JFK-Gromyko Meeting Fails to Bring Accord

ONE COLOR

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a two-hour conference between President Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, the United States and the Soviet Union were reported still far apart today on ways of negotiating a peaceful settlement of the Berlin crisis.

★ ★ ★

Informed officials here consider the East-West dispute over Berlin still extremely dangerous. At the same time hope persists that a solution short of a military showdown will be found to end the crisis.

Kennedy and the Soviet foreign minister discussed the situation in the Oval Room of the White House late Friday and wound up their talks shortly after 7 o'clock without issuing any kind of formal statement.

As he climbed into his limousine to return to the Soviet Embassy on nearby 16th Street, Gromyko told newsmen the conversation had been "useful". Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who sat in on the discussion, merely called it "interesting."

Kennedy was understood to have told Gromyko in calm but very emphatic terms that the United States and its Western Allies are fully determined to defend West Berlin against Communist pressures, to preserve their right to maintain troops in the city, and to keep open the supply lines from West Germany.

Gromyko told reporters that the conversation had touched "several important matters" bearing on U.S.-Soviet relations and added: "Of course, as far as the position of the Soviet government is concerned, we stressed first of all the importance of the question of the peace treaty with Germany."

It appears that the conference at the White House covered much of the same ground that had been covered by Gromyko and Rusk in a series of three meetings in New York in the previous two weeks.

It was understood, moreover, that Gromyko still had not told U.S. leaders what Soviet Premier Khrushchev means exactly when he talks of guaranteeing Western access to West Berlin after he signs a peace treaty with Communist East Germany. Khrushchev has said that the peace treaty will establish East German sovereignty over the supply lines from West Germany and that thereafter the Western powers must negotiate with the East German regime for use of the supply line.

★ ★ ★

The White House discussion ended the first phase of U.S.-Soviet efforts to lay a basis for future formal negotiations on a Berlin settlement. So far as this phase is concerned, it obviously ended in failure to arrive at an agreement. However, officials said, it was too early to speak of failure in any broad sense since more "exploratory talks" are expected.

Parents Surprised as They Were Escorting Children Across Tracks

By DICK HANSON

A Clawson mother of five was killed instantly today when hit by a northbound New York Central train as she snatched her youngest son off the tracks.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stach of 470 Donald St. were escorting their youngsters over a railroad trestle near Yates Cider Mill in Avon Township when the passenger train approached unnoticed.

The children's voices rising over the dull roar of a waterfall in the Clinton River below drowned out the noise of the oncoming train.

The family was heading back to the Bloomer State Park No. 2 picnic area with soft drinks purchased at the cider mill on Avon Road.

As they trudged along a narrow foot path alongside the tracks, 6-year-old Martin Stach straggled behind, walking on the tracks.

Engineer M. L. Retheford, 37, of 325 E. Woodland St., Ferndale, saw the family group on the trestle ahead as he rounded the curve.

He told sheriff's deputies that he blew the whistle, knowing he'd never be able to stop in time although he applied the brakes. He estimated the train's speed at 60 miles an hour.

GRABS CHILD

Hearing the whistle and screeching wheels, Mrs. Stach turned to grab Martin. She held the child away from the tracks as she was hit by the Diesel engine.

★ ★ ★

The youngster was thrown clear of the track by the impact. Mrs. Stach died instantly. Her body was hurled 20 feet.

Martin was rushed to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where he was pronounced in satisfactory condition with cuts and bruises.

The Stach family was nearly at the end of the narrow 123 ft. trestle when tragedy struck. The father rushed the other four children to safety while their mother reached for their young brother.

She was caught on the tracks as she turned back, holding the child as if to hurl him clear.

★ ★ ★

The other four Stach children who escaped injury were Joseph Jr., 14; Franzetta, 11; Mary Ann, 9; and Regina, 7.

Mrs. Stach's body was taken to the Grammer Funeral Home in Clawson.

Early Ford Pact Doubtful, Says Vice President

Settlement on Weekend of UAW Strike Not Likely, Denis Feels

By BEN PHLEGAR

DETROIT (AP) —Malcolm Le Denise, Ford vice president-labor relations, said today he considered a weekend settlement of the United Auto Workers Union strike against Ford doubtful.

Denise made the comment as he returned to national level bargaining sessions with UAW President Walter P. Reuther.

Denise said an early settlement "is still possible" but strongly indicated he did not expect it to happen.

Reuther and Denise said they would review problems of local bargaining units and discuss unsettled issues remaining in the noneconomic section of the national contract.

Local 600—often called the biggest union local in the country—appeared to hold a key to settlement of the strike.

BEGAN TUESDAY

The strike began Tuesday and has idled 120,000 production workers at 88 plants in 26 states.

Local 600 represents more than 30,000 of the strikers at the Rouge industrial complex in Dearborn, Mich. It contains 17 of the 85 bargaining units which have local working agreements with Ford, and 11 of the Rouge units are among 36 as yet not settled.

"Without the Rouge, nobody works," said one union man. "We have to wrap it up there."

The union reported what it called substantial progress within Local 600 Friday when it reached agreements with three units at Ford's steel division — the blast furnaces and coke ovens, the open hearth and the rolling mill.

VITAL LOCATIONS

Among other vital locations still unsettled are the Cleveland, Ohio, foundry and engine plants and the Canton, Ohio, forge plant. A strike at Canton once forced a virtually complete shutdown of all Ford assembly.

★ ★ ★

Mantle to 'Give It a Try'; Back in Yankee Line-Up

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mickey Mantle returned to the New York Yankee lineup for Saturday's third game with Cincinnati after missing the first two games in New York.

The 29-year-old center fielder had been out of action because of his slow recovery from minor surgery for an abcess on his right hip.

"I want to give it a try," Mantle told Manager Ralph Houk after experiencing no serious after-effects from Friday's workout. Mickey had hit five or six balls over the fence, batting left-handed, and one over the wall hitting right-handed in the off-day batting practice.

The reunion of the M&M boys figured to put new punch into the Yank attack. Maris, who will bat in the No. 3 position, of course set a record by hitting 61 home runs in the regular season.

He went hitless, however, in seven trips in the first two games. Mantle, who hit 54 homers and drove in 128 runs, resumed his normal cleanup spot in the order.

Policemen Break Up Riot by 1,000 Teens

ALHAMBRA, Calif. (UPI) — An estimated 1,000 youths staged four wild riots for about two hours early today in a five-block area of this suburban Los Angeles community, police reported.

More than 100 law enforcement officers poured into town from surrounding communities to help quell the melee, in which police believed there were no serious injuries.

The California Highway Patrol sped 15 radio cars to help cordon off the riot area — five blocks — and 50 sheriff's radio units from the Los Angeles area assisted them.

Off-duty policemen augmented by reserves streamed into Alhambra from the surrounding communities of San Gabriel, South San Gabrier, Pasadena, South Pasadena and Monterey Park.

At least two busloads of youths — mostly teen-agers — were booked on a variety of charges and police estimated the final number arrested by 9 a.m. (Pontiac Time) probably would be about 100.

"It'll probably be in the wee hours of the morning before we're through booking suspects," said one busy officer.

The melee erupted shortly after midnight at a drive-in restaurant when special policemen tried to break up a scuffle with some of the teenagers.

Within minutes four riots were going in the five-block area.

All drive-in restaurants in the area were ordered closed immediately by authorities.

British Liner Plunges Into Pyrenees in Bad Flying Weather

TOULOUSE, France (AP — Wreckage of a British airliner carrying 34 persons was found in the Pyrenees Mountains today and a search plane radioed that there were no survivors, police at Prades announced.

The wreckage was spotted by residents in the area of the Canigou Peak of the Pyrenees at an altitude of some 6,000 feet.

Weather in the area was reported bad. Mt. Canigou, which is mined for iron ore, rises 9,137 feet.

The British plane, a Dakota, dropped from sight on a flight from Gatwick Airport near London to Perpignan, a regional commercial center of 65,000 in southern France about 10 miles from the Mediterranean and 20 from the Spanish frontier.

A spokesman for Derby Aviation, a United Airways affiliate that owned the plane, said it carried 31 passengers and 3 crewmen. All were believed to be British.

Air control centers at Toulouse and Bordeaux said they had been in contact with the plane shortly after midnight.

Construction workers in the Ariege Department of the Pyrenees said they heard a plane flying over early this morning and that its engines did not sound as though they were functioning normally.

Seeking Ways to Help Rayburn

Might Give Speaker Experimental Drugs to Try Slowing Cancer

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — A specialist disclosed today that experimental drugs may be given to House Speaker Sam Rayburn in a few days in the hope of at least slowing the cancer which is slowly taking his life.

The specialist is Dr. Ralph Tompsett, director of internal medicine at Baylor University Medical Center where Rayburn's cancer was discovered Thursday. He is a special consultant in the Rayburn case.

Dr. Tompsett said the Food and Drug Administration labels part of the drugs which may be given to Rayburn as "experimental." He said they are "chemo-therapeutic drugs" and indicated that the best hoped for is that they will slow the cancer which has apparently spread through much or most of Rayburn's body.

NOT CHANGED

Rayburn's basic condition — an incurable cancer—has not changed, Dr. Tompsett said.

Rest and administration of certain drugs, especially cortisone, raised the 79-year-old Rayburn's strength today to the point where he dangled his feet over the side of his bed, ate a small but solid breakfast and ordered steak for lunch.

Former President Truman telephoned the hospital today. He did not talk to Rayburn but left a message. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer cabled Rayburn.

The first bulletin issued today on Rayburn's condition said:

"Mr. Rayburn spent a very comfortable night and feels improved this morning.

Believe Communists to Get Tougher

U.S. Eyes Sending Troops to Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is considering sending U.S. troops to help South Viet Nam fight off Communist attacks expected to grow stronger when the rainy season ends later this month.

U.S. officials consider South Viet Nam the main target of the Communist drive in Southeast Asia. If the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem should fall, they say, Thailand, Malaya, Burma and Cambodia would be dangerously weakened.

* * *

High State Department sources revealed privately Friday that sending troops to South Viet Nam was under consideration.

Press officer Joseph Reap, while not specifically confirming this, did not rule it out.

CONSIDERING MEANS

In answer to questions, Reap said: "In view of the serious situation there, due to increasing Communist attacks against government defense units, we are considering various means of assisting the Viet Nam government against Communist efforts to take over the country."

"We are hopeful that measures to strengthen Viet Nam's defenses now being taken jointly by the Viet Nam government and the United States will prove effective."

* * *

Troops from other countries in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization may join in bolstering South Viet Nam's defenses.

Plans for the protection of Viet Nam's pro-Western government, completed at a recent meeting of SEATO military advisors at Bangkok, Thailand, were reported to include use of SEATO forces if necessary.

PREDICT RED DRIVE

For several weeks, U.S. sources have been predicting a drive by North Viet Nam to grab off all or part of its pro-Western neighbor, possibly by using regular forces as well as guerrilla infiltration.

They say the best time for such a move will be in November and December, after the rainy season ends.

Reports have been received here of Communist troops moving in division strength toward South Viet Nam over the jungle trails of Southern Laos.

Also, the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas are reported to have established military training camps in the ill-defined jungle border between Cambodia and South Viet Nam.

* * *

FAMILIAR TACTIC

U.S. officials think the Communists will try to establish an autonomous government in the Mekong River area to rival Diem's pro-Western government. This, they say, is a familiar Communist tactic, used in the past in China and Laos.

Reap was asked Friday if the South Viet Nam government had asked for American combat troops. He replied he did not know.

In the past Diem has said he would welcome arms and technical training by American military men but did not need troops.

U.S. officials classify the present situation in South Viet Nam as bad but not desperate.

Name Medical Staff for First CD Hospital

The medical personnel responsible for operating Oakland County's first fully staffed civil defense hospital were named at a special meeting last night at Michigan State University Oakland.

DR. EDGAR J. GEIST JR.

Director of the 200-bed emergency hospital, one of four in the county which could be set up in case of enemy attack or natural disaster, is Dr. Edgar J. Geist Jr., 1473 Pontiac Road, Avon Township.

Dr. Geist, who also is chairman of the newly formed Northeast Oakland County Civil Defense Council, was main speaker at last night's initial staff meeting of the Oakland County Civil Defense Hospital No. 1.

Deputy medical directors are Dr. Ralph C. Boyd, 6600 Orion Road, Avon Township; and Dr. Rodman C. Jacobi, 186 Spezia Drive, Oxford Township.

* * *

CAN BE MOVED

If necessary, the emergency hospital can be transported to other operational sites in the northeast section of the county, including Blanch Sims Elementary School in Lake Orion, Oxford High School in Oxford and either North Hill Elementary School or Avon Center Hospital in the Rochester area.

* * *

Dr. Geist said the emergency staff includes doctors, nurses, technicians, pharmicists, veterarians, dentists maintenance men, transportation crew and citizens trained in special Civil Defense medical classes held throughout the county.

* * *

Dr. Geist pointed out that the northeastern section of Oakland County would be a logical location for a hospital site where patients injured in an atomic attack on Detroit could be treated.

"Our goal is defined," he told the audience of some 100 professional and volunteer medical personnel at the meeting.

"We have to create the sensible, optimistic effort to protect our families for survival and specifically — in relation to our hospital — provide the means to medical care for the survivors that come to us for help."

At the conclusion of his speech, Dr. Geist was presented a certificate of appreciation for his work in civil defense by Oakland County CD Director Lewis C. Jarrendt.

Northwest Batted by Bluster as We Bask in Sun

By The Associated Press

Blustery weather hit sections of the Northwest today, but it was mild and dry in most other parts of the country.

The cool and rainy weather in the Northwest covered areas of Montana, northern Wyoming, Idaho and along coastal sections of Washington and Oregon. Temperatures dropped into the 30s in some areas as strong chilly winds swept the region.

The cold air moved slowly southward across the northern Rockies and eastward into the northern plains during the night and early morning. It was expected to spread into northern Minnesota, southeastern parts of the Dakotas, Utah, Nevada, northwest Nebraska, northern Colorado and central California.

Hails Opportunity for Coverage of State Con-Con

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan newspapers and radio and television stations have the opportunity to cover the constitutional convention better than any governmental activity in Michigan's history, Secretary of State James M. Hare said today.

Hare told an editorial conference of daily and weekly newspaper editors here the con-con press corps were given "the best seats in the house."

Ink White, St. Johns, publisher of the Clinton County Republican News and a delegate to the con-con, and Dale Stafford, Greenville Daily News editor and chairman of a committee for an open convention, were also to appear on the program.

The secretary of state, who directed much of the operations setting up "constitution hall" in Lansing's Civic Center, said the convention activities this week marked a "philosophical and psychological pattern toward the 'right to know'" as well as physical facilities for good coverage.

"Where . . . in the past . . . have newsmen been invited to sit in on party caucuses?" Hare said. News correspondents this week had access to both the Republican and Democratic caucuses which preceded the Tuesday convention session.

East Germans Celebrate 12th Year of Communism

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communist government celebrated its 12th anniversary today and brought out thousands of listless people to hear patriotic speeches.

The Communist ADN news agency said 250,000 wildly cheering East Germans took part in a monster rally on East Berlin's Marx-Engels Square.

* * *

Two Western observers on the spot, said the most striking thing about the crowd was its lack of enthusiasm.

At the most liberal estimate, no more than 20,000 people stood before the white, slogan-decorated reviewing stand. East German Communist boss Walter Ulbricht and Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan had the places of honor.

'PREPARED TO GIVE ALL'

Mikoyan told the gathering the Soviet Union was "prepared to give all and most effective guarantees for the free, demilitarized city of West Berlin. He said such a city would come with the signing of a peace treaty for Germany.

Ulbricht never spoke. However, Deputy Premier Bruno Leuschner stepped to the microphones to declare there would be no war over Germany. He said "we are now about to conclude a peace treaty," but, like Mikoyan, failed to mention a date.

* * *

Most of the crowd were factory and office workers, brought out in organized groups, and uniformed Communist youth formations.

TV viewers were given frequent glimpses of the most thickly packed sections of the crowd, but never saw the thinly spaced spectators in the rear.

THREATENS TO SIGN

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has frequently threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with the satellite East German regime by the end of the year.

But today, Mikoyan, as well as other Communist speakers, did not commit themselves to any date for the conclusion of the treaty.

* * *

Western observers thought the Reds seemed to be soft-pedaling while there was hope that East and West may meet at the conference table to negotiate a Berlin settlement.

East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht took the same new tact as Khrushchev and Mikoyan in avoiding all reference to a date for signing a peace treaty.

Bullet Ends Try to Evade Officer

Youth Leads Policeman on 2-Mile Chase; Tries to Run Him Over

A shot in the shoulder last night finally halted an 18-year-old Detroit motorist who, police say, led a pursuing Farmington Twp. policeman on a two-mile chase and then tried to run him down with a stolen car.

Robert Overman, Detroit, was arrested by Sgt. John Polder, as the youth was trying to escape on foot after being trapped in a dead end street near Quaker Town.

Overman is being held under guard at St. Mary's Hospital Livonia. He faces a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile.

Farmington police had received a stolen car report at 10:45 p.m., and the car was later spotted going west on Grand River by Sgt. Polder.

When the sergeant attempted to flag the car down, the driver ignored his flasher lights and sped away. Polder chased the car from Grand River onto Drake Street as far as 11 Mile Road.

When the driver pulled into a dead-end street in Old Homestead Subdivision, Polder blocked the exit with his police car.

MADE SHARP TURN

According to the sergeant's report, the car made a sharp turn at the end of the street and headed for the policeman in an attempt to run him down.

The stolen car successfully maneuvered around the police auto and Polder fired at the car just before it stopped and the boy leaped out.

The boy was later found lying wounded in a nearby field.

Group to Study Fairgrounds

Governor Names Body to Examine Use on Year-Around Basis

LANSING (AP) — Formation of a State Fairground Development Commission to examine the use of fairgrounds on a year-round basis was announced today by Gov. Swainson.

Twenty-three state civic leaders were named to the commission, including John R. Chapman, Birmingham; William Gershenson, one of the developers of the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center, Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads; and Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press.

Swainson asked the group to report its findings as soon as possible because any legislation to be recommended would have to be presented to the Legislature early in January.

* * *

Swainson said the State Fairgrounds, because of its location and size, "is an exceptionally valuable asset of the state which should be developed not only for purposes of holding the fair but as a center for other activities on a year-round basis."

This is the only way it can be developed to benefit fully the largest number of Michigan citizens, he said.

"The problem," he explained, "is one of determining what other uses are compatible with the fair and of obtaining funds for the capital expansion of the facilities of the fair grounds."

State Commission Tells Suburban Bus Co.'s Service Must Continue

LANSING (AP) — The Intertown Suburban Bus Lines says it wants to go out of business, but can't.

* * *

The transporation firm, deadlocked in a labor dispute since Aug. 1, notified the State Public Service Commission Tuesday that it did not plan to resume service even if the strike were settled, the commission said.

Commission spokesmen said, however, that the firm did not file a petition to abandon service as required by law, and that the commission had not authorized the stoppage of service.

Therefore, the commission said, the service "shall immediately cease and desist from taking any steps to abandon bus service." The firm, it added, should be ordered to take "such further action as may be required to be able to render service upon termination of said current work stoppage."

PLANNED TO DISCONTINUE

The commission said it was advised by telephone Tuesday that the firm planned to discontinue service.

The commission ordered a hearing on the matter Oct. 18 in Lansing.

Award $125,000 to Area Youth Bitten by Bear

Bear bites which brought pain to a Farmington youth in 1959, yesterday also brought him $125,000 in damages.

Joseph L. Williams Jr., 20, of 28976 Farmington Road, was awarded the sum by Detroit Federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman. Williams had been attacked by a bear June 18, 1959, while hiking in Glacier National Park. At the time, he was a waiter in a park motel.

Williams had sued the federal government for $450,000. He charged the National Park Service was negligent in permitting bears to roam wild. He said rangers told him bears would not bother him if he did not bother them.

* * *

Williams' father was awarded $8,051 in his suit for $25,000 for medical and other expenses.

Hoffa Signs Contracts for 600,000 Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Teamster President James R. Hoffa says he has signed work contracts for 600,000 members of his trucking union which will expire simultaneously in September 1964.

* * *

Hoffa, speaking Friday before delegates to the annual convention of the Transport Workers Union, said the New York pacts—the last of which were signed Friday morning—call for uniform minimum wages and increased pension benefits. He did not specify the minimum wage.

* * *

Earlier Hoffa had said that his 1,700,000-member union would be willing under "certain stipulated terms" to return to the AFL-CIO from which it was expelled in 1957.

* * *

It would cost the Teamsters $4 million a year to return to the AFL-CIO, Hoffa said, adding he would be willing to make the move "only for the sake of unity."

Magazine Can't Liken Strauss to Stein of Beer

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP) —A Bavarian court has ordered a West German newsmagazine to stop saying Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss looks like a stein of beer. Strauss is 5 feet 9 and weighs about 200 pounds.

Publisher Rudolf Augstein of Der Spiegel (The Mirror) argued that such a description of the chunky Cabinet minister fell within the privilege of freedom of the press.

The court ruled Friday that an article comparing Strauss to a beer stein was slanderous.

* * *

Guests will include Alfred W. Lyons, state deputy, main speaker; Wilfred T. Connolly, supreme director, Mayor Philip Rowston, and other state officers of the K. of C.

Sheppard's Brother Guilty of Negligence

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Stephen A. Sheppard, one of the operators of Bay View Hospital in suburban Bay Village, was found negligent by a Common Pleas Court Friday in the treatment of a man who later died. The jury ordered him to pay $50,000 to the patient's survivors.

* * *

Sheppard gave no notice of appeal.

He is a brother of Dr. Sam Sheppard, sentenced to life imprisonment for the bludgeon slaying of his wife, Marilyn, in their home July 4, 1954.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A fifth pro-Nasser newspaper was bombed in Beirut today, reflecting Lebanon's tension following the revolution in neighboring Syria.

Fighting 17th Ready for Anything

RAMSTEIN AIR FORCE BASE, Germany (AP) — The United States Tactical Air Force in Europe now can shift from the use of conventional to atomic weapons in almost a matter of minutes.

* * *

Training of the supersonic jet fighter-bomber and other jet light bomber crews of the 17th Air Force with headquarters here has been revamped in a few short weeks to pattern it to the new military policy enunciated by the Kennedy administration.

* * *

Until the Berlin crisis sharpened President Kennedy's decision to increase conventional firepower of all U.S. forces while at the same time retaining nuclear strength, much of the training of the 17th Air Force was in use of atomic weapons.

GOVERNMENT POLICY

Government policy is to provide U.S. commanders in Europe, both air and ground, with alternative weapons. The United States has carefully avoided foreclosing the possibility of applying atomic weapons when and where a situation might demand.

Maj. Gen. H. R. Spicer, meeting with U.S. newsmen Friday, was asked if the trend has been to downgrade atomic weapons while beefing up the conventional explosive category.

