New County Courthouse Plan Is Proposed

Chamber Urging 10-Story Unit on Present Site

Claims Survey Reveals Cost Lower Than If Built on Telegraph

Pontiac Chamber of Commerce has suggested Oakland County build a 10-story courthouse in downtown Pontiac instead of a three-story structure on Telegraph road.

In submitting an architect's cost analysis to a joint meeting of city and county officials, C. of C. President Ralph T. Norvell said construction at the present courthouse site would cost from $150,000 to $160,000 less than at the county service center at west city limits.

With store rental space added to the downtown project, costs of the two structures would be about equal, he said, but the county would realize about $100,000 annually in rent.

Cost of the 10-story building would be approximately $5,200,000, according to the report. Air conditioning would cost an additional $500,000.

Attending the meeting were members of the County Board of Supervisors special building committee, Chamber of Commerce representatives and city officials.

In a statement of the chamber's position, which is being sent all county supervisors, along with the architect's report, the organization states that it "fully realizes the need for new courthouse facilities in Oakland County."

It terms selection of the site extremely important and asks supervisors to give the survey careful consideration.

"You will note," it states, "that the survey indicates a money savings of between two and three per cent of the cost can be realized if the suggested multi-storied building is constructed on the present site . . ."

The chamber also cited these points:

1. The plan would eliminate the need to relocate the jail in the service center at a cost of an additional $1,000,000, or spending money for transportation of prisoners and other necessary trips from the service center to the downtown jail.

2. Pontiac plans to add more than 600 municipal parking spaces within walking distance of the present courthouse location. (Lack of parking space has been a factor in the downtown site study.)

3. A survey of courthouse users

Potter, Meader Oppose Change

Federal Committee Asks Wayne Airport Replace Willow Run as Terminal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Federal recommendation that Detroit-Wayne major airport be made Detroit's commercial air terminal and Willow Run converted into a military aviation base drew opposition today from Senator Potter (R-Mich.) and Rep. Meader (R-Mich).

The recommendation came late yesterday from the air coordinating committee's airport use panel, an advisory group to the President.

On the other hand, the recommendation was welcomed by Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detriot, who promised airlines would "get a square deal" if they accepted the recommended move.

Cobo said Willow Run was 32 miles from downtown Detroit and Detroit-Wayne major only 18. But Meader listed the distance as 30 and 20 miles and said at their closest points the airports are about five miles apart.

Defense Secretary Charles Wilson is said to have promised a complete review of a federal panel's recommendation that the six commercial airlines using Willow Run shift operations to the Detroit-Wayne Major Airport.

Nation's Hoods Face Quiz

Filmland Racketeer Killed With 'Chicago Pineapple'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A nationwide quiz of hoodlums was under way today in the search for the bomb-slaying of pudgy Willie Bioff, a retired filmland racketeer credited with talking a few of his pals into jail.

Bioff, 55, was killed when his pickup truck was blown apart as he was starting it at his home in northeast Phoenix yesterday. He had been living here about six years under an assumed name with his wife, who said after the explosion:

"He didn't have an enemy in the world."

Lt. Ralph Edmundson, in charge of the investigation for the sheriff's office, said authorities here have "very little to go on."

"We were not too well acquainted with the man or his acquaintances," Edmundson said, "but we're going to take time to get acquainted."

He said material on Bioff—who lived here under the name of William Nelson — is being sent here from several cities and that known acquaintances of the former Hollywood film union leader will be questioned anywhere they can be found.

POWERFUL BOMB

The blast mutilated Bioff's body and threw wreckage over a radius of several hundred feet. It tore a hole in the roof of the garage, shot two chunks of metal into the wall of a home about 100 feet away and shattered windows in several houses.

Bioff's body was blown about 15 feet from the garage. His right leg and right hand were torn off. Small parts of the body were found on the garage roof.

Maricopa County Sheriff Cal Boies said today that he "just hoped" that the "Chicago Pinapple" killing of Bioff "isn't the beginning of a campaign of killing by rival mobsters."

* * *

There have been reports that the mobs are trying to open up Arizona to gambling, the same as Nevada, and Boies seemed to think that the killing could have some link with that.

Warmer Weather in Store Tomorrow

Partly cloudy and warmer weather with temperatures in the low 60's is forecast for the Pontiac area tomorrow, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Tonight it will be fair and warmer with a low between 40 and 44 degrees.

Heavy rains and snow hit parts of the Northeastern states last night and early today, causing minor floods in some sections.

Connecticut was uneasy again as more than 24 hours of rain sent rivers rising. At Stamford, the Rippowan River flooded a number of streets to a depth of several inches.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 29 degrees. The thermometer registered 44 at 2 p.m.

State to Mediate City Bus Dispute

Board Will Meet Here Thursday After Strike Vote by Local

The State Labor Mediation Board will try to settle a contract dispute between Pontiac City Lines, Inc., and its drivers and mechanics at a meeting here next Thursday.

The meeting was scheduled after members of Division 1097, Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electrical Railway and Motorcoach Employes of America voted 41-7 in favor of strike action.

Negotiations between the company and union have been conducted for several months and a fact-finding panel was appointed by the governor in an effort to resolve the dispute.

The panel recommended a wage increase of 8 cents an houur retroactive to last July 1, plus additional uniform allowances.

A company offer of 6 cents an hour increase retroactive to April 1 plus an additional 2 cents next April was rejected by the union, according to Archie Sims, state labor mediator.

Call Egyptian, Israeli Envoys to Settle Dispute

U. S. Goes All Out to Avert Full-Scale War in the Holy Land

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department called in the Egyptian and Israeli ambassadors for separate meetings today in its drive to keep the Middle East dispute from exploding into a war.

Abba Eban, Israel's envoy who is seeking arms from the United States, was slated for a conference with Asst. Secretary of State George V. Allen.

Later, Egyp's Ambassador Ahmed Hussein was listed for talks with Allen—the department's top specialists on Middle Eastern affairs.

In announcing the meetings last night, the State Department gave no hint of what Allen would tell the two envoys.

This country has been trying urgently to bring an end to the Arab-Israeli border fighting, fearing it could flare into a renewal of the Palestine war or worse.

Before the announcement, a spokesman had said the department did not plan to take the same action as the British Foreign Office did earlier this week. The British called in representatives of Egypt and Israel and appealed for restraint.

Israeli armored cars and Egyptain guns exchanged shots in a 45-minute duel on the Gaza Strip front day, an Egyptian spokesman at Gaza said. No casualties were reported.

Israeli and Egyptain guns faced each other atop the quiet but tense El Sabha plateau in the Sinai Desert, about 50 miles south of Gaza.

With clashes erupting on three successive days along the tense Israeli-Egyptian border, U. N. diplomats worked to restore peace before fighting spreads.

Legislators Fail to Pass Hospital Space Measure

Williams Calls Another Session to Discuss Beds for Retarded Children

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING (AP)—The Legislature adjourned at midnight without providing any more beds for mentally retarded children and Gov. Williams promptly summoned it back into another special session Monday morning.

But before the deadlock, the lawmakers had approved:

Michigan's first speed limit law since 1927—a 65-mile an hour limit in the daytime and 55 miles at night covering the entire state. It will not become effective for 90 days.

The Senate's attempt to impose the speed limit only on highways south of the Bay City-Muskegon line (town line 16) was beaten in the House and the bill passed there with six votes to spare. The Senate accepted the state-wide speed limit without a vote to spare.

But the House refused to give the bill immediate effect.

Gov. Williams said he would sign it.

Caught in an iron-clad midnight adjournment deadline, the House and Senate fell into a deadlock over the number of beds to be provided for mentally retarded children and could not get untangled in time.

ARGUE OVER NUMBER

The Senate was fighting for a $1,200,000 program to provide 1,370 additional beds, while the House stuck for a $5,021,751 program to provide 2,075 beds. There are 1,221 children waiting admission to state hospitals and Williams had asked for space for 1,450.

The Legislature also approved the addition of 200 more state police officers for highway patrols.

3 Jail Escapees Still at Large

7 of 10 Convicts Caught After Burrowing Tunnel Under Coast Prison

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Seven of 10 convicts who bored through concrete and dirt to liberty late Thursday were back in the Washington State Penitentiary today and an intensified search was being made for the three still at large.

* * *

Posses rounded up the seven yesterday in groups of four and three. All surrendered meekly despite their reputations for toughness.

Four were picked up before noon yesterday as they hiked along railroad tracks in a brushy area 20 miles north of here after a night spent in a farmer's outbuildings.

Last night, approximately 24 hours after they had slipped out the mouth of a 60-foot tunnel outside the prison's west wall, three more were picked up at Milton-Freewater, Ore., 10 miles south of Walla Walla.

The last three included William B. Bracey, 20-year-old Tacoma youth who slew his mother two years ago in a fit of pique because she declined to let him use the family automobile.

Still at large and believed to be wandering somewhere in the rolling farmlands which surround this prison town for scores of miles are three robbers, all sent to Walla Walla for 20 year terms.

Molotov Closer to Defeat on Free German Elections

GENEVA (INS)—The Western Big Three virtually have compelled Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to return to Moscow today and seek new instructions to stave off diplomatic defeat at the Geneva talks.

Molotov faces almost certain defeat at the foreign ministers conference on the key issue of free elections for the reunification of Germany.

The veteran Soviet diplomat flew back to Moscow today even though he loathes flying. But his situation has become almost desperate.

For the past 48 hours it has been apparent that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan have used splendid teamwork to pin Molotov in a corner.

The Western diplomats have made the Russian minister's position untenable in the eyes of both West Germany and Communist East Germany by handing him an ultimatum to have free and secret elections by September 1956.

The fixed "Spirit of Geneva" grin was finally wiped off Molotov's face by the Western move, which Dulles said would permit the Big Four conference to pass its "acid test" at Geneva.

Molotov may come back from Moscow with some sort of final answer but yesterday he all but rejected the election proposal.

He said it did not conform with the directive from the Big Four chiefs of state, it was separated from the European security problem and that the German people themselves should be asked for their views.

The Big Three proposal was submitted with the consent of the West German government and Dulles said it also met the wishes of East Germans.

The proposal provides for the election of an all-German national assembly which would have the job of seeing to the drafting of a constitution and formation of a unified government.

Reuther Attacks Price Increases

UAW Chieftain Claims 'Industry Statesmanship' Is Lacking in Nation

DETROIT (AP) — CIO President Walter Reuther says the American consumer is the "forgotten man" who is needlessly paying for his union's wage increases through higher product prices.

Addressing the Detroit Adcraft club yesterday, Reuther said this country needs "industrial statesmanship" and lower prices that would enable the consumer to enjoy "more of the good things of life."

Reuther said the consumer is left on the "short end of the deal" following contract wage increases because many industries automatically increase prices following the wage hikes.

Profit records of large industries show such increases are unnecessary, said Reuther. He singled out General Motors Corp. and the Ford Motor Co. as examples.

CITES PROFITS

Ford profits this year might equal the firm's combined profits for the last 21 years, said Reuther, while GM's statement shows it made about 220 million dollars profit a month for the first nine months this year.

Still, said Reuther, "prices in the auto industry are going up."

With profits at these unbelievable heights, industry ought to be willing to demonstrate industrial statesmanship to lead America down the road to lower prices, bigger markets and more prosperity," said Reuther.

He said that the 21-cent hourly package the UAW won from the auto industry last summer was "sizeable."

MAKERS CAN ABSORB IT

But he added that measured in terms of industry, auto makers "could pay that increase and absorb it without one penny in price increases."

Reuther said he fully agreed with complaints by newspaper publishers that recent increases in newsprint costs were not justified by the industry's profit margin.

"But," said Reuther, "it depends on whose ox is getting gored before complaints are raised about price increases."

New County Courthouse Plan Is Being Proposed

"reveals a substantial majority" favors a new building at the present downtown site.

Supervisor Harold K. Schone, of Oak Park, Special Building Committee chairman, expressed his committee's appreciation for the "time, expense and effort" put forth by the chamber's committee in preparing its suggestion and said his group would give the proposals full consideration.

"We are primarily interested in a location which will best serve the majority of county residents," he stated.

The supervisors Sept. 20 approved a recommendation by Schone's committee that the site be located in the service center. Pontiac supervisors voted against the plan.

"If any change in location plans is made it would have to be by vote of the entire board of supervisors," Schone explained.

Harley, Ellington and Day, architects and engineers of Detroit, were retained to make the cost study by the chamber.

The estimates, they explain, are based on "experience in the construction field . . . (and) . . . such an estimate will predict with reasonable accuracy the actual cost of a completed building."

Their figures relate to cost of constructing a three-story building in the service center compared with a ten-story structure on the present downtown site.

In preparing their analysis, the firm says it made several assumptions:

1. The same amount of useable floor area will be provided in each building—202,164 square feet. (This figure was taken from a previous study of courthouse needs obtained by the county.)

2. Soil conditions at each site are such that no special work will be required to support foundations.

3. The present heating plant at the service center would adequately heat a new building. (New heating facilities would have to be installed if the building is erected downtown.)

4. The present courthouse and health building adjacent to the west would have to be torn down.

5. A downtown building would be done in two steps—the health building razed and a ten-story building put up containing court rooms and some office space, then the present courthouse torn down and a 10-story office building constructed to connect with the courts building.

But plumbing, ventilation and air-conditioning could be placed more economically in the ten-story building, the architects reported.

Connection of gas, water, electric and sewer services would be they assert, and say the service-center site would require added money for grading, paving and landscaping.

"Additional corridor space required by the three-story scheme amounts to approximately $11,000 square feet and represents an additional building cost of approximately $200,000.

"We felt it would be possible to erect the building at the downtown site, including about 15,000 square feet of shop rental area, at approximately the same cost as . . . the building, without this rental area, at the Telegraph Road site."

The overall picture, they say, would find the service center site costing two to three per cent more.

The chamber also presented results of an opinion poll of persons using the courthouse Oct. 3-37.

Some 193, or 50.9 per cent preferred the downtown site, while 135, or 34.7 per cent favored the supervisors to resubmit to voters a proposal which would allow a special tax to finance the building. If a special tax were approved, the money needed could be borrowed through a general public obligation bond issue which would be paid off by the extra tax money.

Extra taxes to finance the building were twice turned down by county voters last year, although they did approve the idea of putting up a new building.

Since the two votes, the supervisors have been considering a revenue bond issue to finance the building.

The Special Building Committee has planned to submit articles at the supervisors' Nov. 10 meeting which, if approved, would set up an authority with power to issue revenue bonds.

The revenue bond method would require no extra tax, but the chamber states it would cost more than $1,500,000 more than by the general obligation bond method.

"We stand ready to lend vigorous support to a general obligation bond issue, which we feel would pass if the citizens were thoroughly alerted to the need for a new courthouse," the chamber says.

Besides Schone, building committee members present at the meeting were Delos Hamlin, of Farmington; Harry W. Horton, of Royal Oak; David Levinson, of Birmingham; Ernest V. Blanchard, of Farmington Township; Eugene Swem, of Southfield Township; H. Lloyd Clawson, of Royal Oak and R. C. Cummings, of Pontiac.

County Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt also attended as did two representatives of the architectural firm, Paul Brown and Max Stirton.

The chamber was represented by Norvell; Robert J. St. Clair, secretary, and John W. Hirlinger, assistant secretary.

Chamber committee members present who worked on the survey included Glenn C. Gillespie, Dr. George N. Petroff and Abe Lapides. Pontiac was represented by Mayor William W. Donaldson and City Manager Walter K. Willman, who explained the plans for increasing municipal parking space.

DEM USES TECHNICALITY

A Democrat, Sen. John B. Swainson of Detroit, used a technicality to block proposals to set up schools for bad drivers, require uniform driver licensing procedures, train local licensing examiners and require the re-examination of drivers every three years.

Also defeated were various proposals to raise driver license fees.

The fight over new beds for mentally retarded children was essentially a fight between the Senate's demand that 800 children be placed in the idle Army hospital at Fort Custer and the House's insistence that the state buy the Farmington Children's Hospital and the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, as well as putting only 600 children in the Fort Custer Hospital.

Williams had gone to Washington to secure use of the Fort Custer Hospital and had rejected the Oakland County Hospital puchase in his message to the Legislature.

But he belabored the Senate for its stand, arguing that the Fort Custer facilities were the "least acceptable" of all considered and that purchase of the Oakland institution was warranted to provide bed space in Southeastern Michigan.

Williams called the Senate's stand "intolerable."

Republican leaders issued a statement saying that there was good faith on both the House and Senate sides and that the majority party was happy to return Monday and try to resolve the dispute.

Purse Snatching Suspect Bumps Into Detectives

Detectives investigating a reported purse snatching at Bagley and Wessen Sts. last night never had it so good.

As they were talking to the victim, Mrs. Eugene Johnson, of 262 Howard McNeill St., a man she identified as the snatcher walked by.

The officers grabbed the man, identified as Charles Hawkins, 47, of 186 Wessen St. Gripped in his hand, which was concealed inside his coat pocket, they found an 8-inch knife, they reported.

Hawkins is being held for investigation of larceny and investigation of carrying a concealed weapon.

Mrs. Johnson said $25 was taken from a wallet in the purse.

In the first half of 1955, American automobile factories shipped 366,265 station wagons—16,000 more than in all 1954, when a production record was set.

Club Members Opening Drive to Sell Cakes

The Pontiac Civitan Club hopes for a fine start in its annual fund raising project soon, Robert Tricker, chairman of the cake committee, is leading the whole membership in an attempt to win first place again this year in the Great Lakes district for selling the most fruit cake in four states.

Working with Tricker as team captains are Felix Anderson, James Wilkinson, George Ross, Ed Karnoogian, Robert Clemens and Ralph Morehouse.

These captains will canvass the community and take shifts selling from the cake trailer to be placed near the county courthouse during the Christmas shopping season.

Proceeds from the cake sale will be used in various community projects to help finance the Camp Fire Girls, summer camping for boys, hospital bed and wheelchair service and other civic projects.

SEC Halts Report of Firm's Stock Sale

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Securities and Exchange Commission today held up a registration statement covering the sale of common stock by the Ultrasonic Corp. of Cambridge, Mass.

The company filed the statement in June, 1954 for an offering of 200,000 shares of common stock at $12.75 a share. The offering was to be handled by a group of 44 underwriter. The registration statement became effective in July, 1954.

The SEC said at the time that the company was engaged in the manufacture of air-conditioning and industrial control equipment and a variety of other electronic products for the armed services.

The agency said that its staff advised that the claims in the registration statement "were deficient or false in material respects," or failed to state important facts.

The SEC scheduled a hearing for Nov. 18 in Boston.

Four Missing in Plane Crash

Flaming C47 Plows Into Connecticut River, Four Others Rescued

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP)—Four persons were rescued and four more were missing early today in the crash of a C47 plane into the middle of the Connecticut River during heavy rain late last night.

* * *

The two-engine craft was en route from Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, D.C., to Westover Air Force Base in nearby Chicopee in central Massachusetts.

Police said the plane crashed in flames about two miles north of Holyoke near Route 5 and about three miles from Westover.

The survivors, transferred to Westover AFB Hospital after treatment at Holyoke hospitals for shock and immersion, were identified by Westover as:

Navy Capt. Henry C. Nichols, Salem, Mass., said by police to be "hitchhiking" a ride home.

T.Sgt. Richard Garhard, 32, of 809 Atlantic Ave, Rochester, N.Y.

Mrs. Pearl Keller of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., visiting at her mother's home on Route 5 near the crash scene, said she heard an airplane engine sputtering and then a splash in the river.

She said that about 10 minutes later a barefooted survivor appeared at the house and asked her to get the police. She quoted the unidentified man as saying, "There is a man on the plane who cannot swim."

Don Curtis, a Holyoke businessman and former Air Force pilot, said the plane circled over his home and then he heard both engines "sputtering, backfiring and spitting."

* * *

Rescue operations were hampered by yesterday's heavy rain which washed out sections of Route 5 leading to the crash scene.

Capt. Nichols was found walking along railroad tracks near the river bank by American League baseball umpire Ed Hurley, a resident of Holyoke, and Paul Donahue, Springfield Union photographer. They took him to Providence Hospital, Holyoke.

The Day in Birmingham

Event of the Year Due for Students, Employers

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham Business Club will have its largest social event of the year at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday when members, all retail and commercial students at Birmingham High School, entertain their employers at a dinner and program held in the school cafeteria.

In this case, the employers happen to be a contributing factor in the final grades each 11th or 12th student attains in the coordinated elective course he or she is studying.

Under the cooperative program, pupils in the retail division are in class for two hours and then on the job in a retail store that afternoon. Likewise, the same theory is put into practice for commercial students, who are employed in offices each afternoon.

Some 30 bosses, referred to as "the downtown part of our faculty," will attend the third annual dinner meeting with about the same number of youthful employes.

Charles E. Boyd, secretary-treasurer of the Retail Merchants Assn. in Detroit, will give the keynote address on "Cooperative Training and Placement." Another talk by Mayor Charles Renfrew will be on, "Birmingham's Response to Youth."

TO GREET MERCHANTS

Ernest Seaholm, Board of Education president, will greet the merchants and introduce the guests, with Supt. of Schools Dwight B. Ireland giving the invocation and closing remarks.

Teacher-coordinator of the club and program is Mrs. Joan C. Marks, who explained that the program is invaluable in making the transition from school to business and aids equally in laying the foundation for those students going on to college.

Through monthly bake sales, she said the club is able to raise funds for this occasion, as well as giving a Christmas party each year, usually at an orphange.

Members also have dinner and attend either the theater or opera once a year in Detroit, attend the Retail and Business Club state convention and send representatives to the Delegates Congress.

During the coming week, National Education Week, some 200 pupils will learn from first-hand experience just how it feels to be stared at from inside a goldfish bow.

For to demonstrate teaching methods to all interested citizens, the pupils and about 30 teachers will take turns conducting "live" classes in a window of Mulholland's store on North Woodward avenue, with a microphone hook-up for easy hearing.

Charles Palmer, Pembroke School principal who is in charge of the program, said the classrooms-in-a-window will be in operation from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. during the week, plus 7 to 9 p.m. Friday, and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday. Kindergartners through seniors will be among the 13 schools represented.

"Over the top" in its building campaign to raise a minimum of $100,000 is St. Columban Catholic Church, Father Thomas M. Kenny, pastor, has announced.

With some parishioners still to be called on, $113,012 in contributions were realized in the third week of visitation, he said, lending hope that the next report meeting will send the total still higher.

Funds being raised will help offset the current parish debt, enabling construction of a parochial school.

If any local organization is looking for a charity project to sponsor, the City Commission might have a recommendation.

This week, in keeping with its policy, the commission was forced to turn down an outside request to conduct a Nov. 18 tag day here, but said the request would be granted if a local service club or group came forward to sponsor the fund drive for the Tri-County Council for National Retarded Children.

In celebration of National Education Week, Vaughan School PTA will hold open house at the school at 8 p.m. Monday. All classrooms will be open for parents to view their children's work and get acquainted with the teacher.

Happy President Awaits Old Pal

Health Gain Cheers Up Ike Before Reunion With Montgomery

DENVER (AP)—The start of his seventh week of hospitalization found President Eisenhower encouragingly better today and happily awaiting a conference with British Field Marshal Lord Montgomery.

The two old comrades-in-arms of World War II were planning a reunion at 11:30 a.m. EST at Fitzsimons Army Hospital where an X-ray examination yesterday disclosed the President's mending heart "remains normal in size."

Doctors were "very pleased" at the lack of any enlargement of the heart. They termed it important and encouraging after the sitting up and walking the President has done this week.

The report strengthened prospects that Eisenhower will be able to fly to Washington next Friday and then move on to his farm at Gettysburg, Pa., a few day later.

The President walked the longest distance yesterday since his heart attack Sept. 24. He strolled from his eight floor hospital room to an elevator that took him to the third floor.

He walked from the elevator to the X-ray room, and then back again. He sat in a wheel chair for the ride up and down on the elevator.

2 Youths Flee Officers After Car Hits Pole

One Roseville youth was hospitalized and another was being questioned by Bloomfield Township police today after they fled the smashed auto owned by one of the boy's parents early this morning.

Pontiac Police picked up the juveniles, both 14, about an hour after they cracked into a utility pole at Franklin Rd. and Alton St., just inside the city's southern limits.

According to police, the auto was involved in a hit-run accident at Woodward and Square Lake Rd. and was being pursued by a witnessing motorist when the crash occurred.

Officers followed a trail of blood for a half-block after arriving at the scene. An hour later, the boys were spotted by the investigating officers and chased through backyards and over fences before being caught on Grant street.

One youth, the passenger, was taken to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment of multiple face cuts. The driver, whose mother owned the demolished car, was being questioned by Bloomfield officers.

Pontiac Police Marksmen Awarded for Firing Skill

Top pistol marksmen of the Pontiac Police were awarded trophies yesterday for high scores achieved during department contests this fall.

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley made the awards. He said there has been a great improvement in shooting proficiency since the department put increased emphasis on the skill three years ago.

Practice at the police range on N. Oakland Ave. is now available six days a month, he said. Each officer must attend at least once a month, and reach the qualifying score once a year.

A score of 70 per cent is necessary to qualify. Patrolman Robert Verhine, Range Officer, tallies scores and gives extra instruction to officers who need it, the chief said.

