescued the vehicles while flames raged in another part of the structure.

He said thick smoke cut visibility to 10 feet, and the men stationed themselves at 10-foot intervals to guide the drivers. Some were nauseated by the stench of burning rubber.

Initial estimates placed the damage at $50,000, $20,000 to the garage and $30,000 to contents But firemen and road commission officials are rechecking damage today.

Although the fire will handicap operations of the commission, it will not seriously cripple work, Loomis said.

Allies to Urge PWs to Return

Schedule Last - Minute Broadcasts to Soldiers Who Embrace Reds

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Allies today scheduled last-minute "come home" broadcasts to the 22 American POW's who embraced communism as hope of face-to-face talks with them was all but abandoned.

Midnight Wednesday ends the 90-day period for coaxing home war prisoners who rejected repatriation.

The 22 Americans will be listed as absent without leave at that hour. Thirty days later they will be classed as deserters.

The U. N. Command announced it will make three loudspeaker broadcasts to prisoners in the Communist North Camp—one for the Americans, one for the lone Briton and a third for 77 Koreans who did not face interviewers.

At the same time, the Reds went ahead with face-to-face explanations. They won back 23 of 242 Chinese prisoners today. And they asked for 250 more Chinese tomorrow, the final day.

Texts for the Allied broadcasts were approved by the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission and a spokesman said the commission "will make the facilities available."

He noted, however, that it is up to the prisoners "to listen or not to listen."

And Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the commission, predicted that the prisoners probably will "all join together and go to the other end of the compound."

Two Escapees Remain Loose as Tips Fail

Criminal Psychopath and Convicted Burglar Still Elude Police

DETROIT (AP)—A series of false tips in this nervous city slowed cautious police efforts today to track down the two remaining fugitives from Saturday's 13-man Southern Michigan Prison break.

One of the escapees still at large was Roman Usiondek, convicted murderer and criminal psychopath, known to be dangerous. The other, Robert Dowling, is a convicted burglar.

A phoned, anonymous tip last night that Usiondek was in a dingy southwest section hotel sent police through a careful search that proved fruitless.

Still another tip last night electrified the police network in the southwest area where yesterday three of the escapees were trapped in a small frame house and captured without a fight.

But the tip, unlike the earlier one to a Detroit newspaperman that led to the capture of the trio, was evidently groundless.

The earlier tip came through Ray Girardin, veteran reporter of the Detroit Times, who was approached by an unidentified man with the information that the three escaped convicts were hiding in the home of Joseph Rocco, an ex-convict.

Police found Daniel B. Bousha, 28, Edward J. Emrick, 43, and Virgil Lane, 27, watching television in the home.

Deputy Chief of Detectives Marvin Lane led the dozen detectives who broke into the home. He quoted the three men as shouting "Don't shoot. Don't shoot."

Later at a press interview set up by Detroit Police, the captured convicts grew sullen, with Emrick, convicted accomplice in the murder of a Detroit policeman, setting the tone with:

"I haven't anything to say."

The three, part of the gang that crept through a sewer and cut the grates at the open end to escape from the gigantic prison, looked like comic opera characters in the dirty, ill-fitting clothes they had stolen.

Police also held Rocco and Irvin

Escapee Suspect Seized in Milford

Tip on Jackson Felons Results in the Arrest of Different Fugitive

A raid yesterday on a Milford township farm which police thought might yield the two remaining Jackson Prison fugitives netted another escapee instead.

Milford Police, state troopers and Detroit detectives converged on the farm of George Moreland, 48, of 2935 Milford Rd., at 7:30 a. m. after receiving a tip that escapees Robert Dowling and Roman Usiondek might be hiding there, according to Detroit Police Sgt. Edward Sash.

Instead they found 46-year-old Burt Hall, who is being held for investigation of walking away from the Detroit House of Correction last March after being sentenced to 12 to 15 years for breaking and entering.

Arrested also were Moreland and his wife, Mary, 46, according to Sash.

The couple is being held for investigation of harboring a fugitive by the Detroit police, who are also investigating a breaking and entering charge against Hall.

Pontiac Police received tips last night that fugitives Usiondek, psychopathic killer, and Dowling, 38-year-old burglar, were in the area.

But the information proved false when checked by Detective John C. Wilson.

Usiondek and Dowling were among 13 convicts who broke out of Jackson Prison Saturday night. The other 11 have been captured.

Laxity Blamed in Prison Break

But Corrections Boss Says No Disciplinary Action Is Planned

LANSING (AP) — Investigation of the escape of 13 convicts from Southern Michigan Prison disclosed "laxity" and "inadequate security measures" but no disciplinary action is planned, Gus Harrison, acting state corrections director, said today.

Harrison said corrective measures have already been taken to prevent a recurrence of such an escape and that Warden William H. Bannan has been instructed to review all safety measures.

In a press statement Harrison said the department investigation "revealed laxity, inadequate measures and lack of established procedure for the guidance of employes operating the institutional power plant."

The presence of an outside work crew dismantling a water tower gave the inmates access to equipment needed to cut their way to freedom, Harrison said.

Harrison said "one large mitigating factor must be properly stressed — the shortage of guards."

At a special meeting yesterday in Jackson, the State Corrections Commission blamed "lack of money and personnel" for the biggest break in years.

Harrison in his report noted that one engineer is required to maintain the prison power plant and simultaneously supervise 10 inmates employed there. He said that if adequate supervisory personnel had been available, the escape probably could have been thwarted.

Declaring that negligence, regardless of circumstances can not be overlooked, Harrison said:

"The warden of any prison must be held responsible for anything that happens within his institution. The escape of 13 men from Jackson must be considered in that light."

Insurance Recovery Hearing Scheduled

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) —Chancery Court hearing has been set for Feb. 10 in New York Life Insurance Co.'s suit to recover some $31,000 paid when Thomas C. Buntin was declared legally dead.

Attorneys for both sides agreed to the date for the hearing.

The insurance firm filed suit Nov. 6, declaring that Buntin, who disappeared in 1931, was alive. Buntin's former wife, their three sons and a bank were named defendants.

The company did not disclose his whereabouts, but a subsequent search revealed that Buntin and Betty McCuddy of Russellville, Ky., his former secretary who disappeared about the same time, were living in Orange, Tex., as Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Palmer.

The insurance firm asked for recovery of the $31,000 remaining of the $53,000 it paid on Buntin's life. The defendants contended the statute of limitations has expired and New York Life no longer has any claim on the money.

U.S. to Move Cautiously in A-Dealings With Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic officials said today the United States would move cautiously in meeting Russia's professed readiness to talk about the Eisenhower proposal for a pool of atomic materials for peace.

Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday of Moscow's reply, "This is hopeful."

President Eisenhower, who broached the peaceful-uses atomic plan in a widely acclaimed United Nations speech Dec. 8, had no comment on Russia's reply.

The President had opportunity to discuss it with some of his top foreign policy, military and atomic advisers at a White House conference this morning. The conference was scheduled before Moscow made public its note yesterday.

Among members of Congress remaining in Washington, the consensus was hopeful but cautious. Most lawmakers who commented said the Kremlin response was encouraging, but that this government should move with great care.

Dulles clearly foreshadowed in a formal statement yesterday a move by the United States to provide the "necessary explanation" Russia requested about Eisenhower's proposal.

Whether the President and Dulles will decide this additional information should be provided secretly as part of the confidential talks suggested by Eisenhower has not yet been decided.

"The United States will, through the new channels which the Soviet Union now accepts, explore every possibility of securing agreement and bringing President Eisenhower's historic proposal into the realm of creative action," Dulles said.

At the same time, Dulles emphasized Russia "seems not to have caught the spirit of the President's proposal," as evidenced by outspoken criticism in the Soviet note of some of Eisenhower's speech.

The critical comments, actually some 90 per cent of Russia's 3,000-word reply, are the factor causing the State Department to move slowly in deciding on the next step.

After careful study of Russia's response, some ranking diplomats were a little less optimistic than they had been at

At Least 8 Dead in Barge Blast

Gasoline Aboard Boat on Ohio River Explodes at Freight Dock

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP)—A big gasoline barge blew up at an Ohio River dock here today and eight men apparently were killed.

Pt. PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP)—Six to eight men were reported killed today in an explosion aboard a gasoline barge at the Ohio River dock of the Marietta Manufacturing Co.

One report received by radio at City Hall said eight bodies had been counted. It added that one, burned beyond recognition, had been removed to a funeral home.

The state police headquarters at Charleston had a report from troopers on the scene, about midway between Huntington and Parkersburg, that six bodies had been recovered.

The immediate report had one barge being cleaned blowing up. A later report said two barges went up.

The company official said several men were working on the tank barge when the blast occurred. The barge remained afloat but several of its hatches were blown open, the spokesman reported.

The official added that he was not sure who owned the barge and had little other information about the blast.

Officials Warn Motorists of Treacherous Driving on County Roads

Wind-driven snow glazed highways and sent cars skidding into tangled traffic jams as a blizzard whipped into Pontiac today.

A steady snowfall had dumped 3.5 inches of snow on Pontiac by 1 p. m.—and the U. S. Weather Bureau in Detroit predicted no letup before 6 p. m. tonight.

Michigan State Highway Department and Oakland County Road Commission, fighting to keep roads clear, asked all motorists to stay off the highways unless travel is absolutely necessary.

"We've thrown everything we've got onto the road," Raymond C. Jenks, Pontiac district superintendent of Oakland County Road Commission, said today. "The storm's still getting ahead of us."

Jenks said the commission has about 45 salt trucks, 16 "float" plows and six road graders out on the highway "and we'll keep them working until roads are clear."

The road commission was calling in its salt trucks and fitting them with snowplows this afternoon.

"Ask folks to stay off the roads," Jenks said. "We can't clear the roads if they get tangled up in traffic jams and we can't get by."

Jenks said this noon that a traffic tangle involving some 100 cars had completely blocked Dixie Highway at Waterford Hill since 11 a.m. Other traffic jams tied up Andersonville road west of Waterford and M-218 west of Walled Lake.

Pontiac Department of Public Works had six truck plows, five salt trucks and three road graders working on city streets by noon to-

Deadlocked French Halt President Vote

VERSAILLES, France (AP) — The badly split French Parliament put off until tomorrow its attempts to elect a new president of the republic. Edouard Herriot and Vincent Auriol two tired old men who insist they don't want the job, led the field of compromise candidates.

Political leaders held a series of fruitless conferences this morning in attempt to break a six-day deadlock. When the Congress met this afternoon to take the 11th ballot since last Thursday, there had been no progress in reaching agreement on a candidate who could get the necessary majority vote.

Pontiac Soldier Will Bring Korean Boy, 9, to America

A Pontiac army sergeant who spent six years of his boyhood in an orphanage wants only "Peanuts" for Christmas.

"Peanuts" is Kim Cung Nam, a nine-year-old Korean lad that Sgt. Robert V. Holman took a liking to when he returned to Korea last July.

"I know what it's like to feel insecure as a child and I don't want Peanuts to face that experience," Sgt. Holman said.

"He's going to have two things I wasn't fortunate enough to receive—security and an adequate education."

Final adoption papers are expected to be processed by Dec. 25 and Sgt. Holman hopes to return to Pontiac with Kim next March.

Kim is neither a homeless waif nor an orphan. His parents consented to his adoption for the opportunities he'll receive in the United States.

Holman is with the medical company of the 24th Division's 21st regiment. He served as a section leader in headquaters of the 115th Medical Detachment Battalion and entered service in January, 1947.

He received basic training at Ft. Bragg, N.C. and before leaving for Korea was assigned to Walter Reed Hospital in Battle Creek.

Choice Gifts Still Available for Last-Minute Shopper

By JANET ODELL

Last-minute shopping can be fun. There are still exciting gifts to be found.

High school and college girls will love the peppermint-striped night caps and matching scuffs of soft flannel that one store offers.

For the person who collects guns the eighth edition of the Gun Digest, edited by John T. Amber, will be a welcome gift. Give him also some replicas of old-time pistols ready for framing.

Cancan petticoats are all the rage with fashion-conscious gals nowadays. They're to be found in black, white, all the pastels and deeper shades of coral and seafoam. Prices range from $6 to $18.

Young naturalists (as well as their elders) will be pleased with an Audubon bird call (under $2). Also designed to please the younger set are double runner shoe skates; they are made as small as size 9 and cost about $4.50.

Television has influenced leisure-time clothing. Leather scuffies or jeweled velvet or mesh lounging slippers will be happy additions to a lounging robe or to black velvet toreador pants, all for the ladies.

The crossword puzzle fan is never forgotten. A revised edition of the Dictionary for Crossword Puzzles at $1.98 or the Experts' Crossword Puzzle Book (it even has some puzzles in French) for $1.50 will be eagerly received.

If you have sought in vain for the perfect gift for the lady of your heart, you might consider starting a diamond necklace for her.

Similar to the add-a-link watch bands and bracelets, the idea of this necklace was originated by a local jeweler and taken up by the trade. Links are priced from $25 to $40.

Birmingham Commission Schedules Hearing Dates on Retirement Pay, Taxis

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners set dates for future hearings on several matters last night.

A recommended increase of retirement benefits to City employes was scheduled to be taken up Jan. 11.

Dec. 28 was set as the hearing date on the revoking of licenses for five cabs of the Birmingham Cab Co. Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley termed the vehicles "unsafe for use in serving the public" after a recent inspection.

Additional Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills social news on page 27.

Also put over for future consideration was the increase in parking meter revenues, which the lawmakers asked the City manager to recommend last week.

The plan was shelved until current parking plans crystallize. Chief Moxley pointed out that changing to 30-minute meters would increase the congestion caused by autos entering and leaving parking spaces.

Commissioners received a letter from the 14-Mile Road Committee, a citizens group opposing the commission's stand that 14-Mile road should be widened to provide an east-west traffic artery.

The lawmakers said they would hold a future meeting with the citizens group and the Oakland County road commissioner, if possible.

Commissioner Dean Beier said the move to ask the County Road Commission to acquire the last remaining right-of-way for 14-Mile from the Birmingham Country Club was taken with the knowledge of the factors which the 14-Mile group listed as disadvantages.

They were: 1) excessive cost due to bridge or bridges over the Rouge River, 2) condemnation of country club property, 3) having a dangerous highway through a heavily populated area, with elemetary schools along its route, and 4) depreciation of high-valued residential property.

The committee contends there is a lack of requirement for the through highway, which at present dead-ends at either boundry of the country club.

Detroit Police Hunt Last Two Convicts

Sullivan of Detroit for investigation of harboring fugitives. Rocco, paroled in 1937 from Southern Michigan Prison, was quick to answer questions put to him by the newsmen.

He said that he had met Emrick while at the prison. But all three of the escapees entered his home Sunday. They were there, Rocco said, when he came home from his job at the Lincoln plant at Wayne, where he drives finished cars off the end of the assembly line.

Rocco said the men were drinking beer when he arrived. He added that the three refused to leave or let him, his wife or Sullivan, who was visiting the Rocco home, leave.

The trio and the two escapees still at large were the carload of five who stole a Cadillac and took two women hostages Sunday, fleeing some 80 miles from Jackson to Detroit.

One of the captured trio, Virgil Lane, told Detroit Police what happened after the five arrived in Detroit. Usiondek and Dowling stopped the car at a West Side intersection and left the party, he said.

He, Emrick and Bousha kept the two women hostages with them and drove on further to a taxi stand where they pulled around a corner and turned the car back over to the two women, Lane said.

The two women, Mrs. Mary Lou Watts, 28, and Helen Gilbert, 31, of Jackson drove off, Lane said, and the trio took a taxi to Woodward avenue, then traveled by streetcar to a downtown all-night theater.

Then they took another taxi to Rocco's house Sunday afternoon, after spending the night in the theater.

But police today turned their attention to Usiondek and Dowling. Usiondek was described as a teen-aged gang leader in a Detroit suburb who would fight at the drop of a hat. Usiondek was considered by police to be the most dangerous of the two still at large.

Usiondek has repeatedly sworn vengeance on the witnesses and prosecutor at the 1943 trial where he drew a life sentence for the slaying of a bar owner.

Circuit Court Commissioner A. Tom Pasieczy, then special prosecutor in Usiondek's trial, has been taken from the city in an effort to protect him.

Usiondek was described by a former high school friend as a dandified bully who pulled on a pair of pigskin gloves before fighting so he wouldn't soil his hands.

Usiondek, said the unidentified friend, would fight to impress his girl friends, by picking fights, but said the friend:

"Look at where Roman is. I wouldn't want to be hot like that. I wouldn't want to hide and slink through the alleys in the rain and the cold. I changed my thinkin' a long time ago. That Usiondek, he ain't changed."

Of the original 13 that escaped, six were captured shortly after the breakout in a shooting chase with State Police when their stolen car turned over. Two others were flushed from small Jackson hotels.

County May Request Building Bond Issue

includes supervisors Norman R. Barnard, Ransford Bromley, R. Clare Cummings, James L. Gardner, Harry W. Horton, David Levinson and W. R. Ransom, was set up about two years ago.

Supervisors have picked the 340-acre "county center" along Pontiac's West Boulevard boundary as the site for a new courthouse.

The county hopes to move all its facilities, including the road commission, farmers' market, 4-H buildings, health department and even the jail to the "center" in future years.

The county has a lot of buildings —and a lot of space. The board of supervisors must decide what spot within the center is right for each building.

Harry W. Horton, supervisors' buildings and grounds committee chairman, says his committee and several others hope to have some definite suggestions on layout for the board when it meets in January.

One of the top problems, is where to put a new farmers' market.

Oakland County has sold its interest in the market at 40 Mill St. to Pontiac; and farmers plan to set up a temporary Saturday market at the county 4-H fairgrounds at Walton Boulevard and Perry Streets.

The buildings and grounds, agricultural and market committees are eyeing a spot on Pontiac Lake Road just west of Telegraph as a likely market site.

"The Oakland Avenue site we were considering before is pretty valuable land," Horton says. "It might be better to sell it and get it back on the tax roll."

Howard J. Reid, agricultural committee chairman, says he Pontiac Lake road site is easily reached, has plenty of parking room and is a "nice, high piece of ground." Norman R. Barnard, market committee chairman, also approves.

The committees plan to suggest that the board of supervisors place 4-H buildings next to the market.

Clawson, who is also health committee chairman, and Horton hope to ask supervisors to move the health department from its Huron Street location to the county center soon.

Clawson explained the county may be able to get the U. S. Government to pay half the cost under the provisions of the Hill-Burton Act—but only if the county sets aside money by July 1. The health department would probably adjoin the big courthouse-office building.

The road commission, now at 550 Telegraph Rd. near the busy Orchard Lake Avenue corner, hopes to be one of the first to move to the center. Planners hope to put it somewhere close to Telegraph Road.

Forty-five railway companies in the U. S. each operate on more than 1,000 miles their own trackage.

3.5-Inch Snowfall Hits Pontiac Area

day, and workmen were fitting plows to the last two trucks on hand.

The weather bureau said today's heavy snow, coming only hours after winter's official arrival at 10:32 Monday night, should taper off to flurries tonight.

Much colder weather is seen for the Pontiac area tonight and Wednesday. Tonight's lowest temperature and Wednesday's high should both lie between 16 and 20 degrees.

Monday's mild weather kept the thermometer between 37 and 40 degrees. The mercury stood at 33 degrees at 8 a.m. today, falling to 26 at 2 p. m. in downtown Pontiac.

Today's snow will kick off five days of unusually frigid temperatures, the weather bureau's extended forecast said. Thermometers in this area will probably range between 16 and 36 degrees over the next few days. Light snow may fall Christmas Day or Saturday.

The cold wave, rolling into the Midwest, dumped snow from the Western Great Lakes to northern Texas. The storm closed rural schools in Kansas and blocked streets in Kansas City, Mo., with three feet of drifted snow.

Puts Bite on Government for New Set of Teeth

HEREFORD, England (AP) —A man reported to the National Health Service his false teeth had been stolen and hidden by his pet jackdaw. He asked for a new pair at state expense, but the district council of the health service decided he would have to pay the bill himself.

Enrollments Decrease

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Michigan followed the national trend in a decrease of Air Force ROTC enrollments this fall, AF ROTC headquarters here has announced.

Michigan enrollments fell from 4,523 in 1952-53 to 4,084 in 1953-54.

National figures showed a decrease from 142,500 last year to

Pontiac Deaths

Deborah J. Altemann

Graveside service for Deborah Jean Altemann, infant daughter of Arnold and Phyllis Grimm Altemann, 4978 Maycrest, Waterford Township, will be Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at White Chapel Cemetery.

The Rev. Ralph C. Claus, pastor of St. Trinity Lutheran Church, will officiate. The body is at Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

The baby was dead at birth Monday in Pontiac General Hospital.

Mrs. Frank Suppan

After a brief illness Mrs. Frank (Johanna) Suppan, 93, of 199 S. Marshall St. died at her residence at 11:30 p.m. Monday.

Born in Austria Dec. 24, 1859, she was the daughter of Alois and Theresa Amberg.

Mrs. Suppan came to the United States in 1922 and to Pontiac in 1926.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Rosina J. Peters, with whom she made her home; one grandchild, three greatgrandchildren and one great, great-grandchild.

Also surviving are a brother, Dr. Waldemar C. Amberg, and two sisters, Mrs. Herbert L. Ebert and Mrs. Ehrich von Miller, all in Germany.

Funeral will be Thursday at 2 p.m. from Sparks-Griffin Chapel. Burial will be in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Yule Lights Filched From Outdoor Trees

Christmas tree light larcenies were reported last night by Pontiac residents, according to police.

Dr. J. K. Schachern of 28 Miami Rd., said someone took 28 Christmas tree lights, valued at $5, from an evergreen in his front yard about 9 p. m.

One string of lights was taken from a tree in the yard of Frank Sheridan of 293 Ottawa Dr., and 12 bulbs from another tree were missing. Sheridan estimated the loss at $15, police said.

Dr. N. F. GEHRINGER

Named chief of staff at Pontiac General Hospital for 1954 is Dr. N. F. Gehringer, 39, succeeding Dr. Ferdinand Gaensbauer. A member of the hospital staff since 1941, Gehringer was vice-chief of staff this year. He obtained his medical degree from the University of Michigan.

Free Nations Stronger in Record Quantities

U.S. to Be Cautious on Russian Reply

For example, some officials noted the Russians at least 20 times vigorously restated their long-standing demand for pledges of an outright ban of atomic and hydrogen weapons as part of Eisenhower's plan.

American officials who deal with Russia described Moscow's latest note as a skillfully written message. They noted that it reflected no basic change in Russia's seven-year-old atomic policy, except that it proclaimed a readiness to join in confidential talks about Eisenhower's proposal.

Until top officials have an opportunity to determine how these talks would affect the scheduled foreign ministers' meeting with Russia at Berlin, the tendency was to study the over-all Russian reply carefully fo. hidden booby traps.

The Russian note strongly indicated a willingness to take part in a session on Germany, but did not accept the Jan. 4 date the West suggested.

Dulles, in his formal comment issued a few hours after Moscow's note was sent to the State Department, made it clear his next move may be secret.

"It has long been evident," he said, "and the tone of the Soviet response makes it even clearer, that little can be achieved by the continuance of public debate."

At United Nations headquarters in New York, Western and neutral diplomats welcomed the Russian reply, but said she had not fully shown her hand. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., the chief U.S. delegate, commented: "Encouraging — if true."

New Question Arises on Filling Estes Post

Gov. Williams asked the attorney general another legal question today about the possibility of holding a special election in Oakland County's third legislative district to elect a successor to Rep. Howard R. Estes (R-Birmingham) who resigned Dec. 14.

Williams asked whether he must allow 40 days before the proposed special primary election to permit registration of new voters. He said the question was raised by the Oakland County Clerk, Lynn D. Allen.

He said Allen pointed to a statutory requirement for a 30-day registration period, preceding by 10 days of public notice.

Williams said his desire was to hold the election early enough to elect a successor in time to be of value in the 1954 legislative session starting Jan. 14.

Big Bird for Churchill

Gunman Unable to Show Patrons He's in Earnest

WARREN, R. I. (AP) — A tall, slim and very frustrated bandit walked empty-handed from a cafe here last night after no one would take him seriously, even when he fired two "shots" at the ceiling.

There were 18 customers and five employes in the Fore 'n Aft Cafe when the bandit walked in, wearing a yellow and black bandanna over the lower half of his face and brandishing what appeared to be a .32 caliber automatic.

"Gimme the money," he demanded of no one in particular. Customers at the bar gave him a cold stare.

Joseph Ormond, the bartender, walked back into the bar from the kitchen. The gunman fired a shot over his head. Ormond thought it was a gag.

Gerald Hanley, the owner, entered the lounge, grinned at the gunman, whom he assumed to be a prankster.

"I'm not kidding; this is a holdup," shouted the bandit. The customers grinned. A few laughed when he fired a second shot at the ceiling.

The gunman, visibly nervous, lowered the gun, glared around the bar, backed slowly out a door.

