Jerusalem Protests Final Withdrawal Orders

Autopsy Shows No Foul Play in Death of Tot

New Jersey Girl, 4, Lost for Week, Discovered Trapped in Closet

BELLMAWR, N.J. (INS) —An autopsy disclosed today that Mary Jane Barker, whose body was found in the bedroom closet of an unoccupied new house, probably died of starvation or fright.

Medical examiners ruled out the possibility that the four-year-old child's death was due to suffocation. There were no signs of violence or indications she had been molested.

The blonde youngster was found last night in the closet by a six-year-old friend, Maria Freitta, who lives next door to the new house, two blocks from the Barker home.

It was with Maria's black spaniel puppy that Mary Jane was playing when she disappeared last Monday morning. The puppy was still alive when the Freitta girl went into the newly built house with her parents and made the discovery.

Authorities said the post mortem revealed that Mary Jane had not eaten since she drank a glass of chocolate milk the day she vanished.

STRUGGLED FOR LIFE

Other conclusions were: 1. The child was alive when she went, or was placed in the closet. 2. She struggled for life and bits of fur from her clothing were rubbed off by her movements but air coming through a plumbing access was adequate to prevent suffocation. 3. A latch inside the closet was stuck and a child could not have opened it once it was closed.

Camden County Coroner Robert J. Blake, however, pointed out, "It is not possible to state on the basis of the autopsy as far as it's carried out what caused death or how long the child has been dead."

Blake said the youngster's vital organs have been sent to the New Jersey State Police laboratory at Trenton for further examination.

Meanwhile, Bellmawr Police Chief Edward Garrity insisted that Mary Jane must have been taken to the house recently.

SEARCHED TWICE

Garrity said the house had been searched twice shortly after the child was reported missing.

In addition, the police chief said an oil burner repairman had been in the dwelling twice and did not hear any barking or other noise that might be expected of a dog.

Another puzzling factor was that the puppy was not housebroken, yet the closet floor appeared clean.

Wants Expressway Through City

Chamber of Commerce Backs New Road

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce has overwhelmingly approved a north-south arterial highway through the city as proposed by the Oakland County Planning Commission.

The Board of Directors will recommend to the City Commission, in a resolution expected to be submitted Tuesday night, that "appropriate city authorities take immediate action to pursue the idea."

The Chamber will also urge that the city "get an expression from state and federal authorities as to the feasibility of the road."

Howard O. Powers, Chamber president, said the vote taken recently, was that of the board and its officers, and not the total membership of the Chamber. "The Board of Directors is the policy making body of the Chamber," he added.

The planning group has proposed a six-lane expressway, 4.5 miles long and 350 feet wide, which would become a link in the interstate chain of highways. It would link Detroit and Bay City and points north.

J. Robert F. Swanson, commission chairman, said last week he hoped for a summer approval between the State Highway Dept. and city for the proposed road.

The federal government is expected to absorb $18 million of the total $20,000,000 project. The state and the city would share the $2,000,000 balance.

The route, labeled the Pontiac Central Artery, is slated to pass within a quarter mile of downtown Pontiac.

Premier of Ghana, Nixon Exchange Views Frankly

ACCRA, Gold Coast (UP) — Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah received Vice President Nixon for a 35-minute chat today, nearly 24 hours after the U. S. delegate arrived for ceremonies making this colony the independent state of Ghana in the British Commonwealth.

The vice president did not seem disturbed by the delay. Nixon was the first top foreign delegate to be received.

Richard A. Butler, Britain's home secretary, who is here to attend the independence ceremonies next Wednesday, was the second to be received: He arrived as Nixon was leaving.

Still looking somewhat pale from a three-day siege of the flu, Nixon said "we had a very cordial and frank exchange of views on relations between Ghana and the United States. We particularly examined the trend of the future and the impact these policies will have not only in Africa but the entire international situation."

Until this morning, so far as the American-educated Nkrumah was concerned, Nixon was just another of the 70 foreign delegates assembled in this steamy West African capital. This was in contrast with the almost riotous welcome the vice president received in Morocco.

Nixon joined the heads of other foreign delegations last night in religious ceremonies at which Ghanians gave thanks for their independence.

INCLUDES TOGOLAND

The Gold Coast will be combined with Togoland, which Britain administers under a U.N. trusteeship, to form the new country of Ghana. It will be independent within the British Commonwealth, with Queen Elizabeth II as the sovereign.

★ ★ ★

Nixon, still suffering from a touch of the flu, arrived here by plane yesterday with his wife. He heads the five-man U.S. delegation to the independence ceremonies.

City Man Killed in Auto Crash

Car Skids Off Road, Smashes Into Trees; 2 Others Injured

A Pontiac man was killed Saturday when he lost control of his car and struck two trees on Joslyn road near Lake Angelus road in Pontiac Township.

Dead is Glenn H. Mabeus, 22, of 5231 Westview St.

Two passengers in Mabeus' car were treated for injuries at Pontiac General Hospital. They are Buddie Weesner, 22, of Mancelona St., and Robert Davis, 29, of 486 East Mansfield Ave.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies reported that Mabeus was traveling south when he failed to make a curve and ran off Joslyn road. Skid marks showed that the car left the road approximately 350 feet before crashing into the trees, they said.

Mabeus was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital as a result of a broken neck, according to Coroner R. W. Bullard.

Surviving are Mabeus' wife, Nancy Lee, 21; a daughter, Linda Lee, 4; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Mabeus, 5230 Westview St., and three brothers and three sisters.

Frosted Crystal Ball Reveals More Cold

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP) — A crushing avalanche of rock and dirt fell on workmen at an excavating site in the Little Rock business district today killing at least four.

One man was rescued alive a few minues after an earthen wall a half city block long collapsed at 6th and Main in the heart of the business district.

The rescued workman was standing further away from the wall when it fell and was dug out quickly. He suffered a broken leg and possible chest and internal injuries.

Initially the scene was near panic. Screams of witnesses were heard and a crowd of several hundred pressed around the site which was being dug for the foundation and basement of a new J. C. Penny store.

Ambulances, fire and police rescue squads helped a bulldozer crew push back the tons of rock and earth. Wives of the trapped workmen wept hysterically.

Firemen said they believed all of the bodies have been recovered but the digging continued. A superintendent, not identified, told police he was certain only five men were trapped.

30 MIT Students Will Face Court for Campus Riot

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP)—Thirty Massachusetts Institute of Technology students and one student from Yale today faced court action in connection with a riot on the MIT campus early yesterday.

In addition, 26 of the 30 students face expulsion from the highly rated technological school.

Police Sgt. William Tobin said there were two phases to the demonstration:

Fifteen students were arrested in the first phase in which undergraduates set fire to gasoline spilled on the road.

In the second phase, in which 16 were arrested, police said the students threw snowballs, stones, beer bottles, furniture and doorknobs from dormitory rooms.

Pet Wins, Owner Loses

Tragedy Ends Trip to Area Dog Show

Hours after his son's boxer, "Joe" won honors at the show, David Hill, 47, was struck and killed by a car in Berkley.

Driver Walter M. Hill Jr., 23, of 815 McLean St., Royal Oak, who is not related to the Canadian, is scheduled to make a statement at the Oakland County Prosecutor's office today.

With his son Lewis, 13, and his friend, Harvey Sheppard, 13, Hill had come to Detroit to enter their pet in the Detroit Kennel Club Dog Show.

Last night he rented a Berkley motel room, and left the boys briefly.

"Dad said he was going down the street to call mother," Lewis said. "He told us he'd be back in a little while."

An hour later, a police officer told the boys Hill had been killed crossing Woodward avenue, opposite the motel.

Berkley patrolman William Tufts took the boys and "Joe" to his home and spent much of the night contacting the family at Toronto.

Lewis decided to keep "Joe" in the dog show at the State Fair Grounds Colosseum. The dog took second place yesterday in the open division.

"That's the way dad would have wanted it," said Lewis.

Woman Lawyer Sought by Police

Arkansas Legal Firm Member Disappears; No Violence

CAMDEN, Ark. (UP)—Where is Mrs. Maude Crawford?

State Police and other officers asked that question for the second day as they pushed an all-out search for the prominent woman lawyer reported to have vanished from her home here Saturday night.

The 58-year-old woman is a member of the Camden firm of Gaughan, McClellan & Laney. U. S. Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark) is the McClellan of the firm.

Mrs. Crawford's husband, Clyde, told Camden police he last saw his wife about 8 o'clock Saturday night when he left for a movie. He said she was working on some legal papers.

Crawford told officers that when he returned several lights were burning, the television set was on and legal documents were spread out on a table.

There were no signs of a disturbance, he said.

He told police their large Dalmatian dog greeted him when he came in about 11 p.m. The animal appeared unharmed and did not seem excited, he said.

Mrs. Pauline Abels, a family friend, said the dog would not have permitted anyone to get near Mrs. Crawford.

Princess Caroline Given Baptismal Rite

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (UP) — Princess Caroline, 6-week-old daughter of Prince Rainier III and Princess Grace, was baptized yesterday in Monaco's Roman Catholic cathedral. She squalled loudly through the ceremony.

Flowers banked the cathedral's walls and altar as Bishop Gilles Barthe intoned:

"Caroline Louise Marguerite, I baptize you in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost."

The little princess was held by her godmother and cousin, 10-year-old Margaret Davis of Philadelphia, a niece of the child's mother, former actress Grace Kelly. The godfather, Hungarian-born Prince George Festetics, 17, held the infant's right hand. Four bishops and 15 priests took part in the service.

The guests included Princess Grace's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia; members of Rainier's family; officials and prominent citizens of Monaco, and foreign diplomats.

Bitter Outbreak Follows Action by Ben-Gurion

Israeli General Dayan Flies to Meeting With U.N. Commander

JERUSALEM (AP) — Bitter demonstrations erupted in Jerusalem tonight soon after Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion gave the final orders today for immediate withdrawal of Israeli troops from the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba coast.

Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israeli army chief of staff, arrived at Lydda airport in central Israel for a meeting with Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of U.N. forces, to discuss details of the withdrawal.

A U. N. plane was sent from El 'Arish in the Egyptian Sinai desert to pick up Burns and take him to Lydda for the conference. Burns was en route from El 'Arish to the Suez Canal Zone when Ben-Gurion cut the knot in protracted negotiations and issued the withdrawal order.

The order seemingly ended any possibility Israel, as a result of divisions in the government, might not carry out the withdrawal she previously had announced in the United Nations.

A government spokesman announced Ben-Gurion instructed Dayan to invite Burns to a meeting this afternoon "to discuss measures necessary to carry out the withdrawal of forces in accordance with the statement by the foreign minister, Mrs. Golda Meir."

SPEAKS TOMORROW—

The announcement was made in advance of an appearance by Ben-Gurion before the Israel Knesset tomorrow at which the grizzled Premier was slated to reaffirm Israel's decision to pull out of the disputed areas, trusting to the United States and the United Nations for protection against a renewal of Egyptian shooting.

Mrs. Meir had announced to the U. N. Assembly Friday that the Israeli troops would retire behind the 1949 armistice lines.

But opposition to the decision in Israel resulted in instructions from Ben-Gurion to Ambassador Abba Eban to seek "clarifications" of the assurance given by the United States.

GOVERNMENT OK

After a weekend of Cabinet meetings and conferences, informed sources said the Premier had finally gotten his divided government's permission to pull the troops back.

A government spokesman said Dayan has already cabled Burns to arrange the meeting.

Withdrawal could get under way this week.

The announcement was made to newsmen at midday as Ben-Gurion was engaged in nonstop conferences with leaders of political parties, including the leaders

Space Age Begins!

A jet of steam . . . a blinding flash . . . and we enter the "space age."

This isn't science fiction. Late this year the first man-made earth satellite will be launched by rocket to circle the globe, 300 miles up, at 18,000 miles an hour. What comes after that? Are manned flights to other planets possible?

Prize-winning science writer Edwin Diamond takes you behind the scenes at the Cape Canaveral Rocket-launching Base, introduces you to a remarkable group of men and the challenge they face, in the absorbing new series—"The Space Age Begins" —starting today in the Pontiac Press, page 4.

But It's Still Saginaw Street

Ideas About Mystery Picture Vary

The sun was high. Horses' hooves lifted little puffs of dust from the parched street. Off in the distance, a slender church steeple thrust its point placidly into a cloudless sky.

It was as if the whole town of Pontiac had paused for the photographer who now climbed to a vantage point overlooking the peaceful scene.

Painstakingly he adjusted the lens of the monstrous box, a relatively new invention known as a camera. Minutes later he had recorded for posterity Saginaw street as it looked in the last half of the 19th Century.

Undoubtedly, the picture's clarity and remarkable presentation of detail brought praise for the photographer from those who first saw it nearly a century ago.

But, dusted off and reprinted in the Feb. 21, 1957 edition of The Pontiac Press, the scene aroused a flood of conflicting comments that would have delighted (and probably bewildered) our picture-maker of a bygone day.

The nub of the controversy: Not everyone agree on where the picture was taken or on the identification of its most prominent features. One lady even doubted that it was taken in Pontiac.

Nearly all of the readers who called or wrote in answer to our request for comments agreed that the photographer was facing north while standing on South Saginaw.

The response was unanimous in placing the tall steeple (top right) on the site presently occupied by Waite's Department Store.

Mrs. Joseph Zimmerman, 77 Whittemore St., wrote that the steeple belongs to the Congregational Church. James W. Clapp, 154 S. Johnson St., writes that it was the cupola of the Courthouse in those days.

George L. Molter, 6945 Roby Dr., called to identify the spire as part of the Baptist Church, while Mrs. Delia M. Downer told us that it was the old Academy Building which stood on the site presently occupied by the First Methodist Church.

Several readers also identified the spire as belonging to the First Methodist Church as it looked years ago.

Fred Simmons, 344 Auburn Ave., identified that pointed structure (upper left) as part of the old Studebaker buggy works. Another reader states that the same building was a grain elevator.

Varied opinions were also expressed on just where the photographer was standing:

Harry W. Fowler, 3443 Signet

School Building Topic for Board

Waterford to Discuss Necessity of Issuing Construction Permits

Necessity of school districts' obtaining building permits from the township in order to construct schools will be a major topic tonight when the Waterford Township Board convenes at its regular meeting.

Acting Supervisor Louis Barry has asked for an attorney general's opinion on the matter. The advice may be available for tonight's meeting.

Members also will discuss a recommendation of the county highway department that certain areas be restricted to no parking on right-of-ways.

The Kiwanis Club has submitted an application for a license for its annual "Kiddies Carnival" to be held May 28 through June 2.

2 SEEK LICENSES

Two applications for beer and wine licenses have been applied for by supermarkets. They are the National Food Store, on Elizabeth Lake Road at M59, and the new Wrigley's Supermarket undergoing construction on Dixie Highway at Midland road.

★ ★ ★

A request from the Waterford Township School Board will also be presented for approval at this meeting. The school board seeks permission to route surface drainage from the new school site on Hatchery road to the adjoining township property. The adjoining property is a cemetery site.

Also to be presented at tonight's meeting are the monthly police and building reports.

Ideas About Picture Plentiful and Varied

Dr., Drayton Plains, studied the shadows and opined that the shutter was opened and closed around 11:30 a.m. from a point 200 feet north of where Cy Owens Inc. now stands.

Other opinions: The top of the H. F. Messenger Buildings, the intersection of Saginaw and Judson streets, and the belfry of the First Methodist Church.

But from wherever it was taken, and no matter what the contents, it was a good example of what a photographer can do with just a camera and a bright day—even in an age in which exposure meters and high-speed shutters were pretty much unknown.

Lo - - - Big Chief Pontiac Really Low - - - In Ditch

A noble figure with stalwart bearing, lordly mien and stern glance. His right arm is raised in a gesture of friendship; his left hand carries a tomahawk, but not menacingly, it is hoped.

He's dressed in traditional blanket, breech-clout, leggings and beads. Unlike the cigar-store Indian, the chief carries no tobacco.

Altogether, an imposing figure—just what the family always has needed.

Big Chief Pontiac, the city's namesake and an impressive personage in Oakland County lore, this morning found himself suddenly stripped of his accustomed dignity.

The chief had fallen away off the pedestal on which tradition places him—so far off, in fact, that he ended up in a Bloomfield Hills ditch.

A six-foot plaster of paris statue of the chief was found by police in the ditch on Orchard Ridge road, just north of Vaughan road.

Heads are being scratched. Not only about how the chief got there, but also about what's going to happen to him now.

A Department of Public Works crew lugged the statue into the Bloomfield Hills' firehall on E. Long Lake road.

There he will stand, temporarily, Police Chief Stanley Kevern decided, until the owner claims him.

ANY OWNERS?

Just who would be likely to own a six-foot plaster of paris statue of an Indian is something Kevern is not sure of.

Who would be likely to take the statue and leave him in a roadside ditch also puzzles the chief, who is well aware of the important role played by the famous Indian in Oakland County history.

Surely such an indignity could be performed only by an incorrigible jokster or by a resident of another county.

But further shame awaits Big Chief Pontiac if he is not claimed.

He'll be consigned to the junk yard, Keven says. Kevern doesn't want the statue cluttering up the fire hall.

Initial inquiries this morning indicated that few people feel like adopting the chief if the owner does not show up.

The chief may be very dignified, but he's somewhat impractical to have around the house. For those who are interested, however, here's what might be obtained just for the asking:

HOW! — Or rather, "Ugh!" Big Chief Pontiac would say if he were alive today. That's the chief's statue above, with Bloomfield Hills Patrolman James Fowler, who discovered it in a ditch this morning.

No Ticket for Snapping Reptile

Toothy Rider Routs Police

It happened last Thursday evening but an unidentified Michigan State Trooper probably will be telling the story for weeks.

He found himself in the unlikely position of trying to arrest an alligator for reckless driving.

Naturally the reptile has an address in Oakland County, where alligators periodically pop up in the news.

This one—300 pounds and nine feet long—was being transported by auto from his native Louisiana swamp to a new serpentarium about to open at 9860 Dixie highway, Springfield Township.