Officers practice slow, rapid, timed and silhouette fire with the .38 caliber Smith & Wessen revolver they carry when on duty.

'UP TO INDIVIDUAL'

"To know how to use a pistol well is up to the individual officer. I'm very pleased in the increased interest shown," Chief Straley said.

The Inter-Bureau trophy was accepted by Insp. Clark M. Wheaton of the Detective Bureau, and Sgt. Medford E. Pittman received the Inter-Unit trophy in behalf of Traffic and Safety Bureau personnel.

A trophy for top team was accepted by Sgt. Harry E. Nye. Verhine, Nye and Patrolman John Justice won awards for high aggragate scores, which Chief Straley termed "magnificent." Scores were 296, 293 and 298, respectively, out of a possible 300.

PERFECT SCORE

With a score of 97 out of 100, Patrolman Leroy Hartman won a trophy for slow fire. Time fire trophy was won by Patrolman Harold Hayden, with a score of 98. A perfect score won Patrolman Clarence "Jerry" Smith a trophy for rapid fire.

Nye, Verhine and Justice, placing in that order, won medals as a result of a contest among members of the winning pistol team.

The Inter-Bureau trophy was donated by R. B. Oliver. Sidney Sach donated the Inter-Unit trophy as well as the medals.

Wanted: 200 Road Patrolmen

New State Trooper Test Scheduled for December

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State Police almost literally hung huge "help wanted" signs on all its posts today.

* * *

As soon as the special session of the Legislature had voted $657,800 to hire 200 more troopers for highway patrol work, state police Commr. Joseph A. Childs flashed word to his posts to begin recruiting at top speed. He wants to have the men trained and on the roads by spring.

The State Civil Service Commission ordered examinations for troopers Dec. 17 and said applications should be on file or in the mail by midnight of Nov. 30.

To aid the drive, the Civil Service Commission has authorized an increase in training pay to the level of a first-year trooper—$151 every two weeks. In addition troopers will get $75 per month expense allowance and their uniforms.

Candidates must be between 21 and 29 years of age, not less than five feet nine inches tall, in good physical condition and have the equivalent of a high school education.

* * *

Childs said all officers and posts will try to recruit men and that recruiting teams will visit a number of communities.

Reflections

WOMEN ARE STRANGE

J. E. VOORHEES

I've never seen a woman with a basket of cabbage on her head nor one trudging to market with a goose but I have seen a few drive beautiful new cars to market, to buy what men have raised. When there's a job to be done women take charge and we men make alibis. If women weren't insatiable "button pushers" rivers wouldn't be harnessed; if they didn't shove few men would reach the peak of financial wealth.

M. E. SIPLE

War would be abolished; it would be fought over a bridge game on a four doubled bid and if they didn't insist upon ruby lips and peach-bloom cheeks—in jars—drug stores would have more room for their lunch counters.

When women learned to use can openers cook-books went into the discard. In olden times women worked too but they didn't know about cakes in packages and dried soup in cellophane bags; it's the men who build the fires to heat the cans that women open. Our women are Queens and we are the willing firemen.

Aged Industrialist Bilked of $423,771 by Clique of 'Slickest Confidence Men'

NEW YORK (AP)—Postal inspectors have uncovered an imaginative swindle which they said cost a 77-year-old Rochester, N. Y. industrialist $423,771 in the last four years.

The scheme was disclosed yesterday following the arrest of Patrick H. Lennon, 50, of New York. Authorities said he was an ex-convict and "one of the slickest confidence men picked up in a long, long time."

Lennon was described by Post Office men as the principal figure in a swindle in which the victim was baited by the hope of collecting millions on bogus patents left over from a firm that fell in the stock market crash of 1929.

Also arrested in the case was Leo F. Hampton, 74, also of New York. Like Lennon, he was charged with mail fraud.

Postal Authorities said more arrests would follow, including a woman who posed as Lennon's secretary.

* * *

The victim was identified as Augustine J. Cunningham, president of a Rochester firm that manufactures plumbing and electrical equipment. The company was founded 116 years ago by Cunningham's grandfather.

The inspectors said this is how the swindle worked:

Cunningham, who had lost $100,000 when the Intercity Radio and Telegraph Co. collapsed in 1929, was approached by one of a group posing as beneficiaries of a will left by a scientist who they said had been connected with Intercity.

The swindlers told Cunningham he was also named in Dr. Randolph Parker's will and with them was heir to electronic patents on which 60 million dollars could be collected from the radio, television and movie industries. Parker's name is believed to be as fictitious as the will and the rights.

Cunningham was persuaded to help the group buy up releases from stockholders of the defunct company in order to retain all benefits from the patents for themselves.

* * *

The swindle was discovered after Cunningham's banker noticed his large withdrawals and urged him to check on the deal. Since some of Cunningham's payments were made by mail, he reported the case to postal authorities.

Lennon was released in $20,000 bail and faces removal to Rochester.

U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams, noting that Lennon was sentenced to four years in jail in 1945 in connection with violation of Securities and Exchange regulations, commented:

* * *

"He is not an infant in the game."

Hampton, whose arrest was made about 10 days ago at Newark, N. J., airport, was being held in default of $20,000 bail.

U.S. Rejection of Ecuador Plan May Cause U. N. Split

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The 20-nation Latin American bloc in the U.N. threatened today to split with the United States over the makeup of an international committee to study the effects of atomic radiation.

* * *

The difference arose last night in the U.N. Political Committee. U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth surprised Latin American delegates by indicating that the United States would reject an appeal from Ecuaror to enlarge the proposed 11-member scientific group. Ecuador wants two Spanish-speaking nations included, among others.

Wadsworth said he regretted that he could not support the Ecuadorean proposal, which reportedly has the solid backing of the Latin American bloc. He said the United States felt a committee of more than 11 members would be unwieldy and could defeat the whole purpose of the project.

U.S. RISKS DEFEAT

Latin American diplomats said privately that, unless the United States changes its views, it cannot expect their support on the Western-backed proposal to set up an international committee of scientists to study the dangers of atomic radiation.

Observers predicted that—with the Soviet bloc and the Arab-Asian states also pressing for an enlarged scientific group—the United States risks defeat unless it rephrases its proposal.

There has been growing dissatisfaction among the Spanish-speaking nations over the Western proposal which would name 11 countries to choose scientists for the atomic radiation study committee.

The resolution lists Australia, Brazil, Canada, Czechoslovakia, France, India, Japan, Sweden, Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union. Portuguese-speaking Brazil, although on the list, has made it known that it supports the Ecuadorean appeal.

Joiner pleaded guilty to a charge of possesion of an unregistered whisky still yesterday in Federal Court. He was released on $500 bond pending sentence.

Expert Reports on Recent Study

Meet Monday in Effort to Rescue $750,000 Crop for 1956

ROMEO—A plan of action to meet the menace of the codling moth which is reportedly threatening the apple industry in the Romeo area will be formulated by orchardmen here next Monday afternoon.

* * *

The meeting culminates a study conducted last month by state and commercial fruit growers who toured orchards in the vicinity to determine whether neglected trees are causing the damage. Area orchardmen had sought advice of the experts following a session which revealed frequent sprayings could not entirely forestall damage done by the moths from uncared-for orchards.

Monday's open session will be held at the home of Herman Rapp on Van Dyke, where the problem was first brought to light by Tom Bowerman, local orchard official.

The study group was headed by Dr. Don Hootman, extension specialist in horticulture from MSU and secretary of the State Horticulture Society. He said, "I don't know how they can grow apples in Romeo."

* * *

He was referring to the conditions he found in orchards recently subdivided. The trees in these areas were termed "degenerate," causing widespread damage to producing orchards on neighboring property.

The apple industry in Romeo, valued at up to three-quarter million dollars, will be in jeopardy in 1956 as a result of the degenerate trees if regulations governing the situation are not instituted in the very near future, according to Hootman. He added that laws governing orchards sold for subdivisions should specify the trees be removed upon sale of the property for a new housing development.

His views and those of other study group members will be aired on Monday with some positive action expected to be taken by area fruit growers who are fighting to save the industry.

Rita Files Divorce Complaint While Visiting Aly Khan

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Rita Hayworth moved yesterday to divorce her fourth husband, singer Dick Haymes, in a complaint filed from Paris, where she has been visiting her third mate, Moslem Prince Aly Khan.

* * *

The complaint was airmailed to the actress' attorney, William K. Woodburn, and filed here yesterday. It said Haymes had caused her "great unhappiness and injured her mental health."

Woodburn said Miss Hayworth will not have to come back to Nevada to obtain her divorce if Haymes does not "create legal problems."

Haymes, who was nearly deported for flying to Hawaii with the actress before they were married, said in Chicago where he is appearing at the Chez Paree: "I will not contest the divorce in any way."

"My only desire is for Rita's continued happiness," he added.

* * *

Miss Hayworth established legal residence in Nevada when she started divorce action against Prince Aly. Her attorney said it is still good. She and Haymes lived at Lake Tahoe for a year before returning to Hollywood last June.

Miss Hayworth, 36, and Haymes, 37, were married at Las Vegas Sept. 24, 1953, shortly after he had divorced his third wife, Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes.

7th United Fund Drive $31,549 Oversubscribed

Fine work, Pontiac!

For the seventh successive year the people of this area have put the United Fund drive over the top. Not only that, but for the first time in the history of the give-once-for-all idea here, the objective was reached and passed without an extension of solicitation time.

The goal this year was $562,175. Collection totaled $593,724.

This means that the drive went over the top by the exceedingly comfortable and creditable margin of $31,549. In other words, Pontiac and Waterford and Pontiac Townships turned in not just 100 per cent effort on this big annual job, but 105.1 per cent.

For this credit is due to the thousands of men, women and children who contributed to the fund needed by the 55 service organizations and to everyone who helped make the drive a success.

★ ★ ★

The entire community is indebted to the hundreds of volunteer workers headed by Campaign Manager Robert M. Critchfield and United Fund President William B. Hartman.

It is a privilege to live in and serve a community which so unfailingly recognizes its social welfare obligations and meets them so magnificently.

Sound Publicity Credited for Top Tourist Season

The 1955 tourist season was the best ever experienced by Western Michigan.

In the view of experts, credit for that belongs to the sound promotion publicity program developed by the State and the tourist industry in recent years.

The outstanding work done along this line for the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association has been given special recognition by the Midwest Travel Writers' Association. It called travel news and photo coverage by Publicity Director Aubrey D. Strohpaul the best for any area in the United States.

It helps to put things in perspective to remember that Michigan has to compete for tourist business with 47 other states. Further evidence of the fine publicity work done lies in the fact that Western Michigan was runnerup in two previous years.

★ ★ ★

As the Grand Rapids Press has pointed out, the honor in the citation belongs to West Michigan, but the benefits of the work done are shared by the entire State.

What it all boils down to, of course, is that the resort industry learned long ago that it pays to advertise.

Railroads Will Spend $6 Billion in Five Years

Most Americans realize how important railways are in our national life but few can know how much our economy is stimulated by the carrier's purchases of needed equipment.

This fact was emphasized by a report just in from the Michigan Railroads Association. It shows that in the five years beginning next January, the country's railroads will have spent $6 billion for rolling stock, structures and yard improvements.

In each of the five years they will spend $525,000,000 for 75,000 new freight cars and $200,000,000 for 1,200 locomotives. Passenger train cars and other equipment will take $110,000,000. Roadway additions, structures, terminals, yards, new signals and communications will account for $365,000,000.

The report is valuable for making one fact clear. If the railroads are to provide the services a growing Nation needs at the lowest possible cost, the association says these purchases are unavoidable.

★ ★ ★

All these orders, of course, mean more work for the companies that build this equipment and more buying power in the communities where they are located.

Toll Road Squeeze

Ziegler's Friends Pushing Higgins Into Corner

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING—Friends of State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler are starting to work the squeeze play on the Saginaw-Flat Rock toll road which he opposes.

• • •

With the innocence of gentle maidens, two veteran legislators this week applied a squeeze which could stir a lot of opposition to the toll road at a time when it is fighting for its life.

The first move was made by Rep. Emil R. Peltz (R-Rogers City), chairman of the House Roads and Bridges Committee. He was followed within an hour by Rep. Herb Clements (R-Deckerville).

Peltz came out first with a long statement in which he said both Ziegler and George N. Higgins, chairman of the State Turnpike Authority, were nice fellows who were just trying to do what the Legislature told them to do.

• • •

Peltz allowed as how Higgins is right when he tries to build the toll road and that Ziegler is right when he tries to build competing free roads alongside the toll road.

LOTS OF FUEL

It's up to the Legislature, said Peltz, to solve this conflict.

Buried in the back of Peltz's statement was a lot of fuel for the freeway boys.

• • •

Peltz innocently recalled that a survey of traffic feasibility for the toll road emphasized that the toll road was financially possible only if "no other new major highway construction or relocation projects will be made on these north-south highways."

And then Peltz attached a little map showing what he said were the competing highways the traffic analysts said could not be expanded.

It looked like a road map of eastern Michigan.

For Coverdale and Colpitts, New York traffic analysts, listed these as competing roads for the toll road: U.S. 16 from Detroit to Lansing, U.S. 223 from the Ohio line to Jackson and U.S. 27 from Lansing to St. Louis, U.S. 23 road Ohio to Flint, U.S. 24 from Ohio to Pontiac and U.S. 10 from Detroit to Saginaw, U.S. 25 from Ohio to Detroit, M150 and M15 from Detroit to Lapeer.

• • •

The traffic engineers said these roads could be maintained in good condition but could not be expanded without taking necessary traffic away from the toll road.

EXPANSION BAN

Immediately, Clements popped in a bill forbidding the highway commissioner to expand these roads.

• • •

Now no one in the Capitol was so naive as to think that Clements was trying to clear the way for the toll road. As a resident of the rural Thumb area, he wouldn't be so foolish as to try political suicide by that route.

The proof was, of course, that the bill was promptly buried in a House committee.

But it had served its purpose. It had caused the sweat to gather on Higgins' brow and it probably had caused some folks in eastern Michigan to start wondering just what the toll road would do to their free highway system.

• • •

And then to drive the point deep, Peltz said righteously that the Legislature had soaked these folks an extra three cents a gallon gas tax to improve their free roads and that the Legislature could not be so dishonest as to not give them some better roads for their dough.

Higgins had to first deny that the Turnpike Authority was back of Clements bill.

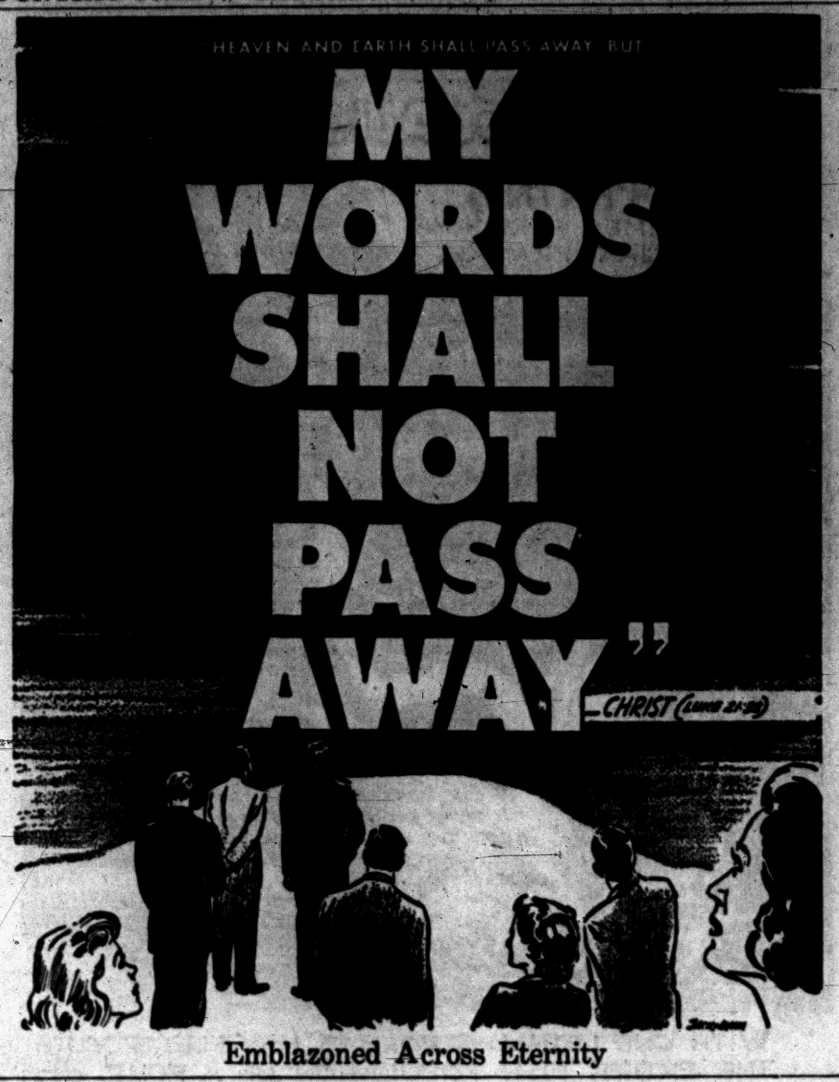

SECOND DENIAL

Then he denied that the toll road would prevent improvement of anything but U. S. 10 and U.S. 25. These, he said, were the only real competitors to the toll road.

• • •

But Peltz replies by pointing his finger at the traffic engineers' map and saying, "Read it yourself."

The result of the squeeze play is that Ziegler can say the Legislature refused to stop him expanding the eastern Michigan roads and therefore he has at least implied instructions to go ahead—and block the toll road.

Physician Answers Questions on Use of Nicotinic Acid by Heart Sufferers

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Questions and Answers

Physician giving my husband nicotinic acid for weak heart. Every time my husband takes it his skin turns very red and he complains of his heart pounding. He takes a tablet after each meal. Is nicotinic acid a coaltar product? (Mrs. B. M.)

Is it true that nicotinic acid is derived from the tobacco leaf? (A. C. W.)

Please tell us what nicotinic acid is and what it is used for. (H. H.)

Answer — Nicotinic acid, now better known as niacin, is one of the vitamins in the B-complex, and so it grows, as thiamin does, in such foods as wheat, peas, beans, oats, corn, potato, milk. It is the vitamin of chief importance for the prevention and cure of pellagra. Aside from the temporary discomfort, as described by Mrs. B. M., from a full dose, it is not injurious in any way. It is not derived from tobacco. The disagreeable skin flushing is less likely to occur if nicotinic acid amide (niacin amide) is used instead of nicotinic acid (niacin). It may be made from coaltar, it may be made from nicotine, but it has none of the effects of tobacco or nicotine.

Nearly a year ago sent for Little Lesson 25 . . . for six months or more no need of artificial aid . . . better general health than in all the years of slavery to physic. (T. S. W.)

Answer—There are still millions of Yankee Wiseacres addicted to physic, the poor saps. For Little Lesson 25, Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene, send 25c (clean) and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

I am 14 and think I'm under average height. Please send me the pamphlet The Red Blood Vitamin. (C. L.)

Answer—Write again, and tell me whether you are a boy or a girl, how much you weigh and how tall you are.

The man from the clinic offered readers four kinds of high blood pressure to choose from. While I was trying to decide which category . . . my brother brought me your fine booklet (CVD) and, man, God bless you. (S. E.)

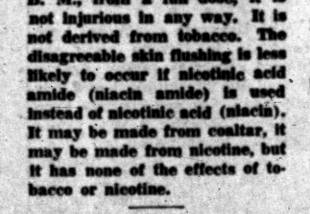

Answer—Thank you, sir. I can assure you that your letter is a tonic to me. Uppermost in mind when writing the booklet was my prayer: If I Can Do No Good, Lord, Let Me Do No Harm. For the booklet CVD, about heart and artery troubles, send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Is hydrated lime poisonous? It is recommended for dusting squash vines to repel insects. Is the squash safe to eat? I never use poisonous insecticedes in my garden. (Mrs. M. N. H.)

Answer — Hydrated lime is otherwise called slake lime, calcium hydrate, calcium hydroxide. Lime water, commonly used to prevent formation of large curds and as a mild antacid, is a solution of the substance in rain water or distilled water. It is not poisonous.

Do you or do you not recommend yogurt in the diet? (R.F.W.)

Answer—No, but if you like yogurt it is just as good food as fresh milk, skim milk, sour milk, buttermilk or acidophilus milk. In my opinion it is not better for health than any other kind of milk or milk product.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Adopted Child Is Especially Lucky; People Are Foster Parents by Choice

Marsha was shocked when she was suddenly informed that she was an adopted child. But you foster youngsters should be delighted, for no adopted child is ever picked unless its new parents want it and love it. It is a mark of distinction, therefore, to be adopted!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-390: Marsha M., aged 14, is a high school freshman.

"Dr. Crane, I am very unhappy," she began, "and that is bringing my school marks down.

• • •

"I used to get straight 'A', grades but now I am lucky to rate a 'B'.

"And it all started last year when my mother told me I was adopted. It was such a shock to me!

"I never dreamed they weren't my real parents! And it has made me uncertain and unhappy ever since.

"At times I get cross and strike back at them. And I feel that I have been cheated, so I don't care much what becomes of me."

ADOPTED CHILDREN

You foster children must remember that your Daddy and Mother "adopted" each other when they decided to get married.

They weren't of any blood kinship at all. And they were probably total srangers until shortly before their wedding.

But since that "adoption," which we call marriage, they have felt closer to each other than they have to their own flesh-and-blood brothers and sisters.

Just check on that fact closely and you will see for yourselves. For a husband and wife are much more akin than they are to their own brothers and sisters.

Well, when a man picks an unrelated young woman to be his wife, just because he loves her and wants to support her for the rest of her life, that represents the very highest kind of kinship.

• • •

It indicates a spiritual affinity that far transcends mere blood relationship. Please remember that Cain killed his blood brother Abel, so there is no magic in "blood" kinship.

Blood relatives will cheat and even kill you unless there is also the spiritual kinship of true love.

That spiritual kinship is thus the only one that really counts. So I told Marsha that her Daddy not only "adopted" her mother when he married her, but he likewise adopted Marsha as a baby.

• • •

He did it not because he had to do so nor because an unexpected pregnancy forced a new baby upon a feuding married couple.

No, he picked her deliberately because he wanted her. He loved her. And to prove his love, he has supported her as well as his income has permitted, for the past 13½ years.

Her mother, too, selected her because of similar love and a positive desire to have her for a daughter. So it is really a greater honor to be an adopted child than to be one of the usual variety.

LOOK AT FACTS

Millions of babies are born to parents who begrudge their arrival. Every physician knows many cases of wives who have tried to have abortions to get rid of unwanted pregnancies.

So a great many children not only aren't intended and aren't desired, but they are resented by their parents when they do arrive.

• • •

Adopted children, however, are definitely not in that class! Nobody adopts a child without wishing to do so.

As a result, you adopted youngsters better get wise to the facts and be unusually grateful that you are foster children. You are fortunate.

For that label automatically indicates your parents loved you and wanted you.

• • •

And even if they grouch at you now or scold you and find fault occasionally, what do you suppose other parents do to their youngsters?

All parents try to correct and improve their children because they want you to succeed. But foster parents usually are better parents than the other type, so reciprocate their devotion and kindnesses.

Days of All Faiths

St. Martin Accidentally Became Patron of Drunkards by Dedication of Nov. 11

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Quite by accident St. Martin, Bishop of Tours, has been put in the position of being the patron saint of drunkards. There certainly is no indication that the good bishop himself was partial either to alcohol or to those who made excessive use of it, but tradition moves in strange ways and is sometimes not bothered by facts.

November 11 had a bad reputation long before St. Martin came along in the fourth century. In the old Roman days it was the day of the feast of Bacchus, the genial god of wine. Naturally, people did a lot of drinking on this occasion, and the custom continued right up through the centuries even after the Roman gods had been forgotten.

So, when November 11 was dedicated to St. Martin, it simply meant that people were doing their drinking on St. Martin's Day, and it is easy to see how care of the tipsy was handed to the saint.

HORRIBLE LEGEND

In earlier times an Irish custom required that some blood must be shed on St. Martin's Day. Ordinarily a goose or a black rooster was slaughtered, but if neither of these fowls was available, people would cut their own fingers and let a drop of blood fall on the ground.

Behind this practice was a legend which, though it had a happy ending, is almost too gruesome to repeat. It was said that St. Martin, having given away everything he possessed, appeared one evening at the home of a poor widow and begged for food.

The woman had nothing in the house to eat, but for reasons not explained in the story, she sacrificed her child and set it before Martin as his supper. After eating his fill the saint departed. When the widow, in grief and sorrow, went to her child's cradle to mourn, she found the babe there unharmed, sleeping peacefully.

The annual sacrifice of a fowl on St. Martin's Day, or the symbolic shedding of human blood, was commemoration of this miracle.

ST. GEORGE IN WWI

Armistice Day (now called Veterans' Day) is, of course the anniversary of the end of the first World War. It is in no sense a church holiday, but it does bring to mind one of the few religious stories connected with that first worldwide conflict.

According to many eyewitness accounts, a miracle happened during the disastrous retreat at Mons, France, in 1914. The Allied strength at one point in their line had dwindled to a small force of only 1,000 English soldiers. The Germans opposing them were many times that number. Fighting against enormous odds, and without adequate ammunition, the defenders were finally reduced to a mere 500.

