50 Top Planning, Governmental and Highway Officials Meet in Pontiac

Outline City Transportation Study

Plans for an intensive study of way officials from this area and Associates, of Birmingham, has been retained by the city to bring planning up-to-date and to do general city planning work, including land use studies and population estimates.

Golfers at Merchants' Outing

THE BEST CAME LATER — Luke Martin, merchandiser at Waite's Department Store, prepares to drive from the first tee at the Pontiac Retail Merchants Association's annual "Frolie" yesterday at Pontiac Country Club. Martin's top golfing thrill came on the 135-yard second hole when he sank a hole-in-one with a six-iron. Looking on are (left to right) Russ Woodbury, Chuck Henderson and Bob Weddle, who were witnesses to Luke's ace.

The Downtown Pontiac Assn. has provided $17,442 to pay for the study. It is expected to be completed in six months.

City officials propose to use the transportation study as a basis of long-term planning for improvement of the city's major thoroughfares and all other forms of transportation.

PLAN CONNECTING LINKS

Many of the routes to be examined will be connecting links between Pontiac and neighboring areas. State and county officials were urged to work closely with the city in developing the plan.

Studies will also be made to determine which of the proposed routes for the interstate expressway would best serve the city's interest.

One of the purposes of the study, stated Mayor William W. Donaldson, is to make the downtown business district more attractive so that more trade will be received from surrounding areas.

The consultant firms will study location of routes to the city's central business district, facilities for diverting crosstown travel around the district, general location and quantity of parking facilities and any special facilities for pedestrians.

Later studies to be made will deal with traffic control and one-way systems within the downtown district, exact location of parking units and design of parking facilities.

Harold A. Fitzgerald, vice president of the Downtown Pontiac Assn., revealed that the organization has received pledges of $40,000 for the transportation studies.

FBI Holds Alien Named as Reds' Top-Rated Spy

Abel Nabbed in Texas, Faces Espionage Trial in New York

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—A thin, balding alien, accused of being a top-ranking Soviet spy who specialized in atomic and military secrets, was held here today for return to New York, where he quietly posed as an artist for nine years.

Rudolf Ivanovich Abel, 55, a colonel of Russian Intelligence, was arraigned here yesterday on espionage charges returned in a federal grand jury indictment in Brooklyn.

He is the highest ranking Red agent ever accused of spying for Russia in this country.

Abel, who entered the United States from Canada in 1948, was being held for deportation in the nearby McAllen (Tex.) Detention Camp for Aliens when the indictment was returned yesterday.

He had been held only as an illegal alien under the name of Emil R. Goldfus, an alias he assumed while working as an obscure photographic artist in Brooklyn.

The government claimed in the event of war, Abel was set up in (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Defense Post Nominee

NEIL N. McELROY

McElroy Expected to Win Swift Senate Confirmation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders said today that Neil H. McElroy, soap company executive, should win speedy confirmation as secretary of defense.

But he must wait at least a week and agree to dispose of his holdings in some corporations that now have defense and government contracts.

The nomination of McElroy, 52, president of Procter & Gamble Co., went to the Senate yesterday afternoon a few hours after President Eisenhower had described him as "one of the most capable men and the highest type of people that I know in the country."

He succeeds Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, 67, whose formal resignation was sent to the White House.

"He's a fine man," Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), Senate Republican leader, said of McElroy. "As far as I know there will be no trouble about confirmation."

No date was announced for McElroy's taking over the post, but in Cincinnati McElroy said it probably would be a couple of months.

McElroy is a director of both General Electric and Chrysler Corp., large defense contractors, and must dispose of those interests.

Weakened Bill Sent to House for Compromise

Ike's Veto Threatened if Jury Trial Provision Isn't Revised

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 72-18 Senate vote returned the civil rights bill to the House today amid reports President Eisenhower will call Congress back in November unless he gets a measure he feels he can sign.

The Senate's jury trial version of the bill was roundly condemned by civil rights advocates, but they helped supply the votes for the historic passage of the measure last night.

It is the first of its kind approved by the Senate in more than 80 years.

The fate of the bill was uncertain in the House, which passed a measure much broader in scope and more stringent in enforcement provisions by a 286-126 vote June 18.

But some House members who had spoken out most bitterly against the Senate changes were starting to talk more of compromises, expressing hope they still could salvage a bill they could consider worthwhile.

Because of the uncertainties, Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California told a reporter it was "too early to say" whether a special civil rights session might be called in November.

State Solons Vote Yes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan's two U. S. senators, Patrick McNamara (D) and Charles Potter (R), both voted with the majority last night for passage of the civil rights bill.

Other senators said Knowland had told the Senate Republican Policy Committee in a closed meeting that a special session is a definite possibility if the Senate's version of the bill is not amended to conform more nearly to Eisenhower's wishes. Either the House or a Senate-House conference committee could make the changes, but in either case the Senate would have to approve later.

Eisenhower declined at his news conference yesterday to shed any light on a possible veto. But responsible administration officials have said he will reject the measure if the jury trial provision inserted by the Senate is not revised.

Any such veto would be likely to be accompanied by the announcement of a new civil rights bill. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Senators to Quiz Gangster Dio on His Relationship With Hoffa

WASHINGTON (INS)—Gangster Johnny Dio headed today into a Senate firing line manned by investigators armed with charges of hoodlumism, collusion, bribery and intimidation.

Senate racketeers hoped to learn from the twice-convicted Dio, himself, how he infiltrated pawns and pirates into the New York Teamsters set up in an alleged power grab with James R. Hoffa.

TESTIMONY UNLIKELY
There appeared little likelihood, however, that Dio, convicted of extortion and of conspiracy in a bribery case, would say anything beyond: "I invoke the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination."

Dio, No. 2 target in the committee's expose of New York labor graft, left a quiet Tombs Prison cell in New York, where he is serving a term for extortion, for the garishly lighted, widely televised Senate hearing room in the nation's capital.

The No. 1 target, Midwestern Teamsters boss Hoffa, was expected to debut before the Senate racketeers squad next week.

Senators, who for the past week have listened to tales of Dio's avarice and contempt for the workers he supposedly represented, hoped to pry more deeply into the Dio-Hoffa relationship.

Two witnesses have documented "protection" payments made by New York employers to Dio's Equitable Research Association in an effort to maintain labor peace and to prevent the signing of union contracts that would pay illiterate Puerto Ricans and Negroes a living wage.

Other witnesses have described Dio and Hoffa as the architects of a massive "paper" local structure erected in an effort to gain voting control of all-powerful New York Teamsters Joint Council 16.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said: "Dio will be asked primarily about the transfer of his locals and his people into Teamsters locals at the end of 1955 for the purpose of voting in the election in 1956."

"We will want to know who arranged it, what conversations were had, who he talked with and whether he discussed it before or after Hoffa's telephone call to Mohn."

The counsel's reference was to a call made by Hoffa to Teamsters Vice President Einar Mohn, allegedly instructing him to grant a charter to one of the "paper" locals.

Merrill Hermanson of Scarsdale, N. Y., a Christmas ornament manufacturer, told the committee yesterday he hired Dio's outfit for protection against labor strife.

Warm Tonight, Warmer Friday

Following generally fair and warm weather today and tonight, the U. S. Weather Bureau says Pontiac area residents can expect partly cloudy and warmer weather tomorrow.

The low tonight will be 66-70 and the high tomorrow, 90-94. The lowest temperature reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 66. At 1 p.m. the thermometer registered 84.

'New Type' Light Bill $1,286.80

Progress Costly for Them
NEW YORK (INS)—A Long Island cement company executive hasn't much faith in electronic computing machines.

Raymond Carr, 50, of Floral Park, L. I., received a bill from the Long Island Lighting Co. of $1,286.80 for electric power in July. Carr, who lives with his son, usually gets a monthly bill for under $20.

Along with the bill came a brochure from the company entitled "Facts About Your New Type of Bill." It told of installation of computing machines to calculate the bills. Carr and son prefer the old type bills.

Consumers Power Says Heating Gas Unavailable

Gas for additional space heating in the Pontiac area is still unavailable, Edward Karkau, district manager of the Consumers Power Co. said today.

His statement came on the heels of an announcement by the State Public Service Commission that it is taking steps to withdraw from the field of control over public utility sales of gas for space heating.

Otis Smith, chairman of the commission, said that the commission will proceed by ordering six distributing utilities to show cause why restrictions on gas for space heating should not be removed.

The order will be returnable in 60 days with hearings to follow.

Karkau stated that in the Pontiac area there is a backlog of 35,211 applications from homeowners seeking gas for heating purposes.

The following companies will be cited by the commission: Consumers Power Co., which has a waiting list of 174,000 applications; Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., which this week was authorized to add 80,000 space heating customers; Citizens Gas Co., Adrian; Michigan Gas Utilities Co., which services Monroe and Coldwater; Michigan Gas and Electric Co., which has principal operations in Niles, Dowagiac, Holland, Zeeland and Three Rivers.

3 OR 4 MAY ACT
Smith believes that three or four of the six companies will "avail themselves of the opportunity to move out from under restrictions" originally imposed during World War II.

But, he said, he is "sure" that Consumers will argue in favor of customer limitations by the state.

Restrictions on gas first were imposed by the federal government during the war. Most of the states entered the field shortly (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

East Orion Club Takes Honors With 4-H Parade Entry

WINNING FLOAT — East Orion 4-H Club members anticipated winning top prize in the 17th Annual Oakland County 4-H Club Fair float contest when they draped their float with a huge blue ribbon. The Lake Orion club won first place over 11 other entries last night. The float, shown above, featured the 4-H emblem and sheep owned by club members.