On U. S. 12 just west of Ann Arbor, he broke the bonds that had him pinned down in the rear of the car, the owner Harold Wallace, 2163 Jones Rd., Waterford Township, said.

As the beast, with jaws snapping, began climbing over the front seat of the car, Wallace came to a fast but erratic stop at the side of the road.

The alert trooper noticed the sudden maneuver and sped over to investigate. By that time, Wallace and the manager of the serpentarium, Andrew Koukoulois, were busy in the back seat, trying to pull the alligator down.

Hence as the trooper stuck his head into the open window to speak to the shadowy shape in the front seat, he found his nose only inches away from a big set of menacing teeth.

Neither the alligator, who eventually was retied, nor Wallace was ticketed.

County Mishaps Injure Seven

Commerce Man Pinned Beneath Auto; 3 Hurt as Car Leaves Road

Seven persons were injured on county roads in traffic accidents over the weekend, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department reported today.

George Munro, 65, of 5750 Garthly, Milford, was injured Saturday when he was pinned beneath his car on Grand Taverse Road at Carroll Lake road in Commerce Township.

Munro told deputies he got out of his car to talk to two boys when his car started to roll backwards with the door open. The door knocked him down when he tried to stop the car, he said.

J. D. Crank, 36, of 254 Baldwin Ave., his wife, Essie, 35, and James Clark, 8, were injured Saturday when their car swerved on the ice and struck a tree on Squirrel road near Hamlin road in Pontiac Township.

ALSO INJURED

Also injured the same day was DeWayne Ayott, 30, of 3334 Lakeview St., Milford. Ayott told investigators he lost control of his car and struck a tree, on Gregory road near Baldwin Ave. in Orion Township, while brushing ashes off his trousers from a lighted cigarette.

of the two parties in his coalition which threatened to quit over the withdrawal issue.

Ben-Gurion ordered the withdrawal to proceed even before he reported to the Knesset or held a "final" meeting with his Cabinet.

The official spokesman said the reason for the go-ahead was that "latest clarifications" of the American position had been received from the United States, and that Ben-Gurion had been in talks with most Cabinet members.

The Day in Birmingham

Zoning Problems Slated as Commission's Topic

BIRMINGHAM — Zoning and its related problems will occupy the greater share of the city commission meeting this evening.

Several new requests will come before commissioners, along with hearing on zoning change petitions that have already been discussed by commissioners and are now being returned to them with planning board recommendations.

Officials also will study the chancery summons and bill of complaint filed against the city by Frederick and Lena Lambert. The Lamberts seek to obtain a rezoning of their property in the Woodward-14 Mile section, to permit the development of a business section.

Area residents have protested the proposed change, with the Lamberts citing the business developments already in the area, plus the traffic volumes of the two streets as items favoring the zoning alteration.

Commissioners also will consider items including current costs at Greenwood cemetery and possible increases. A request for a hearing by Panhandle Eastern Gas Company, budget adjustment and two groups seeking to sponsor benefits.

Eight Policemen to Decide Issue of New Auxiliary

The fate of the newly organized Women's Auxiliary of the Pontiac Police Officers Association rested with eight of their husbands today.

Their votes will determine if the auxiliary of spouses and mothers will exist.

A third ballot counted today ended in an 41 to 41 tie.

Eight officers have not voted in the secret balloting and they will be approached tonight.

The association decided to put a ballot box in the station and let the members drop their votes at the February 13 meeting. An hour and one half discussion of the proposal had been fruitless since the first secret ballot ended in a 17-17 deadlock. The second vote had one too many ballots, examplifying the mixed emotions of the officers concerning their wives.

Twelve Specialists to Operate

Brother and Sister Face Rare Surgery

BIRMINGHAM—This is a week of special tension, hopes, fears and prayers in the southeast section of this city. A week that sees two children from the same family undergo the same type of rare surgery.

Doctors have told Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Middleton, 1910 Holland Ave., that only once in 30,000 births does examination reveal holes in the inner walls of a heart. Twice this has come to the Middletons, in JoAnn, 8, and her little brother Danny, 15 months old.

Both youngsters are entering Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, this week for corrective surgery. Tuesday and Friday will probably be the days on which skilled surgeons go to work to give these children their chance at a normal, happy, carefree life.

Dr. Robert Zeigler lives in Birmingham and is a heart specialist on the Ford staff. He has told the Middletons that without surgery, Danny's activities will be sharply curtailed, and there is a more-than-even chance that he will not reach adulthood.

Ruth, Danny's mother, says that already the little guy has worked out his own physical limitations. He's quieter than the rest of the small fry his age, doesn't run and play as they do.

"We don't notice it so much when he's alone," she says, "but if some of the other little fellows are around you can see it at once."

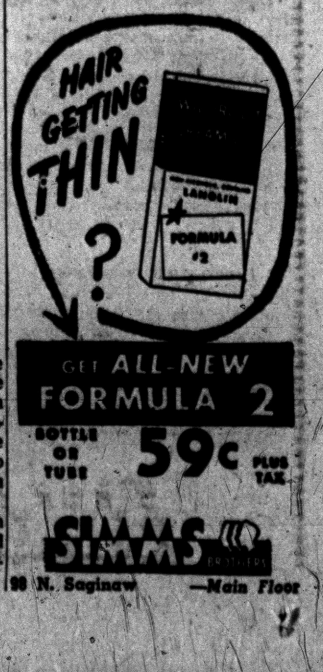

Danny's case is more serious than JoAnn's, doctors say. It will be necessary to "disconnect" his heart and use the now-famed heart pump to keep circulation going. A group of 12 specialists in the field will perform the operation, taking about two hours.

Middleton, an auxiliary policeman for Birmingham, has been assured by others in the department that there will be an ample blood supply available for both children. Nearly every man on the force has placed himself on record as a donor.

JoAnn, a busy little third grader at Torry School, has had an almost normal life. Her condition, presently, bothers her but little. The future, however, would see a change as the leaky heart wall continued to over-tax the organ. Later she, too, would find her activities sharply curtailed and a normal life beyond her grasp.

"We want to have it done," the Middletons say, "as quickly as we can. Right now both the children are healthy, with this one exception. We feel it is better to have it done before they have begun to show the strain and perhaps begin to lose their strength."

In the meantime both children play happily while the prayers and hopes of their parents and neighbors go with them.

Britons Join Exodus From Large Cities

LONDON (INS) — Britons are moving out of the nation's big cities.

The Registrar-General's latest estimates of the population of the counties, boroughs, urban and rural districts in England and Wales, show that the populations of London, Birmingham, Sheffield, Liverpool and Manchester have declined since 1952.

The main cause was movement to residential areas outside the cities' boundaries — in other words the suburbs.

The counties around London have registered population boosts and statistics show that more and more people are moving into the nation's "new towns."

Usual Plaint Reversed —Ice Hits Parked Car!

VALLEY STREAM, N.Y. (AP) — Roy Kellett told police he heard a resounding crash as he walked to his car after leaving the night shift at the Long Island Water Co. He found the roof caved in by a big chunk of ice.

Police speculated it fell from an airplane that had become iced while flying at high altitude.

Earth Satellite Will Project Man Into Space Age

(Man takes his first big step this year into the "Space Age." As part of the American contribution to the International Geophysical Year, July 1, 1957, to Dec. 31, 1958, scientists have been ordered to launch a tiny earth satellite into outer space. This is "Project Vanguard." The drama of this project is described in the series that starts today.)

By EDWIN DIAMOND

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (INS) —It's shortly before 8 p.m. on a lush, warm evening in late 1957, or early in 1958.

Across a sandy hook of land, a loudspeaker voice booms out:

"Coming up on X-minus-ten-minutes. Mark X-minus ten-minutes."

The stage is set for man's first step into space at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

At X-minus-ten-minutes—X being the mathematical symbol for the unknown quantity in an equation and therefore used by rocket men as the undetermined time of launching—the center of attraction comes alive.

Electric power and then hydraulic power are turned on in the long, pencil-slim rocket, which stands seven stories tall and is pointed skyward. Nestled inside its silver nose is the medicine-ball-sized sphere that will soon become mankind's first artificial space satellite—if all goes well.

At X-minus-ten-minutes, lights on instrument consoles begin winking red.

"Ten, nine, eight, seven . . ." Ready lights are all green. A slim, crew-cut man in an Ivy League suit blinks and says:

"Fire."

SPACE AGE HAS BEGUN

The men working to make the scene described here come true were asked to compare the task before them with some previous episode in history.

One suggested a parallel between the earth satellite effort and Christopher Columbus' voyage into the unknown.

Another rocket man felt the project resembled what the Wright Brothers did at Kitty Hawk, N. C., in 1903. There, from Kill Devil Hill, man after centuries of earth-bound existence threw off the shackles of gravity for a few precious seconds.

A third scientist compared the satellite program to the development of the first atomic bomb.

J. Paul Walsh, the slim, crew-cut engineer who has day-to-day responsibility for Project Vanguard, recalled the 1932 World Series between the Chicago Cubs and the New York Yankees at Wrigley Field, when Babe Ruth, so the legend goes, pointed with his bat toward the right centerfield bleachers in a gesture that said, "I'll park the next one up there." He did. Commented Walsh:

"The situation is not much different with us. On July 29, 1955, President Eisenhower announced the U. S. would get at least one earth satellite into orbit sometime during International Geophysical Year, July 1, 1957, to December 31, 1958.

"That meant we have to knock one out of the park or look pretty bad."

Another "Vanguard" man broke in:

"The situation is really different. Ruth was a home run hitter; if he had never before hit a ball out of the infield and then pointed to the bleachers and blasted it out—that would have been like Vanguard."

When the Vanguard vehicle pierces the Florida sky, a complex chain of events must take place in perfect order.

For about 150 seconds after launching, the powerful Viking-type "first stage" rocket motor will trail a bright pink exhaust jet as it thrusts the 72-foot-long vehicle through the air ocean.

2 STAGES

At first stage "burnout" — the time when all fuel is expended—Vanguard has been tilted from its vertical launching position to about a 45-degree angle. The spent first stage section is automatically separated and coasts harmlessly into the Atlantic Ocean some 230 miles from the cape.

Second stage gets the payload 140 miles high in its 150 second life-span before burnout.

It then coasts forward some 700 miles well over the Atlantic in a curving flight. During this coasting flight above the air ocean, the second stage nose cone that had protected the third stage rocket and satellite sphere from aerodynamic heating is jettisoned.

The third stage rocket and baby moon are at the 300 mile desired height now and traveling 12,500 feet per second, or 9,000 m.p.h., half the speed necessary to make the moon an earth-circling satellite.

After a nine-minute-long coasting flight the third stage rocket begins a spinning motion to impart stability to the satellite and then kicks it off like a rifle shot.

If each stage has done its job, the satellite will be moving 18,000 m.p.h. in a 300-mile high orbit: Speed and angle are the reasons why the satellite will stay up.

With the exact speed and angle, the forces of gravity are counterbalanced. Too much speed, and the moon swirls away into outer space. Too little speed and it tumbles to earth. The same holds for angle.

It is like twirling a ball on a string around your head. Gravity is the string that holds the ball in orbit.

Once in orbit, the sphere will serve as mankind's hands, eyes and ears in outer space. It will help answer such questions as:

How empty is space? How are stars formed in outer space? How heavy is meteor traffic? Will this traffic hinder manned space flights?

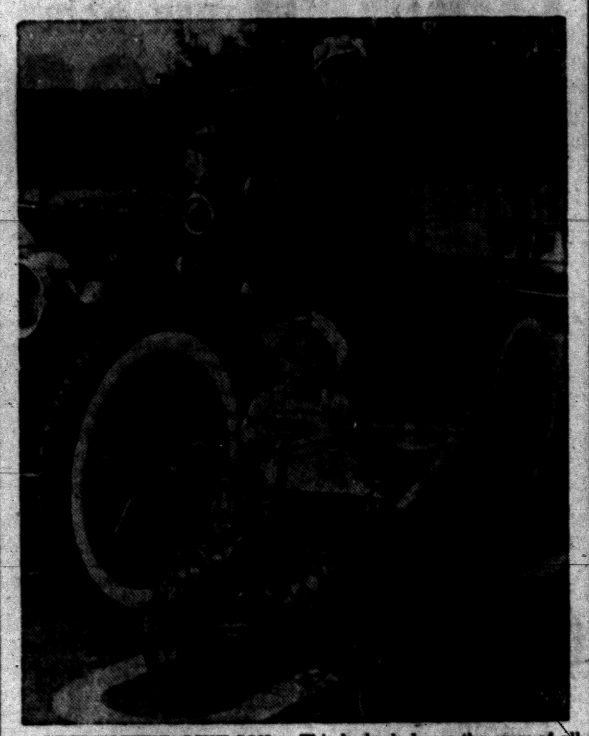

WHAT THEN?

Tied in with the answers to these and similar basic questions are practical applications such as long-range weather forecasting, trans-ocean TV programs, possible climate control.

And what comes after Vanguard?

(Next: The "Space Men.")

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON — This lucky lad was the envy of all other youngsters as he rode along in a car almost like his dad's antique model. The big and little old cars helped dramatize the styling of today's models at a parade of 1957 autos in San Mateo, Calif.

Alaskan Plane Crashes, Kills 5

Coast Guard Locates Wreckage in Foothills of Olympic Mountains

PORT ANGELES, Wash. (AP)—A young woman on the way to Elkins, W.Va., to surprise her mother on the latter's birthday and a carpenter on the way to his seriously ill mother in Dallas, Tex., were among the five persons killed when their Alaska Airlines plane crashed near here Saturday.

Constance Reppert, 24, a recreation director at Army antiaircraft sites in the Fairbanks, Alaska, area for the past year, had received a three-week leave to make the trip. Only her brother knew of the plan. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Reppert, had not been told.

Leroy Kelley, 39, was a civilian carpenter at Ladd Air Force Base near Fairbanks. He had received a telegram Friday night that his mother was critically ill in Dallas. He caught the plane for Seattle, leaving word with his foreman to send his paycheck to his wife in Fresno, Calif.

They were the only two passngers on the plane. The crew members, Capt. Larry Currie, Seattle, pilot; Lyle Edwards, Seattle, copilot; and Stewardess Elizabeth Goods, Roblin, Man., were also killed when the DC4 crashed into a heavily timbered foothill of the Olympic Mountains about 30 miles southeast of here.

The charred and broken wreckage was found yesterday by a Coast Guard helicopter.

The bodies were brought here by a Mountain Rescue Council team in cooperation with the Coast Guard.

Justice Prevails Despite Bungling Intervention

Frank Cammerata, a holdover relic of the prohibition hoodlum era, seems to have lost an extended fight for his release and freedom.

Apparently, the people triumph. Justice will prevail.

More than a quarter of a century ago, this expendable hood was tossed in the hoosegow for bank robbery. The Judge said 15 to 30 years and probably he meant just what he said.

However, a meddlesome Governor horned in five years later and pardoned the bum "on condition he return to Italy and remain there."

Such trust is unbecoming a top ranking public official, but condemnation may be in poor taste now as the guilty party, the late Frank D. Fitzgerald, is dead.

The inevitable happened.

The punk was found in Ohio in 1946. Well, what would you have expected? Did anyone past twelve years of age believe he would "go to Italy and stay there?" He was returned to Jackson prison to complete his sentence which does not expire until 1965.

★ ★ ★

He appealed.

They always do.

First he pled with the State Supreme Court and then he loosened his tears on the Federal Court. Federal Judge Theodore Levin has just denied his petition. There's a jurist after our own heart. There's a man we hope to meet some day. There's a public official who is working in behalf of the people and who feels that a burglar is a burglar and that a prison sentence means a sentence in prison. The interventions in criminal affairs by bungling amateurs like the late Governor Fitzgerald do no good. They simply gum up the works.

Justice seems to be triumphant.

Michigan can rejoice.

So can decent people everywhere.

Summerfield Advises End to Postal Savings

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield has recommended the elimination of the postal savings system.

This is good advice.

Postal savings are a relic of the past. The system is nearly half a century old but it received a big impetus in 1933 when so many banks were closed and people became fearful. Also, immigrants were originally exceedingly distrustful of everything they encountered here a half century back, and they accepted the Post Office as greater security than the nation's banks. The government offered this method of assuring them of safety in saving money.

Conditions have changed.

Bank deposits are guaranteed up to $10,000 and the nation's banks plus their many branches make banking infinitely easier than the post offices ever could. Need for the postal savings plan has long since disappeared.

Depositors recognize this fact themselves. According to the Post Office head, the trend has been downward for more than a decade. The strength and stability of the banks have been firmly established. The wave of immigrant uncertainty has passed and with Government guarantees, the Post Office is badly outmoded and has no more desire or time for banking.

Ten years ago, the postal savings totaled three and a half billion. In the intervening decade, this amount has been cut one half. The downward trend continues.

A bill has been drafted providing for liquidation of the postal savings system immediately upon enactment. It should be supported and passed. This nation already has too much Government competition with private enterprise and private business. Here is a clear cut example that can be terminated with gain and profit to all concerned.

Overheard, wife speaking of her husband: "I could forgive him for kissing that Jezebel, but the so-and-so bought her a $10 present."

The Man About Town

Honors in Dispute

Numerous County Lakes Are Not Well Distributed

Lakes: Once Oakland County's greatest liability; now one of its greatest assets.

The argument continues as to which of Oakland County's 25 townships has the greatest number of its 423 lakes. For nearly a century Waterford claimed that distinction. It has so many that it was named Waterford.

But in recent years it has been challenged by two other townships, both of which have more lakes. Waterford has 35, but Holly counts up 44, and Rose has 39. This is counting as lakes only those bodies of water that have fish in them, and do not go dry when we have a drouth.

Being first with lakes in the population advance, and more available when lake shores became fronts for residential lots, Waterford gained an early distinction. But its lake frontage now is getting scarce, and buyers are going further out.

There is still plenty of undeveloped lake frontage in Holly and Rose Townships, and considerable in other townships nearly as far out, but with lesser lakes. However, much of it is under option.

West Bloomfield Township continues to have the greatest water area in the county, its lakes going more for size than number. But in recent years at least 50 miles of lake frontage has been added in the county by the impounding of streams and creating such large lakes as Kent, Pontiac and Wolverine.