* * *

This Spicer denied with a sharp "We have not." Then he said that more practice with standard bombs, aerial rockets and similar material has begun. About 95 per cent of the crews of the 17th's bombers and fighter interceptors are qualified for the use of nuclear weapons, Spicer said.

The fighter-bombers and light bombers based at 17th Air Force fields along the Communist frontier and farther back can load up with either standard explosive or atomic bombs, with no change required in equipment.

WITHIN MINUTES

Newsmen, in a tour of Ramstein, got the impression that both types of weapons were in storage within minutes of ready areas where planes stood poised for almost instant take-off. The aircraft apparently were armed with no type of weapon.

The strike planes of the 17th—the ones which would support U.S. and other NATO ground forces in the event of a Soviet-satellite plunge into Western Europe—include four types, three of them supersonic jets.

* * *

The F100, oldest of supersonic design, is being gradually replaced with F101 Voodoos and F105 Thunderchiefs. The latter can fly at speeds of about 1,400 miles per hour and deliver "heavy bomb loads deep into enemy territory," the 17th Air Force claims.

The fourth type is the B66 light bomber, subsonic in speed but with longer range. In addition to the manned aircraft, the 17th also is equipped with the Matador and Mace bombardment missiles, with a range for the latter of several hundred miles.

FIGHTER INTERCEPTORS

Equally important are the fighter interceptors, the F102A Delta Dagger and the F104 Starfighter. The F102 can operate in storm or darkness by radar and launch missiles guided to the target by heat-seeking devices or radar control. The F104, a slightly lighter but faster jet, can work up to altitudes of 90,000 feet.

Asked how the fighters could protect commercial airliners in the event of Red attack in the corridor, Spicer said: "We have contingency plans for just about everything. We have F102s and F104s sitting ready to take off... They could help."

How does the Tactical Air Force in Western Europe compare with the Communist force facing it?

Spicer agreed that "we are but not qualitatively." The 17th has the latest aircraft in its inventory.

"I'll put up our best against their best anytime," the general declared.

25 SQUADRONS

The 17th has 25 squadrons of tactical bombing types, averaging between 18 and 25 planes per squadron, and six squadrons of fighter interceptors. Spicer declined to estimate how many similar aircraft of the Communist countries are facing him.

Ex-Con Gets Opportunity to Teach in Seattle School

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — "If I didn't spend years working toward a teaching goal, just to go back to digging ditches," said Dean Bay, an ex-convict.

State School Supt. Louis Bruno gave Bay an opportunity Friday to do something else to support his wife and five children. He granted Bay 32, a three-year provisional teaching certificate issued to teachers coming from out of state.

Eight years ago Bay was a night policeman in Goldendale, Was. He was convicted of a series of thefts, served 18 months in the State Reformatory, and was paroled.

* * *

He then graduated from Eastern Oregon College of Education at his hometown of La Grande, partly with the help of state scholarships.

Then he taught on a temporary certificate at a Weston, Ore., elementary school and became a lay Baptist minister. Weston school officials, the Chamber of Commerce at La Grande and Washington state parole officials supported his application for a permanent certificate.

TURNED DOWN

Oregon turned him down.

Last month Bay was accepted as a seventh-grade teacher in the private King's Garden School in Seattle while he waited to see if Washington would let him continue. Now that he has the certificate, he'll go on teaching at King's Garden.

"I don't feel that anything in my record would jeopardize a child," Bay said. "Teaching is a profession and must have standards. But the fact a teacher has a record is not the important thing—it's the individual teacher who should be judged.

* * *

"I've paid for my mistake," he said. "I tried hard in the reformatory to improve myself. I didn't believe it when I heard some of them say, 'What's the use—you go outside and they kick you down.'

"There is no advantage in having a program of rehabilitation if in the ultimate end the rehabilitated are not permitted to do anything but dig ditches."

A teacher must be of good character, Bay said. But, he asked: "Is it required that he be a plastic saint who never has made a human mistake?"

Zimbalist Dissatisfied, Says May Quit Acting

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD—The words were familiar. So were the surroundings. But the face was different.

The face was handsome belonging to Efrem Zimbalist Jr. He had a sad look as he remarked: "I think I will quit the business."

THOMAS

Zimbalist was following a grand tradition. Actors have been rebelling at Warner Brothers since the golden days of Errol Flynn, Bette Davis, Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall, etc., etc.

These stars have been followed in latter days by such recalcitrant TV cowpokes as James Garner, Clint Walker, Wayde Preston, etc., etc.

REBEL SLEUTH

Zimbalist is the first of the TV sleuths to rebel. He is Stu Bailey, leader of the "77 Sunset Strip" show that has launched a mess of other private eye programs. Now the leader wants to quit.

"But I can't go off to Bennington College," he said with a small grin. "Diane Varsi has already done that."

★ ★ ★

Actors often talk about quitting; few do. So why should we place any credence in the Zimbalist report? Because he did quit once before. That was after the death of his first wife.

OUT FOR 5 YEARS

"I was out of acting for five years," he said. "I did nothing for the first year and a half. Then I studied and did some teaching at the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia," where his famed father has taught music. "I came back to acting because I missed the companionship and sociability of the entertainment world."

★ ★ ★

His return to acting brought him what he hadn't enjoyed before: success. He has a steady job with the TV show and sometimes does movies, such as the current "Chapman Report." Most actors yearn for steady work all their lives and never find it. So why is Efrem unhappy?

'NO SATISFACTION'

"A job like this should pay off in one of two ways: Satisfaction or money," he explained. "The money is not great, and there is no satisfaction."

★ ★ ★

Zimbalist recently broke up again with his wife Stephanie—"apparently for the last time; at least it's in the hands of our lawyers." I asked him if the split had anything to do with his discontent with his lot. "Not particularly," he said.

Will Efrem quit? Will Jeff Spencer and Kookie be forced to take over the office?

I don't really know.

A crew running a special French train recently laid claim to a world speed mark of 138 miles an hour.

Wants Heat Put on Quacks

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — "There is nothing so educational as a stretch in jail" to stop medical quacks, a health official said today.

The official, Milton P. Duffy, chief of the California Bureau of Food and Drug Inspections, proposed stiffer penalties for medical fakers in an address for the National Congress on Medical Quakery.

* * *

The American Medical Association and the Food and Drug Administration are sponsoring the two-day meeting, ending today, in a drive aimed at putting medical quackery out of business. Some 500 medical men are attending.

Duffy proposed jail sentences "or a stiff fine which takes the profit out of profiteers" to combat medical quacks.

ELDERLY SUFFER

Duffy said in California, elderly persons suffer most at the hands of medical fakers.

"It is this class that most frequently becomes the target for extensive exploitation and which is subjected to enormous financial strain," he said.

He said California authorities have acted against quacks producing a cancer salve which caused chemical burns while supposedly curing the disease and a musical cancer treatment in which wires from a tape recorder were attached to electrodes placed on the body of the patient. Duffy said the device was supposed to disintegrate tumors by carrying music to the site of the cancer.

* * *

Dr. Harold E. Jeevey Jr., former president of the Federation of State Medical Boards, complained about light penalties imposed on quacks.

Dr. Frederick J. Stare of Boston said food faddists and nutrition crackpots are running a $500-million a year business, "one of the smoothest and best organized rackets in the country."

Titan Is Near to Combat State

Missile Roars to Eighth Straight Success on 5000-Mile Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force sent its Titan intercontinental range missile winging to its eighth straight success on a 5,000-mile test flight down the Atlantic range Friday night.

* * *

The flight further confirmed reliability of the Titan and edged it nearer combat readiness. The first nine-missile squadron is slated for deployment at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., late this year.

The success was the third this week for a long-range U.S. missile. Earlier, two Atlases hit targets 5,000 and 9,000 miles away.

MODIFIED SLIGHTLY

The Titan was steered by a self-contained inertial guidance system designed for use in later, more powerful Titan I missiles.

* * *

The Titan I missile Friday night was modified slightly to accommodate the guidance. Titan I rockets normally employ a radio command guidance system which sends direction signals to the weapon after it is airborne.

* * *

The Air Force and Martin Co., which makes the missile, plan six squadrons each of Titan I and II. Each will have nine missiles equipped with nuclear warheads. Both series will be protected in concrete underground silos.

Former Employes Charge Unfair Labor Practice

DETROIT (UPI) — Employes discharged by the shut down Intertown Suburban Lines Corp. have filed an unfair labor practices charge against the firm. The charge was filed with the National Labor Relations Board.

Intertown, which served 13 Detroit suburbs in Western Wayne County, has announced it is closing down because of inability to operate at a profit.

Building Tops $1 Million for Third Straight Month

New construction in Pontiac went over the $1 million mark for the third straight month in September.

There were fewer building permits issued than in August, but their value totaled $1,179,238, according to Carl F. Alt, building inspector.

September's building pattern followed the July pattern when a new addition to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital accounted for most of the $1.7 million in building that month.

In September, the bulk came from the start of a $917,000 administrative wing to the new county courthouse.

In contrast, several construction projects added up to make the August total of $1,267,178, some $87,940 more than last month.

The most notable drop from August to September was in the number and amount of permits for new homes.

There were permits for six dwellings, totaling $60,000, in September and 57 permits for $381,200 worth of new homes in August.

A total of 118 permits were issued last month, 31 fewer than the preceding month. Residential alterations and repairs totaled $44,164 and commercial, $99,125.

September brought the total to 383 permits issued for $4,215,600 in new construction for the last three months in Pontiac.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Bigger Churches Would Have More Means to Do Better Job

We've commented before on the huge number of churches and the fallacy of spreading the Word of God too thinly with so many divided by relatively unimportant differences.

Fundamentally, all of us think alike.

The Episcopalian delegates voted to study the possibility of uniting with the Presbyterians, the Methodists and the United Church of Christ. This would constitute a wonderful step forward. If we had 20 churches in Pontiac, instead of more than a hundred, they would be infinitely better financed, better coordinated and better equipped to meet all problems.

We could afford to pay the ministers in proportion to their worth. By and large, the 180 million people in the United States should be heartily ashamed of the salaries offered fine, well-educated, dedicated men of the cloth.

It's wrong.

★ ★ ★

Fewer churches could have big staffs of well-paid and well-trained experts to play a vigorous and assertive part in juvenile delinquency, neighborhood problems and all broad, civic issues. Sunday schools would better attract and hold young people of all ages with spiritual teachings emanating from superior physical plants. Classes wouldn't be held in dark corners of a basement or a big broom closet on the second floor.

★ ★ ★

The present churches and ministerial staffs do wonders with the equipment they're given. Ministers work notoriously long hours without much pay or thanks, and their burden could be appreciably lightened, thus giving them more time and strength for top level activities.

★ ★ ★

Fundamentally, churches are alike —Protestant, Catholic and Jewish. They seek to prepare their members for the Kingdom of God. They seek a better, finer and cleaner life here below. The fact they use different phrases and different customs is rather irrelevant. They have the same ultimate objective.

Let's do the Big Job better.

Let's join hands and kneel together.

Revive Postal Bill . . . .

One revenue bill that failed to pass the current Congress promises to be revived early in the next session—and should be.

We refer to the postal measure.

★ ★ ★

It seems ridiculous for the general public to pay the postal deficit of a few heavy users of the mails. Originally, when the republic was founded, the Government and the people in general felt that the free and easy distribution of printed matter was definitely in the public interest.

And so it was.

The dissemination of general news and information was difficult and costly and yet it was tremendously important for the betterment of the young, lusty and struggling Nation. This applied to newspapers and other printed material.

★ ★ ★

But the situation is vastly different today. Newspapers are handled by newsboys to an extent that was never dreamed before; and the postal system has been swamped by the junk mail which is the bane of the carrier and his postal associates. A large percentage of it is thrown away unopened, untouched and to put it bluntly — unwanted. And yet, the American taxpayers are required to chip in and pay the deficit which is forced upon them by a relatively few. And magazines are costly mail problems which you help finance.

★ ★ ★

The postal deficiency is now approaching a billion dollars a year. It's staggering. The users of the mail should certainly expect to pay the costs of the services they demand and use. The Government must insist that they do so. That's what a government's for — to protect the helpless.

★ ★ ★

Powerful and very assertive lobbies in Washington spring from the bushes every time the postal rates come up for discussion and blanket the District of Columbia with experience and skill. They deserve to be beaten down.

★ ★ ★

Postmaster General J. Edward Day says that he believes the current four cent postal rate for first class matter will be raised to five cents in January. And it should be. Those that use this class of service the most ought to pay the cost completely instead of letting part of it rest on the taxpayers at large. And we believe newspapers should pay their way, too. Let there be no mistake about that.

★ ★ ★

President KENNEDY wants the whole tax structure overhauled and that may be debatable, but the postal picture simply cries for a complete study and equitable rates. The Nation has outgrown the status that prevailed 175 years ago when the spreading of reading matter was a necessary problem.

We should face today's facts today. Let those that employ the mails pay in proportion to their use and let them pay the full costs.

And In Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Although he only played golf occasionally, M. E. COYLE, retired Chevrolet head who just died, was usually between 78 and 82. The current Chevy boss, ED COLE, could have outdriven "EMMIE" 30 yards, but then COYLE'd have taken over . . . . . The following TV stars face the new season without steady jobs: GOBEL, YOUNG, GLEASON, GODFREY, BERLE, CAESAR, STANWYCK, SILVERS, ERNIE FORD, GARROWAY, ALLYSON and others . . . . . LEO SZILARDISM: "I have mixed feelings about spending $20 billion to reach the moon first, but if we're caught in a prestige race with Russia, I'd rather have it centered about the moon than Laos, Cuba or Berlin." . . . . . Trusted scouts advise me "PAT" MADDOCK deserves mention as an especially attractive young lady in the area. PAT, you're nominated.

I can't prove it but I'll bet a sugar cookie Ghana's $200 million foreign aid is going down the drain. Kwame Nkrumah, head man, still thumbs his nose at the U.S. and we're catching on— slowly . . . . . Britain's government is considering subsidies for jet passenger liners to cross the Atlantic in around two hours at 1,650 m.p.h. . . . . Big football teams use Polaroid cameras now and photograph formations which they study immediately and then make defensive shifts . . . . . Our own S. E. Knudsen was elected President of the Bloomfield Hills Country Club and is slated for the Presidency of the DAC shortly — the first man to hold the two jobs concurrently.

★ ★ ★

Today's timid English suggestion: when you use "acclimate," pronounce it "ah-CLIME-it." . . . . . Russia is considering a man-woman team in outer space. We could always counter with CHRISTINE . . . . . In the Seattle Golf Open, HARRISON had 70-69-69-69 — and finished 24th. Anyone for golf? . . . . . STEVE ALLEN's opening TV show drew a lowly 10.6 rating which was more than it deserved and he's one of my favorites. "MITCH" MILLER notched a top-hole 28.5 and JOEY BISHOP's second try was a hefty 25 . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's: HOMER D. The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

PROMINENT MEN OF FAITH

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry

"The Lord, Church, his family and the N. Y. Yankees," are, in that order, the great loves of Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, leader of more than 50 million of the world's Lutherans.

The son of a minister, who always knew he would be a minister, nevertheless, inwardly struggled during his seminary days to face and think through for himself questions of faith.

His resultant spiritual strengthening speaks for itself: Aside from his Lutheran positions and activities, his interest in overseas relief, he is Chairman of the Policy and Strategy Committee of the National Council of Churches and Chairman of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches.

Days of All Faiths:

Memory of Saint Thais Honored

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

It is not without precedent that a prostitute should become a saint. Mary Magdalene, according to a tradition that has no real support, but certainly has universal acceptance, started as the one and ended as the other.

So it was, too, with St. Thais, a dazzling fourth century courtesan whose memory is honored at Christian altars Oct. 8.

In Anatole France's novel, "Thais," her story is told with certain romantic trimmings, but with an essential over-all accuracy. The beautiful Thais is converted by a young monk named Paphnutius. She enters a nunnery and takes up the religious life with complete dedication. But poor Paphnutius, by the time her instruction and training are over, has fallen wretchedly in love with Thais. He fights manfully against her attraction but, of course, he loses.

Finally he goes to her, but he finds her on her deathbed, lost in spiritual visions. He cannot get through to her at all. Whether the cynical Anatole France meant this as a tragedy or a comedy is hard to say.

Nevertheless the novel is, except for the love story, fairly close to the known facts. The books of the saints say Thais was converted, went to a nunnery, stayed in penitent isolation three years, was finally released into normal convent life by her mentor, Paphnutius, and died 15 days later.

SAINT THE SAINTS DIDN'T LIKE

Pope Calistus I is in the calendar of saints Oct. 14, but while he was alive at the turn of the second century there were those who thought he was anything but a saint. His enemies were highly placed, important personages — saints themselves, as for example, St. Hippolytus and the great Tertullian.

★ ★ ★

Most of what we know about Calistus is from these unfriendly sources, and if what they say were the whole story he certainly never would have been canonized. They hadn't a good word to say about him.

★ ★ ★

The story of Calistus, as gathered from his detractors, describes him as incompetent, ambitious and finally a bad Pope, but they never show him as dishonest or wicked and you may be sure they would not have missed a chance to do so if there had been one.

WHY A SAINT?

He is first heard of as a slave and, apparently, an intelligent one, for his owner put him in charge of a bank. The bank failed and Calistus panicked and ran away, feeling, with plenty of good reasons, that if he were caught he would be killed.

He was caught but instead of being put to death he was sent to work in the mills, which was perhaps worse than death. However, he managed to get word out to his owner that if he were free he could probably recover enough of the bank's money to make the bank solvent again.

So they let him come back and in his anxiety to keep his promise he broke into a Jewish worship service to try to make some important collections there. This, of course, got him into more trouble than he had already been in and he was sent to Sardinia to toil in the silver mines.

★ ★ ★

But the luck of Calistus held. If you were not on the side of his enemies you would think the Lord had a finger on him. A new Emperor came to the throne and, as an enthronement gesture, pardoned all the Sardinian silver mine workers.

★ ★ ★

Back in Rome Calistus became great friends with the Pope Zephyrnius, who put him in charge of the Christian cemetery there — perhaps the first real estate ever owned by the Christian Church anywhere. And it seems that Calistus did a better job here than he did at the bank.

★ ★ ★

When Zephyrnius died, Calistus was elected Pope and Hippolytus, his enemy, was runner-up.

★ ★ ★

The complaints against Calistus as Pope were that he did not consider mortal sin a sufficient reason for deposing a bishop, that he allowed men who had been married even two or three times to be ordained to the priesthood, and that he recognized marriages between freewomen and slaves as valid. (Such marriages were against Roman law, but one can see how a former slave might feel about them.)

Urges City Commission to Pass Vaccination Law

I understand that dogs, especially those accompanying hunters, are liable to be bitten by those rabied animals and so contact the disease if not vaccinated against it.

★ ★ ★

This could be very dangerous, not only to the dogs, but to people.

Vaccine used to protect dogs from rabies but that has been changed in the last few years.

★ ★ ★

The city of Pontiac needs a law requiring dogs to be vaccinated against rabies, and I would urge our city commission to pass such a law.

For Progress

Buying Textbooks Still a Problem

To all of you "Just Wonderings" concerning the cost of textbooks, I want you to know that most of Clarkston is wondering, too. Wondering what to do about it, how to go about stopping it and yet smiling sweetly as we purchase these "golden books of knowledge." I am as much of a coward as the rest, because I have three children who just wouldn't understand being pushed around.

Coward

Let's have a vote at Clarkston. I don't agree with "Very Satisfied." A big pat on the back to "Just Wondering," for bringing up the subject on the charging of textbooks. Why do we pay so much for textbooks when we give our time and money to the fair to make it such a big success? Why do they vote in each room for a king and queen with money? The one that has the most money is the king and queen of the whole school. Poor little John and Mary would have made an ideal king and queen, but no money.

Not Satisfied

Worker Praises Local Union

"Shop Worker" criticizes the leadership of Local Union 653 UAW and infers the strike fund is being administered in unethical ways. This has no basis in fact.

The record of this local is not above reproach, but is such that union members everywhere can look with pride.

Cecil Mullinix, current president and Bert Henson, long-time financial secretary are well-respected gentlemen and have served in areas of civic importance and stand ready to work for the betterment of all citizens —union members or not.

The chairman and members of the strike fund committee are rank and file employes on temporary leave from their jobs in the plant. They worked hard. They did a good job under a trying situation and deserve a vote of thanks.

'Should Take Steps Before Condemning'

I am a Pontiac Press subscriber and work at the plant. I suggest true believers that are too good to sign their names and that are too lazy to work, get themselves a job before condemning anyone else. If anyone out of state doesn't pay their way, I sure would like to hear. I would like to have the person who believes in justice get himself a job in place of griping and not "paying." I sign my name.

'Why Don't People Report Damage?'

My wife was shopping when one fender was banged. No one left his name and phone number. It will cost me about $40 to repair the fender and loss of the car for a couple of days. The cost to the insured driver would be nothing.

Says It's Difficult Collecting Alimony

The men we married are responsible for the children, yet they get off with little or no meeting that responsibility in many cases.

The court awards us a set amount of alimony, property, etc., but try and get it. You get a run around from the men at the friend of the court office.

★ ★ ★

The women there help all they can, but they can only do so much.

Why do we have to hire an attorney to get what is rightfully ours? Few of us can barely exist let alone pay an attorney.

★ ★ ★

The Aid to Dependent Children, welfare and many attorneys can tell, you how much trouble they have trying to get cooperation.

Today is Saturday, Oct. 7, the 280th day of the year with 85 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1916, in the most staggering intercollegiate football defeat in history, Georgia Tech trounced Cumberland University 222 to nothing.

In 1940, troops of Nazi Germany occupied Rumania.

In 1950, the U.N. General Assembly approved an allied advance north of the 38th parallel in Korea.

A thought for today: American poet Emily Dickenson said: "Success is counted sweetest by those who ne'er succeed."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

'Sandwich Method' Works Best

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-418: Malcolm F., aged 38, is an employer who has a brilliant mind and a quick tongue.

"Maybe it is my fault, for I am a stickler for precision and neatness.

"Whenever I find a mistake, I point it out. Today my secretary began to cry and said she was quitting. I couldn't figure out why.

DR. CRANE

"But she finally told me I am too caustic and fault finding. Maybe that's right. But how can you correct mistakes without telling people about them?"

SANDWICH METHOD

You can't. But there are two ways to point out flaws. One is to pounce upon them sharply and "bawl out" the erring worker or school child.

★ ★ ★

This certainly shows him his mistake. But he is immediately deflated in his pride and inclined either to tears or to anger.

In either case, he dislikes his critic. And when we dislike people, we don't feel like, taking anything from them, even 24-carat gold bricks.

★ ★ ★

The second method of reproof or correction is far better. It is the "sandwich method." In it, you sandwich the meaty or critical layer between two honest compliments.

You should start out with a compliment. That's the first layer of this "sandwich."

"But when I'm irked, I don't feel like praising an employee!" Malcolm retorted. "I am more inclined to spit out my criticism."

CONTROL EMOTIONS

True, enough. Most of us don't even think of complimenting a mistake!

That's all the more reason why we must deliberately teach ourself to rule our emotions by our brain.