When all seemed lost the men in the trenches heard a shout of "St. George! St. George for England!" and saw before their astounded eyes a line of mediaeval bowmen, with an angel in command, firing a rain of arrows on the advancing Germans.

• • •

Ten thousand Germans fell before the ghostly warriors, and the German army is said to have complained that the English had used some secret new poison, for no marks could be found on the fallen German soldiers.

PURITAN AND PILGRIM

A reader asks "What was the difference between Puritans and Pilgrims, or were they the same?"

The Puritans were extreme reformers in England in the time of Queen Elizabeth and later. Although the Church of England had broken its ties with Rome and had introduced many changes, there were still a large number of Englishmen who were far from satisfied.

They wanted a "radical purification" of the church. They rejected all human tradition and said that the Bible, "the pure Word of God," was the sole authority in Christianity. By their constant use of the word pure in one form or another, they earned the name Puritans.

The point, then, is that Puritans who came to New England were Pilgrims, those who stayed in the old country were not.

Norman Feet Convinced of Value of Safety Belts

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Some of these people who aren't convinced of the merit of seat belts in cars must not have been around very long. I have seen mothers suddenly stop a car and have the child fly against the dash and be badly bruised, luckily not killed.

As for using belts on short trips, you should have been at Huron and Genesee a few months ago when three women were struck by a small truck going through a red light. The truck driver didn't have a safety belt either. He was killed and the three women thrown out of the car door onto the pavement, but luckily only hurt.

Yes, belts are a nuisance and optional, but it might save your life.

Ruth Hagon Questions Court Contempt Charge

In Camden, N. J., a Baptist pastor has been cited for contempt for writing a letter to a newspaper pertaining to one of the court's decisions, and the judge thought it "touched on the integrity of the courts."

Since when has it become unlawful for a citizen to express his opinions of our courts?

Rightfully, under our theory of law, our people are superior to any department of government and can exercise their wishes in accordance with the methods prescribed in our Constitution.

Some day this honorable judge may learn that the will of our people is the supreme law of our land.

Jordan Has Back Seat in Arab War

By International News Service

You'll notice that Egyptian troops are making most of the trouble for Israeli forces in the old Holy Land quarrel—not the able army of Arab Jordan to the east.

Jordanian Arabs have their own hostility toward their neighbor, but they also resent Cairo's self-appointed and sometimes dictatorial role in Arab affairs.

But there is another good reason why Jordanian troops are more restrained than the Egyptians. The Jordan Arab Legion is under British influence. That influence has waned in Egypt but remains strong in Jordan.

The Arab legionnaire in Jordan looks pretty much like a British-dressed soldier. That is, from the neck down. Above he is different, wearing a flowing red and white head-dress.

Technically, the Jordan Arab Legion is under the command of young Moslem King Hussein. Actually an old World War I veteran, Gen. Glubb Pasha, is the commander.

General Glubb is a short, round-white-haired man who has served the Legion for 25 years in a little country which has no oil, little fertile land and no discovered mineral deposits.

Unlike other Arab neighbors whose leaders are multimillionaires from rich oil deposits, Jordan is a poor country. Its economy is built around the small but well-trained darmy. And the British taxpayers pay for the legion to the tune of approximately $21,000,000 yearly.

If the British withdrew their support, the economy of Jordan would sink fast.

Young Jordanians long to be in the legionbeca usearedkor rolled in the legion because a recruit in that envied outfit is taught not only to read and to be a soldier but also learns a trade or craft. Sons of Legionnaires go to special schools and they in turn get a chance to join up.

The more intelligent boys get a chance to be sent to Britain to learn medicine, dentistry and other skills which will serve the legion well when they return.

• • •

The Arab legion is everywhere. Jordan mounted policemen on ceremonial parades act as a legion cavalry. Traffic policemen really are legionnaires. The Jordan Airline is another name for the air force serving the legion.

Sunday Trading Wrangle Closes

3 Dayton Food Markets 'Mutually' Agreeing to Lock Up on Sabbath

DAYTON, O. (RNS)—An out-of-court settlement of the "business on Sunday" issue appeared likely here.

Three large supermarket chains which opened on Sunday for the first time several weeks ago offered in court to close "on a mutual basis."

The chains and five independent grocers were named in an injunction suit brought by an assistant city prosecutor who said he was acting as a "citizen of the community." The suit was based on an old state law prohibiting Sunday business.

Although attorneys for the independents postponed a decision on "mutual" closing, they joined with the chains in agreeing to merge a hearing on a temporary injunction with one to be set later for a permanent injunction.

Meanwhile, the Church Federation of Greater Dayton expressed "hope" for the situation after an "off the record" meeting with supermarket operators. The federation stressed it will not let up on its campaign to make Sunday a day of "worship, rest and renewal."

The Sunday issue has touched off one of the year's most bitter controversies here.

Three Local Pastors Speak at Hospital

The nursing staff of Pontiac General Hospital heard a program recently given by three local pastors on "The Religious Needs of the Patient."

The Rev. Fred R. Tiffany, pastor of the Bethany Baptist Church, served as moderator of the panel and explained the Protestant point of view.

Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein of Temple Beth Jacob, represented the Jewish faith and Father Joseph Immell of St. Vincent de Paul Church, spoke for the Catholic patient.

The general chairman was Mrs. Helen M. Beake, director of nursing at the hospital.

Government Will Select Education Delegates of All U. S. Faiths

WASHINGTON, D. C. (RNS) — Delegates from Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish parochial schools will be named by the federal government to the House conference no Education here, Nov. 28-Dec. 1, if state-appointed delegations inadequately represent private education.

* * *

The conference is slated to be the largest meeting of its kind ever held by leaders of American education.

* * *

Two thousand voting delegates are to attend. Fourteen hundred of them will be appointed by state governors.

Three hundred are to represent various civic and education groups, such as the American Legion, National PTA and General Federation of Women's Clubs. Three hundred other "specialists" will be designated by Marion B. Folsom, secretary of health, education and welfare.

Preliminary indications suggest that state delegations will be made up mostly of public school officials and teachers. Should this prove the case the privately-supported schools, which enroll one-eighth of all students in the United States, will be assured of representation through the 300 special delegates, a spokesman for the conference planning staff said.

Are You Sure?

By DON D. TULLIS

At a recent auction I picked up an old school reader published almost a hundred years ago. Apparently it belonged to a young girl, for, on the fly leaf some lad had written in bold letters "I love you."

A few pages further on was her reply in feminine script, "It's sweet to be in love, but ARE YOU SURE?" Did they marry and live happily ever after? Are their offspring among our neighbors and friends today?

The modern divorce record seems to indicate that all too many marriages are on the basis of "trial and error," rather than "So long as we both shall live." "I'll take a chance" is a rather common expression. Marriage is not a "lark" but a long time of character testing. It requires a solemn vow before God and "in the presence of this company."

Hollywood sets a bad example for today's youth. The marriage record reads "She for the fifth and he for the fourth time." This is progressive polygamy which, unfortunately is not prevented by the law. A man may not have several wives at one time but he may have many wives from time to time, if there is a little comma between them and the hands of the clock have marked the duration of conjugal experimentation.

One thing that makes the Hollywood record so disturbing is that our young people look to the movie stars for direction of their lives. "Marriage!" Said a high school girl, "My favorite actress on the screen has been married five times so I'll take a fling at it a time or two."

When the merging of two lives is of no more importance than the trading in of an old automobile for a new one, or a "guaranteed used car," than it becomes a threat to our national stability.

We honor the churches that refuse to marry divorced couples. There are, of course, honorable exceptions in which divorce is the only out, and yet a broken vow is a stain upon any man or woman and one not easy to erase.

Young ladies! You might well follow the lead of the girl of long ago and avoid the danger of a broken home. When he says "I love you" and you realize that "It is sweet to be in love," STOP! CONSIDER! Filter your judgment with sane reasoning and ask yourself and him,

Minister Says Paganism Growing in World Today

TORONTO (RNS) — A coasting Christianity cannot hope to overcome a crusading paganism, Dr. Gaines M. Cook of Indianapolis, Ind., told the 8,000 delegates attending the fifth world convention of the Churches of Christ (Disciples) here.

* * *

The executive secretary of the International Convention of Disciples of Christ said that paganism has launched the mightiest crusade in the entire Christian era.

"Not since the first Christian century," he said, "have we witnessed such zeal, fanaticism, sacrifice and world-wide strategy designed to capture the hearts of men.

"The tragedy of the situation is that the techniques of education and evangelism inherent in the Christian faith have been seized and exploited without restraint. Added to this has been coercion, enslavement and the mighty power of fear."

He warned that no church or individual dares think of its or his responsibility in terms of "business as usual," which could only be described as "coasting."

Christians everywhere, including the Disciples of Christ, have been "stabbed awake" and the mood of the first century Christians is abroad again, Dr. Cook said. He quoted T. R. Glover who described the early Christians as people who "out-thought, out-lived and out-died their pagan contemporaries."

FAMILY EFFECTIVE

Another speaker, Dr. Nelson Chappel of New York, said that in the battle between Christianity and Communism for the minds of children the most effective weapon is the family.

Dr. Chappel is general secretary of the World Council of Christian Education.

* * *

"Whether they like it or not," he said, "every parent is a teacher of religion or irreligion . . . not so much by the formal religious observances such as grace at table, family worship, etc.; although these are important. But these formal observances will have meaning only as . . . the informal training through the attitudes and actions of parents and other members of the family support the formal witness."

* * *

While supporting the Ontario and British system of integrating Christian education with general studies in the schools, Dr. Chappel said there were limitations and even dangers in it.

"It is a great mistake to try to make religious education in the schools a substitute for an adequate religious education in the home or in the church," he said.

Dr. Chappel stressed the need for helping infant churches in Africa, Asia and Latin America set up their own Christian education organizations, train their own leaders and produce their own materials.

With fewer than 50,000,000 Christians among the billion people in Africa and Asia, he said, the churches were beginning to realize that the other 95 per cent cannot be evangelized by foreign missionaries alone, "particularly in these days of rampant nationalism."

Selling Needed in Christianity

Church Layman Insists Organizational Outlook Essential Today

GRAND LEDGE (RNS)—Modern churches need a harder-selling approach to Christianity if they are to combat the inroads of secularism on American life, a Seventh Day Adventist Church layman said today.

* * *

Addressing 4,000 delegates to a Seventh Day Adventist convention here, J. Ernest Edwards of Washington, D. C., said "A great deal of what we think of as sin in present day life stems from immoral literature, degrading motion pictures and demoralizing entertainment."

These actually are the products of business enterprise, he said, and are well organized in selling techniques.

"They cannot be counteracted with pious pronouncements," Edwards said. "What churches must have is better organization, better products, if you please, and more enthusiastic selling."

Primarily, he said, churches need members "with a seven-day a week concern for their neighbors, motivated by a conviction of the soon return of Christ."

Pastor Will Speak on 'Things I Saw'

The Rev. Trenton H. Stanton, pastor of the First Open Bible Church on Joslyn Ave. will speak to his congregation Sunday morning on "Things I saw."

* * *

He has just returned from the Eastern Divisional Conference Tour of Open Bible churches of the New England states. The ministers were guests at the United Nations.

At both the morning and evening services, the Southern Gospel Singers of Sioux City, Iowa will present a musical program.

"This Is My Son," a colored sound film, will be shown during the evening service at 7:30. This is a 30 minute picture.

Catholics Need Teachers

WASHINGTON, D. C. (RNS)—Roman Catholic elementary and high schools will need 42,000 more teachers in the next ten years if they are to keep up with the anticipated increase in student enrollment, Bishop Bryan J. McEntegart, rector of Catholic University of America, said here.

Rev. George L. Garver Has Sermon Printed by National Magazine

In the November issue of the Christian Herald, a sermon preached by the Rev. George L. Garver of the Lutheran Church of the Ascension is featured as the Thanksgiving sermon.

* * *

The Rev. Mr. Garver gave the sermon at the traditional Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Pontiac Pastors' Association in 1951.

* * *

Entitled "What Is There to Be Thankful For," the magazine version follows the rigors of pioneer life in the early community and points to the many privations endured and to the sharing by the settlers of their meager fare with the Indians.

* * *

The sermon asks what might happen to the faith and spirit of our generation should our standard of living be reduced to that of our ancestors.

Iron Curtain Bishops Praised by Cardinal

MONTREAL — The willingness of Roman Catholic prelates to face suffering and death "behind the curtains of iron and bamboo" is in the true tradition of "the thousands of bishops who have shed their blood for their faith since Peter and Paul," Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger, Archbishop of Montreal, said in a sermon here.

* * *

Cardinal Leger preached in Notre Dame church following the consecration of Msgr. Laurent Morin, vicar general of the diocese, as new Auxiliary Bishop of Montreal.

* * *

The duties and difficulties of a bishop, the cardinal said, far outweigh any earthly honor which is attached to the office. As a leader of the church the bishop has a sacred obligation to preserve religious truths, he said, and to be courageous "in opposing all forms of error and resisting all forms of force."

Priest Urges Lawyers to Aid Cause of Truth

SAN FRANCISCO (RNS) — The Rev. James Keller, M. M., appealed here to lawyers and judges to help shift "the course of history back to Christ instead of away from Him."

* * *

Father Keller said many more persons "must be quickly found to get into the main-stream of public life and battle as hard for the truth as others are relentlessly battling against it.

700,000 Needy Italians to Get Relief Packages

ROME (RNS) — Some 700,000 needy Italian families will receive food packages from America during the coming six months under a program sponsored by Catholic Relief Services.

Msgr. Andrew P. Landi of Brooklyn, N. Y., the agency's director in Italy, said the packages will be distributed every 15 days at 1,500 social service centers operated in Italy by the Pontifical Welfare Agency.

Former Convict Now Preaches

Ex-Felon Gives Sermon Before Officials Who Sentenced Him

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — A 27-year-old ex-convict who posed as a state Senator and stole an automobile here in 1953 preached to an overflow audience at First Baptist church.

* * *

Donald A. Brandeis, who recently completed a term of nearly three years in the state prison at Raiford, plans to devote his life to spreading the Gospel.

With tears in his eyes, Brandeis told the dramatic story of his conversion while in prison. He said the man who converted him was serving sentences totaling 199 years.

The former convict was speaking to an unusual audience. In the congregation were the judge who sentenced him, the attorney who prosecuted him, the man from whom he had stolen the automobile, and several law enforcement and parole officials who had dealings with him.

* * *

Each of the men who had a part in sending Brandeis to prison walked up to him after the service and wished him well. Circuit Judge W. May Walker, a deacon in the church, personally welcomed him.

Brandeis, son of a New York doctor, told the congregation that his first derelections were drinking and smoking at the age of 16. Later he stole cars and cashed bad checks, offenses which landed him in 14 jails in three states.

After his conversion at the Raiford prison, Brandeis started a Sunday school there. His first class consisted of four inmates. When he left the prison there were 151 members.

* * *

One of his aims, he said, is to preach at least once in every prison in the United States.

Confident Living

There Is No Easy Religion; Yet These Steps May Help

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Some time ago I talked at a luncheon meeting of a large organization of wholesalers and sat beside one of the leading figures in that particular field. I knew him well as an old friend. But I was surprised to see him there because I had heard he had suffered a heart attack. Yet he seemed in perfect health and happier than I remembered seeing him in recent years.

* * *

I was surprised a second time when the moment for the invocation came and the toastmaster called not upon me, but him. I was impressed by his invocation, every word of which came from the heart, displaying great sincerity and depth of belief.

DR. PEALE

As we talked during the luncheon I asked him, "Jim, how do you explain the fact that you seem so healthy and vital and dynamic? After your heart attack people said that you were out of commission, that you were all through."

"Perhaps I might have been," he replied. "But then I learned to think right, and as I began to practice right thinking, things changed for me." Then he quoted a line from the 139th Psalm which he declared started his recovery: "How precious also are thy thoughts unto me."

STARTED ME THINKING

"When they laid me on my back in that hospital," he continued, 'and told me that I would be there for a long time, you can imagine how despondent I was! Then one day I picked up a Bible I found on my night table and aimlessly looked through it. I hadn't read the Bible in years, and to my surprise it interested me. It gave me comfort and a sense of peace I had not known.

That particular passage started me trying to think the kind of thoughts I felt God wanted me to think. But I discovered that my mind was blocked by a mass of unhealthy thoughts; it was full of resentment and tension. I had acquired bad habits of thinking and living. The conviction came that I had to break these habits if I wanted to be well. And I was loaded down with anxiety, too. Perhaps that was my worst trouble."

"Well," he went on, "I just decided to throw them all out. I had a mental and spiritual housecleaning. I threw out all my hates, my tensions, my bad habits, my anxieties. I did this by deciding I was through with all that stuff, and I meant it. It wasn't easy and it took time, but I did a thorough job on myself. You can't imagine how healthy I've become." And he repeated the words, "How precious also are thy thoughts unto me."

HAS ADVERSE EFFECT

Since he was obviously a healthy person, it would be difficult to dispute the efficiency of his treatment. Of course, he had the best in medical care too, as he gratefully acknowledged.

No doubt there are many people reading this whose thoughts are bogged down with all manner of unhealthy irritations, frustrations, annoyances, resentments, hates, angers, fears and worries. The adverse effect of such thinking upon health and effectiveness is well known. If you carry thoughts of this kind around in your mind for weeks and months, even years, how can you expect to be strong and healthy?

There is a simple practice which can help to change this condition. I like to call it the magic of creative thinking. It is simply the use of right thinking to permit the tides of spiritual power to surge through your mind, transmitting its health-giving effect to your whole being.

NO EASY RELIGION

There is no easy religion or pyschology. But I have found it very helpful to practice simple procedures. So, to employ the magic of creative thinking, I suggest the following:

* * *

1. Get and hold the idea that you can improve your condition.

* * *

2. Study yourself to see how your unhealthy thinking may be affecting your physical well-being.

* * *

3. Bring yourself to the point where you really want to break with your wrong thinking.

* * *

4. Then make the break in your mind. You've got to mean it. Actually do it by saying, as my friend did, "I'm through with all that stuff."

* * *

5. Ask God to help you, for you cannot do it yourself.

* * *

6. Believe that God is helping you.

* * *

7. Cooperate fully with your doctor, for this is a "God and the doctor" technique.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (RNS)—A plea for more religious courses and activities in junior colleges was made here by Dr. Harry M. Philpott, dean of religious life at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo. He spoke at the annual meeting of the Council of North Central Junior Colleges. Dr. Philpott said religion has received meager attention in junior colleges of the nation.

Wed for Keeps, Bishops Urge

British Prelates Stress Indissoluble Contract in Matrimony

LONDON — The Archbishop of Canterbury and a leading Roman Catholic bishop declared, in separate statements, that marriage is an indissoluble bond.

Dr. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, the Archbishop of Canterbury, made it clear, while officiating at a fashionable wedding here, that the Church of England regards the marriage ceremony as a truly irrevocable and final step for everyone.

Bishop George Andrew Beck of Brentwood issued his statement in a pastoral letter read in all churches of the diocese.

"The holiness of marriage seems at present to be held ever more lightly," he declared, "and the example of those in the highest quarters does not help those who wish to preserve in our society — still nominally Christian — Christ's ideal of marriage as an indissoluble union.

"The words of Christ — 'whosoever shall put away his wife and marry another committeth adultery—could not be more explicit."

Church Educator Decries Attitude Toward Religion

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (RNS) — School children today, with every educational opportunity, "get nothing in the way of the Word of God," Dr. Henrietta C. Mears of Hollywood, Calif., religious educator said here.

* * *

"And this despite the fact that all but two of the first 108 colleges in this country were founded by Christians," she said.

Dr. Mears, education director of Hollywood's First Presbyterian Church, told the 10th annual convention of the National Sunday School Assocation here that "We're feeding the children nothing but husks—superficialities instead of realities."

* * *

"We in the church face a tremendous task but not a hopeless one," she said. "All we have to do is teach the word of God. It is sufficient; you don't have to add anything to it."

Bunche to Lead in Brotherhood

United Nations Official to Dedicate $1,000,000 Building Given by Ford

NEW YORK (RNS) — Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, under secretary general of the United Nations and 1953 Nobel Peace Prize winner, will be chairman of exercises in Carnegie Hall Nov. 11 to dedicate the new $1,000,000 Building for Brotherhood here.

* * *

The building is the headquarters of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Leonard Bernstein, composer and conductor, will lead the Symphony of the Air and the Schola Cantorum Choir in the premier broadcast performance of Aaron Copland's new work, "Canticle of Freedom."

Cornelia Otis Skinner, actress and author, will read from Stephen Vincent Benet's "Listen to the People," and Hugh Ross will conduct a choral group of the New York High School of Music and Art in Randall Thompson's "Alleluia."

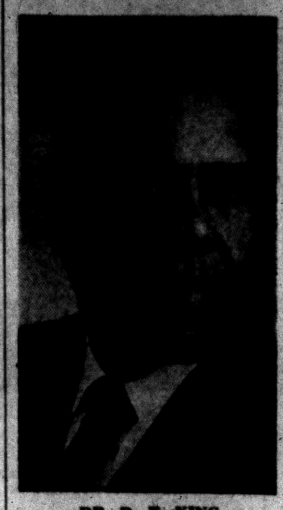

* * *

The Building for Brotherhood, an eight-story air-conditioned structure made possible by a gift from the Ford Motor Company Fund, serves as the national center for promoting the NCCJ's program of combating prejudice and discrimination and of building good will among Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews.

Episcopal Bishop Urges Dope Anonymous Units

HOUSTON Tex. (RNS)—A Dopes Anonymous organization similar to Alcoholics Anonymous was proposed by the Rt. Rev. Clinton S. Quin, retiring bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas. Bishop Quin was an organizer of the Houston chapter of A.A.

He said he wants to contact Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex) who held hearings in Texas of the Senate narcotics investigating committee and ask him about starting such a group. "The dope habit is disease that can't be cured by medicine or law," the bishop said.

DR. D. E. KING

City-Wide Revival Will Begin Nov. 7

The Oakland County Ministerial Fellowship wil l conduct a two week City-Wide Revival beginning Nov. 7 and will continue through the 18th. The meetings will be held at Trinity Baptist Chrrch, Wesson and Maple Sts.

Dr. King, pastor of Zion Baptist Church, Louisville, Ky. and secretary of the National Baptist Convention, will conduct the services.

Music will be furnished by the united choirs of the Pontiac churches. The Rev. Richard H. Dixon is president of the Fellowship.

Luther League Attacks Movies

Convention Scores Film Producers Who Distort Religion for Plots

ANN ARBOR (RNS) — Motion pictures and songs that distort religion came under fire from the Luther League of America at its 60th anniversary convention here.

* * *

The delegates adopted a resolution "disapproving of the use by the motion picture and song industries of biblical and religious material when there is distortion of its intended purposes—to convey the Word of God."

The league, youth unit of the United Lutheran Church in America, also opposed universal military service. And it decribed the "emphasis of many governmental leaders on the idea that permanent military power is a solution to international tension."

However, the delegates praised efforts of the United States government to "make world peace through increased love and understanding of other peoples, rather than chiefly through reliance on the deterring effect of military or economic power."

* * *

Approving "all sincere efforts toward integration of all races and classes of people," the convention commended Luther Leagues which have successfully worked in interracial areas. Other groups were urged "to follow this example."

Handbill Passers Helped by Holy Trinity Pastor

DETROIT (RNS) — The lot of handbill passers — the fellows who hang advertising material on your doorknob — is much better these days, thanks to the Rev. Clement Kern.

Under Father Kern's guidance the bill passers, usually thought of as down-and-outers, are becoming regular workers with steady jobs and a future beyond today.

Working with Michael Noch, international president of the Bill Posters, Billers and Distributors Union (AFL), the priest has organized about 400 bill passers into a union. Formed as Local BB5 of the AFL union, the men have seen their wages rise from 85 cents to $1 an hour in the past few months.

Father Kern, pastor of Holy Trinity church, has been lending his parish auditorium and his voice to the bill passers, urging them to accept the responsibilities of good citizens. City officials have hailed his work as a new trend in Skid Row rehabilitation.

Scientists Study 'Oldest' Church

Six Months Research Fails to Ascertain Age of Famed San Miguel

SANTA FE, N. M. (RNS) — Archaeologists, architects, artists and artisans of various faiths completed six months of research and restoration work at old San Miguel church here.

* * *

Their studies failed to prove or disprove the old claim that San Miguel is the oldest existing church in the U.S. But the work has stripped away many of the modifications of the past two centuries and restored the church's 18th century appearance.

"We believe it—is now the purest example of Spanish Mission architecture in the country," said the New Mexican, local daily newspaper.

* * *

The church was built a number of years after the founding of Santa Fe, in 1610. It was established for use of the Indian slaves of Spanish officials, and was all but destroyed by Indians in the Pueblo revolt of 1680. DeVargas began to restore it when he retook the city in 1693, and it was completely restored in 1710.

BELL TOWER

The stucco and angular exterior — added during the Victorian era — has been wiped out by soft curving lines and a coat of earth-colored plaster. The square belfry has been stripped of its Mission bell tower.

Greatest change is in the back altar. Several coats of house-paint were removed by Miss E. Boyd of the New Mexico Museum's Department of Spanish Colonial Arts to reveal a rare example of painted reredos — a missing link in colonial altar-making between stone-carved reredos and the later garishly-painted ones found in some Indian missions.

