Pontiac Commissioners Are All Reelected

Senate OKs Pay Hike for Legislators

LANSING (AP)—The Senate voted legislators a $5,000 pay raise after a citizens' commission recommended the increase.

Michigan lawmakers' salaries —already the highest of any state—would go to $15,000. The present $2,500 expense allowance would be retained and fringe benefits would be broadened.

The Senate also threw in a $10,000 raise for the governor and increases for the attorney general, secretary of state and lieutenant governor.

The bills must go to the House, where a similar $5,000 raise for legislators was approved last year.

★ ★ ★

The commission recommending the raise was appointed by the Senate and Gov. Romney, but Romney has not said whether he will sign the bill.

IN SESSION

The Senate stayed in session until nearly 1 a.m. to vote on the pay raise.

Two Republicans joined 18 Democrats in giving the measure the minimum 20 votes it needed for approval.

Several senators absented themselves during the vote.

★ ★ ★

Nine Republicans and a Democrat opposed the hike, but enough of them joined on a vote for immediate effect to insure the bill would take effect Jan. 1 1967, following this year's general election.

NO DEBATE

There was no debate on merits of the general raises although Democrats skirmished briefly over whether party leaders should get extra pay of up to $5,000. That proposal was dropped after a hasty caucus.

The raise for elected state executives passed 25-6.

Besides the governor's jump from $30,000 to $40,000, it would boost the attorney general and secretary of state from $20,000 to $30,000 and the lieutenant governor from $17,500 to $22,500.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, promised major appointive department heads would be given pay increases beginning July 1 provided the legislative increase is approved.

'SHOULD GET MORE'

Romney has said the department heads should get more money.

Leaders hoped to speed the legislative pay measure to Romney and force him to make his decision while the House and Senate still have

'Sound of Music' Top Picture

Oscars Are Presented

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Britain's Julie Christie, rugged Lee Marvin and "The Sound of Music" won the top Oscars — with the President's daughter Lynda Bird Johnson a guest star in the audience.

The blonde Miss Christie was honored at last night's 38th annual Academy Awards as an English model who sleeps her way to success with a succession of high and low society figures in "Darling."

Hands to face, sobbing but gleeful, she gasped: "I don't know what to say except to thank everyone concerned — especially my darling, John Schlesinger (the director), for this wonderful picture."

Said Marvin, the roaring drunk gunfighter of "Cat Ballou," after prolonged, thunderous applause indicating a popular choice:

"Half of this (Oscar) belongs to a horse someplace out in the valley" — a reference to the dilapidated nag he rode in the Western film.

★ ★ ★

It was one of the hardest-to-predict Oscar races in years. Much sentiment favored Rod Steiger as "The Pawnbroker."

There were predictions that "Ship of Fools" or "Doctor Zhivago" would win as best picture. One of the closest contests was between two Julies, good friends.

Julie Andrews — who didn't win for "The Sound of Music" — did accept an Oscar for its director, Robert Wise, now at work on another picture in Hong Kong.

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to accept," said Miss Andrews, radiant in an orange gown. "I know he's heartbroken not being here this evening."

The brilliantly melodic "Sound of Music" — in which Miss Andrews was again nominated for her role as a governess as when she won in "Mary Poppins" a year ago — won the best picture award.

The award for best performance by an actor in a supporting role went to Martin Balsam in "A Thousand Clowns." He played a "square" business success, the older brother of happy-go-lucky Jason Robards.

Best performance by an actress in a supporting role: Shelley Winters, brutal mother of a blind girl in "A Patch of Blue."

It was Miss Winters' second supporting-actress Oscar — the

Ford Recalling 30,000 Cars Due to Defect

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. disclosed yesterday its dealers are asking approximately 30,000 owners of 1966 model passenger cars to return them for inspection of a brake line.

Ford said approximately 25,000 Ford and 5,000 Mercuries are involved, and that dealers began recalling them April 8.

The company said in a formal statement after it was asked to verify reports of units being recalled:

"Company personnel discovered, while unloading some vehicles from rail carriers on which the cars had been springloaded, that a few of them had a damaged brake line due to severe bouncing.

★ ★ ★

"No reports of the failure of the brakes in any unit have been received from customers."

CLIP INSTALLED

In units found damaged, Ford said dealers also are installing a clip to reroute the brake line.

It added that the affected units were built in late February and in March when the location of the clip was changed in production.

The company reported customers were being advised by telephone to return units for inspection and that many of the modifications already have been completed.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman explained springs normally are used to lock units in place on railway cars.

Brake line damage reportedly was caused by the exhaust pipe bouncing against it.

WILLIAM R. FRESHOUR

Executive Gets UF Drive Post

Consumers Power Co. Residential Sales Supervisor William R. Freshour has been appointed 1966 publicity and promotion chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

He will direct the preparation of newspaper, billboard and radio publicity, as well as special fund raising and promotional efforts on behalf of the annual drive.

★ ★ ★

Donald O. Tatroe, general chairman of the campaign, said in announcing the appointment that Freshour has served previous campaigns as chapter plans chairman, a member of the arrangements committee and as a chairman of company solicitations.

Freshour of 1348 Villa, Birmingham, is a member of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and current chairman of the chamber's membership committee.

Ferency Bids for Dem Nod as Governor

EAST LANSING (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency announced today that he will seek to oppose Republican Gov. George Romney on the Nov. 8 ballot.

In an address at Michigan State University, Ferency said, "When I leave the campus of my alma mater today, I shall be seeking nomination and election to the office of governor on the Democratic ticket."

Ferency made his announcement at a meeting of the Democratic party's MSU Academic Resource Council.

The meeting was attended by a large number of party leaders, including ex-Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a candidate for the U. S. Senate, and Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

Ferency made his announcement in a room that is a reproduction of the Michigan Constitutional Convention Hall — where Romney's political life was begun.

Romney was a delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

Among the issues he will debate with Romney, Ferency said are education, air and water pollution and mental health facilities.

$2.5 Million Asked for OU, OCC Buildings

Construction Fund Proposals Go to U. S. Office of Education

The State Higher Education Facilities Commission has recommended an allocation of $2.5 million in federal construction funds to Oakland University and the Oakland Community College Farmington Orchard Ridge and Highland Lakes campuses.

OU is to receive $1 million for its proposed $4-million engineering building; OCC $750,000 for its $6.9-million Orchard Ridge campus development and $750,000 for its $2.2-million Highland Lakes campus development.

The recommendations will now be forwarded to the U.S. Office of Education for final approval.