The successful people learn to do what they OUGHT to do, even though they don't always feel that way at the moment.

So if you follow your feelings and bawl out your wife or your child or your associates and employees, you may momentarily be elated at showing off your own superior knowledge.

But they feel worse and will dislike you or even project their hatred to the arithmetic or spelling or other work which caused your caustic reproof.

The strategy of dealing with people successfully demands that you use the sandwich method.

So bite your tongue, if need be, to curb your immediate tendency to point out the fault.

Then "praise and praise" the victim on some good point that he really possesses.

SMILE AND PRAISE

And by all means smile as you do so, for smiles take the sting out of actual criticism. And they ingratiate you with your school child or employee.

So, smile and praise as the first layer. Then, casually, lead into your meaty layer of correction by saying, "Bill, I wonder if it wouldn't save time if you did this in such-and-such a manner."

Even with your smile and that initial layer of praise, plus the leading in, it is possible that he may still feel slightly deflated in his ego and hence resentful.

So, complete the sandwich with another cheery compliment. That corrects his mistake but leaves him friendly toward you.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Sunday School Sessions Scheduled for Cobo Hall

Forty members of the Sunday School staff of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church will attend the National Sunday School Convention at Cobo Hall, Detroit Wednesday through Friday.

More than 7,000 persons from all over the United States are preregistered.

★ ★ ★

"There will be 130 workshops headed by outstanding qualified leaders," Rev. Theodore R. Allebach said. "The people of the Detroit area have an unusual opportunity with the convention so close, because it may be 10 or more years before the convention will be in Detroit again."

All young people are invited to hear Rev. Dave Grant during the 9:45 Sunday School hour. Rev. Mr. Grant is a staff evangelist for "Youth for Christ." In 1960 he traveled over 100,000 miles speaking at school assemblies, youth groups, Sunday Schools and worship services.

Rev. Mr. Allebach will continue his messages from the Book of I Corinthians at 11 a.m. Sunday. The Adult Choir wearing the new robes and stoles will sing "Ivory Palaces."

The three youth groups will meet at 5:45 p.m. "The Church and the World" will be the Builder's theme; "A Tragic Memory," the Pioneer's program title; and Post High youth will continue the study of the Book of Revelation.

★ ★ ★

At the 7 p.m. service Marilyn Schultz will be in charge of the music. The pastor will speak on "The Power of Negitive Thinking."

A group from the Oakland Avenue Church will have charge of the service at Pontiac Rescue Mission Tuesday evening.

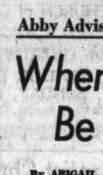
Abby Advises Lonely Gal to Relax

When Searching for Friends, Be One Yourself as Starter

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My life is such an unhappy mess I don't know where to begin. I am 22 years old. I am not married, engaged or going with anyone.



ABBY

I never have had a date or kissed anyone. Once a boy tried to kiss me and I didn't know how to respond.

When I was in high school I had several boys for friends, but they never asked me out.

All the girls I know are either married or have boy friends. If a boy shows an interest in me I become frightened and don't know how to act.

My relatives call me "old maid" behind my back, and some even to my face.

I am not unattractive. I am neat and clean and have a good figure and dress well. I don't go to church so don't send me to my clergyman.

I can't afford the prices I've heard psychiatrists charge. I don't want to go through life alone. I'm sorry I can't sign my name. (Sign me) . . .

OLD MAID AT 22

DEAR OLD MAID: To have friends you must be a friend. For one troubled by shyness, this is not easy.

But you must make an effort to give of yourself through association with people — at your office, in charity work, at church.

No one goes through life wholly "alone" except by choice — his choice. Relax, dear, you have nothing to lose but your loneliness.

DEAR ABBY: When parents have passed away what happens to the gifts given to them by their children?

Does any one of the children have the right to help herself to jewelry, appliances, linen, silver or anything else? I always thought the gift should go back to the person who gave it.

This has caused a lot of hard feelings in our family, and I would like some opinions other than my own as I have been called . . .

"SMALL AND GRASPING"

DEAR SMALL: The gift should be returned to the giver. The adjectives applied to you seem to fit other members of your family more appriately.

DEAR ABBY: My mother doesn't care what she looks like when she goes anywhere. I gave her a few tips on how to fix her hair, and what to wear, but she says I am being fresh and, if I don't like the way she looks, to keep it to myself. She could be a pretty woman if she would take a little time with herself. How can I help her without getting her mad at me? I am 13.

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: It is understandable that a mother would resent "criticism" from her 13-year-old daughter. Offer your suggestions in a more tactful way, and your mother will probably be more receptive. And perhaps even grateful.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Scout Troops Give Program for Altar Group

Mrs. Lewis Swartz, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Robert Schmude and Mrs. Cy Davis, Girl Scout leaders, whose troops demonstrated ceremonies of scouting and accomplishments of the past year.

In observance of the 50th or "Golden Year of Scouting," the girls planted bulbs of yellow flowers on the St. Michael Church and school property last week.

PLAN YULE PARTY

Plans for a Christmas party for patients at the Oakland County Medical Care Facility were announced by Mrs. Chester Jaruzel.

The group will serve breakfast to the men and boys of the Holy Name Society Nov. 12. All units are planning projects for the annual fall dinner and bazaar slated Oct. 14 and 15.

New members welcomed were Mrs. John Cole, Mrs. Eugene Crawley, Mrs. Lance Crick, Mrs. Ruth Pettius, Mrs. Edward Omans, Mrs. Paul Nedeau and Mrs. Gilbert Hoffman.

No, Do Not Add Phrase to Invitation

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: I am going to be married within the next few months. Since I can have only one hundred guests at the reception, I was wondering if it would be permissible to have "Children under 16 not admitted" printed at the bottom of the invitations.

The reason for this is that some people take it for granted that their children are invited to the reception. Will you please give me your opinion of this?

A: I'm sorry, but "children under 16 not admitted" would not do at all on your invitations. Surely if their names are not included on the invitations, people will know enough not to bring them.

In addition, you might have the fact that you are unable to include children spread to your friends by word of mouth.

★ ★ ★

Q: One of the girls in our office is sailing soon for Europe and will be gone two months. She has invited me along with several of the other girls with whom she works, to the boat for cocktails the day she sails.

We were wondering whether or not we are expected to take presents and if so, what would you suggest.

A: While presents are not obligatory, almost everyone takes a little something when seeing a friend off on a steamer. A current book, a magazine, a box of candy, a few flowers or, if you can afford it, a bottle of champagne.

HOME CLINIC

Nearly all homeowners will at some point face this difficult question: Shall we move . . . or improve the home we have?

The housing needs of every family change.

The result is that a house which was perfectly adequate when it was purchased no longer suffices after a very few years. A decision is required — move or improve.

The best answer is not the same in all cases.

As a homeowner, you will remember the high costs of acquiring a house. Closing costs, title insurance, moving expenses, new landscaping and lawn seeding costs, new curtain and drapery hardware—these items often add up to a total of several thousand dollars. That same money would probably go a long way toward overcoming any lack of comfort or convenience in your present home.

Consider, too, the basic cost of building, which has gone up greatly in the past few years. A new home — any new home — will cost more per square foot than you paid.

The neighborhood in which we have roots is important, too. It's difficult to move away from long-time friends, our church, the schools and nearby stores.

For some, the old place is too desperately inadequate or too run down for remodeling to solve the problem. But for most, the necessary investment to bring the present home completely up-to-date would be far less than the cost of moving to another house—and it wouldn't create an upheaval for the family.

If you are faced with this difficult decision, let our experts at Poole's Home Improvement Center help you find the answer. Phone us today at FE 4-1594.

Appliance, Auto Sales Rise

Consumer Buying Increase Reported

NEW YORK (AP)—The consumer is opening up his wallet and doing more buying.

* * *

That became evident this week in the appliance, furniture and automobile industries.

Another bright note was an improvement in the unemployment situation.

But the second big strike within a month in the automobile industry was a dampening factor. On the heels of settlement of a walkout against General Motors Corp., the United Automobile Workers Union called out 120,000 Ford Motor Co. workers and shut down that company's production.

Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges reported retail sales are "beginning to perk up." He predicted a rather substantial improvement in the next few months.

An indication of increased buying was the fact that consumers increased their installment debt by $98 million in August after a reduction in July.

The appliance industry, which has been hard-pressed lately, reported a sharp increase in sales in September. B o r g-Warner's Norge Division's factory sales were 59 per cent above September 1960.

* * *

General Electric's Hotpoint Division said its late September sales were the highest in three years. A September sales gain of 20 per cent over a year ago was reported by American Motors' Kelvinator Division.

A pickup in buying was noted by the furniture industry. Sales for many dealers have moved ahead of the 1960 level for the first time this year.

Some major producers have increased prices two to five per cent and most retailers are passing the hikes along to customers.

* * *

Automakers found a lively demand as they introduced their 1962 models. For example, there were these results: Studebaker-Packard reported dealers sold 3,562 Larks in the final 10 days of September, its highest 10-day figure since June 1960.

* * *

General Motors said its dealers sold 20,000 Pontiacs and Tempests in the most successful 10-day introductory period in Pontiac's history, and that Cadillac's 5,811 sales represented its second highest sales for any 10 days.

Chilled Motor for Space Fired by Lockheed

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—Lockheed's Grand Central Rocket Co. successfully test fired Friday a large solid-fuel rocket motor chilled to space-cold temperatures.

* * *

The company said the test showed the 13-foot-long, 36-inch-diameter motor fueled by new Polycarbutene-R propellant could operate "under the worst conditions encountered by military rockets or big boosters" in outer space.

* * *

The motor, strapped on a test stand at the company's proving ground near Beaumont, Calif., generated an average of 53,000 pounds of thrust for more than 30 seconds.

U.S. Reinforcements to Start Landing Soon

CHERBOURG, France (AP)—American troop transports carrying reinforcements for U.S. garrisons in West Germany will begin landing here next week. An advance unit has arrived to handle the incoming forces.

* * *

French port officials say that the authorities expect at least seven transports to touch here while the build-up is in progress. The first ship, expected Wednesday, will carry about 4,000 troops.

JAMES BARHAM

HENRY JOHNSON

Students' Deaths Puzzle Officials

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—Authorities are depending on results of an autopsy to clear up the mystery deaths of two University of North Carolina students in the dormitory room they shared.

"We can't give any diagnosis until the autopsy is complete," acting Coroner George Cannady said Friday night.

Cannady said it probably would be two or three days before the autopsy report is ready on the bodies of William Henry Harrison Johnson Jr., 24, and James Michael Barham, 21.

FOUND BY JANITOR

The bodies, in their beds and dressed in night clothes, were found Friday by a janitor who went to their room to investigate when they failed to appear for their jobs at the university dining hall.

Johnson, from Statesville, was a graduate student in industrial relations. Barham, a junior, was from Burlington.

The postmortem was ordered after a coroner's jury ruled that the young men had died "by unknown causes." Superficial examinations, authorities said, disclosed no evidence of foul play.

"Everything hinges on the autopsy report," said Police Chief W. D. Blake. "We have nothing to go on, as of now."

Cannady said one of the dead youths, whom he did not identify, had foam on his mouth, and there were also reports one of the youths had been ill Thursday night. The acting coroner said all angles were being studied, including examination of fresh fruit found in their room.

Paternity Suit Refiled Against Comic Mort Sahl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Patricia Manley, 32, an attractive widow, refiled Friday a paternity suit against comedian Mort Sahl.

She had withdrawn a previous suit for technical corrections.

Her complaint asks that Sahl, 35, be declared the father of her 2½-month-old son Adam Matthew and that he pay $1,005 a month support.

Sahl has denied paternity but expressed willingness to support the child if he is legally declared the father.

Berliners Grasp Grimness of Reds' Wall

BERLIN (UPI) — Most visitors cannot believe it until they touch it, but the Communist wall across Berlin is a reality.

★ ★ ★

It is a 25-mile-long chain whose links are concrete, brick, barbed wire and water, stretched across the gate to freedom.

To Berliners, it is a reality of life and death.

The wall has no unguarded gaps, but it can and has been breached. The odds are long; the stakes high. An escapee needs imagination, luck and nerve to get through.

THE CHOICES

Is it better to swim 100 yards across a pitch-black canal or to chew through a criss-cross of barbed wire with a pair of pliers?

To ram a light automobile through 10 inches of concrete or to jump out of a fifth-floor window?

Communist bullets have sent at least two refugees to the bottom of the canal waters. At least four have died in falls to West Berlin sidewalks.

★ ★ ★

Scores have been snared in the barbed wire and hauled off to prison. Five men, women and children were caught in the back of a truck which stuck halfway through the concrete barrier.

The city of Berlin is a rough circle in the center of Communist East Germany.

The wall runs from the East German border in the north to the East German border in the south, separating the eastern third of the city from the two-thirds controlled by American, British and French forces.

It starts in the north as a double line of barbed wire strung on parallel concrete posts seven feet high, with more barbed wire tangled between.

Twelve miles north of the Brandenburg Gate, between Luebars District in the west and the Rosenthal District in the east, the barbed wire runs through miles of potato fields and small garden plots with summer cottages and tool huts.

It continues a few feet west of a narrow gauge suburban railway. Some East Berliners have pulled the emergency cord and scrambled through, shielded from Communist police by the train itself.

The wall pushes south into industrial sectors on the east side of an elevated railway embankment. At Koepenagener Strasse, a siding ends abruptly at a street crossing.

Barbed wire has been strung along the top of an old brick wall beside the railway and the tracks are piled with stone, rubble and bricks.

BUILDINGS INCLUDED

A little farther, the side of a bombed-out building and the back fence of the people's own building material factory have been topped with the wire and incorporated into the wall.

The output from the people's own factory is seen more and more as the wall nears the congested center of Berlin.

East-west streets are sealed off with 30-inch slabs of pink-brown concrete — originally turned out for "workers' apartments" to relieve Communist Germany's acute housing shortage.

The slabs are topped with two, three or more layers of granite cubes, neatly mortared in place, and two-foot-high iron bars strung with more barbed wire.

The same 10-inch-thick wall marches through bombed out areas on the border and even down the center of streets which are the dividing line.

In Bernauer Strasse, Communists have capped the weathered bricks of an old cemetery with broken glass. Rough boulders fill the gate which used to open on a West Berlin street.

Here and on a few other streets, the apartment houses themselves are part of the wall. They are in East Berlin; their front sidewalks are in West Berlin.

Their doors and lower-floor windows have been bricked over and blocked with timber. Scores of persons have jumped from their upper floors, some to their deaths.

CANAL USEFUL

Close by Brandenburg Gate, just behind the burned-out Reichstag building, a "canal cuts at right angles across the border. The water is the wall, banked on the Communist side with more barbed wire.

At the gate itself, the barrier is a tangle of barbed wire, a series of concrete slabs between gate pillars and a zig-zag of four-foot-high concrete road blocks.

South along the Teltow Canal, the water border is backed by double barbed wire, a five-foot-deep ditch and a 20-yard "death strip" cleared of houses and trees to give Communist police a clear field of fire on refugees.

Water, wire, concrete and brick, the wall is real.

About 24 million Americans now living will die of cancer if present mortality rates continue, according to estimates currently made by the American Cancer Society.

Assign Recruiter to Navy Office in City

Boatswain's Mate 1 C. Robert L. Huffaker Jr., 25, has been assigned to the Navy recruiting office in Pontiac after serving three years on the submarine USS Bang in the Atlantic Fleet.

He received the China Service medal for operating in the Formosa Straits aboard the aircraft carrier Princeton from 1954 until 1958.

Huffaker is residing at 1241 Dufrain St. with his wife and their two daughters, Charlene, 7, and Rhonda, 4. His parents live at 19 Matthews Ave.

Parking Violators Can Be Mean Bunch

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Paying a $1 fine for overparking evidently doesn't bring out the best in a man.

One motorist mailed in 100 pennies with his ticket. The pennies were glued together and wrapped in plastic tape.

Mrs. Betty Aiken, clerk in the City Revenue Department, recalls another motorist who stapled his dollar bill to the parking ticket—with 100 staples.

About two million school children in the U.S. have impaired hearing. Figures show children so afflicted fail in their school work four times as often as normal children.

Doctor Runs Into Hitch in Postgraduate Work

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Because of infant Konzen, the female Dr. Konzen is slightly behind the male Dr. Konzen in postgraduate work at Akron City Hospital.

Dr. John Konzen and his wife, Dr. Claudette Konzen, planned when they were graduated from medical school at the University of Ottawa, Canada, to complete postgraduate work together.

★ ★ ★

Replace Arkansas Rice Crop

Farmers Harvesting Fish

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Noted for its tree farms, cotton and soybeans, Arkansas is developing a new multimillion-dollar farm crop.

The inland state is turning to commercial fish farming.

★ ★ ★

The industry, in its infancy, is bringing in at least $1 million annually in new money now, and experts say the potential 100,000 acres of land adaptable to fish farming hardly have been touched.

Fish farming came about in Arkansas almost by accident. A rice farmer discovered that he had an enormous amount of fish in his rice farm reservoir, and he had not even stocked the pond.

Realizing the potential, he and his neighbors began experimenting.

They decided to build higher levees around their rice fields and grow fish on the flooded lands when they were not in rice production.

Since most rice farmers let their lands lie out a year after two years of production, and because government restrictions curtailed rice acreage, the program worked well.

Farmers working in close cooperation with the agricultural extension service found that the water cover for the land killed undesirable vegetation, and together with the fish, fertilized the land.

★ ★ ★

This reduced the heavy expense for fertilizer, and the revenue was equal or greater than that from the rice crop.

A group of fish farmers recently entertained the Arkansas Legislature at a dinner at which the fish — buffalo — was prepared in three different ways: fried, scared and baked and smoked.

It was pointed out that Arkansas could produce at least 100 million pounds of fish each year if a market could be found, that fish raised on Arkansas farms is shipped by air all over the world, that farm-produced fish is easier to harvest than salt-water fish, and that commercial fish farming is found in every county of the state.

But Takes Game Seriously

Smart Bridge Player, 6, Won't Criticize Partners

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Ask 6-year-old Mark Leake what his favorite indoor game is, and he'll swear it's "bridge."

★ ★ ★

He used to count points on his fingers under the table, but not anymore.

Mark is an "all-around" boy, his mother says. He plays bridge mostly with his family. Outdoors "his first love is baseball and the Milwaukee Braves."

Mark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Fletcher Leake, Jr. tried to discourage him from playing bridge.

"We're a closely knit family," Mrs. Leake said, "and when we started taking bridge lessons Mark didn't want to be left out."

The parents and an older boy, Fletcher II, 13, started taking bridge lessons last fall at the Memphis Athletic Club from Mrs. Vernon Place, who has written a book on the game.

Mark insisted on going along.

"On the first practice day," the mother said, "Mark took five tricks, more than the others."

Mrs. Leake said she tried to tell Mark that bridge was "too difficult" for him to learn at his age.

★ ★ ★

"I tried to talk him out of it," she said. "But Mark wouldn't have it."

Mark can just about spread out his cards in his little fingers. He takes the game seriously, talks little "but makes facial expressions all the time."

Mrs. Leake said Mark doesn't show anger or annoyance at his partner's mistakes.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Place, Mark's tutor, said she thinks the boy is one of the youngest members in the American Contract Bridge League. She said his greatest bridge triumph was a little slam in spades.

Of Mark, Mrs. Place said, "He is a very interesting player and one with whom playing is most enjoyable."

Dr. Kelly Named Guidance Clinics Medical Director

The executive board of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinics, Inc., has named Dr. William H. Kelly as acting medical director. Dr. William J. Westmaas, president, announced.

Dr. Kelly also will continue to serve as head of the Community Services Division of the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

According to Dr. Westmaas, "We are taking this action to improve the coordination between the three child guidance clinics in Oakland County and to strengthen the organization and operation of them.

"The interim appointment of Dr. Kelly is indicative of the importance being placed on the work of the Child Guidance Clinics in Oakland County."

Dr. Westmaas also said the organization was engaged in a search for a full-time psychiatric director. Robert F. Wollaeger, appointed administrative director of the Clinics in 1960, continues in this capacity, with headquarters at the Pontiac Clinic, 113 Franklin Blvd.

Your Neighbor's House

Built to Order for the Later Years

background for LIVING

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

About 10 per cent of the population of any city is the group known as senior citizens. These are the people whose needs the housing industry is seriously considering nowadays.

So far as we know, there has been no concerted effort to build houses appealing just to this group in Pontiac. But many older residents have taken the initiative and done their own planning.

Such a couple, the T. W. Holloways, have a new house on Garland Avenue in Sylvan Lake City.

The Holloways lived in an upper duplex a few blocks away for about nine years. Holloway says he had his eye on his present lot all that time. There's 60 feet on the road and 45 feet across the back. The lot is 150 feet deep.

Although Mrs. Holloway considers her home to be ideal for her and her husband's needs now, it is interesting to know that the floor plan duplicates that of their daughter's house in the Detroit area. Ray Rapaport did the building.

This same daughter, Virginia Lowrie, is an interior designer who worked closely with the builders on such items as paint, wallpaper, color of the kitchen appliances and lighting. Then she and her mother did the rest of the interior decorating.

LIGHT ROOM

The living room, of course, is the largest room in the house. It has a picture window in front, a smaller window on the side and a door farther back on the same side. The ceiling beams are pickled birch.

Walls and carpeting are a creamy white. The draperies are a soft rose.

Senior citizens, says one housing expert, accumulate many precious and sentimental objects and need adequate storage space.

SHE AGREES

"Everything in the house," says Mrs. Holloway, "means something to us." What is not on display is housed in the excellent closets and cupboards. This is one of the plus features of the house.

All the pictures on the walls are either paintings done by Holloway's brother or enlargements of vacation snapshots. The spinning wheel in the front window belonged to a great-grandmother who used to talk to the Indians while she spun flax.

In the corner near the side door is "His" chair and "Her" chair. With supper on a tray, the Holloways sit and enjoy television. Any guests can sit on the green down-filled sofa nearby. There are flowers and plants throughout the house, tended by the green thumb of Mrs. Holloway.

All furniture is mahogany. Formal meals are served on the drop-leaf table near the kitchen door. There's a desk on the back wall and in the hall beyond a mahogany mirror. This not only brightens the hall, but carries the mahogany theme into the bedroom area.

Mrs. Lowrie mixed all the paint for the house. In the kitchen she used a warm beige, keyed to the pumpkin color in the wallpaper above the table. This wallpaper and that in the bath are plasticized for easy maintenance. There's also beige and brown in the wallpaper pattern.

The breakfast table has a birch Formica top and a bronzetone frame. The plastic-covered chairs look quilted; they're gold and beige. The handsome Seth Thomas clock on the wall above has been keeping time for 135 years; it has a comforting tick.

* * *

The floor tile is a mottled pattern of beige, pumpkin and white. The white counter tops and splash boards are speckled with gold and cinnamon. Appliances—even the range and oven—are white. The white dotted swiss curtains have brown and beige rick rack and pumpkin color bias tape.

