Claims He Kidnaped Her

KIDNAP VICTIM AND SUSPECT — JoAnn Visure, 17-year-old Pontiac girl, appears bedraggled after being held as overnight prisoner in car stolen by Harold E. Martin (right), an ex-convict. She told sheriff's detectives Martin, 20, also of Pontiac, kidnaped and raped her. He was to make a statement this afternoon at the Prosecutor's Office.

Missing Girl Found, Ex-Convict, 20, Held

Discovery of JoAnn M. Visure, a pretty, blue-eyed blonde at 10:30 this morning, ended a 10-hour search for the missing girl.

Police took JoAnn to Pontiac General Hospital, where a doctor's examination was undertaken to check her story that she had been raped.

Held is Harold E. Martin, who was paroled only last Tuesday from Ionia State Reformatory, after serving nearly three years on conviction here of car theft.

Sheriff's Deputy Nedwood Tessier said he found the couple in a stolen car parked in a wooded area of Bloomfield Township, near Peveril and Fairford streets, three-quarters of a mile east of Pontiac.

Police were checking to determine whether Martin had dragged the girl forceably from her car into his, as was first believed.

Assistant Prosecutor Robert Long was to take statements from JoAnn and Martin at 1 p.m. at the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office.

Martin also faces possible charges of stealing a 1956 Cadillac from the Pontiac Motor Division parking lot yesterday—the car in which the abduction took place.

HELD AGAINST WILL?

JoAnn said that she was held against her will in the car, parked in the wooded area most of the night.

Martin denied molesting the girl, saying that he didn't harm her and that she was not held against her will.

It was at 12:30 this morning that JoAnn, driving her mother's car, was apparently forced to the curb by Martin's stolen car at the intersection of Midway and East boulevard, a block from the girl's home.

JoAnn was returning from the home of her fiance, Thomas Black, 18, of 759 Young St., with whom she spent the evening.

Martin claimed that he didn't force the car over, but accidently struck it from behind, batting it against the curb.

On parole, he said he became afraid that the accident would get

The latest outburst of trouble within the Police Department came last night when a letter of resignation was offered to the City Commission.

It was signed by John Graham, chief of the Pontiac Police Reserve, and 56 other reserve members.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston persuaded the reservists to hold off quitting for two weeks, while the city attempts to solve their complaints.

★ ★ ★

Reservists claimed Eastman has "put them on the shelf" and was ruining morale.

They said they received better treatment under former Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, whose battle with Eastman ended with Straley's ouster as chief April 4.

Graham and about 50 other members of the reserve who appeared at last night's meeting indicated a willingness to meet with Eastman and other city officials in an attempt to iron out their problems.

"You've been a part of this city for too long for me to accept your summary resignation," said Rowston.

The mayor said he would ask City Manager Walter K. Willman next week to obtain a statement from Eastman concerning reservists' charges and arrange a negotiating meeting within two weeks. Willman is vacationing in Florida this week.

In a long letter of resignation, Graham referred to "questionable conduct" within the ranks of regular police officers that has been "detrimental to the morale and best interests of the reserve."

He refused to elaborate later, saying he preferred to work out the problems in the meeting with Eastman.

★ ★ ★

He wouldn't elaborate on this either, but last week Eastman criticized reserve members because

Governor Urged to Intercede

GOP Senator Invites Try to End Deadlock on Jobless Aid Bill

LANSING (AP)—A stalemate tying up Michigan's jobless pay extension bill entered its eighth day today with a Republican spokesman awaiting Gov. Williams' reply to an invitation to directly intercede.

★ ★ ★

It was doubtful if there would be any answer, at least of a sort calculated to harmonize differences.

On the sidelines were 28,000 unemployed persons whose checks were cut off April 1 and who could resume drawing them in the event of a Legislative settlement.

The governor was invited yesterday by Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater), House-Senate conference committee chairman, to propose a substitute for a key clause at the heart of the dispute.

It is the provision by which Republicans seek to nullify future application of Supreme Court doctrine laid down in January in deciding the so-called Ford case.

★ ★ ★

Just today, the State Supreme Court granted further delay in giving effect to its Ford Motor Co. jobless pay decision but only until April 23.

"If we don't do something soon, we will be shoveling snowballs around here before we adjourn," said the veteran Detroit Democrat.

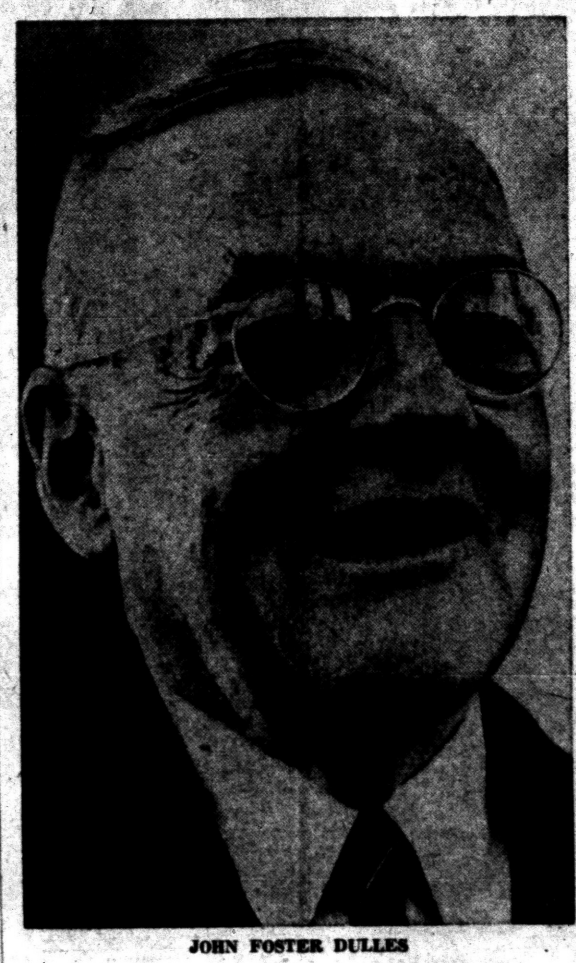

Minutes later, the House adopted a resolution to cut off introduction of all but tax and appropriation bills on April 27.

However, Michigan lawmakers could earn up to $12,000 a year and $1,500 expenses under a bill slated for introduction in the Legislature today.

Rep. Frank D. Williams (D-Detroit) sponsored it with little hope it will pass this year in the face of the state's big money problem.

Approval would boost the yearly pay for the 144 legislators from $4,000 to $6,000 and expense allowances up to $1,500.

JOHN FOSTER DULLES

Herter, Dillon Head List of Successors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acting Secretary of State Christian Archibald Herter, who has been regarded as the most likely successor to John Foster Dulles, was meeting with his staff today when President Eisenhower announced Dulles' resignation.

The Paris-born 64-year-old Herter is understood to have been aware of Eisenhower's intention of announcing that Dulles would end his six-year role as chief foreign policy maker.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Policy Won't Change

But Assurances Fail to Halt Allied Fears Over Dulles' Leaving

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials said today the resignation of Secretary Dulles would produce no change in U.S. foreign policy. Foreign diplomats were not so sure.

John Foster Dulles has charted this country's course in world affairs with a confident—if not often controversial—touch for the past six years.

It is inconceivable that the man who now takes over will handle all the problems in the same way as Dulles.

Yet the major lines of policy on such issues as Berlin and Germany, the Atlantic Alliance and Red China are now so basic to administration thinking and so frozen in the larger patterns of the cold war that any fundamental changes in the immediate future seem out of the question.

It is not in the basic policy but in the application of that policy from day to day that the effect of Dulles' departure from the active control of foreign relations will be felt most quickly.

This prospect, however, is sufficient to cause uneasiness in friendly capitals.

The only man who can really act effectively to combat such weaknesses — however temporary — in the U.S. world position is Dulles' successor.

This is one of the two compelling reasons why Eisenhower, having accepted Dulles' resignation, must now move fast to appoint a new Secretary of State.

The other reason is that the new man must become fully acquainted with a wide range of complex matters in preparation for a foreign ministers meeting with the Soviet Union opening at Geneva May 11.

HERTER

DILLON

Herter is held in high regard by many influential Democratic as well as Republican senators. Further, he is reported to have displayed an ability to work well with Eisenhower during Dulles' illness.

Herter is afflicted with arthritis of the hips which pains him if he walks more than 10 or 20 yards, or must stand for any length of time.

NEVER MISSED DAY

But, this physical limitation has never caused him to miss a single day's work.

Herter frequently uses lightweight metal arm crutches.

His physicians report he has no arthritis anywhere else in his body and is perfectly comfortable sitting or lying down or walking short distances.

C. Douglas Dillon, undersecretary of state for economic affairs, who has been mentioned as another potential successor to Dulles was in the Philippines when Eisenhower made his announcement.

A wealthy investment banker, Dillon is 49 years old. He was born in Switzerland of American parents. For the past two years, he has been the State Department's top officer in charge of economic policy.

In his time, Dillon has built up a reputation as a tough negotiator and a hard worker. He is also popular with congressmen who regard him as someone who "does his homework" and can readily provide detailed answers to their questions.

He is due to return to Washington Sunday.

President Says Secretary Now 'Incapacitated'

But He Will Continue to Act as Consultant on Foreign Affairs

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower, his voice choked with emotion, today sadly announced the resignation of cancer-stricken Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

At a dramatic news conference at his vacation headquarters, Eisenhower said Dulles now is "incapacitated" to carry on the administrative burden of his office, and make policy as well.

The President said he has made no final decision on a successor to Dulles.

He gave newsmen the impression he might pick someone other than Undersecretary Christian A. Herter, who has been serving as acting secretary. But the President by no means ruled out Herter.

Dulles, Eisenhower said, will continue to serve him as a foreign policy consultant.

There was a trace of tears in Eisenhower's eyes as he announced the 71-year-old Dulles' decision to step down.

The decision by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to give up his post was a bitter acknowledgment for a man whose spectacular career had been marked by an almost incredible tirelessness.

For one thing, Dulles has traveled about the world more than any other secretary.

Dulles had clung for weeks to the hope that he could make it to the Geneva meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers.

But this time he was not to spring back, as he had before—for example, when he first was stricken with cancer in 1956.

Hoover Calls Him Tops

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Hoover said today that John Foster Dulles ranked highest among all secretaries of state and described his resignation as a tragedy. "The resignation of Secretary John Foster Dulles is the culmination of a great tragedy to the American people," Hoover said. "We have had many great secretaries of state. History will rank Sec. Dulles among the highest of them."

Dulles Insisted Ike Tell Decision Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is reported to have insisted that President Eisenhower hurry the announcement of his resignation as the administration's chief foreign policy maker.

From his hospital bed, realizing that he apparently was fighting a losing battle against cancer, Dulles prevailed on Eisenhower to make the announcement today instead of next week as planned.

Dulles insisted on this, a responsible informant said, because he did not want to make it appear he was hanging on tenaciously to his job.

Defiant Teamster Bufalino Denies Probers' Charges

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — The Senate Rackets Committee dug in its heels today for another verbal tug-of-war with William Bufalino, a talkative Detroit teamster.

In three grinding hours yesterday, the committee barely began to cover the ground it planned to go over with Bufalino, the law-school-trained head of Local 985.

For a committee accustomed to hearing witnesses invoke the Fifth Amendment to avoid answering questions, Bufalino provided a stunning change of pace. He responded with torrents of words, although often not directed to what the committee regarded as the point at issue.

Bufalino said someone on the committee—he didn't say who—was attempting to "weave and spin a web of infamy" around him.

He hotly rejected a suggestion by Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) that he take a lie detector test on his denial of involvement in the bombing of a nonunion Dearborn, Mich., car washing establishment.

"I had nothing to do with it," Bufalino stormed.

In more testimony, belligerently delivered, Bufalino:

—Defended the character and reputation of alleged underworld figures who were associated with him in a jukebox business before he became head of the jukebox union.

—Denied he merely fronted for criminal elements behind the business.

—Contended there was no conflict of interest in his acting as a labor relations consultant while serving as a union official.

COMMITTEE CHARGES

—Received almost $14,000 in legal fees and expenses from the union during the bribery and wire-tap trials of Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

—Billed his local for $598 worth of law books, including volumes on divorce and "How to Win Lawsuits."

—Obtained a $46,000 business

County Slates Wage Raises

New Budget Proposes First Hike for Oakland Employes in 3 Years

Some 1,200 salaried Oakland County employes are slated to get pay raises—the first in about three years—under the proposed 1960 allocation budget of $13,906,584.

Supervisors learned yesterday that $250,806 in "possible salary adjustments" has been included in the Salaries Reserve Fund ($582,661) of the budget.

Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors, which prepared the budget, said most department heads had asked for a 10 per cent salary increase, but this was trimmed down to four per cent.

"Whether they even get this depends on a lot," Moore said.

The biggest "if" is whether the county can squeeze out of the Tax Allocation Board the $6.47 slice of the 15-mill taxing limitation which must be split between the county, schools, and townships.

This $6.47 tax rate for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation is needed if the county is to raise the $11,705,584 in taxes in the $13 million proposed budget.

The Allocation Board will meet Monday for its annual organization meeting, one week before the Board of Supervisors hold its hearing on the budget handed out yesterday.

Included in the budget also is $5,631,163 in salaries for elected, appointed, and salaried employes, of which $171,655 is for 37 new positions that have been tentatively approved.

Department heads had requested69 new positions, which would have cost the county $314,981, but the Salaries Committee of the Board of Supervisors cut this down.

Boy Admits Stabbing

Kills Flint Mother of 3

FLINT (AP)—A youth admitted to police today that he beat and stabbed to death a pretty young mother of three who had befriended him.

Genesee County Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke said he would ask the probate court to waive jurisdiction on Gerald Carlson, who will be 15 a week from today.

The mutilated body of Patricia Dixon, 24, was found in a utility room of her home on the outskirts of Flint Tuesday night. She was clad in a nightgown.

Dixon was at work at the Fisher body plant at the time of the slaying. The couple's children — Richard Jr. 4, Terry 2, and Pamela, 10 months — were in the house.

The boy went to the Dixon home to watch television after the set in his own house failed.

O'Rourke said all the boy remembered was that Mrs. Dixon walked by while he was watching television and he battered her with a pipe wrench and then stabbed her with a butcher knife.

"The boy went home and told his father what he had done," O'Rourke said. The father called an ambulance.

O'Rourke said Gerald, who has a 19-year-old brother, had never been in trouble before. He said the boy seemed remorseful and "remembers what he did."

"He didn't break down when I talked to him. He was lucid and cooperative," O'Rourke said.

O'Rourke said he would investigate the case further before he decided whether or not to petition the Juvenile Court to waive jurisdiction and have the boy tried in Circuit Court.

Dulles Makes Thousands of Contacts; Becomes World Figure

From Associated Press

John Foster Dulles became a figure on the world stage toward the end of World War II when he was serving as foreign affairs adviser to the Republican presidential candidate, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

At that time, he worked with Hull in developing an agreement to keep out of domestic politics the issue of United States membership in a world peace organization.

The successive defeats of Dewey in 1944 and 1948 dashed Dulles' prospects of becoming secretary of state in those early postwar times.

He became, along with the late Sen. Arthur Vandenburg of Michigan, however, a symbol of Republican cooperation in the development of a bipartisan foreign policy. This led to some of his most important contributions to foreign affairs.

WITH U.N. FOR YEARS

He served as a delegate in 1945 to the San Francisco conference, which wrote the United Nations charter. He attended meetings of the U.N. for years as a member of the U. S. delegation.

He served with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes in drafting World War II peace treaties with the countries of Eastern Europe; and with Secretary of State George C. Marshall in the early, unsuccessful negotiations for a German peace settlement.

In 1949, he was for a few months a U.S. senator from New York, by appointment of Gov. Dewey.

Dulles himself felt that one of his outstanding accomplishments was the negotiation in 1950-51 of a treaty of peace with Japan on terms which provided for the restoration of Japan as a sovereign and friendly country in the family of nations.

He called this a "treaty of reconciliation." Its signing at San Francisco in 1951 was a triumph for his practice of personal diplomacy, which he developed to an unprecedented degree.

Since 1953 Dulles has traveled hundreds of thousands of miles by air to negotiate or confer with all the principal political leaders and diplomats of the world except those of Communist China.

He helped make good Eisenhower's 1952 campaign pledge to end the war in Korea.

He himself worked successfully on stabilizing conditions in oil-rich Iran, on pacifying the Far East, and on building a policy toward the Soviet Union which he thought offered the best hope for keeping Soviet power penned up inside the boundaries of the Communist empire.

NAMED HIS POLICY

Dulles won wide notice and considerable criticism in January 1954 by characterizing this policy as one of "massive retaliation," by which he meant maintaining the power of the United States and its allies to smash the Soviet Union if it undertook to attack the West.

He accompanied Eisenhower to the summit conference at Geneva in 1955. Later he negotiated alongside the British and French with the Soviets in a second Geneva conference to try to make the hopeful promises of the summit meeting bear fruit.

Repeatedly he chided the Soviets for their failure to live up to their summit agreement to unify Germany by free elections.

★ ★ ★

Dulles had many critics, too, in the political-diplomatic field. Some accused him of an arrogant carelessness and said he had casually brought the United States to the brink of war time after time. "Brinkmanship" became a word of scorn.

★ ★ ★

His supporters have been as strong in the other direction. Eisenhower, for an important example, once called him "one of the wisest, most courageous and most dedicated men" ever to serve as head of the State Department. Other admirers agreed he had preserved peace.

SOME ANTAGONISTIC

Antagonism toward Dulles was often apparent in Allied capitals, where the charge came frequently that he was too eager to provoke the Soviet Union.

The Communist Soviet Union never let up on its criticism. It called Dulles a warmonger, with all conceivable adjectives.

If Dulles had any strong feeling about this, it probably was akin to gratification.

Domestic and Allied attacks on Dulles reached a peak during the 1956 presidential campaign and were based on his policies in the crisis-ridden Middle East at the time of the Suez Canal crisis.

He opposed Israeli-French-British moves in Egypt then, while criticizing the belligerent tactics of Egypt's President Abdel Gamal Nasser.

OFF TO DUCK ISLAND

Whenever the opportunity arose, he would fly by special Air Force plane to Syracuse and then board a small amphibian plane which would land in the water near the isolated island.

With his wife, Dulles would then relax in a rustic cabin which had no electricty or running water. He rigged up a device whereby he could scoop up the lake water he needed for personal and cooking uses.

While there, he has told friends, he liked to relax by chopping wood and helping Mrs. Dulles with household chores, including washing dishes and polishing copper pots and pans.

4 Officers Nab Man, Toy Gun

Waitress Still Giving Description on Phone When Arrest Made

A man carrying a toy revolver was nabbed last night by four Pontiac patrolmen while a waitress was still on the phone reporting the robbery to police.

Albert Hemstreet, 38, of 4 S. Saginaw St., was arrested for investigation of armed robbery just minutes after the waitress, Mary Williford, of 2922 Churchill Rd., Auburn Heights, called police that she had been held up.

She said the man walked into the White Tower Restaurant 142 N. Saginaw St., shortly before 10 p.m. with a silk scarf covering his face.

He handed her a note saying it was a stickup, she told police. She turned over $46 from the cash register while he brandished a gun.

While the robbery report was being flashed to all cars, Patrolmen Harold Hayden, Ron Peters, Elmo Burgess and Robert Rood all spotted Hemstreet running from the scene. They grabbed him at the corner of Perry and Huron street while police were still taking further descriptions from the waitress.

Searched by the patrolmen, Hemstreet was found to be carrying a toy pistol and $46.

For Every Bike, a License —Goal in Citywide Drive

This is the time of year again when attention usually centered on driver and traffic safety is shifted to the thousands of young bicyclists in Pontiac.

The Pontiac Optimist Luncheon Club, in cooperation with the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee, Pontiac Police Department and the Safety Committee of the Principals Assn., Pontiac Public Schools, is engaging in its annual drive to license all bicycles in the city.

Chairman of the program is John Tuson, of 1074 Argyle St., a member of the Optimist Luncheon Club.

This week, application forms are being distributed to all bicycle owners throughout elementary and junior high schools in the city.

Each year the week-long affair takes place as part of a national bicycle safety program, designed to reach riders just taking their bikes out of moth balls after the winter months.

Licensing is the major objective. Police officers are making scheduled appearances at the various schools throughout the week, explaining what the safety factors are and the advantages of having bicycles licensed.

STAY WITHIN LAW

Naturally, the biggest advantage is staying within the law. A city ordinance requires bicycle licensing.

Another big advantage lies in finding stolen bikes. If a bike is licensed, much time is saved in locating it if it is lost or stolen. Positive identification can be made immediately by means of a license plate.

Applications for licenses are given to the children to be taken home to their parents. It is then the duty of each parent to check the bicycle on several listed safety factors, such as brakes, pedals and steering.

If the bike checks out 100 per cent, or after repairs are made, the parents sign the application and it is returned to school by the pupils.

Topping off the project will be a parade of decorated and "best dressed" bikes April 26 on grounds of Pontiac Northern High School.

The event will begin at 2 p.m. A total of 15 major prizes donated by the Optimist Club will be awarded to lucky winners, with the "Best Dressed Bike" award being top prize.

The club also will furnish free reflectors for contestants and free refreshments will be served.

★ ★ ★

The contest will be open to boys and girls living in Pontiac, or as Tuson said, "Anybody with a bike."

Police Reserve Unit Threatens to Quit

Eastman called this participation "unethical."

Reservists confided after the meeting that a small number of regular police officers had given them trouble for many years. They said these officers were active in the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. and anti-Straley in their sympathies.

"We're not pro-Straley or anti-Straley, pro-Eastman or anti-Eastman," declared one reservist, "We just want the proper respect for the job we're doing."

Reservists had these complaints, which they said developed since Eastman took over in October:

1. Since the first week in December, they have not been used on night traffic or foot patrol, but have served only as guards at school athletic events or at teenage dances.

2. They have not been allowed to practice pistol shooting at the police range the past four months.

3. There have been no arrangements to give them training under the Police Department's new training program.

4. They have been subject to "disparaging insults" from regular officers.

One incident of the latter variety occurred recently at a teenage dance when regular officers refused to honor a reservist's attempt to arrest some teenage hoodlums, it was charged.

Another reservist at the same dance was accused by regular officers of being drunk, although he hadn't been drinking, the reservists claimed.

Other regular officers have taunted reservists, branding them with such nicknames as "Teenage Commandoes" and "Weekend Warriors," it was charged.

The reserves were organized by Straley in March 1953 and Graham has served as their chief since then.

The reservists serve without pay, each performing regular duties for one eight-hour shift every month and serving in addition at parades, athletic games, dances and special events.

It is estimated they save the city at least $8000 a year by performing without pay duties that regular police officers would otherwise have to do.

Reservists also function as the city's chief Civil Defense reserve, and they are trained to take over most Police Department jobs in event of emergency.

Reservists buy their own uniforms, get their training at no cost to the city and serve under the same oath and duty conditions as regulars.

In the six years that reservists have patrolled Pontiac Central High School athletic events, there has never been a major teen-age incident, such as occur frequently in other cities, Graham pointed out.

Up to December of last year, reservists had put in about 4,000 man-hours for 1958, at no cost to the city.

Ailing Dulles Resigns as Secretary of State

Army Hospital here last Sunday, cutting short a Florida rest he had taken in an effort to build up his failing strength.

Dulles had gone to the hospital Feb. 10 for a hernia operation. Recurrence of cancer was then discovered. But, whereas the doctors had taken out of piece of his large intestine in 1956, there was no effort this time to cure by surgery.

Massive radiation treatments were tried, and Dulles was reported to have stood these well. His strength always has been much greater than most men's, and hope was held that he would get back on the job.

President Eisenhower, who admires Dulles greatly and was always ready to say so, was one of those who held the greatest hope. Reports that Dulles was on the way out got no White House backing. Rather, they were obviously resented.

When Dulles came back from Florida, there was no question but that he had deteriorated badly. Newsmen who had seen him fairly constantly figured he had lost 15 to 20 pounds of his normal 185. His face looked wasted; his clothes hung loosely.

But Dulles was able to make a crack about the bad Washington weather, suggesting it might be a good idea to turn the plane around and head right back to Florida.

HE NEVER COMPLAINS

And, as Vice President Richard M. Nixon remarked at the airport: "You know Foster, he never complains."

Dulles himself said: "I feel pretty good."

But then Tuesday came the report indicating the cancer may have spread.

Throughout Dulles' illness, Democrats as well as Republicans were pulling for him. In fact, he had many Democratic friends. Some of them dated back to the time when he worked with Cordell Hull, who was President Franklin D. Roosevelt's secretary of state.

Dulles became secretary of state on Jan. 21, 1953. He had been prepared for the position through most of his adult life and had been active in foreign affairs for years.

U.S. Plane Left Alone

BONN, Germany (AP)—A U.S. Air Force turbojet transport made a high altitude flight to Berlin today without interference from the Soviet Air Force, American officials reported. Officials said the Soviet Air Force displayed curiosity by sending up two MIG jet fighters but unlike on two previous occasions they did not harrass the American plane.

