

Fire Hazard Crucial in Parched North Woods

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan's north woods are bone dry and imperiled by an explosive forest fire situation today.

Only scant help weatherwise appears in the offing. Scattered showers—but only a few of these in the parched north country—are forecast for tomorrow. The Sunday outlook is for partly cloudy and cooler weather.

More than half a dozen forest fires flared up in scattered locations in the northern Lower Peninsula yesterday afternoon. All were reported either out or under control by evening.

But state conservation authorities said if the situation continues, a state of emergency may be declared.

Four separate forest fires in Crawford and Roscommon counties yesterday swept through some 1,000 acres of timberland, injuring two fire fighters and destroying a Conservation Department fire pumper-truck.

One of the fires burned out of control six hours near Roscommon, destroying 1,000 acres of woodland.

Forest Annis of Grayling and Clifford Fort of Higgins Lake were driving the pumper truck to fight the blaze when the vehicle's engine stalled.

The wind shifted and the fire leaped though tree tops across the highway, trapping the men in a fiery pocket. They managed to break free on foot, but were hospitalized at Grayling with severe burns. The truck was destroyed.

Another blaze swept through 500 acres of timberland near the abandoned-lumber town of Delwaard northwest of Grayling. A third fire burned out 80 acres of woodland near Jennings, south of Lake City, and the fourth destroyed four acres of timberland south of Nine Mile Hill near Roscommon.

The Conservation Department issued a call for volunteers to help fight the big Roscommon area fire.

Conservation workers, state police, local fire departments, and national guardsmen from Camp Grayling were rushed to the scene.

The fire was discovered shortly after noon. It was reported under control and burning itself out at 7 p.m. The fire was fanned by gusty winds up to 40 m.p.h.

AREA TINDER DRY

Milton M. Bergman, the department's forest fire chief, reported that the northern Lower Peninsula, in particular, was tinder dry.

"It's terribly dry up here," Bergman said. "All those fires came in one afternoon and we had to hustle to keep them under control. In some cases, we had to hire local labor to help our own men and call in volunteers."

Bergman listed other afternoon fires as two in Clare County covering about 50 acres each, one of about 50 acres in Missaukee County, one of about 20 acres in Roscommon

County, two small fires in Gladwin County and one small blaze in Huron County.

He said all burning permits have been canceled for the northern Lower Peninsula area above the Muskegon-Bay City line.

"We're hoping for rain this weekend," Bergman said, "but it doesn't look promising. If we don't get it, we will have to ask the governor to issue a proclamation declaring an emergency situation banning all smoking and outdoor fires in the area."

The northern Lower Peninsula, he said, has not received a good soaking rain since early in March. The rain of two weekends ago did not extend up to the northern woods area, he said.

Bergman said a danger situation also existed in the Upper Peninsula, but added that it was not as acute as in the northern Lower Peninsula.

House Pushes Jobless Pay Extension

Hospital Hops 2 Hurdles in Race to Avoid Deficit

The Pontiac General Hospital administration has passed two big hurdles in its battle to stay out of the red this year. Whether a third can be cleared appeared questionable.

Hospital Director Carl I. Flath announced to the Board of Trustees last night that a "favorable" working agreement had been signed with unionized employees, and the county has agreed to increase its per-day hospital rates for welfare patients.

Flath Report Asserts Hospital Not Overstaffed

Trustees of Pontiac General Hospital today began a three-week study of a 122-page report which Hospital Director Carl I. Flath said "will show that personnel-wise, this hospital has a near-perfect operation."

The report was submitted last night in answer to charges last month by several board members that more people were working at the hospital now than when Flath took over last fall with promises to make personnel cuts.

Senate Witness Battling Ouster

Robert Scott Asserts Action Against Him 'Teamster Inspired'

A witness for the Senate Rackets to charge he is being "railroaded" out of a Wayne County UAW-CIO local in retaliation for his testimony against the Teamsters Union and its president, James R. Hoffa.