Several other similar projects now are being considered, so West Bloomfield's honors, and Holly's, may not be permanent.

In case anybody else hasn't discovered it, 'twas 24 years ago today that the last President of the United States was inaugurated on March 4.

According to Register of Deeds
Daniel T. Murphy Jr.,
the volume of property transfers recorded there alone is proof that Oakland County surely is going places in its development.

Impossible to Imprison

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Tells Business College Advantages

Dr. H. is one of America's leading applied psychologists. He has taught for many years in liberal arts campuses but prefers the practical atmosphere of a business college. Read my remarks below and you will see why we practical teachers say: "An orchid to America's Business Colleges."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-319: Dr. H. aged about 50, is professor of business psychology at business college in North Carolina.

Dr. Crane, I wish you could come down here to give our commencement address," he asked me.

"We have about 220 graduates and all of them have studied your college textbook.

"So I am sure they would be doubly pleased to have you deliver the address."

Well, I have known and admired Dr. H. for many years. And he is

BUSINESS COLLEGE

Business colleges deserve far more praise than they have thus far received in American education.

For they operate on the eminently practical theme that colleges should be able to pay their own way.

Business colleges thus do not beg for money from state legislatures. Nor do they figuratively "panhandle" from alumni and big business corporations each June for funds to bail them out of their red ink.

No sirree: Business colleges pay their own way. You don't hear them moaning to Uncle Sam for federal aid.

They even buy their own land and erect their own buildings out of tuitional income.

Furthermore, did you ever read about a communistic professor in any business college?

Did you ever see any "leftist" influences and "reds" or even "pinks" among business college students?

Or have you heard of any such students who waste their time snake dancing down the boulevards or engaging in "panty raids" and other juvenile behavior typical of the liberal arts campus?

BEST EDUCATORS

Business colleges are thus the very best exponents of education in modern America, for their professors "practicalize" education, thus zooming the motivation of their students.

And the pupils are sufficiently adult that they realize the need to bear down hard and glean all they can of such vital teaching.

Mrs. Crane is a product of a business college and I have profited from her practical skill and office talents ever since our marriage.

When my sister was ready to enter Northwestern University, I suggested she go to business college first, which she did. For such graduates are far better equipped to profit from university work later on.

And we'd have fewer divorces if all wives, as well as husbands, could have even one year at any leading business college.

American liberal arts education is still far too impractical. But business colleges get down to brass tacks and also teach students a greater respect for our American "free enterprise" system.

Unless students plan to enter teaching or the professions, they will usually obtain a more practical education by going to business college for two years, than by spending those two years on the average liberal arts campus.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

English, Germans Clash Over Troop-Cutting Plan

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Britain is standing firm on its intention of pulling a substantial number of troops from Germany—causing more bitterness within the 15-nation NATO.

Sections of the West German press now are getting more caustic about the British, accusing them of running out on treaty obligations, being militarily incompetent, and concerned only about protecting their own tight little isle.

Such anger will stir more counter-criticism among Britons who long have accused the Germans of deliberately dragging on their own army plans in the interest of stealing export markets from the British.

Britain now keeps four divisions in West Germany, where the United States has five divisions. London wants to withdraw approximately a third, or 5,000 troops, and also cut its air force by 250 aircraft in the next six to nine months.

★ ★ ★

Supreme Allied commander in Europe, Gen. Lauris Norstad, openly opposes the move. His NATO forces already are too low in strength. And of course, he fears that the British move will lead to other nations wanting to cut their contributions.

DEADLIER WEAPONS

The British argument is that despite fewer soldiers in the NATO defense shield the growth of modern firepower and deadlier weapons will bridge the gap of less manpower.

The British are determined to go ahead with the cuts.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Regenerate Body Cells to Arrest Joint Disability

"Seven members of my family who had rheumatiz have been greatly helped by following the regimen you outline in your booklet on Chronic Joint Disability and the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz. At 70 my mother could hardly get around, and now at 75 she does all her own work and enjoys working in her garden every nice day." (Mrs. E. L. H.)

BRADY

The pamphlet is free to anyone who asks for it and provides stamped, self-addressed envelope. If you want the booklet, too, inclose 35 cents for it.

★ ★ ★

In my lexicon rheumatiz means physical degeneration of joint tissues.

What "rheumatism" means I don't know. I can't find a definition for rheumatism that isn't absurd. Can you?

For that matter, I doubt that the physician who diagnoses and treats chronic "arthritis" knows what ails the patient.

The dictionary says rheumatism is any of numerous morbid states characterized by stiffness of the joints and muscles, pain on motion, etc. It says arthritis is inflammation of joints. It says rheumatiz is rheumatism in dialect.

So I have adopted the name "rheumatiz" for this process of physical degeneration of joint tissues, which I believe accounts for most joint disability of insidious onset and long duration.

The medical significance of the word degeneration is "a retrogressive pathological change in cells or tissues in consequence of which the functional power is lost" (or impaired) "and the living substance becomes converted into an inert mass." (Stedman's Medical Dictionary).

That is to say the tissue cells that wear out from day to day are replaced, not by healthy new cells but by scar tissues, Not all at once, but gradually, insidiously, through months or years.

I'd ignore this subject as carefully as I do many other subjects, but for the fact that I believe the cause of rheumatiz is nutritional deficiency through the years from childhood up to the present time, and therefore, that correcting the deficiency will reverse the process (regeneration) in many cases or arrest it before the victim becomes disabled.

Anyway it can do no harm to learn more about it by studying the booklet on Chronic Joint Disability and the pamphlet on Calcium and Rheumatiz—unless you know a better way to squander 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Should Let School Experts Decide About Construction'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

A neighbor of mine went to the hospital for a serious operation. Before going, his doctor had checked carefully and consulted with other physicians to make sure the patient's case had been diagnosed properly. When he went into the operating room, my neighbor didn't have much to say about it, as he had hired them to do the job. They know what they are doing; they were skilled men in their profession.

The administrators, school board and teachers have diagnosed school instruction for the school district. They are experts in their field with many years of experience. It seems to me that we should rely more on the professional school leaders, as we do with physicians and lawyers.

Offers Formula for Government

The very essence of a free government consists in considering offices as public trusts bestowed for the good of the country, and not for the benefit of an individual or a party.

That sentence may sound old to some of our readers and it should. It was first spoken by an American patriot in 1785.

Reader Disgusted With City Justice

I'm disgusted with Pontiac justice. An ex-policeman is put on three years probation for shooting and wounding a friend. He gets court costs on easy monthly payments. What a laugh.

Drive your car with a revoked license and you get five days in jail or drive without any license and get 20 days in jail. Does the penalty fit the crime? How come?

'Thought of Future Very Upsetting'

When I stop to think about the future, it makes me shudder. The world population is increasing so fast and everyone is tearing around at such a terrific speed. We are using our natural resources so fast that we will soon have nothing left.

As an example, it will take only a short time to use up our oil, the way we are going. The same applies to coal. Uranium may help for a time, but when its gone, what will we do? We'll probably learn to use the sun as a supply, but in time, it will run out.

The future generations will be obliged to face these appalling facts. We should give this considerable thought; quiet down and take it easier, conserve what God has given us and not, by sheer waste, bring about collapse of our way of life.

Ralph T. Keeling

'Who Represents Us in Congress?'

I'm ashamed to say it, but to whom would I write regarding political affairs for my opinion to count in Washington? Who represents Michigan and what is his name and address? I suppose there are others who would like the information, also.

Mrs. H. W. K.

'Need Hospital in North, East'

We have a hospital on the south side of the city and on the west side, but none on the east or north sides. Why doesn't someone get that started? With our population growing so fast, we need a hospital somewhere in the northeast side. The city is building up very fast in this end of town, both homes and businesses. If something happens in this area, the person must be driven all the way across the city, and in some cases, that could be too far.

Opposes Charge for Park Facilities

Of all the distressingly monopolistic idealogies I have ever heard, the suggestion that a fee be charged for admission to State parks is one of the worst. Imagine being charged for one's own property.

However poorly kept, the parks are of spiritual benefit for those who are perhaps overdoing their limited resources just by driving to them. For a while the only contact our family had with the Omnipotent was in His vernal creations, the woods and fields in state parks. And believe me, I had no money to buy my way in.

I hope our country never descends to the point that a favored few can transform our natural resources into private reserves and clubs. No wonder they want the parks improved . . . they want them pretty when they can take possession and keep the rest of the impoverished trash out.

Financial Success Came to Friends

I've farmed 42 years and three of my friends have succeeded in a big way financially. One sold his farm for a subdivision, the second rented a worthless patch to a drive-in theater and the third just peddled 180 acres for a golf course.

Me? I still farm.

'Licensing Law Not Desirable'

To "Old Citizen' I assume by your remarks about licensing firearms you are thinking of accidents or crime prevention. Any law abiding citizen has the just and moral right to protect his life and property.

A licensing law would mean automatic confiscation, contrary to the Constitution . . . "the right to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed." Accidents are a problem of education, not legislation.

Such a law in this country would make the conquest of American infinintely easier. Read the story of Germany taking over Denmark in World War II.

Another Teenager Defends Presley

I think I am expressing what many teenagers feel about Elvis and several articles we have read about him. It is all in the way you look at it. If you look on his gyrations in an underhanded way, you can surely find something to sneer about. But if you look at his good points, such as his benefits for March of Dimes, his good points overrule any of the bad points he may have. There is always a good point in everyone.

Teenager Who Will Fight For Elvis

Waterford Club to Organize Soon

A big step in Waterford toward a better community is the soon-to-be forming Toastmistress Club. Such a club can provide Waterford with women who can function effectively as PTA and club leaders. More people with sincere interest and constructive ideas will become "doers" instead of "sitters."

More people will be able to distinguish between a good and a poor program, and because of constructive criticism, will be able to get programs that are worthwhile.

Club meetings, through better trained leadership, can become planning sessions for community service projects, instead of gossip sessions. Teachers can become more effective, interesting teachers of young people, instead of dry "dispensers of information" as is sometimes the case today.

Band Member Gives Opinions

Despite the many kind things "Band Parent" said, there were many understatements. Actually, the band is the finest in the world, and I'm taking the word of Toscanini, Goldman and many others. But I also speak from experience.

The U.S. Air Force band is one of the finest professional concert bands I know of, but when I heard it, I was quite disappointed. It has an empty sound that I had never heard from the PHS band on its worst day. The guys are professionals and can play spots off anything, but the director is not in the same league as Mr. Harris.

Even though Pontiac doesn't even know of most of the band activities, your son or daughter belongs to a group well known throughout the world and respected as the finest high school band in the world.

Turncoat Back in Oklahoma City

Home From Red China, Hawkins Sees Mother After 7 Years Away

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Former American soldier Samuel David Hawkins, who remained with the Red Chinese after the Korean War, was home today visiting with his mother for the first time in seven years.

The slender, 23-year-old ex-GI flew here yesterday afternoon and was greeted by his mother Mrs. Carley Jones of Oklahoma City, newsmen and some 400 other persons.

★ ★ ★

In a brief word to newsmen, the handsome Hawkins declared, "I personally don't count, If I can help others from the mistakes I made."

★ ★ ★

Hawkins was captured by the Communists only two months after his 17th birthday. He hadn't seen his mother since he was a 16-year-old soldier.

The crowd at Municipal Airport was generally friendly and one unidentified man made a point of shaking his hand, saying, "I'm a new friend. I am so happy you are home."

M. H. Champion, Oklahoma City industrialist who financed Hawkins' flight from Hong Kong, quickly corraled the youth and his mother and escorted them to his automobile. Champion has assured Hawkins a job.

★ ★ ★

Hawkins left Peiping, China, last Monday. His Russian wife Tanya is still there trying to gain exit from the country to join him. They were married last June.

There are 13 U. S. turncoats still in China. Seven have returned to this country and one died in China.

Army Stages Show of Missile Power

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M. (AP)— In its most complete missile show yet performed, the Army yesterday unvealed the striking power of its batteries of guided missiles.

Under the eyes of television cameras, missiles plastered mountain-sides miles away, demolished tanks and sped upward seeking theoretical enemy planes.

Three Nike plane killers were used, plus a towering Corporal, two Honest John surface-to-surface missiles, two racing Little Johns and a ground-hugging Dart antitank missile. There were no new missiles.

A Little Honey Sobers

GENEVA, N. Y. (AP) — The New York State Agriculture Experiment Station says that a tablespoon or two of honey will make a drunken person sober. The sugars in the honey cause a chemical breakdown in the alcohol in the system. The same treatment may be helpful in routing a hangover, the station reports.

Former Russian Weds Secretly in Australia

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Nina Paranyuk, Soviet stewardess who deserted the Russian Olympic ship Gruzia in November, married here yesterday.

At Nina's request, the bridegroom's name was not announced — only that he is a 36-year-old Ukrainian plant operator who came to Australia eight years ago.

Nina left her job on the ship which brought Iron Curtain athletes to the Melbourne Olympics last year and slipped away from a sightseeing party. She went into hiding and was not found until Jan. 19, when she asked for political asylum.

★ ★ ★

Nina met her husband at a party three weeks ago. "He will give me the protection I need," she said.

Where they will live is a secret too.

Pot-O-Gold Is Again Starting on Its Way Up

Even though a large scoop was taken from Pot-O-Gold last week, it's already on its way back up. The winner of Puzzle No. 40 will take home $200 plus $25 dollars as a subscriber if no winner is found for last week's puzzle. You have just as good a chance as any of the other winners, so start your entry now.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

Storms Ease Texas Drought

Rainfall Brings Relief to Sun-Baked Sectors Throughout State

DALLAS (AP)—Hail and torrential rains lashed parts of drought-stricken south Texas over the weekend and welcome showers fell throughout the state. The Weather Bureau forecast more rain today.

★ ★ ★

More than an inch of rain fell along with hail in drought-parched Karnes County, where government food commodities are being distributed to more than 10,000 of the county's 17,000 residents.

★ ★ ★

The rain belt yesterday extended in scattered areas across the entire state.

Traffic was stalled because of a hailstorm on U.S. Highway 59 between Goliad and Beeville. No heavy damage was reported.

A sudden storm drenched the Fashion community in Karnes County with 1.10 inches of rain in a few minutes yesterday afternoon.

Hail covered the ground in a 60-mile belt from a point 16 miles west of Corpus Christi to George West, Tex.

It was the third consecutive weekend of rain in Texas.

New Pipeline Planned

ISTANBUL (AP) — Plans are going ahead for a new 600-mile oil pipeline from Iraq to Iskenderun on Turkey's Mediterranean coast line. A spokesman for the Iraq Petroleum Conmpany says actual construction can be completed in about 18 months once the surveys are completed.

2 Japanese Posts Report Nuclear Test

TOKYO (AP) — Two Japanese weather posts today picked up abnormal air pressure waves "strong enough to indicate a nuclear explosion," the Central Meteorological Board reported.

A spokesman said he could not tell the cause of location of the origin of the waves.

Britain has declared a wide danger area around Christmas Island in the South Pacific for nuclear tests between March 1 and August 1 but there has been no indication the British tests have started.

Seventeen other weather posts had no abnormal readings.

Virtually all of the stations in the past have registered similar pressure waves and earth shock waves as well when atom or hydrogen weapon tests have been conducted by the Soviet Union or the United States.

Forty-five persons escaped from the hotel in their night clothes.

An elevator operator said he thought Haber was in his room.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drugstores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

With Head, Heart, Hands, Health

4-H Is Four-Way Service

By HAROLD COHEN
(Pontiac Press Staff Writer)

"To make the best better, I pledge my Head to clearer thinking, my Heart to greater loyalty, my Hands to larger service, my Health to better living."

Little did the members of Congress who in 1914 enacted a law creating an agricultural extension service dream that one day it would give rise to a youth organization, country-wide, which would take its name from the above pledge—"4-H Clubs."

Starting out a rural program for adult farmers, the 4-H movement today is confined to youths 10 to 21 years of age, and has some 2,200,000 members throughout the United States.

During 4-H Club Week, March 2-9, these members and their leaders are embarking on an evaluation of their past achievements and planning an active future.

64 COUNTY CLUBS

In Oakland County, there are no less than 64 clubs in rural, urban and suburban areas, with 1,475 members and 196 adult leaders.

★ ★ ★

Contrary to general belief, 4-H is not, at least in Oakland County, a mainly agricultural organization. Its variety of projects is extensive and covers such subjects as child care, electricity, foods, entomology, handicrafts, photography, gardening and clothing.

But where living conditions make it possible, opportunities to work with animals, crops and farm implements are still stressed.

Of the 1,475 members, only 530 in Oakland County live in rural areas, however. Some 245 are in cities and 700 live in suburban surroundings.

MANY SPONSORS

Behind 4-H, stands a myriad of sponsoring organizations. Working together are the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Michigan State University, the Michigan Dept. of agriculture and the county.

Together they support the extension service of MSU which places 4-H agents in every area of the state. In Oakland County there are two agents, Jack Worthington and Sue Sturgis.

But these two professional agents alone, could never hope to organize and supervise the 64 county clubs—for this they depend on the "unsung heroes" of 4-H, the volunteer adult leaders.

The leaders hold meetings, often in their own homes, help buy materials needed and supervise the projects on which club members are working.

WORK ON PROJECTS

Projects are the heart of 4-H work. Each member is expected to be working on at least one of the more than 50 offered in the 4-H handbook.

In Oakland, the most popular are clothing, food preparation, animals, vegetable gardens, handicrafts and electricity. Photography is a fast-growing newcomer.

A series of yearly events provide incentives toward which club members can strive. Projects completed during the winter months are exhibited in March at an Achievement Day program which this year is set for March 29-30 at Lincoln Junior High School.

RATED BY EXPERTS

Judges, who are experts in each line, rate the projects at "A, B or C" and suggest improvements. The best projects move up to a state 4-H show at MSU each year.

After the summer month, an August 4-H Fair is held at which agricultural produce and flowers are displayed.