Holly Woman Is Nominated

Former Teacher Vies for Michigan Mother of Year Honor

A former teacher in Holly area schools, Mrs. Everett B. Hathaway, 71, of 415 East St., Holly, has been nominated for Michigan Mother of the Year, it was announced today.

Mrs. Hathaway retired from the teaching profession last year at Davisburg Elementary School. She and her husband have raised three children, none of them their's by birth.

She will vie with 19 other mothers nominated for the honor. The winner will be announced at a luncheon in Detroit's Sheraton Cadillac Hotel, April 30 as part of "Michigan State Mother Week" festivities.

The Michigan Mother of 1959 will compete with mothers similarly honored in the other states for the title of American Mother of the Year in New York City, May 5.

The two children adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Hathaway are a brother and sister, Kenneth Hathaway of 1647 Weymouth St., Walled Lake, and Mrs. Floyd Brian of Ypsilanti. The couple also raised Marlton Williams of 303 S. Saginaw St., Holly, as a son.

Defiant Teamster Bufalino Denies Probers Charges

loan from Angelo Meli, described by Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy as former Public Enemy No. 1 in Detroit.

—Borrowed $15,000 from a Pittston, Pa., bank with the help of the late Santo Volpe, described by Kennedy as "one of the most notorious gangsters" in the area.

The committee summoned Bufalino for questioning about testimony linking his name with Detroit mobsters and hoodlums and racketeering in the jukebox industry. Bufalino, however, had asked to be heard.

★ ★ ★

At one point, Bufalino said he intended to file "a petition for redress of grievances to the Senate."

He said he already had court suits pending against Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy and a national publication which he did not name.

Much of the questioning centered about Bufalino's interest in the Bilvin Distributing Co., a jukebox sales firm formed in 1946 and later dissolved.

Samuel Tocco, a partner in the Bilvin firm, testified that Angelo Meli, described by Kennedy as a former "Public Enemy No. 1 in the city of Detroit," was just a salesman for the firm.

★ ★ ★

Bufalino testified that Meli had invested $46,000 in the Bilvin company.

Tocco said the company had borrowed money from John (Poppa John) Priziola and Nicholas Ditta and a third man whose name he couldn't recall.

Kennedy identified the third lender as Carlo Deliberti. He said the latter two had long criminal records, and that Priziola had been "identified before this committee as one of the biggest handlers of narcotics in the United States."

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Find Missing Girl, Hold Ex-Convict, 20

A witness, Mrs. Anthony Pena, 510 Midway, said she heard JoAnn's screams and ran to her window, spotting JoAnn's car, its motor still idling, in front of her house.

Mrs. Pena said she heard Martin's car speeding away, and it was from this, and evidence of a struggle within JoAnn's car, that police suspected violence.

One of JoAnn's shoes was found in the car, her purse contents were emptied on the floor, a blanket on the front seat had been ripped off and the contents of the glove compartment were strewn over the front seat.

JoAnn told Det. Herbert C. Cooley she bumped her head on the windshield when her car hit the curb, and that she was dazed.

She didn't give details as to how she got into Martin's car.

She said, however, that Martin sped away from the scene "when he saw a woman looking out of the house next to us."

JoAnn, who quit high school last fall to get married to Black, said Martin insisted she should go to a hospital, but she refused.

"I wanted him to take me home, but he wouldn't do it. I was afraid to insist. I was afraid he would kill me."

The girl said Martin drove around awhile, then headed east out of the city and parked in the lonely spot in Bloomfield Township's Chapel Hills Estates subdivision, where they remained the rest of the night.

She said Martin did not brandish any weapon, but she was afraid he might do violence to her with his hands, she said.

Rescue came shortly after the car was spotted this morning by Roby Sailers, a Bloomfield Township Water Department employe. He notified police who summoned sheriff's deputies.

Deputy Tessier said that as he and Township Patrolman Alfred LaPlante approached the stolen auto in their patrol car, Martin started the motor and began to drive away.

"But he didn't give us a chase," Tessier said.

The couple was taken first to Oakland County Jail, where authorities had already sounded an end to a statewide alert for the stolen car.

Martin, who had a long list of offenses here as a juvenile, was convicted of car theft in Circuit Court in June 1956, after Juvenile Court had waived jurisdiction over him.

Then 16, Martin was placed on probation five years, until he was 21, but was sentenced to Jackson Prison soon afterward as a probation violator.

Arctic Mission 'Ice-Skate' Gets Under Way

ALPHA TWO, Arctic Ocean (AP)—Ice Skate, a cold weather scientific mission with strong military overtones, was launched Tuesday on this tiny block of ice in the barren arctic.

Two C124 four-engine Globemaster planes parachuted 22 tons of equipment, food and shelter to a small contingent of Air Force men and Navy scientists from California who will study meteorology, hydrology, oceanography and any animal and fish life there is.

The 3-mile by 2-mile island is along the arctic route traveled by the nuclear submarines Nautilus and Skate.

Soviets have two similar stations and are landing a third within 100 miles of Alpha Two, successor to Alpha One, an ice island which broke up last November and had to be evacuated.

Maj. Harry M. Brittenham of Houston, Tex., is the Ice Skate project officer.

Alpha Two is 233 miles north of Point Barrow and about 900 miles south of the North Pole.

Alpha One, which was operated in conjunction with the International Geophysical Year, broke up after being occupied for 20 months.

Bride Lied About Age, Husband Gets Divorce

MARION, Ark. (UP) —A divorce was granted Emmett D. Bardwell yesterday on the grounds that his bride lied about her age.

Bardwell, 33, of Turrell, Ark., months ago and married her March testified he met his wife about two 17. He said that before the ceremony she said she was 39, afterward she said she was 49.

Since then, added Bardwell, he had obtained proof that she actually was 51. The case was not contested.

Fisher Body to Put 3,000 on 6-Day Week

LANSING (UP) — The manager of the Fisher Body plant reports some 3,000 workers on the firm's convertible assembly line will go on a six-day work week April 20.

C. A. Trump said the overtime schedule would continue through May 16 and resulted from an increased demand for convertible bodies for Oldsmobiles, Pontiacs and Chevrolets.

Lake Superior Ice Called Dangerous

SAULT STE. MARIE (UP) — Dangerous ice conditions in eastern Lake Superior have been reported by the commander of the Coast Guard base here.

"I have never seen anything like it during my service with the Coast Guard," said Cmdr. E. J. Bodenlos last night. "The blue ice is still some three feet thick and very windblown, forming large jagged peaks of ice across most of the lake."

The Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinac, which has been helping the Mesquite and Kaw smash the ice pack in Lake Munuscong on the downbound side of the St. Mary's Locks, starts an assault on ice in Whitefish Bay at the eastern end of Lake Superior today.

At the same time freighters are scheduled to set out from the lakehead and Duluth, Minn., in a crossing which would bring them to Whitefish Bay sometime Thursday.

Don't Rush to Serve Water, Let Them Learn

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Wisconsin Restaurateur, a trade magazine published in the nation's "beer capital" of Milwaukee, suggested recently that restaurants might try not giving their customers a glass of water as soon as they sit down at the table.

The publication said this would afford diners with a chance to "learn the satisfaction of a refreshing glass of beer."

Forgot One Thing

TULSA, Okla. (UP) — A call came into a fire station and the alert fire men jumped onto their truck. The man assigned to pull a cord to set off the mechanism to open the front door apparently forgot his chore and the truck smashed the front door.

Construction of new and maintenance of existing highways, both rural and urban exceeded $8,500,000,000 during 1957.

Silent Sound Waves Serve Kitchen, Industry, Medicine

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Do you stay pressed longer? Would you want new food sensations? Are you interested in suits and dresses that like to be able to wash your clothes or dishes in three minutes without soap?

All these may soon be possible through the use of sound waves so high pitched that you can't hear them.

* * *

For example, Dr. R. A. Ramey, a research scientist for Westinghouse Electric Corp., plans to give his wife a new sink for Christmas. Not a very glamorous gift, but certainly different, for the sink will use these high frequency sound waves to wash the dishes.

Ramey is building the gadget himself, using his own theories. He thinks you may be able to have one in your home in two or three years.

BETTER STEEL

But this is only the beginning. Scientists are on the way to using ultrasonic waves in making better steel, superior paper and stronger plastics.

Shooting the waves into molten steel while it is hardening makes the steel stronger. Sound waves sent through liquid wood pulp mix help produce finer quality paper.

Sound waves already are useful in some types of brain surgery. Like a surgeon's knife, they can cut out a diseased spot. But doctors who use sound waves don't have to cut through a sick man's skull to do the cutting.

These sound waves also are being used for drilling holes in decayed teeth.

In industry, sound waves are being used to clean metals rapidly, to locate hidden cracks inside solid beams. Sound waves can speed up electroplating the chrome bumper on your car by thirty times.

NEW FOODS

But there are even more fanciful uses in the offering. Scientists believe sound waves can be used to tenderize meat, make even the cheapest cuts tempting. They could be used to mix foods completely in new and enticing ways. They could even be used to create "new" foods.

Sound waves could drive spices and other seasonings into the heart of your food, thus improve the flavor clear through.

Sound waves could be used to scale in a few seconds the burnt places off your pots and pans that you now have to scrub long and vigorously with steel wool. They could quickly strip the rust from your window screens or the interior of your car's radiator.

* * *

Scientists have hopes that these super sound waves can be used eventually to speed up a whole range of industrial chemical processes. In many cases, chemical reactions work faster when shot through with a stream of sound waves.

How do these sound waves do their work? In passing through a substance, such as water, they create millions of tiny vapor bubbles, which then collapse, creating pressures five thousand times greater than the atmosphere in which we live and local temperatures hotter than on the surface of the sun.

Need Class A Uniform to Talk to Captain

LONDON (UPI)—Royal Navy efficiency experts reported today they had completed an investigation of Naval operations. One of their discoveries:

A sailor in communications was forced to change from his working clothes into his best uniform before he could ask his captain for permission to switch on a radar set.

It takes three to 10 centuries to build up an inch of topsoil, which can be washed away in a single storm.

Macomb Court Gets Shakeup

Juvenile Division Head Named, Pair of Aides Asked to Quit

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — An administrator for Macomb County Probate Court's Juvenile Division has been named. In addition, two court aides have been asked to quit.

Judge Donald T. Anderson of Kalamazoo, whom the state Supreme Court placed in temporary charge of probate court, took the action yesterday.

He appointed 25-year-old Ronald C. Hayes, member of the juvenile court staff, as administrator. The job pays $8,000 a year. Hayes has been a juvenile counselor for the court since last November.

Judge Anderson asked resignations "in the interests of harmony within the office" from Mrs. Ella D. Seckler, county juvenile agent, and Louis Zeve, a juvenile counselor.

The Supreme Court assigned Judge Anderson to take charge here last March 3 after finding that Juvenile Division conditions were "detrimental to sound judicial administration."

Anderson succeeded Judge Joseph V. Trombly, who has been on paid leave of absence from his $15,000-a-year post since Jan. 22.

Judge Trombly, a target of Macomb County Bar Assn. criticism, has said he will return to office May 1.

Two Youngsters Save Tot From Drowning

CHASE (AP)—Two schoolboys were the acknowledged heroes today of two-year-old Becky Landreath's rescue from a muddy pond.

Becky, blonde daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Landreath of this Lake County community, wandered from home yesterday.

State Police asked the 20 pupils of Chase Elementary School to aid them in a search.

Two pupils, Ed Wallace, 11, and Darrell Boyce, 12, spotted Becky flundering in the mud and water of the pond. Running into the pond, they pulled her out and shouted for help.

Becky was reported in good condition but she was taken to a doctor in Reed City for examination.

"It was just short of a miracle that she didn't drown," said a state trooper.

African Dancers Must Cover Up, Detroit Orders

DETROIT (AP) — It was refined enough for the proper Bostonians. It didn't make the Quakers of Philadelphia quake.

But in Detroit, the bare-bosomed girls of "Les Ballets Africains" have been ordered to cover up.

Police Commissioner Herbert W. Hart ruled yesterday the females in the touring dancing troupe must wear brassieres while the show is in Detroit.

He also ordered the girls to keep their feet moving while doing the "bump and grind." Hart said the managers of the ballet agreed to comply with his orders.

Toy Car Death Vehicle

DETROIT (AP) — Jimmy Switzer, 4, pedaling his toy car, was struck and killed by an auto in front of his home Monday.

The famed Scythe Tree near Waterloo, N. Y., is a unique memorial to a young soldier of the Civil War. When the boy left for the front, he hung his scythe in the crotch of a Balm of Gilead popular and asked that it be left there until he returned. He never did. The growing tree enveloped the scythe's blade, and today only six inches of it show.

Surgery Ends Dogs' Desire to Drink Water

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A bit of scientific treasure — "thirstless dogs" — was reported from Fort Knox, Ky., today.

They were part of an odd-ball menagerie described in various reports to the 43rd annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Also listed were thirsty monkeys trained to get orange juice by pressing levers and puppies and pigs with hardening of the arteries.

The pigs exemplified an ironic switch. Healthy enough while eating their regular garbage of animal food, they developed atherosclerosis after some scientists fed them a human diet for six months.

Three researchers of the Army's Medical Research Laboratory at Fort Knox reported they had achieved "selective and permanent elimination of water drinking" in a group of dogs by surgically removing an area of their brains.

They termed this a significant breakthrough in the quest for the detailed mechanics of "how the 'urge to drink water' is engendered in animals and men."

The Army team offerred no views on how this knowledge might be applied to man's benefit. Presumably the finding might stimulate further research to determine if some nonsurgical means might be employed to check the thirst urge temporarily in castaways at sea or in men lost in desert areas.

The scientists said the brain area removed is called the perchiasmal area—a mothball-sized structure located at the base of the brain and lying directly back of the eyes.

★ ★ ★

"Subsequent to the surgical removal of the area," they said, "dogs never again show any interest in water. Yet they remain fully oriented mentally and eat solid and liquid food normally."

While unoperated dogs gulp water nearby, "the operated dog sits on his haunches and watches the other one drink, never taking a lap of water himself."

★ ★ ★

Between test periods, the thirstless dogs are maintained in the desired state of hydration by baiting with milk or meat juice the amount of water the scientists wish the animal to have.

This fools the pooches The baited water becomes food to them—and they drink it avidly.

One Duncan Case Killer Gets Death

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—One of two hired killers in the Duncan murder case has been sentenced to death in the gas chamber.

★ ★ ★

Augustine Baldonado, 26, sentenced Tuesday., confessed kidnaping and strangling the pregnant daughter-in-law of Elizabeth Duncan. A jury determined Baldonado's punishment last week.

Luis Moya, who admitted joining Baldonado in the slaying Nov. 17 of Olga Duncan, goes on trial Monday on a plea of innocent by reason of insanity. He is charged with murder.

Mrs. Duncan, convicted of hiring the slaying of her son's bride, is also under death sentence.

Detroit Continues Drive to Beautify Downtown

Striving to rejuvenate downtown is a continuing problem for most cities today. A noteworthy example of not leaving any stones unturned is our good neighbor, Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Just recently they announced that they were out to reforest downtown in an effort to make it more attractive for shoppers. Their news release states that trees are going back up again along with thousands of flowers.

★ ★ ★

A small experiment was attempted last fall in a one-block area. The response was so terrific that they've worked out a plan for the summer. Under the auspices of the Central Business District Association 140 trees will be strategically placed in redwood tubs in the main shopping area.

★ ★ ★

Plans have been worked out with city planners and park officials so that in the fall the trees will be put in the Parks Department nursery for the winter. The tubs will be refilled with evergreens for the Christmas season.

The initial cost of the project is $24,000 and is provided by the downtown merchants and businessmen. The Parks Department will do the work and it will not cost the taxpayers any money.

Apparently this is the type of thing shoppers are coming to demand. At least Detroit business leaders feel so. It is quite obvious from all that is being done in the motor city that they feel strongly toward anything to beautify the shopping area.

★ ★ ★

Detroit has even gone so far as to be holding their fifth annual luncheon of the Mayor's committee to "Keep Detroit Beautiful." The Mayor will address the large group of civic and business leaders on the "individual's responsibility in keeping Detroit beautiful."

★ ★ ★

Important that Ike's Good Health Continues

★ ★ ★

The physical condition of the Chief Executive is always a matter of concern to the nation, as many national and international problems revolve around him and his decisions. This has always been true and it is particularly so just now with the Russians keeping an entire globe in a perpetual state of doubt.

★ ★ ★

JOHN FOSTER DULLES' condition is not good, and because of his infirmities, it is doubly important for the President to retain his health and vigor. Apparently he is as robust as he has been in some time and it is a comforting circumstance.

Crown Prince Akihito's Marriage Brings Joy

This is the first in 26 centuries (yes, centuries) that royalty in Japan has stepped outside its own ranks for a marriage of this importance.

All Japan rejoices.

So does all humanity.

★ ★ ★

The day is not far distant when the word "commoner" will be discarded and forgotten. "Royalty" as such doesn't occupy a universal pedestal any more. The world has slowly been learning that the "commoners" are the real people.

They're the ones that count.

★ ★ ★

It was a bold step that the young Jap took but dispatches indicate he thought it out himself and then announced his intentions with no uncertainty. His fellow countrymen applauded vigorously and palace traditions were thrown to the four winds.

★ ★ ★

The world today is little impressed by the circumstances of royal birth. It's what you do and what you are that counts. This is just one more step in the unending march towards greater democracy the globe around.

That's as it should be.

The recent 69th wedding anniversary of

It shows that the courts had just decided that a woman was not obliged to tell her age when she registered for voting, a privilege that had just been granted her, and which only a few of the gals were grasping. It was held that a legal registration was sufficient when she certified that she would be 21 by election day. And then how they registered.

Riding on a railroad passenger train, you've undoubtedly noticed that there's an extra bump when passing over a highway crossing, have have wondered why. So have we. Will some railroad man please explain.

The Silver Curtain

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Public Opinion to Try Castro

WASHINGTON—Unlike the treatment he gave scores of his fellow countrymen whom he ordered executed without fair trials, Fidel Castro is being given a chance to face his accusers in the United States.

LAWRENCE

For Cuba's dictator is himself on trial now in the court of public opinion in this country. He has an opportunity in the next few days to make speeches before press organizations here and in New York and before some college audiences as well.

He can reply to the charges made against him in the news dispatches of recent weeks telling of the perfunctory trials and his application of the death penalty in more than 500 cases.

But the major indictment against Fidel Castro is that he has done irreparable harm to the prestige of the government of Cuba in this hemisphere and throughout the world. Americans used to feel that they could go to Cuba without fear and with a feeling that this next-door neighbor to the United States was a friendly one.

Today there are confirmed reports about Communist infiltration in Cuba. In fact, there are plenty of comments by Fidel Castro himself showing contempt for the United States and for Americans in general. These are unlike the utterances of any man who has previously headed the Cuban government in the more than 60 years of its existence as an independent country.

The Cuban leader keeps arguing that the dictator who preceded him was guilty of many crimes and sins against the Cuban people. But Anglo-Saxon principles of common law have for centuries set forth the truth that two wrongs do not make a single right and that even the worst criminal is entitled to a fair trial.

TO ASK FOR AID

Fidel Castro is reported to be planning to ask the United States government for financial aid. This is surprising in view of his hostile comments about the United States. It reveals an amazing unfamiliarity with the reaction in this country to what has happened in the last few months in Cuba.

The Washington government has had to deal with dictatorships in Latin America for many years, and it tries to steer away from any intervention in internal affairs.

This course is criticized at times by those who have big investments in a particular country and who usually come forth with the suggestion that America deal with the existing government and let the question of democracy or dictatorship be handled by the citizens themselves.

But the moral force of the United States is being exerted today on the side of decency and freedom for the people of every country. When Deputy Premier Mikoyan came here from the Soviet Union not long ago, it was not widely publicized in advance that he was largely responsible for the murder of many Hungarian citizens.

When the people in America did get the facts, there were many emphatic expressions of disapproval.

Fidel Castro comes to visit the United States under somewhat different circumstances than did Mikoyan. The American people have been fully advised that the Castro idea of justice is to place before a firing squad anyone he pleases who had sided with the predecessor government.

Certainly the Batista government, which had been formally recognized as the ruling regime, may have carried on a vendetta against its enemies, but whatever happened was carefully hidden from view. Unfortunately for Fidel Castro perhaps, the stories of the 500 or more executions of Cubans have been widely printed.

The American people know what happened. Had they been told about Batista's misdeeds at the time, they would have felt the same shock. But it is no excuse to say that Castro is justified now in ignoring the simple principles of justice just because Batista was a tyrant, too.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead?—I Cor. 15:12.

★ ★ ★

The resurrection of Jesus Christ is a certainty. If any fact, not merely of Christianity, but of history, stands on an impregnable foundation, this does.—E. P. Goodwin, D.D.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Child's 'Growing Pains' Probably Are Rheumatism

Medical authorities have long believed that recurring "growing pains" in children were "symptoms of rheumatism.

DR. BRADY

The father of pediatrics, Dr. Abraham Jacobi, made more sense of "growing pains" than any other physician-author, I think. In the 3rd edition of his textbook, "Therapeutics of Infancy and Childhood," Jacobi said:

★ ★ ★

"The . . . term growing pain dates from the medical nomenclature of past centuries, and ought to have been dropped long ago. What has been called by that name is of varable origin and nature. Sometimes it is fatigue only . . . sometimes rachitical" (that is, due to rickets) . . . 'Still, the large majority of attacks of 'growing pain' means rheumatism."

The 3rd edition of Griffith & Mitchell's "Textbook of Pediatrics," dismisses growing pains lightly, thus:

"Growing pains" (so called) "may be found as frequently in children who do not have, or who never develop, any other sign of rheumatism as in children in the rheumatic group."

Now, if anyone chooses to think I am presumptous when I present my view of "growing pains" with the views of medical authorities, let me explain patiently that I see such pain in a light which was not available when these recognized medical authorities were forming opinions about it — the light of our newer knowledge of nutrition.

And so I say they were all out of step but, you know, me. "Growing pains" are one manifestation of calcium deficiency. Calcium deficiency is more or less inevitable in children or adults who subsist on a low calcium diet and/or inadequate daily intake of vitamin D.

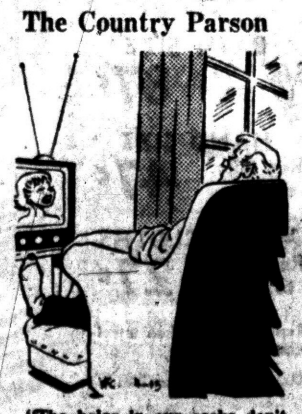

Many mature adults suffer painful nocturnal leg or arm cramps rather than "growing pains," identical in nature with the familiar growing pains of children—a state known as tetany. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for my free pamphlet "Adult Tetany and Growing Pains."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Township Chief Defends Trip to Rescue Treed Cat

I asked those firemen to rescue the cat, after all attempts had been made to have someone else remove it. At no time were men and equipment in a position that an emergency couldn't have been answered. Our department is volunteer, made up of community-minded citizens, and they give their time for benefit of the community no matter what time of day or night they're called.

★ ★ ★

Their compensation isn't monetary. It would take about five runs to replace a pair of shoes ruined in one fire. On March 21st the department answered an emergency which turned out to be a case of very contagious meningitis. As a result five of us took medication for eight days and not one of the men decided to quit.

★ ★ ★

The men who rescued the cat took time from their lunch period to do it. It wouldn't have mattered if Very Indignant had been in the tree with the cat, they would have responded just the same. No lights were flashed nor sirens blown, and no lives were endangered by a speeding truck as there is when someone burning rubbish carelessly starts a fire or someone smokes in bed. Possibly Very Indignant would like to join our department as he or she seems to have the public safety at heart.

★ ★ ★

Your child will be a good student, even if he comes from a little high school with not over 15 or 20 members of the senior class, IF.

And that "IF" means "IF" his parents have properly introduced him to educational matters and his teachers have carried on the same diplomatic saleswork for those school subjects.

Good teaching is a matter of deft salesmanship, and does not correlate necessarily with swanky school buildings.

Meanwhile, their classmates are making the honor rolls despite the fact their tiny village schools had inadequate science laboratories and dingy classrooms:

For Americans have a mania to think BIG buildings and BIG athletic teams also mean BIG educational attainment in the classrooms. That's not true. So get hep.

★ ★ ★

The definition of a perfect college was stated as:

"Mark Hopkins on one end of a log and the student on the other:"

But that definition says nothing about football stadiums or basketball gyms or elaborate physics and chemistry labs.

Don't think I am decrying million dollar science labs but labs don't teach: It takes a human being to teach:

★ ★ ★

And a good teacher can still do a superlative job even in a barn or circus tent or a one-room old-fashioned schoolhouse: Superlative education depends more on skillful teachers than on elaborate buildings.

SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY

This means the parents should speak correct English and stress READING, for reading is the motor in the entire educational machine. Don't get unduly enamoured of foreign languages, but see that your kids can speak ENGLISH creditably. And indulge in home spelling games.

Sell them on Latin, too, for they will generally learn more English grammar and vocabulary from 2 years of Latin, under a supersales-

Have a dictionary, an encyclopedia, a good book of Bible Stories, and a typewriter in your home. Then tactfully teach your child to use all four.

Give him his choice of reading aloud at night or helping with the supper dishes. He'll generally prefer to read aloud.

This plan will fortify his reading skill. If you produce good readers at home, you will probably have top students all through their school careers!

To help young children perk up in reading and math, send for my booklet, "How to Tutor Your Child at Home," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents, non-profit.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

THAT CRAWLING FEELING — Taking her pet for a walk isn't quite that simple for Mrs. Isobel Cole in Winton, England. The pet is "Humphrey," a four-foot alligator. Mrs. Cole says Humphrey is more lovable than a dog, and lots easier to feed. He eats only two meals a week, a pound of steak at each sitting.

Potter's Business Will Incorporate

DETROIT (AP)—Former U.S. Sen. Charles E. Potter says his new shipping business plans to incorporate this week.

Potter confirmed at Cleveland yesterday that he is going into Great Lakes and ocean shipping as president of the World Seaway Shipping Agency with offices in Detroit and New York.

The former Republican Senator held conferences in Cleveland on the project.

Potter said there is a chance that his agency would have boats in service this year. It is definitely planned to go into the trade in the 1960 navigation season, he said.

In addition, Potter said he will enter the real estate business in a new corporation specializing in rental property for home trailers.

The first illustrated daily newspaper was published in New York City in 1873. Zinc plate etchings were issued. Today, photographs of important events near and far appear in daily newspapers within hours after they occur.

School Aid Boost Urged

Williams Backs Bill to Hike State Help by $16 Million

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams' label was attached today to a bill proposing a 16-million-dollar yearly boost in state aid to local school districts.

★ ★ ★

Williams urged passage of the measure yesterday in a special message to the Legislature on education, public health and safety needs.

The governor noted the level of state aid has stayed at $190 per pupil the last three years although educational costs per child rose from $301 last year to $350 this year.

"This increase in costs will have to be borne by the taxpayers in some manner," he said. "There is no escaping it if we want our children to have a decent education."

Allowing for offsetting factors based on assessed property valuations in each school district, Williams said the average school district collects about $151.50 in state aid. The proposed formula would raise it to $161 per child.

The bill also has the support of the Michigan Assn. of School Boards and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

After Bombing, Shooting

Cuba Puts Extra Guards at Dominican Embassy

By PORFIRIO RUBIROSA
As told to UPI

HAVANA (By telephone to New York) (UPI)—The Cuban government has put extra guards around the Dominican Embassy since last Friday night's frightening experience.

The Cuban government's foreign ministry has been very cooperative.

I thank God no one was hurt. It was a miracle.

My wife and I were in our sitting room. A bomb landed on the terrace and there was a tremendous explosion. There were three, four, seven shots fired at the windows.

I don't know who they were trying to hit.

A piece of metal from the bomb buzzed around but nothing came into our room. It happened at 10 o'clock at night (10 p.m. EST) during a pouring rain.

My wife was very frightened. It was quite a shock to her. How no one was hurt was a miracle.

We were alone in the house with four servants when it happened. I heard the bomb land on the terrace and then the explosion came.

We rushed out of the room to see what had happened. My wife close to my side. She never left me.

I found the guards protecting the embassy had gone to the garage in the rain and did not see a thing.

★ ★ ★

The Cuban government's foreign ministry has been very cooperative. They have put more guards around the embassy.

It was a very frightening thing.

A committee of the Havana diplomatic corps demanded that Premier Fidel Castro's government, which has denounced the Dominican regime of Rafael Trujillo, guarantee Rubirosa's personal safety.

Rubirosa, 48, and his fifth wife, Odile, 22, a former French actress, were saved from injury or death only by a thin wall between them and the bomb explosion.

Rubirosa's first wife was Trujillo's daughter, Flor De Oro. His other wives included French actress Danielle Darrieux and American heiresses Doris Duke and Barbara Hutton.

Check of Locks Solves Crime

Pair Held for Murder of Reid, Dearborn Sales Executive

A woman and a man were held for investigation. Another woman, arrested earlier, was released.

Reid, 43, sales manager for the Jones Transfer Co. of Dearborn, died after being stabbed in his car the night of April 7. He wrecked his car while apparently trying to drive for help.

A ring of keys from a woman's coat found in the car led to the solution, police said.

Duplicates were made of the keys. Patrolmen checked the locks on the doors of thousands of apartments.

At last one was found to fit. Two women and a man were taken into custody. One of the women implicated the other, police said. She was quoted as saying the two got into Reid's car and Reid was stabbed in a dispute.

Annett Johnson, 23, who was held previously, was released. Police said she was cleared and would not be charged.

Steel Price Freeze Tied to Pay Limit

NEW YORK (UPI) — A steel industry leader said last night that "holding the line on steel wages would enable us to hold the line on steel prices and the two cannot be separated from each other despite some statements to the contrary."

The statement by Inland Steel Company President Joseph L Block to a meeting of the New York Society of Security Analysts was the industry's first reply to a demand for a steel price freeze made Monday by United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald.

The union and the industry are scheduled to begin negotiations next month for a new contract covering about 50,000 workers in basic steel mills.

McDonald's statement — saying prices should be frozen and wage increases granted on a basis of increased productivity—was itself an answer to an industry demand for a freeze on wages.

All the wage - price proposals have been advanced as a means to combat inflation.

Cure for Ring Worm, Athlete's Foot Cited

Name Ex-Convict Killer

DETROIT (AP) — An ex-convict was named Tuesday as the killer of Frank Galvez, 59, in a gasoline station Jan. 22. Patrolmen Chester Szczerba and William McBride said that Harold Lewis, 33, who has been in prison three times, admitted the slaying while under routine questioning about a car used in recent holdups. They said Lewis often borrowed the car.

With Device to Predict Heart Attacks

Medics' Aim: Safety Test for Pilots

(This is the first of a two-part series reporting on the research under way and the plans being made to insure the safety of air travelers).

By JERRY BENNETT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Development of techniques to warn doctors when a pilot is in danger of having a heart attack is one of the dramatic goals of aviation safety experts striving to improve the reliability of man and machine.

Key to coronary predictions is the ballistio-cardiograph, a device that measures the rate at which blood flows through the body. Although the instrument was invented several years ago, the lack of an accurate measuring system has prevented it from being widely used.

Now, medical experts of the Federal Aviation Agency are conducting experiments to establish the blood flow rates of healthy persons compared to those who later suffer heart attacks or cerebral hemorrhages.

Emphasis on perfecting the ballisto-cardiograph stems from the belief that today's pilot physical examinations are not stiff enough for the hundreds of pilots in their 50s or older.

Most airlines have designated 60 as their pilot retirement age. Some pilots believe this is too soon to quit. They say that as long as they feel healthy and can pass their three annual physical exams, they can handle a plane safely.

Larry Cates, Washington representative of the Airline Pilots Association, says:

"Doctors are usually very conservative. They can't evaluate a man's experience to offset his deterioration. Anyway pilots don't fly solo. There's always at least one other pilot."

Dr. John Smith, acting FAA civil air surgeon, says that it's practically impossible to predict heart attacks with present medical techniques.

In 1957, three pilots suffered fatal coronaries while flying. Two others dropped dead while their planes were on the ground. Three of these men were mployed by airlines, the other two by private business firms. All five, Dr. Smith explains, had passed a regular flight physical within six months before their deaths.

★ ★ ★

FFA medical research also is trying to determine such things as a pilot's ability to adjust to a new environment and the influence of aging on mental and sensory functions such as ability to reason, remember, learn and judge.

★ ★ ★

It will take three or four years to complete their research on aging and establish new physical standards. One phase of the tougher check-up policy, however, is expected to go into effect in the near future.

Aviation medical experts plan to recommend that pilots with a history of coronary disease or a severe mental ailment be barred from flying. Also grounded would-be diabetics who are taking insulin.

Also, electrocardiograph tests will become a regular part of pilot checkups in July.

While doctors are striving to boost physical standards for pilots, mechanical experts continually are trying to improve the safety of planes.

Research is being conducted to develop a device that will take control of a plane and land it in any kind of weather.

★ ★ ★

Other work is going on to perfect an automatic anti-collision device that would warn planes when they were too close to each other and tell pilots what to do to avoid a smash-up.

(Next: How safe our airports?)

THE BALLISTO-CARDIOGRAPH being demonstrated here by FAA's Dr. Robert Cooperman will be used in the future in an effort to spot potential coronary victims among airline pilots.

Big Rapids Has Downtown Fire

Four Stores, Several Apartments Damaged, but None Are Injured

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—A fire damaged several apartment dwellings and four business establishments in downtown Big Rapids today.

Firemen from Big Rapids and nearby Rogers Heights, Morley and Reed City brought the flames under control in about two hours.

★ ★ ★

Police said there were no injuries.

Hundreds of spectators gathered when flames started shooting out of the roof of second floor apartments at about 11:10 last night.

The apartments were situated above a jewelry store and a children's clothing shop. Police said the apartments were destroyed by flames.

Damage to the two stores on the first floor below the apartments was restricted mostly to smoke and water, police said.

A one-story meat market next to the clothing shop and a pizza restaurant behind the jewelry store also were damaged by smoke and water.

Police said the cause of the fire was undetermined. They were unable to estimate the amount of damage.

Of the rural roads in this country 65 per cent are surfaced.

Paint Dealers Meet

DETROIT (AP) — About 650 Sherwin - Williams Co. paint dealers from the firm's north central area held their annual meeting here Tuesday night. Pat Stordel, the company's president, said 120 more branches would be added in the area which comprises all of Michigan, northern Indiana and northern Ohio.

Sees Plane Buzzing as Red Attempt to Force Allied Flexibility in Talks

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

The Soviets have buzzed another U.S. plane in what looks like a deliberate attempt to spread panic among the Western allies in advance of the summit meeting. The incident calls for serious and honest thinking in the West.

Are these incidents part of a Khrushchev plan to bully the West into attitudes of what the British choose to call flexibility? That seems the case. If the attempts succeed, the West may be courting disaster.

Khrushchev may be trying to get across the idea that unless at least some of his demands are met, there is grave danger of world war. The initiative for war obviously is not in the hands of the democracies, which seem to have resigned themselves to the idea that if war comes, the other side must attack first.

Thus, Western policy would seem to be one of preparing for vengeance, not for defense. It even indicates there is no such thing as defense in today's world.

In effect, Khrushchev is saying: can you gamble that I will not be reckess enough to push the button? If you cannot, then let's talk business. Khrushchev wants and show some sort of results at home from the forthcoming conferences.

If there is to be no recourse to war, then defense must begin at the political level. Are the Western statesmen approaching the summit with the deck stacked against them?

Khrushchev can win, because any concession to him at any point will be a Khrushchev victory. He can hardly emerge from the summit with anything less than a standoff, preserving things as they are now in Germany and waiting for yet another chance to probe the West's soft spots. But he can do much better than that.

SEES ALLIES DIVIDED

Already Khrushchev has the satisfaction of seeing the Western allies divided in their summit approach. Attempts to minimize the division simply add up to more confusion.

This would seem to be a moment in history when frankness—or to be blunt, honesty—might be advisable in informing the Western world of its position.

★ ★ ★

The British, for example, might use plain English. Prime Minister Macmillan's right-hand man, Home Secretary R. A. Butler, declared Tuesday there were no real differences between Britain and Germany on dealing with Khrushchev except on matters of emphasis and tactics. But there surely are differences, and even if these are tactical they are gravely important.

SURRENDER DANGEROUS

Chancellor Adenauer—and many Americans agree with him—suggests the British are using the wrong words. Flexibility indicates concession, backing down at some point along the line. In a word, then, it means surrender, and surrender on any point at issue in Germany is bound to be dangerous.

The British themselves learned in 1939 they could not buy off a man bent on conquest. Hitler clearly announced his plans in advance. Just as clearly the Communists have made their intentions plain. The Communists, said Lenin, intend to "move step by step, maintaining a state which is neither war nor peace; proceed by alternating offensives and retreats, but always work through Communist conspiracy." Two steps forward, one step back, Lenin preached, but never give up what you grab.

The West surely is aware that Khrushchev at the summit will be Khrushchev the international Communist who has boasted many times of his devotion to Lenin's notions of world revolution. Whatever he wins not only will strengthen his hand at home but will be another step in the Communist program for piecemeal conquest of its enemies.

PRINCE ON HIGHLINE — Britain's Prince Philip, nonchalant as an old salt, spans the watery gap between the Royal yacht Brittania and the New Zealand frigate Rotoiti, in the background, on a visit to the warship between the Solomon and Gilbert Island in the Pacific. The prince is on a round-the-world tour.

Bob Considine Says:

New Civilian Jet Flies Like Cloud

LAS VEGAS—Had a ride in the DC8 today, Douglas' entry into the commercial jet age. A cloud couldn't fly better.

The layman's eye can see no difference between it and Boeing's 707, which went into service last fall. It is just as immense, rakish, swept-winged. The rivals use the same power plants, Pratt and Whitney's commercial version of the J57. Water injection gives each engine the equivalent of 13,000 horsepower on takeoff.

The trained eye of the airmen on hand for the World Congress of Flight detects differences, however. The Douglas wing is thicker, for slower landing speeds and "holding" over an airport. There are larger windows than in the 707, permitted by a special Douglas-designed method of cabin strengthening.

We asked our old friend, Rocky Rochlen, Douglas public relations chief, what it cost to develop this $5,000,000 plane.

"Two hundred million," he said quite casually.

The plane in which we rode carried 154 others, including Gen. Frank Lahm, 82, the first military student of the Wright Brothers. Lahm, in turn, taught the first Navy man to fly.

"Navy doesn't like to be reminded of that," the spry old gentleman chuckled.

The ship and the first of others like it will be turned over to United Air Lines in the not too distant future. Like the 707 and Convair's 880, it will be thoroughly tested.

To be on hand at Las Vegas it briefly interrupted the most searching kind of testing under icing conditions. This is the kind of thing that can't be done in a laboratory or with a slide rule.

The DC8 flew up to Alaska and then Labrador and Newfoundland, looking for the stuff, and found the heaviest layer over—of all places—Arizona.

Who says that jet travel has all become a matter of "little black boxes"? The man is still a part of the business, and nobody makes him more earthy than Capt. Lee Sheuh-li, historian of the Nationalist Chinese aerobatics team whose close-formation flying has alarmed and delighted the air show crowds.

Capt. Sheuh-li is author of an attractive little booklet which gives biographical sketches of the members of the team. He is an arresting master of one of the world's most difficult languages—English.

His introduction of his jet-flying colleagues will be appreciated by anyone who has ever read an English newspaper printed in the Orient. He first presents Lt. Col. Lo Hua-ping, 34, commander of the spectacular nine-lane Thunder Tiger Team. Excerpts:

"This is his fifth time to go abroad participating in air show as the flight leader of this team. . . . He got a very understanding wife, two young girls and a very happy Christian family. The leader is 5-4 feet, a short skiny guy, but we think he is 8 feet tall."

Educational, Musical Programs Slated

6 Area PTAs Set Meetings Tomorrow

Educational and musical programs are slated for six Waterford Township Parent-Teacher Assn. meetings tomorrow night.

The Waterford Township High School varsity debate team at the Donelson School PTA meeting at 8 p.m. will debate the resolution, "United States Should Adopt the Educational System of England." Debaters are Bob Cooper, John Teeuwissen, Fred Gross and Tim Patterson, with Clark Lefurgy acting as chairman and timekeeper.

Special bulletin boards have been prepared by children of the William Burt School on a musical theme. Groups of children from each grade will participate in the program, "music and your child."

Carol Liberty, Mrs. Carol Stephens and Miss Mary Phelps will supervise the displays. Classrooms of Burt school will be open at 7 p.m. so that parents may view the displays arranged by the children.

Another musical program has been arranged at the Hudson Covert school PTA, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Veda Montgomery, will show how music is taught in the Waterford Township elementary grades.

A musical program will be presented by the Covert Chorus with children from the 2nd, through the sixth grades participating, and special selections will be presented on a new instrument the Audio-harp, which is being used in the school system.

Guest speaker will be George Tramontin, school principal, who will discuss the tornado alert preparations practiced in the schools.

SET FLAG CEREMONY

Opening the 8 p.m. meeting at Leggett School, will be a flag ceremony conducted by Webelos Cub Scout Pack No. 165. Gregory Jackson, Robert Greene, David Berg and Timothy Thurston will be in charge.

Monteith school children will present a live play titled "Random Target" at the Leggett meeting, and a discussion period will follow the presentation. There will be an open house from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

Parents and teachers attending the 7:30 p.m. Jayno Adams school meeting will see the "Effectiveness Of a Rumor" when Michael Gaines presents an audience participation program.

Gaines, who is a Michigan Regional Director of the rumor clinic, will start a simple rumor in one section of the audience, and this will be passed on from one person to another, to see what the end results will be.

Following the program, there will be an election of officers according to chairman Mrs. Lois Watson.

Installation of newly elected PTA officers will get under way at 8 p.m. at the Schoolcraft. Those being installed are President Lewis Anthony, Father Vice-President Richard Luehmann, Mother Vice President Mrs. Traver Miller, and Teacher Vice President Mrs. Zella Mitchell.

Recording secretary will be Mrs. Arthur Lawson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Wallace; and treasurer, Robert J. Hill. Mrs. Arthur Hiple, new president of the Oakland County Council will be in charge of the installation.

Guest speaker Carl Hanna, State representative for the American Field Service, will present a talk on the functions and services of the organization.

★ ★ ★

He will be accompanied by his daughter, Kitty, an exchange student last year, who will present colored slides on Denmark. Milford's exchange student, Margareta Englund will also be a guest.

Measure to OK County Officials for DPW Board

Although Oakland County has done so for several years, an amendment to a bill was ready for Gov. Williams' signature which would allow county supervisors to serve on county Boards of Public Works.

Norman R. Barnard, Oakland County's corporation counsel, said the step is nothing more than a clarifying amendment to the original 1957 DPW Act 185 "so that there will be no questions in the future that supervisors can serve on these DPW boards."

Both the House and Senate have passed the amendment.

Oakland County's Board of Public Works, governing body of the DPW, has seven supervisors serving on it.

"It was always felt that there was no question about them serving after the act was passed so Oakland went ahead," Bernard said. "Now this amendment will clear up any new questions that might develop."

Hughes' Man Friday Says He Broke Word

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP) — Tycoon Howard Hughes has been sued for $2,111,965 by his former top executive.

★ ★ ★

The suit, filed Tuesday on behalf of Noah Dietrich, alleges that Hughes had not kept promises to Dietrich during their long association in airplane manufacturing, industrial enterprises and operation of RKO Studio.

★ ★ ★

Dietrich asks one million dollars exemplary damages, another million in severance pay and unpaid salary.

Jet Airliner Bests Record Across U.S.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fighting 50 m.p.h. headwinds, a jet airliner raced from New York City to Los Angeles in 4 hours 46 minutes Tuesday, breaking the commercial air record for westbound flights.

The plane, carrying a capacity load of 106 passengers and eight crew members, bettered the old record by an hour and 32 minutes. The American Airlines Boeing 707 jet flagship, piloted by Capt. Charles A. MacAtee, averaged 570 m.p.h. for the 2,469-mile transcontinental flight.

A six-year-old who'd seen a romantic film said later: "It wasn't too bad. During the kissing scenes I closed my eyes and made believe he was choking her" . . . A woman never really makes a fool of a man. She just directs the performance. —Earl Wilson.

GMT Worker Crowned City Checker King

Delos A. Dunham, a General Motors Truck & Coach Division worker, has again been crowned "king of the checker players" of the Pontiac Chess and Checker Club which recently completed a six-week checkers tournament.

Top checkers playing apparently runs in the Dunham family as finishing in the runner-up spot was Robert E. Dunham, Delos' 71-year-old father. Both live at 272 Cottage St.

Third place among 10 players went to Elmer Fairbanks, 405 E. Shadbolt St., Lake Orion; fourth to Dewey F. Dean, of 28 W. Strathmore Ave.; fifth to Carl A. Boeneman, 450 E. Fourth Ave., and sixth went to Don Johnson, of 600 E. Fourth Ave.

Some 15 chess players are busily engaged in their part of the club tournament. This is expected to be completed in about a month.

Other checker or chess players wishing to join the club, sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept., may do so by turning out at regular Monday meetings at the Adah Branch Library, 251 E. Rundell St.

Warren Man Killed in Truck Collision

JONESVILLE (AP) — James Williams, 37, of Warren, was killed today when his car sideswiped a semitruck loaded with steel on U.S. 12 near Somerset Center.

★ ★ ★

The impact left the truck cab upended and scattered the load of steel over the highway. The road was blocked for six hours. State Police said Williams had been driving in an erratic manner and sideswiped the truck while on the wrong side of the road.

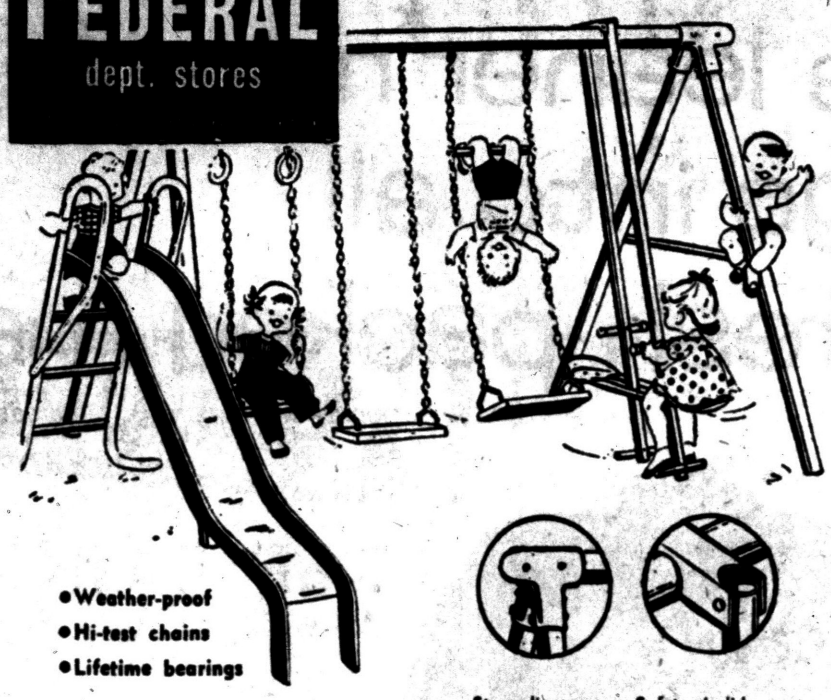

★ ★ ★

The truck driver and two passengers with Williams were injured. The trucker, Divonne Keil, 37, of Elkhart, Ind., had a fractured pelvis and broken shoulder. Williams' passengers, Martha Manning, 46, of Detroit, and Allen Schroeder of Melvindale, were less seriously hurt.

'Pain in the Neck' Is More Than Expression

NEW YORK (UPI)—Since people often put their resentments into "the language of organs," such as "she gives me a pain in the neck" and "what a headache this job is," it is not surprising their hidden resentments get expressed in the same language—in bizarre illnesses.

So advised an authority in psychosomatic science in giving a close-up view of how very complicated people can be when they produce physical symptoms of illness which have symbolic meaning to their emotions.

Dr. Robert L. Faucett of the Mayo Clinic and Foundation, Rochester, Minn., says the symptoms make no sense if you consider the body only a "physio-chemical machine," especially when examination and laboratory tests reveal no cause for the symptoms.

Yet these people stand still for all sorts of tests and examinations, in fact demand them, and go so far as to want surgery.

These patients don't recognize it but their physical symptoms are caused by the difficulties they have had or are having with other people and their personal situations, he said. They get personal advantages in expressing these conflicts in terms of illness rather than by recognizing them for what they are.

For one thing, "the physically ill person is excused from responsibility, blame and failure and is treated, at least for a time, with sympathy and kindness."

For another, he can pass all responsibility on to the doctor if he describes his difficulties "in terms of the physio-chemical machine."

The doctor "could talk directly about the patient's masked and hidden feelings and make the patient aware of their inappropriateness to the present situation," and to the degree he succeeds, "he will diminish the patient's anxiety and give him an opportunity to become more nearly adult."

But "the physician is a product of the same culture that produces the patient. He hesitates to listen to a patient's recital of intimate personal events and feelings."

Anyway "the power of suggestion is greatly over-rated. If patients with emotional problems could be cured of their difficulties by suggestion, so many would not continue to inhabit physicians' offices," Faucett continued in a lecture in the technical journal, "Minnesota Medicine."

★ ★ ★

What the physician should do is simply tell the patient his symptoms are not due to any organic illness and then explain they come from his unrecognized emotional problems which somehow he must solve. Some will see the point and these can be encouraged to talk about themselves "to a spouse, a friend, a minister, the physician, or a psychiatrist."