Robert P. Scott, 51, of 31 Bloomfield Terrace, a former vice president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, said he might invoke his Senatorial immunity at a hearing April 24 at which he has been ordered to show cause why he should not be suspended from Barbers Union Local 552 (UAW-CIO).

Scott, a former Pontiac barber and now a member of the State Board of Examiners of Barbers, charged the local's action was "Teamster inspired" and aimed at "embarrassing my campaign for election as Pontiac state representative" this fall.

The local, in a letter signed by its secretary-treasurer, Elmer Albrecht, charged Scott with "actions caused by you which are detrimental to the best interests" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Showers Will Chill Our Balm Weather

A 62-year-old record was equaled yesterday when the mercury climbed to a pleasant 83 degrees in downtown Pontiac around 4 p.m.

It was the warmest April 17 since 1896, the Weather Bureau reported. Alpena recorded the highest temperature in the country yesterday with 84 degrees.

The bureau said today this warm spell was about to be snapped. It predicted a low between 46-50 tonight with scattered showers and temperatures between 66 and 70 degrees Saturday.

The low preceding 3 a.m. in Pontiac was 60 degrees. The thermometer registered 73 at 1 p.m. crease its per-day hospital rates for welfare patients.

He said the working agreement, which will be in effect until next Jan. 1, represented an end to the tradition that hospital wages are tied to corresponding wages of other municipal employees. The hospital contended that this six-year tradition has resulted in hospital job rates that are out of balance.

The contract was signed with Local 100 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AF-CIO) and will affect wages of both union and non-union hourly employees.

It calls for approximately $35,000 in increases at increments of $60 a year or 1 per cent of salary, whichever is higher. The increases were made retroactive to Jan. 1.

COUNTY RATES HIKED

The new county rates were upped from $25 a day to $33. James Clarkson, chairman of the board's finance committee, said this was "only about 50 cents" less than the average per-day cost of the average patient at the hospital. He believed this deficit could be made up elsewhere.

Flath said the hospital lost $57,739 last year caring for welfare patients at less than cost. He pointed out the loss represented about two per cent of its potential income.

The third hurdle is the $82,500 interest on 1954 hospital bonds that the hospital wants the city to pick up this year. In the past, the hospital has picked the annual interest up. It amounted to about four per cent of the hospital's expenditures last year, Flath said.

Taking into account the new county welfare rates, the hospital might have a surplus approaching $50,000 at the end of this year, if the city picked up the bond interest, Flath figured.

The city already has sent the hospital a bill for $41,250, representing the first installment of this year's interest payment. Although due April 1, the hospital has not yet signed a check covering it.

You'll Be Singing, Too, on Theater Trip

Musical to Thrill Theater Trippers

'West Side Story' One of Hits on Lineup for Press Tourists

"West Side Story," a new musical which will thrill Pontiac Press theater trippers, is one of the big hits of Broadway. And by all rights, it should be.

The colorful production has behind it a list of talent that reads like a Broadway who's who.

The story is by Arthur Laurents, who shares plaudits from audiences and critics alike for his hand in "Born Yesterday," a fabulously successful comedy.

Laurents also authored "Home of the Brave," a serious stage hit of a few years past.

Consider next the composer of "West Side Story." He is none other than Leonard Bernstein, one of show business' most versatile talents and also renowned on the concert stage.

One of Bernstein's latest achievements was the incidental music for Mary Martin's "Peter Pan." He is the composer of such musicals as "On the Town" and such ballets as "Fancy Free."

Thirdly, there is Jerome Robbins, director and choreographer whose talent has been a big factor behind the success of many productions, including "Pajama Game," "Peter Pan," "Bells Are Ringing," "High Button Shoes," "The King and I," "Call Me Madam," "On the Town," and "Fancy Free."

No wonder "West Side Story" is so successful. And with the help of a colorful production and outstanding performers it promises to provide top-notch entertainment for the 250 Pontiac residents who fly to Broadway for a week of theater June 23-28.

Reservations for "West Side Story" and four other top Broadway hits can be made by filling out the coupon on Page 2 of today's Press. The deadline for reservations is May 23.