* * *

Miss Boyd exposed enough of the original design and soft colors to reconstruct the entire panels, even in places where the old reredos had been cut out for Victorian-inspired niches and doors.

* * *

Once the back altar was restored by museum workers. Brother James of St. Michael's College constructed the altar proper in the same simple style.

Baptists Open Center

CHICAGO (RNS) — American Baptists have opened a religious center for University of Chicago graduate students in the 30-room former mansion of the late Julius Rosenwald here. The Rev. Walter Sillen, 45, director of the Baptist Graduate House, said it is the first venture of its kind at any American university on the graduate level.

Ike Urges All: 'Apply Christ'

President Tells Leaders to Build Peace Around Fatherhood of God

SEATTLE, Wash. (RNS) — Application of Christianity to everyday affairs is the only practical hope of the world, President Eisenhower said in a message to the 20th anniversary conference of International Christian Leadership, Inc. here, wishing it success.

* * *

"The result will be fresh vigor in the international effort to build a firm and just peace within the brotherhood of men under the Fatherhood of God," the President said.

The conference was attended by some 300 delegates and visitors from the United States, Canada, Mexico, Germany, the Netherlands and the Philippines.

John W. Young, Barrington, R.I., industrialist, told the meeting that America, in its role of world leadership, must "not only share her riches and technical knowledge—which has been done liberally—but must pass on the source of the nation's strength. Almighty God, so that other countries may rise to our standard of living and maintain it."

"And so long as we kneel humbly in obedience to God," he said, "we need not be afraid of anything in the world."

Judge Matthew W. Hill of the Washington State Supreme Court warned that Americans "cannot be mere spectators in today's world."

* * *

"What we say, think and do are important to our lives and the world," he said, "but we need strong minds and hearts, a great faith in Jesus Christ, and willing hands. These are requisites of Christian leadership."

Bill Lets Indians Make Long-Term Church Deals

WASHINGTON, D. C. (RNS)—A bill giving Indians the right to make long-term leases of restricted reservation lands to religious and educational institutions was signed into law by President Eisenhower.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Barry Coldwater (R-Ariz.), solves a problem that has faced many church missions which have been reluctant to construct permanent religious and educational structures under existing short-term leases that do not guarantee renewal.

* * *

Indian owners, under the new law, may now lease tribal lands for a period of 25 years, with option to renew for another 25 years. Previously leases on reservation lands could not run for more than five years.

Te Secretary of Interior must approve all leases negotiated under the new act.

Atheism, Cults on Rise

GENEVA — Atheist ideologies and the revival of ancient religious cults present a double threat to missionary work in various parts of the world, a French Roman Catholic prelate warned here.

Pontiac Press Photo

Include Religion in Reforms

Christianity in Solving Crime Problems Asked by Faiths

GENEVA (RNS)—Roman Catholic and Protestant leaders joined here in pleading that the first United Nations Congress on Prevention of Crime and Treatment of Offenders include religion in the program it adopts.

* * *

Salvation Army Commissioner M. Owen Culshaw of Liverpool, Eng., urged that "whatever else you add to the programs, do not allow the teaching and practice of religion to be neglected."

Father Le Maire, a professor of history at the University of Namur, also urged that the U. N. group "record the full importance of religion." He warned against regarding religion as "a sort of extra policeman," emphasizing that moral standards flow from religious belief—not from religion itself, whose basic task is to provide communion between God and man.

The Rev. Arthur Morton of London, director of the British National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, echoed Father Le Maire's plea, adding that "millions of people worship no God and have no moral standards on which to build."

M. Normand of Paris, assistant secretary general of the International Catholic Children's Bureau, stressed the importance of publications adapted to the age and tastes of children which include stories and articles on adventure and fantasy to wean them from reading "literature not meant for them."

He said that the International Children's Press Commission in Rome supervises the publication of 15 such periodicals in Europe and America alone, as well as one for Arab youngsters and another for African children.

Religious Leader Lauds 'Compelling' Peace Drive

NEW YORK (INS) — People all over the world are showing a new and compelling drive for peaceful settlement of international tensions, Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and of the World Brotherhood organization, said here.

* * *

"This universal hunger for peaceful means of coping with the natural competition of ideas and the rivalry of cultures is something fresh in world history," he said.

* * *

Dr. Clinchy made the comment on his return from a 10-week trip during which he visited 12 countries and participated in the recent World Brotherhood Assembly at Brussels where leaders of the movement laid plans for expansion of its educational program. The conference was attended by members of various races and creeds from 29 countries.

"Everywhere on the earth," he said, "popular thinking is becoming focused on a brotherly standard of living in this nuclear age because everybody now has learned that it is possible not only to supply the human needs of all the world's 2,500,000,000 people but to maintain a prosperity that would have been thought fantastic 20 years ago.

"At the same time, the once widespread belief that money or technology can bring happiness and meaning to life is being rapidly dispelled. People everywhere are demonstrating an awareness that the family of man can, in partnership with the spiritual essence of this universe, cooperate to bring about an evolution of human spiritual and ethical capacities, and to create a society based on brotherhood that will match the amazing gains of atomic fission and fusion in the physical realm."

* * *

The Brussels conference, Dr. Clinchy said, was one recent development indicating that a "new cycle in human relations" is in motion.

Another was the recent Big Four summit meeting in Geneva which, he said, "scored a new high in universal family agreement to stick together despite basic value differences and to struggle to cope with tensions step-by-step rather than fall apart in feud or war."

A third evidence mentioned by the World Brotherhood leader was "the gains for all workers made in the economic evolution toward steadier annual income." In this connection, he cited guaranteed annual wage pacts recently signed in the automotive industry.

* * *

Here in the United States relations between Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews "have never been as friendly as they are today," Dr. Clinchy said, adding that "the ancient ideal of brotherhood is becoming more actual than ever before."

Welcoming the delegates will be Mayor William W. Donaldson. He will be presented to the group by the pastor of Bethany Baptist, the Rev. Fred R. Tiffany.

* * *

General chairman of arrangements is Keith Mittledorf, president of Bethany's senior high school society.

Catholic Prelate Asks Sunday Buying Halt

DAYTON, O. (RNS) — Msgr. Harry J. Ansbury, dean of the Dayton Deanery, asked Roman Catholic pastors here to warn their parishioners against the habit of Sunday shopping.

* * *

Some priests have already delivered, and others are planning to give, sermons on the observance of the Lord's Day.

* * *

Although a few large stores have long catered to the Sunday trade, a number of others, both independent and chain, have entered the competition and it is feared the trend will continue.

Some of the store managers say that, although they are opposed to Sunday sales, the competition is forcing them to conduct a seven-day-a-week business.

* * *

Active opposition to the Sunday openings is coming from two labor groups, the Meat Cutters' Local 430 and the Retail Clerks' Local 1552.

Reds Tolerate Most Churches

Russian Education Aims at Giving Anti-Religious Attitude in Youth

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (RNS) —Churches are tolerated in Russia but the nation's educational program remains anti-religious, Miss Eleanor Zelliot of Richmond, Ind., associate editor of the American Friends, reported here. She was one of six American Quakers who recently toured the Soviet Union.

She said that during the delegation's month-long tour they were denied only two requests—a trip to the Baltic area and one to a labor camp.

She said churches were crowded but pointed out that in Moscow there are only 55 houses of worship while the city has a population estimated at from 4,000,000 to 8,000,000.

* * *

The Quaker group gained the impression, the editor said, that the churches in the city were a haven for those who have suffered, while those in country areas are truly a center of community activity.

Christ Church to Hold Classes

United Thank Offering to Be Received at Both Morning Services

"What Does It Mean to Be a Christian? an Episcopalian?" will be the subjects discussed in the Confirmation Classes scheduled at Christ Church Cranbrook.

The classes are for: Those who have been confirmed, but feel the need of a review; those inquiring what Christianity is about, with no promise of being confirmed and those who want to be confirmed and want to join the Episcopal Church.

* * *

The group will meet Sunday afternoons from 4 until 9 p.m. on Nov. 13, 20 and 27th. Confirmation itself will be at the hands of Bishop Richard Emrich at 9:30 a.m. Dec. 11th.

The United Thank Offering Ingathering of the Woman's Auxiliary will be tomorrow at both the 9:30 and 11:15 a.m. services. Women of the Episcopal churches keep "a blue box" on their kitchen window sills in which they put offerings, a thank you to God for their many blessings.

A workshop for Christian Social Relations chairmen will be held in the Guild Hall of the church Nov. 10 from 10:30 to 3 p.m. Luncheon will be served and anyone interested is invited.

Priest Invents New Car Body

Plastic Auto Design Is Called Combination of Art, Science

BRANFORD, Conn. (RNS) — A Roman Catholic priest here has invented a plastic body full-size automobile, completely revolutionary in design and construction.

* * *

He is the Rev. Alfred A. Juliano, C.S.Sp., resident at St. Mary's church, who assists in parish work. Father Juliano also is currently studying fine arts at Yale University in New Haven.

The priest regards his automobile design and project as a combination of art and science.

He hopes to complete the full body shell by the end of August. Minor details will take a few weeks more, and then the car will go into production.

* * *

Father Juliano said a "corporation" is prepared to produce his design as a custom automobile using standard components from stock products.

One of the priest's main innovations is the use of "compound curvatures," easy to achieve in plastics but impossible with mass production metals.

It has an inverted windshield, giving the illusion that there is no glass and providing greater visibility without glare. The windshield also provides an extremely important safety factor in that the glass is a full two feet forward from the standard position.

Urges Catholic, Protestant Stand Against Commies

OAKLAND, Calif. (RNS) —Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Washington, D. C., made a plea here for "reconciliation" of Protestants and Roman Catholics and a unified stand against Communism.

* * *

The bishop addressed more than 5,000 persons at the Protestant Reformation Day Festival of Faith rally in the Oakland Auditorium arena.

As a first step in the reconciliation he advocated, Bishop Oxnam called upon Protestants and Catholics to pledge themselves in all matters involving religious liberty "to do unto others as we would be done by."

All Right... Let's TEST CATHOLIC LOYALTY!

The majority of non-Catholics do not question the patriotism of their Catholic fellow-citizens.

They have seen too many Catholic sons die beside their own on countless battlefields. They have stood too often with Catholics in defense of common ideals and a common heritage.

Yet the ugly voice of bigotry is heard again—warning that Catholics "owe allegiance to a foreign potentate"... that "Popery" is a menace to democracy ...even that Catholicism is as "totalitarian as Communism."

Informed non-Catholics will scorn these unworthy accusations. But in the interest of truth and good will among people of all faiths, this miserable skeleton of intolerance should be exposed for the benefit of the many who otherwise may become unwitting victims of false and misleading books, tracts and other anti-Catholic propaganda.

One critic in the United States suggests that the Catholic Church is "undemocratic" because it opposes such things as birth control, divorce and questionable reading matter. By this unreasonable standard, a religious denomination which opposes alcoholic drink could also be called "undemocratic" because it holds principles contrary to the law of the land. Catholics, certainly, make no such criticism.

Catholics are called "undemocratic" because they have their own schools. By the same reasoning, all other denominations with church-sponsored schools and colleges could be likewise condemned, despite the fact that religious schools preceded tax-supported schools in the United States and Canada, and that most of our private colleges and universities were founded by religious bodies.

The Catholic Church is called an "alien" religion because the Vatican is located in Italy.

All of the major religious faiths of the United States and Canada had their origin in foreign lands. And the fact is that the religions professed by these bodies are at this very time the state religions in certain other lands. But does anyone call them "undemocratic?"

For nearly 2,000 years, the Catholic Church has existed under any and all forms of government. Its people comply with the political system of the land they live in...refusing to comply only if a political state should command them to violate God's law. An example is the Catholic resistance to Communism wherever it appears—because Catholicism and Communism are incompatible.

Free

In the interest of harmony and good will...and as a matter of Christian and intellectual honesty...you should learn the truth about Catholics before seeking to judge them. We will be happy to send you free and without obligation an explanatory pamphlet which gives a clear picture of the Catholic Church in its relation to government and the social order. Write today...ask for Pamphlet No. KC-35.

Red Visit to London Shocks Old Duchess

LONDON — Grand Duchess Xenia, 80-year-old sister of the late Czar of Russia, was "shocked and scandalized," her associates said, at the recent visit of Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist Party chief Krushchev to Britain.

"You must remember," a friend of Xenia said, "that the grand duchess does not think of Bulganin and Krushchev as her country's leaders.

To her they are two of the old guard which led the October Revolution in 1917—and in that revolution her brother, Nicholas II (the last reigning czar), was butchered." The grand duchess made no comment herself for publication.

Sees Hike in Vehicles

ALBANY, N. Y. (INS) — New York State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph Kelly predicts that vehicle registrations in the state this year will hit a record of 4,800,000. Kelly said they are expected to top the five million mark next year.

Jersey Claims Record

RED BANK, N. J. (INS)—The New Jersey Highway Authority has claimed a new safety record for the Garden State Parkway. The authority said the record of only nine traffic deaths in nine months with more than three million toll-paying cars using the road is the lowest in the U. S. for parkways.

American Foreign Service Workers Receive Fast Top-Notch Medical Care

By KENNETH G. GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The phone rang in a small annex office back of the main building of the U. S. State Department. It was a transatlantic call from an American embassy in southern Europe.

* * *

"One of the girl secretaries here has a bad case of polio," said the voice on the other end.

Quickly and calmly the man who answered the phone asked a few questions.

Shortly afterwards, a U. S. military plane roared off the runway at Frankfurt, Germany. On board were a doctor, a nurse, and an iron lung.

Ten hours later the polio-stricken girl was back in Frankfurt at an American hospital where the most modern equipment was available.

The man who put this emergency operation into action was Dr. Virgil T. DeVault, medical director of the American Foreign Service.

For his is the unique job of guarding the health of 20,000 U. S. civilians employed abroad by the State Department and other agencies. DeVault works with a team of a dozen doctors located all over the world. They comprise a unique corps of medical men.

They are Uncle Sam's diplomatic doctors. Their job is complete. They must work in strange countries and cope with maladies from schistosomiasis to elephantiasis. Often they must perform difficult emergency operations in backward areas without up-to-date medical facilities.

MUST BE TOP NOTCH MEDICS

Not long ago, for example, a diplomatic doctor delivered twins at a remote Far Eastern post by means of a Caesarean section. There was no time to fly the mother out to a modern hospital. The operation was performed on a kitchen table and the doctor miraculously succeeded in delivering the twins and keeping both alive.

"Our doctors must be topnotch all-around general practitioners and surgeons combined," explains DeVault. "They must be willing to serve for comparatively little compensation. Furthermore, they are pioneers who must know how to improvise."

Most of these men are young, with approximately five years experience. They are assisted in some places by 17 Foreign Service nurses who operate health rooms at various diplomatic posts. Several of these nurses work entirely alone taking care of ailing U. S. employes and any sick Americans who might turn up.

TRANSPORTATION IMPORTANT

A major job of the Foreign Service's medical staff is to transport persons in need of outside medical attention to hospitals where they can be given the proper treatment.

This means Dr. DeVault and his assistants in Washington must carefully diagnose ills via transoceanic telephone, cablegram or air mail. Take the case of the ambassador at a Near Eastern post who was stricken with an acute gall bladder.

Immediately a cable was sent to Washington. DeVault and other doctors looked over the brief medical report, checked the ambassador's medical record, and decided the patient should be flown to the American hospital in Frankfurt.

He authorized a plane to be sent from Germany with a doctor and nurse. Twelve hours later the ambassador was being operated on in Frankfurt.

"When a cablegram comes into the office, we go to work on it immediately," says DeVault. "Once we sent back an answer so fast to a post in South America that they sent us another cable asking if that was our answer."

Frequently a post will want advice as to how to proceed on a case. If DeVault feels he cannot provide the information himself, he gets in touch with the country's top specialists.

WORLDWIDE NETWORK

The other day, for example, an embassy cabled that a local doctor there wanted to perform a special bladder operation. DeVault was not sure this was the correct step so he checked with an outstanding urologist in nearby Baltimore who advised to go ahead.

More than once DeVault has been wakened in the middle of the night to handle a case thousands of miles away. But probably no other living man is more familiar with the medical facilities that exist throughout the world.

Up to now, he has flown over 300,000 miles and personally visited hundreds of foreign doctors in every branch of medicine. He has been to every U. S. Foreign Service post in the world.

Thus when a Cambodian doctor cables a diagnosis of an ailing American in Phnom Penh, DeVault knows the man's professional capabilities and is able to act accordingly.

Irish State Grows Into Mob of Beggars

BELFAST — "What's going to happen when the country goes broke?" John Ervine, Northern Ireland author and playwright, is asking in Belfast. He is crusading against the effects of the welfare State, "which is rapidly turning a proud and valiant people into a mob of cadgers and spongers, kept men and women."

A thrifty old man rebuked a young man for his extravagance and told him he ought to save a penny for a rainy day, says Ervine.

The boy laughed and said: "I knew a trick worth two of that. I'll spend all I make and when I'm old let the State keep me."

New Chemical Dissolves Algae in 'Ailing' Ponds

WILMINGTON, Del.—A chemical cure for ailing farm ponds has been developed by a Wilmington powder manufacturer. The product is said to disintegrate the algae in ponds, lakes, irrigation canals, and other bodies of water.

Usually, when algae die normally or are killed by other means, they come to the surface, decompose, give the water a bad taste, and produce undersirable odors.

Its product, the company claims, will stop all that and will prevent dead algae from clogging pipes, valves, and screens in irrigation canals and drains and keep them from reducing the flow of water since they are disintegrated and not just killed.

2 Men Cart Huge Balloon 10 Miles Over Mountain

CAMP OTSU, Japan (AP)—The U.S. Army purchased a Japanese display balloon to advertise a fund fair here.

Two sore-armed men, touching the ground about every fourth step, delivered the huge hydrogen-filled sphere yesterday. They had walked it 10 miles over a mountain pass from Kyoto to Otsu.

Ships carry more than three fourths of the total tonnage of goods exchanged among nations and continents.

Says Woodward Marriage Happy

Dead Husband's Mother 'Very Fond' of Woman Who Shot Sportsman

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — Police quote Mrs. William Woodward Sr. as saying her dead son and his blonde wife were "a very happy couple." The millionaire-sportsman was shot to death last Sunday by his wife.

* * *

Nassau County detectives who questioned Woodward's grief-striken mother yesterday at her New York City home also said she told them:

"I'm very fond of my daughter-in-law. While I grieve for my son, I also grieve for the position in which his wife finds herself."

The 35-year-old Woodward's wife Ann, 39, said she fired a shotgun into the dark hallway of their Oyster Bay, L.I. home at a noise she said she believed had been made by a prowler.

Woodward fell dead in the doorway of his separate bedroom 10 feet across the hall.

Ballistics tests on the death gun yesterday confirmed statements by Mrs. Woodward about where she was standing when she fired.

In other developments, Nassau County Dist. Atty. Frank Gulotta said nothing thus far in the case has come up "to change my opinion that the slaying was accidental."

* * *

Mrs. Woodward, still in a New York hospita recovering from shock, was visited for the second successive day yesterday by her two sons, William III, 11 years old, and James, 8.

Her physician, Dr. John M. Prutting, said she has been improving steadily but would remain in the hospital "a few more days."

'Comedian' Gunmen Hold Up Bank

CHICAGO (UP)—Three wisecracking gunmen robbed a suburban Maywood bank of between $25,000 and $30,000 last night.

Witnesses said the men, all masked with stocking caps, barged into the bank shouting "trick or treat."

One of the robbers held seven employes and five patrons under a sub-machinegun while his two companions scooped up cash from the tellers' cages. The gunmen executed the robbery in a few minutes and fled in a car described by witnesses as a 1955 Cadillac.

* * *

Peter Giachini, vice president of the Maywood-Proviso State Bank, estimated the loss. The bank regularly is open for business on Friday nights.

The United States is now using more than 80,000 pounds of tin a year in solder paste.

Donors Given Historical Rock

Small Pieces Granted Those Who Contribute to Columbus Memorial

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic—Coral Rock from the point where Christopher Columbus first set foot on America is being used in new honors for the explorer.

Tons of the rock have been blasted out to establish footings for the memorial lighthouse which will become the Columbus tomb. Little pieces of the rock are being embedded in plastic models of the proposed memorial. The models will be given to visitors to the site who contribute to construction costs.

VISITORS WELCOMED

Daily visits to the site are being started in guided tours which will also include the present tomb in Santo Domingo Cathedral and the palace of Diego Columbus, the explorer's son. The palace is being restored to be a center of interest in an international fair which will continue throughout 1956.

The new tours and the souvenir lighthouse models have been added to the traditional ceremonies here. Every year on the birthday anniversary, the archbishop and government officials open the Columbus tomb to show the original lead box containing his remains. The other traditional birthday ceremonial is a pageant staged by the national theater group.

This year, the pageant follows the tour to the tomb, the lighthouse site and the palace. The pageant is being staged at the palace.

This year, too, the honors for Columbus are being extended to the 21 American republics by the ambassadors of the Dominican government. The president of each republic will be given one of the lighthouse models containing a piece of the coral from the landing site.

Funds for the erection of the lighthouse memorial are beings collected in each of the 21 republics. Final costs have been set at 10 million dollars.

Advises Reclaiming, Reuse of Sewer Water

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP)—California's cities should conserve sewer water to use over again, an Assembly subcommittee was advised yesterday.

Tom H. Louttit, a Stockton, Calif., attorney, said "there should be a study of how sewer water can be reclaimed and put to use."

He acknowledged the idea is socially unpopular, however.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

AMERICAN FOLK LORE—6.
Paul Bunyan and the Logging Days

Paul Bunyan, the legendary inventor of logging, weighed 70 pounds when he was born in Canada as Paul Bonjean. And he grew and grew and GREW.

He stepped across the St. Lawrence River in one step and became an American. He began cutting down forests so men could plant farm crops and build cities.

With Babe, his huge blue ox, he became a great logger. He opened the iron mines of Michigan to make shoes for Babe. He stood mountains on their heads and made the Bad Lands of the Dakotas.

Wading in a stream with his pickax dragging behind him, he made the Grand Canyon. He dug the Great Lakes as reservoirs for his men and animals and filled them with water from the Atlantic Ocean.

By and by the forests were cut, the mountains and lakes made, and there was no more work for Paul Bunyan. But his exploits were never forgotten and his name lives on.

Paste this picture on cereal box cardboard and color with crayons. Paul loved bright colored clothes.

Cut out the parts carefully. Fasten the separate arm behind Paul's shoulder with a brass fastener or a bent pin. Now he can swing his big ax. Fold the end panels back and he will stand up.

Remember that Junior Editors pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestions to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper. None can be acknowledged or returned.

Funeral Car Seating Irks Two In-Laws

They Feel Slighted Over Not Being in First Auto

By EMILY POST

"I lost a brother recently and at the funeral our own immediate family and my brother's widow were seated in the first car. By our own family, I mean my mother, two brothers and myself.

"My two sisters-in-law were seated in the second car along with other relatives. They feel very slighted over this and seem to think that they should have been with their husbands in the first car.

"This has caused some unpleasantness in our family and mother is very upset over it. I would like to know if we were wrong in putting them in the second car."

Answer: Definitely not; to have put them in the first car would have been improper.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We are the parents of the bridegroom-to-be. The wedding is to be in church with a simple reception following at a nearby hotel.

"My husband and I would like to ask our relatives and some of our close friends to come back to our house after the reception. Would this be proper, and if so, must the bride's family be asked too?"

Answer: It would be entirely proper to ask none but your own family and friends.

"Dear Mrs. Post: How should I announce myself over the telephone when I gave occasion to call my doctor, or my son's school principal? Would the fact that I am older than either of these men have anything to do with your answer?"

Answer: No matter what your ages, in business and professional situations you say "This is Mrs. Blank." To the principal of your son's school it might be more enlightening if you said, "I am John Blank's mother."

Paris Day Dresses Are Plain, Beltless

Balenciaga has the largest collection of black woolen day dresses in Paris.

They are basically plain and beltless, but each has a Balenciaga detail that gives it a character of its own. One has a floating panel that falls from a drawstring neckline.

A touch of glamour is typical of tweed this season. A jeweled fringe ornament on Ben Reig's suit of two-tone gray lightweight British tweed accents the side-buttoned jacket. The slim skirt, too, is an added feature for the fashion-conscious woman.

Tweed is really "stepping out" this year with fur trim. Lightweight Scottish tweed is used by Vera Maxwell for a suit with shawl collar and turn-back cuffs of sheared otter. The suit jacket wraps and ties in the front.

Today's Tweeds Acquire New Glamor

Not long ago fabrics were made of cotton, wool, silk or linen or a mixture of one or more of these fabrics. Then, as now, tweed was in the spotlight. But there is one major difference.

Tweed, the old stand-by for business wear, appropriate for country wear and shopping dates only, has gained a new prominence in the fashion world. Like corduroy, which was once a strictly "Service" fabric, tweed has come into its own.

The beautiful but rough tweeds of yesterday have been replaced by lush fabrics in soft, smooth-to-the-touch material. It is now available in chic ensembles for the young and old. Its service and practicality has been doubled by the addition of clever touches of fur and pieces of sparkling rhinestone.

