Israeli Raid Rips Egyptian Positions

From Our News Wires

TEL AVIV — Israeli armored units backed by planes thrust across the Gulf of Suez today and destroyed Egyptian army positions along a 30-mile stretch of coast, the Israeli army announced.

Starting from a point about 30 miles south of the southern end of the Suez Canal, the amphibious forces rampaged along the coast, knocking out Egyptian army camps, guard posts and radar stations, a military spokesman reported.

It was the biggest action reported on the Egyptian-Israeli front since the 1967 Middle East war.

★ ★ ★

An Israeli spokesman said the raid inflicted "dozens" of casualties.

The 10-hour operation ranged over a 30-mile stretch of the Egyptian shore, the spokesman reported.

PLANE LOST

One Israeli plane was reported lost and the pilot parachuted into the Gulf of Suez.

The Israelis used naval vessels to take their armor across the 25-mile-wide gulf.

The planes bombed and strafed artillery batteries and units of the Soviet-built surface-to-air (SAM) missiles, he said.

Cairo radio in a broadcast monitored in Tel Aviv said Israeli planes attacked Egyptian observation posts along the Suez Canal and that Egyptian planes engaged the Israeli pilots.

FOLLOWS SEA BATTLE

The action raged between El Hasayer and Ras Za' Farana, 60 miles south of the port of Suez at the southern end of the Suez Canal.

The raid came on the heels of a sea battle in the same general area yesterday. In that engagement, Israel claimed to have sunk two Egyptian torpedo boats. Cairo said one Egyptian boat was hit but not sunk and asserted the Egyptians sank an Israeli vessel.

This was the biggest attack by Israel on any Arab power since the raid into Jordan in March 1968, when Israeli forces hit an Arab commando base at Karameh. This day-long action, also supported by tanks and planes, killed more than 120 guerrillas, the Israelis claimed then.

Some quarters in Tel Aviv thought there might be a connection between the raid on Egyptian army installations and the sea battle yesterday.

Military observers said the strike was aimed at cutting down Egyptian firepower that had been taking an increasing toll of Israeli troops along the Suez Canal. The two sides have the greatest concentration of firepower there since the battle of El Alamein in World War II.

The Israeli spokesman gave no indication if their forces used recently delivered American F4 Phantom jets in the raid.

The Israelis said Egyptian jets and troops made no effort to interfere with the armored raid's progress but one Israeli soldier was later reported wounded.

A spokesman said all Israeli troops returned to their base, complete with their equipment.

In Washington, an Israeli Embassy spokesman summed up the reason for the attack: "I'm sure this is self-evident.

"A very long and bloody row of infringements along the Suez Canal. . . Constant violations by the Egyptian side."

Hurricane Nears Northeast

BOSTON (AP) — Residents of New England's weathered Atlantic shoreline raced against time today to brace themselves for Hurricane Gerda, a fast-moving storm born almost overnight southwest of Cape Hatteras, N. C.

The storm, packing 90 to 100-mile-per-hour winds and churning up 30 to 40-foot seas, was trundling north-northeastward at 40 m.p.h.—unusually fast for a hurricane — and was expected to roar across Cape Cod shortly.

★ ★ ★

The Weather Bureau said Gerda then would plow into eastern Maine during the night.

Its position at 11 a.m. was about 70 miles south of the eastern tip of Long Island, N. Y.

URGENCY FELT

Urgency cloaked eastern New England as the area prepared for the storm. But despite the atmosphere, there remained doubt about whether residents would be ready for the blow.

"It's coming mighty fast," a Weather Bureau official said. "We've only had a few hours. It could be treacherous."

★ ★ ★

So quickly did the storm develop, in fact, that at least 150 fishing boats from southeastern New England ports were reported caught at sea.

A Coast Guard official said most probably would be able to ride out the storm safely.

'IT'LL BE ROUGH'

"But it'll be rough," he added.

Hurricane warnings extended from Block Island, R.I., northward to Eastport, Maine. Gale warnings were up for most of the rest of the Northeast coast.

★ ★ ★

The Weather Bureau warned that flooding was likely along the shoreline, and added that it probably would be "major" on the cape.

Similar warnings were issued for the off-shore summer resort islands of Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket.

At Otis AFB on Cape Cod, crewmen began removing planes at midmorning, flying them to inland havens.

SHIFT SHIPS

And officials at the Newport R.I. Naval Base began shifting the 32 ships at anchor there to safer moorings in a protected channel.

In the dozens of summer resort communities that dot the southeastern Massachusetts shoreline, boatmen struggled to secure their craft against the oncoming storm. Shopkeepers and homeowners boarded windows, and school children were sent home early.

FEAR PROPERTY LOSSES

Hundreds of pleasure craft remained at anchor in these towns, and officials said they feared loss of property would be extensive.

About 100 boats still were in the water at Edgartown, on Martha's Vineyard, and Police Chief Dominick J. Arena said: "We're working like hell to get them buttoned down."

★ ★ ★

In addition, Arena said, a cruiser was notifying residents without telephones of the storm's approach.

Earlier, New York and New Jersey residents were advised by the Weather Bureau to "be prepared to take quick action if this should prove necessary" and Mayor John V. Lindsay ordered New York City officials to "batten down the hatches." All city police units were alerted.

A Chance of Frost Predicted Tonight

A cold front from the Northwest moving into the Pontiac area last night sent temperatures tumbling to a chilly 49 at 7 a.m. today.

★ ★ ★

The weatherman forecasts a low of 40 to 45 tonight, with a chance of light frost in the suburbs.

The prediction for tomorrow is mostly sunny and a little warmer with the high reaching 65 to 70. Sunny and warmer is the outlook for Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The mercury had climbed to 63 by 2 p.m.

Dry-Well Owners to Get Water

Homeowners without water in Waterford and Independence townships were yesterday promised emergency county relief at "considerable cost" but still are threatening legal action.

The Oakland County Public Works Board voted yesterday to provide and connect hoses to some 35 Waterford homes and to truck water to some 40 more in Independence as soon as possible. Waterford connections started this morning.

Dried-up wells near Woodhull Lake, which straddles the two townships, have left many residents without water for weeks.

Owners of the dry wells blame pumping of water from an excavation near Woodhull Lake to permit work on $28-million Clinton-Oakland Interceptor Sewer.

The pumping is lowering the water table below shallow residential wells, explains R. J. Alexander, director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

'WE'RE NOT THROUGH'

"But we're not through yet," commented homeowner spokeswoman Mrs. Frederick Denne, 4785 Sylvester, Waterford Township.

Mrs. Denne, who organized a protest group, indicated continued consideration of legal action by residents.

★ ★ ★

Her group had threatened legal action before being promised help in a meeting with county officials yesterday.

But she hints homeowners are still upset over the inconvenience and over being almost forced into hooking into the Waterford waterline at a cost of $575 plus a plumber's fee.

The new policy adopted by the public works board provides:

WATERLESS WELL ROUTE?—This map shows the path of the $28-million Clinton-Oakland Interceptor Sewer which could dry up wells at several hundred homes nearby, authorities now warn. At least 75 homes already have been affected in the Waterford-Independence township area indicated by the arrow. Temporary relief to waterless well owners is being provided by local governments with county funds. The giant sewer system, 40 miles of pipes up to 66 inches in diameter, is expected to be completed by July 1970. It is designed to abate stream and lake pollution in the east-central part of the county.

Effort to Run Schools During Boycott Set

Although several hundred teachers are threatening to boycott Pontiac Schools tomorrow, the first full day of school this fall, Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said every effort will be made to keep schools open.

★ ★ ★

The planned boycott is a protest of the school board's decision Thursday to appoint Dr. William Edmonds, director of the Virginia State College Graduate School, Petersburg, Va., as new assistant superintendent rather than John F. Perdue, director of school-community and human relations. The teachers support Perdue. Both men are black.

Teachers joining the boycott will lose a day's pay, building and central administrators were told at a meeting yesterday afternoon with Whitmer.

★ ★ ★

Procedures for reporting the number of students, qualified teaching staff and personnel qualified to substitute present at the schools tomorrow, were also outlined at yesterday's meeting.

CLOSING DECISIONS

A decision to close any school will be reached within 30 minutes of a report of personnel available and students present at each school, Assistant Supt. Richard Fell told the administrators.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, a group of about a dozen parents who went to Lansing yesterday to meet with representatives of the Michigan Board of Education said they were "very pleased" with their conference.

They had asked for advice and information concerning "termination of the school board, in light of their insensitivity to community wishes." These parents also supported Perdue for the assistant superintendent post.

★ ★ ★

A recall drive has been underway by Pontiac citizens and teachers since Saturday for the four school board members, Russell Brown, John K. Irwin Jr., Mrs. Lucille Marshall and Mrs. Elsie Mihalek, who voted for Edmonds for the administrative position.

'C5A Will Help U.S. Cut Back Overseas Units'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators backing the Pentagon's request to go ahead with the controversial C5A transport say more of the supercargo planes could enable a cutback in U.S. forces overseas.

Sens. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and Hilton R. Young, R-N.D., said today in prepared speeches that by using the huge transports to boost the nation's airlift capability the number of American troops abroad might be trimmed.

★ ★ ★

The arguments came as the Senate headed toward an expected afternoon vote on Sen. William Proxmire's effort to hold up authority for 23 more C5As pending a General Accounting Office study of the need for the planes.

Proxmire said the review also should delve into the heavily criticized contract under which initial production losses by Lockheed Aircraft Corp. will be made up by the government.

TROOP CUT-FAVORED

Young, senior GOP member of the Appropriations Committee and its defense subcommittee, said he favors a sharp reduction in the U.S. Army in Europe.

"With the capability we will have through the C5A," he said, "we could easily withdraw two or three divisions from Germany." This would be nearly half the U.S. ground force there.

★ ★ ★

Young said most of the increased cost in the C5A—nearly $2 billion since the contract was signed in 1965—is due to inflation, frequent changes in production schedules and improvement "which gives us a better weapons system and should not be considered as a cost increase in the usual sense."

Proxmire has contended that since the 58-plane first run won't be completed until mid-1971, his amendment would not cause any delay.

CUTS FOR JAPAN

With increased airlift capability and the Polaris fleet ballistic missile as a prime deterrent, Symington said, the United States might be able to reduce its Japanese bases.

★ ★ ★

And "There would seem to be little need for the United States to retain Okinawa as a base for B52 operations," he said.

PAUF Begins Advance Drive

The Advance Gifts Division campaign of the Pontiac Area United Fund (PAUF) began this morning with an Arabian-style breakfast sponsored by the Community National Bank.

Richard Fisher, chairman of this year's Advance Gifts Division, said the division has set a goal of $133,582. The over-all campaign goal for this year is $1,240,000.

★ ★ ★

About 100 volunteer solicitors attended the breakfast held in Club Overdraft of Community National Bank where they received campaign kits and instructions from Fisher and suggestions from other campaign officials.

Robert R. Eldred, vice chairman of the board of Community National Bank, presented the first fund contribution to the Advance Gifts Division — a check for $14,863.60 which includes contributions of the firm and employes.

LARGEST IN HISTORY

This year's goal for the PAUF is the largest in the fund's history and a 15 per cent increase over the amount raised last year. The goal last year was $1.13 million.

Vice chairman of the Advance Gifts Division attending the kickoff breakfast included John E. Madole, administrative officer of the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services; Max Kerns, of Huttenlocher, Kerns, Norvel, Inc.; Harold Newhouser, a vice president of Community National Bank; William Allen, installation foreman of Pontiac Michigan Bell Telephone Co.; and Edgar Swift, marketing superintendent of Pontiac Consumers Power.

This year's PAUF campaign is scheduled to run from Oct. 4 to Nov. 7.

Priority Issues Wait Nixon's Attention

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is back in Washington where the list of problems, issues and priorities did not diminish during his month long California working vacation.

The programs the President has offered to the Congress remain stalled and could benefit from his personal quarterbacking. His welfare, post office and crime packages have yet to go before committee.

While administration men have hinted at progress in Vietnam the President's next public decision may very well concern the dimensions of the next troop withdrawal from the war zone.

There will be presidential interest in Senate action on his appointment to the Supreme Court, Clement Haynsworth, and selection of a permanent successor to the late Everett M. Dirksen as GOP minority leader in the Senate. Nixon is reported to favor a more conservative choice than Senate GOP Whip Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania who is temporarily serving in the post.

The President returned to the capital last night after stops for dedication ceremonies of a new dam on the Rio Grande near Del Rio, Tex., and a firsthand look at the hurricane-ravaged Gulf Coast.

Nixon compared the damage of hurricane Camille to the bombed out towns of WWII Europe. "As I flew over the damage of Mississippi I could see that the facts given me could not adequately state the damage," Nixon told a crowd at Gulfport.

"I haven't seen anything like this since visiting Essen, Germany, in 1947," Nixon said, shaking his head in disbelief.

At Amistad Nixon and Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz unveiled a monument and threw their arms around each other in the traditional South of the Border "abrazo."

GOLFING AFTERNOONS

In California the President usually spent mornings at his desk at his San Clemente headquarters, adjourning for afternoons in the sun and at the golf course.

Nixon also threw state dinners for the Apollo 11 astronauts, visiting Republic of Korea President Chung Hee Park, had a birthday party for former President Lyndon B. Johnson, dedicated a grove of California redwoods to former first lady Mrs. Johnson, and addressed the National Governor's Conference at Colorado Springs.

TV PERSONALITY DIES — Bud Collyer, a show business veteran who survived the decline of radio to become a widely known television master of ceremonies, died last night in a Greenwich, Conn., hospital at 61. He had been ill with a blood circulation ailment. Collyer hosted such TV shows as "To Tell the Truth," "Winner Take All," "Break the Bank," and "Beat the Clock." On radio from 1938 to 1952, he played Clark Kent and Superman.

Building-Revamp Pact Let

BIRMINGHAM — The Wake-Pratt Construction Co. of Troy has been awarded the contract for remodeling the municipal building.

At $28,100 Wake-Pratt was the lowest of six bidders.

* * *

The remodeling consists of building an attic over the police garage for records storage, developing the former recreation office on the first floor into a conference room, and relocating the employe lounge to the room in the southwest corner of the basement.

A Red Cross bloodmobile will be at The Holy Name School, 680 Harmon, from 3-9 p.m. Sept. 22. The mobile will be set up in the cafeteria.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — J. Paul Bergmoser, of 1436 Kirkway has been named group chairman for general manufacturing in Detroit's annual United Foundation Torch Drive.

Gwain H. Gillespie of 28175 W. 13 Mile, Franklin, will be the metropolitan business group chairman, while Stanley J. Chalmers of 1051 Norfolk has been appointed section chairman in metropolitan business group.

* * *

Lyman Kau, 6231 Indianwood, will direct neighborhood business campaigns in Troy, Clawson and parts of Birmingham.

This year's goal of $28.9 million, a 5.2 per cent increase over last year's figure of $27.5 million is the highest in the fund drive's history.

* * *

The UF Torch Drive campaign is scheduled for Oct. 14-Nov. 6. The funds will underwrite next year's operating costs for nearly 200 health and community services in the tri-county metropolitan area.

James D. Smith, 7493 Cornwall Court, has received an advisor award for guiding his Junior Achievement company, Sprint, to the "company of the year" award in Southeastern Michigan.

Smith has been a volunteer advisor for the past five years.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The problems and promises of mass transit will be scrutinized in a series of photographic panels and models beginning Sept. 23 at the Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries.

The exhibition, organized by the Walker Art Center, is the season's first at the academy. It will run through Oct. 19.

Yanks Are Following Red Lead on Truce

SAIGON (AP) — American forces probably will continue to curtail their offensive operations if the Vietcong and North Vietnamese maintain their present low level of activity after the truce for the funeral of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh ends Thursday, U.S. sources said today.

"We want to keep the negotiating door open," said one ranking officer. "We're not looking for fights."

Only light action was reported across South Vietnam today in the second day of the truce. But U.S. officials considered it most unlikely that the enemy would continue the cease-fire long after the announced expiration time.

Since Ho's death last Wednesday, Râdio Hanoi and the Vietcong Radio have exhorted his followers repeatedly to keep up the fight until U.S. forces are driven from Vietnam and the Saigon regime is crushed.

Ho's will, read today at a memorial service in Hanoi, called on the people to "fight on until complete victory over the U.S. aggressions," something Ho said might take a "prolonged time and require still more sacrifices in manpower and property."

Reports from the field said some South Vietnamese troops were still conducting offensive sweeps.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu had announced on Sunday that his army would not observe the cease-fire, but U.S. officials prevailed on him yesterday to join in an undeclared truce. The American and South Vietnamese commands said in a joint communique that their military operations would be scaled in accordance with the enemy's.

A spokesman for the U.S. Command said the level of enemy activity was "about the same" as in previous cease-fire periods.

Thai Pullout Talks Begin

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — High ranking U.S. and Thai military officers began talks today which will decide how many U.S. troops can be withdrawn from Thailand.

The talks were attended by U.S. military assistance commander, Maj. Gen. Louis T. Seith and Gen. Sukarit Maiyalab, Thai army chief of staff.

They followed an initial meeting between Thai Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman and U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger a week ago.

Official sources said the two generals discussed the mechanics of withdrawing part of the 49,000 man U.S. force in Thailand.

They considered which units in the 12,000 man U.S. Army contingent could be taken out without affecting the performance of the 36,000 U.S. Air Force men stationed in Thailand.

The Army units are mainly troops supporting the Air Force, which is engaged in bombing raids on Vietnam and Laos.

Charter Election Up to Governer

The question of an election on a charter amendment to change the method of electing city commissioners will be sent to the state governor's office, the City Commission ruled unanimously at last night's meeting.

The amendment was proposed in a petition drive by the Pontiac Council of Concerned Citizens (PCCC) in which 7,885 signatures were gathered.

* * *

City Clerk Olga Barkeley reported that more than a sufficient number were valid (6,442 were needed, 20 per cent of city voters).

The issue must go to the governor to assure that the wording of the questions on the ballot conforms with state law.

DECEMBER VOTE

The commission is required to call the election between Dec. 12 and Dec. 22 if there are no legal barriers.

The PCCC is seeking to provide for election of the seven commissioners by district only — the system in effect before 1964. The question also seeks to lower the age requirement for commissioners to 25 and residency requirement to one year (now 30 and five).

* * *

If voters approved the change, the city will have to be redistricted according to one-man, one-vote requirement of recent state laws.

Some of the districts have over twice as many registered voters as others. The disparity has grown since the districts were formed in 1921.

Finch OKs Health Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heavy emphasis is placed on medical services for the poor, youngsters and expectant mothers in the five-year federal health plan drawn by the Nixon administration.

Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Finch has approved the plan, it was learned yesterday, but no dollar cost for it has been set. Only a modest growth in federal health outlays is contemplated.

Rogers Viet Hopes Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers has added another optimistic statement for the course of the war in Vietnam.

Rogers, speaking yesterday on the 15th anniversary of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, said, "We do see progress on the road to peace."

2 County Committees' Split May Stall '70 Budget OK

Dissension between two committees of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors may delay adoption of the proposed 1970 county budget.

The $30.3-million budget—of which $14 million is devoted to salaries—is due for public hearing and consideration by the full board Oct. 2 at 9:30 a.m.

* * *

Recommendations regarding salary increases have reached what appears to be an impasse between the personnel practices and finance committees.

The personnel unit has agreed to meet with the finance committee for one further salary review next Tuesday at 1 p.m. Personnel practices chairman William L. Mainland, D-Milford, said his committee would host the session prior to a regular finance meeting at 2:30 p.m. the same day.

2 PCT. PARING

Finance has returned the salary package (allowing an average 10 per cent increase for all county employes) to personnel practices with the request that proposed increases be pared to 8 per cent. The committee has asked that a further $175,000 be knocked off the increase package.

Mainland yesterday criticized the "bellicose attitude" of Finance Chairmand George Grba, D-Pontiac, and what he called violation of area of finance committee responsibility.

* * *

Mainland claimed personality differences were involved in the recommendations made by the finance committee. The committee reportedly had discussed cuts in the corporation counsel's office and increases for new Democratic prosecutor Thomas plunkett.

The five attorneys in the corporation counsel's office now are slated for $2,000 increases each. Plunkett, proposed by Grba for a $30,000 salary, is scheduled to get $26,000.

'THEY'RE NECESSARY'

The proposed raises, which some committee members and administrators privately admit are higher than those in private industry, were explained as necessary by Mainland as follows:

- The general inflation spiral.
- The shortage of well-trained and qualified employes.
- The effects of collective bargaining, which will determine raises for some 425 county employes.
- The growth in size and complexity of county government.

* * *

Mainland reported that the raises proposed by his committee amount to $812,832. Ranging from $500 to $3,000, they will benefit some 1,400 of the county's 1,800 employes.

Mine Reopening OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Mines has approved plans of the Consolidation Coal Co. for the initial unsealing of its No. 9 mine near Farmington, W. Va., where 79 men died last November.

No date was set in the announcement yesterday.

Dry-Well Homes Will Get Water

- For Waterford residents, that the county will assist the township and pay the costs of extending the main waterlines under streets to property lines. Homeowners would then run hoses above ground to water intake pipes.
- For Independence residents, that the county will provide water tank trucks because there are no mains.

UNTIL IT'S DONE

The county will supply water until the project is finished in the affected area, which could be up to three months from now, Alexander said.

Despite objections of two board members, George N. Grba and Harry W. Horton, the Waterford proposal passed 5 to 2. The Independence motion passed 6-0, with member Delos Hamlin not voting because he had left for another meeting.

* * *

Grba and Horton feared legal complications, too many taking advantage of the ruling, high cost, and health problems.

State Rep. Loren D. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, said at the meeting he would assume the state health department would not object because Anderson says the area could be called a disaster area.

Anderson said he has appealed to the governor's office to ask state civil defense and National Guard officials to supply a water truck for Independence Township.

County Drain Commissioner and board member Daniel Barry was a prime mover in offering county assistance, which he had promised residents as early as Saturday.

* * *

Meanwhile, Independence Township Clerk George Altman plans immediately to explore possibilities of installing a temporary waterline.

Altman said several alternate suggestions were aired at a special township board meeting last night.

The clerk urged residents who are without water to notify the township office at once.

County Charged $175 a Week

Family of 8 Crammed Into Motel Room

By JEAN SAILE

Mrs. Deloris Black, 33, lives in limbo — an expensive limbo, some would say.

But unless she finds a house soon, she is apt to be separated from the seven children who share her quarters. Foster homes would be cheaper.

* * *

An eighth child, 6-year-old Eugene, lies in Pontiac General Hospital, a victim of reportedly incurable sickle cell anemia. He is frequently hospitalized.

The mother and her children, the oldest 14, currently share one large room and bath at the Sagamore Motel, 789 Woodward. The motel charges the county $175 a week.

3 BEDS IN ROOM

The room contains two double beds, a single bed, two chairs and a much-used television set.

Traffic roars by outside on Woodward Avenue as the children gather round their only source of entertainment.

* * *

"It's the only thing they've got to do," said their mother, who is in the process of obtaining a divorce from the children's father. A former nurse's aide, she now obtains help from Aid to Dependent Children.

The family was evicted from a condemned house on Jessie Street two weeks ago. Since then, because the motel room lacks kitchen facilities, the family has had to get its meals at restaurants.

BILL FOR 2 WEEKS

As of Friday a bill for $259 covering two weeks had been charged at Ricky's Pizza House, 819 Woodward.

Both the motel and restaurant bills are being paid by tax money.

* * *

"It should be better as the kids start school," Mrs. Black said. She intended they walk back to Wilson Elementary and Eastern Junior High School beginning yesterday. Those are the schools they attended last year.

What they do for breakfast is a puzzler. Ricky's restaurant doesn't open until 10 a.m., Mrs. Black said. She'd like to be able to cook them breakfast.

EVERYONE'S OUT

The accommodations for the family are the best that social workers in the County Social Services Department could find.

"We've got everyone out house hunting for them," said Ora Hinckley, director. "Not everyone wants to rent to someone with eight children and at a price that can be afforded.

* * *

"I hope the house they find is warm," said Mrs. Black. "Eugene is cold all the time. Last year I had to keep the thermostat set at 90 degrees and I still owe $60 on my oil bill."

CRAMPED CONDITIONS

She allowed that after the cramped conditions the family has endured the past two weeks she'd like a four- or five-bedroom house.

Mrs. Black sounds like she'd be happier if she were in a position to help pay for it.

* * *

"Before my husband and I separated I always worked," said the woman whose youngest baby is 15-month-old Leslie.

"I'd rather work. Just sitting here waiting for the 1st and 16th of the month and the checks to come in isn't good."

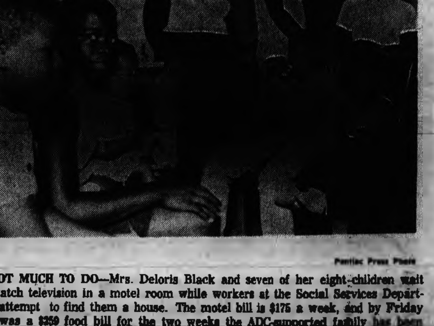
COSTS TOO MUCH

The reason Mrs. Black says she isn't working now is that it costs more to pay a babysitter than she can make. A part-time job after school when the older children arrive home would be considered, but it's got to have good transportation. She has no car.

Mrs. Black had another responsibility thrust on her shoulders, Friday. Because her brother's wife had been taken to the hospital that morning, she was caring for an additional child.

* * *

As a mother she drew praise from the restaurant owner. "Those kids are well behaved," he said.



Pontiac Press Photo

NOT MUCH TO DO—Mrs. Deloris Black and seven of her eight children wait and watch television in a motel room while workers at the Social Services Department attempt to find them a house. The motel bill is $175 a week, and by Friday there was a $259 food bill for the two weeks the ADC-supported family has been displaced. The family's former rented home was condemned.

Citizen Complains on Weed-Cutting

"What the city makes the citizens do, it won't do on its own property," an angry resident told the City Commission last night.

Raymond Clark of 921 Northfield complained of being billed for weed-cutting while city-owned propeerty adjacent to his remained uncut.

* * *

He also complained about a bill of $9 for cutting a thin strip of weeds. "I'll do it myself at half that price and still make money," Clark said.

Describing himself as a builder and contractor, he said he also objected to conditions near property he owns at Manhattan and Scottwood.

'MAINTAINING A DUMP'

He charged the city was maintaining a dump on city property north of his property across from Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

The city has used the low-lying portions to dispose of fill material and will eventually have the area filled in and surfaced, city officials explained.

* * *

Last night's meeting was scheduled and held one day early to allow commissioners to attend the Michigan Municipal League annual convention being held this week in Grand Rapids.

In other business the commission amended an ordinance to provide guidelines for fences in the city.

REPROCESSING

The amendment required reprocessing the originally proposed ordinance and the revision passed first reading. The amendment added rear and side fencing rules to the original document which only concerned front fencing.

Without the details codified, residents were required to get permission from the planning commission and pay a fee in each case.

* * *

Second reading and public hearings are to be scheduled later.

The Commission also:

● Delayed for one week consideration of sidewalks on the east side of Joslyn north of Walton. Department of Public Works' recommendation is for construction of a permanent walk for one block north and temporary walks for two blocks farther. the area is considered dangerous for children crossing the street.

* * *

● Heard estimated cost of $13,000 for a proposed sanitary sewer installation on the north side of Walton from Stirling to 250 feet west of Arlene. Benefiting property owners are to share $4,800 in assessments. Public hearing on necessity was set for 8 p.m., Sept. 23.

● Deferred for one week consideration of three items all concerned with construction of a gas station for the southwest corner of Perry and Glenwood. A rezoning from light to heavy commercial, vacating of a portion of a street and a land transfer are all involved and each issue had the approval of the planning commission.

* * *

● Set two public hearings: Oct. 14 for vacating part of Diston Street and parts of the alley west of Bagley located on property on which Harambee, Inc., plans a housing development; for Sept. 30 on rezoning from light to heavy commercial 140 feet on the north side of Perry west of Perry Plaza to provide for a drive-in restaurant.

Sanitary Sewer Service Expected to Cost More

The cost of sanitary sewer service in Pontiac will very likely be higher next year, it was revealed at last night's City Commission meeting .

* * *

The commission voted to hire the accounting firm of Jones and Henry to study if and how much the increase should be. The firm is to do the work at no more than a $7,000 fee.

Though no city officials were prepared to state definitely that the rates would have to go up, it was pointed out the service was operating at a deficit figure.

* * *

In the Financial Report of the City for 1968, the sewer system was shown operation at a loss of $172,000, though revenues were over $840,000. Present rates were set in 1953.

Back Charity Bills--Kelley

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has asked Michigan's senators to support pending federal legislation dealing with charitable trusts and corporations.

In letters to Democratic Sen. Philip A. Hart and Republican Sen. Robert Griffin, Kelley said:

"This measure, or equivalent legislation, will provide much needed assistance to the attorneys general of all the states in their supervision of the administration of charitable trusts and charitable corporations."

The pending measure would require the Treasury Department to notify the appropriate state official, ordinarily the attorney general, of the revocation of federal tax exemption granted to any charitable organization, Kelley explained.

Welfare Unit May Reopen

DETROIT (UPI) — Welfare officials hoped to reopen the Wayne County Department of Social Services today after a three-day shutdown by officials fed up with "harassment" by welfare mothers demanding more money to clothe their children.

* * *

Police were expected to stand by at the near-downtown headquarters of the welfare office which serves sprawling Wayne County, including Detroit.

* * *

Sixty-three adults and 34 juveniles were taken into custody and then released in four straight days of demonstrations by the mothers before Robert H. Harkness, a member of the three-man Wayne County Board of Social Services ordered the shutdown.

LONNIE L. BONE

Area Scout, 16, Is Council Pick

Lonnie L. Bone, 16, of 1634 Inverness, Sylvan Lake, has been selected to represent the Clinton Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, in the annual Boy Scout "Report to the Nation" program sponsored by the National Boy Scout Council.

Each of the 12 regions in the country will name one winner from the outstanding nominees from local councils within the region. The 12-scout delegation will participate in Boy Scout Week activities in New York City and Washington, D. C., in February.

Nominees who are not selected as regional winners will receive national recognition and will participate in the report to the governor ceremonies in Lansing during Boy Scout Week.

The local council is in region seven, comprising Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

TROOP 9 MEMBER

Lonnie is a member of Troop 9, sponsored by First United Methodist Church, Pontiac. He is a senior at Pontiac Central High School.

Ford, 2 Italian Firms Agree to Swap Services

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. announced Monday it has reached agreement with two Italian auto firms for an exchange of technical services and described the firms as "uniquely equipped to design and manufacture automobiles for today's low volume, prestige car market."

* * *

The two Italian firms are Ghia Studios of Turin and De Tomaso Automobil of Moderna, who Ford also said are "in a position to test advanced design concepts."

* * *

"It is contemplated," the announcement continued, "that Ghia-De Tomaso will build a number of Ford engineering prototypes, show cars and limited-built specialty vehicles.

* * *

"The opportunity to train Ford personnel in the Ghia-De Tomaso facilities is a major part of the agreement. It will be possible for trainees to study basic design on a project and follow it through engineering and assembly to the finished products."

* * *

Ghia Studios, headed by Allesandro De Tomaso, is a design studio and custom coach builder. De Tomaso Automobil manufactures sports and racing cars in limited numbers.

Farmington Twp. Officer to Be Charged

Technicality Holding Up Brutality Warrant

By LOIS FRIEDLAND

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The arraignment of the president of the Farmington Police Officers Association, charged yesterday with assault and battery against an auto theft suspect, has been delayed by a technicality.

FRIEDLAND

The warrant against Patrolman John Hedrick, 32, was authorized by Oakland County Prosecutor Thomas G. Plunkett, but the actual issuance was held up pending a request from District Court Judge Michael J. Hand that he be removed from the case.

★ ★ ★

Hand could not be reached for comment. He apparently had made the request because of an apparent conflict, according to Plunkett.

The request is pending and the Michigan Supreme Court should assign another judge soon.

SIGNATURE NEEDED

The judge must sign the warrant to make it effective; a prosecutor can only authorize a request for the judge to sign.

Hedrick's attorney, Noel Gage, said, "We appeared voluntarily yesterday after being notified by the prosecutor's office that a warrant was issued (against Hedrick). In fact, a warrant was not formally issued; it was merely authorized by the prosecutor's office but upon appearing late in the morning we found that no judge had countersigned the request for a warrant and there was no complainant."

★ ★ ★

Plunkett indicated that the case was unusual but that a signed warrant should be coming shortly.

Apparently, the prosecutor's office notified Judge Hand and Gage about the impending warrant on Sunday. Plunkett announced authorization of the warrant in a press conference yesterday morning — before Hand contacted him about the request.

The warrant charges Hedrick with a blackjack beating of John VonSouers, 21, of Plymouth.

PUNCTURED EARDRUM

VonSouers reportedly suffered a punctured eardrum in the alleged beating, after his arrest by Hedrick Sept. 9, 1968.

When asked about the incident by The Pontiac Press, VonSouers said he "didn't remember it too well." He also said he had not pursued the incident further, although he admitted that the FBI and the township police had asked him for statements.

★ ★ ★

The brutality which allegedly occurred when VonSouers was arrested on a charge of "unlawfully taking and using an automobile," never was mentioned at his trial.

VonSouers pleaded guilty to the charge and is on two years of probation.

2-MONTH PROBE

The charge against Hedrick caps a two month investigation of six different charges of "excessive and unlawful force" leveled against Hedrick and another township officer, Peter Larion.

Larion was "perfectly and completely" cleared of all allegations, Plunkett announced.

SEPARATE PROBES

Individual investigations of the brutality charges were conducted by the FBI and the prosecutor's office, in conjunction with the Township Police Department and the Farmington City Police Department.

The warrant request came after an inconclusive trial board hearing for Detective Sgt. Earl Teeples, a township policeman who accused Hedrick and Larion of brutality against a prisoner.

★ ★ ★

Teeples was suspended for talking to the prosecutor's office about the incident and eventually reinstated by the appeal board, a subcommittee of the township board.

Teeples had been charged with several counts of vilioating a police code of conduct created several months after the incident occurred. Despite clearance by the appeal board, Teeples was voted out of membership in the Farmington Police Officers Association for allegedly violating these same rules.

★ ★ ★

Hedrick, Township Supervisor Curtis Hall and Police Chief Irving Yakes are named in a $75,000 suit filed by Walter Vetowich of Farmington Township. Vetowich claims that Hedrick choked him after arresting him on a traffic violation.

To Put Issue on Ballot

Parochiaid Foes Set Drive

LANSING (AP) — Antiparochiaid forces are launching what they call a "public opinion petition drive" aimed at putting the question of state aid to nonpublic schools before the voters next year.

"This is not a legal petition," explained Mrs. Harriett Phillips, chairman of the council opposing parochiaid. "We're just asking the legislators to put the question on the ballot as a referendum."

★ ★ ★

Petitions, mailed out last week to interested member organizations, also include the statement that signers oppose parochiaid, she noted. Mrs. Phillips said the council includes several organizations that have taken official positions against the controversial proposal to give state funds to nonpublic schools.

Mrs. Phillips' list of council members included: The Michigan Association of School Boards, Michigan Education Association, Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Committee to Aid Public Education, American Civil Liberties Union and state groups for elementary school principals, school administrators and secondary school principals.

OTHER MEMBERS

Also listed as council members were the Michigan Unitarian Church, Michigan Council of Churches, Michigan Association of Professor and Educational Administrators, American Jewish Congress and the Jewish Community Council.

Meanwhile, a Sepublican state senator, opposed to parochiaid, told Gov. William Milliken that if his education reform proposals included provisions for state aid to nonpublic schools, those schools should be required to submit "full financial and budget reports to the state department of education and the legislative appropriations committees."

"It would be incongrous to appropriate public funds without the same line item and budgetary detail the public agencies supply," Sen. Gilbert Bursley of Ann Arbor said in a letter to the governor.

Bursley also called on the governor to stipulate — if parochiad is a proposal—that teachers of secular subjects in nonpublic schools whose services might be purchased by public employes and not employes of a religious body."

Man Is Arraigned in Break-In Case

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A Farmington Township man was arraigned yesterday in District Court on a charge of breaking and entering a model home at 5356 West Bloomfield Lake.

Standing mute on the charge was Clifford R. McCourt, 24, of 3325 Freedom, police said. Examination was set for 8:30 a.m. Sept. 16 in the court of Judge Alice Gilbert.

★ ★ ★

Bond was set at $1,000 on the breaking and entering charge and on a related charge of carrying a concealed weapon bond was set at $500.

McCourt was arrested at the home at 3:15 a.m. yesterday. West Bloomfield police said the suspect had furniture from the home in his car.

Young Republicans to Hear Legislator

State Rep. William P. Hampton, R-Bloomfield Hills, is scheduled to talk on GOP programs in the Legislature before Oakland County Young Republicans tonight.

Hampton, 31, is being mentioned as a possible candidate for lieutenant governor next year.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. in the Belanger House, 12 Mile and Main, Royal Oak, and is open to the public.

COMMUNITY CENTER OPENS—The Farmington Community Center opened this week for meetings and classes. The schedule for classes is still being finalized, but temporary hours are from 9:30 a.m. through the evening, if people request. Special events may be scheduled on weekends. Farmington area residents' donations helped build the center and support its staff, according to Executive Director Mrs. John S. Taylor.

Avon Deadline Set for Absentee Vote

AVON TOWNSHIP — Saturday, Sept. 13 is the deadline for obtaining absentee ballots for the Sept. 16 special election for a new charter commission.

The nine-member commission, if elected, will draft a charter for the proposed City of Rochester Hills.

The last commission election was defeated by voters March 10.

Mustache Firing

ACLU Weighs Troy Case

TROY—The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) meets tonight in downtown Detroit to consider action to aid David Garrett, the Troy engineering assistant fired last week for refusing to cut off his Fu Manchu mustache and sideburns.

GARRETT

Garrett, 25, a 1½-year employe of Troy's Department of Public Works (DPW), was dismissed last Thursday by Assistant City Manager Patrick Hynes.

★ ★ ★

Garrett had earlier been warned by his supervisor—DPW Director Richard Graham—that his mustache presented an "unreasonable appearance" and that it "attracted stares."

Expected to team up with the ACLU —if the civil rights organization decides to take the case—is Garrett's union, Local 574 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO.

★ ★ ★

Garrett, who spent three years in the U.S. Marine Corps, is a junior in Wayne State University's night school, majoring in fine arts. A fairly successful part-time artist while employed with the Troy DPW, Garrett has become a full-time artist.

Hynes, who fired Garrett, and Graham, who threatened the firing, said the city's two-month-old "appearance code" upholds their actions. The code is a vaguely worded ruling that Garrett contends "is not part of our (union) contract."

Mike McKinley And Woodward Paving Gear

Pontiac Township Man Reminisces

He Enjoys Remembering When

. . . He Built Himself An Outhouse In The Backyard. 'I Even Hung Up A Sears And Roebuck Catalogue Just To Make It Authentic'— Mike McKinley

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — If there is one thing that Mike McKinley will never forget, it's self-reliance.

McKinley, 73, is the type of man every child would like to have as his grandfather. He can tell tales and relate adventures of yesteryear with appreciation for the teller and listener as well.

★ ★ ★

Retired now, McKinley will tell how he drove a team of horses on a Woodward paving project in Birmingham right after the First World War. He even kept the entire set of horse gear to prove it.

★ ★ ★

He has lived at 242 Grey for "close to 45 years now." But he still remembers life as a boy on his father's 120-acre farm in Southfield.

LOTS OF MEMORABILIA

He has a lot of memorabilia from those days: the carpet stretcher and his grandfather's boot jack, a 30-gallon iron pot they used to kill and clean the hogs in and the cowbells and fence stretchers that were all part of farm life.

His wooden grain rake is still in good repair and every so often he oils the buggy wrench that used to be so essential.

★ ★ ★

McKinley enlisted in the Army at the start of WWI. He has bittersweet memories of his service days. "When I was in," He said, "They thought more of the mules than they did the men."

He talked about the time he leveled his top sergeant for making a remark about him being a farmer. "But I had a good major," he said, "and another officer told him that I was a damn good farmer." Nothing more was said about the fight.

TRIPS TO DETROIT

After the war he worked the farm for a few years. He used to go to Detroit every Monday to the Stroh's brewery and buy brewery grain to feed the cattle. With two horses and the "lumber wagon" he could bring back enough to feed 20 cows all week.

He moved to his home in Pontiac Township in 1924. He worked at the nearby Auburn Heights Coal and Lumber yard. "I did everything there was to be done," he said. For many years he drove the trucks. His pay was $18 for a 60-to-80-hour week.

★ ★ ★

McKinley knows township history quite well — but he's not talking. "Why if I wanted to I could tell you where all the bootleggers are within 50 miles," he said, "but I don't want to get in trouble with all the politicians, crooks and liars."

The one thing that bothers him most since his retirement seven years ago is that he doesn't recognize all the old county landmarks, like the large farms and the big red barns that used to tell you what area you were in. "They're mostly houses now," he said, "I'm just lost when I go out anymore."

HUMOR IN FINE FORM

McKinley may be a little crusty, but his humor is in fine form. Just a little while back he built himself an outhouse in the backyard. "I even hung up a Sears and Roebuck catalogue just to make it authentic," he quipped.

Though he doesn't get around as fast as he used to, McKinley still keeps active. He does all his own gardening and housework and said someone just asked him to help put up a fence. "Why I could work every day if I wanted to. There's always jobs to be had if you're not too fussy about working," he declared.

★ ★ ★

Every couple of months he polishes up the brass on his full double harness and oils the celluloid rings and the old black, snake whip he used to have for his horse team. "It's not that I collect all this old stuff," he said. "It's just that I never get around to getting rid of it."

His philosophy is simple and straightforward: "It's a great life if you don't weaken."

For Mike McKinley, time has only slowed him down a little. He hasn't yet and he's not about to forget the active life he's always lived.

They 'Weight' to Kick Habit

Town's Ex-Smokers Have Hefty Problem

GREENFIELD, Iowa (UPI)—Greenfield's contingent of ex-smokers, who kicked the nicotine habit in a community effort one month ago, report a new problem—they are getting fat.

Douglas Devault, one of the small central Iowa community's 353 confirmed smokers who has pledged to go without cigarettes for a month, said, "I think I feel better now because I don't cough every morning, but I've gained 20 pounds."

★ ★

Greenfield got the idea of giving up smoking en masse after the community was chosen as one of the locations for filming a movie about a town that gets a $25-million prize if all the residents forsake the nicotine habit. Greenfield residents set a goal of one month without a drag, and the month ended today.

★ ★ ★

Despite the efforts of two-pack-a-day smokers like Devault, reports by town merchants said cigarette sales returned to normal after the first week of the campaign. Some said, however, that many of the sales were to tourists who came to look at a community where smoking is a social taboo.

SOME ABSTAIN

The antismoking arguments had little effect on some residents though.

One middleaged man who was strolling across the town square puffing on a cigarette, said he refused to go "cold turkey" with the rest of the town for fear of the weight problem.

★ ★ ★

He said he had quit four times times before and his weight had jumped from 200 to 280 pounds. And after quitting the first time, he said, he had a heart attack.

"I can stand these cigarettes a lot better than a heart attack," he said.

Red Rift Hits a New Level of Hostility

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. officials say the split between Moscow and Peking has reached a new level of hostility: Each government is now exhorting the people of the other nation to revolt against their rulers.

The direct and subversive type of appeal is being broadcast by radio and carried on Soviet and Chinese news agencies, the officials said.

★ ★ ★

The broadcasts, from both Moscow and Peking, were first monitored at the end of last month.

Officials cited, in particular, a commentary issued by the Communist Chinese News Agency Aug. 25 on its internation service.

'CRIMINAL POLICY'

The article accused the Soviet leadership of conducting a policy which it described as "the criminal rule of revisionism."

The article expressed conviction that the Soviet people would rise up to overthrow Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev.

★ ★ ★

From Moscow, analysts here cited a broadcast by Moscow Radio Aug. 21, which commented on the continuing incidents along the 4,000 mile Sino-Soviet border. The broadcast, in Chinese, was directed at Chinese border troops.

★ ★ ★

"Wouldn't it be better for you to use your automatic rifles to punish those who provoke these conflicts, that is Mao Tse-Tung and his underlings, instead of firing them at Soviet soldiers?" the broadcast said.

'NONMEETING'

Another measure of the Sino-Soviet hostility was the "nonmeeting" between leaders of the two nations after the death last week of North Vietnamese leader Ho Chi Minh.

Chinese Premier Chou En-lai flew to Hanoi for a brief tribute to Ho but left before the funeral itself, apparently to avoid meeting Kosygin.

★ ★ ★

High-level Nixon administration officials, including Secretary of State William P. Rogers, do not discount the danger of an armed clash between the two Communist nations. But they also expressed the view the United States should remain neutral and avoid any meddling in the intra-Communist dispute.

RECENTLY FORMED — A new get-acquainted club is the nucleus of activity at Independence Square Apartments. The members meet weekly in the community house. Discussing arts and crafts they enjoy are (from left) Mrs. John Mason, Mrs. Robert C. Burnes, Mrs. George L. Hawn, Mrs. Mayme Bachelor and Mrs. Charles Hadden.

It's an Adult Way of Life

By BARBARA GRIBBON

An adult-oriented way of life prevails at Independence Square Apartments on Dixie Highway in Independence Township. The apartments, built in the Colonial tradition around a community green, have hundreds of feet of frontage on Van Norman Lake, which provides swimming, boating and a beautiful view.

A community house has card rooms, kitchen and large living room for social activities.

Adults only is the rule at Independence Square Apartments but grandchildren and friends can visit anytime.

A group of ladies recently formed a get-acquainted club there. They hope it will grow to include couples and men who are busy during the day but would like to meet in the evenings.

MRS. JO PAUL

A most popular activity is oil painting which many members are taking up with the aid of the founder, Mrs. Jo Paul.

Mrs. Paul, who has five children, 17 grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren, counts oil painting, crocheting and card playing among her hobbies. Her paintings have been exhibited at Grosse Pointe, the Pontiac Mall and Detroit. She felt a need for the women to have some social and special-interest group. A few notices posted in the various buildings were all it took to get the group underway.

MRS. BESSIE DEO

Mrs. Bessy Deo is the senior member of the group at 82. She and her late husband, Clyde, were original members of the Oakland Sportsman's Club. She still attends the United Presbyterian Church of Drayton Plains. At one time, Mrs. Deo was supervisor of the dining room at the GM Truck & Coach facility.

Her younger years were spent on the stage with the Robert B. Mantell Shakespearean Co. and the Farce Comedy, a Selwyn Company which performed at Shubert theaters all across the country as well as in New York. Mrs. Deo counts among her friends some of the grand ladies of the theater, including Ruth Gordon with whom she performed in "Fair and Warmer" from 1916 to 1919.

A lovely patchwork her mother made includes a piece from her mother's wedding dress, embroidered with 1879 — the year it was made. She'd like to find a group of ladies who quilt to assemble the patches into a finished quilt.

THE CHARLES HADDENS

Mrs. Charles Hadden and her husband, who owns Terry Machine Co. on Dixie, have a son Charles Jr., who attends Ferris State College, two married children and three grandchildren. They have a pontoon boat on the lake. Dad likes to bowl and play golf. Knitting and sewing are prime interests with Mrs. Hadden.

THE GEORGE HAWNS

The George L. Hawns have three married daughters with three children among them.

Hawn is a department manager with Federal Department Stores. Fishing and hunting are this couple's main pastimes, with mom the real fisherman in the family. She also enjoys a variety of crafts including folk art, rug hooking and painting.

MRS. HAROLD McDONNELL

Mrs. Harold McDonnell is a former nurse. She's active in All Saints Episcopal Church in Pontiac and does needle point, which she often uses to cover chairs she refinishes.

MRS. MAYME BACHELOR

Mrs. Mayme Bachelor has three children and five grandchildren. Her youngest daughter, Janet is a teacher at Mott High School in Waterford. The Bachelors owned a party store in Drayton for many years. Painting is a new hobby with Mrs. Bachelor, who already has completed one oil. She belongs to the United Prebyterian Church in Drayton Plains.

THE DAVID WILLSONS

Mr. and Mrs. David Willson — he's sales manager at Shelton Pontiac-Buick in Rochester — have a married son, two grandsons and a daughter, Diana, who is a key punch operator. Dad golfs and fishes. Mom enjoys crafts including sewing and making Christmas decorations. She is taking up painting and looks forward to learning a number of new crafts.

MRS. MILDRED KINGSBURY

Volunteer work is the prime interest of Mrs. Mildred Kingsbury. Her family consists of two married children and two grandchildren, one of whom is in the Army in Vietnam.

A Red Cross field worker for many years, she now works at the Red Cross Blood Bank. She's also a volunteer at the gift shop at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac and has been active in the Michigan Cancer Foundation for 15 years. She belongs to St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Waterford.

MRS. GERTRUDE KETCHUM

Mrs. Gertrude Ketchum has a married son with five children. Fishing is one of her main interests, along with entertaining her grandchildren who visit often. She's also taking up crafts. She belongs to the First Presbyterian Church in Drayton Plains.

THE ROBERT BURNES

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burnes have three children in college. One daughter, Julie, is a graduate social worker in Mount Clemens.

Burnes is the manager of Inch Memorials in Pontiac. He and his wife travel to Mexico and have compiled a program of slides with commentary and musical background to show to church and other groups in the area. They are active in St. Luke's Methodist Church in Rochester, where they do a lot of work with Oakland University young people.

Mrs. Burnes is the former owner of Elva Beauty Shop, was in business in Pontiac for 25 years. She is taking up painting.

THE PAUL JONES

Dr. and Mrs. Paul B. Jones came from Pontiac, where his dental office is located. Their married daughter lives in Walled Lake with her three children. Dr. Jones is active in the Oakland County Dental Society, the Oakland Sportsman's Club and is a life member of the Pontiac Elks. Boating, golf and traveling are this couple's prime interests. They belong to the First Presbyterian Church in Pontiac.

THE GRAHAM BANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Banks have seven children and 21 grandchildren. He's a retired store manager and she's director of library services for the Ferndale school system. She is also president of the Michigan Association of School Librarians and belongs to a number of educational organizations.

Bridge lessons got Mrs. Banks interested in the new group. Photography is her main hobby. She and her husband enjoy traveling every year as well as boating on the lake.

THE JOHN MASONS

Mr. and Mrs. John Mason have two children and five grandchildren. A retired advertising executive from General Electric, he enjoys furniture refinishing and bridge. Mrs. Mason, who is originally from England, sews both clothes and draperies. She also likes to play bridge. The family is active in the First Presbyterian Church in Drayton Plains.

Next week, Golf Manor in Walled Lake.

MOTHER'S WORK — Mrs. Clyde W. Deo (left) shows Mrs. Jo Paul and Mrs. Graham Banks patchwork her mother made. Embroidered into it, on a piece of her mother's wedding dress, is 1879 — the year the patchwork was made.

Why Ape Cleveland?

Proponents of a downtown Detroit site for the proposed metropolitan sports stadium might well ponder the congestion and traffic snarl which makes a trip to Cleveland's downtown municipal stadium a time-consuming exercise in frustration and vexation.

As evidence of the rigors attending a trip to the lakefront stadium, the city's traffic commissioner issued some drastic guidelines for the crowd of 80,000 spectators who turned out for a night football doubleheader a week ago.

★ ★ ★

The commissioner urged those stadium bound to leave for the downtown site at least two hours before the start of the game at 6:30 p.m. "If you can't reach downtown until 6:00 p.m. or after, don't even try to drive into parking lots in the stadium vicinity. They will be jammed and you'll just have to be rerouted," warned the official.

★ ★ ★

He also stressed the advisability of a full tank of gas and "being sure that your car is in good repair." Moreover, he recommended that car pools be formed to reduce the number of vehicles converging on the stadium.

★ ★ ★

How do you like the prospect of something like that if our area stadium is sited in congestion-plagued Detroit? And wouldn't it be just fine and dandy to have the twin-stadium, domed facility located adjacent to Pontiac at I-75 and M59 on the available 200-acre unencumbered tract, with parking for 27,000 cars and unsurpassed freeway and rail communication?

Ho Chi Minh

It is unlikely that the death last week of North Vietnam's President Ho Chi Minh will materially affect the course of the Vietnam war and the United States' involvement in it. Nor will it conceivably alter the pattern of peace negotiations now in progress in Paris.

HO CHI MINH

The quartet of front runners from whom a successor to Ho will presumably be chosen, perhaps a combination of them, are all party faithfuls indoctrinated with his philosophy of a unified Vietnam free of foreign influence and in accord with the political and military measures that have been employed toward that end.

Although Ho's foreign image in the eyes of many free peoples and their leaders is that of a sinister figure with Communist orientation, he is unquestionably considered a patriot by a multitude of his countrymen — one who for 25 years has fought to preserve the independence of Vietnam after decades of occupation and despoilment by the Chinese and the Japanese.

★ ★ ★

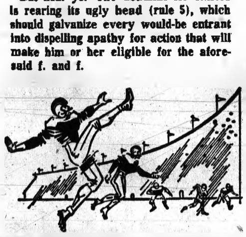
Only history can assess the stature and attainments of Ho Chi Minh in global context. But it cannot be disputed that he has proved one of the strong leaders of the times whose international influence has significantly and disproportionately surpassed the limited economy and social status of his country.

'Fame and Fortune' Contest Prize

Well, present and potential contestants in The Press Annual Football Contest, we're in the final week of qualifying for the yearly event that enriches the winner with fame and fortune.

The fame rests on the intangible acclaim of having bested several thousand competitors; the fortune on a $500 U.S. Savings Bond.

But hear ye. The deadline for entries is rearing its ugly head (rule 5), which should galvanize every would-be entrant into dispelling apathy for action that will make him or her eligible for the aforesaid f. and f.



With the exception of two early ties in recent contest schedules (one marked the first game, last year) that brought an early end to the contests, the elimination sweepstakes have pretty well run the gamut of games before a winner emerged. Indeed, three years ago, the contest ran out the full 15-game schedule and ended in a three-way tie.

The math-minded might like to divert themselves by figuring the astronomical odds against such an outcome! Incidentally, we did a little figuring on our account, and increased the schedule to 16 games.

★ ★ ★

There's still plenty of time, of course, to make your pass at the bond. (Note to composing room: not "blonde.") But don't get left at the starting gate, if you don't mind a mixed sports metaphor. Conficius said: "Contest entry that don't show as unrewarding as kissing own sister."

That's it, folks. We'll be back tomorrow with more words of wisdom. Until then, cheerio.

CONTEST RULES

1. Every man, woman and child is eligible to enter contest (except Press employes and family members) but are limited to one entry each. All members of families may participate, subject to the same limitation.

2. To enter, you simply check your prediction of the winner of each of the 16 games below (to indicate a tie, leave both boxes blank) sign entry form or facsimile, and dispatch.

3. Entries may be deposited in The Press' Huron Street drop box or mailed. If mailed, they must be enclosed in envelopes (THE POST OFFICE WILL NOT ACCEPT POSTAL CARDS WITH ATTACHED ENTRIES) and addressed to: THE PONTIAC PRESS FOOTBALL CONTEST, P.O. Box 777, Pontiac, Michigan 48056.

4. The contestant who, starting with the first game, correctly predicts without a miss the outcome of the most games will be awarded a $500 U.S. Savings Bond.

5. Deadline for Contest entries is Saturday noon, Sept. 13, and entries must be on hand at The Press by that time. Those arriving later, even though postmarked prior, will not be considered.

6. If in the final stage of contest, the few remaining contestants should have predicted the same outcome of a game, this game will be scratched and the contest advanced to the following game.

7. Judges decision on all questions relating to the contest will be final.

David Lawrence Says:

Dirksen Senate Spirit to Persist

WASHINGTON — Everett Dirksen as leader of the Republican party in the Senate has passed away, but his spirit of affability, conciliation and good-natured criticism of his opposition will linger on as an example of tact and effectiveness.

LAWRENCE

Contemporaries in Congress will agree that he showed a knack in leadership which is sometimes called political skill but in reality is a keen understanding of human nature and how to make agreements and compromises in complex legislative situations.

As the head of the minority party in the Senate, the Illinois senator often found himself trying to hold his own party in line or adeptly seeking support inside the ranks of the majority party.

The task of a leader of either party in the Senate or House is not easily explained to persons who have not been in intimate touch with Congress.

For a president depends very much on what the two leaders in the Senate and the two leaders in the House are able to do, and a great deal even on the leader in each case whose party isn't in the majority.

INSIDE STORY

Scarcely a week goes by that a president doesn't call in the party leaders of both houses of Congress to tell them the inside story of many a problem, mentioning things which a chief executive cannot always talk about in public but which have to do with the merits of legislation that is being considered.

Everett Dirksen had a cordial personality which won him many friends.

He didn't make unkind remarks about his opponents, but didn't mind jesting about them every now and then in order to get his point across.

The senator from Illinois was a conspicuous figure in Republican national conventions, but the ability he showed as a leader of the Senate will always be regarded as his greatest achievement.

INTERESTING TRIBUTE

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO expressed the idea in an interesting tribute which reflected the attitude of opponents of the Republican leader.

Meany said: "We and the senator were often on different sides on major issues, but we always knew him as an opponent of great legislative skill."

Sen. Dirksen was usually called a "conservative" in the press, but much of the legislation which he supported could hardly be classified that way. He was a traditional Republican.

Though he at first opposed the Civil Rights Act of 1964, for example, he later became one of its staunchest supporters.

Looking back over history, this later position is exactly what one would have expected of a Republican leader.

Everett Dirksen was regarded by many as a man with an intimate knowledge of politics but, in his advocacy of certain measures, he occasionally disregarded political considerations and supported the cause which he thought was right.

Bob Considine Says:

Abie Nathan to Set Sail on a New Peace Mission

NEW YORK — Abie Nathan's heady dream boat, a white painted ship named "Peace" chugged into New York harbor.

CONSIDINE

As with all peace efforts, its reception was mixed. The harbor fireboats squirted no traditional plumes of welcome, any more than confetti is ever dropped on the peace talks at Paris.

Abie is off and running on an adventure that, at best, could end the Israeli-Arab war and, at worst, see him tossed into a Jerusalem jug.

Friends in the Netherlands made it possible for him to lease his ship and fill it with a mundane cargo to pay its way to New York.

Volunteers painted it white and signed on as crew. Now all he needs is $400 a month for it to be berthed at a lesser pier on Manhattan.

PEACE FLIGHT

Abie runs a restaurant named California in Tel Aviv. He flew for the RAF during World War II and later for El Al.

He went on his peace kick in 1966 when, ignoring the danger of being shot down not only by the Israelis but also the Egyptians, he flew a tiny single-engined plane — the "Shalom" — from Tel Aviv to Port Said. He was trying to get to Cairo to reason with Nasser. The Egyptians gassed up his plane and told him to scram.

★ ★ ★

Back in Tel Aviv Abie became a popular hero, but not around the foreign office or the Knesset. When he again flew as far as Port Said in 1967, and was returned, he was convicted of leaving the country to consort with the enemy and given a sentence of $400 or 40 days in prison. He settled by paying $400 to an Israeli hospital.