Hollywood Winter: Snowballs—5 Cents

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's officially winter now, even in Hollywood, where snowballs went on sale today for 5 cents apiece.

HOPE YOU DON'T ALL TALK AT ONCE

Your telephone company is preparing for the usual Christmas rush on Long Distance when friends and loved ones exchange season's greetings across the miles.

But there just aren't enough lines to handle these calls promptly if they're all made in the same period.

That's why we say: To avoid the possibility of delays, why not make your Holiday Long Distance calls before Christmas Eve or after Christmas Day. Besides, reduced rates are in effect after 6 p. m. every weekday and all day Sunday.

But whenever you call, we'll do our best to get your call through as fast as we can.

And please bear in mind—your Long Distance call will go through faster if you call by number.

750 MILES TO SEE MOTHER—Police Chief Edward Hansen, Highland, Ind., buys a meal for Alvin Crawley, 13, in Gary, Ind., after boy hitch-hiked 750 miles from his Gastonia, N. C., home to be with his mother, Mrs. Marie Tulley, in time for Christmas. Mother had remarried and Alvin didn't know her new name or address but remembered a letter with a Gary postmark. With an assist from Chief Hansen the mother was located in Gary for reunion with boy.

500 to Turn Out for Boys Club Party Tomorrow

Some 500 will turn out for the annual Christmas party at Pontiac Boys Club Wednesday at 6 p. m., according to William V. Coulacous, executive director of the club.

A make-believe Santa with his reindeer atop of the Boys' Club rooftop will suddenly become real during the party and youngsters will have a chance to greet Santa in person.

Special decorations have been set up by the senior division of the club. Boys, who will be separated into three groups during the party, will receive gifts and be entertained with a movie and stage show.

Youth on Probation for School Burglary

Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick Monday placed Archie Wilson, 20, of 10646 Hinsdale St., Ferndale, on three years probation for breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Wilson pleaded guilty to the charge Dec. 11 admitting he broke into the George Washington Carver School in Royal Oak Township Oct. 20 and stole a typewriter.

Personal Liberties Aren't in Danger, Says Truman

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Harry S. Truman, in an interview for television, is quoted as saying that personal liberties in the United States today "may be threatened, but they're not in danger."

U. S. Television News today released the transcript of an interview with the former President on a Kansas City, Mo., street corner by a roving television reporter, Clete Roberts. The reporter said Truman was one of those interviewed for the filmed program "Street Corner, U.S.A."

* * *

The former President was asked: "Do you believe that your personal liberties, as guaranteed by the Constitution, are threatened today?" He was quoted as answering:

"They may be threatened, but they're not in danger."

Asked for the basis of his thinking on this point, he replied:

"Well, it's happened before. We go through these periods of hysteria, have done it time and again. In the 1790s we had the Jacobin difficulty and they passed the Alien and Sedition Laws. In about four years they had to be repealed because they were actually in controversy with the Bill of Rights and the Constitution of the United States.

"Then along in the 1830s we had an anti - Masonic proposition in which the Masons were accused of everything under the sun, a lot of lodges were closed and a lot of people were persecuted on account of they were members of the Masonic organization.

* * *

"Ten years after that the 'no Nothings' and their principal yen was against the Catholic Church. They tarred and feathered priests, burned down Catholic churches and did a lot of things like that.

"The next go-round was the Ku Klux after the Civil War, and that was revived in 1922 to 1928 and Al Smith was a victim of that anti-Catholic, anti-Jew, anti-Negro proposition.

"Now we have a Communist scare. And if you know anybody that knows a Communist, I wish you'd put him in touch with me, because I'd like to see what one looks like. I don't think that the country is in any danger from an interior Communist uprising.

* * *

Roberts then asked Truman:

"As I understand it then, Mr. Truman, you feel that the common sense of the American people—the good judgment—will triumph?"

"Oh, certainly," answered Truman. "It always has, and then we're always ashamed of ourselves for these periods of hysteria, and it will be the same way about this one."

Florida Boy Shot in Laundry Breakin

TAMPA, Fla. (UP)—The 17-year-old sports editor of a Tampa high school newspaper was shot tonight when detectives found him in a laundry.

"I did it to get money for Christmas," Detective Inspector O. C. Beynon quoted him.

Roy Walker, shot in the arm and chest, was in a Tampa hospital in serious condition, but expected to recover. No charge was brought immediately.

Beynon said Detective Bill Bland shot the boy inside the laundry when he ran instead of obeying an order to surrender.

The boy's father is W. R. Walker, credit manager for a Tampa jewelry company.

Student Editors Ask Passports to Russia

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—The editor of the Minnesota Daily, University of Minnesota student newspaper, left for Washington last night where he said he and nine other student editors would seek passports to visit Russia.

Dean Schoelkopf, son of Harold Schoelkopf, editor of the St. Cloud (Minn.) Daily Times, said the Russian Embassy in Washington had granted the visas, but that U.S. passports had not been received although they were applied for a month ago.

Te group plans to leave by plane from New York Thursday or Friday if the passports are forthcoming.

Ike, Republicans to Talk Politics

Congressmen to Confer on Re-election Problems in Shaky Districts

WASHINGTON (UP) — A group of "marginal district" Republican congressmen arranged a meeting with President Eisenhower today to talk politics and other matters.

They represent districts which in past years have often sent Democrats to Congress and which in 1952 elected Republicans by narrow margins.

The meeting, arranged by Rep. Scott of Pennsylvania, will be followed by a session with Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, and James L. Murphy, chairman of the Citizens-for-Eisenhower congressional committee.

* * *

Invited to attend the sessions were Representatives Broyhill of Virginia, Mailliard and Lipscomb of California, Warburton of Delaware, Devereux of Maryland, Tollefson of Washington, Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, Neal of West Virginia, Robsion of Kentucky and Javits and Wainwright of New York.

* * *

"We are all backers of Eisenhower and have been, and we need the cooperation of the administration if we are to win our elections next year," said one of the group, asking that he not be named.

THE BIRTHDAY OF LITTLE JESUS

BY STERLING NORTH
Illustrated by Valenti Angelo

With tender imagination, Sterling North tells the deeply-moving story of His day . . . a story radiant with the love of Jesus for every living thing. You, your children, and, in years to come, your children's children will read aloud this ageless story of The Christ Child.

Author-critic Sterling North has gained the praise of historians and theologians alike for the rare insight with which he recreates the seventh year in the life of Jesus.

Reverend Norman Vincent Peale says: "THE BIRTHDAY OF LITTLE JESUS is one of the most beautiful things I have ever read. It goes to the heart.

Fulton Oursler said: "THE BIRTHDAY OF LITTLE JESUS is a tender, deeply moving and imaginative treatment of the seventh birthday of the boy JESUS, at the home in Nazareth. His birthday present has a meaning for every child —and for every adult as well."

Iran's Oil Market Gone

Widespread satisfaction over resumption of Anglo-Iranian diplomatic relations is tempered by the grim fact that the market for Iranian oil has vanished.

The full measure of harm done their country by the misguided and fanatical MOSSADEGH is becoming increasingly clear to more and more Iranians. Premier ZAHEDI, who ousted MOSSADEGH, had a survey made of the oil situation and the result is not pleasant reading.

It revealed, for example, that many outside technicians and $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 in cash would be needed to return the Abadan refinery to operating condition. Even then the flow would only be one-fifth to one-third of pre-MOSSADEGH production by late spring or early summer of 1954.

A more serious economic fact is that no one needs Iranian oil any more. Shipments of it ceased June 22, 1951. Two weeks later the refinery at Abadan, largest in the world, halted operations and the Anglo-Iranian fleet of oil tankers was diverted elsewhere. At the same time Middle Eastern oil producers set about immediately to meet the demand formerly supplied by Iran.

Thus the economic problem not only is restoration of the refinery but recapture of the market. Iran's political problem includes keeping the Communist Tudeh party in check and controlling the fanatical Moslem religious leader, Kashani.

Since the government of Premier ZAHEDI got a firm grip of affairs, reason has begun to replace fanaticism and bigotry and Iran's chances of remaining free have brightened.

Earl L. Phillips

The sudden death of EARL L. PHILLIPS has taken from the community not only one of its ablest lawyers, but a man who served his county in an official capacity with distinction.

A native of Marlette and a veteran of World War I, Mr. PHILLIPS got his legal education at the University of Michigan. After graduation in 1916 he practiced law briefly in Detroit before joining the Army the following year.

Upon his discharge he came to Pontiac to practice law, being associated first with the late PETER B. BROMLEY and then with GLENN C. GILLESPIE, opening his own office in 1920. In 1928 he was elected Circuit Court Commissioner, an office to which he was re-elected three times, serving a total of eight years.

★ ★ ★

EARL PHILLIPS was a quiet and friendly man who enjoyed hunting and fishing, but whose chief interests were in his home. He will be mourned by his friends and professional colleagues who long had admired him for his ability and high professional integrity.

Mr. Dulles' Warning

Secretary DULLES' forthright statement on the urgent need for early French ratification of the European army plan makes sense.

Careful reading of his remarks before the NATO ministers reveals nothing not already known to member countries. Neither did he say anything which would justify the French or anyone else in considering they were being subjected to undue pressure.

Mr. Dulles wisely made the point that a united Europe not only is necessary to ward off the Soviet menace, but to keep the West from destroying itself by constant strife. Then he emphasized that both these dangers could be avoided only by a European federation which would unite the capacities of France and Germany.

Besides pledging full American support for such a federation, Mr. DULLES made it clear that his remarks in no way indicated a U.S. desire to replace our troops in Europe with Germans.

Mr. DULLES was justified in bluntly pointing out that if the defense community should fail, Europe no longer would be a safe place and the U.S. would be forced to reappraise its policies. Also he was just stating facts when he pointed out that Congress had made 50 per cent of U.S. military aid to Western Europe contingent on the European army plan.

It can be hoped that after a short period of reflection, our French friends will take Mr. DULLES' warning in the spirit intended. If they do we are confident they will unite in a decision in favor of the co-operation they themselves first suggested.

Success: One good idea and much hard work.

Jackson Todman

of Baldwin Rd., says the temperatures this month have been much higher than the average, even with last week's cold spell. He says the coldest December in his records was 1917, when for a straight two weeks the mercury registered from zero to 15 below, with the exception of one day when it was a "mild" four above. The rest of that winter was about normal.

The recent cold snap covered many of our lakes with ice, and the fish houses began appearing in large numbers.

Gertrude Dabrowski Says Pontiac School Art Classes Add Inspiration to Holidays

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

As eagerly young and old await the retelling of the sacred Christmas story, I wish to call attention to the efforts and beauty of the Children's Arts on the class room windows.

I have traveled quite a bit, but I have yet to see anything which approaches the beauty and inspiration of the Pontiac people, their children or the educational staff in their displays and their cooperation.

Truly we can say that Pontiac leads in the true Christian spirit. We will all enjoy the lovely sights on Ardmore Ave., but do visit the Lambert School area, on Cass Elizabeth Lake Road for another breathtaking inspiration.

Says Ground Troops Can't Fight Air Attack

I would like to dispute John Hillman's reference to my letter.

The main idea in leaving occupation troops is to stop the surge of Communism, as we can see in Korea. His theory, as I understand it, is to pull our occupation troops out.

If we had done that prior to Korea the Reds would have had all of the Orient and would possibly be pointing to our direction. I believe occupation troops in foreign countries are almost as important as our home defense.

If Russia ever drops an A-bomb our ground troops aren't going to be of any use as far as a counter attack goes. It is true that England, France and Italy are pro-Commie but as far as us being able to stop an attack, I think we would be better suited than England and the rest.

I would like to congratulate Mr. Hillman on the time and patience he has taken to submit letters of dispute or agreement in the Voice of the People column. I believe such a person deserves a great deal of credit . . . He is a great asset in a world such as the one in which we live.

Soviet Again Grabs Propaganda Ball and Puts Western World on Defensive

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union has grabbed the ball in the international propaganda game and put the United States and its Allies again on the defensive.

When President Eisenhower opened up a discussion with Moscow on the importance of allocating atomic energy in an international pool for peaceful uses, there was purposely omitted any requirement that control of atomic weapons be established first.

The Communists, of course, who have consistently blocked for several years every effective plan to control atomic weapons, now asked innocently why the President doesn't come forward with a program to ban atomic bombs and limit the use also of conventional weapons of mass destruction.

Eisenhower thought progress could be made by bypassing the futile negotiation on weapons control and concentrating for the present on peaceful uses of atomic energy.

The United States now has to take the platform and explain at length just why international control hasn't been possible. It means more and more palaver and not a single sign of any agreement.

For the Soviet note puts so many impossible conditions into the controversy that there is no chance of any successful negotiations unless, of course, the free world is willing to commit suicide by destroying its own stockpile.

The objective of the Moscow government is revealed in its statement that the Eisenhower proposal "in its present form in no way ties the hands of the governments which have the opportunity to produce atomic and hydrogen bombs."

Does Moscow really think the American government will tie its own hands and stop producing atomic weapons just because the Soviet Union, with meager production facilities, lags behind?

The fact that the note stresses again and again the importance of international control of atomic weapons and devotes virtually all the argument to the dangers of atomic weapons, especially the hydrogen bomb, is a clear indication that the Soviet government is very much worried by the American stockpile and will endeavor by any means available in diplomacy and propaganda to force, if it can, the American government to give up the advantage of its superior position on atomic weapons.

The insincerity of the whole Soviet communication is transparently evident from the following paragraph:

"The interests of the Soviet Union do not require the creation of military blocs and alliances directed against any group of states and do not require the setting up of military bases on the territories of other countries.

"The Soviet Union considers incompatible with normal relations between states any policy which would mean support for diversionist-subversive acts in other countries or the financing of agent diversionists."

How any government can write a paragraph like that with a straight face is inexplicable, except on the Moscow theory that the free world is full of credulous diplomats. For almost everybody knows that the Soviets have created a military bloc comprising East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Romania, Czechoslovakia and Communist China.

Not only are military bases in those countries being operated now by the Soviets, but munitions of war have admittedly been sent regularly to Red China by Moscow to help Chinese Communist forces in North Korea.

For the financing of subversive activities, the official records of many free countries show that the Soviet Union has agents in nearly every one of the countries on this side of the Iron Curtain and that funds are sent constantly through the embassies and legations which the free countries, curiously enough, permit to function on their own territory.

The conclusion is inescapable that the Soviet Union — mindful that it couldn't just spurn the Eisenhower plan and ignore it, because that would be bad from a propaganda standpoint — now starts one of those marathon discussions which are so well known to diplomacy.

The device is to seem to accept the idea but to interject at the same time obstructive barriers by diverting the discussion to other points on which agreement is far off, if not impossible. This shows it is not an effort in good faith to reach any constructive result.

What the Soviets demand is recognition of Red China, resumption of trade, destruction of the free world's atomic stockpiles, and strict limitation on the production of all conventional weapons, such as aircraft, missiles and rockets, without any assurance that the Communists will stop their own production.

And all this is to be conceded by the free world without being sure of any means of safeguarding the interest of the Western countries through a system of international inspection, such as the Allies have proposed again and again only to have the Communists refuse. It's just another era of talk that now has begun.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Teen-ager Test Proved Pamela Was Not Perfect

Pamela thought her mother was below par as a parent. But the shoe was on the other foot for Pamela rated "Very Poor" on my 100-point "Behavior Test for Teen-Agers," whereas her mother rated "Average" on the 100-point "Test for Mothers."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-374: Pamela J., aged 17, is a senior in high school.

"But I don't get along very well with my mother," she began.

"She nags me a lot and objects to my going out on dates. I tell her she is old-fashioned.

"So I'd like to take home your 'Tests for Parents' and let her see how well she rates.

"Really, I don't think my mother is up to average."

There are two sides to such arguments. Pamela may be correct in her diagnosis of her mother.

But it is also possible that Pamela is not up to average, either, as a modern American teen-ager.

So I recently constructed a 100-point "Behavior Test for Teenagers", which I recommend to you parents and teachers, as well as young people.

Modern psychology demands that we get down to brass tacks and test ourselves against social yardsticks or Rating Scales.

On this "Behavior Test," therefore, you will find the 50 most common faults of teen-agers as well as their 50 most important assets or virtues.

While Pamela is rating her mother on the "Test for Mothers",

I'd suggest that her mother reciprocate and rate Pamela on the corresponding "Test for Teen-Agers."

Here are some of the most common faults of modern youth. Some think it is smart to drink or smoke or gamble or accept foolish dares to show their bravery.

Others crash parties to which they are uninvited, or use profanity and steal, as by taking souvenirs from restaurants, such as spoons, ash trays, salt and pepper shakers, etc.

Many young folks argue over whose turn it is to run errands to the store. Others gripe about lack of money, when they should have jobs and earn their own way.

Some talk endlessly on the telephone. Some slam doors and turn on the radio or TV loudly late at night when their parents are trying to sleep.

Some can't even awaken in the morning by means of an alarm clock, but still rely on mamma to get them up.

Or they toss their clothes on the floor or upon a chair at night instead of hanging them up.

They will also fail to wash the ring of dirt from the bath tub or wash basin after using it.

Or they'll brush their teeth and get many flecks of toothpaste on the bathroom mirror, yet fail to clean the mirror afterwards.

Others are bullies and tease their associates unduly. Or they put off their homework until Sunday.

They may also grab for food at the table instead of politely requesting it, and jump up from the table without asking to be excused.

Others impose on their parents without even a "Thank you," and borrow the family car for dates, but fail to even wash or clean it beforehand. Then they "mooch" gas from Dad for they bring it home without filling the gas tank.

Some grumble because they want many late dates per week when even the colleges limit late dates to Friday and Saturday nights (2 per week).

These are just a few of the common faults of teen-agers. Watch this column tomorrow for some of their outstanding virtues and assets.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

This wasn't a bad political year as partisan semesters go. Much better than Hank Wallace saving wear and tear on the wagon by shooting the hoss.

Many a campaign promise wasted its sweetness on the back of the stove. But I've always wanted to be the guilty party in a graft investigation.

There was a diminishment in the lunatic fringe and the crackpot sorority. Here's one invincible item about the world of tomorrow. You can blow beautiful soap bubbles but you cannot kick 'em for goals.

Soon as the Democrats landed on the healthy side of the venetian blinds they sat back and bided their tongues. They were diamond-gazing for the perfect flaw.

Nobody attempted to smoke up Ike's popularity. But he was plagued with the same trouble as a diner in a boarding house. Leftovers.

The Democrats were strong for reform within the party provided it was another party.

That brought Brownell into the tournament to tilt a lance at the Democrats. Truman smote him hip and hurrah. Up pops the McCarthy who speaks for himself.

McCarthy browned Truman off neatly. Truman came to the bat again with a regulation slapstick and fouled one off into Edgar Hoover's kisser.

Excessive Hunger, Thirst; Easy Tiring, Three Symptoms of Marginal Diabetes

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Nearly 10,000 persons in a Minnesota community of 12,000 population responded to a door-to-door canvass by 250 volunteers under direction of the local county medical society, chamber of commerce and American Diabetes Assn.

Their tests revealed that 50 had diabetes and didn't know it. Is that good? Or is it bad?

Only an individual who cares nothing about health and long life would rather not know that he or she has diabetes.

For certain diseases for which we have no effective remedies it might be just as well that the victim remain unaware of his or her affliction. But not for diabetes.

Reasonable care about diet and the use of insulin, if it is required, will control diabetes and enable the individual to live an active life.

In No. 23 Little Lesson in the Ways of Health, the booklet called Training for Diabetes (for which send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope), I point out, among other things not popularly recognized, that it is not necessary nor advisable that a diabetic person should attempt to "eliminate" starch and sugar from the everyday diet.

These food materials (carbohydrate) are more or less essential in the diet of a diabetic, and it is a serious mistake to try to "eliminate" them entirely from the diet.

Another fact concerning diabetes is not well enough known—namely, that diabetes is a functional deficiency, an impairment or decrease, not a total loss, of the individual's capacity to oxidize, metabolize, utilize or burn carbohydrate fuel to produce the energy he or she uses in everyday work or play.

Being a functional ailment, diabetes occurs in many degrees of severity, from the slightest, perhaps temporary lowering of capacity to utilize carbohydrate; or perhaps a limited tolerance for carbohydrate which calls for reasonable care about diet, and general daily exercise such as walking; or a constant overload of sugar in the blood, which calls for insulin.

I'm trying to emphasize the fact that there is a wide margin and not just a thin line between health and diabetes.

Probably millions of us have had a touch of diabetes without realizing there was anything the matter. Probably millions of us are marginal diabetics right now, whether or not tests have shown traces of sugar in the urine or too much sugar in the blood.

Symptoms do not belong in a health column, but now that we are in the borderland I'll say that, whether you are a potential diabetic or not, you need a medical examination if you notice any of these manifestations:

Easy tiring
Excessive hunger
Loss of Weight
Excessive thirst
Excessive urination
Pain in extremities
Intense itching
Slow healing of cuts and bruises.

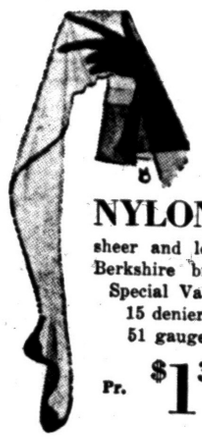

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Work Substitute Urged for Aged

Sociologists Find Hobby Not Sufficient to Keep Retired Person Happy

CHICAGO (AP)—If you would be happier after you retire from your job you had better try to find a substitute for work. Watching TV or following an isolating hobby will not do the trick.

This is one of the preliminary conclusions reached by sociologists at the University of Chicago who have a three-year study under way in six Florida communities.

First reports on the study appear today in the American Journal of Sociology in an issue devoted entirely to the subject of growing older.

* * *

L. C. Michelon, assistant professor of industrial relations, says there is a difference between the leisure of the job holder merely pausing between work activities and the full-time activity of retirement.

"Leisure of the individual busy at work is welcome," said Michelon, "because there is the knowledge that there will be a return to the vital business of work. With retirement, the individual must live for himself, rather than worrying about a job or what other people require of him."

* * *

"Looking at television, taking a ride in the country and engaging in hobbies are called leisure for the person engaged in work, but actually they are only a 'pause' between activities."

He added that hobbies a man undertakes in isolation are satisfying during his working life because it is good to escape the hustle and bustle of daily living.

In retirement, however, isolating hobbies are not so satisfying, he said, since the new leisure should force a person into activities with others.

Early Lumber Town Topic of Third Book

Lewis C. Reimann has produced his third book dealing with pioneer life in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. This volume, "Incredible Seney," is concerned with the lusty history of the lumbering town which flourished in the 80s and 90s, located about halfway between Sault Ste. Marie and Wakefield.

The book recounts many tales of this rip-roaring town in its heyday, and includes numerous authentic pictures of those times. Like Reimann's earlier books, "Between the Iron and the Pine" and "When Pine Was King," the volume is a worthwhile addition to the printed record of Michigan's early lumbering days.

The book is published by Northwoods Publisher, Ann Arbor.

Favors Bridge, Declares Brake

But Opposes Financing With Revenue Bonds as Too Expensive

LANSING (AP)—Is State Treas. D. Hale Brake an opponent of the Straits of Mackinaw Bridge as, apparently, many Northern Michigan folks believe?

Brake declared today he is not, that he has always favored the bridge, that he has worked for it and that all he objected to was the presently proposed system of financing it.

The state treasurer, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, made public today his reply to a telegrom from the Cheboygan Kiwanis Club. The club criticized Brake's recent attack on the plan to finance the bridge by revenue bonds, a proposal now under Supreme Court attack.

Brake denied that he was playing politics with the bridge issue, declaring that it would have been politically more popular to be "whooping and hollering" for the revenue bond plan.

Asserting "there has been no question as to the advisability of building the bridge in his mind," Brake said state credit bonds backed by the vote of the people would save the state $64,000,000.

"If it is wrong to wish to save $64,000,000, then I am wrong," he said.

Brake told the Cheboygan group that he had worked to push through the Legislature bills to make the bridge possible and that the bridge authority conceded it could not have obtained the bills without his help.

He said he had sat on several conferences to work out the bridge financing and had gone to New York to help obtain a favorable financing deal.

Many of the French settlers in Illinois left the region after it was occupied by the British in 1765 and settled in Missouri.

Warrens in California for the Holiday Season

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren and Mrs. Warren are back in California for the holiday season. They arrived by airliner last night, their first trip back since he resigned the California governorship.

In 1780, Dartmouth college asked, and received, permission from the State Legislature to raise money by lottery.

Give Ice Cream Holiday Shape

Make up this ice cream tree weeks ahead if you like and store it in your freezer. Decorate it just before serving time.

Pack ice cream into tree-shaped cake pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator until ready to serve. Unmold on platter. Garnish with green-tinted cocoanut and whole maraschino cherries. Use square cookies for the tree base.

Catch Youth Writing Thank-You for Loot

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—Carlos Edwards, 18, was writing the owner a note of thanks for the "Christmas money" when state police arrested him and two other teenagers in the act of ransacking a cafe.