The fur need not be expensive or the rhinestones Trifari. If they are added to your suit with an eye to unity of design and appropriateness of style, you will have a smart outfit. Semi-frilly blouses replace the tailored type formerly worn with tweeds and a chic hat will complete your ensemble which may even go partying. You will be in the center of the fashion picture for this winter.

Boring Job Becomes Dream Work

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Too many times, when we work at a boring job, we spend all our free time dreaming of a new job which would be exciting and interesting.

But the wise woman turns the job she is doing into her interesting dream job. It can almost always be done.

* * *

Mrs. J. is one woman who is doing it.

She is a part-time saleswoman in a moderate-priced dress shop. She works from 1 to 5, selling dresses, hats and accessories to so-called "average" women.

Many people would just let it go at that, but not Mrs. J. She has made an art of it, transforming her job into a dream job and is getting tremendous satisfaction from it — to say nothing of a really good income.

"It all began," Mrs. J. told me, "when our youngest child went away to college. I knew I'd have to have something to keep me busy, because my husband's job is most demanding. He is frequently out of town on business trips.

* * *

"I always had the housework done by noon at the latest and the afternoon just dragged. Then I got a chance to sell in this shop, afternoons. It wasn't very fascinating, but it did keep me busy.

"But there were still the evenings when my husband was away. I decided to take some night courses.

"At first, I couldn't think what subjects to take, but then I decided to study things which would help me in the job. I took courses in line, color, even one in simple anatomy.

"I learned what lines look best on what figure types and all about which colors are becoming to which skin and hair types.

ADVISED CUSTOMERS

"Little by little, I began advising my customers and the results were most gratifying — to them, and to me. No matter how dowdy a woman may be. I can find a costume for her which hides the bad points and accentuates the good. And of course my customers love it and keep coming back for more.

"It was all a fluke," Mrs. J. concluded, "but now my part-sales job is a real career.

"I learn more every day and am perfectly fascinated with it. And the money comes rolling in, more and more!"

Model Feels Equally at Home Behind or Before the Cameras

(Here is another article on the professional and private lives of America's top models.)

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service

Red-haired Suzy Parker, a 22-year-old Texas-born beauty with bea-blue eyes, is the deluxe, "international-type" model who can earn $50 an hour in Paris as easily as she does in New York.

That makes her rather unique.

* * *

Suzy and her slightly older sister, Dorian Leigh, flit between the U. S. and Europe and find it as easy to carve out a career in one place as the other. They are known as the famous sister-team in the modeling profession.

An unusual thing about Suzy is that madeling isn't her only occupation. If there's one thing she can do as well as high-fashion modeling, it's taking pictures. She's as good behind a camera as she is in front of one. She's a top notch professional photographer.

Actually, the versatile Suzy scores on three fronts—as model, photographer and fashion editor.

* * *

As a model she has few peers. Her face often adorns the covers of the slick magazines. She has posed for thousands of newspaper and magazine advertisements and is conceded to be one of the real "pros" of the profession.

SISTER SCORES TOO

Her sister, Dorian, is really something in the field of modeling, too. Dorian's fabulous face and figure have enlivened such famed Revlon color promotions as "Fire and Ice" and "Cherries in the Snow."

* * *

Hers were perhaps the sexiest nail polish ads ever photographed. They sent women to their cosmetic counters by the thousands. She seemed to be a living symbol of the dreams and hopes that exist in the hearts of women everywhere. The talented Dorian, at present, is living in Paris.

But this story deals chiefly with red-headed Suzy.

Suzy Parker achieved her ambition to be a real photographer two years ago in Paris when she served an apprenticeship under photographer Henri Cartier-Bresson.

Then she hied herself off to Africa to practice taking her own pictures. She wound up as a staff photographer for the French edition of "Vogue." She also became fashion editor of "Le Nouveau Femina."

Suzy has come back to New York on one of her traveling sprees. When I interviewed her, while she was doing one of her modeling jobs, she was planning to make another trip.

* * *

"I haven't been to Asia or South America," she said. "So I'm going to Rio de Janeiro on a banana boat. I'm going alone, and I'm taking my camera along."

ADVENTUROUS GIRL

Suzy is an adventurous girl who loves to go places and see things. A year ago while working abroad she took an "MG"—one of those small English sports cars — from Paris to Dakar in Africa to handle pictorial stories in West Morocco.

* * *

"I drove alone," said the self-reliant, matter-of-fact Suzy.

When Suzy works a modeling job she is efficiency-plus. I met Suzy by appointment at the Ford Modeling Agency in Manhattan as she was starting the day's assignments.

She was sweet and demure, reminding me of "the nice girl next door." She was becomingly attired and carried a leather bag which contained articles such as pumps, cosmetics, combs and other feminine accessories.

* * *

We taxied across town to Studio Associates, arriving on time for her first appointment. She entered a dressing room. Five minutes later she merged, exuding glamor.

GLAMOR AT NOON

Although it was warm and humid in New York, she was now attired in a black wool dinner gown, cut low at the neck to display her lovely throat which was encircled by some glassware that glinted like diamonds. It was not quite noon yet she was all set to portray the role of a girl enjoying "the cocktail hour."

And then, accompanied by another model—sinuous, dark-haired Barbar Mullen—Suzy tripped out to a cab and was whirled uptown to La Mer Restaurant, off Fifth Avenue at 86th Street. There the two girls immediately went "on location."

They sat at a make-believe cocktail lounge table and posed for a series of pictures. They might as well have been in fashionable "21," the Colony or the Stork Club, as far as the people who see the pictures in glamor advertisements are concerned.

The main thing, however, was that these two experienced models were showing and "selling" the latest fashions for evening wear.

* * *

When the pictures were taken, Suzy, just to prove that she can take pictures as well as pose for them, reversed jobs with fashion photographer Dick Rutledge. Now it was Rutledge's turn to do the posing while Suzy, behind the camera, did the "shooting."

That stunt expertly demonstrated, Suzy called for a taxi and was off on another appointment. That's the way it goes in modeling.

TAKE IT I NSTRIDE

"We find ourselves in bathing suits in winter and wearing fur coats in the summertime," said Suzy. "We take it in stride."

In spite of her youth, Suzy has years of modeling experience behind her. She started posing when she was 14 and today she is confident, poised and always self-possessed.

* * *

Suzy was born in San Antonio, Tex. Her father is an inventor of photographic etching processes, and this may explain Suzy's keen interest in photography.

Her parents now live in Jacksonville, Fya., where Suzy was educated. Speaking of what she calls her "Texas family," Suzy said:

"There are four girls in my family—all pretty. Besides Dorian, my other sisters are Florian and Georgiabelle. My people are Texans from away back.

"My father was the youngest of 12 children, my mother the oldest of eight children. I now have 46 first cousins. We all look so much alike that when I get back to Texas people stop me in the street and say: 'Aren't you one of the Parkers?' "

* * *

While Suzy is popular and has many male admirers she's still single. Apparently she has no serious romantic attachments. Asked if she plans to get married one of these days, she smilingly replied, "Never"—but volunteers no explanation.

MOSTLY MARRIED

Emphasizing that the top models she has met in New York are "nice girls," Suzy pointed out that most of them are married and have children.

* * *

"They go home evenings after work and cook," she commented. "You'll see most of them knitting socks for their husbands between sittings."

Suzy is 5 feet 8 inches tall in her stocking feet. She is slender and stunning-looking. She doesn't smoke. Occasionally she takes a drink—but no hard liquor.

"I do TV commercials once in awhile," she said. "I might do a cigarette ad or a washing machine ad—come what may. Since I do not smoke, I feel a bit awkward with a cigarette but I get by.

"I don't think it's attractive to smoke. I'm not prudish but it does ot look becoming to see a woman smoking a cigarette on the street.

"At 22 I'm successful and happy. My fee for modeling is $50 an hour. It's incredible to get $50 an hour, don't you think? I'd say about 10 girls in the profession get $50 an hour.

"Dorian makes $60 but she's put her fee up because she doesn't like to work five days a week. She prefers to work less days at higher rates."

Suzy said her ambition in life is to acquire enough money "so that any morning of my life I can take a plane or a car and travel anywhere I like."

Zonta Club Hears Talk on Geo-Politics

Geo-politics was the topic Dr. E. C. Prophet chose for his talk to the Zonta Club at the Thursday luncheon meeting. He said geo-politics involved the immediate application of politics in their geographical settings, so is a subject of potential dynamite. Dr. Prophet is a professor at Michigan State University, and is also heard on radio.

* * *

He said a science is a search for the facts, with conclusions based on those facts whether agreeable or not. He talked chiefly of the central European area, and urged that the nation back up the State Department with strong stands, rather than an acceptance policy of "not rocking the boat."

He finished with the thought that the foreign diplomats are "playing for keeps," and need the vigorous support of informed Americans to achieve the goals which are vital to our future.

Mrs. Nellie Orr entertained the Zonta Club for its monthly dinner and business meeting at the home of Mrs. E. G. Winn on Pemberton road Thursday evening. Twenty-five members attended, and a new member, Phyllis Kinsley, was welcomed.

For Juggling Colors

If a shirt contrasts with the suit color, such as a pink shirt and gray suit, the tie should pick up the suit color.

If the shirt and the suit match, such as a blue suit and pale blue shirt, the tie should contrast. A third alternative is the new "monotone look," keeping everything in different shades of the same color.

Be Sure Dreamboat Notices You

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

No use just sitting there thinking "wouldn't it be heavenly?" Wouldn't it be divine if you could get to know him; if he'd suddenly "see" you after looking at you all these years; if he'd ask you for a date; and if he'd act as though you were the only girl in the world? Wouldn't it be marvelous?

* * *

Yet, there you sit, doing nothing about it but wishing. You think maybe it would be throwing yourself at him if you took the initiative. But I say there are modest things a girl can do to call herself favorably to the attention of a guy she's eyeing.

Take this girl, for instance. All she knows about her dreamboat is his name, and how he looks. She'd like to know more but she won't if she doesn't take steps.

"Dear Miss Woodward: There's a young man who works in our local radio station whom I'd very much like to know. I'm 18 and he's about 21 and very good looking.

"I've seen him around a lot, always doing his job. And I sometimes drop in at the local shop where he broadcasts a disc show.

"The only trouble is that I never have enough nerve to go up and speak to him. I don't know anyone who knows him who could introduce us. So how should I go about it?"

Answer: You could write him a note to the radio station a note that goes like this: "I'm the girl in the red coat — the one with the blue eyes and the black, black hair. I like your voice, and your way with a disc. Please speak to me if you see me around town.

Allow time for him to get your note, then make a point of dropping in at that shop for his show. Don't say anything, just stand where he can see you and watch him. If you catch his eye, give him a half smile, then leave.

Be on hand for his next show, do some more smiling and see what he does. If nothing, try it a third time. This time he'll recognize a familiar face and a familiar red coat.

When you catch his eye give him a jaunty salute. And wait for his show to be over so you can saunter up to him to talk about the records he played. If he reacts at all, make a point of seeing his show. Each time it will be easier to talk to him.

They say that faint heart never won anybody. It certainly won't help a girl to find out if a boy will accept her invitation. She should take her courage in both hands and ask him, shouldn't she? But here's the story.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm a freshman and he's a senior and he thinks I'm too young for him. I don't and neither do my friends. He comes down to my house often, but he just won't admit that he likes me.

"There's a dance coming up at school soon to which we girls must ask boys. I want to ask him, but I hesitate because I'm afraid he'll refuse me.

"What should I do? He's always building me up, then letting me down boom!"

Answer: He won't get to that dance at school unless some girl asks him. And that girl might as well be you. Unless, of course, there's an unwritten law that senior boys don't go out with freshman girls. In which case you'd better skip the whole idea.

Face the cold fact that he might turn you down because he doesn't want to go to the dance, because some other girl has already asked him, because he doesn't want to start things with you.

Then bravely tell yourself it would be interesting to know what kind of excuse he really would use. It will be that much more delightful a surprise when he accepts, if he does.

But you'll never hear him do that if you don't ask him!

Love Slave Case Ends in Acquittal

Mother Freed by Jury; 'Boy Friend' Awaiting Trial for Murder

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Marjorie Smith, 34, today enjoyed her first day of freedom since she was arrested April 22 for the murder of her husband.

* * *

And Victor Laurence Wolf, the man who tried his best—and failed—to send her to the state gas chamber, pondered his fate in a jail cell.

Mrs. Smith, a trim, attractive brunette, who was charged with masterminding the April 21 auto bomb death of her 34-year-old attorney husband, said the first thing she wanted to do was get back her children—Susan, 3 and Greg, 11. They have been cared for by relatives since her arrest on a first degree murder charge.

A Circuit Court jury at nearby McMinnville—where the case was tried because her attorney said she couldn't get a fair trial in Portland—acquitted her yesterday. For a time it appeared that a hold order was to be placed on Mrs. Smith for service of warrants charging her with writing worthless checks in California in 1947.

Word was received here later that the charge had been dropped. This cleared Mrs. Smith and she was a free woman.

* * *

Wolf testified at the trial that he wired the bomb in Kermit Smith's car at Mrs. Smith's urging and because he was in love with her. He said she asked him to commit the slaying so they could share Smith's $20,000 estate and live together in Alaska.

* * *

Wolf admitted the slaying in open court and asked the court to determine the degree of his guilt. A date for this hearing is expected to be set soon.

Ruth Roman Eyes Divorce From Mortimer Hall

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The marriage of actress Ruth Roman and radio executive Mortimer Hall is to end in divorce, she says.

The actress announced through a press agent yesterday that she would file suit next week, charging cruelty. They were married in 1950 and have one child.

Missing Buffalo Hunted by Farmer in Kentucky

GLASGOW, Ky. (AP)—Bison, commonly known as buffaloes, are pretty hard to find around these parts, but at least one is running loose in the Summer Shade vicinity.

This one escaped from the farm of Wallace Bartley yesterday.

Bartley, who recently acquired two buffalo calves in South Dakota, suspects the missing beast rooted under a fence.

Susan Hayward 'Bops' Actress

Jil Jarmyn Complains to Police Over Injuries Taken in Bedroom Fight

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Pajama-clad Susan Hayward bopped actress Jil Jarmyn on the head with a clothes brush and bit her thumb in actor Donald (Red) Barry's bedroom, Miss Jarmyn told authorities yesterday.

* * *

She asked that a battery complaint be issued against Miss Hayward, who termed the ruckus "a wrestling match" and "a tempest in a very small teapot." Susan accused Miss Jarmyn of making an insulting remark. A city attorney's hearing on the complaint request was set for Nov. 16.

Blonde, 23-year-old Jil called it an "unprovoked assault" by the screen siren. Jil said buttons were torn from her blouse and, when she fell over a coffee table, her leg was bruised.

CIGARETTE BURNS

She said also that Miss Hayward came at her with a lighted cigarette but Susan denied this and retorted: "She simply remembered the divorce testimony." During the trial in which Susan divorced actor Jess Barker, he testified she once tried to burn him with a cigarette.

Detective Sgt. Pat Kealy, who investigated the ruckus that occurred about 11 a.m. last Thursday, said the 34-year-old Miss Hayward told him:

"This blonde girl walked into the house and into the bedroom. She made an insulting remark and it infuriated me. I went toward her and a wrestling match ensued."

Barry—leading man in Red Ryder western films—declined comment on the fray, in which he separated the two women.

WE FELL IN LOVE

Miss Jarmyn, a divorcee, said she met Barry about five months ago when both were working in a movie.

"We fell in love and were going to be married," she related. "Then we had a fight and called it off. Don went to work with Susan in 'I'll Cry Tomorrow' and he started dating her."

Jil returned last Sunday from location work at New Orleans for a new film.

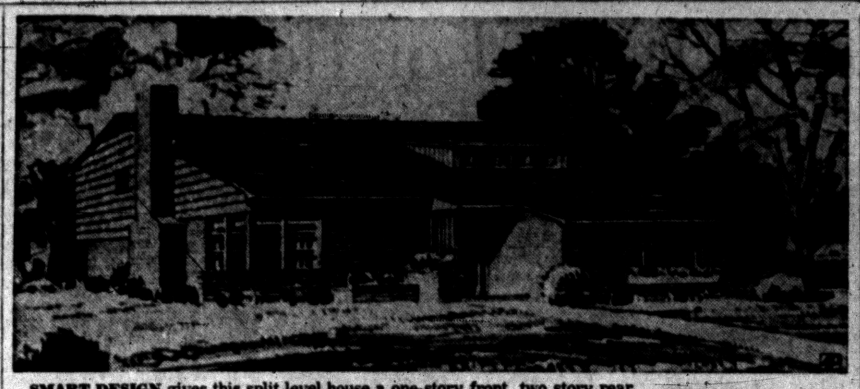

In her signed statement made to Van Nuys police, Miss Jarmyn said she drove last Thursday to Barry's home and entered the back door.

"I thought I would go in and have coffee with Don—like I have before," she said.

First she saw Barry, Miss Jarmyn continued, and then Miss Hayward—clad in polka dot pajamas—"Came into the room screaming, 'Who is this?' She started swinging at me with a large clothes brush." After the row, Jil said, she left and was treated by her physician for contusions on her left arm.

Sgt. Kealy quoted Miss Hayward: "I'm red-haired and Irish, you know, and I don't let anybody call me names. I don't know who struck the first blow. I hit her and she hit me and we wrestled. I don't know whether I used a clothes brush. I might have."

Miss Jarmyn, Miss Hayward and Barry all are expected to attend the Nov. 16 hearing.

SMART DESIGN gives this split level house a one-story front, two story rear.

How Basementless Home Can Have Added Glamor

Th split level house is acquiring a Southern accent. This style of djwelling, designed to produce more house for your money and now popuoar in all parts of the country, is being built without a basement south of the Mason-Dixon line.

* * *

This Southern simplicity works out so well that is is winning even more friends for the split level house throughout the North and who would economize by elimmating basement construction in planning their dream home.

The need for extra storage space above ground, when you build without a basement, is automatically solved in split level design, because this style of house offers an abundance of storage space.

The result of this national blending of regional ideas can be a very livable, attractive and economical home, as shown here in The House of The Week, Design T-302.

BREAKFAST BAR

Comprising four bedrooms, two bathrooms and an extra vanity-lavatory, two fireplaces, an informal family room in addition to a large living room, a glamorous entrance foyer, open kitchen with breakfast bar separating it from the dining room, an oversize garage and a big utility room, this plan is engineered for full family life.

All this and economy, too. Although building costs vary from one location to another, Gilbert Spinded, who worked out this design in Virginia, got building estimates of less than $15,000 in that area. That, of course, does not include land.

Still this house contains more than 2,000 square feet of floor space. The main floor comprises 980 square feet without figuring the garage. The family room level and the bedroom floor total 1,060 square feet. This is a lot of livable space for a house that measures 48 feet 8 inches by 28 feet overall, exclusive of garage.

SHUTTERS CLOSE

Southern hospitality is built into this house with open planning on the main floor. Only a bookcase and vertical stationary baffles separate the foyer, living room and dining room. The baffle screen filters light diagonally into the foyer, while blocking a direct view of kitchen from the front entrance.

Folding shutters close the kitchen from the dining room when desired, but when opened, they merge the two rooms to permit the hostess to join her own party.

The combined length of the living and dining rooms is 32 feet 4 inches — a spacious activities area with a wall of windows facing barbecue pit can be provided. the rear garden patio, where a barbecue pit can be provided.

Raised corner fireplaces are located in both the living room and family room. A vanity-lavatory, adjacent to the entrance foyer, fills the need for a powder room for guests as well as being convenient from the kitchen, utility room, garage and side entrance from the children's play yard.

CEILING SLOPE

The family room is one of the major points of interest in this plan. HJust five steps up from the foyer, this room removes recreation and relaxation from the more formal living room. A dramatic ceiling slope gives this room a story-and-a-half height at its inner wall, where an open balcony with wrought iron railing terminates the bedroom hall.

A corner fireplace with a raised stone hearth is surmounted by a copper hood extending to the ceiling of the family room. Corner windows spread light throughout this room. Wood paneling, such as knotty pine would be especially appropriate for this room.

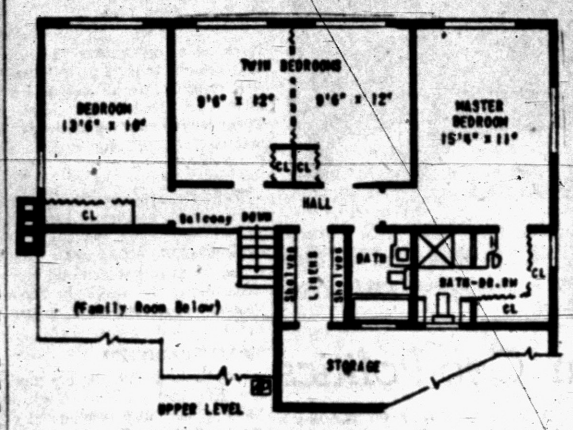

Bedrooms are secluded on the quiet garden side of the house. Twin bedrooms for children are divided by a folding partition for privacy at night. In the daytime this partition is folded back, merging these rooms into one play area almost 20 feet long.

* * *

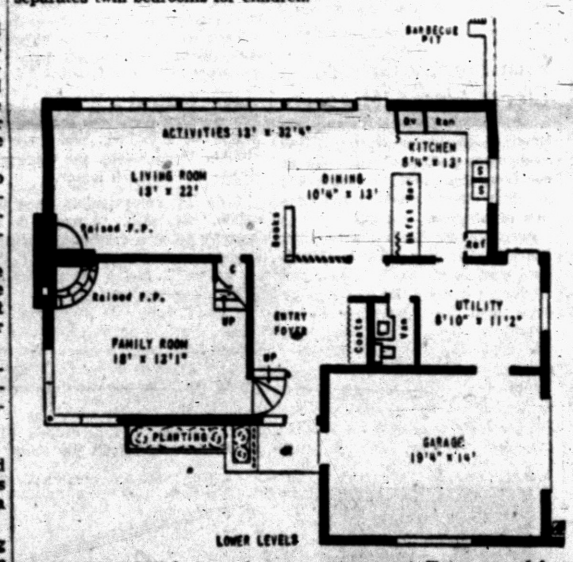

Sliding doors arse specified for all closets throughout the house to save room space. The main bathroom off the hall is planned for a bathtub, while the private bathroom off the master bedroom has a stall shower. A dressing room with siding door closets and a vanity-style lavatory is separated from he private bathroom by a sliding door.

* * *

Extensive excavation and basement construction is dispensed with in this plan by providing a small horizontal-type heating plant adjacent to the chimney. The utility room accommodates laundry equipment and domestic hot water tank.

HALF-A-FLIGHT up from family room are four bedrooms and two bathrooms. Sliding doors are indicated by wavy lines. Fold-partition separates twin bedrooms for children.

HOSPITALITY features the room arrangement. Entrance and foyer by-passes family room and opens into spacious living room and dining room with window wall facing garden patio.

Crooner Crosby to End Career

Family Member Says Bing to Retire, Devote Time to Four Sons

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Bing Crosby, the "Old Groaner," is about to sing his swan song in the show business that made him famous and wealthy.

A member of his family says that the celebrated star, a fixture in the entertainment world for a quarter of a century, is ending his professional career and going into retirement.

The informant said that Bing feels that he is entitled to a rest, after so many years of work, and that he is going to quit and devote his time to his sons—Gary, the twins, Dennis and Phillip, and the youngest one, Lindsay.

Bing reportedly intends to write finis to his career with one more television show.

The member of the family who told about his plans said that the famed crooner has asked for his release from his movie contract at Paramount.

Crosby was ill for weeks last year and it was reported then that he would retire.

Bing said then that the reports were not true.

He began his career as a dance band vocalist and was an almost overnight succeess. By the early 1930s he was a star in pictures, radio and records.

The motion picture Herald Fame Poll listed him as one of the top 10 money making stars in 1934, 1937, 1940 and from 1943 to 1953.

In 1945 he received the Academy Award for his performance in "Going My Way."

Bing has starred in numerous hit pictures. Some of the best known include the "road" picture series he made with his crony, Bob Hope, such as "The Road to Singapore," "The Road to Zanzibar," etc.

Other Crosby hits: "Rhythm on the Range," "Pennies From Heaven," "Little Boy Lost," "White Christmas," and the Academy Award winning film, "Come Back, Little Sheba."

NEW YORK (AP) — TV rehearsal halls are much the same on the East Coast as in the West. They are so shabby you wonder how the people ever get any glamour in the shows.

This week, for example, they were rehearsing for the Patti Page show with Perry Como and Gene Nelson. The stars and about 50 singers, dancers, actors and others were crammed in an ancient rehearsal hall on Eighth Ave. The way things went, it looked as if they'd never get the show on the air. But they did.

My target for that day was Como. Perry the giant killer. Well, he hasn't really slain the giant—Jackie Gleason—but he has come within a point or two of matching his audience rating. Nobody has done that opposite the fat one in years.

"I'm really happily surprised," said Perry as he relaxed—let's face it, he's always relaxed—between rehearsals. "When I got into this thing, I was hesitant.

"After all, I've had 25 years of singing; I didn't want to toss it all down the drain by failing opposite a big show. I figured I had a few good years left.

"Besides, I didn't want to get into a hassle. The thought of doing a weekly hour show frightened me. I like to take it easy; I don't want to work too hard."