Man Held for Hiring Gun to Kill Wife

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — An unemployed man here is charged today with attempted murder, accused of seeking to hire a gun to kill his estranged wife — a 20-year-old blonde model.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Oscar Howlett said the man, Stuart Heath Jr., 27, is being held in lieu of $10,000 bond. The complaint against him was signed by his wife Judith, who is seeking a divorce.

The plot was brought to police Sunday by Dean Leon Gleaves, 23, a Portland longshoreman. He gave officers a gun, bullets and a written description of Mrs. Heath which he said came from Heath, who he said offered $1,500 for the deed.

★ ★ ★

Howlett said Heath confessed to asking Gleaves to murder his wife, and admitted giving him the gun, but denied offering Gleaves money.

The National Geographic Society says a one-month-old boy is reported to have been married to a two-week-old girl in central India.

Hedy Spends $5,527 Monthly on Expenses

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Movie star Hedy Lamarr's bookkeeper listed the actress' monthly household expenses at $5,527 Tuesday and told the court that sum represented a standard of living lower than that to which she was accustomed.

★ ★ ★

Miss Lamarr seeks $7,500 monthly temporary alimony from Houstonian W. Howard Lee, who met her at a horse show here in 1951 and married her in New York in 1953.

The hearing topped off three months of suits and counteractions which stemmed from a separation agreement signed by Lee and Miss Lamarr in Los Angeles last August. It provided her with an income of $3,000 a month or half of his income, whichever was larger.

★ ★ ★

Miss Lamarr filed suit Jan. 21, claiming he failed to live up to the agreement and asking $51,000 damages. He filed for divorce a few weeks later, followed by the actress' counter-suit.

British Protest Mangy Guardsmen's Hats

Can There Be Moths in the Bearskins?

LONDON (NEA) — The Brigade of Guards, those scarlet-tunicked, bearskin-hatted, foot-stomping sentinels outside Buckingham Palace, are a long-suffering race of men.

Guardsmen suffer small children and American cameras to be thrust into their faces without so much as twitching a muscle.

They frequently fall on these same faces, fainting from heat, nervous exhaustion and bad circulation—although they are told to wiggle their ears to keep the blood circulating.

And now comes the greatest indignity of all. People are criticizing their headgear. They are suggesting that those magnificent, glossy, black bearskins, the Guardsman's pride and joy, are, in fact, moth-eaten and mangy-looking.

Worse still, it has been proposed that the traditional bearskin should be replaced by nylon as being cheaper, lighter and faster drying.

So far the bearskin controversy has embroiled the War Office, the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the mayor of a Northern Ontario mining town in fierce debate.

Here's how it all began. Peter Page, who passes Buckingham Palace every morning on his way to work, noticed the sad state of the Guardsmen's headgear, wrote a letter to The Times of London about it.

"Some of the bearskins," wrote Page, "have fierce-looking fringes and look magnificent. Some have no fringes at all and look curiously bald.

Back came an offer of free bearskins from the mayor of Timmins, a gold-mining town (pop. 28,790) in Northern Ontario. In a Commonwealth gesture of goodwill, the mayor offered to supply the entire Brigade of Guards with new fur by organizing a wide-scale black bear hunt.

He suggested the hunt take place in late April or early May, when the bruins come out of hibernation, and even offered to cure the skins and to dispatch them to Buckingham Palace free.

Delighted with the offer, the War Office promptly snapped it up.

This is where the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals got into the act. Its suspicions aroused, the animal protection society began firing questions at the War Office. How many bears was it proposed to kill?

A War Office spokesman hedged, thought that "quite a number of hats could be made from one bear."

But if one bearskin yields two hats, and if there are 1,000 Guardsmen on public duty, that means that 500 bears would be marked for slaughter, the R.S.P.C.A. pointed out relentlessly.

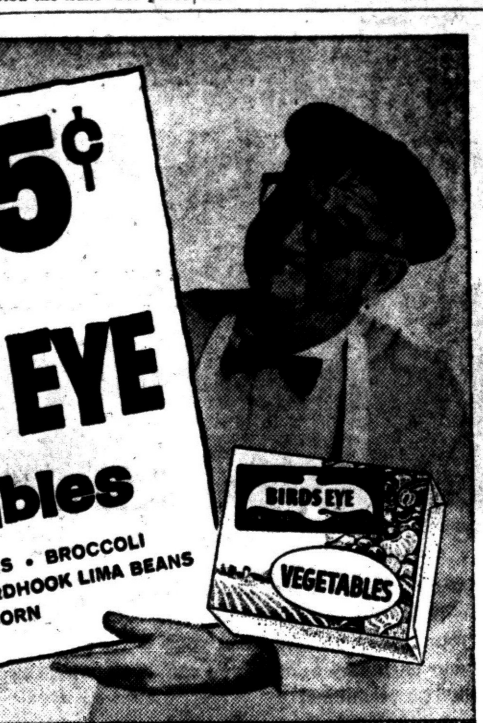

Besides, how would the bears be killed? If it involved cruel methods such as the use of steeltoothed traps, the R.S.P.C.A. was opposed to it.

And had the War Office investigated the possibility of using nylon fur as a substitute?

Until the War Office makes up its mind how many hats are needed, how many heads one bearskin will cover, and the most human way of killing the bears, Guardsmen will continue to stand duty with moths flying out their ears.

Cadillac

World's Best Synonym for "Quality"!

In every land where automobiles are seen and appreciated, the Cadillac name has become an accepted part of the language.

In fact, it would be safe to say that "Cadillac" is now an international synonym for "quality".

What a telling tribute this is to the motor car that bears this proud name—and that has given the Cadillac ideal such widespread recognition.

And certainly, that ideal of quality has never been more evident—more beautifully delineated—than it is in the current "car of cars".

First of all, it can be seen—in the majesty of its lines and contours . . . in the regal grace of its silhouette . . . and in the jewel-like elegance of its finish and trim.

Or it can be felt—in the brilliant response of its great new engine . . . in the incredible smoothness of its ride . . . and in the wonderful ease with which it drives and handles.

It can even be sensed—in the superb taste of its interior appointments . . . and in the matchless character of its beautiful fabrics and leathers.

And yes, it can be heard—in the marvelous quiet of its operation . . . and its truly wonderful silence on even the roughest of byways.

In brief, the Cadillac name has never before represented excellence in such great measure—as a personal appraisal will amply demonstrate.

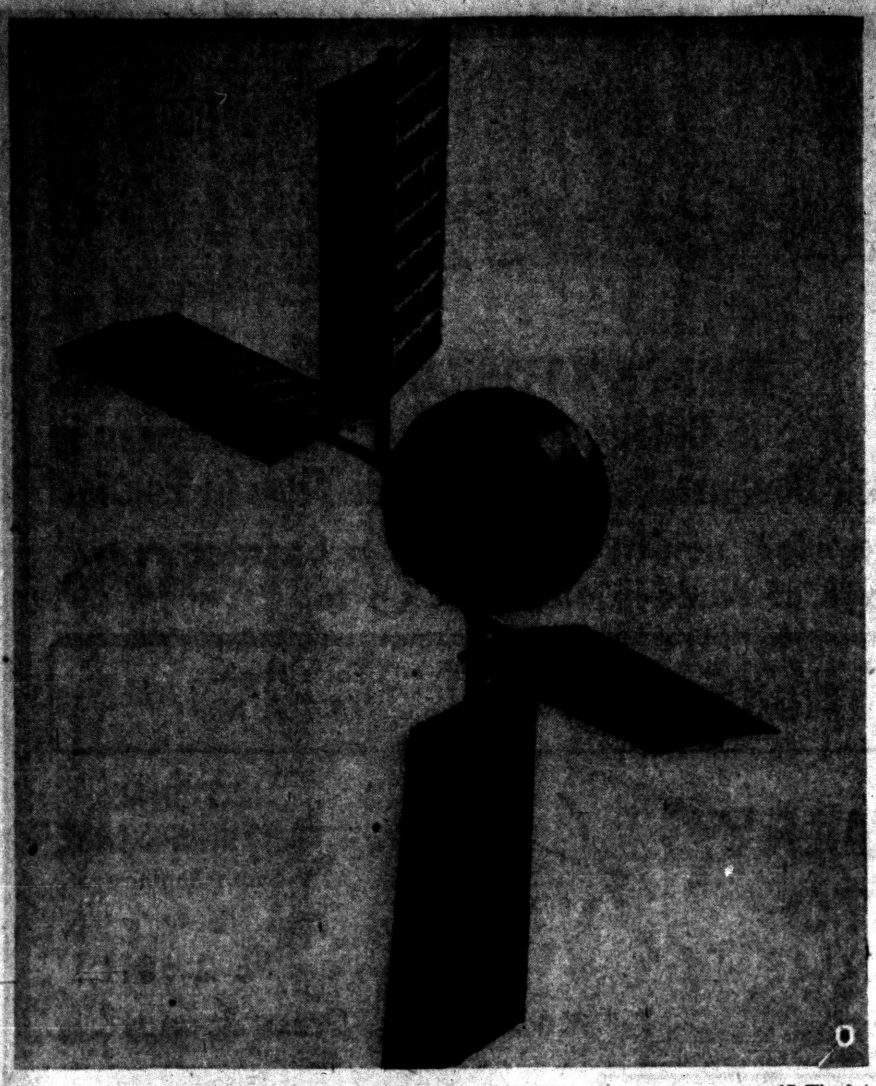

We suggest you visit your authorized Cadillac dealer soon—and view your favorite highway through the windshield of a 1959 Cadillac.

It will give you a new understanding of how truly fine a motor car can be when goodness is the watchword: craftsmanship the creed!

Boy Claims Father Forced Him to Drink

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—A couple was jailed on suspicion of child beating Tuesday after their 7-year-old son accused his father of mistreating him and pouring whisky down his throat for refusing to eat.

★ ★ ★

The youngster, James Sams, was taken to a hospital, where doctors pumped his stomach and treated bruises on his face and neck. He told police his father shook him furiously because he wouldn't eat, then forced half a pint of whisky down his throat.

★ ★ ★

James R. Sams, 40, jailed with his wife Ethel, 43, denied it and told police: "I got five kids and they all love me. Every one of 'em."

The parents had been arrested at a bar on drunk charges. They were rebooked on the child beating complaint.

Bill Would Ease Investment Curbs

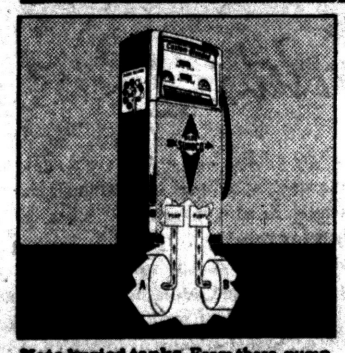

LANSING (AP) — Sen. George C. Steeh (D-Mount Clemens) has prepared a bill proposing relaxation of security sale requirements for small business investment companies desiring to operate in Michigan.

Steeh said restrictive state statutes governing security sales hamstring several transactions required by a Congressional act authorizing the federal government to license investment companies to aid small business.

"The sole purpose of this bill," Steeh said, "is to remove unneeded restrictions and thereby encourage Michigan small business investment companies and, hopefully, develop an even greater diversification of our economy."

"Misfit-octane" hurts 2 ways!

Note buried tanks. From these, pump draws (A) premium quality Blue Sunoco "200", and (B) Sunoco Octane Concentrate (specially refined motor fuel). These are precisely blended by the pump to the exact blend number. Approved by various governmental authorities!

When you get the exact octane your engine needs . . . then and only then — will your car deliver its best power without wasting your money. In fact, when your fuel is custom-fitted to your engine by Sunoco, you can save as much as 4¢ a gallon on premiums!

And, Custom-Blending is so easy! Just start with the blend recommended for your car by your Sunoco dealer. Next tankful, drop down to the next lower blend at the next lower price, and so on, until you find the blend that performs the best, yet costs the least!

Big power at "Regular" Price! Sunoco Custom Blend "200" means big new power for many "regular" users. It's proved higher octane than most "regular" buyers are getting anywhere else! It's higher quality...highest value!

CUSTOM-BLENDED BLUE SUNOCO

Be Sure to Acknowledge Wedding Gifts Promptly

By RHEA E. VIETOR
Women's Editor
The Pontiac Press

Here's a tip for all you young brides. Don't forget to acknowledge your wedding gifts promptly!

Being careless about this duty (which should be a pleasure after all) is the quickest way to cause hard feelings among relatives, and get your mother blamed for something that isn't her fault without considering the social obligation of acknowledging gifts look at the practical aspect.

MRS. VIETOR

When someone has gone to the trouble and expense of a wedding gift, he or she will want to know promptly if it arrived safety at its destination.

THEY WONDER

When you neglect to write a note promptly, you are putting your friends on a spot. They aren't going to call and ask if their present arrived safely — but they are going to wonder about it. And the longer you keep them in suspense the more you will fall in their estimation.

★ ★ ★

Everyone realizes how involved wedding preparations can be. No one expects you to do the impossible. But you can manage to thank your friends for their thoughtfulness if you try.

★ ★ ★

Thank you notes should be written as soon as possible — and certainly within two or three weeks after receipt of the gift.

They should never be written on Mr. or Mrs. cards or on cards that say "Thank you" on the top fold. Use good quality conservative note paper or informals, which should carry the bride's name alone if engraved.

FOR LARGE WEDDING

At a large wedding where hundreds of gifts must be personally acknowledged, an engraved card may be sent immediately upon receiving the gift and a personal note sent later.

★ ★ ★

Your letters should express your own personality. They can be brief and still be interesting, friendly and not stereotyped. They are signed according to how well you know the sender, "Cordially, Mary," or "Sincerely, Mary Brown," as the case may be.

Chitchat

By JANET ODELL

What's your opinion on housecleaning? If you mean the kind of housecleaning our mothers and grandmothers went through every spring, we're agin' it.

It has long been our practice to do any cleaning in small batches. In the first place, it's not our favorite occupation. In the second place, because of our job, we have to fit it in our free hours.

ONE ROOM AT A TIME

If you are the wall-washing type, do just one room at a time and quit for the day. You'll be a more pleasant person to come home to than if you're grump from fatigue. Set aside another day for window and mirror washing. But let the outside of the windows be done some other time, or by someone else.

★ ★ ★

Scrub, wax and polish just one floor. All right, your kitchen and bathroom are both small so you can do them at the same time. The idea we're trying to get across is not to bite off more than you can chew comfortably.

★ ★ ★

There are a number of new items to help you with your housecleaning. A stain remover called "Process 1-2-3" is said to remove almost any kind of stain. So far, we have not seen it locally, but will keep looking.

PREVENTS STAINS

It's better to prevent stains if you can. A product called Mystic Mist makes fabrics and fibers water-repellent and stain-resistant. As you spray it on, it becomes part of the fabric.

If your favorite grocery or hardware store doesn't carry Mystic Mist, write to Dumas Milner Corp., Jackson, Miss.

2-Part Program Marks Tuesday Musicale

By CHRIS GAENSBAUER

An interesting double-feature program was presented to members of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale at Grace Lutheran Church Fellowship Hall Tuesday afternoon. The first part was a symposium consisting of Margaret Mannebach, Cameron McLean and John Bryden, all distinguished musicians from Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Donald Hogue, as program chairman, introduced the panel. Mrs. V. L. Venman, acted as moderator. She also served as state representative for the local State Federation Day.

WHAT MAKES ARTIST?

As a pianist and accompanist, Miss Mannebach discussed the difference between a true artist and a mere performer. She pointed out that the artist brings to a musical performance an indefinable quality of greatness which makes technique always subservient to the musical demands of the composition. He has a "bigness" of concept, in contrast to a "smallness" of heart and manner in the mere performer. She illustrated with opinions and philosophies of great contemporary pianists, Schnabel, Hoffman and Chasins.

He stressed as the important factor in singing, the need to convey the spirit of a song. Emotion must dominate all vocal success because where there is no emotion there is no art, he said. In summarizing he quoted Edith Wharton's statement "Art is precision in ecstasy."

CHURCH MUSIC

"Artistic Church Choral Performance" was the subject chosen by John Bryden, professor of humanities at Wayne State University and eminent choir director. In a brief evaluation, he amusingly pointed out traps and snares the choir director can fall into, and listed constructive aims for which to strive.

★ ★ ★

The second half of the program consisted of a short Grass Roots Opera titled "Cradle Song," composed and directed by Jane Marshall, woman's director for a Port Huron radio station. She also accompanied the singers.

Vocalists were Florence Crosbie, Doris Baumgardner, Edith Hanton and Maude Davis, all from the Port Huron Federated Music Club.

★ ★ ★

The opera performance proved that creative effort of this kind can be most rewarding for audience as well as composer.

REPORTS ON CONVENTION

Before the program Mrs. James Forman and Mrs. Fred Stimpert reported on the State Federation Convention in Detroit for which Pontiac was a hostess club. Mrs. William Maybury was honored for her fine work as convention chairman with Mrs. Ralph Norvell making the presentation.

The highly rewarding project in musical therapy at Pontiac State Hospital was discussed by Mrs. Victor Lindquist and an appeal made for good used pianos to be placed in the wards so the work can be extended.

Mrs. Robert Isgrigg and Mrs. Charles Allen were cochairmen of the social committee for the day. Assisting them were Mrs. Walter Eis, Mrs. Roy Corwin, Mrs. Mark Todd, Mrs. Russell Galbraith and Mrs. John Livingstone.

★ ★ ★

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. O. H. Lundbeck and Mrs. F. G. Schlichter. Door hostesses were Mrs. M. L. Buck and Mrs. B. A. Benson. On the floral committee were Mrs. Karl K. Kreitz and Mrs. E. T. Cleland.

Watch Your Waist!

Since the return to fashion of the natural waistline, you may have a bit of remodeling to do! We offer a few tips while work is in progress.

Pamper five extra pounds with a smooth slim beltless sheath. Never belt your dress tight enough to cause fabric to jet out at an angle instead of a curve.

If you are short waisted, wide belts that overlap your ribcage are not for you! Prop wide skirts with full soft petticoats to make your waist appear smaller by contrast.

Too Bad Hatpins Went Out — Abby

This 'Father Act' Can Go Too Far

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Please help us teenage girls who don't know what to do when these middle-aged (and older) men hug and squeeze us and even kiss us in an overly friendly way. They are usually friends of our families and respected members of the community, so we can't just haul off and slap their faces.

ABBY

"I am getting sick and tired of being pawed by these old geezers who say, "My, you're getting pretty!" while they pat and pinch me. Their wives can be two feet away but they make it look innocent by putting on the fatherly act. What can we girls do?"

NAUSEATED

DEAR NAUSEATED: When you see one of these old wolves with a lecherous look in his eye — give him the straight-arm even if it takes a little fancy footwork. (Too bad hat pins went out.)

"DEAR ABBY: I have been happily married for nine years and we never had children. I went to a doctor and found out I could never have a child of my own so we want to put our name in with some adoption agencies. When I was young and foolish (12) I ran with a wrong crowd in South Philadelphia and another girl and myself were picked up for shoplifting. We were sent to a reform school for punishment.

"Abby, my husband knows this and tells me that the adoption agencies will probably hold that against us. Do you think one foolish mistake I already paid for would stand in our way of having an adopted baby? I pray every night it won't matter." ASHAMED TO SIGN MY NAME.

DEAR ASHAMED: Each adoption agency has its own regulations. Answer their questions honestly and if they are satisfied that you meet the qualifications, you have nothing to fear.

"DEAR ABBY: My problem is that I am married to a man who is married to the company he works for. He brings home work every night and never seems to forget his job. I wouldn't mind this if they would show their appreciation and give him a raise or a promotion. How can I get my husband to pay more attention to me and forget about his job when he is at home?"

IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: Occasionally a man will have "homework," but the well organized businessman does not have to bring his work home every night. Perhaps he's working nights in self-defense. Cultivate some interesting friends and encourage a little social life. When he finds something more interesting to do, he'll put away his work.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a girl but I can't bring myself to ask her to marry me because she is pathetically overweight. I mean about 70 or 80 pounds. How can I tell her to reduce?" BOYD

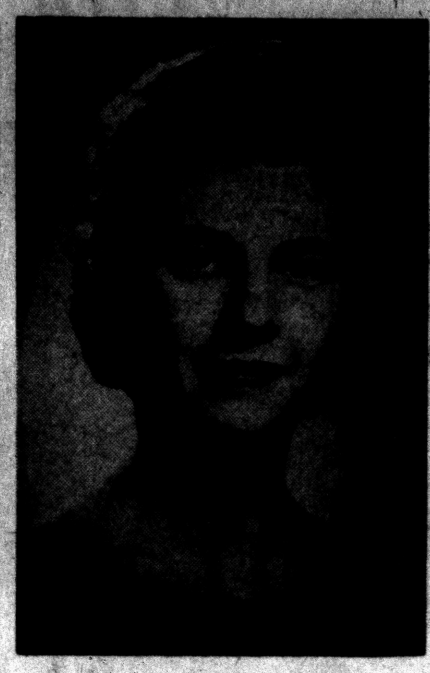

DEAR BOYD: Are you kidding? Tell her you love her, but there is too much of her to love.

Times Have Changed

Fashion Show for Men Now

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Shades of Grandfather's long underwear and black undertakers ties! They are a far cry from today's bikini undershorts and tuxedos in brilliant colors.

I might as well warn the gals that times are changing—and I, for one, am glad of it. For much too long men have been burdened with clothes which were very heavy and very dull.

Because of the men who read this column, and their wives who are so interested in the way they look, I felt fortunate to be present at the first national male fashion show ever to be held in the United States. The occasion was the annual meeting in Chicago of The National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers. The American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear cooperated in presenting the fashion show and conducted the press sessions.

We women have had our day with "The New Look," "The Empire Style," "The Sack" and so forth, and now the men have theirs. It is called "The Continental." Yep! They are catching up with us fast.

Over the past few years there has been a noticable shift away from the old, conservative, never-changing masculine styles to more colorful and varied attire. This certainly is all to the good. I feel sure that more color and variety in style is restful as a change of pace to men just as it is to women.

As for wives, they love to see their husbands dressed attractively and appropriately, that is, unless they are the jealous type and feed their spouses whipped cream and such in order to make them less appealing to other females. I do not believe there are very many of these.

Recently there has been quite a swing toward Ivy League clothes and while this style suits many men and many moods and many occasions, the extreme Ivy League may look a bit strange when worn by an older man at business.

The new masculine fashions do not add but subtract years to a man's appearance—but not in a college youth way. Slim, trim lines in coat and suit seem to take away pounds as well as years.

The new styles have touches of elegance and an air of sophistication. They are a bit more formal looking and this helps give the mature man an appearance of consequence.

I interviewed some experts during my trip to Chicago and tomorrow I will give you tips about what style hat will be best for your type and also some suggestions as to clothes which make a man look slimmer.

Men are no different from women in that they cannot look their best in any fashion unless they rid themselves of overweight. If you would like to have my 12-Day Tubby Hubby slimming diet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

If Parents Are Home OK to Visit

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am nineteen years old and a freshman in college. My mother and I have argued over one special problem for sometime and I hope you can settle it for me.

"I have dated one boy for the past two years. We both think a lot of each other but we are also very serious about our college and careers. Very often we spend our date at a movie or just watching TV at my house. This is perfectly all right but when he invites me to come to his house for the evening, my mother's reply is, "No, it isn't nice for a young lady to go to a man's house."

"Please don't misunderstand, I would never go when he was there alone. Every once in a while he must stay home for some reason and if his parents are not home his fourteen-year-ol brother is always there.

"I don't understand why I can't go to his house when it's all right for him to come to my house, and I think my mother is being unreasonable."

Answer: When his parents are there, you may quite properly go to his house, but I agree with your mother that you will risk being criticized if you go when they are not home, even though his brother is there.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My wife passed away about two months ago. At Easter I received several cards addressed to me and my late wife. Will you please tell me how I can go about letting these people know that my wife passed away?"

Answer: Write them short notes saying, "Thank you so much for your lovely cards, but I think you ought to know that Mary died of pneumonia two months ago."

Celebrated Israeli Pianist to Appear at Cranbrook

The Israeli pianist, David Bar-Illan, will be featured at the Cranbrook Music Guild's final concert of the season next Tuesday, April 21, at 8:30 in the Cranbrook House Library.

Hailed as "one of the most brilliant pianists of his generation" at the time of his Carnegie Hall debut in 1954, the young Israeli achieved fame as the first non-Commonwealth citizen to receive Britain's Coronation Year Medal in 1953.

Since then, he has appeared regularly on the Continent as well as in North and South America. His program at Cranbrook will include works by Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms and Chopin.

Bar-Illan, who was born in Israel in 1930, received his primary music education in Haifa, his home town. After appearing in recitals and with orchestra in Israel, he made his first trip to the United States as a scholarship student.

He interrupted his studies a few months later to join the Army of Israel during the War of Independence, then returned to America and graduated from Juilliard and Mannes colleges.