The note said:

"Thanks for the money. I need it for Christmas. I am a bad boy for doing this."

The other two were identified as George Smith, 16, and Leroy Jones, 17.

The trio was charged with storehouse breaking and held without bond.

Pheasants were first liberated on the North American continent at Wolfeboro, N. H., when Colonial Gov. Benning Wentworth tried to esablish them on his summer estate.

ICE CREAM TREE—Your favorite ice cream frozen in a tree cake pan takes needles of green cocoanut and maraschino cherry ornaments. Decorate with tiny Christmas angels and serve with crisp cookies. It's a delightful holiday dessert.

Jam Session Indicated

VIENNA (INS)—The Hungarian Communists have completed the construction of a giant radio transmitter in western Hungary and local experts on this satellite said the Hungarians apparently intend to jam western broadcasts. According to the Communist paper, "Nepazava," Budapest, the transmitter was erected at Balatonszabadi and has an efficiency of 135 kilowatts, which would make it one of the biggest transmitters in that area.

There was only one known survivor when an eruption of Mt. Pelee destroyed the city of St. Piere on Martinique Island on May 8, 1902. More than 30,000 were killed.

Why Not Start This Year?

Family Yuletide Customs Build Up Security Feeling

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Children love the security of doing the same thing at the same time in their activities. This is especially true of Christmas customs.

We can start when they are young and build family traditions that will thrill them for a lifetime.

It is the little things that build up into a tradition. After a couple of years of serving a special coffee cake centered with a candle for the Christ Child, your son or daughter will tell people, "We always have a birthday cake for the Christ Child for Christmas breakfast."

Be as original as you wish; it's your family that is to be satisfied.

The Christ Child's birthday cake we happen to know best is always an angel food with lots of fluffy frosting, decorated with blue sugar stars and silver dragees.

Perhaps Christmas Eve is the time you have a special menu. If Mom is tired from all the holiday preparations, that meal may be extremely simple. Repeat it each year and soon the children will anticipate and ask for it.

When Christmas dinner is late in the day, some light refreshments are called for about noon time.

One family always has a special fruit punch and little sandwiches. You may make the sandwiches ahead of time and freeze them to save time on Christmas Day.

Our own family has a traditional Christmas breakfast. Pink grapefruit comes first, centered with a green cherry. The five-year-old carefully spoons the cherries onto the fruit and will probably insist upon both a red and a green one "just for Christmas." The main portion of the meal is porksausage links, Christmas stollen rich with nuts and candied fruits, and lots of hot coffee.

Why not start this year? Let the children help decide what foods are going to be your special tradition at Christmas; then let them help prepare that food if possible.

Tradtions have to start some place. They add richness to family living.

Luchow's Tells Famous Recipe

Jan Mitchell, owner of New York's famous German restaurant, Luchows, tells how Christmas Eve celebrations originated in Germany centuries ago.

The children were awakened at 11:30 and sleepily allowed to open their gifts.

There was also the traditional herring salad which Luchow's still presents to its guests on the day before Christmas. Then came cakes and cookies.

One favorite was the jelly-filled doughnut still served at the restaurant. It is called Fastnacht Krapfen and this is the way they make it at Luchow's.

Fastnacht Krapfen

1 pint milk
1 cake compressed yeast
4½ to 5 cups sifted flour
¼ pound butter, melted
⅓ cup sugar
½ lemon peel, grated
3 eggs, beaten
Flour
Currant jelly or thick cooked apples
Lard or shortening for deep frying
Extra sugar

Heat milk to lukewarm. Soften yeast in ¼ cup warm milk. Stir 2½ cups flour smoothly into rest of warm milk. Mix yeast quickly into this batter. Cover lightly with folded towel and let stand 1 hour or longer.

After sponge has risen well, mix in melted butter, sugar, lemon peel, eggs and remaining flour. Stir well. Turn dough out on lightly floured board. Fold over, then roll lightly to ½-inch thickness.

Cut with 3-inch round cookie cutter. Spread half of the rounds with 1 heaping teaspoon jelly or cooked apples. Cover these with remaining rounds. Crimp edges firmly together with fingers. Leave on floured board.

Cover lightly with folded towel and let rise in warm room ½ hour, or until light and puffy. Fry a few at a time in deep hot fat (360 degrees F.) until golden brown. Remove from fat; drain on thick paper toweling. While hot, roll in sugar. Makes 18.

Railroad to Give New Dachshund to Missouri Boy

DESOTO, Mo. (AP)—Little James Ross and his brothers and sisters are going to get another dog tomorrow—one to take the place of Butchie, who as Jamesy says was "the best dog in the whole world."

Butchie, just about as old as 5-year-old Jamesy, was killed by a Missouri Pacific Railroad train here last month.

Jamesy and Butchie had set out with Jamesy's two older brothers and two older sisters to gather hickory nuts last Nov. 21. On the way back, Butchie—a dachshund—was on the railroad tracks and was struck by a train when his short legs failed to carry him to safety.

* * *

That night, Mrs. Fred A. Ross, hoping to "fill this emptiness" and "make the hearts of these children happy again," wrote a letter to P. J. Neff, chief executive officer of the Mo-Pac lines.

The note began:

"Dear sir:

"I'm not much given to writing letters and doubt if this one will go any further than your secretary but I hope so.

"I know when an animal of value is killed on your railroad you are usually sued for money but this is not the case in this incident."

* * *

Tomorrow, Jamesy and his brothers and sisters are going to meet Mo-Pac Train No. 3 at the Desoto station.

They'll receive a gift from the railroad—a pedigreed dachshund pup to take the place "of the best dog in the whole world."

Board Fires Teacher for Refusing to Answer

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Board of Education yesterday fired "for good and just cause" a 37-year-old teacher who refused to answer questions before the Ohio Un-American Activities Commission.

The board found Edward Likover, an instructor at the Cleveland Trades School, guilty of "conduct unbecoming a teacher."

Likover questioned the legality of the commission when he appeared before it at a hearing here Dec. 2.

Dean Reports on Peace Talks

Says U. S. Must Match Commies' Stalling With Patience, Hope

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur H. Dean, who tried vainly for seven weeks to arrange a Korean peace conference with the Reds, has urged the nation to match Communist stalling with patience and hope.

"I do believe the Chinese Communists are determined to keep North Korea politically and economically integrated into their own economy," he told a nationwide television and radio audience last night.

"The outlook is discouraging but by no means hopeless. There is no easy, pat solution. It will take all the brains, energy, resolution and patience at our command."

* * *

The special ambassador spoke in a report to the people on the Panmunjom talks, from which he walked out 11 days ago after the Reds accused the United States of "perfidy."

He said the Communist negotiators aimed for a long-drawn-out session in the hope Americans would lose patience and, through public opinion, force a settlement on [illegible] terms.

"The meat of the coconut" holding up the talks, he said, was Communist insistence on including five nations, including India and Russia, as neutrals at the proposed Korean peace conference.

* * *

He said the Reds sought to drive a wedge between the United States and India by creating an impression that the United States "does not like India."

He said he is sure that, even if no peace conference is arranged, there will be no shooting again in Korea.

The Reds do not want it because they "took a terrific beating," he said, and both the United Nations allies and South Korea, which had threatened to go it alone, are determined to abide by the armistice agreement.

Dean's public report came after he met at the White House yesterday with President Eisenhower and after he talked with the ambassadors of the 16 other nations which fought in Korea.

SANTA and the FLYING PUP

By LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Willie the pup saves the Dreamlin queen and returns with the queen, Mr. Not Much and Mr. Very Little to Santa Land. He tries once more to fly but, alas, Willie still cannot get off the ground.

Chapter 17

A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL

Santa's great red sleigh rode through the night sky pulled by his eight flying deer. Santa held the reins and hummed a little song to himself. Beside him sat Willie.

"It doesn't matter about never being able to fly," thought Willie happily. "It's enough just to be with Santa wherever he is."

And he promised himself that from now on he would try to be a good pup and not cause Santa any more trouble.

Presently the sleigh landed on a roof top. Santa dragged out his big bag of toys and he and Willie slid down the chimney and left toys there for all the children who had written him their wishes. They went to another house and another until they had visited all the houses in the city. Then the reindeer carried them away to the next city.

On and on they traveled around the whole wide world. Finally they came to the last city of all. When they had finished their visits there they saw a house where no light burned and no Christmas wreath hung.

Santa said, "That is strange. I have never had a letter from anyone in that house. I often wondered about it. This year I think I shall just go in and have a look."

* * *

Santa and Willie slid down the chimney and Santa lit a candle. Willie was tired now and sleepy. But as soon as he landed in the house he knew where he was. He pattered straight to the bedroom and up to the little cot by the window and sure enough there was Henrietta fast asleep.

Her face was thin and even Willie could see there were tears that had dried on her cheeks. on the floor by the cot was a tin pan. It was filled with milk and it was Willie's pan.

Beside the pan was a letter. Santa read it. It said, "Dear Santa. I have never asked for anything before but this year I would like my little lost puppy for Christmas."

"How sad!" said Santa. 'I cannot give her her lost puppy but I can leave some toys though without her puppy I expect she will not enjoy toys."

Santa went to the sleigh and brought back his bag. He emptied everything that was left in it and put it all there on the cot for Henrietta.

All the time Willie just sat there by the cot looking at Henrietta and remembering things of long ago.

Santa said, "Now it's home to Santa Land!"

Willie took a last look at Henrietta. Then he followed Santa up the chimney and across the roof and down to the ground to the sleigh. But he went slowly.

He heard the voice of Santa calling, "A Merry Christmas to All."

Santa climbed in the sleigh. "Come on, Willie. I can't wait to be home!"

But Willie just stood there looking up at Santa and finally he said. "I'm going to stay here."

"Stay here?" cried Santa.

"Yes," said Willie. "You see—I am the puppy Henrietta lost. She needs me. I must stay."

He thought for an instant of wonderful Santa Land and dear Santa that he would never see again. Quickly because his heart was breaking and he couldn't bear to see Santa leave, Willie turned and ran back toward the house.

Then the strangest thing happened. Willie wasn't walking any more. He was flying!

Straight to the roof top he flew as easily, as softly as a leaf flying before the wind. Filled with astonishment he flew back to the sleigh.

"I can fly! I can fly!"

Santa beamed. "And why not?" he asked. "For you are doing a truly unselfish deed!"

Then Santa and his sleigh rose into the air. Bursting with pride, Willie rose, too. Santa in his sleigh and Willie on secret wings circled the sky above Henrietta's home.

"I will never let her know," thought Willie happily. "But every night when everyone is asleep I shall come out and fly. And perhaps each Christmas eve I shall return to Santa Land and fly around the world once a year with Santa."

Then Santa waved farewell and Willie returned to Henrietta's house. As he snuggled down by the sleeping child he smiled to himself for he heard sleigh bells ringing and the far away voice of Santa calling, "A Merry Christmas to all!"

The End

Bees and Flies Won't Ever See Television

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UP)—They'll never sell bees, flies and shore slaters on the wonders of television, according to Philip R. Ruck, U. S. Public Health Service Fellow at the University of California in Los Angeles.

A human is able to see movies and TV as pictures in motion because his "flicker fusion" frequency is slow.

But the three lowly creatures mentioned above see them only as a rapid procession of stills.

Flicker fusion frequency determines how the series of individual stills on a movie film appear to the viewer. The flickers are quicker than the eye in human beings and fuse into a continuous motion picture.

A fast flicker fusion frequency may keep a bee from enjoying a movie but it has its advantages. It enables him, while in rapid flight, to see individual objects distinctly instead of as blurs. Else he might pass up a likely blossom brimming with nectar.

Another visual advantage enjoyed by bees, as well as flies and shore slaters, is that bright light does not dazzle them. This is because their visual sense cells are not desensitized by the light to the same extent as those of human eyes, which are temporarily blinded even after a light is removed.

About 31 per cent of U.S. farm income in 1948 was derived from meat animals.

Rival Dockmen Ballot Today

Both Independent ILA and Young ILA-AFL Predict Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — The struggle between the AFL and the independing International Longshoremen's Assn., now back by John L. Lewis, was carried to the ballot box today in a federally supervised election.

Some 22,000 waterfront workers in Manhattan and New Jersey began voting on their choice of unions. The election, conducted by the National Labor Relations Board will run through tomorrow. Announcement of results is expected early Thursday.

* * *

It is expected that the other 40,000 dock workers on the East Coast, all veteran ILA members, will follow the lead of the Port of New York group.

* * *

The balloting brought to a climax the rivalry between the ILA and the AFL, which set up the new ILA-AFL a few months ago in an attempt to break the ILA'S hold on East Coast longshoremen. The AFL had previously ousted the ILA for failure to purge itself of racketeering elements.

ILA resident William V. Bradley, who yesterday won public support from United Mine Workers President Lewis, beamed with confidence last night, predicting a 10-1 victory for his group. Bradley, a tugboat captain, has said he knows of no racketeering in the ILA.

* * *

AFL President George Meany would up his organization's campaign last night with a radio-television plea to pier hands "to cast a ballot for a decent union run for the benefit of longshoremen." The AFL has forecast a 2-1 victory.

* * *

Both sides were talking of plans to resume wage-contract talks with the New York Shipping Assn. in the event of victory. The ILA said it was ready to start negotiations Thursday; the AFL indicated it could start talks Saturday.

The tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington cemetery is visited each year by more than 1,500,000 persons.

Quaker Pastor Dies

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — A longtime Michigan pastor of Quaker churches, the Rev. Fred E. Smith died yesterday at the age of 81. He also served in Quaker churches in Ohio and Indiana and was secretary of the Five Years Meetings of Friends.

HEADQUARTERS FOR KENTILE AND MATICO

Many Americans Behind Iron Curtain This Yule

WASHINGTON (AP)—Iron bars and the click of Communist rifle bolts are taking the place of holly wreaths and Christmas carols for some Americans abroad this Christmas.

They are the scores—exact figures are hard to come by—of Americans who are behind the Iron Curtain and can't get out.

Repatriated Austrian prisoners of war reported this fall seeing many Americans in prison camps near Moscow. They gave two names: Leland Towers of San Francisco and Homer H. Cox of Oklahoma City.

* * *

In the State Department, officials who handle such matters said today about 100 Americans are in Communist China. Precise numbers are elusive. For one reason, officials believe that some who claim to be Americans actually are not.

Of the 100 or so, it is understood that 31 are imprisoned and one is under house arrest. The others are free to pursue their lives but not to leave Red China.

Most of those in Red China prisoners are reported to be missionaries. A few are businessmen who did not leave China before the Communists took over and can't gain the necessary clearance to leave now.

Last March 21 three Americans were seized by Red Chinese while sailing aboard the yacht Kert off Hong Kong. Behind the Iron Curtain they went: Donald Dixon of International News Service, Richard Applegate of the National Broadcasting Co. and Capt. Ben Krasner of the American merchant marine.

Several Americans have disappeared behind the Iron Curtain in central Europe.

U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen has taken up the cases of Towers and Cox with the Kremlin. But the State Department said today he has received no reply—which could mean the Soviets are puzzled over just how to handle his inquiries, made last Nov. 2 and Nov. 25.

Moscow has also been asked to intercede with Communist China in the cases of Americans detained there. But the Russians shrug off such requests, saying it's an affair strictly between China and the United States.

The United States cannot deal directly with Peiping since it has never recognized the Communist regime. That is why Russia, other countries and the United Nations are sought as intermediaries.

DuPont Trade Case Halted Until Jan. 9

CHICAGO (AP)—The government's suit against the Du Pont family and three corporations was adjourned today until Jan. 9.

The day's business in the Federal District Court of Judge Walter J. La Buy included rebuttal arguments by government attorneys.

The government charges that E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co. and 33 members of the Du Pont family control General Motors Corp and the United States Rubber Co. and use that control to stifle competition and restrain trade.

The case is now nearing its close after more than a year of court hearing. The government will file its findings of legal facts Jan. 9 and the defense will file its findings of fact Feb. 5. Both government and defense reply briefs are to be filed Feb. 26.

Sentenced to Prison

A 32-year-old Walled Lake man was sentenced to a prison term of 3½ to 15 years Monday by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hatrick on a charge of statutory rape. Julius T. Rice of 111 Pauline St. pleaded guilty Dec. 11 to the rape of a 15-year-old girl Dec. 5.

Playmates Nearly Lost in Rescue Try; Saved by Workers

NILES (UP)—Robert Przybylinski, 8, Dayton, drowned in a pond late Monday while playing with three other youngsters who nearly lost their lives trying to rescue him.

When the thin ice cracked beneath Robert, his brother, Fred, 12, and sister, Barbara, 13, plunged into the icy water along with a neighbor boy, Davie Lee, 14. However, they failed to reach Robert before he sank in five feet of water.

The three rescuers found themselves unable to climb back up on the ice and cried for help. Their screams were heard by three construction men working nearby.

Finding the ice too thin to hold them, the workers commandeered a rowboat and made their way to the floundering children. After pulling the children to safety, the men recovered Robert's body but attempts to revive him through artificial respiration failed.

The construction workers were identified as Richard Wilcox, 24, Niles; John Sebasty, 53, Buchanan, and Roy Marsh, Galien.

Many of the asteroids seem to be chunks of rock of very irregular shape.

Two Killed in Detroit; Traffic Toll Now 203

DETROIT (UP) — Two men were killed in automobile traffic last night, bringing Detroit's traffic death toll for the year to 203. Last year at this date the toll was 197.

A city bus struck and killed William Thompson, 82. A motorist struck and killed Kenneth M. Boylon, 36. Witnesses told police both men walked into the street against red lights.

2 More Drivers Get Jail Terms

Judge Sentences Local Men on Reckless, Drunk Driving Charges

Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan sentenced two more drivers to 30 days in Oakland County Jail yesterday after one pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge and the other to drunk driving.

Daniel J. Himmelspach, 21, of 139 Summit Ave., was accused of reckless driving, and David J. Valko Jr., 27, of 2716 Woodlawn, Walled Lake, was charged with drunk driving. Both received the maximum jail sentences after they failed to pay $100 fines each, with which they would have spent 10 days in jail.

Five persons have been sentenced to jail for drunk driving and one for reckless driving since Judge Finnegan issued his warning that drunk and reckless drivers would be sent to jail during the holiday season.

Second Look Urged; Vice Squad Obliges

BALTIMORE (AP) — A group of vice squad men patrolling a hotel lobby yesterday heard a voice saying:

"Second Look in the second."

Lt. Joseph Byrne ordered his men to take a second look and they placed Walter L. Wimberly under arrest.

Byrne said Wimberly, 60, was calling the name "Second Look" into a telephone. Coincidentally, a horse by that name was running in the second race yesterday at Tropical Park.

Byrne charged Wimberly on one count of bookmaking and two counts of using slugs in a public pay telephone.

Forgetful Texan Pays Postage on 200 Yule Cards

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP) — A Grand Prairie man walked into the post office yesterday and asked Asst. Postmaster Roy Childs whether he had any Christmas cards mailed without stamps.

Sure, about 200, Childs said.

The man thought a while. "Come to think of it," he said, "I believe I mailed a card myself last week and forgot to stamp it."

He pulled out a $5 bill and handed it to Childs.

"Here," he said, "I guess this ought to cover the postage for those cards and make it a merry Christmas to some people."

Tombstone Unpolitical Wins 1st League Debate

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP) — Two seats on the City Council have been vacant for some time now. They haven't been filled, says Mayor Wally Foster, because "nobody wants the job."

The average life of a human hair is five or six years.

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Alumni members of the University of Pennsylvania will present an all-male musical comedy, "The Golden Fleece," at the Masonic Temple, Detroit, as the 66th production of the school's Mask and Wig Club.

Local committee members include Edge T. Cope Jr. of Longacre, H. Robert Hanson of 10-Mile road and Albert C. McDonald of Powers road.

Sunday School to Give Skit

Recitation and Pictures Included in Program at Waterford

WATERFORD — "Christ Across the Ages" will be the theme of the Christmas program presented by the departments of the Sunday School at the Community Church at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

The prophesies of the birth of Christ will be presented in recitation and colored pictures and will include the manger scene and Christmas in church history.

Superintendents of the various departments directing the program include Wallace Brown, general superintendent, Kline Powell, Floyd Holden and Mrs. Wright Van Plew.

Last Sunday, the church choir gave its Christmas concert, under the direction of Charles Jehle.

School Children Hold Festival for Christmas

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Two dramatizations were given by grade children of West Bloomfield School District at the Roosevelt School in Keego Harbor Friday.

Scotch School Fourth graders presented "The Nut Cracker Suite" with Susan Vershure as narrator. Mrs. Selma Ryan's second grade dramatized "the Shoe Maker and the Elves," with narration by Gail Murphy.

Karen Hewitt, Betty Gibson, Carol Baden, Sharon Stocker, Linda Whitmore, Kay Crawford and Patty Jones were heard in recitations.

A group of 600 boys and girls, including 60 from the Green School, sang Christmas songs between the presentations, with Mrs. Charles Seavey accompanying.

Money gifts for Korean children were brought to the manger scene where Susan Brodie portrayed Mary and Carl Thomas Joseph.

Douglas New recited the Christmas story from Luke II.

Farmers Back Control on Cotton, Peanut Oil

WASHINGTON — Farmers' overwhelming approval of strict federal controls for the 1954 cotton and peanut oil crops have brought predictios here that Congress will raise the national allotments to ease the economic impact on producers.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee said his committee would produce a bill to increase allotments as the first order of business when Congress reconvences next month.

The ball, scheduled for Saturday, will feature dancing from 10 p. m. to 1 a. m. and a floor show during intermission. Tickets for the affair, which helps raise funds for local charities and institutions, may be purchased from club members or at the door.

'Find Michigan Birth Rate Is Lower in Farm Areas

EAST LANSING (AP)—In Michigan, at least, the farmers are not having more children than the city dwellers.

The birth rate in cities of Michigan is higher than in rural areas since 1950, ocntrary to the trend of the 1940's.

The trend in Michigan is not from farm to cities, but from cities to suburban areas.

The only part of Michigan to see a population decrease in the decade preceding 1950 was the Upper Peninsula and the Northern Lower Peninsula. All economic areas to the south increased in population.

By 1960, Michigan should have 1,533,000 more people than in 1950.

These are the results of a sociological survey by Profs. J. Allen Beegle and J. F. Thaden at Michigan State College.

They said the general belief that migration of people from the farms to cities would eventually level off population increases is unfounded.

The survey indicated that the increased population in rural areas was under 15 per cent from 1940 to 1950, while cities increased two per cent in population.

The survey said that between 1939 and 1947 the number of manufacturing esetablishments in Michigan increased 66 per cent and the number of production workers 58 per cent.

Avondale Plans Forum Tonight

Residents Will Discuss New School Additions, Proposed Fire Hall

AVON TOWNSHIP — Discussion of a proposed fire hall and equipment, and construction of school additions will be on the agenda when Avondae resifents hold a forum tonight.

The meeting is scheduled to get under way at 7:30 in the Community Hall on Auburn road.

Citizens in the area have been working for construction of the fire hall for about two months, and signed. Groups have taken the proposal begore the Avon Township Board.

Petiions call for construction of a fire hall, adoption of a volunteer department, and purchase of a fire truck and equipment.

The school addition, still in the discussion stage, calls for construction of an addition to Avondale School to relieve crowded classroom conditions.

Farmington Area Garden Club Elects Officers

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Howard L. Richards will head the local garden club for the 1954 season following an election at the recent President's Tea, held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Spicer.

Others named to 1954 posts were Mrs. Arthur Schaldenbrand, first vice president; Mrs. J. M. Cunningham, second vice president; Mrs. George Nahstoll, recording seretary; Mrs. Kurt Brammer, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Arthur Groscop, treasurer.

Mrs. Marion Humphries, contralto, and Mrs. Margaret Fangboner, soprano, sang excerpts from "Babe of Bethlehem," with Mrs. Gertrude Greer, as accompanist.

Gilliland, Jarvis Will Take Stand Today in Own Behalf

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

LAPEER — The defense today moved into what it expects to be its final presentation in the trial of a Detroiter and three Lapeer-area farmers on charges of conspiring to obstruct justice.

Six witnesses are expected to wind-up the defense case built by Grand Rapids attorney Clem Block.

Among the six are defendants Clayton C. Gilliland of Detroit, a self-termed investigator, and Harold Jarvis of Lapeer.

Yesterday, the two other respondents, Howard Abbott of Columbiaville and Floyd Schriber of Almont took the stand in their own behalf.

Abbott, 45, flatly denied participating in the fracas at the Clifford farm home of Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens June 2, 1952 when a crowd mobbed Sheriff Clark W. Gregory and Deputy Ronald Reedy as the two attempted to serve a writ of eviction on Mrs. Stevens.

"I stood at the back of the crowd," he told the Circuit Court jury which has been hearing the case for five days.

His only part in the affair, he said, was carrying a bucket of water to the thirsty people gathered in the farm house yard.

He twice denied any agreement with the other three defendants to physically prevent the sheriff from serving the writ.

