I Like, Respect and Need Adams, Ike Tells Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that Sherman Adams was imprudent in his relations with Bernard Goldfine but "I need him" to continue as top presidential aide.

Eisenhower made it plain at a news conference that he has no intention of firing Adams, although he did not say that in so many words.

In anticipation that the President would talk about the hottest Washington subject of the moment, newsmen were packed into the conference room.

Reading from typewritten large cards, Eisenhower said Adams had been imprudent, as Adams himself acknowledged in testimony yesterday before a House investigating committee.

Despite that imprudence, Eisenhower said, he has reached his personal conclusions:

"1. I believe that the presentation made by Gov. Adams to the congressional committee yesterday truthfully represents the pertinent facts.

"2. I personally like Gov. Adams.

"3. I admire his abilities.

"4. I respect him because of his personal and official integrity.

"5. I need him."

Eisenhower then went on to say: "Admitting the lack of that careful prudence in this incident that Gov. Adams yesterday referred to, I believe with my whole heart that he is an invaluable public servant, doing a difficult job efficiently, honestly and tirelessly.

"Almost without exception, everybody seeking public office accepts political contributions. These are gifts to further his political career. Yet we do not make a general rule that these gifts are intended to color the later official votes, recommendations and actions of the recipients. In the general case this whole activity is understood, accepted and approved.

"Anyone who knows Sherman Adams has never had any doubt of his personal integrity and honesty; no one has believed that he could be bought. But he has been, as he stated yesterday, imprudent.

"Ladies and gentlemen, so far as I am concerned, this is all that I can say: all that I shall say."

The news conference attracted 257 reporters. It dealt, for the most part, with the controversy over Adams.

Other highlights were:

HUNGARY — Eisenhower denounced the execution of former Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy and his colleague, Maj. Gen. Pal Maleter.

LEBANON — Asked under what conditions the United States might take military action in the Lebanon crisis, Eisenhower replied he could not answer that precisely. He also said he did not care to make predictions.

Commissioners John A. Dugan, Robert A. Landry and Philip E. Rowston also voted against the ban, while Commissioners Floyd P. Miles, who first proposed it, Milton R. Henry and Wesley J. Wood voted for it.

Miles' proposal came about after a group of Pontiac tavern owners asked the city to let them open at noon on Sundays, two hours earlier than local ordinance allows.

Rowston had originally indicated he would support the measure. Last night he explained that he had changed his mind because the tavern owners had meantime withdrawn their request.

"I therefore believe it best to maintain the present hours for taverns, since prior to the present controversy there have been no complaints to us about their operation on Sunday," he said.

Robbery Not So Bad

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Market Street bank was robbed yesterday for the third time this year — but at least the "with-drawals" kept getting smaller. The bank was robbed of $1,500 on Jan. 20, $611 on May 16 while yesterday's loss was only $80.

Bagwell Offers Symbol

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Paul D. Bagwell, Republican candidate for Michigan governor, plans to make a 236-mile stumping trip in a 1908 Oldsmobile. Bagwell says the car symbolizes the 1908 constitution under which Michigan operates and which he thinks should be revised.

Bridge Collapse Brings Death to 16

TWO SECTIONS FALL — Twisted steel of two sections of the nearly completed new Second Narrows Bridge near Vancouver, B. C., lies in Burrard Inlet after collapsing with a thunderous roar Tuesday and killing at least 16 workmen. Two men are missing and 22 were injured. The $16,000,000 span, replacing the old Second Narrows Bridge, was to have been completed this year.

16 Die as Bridge Collapses

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Two sections of a nearly finished six-lane bridge collapsed mysteriously yesterday in a tangled mass of steel, plunging at least 16 workmen to their death.

Two others were missing and 22 injured.

Skin divers today searched among the twisted wreckage for at least two other workers still unaccounted for.

Twenty survivors of the tragedy were hospitalized but none was reported critically injured.

It was 3:42 p.m. on a hot, sunny, windless afternoon when the two end sections of the 16-million-dollar Second Narrows Bridge over Burrard Inlet gave way without warning.

Forty construction workers were on the steel framework of the pier-supported sections.

Suddenly with a muted rumble, the temporary front supports of the foremost section crumbled and dropped the jutting end of the bridge 200 feet into the wide-churned inlet separating Vancouver and North Vancouver.

The strain jerked forward the concrete pier holding the section behind, and it nosed downward into the water. The two sections, each about 70 feet long, ended their collapse tilted crazily downward like a sagging W with their front part submerged and rear still on the supports.

An eyewitness, Edwin Leitch, said the "frightening roar of the collapse sounded like a continuous peal of thunder lasting about 15 seconds."

A huge crane which had been hoisting steel girders to the top of the bridge toppled and plummeted into the mass of tangled wreckage in the water below.

Some workmen were caught and killed in the tortured, twisted beams. Others were crushed beneath tons of steel and concrete after they dropped into the 40-foot-deep inlet.

One survivor, Don Mitchell said after riding the first section down that "everything happened so quickly there was little sensation of fear."

Partly cloudy with a chance of showers is the weather outlook for tonight with the low around 55.

The weatherman predicts Thursday will be partly cloudy but pleasant with the temperature rising to 74-78.

Friday will be cooler followed by a warming trend about Saturday or Sunday. Precipitation will average around one-quarter inch or less with showers again late Thursday or Friday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 34 degrees. At 1 p.m. the reading was 72.

Bill Hallman, who was driving over the old Second Narrows Bridge 200 yards downstream, said, "The air was filled with shouts and cries . . . The men didn't have a chance."

"When they hit the water I could see some grasp for pieces of driftwood. It appeared about half of the men were trapped under water by the bridge sections. Others were swept away by the current."

Cause of the collapse was not known nor was a damage estimate available. Officials of the Dominion Bridge Co., the contractor, launched an immediate investigation. Atty. Gen. Robert Bonner appointed Chief Justice Sherwood Lett of the British Columbia Supreme Court to make an inquiry.

The giant two-mile bridge four miles from downtown Vancouver was more than two thirds finished and was to have been opened for travel in the autumn. Construction work began two years ago.

How long completion of the bridge will be delayed by the disaster probably will not be known for several days.

Johnson filed 17,918 signatures from 23 counties. Martin filed 16,913 and Mohardt filed 16,399. To qualify, a candidate needs 15,300 signatures.

The trio is part of a splinter group known as the "Democratic Clubs of Michigan." They said they formed the organization in protest to "domination of the Democratic Party by the organization of Gov. G. Mennen Williams and CIO United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther."

"I hope this filing will forever dispel the doubts of those who have for several months been trying to discredit and disparage this growing Democratic organization," said Norton N. Wisok, president of the rebel group. "This filing foretells a strong and vigorous primary fight."

Wisok said the group would decide at their own convention whether to support the Williams organization if it lost the primary but he said it expected to win. The group will meet just before the State Dem. convention in August.

Johnson said campaign finances were his biggest trouble at the present time.

"We have been paying our expenses to date largely out of our own pocket," he said. "We're hoping we will be taken more seriously now and that we can get some financial support for outside groups and individuals."

"Republicans will be foolish if they don't support us in a primary fight against a common enemy," he said.

It's Finally Happened — Eskimo Buys Icebox

GREENVILLE (UPI) — It's finally happened. An Eskimo has bought an icebox.

Word of the sale came from C. J. Gibson, president of a Greenville appliance manufacturing firm.

"The sale of a refrigerator was made last month to an Eskimo living near Churchill, Alaska," Gibson said. "Thanks to the U. S. dollars being spent on projects like the DEW (Distant Early Warning) line, the Eskimos have money these days."

He declined to predict when the recovery would begin or whether it already has started. However, he said: "There's been a marked seasonal recovery—and in some important trades perhaps more than that—in the past six weeks."