Kalamazoo May Subsidize Buses

Considers Taking Over Company and Leasing It Back to Owners

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A citizens advisory committee recommended today that the city of Kalamazoo take over the Kalamazoo City Lines, Inc., bus company after the manner of the so-called "Jackson Plan."

The city would take control of the company and lease it back to the original management with a possibility of future municipal subsidy to keep it in operation, if necessary.

Troubled for years by patronage losses, Kalamazoo City Lines faces serious financial problems although currently operating in the black.

Under the "Jackson Plan," the city would bypass the bus company tax payment. Any subsidy to follow would mean that taxpayers would be footing an underwriting of costs. The city of Jackson already has taken such a step in connection with its bus company.

Kalamazoo, population 85,000, has had the same experience as other American cities in trying to keep and maintain mass transportation.

Since 1947 bus company patronage here has fallen from 3,000,000 a year to barely 1,000,000. Fares have tripled, as have costs.

East Orion Wins 4-H Fair Prize

Event Enters Third Day With Dress Review, Talent Show Tonight

East Orion 4-H members won first place last night over 11 other entries in the parade of floats contest at the Oakland County 4-H Club fair which begins its third day today.

Champion of the pig scramble for the girls, ages 12 to 14 was Diane Waltman. Joe Kehoe, 11, of the Rochester Trailblazers Club, Rochester, won the title for the contest of boys from 12 to 14 years old. Dick Caron, 16, of the newly organized East Oxford Club, Oxford, caught the greased pig in the older boys contest.

More than 100 boys and girls scrambled for the greased-up porky. Each of the three winners won the pig they captured.

The second night of the fair had 3,000 attendance bringing the grand total to more than 5,500 for two of five scheduled days.

Second place in the float contest which carried a 1957 theme, "Grow With 4-H" went to the Busy Bee Club of Ortonville.

The Ortonville Wonderworkers club won third prize for their float.

Float judges Lynn Allen, County clerk; Rex Shepherd, of Detroit Edison Co.; and Clare Cummings, member of the county board of supervisors, gave honorable mention awards to the Galloway Lake club of Pontiac and the Variety 4-H club of Rochester.

Several of the floats are expected to participate in the parade August 27 held to celebrate Pontiac Motors' 50th Anniversary. The program is being planned by the Downtown Pontiac Merchants Assn. Other 4-H floats will also be selected to enter the Michigan State Fair held in Detroit at the end of the month.

Headlining tonight's program is a dress review scheduled for 8. The female members of the county clubs will take over when they display one of their homemaking talents by modeling garments they made.

Several boys were reported planning to enter the show and model sport shirts they created with the help of needle and thread.

A talent show will also be conducted at 8:45 p.m. Preceding the dress review, Roy Hess and his orchestra will perform at 7 and 4-H members will ride in a cavalcade of horses at 7:30.

Tomorrow morning judges will pick the winning hogs and sheep at 9 a.m. Beef and goat judging is scheduled for 1 as well as the beef showmanship contest.

Does the moon really exert an influence on crops? Should certain crops be planted according to the phases of the moon?

The belief that the moon affects the weather and that crops should be planted according to its phases is largely discredited today by astronomers—though many hold faithfully to the belief.

The moon does exert a powerful influence on the tides and on certain earthy functions, but it is not now thought to exert any appreciable influence on our daily weather.

The moon, interestingly, is the earth's only satellite. Some of the other eight planets we know of have more than one satellite. Jupiter, the largest planet, has twelve moons, and three of the planets have no satellites.

A halo around the moon indicates rain is probably on the way.

Deadline Today for Tax Payments

Today is the deadline for payment of 1957 city and school taxes. City Treasurer Walter A. Giddings said that starting tomorrow taxpayers will have to pay an additional one per cent collection fee.

On the first of each month, thereafter, an additional one per cent fee will be levied.

Senate Approves Civil Rights Bill

announcement that Congress will be called back to Washington this fall, these officials said. A special session call would be likely also, they added, if Congress decided not to act finally in this session.

No Republican senators voted against passage of the bill when the roll was called last night after nearly five weeks of debate. The 18 Democrats who voted against it were all Southerners except for Sen. Morse of Oregon.

Morse said he could not bring himself to vote "for a civil rights bill which bears little more than the title." Calling it an odoriferous corpse, he said it "raises hopes and expectations which will not be satisfied."

SOUTHERN ADVOCATES

Five senators from Southern states, all Democrats, voted for passage. They were Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader; Yarborough, of Texas; Kefauver and Gore of Tennessee; and Smathers of Florida.

In all, 43 Republicans and 25 Democrats voted for passage.

As it passed the Senate, the bill would authorize the attorney general to seek court injunctions to enforce minority voting rights. The House had voted for similar authority also to enforce civil rights in general but the Senate knocked this out of the measure.

The House rejected all proposals for jury trials. The Senate wrote into the bill a far-reaching provision for jury trials in any federal court criminal contempt case involving issuance of an injunction. Eisenhower said this would be "most damaging to the entire federal judiciary."

Criminal contempt generally arises from the desire of the judge to punish a defendant for disobeying a court order or for such delay in complying with it that the order becomes ineffective.

NEGROES ON JURIES

The Senate provided that juries in such cases must be open to the inclusion of Negro members.

Khrushchev Warns West, Urges Defeat of Adenauer

BERLIN (INS) — Nikita S. Khrushchev warned today that Soviet guided missiles could blast the United States with hydrogen bombs in a nuclear war for which, he charged, West Germany is preparing.

In a two-hour harangue before the East German puppet Parliament, the Soviet Communist Party boss lashed out with a litany of direct and indirect threats.

He called on the voters of West Germany to defeat Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his coalition in next month's general elections or risk the peril of atomic war. Adenauer, Khrushchev said, is preparing for such a war.

If it comes, he said, Britain and France would be atom-bombed and the U. S. the target of long-range Soviet missiles armed with H-bomb warheads.

Khrushchev said Russia and all other Communist states are ready to fight to defend Germany if need be. He made clear that his terms for a unified Germany are simply that it must be a Communist Germany. "A reunified Germany must be a peace-loving democratic state," Khrushchev said.

Khrushchev devoted the first half of his speech to boasts of growing unity in the Communist world. He claimed that his talks with Yugoslav President Tito last week achieved "a further contribution to the strengthening of the unity of the Socialist countries."

POLITICAL SPEECH

The second half was largely a political campaign speech against Adenauer and his pro-Western government although Khrushchev perhaps with tongue in cheek, denied that the Russians were interfering in West German internal affairs.

Khrushchev risked this political prediction:

"We are confident the working class (in West Germany) will raise its voice and stop the growing forces of militarism and the growing danger of war."

He compared Adenauer to Hitler, charging that the Chancellor is following the same kind of "policy of strength" that led to Hitler's downfall and to "enormous" suffering by the German people.

He accused Adenauer of being a

Brooklyn to receive sabotage instructions from Moscow.

WARTIME SCANDAL

Abel apparently was linked to a Kremlin master spy who was involved in the first big espionage scandal after World War II.

Four Russians were named as co-conspirators with Abel, but not as defendants. They included Vitali G. Pavlov, who headed a Russian secret police network based in the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, Canada. It was broken up in 1945 after the arrest of atomic-traitor Dr. Alan Nunn May.

The Canadian spy case led to the arrest and imprisonment in England of Dr. Klaus Fuchs, atomic scientist, and the arrest and execution in this country of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

Each was convicted of spying.

Abel was brought here under heavy guard from the detention camp for arraignment before U.S. Commissioner J. C. Hall. He was handcuffed to two FBI agents who hustled him past a crowd of spectators, photographers and newsmen. Two other officers stood guard.

At the hearing he readily signed a waiver allowing his return to New York, possibly today, to face the charges.

DEFECTION TO WEST

Exposure of the spy plot reportedly resulted from Reino Hayhanen's defection to the West. He was named as a co-conspirator in the Abel indictment and appeared yesterday before the grand jury.

Hayhanen was described as a trained Red espionage agent who spent six years in the United States.

Found in Abel's room at the Hotel Itham were cryptic notes, codes and the birth certificate of Emil R. Goldfus, a Manhattan infant who died in 1902.

In his studio—ironically located just across the street from the Brooklyn federal courthouse where he was indicted—government agents found maps of Baltimore, Chicago, New York, Long Island and other places.

The agents also said they found short-wave radios through which they claimed Abel got his orders from the Kremlin.

His activities as listed by the government followed the fictional spy pattern—microfilmed secrets transmitted to Russia in hollowed-out coins, pencils, bolts, cuff links and earrings.

Board Names L. R. Gare to Post of City Manager

BIRMINGHAM — Official confirmation of the appointment of L. R. (Dick) Gare, 54, as the new city manager will be made by commissioners Monday night.

In a special session this week the appointment was made elevating Gare from Department of Public Works superintendent to the post vacated by Harold K. Schone.

Gare was serving as acting city manager, a post he also held a year ago between Schone's arrival here and the resignation of Donald C. Egbert.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Gare served as assistant city engineer and later as engineer for the City of Dearborn, immediately after his graduation, in 1925. Following that he was city engineer at Ecorse before coming to Birmingham.

He entered the engineering department here and received the DPW position a few months ago. Commissioners were unanimous in their selection of Gare. In making public his appointment they said that Robert Kenning would continue in the post of assistant city manager.

Gare, with his wife Margaret, resides at 771 Wilmont. In commenting on the promotion Gare said he appreciates the confidence shown in him and will continue to do the best he possibly can for the city and residents of Birmingham.

Arraigned in Birmingham Municipal Court yesterday, Julius DeGrazia of Royal Oak was released on $300 bond to appear for trial on August 23 at 10 a.m.