Likewise, he said he knew nothing of any agreement the sheriff might have had with other members of the Members Committee regarding a staging of the whole eviction attempt episode.

The "staging" allegation, made several times during the trial by the defense, was restated by the 60-year-old Schriber, who was the last witness heard before yesterday's adjournment.

Schriber said Erwin Russell, now serving an 18-month term in Jackson for obstructing justice in connection with the same eviction try, called five or six farmers in a shed at Fort Ziegenhart early on the afternoon of the eviction attempt.

He said Russell told the men that the sheriff "wanted a good show," but to "make sure that nobody gets hurt."

Gregory has vigorously denied that any such plan ever existed.

Self-identified in 22 of the 30-odd pictures taken at the Stevens' farm entered as evidence, Schriber did not clearly describe his part in the melee.

He recalled only that "Reedy pushed me back some distance" and that next, Reedy was on the ground.

"Another man tried to kick him and I said 'Don't do that' and threw my arm across Reedy and caught the kick on my hand," Schriber said.

Like Abbott, Schriber denied any conspiracy to prevent eviction service. He declared the four had never been together alone before coming to the courtroom for the trial.

He said the only reason he was at the Stevens' farm was because Mrs. Stevens had asked him to come over. On the way, he told the court, he stopped at the "fort" where he met Russell and the others and heard that the sheriff was definitely going to try to serve the writ.

Abbott's wife Betty testified that she, too, as an old friend of Mrs. Stevens, had been called over by the widow because one of her daughters was not feeling well.

She described Gregory as "walking right into the crowd" as soon as he finished reading the State riot act to the throng. "And he didn't go toward the house at all, but toward the hedge," she stated.

Another witness backed-up the defense charge that Gregory had made a deal with Russell and others to make a show of the eviction in order to gain publicity for himself as a candidate in the primary election which was coming up two months later and for the farmers group.

Mrs. Mary Meier of Hadley Township said on June 1, she heard Gregory tell Russell after a private conversation between the two: "Have a good big crowd there tomorrow."

A witness called by the defense, Aud.-Gen. John B. Martin, testified that on the occasions members of the Members Committee of the defunct Lapeer Mutual Fire Insurance Assn. appeared before the State Administrative Board to ask the eviction be halted their talk was sometimes "violent."

The Board was almost threatened, he said. "They told us we were political figures and action would be taken against us."

Speaking of Gilliland's character, witness Floyd McGriff, a Detroit publisher of weekly newspapers, said, "It's good—it's wonderful."

Judge Weighs Mistrial Motion

Defense Asks Action in Conspiracy Trial of Lapeer Farmers

LAPEER — Circuit Judge Timothy O. Quinn today took under advisement a defense motion for a mistrial in the conspiracy case against three Lapeer County farmers and Clayton C. Gilliland of Detroit.

Attorney Clem Block filed the motion for the mistrial in behalf of the defendants, Gilliland, Harold Jarvis, 36, of Lapeer, Howard Abbott, 45, of Columbiaville; and Floyd Schreiber, 60, of Almont.

Block said he found out over the weekend that one of the jurors, Mrs. Annabell Abbott, was related to one of the defendants.

Judge Quinn said he would hear arguments from both sides before reaching a decision on Block's motion.

Southfield School Plans Music Sketch Tonight

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Louise Ward, music director of elementary schools, will conduct a musical program of sixth and seventh graders at Southfield-10 School at 8 p.m. today.

Parents will be taken on a tour of the classrooms to see the Christmas projects each room has completed.

Peace and contentment and God's Blessings for you and yours . . .

Yugoslavia Important Key to Mediterranean Defense

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

No man's favor is being sought with more determination by both sides in the hot and cold wars than that of Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

And with good reason. For Yugoslavia is a key to Mediterranean defenses, realized no less by Russia than by the Western Allies.

On her southeastern flank, so long as she adheres to the West, she forms with Greece and Turkey a mighty link in the defense of Southern Europe and the entire Eastern Mediterranean.

Equally she weakens the chain of defense so long as she quarrels with Italy over the future of Trieste.

So, the painful efforts of the United States and Britain to settle the dispute to the satisfaction of both.

With her tough army of 600,000 men, Yugoslavia is perhaps even more important to Russia.

With both Yugoslavia and Russian-dominated Albania on her side, Russia would have an unbroken land route to the Mediterranean, by-passing the Dardanelles, and isolating Greece.

Further, if Yugoslavia were to restore her ties with the Kremlin, she automatically would restore the 1,700-mile Danube as a Communist artery extending from the Black Sea to Germany.

Now, with Western eyes focused primarily in Korea and on hopes for some kind of accord with Russia on Germany and Austria, perhaps not enough attention is being paid to Russia's own efforts to bring Yugoslavia and Tito back into the fold.

Here are some recent developments:

For years Yugoslavia has been a minority of one of the Danubian Commission, with her every proposal being voted down by Russia and her satellites. Suddenly the situation changed.

At the session which ended last week, practically every Yugoslavia suggestion for controlling traffic on the great waterway was accepted. To cap the climax, a Yugoslav was elected commission secretary.

Ambassadors have been exchanged with Russia and Hungary and Albania, too, is seeking a renewal of diplomatic relations.

Border incidents have dropped sharply and agreements have been reached between Yogoslavia and all her Balkan neighbors except Bulgaria that future incidents will be settled on the basis of findings by a joint commission.

There are no train connections between Yugoslavia and Bulgaria, but the Bulgarians made a special point recently of arranging for a two-car train to cross the frontier to pick up the new Yugoslav ambassador to Sofia so there could be a proper reception at the Sofia station.

The official Russian and Yugoslav news agencies are arranging that each should have representation in Moscow and Belgrade.

The Russian Tass correspondent was the first non-western addition to Belgrade's resident press corps in nearly three years.

So far, Tito has remained outwardly unimpressed. When the new Yugoslav ambassador to Hungary arrived in Budapest, high ranking Hungarians proposed a toast to "friendship between Hungary and Yugoslavia." The icy reply was:

"Not friendship, but normalization."

Prophecy Is Fulfilled

NEW LONDON, Conn. (UP) — Town Court Judge Louis C. Wool warned Theodore E. Nelson five years ago that unless he mended his ways he would land in state prison some day. Nelson, then 19, appeared before the judge on a burglary charge. The judge was lenient and let him go. Now Nelson is in state prison serving an 18-month to three-year sentence on charges of carrying a knife and breaking and entering.

Petroleum power in the form of tractors, trucks and stationary engines on U. S. farms provides a total of 178 million horsepower, about twice that used in American industry.

The Bigger They Come, the Harder They Fall

DAVIS, Calif. (AP) — Does a bull or a mouse have more resistance to knockout drops?

Prof. Stuart A. Peoples, a University of California veterinary scientist, built a gas machine big enough for a bull to check the effect of anaesthetics on various sized animals.

He discovered size had nothing to do with an animal's resistance to anaesthetics.

BACK AND BOUNCING—Eddie Cantor, the effervescent comedian of TV's "Comedy Hour," proves that the old vim and vigor are still there. The beloved banjo-eyed comedian has made frequent appearances on the program, and he still reigns as one of the perennial kings of show business.

Big-Eyed Chap Is Born Artist

Started on New York's East Side With Pianist Jimmy Durante

NEW YORK — When the magic name and personality of Eddie Cantor bounces into your living room via TV's Comedy Hour on Sunday evenings, you can be sure you'll see the polished results of 44 consecutive years of experience, talent, and expert showmanship.

The little guy with the big eyes and the big heart was born in the East Side of New York. His father was a violinist. Eddie doesn't remember him for both his mother and father died before Eddie was two years old.

Eddie grew up on those crowded streets. His education wasn't conventional and didn't include high school, for he left grammar school by request. He later spent a short time in business college.

The kid had ambitions, however. For the amusement of his gang, he sang on street corners and mimicked widely-known personalities.

Someone must have told him he was pretty good, for Eddie decided to test his talents on amateur night at Miner's old Bowery Theater. He walked off the stage with first prize — $5. That was in 1909.

Cantor had tried a lot of other jobs but he decided the stage was his. His first professional job was as a singing waiter in a Coney Island cabaret where Jimmy Durante was the pianist.

The big break came in Atlantic City. Gus Edwards and his famous children's act were playing along the Boardwalk, and one of Cantor's friends, George Jessel, was in the troupe.

One night Edwards took his Newsboys Sextet — Walter Winchell was the lead voice — to entertain at a stag party at a yacht club. Cantor was invited to go along.

The sentimental songs didn't go over with the merry stags so Cantor jumped into the breach, told some stories that did go over, and then announced that he and Jessel would imitate two Irishmen.

They did and they clicked. Edwards, impressed, hired Eddie and starred him in his next vaudeville revue.

Florenz Ziegfeld heard of this new comedian and hired him. By 1919 Cantor was featured in the greatest of all the "Follies." Billed as the "Apostle of Pep," he appeared in blackface, horned-rimmed spectacles and a stiff straw hat. Bouncing about the stage, he sang, "You Don't Need the Wine to Have a Wonderful Time While They Still Make Those Beautiful Girls."

Early in 1929 Cantor had $2,000,000. Late in '29 he was broke. Instead of weeping along, however (and here's the key to the Cantor personality), Eddie wrote a book about his losses and made enough to lay the foundation for another fortune and a successful future.

Cantor began to give radio his serious consideration. His first NBC appearance was on the Rudy Vallee variety show. A few months later he was starred in his own Sunday program.

One of the nation's best-known romances — that of Ida and Eddie — began when he was 13 years old. Ida Tobias was the belle of the East Side, and he used to carry her books home from school. They were married on June 9, 1914.

Durant's Neck in North Carolina is named for the Englishman, George Durant, believed to be the first white man to buy land from the Indians. The deed, dated 1661, is recorded in the Perquimans County courthouse at Hertford, N. C.

Auto Collision Injures Waterford Area Man

Ralph W. Blair, 38, of 6525 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for leg bruises suffered in an auto accident yesterday.

Pontiac Police said a car driven by Albert Olson, 64, of 80 Home St., made a turn onto Highwood boulevard from E. Columbia avenue and collided with Blair's car which was stopped at the intersection.

Local Woman Attacked

A Pontiac woman was forced into a car early today by two men armed with a knife and attacked in a lonely section outside the city, according to Pontiac police. The woman described the men as about 26, five feet 11 inches tall, and of stocky build. She said she did not recognize the area where she was taken.

Gamefish Junction is a name sometimes applied to Cape Hatteras, N. C., by fishermen because it is the northernmost range of many southern fish, and as far south as some species of northern fish penetrate.

Union Soliciting Rule Reversed

Equal Time to Address Workers on Company Hours Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has stopped compelling employers to give unions equal time during plant working hours to solicit members.

The rule in effect for two years was reversed late yesterday by the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) in a 3-1 decision saying that company premises are the natural forum for employer views and the union hall is the union's.

"We reject the idea that the union has a statutory right to assemble and make campaign speeches to employes on the employer's premises and at the employer's expense," the NLRB majority said in its policy reversal.

At the same time the NLRB established a new rule. It said that henceforth neither the company nor union would be allowed to address workers on company premises during working hours for 24 hours before an NLRB election to choose a collective bargaining representative.

• • •

Member Abe Murdock, former Democratic senator from Utah and a Truman administration appointee to the NLRB, vigorously dissented from both rulings. Two of the board's present four members—there is one vacancy—are appointees of President Eisenhower.

Murdock's dissent said the purpose of the Taft-Hartley and previous federal labor laws was to encourage collective bargaining rather than achieve employer-union "neutrality."

"Practically every employer speech on company time and property is designed to perpetrate individual collective bargaining and to discourage collective (union) bargaining," Murdock said.

He said unions will be at an organizing disadvantage because outside contacts and union meetings are not as effective in preaching unionism as right in the plant to a "captive audience."

Cardinal Will Spend Christmas in Korea

TOKYO (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman arrived in Tokyo today and said he will spend Christmas in Korea because "that's the place to be on Christmas."

He will fly to Korea tomorrow in Gen. John E. Hull's private plane for his third straight Christmas with U.S. troops.

City Commission to Act on Blacktop Program Tonight

Flying Saucers Are Real, Author Says

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There has been a revolution in America's atitude on flying saucers.

That's the belief of Donald E. Keyhoe. It's based on changed reactions to his two books, "Flying Saucers Are Real," published in 1950, and his current best seller, "Flying Saucers From Outer Space."

Keyhoe, a lean, serious, sharp-featured individual, admits he was publicly rated a screwball after his first book.

Today, he says, due to what he calls a public conviction there's really something to all the saucer sightings, he finds himself generally regarded as an expert on the subject.

He's in demand for serious TV and radio performances, lectures and technical advice.

Each morning an average of 20 letters are delivered to his home near Mt. Vernon "from serious, respectable and honest persons" reporting sightings and offering additional information on saucers.

"The thing that astonishes me most," he says, "is the number of persons who spend a lot of money to call me up long distance from all over the country to report sightings and other information in great detail."

If the flow of new information on the subject continues, he believes, he will have enough new material for another book, although when he finished the last one he had intended to drop the saucer subject.

The most impressive new information on unidentified flying objects which he has received since the new book, is from commercial and military pilots.

Fourteen airline pilots have reported recently seeing unidentifiable flying objects "which are just impossible to dismiss," he says.

"One, especially, was from a captain who has been flying airliners for 15 years. He saw a light maneuvering and flying around over Lake Michigan. We both agreed from his report that it couldn't have been anything we know about as natural phenomena or aircraft. And the other reports from these men seem to follow the same pattern," Keyhoe explains.

Proof of the importance of airline pilots' sightings, Keyhoe believes, is the new Air Force plan to have them report all sightings immediately, by voice. A new communications system is being set up for this purpose to take care of such messages from all over the world.

"This proves how interested the Air Force is in this matter," he says. Further, he claims, the saucer subject has suddenly become a very hot one along airline pilots. There are hostile camps of believers and disbelievers in the group, he reveals.

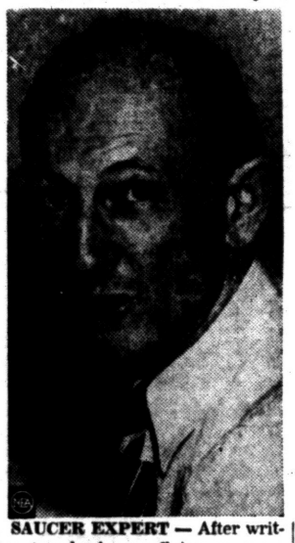

"Airline pilots now don't like to talk about their sightings in public for fear of bad airline or Air Force reaction," he insists, "but they come to me because they know they can trust me not to reveal anything they tell me in confidence."

Both the Air Line Pilots Association and the airlines have pledged the Air Force full cooperation in the new program on reporting.

Another impressive collection of evidence Keyhoe produces is a growing stack of letters from Air Force pilots. A great many add bits of support and new facts on specific sightings mentioned in his book.

Only a very few letters from Air Force officers challenge his premise that saucers are both real and from outer space. Many of them are sharply critical of the way the Air Force has been treating the subject.

Keyhoe now finds himself a sort of unofficial reporting point for all saucer sightings. "The commercial and military pilots, and ordinary civilians, tell me about these things because they have learned that I won't make fun of them and that I will try to put their information to good use."

SAUCER EXPERT — After writing two books on flying saucers, Donald E. Keyhoe is finding himself generally regarded as an expert on the subject.

Royal Oak Picks Hertler as Aide to City Attorney

Allan G. Hertler of 1838 W. 12 Mile Rd., Royal Oak, was named assistant city attorney Monday night at a meeting of the Royal Oak City Commission.

Admitted to the bar yesterday at ceremonies in Oakland County Courthouse, Hertler has been working as a law clerk with City Attorney William C. Hudson since June.

He was sponsored at yesterday's admission ceremonies by Hudson who also sponsored his son, Clarence L. Hudson.

Leave Japan, U. S. Is Urged

Japanese Hero Says Foreign Troops Hinder Rearmament

By VIC SUZUKI

TOKYO (AP)—Masanobu Tsuji, one of Japan's most brilliant military strategists in World War II, today warned the United States to pull its troops out of Japan as soon as possible or "the day will come when she will regret it."

He also warned "a strong anti-American feeling prevails and is increasing in this country."

"This is a pity," he said, "and it should be curtailed."

Tsuji devised the strategy behind Japan's lightning invasion of Malaya and the capture of Singapore in late 1941 and 1942.

* * *

He was listed as a war criminal by the Allied command, but was never captured. He has become a national hero and a living legend since the end of the occupation.

He speaks for the nationalists and has sharply criticized occupation policies, although he is not considered basically anti-American.

* * *

An influential member of Japan's lower house, he said today he has sent a letter to Vice President Richard Nixon warning against American policy toward Japan.

1. Withdraw her troops from Japan and not compel this country to rearm.
2. Admit the war crimes trials were a mistake.
3. Say what it expects to gain by mutual security administration aid to Japan.
4. Reconsider and revise its policy toward Asian countries.

* * *

"If the United States withdraws her troops from Japan this country will at once buckle down to prepare for any aggressive acts by the Communists," Tsuji said.

"The keeping of foreign troops in the country is, in fact, hindering the rebuilding of our defense forces."

He pointed out that America wants a Japanese army of 325,000 men whereas Japan had only 230,000 men under arms at the time of the Manchurian incident in 1932.

"If Japan could wage an aggressive war with 230,000 men, why does she need 325,000 men to defend the islands?" he asked.

He told this reporter Nixon was incorrect when he said he could find no anti-American feeling in Japan during his recent visit.

"Unless we were barbarians," Tsuji said, "we would not give a state visitor the impression we disliked his country."

Accepting the gift for the hospital is its director, Miss Lauretta Paul.

Cost Estimates to Be Submitted

Will Consider Request to Extend Completion of Sewage Plant Work

Pontiac City Commission tonight is scheduled to take action on the extensive blacktop paving program planned for 1954.

City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn is expected to submit cost estimates for 2-inch blacktop construction on six city streets including:

Deland from Oakland to Murray; Jacokes from Lafayette to Murray; Portage from Stout to Johnson; East Ann Arbor from Baldwin to University; Mansfield from Joslyn to Barkell; Mansfield from Barkell to Fuller; and Monterey from Mount Clemens to Omar.

Commissioners are expected to receive special assessment rolls prepared by the city assessor for 2-inch blacktop on:

Argyle from Avon to Roland.
Branch from Gillespie to 150 feet south
Gillespie from Branch to east line of the subdivision
Ditmar from Franklin to Highland
Ditmar from Franklin to Motor.
Hazel from Telegraph to Peggy.
Hughes from Bagley to Franklin.
Josephine from Voorheis to James K. Luther from Motor to Franklin.
Nebraska from Woodward to Earlmoor.
Ruth from Susan to Telegraph
Susan from Voorheis to Ruth.
Algonquin from Seminole to East Iroquois.
Erie from Wenonah to Menominee.
Oneida from Algonquin to Menominee.
Ontario from Wenonah to Menominee.

Commissioners are expected to consider a request from the J. A. Fredman contracting company for extension of time to Jan. 15 for completion of expansion at the sewage treatment plant.

Scheduled for consideration are two requests for SDD package liquor licenses from John Phillips of 360 Franklin Rd. and Donald Deni of 904 Mount Clemens St.

The Commission is expected to receive a communication from the Oakland County Board of Auditors asking rezoning of land on the northwest side of Oakland at city limits, and a portion of the 4-H grounds.

Acceptance is expected of a deed for an alley from the Tel-Huron Shopping Center in compliance with a previous agreement.

Other matters scheduled for consideration include:

A report from the city manager on a request to prohibit parking on Third and Fourth avenues.
A report from the city engineer recommending corrections to special assessment roll 639 for recap on North Paddock where recap wasn't completed due to reconstruction of a bridge.
A resolution to receive a special assessment roll prepared by the city assessor for a water main in Cornell from Baldwin to west line of lot 54 in Bonnie Briar Bush Subdivision.
A resolution to receive a special assessment roll for storm drain in right-of-way and alley from Harris Lake to Montcalm and in the north side of Montcalm from Wing to Portland.
Confirmation of a special assessment roll for sidewalk on west side of Going street from Perry to Midway.
Approval of replat of lots 11 and 12, assessor's plat 17.

Red Cross Now Has New Home

County Chapter Moves to Own Building on Franklin Boulevard

Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, settled down in its new chapter house at 118 Franklin Blvd. today.

The chapter moved Monday from it offices at 53½ W. Huron St. Office hours, 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m., and the telephone number will stay the same as at the Huron Street headquarters.

The new chapter house, bought for $21,000 last summer, has an eight-car parking lot, two-car garage, and about three times as much inside space as the Huron Street offices.

The basement includes a classroom, kitchen, and storage space. First floor offices include a reception room, home service director's office, executive secretary's office and four small offices for conferences.

A conference room and offices for the blood department, water safety, first aid, nursing services, Junior Red Cross, service groups and the clerical staff are on the second floor.

Halcyon Days Recalled

Straits Bridge to Herald Bright Boom Era in North

By UNITED PRESS

Unfolding of a bright boom era, bringing economic expansion and wealth, was envisioned in Michigan's northland today as the Mackinac Straits Bridge neared reality.

Optimism appeared unbounded in the Upper Peninsula, an area long considering itself an unwanted stepchild of Michigan's rich cities to the south.

Officials throughout northern Michigan look forward to mushrooming growth eclipsing the halcyon days when fortunes were made from lumbering and mining.

Only one hurdle remains before construction of the bridge starts: A state Supreme Court ruling on legality of state participation in the sale of a $99,800,000 bond issue.

But northern Michigan officials are confident the court will give its approval and that construction will start next spring.

George S. Osborn, editor and publisher of the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News, predicted construction of the bridge "will make Michigan the first tourist state in the nation if we promote it properly."

A United Press survey showed that officials believe the bridge will touch off a real estate boom, bring hundreds of new industries to the area, and result in a major population increase in northern Michigan.

"Civic officials here believe the Upper Peninsula is on the verge of a new and greater era brought about chiefly through the bridge," Osborn said.

Glenn D. Garrett, Petoskey, a member of northwestern Michigan' industrial development commission, predicted Petoskey's population, now 6,468, would increase 50 per cent in the next 10 years.

"Northern Michigan doesn't have a class A highway north of Cadillac," Garrett said. "But now that the bridge is going to be built, better highways throughout the area will have to be built to accommodate increased traffic."

Al Phillips, a St. Ignace businessman, said property values at both St. Ignace and Mackinaw City, already have increased considerably during the last week "and they'll really go sky high when it's definite that the bridge will be built." The span wil connect the two cities.

"The bridge will remove the transportation bottleneck at the Straits and strengthen trade between the two peninsulas," said George E. Bishop, Marquette, manager of the Upper Peninsula development bureau.

"Truck traffic and tourist travel will increase tremendously, new resorts will be necessary, river and lake frontage will take on new values, and industrial development will pick up," Bishop said.

Find Detroiter in Contempt

Guilty on One Charge for Refusal to Answer Subcommittee

WASHINGTON (INS) — An official of the Michigan Committee for Protection of Foreign Born was convicted yesterday of contempt of Congress.

Saul Grossman, of Detroit, executive secretary of the committee was convicted on one count of a three-specification indictment. U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff, who heard the case without a jury, cleared Grossman on the other two counts.

Grossman's indictment grew out of his appearance April 1952 before a House unAmerican activities subcommittee probing Communist infiltration in Detroit area defense industries.

A federal grand jury in Washington charged the defendant with (1) failing to produce subpoenaed records (2) refusing to say he did not have the records with him (3) declining to state whether he was refusing to produce the records.

Grossman declined to answer the two questions on the basis of the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution, which protects a witness against possible self-incrimination.

Holtzoff ruled that the first count did not constitute contempt and that he legally claimed privilege under the second count. The judge said, however, that he had no legal right to refuse to answer the question in the final count.

The federal judge set sentencing for Januray 7 and suggested that by that time Grossman might want to produce the records.

He faces a possible maximum penalty of $1,000 in fines and one year in jail on the single count.

Navy Plane Crash Injures 3 Crewmen

PATUXENT, Md. (AP) — A four-engine Navy patrol plane crashed while attempting to land in a fog at the Patuxent River Naval Air Station late yesterday, injuring three of its nine-man crew.

Air station spokesman said the big PB1W, a converted B17, crashed off the northeast end of the field, about 75 yards from the station's ammunition magazines.

The plane was demolished, all but three of the crewmen — an officer and two enlisted men — escaped injury.

Most seriously hurt was Lt. Comdr. H. J. Roberts, 37, of Buffalo, N. Y., who was taken to the station hospital with a compressed fracture of the vertebrae.

Other crew members, all unhurt, included:

Lt. Comdr. D. L. Whitenmore, 35, LeClaire, Iowa; Lt. O. C. Bell, 31, Portales, N. M., pilot; R. K. Turek, 29, Lansing, Mich., aviation electronics mate first class.

Rob Kenwood Cleaners

Thieves broke into the Kenwood Cleaners at 85 Bagley St. yesterday and took clothing valued at $240, according to Pontiac police. The owner, Joseph Jones of 77 Bagley St., told police that entry was made by forcing open a boiler room window.