Administration officials commented: "It should be remembered, however, that regaining last year's peak still would leave us far short of full employment prosperity — roughly 20 billion dollars short."

"It will take a good while longer to recover full employment."

By End of Year, Say Ike's Advisers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prospects for a dramatic economic upturn before the end of the year are foreseen by some of President Eisenhower's top advisers.

One of them said national production might climb by the end of the year to somewhere near the record rate of 440 billion dollars a year set last summer.

Administration advisers voiced their optimism on the economy in commenting on a prediction by economist Arthur F. Burns of a vigorous and rapid business upturn.

Burns, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers and now president of the National Bureau of Economic Research in New York, made his prediction in a Newsweek magazine interview.

He declined to predict when the recovery would begin or whether it already has started. However, he said: "There's been a marked seasonal recovery—and in some important trades perhaps more than that—in the past six weeks."

Administration officials commented: "It should be remembered, however, that regaining last year's peak still would leave us far short of full employment prosperity — roughly 20 billion dollars short."

Sen. Lodge Suggests Economy Program

LANSING (AP)—The chairman of the waste-hunting Senate investigators says his committee in its first day on the job turned up at least five ways of trimming State Police spending by thousands of dollars a year.

Sen. Harvey E. Lodge, Oakland County Republican, came up with a suggested economy program yesterday after State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs and Ernest Banning, his business administrator, testified at a four-hour hearing.

Lodge heads up a committee appointed by the Senate to study inefficiency and waste in government. It got $5,000 to accomplish the assignment.

Lodge denied the hearing was aimed at gathering information to back Senate insistence on a $116,500 cut from the $11,816,500 House-approved appropriation for State Police.

After the hearing, Lodge outlined these economy suggestions for State Police:

1. Eliminate duplication of traffic patrols on the city and county levels, setting up definite areas for city police, sheriff's men and State Police to patrol.

2. Transfer functions of the $25,000-a-year State Safety Commission to the State Police.

3. Reduce the $155,000 spent each year for janitorial services at State Police posts.

4. Check possibilities for using leased cars on patrol and wiping out the 60 per cent depreciation on

'Rebels' Challenging Williams' Regime

Lists for Aug. 5 Vote Declared Largest in Several Campaigns

LANSING (UPI) — A group of rebel Democrats today promised Gov. G. Mennen Williams a "stiff" primary battle for the first time in 10 years.

With only three hours left before the deadline for filing nominating petitions fell, William L. Johnson, an Upper Peninsula radio station owner, filed petitions which, if valid, qualified him as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Filing along with Johnson were Homer Martin, Plymouth, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator, and Michael T. Mohardt, Detroit, as a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Johnson filed 17,918 signatures from 23 counties. Martin filed 16,913 and Mohardt filed 16,399. To qualify, a candidate needs 15,300 signatures.

The trio is part of a splinter group known as the "Democratic Clubs of Michigan." They said they formed the organization in protest to "domination of the Democratic Party by the organization of Gov. G. Mennen Williams and CIO United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther."

"I hope this filing will forever dispel the doubts of those who have for several months been trying to discredit and disparage this growing Democratic organization," said Norton N. Wisok, president of the rebel group. "This filing foretells a strong and vigorous primary fight."

Wisok said the group would decide at their own convention whether to support the Williams organization if it lost the primary but he said it expected to win. The group will meet just before the State Dem. convention in August.

Johnson said campaign finances were his biggest trouble at the present time.

"We have been paying our expenses to date largely out of our own pocket," he said. "We're hoping we will be taken more seriously now and that we can get some financial support for outside groups and individuals."

"Republicans will be foolish if they don't support us in a primary fight against a common enemy," he said.

At stake in the primary is the nomination of one Democrat and one Republican for:

The 18th Congressional District seat, 12th District state senator, six district seats in the State Legislature, and six county offices.

For the first time in the history of Oakland County, voters will be nominating candidates to a new post of clerk-register of deeds.

This is the result of action by the Board of Supervisors last Friday combining the two posts.

Ten incumbents filed to retain their posts. Two former state representatives, Leslie H. Hudson of Pontiac, and Donald A. Brown, pulled out in favor of higher posts; Hudson, on the Democratic ticket, for the 18th Congressional District and Brown, on the GOP state, for lieutenant governor.

A third former representative — Theodore F. Hughes of Berkley — originally sought the post of county clerk this year, but did not file for the combined post. Mrs. Ruth Julian, also a pre-merger candidate for register of deeds, did not refile.

City Asks Curb on Courthouse Cleaning Dust

City Commissioners last night asked City Manager Walter K. Willman to take steps to curb dust from sandblasting at the Oakland County courthouse.

"The dust that has been raised during the first two days of cleaning the outside of the courthouse has certainly been a nuisance for businessmen and shoppers in the immediate area," said Commissioner Philip E. Rowston.

He suggested that Willman ask the county to provide a canopy or curtain to keep dust from drifting over the courthouse grounds and sidewalks.

The sandblasting is part of the first cleaning performed on the outside of the courthouse since its erection in 1904.

Commissioners heartily agreed that the building was looking better as cleaning progressed.

To Check Personally

WASHINGTON (AP) — George V. Allen, director of the U.S. Information Agency, is leaving today for Belgium to check up on this country's exhibit at the Brussels World Fair. Congressional ire has been aroused over the display of an etching of a partly nude woman. President Eisenhower ordered the on-the-spot inspection.

Who Ate My Lunch?

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Members of the House of Representatives, baited a sandwich with dog food in an attempt to catch the culprit raiding their sandwiches. Senate sergeant-at-arms Slim Hollis admitted the sandwich "tasted awful."

Kerbawy Forsakes Lions for $1 Million With Pistons

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Nick Kerbawy announced that he had resigned as general manager of the Detroit Lions and was accepting a million dollar, long-term contract with the Fred Zollner Corporation, owners of the Detroit Pistons.

The announcement was made this morning at a press conference in the Lions' office.

Kerbawy, who joined the Lions in 1948 as public relations director, notified Edwin J. Anderson, president of the club, of his decision Sunday evening.

At another press conference at noon, Zollner officials were present to confirm Kerbawy's affiliation with the Pistons.

The position as general manager of the Detroit pro basketball team has been vacant since the resignation of Fred DeLano several weeks ago.

There was one report out of the conference that Kerbawy's salary was estimated at $50,000 a year and part of his duties would also be to assist Zollner, the multi-millionaire industrialist, in an administrative capacity.

Here's Listing of Cases Involving Adams' Friend

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Cases involving millionaire Bernard Goldfine before federal regulatory agencies:

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION
Vicuna Case—FTC investigators found in 1953 that Goldfine's Northfield Mills was manufacturing fabric labeled 90 per cent wool—10 per cent costly vicuna that contained an unmentioned 5-10 per cent nylon. FTC closed case in January, 1954, after receiving "assurances" Northfield could cease the violation.
Guanaco Case—FTC in 1956 filed a formal complaint against three Goldfine firms—Northfield, Lebanon Mills and Strathmore Woolen Co. charging them with mislabeling fabrics containing impure guanaco wool. The labels said the fabric contained costly pure guanaco.

The FTC said the guanaco contained the fur of 14 other animals. The firms agreed to abide by a formal cease and desist order effective February, 1957. The case was closed, subject to periodic checkups by the FTC.

Cashmere—FTC is conducting a current investigation into the purchase of reprocessed cashmere by Northfield Mills. The agency seeks to learn whether Northfield is properly labeling the wool as "reprocessed."

Financial reports—The SEC in May 1954 filed a complaint in Federal District Court in Boston charging that East Boston Co., of which the Goldfines owned 70 per cent common stock, failed to file required annual financial reports with the commission starting with 1948.