DeGrazia faces charges of negligent homicide resulting from the accident two weeks ago, and the death of Howard C. Holah, former Birmingham Theater manager. After a crash at the Hunter-Bowers intersection.

Birmingham YMCA is asking residents to donate discarded tennis rackets and golf clubs to that organization, to further sports instructions in its summer camps. Persons having items they would donate are asked to contact the "Y" office for pickup.

Consumers Say Gas Unavailable

after, although generally speaking not as to industrial sales. "What we are trying to do," said Smith, "is to get the state out of the gas-rationing business. These restrictions were not of our making, but were asked for by the utilities to avoid harassment from homeowners."

"The commission feels very strongly that proper regulating philosophy would indicate that in an area such as this of procurement and supply it should return the prerogatives to industrial management," he said.

VERY OPTIMISTIC

Regarding Consumers and its heavy backlog of applications, Smith said, "The commission is very optimistic as to an improvement in its supply situation."

He doubted that Consumers would have gas available for more home heating during the coming winter. "But I have every reason to believe that the situation will improve in the near future," he said.

Smith admitted that the restrictions provide an "umbrella" under which companies can operate until the necessary supplies of gas for home heating are available.

Other communities served by Consumers include Flint, Saginaw, Lansing, Bay City, Jackson and Kalamazoo.

Dan E. Karna, president of Consumers, stated that the company is "serving all the gas space heating customers it can with the supply of gas now available. We do not intend to relax our efforts until everyone who wants to heat his home with gas can do so," he asserted.

Enforcement Officers See Help in Ruling

Michigan law enforcement officers were cheered by a recent ruling of the State's Supreme Court. They believe the ruling will be of material aid to them in many cases.

The State's highest court ruled that a witness' statement to police officers may be admitted as testimony in a case even though the witness will not repeat it during a court trial. Thus the "forgetfulness" of a witness in the future will not have as damaging an effect on the outcome of a case as it has in the past.

Perhaps, too, fewer witnesses will have faulty memories when they realize that their original statements may still be introduced.

Previously, the Supreme Court had held that witnesses' testimony introduced in a lower court could be used, even though they were unable to remember the facts when on the stand in a higher court. The new ruling follows the same line of reasoning but carries it further to include statements made to police officers.

U.N. Revision Needed

Sir WINSTON CHURCHILL told the American Bar Association meeting in London that improvements must be made in the United Nations if it is to maintain international peace and justice.

The former Prime Minister pointed out that new members have increased the General Assembly to 81 and that Great Power disputes have thrown increasing responsibility on the Assembly. "The shape of the U.N. has changed greatly from the original form and from the intention of its architects," he declared.

In disputes involving the free and Communist worlds, the single power veto in the Security Council nullifies any action. The result has been that the General Assembly, gradually has assumed wider powers and small nations have made increased use of bloc voting. Each member nation, no matter what size, has one vote.

Five per cent of the world's population can outvote 95 per cent. Half of the population of the world is represented by four delegates from the U. S., India, Soviet Russia and the United Kingdom. The other half is represented by 75 delegates.

Blocs have been formed along geographical, racial and religious lines and decisions have been made, as CHURCHILL says, "on grounds of enmity, opportunism or merely jealousy and petulance."

The United Nations is the world's best hope so far and it has done much. However, it appears to need a new system of voting and perhaps a revised charter.

THERE are many things worse than being an old maid. One of them, in quite a few cases, is being married.

State Plans to Study Pollution of Clinton

At last preliminary steps are being taken to determine what, if anything, Pontiac must do in regard to sewage disposal.

Last May the city's voters defeated a bond issue which would have financed an auxiliary disposal plant. This fact has been brought to the attention of the State Water Resources Commission.

So now the Commission, in cooperation with the State Health Department, will test the Clinton River during the next few months. If sufficient pollution is found to endanger communities lying along the river between Pontiac and Lake St. Clair, the Commission has the power to order the city to take steps to see that the pollution is reduced.

For the most part the pollution results from an overflow of untreated sewage which flows into the river when the facilities in Pontiac's sewage disposal plant prove inadequate. The city was advised back in 1951 to stop such overflows.

Since that time the capacity of the treatment plant has been increased, but the city's population has now grown to such an extent that the existing plant once more is inadequate. The State's findings will be awaited with interest. The promised tests are important to Pontiac taxpayers as well as to the residents of the down-river communities.

Pontiac is sure to be recognized at the ceremonies in connection with the dedication of the Mackinac Bridge next fall, just as it was in the ground breaking program on the same structure. That world famous span is in the area that was a part of the domain of Chief Pontiac, which extended from Lake Superior to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Appalachian Mountains to the Mississippi River. When this was brought to the attention of David Barnard Steinman, designer and builder of the bridge, he immediately grasped its significance. Besides being the world's greatest bridge expert, Mr. Steinman also is one of our nation's top Boy Scouters, and his keen eye can recognize a National Council pin across a large room.

An even half-dozen Pontiac area post offices have told me that they have to make up special bundles of "Pot-O-Gold" post cards on every outgoing mail.

A letter with a Pontiac postmark and signed,

On His Doorstep

David Lawrence Says:

Dems Have Planned Attack on Ike

WASHINGTON—Why is the obvious so often overlooked? This question might well be asked as one reads the many thousands of words being spoken and written about President Eisenhower's problems in dealing with Congress.

The obvious—that Congress is controlled by the Democratic party, while a Republican administration occupies the White House—is hardly ever stressed as the basic cause of the differences between the executive and legislative branches of the government nowadays.

But the ill effects of divided government cannot be suppressed. It is, for instance, the objective and goal of the Democrats to win the next elections—both Congressional and Presidential. Plainly, Dwight Eisenhower gives prestige to the Republican party. So the strategy of the Democrats is to see to it that Ike is discredited, ridiculed and sniped at, in order that his hold on the people may be broken down.

Speeches are prepared for Democratic members of Congress to issue, and a whole barrage of publicity comes from the Democratic headquarters each week aimed at the President personally.

The drive was begun months ago to give exaggerated emphasis to Ike's illnesses. When this didn't impress the public, the next step was to hammer away at his absences from the White House or his playing golf or taking vacations.

The statistics, of course, show that other Presidents—notably FDR—averaged more days per year away from the White House than Ike has. But the people are presumed to have forgotten this—if, indeed, it ever was stressed by the partisans of other days.

Next in importance in Democratic strategy is to spread the impression that Ike doesn't work on the job—that the man who took an oath to execute faithfully the duties of his office, the man who commanded one of the biggest armies in the world in the biggest war of all history, is so lacking in conscientiousness that he would play "white Rome burns."

The public reads about official visitors and ceremonies and golf playing, but little is available to the press on what any President does from morning to night—the telephone calls, the cablegrams, the secret messages, as well as the many memoranda on complex problems that come to him from numerous executive departments and agencies for decision in the unspectacular phases of everyday government.

Much of this detail at present is channeled through President Eisenhower's staff, but even four or five knotty problems a day are enough to make anybody want to get some relief from tension and make a break for the golf course.

What a cruel form of propaganda it is to deny the man in the White House an easing of his physical burdens by attempting to picture him before the public as lacking in fidelity to his job!

Some of the attack is cautiously and unctuously applied. The President, it is argued, is an honest man but he is "incredibly naive," or he is easily "imposed upon" or he is "bewildered" by his job due to "lack of experience." There have been many Presidents who have been imposed upon or misled.

Some of their official advisers in past administrations have gone to jail for fraudulent behavior. Tife public recognizes that no President can be responsible for the occasional misbehavior of his appointees. Eisenhower may not have enough experienced politicians on his staff, but at least they are an honest group of advisers.

When all the attacks are appraised, it must be said that, as of

Dr. William Brady Says:

Try Bellows Breathing for Weakness, Exhaustion

One who is very weak doesn't inflate his bellows. Hence his breathing is slow and shallow. His oxygen-carbon dioxide exchange is a fraction of what it should be. His entire metabolism is low—the rate of oxidation in the body.

What his condition calls for primarily is stimulation which stimulates depends on cause of the exhaustion or weakness. Fresh, strong, hot coffee is always good. Alcohol is only a narcotic and depressant.

Weakness or exhaustion from deprivation, starvation, or exposure to cold causes slow, shallow breathing which permits accumulation of blood in the splanchnic pool—the vast network of veins in the abdomen, capable of holding one-fourth of all the blood—stagnating so to speak, in the pool.

If the weakness or exhaustion continues, the venous blood next accumulates in the lower part of the chest cavity.

This congestion or stagnation of blood in the back or base of the lung is too often regarded as "pneumonia," especially when it occurs after a major operation—post-operative pneumonia.

Even if symptoms indicate some infection, the patient's principal trouble is still shallow breathing. Inhalations of carbon dioxide, 6 to 8 per cent mixed with air or oxygen, now constitute routine post-operative treatment to improve breathing, prevent hypostatic congestion of lungs, and hasten elimination of ether through the lungs.

A study of the anatomy and physiology of the valves in the veins may help you to appreciate how much good people derive from belly breathing. Required reading for the course is Columnette 21 of the Pocket Encyclopedia of Health, How to Breathe, for which send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

I recommend regular practice of the deep-breathing exercise for prevention and/or relief of varicose veins; menstrual difficulties; inability to relax and get to sleep at night; high blood pressure; chronic bronchitis, emphysema, bronchectasis, asthma, winter cough; chronic gall-bladder trouble; angina pectoris.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

(Copyright 1957)

The next election will not be decided on the issue of whether Ike played too much golf but on whether his administration was able to maintain the kind of conditions that permit Americans to play golf instead of poring over the casualty lists of their sons killed in action "on the Western front."