In addition, there are such events as the Junior Livestock Show held in December at the Michigan State Fair Grounds, the "Chicken of Tomorrow" Contest, for poultry raisers, "demonstration days," when youngsters speak in public on how to do some project, and a Crop Show in fall for corn, potatoes and other seasonal items.

Special training events such as judging schools are featured. Here the members learn not only how to judge major products, but to explain why they have rated them.

TIME TO RELAX

But even the most fascinating hobby or project can grow wearisome without pauses for relaxtion. So 4-H offers "Club Week," a three-day visit to the MSU campus for older members; it offers a week of summer camping near Kensington Park for boys and girls at a cost of $15 each, and it offers a variety of tours, outings, shows and talent contests.

When a 4-H'er reaches 15, he or she is eligible to join the Service Club, made up of members from all parts of the country, selected for superior work.

The club assists in setting up displays, in offering special training to club officers, sponsoring talent contests and holding canoe trips, winter weekends and other special outings for its members.

Working, playing or just learning to get along with leaders and fellow youngsters, Oakland County's 4-H members are acquiring the type of experience that will stand them in good stead as tomorrow's citizens.

Busy basting and seaming are Gail Cook (left) and Vicki St. Dennis (right) also of Lakeside drive. The finished garments will be displayed on Achievement Day, March 29-30 at Lincoln Junior High School.

Carroll Baker Fought Way to Chance at Oscar Prize

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Has success spoiled Carroll Baker?

Carroll doesn't think so, even if she does have a brand new baby and a brand new Oscar nomination.

"Everything has happened so fast," she gasped. "My marriage, the movie ("Baby Doll") and the arrival of my own baby.

"It seems only yesterday that I was performing magic tricks in North Carolina, earning $10 a week and hoping for the big break."

Carroll, a pleasant mousy-haired girl with an infectious laugh and a chocolate soda personality, is a long whoop-and-a-holler from "Baby Doll."

She is a serious-minded actress who feels she has worked hard for what she has, but still is modest enough to be surprised at her amazing success.

WORKED HARD

"It hasn't been so easy," she said. "I've had a really difficult time getting started and I've worked very hard.

"The worst thing of all is being an out-of-towner (she's from Johnstown, Pa) and trying to crack New York or Hollywood."

Carroll will be bucking four of the top actresses in the business when the Oscar derby rolls around March 27—Ingrid Bergman, Katharine Hepburn, Nancy Kelly and Deborah Kerr.

The 23-year-old actress, who studies with Lee Strasburg at New York's actor's studio (the alma mater of James Dean and Marlon Brando), made small appearances in two other motion pictures before her smash hit in "Baby Doll."

★ ★ ★

"The first one was a movie 'Easy to Love,' she recalled. "I was the girl who was stood up by Tony Martin. I wore a crazy hat and somebody else's evening dress. I met Tony again not long ago and he didn't remember me, so I didn't remind him!"

PLAYED OPPOSITE—DEAN

The next film go-around was as James Dean's girl friend in "Giant."

"I did that role," the young actress declared, "because I wanted to work with George Stevens."

Long before her screen success, Carroll trod the boards as a tap-dancer, and for six months in 1950 toured the south as a "magician" baffling the customers with slight of hand tricks with fake jewelry and pulling stuffed rabbits out of hats!

The little Baker girl finally decided acting was for her. She went through a series of disastrous TV commercials, theater walkons and eventually wound up at actor's studio.

She flopped with her first audition, but won herself a husband—director Jack Garfein—and a teacher—Lee Strasburg.

"I was very unsuccessful," she admitted ruefully, "but Lee Strasburg made me realize my potential. The important thing is, he taught me to be myself."

She zoomed to popularity in the TV series, "The Web" playing the role of "the other woman." After that, every studio in town offered her contracts by the dozen.

Right now, Carroll has a one-picture-a-year pact with Warner Brothers at only a fraction of the fee she could command.

Babies the Same, but Parents—What a Change!

By JOHN BARROW
INS Staff Writer

New parents are thrown into a do-it-yourself dither as new to them as the light of day is to their newlyborn child.

Only first-hand dealing with child care can season the amateurs. It's the first baby who absorbs the pioneering, for later babies find changed parents:

First baby cries — "What's wrong? Poor dear is hysterical! Do something! Maybe we ought to call the doctor!"

Later baby cries — "Nothing wrong I can see. Let's wait and see if she won't quit after a while."

First baby refuses food—"Must be sick. Maybe an obstruction. Call the doctor."

Later baby refuses food—"Oh, well, we get into moods, too. She'll eat when she's hungry."

First baby has very slight fever—"Call the doctor. Maybe he'll want us to meet him at the hospital."

Later baby's temperature rises to 101 degrees—"Give her some aspirin. Let's don't bother the doctor unless it goes higher."

★ ★ ★

Later baby with first tooth—"Tooth? No wonder she's been so cross. Kind of late for cutting teeth."

First baby utters sound—"Hear that? She said, 'Dad,' as plain as you please. She was looking right at me."

Later baby utters sound—"Won't be long now. In a couple of months she'll be saying, 'dadada.'"

This change in parents is part know-how and part having one's hands full. Maturing also brings the realization that a baby is not a fragile parcel of mystery—but a vigorous human being, even as you and I.

Should Man Accept Pay for Repairs?

Does Odd Jobs to Help Out Friends and Family

By EMILY POST

A reader explains: "My husband is very handy and as a result whenever any of our close friends or members of the family need any repairs done around the house my husband is always asked to do them. He has always been very generous about this and has never accepted payment for any of these jobs, outside, of course, of what he spends for any materials that he has to buy.

"Once or twice he has been offered payment for his services but he has refused to take it. He does not think it proper for him to accept payment for these favors. I disagree with him and think it only fair that he be paid for his time. Will you please give us your opinion?"

Answer: If the people who offer it are well off, it would not be improper for him to take it—especially if the job takes a good deal of his time and is one that they would otherwise have to pay a professional man to do. But if the job requires little time and effort on his part he would not accept payment for it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My brother is giving me away because my father is not living. After he leaves me at the chancel is he expected to take his place next to my mother—who will otherwise be alone in the front pew—or should he take his place beside his wife and two children several rows behind?"

Answer: He sits on the aisle seat next to your mother, but his wife and the children should be given places in this same pew on the other side of your mother—or else they should sit on the aisle in the pew directly behind her.

Children Use Shyness as Defense

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A reader writes:

"During my sister's recent hospitalization and convalescence, her two children stayed at her mother-in-law's. The boy has come home so shy that it worries us.

"He says that his grandmother didn't spank him; but as she's always been critical of him, preferring his younger sister, she's clearly hurt him in ways he can't describe. How can we help him overcome his shyness?"

By respecting it as an illustration of this little boy's resourcefulness instead of fearing it as an affliction.

★ ★ ★

If his grandmother pursued him with criticism, it was not reasonable for him to defend himself by developing shyness.

FOUR METHODS

When someone attacks us, there are four ways by which we can defend ourselves against him: We can fight him back, we can get someone else to fight him back for us, we can run away—or we can, like Jesus, transcend our hateful experience and love our enemy.

★ ★ ★

The first alternative was properly discarded by this little boy, since fighting his grandmother back would have worsened his situation. The second was out because nobody was around to fight for him. Jesus' method was light-years beyond his powers.

So the only really practical alternative he had was running away through shyness that distracted his grandmother's critical interest.

Now at home he is regarded as a sad case instead of being admired for his resourcefulness.

It is this view of him that is the problem—not his shyness.

His aunt and mother begin to revise their view of him by remembering that the young of most creatures are shy in hostile surroundings. That's just the way they should be.

OUR OWN FEAR

If they were bold, impatient and careless instead of shy and self-effacing, they'd soon be turned into meals for stronger creatures. But let a human child turn to shyness in a critical environment — and everyone starts wondering if he needs a psychiatrist.

★ ★ ★

As is the case with all children's behavior from thumb-sucking to telling lies, it's not the shyness that should concern us bout our fear of it.

Once this little boy senses that his shyness is accepted as a natural response to what happened to him, he'll outgrow it.

But if he's made to feel it's queer and afflictive, the confidence he needs to develop more aggressive self-defense may be destroyed.

Mamie Follows Fashions Set by Mrs. Washington

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — Fashions have changed a lot since Martha Washington's day. But the First Lady's style sense seems to have been inherited by Mamie Eisenhower.

★ ★ ★

Martha and Mamie share amazingly similar tastes in fashions, although they lead styles two centuries apart, historians and style experts reported today.

Mrs. Washington, for example, was a woman of very clear skin, blue eyes, brown hair — with a fondness for pretty colors and matching accessories.

Mrs. Eisenhower, also a clear-skinned brunette with blue eyes, likes pretty colors and matching accessories, too.

What's more, they both picked pink for their inaugural gowns — and both emphasized an "all-American" style.

★ ★ ★

According to information from the Smithsonian Institution, Mrs. Washington's inaugural gown was of pink faille with "voluminous skirt and tight-fitting bodice."

SIMILAR STYLING

Mrs. Eisenhower's first inaugural gown, the one that started the fad for "Mamie Pink," had a full skirt and tight bodice.

Both first ladies showed low necklines but covered their shoulders.

Mrs. Eisenhower proudly disclosed that her dress, by an American designer, was made and embroidered in the U. S. So was the jewelry she wore and the pink gloves to match the gown.

Mrs. Washington's gown, of imported English fabric, was made by her own dressmaker in the fashion of her day. But Mrs. Washington covered that imported fabric with "American" designs — medallion embroidery that featured U. S. wildflowers and insects.

The first First Lady had white lace mitts to match her white lace shoulder fichu shawl, and carried a bag of brown satin which she had personally embroidered in script with "Mrs. Washington."

★ ★ ★

The same fashion spirit moved Mrs. Eisenhower, for her second inaugural outfit, to wear a citron yellow gown with matching yellow gloves and a yellow evening bag embroidered "Mamie."

LIKES QUALITY

Mrs. Eisenhower's favorite dress designer, Mollie Parnis, added more details to the style parallel between the First Ladies.

"A woman in Mrs. Washington's day had to select her own fabrics. Today we don't have to, but Mrs. Eisenhower does. She likes quality."

Noting that Mrs. Washington has been described as wearing ball gowns in such definitely clear tones as white and orange and salmon pink, Mrs. Parnis said:

Mrs. Eisenhower loves clear colors too. She especially favors the pinks and mauves, because they are so complimentary to her complexion and blue eyes. Mrs. Washington must have had the same pink-and-white complexion."

Judging from contemporary descriptions and portraits, she did.

★ ★ ★

Both First Ladies also have high foreheads. Mrs. Eisenhower covers hers with the famous "Mamie" bangs. Mrs. Washington, in the style of her period, wore a "mob cap" of lace—a soft cap that covered her forehead with a frill.

First Get Permanent and Then Cut Hair

Tip when you're having a permanent; have your hair cut after the permanent, rather than before.

This gets rid of frizzly ends and gives you a nice, soft, natural curl. You won't have to go through that awful, crimpy feeling that most women experience the first week or two after a new permanent.

Label Glass Jars

An easy way to identify kitchen and bathroom jars and bottles is to print the name of their contents with a cotton swab which has been dipped in paint or red nail polish.

Nixons Are Sprucing Up New Home

Vice President and Family to Move In After Trip

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Moving day for the Nixon family won't come until after the vice president and his pretty Pat return from their extensive trip to Africa.

Mrs. Nixon told newswomen their new $75,000 home will be getting an inside paint job and a general refurnishing while they are away and it will be some weeks before they and their two daughters, Tricia, 10 and Julie, 8, leave their present home in the Spring Valley section of Washington.

The young Washington decorator John Greer, who did some work on the Nixons' first home, has been asked to advise on the new one which has been empty since the death last Sept. 10 of its former owner, the late Homer S. Cummings, attorney general in the Roosevelt administration.

Greer says decorating plans for the English Tudor estate haven't been completed but says he hopes to brighten some of the woodwork and paneling in the downstairs rooms as a starter.

Mrs. Nixon told reporters she laughs every time she reads that she could count was 11, she said.

CLOSETS COUNTED?

"But I suppose they count a closet as one, the pantry as two, the spot in the basement where the washing machine is as three—a laundry room and so forth."

According to the realtors who negotiated the sale, the mansion will offer three dormer rooms with bath on the top floor; four bedrooms, four baths and a library over the garage wing on the second floor; a reception hall, drawing room, dining room, butler's pantry, kitchen and breakfast room on the ground floor, and a recreation room and maid's quarters in the basement.

The vice president said the new house will not be adequate to meet all his entertainment requirements.

But he said it will be "more adequate" than his present three-bedroom, living, dining room and den dwelling, and "will enable me to meet some of the smaller social commitments."

★ ★ ★

Perhaps more excited about the move than their parents are Tricia and Julie, who in their present house haven't had much outdoor space on their small corner lot in which to play.

WIDE TERRACES

The new property boasts wide terraces and a small bit of woodland.

★ ★ ★

What pleases them still more is that their new home is only about a mile from the old one and they will be able to attend the same school and play with the same little friends.

Tile Muffles Noise

Rubber tile is an effective noise muffler for heavy traffic rooms as well as easy on the feet. This resilient flooring material is practical for table tops too, as it resists dents, cuts down clatter and can't be harmed by careless cigarette butts.

Heat Stuck Jar Top

Loosen a stubborn screw top cover of a jar or bottle by running hot water all around the edge. Works with wedged glass stoppers, too, but be sure to tip bottle so that water doesn't seep into contents when stopper is removed.

When you shampoo your hair, a good routine is to wet your entire head with warm water and work up a good lather. Massage both your hair and scalp with the thick suds, rinse well. Repeat with a second clean lather, and then rinse with warm water until hair is "squeaking clean."

Mildred Miller Offers Advice on Losing Weight

Opera Star Says Boredom Threatens Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Mildred Miller, charming young mezzo soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, has a figure so slender that she often is chosen for the "pants roles" (roles that were written for a young male character but sung by a female). She is not only an opera star but is also the mother of two children—two reasons often given as alibis for overweight.

There was a short period between her operatic debut more than five years ago and the present time, when she found herself 12 pounds overweight, and realized that this made all of the difference in her sang-froid. She was appearing quite often on television and television cameras broaden even the slimmest gal.

So Mildred went on a diet and lost the excess weight. The other day in New York she said, "There are tricks in everything; tricks in decorating like using a mirror or light paint to make a large room seem larger; tricks in makeup like rouge on your chin to make your face look shorter; tricks in cooking like putting a pinch of sugar into any recipe that uses tomatoes. I found that there are tricks in dieting too."

This lovely star continued to say that she found boredom a greater enemy when reducing than actual hunger. "I was bored with simple nourishing food which took care of the body's needs but did not leave me emotionally satisfied with my meal. Boredom is the dieter's direct adversary," she declared!

During her reducing session Mildred Miller says she discovered the difference between appetite and hunger. She feels that appetite is mental and hunger is physical.

APPETITE AROUSERS

She continued, "Your mouth will water at the sight of a luscious piece of strawberry shortcake of the odor of frying onions or a whiff of garlic dressing, and when looking at all of those magnificent color photos of food in women's magazines—they are all appetite arousing.

★ ★ ★

"Hunger on the other hand is physical. Your stomach gets empty. If it remains empty too long you actually have hunger pangs."

She worked out some tricks of her own which helped her stick on her diet. Of course, the first and most important one is to make up one's mind, to be determined to lose the excess poundage.

Not everyone has the incentive to lose which Mildred had because not everyone is in public life. However, when you remember the importance of your success as a woman in your own private life and the health angle, it makes you stop and consider seriously the idea of weight reduction.

MISS MILLER TELLS TRICKS OF DIETING

Today I want to give you a few of opera star Mildred Miller's tricks in dieting:

First, eating slowly and deliberately was a help. She said, "I don't know the reason for this but it is a fact that for me, at any rate, it is easier to diet if I eat slowly."

The reason for this is because by food earlier in the meal when one eats slowly and appetite lessens the blood sugar level is raised as the blood sugar level rises. Therefore you are at to eat less at a meal when you eat slowly.

Mildred Miller, charming young mezzo soprano of the Metropolitan Opera.

Mildred bypassed salt in her food. She seasoned the family food but kept out an unseasoned portion for herself. In order to dispel the boredom of such food she rubbed steaks with garlic, stewed tomatoes with a dash of vinegar and enjoyed the tartness of grapefruit.

She also sensibly realized that a teaspoonful of sugar has only about 25 calories and at times of low ebb gave her blood sugar level a boost with a cup of tea and a teaspoonful of the real McCoy. If you do not indulge in this habit more than three times a day it is a help and makes little difference in the rate of your weight loss.

Miss Miller also said, "I found that dieting calls for character and will power and both of these are at low ebb in the dark of night. I woke up one night and almost before I knew it I found myself in the kitchen with the icebox door open.

"Never mind how that episode worked out! After that I provided against such temptation by taking one of my cups of tea with the sugar and lemon just before going to sleep at night."

BULK THE ANSWER

As for hunger between meals Mildred found that sheer bulk is the answer. She ate a stalk or so of celery, raw carrots or a quarter of a head of lettuce.

★ ★ ★

All of the ideas she discovered for herself are sound. Green salads help on a reducer's diet but these are not very appetizing without salad dressing or oils. I want to remind you that you can make delicious low calorie ones at home. Use tomato juice as the base and then add onion or garlic or lemon juice or all three, or any other flavoring you wish.

If you would like to have my calorie chart send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Overindulged Kids Are New American Tragedy

Are U. S. Parents Giving Too Much and Asking Too Little in Return?

By RUTH MILLETT

At 15, Susan has quit high school to marry a 17-year-old boy who has also quit school without a diploma.

Susan's parents couldn't even object to the marriage because a baby was on the way.

Both Susan and Bill, the boy she has chosen to be the father of her child and her husband—in that appropriate order — have families who had hoped to give them the opportunity of a college education.

In fact, their families have tried to give them everything they wanted.

And now the parents are heartbroken because their children have snatched greedily at life instead of waiting for maturity to take on more mature responsibilities.

It is the new American tragedy —this willfulness and greediness and lack of self-discipline that are causing young people with every chance to make something of their lives to throw it away.

GIVING TOO MUCH?