This season, Bar-Illan opened the distinguished Young Artists Series in New York City's Metropolitan Museum of Art.

DAVID BAR-ILLAN

His coast-to-coast tour of the United States and Canada will bring him to audiences in British Columbia, California, North Dakota, Colorado, Arizona, Texas and the eastern seaboard.

'Curl Competition'

Henry VIII became so incensed by the foppery in his court, he decreed that men must wear their hair short. He permitted them, however, to keep their beards. Thereafter, a "curl competition" developed between the sexes . . . the curls on the ladies' heads vs. the curls in the men's beards.

Most recent U.S. Department of Agriculture figures show that almost one-fifth of total food expenditures of city families goes for meals and snacks away from home.

Takes Patience to Brown Sugar for This Candy

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Homemade candy always makes a hit with the family or guests. If you can spare some time and have some patience, make this different candy as suggested by Mrs. Louis Oldenburg of Highland.

A school teacher with a grown up family, Mrs. Oldenburg finds most of her hours filled with working, at school or home. She is a member of a church group and of the Eastern Star.

PATIENCE CANDY
By Mrs. Louis Oldenburg

2 cups granulated sugar
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Nut meats

Brown 1 cup of sugar in pan over low heat (after it starts to brown, watch it so it doesn't burn). Add 1 cup of milk very slowly. Then add 1 cup more sugar and cook until mixture forms a soft ball. Add vanilla and nuts and beat until creamy. Pour into buttered pan and cut into squares.

Loretta G. Shelby Wed in Alliance Church Rite

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Gleridola Shelby of West Silverbell road. Alvy Shelby of Augusta street, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lamphere of Joslyn road.

MRS. TRUEMAN LAMPHERE

The bride chose a gown of rose point lace over taffeta with a scalloped neckline and short sleeves. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train framed with pleated nylon tulle.

Her fingertip veil was held by a pearl and sequin crown and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis centered by a white orchid. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

TEND BRIDE

A reception was held at Roosevelt Temple. Before leaving for a southern honeymoon, the bride changed to an emerald green brocaded satin two-piece dress with black accessories.

The newlyweds will live on North Saginaw street.

Mrs. Shelby wore a dress of aqua lace over satin with a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. Lamphere was dressed in rose beige lace with white accssories and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Philip Wargelin is holding a cut-glass vase and Mrs. Robert O'Connor admires a cup and saucer, a few of the thousands of items on display and for sale at the annual Antique Show at All Saints Episcopal Church.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the antiques at the show yesterday at All Saints Episcopal Church. Here Mrs. Robert Oliver looks on as young Earl Allen of Birmingham tinkers with an old coffee grinder. Young Earl was intrigued with everything he saw.

Mrs. Fred Cockle, who has worked hard and long to help make the Antique Show a success, is wearing an early American costume and holding a covered dish that is one of the many interesting and beautiful items on display at the Antique Show.

Marriage Is More Than Romantic Glow

By RUTH MILLETT

"We're old enough to know what we want," writes a 16-year-old girl who is planning, much against her parents' wishes, to marry a 17-year-old boy as soon as he finishes high school in June.

Sure, you're old enough to know what you want today. But few 16-year-olds are old enough to know what they may want five years from now.

There is the matter of living expenses. Unless the boy you are in love with is able to support you without help from either of your families he isn't ready for marriage.

There is the matter of education and growth. Your husband will have to give up any ideas he might have of further education if he married you, and you may have to give up similar thoughts.

Remember that the young people who are waiting for marriage until they are older will be getting a better preparation than your young man and yet he will have to compete with the better educated when he seeks advancement in whatever work he chooses.

There is the matter of responsibility. Sure, you're old enough to fall in love and to live in a rosy, romantic glow. But are you old enough not to resent being tied down by children, to swap a girl's easy existence for a woman's responsibilities?

Apply to walls and woodwork with sponge or rough cloth. Watch grease and dirt vanish as they've never vanished before! Painted surfaces gleam like new . . . no streaks . . . no dullness . . . no mess! Nothing is better, kinder to paint, kinder to hands.

Shy Japanese Women Trying New Freedom

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

In spite of all the talk about the emancipation of women here, they are still little dolls who are several years — and neuroses — behind the domineering U. S. female. According to one friendly authority: If there's a choice between taking a job for money, or scrubbing a man's back for a smile — well, she'll take the old-fashioned way."

The bachelors we have met in Tokyo all have at least one little lady doing their cooking, cleaning and back-scrubbing for peanuts. She is generally dainty, fragile-looking, unselfish and solicitous.

Upon his arrival home from the office, the bachelor has a martini in hand before he can remove his shoes. After exactly the proper amount of relaxation, dinner is served. At precisely the last swallow, a cigarette is projected into his mouth.

Japanese girls, after centuries of pleasing men, have an intuition that the American woman lost a century ago.

WON'T FIGHT

"The only trouble," reported a displaced Michiganian, "is that sometimes you want a woman to argue with, and a Japanese girl won't fight back. She accepts your word without question, even when she, and you, know you're wrong. After a time, you begin to feel that you are coming home to a beautiful, loyal, comfortable robot."

The Japanese man, on the other hand, is finding it hard to get a little robot in the family. Apparently, the "thinking women" of this overcrowded island are beginning to take their new freedom seriously.

After the war, the Japanese men were discredited in the eyes of their women; and the women began to accept the Western world as the authority. Thus, when Gen. MacArthur gave them the vote, the "long-suffering wives and loyal mothers" of Nippon began, confusedly, to wriggle out of their two-centuries-old position under men's feet.

GOT DANDER UP

It has led to their demanding to be treated, for the first time, like human beings. Equality with men is still a remote dream, but consideration from men is a must—and the Japanese male is fighting this demand with almost frightened fury.

Freedom for females has led to a domestic mayhem which the American rarely sees, because it is only in extremely rare cases that a visitor or Japan resident from the Western world is invited to the basically isolationist citizen's home.

By reading the papers, and looking in the offices, the American can see the statistics—6,000,000 women workers—double the force of a decade ago—increasing thousands of women's clubs, election of 300 local assembly-women, and, in the lonely hearts column, the aches and pains of burgeoning emancipation are illuminated. . .

"Lowly Wife" leaves her husband after nine years of his unfaithfulness; once she accepted it, but now that she can get a job, she is finished.

"Troubled Bride" writes that she has made a mistake by marrying a man who refuses to let her leave the house. When he is out at night, her mother-in-law treats her like a prisoner.

"Lost" is a teenage girl who left home because her father would not let her smoke.

"Y" says his wife works hard and has been on the whole satisfactory, but lately she has been spending the nights downstairs with other gentlemen.

So Who's Inefficient?

MARGATE, England (UPI) — The town council was so convinced the town hall staff was inefficient that it called in an efficiency expert to change things. The efficiency expert suggested: Give some of the staff a raise; fire 14 of the 30 councilors.

Bottle of Water to Launch Ship

Bay City Yard to Send Missile Vessel Down Ramp Next Wednesday

BAY CITY (UPI)—A bottle containing water from three different waterways will be used a week from today in the launching of the missile-armed destroyer USS Henry B. Wilson at the Defoe Ship Yards.

The 438-foot ship will be the first missile-carrying destroyer ever launched by the U. S. Navy.

Ordinarily, a bottle of champagne is used in launchings. But the bottle which will send the Wilson down the launching ramp will contain water from the Saginaw River, the St. Lawrence Seaway and the Atlantic Ocean.

The water symbolizes the route that will carry the Wilson to the Atlantic.

This summer, Taylor will command a flotilla of 28 warships that will dock at Great Lakes ports in June and July. The flotilla includes the heavy cruiser Macon.

Entry of the warships into the Great Lakes will be known as "Operation Inland Sea" and will show dramatically that the St. Lawrence Seaway is a reality.

Sergeant said the Wilson has a beam of 47 feet and a displacement of 4,500 tons. In addition to carrying the Tartar missile, the ship will also be equipped with what Sergeant termed "the latest antisubmarine weapons."

He said the ship's superstructure will be made of aluminum and steam turbines will power the vessel.

In 1902 Theodore Roosevelt became the first President to ride in an auto. Today practically every family in the U. S. has one.

Turnpikes Need to Be Made Safer, Expert Advises

CHICAGO (UPI)—Expressways and turnpikes are not solving all the nation's traffic problems and should be modified to make them safer, according to Commissioner Bernard R. Caldwell of the California highway patrol.

Caldwell wrote in Traffic Safety, the National Safety Council magazine, that unexpected increases in motor vehicle travel and automobile registrations have overloaded modern highways.

He said existing expressways need better access lanes, elimination of vision obstructions and continued improvement of signs.

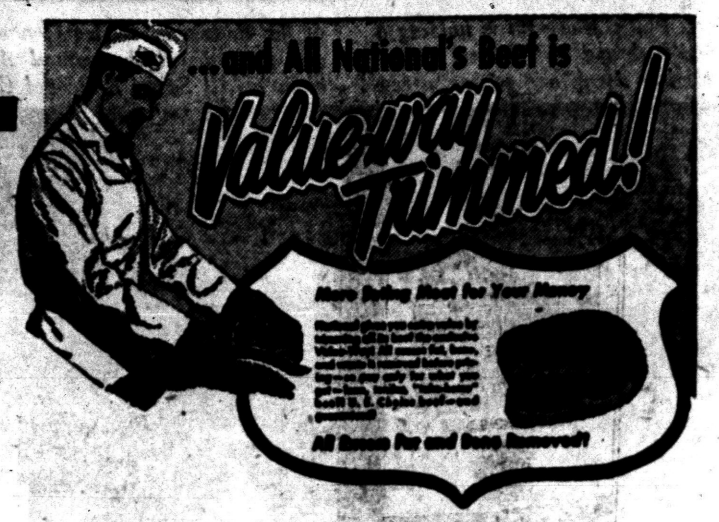

He also suggested turnouts for disabled vehicles, cross-over points which police would use to reverse traffic direction and to pursue motorists in opposing traffic lanes and improved surveillance points for police.

Trio to Scout for New 59ers

Fly to Alaska Today to Gather Information for Second Group

DETROIT (AP)—A former northern Michigan lumberjack and two ex-farmers fly to Alaska today on a scouting expedition for a second group of Detroit 59ers.

Frank Milazzo, 35, father of five children who has lumbered in the north woods, is to spend 10 days in Alaska with Frank Horvath, 41, and Norman Schebel, 43, both former farmers.

The trio who will help to lead a caravan of 200 more homesteaders, say they don't want to make the mistakes that troubled the smaller original group of Detroit 59ers now in Alaska.

A fertile land will be their prime concern. The homesteaders now in Alaska reportedly have been disappointed in the Kenai Peninsula land.

"We want to walk over the land. If we find out there isn't any good land we're going to come back and tell our group just that," Milazzo said.

The second homesteading expedition, scheduled to leave June 22, has aspirations of taking over 32,000 acres.

Horvath, a resident of Redford Township, spent two years in the Anchorage, Alaska area. He lived at Spanard, an Anchorage suburb.

The first successful sea voyage by steamboat was made by John Stevens' Phoenix in 1809. Last year steamship advertisers invested over $4,700,000 in daily newspapers to tell travelers about their accommodations.

22,000-Mile Trip Lasts 40 Miles for Daring Pair

FREEPORT, Tex. (AP) — Two husky adventurers, equipped with a crude raft and a derring-do philosophy, set out to drift around the continent of South America.

They got 40 miles, then had to be towed into port here Tuesday with a ripped sail.

That didn't dampen any spirits. They are broke, so they must sew up the rip themselves, but the pair planned to continue.

"Within two years we'll either be famous — or we'll both be dead," said Gino Forato, 35, a bachelor from Venice, Italy.

They said they expect to take two years for the 22,000-mile trip through the Panama Canal, down the west coast of South America to Cape Horn and then up the east coast on their return to Galveston.

They made the raft of old telephone poles. The 36-foot craft's sail is 18 by 20 feet. The raft has a crude rudder and a tiny gas stove. A drum holds water.

The saildisplays the Texas flag and names of persons contributing materials and supplies. The craft has no engine.

"It's going to be hard work but we believe we can make it," Forato said. "We plan to stay close to the coast and make numerous stops to replenish our food supply."

Asks Fine for Nudists

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas State Sen. Ray Roberts introduced a bill Tuesday to fine anyone attending a nudist camp $500. He said such camps have a "damaging effect on the moras of the youth of this state." The bill didn't say anything about being a nudist outside a camp.

Sect Thinks Return of Christ Imminent

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Hundreds of Davidians, convinced that "the fullness of time has come," start gathering here Thursday to await the beginning of a Middle East war April 22 and the return of Christ.

★ ★ ★

The sect, a divorced branch of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, has advised its members to "sever all earthly ties, if necessary," and to sell property that could not be brought with them to Waco.

Most of them will live in tents being erected near here on the 941-acre tract of the national headquarters, Mt. Carmel Center, which includes the sect's offices, church and 16 houses.

★ ★ ★

Beginning Saturday the Davidians will conduct three services each day until "God's kingdom is established."

Pianist States Bias Holding Back Nation

LOGAN, Utah (AP)—Jazz Pianist Dave Brubeck says "race prejudice is going to make this country lose the world if it is not changed in a hurry."

★ ★ ★

"It's losing us Europe, the Middle East, Asia, South Africa — what else is there?" Brubeck said in an interview before a concert at Utah State University.

"When I write a Broadway show or play, it'll be on the racial problem. Blantant hypocrisy is what is holding our country back from where it should be," he added.

Believe Airliner Stalled in Flight

CAB Sifts Evidence in 1958 Michigan Crash That Killed 47

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said today a Capital Airlines Viscount that crashed last year at Freeland, Mich., probably stalled during a steep turn and fell to earth nose first. All 47 aboard were killed.

★ ★ ★

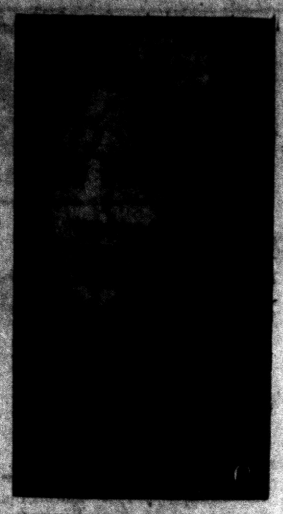

The Civil Aeronautics Board said the plane's stall-warning device was not working. Also, it reported, there were rather severe, gusty surface winds and indications the plane may have picked up a rapid accumulation of ice.

From all the evidence studied, the CAB concluded that "a veteran pilot could suddenly find himself in a stall situation from which he could not recover."

The report described the pilot, William J. Hull, as experienced, careful and conservative.

The prop-jet Viscount crashed while trying to land at Tri-City Airport, Freeland, on April 6, 1958. It was on a flight from Newark, N.J., to Chicago.

The CAB said the plane came down almost vertically, crashing in a corn field about half a mile short of the runway.

To Pick County Dairy Princess

The first annual dairy princess of Oakland County will be selected at a county-wide Farm Bureau party and square dance tomorrow.

The annual festivities will get under way at 8 p.m. in the Davisburg Elementary School gym on Davisburg road, about a quarter of a mile west of town.

"Some 25 application blanks have been sent out upon request, and, though only a few have been returned so far, we are expecting most of the girls to enter competition by tomorrow night," said Stuart Hutchins, publicity chairman for the event.

Besides the princess contest, the various community groups composing the Farm Bureau will present skits. Square dance music will be provided by recordings. Jack Worthington, 4-H Club agent in the county, will be the caller.

Each family is asked to bring sandwiches and cake and their own table service. The social committee will furnish the beverages and ice cream.

Prizes will be awarded to the group having the largest adult membership present and for the best skits.

Dairy farm background—20 points.
Attractiveness, both in appearance and poise—15 points.
Personality—15 points.
General intelligence—20 points.
Knowledge of dairying—5 points.
Ability to speak on radio—10 points.
Ability to address a live audience—15 points.
Personal background — 10 points.

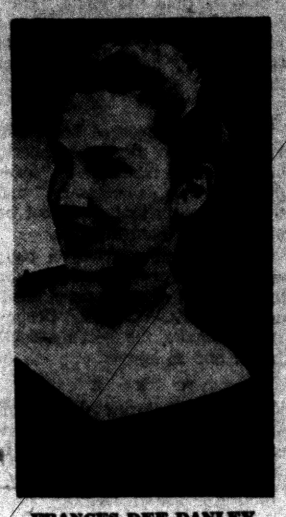

The winner of the contest will receive a $25 cash award from the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. and will have all of her expenses paid to compete further for the title of Michigan Dairy Princess at Michigan State University in East Lansing next month.

★ ★ ★

She also will make personal appearances throughout Oakland County and take part in Dairy Month activities in June.

Second and third place winners at the county level will receive cash prizes of $15 and $10 respectively.

Judges for tomorrow night will include Allen Rush of Romeo, state director of the Farm Bureau; Andrew Jackson of Howell, director of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn.; another member of the association as yet unnamed and a fourth judge, also as yet unnamed.

Man Finds Her Aflame in Car

Also Saves Brother as Fire Breaks Out While Mother in Store

ROYAL OAK — With second and third degree burns over 50 per cent of her body, little Timberly Fox has only a precarious hold on life today.

That the 2½-year-old tot has any chance to live at all is mainly due to the quick action of a Detroit Edison Co. employe, a spokesman at William Beaumont Hospital said this morning.

The father of three children himself, Chris Christenson was making his rounds for the Edison firm yesterday when he saw smoke pouring from the windows of a parked car.

He ran over and pulled 14-month-old Brian Fox from the front seat of the car, brushing the flames from the tot. Then he spotted Brian's sister Timberly aflame on the back seat. He pulled her out as well, wrapping her in his coat to smother the flames.

Local police said the children's mother, Mrs. Ronald Fox, 19, of 307 Marlin St. left the tots in the car in front of the G. and P. Market, 1801 Main St., while she entered the store to cash a check and make a purchase.

She was only in the store about three minutes, according to a clerk, when an unidentified man ran in shouting, "The children have caught fire!"

When police arrived at the scene, Christenson, who lives at 2427 Columbia Rd. in Berkley, had the mother and two children in his car ready to leave for the hospital.

Police transferred the children into their car. Patrolman William E. Szoke said "It was all I could do to hold the girl, she was so badly burned."

Brian was released from William Beaumont Hospital after being treated for minor burns. His sister is still there.

The children's father was at work when the accident occurred. He runs the Ron Fox Golf School in Detroit and during the summer is assistant pro at the Lochmoor Golf Club in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Admits Killing Wife, Hiding Body in Field

DETROIT (UPI)—A man sought in the fatal stabbing of his estranged wife and mother of seven today admitted the slaying to police in Louisiana where he was arrested.

★ ★ ★

Joseph Johnson Jr., 28, was picked up last night in Columbia, La. Lt. Richard Humphrey of the Inkster Detective Bureau said the sheriff of Colwell Parish, Louisiana, informed him today Johnson had confessed the slaying and signed a waiver of extradition.

The body of his wife, Mary, 23, Inkster, was found yesterday in an open field near Romulus. Johnson told authorities he stabbed her, dumped her body in the field and left for Louisiana.

Inkster Police immediately prepared a request for a warrant and made plans to return Johnson to Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The body was found behind two large logs by George Gilley and Bernard Auten, both of Wayne, who were out sighting rifles in the field.

Onaway Stuck With 140

Nobody Wants the Meters

ONAWAY (AP)—Onaway has 140 parking meters that aren't gathering nickels — only dust.

The city in northern lower Michigan just doesn't know what to do with them.

The company that sold Onaway the meters is trying to collect its money, $7,752.25. Onaway hopes to return the meters to the company—the Magee-Hale Park-O-Meter Co. in Oklahoma City—if it'll take them back.

Mayor Henry Crooks, who lost a bid for re-election last week, blamed his defeat on the meters.

City Clerk Fred Warner has written a letter to Oklahoma City trying to explain the whole thing.

The meters were purchased last June for $9,100 and the city made a down payment. The meters promptly were set up along the sidewalk. Businessmen protested. The City Commission placed the issue on the ballot and lost.

When the meters weren't hauled down by December 10, the businessmen threatened to sue the city. Down came the meters. They were put in storage.

Meanwhile, the six-month trial period allowed for in Onaway's contract with the company has elapsed.

Warner tried to explain all this in his letter while telling the company why it hasn't received its money.

Sides Sum Up in Connie Case

State Attorney Pulls Trigger in Dramatic Closing Argument

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Four clicks of a pistol trigger in a silent courtroom today dramatized the state's claim of "damning, conclusive" evidence against Connie Nicholas in the death of her wealthy lover who jilted her for a younger woman.

"Could you pull such a trigger accidentally or without knowing it?" asked Dep. Prosecutor Judson F. Haggerty.

★ ★ ★

"You all remember how hard it was to pull that trigger," Haggerty reminded the 12 married men on the jury who had taken turns testing the trigger action of the death gun during testimony in Connie's murder trial.

In his 45-minute, closing argument for the state, Haggerty referred to the handsome drug executive, Forrest Teel, as "the absent witness" in his shooting last July 31.

"That absent witness was executed, and his judge, jury and executioner sits right there," Haggerty said, nodding toward the weeping Mrs. Nicholas.

"If you want to approve of this kind of loose living and violation of marriage vows—and then, when trouble develops, go out and get a gun and straighten your troubles out—you have the power to do it today," Haggerty said.

Haggerty told the jury there were no marks on Teel's hands to indicate he had struck Mrs. Nicholas violently, nor were there any scratches.

Defense attorney Charles W. Symmes told the jury: "When you are in a struggle, and somebody throws you across the seat of the car, what difference does it make how hard the trigger pull is?"

He said the pattern of shots in Teel's body indicated Mrs. Nicholas' arm and the gun were being forced downward.

Symmes also minimized the state's emphasis on testimony about spacing of the four shots. "After all, there was a struggle going on," he said.

"She was deeply in love with this man, and she still is," said Joseph Quill, another defense lawyer. Mrs. Nicholas sobbed.

"When she was trying to make a new life for herself, why in the name of heaven didn't he leave her alone?" asked Quill, referring to the breaking up of her marriage to Curtis Nicholas in 1957.

"She has suffered the tortures and ravages of hell," Quill said. "If if is vindictiveness that the state wants, we can hand them this present 8½ months confinement, a ruined life and a twisted and mangled body forever."

★ ★ ★

Frank A. Symmes closed for the defense saying the state's very arguments indicate some of her injuries were caused by Teel.

Courthouse Plan Gets Nowhere

Moving County Seat, Election on Location Received, Filed

Two long-buried requests that Oakland County's government seat be shifted to Royal Oak and that an election determine the site and financing of a new courthouse got a fast hello and goodbye at yesterday's Board of Supervisors meeting.

"All we wanted to do was get rid of them," David Levinson, chairman of a special courthouse planning committee, said.

He said the only way the requests could be brought up again would be by action of the Board. "They're dead as far as I'm concerned," Levinson remarked.

In October of 1957, the Oakland County Taxpayers League asked the Board to call a special election at which county voters could authorize spending of contested funds for the new courthouse, and at the same time approve a bond issue for the rest of the money needed to complete the building.

Also the League suggested voters decide where the new courthouse should be built — on the present downtown site it favors, or in the County Service Center on Telegraph road the supervisors favor.

The Royal Oak City Commission followed the League in December of 1957, urging a special election to change the county seat from Pontiac to Royal Oak.

Both communications have been tabled and have appeared on supervisors' agendas ever since without action.

The only voice heard following yesterday's action came from Howard K. Kelley, Royal Oak mayor and supervisor. "In the future I'd like the governing bodies concerned given some notice in advance," he said.

The League filed the law suit, which until recently prevented the county from proceeding with constructing the new building. It appears the League has given up seeking other steps to keep the courthouse downtown.

The League's latest try, a letter to each supervisor asking them to "scrutinize very carefully" the building project, wasn't even mentioned at yesterday's meeting.

Movie Chosen Top Product of Michigan

By BOB VOGES

Guess again.

It was a movie about a murder, according to a Michigan Week Committee named to pick the state's top product of the year.

The honor went to "Anatomy of a Murder," a movie based on a book by State Supreme Court Justice John Voelker.

The tale of crime and passion currently is being filmed at Marquette in the Upper Peninsula by a Hollywood outfit featuring such stars as Jimmie Stewart, Duke Ellington, Eve Arden and Kathy Grant.

"We decided no product could typify the great diversity of Michigan products and their importance in their respective fields better than the motion picture 'Anatomy of a Murder,' Gerber said.

"For these reasons, and to honor the author, Justice John Voelker, and the producer, Otto Preminger, we chose this one for the award among Michigan's thousands of products.

"It is good to have an opportunity to recognize an outstanding literary product of Michigan," he said.

"Book, setting and movie, this is a product of Michigan," he said. "The power of this Michigan product to draw tourists to Michigan just can't be overestimated."

PONTIAC WOMAN JUDGE

Others on the selection board were Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University; Merritt Hill, general manager of the Ford Tractor and Implement Division; August Scholle, AFL-CIO state president; and Mrs. Charles Neldrett of Pontiac, president of the Michigan Parents and Teachers Congress.