The local allocations are part of the commission's $20.3-million package recommendation for 28 Michigan colleges, universities and community colleges.

★ ★ ★

The $20.3 million available this year is nearly double the amount available to the state last year.

Federal grants totaling nearly $16 million were recommended for 12 projects at 11 public colleges and universities and 11 projects at 10 private four-year institutions. They have a total cost of $63 million.

The remaining $4.3 million was recommended for projects at seven community colleges, to cost an estimated total of $20.6 million.

Outstate projects, with estimated total cost and recommended federal funds include:

Rivals Downed by Incumbents in Heavy Vote

Big Margins Noted in Most Races; Judges Win Unopposed Seats

By L. GARY THORNE

Pontiac voters yesterday reelected all seven incumbent city commissioners to two-year terms by a large citywide margin.

More than one-third (11,015) of the city's 32,320 registered voters went to the polls in a turnout labeled "good" by election workers.

Wesley J. Wood, seeking reelection to his District 6 seat, emerged from yesterday's balloting as the top vote-getter, according to unofficial returns.

Wood, 59, of 11 N. Sanford, finished with a 3,421-vote margin over Mrs. Charles W. Neldrett, 54, of 62 Mariva. Mrs. Neldrett received 2,810 votes to Wood's 6,231.

★ ★ ★

Reelected by substantial margins were Wood, T. Warren Fowler Sr., Robert C. Irwin, William H. Taylor Jr., Leslie H. Hudson, John A. Dugan and James H. Marshall.

COURT VOTE

Voters also reelected Pontiac's two municipal court judges Maurice E. Fimegan (6,382) and Cecil B. McCallum (6,304), to new six-year terms. Both were unopposed.

Some novel vote patterns were demonstrated by the city's electorate in only the second election of district commission representatives on an at-large basis.

The tightest runoff race was in District 4 where incumbent Hudson, 43, of 315 Gallogly, topped challenger George Grba, 35, of 28 Kimball, by a total of 1,072 votes.

WON HIS DISTRICT

Grba, who won the most votes in District 4, garnered a total vote of 4,074 citywide while Hudson recorded 5,146 votes.

Grba had bested Hudson in the March 7 primary.

Commenting on yesterday's results, Grba said, "I was quite surprised at the returns. There seemed (on the basis of the primary) to be a trend for a change."

★ ★ ★

Said Hudson, "I have to give the credit to the other districts (for reversing the primary results). It's been an uphill battle all the way."

★ ★ ★

A similar voter performance occurred in District 1 where incumbent Fowler finished second in that district race to challenger Charles M. Tucker Jr., 33, of 161 Earlemoor.

Tucker took nearly all six precincts in District 1 by comfortable margins. Fowler did come close in his own voting precinct, finishing only four votes behind.

British Ground Four U. S.-Made Airliners

LONDON (UPI) — British Overseas Airway Corp. (BOAC) announced today it has so far found hairline cracks in the tail sections of four of its fleet of 19 American-built Boeing 707 jets and will have to cancel flights as a result.

BOAC said "it is thought possible" that a fifth may have the same trouble and a sixth was being checked with special electrical equipment. The airline started examining its Boeing 707 jets on the advice of Boeing.

first such twin victory for any actress. She won in 1959 as a dowdy Dutch housewife in "The Diary of Anne Frank."

★ ★ ★

The supposedly blind girl of "A Patch of Blue" — Elizabeth Hartman, in her first movie — was nominated for a starring Oscar.

One of the loudest ovations was for Lynda Bird Johnson, 22, escorted by actor George Hamilton, 26. She was in a brown fur jacket over an orange dress; he, tanned and smiling, in white tie and tails.

Hamilton, with Patty Duke, presented the Oscar for the best achievement in sound to "The Sound of Music."

★ ★ ★

That film and "Doctor Zhivago" each won five awards. "The Sound of Music" is the sixth musical in the Awards' 38-year history to win the best-picture Oscar.

Other top awards:

Best foreign language film: "The Shop on Main Street," made behind the Iron Curtain in Czechoslovakia.

Best song: "The Shadow of Your Smile," from "The Sandpiper."

★ ★ ★

Best screenplay based on material from another medium: "Doctor Zhivago," by Robert Bolt.

Best story and screenplay written directly for the screen? "Darling," by Frederick Raphael.

Mount Clemens Dance Is Scene of 7 Stabbings

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — At least seven persons were stabbed in a series of fights at a Mount Clemens young people's dance Monday night.

★ ★ ★

Ernest Hockaday, 19, of Clinton Township was the most seriously injured stabbing victim. Hockaday was hospitalized with a stab wound in the chest.

★ ★ ★

Mount Clemen police and Macomb County sheriff's men broke up the melee. Some 300 persons were at the dance, police said. No arrests were made.

Officers said chairs were broken at the center where the dance was held and cars outside the center were stoned.

★ ★ ★

Police Chief Philip Oakey said the dance was a biweekly affair and sponsored by the city's recreation department. He said he would recommend the dance program be curtailed.

Commission Will Discuss Sewer Pact

A revised agreement for the Pontiac leg of the Galloway Creek storm sewer heads the agenda for tonight's meeting.

The trunk sewer on the northeast end of the city is to be constructed in connection with the master interceptor system by the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Previously City Engineer Joseph E. Nelpling reported that the trunk sewer project would be constructed ahead of the county system.

★ ★ ★

The reason for making it a joint city-county project was to "materially" reduce the total cost, he added.

Generally, the sewer is to follow the creek bed from a point on the north city limits to just below Galloway Lake.

In other business tonight, the commission is to consider a request for a dance permit for Bud & Lou's Tavern, 417 Auburn.

Also tonight, several rezoning petitions are also scheduled for commission consideration.

Lone Gunman Robs Bank in Southfield

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — A lone gunman robbed the National Bank of Southfield of an estimated $1,600 in this Detroit suburb yesterday.

The FBI described the robber as a Negro wearing a light trenchcoat and black gloves and carrying a long-barreled pistol. Agents said he escaped in a yellow Mustang car.

New Exhibit Emphasizes the Modern 'Look' in Math

By PAT McCARTY

"Look here! Look here!" the visitor to the Mathematics Emporium is coaxed.

If the signs don't reach him, chances are the Op Art and dramatic photographs will in the new permanent exhibit at Cranbrook Institute of Science.

"This is what mathematics looks like," said Gordon Ashby, who designed the exhibit for International Business Machines Corp.