East Boston Co. is a holding company owning half of Boston Port Development Co., which owns land and buildings in the Boston area. Goldfine personally was said to own the other half of the subsidiary.

The court directed East Boston to file all delinquent reports by Nov. 1, 1955. On Oct. 31, 1955, East Boston asked for an extension of time. The SEC countered with a motion for a finding of civil contempt.

The court found East Boston in contempt and imposed a $20,000 fine to be paid if the reports were not filed within 30 days.

The reports were filed, but in February, 1956, the SEC asked the court to collect the fine because the reports did not comply with the Securities & Exchange Act of 1934.

After a hearing, Judge Charles E. Wyanski in April, 1956 approved a settlement by which East Boston would pay a $3,000 civil fine, and under which East Boston would have 90 days to file corrected and complete reports.

East Boston began filing corrected reports on May 4, 1956, and by June 18 it was up to date with the SEC. But on Nov. 17, 1956, the SEC filed a new petition for a finding of civil contempt charging East Boston failed to submit its report for 1956.

The commission received that report on Nov. 15 and withdrew its petition. There has been no further action since that time.

During the East Boston Company's litigation with the SEC it was involved in another suit brought by a stockholder, George Heddendorf. He charged Goldfine and other company officers and directors with financial irregularities, including loans to Goldfine.

Judge Wyanski now is studying a proposed settlement in that case whereby Goldfine would pay Boston Port Development Co. at least $325,000 and up to $400,000.

Probers Bring Obscure Vicuna Into Limelight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The vicuna—a goatlike animal of the high South American Andes Mountains—has emerged from relative obscurity, thanks to congressional investigators.

Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams acknowledged before a congressional subcommittee yesterday he did receive cloth for a vicuna coat from his friend, Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine. Reports of the vicuna gift had been circulated for several days but were unverified until the testimony.

The vicuna, related to but smaller than a llama, is found in the high Andes in Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia and Northern Argentina. It has a long neck and resembles a small camel in facial appearance.

Fish and wildlife experts said the vicuna lives in herds and is fleet-footed. It is covered with a fine hair or fur, referred to as wool.

The animal produces about one quarter of a pound of very curly wool, harvested by shearing and plucking.

The wool is expensive because of its scarcity. Clothing stores here report costs of 100 per cent vicuna may sell for as high as $1,500. Blends are more in demand and wear better.

Reports surrounding Adams' vicuna coat placed its value at $700. He told the subcommittee the material cost Goldfine only $69.

Searching for Maid of Abducted Boy, 2 1/2

PAGE ONE 2-36 SPAR Searching for Maid of Abducted Boy, 2 1/2

MONTREAL (AP)—Police today sought a German immigrant maid who disappeared when a millionaire's grandson was kidnaped Saturday night. The 2 1/2-year-old boy was found safe yesterday.

The maid, blonde Greta Goede, 40, was hired by Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Reitman only two weeks before their son Joel was abducted from their home.

A crudely written note left in the Reitman's suburban home said both the boy and the maid would be killed unless the family left $10,000 in a downtown Montreal bus terminal.

The couple left the money and police staked out the terminal with plainclothesmen but no one appeared.

The boy turned up in the home of Edward Royer, a taxi driver in Ottawa, 100 miles west of Montreal. Royer said a blonde woman between 35 and 40 years old hailed his cab Monday.

Speaking with a thick foreign accent and identifying herself as Mrs. Greta Braun, she asked him to mind her son while she shopped.

Royer took Joel home and notified police when the woman failed to show up as agreed Monday afternoon.

Ottawa police did not identify the boy as Joel until Mrs. Reitman broadcast a radio appeal to the kidnaper yesterday.

The Reitmans brought Joel home from Ottawa last night. He rushed happily into the arms of his grandfather Sam Reitman, president of a chain of 98 women's wear stores. Cyril Reitman is a buyer for his father's stores.

U.S. Deadlocked Over Releasing 9

Talking Fails to Bring Red-Held GIs Back to West Germany

BERLIN (AP)—The United States ran into a deadlock with Communist East Germany today in negotiations to obtain the release of nine imprisoned U.S. Army men.

The U.S. mission in Berlin announced that the third round of talks at the East Berlin Foreign Ministry was unsuccessful. No date has been set for a further meeting.

Sources said the United States refused to bow to East Germany's demands for full diplomatic negotiations and conclusion of a formal agreement on the helicopter incident.

The American prisoners—eight officers and a sergeant from the 3rd Armored Division in West Germany—were seized by the Communists when their big helicopter strayed across the Iron Curtain June 7 in a storm.

In his third meeting with Otto Winzer, East Germany's deputy foreign minister, U.S. Army Col. Robert P. McQuail spent nearly an hour in hard bargaining.

McQuail, chief liaison officer to the Soviet army in East Germany, came out grim-faced and brushed aside reporter's questions.

Allied quarters expressed fear the talks with the East Germans may be settling down into the marathon-type negotiations conducted with Red China for release of Americans held by Peiping.

The talks with the East Germans apparently stalled because the U. S. State Department is reluctant to yield any kind of significant diplomatic status to the Communists. The East German regime has been trying to wring a measure of recognition from the United States through the negotiations, insisting McQuail bring credentials showing he speaks for the State Department, not the U. S. Army.

The Day in Birmingham Little Leaguers Asking for Help With Program

BIRMINGHAM — Several members of the Babe Ruth and Little League baseball groups are asking city commissioners for immediate help with their programs as well as long-range consideration.

They point out that several conditions, such as stones, ruts and in one instance, a stump, on the diamonds are dangerous to participating youngsters. They also reported that an appeal for aid to the recreation board was turned down "because they had no money."

Commissioners explained that the recreation board is the group assigned to free-time activity programs but is governed budget-wise by the board of education and the city commission.

"It is possible," Mayor Carl Ingram said, "that these requests do not fall under the recreation board's jurisdiction. They may be items that are the responsibility of the city or the school board. In the case of diamonds in city parks, we can assure you that corrections can be made. Those on school property must be decided by the board of education."

Commissioners promised to move forestry department personnel into trouble spots and make necessary corrections and advised contact with the school board for further work in their properties.

Birmingham Chapter's Past Masters Club will meet June 24 at the home of Mrs. William Jones on Franklin road. Members unable to attend the meeting are asked to notify the hostess.

As a part of the summer recreation program, a Teen Center will be operated at Elton Park four nights a week.

Junior high groups will have park facilities from 7 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Wednesday and Friday evenings. Senior high groups will use the facilities Tuesday and Saturday evenings, the same hours. Membership in the Teen Club is $1.

The program will include dancing and sports activities.

Oakland County's prosecutor, Frederick C. Ziem, will speak at the Friday meeting of the Senior Men's Club at the Birmingham Community House.

The discussion group of the club will study various phases of the city's educational facilities based on ideas presented in a recent talk by Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, school superintendent.

Mrs. Edwin Kirbert has been elected president of the Birmingham Rotary Annex.

Other officers are Mrs. Lloyd Lake and Mrs. Clarence Kraft, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. Glen Waggoner, secretary; Mrs. Wayne Stettbacher, treasurer; Mrs. George W. Averill, house chairman; Mrs. Robert Thom, programs; Mrs. Arthur Blakeslee, crippled children; and Mrs. Elmer Huston, courtesy.

Sets High Bond for 2 Officers

Federal Court Judge Decides on $100,000 Each for Detroit Pair

DETROIT (AP)—Two Detroit policemen accused of taking $100,000 in holdups in a four-year outlaw spree were held today in some of the highest bond in Michigan criminal history—$100,000 each.

The federal government's case against Patrolman James R. Burke, 33, described by a police superior as "one of my better officers," and Patrolman David R. Tapp, 26, is being held over until Thursday.