He was on probation last June when he hopped an Air India plane that took him to Cairo. He sailed through customs and immigration with his British passport, but soon was collared at the Nile Hilton and questioned through an entire night before being taken to the airport and, under guard, put on an outbound plane.

NEW HOPE

"Peace," the ship, is his hopeful means of avoiding such nationalistic nuisances. He hopes by means of contributions and the gift of radio equipment to fit it out as a communications ship over the next three months. Then he'll take it to an area 12 miles off the nearest Israeli and Arab shores and broadcast appeals to the implacable foes to negotiate a lasting peace.

There will be entertainment broadcast as well as peace pleas in a variety of tongues and dialects.

Suppose the good ship "Peace" is shot out of the water, like the Arabs clobbered the Israeli gunboat with a Russian rocket and the Israeli chewed up an American communications ship?

Abie shrugged.

"It's worth the risk," he said.

Practice of Helicopter Welcomed by Resident

Any time that big, beautiful bird—the Oakland County Sheriff's Department helicopter—needs a place to practice, it may do so in my front yard. As a resident of Lake Oakland, I feel this is one of the finest pieces of equipment the County could have. It can come to the aid of a drowning victim, boating accident or ice hazard much faster than a car could at any time. The pilot of this bird has to keep practicing all the time in order to keep operating.

Demands of ADC Mothers Prompts Letter

I am quite unhappy to see some ADC mothers demonstrating for an additional $75 for each child for school clothing. Years ago, and even today, some ADC mothers and some not on ADC managed to supply their children's clothing needs by making them and going to rummage sales. Just like the average wage earner has to manage to live on his salary, the ADC mother will have to manage as well.

★ ★ ★

The welfare agencies are aiding families in purchasing homes, giving education allowances to help the mothers find lucrative employment and providing many other advantages for self-improvement. The ADC mothers who are unhappy with the clothing allowance should attempt to find steady employment. One cannot demand that anyone give him anything.

When will the legislators and other public officials realize that in their attempt to meet the demands of the ADC recipients, they take away their incentive to be self-supporting citizens and increase the overwhelming burden of the taxpayer.

We received enough other letters like yours to convince us. However, we agree with one writer who said it must have been the work of a prankster.

Question and Answer

About a year and a half ago you had a story about Rod McKuen. Are any issues of that paper available?

BARBARA FISHER

On Dec. 30 or 31, 1968, you had a page with all the important events for the year. Could I get two copies of that page, and what would it cost? Also I need the same page for 1965, '66 and '67.

MRS. EDWARD REID

REPLY

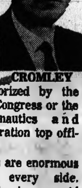
Back copies are kept at The Press for one year, and are regular price. Earlier papers are recorded on microfilm, and copies can be ordered for $2.50 a page. It takes three to four weeks. If you are unsure of the dates you need, you may look through the papers in the lobby or view the microfilm in the reference room.

Space Scientists Cover Up Aid

BY RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — This reporter has come across a most amazing cover-up:

Space agency men helping their communities and hiding these aid projects as though they were sinful.



CROMLEY

Or illegal (which some of this help is, the spending and the projects not having been authorized by the President, the Congress or the National Aeronautics and Space Administration top officials).

The pressures are enormous . . . from every side. Everyone wants in on aid from the space specialists — the poverty and the job planners, the pollution fighters, the low-cost housing people, the managers of our overburdened city governments lost in problems growing faster than solutions and the nation's police departments fighting a seemingly losing battle against crime on the streets.

TUNED TO PRESSURES

The NASA scientists, being sensitive human beings, are tuned to these pressures and determined to use their space-acquired skills to help their fellowmen in ways in which they are uniquely qualified.

But one of the cardinal rules of government (and Congress) is that each agency shall work in the fields to which it is assigned. And before projects are assigned and funded, they must be gone over in detail by administration and congressional committees.

★ ★ ★

That, on record, cuts NASA out of most social work.

The communities that want aid want it now and the scientists want to help now. The pressures have become intense.

ILLEGAL COURSE

So small groups of scientists in NASA have taken things into their own hands, quite illegally, of course.

They have squirreled funds and time on computers and other odds and ends from here and there away from other projects and used these resources and machines (and considerable amounts of their own free time without pay).

★ ★ ★

In one city they applied systems analysis, as used in space projects, to the problems of air pollution.

In another, to planning for orderly school expansion to meet the needs of a mushrooming population.

NEW CONCEPTS

They applied the systems concept to the over-all management of one medium-sized Virginia town and to some of the key problems of a major city police force.

★ ★ ★

They develop new concepts for the planning and organization of a major jet airport in one city.

★ ★ ★

In one area, NASA scientists developed new techniques for the surveillance of public schools to prevent vandalism.

In another, they proposed innovations in the use of helicopters in police operations.

ASSISTED AGENCY

And in one large city they helped one agency develop ways of evaluating proposals for large study and development contracts with private industry, a field in which NASA men are particularly experienced.

They have developed improved command and control communications systems for serving one city's emergency departments—fire, police, ambulance and rescue.

★ ★ ★

These projects, of course, cover only a small part of this guerrilla aid program. No one, in government or out, knows its full extent.

This Old Peat Bog Will Be Completely Filled In By Solid Wastes In About 25 Years

Without It, City Would Be Buried in Debris

Landfill Isn't Pretty, but It's Necessary

By ED BLUNDEN

You're holding one of the biggest disposal problems in Pontiac—a newspaper that will become scrap paper.

Wahl can you do with yesterday's edition? Wrap a fish? Splendid idea, but there are too few fish and too many papers.

★ ★ ★

They pile up along with all the other castoff paper from packages, food, gum, cigarette packs, etc. Add to this the mountains of used cans and bottles, garbage, old shoes, broken toys and what have you, and you have enough debris to bury the city.

Before this happens the city buries the debris.

NOT A PRETTY SITE

The city's Collier Road landsite is not a pretty sight—but it is as essential to the city as water, sewer, utilities or policemen.

The technical name of the operation is a "sanitary landfill." And it must be sanitary under state health regulations.

ED GAMMEY

This means the collections are buried each day. This minimizes typical disposal-area problems—rats, flies, burning rubbish, offensive smell — all familiar to the now outlawed "dumps."

Ed Gammey, operations assistant at the Department of Public Works and in charge of the landfill, points out that the disposal picture has changed greatly over the years.

FAVORITE DISH

As an example he uses an American favorite dish, chicken. In the not-too-long-ago, his department's problem was hauling away the feathers and entrails. Now it's the containers chicken comes in . . . boxes, barrels, cans and TV dinner trays.

Almost forgotten is the time before natural gas won out as a source of home heating. In the winter, tons of tons of ashes had to be carted away from homes heated by coal.

★ ★ ★

Does this mean the load is lighter now? Not at all, Gammey said.

Digging into his files, Gammey took a city report for the week ending Jan. 11, 1930. The immensity of the garbage problem is shown in the figure 269 tons of garbage but just 86 tons of rubbish for that week. A large fraction of the garbage in those days ended up indirectly back on the dinner table in the form of pork, Gammey said, explaining local pig raisers used much of it as feed.

BIGGER OPERATION

Now the Pontiac landfill operation handles 830 tons of material in an average week.

The DPW recently passed a milestone of sorts in the field of solid-waste disposal. The 40-acre site at West Kennett near Telegraph was completely filled up and closed after 14 years. In accordance with landfill practices, the site is being completely covered over with several layers of earth.

The land is reusable. However, because of the unstable nature of the matter underneath, the land will not be suitable in the near future for any sort of solid building.

★ ★ ★

However such sites have proven ideal for parks and golf courses in particular. The City Parks and Recreation Department is studying possible uses.

A new 240-acre site on Collier Road, west of Joslyn, began operating this summer. This is expected to fulfill city requirements for 30 to 40 years. However this time length may be cut in half by increased demands for landfill space.

IMPORTANT ROLE

Pontiac Motor Division plays an important role in the city's landfill.

From the foundry come tons of waste sand. This material is placed in the bottom of the mass and acts as a seal, necessary to curb ground-water pollution. This saves the city the expense of purchasing such a sealant and provides the division with convenient disposal.

Pontiac is cut into five districts, representing five days of collection. The crews collect in the neighborhoods and dump at the landfill site. A bulldozer first uses its weight to partially tamp the material down. Then the material is covered with earth.

Pontiac's procedure is only one of several possible methods.

INCINERATION

Incineration is the most popular and the city had a plant until 1949. However past burning methods were inefficient and contributed to air pollution.

Experimental systems are being developed by several firms and the city of Chicago has one under contract. The system burns at 3,000 degrees, melting almost all substances and leaving a granulated residue useful for construction material. Steam is a by-product in these proposed plants, but none have yet successfully operated on a large scale.

Another system greatly reduces the material to be disposed of by shredding or compressing with high-powered machinery.

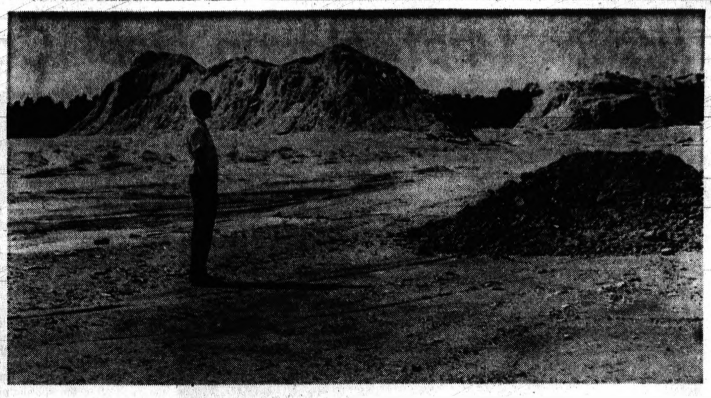
But this method has not yet gained any wide support either.

CHEAPEST METHOD

Gammey points out Pontiac uses the landfill process for two reasons—It's cheapest to the average homeowner and sufficient land is available at low cost. In the future, however, the city may have to look to the modern methods.

Some far-out possibilities exist in the disposal field.

Gammey said experiments have been conducted which indicate laser beams or high-frequency sound waves may some day turn mountains of trash and garbage to small piles of dust.



FUTURE RECREATION AREA — The old Kennett Road landfill site could be sodded and used for a golf course or a public park. Inspecting the area is Hershel Wooten, a Department of Public Works foreman. The City Parks and Recreation Department is studying possible uses.

Laser Beams, Sound Waves Some Day May Turn Piles Of Trash, Garbage To Dust

Status Is a Parking Lot, County Board Decides

BY JEAN SAILE

Jackie Kennedy Onassis had her rose garden just outside the White House. It was the "in" thing for a while to be received there.

MRS. SAILE

It appears that county supervisors have muffed the chance to have their own choice spot just in front of the courthouse.

Earthmovers hum their $100,000 tune-to-build-parking-lots-by where the county board could have been hosting visiting delegations from Macomb County or press interviews with emissaries from Independence Township.

★ ★ ★

And the rose garden? It could have been the final cover-up in an effort to prove that sanitary landfills can be beautiful. Parking area could have been achieved elsewhere.

At the start of summer there was quite a bit of talk about the need for demonstrating that landfills are not all bad.

FARTHER AWAY

It was the supervisors' intention, however, to demonstrate it in Pontiac Township or some place removed from a county representative's home territory.

It was about midsummer when for reasons which only the politicos know for sure, a halt was called to construction of the new south parking lot on the Telegraph Road Service Center grounds. There was talk about a set of stairsteps down from the north parking lot to meet the needs of a car-conscious public.

★ ★ ★

The fact that the hole for the parking lot already had been dug was a form of insurance. Everybody knew the parking lot eventually would be completed but the holdup time was fruitful for discussion on "ways to save taxpayers' money."

After all possible political hay had been made, the order was given to a presumably irate and bewildered construction company to continue the job.

★ ★ ★

With the hole already started it could have been a landfill, but it's still going to be a parking lot. That's too bad, a rose garden is much more aesthetic. And all that fertilizer available from a landfill base has its horticultural benefits, too, any good rose grocer knows.

Ways to Help Trash Collector

Waste collection and disposal is big business in Pontiac. It cost the city $750,000 yearly.

Another big part of the operation is the mass of material handled — daily 475 cubic yards weighing 166 tons; weekly 2,375 cubic yards, 830 tons; or annually 123,000 cubic yards, 43,000 tons.

★ ★ ★

The average person in Pontiac creates four pounds of rubbish a day.

The disposal operation is paid for by property owners at the 2-mill assessment rate ($2 per $1,000 as assessed).

It could be done a little cheaper and easier if residents would observe the following "dos and don't" suggested by the Department of Public Works:

Do

- Use authorized containers, plastic or metal, not exceeding 20-gallon capacity.
- Place cans out on the day of collection prior to 7 a.m.

★ ★ ★

- Return empty containers to storage area as soon as possible.
- Wrap waste food to avoid spillage.
- Tie papers and magazines into bundles

Don't

- Place rubbish out after truck has passed residence.
- Place unauthorized material out for regular collection. (bulky items, furniture, building materials, etc., can be collected on Thursday if a request is made by phone 24 hours in advance).
- Use unauthorized containers (such as cardboard).
- Place sharp, cutting objects in plastic bags.
- Put dead animals in cans (call dog warden).

WHO'S OUR BEST HEARING AID SALESMAN?

Justice Dept. Hit on Debt Collection

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department, under fire for collecting less than half the government's bad debts, agreed today the chore has sometimes been neglected in the past.

But it said a mounting criminal case load "requires us to be realistic concerning the amount of resources and emphasis which can be allocated to collections work at present."

★ ★ ★

Although the Justice Department won $383 million in bad debts, fines, penalties and forfeitures from court judgments in the past four years, the agency has collected only $163.3 million, according to a congressional study reported by the Associated Press last week. This is a collection rate of 42 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The House government operations subcommittee, which had the study prepared, called Justice officials in today to explain why they couldn't do better.

'WE SHALL TRY'

"The dollar amount of uncollected judgments compels us not to permit the collection function to be neglected as it sometimes has been," Associate Deputy Atty. Gen. George H. Revercomb told the subcommittee in prepared testimony.

"We shall try to take a balanced and reasonable approach," he said, "giving the necessary emphasis to the work of collections."

A congressional investigator said Justice's collection rate has averaged 42 per cent over the past eight years—except when it jumped to 73 per cent in 1965, the year after the subcommittee's first investigation into the subject.

Involved are the full range of court-won debts to the government—back taxes, defaulted Federal Housing Administration and Small Business Administration loans, damage claims, fines for violation of federal laws and all the rest.

ONE OF PROBLEMS

Federal agencies are supposed to collect the money won in court. But when they can't, they turn the bad debts over to the Justice Department just as a businessman turns them over to his lawyer.

And that, said Revercomb, is one of Justice's problems.

"The agencies tend to collect and compromise the easy cases," he said, "thus skimming off the easy collections and leaving us with the more difficult cases."

Revercomb suggested that the problem of priorities is tougher.

He said a criminal case load increase of 2,779 cases in district courts in the past nine months—to a total 17,542—limits the time Justice lawyers can spend on bill collecting.

TRUCKING WITH A FLAIR — The F100 pickup, shown in the Ranger luxury option group, is as suitable for tough construction or farm jobs as it is for going to the grocery store. With a restyled grille and new options, Ford's 1970 pickup line retains its excellent handling characteristics with the exclusive Twin-I-Beam front suspension.

Hearing on Road

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has announced a public hearing Oct. 8 at the Cheboygan city hall to discuss plans to reconstruct two miles of M27 south of Cheboygan.

State Teen Charged in Armed Robbery

PETOSKEY (AP) — A 19-year-old Petoskey youth, Fred Kuntz, is being held on $1,000 bond after being charged with the armed robbery of a tavern owner.

Authorities said Tony Kolinski told them he was asleep at his home Aug. 26 when a youth, brandishing a butcher knife, robbed him of his wallet and automobile.

Kuntz surrendered to State Police in Flint Sunday.

Detroiter Named to College Board

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has appointed John W. Kendell of Detroit to the Saginaw Valley College Board of Control. Kendell, a Chrysler Corp. personnel coordinator in the area of fair employment practices, succeeds Levi A. Jackson of Detroit. The governor also reappointed Mrs. Dorothy D. Arbury of Midland to the board. She first was named in 1955.

Lively Contest Seen for GOP Senate Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans now anticipate a wide-open contest—with the White House likely to take an active role—for the Senate leader's job left vacant by Everett M. Dirksen's death.

At least five GOP senators, and possibly more, are rated prospective candidates.

★ ★ ★

For the moment, and probably for the remainder of this Dirksen funeral week, no Republican senator is willing to talk frankly and publicly about the looming leadership race.

GOP sources indicated the prospective senators to succeed Dirksen are likely to wait, taking their own soundings of support, before deciding whether to openly enter the competition.

NOT IMMEDIATELY

Although one senator said "It shouldn't take too long to contact 43 Republicans," indications are even the contact work won't begin immediately.

One Republican considering running for the job said with Dirksen's funeral planned Wednesday, such an effort at sampling support would seem out of place.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, now acting Republican leader, refused to discuss his possible candidacy to win the job permanently. "My responsibility is just to carry on until other arrangements are made," he said.

Those arrangements will be made at a conference of Republican senators, not yet scheduled, to vote on Dirksen's successor.

The liberal Scott is certain to face a conservative challenge if, as expected, he bids for the top GOP job.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska and Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado are rated prime prospects among the more conservative Republicans.

1970 Ford Pickups Are Sleeker, Plusher

Aiming at capturing the widening market segment of light-truck buyers, Ford has restyled its pickups with sleeker silhouettes and added more luxury in its 1970 models.

The Ranger XLT models, available in the F100 and F250 style pickups and F100-F350 4x2 chassis cab models, feature a simulated wood grain applique on the tailgate, side molding and interior trim with interior upholstery and trim of the type used in passenger cars.

Area dealers are: Harold Turner, 2600 W. Maple, Birmingham; Don Spiker, South Milford, Milford; John McAuliffe Ford, 1845 S. Telegraph, Bloomfield Township; Troy Motors, 777 John R., Troy; Shuman Ford Sales, 111 S. Commerce, Walled Lake; Flannery Ford, 5806 Dixie, Waterford: Skalnek Ford, 209 N. Park, Lake Orion; and McKenzie Ford, 215 Main, Rochester.

Other luxury items are an optional sliding rear window and simulated vinyl roof and available for the first time, a Traction-Lok rear axle and fiber glass belted tires on the F100.

INCREASING RELIANCE

Families are relying increasingly on light trucks not only for working but also for family outings, shopping trips and, other recreational get-togethers, and Ford hopes its emphasis on comfort in a truck will win much of the market.

The four-wheel-drive recreational go-anywhere Bronco retains a late 1969 standard item, electric windshield wipers, and adds a new automatic choke and a new fiber glass belted tire option.

The Ecololine and its passenger version, the Club Wagon, also have automatics chokes, new 42-ampere alternators and new tire options.

All light trucks have trailer towing capabilities and the F250 and F350 pickups are available with Camper Special packages, designed to take the guesswork out of equipping a pickup camper.

Ferris VP Takes Illinois Position

Junior Editors Quiz on ENCYCLOPEDIA

QUESTION: What is the difference between a cyclopedia and an encyclopedia?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The Greek word enkyylopaedeia means "teaching in the circle," and refers to the inspiring idea of gathering many different kinds of knowledge together.

Some subjects covered by modern encyclopedias are symbolized in our picture. The arts are on top; then, to left, come science, philosophy, sports, botany, zoology, biography, geography, occupations and history.

In 322 B.C. the Greek thinker Aristotle tried to get the knowledge of his time into a set of books and so is regarded as the father of the encyclopedia. But Aristotle and the other ancients did not use the word encyclopedia. This did not appear until 1541, when used by Ringelberg of Basel.

Apparently feeling that the long word would be better if shortened the Englishman Ephraim Chambers, writing an encyclopedia which was published in 1728, called his work Cyclopedia or Universal Dictionary of Arts and Sciences.

This was the first such book to use the valuable idea of cross references. It also influenced great French writers such as Diderot, whose work led toward our great modern encyclopedia.

We speak of all these modern works as encyclopedias. When we say cyclopedia we are thinking only of Chambers' special use of the word, for the two words mean the same thing.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Waterford Ordered to Permit Landfill

The Waterford Township Board was ordered yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court to issue a permit for the operation of a sanitary landfill on a 50-acre site near Gale and Maceday Lake roads.

Visiting Judge James Churchill of the Lapeer-Caro circuit ruled in favor of the Waterford Processing and Relcaiming Co.

* * *

The firm has been attempting since January 1967 to obtain the necessary permit to operate the dump.

Gerald J. McLean Jr., attorney for the landfill firm owned by Donald Freeman and David Ward, said the ruling by Judge Churchill is subject to certain conditions such as the level of inert fill.

He said the judge retained jurisdiction in the case as a means of insuring that all restrictions are observed.

* * *

The case originally had been assigned to Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams. However, he requested that he be relieved of hearing the case since he is a resident of Waterford Township.

* * *

The landfill operations has been the center of controversy in the township for nearly three years, during which time numerous public hearings were conducted by the township.

COMPANY ARGUMENT

The company has argued that it has been unjustly denied the permit since the township engineers approved the project.

* * *

Local residents have objected to the proposal on the basis that the landfill eventually will cause the pollution of nearby lakes.

Attorneys for the township were not available for comment on whether they will appeal the decision.

2 Boys Find Suspected Slayer's Body

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Two 15-year-old boys on their way to school today found the body of a man police said shot and killed his former wife and wounded another woman and a rookie patrolman Monday night.

Police said the dead man was Francis Maguth, 44, Johnstown, former husband of the dead woman, Karen Bisel, 26, Boswell.

* * *

He was dead of a self-inflicted bullet wound of the head from a 32-caliber revolver, the same weapon used in the shootings, police said.

Police were called to the scene Monday night when a woman screamed into a radio in a police car: "Help, I'm dying! Help, I'm bleeding to death!

RUSH TO SCENE

Patrolmen rushed to the scene and found Mrs. Bisel seriously wounded in the chest, Patrolman Eugene Romesburg, 22, wounded by a gunshot and Dulcie Phillips, 32, of Johnstown with a bullet wound of the shoulder. Mrs. Bisel died in a hospital.

Police said Romesburg was called to an alley to intervene in an argument between Mrs. Bisel and a man.

As Romesburg approached, police said, the patrolman asked the man if he had a gun.

Police quoted him as answering, "Here it's only a cap pistol," as he raised a gun.

Police said he fired one shot at Romesburg, and turned to fire twice at the women. He ran from the scene, police said, as the Bisel woman crawled to the police car. Police said she screamed into the radio microphone, directing them to the scene of the shootings.

Bag of Drugs Brings Probe in Waterford

Waterford Township Police are continuing an investigation prompted by the discovery of a bag of narcotics yesterday on a rural township road.

* * *

Tests of the contents revealed that the bag contained more than 100 pills, identified as LSD and amphetamines, and more than one-half pound of marijuana.

* * *

Waterford Township Detective Donald Bailey said the bag was found about 2 a.m. yesterday by Sgt. Alton Doud while he was on routine patrol.

Doud said he noticed a large shopping bag lying in the roadway. When he stopped to remove it he noticed its contents, became suspicious, and returned with it to police headquarters.

* * *

Chemical analysis confirmed the officer's suspicions. Police were puzzled. "We have a couple theories that we're still working on," said Bailey.

Biafran Truce May Be Near

African Summit Has an Air of Expectancy

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — An air of expectancy prevailed at the African summit meeting today amid mounting reports that a cease-fire in the Nigerian-Biafran war would be announced today or Wednesday.

Conference sources said a cease-fire would be ordered so African heads of state could go to Biafra to meet with its leader, Gen. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, in an effort to start peace talks.

* * *

The delegation will probably include President Julius Nyerere of Tanzania, a prime mover for a cease-fire and the first president to extend diplomatic recognition to Biafra.

Nyerere and Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, the head of the Nigerian government, met Monday for the first time since the war started 28 months ago and had long private talks.

* * *

Informed sources denied earlier unconfirmed reports that a cease-fire would clear the way for Gowon and Ojukwu to meet. Gowon has always insisted that Ojukwu must first renounce Biafra's secession from Nigeria.

One head of state, smiling over the prospect of at least a temporary cease-fire, said: "We could have brought about a cease-fire last year during the Algiers summit, but we were led to believe the war was almost over."

Body of Second Teen Recovered

FRANKFORT (AP) — The body of the second of two Hope teenagers who drowned while swimming over the Labor Day weekend has been recovered off the Leelanau peninsula.

* * *

The victim was identified as 17-year-old Lee Merrindorf. The body of his swimming companion, Rick McCoy, was found last Thursday near the mouth of the Frankfort harbor. The two disappeared while swimming in Lake Michigan off Benzie County.

RNA Head Is Returned to Prison Cell in Britain

LONDON (UPI) — Robert F. Williams, black nationalist leader of the Republic of New Africa (RNA), was back in Pentonville Prison here today after civil liberties lawyers forstalled a British Home Office plan to put him aboard an airplane to Cairo, Egypt.

Meanwhile, Milton R. Henry, first vice president of the RNA and an attorney in Pontiac, declared the British government was acting in an "uncivil, illegal, unconscionable, cavalier, disrespectful and high-handed manner."

* * *

He called on the British to treat the 44-year-old Williams with "the exact degree of respect which you have characteristically extended heads of state according to past customs."

Henry reportedly plans to travel to England soon to present Harold Wilson, Britain's prime minister, with the RNA's demand for William's release.

DUE ON PLANE

Williams was to board a United Arab Airlines plane Monday for Cairo after the British held him three days at the prison as an "undesirable alien."

Officials of the National Council for Civil Liberties won police permission for Williams to go back to prison in the interim.

* * *

Williams fled the United States eight years ago after he was charged with kidnaping during a racial disorder near Charlotte, N.C.

Elected President of the black nationalist Republic of New Africa at its founding convention in Detroit while he was out of the country, Williams had planned to return to the United States this past Saturday and was to be arrested by the FBI when he arrived in Detroit.

BANNED FROM PLANE

He arrived in London Friday night on a United Arab Airlines plane holding a ticket on a Trans-World Airlines flight to Detroit Saturday morning. TWA and other U.S. airlines refused to allow him on board and the British refused to admit him to Britain.

An official with one of the airlines that refused to take Williams to the United States explained, "It has been reported that he has been to Cuba during the last eight years and we don't know who his friends are.

* * *

"We can't afford to run the risk of a skyjacking," the official said.

U.S. Arms Still Europe's Shield —Bonn Leader

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger said today that Western Europe must look indefinitely to the nuclear and conventional might of the United States for protection.

"Europe will not be able to do without the protection of American weapons—conventional as well as atomic—for an indefinite period," the West German government chief said in response to a series of written questions from The Associated Press.

* * *

The chancellor observed that a large-scale reduction of the American presence in Europe "would be of considerable consequences" and not for West Germany only.

The burden of European defense costs would rise considerably if the United States greatly reduced its contribution in men and funds. Asked if West Germany would be willing to bear such increased defense costs, Kiesinger replied:

UNIFICATION

"The political unification of Europe is the answer to your question. European and American members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization must jointly develop a long-range concept that excludes dangerous risks to the security of all members of the alliance."

He indicated that he thinks President Nixon is going along with a stand Kiesinger has already made public: that America should lead, not dominate, Europe. Asked which he thought the United States was doing, Kiesinger replied:

* * *

"The American President shares my view and his policies are in accord with our mutual conviction."

Turning to domestic politics, the leader of the Christian Democratic party said it was "by no means certain" that the NPD, the ultra-nationalist National Democratic party, will win its first seats in the Bundestag in the national elections Sept. 28.

If the NPD does get into the lower house of parliament, Kiesinger continued, "I am of the opinion that we will be able to cope with the NPD without difficulty as far as internal politics are concerned.

FOREIGN POLICY

"It is a different matter with foreign policy. The NPD performs a great service for the Soviet Union because its appearance gives Soviet and Communist propaganda new pretexts to picture the Federal Republic as a danger to peace in Europe . . . The NPD is an ideal political instrument for the Communists and fellow travelers," he said.

Kiesinger said he was ready to talk with the Polish government about Germany's eastern borders but Polish Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka "only wants us to recognize the Oder-Neisse Line as Germany's eastern border." He said the border can only be settled by "all the German people through a peace treaty; this, therefore, is closely tied to the problem of reunification."

* * *

"But this need not prevent us beforehand from seeking a solution acceptable to both peoples," he added.

Kiesinger said he also is ready to talk with the Soviet Union, provided the talks are "well prepared in advance and offer a chance for results." But he said Moscow still demands "renunciation of reunification in freedom" and this is not acceptable to the West Germans.

FRENCH TREATY

He predicted that German-French relations would not be affected by Charles de Gaulle's retirement from the French presidency.

"German-French relations have much to thank de Gaulle," he said, "but they began before him and took form in a treaty which has survived the change in personalities. Even relations with other Western European states will not be deeply affected by the change in presidents. The German people have no other wish than—as is written in our constitution—to serve world peace as an equal partner in a united Europe."

* * *

He also repeated his opposition to the revaluation of the German mark, observing: "The number of arguments against revaluation appear to be increasing rather than decreasing."

Group Challenges County School Levy

The Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association has questioned the authority of the county's intermediate school district and the Oakland Community College to levy three-fourths of a mill in taxes during 1970.

In a letter to County Corporation Counsel Robert Allen and County Prosecuting Attorney Thomas Plunkett, Glenn Swindler, vice chairman of the protest group, asks what position they will take regarding the taxes.

Swindler contends that a state attorney general's opinion has cast doubt on the authority of these taxing units to levy the proposed tax without a vote of the people.

Girl's Condition 'Guarded' After Mishap With Ca

Kris McClelland, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McClelland of 1304 N. Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, is in guarded condition today at Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, with a fractured skull received in an automobile accident yesterday.

She was apparently playing across the street from her home and darted across the road, hitting the side of a car driven by Mrs. Jane M. Hamm of 195 Alton Circle, according to Walled Lake Police.

No tickets for violation of law were issued, although the case is still under investigation.

Cadillac Retains Distinctiveness

Engineering advancements and distinctive styling mark the 1970 Cadillacs.

"A new look, both front and rear, tastefully retains distinctive Cadillac identification in all models," according to George R. Elges, general manager of Cadillac Motor Car Division and vice president of General Motors.

* * *

Elges added, "Wheelbase and over-all dimensions remain basically the same. The standard Cadillacs look longer because of new cornering lights with horizontal chrome trim, the extension of the rear quarter into the taillight and a horizontal design that sweeps the length of the side."

Cadillac dealers in the Pontiac area include Wilson-Crissman, 1350 N. Woodward, Birmingham; Lee Osborn Sales Co., 115 E. Liberty, Milford; Jerome Cadillac, 675 S. Saginaw, Pontiac.

'INDUSTRY FIRST'

"'An industry first, Cadillac introduces a new integral ductile iron steering knuckle for all standard models," Elges noted.

He added, "In addition, we will have a totally redesigned rear axle in 1970, the first in over 30 years.

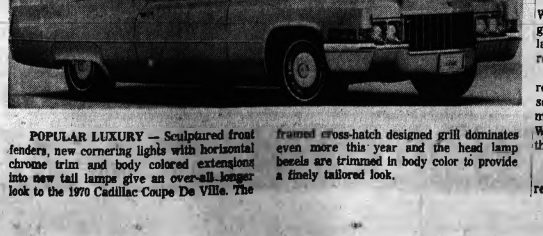
The front-wheel-drive Fleetwood Eldorado will feature an exclusive new 500 cubic-inch engine, producing 400 horsepower with 550 foot of pounds of torque.

The new framed grille dominates even more in 1970 with bright vertical accent adding emphasis to the area in front of the 472-cubic-inch engine. The engine, with 525 foot pounds of torque and 375 horsepower is matched with a transmission.

HIGHLIGHT REAR

Highlighting the rear appearance are new taillights and bumper. The tail lamps feature a concave, V-shaped vertical lens which houses the taillight, brake light and directional signal.

The all-new grille features a horizontal accent and gives emphasis to the engine compartment similar to the standard Cadillac. On the grill is a new Eldorado script plus a plaque reading "8.2 litre" designating the new 500 cubic-inch engine.



POPULAR LUXURY — Sculptured front fenders, new cornering lights with horizontal chrome trim and body colored extensions into new tail lamps give an over-all longer look to the 1970 Cadillac Coupe De Ville. The framed cross-hatch designed grill dominates even more this year and the head lamp bezels are trimmed in body color to provide a finely tailored look.

Waterford Twp. Board Says: Let There Be Light

Jayno Heights subdivision in Waterford Township will be getting streetlights, despite a late protest from some residents.

A petition, signed by 10 residents to block installation of some 30 lights in the development on Walton Boulevard near Wormer Lake, was denied by the township board last night.

* * *

Several of the protesting residents don't want the lights because they moved there from the city and prefer lightless country roads, one source said.

The board reasoned that some 52 per cent of the lot owners favored the lights at a previous public hearing on the matter.

LAND RIGHTS

The township is in the process of acquiring the right-of-way land for the light poles. Poles presumably would be put up shortly after the land is bought.

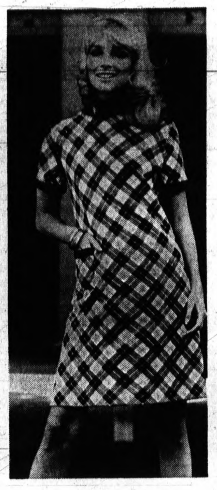
Devastatingly female "body beautiful" crepe . . . softly scarf accented . . . slender long sleeves and godet skirt add new softness to another R and K Original.

The shape is fluid, the direction toward bouncey pleats . . . in the long lean lines of this young silhouette by R and K Originals.



Chalk up argyles for a fall fashion must. This pretty knit-mate from the new James Kenrob collection, in a tri-color plaid, has plenty of dash.

Marshall Klugman's designs for STJ have all the zest and wham of the designer himself. They also reflect his belief in knits—especially wool double-knits from Duplex. The pulled-down look with a riffle of pleats is IT when the sleeveless plaid jacket is buttoned. Open, the funnel collar and belted waist say 1970! In pink with elephant, hunter green with rust. All lines shown available in Pontiac area.

Story Doesn't Hold Water, Abby Insists, After Checking

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother read in the paper where a 15-year-old girl got pregnant from swimming in a public pool, and now she won't let me go swimming in a public pool.

She said the article said that in Sydney, Australia, the courts have decided that the Municipal Swimming pool is the "father" of a child.

It seems that a 15-year-old virgin girl began having pregnancy symptoms after having swum in a public swimming pool. Her mother took her to a doctor who examined her and said that the girl was still a virgin, and the symptoms were "false." The symptoms continued, and after nine months the girl gave birth to a healthy baby boy.

They called this a billion-to-one-chance that some male sperm in the water impregnated the girl. The city agreed to pay the girl a pension.

Will you please tell me if this is possible?

ALSO FIFTEEN

DEAR ALSO: I have checked with my medical authorities and they concur that this one tops the story about the "star rising in the East." I have heard that there is nothing new under the sun. But perhaps there IS something new under the water.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a recent college graduate. My parents paid my tuition and room and board at college. I paid for all my books, clothes, and other expenses by working.

Recently my father handed me a bill for $7,492.23. He said that is what I owe him for college, and he wants it paid back now.

I did not promise, suggest, or agree to pay back any money when I started college. My parents are not in any financial trouble. The bill seems way out of proportion since my school cost only $430 per semester and I finished in seven semesters. My father refuses to explain why the bill is so large, and he is threatening to sue me. Do you think I need a lawyer? PITTSBURGHER

DEAR PITTSBURGHER: Not yet — if the facts are as you stated them. But should your father actually sue you, then you may have to shell out for a lawyer to defend yourself.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 10 years to a hard working man whom I love very much. He was married twice before, and one of his ex-wives lives about 400 miles from here.

Every so often he takes a vacation alone and he always stops off to see her for two or three days. He is taking another vacation and I heard him tell her on the phone that he would be seeing her.

If I say anything about it he raises his voice in anger as if I have no right to wonder why he wants to see her. I am sure if I had an ex-husband (which I haven't) and visited him every now and then my husband wouldn't stand for it.

* * *

I hate arguments, therefore I keep it to myself, but I get all torn up inside when I think of it.

I have tried to be broad-minded, but I am beginning to feel that maybe I'd be better off away from him rather than to fight this situation every time it comes up.

Please tell me what to do.

ALL TORN UP

DEAR TORN: I will tell you what NOT to do. DON'T give your husband an "either or" ultimatum unless you are willing to accept the consequences.

* * *

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Pam's Win Puts State's Mantle on Shoulders of Sandra Gillespie

HASTINGS (UPI) — The tall, good-looking girl typed letters and filed invoices but took time out to get excited Monday at the Hastings Manufacturing Co. where she is employed.

She is Sandra (Sandy) Gillespie, upon whom the mantle of Miss Michigan dropped Monday because Pamela Ann Eldred of Birmingham, Mich., has been named Miss America.

* * *

Miss Eldred was chosen Miss America Saturday night in Atlantic City. Miss Gillespie was runner-up in Muskegon at the annual Miss Michigan pageant when Miss Eldred was chosen Miss Michigan in June.

* * *

Sandra was informed Monday afternoon by James Bushong of Muskegon, the Miss Michigan Pageant director, that she is the new Miss Michigan.

Miss Gillespie, who is 5-feet-8 inches tall, has brown hair and 35-24-36 measurements.

* * *

She is scheduled to start classes Sept. 20 at Michigan State University where she is a junior, majoring in retailing, but will leave school for a year "if my duties as Miss Michigan demand my time," she said.

"I was informed by Mr. Bushong that I am the new state queen this afternoon and I was very excited and a bit shocked.

* * *

"I was watching the Miss America Pageant Saturday night on television with some friends and was pleased when Pamela won the national title. Then it dawned on me that I'm the new Michigan queen. But it still was a bit of shock when Mr. Bushong called me this afternoon and confirmed it," she said.

FRINGE BENEFITS

Miss Gillespie, as Miss Michigan, is entitled to scholarships and various fringe benefits and will represent the state in various public functions in Michigan and other states.

* * *

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Gillespie of Hastings, who have another daughter, Mrs. Linda Flannigan. The father is superintendent in the plant where she works.

* * *

Miss Gillespie is a talented singer and has poise in addition to having the physical inventories that go along with winners in beauty contests.

GE Tags Appliances With Wholesale Hikes

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Most of General Electric's major appliances will carry higher wholesale price tags when the new lines are presented to distributors on Sept. 22.

The price increases, GE said Monday, were caused by rapidly-spiraling costs.

* * *

GE said the prices of range, dishwasher, refrigerator, freezer and home laundry lines will go up an average of three per cent.

* * *

There are no changes planned in the price of TV sets, the company added, but their price structure is under review.

In Benton Harbor, Mich., a spokesman for the Whirlpool Division of the RCA Corp. said it had no plans at present for a general price increase. He said the division was studying cost factors continually but did not plan any price increase for the present.

* *

At Pittsburgh, Westinghouse Electric Corp. said it was studying the hikes.

At Dayton, Ohio, Frigidaire officials said it too would not comment until the move had been studied.

Thursday Tea to Rejuvenate Tired Shoppers

By SHIRLEY GRAY

The Village Woman's Club this year is setting aside every Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m. for tea. All very informal, in the living room, just the place to stop and meet friends after shopping.

VWC's Living Series will start off Sept. 23 with a talk by Detroit Free Press fashion writer, Marji Kunz, on "The Ins and Outs of Fashion." The October speaker will be Mrs. Helen Boehm, whose late husband won fame for his delicate porcelain bird.

* * *

If you love surprises, then the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Association's fall luncheon meeting Wednesday should be just your cup of tea.

* * *

In connection with the cookbook, called "No Second Fiddle," which the gals will sell for the benefit of the orchestra, there will be a mystery celebrity.

There will also be a fashion show by Saks of Troy. It's all at Oakland Hills Country Club, starting at 11 a.m.

ANOTHER LUNCHEON

Another club in town will be rolling out the red carpet for the ladies at lunch-time that same day, as the Colony Town Club meets at Bloomfield Hills Country Club. Mrs. Philip R. Flanders of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Jesse Vincent of Grosse Pointe will share chairman duties.

* * *

Mrs. David (Karen) DiChiera had the funniest experience during a recent six-month stay in Rome. One of her teeth fell out.

The complications began when her friends warned her that the best place to look for a dentist was anywhere else. Since she has a favorite aunt in Copenhagen, she bundled up Lisa Maria, 2, and trundled off to Denmark. Karen had a lovely visit with her aunt, found a dentist, and got a new tooth.

*

Meanwhile, back in Rome, the plot thickened. Husband David got lonesome and came up to Copenhagen. That meant they had to move to a hotel, where they ended up staying for two weeks.

Then, says the vivacious Karen, "We saw this painting we just had to have."

All in all, a very expensive tooth.

Two weeks after they returned to Rome, the tooth fell out.

Sounds like a plot for an opera.

Maxi Speeds on Fashion Road

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Maxi coats raise questions.

Samples:

Will the friendly local cleaner charge more when confronted by such bulk?

Will members of the girl watchers of America, spoiled by last season's gam-showing coats, stage pout-ins over the lowdown development?

* * *

Will a frolicsome twosome be able to fit into a teeny-tiny sports car if each is wrapped in a maxi coat?

There is no question, of course, about the reaction among broom pushers everywhere. With hems of maxi coats sweeping stairs and floors, there's bound to be a little less dirt for the janitors of America to look after.

The shoetop coats are a steal from hippies of several seasons past, as were the floppy coats, capes and psychedelic print explosions that preceded them. And that raises a notion:

With the legitimate fashion world adopting so many hippie trappings, what'll the hippies don next? Three button suits? Prim little black dresses and opera pumps?

* * *

The maxi coats aren't for everyone. A bulky female cloaked in one will bear some resemblance to a tent — possibly one with a camel inside.

As more and more humans on the American scene, male and female, hide their beautiful bodies inside maxi coats, by the way, there is an added problem for security forces in stores.

SHOPLIFTERS DELIGHT

The maxi, as any veteran store sleuth will testify, can make the work of a deft shoplifter child's play. Shopping bag size compartments hitched to such a coat's interior make nice hiding places for heisted merchandise.

On a more cheerful note the maxi coat might be expected to challenge makers of fashion accessories.

A coat that lowdown, for example, certainly will need a set of splashguards to protect it from the knees down on a rainy day.

* * *

There may be some added business for psychiatrists out of this maxi coat emergence. Can't you see it? This woman on the couch laments:

"When I walk down the street in this coat, people who look me in the eyes seem to be saying — what are you hiding?"

Only the wearer knows.

At left is Mrs. Ralph Donaldson of North Adams Road, Avon Township, with her handwoven pillows. Mrs. Heath Dodge of Ironstone Drive, also Avon Township, is putting some of her pottery pieces on the block. The tole ware (tinware) on the right is done by Mrs. Nelson Vanderpool of Troy. The show is scheduled Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Original Handicrafts, on West Maple Road in West Bloomfield Township.

Pageant Lists Correct Runners-Up Awards

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — A judging error was made Saturday night during the Miss America finals which gave some of the runners-up the incorrect scholarship amount.

Pageant officials Monday gave the following revised list:

Miss America Pamela Eldred, won a $10,000 scholarship.

* * *

First runner-up Miss Ohio, Kathy Lynn Baumann, won a $6,000 scholarship.

Tied for second runnersup were Miss New Jersey, Cheryl Carter, and Miss California Susan Anton, with $3,000 scholarships apiece.

Third runner-up, Miss Minnesota, Judy Mendenhall, received a $2,000 scholarship.

The Continental Shade by Joanna is big news. This unusual, Roman-type shade is interestingly swagged in a rich, silky material available in eight top decorator colors. It is a unique "fold-up" that comes mounted on a standard shade roller, so that installation is simple. Already valanced and fringed, the Continental Shade can act as a complete window treatment that marries well with traditional or contemporary design. Shown here in champagne, it creates a softly draped background while subtly filtering light.

Grocer's Till Gobbles Lots of Inedibles

All of the grocery store bill is not food. More than 20 per cent of the value of those big bags the shopper struggles home with each week is made up of non-food items. Laundry soap and detergents, beer and cigarettes, tissue, children's socks, books, ladies' hose, magazines, encyclopedias, the latest hot-selling phono records and on and on — are all purchased these days in supermarkets.

Consumers buy at the grocery stores about 90 per cent of all cat, dog and bird food; more than half of the toothpaste; half of the aspirin; and nearly half of all the hairspray sold in the country. In fact, in one recent year, consumers spent more on beer, cigarettes and pet food combined than for fresh beef.

* * *

Changes in family eating habits have also raised the grocery bill. In ten years American families have increased their beef eating by 30 per cent in spite of rising beef prices. During the same 10-year period, egg prices have been dropping — and so has consumption — from 356 eggs per person per year down to 318 each in 1968. One of the more startling changes in food spending is for soft drinks. It's now nearly twice that of 10 years ago.

* * *

A homemaker from Iowa has figured it out this way. "... Food is today's best buy. The cash register tape from the supermarket keeps going up but so does the number of non-food items. For example, my 'grocery' bill recently was over $24. This included: 59 cents, dog food — Rover used to eat scraps; $1.79, bug spray — we used to swat, swat; 29 cents, paper napkins — we used to have cloth and wash and iron; 89 cents, fabric softener — we used to hope for a windy day; $1.59, Bandaids and shampoo — we used to go to the drug store for these; $3.75, Thermos bottle and light bulbs — used to go to a hardware store.

* * *

"Deducting these, my groceries cost less than $16.

"I spent time in the supermarket to estimate the floor space devoted to food, luxury foods and non-food items. I was amazed to discover that one-fifth of the area was used for what I call luxury and prepared foods. We, the consumers, pay for this preparation and should not include the wages of a hired girl in the cost of food as such.

Two-fifths of the store area was filled with non-food items. This leaves only two-fifths devoted to plain foods and yet we all complain of the cost at these "food stores."

"Many will think I do not use prepared foods, snacks, pop and candy, and non-food items. I do, but when I bring them home I break the bill down into the proper categories before listing it in the household account book which I have kept since 1959. This book shows that my food bill for 1960 was $971.57 and the household items $347.96; and for 1968, food cost $975.65 and household items, $725.82."

The next time you worry about how much you're spending and how much things cost, think a minute about how you're spending your food money.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Miracle of Mary Sue Street, Independence Township announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances Jean, to Richard LaVern McClelland. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David McClelland of West Walton Boulevard. June 1970 wedding vows are being planned by the couple.

Carolyn Louise Rudlaff and Edmond R. Gunny III are planning a summer, 1970 wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Rudlaff of Brookdale Boulevard announce their daughter's engagement.

Scholarships Announced

The scholarship committee of the Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs has awarded nursing scholarships to Anna Louise Warfield of Troy and Linda Elaine Jones of Holly.

Miss Warfield, daughter of the Russell J. Warfields, is entering her second year of training at Grace Hospital.

Miss Jones graduated from Holly High School in 1969 and will be entering Hurley Hospital School of Nursing at Flint. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Jones of Rattalee Lake Road.

Mrs. Melvin Groves is chairman of the scholarship committee. Other members are Mesdames: Forbes Hascall, John G. Berent, Charles E. Earl, and Harry Vernon.

PTA Council Meets Tonight

The Pontiac PTA Council will meet for the first time at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the Pontiac Northern High School cafeteria.

Michigan PTA Congress President Mrs. Earl Tate of Detroit will address the meeting. Her topic will be "Are you getting your dollars' worth out of the council?"

Hostesses will be Mesdames: L. D. McLauchlin, William Mihalek and Robert Petty.

Cover Design Contest Opens

For the fourth consecutive season the John Fernald Company of the Meadow Brook Theatre is inviting high school art students to enter the cover design competition for each of the eight productions of the 1969-70 season.

The design for the first cover presents an artistic challenge since it must incorporate the mood of two plays. The new season will open Oct. 16 with two one-act plays — Peter Shaffer's "Black comedy" and Edward Albee's "The American Dream."

* * *

Entries for the first competition must be submitted by Sept. 26. A panel of Meadow Brook Theatre judges will select the winning entry and the artist will be awarded two tickets for the opening night performance including a visi. backstage.

* * *

For further information, interested persons may call Mrs. Jane Mosher, director of student-audience programs, Meadow Brook Theatre, Oakland University.

Crafts to Start Club Year at Walnut Lake

A craft demonstration of wall hangings, creating "heirlooms" from such items as tiles, woods, yarn and stained glass, begins the 1969-70 season for Walnut Lake Women's Club tonight.

Sandra E. Callahan, an instructor in the Birmingham Adult Education program, will be the guest speaker.

* * *

Mrs. Kenneth Lang, president, will direct the year's activities of the community service and fellowship club.

She will be assisted by Mesdames Donald Ableson, vice president; A. J. Hammond, treasurer; Warren Linker, Kenneth Mitchell and Miss Betty Jean Utting, secretaries.

Prospective members and guests may attend the 8 p.m. meeting in the West Bloomfield Township Library.

Recently, after a separation lasting 40 years, Mrs. Liselotte Heinicke of Golden and Walter Niebor of Brunswick, Germany, were reunited for a concert in her home. She is 68. Her brother is 70.

H. J. Bergum Heads MARC

Harold J. Bergum of Birmingham was elected president of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children. The 18th annual meeting of the state organization was held in Lansing, Saturday.

In his address, the president-elect urged members to take an active role in establishing programs for the adult retarded, declaring "We will have wasted the taxpayers' money if community interest ends when the retarded grow up."

Mrs. Frank Zuzich of Royal Oak was elected secretary; Ted B. Ostrowski as regional vice president for Oakland, Macomb and Wayne counties; Lee H. McNally, Detroit, vice president; and Robert Beauchamp, Detroit, treasurer.

Britons Still Favor Nice Cup of Tea

LONDON (AP) — Despite the inroads of coffee and more exotic drinks, the average Briton still plumps for a nice cup of tea.

A survey carried out by a women's magazine showed that 83 per cent of housewives buy at least one packet of tea a week, compared with only 33 per cent who buy instant coffee.

Aerosol Foam Aids Cleanup of Picnic Grill

As the summertime picnic season closes, family cookout chefs face the chore of cleaning and storing the charcoal grill for winter.

This job used to mean a messy, dirty Saturday afternoon for someone. However, with the advent of the fast-acting, efficient aerosol oven cleaner product with ammonia, it becomes a five-minute cinch.

The makers of Dow Oven Cleaner offers these timely tips to get the job done:

1. Remove grill rack and place it on a covered work area (newspapers will do).

2. Spray the foamy white cleaner onto the grill surfaces and let it sand for 30 minutes.

3. Wipe the grill clean with a damp cloth or sponge after the waiting time.

4. Admire the clean grill and store it for the season.

Although aerosol foam oven cleaner works in five to 10 minutes in a preheated oven, to clean the grill thoroughly, the extra time is necessary in the open air where cooling time is so rapid.

* * *

The wise chef (or his wife) knows that the end-of-season clean-up is easiest when the grill has been cleaned after each use. However, the efficiency of the aerosol oven cleaner still eases the job.

Opens Town Hall

Barbara Walters of the TV Today Show will open Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall, Inc. series on Oct. 8 in the Huron Theatre.

Reservations for the celebrity luncheon following at Devon Gables, are being taken by Mrs. Fred Cockle of Shawnee Lane.

Worker Should Support Self

By ANNE TAYLOR
AP News Feature

When is the best time for a young man or woman to begin assuming financial obligations that for so long were taken care of by the parents? With the first paycheck — not a day later.

We have received several questions on the subject since this past June's high school and college graduates entered the work force. In almost every instance the parents seem confused about turning over money matters to their children.

* * *

Now there are some obvious reasons why young men and women should be eased into this new area of responsibility. When they have student loans to pay off, for example, or when they face a long apprenticeship, financial help might still be in order.

Generally speaking, however, at least some if not all financial obligation should be taken over by the new worker as soon as he or she can afford to do so.

FIRST JOB

Typical of the letters received is this one from Mrs. T. L., of Fort Wayne, Ind. She writes:

'Our daughter recently began her first job. Although we are paying many of her expenses, we would like to know how she should distribute her money for living expenses if we were not doing so.

* * *

"Her take home pay is $275 a month. She pays $15 a week for room and board and laundry. For a graduation gift we gave her a car and, so far, have assumed the operating costs. Also, we pay her hospitalization insurance of $12.75 a month, as well as her doctor and dentist bills.

"Do you think she should be paying more money for room and board?"

* * *

Dear Mrs. T. L.:

You certainly have been most generous with your daughter. Sometimes, However, the best gift from a parent is not a material thing, but rather the ability to cope with obiligations, thereby gaining independence.

To raise your daughter's room and board may not be the best solution, although that decision might also be dependent upon the needs of your household.

* * *

Instead, I would ask her to assume more of her other obiligations, such as medical expenses and car maintenance. In that way she could learn how to budget her income, which of necessity she will have to learn someday anyway.

The time of the first paycheck is also a good time to make short and long term savings plans, to consider insurance programs and even to begin a small investment account, such as in mutual funds.

* * *

Although budgets vary somewhat with personalities and goals, here is one your daughter might consider as a guideline:

* * *

Room and board $70, automobile $40, clothing and upkeep $35, savings $20, life insurance $15, personal allowance $60, medical and hospitalization $20 and miscellaneous (gifts, contributions) $15.

FOOD IS UP

Dear Miss Taylor:

What is considered an average food cost for a family of two adults and two children, ages six and nine? It seems there is no limit to my food bills — and they keep going up.

Mrs. D. M., Madison, Wis.

Dear Mrs. D.M.:

Agreed. Food prices have risen sharply in the past few months — on top of a more gradual rise in the preceding year. In your area, a family of four must pay $140-145 for a minimal food budget, $175-180 for a moderate plan and a minimum of $220 for a high level of living.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING on a Proposed Ordinance

HEARING DATE: TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1969 at 8 P.M.

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held by the Pontiac City Commission in the Commission Chambers, City Hall, 450 Wide Track Drive, East, Pontiac, Michigan on Tuesday, September 16,

ORDINANCE NO. . . . .

An ordinance to provide minimum standards for Housing in the City of Pontiac, including single family, two-family, and multi-family dwellings, lodging and rooming houses, dormitorys, motels, and all other structures used for human habitation and structures appurtenant thereto in the City of Pontiac, with the exception of hotels as defined in said ordinance, and nursing and convalescent homes and setting forth the responsibilities of owners and occupants of said housing, and to provide penalties and remedies for the violation thereof.

Adopted:
Effective:

The City of Pontiac Ordains:

City of Pontiac HOUSING CODE
Article I General Provisions and Definitions

Section H-100.0 SCOPE

Short Title. This ordinance shall be known and cited as the "City of Pontiac Housing Code" and is referred to herein as the "Housing Code" or "this code."

Purpose: The purpose of this code is to protect the public health, safety and welfare in buildings used for dwelling purposes as herinafter provided by:

1. Establishing minimum standards for basic equipment and facilities for light, ventilation, space heating, and sanitation for safety from fire; for space, use and location; for safe and sanitary maintenance; for cooking equipment in all dwellings in the City of Pontiac.
2. Fixing the responsibilities of owners, operators and occupants of dwellings in the City of Pontiac.
3. Providing for administration, enforcement and penalties.

Matters Covered. The provisions of the Housing Code shall apply to all structures used for human habitation which are now, or may become in the future sub-standard with respect to structure, protection against fire hazard, equipment or maintenance, inadequate provisions for light and air, lack of proper heating, insanitary conditions and overcrowding, or otherwise may be deemed to constitute a menace to the safety, health or welfare of their occupants. The existence of such conditions, factors or characteristics adversely affect public safety, health and welfare and lead to the continuation, extension and aggravation of urban blight. Adequate protection of the public, therefore, requires the establishment and enforcement of these minimum housing standards.

Article I Definitions
Section H-100.0 SCOPE

Unless otherwise expressly stated, the following terms shall, for the purpose of this code, have the meaning indicated in this section.

H-100.1 — Interchangeability. Words used in the present tense include the future, words in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter; the singular number includes the plural and the plural the singular.

H-100.2 — Terms Defined in Building Code. Where terms are not defined in this section and are defined in the City of Pontiac Building Code, they shall have the meanings ascribed to them as in the Building Code.

*Whenever the words "multi-family dwelling," "residence building," "dwelling unit," "rooming house," "rooming unit," or "premises" are used in this code, they shall be construed as though they were followed by the words "or any part thereof."

Article II ADMINISTRATION
Section H-200.0 APPLICABILITY

Every portion of a building or premise used or intended to be used for residential purposes, except hotels serving transient guests only, rest homes, convalescent homes, and nursing homes, shall comply with the provisions of this code, irrespective of when such building shall have been constructed, altered, or repaired, except as hereinafter provided.

H-210.1 — Application of Building Code. Any alterations to buildings, or changes in use therein, which may be caused directly or indirectly by the enforcement of this code shall be done in accordance with applicable sections of the Building Code or other codes and ordinances of the municipality.

H-210.11 — Certificate of Compliance. When any dwelling or dwelling unit shall be caused to be vacated through condemnation, damage by fire or other causes, or rehabilitation, or in case of conversion of the number of units contained in a building, a Certificate of Compliance shall be first obtained prior to occupancy.

H-210.2 — Application of Zoning Law. Nothing in this code shall permit the establishment or conversion of a multi-family dwelling in any zone except where permitted by the zoning law; nor the continuation of such nonconforming use in any zone except as provided therein.

H-212.0 — Existing Buildings. This code establishes minimum requirements for the initial and continued occupancy of all buildings used for human habitation and does not replace or modify requirements otherwise established for the construction, repair, alteration, or use of buildings, equipment or facilities except as provided in this section.

H-212.1 — Existing Remedies. Nothing in this code shall be deemed to abolish or impair existing remedies of the municipality or its officers or agencies relating to the removal or demolition of any buildings which are deemed to be dangerous, unsafe, or insanitary.

H-213.0 — Buildings Converted or Altered. A building, not a dwelling, if hereafter converted or altered such use shall thereupon become subject to all the provisions of this act as well as the Building Code, relative to dwellings, hereafter erected. The spirit of this act will be observed and no conditions injurious to health and safety will result therefrom.

H-214.0 — Alterations and Change of Occupancy. No dwelling hereafter erected shall at any time be altered so as to be in violation of any provision of this act. No dwelling erected prior to the passage of this act shall at any time be altered so as to be in violation of those provisions of this act, the Zoning or Building Codes, applicable to such dwellings.

If any dwelling or any part thereof is occupied by more families than provided for in this act, or is erected, altered, or occupied contrary to law, such dwelling shall be deemed an unlawful structure and the enforcing authority may cause such dwelling to be vacated.

H-216.0 — Dwellings Moved. If any dwelling be hereafter moved from one lot to another, it shall thereupon be made to conform to all the provisions of this act relative to dwellings hereafter erected.