Ashby, a California designer with an architectural background, spoke of his display as one which will involve the youngsters and adults viewing it in creative thinking about mathematics.

Featured is a collection of small displays that make use of common objects to relate mathematics to the everyday world.

FEWER ANSWERS

There are fewer answers than questions in the display, geared to stimulate further investigation and experimentation by those viewing it.

"In approaching the Cranbrook exhibit, we wanted to create an exhibition that would make mathematics 'look-at-able' and bear repeated visits," Ashby said.

"We hope the Mathematics Emporium achieves this and that the viewer, like a shopper in a department store, will discover something new and different to attract his attention and excite his interest no matter how many times he sees the displays."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Robert T. Hatt, institute director, said he welcomed the fresh approach and content of the new display.

DISCOVERY OF MESSAGE

"Discovery of the message may require a little bending and stretching of both body and mind, but the reward should be an enlarged understanding of mathematics and its place in the world of today," Hatt said.

Starting today, the exhibit is open to the public from 1 to 5 p.m. daily and to groups on appointment from 9 a.m.

Numbers are de-emphasized.

ILLUSTRATIONS

Instead, the visitor's attention is drawn to illustrations of a snowflake, a chambered nautilus, a daisy — or to objects as simple as a can of baking powder, a pretzel or a doughnut beside a coffee cup.

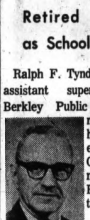
Each is an "analogy to a mathematical idea," Ashby said, noting that the display is aimed at the visually-oriented rather than print-oriented student.

The completely new exhibit covers such subjects as calculus, topology, projective geometry, probability theory, symmetry and computers.

Enters OCC Trustee Race

Retired Last July as School Official

Ralph F. Tyndall, 64, former assistant superintendent of Berkley Public Schools, announced today he would seek election to the Oakland Community College Board of Trustees.



Tyndall of 2436 Shenandoah, Royal Oak, retired from the Berkley system TYNDALL last July after 13 years service.

Prior to that, Tyndall held administrative posts with three other school systems and was employed by an educational publishing firm in New York.

Terming the establishment of OCC as an educational landmark in Oakland County, Tyndall believes that a branch of the college is needed in the southern area of the county.

He said he would like to play a part in the college's progress and help to see that it continues to present the best educational opportunities available to all youth of the county.

A University of Michigan summa cum laude graduate, Tyndall holds membership in several educational organizations including the National Education Association and the Michigan Association for Supervision of Curriculum Development.

Area Caterer Said Missing Since April 8

SOUTHFIELD (UPI) — Southfield police disclosed yesterday Robert Rosenberg, 32, a well-known caterer, has been missing since April 8 when he telephoned his wife to tell her he was "being held."

Mrs. Rosenberg told police her husband called and said he was "being held and not to call the police."

He said he would phone the next day with further details. He never called.

Detroit police found Rosenberg's car April 10 with papers strewn about inside.

Mrs. Rosenberg said her husband was carrying about $300 at the time he disappeared.

CALLS ATTORNEY

She said she immediately called the family attorney and asked his advice.

He apparently told her to keep the incident quiet, but yesterday police decided to reveal the details.

Waterford Annoyed by City Tactics

Waterford Township board members last night indicated they were a little irked at what they termed Pontiac City Commission "tactics" for eliminating pollution of the city's Crystal Lake.

Trustee William Dean Jr. said "they (city commissioners) haven't found time to meet with us on mutual problems."

★ ★ ★

He pointed out that the township board requested a meeting with the commission more than a year ago and that the two bodies haven't met yet.

"We have 60,000 people and 85 employes and they have 85,000 people and about 800 employes," said Dean.

"We're future customers and they are potential sellers. We should be on friendlier terms."

★ ★ ★

Dean's comments were in reaction to a move last week, whereby the City Commission hinted that extension of city sewer services to another area of the township might be contingent on what steps are being taken by township officials to curb pollution of Crystal Lake.

ON CITY AGENDA

A report submitted by Township Supervisor Dorothy W. Olson to City Manager Joseph Warren on measures being taken to abate pollution in a portion of the township bordering Pontiac is on tonight's City Commission agenda.

Untreated waste water and septic tank effluent from a portion of the township presently flow into the county's West End storm drain which empties into Crystal Lake.

Plans for construction of about two miles of sanitary sewer lines in the area are 70 per cent complete, according to township officials.

★ ★ ★

Water Department Supt. Kenneth M. Squiers told the board last night that the Michigan Water Resources Commission (WRC) apparently was satisfied by progress being made in the township to curtail pollution.

URGES SEWERS

However, the WRC urged the township to install sanitary sewers as soon as the Clinton-Oakland Interceptor is available to eliminate further pollution of state waters, said Squiers.

★ ★ ★

A survey taken by the commission showed raw or semi-treated sewage discharges to Loon, Silver, Otter and Cass Lakes, Squiers noted.

Rocket Workers Ignore Limited Picket Request

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Striking rocket electricians today ignored a government request to limit picketing and maintained the same lines that stalled two key moonport construction projects yesterday.

The strikers, members of the International Union of Electricians (AFL-CIO), picketed all four main gates yesterday in a wage dispute with the United Technology Center. About 45 per cent of the Cape's 1,146 building tradesmen were turned away.

City Reelects All Incumbents

Fowler topped Tucker by 2,110 votes — 6,113 to 4,003.

SAME FATTERN

The pattern was nearly duplicated by Hudson of District 4 and Marshall of District 7.

Hudson carried only one precinct, his own, in District 4, but outdistanced the challenger in the citywide returns.

Meantime, Marshall topped former Mayor Robert A. Landry in only two District 7 precincts, but easily won election with his total citywide vote.

It was the first time Marshall won election on his own. He was appointed to the incumbent commission in 1964 to serve out the term of the late Emmett S. Wellbaum.

ALL PRECINCTS

Only two incumbents, Taylor and Irwin, carried all of their respective district precincts, although Wood ran second in only one District 6 precinct and Dugan finished behind in just two of his district's eight precincts.

Candidate comments on the unofficial vote returns dovetailed closely with the results. The winners were elated and the losers dejected.

"I'm pretty happy," said Dugan, who won without an official labor endorsement. "I feel I got the rank and file support."

★ ★ ★

Mayor Taylor labeled yesterday's voting "wonderful support of this team."

MAKES COMPLAINT

Grba, District 4 challenger, complained of some voter confusion on the at-large election procedure.

Landry, who tasted defeat for the second straight commission election, did not appear bitter. It was also the second election that he had carried District 7 and lost out citywide.