Fights Hitt Warrant

NAHA, Okinawa (U)—Attorneys for Mrs. Madelyn Hitt of Plymouth, Mich., accused of murdering her 6-week-old son, today asked the U. S. Civil Administration Court here to quash a fugitive warrant from Washington, D. C.

"I FEEL PRETTY"—That's the name of the catchy song pretty Carol Lawrence (right) is singing in this entertaining scene from the Broadway hit "West Side Story." After seeing "West Side Story," you should be feeling pretty good yourself, singing the praises of this lavish production. It's one of five stage hits scheduled on The Pontiac Press Theater Tour, June 23 to 28.

Loosen Nation's Purse Strings

Bank Rates Cut Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has loosened another notch in its curbs on the nation's money supply.

For the fourth time in five months, the Federal Reserve Board reduced its discount rate—the interest charged member banks borrowing from reserve banks.

The action, cutting the rate from 2½ per cent to 1½ per cent, is effective today in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Minneapolis. The seven other Federal Reserve districts are expected to follow suit in time.

In another move aimed at making more money available for lending, the board reduced the amount of reserves which certain banks must maintain against demand deposits.

Effective yesterday, the reserve requirement at central reserve city banks in New York and Chicago was dropped from 19 per cent to 18½ per cent.

Next Thursday, it will go down another half of 1 per cent.

Committee Set to Vote 16-Week Added Benefits

Plan Also Would Aid Those Not Covered by Compensation Program

WASHINGTON (INS)—The House Ways and Means committee was set today to vote an emergency 16-week extension of jobless pay benefits and set up a new plan for unemployed not covered by the insurance program.

Rep. Eugene McCarthy (D-Minn.) said he would attempt to set benefits for all insured workers at 50 per cent of basic wages and provide for new federal standards on a permanent basis.

However, other members said the committee undoubtedly would approve a measure worked out yesterday that compromises the plans for continuing the benefits for a temporary period only.

The compromise would do these things:

—Continue existing state benefit levels, as proposed by President Eisenhower and supported by governors of several states. The size of these benefits vary from state to state.

—Provide for Uncle Sam to pay the $800,000,000 cost of the program for insured workers, rejecting the President's proposal that states pay back the costs within four years.

—Continue benefits for a period of 16 weeks. The President had asked that they be continued for a period 50 per cent of the length (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

See Retail Sales Rise With Spring

NEW YORK (U)—Pleasant weather combined with attractive price promotions this week to give retail sales a springtime lift, according to a Dun & Bradstreet Inc. survey.

Although business was down sharply from the same week last year—the peak of the pre-Easter selling surge—it was slightly ahead of last year's corresponding post-Easter week.

Easter fell on April 21 in 1957—two weeks later than in 1958. Warm weather items got the nod from spring-conscious consumers this week. Lightweight apparel, sportswear, outdoor furniture and garden tools led the best sellers.

Television sets moved briskly in response to marked-down prices, but demand for refrigerators and washing machines was slow.

One of the defendants, Emil Mazy, UAW secretary-treasurer, said the union would appeal the decision.

Miles, Kehoe Opposed in District 4 Contest

The District 4 contest Monday is between an incumbent who has been on the City Commission four years, and a newcomer, who served seven years on the Tax Board of Review.

Floyd P. Miles is seeking his third two-year term. Gerald W. Kehoe is running for office for the first time.

Kehoe, 46, of 14 Cress St. has lived in Pontiac 40 years. An active UAW member, he has been shop committee chairman four times at Fisher Body Local 596, UAW.

Kehoe currently is employed in the maintenance department of the Fisher plant in Pontiac. He attended Assumption College in Windsor, Ont.

Miles, 49, of 103 Summit St. has lived in Pontiac 46 years. He is owner of the Christian Literature Sales, 39 Oakland Ave.

Miles once was employed in the traffic office of Pontiac Motor Division and served as business manager of the First Baptist Church.