H-218.0 — Emergency Order. Whenever the Housing Official finds that an emergency exists which requires immediate action to protect the health and safety of the residents or of the public, he shall proceed forthwith to issue an order reciting the existence of the emergency and order such remedial action as necessary to meet the emergency. If necessary, to protect the health and safety of the residents or the public health or safety, the Housing Inspector shall order that the premises be vacated forthwith and further that they shall not be reoccupied until the order is complied with or executed. Notwithstanding any other provision of this ordinance any such order or orders shall be effective immediately and complied with in the time and manner prescribed in said emergency order.

H-220.0 — Discontinuance of Service or Utilities. No owner, operator or occupant shall cause any service, facility, equipment or utility, which is required under the ordinance, to be removed from or shut off from or discontinued in any occupied dwelling let or occupied by him, except for such temporary interruption as may be necessary while actual repairs or alterations are in progress, or during the temporary emergencies when discontinuance of service is approved by the Housing Official or other officials of the City of Pontiac.

H-221.0 — Inspections. The Housing Official shall make, or cause to be made, inspections to determine the conditions of dwellings, dwelling units, rooming houses, rooming units, and other premises used as dwellings in order to safeguard the safety, morals, and welfare of the public under the provisions of this code. The Housing Official, upon the showing of proper identification at all reasonable times is authorized to enter and inspect any dwelling unit or part thereof. In cases in which entry to any dwelling, dwelling unit or portion thereof is refused by the owner or occupant, the Housing Official is authorized to apply to a court of competent jurisdiction for a warrant to inspect the same. A warrant for a housing inspection shall be issued by said Court in all cases in which it shall appear that probable cause exists that a dwelling may contain violations of this code or of other codes, laws, and ordinances of the City of Pontiac or State of Michigan applicable to dwellings. For purposes of this section "probable cause" shall be defined in accordance with the law relating to warrants for inspections under housing or health codes.

H-220.0 — Travel Trailers and Mobile Homes. All moveable units used for human habitation, and the areas, grounds, or parcels on which they are located, shall comply with requirements of the Housing Code and laws or ordinances of the municipality applicable thereto. However, the enforcement officer may grant a temporary permit for a maximum period of two weeks, renewable once a year, provided however that no health, safety, or traffic hazards are created thereby to allow occupation of a travel trailer or mobile home on private property where all requirements of this code are not met.

H-223.0 — Lodging Houses. Lodging houses, boarding houses and tourist homes shall comply with the provisions of this code for dwellings, and shall also comply with Ordinance No. 1101 of the City of Pontiac.

Section H-230.0 CORRECTION OF VIOLATIONS

In the case of a violation of this Ordinance where correction is required, but where condemnation or demolition is not justified, a correction notice shall be served upon the owner of record and/or person responsible for the violation.

H-230.1 — Contents of Notice. A Correction Notice issued hereunder shall:

1. Be in writing,
2. Include an identification of the premises where the violation exists sufficient for identification.
3. Specify the violation which exists and the remedial action required,
4. Allow a reasonable time for the performance of any act it requires,

H-230.2 — Service of Notice. A Correction Notice issued hereunder shall be served upon the owner or person responsible for the violation, as follows:

1. By personal delivery, or by leaving the notice at the usual place of abode of the person to whom the notice is directed with a person of suitable age or discretion; or
2. By depositing the notice in the United States Mail, addressed to the person to whom it is directed at his last-known address, the postage prepaid theron; or
3. By posting a copy of the notice in placard form in a conspicuous place on the subject premises; or by both posting and personal delivery or mailing as herein provided.

H-230.3 — Prosecution of Violation. In case any Correction Notice is not complied with within the time set therein, the housing official may request the legal representative to institute an appropriate legal action or proceeding against the property owner or person responsible for the violation, to obtain the following relief:

1. To restrain, correct or remove the violation or refrain from any further execution of work.
2. To restrain, or correct the erection, installation, or alteration of such building,
3. To require the removal of any work in violation,
4. To prevent the occupation or use of the building, structure, or part thereof erected, constructed, installed or altered in violation of. or not in compliance with the provisions of this code, or in violation of a plan or specification under which an approval, permit, or certificate was issued, or
5. To enforce the penalty provisions of this code.

Section H-240.0 CONDEMNATION

H-240.1 — Structures Unfit for Human Occupancy or Dangerous Structures. Whenever the housing official finds that any dwelling constitutes a hazard to the safety, health or welfare of the occupants or to the public because it lacks maintenance, is in disrepair, is insanitary, is vermin-infested or rodent-infested, or because it lacks necessary sanitary facilities or equipment or otherwise fails to comply with the minimum provisions of this code, but has not yet reached such condition as to justify the issuance of a demolition notice as hereinafter provided, he may declare such dwelling to be unfit for human habitation or "condemned" and order it to be vacated.

If any dwelling or any part thereof is occupied by more occupants than permited under this code, or was erected, altered or occupied contrary to law, such dwelling shall be deemed an unlawful structure, and the housing official may cause such dwelling to be vacated. It shall be unlawful to again occupy such dwelling until it or its occupation, as the case may be, has been made to conform to the law.

Any order requiring a dwelling to be vacated shall prescribe the time within which it must be vacated, which may be not less than twenty-four hours nor more than sixty days from the time the order is issued, provided, however, that in cases of extreme immediate danger said order may have immediate effect. Said order shall state the reason for which it is issued.

H-240.2 — Posting of Notice. Any dwelling declared as unfit for human habitation or condemned shall be posted with a placard by the Housing Official. The placard shall include the following:

1. Name of the city,
2. Name of the department having jurisdiction,
3. Section of the code under which it is issued,
4. The requirement that the dwelling, when vacated, must remain vacant until the provisions of the order are complied with and the condemnation notice is withdrawn,
5. The date that the placard is posted, and
6. A statement of the penalty for the defacing or removal of the placard.

H-240.3 — Form of Notice. Whenever the Housing Official has declared a dwelling to be unfit for human habitation or dendemned, he shall give notice to the owner of record and/or occupant of said declaration. Such notice shall:

1. Be in writing,
2. Include an identification of the property or premises sufficient for identification,
3. Include a statement of the reason or reasons why it was issued,
4. State the time within which the dwelling must be vacated,
5. State a time within which violations must be corrected.

H-240.31 — Service of Notice. Service of a Condemnation Notice shall be as follows:

1. By personal delivery, or by leaving the notice at the usual place of abode of the person to whom the notice is directed with a person of suitable age or discretion; or
2. By depositing the notice in the United States Mail (registered mail), addressed to the person to whom it is directed at his last-known address, the postage prepaid thereon; or
3. By posting a copy of the notice in placard form in a conspicuous place on the subject premises; or by both posting and personal delivery or mailing as herein provided.

H-240.32 — Removal of Placard or Notice. No person shall deface or remove the placard from any dwelling which has been declared or placarded as unfit for human habitation or condemned or for any other purpose under this Ordinance, except by authority in writing from the Housing Official.

H-240.40 — Vacating of Declared Building. Any dwelling which has been declared and placarded as unfit for human habitation or condemned by the Housing Official shall be vacated as required by the housing official, and it shall be unlawful for any owner or operator to let to any person for habitation said dwelling or any part thereof, and no person shall occupy any dwelling or part thereof which has been declared or placarded by the Housing Official as condemned after the date set in the declaration.

H-240.41 — Occupancy of Building. No dwelling which has been declared as condemned shall again be used for human habitation until written approval is secured from the Housing Official, and/or a certificate of occupancy is obtained. The housing official shall remove such placard whenever the defect or defects upon which the declaration was based have been eliminated.

H-240.50 — Report of Notice to Vacate. The Housing Official shall furnish a copy of each Notice to Vacate a dwelling to the Chief of the Fire Prevention Bureau, Building Inspector, and any other official of the city concerned therewith.

Section H-250.0 DEMOLITION

Dwellings shall be demolished when determined unfit for human occupation and a hazard to the health, safety and welfare of the occupants or the community as set forth below.

H-250.10 — Structures to be Demolished. Any vacant dwelling that is unsafe, dangerous, or that constitutes a fire or health hazard, for any of the following reasons, shall be deemed to be unsafe dwellings.

1. Inadequate or improper construction or materials, creating a possibility of complete or partial collapse.
2. Gross decay and dilapidation creating a possibility of partial or complete collapse.
3. Damage by fire, windstorm, or other Act of God creating a possiblity of partial or complete collapse.
4. Existence of defects in the heating system or electrical wiring which create a hazard of fire.
5. Infestation of vermin or rodents to the extent that a health hazard to adjacent or nearby premises exists.
6. Gross defects in the plumbing or waste-disposal systems resulting in insanitary conditions which are a hazard to health.
7. The existence of open doors or windows or other openings or means by which entrance may be gained by vandals or other unauthorized persons, without breaking into the premises, creating a hazard of fire and a haven for possible illegal activities.
8. Any other condition on the premises which creates a danger to the public or to other property.

In cases where the estimated costs of rehabilitation exceed the estimated value of the premises if rehabilitation were complete, then said dwelling shall be demolished and removed from said premises.

In cases where the estimated cost of rehabilitation does not exceed the estimated value of the premises if rehabilitation were complete, said building shall be rehabilitated so that it complies with all the requirements of this Code, and all of the codes and ordinances of the City pertaining to dwellings, or in the alternative shall be demolished and removed from the premises.

H-250.20 — Demolition Notice. The Director of Housing Code Enforcement shall issue a written notice requiring the demolition and removal of all unsafe dwellings, which shall be known as a Demolition Notice. In cases where the estimated cost of rehabilitation of the unsafe dwelling does not exceed the estimated value of the premises if rehabilitation were complete, the notice shall provide that the dwelling may, in the alternative, be rehabilitated so that it complies with all of the requirements of this Code and all codes and ordinances of the City pertaining to dwellings.

H-250.21 Contents of Notice. Said notice shall contain:

1. A description of the real estate and the specific dwelling sufficient for identification
2. A statement of the reasons for which it is being issued.
3. The requirement that the dwelling be demolished and removed from the premises in accordance with all laws and ordinances of the City within a stipulated time, or when applicable, that it, in the alternative, be rehabilitated and made safe and secure.

H-250.22 Posting of Notice. Any dwellings upon which a demolition notice is issued shall be posted by the Housing Official. The notice shall include the following:

1. Name of the city.
2. Name of the authorized department.
3. Reason or reasons why the notice was issued
4. Date the notice was posted
5. Description of the dwelling sufficient for identification

H-250.23 — Serving of Demolition Notice. Serving of a demolition notice shall be as follows:

1 By personal delivery, or by leaving the notice at the usual place of abode of the person to whom the notice is directed with a person of suitable age or discretion; or
2. By depositing the notice in the United States Mail, by registered or certified mail, addressed to the person to whom it is directed at his last-known address. the postage prepaid thereon; or
3. By posting a copy of the notice in placard form in a conspicuous place on the subject premises; or by both posting and personal delivery or mailing as herein provided

H-250.25 Removal of Notice. No person shall deface or remove a demolition notice from any dwelling which has been posted or placarded for demolition, except by authority in writing from the Housing Official

H-250.40 — Enforcement of Demolition Notice In case any demolition notice is not promptly complied with in accordance with its terms, the Housing Official may request the legal representative of the City to commence an appropriate action in a court of competent jurisdiction against the owner or owners of the subject dwelling:

1. To enforce the penalty provisions of this code.
2. To obtain an order requiring compliance with the demolition notice by demolition and removal of the dwelling
3. To obtain an order requiring compliance, and providing in the alternative that if compliance does not occur within thirty days, that the City of Pontiac is authorized to enter said property and to enforce compliance with the demolition notice by demolition and removal of the offending dwelling from the premises, and that if this occurs the City shall be authorized to assess the costs of the demolition and the cost of the legal proceedings against the property upon which the dwelling is located as a special assessment
4. Nothing herein shall prevent the Housing Official from taking any other action or remedy that may be provided by law

H-250.41 — Report of Demolition Notice. The Housing Official shall notify the Building Inspection Department, Chief of the Fire Prevention Bureau, the City Assessor's Office, and any other designated official or department of the City as required of each demolition notice issued.

H-250.5 — Occupancy of Dwelling No dwelling upon which a demolition notice has been issued shall again be used for human habitation or any type of occupancy, in whole or in part, except in cases in which the notice has been rescinded and a certificate of compliance issued by the Housing Official

Section H-260.0 RIGHT OF APPEAL

H-522.00 — Screens. Every occupant shall hang and remove all screens required for his dwelling unit by this Code except those the owner is required to hang as provided in Section 508.00 of this Code.

H-523.00 — Extermination of Insects. Every occupant shall exterminate any insects, rodents or other pests infesting his dwelling unit unless the owner is required to exterminate them as provided in section H-506 of this Code.

H-524.00 — Use and Operation of Supplied Plumbing Fixtures. Every occupant of a dwelling unit shall keep the supplied plumbing fixtures therein clean and sanitary and shall be responsible for the exercise of reasonable care in their proper use and operation.

H-525.00 — Installation and Care of Plumbing Fixtures Furnished by Occupant. Every plumbing fixture furnished by the occupant of a dwelling unit shall be properly installed and shall be maintained in good working condition, kept clean and sanitary, and free of defects, leaks or obstructions.

H-526.00— Sub-Letting or Sub-Leasing. No occupant shall sub-let or sub-lease any portion of the dwelling or dwelling unit which he occupies in such a manner that this further letting violates any of the provisions of this Code.

Article VI Enforcement
Section H-620.00 SCOPE

It shall be the duty and responsibility of the Director of the Division of Housing and Code Enforcement of the City of Pontiac and his authorized assistants and subordinates, hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "Housing Official" to enforce the provisions of the Housing Code as herein provided. The Chief of the Fire Prevention Bureau and his authorized assistants and subordinates shall be authorized to enforce the provision of this ordinance relative to multiple dwellings.

H-620.10 — Coordination of Enforcement. Inspection of premises and the issuing of orders in connection therewith under the provisions of this code shall be the exclusive responsibility of the Director of the Division of Housing and Code Enforcement, of the Department of Planning and Urban Renewal of the municipality, and his authorized assistants and subordinates. Wherever, in the opinion of this Division, it is necessary or desirable to have inspections of any condition by any other department they shall arrange for this to be done in such manner that the owners or occupants of buildings shall not be subjected to visits by numerous inspectors nor to multiple or conflicting orders. No order for correction of any violation under this code shall be issued without the approval of the Director of the Division of Housing and Code Enforcement, and it shall be the responsibility of the official before issuing any such order to determine that it has the concurrence of any other department or official of the municipality concerned with any matter involved on the case in question.

H-620.20 — Administrative Liability. Except as may otherwise be provided by statute or local law or ordinance, no officer, agent, or employee of the municipality charged with the enforcement of the Housing Code shall render himself personally liable for any damage that may accrue to persons or property as a result of any act required or permitted in the discharge of his duties under this code. No person who institutes, or assists in the prosecution of a criminal proceeding under this code shall be liable to damages hereunder unless he acted with actual malice and without reasonable grounds for believing that the person accused or prosecuted was guilty of an unlawful act or omission. Any suit brought against any officer, agent, or employee of the municipality, as a result of any act required or permitted in the discharge of his duties under this code, shall be defended by the legal representative of the municipality or counsel furnished by the municipality until the final determination of the proceedings therein.

H-620.30 — Conflict with Other Ordinances. Except as provided in Section H-212.00, in any case where a provision of this code is found to be in conflict with a provision of any zoning, building, fire, safety, or health ordinance or code of this municipality existing on the effective date of this code, the provision which establishes the higher standard for the promotion and protection of the safety and health of the people shall prevail. In any case where a provision of this code is found to be in conflict with a provision of any other ordinance or code of this municipality existing on the effective date of this code which establishes a lower standard for the promotion and protection of safety and health of the people, the provisions of this code shall prevail, and such other ordinances or codes are hereby declared to be repealed to the extent that they may be found in conflict with this code. Ordinance No. 1127 of the City of Pontiac, as amended, is repealed only to the extent its substantive provisions may be in conflict herewith, and no remedy provided therein is repealed by this ordinance.

H-620.40 — Penalty for Violations. Every person, firm, or corporation who shall violate any provision of this code shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars and costs of prosecution, or by imprisonment not to exceed ninety days, or both said fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court. Each day that a violation continues after due notice has been served in accordance with the terms and provisions hereof shall be deemed a separate offense.

H-620.50 — Severability. In any section, sub-section, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this code shall be declared invalid for any reason whatsoever, such decision shall not affect the remaining portions of this code which shall continue in full force and effect; and to this end the provisions of this code are hereby declared to be severable.

H-620.61 — Saving Clause. This code shall not affect violations of any other ordinance, code or regulation for the municipality existing prior to the effective date hereof and any such violation shall be governed and shall continue to be punishable to the full extent of the law under the provisions of those ordinances, codes or regulations in effect at the time the violation was committed.

H-620.70 Liens. In any case arising under the terms of this Code in which a violation exists which presents a serious and immediate hazard to public health or safety and the person responsible neglects or refuses to take corrective action, the enforcement officer or his agent is authorized to enter upon the property in question and abate the hazardous condition by whatever action is necessary. In cases in which such action is taken, the cost thereof shall be borne by the responsible party under the terms of this Code. If this cost is not paid, it shall be a lien upon the real property upon which the violation existed. In such case, the enforcement officer shall report to the legal representative the amount of the lien, the legal description of the property, and the responsible party. The legal representative shall file a notice of the existence of the lien with the Register of Deeds and is authorized to maintain an action at law for the collection thereof, either from the responsible party under the terms hereof or against said property. Said lien may also be enforced by assessment against said property as a special assessment.

H-620.80 — Lis Pendens. In any case in which a notice has been issued under the terms of Article II of this code, a notice thereof in the form of a Lis Pendens notice, may be filed with the Register of Deeds for Oakland County, in regard to the parcel of property on which the violation is located. Said notice shall contain the legal description of the subject property, shall recite the nature of the violation, and contain information as to where further information can be obtained.

This ordinance will take effect ten (10) days from and after its final passage by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac.

Made and passed by the Commission of the City of Pontiac on the ..... day of ......, 1969.

'Like Obituary' Says Golf Classic Director

THE PONTIAC PRESS
SPORTS
TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1969 B—1

Sponsoring any major event in sports or entertainment today is costly and a sure risk; and a $100,000 golf tournament is a major sponsorship despite the attitude of the touring pros.

There was a time not too long ago that a $50,000 purse for a golf tournament was the big event on the pro golf tour.

Today, many of the big names of the tour snub many of the $100,000 events and leave a tournament like the Michigan Golf Classic in the hands of the "rabbits" as the golfers are known who manage to get a little bite of the prize money behind the top 50 winners.

They are even in the process of setting up a "satellite," tour to let the no-namers get their share of the $6 million in sponsorship.

Only two of the top 20, sixteen of the top 50 and only 46 of the top 100 of the tour's best golfers were in the field.

What happened at Shenandoah in regard to withholding the purse because of "no funds" ought to be warning enough to the national golf organizations, the touring pros and the "satellite" boosters.

MANY SHARE BLAME

There are a lot of people who must share the blame and there is no reason to bury tournament golf in Michigan because of what happened.

The Buick Open has for several years has neared the axe of death as a tour stop, because the top pros seem to come up with bad backs and sore shoulders at the same time each year, but the Buick people have continued sponsorship as a vote of confidence and faith in the pro golf circuit.

We can't condone the Michigan Golf Classic Corporation's inability to stand behind its commitment, but we would also like to point out that for many months now, the elite of the touring pros have been biting the hands of the sponsors who have fed them since infancy. Now they have been bitten in return.

★ ★ ★

It is a shame it had to happen here in Michigan, one of the finest golf states in the country, a state which boosts some of the great courses in the land and an area which shows its loyalty to the game as evidenced by its leadership each year in the National Golf Day Foundation Fund.

When a sponsor comes up with a $100,000 event there's responsibility on both sides.

The sponsors should show financial ability or escrow, and the contracting golf representatives should produce the cast to make the production successful.

This was a PGA sponsored event, and it was contracted during the break with the APGA, which formed and later became known as the Tournament Players Division of the PGA under Commissioner Joe Dey, Jr.

NO TOP NAMES

With hardly a top name in the field, one couldn't even give away tickets for the tournament at Shenandoah.

This shows the lack of faith and cooperation by the Tournament Players Division in its new affiliation with the PGA and it also gives the touring group something it deserves, a kick in the shins from golf fans as well as sponsors who shell out the money to see major league golf and not satellite tournaments.

The sad part of this mess is that the scrambling young golfers trying to move into upper echelon of the sport are the ones who are the victims.

They were let down by the Nicklauses, Palmers, Players, Caspers, Hills, Trevinos, Littlers, Aarons, Sikeses, etc., whose back pains may have been caused by carrying their Monday morning deposits to the bank.

OFFICIALS AT FAULT

Of course, the Michigan Golf Classic officials can't be let off the hook at all.

The handling of the tournament from the day of its announcement was bush league all the way. They wanted to promote a champagne event with beer money.

★ ★ ★

The handwriting, as to the flop of the tournament, was on the wall from the day when the first press conference was held last December when only two press representatives attended.

As late as two weeks before the tournament, when the same two Detroit writers had the only knowledge of a press conference being held, newsmen from the other areas of the state were calling our department at The Press being the most local paper to the site, to find out the where's and the what's of the tournament.

We were able to give them and the many fans who called the dates and the directions to Shenandoah but not too much more.

Certainly, golf in Michigan has been embarrassed, but let's divide the fault with the sponsors of the tournament, the National PGA and its Tournament Players Division.

There have been many great tournaments held in Michigan and our state still deserves some of the best, if and when the touring pros get off their high horses to pick up $100,000 cash purses and not treat them as if they were a bag of crumbs, reserved for their "satellites."

As William L. Mainland, an Oakland County supervisor from Milford stated, but was incorrectly quoted in a Detroit report, "If the audit showed that this could be salvaged, to save our area from a black eye, it would seem like the proper thing for all sports people and friends of golf to bail this thing out."

We would agree with Mr. Mainland and we would applaud if the Michigan Section of the PGA and the members of the Michigan Golf Association, neither of which carries any blame in the mess, would provide the leadership in this thought.

Two Members of Golf Group Fire Volleys

By FLETCHER SPEARS

"It's a little like getting up and reading your own obituary," said Marshall Chambers as he discussed the latest round in the $100,000 Michigan Golf Classic, an event that became the golf goof Sunday when sponsors revealed there wasn't enough cash in the kitty to pay the players.

That was Chambers' reaction to criticism leveled at him yesterday for his role in the Golf Classic by Phillip Lachman of Birmingham, treasurer of Michigan Golf Classic, Inc., (MGC) sponsor of the event.

★ ★ ★

Chambers served as executive director for the tournament, a paid employee of MGC, which lists as its president, John Brennan, manager of Oakland Hills Country Club.

"They've got to find a scapegoat," says Chambers of Lachman and Brennan, who are faced with the responsibility of coming up with $100,000 to pay off the players.

'HOLDING BAG'

"I think I'm left holding the bag. Lachman has no recourse. He knew what was going on because he was appraised of everything," said Chambers.

★ ★ ★

At a press conference yesterday, Lachman heaped blame on Chambers, whose duties included promotion and other arrangements for the event. Lachman was to handle the financial end of it.

"I've been trying very hard to keep my cool," said Lachman, owner of a Detroit trophy house. "I've been taken by a terrific smoothie," he added.

★ ★ ★

The day-to-day operation of the tournament was Chambers' responsibility. The tournament failed to draw, for a myriad of reasons, and thus fizzled at the gate. Some estimates placed the four-day attendance at less than 10,000.

Consequently, Larry Ziegler, the 30-year-old Missourian who won the tournament in a sudden-death playoff over Homero Blancas, became the most surprised person around—for two reasons.

THREE-YEAR LEASE

He was surprised he won, and taken aback that he won nothing more than a trophy and a three-year lease on a new car. The first prize was supposed to be $20,000.

★ ★ ★

Chambers did say he felt Lachman could have paid off Sunday and avoided the public laundry washing.

"I think he could have paid off then. It's my understanding he was so advised by his friends and attorney. He could

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Los Angeles outfielder Willie Davis, who broke the all-time Dodger team record by hitting safely in 31 consecutive games, Monday was selected the National League's "Player of the Month" for August. Davis' batting average during August was .459.

'Stick' Pokes Big Singles Over Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Gene Michael is nicknamed "stick" because of his lanky appearance. But although the name is appropriate, the reason is obsolete.

Michael, always regarded as a fine glove man, poked in two New York runs with singles as the Yankees trimmed the Detroit Tigers 3-2 Monday night behind Mike Kekich's pitching.

★ ★ ★

The teams were to meet again tonight with Mike Kilkenny, 4-5, pitching for Detroit against New York's Fritz Peterson, 15-13.

★ ★ ★

"It's probably the most amazing thing I can think of," said Yankee manager Ralph Houk of Michael's hitting. Houk gave him the shortstop job earlier in the year primarily because of his his fielding ability and just prior to an injury to Tom Tresh, who has since been traded to Detroit.

★ ★ ★

"Before Tresh was injured Houk told me 'You're the shortstop until you play yourself out,'" Michael said in the dressing room.

SCHOOL TEACHER

At the start of the season the 31-year-old Ohioan, who is a school teacher in the off season, had an anemic major league average of .196. He broke into the big leagues with Pittsburgh in 1966 and played with Los Angeles the next year before being obtained by New York in winter of 1967.

Orlick in Defense of Brennan

PGA Official Backs Promoter

A national PGA official has rushed to the defense of one of the embattled promoters of the Michigan Golf Classic.

"I have every confidence in John Brennan as a man of integrity," said Warren Orlick, national secretary of the Professional Golfers Association, "and the other two, also. I don't think they would do anything that would reflect adversely on golf."

When the $100,000 tournament closed, there wasn't enough money to pay the bills, creating a situation more like a Michigan Golf Comedy.

HEAD ORGANIZATION

Michigan Golf Classic, Inc., was the sponsor. Brennan, of Birmingham, is president of the organization and Phil Lachman, also of Birmingham, the treasurer. Marshall Chambers of Bloomfield Hills was executive director for the event.

★ ★ ★

"I've known Brennan a long time," said Orlick. "He's such a person of high caliber. I have every reason to believe they will clear up a situation that seems to be out of order.

NO DOUBTS

"I have to believe it's nothing more than getting their facts and figures together to see where they stand. I'm sure the players will be quickly paid."

★ ★ ★

None of the purse money was distributed. Larry Ziegler of Missouri, winner of the event, was the biggest loser . . . at least until all is settled. He was supposed to collect $20,000.

Shenandoah Golf & country Club only leased its facilities to Michigan Golf Classic Inc. but the association has brought the club some undue criticism.

It prompted officials of the club to issue this word last night.

NO INVOLVEMENT

"After a conversation with Mr. Joe Dey Jr., commissioner of the tournament players division of the PGA, we are issuing the following statement:

★ ★ ★

"Shenandoah Golf & Country Club leased its golf course to Michigan Golf Classic Inc., but had no involvement in the financing of the Michigan Golf Classic. Shenandoah was merely the host club and its members assisted on a voluntary basis. No member or officers of Shenandoah were promotors, officers or directors of the Michigan Golf Classic Inc. Shenandoah Golf & CC along with the PGA regrets the turn of events at the Michigan Golf Classic."

The statement was signed Shenandoah Golf & Country Club. The club leased the course to the sponsors of the event for $15,000, an amount which is in escrow. The sponsors still owe some money to the club for such services as food, drinks, etc. for the week. Officials said, however, the final tab on these items was not complete and that no bill had been presented to Michigan Golf Classic Inc. to date.

Greatest Tiger Team Honors Set Sept. 21

The living members of the Greatest Detroit Tiger Team will be honored Sunday, Sept. 21 at a pregame ceremony at Tiger Stadium. The team was selected in votes by Michigan fans in connection with baseball's centennial celebration.

Those to be saluted in person are Charley Gehringer, Hank Greenberg, Al Kaline, George Kell, Denny McLain, Hal Newhouser, and Billy Rogell. Deceased members of the team are Ty Cobb, Mickey Cochrane and Harry Heilmann.

Spanish Netter Upsets Dutch Ace in Pro Meet

EVANSTON, Ill (AP) — Andres Gimeno of Spain upset third-seeded Tom Okker of Holland Monday night in the opening round of the $25,000 Planters Chicago Pro Tennis Championships at Northwestern University.

Because of rain delays at the U.S. Open Championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., several of the top players, including topseeded John Newcombe and second-seeded Tony Roche, both of Australia, were unavailable for the opening round of the four-day tournament.

Gimeno defeated Okker 7-5, 4-6, 6-2 and Butch Buchholz of St. Louis, the No. 7 seed, downed Nickie Pilic of Yugoslavia 8-6, 4-6, 6-2.

N.L. Pennant Races Tighten

By the Associated Press

The National League East has taken on the look of the National League West, which could lead to the most complicated windup to the pennant races in baseball's 100-year history.

The New York Mets and Commissioner Bowie Kuhn were the instruments of the latest developments Monday, the Mets tightening the Eastern race even further by defeating front-running Chicago 3-2 just hours after Kuhn had announced multiple plans covering all playoff possibilities.

* * *

Those possibilities moved closer to becoming probabilities—and forcing the first double playoff in history—as the Mets trimmed another length off the Cubs' lead and tightened the NL East race into NL West proportions.

The Mets' victory drew them even with the Cubs in the loss column, just 1½ games behind the leaders—the closest they've been since the third day of the season. At the same time, Pittsburgh closed to within 6½ of the top with a 6-2 triumph over Montreal.

REDS LEAD

In the West, meanwhile, the juggling continued with Cincinnati taking over first place from San Francisco, by one-half game, with a doubleheader sweep over the Giants by identical 5-4 scores, although the nightcap took 15 innings.

Los Angeles moved into third, just 1½ behind, by edging Atlanta 2-0 while, in other games, Houston stayed up there with a 9-2 blasting of San Diego and St. Louis nipped Philadelphia 4-3.

Under baseball's new four-division format, the first-place teams in each league will meet in league playoffs prior to the World Series starting in the American League city Oct. 11. Kuhn's new plans cover playoffs leading to the playoffs.

* * *

If two teams in any division tie a one-game playoff on Oct. 3 will determine the winner. In a three-way tie, two teams will meet head-on Oct. 3 while one draws a bye and meets the winner Oct. 4. If four teams tie, there will be two games Oct. 3 with the survivors meeting Oct. 4.

The Mets closed in on Chicago with Tommie Agee providing the impetus. Agee whacked a two-run homer in the third inning, then doubled in the sixth and scored the winning run on Wayne Garrett's single. That tagged the loss on Bill Hands, now 16-13.

SEVEN-HITTER

Jerry Koosman, 13-9, got the victory with a seven-hitter after the Cubs had tied the score in the top of the sixth on singles by Don Kessinger, Glenn Beckert and Billy Williams and a sacrifice fly by Ron Santo.

The Reds won the opener when Johnny Bench tagged Giants' starter Juan Marichal, 17-10, for a two-run homer in the eighth inning.

* * *

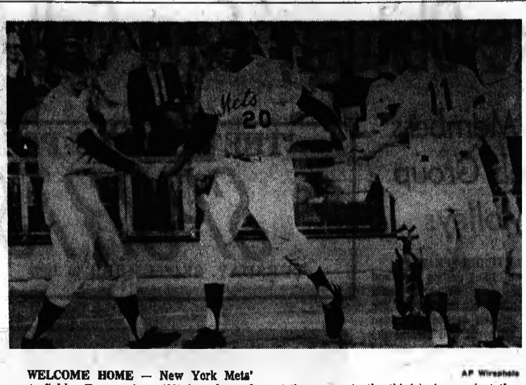
Then, after being held hitless for 10 consecutive innings by San Francisco relievers Ron Herbel, Don McMahon and Frank Linzy, the Reds put the nightcap away in the 15th on an infield hit by pinch hitter Ted Savage, a sacrifice, an intentional walk to Pete Rose and Bobby Tolan's single.

The Pirates ran their winning streak to four games, and made it 14 victories in their last 20 games, by coming from behind in the ninth inning on a grand slam homer by Jose Martinez. The homer was the first for Martinez in the majors.

A home run from another unlikely source, Ted Sizemore, brought Los Angeles its victory over Atlanta. Sizemore's two-run shot in the third inning—only his second homer and botb in Atlanta—gave the Dodgers the only runs they needed behind Bill Singer and Jim Brewer.

The Astros put it out of San Diego's reach with a four-run first built on triples by Joe Morgan and Jesus Alou, a wild pitch, a walk and a homer by Curt Blefary. That was enough for Tom Griffin, who posted his 10th victory despite two homers by Nate Colbert.

Mike Shannon's two-run homer boosted the Cardinals lead over the Phillies to 4-0 in the sixth inning and turned out to be the clinching blow when Philadelphia struck back in the ninth on a three-run homer by Johnny Briggs.



WELCOME HOME — New York Mets' centerfielder Tommy Agee (20) is welcomed at home plate by Bud Harrelson (left) and Wayne Garrett after hitting his 26th homer of the season in the third inning against the Chicago Cubs in Shea Stadium to give the Mets a 3-2 victory. AP Wirephoto

Twins, A's Lose

Action Is Slow in AL

By the Associated Press

Baltimore and Minnesota didn't do very much Monday night—the Orioles were rained out and the Twins lost—but still drew closer to the expected October playoff for the American League pennant.

While the Orioles were washed out of their scheduled meeting with the Washington the second-place Detroit Tigers bowed to the New York Yankees 3-2 and fell 15 games back. Baltimore's magic number to clinch the AL East dropped to eight.

In the West, California whipped Minnesota 6-4 but runner-up Oakland lost to Kansas City 7-3. The Twins remained 8½ games in front and their magic number is 16.

Elsewhere, Boston nipped Cleveland 5-4 and Seattle swept the Chicago White sox 2-1 and 5-1 as rookie Miguel Fuentes hurled a seven-hitter in his first major league start.

The Angels did a thorough job on Minnesota routing 17-game winner Jim Perry and halting Ted Uhlaender's 20-game hitting streak, longest in the league this season.

Rudy May, 8-11, needed help from Ken Tatum in the eighth and the rookie right-hander posted his 18th save. Perry was seeking to match his career high in victories, set with Cleveland in 1960, but came away instead with his sixth loss.

California nicked Perry for two runs in the third—Sandy Alomar scoring the first one when he sped home from third base on Jim Fregosi's looping pop to second baseman Cesar Tovar in shallow right field. The Angels added four more in the fifth, Alomar igniting the uprising with a single.

Bob Allison cracked a three-run homer for the Twins in the sixth.

Rookie Al Fitzmooris posted his first big league victory with three innings of scoreless relief as Kansas City sent slump-ridden Oakland to its 11th defeat in 14 games.

Bob Oliver's two-run pinch homer in the fifth wiped out a 3-1 Oakland lead and Lou Piniella drove in the go-ahead run in the eighth with a sacrifice fly. The Royals added three more in the ninth, two on Joe Keough's single.

BOSOX LIFTED

George Scott's two-run, two-out single in the eighth lifted the Red Sox past Cleveland. Rico Petrocelli and Tony Conigliaro homered for Boston.

Fuentes, a 20-year-old right-hander brought up last week from the Pilots' Class A farm team in the Midwest League, lost his shutout against the White Sox in the eighth when Angel Bravo tripled and scored on a single by Walt Williams.

RETIRES — Washington Redskins' pass receiver Bobby Mitchell formally announced his retirement from the team Monday. Mitchell, the top active receiver in the National Football League with 521 catches for 7,953 yards over the past 10 years, will remain with the club in an administrative position.

Card Boss Not Tossing in Towel

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Red Schoendienst says he hasn't tossed in the towel in the National League pennant race even if some of his players think he has given up.

Schoendienst, manager of the defending champion St. Louis Cardinals, said Monday night that "as long as we're breathing, we've got a chance. It's going to be hard with three clubs to catch, but as long as we're mathematically alive I haven't given up."

* * *

The 46-year-old Schoendienst answered a blast in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat to the effect that some veteran Cardinals thought their skipper was using too many rookies with the pennant still up for grabs.

A story by Globe-Democrat baseball writer Jack Herman quoted unnamed St. Louis players as saying they felt Schoendienst was throwing in the towel too early.

The manager allegedly was criticized by his players for using rookies in the No. 3 and No. 5 batting positions last weekend against Montreal.

TWO INJURED

After the Cardinals defeated the Philadelphia Phillies Monday night, 4-3, with the help of a two-run homer by Mike Shannon, Schoendienst defended his moves. He said veteran outfielder Vada Pinson and catcher Tim McCarver have been hurt, forcing certain changes.

"I thought they (the rookies) could help us; that's why I put them there," Schoendienst said. He referred to such youngsters as Joe Hague, Leron Lee, Ted Simmons, Jerry DaVanon and others.

* * *

"Nobody put them there but me," Schoendienst emphasized. Nobody, not my coaches or anybody else. I put them there. I don't think my players said those things.

"The whole story is that we lost before the younger players got here, and we've lost a few while they've been here."

Schoendienst said, "I put the team out there I feel can win. We weren't winning with the other guys. We've had great opportunities all year but our offense broke down.

Unearned Tally Defeats Detroit in Softball Tilt

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Stratford, Conn., got an unearned run in the last of the seventh inning and edged Detroit 2-1 Monday night in the men's National Softball Tournament.

In another winners' bracket game, the Armed Forces team shut out Portland, Ore., 4-0 with Bill Godwin pitching a one-hitter. Ed Worrell, Portland's lead-off man, smacked Godwin's first pitch for a single, but he was invincible after that.

Mesa, Ariz., eliminated Oklahoma City 3-1 in the losers' bracket.

Defending champion Aurora, Ill., knocked out Clearwater, Fla., 4-1.

Another Cutdown in Pros

49ers Trade George Mira to Eagles

By the Associated Press

George Mira got what he wanted but a host of other veterans didn't. Bobby Mitchell chose to avoid the whole issue.

Mira, five-year quarterback with the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League, was traded to the Philadelphia Eagles and wide receiver Bobby Mitchell announced his retirement from the Washington Redskins on a busy Monday at football's market place and chopping block.

* * *

American Football League clubs made their final, no-recall cuts to reach the 40-man limit. NFL teams got down to 44 men, and will make their final, no-recall cuts to 40 Sept. 15.

Mira, who had often said he wanted to be traded, was dealt to the Eagles for veteran lineman Randy Beisler and two draft choices. Mira played in the shadow of John Brodie for most of his career. His departure opens the No. 2 spot to Steve Spurrier.

Beisler, the Eagles' first draft pick in 1966, has played both defensive end and offensive tackle.

ACHING LEGS

Mitchell, his pride aching as much as his legs, announced his retirement from the Washington Redskins of the NFL, saying he couldn't stand being part of the team and sitting on the bench.

"This is a sad moment," said the No. 1 pass receiver among NFL active players. "After 20 years of playing it is hard to turn loose something you love."

Mitchell, a 34-year-old wide receiver, said his legs were making it hard to run even 10 yards with his old dash. He was being used as a reserve end this year. Coach Vince Lombardi said Mitchell will take a front office job on the club's player personnel staff.

* * *

Mitchell leaves an impressive legacy. He is No. 2 in total yardage for passes, rushing and kickoff returns with 14,078 yards—a record surpassed only by the great Jim Brown, his former teammate on the Cleveland Browns.

He is also No. 2 on the all-time list in pass receiving with 521 catches for 7,953 yards, trailing only the retired Raymond Berry of the Baltimore Colts.

RUNNING BACK

Mitchell was traded to Washington from Cleveland, where he had been a running back, in 1962 for the late Ernie Davis.

In two other trades, the Cincinnati Bengals of the AFL sent running back Warren McVea to the Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL for placekicker-punter Horst Muhlmann and the New Orleans Saints of the NFL dealt safety George Youngblood to the Chicago Bears of the NFL for a draft choice.

The list of transactions: American League

NEW YORK—Cut defensive tackle Carl McAdams, running back Billy Joe and wide receiver Bill Rademacher; placed offensive tackle Paul Siler on military reserve.

CINCINNATI—Traded running back Warren McVea to Kansas City for placekicker-punter Horst Muhlmann; cut center John Matlock; defensive lineman Ruby Jackson, guard Bob Kruse, running back Greg Broughton, guard Mike Wilson.

Fast Start for 'D' Champion

(First of a Series)

By The Associated Press

Defending champion DeTour again looms as the chief obstacle hopefuls will have to get around in their drives to take over the No. 1 spot in the Michigan Class D high school football poll conducted by the Associated Press.

Last year only a 13-13 tie with fourth-ranked Cheboygan Catholic early in the season prevented coach Darryl Ledy's Red Raiders (7-0-1) from having a perfect mark.

* * *

Back to lead the state's No. 1 ranked team is quarterback sensation Martin Ledy the coach's cousin, who's already rang up 3,250 yards and 39 touchdowns along the air lanes over the past three years.

His top receiver, Tim Tischer, has graduated, so end Dennis Bender and halfback Joe Dumback, both veterans, will be the prime targets. Bender also does all the kicking.

INITIAL VICTORY

The Red Raiders already have one convincing win under their pads, clouting Cedarville, 42-0, in the season's opener as Ledy fired five touchdown passes and accounted for 210 air yards.

In addition to the tie, veteran coach Leo Yeck guided Cheboygan Catholic to a 7-0-1 record and a share of the Eastern Upper Peninsula Conference crown with DeTour last season. Again this year, at last, the head-on collision of the two 'D' giants should go a long way toward determining final poll positions.

Grass Lake, No. 2 AP team last year at 9-0, will count on such standouts as halfback Harry Herendeen and linebacker Tim Carlisle in a bid to slide around DeTour.

Third-ranked Mendon lost coach Lynn Tyson to the business world but former assistant Bob Critz inherits a good nucleus from last year's 8-0 squad. Big problem will be finding a replacement for quarterback Bob Jones who passed and ran for 18 touchdowns over 1,000 yards in leading Mendon to its greatest football season ever.

Some other Class D teams that drew raves from grid observers included.

Ferndale St. James, 8-1 and tied for sixth in the polls a year ago, where 21 lettermen returned to put a smile on the face of coach John Shada.

* * *

Sand creek, 7-0-1 and River Raisin champs for the second straight year, where 15 lettermen are back including seven offensive starters. All-State fullback Harold Bailey has departed but brother Paul, a halfback, and quarterback Chuck Risner returned in the backfield, as does lineman Mike Coon.

Fledgling Pro Places First in Tournament

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Mel Mzhickteno, serving his first year as a golfing pro at Marywood Country Club at Battle Creek, captured the Michigan Pro-Pro Best Ball Tournament Monday.

* * *

Mzhickteno teamed with Bill Bisdorf of Grosse Ile Country Club, firing a 10-under-par 67-67—134 over the Battle Creek Country Club course.

Mike Souchak of Birmingham teamed with Tommy Cosmos of Birmingham, coming in second with 65-70—135.

Tied for third place were Mac McElmurry of Birmingham and Bill Molenda of Warren, with 67-69—136, and Glenn Stuart of Battle Creek and Brien Charter of Jackson, with 67-69—136.

* * *

The winner took home $425. Bisdorf was champion last year when he was teamed with Bob Panasiuk.

A highlight of the event was the hole-in-one shot by Carl Hegenauer, 52, of Edmore. Hegenauer, who accomplished the feat with a No. 2 iron on the 191-yard 12th hole, said it was his first hole-in-one in 44 years of golfing.

Fair Sharing First

No Help for Firebirds

The Pontiac Firebirds, who were hoping to be sitting in first place all alone today in the Central Division of the MFL, now realize that if they want to win the title they will have to do it without help from anyone.

After defeating the Southwest Michigan Hawks, 20-12, the F-Birds were expecting to hear the result from Dayton that Lansing had been beaten.

★ ★ ★

But, the fast improving Lansing All-Stars stunned the Colts, 14-13, stopping Dayton's bid in the final minutes of play when Ferndale's Bob Super, who played at MSU, batted down a pass attempt for the two point conversion.

It was Super who also stopped Pontiac's bid to snap a 13-13 tie by intercepting a pass in the final minutes, when Lansing played here.

AERIAL ATTACK

In the minds of the Firebirds, Dayton is still the best overall team in the league with the best aerial attack. Mike Schneider, who has taken over the quarterback duties from Pistol Pete Mikolajewski, and Chuck McElligott, the most valuable player in the league last season, make up the passer-receiver team of the Colts.

In losing to Lansing last week, Dayton coach Ed McCracken felt that his team was "down" after taking a 12-8 setback at the hands of Lackawanna the previous week.

★ ★ ★

Lackawanna snapped a 19 game winning streak for the Colts, who last year went 12-0 to win the league title, and 15-0 overall.

Last year it was Dayton which whipped Pontiac and Lackawanna twice.

The Firebirds show the highest offensive total and the best defensive total in the Central Division, having scored 149 points and given up 76.

Lansing has scored 97 offensively and allowed 82 points.

DIVISION LEADER

Dayton was the top offensive and defensive team in both divisions up to last week, when Lackawanna routed Flint 41-0 to take over the distinction in the Lakes Division.

Another loss would virtually knock Dayton out of the running in the Lake Division, but by the same token a loss for the Firebirds would give Lansing a full game lead in the division. The Lansing squad is not expected to have trouble at Flint on Saturday.

Injuries Plague U-M, State

ANN ARBOR, (AP) — Phil Seymour, Michigan's All-Big Ten defensive end, is expected to be lost to the team for at least five weeks, missing the Wolverines' first four football games.

A team spokesman said the 21-year-old Seymour, a senior from Berkley, has remained hospitalized since he injured the knee Saturday in a scrimmage. Whether surgery would be required on the knee was not immediately decided, the spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

The Wolverines play their first game Sept. 20 at home against Vanderbilt.

Lance Scheffler of Trenton temporarily worked out in the running back spot while starter Glenn Doughty of Detroit, a sophomore, sat out the session with an apparent pulled muscle.

EAST LANSING (AP) —Michigan State's football team got some bad news Monday when doctors reported that sophomore linebacker Bob Walerwicz must undergo surgery on his injured right knee.

Walerowicz reinjured the knee, which had been operated on previously, in a scrimmage Sunday. Whether he would be able to return to action during the football season was doubtful. The surgery is scheduled for later this week.

Meanwhile, a senior who could fill Walerowicz' spot at linebacker resumed contact work for the first time this practice season. He is Rich Saul of Butler, Pa., who is trying to regain a starting berth after suffering an injury to his left knee against Ohio State last year.

Coach Duffy Daugherty said a prime test of Saul's condition may come Saturday in the Spartans' final scrimmage. The team plays its first game Sept. 20 at home against the University of Washington.

BOWLING

With the bowling season just under way, Pontiac's Terry Grant has secured a hold on first place in the women's best game and high series standings.

Last week Mrs. Grant, competing in the Ladies Huron Classic, turned in a high series of 227-623.

Last Friday night in the Ladies All-Star League at 300 Bowl, Mrs. Grant rolled a 625 series with a 253 high game.

Mrs. Eula Vick, who also bowled in the Huron Ladies Classic, is seven pins behind in the best game standings with a 246-586 series

Shirley Pointer, 221-603, Gen Bradley, 213-602, and Jackie Haxer, 219-601 follow the leaders in the high series bracket.

MEN'S CLASSIC

Jim Owczarski, bowling in the Men's Classic League at Airway Lanes, put together a 205-221-213—639.

Tom Augello, also bowling in the Airway Classic, hit 204-224—606, and Warren Webermin of the Airport League, 176-221-204—601.

James McKinnon and Donald Troxell, both of the Twilight League at 300 Bowl, are tied for the lead in the men's high game division, each with 256 games.

Paul Riemenschneider of the Wednesday Men's House league at 300 has a high of 230 while Bob Howell of the Airport league and Gene Johnson of Waterford Merchants each have games of 225.

have done it. He's in pretty good shape."

* * *

"Why do you think he didn't," Chambers was asked.

"Because of his love of money," replied Chambers. "That was more important to him than saving face and character. But now he sees he's going to have to pay anyway, so he's trying to save face by making me the scapegoat."

Referring to Lahman's comments at the news conference, Chambers said "Phil is just protecting himself."

"If he said these things I'll certainly get my attorney to look at the articles. If it appears I have been damaged I'll take whatever legal action I can."

Concerning publicity, Lachman said he went to the local papers and "to my amazement there was no advance publicity. Marshall told me it wasn't necessary. I said 'if you can handle it, okay' but I became worried then."

Chambers also had some comments about Joe Dey Jr., commissioner of the players tournament division of the PGA.

Dey, informed by Brennan and Lachman early Sunday that they couldn't pay off, told them to announce the fact to the players and press. They didn't, so Dey called Joe Walsh, field director of the PGA at the event, and told him to inform the press.

He did.

* * *

"Dey could have waited to make the announcement," Chambers contented. "Brennan and Lachman assured him that they could have the money in a couple of days. If they could have paid off on Tuesday or Wednesday it wouldn't have mattered. He's (Dey) hurt the Michigan PGA, who worked so hard to bring the tournament here."

* * *

Chambers' discomfort was reflected in his voice.

"Well, when you make an effort at something you hate to lose. But you hate to be maligned even more," he added.

Chambers said the budget was all Lachman's. "I can only say the established budgets were all put together by Mr. Lachman. He allotted so much money for each thing.

* * *

"Yes, I was required to stay within the budget. I knew what the situation was. But he (Lachman) assured me a month before the tournament that the $100,000 would be paid. That was part of the agreement. He knew he had to pay it."

NO WORD

And still there's no word on the prize money, when and if it will be paid.

Concerning the lack of publicity, Chambers said, "What could I publicize? A course that was in poor shape and a poor field?"

Michaels' Bat Helps Yanks Beat Bengals

Now he is batting .279 for the third highest average on the team, and his singles Monday extended his hitting streak to nine games.

* * *

"It's just playing every day and relaxing," insisted Michael of his hitting ability. "I just keep trying to make contact with the ball. I struck out twice today and I don't like to do that."

Kekich was working on a one-hitter until the eighth when Detroit pushed across its second run on a single by Willie Horton, a wild pitch, and a single by Bill Freehan. Jack Aker relieved him and picked up his 13th save.

HOME RUN

The Tigers first hit came in the fourth on Jim Northrup's 20th home run.

"I'll settle for a game like that every time," said Houk, referring to the fact that Kekich hasn't completed a game in his nine starts.

* * *

Horace Clarke scored the first two Yankee runs. He smacked a two-out double in the third and came home on a single by Michael. Then in the sixth Clarke was safe on a two-base throwing error by rookie shortstop Cesar Gutierrez, stole third and scored on a bloop single by Michael.

The Yankees scored the winning run in the seventh when Jimmie Hall walked, took third on a single by Thurman Munson and scored on a scratch single by Kekich off third baseman Don Wert's glove.

Laver in Slam; May Slow Down

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Australian Rod Laver recognized as the world's No. 1 tennis player and acclaimed by many as prehaps the greatest of all time, is ready at 31 to phase out his career.

* * *

"I have three years to go on a five-year contract," the little left-hander said after beating fellow Aussie Tony Roche 7-9, 6-1, 6-2, Monday for the U.S. Open crown and his second grand slam.

"I intend to play those three years at least—cutting down perhaps on my tournament schedule. After that, well, we'll just have to see.

"I love tennis—but I also love my wife. I have been travelling the tennis circuit for 15 years, since I was 16. I think it's time I start having a home life."

Laver's wife, Mary, whom he married in June, 1966, in San Francisco, is in Corona Del Mar, Calif., awaiting the couple's first child.

"It was due Sunday, Laver said, smiling when someone suggested perhaps there was a delay because of rain, as was the tennis tournament.

"We already have picked a name. If it's a boy it will be Rick Rodney, if a girl, Michel Ann."

Laver was asked if he thought he might be playing tennis when he's 41 as is Pancho Gonzales.

"No, I may be hitting the ball around a bit but I won't be playing as well as Gonzales," he replied.

Laver is under contract to the National Tennis League, directed by George MacCall of Los Angeles, and is committed to play in so many tournaments.

"I hope next year to start limiting myself to the bigger money tournaments," he said.

Teen Grid Player Dies

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) — Steve Sisk, an 18-year-old University of South Carolina freshman football player, died early Monday, five days after he collapsed with a heat stroke.

Ancient Walls Show Wars Are Similar

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The walls of the temples of Angkor, Cambodia, depict scenes of wars in the Southeast Asia area over the past 1,000 years. There is a strange similarity between the actual photos of today's war in Vietnam and the ancient wars on the walls of Angkor Wat.)

By HORST FAAS

ANGKOR, Cambodia (AP)—Western war protesters may call it "an American war."

Most Asians, however, know that the Vietnam war is just another chapter in more than 2,000 years of nearly uninterrupted wars and violence in Southeast Asia.

* * *

Long before European missionaries, French colonialists and American Marines appeared off Indochina's shores, people slaughtered each other here with magnificant efficiency, invaded neighboring countries and enslaved the losers.

The common people appeared to have always suffered as the Vietnamese peasants of today—and there always have been rulers that sent hundreds of thousands into certain battle death for the sake of domination over neighboring nations or abstract principles of religion or politics.

ARTISTIC ACHIEVEMENTS

The people of Southeast Asia, however, have not only contributed wars and violence to the history of their subcontinent, but they presented the world with dazzling artistic achievements. Through the work of their temple builders, stone carvers and sculptors, we can look back into their history, only to find that really not much has changed over the past 1,000 years.

* * *

That long ago, the godlike emperors of the Khmer people—today's Cambodians—began to build huge stone palaces and temples and founded the city of Angkor in the lush plains on the big lakes of the upper Mekong. Each emperor built a huge temple to be worshipped there after his death, when he would be reunited with Vishnu, the Brahmin god.

These temples are like picture books of history.

* * *

In literally miles of stone bas-reliefs in the temple galleries of Angkor, the stories of gods and emperors and their achievements are told. The reliefs picture lives of rulers and ruled. They show the drama of long-forgotten battles and defeats and the joy and pain and the simple pleasures and unhurried life of the common people in moments of peace.

RICHEST TEMPLES

The richest and most elaborate temples were built when the Khmer empire was most powerful in Southeast Asia—from the 10th to the mid-13th century.

Then the empire fell apart, and the jungle took Angkor back. Excavated and restored by French and Cambodian archeologists, the temple sites today are one of the most rewarding tourist attractions in Asia.

The similarity of today's newsphotos from Vietnam and scenes on the walls of Angkor Wat or the Bayon are baffling.

Now, and then, soldiers marched aggressively into battle against the invaders, many to die or to be wounded and carried to the rear by buddies in a hammock slung to a carrying pole.

Now and then, the innocent were injured and slaughtered by the war machinery—and wailed, mourning their dead.

Now and then, the fate of prisoners was grim — they were beaten by inhumane guards and tied together with ropes.

* * *

Now and then, the peasants were betting their coins in a cockfight.

When royal archers were and Dai Viet armies, it looked lined up against invading Cham like a troop of modern cavalrymen in formation for a reconnaissance by fire against Vietcong.

When the warriors of the 12th century crowded into dugouts to fight epic river battles on the Mekong, scenes resembled those of U.S. Marines crowding into amphibious tractors moving into battle. Then as now, sometimes more than 10,000 troops were involved in such operations.

The war elephants of then have been replaced by tanks and armored personnel carriers. But in some remote mountain areas of Vietnam special forces, militia and the Vietcong still use elephants.

AP Photos

GRIEF FOR DEAD — Anguish for the dead is one of the inescapable realities of war, whether in the 10th century, as depicted (left) in carvings in the Angkor Wat temples of Cambodia, or in present-day South Vietnam (right).

SIMILAR SCENES — A richly carved relief in one of the Angkor Wat temples (left) shows boats carrying soldiers into battle a thousand years ago in the Mekong Delta area. A similar scene is seen today as an amphibious tracked vehicle with a load of U.S. Marines approaches a river southwest of Da Nang, South Vietnam.

THE SOLDIER'S CANTEEN — In the 13th century, a thirsty soldier drank from a dried squash container (above) as an army marched into battle, in a scene from the temple carvings of Angkor Wat, Cambodia. Today, a wounded GI with the same thirst drinks from a plastic bottle in South Vietnam (below).

TRADITIONAL ENTERTAINMENT — The soldier's traditional entertainment amid the rigors of war is the dancing girl. Her beauty and grace are captured in a stone-carved relief in the ancient Angkor Wat temples of Cambodia (left), and in a contemporary nightclub in Saigon (right).

Opening lead—♣ 10

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

Here is a hand that looks like a lead-pipe cinch. You are bound to get to game in either hearts or spades and there is no defense to beat you. It looks that way off-hand but it was worth 10 match points out of 12 to bridge teacher Sally Johnson of Westport, Conn., when she made four hearts in a recent Long Island tournament.

The play is simple enough but quite instructive. She counted up to try and find 10 winners. A cross ruff would work the way the clubs and diamonds split but Sally wasn't looking at the East-West hands. The line of play she adopted was almost surefire.

★ ★ ★

After winning the first club she led a trump, ruffed her five of clubs in dummy and drew the rest of East's trumps while discarding diamonds from dummy.

Then she led a low spade toward dummy. West ducked and East won with the king. He made the best return which was a low diamond. Sally was in with the ace.

Now she led her queen of spades. West made the correct decision that she had started with three spades, so he ducked but this did the defense no good. Sally simply abandoned spades and led her queen of clubs to wind up losing just two more tricks and bringing home her contract.

★ ★ ★

The hand isn't really difficult but it's easy to go wrong. On trump and one trump lead only must be made before ruffing a low club, once the club is ruffed trumps must be drawn and finally when spades are led, the first spade from the closed hand must be a lot one. If the queen is led first, perfect defense will defeat the declarer.

What do you do now?

A—Bid two spades. This shows you have a sound double with at least five spades.

You bid two spades and your partner bids two no-trump. What do you do now?

For Wednesday

NEWS SPOTLIGHT: One who has position of great authority could pass from the scene. Division exists between idealists and those who would retain status quo.

★ ★ ★

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Avoid unnecessary travel. You have means to complete in present surroundings. Don't resent suggestions from associates or neighbors. Listen to one who wants to confide problem.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Your understanding of young persons may be put to test. New views should be formulated. Take nothing for granted. What worked in recent past may not be sufficient today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Best to be receptive rather than aggressive. Not wise to force, push or cajole. Stick to actual values, not speculation. Accent on home, property, building of solid base.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Obtain hint from GEMINI message. Take it slow, easy. Many factors come to light. But you may not be in position to take immediate action. Key is to be shrewd observer.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Continue to be aware of needs, budget. Some who advocate devil-may-care attitude really do not care — about you. Be thorough. Check details. And read between the lines.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): A relative may provide information which appears discouraging. But it is best to be aware of facts. Be willing to open channels of information. Then you come close to progress.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Diplomacy continues as best approach. Your innate sense of justice comes to fore. A bargain is in the offing. Be wise enough to recognize it when you encounter it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Avoid self-deception. Some may approach you with get-rich-quick schemes. Sense of humor helps. Don't view any situation through rose-colored glasses. Dine out tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Temptation to ruin remains. Wise course is to restrain yourself. You receive offer. It is tempting. But mature attitude serves as reliable guide.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Tie some ends. Put together puzzle pieces. It is better to get at truth. One who shares your interests, beliefs proves valuable ally. Listen.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Some around you maintain air of aggressiveness. Stand tall. Be independent in thought, action. You are close to what you need. Don't be sidetracked. Message becomes clear.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Details connected with leases, special agreements may require review. Promises are not sufficient. Get commitments in proper legal form.