Raise Cry of 'Politics' in Probate Judge Move

A proposal to establish a second probate judge for Oakland County was tucked away with the Board of Supervisors' Legislative Committee yesterday, amid cries of "politics."

Latest to criticize steps being taken toward an additional judge was Southfield Mayor and Supervisor Donald L. Swanson, a Democrat.

Swanson said the county had "sufficient time" to put the question to county voters April 6, but stalled realizing that had the new judge position been approved, Gov. G. Mennen Williams would have filled the position.

"Someone behind this second judge plan is trying to snooker the Board of Supervisors in believing there wasn't sufficient time when there was," Swanson said.

When the matter first came before the board, former Huntington-Woods Supervisor Harriett Phillips, also a Democrat, said the proposal was a "subtle scheme" to keep the governor from making the appointment.

Asked for an interpretation of the legal proceedings toward the second judge, Norman R. Barnard, county corporation counsel, said present plans would put the addition to a countywide vote in the next general election in November of 1960. Then the governor would make the appointment, if approved, until a 1961 election when candidates would bid for the job.

After Swanson's protest, supervisors by a voice vote referred the matter to the Legislative Committee "to propose such additional (state) legislation as may be needed at the 1960 Legislature so as to provide the necessary machinery to have a second probate judge take office Jan. 1, 1961."

As an interim measure, supervisors yesterday approved the allocation of $13,775 from the Salaries Reserve Funds so as to add three additional employes to help out Judge Moore.

One, a secretary has been in a temporary basis since November, and supervisors were not opposed to allocating $3,775 for her salary. However, it took a 61-11 roll call vote to approve $10,000 for a new lawyer-clerk and a stenographer for him.

Well Guarded Castro Due in U.S. Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro will arrive tonight for what promises to be a stormy 11-day unofficial visit to the United States.

State Department security agents and Washington police have arranged to give him one of the tightest protective rings ever given a foreign visitor.

Castro, accompanied by a heavy guard of bearded revolutionary protectors, will fly in with a party of about 35 persons in a chartered Cuban government C54 transport.

A number of threats, warning that Castro will never leave the country alive, have alarmed authorities. Demonstrations and picketing are expected during his five-day stay in the capital and a similar visit in New York.

But his visit apparently will be a hit attraction. The National Press Club said the 505 seats for its luncheon next Monday honoring Castro were sold out in less than an hour.

2 Detroit Area Holdups Within 25 Minutes Today

DETROIT (AP) — A bank and a savings and loan association were robbed within 25 minutes of each other today in southwestern Detroit and nearby suburban Southgate.

Police said a bandit armed with a .38 caliber revolver held up an office of the downriver Federal Savings and Loan Assn. in Southgate, and escaped with about $8,000.

Minutes later two men held up a branch of the Detroit Bank and Trust Co. in Detroit, about three miles from the first holdup scene.

FIXED POSITION — Atlanta, Ga. elevator operator Jerry Baker wears a sheepish grin as firemen and volunteers battle to rescue him from his obvious predicament. Jerry had stuck his head out the door to watch some repairmen. Suddenly the doors slammed, leaving him in the elevator, and his head in the corridor. Luckily, he caught the doors with his hands and held them until help arrived. He was unhurt.

To Offer 100 Amendments

Goldwater Says He'll Get Kennedy Labor Bill Changed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) said today he was preparing 100 floor amendments for the debate on the Kennedy labor regulation bill.

The debate is expected to begin today although Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) assured his colleagues there would be no vote until next week.

Goldwater, leading foe of the bill, told a reporter he probably would not call up all of his 100 amendments. He said his strategy would depend on how the voting goes, but he predicted the Senate will make some changes.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), author of the bill, has told reporters he was confident it would pass the Senate about as it came from the Labor Committee.

In Senate debate on a similar measure last year, more than 50 amendments were considered and only one was adopted over Kennedy's opposition.

The bill would require detailed public financial reporting by unions, established a union democracy code with secret ballots and limits on officers' terms, control trusteeships by international unions over locals and bar convicted persons from serving as union officials for prescribed periods. It also would make some changes in the Taft-Hartley law sought by unions.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy has called the bill a strong, effective measure. Goldwater denounces it as a gimmick-laden bill which he says will not actually get at union abuses.

Former Teacher Jailed for Assault

DETROIT (AP) — James A. Tate, 37, former Royal Oak Township school teacher, was given a prison sentence of 2½ to 15 years yesterday for assault on a former girl friend.

Tate, a graduate of Jackson State College of Jackson, Miss., was accused of shooting and wounding Carolyn Barnett, 21, of Detroit, as she rode in a car on the Edsel Ford Expressway Jan. 10.

Police said that when the car stopped, Tate ran up to it and shot Miss Barnett a second time and also beat her with his pistol. The car was driven by John Martin, 21, of Detroit.

A jury convicted Tate of assault with intent to murder. Miss Barnett has recovered.

Sentence was pronounced by Recorder's Judge Gerald W. Groat.

Oil Refinery in Technicolor Boosts Morale

VALLEJO, Calif. (UPI)—An oil company's pioneering with a paintbrush has turned its refinery hill into a "rainbow ridge."

The Union Oil Company's 1,000-acre refinery at Oleum near here formerly was a drab collection of storage tanks and cracking plants. When repainting time came around two years ago, several employes suggested brighter hues. Executives decided to give it a try.

Now the once-barren hills are a riot of pinks, corals and greens. Installations were painted various pastel colors except that pipes carrying fire-fighting water were daubed bright red.

★ ★ ★

Officials said maintenance work has been reduced because of soaring plant morale.

Judge Postpones Goldfine Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The contempt of Congress trial of Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine has been postponed.

Goldfine's attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, argued that his right of privacy in conversations with his counsel was violated by the electronic eavesdropping. Williams asked that the contempt case against Goldfine be dismissed. U.S. Dist. Judge James W. Morris did not immediately rule on this motion. But he postponed the trial, scheduled to start next Monday, and ordered testimony on the eavesdropping incident.

★ ★ ★

The eavesdropping case was one of the more spectacular events in the gradual public disclosure of Goldfine's career as a giver of gifts to persons in high places.

Car Inventories Keep in Line

Sales, Production Dovetail

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Automobile production is being well geared to a rising market, without serious industry problems.

Inventories usually climb in the spring months. But a steadily improving sales level through March has kept them considerably below expectations early in the month.

Instead of the 800,000-unit stock of unsold cars that had been predicted, the April 1 count showed 777,313 cars in dealer inventories. This compared with 706,839 units on March 1, and 833,301 on April 1 last year.

The industry built approximately 577,000 cars in March. Retailers sold an estimated 490,000, including imports. Not included in the figures are deliveries to governmental agencies and exports. The figures are unofficial and subject to revision.

They are significant, however, in that they reflect a continuing strong level of output without piling up inventories.

This suggests the automakers are continuing their own controlled production program. But they are doing it in a rising market. In this respect the industry picture contrasts sharply with that of a year ago.

Inventories at that time threatened to reach the record high of more than 900,000 units recorded in early 1956. They did not hit that figure because of sharp production cuts.

There always are uncertainties in the automotive industry, like the reception to be given new models, acceptance of certain engineering and styling advances, possible price resistance and the overall demand for new cars. But there appears to be no uncertainty about the advent of a second-quarter sales boom this year.

Several industry sources say the sales upsurge, missing since 1955, already has arrived. They add that it indicates a retail market this year matching that of 1957 when approximately six million new cars were sold.

Some experts who earlier predicted 5½ million unit sales this year, have raised their prediction to the six million figure, chiefly on the basis of April-June prospects.

One uncertainty ahead right now involves the profit potential of the smaller cars to be built by General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

No industry source questions that there is a substantial demand for smaller wheelbase cars. But few industry analysts will say the demand is big enough to yield a profit to all the makers.

L. L. Colbert, Chrysler president, told newsmen recently he was "not at all convinced the smaller wheelbase cars will be a smash hit." He added that he was sure his competitors were of the same opinion.

Meanwhile the larger car companies continue to report mounting demand for their own imported smaller wheelbase cars. This is true of the British Ford and Ford's Taunus models; GM's Vauxhall and Opel cars and Chrysler's SIMCA vehicles.

Present guesses are that American Motors' Ramblers, Studebaker-Packard's Larks and all the imported models, including those of GM, Ford and Chrysler will account for one million of this year's U.S. overall auto sales.

Flowers Bloom Amid Arctic Ice After Mail SOS

CUT THROAT ISLAND, Labrador (UPI)—Flowers are blooming smack in the middle of the Arctic ice cap thanks to a letter, a telegram, two enterprising florists and two pilots.

U.S. Air Force members stationed here built flower boxes as a hobby, but then discovered they had no plants to plant.

The mails carried an SOS to an Air Force wife in Michigan, who talked to her local florist about the problem of getting flowers to the ice cap.

The florist checked the membership list of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association and came up with a dealer in St. John's Newfoundland.

From there, the flowers went by plane to Goose Bay, with enough soil for planting, and from Goose Bay a helicopter transferred the cargo to Cut Throat Island.

To Control Interplanetary Flight

Need for Space Traffic Cops Seen

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Space traffic cops and flights to other planets, say the experts, are possibly just a decade away.

These were the major predictions today as the Space Forum of the Southwest got underway with some of the nation's top space scientists participating.

Dr. Hubertus Strughold predicted interplanetary flights within a decade "if the Einstein-based theory of time-curvature holds true."

Dr. Andrew G. Haley said space traffic cops would be necessary in the age of interplanetary travel and are becoming increasingly needed each day.

★ ★ ★

Strughold, advisor for research at the School of Aviation Medicine, Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., said that if time actually stands still in the long journey to the stars we may be on the threshold of space travel.

Dr. Haley, president of the International Astronautical Federation and a Washington, D.C., attorney, said traffic cops of space even are needed now.

Haley and Strughold made their statements in separate press conferences Monday as a prelude to the Space Age Forum, sponsored by the University of Texas.

★ ★ ★

Haley said lawyers already are worrying over who owns space. He said it is an immediate problem between nations throwing missiles and satellites into the heavens.

COULD DROP STEEL

"Earth-orbiting missiles," he said, "do not atomize and they could drop chunks of steel onto Dallas or Buckingham Palace—big chunks of steel."

The United Nations, he said, should set up a traffic control system now to control the path of such missiles.

"Furthermore," he said, "radio-television channels, which control the path of the missiles and satellites need international allocating."

★ ★ ★

He said the Soviet Union recently had used television channel 8 to control missile and satellite flights. "This already is a case of trespass on United States TV stations," he said.

Strughold was asked, "If the theory that time stands still in space is correct, will it be possible for man to make interplanetary flights within 10 years?"

★ ★ ★

He answered, "Ja," in his native German. But, he added, not just anybody can make even an orbital flight around the earth.

Training and the proper amount of stability, emotional and mental, is necessary, he said.

Strughold said the United States could have men ready for earth orbital flights with a few weeks, for moon flights within a few months, and for interplanetary travel within 10 years.

5-10 Pct. Boost in State Tourist Business Likely

LANSING (UPI) — Robert J. Furlong, chief of the Michigan Tourist Council, has predicted a 5-10 per cent increase in state vacation income record 1958 figures if good summer weather prevails.

"Travel inquiries are running about 8 per cent ahead of last year," Furlong said yesterday.

He said the 650 million dollars spent by tourists in Michigan last year made it "the best vacation travel year to date."

He said national travel authorities predict 12-15 billion dollars will be spent by vacationers this year and "the best measuring devices point to a good year for Michigan."

Furlong cited increased requests for routings from members of the American Automobile Association, earlier and heavier reservations in many areas, continued interest in the Mackinac Bridge and other attractions, and three million dollars spent by private business to improve tourist facilities as indicative of a banner year.

"But we have to remember Michigan is not the only state in the vacation promotion business," Furlong said.

One out of every six businesses depends for a livelihood on the manufacture, distribution, servicing and use of motor vehicles.

1st-Hand Experience Teaches of Dryer

Billy and brother, John, 2, were watching their mother, Mrs. Lawrence Sargent, do the laundry. When the phone rang she went upstairs to answer it.

★ ★ ★

Billy climbed inside the dryer for a look around. John shut the door and turned on the motor.

Mrs. Sargent came running, rescued Billy unharmed, spanked John and set about rewashing the clothes that had been in the washer.

Tel Aviv Now City of ½ Million

Began 50 Years Ago as Pleasant Garden Suburb of Jaffa

WASHINGTON—Fifty years have passed since a platoon of gentlemen in bowler hats mushed out into barren sands near Jaffa and founded a new city called Tel Aviv.

One of the founding fathers, who got quite carried away by the laying of the first cornerstone in May, 1909, speculated that the then nonexistent town would eventually contain 25,000 people. Now the metropolitan area has about a half-million residents.

Tel Aviv has dwarfed Jaffa, the old Biblical port from which Jonah sailed toward his drama with a whale. Though Jerusalem is the capital of Israel, the new city has become its economic, commercial, and cultural center, the National Geographic Society says.

As cities go, Tel Aviv at 50 is still in its youth—noisy, brash, confident, chauvinistic, growing. It is not unknown for the Tel Aviv Town Council to approve the names of a hundred new streets at a single sitting. Not surprisingly, there is a certain monotony in the endless rows of white, functional, balconied apartment dwellings.

When several hundred Jews started building homes on the sand dunes near Jaffa in 1909, their purpose was simly to create a pleasant garden suburb for themselves outside the Arab port of Jaffa. One of their first municipal problems was whether to allow an orange-juice stand to do business within the town limits.

At first Tel Aviv grew slowly. Floods of immigrants poured into Palestine, however, after Hitler came to power in Germany and after World War II. Now Tel Aviv itself has a garden suburb—Ramat Gan.

During the war, Tel Aviv was a favorite holiday resort for U.S. servicemen stationed in the eastenr Mediterranean. Youths with such names as McGillicuddy and O'Brian found themselves warmly welcomed into Jewish homes, especially those of American-born Palestinians.

The neat little hotels and cafes were not unlike those of Stateside resort towns. Vendors on the esplanade sold—of all things—Eskimo pies and corn-on-the-cob.

It's the Biggest Bird That Gets the Worm

BALTIMORE (AP)—A woman selling reference books for children was demonstrating how her product makes a boy think for himself.

"Which bird gets the worm, Freddie?" she asked.

Maple Syrup Fete Set

CHARLEVOIX (AP)—Northwestern Michigan's first maple syrup festival is scheduled at Charlevoix this weekend. Charlevoix has about 1,200 sugar maple trees within its city limits and some 300 are being tapped for the syrup-making sap. The festival is jointly sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club and Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service.

Tickets to Red Ballet Said Scalped in N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Three groups have been issued summonses for allegedly scalping tickets to the performances of the Soviet Bolshoi Ballet.

License Commissioner Bernard O'Connell said Tuesday they are the Americans for Democratic Action, the National Council of Soviet-American Friendship and the National Lawyers Guild.

He accused the three groups of illegal resale of the tickets without a license, and, in some cases, at exorbitant prices.

State Officials Back Airline on Orient Route

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams and three other state officials today urged Civil Aeronautics Board approval of a Pan American World Airways petition to fly the great circle route to the Orient.

The service would provide a direct connection from Detroit to Tokyo via Fairbanks, Alaska. CAB hearings now are under way in Washington.

Besides Williams, telegrams were sent by Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan), and Sen. Harold M. Ryan of Detroit, Democratic floor leader.

Pan Am's original application now is being opposed by Northwest Air Lines which flies the great circle route from Seattle with connecting service to Minneapolis and Chicago.

★ ★ ★

J. P. Smith Jr., Detroit, Pan Am district manager, said that CAB approval for Pan Am would cut Detroit to Tokyo flying time more than in half.

"Tokyo will be only 14 hours distant, and the new state of Alaska will become a neighboring market for Michigan commerce," Smith said.

Drop Wrong Charges, File Correct Ones

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—The men before the bar felt they were wronged.

"I didn't receive no stolen goods, your honor," each man told the judge, "I stole them."

Their attorney, Jacob Levine, then moved for dismissal of the charge on the basis of their testimony. Essex County Judge Walter H. Conklin agreed.

But then he ordered a complaint filed against them for larceny of the goods. They pleaded innocent and were released in $2,500 bail each for hearing Monday.

Benny, Hope to Team in 'Design for Living'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Start holding your sides! Those two maestros of mirth Bob Hope and Jack Benny are teaming up for a movie and WHAT a movie: Noel Coward's sophisticated "Design for Living"!

For several years Bob has been negotiating to make a deal with Noel for the comedy in which Coward himself has appeared with the late Gertrude Lawrence and which has served Tallulah Bankhead, Norma Shearer, Fredric March and other greats. As you know it's about two ardent suitors after the same irresistable lady.

Noel told Bob that anytime he wants "Design for Living" he can buy it—and now Bob wants it for himself and Jackson. It's been years since Jack made a picture although he's made a career out of gags about "The Horn Blows at Midnight."

I asked Gregory Peck about his fight with director Willy Wyler, and what he had to say to the remark Willy is alleged to have made that he will never direct Peck again.

"It's true that Wyler and I had words but what I had to say I said to him, not behind his back. I don't want to start a feud with anyone, it takes too much nervous energy. Our fight was not a star-director altercation—I take direction.

"It was because I thought Willy was spending too much money. 'The Big Country' cost $4,100,000. It has already grossed $9,500,000 but so far I haven't received a penny."

Happy Joanne Woodward telephoned to some of her friends that her baby girl born last week will be nicknamed Nell Newman. She was named Ellen. Joanne leaves the hospital tomorrow and next month goes into "Orpheus Descending."

JUDY TO SURPRISE

Let me tell you that Judy Garland is going to surprise everyone when she opens at the Metropolitan in New York May 11. She has a fantastic show, with Bubbles, famous Negro dancer.

Judy does a number with him and surprises everyone. She has taken off a lot of weight and looks wonderful.

Hollywood loses another dear friend in the passing of beloved Jimmy Gleason who, with his late wife, Lucille, gave the world so many laughs in the comedy movies starring the Gleasons.

Although Jimmy was crushed by the death of Lucille, and later by the tragic loss of his son, Russell, he carried on as best he could still trying to make the world laugh. He used to call me if he had a good part coming up. The last time I heard from him was when he was ill and had to bow off a Red Skelton TV show. "But I wish you'd tell the world what a fine fellow Red is," Jimmy asked, "he sent me my full salary even though he had to replace me."

Man Celebrates 105th Birthday, 5th Anniversary

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Widowner John Wesley Beaird figured the best way to celebrate his first hundred years was to remarry.

Today he marked his 105th birthday—the fifth wedding anniversary.

Ice cream was the main refreshment for Beaird, who said, "I was never drunk in my life and I been chewin' tobacco since I was 8."

"He'd eat half a gallon of ice cream if you don't watch him," sail 74-year-old Mrs. Beaird, who had been a widow.

Beaird, a healthy retired farmer, was a boy of 11 in Spencer County, Ind., when the Civil War ended.

He formerly worked as a tipper for the city sanitation department and at age 99 "anything anyone else could throw up on that truck I could, too."

The Beairds' children opposed their marriage, but Beaird said, "now we have a wonderful home and we don't owe anyone a penny."

Ontario Highway to Be Four-Lane All the Way

CORNWALL, Ont. (AP)—The Ontario Highway Department said that Route 401 will be built as a four-lane road from Windsor to the Quebec border.

Previously, the route had been planned for four lanes from Windsor to Kingston and two lanes from Kingston to the Quebec border.

Completion of the highway is scheduled for 1963.

Pardons Still Wanting

BOSTON (AP) — Without debate and without a record vote, the Massachusetts House has killed a bill to grant pardons to executed Sacco and Vanzetti in the famed case of the 1920s.

The first automobile to exceed the speed of a mile-a-minute was driven on November 16, 1901, on a straightaway course at Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn, New York.

Hal Boyle Says:

Teenagers Make Adults Uncomfortable

NEW YORK (AP)—Do you resent teenagers because they are uncontrolably like yourself?

Do you turn your back on all adolescents and their problems because you don't want to be reminded of the hidden horrors of your own growing-up time?

John Farris believes you probably do. Farris, one of the literary surprises of the 1959 season, is the young author of a new and controversial novel of high school life that is being alternately bombed and praised for its realism.

★ ★ ★

"Adolescence is the most wounding period of life for many," said Farris, who still has a few scars himself.

"What many an adult resents is to be reminded that kids of 17 have the same thoughts, feelings and even experiences that he does.

"He resents this because it does not conform to his own memories.

"At 17, a kid can be astonishingly mature in some ways, almost infantile in others. He is as changeable and unpredictable as the weather.

"Grownups forget what they really were like in high school. When they look back, they select only the memories they want, and reject the others. It makes them uncomfortable to be reminded what they really were like."

That is why Farris, now a graduate student in English literature at the University of Missouri, wrote his own novel of high school life as he felt it really was, full of the torment of young love and young dreams.

"Most older writers can't give an accurate picture because they don't know the language of kids that age, and have forgotten their feelings," he said.

★ ★ ★

"Even now at 22, if I started another high school novel, I could not do as well. It would be a mess. You lose touch fast."

But Hollywood has taken an option on his story, and a Broadway producer is interested in having him do a play.

The slender young author, who is hazel-eyed and has "brush-cut" hair, isn't dazzled by the acclaim that has greeted his first serious work.

"I'm not greedy about success," he said. "If it comes, fine—if not, I won't sweat it. I just want enough money to keep writing."

Even for a period when literary precocity is fairly commonplace, Farris is unusual. He started writing at the age of 14, now turns out about 2,500 words a day. He never has taken a formal writing course, believes an author can learn his craft only at the typewriter.

Under another name he wrote and sold four mystery novels, which have been published in seven countries.

"I wrote one in 11 days, and it has brought me in $3,500," he said. "But I wasn't happy.

★ ★ ★

"I got to the point where I was just doing them for the money. That's bad. It hurts your originality, because you write only what you know for sure you can sell."

He already is hard at work on his second novel, which deals with a promising young medical student "who suddenly just folds up.

"I guess, like this character, I'm kind of confused," said John, who is as sincere as a growing tree. "I know where I want to go myself. But I look around and see so many young people who are uncertain, unsure of themselves, and unhappy. I have a burning desire to find out why."

★ ★ ★

Still feeling his own way through the eternal wilderness of youth, John looks on marriage as "the ultimate goal of happiness." But he doesn't yet have a steady girl friend.

"That's kind of unusual at my age, isn't it?" he asked.

Mayor Makes Good Old Bill Collector

When he took office Schuck found a stack of old bills nobody had bothered to collect. Most of the money was due for paving improvements, some of them made in 1953.

The mayor said that in some cases residents had not paid because they felt the jobs weren't completed. "In such cases we did the work and collected the bills," he said.

"My office has collected $4,343 in old bills," he declared.

Areas favorable to the discovery of oil and gas in the U. S. are estimated at more than one billion acres. Of this vast domain, about 15 percent is held under leasing.

Two Relatives Headed State

Dulles Follows Ancestry of Ministry, Diplomacy

By United Press International

It has been said that a preacher and a diplomat produced John Foster Dulles.

The preacher was Dulles' father, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Watertown, N.Y., where "Foster," as he has always been known to his family and friends, was born Feb. 25, 1888.

Pastor Allen Macy Dulles wanted his eldest son to enter the ministry. But John Foster decided instead to train for a diplomatic career.

In 1953, at the age of 65, Dulles reached his lifelong goal—an appointment to the position of U. S. secretary of state.

★ ★ ★

The diplomat who gave Dulles his first taste of diplomacy was John Watson Foster, Dulles' grandfather, who served as U. S. minister to Mexico and Russia and finally secretary of state under President Benjamin Harrison.

GOES TO PARLEY

In 1907, when he was only 19 years old, John Foster accompanied his grandfather to the second Hague Peace Conference.

Although Dulles decided against the ministry, he remains an active Presbyterian layman. He carried the message of Christian pardon into the field of diplomacy when he led negotiation of a peace treaty with Japan after World War II.

That treaty gave a beaten enemy magnanimous terms.

Dulles' policies as secretary of state have made him a controversial figure. But even Dulles' critics credit him with one of the brightest minds in the nation's capital.

HEADED HIS CLASS

The quality of that intellect brought him the honor of valedictorian at Princeton where he was graduated in 1908 as the youngest member of the class. He was at the top of his class at George Washington University at the conclusion of a three-year course in international law which Dulles finished in two years.

And it make him a fortune in the practice of international law with the New York law firm of Sullivan and Cromwell. Dulles practiced law there for 30 years before turning his talents to government work.

Dulles owns homes in Washington, New York and a summer place at Cold Spring Harbor, N.Y. But his favorite is a hideout on Duck Island in Lake Ontario. The only communication there is a Canadian lighthouse keeper who receives any emergency messages.

His relaxation before his cancer illness had consisted of fishing, swimming, boating, chopping wood and bird-watching. He is an avid reader of detective fiction.