Statements by the candidates to The Press follow:

FLOYD P. MILES

"It is my conviction the City Commission should pass such legislation as would help place Pontiac on the highest moral and spiritual plane. Employees serving the city should be of the highest caliber.

"A commissioner should be vitally interested in the material needs of those he represents. He should work for adequate roads, sewers, etc. to serve the people.

"Through the cooperation of the other Commissioners and administrative officials, many miles of curb and gutter and blacktop have been laid in District 4 during the past four years. The Pontiac Creek Drain was extended into the district, correcting a bad drainage problem of many years' standing. Sanitary sewers have been built and several miles of water mains laid. These improvements should be continued on a pay-as-you-go basis.

"Citizens should receive the best possible service without raising the tax rate.

"Ordinances have been enacted during the past four years to correct nuisances of weeds, junk, etc. These have helped, but I recognize there is much yet to be accomplished.

"If re-elected, I will work for the continued improvement of District 4 and the welfare of Pontiac as a whole."

Fox-fire, we learned in yesterday's "Know the Weather" has nothing to do with the weather.

It is a fungus breathing, noticed only at night. Likewise, St. Elmo's Light, known to both sailors and farmers, and some of the rest of us, tells us little or nothing about the weather.

Not understood until World War II, St. Elmo's Light is merely a discharge of positive or negative particles, after one or the other has built up to an overloaded degree on some object.

Ships' masts, tall trees in swamps, aircraft moving through all sorts of clouds, charged differently and accumulating charges faster than they can be dissipated, all collect enough current to produce St. Elmo's Light. More about it in the next release of "Know the Weather."

Sees Ultimate Win for Reorganization

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said today he foresees ultimate victory for a reorganization of the Defense Department along the lines urged by President Eisenhower.

Dirksen, assistant GOP Senate leader, said he is "quite sympathetic to the whole thing," especially in the light of explanations he and other leaders have received at White House briefings.

Eisenhower opened his fight for the program with a nationally televised address before a meeting here of newspaper editors. He received a prompt pledge of vigorous support from 24 of the Senate's 47 Republican members.

The plan also won limited endorsement from the Army Assn., the membership of which includes active, retired and reserve Army officers. The Air Force Assn., previously had endorsed the plan, but the Navy League, a civilian group, has criticized it.

Set May 11 Date of Dedication for Hospital Addition

The new addition at Pontiac General Hospital will be dedicated May 11, the Board of Trustees decided last night.

The dedication will coincide with the beginning of National Hospital Week. During the week, open house is scheduled at the hospital.

Committees were appointed last night to work out details of the observance.

Carl I. Flath, hospital director, said local professional, civic and fraternal groups will be sent special invitations.

Mrs. Raymond Rappaport, chairman of the women's hospital auxiliary, reported that her group was prepared to guide the general public on tours of the new building.

Curve on M53 Claims Life

Detroit Man, 81, Dies; Two Women Injured Seriously Near Inlay

INLAY CITY — An auto crash four miles north of Inlay City yesterday claimed the life of an 81-year-old Detroit man and seriously injured two elderly women.

Magnus Haas, of 8183 Forest Lawn, was killed when a car in which he was riding failed to make a curve on M53 and rolled over two times. He suffered a broken neck and crushed chest.

In the Lapeer County General Hospital in serious condition are his wife, Mary, 65, and Mrs. Anna Primoschitz, 76, of 13900 E. Canfield, Detroit.

Frank Haas, 50, the driver of the car, was treated at the hospital and released. Nephew of the elder Haas, he lives at the same address as Mrs. Primoschitz, his mother.

Haas' 1958 model car, which according to the speedometer had been driven only 491 miles, went into the ditch at a stretch known as "dead man's curve."

He told Lapeer County Sheriff's deputies he couldn't negotiate the curve and that his car rolled over two times. He was not held.

provided by states. These vary from six weeks in Florida to 30 weeks in Pennsylvania.

—Permit insured workers to be eligible for the additional payments until July 1, 1959.

The compromise also called for an entirely new program to aid many workers not covered by the 22-year-old Unemployment Compensation Insurance Law.