Both Burke and Tapp were brought into U.S. District Court yesterday, the day of their arrests, by the FBI and police. Judge Thomas P. Thornton set the high bond and adjourned the case when Burke asked for aid of an attorney.

Fellow police referred to Burke and Tapp as "party boys" who liked a good time. Both men, each the father of two children, were separated from their families.

The FBI and police said Burke and Tapp admitted a series of savings and loan office stickups and robberies of a bank and places of business in off-duty hours, sometimes wearing disguises including Army fatigue clothes and Halloween masks.

On duty both had relatively good records. Now broken from the force, Burke had served in uniform for nine years and Tapp since 1954.

8 More Backing Hoffa's Story

Say Teamster Leader in Seattle July 9, 1953; Contradict Government

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight more witnesses have testified at the wiretap conspiracy re-trial of James Hoffa that the Teamster Union boss was in Seattle July 9, 1953, instead of in Detroit as the government contends.

Hoffa, Detroit Local Teamster President Owen Brennan and professional wiretapper Bernard Spindel are accused of conspiring here to install eavesdropping equipment in the Detroit union headquarters so that Hoffa could check up on his union underlings.

The government alleges that Hoffa was in the Detroit headquarters on the date in question and got instructions from Spindel on how to operate the telephone wiretaps and microphone "bugs" Spindel had installed.

The defense called witnesses yesterday who said Hoffa attended a week-long conference of the union's internal executive board in Seattle early in July, 1953, and that he attended a banquet at the Olympic Hotel there the night of July 9.

Mrs. Ann La Poma, wife of the secretary-treasurer of the Seattle Teamster local, said her husband introduced her to Hoffa at the hotel the morning of July 9, and that she saw him at the banquet that night.

Frank Pisetti, 18-year-old son of a Teamster official, offered in evidence a banquet program with what he said was Hoffa's autograph beside his picture. He said he had obtained the autograph at the banquet.

The other witnesses also testified that Hoffa was there.

Hoffa's first federal court trial on the charge ended in a hung jury last December. The second trial has been under way for five weeks.

Senate Considering Extended Excise Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's request for extension of present corporation and excise taxes comes up in the Senate today with approval appearing certain.

However, a lively floor fight was in prospect over a proposed amendment to wipe out the 3 per cent freight and 10 per cent passenger taxes. On this the issue looked very close.

Other pending amendments to repeal taxes on automobiles and auto parts appeared to have only a slim chance.

The House passed the bill June 5 without any tax-cutting amendments.

Unless Congress acts to extend them, the wartime rates will drop automatically June 30, cutting Treasury revenues an estimated $2,600,000,000 a year.

nation, a rumor came out of the Lions' conference that Anderson would give up his job as president of a Detroit brewery to become fulltime president of the Lions and also to take over the duties of general manager.

ANDERSON SILENT

Anderson would not comment except to say that the Lions' board would meet soon to make an announcement on the matter.

Anderson said the Lions accepted Kerbawy's resignation "with regret" and he asked Kerbawy even this morning if he would change his mind.

"He has contributed much to the Lions' success since becoming general manager in 1932," said Anderson.

The Lions have won three world titles in six seasons and have played to overflow crowds setting new season ticket records repeatedly the past few years.

Kerbawy said he would stay with the Lions a few more weeks to clean up several details with the football company.

Actor Brings Adopted Tot Home to Meet Wife

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Eddie Albert brought an adopted daughter home from Europe.

The girl is 4-year-old Maria del Carmen, whom he found in a Madrid orphanage.

Albert's wife Margo had seen pictures of the child but hadn't met her until Albert arrived from movie location work in Europe yesterday.

The Alberts have a son, Edward, 7.

Labor Control Bill Sent Before House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A broad labor control bill on which the Senate spent five long days headed today toward a lukewarm reception in the House.

The Senate passed the measure 88-1 last night.

House leaders privately gave the bill little chance of passage. These sources said the House may well pass a union pension and welfare disclosure bill which cleared the Senate in April, but that this would be the extent of action in the labor field this year.

However, Rep. Carl D. Perkins (D-Ky.), chairman of the House Labor subcommittee, noted he already is going ahead with hearings on a general bill, and declared, "We are going to proceed diligently." He did not forecast his group would be able to report a bill for House action.

The Senate wrangled through three 12-hour days and an 11-hour session, and needed another seven hours to complete action on the final day. But members then praised their handiwork.

were also narrowed by the May 31 death of Lynn D. Allen, county clerk for 25 years.

Two women are seeking posts. They are Mrs. Paul (Hope) Gorman, of 144 N. Genesee, Pontiac, for District 2 on the GOP ticket, and Mrs. Dorothy M. Rowley, of 337 E. Jarvis, Hazel Park, for District 6 on the same ticket.

On the other side of the District 2 political race are seven Democrats, including last-day entry, Linwood L. Flack Jr., of 392 Dittmar Ave.

A last-minute bidder for Congressman William S. Broomfield's post in Congress was Oak Park Republican Thomas E. McGuire, 54, of 8832 Woodside Park.

McGuire, a manufacturer's agent, filed on the same ticket two years ago and later withdrew in favor of fellow GOP candidate George N. Higgins of Ferndale.

Besides incumbent Broomfield, and McGuire, candidates for the old Hazel Park councilman, Niparko was defeated in the Democratic nomination for the same seat by Paul Sutton in 1956.

Two Republicans and two Democrats have filed for the post of Oakland County's senator in the State Senate (12th District). Incumbent L. Harvey Lodge, Drayton Plains Republican, is one of them.

Shock Wave Rocks Town in Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Wind, some of them large plate glass, were shattered by a violent shock wave that shook the downtown section yesterday. One woman received minor injuries from flying glass.

Mayor Myrl Hanes blamed a jet plane breaking through the sound barrier but where the craft was based was not established.

Police Chief W. D. Joiner said reports showed that windows were broken in 51 places of business. Four extra patrolmen were assigned to guard against looting. No estimation of property damage was available.

British Penny-Pinchers Give Hotel Keepers Pain

By EARL WILSON

LONDON—This is the time of year that we're always reading of the unpopularity of the American tourists — but there's one slice of Europe that us damn Yankees are popular with — the bellboys, cab drivers and bartenders.

Because we go right on tipping as though we could afford it.

Of course, one reason for our generosity is that we never quite figure out what a sixpence or 10 francs amount to in American money, so we hand the cabbie a handful of the stuff, hoping we haven't overdone it.

But if we get a reputation for doing it on too grand a scale, perhaps that's better than the other extreme. A letter to the editor of The Times is headlined, "THE ENGLISH ABROAD: Need They Behave As They Do?"

It seems according to one Erna Low, that the British travelers have developed a habit of counting their pennies "until they became the laughing stock of hotelkeepers from other countries."

Indeed, this Britisher complained that other Britishers were asking for hot water in their rooms so they could brew their own tea. "Families of four would share one bath and people would bring their own bottles of drink into a hotel bar!"

Skiers who rode cable cars found ways of managing to use a ticket over and over. The British travelers would get into huddles and participate in a new sport—bargain-hunting or "beating down the locals."

"Some British holidayists think nothing of leaving a hotel or restaurant without leaving a farthing for the staff," goes on Erna Low.

"This explains the recent reluctance of hotel keepers to make reservations for British travelers who used to be their favorite guests," concludes the complainant.

I thought you might like to hear about a Britisher knocking the British instead of the Yankees for a change.

Union Head Foregoes Increase in Wages

President DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER has received a letter which he is offering to the public for perusal.

The communication is from the President of Local 1 of The Amalgamated Lithographers of America (AFL-CIO) and it reads as follows:

"Today our local, the largest in the lithographic industry, announced an agreement with management to forego a wage raise for the forthcoming year. Our purpose is simple — to do our part in stabilizing the national economy and to help management at a time when a wage raise could only be passed on in higher prices to the consumer.