Dulles married the former Janet Pomeroy Avery of Auburn, N.Y., in 1912. She has been his constant companion, even on the long trips which he made as part of his diplomatic duties.

They have two sons, John Watson, a mining engineer, and Avery, who entered the priesthood, and a daughter, Mrs. Robert Hinshaw. A brother, Allen W. Dulles, is director of the Central Intelligence Agency. A sister, Eleanor Lansing Dulles, has served in the State Department.

Tribe Plasters Bunning's Gopher Ball

Score Sparkles in 8-1 Victory Over Bengals

Indians Blast 4 Homers as Winless Tigers Drop 4th Decision

From Our Wire Services

It was the same old lack of punch and pitching yesterday as the Tigers meekly fell to Score and a barrage of homers, 8-1, before 33,098 fans.

Manager Bill Norman, who remained unperturbed while Detroit lost its three-game opening series to Chicago, can't afford to be casual much longer. After four games the Tigers are without a victory.

Score, pitching his first complete game since last April 23, handcuffed the Tigers with five hits. Only Gail Harris' seventh-inning homer meant anything. It came after Score had retired 19 straight Tigers and was coasting with a 4-0 lead.

★ ★ ★

The one-time 20-game winner has surrendered four homers already this season.

Held, who didn't have a hit until the Tigers arrived in town, accounted for the Indians' other four runs with one swing. He belted a bases-loaded homer off Ray Narleski in the eighth.

★ ★ ★

Narleski, acquired from the Indians in the Billy Martin deal, had a sad return to Cleveland, where he once was king of the relief pitchers. Held smashed his first pitch 435 feet away after George Susce had filled the bases.

It was a spectacular return to form for Score. His blazing fastball was dancing and he struck out nine Tigers.

He had been plagued by wildness in spring training. And he had to be yanked in a relief chore at Kansas City last Friday when he threw 12 straight balls.

★ ★ ★

Rocky Bridges is the lone regular hitting above .300 as the Tigers end their two-game series with Cleveland today. The shortstop singled twice yesterday and kept his average at .500 with eight hits in 16 trips.

In Detroit's first four games, Norman has employed 14 pitchers. Only one of his starters has survived to the seventh inning. The Tigers have scored only 14 runs, half of them on opening day.

★ ★ ★

Paul Foytack was Norman's pitching nominee today. He was to be faced by Cal McLish for the Indians.

Bucs Only Winless Club Following St. Louis Victory

Pirates 'Sore Thumb' in NL

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Cardinals finally won one for new manager Solly Hemus. And that leaves Pittsburgh's Pirates sticking out like a sore thumb as the National League's only winless club.

Hemus, making the shift from utility infielder to skippers, changed his own decision and put Stan Musial back on first base last night at Los Angeles after the Cards had lost their first three games at home.

Stan, 1-for-15, was hitless, but his replacement in left field, Chuck Essegian, paid off with a double that brought in the winning run for a 6-2 decision over the Dodgers.

Milwaukee's champion Braves, 3-0, became the lone unbeaten club in the NL with a 10-inning, 4-3 victory over Philadelphia. The Chicago Cubs spilled San Francisco to a first defeat 5-2.

Right-hander Lindy McDaniel, gave up seven hits, walked but one and had the Dodgers shut out for seven innings. It was his first victory and complete game since beating the Dodgers at Los Angeles last June 30. Southpaw Johnny Podres, who had an 11-4 record at the Coliseum last season, was the loser. An error, Essegian's double and Hal Smith's two-run homer wrapped it up for the Cards in a three-run sixth. Gil Hodges homered for the Dodgers in the ninth.

Pierce, who missed the decision in the White Sox' opener, allowed Kansas City but six hits and didn't walk a man while gaining his 32nd shutout. A bases-loaded single by Luis Aparicio put it away for the Sox in the fifth against the A's Ralph Terry.

Don Larsen was the winner, giving up six hits and all three Oriole runs, one on Al Pilarcik's fifth-inning homer, while testing his arm in a seven-inning stay. Larsen now has won 10 in a row from his one-time mates since September 5, 1955.

Clarkston Thinclads Trip OLSM in Opener

Capturing 9 first places to four for Orchard Lake St. Mary, Clarkston High's thinclads yesterday got off to a flying start on the 1959 spring campaign, 70⅔ to 38⅓. Meet was held at Clarkston, and was also Eaglets' first outing.

Bill Powell with 14¼ points, and Mel Joseph with 12½, led the winners. Bill Anderson's 10-6 vault was probably the best effort of the day. Powell won the 100 and 220, was 2nd in the broad jump and ran on a winning relay team. Joseph won the broad jump, was 2nd in 100-220 dashes and was on the 880 relay.

Houston Classic Starts Today

Jerry Barber Wins Pro-Am

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Jerry Barber of Los Angeles scored a three-under-par 69 Tuesday to win top money of $387.50 in a $5,000 pro - amateur event preceding Thursday's opening of the $30,000 Houston Classic Golf Tournament.

Barber and Wesley Ellis tied for individual medal over the 6,675-yard Lakeside Country Club course for $225 each but the Californian's best ball 62 with three amateurs gave him another $162.50

Runner - up among the money winners was Lionel Hebert who collected $250 for a five-under 67 low medal at the 6,905-yard Brae Burn Country Club.

While most of the visiting pros were competing at the two country clubs, such stars as Ben Hogan and Cary Middlecoff took additional practice rounds at the site of the classic, the 7,133-yard par 72 Memorial Park Course.

Hogan carded an informal 69, collecting five birdies and two bogies. Middlecoff said he had "something around 80." The two-times Houston champion appeared satisfied with his game.

J. C. Harwicke, the pro at Lakeside, collected $214 for a low best ball 61 there and an individual 75 that was good for a ninth place tie. Don January collected $213.75 at Brae Burn with a 68 in individual medal and a fourth place tie in low team with a best ball 60.

George Bayer was runner-up to Barber ad Ellis in individual at Lakeside and each won $175 with a 71. Chick Harbert won $150 with a 72, while Elroy Marti, Howie Johnson, and Don Whitt each won $100 with 73s.

Middlecoff and a 72-hole score of 277 were strong favorites as the field of 135 players prepared for Wednesday's final practice rounds over the 7,133-yard, par 72 Memorial Park course.

Record Crowd for Dodgers

Majors' Attendance Down

By The Associated Press

The major leagues finally got around to closing their run of season openers last night. They wound up with a drop in attendance of 83,695 from last year despite a record National League crowd at Los Angeles.

With 61,552 sitting in for the Dodgers' home opener in the Coliseum, a single night-game record in the NL, the senior league's eight openers drew 247,909. Last year the total was 291,286.

The 16 major league openers attracted 460,554. Last season's total was 544,249. The National League showed a drop of 44,196, the American 39,499.

Yesterday's second openers drew 229,211, with the National counting 126,118 in its three games. The American League drew 103,093 for four games, topped by the 34,225 who watched Baltimore's opener against New York.

'Watch Out for Leafs Now'—Imlach

Overtime Goal by Duff Edges Montreal, 3-2

Toronto Cuts Canadien Lead to 2-1 in Finals of Cup Playoffs

TORONTO (AP) — "That was the big one. Watch out for us now."

That's the way Coach Punch Imlach summed up the Toronto Maple Leafs' 3-2 overtime hockey victory against the Montreal Canadiens last night to cut Montreal's lead in the Stanley Cup final playoff to 2-1.

"Our guys played their best game of the series so far and they won't stop until they've won the Cup," Imlach added.

While photographers grouped around Dickie Duff, whose goal at 10:06 of a sudden death overtime won the game, veteran left-winger Bert Olmstead had the following cautious comment:

"Those Canadiens won't be push overs. That was the big game for us, I admit, but they're still leading the series. It's still going to be a tough road to the Stanley Cup."

Olmstead, who spent seven and a half seasons with the Canadiens before being sold to the Leafs last summer, scored the second Toronto goal late in the second period.

Duff, tired but happy, said he didn't know what to do when George Armstrong passed the puck to him.

"I was going to go in closer to the net but at the last moment I changed my mind and shot the puck towards the Montreal net. The next thing I saw was the red light go on."

Toronto center Larry Regan, who played with his broken right hand encased in a plaster cast, admitted it was "kind of awkward holding the stick, but other than that it didn't seem to bother me too much." Regan missed the first two games of the series.

There was more of an air of stunned disappointment than gloom in the Canadiens' dressing room.

Coach Toe Blake, sitting on a big trunk, was depressed. He had nothing to say before leaving the room quietly ahead of the players.

"I don't know where Duff shot from but I know the puck hit my ankle before going in," said Johnson.

Rocket Richard, who played only briefly in the first period, said his groin injury, suffered in last Saturday's game in Montreal still bothered him.

"I thought the other guys were in better condition than I was," he said.

PCH Beats Arthur Hill in Valley Golf Match

All even at 7½-7½ in match play, the Pontiac Central golf team resorted to medal play for a Saginaw Valley victory over defending champion Arthur Hill yesterday in a dual meet at Saginaw Country Club.

The Chiefs won their opening links test of the season on the basis of total strokes with 216 compared to 224 for the Trojans. Deaton paced the PCH squad with a six-over-par 79 followed by Mike Samardzija 82, Bill Davis 83, Ron Sugg 86 and John Taylor 88. Arthur Hill's Bob Hart was medalist with 77.

SOUTHPAW STUNT — Bill Veeck, who deals in baseball clubs, took the mound for a few pitches yesterday in Chicago as the White Sox opened the home season. The "catcher" was Chuck Comiskey, minority stockholder, who is still making court dates against Veeck's holding in the club. Aerial bombs and free drinks highlighted the Chicago opener.

Aerial Bombs, Free Beer Highlight Veeck's Debut

CHICAGO (UPI) — Comiskey Park, respectable old home of the Chicago White Sox, may never be the same now that showman Bill Veeck has moved in for an unlimited engagement.

★ ★ ★

Veeck gave the fans a preview yesterday of some of the shenanigans they may expect as the season unfolds. The show included a pre-game pitching exhibition by Veeck, an aerial bomb cannonade, and free beer to the 19,303 customers who saw the White Sox beat the Kansas City Athletics 2-0 for the club's fourth straight victory.

Veeck's brief mound performance came as a surprise to the fans and to Will Harridge, chairman of American League directors, who was to have tossed the first pitch.

But a cluster of aerial bombs rocked the park and the announcer boomed: "We wish to announce another Chicago battery — Bill Veeck and Chuck Comiskey."

Veeck, coatless and with open collar, took his spot on the mound and unloosed three southpaw pitches to Comiskey behind the plate. The first hit the dirt, the second was wide and the third soared over Comiskey's head.

The festivities started off with a presentation of the "world's longest loaf of bread" to Nellie Fox and Luis Aparicio in recognition of their home-run hitting prowess. Each clouted homers in the club's opening series at Detroit last week.

A silver tray loaded with 250 silver dollars was given to pitcher Early Wynn as a reward for hurling 250 major league victories along with another 250 silver dollars "in anticipation" that the veteran righthander will hang up another 19 victories this season.

As White Sox fans stood for the seventh inning stretch, Veeck offered drinks on the house. Beer vendors were swamped in the rush.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Timing Is Off.

DIAGNOSIS: Backswing Too Fast.

Treatment: A basic point to remember about the golf swing is that its speed must be built up gradually so that clubhead speed is at a maximum the instant the the ball is hit. This is the essence of timing.

Timing actually begins when you start to address the ball. You should be trying to set up a rythmic pattern for the shot. Smooth power is what you're looking for.

With this in mind, you must be careful not to swing the club back so fast that you destroy the smoothness of that pattern. Remember always that you have to stop at the top anyway, and start back down. Nothing is gained by taking the club back fast, and much can be lost.

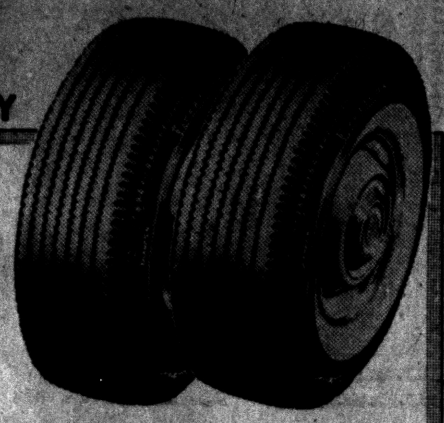

All of which brings up the question: How fast is too fast? My answer is that the speed of the backswing should be no more than one-third of the speed of the downswing.

Some good players have faster backswings than other good players, it being to some extent a matter of individual preference. My own backswing, for instance, is quite slow.

Their Oakland County Mixed Singles Individual Championship will have men and women competing against each other for the same prizes. But it wasn't planned that way.

"The women started complaining because they couldn't enter. They were so interested we decided to change it so they could take part," Titus explained about the change. He is tourney manager.

A stamp of approval was placed on the addition of women as participants by the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association with the agreement that the ladies could use 80 per cent of the difference of their mean average and 200 as their handicap. Handicap percentage for men will be 75.

Everything will be identical for both otherwise with $100 guaranteed the champion. All contestants will roll four games across 8 alleys and use the best three scores.

The starting of this contest will make three tournaments going at once in this area. The Elks Mixed Doubles and Howe's Lanes Singles are the others. All three come to a close April 26.

A 4th event joining the others during the April 25-26 weekend will be an event called the Troy Marcum Memorial Doubles Tournament. It will be held at Motor Inn for members of Fisher Local 596, U.A.W. Marcum had been a local sports star prior to his death last fall.

All these tourneys along with regular league action are giving women in this sector a good chance to get ready for Marion Ladewig's appearance here for the final of the "Beat the Pro" series for this season. That date has been set as April 28 at Lakewood Lanes.

Japan Confident of Olympics

Tokyo Has High Hope of Getting Games in 1964

Japanese See Vienna Not Detroit as Close Competitor

TOKYO (UPI) — The Japan Olympic Committee said today it was "confident" of winning the 1964 Olympic Games for Tokyo.

Former Prince Tsuneyoshi Takeda, acting president of the Japan Olympic Committee, told a news conference he was confident Tokyo would beat out the other candidates—Vienna, Detroit and Brussels.

If Japan wins the games, it will be the first time in history of the Olympiad that it will be staged in Asia.

Takeda believed the most serious threat to Japan's hopes of winning the games, which Tokyo was scheduled to stage in 1940 only to have them cancelled by World War II, would come from Vienna not Detroit.

But he added confidently, "Slowly but surely, we are coming to the climax of our great dream."

Takeda estimated that there would be 10,000 athletes for the games and an additional 10,000 to 15,000 guests from abroad to see the games. He said he was confident Tokyo would have the hotel facilities available by 1964 to more than handle this crowd.

The convention of the International Rotary scheduled to be held in Tokyo in 1961 will provide a preview of the problems Tokyo will face in the Olympics, he said.

NEW FACES — Duffy Daugherty welcomed new faces to his coaching staff at Michigan State this week as spring football practice got underway. New members of the staff are Hank Bullough, Cal Stoll and Danny Boisture with Daugherty on the extreme right. Drills will continue until the annual spring game, May 16th.

Notes from College Football Camps:

Walker Out of 'M' Spring Drills

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—University of Michigan football coach Bump Elliot was seeking a new fullback today as he sent his squad through its first scrimmage of spring drills.

Doctors said Walker was in good condition but it was considered unlikely that he would be able to return to action during spring drills.

★ ★ ★

EAST LANSING (UPI) — A stiff blocking session, running and passing drills and work with a new offense marked the second day of spring football training at Michigan State.

Coach Duffy Daugherty's revamped attack apparently isn't as easy to learn as he thought it would be.

DETROIT (AP) — The University of Detroit's football varsity got a shuffling from the Titan's new coach, Jim Miller, yesterday.

Rose Bowl Renewal Anticipated

Expect Big Ten to Approve New Contract in May

'Straw Vote' Indicates 6-4 in Favor of Further Play at Pasadena

CHICAGO (AP) — The official Big Ten vote on continuance of the Rose Bowl football pact is expected to stand at 6-4 in the affirmative at the conference's May meeting at Michigan, it was learned Tuesday night,.

The Big Ten took a so-called straw vote at its sessions in Madison, Wis., in March and received a 5-4 decision for continuance with ig.

The action, unless conceivably overruled by Northwestern's faculty higher echelon in an unprecedented move, means that potentially the vote is carried 6-4 in favor of continuing the Rose Bowl contract.

The issue has been put before each school's faculty council or similar group for official vote.

Illinois, Ohio State and Minnesota have made public they are aganst continuance of the series beyond the 1960 game, when the present contract expires.

Michigan has come out in favor of it

Wisconsin is known to be against it although its vote has not been announced. Purdue, Indiana Michigan State and Iowa are believed to be behind continuance although their votes also have not been made public. In this bracket, Michigan State especially is in the potential category although the school voted "Yes" in the straw vote.

A Rose Bowl contract is receptive to the Tournament of Roses and the Big Four of Western college football—California, Southern California, Washington and UCLA.

The Big Four—known as the Athletic Assn. of Western Universities—will supplant the Pacific Coast Conference when it legally expires at midnight June 30.

The Big Ten contract with the PCC runs only through the 1960 Rose Bowl games.

Armada Swamps Almont for 2nd Track Victory

Armada's power - packed thinclads racked up their 2nd victory of the season, yesterday on the home field, against Almont, 81 1-6 to 29 5-6.

Winners took eight firsts, tied two, led by Bob Zarate's 16, and Jerry Blake's 12 points. Frank Hartway had 9 for Almont.

New York—Columbiai's 1957 football team was the least penalized of the major teams, the Lions getting set back a total of 190 yards on 22 penalties.

Red Sox Management to Meet With NCAAP

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD) Tuesday invited Boston Red Sox officials to its next meeting "to answer charges of racial discrimination" brought by three groups against the club.

Invited to the April 21 meeting were club President Tom Yawkey and Executive Vice President Bucky Harris.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), the Ministerial Alliance, a group of 41 greater Boston ministers, and the American Veterans Committee charged the Sox with bias in shipping Negro infielder Pumpsie Green to the minors last week.

Green, who would have been the first Negro to wear a Red Sox uniform hit .327 in spring training. He got off to a fast start, but cooled off and was erratic in the field. He was returned to Minneapolis, where last season he hit .252.

Green has not commented on the discrimination charges.

The Red Sox, in a letter to the commission Monday officially denied Green had been farmed out because of bias.

"The truth is" the Red Sox said, "Pumpsie was optioned to give him an opportunity to play regularly and develop his profession."

The American Veterans Committee told the MCAD it was "greatly disturbed over the newspaper stories" about Green's transfer. The AVC said it was "loath to lay charges against the Boston Red Sox management, but it has aroused suspicion in our minds. While the cutting of Green makes sense we are disturbed by the publicity on the matter."

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, as the Red Sox opened their home season against Washington a group of white youths picketed Fenway Park. The pickets, apparently college students, bore signs reading, "We want a pennant, not a white team."

The MCAD met for 90 minutes with the NAACP, the veterans group and the ministers. It said it would reserve its decision pending the appearance of Yawkey and Harris.

The commission could vote for or reject a formal investigation of the hiring and firing practices of the Sox, which the NAACP has demanded.

Carter, Hennessey Retain Pairs Title

Ray Bluth and Dick Weber, also of St. Louis, finished a weak second with 23 points on an 17-15 record with 13,313 pins. They walked off with $1,500.

Still another St. Louis team of Pat Patterson and Bill Lillard took third pace with 22 points on a 19-13 record and 13,050 pins. Patterson and Lillard collected $4,250.

2nd Win for Milford

Winners took 11 firsts, tied two others. Sean Lavan (Brighton) and Dennis Munson both jumped 19-9 in the broad jump. Milford's Tom Manley had a 54.8 for the 440 and freshman Ted Nelson turned a 4:57.6 mile, with teammate Larry Adams breathing down his neck. Bill Veresh's 10-6 vault was also a good performance.

Johnny Green, Michigan State's rubber-legged basketball center, was selected as the Big Ten's Most Valuable player in 1959.

Johnny Bratton Back in Hospital

CHICAGO (AP) — Johnny Bratton, former welterweight boxing champion who escaped Friday from a mental hospital because he wanted to visit old haunts, was picked up Tuesday.

Bratton, 31, was standing on a South Side street corner when a policeman recognized him and took him into custody for return to Chicago State Hospital.

Bratton defeated Charley Fusari in 1951 for the NBA welterweight title and lost it to Kid Gavilan later in the year for the world championship. He has been in mental institutions since May 1956.

Stepping Small Boat Spars

By JOHN BOHANNAN

Recently when I suggested that small centerboard sailboats offer excellent opportunities for hauling on trailers to remote and interesting cruising grounds, several readers inquired about the problem of stepping masts. It can be solved if carefully planned and executed.

Here's one obvious fact to remember when buying a boat for trailer use: The lighter and shorter the mast, the easier it is to step. And masts which step on deck are easier to handle in the larger sizes than those which must be passed through a hole in the deck and secured to a fitting on the keelson.

When I had Thistle No. 8 I kept her in a boathouse hoisted clear of the water by a couple of wide belts with spreaders and gun tackles. Every time I took her out, I stepped the mast.

I would lay the light 28-foot spar fore-and-aft on the boat with the butt resting on the mast thwart, then paddle out of the boathouse and attach the two side stays to the top adjustment holes. Placing the butt of the mast in the step, I would walk the spar up until it was vertical, keeping forward pressure on it with one hand until I stepped forward with the headstay and secured it.

Once the headstay was attached, the mast could not fall. I could take my time making final shroud adjustments, mounting the boom, bending on sails and slipping the rudder in place.

Usually my wife helped me step the mast but it was not too difficult to do single-handed. The same procedure can be followed with the 22-foot Highlander or any boat where the mast steps on deck or on a deck-level thwart.

With traditional design in which the mast passes through the deck and partners to the keelson, best routine is to place some cushions at the forward end of the cockpit, station two men there to hold the butt of the mast down against the cushions while a third man walks the spar by moving forward on the side deck.

Once the spar is vertical, he steadies it while the other two lift the mast and set it in the hole in the deck, guiding it down until the butt falls in place on the keelson fitting.

The 24-foot Raven is a bit more of a job, even though its extruded aluminum alloy mast doesn't weigh much more than that of a Lightning. The spar is so tall that it becomes rather unwieldy if there is much of a breeze. On larger craft like this, it will be more convenient to use a hoist, or step the spar from the vantage point of a bridge.

On smaller boats ranging through the Comets, Snipes, Rhodes Bantam and what have you down to the dinghies, there is no problem in stepping the mast.

STEPPED ON THWART — The boatmen shown in the photo are stepping a Thistle mast, an easy job. This rig is light and easy to handle, and the Thistle is a handy craft for trailering to regattas, or for pleasure sailing trips.

Firearms Ban in Parks

Announcement was made today by Gerald E. Eddy, state conservation director, of firearms restrictions for five Pontiac area state parks.

The order from Eddy prohibits the carrying, or firing of any firearms, from April 1 to Sept. 30, inclusive, of each year, in the Pontiac Lake, Bald Mountain, Rochester-Utica, Proud Lake and Metamora recreation areas.

Breaugh's Bonnie Wins All-Age Test

One area dog came through with a win in the recent spring field trial for German Shorthair Pointer Club, at Highland Recreation Area. FTC Bonnie von Jay-Jax, Floyd Breaugh's (Birmingham) 4-year-old, won the open all-age event.

Other winners were Dixon's Short-Short (Russ Dixon, New Haven, who also won 2nd and 4th), puppy stakes. Chet Crites owns Short-Short; derby, Inman's Swiss Jager (LaVern Inman, Muskegon); gundog stakes, FTC Windrow's Autumn Dust (Robert Law, Akron, O.); limited stakes (dogs handled by owners), FTC Kay-Star Summers-Falkenhorst (Frank Summers, Detroit). Summers also won the GSPCM amateur handling trophy.

Irish Setter club of Michigan will hold a two-day spring field trial at Pontiac Lake Area, this weekend, with puppy, derby, gundog stakes Saturday and other events for all other pointer breeds, on Sunday.

Puppy Match Sunday

VFW hall, 177 Vester, Ferndale, is the site for Sunday's spring puppy match for the Boston Terrier club of Detroit, starting at 1 p.m. Judging begins at 2:15 p. m. Match is a AKC sanctioned affair and marks start of the yearly accumulations of points toward a championship.

Dig Those Crazy Fish; Go for Tavern Fare

JACKSON, Wis. (AP) — Clarence Gumm has learned that fish can develop an educated taste.

Gumm, who has 20 pet trout in a private stream behind his tavern here, says they spurn minnows and worms once they try something better. He feeds them buns, hamburger, cottage cheese and spaghetti.

Paper Screen Halts Robin's 2-Day Battle

A two-day battle with its reflection in a window-pane ended for a pugnacious robin, at the home of Mrs. May Hastings, 103 Norton, only after a sheet of paper was placed over the glass.

★ ★ ★

The bird put on one all-day exhibition of flying into the glass, stopped only at dark. With daylight the next morning it was back. By afternoon it was exhausted but wouldn't quit.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hastings sought some help to save the bird from committing suicide, and was told to cover the window to eliminate reflections—and it worked. The irate robin departed, hasn't returned.