As a mother of two teenagers, I'm extremely interested in the problem of recreation for our youth. I thought perhaps outside dances on the Oakland Park tennis courts might solve this dilemma. This was tried a few years back and proved successful. Why not try it again? If we parents would cooperate and our City fathers would approve, perhaps our teenagers will be happy again.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Treats Cause and Cures Drinking

Hilda was cured of her liquor habit and without the use of drugs to nauseate her when she tasted whisky. We simply put out the inner "fire" that had driven her to use drunkenness as a fire escape. Put out the fire and chronic drunks no longer need their liquor.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case V-358: Hilda K., aged 29, is the drunken wife described yesterday.

"Dr. Crane, if only I could have a baby, I know I'd stop drinking," she vowed.

Her sterility had thus been one of the inner torments that had driven her to taverns.

For when a wife finds she cannot have a baby, then she will often develop a mania to become pregnant.

So I explained to Hilda that she might still become pregnant since the various medical tests by several doctors had revealed no organic obstacles to conception.

Recent medical research has revealed the simple fact that the ovulation (pregnancy) date in the female menstrual month is approximately the 15th day before the onset of the next period.

If a wife is on a 28-day cycle, then this 15th day from the next onset will mean the 13th from the last.

But if she is on a 35-day cycle, the 15th from the next would be the 20th from the last.

Suggests Prisoners Work to Beautify Roads in State

I'm glad to see Pontiac is finally starting to beautify its city streets. The flower boxes at the Courthouse certainly look nice and are a real improvement.

I wish something could be done about the boulevard on M-24 between Pontiac and Lake Orion. We have a nice double lane highway, but the center has grown up in weeds and looks awful. When I've been traveling through Southern states, I've noticed they make their prisoners work for them by doing gardening and road repairs, and Michigan should do the same thing. Let them work for their bread and butter instead of sitting around in jails doing nothing. It would save the state some money.

The boulevard could be made very attractive if some grass and trees were planted and taken care of. It would give our visitors a good impression of our county.

One Who Loves Beauty

Tells Background of Barber Poles

Someone wanted to know why barber poles are in front of barber shops. The barber pole with spiral stripes is a relic of the old days when barbers were also surgeons.

As early as the fifth century A.D. barbers in Rome extracted teeth, treated wounds and bled patients as part of their professional work. In those days few people could read, so pictures and emblems were used as signs. The red represented blood and the basin represented the vessel used to receive the blood.

Strangely it has been the barbers and not surgeons who have retained this ancient symbol of their profession. American barbers have omitted the basin and added a blue stripe.

'We're Not Ones to Judge Them'

Why kick against that 44-year-old man marrying the 11-year-old girl in the South? She may have the happiest life of all her friends. Who are others to judge what's right and what's wrong? Asks Same Law Be Used Here

I see in Detroit there is a new law whereby police can go on private parking property, such as drive-ins, and make arrests. In some drive-ins there is screaming, horn-blowing and racing of motors, and the dirty language some of the teenagers use is not fit for a dog to hear.

Fed Up

Residents in the neighborhood of drive-ins here in town have made many complaints, but nothing seems to be done. Maybe such a law as Detroit has would bring about a solution.

Under the law, a drive-in owner who doesn't do anything about disturbances can lose his license. Why wait? Clean up the mess now.

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in the nature.

Area Men to Receive U.S. Award

The national award of the American Seed Trade Assn. to be presented at a forthcoming meeting will go to Harm Drewes, plant breeder and superintendent of Eastern Research and Seed Breeding Station of the Ferry-Morse Seed Co., Rochester.

Announcement is made by directors for the Council of All America selections, sponsored by American Seed, that Drewes has been unanimously chosen to receive this year's silver medalion of honor for horticultural achievement.

The council decided that "Mr. Drewes' breeding work, especially in spinach, cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli has been a great contribution to gardening, to the American seed industry and the AAS."

Besides developing important new cabbage varieties he cooperated in the successful seed production of snowball types of cauliflower in the U. S. and in the breeding of special cauliflower strains.

Drewes is the author of several special bulletins written for Michigan State University and is past president of AAS, and member of the American Society for Horticultural Science, as well as other national and international horticulture groups.

Having joined the Ferry-Morse

Seed Co. in 1928, Drewes and his wife reside at 336 Linwood Ave. They are the parents of two children and have three grandchildren.

The third Ferry-Morse representative to win the coveted award, Drewes began his work as a plant breeder in the Netherlands, where he was born.

Drivers May Obtain Permits From Police Department

KEEGO HARBOR—A Driver's License Bureau has been established in this city and licenses may be obtained through the Keego Police Department daily, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. According to an announcement of Eileen Van Horn, city clerk, summer taxes are now being collected—with penalty.

A total of $33,367.05 has been received to date, she said, with $48,132.10 as the total roll figure.

A special meeting has been held and inspection made of all complaints received from residents on the drainage situation. An appropriation of $1,000 has been made from the capital improvement fund to be used in relief of the problem. A pump currently is in operation to help eliminate the trouble. Time changes for city parking, recently installed, are under consideration. Present hours of 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. may become 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., the clerk said.

Groups Join Hands to Aid Agriculture

WASHINGTON — A new national farm group has entered the agricultural program promotion field.

It is a conference of 36 specialized farm commodity organizations formed at a two-day closed meeting which ended here yesterday. Operating independently in the past, they decided to join hands in an attempt to get what they called improved federal farm aid measures.

This decision to work together was made, a spokesman said, because of a sharp division of views among present general farm organizations and members of Congress over Eisenhower administration agricultural policies and over substitute proposals.

The conference will hold another meeting here Sept. 25-26 to go over individual commodity program plans. The conference agreed on two things — that there is need for more rigid restrictions on imports of competitive farm products and that a better standard is needed for measuring fair farm prices as they relate to prices charged farmers.

Auto Salesman Faces Charge

Allegedly Posed as City Police Officer, Using Dime Store Badge

Charges of impersonating a police officer were filed today against an automobile salesman who allegedly passed himself off as a detective lieutenant.

According to police, James P. Bennett, 26, of 3200 E. Walton Blvd., approached a teenage couple Tuesday night sitting on the grass near Walton, flashed a badge and identified himself as a "Lt. Jim" of the Pontiac Police Dept.

The couple answered his questions, they told police, and he learned that the girl's mother objected to her seeing the boy, who is crippled and confined to a wheelchair.

Using this knowledge as a threat, the pair said, the bogus officer told the girl he would call her the next day at her home. The girl said Bennett did call her and said he wanted to see her to ask more questions.

She agreed to meet him at the 4-H Fair grounds on N. Perry street yesterday afternoon.

The girl then told her boyfriend and he called police and asked if there was a "Lt. Jim" there. When told there was no such officer, he reported the whole story.

Detective James Bale met Bennett at the fair grounds, showed him his badge and said, "I'm a city detective, I hear you are too."

Bennett at first denied the entire affair, Bale said, but later admitted his role in it and asked for psychiatric examination. A dime store detective badge was found on Bennett's person, Bale said.

He is to be arraigned today in municipal court.

4-H Folks Take Part in Many Worthwhile Projects

By SYLVIA de STEIGER
Contrary to some "city slickers' opinions, 4-H members don't spend all of their time learning about animals, how to feed them, or make them prize winners.

Many worthwhile and useful projects, such as child care, clothing, personal money management, photography, and general home improvements are activities of use to all.

Of the 180 sewing entries judged yesterday at the 4-H Oakland County Fair in progress this week, 16 girls were placed on the honor roll or the top 10 percent of the blue ribbon winners.

Those on the honor roll for their first year sewing projects include: Gwen Bennett of the Rolling Acres club, Milford; Gail Carnegie, Troy 4-H club, Birmingham; Mary Cummings, 4-H Variety, Rochester; Ginger Dodge, Bald Mountain club, Pontiac; and Shirley Ann Devine, Clinton Valley 4-H club, Rochester.

Second year honor roll sewing winners were Janet Foster and Mary Murrish, both of the Bald Mountain club, Rochester; Linda Henderson and Judy Nimeth, both of the Bloomfield 4-H club, Birmingham; Carole Orr, Flying Fishers club, Clarkston and Susan Swank, Rochester Craft club.

Vera Esinchenko, of the Clinton Valley 4-H club, Rochester, was the single winner of the third year sewing honor roll position. Joan Fodrea, of the Rochester Variety 4-H club was the lone honor roll winner of the fourth year wool class.

Complete clothing honors went to Judy Eastburn, of the Bloomfield 4-H club, Birmingham and Jane Booth, of the Rochester Craft club. Miss Booth also took the top position in the children's clothing class.

Those who entered the foods contest and are now eligible to compete in the 4-H state show include: Phyllis Sanders of the Busy Bees, Orionville, brownies; Barbara McGee, of the Avondale Cooking club, Rochester, cookies; Sandra Brown, of Oxford, cupcakes; Jane Bixler, of Seymour Lake club, Orionville, yeast bread.

System Aids Amazon Ships

New Channel Puts Brazil's Minerals 400 Miles Closer

WASHINGTON — A new system of navigation aids at the mouth of the Amazon River will bring one of the world's latest and richest sources of manganese 400 miles closer to United States markets.

The manganese fields, holding reserves estimated at up to 20 million tons, lie in northern Brazil's Amapa Territory, 120 miles from the broad Amazon estuary.

Shipped by rail to the recently opened port of Santana, the ore now reaches the Atlantic by detouring around the southern coast of huge Marajo Island. A direct northeasterly channel, 400 miles shorter, is expected to be available in the fall, after the Brazilian government has completed charting, lighting and marking the route.

Brazil has long been known as a treasure chest of minerals useful in peace or war, says the National Geographic Society.