"We firmly believe in a close relationship and partnership between management and labor. On it rests the success of American industry and our nation's economy; and therefore the success of our way of life against the threat of Communism.

"In this time of economic readjustment, politics and special pleading must be forgotten. The welfare of the country is paramount.

"We have tried to demonstrate our good faith in this manner. Perhaps the American people may realize that the labor movement, despite the attacks against it and evidences of occasional human failing, is before all else concerned with the prosperity of America."

Edward Swayduck
President

Here is a true group of patriots which is putting the good of the nation first—where it belongs.

Sec. Dulles to Confer With Latin Americans

The economic and political problems of Latin America are coming in for a lot more attention since Vice-President Nixon's unhappy experiences on his recent visit there.

President KUBITSCHKEK of Brazil has taken the initiative in writing to President EISENHOWER proposing "a thorough review and comprehensive reappraisal" of inter-American relations. Out of the exchange of letters has come a decision to send Sec. DULLES to Rio de Janeiro this summer to look into the cause of South American hostility.

Latin Americans feel that too much of our aid is going to Europe. They overlook the fact of vast war devastation there and the dire necessity that prompted our action against the Communist menace.

Judging from what one hears in TV interviews with prominent South Americans, they resent our so-called support of dictators. They say we should "deal with the people." But who then represents the people?

A prominent Latin American editor thinks that what happens in other parts of the world has nothing to do with us in the Americas; that we must stick together as "one big family." Dr. GALO PLAZA, a former President of Ecuador, who sees the problem as worldwide, say underdeveloped countries must be helped to "technify" to balance their agricultural economies. While recognizing the Communist menace, he feels that we place an exaggerated emphasis on it.

Money has been poured into South America by the United States and other Western governments, by the United Nations and various international agencies. The Export-Import Bank has loaned billions.

Underlying causes for their economic troubles are overproduction of coffee and the low prices for copper, lead and zinc. Industrial production is not keeping pace with vast population increases. Too much of their wealth is devoted to the military establishment.

Perhaps our aid has been inadequate but there is a limit to what we can offer. Have South American countries done all they could to help themselves? Is their attitude one of "looking for insults?"

No doubt Sec. DULLES will go into all these matters on his visit to Rio.

It is reported that KHRUSHCHEV has a rather serious liver ailment. Many hope the weakness will spread from his liver to his attached gall.

If an old person who acts his age could be found, he should be awarded an Oscar.

Prize for Best Display at 1958 4-H Club Fair

Birthday: What's welcome or otherwise, according to what you've made life.

Our young people should cherish their freckles. They may be worth money. Advance notice is given so their growth can be encouraged, nurtured and coaxed. Let them bloom.

At the 1958 annual Oakland County 4-H Club Fair here on Aug. 5-8, The Pontiac Press will give a $50 U.S. Savings Bond to the freckle champion. Judges will be named by the fair management, and the judging will take place at one of the programs. County Extension Director Lyle Abel states that it will be made one of the fair's stellar attractions. There is no entrance fee, and both boys and girls are eligible.

Oakland County is so big that it is likely to furnish the only two candidates for the Democrat nomination for U.S. Senator. Our Phil A. Hart already is in the race, and Homer Martin of South Lyon is donning his running togs.

First 1958 high school graduate to report with a perfect attendance record is Marjorie MacArthur of Holly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl MacArthur, who never was absent or tardy during the 12 years.

Absolutely in agreement am I with the sentiments in a letter signed by "One Who Has Awakened," which states that the best evidence of a boost in good citizenship in the Pontiac area is the increased attendance at our school elections.

Always first in securing fresh green peas from his garden.

We Never Thought We'd See the Day

David Lawrence Says:

Supreme Court Blind to 'Cold War'

WASHINGTON — Five members of the Supreme Court of the United States have shut their eyes to the "cold war."

LAWRENCE

In effect, they say there are no American troops stationed in Western Europe today, there are no American troops now guarding the armistice line every day in Korea, and there are no conditions of emergency existing in the world at present.

Hence Communists and Communist sympathizers resident in this country are entitled to passports with the seal of the Government of the United States on them and are free to flaunt such a passport anywhere in the world!

Four members of the Supreme Court, on the other hand, say that "Were this a time of peace, there might very well be no problem for us to decide, since petitioners then would not need a passport to leave the country."

The five justices who think it is very important for an individual to travel where he pleases and do what he wishes abroad to denounce his own Government and its policies are Justices Douglas, Black, Brennan, Frankfurter and Chief Justice Warren.

The inference is plain that the individual's pleasure and desires supersede the rights of the government which represents the millions of other individuals who want their security protected.

"Travel abroad, like travel within the country," says the majority opinion, "may be necessary for a livelihood. It may be as close to the heart of the individual as the choice of what he eats, or wears, or reads. Freedom of movement is basic in our scheme of values."

But the dissenting justices — Clark, Whittaker, Burton and Harlan — think that freedom to travel must be limited by the Government that issues the passport and that in wartime or national emergency there is a risk that an individual traveling abroad may give aid and comfort to the enemy.

The five justices in the majority opinion declare that the Supreme Court in the past had decided that the movement of citizens could, of course, be restricted in wartime but that this was true only on a showing of "the gravest imminent danger to the public safety."

Who is the better judge of when the public safety is endangered? Five justices cloistered in the chambers of a court who seem to have become blind to the Communist menace and the infiltration or subversion practiced by agents of Communist imperialism in every country in the world, or the Department of State which has available up-to-the-minute information from everywhere as to the dangers to the safety of the American people?

The Country Parson

"Doing nothing may be fun but the results are not."

The majority of the justices flatly say that no condition of emergency exists at present, but the dissenting justices point out that the proclamation issued by President Truman in 1950 declaring an emergency is still in effect.

The majority of the justices concede that Congress could pass a law specifically withholding passports under conditions arising out of war but not clearly defined as yet.

Chairman Walter of the House committee on un-American activities is already planning to introduce such a measure.

There are, however, hints in the majority opinion that almost any measure to control the issuance of passports in "peacetime" may be struck down by the court.

Thus have the majority of the Supreme Court again thwarted the international policies of the United States Government in fighting communism.

They have said, in effect, that Americans who go to Soviet Russia and make speeches there denouncing the United States cannot have their passports withdrawn.

For all this apparently is part of "freedom of belief" and "freedom of association."

Dr. William Brady Says:

It's a Matter of Principle to Expose Trick Methods

A letter, published in a fair sized U. S. newspaper, read as follows:

"... this man Brady... the unscientific opinions of a man who somehow became very antagonistic toward his own profession and uses his column as a means of retribution for some fancied slight or disciplinary action."

I confess I have some antagonistic toward the evils that have come upon my profession in recent years—notably trick specialism and the "reflex" racket. But this newspaper blast is the only intimation I have had of any slight or disciplinary action.

I'm antagonistic toward radical tonsillotomy, on surgical principles. I say it is not an operation; it is an atrocity. The complications, accidents and sequels of tonsillotomy are fatal in far too many cases.

I contend that tonsillotomy accomplishes everything good that the major tonsillotomy operation can accomplish, without grave risk of life—with no greater risk than is involved in the extraction of a tooth. So, if surgery is necessary—and often it is—I beg you to limit it to instantaneous tonsillotomy—slicing off the obstructing portion of tonsil with the tonsillotomy.

NOTHING TO IT

This minor operation may be done at home or in the doctor's office, and it requires no more anesthetic than the dentist uses for extraction of a tooth.

Doctors or trick specialists, who still insist on making a major operation out of every case of enlarged tonsils, sometimes resort to trickery and deceit to sell tonsillotomy. For example, they tell the confused or unenlightened parent or guardian that tonsillotomy is "no good," for it doesn't "get all the tonsil." They are confident that the parent or guardian thinks tonsillotomy is itself "bad." Such doctors or "specialists" are either ignorant of pathology or they are dangerous men.