Como is working six days a week now, but he doesn't seem to mind it. He's happy with the Saturday night show's success. And despite their opposition on the networks, he and Gleason refuse to feud.

"I've known Jackie for years," he said. "He calls me up all the time and we talk over matters."

of Seeking 'Printers Ink'

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Cora M. Brown (D-Detroit) last night accused Sen. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland) of "irresponsible" publicity-seeking in demanding an investigation of the deaths of two inmates of the Newberry State Hospital.

Francis, chairman of a legislative committee studying mental health problems, said he would have his committee probe into the deaths of two men 11 days apart last summer from what the death certificates said was "unspecified therapeutic misadventure—electroshock."

This, Francis said, "in layman's language means electrocution."

Francis said he wanted to find out whether there was "bungling on the part of the administration."

Miss Brown, a member of Francis' committee, said the Francis had on this and another occasion made "irresponsible" charges against the Mental Health Department without informing any member of his committee his intentions and had treated Charles A. Wagg, state mental health commissioner, with a lack of courtesy.

WANTS PRINTERS' INK

"This leads only to the conclusion," she said, "that he is trying to get printers' ink."

"I don't know what happened," she said, "but I do know that this could have been handled without creating public hysteria."

Miss Brown said she had intended talking to Senate leaders privately about Francis' earlier use of a committee hearing to accuse Wagg of employing narcotics addicts in the hospitals.

She said the Legislature had passed a law authorizing the use of electric shock treatments and relieving physicians of liability in case of mishap because of the shock treatment's "tremendous successes" in curing mental disease.

Sen. Lewis G. Christman (R-Ann Arbor) objected to letting Francis' prepared statement be printed in the Senate journal. "Let's not fill the journal with that tripe," he said. The Senate defeated the motion to print the statement 7-14.

Wagg told newsmen that one of the patients who died had had eight shock treatments without mishap and the other had had seven. All were with consent of their relatives, he said.

* * *

"This is the first fatality we have had since the shock treatments were started at Newberry in 1941," he said. "It's a unique occurrence that after 14 years of giving thousands on thousands of these treatments we should have two deaths in 11 days."

He said Francis had never asked him to explain the cases.

Canadian Maintains Meetings Hurt U. N.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Canada's Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson said today conferences outside the United Nations—such as the Geneva summit meeting and the Bandung African-Asian gathering—weakened the world organization.

Pearson told a news conference "It was unfortunate that discussions which could be held within the United Nations framework were being held outside."

"However," he added, "I am happy to notice an effort to get things back into the United Nations. The Geneva atom parley is an example."

Rubbing Alcohol Causes Fatal Burns to Farmer

ARLINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A 69-year-old farmer burned to death yesterday when a stove apparently ignited an alcohol solution he was using to rub a sore leg.

Officials said Burnett Ellis probably had run from his house with his clothing in flames. He was found dead in the yard.

Ike's Assistant Sees Big Fight

Howard Pyle Predicts Close Presidential Vote in '56 Election

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—President Eisenhower's administrative assistant warned Republicans last night that "we're in for the fight of a lifetime" in next year's presidential campaign.

* * *

Howard Pyle told a banquet session of the Western Republican Conference here that what he described as the success of Eisenhower's program has moved the Democrats to desperation.

There are groups, he added at a news conference, working to deliver huge blocs of votes that pose a threat to Republican prospects. He did not identify those groups but spoke of "growing regimentation of voters" as a threat to "our basic political freedom."

Pyle urged fellow party members to "get out in the streets and preach" Republicanism and what he refered to as the accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration.

But California's Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, in a speech prepared for delivery at the conference today, hewed closer to the we're-going-to-win theme of other speakers.

All other campaign issues, Knight asserted, are subordinate to those embracing constitutional rights, peace plus prosperity, integrity in leadership and capitalism.

* * *

"With those four issues as the cornerstone of our next presidential campaign," he said, "we are assured of support from our American people and victory at the polls in November of next year."

Flying Driver Pilots Auto Over 60 Ft. Run

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Barrett L. Crabtree came out of his low flying sedan's crash landing yesterday with only minor cuts and a charge of reckless driving.

Police said Crabtree, 25, was doing about 80 when his car hit a dirt pile around an excavation. A cab driver, Robert A. Eaton, said the car "took off and went flying low—about 12 feet in the air."

Sixty feet later, Crabtree's car crash-landed, sheared off a utility pole, spun another 150 feet, hit another pole, landed upside down on a railroad track and burst into flame with Crabtree pinned underneath.

Section Chief Admits Work as 'Non-Salaried' Government Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frederick F. Franklin, a former government section chief, has testified he stayed with the National Production Authority for five months as a non-salaried official after returning to the payroll of the Vanadium Corp. of America.

Franklin, now Vanadium's district manager in Cleveland, told a House Judiciary subcommittee he rejoined the Vanadium Corp., a New York firm, in October 1952 at a $1,700-a-year raise from his NPA salary.

STAYED ON JOB

Meanwhile, Franklin said, he remained in his NPA job. By the up to $300 a month in expenses during the time he stayed on in NPA, then part of the Commerce Department.

The former NPA official appeared before the subcommittee in its investigation of whether conflicts exist between the private interests and federal duties of businessmen who serve the government without salary while remaining on private payrolls. Such businessmen are called "WOC's" — short for "without compensation."

Dulles, Tito Will Lunch in Plush Brioni Palace

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — A green island covered with towering pine trees . . . a haven for wild deer and pheasants . . . Roman ruins and the blue Adriatic sea . . .

* * *

That is Brioni, where President Tito will meet and talk with U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles tomorrow.

Once the playground of Austrian-Hungarian aristocracy and Italian nobility, Brioni's World War II damage has been repaired and a white marble summer palace built for Tito. There Dulles will have lunch on his one-day visit.

Brioni is off Istria in the northern Adriatic. The island of 1,705 acres is closely guarded. Only Yugoslav leaders with special permits and invited foreign guests may enjoy its beauties.

* * *

Only two automobiles are on the island. One of these Tito uses when he personally drives his guests along an asphalt road winding beside the sea and through rolling countryside.

Tito is a hunting enthusiast, but he has banned hunting on Brioni. Its forested acres are alive with wild deer and smaller game.

Tito's palace is on the northern side of the island and cannot be seen from the mainland, a mile away. He often strolls down to Brioni harbor to chat with government leaders holidaying in the two hotels and several old houses there.

* * *

Important foreign visitors stay at a villa on the western side. This year Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Soviet Communist party leader Nikita Khrushchev, India's Prime Minister Nehru and Burmese Premier U Nu have enjoyed its hospitality.

Italian Horsemen Olympic Threat, Says Irish Leader

NEW YORK (AP) — The Italians, "masters of Europe this year," will be the team to beat at Stockholm next June in the Olympic Games equestrian events.

That was the word today from Col. Fred A. Ahern, non-riding captain of the Irish army team. Ahern has been coming to the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden for 25 years, the last six as captain.

* * *

"The Italians have restored the standard of riding to the art that was introduced 50 years ago by Caprilli, the Italian cavalry officer, who invented the forward seat style," said Ahern. "They are the masters of Europe."

He said two brothers, Piero and Ramondo D'Inzeo, were the idols of the Italian team.

"In my opinion, Piero is the most artistic rider of the present day. The Italians have about 10 of the old cavalry officers who used to ride so well, still young enough to teach and advise."

But the Stockholm Olympic equestrian events won't be a push-over for any nation, said Col. Ahern.

"The United States has three grand young riders in Billy Steinkraus, Hugh Wiley, and Charles Dennehy, Jr."

"The Germany have a good strong team, also Portugal, England and Spain. Ireland will have a very good team by next year, and the French are always dangerous. South America always produces good teams, especially the Chileans."

Steinkraus of Westport, Conn., captain of the U. S. team, thrilled a crowd of 12,000 last night by outriding 11 riders from Canada, Ireland, Mexico and the United States in capturing the West Point Challenge trophy.

It was the third victory in seven international events for the U. S. team.

Eva Valdes of Mexico led her team to victory in the matinee program with a faultless ride, giving the south of the border rider the President of Chile trophy in the conclusion of a 3-day competition.

CHAMPS—Pretty Carol Ryan, 17 college freshman, ex-Waterford High girl, is one of the top players in the state open table tennis championships, starting tonight at Boys' Club gymnasium. Carol will defend her state junior girls' title. Tourney runs through Sunday night.

Illinois Backs Threaten UM's Rose Bowl Hope

Wolves Seek to Guard No. 3 Ranking Today at Champaign

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Illinois hopes to spring a fleet of speedy backs and a rapidly improving line today against undefeated Michigan, the nations No. 3 team.

* * *

The Wolverines, however, will counter with a powerful ball club paced by ends Tom Maentz and Ron Kramer. Both have been injured at different intervals this season and have not played much together. But both are ready for Illinois.

* * *

Illinois chances of an upset rely mostly on history. Some of the biggest upsets in Big 10 competition have been staged at Champaign against the Wolverines. In the last five games, Illinois has beaten Michigan four times.

* * *

Michigan is in no mood for an upset. A triumph here all but clinches a trip to the Rose Bowl since Ohio State, the only other undefeated team in conference play, will not be eligible, having made the last trip.

* * *

Illinois' only Big 10 triumph was against Minnesota while both Purdue and Michigan State humbled the Illini. Outside conference play, Illinois whipped both Iowa State and California.

* * *

Michigan has clicked off six victories, some not so impressive, on compiling its record. The victims include Missouri, Army, Michigan State, Northwestern, Minnesota and Iowa.

Lions Favored to Trip Colts

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions, still searching for their first victory, are rated 3½-point favorites to beat the Baltimore Colts in Briggs Stadium tonight.

The game starts at 8 p.m. (EST). The Lions expect a crowd of more than 45,000.

Seeking to avenge a 28-13 loss to the Colts earlier in the season, coach Buddy Parker has made some changes in his Detroit lineup. Veteran Lou Creekmur will play the middle guard post which has proved troublesome since the retirement of Les Bingaman.

The Colts, with a 4-2 mark, are tied for first with Los Angeles. The Rams play the San Francisco 49ers Sunday afternoon.

Griffith Clan Keeps Control of Senators

Will of Late Owner Puts Club in Hands of Family

WASHINGTON (AP)—The family of the late Clark Griffith will retain controlling interest in the Washington Senators baseball club under terms of his will made public by the club yesterday.

The will involves 4,432 shares of Senators' stock—52 per cent of the total outstanding. Of these, 1,500 would be transferred to Mrs. Griffith with the remainder being used for her benefit during her lifetime.

These remaining shares would go to the couple's two adopted children, Calvin Griffith and Mrs. Thelma Haynes, following the death of Mrs. Griffith and her sister, Mrs. Jeanne C. Robertson. Mrs. Robertson would benefit from a portion of the stock during her lifetime.

* * *

A few minor bequests to relatives and friends also were made public by the baseball club, which declined to put a total value on the estate. Each share of Senators' stock is estimated to have a value in excess of $100.

The stock is subject to a voting trust, terms of which have never been disclosed.

Rookies Aplenty as NBA Begins Season Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Basketball Assn. opens its 10th season tonight with one of its finest crop of rookies on display.

A full program of four is scheduled with Philadelphia at Boston, Fort Wayne at Syracuse, Minneapolis at St.Louis and New York at Rochester. Each team will play 72 games by March 14 with the top three clubs in each of the Eastern and Western divisions moving into the playoffs.

Heading the rookies are such former college stars as All-America Tom Gola of LaSalle, Philadelphia; All-America Dick Ricketts of Duquesne, St.Louis; Kenny Sears of Santa Clara, New York; Ed Conlin of Fordham, Syracuse; Jim Loscutoff of Oregon, Boston; Dick Garmaker of Minneapolis, Minnesota; Corky Devlin of George Washington and John Horan of Dayton, Fort Wayne.

Hopeful MSU Two TD Choice to Stop Purdue

Dawson Duel Expected as State Eyes Revenge for 1953 Upset

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Michigan State's "Cinderella" football team—an orphan at the start of the season, but now a respected giant—met Purdue's Boilermakers in Rose Ade Stadium today.

* * *

The sparkling Spartans were 14-point favorites as they sought to keep alive their faint hopes for a Rose Bowl trip.

* * *

A crowd of 40,000 was expected to turn out and watch Michigan State's classy backfield duel with Lenny Dawson, Purdue's brilliant passer.

The last time Michigan State played in Rose Ade Stadium its 28-game winning streak came to an end—a 6-0 victim over a fired-up Purdue team which hadn't won a game that season until then.

With a 3-1 record in the Big Ten, Michigan State still had a chance to overhaul Michigan and get the bid to the big bowl.

* * *

But the Spartans couldn't be blamed today if they kept one ear cocked for the announcement of the Michigan-Illinois score. Because in order for Michigan State to go westward on New Year's Day, Michigan will have to lose two games.

Michigan State was weakened by the loss of tackle Embry Robinson, out for the season with a knee injury.

Purdue, primarily a passing team, flashed a sound running game in beating Illinois 13-0 last week.

Table Tennis Test Lists Large Field

Latest entries for what is expected to be the largest Michigan Open Table Tennis Tournament in years brought the total to more than a 100 hopefuls for the paddle laurels. The matches opened today at noon at the Pontiac Boys Club gymnasium and will continue through Sunday.

Perc Secord reported that Russian born paddlist Max Marenko, visiting Canada at the present time, will be a strong contender for the men's title. He recently defeated some of the best table tennis players in the U.S. at the Canadian International championships including Chuck Brown formerly ranked No. 2 in the United States.

A 2nd late entry was the 1954 national women's singles champion Mildred Shahan who will be a top attraction plus a tough competitor for Waterford's Carol Ryan for the women's honors.

Fearless Penn Faces ND Today

Winless Quakers Face Stern Test Against Fighting Irish

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Far from being nervous about their tilt with sixth-ranked Notre Dame today, Penn's winless Quakers are acting like anything but firmly-entrenched underdogs.

"That's one of the real encouraging things," said Coach Steve Sebo. "These boys have a wonderful attitude and they want to learn as much as they can. The enthusiasm this week has been terrific."

Sebo admits he has a few goose-pimples, but on the other hand, he adds:

"Everybody likes to play against Notre Dame."

Some 55,000 fans are expected to turn out for the game. The only question in their minds seems to be not "Who will win?" but "By how much will Notre Dame win?"

The expected attendance is remarkable, in view of the Quakers' 15 straight losses, and 19 games without a win, and because the game will be televised in the East, including Philadelphia.

Injured Milford End Called Satisfactory

Jim Green, 17, of Rt. 2 Milford, and senior right end on the Milford High football team, was reported in satisfactory condition this morning by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital authorities as the result of a back injury suffered in the closing minutes of yesterday's Milford-Waterford game.

The injured gridder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Green of Milford, is being held for observation after he was rushed off the field yesterday in an ambulance after being tackled.

Boyd Scores Upset TKO Over Johnson

CHICAGO (INS) — Bobby Boyd of Chicago, a 2 to 5 shortender, upset the dope last night by scoring a technical knockout over favored George Johnson of Trenton, N. J., in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-round nationally televised bout at the stadium.

Boyd, who weighed 161½ pounds to Johnson's 157, almost ended the fight in the first round when he knocked Johnson down with a left hook to the jaw. The bell saved the New Jersey man.

In the eigth round, he had Johnson down three times for counts before referee Frankie Sikora stopped the bout to save the New Jersey man from further punishment.

NFL Teams May Be Shuffled

NEW YORK (INS)—Though the pro football season begins moving down the home stretch this weekend none of the teams have started yelling "uncle" yet, except maybe Detroit and the Lions have no relatives.

The teams are so tight in the Western Conference of the National Football League that the right combination of wins and losses tomorrow could conceivably throw the four of the six teams in the loop in a tie for first place.

In the Eastern Conference, Cleveland has a one game lead with five wins and one loss, but Pittsburgh or any of the other four teams trailing the Steelers could suddenly catch fire and throw that division on its ear as well.

In a Saturday night go, the Chicago Cardinals play host to Pittsburgh. Though the Steelers hold down second place in the Eastern Division with a 4-2 record, the fourth place Cardinals, fired up of late, are a 2½ point favorite on the line.

The New York Giants, who put on a volcanic display of pent-up power last week, may be tougher opponents for league-leading Cleveland than anyone thinks.

The Chicago Bears host Green Bay Sunday afternoon. The Bears have started to roll, winning three straight after dropping their first three, including a 24-to-3 loss to the Packers. Ed Brown, Bear quarterback, spearheads a great offense which makes Chicago a 10 point favorite to even the score with the Packers.

In the other two games scheduled in the league, Washington hosts Philadelphia and San Francisco moves south to Los Angeles.

The Eagles are rolling smoothly now that Ted Wergert is back in the lineup and Eddie Le Baron will have to be better than perfect to pull a win for the Redskins. The official odds give Philadelphia the nod by 7 points.

The San Francisco-Los Angeles affair could shuffle the Western Conference into a top-heavy deck. The 49ers, with a 4-2 record, need the win to remain at least tied with Baltimore for first place. San Francisco is in a three-way tie for second place with a 3-3 record.

But the Rams have a big line that will probably be able to stop high-stepping runners like Joe Perry, and they can hold their own in the air. That should be enough of a difference.

Trojan Backs Romp in 33-7 Win Upstate

Pontiac Mired Deeper in Cellar After Loss Friday at Saginaw

By BILL CORNWELL

SAGINAW—The Pontiac Chiefs were resigned to the Saginaw Valley Conference cellar today after Friday night's football debacle here.

* * *

An elusive, hard-running band of backs, led by halfback Jim Sherley who scored twice on long runs, rolled to five touchdowns last night as Saginaw's Trojans pinned a decisive 33-7 licking on the visiting Chiefs.

Any hope of escaping the league basement for Ed Graybiel's charges were thoroughly squelched by Saginaw's convincing win. Pontiac's SVC record now stands at 0-4 with tough Flint Northern still remaining on its Valley agenda in next Friday's season finale at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium.

* * *

The upstate Trojans made their intentions known very early, striking paydirt with one lightning blow as soon as they took control of the oval. Pontiac received the opening kickoff and punted after three unsuccessful efforts.

* * *

On Eastern's 2nd play from scrimmage the fleet Sherley broke into the clear and rambled 76 yards for a touchdown. Quarterback Gene Bohn placekicked the extra point and Saginaw was off and running, 7-0.

Saginaw stretched its advantage to 14-0 at halftime when Sherley got loose again for a 44-yard touchdown dash in the 2nd quarter. Bohn converted.

The Chiefs' hopes for a 2nd-half revival were dispelled in a hurry. The Trojans took the kickoff and marched 67 yards in four plays with halfback Marty McLean galloping the final 48 yards through right tackle for the tally. Bohn converted once more and Saginaw had the game completely out of reach, 21-0.

* * *

Pontiac's warriors posted their lone touchdown following the next kickoff. The Chiefs drove 65 yards in five plays, Charley Robinson accounting for the score on a 45-yard sprint over left tackle. Bob Casteel booted the point.

Saginaw chalked up its 4th TD late in the 3rd period. The Trojans stuck to the ground and hammered at the Pontiac line, driving 68 yards to score with his 1st conversion, but the lead was extended to 27-7.

* * *

A blocked punt paved the way for Saginaw's last TD in the 4th quarter. End Joe Scott blocked Art Poe's punt and Fred Warner recovered on the Pontiac 24. Ken Huebner circled end to the two from where Bohn went over on a sneak. Bohn's kick for point was blocked by linebacker Arnold Larson, who played an outstanding game in a losing cause.

Trojans' victory, gained on a muddy field, gave them an even 2-2 mark in the Valley and a 5-3 overall figure. The Chiefs' overall record reads 2-6.

* * *

Saginaw's slick gridiron limited offensive maneuvers to the ground. Trojans tried three passes and completed one, while Pontiac failed to connect in four attempts. Saginaw amassed 361 yards rushing compared to the Chiefs 121 and led in first downs, 12-5.

Ann Arbor Closes Out Perfect Season to Register 52-1-2 Record Since 1949

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Amazing Ann Arbor, which has lost only one football game in the last seven years, climaxed another perfect season Friday night with a resounding 32-6 victory over Jackson.

The triumph nailed down the fourth perfect season for the Pioneers since Hank Fonde became coach in 1949. Under his regime, Ann Arbor has flourished with a fabulous 52-1-2 record.

The Pioneers' victory over Jackson probably was their finest of the season. They ran up a 32-0 lead in three quarters and had little difficulty moving on the slimy, sawdust-covered turf of Wines Field.

* * *

Ann Arbor made 325 yards on the ground while rolling through its 38th consecutive game without a loss.

The vitcory undoubtedly bolstered Ann Arbor's position as the No. 2 team in the Associated Press high school poll. The Pioneers can now sit back and see how top-ranked Bay City Central does in its final two games.

Bay City Central meets Midland tonight, then journeys to Flint Central next Friday night for the big game of the Saginaw Valley season.

While Ann Arbor concluded its season on a smashing note, Lansing Eastern provided the evening's big dramatics by scoring with one second to play for a 13-13 tie with Lansing Sexton.

Battle Creek, meanwhile, scored 21 points in the final quarter to beat Hammond Tech of Indiana. Fullback Jos Fullerton, who scored three times, put Battle Creek ahead to stay early in the fourth quarter on a 19-yard run. He also scored on rushes of 68 and 40 yards. Bob Jones got two others for the winners.

Muskegon almost blew a 21-point lead but held on for 28-20 victory over Muskegon Heights.

Flint Northern and Saginaw Arthur Hill played a dull 7-7 tie in a game marked by missed opportunities.

Dearborn Fordson clinched the Border Cities championship with a 32-0 breeze over Wyandotte as tailback Jim Economou scored one touchdown and set up two others with his powerful running. It was the seventh straight victory for the Tractors.

Grand Rapids Catholic Central locked up the City League title by turning its heralded showdown battle with Grand Rapids South into a 32-0 rout.

Seek 3rd Triumph

British Team Hopeful in Ryder Cup Opener

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The British accepted a challenge and threw perhaps their strongest pair of players at the United States as the famed Ryder Cup international golf matches got under way today over the sunny Thunderbird Country Club Course.

Two veteran Britishers, Capt. Dai Rees and Harry Bradshaw, took dead aim at the formidable United States team of Cary Middlecoff and Sam Snead in the 36 holes of match play.

They were set as the featured Scotch foursome—each teammate hitting alternate strokes—in the last of four matches slated for the day. Play was set to begin at 9 a.m., PST.

Arrayed against each other in the other foursomes were Chandler Harper and Jerry Barber of the United States against Johnny Fallon and John Jacobs of the British; Yankees Ted Kroll and Doug Ford against Eric Brown and Sydney Scott, and Jack Burke Jr., and Tommy Bolt against Arthur Lees and Harry Weetman.

Ten times the two nations have met in this series and only twice, in 1929 and 1933, have the British won. Yet Rees, 42-year-old veteran of two decades of tournament play and now in his sixth Ryder Cup competition, said he believes the British "have a good chance to win."

Long-Tailed Rooster

Jack Hankms, 3451 Floretta, Oakland Lake, Wednesday downed what he believes is the longest-tailed pheasant of the season. Hankins' bird had a flowing tail of more than 37 inches. It weighed about two and a half pounds. He got another that went three pounds, hunting near Holly.

Trojans, Eagles Capture League Titles

By GEORGE TRUMBULL, JR.

The names of Clarenceville and Madison High Schools were written into county area gridiron annals yesterday as both prep elevens captured their 1st football titles in history with victories over West Bloomfield and Troy respectively.

The Trojans from Farmington fought off a stubborn Laker aggregation to gain a 12-0 triumph with right half Bob Soop climaxing a 70 yard march when he crashed over from the five in the 1st period. Gene Garbin intercepted a Keego aerial with two minutes to go in the game, running 55 yards to pay-dirt to end the scoring.

Madison countered the 1st time they had the ball in the 1st quarter with quarterback Jack Tompkins diving over from the one. A 30 yard pass from Tompkins to Roger Archambault set up the Eagles' 2nd marker when Larry Skinner plunged over from the four. Archambault took a hand off from Tompkins in the 4th stanza and went off tackle for the final three yards and the last score making it Madison 18, Troy 0.

Junior Lindy Salathiel paced Waterford Skippers to a lopsided 32-6 win over Milford as he gained 111 yards in eight carries and scored two touchdowns. Norm Probert and Stan Jones ran for two Skipper TD's while Tom Bryce passed 21 yards to Jerry Kruskie for another. Tom Motley scored Milford's lone tally.

Holly gave 2nd ranked Clarkston of the Wayne-Oakland League a scare last night, leading 7-6 up to the last six minutes of the contest at Holly. The Wolves pulled the struggle out of the fire on a 61 yard scoring play set up by a Larry Parks' heave to his left end for a 13-7 finale.

In another grid clash, Plymouth pasted a 27-7 loss on I-L Walled Lake for the Vikings 2nd straight setback with Larry Dion passing to Dick Woodworth for 22 yards for loser's only counter. Champion I-L Van Dyke continued its winning ways, preparing for next week's battle with Center Line, by trouncing Hazel Park 25-7.