IF WEDNESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are dynamic, original — one who is willing to break with tradition for sake of truth. If single, marriage is on horizon. Married or single, greater rewards for efforts are due.

Ontario Slaying Suspect Sentenced in Earlier Case

OTTAWA (AP) — David Edward Dwyer, 23, of Windsor as sentenced in Ottawa Monday to 15 years after pleading guilty to charges of armed robbery, attempted armed robbery and causing bodily harm with intent to wound.

Dwyer, together with David John Braul, 23, of Ottawa and Donald Phillion of Cobalt, is awaiting trial on charges of noncapital murder. The charges are in connection with the slayings last November of two motorists near Carp, about 25 miles northwest of Ottawa.

★ ★ ★

Thirty-one-year-old Gerald MacDonald of Ottawa and 42-year-old Kenneth Vallee of St. Clair Shores, Mich., were killed by rifle fire while traveling in separate cars.

★ ★ ★

The sentence passed on Dwyer was the result of his previous activities in Windsor.

'Spofford!' Review: Leisurely, Low-Key Comedy

Fisher Play Doesn't Earn Its Punctuation

By DON BRAUNAGEL

After seeing "Spofford!," which opened last night at the Fisher Theatre in Detroit, I wondered why the exclamation point in the title.

BRAUNAGEL

Unlike "Oliver!" for example, which inspires an exclamation, "Spofford!" is gentle comedy, low-key and leisurely.

★ ★ ★

And the opening performance didn't warrant any exclamation points, either, although the second act was an improvement over the first.

With the exception of Hans Conried (in the title role) and one or two others, the acting ranged from amateurish, especially in the first act, to mediocre. It's too bad, because the play has warmth and a lot of laughs.

BEMUSED BY CHANGE

Spofford is a retired Connecticut poultry farmer bemused by the commuter-caused changing of his community from "1,800 neighbors to 20,000 strangers."

Described as "defying pigeonholers . . . a hick . . . (yet) hep," Spofford becomes upset because his granddaughter is jilted by a youth whose mother decides the girl has inferior lineage. So, to help advise her about life, Spofford decides to infiltrate the neighborhood circle of sophisticates.

★ ★ ★

A voracious reader and worldly wise despite his rube appearance, he enjoys such activities as going to a cocktail party in a white jacket so he can serve drinks, then mingle and converse with the guests.

Along the way, he tells the audience his observations:

"Women with flat backsides lack warmth."

Sex today is "one great mating cry — mostly out of season."

"Modern marriage is serial polygamy."

POKING FUN

He pokes fun at the snooty and the homespun. To a youth snobbish about Oxford University: "They put out a pretty good dictionary." And to a widow who says, "Up the social ladder is down the moral ladder," he says: "That's pretty good. Did you make that up or read it in the Farmer's Almanack."

The cliche-quoting widow is passively pursuing Spofford for marriage, and one of the play's most charming scenes has him chasing her around her bedroom — to tickle her.

Spofford's worlds begin to blend and change. But he just steps back for a better view.

Conried, starting his second national tour in the role, was good but spotty. His famous accent and enunciation made it hard for him to consistently sound like a folksy Yankee, dropping his G's. Yet with a raised eyebrow here and a curled lip there, he overcame minor transgressions.

STAID, THEN SAUCY

Mary Cooper was staid, then saucy as the widow, but Jerome Dempsey was a near-miss as a wenching Scottish poet in the Brendan Behan manner. Dempsey, sometimes losing his Scottish burr, was more a lovable buffoon than brawling lover.

And this was all too typical of the cast. Exaggerated gestures and strident voices turned most of the characters into caricatures.

★ ★ ★

Herman Shumlin, who wrote the play, based on Peter DeVries' novel "Reuben, Reuben," is also the director. He should use a tighter rein to keep the cast from crossing the line that turns the "Spofford!" spoof into a boring burlesque.

The play will continue at the Fisher until Oct. 11.

War Objectors Get 2nd Chance

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Two conscientious objectors who failed to appear for civilian duty in Butterworth Hospital here were given another chance today by Federal Judge Noel P. Foxx.

One was Kenneth Fite, 21, of Garden City, who was given a suspended sentence and ordered to report to Butterworth Hospital for 26 months duty within 30 days as a condition of his suspended sentence.

Some 85 million Americans are now served by Blue Cross insurance.

Landon, 82 Today, Likes Nixon's Style

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Alf M. Landon, 82 today, says he has been pleasantly surprised by the way Richard M. Nixon is working out as president and thinks he is likely to be reelected.

The 1936 Republican presidential nominee and former Kansas governor, never a strong Nixon supporter, commented on the eve of his birthday:

"I think Nixon's slow, steady approach to our social and fiscal policies is better than a hard jolt.

"But it's too early to tell how his policies are going to work out. He has been president about seven months and we have been involved in Vietnam seven years or more."

TIME FOR POLITICS

Landon still goes to his office nearly every day to oversee his radio and oil interests and always finds time to talk politics.

He said he was impressed by Nixon's statements to foreign countries that they are going to have to do more to help themselves. He remarked:

"Too frequently, under both Democratic and Republican presidents, we've been too much inclined when we got a kick in the pants from some jerrybuilt country to say 'thank you, sir, what will you have?'"

Landon said conditions appear favorable for Nixon to be elected to a second term. He said the Democratic party has shown no signs of recovering from the disorganization left by its national convention in Chicago last year.

"That doesn't mean Nixon's got it in the bag," Landon said.

"There are too many momentous events that can occur between now and 1972. The Vietnam war can be a grave political danger to Nixon."

S. Italian Town on Strike After Soccer-Ruling Riot

CASERTA, Italy (AP) — Caserta's 39,000 people were on strike today, the town was a wreck, and hundreds of police patrolled in helmets with tear-gas bombs ready. All because a bribery scandal set the local soccer team back.

By contrast, thousands sang and danced in Taranto, on the heel of the Italian boot, and followed black-draped coffins labeled Caserta. For when Caserta's team went down, Taranto's went up.

★ ★ ★

Caserta had defeated Taranto 1-0, in a crucial game last May. This put it on top of the "C" league and qualified it for advancement to a better league. Then on Monday the Italian Soccer Federation ruled that a Caserta player had tried to bribe a Taranto man before the game. The federation dropped Caserta to second place in the league, and Taranto got the promotion.

Thousands of Casertans took to the streets of their town in the hills north of Naples, their southern Italian blood boiling. They set fires, stoned police, stopped trains and cars. Mayor Giovanni di Nardo led the demonstration, and the town council urged the people to demonstrate "in all possible ways" against the federation's decision.

★ ★ ★

A thunderstorm sent the crowds to cover early in the evening, but it didn't last long. The national police rushed in reinforcements from nearby cities. The demonstrators threw up barricades.

'Ike Aide Had Windy Ways'

LONDON (AP) — Sir Anthony Eden's antipathy to President Eisenhower's secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, was not due entirely to the American's maneuvers to undercut the British invasion of the Suez Canal Zone. He didn't like his manner, Eden's successor reported today.

"Eden was sensitive, charming, gay, debonair, frightfully well-informed without ever showing it," said former Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, "and so when Dulles would tell you — would take about three-quarters of an hour to tell you — something you knew, practically learned when you were at school, you had to have a good deal of self-control.

"Perhaps I was either lazier or ready to just smoke a cigar and drink some whisky and listen to Dulles talking. Eden was busier than I, I suppose, and got a little restless under this."

'Ferndale Wall' Riles Up Neighbors in Oak Park

By United Press International

The Ferndale Wall is giving the citizens of two Oakland County communities an exercise in diplomacy.

The wall — actually three walls, built with oil drums, rail barricades, stop signs and a "Road Closed" announcement — went up Saturday on three streets where Ferndale meets Oak Park.

★ ★ ★

On Sunday, boys bearing German and Russian signs picketed the walls, drawing comparisons between them and the one in Berlin.

Yesterday Oak Park Mayor Joseph Forbes called the walls "an ominous thing."

COURT HEARING

Tomorrow, the Oakland County Circuit Court will hear Oak Park's request that Ferndale pull down the walls.

The walls went up on three east-west streets because the citizens of Ferndale felt there was too much traffic on them.

★ ★ ★

Residents of Oak Park complain the barricades make it difficult to reach main thoroughfares. Some women threaten to boycott Ferndale merchants.

"If you can't get there, you can't shop there," said Mrs. Robert J. Sullivan.

RESIDENTS PETITION

She said 1,860 Oak Park residents have signed petitions asking Ferndale to remove the walls.

But Ferndale citizens want the barricades to stay up.

★ ★ ★

"Wonderful," said Ivor Bennett, "now, if only those people in Oak Park would grow up — sending all their kids down here parading with signs, yelling and chanting."

In the meantime, diplomatic relations between the two suburbs are wearing thin.

GETTING TENSE

"Our citizens are getting tense," said Forbes.

"It has become a rather tense situation — citizen against citizen."

Richard Harris Originator of a 'Brideless Honeymoon'

By EARL WILSON

LONDON—Should a husband cower in disgrace when he gets divorced . . . or should he take five single male buddies on a "brideless divorce honeymoon" through six countries?

WILSON

Actor Richard Harris did the latter . . . the same Irish actor just fined $24 for brawling with a bobby after seeing Sammy Davis in a night club.

He's unexpected in this city on the Thames . . . like the slot machine parlors you find now on the Strand, or the men's wildly colored neckties too splashy for most Americans.

Usually he's so gentle, soft-voiced, peace-loving.

★ ★ ★

"It wasn't my wife's fault . . . I'm just not marriage material . . . Marriage is archaic . . . You're supposed to settle down when you get married . . . I settled down for about 3 weeks, 10 years ago . . . A judge says 'You are now one,' I say 'That's rubbish!' It brings out something Rabelaisian in me."

I saw him out at Hertfordshire on horseback filming a scene from Columbia's "Cromwell," with Alec Guinness and Dorothy Tutin.

He can be a mellow fellow. He swore that he'll go bachelor-ing through life with many girls, and that as a loner, he'll produce a filmed "Hamlet" unique and controversial, making traditionalists jealous because "they never thought of my approach."

★ ★ ★

He filmed "The Molly Maguires" in Pennsylvania without any scrapes — so I asked, what would be unique about his "Hamlet"? Would it be nude, hippie, all-lesbian, all-homo, pot-smoking, rock festival?

"Would Richard Burton like it?"

"I think he'll like it but if he doesn't, so what?" Harris said. "I'm not doing it for him."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Another sign of middle age is when you want to see how long your car will last instead of how fast it will go." — Evan Esar's "20,000 Quips & Quotes."

EARL'S PEARLS: Peter Sheehan is waiting for the new TV season's commercials, to learn why he should no longer buy the wonderful things that were being pushed so hard last season.

Gerome Ragni, co-author of "Hair," visited Barney Google's, and owner Charlie Bates was impressed. "From 'Hair'?" he asked. "Well, take off your clothes and have a drink." . . . That's earl, brother.

Burbank City 'Secedes'

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Beautiful downtown Burbank, capitalizing on its connections with television's "Laugh-In" show, "seceded" from the union Monday night and proclaimed itself a monarchy.

Tongue solidly in cheek, Burbank Mayor George W. Haven, "lord mayor" for the occasion, crowned the show's stars, Dan Rowan and Dick Martin. Rowan was dubbed king and Martin "first lady."

★ ★ ★

About 400 persons—invited guests and commoners, the latter held back by ropes—watched the floodlighted hoopla, held on the downtown mall as publicity for the host city and the NBC slapstick satire show starting its new season next Monday.

Why secede from the union? "Lord Mayor" Haven told a reporter: "We feel the rest of the union can't keep up with us—and we don't want to be held back."

★ ★ ★

Blonde, willowy Pamela Rodgers, a new cast member, cooed: "I love Burbank—and all the city daddies."

Rowan corrected her: "That's city fathers."

Many Early Losses Pared

Mart Remains Slightly Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market remained slightly lower early this afternoon in fairly active trading but managed to pare much of its earlier losses.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 0.53 at 811.31. The DJI had been down 3.83 at 11 a.m.

* * *

Declines led gains by less than 500 issues.

Analysts attributed the early decline to concern over renewed fighting in Near East as well as a continuation of Monday's downtrend.

They said some of the buoyancy in the market came from selective buying among issues, which traders felt had fallen to an attractive level.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was off 1.0 at 284.4 with industrials off 1.7, rails off .4 and utilities off .6.

Analysts said some strength was provided by the glamor stocks. Polaroid gained 1¾ at 122⅞; Sperry Rand up ⅜ at 42½; Xerox, up 1⅛ at 92. Control Data was unchanged at 143, while IBM was off ½ at 334¾.

Natomas, which fell 3⅝ Monday, gained 3⅛ at 98⅞.

Alaska Airlines, the most-active issue on the American Stock Exchange, was down 1 at 16¼ with Four Seasons Nursing, the second most active, was at 53⅞, down 1⅛.

Plan to Repeal Tax Credit Set

Senators Eye Fast End to Investment Benefit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the Senate Finance Committee have worked out a plan to complete action on repeal of the 7 per cent investment tax credit for business by the end of this month.

Their procedure involves lifting the investment credit repealer from the tax reform bill and attaching it to another House-passed measure extending the interest equalization tax. This is scheduled for Sept. 19.

President Nixon has urged Congress to extend the interest equalization tax, which expires Sept. 30, as part of the program to improve the U.S. international balance of payments position.

Thus the extension bill must be sent to Nixon and signed into law before that time.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., and Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., have worked out the procedure in order not to leave businessmen uncertain any longer about the fate of the investment credit.

They point out that, if the repealer were left as a part of the reform bill, there would be uncertainty for many months.

Many businessmen have protested the repeal of the investment credit, which amounts to a $3.3 billion annual tax benefit.

Under the credit, a company is permitted to subtract from its taxes due up to 7 per cent of its spending on new plants and equipment.

PASSED IN 1962

It was passed originally in 1962 but it has been criticized recently as a major contributor to inflation. Nixon has asked repeal.

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, at finance committee hearings last week, approved the idea of attaching the repealer to the equalization bill.

Under the plan, the finance committee would resist efforts to use the equalization measure as a vehicle for other tax amendments.

Some senators have voiced fears that removing so important a provision as the investment credit might jeopardize the chances of the reform bill itself.

News in Brief

Dan Keating of Royal Oak told Oakland County sheriff's deputies yesterday someone broke into a building he owns at 2366 Auburn, Avon Township, and stole checks totaling $135 late Sunday or early yesterday.

ON THE BIG BOARD—Two top executives of Dayton-Hudson Corp., Board Chairman Bruce B. Dayton(second from left) and Joseph J. Hudson Jr. (second from right) show off their firm's book. Dayton-Hudson was listed on the New York Stock Exchange for the first time yesterday. Looking on are stock exchange President Robert W. Haack (left) and a specialist in the stock, Robert J. Silver. Dayton-Hudson was formed through the merger of Michigan's J. L. Hudson Co. and the Dayton Corp. of Minneapolis.

Profit-Sharing Big and Getting Bigger

By DAVID SMYTH
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK — Profit-sharing is big in the Western world and getting bigger. Five million employes are covered by a government-imposed profit-sharing system in France and at least six million are benefited by voluntary plans in the United States.

Some of the biggest companies in Great Britain, Canada, West Germany, Italy and Holland voluntarily give their employes a piece of the action under various profit-sharing schemes. Denmark has set up a national board to create the establishment of such voluntary plans. In Mexico profit-sharing has been compulsory since 1964.

The underdeveloped nations of the world also seem to be latching on to the idea. The Afro-Asian Organization for Economic Cooperation has recommended compulsory profit-sharing, 75 per cent to company shareholders and 25 per cent to employes.

The world leader in voluntary plans appears to be the United States, with more than 77,000 deferred plans at last count, and thousands of cash plans, which give out the profits periodically as they come in.

Big U.S. corporations tend to favor deferred plans, which postpone profit distributions to employes until they retire or leave. These plans give the employe a tax break, deferring tax payments, sometimes at lower capital gains rates. Cash distributions are liable for normal income tax.

A study by the Profit Sharing Research Foundation of Evanston, Ill. indicates that cash plans are two to three more times more popular among firms with 19 employes or less. Deferred plans are twice as popular as cash plans among businesses with 20 employes or more. One reason for this could be that cash distributions boost morale in outfits small enough for the individual to see the results of his efforts.

* * *

The same study concludes that one out of every five American businesses with 50 employes or more has a profit-sharing plan of some kind, and the proportion is steadily rising toward one in every four.

The foundation's survey concludes that 75 to 80 per cent of profit-sharing plans covering unionized workers in the United States may be considered successes. The percentage is somewhat higher for firms with non-unionized personnel.

Labor unions traditionally have been hostile or indifferent to profit-sharing plans but the foundation says union attitudes are now "in flux." However, management and labor are both found to be reluctant to include profit-sharing in collective labor agreements.

A notable exception was the landmark labor contract signed in 1961 by the American Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers, covering 25,000 workers. The agreement provided that one-third of the profits to be shared should be used to buy American Motors stock for employes and the other two-thirds to improve insurance and pension programs.

Profit-sharing can add up to substantial amounts for individual employes. A secretary at the Signode Steel Strapping Co. in Chicago for example retired in 1960 after 19 years in the Signode profit-sharing plan with $35,000 in cash and Signode stock.

The oldest existing profit-sharing plan in the United States is perhaps the Procter & Gamble plan begun in 1887. Other pioneering plans include Eastman Kodak, 1912 and Sears, Roebuck & Co., 1916. The Sears Roebuck plan alone has 200,000 members.

The profit-sharing movement is almost as old as the United States itself. Albert Gallatin, secretary of the Treasury under Presidents Thomas Jefferson and James Madison, instituted the first profit-sharing plan in the country in 1797 at his Pennsylvania Glass Works. His object, he said, was to ensure that "the democratic principle on which our nation was founded should not be restricted to the political processes but should be applied to the industrial operation as well."

Dividend Is Set

The board of directors of Higbie Manufacturing Co. of Rochester today declared a regular quarterly dividend of 20 cents per share on the $1.00 per value common stock of the company payable November 1, 1969 to stockholders of record Oct. 15, 1969.

Waterford Firm Buys a Building

Cross Realty & Investment Co., 4313 Walton, Waterford Township, today announced purchase of the former R. L. Campbell Real Estate office building in Royal Oak.

The building has been set up as a branch office for the Waterford real estate firm. William E. Gilbert of Royal Oak recently was named president and general sales manager of the firm.

The Apollo 11 astronauts will make Mexico the first stop on a world tour beginning Sept. 29 or Sept. 30.

ORDAZ

Announcing this at a meeting yesterday with President Nixon, President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz of Mexico said:

"We will make our best efforts to receive these three intrepid heroes as they deserve to be received."

Cardinal Mindszenty 'in Good Health' in Budapest

MINDSZENTY

Joszef Cardinal Mindszenty is "in good health and in good spiri ts" at the U.S. Embassy in Budapest where he has been in refuge since 1956, says Franz Cardinal Koenig of Austria.

Cardinal Mindszenty is under sentence of life imprisonment for differences with the Communist regime. It has been reported that the Vatican would like to move him to Rome, but he is said to be opposed to leaving Hungary. After a visit with him yesterday, Cardinal Koenig said: "I see no change in Cardinal Mindszenty's situation, no new possibilities."

Floyd Patterson Appeals IRS Claim for $358,870

Floyd Patterson, former world heavyweight boxing champion, has appealed to the U.S. Tax Court a claim by the Internal Revenue Service that he owes $358,870 in income taxes.

PATTERSON

The service seeks to collect $94,856 for 1959, $113,239 for 1969 and $150,775 for 1961.

The claim arose from an Internal Revenue service ruling that money Patterson received from the sale of stock in Floyd Patterson Enterprises Ltd. was personal income rather than a capital gain and that he was not entitled to certain deductions for expenses.

Social Critic to Mark Birthday With New Book

J. B. Priestley, social critic and author of more than 100 works, will mark his 75th birthday Saturday in London with a new book, "The Prince of Pleasure and His Regency."

He first won literary acclaim 40 years ago with his novel "The Good Companions."

Astronaut May Reveal Political Plans After Flight

LOVELL

Astronaut James A. Lovell Jr. may announce a decision on his future as a politician after the Apollo 13 moon landing which he is to command next year, Wisconsin Republicans said yesterday.

The state GOP chairman, Ody J. Fish, said party spokesmen huddled during the weekend with Lovell, a former Milwaukee resident, about the possibility of challenging the 1970 reelection bid of Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

Lovell attended school in Milwaukee as a youth.

Woman Is Attacked by a Male Gorilla

DUDLEY, England (UPI) — Hospital officials said today a woman zoo attendant suffered broken thighs, broken legs and severe cuts when she stumbled into a cage of mating gorillas and was attacked by the 225-pound male.

* * *

Mrs. Jane Whitwood, 26, escaped Monday at Dudley Zoo by hitting the gorilla with a broom, then dragging herself to safety along a service corridor.

* * *

"Adult male gorillas are not particularly partial to human company when they are romantically involved with their mates," a spokesman said.

INCREASED PERFORMANCE—American Motors' 1970 AMX is slightly longer than the 1969 model and features a 360 cubic inch four-barrel V-8 engine, rated at 290-horsepower. Four-on-the-floor transmission is standard on the new AMX.

Florida Jetport Battle Still On

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fight over a proposed jet airport near the Florida Everglades appears far from over, despite reports to the contrary.

Richard H. Judy, deputy director of the Dade County Port Authority, says his group has no intention of relocating the giant jetport which conservationists fear would destroy the swamp and wildlife of Everglades National Park.

* * *

And a meeting scheduled for Wednesday here between Florida Gov. Claude Kirk, Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel and Transportation Secretary John Volpe seems more likely to produce battle strategy than immediate victory.

Reports published last week quoted sources in Kirk's office as saying President Nixon had decided against the proposed jetport site nine miles north of the Everglades.

But any site decision must involve the Dade County Port Authority which is planning the airport and owns the proposed 38-square-mile site 45 miles west of Miami.

In a telephone interview, Judy said the authority has not considered or even agreed to consider a new site.

Nor has there been any federal or state pressure, so far, to do so—"none whatsoever," said Judy.

DEVELOPMENT CONTINUES

"We are going to move ahead to develop the site as a training facility and continue our environmental studies toward developing it into an airport site," he said.

"But actually we have not yet made the decision to go commercial. Our environmental program will take two or three years and our decision process would come in 1972 or 1973."

Hickel confirmed there was no agreement so far with the county on a new jetport site.

"At this point we're just going to look at the options we have, and after the meeting we're going to come up with some recommendations," Hickel said.

Hickel said he was not sure what steps could be taken if a relocation were to be sought.

But another federal source noted the vast airport project probably would require federal aid, although the port authority has not yet asked for it.

The Federal Aviation Administration already is contributing some $713,000 toward construction—now well under way—of three one-mile long runways at the site, for training flights.

This is a small part of the total cost, estimated at $150 million, for a full-scale jetport with 6-mile runways.

PROTECTION PLAN

"It could be within our resources to develop it without federal aid," said Judy, "but we feel that would be impractical at present."

* * *

Judy said the port authority views the airport plan as protection, rather than a threat, for the Everglades.

* * *

"We want the jetport," he said, "as a focus for a positive master plan for development that would protect the park for all time. All the rest of that land is privately owned, and if you think that area isn't going to develop, you're just putting your head in the sand."

Woman Blocks Miners in Her Battle for Privacy

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Rose Bagley plans to keep the privacy she has found in a secluded area near here—mines or no mines.

Keeping her promise, she politely brought two mining crews to an abrupt halt Monday by telling one of them, "Sorry, no mining today, fellow." And with a double-barreled shotgun and large black dog at her side, the 15 men knew she meant business.

* * *

J. R. Simplot Co. has been conducting mining explorations on 1,000 acres south of Tucson. On many occasions, this meant crossing Mrs. Bagley's 13 acres.

"I got 10 acres fenced in," she said. "But when I went to put a gate on the roadway I was served with a summons."

RESTRAINING ORDER

Simplot obtained a restraining order in 1967 forcing the road open to its employes. But Mrs. Bagley insisted Monday that Simplot employes prove they work for the company. Apparently, none had enough identification to satisfy her.

Mrs. Bagley said she simply prefers the seclusion of her land purchased in 1965 to the bustle of city life.

"All I want to do is live quietly," she said. "I am not a miner. I need the fence because the forest service permits grazing nearby and the cows eat my flowers and trees as fast as I plant them."

Union Strikes Clothing Chain

Sales personnel at area Hughes-Hatcher-Suffrin stores were on strike today.

Affected are stores at the Pontiac and Oakland malls and others in the Detroit metropolitan area.

On strike is the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, Local 909. The strike was call yesterday as a result of lack of sufficient progress in contract negotiations, according to a union spokesman.

A company spokesman said today the two stores near Pontiac will be open only for receiving payments and issuing will-call clothing.

Other stores, including the one at Northland, are being manned by supervisory personnel, the spokesman said.

Elderly Detroit Man Found Tied, Dead

DETROIT (AP) — His hands tied behind his back and his legs bound, 65-year-old John Epply was found dead Monday in a downtown hotel where he lived. He was clad in underclothes, and a bedspread had been tossed over his head.

An autopsy was ordered to fix the cause of death, since the body bore no signs of violence.

Police said Eppley last was seen alive by hotel personnel Friday when he cashed a $142 Social Security check.

Sport Trailers, Wheels Stolen From City Firm

An estimated $3,400 worth of sport trailers and wheels were stolen over the weekend from a city trailer sales businesss, it was reported yesterday.

A spokesman for Trail Wright Trailer Sales, 478 University, told police the building was broken into something between Friday afternoon and yesterday morning.

Police said the burglars gained entry to the building by removing a board from a hole in the wall of the building's east side.

Losses are believed to have included 11 snowmobile trailers valued at a total of $2,618; three painted snowmobile trailers valued at $717, and four tires valued at $100.

200 Flunk Hair Tests

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Two hundred boys flunked high school hair tests the first day of school in Orange County.

The students were sent home by their principals Monday mostly for sideburns below the ear lobes, mustaches and mutton-chop beards, district officials said.

They added that most of the boys were back in school later in the day after shaving.

Salvaged Ship's Name Disputed

MARINETTE, Wis. (UPI) — A "mystery ship" raised here in July after a two-year salvaging effort may not be the Alvin Clark after all, according to a Michigan City, Ind., woman.

The old schooner, raised by a crew headed by Frank Hoffmann of Egg Harbor, never has been identified positively. However, records from the old Green Bay Advocate indicated it was the Clark, which sank off Chambers Island in Green Bay in 1864.

* * *

But Mrs. Minnie Engberg claims to have photographs which indicate the ship was the Charles J. Smith, a 110-foot schooner once sailed by her father, Capt. William Armstrong. The Smith sank in Green Bay in 1903.

Mrs. Engberg claims the photographs show the vessel raised her to be very similar to the Smith.

BEING RESTORED

The ship, whatever its name, is being restored at the Marinette Marine Shipyards.

Arson Probed in School Fire

EAST DETROIT (AP) State Police are investigating the possibility of arson in a blaze which did an estimated $5,000 damage to the auditorium stage at East Detroit High School.

Detective Jim Thomas of the State Police fire marshall division took samples from the burned area Monday to test for residue of inflammable liquids. He said he had eliminated "a lot of accidental possibilities."

The school has been closed because of a contract dispute with teachers.

Frank Molnar, East Detroit fire chief, said the blaze apparently was under way for some time before the alarm was turned in at 10 p.m. Sunday.

Low-Priced Chevy Set for Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—General Motors Corp. of the United States plans to invest $77 million in Argentina to build a low-priced Chevrolet car.

General Motors Argentina, a subsidiary of General Motors Corp., now builds a medium-sized, compact car known here as the Chevrolet Super.

A group of General Motors executives has called on Economy Minister Jose Maria Dagnino Pastore to inform him of plans to expand their plant in suburban San Martin and build a new one in Tucuman province, in northern Argentina, a GM spokesman said the plant expansion will allow a daily production of 21 cars instead of 10 produced now.

A Look at TV

Paar Special Rewarding

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — It is very probable that if Jack Paar became interested in page 42 of the Manhattan telephone directory or in the life cycle of the carpenter ant he could—and would—turn it into a television program. And it would hold the rapt attention of viewers.

In his Monday night NBC special, "Jack Paar and His Lions," the comedian expanded his affection for the king of beasts—"I have this thing about lions," he confessed—into a thoroughly absorbing, often poignant, actuality hour.

* * *

Paar's love for lions was stimulated by his adoption of Amani, a cub he raised in his Bronxville home. The program began with film of the cub and then moved into the story of Paar's involvement in saving three young lionesses, sisters, by moving them from Africa to a Florida lion preserve.

Jack invested $7,000 and a lot of emotion in the project, believing—erroneously as it turned out—that the lionesses were the offspring of the "Born Free" lions. But since he and his cameras were along from the beginning to the happy ending of the animals' immigration, it was a rewarding experience all around.

* * *

The most interesting film showed how the three lionesses, adjusted to their new life in Florida, still responded affectionately when reunited with the woman who had raised them from cubs.

CBS's first special of the fall season, "The Singers," was a big, handsome star-studded combination of comedy, high-jinks and music that must inevitably be compared with "Laugh-In."

The familiar format was there, practically intact—the sight gags, the fast cuts, the satire, the blackouts, even Dick Martin in a cameo appearance. It added up to a rowdy, tuneful and fast-moving hour.

It will be a shame, however, if "Laugh-In" keeps inspiring these reasonably exact facsimiles. Imitation may be sincere flattery, but in television imitation soon becomes an overdose.

Earlier, NBC broadcast a half-hour special, "A Country Happening" a pleasant, bland little program of music and a bit of variety with Roy Rogers and Dale Evans as hosts.

* * *

It had been made, obviously, as a pilot for a future series, but in pace, atmosphere and style, it looked like a 1967 model of a show.

Theodore H. White's third "Making of the President," this time studying the forces and events that put Richard M. Nixon in the White House, will be broadcast by CBS tonight (9:30-11 Pontiac time). It should be watched by all persons who complain that television is nothing but sports and bland entertainment.

The program, previewed by this reporter, is a reprise of the turbulent, shock-filled year, 1968. The film, much of it shot especially for the program, is illuminated by White's own thoughtful and perhaps controversial analysis of "that year of passion and fury."

Police Baffled in Tate Killings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It's been a month since actress Sharon Tate and four others were slain at her estate in Bel Air, and police conceded today they're baffled.

"Unfortunately and embarrassingly for us," said Inspector Pete Hagan, "the more we think about the whole thing the more baffling it becomes."

* * *

After spending days comping the property for clues and questioning nearly 400 persons in this country and abroad, 19 detectives assigned to the case were stumped.

The honey-blonde actress was killed Aug. 9 along with Jay Sebring, 26, her former boyfriend; Voityck Frokowsky, 37, a Polish playboy; Abigail Folger, 26, heiress to a coffee fortune; and Steven Parent, 18, a friend of the caretaker at the estate.

Tomatoes Sprout in 'Dried-Up' Bed of Niagara River

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Three tomato plants, one with 10 green tomatoes, have been found growing on the rocky river bed of the de-watered American Falls.

The plants, about 400 feet behind the brink of the cataract, have been growing there since June when water from the Niagara River was diverted to the Canadian Falls, a spokesman for the Army Corps of Engineers said Monday.

The spokesman said seeds apparently blew onto the river bed and landed where there was some soil. He said officials kept the plants watered "just to see what would happen."

The corps diverted the waters to study the effects of erosion on the falls. The falls are to be reopened in December.

Swine Day Set

EAST LANSING (AP) — Latest developments in swine feeding, housing and health — plus the sale of some of Michigan's outstanding boars — will highlight the Swine Day activities Sept. 19 at Michigan State University.

Surfing Fun in Arizona

He Makes Waves in Desert

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)—They're surfing in the Arizona desert.

There was no sea breeze and it was 105 degrees, but that didn't stop the waves that were rolling in every 41 seconds. It didn't stop the imported Hawaiian surfers or the bikinied beach bunnies, either.

* * *

Hawaiian surfer Donn House, 20, the foamy remains of one of the waves creeping around his feet, said, "It's the closest thing to a beach there is." The tanned youth has hit the surf in some of the best areas of the world — Waimea Bay, Sunset Beach and Makaha.

World surfing champion Fred Hemmings Jr. of Hawaii also tried the five-foot waves.

MAN-MADE LAGOON

Newsmen watched a calm man-made lagoon Monday as a wave emerged at one end and traveled 400 feet to a sandy, palm-lined 3½-acre beach. The waves crossed the lagoon every 41 seconds for the rest of the afternoon.

Big Surf was the idea of Phillip Dexter, a Phoenix man who had dreamed of bringing the beach to the desert. He made several small models, some from plywood and baling wire, and finally came up with a working wave-maker.

Enlarging his backyard model, which works somewhat like a toilet, Dexter came up with Big Surf, which holds four million gallons of water.

The water is pumped into a four-story reservoir constructed at one end of the lagoon. The water is released, or flushed, from gates along the bottom of the reservoir about seven feet under the water. The shock yields a wave that runs laterally to the beach. The pumps keep the water level constant.

PREFERS ARTIFICIAL

Judy Graham, a pretty 20-year-old Arizona State University coed from Parker, said she has surfed California beaches but prefers the artificial waves.

"Sometimes in the ocean," she said, "you have to wait 10 minutes or more for a good wave, but here there's always one available."

* * *

Loch Ledford, 22, Honolulu, said it's "fantastic." He claimed he can catch at least 50 waves an hour here compared to about 10 an hour in Hawaii.

Big Surf will maintain 78-degree water temperatures year-round, project director Bill Chrisman said.

Chrisman said there are other artificial wave machines in New Jersey, Japan, Germany and Denmark. But it is nearly impossible to use a full-sized surf board on them, he said, because the waves, generated either by blowers, paddles or pushers, do not give the long, lateral movement needed for surfing.

When Dexter was unable to raise enough money for his Big Surf project, he wrote Clairol Inc., the hair coloring company. The firm underwrote the costs of more than $2 million, saying the project went along with plans to cater to young people.

Viewing Eclipse Perilous

LANSING (UPI) — Persons wanting to watch the partial eclipse of the sun Thursday are warned to avoid looking directly at the celestial body.

"You can suffer irreparable damage to your eyes if you look at the sun without adequate protection," said Dr. Bernard Sibers of the Michigan Department of Public Health, today.

* * *

"Sunglasses, photographic film, smoke glass, welder's goggles and makeshift filters do not afford proper protection. A number of Michigan residents suffered permanent loss of vision following the loss of vision following the eclipse of the sun in 1963."

* * *

For persons who wish to view the eclipse, Siebers recommended the indirect projection method.

SIZE OF NAIL

"In a pice of cardboard, about five feet by two feet, make a hole about the size of an eight-penny nail. With your back to the sun, hold the cardboard slightly in front of your shoulders," he said.

"Align a second white piece of cardboard approximately four to six feet in front of the cardboard which has the nail hole in it. The sun's rays should pass through the hole of the first sheet and the sun's image should appear on the second piece of cardboard.

Why Do You Read So Slowly?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique of rapid reading which should enable you to increase your reading speed and remember more. Most people do not realize how fast, accurate reading can bring pleasure and success in everything they attempt to do.

According to this publisher, most people, regardless of their present reading skill, can use this method to improve their reading ability to a remarkable degree. Whether reading stories, books, or technical matter, it becomes possible to read long sentences at a glance . . . entire pages in seconds.

To acquaint the readers of this newspaper with the easy, self-training method, the company has printed full details in a new booklet, "How to Read Faster and Retain More" — mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Simply enclose a dime to cover postage and handling. Send your name, address, and zip code to: Reading, 835 Diversey, Dept. 377-019, Chicago, Ill. 60614.

HERE'S HOW IT LOOKS — This is a NASA model of a plane with a new boomerang-shaped wing, which may increase the speed of subsonic commercial jet transport planes about 100 miles an hour. The new wing, mounted above the fuselage, would reduce drag and buffeting. Tests will begin next year under a contract announced by NASA yesterday.

AP Wirephoto

Pact Let on 'Boomerang' Wing

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A new boomerang-shaped wing may enable jetliners of the mid-1970s to fly 100 miles an hour faster than their present cruising speed.

Tests on the wing are scheduled to start at this desert research center next year.

★ ★ ★

A 1.8-million contract announced by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Monday calls for fitting a Navy F8A jet with the radically different wing expected to boost cruising speed to just under the speed of sound—660 m.p.h. at 45,000 feet—without increasing fuel consumption.

A NASA spokesman said the modified F8A should be ready to begin a two-year flight-test program late in 1970 and that passenger liners with the new wing could be in service by 1974.

CURVED ON BOTTOM

The back-swept wing, which looks like a boomerang fixed to the top of an ordinary fuselage, is flat on the top side and curved on the bottom—just the opposite of the wings on today's airliners.

★ ★ ★

Because the wing is attached to the top instead of the bottom of the fuselage, window seats will have an unobstructed view, but this is not the real purpose of the weird design.

★ ★ ★

Primarily, the new shape was engineered to reduce drag and buffeting and thus increase efficiency, which translates into greater range, payload and speed.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman estimated the gain in efficiency at about 25 per cent. This would increase speed more than 100 m.p.h. beyond the 530 m.p.h. limit of most current airliners. He said some airlines might choose to increase payload rather than speed, and thus cut fares.

FARTHER TO REAR

The odd shape has the effect of moving farther to the rear of the plane the "supercritical" point where shock waves develop in the stream of air flowing around it.

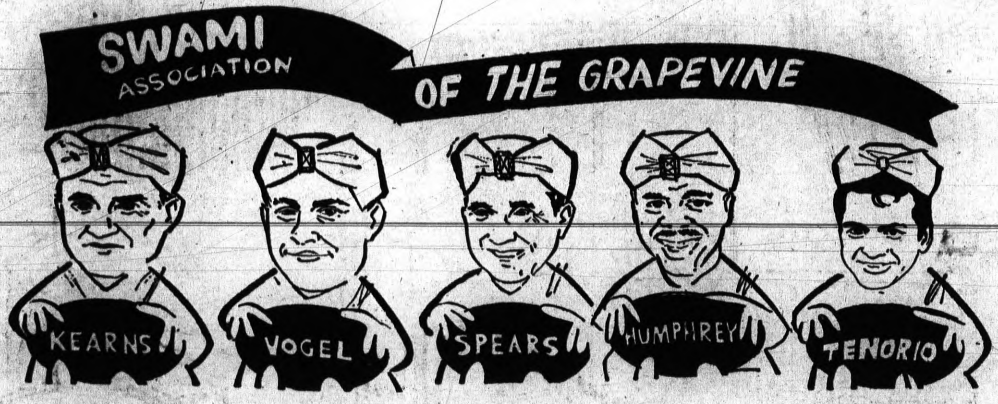
2-Point Conversion for Preps



The Fraternal Order of Swamis have convened and a new chairman is certain for the 1969 season since our 1968 champion Jere Craig has departed to the fraternity on the other side of the fence, the publicists.

A fine selection of games marks the opening of the season Friday. Our new member is Swami Dave Tenorio who claims a strong crystal ball on the high school teams.

Swami Spears, Swami Vogel, Swami Humprrey and Swami Kearns will keep our new Swami on his toes.

Here's how the Grapevine Pickings look for our first session of the season:

New League Alignments This Season

The problem of trying for a one or two-point conversion may not be too difficult for area high school football coaches to resolve when the season opens Friday.

A new rule goes into effect which gives two points for a successful run or pass after touchdown and retains the one point for a kick.

★ ★ ★

Coming up with a dependable kicker each season has been an increasing trouble spot for many coaches, even at the larger schools. The result has been that good number of the extra point tries are plays from scrimmage.

To make the run a little more difficult, rulemakers moved the ball three yards from the end zone instead of two where it had been spotted under the old rule.

Goal posts must be widened by the 1971 season.

ODDS FAVOR KICKER

However, the team with a good kicker probably will continue to use him. The odds are in favor of the kicker unless the game is one-sided.

The two-point conversion does add an element of suspense to the game. If a team scores a touchdown in the closing seconds and is one or two points behind, a successful run or pass could mean victory or a tie.

★ ★ ★

Two new schools will be fielding teams for the first time. They are Walled Lake Western and Rochester Adams. There are 47 football playing high schools in Oakland County. Most will be in action this weekend.

The Northwest Catholic League takes on a new look with Pontiac Catholic and St. Francis de Sales missing. They are replaced by Utica St. Lawrence and Hamtramck St. Florian.

The Oakland A League adds Rochester Adams, Bloomfield Hills Lahser, Oxford and Lamphere. The league is divided into two divisions as is the Saginaw Valley Conference.

NEW SECTION

Pontiac Catholic has been assigned to a new two division Catholic League circuit, known as the First Division A-East and A-West.

The Titans will play in the West Section with Southgate Aquinas, Dearborn Heights Bishop Borgess, Allen Park Cabrini, Riverview Gabriel Richard and Westland (Dearborn) Sacret Heart.

Farmington Harrison will not play for another year at which time more league changes probably will have been made. Waterford will play on its own field for the first time.

Huge Defenders Bolster PCH

Chiefs Could Contend for Divisional Crown

Two Pontiac Central players should effectively close the door on opponents' inside running attacks this season. But whether they can open the door for PCH backs remains to be seen.

* * *

Eric Walker and John Ray represent 600 pounds of tackle. Senior Walker tips the scales at 275 and the 6-5 Ray, a junior, is in the neighborhood of 325.

Both were regulars last season and gained valuable experience in the tough Saginaw Valley Conference grid wars.

* * *

Although short on over-all experience, the Chiefs could make a run'at the Valley's West title in the new two division setup. And the schedule may help.

NONLEAGUERS

They open Friday at Midland in a game that doesn't count in the standings. Another "nonleaguer" against Flint Southwestern follows. First division action will be at Saginaw Arthur and then will come the big encounter with Northwestern at Wisner Stadium.

Coach Paul Dellerba, beginning his ninth season at PCH, must makeover the backfield. Such stalwarts as quarterback Rolly Garcia, fullback Jerry Hinsperger and speedster Horace Davis have departed.

* * *

Vance Richardson returns as a ball carrier and Dennis Brown, who showed flashes of promise as a sophomore last season, could be the other halfback.

Moving in at quarterback is Perry Humphry who was used primarily on defense and as a kick return specialist in 1968. Another player showing potential in practice is end Wayne Coleman.

* * *

The offensive line, weakened by graduation—notably tackle Bob Hunt — could be a problem early in the season as could the defensive secondary.

The Midland game, scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m., could go far in adding experience. The Chemics, although hit by graduation, appear strong on offense.

MOVING OUT — Halfback Daryl Wilcox of Pontiac Central waits for a pitchout from a teammate during a running drill as the team tunes for the campaign. Wilcox is a 170-pound senior.

TOUGH TWOSOME — Opposing linemen, and runners too, will have to contend with this powerful pair of Pontiac Central tackles this season. They are senior (left) Eric Walker, a 6-0, 275-pounder, and 'Little' John Ray, a 325-pound, 6-5 junior.

SVC New Look Favors Northwestern, Midland

The new look Saginaw Valley Conference will have two champions in each sport this school year with Midland and newcomer Flint Northwestern expected to pickup the football laurels.

The conference has been broken into two divisions with Pontiac Central, Flint Northern and Northwestern, Arthur Hill and Bay City Handy in the West. Midland, Flint Southwestern, Flint Central, Bay City Central and Saginaw comprise the East division.

Only games against division foes will count and no playoff is scheduled. The same will hold true for basketball and other sports.

Midland lost 29 lettermen from the 1968 team that won the single SVC championship and state Class A honors. However, 10 returnees were regulars, most of them on offense.

Coach Bob Stoppert is concentrating on rebuilding a defense for the home opener Friday against Pontiac Central.

ALL-LEAGUER

Leading the line will be All-Valley guard Duane Burtch and end John Roberts. Dave Pisgols and Rany Leigeb are experienced ball carriers with good power.

Northwestern has 16 lettermen and looks strong in the backfield. Mike Hratsky and Walt Gregulek are veterans battling for the quarterback job and 1968 regulars Delma Williams and Claude Purches return at halfbacks.

* * *

The line appears strong, but experienced reserves are lacking.

Flint Northern is very green, but has the regular quarterback, Ambus Harper, on hand.

Grid Change for City Titans

There's a number of reasons for the air of optimism that prevails in the Pontiac Catholic football camp.

First of all, there's a whale of a lot of talent on hand and coach Mel Larsen admits things are looking well.

Continuing the number game, Larsen, who guided the Titans to a share of the Northwest Catholic League championship last year, has eight starters on both offense and efense returning as he bids for a title in a new league.

NEW LEAGUE

The strong Titans were involved in an off-season revamping of the Detroit Catholic League that saw them moved into a spot in the A-West lineup of the First Division. They're joined there by Dearborn Sacred Heart, Gabriel Richard, Bishop Borgess, Cabrini and Aquinas.

ASSISTANTS: Joe Garcia, Jim Conlen.

MEL LARSEN

Another change with the Titans is one brought on by Larsen to strengthen an already strong line.

MOVES TO TACKLE

That shift found the young coach moving fullback Gerard Holland, a 5-7, 210-pound junior, into a tackle spot, filling a hole left vacant by the graduation of Larry Klein.

★ ★ ★

"He's doing a great job," says Larsen of Holland in making the adjustment to line play.

Holland will team with a veteran at the tackle spot, Cliff Linsenman, a 5-11, 175-pound junior.

OTHER ASSETS

The Titans have a couple of with Dave Bierlein (6-2, 195) and Kellie Dean (6-1, 170) occupying those spots, while Rick Polmear (5-9, 155) and Jim Lindsay (5-10, 165) are likely candidates for guard positions.

★ ★ ★

The Titans have a couple of outstanding individuals in the backfield in tailback Tim Boyer and quarterback Herb Larson.

TOP PERFORMER

Boyer, a 5-10, 170-pounder, moved in as a starter two years ago as a sophomore and he's been there since. In his first year, the speedster, who also doubles as one of the team's top receivers, had a total offense — rushing and pass receiving — of 800 yards, and that figure swelled to 1,300 last year.

★ ★ ★

Larson gained confidence and poise in leading the Titans to a 6-1 record last year. A 6-1, 175-pounder, Larson has a rifle arm and the squad is likely to take full advantage of that aerial asset.

★ ★ ★

Some of the other candidates for spots in the backfield include wingbacks Rick Vidrio (5-8, 150) and Rudy Martinez (5-7, 135). The Titans open Saturday at 2:30 at Benedictine.

GUIDING TITANS — Senior Herb Larson (6-1, 175), considered an excellent passer by coach Mel Larsen, will be at the quarterback spot when the Titans open the '69 campaign. Larson was in the same spot last year and led the squad to a share of the Northwest Catholic League title.

Building Task for Shrine 11; New Mentor

It's hard enough for a high school football team to begin a rebuilding program after losing more than 20 boys to graduation, but when a new coach takes over the head duties, then the situation becomes even more precarious.

This is what the gridders of Royal Oak Shrine face this season.

The Knights, who finished last season with a 5-2 record, and second place in the Catholic League's First Division Double A bracket, have a new coach in Dave Woodcock and 15 returning letterwinners this fall.

★ ★ ★

Among the more outstanding performances in team practice are those from seniors Steve Wilson, a 6-1, 175-pound tackle, and Doug Seymour, a 6-3, 190 pound end.

Senior Bill Simpson had the edge for the starting berth at the quarterback slot, although he has been receiving tough competition from sophomore Tom Swartz, 5-10, 160-pounds.

Bill Nitchman, an outstanding senior running back that transferred to Kimball this year, will be replaced by either one of two sophomores, Tom O'Bravoitz, 5-10, 175-pounds, or Pat O'Connor, 5-8, 165-pounds.

MOVING AROUND — Stubby Gerard Holland, a 5-7, 210-pounder, is making the move from fullback to tackle this season for the Titans of Pontiac Catholic. Holland was a standout as a ball-carrier and the Titans figure he'll perform equally as well in the new slot. "He has a great attitude," says coach Mel Larsen.

Depth Missing

St. Lawrence Has Speed

There's speed to burn but the question is if it will get an opportunity to assert itself at Utica St. Lawrence this fall.

The Mustangs, a member of the Northwest Catholic League, have a pair of dashmen in Dennis Thiel (10.0 for the 100) and Vince Salterelli (10.5), but coach Doyle Rice has an inexperienced line which could slow the speedsters.

Thiel is a 5-7, 155-pounder, a senior, while Salterelli is a 5-8, 155-pound sophomore.

MOVES TO QB

Rice made one move to fill the quarterback vacancy by moving halfback Gary Radulski into that spot. He's a three-year performer.

Among the candidates for the line spots are Ken Oliver (5-11, 185) at guard, along with Tim Valin (6-1, 200), Al Gilsbach (6-1, 190) and John Ingrao (6-0, 190) at tackles. The latter two are sophomores.

GOES AT CENTER

Dennis Campbell (5-11, 185) is expected to get the call at center, while Bo Buscawski (5-11, 175) and Mike Kolpacki (5-11, 170) are slated for end duty.

★ ★ ★

The Mustangs were 3-4 last year in the Macomb league, but the competition is a little stiffer in the Northwest lineup and it could be a long season unless the sophomores mature early.

Michigan State linebacker Duane McLaughlin of Avondale answers to the nickname Locomotive, or Loco for short.

Be a Sure Winner!

Everybody's getting into the card game these days.

Department stores. Gasoline companies. Banks, motels, restaurants — you name it.

But if you spread all your cards on the table, you won't find a better one than the Community National Bank Check Guarantee Card.

The reason is as plain as the face on the card.

No other check guarantee card in the Oakland-Macomb area has the cardholder's color photograph on it.

The card tells merchants we guarantee payment of your checks up to $100. And thanks to that photo there's never any question whether you're the person to whom the guarantee applies.

Around here there's no question what it means to have Community guarantee your checks, either. We're the area's biggest bank, with 21 convenient offices in Oakland and Macomb counties.

The Community Check Guarantee Card is one of the benefits provided with CommuniBank 500 — CNB's do-it-yourself banking plan. Put $500 or more in a CommuniBank 500 time deposit savings account, and the card is yours.

But that's just one part of CommuniBanking. You also get 5% annual interest compounded daily, provided your money's on deposit 90 days. A free personal checking account with no minimum balance requirement. And an automatic personal line of credit you activate simply by writing checks.

Open a Communibank 500 account at one of our 21 offices today and you can practically be your own banker. You'll also be a sure winner in the old card game.

Huskies Hope to Wave Banner This Year

I-L Title Has Avoided PNH Each Season

A much overworked phrase in football circles is "This could be the year."

Yet those few words represent an apt description of Pontiac Northern's hopes for the 1969 football campaign in the Inter-Lakes League.

OPTIMISTIC OUTLOOK

Optimism is ever present with the Huskies and coach Dave Schmidt, who is approaching his sixth season as head mentor at PNH.

★ ★ ★

The Huskies are overdue for a banner campaign. In Schmidt's tenure to date, the team has been kicking around with a 16-27-2 record an still seeking an Inter-Lakes League title.

OTHER YEARS, TOO

There have been other seasons when "This could be the year" was ringing through the halls at PNH, giving the faithful something to cling to.

★ ★ ★

So it is again this year, and there are a couple of good reasons for this optimistic outlook.

TWO REASONS

One is the presence of a considerable number of talented players on hand, while the second is the absence of one-powerful Walled Lake.

★ ★ ★

Oh, there's a Walled Lake in the league—W. Lake Central—but with the addition of a new school (Western) there this year, Central lost a lot of talent and figures to be down this year.

MANY RETURNEES

But back to Northern. Coach Schmidt has 19 letter winners back from the '68 squad that was up and down in an uneventful 3-4-2 season.

★ ★ ★

Chief among the returnees are a pair of big defensive tackles—seniors Dave Guy (6-2, 245) and Mario Castillo (6-0, 230).

NEW POST

Castillo is also involved in an experiment by Schmidt. He'll take his turn in the line on defense, but when the Huskies have the ball, watch for burly Mario to lug the pigskin from the fullback post.

★ ★ ★

A couple other prospects for tackle jobs are Dennis Brown (6-0, 175) and Brian Volk (6-0, 190), both juniors, while John Hill (5-10, 168) and Jim Hernandez (5-10, 175), both seniors, are slated to handle guard assignments.

LONE HOLDOVER

The lone holdover in the PNH backfield is senior halfback Tom Holt, a 170-pound six-footer, who'll provide the speed while Castillo supplies the power.

DEFENSIVE LINEUP — Manning the spots along the line for Pontiac Northern this fall will be (from left) Tim Fournier, Mario Castillo, Dave Guy, Ron Ritchie and Dan Sartell. The latter two are juniors, the others seniors. Castillo, who weighs in at 235, and Guy, a 245-pounder, will beef up the middle of the line.

ON THE BALL—End Mike Starnes of Walled Lake Central hauls in a pass during practice, and new coach Dick Woodworth is hoping he'll do that often this fall.

PROVIDES SPEED — Flashy halfback Tom Holt, a 175-pound senior, will be called on to carry much of the offensive load for the Huskies of Pontiac Northern this year.

I-L Domination Ends

The long reign by perennial powerhouse Walled Lake has ended in the Inter-Lakes League, or at least that's the thinking of rival coaches in the loop.

Nine of the past 10 I-L grid championships were taken by the Vikings of Walled Lake, Livonia Stevenson ran up a 5-0 record that halted that streak last year.

SPLIT HURT

Walled Lake's demise is figured because of a split in the school district and the formation of a new high school there —Western. That split the football talent, too, so opponents figure Walled Lake Central will be just another team this year.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Northern and Stevenson are picked as the teams to beat in the six-team race.

★ ★ ★

Southfield Lathrup is likely to battle Waterford for third, with Walled Lake and Farmington following.

Stevenson lost much of the talent that carried it to an unbeaten '68 campaign, but the Spartans have enough returnees and talented newcomers to keep themselves in contention this year.

★ ★ ★

Northern is overdue, and the Huskies have enough talent returning to make their first grid title dream come true.

A surprise could be Southfield Lathrup. After suffering a couple of years, coach Darrell Harper and his maturing squad might upset some applecarts before the season closes.

★ ★ ★

Past experience days it's folly to count Walled Lake Central out, no matter what the reason, so the Vikings, too, may have a trick or two up their sleeves.

AFTER BIG YEAR — Former Waterford High School star Dave Farris has the speed, size (6-foot-2, 225 pounds) and hands to become one of the best tight ends in the Midwest this fall, according to astute Central Michigan University grid mentor Roy Kramer. Farris is beginning his senior season.

Grid Aches Show by Skipper Losses

You can almost feel the ache in coach John Moffat's tummy as he ticks off the names of some outstanding departed football players.

In a questionnaire under the heading of "Names of Lettermen Lost" Moffat starts with Steve Goit, Bruce Carlson, Brad Potter . . . then, perhaps feeling ill, added "and 26 others."

TOUGH SITUATION

That's the situation at Waterford Coach Moffat, starting his fifth season at the Skippers' helm, lost 29 letter winners from last year's squad that wound up with a 7-2 record and placed second in the Inter-Lakes League.

Only four veterans return and that's the quartet around which Moffat will try to mold a '69 squad.

So, unless the newcomers play like veterans, it could, indeed, be a long, drawn-out season for Moffat and the Skippers.

TOP SCORERS GONE

Gone through graduation are three runners who tallied 175 points among them last year—Goit (54), Bruce Saffron (67) and Mike Sheldon (54). Potter's absence leaves a hole at quarterback.

The returning foursome could tie the young team together.

TOP VETERAN

Chief among the four is guard Jim Main, a 5-8, 200-pound senior, who also doubles as middle linebacker. He's a hard-nosed performer who could be the key to the Skipper's success.

A coupleof tackles also return—Steve Kressbach, a 6-3, 210-pounder, and Timm Sager, a 5-11, 200-pounder, both seniors.

STARTS AT FB

The other returnee is Gary Whetstone, a 6-2, 195-pound power-runner who'll hold down the fullback slot.

Moffat has several promising prospects for jobs in the backfield.

Heading that list is speedster Don LeBlanc, a 5-7, 150-pound junior, who can add the zip to complement Whetstone's power efforts.

Other running back hopefuls are Mike Shaw (5-7, 145) and Roy Sumer (5-9, 140).

Coaches are high on end Dave Hemmerly (6-3, 170), who is tabbed for line duty along with Pat Jones (6-2, 170).

Help at the guard slot could come from senior Ralph Allen, a 5-7, 143-pounder who'll also move to a linebacker spot on defense.

So, the Skippers outlook isn't what one would call bright, but it's far from bleak. Play of the newcomers will determine how far the team travels.

FAMILY TEAM — Fullback Larry Whetstone (left) takes a handoff from brother, Carl, as they and their Waterford Township teammates tune for the upcoming campaign. Larry is a 6-2, 190-pound senior, while Carl (6-1, 165) is a junior.

Lathrup Can Shake-Up I-L

The Chargers of Lathrup High School are ready to utilize their two years experiences as a team.

This is the second year in the Inter-Lakes league for Lathrup and coach Darrell Harper and all of last year's juniors should give some of older teams trouble with a veteran senior team.

Quarterback John McFaddin, fullback Rick Hammill and running backs John Lang, Mark Santoni and Jeff Scott bring about an intact backfield.

Up front the same top names include Gary Eldred at center, Dave Singer at guard, Rick Weinberg and Jim Preston at tackles.

Weinberg is the heavyweight on the line at 225.

One freshman, Bruce Ruhl a 6-1 and 165 pound halfback has earned a varsity spot and only one sophomore, Dave Schultz a 165 pound guard.

The Chargers will play their home games at Southfield High School.

Millington 11 After Repeat

League champion Millington figures to pick up where it left off in the Greater Thumb circuit last fall.

The Cardinals piled up a 7-0 record to claim the title and they have 13 lettermen returning from the squad. "We lack experience says coach Bruce Gardner, adding "but if we do not have any injuries, we could be tough."

★ ★ ★

Chief among Gardner's returnees is Mike Ormstead, a 6-0, 190-pound halfback who has started for three years for the Cardinals. Another top performer is middle guard Ken Ross, a 5-11, 230-pounder.

A veteran backfield lifts Brown City's hopes to improve on its 4-4 mark in the Greater Thumb.

The Green Devils have quarterback Roger Czap on hand, along with fullback Chris Warren and halfbacks Ken Kohler and Ray Carman.

Another strong point in the Brown City lineup is the presence of tackles Larry Czap (6-0, 180) and Dick Fisher (6-3, 200).

Veteran Shada Right Behind

Folsom Tops Grid Mentors

Leo Folsom suffered his first setbacks last season as a head coach, but still managed to hold the percentage lead among Oakland County football mentors.