Michigan GI Was PW 3 Years

Sole Survivor of Ambush Will Dedicate Life to God

FOSTERS, Mich. (AP)—Eugene L. Inman, who felt the hand of God in the battlefields of Korea and through the cold, hungry horror of a Communist prisoner of war camp, has decided to dedicate his life to the ministry.

The 22-year-old ex-soldier returned here Sept. 21 after three years in the hands of the Reds. He is living in a trailer next to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David M. Inman, near Saginaw.

Soon after Christmas he and his bride of two weeks, Rosemary, will leave for Kankakee, Ill., where he will begin a four-year pre-seminary course at Olivet Nazarene College.

After graduation there, he will go to Kansas City for three more years at the Church of the Nazarene Seminary.

Although his decision to devote his life to religion came only recently, it was nurtured by the sight of death and the brainwashing of the Reds.

It began Nov. 30, 1950, in the grim days of the war. Inman and some of his fellow soldiers of the 9th Infantry, 2nd Division—a battalion of men—were ambushed. Of 230 men on that battleground says Inman, he was the only survivor.

Surrounded, he got down on his knees and prayed. "I was afraid," he said, "but suddenly I felt something like a hand on my shoulder and I wasn't afraid any more."

He was soon recognized as a religious "reactionary."

"They waved pistols in my face and threatened to kill me. They said, 'Show us your God—if he really exists point him out to us.'"

He had a Bible, and the Reds knew it. They tried to get it, by persuasion, by threats. Finally they made him stand in the snow for three hours but he wouldn't give up the Bible.

He began to preach. At first, the Red political officers censored his sermons. They asked him for outlines of his prayers.

Then they told him they wouldn't review his sermons if he promised not to preach against them.

For Inman that idea was absurd. "The minute you open the Bible, you are preaching against them," he says. "Communism is a religion of materialism."

How could some resist the brainwashing, and others fail? How could some live through the mental and physical privation?

"Well," answers Inman, "if you were in a room with a dead friend next to you, and another who was soon to die, could you empty yourself of all feeling for them? If you couldn't, you couldn't have taken it."

You had to have something besides the ability to purge yourself of all feeling to withstand the pressure, Inman says. You had to have courage, not simple battlefield courage, but the courage of conviction.

On Aug. 30, nearly three years after his capture, he was released.

Back home, he met Rosemary Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Miller, in church. The next day he proposed. They were married Nov. 28.

All this time, Inman was having a struggle with his conscience. Before his Army days he had, he says, "never been sincerely religious." But now, he felt he "had experienced the touch of God."

Safety 'Do's' and 'Don'ts'

Yule Tree Fire Hazard

It's not pleasant to think of a gaily decorated Christmas tree as an instrument of destruction. But your beautiful tree can be serious fire hazard.

Because of its natural pitch and resin, it is highly combustible, and once ignited is almost impossible to extinguish by ordinary methods.

Employe Accidents Cost U. S. $23 Million

Government Claims Adjusters Hear Some Real Dillies

WASHINGTON (NEA)—During a recent forest fire out West, a tourist was stopped by a U. S. Forest Service Ranger and pressed into the fire line to fight the blaze.

Because of his inexperience, the tourist got klonked on the head with a burning tree limb. As a result, he became one of the estimated 89 thousand Federal employes who will be injured on the job this year while working for Uncle Sam.

Claims adjusters who process all Federal employes accident reports in Washington's Bureau of Employe Compensation admit that most of their work is rather grim and serious business which costs the taxpayers more than $23 million per year. But occasionally claims turn up which, while legitimate for the most part, prove beyond any shadow of a doubt that man is his own worst enemy.

One case in point is that of a government stenographer who transferred the contents of a bottle of ink eradicator into an empty bottle of eye wash.

Yup, you guessed it. The next time her eyes got tired she washed them out with ink eradicator. When asked why she ever made the switch in the first place, she replied, "I liked the shape of the eye wash bottle better."

On another occasion an electrician working on a scaffold decided to do a little social drinking on the job and got his circuits overloaded. Being afraid to climb back down the ladder, he stretched out on the scaffolding and decided to sleep it off.

During the course of his siesta he rolled off the platform, fell 18 feet and crashed through the floor.

The falling plaster, laths and debris injured four people in the room over which he had been working. When they revived the electrician, he shook himself off and walked away muttering, "I thought I was dreaming."

Sometimes by pure chance two claims will show up on the same day from widely scattered parts of the country dealing with the same type of injury. Only the results of the accidents make the adjusters shake their heads and wonder.

One routine accident report told how a telephone lineman fell 80 feet from a pole on which he was working and got up unharmed. Right below it in the pile was the case of a truck driver who slipped on the running board of his parked truck and suffered a disabling back injury for six months.

But the grand-daddy of them all came in just the other day. It was a claim from a mailman who had been bitten by the same dog six times in the last nine months.

In the space reserved on the claim form for "Remarks" the postman had written with just a touch of malice, "One of these mornings I'm gonna see that dawg before he sees me. . ."

Housekeeping Does Pay

Good Cooks Reap Reward

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

After all the recent hoopla about new horizons for women, it turns out that the best paying job still is one of the oldest—just being a good cook.

There are, of course, women who are pulling strings in the upper echelons of Wall Street, women running banks and heading corporations. Women have penetrated the male strongholds of railroading and engineering with notable success. They are making good as doctors, lawyers and atomic scientists.

But it was a hard-working housewife from a small town in South Dakota who collected $25,000 the other day just for baking a cake. That is a rate of pay that would be hard to equal.

* * *

Other good cooks from all over the United States collected other prizes totaling close to $100,000 for their favorite cookies, cakes, pies or breads.

The gals who carried off these heavy bags of swag had, for the most part, devoted their lives to the role of housewives and mothers, just as their grandmothers did. Then all of a sudden they found themselves bundled off to New York, with all expenses paid, to cook their favorite recipes right in the red-carpeted ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria, in the spotlight of national TV, radio, newspaper and magazine publicity.

Flustered but happy, they heard themselves described by famous stars of stage, screen and television as the "backbone of the nation," the keepers of the American kitchen, which is the heart of the country.

* * *

Stirring up their cakes and cookies back home, they probably never dreamed, a few years ago, that these homely skills some day would win them enough cash to buy a house and lot, a new car, a mink coat or college educations for their children.

Program Presented for McConnell PTA

McConnell School PTA was entertained Thursday with a Christmas program given by the pupils. Mrs. William McPherson was general chairman in the absence of Helen M. Voss, and Mrs. Royal W. Exline was program chairman.

Christmas carols were sung by members of the fifth grade, and a playlet, "Paddy Bear's Christmas," was presented by members of the third grade. The fourth grade presented "Station KRIS," and the Nativity scene was portrayed by members of the second grade.

Other features of the program were the "Three Kings" by Room 26, "Carolers" by Room 21 and refreshments by the faculty.

60 Children Feted at Christmas Party

Mrs. Lester Snell opened her home on Auburn road to 60 children for an annual Christmas party Sunday afternoon.

Participating in the musical program were Kenneth Brown, Frank Bloe, Jack Horner, Jeannot Bishop, James Thompson, Fred Krupp, Stephen Bloe, Johnny Lowe and Jerry Libby. Esther Thompson and Barbara Broadway accompanied the vocal groups.

Assisting the hostess were Joy Owen, Nancy Casper, Judy Dunham, Marsha Ann Petrie, Mrs. Glenn Brown, Mrs. Thomas Rogers, Mrs. Elmer Schiebel and Mrs. Ed Bloe.

Lace Makers Talking Up Product for Spring 1954

NEW YORK (INS) — Word is being wheezed around the high-fashion world these days that lace is in for its biggest year ever, starting with spring, '54.

The reason it's being wheezed instead of shouted is that the lace people have talked themselves hoarse trying to be heard over the loud cries of the synthetic makers, who have tried to convince women that their products are the most packable fabrics in history.

Phooey, say the lace makers, who until now have never had to use such strong language. Lace is still more practical for packing than nylon, orlon, dacron or any of their mixed-breed cousin combinations.

To prove that lace is what they just said, they are going to come out this year with everything from lace sports pants to lace-covered raincoats which can take a dowsing like any old cravanetted duck.

We will have luxurious, washable lace negligees, cotton lace swimsuits and beach coats and multi-colored lace dresses that are fancy as all get-out but won't show soil any more than husky monotone tweeds.

With all this practicality promotion, they still want to keep lace the most elegant material in fashion — the fabric of queens, as indeed it traditionally is.

Therefore they'll also be telling the story in department store displays, perhaps, and in folders to home-sewers, of how lace came to be what it is.

Fashionable women in the time of Louis XIV, they'll demonstrate, wore lace dresses in the bathtub. They received callers while bathing, and when they climbed out of their tubs, dresses dripping, they wrapped themselves in lace-edged towels.

Lace is made of anything. It's generally thought of as being made from linen or cotton threads, but Marie Antoinette had her laces made of silk (those are the Chantilly laces) and in 1678 a woman named Amy Potter started making lace in England of heavy wool.

In the Philippines, they make lace from the fibers of pineapples and in Munich, lace was once made from caterpillar webs.

The Countess of Lennox wove a piece of lace from her own white hair to give to Mary Stuart, and Queen Elizabeth and Louis XIV were also known to wear hair lace.

Lace has been found everywhere from the Egyptian tombs of the 10th or 11th Century B. C. to the fanciest trousseaux of 1954.

It is therefore, the lace-lovers point out doggedly, not only the aristocrat of fashion but the fabric which will outlive any new invention that comes along.

Group Entertained by Marilyn Shearer

Members of the Nu Phi Mu sorority, Unit One, were entertained Monday evening at a Christmas party in the home of Marilyn Shearer on West Iroquois road.

Gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served from a table centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and lighted tapers. Pat Diehm will be hostess at the next meeting on Jan. 11.

Climate Ordains Hosiery Shades

NEW YORK (INS)—The Mason-Dixon line is a style dictator, at least in the matter of stocking shades. The farther south you go this winter, the lighter your stocking, and vice versa.

There are definitely two types of stocking colors in fashion this year. Dark, smoky tones and bronzy beige shades are planned for the deep colors of woolens and silks worn in the North. For southern wear the right stocking wardrobe should be light in key, with nude tints and rosy casts.

Hosts to Employes

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moote of Cooley Lake road entertained employes of Fred Moote Electrical Service and their wives Saturday evening for dinner at Rotunda Inn. After dinner, the group returned to the Moote home for a Christmas party.

Wool Is Undergoing Great Modernization

Although probably man's oldest clothing fiber, wool is undergoing research. Efforts to improve fiber quality have been in progress for many decades in such major wool-producing countries as the United States, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand.

Today, sheep improvement programs are carried on in such widespread areas as Pakistan, North Africa and Argentina.

College Couple Lives Far, Far Apart, Dreads Separation Over the Holidays

By ELIABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: My girl and I go to the same college and we're terribly in love. Naturally we want to be together as much as possible during vacations — but we live hundreds of miles apart.

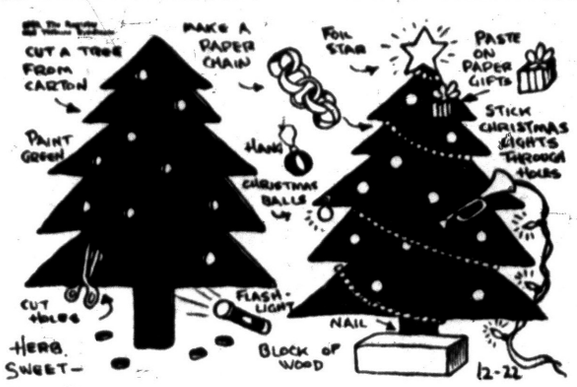

"Our parents demand that we remain at home with them over the holidays — and that's our problem. We naturally want to please our parents — but we dread being separated. What should we do?"

Naturally the holidays would be super-superlative if you two could be together. The parties would be more fun, your family celebrations would have your warmest support. But how, actually, could you work it out?

Your two families aren't being unreasonable in insisting that you spend your holidays at home. They've missed you from the family group — there are things to do together. Your time and attention are the least you can give them in return for all they do for you.

But you might go to visit your girl over the New Year's Eve weekend — if it doesn't cost too much, if her family invites you, if there's anything big and special to do there, if the trip can be reconciled with the date you're due back at college. There are so many ifs that might make such a visit out of the question!

A couple of long distance phone calls may have to do instead. A letter every day will keep you in touch. And just think how happy you — unlike a lot of other young people I know — will be to get back to college!

Try It

Make Gay Little Trees

How would you like to make a Christmas tree? Bobby Funderburk of Charlotte, N. C., makes these and has a great deal of pleasure in seeing the visitors to his home enjoying them.

This tree is made from heavy cardboard, and a side from a large grocery store carton is fine. You can make your tree any size you wish—if you want it for a table decoration it should be about 16 inches tall, or if you want to stand it on the floor it can be 2 feet or more in height. Ask Mother if she wants one for the living room to help decorate for the holidays.

Make several rough sketches, then draw your final pattern right on the carton. Cut it out. Decide what kind of lights you want, then cut small holes over the tree.

Paint the tree green, then tack it to a block of wood to keep it upright. Make little decorations, paper gifts, paper chains and miniature toys.

Cake Recipe Special Treat for Holiday

Economics Teacher Mrs. Crane Offers This Favorite

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When we asked Mrs. Emmett Crane for a recipe for this column, she immediately suggested giving us her recipe for Bishop's Cake.

Mrs. Crane both practices and preaches home economics. Teaching a full schedule at the high school leaves her little time for anything more than the necessary housework in her new home.

Her marriage in 1953 permits us still to call her a bride.

BISHOP'S CAKE
By Mrs. Emmett Crane

Part I
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 cup flour
¼ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup butter or margarine

Mix and sift the sugar, flour and baking powder. Cream the butter until fluffy. Gradually add the sifted dry ingredients and mix thoroughly.

Spread on a well greased pan (8x8) and bake 15 minutes in a moderate oven at 350 degrees.

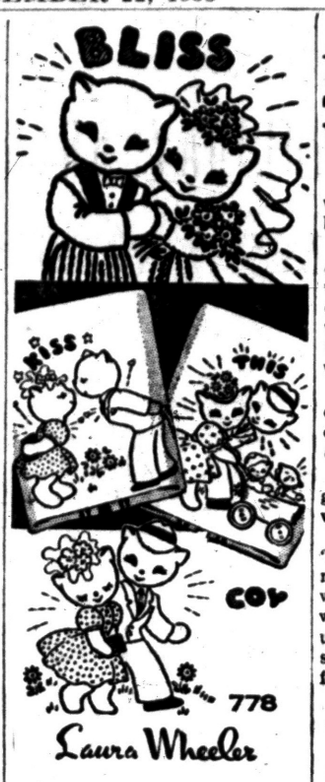

Part II
2 eggs
1½ cups brown sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cocoanut
1 cup chopped nuts
½ cup chopped dates

Beat the eggs until light and gradually add the sugar and flour mixed together. Beat well. Add vanilla, cocoanut, nuts and dates. Pour this mixture over Part I. Return to oven and bake 15 minutes more. Cut in strips.

It's a good idea to put a return address on your Christmas cards. For that's your chance of letting friends you don't write to at any other time during the year have your address. It's always disappointing to get a Christmas card from a friend you've lost track of —and find there's no return address.

You'd like to let him know how good it was to hear from him.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

She and Gloria Swanson Worry About Young'uns

Gloria Swanson and I are worried about the younger generation. This won't cause much commotion in youth circles since older people have been yaking at them since time began.

MISS McBRIDE

But Gloria and I thought we might as well have our say and it would interest both of us to know whether parents, teachers and employers agree or disagree. We maintain that most of the youngsters we run into these days seem to believe in getting all they can wangle without much, if any, thought of what they can give.

"They just calmly tell you: 'I want to be a star,' or 'I want to be president of the company,'" Gloria complains. "It never occurs to them to say: 'I want a chance to work my way up.'

"A book publisher was talking the other day about a boy and a girl who came to him that very week to ask for jobs.

"The girl began by inquiring: 'What salary will I get and how many hours will I have to work a week?' – not a single word about what she could do to help build up his business. The boy seemed solely interested in his credentials for unemployment insurance."

We must have sounded like a pair of disapproving ancients, waggling our heads forebodingly over the young'uns, but perhaps it ought to be explained that this was a conversation between two women who have been driven all their lives by twin goads: The necessity to work hard for a living and a torturing passion for perfection.

Gloria Swanson knew when she was a little girl that she was on her way up — somewhere. But though she has had more than a half dozen careers, all exciting successes, she isn't satisfied.

Associates are always suggesting new projects, saysing they won't take much time.

"Of course I turn them down," said Goria firmly. "I can't do anything that way. When I'm in a play, I spend 24 hours a day rehearsing my lines, harrassing friends to cue me. If I play a game of tiddlywinks or make a batch of candy, I go at it with complete and serious concentration It's the only way I know."

Lawrence Langner, Broadway producer, once asked Gloria what she thought would have happened to her if motion pictures hadn't come along at just the right time.

"Maybe I'd have been a telephone operator," replied Gloria, "and if so, I'd have tried to be the best darned telephone operator in the world."

Yes, and I'll bet that by now you'd be president of AT&T, Gloria. Oh, well, as the prover has it, age should think, and youth should do.

Pontiac Press Photos

Members of the Pontiac Republican Women's Club held a Christmas party Monday afternoon at Camp Oakland where they presented two sleds to the boys living there. Photographed making the presentation was Mrs. Duncan McVean (upper right) of West road. Receiving the gifts were Robert Heath (right) and Bobby Garrison (center).

Greeting the members and guests as they arrived was Hilary Maciejewski. He is shown with Mrs. Albert Kohn, of Dick avenue.

Turkey Dinner Featured

A turkey dinner with all the trimmings was given for boys at Camp Oakland Monday by members of the Pontiac Republican Women's Club.

General chairman of the affair was Mrs. Albert Kohn who was assisted by Mrs. Clarence Senger and Mrs. Grace Schultz.

Following dinner, a program was presented with Franklin Baker leading community singing. Mrs. Amelia Ball gave three readings and Herschel Peters, a representative of Michigan Bell Telephone Company, showed movies.

Mrs. Duncan McVean presented two sleds, which the club had purchased, to members of the camp.

Birthday Party Held for Mary Ann Hall

Mary Ann Hall was honored Saturday afternoon with a fifth birthday party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Hall of Fourth avenue.

Among the guests were Susie, Barbara, Julie and Jimmy Burnes, Michael Myers, Francine Dault, and the honoree's sister, Carol Ann Hall.

Grade Yourself on a Parents' Report Card

ITHACA, N. Y. (INS) — Every parent takes a strong interest in his child's report card—but few mothers and dads ever think of how they'd rate on a report card for parents.

Home specialists at Cornell University point out that parents' attitude toward school-going is just as important as the child's.

And they suggest that each parent ask himself these questions:

Do you take an interest in school affairs: parent-teacher meetings, special parents' days, school meetings, so that you'll be better informed about what goes on in education these days?

When your youngster has trouble with a subject, do you talk with his teacher to find out if there's anything you can do?

The teacher can be very valuable in helping you understand your own child, for she sees him in a different atmosphere than the home.

If your child is complaining about unfairness in the school room, do you take his word for it or do you inquire around to check on the real root of the matter?

If your youngster isn't doing well, perhaps you've never thought that it may be partly your fault. Be sure you provide a quiet time and place for him to study. Since plenty of sleep is a necessity for students, promote a sensible bedtime hour at your house.

82 Attend Areme OES Gathering

Four Are Initiated by Order Monday Evening

Eighty-two members and guests of Areme Chapter 503, Order of the Eastern Star, gathered Monday evening at Roosevelt Temple on State avenue.

New members initiated into the order included Mrs. L. Ross Buffington, Mrs. Orville Duncan, Mrs. Lawrence Lacy and George Kielhorn. Mrs. Lee Murphy transferred her affiliation to Areme Chapter.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Karl Shultz and Mrs. William Isaacson gave Christmas readings, after which the group joined in singing Christmas carols accompanied by Mrs. Claude Kimler at the piano. Santa Claus distributed the gifts from the tree assisted by Chris Hornbeck and Lester Oles.

Guests present were Mrs. John Hollinger and Mrs. Steve Longair from Clarkston and Wallace Morgan from Pontiac Chapter 228.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Vivian Tubbs as chairman with her committee consisting of Mrs. Alfred Martini, Mrs. William Taylor Jr., Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. Sam Garras, Mrs. William Bedard, Mrs. Lillian Miller and Mrs. Grover Remley.

Mrs. Theron Taylor announced that the next regular meeting will be held on Jan. 4 at 4 p. m. with a cooperative dinner and school of instruction following.

Christmas Party Given by PEO

Mrs. Charles Buck entertained members of Chapter AW, PEO, at a Christmas party in her home on Oxford road Monday evening. Mrs. Norman Allen and Janet Matson assisted the hostess.

In charge of the program were Mrs. Clarence Norton and Mrs. B. M. Mitchell. Mrs. Norton narrated a strip film, "Joseph and the Nativity". Elda Sutter accompanied group singing of Christmas carols. Soloists were Mrs. L. G. Rowley and Mrs. George Putnam. The next meeting will be held in Mrs. Rowley's Williams Lake road home on Jan. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kraus of Franklin boulevard are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy L., to James L. Madden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Madden of Rochester. A June wedding is planned.

Suedes Require Extra Cleaning

It is said "you can always tell a lady by the heels of her shoes," which points up the problem of keeping fashionable suede footwear spic and span during winter months.

Here are a few tips to help a lady keep her best foot forward.

Brush suede shoes carefully and frequently with a wire brush to remove dust and lint. Stubborn shiny spots can be removed with fine sand paper.

To remove mud, simply let the sticky stuff dry, then slake it off. Brush the spots briskly with a wire brush to remove excess dust.

Use suede cleaner to give a new look to your shoes when they begin to look worn.

Holds Tucked Scarf

Coming Events

Ladies Auxiliary to Eagles Aerie 1230 will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the hall at 289 W. Montcalm St.

WCTU Groups Mark Season

Several groups of the Federation of the WCTU met recently in First Baptist Church for a cooperative dinner and Christmas party.

Mrs. Icie Clemens described the birth of Christ as taken from the second chapter of Matthew. She closed the devotional period with prayer.

Mrs. George Perkins of Royal Oak gave several numbers with Mrs. Ruth Mason at the piano. Mrs. Hazel Green, new 18th District president, presented Mrs. John Little, retiring president, with a gold and pearl WCTU pin in recognition of her 20 years of service in the WCTU.

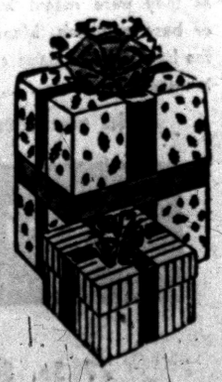

Mrs. George Perkins and Mrs. Josephine Dietrich gave Christmas readings.

Big Coffee News!
Now! A coffee so different from all other instants that every spoonful gives you up to 33% MORE FLAVOR!
FLAVOR is what you want in coffee—and true, wonderfully rich flavor is what you get in today's Borden's.
Here's a coffee unlike any other in the world, instant or ground!
Borden's new, exclusive Flavor-Control process keeps all the flavor IN—and all the air OUT—of each tiny crystal of real, 100% pure coffee.
Because Borden's is solid flavor crystals —not air-filled bubbles like other leading instant coffees—every spoonful gives you up to 33% more flavor, richer flavor.
Borden's saves you money, too—25¢ or more compared to a pound of ground coffee.
NEW Flavor-Control Process!

Other instants—Hollow Bubbles
Other instant coffees are bubbles filled with air—contain both air and coffee.
Borden's Solid Coffee Crystals
Borden's flavor crystals are all coffee —no air—solid flavor through and through.
This difference means that every spoonful of new Borden's gives you up to 33% MORE FLAVOR than all other instants—thus a richer cup of coffee every time.
No Other Coffee Like It!
Now at your store in the same familiar jar.
TASTE IT! COMPARE IT! YOU'LL BE CONVINCED!

Let Youngster Share in Yuletide Fun by Wrapping Own Gift Packages

New Fashioned Bra Has Inner Support

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (INS) — The competition between brassiere makers to think up new figure aids is so fierce that concerns now are patenting their ideas.

One patent has been granted for an "Innamold" bra which features a specially-added inner sling of flannel. Elastic attaches the flannel support to the shoulder strap buckles, and the company says this is the first bra ever made with this type of inner support.

Ninety-eight per cent of the world's fish catch comes from the Northern Hemisphere.

Small Fry Will Enjoy This Chore

Simple Decorating Is Not Too Difficult for Child

Half the fun and sparkle of Christmas morning lies in seeing it through the eyes of a child.

It's a day that belongs to children, really, so why not let them take part in the holiday preparations as well as in the day itself?

One of the best ways to do this without slowing down the necessary actual preparations is to let the small fry wrap the gifts that they will hand or send to others.