Chester Markham intercepted a North Branch pass in the 1st quarter and ran 89 yards to pay-dirt and passed 23 yards to John Fowler for a TD in the 2nd frame to lead Romeo to a 26-7 win over North Branch. Gerald Dallwitz and Dave Proper scored two more TDs while Pete Stewart booted two extra points. Jack Ferrier counted for the losers.

Firzgerald downed Avondale 19-7 with Al Van Overmeer tallying twice, Leon Laney once and Jim Morgan recording the Jackets' single payoff. Ed Hungerford hit Bill Savalich for three touchdowns as Ortonville battled to a 19-13 margin over Bloomfield Hills. Passes from Jim Jones to Harold Davis accounted for the Barons' two tallies.

Center Line captured its 2nd straight Bi-County League title as ace Larry Bielat continued his aerial display to lead his team to a 54-19 victory over Eastland.

Colonials, BC Scare Mountaineers, Hurricanes but Lose; Today's Card Has Plenty of Thrills

The Associated Press

The bowl hopes of West Virginia's unbeaten-united Mountaineers were still alive today but only after they had the daylights scared out of them by a stubborn George Washington team.

The seventh-ranked Mountaineers last night rallied from a 7-0 halftime deficit for a 13-7 victory. It was their seventh straight and virtually assured them the Southern Conference title.

No possible bowl bid hinged on the other major game played last night but it was another hard-fought contest with Miami's Hurricanes edging Boston College 14-7 on touchdown runs of 73 and 44 yards by Jack Losch. Fumbles killed off two BC drives inside Miami's 10-yard line.

* * *

Down 21-0 in the third period Hardin-Simmons staged a great rally to upset Texas Western 23-21 and virtually knock the Miners out of the Border Conference race. Joel Honeycutt's field goal from the Western 21 with only five minutes left to play provided the winning points.

George Washington's Colonials, undismayed by West Virginia's nation-leading offensive record, tallied in the first period on a 89-yard run by little Mike Sommer. Then, after West Virginia took the lead in the last period, they drove to the Mountaineer 15 before an intercepted pass halted the threat a minute before the final gun sounded.

The other members of the Top 10 in The Associated Press poll, except Texas Christian, which has a day off, swing into action today and there is little in the past performance sheets to indicate any serious trouble. This is especially true of top-ranked Maryland and Oklahoma's No. 2 Sooners.

Maryland takes on Louisiana State, which has won only once. Oklahoma figures to rack up its 25th straight victory and its 51st in the Big 7 Conference with Missouri the victim.

Navy, its attack geared to the passing of George Welsh, faces the problem of rebounding from the lacing handed the Middies by Notre Dame last week. It's a question whether Duke's offense has regained its early season momentum.

Tennessee has won four straight against weaker opponents and could well wreck Georgia Tech's hopes for the Southeastern Conference title and a bowl bid.

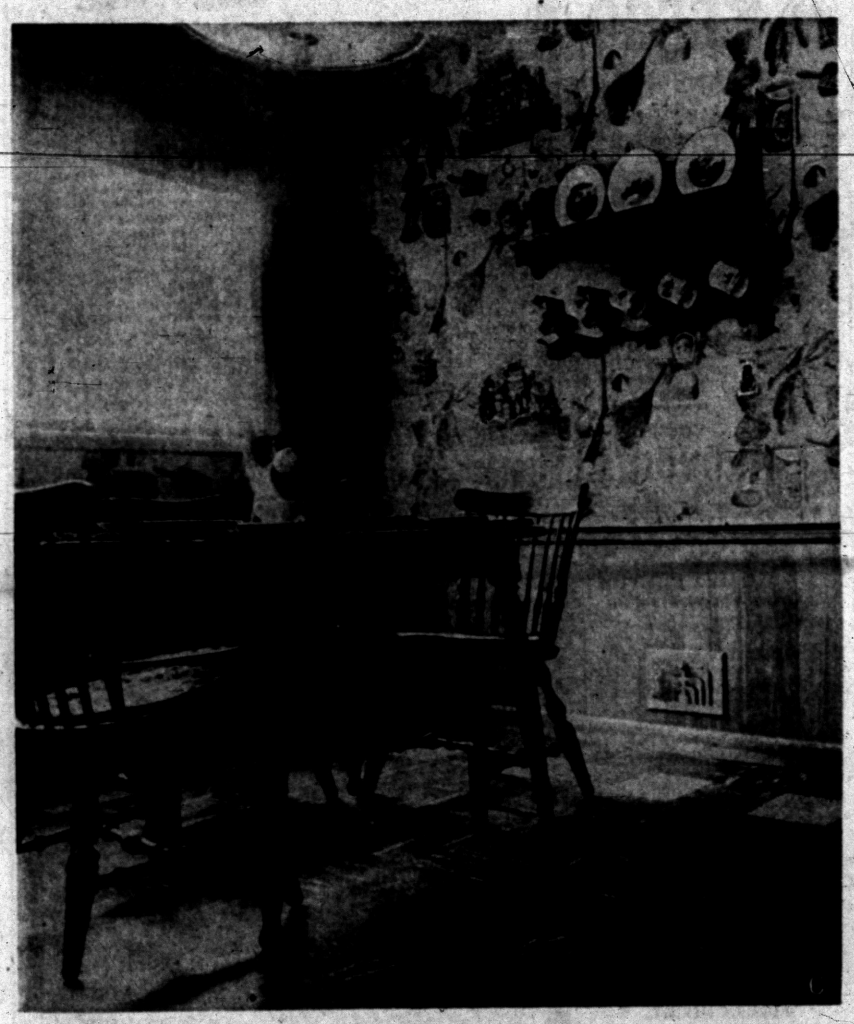

Another long series ends in Yale's Bowl when Army's improving Cadets take on once-beaten Yale before 70,000 fans.

Games having a direct bearing on conference title races include Mississippi State vs. Auburn in the Southeastern and Baylor vs. Texas and Southern Methodist vs. Texas Aggies in the Southwest.

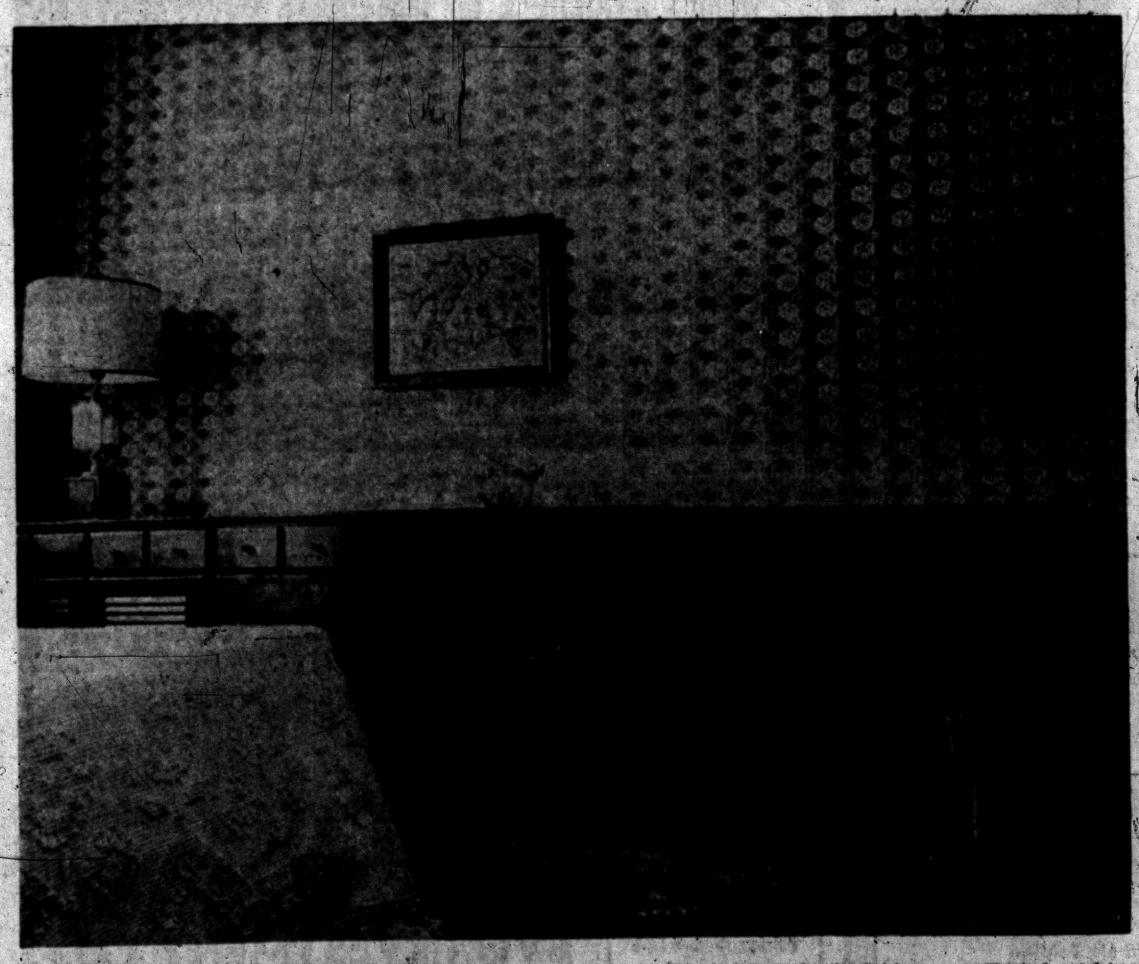

Throughout the nation are scattered such other major contests as Syracuse vs. Penn State, Tulane vs. Alabama, Kentucky vs. Vanderbilt, Indiana vs. Ohio State, Minnesota vs. Iowa, Washington vs. California and Stanford vs. Southern California.

MAPLE SPOOL BED — This is displayed in the master bedroom. A modern reproduction of a furniture fashion popular for many years, this handsome piece has matching night stands. The lamps are milk glass with white shades.

EARLY AMERICAN — The round maple table has a practical plastic top. Hooked covers are used on the maple chairs, while there is an arm chair for the head of the family. A maple rack displays old plates and a group of mugs.

FUNCTIONAL BEDROOM GROUP — Three of the numerous pieces offered in this group of functional bedroom furniture are displayed above. Having all the pieces the same height makes a unified surface. The wood is maple, the finish nutmeg. The bedspread is a copy of a popular colonial pattern.

Your Neighbor's House

Model Home Gives Ideas to Modern Homemakers

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

It looks as if the family living there had just stepped out. Except for the protective runners on the carpets, and the absence of personal belongings, the house might be one your neighbor or mine lived in. It is, however, a model home, one furnished for show.

Located in Thornwood subdivision, on Adams and Big Beaver roads, the house is typical of the many contemporary homes being built at the present time.

The thirty-foot living room with dining space at one end has been done in beige, brown and coral, with brass accents. The carpeting is beige, rayon and nylon mixed, the floor-length draperies covering the window wall are gold linen weave.

The sofa facing the fireplace of pinkish brick has a covering of figured cotton boucle with an interesting self pattern. At right angles to the fireplace there is a striped tweed love seat. Its muted colors pick up the main colors of the room.

Next to the raised hearth at the other end of the room is a swivel arm chair covered in deep coral linen. A large lounge chair has checked tweed upholstery.

All the tables are transitional style in solid cherry. The coffee table does double duty as a bench. The step tables at each end of the davenport hold all brass lamps with marbleized shades.

Bright foam rubber pillows and interesting imported glass accessories add interest and color. It is a fascinating mixture of the old world with the new.

At the present time bottles as decorative pieces are much in vogue. Several are used in the living room. The Oriental influence is strong and has been supplied with a pair of Chinese bookends. The wall above the fireplace opening is a background for a pair of carved wood gilded cocks, two feet tall.

Transitional cherry is also used for the dining furniture. A dropleaf table, a chest and buffet supply adequate eating and storage space. A sunburst clock above the buffet provides the touch of brass for this part of the room. Modern pottery is used on the table.

Between the kitchen and the garage is a cozy breakfast room. Taking her theme from the amusing "Country Store" wall paper, the decorator has used early American furniture. A practical top of plastic on the round maple table makes it impervious to wear.

Comb-back chairs are right at home with it, as are the black captain's chairs. The former are also known as Governor Carver chairs, named after the first governor of Virginia. An old hatrack holds picture plates and mugs. Draperies are deep green glazed chintz.

The seat covers are hooked, the place mats woven. Sturdy pottery dishes are used here. Against one wall there is a maple dry sink with copper liner to hold plants. A modern reproduction of a white ironstone tureen decorates the top. Other decorative notes are the lavebo mounted on wood and wrought iron trivets.

The den is a second living room, having full length windows overlooking the backyard. It also has a fireplace, this one decorated with a metal shield and wrought iron hardware.

Another black captain's chair is drawn up to the pine chest desk. There are horse prints above the desk, each one dangling a stirrup. The lamp has actual fish flies on its white shade.

TRANSITIONAL CHERRY — Simple lines and beautiful wood make this transitional dining room furniture outstanding. The top drawer of the buffet is divided for silver storage. The sunburst clock is in accord with other brass accessories.

THE OLD WORLD WITH THE NEW — Wiggs have furnished this living room with simple modern furniture and added interest by means of imported accessories. Beige, brown and coral have been used, with brass accenting the color scheme. The low coffee table may be used as a bench if desired.

WORKING CORNER — Every home needs a desk somewhere. In the model home it is in the den. Combining a desk with drawers gives more storage space. Black captain's chairs are used in several rooms and fit well here. The fireplace decoration is a metal shield.

the green in the scenic wallpaper behind it. The hutch table has storage space under it and can be kept down for a game table or folded out of the way.

Hutch tables are relics of Colonial days when space in small cabins was at a premium. These tables could be swung out of the way when they were not in use. In case of Indian attack, the heavy boards of the round or square tables would be an excellent barricade at a window.

The maple platform rocker has old world maps on its covering. A modern note is injected by the group of black metal cocktail tables folded ready for use. An extremely handsome pine barometer and thermometer, a copy of an old French piece, hangs next to the door.

One bedroom suitable for a boy has a deep brown rug. The functional furniture is maple with a nutmeg finish. All pieces are the same height and fill one side of the room. A double chest of drawers, a louvered cupboard and a desk are included. The lamp is an old coach lantern. The headboard of the bed contains a bookcase. The bedspread is a copy of an old Colonial one.

The master bedroom is furnished in maple, with a double spool bed and matching bedside tables. The nylon-rayon carpet is white; white acetate curtains are sill length; the bedspread and matching ruffle are taffeta percale. The lamp on the Mr-and-Mrs. double maple dresser is made from a bowl and pitcher. Milk glass lamps and a Boston rocker complete the furnishings.

The third bedroom is the pine room. The brass theme carried throughout the house shows up here with lamps. The short curtains are made of sheer combspun material with a gold cross stripe.

The house has been furnished by Wiggs, with draperies and carpets by Moll's. Glover Realty of Birmingham owns the house.

Braided Vinyl Now Rug Base

Newest development in floor coverings for easy housecleaning is the braided vinyl rug which requires little more than an occasional washing to keep it as new looking as the day it was first put down. Used on a vinyl floor, which can be kept just as bright and fresh looking as the rug with occasional applications of wax, these rugs reduce floor-maintenace work to the barest minimum.

Although not as decorative as the cottons, rayons and wools, the vinyl rugs should answer the problem of well kept floors and floor coverings in homes where there are small children. Even the most meticulous housekeeper, if she is the mother of a small brood, knows that it is very difficult to keep the usual type of floor covering looking neat and clean.

For those who prefer a more traditional type of rug, the cottons are next on the list of practicality and can be had in a variety of interesting weaves. They are still supreme in the wide range of colors in which they are available.

The decorator hues in cotton rugs are particularly effective on well waxed wood floors where they make rich spots of color. The cottons also have a softening effect on the sometimes staccato surface of vinyl and other type of man-made floorings. These floors, too, gain in appearance from regular applications of wax.

Cotton rugs usually look good after washing and simplify upkeep as they can be sent to the laundry and, if they're made of a good grade of cotton, they'll retain their appearance after several such trips.

Use of small area rugs is in the ascendancy. The new patterns and weaves are so attractive they are decorative accents that draw attention to a well kept floor.

Tough Liquid Rubber Proves Easy to Apply

Do-it-yourselfers are offered a liquid form of neoprene. It is a tough chemical rubber which can be brushed, sprayed or rolled on dry surfaces.

The company says it's good for weather-proofing roofs, mending roof gutters, drains or chimney flashings, protecting metal fences and gates against rust, rejuvenating old linoleum, or weather-protecting dog houses.

A Stitch in Time

Well organized cleaning, comparatively little each day, means that there will be no big weekly cleaning at all. Weekends can be kept free for entertaining or doing something "special" with the family.

Cool, Cool, Weather

The air conditioning equipment which keeps the huge Pentagon comfortable during Washington's muggy summer weather has a cooling equivalent to melting 28,600,000 tons of ice daily, according to engineers.

Exhaust Fan Does It

Good ventilation is important in a kitchen. You can build it in by having a fan cabinet over the range, or an exhaust fan in a window, wall, or ceiling.

Decorator Look for Bathrooms

NEW YORK (INS)—If you want the latest "decorator's look," make your bathroom accessories match your bedroom decor.

* * *

That's the advice of Garfield Ferguson, linen buyer for a New York store, who says:

"The accent today is on strong coordination between bed and bathroom. More and more bath accessory colors are being developed—and the colors are well balanced."

He added that the bathroom accessories themselves are coordinated to carry out the one theme and color scheme.

* * *

"The idea is to make bathroom decoration as simplified as possible for the young housewife — matching towels, hamper, shower curtains and waste baskets takes next to no effort today."

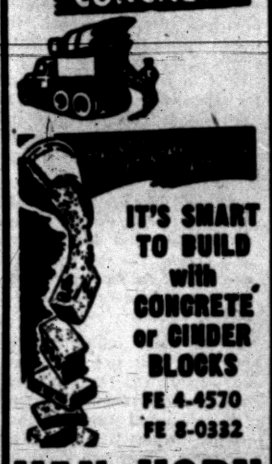

GREEN AND GOLD

Ferguson pointed to an antique gold and grey-green combination of towels which he bought and proclaimed:

"Shadow green and antique gold are one of the smartest and best coordinated colors this fall."

Ground-In Grit Tears the Fibers in Every Rug

A rug or carpet wears out mainly because, when it is walked on, or furniture pressed on it, tiny bits of grit blown in and carried in from the outside act like knives, and cut the fibers.

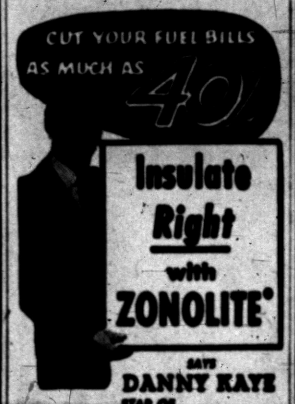

Thus they must be removed as thoroughly and as frequently as it is practical to do. If they are left undisturbed, they will injure your rug or carpet more. They will work further down into the fibers and then, when they do their damage, they will cut off the longer yarns, exactly as if we were to get down and snip out fibers with scissors.

The rule to follow in the care of floor coverings is to vacuum clean them every day if you possibly can. If not, at least twice a week should be a "must" in every home.

TV Has Own Room

A new room, variously called a family room, television room or activity room, is appearing in most homes. Emphasis, in building and decorating, is on "dual purpose," with a sofa that becomes a bed, a desk that is a dressing table, etc.

Fabric, Wallpaper Motifs of Frank L. Wright Shown

F. Schumacher & Company is introducing its "Taliesin" line of fabrics and wallpapers designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. This outstanding decorative collection is Wright's first creative offering in home furnishings for the American public.

Wright's credos on organic architecture, furnishings, and life embody the spirit of nature, a seeking of unity—for man, nature, and beauty. In this great architect's designs as translated into Schumacher's fabrics and wallpapers, there is harmonious blending of design and color.

Integration of separate elements into unified wholes is the keynote of Wright's work. After months of planning with Rene Carrillo, design supervisor of Schumacher, designs were created which will carry on the message of Frank Lloyd Wright's art inside homes everywhere.

Geometric design is the unifying element in the "Taliesin" line with outstanding and varied interpretations, all with a feeling of a third-dimension. Simplicity exists not only in design, but also in naming of the patterns which is done with design numbers.

The "Taliesin" collection includes six printed fabrics, seven woven fabrics, and four wallpapers. Wright's keen interest in natural fibers is exhibited in choice of cloths: linen, mohair, cotton, wool, and silk.

Wright's utilization of the finest in synthetics is evidenced by the selection of Fortisan, as well as blends of rayon with natural fibers.

The "Taliesin" line of adaptable, versatile designs will be enriched with additional printed and woven fabrics and wallpapers in the future.

Weather Strip Kit Boon to Homeowners

There's good news for "do-it-yourselfers" in the arrival on the retail market of a unique door weather-stripping kit just in time to keep your home snug against chilly winter winds.

* * *

The kit consists of 17 feet of pure vinyl plastic stripping wound on a 7-inch cardboard reel, in the center of which is inserted a special fold-up metal tube of adhesive. Instructions for installing the door-stripping are printed on the sides of the reel.

The metal tube does not have the conventional cap; instead, it has a thumbnail break-off tip since all the adhesive will be used in putting up the stripping. Just below the tube's tip, the angle of the shoulder is flatter than on the standard tube, to permit the shoulder to be used as a spreader for the adhesive.

No tools other than a knife or scissors to cut the plastic stripping are necessary for installation, the manufacturer says, adding that the door may be opened and shut immediately after the last strip is in place.

The stripping is guaranteed for 20 years against rotting, cracking or drying out.

Don't Give Your Kitchen the 'Living Room Look'

The trend toward giving the kitchen a living-room look can go too far. True, the kitchen must show an awareness of color and style, but it is not and never can be an entertainment room, a lounge, or a boudoir.

It's a place where you must deal with food; where stacks of dishes must be washed, dried, and put away; wher grease fumes and odors abound. If it isn't planned with these things in mind, you've wasted your money.

Be Careful

If you store your paint brushes in kerosene, be sure to get as much of the kerosene off the bristles as you can before you use the brush for painting. Kerosene will slow down the drying time of paint so the least there is on the brush the better.

Plan for Second Bath in Home

By all means plan for that second bathroom when you are building your new house. The cost, if you plan it right, won't be nearly as much as you think, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

* * *

Planning for a second bathroom is important because hardly anything in connection with the house can approach the second bathroom in the utility, convenience, and, saving in time which it will provide.

Factors which will enable the homebuilder to keep the cost of the second bathroom within his budget are explained by the Bureau.

In the small home or apartment, substantial economies can be gained by installing the second bathroom adjacent to the first. This design permits the use of the same basic piping for both bathrooms. Additional piping cost for the second bathroom would in most cases, be only about 10 per cent more than for the single bathroom, the Bureau estimates.

In backing up two bathrooms for economy in piping, the first consideration must be the location of the water closet. In most two-bathroom arrangements, the water closets should be installed back to back. This permits the use of a standard water closet bend.

Wherever mechanical ventilation is provided, the bathtub may be placed against any wall. Care should be taken however, to avoid placing the bathtub under the window.

When young homeowners build a new home and leave the second floor unfinished for future improvement, the original plans should always include the installation or properly located fixture outlets or branches for the drainage and the water supply for a future bathroom.

American Wives Now Regularly Flip Their Lids

Flipping your lid has become socially acceptable kitchen conduct.

More than three million women do just that every day, it was revealed recently.

This figure refers to the number of women who now own a lid flipper, the ten-cent opener for pry-off capped glass food containers. Small enough to hide in your fist, the opener is scientifically designed to convert simple wrist movement into leverage for lifting the caps.

Introduced only a year ago, the handy gadget is now available in grocery, supermarket, chain, variety, hardware, and department stores in cities all over the country.

* * *

The homemaker's quick acceptance of the lid flipper indicates it is fast becoming a standard item in every home.

105,000-Unit Housing Plan Aimed at Reducing Slums

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Eisenhower administration is considering a request to Congress for a new three-year federal public housing program providing 105,000 dwellings for low-income families.

* * *

Reliable sources say the proposal — expected to produce heated controversy in Congress — is being studied by the Budget Bureau for inclusion in President Eisenhower's January budget message.

* * *

The recommendation from the Public Housing Administration would provide 35,000 low-rent dwellings annually for three years as part of an overall effort to eliminate slums and provide Americans with better housing.

Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole, who opposed public housing as a Republican congressman from Kansas, is reported backing the new plan. He told public housing supporters recently that he favored an authorization from Congress for a program lasting "for two years or longer."

Real estate groups and many house Republicans and southern Democrats oppose public housing because they feel that government subsidies for the projects make the program "Socialistic." The house has voted frequently to kill the operation.

However, Senators of both parties have supported public housing on the grounds that it helps low-income families to move out of slum areas and thus aids in the fight to eliminate substandard housing.

IKE URGED CONGRESS

Originally, Eisenhower urged Congress to provide 35,000 units of public housing annually for four years. That program still has about another year to go.

The new three-year program under study is reported the result of a decision by top officials trying to make public housing a "continuing" operation which would insure sounder planning and better projects.

These officials believe that the annual Congressional fight over the program interferes with good administration of public housing and makes it difficult for the agency to attract and keep trained personnel.

Cole said recently: "We were—and are—convinced that the longer range action would be a surer guarantee of results and give the taxpayer more for their money."