Why is it happening in high schools all over the country to children whose parents have had but one thought in mind, to give their children the best?

★ ★ ★

Could it be that parents are giving too much and asking too little in return?

Is a girl or boy who has never had to want or wait for anything long enough to make its possession really a great joy incapable of waiting for anything, including marriage?

Can a boy or girl whose parents have always put his pleasure and enjoyment above their own really be expected to think, "What will this do to my parents?" when tempted to take life into his, or her, own hands?

These are questions parents should be asking themselves for the new American tragedy — the boys and girls from good homes who are making some of life's most serious mistakes—is present in every community.

And parents are the ones who are going to have to figure out why.

Ailments on Outside Cured From Inside

The beauty of skin and hair are closely related to the health of the body. The hair, skin, hands and nails get their nourishment from the blood, as do other organs of the body; consequently a beauty treatment, to be effective, must be internal as well as external.

Fresh lemons are an excellent source of vitamin C—the vitamin that is essential for life, to maintain healthy organs and functions. Vitamin C cannot be stored in the body; hence it must be included in the diet every day. The juice of one lemon provides over half of the recommended daily allowance of this life-preserving vitamin. Lemons are also an outstanding source of the newly discovered "citrus bioflavonoids."

Basic Color Best to Build Wardrobe

COLUMBIA, Mo. (INS)—Clothing specialists recommend selecting a basic color for your wardrobe, then building around it for economy and allure.

They suggest when buying needed clothing choose those that match or harmonize with your basic color.

The basic color you choose should depend upon your coloring —that is, the color of your hair, eyes and skin.

Brown and beige combine well with yellow, orange, gold, rust, pink, chartreuse, green, turquoise and pale blue.

Black and gray are good both summer and winter while black is particularly smart and flattering to persons with large figures. And they combine well with most colors.

Navy is a year-round color and can be worn with most blues, blue greens, yellow, orange, red and pinks.

Wear Long Girdle to Slim Bulges

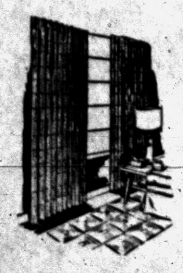

Women with thick thighs can look slimly alluring in sheath skirts. The trick is in the type of girdles you wear. The new long-pegged pantie girdles will present a smooth, firm line that won't bulge under clinging tight skirts.

Some models even extend almost to the knee, which makes them wearable under the fashionable tight trousers shown so much these days, as well as beneath a sheath.

Leather Soon to Be Colorfast, Washable

Have you ever wished for colored leather as colored as most fabrics are today? That's what the leather experts predict.

By altering methods of tanning and dyeing leathers, they believe we'll soon be able to wash colored leather garments and accessories with the same confidence we wash most fabrics. And that's progress.

Kids Don't Desert Interesting Mom

By ANNE HEYWOOD

One of the greatest mistakes you can make is to expect gratitude an repayment of favors from the people you do the favors for.

If you do something good for someone, good will come to you—but not necessarily from the same person. In fact, it hardly ever comes from the same person. This is one thing that parents, and particularly mothers, should never forget.

Hardly a day goes by that I don't receive a letter from some mother who has, as she is apt to put it, "devoted every single waking moment" to her children, only to have them grow up and leave her. Such ingratitude!

These mothers sigh, and settle down to a life of complaints and bitterness.

Some weeks ago I wrote about one mother who complained that her life is now an empty shell. I commented that it was partly her fault, that she should have devoted a tiny bit of time, through the years, to developing her own interests.

CONSIDERABLE ANGER

As a result, a good many readers replied with considerable anger. They said that when the children are young, the mother never has a minute to spare, that children are just selfish, etc. etc.

★ ★ ★

But this was not the opinion of Mrs. J. B. Normington, of Little Silver, N. J. Mrs. Normington writes:

"I want to tell you from my own experience that I agree with you completely.

"I have six children ranging in age from 5 to 20. Naturally, I didn't have much spare time when they were smaller. Even then, however, I managed to keep up other interests.

★ ★ ★

"One was writing letters of appreciation to people I had never met—concerning books they had written, deeds they had done—or letters such as this! I have had many interesting replies which, needless to say, I thoroughly enjoyed. Church work also kept me busy as well as PTA and recently Girl Scouts.

TOOK UP PAINTING

"In the last two years, I felt I had time to try something I always wanted to do—oil painting. I enrolled in an adult class which meets at night. (I don't have baby-sitter worries because my sitters are home grown).

"I now have a new interest which should last me for the rest of my life. I do not look forward to being 'an empty shell'. In fact, my shell will probably be bursting at the seams!"

There's a woman whose children will never grow away from her or neglect her. She'll always be interesting to them.

If you, or any woman you know, is at loose ends without any real interests aside from children, my Housewives' Career Guide may be of help. Send six cents in postage, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you one.

Basic Dough Easy to Bake Many Ways

Mrs. Luehmann's Sponge Method Makes Tender Rolls

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When you have a recipe for a basic sweet dough, you can go ahead and make all kinds of interesting coffee cakes and rolls. Such a recipe is this one from Mrs. Richard Luehmann. She got it from her mother-in-law and describes it as a good old German coffee cake recipe.

Being very new in the Pontiac area, Mrs. Luehmann has not had the opportunity to enter into many club activities. When not mud-bound, the family (there are three children) attend events at the Waterford CAI Building.

BASIC SWEET DOUGH
By Mrs. Richard Luehmann

2 packages dry yeast
1 cup warm milk
4½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons salt
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1 cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
3 eggs

Make a sponge of the yeast dissolved in the warm milk and one cup of the sifted flour. Beat well, set in a warm place until it bubbles.

Melt butter or margarine and cool. Combine eggs, sugar and cooled shortening in mixing bowl and beat well. Add the sponge mixture, the rest of the flour, the salt and grated lemon rind.

Knead on a floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in a greased bowl, brush top with melted shortening and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk.

Turn out on floured board. From here on, you're on your own. You can roll out a rectangle of the dough, brush with melted butter and add cinnamon and brown sugar. Roll up like a jelly roll and place in a greased pan in ring shape.

Or cut slices and place cut side down on a greased baking sheet. Or put into two or three layer cake pans. Sprinkle tops with cinnamon and sugar or streusel.

Let rise until almost double. Bake in 350 degree oven. Rolls will take about 20 minutes, the coffee cake 25-30. If there is no topping on the coffee cake, brush with melted butter after removing from oven. Makes three coffee cakes.

Gray Hair Adds Distinctive Note

PARIS (INS)—Paris hair stylist Guillaume insists that gray hair needn't make you look older.

He agrees that "salt-and-pepper" hair is distinguished looking only for men, and not advisable for ladies. But in many cases he thinks women might look even prettier if they helped nature along by turning the entire head of hair a light, uniform and flattering shade of gray.

He backs this up by saying that the lighter the hair around the face, the more flattering it is.

Rules for Styling Becoming Coiffure

In spite of the constant change in current hair styles, certain basic rules should be followed: Never part the hair in the middle if the face is full or the jaw square.

When the forehead is low, bangs should never be worn and when it is narrow, the hair should be brushed straight back from the temples.

Soap Niche Handy

If you're planning a new washable tile bathroom or redoing an old one, why not install a king size soap niche next to the tub? It will serve as a recessed "dressing table" to hold a bath sponge, a back brush, dusting powder, and other toiletries—plus soap itself.

Lovely Women Must Be Alert to Keep Beauty

The woman who's a raving beauty with no effort at all probably doesn't exist. Most beautiful women work hard at getting and keeping beauty. They feel it's worth it, both in the admiration they receive and in the way they feel about themselves.

If you don't feel it's worth it, try not watching your diet. Don't exercise and don't take daily care of your skin and hair. Grab the first dress you see on the rack when you go shopping. Put comfort first and everything else second.

Of course, don't expect any wonderful adventures from life. And your health may suffer if you don't keep your weight down.

If this point of view doesn't appeal to you, then you're one of the increasing number of women who feel that the effort to look lovely is worth it. It is not something to be chalked up to mere vanity.

Beauty Hint

Pretty lingerie is a necessity in smart dressing. Even if that worn or faded slip doesn't show, just wearing it makes a woman feel less assured.

Capes, short and bulky or full length and straight, shared honors with coats with dropped shoulder seams at the Italian fashion showings. The short figure should avoid the cape that pyramids out to a flowing hemline.

An average American wastes the equivalent of two cakes of soap each year.

Ironing Advocated to Banish Thinking

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — There are too many people today who think too much. They always make the excuse that their business calls for it, or their wife insists upon it, or, well, everybody's doing it—you want they should be stupid?

★ ★ ★

This is pretty flimsy reasoning. Anybody who thinks clearly knows that too much activity in the cerebrum, not to mention the hindbrain, is a bad habit to get into. It leads inevitably to worry, tension, mixed emotions and likely as not income tax problems.

And that's how come psychiatry was born.

I myself am a heavy thinker (meaning not deep, but in volume), and after several trips to a doctor to take the kinks from the back of my neck (too many thoughts press down down on the spine) I have been forced to research into the therapeutic science of "un-thinking."

This is, as you might figure, the delicate art of unwinding the brain—as you would run down a clock—so that it stops ticking off ideas.

Ironing clothes, I have found, is the easiest and most efficient setting for un-thinking to be found in the home. Other people, particularly men, may say this is impractical.

THOUGHTLESS TRICKS

But I say, to each his own thoughtless tricks.

The reason ironing has proved so successful in my case, and in the research of many similarly afflicted persons, is that there is something so drab and hot about the setting, even with one of the new silicone pads which allegedly absorb heat, as to lull the ironer almost immediately into a state of sticky lethargy.

A comforting sense of accomplishment floods through the body as each handkerchief gets its hems flattened and yet there is no intrusion of prideful thought.

Only impossibly vain thinkers would allow themselves to pause in the process of un-thinking to congratulate themselves mentally on a well-handled hankie.

By the time one is finished with the handkerchiefs, there are the placemats. Incidentally, I recommend ironing only flat linens for this therapeutic work. Blouses, silk lingerie and men's shirts are, in their own nagging way, an intrusion on the un-thinking mind, and should be avoided.

★ ★ ★

After a half-hour or so, an experienced scientific ironer should be concentrating on absolutely nothing. If a husband or something should walk into the vacuum at this point, she should be able to look at him with sincerely glazed, disinterested eyes and say naught. Or at the most: "Read any good books lately?"

OTHER METHODS

Some persons of whom I have heard have other methods for relaxing the turmoiled head, such as fishing, drinking, staring at gray walls, taking sleeping pills, seeing dull movies or talking to dull people.

One fellow I know swears by a book on the revolutionary and evolutionary sage of the shell fish.

But I maintain that these techniques result in but momentary blankness of the cranium, whereas the heat and boredom brought about by ironing may cause one's thought to atrophy for many hours.

Placing first in the contest were seniors Julie Hickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hickman, 4060 La Forest Dr.; and Rodney Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Evans, 336 Dover St.

Senior Lyndon Salathiel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Salathiel of 534 Shore View Dr.; and junior, Carol Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael B. Moore of 885 Lakeside Dr., placed second in the contest.

Judges based their decisions on excellence in leadership abilities.

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Is President Eisenhower in these early days of his second term tending toward a more passive role in direction of the government?

You can get a spirited argument on any "yes" or "no" answer to that question, or to these others:

Is he now delegating more top policy authority to others? Does he look forward even more than during his first four years in office to trips away from Washington for a mixture of relaxation and work?

Some of the talk has been keyed to the Middle East crisis.

His request for authority to use American forces in that region, if necessary, and for permission to spend 200 million dollars there in foreign aid was having rough going in the Senate when, early in February, the White House announced Eisenhower would leave Feb. 8 on his annual trip to south Georgia for quail hunting and golf as the guest of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

ISRAEL DEFIANT

At the same time, Israel was still defying United Nations demands that it pull its invading troops out of territory claimed by Egypt.

He did cut three days from the two-week stay he had hoped for and returned to Washington Feb. 19 for conferences with Secretary of State Dulles and congressional leaders of both parties.

Just before going to Georgia, he had talked personally and at length with Saudi Arabia's King Saud, as he had earlier with India's Nehru and has since with France's Premier Guy Mollet.

At the Humphrey plantation, he conferred by telephone at least once daily with Dulles, who was in Washington, regarding the Middle East. Some days they talked three times.

Eisenhower also transacted other government business there, just as he does from all other places when he is away from Washington.

KEEPS CONTACTS CLOSE

But that is where the argument arises. There are some who contend Eisenhower's role in the Middle East crisis was a relatively passive one during his stay in Georgia. Others — White House staff members, for instance — argue that except for face-to-face contacts Eisenhower can and does keep in just as close contact with developments while he is away as when he is in the White House.

At a news conference shortly before going to Georgia in February, Eisenhower said he always insists on such trips every once in a while to help keep physically fit.

Last week he directed his disarmament aide, Harold E. Stassen, to report no longer to him but to Dulles in the State Department. That was interpreted in some quarters as a major delegation of presidential authority — and a more passive role for Eisenhower henceforth in a very important field.

The counterargument is that it simply was a victory for Dulles, who reportedly did not like the idea of a diplomatic function such as disarmament negotiations being carried on pretty much independenly of the State Department.

And those on that side of the argument note that Eisenhower has said publicly several times that Dulles never makes a top policy decision without determining first that Eisenhower agrees.

EYEBROW RAISER — Art from the kitchen sink gets an unbelieving stare from this visitor to London's Institute of Contemporary Arts as he studies an abstraction by Sandra Blow which features a dishcloth draped across its upper half. Miss Blow, whose fascination for differing textures and surfaces is reflected in the work, will share an exhibition in New York City in the Spring.

United Press Photo

BEAUTIFUL . . BUT — Mrs. Lucia Brady of Washington, D. C., peers from behind the protection afforded by a clothespin as she admires this striking, but smelly, Sacred Lily of India. The huge flower, which blooms in Mrs. Brady's dining room, threatens to drive the family out with its terrible stench. Though the lily is beautiful and rare, its owner told newsmen she's glad she doesn't have a whole bouquet of them.

Seek Tax Relief for All Teachers in Summer Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is being asked to give the million schoolteachers in this country a better break on their income tax.

Some congressmen — like Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee — are responding sympathetically.

Teachers want to deduct expenses of going to summer school to improve their professional ability.

Jenkins has introduced a bill to permit it.

An indignant Chicago teacher, Mrs. Adah Mauer, wrote Rep. O'Hara (D-Ill):

DISCRIMINATION

At the same time, she said, "we sit in stuffy lecture halls absorbing Plato, psychology and human dynamics, also for the purpose of increasing our income, and can't deduct the tuition.

"Not only is not fair, it is an indictment of our American value system."

According to Ernest Giddings, legislative official of the National Education Assn., the Internal Revenue Service sometimes does permit these tuition expenses to be deducted.

What Giddings cannot figure out, he said, is that the deductions are disallowed whenever the teacher gets a better job of his or her added education.

"In fact," he said, "if the summer school training even enhances the teacher's professional reputation he cannot have a deduction."

Ordinarily, he said, the deduction is given only to those teachers who have been required to take summer courses — and then only if they return to the same job.

What chance the legislation has of getting passed is questionable. The Treasury Department has been oposing tax relief for most special groups.

School Parking Sites Acute Need in Cities

NEW YORK (INS) — "For students only."

A few years from now signs like that may be necessary in parking areas adjoining high schools in the suburbs and smaller cities.

In all but one state, boys and girls are permitted to drive legally —either on a full license or a junior permit—between the ages of 14 and 16.

This tremendous interest by young people in driving indicates the increasing importance of driver training as a part of the high school curriculum. Only about half of our public high schools now offer such training but the number is growing every year.

Evidence of the eagerness of young people to obtain driver licenses just as soon as they reach legal age was shown in a recent survey made in Zanesville, Ohio. It found that 58 per cent of the high school seniors travel to school in their own cars or automobiles owned by their families or neighbors.

SET FOR LIFE — A lifetime supply of shoes nearly obscures Postman Harvey Spittell Jr. of Los Angeles who won the very appropriate prize, along with other gifts, on a Hollywood television show. Spittell was named "King for a Day" on the program.

Taxpayers Find Heaven in New Jersey Township

HOLLAND TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) —If there's a heaven on earth for the poor struggling taxpayer, this rural township on the Delaware River is it.

It's a tax paradise where every day that the sun rises, $1,000 pours into the municipal treasury — enough to give every inhabitant $250 a year. And not one cent comes from residents of this Hunterdom County farmland.

In fact Holland Township is so rich, it levies a tiny tax just to keep the inhabitants in practice and justify the tax collector's job.

When the Township Council meets at today's budget hearing, it will report a surplus of over a million dollars.

All this comes from the little known state gross receipts tax levied on the township's richest member — the giant Holland generating station of the New Jersey Power and Light Co.

Last year alone the tax brought in $377,054 for the township's 1,500 residents.

There are no gold rush spending splurges here, however. Residents prefer to let the money go to their pocketbooks rather than their heads.

So the Council spends it on new roads — $142,280 worth in the last three years — or schools. Some $187,500 will be turned over this year to the Board of Education, saving it the trouble of raising its own funds. Last year the school board voted a substantial building addition.

The one tax the township does levy is for its share of the county tax. The rate for that, $1.80 per $100 of assessed valuation, is the lowest in the state.

The gross receipts tax is levied against properties of utility companies. Real and personal property of the companies is taxed and the receipts divided among the municipalities in proportion to the amount of company property within their borders.

Maternity Confusing

STERLING, Colo. (AP) — Don't tell the Wilson twins, Jean and June, they don't look alike. Jean, now Mrs. Busig, gave birth to a daughter. When sister June, now Mrs. Royce Hiler, visited Jean at the hospital, an attendant encountered her in the corridor and remarked: "Mrs. Busig, you're not supposed to be out of bed."

Chilean Voters Drub President's Party

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chilean voters apparently gave a drubbing in yesterday's parliamentary elections to President Carlos Ibanez's Farm Labor party, identified with an unpopular antiinflation program.