As for "getting every bit of tonsil," it has been shown by various good authorities that more or less tonsil tissue remains in the throat after most tonsillotomies. If any physician of standing questions this statement I'll cite the authorities. I have pipe dreams, but this is not one of them.

I broadcast these facts because I love my profession, and I hate to see it debauched by the merchants of medicine.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Boy Perplexed by Girl's Excuses

Ned is ardently in love with a blonde. But she stalls him off with a vague "just because." So Ned is perplexed and frustrated. Notice the strategy recommended below by which he finally probed her inner thoughts and exploded her secret excuses. Scribble up this case with tomorrow's follow-up.

CASE Y-339: Ned P., aged 22, is in love with an attractive blonde.

"But she stalls me off regarding marriage," Ned began.

"She says we are too young, and when I demolish that argument, then she comes up with another one."

"As fast as I refute her arguments, she sprouts new ones. Finally, she stalls back on woman's 'because'."

"And when I ask her because why, she still says, 'Oh, just because.'"

"Dr. Crane, what do you advise in a case like that? Why does she make such flimsy excuses? I know they aren't actual reasons."

SALES ADVICE FOR LOVERS

In my classes at Northwestern University of "Psychology of Salesmanship," I always warned my students to distinguish between excuses vs. reasons.

Voice of the People

'It's Unfair to Give Special Recognition at Graduation'

Having taught in Michigan public schools for 20 years, I was interested in the program and the beautiful new building at Milford High School graduation exercises. I was quite surprised and disappointed at discrimination shown.

An Honors assembly had been held the week before to honor students who had maintained a high scholastic record and those who had done exceptionally well in outside activities. This is only fair and they should receive recognition.

But it seemed quite unfair that on the night that should have belonged to the whole graduating class, some were praised more than others. No mention should have been made of special awards earned by a few students. All had remained in school for 13 years and no doubt many worked diligently during that time. So many drop out that those who remain should be remembered, and I wondered how parents felt when the principal read names for special mention. I was disappointed, but congratulations to them all, honor students, too. They were a very pretty picture in their caps and gowns and I'm sure all their parents were proud of them as they walked up to get their diplomas.

Public School Teacher

'Will Keeling Be Among Signers?'

Ralph T. Keeling was one of the leaders against fluoridation in Pontiac and he doesn't even live here. He lives in Waterford.

So he helped block this constructive thing for Pontiac and in the meantime 2,400 children have "signed up" in his own home district on a trial program.

I think Pontiac residents should decide what Pontiac residents have.

I hope Mr. Keeling signs up for the course along with the children. And he can always remember he was one of those that blocked progress here in Pontiac.

Pontiac Resident

Suggests Plan for Dedication

It seems politics are going haywire as to who should be in the dedication of the Mackinac Bridge. It's a pity such things have to happen.

My idea is to have clergy from all faiths present on both ends to say short prayers, a band to play the national anthem, Big American flag, someone to sing the Lord's Prayer, wives or mothers of men who lost their lives during the building of it to cut the ribbons.

This isn't a political man's bridge, but another of God's masterpieces, created by man whom He created and watched over during the long hours it took to complete. This shouldn't be a gala affair, but a sacred one. It belongs to all the people, not a chosen few. God can destroy as quickly as He can create, let us not forget that, because He is and always be the Master of the Universe.

'Ike Gets More Like Democrat'

Vernice A. McVean
State Hospital Grounds

Well, now that the Government has raised Government pay in the face of general decreases, why should anyone listen to the President's plea to "hold that line?" He doesn't hold it himself. Eisenhower grows more Democratic every day. He begins to act like Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Border Line Worker

Explains Dislike for JP Set-Up

I travel Orchard Lake Road many times a week. I'm aware of its poor condition, of the speed limit and I see motorists stopped every day and night by the Sylvan Lake police. But I never thought it would happen to me.

Within four blocks of my home, a police car roared out of the dark and I thought something terrible must have happened, so I pulled over and stopped. The officer, No. 22, asked for my license and registration, and he saw my Oakland County sheriff's deputy reserve card. He said, "The last citizen that showed me his deputy's card I took it away from him."

He told me I was speeding over 60 mph in a 35 zone and proceeded to write out a ticket. I wouldn't jeopardize my life by driving that speed on that road.

I was advised by high county officials to plead guilty and did so in Justice Court. What a mockery the trial turned out to be. I represented myself and when I was allowed to question the officer, the judge refused to let him answer four of the five questions I asked. I was found guilty as my advisers had predicted. Under this type of fee system the court doesn't receive any money unless the defendant is found guilty.

I took an appeal to circuit court and the judge set my bond at $100.

I urge all Michigan citizens to work for a law that will abolish Justice of the Peace courts and set up a magistrate system, whereby justice is meted out on the merits of the case. I also urge all citizens who have fallen victim to this vicious racket in Sylvan Lake to contact Mr. Louis Barry, city manager. I sincerely believe he is as anxious as anyone to stamp out this type of action.

Hammarakjold Flying to Strife Area; Expect Special Force Request
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The three leaders of the U. N. observation team held their first meeting today as U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarakjold flew eastward to survey the worsening Lebanese crisis.

Thistle's Friends Come Barking In to Fete 'Birthday'
CHICAGO (AP) — The birthday cake was a hamburger patty, favors were bones and prizes rubber squeaking mice. And all the guests barked.
The occasion? Thistle's four-month anniversary party yesterday. Thistle is a scottie owned by Jane Lesak, 5.
Jane thought of the doggy idea herself, her mother said. Invitations went out to Thistle's playmates of the neighborhood. Ten showed up.

Rebel City Expected to Topple in Celebes
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Government forces were reported today within five miles of Manado. The fall of that rebel headquarters city in north Celebes was said to be imminent.
The report by the semi-official Antara News Agency said Lt. Col. Jonosewojo announced his troops had reached Wori, miles north of Manado. Jonosewojo is chief of staff of the regional military command of East Indonesia.

Blame Turk Cypriots for Fire in Theater
NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Another Greek property was burned today and the British government again blamed Turkish Cypriots opposing union of the island colony with Greece.
The blaze in the Greek-owned Pallas movie house was the fourth fire attack on Greek holdings in Nicosia in 24 hours. Damage to the movie house was estimated at 1,000 pounds ($2,800).
So far, however, there was no resumption of the Turkish riot attacks last week in which 15 Greeks and 2 Turks were killed.
Britain yesterday postponed announcement of her new plan for the future of Cyprus until Thursday at the request of the North Atlantic Council.
Prime Minister Macmillan told the House of Commons in London that the NATO group had requested the delay "to see what help they can give in the work of conciliation."

Hammarakjold Flying to Strife Area; Expect Special Force Request
The observation team was established by a U. N. Security Council resolution last week to investigate Lebanese charges of U. A. R. intervention. But Chamoun's government decided yesterday that mere observation is not enough.
It has been estimated at least 3,000 troops would be necessary to close the mountainous Lebanese-Syrian border to arms smugglers and infiltrators. Less than 50 officers have arrived so far.
Secretary of State Dulles indicated in Washington that U. S. troops might be available to help preserve Lebanese independence under certain unexplained conditions, presumably including a U. N. or Lebanese request for help.
A new wave of bombings and sporadic shootings in Beirut greeted the last of the watchdog team leaders to arrive. Rajeswar Dayal, former Indian ambassador to the United Nations, arrived early today to join Maj. Gen. Odd Bull of Norway and former President Galo Plaza Lasso of Ecuador.