All drawers glide smoothly. All cupboards open and close easily. A large half circle shelf comes out of one corner. There is storage for company china over the oven and drawer storage below.

Behind the kitchen is a utility room and a lavatory. This last is ideal for visiting grandchildren. There's extra storage in the utility room. Just one step down—and this is the only step in the house—is the attached garage with a workroom-furnace room back of it. At the rear of the garage the Holloways have a patio.

In the larger bedroom the furniture is traditional mahogany. There are heirloom-type spreads on the twin beds. Instead of a straight slipper chair there is a small rocker.

The oversized cedar chest was made by Holloway in 1913. It's trimmed with copper he cut himself in a special design.

Across one wall is a louvered door closet. A spotlight in the ceiling takes the place of an inside fixture.

The walls are beige; the ceiling cinnamon. Curtains on the high corner windows are beige with a cinnamon beige design. The traverse pulls are permanently attached to the wall. Plastic clips hold the curtains back when the windows are open. The carpeting is moss green.

In the second bedroom there is the same green carpeting, but walls and curtains are a gray green. Under one window is an antique walnut chest on chest. The beige bedspread is striped in green, yellow and blue.

Butterflies and flowering vines make the bathroom wallpaper pretty. The shower curtain matches. Mrs. Lowrie cut one design from the paper and applied it to the peach wall over the toilet. Tile is pale peach. On the sill of the tiny window there are two bottles filled with colored water—peach and blue. Lighting is good and the mirror large enough.

LISTS ASSETS

Mrs. Holloway listed for us the features she considers most important in her new home. Other oldsters who might be planning to build could check these. The only thing housing experts would add would be grab rails next to the bathtub.

Here is Mrs. Holloway's list:

1. No stairs
2. A utility room with the latest equipment and a broom and outdoor clothing closet built in.
2. Attached 1½-car garage with separate work and furnace room behind.
4. Gas heat
5. Sliding duo-glass windows with aluminum frames and storm windows; no separate storm sash.
6. Hood over the stove to remove moisture and odors.
7. All wallpaper plasticized
8. Adequate kitchen storage
9. Extra large closets with added storage space
10. The exterior: brick; wide cornices, extra insulation
11. High wall plugs.

There's every incentive in the world for the Holloways to have a golden age in their new home.

Wood Paneling Needs Careful Preparation

According to the Southern Pine Association, effective moisture control is a key factor in applying and finishing wood paneling.

* * *

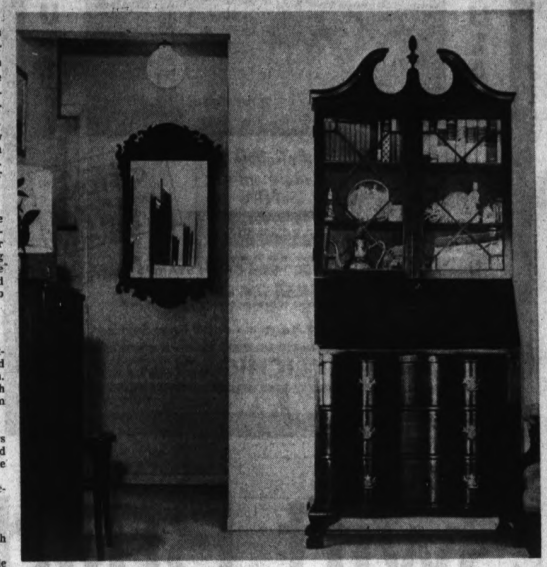
First, the user should specify paneling that's been properly seasoned (dried) and pre-shrunk. Proper seasoning is mandatory for all grades of Southern Pine paneling.

* * *

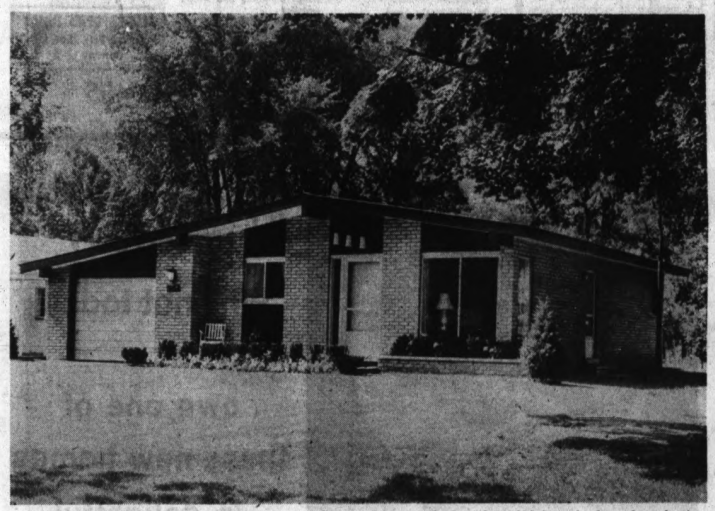
After delivery, the paneling should be stacked on narrow separator sticks prior to installation. This should be done in the room where the paneling will be used.

Finally, the backs and ends of the paneling should be treated with a penetrating sealer or other moisture resistant coating.

When these precautions are observed, wood paneling will provide a permanent installation on the rooms walls. Moreover, the stain or natural finishes which are applied will last indefinitely.



MAHOGANY — In the glass front top of the secretary the Holloways keep some of the treasures they have gathered on their travels. Behind this piece of furniture is a deep closet. The mahogany mirror in the hall brings in a little more light and carries the mahogany theme into the bedroom area. Carpeting and walls are creamy white



RETIREMENT HOME — This small brick home on the big tree shaded lot in Sylvan Lake City belongs to the T. W. Holloways. Ray Rapaport was the builder. Trim for the rosy brick is beige and brown. Note the wide overhang. The Holloways like the three drop lights over the front door which has a handsome brass knocker. Holloway has spent many hours working on the lawn and with the flowers. The couple moved in last December.

HER PRIDE — The kitchen is Mrs. Holloway's pride and joy. Beige, brown and pumpkin figures on the white wallpaper set the color scheme of the room. The dado and other walls are painted a warm beige. The white range and oven are unusual. Notice the good drawer space below the oven and the cupboard above. The breakfast set is bronzetone and beige with gold "quilting" on the chairs.

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderwarp

BEDROOM — This bedroom has ample space for twin beds, a chest of drawers, the cedar chest and a rocker. Walls are beige with the ceiling a shade of cinnamon. The curtains are beige with cinnamon beige flowers. At the left you can see just the top of the cedar chest Holloway made nearly 50 years ago.

THE INNER ROOM—Not a room in a house, but one set up in Poole's Home Improvement Center, 151 Oakland Avenue. The company has constructed this room inside the store and furnished it to show customers what can be done with panelling, block flooring and ceiling materials. The free-standing fireplace can be installed in any home. Poole's will hold open house Oct. 13 and 14 from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Bathrooms and a kitchen are also on display.

About 80 per cent of the 1.2 million new homes expected to be built in the United States this year will be in new developments.

Toss Out the Dust Pan

A new variation of an old idea is to install a "dust drop" in your kitchen floor. This consists of a hinged panel along the baseboard which will swing open from the top when pressure is applied — and swing closed again by its own weight. When cleaning the to the opening and push it through! A chute or duct will guide the dirt from your dust drop to a receptacle in the basement.

Look Ahead to 1962 and Patio Cooking

Summer is ended, but for housewives some memories of those scorching days in the kitchen linger on. Now is the time to make plans to beat the heat of indoor cooking by setting up a patio kitchen.

★ ★ ★

Breakfast, lunch and dinner can all be enjoyed outdoors with small portable electric appliances, such as an oven, frying pan, griddle and coffee blender, and, of course, rotisserie attached to a barbecue grill.

Don't use extension cords attached to indoor electric outlets. Instead, have several outdoor outlets installed at convenient spots on your patio. These should be three-wire rather than two-wire circuits for maximum safety.

★ ★ ★

A permanent outdoor table with a ceramic tile top will complete your outdoor eating area. Ceramic tile won't burn or tarnish even when a hot frying pan is placed on it, yet it will withstand even the most severe weather conditions. And it will add permanent beauty to your patio kitchen.

First Time Homeowners Run Into Problems

(Editors' Note: United Press International reporter William J. Eaton recently moved into his own home after life-long apartment dwelling.)

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There's nothing wrong with my handyman's guide. A homeowner's life just isn't that simple.

★ ★ ★

The guides make it look easy to fix a faucet, paint a wall or do the fall tuneup on the furnace. 1-2-3 steps. Fine—but.

"Small plumbing repair jobs around the house are not difficult," the handyman's guide assures the novice. "You avoid the inconvenience of waiting until the plumber can get around to you."

With that encouragement, I recently turned my talents to a leaky faucet in the kitchen sink. Fixing it looked like a lead-pipe cinch.

★ ★ ★

The faucet got fixed — after 48 hours with no water and a $16.50 visit by the plumber. The would-be repairman used the wrong wrench on the wrong packing nut, stripped threads on the faucet and then discovered it was a rare brand that had not been manufactured for 10 years.

This involved a mail order delivery from Philadelphia.

Not a word about those possible pitfalls in the guide.

Then it was time to check the furnace before cold weather came. In the how-to-do-it manual, this is gaily illustrated by a picture of a smiling housewife flicking a switch.

When I tried it, there were more complications. First, the main burner valve was faulty and had to be replaced. A fuse blew out. The humidifier that feeds water into the hot air vent needed adjustment. Result: two inches of water on basement floor. Real-life housewife scowling at the mess.

The do-it-yourself guide also ducks some tough problems posed by the garden.

For instance, how do you keep your balance on a ladder when you stir up a hornet's nest while trimming roses?

Or where can you rent a suit of armor to use when pruning a thorn bush?

The guide is no help here. It tells you instead there are 1,350 one-inch finishing nails in a pound.

This makes me believe there might be a built-in market for a not-so-handy man's guide. Any other buyers?

Area Builder Wins Special Home Award

Nosan Building Corp. of Detroit has won a Special Merit Award in Parents' Magazine 12th Annual Builders Competition, recently concluded.

The Special Award was for "planning a home for families with children." The architect was William Gruenewald of Farmington.

The builders will be given their award at the convention of the National Association of Home Builders to be held in Chicago beginning December 3.

The ideal retirement house is compact, comfortable, convenient, easy to maintain and as accident-proof from falls as possible.

Expand Heating Too

If you decide to expand the living space of your home, don't forget to make plans for heating, says the National Better Heating-Cooling Council. In nine cases out of ten the new space will require some type of heating.

Shelter Offered Owners of Basementless Homes

WASHINGTON — An inside fall-out shelter has been designed for homes without basements, according to the Journal of Homebuilding, official magazine of the National Association of Home Builders.

The shelter is designed around a bathroom in the core of the house. It has been approved by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

The unusual shelter is being offered at Wedgewood Park in Youngstown, Ohio, by builder John P. Shutrump of United Construction Co.

Shutrump was awarded a $1,500 OCDM contract to build the model shelter under a government - sponsored demonstration program. More than 1,600 different shelters were installed under the over-all OCDM prototype program of which the basementless home shelter was a part.

The bathroom shelter was designed by the Department of Civil Engineering of Youngstown University.

On the surface, the shelter looks like most modern bathrooms, but under the tile and plaster are materials that Civil Defense officials say will afford maximum radiation-inconspicuous compartments for protection. The bathroom has cots and food. A hand-driven blower can be attached to a filtered air-intake pipe for emergency ventilation.

The exterior dimensions of the bathroom shelter are 9'4"x12'8" and the interior is 6'3"x9'4". Three rows of concrete blocks give the walls a 20" thickness.

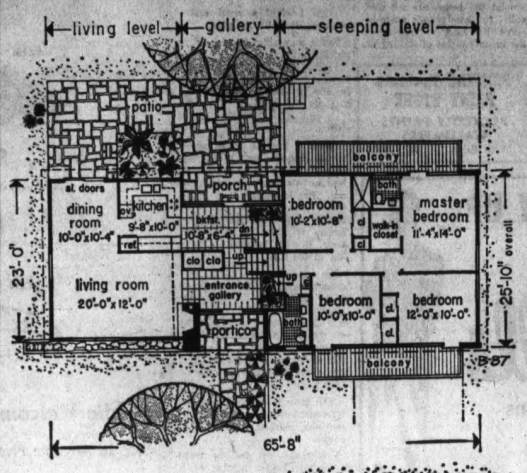
Interior walls and ceiling are tiled, plastered and decorated as a regular bathroom. A lead shield can be installed to cover the 3' wide window. An 8" concrete-block hall wall, opposite the bathroom shields the doorway.

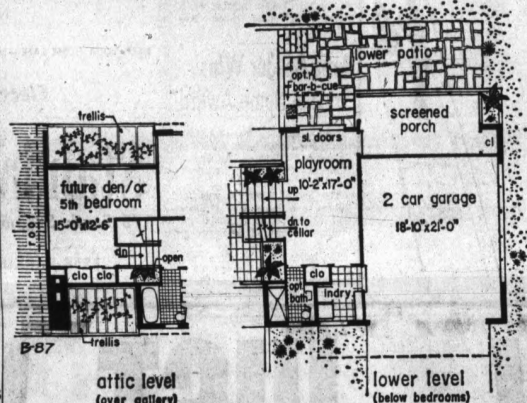
Get Out of Split Level Basement Via New Hatch

A new steel hatchway has been designed for use over the steps leading from the basement of split-level houses to the yard. This hatchway can be used where the basement is from 20 to 40 inches below the grade level.

The split-level hatchway enables home-owners to get in and out of their basement without coming up to the recreation room, garage or other part of the house. It is made by the Bilco Company, New Haven, Conn.

STRIKING AND NEAT — Unusual split level, with four bedrooms and three full baths in 1,477 square feet, features a center gallery which makes for excellent zoning as well as providing expansion opportunity for a fifth bedroom or den. Note dramatic one and one-half story entrance portico.





FLOOR PLANS — The center gallery, indented front and rear from the rest of the house, provides excellent traffic circulation, dividing home into clearly zoned areas. Basic house contains 1,477 square feet in overall dimensions of 65'8" by 25'10". Lot size of 80' by 100' is suggested.

Well Zoned Split Level Revolves Around Gallery

By JULES LOH

A neat innovation in traditional split level design, based on an interesting and functional entrance gallery, enabled architect Samuel Paul to score a remarkable achievement in this house.

He has packaged four bedrooms, three full baths and an impressive exterior in 1,477 square feet of basic house — which has, in addition, expansion space for a large fifth bedroom or den.

Paul calls the house the Juliet. It is design B-87 in the House of the Week series.

The gallery, indented both front and rear from the rest of the house, serves as an entrance foyer in front and a glass-walled breakfast area in back. A double closet separates the two.

The indention creates a covered porch (one of two) in the rear, and in front results in a striking entrance portico one and a half stories high.

ATTIC SPACE

The bonus space in this house — a usable attic which may be finished at some later date — is another benefit of the gallery idea. The 15' by 12'6" room results by simply carrying the higher bedroom roof across the gallery.

An equally important effect of the gallery, if not more important, is that it makes for excellent zoning. Living, sleeping and informal areas are clearly separated to a degree not usually found in split level homes.

At the same time, the breakfast area serves as a connecting link between the kitchen, porch, playroom and two patios, integrating the entire rear of the house into a large informal living area encompassing two levels.

From the exterior, Paul's deft use of brick veneer transforms B-87 from a simple wood frame house to one of solid, suburban character. Its shape also facilitates economical construction: only 10,400 board feet of framing lumber are required.

Dimensions of the house are 65'8" wide by 23' deep on the living room side and 25'10" deep on the bedroom side. Paul suggests a lot of 80' by 100'.

Two balconies, on the front and back of the bedroom level, provide a touch of elegance at only incidental extra cost. They are built simply by overhanging the floor joists.

Besides offering outdoor living on an upper level, they also provide protection from the weather below — over the garage door and screened porch. If desired, the walls and floor of the front balcony can be eliminated and a decorative trellis thus formed.

A high cathedral ceiling in the living and dining rooms provides another accent of glamor, as well as economy. A combined planter and lighting cove, passing in front of the brick fireplace and extending the full width of the living room, provides a subtle transition from the 9' high gallery to the 19' high living room.

All three full bathrooms in this house are well placed and of good size. The front bath has a built-in double vanity and a recessed tub, and both the master bath and the bath on the playroom level (an optional feature) have large-size tile stall showers.

Large patios on two levels, plus a screened porch on the lower level, provide excellent outdoor living features, not to mention the two balconies and covered porch on the upper levels. Sliding glass doors in the dining room and playroom make both patios enjoyable from the interior as well as accessible.

Why Not Install It in the Basement?

Looking for an extra washroom? Don't forget the basement area, suggests the Institute of Home Designers. It says that the average home-owner over-estimates how much space is needed for a washroom, and that a washbasin and water-closet can easily be fitted into an area 4 feet by 4 feet.

* * *

Basements make a good location for an extra bathroom because it generally is easy to hook into existing plumbing there. This area also provides an excellent mud-room for adults and children working and playing out of doors. To be most effective, a basement washroom should be readily accessible to the outdoors, preferably through a separate basement entrance from the yard.

Contoured Sinks Will Fit Dishes Better

There is a proper-shaped sink for dishwashing, contends Karl Jansen, president of Jensen-Thorsen Corporation—whose stainless steel sinks are all contour-shaped.

* * *

"For years, people put round dishes in square sinks—and that was doing it the hard way," Jensen asserts. "The rounded contour shape of Jensen sinks is easier on the dishes, and cuts down on breakage. Incidentally, it also prevents splashing."

Midland Wins When PAT Try Hits Upright

Chiefs Score Touchdown In Final 4 Seconds of Exciting Valley Game

By BILL CORNWELL

Paul Dellerba has reached his wits end.

Pontiac Central's capable head coach is ready for a straitjacket and wondering what his gridders have to do to win a football game after Friday night's heartbreaking 48 minutes at Wisner Stadium.

The Chiefs are fast gaining the dubious distinction of being the best losing team in the Saginaw Valley Conference following yesterday's 7-6 setback at the hands of the Midland Chemics in a real first-class thriller.

A missed placekick for the tying point with only four seconds left on the scoreboard clock resulted in Pontiac's 3rd defeat of the season to accompany last week's 13-13 tie at Arthur Hill.

★ ★ ★

After two scoring bids failed, PCH finally hit pay dirt on the last play of the game from scrimmage as quarterback Bob Pomeroy hit halfback Charley Humphrey with a touchdown pass covering 66 yards.

Humphrey grabbed the pigskin at midfield and outraced the Midland secondary down the eastern sidelines to climax a PCH aerial assault in the final minute of action.

Pomeroy's boot for the 7th point struck the right upright of the goal posts and caromed off to the side, thus frustrating the Chiefs once more in their bid for victory No. 1.

Pomeroy attempted an onside kickoff, but the Chemics fell on the ball on the Midland 37 to preserve their 3rd triumph in four starts.

★ ★ ★

Midland scored with 8:32 remaining in the 2nd quarter and for the 2nd time this fall, a blocked punt gave the enemy its touchdown opportunity.

Bob Nowak, a rangy and speedy end, blocked Pomeroy's punt on the PCH 10-yard stripe and the Chemics recovered the loose ball on the 16.

★ ★ ★

Quarterback Larry Jaster, a southpaw aerial artist who is being eyed by major league scouts because of his skill as a baseball pitcher, and Nowak joined forces to set up the Midland TD.

Jaster passed to Nowak for 15 yards, then Jaster sneaked into the end zone from the one-yard line. Jaster's kick for the extra point was perfect and Midland led at halftime, 7-0.

The Chiefs got a break late in the 2nd period when Jaster's pass to Nowak for a 44-yard TD was nullified by a clipping penalty.

It was the Jaster-Nowak combination that raised hob with PCH. The Chiefs did an excellent job of containing the Midland ground attack, but Jaster completed seven of 13 aerial attempts for 133 yards. Nowak caught five of them for 99 yards.

Two Midland scoring threats were stopped by halfback Roy Couser's alert defensive play. Couser, an outstanding performer for PCH, intercepted two of Jaster's passes, one on the PCH seven in the 2nd stanza and the other on the Pontiac five in the 3rd quarter.

★ ★ ★

Prior to the Pomeroy-Humphrey touchdown strike, the Chiefs wasted two golden scoring chances.

They took the opening kickoff and marched from their own 14 to the Midland six where they lost the ball on downs. Early in the 4th period, sparked by the running of Couser and Andy Roach, they drove from their own 17 to the Chemic 23 where they again lost the pigskin on downs.

The Chiefs made their bid for a tie with only one minute to go after halting the Chemics on the PCH 11.

★ ★ ★

Aided by a 15-yard penalty against the Chemics, Pomeroy filled the air with desperation aerials and just missed receivers on four occasions before connecting with Humphrey. Earlier in the contest PCH receivers twice dropped passes in a wide-open field.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac had numerous standout performers in the defensive line, but leading the way were ends Elick Shorter and Milford Hillie, tackle Dick Richards and center Tom Elchorn.

TROUBLE AHEAD — Pontiac Central quarterback Bob Pomeroy looks for an opening as Midland tacklers converge on him in Friday's Saginaw Valley game at Wisner Stadium. The Chiefs lost another heartbreaker, 7-6.

Kettering Outclassed by Cranbrook, 24-6

Waterford's new Kettering High School was outclassed by Cranbrook Friday afternoon in a non-conference football game on the Cranbrook gridiron.

Paced by Dick Mosher, 15-year-old junior quarterback, the Cranes scored once in every period to hand Jim Larkin's Kettering team a 24-6 thrashing.

Mosher completed 4 of 9 passes for 89 yards and was the Cranes' top ground gainer with 59 yards in 6 carries, including a 20-yard TD jaunt in the 2nd stanza.

The Cranes now are undefeated in three starts under their new head coach, Pete Slader. It was Kettering's 2nd loss in three games.

★ ★ ★

Only Kettering's creditable aerial arm prevented a thorough pasting. The Captains gained 147 yards through the air and quarterback Dick Shipman's 17-yard pass to Ray Heaton in the 4th quarter accounted for their lone touchdown.

Kettering's offense went nowhere on the ground as the stout Cranbrook defense limited the rushing attack to a skimpy 14 yards.

Even though passes were Kettering's best weapon, it was an aerial that backfired that sent Cranbrook on the road to victory.

Bob Hicks intercepted Shipman's pass and galloped 20 yards into the end zone to give the Cranes a 6-0 lead.

Mosher's TD sprint made the score 12-0 at halftime, then halfback Dave Schultz put Kettering three TDs behind with a 1-yard plunge.

After Shipman and Heaton clicked for six points, Hicks rambled 32 yards off tackle for Cranbrook's 4th TD to conclude the scoring. Hicks fumbled the ball on the Captains' 19, but picked it up and went on unmolested.

Clay Fights Miteff

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Can Olympic Champion Cassius Clay take a real hard punch?

That question will be answered tonight when the 19-year-old Louisvillian meets Argentina's rugged Alex Miteff in a scheduled 10-round nationally televised (ABC TV, 9 p.m. EST) boxing match at Freedom Hall. Clay is rated the 2-1 favorite.