In two seasons at Walled Lake Central, Folsom-coached teams posted a 15-2-1 record for an .882 mark. He will be attempting to hold the No. 1 spot while directing the fortune's of Walled Lake Western this season.

★ ★ ★

All records are at Oakland County schools.

Veteran mentor John Shada, who starts his 11th campaign at Ferndale St. James, has an enviable 68-14 mark for 804. There isn't a tie during the 10 years he has coached the Dales.

Moving up to third and fourth off unbeaten campaigns were Ferndale's Frank Joranko and Lamphere's George Jesko.

FIRST SEASON

This will be Joe Sharpe's first full season as head coach at Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes. He assumed command during last season when Mike Boyd was called into the military.

Several new coaches will be on the scene this fall.

They include Paul Rakow at Clarkston; Max Hasse, Rochester Adams; Tom Urbin, Rochester High; Richard Woodworth, Walled Lake Central; Dave Woodcock, Royal Oak Shrine; Bill Ullenbruch, Bloomfield Hills Lahser; and Tom Wheatley, Avondale.

Other new mentors are Tom Grange at Royal Oak St. Mary; Dean Baker, Ortonville Brandon; and George Zainea, Birmingham Groves. Roeper also will have a new head coach.

Dean of the county coaching staff is the Rev. John Rakoczy of Orchard Lake St. Mary. He has held the reins of the Eaglets for 14 seasons and compiled a very respectable 66-35-3 record.

Next in length of service is Frank Crowell who started at Avondale and is now at Madison and Charles Skinner of Hazel Park. Each has logged 13 years in the county.

HE'S NO. 1—Leo Folsom, now coaching at Walled Lake Western, is the top football mentor in the county with a winning percentage of .882.

Grid Eras Differ at Walled Lake, Farmington

ABLE RECEIVER — Halfback John Holappa, on the smallish side at 5-5 and 135 pounds, is considered one of Farmington's top pass-receiving threats.

Split of Viking Squad Is Evident in Returnees

A new era is dawning at Walled Lake Central.

A division in the school district resulted in a new high school — Western — along with an accompanying division of students.

In the split of football players, Western claimed most of the experienced players, leaving only two lettermen returning at Central.

MOVES UP

So, coach Dick Woodworth, an assistant to Leo Folsom at Central last year — Folsom is now at Western — faces the task of taking on the Inter-Lakes League powers with a relatively inexperienced team.

★ ★ ★

He isn't scared. "We're inexperienced but we could surprise a lot of teams," says Woodworth, a 1956 graduate of Walled Lake Central.

FOES REMEMBER

Central has long dominated the Inter-Lakes League football picture, winning nine of the last 10, and opponents are likely to take out some of their frustration on the Vikings this season.

Central placed second at 4-1 last year as Livonia Stevenson won the title with a 5-0 record.

★ ★ ★

It could be that Woodworth may have to take a year to rebuild before jumping into the title picture again.

LONE VETERANS

The only veterans returning from last year are tackle Rick Lobert (6-1, 218) and wing back Bob Guthrie (5-10, 150).

But Walled Lake has long been noted for its football prowess and it's likely Woodworth has a number of top-notch players among the newcomers.

Among the prospects are three linemen. Tackle Jim Mebroom (6-0, 225) heads the list, followed by guard Bob Springer (5-9, 172) and end Mike Starnes (6-1, 172).

Falcons Hope for Different Grid Season

One of coach Dick Tyler's concerns as he sends Farmington's Falcons through their paces is the mental attitude of the squad.

How do you shake the effects of an 0-8-1 season? That's what puzzles Tyler.

MOST IMPORTANT

A winning attitude is all important and that's what Tyler is hoping for as he tunes the squad for the reugh Inter-Lakes League schedule.

"We'll have a much better team this year," vows Tyler. "We are thin but could be in the title picture if we stay healthy."

SMALL TURNOUT

That's Farmington in a nutshell. Tyler is working with a small turnout and once he finds out where everyone belongs, the one thing he cannot afford is an injury.

Tyler has three key performers on hand who could provide the leadership the Falcons will need to lift themselves out of the losing rut.

THIRD YEAR

Fullback Lou Henry (6-0, 185) is back seeking his third letter and he is the key to the Falcons' ground game.

Quarterback Dan Steinke (6-1, 160) has looked good in practice and he could team with end Randy Cleveland (6-3, 170) in forming one of the area's top pass-catch combinations.

Those three won't go it alone. They'll need help and much of it is expected to come from guard John Sherman (6-0, 180), end John Fleming (6-0, 175), center Bill Curtis (5-11, 185) and running back Bob Kin (5-7, 175).

Paterno, Root Named Best Coaches, '68

Joe Paterno of Penn State and Jim Root of New Hampshire were named winners of the 1968 Kodak Coach-of-the Year Awards by the American Football Coaches Association.

★ ★ ★

Paterno, whose Nittany Lions were among the top three teams in the nation with an 11-0 record, including an Orange Bowl victory over Kansas, was named large college division coach-of-the-year.

Paterno, who completed his third year as head coach, was nominated for the second successive time. His over-all record in three years at Penn State is 24-7-1, with 18-0-1 in the past 19 contests.

★ ★ ★

Root, in his first year at New Hampshire, won the college division coaching award after his team posted a 6-2 record last year.

Grid Faces Familiar

Mott Set to Make Thunder

After absorbing lumps the past couple of seasons, the Corsairs of Waterford Mott are now ready to dish out a few bruises to the opposition.

The Corsairs are in their third year now and coach George Perry is hopeful they've matured to a point where they will dish it out instead of being forced to absorb punishment.

MEET KETTERING

The Corsairs get their first taste of action Friday when they take on Waterford Kettering for the first time and a win there could put them on the right track.

★ ★ ★

Perry has 20 lettermen returning, but the squad has been beset by injuries creating thin spots at some positions.

SOUND TEAM

Still, it's a sound team, one, on paper at least, that figures to be one of the tops in the area.

★ ★ ★

During the '69 campaign, the Corsairs will also be participating in a new league—no name yet—for a football championship. Whether the title will be official or not is not known at this time, but the Corsairs will play Livonia Churchill and Walled Lake Western, both members of the new loop.

MORE MEMBERS

That trio will be joined next year by Farmington Harrison, ans still later by Northville and Plymouth. Northville is committed to the Wayne-Oakland this season.

Tricaptains John Cudnohufsky (5-8, 160), Bruce Clifton (5-9, 145) and Terry Ruffatto (5-9, 158) head the list of returnees for the Corsairs.

SLOWED BY INJURY

Cudnohufsky, a guard, has been slowed by a shoulder injury so his status is at best, doubtful.

WL West Not All New

New schools are supposed to roll over and play dead for a couple of years as they enter the football wars, but one such institution that will have none of that nonsense is Walled Lake Western.

Western is a new school, a beautiful $7.5 million structure, but there'll be nothing new about the football team except the uniforms.

COACH SHIFTS

Heeding the "Go West, Young Man" call was coach Leo Folsom, who moved to Western as head coach following two successful years as head man at Walled Lake Central.

★ ★ ★

In two campaigns at Central, Folsom coached the Vikings to a 15-2-1 record and won one Inter-Lakes League championship. His squad was second last year.

UNBALANCED SPLIT

In the division of students in the school district, Leo wound up with the lion's share of the football players. Consequently, the new Warriors will be a seasoned group when they take the field for their first game Friday against Bloomfield Hills Lahser. The Warriors will play their home games under the lights at the Walled Lake Central field.

★ ★ ★

In a way, likable Leo is like the guy walking down the street with a friend and kicks someone in the seat of the pants and runs, leaving his friend to face the consequences.

FRIEND FACES MUSIC

For years, Leo, and before him Dave Smith, had the terror of the Inter-Lakes League with the Vikings of Walled Lake, winning nine straight titles. Now, Leo has run out — to Western — leaving Dick Woodworth, his assistant last year, to face those coaches who have longed for an opportunity to settle the score with the Vikings.

★ ★ ★ ★

In the split of players, Leo picked up 10 of the 12 letterwinners, meaning he and the Warriors will not be a soft touch for anyone.

TOP PROSPECTS

Among the top Warrior prospects are center Pat Hafner (6-2, 180), guards Ron Snook (5-9, 195) and Gary McIntosh (5-10), 190), along with tackle Dave King, a 5-9, 235-pounder.

★ ★ ★

Folsom will have an experienced backfield in quarterback Roy Coomer (6-1, 180), plus running backs Wayne Morenz (5-11, 165), Jack Lewis (5-10, 165) and Bob Zaebst (5-8, 170).

Folsom, of course, has some spots to fill but he has an abundance of talent on hand and closing the gaps should be of no great concern.

Cautious Optimism at Holly, Lapeer

COACH: Dave Horner
COLLEGE: Central Michigan
COACHING RECORD: 2-6-1
HOLLY RECORD: 2-6-1
SYSTEM: Wing T
ASSISTANTS: Bob Varner, Bob Reeves

Although both schools will field relatively inexperienced football teams this season, coaches at Holly and Lapeer are cautiously optimistic.

★ ★ ★

"We'll be fair, but young and inexperienced," is the way Holly's Dave Horner sees the Bronchos. Coach Sid DeCou of Lapeer's defending Metro League champion Panthers has only eight lettermen returning, but feels the race will be close.

Holly has 14 lettermen, but only three were regulars last season.

Horner is building the team around tackle Tom McKinney, quarterback Jeff Caryl and end Bob Montgomery. The Bronchos open against Flint Bendle Friday.

★ ★ ★

DeCou must come up with a quarterback to replace departed All-leaguer Brad Gerlach. However, Walt Sierakowski, Dave Sohlden and Kevin Wickstrom return in the backfield.

Bruce Byrnes and Kevin Anderson are acnhoring the interior line and Mike Wood is a top end.

The Forecast:

2. Fenton
3. Flint Ainsworth
4. Lapeer
5. Holly
6. Swartz Creek

BULWARK—Tackle Tom McKenney is one of the bulwarks in Holly's line. The Bronchos are striving to improve their standing in the Metro League this season.

Lakers and Barons Look Past Woes

W. Bloomfield Must Rebuild '68 Crown

Few teams in recent years have matched the explosiveness exhibited by the Lakers of West Bloomfield as they ran up a 7-1 record last season and captured the Wayne-Oakland League championship.

It just could be that coach Art Paddy will wish he might have saved some of the '68 points for this campaign, his 13th, as he and the Lakers set about defending their title.

After losing his opener last year to Waterford, 26-20, Paddy then watched as the Lakers bowled over seven foes in a row and wound up the season with a scoring average per game of 38.2. Included in the victories was a 60-25 pasting of Milford's Redskins.

TALENT GONE

Now, however, a lot of that talent responsible for the high-scoring victories is gone—quarterback Robin Brennan, halfback Terry Conley, fullback Ed McKenna, Guard Kevin Gawronski and tackle Mike Walosin.

Coming up with replacements for those linemen could be a major chore for Paddy.

SEVERAL HOPEFULS

Among the candidates for the rough-and-tumble play in the line is Terry Urquhart, a 6-2, 239-pounder counted on for center and tackle duty. Even before the season opens, however, he's on the doubtful list with an ailing knee.

Among the other hopeful linemen are Ron VanGorder, a 5-9, 165-pounder who was a standout at guard and linebacker last year, Ed Warken, a 5-8, 155-pound guard, and tackle Bill Brinkel, who goes at 5-10 and 165 pounds.

A key ingredient to all of Paddy's teams has been a quarterback with the ability to fake the opposition out of its you know what. Brennan did that last year just as his predecessors did.

Barons Must Overcome Injury Bug

Rival coaches have been pointing a finger at coach Bob Kefgen and the Bloomfield Hills Andover Barons, but the third-year mentor has a tale of woe that could change a few minds.

That injury bug invaded the Barons' camp and thinned the already thin lineup by claiming a couple of starters.

TWO SIDELINED

Kefgen wasn't exactly crying, but he wasn't elated, either, after losing speedster Rick Kaufman and veteran tackle Dick Souther.

Kaufman, a 5-9, 153-pound junior, was supposed to supply the speed but he broke an ankle in practice and he's out for the campaign. Souther, a bruising 200-pound senior, was felled by mononucleuosis and he's likely to miss at least three games.

QUALITY ON HAND

Despite those two setbacks, the Barons, who shared second with Milford behind champion West Bloomfield last year, have some quality players on the '69 squad who'll keep the record respectable.

★ ★ ★

Chief among the Barons' returnees is fullback Chuck Palaian, a sturdy 178-pounder, whose blockbuster runs up the middle spurred the Barons last season.

Palaian is one of the most powerful runners around and he's expected to improve on this seven-touchdown performance of last year.

QB RETURNS

Another backfield veteran on hand is quarterback Scott Roley who ranked third in scoring on the team with 31 markers. Scott's brother Jeff, who left via graduation, set the scoring pace with 66.

Some candidates for line posts are Craig Swenson (6-0, 172) with Tony Vettraino (6-1, 235), John Proctor (5-11 168) and Marshall Neal (6-2, 190) at the tackles.

Rebuilding Time Ahead

On paper, new coach Paul E. Rakow appears to have his work cut out for him as he runs Clarkston's Wolves through their paces in preparation for the upcoming Wayne-Oakland League championship race.

Rakow, with an 18-7-0 record behind him at other schools, moves in at the helm of a club that was 3-6 last year and one which then lost 18 members of the team through graduation.

FIVE RETURNEES

Only five lettermen were on hand as the Wolves began their drills for the '69 campaign, but Rakow isn't moaning.

"Over-all, the team is young but it has a good spirit and the players are very coachable," offered Rakow in looking at the '69 edition of the Wolves.

REUBILDING

Basically, Rakow has a rebuilding job and it's likely the team's play will improve as the season progresses.

★ ★ ★

The five lettermen still around are seniors and they'll occupy kep positions along the line.

Rocky Jennings (6-1, 170) and Mark Walter (5-11, 160) are slated to handle the end positions, while George Bennett (5-10, 160) is likely to get the call at center.

LINE CANDIDATES

Expected to land one of the tackle slots is Scott Robbins, a 6-2, 175-pounder, and he's likely to play next to guard Bill Logan, who statistics are 5-10 and 195 pounds

BALL HAWKS — Bidding for defensive back jobs with Clarkston's varsity this fall are (from left) Rick Prasil, John Hux, Mark Swanson and Tom Lane.

Milford Rebuilds

Redskins Lose Heavily

It just might be a long fall for the Redskins of Milford.

One of the terrors of the Wayne-Oakland League last year, the Redskins piled up a 5-2 mark in loop play to share second place with Bloomfield Hills Andover. Over-all, the 'Skins closed at 7-2.

★ ★ ★

The outlook isn't quite as promising this year. Most of the offensive punch of that squad picked up diplomas last spring, leaving coach Jerry Ganzel with more holes than a sieve to fill.

"It's a rebuilding year," says Ganzel. "This year we'll be small but quick."

Depth could be a problem for Ganzel in the early going as he sorts out the newcomers to find out who fits where.

★ ★ ★

Among the losses via garduation were end Mark Giegler and quarterback Bob Clinard, who scored 52 points between them.

★ ★ ★

But on the plus side, the team's leading scorer is back and his presence is expected to keep the offensive backfield ticking.

★ ★ ★

The big guy is Matt Partridge, a 6-0, 185 pounder, who has earned a pair of letters at the position and who tallied 50 points last fall. Partridge climaxed his campaign with a three-touchdown performance as Milford bombed Holly, 38-0, in the '68 finale.

Kettering Prospects Better

3 New Coaches Begin at MSU

Three assistant coaches make their initial appearances with the Michigan State football team when the Spartans open their 1969 season Sept. 20 against Washington at East Lansing.

★ ★ ★

The aides who will make their debut against the Huskies are Joe Carruthers, Sherman Lewis and George Paterno.

Lewis enjoyed a great career as a Spartan halfback and made All-America honors in 1963. Carruthers was a standout lineman for the Spartan squad finally winding up his career in 1957.

★ ★ ★

Paterno, brother of Penn State head coach Joe Paterno, is a former Brown University star who most recently was head coach at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy.

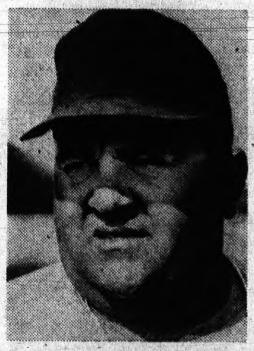
WKHS Has 15 Lettermen

Jim Larkin of Waterford Kettering is never guilty of overstating his case.

Quizzed on the prospects for this year's Kettering football squad, portly Jim allows as how "We'll be better than the last two years." Hastily, he adds, "I hope!!"



JIM LARKIN

Heading into his ninth campaign as head coach of the Captains, Larkin has a record of 36-30-4 behind him.

The Captains are getting some support from around the Wayne-Oakland League as possible title contenders but Larkin remains mum o that score.

EVEN IN '68

The Captains broke even last year in their debut in the Wayne-Oakland at 3-3, and overall, they were 3-6, and there's hope that this year's crew will steer clear of such disasters this season.

Among the 15 letter winners returning from last year, Larkin has veterans at the key positions, indicating that things should look better this time around.

★ ★ ★

Chief among the veterans are tackles Rick Colonna and Kevin Dyer.

Colonna is a 6-4, 195-pound senior, while Dyer tips the scales at 220 and stands 6-4.

Another top prospect for line duty is guard James Gary, a solid 5-11, 170 pounder.

Quarterback is expected to be no problem with the job in the hands of capable Paul Curry.

Curry, a six foot, 170 pounder, has handled the job for two seasons and he has the poise to keep the Captains moving under fire.

OTHER RUNNERS

Joining Curry in the backfield at one of the halfback slots is bruising Bob Gratz, a 185 pounder who stands 6-1 and who is expected to give the Captains the power running they need to move up in the W-O race.

There are holes which Larkin is working to fill as the opener with neighbor Mott approaches, but he's confident the job will be done.

Barons Choice

Rival coaches aren't exactly in agreement on which one would win, but they are nearly unanimous in their opinion that either Bloomfield Hills Andover or West Bloomfield will pick up the Wayne-Oakland football title this fall.

★ ★ ★

West Bloomfield won it last year. Andover won it the year before. In a tight vote, the Barons of Andover rate the edge, an outcome that is likely to cause coach Bob Kefgen to squirm a little.

Being the favorite is generally pleasant but it carries with it some obvious discomforts, chief of which is that opponents are known to prime more for a favorite than another.

TOO HIGH?

Based on losses, Northville may be rated a couple of notches too high, while Kettering figures to do better than the pre-season estimates. Another team that's a lot better is Clarenceville.

Northville lost 15 lettermen from last year's 4-3 team and coach Alex Klukach feels that's too much to lose and still rate a contender's role.

★ ★ ★

Chief among the returnees at Northville are halfback Terry Mills, a 5-10, 160-pound speedster, and guard Brian Myers, who goes at 180 pounds.

Others working into starting assignments at Northville include ends Bernie Bach (6-2, 190) and Fred Holdsworth (6-0, 175), along with quarterback Richard Adams (6-0, 175) and halfback Dave Coe (5-11, 170).

★ ★ ★

Ralph Weddle has 14 letter winners returning at Clarenceville indicating the Trojans should improve on last year's 2-5 league mark.

OL Lakes Has Nucleus to Have Winning Year

Coach Joe Sharpe fared well as a stand-in last year at Waterford Our Lady of Lakes, and the young grid mentor is playing the lead role at the onset this year with a banner campaign a definite possibility.

Sharpe took the reins of the Lakers midway during the '68 season when head coach Mike Boyd entered the U. S. Army, and the WOLL squad continued to win under Sharpe and went on to a 6-1-1 record and a third-place finish in the northwest Catholic League.

LOST OPENER

The Lakers' lone loss was a season-opening 20-14 effort against Pontiac Catholic, and the squad later redeemed itself by stopping co-champion St. James, 19-15. St. James and Pontiac Catholic shared the title at 6-1.

Eight members of that '68 squad are not around this year but Sharpe has the nucleus of a better-than-average team along with a few promising new prospects.

TOP RETURNEES

Three veterans of the backfield are returning along with another trio of linemen.

Heading the returnees is junior halfback Jim Tracey, a 6-foot, 205-pounder, who was the team's No. 2 scorer last year with 57 points.

HOLES TO FILL

With Tracey in the backfield are quarterback Dave Calme (6-1, 180) and half back Mike Webster, a 5-9, 165-pound senior. Graduation of Roy Lilley—top scorer with 76 points—and Tim Hagan left a couple of holes in the backfield, but Sharpe's confident the holdovers can handle those jobs.

Senior Pat McColgan, a 6-0, 170-pounder, handles one of the end spots and he's a solid blocker and a top-notch receiver. Slated to go at guards are Brian Souve (5-10, 170) and Sharpe is hopeful that a couple of newcomers will fill the two tackle spots. He has on hand Jim Hess, a 6-4, 240-pound junior, and sophomore Jeff Wise, a 5-9, 180-pounder.

Marty Webster, a 5-4, 130-pound speedster, is one of the chief candidates for a spot in the backfield.

'Year of 9' Mark of Luck

COLUMBIA, Mo. — There's a good-luck harbinger in Mizzou's 1969 football outlook.

Going back to 1899, and on every subsequent ten-year anniversary, all Tiger teams have been winners — and three (1939, 1949, 1959) received bowl invitations.

★ ★ ★

The 1909 team (7-0-1) was the only undefeated squad in Mizzou's annals, until a conference ruling erased the lone 23-7 loss to Kansas in 1960, for using an ineligible player, and revised the M.U. record to 10-0.

Wyoming Bids for Another League Crown

By the Associated Press

Wyoming, bidding for an unprecedented fourth consecutive title, and Arizona State, a team with one of college football's fastest backfields, are rated the favorites in the Western Athletic Conference football race.

Coach Lloyd Eaton of Wyoming has 13 starters back from his WAC championship club, which beat every league opponent except one. Meanwhile, Coach Frank Kush is moaning about his weak offensive line but can't wait to turn fullback Art Malone and his Arizona State teammates on the enemy.

High Scoring League Seen for Parochials

A relatively high-scoring league with apparently no weak sisters—that's the way the Northwest Catholic loop shapes up.

Ferndale St. James and Pontiac Catholic shared the title last year, and in a new alignment, Pontiac Catholic has departed to another loop along with St. Francis de Sales, while Hamtramck St. Florian and Utica St. Lawrence are the newcomers to the Northwest.

FEW LOSSES

Coach John Shada lost only seven players from the '68 St. James outfit, and 21 Dales are returning giving the successful mentor reason to believe '69 won't be too bad.

"We lost some top players but I feel we have replacements for them," says Shada. "If we fill our quarterback and fullback spots, then we'll be okay."

After St. James, the opinion is that Waterford Our Lady, third last year and the only team to beat St. James, will occupy second, followed in an order something like this: Orchard Lake St. Mary, St. Florian, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, St. Rita, Royal Oak St. Mary and Utica St. Lawrence.

★ ★ ★

You'll get disagreement, particularly on those picked for the lower rungs on the ladder, but then that's what makes the games worth playing.

ALL-STATER GONE

Shada lost All-State end Gary Johnson, quarterback Bob Nayhert and fullback Jim Tsolis among others, but he isn't crying.

★ ★ ★

He has two of the finest halfbacks in the league in Carl Siedl (5-9, 160) and Frank Wigman (5-11, 170), plus all-league guard and linebacker Bill Moharter, a tough 150-pounder. A pair of beefy tackles are also on hand—John Weir (6-2, 220) and Mark Cuchetti (5-10, 210)—and Gary Johnson's brother, Dave, is around to occupy an end spot.

TOP LINEMEN

Sorrows, 3-4 last year, has a veteran crew returning including linemen Bary Walsh (5-11, 225 tackle) and Don Valenti (5-9, 160 guard) who'll serve as tri-captains along with flankerback Ross Patton (5-9, 155).

★ ★ ★

But coach Bob Kelley reminds that Sorrows lost most of its tough line and therein lies the problem to be solved before the team can make a run for the title.

Eaglets Have Early Test of Strength

Few Orchard Lake St. Mary teams have had a record like last year's and the Eaglets of '69 are eager to atone for that performance.

Most of last year's crop is back. Coach Fr. John Rakoczy lost only four from the team that finished seventh with a 1-6 record in the oNrthwest Catholic League. On the plus side, 16 lettermen are returning.

HIGH HOPES

"We have high hopes," admits Fr. Rakoczy. "It depends on the mental attitude of our seniors."

On paper the Eaglets look like a world-beater with veterans at every position and the squad will find out early just how good, or otherwise, it is in a visit to Ferndale St. James Sunday.

St. James shared the league championship last year with Pontiac Catholic, both at 6-1, and the St. James crew figures to be the team to beat this year.

The Eaglets could do just that.

POINTS LIKELY

From an offensive standpoint, the Eaglets should score often and the points may come in the air as well as on the ground.

Quarterback Mike Krogulecki, a 5-10, 145-pound senior, has the arm to make the Eaglets a definite aerial threat, and he has the receivers in end Steve Ermak (6-1, 185) and backs Dale Roman (5-9, 140) and Walt Sakowski (6-1, 195) to make it go.

Manning the veteran line is center Ed Wojtys (6-2, 185), who has earned two letters at that position.

FILL LINE SPOTS

Rick Strzalkowski (5-11, 190) is expected to handle one of the guard slots, with either Dan Klimkiewicz or Gary Jugan filling the other.

KEY GUYS — Holding down a couple of the key posts with the Eaglets of Orchard Lake St. Mary this fall will be center Ed Wojtys and quarterback Mick Krogulecki, brother of ex-Eaglet star signal-caller Conrad.

LOOKING AHEAD — Halfback John Hejka, a senior 5-8, 140-pounder, is slated for starting duty this fall in the backfield of the Eagles of Orchard Lake St. Mary.

ON TARGET — A key performer in the grid plans of Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows is 6-3 end Mike Hart, shown here hauling in a pass during practice.

KEEPING WATCH — Head coach Fr. John Rakoczy left) and assistant coach Jan Szymczak have an eye on the progress the Orchard Lake St. Mary team is making. With a number of returnees, the coaches have high hopes for the '69 campaign.

Lawrence (Kansas) Is Number 1 Again

For the 16th time in the past 25 years, the Lions, football team of Lawrence High School, Lawrence, Kan., completed their final season in 1968, with an undefeated record.

The Associated Press, which has been ranking Kansas high school teams for 22 years, selected Lawrence for the 12th time as its number one team at the end of the 1968 season.

For the quarter century, Lawrence has won 204, lost 16 and tied eight for a winning percentage of .912. Coach Al Woolard, in his 12th undefeated season at Lawrence, has a won-loss-tied record at the high school of 153-12-6.

Two Division System Starts in O-A

North, South Alignment Will Feature Playoffs

There's something new on the Oakland County high school football scene this fall.

The Oakland "A" league, which up until this season was composed of eight teams, has expanded to 12 teams.

Last school year the Oakland "A" league was complete with Madison Heights, Troy, Clawson, Rochester, Lake Orion, Utica, Avondale, and Romeo high schools battling for the league title.

NEW ADDITIONS

This year, Oxford, Rochester Adams, Bloomfield Lahser and Madison Lamphere were added to the list and the league split into two divisions of six teams each.

★ ★ ★

The North Division is comprised of Oxford, Lake Orion, Utica, Avondale, Romeo and Rochester Adams, while the South Division includes Madison, Lamphere, Troy, Clawson, Lahser and Rochester.

POSITION CONTEST

Each team will play within its own division with the exception of one contest against another team in the opposite division.

★ ★ ★

On the next to final game of the season each team will have an open date with the two division winners to play each other for the overall Oakland "A" league championship.

LOOP FAVORITES

In the North Division, Lake Orion, Utica and Romeo are looked to be the favorites to capture their divisional crown, although not necessarily in that order.

★ ★ ★

Lake Orion, with 13 returning lettermen can definitely be counted as a contender for the divisional crown as will be Utica, although the Chieftains, under coach Bob Dilday have less than half the returning letterwinners.

SLIGHT EDGE

Utica will have a slight edge with a complete experienced backfield including quarterback Dave Hall, a 5-11, 180-pound senior, fullback Bruce Harms, senior 6-2, 195-pound, right half Rich Redd, 5-10, 175-pound senior and left half Gary Baginski, a 6-1, 185-pound junior.

★ ★ ★

Always tough Romeo, hit hard at garduation, will be in the heat of the title race, while Oxford, Avondale and newly-founded Rochester Adams could prove to be the dark horses in the North Division.

TOUGHER LINEUP

The South Division of the Oakland "A" league, despite people that will argue differently, should, in reality, be the older and tougher of the two.

★ ★ ★

Madison Heights, Troy, Clawson and Rochester have always been the big guns in Oakland "A" league, and this year should prove no different.

Last year Madison finished second in the league to Rochester with a 4-2-1 record and 5-3-1 overall. This season the Eagles, under coach Frank Crowell, should be the top contender for the league crown with 14 returning lettermen.

GOOD CHANCE

Troy, who finished in a tie with Madison for second, and 5-2-1 overall, should give a good accounting of itself in the title race despite losing a majority of experienced players to graduation.

Clawson, equally hurt at graduation, can always be counted on to turn in a good performance in its race for the South Division's championship.

Rochester, who had quite a few of its key gridders transferred to Adams when that school was established will still be in the thick of the fighting if coach Tom Urbin has anything to say about it.

OAKLAND-A FORECAST

North	South
1. Utica	1. Troy
2. Lake Orion	2. Madison
3. Romeo	3. Lamphere
4. Avondale	4. Rochester
5. Adams	5. Clawson

Lahser Knights Get Into O-A Conference

The Knights of Bloomfield Lahser High School, entering their second year of actual varsity grid competition, are looking for a successful season despite a lack of depth and experience in the squad.

Bill Ullenbruch has taken over the reins of head grid coach at the Bloomfield school and will endeavor to finish the 1969 season with an improved record over last year's 2-5-1 final standing.

This is Lahser's debut the South Division of the Oakland "A" league.

Although not a heavy team on an all around basis, the Knights do have some stalwart linemen who will undoubtedly contribute to Ullenbruch's plans.

SENIOR LINEMEN

Senior tackle John Slough appears to have a starting berth on the Knights opening night game against Walled Lake Western this Friday.

So too, does another senior, guard Ross Pottinger.

★ ★ ★

Pottinger tips the scales at 160 pounds and stands 6-1, while Slough is 6-1, 175-pounds.

The Knights will have plenty of speed in the backfield including two track stars, Bernie McPheely and Ron Samarian, both seniors.

★ ★ ★

Samarian, 5-10, 155-pounds, will double as an offensive end, defensive back, while McPheely, 6-1, 155-pounds, is expected to go both ways in the Knight backfield.

Dave Brown, a 5-8, 185-pounder junior linebacker, has shown steady improvement since the beginning of practice and may also earn a berth on the starting lineup.

Although he probably won't decide until prior to game time, Ullenbruch has two excellent choices for the starting quarterback position.

Senior Doug Wagner, 5-11, 160-pounds has had his hands full vying with junior Tom Cates, 5-10, 160-pounds.

Ullenbruch is optimistic, the team spirit is high and if the Knights can squeeze by their first few games, their first venture in the Oakland "A" league could prove to be fruitful.

Jackets to Test Sting, Orion Hopeful

16 Lettermen Greet Coach at Avondale

The sting of a single Yellow Jacket is enough to make even the hardy cry, but when eleven of them come charging, its time to drop everything and run.

With this in mind, Tom Wheatley, head coach at Avondale will looser his young charges on the gridiron Friday night for the season opener against non-league foe Milford.

★ ★ ★

The Yellow Jackets, who were involved in a new realignment of the Oakland "A" league, find themselves in the north division of the league battling newcomers Rochester Adams, and Oxford as well as Lake Orion, Utica, Avondale and Romeo for the crown.

LOOKS AT CHANCES

Although not overly optimistic, Wheatley feels his team has a better than average chance of ending up with the north division title.

★ ★ ★

Of last year's team, which posted a dismal 1-5-1 league record, and 1-7-1 overall final total, Wheatley counted 16 returning lettermen.

★ ★ ★

Almost the entire offsenive platoon is back including starting quarterback, senior Randy Cornell, 5-7, and 155-pounds.

★ ★ ★

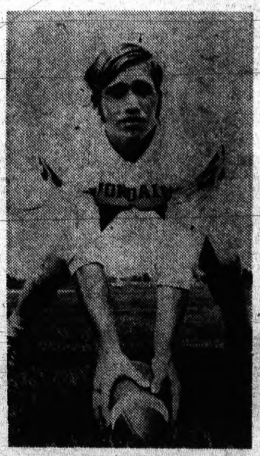
The probable starting fullback for the Yellow Jacket squad is senior Gary Price, 5-8, 190-pounds, while two speedy juniors, Rick McDonald, 5-10, 145-pounds, and Rick Moore, 5-9, 150-pounds, will take up positions at wingback and halfback, respectively.

RUNNING SPEED

Avondale will have speed in the backfield, where it should be, and solid strength in the front line.

★ ★ ★

Seniors Phil Barger, 6-4, 205-pounds, Dennis Nosko, 6-3, 205 pounds, and Dan Barker, 6-1 262-pounds, will make up the bulk of the Yellow Jacket line alternating at the tackle positions, while senior Mitch Vogeli, 5-11, 185-pounds and John Williford, 5-10, 175-pounds will take up the center and guard positions.



MIDDLE MAN — Avondale's man in the middle this year will be Mitch Vogeli, who'll handle the center chores on offense and move to middle linebacker on defense.

SMOOTH HANDOFF — Fullback Bob Mutter (33) and quarterback Randy Cornel, working a handoff here, will be two of the faces in the Avondale backfield this fall.

Dragons See Improvement This Season

Friday night, the Dragons of Lake Orion will venture into a questionable 1969 grid campaign facing Warren Woods before moving into the rugged Oakland A league slate.

The Dragons, who finished in fifth place of the Oakland "A" with a 2-4 record are hoping to improve on that standing this fall, only this time in the newly established north division of the same league.

★ ★ ★

Coach Doug Holcomb will have an abundance of material to work with in his title drive, particularly in view of the fact that 13 returning lettermen are on the varsity roster.

TWO QB's

Holcomb will have two fine quarterbacks from which to choose in juniors Ed Kubilus, 6-2, 175-pounds, and Scott Fields, 5-10, 150-pounds.

★ ★ ★

Speedsters Jim Luebbert, a 6-1, 180-pound senior halfback and senior Jerel Hollens, a 5-9, 160-pound wingback will add to Holcomb's title dreams with some expected fancy footwork.

★ ★ ★

Defensively the Dragons have two outstanding tacklers in Ray Rogers, a 6-3, 200-pound safety man, and linebacker George Trim.

★ ★ ★

Senior Joe Kopeck will also guard the Dragon secondary defensive line at safety.

★ ★ ★

On the line the Dragons are rather light. Center Mike Dudley, a 5-10, 170-pound junior will anchor the line with tackles Jim Knapp, a senior 6-3, 200-pounds, and Tull Lasswell, a senior, 5-11, 205-pounds for support on either side.

Highlanders Have Five Lettermen

Max Hasse, the "Yul Brynner" of Oakland County coaches, moves from an assistant's role at Pontiac Central and inherits a substantially strong senior array of players as the head coach at new Rochester Adams high school.

The Highlanders will be more fortunate than many new schools, starting their first grid campaign with varsity men.

★ ★ ★

Five senior varsity players from Rochester Central along with another half dozen juniors will make up the nucleus of the squad which will be playing in the Northern Division of the Oakland A this year.

★ ★ ★

Adams High will start its first year as a class B school, with Mike Hall as the varsity runner and Bill Lennox, another senior, as the quarterback.

★ ★ ★

Center Scott Kennedy and guard Bill Hanley are among the lettermen along with senior end Guy Stoops.

★ ★ ★

A junior quarterback Gary Willis is available to back up Lennox, while the running strength may come from Mike Pellerito and Jim Young.

★ ★ ★

Because of their unknown quality, the rival coaches in the Oakland-A have designated the bottom of the ladder for the Highlanders, who will be wearing Brown and Gold colors in athletics.

★ ★ ★

Adams and Rochester Central are not scheduled to meet in regular season play, however by the new format of interdivisional playoffs, the possibility exists, even though remotely.

There are only two home games on the Adams schedule with Lake Orion, Oct. 3 and with Utica Oct. 17, both on the Rochester Central field.

READY TO GO—Quarterback Gary Willis of Rochester Adams will be behind Scott Kennedy when the Highlanders take the field for the first time this fall.

Romeo's New Coach Inherits 13 Lettermen

Larry Dunn, who takes over the coaching job at Romeo High School after posting a 31-8-3 record at Homer High school, is happy to have 13 lettermen back from last year with two experienced quarterbacks included.

"Depth is our main problem. We have good speed and strength in the backfield, but we're short of manpower up front," said Dunn.

Mike Sweeney, a 5-7 and 150 pound senior and Tom Lerchen, a 5-9 and 160 pounder are slated to share the signal calling duties for the Bulldogs.

LINE THIN

To help the thin line, fullback Fred Lebendig, a 6-foot and 200 pounder may be called upon to double as a defensive tackle.

Also in the backfield are Mike Schmidt a 5-9 and 170 pound senior. Schmidt was one of the top runners on the track team last spring.

★ ★ ★

Dave Lothery another senior, 5-8 and 160, also has good speed while Greg Schneider, a 5-7 and 155 pound senior, will supply depth at wingback.

Tailback Marv Kraft, a 6-1 and 175 pounder, is another double duty player who will play extensively in the secondary.

TRANSFER HELP

Center Tom Conley, a 5-8 and 180 pounder, will be one of the few positions on the line with backup held, and that will come from a sophomore transfer Barry Cook a 6-0 and 220 pounder.

Most recent addition to the line is the giant sized Bill Sweet a 6-2 and 270 pound junior tackle.

★ ★ ★

Running won't be problem for Romeo especially with the addition of Mike Safranski, who was the top ball carrier on the jayvee squad last season.

★ ★ ★

At the respective end positions, Romeo will have seniors Terry Avenall and Chip Barnabo. Avenall is a 5-8 and 155 pounder while Barnebo goes 5-10 and 155

Lost for much of the season is another back, Dave Glowacki a 185 pound junior who suffered a broken collar bone in practice.

CATCHY EFFORT—Halfback Mark McAllister of Rochester makes a dive to haul in this pass during a drill. The 5-9, 153-pounder is expected to be a key figure in the Falcons' 1969 plans..

Outright Title Is Falcons' Aim

It doesn't make much difference to Tom Urbin, head football coach at Rochester High School that the Oakland "A" league has split down the middle, added four new teams, and has a whole new competition system this year.

It's the league championship that's on his mind.

Urbin, who guided his Falcons to a 8-1 season and tied for the league championship with Clawson last year (each with 6-1 records) would like nothing better than to win the title outright this season.

And believe it or not, Urbin just might get his wish.

The main factor that will contribute to the title drive is that he wasn't hit too badly at graduation although some were lost to the new Adams team.

The Falcons will get a chance to test their strength this Friday night when they travel to Utica Stevenson to take on the non-league foe in the season opener.

Senior Tom Brown, 6-1, 162-pounds, may start as the signal caller for the Falcons in the opening game.

★ ★ ★

Two big tackles, seniors Arthur Avery, 6-2, 239-pounds, and Bob Denz, 6-3, 235-pounds, will undoubtedly be key figures in Urbin's quest for another league championship.

Tall and thin Tom Malkasian, 5-9, 141-pounds will be a starter at one of the end positions, as will Tom Ducharm, a 5-9, 160-pound senior guard.

★ ★ ★

Another light-weight lad, who will prooably see a lot of action this season is senior Mark McAllister, a 5-9, 153-pound offensive back.

Although the bull of the Falcon squad is made up almost entirely of seniors, several sophomores, will be carried on this year's team.

Among them are included; halfback Larry Werth, 6-2, 175-pounds, guard Dave Davis, 5-9, 186-pounds and end Terry Russell, 6-2, 162-pounds.

'Desire' Biggest Asset for Oxford Wildcats

Just about every football coach's dream is to go through a season without any serious injuries to members of his team, especially key players.

This hopeful outlook was expressed by Jerry Neidlinger, head football hoach at Oxford High School when queried as to what lies ahead in the upcoming season for the Wildcats.

"We're not big, we don't have an over abundance of speed, plus we lack depth, but we have desire and if we can stay healthy, I think we'll be in there battling for the title."

★ ★ ★

This cautiously worded statement from Neidlinger just about sums up the prospects of Oxford's chance to cop the divisional title in the North bracket of the Oakland "A" league this year.

AFTER QB JOB — Bill Biebuyck is one of the chief candidates for the quarterback's position at Oxford this fall.

When graduation finished off 14 varsity players, Neidlinger counted only 11 returning lettermen among those hopefuls at the onset of pre-season practice.

★ ★ ★

With the returning letter winners, plus a bunch of young talented material on hand, the Wildcats will try to atone for last year's record.

★ ★ ★

In 1968 the Wildcats, before moving to the Oakland "A" League, tied for fifth place with Harper Woods in the Central Suburban bracket, each with 0-4-1 records, while coach Neidlinger's boys finished over-all with a 0-8-1 standing.

★ ★ ★

Junior quarterback, Dan Valentine (6-1, 180) will probably get the nod at the starting slot in the Wildcats opening game this Friday night against Clarkston.

Senior fullback Clarence Millen, 6-0, 190-pounds is one of the brighter spots in Neidlinger's lineup, along with guard Bruce Bromley, 5-10, 195-pounds, guard Tom Meagher, junior, 5-11, 185-pounds, and linebacker John Calahan, also a junior.

Camille Was No Lady!

Camille was a hurricane the likes of which this country has never seen. It flooded Virginia. It killed people by the hundreds. It destroyed homes by the thousands. It crippled countless small businessmen and farmers and fishermen.

Red Cross Volunteers are right now doing everything they can, to help repair the damage, lessen the suffering, re-establish the homes. The latest estimate says it will take $15,000,000 to put those men, women and children back on their feet. Give them all you can in help. Right now, you're all they've got!

Camille was a disaster.

Chieftains Have Size in Front Line

This is the year coaching rivals in the Oakland-A say they will have to watch Utica.

Coach Bob Dilday lost only six lettermen, hasn't even given a count of those returning, but a host of juniors and seniors led by three strong backfield men, Bruce Harms, Dave Hall and Rich Redd form the nucleus of the running attack.

Two good sized tackles, Sam Esman and Doug Riemas tip the scales at 240 and 205 respectively, while both ends Bruce Brennan and Bob Hudgins are lanky 190 pounders.

Biggest loss was quarterback Rob Dilday, along with end Dave Martin, but after a 6th place finish in the 8-team league last season, the Chieftains should have enough to make the strongest bid for the Northern Division title.

Dilday's closest competition in the division is expected to come from Lake Orion and Romeo or possibly Avondale, since arch-rival Rochester is now in the Southern Division of the league.

Navy will have 16 lettermen returning for the 1969 football season.

Brandon Gridders Looking Upward

Ortonville Brandon's football team will have a new look this fall, but the outlook is cloudy.

Dean Baker is the new head coach, there is a new system and many on the players are on the roster are newcomers. One thing is sure, the Black Hawks can go only one way—upward.

★ ★ ★

They finished last in the Genesee C League last year and posted a 0-7-1 record.

"We are hopeful," is about all Baker would say. All positions on the varsity were declared open by the coach until after a scrimmage game.

TWO VETERANS

However, Mike Wilcox probably will get the call at quarterback and Eddie Westerby is expected to be one of the halfbacks. Both played regularly last season. Wilcox is one of several juniors who may start. There are 11 lettermen.

★ ★ ★

Baker was heartened by the increase in players reporting for practice. There is a combined total of 60 on the varsity and junior varsity squads.

★ ★ ★

The Black Hawks open on the road Saturday night against tough Flint Holy Rosary. The second contest, Sept. 19, will be at arch-rival Goodrich.

Building Program for Almont

Dryden Hopes Flutter

More Cardinals fluttering around the gridiron has raised hopes slightly at Dryden, while over at neighboring Almont the Raiders are regrouping.

Nearly 50 football candidates turned out at Dryden. This is a big increase over last year. Coach Bob Mason, who finished the 1968 season with 18 players on the varsity, probably will be able to suit up a couple of dozen this year.

★ ★ ★

"Most of the new boys are freshmen and sophomores," said Mason, "and they will weed themselves out, so our larger turnout can be deceiving."

Of the younger players will comprise the junior varsity team.

Mason is busy trying to rebuild the line which was hard hit by graduation. Center Mike Hardy and end Frank Smith are the only regular frontliners returning.

SWITCHED AROUND

Bill Peacock, a reserve last year, takes over one of the tackle slots and Greg Ribble has been moved from defensive halfback to tackle. Another shift has linebacker Bill Weingartz moving into a guard slot and 1968 reserve end Dave Lamb moving to guard.

Three regulars return in the backfield led by quarterback Jack West. Dave Wilcox returns at fullback and Greg Howard at halfback. Kim Ankley who saw limited action last year, and Jim Reynolds, up from the junior varsity, are battling for the other spot.

★ ★ ★

Guard Steve Truman and end Jim Vanderwaker are two other 1968 jayvees who stand a good chance of playing regularly.

Almont lost 19 lettermen via graduation with heavy losses in the backfield.

"We are a complete new team," said Coach Gary Carson. "We have good team speed, but little size. However, we should be in there all the way."

There are eight lettermen with tackle Jim Millikin, halfback Mike Currey and center Dale Havens ready to take up regular duties. Newcomers making strong bids for starting berths are end Larry Striber and backs Ron Lawrence and Larry Jonston.

★ ★ ★

Dryden and Almont will face nonleague foes Friday before getting down to Southern Thumb League action against each other at Almont Sept. 19. The Cardinals open at Mayville and the Raiders are at Grosse Pointe University School.

The Southern Thumb has dropped to seven teams this year because Anchor Bay pulled out to go in the St. Clair circuit.

Capac, winless in nine outings last season, hopes to improve with a mixture of senior and junior veterans.

The forecast:

1. New Haven
2. Richmond
3. Armada

Heavy Work at Imlay City

There is some work ahead for Imlay City's Spartans who will be trying to at least match last year's 7-2 record.

Most of the Spartan backfield is gone but there are a number of able-bodied players on hand, obviously enough to fill all of the running back spots.

★ ★ ★

Leading the Imlay attack this fall will be senior quarterback Pat Dodge (6-0, 170), who is battling a couple of juniors for the job—Mike Bowman (5-11, 140) and Peter Schofield (5-10, 150).

Tom Maison (5-9, 190) and Clark Arnold (5-10, 175) are gunning for the fullback spot, while there are a handful of players seeking the halfback slots. Among them are seniors David Pittenger (6-0, 160) and Ron Hansen (5-10, 158).

Dondero Rebuilding

A rebuilding program is in order for the football team at Royal Oak Dondero High School this fall.

The Oaks, who lost 20 men by graduation, will try to improve on last season's 3-4-2 over-all record with ten returning letter winners.

Dondero, which will open its '69 season against non-league foe Ferndale Friday night, finished up in fourth place in the tough Border Cities League with a 2-2-1 standing.

Despite the lack of players with actual varsity playing experience, head coach Ivy Loftin will have a good selection of boys that enjoyed a rather good season on the junior varsity squad the last two years.

Loftin will look to senior tackle John Brown, 6-1, 205-pounds along with guard Dennis Coldsworthy, senior, 5-11, 170-pounds to be the mainstay of the Oaks.

Pat Campbell, a 5-10, 165-pound senior and brother of last year's starting quarterback, Jerry Campbell, will have to battle it out with Rick Webster, senior 5-8, 165-pounds, and junior John Adaminski, 5-11, 160-pounds for the starting berth in the upcoming opening game.

Two returning halfbacks, Paul Bonner, 5-11, 155-pounds, and Rich Prested, 5-9, 150-pounds, both juniors, will get the nod for starting positions while junior fullback, Joe Krockker, 5-11, 155-pounds has been moved up from the reserve squad.

New Award for Top Gridder

No longer will county preps face the task of filling the 'shoe' of a departed football standout.

For the past 12 years, the Press Sports Department has cosponsored the Thom McAn Football Shoe Award, which was given at the climax of the season to the most outstanding senior player in Oakland County.

The Press will again sponsor the award which has undergone some significant changes for the upcoming campaign.

In the past a shoe of the recipient was bronzed and molded to a plaque and then awarded.

NEW TROPHY

The shoe has been omitted with the introduction of a new trophy, one which is personalized for each winner with his name and picture imprinted on the plaque.

★ ★ ★

The local winner of the award then becomes eligible—although he need not participate — to compete for a $1,000 college scholarship. A scholarship form is sent to the principal of each school from which a winner is selected. A school official fills out the form and returns it along with an essay from the award winner on "Is College Necessary?"

WINNERS SUCCESSFUL

Past winner of the 'Shoe' award have gone on to gain further recognition in college.

★ ★ ★

Last year's recipient, Bruce Carlson, is enrolled at Central Michigan University. He was one of just two centers to claim the award. The other was Ron Ranieri (1963) of Royal Oak Shrine who went on to play at Michigan State University.

LIKES MSU

Michigan State has benefited greatly from the 'Shoe' winners over the years. Steve Juday (1961) of Northville is perhaps the best nown of the lot. He quarterbacked the Spartans in the unbeaten 1966 campaign.

★ ★ ★

MSU also landed tackle Roger Ruminski of Walled Lake (1964), but injuries prevented him from living up to expectations.

Twins Gary and Doug Halliday of Royal Oak Kimball, who shared the award in 1967, are sophomores at MSU this season and both figure in coach Duffy Daugherty's plans.

Another Kimball product, John Gabler (1967), is a member of the starting backfield at University of Michigan this fall.

Jim Ball of Rochester, the 1966 winner of the award, is heading for Central Michigan University this fall along with Carlson.

John Walker of Walled Lake was the first winner of the award back in 1956. Following Walker were Lou Pavloff of Hazel Park (tackle); John Lucadam (QB) of West Bloomfield; Charley Brown (guard) of Pontiac Central; Mike Brown (QB) of Ferndale; Juday (QB); Chuck Lowther (QB) of Royal Oak Shrine; Ranieri, Ruminski, Gabler, Ball, the Hallidays and Carlson.

Selection of the outstanding player is made by the Sports Staff of The Pontiac Press.

Wildcats Have 10 Lettermen

Sophs Backup Seniors at Novi

The Wildcats of Novi breezed to a 6-2 record last year and the talent returning indicates the squad will fare at least as well this season.

★ ★ ★

Coach John Osborne has 10 lettermen working out along with some promising varsity newcomers.

STARTERS BACK

Tom VanWagner (5-10, 180) and Dale Pohlman (6-0, 190), starting guards last year, are back along with tackle Steve Pomroy (6-0, 180).

Osborne is counting on newcomer Tim Bell to fill the other tackle spot. Bell checks in at 6-3 and 240 pounds.

RUNNERS, SET

The backfield is set except for a fullback. Quarterback Tom Boyer, a junior 155-pounder, is starting his fourth campaign at the signal-calling post and he'll be working with a couple other three-year performers — halfbacks Rich Hill (6-0, 180) and John Davey (6-0, 180).

★ ★ ★

Phil McMillan, a senior quarterback, is on hand to spell Boyer, and Osborne has a couple more candidates for running back jobs in Rick Marvin (5-9, 155) and Mark Earl (5-8, 145).

Top County Players

Many outstanding players, who gained their football experience in Oakland County high schools, and who were chosen on All-County teams since the first selections were made in The Pontiac Press in 1956 have gone on to national stardom.

Perhaps the most famous of recent was Royal Oak Shrine's Jim Seymour, who became part of the Hanratty to Seymour combination which led Notre Dame to a national championship in 1966.

ALL STATER

Seymour was an All-State Class B selection as a senior in 1964 when he caught 10 touchdown passes for Shrine. He also had one of the highest punting averages in the nation at 43 yards per kick. He was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams this year and by the army. He's in the Army.

Another great one is Jerry Rush, a 1959 graduate of Pontiac Central now playing with the Detroit Lions. While at Michigan State University, he was all-Big 10 and an All-American and lettered all three of his varsity years. He was the number two draft pick of the Lions in 1965.

* * *

Steve Juday was starting quarterback for Michigan State for three years following his sparkling career at Northville, and set several passing records that still stand. He was the leader of the powerful 1965 Spartan team that rolled over 10 opponents and was ranked number one in the country before the UCLA Bruins upset them in the Rose Bowl.

In that year, he was all-Big 10 and All-America selection. The records he set at MSU are: most yards gained passing in career and season; most passes attempted in career, season and a game; most passes completed in career, season and game; most touchdown passes thrown in career; and most passes had intercepted in career and a season.

OTHER STANDOUTS

Another Oaklander that became a state standout was Ron Goovert, who spent his high school days at Hazel Park.

Maples in Waiting

SPARKPLUG — Much of Birmingham Seaholm's grid hopes this season will be tied to the performance of speedy Ed Neff, captain of the squad.

The Maples of Birmingham Seaholm have been waiting for Friday night's opening game against cross-town rival Groves for a long, long year.

A year ago, coach Elex McInnes and his squad invaded the Groves gridiron full of anticipation only to walk off smarting with the sting of defeat.

What hurt more is while Seaholm went on to finish with a 2-6-1 over-all record, 2-3 and fourth in the SMA league, the loss to Groves was the Falcons only win of the season.

With 17 returning lettermen, McInnes, and needless to say his young charges also, are looking forward to the Groves invasion of Seaholm this Friday.

The Maples. not only out for vengence against their cross-town rivals, are also determined to finish with a better position than fourth place in their bid for the SMA crown this year.

Among the more notable varsity returnees who might make McInnes' dream of a SMA crown this year possible are: quarterback Rick Merrill, senior, 6-1, 160-pounds, halfback Ed Neff, senior, 5-8, 175-pounds, and halfbaack John Roberts, a 155-pound, 5-11 junior transferee.

★ ★ ★

McInnes, who readily admits that his team is small in size also admitted just as fast that the key to staying alive in his title drive this fall is speed, of which there is plenty in the Maple backfield, providing Seaholm can stay relatively injury free.

COVERING UP — Ready to gather in a fumble during a grid drill is Birmingham Seaholm's Jack Hartrick. He'll be among the starters in the backfield when the '69 campaign opens.

Exciting Race Expected for Southeast Circuit

The race for the 1969 league grid title in the Southeastern Michigan Association should prove to be very interesting as well as exciting.

Ferndale, last year's league winner swept through an unmarred record with a 5-0 league effort, and a 9-0 over-all total.

Coach Frank Joranko will have to scramble if his squad is to retain its long-time reputation of being one of the toughest among the state class "A" powers.

★ ★ ★

The Eagles lost 25 lettermen and are basing their title drive this season around the nucleus of three lettermen.

★ ★ ★

Senior Bill Screws, a 6-1, 165-pound two-year letter winner will call the signals backed by two other returnees, senior Gary Sopheia, a 5-6, 145-pound safety back, and Craig Fahoome, another 5-6, 150-pound defensive back.

CONTENDERS

Royal Oak Kimball, Southfield and Birmingham Seaholm, who finished in second, third and fourth last season, can definitely be counted as contenders.

Kimball coach Paul Temerian will rely on the talents of quarterback senior Jim Cole, 6-1, 178-pound wingback, and Dave Kinney, a 5-11, 175-pound junior halfback.

★ ★ ★

Seaholm, with 17 returning lettermen will be in the thick of the league race, while coach Ed Bryant of Southfield will have an excellent offense with which to keep the Blue Jays in the running.

★ ★ ★

Senior center, Phil Marsh, 5-10, 220-pounds, will be the anchorman for the Blue Jay offense making running room for the likes of Chuck Petrillo, senior, 6-1, 175-pound halfback, Dique Doug, senior, 5-9, 180-pound fullback, and junior John Solbery, 6-1, 185-pound halfback.

TOUGH CHALLENGE

Berkley and Hazel Park, the two remaining members in the SMA are not to be taken lightly.

Brother Rice in New Era

A new coach in a new divisional scheme of things is the changing story for football at Brother Rice this season.

The Warriors landed Al Fracassa, one of the more successful coaches in Oakland County, as head coach. Fracassa left Royal Oak Shrine after nine years during which time he posted a record of 44-19-5 and was chosen as Oakland County coach of the year in 1963.

There are only seven lettermen returning this year at Brother Rice, but with only two sophomores on the entire squad the Warriors will have a roster of upperclassmen who did gain substantial playing time even though they did not letter.

BIGGEST ASSET

A backfield of Steve Jones, Kevin Keating and Tom Bruce, who will be playing together for three years, is the biggest asset for the 1969 season.

Bruce is a 190 pound fullback, Keating is a 6-foot and 180 pound right half and Jones is a speedy 160 pound left half.

* * *

There is still no decision on the starting quarterback, but in contention are Gary Martin a 5-9 junior and Chris Rzeppa, a 155 pound senior.

* * *

Leading receivers include Bill Hart a 6-4 and 210 pound end who is the brother to Lee aHrt, currently a lineman at the University of Michigan, who has been sidelined with injuries.

Jones is also a primary target for the passing game.

* * *

The rebuilding job will have to be done on the line where the twins Mike Knuff and Pat Knuff, both 6-2 and 200 pounders hold down the center and guard positions respectively.

* * *

Mike Hendricks, a 6-2 and 200 pounder with two years varsity experience, holds down a defensive end position.

The Warriors have the material, but Fracassa figures it will take a few weeks of the season for "jelling" the team together.

SOPHOMORE

One of the two promising sophomores is Rick Constantini, a shifty 5-9 and 160 pound fullback.

One of Fracassa's former proteges at Shrine, Ron Rainieri, who later played at Michigan State is a coaching assistant, along with Harold Burkholer and Mike Popson.

* * *

This year the four leagues in the First Division of the Parochial Circuit will engage in a playoff series, giving the Warriors a remote chance of going against Fracassa's old team, Royal Oak Shrine.

Added Week Considered for Prep Grid Workouts

LANSING — A public hearing on proposed changes in high school athletic rules that would allow an extra week of conditioning before football practice next year will be held starting at 11 a.m., Wednesday, September 10, in the offices of the Michigan High School Athletic Association, 1008 Prudden Building, Lansing.

Other proposed rule changes would clarify rules on participation in track events and cross country, and permit intercity competition in junior high school girls' basketball.

* * *

The rules changes were approved for the purpose of the public hearing by the State Board of Education on August 27.

The mandatory three weeks of practice before a school's first football game will not be changed, but a fourth week of pre-practice conditioning activities without full equipment will be permitted if the school wants to schedule it.

Such a conditioning week has been recommended by the Committee on the Medical Aspects of Sports of the American Medical Association and the Michigan State Medical Society. A survey of high school coaches indicated a majority wanted the permissive extra week of practice.

* * *

If enacted, the football rule could not be effective until 1970. The other changes would take effect this year.

Ex-Mentor Aids New at Roeper

One of the county's newest coaches has his boss working as an assistant as they tune for the 1969 football campaign.