NEW TELEPHONE AREA PROPOSED FOR AUBURN HEIGHTS AND BROOKLANDS PEOPLE
The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is requesting permission from the Michigan Public Service Commission to establish an "Auburn Heights" zone (new central office equipment in a new building to serve an area with new boundaries) for its Pontiac District Exchange. The new zone would consist of that portion of the present Pontiac zone in and around Auburn Heights, and the "Brooklands" area of the present Rochester zone. The territory of the proposed new zone is shown by the map below.

The proposed change is in recognition of the substantial growth in this area and would be inaugurated next winter if the Commission approves. At that time the people of the area will be able to dial many of their own calls across Michigan and across the nation just like local calls, without having to talk to an operator.
With the new customer dialing equipment to be installed in this office we are limited to one-party or two-party service. Therefore, we are requesting permission from the Commission to discontinue four-party residence service throughout this new zone. Four-party residence customers would be provided with one-party or two-party service as they desire and would pay the higher rates that apply for those services.
Under the Company's proposal, all customers in the Auburn Heights zone would be able to call all Auburn Heights, Pontiac, Rochester, Birmingham, Troy and Utica telephones (more than 60,000 telephones) at their regular monthly rates. These rates would be the same as those for the Pontiac zone and would result in rate increases for Brooklands customers who have business telephones (excluding coin box telephones). However, Brooklands residence customers with one-party or two-party service would get rate reductions and there would be no increase in the rates of present Pontiac customers with one-party or two-party service.
Extra charges for mileage now paid by one-party, two-party and four-party customers at locations outside the present base rate area and outside the Brooklands locality area would be eliminated entirely. This would result in all of these customers having their total monthly charges reduced.
Under the Company's present rate schedules, the minimum monthly increases in rates for four-party customers and for Brooklands customers with business service would be as shown in Column A below.
The Company's application, filed November 16, 1956, for general rate increases throughout the State is still pending before the Commission. If the higher rate schedules requested at that time should become effective before the Auburn Heights zone is established, the rate increases accompanying the establishment of the Auburn Heights zone would be as shown in Column B below.

*One-party message rate service allows 75 message units per month. Additional message units over this allowance are 4¢ each under present rate schedules and 3¢ each under schedules proposed November 16, 1956.

Calls from the new Auburn Heights zone to other zones of the Pontiac District Exchange and to other nearby communities might cost either more or less; or the charge might remain unchanged. This would depend upon the location of the place being called. Senate, House Conferees Wrap Up Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees meet today to put the finishing touches on a $3,675,000,000 foreign aid program tailored to meet virtually all President Eisenhower's specifications. They reached a tentative agreement yesterday authorizing, among other things, $1,605,000,000 in military assistance and $10 million in economic defense support to allies with which the United States has defense pacts.

The totals in the bill—$3,031,400,000 in new authorizations—are 266% millions less than Eisenhower asked. That amount will be added to 644 millions in authorizations voted last year for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Even the most enthusiastic supporters of the foreign aid program, however, agree that this $3,675,000,000 figure will be cut sharply when the two houses act on a money bill to provide the funds for which the foreign aid bill simply sets ceilings.

The Senate conferees—at House insistence—dropped a Senate policy statement declaring it is in the United States interest to join other nations in providing support to India "of the type, magnitude and duration" adequate to help her complete her second five-year plan.

The House conferees, on the other hand, dropped a provision which would have put new restrictions on aid to Yugoslavia. That country's breach with Moscow is steadily widening.

Under existing law, left intact, Eisenhower may continue to aid President Tito's government, as long as he is continuously assured it is not involved in any plot of world conquest, and that such aid strengthens U.S. national security.

No military assistance is proposed in the bill for Yugoslavia and economic assistance is sharply reduced.

The House conferees agreed to Senate language under which military assistance to Latin America—scene of riots during Vice President Nixon's visit—would be limited to that needed for Western Hemisphere defense. It would specify that "internal security shall not normally be the basis" for such help. This is designed to prevent sending arms to dictators for use against their opposition at home.

19 Businessmen buy Village at Eastport, Maine

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—A group of 19 greater Boston businessmen purchased Quoddy Village at Eastport, Maine, for $250,000.

The sale was announced last night by Sidney W. Grossman, president of L. Grossman Sons, which has owned the community since 1950.

The village, which has 200 buildings on 142 acres, was built by the federal government 20 years ago when work began on the original Passamaquoddy tidal power project.

The new owners, incorporated as Quoddy Village Corp., say they will develop the area for recreation, light industry and low-cost retirement homes.

The Roosevelt administration initiated a tidal project in Passamaquoddy Bay during the late 30s. This brought about establishment of Quoddy Village.

The tidal power project eventually was abandoned, only to be revived recently by joint action of the United States and Canada to determine if electricity can be generated economically by harnessing the bay's tremendous tides.

Farmington Officer Accidentally Shot

WOLVERINE LAKE—A Farmington policeman was accidentally shot and wounded by his wife yesterday while examining a new revolver.

Arthur Forgette, 46, of 955 Armenia St., Wolverine Lake, told Wolverine Lake police he thought he had unloaded the gun completely and let his three-year-old daughter hold it. She pulled the trigger and the gun clicked.

His wife then took the gun and did the same thing. It fired. The bullet grazed Forgette's stomach and struck him in the left arm.

He was treated at Walled Lake Clinic and then taken to St. Joseph Hospital where he is in satisfactory condition today.

Tyrone Power, Bride Hope Stork Brings Boy

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Tyrone Power and his bride say they expect a baby in February and hope it's a boy.

"With three daughters—Ty has two and I have one—naturally, we would like to have a son," said Mrs. Power.

Power and the former Debbie Smith Minardos were married May 7.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONOID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

Married Saturday evening in Drayton Plains were Joy Carol Clark and William I. Arnold III. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. William I. Arnold Jr.

MR. and MRS. WM. I. ARNOLD III

Joy Clark, William Arnold Married in Covert Church

Joy Carol Clark and William I. Arnold III were married Saturday evening at Covert Methodist Church. The Rev. Frank Webb officiated before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Clark of Tyne street and Mr. and Mrs. William I. Arnold Jr. of Drayton Plains.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of rosepoint lace over satin, featuring a sweetheart neckline and long fitted sleeves. She wore a cultured pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom, and her flowers were white carnations and sweetheart roses.

Maid of honor was Patricia Campbell, and Shirley Carter was bridesmaid. They wore ballerina-length dresses of yellow nylon eyelet over yellow satin and carried bouquets of daisies.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

The bridegroom's brother, James Arnold of Drayton Plains, was best man and Ronald Shebar of Clarkston was groomsmen. Richard Arnold, another brother of the bridegroom and Jimmie Clark, the bride's brother, were ushers.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

To receive guests the bride's mother wore a dress of beige lace with blue accessories and pink rubrum lilies. The bridegroom's mother wore a shea's dress of blue and white lace over blue taffeta with blue accessories. Her flowers were pink rubrum lilies.

For her going-away costume, the bride wore a dress of white nylon over satin with a red satin cummerbund and white accessories. Her corsage was of stephanotis and white carnations.

The couple will live in Drayton Plains after a trip to Wisconsin and northern Michigan.

Althea Irene Lucas Wed to Ronald D. McPherson

Mountain laurel, rhododendron and baskets of garden flowers banked the altar of Pottersdale Gospel Tabernacle, Pottersdale, Pa., for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Althea Irene Lucas and Ronald Dean McPherson. The Rev. Russell Glass officiated at the ceremony, before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clair Lucas of Potters-

Cleanliness First!

Teenagers Need Special Skin Care

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

All too often the glandular changes which accompany budding adolescence sabotage a young girl's first attempts to be pretty and feminine. It is usually some what painful to emerge from the Tomboy stage into the charming Junior Miss category.