Heads of households who could prove they were unemployed and were actively but unsuccessfully seeking work would be eligible for payments under the new program. Some 800,000 of the 1,800,000 present unemployed who are not covered by jobless insurance would be eligible.

At the request of railroad union spokesmen, the measure would not include extended benefits for unemployed railroad workers, as proposed by the President.

Aid to the thousands exhausting unemployment compensation each week has been a key point in the anti-recession program of both President Eisenhower and congressional Democratic leaders.

More than 2,500,000 are expected to exhaust present benefits in the next year and would therefore be eligible for the additional payments. Payments would average about 28 dollars a week although varying widely from state to state.

Youth, 19, Shot by Policeman

In Serious Condition After Attempt to Flee in Ferndale

FERNDALE — A 19-year-old Ferndale youth is reported in "very serious" condition at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after having been shot last night by a pursuing policeman.

Neil H. Williams, of 956 W. Lewiston St., was shot in the thigh by a Ferndale policeman as he was trying to escape on foot after he had been stopped for speeding.

Police declined to name the officer until after he had made a statement this morning to Oakland County Prosecutor Fred Ziem.

Police said Williams' car was spotted traveling at a high rate of speed at Woodward Heights. The officer chased the car and forced it over at Oakridge street in Ferndale.

Williams then jumped out of his car, police said, and was shot as he ran down the street.

GM, UAW Return to Bargaining Table

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union return to the bargaining table today after a one-day recess.

Bargaining on a new contract, which got under way March 25, is believed so far to have dealt with secondary phases, including seniority, job classification and shop conditions.

The union held bargaining talks yesterday with Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. The Ford talks were recessed until today and the Chrysler talks until Monday.

Contracts at the big three expire about June 1.

The UAW has made profit sharing its main goal in collective bargaining this year. It also is demanding an unspecified wage increase and more fringe benefits.

of the union and "membership in a dual organization."

Scott scoffed at the latter charge, saying it referred to his membership in the State Barbers Assn., Inc., a group partially made up of employers and organized by Scott in 1932.

He has belonged to the barbers union from 1927 to 1929 and again from 1944 to date, Scott pointed out.

In his testimony before the McClellan Committee in Washington last fall, Scott charged mainly that the 1948 election at which he and other Local 614 officers were elected was "rigged" by Hoffa.

"My opponent's failure to carry out his responsibility has led to misunderstanding, confusion and a general decline in active participation in civic affairs on the part of too many residents in District 7.

"It is my opinion that a well-informed citizen generally becomes an active citizen and, consequently, an asset to his community.

"Our initial problem is active representation. This I propose to give our residents. District 7 has given Pontiac many fine social, civic and cultural leaders. All of them had one thing in common: they possessed a fighting spirit. Let's return to that type leadership."

MR. AND MRS. DAVID R. STREETER

Romeo's David Streeter Wed in Wheaton Chapel

ROMEO — David R. Streeter of N.J., and the bridegroom's sister, Romeo claimed Carolyn W. Steele of Wheaton, Ill. as his bride in a recent double ring ceremony held in the Wheaton Academy Chapel.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Karl Steele of Wheaton. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. David L. Streeter, 218 Pleasant St., Romeo.

Dr. H. H. Savage, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pontiac, performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with a formal arrangement of Easter lilies, palms and white candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over starlike satin designed and made by her mother. It was fashioned with a long sleeved fitted bodice and full skirt which ended in a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was fastened to a tiny crown of pearls and sequins. She carried an arrangement of red rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

Mary Vugeteen of Muskegon was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Maureen Darroch of Bloomfield, John Streeter, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Allan Streeter of Detroit, brother of the bridegroom, and Ted Honer of Utica. Another brother of the bridegroom, Thomas Streeter, served as junior groomsmen.

Ring bearer was Steven Huntoon of Jackson, and Robert McCarron and Larry Powell seated the guests.

After the nuptials, a reception was held in the Academy lounge. The newlyweds, both seniors at Wheaton College, will resume their studies following their honeymoon trip to the Gulf of Mexico.