BIG BOUNCE — Alert Pontiac Northern end Jim Anderson heads for the ball as it bounces by a fallen Walled Lake gridder in last night's big homecoming battle at the Viking field. The home team dominated the play but could edge the hard-fighting Huskies by only 9-6.

Jays Rumble to Life, Top Waterford, 19-0

By DON VOGEL

It could be that a slumbering giant is coming to life again.

About this time last year, Southfield began to make a move on the Inter-Lakes championship. The Blue Jays, off to a slow start, managed to overtake Walled Lake late in the season and the two schools tied for first place in the final standings.

★ ★ ★

The charges of Coach Monte Charles lost their first three games this fall, including last week's I-L opener to Pontiac Northern.

But last night, the Jays looked like a much improved team as they easily downed Waterford, 19-0. The loss was the second straight in league play and third in four games for the Skippers.

Berkley stayed even with Walled Lake by downing winless Farmington, 20-6.

"We've had our problems," said Charles. "Maybe tonight's win will help straighten things out. It must be remembered that we lost to a couple of good teams (Royal Oak Kimball and Ferndale) in our opening games.

"This team is much greener than the one we had last year. So you never really know what will happen before the season is over."

SCORE TWICE

After reaching the Waterford four-yard line in the first quarter and being thrown back, Southfield struck for two quick touchdowns in the next period.

Halfback Joe Francis capped a 34-yard drive by running the final three yards off-tackle for the game's first touchdown. Minutes later, quarterback Tom Larson hit All-County end Mike Fournier with a pass on the Waterford 39 and the big senior rambled the rest of the way to complete a 63-yard play.

The Blue Jays recovered a Skipper fumble on the Waterford 33 late in the fourth quarter to setup their last score. Fullback Joe D'Angelo pounded over from the two to end the drive.

The Skippers took the kickoff and marched to the Farmington one-yard line. Time ran out before they could move into the end zone. It was Waterford's lone threat.

Until the final effort, the Skippers moved the ball into Southfield territory only four times, reaching the 36-yard line once.

Southfield's defense kept the Skippers' ground game very much in check. Waterford netted only 39 yards rushing, sophomore Lee Keiser making 19 on one dash.

Keiser's run and three complete passes for 48 yards helped Waterford reach the Jays' goal line as the contest ended.

Quarterback Bob Readler completed six of 11 aerials for the losers, including the three in the final minute of play. Waterford picked up 80 yards in the air.

SHOWS POWER

D'Angelo, a 180-pound sophomore, ripped the Waterford line to shreds in the first half. He gained 63 yards in eight carries as the Blue Jays piled up 113 yards on the ground before the intermission.

Southfield played a more conservative game in the second half, trying to protect its lead. D'Angelo gained five more yards on three tries. Waterford's defense, spearheaded by end Andy Straka, also tightened.

Several times Straka fought off two or more blockers to make a tackle when it counted.

★ ★ ★

Berkley had little trouble picking up its second league win in as many starts.

Steve Hollingworth started the scoring for the Bears by running over from the five. Then quarterback Phil Krumm returned a punt 55 yards for another TD.

Dan Osborne bucked over from the two for the other Berkley score. He also picked up an extra point as did Dick Edgerton. John Hackstedde scored Farmington's touchdown on a 45-yard run.

Lake Orion Rallies for Triumph Over Oxford

Avondale, Troy in Deadlock

Avondale and Troy settled nothing Friday night in their battle to see which team will challenge Fitzgerald for the Oakland B championship.

Troy dominated play in the second half, but could only score once. It was a big touchdown for the Colts, gaining a 12-12 standoff.

★ ★ ★

Lake Orion rallied for three touchdowns in the last quarter to down stubborn Oxford, 34-20. Fitzgerald held first place by edging Madison 19-13, and Clawson rolled over winless Oak Park, 31-0.

Avon rocked the Troy stadium by scoring on the first play from scrimmage. Quarterback Roger Van Conant hit Roger Bauer with a pass and the junior halfback scampered the remaining distance to complete a 65-yard play.

Troy rebounded in the opening quarter to tie the count with Don Rodgers sneaking over from the one.

In the second quarter the Van Conant to Bauer combination worked again. This time the pass-run play covered 25 yards. Drop-kicks after each touchdown failed.

★ ★ ★

Fullback Tom Towler powered over from the four to tie the game in the fourth quarter. Runs for Troy extra points failed. Avon had possession of the ball only three times in the last half.

Oxford is still seeking its first win today, but the Wildcats proved they were not pushovers in the non-league tilt with Lake Orion. In fact, Oxford led 20-14 after three periods.

Mike Harris put Oxford in front in the first quarter by scoring from the four. Orion went ahead by one in the second quarter on Dave Perry's five-yard dash and Dave Julian's run for the conversion.

Ray Converse put Oxford right back on top with a 65-dash. Paul Rossman added the point. It was Perry from one yard out and Julien getting the PAT that pushed the Dragons back in the lead 14-13 early in the third quarter.

★ ★ ★

But Oxford was not ready to fold. Paul Ludwig bucked across from the four and Rossman converted. The game should have ended there as far as Wildcat supporters are concerned.

Orion blew the game wide open in the fourth quarter. Frank O'Shea hit the end zone from 25 yards and Perry ran the point that put the Dragons ahead to stay.

Perry then passed 25 yards to Dave Hallmark for a TD. The final score came when John Grabba blocked an Oxford punt and recovered the ball in the end zone for a touchdown.

★ ★ ★

A field goal ended Clawson's scoring against down trodden Oak Park. Mike Bradley booted the three pointer from the 13-yard line in the fourth quarter. He also kicked two extra points.

★ ★ ★

Rick Satow scored the first seven points for Clawson in the first quarter, getting the touchdown on a 31-yard dash. Tim Schreder tallied twice in the second period on runs of one and 31 yards and again in the third period on a one yard plunge.

Doug Pagett got the other extra point.

Celtics Dump Syracuse

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Boston Celtics scored a 127-117 win over the Syracuse Nationals Friday night in an NBA exhibition.

The Boston five led 61-60 at the half. Coach Red Auerbach kept his rookies out of the second half lineup until the Celtics had the game on ice.

High scorer for Boston was Tommy Heinsohn, playing in his home town, with 25 points. The Nats' Hal Greer led Syracuse scoring with 16.

Thumb League Wide Open as Four Teams Deadlock

The Southern Thumb League became a wide open race again as underdog Brown City handed Capac its first defeat, 25-19.

This put Brown City, Capac, Armada and New Haven into a four-way tie with 2-1 marks. Should Memphis defeat Anchor Bay tonight it would result in six teams with the same records.

Armada routed Almont, 40-0 and New Haven walloped Dryden, 45-0 in other Thumb scores.

Roy Dougherty passed to Jim Gould, 38 yards for the first Brown City touchdown in the opening quarter after a 78 total march. Ron Welch converted. Kan Kubayashi passed to John Stanilolu 30 yards and Kelly converted to tie it for Capac, but Gould made it 13-7 after a fumble recovery. He went 14 yards. Gould then went 20 yards in the third quarter and he took a 54 yard pass from Dougherty to push Brown City into a 25-13 lead. John Scheurer's 11 yard pass from Kubayashi and Nelson Schuneman's 4 yarder accounted for Capac's other scoring.

Armada's scoring came with Bill Luoma passing to Gary Gilson 15 yards, and Luoma going five yards on a sneak. Tom Gores went six yards, Dean Killingbeck 79, John Murnan 3 yards, Jim Porte 8 yards. Ray Schlugntz kicked three and Porte added a point. It was 20-0 at halftime.

★ ★ ★

The running of John Mac and Dwight Lee and the passing of Kelly Dryer led the rout over Dryden. Lee went 15 and 8 yards, Mac went 4 and 5 yards and Dryer's pair of 20 yard passes to Jerry Harris and Harris' pass to Ed Powers for 20 yards accounted for all of New Haven's scoring. Dryer, Lee and Mac each ran a point.

Big I-L Duel Settled in Final Six Minutes

Walled Lake Squeaks by Spirited Huskies After Dominating Play

By CHUCK ABAIR

Walled Lake won the statistics by a landslide but the Vikings had to battle Pontiac Northern right down to the final whistle to take a big 9-6 victory before 4,300 fans last night.

★ ★ ★

The triumph made it a happy homecoming and moved Coach Dave Smith's gridders into a tie with Berkley for the Inter-Lakes lead. PNH dropped into a 2nd place deallock with Southfield.

It was a case of Walled Lake's power against the Huskies always-great spirit in the important loop game which was also a battle of unbeatens.

Completely outplayed as the net yardage figures of 280 to 10 for the winners indicate, the much smaller visitors, despite having four key men out with injuries, put up some outstanding defensive stands every time Walled Lake got rolling.

★ ★ ★

A safety with six minutes left in the tussle finally broke the scoring ice. A pass interception set up the Viking touchdown with 2:07 to go. But Pontiac roared right back into the thick of things as Rick Fisher took the ensuing kickoff, and went 90 yards to score behind some excellent blocking. Walled Lake was 9-6 with 1:49 showing on the clock.

Northern regained possession on its 3rd recovery of a fumble at the midfield stripe with exactly a minute left. With the PNH timeouts all used up, quarterback Fisher was able to get off only two plays. He ran 10 for the team's only 1st down of the night and then was trapped trying to pass as the last whistle sounded.

Fisher had accidently given Walled Lake its 1st two points when he stepped on the end zone out-of-bounds line while eluding tacklers on a play which reached the 8. It followed a terrific goal line stand which halted the Blue and Gold at the one-foot line.

★ ★ ★

Standout runner Mike Hinchley made the clutch interception and a 26-yard return to the Husgie 10. Mike Buffmeyer, a bulldozer all the way, carried three straight times to reach paydirt and Larry Riley booted the PAT.

It was a game of frustration for both coaches Smith and Ed Heikkinen. Smith saw his boys move up and down the field but never score on an actual drive. "I never saw a game dominated so much without scoring. Our defense won it. It was our best defensive game in years," he commented.

Heikkinen watched helplessly as his charges could do nothing on offense with the line unable to hold off the enemy. "We just couldn't move," he said. The absence of speedster Bill Young hurt the PNH attack. Young, Steve Daniels, Larry Threet and Dean Souden were defensive starters missing.

★ ★ ★

Little Mike Marcum, probably the toughest 145-pounder to be found anywhere, was again all over the field on defense. He made tackle after tackle and also grabbed one of two Huskie interceptions. Larry Norman punted well again. Smith mentioned the names of Hinckley, Buffmeyer, Wik, Jim Houston and rugged linebacker Jack Shiker but called it a "team effort."

Walled Lake had its initial march halted at the visitors' 10. A penalty nullified a TD pass play, a 3rd chance was foiled when a field goal attempt by Riley fell far short and a 4th was stopped by an intereception at the 7.

Marcum made his pass steal at his own 7 to end threat No. 3. A penalty for having too many men on the field helped set up this one as it nullified a Viking punt. The final drive was the one which ended one foot from TD land.

★ ★ ★

A change from ground to air offense hurt the victors on occasions when it looked like they would go all the way.

★ ★ ★

Rochester Shatters Romeo's Grid Bubble, 39-13

Falcons' Blitz 'Untouchables' With 6 Tallies

Bulldogs See Goaline Crossed for First Time in Four Games

By HERB PETERS

Rochester hit Romeo with a five-touchdown first-half blitz at Romeo last night and then played it cool the second half to shatter the Bulldogs' dreams of glory with an easy 39-13 Tri-County League triumph.

★ ★ ★

Romeo entered the contest riding a high-scoring three game winning streak, but the Falcons' third victory in four starts put an end to that and also saddened a Homecoming throng which found little to cheer about.

★ ★ ★

Once was in the first period when the Bulldogs took the opening kickoff and marched 71 yards in 12 plays with Chris Palmer scoring from two yards out. Another chance came in the third quarter on Mack Johnson's desperation 55-yard touchdown pass to Bill Trieloff.

Otherwise it was all Rochester as Tom Mitzelfeld scooted for three touchdowns, Eddie Dando for two, and Pete Long for the finale in the fourth period.

★ ★ ★

The Falcons scored the first time they had their hands on the ball and kept up the pace with five straight TDs for a 32-6 halftime lead.

★ ★ ★

Mitzelfeld got the first one on a 29-yard bolt off right tackle. And he tallied the second just moments later. After Romeo was forced to punt, Mitzelfeld raced 60 yards to score on the first play from scrimmage. Long and Dando ran for the extra points following the two first period scores.

Rochester drove 65 yards before sending Dando two yards for the next touchdown in the second quarter. The drive consumed 11 plays, but the next two needed only four.

Trieloff fumbled the kickoff on the 25 and Rochester recovered. Long swished 18 yards and then Dando seven for the score. On the following kickoff, Bud Baldwin covered the loose ball on the seven and two plays later Mitzelfeld was in from the four yard line.

★ ★ ★

Romeo resorted to a "shotgun" offense the second half and the maneuver, which had Johnson taking a direct snap 10 yards back, paid off once on his long heave to Trieloff.

But the Falcons came right back to preserve their margin. Long, a hard-running right half playing his best game of the year, scored the touchdown on a 47-yard run.

Sticking to their thoroughly effective running game, the Falcons piled up 388 yards on the ground. Mitzelfeld made 139 in 11 carries and Long ran for 134 in 10.

★ ★ ★

Lapeer was also a Tri-County winner, beating L'Anse Creuse 19-6. The Panthers completely dominated the game as L'Anse Creuse never reached Lapeer territory until the fourth period when Bill Upton picked up a blocked punt and ran 50 yards to score.

Stewart Scores Five TDs

Bloomfield Hills' Roger Stewart turned in the best scoring performance in the state last night when he tallied five touchdowns and passed for another as the Barons whipped Clarenceville 47-6 in a Wayne-Oakland game.

Northville remained in first place by easily defeating Milford, 25-6. West Bloomfield stayed a half game behind the Mustangs by routing Brighton 33-13, and Holly knocked Clarkston out of contention by a surprising 35-7.

Stewart and his teammates ran wild as they rebounded with a vengeance from last week's loss to Northville.

The 160-pound junior was responsible for all five Bloomfield Hills touchdowns in the first half when the Barons raced to a 34-0 lead. He scored on runs from scrimmage of 26, 52 and 2 yards, returned an intercepted pass 75 yards for a TD and passed to quarterback Brian O'Neil on a 26-yard play that reached the end zone.

After Fred Stresen-Reuter had raced 32 yards for the Hills' first score of the third period, Stewart ended the touchdown parade for the Barons with a one yard plunge.

FOUR PLAYS

The Bloomfield reserves played the final period and could manage only four plays from scrimmage. It was against the second and third stringers that Clarenceville broke the ice on Monroe Ashley's 30-yard sprint.

Tackle Bill Calhoun made Stewart's pass interception a touchdown by blocking three Trojans out of the ball carrier's path.

Bill Pettibone scored four extra points and Stresen-Reuter one.

Holly raced to a 14-0 first quarter lead and then continued to pile up the points against Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

Jim McArthur got the Broncos off on the right foot by scoring from the 11. Then quarterback Dick Canfield hit halfback Jim Ray with the first of four scoring passes this combination came up with during the game.

The touchdown aerials to Ray covered 10, 30, 65 and 22 yards. McArthur ran three extra points, Ray and Bill Conti got one each.

Mike Applegate scored for Clarkston on a one yard sneak in the third quarter and then kicked the conversion.

Steve Juday passed for two touchdowns and set up a third with an aerial to lead Northville.

LONG RUN

Tom Swiss got Northville started in the opening minute by sprinting 59 yards to pay dirt. Then Juday found end Dan Brown open in the end zone and lifted a three-yarder.

Milford struck before the end of the first period when quarterback Jim Miller passed to Ron Hoggard on a play that covered 61 yards.

Northville put the game away with two TDs in the second quarter. Juday passed 34 yards to Joe Hay for one score and later hit end Craig Bell with a pass that put the ball on the Milford 12. Dick Bathey carried over on the next play.

There was no scoring in the second half, although Northville had one touchdown called back. Reserves played the last two quarters.

★ ★ ★

West Bloomfield got stronger as the game progressed while beating Brighton.

The Lakers scored in the first quarter when Mike Paddy raced the final 17 yards of a 55-yard drive, Gary Carpenter got the Lakers second score in the next period from the one.

Brighton cut the margin as Randy Marx climaxed a 55-yard push by passing seven yards to Mac Pearsall in the end zone and then running the point.

The Lakers took the second half kickoff and marched 71 yards with Carpenter going the last seven and Danny Greig passing to Bob Laitinen for the PAT.

★ ★ ★

Early in the fourth quarter Greig passed 51 yards to Don Wareham for a touchdown and Carpenter ran the point. A 16-yard pass and lateral from Dennis Hatman to Jim Armstrong to Mike Fornier got this TD back for Brighton.

Jim Watkins got the final touchdown for West Bloomfield on a 25-yard jaunt. Jim Ferguson ran the conversion.

Navy Surprises Highly Favored Miami, 17-6

Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Halfback Jim Stewart raced 83 yards to a second-period touchdown and fired-up Navy never surrendered its lead as the Middies whipped Miami's two-touchdown favorites, Friday night, 17-6.

Stewart caught a swing pass from Ron Klemick at the line of scrimmage and, behind beautiful downfield blocking, sped to the score.

Thereafter, fierce Navy defenders held Miami's rinning and passing attack under control except for a third period drive that netted six points.

The Middies charged so hard that they not only knocked Miami's runners and passers back on their heels but also put referee John Lynch out of the game with injuries after he got in the way of a Navy back.

Operating without its star sophomore quarterback George Mira, Miami managed to drive 80 yards to a third period touchdown scored by Jim Vollenweider on a four-yard smash, but Charles Livingston missed the conversion and Navy gave the Hurricanes no more opportunities.

Grand Rapids Gets First Test on Road

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — The Grand Rapids Shamrocks, still leading the Western Division of the United Football League after three weeks of action, will get their first road test Saturday night against the Akron pros.

Coach Jack Morton said today former St. Norbert (Wis.) College ace Ron Newhouse will probably start at quarterback for the Shamrocks.

Newhouse, who has thrown five touchdown passes, played only half of last Sunday's game when Grand Rapids was held to a 7-7 tie by Columbus, Eastern Division leader.

The result left both the Shamrocks and Columbus with 2-1 records.

Ortonville Now Has 1-1 Record in New League

Ortonville, the newest member of the Genesee County League, evened its league record at 1-1 last night by whipping Genesee, 31-0.

The passing of Pat Barrick and the running of Ed McNulty and Randy Krug lead the Ortonville attack. Barrick passed to Jerry Cleveland 24 and to John Francis 45 in the first period.

McNulty ran 2 yards in the second period and Sutton ran the point.

In the third quarter, Randy Krug raced 66 yards and McNulty added the final on a five yard buck.

McNulty, a sophomore fullback who weighs only 150 pounds, sparkled on offense while Larry Frohm and John Francis were outstanding on defense.

BOSTON (AP) — Penn State abandoned its battering ground game for the forward pass in the clutch for a 32-0 victory over Boston University Friday night behing sophomore quarterbacks Pete Liske and Don Caum.

Liske, who inherited the No. 1 signal caller job when veteran Galen Hall was injured last week, capped an outstanding effort by sprinting literally out of a shoe on a 33-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter. On a keeper on which he cut back up the middle, Liske stepped out of his shoe on the 10.

State came out in the third period with a 10-0 advantage and Liske rattled the home-forces by intercepting a Jack Fariand pass on the second scrimmage play. State drove 47 yards in 13 plays but when the Nittany Lions bogged down inches from the Terrier goal, Caum came in and sent Al Gursky through right guard on fourth down for the score. Caum ran the two-pointer and Boston University was out of it, 18-0.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Florida's Gators resurrected an ancient sleeper play to score one touchdown Friday night and rallied in the second half to defeat willing Tulane 14-3 before 30,000 fans.

Tulane led 3-0 when the second half opened, but Gator quarterback Bobby Dodd Jr., son of the Georgia Tech football coach, unleased an attack that caught the Greenies napping after the intermission.

Fullback Jim O'Donnel at first appeared to be trotting off the field when Dodd called signals and passed to the 188-pound third unit fullback on the 20 and O'Donnell had clear sailing for the touchdown.

In the second period Gabler scored from the one after Wilson set it up with a 36 yard run. Russ Maynard converted.

Gabler then passed 60 yards to Craig Kirby in the second period for a 19-0 halftime lead. Wilson went two yards and Ted James passed 5 yards to Alden for the other Kimball tallies.

Birmingham was victimized by Port Huron as Jim Kari went 2 yards and Larry Butler 55 yards early in the game. Jim Price and Eric Price scored on short plunges and Rick Heiring passed 40 yards to Tom Frayer for the final TD.

★ ★ ★

The Maples finally scored with 1:13 to play when Jim Daniels returned a kickoff 85 yards and John Salter added the point.

Dorrie Reid went two and 84 yards for a pair of Ferndale touchdowns, Bob Micheau plunged one yard and Dave Neilson passed 19 yards to Dave Fair for all the scoring. The point was made by Jay Burgess.

The hectic EML race will reach showdown proportions in the final three games when the top contenders must play each other.

North Branch Tops Millington, 24-13

North Branch ran and passed its way to a 24-13 triumph over Millington last night in a South Central League football game at Millington.

Millington scored the first touchdown on a 7-yard run by Dave Cobb, but North Branch tallied the next four TDs to win going away. Millington trailed at halftime, 12-6.

North Branch TDs were rooted by Joe Ferkowics on a 16-yard dash, Wayne Harris on a 10-yard pass from Fred Monroe, Dan Scrimger's 8-yard gallop with a blocked punt and Chuck Hebberd's 40-yard aerial to Monroe.

Cobb plunged 2 yards for Millington's final touchdown with Terry Fritz dropkicking the extra point.

Lamphere Defeated

Lutheran West rallied for two touchdowns in the second half Friday night to down Lamphere, 19-6, in a Central Suburban contest.

Mike Keltz scored the loser's lone touchdown. The game was tied, 6-6, at the half.

BIG NIGHT — Five touchdowns and a touchdown pass brought about the biggest individual scoring night of the season in the county and state. This was Roger Stewart's contribution to the 47-6 Bloomfield Hills victory over Clarenceville last night.

Mikes, Eaglets Play Loop Foes on Home Fields

St. Michael After 3rd Victory Against SCL Opponent

By CHUCK ABAIR

Another afternoon of Suburban Catholic football is on tap for Sunday with both local title hopefuls playing at home.

St. Michael will be seeking its 3rd straight league triumph meeting improving Royal Oak St. Mary at Wisner while Orchard Lake St. Mary is host to defending champion St. Clement in 2:30 contests.

St. Fred, 0-3-1, will have considerable trouble trying to improve that record at St. Rita. Winless Our Lady of the Lakes plays at St. Benedict. St. James is idle. Farmington Our Lady will be trying to bounce back at Detroit St. Leo.

St. Mike, featuring a good backfield and solid line, has beaten St. Ben and the Rams and figure to keep rolling. Royal Oak may provide more opposition than expected earlier. The 1-1-1 visitors gave St. Clement all it could handle before faltering in the last quarter.