PURE MANGANESE

Besides its remarkably pure manganese deposits — found in the states of Minas Gerais, Bahia, and Mato Grosso as well as Amapa — the South American colossus is believed to contain more high-grade iron ore than any other country on earth.

Its iron production has increased sharply in recent years, providing not only substantial amounts for export, but raw material for an important steel industry that has grown up since World War II.

Much coal is mined, while crude-oil output, though still far below needs, doubled in 1956, when 47 new wells were drilled.

Brazil is endowed, too, with large deposits of chromium, aluminum producing bauxite, and tungsten. Widely distributed gold, semi-precious stones, and diamonds — industrial and jewel — add glitter to the pile.

Suggest Mayflower Visit Superior Ports

WASHINGTON — Sen. Thye (D-Minn) urged yesterday that Lake Superior ports be included as stops on the proposed Great Lakes tour by the Mayflower II.

In a letter to Under-Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, he said:

"I have had the opportunity to visit this ship when it was at Haines Point here in Washington and also at Jamestown.

"Therefore, I know personally how much it would mean to the children of the inland states to also have the opportunity to see the vessel.

"Inasmuch as the Mayflower II is considerably smaller than the freight ships which travel the Great Lakes to Duluth, I feel certain it would have little difficulty in visiting the Lake Superior ports."

Governor Tops Picnic Guest List for Troy Dems

Gov. G. Mennen Williams has been invited as the main guest of the Troy Democratic Club at its annual picnic Sunday afternoon.

Other guests invited include party chairman throughout the county as well as members of the county and state committees, said Mrs. Myran C. Rightmyer, chairman.

Gov. Williams has indicated he will attend between 3 and 4 p.m., Mrs. Rightmyer said. The picnic will be at the Sutermeister Farm, 4610 Livernois Rd.

People Approved Purge, Moscow Radio Claims

LONDON (INS) — Moscow radio, quoting Pravda, said today that the entire Soviet population unanimously condemned the "anti-party group" recently purged from the Kremlin.

Commenting on the 40th anniversary of the sixth congress of the Bolshevik Party, Pravda said the purged group "didn't believe in the creative powers of the people and they also tried to break up the unity of party ranks."

Mineral Value Rises in State

'55 Totals Topped by 7 Pct.; Michigan Second in Iron Ore

LANSING — Value of Michigan's mineral production last year amounted to $390 million, a 7 per cent increase over 1955, reports from the U. S. Bureau of Mines showed today.

The state continued to rank second behind Minnesota in iron ore production, although output dropped from 14,180,000 usable long tons to 12,340,000 last year. The downturn largely was a reflection of work stoppages caused by steel and shipping strikes, the federal agency said.

With price increases in effect, however, value of iron ore production in the state fell only about 10 per cent from the 1955 figure of $107 million.

Copper production climbed 20 per cent to 61,450 tons and its estimated value went up 38 per cent to $51 million.

Cement production, ranking second behind iron ore in total value, came to 22,775,000 barrels and was valued at some $71,300,000. Plants produced 19,700,000 barrels worth 58 million dollars in 1955.

Michigan also produced 10,753 barrels of crude petroleum worth $31,400,000; 42 million tons of sand and gravel valued at $37,800,000; 33,700,000 tons of stone worth 29 million dollars; and 8,700,000 cubic feet of natural gas valued at $1,200,000.

Detroit Youth Killed, Three Injured in Crash

WINDSOR, Ont. — A Detroit youth was killed and three others injured last night when their car collided with a five-ton truck and an auto it was towing.

Richard Paluch, 21, died in the crash. His companions, who were injured seriously, were listed as William Knight, 22; Joe Marsh, 19; and Pete Masewich, 17.

So Claims British Economist

America Has More Poor

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Oxford University economist Harold F. Lydall said today there is a higher proportion of poor families in the United States than in Great Britain.

Lydall, senior research officer at Oxford, made the first public report of an extensive comparison of family incomes in the U.S. and Britain at the University of Michigan's 10th annual Institute on Survey Research Techniques.

He said most Americans enjoyed between 1½ to 2 times the real income of Britons. However, he continued, a larger proportion of American families have incomes below the national average than in the case of Britain.

The economist said distribution of income from property, on the other hand, is more equal in the U.S. than Britain. Property income includes rent, interest and dividends.

Commenting on the general economic health of the two countries, he said Americans enjoy far more automobiles and consumer durables, but they are also much more deeply in debt than their overseas counterparts.

His report said about 10 per cent of the British population own cars, refrigerators and other durables, compared to around 80 per cent in America.

Man Found Wandering on Chicago's North Side

CHICAGO — A Kansas City man, who police said was a victim of amnesia, was found walking aimlessly on a near north side street yesterday.

He was identified from personal papers as Earl S. Babcock, 59, of 418 W. 10th St., Kansas City, a laborer. Babcock was unable to tell police who he was or how he got to Chicago.

A sister, Mrs. Jessie Powers of 1181 Adams Rd., Flint, also was notified. She told police she would come to Chicago and bring her brother to Flint.

Resident Bound Over on Stabbing Charge

Billy J. Tidwell, 27, 1045 Durant St., accused of stabbing a man over a cup of coffee, was bound over to circuit court yesterday by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Tidwell will be arraigned Aug. 16 and is held in jail on $500 bond. He is charged with assaulting Roscoe Wilson, of 43 Hillside Dr., with a knife, after the latter ordered him from his house. Tidwell had allegedly thrown a cup of coffee at Wilson during an argument.

Expect Over $1½ Million Cost for Guard Training

FLINT (INS) — A penny-a-quart hike in milk prices in Flint was expected now that five dairies have agreed to pay farmers 35 cents more per hundredweight of drinking milk.

The new $5 a hundredweight price was granted last night.

Douglas Carmichael, president of the Flint Local of Michigan Milk Producers Association, said the new price is now on par with that paid by creameries in Detroit and Saginaw Valley.

Low Calorie Fruit Desserts Look Rich

Summer fruits combine with economical and nutritious instant nonfat dry milk for a luscious array of cool desserts ideal for hot weather menus.

From the Borden Test Kitchen here are three frozen dessert recipes offering variety and an interesting twist but less calories than most tempting desserts: Minted Strawberry Delight, approximately 82 calories per 2-3 cup serving; Gingered Peach Dessert, approximately 121 calories per 1/2 cup serving; and Banana Orange Frost, approximately 119 calories per 1/2 cup serving.

Minted Strawberry Delight
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder
1 cup (1/2 pt.) sliced fresh strawberries
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons (about 5 sprigs) finely chopped fresh mint OR
1/2 teaspoon peppermint extract

Set refrigerator control at coldest point. Combine water and lemon juice in deep 1-quart bowl. Sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder over surface of water. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until stiff, about 8 to 10 minutes.

Combine strawberries, sugar and mint; fold strawberry mixture into whipped milk. Pipe lightly into 1-quart refrigerator tray. Freeze until firm, about 4 hours. If desired, spoon sweetened sliced strawberries over sherbet. Calories per 2-3 cup serving, approximately 82. Serves six.

Gingered Peach Dessert
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
1/2 cups hot water
2 1/2 cups peach puree (canned, frozen or fresh peaches)
8 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder
1 tablespoon finely chopped crystallized ginger

Set refrigerator control at coldest point. In a deep bowl, mix gelatin and sugar together. Add hot water; stir until gelatin is dissolved. Blend in peach puree and lemon juice. Place over bowl of ice, stir mixture until the consistency of uncooked egg whites.

Pour water into deep 1-quart mixing bowl; sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder over surface. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until stiff, 8 to 10 minutes. Fold whipped milk into gelatin mixture; pour into two small (3 cups) refrigerator trays. Freeze until almost firm.

Place mixture in a chilled bowl; add ginger; beat with electric mixer or rotary beater until mixture is smooth and fluffy. Return to trays. Freeze until firm, about 2 hours. Calories per serving, approximately 121. Serves eight.

Note: For Parfaits approximately one additional cup of peach puree needed.

Starting with peach puree, spoon alternate layers of puree and ginger peach sherbet into parfait glasses and serve.

Banana Orange Frost
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup very hot water
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 1/2 cups orange juice
1/2 cup (2 medium size) mashed ripe bananas
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder

Set refrigerator control at coldest point. In a deep bowl mix gelatin and sugar together. Add hot water; stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add fruit juices; blend in bananas. Place over bowl of ice, stir mixture until the consistency of uncooked egg whites.

Pour cold water and vanilla into deep 1-quart mixing bowl; sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder over surface. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until stiff, 8 to 10 minutes. Fold whipped milk into gelatin mixture; pour into two small (3 cups) refrigerator trays. Freeze until almost firm.

Place mixture into a chilled bowl; beat with electric mixer or rotary beater until mixture is smooth and fluffy. Return to trays. Freeze until firm, about 2 hours. Calories per serving, approximately 119. Serves eight.

Add Cheese to Mix for Tasty Muffins

Cheese-Corn Muffins can be chalked up as a speedy standby for they are so easy to make. Use a package of your favorite corn muffin mix, add some sharp Cheddar cheese and presto—Cheese-Corn Muffins! The fresh flavors of the corn meal and tangy cheese produce a muffin with winning ways to go with any of your favorite summer salads.

Cheese-Corn Muffins
1 22-ounce pkg. corn muffin mix
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup grated sharp cheese
1/2 teaspoon oregano

Heat oven to hot (400 degrees). Empty contents of corn muffin mix package into bowl; add egg, milk, grated cheese and oregano. Blend only until dry ingredients are thoroughly moistened, but not smooth.

Pour batter into greased medium-sized muffin cups filling half full. Bake in preheated oven (400 degrees) about 15 minutes or until golden brown. Makes 10-12 muffins.