This will give them something to do (keeping them out of your hair) and at the same time, let them feel that they're participating in the holiday excitement.

If you feel that Christmas gift wrapping is too difficult for a small child to attempt, remember that kindergarten-age children work with construction paper, build miniature houses and farmyards and love making things with their hands.

If, for instance, the gift is light in weight, it's a simple matter to cut two socks from any gift-wrap paper and tape the edges together with matching colored tape. This also is a good solution for an odd-shaped gift.

You'll have to work along with your child to get him started but once he has the idea, he'll want to do it all himself. And what if his efforts aren't perfect?

As decoration for any package, suggest that he try cutting a Christmas tree from green construction paper. This is done by folding paper in half and cutting simple tree pattern.

To trim the tree, make a chain of red loops from paper. These are the regular kindergarten loops, taped or glued together.

A toy drum is created from any round box or an oatmeal box cut up. To cover the side of box, cut a strip the exact height of box and long enough to go around with a bit for overlap.

Cut a round piece of paper for the top and fasten it on with tape. As bow trim, tie red and green lolly-pops together with red ribbon and tape them to top of the drum.

For a snowman bow, use two white pompom bows to form the body and top them with a small silver tree ornament for the head.

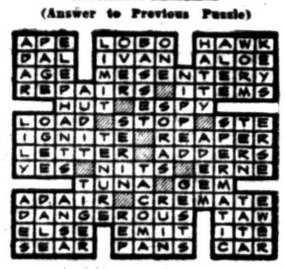

Hat is cut from black construction paper. Eyes and buttons can be cut from any colored paper to blend in with gift paper used on box that snowman adorns.

Santa's pack is easy to copy. Cut gift-wrap paper in shape of an ordinary paper bag, taping three sides. This is especially good for small, lightweight toys used for Christmas parites at school or church.

Reinforce Sheets

New Cream for Dry Skin

They say the season for extra skin dryness is here again.

But when discussing the season for dry skin, think of the story of the salesman who always had an excuse for not making his quota of sales. In the summer he blamed it on the "hot weather and summer vacations." In the winter, the lazy salesman blamed his failure on "bad weather, holidays and winter vacations."

And so it is with dry skin.

In the winter, the foe to our skin textures are over-heated, moistureless homes and offices. In the summer, skin dryness is caused by our exposure to the dehydrating effects of sun and wind.

If we allow the condition to continue to exist, it can become dangerous because dryness is usually the basic cause of premature wrinkles and those pesky, little crows' feet which mar eye beauty.

But it is possible to do something about dry skin. And the Aladdin words are "lanolin" . . . "more lanolin" . . . and "lots of lanolin."

So to meet this problem, magicians of skin and hair care, have designed a nourishing cream for dry skin.

Constant and lavish use of this lanolin-rich cream will do much to beautify and soften your complexion to becoming loveliness.

PETUNIA!

Hills Club Plans Party for Juniors

January 2 Dance to Open New Year for School Set

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Following the Watch Night Parties at most of the country clubs in the vicinity, Bloomfield Hills Country Club will open the new year with a dance for juniors Jan. 2. Many members of the school set, home for the holidays, will be hosts at house dinners preceding the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Nance of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. James J. Nance's father, Louis Gordon Battelle of Dayton, will spend Christmas at the James J. Nance home on Lone Pine road.

Marcia Nance arrived home today from Smith College where she is president of her senior class. Several schoolmates will come here after Friday to spend the weekend. Carol Ballantyne will arrive from Glencoe, Ill. and Gretchen Storch form Kenilworth, Ill. And Mrs. Nance's niece, Phyllis Battelle, is coming from New York for Christmas.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Martin Jr. have as their guest for the holidays Mrs. Martin's mother, Mrs. E. Kay Ford of Bethlehem, Pa. Mrs. Ford formerly lived in Grosse Pointe.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Breech will be hosts at a dinner party next Tuesday evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keller of Wilmington, De., who are in Detroit for Christmas.

Other guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Dockson, Mr. and Mrs. Ozzie Olson, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Slaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Whyte, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Haines, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gargaro and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Forster Jr.

One of the nicest holiday parties will be the square dance Deborah Hoey, Sandra Dusenbury, Becky DeWitt and Elizabeth Gossett will give Monday evening in the Cranbrook Auditorium.

* * *

Mrs. Bretnell Williams of Canton, Ohio, will entertain Monday evening at the spinster dinner for bride-elect Carroll Grylls of Grosse Pointe. Carroll will be married Dec. 30 to Edward S. Reid III of Birmingham.

Mrs. Williams, with Lt. Williams, is spending the Christmas holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus E. Cunningham of Brady lane.

Joan Holt is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman K. Strouse, from Michigan State College. The Strouses will give a cocktail party this Sunday.

Mrs. Gyrll Fischer Bolinder of Stockholm, Sweden, has stopped off en route from California to her home for a visit with Mrs. Albert J. Browning of Quarton road. She will spend the holiday fortnight here.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Fruhauf will give a cocktail and supper party Sunday evening in their home on Brookside drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Briggs Jr. have as their holiday guest Mrs. Briggs' mother, Mrs. Basil Manly of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Flannery are here with their two children from their home in Radnor, Pa. They are dividing their visit between Mrs. Flannery's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Maxwell of Pine Lake, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Perry Williams of Adams road.

An open house will be held this Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woolfenden on Kensington road.

Holiday Observed by Ta-Wa-Si Club

The annual Ta-Wa-Si Club Christmas party was held Friday at the home of Mrs. Harley Hyatt on Earlmoor boulevard. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Carl Monk, Mrs. Rex Atwood, Mrs. Harry Charbonneau and Mrs. Archie Rolliston.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Carr on Crestwood avenue. The meeting will feature a card party to raise funds for a Flag for the Girl Scout troop sponsored by the club.

The excitement of Christmas wrapping doesn't mean much yet to 11-month-old Robert Spraker (left), however his older brother, Frank (Buddy) Spraker, tries to interest him in Christmas packages, as their mother, Mrs. Frank Spraker of Hatchery road, finishes up last-minute wrapping.

Rebecca Circle Has Christmas Meeting

Mrs. Basil Meidlein gave devotions based on "The Christmas Story" and "The Inn That Missed Its Chance" recently when Rebecca Circle of Oakland Park Methodist Church met with Mrs. James George on Lowell street.

After dinner, Mrs. Elton Behnke, chairman of the Christmas program, introduced members of the circle who gave readings on "Gracious Gifts Are Given".

Participating in the program were Mrs. Daniel MacDuff, Mrs. William F. Hotham, Mrs. Lulu Luby, Mrs. Verne Williams, Mrs. John Fuller, Mrs. Kenneth Skelton and Mrs. Behnke.

Mrs. Skelton was announced as hostess for the next meeting at her home on South Marshall street.

Hold Yuletide Party

The Women's Insurance Association of Pontiac held its annual Christmas party at Bloomfield Inn Monday evening.

Table decorations were carried out in keeping with the Christmas season and there was a gift exchange. Members of the committee in charge were Betty Soper, Mrs. Robert Morse and Rose Ajoian.

Brainy Gals Lose Out on Romance

Equal Status With Men Takes Away Beauty, Fantasy

NEW YORK (UP) — Today's woman is twice as brainy as her grandmother, but what she's gained in intellect, she's lost in romance, one authority says.

Dr. Jolande Jacobi, of the faculty of the Carl Jung Institute for Analytical Psychology, Zurich, Switerland, says that modern woman does not hold man in awe as did the woman of two generations ago.

"Woman has solved her inferiority complex on the intellectual level," said Dr. Jacobi, who is lecturing on marriage at the New School for Social Research.

But the psychotherapist says that modern woman's equal status also has eliminated much of the fantasy and beauty from her life. She has become too much of a pal, and as a result, protection, gallantry and courtship have gone out the window.

Dt. Jacobi says men aren't inclined to woo women when they are forced to compete with them for jobs or seats on the subway.

Dr. Jacobi, a grandmother, doesn't see much chance of today's woman reverting to the type of 50 years ago, but she does feel that a successful marriage these days requires a lot of work.

"The perfect marriage," she said, "requires that the partners love each other as they are, and not as wish fulfillment would require them to be."

25,000 1ST PRIZE WINNER IN PILLSBURY'S 5TH GRAND NATIONAL RECIPE AND BAKING CONTEST—WON BY MRS. A. B. KANAGO, WEBSTER, SOUTH DAKOTA.

BAKE AT 350°F. FOR 35 TO 40 MINUTES. MAKES TWO 9-INCH ROUND LAYERS

PLACE—1 cup finely chopped nuts evenly over the bottoms of two well-greased and lightly floured 9-inch round layer pans.
GRATE—2 ounces sweet or semi-sweet chocolate. Reserve
SIFT TOGETHER—2½ cups sifted Pillsbury's Best Enriched Flour, 4½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt and 1½ cups sugar into mixing bowl.
ADD—½ cup shortening, 1¼ cups milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla.
BEAT—for 1½ minutes, 150 strokes per minute, until batter is well blended. (With electric mixer blend at low speed, then beat at medium speed for 1½ minutes.)
ADD—½ cup egg whites (4 large or 5 medium), unbeaten.
BEAT—For 1½ minutes.
SPOON—One-fourth of batter carefully into each nut-lined pan, using about half of the batter. Sprinkle with the grated Chocolate (half in each pan). Spoon remaining batter into pans, spreading carefully so chocolate is not disturbed.
BAKE—in moderate oven (350°F.) 35 to 40 minutes. Let cool in pans 10 to 15 minutes before turning out. Cool thoroughly and frost layers, nut-side up, with chocolate frosting. Spread frosting between and on sides of layers, but frost only ½ inch around top edge of cake and about 1 inch in center. Decorate chocolate frosting with reserved ¼ cup white frosting thinned with 1 to 2 teaspoons water for easier spreading.

Hawaii's Chance to Become State Looking Better

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hawaii's chances of becoming the 49th state in the Union looked much better today after Sen. Long (D-La) announced he is ready to support its bid for admission.

The House last March approved the necessary legislation, but the Senate Interior Committee voted 8-7 to tie Alaska statehood to the Hawaii bill. The Republican leadership in the Senate was unwilling to press for passage under that arrangement.

Long was one of those on the Interior Committee who voted to link Alaska and Hawaii statehood. However, he told reporters yesterday he now is willing to vote to report the bill to the Senate as originally proposed.

Gets Prison Term on Burglary Charge

A breaking and entering charge resulted in John Kelly, 28, of 141½ Oakland Ave., being sentenced to 2½ to 15 years in prison Monday by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Kelly pleaded guilty Dec. 11 to breaking into the Stadium Inn at 352 Oakland Ave. on Dec. 5.

Marines to Feed Korean Waifs

Sergeant's Plea Brings Truckload of Provisions From Folks at Home

U.S. 1ST MARINE DIVISION, Korea (AP)—"I just wanted to see these kids get a little something extra for Christmas," said Sgt. Joseph R. McKinnon, of Marion, Va.

Because McKinnon felt that way, and the people of Marion agreed, cooks of the 2nd Bn. of the 1st Marine Reg., will set up chow lines in a refugee camp near here tomorrow to serve hot soup and a truckload of food to hundreds of ragged Korean children.

* * *

The food arrived in McKinnon's battalion Monday from the people of Marion. There were 74 large crates and packages—the largest single "Santa" shipment ever to arrive in Korea for an individual serviceman.

* * *

Members of the 2nd Bn. decided to ask members of families and friends at home to send packages of food and clothing so they could provide Christmas treats for the refugee children in the area. The battalion chaplain, Navy Lt. Samuel D. Chambers, Easton, Pa., drafted a letter for the men to send home.

McKinnon added a brief postscript—"As a Marionite myself, I know that you will help us, so I have already told the battalion to count on us," and sent the letter to the Smyth County News.

The 74 packages McKinnon received at mail call Monday were Marion's answer.

"This is amazing," said Maj. Gen. R. M. Pate, commander of the 1st Marine Div.

Dig for Ancient City

Brazil Prepares for Jet Planes

Panair Training Pilots and Will Receive First of Comets in 1954

RIO DE JANEIRO (UP)—Panair Do Brasil, the first Latin American airline to contract for jet transports, reports that it has begun training pilots and technicians in the use of Britain's De Havilland Comet Mark Two.

The company said it is to receive the first pair of four contracted Mark Two Comets in the fall of 1954. It has options on yet another brace of Mark Twos, and on three Comets Mark Three.

Panair said the first trainees, who left for London in June, constituted two pilots, a maintenance engineer, and a radio communications technician.

Heading the group was Capt. Mauro Aguiar, Brazil's first jet pilot who already has checked out in the Comets.

The Panair personnel will follow training outlines prepared by De Havilland and the British Overseas Airways Corporation. The Brazilians will remain in Britain four months, and, on their return, will start a training program for Panair personnel here.

While Panair will be the first Latin American airline to fly jets, it appeared Britain's BOAC will win the race to bring the speedy transports to South America.

BOAC officials here said they would make first experimental flights for a Rio-to-London run this fall. The Comets should streak over the route in about 16 hours, compared with 32 hours now taken by giant Argonauts with conventional motors.

Rio's International Galeao airport already is having its landing strips adapted to jet planes.

Friday's Pal Began Acting as Kid Cupid

B BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This may come as a surprise to Dragnet fans, but Joe Friday's sidekick made his movie debut as Cupid in 1916.

This is one of the facts, ma'am, I uncovered in an hour's grilling of Sgt. Frank Smith, known to his friends and movie fans with memories as Ben Alexander. Ben, the rotund, easy-going partner in crime detecting with Jack Webb, is a reluctant actor at this point in his career. After all, look how long ago he started.

* * *

"I was born in Goldfield, Nev., where my father had gone on a mining venture," Ben recounted. "From there we went to Hanford, Calif., where we lived in a hotel. My mother heard they were making movies in Hollywood, so she wrote some studios about job possibilities. They said there was plenty of work, so she and I packed up and came down here.

"We lived on the corner of Hollywood and Vine and the studio was just a block away. I had my first business venture there, selling lemonade in front of an orange grove across the street.

"My first picture was a dilly called "Each Pearl a Tear." It starred Fanny Ward and Lou Tellegen and I played Cupid. They gave me a ribbon for a costume and strung me on a wire. Every time the stars looked at each other, I flew in and shot them with an arrow."

Budding Ben's career boomed after that. His hair was kept long so he could play boy or girl roles. During the '20s, he starred in the "Penrod" series. His best-remembered role was in "All Quiet on the Western Front" in 1930. Universal wanted to sign him up, but the director advised him to hold out until the picture was released.

"When the picture came out, we all looked the same in the German helmets," he sighed. "Not only didn't Universal sign me, I didn't work for a year."

Ben quit films in 1936. Here's his story, on how it happened:

"After being a wholesome boy on the screen for years, I suddenly got cast as a heavy. The last one I did was a lulu called 'Stage Mother.' In that one, Alice Brady beat me to death with a curling iron for attacking Maureen O'Sullivan.

"I've always been friends with Lew Ayres. Once his kid sister was visiting him from San Diego. When I walked into the room, she took one look and started screaming. I decided that was the end of my movie career. I didn't step inside a studio for 17 years."

Ben hooked up with radio as an announcer and got a degree in business at Stanford. With time out for aircraft carrier duty in the Pacific, he rose to become one of the West's best emcees of audience participation shows. He became the pet of the housewives.

* * *

A couple of years ago, he remarked to a radio friend, Cliff Arquete, that he had two ambitions. One was to do a role in the Dragnet TV series. He can't remember now what the other one was.

Arquette relayed the remark to Jack Webb, who sent for Alexander. Ben expected to play a heavy, but it turned out Webb was seeking a new partner. All the others he had tested had been eager young actors who expected to use Dragnet as a steppingstone to their own shows.

Ben wasn't eager. He had had his fill of the movie business. Besides, he had some gas stations and a motel here and a boat in San Francisco Bay. He was intrigued with the hotel business and was negotiating for a hotel in Sauselito, across the bay from San Francisco. But he signed up with Dragnet and has been solving crimes in the quiet Webb manner ever since.

'Oldest Icebox' Contest Wins Church New One

SPEEDWAY CITY, Ind. (INS)—The Speedway City Methodist Church women have a new respect for old age.

The women were offered the donation of an old wooden ice box at the time they were equipping the kitchen in their new church. They accepted it a little dubiously.

Today a brand new model sets in its place, and all at no cost to the church. The antiquated ice box won an "oldest refrigerator" contest in which the first prize was a new refrigerator.

Only whaling station in the U. S. is at Eureka, California.

Air Conditioning Need Foreseen

Will Be Vital Factor in Building of Future Space Ships

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Air conditioning systems will be a vital feature of fugure space ships, according to Frederick H. Green, official of an air conditioning concern.

Green said air conditioning requirements for space ships cannot be eliminated by substituting automatic control equipment.

"Complex mechanisms need the same environment as human beings," he said. "In fact, for some control functions, human beings are more efficient because they occupy less space and weigh less."

The air conditioning system in a ship flying with no outside atmospheric pressure must not only control air temperature and circulation, but cabin air pressure and chemicals in the air as well, Green added.

He cited a few air conditioning problems involved in the flight of a space ship.

Since there will be no atmosphere, oxygen must be provided as part of the air conditioning system, he said. Oxygen will be in the form of liquid.

Green said an absence of gravity will mean there will be no natural convection of air. Warm air will not rise and be replaced by cold air, as it does on the earth.

"A man confined to a small area would soon be surrounded by carbon-dioxide from his own exhaling," Greer said, "eventually causing his asphyxiation . . . Forced circulation reaching into every corner of the ship will be essential."

Radiant heat from the sun will be exploited by the air conditioning system, he added.

By using the theory that black absorbs heat from the sun and white reflects it, the radiant heat can be controlled by painting one side white and the opposite side black and turning one side of the ship or the other to the sun.

A problem still unsolved is the danger of air leaks in the space ship's cabin. Green said passengers will faint before they have time to find a leak that develops in the pressurized cabin. An automatic sealer will have to be devised, Green said. The pressure will have to return to normal automatically to revive those who have fainted.

Green said there are many other problems to be solved and that his Air Research firm is already working on them.

San Antonio Police Bag 6,000 Blackbirds in City

SAN ANTONIO, Tex (AP)—Police used guns and firecrackers today in the final stage of a three-day drive to fell, or shoo, hordes of squawking blackbirds infesting city park.

Two officers who started firing away Saturday bagged some 6,000 birds over the weekend.

Today, men with firecrackers were stationed in buildings around the park to keep the birds from flitting to safety.

Plan your window's wardrobe as carefully as your own. Leading decorators use Venetian blinds as the "basic dress" for every window, and then select curtains and draperies.

Convict Objects

RALEIGH, N. C. (INS)—A petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed by an inmate of central prison in Raleigh because he objected the way he was described in a newspaper article. Referring to the article, which described him as a "violent person," convict Bill E. Holmes wrote: "That this is harmful to my name and chances to make a place in the outside world is plain to see." His petition was denied by Superior Court.

Patent Applications Rise

CANBERRA, Australia (INS)—Before the war, applications for patents in Austrlia averaged about 5,500 a year. Last year there were 8,703 applications and indications are that there will be more this year.

Fragrance Floods Home

CLEVELAND, O. (UP)—Push a button and flood your home with anything from the fragrance of lilacs to the bracing tang of salt sea air. The Union Asbestos and Rubber Co. has manufactured such a unit which, when ready for mass use, can make such variations in household odors possible by simply introducing different substances in the filtering system of a home heating and air conditioning unit.

About 5,000 unpaid volunteers furnish data daily to the U. S. weather bureau.

Mother Is Too Late; Daughters Die in Fire

LEYDEN, Colo. (AP)—Mrs. Earl Spriggs returned yesterday from a neighbor's to find her four-room frame house ablaze. Inside were her two small daughters.

She rushed into the flames and carried 3-month-old Gloria Jean from the building, but too late—the infant was dead from suffocation.

The other daughter, Thyrena May, 2, was burned to death.

Richard Hayman's Vibrato Popularizes Harmonicas

By RICHARD DLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) —In 1953 many new sounds came along on records. There were barks and echoes and groans and others too noisy— if not noisome — to mention.

But the one that may have the most lasting effect on pop music was a simple vibrato (pulsating effect) in the throat.

On one end of this throat is a harmonica. The other end is the property of Richard Hayman. Combine Hayman, harmonica and throat and you have the smooth unharmonicalike sound that made "Ruby" one of '53's top hits.

"I tried to make a sound that doesn't sound like a harmonica," says Hayman, a youthful, studious-looking man who takes his harmonica seriously. "That throat vibrato seems to give it a warm tone."

Warm is an understatement. It turned out to be hot. After "Ruby" came others like "Off-Shore," and now Hayman's Mercury release of "Sadie Thompson's Song" and "Drive-In" is around to sell more harmonicas.

Hayman is a self-taught harmonicker who was with Borrah Minnevitch's Harmonica Rascals in the good old days when they paid more attention to their harmonicas than their rascality.

"I'd been looking for a long time for a song," he says, "which would be good for a harmonica record. 'Ruby' was it, but, frankly, I was surprised that it was such a hit. We knew it was good and had a different sound, but we didn't think it would be as big as it was."

Dick Hayman, while he isn't a harmonica-crusader, is "gratified" that his favorite instrument is now considered more than a toy in pop music.

So are the harmonica manufacturers, who can be seen any day gleefully rubbing their reeds together.

THE POPULAR SIDE: Coming in February is a big new RCA album of Artie Shaw music, culled from radio broadcasts of '38 and '39. I sneaked a listen to the album, and can report it's terrific — all the old Shaw classicals like "Begin the Beguine," "Stardust," and "Carioca."

If it continues at its present rate, Eddie Fisher's "Oh My Papa" will be a million - record - seller in its first eight weeks, a phenomenal pace.

Georgia Gibbs, who gets fan mail from places like Pakistan and Burma, says, "It'd be fine —except I don't collect stamps."

ON THE CLASSICS: The J. P. Seeburg Corp., big juke box manufacturer, has introduced a Hi-Fi juke box — look for it in your neighborhood champagne fountain.

The Saturday Review's annual poll of music critics picked Arturo Toscanini's recording of "Otello" (RCA) as the top classical recording of the year.

SUREFIRE: "Granada" (Frankie Laine, Columbia).

SLEEPER: "The Creep" (Three Suns, RCA).

GOOD ONES: "In the Still of the Night" (Helen O'Connell, Capitol); "Down by the Riverside" (Bing and Gary Crosby); "Poppa Piccolino" (Art Lowry, Columbia); "It's Christmas Season" (Emile Cote Glee Club, Eco);

"Granada" (Monty Kelly); Essex); "Hound Dog" (Burl Ives, Decca); "You Made Me Love You" (Bronk Peters, Columbia); "The Isle of Skye" (Margaret Whiting, Capitol).

POP ALBUMS: Helen Ward, Benny Goodman's first vocalist, is back with a new Columbia album, "It's Been So Long," accompanied by Percy Faith. Old favorites with Helen's pattented driving style.

Mercury has issued a pot pourri of sound from Rita Hayworth's new movie, "Miss Sadie Thompson." There are songs, speeches and music.

CLASSICAL: Tschaikkvsky's Nutcracker Suite and Handel-Harty's Water Music are played by the Philharmonia Orchestra under von Karajan (Angel)

Scriabin's The Poem of Ecstacy and Poem of Fire are played by the Philharmonic Orchestra of New York under Mitropolous (Columbia).

Sweet Music to Lull Studying Attorneys

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A couple of steps have been taken to assure attorneys the ultimate in comfort when they study in the new county law library, a modern structure just completed in the Civic Center.

County officials announced yesterday that the library will be equipped with filters to keep out smog. In addition "melodious, instrumental type" music will issue from concealed speakers. In announcing the dedication ceremonies for next Monday, the officials said the soft music is designed "to induce concentration."

Chinese POW Politely Tells Off Red Explainers

PANMUNJOM (AP) — A smiling Chinese prisoner strolled into an explanation tent today, eyed the Communist Chinese explainers and bowed politely. He took his seat and listened quietly.

Communist interviewers talked on for more than 20 minutes. Then the prisoner broke in.

"Gentlemen, I understand what you said, but I can tell you I have already lost confidence in the Red regime," he told them. "I don't like to blame you, I know that you are employes. I just want to go to Taiwan (Formosa)."

"You know how large Taiwan is?" a Red asked. "It is only a tiny island."

"Yes," the prisoner replied. "I know that. It is tiny. But have you ever seen the sun? It is also tiny as we look at it from here, but the sun, anyhow, shines all around the world and that is Taiwan today. It shines also all over the mainland—China."

Henry Wallops Baker in Sharp Return to Ring

Now Looks Like a New Factor in Heavyweight Picture, Writer Says

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Clarence Henry, back in action after a long layoff, looks like an important new factor in the heavyweight picture.