Landry urged 100 per cent support for the reelected commission so that the city can move forward. "My congratulations to the victors," he added.

★ ★ ★

Tucker, indicating a continuing interest in city politics, said District 1 voters yesterday had shown that they didn't want the present incumbent as their representative.

THANK HELPERS

"I wish to thank all those who supported me and I will continue to work for those goals which I believe in," he concluded.

The 34 per cent voter turnout yesterday was less than that for 1964's commission contests when a record-smashing 14,341 voted.

The largest number of voters was in District 5 with 2,119 out of 7,597 going to the polls. District 1 registered the largest percentage of voters with 44 per cent or 1,975 of 4,511 registered voters turning out to vote.

City Clerk Mrs. Olga Barkeley said the vote tally would be official when certified by the board of canvassers at a meeting tomorrow night.

TERMS EXPIRE

The present commission terms expire at noon Monday. An organizational meeting will be held Monday night and the regular commission meeting on Tuesday.

In an added novel twist to yesterday's voting, the only declared write-in candidate, Joseph Singleton, 30, of 365 S. Marshall, tallied the same number (224) of votes that he received in the March 7 primary.

Owner Asks Fast Action on Museum-Gift House

BIRMINGHAM — Unless prompt action is taken, the city may lose a gift house that is being eyed as an historical museum

The owner, Birmingham architect Carl Luckenbach, told City Commissioners last night that the structure must be moved soon or it would be necessary for him to have it demolished so he can proceed with a new building.

The house at 364 Willits is of Victorian architecture and over 100 years old.

Plans for the museum were outlined to the commission last week by J. B. McMechan, chairman of the Historical Board.

★ ★ ★

He said the museum could be the first in a grouping of old buildings in a setting similar to Greenfield Village.

PUBLIC FUNDS

Since public funds would be needed to relocate the structure, the commission directed City Manager Robert S. Kenning to prepare a report.

He told them at the time that it would probably be three weeks before he could return a recommendation.

"Several members of the Historical Board have known about the pending demolition for some time," said Luckenbach. "Their active interest has come too late."

★ ★ ★

Luckenbach said he would meet with McMechan today, and if arrangements can be made, the house could be moved to another site he owns and stored for 60 days while a permanent location is found.

MOVED TEMPORARILY

Commissioner Ruth McNamee agreed that the house should be moved temporarily and details worked out later.

The commission, in other business, approved the widening of Oakland from Woodward to Hunter, and Chester from Maple to Willits for the peripheral road around the central business district.

The administration was directed to prepare construction drawings and preliminary cost estimates on the two projects.

The cost of the improvements will be assessed in part to benefited property owners. The percentage they will pay has not been determined.

The widening of another leg of the ring road, Forest from Woodward to Hunter, was authorized by the commission last week.

control of the appropriations for the coming year.

The commission report, saying a raise "will improve the image" of the Legislature, went to Romney this morning.

★ ★ ★

Soon after, the Senate Appropriations Committee voted 5-1 to send the pay bills to the full Senate.

FRINGE BENEFITS

Fringe benefits tacked to this year's bill principally include the opportunity for lawmakers to participate in medical and life insurance programs to the same extent as civil service workers, who get about two-thirds financing from the state. Legislators now pay their own full costs.

The bill also transfers the setting of mileage allowances from statute to joint House-Senate rules. The present allowance is 10 cents per mile.

Building Plans Are Outlined by Detroit Edison

NEW YORK (AP) — A construction program that would increase Detroit Edison Co's. generating capacity by 50 per cent before the end of 1971 was outlined Monday by Board Chairman Walker Cisler.

Cisler told a shareholder's meeting here the program would add some 2.4 million kilowatts of generating capacity within the next six years. He said it called for construction of a new plant near Monroe, Mich.

Cisler said the construction program would cost an estimated $600 million.

School Project Grant Okayed

Poverty War Funds Support OU Program

A federal grant of $81,019 for an Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity educational program was announced today by the national headquarters of the war on poverty.

The grant will prepare 60 boys and girls of normal intelligence but from low-income families for post-high school education.

Oakland University will conduct the program which will begin with a six-week residency at the college June 20.

A winter follow-up program will be conducted after regular school hours on weekdays and on Saturdays.

Pupils who have completed the tenth grade are eligible. They must live in either the Pontiac, Hazel Park, Oak Park or Ferndale school districts.

RELATED PROGRAM

A federal grant of $39,330 for a related program to be conducted at Cranbrook was previously announced.

★ ★ ★

This program will draw 30 boys from the Farmington Township, Troy, Royal Oak, Berkley and Madison Heights school districts.

★ ★ ★

Known as Upward Bound, the pilot programs seek to eliminate poor preparation and lack of motivation and money as reasons for terminating education at the high school level or earlier.

Thief Gets $108 From Area Drive-In

A thief who pried open a side door and then crawled through a window early today escaped with $108 from a Commerce Township drive-in.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said the money was taken from the Cracker Barrel Restaurant, 2051 Union Lake.

★ ★ ★

Robert Edwards, owner of the restaurant, told deputies he opened the drive-in this morning and discovered a cigarette machine and jukebox had been broken into.

Edwards said the $108 was taken from the cigarette machine and that an undetermined amount of change was missing from the jukebox.

County Supervisors Change Committees

A bylaws amendment eliminating the salaries committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and replacing it with a personnel policies committee was approved yesterday by the board of supervisors.

Establishment of the personnel policies committee was specified in the merit system proposal adopted a week ago by the supervisors.

Like the dissolved salaries committee, the personnel policies committee will consist of seven members of the board of supervisors appointed by the board chairman with concurrence of the full board.

Duties will be broader than those of the salaries committee whose function was to review the salary structure for county employes each year and make recommendations to the county budget makers.

The personnel policies committee will administer the merit system.

Besides reviewing salaries, it will advise the county board of auditors on classification and reclassification of employes.

It also will prepare and enforce specific rules and regulations in connecton with the merit system and recommend to the board of supervisors the provisions of all employe fringe benefit programs.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the board of supervisors, is expected to make the personnel policies committee appointments later this month.

U.S. Highway Program Illustrates Cost Spiral

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

WASHINGTON — Government programs always seem to cost many times more than the original estimate and the deadline for completion seldom is met.

An example is the cost of the 41,000 mile interstate highway system authorized in 1956 at a cost of $27 billion in federal funds with a completion target of 1968.