Neither Cold Nor Hot Will Spoil Food

DETROIT (INS) — Keep it hot, keep it cold or don't keep it at all. This was the annual summer warning from Detroit health commissioner Dr. Joseph G. Molner concerning storage of food.

He said ptomaine poisoning strikes many people who don't observe this rule. Meats, fish, milk, salad dressing, cream fillings, gelatines and puddings may be unfit to eat if left at room temperature for an hour or two.

Dr. Molner cautioned that taste and appearance may remain the same, but such foods can be dangerous.

He added that picnic lunches may spoil when transported long distances without being packed in ice or in insulated containers.

Give hash ample time to cool slowly to achieve that good crisp browned bottom crust.

Actress Scores Victory in Fight to Save Theater

LONDON (INS)—Actress Vivien Leigh has scored a major victory in the battle to save the historic St. James Theater in London.

She was informed by the company that bought the theater site that it is holding up plans to demolish the 200-year-old building for the time being.

The firm said that "in view of the existence of a body of feeling that the theater should remain" it was prepared to take no further action for a "reasonable time."

The tempestuous British star has been leading the fight for some time to prevent the St. James from being razed to make way for a modern office building.

The company's statement warned that a sum of at least $80,000 would be required to purchase and take care of other expenses involved in saving the theater.

If Vivien and her famed husband, actor Sir Laurence Olivier, start a public fund to preserve the St. James, Sir Winston Churchill will head the list with a $1,400 gift. Churchill promised the money during the early stages of the battle.

POINTER FROM MOM — Former child star, Shirley Temple Black, keeps a watchful eye on things in her real-life role as mother, as she makes sure her children, Charles Alden, 5, and Lori Alden, 3, stay on the right track in their backyard railroad at Atherton, Calif. Movie fans will have a chance to see the star when she was young as her children are now, as films that carried her to fame are to be reissued.

Hollywood Headlines

Ballad Singer Belafonte Not Afraid to Speak Mind

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood may not seem so glamorous in the eyes of German star Curt Jergens, but Las Vegas—that's another matter.

"Fantastic—utterly fantastic!" exclaimed the handsome star over the Nevada gambling capital. "I could never imagine such a place. To think that Americans would construct such palaces in the middle of the desert, just so people could gamble!"

"Without air conditioning, the whole thing would be impossible. You step outdoors and the heat knocks you right back into the casinos—which is what the owners want, I guess."

"The shows are wonderful. Such production, such girls! But the real show is the people."

"I have a home 13 kilometers from Monte Carlo, and when I go to the casino to play, I dress up in a black suit. In Las Vegas, a man was gambling right next to me who was naked—nothing on but trunks! And I saw a woman in a bikini walk in from the swimming pool and sit right down to play craps."

He confessed he would also like to play craps but doesn't know how. He contented himself to roulette and dropped quite a bundle. Despite this, he plans to return as soon as he finishes his first Hollywood film, "The Enemy Below."

An Austrian, citizen of French-German parents, Jergens is 42, tall, masculine and speaks English with scarcely an accent. He resembles George Sanders, but without the latter's icy qualities. His impressions of Hollywood?

"I love working here. There is so much preparation, so much knowhow. Things are done as swiftly as possible. In Europe it is different. Some directors think the more time they take, the more artistic is the picture. It is nonsense."

"Is Hollywood glamorous? I do not think so. Except for the big homes of Bel Air, it is not too impressive. It is not a town for night life."

Bronze-Age Irishman Same Size as Today

DUBLIN (INS)—Irish people of the bronze age, about 1,800 to 500 B.C., were about the same size as modern man, and probably no taller.

This indicated by the discovery of six skeletons, in a pre-historic burial mound of that period in Bawnboy, County Cavan.

The discovery was made during excavation by an official of the National Museum. The skeletons were lying in rough graves or pits under a low cairn.

One of the skeletons was of a child, and fragments of a hand-made pottery vessel were with the remains. Other pottery fragments were found in another part of the mound.

An expert stated that the vessels were probably first ceremonially broken before being put into the mound with the skeleton. Flint and flint implements also were dug up.

Old Hollywood Mourns Death of Oliver Hardy

Editor's Note—The writer of the following story is the Associated Press chief of bureau at Los Angeles. He went to Hollywood 27 years ago to report movie news for The AP.

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD — The face of Hollywood changed some with the death of Oliver (Babe) Hardy and we old-timers who covered Movie-land in the heyday of Laurel and Hardy are saddened.

Both the 300-pound Hardy, who died yesterday, and his shy, slim, hand-wringing partner, Stan Laurel, have been ill for a long time and absent from the movie lots. But we who found them interesting off-screen as well as funny on it held hopes, probably false, that they would come back.

They both talked frequently of a television series, after their quarter-century-old films reached a new generation on TV. They said they saw a new life, new glory, new fortunes. At least they talked of these things, but in their hearts they must have known they never could reach the peak again.

Both were sensitive, intelligent men, despite the buffoonery that catapulted them to stardom. In money matters, they were as unwise as most actors of the old days. They worked together for a dozen low-tax years, spending money as if it grew on trees, before they formed a corporation with a vice president to counter-sign checks.

Laurel told me in 1940 that "we haven't been so smart financially. We used to invest and then think about it." He and Babe dropped a wad in gold mines and oil wells.

Alimony was an expensive luxury too. Hardy was married three times. Laurel seven times — to four different wives. In 1938, Stan said he was insolvent—"too much alimony." It is not a matter of record, but knowing Laurel and Hardy I can well believe that Hardy supported Laurel during this period.

They were teamed accidentally. Stan, who came here from England with a troupe starring Charlie Chaplin, became a script writer for Hal Roach. Babe, long-time stage actor of no outstanding fame, drifted to Hollywood. He was playing a comedy heavy in a Roach two-reeler. An actor hired as a butler became ill and Laurel took his place. Roach, who could pick talent, saw the skinny guy as perfect foil for the fat one. And Laurel and Hardy became a team.

Laurel and Hardy were distinguished because, unlike other comedy teams, they never had a feud. They were separated once by contractual troubles, not of their own doing, and the pictures they made apart were dismal flops. In 1949 Babe played a few character roles because Stan was too ill to work "and I need the money." But his salary went to the L&H Corp., and ailing Stan shared in his partner's pay.

Stan said yesterday when he heard about Babe: "That's the end of the history of Laurel and Hardy."

But some of us never will forget their finger-in-the-eye and brick-on-the-foot humor.

Man Given Sentence, Probation in Stabbing

DETROIT (AP)—Claude Deese, 42, was sentenced to 60 days in jail and placed on two years probation yesterday for his part in a fight which a Sanilac County farmer was stabbed to death.

Deese was sentenced after being found guilty on a charge of felonious assault.

Walter W. Kreiner, 59, of Melvin, was fatally stabbed in a fight March 23 at a Detroit market and two police officers were slashed.

Rayford Butler, 44, Detroit, Deese's companion in the brawl, earlier was sent to 10-15 years in prison for manslaughter.

THEATRE

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

It is normally accepted that professional football gets the cream of the crop out of college grid ranks.

Great names are spotted all over the rosters of NFL teams. Many of the long remembered names include such players as Dutch Clark, Red Grange, Arnie Weinmeister, Sammy Baugh, Sid Luckman, Otto Graham and Don Hutson.

Many players of today will fall in line with these, but as the 1957 football season moves closer there's one argument which has already been started.

The question is, "Who is the best defensive line-backer in the NFL today?" They argued this last year and the year before.

The '57 pro football magazine lists all the great oldtimers at every position. For those listed as "players in waiting" who are expected to be added to the list after retirement, the linebacker position lists three names—Joe Schmidt of the Lions, Chuck Bednarik of the Eagles, and Les Richter of the Rams.

LIONS SAY SCHMIDT IS BEST

The Detroit Lions, pointing to their outstanding defensive reputation, claim the player responsible is Schmidt, a 220 pound veteran of five years from Pitt.

"He's tops in the league," says Lions' publicist Bud Erickson in his team brochure.

Los Angeles publicist Bert Rose claims that Richter has such a strangle hold on the position, "no one in the NFL can dislodge him."

Eddie Hogan of the Eagles points to Bednarik's seven straight all-pro years and concludes, "Chuck is the greatest linebacker in football."

Bednarik is 6-foot-3 at 235 pounds and starred at the University of Pennsylvania. He has a career total of 13 interceptions for 154 yards and a touchdown and "is a vicious tackler, fiery competitor and really jams the opposition," according to Hogan.

Richter, at 243 pounds "is a savage tackler, and with his speed he defends exceptionally well against passes," is the statement of Rose.

Schmidt led the NFL in fumble recoveries in 1955, made twice as many tackles as any member of the Lions last year.

"He is a great morale booster and team leader, and hits with bruising impact," says Erickson.

There's the argument. Which is the greatest of the three?

DITTO FROM THE PRESS BOX

Mickey Crawford, Sammy Rodgers and Osee Groom will arrive in town tomorrow to finish their training for Tuesday's fight.

They will workout with their respective sparring partners near Wisner Stadium on the Cass Avenue side at 5:00 p. m. tomorrow.

Martin Gets Ace at 'Frolic'

It's Happy Day for Luke

The Pontiac Retail Merchants Association held its 21st annual "Frolic" yesterday at Pontiac Country Club. Naturally, golf played a big part in the occasion.

From the comments flying around the clubhouse afterwards, one gathered that many would-be par-busters were unhappy about their efforts. Moans and groans were heard everywhere as scores soared all over again in post-mortems.

But at least one city golfer was deliriously happy over the "hole" affair. The satisfied gentleman was Luke Martin, a merchandiser at Walte's Department Store.