★ ★ ★

It could be make-or-break day for the Eaglets. They bowed to St. Rita last Sunday following two victories and would be in trouble for championship consideration with another setback. St. Clement heads the standings at 3-0 with Mikes and Rita 2-0.

St. Fred has been soundly trounced twice after a fair opening day performance in a tie with ROSM.

Our Lady of the Lakes has dropped three in a row and St. Ben is 0-2 so one of them should come out of that one happy.

Tonight, Emmanuel Christian returns to Wisner Stadium at 8 to take on Southgate. The Lancers are figured to have their best chance yet at gaining a win in four outings.

Flint Central Upsets Wolves

Sparked by Bob Langenau's 29-yard field goal in the 1st quarter, Flint Central established itself as a definite threat for the Saginaw Valley Conference football title by defeating previously unbeaten Bay City Central, 16-14, Friday night at Flint's Atwood Stadium.

In another noteworthy Valley battle yesterday, Saginaw High won its first league game since 1957 with a 13-0 upset victory over visiting Flint Northern. It was Northern's 4th straight loss, the longest losing skein in the school's history. Bay City Handy drubbed Alpena, 61-0, in a non-conference game.

Touchdown runs of 72 and 9 yards by Lionel Wells gave Flint Central a 16-7 lead in the 4th quarter and the Indians held the Wolves at bay to win. Bay City was Michigan's No. 1 ranked Class A power. Flint trailed at half-time, 7-3.

★ ★ ★

Winless Northern, defending SVC champ, yielded both Saginaw TDs in the 2nd period. Bob Speer sneaked one yard for the clincher after Jim Emlinger dashed 19 yards to open the scoring.

MANTLE READY TO GO, BOOMS 8 PRACTICE DRIVES INTO STANDS

Purkey Throws Knuckler in Third Game Against Yankees

CINCINNATI (AP)—The World Series plunged into its third game today with the New York Yankees fretting over the landscaping of compact Crosley Field and the steamed-up Cincinnati Reds accenting a second successive series victory.

Despite their 2-1 betting edge, the pressure definitely was on the aching Yankees as the series, after a one-day layoff, resumed in perfect weather before an overflow crowd of 32,000-mainly wild-eyed Redleg partisans.

★ ★ ★

Starting time is 1 p.m., EST, with the game to be telecast and broadcast nationally by NBC.

Compared with New York where neither of the first two games drew capacity, the series fever is burning at terrific pitch in this Ohio River metropolis.

Gaudy and giant signs everywhere exhort a Redleg victory and the man in the street is a red hot baseball fan. Tickets are going at scalpers' prices. One businessman was arrested for exacting $600—$50 a ticket—for a dozen $7.50 seats.

★ ★ ★

A typical series touch appeared in a downtown restaurant window. It read:

"Special today: Roast crow for our N.Y. friends."

Both clubs were down to their No. 3 first-line pitchers — Cincinnati's Bob Purkey, 22-year-old knuckleballer, facing New York's Bill Stafford, who just completed his first full major league season. Purkey had a 16-12 regular season mark and Stafford, also a right-hander, had 14-9.

★ ★ ★

In Friday's workout in freshly, all-white painted Crosley Field, the Yankees were obviously concerned over the lush infield grass and the sharply-terraced outfield perimeter which, it said, is mounded over utility pipes.

It was reported the quite high infield grass, which would slow down rollers considerably, would be trimmed before game time. Consensus is that the Yankees have a better defensive infield than the Reds and would profit less from any grassy assistance.

As for the outfield terrace, it begins to rise some 20 feet from the walls and the pitch is certainly sharp in left field where Yankee Yogi Berra customarily plays his "side-saddle" defensive game.

Berra practiced longer than any other Yankee fielder Friday. Surprisingly, his criticism was not against the plateau he may have to scurry up many times the next three days, but was directed, instead, against the bright sun glaring against the left-fielder in early afternoon.

"I just hope I don't get a ball hit out here," said Berra, who breaks a world series record with every start, but who committed a glaring error in Yankee Stadium Thursday as the Reds evened the series 1-1 with a 6-2 triumph.

This is a game where the benched Mickey Mantle could turn the tide for the Yankees, who have had absolutely no help from their famed and fabled M & M home-run combination. Roger Maris, who set the all-time season homer mark of 61, has yet to hit the ball out of the infield in this Series.

Maris failed to reach the Crosley Field 360-foot right field bleacher mark in Friday's batting drill. But Mantle, who missed the two New York games because of an infected hip, swung an explosive bat in practice. He boomed four balls into the right field stands, two into the center field stands—batting left handed—and lofted two over the left field wall at the 340-foot mark hitting right-handed.

Yankee Manager Ralph Houk said he would not decide on whether Mantle could start until today's pre-game batting drill, but added: "Although I'm not ready to say he'll play, it looks less doubtful now."

Mantle, however, limped slightly as he worked out defensively and Maris, who has shifted from his right-field position to supplant Mantle, spent considerable time shagging flies in center.

If Mantle fails to start, the Yankee lineup will remain the same as it was in New York when John Blanchard was in Maris' right field spot.

★ ★ ★

Houk indicated lefty Whitey Ford, who blanked the Reds on two hits in Wednesday's opener, would start Sunday, although Ford showed up Friday with a stiff neck. In addition, catcher Elston Howard had his left wrist taped, a souvenir of his brutal collision with Cincinnati's Elio Chacon when the Redleg second sacker safely slid home on a short passed ball.

Rookie catcher John Edwards, 6-4, 220-pounder, again will start for the Reds—not only because Edwards, a .182 hitter, came through Thursday with two clutch hits, but also because he is most adept on the Cincinnati catching staff at handling Purkey's knucklers.

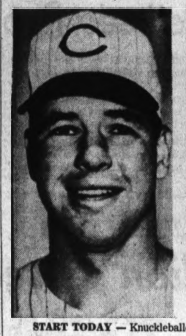
Maris has not been the only hitting flop in the still young Series. Neither Frank Robinson nor Gene Freese, two of Cincinnati's heralded sluggers, has hit safely, while Vada Pinson, the wheel-horse of the Redleg attack late in the season, has only a double in nine trips.

★ ★ ★

There is suspicion that Crosley Field, with none of its fences as distant as 400 feet, might fall prey to the Yankees' vaunted long-ball power.

★ ★ ★

However, Yankee pilot Houk took a cautious viewpoint. "Don't forget," he said, "we played in Wrigley Field at Los Angeles this year, a much smaller park than this, and we didn't do too well." At Los Angeles, the Yankees hit a total of 12 homers, but lost 6 games.



START TODAY — Knuckleballer Bob Purkey, left of the Reds, and New York's Bill Stafford were opposing pitchers today in the 3rd game of the World Series. The scene is shifted to Cincinnati with the teams tied 1-1.

Lions on Rebound Sunday

Detroiters Host Bears Hoping for Comeback

Packers and Cardinals Favored in Key Action Around NFL

From Our Wire Services

The Detroit Lions return to Tiger Stadium tomorrow for a 1:30 p. m. game with the Chicago Bears hoping for a big change from last week's performance.

Coach George Wilson and his staff have been drilling their charges hard all week hoping to rebound from that surprising 49-0 trouncing by San Francisco last Sunday.

The usual rough game between the heated rivals is expected. Both will be hungry for a victory with the Lions anxious after that one-sided loss and the Bears down 1-2 for the season.

Rick Casares and Willie Galimore have been running well for Chicago and could pose problems for the Detroit defense. Ken Webb will be returning to the Lion backfield after being out hurt.

★ ★ ★

The Green Bay Packers and St. Louis Cardinals were favored today to win two of Sunday's National Football League games involving deadlocked division leaders and thus break up the nine-team jam at the top of the standings.

The Forty-Niners, Lions, Cleveland Browns and Philadelphia Eagles also were picked to run their season record to 3-1 and remain tied for first place. But considering results of the first three weeks of the season, there was a chance one or two would be upset.

St. Louis' "Incredible Cripples" were a slim 2-point favorite to win their return meeting with the New York Giants in the Cards' home opener at Busch Stadium, while Green Bay was the choice by 7 at home against the tough Baltimore Colts. All have 2-1 records.

★ ★ ★

San Francisco, which has caused a big stir with its "shotgun and shuttle" offense, was picked by 8 points over the Los Angeles Rams at San Francisco; the Lions were the choice by 7 at home over the Chicago Bears; the Browns were 14 over the Washington Redskins at Cleveland, and the Eagles were favored by 6 over the Pittsburgh Steelers in Philadelphia.

★ ★ ★

The Dallas Cowboys, also among the leaders with a 2-1 record, were 4-point underdogs against the Minnesota Vikings for the return battle between the N. F. L.'s two newest members at Minneapolis-St. Paul.

★ ★ ★

The American Football League's only undefeated team, the San Diego Chargers, was favored by 13 points to run its record to 6-0 against the Boston Patriots in a Saturday night game at Boston. In Sunday games, the Houston Oilers were picked by 13 at home against the Buffalo Bills, and the Dallas Texans were favored by 10 over the Broncos at Denver. The two Sunday games will be regionally televised by A. B. C. New York and Oakland are idle.

Monroe C. C. was the sixth ranked Class B team in this week's AP ratings.

Premium Draft List Set for New Teams

CINCINNATI (AP) — Billy O'Dell, Daryl Spencer, Dick Farrell, Don Blasingame and Hal Smith are among the 16 "premium" players at $125,000 each on the special lists from which the Houston and New York clubs will pick their players, the Associated Press learned today.

Each of the two new clubs in the expanded National League will be permitted to take four from this special list after they have picked 24 from the regular lists.

The regular lists, containing players considered of lesser quality, are scaled from $75,000 down to $50,000 for each player.

The actual premium lists will not be officially presented to the new clubs until the day after the World Series. However, both general manager Paul Richards of Houston and president George Weiss of New York are aware of the players' identity.

This is the complete list of (premium) players that will be available after the "has beens" and the "kids" have been taken from the grabbag.

Each of the eight clubs puts up two premium players but only one can be taken. That gives each of the new clubs four high-priced players.

The lists with position and 1961 batting or pitching records:

Los Angeles—Infielder Daryl Spencer, .248 with 13 homers, and pitcher Dick Farrell, a right-handed relief man with an 8-7 record in 56 games.

San Francisco—Pitcher O'Dell, a left-hander, with a 7-4 record in 44 games, and Dick Lemay, also a lefty, with a 3-6 record in 27 games.

Cincinnati — Second baseman Blasingame, .222, and Elio Chacon, .255. There is a possibility that Chacon may be taken off the list and replaced by outfielder Wally Post, .264 with 20 homers, Chacon, who replaced Blasingame at second base, starred in the second game series victory over the Yankees.

Pittsburgh—Catcher Hal Smith, .119, and catcher Don Leppert, who hit .267 after his recall from Columbus in mid-June.

Milwaukee — Relief pitcher Don McMahon, with a 2-4 record in 53 games, and catcher-outfielder Bob Taylor, .192, who was paid a $110,000 bonus by the Braves five years ago.

St. Louis—Pitcher Bob Miller, with a 1-3 record, and shortstop Alex Grammas, .212, if Bob Lillis, another shortstop, is not taken in the regular draft.

Philadelphia — Outfielder-infielder Lee Walls, .260, and pitcher Dallas Green, a right-hander with a 2-4 record in 42 games.

Chicago—Pitcher Jim Brewer, a lefty, with a 1-7 record, and pitcher Barney Schultz, who built up a 7-4 record in relief after his recall from Houston in midseason.

Won't Watch 'Skins Until—

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall said Thursday he will attend no Washington Redskin football games so long as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is picketing them in protest against the absence of Negroes in the Redskin lineup.

But as for barring the Redskins from using Washington's new federally-owned stadium, Udall said he is waiting to see what happens at the December player draft meeting.

Udall, who complained early this year of alleged discrimination against Negroes by Redskin owner George Preston Marshall, said he is accepting in good faith a statement by Marshall that he intends to select two Negro college football players if possible.

This statement was contained in a letter to Pete Rozelle, National Football League commissioner, in which Marshal listed Ernie Davis, halfback at Syracuse, and Larry Ferguson, halfback at Iowa.

Marilynn Smith Sets Women's Course Mark

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Marilynn Smith established a women's course record Friday with a first round 70 in the $8,000 Albuquerque ladies professional golfers tournament.

Miss Smith toured the 6,430-yard, par 72 Four Hills Country Club layout in two-under-par, bettering the course record by seven strokes.

★ ★ ★

She held a one-stroke lead over Shirley Englehorn and Betsy Rawls.

Beverly Hanson and Gloria Armstrong were another stroke back at 72 while Mickey Wright, winner of her own tournament last week at San Diego, was tied with Ruth Jessen at 74.

The lowest game in the 20-year history of the BPAA All-Star Tournament, the 1962 running of which is booked for Jan. 3-13 at Miami Beach's Convention Hall, is the 109 posted by Buzz Fazio of Detroit in 1955 at Chicago.

Liquid Meals Helps Nebraska Football Team

CHICAGO (UPI) — A team of researchers said today a pregame liquid meal gave University of Nebraska football players more pep "even in defeat."

★ ★ ★

The researchers, writing in the current journal of the American Medical Association (AMA), said the players were "the first ones off the ground after the play. This was particularly noticeable during the final quarters of the games."

★ ★ ★

The report said the team's regular players were fed a liquid meal on arising and again at noon during the fall practice session and on the morning of their games.

The report was made by Dr. Kenneth Rose of the University Health Service; Paul J. Schneider, head trainer at Nebraska; and assistant trainer George F. Sullivan.

Piersall Likes Job With Senator Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Piersall, not at all surprised by his trade, will play center field for the Washington Senators next season—with pleasure.

"The first thing my wife said when she heard of it was that she was happy," the 32-year-old Piersall said in Boston. "If she's happy, then I'm happy.

"I felt all along that a change would be made. I'll say I'm pleased to get away from those lousy Cleveland writers—not all, but the ones who hold a grudge. And I hope they will give the new players a fair shake."

Piersall, volatile and controversial, but always a top defensive center fielder, had his best season at bat in 1961. He hit .322 in 121 games, the fourth highest average in the American League.

Names New Arrival After Hurling Star

CINCINNATI (AP)—Joey Jay, the winning Cincinnati pitcher in Thursday's World Series game, has a new namesake in the Queen City.

★ ★ ★

It's Joey Jay Campbell, who was born at 2:28 p.m. in Bethesda Hospital, just as the ace right-hander was wrapping up his 6-2 victory.

The happy father, James W. Campbell, decided then and there what to name his son—the first after three daughters.

Business Retirees Rap on Doors for UF

Twelve men, all of whom know what it feels like to give until it helps, are out pounding the pavements to help the 1961 Pontiac Area United Fund.

The men, all retired businessmen who used to be on the other end of past campaigns, now have turned solicitors for the general manufacturing group of the Industrial Division.

The 12 men, under the direction of Paul Snover, will visit 76 of the smaller industrial plants in the Pontiac area to see if they can't pass the $4,520 raised by the group in the 1960 campaign.

"These men can do it," Snover said after a meeting recently with Thomas E. Wilson, industrial division chairman. At the meeting the volunteers received their "Yardsick for Giving" training kits and lists of who to call on.

★ ★ ★

There are 956 employes in the different plants to be visited.

Last year the firms contributed $2,900 to the 54 agencies which benefit from the United Fund and the employes gave until it helped with $1,620.

Says Charity Beats Alimony

$3 Million Giveaway

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Hotelman Khadouri Chaochou made plans today to give his last $3 million to charity to keep it from his common-law wife and "unscrupulous people."

★ ★ ★

Since 1952 Chaochou has been fighting a divorce action brought by Mrs. Fredericka Phillips Chaochou, whom he claims he never married but to whom the court ordered him to pay $161,250 in cash and $750 a month.

Chaochou said the woman "told me she had a vision that I was drowning and the Lord told her to go catch Chaochou." Another vision told her to end their relationship 10 years later, he said.

At court hearings, Chaochou testified that Mrs. Phillips had come to him "in the capacity of everything — housekeeper, hostess, manager, entertainer."

KHADOURI CHAACHOU

INVITED TO LEAVE

She testified that they had lived as husband and wife and that he had invited her to leave.

Some 23 lawyers represented Chaochou during the long and complex hearings which featured everything from hypotism to testimony by a faith healer.

"It's not the alimony," Chaochou told reporters Friday. "Ever since the publicity, folks think I'm rich and ready to be taken. They're like hungry dogs. Everyone who submits a bill to me doubles it.

★ ★ ★

Chaochou said he has not decided what charities will get his fortune but he may begin the transfer "any day now."

Leadership Institute Planned for MSUO

An all-day Institute on Organizational Leadership will be held Nov. 11 at Michigan State University Oakland.

The program is geared to the needs of officers in clubs, councils, professional organizations and policy boards, according to the Division of Continuing Education. Present and future officers are invited to attend.

Deadline for registration is Nov. 6. Cost for the day is $4 including luncheon, and checks may be mailed to the Division of Continuing Education, Michigan State University Oakland.

Junior Achievers Ready to Roll

Industry Gets 300 Newcomers

New industrial firms with some 300 teen-age executives and employes will begin operations here Monday, counseled by 16 Junior Achievement companies in the Pontiac area.

Announcement of what is described as the nation's greatest mass induction of companies into the business world is made by JA's current president H. John Lowry, president of Michigan Mutual Liability Co.

★ ★ ★

Part of a worldwide network of JA companies which will operate during the school year through May, the small local firms will be counseled by Detroit Edison Co., Community National Bank, GM Tech Center, GM Truck & Coach Division, Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors, and GM Overseas & Handling Division.

Other sponsors are Michigan Bell Telephone, Bendix Corp.'s Research Division, Chrysler Engineering, Consumers Power, Chevrolet Engineering Division and Fisher Body Division of GM.

Pontiac Motor and GM Truck & Coach Divisions will each counsel three firms; the others are each sponsoring one.

TEAMS OF THREE

Each counselor-sponsor will designate a team of three — in business, sales, and production — to advise JA companies two hours per week during the seven month period.

Within a few weeks after the teen-agers have their enterprises under way, they will elect their own management.

Over 8,000 youths are expected to join the JA organization in Southeastern Michigan this year. The teens' firms are more than "paper corporations." They will follow an exact big business pattern as hundreds of part-time business teens sell company stock for 50 cents a share and develop a product or service for the public in addition to electing their own officers.

★ ★ ★

Formed in 1919 to educate U. S. youth to the principles of free enterprise and to prepare them for a greater role in the business affairs of the nation, JA has also marketed its influence abroad.

The organization now operates in Canada, Mexico, and New Zealand as well as in Holland, Finland, and the Dutch West Indies.

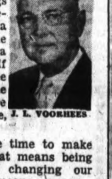
Reflections

HALF PAST YOU

We never have time to do all the things we anticipate; half of our life is gone before we realise our potentials. I heard a housewife say "I don't do it in the morning it isn't done." If we wait for a better time to start, anything, it's Half Past You and then it's too late. A retiree exclaimed, "I wanted to travel; by the time I was squared away I didn't have time to go beyond next door. Believe me, it was Half Past Me."



J. L. VOORHEES

M. E. SIPLE

Carlisle once said, "The time to make friends is NOW and that means being one, and that means changing our philosophy, and that means energy—but that objective is worth all the effort one expends." The trouble is time is a thief, robs us of energy we wish we had. Time, the one element that never returns for a second chance, is Half Past You before you know it—do the things you hope to do someday, NOW. Enjoy your share of time when you have it.

Soviets Warn Interim Chief Must Have Okay of Security Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union will boycott any interim U.N. secretary-general who may be chosen without the consent of the Security Council.

★ ★ ★

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin told reporters at a Sudanese reception here Friday night that if the General Assembly picks a successor to the late Dag Hammarskjold without the council's prior recommendation. "Life will go very hard for that man."

SAME TROUBLE

He explained that the new man would have the same trouble as Hammarskjold, boycotted by the Russians from last February until his death Sept. 18 in a plane crash in Northern Rhodesia.

★ ★ ★

No serious man, Zorin said, would take the job under those circumstances.

Bandits Get $231,000 in S. Africa Holdup

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Three white bandits Friday robbed three bank employes in Central Pretoria of founds estimated at $231,000. Police called it the biggest armed robbery in South Africa's history.

★ ★ ★

Officers said the robbers had halted a van in which employes of the Volkskas People's Bank were transporting money from a post office to the bank's head office. The bandits, armed with pistols, tied up the employes and drove off in the van.

Haul Out the Long Red Underwear

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Squirrels will wear mink coats, rabbits will wrap up in beaver stoles, and human beings had best simply find a cozy corner and park there for the winter's duration.

★ ★ ★

On that lugurious chord John Bear's 1962 agricultural almanac makes its bow today.

In all the 137 year history of this famed Pennsylvania Dutch standby, few weather forecasts have been more numbing.

Shivering at their own sagacity, the publishers say: "We can no longer call a spade a spade. We've got to call it a snowshovel, and, brother, will it ever get a workout this winter."

If Americans, particularly in East and Midwest, thought last winter was tough, they'd better beware of what's coming, says the almanac, for "old-fashioned winter will set new styles in snow, cold and blows this season."

★ ★ ★

Trouble with all this, however, is that you have to separate the grim from the gay. Baer's, like most people who swear by it, has a playful side —earthy, extravagant, expansive. One minute it is solemnly pracular, the next it is off on an outrageous spoof.

For example it would have you believe this winter will match one of old that was so cold a candle flame froze solid on a Pennsylvania Dutchman's kitchen table. What did he do? He threw the flame, now an icicle, into the woodshed. Next day, the yarn goes, the flame thawed, setting the shed afire.

Before the reader can laugh off that one, Baer's is at him again, this time with an up-to-the-minute tip on what to do if he lives in a ranch-style house or drives a low-slung car — rig up tall flagpoles for easier spotting in the predicted snowdrifts.

2 Hillsdale Youths Killed

HILLSDALE (AP)—Two 16-year-old Hillsdale youths were killed and three others were injured Friday night when a car carrying five young friends went off a dead-end county road and struck a tree. Killed in the crash were Burr Elliott and Dean McCosh. All five boys in the car were from Hillsdale.

In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY OF DOROthy Jean Lutman who passed away Oct. 8
A bud that the Gardener gave us,
A pure and lovely child,
He gave her to our keeping
To cherish undefiled
But just as it was opening
To the glory of the day,
Down came the Heavenly Gardener
And took our flower away.
Sadly missed by Father, Mother, brothers, sisters and grandmothers.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF PAULine Ross, who passed away 6 years ago, October 4, 1955.
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget,
But time has only proven
How much we miss her yet.
Sadly missed by husband, children, grandchildren, mother, sister and brother.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MRS. Fannie Wright, who passed away October 7, 1956.
As angels keep their watch up there,
Please God just let her know
That we down here will not forget.
We love and miss her so.
Sadly missed by her husband, W. O. Wright and family.