The cost was upped to $41 billion and now the latest estimate is $46.8 billion with completion perhaps not reached by 1970, the advanced deadline.

Excuses are many. The chief one is that the states, which were supposed to acquire and defray the cost of right-of-way were in many instances slow to carry out their end of the project.

★ ★ ★

The funds come from the insurance of taxes on gas, tires, a manufacturers tax on trucks, busses and trailers, and a weight tax on trucks and buses weighing more than 26,000 pounds.

IN TROUBLE

These collections were put in a highway trust fund, but the fund is now in trouble by $5 to $7 billion to complete the program.

Highway experts are now saying that the interstate highway system even when completed, will not adequately meet the future traffic needs

Coming up: a demand upon the Congress for authorization of federal funds for thousands of miles of more new highways, on the interstate highway system.

That means we'll keep on paying special highway taxes when we buy gas. The fund will not be allowed to lapse.

Future School Costs Studied in Avondale

The Avondale Board of Education hopes to determine by its next meeting how much money it will need for operating and building in the next few years.

Board members are now studying a citizens committee report which recommends a total building program of $1,769,000.

Schools Supt. John Dickey, who took over his new duties as school head yesterday, said the final proposal will either be on the June 13 annual school election ballot or submitted at a special referendum.

In its report the committee recommends construction of a new elementary school on the Bloomfield Orchards site at a cost of $491,500.

* * *

The board has already commissioned its architects to draw up plans for the school with the understanding that they will be paid when a tax increase is approved.

TIME SAVED

School officials estimate that they can save between four and six months construction time this way.

The committee also recommends construction of the first unit of a new high school for $877,500; purchase of a new high school site for $60,000; construction of materials centers at all elementary schools for $240,000; and renovation of existing buildings for $100,000.

Assistant Schools Supt. Charles E. Johnson says projected enrollment figures show that by 1980 there will be 7,000 pupils in the Avondale schools.

* * *

He said that at present, if each elementary school contained only 25 pupils, 17 new elementary classrooms would be needed. There are now about 33 pupils in each room.

Dickey said temporary classrooms will probably have to be used in the fall to house the expanding enrollment.

"Even if we get a building program approved," he said, "construction couldn't be completed by this fall."

School Budget Tops Income

Preliminary Figure in Rochester Is Adopted

ROCHESTER — A $3,588,100 preliminary 1966-67 budget which exceeds anticipated revenues by some $290,000 has been adopted by the board of education.

* * *

Schools Supt Dr. William Early said that unless additional funds become available, most of a $300,000 unallocated balance on hand in June will have to be used to make up the difference.

"Our expenditures exceed our income mainly because we are very conservative on our revenue figures," he said.

"A probable increase in state aid is not included in our income. If it is forthcoming, which I think we can assume it will be, it will reduce our difference."

* * *

He said the income figure is realistic but not optimistic.

SALARY HIKES

The increase in anticipated expenditures, which exceed those in the present budget by some $500,000, includes salary increases, an additional 16 teachers to meet expanding enrollment and a general increae in operating costs.

Dr. Early said additional information will be available after such factors as allocated millage, state aid reimbursement and salary schedules are determined.

Instruction, which in the proposed budget is expected to amount to $2,681,775, makes up the largest part of the budget. This is an increase over the 1965-66 instruction expenditure of about $400,000.

* * *

Other expenditures are administration, $100,950; health service, $3,050; transportation, $180,700; plant operation, $350,525; fixed charges, $72,225; capital outlay, $59,500; community services, $22,400; and student body activities, $18,000.

BUDGET REVENUE

Revenue in the new budget is estimated at $3,298,100. Based on the present tax rate of 22.5 mills and a $74-million valuation, local taxes are expected to produce $1,626,500.

The 5 mills which we are voting on next Monday are included in this figure," said Dr. Early. "We will really be in trouble if they are not renewed."

Estimated state revenues will amount to $1,593,500 and federal and county funds are estimated at $78,100.

* * *

The official budget for the 1966-67 school year will be adopted at a public hearing in July or August.

NEW AT ST. MARY'S — Students and faculty members yesterday began moving into the newest building at St. Mary's College, Commerce and Orchard Lake, in Orchard Lake. Being put into use at the beginning of a new term, the $700,000 dining hall-convent will house 500 students, faculty members, guests and nuns. The two-story portion of the building is the convent for the 10 Felician Sisters who serve the college.

Dedication, Open House Set at Library

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Cinderella of Commerce Road will be formally presented to West Bloomfield Township library patrons Sunday.

An open house and dedication will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. at the new Westacres Branch of the West Bloomfield Township Library, 7321 Commerce.

Once an unused eyesore, the building now has a Colonial facade and a renovated interior.

Among the dignitaries scheduled to attend the dedication Sunday is Rep. Billie S. Farnum, D-19th District.

* * *

Farnum will present to the library a flag which has flown over the nation's capitol.

TO BE HOSTS

Both the library board and the Friends of the West Bloomfield Township Library will be hosts for the open house.

Members of the two groups have worked on remodeling the building which originally housed the Westacres Cooperative Market.

The remodeled facility replaced the branch library which had been maintained for 18 years in the Westacres Clubhouse.

Avondale Schools Musicians Plan Annual Spring Concert

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Avondale Schools instrumental music department will present its annual spring band concert at 3 p.m. Sunday in the gymnasium of the high school, 1435 Auburn.

* * *

Guest soloist will be Robert Gray of Rochester, who will perform the Haydn B-flat Trumpet Concerto and "Trumpeter's Lullaby."

Gray is junior high band director in the Hazel Park schools.

The high school band, directed by L. G. Detter, will present selections played at the district band and orchestra festival in addition to Mozart's Overture to "Titus" and excerpts from "The Sound of Music."

The junior high band, under direction of Ron Salow, will perform the "Pathetique" theme from Tschaikovsky's Sixth Symphony and "Two Madrigals" by Morley.

A RHAPSODY

Excerpts from Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" and a novelty arrangement of the "Stars and Stripes" march will conclude the junior band's portion of the program.

Proceeds from the concert will help send three high school music students on a European concert tour with the Musical Youth International of Ann Arbor.

Even Pigs Turn Up Noses

Part of Corn Crop 'Hogwash'

EAST LANSING (AP) — Some of the 1965 corn crop wasn't fit even for the hogs to eat. The hogs knew it, too.

They turned up their noses at the moldy corn, while hog raisers looked for ways to disguise it and sought other feeds to fatten them up —to take advantage of the unusually high hog prices.