Martin made a hole-in-one, the 1st of his career, on the 135-yard 2nd hole. Martin's 6-iron shot landed on the green, took a couple of bounces and plopped into the cup.

Witnessing Luke's ace were Bob Weddle, Russ Woodbury and Chuck Henderson.

Hoelt OK, and Indians Bow

DETROIT (P) — It's just like everyone has been saying all season long: when Bill Hoelt is "right," he's one of the finest pitchers in the American League. Hoelt was just right yesterday, striking out 10 Cleveland Indians batters in a 4-1 Detroit Tiger triumph.

The big lefty has showed recent signs of shaking his most disastrous pitching slump. He has been effective his last three times out and yesterday's effort — his fourth consecutive solid showing — prompted manager Jack Tighe to say:

"He looks like the pitcher who won 20 games last year."

Hoelt's fast ball was particularly good—or as they say in the trade—he was "humming that seed." He never walked a batter and was in Daley held the Tigers to one hit over the last six innings.

The Tigers scored three times in the first inning, rocking starter John Gray for three safeties and taking advantage of a leadoff walk to Bill Tuttle. Jim Small and Ray Boone put together doubles and Al Kaline drove in a pair of runs with a single over second base.

McLish yielded a run in the second inning. Tigers got three hits—a double by Hoelt and singles by Tuttle and Small before McLish could retire a batter. But they counted only one run as McLish got Boone on a pop up and forced Kaline to ground into a double play.

While the hitting ceased, Hoelt's pitching was good enough. At one stretch he retired 16 straight batters and had a one-hitter for six innings. Indians got their only run in the seventh on singles by Gene Woodling and Vic Wertz and a sacrifice fly.

Wertz singled three times in four trips to account for half the Cleveland safeties.

Duke Maas (8-7) was to oppose the Indians' Ray Narleski (8-1) in the windup of the three-game series and the Tigers' brief home stand today. Tigers open a weekend series in Chicago Friday and will return home Friday, Aug. 16.

Braves Boost NL Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gene Conley, who last spring figured "to have myself the best season of my major league career," then went winless for two months, has found the touch again to keep the pennant-pushing Milwaukee Braves perking in the National League pennant race.

The big right-hander helped the Braves pad their lead to 1½ games last night, winning for the seventh time in his last eight decisions with a seven-hitter that beat fourth-place Cincinnati 12-2. The Braves have won 10 of their last 12 in a battle with St. Louis for the top spot, and Conley, now 7-5, has claimed four of the victories—the top contribution from Milwaukee's pitching staff.

Milwaukee edged farther ahead as the seventh-place Chicago Cubs winning five straight for the first time since 1955, socked second-place St. Louis for the second time in a row, this time 5-1.

Third-place Brooklyn fell four games behind, losing 8-5 as the New York Giants scored five in the ninth and handed Don Newcombe his fourth consecutive defeat. Newk, who led the majors with a 27-7 record last season, made a spitting gesture toward the booing fans at Jersey City's Roosevelt Stadium as he walked off, still burning from Hank Sauer's pinch hit three-run homer that triggered the uprising.

Fifth-place Philadelphia, now seven games behind, and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

In the American League Wednesday, Washington scored three in the ninth and beat New York 3-2, whittling the Yankees' lead to six games over Chicago's second-place White Sox, who whipped Kansas City 7-0 on Jim Wilson's two-hitter. Boston defeated Baltimore 5-2 in 11 innings as Ted Williams hiked his batting average to .389 again.

The Nats, who didn't have a hit for six innings and only two singles after eight, got to Tom Sturdivant when Roy Sievers hit a pinch single to open the ninth and Eddie Yost followed with a home run. Two singles, a sacrifice and Art Schult's sacrifice fly scored the clincher. Hank Bauer homered in the first for the Yanks and Mickey Mantle hit his 30th home run in the ninth. The Mick, Williams and Sievers, of the starting line-up because of a swollen instep, are tied for the AL home run lead. Bud Byerly won it in relief.

Finalists Paired in Junior Playoff

Two Clarkston teams, the Pontiac Boys Club and Hawthorne moved into the finals of the city junior baseball playoffs with victories in four divisions yesterday.

Clarkston qualified finalists in classes E and F while the Boys Club made the grade in the Mid-E division and Hawthorne succeeded in the Widget class.

In the Class E game yesterday, Bob Porritt hurled a two-hit shutout as Clarkston walloped Lytle-Colgrove, 14-0. Clarkston's Class F entry handed Tel-Huron an 18-4 shellacking. The Boys Club trounced the White Sox, 19-4, and Hawthorne nosed out Washington, 10-9.

Finalists in all classes:

Class D — Pontiac Police vs. Cranbrook; Class E—Clarkston vs. Oxford; Class F—Clarkston vs. Boys Club; Mid-E—Bays club vs. Tigers; Widget—Hawthorne vs. Le-Baron.

Mackay, Giammalva Win

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (P) — Barry Mackay of the University of Michigan teamed with Sam Giammalva of Houston, Tex., yesterday to win a second round mens doubles match in the eastern grass-court championships.

Kroll and 77 Others in Golfing Marathon

CHICAGO (INS) — Defending champion Ted Kroll and 77 other stars of golf's pro circuit tee off today in the $100,000 "world championship" tourney at Tam O'Shanter Country Club.

Challenging Kroll for the $30,000 first prize and another $50,000 to be earned by the winner during a world exhibition tour were sharpshooters like Doug Ford, Roberto de Vicenzo of Mexico City, Sam Snead, Jimmy Demaret, Lloyd Mangrum, Dr. Cary Middlecott, Ed Furgol and Gene Littler.

The reward for the runnerup in the 72-hole marathon which ends Sunday is $10,000. The third best scorer gets $5,000.

Pre-tourney speculation put

Ford, this year's money leader in the Professional Golfers' Association, standings with $38,475, and de Vicenzo, winner of the All-American Monday with a 273 total, in the category of "the men to beat."

Foreign entries include the steady playing Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia. Thomson is hoping to enter the charmed circle this time. He led the field in 1954 and 1956 going into the final round but failed to win when his irons turned cold.

Mrs. Marlene Bauer Hagge of Sarasota, Fla., led a field of 32 in the women's pro division where the winning award is $5,000.

Other competitors include Louise Suggs, Patty Berg, Betty Jameson, Betsy Rawls, Jackie Pung, and Fay Crocker.

Dave Gaddis Stars in One-Hit Shutout

Milford Junior American Legion nine turned on a shining light, last night, in blanking Birmingham 6-0, in an 18th District 2nd-round league contest. The "light" was pitcher Dave Gaddis who not only let his face down with a single hit, but whiffed 13, walked only one. Rondeau for Birmingham also was good as long as he stayed in the game (5½ innings), striking out 13 for his season's best job.

Gaddis also led in batting with a pair of doubles, both in the 5th, accounting for two runs.

Birmingham's Bob Woods was hit by a pitched ball on the left side, suffered some ruptured cartilages. He was taken to Pontiac General Hospital, released later.

Rochester is at Berkley tonight. A change makes Milford site for Sunday's first district twin-bill, against Clawson.

MERRY MAN — Maurice Podoloff, National Basketball League proxy, was a merry man, yesterday awaiting his turn before the House antitrust committee hearing on pro sports. He appeared with players Bob Pettit and Ed Macauley of the St. Louis Hawks.

Chicago Booms at All-Star Time

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
CHICAGO — The "Windy City" of Chicago becomes a convention city this weekend for players, coaches, writers, broadcasters, fans, sporting goods salesmen and everyone else who has made the football All-Star game as the date for their annual gathering.

It seems everyone has some kind of meeting he is attending, and it almost appears that the game itself is becoming just an incidental affair for an All-Star weekend.

For the two teams, the College All-Stars and the New York Giants however, there is the honor and prestige of playing in the 24th annual classic before an expected crowd of 80,000.

The collegians, coached by veteran pro coach Curly Lambeau, boast one of the best quartet of quarterbacks ever assembled on the All-Star squad.

Who will start calling the signals is still in doubt, however, it appears that either Paul Hornung of Notre Dame or John Brodie of Stanford have the best chance.

Hornung is the local favorite but Brodie is considered the best passer in the group. Len Dawson of Purdue and Jim Harris of Oklahoma are also highly touted quarterbacks.

In the backfield the All-Stars may be able to match the Giants and Lambeau also feels the end play should be pretty even, but the pros definitely have the advantage in the middle line.

Outstanding runners such as Clarence Peaks of Michigan State, Jimmy Brown of Syracuse, Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma, Jon Arnett of Southern California, Abe Woodson of Illinois and Del Shofner of Baylor are considered a highly potent crew to match Giants players such as Chuck Conery, Frank Gifford, Alex Webster, and Mel Triplett.

One of the best collegiate end combinations of 1956, Ron Kramer and Tom Maentz both from the University of Michigan, plus Lamar Lundy of Purdue, Steve Junker of Xavier and Brad Bomba of Indiana are leading terminal selections.

All of the pro teams of the NFL except the Lions will keep an eye on their number one draft choices. Detroit picked Bill Glass as first choice, but the big tackle is now playing Canadian football.

The Lions still have John Gordy, tackle from Tennessee in the line-up, along with Junker and defensive back Terry Barr.

These are the top choices of the other 11 clubs:

Kramer (Green Bay), Peaks (Philadelphia Eagles); Arnett (Los Angeles Rams); Brown (Cleveland Browns); fullback Don Boeschler of Miami (Washington Redskins); Dawson (Pittsburgh Steelers); and center Jerry Tubbs of Oklahoma (Chicago Bears); Parker (Baltimore Colts); Shofner (New York Giants, traded to Rams); 8:30 EST on Channel 2 in Detroit.