1,500 Attend Fisher Rite

Bob Considine Says:

Belgians Hunt Wampum at Brussels Fair

BRUSSELS (INS).—The quickest way to the Brussels Fair is by Sabena, the Belgian national airline, which flies nonstop restaurants from New York to Brussels and also sends clouds of Convoirs and American-built helicopters to the fair from lesser distances.

Bring money. Things are not cheap at the fair or in town, but neither is piracy afoot here. The Belgians are happier to see us than, let's say, the French or Monagues; but they're every bit as cooperative when it comes to exchanging wampum into native currency.

Take out extra insurance if you plan to do any driving in Belgium. The Belgians are not required to prove, either by test or by license, they know how to drive a car before venturing forth behind the wheel.

It's enough to be able to buy one. A car dealer takes a new owner's money, shows him how to open the door and turn the key, jumps back two paces and blows him a kiss.

One phase of liability in accidents is quite simply determined. A man whose rear is smashed by the charge of another car must pay for damage to the car that collided with him.

Plainly, or at least it seems plain to Belgian traffic judges, the car that was struck made some fool decision — such as going too slow—which caused the innocent assailant to collide.

Ed Stone, the architect of the brilliant American Pavilion, told us today there may be a reason why so many who have viewed it exclaim that it seemed to float in the air.

"We were worried about it taking off in a high wind this past winter," Stone said of the $12 million complex.

"We lashed it down with cables when we built it, but now it's steady as a rock."

"The roof is a bicycle wheel with a diameter 20 feet greater than the length of a football field. It rests in the outer walls and needs no further support, any more than a real bicycle wheel would sag if placed across the top of a tub."

"There's no chance that the wind will get under it and lift it off. You see, the hub of the wheel is a whole 60 feet across which is open to the sky."

"That lightens the load and takes the pressure off. It lets the rain in, too, but only on the lake we built underneath the open part of the roof. And whoever heard of water hurting a lake?"

Really, the building is a joy to behold. However, some of the first visitors found the contents a bit too off-beat, especially the prominence given tortuous surrealist sculpture.

An Omaha friend named V. J. Skutt, gravely regarding an object of art which resembled a piece of driftwood rejected by an especially poor ocean, mused, "You know, I think maybe a bust of George Washington or Abe Lincoln would look a bit better."

The Portuguese beat everybody else to the punch in the race to get a national restaurant open.

With workmen still hammering the Portuguese Pavilion together the doors of that country's neighboring dining saloons were flung open Tuesday noon with waiters in immaculate white ties and tails and what turned out to be a larger stocked 50 and 44/100 complete. The maître d' triumphantly brought our group what it ordered,

Junior Editors Quiz on PAUL REVERE

QUESTION: Did Paul Revere finish his famous ride?

ANSWER: During the tense days before the outbreak of the Revolutionary War, 30 Boston mechanics formed a volunteer patrol to keep an eye on movements of British troops in Boston. Among them was Paul Revere, a silversmith who had been a leader of the Boston Tea Party in 1773.

On the night of April 18, 1775, some 800 British troops were dispatched to Concord, 20 miles from Boston, to destroy American military stores. They were to go by way of Lexington to arrest the revolutionary leaders Samuel Adams and John Hancock. The Americans learned of the plan and at midnight Paul Revere and William Dawes set out on horseback to warn the colonists and arouse the minutemen to take up arms. They reached Lexington in time to alert Adams and Hancock, but on the road to Concord, Revere was captured by British scouts. However, Dawes got through Concord in time. Revere was released after a day and he returned to Boston to help the colonists fight the British.

FOR YOU TO DO: Longfellow tells the stirring story of this incident in his celebrated poem, "Paul Revere's Ride." Ask your librarian for a copy.

(For submitting this question, Leslie Murphy of Hickory, N. C., receives $10. If you have a good one send it on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of The Pontiac Press. Tomorrow: Who was the original Biblical Speed demon?)