* * *

The farmers also sought agricultural scientists' help, and learned itis probably just as well the hogs wouldn't eat the moldy corn.

It contained mycotoxins-compounds which can produce harmful effects on breeding animals, including abortion in sows.

POSSIBLE PROBLEM

Moldy corn could be a problem this year — or any hear said Elmer C. Rossman, a Michigan State University crop scientist.

But, he added, there are ways to cut down on mold-and these same ways mean more money for the farmer, anyway.

* * *

In 1965, Rossman said, "a combination of several events contributed to the disease; dry weather in summer which stunted and delayed growth; a premature frost; and a very wet, warm and humid September and the first half of October."

The key, he said, is to avoid delays — plant early, use early maturing varieties and harvest promptly.

RAPID INCREASE

The amount of corn lost in harvesting increases rapidly after Oct. 25, he said, and a farmer with 100 acres of corn can lose $400 for each week of delay.

In planting, Rossman said, each day's delay after May 1 reduces yield by about one bushel per acre. Early maturing corn, he added, has more time to dry in the field, reducing chances for mold.

* * *

He said his figures on losses caused by delay "don't include those from moldy corn. If that disease develops, the farmer might have a crop that no hog would eat and no grain elevator would buy."

Annual Silver Tea

ROCHESTER — The Altar Guild of St. Philips Episcopal Church will hold its annual Silver Tea at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

Cleanup Pact Still Lacks 3

LANSING (AP) — The State Water Resources Commission reports only three municipal units charged with improper waste discharge in the Detroit River-Lake Erie area have not signed cleanup agreements.

These are Wayne County, Detroit and Trenton.

Industries yet to sign agreements include Consolidated Packaging Corp., Monroe; Ford Motor Co., Rouge Plant, Dearborn; Great Lakes Steel Division, steel rolling mill, Ecorse, and blast furnace plant, River Rouge; Revere Copper and Brass, Inc., Detroit and Scott Paper Co., Detroit.

Loring Oeming, commission secretary, said hearings will be set April 28 and 29 in Detroit and at a May meeting in Monroe on the industries and municipalities that have not signed by that time.

Troy Planners Get Rezoning Proposal

TROY — A proposal to rezone portions of the city from residential to nonresidential was referred to the planning commission by the City Commission last night for further study.

* * *

The City Commission has discussed the possibility of more industrial property to provide a larger tax base.

City Clerk J. Lawson Lockhart said that 20 per cent of the city is zoned industrial but that city officials feel this is not enough.

City Manager Paul York said the rezoning would also help offset "probable loss" of a potential tax base from the Chrysler property at I-75, Coolidge, 18 Mile and Crooks.

Chrysler purchased the property in 1959 for a proposed technical center but so far has done nothing with the land.

City officials apparently feel Chrysler isn't going to build.

Lockhart said they have been assured, however, that plans have not changed but that the firm can't divulge plans at this time.

"We would have a better tax base if they would build on this land," said Lockhart.

In other action, a proposal to establish a committee to study the feasibility of a hospital in Troy was referred to York.

He is to make a recommendation at a later date.

Switzer was valedictorian of his high school class, graduating in 1953. He entered Northwestern University in the fall of that year, but later decided to study for the ministry.

He entered Wittenberg in the fall of 1959.

* * *

Switzer and his wife will move to the Pontiac area near the end of May.

Concert Will Feature Soprano

CLARKSTON — Soprano Constance Grubaugh will be featured in a benefit concert at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church for the memorial pipe organ fund.

Mrs. Grubaugh will have as guest artists Spenceley Butters, violinist; Grace Konopka, cellist; and Adele Thomas, pianist.

Selections include an aria from "The Messiah," Dvorak's "Biblical Songs," romantic ballads by Hahn, Delayrac and Debussy and a group of Negro spirituals.

The instrumental trio will play music by Bach and Debussy. Completing the program will be compositions by Rachmaninoff, Bantock and Giannini.

Following the program, refreshments will be served in the church.

The public is invited.

Featured in the exhibit will be the sculpture of Karl A. Sjogran and functional stoneware of John P. Glick.

Paintings displayed will include oils, watercolors, acrilics and tempera.

There also will be a section entitled "Art on a Budget."

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Conversion of old shirts into hospital gowns for the foreign mission field will be the object of a ladies' workday at Mandon Lake Community Church Thursday.

* * *

Members of the Joy Missionary Society are seeking white or pastel shirts for the project. The work session is scheduled for 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Bid Accepted on New Fire Truck, Equipment

The Waterford Township Board last night accepted a bid of $13,362 for purchase of a new fire truck body and equipment.

Recipient of the bid was Fire Trucks, Inc., of Mount Clemens, which last week outbid four other firms.

Bids were analyzed by the township vehicle committee which, in turn, recommended that the low bid be accepted.

Fire Chief Lewis Goff submitted plans for a proposed 600-square-foot addition and remodeling at Station No. 2 on Walton at Meinrad. Estimated cost is $8,000, according to Goff.

★ ★ ★

The Board authorized Clerk Elmer Fangboner to advertise for bids for the project which would add an alarm room and lounge and enlarge dormitory and kitchen facilities at the fire station.

ACTION TABLED

In other business, the board again tabled action on specifications for a proposed new pedestrian overpass at the Scott Lake-Otsego intersection.

According to township officials, the Oakland County Road Commission contends that the location earmarked for the project would create a visual obstruction for drivers approaching Scott Lake Lake Road from Otsego.

Another contemplated location reportedly would be in conflict with an existing private driveway.

Road Commission and township officials plan to meet at the site in the near future to determine a location for the overpass, which is expected to cost about $15,000.

EQUAL SHARES

Cost of the project would be shared equally by the Township Board and Board of Education.

Two overpasses presently are in operation.

Police Chief William Stokes recommended that these overpasses be closed after school hours to prevent children from dropping objects on passing vehicles.

This occurs, according to Stokes, even though the overpasses are enclosed with wire mesh.

Board members previously tabled action on specifications for the structure because of uncertainty whether nearby Cherokee Hill Elementary School would open next September as planned.

STILL PENDING

A proposal to connect sanitary sewer lines from the school to the Pontiac system is still pending approval of the City Commission.

Also last night, the board agreed to take steps to amend a township ordinance to shift responsibility for inspection of carnival rides from the township to the amusement operator.

This would pertain to structural inspections. Township officials would still conduct electrical inspections of rides.

★ ★ ★

Township Director of Inspections E. R. Lawson recommended repeal of the existing ordinance except for the electrical inspection provision.