3,500 Entries for Grand American Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — America's straight-shooters are about to launch the nation's noisiest sports events.

The loud competitions are the National Rifle and Pistol matches at Camp Perry, first held in 1903, and the 58th Grand American Trapshoot at Vandallia.

Some 3,500 competitors are slated to face the mile-long firing line at Camp Perry for the Aug. 9, Sept. 10 rifle-pistol matches, in which all the armed services, national guard units, civilians, women and children will be represented.

NEW YORK (INS)—Ethel Merman signed for CBS-TV's first (Sept. 19) big music spectacular, "Crescendo," joining Rex Harrison (at least they're starting with class) . . .

Harrison's roll in "Crescendo" will be as a Britisher being taken for a tour of American music . . .

Marine Corps files will form the background for "Combat Correspondent," creation of Ed Stodel, who was a USMC combat scriber . . .

NBC will do three Saturday spectacles from Las Vegas next season. The first, Nov. 16 . . .

If Ernie Kovacs is as good in the movie "Operation Madball" as we've been informed by absolutely neutral previewers, by-bye TV . . .

RODEO ON VIDEO
The big annual Pendleton, Ore., rodeo will be an afternoon NBC spectacular Sept. 14 . . .

Jane Powell, about to dunk into TV, will do five or six shows for the movie-star corporation making films for next season's Goodyear-Alcoa Playhouse (David Niven, Charles Boyer, Jack Lemmon, Robert Ryan, too) . . .

MGM has great plans for "The Thin Man" series, as witness assigning to Peter Lawford and Phyllis Kirk dressing rooms formerly lolled in by Spencer Tracy and Lana Turner . . .

Goodyear Playhouse bought "Dark Side of the Moon," by Arthur Sainer, for an NBC airing Aug. 19 . . .

Charlie Isaacs, writer of the first and best Jimmy Durante NBC shows, gets a real plum—producer of Gisele MacKenzie's Saturday night series . . .

DESILU EXPANDING
Desi and Lucy now are making so many, separate TV series they've spilled over into their fourth movie lot (Paramount) where the Walter Winchell "File" will be shot . . .

As we printed months ago, Harry S. Truman and ABC-TV officially are headed for a TV pact . . .

A St. Louis firm has an automatic control which lowers the TV sound when you pick up the phone, raises it to normal again when you replace the receiver . . .

The controversial Mike Wallace ABC-TV show starring (in its audition) Drew Pearson, Fulton Lewis Jr., Roy M. Cohn and ex-Sen. William Benton was such a two-fisted shambles in its tryout—one big undisciplined argument—it will have to be tried out again . . .

NBC's soap opera "Hilltop House" will be dismantled . . .

Finishes Color Films of Prayers for TV

NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood producer Lew Kerner has completed a series of color prayer films for television. The one-minute shorts were photographed in places of worship throughout the United States . . .

The filmed prayers are recited, sung, or chanted, sometimes by a single voice, sometimes by a full choir. Ministers, rabbis and priests assisted in preparing the series, which Kerner described as non-sectarian in character . . .

The producer reported some 200 TV stations have expressed interest in telecasting the prayer films. The series took three years to complete . . .

When Gamblers Aided Local Church Offering

DURANGO, Colo. (AP)—During the early 1880s, there was a church here that was maintained largely by cattle rustlers, bank robbers and roustabouts . . .

Everyone liked the minister and on the wall of the principal gambling casino there was a box which bore this legend: "Don't Forget Parson Hoge." . . .

Here's the Way to End
Curse of Superstitions

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—If you're just a teeny-weeny bit superstitious, I've got hot news for you.

The terrible curse that comes from putting a stocking on inside out, can now be obliterated by counting to 14. Or is it 16? (It might even be 18.)

Anyway, it's a device thought up by our TV stars who are great minds and want everybody to know that they don't believe in superstitions the least little bit.

It seems that Lucille Ball, Desi Arnaz, Betty White and others decided that in these hasty-busy days superstitions had to be made more efficient.

Take that old favorite—if you forget something, you have to go back and get it, sit down, and take your left shoe off. Well, now, you don't have to take your left shoe off . . .

"We are putting a committee to work on amending the one about dropping your gloves," Betty told me. "The way it works now, somebody else must pick them up for you or you leave them there."

Miss White, who gives each one of her automobiles a proper name ("Doesn't everybody?" she says), was amazed when I told her that Joe DiMaggio once started a hitting streak after dating a certain girl; so for 25 nights after that he dated the same girl and they did the same thing.

He was glad to break the hitting streak because he had gotten to dislike the girl.

"Aren't baseball players eccentric?" said Betty.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Marion Marlowe was placed in an oxygen tent at Doctor's Hospital to ease her breathing . . . Victor Borge bought a moving van to lug his piano on tour . . . Marie McDonald denies she and Harry Karl — recently reconciled—will go on a second honeymoon. "That's pretty corny," she says, "for a couple married ten years" . . . Pretty Devra Korwin is the latest "Lola" in the long-running musical, "Damn Yankees."

Joni James says her new 11-gown cafe wardrobe will be very daring—all high necklines!

EARL'S PEARLS: A Hollywood actress has changed the old saying to: "It is better to have loved and lost than never to have had the publicity in the first place."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "It's certainly true that a good day's work never hurt anybody—but neither did a good day's rest." That's Earl, brother.

Expect One-Cent Hike in Flint Milk Prices

LANSING (AP)—More than a million and a half dollars will be spent to train Michigan National Guardsmen this summer, the State Adjutant General's Office estimated today.

Total bill for the field exercises for some 13,500 officers and men was estimated at $1,611,024.

The major item is pay and allowances, set at $1,256,246. The 10,000 guardsmen to train at Camp Grayling starting next week will receive $970,045 of the total.

Since the men won't be paid until their last day in camp, most of the payroll will be taken back home to be spent in the state's 57 communities with guard units, the Adjutant General's Office said.

Trial May Bring Out
Scandal Publication's
Own Secrets

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Confidential magazine's own secrets may be exposed when its trial on criminal libel charges is resumed tomorrow.

Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritzl planned to present testimony by Howard Rushmore, former editor of Confidential.

The trial is in recess today so that Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker can consider other court matters.

Before the trial resumes the judge will hear arguments on a motion to quash the subpoena of actor Tab Hunter, Hunter's attorney filed the motion yesterday.

Rushmore's appearance as a witness will await completion of testimony intended to link Hollywood Research' Inc., and its operators, Fred and Marjorie Meade, to Confidential and its sister scandal magazine, Whisper.

Later the prosecution plans to read to the jury 10 articles in which Confidential purported to tell of lurid activities of Hollywood celebrities.

Confidential, Whisper, Publisher's Distributing Corp., Hollywood Research and the Meades are being tried on charges of conspiracy to publish lewd and obscene material and to commit criminal libel by publishing defamatory matter.

Ants Building Houses
Out of Their Own Bodies

PANAMA CITY—On Barro Colorado Island, the tropical-life preserve of the Smithsonian Institution in the Canal Zone, there are ants that build complex, air conditioned hanging houses out of thousands of their own suspended bodies.

The queen is sheltered, eggs are laid, and young hatched and reared within these structures, which are built anew each night much of the time.

Education Brings Rise
in Newspaper Reading

ANN ARBOR — As educational levels of the nation increase, the proportion of non-newspaper readers in the adult population probably will diminish, results of a University of Michigan study indicate.

In a special analysis on readership of major metropolitan Detroit and Pontiac newspapers, the U. of M.'s Detroit Area Study found that more than one-fourth of these adults with only six years or less of formal education did not read newspapers.

According to DAS Director Harry Sharp, the study found non-readership in the 60-and-over group was about 14 per cent, compared to less than 7 per cent for the 21-to-40 group. For all adults, the study found non-readership averaged 7 per cent of the population. The proportion was identical for both sexes and for whites and Negroes.

Differences in readership by place of birth, income and occupation of family head were relatively small. Foreign-born adults, families with incomes less than $5,000, and operatives and service workers tended to show higher levels of non-readership than the balance of the population.

How do individuals regard newspaper reading? Those who like it gave DAS interviewers comments like these:

"Well, it's really a habit. If you can sit down and read the paper, you get more out of it than listening to TV or radio. You can't always hear everything if you're busy working."

"I read it thoroughly every night. I like to see what's going on in the city and nation."

"If I don't have a paper, I don't have anything to do in my spare time. I just sit around and look."

"It's the only way

Dropouts Earn Less

WASHINGTON — The Labor Department reports that a survey shows that teen-agers who drop out of high school will probably earn 30 per cent less in their lifetimes than their friends who graduate. The typical high school graduate will earn $50,000 more in his lifetime than the eighth-grade graduate and $30,000 more than the high school dropout.

U.S. farmers use 16.6 percent of all domestic petroleum products.

Tallow Fed to Poultry

DES MOINES — Agricultural research scientists have found that adding tallow to poultry feed produces good results. Tests indicate that it takes up to 18 per cent less of feed containing tallow to increase the weight of a broiler by a given amount than of tallow-less feed.

Lafayette was only 19 years old when he served in the American Revolutionary War as Major-General. He refused salary.

Office Crooks' Toll High

LOS ANGELES — A recent study of office crimes indicates that crooked employees account for an annual business loss of $500,000,000 in the United States. They are reportedly the cause of 7 per cent of American business failures. On the average, the office crook is on the job seven years before he turns dishonest.

An Argentine airline now has two tourist flights a week, Buenos Aires to New York.

Textile Industry

STAVANGER, Norway — Norway's textile and garment factories have combined employment of 17,000 men and 32,000 women. They represent about 7 per cent of the country's industrial employment.