* * *

Walter Cowan, a product of Virginia Union, moves in as head coach of Roeper's Rough Riders, replacing his boss, Sid Fox, who in turn is giving Walt a hand this fall.

LEAVES POST

Fox is athletic director at the Bloomfield Hills school, a time consuming job itself, so Sid turned the reins over to Cowan and now lends a hand on the gridiron.

* * *

It's Cowan's first head coaching post and he's eager to get the '69 season under way. It comes Friday when the Rough Riders visit Port Austin.

ENCOURAGING

The outlook is an encouraging one for Cowan. There are 11 lettermen on hand from last year's 2-4 team.

* * *

Heading the list of returns are tackles Corey Krause (6-3, 175) and Ken Ensroth (5-10, 165), along with ends Greg Carter (6-4, 185) and Art Luby Jr. (5-10, 160).

QB RETURNS

Cowan also has an experienced hand at the quarterback slot in senior Dale Scarlett, a 6-0; 155-pounder, and he has letter winner Gary Blackwell (6-0, 175) at fullback.

* * *

Among the other top performers back are Dave Edeards (5-10, 160) at center, Curtis Scott (6-1, 170) at guard and Tim Teasley (6-0, 160) at halfback.

Rugged Opening Tilts for Country Day 11

It's no bed of roses that awaits coach Larry Masteller and the Yellow Jackets of Birmingham Country Day.

The Jackets coming off a 3-5 season, are rebuilding in hopes of improving that mark but a rugged schedule complicated by injuries could dash those hopes.

Masteller is relatively rich in linemen but he has to put together a backfield and he'll have to dip into the bunch of newcomers to do that.

OPEN SATURDAY

The Jackets open Saturday at home against Byron, and then face on successive Saturdays Columbus Academy and Cranbrook, both extremely rugged foes.

* * *

Heading the list of talented linemen on hand are Gary Assarian (5-7, 225) and Carl Guething (6-3, 190), both senior tackles, along with Charles Duryea (5-10, 195), also a tackle, and end Jim Thorsen (6-1, 200).

LINEBACKERS RETURN

Also back are a pair of linebackers in Mike Lucow (5-10, 180) and Al Whitfield (5-11, 165), so Masteller seems pretty well set in the defensive department. Added to that is the presence of junior safetyman Mike Page (6-1, 185), who'll also see action at halfback on offense.

* * *

The quarterbacking chores are likely to go to sophomore Terry Zanghas (6-0, 175), while Mark Perrino (5-9, 170), Joe and John Rzepka, both 5-7 and 153 pounds, battle for the running-back spots.

Lucow apparently will get the fullback's job with Page going at one of the halfback slots.

Groves Counts Its Lettermen

The gridders of Birmingham Groves have a new coach this season in George Zaniea who gained vital experience as assistant coach to Jim Kinnison last fall.

Zainea counted 12 returning lettermen at the onset of preseason practice, but only about half that number have the needed playing experience that will give them probable starting berths.

Last year the Falcon gridders suffered one of their worst seasons ever winning only one game while losing eight as well as finishing last in the Northwest Suburban League with a dismal 0-5 record.

Perhaps the brightest spot in the Falcons season last year was their 7-6 upset victory over neighboring Seaholm. The Maples are still smarting from the loss and will be out to turn the tables with vengeance when they meet this Friday night at Seaholm.

SURPRISE POSSIBLE

The Falcons will have to hurry if they are to be contenders in the NWS league this year, and if Zainea can come up with a reliable quarterback, Groves could surprise quite a few people.

Currently three players are vying for the starting quarterback position, senior Mark Kobelan, and juniors Bob Douglas and Tom Rex.

Although Zainea lost an excellent signal caller in Mark Shada to graduation, he will have a hard time chosing who will start against Seaholm in the opener.

End Drew Jackman, a 6-2, 180-pound junior will be put to good use in the Falcon power-pass plays, of which Zainea has many plans.

Fullback Ross Lunetta, 5-9, 180-pounds, and speedster halfback, Bill McClarnon, a 5-10, 150-pound senior will undoubtedly see a lot of action running the Slot I and Wing-T.

Other key returning lettermen who are figured to lend a hand to the Falcon attack this season are; Dave Chapman, tackle, 5-11, 210-pound senior, Gary Granader, 5-11, 190-pound senior, Marty Minot, 6-2, 180-pound senior, and Mike McLean, a junior end.

Northwest Suburban Favors N. Farmington

Watch out for the Raiders. That's the word on the gridders School in the '69 Northwest Suburban League race.

The upcoming season certainly isn't looking very dim for head coach Ron Holland and his title-minded eleven.

SHARED TITLE

The Raiders, while not observing one of their better seasons, nonetheless finished the 1968 year tied with Livonia Franklin and Detroit Thurston for the NWS crown, each with 4-1 records.

Over-all the Raiders were 6-2-1 while Franklin finished with a 7-1 record and Thurston 6-2.

OFFENSE RETURNS

The Raiders lost 10 men to graduation, but 15 experienced lettermen are on this year's roster including an almost complete offensive lineup.

Thurston, although hit just as hard at graduation can still be considered a top contender since many of last season's first stringers were underclassmen.

STARTS REBUILDING

Always tough Franklin will begin a rebuilding program this season and are not expected to be much of a threat for the league crown. Coach George Lovich realized just three returning lettermen from last season's victorious team, one, defensive end Robb Hollandsworth, a 6-3, 195-pound junior.

John Glenn and Oak Park, who tied for second in the NWS league, each with 1-3-1 records, may find themselves battling in the upper echelon of the league as each team will carry more than 12 returning lettermen.

HEADS 'SKINS

The Redskins, who have managed just one winning season in 15 years, will be led by returning offensive fullback, senior Jim Braun, the team captain.

★ ★ ★

The Rockets meanwhile, who finished over-all with a 3-5-1 standing will have an almost complete offensive lineup returning led by quarterback Jeff Senn, a 5-8, 160-pound junior.

Coach Seeks Help of Sophs

'68 Standouts Missing From 7-1 Season

With the talent that departed through graduation, one would think coach Del Walden might be down in the dumps, but 'tis not so.

★ ★ ★

"These kids have a good thing going," says Walden. "We'll be respectable. I don't say we'll go undefeated, but we'll be respectable.

LOOKS TO YOUNGSTERS

"We will have to bring some of our young kids around," said Walden discussing the tasks ahead. "We have some now who have never played in a varsity football game . . . but it was the same last year and we finished at 7-1."

★ ★ ★

Walden would just about settle for another 7-1 campaign. Missing from that team are such standouts as quarterback Dirk Dieters and halfbacks Craig Tuohy and Rod Fonda.

★ ★ ★

There are a number of quality linemen on hand, so it appears Walden's major task will be that of putting together a new backfield.

TAKES QB POST

Moving into the quarterback slot is senior Andy Gordon (5-11,160) who has never played a varsity game, and he'll be joined in the backfield by veterans John Wallace (5-11, 180) and Anthony Thomas (5-11, 160). The latter are both fast and powerful.

★ ★ ★

There line is another story.

GOOD SIZE

Wap John (6-4, 225), Tony Wise (6-2, 215) and John Maturo (6-1, 210) figure to share the tackle assignments, while Stan Nevin (5-11, 175) is set at one of the guard spots, along with working as a linebacker on defense.

Football Top Sport for Preps in Nation

Football was the leading participation sport among the nation's high schools, according to the 1969 Sports Participation Survey compiled by the National Federation of State High School Athetlic Associations. A total of 853,537 high school athletes played football during the past school year.

Basketball ranked second in popularity, outdoor track and field placed third, and baseball came fourth. Wrestling is fifth in high school sports participation.

★ ★ ★

Among the number of participating high schools, basketball ranked first in the number of schools participating in sport activities. Outdoor track and field is second, 11-man football third, baseball fourth and golf placed fifth.

Figures for 20 of the most popular high school sports nationally follow:

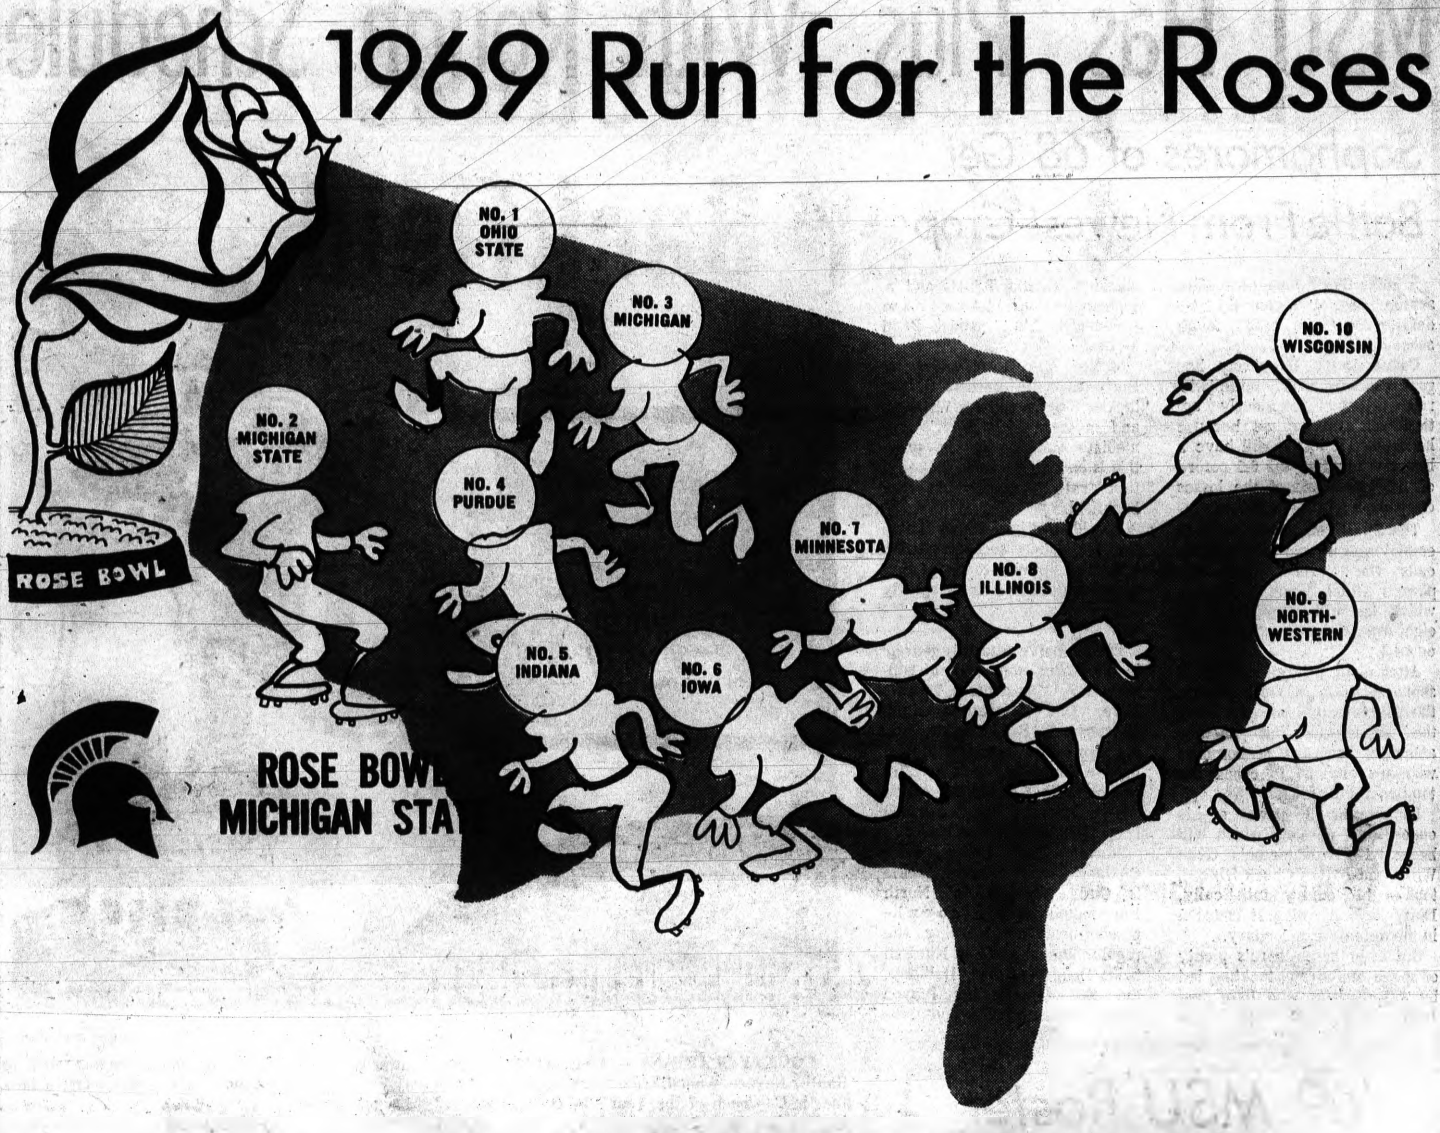
1969 Run for the Roses



See Rose-Less Crown for Buckeyes

Ohio State will plant the seed and Michigan State will pluck the roses!

That's how the Big Ten race looks for the 1969 season.

And what a race should develop in this powerful football conference!

★ ★ ★

The Buckeyes are not only unanimous choices to win the Big Ten crown, but have been picked in pre-season polls as the No. 1 team to start the season.

Coach Woody Hayes' 19th team at OSU is said to boast so much talent that he could play at least four of his league rivals with his reserve team.

Carrying a 14-game winning streak into the season, including a 27-16 Rose Bowl triumph over Southern Cal and O. J. Simpson, the 56-year OSU coach offers this bit of Casey Stengel philosophy, "We have to be a hulluva lot better than last year or we're going to be quite a bit worse."

★ ★ ★

Hayes played so many sophomores last season his seniors could ask to be redshirted to play as juniors again.

★ ★ ★

The defensive lettermen returning include Dave Whitfield and Mark Debevc at ends, Paul Schmidlin and Bill Urbanik at tackles, middle guard Jim Stillwagon; linebackers Doug Adams, Mike Radtke and Phil Strickland; and his secondary has Ted Provost, Tim Anderson, Mike Polaski and Mike Sensibaugh.

Of course all of these season veterans come behind Jack Tatum, a junior from Passaic, N.J., an all purpose defensive rover who has been called the "best ever" by defensive coach Lou McCullough.

Michigan State has the pruning shears ready to clip the roses since Ohio State is not eligible to return.

TOUGH SCHEDULE

The Spartans have the toughest schedule in their history are loaded with sophomores to give the 31 lettermen depth.

Ohio State with quarterbacks Rex Kern and Ken Maciejewski MSU with Bill Triplett, Purdue with Mike Phipps, Indiana with Steve Gonso, Michigan with Don Moorehead and Northwestern with Dave Shelbourne gives the Big 10 a real class of signal callers.

After OSU, Michigan State, Michigan, Purdue, and Indiana, the middle group should be led by Iowa, the top offensive team last season.

Minnesota, Illinois and Northwestern can battle it out with Iowa, and the Badgers of Wisconsin are expected to bring in the rear.

Greatest Thrill

NEW YORK (AP) — Did Weeb Ewbank, who coached the Baltimore Colts to National Football League title in 1958 and 1959 and then saw his New York Jets humble the Colts in the 1969 Super Bowl game, get any satisfaction out of beating his old team?

"I sure did," said the Jet coach. "It was one of the greatest thrills of my life."

MSU Has 'Plus' With Rough Schedule

Sophomores of '68 Get Battle From Newest Crop

It looks like a plus, plus, plus season for Michigan State despite the tough, tough, tough schedule.

Coach Duffy Daugherty has gone from the overly optimistic role to the "cautiously optimistic" attitude, not because he doesn't think he will have a better team than the 5-5 record of 1968 when all of the losses came by a total of 31 points.

The Spartans are planning to employ and offense which Duffy calls the "veer option and powers attack," and a defense which he will vary from an eight-man front to a "split six" or 4-4-3.

After using a large number of sophomores in the 1968 season, the Spartans will not only have the experience but another abundant crop of sophomores who are anxious to crack the top two depth charts.

Looking at the power of his opposition's passing, which will begin with Washington's Gene Willis and SMU's Chuck Hixson, tops in the country statistically, Duffy says his biggest concern in the defensive secondary.

But even here, there's plenty of speed and strong tackling led by Jay Breslin who has good competition from Tom Kutschinki of Grand Rapids and a sophomore speedster from Uniontown, Pa., named Brad McLee.

McLee has been called by Duffy as "the hardest hitting tackler" since George Webster, and in view of Webster's immediate success in the pros, this is enough to make McLee a first rate celebrity in the backfield.

Harold Phillips, Clifton Hardy are the other secondary men and they appear to be getting some competition from speedy sophomores.

★ ★ ★

The offensive attack is geared to the power and speed of runners Gary Parmenteir, Tommy Love, Don Highsmith and quarterback Bill Triplett, and the size of the some of the offensive linemen, such as Jim Nicholson, a 6-6 and 265 pound soph tight end from Hawaii will keep opposing defenses honest.

Starting veteran from Oakland County at right tackle is Craig Wycinski of North Farmington, but a couple possibilities for cracking the regular lineup are with Kimball twins Doug and Gary Halliday, the 1967 Outstanding Player Award winners in the county.

COUNTY SPARTANS — Assistant coach Dave Smith, former Walled Lake High coach who was the first "Coach of the Year" in Oakland County in 1956 has been instrumental in getting some of the top talent from the county to Michigan State. Kneeling are the Halliday twins, Gary (67) and Doug (91) who shared the Outstanding Player awards in the county in 1967. Standing (left to right) are Gene Pankner (34) of Kettering, a linebacker at MSU; Craig Wycinsky (77) of North Farmington, an offensive tackle; assistant coach Smith; Dave Beverlin (32) of Hazel Park a running back and Duane McLaughlin of Avondale, a linebacker.

BIGGEST AND LITTLEST — A couple of sophomores are the biggest and littlest players on the MSU squad this season. Former state track champion Herb Washington of Flint Central gives way exactly 100 pounds to Jim Nicholson, a 6-7 and 265 pounder from Honolulu, Hawaii who is pushing for the tight end position. Washington will see some action as a flanker.

County Gridders Have Haven With Wolverines

Pontiac Press Photo

ON THE WING — Former Outstanding Player of Year of 1965 in Oakland County, John Gabler, is the starting wing back for the U. of M. Wolverines who open the season Sept. 20 against Vanderbilt. Gabler is from Royal Oak Kimball.

Hardly a season goes by at Michigan that one of Oakland County's top prep gridders doesn't find a place on the Wolverines' starting unit.

Three county players are in front line positions and another pair are making their bids.

The Wolverines of 1968 under coach Bump Elliott were helped to a 7-3 record by defensive play of end Phil Seymour of Berkley, the running of John Gabler of Kimball and the defensive line work of Dan Parks of Groves.

All three are back under new coach Bob Schembechler and there is reason for optimism in the camp of the Wolverines in the race for the roses in 1969.

★ ★ ★

Paul Seymour, another of the famous football family's grid tree, is in strong contention for a pass receiving job, while Dana Coin, a sophomore from Pontiac Northern has all the tools to be a strong challenger for a linebacking job.

The difference in the Michigan defense this year is basically in the alignment. In 1968, the Wolverines operated with a 4-3-4, and this year the change will bring the "Wolf" man into the picture with Schembechler's "angle defense," a 5-2 with three deep backs.

Six of the starting seven of the front defensive line are back and this is why the Wolverines are bright eyed and rose scented.

Don Moorhead is expected to carry the signal calling load. He is a 6-3 and 200 pound junior from South Haven and he has strong backup help from Jim Betts, a 6-3 and 190 pound junior from Cleveland.

THREE LETTERS

Gabler, once the outstanding player in Oakland County, is after his third varsity letter and with him in the backfield he should have fullback Garvie Craw, a powerful senior from Montclair, N.J. Paul Staroba a junior from Flint, Lance Scheffler a tailback from Trenton are leading candidates at the running spots.

Like its opening opponents of the season, Vanderbilt and Washington, and like arch-rival MSU, the Wolverines will be playing on the "rug" known as Tartan-turf in the huge stadium at Ann Arbor.

The opener with Vanderbilt is Band Day at Michigan, a day when coach Schembechler will learn what kind of a tune the Wolverines will be singing during the 1969 campaign.

COUNTY WOLVERINES — Oakland County's representation on the University of Michigan football team this year include cousins Paul and Phil Seymour (kneeling) from Berkley; Dana Coin (36) linebacker from Pontiac; John Gabler (19) starting back from Royal Oak and Dan Parks (74) big defensive tackle from Birmingham. Assistant coach George Mans has been highly instrumental in recruiting Oakland County players to Ann Arbor.

More Speed Gives Wayne Best Outlook

More speed and a strong defense make Wayne State's football outlook bright.

Coach Vern Gale is working with over 50 players, most of them upper classmen. He notes that the number of experienced players gives the Tartars their greatest potential depth in his five years at Wayne.

Three former Oakland County preps are on the roster. They are center Randy Shepherd from Ferndale St. James, fullback Bill Spurgeon from Brother Rice and tackle Tom Sheppard from Hazel Park.

Seek Repeat Season

Roar for Ferris Bulldogs

The reverse was in order for Ferris State's football team last year, but Bulldog fans hope it isn't included this season.

High gear is indicated, but the road is marked with several hazards in the form of a tough schedule.

Ferris posted an 0-7-1 record during Bob Leach's first season as coach in 1967. The Bulldogs reversed this to 7-0-1 last year.

The first four games, all on the road, against Wayne State, Illinois State, Ashland and Wisconsin-Milwaukee should determine the potential of the Bulldogs.

The backfield is solid with leading rusher and scorer Tommie Lee Hamlett returning along with Northville's Mike Zayti. Veteran Al Beamer will direct the attack from quarterback and Skip Harbin saw considerable action at fullback.

Some patchwork has to be accomplished up front, but the large number experienced returnies should make the task easier.

Among the area players on the squad are freshman tackle Mike Witte, Holly; junior guard Kurt Barrett, Lapeer; and Zayti, a Vietnam veteran.

Happy '100th' for Hillsdale's Coach Waters

HILLSDALE (UPI) — When you've won 100 football games, what's there to look forward to? Winning a few more, that's what.

Hillsdale College football coach Frank "Muddy" Waters, a bit of a gridiron wizard, has a 100-34-5 record as his Chargers head into the 1969 season—which incidentally coincides with the 100th anniversary of college football and the 125th anniversary of the college's founding.

★ ★ ★

To top it off, 100 candidates reported to the opening grid practice, including 40 lettermen returning from the 1968 squad that posted a 6-3 mark. Waters, Hillsdale's coach for 15 years, lost only four regulars among the nine lettermen who graduated.

Among the returnig veterans are Joe Vijuk, a 6-foot-3 245-pound defensive tackle who earned second team NAIA All-America honors, and quarterback Mike Harding, the Chargers' most valuable player last year.

★ ★ ★

Others returning are 6-foot-2, 235-pound center Tom Newby, full back Dick Krantz from Bloomfield Hills, defensive back John Seeley and soccertype placekicker Chet Marcol from Imlay City.

Western Michigan Adds Pro Defense

Western Michigan will follow two routes this fall as the Broncos attempt to progress along the football comeback trail.

Coach Bill Doolittle has installed a new offense and the defense will setup in a different formation.

After chalking up a 3-6 record and finishing in the Mid-American Conference's second division last year, Doolittle switched to a triple option T formation during spring practice. The defense went from a basic 5-2-4 to a 4-3-4.

Twenty-six lettermen return including three area players who should figure in Bronco plans. A sophomore from Oakland County is being touted as a possible starter.

Mike Andrews from Milford has lettered twice and is capable of playing both ways at tackle. However, present plans call for him to concentrate on defense. Bruce Samarian from Bloomfield Hills Andover is a holdover at guard.

Bill French, former Pontiac St. Michael all-stater, lettered as an end and tackle, but will be used primarily as a tackle. The sophomore is Jim Kreason from Farmington Our Lady who impressed coaches as a defensive end during spring practice.

The Mid-American battle should be between Miami and Ohio University with Toledo and Bowling Green ready to step in if the favorite's falter. Kent State is rebuilding and Marshall is suspended for recruiting violations.

Titans Adding 'Club' Foes

Club football at University of Detroit has been expanded to seven games, including an opener against the strong Hillsdale College varsity.

However, U. of D. officials are quick to point out that this doesn't mean a move to reactivate intercollegiate level football. The remaining six contests are against club teams from other Catholic universities that have dropped varsity play in recent years.

Coach Jim Leary had over 50 players out when practice opened and hopes to reduce the roster to 40 before Saturday's contest at Hillsdale. The first home game will be against Niagara Sept. 19.

Hurons High in Ratings

EMU Momentum Growing

Hoping that the team will pick up right where it left off last season, Eastern Michigan University football coach Dan Boisture is preparing for the opener Sept. 20 at Murry State.

The 1968 Hurons, a team that improved rapidly during the course of the ten game schedule, closed with a string of four straight triumphs and a seventh place ranking in the final nationwide Associated Press college division poll.

Boisture wants to keep that momentum alive.

The team has experience and is composed of 13 seniors, 16 juniors and 27 sophomores. This contrasts with teams that Boisture has fielded in past seasons. Those clubs were mainly freshman and sophomore in composition.

KEY LOSSES

While the losses off last season's team, that won eight of ten encounters, were small in number they were large in quality. The Huron grid staff must come up with replacements for NAIA all-Americans, John Schmidt, an offensive center, and defensive halfback Garry Grady, quarterback Arnold Fontes and linebackers Ivory Hood and Glenn Crane.

Foremost among the returnees are defensive tackel Bob Lints and offensive center John Sharp.

Sharp is the key to the offensive line. After three seasons of carsity play with the defensive unit, the 6'3"; 245 pound senior from Warren has been tabbed to fill Schmidt's shoes as the keystone of the offensive line.

Fan interest will probably center around the battle for the starting tailback slot. In the scramble are senior Dennis Hewitt and junior Larry Ratcliff. Hewitt broke most of the Huron single season rushing records last season when he rambled for 607 yards from Boisture's slot-I offensive formations.

Rateliff has come along quickly and impressed the coaching staff and rates an even chance to win a berth in the starting lineup.

Eastern Michigan will dedicate its new football stadium Oct, 25 with Tampa as the opponent. The structure cost $1,343,000 and has a capacity of 12,500 seats.

The first contest in the stadium will be against Akron Sept. 27.

Brazilians Finding Football Mysterious

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — What has long been inevitablé in American domains on Sundays is now invading Brazilian homes through the wonders of television — a mysterious new sport known as football.

Producers of TV Tupi in Sao Paulo have started showing films of this baffling game to Brazilian viewers because they are prohibited from broadcasting live soccer, the national sport, on Sundays as protection for stadium boxoffices.

The magazine Veja called the move retaliation against the no-soccer ruling, since most Brazilians have a difficult time comprehending American football and all its ramifications.

TOO MANY GOALS

"It's a game played with an oval ball," explained Veja, "and it always results in 30 or more goals."

Nevertheless, curiosity has resulted in large audiences, and a recent film of the Green Bay Packers against the Dallas Cowboys was so successful producers started thinking about organizing fan clubs for the different teams.

However, irate soccer fans have leveled strong criticism at the move.

Said Rio sports announced Armando Nogueira, "I have never seen, in any game played with a ball, anything as gross or as poor in spirit as Americanized rugby.. Anything foes!"

The translation "military soccer" somehow does not explain much about American football to Brazilian viewers. Nevertheless, a Brazilian commentator managed to make sense out of the Green Bay-Dallas game for his rapt audience, who enjoyed sitting around the tube explaining the game to one another.

* * *

"You get four chances to go the distance between two of those lines," said one fan to another after watching for half an hour. "And that guy in the back can throw the ball to one of his men if he wants too. But if a man on the other team catches it before it hits the ground, he can keep it."

Despite the curiosity, most observers agree a 90 yard runback will never replace a well-kicked goal by Pele.

Frequents End Zones

Bill Mathis of the New York Jets has scored 33 touchdowns in nine American Football League seasons.

Who Else but OSU Tops 1969 Ratings

By the Associated Press

Ohio State's loaded Buckeyes are favored to roll on to a second straight national collegiate football championship.

With 40 lettermen, including 18 of the starters in the 27-16 victory over Southern California in the Rose Bowl, back and battling for positions, the Buckeyes are so deep that they had to be an overwhelming choice to be No. 1 again in the Associated Press' annual pre-season poll.

The Buckeyes are deep and talented and so are the teams picked to finish right behind—Arkansas, Penn State and Texas—in what shapes up as one of the most exciting seasons in years.

Top pre-season honors went to the four winners of New Year's Day Bowl games. Now they'll have to prove it on the playing field. It won't be easy.

★ ★ ★

Arkansas, 16-2 conqueror of unbeaten Georgia in the Sugar Bowl, was picked for second. Penn State, unbeaten now in 19 straight games and 15-14 winner over Kansas in the Orange Bowl, was the third choice, and Texas, which blasted Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl, was the No. 4 selection.

Ohio State piled up 611 points. Arkansas, with two first place votes got 420. Penn State, with three first placers, collected 390 and the Texas Longhorns, with one first placer, accumulated 343.

The Associated Press' final poll for last season was taken after the Bowl games because of the matchup of Ohio State and Southern California, the No. 1 and No.2 teams and both unbeaten, because nine of the Top Ten were involved in the post-season spectacles.

Pacific Foes See End of USC Reign

By the Associated Press

One of sports favorite cliches is "Stick with the champion." So it is that many are sticking with the Trojans of Southern California to win the Pacific-8 Conference football championship for the fourth straight year, and with it, their annual excursion to Pasadena's Rose Bowl.

The Trojans' lively coach, John McKay, is the first to concede that he has some shopping gaps to fill and there are those who feel anyone who sticks with the champs may be stuck.

★ ★ ★

In this vein, Stanford or UCLA may end the Trojan reign and any of the other brothers in the Pac-8 can be counted upon to do their share of mischief.

Yale Still Has Best Win Total

By The Associated Press

In 1872 Yale played its first intercollegiate football match, defeating Columbia three goals to none. Now, 855 games later, the Elis still rank as the biggest winners ever on varsity gridirons.

It is fitting in this centennial celebration year of the sport that Princeton is the runnerup in the all-time victory column. The Tigers participated in the first-ever encounter, losing to Rutgers six goals to four in 1869.

Like Yale, third place Harvard comes off an unbeaten season to defend a share of the Ivy League championship.

Pennsylvania rounds out the ancient "Big Four", still very much alive and kicking although no longer rated the top powers in the land.

★ ★ ★

Michigan, Notre Dame, Texas, Army, Alabama and Dartmouth complete the top 10 members in the collegians' exclusive '400 Club' of winners.

Yale has amassed 627 triumphs and Princeton 592 while Harvard and Penn claim 574. The Crimson get higher billing on the basis of a better percentage.

25 CENTS

A crowd of 400 men only paid 25 cents a head to watch Yale's first intercollegiate venture back in '72. There were 20 on a side, the field was 400 feet by 250 and only darkness halted the action.

From that beginning the Elis had clicked off 30 undefeated campaigns.

The all-time football teams ranked by total victories, percentage figured without ties:

NUM Cringes at Thoughts of Injuries

Injuries can put a crimp in any football team's fortunes and this happened to Northern Michigan last season.

The Wildcats were rolling along with a 5-1 record and were rated a good chance to finish 8-1. Instead, injuries at key positions took an unexpected toll and Northern lost each of those last contests by three points.

★ ★ ★

Coach Rollie Dotsch is still concerned with the depth problem.

"Our weakness may be a lack of depth," he said. "Thin ranks cost us three games last season by nine points and I certainly don't want a repeat of that."

There are 21 lettermen on the 60-player squad that includes two dozen frosh.

TOP RUSHER

Heading the list of a dozen returning offensive letter winners is two-time NAIA All-America halfback Lonnie Holton, NMU's all-time leading ground gainer.

Hell be joined in the backfield by veteran quarterback Rich McCarthy, junior halfback Johnny Hutton, junior place-kicking specialist and halfback Gene Grady and junior punter and quarterback Marty Brenner of Martinsburg, W. Va.

All-America defensive end Jim Kemp, heads the list of eight defensive lettermen. He's joined by junior Doug Peterson and senior Dick Haynes both defensive ends.

CMU Has 'Full' County Squad

Special To The Press

MT. PLEASANT — A powerful tight end, a square-built linebacker, a strong offensive guard and an experienced, on-target passer comprise a quartet of key Central Michigan University lettermen who gained gridiron prominence as Oakland County prep players.

★ ★ ★

Third-year coach Roy Kramer has plans to make extensive use of senior starters Dave Farris of Waterford Township, Fred Ferguson of Walled Lake (Central) and Bob Miles of Royal Oak (Kimball), as well as Walled Lake's Ron James, a junior.

They are among 11 varsity hopefuls from county high schools at Central Michigan University this fall. A 12th, senior Jim Gallery, lost his starting linebacker berth and possibly his final year of eligibility when his Achilles tendon was injured in a construction accident this summer.

Farris is the 6-foot-2, 225-pound tight end who has attracted some attention from the professional scouts because of his good speed.

Ferguson's 5-foot-9 height makes him the subject of some good natured ribbing, but the aggressive play he displays with his 210 pounds earned him all-league honors last fall.

His teammate both at Walled Lake and CMU, James, developed into a promising linebacker prospect in spring drills after seeing duty in the defensive line as a sophomore.

JOB OPENINGS

With the loss of three linebacking candidates over the summer, James suddenly has been handed a starting job and Kramer expects him to have a fine junior season.

Miles, at quarterback for the fourth straight fall with the varsity (an injury in the first three minutes of the 1967 season earned him an extra year of eligibility), naturally rates high in the coach's plans for the Chippewas' offense.

★ ★ ★

He needs 915 yards passing — a figure he surpassed in both 1966 and 1968 — to become the all-time passing leader at CMU. Ten touchdown passes this fall would rank him No. 1 in that record department, too.

Stop Alma Is Grid Chant Among MIAA Squads

The wailing in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association isn't coming from any Scottish bagpipes up Alma way.

Lamentations are being heard from coaches at the five other football playing schools in the conference as they try to devise ways to stop Alma from grabbing a third straight championship.

★ ★ ★

The Scots brushed aside five league foes last year on the way to extending their unbeaten streak to 17 games. The three non-league foes that lost to Alma by a touchdown or less each last fall are again on the schedule and appear to be the toughest challenges to the winning mark.

Albion is rated an outside chance in league play.

GOOD MATERIAL

Coach Denny Stolz has posted a 22-10-0 mark since arriving at Alma four seasons ago. It took a couple of years to rebuild the collapsed gridiron fortunes and there is sufficient material on hand to add another successful story to the winning structure.

★ ★ ★

The MIAA's most valuable player in 1968, quarterback Tom Jackovac, returns to direct the offense. He connected on 27 of 61 passes last season for 400 yards.

But the Scots big forte is a strong running attack built around MIAA rushing leader Chris Clarke scampered for 526 yards last year. Jackovac also picked up 306 on the ground to be the league's total offense leader.

★ ★ ★

John Fuzak, who ranked seventh in league pass catching and scored five touchdowns, is back at end. He also does the extra point kicking.

Former Clarkston coach Tom Taylor has been tabbed to lead Albion's bid.

KNUTE ROCKNE
All-America Coach

HAPPY BIRTHDAY
College Football

JIM THORPE
Greatest All-America

Greatest of 100 Years

NEW YORK (NEA) — The man had a mashed nose and a lopsided grin and a bald head. He was an immigrant from Norway.

His name was Knute Kenneth Rockne, and he brought the game of American football from a despised period of Neanderthal bloodletting to the violently exciting modern spectacle it has become.

He did it first as a player, a spindly end at Nortre Dame who was the first celebrated receiver of the forward pass in the game's history.

And the fruition of his achievement were the technically thrilling and emotionally stimulated teams he produced as the head coach at his alma mater.

As the game prepares to celebrate its centennial, with nostalgic dredging of great names, the Coach of the Century — and Rockne surely is that — can appropriately be surrounded with a team that meets his standards.

This is that team:

ALL-TIME ALL-AMERICA
Team of the Century

ENDS — Don Hutson, Alabama (1932-34) Harold (Brick) Muller, California (1920-22)
TACKLES — Bronko Nagurski, Minnesota (1927-29) Merlin Olsen, Utah State (1959-61)
GUARDS — William (Pudge) Heffelfinger, Yale (1889-91) Bob Suffridge, Tennessee (1938-40)
CENTER — Adolph (Germany) Schulz, Michigan (1904-07)
BACKS — Sammy Baugh, Texas Christian (1934-36) Harold (Red) Grange, Illinois (1923-25) Jim Thorpe, Carlisle (1907-08), 1911-12) O. J. Simpson, Southern California (1967-68).

Obviously, they do not stand alone, for there have been many great players in every position over the first 100 years.

Germany Schulz was an enormous figure for his time, shortly after the turn of the century, when Fielding Yost's teams were scoring a point a minute at Michigan and Germany was the first center to snap the ball back in a spiral. But so was Clyde (Bulldog) Turner, playing at the little (relatively- cow college of Hardin-Simmons and backing up the line with fury.

Similar arguments can be posed in the choice of Bob Suffridge at guard over ponderous Jim Parker of Ohio State, or at end, where Brick Muller rates over Wes Fesler, also of Ohio State.

The backfield was farily clear cut. There has never been a better passer, on the record, than Sammy Baugh; a more spectacular open field runner than Red Grange; a more versatile player than Jim Thorpe, or a more effective slasher than O J. Simpson, who carries the modern banner.

ALTERNATE ALL-AMERICA
ENDS — Gaynell Tinsley, LSU (1934-36) Wes Fesler, Ohio State (1928-30)
TACKLES — Wilbur (Fats) Henry, Wash. and Jeff. (1918-19) Ed Weir, Nebraska (1923-25)
GUARDS — Jim Parker, Ohio State (1954-56) Tommy Nobis, Texas (1963-65)
CENTER — Clyde (Bulldog) Turner, Hardin-Simmons (1937-39)
BACKS — Johnny Lujack, Notre Dame (1944-47) Tom Harmon, Michigan (1938-40) Ira Rodgers, West Virginia (1918-19) Jimmy Brown, Syracuse (1954-56).

Kearns Picks Dallas in NFL

The talent-rich Dallas Cowboys against the "up" Cleveland Browns in the Eastern Conference and the "matured" Minnesota Vikings against the "brutal" Los Angeles Rams in the Western Conference is how Bruno L. Kearns, who has covered pro football for 15 years sees the 1969 race in the NFL.

When the Super Bowl is played Sunday January 11, 1970 in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl, Kearns says it will be the Kansas City Chiefs winning over the Cowboys.

Here's Kearns' predictions for 1969:

Western Conference

Central Division

1. Minnesota Vikings
2. Detroit Lions
3. Green Bay Packers
4. Chicago Bears

Coastal Division

1. Los Angeles Rams
2. Baltimore Colts
3. San Francisco 49ers
4. Atlanta Falcons

Eastern Conference

CAPITOL DIVISION

1. Dallas Cowboys
2. Washington Redskins
3. Philadelphia Eagles
4. New York Giants

CENTURY DIVISION

1. Cleveland Browns
2. St. Louis Cardinals
3. New Orleans Saints
4. Pittsburgh Steelers

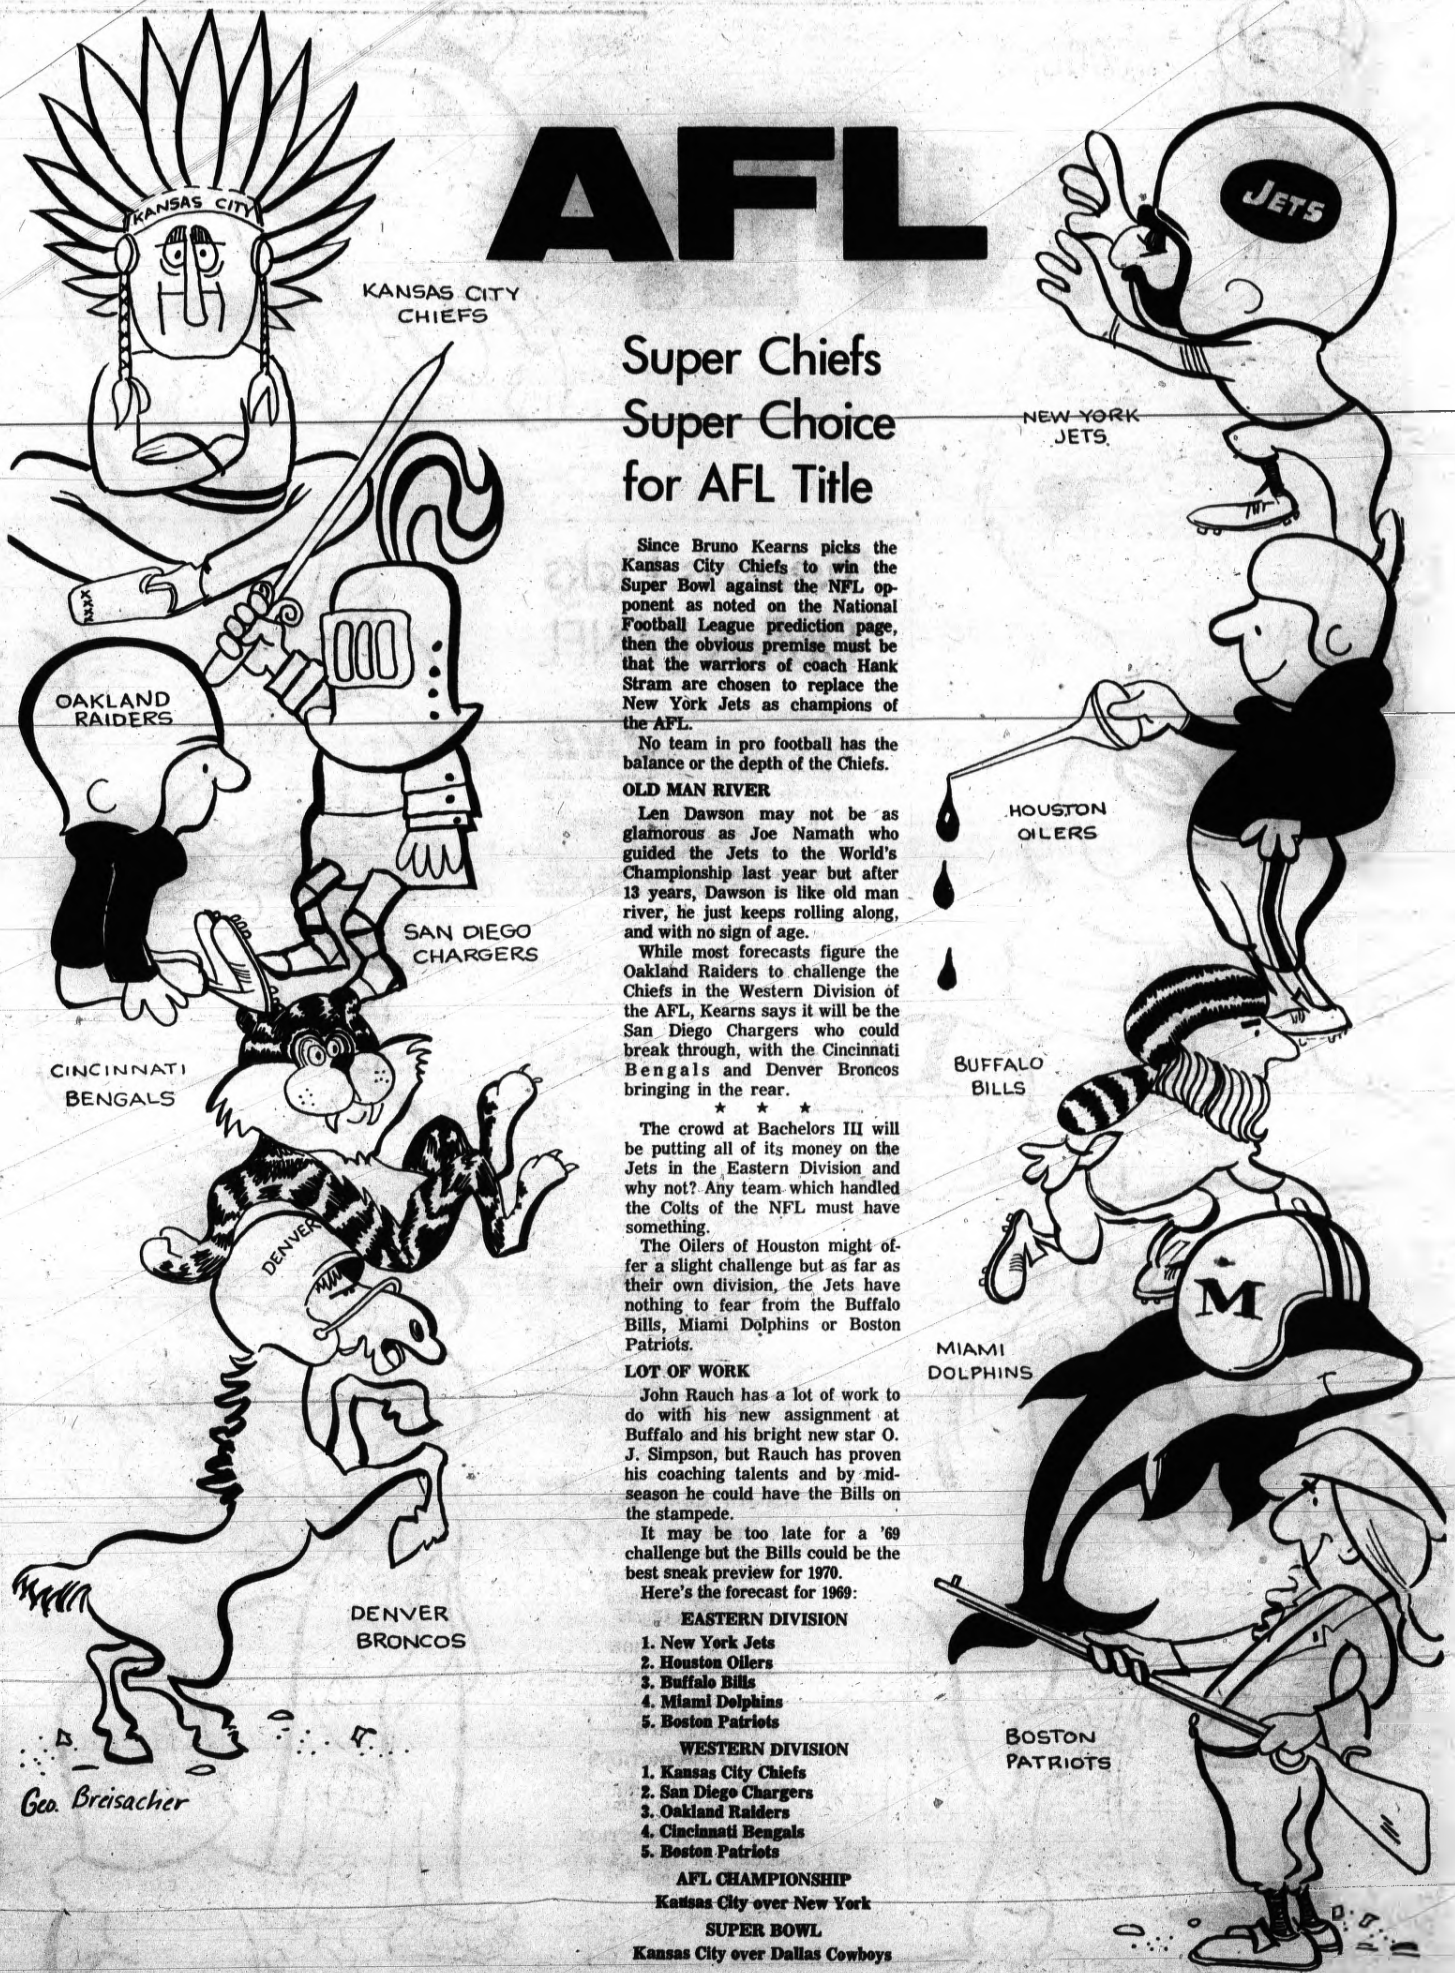
PLAYOFF PREDICTIONS

Cowboys over the Browns
Vikings over the Rams

SUPER BOWL PREDICTION

Kansas City over Dallas Cowboys
Jan. 11, 1970

AFL



Super Chiefs Super Choice for AFL Title

Since Bruno Kearns picks the Kansas City Chiefs to win the Super Bowl against the NFL opponent as noted on the National Football League prediction page, then the obvious premise must be that the warriors of coach Hank Stram are chosen to replace the New York Jets as champions of the AFL.

No team in pro football has the balance or the depth of the Chiefs.

OLD MAN RIVER

Len Dawson may not be as glamorous as Joe Namath who guided the Jets to the World's Championship last year but after 13 years, Dawson is like old man river, he just keeps rolling along, and with no sign of age.

While most forecasts figure the Oakland Raiders to challenge the Chiefs in the Western Division of the AFL, Kearns says it will be the San Diego Chargers who could break through, with the Cincinnati Bengals and Denver Broncos bringing in the rear.

★ ★ ★

The crowd at Bachelors III will be putting all of its money on the Jets in the Eastern Division and why not? Any team which handled the Colts of the NFL must have something.

The Oilers of Houston might offer a slight challenge but as far as their own division, the Jets have nothing to fear from the Buffalo Bills, Miami Dolphins or Boston Patriots.

LOT OF WORK

John Rauch has a lot of work to do with his new assignment at Buffalo and his bright new star O. J. Simpson, but Rauch has proven his coaching talents and by midseason he could have the Bills on the stampede.

It may be too late for a '69 challenge but the Bills could be the best sneak preview for 1970.

Here's the forecast for 1969:

EASTERN DIVISION

1. New York Jets
2. Houston Oilers
3. Buffalo Bills
4. Miami Dolphins
5. Boston Patriots

WESTERN DIVISION

1. Kansas City Chiefs
2. San Diego Chargers
3. Oakland Raiders
4. Cincinnati Bengals
5. Boston Patriots

Lions Evaluation, 2nd in Central Division

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

There's no strong evidence to indicate that this will be the year of the Lion as far as pro football is concerned in Michigan.

However, by the same token, there is enough evidence available to recognize that the Lions can be better than 1968 and good enough to finish at least second in the Central Division of the NFL.

The NEA has its report card printed in this pro section, picking the Lions to finish last.

Looking at the units and individuals compared to the rest of the Central Division, this is our own evaluation:

★ ★ ★

Quarterback — Green Bay, Minesota, Detroit, Chicago

Running Back — Minnesota, Detroit, Chicago, Green Bay

Receivers—Green Bay, Detroit, Minnesota, Chicago

Offensive Line — Minnesota Detroit, Green Bay, Chicago

Defensive Line — Minnesota, Detroit, Green Bay, Chicago

Linebackers—Detroit, Green Bay, Minnesota, Chicago

Cornerbacks—Detroit, Green Bay, Minnesota, Chicago

Safeties—Minnesota, Green Bay, Detroit, Chicago

Punting — Detroit, Chicago Green Bay, Minnesota

Field Goals — Minnesota, Chicago, Green Bay, Detroit

Bill Munson hasn't had the best exhibition season, and he will have to get behind Starr, Kapp or Cuozzo especially in leadership, but he better than anything the Bears' have.

Mel Farr and Altie Taylor, with Eddy, Triplett and Watkins aren't too far behind Minnesota's running strength and with luck could match the Vikings here. Certainly they are better than the Packers' million dollar backfield of Grabowski and Anderson; and the Bears are hurting even with Sayers, who hasn't been himself since his surgery.

The big argument will be in the offensive line, where the Vikings are strong in the middle. But the Lions have that 5-year experience, young replacements and appear to be better off than the Packers who retired three key players or the Bears who are turning to rookies for help. This unit could jell and be the winning factor for the Lions.

The Packers still have receivers Carroll Dale, Boyd Dowler and Marv Fleming and the speed of Travis Williams who is earning himself a backfield post.

★ ★ ★

Gene Washington is Minnesota's best and the Lions can match his speed with Earl McCullough, so it boils down to the better hands among the rest of the receivers. Charlie Sanders has the best hands, Phil Odle and Bill Malinchak, aren't the speedsters, but they'll catch them if they're close.

Minnesota's speed on the defensive line has the advantage, and after that how can anyone dispute Karras, Rush, Hand, Baker and Robb as not being better than Green Bay's aged line or Chicago's slower unit.

TOP LINEBACKERS

If Wayne Walker has another season as 1968, Mike Lucci continues to play as the game depended on every play, and Paul Naumoff continues his great improvement, this could be the best trio of linebackers since Schmidt, Walker and Brettschneider.

The Bears have Butkus and the Packers have Nitscke to turn the tide for them, being two great linebackers.

★ ★ ★

In the secondary, there isn't a better cornerback in pro football than "strollin" Lem Barney. Minnesota has balance in its secondary, Green Bay has experience, and Chicago is strong at one or two spots but without depth.

Barney's punting has really developed and has made him a match for any of the league rivals including Bobby Joe Green of Chicago, Donny Anderson of the Packers or King Hill of Minnesota.

If Errol Mann can come through as ex-Lion field goal artist Jim Martin thinks he can, the Lions could be a bigger threat here, but until then, Fred Cox of Minnesota is the best, Mac Percival and Mike Mercer have the advantage.

Where would this report card put the Lions?

We would say just a break ahead of Green Bay and Chicago and a break or two away from Minnesota.

Four losses or even five could win the division and the big game could be Thanksgiving Day with the Vikings in Tiger Stadium.

Joe Schmidt Leads Lions Balloting

Detroit Lions' fans may not agree with the national ballot on the All-Time Golden Anniversary team of the NFL.

The NFL panel of voters selected Ray Nitschke of Green Bay as the all-time greatest linebacker, just a shade ahead of Joe Schmidt of the Lions and old time Bulldog Turner of the Bears.

In the local voting for the all-time Lions' team, Schmidt is running away with the balloting for the greatest Lion of them all.

Here's the local tally and a ballot box for those who wish to get in on the voting for the All-Time Lions:

BACKS — Walker (42), Clark (36), Hoernshmeyer (29), Dudley (28), White (12), Farr (10), Gutowsky (10). Others (30).

QB's — Bobby Layne (88). Others (16).

CENTERS—Wojciechowicz (55), Flanagan (26), Banonis (14). Others (9).

RECEIVERS — Box (38), Cogdill (19), Barr (18), Doran (18). Others (32).

OFF. GUARDS — Gordy (49), Sewell (36), Stanfel (35). Others (9).

OFF. TACKLES—Creekmur (51), Ane (34), George Christiansen (24). Others (14).

DEF. TACKLES — Bingaman (47), Karras (41), McGraw (37), R. Brown (35). Others (12).

LINEBACKERS — Schmidt (108), Torgeson (59), Walker (40), Brettschneider (36).

DEF. ENDS — McCord (57), Glass (41), Williams (34). Others (16).

SECONDARY — J. Christiansen (67), Yale Lary (49), Dick Lane (47), Jim David (45), Lem Barney (45), Gary Lowe (31), Don Doll (26), Bruce Maher (20). Others (11).

'69 NFL Report Cards

It's school time again and the pre-season marking period by the NEA (Newspaper Enterprise Association) sees no improvement for the Detroit Lions. In fact, last year the '68 report card figured the Lions for third place in the Central Division. This pro chart has the Lions' pegged for fourth place.

The NEA sees the Vikings going against the Rams in the Western Conference and the Cowboys against the Browns in the Eastern Conference.

Our pro expert, Bruno Kearns, who has been covering the Lions since 1955, agrees with the winning selections but disagrees with the Lions' position in the Central Division. (See the Lions' page 64 for seasons).

Here's the NEA report cards for 1969:

WESTERN CONFERENCE
CENTRAL DIVISION

	Running	Passing	Receiving	Off. Line	Def. Line	Linebacker	Secondary
Minnesota	A—	B	B—	B	A	B	B—
Green Bay	B-Plus	B	B	C-Plus	B	A—	B-Plus
Chicago	A—	C-Plus	C	C	B—	B—	B
Detroit	B-Plus	B—	C—	C	B-Plus	A—	C

COMMENTS:

Minnesota—Finally has the feel of winning.
Green Bay—Second, is a comedown in itself.
Chicago—No titles without big league passing.
Detroit—Because of faltering offense.

Seven Kickers Among Top NFL Scorers

Seven of the eight leading active scorers in the NFL are kickers, with 14-year veteran Sam Baker of Philadelphia No. 1 on the point list with 898.

He is still a distant second to all-time leader Lou Groza's 1,349.

The lone non-kicker among the active point leaders is Washington wide receiver Bobby Mitchell, whose 11-year career has produced 546 points on 91 touchdowns (fifth highest NFL total).

Wide receiver Tommy McDonald, 510 points in 12 seasons, and running back-tight end John David Crow, 444 in 11 years, have announced their retirements.

Bengal Back Top Rookie

Paul Robinson's 1,023 yards effort in his rookie year as a rusher constitutes one of the most distinguished individual performances in the history of the American Football League.

Of greater significance is that Robinson is only the second "true rookie" in the majors ever to top 1,000 yards.

Beattie Feathers, of the 1934 Chicago Bears, with an amazing effort in which he averaged better than 10 yards a carry for 1004 yards, is the only other "true rookie." Cookie Gilchrist was a first-year man with Buffalo when he rushed 1,096 yards in 1962 but Gilchrist already had a substantial career in the Canadian League.

The only other rookie ever to lead the AFL was Abner Haynes, who put together an 875-yard year with the 1960 Dallas Texans.

Only two performers have topped 1,000 yards twice in the AFL — Jim Nance (1966-'67) and Paul Lowe (1963-'65).