Early incomplete returns indicated a comeback for the opposition Radical party. The Radicals, who lost the 1952 election and held only 18 seats in the outgoing Chamber of Deputies, already had clinched 42 seats and claimed they would hold a majority of the 147 seats in the new Chamber.

All Chamber seats and 20 of the 40 Senate places were at stake.

Nu Dikshunary Wud Mak Speling Eze

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. Harlan Hagen (D-Calif) askt Congres today to set up a nashunal grammer comishun that wud simplify spelling and grammer.

He sed he wud introduce a bil that calls for the comishun to prepare and edit a U.S. ofishul dikshunary in which all words wud be spelled as they sound.

Wat's more, the new spelling and grammer wud be used in all federal government documents, letters or printed matter of any kind.

The President wud name the five-man comishun with the consent of the Senat.

CALIFORNIAN'S IDEA

The idea is the brainchild of one of Hagen's constituents, Homer W. Wood of Portervil, Calif. Skul kids, but not necesarily theyr teechers, can be xpected to luk kindly on it.

Hagen sed such proposals hav a "long and distingwisht history." He noted the recent controversy over the wil of George Bernard Shaw, who left a gud deal of his mony to stablish a new alfabet.

The eliminashun of the most obvious inadequacies in spelling and grammer is needed, Hagen sed.

NO DOUBLE LETTERS

Wood's grownd rules also call for avoiding unecesary doble letters—in fact, all unecesary letters —as wel as using wr where r wud do just as wel. For instance: Wretch wud become retch.

E before x shud be avoided wherever posible. Xample, for example. U wud no longer always folow q, nor wud k hav to be before n in such words as knot.

Wood, sez Hagen, wud not put dikshunary publishers owt of biznes. Not at all. The U.S. Printing Offis in Washington wud print only the dikshunares needed for the printing offis itself.

Any printer or publisher cud sell his own ofishul dikshunary in any form he wisht—just so he used the new speling.

14 Persons Die on State Roads

Home Fire in Saginaw, Swing Collapse Cause Two Other Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Icy roads that made driving hazardous in much of Michigan contributed to the weekend accident death toll of 16. Fourteen of the deaths occurred in highway crashes. In addition, an 11-year-old boy was killed when a home-made swing collapsed, and a Saginaw man died in a fire at his home.

A light snow Friday night and flurries Saturday glazed highways in the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula and in the central and southeast sections of the Lower Peninsula.

Police blamed three deaths in part on weather.

James W. Hines, 83, of Clio was killed Sunday when hit by a car while crossing a street near his home.

Richard York, 11, of near Jackson was killed Saturday when a makeshift swing of three 16-foot lengths of pipe collapsed striking him on the head.

Mrs. Mildred Thomas, 28, of Warren was killed Sunday night when a car she was riding in crashed into the side of a bridge in suburban Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Vickie Hoffman, 11, of Gladstone was killed Saturday night in a two-car collision on M-28 in Luce County.

Glenn H. Mabeus, 20, of Pontiac was killed Saturday when his car went out of control and smashed into a tree. (See story, page 1.)

Mrs. Anna Marie Zdenahlik, 41, of rural Berrien County and her 11-year-old son, Frank, were killed Saturday in the collision of their car and the New York Central Railroad's Mercury passenger train at a crossing one mile southwest of Buchanan.

Mrs. Myrtle Gladys King, 58, of Grand Rapids was killed Saturday in a car-truck crash on US-131 just outside of Kalamazoo.

Clarence Mitchell, 42, of Ann Arbor was killed Saturday when his car overturned on the Willow Run Expressway on the outskirts of Detroit.

Elsie Jean Witte, 26, of Royal Oak was killed Friday night in a two-car collision on US-10 four miles south of Flint.

David Hill, 47, of Toronto was killed Sunday when struck by a car in Berkley.

John Edwin Wheelock, 36, of Flint was injured fatally Sunday in a two-car collision on US-10 in Mt. Morris.

Elwood C. Weller, 25, of Owosso was killed Sunday when his car veered off route M-21 in Shiawassee County.

Earlie Jones, 35, of Saginaw died Sunday in a fire that apparently started from a coal heating stove in his home. When firemen kicked in a door they found Jones suffocated on the kitchen floor.

A 36-year-old mother, Mrs. Charlotte Haynes of Lansing, was killed when her car crashed into a tree near the Michigan State University campus at East Lansing Sunday night.

Troy Officials Study Opinions

Consider Withdrawal of Two Candidates for Commission

TROY — Troy city commissioners will be asked to study the opinions of the election commission when they meet this evening.

Election men Friday night, considered the requested withdrawal of John Davis and J. Wesley Smith, candidates for commission posts.

The election commission Friday night, after being unable to reach a decision as to whether or not candidates could withdraw when they had received primary nomination, voted to write their personal opinions and present them to Mayor Frank Costello this evening.

J. Lawson Lockhart said that only routine business was slated for commissioners tonight.

His U. N. Force Will Keep Gaza Peace

Burns Set to Break Camp

By INS

Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, a Canadian commanding Norwegians, Danes, Colombians, Swedes and Indians, is set to break camp after two months of waiting for political marching orders.

The men of Burns' United Nations emergency force have been encamped at El Arish in the Sandy Sinaw since mid-January. With Israel's agreement to withdraw its troops "promptly" from the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba area, the UNEF will move in to restore and maintain the peace.

Burns is a military man with the patience of Job. For two years, without an army, he tried to keep the Arab-Israeli peace.

★ ★ ★

In his job as United Nations Palestine truce supervisor, the 59-year-old Canadian officer presided at scores of mixed Armistice Commission meetings. He received both praise and expressions of dislike from both Arabs and Israelis—one measure of impartiality.

SOLDIER SINCE 17

Burns has been a soldier since the age of 17. He won the Canadian Military Cross in World War I, was commissioned in the Corps of Engineers, instructed at the Royal Military College, took part in aerial map-making in Germany and returned to combat in World War II.

He commanded the Fifth Canadian Armored Division, then the First Canadian Corps and later became general officer in charge of the Canadian section at 1st Army Group headquarters.

He came to the U.N. first as alternate delegate to the fourth General Assembly. In 1954 when he was deputy minister of the Department of Veteran Affairs, the world organization named him chief of staff of the truce supervisory organization in Palestine.

He speaks fluent English, German and French, the latter language picked up in Quebec as a boy.

But editor Donalf T. Wright of The Waterways Journal thinks the old river boat should be retained as "A reminder of our proud heritage."

Bengals 'Series' Tests Newcomers

By BRUNO KEARNS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

LAKELAND, Fla.—They call the present intra-squad ball games at Henley Field as the series between the Tigertown rookies and the Detroit Regulars, yet on each team a couple of unheralded newcomers have perked the ears of the respective coaches.

KEARNS

The regulars won their second straight game from the rookies yesterday, 6-3, after being forced to rally to gain a 5-4 verdict on Saturday.

A husky third baseman, George Risley, has been the spark for the regulars and bespectabled rightfielder George Alusik has been the hitting strength of the rookie team.

Risley drove in the winning run in Saturday's encounter and yesterday he collected a single and double and scored twice to lead the regulars again.

For the white-shirted rookies, Alusik blasted two towering homers and collected a walk in four trips to the plate. His first drive was a 340-footer over the left field wall and his next homer went over the 375 foot mark in left center. He accounted for all three runs for the losers.

Alusik, a lanky native of Elizabeth, New Jersey, played at Augusta and Terre Haute last year where he hit .284. Both of his drives came off Hal Woodeshick who followed Duke Maas on the mound for the regulars.

Paul Foytack did some hurling for the rookies and he was hit hard. Al Paschal, a shortstop from Durham, and J. W. Porter hit homers off Foytack, who also allowed two singles and a double in his three innings on the hill.

Risley took over the third base duties from Reno Bertoia and in three trips batted in two runs, scored twice and did a terrific job afield. He made a sparkling barehand stab of a grounder and got the runner out at first.

"What a pair of hands," said manager Jack Tighe sitting near the dugout. Risley is the Tiger darkhorse for the third base job vacated by Ray Boone now at first.

A 6-foot-1, 190 pounder from Fairfield, Conn. Risley was signed out of Holy Cross University four years ago. He was sold to Sacramento where he batted .289 last year. He was re-purchased by Detroit last fall and was invited to attend Tigertown.

★ ★ ★

The coaches are high on the infielder and could hold him for security behind Jim Finigan at third.

Jack Crimian pitched the last three innings for the rookie team and held the regulars scoreless for three innings.

After early morning workouts, daily intra-squad games will continue until Saturday when the Bengals meet the Boston Red Sox at Sarasota in the first game of the Grapefruit Circuit.

The footing gets a little hazardous around the Detroit Tiger Camp, chances are you don't need to look down—you're probably stepping on a first baseman's mitt.

Who to put on first base is one of the "big little problems" also confronting manager Jack Tighe.

Selecting a couple of extra starting pitchers, hiring a utility infielder or two and adding some extra outfield punch gets a little complicated. And Tighe confesses they'll take a lot of study to figure out.

It's quite a different story around first base. Right now only one thing is certain: four players—all of them veterans—are battling for the regular job and only one, and possibly two, will get it.

Right now it's pretty much of a tossup among Ray Boone, Earl Torgeson, Eddie Robinson and Jack Phillips.

"Every one of these guys thinks he can do the job and do it for the full season," said Tighe. "That's fine with me. If I had four more players trying for the job I wouldn't complain. You build winners out of competition."

Tighe, for official purposes, likes to call the situation a "problem." But he admits it's one most major league managers wouldn't mind tackling.

Fewer Top 1st Sackers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Early reports emanating from the major league spring training sites seem to indicate several teams facing a common problem: Who's on first?

★ ★ ★

As the clubs go about their task of preparing for the 1957 baseball season, the first base situation is a question mark in such camps as the Philadelphia Phils, Chicago Cubs, New York Giants and Detroit Tigers among others.

Mayo Smith, the Phils' manager, said yesterday that he hopes rookie Ed Bouchee will make the grade at first base for his club. He is switching Marv Blaylock, who shared the position with catcher Stan Lopata last season, to the outfield.

Bouchee hit .296 and drove in 94 runs for Miami of the International League in 1956 and then batted .273 in nine games with Phils late in the season.

Blaylock, however, said he's not conceding the first base job to Bouchee, but he's willing to play the outfield if it will help the team.

The 26-year-old southpaw appeared in only two games in spring training last year before he was shunted to Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League. There, under Bob Scheffing, he hit .300 as the Angeles won the pennant.

As a rookie outfielder in 1955, Speake set the National League on fire in the month of May by walloping 10 homers before tapering off and being farmed out.

Two Michigan residents finished in the money in the Baton Rouge Open which closed yesterday. Bill Nary of Wayne, who led earlier, wound up 5th with 283 to take home $850 and Belmont's John Barum finished with a 287 for $450. Bob Inman, another state links star, failed to finish in the money in the Mexican National Open at Mexico City. He shot a 72-hole total of 287.

A Detroit newspaper has named Bill Mountain of St. Frederick, Pete Madelans of Orchard Lake St. Mary and John Nutt of Royal Oak St. Mary to its All-Suburban Catholic League basketball team. Larry Gacki and Martin Massucci, both of St. Benedict, completed the squad.

★ ★ ★

Bill Belaney, chairman of the recent Harlem Globetrotter show at Pontiac High, reports that the Pontiac Lions Club netted approximately $1,000 for its sight-conservation work.

The Pontiac YMCA Intramural League basketball playoffs will begin this evening in the YMCA gym. First round games match the Gators and YMCA at 7:30 and Seminary and the unbeaten Falcons at 8:30. Competition will be held on a single elimination basis.

Strong Field for Derby

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The quest for the 3-year-old turf championship is shaping up as the most interesting in recent years with as fine a group of equine sophomores as ever came down the pike pointing for the May 4 running of the Kentucky Derby and other rich stakes.

Horsemen and laymen alike tried today, without success, to recall a year when there were so many title contenders as there are at this early stage of the season.

Numerically, at least, the fabulous Calumet Farm of Mrs. Gene Markey dominates the picture with a hard-hitting threesome in Gen. Duke, Iron Liege and Barbizon, who makes his seasonal debut Tuesday against older horses over six furlongs at Gulfstream Park.

The chief threat to Calumet's rule of the division is the Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler, trained by 82-year-old Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons. This long striding son of Nasrullah with the blood of the fast and distance loving Discovery also running through his veins whipped Gen. Duke by a neck in last Saturday's $131,400 Flamingo at Hialeah Park.

On the West Coast they are singing the praises of Gen. W. W. Kratz's Prince Khaled, even though a possibly serious leg wound forced him to pass up the $143,000 Santa Anita Derby. The rich Santa Anita race was won by Sir William, a Kentucky Derby nominee owned and bred by Herb Armstrong, Harrington, Wash.

Crane Cagers Lose; Matmen Share Title

Cranbrook's basketball team concluded a dismal season Saturday, but the Crane wrestlers triumphed to earn a share of the Inter-State League title.

Western Reserve handed the Cranes a 60-51 setback on the Cranbrook court in an Inter-State game. It was Cranbrook's 4th defeat without victory in the league and loss No. 14 compared to only two wins for the season.

Cranbrook led at halftime, 28-25, but Western's 19-point 3rd quarter turned the tide. Herb Stanton of Cranbrook and Western's Bill Jastromb took scoring honors with 16 points apiece.

The Crane grapplers won five out of 10 matches and tied for another to edge Reserve, 17-16, for their 2nd loop win against one loss. Cranbrook thus divided the crown with Cleveland University School.

Pontiac Star Payne Cops SVC Wrestling Crown

Hard - working Dave Payne brought wrestling glory to Pontiac High School in its 1st year in the sport Saturday night by winning the 120-pound championship in the 1st Saginaw Valley Conference meet at Flint.

Chiefs finished last among the four teams despite Payne's impressive performance, but compiled a fine total of 40 points in doing so. Other schools in the tournament have all had the mat sport for at least two years.

Bay City Central took team honors with six 1st places and 101 points. Flint Northern was runner-up with 85 with three 1sts and Flint Central had 52 points paced by two 1sts.

Rugged John Herron just missed taking the 165-pound title bowing in the finals. Little 95-pound Jack Keller, Mel Nosenchuk, 133, Nick Shorter at 138 and heavyweight Willie Duncan all won 3rd places.

Payne had to win two matches to gain an individual trophy. He pinned Mike Suski of Flint Northern in 1:24 and then nipped Bay City star Ron Jones in overtime, 8-7. Herron and four other Chiefs bowed to eventual champions.

Pontiac jumps right back into regular season play tomorrow playing host to Port Huron at 4 in the final match prior to the state regionals next weekend.

1-1 Tie Snaps Red Wing Loss Streak at Four

Detroiters Lose One Point in Weekend's NHL Action

NEW YORK (AP) — An odd scoring play in the third period lifted the Detroit Red Wings into a 1-1 tie with the New York Rangers last night. The tie broke the Wing's losing streak at four games, their longest string of defeats in 10 years.

In the weekend's play the Wings lost one point in their lead in the National Hockey League. They lost two points Saturday night when they fell 5-1 to second-place Montreal, but got one of the points back last night when the Canadiens dropped a 5-2 decision to Boston. Detroit with 76 in the NHL standings is three points ahead of Montreal.

Gordie Howe, the league's leading scorer, got his 39th goal of the season to tie the count at 5:52 of the third period against New York.

The weird play started when Ted Lindsay shot the puck in and then out of the cage. Norm Ullman tipped the rebound an inch over the open cage. Howe converted that rebound over the sprawling New York goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley.

Lindsay and Ullman were credited with assists on Howe's score.

Howe now has 79 points and Lindsay, the league's second high scorer, has 77.

Brilliant performances by the goalies kept the first two periods scoreless. Then, at 4:11 of the third period, the Rangers went ahead 1-0 on Andy Hebenton's beautiful maneuvering.

Giants See Mays Belting the Ball for .380 Average

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—"The year Willie Mays can keep belting the ball to right field, he'll be a .380 hitter.'

This was the enthusiastic observation of New York Giant Manager Bill Rigney after watching Mays slam a homer and two singles to right field in a 4-for-6 day as a "free lance' pinch-hitter in yesterday's scrub game.

Mikan Turned Down in Bid for Lakers

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A slightly agitated George Mikan, his offer to buy the Minneapolis Lakers turned down by his former boss, planned a meeting with a Minneapolis business group today as a deadline neared for a change in Laker ownership.

Mikan's weekend offer to buy the Laker franchise on a $150,000 installment plan, was rejected yesterday by Club President Ben Berger.

Berger said he had agreed to give a Minneapolis "civic group' a chance to buy the club, but that he could not sell to a single individual.

Two Outfielders and Hurler Ink Tiger Contracts

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers today announced the signing of three players to their minor league farm system, including a pitcher with two years of Class AA experience.

★ ★ ★

Righthander Donald Graham had an 0-1 record with Oklahoma City of the Texas League last year. He also pitched for Midland of the Class B Southwestern League, winning five and losing seven. In 1955 he won one and lost two for Oklahoma City. He was assigned by the Tigers to Charleston in the American Association.

★ ★ ★

The other two players signed, both outfielders, have no professional experience. They are Rudolph Kelsch of Randolph, Neb., and Robert Davis of Newark, Del. Both were assigned to train with Augusta, Detroit's Class A Sally League team.

Delany Scores IC4A 'Double'

Villanova Star First to Turn Trick in Meet at NY Garden

NEW YORK (INS)—Ron Delany of Villanova goes after his 13th straight indoor mile victory this Saturday in the Knights of Columbus games but no one expects it to be unlucky for him.

The short - striding Irishman passed up a chance for his 13th win Saturday at Madison Square Garden, concentrating on two other races in a bid to help Villanova take the team title in the IC4A games.

Delany won both the 1,000-yard and two-mile runs, thus becoming the first man in the 36 year history of the games to score a double in the two events.

He won the 1,000 in the easy time of two minutes, 14 seconds. Then he took his breather and came back to win the two-mile in 9:06.6, a meet record.

★ ★ ★

Delany's win helped Villanova pile up 46 points for its first IC4A team title.

Demaret's New Golf Style Wins Baton Rouge Event

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Debonair Jimmy Demaret, long known as a snappy dresser, has a new golf style, but the same winning habit.