Nautical Jive

GUN TACKLE — A purchase using two single blocks. The single block moves with the weight or lead, and the standing part leads from the fixed block.

SHROUDS — Sidestays supporting a mast.

PARTNER—One of the timbers used to frame and strengthen a deck opening. Where the hole is for a mast, the timbers are called mast partners.

GOOSENECK — A swivel fitting for attaching the boom to the mast.

LUFF — The forward or weather edge of a sail. To luff is to bring your craft up nearer to the wind.

DOWNHAUL — Any line or tackle used for pulling something down. A tack downhaul exerts a downward pull at the foot of the mainsail next to the mast.

Bear Take Increased

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Virginia Game Commission reports 232 bears killed in this, the oldest of the states, in 1958. It was a slight increase over the 1957 bag.

Smelt Runs Under Way; Perch Not Far Behind

By The Press Outdoors Editor

Several days of fine weather, and rising temperatures have started the annual mass migration of the succulent, silvery smelt. A number of Pontiac area anglers cashed in on first heavy runs of the tasty fish, in the Tawas area, last night.

One party stopped for a bite of lunch at a place across from the Singing Bridge at Tawas. When they left, to take a look at the fast-flowing Au Gres river nearby, the run was under way — with no fishermen on hand. The Pontiac group brought home several bushels of the fish.

ARIZONA LAND OF CONTRAST IN SPRING

Just back from an extended stay in the Southwest, this observer has found Arizona one of the most interesting sections in the U.S.A. In the springtime Arizona is a land of remarkable contrasts. Contrasts are found in topography, from mountain to flat desert, from chill temperatures to 93-degree sunshine; in people, from the still less-privileged indians in certain northern areas to the hustling, bustling go-getters of Tucson, Phoenix and other burgeoning towns.

Stress on Outdoors

Camporama at Milford

Sportsmen and outdoors enthusiasts of the area will have an opportunity, June 12-13-14, to look over the newest things in camping.

John Youd, chairman of the camporama, announced plans for the affair today. He represents a committee including Bob Kommith, Gerald Bullinger, James Benson, William Abbott, Dennis Sonjia, Ron Frakes, Ken Peterson and Everett Mason, handling details of the Milford show.

All types and kinds of newest camping equipment, including station-wagon living and trailering, tents, stoves and numerous outdoors-living gadgets will be shown at the 35 exhibits expected to cover 17 acres on Milford High athletic field.

Nightly programs are planned, and on the final day Oakland County Boy Scouts are invited for vespers at which time a new 49-star American flag will be presented to Milford Troop No. 171.

Admission donations will go to the Milford BSA troop.

Big Rapids Bowmen Oppose Giles Team

Arrangements were announced today for a archery "shootoff" between the recently crowned Michigan leader of the big Ben Pearson Open tourney and Pontiac's Giles' archers. The Giles team finished in 9th place against the best in the country. They were just behind Big Rapids, the top state team.

The Big Rapids squad comes here Sunday to shoot a round at Giles Archery Range on Highland road, just beyond the airport. Match starts at 1 p.m. and the public is invited.

Key to Success of Overseas Plants:

Stay Put, Plow Profits Back There

(If you want to make money overseas how do you get along with your neighbors? In the following article, second of three on American plants abroad, Sam Dawson, AP Business News analyst, tells how togetherness works there for U.S. industry.)

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—That man in a hurry on the transatlantic jet may be from Ohio and not headed for the Folies Bergere. He may be on his way to see how well his European plant is turning out cash registers with Arabic figures for sale in the Mideast.

And while he's there he'll try his best to act like and think like his native employes and customers. It pays.

Stanley C. Allyn, chairman of National Cash Register, says that 40 per cent of his firm's sales are overseas—and 65 per cent of these sales were of machines built abroad. Overseas operations have set new sales records in each of the past 13 years.

MUCH PERSONAL CONTACT

He employs 22,000 people abroad and only six are Americans. But Dayton, Ohio, executives are constantly traveling to the overseas plants, and sales offices, visiting 30 countries last year. The overseas personnel frequently come to Dayton headquarters. Personal contact is the key to success, says Allyn.

The first rule, however, he says, is to go into a country to stay regardless of wars, revolutions or depressions.

Another is to plow back the profits you make abroad. His firm has paid for the plants it built since the war largely out of profits of overseas operations.

To Americans planning to manufacture overseas—whether it's to take advantage of usually lower operating costs or to slide under the barriers of currency restrictions or import quotas—Allyn has other pointers.

One is to treat foreign employes as you do those at home. This goes for working conditions, recreation facilities and benefit programs. Wage scales, like the price of raw materials, are governed by local conditions.

Another is to study the local market conditions and when necessary adapt your product to meet it. Allyn notes that in some cases ideas and product changes originating abroad have been put into use here.

STRESS SERVICE

One of the best ways to hold foreign markets is to put service ahead of sales, he believes. That often gives American products the competitive edge they need.

But if your firm wants to prosper, or even stay alive, in its overseas location and market, there is one prime thing to remember.

Always respect the customs, traditions, religions and sensitivities of foreign peoples. What nearly everyone does in Ohio might infuriate the people in Calcutta or Lisbon.

Remembering that, Allyn says, is one reason his firm has built the total of its sales from overseas plants to 33 million dollars a year and its export sales to 19 million dollars.

Boxer's Brother Charged in Theft

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Boxer Don Fullmer, 20, was charged with embezzlement and grand larceny Tuesday. He is a brother of Gene Fullmer, 27.

★ ★ ★

Two other men, George Arba Homes and Lynn Alma Holt, charges, Salt Lake County Atty. Grover A. Giles said Don Fullmer and Holmes were employes of the Salt Lake Hardware Co., a wholesale house.

Officers said the charges involve about $1,500 worth of hardware items taken from the warehouse over a period of several months.

City Judge Marcellus K. Snow released the three men on their own recognizance and set a preliminary hearing for June 26.

State Safety Meeting Seeks Some Answers

LANSING (AP) — Problems in reducing highway deaths and injuries will be the chief topic today as the annual Michigan Safety Conference moves into its second day.

Some 4,000 delegates to the three-day conference will hear Gordon H. Sheehe, director of the Michigan State University Highway Traffic Safety Center, discuss Michigan's record of cutting road fatalities 32 per cent in the past three years.

Secretary of State James M. Hare, who is also chairman of the State Safety Commission, will moderate a session on driver improvement programs.

There are some 16,000 men and women pilots who work as unpaid volunteers for the Civil Air Patrol, an official Air Force auxiliary by act of Congress.

Market Moves Toward Record

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved forward in an approach to its record peak in active early trading today.

The advance was irregular. Gains went from fractions to a point or more among key stocks. Fractional losers peppered the list.

The opening was more active than usual with the ticker tape late for a 13-minute period. A string of exceptionally large opening blocks was traded.

United Aircraft toppled 2½ to 60½ on a block of 5,000 shares following a statement by its board chairman that earnings would decline this year due to large expenditures for research and development.

Asks Xway Suits Be Dismissed

Would Block Chrysler Highway Through Troy and East Pontiac

The Michigan State Highway Dept. has asked dismissal of a law suit blocking construction of the proposed Walter P. Chrysler expressway through Troy and eventually east of Pontiac.

Ernest O. Zirkalos, assistant attorney general representing the highway department, said the suit was filed prematurely without the route being established as yet.

The suit, filed by Troy Meadows Home Owners' Assn., charges Troy City Commissioners Roy L. Duncan, Louis Yanich, and Clifford Sutermeister Jr. with choosing the route of the expressway through the city which would best benefit real estate interests they hold.

"The law provides for the route to be reviewed in court only after public hearings are held," Zirkalos contended.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland promised a decision by April 30 on the association's suit for a permanent injunction blocking the selected route.

The suit, filed last month, says the three commissioners should have abstained from voting according to the city charter because they "possessed a personal and financial interest in the establishment of one expressway (route) or the other."

Selling Weakens Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP)—A continuation of selling pressure carried over from yesterday's market weakened grain futures prices further in early dealings today on the Board of Trade.

★ ★ ★

Several contracts were off as much as a cent a bushel within the first few minutes before meeting a steady volume of buying. Some of the liquidation appeared to be a carryover of stop-loss orders which brokers were unable to execute in the final flurry of the previous session.

There was a good volume of export business overnight. India bought 2,400,000 bushels of hard wheat for shipment next month and West Germany took 2,175,000 bushels of spring wheat.

Wheat was ½ to 1 cent a bushel lower near the end of the first hour, May $2.05; corn ⅛ to ⅜ lower, May $1.25; oats ⅜ to ¾ lower, May 66¾; rye ¼ higher to ¾ lower, May $1.39¾; soybeans ¼ to ¾ lower, May $2.25⅞.

Clawson Mayor Makes Career of Narrow Wins

The newly-elected mayor of Clawson, Duncan L. Gillis, sems to be making a career of scraping into public office by narrow margins and facing the challenge of a recount.

Lavern T. Anderson, the man defeated by Gillis in elections April 6 asked for a recount yesterday. Gillis, a 34-year-old nursery man, edged Anderson by four votes 1,108 to 1,04.

Gillis won a seat on the city council in 1951 with a two-vote plurality over Walter Davis. He passed the challenge of a recount that time.

4-Day Eastern Jaunt Began by Williams

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams left by plane today for four days in the East starting with a speaking date at the first Africa Freedom Day observance in Carnegie Hall in New York tonight.

Tomorrow, Williams planned to testify before a congressional committee in support of the Machrowicz-Karsten bill which would establish federal standards of unemployment compensation.

He will spend Friday on personal business in the East and travel on Saturday to Cleveland for the 25th anniversary of the Cleveland Teachers' Union. He will speak at a banquet there.

His plans called for a return to Detroit that night and to Lansing early Sunday.

Today Is Tax Deadline

More Returns to Get Check

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal tax officials said today they will question more income tax returns this year than ever before.

The deadline for filing individual returns is midnight tonight. Legally, returns must reach Internal Revenue Service offices by then. In practice, however, they'll be accepted if they are post-marked by that time.

Officials supervising IRS tax audits said their work on the latest crop of returns will be expanded regardless of what Congress does with the agency's budget.

This is in line with an announced goal of Commissioner Dana Latham to expand tax checks "so that no taxpayer can ever feel that he is secure from an audit."

About 2,600,000 income tax returns of all kinds were audited last year. An audit means the taxpayer is asked to supply more information or justify certain items in a return.

This work, by 12,600 agents and auditors, brought in an additional 1½ billion dollars in revenue.

Latham recently told a House committee that IRS wants to step up audits to the point where they involve every taxpayer with substantial income at least once "in a reasonably cycle period."

Only a small fraction of the 93½ million returns filed each year are audited. About 61 million returns are from individuals.

Of course, the quickest way to get in trouble with IRS is to file a late return. This results in a penalty of 5 per cent a month on any tax owed, up to a maximum of 25 per cent. In addition, IRS can charge interest of 6 per cent a year on tax debts.

Device Keeps 'Moon' in Path

DETROIT (AP) — A made-in-Michigan device is keeping Discoverer II on course in its polar-orbiting.

Bendix Aviation Corp. disclosed today that the device, called a "cold reaction controller," is being used for the first time in the 1,600-pound satellite.

Bendix said the controller was developed and built at its laboratory in Southfield. The work began early in 1958.

The controller steers the satellite and keeps it steady, an official said. Without it, the satellite could tumble over and over, he said, and not keep a course.

If Discoverer II goes off course, reference units alert a jet-control system. The latter shoots out high pressure gas from external nozzles and puts the satellite back on course.

Dr. Winston E. Kock, director of Bendix Research Laboratories Division, said the controller is another step toward manned space ships able to fly like aircraft in the atmosphere.

Dr. Kock said previous satellites, including the Russian sputniks, lacked this advantage.

And speak of how you died
To think you could not say good-bye

Our prayers were not in vain
For now you are in God's beautiful heaven
And some day we will be together again.

Now Movie Stars Are Begging for TV Shows

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Once upon a time there was a movie star who didn't want to get his own TV show . . ."

★ ★ ★

I'm kidding, of course; this is just a fairy story. There never really was one.

WILSON

Even Greta Garbo, I'll bet, though she won't make movies any more, must envy Jack Paar's enormous audiences. Danny Kaye, unavailable as he has been to TV, must be plotting a block-buster for five years from now when everybody else is dead tired.

One of the shyest of men, Van Johnson, confessed to me recently that he would like to retire from acting — though still a very young man — after he does maybe half a dozen more pictures "and a TV series."

Jack E. Leonard, Barbara Nichols, Gypsy Rose Lee, and Clyde Beatty — they've all got a TV show or are planning one. I take it back. There was one fellow NOT anxious to have a TV series.

Van Johnson felt that if he wrapped up a few more movies and some TV, he would retire to read, write and paint, in the Beverly Hills home which his wife Evie says has a distinctive decor. She calls it "Early Cluttered."

★ ★ ★

Ingrid Bergman and Lars Schmidt made comedian Shelley Berman very happy — catching his act and saying, "You were very funny." (He said, "Geee, she's beautiful.") Ingrid lunched with Sir Laurence Olivier, and their mutual agent, Kay Brown. "No, I have no picture with Olivier — I wish I did!" Ingrid told me later.

★ ★ ★

"I flew to Miami from N. Y. with Pete Kriendler and Ben Wright and immediately phoned my wife in California," Bill said. "She said, 'what are you doing in Miami?' I said, 'I came down here for a few days' fishing.' The phone went 'Click!' I phoned her back and said, 'I guess you didn't hear me say the fishing was lousy and I'll be home on the next plane, did you'?"

★ ★ ★

Louis Prima and Keely Smith, who do the Ed Sullivan TV show May 10 and May 17, say the reason they're often apart (leading to rumors) is that he's in no hurry and rides trains, she's in a hurry and flies. "Keely'll even take a coast-to-coast jet to go four hours faster," says Louis, leisurely.

★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Rossano Brazzano says it in "Count Your Blessings": "Always smile at women. If they are pretty it gives you pleasure. If they aren't, it gives them pleasure."

George de Witt claims he's envious when he gets a business letter that's poorly typed: "That means the guy's secretary must be beautiful." That's earl, brother.

Chaplin Plans to Bring Back the Little Man

LONDON (UPI) — Charlie Chaplin plans to revive the role of the little man with the duck-waddle walk which made him famous, the Daily Herald said today.

The comedian, who will be 70 Thursday, had "killed off" the baggy pants character in favor of such roles as "Monsieur Verdoux" and "The Great Dictator." But the Herald quoted him as saying last night, "I am bringing back the little man exactly as he was.

"Of course, he will be a little older. The film will be a ballet slapstick, complete with all the works. There will be comedy in every way.

"I was going to kill him. There is room for the little man in the atomic age."

Reuther Raps Lacks in Jobless Benefits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — United Auto Workers Union President Walter P. Reuther said today the "gross inadequacies of existing unemployment compensation systems are hurting America."

Reuther, as president of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department, called on Congress to pass legislation designed to establish federal standards for state jobless benefits.

He said an adequate jobless pay system would be "one of the most effective of anti-recession devices."

Reuther's statement to the House Ways and Means Committee was presented by James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the Industrial Union Department. Reuther had been scheduled to testify, but was unable to do so because of doctor's orders, Carey said.

To Pick Most Obnoxious

DETROIT (AP)— The junior class at Lawrence Institute of Technology isn't choosing a queen for its J-Hop Saturday. Instead, the class is voting for its "most obnoxious junior"—such as a bookworm or the guy who steals dates.

Mexico Nabs U.S. Fugitive

Flying Bank Robbers, Sprenz, to Be Handed Over at Border

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico gave the bum's rush today to Frank Lawrence Sprenz, a flying American bank robber on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted men.

Two immigration agents were driving the fast-traveling, fast-talking holdup artist to the U.S.-Mexican border to hand him over to American authorities.

Captured Monday as he was fishing off the Yucatan coast, Sprenz in less than 24 hours was ordered deported for entering Mexico illegally. He was flown to Mexico City Tuesday afternoon and transferred to a car for the drive north.

The 29-year-old bandit is wanted for robbing a bank in Hamilton, Ohio, of $29,955; for the $1,490 holdup of an Akron, Ohio, cafe and for a series of other crimes in the United States and Canada. Ohio was his chief theater of operations.

Mexican police traced to him a Piper pacer which cracked up landing early in April on the Gulf coast north of Veracruz.

The police tracked him to the Yucatan island resort of Cozumel and nabbed him as he was fishing in the Caribbean. He was posing as a prosperous U.S. highway engineer, one of several roles he assumed in a year of flight.

Two Americans fishing with Sprenz were held for questioning.

Sprenz broke jail a year ago in Akron with four other prisoners while he was awaiting trial for the cafe holdup. One of the fugitives was killed and three others quickly rounded up. Sprenz got away.

★ ★ ★

The FBI posted him as one of the nation's 10 most dangerous criminals five months later. While a fugitive, he learned to fly in Seattle under an assumed name and then used both air and road to elude police.

Johnson Accused of Ignoring Pledges

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) today called on Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson to help fulfill 15 "major, still-to-be-kept" pledges of the Democrats' 1956 party platform.

"If no significant additional attempt is made by the leadership to fulfill these promises," Proxmire said, "I think it is a fair conclusion that one man rule, the lack of democracy in the Senate of which I have complained, is not getting results that caucuses might achieve."

The remarks were prepared for the third in Proxmire's series of speeches on the Senate floor about Senate Democratic leadership.

Seven State Stations Join CBS as WJR Subs

DETROIT (AP) — Seven Michigan stations will join the Columbia Broadcasting System's radio network May 24.

They are WKMH, Dearborn-Detroit; WKMF, Flint; and WKHM, Jackson of the Knorr Broadcasting Corp.; WSGW, Saginaw, a Booth broadcasting station; and WLEW, Bad Axe and WHLS, Port Huron, Wismer-Stevens Broadcasting Stations.

The seven stations replace WJR, Detroit, which is leaving CBS to operate as an independent broadcaster. WJR's signal covers approximately the same area as the seven new CBS stations.

George Fails to Make Grade Without Gracie

By FRED DANZIG
For WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK—The George Burns Show shuffled off-stage after an uninspired run on NBC-TV Tuesday night in order to make room for the uninspired, displaced Western series, the Californians.

Before George's cigar smoke fades into the frontier gunsmoke, I'd like to let him know that I, for one, will miss his grin, his unsurpassed singing voice, his calm assurance in the face of bewilderment, his monologues and, of course, his cigar.

Why did his series fail? George's noble experiment in a stage life without mother, Gracie Allen, failed to catch on because he attempted the impossible on TV. A situation comedy needs the secret ingredient — the situation catalyst. In this case, I mean Gracie. Without her, George was like . . .well, like George Burns without a cigar.

Short Shots: Garry Moore was "Oscarcized" during his CBS-TV hour last night. Like Jerry Lewis at the Academy Awards fiasco, Garry was stuck with time on his hands, or as they say in show biz, egg on his face. Garry's surplus was a mere two minutes and he made the most of it by ad-libbing some setting-up exercises for fingers and an energetic rubber-leg dance. The air of honesty he gave these efforts helped the show get off with good grace.

Garry's show now can be counted on to come up with an opening number that is exciting, imaginative, elaborate and lovingly executed. Last night's circus number was no exception. If there's anything wrong with the show, it's that nothing that happens after the big opening tops it.

ABC-TV's Naked City rattled out plenty of gunfire last night. It also had suspense and a snarling killer played by Joe Ruskin, who approached his work with the solemnity of a connoisseur.

The Steve Canyon Show on NBC-TV had no story but lots of documentary-type film clips borrowed from the Air Force. Result: An interesting show, for a change. It seems this series is best when it stays airborne. Stick to those jets, Steve.

The Channel Swim: The Voice of Firestone, which began broadcasting on Dec. 3, 1928, will be stilled after its Monday, June 1, telecast over ABC-TV. An announcement by the sponsor said the withdrawal of the musical series is the result of failure by the three networks to offer a prime evening weekday slot for next season.

$4 Million More Asked by Capitol Architect

WASHINGTON (AP)—J. George Stewart, architect of the Capitol, has asked Congress for an extra four million dollars to finish remodeling the Capitol and one million dollars to improve the new Senate office buiding.

"I've been here for 22 years," Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) of the Appropriations Committee said, "and I never saw an architect who found more things to do than Stewart."

★ ★ ★

"Is that in the way of a commendation?" Stewart asked.

"You can take it that way if you want to," Ellender replied.

Over 3-Year-Old Son

Damone, Angel, Battle

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "All I want is to see my son—I don't want to be a bad guy," said Vic Damone.

From Denmark came the angry voice of the singer's divorced wife, Pier Angeli: "Nobody can ever take my son from me."

★ ★ ★

The trip was in violation of a court order—obtained by Damone — restraining Miss Angeli from taking the child out of California. But she told a newsman in Copenhagen her ex-husband actually had given her oral permission to take Perry with her.

Damone had a different version of the dispute. He blamed his former mother-in-law, Mrs. Enrica Pieraneli, for much of the trouble.

ADMITS HOT TEMPER

He admitted to interviewers that he possesses "a hot Italian temper," but added that as far as he is concerned Mrs. Pierangeli "should have stayed in Italy."

If she had, Damone declared, his marriage might have succeeded. The singer said the actress' mother exerts a strong influence over her daughter!

Mrs. Pierangeli declined comment.

The couple was married in November 1954 and divorced last December. Miss Angeli got custody of the child and Damone was given visiting privileges. In asking for a court order, Damone said he would be deprived of these privileges if his son were taken abroad. A hearing had been set for Friday.

★ ★ ★

"But when I heard she was leaving the country without telling me, I just got my hot Italian temper up. I haven't been able to see the baby in four months and she just ignores me.

"All I want is to see my son. I don't want to be a bad guy."

'Voice of Firestone' to Be Dropped June 1

NEW YORK (AP)—The "Voice of Firestone" concert program, which has been on the air for 31 years, will be discontinued after June 1.

A spokesman for the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., which sponsors the program, said the program is being dropped because the networks will not provide "suitable" time.

Historical Canadian Site Built 150 Years Ago

Seek to Preserve Old Stone House

By JOHN A. CURRAN
Written for the Canadian Press

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) — The Ermatinger House — now called simply the Old Stone House — put Sault Ste. Marie on the map of upper Canada 150 years ago.

Its history is linked with the fur trade of the north country, the capture of Fort Michilmackinac during the war of 1812 and the sacking of the hamlet of Sault Ste. Marie by the Americans as a stroke of revenge a year later.

It was known to Lord Elgin, governor-general of British North America 1847 to 1854, as "the elegant mansion house" and to Lord Selkirk as a headquarters stop-off during his expedition to Manitoba's Red River Valley.

Built by the first agent of the powerful old Northwest Company, Charles Oakes Ermatinger, in 1814, the house still is capable of restoration. It is the oldest stone house north of Toronto.

A move is afoot, with the assistance of the Canadian government, to have the city of Sault Ste. Marie acquire the property for preservation. It may be declared a national historic site.

Ermatinger, son of a Swiss merchant who settled in Montreal, came to this settlement in 1808 at the age of 28 to set up a northern base for the company's fur trade. He early determined that he would build himself a house and live in the elegant style of his distinguished family.

Documents gathered in recent years by the Historical Society indicate that Ermatinger moved his family of seven into the house in 1816 and remained there until he returned to Montreal about 1831.

RED SANDSTONE USED

Native red sandstone was obtained from a quarry less than two miles distant, but the huge cedar timbers were reported to have been brought from Montreal.

The place must have taken on the atmosphere of a fortress for its walls are 2½ feet thick in places. At one time it boasted wooden shutters on the small front windows facing the St. Mary's River and the American border.

Located almost in the hear of the city's main business section, the Ermatinger house is expected to cost $90,000 to buy now. Another $65,000 will be needed for restoration and development as a show-place and museum. Lands of the house at one time extended over 30 acres. Now it takes up about four city-sized blocks.

Military, social and business center of the 60-family settlement when it was built, the old stone house down through a century and a half has served as everything from a garrison headquarters to a place of worship. It now is a four-apartment block.

The original six large rooms gave Ermatinger the opportunity to live in the grand style of a community leader. He and his wife, an Ojibway princess, headed the social life of the settlement and it was recorded that an invitation to their annual caribou dinner and dance was a mark of local distinction.

Ermatinger built a grist mill attached to one side of the house and an inn on the other side. He also built a large sawmill on the St. Mary's River a quarter-mile south. The Americans burned the sawmill when they attacked the settlement. The wooden-framed grist mill and inn have long since vanished.

At a Sault Ste. Marie military ceremony in 1932 representatives of United States forces crossed the river to return a flag American forces had ripped from a flagpole at the old house more than a century ago. The flag now is displayed at the city hall.

The average density of population ranges from fewer than five people per square mile in Canada, Australia, and many colonial areas to 500 or more in the United Kingdom, Belgium, the Netherlands, Germany, and Japan.