Just about the time the feminine teen-ager stops playing softball with the neighborhood boys and starts regarding them as potential escorts for the next Prom or dance, her skin may break out in a rash of pimples and her hair may become suddenly oily and lank.

Miss Mary Kirk, Director of Teen-Age Activities at Central New York YWCA has special grooming classes for her young proteges. She tells them that the complexion problems connected with the skin's oversecretion of oil at this age can be cut down considerably by washing the face frequently each day with warm water and plenty of soap. This should be followed by adequate rinsing.

Miss Kirk also impresses the girls with the importance of washing their faces thoroughly when they come in from outdoors, because of the soot content of city air. Between sundown she warns them to keep "Hands Off." The habit of continually touching, or worse, picking and squeezing at facial blemishes, not only stirs them up but may also spread infection to other pores.

Mary Kirk recommends the steam method for gently removing blackheads (which often turn into pimples) from clogged pores. First suds the face and hands thoroughly as an antiseptic measure. Then pour steaming hot water into a basin or bowl and put the face down close to the water. Put a large towel over the head to keep in the steam.

When blackheads have been loosened push them out gently with a piece of sterile gauze wrapped around the fingers. Rinse thoroughly. It is a good idea to apply alcohol afterwards.

If a teen-ager's skin becomes suddenly very oily her hair is likely to be affected in the same way. Here again more frequent washing, or shampooing is the answer. The old idea that the hair should not be shampooed more than once a week is discredited. Many movie stars have their hair washed and set every day or so, sometimes once a day.

So if your hair is extremely oily during this age, wash it twice a week. Shampooing is only damaging when the hair and scalp are very dry. Then perhaps a woman should wait for 10 or 12 days in between shampoos. However, this is seldom the case when it comes to teen-agers.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Popularity" which was written especially for teen-age girls, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 58, Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Bake Nut Raisin Loaf in Number Two Cans

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Quick breads make wonderful simple sandwiches to serve with summer salads. This nut-raisin loaf from Mrs. John Cowe will be a favorite of yours, we're sure. Bake it in number 2 cans for perfect round slices.

Mrs. Cowe loves gardening, is president of the Better Homes and Garden Club. She and Mr. Cowe are active in church work.

NUT-RAISIN LOAF

By Mrs. John Cowe

1 1/2 cups raisins
1 1/2 cups water
Boil together for 15 minutes. Drain and let cool. Add enough water to make 2 cup liquid.

1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon shortening
2 eggs
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup butter

Cream sugar, add shortening and egg. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with liquid. Fold in nuts and cooked raisins.

Grease 3 number 2 cans and pour in batter. Bake 40-50 minutes at 350 degrees.

LAYAWAY YOUR FIRST FALL PURCHASE!

Repressed Anger Can Be Pain in Neck

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
For her birthday Mrs. C.'s sister had sent her an expensive flowered silk blouse. She'd worn it once for lunch in town with her husband and his most important business client.

She made this point when her 16-year-old daughter asked to borrow it. But Marge's resentful disappointment at her "No" made her feel guilty.

She could almost hear Marge thinking, "As you are old and I am young, your blouse would look nicer on me than it does on you. How mean you are not to lend it to me!" So she called Marge back to the kitchen and said she'd changed her mind.

That evening after Marge had left with her date, Mrs. C. became conscious of a pain in her shoulder. "It's my bursitis again," she told Mr. C. and went upstairs to apply a heating pad.

But even as the pad's warmth comforted her aching shoulder, her unfelt anger at Marge's aggression was saying to her, "You are getting arthritis like your mother. In a couple of years you'll probably be crippled and helpless. Won't that be nice for John?"

ANGER HURTS

For this is often the way unfelt anger works in grownups. It torments children who dare not tell us how mad they are with bedtime fears of lions and werewolves. But when we dare not voice our anger at someone, it will torment us with grown-up visions of punishment by disease and other disasters.

Victorian ladies didn't know anger. But Mrs. C. is not a Victorian lady and should know.

Though Elizabeth Barrett Browning had to spend years on a bed of pain experiencing the punishment she wished to give her father, we don't have to. We don't have to emulate other maidens of her time who, denied the man they wanted, expressed their un-maidenly rage by declining into imaginary diseases and retiring to the local graveyard.

Indeed when we consider the number of Victorian ladies who resorted to invalid couches, fainting spells and graveyards whenever they got mad, we should think, "Though much is wrong with this 20th Century world, thank God it permits us to know when we're furious."

The pain in Mrs. C.'s shoulder is the pain she wants to inflict on Marge.

Bethel Holds Installation

Kay Lee was installed as honored queen when Bethel Five, International Order of Job's Daughters, met Monday evening.

Other officers installed were Kiki Sekles, senior princess; Linda Olds, junior princess; Sharon Nichols, guide; and Carolyn Mills, marshal.

Additional girls taking office were Ruth Ann Webster, Karen Antolech, Irene Reed, Barbara Kilian, Dorothy Boardman, Edwina Skelly, Janet Reed, and Sharon Burklow. Judy Hunt, Sally Austin, Ellen Cornell, Barbara Weeks, Cherry Hinde, Sue Pulver, Judi Hamilton, and Nancy Nouse complete the list.

Installing officers for the evening were Pat Zielke, Janet Kneale, retiring honored queen Virginia Sheehan; Mary Moore, grand honored queen of Michigan; Barbara Le-cornu, Karen Bowman, Frances Sekles, Doris Reed, Sharon Gable, and Gayle and Debby Kujala.

KAY LEE

Participating were Ron Wilton, Roger Anthony and Larry Harrington from the Order of DeMolay. Marjorie McBrien was soloist.

DAV Junior Auxiliary Names Officers

Pontiac Disabled American Veterans Junior Auxiliary installed officers last night at the Mary Day street home of Mrs. James Helvey.

New officers are Bonnie Helvey, commander; Kathy Schumacher, senior vice commander; Enid Martin, junior vice commander; Donna Helvey, treasurer; Karen McAleer, chaplain; Joan Martin, adjutant and Sharon McAleer, patriotic instructor.

Beta Theta Phi Sees Slides of Europe

Mrs. Emil F. Mallahn of Nichols road entertained 22 members of Alpha Chapter of Beta Phi Sorority Tuesday evening at a cooperative picnic.

The group was shown slides of Europe by Wendell Crisp. New officers of the sorority will be installed at a dinner Tuesday evening at Devon Gables.

Fete Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Napersky were honored Friday evening for their 25th wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill of Morgan road. The Berean Class of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church sponsored the affair.

MR. and MRS. JOHN J. LITTLE

In honor of their 50th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Little and their sons and daughters will receive guests and relatives at an open house Saturday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock at their Bloomfield Hills home.

Raising Your Son to Be Good Husband?

By RUTH MILLET

Some girl is going to hate you one day, Mom, if you let your son grow up with the kind of careless, inconsiderate habits that are a constant source of annoyance to a man's wife.

So if you want your daughter-in-law to love you, make sure that your son—

Can take a shower without leaving the bathroom looking like a hurricane had struck it.

Is neat about taking care of his clothes and personal belongings, instead of strewing them all over the house.

Writes his own thank-you notes and letters instead of expecting someone else to take care of such chores.

Is considerate about telephoning when his change of plans will affect someone else.

Knows what jobs around a house and yard are "man's work."

Can accept small annoyances without blowing his top or growing sullen.

Doesn't have to be right ALL of the time, so that the first thing he does when he makes a mistake is look around for someone to blame for it.

Does the things he has to do when they need to be done instead of putting everything off.

Feels some responsibility for the happiness of those who share a home with him, instead of keeping things in a constant turmoil.

Treats others with consideration instead of thinking that he can make up for any kind of hurt he inflicts just by saying, "I'm sorry."

Does something about a problem instead of grouching about it endlessly.

Isn't irresponsible when it comes to money or financial obligations.