MADE STUDY

Lawson made a study of how other municipalities handle inspections, noting that some do not require inspections and others do not allow carnivals to operate within their boundaries.

The board approved two related applications, one for an amusement ride license at the Spartan Store June 6-12 and the other for a carnival at Pontiac Mall May 24-June 5.

The former is sponsored by VFW Post 1370.

In still other business, the board approved payment of $11,168 to John McAuliffe Ford, Inc. for seven new automobiles.

$340 REDUCTION

The total price includes a $340 reduction on four cars used by the police department for disc brakes which were not included as specified.

Payment had been withheld because of this 'discrepancy." However, board members learned last night that disc brakes are not available for most 1966 Fords.

The board approved a request of the police department for purchase of an ammunition reloading machine for $200 to be used at target practice.

Payment of $41 to the Road Commision was authorized for installation of six "no parking" signs on Silver Circle.

SAFETY AWARD

It was larned last night that the Township Water Department had received the American Water Works Association safety award of merit for 1965.

It marked the fourth straight year the award had been won by the department for its record of no loss time accidents.

Last month's water supply system report showed that 35,869,000 gallons of water were pumped for the period or 3,657,280 more than the previous March when 32,211,720 gallons were pumped.

A total of 110,979,000 gallons of water have been pumped through the system the first three months of 1966.

The Waterford Township Police Department handled 622 complaints last month, according to a report submitted to the township board last night.

★ ★ ★

Crimes investigated by the department included 87 larcenies, 53 malicious destruction of property cases, 40 breaking and enterings and eight stolen cars.

Seven larcenies were cleared and of the $6,287 taken, $173 was recovered.

Two burglaries were cleared and $82 of the $4,264 involved was recovered.

★ ★ ★

Altogether, 75 arrests were made last month, 41 adults and 34 juveniles.

The number of traffic tickets issued totaled 155—152 to adults and only three to juveniles.

Parley to Draw Area Educators

Educators and students from 14 area high schools are expected to attend Central Michigan University's annual principal-counselor-freshman conference April 26 and 27.

★ ★ ★

They will be among representatives of some 230 Michigan high schools visiting the Mount Pleasant campus during the event.

The students will tour the campus and participate in a short program while the school officials meet with former students who are now CMU freshmen.

Scheduled to attend the April 26 conference are representatives of Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham Seaholm, North Farmington, Farmington, Holly, Waterford Kettering and Bloomfield Township's Marion high schools.

★ ★ ★

Among high schools represented April 27 will be Imlay City, Lapeer, Brandon, Pontiac Northern, Waterford Township, Romeo and Rochester.

In Building

Record Trend Is Seen

Waterford Township is well on its way toward another record building year if last month's figures are indicative of what's to come in the remaining nine months of 1966.

Triggered by issuance of 60 building permits for new homes, last month's estimated value of new construction totaled $1,326,675, lifting total valuation to date this year to $2,819,140.

This compares with an estimated valuation for new construction of $506,286 the previous March and $1,664,363 for the first three months of 1965.

Last year, an all-time township record was set when total estimated valuation of new construction topped the $15-million mark.

This compares to slightly over $9 million for 1964.

COMPARISON

Estimated cost of new home construction last month amounted to $1,096,210 compared with $330,692 the previous March when 21 permits were issued.

Last month, 132 building permits were issued, more than double the number granted in March 1965 when 61 permits were okayed.

In addition to the 60 building permits issued for new home construction last month, two permits were issued for commercial buildings worth $74,000.

★ ★ ★

Included was one for construction estimated at $70,000 for Frank's Nursery at the Tower Shopping Center on M59.

OTHER PERMITS

Other building permits isued last month were for 19 home additions, $45,375; remodeling for 22 homes, $42,258; 18 garages, $28,892; four swimming pools, $16,500; three for additions and remodeling to commercial buildings, $13,800.

Also issued were two permits for fire repair, $8,640; one for a sign, $700, and another for a gas tank installation, $300.

Latins Pick 2 From City

Tom Chavez of 122 W. Fairmount was named vice president of the Michigan LAUPA organization and Hector Padilla, 974 Dewey, was elected secretary.

The elections took place Sunday in Grand Rapids.

New Officers Elected by Optimist Club

Joseph T. Franz Jr. of 2970 Orangegrove, Waterford Township, has been elected president of the Lakeland Optimist Club for 1966-67.

Other officers recently elected to one-year terms were Norman Lee, 365 N. Perry, and John Sawyers, 4627 Curtis, Waterford Township, vice presidents; and Edward Kuhn, 2295 N. Lake Angelus, Waterford Township, secretary-treasurer.

Named to two-year terms as directors were Eugene Puglise, 2545 Grandview, and Nace DiMartino, 3119 Francesca, both of Waterford Township.

Chemistry Is Man's Invisible Boon

The days and weeks roll on — and just about each of them it seems, provides the setting for some observance to attract the interest and curiosity of a broad public. One of these is Chemical Progress Week now in progress.

It is literally true that chemistry, in its almost infinite aspects, touches the lives of everyone.

Chemistry is responsible for the finding of myriad drugs and remedies which defeat illness and bring back health. It is the source of fertilizers and pesticides and other products which do much to make possible the amazing productivity of our farms.

It takes wood by-products which once were a total waste and transforms them into thousands of wanted and useful products. Out of its test tubes come handsome durable fabrics. It is the source of sports and outdoor gear and equipment far superior to anything known in the past.

Everywhere—at home, at work, at play, or just driving the family car along the highways — the invisible hands of the chemists enter.

Highway Safety in Hands That Hold the Wheel

There is understandably much furor swirling about the crucial issue of highway traffic safety, and the extent of vehicular accountability for it.

As might be expected, some little of the controversy is politically motivated, with the voice of the ill-informed by no means silent.

Our own opinion is and always has been that the man at the wheel is mainly responsible for the shocking and continuous rise in highway casualties.

★ ★ ★

A four-year traffic study just completed by two University of Michigan safety researchers gives limited-scope support to this belief.

The study reconstructed 139 fatal accidents that killed 177 persons, with these findings:

- Seventy-one would have survived if they had been wearing seat belts and 35 more would be alive had a form of shoulder harness, in addition to belts, been in use.
- Only 66 would have died regardless of the use of belts.
- Ejection from the car killed 48 persons and was the leading cause of death in the cases studied.
- At least half of the 139 drivers judged at fault had been drinking.