Famous Poet Awaits Verdict

Ezra Pound May Find Out Today Whether He Stays in Mental Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Poet Ezra Pound may find out today whether he must spend his remaining days in a mental hospital.

Chief Judge Bolita J. Laws called up for argument in U.S. District Court a motion asking dismissal of a 1943 treason indictment against the 72-year-old Pound. The indictment charges the bearded poet betrayed this country by making pro-Axis anti-American radio broadcasts in Italy during World War II.

Pound has been confined since 1946 in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, a government mental institution here. If the indictment is dismissed, Mrs. Dorothy Shakespeare Pound, the poet's wife, hopes to take him back to their home in Italy. He spent 21 years there before being seized by American troops in 1945.

Dr. Winifred Overholser, superintendent of St. Elizabeth's, said in a sworn statement accompanying the motion that "there is no likelihood... no possibility that the indictment against Ezra Pound can ever be tried because of the permanent and incurable insanity" of the poet.

But, Overholser said, Pound "is not a dangerous person and his release would not endanger" others.

Robert Frost, Ernest Hemingway, T. S. Eliot, Archibald MacLeish and other poets and authors have been working to free Pound. "None of us can bear the disgrace of letting Ezra Pound come to his end where he is," poet Frost said in a statement filed with the motion. "It would be too woeful a story in American literature."

Hoping to Use 1,000-Year-Old Ice in Cocktails

NEW YORK (AP) — If health authorities approve, chunks of ice thousands of years old will chill cocktails at a dinner here next Monday.

The 180 pounds of the frozen stuff, cut from a New Zealand glacier dating back to prehistoric times, were flown here this week from the Tasman Glacier on Mt. Cook.

Bacteriologists began a study to find out if the ancient ice is hygienic. If so, it will be served in drinks at a dinner to be given by Sir Leslie Munro, New Zealand's ambassador.

If not pronounced safe, the ice will be used to cool the champagne.

1st 'Space' Poem Written by Navy 'Moon Travelers'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Here is the first poem from outer space — in the form of a message from six Navy men who are approaching the halfway mark today in a simulated trip to the really far-away places.

The men have been sealed in a tiny "spaceship" at the air material center of the naval base here since Tuesday afternoon. Scientists are looking through one-way windows and conducting tests to see how the men react. The test ends next Tuesday.

The men are working, playing cards, sleeping, reading and writing. One held this poem up to a one-way window.

"We're getting far from earth so dear,
"Far from steaks and ice cold beer.
"But we don't mind — this is so much fun.
"In fact we'd surely make a run
"To volunteer next time (maybe)."

Segregationists Win in S. Africa

Vote Indicates Britain Might Lose Country From Commonwealth

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — South Africa's militantly segregationist government has won another five years in power with its parliamentary strength virtually unchanged.

The victory for the ruling National party in Wednesday's election might bring significant changes in the country's relations with Britain, however.

Prime Minister Johannes Strijdom and other Nationalist leaders had appealed for endorsement as an indication that the majority of the country's whites want to establish a republic and loosen ties with the British crown.

A volatile segment of the National party wants South Africa to quit the British Commonwealth entirely. So far the party's top leadership has not come out so strongly.

Strijdom in a victory statement made clear his party will maintain its rejection of criticism in the United Nations of the Nationalist racial policy.

Less than a million white citizens voted for the Parliament which will rule this nation of three million whites, 1,200,000 coloreds (mixed race) and 10 million Negroes.

The United States soil conservation experts estimate if all the farms in the country used the best practices for maximum production, the crop output could be increased 75 per cent.

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

If Nat King Cole's latest release, "Looking Back," doesn't sell a million then there's something wrong with current taste. This record is in my opinion the finest thing Cole has ever done (possibly with the exception of his 1957 cutting of "Stardust.")

This haunting blues-spiritual isn't loused up by a rock 'n' roll beat or a too-lavish treatment with strings, voices, and bells. It's the greatest.

Elvis Presley's latest recording "Wear My Ring Around Your Neck" calls for a mighty unusual girl (or could it be Elvis has fat fingers?)