* * *

Henry gave Bob Baker a sound thumping last night at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway to win a unanimous decision in a 10-round match. It was his second bout in 18 months because he was shelved for over a year due to a damaged optic nerve. The fighter insists it was a shoulder injury but his manager and trainer admit it was the eye nerve, now completely healed.

* * *

"We'd like Earl Walls, Nino Valdes, Ezzard Charles or anybody," said Manager Jimmy Wilson. "Of course, we'd like the champion too but we know we'll need a few more wins before we can start talking about that."

Teddy Brenner, Eastern Parkway matchmaker, said he wanted to match Henry Feb. 15 with the winner of a Jan. 25 bout between Rex Layne and Tommy Jackson.

* * *

Henry fought a smart fight against the lumbering Baker, who outweighed him 211½ to 194½. Stabbing Baker with his sharp left and hooking almost at will, Henry built up a wide early lead. The Los Angeles Negro seemed to tire in the sixth and seventh although he said he was pacing himself.

* * *

The ninth was the big round with Baker moving in to slug it out, only to run into a blistering barrage that drove him groggy around the ring. Baker, hulking Pittsburgh double for baseball's Don Newcombe, appeared ready to go down.

Overtime Tilt Marks 'D' Play

Panthers Win Thriller on Extra Period Goal by Sekulich

First overtime game of the season featured Monday night's City Basketball League Class D play at Lincoln Junior High.

A field goal by Steve Sekulich in the extra period gave Panthers their 3rd straight victory, 22-21, over the Hi-Knights. The two teams were tied 20-all at the end of regulation time.

Senior Hi-Y routed Bogie Lake, 52-14, after trailing 2-1 at the end of a slow 1st quarter. Jack Sprung's 16 points were high for the game.

Police handed Lakesiders their 3rd straight setback, 44-24. Ted Wharry paced the victory with 20 points.

'Evvy' Thinks Desire to Win All-Important

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It is doubtful that the football banquet season, which is now approaching its peak across the land, will produce a more forthright speaking guest than Forest Evashevski, the Iowa coach, whose team played that memorable 14-14 tie with Notre Dame.

* * *

We have not been advised of Evashevski's one-night rates, but if the remarks attributed to him by Tom Mercy of the Flint (Mich.) Journal after a recent high school gathering in that city are a fair sample, then the former Michigan blocking back is worth all the tariff will bear. No quibbler is the Hawkeye pedagogue. After agreeing that some evils had crept into the game, he said thus:

"Some football reformists on college faculties make me sick, though. Most of the ones who seem to know just what should be done to cure all our football ills are men who never played the game and don't understand the sport.

"The first thing most of them want to do is to take emphasis off winning. They list that burning desire to win as one of the evils of athletics. If you don't emphasize winning, there's only one thing left to emphasize, and that's losing. If it ever comes to that, then they can put the game up for grabs and I'll get out. I've got a rich father-in-law, and I can always live on him.

* * *

"I'd just like to say this to you football players—the greatest thing to be learned from playing football is the desire to win. Much has been said for being a good loser, but it's much easier to become a good loser than a gracious winner."

Evashevski attributed much of his team's success the past season to three Negro sophomores from Steubenville, Ohio—guard Calvin Jones, end Frank Gilliam and halfback Ed Vincent.

Alabama Capitalized on Breaks to Land in Bowl

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UP) — Alabama's strategy of waiting for a break often means nothing but heartbreak — for the opposition.

That's the technique the Crimson Tide will employ in its underdog role against Rice in the New Year's Day Cotton Bowl at Dallas and coach Red Drew thinks it may pay off once again with a victory.

On various occasions this season, the 'Bama Red Elephants capitalized on opposition mistakes. In fact they probably wouldn't be in a bowl game had it not been for the way they made a break pay off in a last ditch 10-7 victory over rough tough Auburn in their finale.

An Auburn lineman was detected piling on and Alabama got the ball well into Auburn territory. When Alabama couldn't gain on the ground, halfback Bobby Luna booted a perfect $150,000 field goal.

That 's the amount Alabama receives for its trip to Dallas.

Drew admits this is not a great Alabama team but he insists that it is a mighty good one presenting a "well coordinated combination of speed, determination, and spirit.

Stressing again his strategy of cashing in on breaks, Drew even thinks about the weather. "I remember the last time I took a team to Dallas for the Cotton Bowl. That was in 1942 and it was the coldest day I ever spent."

Nevertheless, Alabama whipped Texas A & M, 29-21.

Junior Fives to End Pre-Holiday Action

Suburban Junior High League basketball teams wind up preholiday action with a 3-game card this afternoon.

Defending champion Washington, nursing a 3-year undefeated string of 21 games, goes to Waterford for its 1st league start. Braves dumped Walled Lake 42-25 in a non-loop opener last week.

Other games today send Jefferson to Lincoln and Eastern's junior varsity to Wever.

All games are scheduled to start at 4 p.m.

Gola Matched With Hagan in Cage Feature

LaSalle, Kentucky Meet in Finale of Wildcats' Invitational Test

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — It's "Gola the Great" against "Hagan the Hands" in tonight's championship showdown of the 1st annual University of Kentucky invitational basketball tournament.

The two All-Americas — La Salle's Tom Gola and Kentucky's Cliff Hagan — will match shots in the season's best pairing of individual stars before an expected crowd of 12,000.

La Salle edged into the title contest with a 62-53 decision over previously unbeaten UCLA last night and Kentucky followed with an 85-69 decision over Duke.

Gola and Hagan led their teams into the finals, Gola by whipping 23 points through the buckets and Hagan by hitting for 27.

Babe Ruth's Widow Plans to Air Series on His Life

NEW YORK (UP)—Mrs. Babe Ruth said today she plans to start a radio and television show centered around the life of "The Babe that nobody knew."

Mrs. Ruth said she hopes to have a series of 77 biographical shows prepared by the time the 1954 baseball season begins.

She has signed a contract to prepare the intimate sketches about the Babe and she also may be the narrator for the show which would be on a national basis and transmitted by radio and television from New York and Baltimore, where the baseball star was born.

"I'd like to make this the real Babe Ruth story," Mrs. Ruth explained. "The one that never has been told to the public. The things he did for children and for his friends. The little personal things about his family life.

"Much has been written about what a great ball player he was but not enough has been told about the other side of his life."

Mrs. Ruth said the program would be sponsored but that there would be one stipulation — "no whiskey advertising or anything that would be a bad influence on kids."

Jagade-Motley Give Cleveland One-Two Punch

Detroit Lacks Regular Fullback, 'Hunchy' Is Filling In

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — Coach Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions concedes the Cleveland Browns' one-two fullback punch of Harry Jagade and Marion Motley give them an edge in that position for Sunday's pro football title game.

"That Motley may be 33," says Parker, "but he plays like 23 against us. We can't seem to stop the guy.

"And Jagade," Parker continued, "he's one of the toughest in the league to bring down."

Parker must drool when he thinks of this one-two punch. He hasn't even had one full-time fullback all season.

Bob Hoernschemeyer, normally a halfback, will start at fullback against the Brownies. Gene Gedman, rookie from Indiana University, will fill Hoernschemeyer's halfback spot.

Hoernschemeyer, an eight-year veteran, had the greatest year of his career—and it came at just the right time for the Lions, who were in desperate need of running strength.

Age suddenly caught up with Pat Harder, last year's regular fullback, and he was placed on the inactive list in the middle of the season. That left the Lions without a top fullback threat.

Ollie Cline, former Ohio Stater, was tried at the position but was too slow. Lew Carpenter, a rookie from Arkansas, gave it a whirl but his inexperience was apparent.

Then Parker turned to Hoernschemeyer, who responded with solid, if not sensational play. He led the team in ground gaining for the 4th straight year, with 482 yards, and was the 3rd best pass catcher, with 23 receptions.

Low-Scoring Games Mark Girls' Debut

Three low-scoring games opened play in the City Junior Girls' Basketball League Monday night.

Missel Dribbles edged Dick & Wes Sporting Goods, 13-10, in the night's closest game. Marva Keel collected seven points for the Dribbles to take game scoring honors.

Skid Kids, paced by Peggy Barber's five points, downed the Baskettes, 12-8, while the Racketeers beat the Unknowns, 21-6, in other games. Joan Van Tassel's nine points were high for the Racketeers.

Cincinnati Wallops UM for 2nd Straight

CINCINNATI (AP)—University of Michigan's basketball team took its 2nd straight loss 81-62 last night from a sometimes sloppy Cincinnati team that was at its best at the free throw line.

After starting the season with three straight victories, Wolverines' defense seemed to loosen. Last night Cincinnati scored 81 points, 31 of them free throws, in 34 tries.

Tom Jorgenson was high scorer for Michigan with 16 points. Jack Twyman was tops for Cincinnati with 19.

MSC Opposes Pitt; Aims for 4th Win

EAST LANSING (UP) — Coach Pete Newell's Michigan State basketball team will seek its 4th straight victory tonight when Pittsburgh invades Jenison fieldhouse.

With most students home for the holidays, only a small crowd is expected.

The game is the last home appearance for the Spartans before they leave on a West Coast jaunt for games with Southern California and UCLA Dec. 30 and 31 in Los Angeles.

Michigan State whipped Southern California 81-63 here Saturday night for its 3rd straight win.

Sparrow Hits 20, but UD Bows to Loyola

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Despite a 20-point scoring splurge by forward Guy Sparrow, University of Detroit basketball team fell to Loyola of the South last night, 79-63.

The Detroit forward took scoring honors in the game but the Detroit defense couldn't contain the fast-breaking Southern squad that was hitting 41 per cent of its field goal attempts against 28 per cent for Detroit.

Signed by Brooklyn

BROOKLYN (UP)—Dodgers announced today they have signed Charles Karpus, 19-year-old catcher who starred in baseball, basketball and football at Stratford (Conn.) High School.

Karpus, who stands 6-1 and weighs 200 pounds, will report to the Shawnee, Okla., club of the Class D Sooner State League next spring. The youngster, who bats and throws right handed, was signed by Dodger sout John Piurek.

Ease Up on Workouts

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Coaches for the North and South college all-star football squads eased up on workouts today to avoid injuries before the Christmas night game in the Orange Bowl.

"From now until game time we will just work out in the mornings," said North coach Stu Holcomb of Purdue. "The boys are looking good and I don't want to take any chances with injuries."

Ex-Cal Gridder Not Haunted

Roy Riegels Gives Annual Answer: No, Famous Run Hasn't Bothered Him

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—"Holy cow, not again!"

That's Roy Riegels' automatic reaction when he's asked—and he always is—whether his famous 64-yard wrong way run in the 1929 Rose Bowl game ever comes back to haunt him.

"Every year at Rose Bowl time, sports writers from all over the country call me up and ask the same question.

Riegels doesn't look or act the part of a haunted man. He is still sturdy and youthful looking, a family man with two sons and two daughters, and assistant secretary of a large food processing firm.

Almost a quarter of a century ago, Jan. 1, 1929, Riegels was playing center for the University of California. He recovered a bouncing Georgia Tech fumble, lost his bearings, and streaked down the field to his own team's one yard line before teammate Benny Lom dragged him down to the cheers and groans of 71,104 fans.

The play set up a two-point safety and the points Georgia Tech needed for an 8-7 victory.

"It could have happened to anyone," Reigels declares, "but I wish it hadn't happened to me."

The boner came just after the teams changed goals at the start of the second half. His second-half play was termed All-America caliber by some sports writers in the press box.

Instead of plaguing him, Riegels said with a smile, the wrong-way gallop actually led to two offers: One of marriage, one of a job. He refused both.

Apparently it bothers others more than it does him. People invariably ask—right after an introduction—"are you the Roy Riegles?" but it's all in fun, he says, and he never worries about it.

No Scrimmage for Bruins

Spartans Drill Hard, as UCLA Tapers Off

By ROBERT E. VOGES

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Michigan State football squad is still collecting bruises while UCLA is coasting, prior to their Rose Bowl meeting New Year's Day.

UCLA coach Red Sanders said he planned a cut back to one-a-day practices after today. Sanders said he did not expect to call any more scrimmage sessions before the game.

UCLA center Ira Pauly was unable to report for practice Monday because of a bad cold and fever but was expected back within a few days.

Munn said that Michigan State would continue twice daily workouts until the end of the week.

"UCLA had good practice weather out here and is probably ahead of us in their preparations," Munn said. "We'll just have to work a little longer and harder to catch up."

The Michigan State camp, meanwhile, took on the appearance of a family party as a group of 20 wives and children of coaches and college officials arrived by train and plane from East Lansing.

Jackson Leads Broncs to Win Over Loyola

CHICAGO (AP)—Led by towering Ron Jackson, fast-moving forward, Western Michigan coasted to an easy 80-68 basketball victory over Loyola of Chicago last night.

It was Loyola's 4th straight loss.

Jackson led in the scoring with 18 points. Loyola took a brief 19-18 lead in the start of the 2nd quarter but quickly fell to a western 3rd period onslaught.

In that quarter Broncos broke loose for 21 points and held the Loyola team to three.

Lane to Offer Player Draft Plan to Frick

CHICAGO (UP)—General manager Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox said today he plans to meet with baseball commissioner Ford Frick next month to explain his proposals for freer drafting of minor league players.

Lane said he hopes to meet with Frick Jan. 7-8 for a discussion on his plan to permit unlimited drafting of all minor league players with four years experience.

Present system allows teams to control a player for seven years, four in the minors and three in the majors.

Hunter Bags Big Buck—by Drowning It!

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—J. L. Pate of Garrison, Ky., told this story yesterday of how he bagged a deer:

While he was standing on the bank of Kinnecnick creek in Kentucky, a deer edged up the creek bank toward him. He was hidden by the brush.

He leaped upon the deer's back, grabbed its antlers and steered it back into the stream where he drowned it.

East-West 11's Start Practice for Shrine Tilt

Gridders Make Annual Pilgrimage to Disabled Tots' Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The East and West all-star football teams today begin workouts after the emotional experience of visiting crippled boys and girls who will benefit from the annual Shrine Charity game Jan. 2.

All profits from the Shrine go to the hospital, which treats crippled children free, regardless of their race, color or creed. In the past 28 years, the contest has produced nearly 2 million dollars for the hospital.

The West, after a morning of picture taking, begins workouts this afternoon at the Stanford University practice field. Stanford's Chuck Taylor is head coach. Jerry Coody, Baylor halfback, arrived Monday, bringing the squad to full strength of 24.

East's last three players, Neil Worden, Art Hunter and Johnny Lattner of Notre Dame, arrived last night and reported to head coach Ray Eliot of Illinois. Easterners begin workouts this morning and pose for the photographers in the afternoon at the Santa Clara campus.

Howe Continues to Top Scorers

Gordie Has Comfortable Edge Over Geoffrion, Ted Lindsay

MONTREAL (AP)—National Hockey League race tightened during the past week but there wasn't a change among the leading individual point makers.

Gordie Howe of Detroit, Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion of Montreal and Ted Lindsay of Detroit held to their one-two-three positions according to statistics released today by the league.

Howe is the champion assist-getter but Montreal's Maurice Richard has scored the most goals —20. That's two more than his closest rival, teammate Geoffrion. Richard is 4th among the loop's point collectors with 31.

Toronto's Harry Lumley remains the circuit's top goal tender. In 32 games he has allowed 52 goals for an average of 1.62. He is tied with Terry Sawchuck of Detroit in shutouts. Each has five.

Ben East Honored as Outdoors Speaker

DETROIT (AP)—Ben East of Holly, Mich., field editor of Outdoor Life magazine, today was awarded a trophy by the world adventure series, whose members voted him the most popular speaker of the 1945-6 season.

East, noted conversationist and authority on natural history, was among 10 trophy winners. Awards were given retroactively, dating back to 1943.

Fate of Some Football Coaches Unhappy; Owen, Munger Are 2 Who Were Pressured Out of Job

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK — As another year starts fading out, leading into the deep fogs and heavy mists of the future, we turn again to the fate of so many football coaches.

* * *

There was Jeff Cravath of Southern California — a coach who led his teams into four Rose Bowl games in eight years — and then got fired. Cravath, as nice a fellow as you'll ever meet, was killed recently in a motor accident.

* * *

Three other coaches come to mind. They are Steve Owen of the Giants, George Munger of Pennsylvania and Forest Evashevski of Iowa. Forest has yet to ride against an adverse tide. The Michigan blocker did a great job at Washington State and he has turned in an even finer job for Iowa.

Evashevski has deserved the faith and confidence Iowa has in him. Minnesota, Purdue and Notre Dame will testify to that. He is facing upward.

But fate hasn't worked so well for George Munger and Steve Owen.

Munger, after 16 fine years at Pennsylvania, unless he changes his mind, moves from the field to the front office. He has had a winning record, one of the best in Ivy League history. It also might be noted you won't find a nicer fellow.

* * *

For example, minus spring practice, facing a heavy handicap, there was only the difference of one touchdown in two Notre Dame games — two of Notre Dame's best teams in many years.

* * *

There is nothing flighty about George Munger. He rides along on an even keel. He happens to be a very fine person and a first-class coach but that isn't enough in this football whirl.

* * *

There is still a third entry in the Whirlpool Sweepstakes. His name is Steve Owen — another great guy. An epidemic of bad breaks recently cut him down.

Steve has been with the Giants for 28 years as a player and coach. For 23 years he has been the head coach. Steve knows plenty of football and he is one of the best in the game in handling men.

* * *

We find more than a few coaches who didn't care any longer to face this whirlpool or whirlwind of college football. Too often they are forced by alumni demands into the proposition of "Win at Any Cost," regardless of the rules.

It's Time Out!

President Curly Byrd of Maryland university was at one time its head coach of football varsity teams.

Gail Peters of Walter Reed Hospital Swimming Club, Washington, D. C., set 13 AAU records during 1953.

Police Guard Screens Spartans From Curious

By ROBERT E. VOGES

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Michigan State's Pasadena practice field has become the mecca for anyone who has ever had the vaguest connection with the state of Michigan or the Spartans.

MSC football team is working out at Brookside Park, in the shadow of the Sierra Madre mountains with only a huge parking lot between the field and the Rose Bowl itself.

Everyone who has ever attended Michigan State, who once lived in Michigan or who has a cousin with a pin wheel factory in Okemos wants to stop in to see the Spartans.

To protect the team from the distractions of the well-meaning curious, coach Biggie Munn was forced to ask for a police guard around the field.

Police also have the more serious assignment of keeping out any West Coast zealots who might want to steal MSC secrets.

There are also all the "old buddies"—every one, to hear them tell it, a dear personal friend of Biggie Munn.

The football field is adjacent to a baseball diamond, former spring training headquarters for the Chicago White Sox.

Turf on the field is good and coaches have only the minor complaint that it has only one set of goal posts for field goal and extra point practices.

Tommy Yewcic, a letter winner as a baseball catcher, casts an occasional wistful look toward the baseball diamond as he sweats during the drills under the hot California sun.

There are still a few stickers and other mementoes of the White Sox, who trained there until last season, around the locker room.

The football players have to use open-type baseball lockers and there are only 10 showers as the building was designed for a smaller baseball squad.

Munn has a new gag about the afternoon practice.

Another Honor for NY

Official Statistics Give Earned Run Crown to Yank Hurler Eddie Lopat

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankees, who last week strengthened their pitching staff by acquiring Harry Byrd from Philadelphia, also will have the American League's earned run leader on their roster next year.

LOPAT

He's Eddie Lopat. Official pitching averages for 1953 release today showed that the 35-year-old southpaw gave up 48 earned runs in 178 innings for a 2.43 ERA.

Lopat, with a 16-4 record, also topped the league with a winning .800 percentage. He is the first pitcher to lead both in earned runs and winning average since Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler of the Yanks did it in 1943.

Billy Pierce, Chicago White Sox lefthander, was runner-up to Lopat in the earned run ratings. He had a 2.72 mark on 82 earned runs in 216 frames. Billy also had the most strikeouts, 186.

Averages compiled by the Associated Press and released last October also listed Lopat as the earned run pace setter with 2.43 and Pierce 2nd with 2.72.

Chicago's Virgil Trucks, who had 20 victories and 10 defeats, was third with a 2.93 mark. He was followed by White Ford and Johnny Sain of New York, each with 3.00; Mickey McDermott, recently traded from Boston to Washington, 3.01; Mel Parnell of Boston, 3.06 and Mike Garcia of Cleveland, 3.24.

Lopat made one of baseball's strongest comebacks last season after missing much of the '52 campaign with a sore arm.

Bob Porterfield, Washington's husky righthanded ace, also had a banner year. He led the league in games, 24, and shutouts, nine.

League boasted four 20-game winners. Besides Porterfield and Trucks, Boston's Parnell and Bob Lemon of Cleveland had 21 apiece.

Davis Cup Test May Hinge Upon Doubles Match

Neither Australia, U. S. Is Set on Combination for Pairs

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MELBOURNE (AP) — The Davis Cup Challenge Round next week is very apt to swing on the doubles yet neither Australia nor the United States is set on its combination.

* * *

Alarmed over Ken Rosewall's timid service, the Aussies have bracketed Rex Hartwig with Lewis Hoad in secret rehearsals held before the Australian selection committee.

* * *

At the same time there continues strong speculation over whether U.S. Captain Bill Talbert again will nominate himself over Wimbledon champion Vic Seixas as the playing partner of Tony Trabert.

Seixas stil lisn't right. On top of his recent knee injury, now cured, he has developed a bad case of boils which require penicillin injections.

While these might be ordinary harassments to most people, they are acute in the case of Seixas, who is of the worrying type and whose highly sensitive game is easily thrown out of gear.

The doubles generally have been conceded to the Australians but Harry Hopman, nonplaying Aussie captain, is not writing it off as a cinch.

"I don't subscribe to the general belief that Australia is certain to win the doubles," he said. "If Seixas regains his form I think the match will be very close."

* * *

The Hartwig-Hoad team may be Australia's best answer to the problem. A strong service is vital in doubles and Rosewall, despite all of his practice, is unlikely to develop an adequate delivery in the next few days.

* * *

It is a good bet Talbert, although he can play top-flight doubles, will stick with Seixas if the Philadelphian regains anything near his old form. The U. S. captain is one of few who believes Uncle Sam's boys can win the doubles.

Most Decisive Edge

Minnesota's 22-0 football win over Michigan the current season was the most decisive over the Wolverines since the Gophers piled up a 39-6 triumph during the season of 1937.

Home Teams Still Maintain Advantage in Basketball

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP) — Basketball players are getting "bigger and better" all the time but, according to Bob Feerick of Santa Clara, at least 85 per cent of the nation's college basketball teams still are "homers" who play best before the local folks.

"I don't think there's any doubt about the percentage being that high," insists Feerick, whose team meets St. John's at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The former star of the pro Washington Caps is proud of his team as a "road outfit" although this is a condition caused by lack of a satisfactory home floor.

"When we get into a tournament on a neutral floor we know we'll do good," he asserts. "But when we go on the road it's bad. The 'homers' have pet spots from which they can't miss and are buoyed up by the gallery."

It is Feerick's judgment that playing at home is worth anywhere from seven to 14 points to the home club.

"Anyhow, I recently saw a visiting team get beaten by seven points which I knew was seven points better than the home team to which it lost," he said.

Two other coaches, Cecil Baker of Utah State and Frank McGuire of North Carolina agreed wholeheartedly with Ferrick.

Brief Training Slate for Tribe

Cleveland Cuts Spring Games to 34, Drops All Tilts With Minors

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Indians announced a short, 34-game spring training schedule today which includes only two games in California and none against a minor league opponent.

Instead of the 10 to 14 days the Indians used to spend playing from San Diego to San Francisco, the Tribe will play only two games in California this year — both at Los Angeles against the New York Giants, March 20 and 21.

Cleveland will play 23 of its exhibitions against the Giants, six against Baltimore and five against the Chicago Cubs.

This is the first time in the memory of the Tribe's front office that the club will not play a minor league opponent.

Among active major leaguers, Stan Musial leads in lifetime batting with .346; Jackie Robinson is second with .318.

Babe Zaharias Plans Return to Tourney Trail

Doctor Gives Go-Ahead to Women's Links Star to Resume Play

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Babe Zaharias never felt better "in my life" and is looking forward to a full-scale return to golf eight months after an operation for cancer.

The famed woman athlete came here for the Christmas holidays and while she was at it had a physical checkup.

It had nothing to do with the operation but, Mrs. Zaharias said, was just to learn whether she had recovered sufficiently to stand the pace of the 15-tournament grind of the women golfers that starts at Sea Island, Ga., Jan. 15.

Dr. Robert M. Moore, who performed the operation last April, gave the Babe the go-ahead.

Mrs. Zaharias plans to compete in all of the ladies professional golf association-sponsored tournaments which extend over a period of about three months and she says she never was playing better.

Mrs. Zaharias is spending the holidays with her brother, Louis Didriksen, at Newton, near here.

Movement Underfoot to Delay Hunting Seasons

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

Associated Press Outdoor Writer

A growing movement to delay the opening of all hunting seasons deserves consideration.

Ray Voss, outdoor editor of the Grand Rapids Herald, has taken up the cause contending that small game seasons, especially, open too early.