★ ★ ★

The 45-year-old Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., veteran conquered miserable weather and the driving finish of Australian Peter Thomson yesterday to walk off with the $2,000 first prize in the $15,000 Baton Rouge Open.

Demaret shot a one-under-par 71 for a 278 total after 72 holes. Thomson had 70 and 279 to take the $1,500 second money.

"I made a slight change in my style before starting on this tour," Demaret said, "and I'm hitting the ball better than ever."

His steady sub-par play has placed him high among money winners in the last three PGA tournaments. Demaret ranks fifth among money winners for 1956, despite skipping several tournaments, with $5,364 in PGA events.

He picked up another $2,000 first prize in the non-PGA Thunderbird Invitational at Palm Springs, Calif.

Bill Nary of Wayne, Mich., second day leader, was tied with Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif., with 283. Both shot 72 yesterday.

He now has 806 points in 26 games.

Elks Keg Leaders Survive

Bowlers from Kalamazoo and Port Huron moved in among the top 10 in singles and doubles competition but were unable to dethrone any of the leaders in the 7th weekend of play in the Michigan Elks Tournament being held here. It comes to a close Sunday.

Kalamazoo presented several strong threats to title honors to shake up the singles and doubles handicap divisions. Port Huron's B. Budinger made a strong bid for top ranking taking 3rd in singles actual and tied for 5th in handicap.

Budinger rolled a 661 actual and was one of three newcomers to post 700 handicap scores bringing the total to eight. He had 703, A. Buiwitt and H. Greer, both of Kalamazoo, hit 708 and 702 respectively. Detroiter John Gavie tops both groups.

The Kalamazoo doubles duo of C. Mitchell-V. Shaw became only the 3rd pair to bowl a 1200 actual series with 1202 for 3rd high and took over 2nd in handicap with 1343. J. Markell and D. Cutright of Farmington took 7th in handicap with 1312.

There were no new threats to the team leads held since the 2nd week of the tourney by Dickie's Service of Pontiac.

Austrian Loses Ski Race Title on Missed Gate

ASPEN, Colo. (AP)—Austrian ace Toni Sailer's performance in the National Ski Championships was very good, but a disqualification cost him the title.

The Pfeiffer Cup for the top skier in three events went to Tom Corcoran, Westfield N.J., but that didn't detract from the fine impression left by Sailer.

Sailer easily won the giant slalom Friday. Saturday he flashed down the 60-gate slalom course on the first of two runs in 1:02.5, by far the best time of the day. But the judges disqualified him when he missed a gate near the start of his second run.

City Cagers Open Playoffs

The adult City League basketball playoffs get under way tonight at two centers. At stake will be Class A, B and C championships and berths in the Michigan Recreation Association tournament.

Pontiac High will be the scene of the Class A playoffs. Undefeated Shaw's Jewelers meet the Lakeside Royals at 8:30 while Walled Lake Super Market tangles with CIO Local 594 in the 7 o'clock opener.

Boys Club will tackle Stadium Inn at 8:30 on the Jefferson Junior High court in the lone Class B game. Booth Homes drew a bye. The Clarkston Merchants forfeited out of the league and will not play.

Griff's Grill faces Bestway in the Class C opener, scheduled at Jefferson at 7 o'clock. The Class D playoffs begin Wednesday night at Lincoln.

The top four teams in the American League represent the Class A field while the 2nd division comprises the 'B' tourney. All four National teams take part in the 'C' playoffs.

Brott Denver Star

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Dick Brott, a star on the University of Denver basketball team, is the third player to score more than 1,000 points in the school's history.

Brott broke the 1,000-point mark with a 28-point performance against New Mexico. Previous Denver players to break the mark were Jack Hauser, who tallied 1,352 points during a four-year career, and Dale Toft, who dumped in 1,045 in three seasons.

'M' Last Hurdle for State

The cinderella story of the Michigan State basketball team goes into its final chapter at Ann Arbor tonight.

The surprising Spartans can be undisputed Big Ten champs if they beat arch rival Michigan on the Wolverine court.

Michigan State already has cinched at least a share of the conference title by cutting down Indiana, 76-61, in a blue chip battle Saturday night. The victory also gave the Spartans an NCAA tournament berth, because Indiana has already gone to the tournament and Ohio State is ineligible.

But a defeat by Michigan, which has been taking some close ones lately, would put either or both Indiana and Ohio State in position to tie for the title.

State has a 10-3 conference record, while the Hoosiers and Ohio State are tied for second with 9-4 marks. Indiana plays Illinois (7-5) and Ohio State will be meeting Minnesota (8-5).

State never has held a Big Ten basketball title—the best previous effort being a tie for third in 1953.

Against Indiana Saturday night, Michigan State proved again that tight defensive play and team balance can overcome the personal brilliance of a single star.

Indiana center Archie Dees was the high scorer against State with 28 points. Only one other teammate, however, scored in double figures.

Larry Hedden and Jack Quiggle provided the 1-2 scoring punch for MSU, Hedden with 22 points and Quiggle with 23.

John Green, sophomore center with the pogo-stick jump, supplied 13 points and George Ferguson added 12 to round out the attack.

Michigan has already edged MSU once this season. The Wolverines grabbed a 70-69 victory over the Spartans at East Lansing in January.

No matter what happens tonight, the Wolverines have experienced their best basketball season during the five-year tenure of coach Bill Perigo.

The 83-79 win over Iowa Saturday was their 12th of the season. Perigo's best previous campaign was in 1955 when his team posted an 11-11 mark.

Pete Tillotson and M. C. Burton shared the Michigan scoring honors. Each clicked for 20 points. The game's high-point man was Augie Martel of Iowa with 25.

Michigan Reign Ends

Hoosiers Win Indoor Title

COLUMBUS (AP) — Michigan's two year reign as Big Ten indoor track champions ended abruptly over the weekend as the Wolverines could finish no higher than fourth in the annual conference meet.

Indiana's balanced squad whisked off with the team championship on the merit of 37½ points, six more than runner up Ohio State. Michigan State placed third, three points higher than Michigan, with 30 3/5 points.

The defending titlists from Michigan could put together only two first places in the 15-event carnival. The Spartans captured just a single event and lost out on another because of a disqualification.

Jim Pace, was the other Michigan winner, taking the 60-yard dash in :06.4 seconds to shade Ohio State's Olympic star, Glenn Davis.

Michigan State's Olympian from Australia, Dave Lean, snared the 440-yard run in :49.4. Lean came in first in 600-yard event too, but was disqualified when he cut in too sharply on a turn.

Greg Bell, Indiana's outstanding broad jumper, set the meet's only new record, a leap of 25 feet 7 inches.

Only One With Gold

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—When Oklahoma A & M wrestling coach Myron Roderick wants to distinguish between matmen Duane and Wayne Murty, 167-pound sophomores of Tulsa, he has them smile.

One of the identical twins with the defending national champions has a gold tooth.

PCC Officials Hoping to Arrange Aid for Athletes

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference tried and failed in a three-day special meeting to set up a new program of financial aid to athletes.

★ ★ ★

Faculty representatives, back on their campuses today, are going to try again at their spring meeting May 19-23 in Spokane. They will come armed with more information on how much it costs an athlete to live on the nine different campuses.

It was this issue—how to provide for each athlete the same amount in terms of his living costs—that forced the faculty representatives to admit failure yesterday afternoon.

The deadline had been 4 p.m. Twenty minutes before that, Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, University of California, the spokesman, came out to announce failure. He said the decision to give up now, but try again in May was unanimous.

Rosburg Saves Rush, Wins at Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Bob Rosburg held his big fire until the end as a result headed home for San Francisco today as the Mexican National Open golf champion.

Rosburg chopped six strokes off par for a sparkling 66 in yesterday's final round to finish with a 272, three strokes better than runner-up George Bayer of San Gabriel, Calif.

Roberto de Vicenzo, the sharpshooter from Argentina who led most of the way, zoomed to a 75 on the last round and could do no better than third in the final standings with a 276.

The victory was worth $1,500 to Rosburg.

Golf Pros Separate for Different Jobs

COLD SPRING HARBOR, N.Y. (AP)—Jack Mallon and Pete Burke are two of the happiest golf professionals on Long Island even though they are being separated after a six-year tenure at the Cold Spring Country Club.

Mallon, two-time Long Island Open champion, has taken over the pro job at the Wheatley Hills Golf Club in East Willison, a job held for 26 years by the late Willie Klein, one of Mallon's best friends. Jack had been head pro at Cold Spring for six years with Pete Burke as his assistant. Burke now becomes head Cold Spring pro and he is the third Burke to become a head pro.

Jenkins, Heiss Skate Champs

Three Nations Divide World Figure Titles at Colorado

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—No upsets and few spills sent the 1957 World Figure Skating Championships into history today with titles in the United States, Canada and England.

As expected, Carol Heiss of Ozone Park, N. Y., retained her women's crown. David Jenkins of Colorado Springs topped the men while the pairs title went to Barbara Wagner and Robert Paul of Canada and London's June Markham and Courtney Jones gracefully slided away with the ice dancing championship.

Miss Heiss and Jenkins, who succeeded his brother Hayes as skating king, outclassed the field here after winning the North American crowns last month. Carol fell once but it didn't detract from her victory margin.

Cobb Returning to Former Home

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ty Cobb, the baseball immortal who played 21 years with the Detroit Tigers, is going home to Royston, Ga.

Cobb, 70, said yesterday he planned to sell his spacious home at Atherton, Calif., and return to Georgia to be near the operation of the Cobb Education Fund and the hospital "I built in my father's memory at Royston."

I'm getting up in years and I want to go home," he said.

Cobb's education fund gives scholarships to students who qualify by earning their way through the first year of college and maintain a high scholastic average.

Honeymoon Must Wait —Says Linda Darnell

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Newlywed Linda Darnell says that her honeymoon will have to wait — at least until after she has finished work on a television show.

The actress and airline pilot Merle Roy (Robbie) Robertson were married yesterday in the Flier's Chapel of the Mission Inn in Riverside.

Miss Darnell, 33, was previously wed to motion picture cameraman Peverell Marley and brewery executive Philip Liebann. Robertson, 39, was a bachelor.

No CD for Swiss Girls

BERN (AP) — Switzerland's voters have turned down by a narrow margin a proposal to make civil defense training compulsory for women. The measure was rejected yesterday 384,283 to 357,317. A proposal to set up state-subsidized television was also rejected, 423,874 to 314,756.

Clothes made from wood were a feature display at the All-Australian Timber Congress in Sydney.

Ends Campaign for Premiership

De Valera Is Favored on Day Before Election for Top Irish Office

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — American-born Eamon De Valera, in fighting form at 74 though almost blind, today wound up a strong campaign to win back the premiership of the Irish Republic.

De Valera's Fianna Fail (Men of Destiny) appeared out front tomorrow. There was every prospect the old revolutionist would regain the nation's top job he held for 18 years.

The election was forced by the resignation of a coalition government led by John A. Costello, mild-mannered 65-year-old Dublin lawyer, for the past three years. The campaign was the quietest since Ireland's 26 Southern counties won their independence in 1922.

The Irish vote under the proportional representation system, which means a slow counting of ballots. In the event of a tight race the final outcome of the election may not be known until Friday.

There are 288 candjdates for the 147 seats in the Dail (Parliament).

Fianna Fail was the largest party in the old Parliament with 65 seats but refused to enter a coalition. Costello's Fine Gael held 50, Labor 19, Farmers 5, Republicans 3 and independents 5.

Costello, as leader of the Fine Gael (United Irish) party, has indicated he would seek to form another coalition if De Valera missed his mark.

McCarroll Cub Scouts Present Musical Skits

Each den of Cub Scout Pack 17 presented a musical skit at a recent meeting held at McCarroll School. Farris Stevens, cubmaster, spoke to the group including parents, on the object of cub scouting.

Bobcat pins were awarded to Donald Chambers, Ronald Chambers, Larry Galbraith, Stanley Stevens, James Guilliat, Ronald LeManbe and John Ardelan.

Hospital Lures Nurses With 'Dream' Apartment

NEW YORK (AP) — Montefiore Hospital, bothered by an inability to recruit night nurses, yesterday opened a $400,000 low-rent "dream house" apartment building to especially attract them.

"Most hospitals have very little trouble getting nurses for work in the day," explained Mrs. Elizabeth Staats, director of nursing at the Bronx hospital, "but it's very difficult to get night nurses."

Twenty-nine of the 40 apartments have been reserved for night nurses, who will pay $35 monthly rent.

Chicago 120 Years Old

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago, the nation's second largest city, is 120 years old today. Since it was chartered on March 4, 1837, Chicago's boundaries have spread from, an area of 10 square miles to more than 213 square miles. Its estimated population is nearly four million.

All Denmark is now covered by a television network. A Danish television set costs about $272.

JUNIOR EDITORS

FRIENDS OF THE FAMILY

1. Calling Brownie to Dinner

A family often has many friends that are not people, but still are important members of the family group. First place usually goes to the dog.

Here is Tommy and his dog, Brownie. Tommy has trained his pet carefully and when he calls, Brownie comes at once, even when there isn't a dish of food in sight, ready for fun or for a walk.

Paste this picture down on cardboard and color with crayons. Brownie is a cocker spaniel and is probably a nice warm brown with a spot or two of white on him.

Cut out all the parts carefully. Fold back the grass panel in the center and fold the dog house panel forward. Then Tommy will stand up firmly. Paste Brownie's feet and foreground onto the panel at the end of the strip "A"-"B." Cut the slot on the ground at Tommy's feet. Slip Brownie up through the slit from the back, leaving the strip behind the picture. The lower edge of this will rest on the ground. Pull Brownie back to the right by taking hold of the "B" end of the long strip. Then pull on the "A" end as far toward Tommy as the strip will go and Brownie will go forward with it.

Play to Star Clifton Webb Worth $200,000 It Cost

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Knowing and loving Clifton Webb as I do, I don't think Buddy Adler paid a cent too much when he planked out $200,000 for the Broadway play, "Holiday for Lovers" to star the satirical Clifton.

The New York show by Ronald Alexander currently stars Don Ameche, but I can already see Webb as the father of a 23-year-old girl whose romantic notions keep her parents, particularly papa, in continual hot water.

Clifton has just returned from Athens where he was on the long location trip with "Boy on a Dolphin"—and also where he was quite ill for a time.

It's good news that Clifton is feeling fine again—and rarin' to go.

It's been a long time since Viveca Lindfors made a movie — but MGM is remedying that by casting the statuesque Scandinavian as Lucie Dreyfus opposite Jose Ferrer in "Captain Dreyfus."

The famed Dreyfus trial story will be directed by Ferrer in addition to his starring role and Sam Zimbalist is the producer.

In three weeks, Viveca joins Jose in London to start the drama, which will be filmed in England and on the continent.

The reason she has been off the screen so long is because she was such a hit in the stage version of "Anastasia," which Ingrid Bergman parlayed into an Academy Award nomination performance in the movie.

"London Calling" — was Diana Dors on the telephone saying she had received a letter from Universal-International, now releasing her American films, cautioning her that she was hurting the sale of her pictures by her bitter criticism of the U. S. A.

Diana was disturbed because she said she had been very careful in all of her interviews to say nothing against the U. S. A.

She put Dennis Hamilton on the telephone, and apparently everything is honky-dory again between them.

No one in the room at the Cocoanut Grove knew how heavy Kim Novak's heart was when she accepted the International favorite award as the world's most popular actress, at the Hollywood Foreign Press dinner. Just before she left home, her mother telephoned her from Chicago to say that Kim's sister, Mrs. Arlene Malmborg, is seriously ill following a third operation.

Kim and her sister are very close, and the mother had purposely withheld the news until she thought Kim had finished "The Jeanne Eagels Story" because she didn't want her actress daughter upset.

Lancers Escort Bunker to Meet India President

NEW DELHI (AP) — Scarlet-uniformed, mounted lancers escorted U. S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker today to present his credentials to Indian President Rajendra Prasad.

Mrs. Bunker and the wives of other American and Indians officials watched the ceremony from a half-hidden balcony, a relic of India's traditional seclusion of women. The presentation took place in the great hall of the former viceroy's palace.

Stoned Windows, Uprooted Trees—Patience Ended!

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Vandals looking for "kicks" are liable to get one "right in the seat of the pants from a shotgun' if they pick on Harold Wheeler any more.

Wheeler said he wasn't overly concerned when somebody punctured his picture window in two places with BB shot last December.

* * *

And he said he laughed it off when somebody placed stones under the wheels of his car so he couldn't move it.

* * *

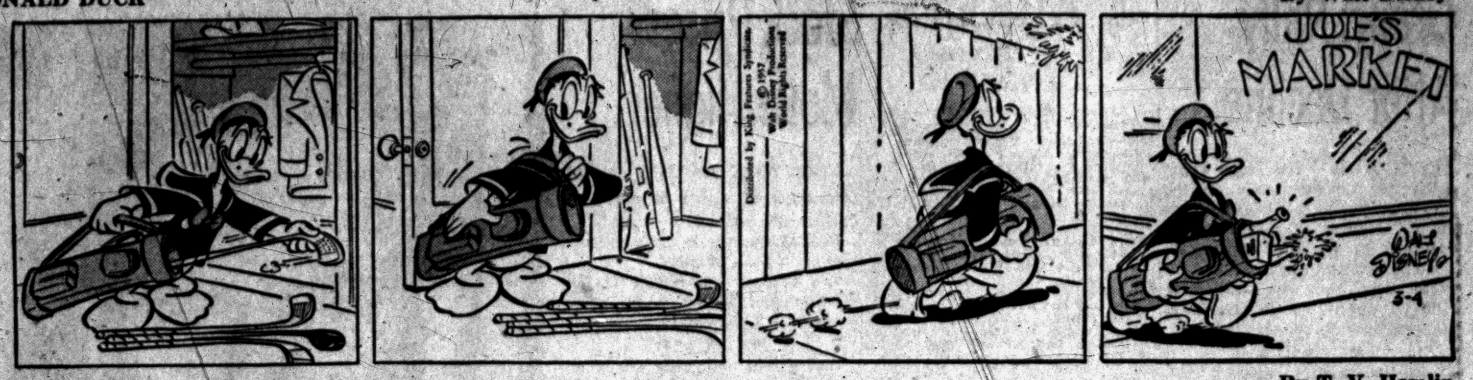

But now, he says if "something isn't done" he's going to get out his 12-gauge shotgun and "be ready" the next time.