TV Actress Allowed Stock Ticket on Set

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Miss Myrna Fahey believes she's the only TV actress whose contract provides that she shall have a stock ticker on the set.

WILSON

"That sounds like a phony story," this reporter said recently to Myrna, the 21-year-old Elizabeth Taylor look-alike from Southwest Harbor, Me., who plays Leon Ames' daughter in the new CBS series, "Father of the Bride."

"Yes, it does," nodded Myrna.

"But it's in my contract, and though i don't actually have it yet, I'm going to have it within two weeks."

It may be a clue to the kind of actresses that are around today.

"I never dreamed I'd become interested in finance," Myrna said, "I did take an investment course in the UCLA extension summer school but that wasn't what did it.

"I bought some industrial stock," she explained.

"I bought it at 60 and it went to 145," Myrna said. "It split for the second time."

Myrna then went on babbling about growth stocks and added, "I dabble a lot in new issues . . ."

"The fact that I'm supposed to look like Elizabeth Whatsher-name had nothing to do with me getting into "Father of the Bride,'" Myrna insisted. "Because we don't really look alike—I don't think. We just happen to have the same coloring.

EARL'S PEARLS: Criticism is something you can avoid by saying nothing, doing nothing and being nothing.

Vincent Price's "Pit and the Pendulum" shows a room full of instruments of torture. "Of course," says Price, "in a modern version we'd install a TV set." . . . That's earl, brother.

Appeals to Keep Oceans N-Test Free

GENEVA (AP) — The International Labor Organization appealed to the nuclear powers Friday to keep the oceans free of atomic test explosions.

★ ★ ★

The appeal was made by the ILO's Joint Maritime Committee combining 15 shipowners and 15 representatives of seafarers organizations affiliated with the world labor body.

The committee cited what it called the grave health hazards created by nuclear tests and said in a resolution that every effort must be made to minimize the danger.

Navy Lengthens Term for Future ROTC Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy claimed Friday an additional year active duty from some of its future ROTC college students.

The action will affect about 1,000 students a year in the contract NROTC.

Secretary of the Navy John D. Connally Jr. said those enrolled after next June will be required to obligate themselves to three years instead of two on active duty.

At the same time, he announced a new program on a trial basis under which junior college graduates can enter the NROTC as contract students.

Vans Touring Kansas With Historic Objects

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — Two large vans loaded with exhibits devoted to art and history of Kansas are traveling more than 4,000 miles throughout the Sunflower state to show paintings, ceramics and other materials to as many inhabitants as possible.

Historic objects include records tracing Kansas from the time of Indians to modern-day missile facilities.

Rightly Named Isle

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Roy Osmer, 62-year-old hermit, lives in an 8-by-10 foot plywood cabin with plastic windows on one of the islands in Ten Thousand Islands.

Osmer says he knows why pioneer boatmen named his island Panther Key — there still are panthers on it. The hermit, who frequently hears panther screams in the night, comments, "I hope they are as cowardly as they are supposed to be."

Berlin Dispute 'Dangerous'

U.S., Russia Still Far Apart

AP Photofax

CONFER ON CRISIS — President Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko are shown meeting Friday in the Oval Room of the White House for their discussion on the Berlin crisis. Gromyko told newsmen the meeting had been "useful." Kennedy was understood to have told the Soviet official that the United States and its allies are determined to defend West Berlin against Communist pressures.

President Tells Red West Is Determined to Resist Pressure

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a two-hour conference between President Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, the United States and the Soviet Union were reported still far apart today on ways of negotiating a peaceful settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Informed officials here consider the East-West dispute over Berlin still extremely dangerous. At the same time hope persists that a solution short of a military showdown will be found to end the crisis.

Kennedy and the Soviet foreign minister discussed the situation in the Oval Room of the White House late Friday and wound up their talks shortly after 7 o'clock without issuing any kind of formal statement.

As he climbed into his limousine to return to the Soviet Embassy on nearby 16th Street, Gromyko told newsmen the conversation had been "useful". Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who sat in on the discussion, merely called it "interesting."

★ ★ ★

Kennedy was understood to have told Gromyko in calm but very emphatic terms that the United States and its Western Allies are fully determined to defend West Berlin against Communist pressures, to preserve their right to maintain troops in the city, and to keep open the supply lines from West Germany.

STRESSES TREATY

Gromyko told reporters that the conversation had touched "several important matters" bearing on U.S.-Soviet relations and added: "Of course, as far as the position of the Soviet government is concerned, we stressed first of all the importance of the question of the peace treaty with Germany."

It appears that the conference at the White House covered much of the same ground that had been covered by Gromyko and Rusk in a series of three meetings in New York in the previous two weeks.

It was understood, moreover, that Gromyko still had not told U.S. leaders what Soviet Premier Khrushchev means exactly when he talks of guaranteeing Western access to West Berlin after he

Says Charity Beats Alimony

$3 Million Giveaway

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Hotelman Khadouri Chaachou made plans today to give his last $3 million to charity to keep it from his common-law wife and "unscrupulous people."

★ ★ ★

Since 1952 Chaachou has been fighting a divorce action brought by Mrs. Fredericka Phillips Chaachou, whom he claims he never married but to whom the court ordered him to pay $161,250 in cash and $750 a month.

Chaachou said the woman "told me she had a vision that I was drowning and the Lord told her to go catch Chaachou." Another vision told her to end their relationship 10 years later, he said.

At court hearings, Chaachou testified that Mrs. Phillips had come to him "in the capacity of everything — housekeeper, hostess, manager, entertainer."

KHADOURI CHAACHOU

INVITED TO LEAVE

She testified that they had lived as husband and wife and that he had invited her to leave.

Some 23 lawyers represented Chaachou during the long and complex hearings which featured everything from hypnotism to testimony by a faith healer.

"It's not the alimony," Chaachou told reporters Friday. "Ever since the publicity, folks think I'm rich and ready to be taken. They're like hungry dogs. Everyone who submits a bill to me doubles it."

★ ★

Chaachou said he has not decided what charities will get his fortune but he may begin the transfer "any day now."

Big Local Holds Key to Settling Strike at Ford

Represents 30,000 at Huge Rouge Plant in Dearborn

By BEN PHLEGAR

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Local 600 of the United Auto Workers Union—often called the biggest union local in the country—appeared today to hold the key to settlement of the UAW's strike against Ford Motor Co.

The strike began Tuesday and has idled 120,000 production workers at 88 plants in 26 states.

Local 600 represents more than 30,000 of the strikers at the Rouge industrial complex in Dearborn, Mich. It contains 17 of the 85 bargaining units which have local working agreements with Ford, and 11 of the Rouge units are among 36 as yet not settled.

"Without the Rouge, nobody works," said one union man. "We have to wrap it up there."

★ ★ ★

The union reported what it called substantial progress within Local 600 Friday when it reached agreements with three units at Ford's steel division — the blast furnaces and coke ovens, the open hearth and the rolling mill.

VITAL LOCATIONS

Among other vital locations still unsettled are the Cleveland, Ohio, foundry and engine plants and the Canton, Ohio, forge plant. A strike at Canton once forced a virtually complete shutdown of all Ford assembly.

★ ★ ★

Negotiations resumed on a national level Friday, with a three-hour session, the first extended get-together since the strike began.

Talks continue today.

Both sides have indicated they will seek final settlement at both national and local levels before trying to resume production. Agreement was reached on an economic package just prior to the walkout Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Major points still at issue in the noneconomic section of the contract are additional company-paid union representatives, working conditions, lines of demarcation among skilled trades jobs, and the company's right to place work with outside contractors.

Flexes Muscles in Drill

Ailing Mantle May Start

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — The New York Yankees were bolstered today by the return of Mickey Mantle to their line-up.

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The thunder of seven batting practice swings by Mickey Mantle still rattled over tiny Crosley Field today when the New York Yankees prepared to send Bill Stafford against Cincinnati Red knuckleballer Bob Purkey in the third game of the World Series.

It appears better than a 50-50 chance that Mantle's return to the Yankee line-up would coincide with the return of the series to Cincinnati for the first time since 1940 when the Reds upset the Detroit Tigers in seven games.

And all the signs indicated that if the mighty 54-homer slugger did not play today he would be in action in Sunday's fourth game or Monday's fifth game of the now-deadlocked series.

Mantle's imminent return to the already power-packed Yankee line-up was signaled Friday when the Yankees worked out in the picturesque little country ball park situated in a colorful Ohio valley.

AWED BY DISPLAY

The 6-foot, 200-pound blond slugger sent no less than seven balls hurtling over the right and left field fences in a display of power that awed about 500 fans and newsmen on hand to witness the workout.

★ ★ ★

"It didn't hurt a bit," said Mantle, referring to the hip injury which caused him to be sidelined the first two games, and flashing perhaps his first smile in a week, he added, "I'm going to try my best to play if I can."

Yankee manager Ralph Houk, aware that Mantle is sometimes over-optimistic about his physical abilities, was obviously pleased by the tremendous display of power but refused to commit himself over whether Mantle would play today.

A crowd of about 34,000 was expected to jam its way into Crosley Field by the 1 p.m. starting time.

Both managers were sticking with their second-game line-ups—with the exception, of course, of Houk in the event of Mantle's availability.

Clawson Mother Dies Saving Son From Train

A Clawson mother of five was instantly killed this morning when hit by a northbound New York Central train while rescuing her son from the oncoming train.

Mrs. Joseph Stach, 37, of 470 Donald St., Clawson, along with her husband was escorting their six youngsters over the bridge near the Yates Cider Mill toward the Bloomer State Park picnic area.

Engineer M. L. Retheford, 37, of 325 E. Woodland St., Ferndale, said he saw the family group as his Muskegon - bound passenger train rounded a curve south of Avon Road.

He said he blew the whistle knowing he'd never be able to stop in time, although he applied the brakes.

Mrs. Stach turned to grab her youngest son, Martin, 6, off the tracks as he was straggling behind. She had managed to get hold of the child when she was hit by the Diesel engine.

The child was thrown clear of the track by the impact. Mrs. Stach died instantly. Her body was thrown 20 feet.

The child was taken to St. Joseph Mercury Hospital, believed seriously injured.

The husband told sheriff's deputies that the family was picnicking in the Bloomer State Park area, when they decided to go for soft drinks at the cider mill on the other side of the tressle. They were returning with their soft drinks when the accident occurred.

★ ★ ★

The other five children escaped injury. They are Joseph Jr., 14, Franzetta, 11; Mary Ann, 9; Regina, 7.

Haul Out the Long Red Underwear

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Squirrels will wear mink coats, rabbits will wrap up in beaver stoles, and human beings had best simply find a cozy corner and park there for the winter's duration.

On that lugurious chord John Bear's 1962 agricultural almanac makes its bow today.

In all the 137 year history of this famed Pennsylvania Dutch standby, few weather forecasts have been more numbing.

Shivering at their own sagacity, the publishers say: "We can no longer call a spade a spade. We've got to call it a snowshovel, and, brother, will it ever get a workout this winter."

If Americans, particularly in East and Midwest, thought last winter was tough, they'd better beware of what's coming, says the almanac, for "old-fashioned winter will set new styles in snow, cold and blows this season."

Trouble with all this, however, is that you have to separate the grim from the gay. Baer's, like most people who swear by it, has a playful side —earthy, extravagant, expansive. One minute it is solemnly oracular, the next it is off on an outrageous spoof.

For example it would have you believe this winter will match one of old that was so cold a candle flame froze solid on a Pennsylvania Dutchman's kitchen table. What did he do? He threw the flame, now an icicle, into the woodshed. Next day, the yarn goes, the flame thawed, setting the shed afire.

Before the reader can laugh off that one, Baer's is at him again, this time with an up-to-the-minute tip on what to do if he lives in a ranch-style house or drives a low-slung car — rig up tall flagpoles for easier spotting in the predicted snowdrifts.

Spot Wreckage in French Peaks

Believed to Be Airliner From Britain, Lost With 34 Persons Aboard

TOULOUSE, France (AP) — Wreckage of a plane—apparently a British airliner missing with 34 persons aboard—was found today in mountains near Prades, about 30 miles from Perpignan, police at Prades announced.

The wreckage was spotted by residents in the area of the Canigou Peak of the Pyrenees at an altitude of some 6,000 feet.

Weather in the area was reported bad. Mt. Canigou, which is mined for iron ore, rises 9,137 feet.

The British plane, a Dakota, dropped from sight on a flight from Gatwick Airport near London to Perpignan, a regional commercial center of 65,000 in southern France about 10 miles from the Mediterranean and 20 from the Spanish frontier.

Policemen Break Up Riot by 1,000 Teens

ALHAMBRA, Calif. (UPI) — An estimated 1,000 youths staged four wild riots for about two hours early today in a five-block area of this suburban Los Angeles community, police reported.

More than 100 law enforcement officers poured into town from surrounding communities to help quell the melee, in which police believed there were no serious injuries.

The California Highway Patrol sped 15 radio cars to help cordon off the riot area — five blocks — and 50 sheriff's radio units from the Los Angeles area assisted them.

Off-duty policemen augmented by reserves streamed into Alhambra from the surrounding communities of San Gabriel, South San Gabriel, Pasadena, South Pasadena and Monterey Park.

At least two busloads of youths — mostly teen-agers — were booked on a variety of charges and police estimated the final number arrested by 9 a.m. (Pontiac Time) probably would be about 100.

"It'll probably be in the wee hours of the morning before we're through booking suspects," said one busy officer.

★ ★ ★

The melee erupted shortly after midnight at a drive-in restaurant when special policemen tried to break up a scuffle with some of the teenagers.

Within minutes four riots were going in the five-block area.

All drive-in restaurants in the area were ordered closed immediately by authorities. Road blocks were set up to confine the rioters and authorities leaped into the fray and began making arrests, hauling the youths away in two buses.

READY AND WILLING — These 12 men, all retired business men, under the direction of Paul Snover (front), this week headed into 76 industrial plants in the Pontiac area hoping to better last year's amount raised for the 1961 Pontiac Area United Fund. Business Retirees Rap on Doors for UF

Twelve men, all of whom know what it feels like to give until it helps, are out pounding the pavements to help the 1961 Pontiac Area United Fund.

The men, all retired businessmen who used to be on the other end of past campaigns, now have turned solicitors for the general manufacturing group of the Industrial Division.

The 12 men, under the direction of Paul Snover, will visit 76 of the smaller industrial plants in the Pontiac area to see if they can't pass the $4,520 raised by the group in the 1960 campaign.

"These men can do it," Snover said after a meeting recently with Thomas E. Wilson, industrial division chairman. At the meeting the volunteers received their "Yardsick for Giving" training kits and lists of who to call on.

★ ★ ★

There are 956 employes in the different plants to be visited.

Last year the firms contributed $2,900 to the 54 agencies which benefit from the United Fund and the employes gave until it helped with $1,620.

Believe Communists to Get Tougher

U.S. Eyes Sending Troops to Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is considering sending U.S. troops to help South Viet Nam fight off Communist attacks, expected to grow stronger when the rainy season ends later this month.

U.S. officials consider South Viet Nam the main target of the Communist drive in Southeast Asia. If the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem should fall, they say, Thailand, Malaya, Burma and Cambodia would be dangerously weakened.

★ ★ ★

High State Department sources revealed privately Friday that sending troops to South Viet Nam was under consideration.

Press officer Joseph Reap, while not specifically confirming this, did not rule it out.

CONSIDERING MEANS

In answer to questions, Reap said: "In view of the serious situation there, due to increasing Communist attacks against government defense units, we are considering various means of assisting the Viet Nam government against Communist efforts to take over the country."

"We are hopeful that measures to strengthen Viet Nam's defenses now being taken jointly by the Viet Nam government and the United States will prove effective."

★ ★ ★

Troops from other countries in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization may join in bolstering South Viet Nam's defenses.

Plans for the protection of Viet Nam's pro-Western government, completed at a recent meeting of SEATO military advisors at Bangkok, Thailand, were reported to include use of SEATO forces if necessary.

PREDICT RED DRIVE

For several weeks, U.S. sources have been predicting a drive by North Viet Nam to grab off all or part of its pro-Western neighbor, possibly by using regular forces as well as guerrilla infiltration.

They say the best time for such a move will be in November and December, after the rainy season ends.

Reports have been received here of Communist troops moving in division strength toward South Viet Nam over the jungle trails of Southern Laos.

Also, the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas are reported to have established military training camps in the ill-defined jungle border between Cambodia and South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

FAMILIAR TACTIC

U.S. officials think the Communists will try to establish an autonomous government in the Mekong River area to rival Diem's pro-Western government. This, they say, is a familiar Communist tactic, used in the past in China and Laos.

Reap was asked Friday if the South Viet Nam government had asked for American combat troops. He replied he did not know.

In the past Diem has said he would welcome arms and technical training by American military men but did not need troops.

U.S. officials classify the present situation in South Viet Nam as bad but not desperate.

Name Medical Staff for First CD Hospital

The medical personnel responsible for operating Oakland County's first fully staffed civil defense hospital were named at a special meeting last night at Michigan State University Oakland.

DR. EDGAR J. GEIST JR.

Director of the 200-bed emergency hospital, one of four in the county which could be set up in case of enemy attack or natural disaster, is Dr. Edgar J. Geist Jr., 1473 Pontiac Road, Avon Township.

Dr. Geist, who also is chairman of the newly formed Northeast Oakland County Civil Defense Council, was main speaker at last night's initial staff meeting of the Oakland County Civil Defense Hospital No. 1.

Deputy medical directors are Dr. Ralph C. Boyd, 6600 Orion Road, Avon Township; and Dr. Rodman C. Jacobi, 186 Spezia Drive, Oxford Township.

★ ★ ★

CAN BE MOVED

If necessary, the emergency hospital can be transported to other operational sites in the northeast section of the county, including Blanch Sims Elementary School in Lake Orion, Oxford High School in Oxford and either North Hill Elementary School or Avon Center Hospital in the Rochester area.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Geist said the emergency staff includes doctors, nurses, technicians, pharmicists, veterarians, dentists maintenance men, a transportation crew and citizens trained in special Civil Defense medical classes held throughout the county.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Geist pointed out that the northeastern section of Oakland County would be a logical location for a hospital site where patients injured in an atomic attack on Detroit could be treated.

"Our goal is defined," he told the audience of some 100 professional and volunteer medical personnel at the meeting.

"We have to create the sensible, optimistic effort to protect our families for survival and specifically — in relation to our hospital — provide the means to medical care for the survivors that come to us for help."

At the conclusion of his speech, Dr. Geist was presented a certificate of appreciation for his work in civil defense by Oakland County CD Director Lewis C. Jarrendt.

Northwest Batted by Bluster as We Bask in Sun

By The Associated Press

Blustery weather hit sections of the Northwest today, but it was mild and dry in most other parts of the country.

The cool and rainy weather in the Northwest covered areas of Montana, northern Wyoming, Idaho and along coastal sections of Washington and Oregon. Temperatures dropped into the 30s in some areas as strong chilly winds swept the region.

The cold air moved slowly southward across the northern Rockies and eastward into the northern plains during the night and early morning. It was expected to spread into northern Minnesota, southeastern parts of the Dakotas, Utah, Nevada, northwest Nebraska, northern Colorado and central California.

Hails Opportunity for Coverage of State Con-Con

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan newspapers and radio and television stations have the opportunity to cover the constitutional convention better than any governmental activity in Michigan's history, Secretary of State James M. Hare said today.

Hare told an editorial conference of daily and weekly newspaper editors here the con-con press corps were given "the best seats in the house."

Ink White, St. Johns, publisher of the Clinton County Republican News and a delegate to the con-con, and Dale Stafford, Greenville Daily News editor and chairman of a committee for an open convention, were also to appear on the program.

The secretary of state, who directed much of the operations setting up "constitution hall" in Lansing's Civic Center, said the convention activities this week marked a "philosophical and psychological pattern toward the 'right to know'" as well as physical facilities for good coverage.

"Where . . . in the past have newsmen been invited to sit in on party caucuses?" Hare said. News correspondents this week had access to both the Republican and Democratic caucuses which preceded the Tuesday convention session.

East Germans Celebrate 12th Year of Communism

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communist government celebrated its 12th anniversary today and brought out thousands of listless people to hear patriotic speeches.

The Communist ADN news agency said 250,000 wildly cheering East Germans took part in a monster rally on East Berlin's Marx-Engels Square.

★ ★ ★

Two Western observers on the spot, said the most striking thing about the crowd was its lack of enthusiasm.

At the most liberal estimate, no more than 20,000 people stood before the white, slogan-decorated reviewing stand. East German Communist boss Walter Ulbricht and Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan had the places of honor.

'PREPARED TO GIVE ALL'

Mikoyan told the gathering the Soviet Union was "prepared to give all and most effective guarantees for the free, demilitarized city of West Berlin. He said such a city would come with the signing of a peace treaty for Germany.

Ulbricht never spoke. However, Deputy Premier Bruno Leuschner stepped to the microphones to declare there would be no war over Germany. He said "we are now about to conclude a peace treaty," but, like Mikoyan, failed to mention a date.

★ ★ ★

Most of the crowd were factory and office workers, brought out in organized groups, and uniformed Communist youth formations.

TV viewers were given frequent glimpses of the most thickly packed sections of the crowd, but never saw the thinly spaced spectators in the rear.

THREATENS TO SIGN

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has frequently threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with the satellite East German regime by the end of the year.

But today, Mikoyan, as well as other Communist speakers, did not commit themselves to any date for the conclusion of the treaty.

★ ★ ★

Western observers thought the Reds seemed to be soft-pedaling while there was hope that East and West may meet at the conference table to negotiate a Berlin settlement.

East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht took the same new tact as Khrushchev and Mikoyan in avoiding all reference to a date for signing a peace treaty.

Bullet Ends Try to Evade Officer

Youth Leads Policeman on 2-Mile Chase; Tries to Run Him Over

A shot in the shoulder last night finally halted an 18-year-old Detroit motorist who, police say, led a pursuing Farmington Twp. policeman on a two-mile chase and then tried to run him down with a stolen car.

Robert Overman, Detroit, was arrested by Sgt. John Polder, as the youth was trying to escape on foot after being trapped in a dead end street near Quaker Town.

Overman is being held under guard at St. Mary's Hospital Livonia. He faces a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile.

★ ★ ★

Farmington police had received a stolen car report at 10:45 p.m., and the car was later spotted going west on Grand River by Sgt. Polder.

When the sergeant attempted to flag the car down, the driver ignored his flasher lights and sped away. Polder chased the car from Grand River onto Drake Street as far as 11 Mile Road.

When the driver pulled into a dead-end street in Old Homestead Subdivision, Polder blocked the exit with his police car.

MADE SHARP TURN

According to the sergeant's report, the car made a sharp turn at the end of the street and headed for the policeman in an attempt to run him down.

Polder said a boy, later identified as Overman, then jumped out of the car and tried to flee on foot. Polder fired several warning shots. One of another series of shots struck Overman in the shoulder.

Group to Study Fairgrounds

Governor Names Body to Examine Use on Year-Around Basis

LANSING (AP) — Formation of a State Fairground Development Commission to examine the use of fairgrounds on a year-round basis was announced today by Gov. Swainson.