The 1,000-yard performances in the AFL:

Yardage	Player	Year
1,458	Jim Nance, Boston	1967
1,216	Jim Nance, Boston	1966
1,194	Hoyle Granger, Houston	1967
1,121	Paul Lowe, San Deigo	1965
1,099	Clem Daniels, Oakland	1963
1,096	Cookie Gilchrist, Buffalo	1962
1,087	Mike Garrett, Kansas City	1967
1,023	Abner Haynes, Dallas	1962
1,023	Paul Robinson, Cincinnati	1968
1,012	Charlie Tolar, Houston	1962
1,010	Paul Lowe San Diego	1963

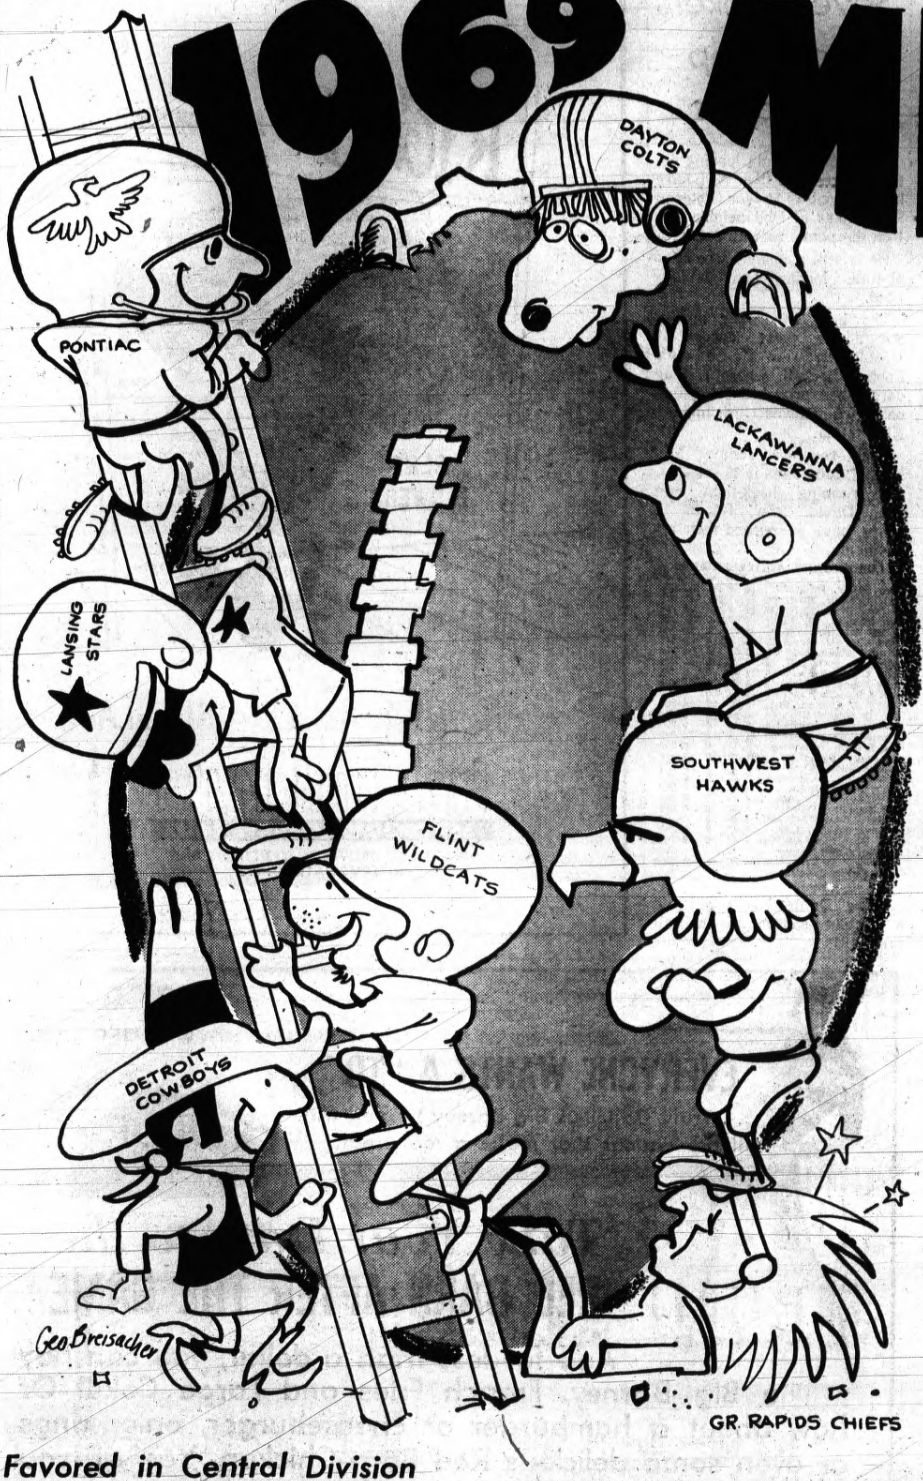
1969 MFL



Two Division Format Shows MFL Balance With Dayton Favored

A two divisional setup with greater balance of power is the format of the Midwest Football League in 1969, the 7th season for the league.

The oldest minor league team in the MFL, the Dayton Colts, begin their 17th season as part of pro football's minor leagues, and the Ohio team looks like it has the power to repeat as 1969 champion.

The powerful Colts romped over 12 league foes and three exhibition rivals for a 15-0 mark last season, including a pair of wins over Lackawanna and Pontiac, the two closest challengers.

EARLY REVENGE

Lackawanna has already avenged one of those losses with a bruising 12-8 triumph over Dayton two weeks ago, but the Colts are still the team to beat in the opinions of most league opponents.

The other teams in the Lakes Division are the Southwest Michigan Hawks, a young and upcoming team with a sprinkling of Notre Dame grads, and Grand Rapids which is rebuilding its old Continental League team franchise.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's Firebirds are looking for their first title after second and third place finishes, but the Lansing All-Stars will have something to say about the Central Division race.

The two teams played to a 13-13 tie earlier this season and have been riding neck and neck in the Central top spot.

Flint lost several key players, but it seems that every year the Wildcats always finish in a blaze of glory.

The Detroit Cowboys just can't seem to put it together and with much of the nucleous of the old Hamtramck franchise, they remain in the doormat role in the league.

The championship game between the Central Division and the Lakes Division winners is scheduled to be played Sunday, November 9 in the Central city.

Here's how the Midwest Football League looks by divisions for the 1969 forecast:

CENTRAL DIVISION	LAKES DIVISION
1. Pontiac	1. Dayton
2. Lansing	2. Lackawanna
3. Flint	3. Southwest Michigan
4. Detroit	4. Grand Rapids

Favored in Central Division

F-Birds Tire of Bridesmaid Role in MFL

It has been five years since Pontiac became a franchise city in the Midwest Football League, but under the new franchise name of the Firebirds, the team has taken the role of the bridesmaid rather than the bride.

As the old Pontiac Arrows, which came to the city from Mt. Clemens the team won two straight championships.

When the Arrows' owners left the city and Firebirds came into being, under local ownership, Pontiac continued to be one of the top franchises in the MFL despite falling short of the title for the past two years.

FANS' SUPPORT

The 1969 edition of the Firebirds has the potential for winning the title in the new two-division setup of the MFL, and the hometown fans have indicated their willingness to support the team.

An opening game crowd of 4,200 watched the Firebirds defeat Grand Rapids, and in three home contests, more than 11,000 fans have watched the action at Wisner Stadium.

Much of the success for the 1969 season rests on the shoulders of quarterback Doug Holcomb, a former Purdue signal caller who was relegated to the role of understudy to two All-Americans in college, Ron DiGravio and Bob Griese.

The early loss of pass receiver Mickey Blazitz for knee surgery and Ron Bemis on military reserve hurt the Firebirds, but coach Tom Tracy has found added help with Craig Hanson and Gene Luppino as receivers.

The defense has always been the strength of the Firebirds with 3-year veteran Jon Izer, calling the defensive signals at middle linebacker.

★ ★ ★

An all-MFL player for three years, Izer has another all-MFL linebacker Steve Szabo at his side, with ex-Lions' No. 1 choice Danny LaRose anchoring the defensive line.

Chuck Stein, small but scrappy, leads the Firebirds' secondary.

The biggest game of the season up to now comes Saturday night when the Dayton Colts visit Wisner Stadium. Three years ago when Pontiac defeated Dayton, 21-19, in what was the key game of the MFL race, a crowd of 5,200, largest in Pontiac history witnessed the contest.

Saturday night's crowd could match that as the Colts, favored to repeat this year, try to stop the Firebirds' title ambitions in the Central Division.

LaRose, Szabo and offensive guard Jerry Brown are all playing assistants under coach Tracy, in his fourth season in the league.

APFA Later Became Known as NFL

NEW YORK (AP) — On Sept. 17, 1920, in Ralph Hays' auto agency in Canton, Ohio, a group that included George Halas and Jim Thorpe sat on the running boards of the Huppmobiles in the showroom and formulated a plan for an organized professional football league.

Out of that meeting came the American Professional Football Association with Thorpe the president of a league that included such legendary teams as the Decatur Staleys, Massillon Tigers and Canton Bulldogs.

The APFA eventually evolved into the more familiar NFL — the National Football League — and now in its 50th anniversary season America's first pro football league has decided to honor the players who provided the impetus for the tremendous growth of the sport.

To do so, the NFL is publishing, with Simon and Schuster Inc., a history of the league called "The First Fifty Years." The book punctuates the highlights of the half-century with the naming of five all-star teams covering the five different decades and leading up to the final selection of the top stars of the first 50 years.

The first decade team, covering the 1920s, was released Saturday and shows those two running-board sitters, Halas and Thorpe, among the top performers in that era of one-platoon football when everyone played 60 minutes.

The NFL's All-1920s team with name, years played and teams:

'69 AFL Report Cards

The NEA report card in 1968 graded the Jets and Raiders correctly in the divisional battle of the AFL.

The 1969 report card favors the same teams, with Buffalo challenging in the East and Kansas City in the West.

Here's the AFL report card for 1969:

EASTERN DIVISION

	Running	Passing	Receiving	Off. Line	Def. Line	Linebacker	Secondary
New York	B—	A	A—	B-Plus	B	B	B—
Buffalo	B	C	B	C-Plus	B—	B	B

Miami	B	A—	B	C-Plus	C	B	B—
Boston	C-Plus	D	B	B—	B	C—	C

COMMENTS

New York—Sticking with Bachelor I gang.
Buffalo—Can't be hurting as year ago.
Houston—Could go higher with Bestfhard.
Miami—Could ride higher with Griese.
Boston—In rebuilding siege.

WESTERN DIVISION

Oakland	B-Plus	B-Plus	A—	A	B	B-Plus	A

COMMENTS

Oakland—Unless shakeup, shakes 'em up.
Kansas City—Breakthrough if secondary firms up.
San Diego—Because Oakland, KC tough competition.
Denver—Still long haul to top.
Cincinnati—It couldn't be done with Rome.

BIGGEST BIRDS — The huge defensive line for the Pontiac Firebirds has Joe Carter (78) at 290 pounds, Ed Gillespie (82) at 270 pounds, Jerry Thick (72) at 300 pounds and Dan LaRose (70) at 265 pounds. Willie Washington at 270 is the swing man at defensive end and Bill Powell at 260 is a defensive tackle. The Firebirds play one of their biggest games of the season Saturday night, Sept. 13 against the rugged Dayton Colts.

Sophomores on College Scene

Now It's Grape Juice!

By the Associated Press

Take heart, college football fans. Orange Juice Simpson has gone on to the pros, but here comes Grape Juice Johnson.

Sonic Boom Glasson also is among the sophomores and junior college transfers about to burst upon varsity gridirons this fall.

★ ★ ★

Wisconsin is certain Greg "Grape Juice" Johnson, all 6-1 190 pounds of him, will awaken the slumbering Badgers with an outside running game. He averaged a gaudy 9.1-yards-a-carry in five spring game-type scrimmages.

Five of this exciting halfback's six spring touchdowns were of more than 30 yards, including an 88-yard kickoff return.

WATCH STOPPER

If there are any doubts where Clyde Glosson, Texas-El Paso's glittering transfer, got his nickname, just check the stopwatch. It reads 4.3 seconds in the 40-yard dash and 9.3 in the 100 for this 6-0, 170-pound wide receiver.

But back to the halfbacks. While Wisconsin lured Johnson from East St. Louis, Ill., Texas got its prize yearling — Jim Bertelsen — from Hudson, Wis. Leading candidate for the berth vacated by the departed Chris Gilbert, Bertelson paced the frosh with 685 rushing yards — most productive by a freshman in the Darrell Royal era.

★ ★ ★

Oregon slotback Bob Moore, 6-2, 215, is called by coach Jerry Frei the best athlete the Ducks ever recruited as he steps up from the best freshman squad the school has enjoyed. Moore is a great receiver who can run the 40 in 4.6 and high jumped 6-7 as a schoolboy.

At Alabama, Bear Bryant hopes his yearling pair of tailback Johnny Musso and full-back Jesse Causey will show the way to the solid ground game missing in '68.

TRAVELED FAR

At Clinton High School, Roy Bell gained over 5,000 yards rushing and scored 39 TDs. Now he moves onto the University of Oklahoma varsity to take over wingback chores from Eddie Hinton while ticketed for some backup relief for Steve Owens at tailback. Bell led unbeaten Sooner frosh with a 6.7 rushing average.

★ ★ ★

Glenn Doughty, 6-2, 197, took over Ron Johnson's tailback assignment at Michigan during spring practice despite the fact he'd never played in the backfield before.

★ ★ ★

Ron 'Po' James, who rushed 1,291 yards as a varsity-eligible freshman, and Roy Patterson, a 9.6 sprinter, make the picture brighter at New Mexico State. Tiny Howard Stevens, 5-7, 165, Randolph-Macon, churned up 1,496 yards en route to 142 points last year.

Southern California, which has lost only twice in two years, is about to spring quarterback Jimmy Jones, from Harrisburg, Pa., on the public. The many-talented 190-pounder is battling senior Mike Holmgren to succeed Steve Sogge.

HIGH HOPES

At the same time on the coast, Washington has high hopes for 6-3 Steve Hanzlik while JC transfer Dennis Dummit, best passer on campus, has enabled UCLA to switch Bill Bolden to wide receiver.

Auburn is counting on the battery of quarterback Pat Sullivan and split end Terry Beasley to give impetus to an all-out South-eastern Conference title bid.

Up from the unbeaten '68 frosh where he passed for 671 yards and rushed 107, Van Brownson is a promising Nebraska yearling.

Major HOOPLE'S FOOTBALL FORECAST

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Fearless Forecaster

Egad, friends, the seasons do roll by!

It seems it was only yesterday I accompanied the mayor to the ball park for the opening of the horsehide schedule and here we are at the start of what promises to be a thrilling pigskin season.

★ ★ ★

Opening day of the collegiate schedule is a mite on the slim side.

However, what it lacks in quantity it kaff-kaff—more than makes up for in quality, with such nationally acclaimed powers as UCLA and Oregon State, Wake Forest and North Carolina State and Southern Methodist and the Air Force set to have at one another.

MID-SEASON FORM

You'll be delighted to know the Hoople System is functioning in mid-season form and has some surprising predictions to pass on to you.

In the big game of the day (make that night, Mr. Printer), the Air Force will win its aerial duel with host SMU.

With both elevens boasting strong passing attacks, this shapes up as a high-scoring affair, with the Air Force launching the biggest bombs in a 37-32 conquest of the Mustangs.

★ ★ ★

The UCLA-Oregon State and Wake Forest-N.C. State contests are conference clashes which should bring out the best in the boys. At Los Angeles, host UCLA will edge past Oregon State's Beavers, 13-10; while the Raleigh, N.C., will be the surprise of the day. The Hoople Upset Special of the Weeks pegs Wake Forest (27 lettermen and a new coach, Cal Stoll) to shatter N.C. State's national aspirations by scoring a thrilling 22-18 victory—har-rumph!

With "Fearless Flinger" Greg Cook graduated to the professional Bengals, the Cincinnati Bearcats are in for rough sledding in their invasio of Morgantown. I predict an easy 31-16 victory for West Virginia.

Now go on with the forecast:

Buffalo 45, Ball State 8
Drake 42, Louisville 38
Kent State 16, Dayton 15
Miami (O.) 31, Xavier 13
Wake Forest 22, N.C. St. 18
Air Force 22, N.C. St. 18
UCLA 13, Oregon State 10
U. Tex. El Paso 22, Pacific 12
Villanova 49, West Chester 7
Western Michigan 17, Central Michigan 14
West Va. 31, Cincinnati 16
Utah St. 30, Wichita State 21

Colorado Omen

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — The varsity beat the alumni 37-10 in the annual spring football game at University of Colorado and to Buffalo fans that's a good omen.

Since 1963 the alumni won three games and each time Colorado had a losing season the following fall. The varsity's three victories in the spring series were topped off by winning seasons in the fall.

Israelis Hit Egypt in 69's Biggest Raid

From Our News Wires

TEL AVIV — Israeli aircraft and armored units thrust into Egypt across the Gulf of Suez today in a raid on Egyptian army positions, the Israeli army announced.

It was the biggest action reported on the Egyptian-Israeli front since the 1967 Middle East war.

★ ★ ★

An Israeli spokesman said the raid inflicted "dozens" of casualties and caused heavy damage to Egyptian military installations including radar stations used to spot attacking Israeli planes.

The 10-hour operation ranged over a 30-mile stretch of the Egyptian shore, the spokesman reported.

PLANE LOST

One Israeli plane was reported lost and the pilot parachuted into the Gulf of Suez.

The Israelis used naval vessels to take their armor across the 25-mile-wide gulf.

The planes bombed and strafed artillery batteries and units of the Soviet-built surface to air-SAM — missiles, he said.

Cairo radio in a broadcast monitored in Tel Aviv said Israeli planes attacked Egyptian observation posts along the Suez Canal and that Egyptian planes engaged the Israeli pilots.

FOLLOWS SEA BATTLE

The action raged between El Hasayer and Ras Za' Farana, 60 miles south of the port of Suez at the southern end of the Suez Canal.

The raid came on the heels of a sea battle in the same general area yesterday. In that engagement, Israel claimed to have sunk two Egyptian torpedo boats. Cairo said one Egyptian boat was hit but not sunk and asserted the Egyptians sank an Israeli vessel.

This was the biggest attack by Israel on any Arab power since the raid into Jordan in March 1968, when Israeli forces hit an Arab commando base at Karameh. This daylong action, also supported by tanks and planes, killed more than 120 guerrillas, the Israelis claimed then.

Some quarters in Tel Aviv thought there might be a connection between the raid on Egyptian army installations and the sea battle yesterday.

Military observers said the strike was aimed at cutting down Egyptian firepower that had been taking an increasing toll of Israeli troops along the Suez Canal. The two sides have the greatest concentration of firepower there since the battle of El Alamein in World War II.

★ ★ ★

The Israeli spokesman gave no indication if their forces used recently delivered American F4 Phantom jets in the raid.

The Israelis said Egyptian jets and troops made no effort to interfere with the armored raid's progress but one Israeli soldier was later reported wounded.

A spokesman said all Israeli troops returned to their base, complete with their equipment.

★ ★ ★

In Washington, an Israeli Embassy spokesman summed up the reason for the attack: "I'm sure this is self-evident. A very long and bloody row of infringements along the Suez Canal. . . Constant violations by the Egyptian side."

Effort to Run Schools During Boycott Set

Although several hundred teachers are threatening to boycott Pontiac Schools tomorrow, the first full day of school this fall, Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said every effort will be made to keep schools open.

★ ★ ★

The planned boycott is a protest of the school board's decision Thursday to appoint Dr. William Edmonds, director of the Virginia State College Graduate School, Petersburg, Va., as new assistant superintendent rather than John F. Perdue, director of school-community and human relations. The teachers support Perdue. Both men are black.

Teachers joining the boycott will lose a day's pay, building and central administrators were told at a meeting yesterday afternoon with Whitmer.

★ ★ ★

Procedures for reporting the number of students, qualified teaching staff and personnel qualified to substitute present at the schools tomorrow, were also outlined at yesterday's meeting.

CLOSING DECISIONS

A decision to close any school will be reached within 30 minutes of a report of personnel available and students present at each school, Assistant Supt. Richard Fell told the administrators.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, a group of about a dozen parents who went to Lansing yesterday to meet with repersentatives of the Michigan Board of Education reported were "very pleased" with their conference.

They had asked for advice and information concerning "termination of the school board, in light of their insensitivity to community wishes." These parents also supported Perdue for the assistant superintendent post.

★ ★ ★

A recall drive has been underway by Pontiac citizens and teachers since Saturday for the four school board members, Russell Brown, John K. Irwin Jr., Mrs. Lucille Marshall and Mrs. Elsie Mihalek, who voted for Edmonds for the administrative position.

PAUF Begins Advance Drive

The Advance Gifts Division campaign of the Pontiac Area United Fund began this morning with an Arabian-style breakfast sponsored by the Community National Bank.

Richard Fisher, chairman of this year's Advance Gifts Division, said the division has set a goal of $133,582. The over-all campaign goal for this year is $1,240,000.

★ ★ ★

About 100 volunteer solicitors attended the breakfast held in Club Overdraft of Community National Bank where they received campaign kits and instructions from Fisher and suggestions from other campaign officials.

Robert R. Eldred, vice chairman of the board of Community National Bank, presented the first fund contribution to the Advance Gifts Division — a check for $14,863.60 which includes contributions of the firm and employer.

LARGEST IN HISTORY

This year's goal for the PAUF is the largest in the fund's history and a 15 per cent increase over the amount raised last year. The goal last year was $1.13 million.

Vice chairman of the Advance Gifts Division attending the kickoff breakfast included John E. Madole, administrative officer of the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services; Max Kerns, of Huttenlocher, Kerns, Norvel, Inc.; Harold Newhouser, a vice president of Community National Bank; William Allen, installation foreman of Pontiac Michigan Bell Telephone Co.; and Edgar Swift, marketing superintendent of Pontiac Consumers Power.

This year's PAUF campaign is scheduled to run from Oct. 4 to Nov. 7.

Hurricane Nears Northeast

NEW YORK (AP) — Hurricane Gerda picked up more speed today and raced toward New England on a course that could bring her to Cape Cod today.

The Washington Weather Bureau reported that Gerda had increased speed to 40 miles per hour and continued moving north-northeast.

At 8 a.m., she was about 150 miles east of Cape May, N. J., near Latitude 38.0 north and longitude 72.5 west.

Highest winds were about 90 miles per hour near the center and conditions favored further intensification, the Weather Bureau said.

NEARS SHIPPING LANES

Hurricane warnings remained in effect from Block Island, R.I., to Provincetown, Mass., on the Cape and a hurricane watch was still in effect from eastern Long Island to Eastport, Main.

The storm was nearing the New York-to-Europe shipping lanes and all ships were advised to avoid the area south of Cape Cod this morning.

★ ★ ★

Small craft were warned to remain in safe harbor from Cape Hatteras, N. C., to Eastport, Maine.

Gerda was traveling at 24 miles per hour when she passed Cape Hatteras about 3 a.m. By 6 a.m., she had increased speed to 30 m.p.h. off the Virginia Capes.

ROLLING SEAS, RAIN

Rolling seas and heavy rain began washing southeastern New England. Cape Cod and the islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard to the south bustled with activity this morning as residents prepared for the hurricane.

Boatmen struggled to secure their craft against the anticipated 5 to 8-foot seas and 90-100 m.p.h. winds. Shopkeepers and homeowners began boarding up windows.

Reconnaissance aircraft, coastal weather stations and radar installations manned the looking on the storm.

The Weather Bureau predicted that tides in southern New England would be at least five feet above normal.

NAVY BASE ALERTED

The Newport, R. I., naval base went on Hurricane Condition Two, with all 43 Navy ships prepared to leave their berths on 30 minutes notice if the storm hit. The ships would ride out the storm in Narragansett Bay.

Earlier, New York and New Jersey residents were advised by the Weather Bureau to "be prepared to take quick action if this should prove necessary" and Mayor John V. Lindsay ordered New York City officials to "batten down the hatches." All city police units were alerted.

In Rhode Island, the civil defense director said schools and other public buildings would be used as emergency shelters if the storm necessitated evacuation of low-lying areas.

Massachusetts civil defense director Allan R. Zenowitz asked residents of Cape Cod and neighboring islands to check emergency plans.

TOWNS ALERTED

Towns in eastern Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina were alert for possible flooding, but expected the storm to pass without trouble.

New England was last pounded by a hurricane on Sept.12 , 1960, when Hurricane Donna left 148 dead and $30 million in damages in a patch from the Leeward Islands in the Caribbean to Maine.

Dry-Well Owners to Get Water

Homeowners without water in Waterford and Independence townships were yesterday promised emergency county relief at "considerable cost" but still are threatening legal action.

The Oakland County Public Works Board voted yesterday to provide and connect hoses to some 35 Waterford homes and to truck water to some 40 more in Independence as soon as possible. Waterford connections started this morning.

Dried-up wells near Woodhull Lake, which straddles the two townships, have left many residents without water from weeks.

Owners of the dry wells blame pumping of water from an excavation near Woodhull Lake to permit work on $28-million Clinton-Oakland Interceptor Sewer.

The pumping is lowering the water table below shallow residential wells, explains R. J. Alexander, director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

'WE'RE NOT THROUGH'

"But we're not through yet," commented homeowner spokeswoman Mrs. Frederick Denne, 4785 Sylvester, Waterford Township.

Mrs. Denne, who organized a protest group, indicated continued consideration of legal action by residents.

★ ★ ★

Her group had threatened legal action before being promised help in a meeting with county officials yesterday.

But she hints homeowners are still upset over the inconvience and over being almost forced into hooking into the Waterford waterline at a cost of $575 plus a plumber's fee.

More more

The new policy adopted by the public works board provides:

WATERLESS WELL ROUTE?—This map shows the path of the $28-million Clinton-Oakland Interceptor Sewer which could dry up wells at several hundred homes nearby, authorities now warn. At least 75 homes already have been affected in the Waterford-Independence township area indicated by the arrow. Temporary relief to waterless well owners is being provided by local governments with county funds. The giant sewer system, 40 miles of pipes up to 66 inches in diameter, is expected to be completed by July 1970. It is designed to abate stream and lake pollution in the east-central part of the county.

'C5A Will Help U.S. Cut Back Overseas Units'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators backing the Pentagon's request to go ahead with the controversial C5A transport say more of the supercargo planes could enable a cutback in U.S. forces overseas.

Sens. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and Hilton R Young, R-N.D., said today in prepared speeches that by using the huge transports to boost the nation's airlift capability the number of American troops abroad might be trimmed.

★ ★ ★

The arguments came as the Senate headed toward an expected afternoon vote on Sen. William Proxmire's effort to hold up authority for 23 more C5As pending a General Accounting Office study of the need for the planes.

Proxmire said the review also should delve into the heavily criticized contract under which initial production losses by Lockheed Aircraft Corp. will be made up by the government.

TROOP CUT-FAVORED

Young, senior GOP member of the Appropriations Committee and its defense subcommittee, said he favors a sharp reduction in the U.S. Army in Europe.

"With the capability we will have through the C5A," he said, "we could easily withdraw two or three divisions from Germany." This would be nearly half the U.S. ground force there.

★ ★ ★

Young said most of the increased cost in the C5A—nearly $2 billion since the contract was signed in 1965—is due to inflation, frequent changes in production schedules and improvement "which gives us a better weapons system and should not be considered as a cost increase in the usual sense."

Proxmire has contended that since the 58-plane first run won't be completed until mid-1971, his amendment would not cause any delay.

CUTS FOR JAPAN

With increased airlift capability and the Polaris fleet ballistic missile as a prime deterrent, Symington said, the United States might be able to reduce its Japanese bases.

★ ★ ★

And "There would seem to be little need for the United States to retain Okinawa as a base for B52 operations," he said.

A Chance of Frost Predicted Tonight

A cold front from the Northwest moving into the Pontiac area last night sent temperatures tumbling to a chilly 49 at 7 a.m. today.

The weatherman forecasts a low of 40 to 45 tonight, with a chance of light frost in the suburbs.

The prediction for tomorrow is mostly sunny and a little warmer with the high reaching 65 to 70. Sunny and warmer is the outlook for Thursday.

The mercury had climbed to 62 by 12:30 p.m.

ADVERTISEMENTS FOR BIDS

Separate sealed proposals will be received by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors for the mechanical and electrical remodeling of the Oakland County Administrative Annex Building (formerly the Oakland County Board of Education Building) on the Oakland County Service Center, Pontiac, Michigan.

Both sets of Plans and Specifications will be available at the office of the Oakland County Facilities Engineering Division, 1200 N. Telegraph Road, Pontiac, Michigan, on and after August 29, 1969. A deposit check in the amount of $10.00, made payable to the County of Oakland, will be required for each set of Plans and Specifications desired. The deposit will be returned upon return of the Plans and Specifications in good condition, within ten (10) days after receipt of bids.

Proposals shall be submitted on forms provided by the Owner. A bid bond or certified check in the amount of at least 5 percent of the bid shall accompany each proposal. Checks shall be made payable to the County of Oakland.

The accepted bidder shall be required to furnish a satisfactory Performance Bond and Labor and Material Bond, each in the amount of 100 percent of the Contract. The cost of the bonds will be paid by the accepted bidder.

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will receive the sealed bids until 1:30 P.M., E.S.T., September 16, 1969, at the Supervisors' Auditorium, 1200 N. Telegraph Road, Pontiac, Michigan, at which time the bids shall be publicly opened and read.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any and all bids, to award the Contract to other than the low bidder and to waive irregularities and/or formalities.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

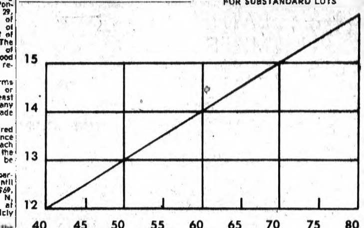
Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held by the White Lake Township Planning Commission at the Township Hall on September 29, 1969 at 8:00 p.m. to consider the following amendments to Ordinance No. 58, otherwise known as the Zoning Ordinance of the Township of White Lake, Oakland County, Michigan to-wit:

AMENDMENT

The Township of White Lake, Oakland County, Michigan ordains the following amendment to Ordinance No. 58 (Zoning Ordinance):

ARTICLE IV — GENERAL PROVISIONS. Section 4.15 F, being a chart, is hereby revised to allow total minimum side yards on a graduated scale of twelve (12) to fifteen (15) feet for forty (40) to eighty (80) foot lot widths.

Section 4.15. f
SIDE YARD REQUIREMENT FOR SUBSTANDARD LOTS



WIDTH OF LOT
(IN FEET)

*ANY FRACTIONS SHALL BE IN FAVOR OF THE PETITIONER.

NO SIDE YARD MAY BE LESS THAN FIVE (5) FEET IN WIDTH.

ARTICLE IV — GENERAL PROVISIONS. Section 4.35 is hereby amended as follows:

Section 4.35. Permit for Temporary Use of Mobile Home or House Trailer. No occupied mobile home or house trailer shall be parked on any site, lot, field or tract of land within the Township of White Lake not specifically licensed for that purpose; except that nothing herein contained shall prohibit the parking without charge therefor, of not more than one (1) occupied mobile home or house trailer on the premises of any occupied dwelling, provided that the operator of such mobile home or house trailer, within one (1) week after his arrival, shall make application to the Building Inspector for a permit, which permit, if granted, shall limit the time of such parking to a period not longer than three (3) weeks from the date of application thereof. The Building Inspector shall grant said permit in all cases except where adequate sanitary facilities and/or potable water facilities are unavailable to service the occupants of said mobile home or house trailer.

In special instances permission may be obtained from the Zoning Board of Appeals for the issuance of a permit by the Building Inspector for the temporary use of a mobile home by a watchman, caretaker, manager, or sales office in C1, C2, CR, I-1, or E-1 District. This permit is not to exceed one (1) year from date of issuance.

ARTICLE IV, GENERAL PROVISIONS, is hereby amended by adding the following subsection:

Section 4.37. Filling of Land. The filling of land with rubbish, garbage, sewage, or any other waste material by any person, firm, corporation, partnership, or other organization is not permitted in the Township unless located in an Ag, Agricultural District, and without first submitting an application to the Township Planning Commission and securing a permit from the Building Inspector.

a. APPLICATION. Before approving any permit the Township Planning Commission shall hold a public hearing concerning the proposed use, and further, application for a permit shall have been filed in writing with the Township Clerk containing the following information:

(1) Names and addresses of all parties of interest in said premises setting forth their legal interest in said premises.

(2) Full legal description of the premises wherein operations are proposed.

(3) Topographical survey map of scale of one (1) inch equals one hundred (100) feet showing existing grades on a two (2) foot contour interval of the land prior to any of the proposed fillings, and the proposed finished grades, to be prepared by a registered civil engineer.

(4) Detailed proposal as to method of operation, what type of machinery or equipment will be used, and estimated period of time that such operation will cover.

(5) Detailed statement as to exactly what type of material is proposed to be deposited.

(6) Proof that the applicant has complied with all terms and conditions as set forth in Act 87, P. A. 1965.

(7) Such technical data as will conclusively show that such operation will not result in the pollution of any inland lake, stream, or other body of water, or cause stagnant water to collect on said premises.

(8) Such other information as may be reasonably required by the Township Planning Commission to base an opinion as to whether a permit should or should not be issued.

b. PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS. In addition to the above the following requirements are mandatory:

(1) No roads may be used for the purpose of ingress or egress to said fill site which are located within four hundred (400) feet of occupied residences unless such roads shall be of hard surface with cement, bituminous substance or chemical treatment.

(2) No fill shall be permitted above the established grade line of any street, road, or other public thoroughfare nearest thereto or the existing grade line of property abutting the landfill premises.

(3) No commercial garbage shall be deposited, or dumped, or scattered on the surface of any premises for burial or any other purpose within 500 feet of any residence, (except residence of permit holder), public highway, street, or alley, within one-half mile of any public gathering place, school or institution.

(4) A temporary fence may be required by the Township Planning Commission to enclose the filling operation to prevent the scattering of paper, rubbish, and garbage.

(5) Reasonable operating hours for any use under this section shall be as established by the Township Planning Commission.

(6) After considering all the available facts and after public hearing, and if it shall determine that the proposed operations will not be injurious to the general public health and welfare of the Township and its citizens, the Township Planning Commission shall authorize the Building Inspector to issue a permit conditioned on compliance of the permit holder with all the requirements of the County and State. Any permit may thereafter be revoked to comply with the requirements of this section or for failure to continuously comply with the requirements of state law being Act 87 of Public Acts of 1965.

ARTICLE IV, GENERAL PROVISIONS, is hereby amended by adding the following subsection:

Section 4.38. Waste Disposal Transfer Station. Waste Disposal transfer stations established for the purpose of collecting and transferring rubbish, garbage, sewage, or any other waste material by any person, firm, corporation, partnership, or other organization is not permitted in the Township unless located in an I-2, General Industrial District and without first submitting an application to the Township Planning Commission and securing a permit from the Building Inspector.

a. APPLICATION. Before approving any permit the Township Planning Commission shall hold a public hearing concerning the proposed use, and further, an application for a permit shall have been requested in writing to the Township Clerk containing the following information:

(1) Names and addresses of parties of interest in said premises setting forth their legal interest in said premises.

(2) Full legal description of the premises wherein operations are proposed.

b. PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS. In addition to the above the following requirements are mandatory:

(1) No roads may be used for the purpose of ingress or egress to said waste disposal transfer station which are located within four hundred (400) feet of occupied residences unless such roads shall be of hard surface with cement, bituminous substance or chemical treatment.

(2) Storage of waste material is limited to the necessary processing operation within the confines of the principal building and no open storage is permitted, the provision of Section 17.04 g notwithstanding.

(3) Reasonable operation hours for any permitted use under this section shall be as established by the Township Planning Commission.

(4) After considering all the available facts and after public hearing, and if it shall determine that the proposed operations will not be injurious to the general public health and welfare of the Township and its citizens, the Township Planning Commission shall authorize the Building Inspector to issue a permit conditioned on compliance of the permit holder with all the requirements of this section and requirements of the County and State.

ARTICLE VII, AG. AGRICULTURAL DISTRICT. Section 7.02 d, is hereby amended as follows:

Section 7.02 Permitted Principal Uses. d. Farms, including livestock and poultry raising, dairying, horticulture, farm forestry, sod farming and other similar bona fide agricultural enterprise or use of land and structure, except farms operated wholly or in part for the disposal of garbage, sewage, rubbish, offal and wastes from rendering plants.

ARTICLE VII, AG. AGRICULTURAL DISTRICT, Section 7.02 is hereby amended by adding the following subsection:

Section 7.02 Permitted Principal Uses. f. Filling of land may be permitted by the Township Planning Commission in accordance with Section 4.37.

ARTICLE X R-1, SINGLE-FAMILY DISTRICT, Section 10.02 is hereby amended by adding the following subsection:

Section 10.02 Permitted Principal Uses. 1. The Township Planning Commission may, after public hearing, approve the following uses in an R-1 District upon a showing that such use would not be contrary to the spirit and purpose of this ordinance and not contrary to public health, safety, and welfare providing, however, that such uses shall not be permitted on any lot or parcel of land the area of which is less than one (1) acre.

(1) Private stable for not more than two (2) horses, or other equines.

(2) Fowl and animal raising for a hobby or purely local consumption by residents of lot upon which such activity is being conducted.

ARTICLE XVI, I-1, LIGHT INDUSTRIAL DISTRICT, Section 16.02, a, (1) is hereby amended as follows:

Section 16.02 Permitted Principal Uses. a. (1) Warehousing and wholesale establishments, storage and transfer establishments (other than accessory to an adjoining retail use and excepting Waste Disposal Transfer Stations).

ARTICLE XVII, I-2, GENERAL INDUSTRIAL DISTRICT, Section 17.02, is hereby amended by adding the following subsection:

Section 17.02 Permitted Principal Uses. g. Junkyards may be permitted under such reasonable conditions as imposed by the Township Board, after public hearing, and in harmony with the purposes of the General Industrial District. Modification by the Township Board of the requirements of Section 17.03 and ARTICLE XIX may be permitted where, after thorough study, such modification will be in harmony with the purposes of the General Industrial District, and will not by injurious to the surrounding area, is essential or desirable to the general public health, safety and welfare, and is not contrary to the spirit and purpose of this Ordinance.

Section 17.02 Permitted Principal Uses. h. Waste Disposal Transfer Stations upon securing approval of the Township Planning Commission all in accordance with ARTICLE IV — GENERAL PROVISIONS, Subsection 4.38.

ARTICLE XVII, I-2, GENERAL INDUSTRIAL DISTRICT, Section 17.04, g. is hereby amended as follows:

Section 17.04 Required Conditions.

g. OPEN STORAGE: All storage of building materials, sand, gravel, stone, lumber, equipment and other supplies shall be located within an area not closer than one hundred and fifty (150) feet from any street right-of-way line. The storage of lumber, coal, and other combustible material shall not be less than twenty (20) feet from any interior lot line and a roadway shall be provided, graded, surfaced with an all weather durable pavement, and maintained from the street to the rear of the property to permit free access of fire trucks at any time. All such open storage shall be screened from all streets and on all sides which abut any land other than zoned I-2 by a solid eight (8) foot wall or fence sufficient to serve as a permanent retaining wall.

(1) Junkyards, when permitted, shall be entirely enclosed on all sides by said eight (8) foot wall or fence, and junk or other scrap material shall be piled no higher than the height of the required fence.

ARTICLE XIX — SCHEDULE OF REGULATIONS, being a chart, is hereby amended as follows:

City Police Hunt 2 in Robbery, Assault

City police today are searching for two youths who robbed and assaulted Mrs. Harriet Middleton in her home at 506 Franklin Saturday.

Mrs. Middleton, a notary public, told police she let two 17-year-old youths into her home because they said they wanted to obtain birth affidavits.

* * *

Once inside, the two allegedly drew small-caliber revolvers and took $100 from Mrs. Middleton's purse. In an ensuing scuffle the assailants struck Mrs. Middleton on the head with a chair and fled.

Neighbors called police, who are continuing investigation of the case. Mrs. Middleton was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for minor injuries.

Allies to Reduce Viet Operations

To Match Red Activity During Cease-Fire

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands announced today that allied military operations would be scaled to match the enemy's during the Vietcong's three-day cease-fire in mourning for Ho Chi Minh.

The joint South Vietnamese-American communique tacitly accepted the three-day truce although it declared: "It is not our intention to talk about a cease-fire at this time."

The communique confirmed earlier reports that the allied forces were in a "defensive posture" but patrols were continuing to intercept any enemy attempt to build up troops and firepower closer to allied bases.

The joint communique said:

"The scale of our military operations in the past has been influenced by the scale of enemy military operations. During this period the scope of our military operations will likewise be influenced by the nature of enemy military operations.

B52S DIVERTED

"The Communist announcement of a cease-fire most be viewed in the light of the savage rocket attacks against civilians in Da Nang, and other aggressive actions which have followed the announcement. It must also be viewed in the light of the known history of past Communist violations of cease-fires which they themselves had proposed. Consequently it is not our intention to talk about cease-fires at this time."

American B52 bombing raids previously scheduled for targets in South Vietnam were diverted to attack North Vietnamese infiltration trails through Laos, informed sources said.

One radio message heard in the field from an American company commander to his top sergeant said; "The thing is today we'll have sort of a cease-fire in our hostile actions. We don't want to take anything under fire unless it's absolutely necessary."

A spokesman for the U.S. Command said that according to early reports, "the level of enemy-initiated actions is relatively low."

NO BASES SHELLED

He said no shelling of American bases had been reported and there had been only a handful of "insignificant incidents."

South Vietnamese headquarters reported a dozen enemy attacks in which 10 civilians and three soldiers were killed and 36 persons wounded, including 18 civilians.

In one attack, the Vietcong detonated a land mine electrically under a bus 35 miles south of Da Nang, killing 10 civilians and wounding 15. This happened nearly 11 hours after the Vietcong cease-fire was to start.

Israelis Hit Egypt in 69's Biggest Raid

From Our News Wires

TEL AVIV — Israeli aircraft and armored units thrust into Egypt across the Gulf of Suez today in a raid on Egyptian army positions, the Israeli army announced.

It was the biggest action reported on the Egyptian-Israeli front since the 1967 Middle East war.

★ ★ ★

An Israeli spokesman said the raid inflicted "dozens" of casualties and caused heavy damage to Egyptian military installations including radar stations used to spot attacking Israeli planes.

The 10-hour operation ranged over a 30-mile stretch of the Egyptian shore, the spokesman reported.

PLANE LOST

One Israeli plane was reported lost and the pilot parachuted into the Gulf of Suez.

The Israelis used naval vessels to take their armor across the 23-mile-wide gulf.

The planes bombed and strafed artillery batteries and units of the Soviet-built surface to air-SAM — missiles, he said.

Cairo radio in a broadcast monitored in Tel Aviv said Israeli planes attacked Egyptian observation posts along the Suez Canal and that Egyptian planes engaged the Israeli pilots.

FOLLOWS SEA BATTLE

The action raged between El Hasayer and Ras Za' Farana, 60 miles south of the port of Suez at the southern end of the Suez Canal.

The raid came on the heels of a sea battle in the same general area yesterday. In that engagement, Israel claimed to have sunk two Egyptian torpedo boats. Cairo said one Egyptian boat was hit but not sunk and asserted the Egyptians sank an Israeli vessel.

This was the biggest attack by Israel on any Arab power since the raid into Jordan in March 1968, when Israeli forces hit an Arab commando base at Karameh. This daylong action, also supported by tanks and planes, killed more than 120 guerrillas, the Israelis claimed then.

Some quarters in Tel Aviv thought there might be a connection between the raid on Egyptian army installations and the sea battle yesterday.

Military observers said the strike was aimed at cutting down Egyptian firepower that had been taking an increasing toll of Israeli troops along the Suez Canal. The two sides have the greatest concentration of firepower there since the battle of El Alamein in World War II.

★ ★ ★

The Israeli spokesman gave no indication if their forces used recently delivered American F4 Phantom jets in the raid.

The Israelis said Egyptian jets and troops made no effort to interfere with the armored raid's progress but one Israeli soldier was later reported wounded.

A spokesman said all Israeli troops returned to their base, complete with their equipment.

★ ★ ★

In Washington, an Israeli Embassy spokesman summed up the reason for the attack: "I'm sure this is self-evident.

A very long and bloody row of infringements along the Suez Canal. . . Constant violations by the Egyptian side."

Hurricane Nears Northeast

NEW YORK (AP) — Hurricane Gerda picked up more speed today and raced toward New England on a course that could bring her to Cape Cod today.

The Washington Weather Bureau reported that Gerda had increased speed to 40 miles per hour and continued moving north-northeast.

At 8 a.m., she was about 150 miles east of Cape May, N. J., near Latitude 38.0 north and longitude 72.5 west.

Highest winds were about 90 miles per hour near the center and conditions favored further intensification, the Weather Bureau said.

NEARS SHIPPING LANES

Hurricane warnings remained in effect from Block Island, R.I., to Provincetown, Mass., on the Cape and a hurricane watch was still in effect from eastern Long Island to Eastport, Main.

The storm was nearing the New York-to-Europe shipping lanes and all ships were advised to avoid the area south of Cape Cod this morning.

★ ★ ★

Small craft were warned to remain in safe harbor from Cape Hatteras, N. C., to Eastport, Maine.

Gerda was traveling at 24 miles per hour when she passed Cape Hatteras about 3 a.m., she had increased speed to 30 m.p.h. off the Virginia Capes.

ROLLING SEAS, RAIN

Rolling seas and heavy rain began washing southeastern New England. Cape Cod and the islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard to the south bustled with activity this morning as residents prepared for the hurricane.

Boatmen struggled to secure their craft against the anticipated 5 to 8-foot seas and 90-100 m.p.h. winds. Shopkeepers and homeowners began boarding up windows.

Reconnaissance aircraft, coastal weather stations and radar installations manned the looking on the storm.

The Weather Bureau predicted that tides in southern New England would be at least five feet above normal.

NAVY BASE ALERTED

The Newport, R. I., naval base went on Hurricane Condition Two, with all 43 Navy ships prepared to leave their berths on 30 minutes notice if the storm hit. The ships would ride out the storm in Narragansett Bay.

Earlier, New York and New Jersey residents were advised by the Weather Bureau to "be prepared to take quick action if this should prove necessary" and Mayor John V. Lindsay ordered New York City officials to "batten down the hatches." All city police units were alerted.

In Rhode Island, the civil defense director said schools and other public buildings would be used as emergency shelters if the storm necessitated evacuation of low-lying areas.

Massachusetts civil defense director Allan R. Zenowitz asked residents of Cape Cod and neighboring islands to check emergency plans.

TOWNS ALERTED

Towns in eastern Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina were alert for possible flooding, but expected the storm to pass without trouble.

New England was last pounded by a hurricane on Sept.12 , 1960, when Hurricane Donna left 148 dead and $30 million in damages in a patch from the Leeward Islands in the Caribbean to Maine.

Effort to Run Schools During Boycott Set

Although several hundred teachers are threatening to boycott Pontiac Schools tomorrow, the first full day of school this fall, Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said every effort will be made to keep schools open.

★ ★ ★

The planned boycott is a protest of the school board's decision Thursday to appoint Dr. William Edmonds, director of the Virginia State College Graduate School, Petersburg, Va., as new assistant superintendent rather than John F. Perdue, director of school-community and human relations. The teachers support Perdue. Both men are black.

Teachers joining the boycott will lose a day's pay, building and central administrators were told at a meeting yesterday afternoon with Whitmer.

★ ★ ★

Procedures for reporting the number of students, qualified teaching staff and personnel qualified to substitute present at the schools tomorrow, were also outlined at yesterday's meeting.

CLOSING DECISIONS

A decision to close any school will be reached within 30 minutes of a report of personnel available and students present at each school, Assistant Supt. Richard Fell told the administrators.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, a group of about a dozen parents who went to Lansing yesterday to meet with repersentatives of the Michigan Board of Education reported were "very pleased" with their conference.

They had asked for advice and information concerning "termination of the school board, in light of their insensitivity to community wishes." These parents also supported Perdue for the assistant superintendent post.

★ ★ ★

A recall drive has been underway by Pontiac citizens and teachers since Saturday for the four school board members, Russell Brown, John K. Irwin Jr., Mrs. Lucille Marshall and Mrs. Elsie Mihalek, who voted for Edmonds for the administrative position.

PAUF Begins Advance Drive

The Advance Gifts Division campaign of the Pontiac Area United Fund began this morning with an Arabian-style breakfast sponsored by the Community National Bank.

Richard Fisher, chairman of this year's Advance Gifts Division, said the division has set a goal of $133,582. The over-all campaign goal for this year is $1,240,000.

★ ★ ★

About 100 volunteer solicitors attended the breakfast held in Club Overdraft of Community National Bank where they received campaign kits and instructions from Fisher and suggestions from other campaign officials.

Robert R. Eldred, vice chairman of the board of Community National Bank, presented the first fund contribution to the Advance Gifts Division — a check for $14,863.60 which includes contributions of the firm and employer.

LARGEST IN HISTORY

This year's goal for the PAUF is the largest in the fund's history and a 15 per cent increase over the amount raised last year. The goal last year was $1.13 million.

Vice chairman of the Advance Gifts Division attending the kickoff breakfast included John E. Madole, administrative officer of the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services; Max Kerns, of Huttenlocher, Kerns, Norvel, Inc.; Harold Newhouser, a vice president of Community National Bank; William Allen, installation foreman of Pontiac Michigan Bell Telephone Co.; and Edgar Swift, marketing superintendent of Pontiac Consumers Power.

This year's PAUF campaign is scheduled to run from Oct. 4 to Nov. 7.

Dry-Well Owners to Get Water

Homeowners without water in Waterford and Independence townships were yesterday promised emergency county relief at "considerable cost" but still are threatening legal action.

The Oakland County Public Works Board voted yesterday to provide and connect hoses to some 35 Waterford homes and to truck water to some 40 more in Independence as soon as possible. Waterford connections started this morning.

Dried-up wells near Woodhull Lake, which straddles the two townships, have left many residents without water from weeks.

Owners of the dry wells blame pumping of water from an excavation near Woodhull Lake to permit work on $28-million Clinton-Oakland Interceptor Sewer.

The pumping is lowering the water table below shallow residential wells, explains R. J. Alexander, director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

'WE'RE NOT THROUGH'

"But we're not through yet," commented homeowner spokeswoman Mrs. Frederick Denne, 4785 Sylvester, Waterford Township.

Mrs. Denne, who organized a protest group, indicated continued consideration of legal action by residents.

★ ★ ★

Her group had threatened legal action before being promised help in a meeting with county officials yesterday.

But she hints homeowners are still upset over the inconvience and over being almost forced into hooking into the Waterford waterline at a cost of $575 plus a plumber's fee.

The new policy adopted by the public works board provides:

WATERLESS WELL ROUTE?—This map shows the path of the $28-million Clinton-Oakland Interceptor Sewer which could dry up wells at several hundred homes nearby, authorities now warn. At least 75 homes already have been affected in the Waterford-Independence township area indicated by the arrow. Temporary relief to waterless well owners is being provided by local governments with county funds. The giant sewer system, 40 miles of pipes up to 66 inches in diameter, is expected to be completed by July 1970. It is designed to abate stream and lake pollution in the east-central part of the county.

'C5A Will Help U.S. Cut Back Overseas Units'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators backing the Pentagon's request to go ahead with the controversial C5A transport say more of the supercargo planes could enable a cutback in U.S. forces overseas.

Sens. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and Hilton R Young, R-N.D., said today in prepared speeches that by using the huge transports to boost the nation's airlift capability the number of American troops abroad might be trimmed.

★ ★ ★

The arguments came as the Senate headed toward an expected afternoon vote on Sen. William Proxmire's effort to hold up authority for 23 more C5As pending a General Accounting Office study of the need for the planes.

Proxmire said the review also should delve into the heavily criticized contract under which initial production losses by Lockheed Aircraft Corp. will be made up by the government.

TROOP CUT-FAVORED

Young, senior GOP member of the Appropriations Committee and its defense subcommittee, said he favors a sharp reduction in the U.S. Army in Europe.

"With the capability we will have through the C5A," he said, "we could easily withdraw two or three divisions from Germany." This would be nearly half the U.S. ground force there.

★ ★ ★

Young said most of the increased cost in the C5A—nearly $2 billion since the contract was signed in 1965—is due to inflation, frequent changes in production schedules and improvement "which gives us a better weapons system and should not be considered as a cost increase in the usual sense."

Proxmire has contended that since the 58-plane first run won't be completed until mid-1971, his amendment would not cause any delay.

CUTS FOR JAPAN

With increased airlift capability and the Polaris fleet ballistic missile as a prime deterrent, Symington said, the United States might be able to reduce its Japanese bases.

★ ★ ★

And "There would seem to be little need for the United States to retain Okinawa as a base for B52 operations," he said.

A Chance of Frost Predicted Tonight

A cold front from the Northwest moving into the Pontiac area last night sent temperatures tumbling to a chilly 49 at 7 a.m. today.

The weatherman forecasts a low of 40 to 45 tonight, with a chance of light frost in the suburbs.

The prediction for tomorrow is mostly sunny and a little warmer with the high reaching 65 to 70. Sunny and warmer is the outlook for Thursday.

The mercury had climbed to 62 by 12:30 p.m.

Priority Issues Wait Nixon's Attention

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is back in Washington where the list of problems, issues and priorities did not diminish during his month long California working vacation.

The programs the President has offered to the Congress remain stalled and could benefit from his personal quarterbacking. His welfare, post office and crime package have yet to go before committee.

While administration men have hinted at progress in Vietnam the President's next public decision may very well concern the dimensions of the next troop withdrawal from the war zone.

There will be presidential interest in Senate action on his appointment to the Supreme Court, Clement Haynsworth, and selection of a permanent successor to the late Everett M. Dirksen as GOP minority leader in the Senate. Nixon is reported to favor a more conservative choice than Senate GOP Whip Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania who is temporarily serving in the post.

The President returned to the capital last night after stops for dedication ceremonies of a new dam on the Rio Grande near Del Rio, Tex., and a firsthand look at the hurricane-ravaged Gulf Coast.

Nixon compared the damage of hurricane Camille to the bombed out towns of WWII Europe. "As I flew over the damage of Mississippi I could see that the facts given me could not adequately state the damage," Nixon told a crowd at Gulfport.

"I haven't seen anything like this since visiting Essen, Germany, in 1947," Nixon said, shaking his head in disbelief.

At Amistad Nixon and Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz unveiled a monument and threw their arms around each other in the traditional South of the Border "abrazo."

GOLFING AFTERNOONS

In California the President usually spent mornings at his desk at his San Clemente headquarters and adjourning for afternoons in the sun and at the golf course.

Nixon also threw state dinners for the Apollo 11 astronauts, visiting Republic of Korea President Chung Hee Park, a birthday party for former President Lyndon B. Johnson, dedicated a grove of California redwoods to former first lady Mrs. Johnson, and addressed the National Governor's Conference at Colorado Springs.

TV PERSONALITY DIES — Bud Collyer, a show business veteran who survived the decline of radio to become a widely known television master of ceremonies, died last night in a Greenwich, Conn., hospital at 61. He had been ill with a blood circulation ailment. Collyer hosted such TV shows as "To Tell the Truth," "Winner Take All," "Break the Bank," and "Beat the Clock." On radio from 1938 to 1952, he played Clark Kent and Superman.

Building-Revamp Pact Let

BIRMINGHAM — The Wake-Pratt Construction Co. of Troy has been awarded the contract for remodeling the municipal building.

At $28,100 Wake-Pratt was the lowest of six bidders.

★ ★ ★

The remodeling consists of building an attic over the police garage for records storage, developing the former recreation office on the first floor into a conference room, and relocating the employe lounge to the room in the southwest corner of the basement.

A Red Cross bloodmobile will be at Brother Rice High School, 7101 Lahser, from 3-9 p.m. Sept. 22. The mobile will be set up in the cafeteria.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — J. Paul Bergmoser, of 1436 Kirkway has been named group chairman for general manufacturing in Detroit's annual United Foundation Torch Drive.

Gwain H. Gillespie of 26175 W. 13 Mile, Franklin, will be the metropolitan business group chairman, while Stanley J. Chalmers of 1051 Norfolk has been appointed section chairman in metropolitan business group.

★ ★ ★

Lyman Kau, 6231 Indianwood, will direct neighborhood business campaigns in Troy, Clawson and parts of Birmingham.

This year's goal of $28.9 million, a 5.2 per cent increase over last year's figure of $27.5 million is the highest in the fund drive's history.

★ ★ ★

The UF Torch Drive campaign is scheduled for Oct. 14-Nov. 6. The funds will underwrite next year's operating costs for nearly 200 health and community services in the tri-county metropolitan area.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The problems and promises of mass transit will be scrutinized in a series of photographic panels and models beginning Sept. 23 at the Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries.

The exhibition, organized by the Walker Art Center, is the season's first at the academy. It will run through Oct. 19.

Mine Reopening OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Mines has approved plans of the Consolidation Coal Co. for the initial unsealing of its No. 9 mine near Farmington, W. Va., where 79 men died last November.

No date was set in the announcement yesterday.

Yanks Are Following Red Lead on Truce

SAIGON (AP) — American forces probably will continue to curtail their offensive operations if the Vietcong and North Vietnamese maintain their present low level of activity after the truce for the funeral of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh ends Thursday, U.S. sources said today.

"We want to keep the negotiating door open," said one ranking officer. "We're not looking for fights."

Only light action was reported across South Vietnam today in the second day of the truce. But U.S. officials considered it most unlikely that the enemy would continue the cease-fire long after the announced expiration time.

Since Ho's death last Wednesday, Radio Hanoi and the Vietcong Radio have exhorted his followers repeatedly to keep up the fight until U.S. forces are driven from Vietnam and the Saigon regime is crushed.

Ho's will, read today at a memorial service in Hanoi, called on the people to "fight on until complete victory over the U.S. aggressions," something Ho said might take a "prolonged time and require still more sacrifices in manpower and property."

Reports from the field said some South Vietnamese troops were still conducting offensive sweeps.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu had announced on Sunday that his army would not observe the cease-fire, but U.S. officials prevailed on him yesterday to join in an undeclared truce. The American and South Vietnamese commands said in a joint communique that their military operations would be scaled in accordance with the enemy's.

A spokesman for the U.S. Command said the level of enemy activity was "about the same" as in previous cease-fire periods.

Thai Pullout Talks Begin

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — High ranking U.S. and Thai military officers began talks today which will decide how many U.S. troops can be withdrawn from Thailand.

The talks were attended by U.S. military assistance commander, Maj. Gen. Louis T. Seith and Gen. Sukarit Malyalab, Thai army chief of staff.

They followed an initial meeting between Thai Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman and U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger a week ago.

Official sources said the two generals discussed the mechanics of withdrawing part of the 49,000 man U.S. force in Thailand.

They considered which units in the 12,000 man U.S. Army contingent could be taken out without affecting the performance of the 36,000 U.S. Air Force men stationed in Thailand.

The Army units are mainly troops supporting the Air Force, which is engaged in bombing raids on Vietnam and Laos.

Finch OKs Health Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heavy emphasis is placed on medical services for the poor, youngsters and expectant mothers in the five-year federal health plan drawn by the Nixon administration.

Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Finch has approved the plan, it was learned yesterday, but no dollar cost for it has been set. Only a modest growth in federal health outlays is contemplated.

Charter Election Up to Governer

The question of an election on a charter amendment to change the method of electing city commissioners will be sent to the state governor's office, the City Commission ruled unanimously at last night's meeting.

The amendment was proposed in a petition drive by the Pontiac Council of Concerned Citizens (PCCC) in which 7,885 signatures were gathered.

★ ★ ★

City Clerk Olga Barkeley reported that more than a sufficient number were valid (6,442) were needed, 20 per cent of city voters).

The issue must go to the governor to assure that the wording of the questions on the ballot conforms with state law.

DECEMBER VOTE

The commission is required to call the election between Dec. 12 and Dec. 22 if there are no legal barriers.

The PCCC is seeking to provide for election of the seven commissioners by district only — the system in effect before 1964. The question also seeks to lower the age requirement for commissioners to 25 and residency requirement to one year (now 30 and five).