Last night somebody drove a car over his lawn, knocked down two maple trees and threw a stone through his picture window.

Grains Rally After Decline

CHICAGO (AP) — New crop wheat deliveries fell somewhat on the board of trade in early dealings today, because of much needed moisture in parts of the southwestern winter wheat belt.

The new crop contracts later rallied somewhat due to strength in the nearby deliveries.

Stock Prices Move Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices moved higher in active early trading today.

Pivotal issues were up from fractions to a point or more.

★ ★ ★

Wall Street observers saw it as an extension of late Friday's rally when there was a rush of buying on news that Israel had agreed to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba. This bolstered hopes of investors for a return to more stable conditions in the Middle East.

★ ★ ★

Despite reports of a further easing in the supply of steel products, the steels were higher and in fairly good demand.

Lukens Steel was ahead about a point. U.S. Steel, Republic Steel and Youngstown improved fractionally.

Gulf Oil, with huge holdings in the Middle East, was up more than a point. Eastern Air Lines made a similar gain.

Firemen Ride Cabs to $50,000 Blaze

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit firemen used 116 taxicabs today in getting to a spectacular blaze that did an estimated $50,000 damage to a two-story east side building.

The fire, discovered at 6:15 a.m., still was burning when the 8 a.m. shift of firemen reported to their stations. Unable to get to the scene because all their equipment was at the fire, the firemen hailed taxicabs.

Such action is standing operating procedure in such cases. The firemen reporting turned over their cabs to the men they were relieving for runs back to stations or homes.

A tally on the city's taxicab cost was not available immediately.

Adapting Plants to New Areas

Study of Climate Needed

WASHINGTON (INS) — Climatologist J. L. Baldwin, in the weather bureau's current weather bulletin, reports that a study of climate is essential in adapting plants to other areas. Extremes of heat and cold, and dryness and moisture should be noted. Control of pests is also affected by weather, so that problems in one area are different from others.

Baldwin cited cotton as a crop which has been extended to areas where it formerly could not be grown—because selection and development of quicker-maturing varieties could (1) beat the frost in inland areas, and (2) defeat the depredations of the boll weevil.

In the process of plant adaptation to climate, a type of cotton which could withstand the wind and sandsorms of the southwest — notably in the high plans of western Texas—was developed.

★ ★ ★

The bolls remain practically closed at maturity, which retains and protects the lint in contrast to the finer and longer fluffs of cotton which hang freely from the fully open bolls of the usual varieties grown in the southeast.

Pickets Block Fuel Delivery

Area Socony Employes Leave Jobs; Detroit Union in Talks

A picket line of some 12 drivers is blocking incoming and outgoing deliveries of gasoline and fuel oil at the Socony Mobil Oil Co., Inc. at 521 S. Telegraph Rd., a company spokesman reported.

An official of the Detroit company office said company officials and members of Local 11-389 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers' International Union, AFL-CIO, were in a bargaining session this morning. Details of the strike were not immediately available because of the meeting.

The Detroit spokesman said 200 members of the Detroit area local had been on strike since Thursday.

He said the Detroit strike was "triggered by the walkout of some loaders over alleged grievances, and has now stretched into a wage dispute." He said he did not know whether the pickets in Pontiac were members of the Detroit local.

Thieves Ransack Home Nab Goose, Shun Cash

Thieves spared nothing in the form of property when they broke into a home at 2425 S. Blvd., Troy, last night, but apparently preferred goose to cash in neglecting a jar of change and a $20 bill.

Carl DeMouy said he found the window broken out of his rear door when he returned home last night.

He reported as missing: One frozen goose, a .22 rifle, four books of trading stamps, a box of silverware, an assortment of earrings, two packs of cigarettes, six steak knives, one brown and one gray sock, and a travel clock.

The burglars didn't take a jar of change, in plain sight, said DeMouy, and a $20 bill in one of the drawers.

DETROIT (AP) — Two masked gunmen terrorized a family of five in a three-hour holdup and escaped with $1,320 today.

While waiting for Gus Contas and his wife to return home, the gunmen entertained themselves in a six-room flat above Consta's bar by playing records. They even took time out to feed Consta's 4-month-old grandson.

But in making their $1,320 haul the gunmen overlooked another $700 in cash registers below them in the bar, and passed up the family's jewelry.

Constas' two daughters, Mary, 25, and Helen, 19, and Helen's husband 27-year-old Bobby Tsobanakis were in the Constas flat above his Stone House bar when the gunmen barged in through a back door. The family was quickly bound by the gunmen.

★ ★ ★

The bandits, one masked with a handkerchief and the other with a stocking, tied up the three. Then they played records as they began a long wait for Constas, 60, and his wife, Theodora, 51, to return from a church party.

When Contas and his wife returned shortly after midnight the gunmen confronted them in a hall and forced Constas to open a safe in his apartment.

Once during their stay Tiny Gus Tsobanakis began to cry. His mother asked to be untied so she could feed him, but one of the gunmen said: "Tell me how to do it and I'll feed him." He followed instructions.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ELIZabeth M. McCrum, who entered into rest March 4, 1956.
God took your hand, we had to part.
He eased your pain, but broke our hearts.
Sadly missed by her husband and sons, and daughter.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MRS. J. Elliott, who died March 4, 1918.

Mother is waiting, just ahead.
Loving Husband and Daughter.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF FATHer, Frank Crittenden, who passed away eight years ago March 4, 1949. Mr. and Mrs. Scherly Green and Grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR beloved mother & grandmother, Martha H. Turnbull, who was taken from us March 4th, 1955.
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who lose can tell
The grief we bear in silence,
For the one we loved so well.
Someday—sometime, our eyes shall see,
The face we keep in memory,
And God will link the broken chain,
Still closer when we meet again.
Sadly missed by Daughters, Sons & Grandchildren.

CHAIR FROM 1621? — Lewis Brothers, Alexis Praus (museum curator) and Dr. A. G. Macleod, an expert on Americana, inspect a chair in Kalamazoo which Brothers thinks may have been owned by Miles Standish. Carved on the top slat is "In Honor of Capt. John Standish" and it is dated Nov. 8, 1621. Another slat bears the words "C. M. Standish." The chair was found in a barn loft. Macleod says it could be authentic, but they hope someone may uncover more information.

David Lawrence Gives View of Tennessee School Strife:

May Not Need Civil Rights Laws

WASHINGTON — Maybe there is no need for "civil rights" legislation after all. Congress will certainly be interested to discover how the Department of Justice just a few days ago in a move that has gone unnoticed generally, simply substituted the words "the United States" for the names of a local school board as a party to a law suit in federal court. By that device the 18 defendants arrested for allegedly hindering the federal injunction at Clinton, Tenn., can be deprived of a trial by jury and put in jail as unfairly as if they were living in some totalitarian country.

While the laws of the land under the Constitution of the United States do permit federal judges to punish for contempt certain offenses committed in a courtroom, or even outside, when the principals to a controversy refuse to obey a court order, a jury trial can usually be obtained on request.

But it is something novel when a lawsuit has been started by private parties to find the Department of Justice petitioning the federal court to amend the original petition and substitute the words "United States" for those of the complainant. This automatically bars a jury trial.

If the federal judge in Knoxville, Tenn., approves this request and it is sustained on appeal by the courts, it will not be necessary for the Congress to legislate on "civil rights." All that will be needed is for the Department of Justice to write out the orders and the courts will uphold them.

ABUSE OF POWER

It is ironical that the American Civil Liberties Union — which on Feb. 26 made a commendable statement criticizing the federal court injunction issued at Clinton, Tenn., as being too broad—didn't know that on Feb. 25 the same federal judge was being asked by the Department of Justice to deprive citizens of a chance for jury trial.

The Civil Liberties Union statement had rightly criticized the injunction as too broad and had said that "to the extent that it enjoins speech in opposition to or advocating ignoring of the order, or peaceful picketing for these purposes, it is invalid."

In that same statement, moreover, the right to jury trial was vigorously upheld by the ACLU even for those defendants who had been charged with actually "hindering" or "obstructing" the operations of a court order. The ACLU said:

ENTITLED TO JURY

"Under the federal law a person in contempt of a federal court order enjoining acts which are also in violation of the federal or state law is entitled, if he requests it, to a trial by jury. This protection of individual rights was originally written into the law to guard against possible biased judicial decisions in labor injunction cases and now covers all contempt issues . . .

"Similarly, as the acts charged against the 16 persons now facing trial allege violations of federal and state laws, these defendants can ask for a jury trial. Therefore no civil liberties issue is raised unless the jury trial is denied, which is unlikely in view of the clear instruction of the law."

But what the ACLU didn't know when it issued that statement and what most people throughout the United States didn't know because it wasn't reported in the press generally, was that the Department of Justice had resorted to a strategem by seeking to make the "United States" a party to the suit, which—according to a law of Congress governing contempt cases—eliminates trial by jury.

DENIED TRIAL

Some critics not long ago pointed to the case of John L. Lewis as a precedent because he was fined once for contempt by a judge and was not given a jury trial. But those same critics failed to notice that the United States itself was a party to the suit.

This was because the government, acting in accordance with a wartime statute, had seized the coal mines and hence any action taken by a union or its leaders to defy a court order was a defiance of the United States government itself.

Even, however, if this strange petition does not win the approval of the court, the amazing thing is that anyone in the Department of Justice would try such a trick of circumvention in the very week when prominent lawyers from various states were warning Congress that to pass the "civil rights" legislation now being proposed would lead to grave abuses of power.

Boat Missing in Kuriles

KUSHIRO, Japan (AP) — A 78-ton cod fishing boat with a crew of 17 aboard is believed to have gone down off the northern Kurile Islands, the Maritime Safety Board said today. The Aimatsu Maru has not been heard from since it sent an SOS Saturday night.

Alligator Arrives Flat

LONDON (AP)—An alligator that the Duke of Edinburgh bagged recently on the Gambia River in Bathurst Colony, West Africa, arrived by plane last night in a somewhat altered form. It was a flat, 14-foot skin neatly bound in red ribbon.

Presley Is Wonderful but He Isn't Her Type

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The things I hear around this town!

Elvis Presley's frequent Hollywood date, Monique Van Vooren, flew back here for her opening. Having annexed a rich Texan, Arthur Cameron, Monique told me, "Elvis is wonderful — but he's not my type. He wants to take motorcycle rides — and my dresses are too tight.

MONIQUE VAN VOOREN

Anita Ekberg — off for Uruguay Film Festival — told me she and husband Tony Steel forgave me for breaking the story of the Palm Beach fight with sculptor Sepy Dubronyi. Vowing she loves Tony undyingly for defending her "honor," Anita added:

"Next time I'll fight Sepy myself—and I won't miss!"

Lana Turner and I discussed our children being bigger'n we are: her 13-yr.-old dtr's 5-feet-8. "What is it that we feed them?" she demanded.

Jimmy Stewart's being called "General Stewart" all around town, but he insists he ain't really yet. First he's got to be o.k.'d by Congress. "And I'm also taking my physical," he said. "You mean generals gotta take a physical?" I asked. "Yep," he grunted. "And they're tough. And my eyes aren't so good any more. Guess it's just a matter of getting old!"

Larry Puck — who "left" as Arthur Godfrey's producer when he married Marion Marlowe—is about to run one of the biggest TV talent shows yet . . . Ed Sullivan found out a Las Vegas hotel's planning a big publicity stunt during the Victor Borge TV show from there and sent out warnings that no gal better lose her bathing suit or anything like that.

The Andrews Sisters, in Western Union garb, sang 41st birthday greetings to Jackie Gleason: he paid 'em "minimum scale" — $2 . . . Lola Fisher, of the "My Fair Lady" chorus, will sub when Julie Andrews vacations.

Aldo Ray, estranged from Jeff Donnell, phones her several times a day, N.Y.-to-L.A. . . . The "My Fair Lady" chorus girls threaten suit against an expose mag that raps 'em all . . . Advertising agency men on the "21" show are rooting for Charles Van Doren—the longer he's on, the better the ratings.

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

An optimist, claims Tony Pettito, is a guy who says, "Oh well, Franklin wouldn't have discovered electricity if someone hadn't told him to go fly a kite.

Greer Signed by Steve Allen

Variety Show to Take Jackie Gleason's Hour This Summer

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Roberta Sherwood plays Mickey Rooney's mother in "The George M. Cohan Story" spectacular May 11. Jimmy Dunn plays Cohan's father.

Steven Allen signed Greer Garson for his March 24 show.

Jackie Gleanson's summer sub will be a variety show with dancer Bobby Van among the cast.

Now that announcer Durward Kirby stands committed to comedy on the Garry Moore Show, Frank Simms has been hired as regular announcer.

Tonight's Robert Montgomery drama, "The Enemy," by Pearl Buck, will have only one Occidental in the cast—and he won't have even one grunt of dialogue . . . Shirley Yamaguchi stars.

STICKS TO INDIANS

John Berardino, former Cleveland Indian second sacker (1948-52) turned actor, can't get away from Indians—he'll play a real American Indian on "Broken Arrow" Tuesday via ABC-TV.

NBC's new TV series "Wells Fargo" is taking no chances. It's an "Adult Western" combined with a detective story.

Brig. Gen. Frank P. Lahm—the third pilot licensed by the U. S.—will be on "Wide Wide World" March 17. He was taught to fly by the Wright brothers!

Cecil Brown's preparation for his new ABC network newscasting—a trip to Russia.

EDDIE'S PROBLEM

The Eddie Fisher radio show coming up will consist almost entirely of tapes of his old TV minstrelsy. . . Eddie has a problem—he simply hasn't progressed according to all normal expectations for such a young lad with so much original musical promise.

Hal March plans his own film series for the fall.

CBS-TV's "Telephone Time" moves to ABC-TV in April.

The New Yorker mag wrote ABC-TV and politely asked Mike Wallace not to use "Profiles" as the title of his new ABC show, and everyone just as politely has complied. Why not just call it "The Mike Wallace Show?"

Plane Carrying Four Missing in California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A light plane with four persons aboard, has been missing since Saturday after taking off from International Airport, bound for Imperial, 175 miles away in the southeastern part of the state. At the controls was Mrs. Marjorie King, 35, a veteran pilot.

★ ★ ★

With her were her mother, Mrs. Marjorie Kumler of La Jolla, Calif.; and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Weibma, of Kent, England, who were visiting Mrs. King.

★ ★ ★

Col. Brandt Freeman of the Civil Air Patrol said a search today would center in an area near Julian, east of Ramona, where a plane was spotted Saturday flying low beneath the overcast.

Freeman said that flying conditions were turbulent when the plane took off.

U.N. Salvage in Suez Removes Major Block

SUEZ, Egypt (AP) — The U.N. salvage fleet has removed one of the last two major obstructions blocking passage of 10,000-ton ships through the Suez Canal.

German hoists hatied up a big bucket dredger from the Suez end of the waterway yesterday and carried it northward to the Bitter Lake.

The final obstruction to be taken out in the initial phase of canal clearance is the sunken tug Edgar Bonnet. The Egyptian government has not yet given permission to start work on the tug.

Egyptian officials say explosives aboard the sunken vessel must first be removed. But it is generally understood, President Nasser has been slowing down canal clearance to nudge the big powers into forcing Israel out of Egypt and the Gaza Strip.

Bob Considine Says:

Gleason Swats Baseball 'Expert'

NEW YORK (INS) — People . . . places . . . things . . .

Jackie Gleason was ribbing Toots Shor as the hour approached when his old pal again had to face Teddy "The Noodle" Nadler on the $64,000 Challenge.

"Pal o' mine," Gleason rasped, slapping his man, "you've done great on that show. You answered those two tough questions that got you started. You came up with 'yes' when the guy asks if baseball is played not only in the daytime but at night. And you got it right the next week when they give you that stumper about whether baseball is a game played with a bat and ball.

"Just pray they don't ask you something like 'What's a glove made out of?' "

You'll be hearing more soon about nephrosis, chronic nephritis and acute nephritis. Mamie Eisenhower has agreed to become chairman of the national honorary sponsors of the Nephrosis Foundation of New York and New Jersey. The fund is seeking to raise $1,000,000 to fight a disease which has been almost without a press.

Yet hear this:

CHILD KILLER

"In the two most recent years for which figures are available from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the combined deaths from nephrosis, chronic nephritis and acute nephritis in children under 15 were greater in number than certain other more publicized diseases, specifically tuberculosis (all forms), polio, rheumatic fever, rheumatic heart disease, diabetes, etc."

The newly spotlighted ailment affects the kidneys, chiefly of young children. Mortality rates are a shocking 50 per cent.

Hockey, for my dough, is a game of depressing and monotonous frustraction, but nobody doubts the virility of its players. Particularly the players themselves. Toronto Maple Leaf star Jim Thomson, writing in a current magazine, draws a bead on the mollycoddling in another sport:

PAMPER PLAYERS

"America's major league ball players are pampered like sick children instead of being treated as the healthy, muscular men they are. Whenever they suffer the slightest injury, out of the game they came, to be cluckled over by trainers as though they were glass dolls.

He points out that when Ted Williams slipped off a wooden sandal last spring and bruised his instep he didn't play regularly for a month. He adds indignantly:

"Compare Williams' injury, for instance, with what happened in my sport a few years ago. In a game against Toronto, Jack Stewart of the Detroit Red Wings was cut across the face accidentally by a stick. He was rushed off the ice, blood pouring down his uniform.

"The doctor needed 33 stitches to close the gash. How long was Stewart off the ice? A month? A week? It was a matter of minutes. Though ordered to the hospital, Jack staggered back to the rink; with blood oozing through his bandages, he finished the game."

An Advisory Committee of Management in Argentina is urging the Government not to bring about equal pay for men and women at once, but to "work progressively towards it," Buenos Aires reports.