The proposal would require the movement of the deer season farther into winter. Voss has suggested that it be delayed as much as two weeks.

This would clear the way for later opening of the grouse, pheasant, rabbit, waterfowl and other small game seasons.

There is no question that hunting conditions are usually much less than ideal in the early days of the small game seasons. Complaint that the foliage is too heavy and the weather too warm are universal.

Voss argues that no real damage would be done to deer hunters by delaying their season, even in the upper peninsula, in these days of more efficient snow plowing of roads.

Hoosiers, Wildcats Still Top Poll

Past Season Big Year Financially for NFL Teams

Detroit Lions Prove Top Money Makers in Pro Grid League

By ED SAINSBURY

CHICAGO (UP)—National Football League teams had the biggest financial year in history in 1953, a survey showed today, and nine of the 12 clubs in the league returned a profit.

Television was a major factor in the dollar gain for the team too, and payments for video rights were the difference between profit and loss for both the Pittsburgh Steelers and the New York Giants. Each club "just made it" into the black ink.

Biggest money makers in the circuit were defending champion Detroit Lions, who picked up the biggest TV payment in the league, $88,000 for rights to home games.

It was estimated the total profit for the Lions, who drew their best crowds ever at home as well as pulling vast crowds on the road, would be over $250,000. In 1952 Detroit also had a good year financially and made close to $150,000 for the season.

Los Angeles Rams, who challenged Detroit for the Western Division title both in 1952 and this year, were rated 2nd biggest money makers with a probable profit between $175,000 and $200,000. Rams too, playing in the Los Angeles Coliseum, with the biggest capacity of any stadium in the league, drew huge crowds steadily both at home and on the road.

San Francisco was rated 3rd with a profit of approximately $150,000 compared to about $196,000 in 1952.

Other teams to show a profit, in order, were the Chicago Bears, Cleveland Browns, Philadelphia Eagles and Washington Redskins.

Chicago Cardinals were the biggest losers. It was estimated the deficit would be over $100,000. But television rights were sold for a large sum and these receipts cut the loss considerably.

Both Baltimore and Green Bay lost "a little money."

Indiana Holds Slight Edge in Weekly Rating

Dukes, Illini, Aggies, West Kentucky Follow Cage Leaders

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Indiana's unbeaten Hoosiers and Kentucky, winner of all five of its games, are still running one-two as the nation's leading college basketball teams.

* * *

The Hoosiers, picked in the preseason poll as the team most likely to succeed and on top ever since, rolled up 933 points in this week's Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Kentucky, seeking to regain the No. 1 spot after a year of enforced idleness, stayed close to Indiana with 896 points and actual 1st-place votes—36-35.

Duquesne, with nine first-place votes and 692 points, held to third place on the basis of a 7-0 record. Illinois also remained in the fourth spot with 514 points but, after the ballots were counted, the Illini dropped their first game of the campaign 65-60 to the Oklahoma Aggies.

* * *

The Aggies (8-1) moved up a couple of notches into fifth place and Western Kentucky (9-0) took over sixth after being 10th last week. Fordham (6-0) also jumped two places into the seventh spot, followed by Minnesota (5-0). Holy Cross was the only newcomer to the top 10. The New Englanders were ranked 14th a week ago. Louisiana State (5-1) dropped all the way from fifth to 14th.

1.	Indiana (35)	933
2.	Kentucky (36)	896
3.	Duquesne (8)	692
4.	Illinois	514
5.	Oklahoma A&M (4)	358
6.	Western Kentucky (2)	331
7.	Fordham (1)	229

Aggies Avenge Only Loss, Beating Illini in Overtime

NEW YORK (AP)—Oklahoma A&M, the nation's fifth-ranking basketball team, has had its revenge on the Big Ten for its only loss of the season.

The Cowboys pinned the first defeat of the winter on fourth-ranking Illinois last night, 65-60 in overtime, and they did it on the Illini's own court at Champaign. The Oklahoma club's lone setback so far was by one point in overtime against Minnesota.

Illinois was one of three major teams which lost for the first time last night. Rice whipped Vanderbilt 79-60 and top-ranking Indiana squeezed past Oregon State 76-72 in overtime.

Kentucky's resurgent Wildcats broke loose in the third quarter for an 85-69 decision against Duke in the first round of its own invitational tournament at Lexington. La Salle defeated UCLA 62-53 in the other first round game.

Ohio State ran up its all-time high total as it overwhelmed the University of Miami (Fla) 106-81 with Paul Ebert scoring 35 points. Minnesota remained unbeaten with a 66-63 triumph over Tulsa. Iowa came from behind to nip Colorado 78-72.

Bradley surprised Southern California 79-64, the third loss for the Trojans on their Eastern tour.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia beat Lafayette 59-57 on a jump shot by Billy Lynch with six seconds to play. California breezed past Hawaii 77-56.

Rangers Sign Veteran Pair

LaPrade, Bentley Are Added to Replace Man Who Was Injured

NEW YORK (UP)—New York Rangers, who lost a player and their tempers in their latest hassle with the Montreal Canadiens, have added 33-year-old Edgar LaPrade and 37-year-old Doug Bentley to their 5th-place team.

Rangers learned Monday that Ron Murphy, rookie forward who suffered a fractured left cheekbone and upper jaw bone in a stick fight with Moutreal's Bernie Geoffrion Sunday night, would be out for the rest of the National Hockey League season.

Both Geoffrion and Murphy were given match penalties by referee Red Storey. That meant banishment from the game and automatic $100 fines for each. It also meant that referee Red Storey would have to turn in an official report to league president Clarence Campbell.

In turn, Ranger officials headed by John Reed Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, protested to Campbell that "utter incompetence" by Storey led to a near-riot by players and fans.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

Best for Squat Bowlers—If you are short, and wide through the midriff, may I suggest that from the start you try what I have found in teaching best suits a stocky person. Begin with a crouched stance, holding the ball approximately in a line ahead of the knees, as the sketch shows. Hold the ball in the palm of the left hand.

And this is important: Move the arms to the right, so that the ball is in line with the right leg, rather than centered. Hold the ball comfortably close in, because it is then easier to push it away from the body as you take your first step.

With this method the right hip clears out of the way to allow a straight-back swing, close to the body—a grooved swing. How well the right hip clears depends on the amount of push-away used to create timed swinging action. Try the "ball to the right" system. Most heavily framed bowlers have good success with it.

The Detroit Lions roster includes 11 former stars in the Big Ten conference.

Hal Boyle Says:

Mrs. Santa Merits Title of World's Foremost Wife

NEW YORK (AP)—Would your wife let you out even one night a year if you spent it climbing down and up strange chimneys?

Certainly not. But Mrs. Santa Claus does—and isn't the least bit jealous of her husband. This makes her the world's most understanding wife.

So why not give a little long overdue recognition to this good gray dame and nominate her "Woman of The Year"? And how about making old Santa himself the "Man of The Year"?

* * *

It is time we make a break in tradition and give these honors to a family team. And who has better earned the award, century after century, than Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus?

* * *

Some time they ought to share a Nobel peace prize, too. It would be hard to name a couple who have done more for international good will.

In an era of doubt they have preached and practiced the bright renewal of belief. They are as old-fashioned as long underwear, but as modern as faith itself must always be. In an atom age they still go on sturdily demonstrating that no man can know happiness who tries to remain an atom unto himself.

Working as a happy team together, Mr. and Mrs. Claus must have brought delight and joy to a billion children in their time in a universal giveaway program that crosses all countries and is heedless of all politics. And they show no signs of retiring on an old age pension or complaining "Children are getting so bad the whole thing is no longer worth while."

So far as I know neither Santa nor his wife believes there is such a thing as a bad child. What other childless couple do you know who have an attitude like that?

* * *

If history records where Santa found his bride, the fact has escaped me. But if there are any more like her, I know a few bachelors who certainly would be glad to propose to one.

Mrs. Claus deserves to be named "Woman of The Year" if only because she has proved a good gal can win fame in the career of housewife, even though she does her housekeeping in a place as remote as the North Pole.

It is well known by the elves that Mrs. Claus actually supervises the North Pole toy-making operations during most of the year. But does she insist on a seat by Santa's side, when he makes his annual sleigh ride around the globe? Not Mrs. Claus. She lets her old man get all the applause, because she believes a woman's place is in the home—on Christmas eve, anyway.

* * *

"Besides," she has placidly confided to friends, "I'm a backseat driver—and with all that pack of toys in the back seat, there really isn't room for me. And besides that, it is just common sense to let a husband out one night a year by himself, and no questions asked.

"You ought to see how glad Mr. Claus is to come creeping home on Christmas morning."

* * *

Between them, Mr. and Mrs. Claus help keep alive a force more explosive than a million hydrogen bombs—the timeless power of human love and understanding in a yearning world eternally lonely for these twin vitamins of the human soul.

Nominations closed. All in favor say "Aye!" Those opposed, say—but how could anybody oppose them?

We give you the "Man and Woman of The Year"—Santa and his lady.

Cold Lowers Grain Receipts

CHICAGO (AP) — Weather provided the stimulus for a little timid buying in most grains at the opening on the Board of Trade today. The market turned irregular, however, after the opening bulge.

Cold and snow over practically all the main growing section of the country was expected to reduce receipts of cash grain at terminals, increase consumption of feed grains by livestock on farms and possibly cause some damage to wheat in areas lacking a protective snow cover.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ cent lower to ¼ cent higher. March $2.04¼, corn ⅛ to ½ higher, March $1.55, oats ½ lower to ¼ higher, March 76¼, soybeans ¼ to 1 cent higher, January $3.00¼ and lard 25 lower to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher, January $16.20.

Air, Chemical Stocks Sagging

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircraft and chemicals were hardest hit today in a declining Stock Market.

The drop went to between 1 and 3 points at the outside in key areas. For the most part, however, changes either way were fractional.

Trading hit a fast pace at the opening and then slowed markedly. The rate for the day was well under yesterday's 1,690,000 shares.

Going lower along with the aircrafts and chemicals were the steels, motors, railroads, coppers, distillers and utilities. Several sections were quietly steady including oils and radio-televisions.

North American Aviation, which has been active and higher for several days, reacted today with a loss of between 1 and 2 points following a highly favorable earnings report.

Lonely Jail Cell for Mossadegh

Ex-Dictator of Iran Has 5 Days to File Appeal of 3-Year Sentence

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A solitary cell today awaited weepy, talkative old Mohammed Mossadegh following his conviction on treason charges. It was not know yet whether he would appeal the sentence given him by a military court.

The five-man tribunal convicted the former Iranian dictator yesterday on 13 counts of trying to unseat Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi last summer and sentenced him to three years in solitary confinement. Mossadegh has five days to file an appeal.

The emotional nationalist leader stood gripping the edge of a bench during the 65-minute reading of the verdict and only mocked the court when it finished.

"I thank you very much for sentencing me," he said. "The sentence has increased my historic glory."

Mossadegh was convicted on charges growing out of his defiance of the Shah's decree dismissing him last August. An uprising led by the present Premier, Gen. Fazollah Zahedi, toppled the old man from office soon after and put him behind bars.

He could have been sentenced to death on the charges, which included illegally dissolving Parliament's lower house, the Majlis, and numerous actions against the Shah and the royal dynasty.

The court said, however, that it had reduced the sentence because of a mercy appeal last weekend by the Shah.

One Killed, Three Hurt in U.S. 131 Collision

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Verna Shilling, 26, of Lakeview, was fatally injured early today when the auto she was driving was involved in a three-car collision at Cannonsburg road and US -131 nine miles north of here.

Miss Shilling died en route to a hospital, the 51st traffic fatality of the year in Kent County. Three other persons were injured in the pileup of cars at the intersection.

S. J. SABOURIN

Fisher Factory Chief Named

Former Superintendent at Pontiac Until 1951 Gets New Post

The appointment of S. J. Sabourin as general factory manager in charge of all Fisher Body fabricating plants was announced today by James E. Goodman, general manager of Fisher Body Division.

Sabourin was general superintendent of press metal tool and die operations at the Pontiac plant before being named manager of the Hamilton (Ohio) Fisher Body plant in March 1951.

Before being appointed to the newly created position, Sabourin was manager of the Patton M-48 tank plant operated by Fisher Body at Grand Blanc.

A native of Alpena, Sabourin was born in 1896 and joined Fisher Body as a metal worker. He rose from foreman to general superintendent, and later to the plant manager posts.

W. S. Hull, of Oberlin, Ohio, a graduate of General Motors Institute, will succeed Sabourin as tank plant manager. J. B. Dorn, comptroller, has been promoted to production manager and J. D. Brooke, replaces Dorn as comptroller.

Business Briefs

The southern Michigan area has topped its 1952 mark in the total of construction contracts awarded, Dodge Reports, a trade statistician, said today. The 1952 figure was $777,319,000. The 11-month total for 1953 was $792,619,000.

Power demand in Detroit Edison's service broke an all-time record for the second time this month with a Dec. 14 peak load of 2,022,000 kilowatts, or about 2,700,000 horsepower. The previous high was 1,988,000 kilowatts on December 9.

In a regular monthly report, the firm also said net earnings in the 12 months through Nov. 30 were $21,335,258, compared with $16,599,717 for the previous 12 months.

John S. Coleman, president of Burroughs Corp., Detroit, has been renamed chairman and federal reserve agent for the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. B. R. Prall, head of Butler Bros., Chicago, will be deputy chairman for 1954.

William M. Day, vice president and general manager of Michigan Bell Telephone Co., was reappointed a director of the Detroit branch for a two year term. Edward E. Brown, board chairman of the First National Bank of Chicago, was renamed to the federal advisory council for a one-year term, and Raymond T. Perring, president of the Detroit Bank, was reappointed to a two-year term on the council.

Set Deadline for Willys Investors to Keep Shares

TOLEDO (AP) — Stockholders of Willys-Overland Motors Inc., have been given until next Jan. 15 to decide whether or not to retain their investment in the company, Ward M. Canaday president, said today. Physical assets of the company were sold early this year to the Henry J. Kaiser interests.

Shareholders who elect to withdraw their interest will receive an initial payment of $14 a share plus a receipt entitling them to their pro rata share of amounts realized from remaining assets, Canady explained. Final distribution of the remaining assets of the automotive business may take "quite a long time," he added.

Reports Store Construction Up

Millions Spent in 1953 for Chain Building and Modernization

A survey of 711 firms operating 24,499 stores indicates that $793,000,000 has been spent this year for construction and modernization of chain stores.

Chain Store Age, a trade publication, said the expenditure ranks second to the record spending in 1951.

Of the total sum, $468,000,000 was spent directly by chains, and $325,000,000 was footed on their behalf by property owners and developers.

An upsurge in development of shopping centers was credited with increasing landlords' expenditures more sharply than chains'. Property developers assume the basic building costs in these projects.

The magazine said more than five billion dollars has been invested in chain store construction and remodeling from 1947 to 1953.

More than 5,500 new chain stores were built this year, and more than 13,000 stores remodeled.

Monkey Can Be Bad as Bull in China Shop

LONDON (INS) — A wasteland of shattered crockery provided mute testimony today to what happens when a monkey gets loose in a china shop.

For four days the monkey, a boy's pet, eluded capture at the hands of pursuing police, animal society officials and whatever passersby felt the inclination to chase monkeys.

Not having done much business with the primate trade, manager Mrs. Lily Robinson greeted her new customer with something less than a cheery 'good morning.'

"The sight of the monkey petrified me," said Mrs. Robinson. "Before I could attempt to grab him he had smashed a complete bone china dinner set.

"Then as I watched he swept plates and bowls to the ground."

Mrs. Robinson shuddered but bravely went on to relate how police finally caught the animal in a rope noose suspended from a stick.

County Death

William Frank Tunningley

LAKE ORION—William Frank Tunningley, 50, of 434 Joslin Rd., died this morning at Pontiac General Hospital following an illness of two months.

Besides his wife, Laura, he is survived by a son and daughter, Sarah Louise at home and William Frank Jr., with the U. S. Army in Japan. Three sisters and one brother also survive.

The body is at Allen's Funeral Home in Lake Orion where service is pending.

Forged Payroll Checks, Gets Prison Sentence

Raymond McPhee, 27, of 27037 Townley St., Royal Oak Township, was sentenced to 1½ to 14 years in prison Monday by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick for uttering and publishing.

McPhee pleaded guilty to the charge Dec. 11 and admitted forging about 21 payroll checks he stole from a Hazel Park garage where he had been employed.

Sentenced to Prison on Breakin Charge

Donald Hill, 19, of 274 Auburn ave., was sentenced to 1½ to 15 years in prison Monday by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick on a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Hill, already on probation for entering without breaking pleaded guilty to the charge Dec. 11. On Aug. 21 he was placed on probation for three years by Judge Hartrick on the previous charge.

11 Admitted to State Bar

Traditional ceremonies in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday marked the admission of 11 new members to the Michigan State Bar.

Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick presided at the ceremony with Circuit Judges Frank L. Doty and H. Russel Holland.

More than 150 relatives and friends watched the proceedings in court room No. 1 as sponsors for each candidate introduced the fledging lawyers and moved that they be admitted to the bar.

Oakland County Court clerk Phillip E. Rowston was sponsored by Judge Hartrick and William C. Hudson of Royal Oak sponsored his son, Clarence L. Hudson.

Each of the 11 candidates was admitted individually and then County Clerk Lynn Allen swore in the whole group simultaneously.

Carl F. Ingraham of Birmingham, chairman of the qualifications and admissions committee of the Oakland County Bar Association, conducted the ceremony. Court clerk Robert Allen substituted for Rowston, the only Pontiac resident to be sworn in.

Roscoe Martin of Rochester, president of the County Bar Association, addressed the candidates on their responsibilities and duties before administration of the oath.

Those admitted to the bar included Rowston of 24 Utica Rd.; Hudson of 1112 N. Pleasant St.; Martin L. Boyle of Milford; James Renfrew of 8149 Hendrie Blvd., Huntington Woods; Allan G. Hertler of 1838 W. Twelve Mile Rd., Royal Oak; Theodore Van Meter, 24711 Rensselaer, Benjamin T. Hoffiz Jr., 23496 Geneva, and William Katsoulos, all of Oak Park; Carl R. Yoder, 4238 Wakefield Rd. and Hiram P. Settle, 3981 Cornwall St., both of Berkley, and Charles S. Hall, 620 W. Saratoga St., Ferndale.

Thieves Break Into, Rob Gas Station of $61

Reds' Lawyer Questions FBI

Challenges Testimony of Undercover Agent From Local 600

DETROIT (AP) — Defense attorney Ernest Goodman has again questioned the testimony of one of the government's surprise undercover witnesses in the Smith Act trial of six Michigan Communists.

Goodman asked Stephan Schemanske, who served as an FBI undercover agent in the Communist party at Ford Motor Co., if he had ever known Milton Santwire, another FBI witness.

Schemanske said he did not know Santwire. Goodman then asked if Schemanske knew that Santwire had lived at the home of Schemanske's parents. Schemanske repeated his denial, and said that he visited his parents only occasionally.

The six Communists are charged with conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government. Schemanske's testimony told earlier of Communists efforts to get control of gigantic Local 600 of the United Auto Workers CIO, at Ford Motor.

Drayton Plains Church Plans Candlelight Service

DRAYTON PLAINS — Carols of different nations will be sung by the Senior Choir at the traditional Christmas Eve service at Christ Lutheran Church at 11 p.m. Thursday.

The candlelight service will also feature the singing of familiar carols by the congregations and the appearance of the Junior Choir.

"New Mangers for the Christ Child," will be the Christmas message of the Rev. Arvid E. Anderson.

Wheat Surplus May Pile Up Despite '54 Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — If weather conditions for wheat are normal or better between now and harvest time next summer, growers may add to a big wheat surplus rather than reduce it under a rigid production control program.

This possibility was indicated yesterday by an agriculture department report estimating that farmers had cut their winter wheat acreage nearly 20 per cent, but that the crop volume may be down only about 14.7 per cent.

The report showed that it would be possible to produce a billion-bushel wheat crop next year. A harvest of this size would be about 50 million bushels more than officials now expect the market to absorb from the 1954 crop.

Thus, the surplus now forecast at a record of 775 million bushels at the start of the 1954 crop marketing year —would be boosted to 825 million bushels.

Michiganders Asked to Aid Pusan Victims

LANSING (AP)—Michigan citizens were asked by Gov. Williams today to help "the many thousand" victims of a fire disaster in Pusan, Korea.

Residents of that city need shelter, food and medicine, Williams said.

He quoted Gen. James A. Van Fleet, chairman of the American-Korean Foundation as saying a mercy ship would sail from San Francisco Jan. 15 with critical supplies and needs contributions.

Once, only 10 to 20 per cent of each barel of crude oil could be converted to gasoline. Now, as a result of technology and scientific research in the oil industry, almost half of every barrel can be turned to gaoline, and that amount can be increased if the need arises.

8 Counties to Join Cow Disease Fight

LANSING (AP)—Eight new counties have asked to come under the federal-state program of continuous testing for Bang's Disease in cows, the State Agriculture Department said today.

If funds are made available, the new counties will bring 71 of the State's 83 counties under the program making Michigan one of the leading states in the work.

The new counties are Berrien, Cass, Van Buren, Jackson, Clinton, Ionia, Shiawassee and Huron, whose boards of supervisors have made the necessary formal requests.

The program is carried out by the State and Federal Departments of Agriculture.

Bang's Disease, also called Brucelosis, causes cows to abort and lose their milk. It is transmittable to humans as undulant fever.

Ferndale Man Crushed Between Rolls of Steel

ROYAL OAK—Donald Smith, 42, of Ferndale, died early yesterday when he was crushed between two rools of steel sheets.

Former Berkley Mayor Appointed Councilman

BERKLEY—Donald McPherson, who resigned as Berkley mayor Oct. 31, last night was appointed to fill a vacancy in the City Council.

The vacancy occurred when Harvey VonBuheler was named mayor to suceed McPherson.

Originally a ship's speed was measured with a log at the end of a long line. This was thrown overboard and the line played out. At regular intervals knots had been tied and these were counted during a fixed time as the line played out. This gave the speed in "knots," equivalent to neutical miles per hour.

ROK Officers to Eat Turkey in Farmington

FARMINGTON — On Christmas Day two Korean army officers will help Mrs. Raymond Layland's family do justice to her 25-pound turkey.

The two, Lts. Yu Yong Song and An Hong Kyoon, are holiday guests at the Farmington home of Mrs. Layland's son, former Sgt. Donald Layland.

Sgt. Layland, as a member of the U. S. 4th Signal Battalion, a unit of the 10th corps, fought in support of the 7th Republic of Korea Division. Lts. Yu and An were with the 7th.

The Koreans have become fond of Mrs. Layland. They call her "mom."

"Mom won't let us leave until we have had a home-cooked Christmas dinner," they said.

"No, I should say I won't," said Mrs. Layland.

Drunk Drivers as Deadly as Lethal Hydrogen Bomb

NEW YORK (INS)—If a bomb fell on America this holiday season, killed 962 and badly injured 13,000 others, the churches would be filled and there would be a call to arms.

But that many people died and were injured in highway accidents during the observances of last Christmas and New Year's. National Safety Council estimates are that about as many will die or be knocked around over next weekend and the weekend that follows. The defense forms slowly.

The Maryland Traffic Safety Commission, whose executive director is Paul E. Burke of Baltimore, informs me that tavern keepers of Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Delaware and District of Columbia have agreed to serve free coffee as the final drink for their departing guests during the holidays.

The "one for the road" may not result in complete sobriety, Burke says, but the public spirited saloon owners feel it will do two worthwhile things:

1.—Medical tests have shown that coffee taken after alcohol has a marked steadying effect and thus the chances of avoiding accidents would be improved if celebrants drink it before getting behind the wheels of their cars.

2.—Serving it "on the house" at the moment of departure would focus attention dramatically on the need for caution at the psychological moment, i.e., just as the guest was about to brave the holiday traffic.

"This year," Burke says hopefully, "when a guest refuses the free coffee and insists on something stronger, the taverns could have a special charge for the final drink. The only price of the drink is the key to the guest's car. The keys to be redeemable the next day or whenever the driver returns to the tavern in fit condition to drive.

Civil defense authorities find it increasingly difficult to sign up skywriters, embryo air raid wardens and the like. They often are accused of being hopeless alarmists. But cup an ear to Gen. Thomas D. White, USAF vice chief of staff:

"It is no longer possible to stop air raids by imposing heavy losses on the attackers. It (was) sometimes possible to stop the repetition of World War II raids by imposing losses as heavy as 10 per cent on the attacking force.

"Now, because of the tremendous destructive power of atomic bombs, unprecedented losses as high as 50 or even 100 per cent of the attacking force would be considered a good investment by a ruthless enemy if just a few of the bombs reached their targets."

If the Russians have a counterpart of our B-47, which they probably have, it could drop atomic bombs on New York City at noon, Philadelphia at 12:09, Baltimore at 12:18 and Washington at 12:22—four cities in 22 minutes.