However, the President's chief housing official cautioned that he believed public housing "should never be a free-wheeling operation." For that reason, Cole is expected to press for legislation linking public housing directly with the government's broad urban renewal effort.

Last summer, the democratic-controlled congress overrode administration objections and authorized 45,000 public housing dwellings for one year and removed all restrictions limiting occupancy to former slum dwellers.

Eisenhower had requested the restrictions along with 35,000 units annually for two yearrs.

Canned Foods' Variety Increased by Research

Chemical research by the paint, varnish and lacquer industry has increased the variety of foods available in cans. Every food that goes into a can has its own chemical personality and can linings must be formulated to prevent a reaction between the metal can and its contents, with consequent impairment of purity and flavor.

* * *

These can linings are literally tailored to the job, for one type of coating will not suffice for all foods. Less than three-thousandths of an inch thick, these usually-unnoticed linings make our daily living safer and more pleasant.

Russian Trips Off

OSLO—The Norwegian Folk Vacations organization recently canceled two tourist trips to the Soviet Union for lack of interest. Now it has dropped plans for winter excursions to Russia—for the same reasons.

View 'Of' Windows Growing Important

Now that large glass areas have become a part of modern architecture, the view "of" windows is almost as important as the view "from" them, according to one architect.

* * *

Frank Sohn, architectural consultant, finds that most builders strive to give homes a well finished look by glazing windows that draw admiration from passers-by.

In former times, uneven window surfaces resulted in distorted, "wrinkled" reflections from the outside and imperfect visibility from within.

* * *

A new process of "twin grinding" plate glass yields precisely parallel surfaces which results in sharp reflections and straight-line vision.

"Parallel-surfaced glass gives a finished, high-quality look to a home," Sohn said, "and makes it possible to use larger windows without producing a flimsy, 'half done' appearance."

Herrington Hills Area Has Models Ready to See

Herrington Hills is fast being completed as Pontiac's newest, large-scale residential development. Located on 80 acres on Featherstone Road between Opdyke and East Boulevard, this area will have paved streets, city water and sewers when it is done.

Mayor Donaldson has taken an interest in the growth of this new subdivision and has helped name some of the streets for prominent Pontiac residents. The development itself is named for Florence and Mary Herrington, who between them taught 75 years in Pontiac schools.

Three different-building companies are sharing the construction of the 400 homes. All have brick exteriors, three bedrooms, gas heat and picture windows. Other features in common are large recreation areas in the basements, choice of paint and tile colors, concrete drives, storms and screens.

Prospective buyers have a choice of 20 different exterior styles. One of the models, the Panoramic, has been furnished to show possibilities of furniture placement.

Birch, pine and mahogany have been used for doors and cupboards in the various models. All windows are the sliding aluminum type.

Sales for the entire development is being handled by Bert Gordon Realty Company of Detroit. All the houses are being sold at the same price of $13,945, with $695 down for vets. Models are open daily for inspection.

Richman, Coleman and Moss Building Company is building 160 Catalina homes; D & R Building Company is constructing 81 Studio '56 homes; and Whitmore Development Company is putting up 133 Panoramic homes.

Beniecke and Lorenz, architects, are designers of the Catalina and Studio '65 homes.

Check Assures Safe Basement

Come winter you'll be using your basement much more, so make a safety inspection now.

* * *

Heating plant, stairs, electrical wiring are possible danger spots. Faulty storage and accumulated rubbish can cause serious trouble.

Start checking this weekend. Here are some helpful suggestions:

1. Get a skilled mechanic, or an informed neighbor, to look over the chimney, heating plant, flues. This may seem like an obvious suggestion, but it can't be made too often. Most disastrous basement fires are caused through neglecting this precaution.

* * *

2. Never let rubbish pile up. Rubbish includes sentimental but useless family possessions. In this case, be long on practicality and short on sentiment.

* * *

3. Check condition of laundry space. Drab walls and floors cause fatigue and accidents. A practical yet handsome colorful material like ceramic tile adds gay life; real tile is eminently easy to keep clean, too.

* * *

4. Be sure the cellar stairway has a handrail and that it is well-lighted. Paint stair risers in a light color so they can be seen easily. Install extra lights where needed. Accidents happen too often in poorly lighted areas.

* * *

5. If you have a basement workshop, keep it shipshape.

Smaller Bedrooms Seen in More Modern Homes

Bedrooms are becoming smaller, with master bedrooms averaging 15 by 11 feet and second and third bedrooms 12 by 10 feet. This space economy allows construction of a third bedroom in homes which formerly would have had only two.

Small bedrooms benefit especially from the use of glass in "making the most" of their size. Large wall mirrors over the dressing table, for example, are both practical and expansive; picture windows and window walls allow the eye to "include" the out-of-doors in the room; patterned glass doors between bedroom and bath allow free passage of light and tend to make each room larger; occasional tables and dressers topped with glass seem to occupy less room because they do not block the eye.

In an emergency, the United States can supply the world market with almost all the commodities usually exported by the United Kingdom, Germany, France and half a dozen other industrially developed countries.

Collapsible Tubing Helps the Handyman

Many essential products for home repairs come in handy collapsible metal tubes which permit the user to apply them with one hand while still maintaining safety precautions.

* * *

Putty for broken window panes, adhesive and plastic woods for roof or window sash repairs, calking compounds and liquid solder for gutters and troughs, and lubricants and sliding compounds for balky storm doors and windows—all these and other home repair aids are available in metal tubes.

In addition to being convenient to use when perched on a ladder, tubes are easily stored in the home work kit, won't break if dropped, prevent air from affecting the product, and reveal instantly how much of the contents remains.

A little forethought can prevent Mr. Fixit of 1955 from becoming just another digit on this year's list of home repair casualties.

America on Wheels

Americans who live in mobile homes now total 2,500,000, more than the population of either Los Angeles or Philadelphia. Most of these homes on wheels are concentrated in some 12,000 mobile homes parks throughout the nation.

Norway has raised her diplomatic missions in Bonn and Ottawa from legations to embassies.

Aluminum Fire Alarm Blends With Home Decor

Housewives can thank aluminum for a new fire alarm that blends with the decor of any home.

An aluminum face plate 4¾ inches high by 6½ inches wide, covers a compact signal unit installed in or near the master bedroom and connected to thermal detectors in furnace rooms, storage areas or other hazardous locations.

A signal bell is set off by the thermal detectors when temperatures go above a predetermined level.

THE MAYOR INSPECTS — Mayor Donaldson inspected model homes in Herrington Hills this week. The subdivision which will have 400 homes when it is completed, is Pontiac's newest large-scale residential development. With the mayor is Richard Coleman, the developer of the area, and Richard P. Beniecke, the architect.

Stained Floors Cleaned Easily

Scratches, smudges and stains on hardwood floors can often be taken care of without over-all sanding and refinishing.

Shallow scratches will usually disappear if the area is rubbed lightly with fine steel wool covered with heavy paste wax. To finish the job, rub briskly with a soft cloth.

If a scratch penetrates the finish and goes into the wood itself, clean it out with a sharp knife. Use the fingers or a putty knife to press plastic wood into the scratch, building it up a little above the board surface.

After the plastic wood has hardened, use fine sandpaper to sand it smooth and flush with the floor. Touch up with shellac.

HERE'S HOW

Stubborn black smudges will usually yield to the following treatment. Rub with fine sandpaper, or with denatured alcohol and fine steel wool. Cover the rubbed area with a liberal amount of a hot solution of oxalic acid.

Leave on over night. In the morning wash with clean water. When the wood has dried, smooth with fine sandpaper and touch up with shellac.

To get rid of white stains left by water, rub hard with a clean cloth wetted with kerosene; or, if this doesn't remove the stain, try turpentine.

Teach Tot Hygiene

Children will learn good habits in personal hygiene faster if they can use a junior-size bathroom with fixtures installed within their reach.

* * *

The Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers Association says that several styles of miniature toilets now are being made especially for children. Other bathroom fixtures can be adapted to accommodate children's height and arm-reach. Lavatories, for example, can be hung closer to the floor while smaller, space-saving bathtubs can be used for bathing.

Besides being an instruction aid, a bathroom just for the kids will keep the master bath clean and tidy instead of water-splashed from the child's inability to reach adult fixtures. Then, too, when there is a party for the small fry all the guests can use the "little" bathroom.

* * *

Years later, when the youngsters grow up, the junior bathroom can be converted easily into adult-size merely by replacing the water closet and remounting the lavatory. The tub need not be changed since it is especially designed to accommodate both children and adults.

Consider Pile Yarn When Buying Carpet

The pile on any carpet is an important factor in determining wear resistance and appearance. The more yarns per square inch, or the denser the pile, the longer it will wear and, in general, the less it will crush.

* * *

Especially with rayon and cotton carpets, it's also wise to note whether the pile is short or high. A short, twisted pile will show less crushing than a long, plush, cut pile in solid colors. A high pile also soils more easily and is harder to vacuum. A short pile, though not as luxurious-looking, is often more practical in rooms that have heavy traffic.

The backing, of course, is the fabric or other material to which the pile is attached or woven. It may be cotton canvas, duck, jute, or a rubberized material. If fabric, it should be closely woven to resist shrinking.

* * *

Bend back a corner of the carpet to determine that it is firm yet flexible enough to be rolled. If very stiff, it is probably made of jute, and the rug itself may not wear as well as other types. Latex backing is usually used on tufted carpets; it gives an added cushioning effect and helps prevent skidding.

This Is Funny?

And then there's the story about the town that's so small they had to widen the main street in order to paint a white line down the middle! Herb Shriner pulled it on his "Two for the Money" TV show.

Wall tile that are loose but still in place can usually be made secure again by ETAOINETAOIN secure again just by filling in around the edges with a white tile cement.

Split-Level Homes Give Advantage of Privacy

The one-level home is still leading the popularity parade in home building, but more families are realizing that the split-level affords the advantages of one-level living and gives an extra feature —privacy.

In addition, the split-level is often more adaptable to expansion. Many are bought with an unfinished family or recreation home on a lower level which can be put to good use as the family expands.

Ammonia Is Helpful in Washing Bath Tile

To wash your tile bathroom floor to a gleaming white, add a little ammonia to the soapsuds.

* * *

A stiff scrubbing brush will erase stubborn spots, but such spots won't have a chance to develop if you rely on suds several times a week.

There's no need to use too much water on a tile floor. It's the suds that do the cleaning, so work up a rich lather with a minimum of water, and wipe off with a wrung-out cloth or mop.

* * *

Let the floor dry thoroughly — preferably with the window open — before replacing the rug, hamper, and other bathroom accessories.

Vacuum Cleaner Serves Hard Surfaced Floors

A homemaker who bought a vacuum cleaner said she was surprised how well her new appliance cleaned linoleum. The vacuum cleaner is especially good on all hard-surface floors. It gets the dust, dirt and grit before they have a chance to be ground underfoot, thus preserving the finish and good appearance.

It is good in bathrooms to take up spilled powder, and it ensures a cleaner house, too, if porches are vacuumed frequently.

Tramp ships differ from the vessels of regular steamship lines in that tramps may follow any ocean route in their search for cargo.

State Regiment Smashes Rebel Line at Antietam

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A Michigan regiment smashed through the line of Confederate General Stonewall Jackson during the Civil War battle of Antietam—then had to hack their way out again.

It was the deepest penetration of the Rebel line during the whole battle. The story is told this week over a University of Michigan radio program about Michigan men in the Civil War.

Ironically, it was the first Michigan regiment at Bull Run which gave General Jackson his nickname, "Stonewall." It was then the Seventh Michigan Infantry at Antietam that added the first blemish.

It was the 17th of September, 1862, when the Michigan soldiers from Monroe, Flint and Lapeer took their position in the Union line.

* * *

When the day was over, Michigan soldiers had smashed Jackson's line, been cut off by the Rebels in return and had to break through the line again to freedom.

It was the most bloody one-day battle of the war with a total of 25,000 casualties between the armies. It was the first Union victory and gave President Lincoln the climate to issue his Emancipation Proclamation.

One of the dead that day was Capt. Allen H. Zacharias, Company K, of Monroe. A letter was found in his hand. It was written to his father and read in part:

"Dear Parent, I am wounded mortally, I think. The fight wages around me. I have done my duty — this is my consolation. I hope to meet you all again . . . I am getting weak— the enemy is trotting over me. The numbness up to my heart . . . goodbye all . . ."

In the same battle, among the wounded was one man destined to leave his mark on America: Capt. Oliver Wendell Holmes of the First Massachusetts Infantry.

8 Million Cars Forecast for '55

Retail Deliveries Seen Somewhat Lower in Year End Predictions

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT (AP)—Passenger car assemblies this year will come close to eight million units, retail deliveries will fall somewhat below that figure.

* * *

Sales records have been toppling week after week this year. In another 10 days, say authoritative sources, total retail deliveries for 1955 will equal the volume of all 1950. That figure was 6,326,438 units.

* * *

By the year end, the same sources say, total retail deliveries of new cars will come to approximately 7,650,000.

The figures indicate a sharp upsurge in dealer inventories is expected. With return to full scale production after the model switchovers, the factories once again are producing at a rate somewhat higher than retail deliveries are being made. So a year-end field stock of around 750,000 new cars is not unlikely.

* * *

Dealers started 1955 with 293,881 cars on hand. But at that time only a few makers had reached volume output of their new model cars; some had yet to switch over to 1955 models. All manufacturers already are building their 1956 models.

OUTLOOK GOOD

Nobody in the industry questions that the retailing division will sell a tremendous volume of new cars next year. There is a wide difference of opinion, however, as to whether the total will approximate that of the present year.

* * *

The industry's general sales chiefs, of course, are more optomistic than ever in their sales forecasts. Some of them continue to insist the demand will be broader than many retailers expect. Most of them have held that view through much of the last decade.

Authoritative trade sources say the price increases announced by the manufacturers will not restrict demand. Generally the increases run from around 2.5 per cent to about 8 per cent.

* * *

It should be understood, of course, that the prices announced by the car makers are not binding upon the retailers, insofar as resale operations are concerned. To remain within the law the manufacturers label the prices as "suggested" retail listings.

PACE TO CONTINUE

The industry now is well into the high volume assembly operations it promised for November and December. Unless something presently unforeseen happens to the nation's buying power, a high production pace will be maintained through all the first half of 1956.

* * *

As the analysts interpret this, it means the retailing division will have to continue much the same merchandising procedure it followed this year. That procedure involved a lot of price cutting by the dealer to meet a lot of bargain hunting by car buyers.

* * *

In the long run that could mean only a part of the factory-announced price advance would be passed on to the consumer.

Resigning Officers' Fate Pending in Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Monday night's meeting of the Ann Arbor City Council holds the fate of 37 of the city's patrolmen and detectives, who resigned, effective Nov. 18, because of "inability to make ends meet."

The resignations would leave Ann Arbor with only 23 police officers, including the top brass.

The Police Commission had recommended a substantial raise for the officers, but the council budget committee sharply reduced the figures.

Chief Casper Enkemann, who pleaded with the men to forego resignation, said it was possible to man the city with 23 officers but added that "it would be rather inadequate protection."

Port Authority Talks

BAY CITY (AP)—Representatives of four Saginaw valley counties will meet next Thursday to discuss establishment of a district port authority. Mayors, city managers and Chamber of Commerce officials are expected to attend from Flint, Saginaw, Midland and Bay City.

Sales Higher as Shoppers Bundle Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Shoppers increased their spending in the nation's retail stores this week, and a lot of their money went for warm clothes for winter weather.

* * *

Woolen skirts and sweaters and cloth coats and suits were among the best selling items in the women's apparel category while menfolk spent freely on suits, topcoats, sweaters, slacks, mufflers, gloves and heavy sports jackets.

Auto sales gained momentum as several manufacturers introduced new models. Consumers boosted their purchases of home furnishings, too. Brisk business was reported in upholstered sofas, occasional chairs, carpeting, drapes, major appliances, paints and hardware. Toys and juvenile furniture sold in greater volume.

* * *

Total dollar volume of retail trade across the nation for the week ended Nov. 2 ranged from 3 to 7 per cent higher than a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet said.

* * *

All major areas shared in the rise, with percentage changes as follows: New England, East and Northwest up 2 to 6; South and Southwest up 3 to 7; Midwest and Pacific Coast up 4 to 8.

Pontiac Sales Gain During Past Month

Pontiac dealers delivered 35,814 new cars during the month of October, R. M. Critchfield, general manager, announced. This compares with an October total of 24,660 a year ago, or 40 per cent higher, and constitutes an all-time October record for Pontiac.

* * *

"It is especially significant that these high sales were made with the new '56 car announcement coming in the latter part of the month, and with many of our dealers sold out of '55 cars the first of October," Mr. Critchfield said, "and this record accomplishment by dealers, indicates the splendid reception being accorded our 1956 models."

Used car sales amounted to 65,756 compared with 47,063 for October of 1954, another all-time record.

Jayne Hits New York With Six Pets in Tow

"A crochety school supt. wrote on the blackboard 'LXXX' then turned to a pretty girl and asked, 'What does that mean?' She blushed and replied, 'Love and kisses'."—Quote.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—There've been many beauties and many beasties around B'way, but until Jayne Mansfield hit town with a Great Dane, a poodle dyed pink, a chihuahua and three cats, we didn't really know how much time a pretty girl can give to animals—and have a lot left over for men, too.

I was present when Jayne's 125-pound Great Dane, "Lord Byron," arrived by air express from Hollywood and sniffed New York air.

He'd been delayed a bit . . . he'd got loose out at the Willow Run airport and they'd mistaken him for a horse.

"Look out, everybody, he's hungry!" screamed Jayne when she and he swept into the plush Park Av. apartment of a friend. Once inside, Lord Byron charged playfully at Jayne, knocking her over, cutting her leg and scaring the pants off the rest of us.

JAYNE MANSFIELD
. . . takes menagerie with her . . .

"My, how he's grown up," said Jayne, picking herself up. Lord Byron bolted at her again, knocking her down again. "He's so attached to me," remarked Jayne, not getting up this time. "Why don't you men do something?"

Us men didn't do anything as we wished to keep our arms; so Jayne locked him in a bathroom. Later she fed him four or five pounds of hamburger and he was quite complacent for a while.

"He's going to be a wonderful watchdog," Jayne commented when she'd sort of patched up her bruises. "He'll weigh 200 pounds before he stops growing."

Lord Byron is pretty good wolf-insurance for Jayne. He even growls when the phone rings.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A pretty girl is like a melody—makes the boys whistle."

Air Hostess Barred for Warning Riders

CAIRO—For warning passengers to guard their hand luggage against thieving at Cairo Airport, a young South African Airways hostess has been forbidden to land in Egypt.

It was a routine announcement, the company said, but a high Egptian official was on the plane and took exception to her advice, as they approached Cairo, to take hand baggage and coats off the plane.

Next time the hostess arrived at that airport she was surrounded by Egyptian police who refused her permission to land. She was temporarily taken off that run while negotiations got under way.

Since 1872 Yale has won the Ivy League football title 18 times and shared the championship on eight occasions.

Expert on Flying Saucers Hints AF Withholds Data

An English novelist and student of flying saucer reports last night asked why the U. S. Air Force denies such a craft exists yet, is attempting to build one itself.

"Their words say that something is impossible, but their actions prove it is possible," said Desmond Leslie, 34, speaking before about 100 persons in Pontiac High School Auditorium.

The man who co-authored the book "Flying Saucers Have Landed" painted a picture of the Earth being only one of many inhabited planets throughout the universe.

Some of these other people "perhaps 30,000 to 40,000 years ahead of us both culturally and scientifically" have been visiting us in magnetically-powered space ships since the dawn of history, he declared.

SEES ACCEPTANCE

"Perhaps not us, but certainly our children will come to accept these things as commonplace."

★ ★ ★ ★

An English astronomer last year was observing the Moon through a telescope, Leslie stated, when he saw 18 objects flying in a "V" formation across the satellite's face.

"He observed them for some time noting the leader was flashing a red light. Most sceptics dismiss such sightings by terming them 'astronomical phenomena.' But since when did meteors start flying in formation and blinking red lights?"

"We can't help it if saucer reports offend people who think they couldn't be. Critics simply say a certain percentage of the reports cannot be explained, refusing to admit they can't be disproved.

PANIC FEARED

"I was told by a high British Air Ministry official that flying saucers could not be doubted, but the government is afraid to say so fearing a widespread panic stemming from fear of the unknown.

"But if these outsiders meant harm it would have been apparent long ago. If they can teach us new truths, only good can result."

Leslie presented pictures alleged to show actual saucers in flight and said extensive tests had proved the photos not to be faked.

Hike in Cigarette Use

OSLO—Norwegians smoked 5.7 per cent more cigarettes and 3.5 per cent more smoking tobacco in 1954 than in the year before. Cigarette consumption climbed from 1,254,000,000 in 1953 to 1,326,000,000. There was a 14 per cent gain in the number of cigarette papers sold, and smoking-tobacco sales climbed from 5,700,000 pounds to 5,900,000.

Benny Ponders Big Leap to 40 – on 62nd Birthday

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Jack Benny said today he's "almost decided" to hit the ripe old age of 40!

* * *

"I guess I've been 39 long enough," Benny admitted. "A guy has to grow up sometime."

The lovable miser of the airwaves, who looks at least 15 years younger than his 61 years, stopped the clock when he hit the age of 36 and stopped it again when he hit 37.

"But I've been 39 longer than anything else," he laughed.

His brithday is Feb. 14—Valentine's Day.

Jack insists he'd like to, but he never quite discovered the Fountain of Youth.

"The only way I know to stay young is to stay thin," he declared. And he might have added—"play golf!"

OUTSIDE INTEREST

That, he admitted, is the only thing he's ever really been interested in outside of show business.

* * *

"Neither George Burns nor I know anything about anything but show business," he said.

Despite his many years of laughing it up, Benny still never gets tired.

"I'm working harder this year than I've ever worked before," he admitted. "It's true that in all my life I've never had enough sleep, but I have wonderful recuperative powers.

"Sometimes I get a little nervous or upset about something, but it's always gone the next day."

* * *

Away from the glittering lights of Hollywood, Benny leads an old-folks-at-home existence with wife Mary Livingston.

"We sit around and watch TV," Jack related, "sometimes we play gin rummy and sometimes we go out to dinner, but always to somebody's house—never a nightclub."

DINNER IN BED

Jack gets up every day at 6 a.m., but he makes up for it by often having dinner in bed—at 7:30 p.m.!

He also reads in bed.

"Most of the books I read just put me to sleep," he grinned. "But I read two all the way through without stopping — 'No Time for Sergeants' and 'Double Indemnity.'

"Mary and I lead a very quiet life," he added, "just like Mr. and Mrs. Jones back in Podunk."

* * *

So—if a guy wants to look like Lochinvar at the age of 110, just take Jack's advice.

"Eat thin steaks," he advised, "and Chinese food!"

New Feet Given Statue of Liberty

Museum to Be Erected at Base of Memorial Honoring Immigrants

NEW YORK (NEA)—The Statue of Liberty is preparing to take a new stand.

Today her feet are planted within the walls of old Fort Wood on Bedloe's Island, but within two years she will be standing over a living memorial to one of the world's greatest ideas.

* * *

For Bedloe's Island is going to be the site of the American Museum of Immigration — a permanent exhibit that will tell the story of how immigrants came from many lands and shared in the building of this nation.

Unlike most museums which house specific items, the Immigration museum will commemorate every American or his father or grandfather or his father. For the fact is: Every American, including the Indians, is an immigrant or the descendant of an immigrant.

Standing behind the proposed museum is a familiar name in the history of this country: Ulysses S. Grant. President of the executive committee of the AMI, he is the grandson of the President who first discussed the plan of the Statue of Liberty with its sculptor, Frederic A. Bartholdi.

With Grant on the committee are Pierre S. Du Pont III, Charles W. Engelhard, Spyros P. Skouras and Edward Corsi.

$5 MILLION NEEDED

These men have already received pledges of a half-a-million dollars toward the building of the museum. But the two years of work and material needed to build this home of American heritage will cost ten times that amount—$5 million.

Once built, the museum will be turned over to the National Park Service of the federal government. And like the 80-year-old lady with the Torch, will belong to every American.

What's going to be inside the 50,000 square feet of display space?

Japanese Police Rip Picket Line at U. S. Air Base

SUNAKAWA, Japan (AP) — Police, advancing over a road smeared with human sewage, today cracked mass picket lines and a smoke-screen to begin a delayed final survey for a runway extension at the U. S. Tachikawa Air Base.

* * *

Twelve hundred steel-helmeted police pushed aside an equal number of protesting villagers and labor unionists. Survey teams then entered nearby fields.

Women demonstrators followed them, waving straw mops dripping with sewage in the faces of the police guards.

The government has ordered the survey completed to make room for jet airplanes.

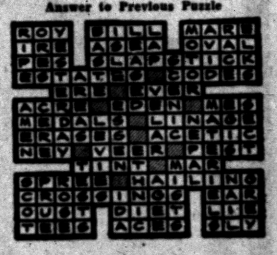

Just as in September, when the first surveys were made, the police refused to be goaded into violence. Villagers burned straw barricades to hinder the police.

Surveyors were turned back three times earlier this week.

One policeman and more than 10 demonstrators were reported hurt, none seriously.

Police said the survey was progressing smoothly.