★ ★ ★

If voters approved the change, the city will have to be redistricted according to one-man, one-vote requirement of recent state laws.

Some of the districts have over twice as many registered voters as others. The disparity has grown since the districts were formed in 1921.

Rogers Viet Hopes Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers has added another optimistic statement for the course of the war in Vietnam.

Rogers, speaking yesterday on the 15th anniversary of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, said, "We do see progress on the road to peace."

2 County Committees' Split May Stall '70 Budget OK

Dissension between two committees of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors may delay adoption of the proposed 1970 county budget.

The $30.3-million budget—of which $14 million is devoted to salaries—is due for public hearing and consideration by the full board Oct. 2 at 9:30 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Recommendations regardig salary increases have reached what appears to be an impasse between the personnel practices and finance committees.

The personnel unit has agreed to meet with the finance committee for one further salary review next Tuesday at 1 p.m. Personnel practices chairman William L. Mainland, D-Milford, said his committee would host the session prior to a regular finance meeting at 2:30 p.m. the same day.

2 PCT. PARING

Finance has returned the salary package (allowing an average 10 per cent increase for all county employes) to personnel practices with the request that proposed increases be pared to 8 per cent. The committee has asked that a further $175,000 be knocked off the increase package.

Mainland yesterday criticized the "bellicose attitude" of Finance Chairmand George Grba, D-Pontiac, and what he called violation of area of finance committee responsibility.

★ ★ ★

Mainland claimed personality differences were involved in the recommendations made by the finance committee. The committee reportedly had discussed cuts in the corporation counsel's office and increases for new Democratic prosecutor Thomas plunkett.

The five attorneys in the corporation counsel's office now are slated for $2,000 increases each. Plunkett, proposed by Grba for a $30,000 salary, is scheduled to get $26,000.

'THEY'RE NECESSARY'

The proposed raises, which some committee members and administrators privately admit are higher than those in private industry, were explained as necessary by Mainland as follows:

- The general inflation spiral.
- The shortage of well-trained and qualified employes.
- The effects of collective bargaining, which will determine raises for some 425 county employes.
- The growth in size and complexity of county government.

★ ★ ★

Mainland reported that the raises proposed by his committee amount to $812,832. Ranging from $500 to $3,000, they will benefit some 1,400 of the county's 1,800 employes.

Dry-Well Homes Will Get Water

- For Waterford residents, that the county will assist the township and pay the costs of extending the main waterlines under streets to property lines. Homeowners would then run hoses to above ground water intake pipes.
- For Independence residents, that the county will provide tank trucks because there are no mains.

UNTIL IT'S DONE

The county will supply water until the project is finished in the affected area, which could be up to three months from now, Alexander said.

Despite objections of two board members, George N. Grba and Harry W. Horton the Waterford proposal passed 5 to 2. The Independence motion passed 6-0, with member Delos Hamlin not voting because he had left for another meeting.

★

Grba and Horton feared legal complications, too many taking advantage of the ruling, high cost, and health problems.

State Rep. Loren D. Anderson, R- Waterford Township, said at the meeting he would assume the state health department would not object because Anderson says the area could be called a disaster area.

Anderson said he has appealed to the governor's office to ask state civil defense and National Guard officials to supply a water truck for Independence Township.

County Drain Commissioner and board member Daniel Barry was a prime mover in offering county assistance, which he had promised residents as early as Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Independence Township Clerk George Altman plans immediately to explore possibilities of installing a temporary waterline.

Altman said several alternate suggestions were aired at a special township board meeting last night.

The clerk urged residents who are without water to notify the township office at once.

County Charged $175 a Week

Family of 8 Crammed Into Motel Room

By JEAN SAILE

Mrs. Deloris Black, 33, lives in limbo — an expensive limbo, some would say.

But unless she finds a house soon, she is apt to be separated from the seven children who share her quarters. Foster homes would be cheaper.

★ ★ ★

An eighth child, 6-year-old Eugne, lies in Pontiac General Hospital, a victim of reportedly incurable sickle cell anemia. He is frequently hospitalized.

The mother and her children, the oldest 14, currently share one large room and bath at the Sagamore Motel, 789 Woodward. The motel charges the county $175 a week.

3 BEDS IN ROOM

The room contains two double beds, a single bed, two chairs and a much-used television set.

Traffic roars by outside on Woodward Avenue as the children gather round their only source of entertainment.

★ ★ ★

"It's the only thing they've got to do," said their mother, who is in the process of obtaining a divorce from the children's father. A former nurse's aide, she now obtains help from Aid to Dependent Children.

The family was evicted from a condemned house on Jessie Street two weeks ago. Since then, because the motel room lacks kitchen facilities, the family has had to get its meals at restaurants.

BILL FOR 2 WEEKS

As of Friday a fill for $250 covering two weeks had been charged at Ricky's Pizza House, 819 Woodward.

Both the motel and restaurant bills are being paid by tax money.

★ ★ ★

"It will be better when the kids start school," Mrs. Black said. She intends they walk back to Wilson Elementary and Eastern Junior High School beginning Monday. Those are the schools they attended last year.

What they will do for breakfast is a puzzler. Ricky's restaurant doesn't open until 10 a.m., Mrs. Black said. She'd like to be able to cook them breakfast.

EVERYONE'S OUT

The accommodations for the family are the best that social workers in the County Social Services Department could find.

"We've got everyone out house hunting for them," said Ora Hinckley, director. "Not everyone wants to rent to someone with eight children and at a price that can be afforded.

★ ★ ★

"I hope the house they find is warm," said Mrs. Black. "Eugene is cold all the time. Last year I had to keep the thermostat set at 90 degrees and I still owe $60 on my oil bill."

CRAMPED CONDITIONS

She allowed that after the cramped conditions the family has endured the past two weeks she'd like a four- or five-bedroom house.

Mrs. Black sounds like she'd be happier if she were in a position to help pay for it.

★ ★ ★

"Before my husband and I separated I always worked," said the woman whose youngest baby is 15-month-old Leslie.

"I'd rather work. Just sitting here waiting for the 1st and 16th of the month and the checks to come in isn't good."

COSTS TOO MUCH

The reason Mrs. Black says she isn't working now is that it costs more to pay a babysitter than she can make. A part-time job after school when the older children arrive home would be considered, but it's got to have good transportation. She has no car.

Mrs. Black had another responsibility thrust on her shoulders, Friday. Because her brother's wife had been taken to the hospital that morning, she was caring for an additional child.

★ ★ ★

As a mother she drew praise from the restaurant owner. "Those kids are well-behaved," he said.

Pontiac Press Photo

NOT MUCH TO DO—Mrs. Deloris Black and seven of her eight children wait and watch television in a motel room while workers at the Social Services Department attempt to find them a house. The motel bill is $175 a week, and by Friday there was a $250 food bill for the two weeks the ADC-supported family has been displaced. The family's former rented home was condemned.

Story Doesn't Hold Water, Abby Insists, After Checking

By BIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother read in the paper where a 15-year-old girl got pregnant from swimming in a public pool, and now she won't let me go swimming in a public pool.

She said the article said that in Sydney, Australia, the courts have decided that the Municipal Swimming pool is the "father" of a child.

It seems that a 15-year-old virgin girl began having pregnancy symptoms after having swuin in a public swimming pool. Her mother took her to a doctor who examined her and said that the girl was still a virgin, and the symptoms were "false." The symptoms continued, and after nine months the girl gave birth to a healthy baby boy.

They called this a billion-to-one-chance that some male sperm in the water impregnated the girl. The city agreed to pay the girl a pension.

Will you please tell me if this is possible?

ALSO FIFTEEN

DEAR ALSO: I have checked with my medical authorities and they concur that this one tops the story about the "star rising in the East." I have heard that there is nothing new under the sun. But perhaps there IS something new under the water.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a recent college graduate. My parents paid my tuition and room and board at college. I paid for all my books, clothes, and other expenses by working.

Recently my father handed me a bill for $7,492.23. He said that is what I owe him for college, and he wants it paid back now.

I did not promise, suggest, or agree to pay back any money when I started college. My parents are not in any financial trouble. The bill seems way out of proportion since my school cost only $430 per semester and I finished in seven semesters. My father refuses to explain why the bill is so large, and he is threatening to sue me. Do you think I need a lawyer? PITTSBURGHER

DEAR PITTSBURGHER: Not yet — if the facts are as you stated them. But should your father actually sue you, then you may have to shell out for a lawyer to defend yourself.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 10 years to a hard working man whom I love very much. He was married twice before, and one of his ex-wives lives about 400 miles from here.

Every so often he takes a vacation alone and he always stops off to see her for two or three days. He is taking another vacation and I heard him tell her on the phone that he would be seeing her.

If I say anything about it he raises his voice in anger as if I have no right to wonder why he wants to see her. I am sure if I had an ex-husband (which I haven't) and visited him every now and then my husband wouldn't stand for it.

* * *

I hate arguments, therefore I keep it to myself, but I get all torn up inside when I think of it.

I have tried to be broad-minded, but I am beginning to feel that maybe I'd be better off away from him rather than to fight this situation every time it comes up.

Please tell me what to do.

ALL TORN UP

DEAR TORN: I will tell you what NOT to do. DON'T give your husb nd an "either or" ultimatum unless you are willing to accept the consequences.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-680, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

No Curves in Sight

Maxi Speeds on Fashion Road

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Maxi coats raise questions.

Samples:

Will the friendly local cleaner charge more when confronted by such bulk?

Will members of the girl watchers of America, spoiled by last season's gam-showing coats, stage pout-ins over the lowdown development?

* * *

Will a frolicsome twosome be able to fit into a teeny-tiny sports car if each is wrapped in a maxi coat?

There is no question, of course, about the reaction among broom pushers everywhere. With hems of maxi coats sweeping stairs and floors, there's bound to be a little less dirt for the janitors of America to look after.

The shoetop coats are a steal from hippies of several seasons past, as were the floppy coats, capes and psychedelic print explosions that preceded them. And that raises a notion:

With the legitimate fashion world adopting so many hippie trapings, what'll the hippies don next? Three button suits? Prim little black dresses and opera pumps?

* * *

The maxi coats aren't for everyone. A bulky female cloaked in one will bear some resemblance to a tent — possibly one with a camel inside.

As more and more humans on the American scene, male and female, hide their beautiful bodies inside maxi coats, by the way, there is an added problem for security forces in stores.

SHOPLIFTERS DELIGHT

The maxi, as any veteran store sleuth will testify, can make the work of a deft shoplifter child's play. Shopping bag size compartments hitched to such a coat's interior make nice hiding places for heisted merchandise.

On a more cheerful note the maxi coat might be expected to challenge makers of fashion accessories.

A coat that lowdown, for example, certainly will need a set of splashguards to protect it from the knees down on a rainy day.

* * *

There may be some added business for psychiatrists out of this maxi coat emergence. Can't you see it? This woman on the couch laments:

"When I walk down the street in this coat, people who look me in the eyes seem to be saying — what are you hiding?"

Only the wearer knows.

Pam's Win Puts State's Mantle on Shoulders of Sandra Gillespie

HASTINGS (UPI) — The tall, good-looking girl typed letters and filed invoices but took time out to get excited Monday at the Hastings Manufacturing Co. where she is employed.

She is Sandra (Sandy) Gillespie, upon whom the mantle of Miss Michigan dropped Monday because Pamela Ann Eldred of Birmingham, Mich., has been named Miss America.

* * *

Miss Eldred was chosen Miss America Saturday night in Atlantic City. Miss Gillespie was runner-up in Muskegon at the annual Miss Michigan pageant when Miss Eldred was chosen Miss Michigan in June.

* * *

Sandra was informed Monday afternoon by James Bushong of Muskegon, the Miss Michigan Pageant director, that she is the new Miss Michigan.

Miss Gillespie, who is 5-feet-8 inches tall, has brown hair and 35-24-36 measurements.

* * *

She is scheduled to start classes Sept. 20 at Michigan State University where she is a junior, majoring in retailing, but will leave school for a year "if my duties as Miss Michigan demand my time," she said.

"I was informed by Mr. Bushong that I am the new state queen this afternoon and I was very excited and a bit shocked.

* * *

"I was watching the Miss America Pageant Saturday night on television with some friends and was pleased when Pamela won the national title. Then it dawned on me that I'm the new Michigan queen. But it still was a bit of shock when Mr. Bushong called me this afternoon and confirmed it," she said.

FRINGE BENEFITS

Miss Gillespie, as Miss Michigan, is entitled to scholarships and various fringe benefits and will represent the state in various public functions in Michigan and other states.

* * *

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Gillespie of Hastings, who have another daughter, Mrs. Linda Flannigan. The father is superintendent in the plant where she works.

* * *

Miss Gillespie is a talented singer and has poise in addition to having the physical inventories that go along with winners in beauty contests.

GE Tags Appliances With Wholesale Hikes

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Most of General Electric's major appliances will carry higher wholesale price tags when the new lines are presented to distributors on Sept. 22.

The price increases, GE said Monday, were caused by rapidly-spiraling costs.

* * *

GE said the prices of range, dishwasher, refrigerator, freezer and home laundry lines will go up an average of three per cent.

* * *

There are no changes planned in the price of TV sets, the company added, but their price structure is under review.

In Benton Harbor, Mich., a spokesman for the Whirlpool Division of the RCA Corp. said it had no plans at present for a general price increase. He said the division was studying cost factors continually but did not plan any price increase for the present.

* * *

At Pittsburgh, Westinghouse Electric Corp. said it was studying the hikes.

At Dayton, Ohio, Frigidaire officials said it too would not comment until the move had been studied.

Members of the Creative Co-Op of Oakland University's Continuum Center display samples of the professionally hand-crafted items to be offered for sale at its first fall showing of Artisan Decorations. At left is Mrs. Ralph Donaldson of North Adams Road, Avon Township, with her handwoven pillows. Mrs. Heath Dodge of Ironstone Drive, also Avon Township, is putting some of her pottery pieces on the block. The tole ware (tinware) on the right is done by Mrs. Nelson Vanderpool of Troy. The show is scheduled Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Original Handicrafts, on West Maple Road in West Bloomfield Township.

Thursday Tea to Rejuvenate Tired Shoppers

By SHIRLEY GRAY

The Village Woman's Club this year is setting aside every Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m. for tea. All very informal, in the living room, just the place to stop and meet friends after shopping.

VWC's Living Series will start off Sept. 23 with a talk by Detroit Free Press fashion writer, Marji Kunz, on "The Ins and Outs of Fashion." The October speaker will be Mrs. Helen Boehm, whose late husband won fame for his delicate porcelain birds.

* * *

If you love surprises, then the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Association's fall luncheon meeting Wednesday should be just your cup of tea.

* * *

In connection with the cookbook, called "No Second Fiddle," which the gals will sell for the benefit of the orchestra, there will be a mystery celebrity . . .

There will also be a fashion show by Saks of Troy. It's all at Oakland Hills Country Club, starting at 11 a.m.

ANOTHER LUNCHEON

Another club in town will be rolling out the red carpet for the ladies at lunchtime that same day, as the Colony Town Club meets at Bloomfield Hills Country Club. Mrs. Philip R. Flanders of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Jesse Vincent of Grosse Pointe will share chairman duties.

Mrs. David (Karen) DiChiera had the funniest experience during a recent six-month stay in Rome. One of her teeth fell out.

The complications began when her friends warned her that the best place to look for a dentist was anywhere else. Since she has a favorite aunt in Copenhagen, she bundled up Lisa Maria, 2, and trundled off to Denmark. Karen had a lovely visit with her aunt, found a dentist, and got a new tooth.

* * *

Meanwhile, back in Rome, the plot thickened. Husband David got lonesome and came up to Copenhagen. That meant they had to move to a hotel, where they ended up staying for two weeks.

Then, says the vivacious Karen, "We saw this painting we just had to have."

All in all, a very expensive tooth.

Two weeks after they returned to Rome, the tooth fell out.

Sounds like a plot for an opera.

Pageant Lists Correct Runners-Up Awards

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — A judging error was made Saturday night during the Miss America finals which gave some of the runners-up the incorrect scholarship amount.

Pageant officials Monday gave the following revised list:

Miss America Pamela Eldred, won a $10,000 scholarship.

* * *

First runner-up Miss Ohio, Kathy Lynn Baumann, won a $6,000 scholarship.

Tied for second runnersup were Miss New Jersey, Cheryl Carter, and Miss California Susan Anton, with $3,000 scholarships apiece.

Third runner-up, Miss Minnesota, Judy Mendenhall, received a $2,500 scholarship.

to Adopt a Housing Code for the City of Pontiac

1969 at 8:00 P.M. Eastern Standard Time on the adoption of a Housing Code to cover all existing dwellings in the City of Pontiac. The text of the ordinance, as proposed, is as follows:

HEARING DATE: TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1969 at 8 P.M.

or dampness to the interior portions of the walls or to the occupied spaces of the building. Said walls and trim shall be adequately painted or protected.

H-321.3 — Roofs. The roof shall be structurally sound, tight, and have no defects which might admit rain; roof drainage shall be adequate to prevent rain water from causing dampness in the walls or interior portions of the building.

H-322.0 — Stairs, Porches, and Railings. Stairs and other exit facilities shall be adequate for safety as provided in the applicable sections of the Building Code, and shall comply with the following subsections. In no circumstances shall there be provided less than two exits from each dwelling unit.

H-322.1 — Outside Porches. In multiple dwellings, outside porches shall not be located so as to interfere with or diminish the light or ventilation required by this act, except unenclosed porches for service stairs only may be erected provided that they are in compliance with the Building Code.

H-322.2 — Fire Escapes. All fire escapes on multiple dwellings shall be open and unenclosed; located and constructed as specified in the applicable Sections of the Building Code.

H-322.5 — Structural Safety. Every outside stair, every porch, and every appurtenance attached thereto shall be so constructed so as to be safe for use and capable of supporting the loads to which it is subjected as required by the Building Code; and shall be kept in sound condition and good repair.

H-322.7 — Handrails. Every flight of stairs which is more than two risers high shall have handrails which shall be located as required by the building code; and every porch which is more than two risers high shall have handrails so located and of such design as required by the Building Code. Every handrail and balustrade shall be firmly fastened and shall be maintained in good condition.

H-323.0 — Windows, Doors and Hatchways. Every window, exterior door, and basement hatchway shall be substantially tight and shall be kept in sound condition and repair.

H-323-1 — Windows to be Glazed. Every window sash shall be fully supplied with glass window panes or an approved substitute which are without open cracks or holes.

H-323.2 — Windows to be Tight. Every window sash shall be in good condition and fit reasonably tight within its frame.

H-323.3 — Windows to be Openable. Every window, other than a fixed window shall be capable of being opened and shall be held in position by window hardware.

H-323-4 — Door Hardware. Every exterior door, door hinge, and door latch shall be maintained in good condition.

H-323.5 — Doors to Fit in Frame. Every exterior door, when closed, shall fit reasonably well within its frame.

H-323.6 — Windows and Door Frames to Fit in Wall. Every window, door, and frame shall be constructed and maintained in such relation to the adjacent wall construction so as to exclude rain as completely as possible, and to substantially exclude wind from entering the dwelling or multi-family dwelling. In all properties not occupied by the owner, all windows and exterior doors, which are openable, shall be provided with adequate locks or latches, for purposes of security.

H-323.7 — Basement Hatchways. Every basement hatchway shall be so constructed and maintained so as to prevent the entrance of rodents, rain, wind, and surface drainage water into the dwelling or multi-family dwelling.

H-323.8 — Egress. Every dwelling unit shall be provided with two means of exit which shall be capable of being opened from the inside without the use of a key.

H-324.0 — Screening. Guards and screens shall be supplied for protection against rodents and insects in accordance with the following requirements.

H-324.1 — Guards for Basement Windows. Every basement or cellar window which is openable shall be supplied with corrosion-resistive rodent-proof shields of not less than N.22 U.S. gauge perforated steel sheets or No. 20 B & S gauge aluminum, or No. 16 U.S. gauge expanded metal or wire mesh screens, with not more than ½-inch mesh openings; or with other material affording equivalent protection against the entry of rodents, including storm windows.

H-324.2 — Insect Screens. From June 1 to October 15 of each year, every door opening directly from any dwelling or multi-family dwelling to the outdoors, and every window or other outside opening used for ventilation purposes, shall be supplied with a screen of not less than 16 mesh per inch and every swinging screen door shall have a self-closing device in good working condition; except that no such screens shall be required for a dwelling unit on a floor above the fifth floor.

Section H-330.0 INTERIOR STRUCTURE

No person shall occupy as owner-occupant, or let to another for occupancy, any dwelling, multi-family dwelling, dwelling unit, rooming house, rooming unit, or portion thereof, for the purpose of living therein which does not comply with the following requirements.

H-331.1 — Free from Dampness. In every dwelling, cellars, basements, and crawl spaces shall be maintained reasonably free from dampness to prevent conditions conducive to decay or deterioration of the structure.

H-332.0 — Structural Members. The supporting structural members of every dwelling and multi-family dwelling used for human habitation shall be maintained structurally sound, showing no evidence of deterioration which would render them incapable of carrying the imposed loads.

H-330.0 — Interior Stairs and Railings. Stairs shall be provided in every dwelling, multi-family dwelling, rooming, and boarding house as required by the building and fire codes.

H-333.1 — Maintained in Good Repair. All interior stairs of every structure used for human habitation shall be maintained in sound condition and good repair by replacing treads and risers that evidence excessive wear or are broken, warped or loose. Every inside stair shall be so constructed and maintained as to be safe to use and capable of supporting a load as required by the provisions of the building code.

H-333.12 — Interior - Maintained in Good Repair. All floors, floor coverings, walls, ceilings and trim, as well as doors, and related appurtances shall be maintained in sound condition and in good repair.

H-332.2 — Handrails. Every stair well and every flight of stairs, which is more than two risers high, shall have handrails or railings located in accordance with the provisions of the building code. Every handrail or railing shall be firmly fastened and must be maintained in good condition. Present balustraded railings, capable of bearing normally imposed loads as required by the building code, shall be placed on the open portions of stairs, balconies, landings and stairwells.

H-334.0 — Bathroom and Kitchen Floors. Every toilet, bathroom, and kitchen floor surface shall be constructed and maintained so as to be substantially impervious to water and so as to permit such floor to be easily kept in a clean and sanitary condition.

H-335.0 — Sanitation. The interior of every dwelling and multi-family dwelling used for human habitation shall be maintained in a clean and sanitary condition free from any accumulation of rubbish or garbage or insanitary condition detrimental to the health or safety of the occupants. Rubbish, garbage, or other refuse shall be properly kept inside temporary storage facilities as required under Section H-404.04 and H-405.0 of this code.

H-336.0 — Insect and Rodent Harborage. Buildings used for human habitation shall be kept free from insect and rodent infestation and where insects or rodents are found they shall be promptly exterminated by acceptable means which will not be injurious to human health. After extermination, property precautions shall be taken to prevent reinfestation.

H-336.1 — Extermination from Buildings. Every owner of a dwelling or multi-family dwelling shall be responsible for the extermination of insects, rodents, vermine or other pests whenever infestation exists in two or more of the dwelling units, or in the shared or public parts of the structure.

H-336.2 — Extermination from Single Dwelling Units. The occupant of a dwelling unit in a dwelling or multi-family dwelling shall be responsible for such extermination within the unit occupied by him whenever his dwelling unit is the only unit in the building that is infested.

H-336.3 — Responsibility of Owner. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, whenever infestation of rodents is caused by failure of the owner to maintain any dwelling or multi-family dwelling in a rodent proof condition, extermination of such rodents shall be the responsibility of the owner.

ARTICLE IV
SPACE AND OCCUPANCY REQUIREMENTS

Section H-400.00 BASIC FACILITIES

No person shall occupy as owner-occupant, or let to another for occupancy, any dwelling unit for the purpose of living, sleeping, cooking, or eating therein that which does not comply with the following requirements:

H-401.0 — Sanitary Facilities. The following minimum sanitary facilities shall be supplied and maintained in sanitary, safe working condition.

H-401.1 — Water Closet. Every dwelling unit shall contain within its walls, a room separate from the habitable rooms, which affords privacy and which is equipped with a water closet.

H-401-2 — Lavatory. Every dwelling unit shall contain a wash basin or lavatory which shall be in the same room with the water closet.

H-401.3 — Bathtub or Shower. Every dwelling unit shall contain a room which affords privacy to a person and in said room and which is equipped with a bathtub or shower.

(3) The least dimension of each room function applies, except for the overlap or double use of space in combination rooms.

H-423.0 — Required Space in Sleeping Rooms. In every dwelling unit, every room occupied for sleeping purposes by one occupant shall have a minimum gross floor area of at least 70 square feet. Every room occupied for sleeping purposes by more than one occupant shall contain at least 50 square feet of floor area for each occupant thereof.

H-424.0 — Access Limitation of Dwelling Unit to Commercial Uses. No habitable room, bathroom or water closet compartment which is accessory to a dwelling unit shall open directly into or shall be used in conjunction with a food store, barber or beauty shop, doctor's or dentist's examination or treatment room, or similar room for public purposes.

H-425.0 — Location of Bath and Second Sleeping Room. No resident building or dwelling unit containing two or more sleeping rooms shall have such room arrangement that access to a bathroom or water closet compartment intended for use by occupants of more than one sleeping room can be had only by going through another sleeping room; nor shall the room arrangement be such that access to a sleeping room can be had only by going through another sleeping room or a bathroom or water closet compartment. No bathroom shall be so located that access thereto is soley through a kitchen.

H-425.1 — Unrelated Occupants. Not more than one family, plus two occupants unrelated to the family, except for guests or domestic employees, shall occupy a dwelling unit unless a license for a rooming house has been granted by the City of Pontiac as provided for in Ordinance No. 1101.

H-426.1 — Occupancy of Dwelling Units Below Grade. No dwelling unit partially below grade shall be used for living purposes in addition to the above unless:

1. Floors and walls are watertight;
2. Total window area, total operable area, and ceiling height are in accordance with this code; and
3. Required minimum window area of every habitable room is entirely above the grade of the ground adjoining such window area;
4. No fire, safety or health hazards are found to exist;
5. Subject to written approval of the Housing Official.

Section H-430.0 LIGHT AND VENTILATION

No person shall occupy as owner-occupant, or let to another for occupancy, any dwelling multi-family dwelling, dwelling unit, rooming house or rooming unit for the purpose of living therein that which does not comply with the following requirements.

H-431.0 — Natural Light in Habitable Rooms. Every habitable room shall have at least one window of approved size facing directly to the outdoors or to a court. The minimum total window area, measured between stops, for every habitable room shall be ten per cent of the floor area of such room, except in kitchens when artificial light may be provided in accordance with the provision of the Basic Building Code. Whenever walls or other portions of structure face a window or any room, and such obstructions are located less than three feet from the window and extend to a level above that of the ceiling of the room, such a window shall be deemed to face directly to the outdoors nor to a court, and shall not be included as contributing to the required minimum total window area for the room.

H-432.0 — Light in Non-Habitable Work Space. Every laundry, furnace room, and all similar non-habitable work spaces located in a dwelling or multi-family dwelling shall have one electric light fixture available at all times.

H-433.0 — Light in Public Halls and Stairways. Every public hall and inside stairway in every dwelling or multi-family dwelling shall be adequately lighted at all times with an illumination of at least 5 foot candles in the darkest portion at floor level of the normal traveled stairs and passageways.

H-434.0 — Electric Outlets Required. Where there is electric service available to the building or structure, every habitable room of a dwelling or multi-family dwelling shall contain at least two separate and remote outlets, one of which may be a ceiling or wall-type electric light fixture. In kitchens, three separate and remote wall-type electric convenience outlets or two such convenience outlets and one ceiling or wall-type electric light fixture shall be provided. Every public hall, water closet compartment, bathroom, laundry room, and furnace room shall contain at least one electric light fixture. In addition to the electric light fixture in every bathroom and laundry room, there shall be provided at least one electric outlet.

H-435.0 — Adequate Ventilation. Every habitable room shall have at least one window which can be easily opened or such other device as will adequately ventilate the room. The total openable window area in every habitable room shall be equal to at least 45 per cent of the minimum window area size required in Section H-431, except where mechanical ventilation is provided in accordance with the provisions of "American Society Heating and Refrigeration Association."

H-436.0 — Ventilation and Light in Bathroom and Water Closet. Every bathroom and water closet compartment shall comply with the light and ventilation requirements for habitable rooms as required by Sections H-431 and H-434, except that no window shall be required in bathroom or water closet compartments equipped with an approved ventilation system.

Section H-440.0 Minimum Requirements for Safety from Fire

No person shall occupy as owner-occupant, or shall let to another for occupancy any dwelling, multi-family dwelling, dwelling unit, rooming house, rooming unit, lodging house, or lodging unit which does not comply with the applicable provisions of the Fire Prevention Sections of the City of Pontiac Building Code, and the following additional requirements for safety from fire.

H-441.0 — Storage of Flammable Liquids Prohibited. No dwelling, multi-family dwelling, dwelling unit, or rooming unit shall be located within a building containing any establishment handling, dispensing or storing flammable liquids with a flash point of 110 degrees Fahrenheit or lower.

H-442.0 — Cooking and Heating Equipment. All cooking and heating equipment, components, and accessories in every heating, cooking, and water heating device shall be maintained free from leaks and obstructions and kept functioning properly so as to be free from fire, health, and accident hazards. All installations and repairs shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the building code, or other laws or ordinances of the City of Pontiac and applicable thereto. Portable cooking equipment employing flame is prohibited.

H-443.0 — Storage Space and Multiple Dwellings. Locker room or storage space for the storage of belongings, goods and properties of the occupants of the dwelling which are of combustible material shall be protected and of fireproof construction. All dividing partitions shall be of noncombustible material. The entire storage area shall be equipped with adequate sprinkler system and so arranged to provide not less than one head for each 150 square feet for fraction thereof. Where space is divided into separate smaller compartments by new material other than open mesh screening, there shall not be not less than one head for each separate compartment. In lieu of the sprinkler system an approved and supervised and properly maintained automatic fire lamp system may be provided. The entire storage area and passageway leading to such areas shall be adequately lighted. Where space is divided into separate compartments with any material other than open mesh screening, there shall be provided a separate electrically illuminated light at the ceiling of each compartment. No material shall be piled closer to the ceiling of a storage space than 18 inches.

ARTICLE V
RESPONSIBILITIES OF OWNERS AND OCCUPANTS

Section H-500.0 SCOPE

Owners and occupants of dwellings, multi-family dwellings, and dwelling units, and owners or operators of rooming houses shall not let or permit to be occupied for the purpose of living, cooking, eating or sleeping therein which does not comply with the requirements of this ordinance.

Responsibilities of Owners

H-501.0 — Cleanliness. Every owner of a dwelling unit shall keep that part of the dwelling unit and premises thereof which he occupies, controls or uses, in a clean and sanitary condition.

H-502.0 — Disposal of Rubbish. Every owner of a dwelling unit shall dispose of all his rubbish in a clean and sanitary manner in accordance with Section H-404 and the Garbage and Rubbish Ordinance of the City of Pontiac.

H-503.0 — Disposal of Garbage. Every owner of a dwelling unit shall dispose of his garbage in a clean and sanitary manner by placing it in the garbage disposal facilities as required by Section H-405 and the Garbage and Rubbish Ordinance of the City of Pontiac.

H-504.0 — Disposal Facilities for Multiple Dwellings. Every owner or operator of a dwelling shall provide adequate and proper garbage and refuse storage containers or facilities. If storage containers are used, the owner shall be responsible for the emptying of the same at least once each week.

H-505.0 — Use and Operation of Supplied Plumbing Fixtures. Every owner of a dwelling unit shall keep the supplied plumbing fixtures therein clean and sanitary and shall be responsible for the exercise of reasonable care in their proper use and operation.

H-506.0 — Extermination of Insects. Every owner of a dwelling shall exterminate any insects, rodents or other pests in a single family dwelling or any dwelling unit if the infestation is caused by his failure to maintain the dwelling or dwelling unit in a reasonably rodent-proof and insect-proof condition; and exterminate any insects, rodents or other pests infesting a dwelling which contains two or more dwelling units.

H-507.0 — Shared or Public Areas. Every owner of a dwelling shall maintain in a clean, sanitary and safe condition the shared or public areas of the dwelling or premises, and maintain and repair any equipment of a type specified in this Code which he supplies or is required to supply.

H-508.0 — Screens. Every owner of a dwelling shall hang and remove all screens which have to be put in place from the outside on those dwelling units located above the first story.

H-509.0 — Occupancy of Vacant Dwelling Unit. No owner or operator of a dwelling shall let or lease to any person for occupancy a vacant dwelling unit unless it is safe, clean and in good repair and fit for human occupancy and complies with all of the applicable provisions of this Code.

H-510.0 — Maintenance Responsibilities. Every owner or operator of a dwelling shall maintain every dwelling and all the parts thereof, including but not limited to plumbing, heating, ventilating and electrical wiring in good repair. The roof shall be so maintained as not to leak and the rain water shall be drained and conveyed therefrom through proper conduits.

H-512.0 — Supervision and Safety Provisions. In any multiple dwelling housing any more than six families in which the owner thereof does not reside, there shall be a responsible occupant designated by the owner who shall be responsible for maintenance or supervision thereof.

Responsibilities of the Occupants

H-520.0 — Cleanliness. Every occupant shall keep that part of the dwelling or dwelling unit which he occupies and controls in a clean, sanitary, and safe condition.

H-521.0 — Rubbish and Garbage. Every occupant shall dispose of his rubbish and garbage by placing it in the proper container or by otherwise disposing of it as required by Section H-404 and 405 of this Code and the Garbage and Rubbish Ordinance of the City of Pontiac. Occupants of single and two family dwellings using storage containers shall furnish the same and have the garbage containers emptied at least once each week.

H-522.0 Screens. Every occupant shall hang and remove all screens required for his dwelling unit by this Code except those the owner is required to hang as provided in Section 508.0 of this Code.

H-523.0 — Extermination of Insects. Every occupant shall exterminate any insects, rodents or other pests infesting his dwelling unit unless the owner is required to exterminate them as provided in section H-506 of this Code.

H-524.0 — Use and Operation of Supplied Plumbing Fixtures. Every occupant of a dwelling unit shall keep the supplied plumbing fixtures therein clean and sanitary and shall be responsible for the exercise of reasonable care in their proper use and operation.

H-525.0 — Installation and Care of Plumbing Fixtures Furnished by Occupant. Every plumbing fixture furnished by the occupant of a dwelling unit shall be properly installed and shall be maintained in good working condition, kept clean and sanitary, and free of defects, leaks or obstructions.

H-526.0 — Sub-Letting or Sub-Leasing. No occupant shall sub-let or sub-lease any portion of the dwelling or dwelling unit which he occupies in such a manner that this further letting violates any of the provisions of this Code.

Article VI Enforcement

Section H-620.0 SCOPE

It shall be the duty and responsibility of the Director of the Division of Housing and Code Enforcement of the City of Pontiac and his authorized assistants and subordinates, hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "Housing Official" to enforce the provisions of the Housing Code as herein provided. The Chief of the Fire Prevention Bureau and his authorized assistants and subordinates shall be authorized to enforce the provision of this ordinance relative to multiple dwellings.

H-620.1 — Coordination of Enforcement. Inspection of premises and the issuing of orders in connection therewith under the provisions of this code shall be the exclusive responsibility of the Director of the Division of Housing and Code Enforcement, of the Department of Planning and Urban Renewal of the municipality, and his authorized assistants and subordinates. Wherever, in the opinion of this Division, it is necessary or desirable to have inspections of any condition by any other department they shall arrange for this to be done in such manner that the owners or occupants of buildings shall not be subjected to visits by numerous inspectors nor to multiple or conflicting orders. No order for correction of any violation under this code shall be issued without the approval of the Director of the Division of Housing and Code Enforcement, and it shall be the responsibility of the official before issuing any such order to determine that it has the concurrence of any other department or official of the municipality concerned with any matter involved on the case in question.

H-620.2 — Administrative Liability. Except as may otherwise be provided by statute or local law or ordinance, no officer, agent, or employee of the municipality charged with the enforcement of the Housing Code shall render himself personally liable for any damage that may accrue to persons or property as a result of any act required or permitted in the discharge of his duties under this code. No person who institutes, or assists in the prosecution of a criminal proceeding under this code shall be liable to damages hereunder unless he acted with actual malice and without reasonable grounds for believing that the person accused or prosecuted was guilty of an unlawful act or omission. Any suit brought against any officer, agent, or employee of the municipality, as a result of any act required or permitted in the discharge of his duties under this code, shall be defended by the legal representative of the municipality or counsel furnished by the municipality until the final determination of the proceedings therein.

H-620.3 — Conflict with Other Ordinances. Except as provided in Section H-212.0, in any case where a provision of this code is found to be in conflict with a provision of any zoning, building, fire, safety, or health ordinance or code of this municipality existing on the effective date of this code, the provision which establishes the higher standard for the promotion and protection of the safety and health of the people shall prevail. In any case where a provision of this code is found to be in conflict with a provision of any other ordinance or code of this municipality existing on the effective date of this code which establishes a lower standard for the promotion and protection of safety and health of the people, the provisions of this code shall prevail, and such other ordinances or codes are hereby declared to be repealed to the extent that they may be found in conflict with this code. Ordinance No. 1127 of the City of Pontiac, as amended, is repealed only to the extent its substantive provisions may be in conflict herewith, and no remedy provided therein is repealed by this ordinance.

H-620.4 — Penalty for Violations. Every person, firm, or corporation who shall violate any provision of this code shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars and costs of prosecution, or by imprisonment not to exceed ninety days, or both said fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court. Each day that a violation continues after due notice has been served in accordance with the terms and provisions hereof shall be deemed a separate offense.

H-620.5 — Severability. If any section, sub-section, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this code shall be declared invalid for any reason whatsoever, such decision shall not affect the remaining portions of this code which shall continue in full force and effect; and to this end the provisions of this code are hereby declared to be severable.

H-620.61 — Saving Clause. This code shall not affect violations of any other ordinance, code or regulation for the municipality existing prior to the effective date hereof and any such violation shall be governed and shall continue to be punishable to the full extent of the law under the provisions of those ordinances, codes or regulations in effect at the time the violation was committed.

H-620.7 — Liens. In any case arising under the terms of this Code in which a violation exists which presents a serious and immediate hazard to public health or safety and the person responsible neglects or refuses to take corrective action, the enforcement officer or his agent is authorized to enter upon the property in question and abate the hazardous condition by whatever action is necessary. In cases in which such action is taken, the cost thereof shall be borne by the responsible party under the terms of this Code. If this cost is not paid, it shall be a lien upon the real property upon which the violation existed. In such case, the enforcement officer shall report to the legal representative the amount of the lien, the legal description of the property, and the responsible party. The legal representative shall file a notice of the existence of the lien with the Register of Deeds and is authorized to maintain an action at law for the collection thereof, either from the responsible party under the terms hereof or against said property as a special assessment.

H-620.8 — Lis Pendens. In any case in which a notice has been issued under the terms of Article II of this code, a notice thereof in the form of a Lis Pendens notice, may be filed with the Register of Deeds for Oakland County, in regard to the parcel of property on which the violation is located. Said notice shall contain the legal description of the subject property shall recite the nature of the violation, and contain information as to where further information can be obtained.

This ordinance will take effect ten (10) days from and after its final passage by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac.

Made and passed by the Commission of the City of Pontiac on the . . . . day of . . . . ., 1969.

'Like Obituary' Says Golf Classic Director

Sponsoring any major event in sports or entertainment today is costly and a sure risk; and a $100,000 golf tournament is a major sponsorship despite the attitude of the touring pros.

There was a time not too long ago that a $50,000 purse for a golf tournament was the big event on the pro golf tour.

Today, many of the big names of the tour snub many of the $100,000 events and leave a tournament like the Michigan Golf Classic in the hands of the "rabbits" as the golfers are known who manage to get a little bite of the prize money behind the top 50 winners.

They are even in the process of setting up a "sattelite" tour to let the no-namers get their share of the $6 million in sponsorship.

Only two of the top 20, sixteen of the top 50 and only 46 of the top 100 of the tour's best golfers were in the field.

What happened at Shenandoah in regard to withholding the purse because of "no funds" ought to be warning enough to the national golf organizations, the touring pros and the "sattellite" boosters.

MANY SHARE BLAME

There are a lot of people who must share the blame and there is no reason to bury tournament golf in Michigan because of what happened.

The Buick Open has for several years has neared the axe of death as a tour stop, because the top pros seem to come up with bad backs and sore shoulders at the same time each year, but the Buick people have continued sponsorhip as a vote of confidence and faith in the pro golf circuit.

We can't condone the Michigan Golf Classic Corporation's inability to stand behind its commitment, but we would also like to point out that for many months now, the elite of the touring pros have been biting the hands of the sponsors who have fed them since infancy. Now they have been bitte in return.

★ ★ ★

It is a shame it had to happen here in Michigan, one of the finest golf states in the country, a state which boosts some of the great courses in the land and an area which shows its loyalty to the game as evidenced by its leadership each year in the National Golf Day Foundation Fund.

When a sponsor comes up with a $100,000 event there's responsibility on both sides.

The sponsors should show financial ability or escrow, and the contracting golf representatives should produce the cast to make the production successful.

This was a PGA sponsored event, and it was contracted during the break with the APGA, which formed and later became known as the Tournament Players Division of the PGA under Commissioner Jeo Dey, Jr.

NO TOP NAMES

With hardly a top name in the field, one couldn't even give away tickets for the tournament at Shenandoah.

This shows the lack of faith and cooperation by the Tournament Players Division in its new affiliation with the PGA and it also gives the touring group something it deserves, a kick in the shins from golf fans as well as sponsors who shell out the money to see major league golf and not sattelite tournaments.

The sad part of this mess is that the scrambling young golfers trying to move into upper echelon of the sport are the ones who are the victims.

They were let down by the Nicklauses, Palmers, Players, Caspers, Hills, Trevinos, Littlers, Aarons, Sikeses, etc., whose back pains may have been caused by carrying their Monday morning deposits to the bank.

OFFICIALS AT FAULT

Of course, the Michigan Golf Classic officials can't be let off the hook at all.

The handling of the tournament from the day of its announcement was bush league all the way. They wanted to promote a champagne event with beer money.

★ ★ ★

The handwriting, as to the flop of the tournament, was on the wall from the day when the first press conference was held last December when only two press representatives attended.

As late as two weeks before the tournament, when the same two Detroit writers had the only knowledge of a press conference being held, newsmen from the other areas of the state were calling our department at The Press being the most local paper to the site, to find out the where's and the what's of the tournament.

We were able to give them and the many fans who called the dates and the directions to Shenandoah but not too much more.

Certainly, golf in Michigan has been embarrassed, but let's divide the fault with the sponsors of the tournament, the National PGA and its Tournament Players Division.

★ ★ ★

There have been many great tournaments held in Michigan and our state still deserves some of the best, if and when the touring pros get off their high horses to pick up $100,000 cash purses and not treat them as if they were a bag of crumbs, reserved for their "satellites."

As William L. Mainland, an Oakland County supervisor from Milford stated, but was incorrectly quoted in a Detroit report, "If the audit showed that this could be salvaged, to save our area from a black eye, it would seem like the proper thing for all sports people and friends of golf to bail this thing out."

We would agree with Mr. Mainland and we would applaud if the Michigan Section of the PGA and the members of the Michigan Golf Association, neither of which carries any blame in the mess, would provide the leadership in this thought.

Two Members of Golf Group Fire Volleys

By FLETCHER SPEARS

"It's a little like getting up and reading your own obituary," said Marshall Chambers as he discussed the latest round in the $100,000 Michigan Golf Classic, an event that became the golf goof Sunday when sponsors revealed there wasn't enough cash in the kitty to pay the players.

That was Chambers' reaction to criticism leveled at him yesterday for his role in the Golf Classic by Phillip Lachman of Birmingham, treasurer of Michigan Golf Classic, Inc., (MGC) sponsor of the event.

★ ★ ★

Chambers served as executive director for the tournament, a paid employee of MGC, which lists as its president, John Brennan, manager of Oakland Hills Country Club.

"They've got to find a scapegoat," says Chambers of Lachman and Brennan, who are faced with the responsibility of coming up with $100,000 to pay off the players.

'HOLDING BAG'

"I think I'm left holding the bag. Lachman has no recourse. He knew what was gonig on because he was appraised of everything," said Chambers.

★ ★ ★

At a press conference yesterday, Lachman heaped blame on Chambers, whose duties included promotion and other arrangements for the event. Lachman was to handle the financial end of it.

"I've been trying very hard to keep my cool," said Lachman, owner of a Detroit trophy house. "I've been taken by a terrific smoothie," he added.

★ ★ ★

The day-to-day operation of the tournament was Chambers' responsibility. The tournament failed to draw, for a myriad of reasons, and thus fizzled at the gate. Some estimates placed the four-day attendance at less than 10,000.

Consequently, Larry Ziegler, the 30-year-old Missourian who won the tournament in a sudden-death playoff over Homero Blancas, became the most surprised person around—for two reasons.

THREE-YEAR LEASE

He was surprised he won, and taken aback that he won nothing more than a trophy and a three-year lease on a new car. The first prize was supposed to be $20,000.

★ ★ ★

Chambers did say he felt Lachman could have paid off Sunday and avoided the public laundry washing.

"I think he could have paid off then. It's my understanding he was so advised by his friends and attorney. He could

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Los Angeles outfielder Willie Davis, who broke the all-time Dodger team record by hitting safely in 31 consecutive games, Monday was selected the National League's "Player of the Month" for August. Davis' batting average during August was .459.

START OF DOUBLE PLAY — Yankee shortstop Gene Michaels (17) is already out at second as Tiger shortstop Cesar Gutierrez starts the relay to first to get Joe Pepitone. Bill Freehan was playing first base in the game last night won by the Yankees at Tiger Stadium, 3-2.

'Stick' Pokes Big Singles Over Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Gene Michael is nicknamed "stick" because of his lanky appearance. But although the name is appropriate, the reason is obsolete.

Michael, always regarded as a fine glove man, poked in two New York runs with singles as the Yankees trimmed the Detroit Tigers 3-2 Monday night behind Mike Kekich's pitching.

★ ★ ★

The teams were to meet again tonight with Mike Kilkenny, 4-5, pitching for Detroit against New York's Fritz Peterson, 15-13.

★ ★ ★

"It's probably the most amazing thing I can think of," said Yankee manager Ralph Houk of Michael's hitting. Houk gave him the shortstop job earlier in the year primarily because of his his fielding ability and just prior to an injury to Tom Tresh, who has since been traded to Detroit.

★ ★ ★

"Before Tresh was injured Houk told me 'You're the shortstop until you play yourself out,'" Michael said in the dressing room.

SCHOOL TEACHER

At the start of the season the 31-year-old Ohioan, who is a school teacher in the off season, had an anemic major league average of .196. He broke into the big leagues with Pittsburgh in 1966 and played with Los Angeles the next year before being obtained by New York in winter of 1967.

Orlick in Defense of Brennan

PGA Official Backs Promoter

A national PGA official has rushed to the defense of one of the embattled promoters of the Michigan Golf Classic.

"I have every confidence in John Brennan as a man of integrity," said Orlick, national secretary of the Professional Golfers Association, "and the other two, also. I don't think they would do anything that would reflect adversely on golf."

When the $100,000 tournament closed, there wasn't enough money to pay the bills, creating a situation more like a Michigan Golf Comedy.

HEAD ORGANIZATION

Michigan Golf Classic, Inc., was the sponsor. Brennan, of Birmingham, is president of the organization and Phil Lachman, also of Birmingham, the treasurer. Marshall Chambers of Bloomfield Hills was executive director for the event.

★ ★ ★

"I've known Brennan a long time," said Orlick. "He's such a person of high caliber. I have every reason to believe they will clear up a situation that seems to be out of order.

NO DOUBTS

"I have to believe it's nothing more than getting their facts and figures together to see where they stand. I'm sure the players will be quickly paid."

★ ★ ★

None of the purse money was distributed. Larry Ziegler of Missouri, winner of the event, was the biggest loser . . . at least until all is settled. He was supposed to collect $20,000.

Shenandoah Golf & country Club only leased its facilities to Michigan Golf Classic Inc. but the association has brought the club some undue criticism.

It prompted officials of the club to issue this word last night.

NO INVOLVEMENT

"After a conversation with Mr. Joe Dey Jr., commissioner of the tournament players division of the PGA, we are issuing the following statement:

★ ★ ★

"Shenandoah Golf & Country Club leased its golf course to Michigan Golf Classic Inc., but had no involvement in the financing of the Michigan Golf Classic. Shenandoah was merely the host club and its members assisted on a voluntary basis. No member or officers of Shenandoah were promotors, officers or directors of the Michigan Golf Classic Inc. Shenandoah Golf & CC along with the PGA regrets the turn of events at the Michigan Golf Classic."

The statement was signed Shenandoah Golf & Country Club. The club leased the course to the sponsors of the event for $15,000, an amount which is in escrow. The sponsors still own some money to the club for such services as food, drinks, etc. for the week. Officials said, however, the final tab on these items was not complete and that no bill had been presented to Michigan Golf Classic Inc. to date.

Greatest Tiger Team Honors Set Sept. 21

The living members of the Greatest Detroit Tiger Team will be honored Sunday, Sept. 21 at a pregame ceremony at Tiger Stadium. The team was selected in votes by Michigan fans in connection with baseball's centennial celebration.

Those to be saluted in person are Charley Gehringer, Hank Greenberg, Al Kaline, George Kell, Denny McLain, Hal Newhouser, and Billy Rogell. Deceased members of the team are Ty Cobb, Mickey Cochrane and Harry Heilmann.

Spanish Netter Upsets Dutch Ace in Pro Meet

EVANSTON, Ill (AP) — Andres Gimeno of Spain upset third-seeded Tom Okker of Holland Monday night in the opening round of the $25,000 Planters Chicago Pro Tennis Championships at Northwestern University.

Because of rain delays at the U.S. Open Championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., several of the top players, including topseeded John Newcombe and second-seeded Tony Roche, both of Australia, were unavailable for the opening round of the four-day tournament.

Gimeno defeated Okker 7-5, 4-6, 6-2 and Butch Buchholz of St. Louis, the No. 7 seed, downed Nickie Pilic of Yugoslavia 8-6, 4-6, 6-2.

Dow Jones Nearing 800 Mark

Market Continues to Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to sag in fairly active trading early today, with declines leading advances by a more than 2 to 1 margin.

The Dow Jones industrial average at 10:30 a.m. was off 2.31 at 809.53.

* * *

Declines led advances by 341 issues.

An 18,600-share block of International Salt was traded at 44½, off ¼, and a 15,000-share block traded at 44¾, unchanged.

Early block trades included:

American Telephone & Telegraph, 7,200 shares, at 51⅛ off ⅛, Atlantic Richfield, 3,300, at 110 unchanged; Natomas, 7,400 at 97½ up 1¾; and Anaconda, 5,600, at 27½, unchanged.

Opening prices included:

Evans Products, off 1¼ at 44 on 55,100 shares; Occidental Petroleum, off ⅝ at 27¾, 27,500 shares; Magnavox, off ½ at 46½, on 9,500 shares; Gillette Co., off ⅛ at 49½, on 9,000 shares; and City Investing, off ¾ at 26⅛, on 8,500 shares.

Continuing its decline of the previous week, the market retreated on a broad front Monday, with the Dow Jones industrial average losing 7.66 to 811.84. The Associated Press 60-stock average lost 2.8 to 285.4.

* * *

Some analysts felt investors were reluctant to buy and waiting to see if the market would test the 800 level of the Dow industrial. The DJI set its year's low of 801.96 on July 29.

Prices were mostly lower on the American Stock Exchange.

Plan to Repeal Tax Credit Set

Senators Eye Fast End to Investment Benefit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the Senate Finance Committee have worked out a plan to complete action on repeal of the 7 per cent investment tax credit for business by the end of this month.

Their procedure involves lifting the investment credit repealer from the tax reform bill and attaching it to another House-passed measure extending the interest equalization tax. This is scheduled for Sept. 19.

President Nixon has urged Congress to extend the interest equalization tax, which expires Sept. 30, as part of the program to improve the U.S. international balance of payments position.

Thus the extension bill must be sent to Nixon and signed into law before that time.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., and Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., have worked out the procedure in order not to leave businessmen uncertain any longer about the fate of the investment credit.

They point out that, if the repealer were left as a part of the reform bill, there would be uncertainty for many months.

Many businessmen have protested the repeal of the investment credit, which amounts to a $3.3 billion annual tax benefit.

Under the credit, a company is permitted to subtract from its taxes due up to 7 per cent of its spending on new plants and equipment.

PASSED IN 1962

It was passed originally in 1962 but it has been criticized recently as a major contributor to inflation. Nixon has asked repeal.

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, at finance committee hearings last week, approved the idea of attaching the repealer to the equalization bill.

Under the plan, the finance committee would resist efforts to use the equalization measure as a vehicle for other tax amendments.

Some senators have voiced fears that removing so important a provision as the investment credit might jeopardize the chances of the reform bill itself.

But Williams, in an interview, scoffed at such views.

"I have never known the committee to refuse to report out a major bill sent to it, whether it involved taxes or Social Security or trade or any other big issue." he said.

"And we are going to report a tax reform bill. There is no doubt about it."

In general, the repeal is to be retroactive to April 18.

Profit-Sharing Big and Getting Bigger

By DAVID SMYTH
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK — Profit-sharing is big in the Western world and getting bigger. Five million employes are covered by a government-imposed profit-sharing system in France and at least six million are benefited by voluntary plans in the United States.

Some of the biggest companies in Great Britain, Canada, West Germany, Italy and Holland voluntarily give their employes a piece of the action under various profit-sharing schemes. Denmark has set up a national board to create the establishment of such voluntary plans. In Mexico profit-sharing has been compulsory since 1964.

The underdeveloped nations of the world also seem to be latching on to the idea. The Afro-Asian Organization for Economic Cooperation has recommended compulsory profit-sharing, 75 per cent to company shareholders and 25 per cent to employes.

The world leader in voluntary plans appears to be the United States, with more than 77,000 deferred plans at last count, and thousands of cash plans, which give out the profits periodically as they come in.

Big U.S. corporations tend to favor deferred plans, which postpone profit distributions to employes until they retire or leave. These plans give the employe a tax break, deferring tax payments, sometimes at lower capital gains rates. Cash distributions are liable for normal income tax.

A study by the Profit Sharing Research Foundation of Evanston, Ill. indicates that cash plans are two to three more times more popular among firms with 19 employes or less. Deferred plans are twice as popular as cash plans among businesses with 20 employes or more. One reason for this could be that cash distributions boost morale in outfits small enough for the individual to see the results of his efforts.

* * *

The same study concludes that one out of every five American businesses with 50 employes or more has a profit-sharing plan of some kind, and the proportion is steadily rising toward one in every four.

The foundation's survey concludes that 75 to 80 per cent of profit-sharing plans covering unionized workers in the United States may be considered successes. The percentage is somewhat higher for firms with nonunionized personnel.

Labor unions traditionally have been hostle or indifferent to profit-sharing plans but the foundation says union attitudes are now "in flux." However, management and labor are both found to be reluctant to include profit-sharing in collective labor agreements.

A notable exception was the landmark labor contract signed in 1961 by the American Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers, covering 25,000 workers. The agreement provided that one-third of the profits to be shared should be used to buy American Motors stock for employes and the other two-thirds to improve insurance and pension programs.

Profit-sharing can add up to substantial amounts for individual employes. A secretary at the Signode Steel Strapping Co. in Chicago for example retired in 1960 after 19 years in the Signode profit-sharing plan with $35,000 in cash and Signode stock.

The oldest existing profit-sharing plan in the United States is perhaps the Procter & Gamble plan begun in 1887. Other pioneering plans include Eastman Kodak, 1912 and Sears, Roebuck & Co., 1916. The Sears Roebuck plan alone has 200,000 members.

The profit-sharing movement is almost as old as the United States itself. Albert Gallatin, secretary of the Treasury under Presidents Thomas Jefferson and James Madison, instituted the first profit-sharing plan in the country in 1797 at his Pennsylvania Glass Works. His object, he said, was to ensure that "the democratic principle on which our nation was founded should not be restricted to the political processes but should be applied to the industrial operation as well."

Dividend Is Set

The board of directors of Higbie Manufacturing Co. of Rochester today declared a regular quarterly dividend of 20 cents per share on the $1.00 per value common stock of the company payable November 1, 1969 to stockholders of record Oct. 15, 1969.

Waterford Firm Buys a Building

Cross Realty & Investment Co., 4313 Walton, Waterford Township, today announced purchase of the former R. L. Campbell Real Estate office building in Royal Oak.

The building has been set up as a branch office for the Waterford real estate firm. William E. Gilbert of Royal Oak recently was named president and general sales manager of the firm.

Why Do You Read So Slowly?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique of rapid reading which should enable you to increase your reading speed and remember more. Most people do not realize how fast, accurate reading can bring pleasure and success in everything they attempt to do.

According to this publisher, most people, regardless of their present reading skill, can use this method to improve their reading ability to a remarkable degree. Whether reading stories, books, or technical matter, it becomes possible to read long sentences at a glance . . . entire pages in seconds.

HERE'S HOW IT LOOKS — This is a NASA model of a plane with a new boomerang-shaped wing, which may increase the speed of subsonic commercial jet transport planes about 100 miles an hour. The new wing, mounted above the fuselage, would reduce drag and buffeting. Tests will begin next year under a contract announced by NASA yesterday.

Pact Let on 'Boomerang' Wing

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A new boomerang-shaped wing may enable jetliners of the mid-1970s to fly 100 miles an hour faster than their present cruising speed.

Tests on the wing are scheduled to start at this desert research center next year.

★ ★ ★

A 1.8-million contract announced by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Monday calls for fitting a Navy F8A jet with the radically different wing expected to boost cruising speed to just under the speed of sound—660 m.p.h. at 45,000 feet—without increasing fuel consumption.

A NASA spokesman said the modified F8A should be ready to begin a two-year flight-test program late in 1970 and that passenger liners with the new wing could be in service by 1974.

CURVED ON BOTTOM

The back-swept wing, which looks like a boomerang fixed to the top of an ordinary fuselage, is flat on the top side and curved on the bottom—just the opposite of the wings on today's airliners.

★ ★ ★

Because the wing is attached to the top instead of the bottom of the fuselage, window seats will have an unobstructed view, but this is not the real purpose of the weird design.

★ ★ ★

Primarily, the new shape was engineered to reduce drag and buffeting and thus increase efficiency, which translates into greater range, payload and speed.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman estimated the gain in efficiency at about 25 per cent. This would increase speed more than 100 m.p.h. beyond the 530 m.p.h. limit of most current airliners. He said some airlines might choose to increase payload rather than speed, and thus cut fares.

FARTHER TO REAR

The odd shape has the effect of moving farther to the rear of the plane the "supercritical" point where shock waves develop in the stream of air flowing around it.