Twenty-three state civic leaders were named to the commission, including John R. Chapman, Birmingham; William Gershenson, one of the developers of the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center, Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads; and Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press.

Swainson asked the group to report its findings as soon as possible because any legislation to be recommended would have to be presented to the Legislature early in January.

★ ★ ★

Swainson said the State Fairgrounds, because of its location and size, "is an exceptionally valuable asset of the state which should be developed not only for purposes of holding the fair but as a center for other activities on a year-round basis."

This is the only way it can be developed to benefit fully the largest number of Michigan citizens, he said.

"The problem," he explained, "is one of determining what other uses are compatible with the fair and of obtaining funds for the capital expansion of the facilities of the fair grounds."

Award $125,000 to Area Youth Bitten by Bear

Bear bites which brought pain to a Farmington youth in 1959, yesterday also brought him $125,000 in damages.

Joseph L. Williams Jr., 20, of 28976 Farmington Road, was awarded the sum by Detroit Federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman. Williams had been attacked by a bear June 18, 1959, while hiking in Glacier National Park. At the time, he was a waiter in a park motel.

Williams had sued the federal government for $450,000. He charged the National Park Service was negligent in permitting bears to roam wild. He said rangers told him bears would not bother him if he did not bother them.

Williams' father was awarded $8,051 in his suit for $25,000 for medical and other expenses.

signs a peace treaty with Communist East Germany. Khrushchev has said that the peace treaty will establish East German sovereignty over the supply lines from West Germany and that thereafter the Western powers must negotiate with the East German regime for use of the supply line.

★ ★ ★

The White House discussion ended the first phase of U.S.-Soviet efforts to lay a basis for future, formal negotiations on a Berlin settlement. So far as this phase is concerned, it obviously ended in failure to arrive at an agreement. However, officials said, it was too early to speak of failure in any broad sense since more "exploratory talks" are expected.

The next phase may be handled by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson in Moscow and Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov in Washington.

Thompson reached Washington late Friday and plans to spend several days in consultation here with Rusk and other administration officials. He expects to return to Moscow in about a week since he wants to be back for the opening of a Soviet Communist party meeting Oct. 17.

Hoffa Signs Contracts for 600,000 Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Teamster President James R. Hoffa says he has signed work contracts for 600,000 members of his trucking union which will expire simultaneously in September 1964.

Hoffa, speaking Friday before delegates to the annual convention of the Transport Workers Union, said the New York pacts—the last of which were signed Friday morning—call for uniform minimum wages and increased pension benefits. He did not specify the minimum wage.

★ ★ ★

Earlier Hoffa had said that his 1,700,000-member union would be willing under "certain stipulated terms" to return to the AFL-CIO from which it was expelled in 1957.

It would cost the Teamsters $4 million a year to return to the AFL-CIO, Hoffa said, adding he would be willing to make the move "only for the sake of unity."

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP) —A Bavarian court has ordered a West German newsmagazine to stop saying Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss looks like a stein of beer. Strauss is 5 feet 9 and weighs about 200 pounds.

Publisher Rudolf Augstein of Der Spiegel (The Mirror) argued that such a description of the chunky Cabinet minister fell within the privilege of freedom of the press.

The court ruled Friday that an article comparing Strauss to a beer stein was slanderous.

Fighting 17th Ready for Anything

RAMSTEIN AIR FORCE BASE, Germany (AP) — The United States Tactical Air Force in Europe now can shift from the use of conventional to atomic weapons in almost a matter of minutes.

★ ★ ★

Training of the supersonic jet fighter-bomber and other jet light bomber crews of the 17th Air Force with headquarters here has been revamped in a few short weeks to pattern it to the new military policy enunciated by the Kennedy administration.

★ ★ ★

"Until the Berlin crisis sharpened President Kennedy's decision to increase conventional firepower of all U.S. forces while at the same time retaining nuclear strength, much of the training of the 17th Air Force was in use of atomic weapons.

GOVERNMENT POLICY

Government policy is to provide U.S. commanders in Europe, both air and ground, with alternative weapons. The United States has carefully avoided foreclosing the possibility of applying atomic weapons when and where a situation might demand.

Maj. Gen. H. R. Spicer, meeting with U.S. newsmen Friday, was asked if the trend has been to downgrade atomic weapons while beefing up the conventional explosive category.

★ ★ ★

This Spicer denied with a sharp "We have not." Then he said that more practice with standard bombs, aerial rockets and similar material has begun. About 95 per cent of the crews of the 17th's bombers and fighter interceptors are qualified for the use of nuclear weapons, Spicer said.

The fighter-bombers and light bombers based at 17th Air Force fields along the Communist frontier and farther back can load up with either standard explosive or atomic bombs, with no change required in equipment.

WITHIN MINUTES

Newsmen, in a tour of Ramstein, got the impression that both types of weapons were in storage within minutes of ready areas where planes stood poised for almost instant take-off. The aircraft apparently were armed with one type of weapon.

The strike planes of the 17th—the ones which would support U.S. and other NATO ground forces in the event of a Soviet-satellite plunge into Western Europe—include four types, three of them supersonic jets.

★ ★ ★

The F100, oldest of supersonic design, is being gradually replaced with F101 Voodoos and F105 Thunderchiefs. The latter can fly at speeds of about 1,400 miles per hour and deliver "heavy bomb loads deep into enemy territory," the 17th Air Force claims.

The fourth type is the B66 light bomber, subsonic in speed but with longer range. In addition to the manned aircraft, the 17th also is equipped with the Matador and Mace bombardment missiles, with a range for the latter of several hundred miles.

FIGHTER INTERCEPTORS

Equally important are the fighter interceptors, the F102A Delta Dagger and the F104 Starfighter. The F102 can operate in storm or darkness by radar and launch missiles guided to the target by heat-seeking devices or radar control. The F104, a slightly lighter but faster jet, can work up to altitudes of 90,000 feet.

Asked how the fighters could protect commercial airliners in the event of Red attack in the corridor, Spicer said: "We have contingency plans for just about everything. We have F102s and F104s sitting ready to take off. They could help."

How does the Tactical Air Force in Western Europe compare with the Communist force facing it?

Spicer agreed that "we are but not qualitatively." The 17th has the latest aircraft in its inventory.

"I'll put up our best against their best anytime," the general declared.

25 SQUADRONS

The 17th has 25 squadrons of tactical bombing types, averaging between 18 and 25 planes per squadron, and six squadrons of fighter interceptors. Spicer declined to estimate how many similar aircraft of the Communist countries are facing him.

Shelter Offered Owners of Basementless Homes

WASHINGTON — An inside fall-out shelter has been designed for homes without basements, according to the Journal of Homebuilding, official magazine of the National Association of Home Builders.

The shelter is designed around a bathroom in the core of the house. It has been approved by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

The unusual shelter is being offered at Wedgewood Park in Youngstown, Ohio, by builder John P. Shutrump of United Construction Co.

Shutrump was awarded a $1,500 OCDM contract to build the model shelter under a government - sponsored demonstration program. More than 1,000 different shelters were installed under the over-all OCDM prototype program of which the basementless home shelter was a part.

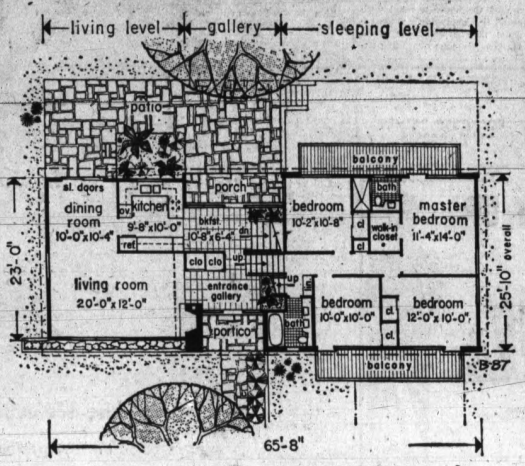
The bathroom shelter was designed by the Department of Civil Engineering of Youngstown University.

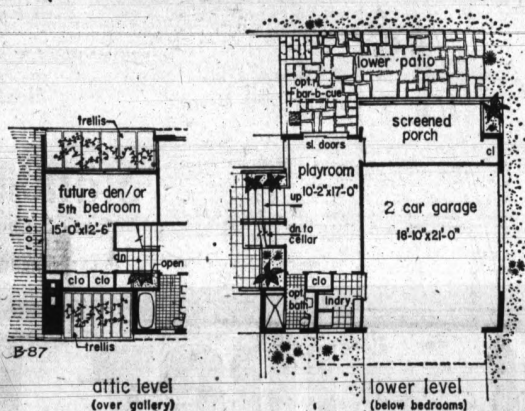
On the surface, the shelter looks like most modern bathrooms, but under the tile and plaster are materials that Civil Defense officials say will afford maximum radiation protection. The bathroom has cots and food. A hand-driven blower can be attached to a filtered air-intake pipe for emergency ventilation.

The exterior dimensions of the bathroom shelter are 9'4"x12'8" and the interior is 6'x9'4". Three rows of concrete blocks give the walls a 20" thickness.

Interior walls and ceiling are tiled, plastered and decorated as a regular bathroom. A lead shield can be installed to cover the 3' wide window. An 8" concrete-block hall wall, opposite the bathroom shields the doorway.

STRIKING AND NEAT — Unusual split level, with four bedrooms and three full baths in 1,477 square feet, features a center gallery which makes for excellent zoning as well as providing expansion opportunity for a fifth bedroom or den. Note dramatic one and one-half story entrance portico.





FLOOR PLANS — The center gallery, indented front and rear from the rest of the house, provides excellent traffic circulation, dividing home into clearly zoned areas. Basic house contains 1,477 square feet in overall dimensions of 65'8" by 25'10". Lot size of 80' by 100' is suggested.

Get Out of Split Level Basement Via New Hatch

A new steel hatchway has been designed for use over the steps leading from the basement of split-level houses to the yard. This hatchway can be used where the basement is from 20 to 40 inches below the grade level.

The split-level hatchway enables home-owners to get in and out of their basement without coming up to the recreation room, garage or other part of the house. It is made by the Bilco Company, New Haven, Conn.

Well Zoned Split Level Revolves Around Gallery

By JULES LOH

A neat innovation in traditional split level design, based on an interesting and functional entrance gallery, enabled architect Samuel Paul to score a remarkable achievement in this house.

He has packaged four bedrooms, three full baths and an impressive exterior in 1,477 square feet of basic house — which has, in addition, expansion space for a large fifth bedroom or den.

Paul calls the house the Juliet. It is design B-87 in the House of the Week series.

The gallery, indented both front and rear from the rest of the house, serves as an entrance foyer in front and a glass-walled breakfast area in back. A double closet separates the two.

The indention creates a covered porch (one of two) in the rear, and in front results in a striking entrance portico one and a half stories high.

ATTIC SPACE

The bonus space in this house — a usable attic which may be finished at some later date — is another benefit of the gallery idea. The 15' by 12'6" room results by simply carrying the higher bedroom roof across the gallery.

An equally important effect of the gallery, if not more important, is that it makes for excellent zoning. Living, sleeping and informal areas are clearly separated to a degree not usually found in split level homes.

At the same time, the breakfast area serves as a connecting link between the kitchen, porch, playroom and two patios, integrating the entire rear of the house into a large informal living area encompassing two levels.

From the exterior, Paul's deft use of brick veneer transforms B-87 from a simple wood frame house to one of solid, suburban character. Its shape also facilitates economical construction: only 10,400 board feet of framing lumber are required.

Dimensions of the house are 65'8" wide by 25' deep on the living room side and 25'10" deep on the bedroom side. Paul suggests a lot of 80' by 100'.

Two balconies, on the front and back of the bedroom level, provide a touch of elegance at only incidental extra cost. They are built simply by overhanging the floor joists.

Besides offering outdoor living on an upper level, they also provide protection from the weather below — over the garage door and screened porch. If desired, the walls and floor of the front balcony can be eliminated and a decorative trellis thus formed.

A high cathedral ceiling in the living and dining rooms provides another accent of glamor, as well as economy. A combined planter and lighting cove, passing in front of the brick fireplace and extending the full width of the living room, provides a subtle transition from the 8' high gallery to the 10' high living room.

All three full bathrooms in this house are well placed and of good size. The front bath has a built-in double vanity and a recessed tub, and both the master bath and the bath on the playroom level (an optional feature) have large-size tile stall showers.

Large patios on two levels, plus a screened porch on the lower level, provide excellent outdoor living features, not to mention the two balconies and covered porch on the upper levels. Sliding glass doors in the dining room and playroom make both patios enjoyable from the interior as well as accessible.

Why Not Install It in the Basement?

Looking for an extra washroom? Don't forget the basement area, suggests the Institute of Home Designers. It says that the average home-owner over-estimates how much space is needed for a washroom, and that a washbasin and water-closet can easily be fitted into an area 4 feet by 4 feet.

* * *

Basements make a good location for an extra bathroom because it generally is easy to hook into existing plumbing there. This area also provides an excellent mud-room for adults and children working and playing out of doors. To be most effective, a basement washroom should be readily accessible to the outdoors, preferably through a separate basement entrance from the yard.

Contoured Sinks Will Fit Dishes Better

There is a proper-shaped sink for dishwashing, contends Karl Jansen, president of Jensen-Thorsen Corporation—whose stainless steel sinks are all contour-shaped.

* * *

"For years, people put round dishes in square sinks—and that was doing it the hard way," Jensen asserts. "The rounded contour shape of Jensen sinks is easier on the dishes, and cuts down on breakage. Incidentally, it also prevents splashing."

B-87 Statistics

Four bedroom split level with three full baths, living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast nook, entrance gallery, playroom, screened porch, double garage, cellar.

Basic house contains 1,477 square feet. Width is 65' 8". House is 23' deep on living room side, 25' 10" on bedroom side. Suggested plot: 80' by 100'.

Junior Achievers Ready to Roll

Industry Gets 300 Newcomers

New industrial firms with some 300 teen-age executives and employes will begin operations here Monday, counseled by 16 Junior Achievement companies in the Pontiac area.

Announcement of what is described as the nation's greatest mass induction of companies into the business world is made by JA's current president H. John Lowry, president of Michigan Mutual Liability Co.

★ ★ ★

Part of a worldwide network of JA companies which will operate during the school year through May, the small local firms will be counseled by Detroit Edison Co., Community National Bank, GM Tech Center, GM Truck & Coach Division, Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors, and GM Overseas & Handling Division.

Other sponsors are Michigan Bell Telephone, Bendix Corp.'s Research Division, Chrysler Engineering, Consumers Power, Chevrolet Engineering Division and Fisher Body Division of GM.

Pontiac Motor and GM Truck & Coach Divisions will each counsel three firms; the others are each sponsoring one.

TEAMS OF THREE

Each counselor-sponsor will designate a team of three — in business, sales, and production — to advise JA companies two hours per week during the seven month period.

Within a few weeks after the teen-agers have their enterprises under way, they will elect their own management.

Over 8,000 youths are expected to join the JA organization in Southeastern Michigan this year. The teens' firms are more than "paper corporations." They will follow an exact big business pattern as hundreds of part-time business teens sell company stock for 50 cents a share and develop a product or service for the public, in addition to electing their own officers.

★ ★ ★

Formed in 1919 to educate U. S. youth to the principles of free enterprise and to prepare them for a greater role in the business affairs of the nation, JA has also marketed its influence abroad.

The organization now operates in Canada, Mexico, and New Zealand as well as in Holland, Finland, and the Dutch West Indies.

IRS Unveils New Tax Form

Compact Model 1040 Designed to Simplify Payer's Work Load

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The Internal Revenue Service unveiled Friday a new compact model of tax form 1040 which it claimed will make paying your income taxes easier.

The new form has been reduced from four pages to two and is designed to simplify the work load of approximately 16.5 million taxpayers.

It was put on display at a news conference by Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer S. Caplin.

In addition, another 7.5 million taxpayers who in the past used form 1040W—a two-page form—will use the new, abbreviated form instead.

In the past, some 41 million taxpayers have used the so-called "long" form which called for the listing of income from dividends, interest, pensions and annuities, rents and royalties, depreciation and retirement credits.

LANGUAGE SIMPLIFIED

Those who must pay on such income will continue to fill out a four-page form.

Caplin reported that some of the language is being simplified on the new returns. For instance, he said, the word "total" will be used instead of "adjusted gross income."

The commissioner said money saved by elimination of the two pages will be used to print the returns on a better grade of paper.

★ ★ ★

The pages also will be perforated to make it easier to detach the form from the instruction booklet which accompanies it.

Neither Snow, Nor Hail, Nor Sleep . . .

CHICAGO (AP)—The wife of a Chicago letter carrier was granted a divorce Friday because, after her husband finished his appointed rounds, he just kept on walking—in his sleep, night after night.

After her husband 36, was bedded down for the night, Mrs. Donald Weber said, he would get up and start sleep walking.

Sometimes her somnambulist husband lighted cigarettes, Mrs. Weber told Superior Court Judge Walker Butler. And when she tired to awaken him, she said, his first reaction was to strike her.

Sees $50 Billion for Arms in '63

McNamara Considers New Military Budget That Could Surpass All

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has drawn guidelines for a new military budget that could reach $50 billion — which would top this year's by about $3.5 billion.

★ ★ ★

The current military budget—the highest ever passed in peacetime—was increased about $6 billion from last year after President Kennedy ordered an increase in conventional military power to meet the Soviet threat in Berlin and elsewhere in the world.

STILL TENTATIVE

Pentagon sources stressed, however, that any over-all estimate at this stage must be considered extremely tentative. They said the process of distilling and shaping a military budget for the 1963 fiscal year is only now getting under way in earnest. More precise figures may not be arrived at until mid-November, if then.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy will present the military budget to Congress in January. It will be for the year starting next July.

Intertown Firm Can't Stop Line

State Commission Tells Suburban Bus Co.'s Service Must Continue

LANSING (AP) — The Intertown Suburban Bus Lines says it wants to go out of business, but can't.

★ ★ ★

The transporation firm, deadlocked in a labor dispute since Aug. 1, notified the State Public Service Commission Tuesday that it did not plan to resume service even if the strike were settled, the commission said.

Commission spokesmen said, however, that the firm did not file a petition to abandon service as required by law, and that the commission had not authorized the stoppage of service.

Therefore, the commission said, the service "shall immediately cease and desist from taking any steps to abandon bus service." The firm, it added, should be ordered to take "such further action as may be required to be able to render service upon termination of said current work stoppage."

PLANNED TO DISCONTINUE

The commission said it was advised by telephone Tuesday that the firm planned to discontinue service.

The commission ordered a hearing on the matter Oct. 18 in Lansing.

Intertown serves 13 Wayne County communities.

In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY OF DOROthy Jean Luttman who passed away Oct. 8.
A bud that the Gardener gave us,
A rare and lovely flower,
He gave her in our keeping
To cherish unsullied
But just as it is growing
To the glory of the day
Down came the Heavenly Gardener
And took our flower away.
Sadly missed by Father, Mother, brothers, sisters and grandmothers.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF PAULine Ross, who passed away 8 years ago, October 8, 1953.
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget,
But time has only proved
How much we miss her yet.
Sadly missed by husband, children, grandchildren, mother, sister and brother.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MRS. Fannie Wright, who passed away October 7, 1956.
As angels keep their watch up there,
Please God just let her know
That we down here will not forget,
We love and miss her so.
Sadly missed by her husband, W. O. Wright and family.

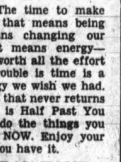
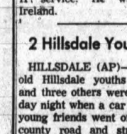
Reflections

HALF PAST YOU

We never have time to do all the things we anticipate; half of our life is gone before we realize our potentials. I heard a housewife say: "If I don't do it in the morning it isn't done." If we wait for a better time to start, anything, it's Half Past You and then it's too late. A retiree exclaimed, "I wanted to travel; by the time I was squared away I didn't have time to go beyond next door. Believe me, it was Half Past Me."



M. E. SIPLE



J. L. VOORHEES

Carlisle once said, "The time to make friends is NOW and that means being one, and that means changing our philosophy, and that means energy—but that objective is worth all the effort one expends." The trouble is time is a thief, robs us of energy we wish we had. Time, the one element that never returns for a second chance, is Half Past You before you know it—do the things you hope to do someday, NOW. Enjoy your share of time when you have it.

TV Actress Allowed Stock Ticker on Set

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Miss Myrna Fahey believes she's the only TV actress whose contract provides that she shall have a stock ticker on the set.

WILSON

"That sounds like a phony story," this reporter said recently to Myrna, the 21-year-old Elizabeth Taylor look-alike from Southwest Harbor, Me., who plays Leon Ames' daughter in the new CBS series, "Father of the Bride."

"Yes, it does," nodded Myrna.

But it's in my contract, and though I don't actually have it yet, I'm going to have it within two weeks."

It may be a clue to the kind of actresses that are around today.

"I never dreamed I'd become interested in finance," Myrna said, "I did take an investment course in the UCLA extension summer school but that wasn't what did it.

"I bought some industrial stock," she explained.

"I bought it at 60 and it went to 145," Myrna said. "It split for the second time."

Myrna then went on babbling about growth stocks and added, "I dabble a lot in new issues . . ."

"The fact that I'm supposed to look like Elizabeth Whatsher-name had nothing to do with me getting into "Father of the Bride," Myrna insisted.

"Because we don't really look alike—I don't think. We just happen to have the same coloring.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Paul Ford, playing a senator in "Advise and Consent," got coaching in an Italian accent from Otto Preminger — so his Italian accent had a German accent . . .

EARL'S PEARLS: Criticism is something you can avoid by saying nothing, doing nothing and being nothing.

Vincent Price's "Pit and the Pendulum" shows a room full of instruments of torture. "Of course," says Price, "in a modern version we'd install a TV set." . . . That's earl, brother.

Appeals to Keep Oceans N-Test Free

GENEVA (AP) — The International Labor Organization appealed to the nuclear powers Friday to keep the oceans free of atomic test explosions.

★ ★ ★

The appeal was made by the ILO's Joint Maritime Committee combinging 15 shipowners and 15 representatives of seafarers organizations affiliated with the world labor body.

The committee cited what it called the grave health hazards created by nuclear tests and said in a resolution that every effort must be made to minimize the danger.

Navy Lengthens Term for Future ROTC Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy claimed Friday an additional year active duty from some of its future ROTC college students.

The action will affect about 1,000 students a year in the contract NROTC.

Secretary of the Navy John D. Connally Jr. said those enrolled after next June will be required to obligate themselves to three years instead of two on active duty.

At the same time, he announced a new program on a trial basis under which junior college graduates can enter the NROTC as contract students.

Bandits Get $231,000

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Three white bandits Friday robbed three bank employes in Central Pretoria of founds estimated at $231,000. Police called it the biggest armed robbery in South Africa's history.

★ ★ ★

Officers said the robbers had halted a van in which employes of the Volkskas People's Bank were transporting money from a post office to the bank's head office. The bandits, armed with pistols, tied up the employes and drove off in the van.