Projecting their determinations nationwide, the experts hold that 12,000 lives, one-fourth those killed in highway accidents last year, would have been saved.

Needless to say, the study focused on but two phases of driver dereliction. There are many more. But for a starter, why not paste on your dashboard this quote from one of the researchers: "Anybody who doesn't wear a seat belt is stupid"?

Should Extend U.S. Maritime Safety Standards

The second cruise ship within a few months to suffer fire at sea raises in louder tone the question of why foreign-flag vessels operating out of American ports should not comply with U. S. safety regulations.

Last November, the Yarmouth Castle, flying the Panamanian flag, was consumed by a fire that cost 490 lives. Recently the Viking Princess, under Norwegian registry, was engulfed by flames and the passengers and crew forced to abandon ship.

★ ★ ★

Both vessels had had a history of trouble and a spotty record of ownership. It was the Viking Princess, then the Riviera Prima under Italian registry, that two years ago left hundreds of passengers stranded on a New York pier in a financial dispute between the owners and a charter group.

A year prior, the New York State attorney general's office asked the U.S. Coast Guard to inspect reported defects in the vessel.

★ ★ ★

As it is, foreign ships are exempt from U. S. safety regulations, the world's toughest. Instead, they are covered by the International Convention on Safety of Life at Sea.

Congress should lose no time in enacting legislation compelling all U. S.-based passenger vessels to meet our safety standards if they want to operate out of our ports.

Policy Toward China to Stay Tough

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — For weeks and months the Johnson administration has listened to all kinds of opinions on how to handle Red China and now it has given its answer: the basic policy will remain tough and unchanged.

MARLOW

Secretary of State Dean Rusk took up a whole page of newspaper type to say that. This is the policy as he stated it: So long as China tries aggression, in Asia or elsewhere, the United States will try to stop it.

If Red China abandons the belief force is the best way to solve disputes, and gives up its violent strategy of world revolution, this country would welcome an era of good relations.

Rusk made it clear enough he sees no hope of change in the bellicose thinking of Red China so long as the present leaders are alive. Therefore, his hopes are on their successors, and not necessarily in their immediate successors.

He put it this way: "I do not predict any quick changes in China. Nor are there simple solutions. Peking's present state of mind is a combination of aggressive arrogance and obsessions of its own making . . .

★ ★ ★

"We have little hope of changing the outlook of these leaders."

Then Rusk laid down a 10-point American policy for dealing with Red China.

All this was said and done in testimony a month ago before the Far East subcommittee of the House Foreign Affairs Committee in closed session. His testimony was made public over the weekend.

There was some reasonableness but no softness in the position Rusk took.

★ ★ ★

"If Peking reaps success from its current policies, not only its present leaders but those who follow will be emboldened to follow them. This is the path to increased tension, and even greater dangers to world peace in the years ahead," Rusk said.

ANSWER TO CRITICS

This was an answer to anyone advocating a softer line toward Red China, but it did not close the door on efforts to establish some kind of relationship which did not involve Red China's politicial or territorial ambitions.

For example, among his 10 policy points, Rusk suggested trying to enlarge unofficial contacts with Red China. He made this statement in March. And this month the American government invited Red China to send some of its scholars and scientists to universities in this country.

Over the weekend Red China called the offer a fraud.

★ ★ ★

Rusk suggested various ways in which the United States and Red China could have some contact, all of which is old hat to the Chinese who don't like the fit and wouldn't give a dime for it.

Sir Isaac Learned From It—Why Can't We?

Finding Foe Is GIs' Hardest Job

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The hardest job facing allied forces in Viet Nam these days is to scrape up an acquaintance with the Viet Cong on the battlefield.

Some U. S. officers believe the Communists are short of supplies. Others think they are waiting for the monsoons.

The American command chart shows nine operations. This means U. S. troops in units from battalion to multibrigade size are roaming the jungles, the plains and the rice paddies daring the insurgents to fight.

Most of the operations have not been announced and are still on the secret list. Under military ground rules, an operation is made public only after significant contact with the enemy.

★ ★ ★

By refusing to make such contact and by their ability to fade away, the Viet Cong mock the rules, anyway.

END OF OPERATION

The U. S. Military Assistance Command announced the end of a big operation by the U. S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division yesterday, five days after it started.

This was the first disclosure that it even existed, since there was no major contact with the enemy.

Intelligence has come up with a variety of conclusions about the Viet Cong's reluctance to show themselves.

★ ★ ★

Some officers say they are waiting out the Saigon government's political crisis, welcoming the unrest as a diversion enabling their forces to regroup and watch other South Vietnamese undermine the government.

OTHER EVIDENCE

Some military informants cite other evidence, however.

In recent weeks, patrols have come across squads of Viet Cong who were unarmed except for their leaders.

"I'm convinced a lot of North Vietnamese are coming south and there is some Viet Cong recruiting going on," said one authority, "but they are not getting the supplies.

★ ★ ★

"They are being choked off by the bombing, and we have found, raided and destroyed a lot of their caches, tunnels and supply dumps. Every day air power is hitting more and more of them in the country and it stands to reason they are having one helluva supply problem."

Military men who must plan for the worst, are considering another reason: This is the dry season when the highly mobile airborne allied force has every advantage, can leap around in good weather and stage lightning helicopter drops where and when it chooses.

In five or six weeks the monsoons will come. The rains are incessant. The fog settles over the canopied jungles and the rice paddies. Flying is always risky, often impossible.

The Viet Cong welcome the monsoons. They can dart and slash in the rains and hit an outfit with little risk of being caught by air power, or artillery or immediate reinforcements brought in by swarms of helicopters.

Thus, the Viet Cong may be keeping their powder dry for the rainy season when the odds soar in their favor.

Bob Considine Says:

Tokyo Raiders' Reunion Is Casualty of Viet War

NEW YORK — A little-known casualty of the war in Viet Nam is the annual reunion of Jimmy Doolittle's Tokyo Raiders.

CONSIDINE

Seventeen of the remaining 50-odd still around and kicking (80 made the historic raid) are on active service with the Air Force.

The men decided that with so much left undone in Viet Nam they'd skip the 24th anniversary of the mission, which was to have been held in San Antonio, Tex., and concentrate on next year's big do.

The events of April 18, 1942, are an indelible part of American history.

Led by Doolittle, then a "retread" with the temporary rank of lieutenant colonel, 16 B25s lumbered off the deck of the carrier Hornet, which was chewing into heavy seas 800 miles off the coast of Japan, and bombed Tokyo and several more Japanese cities.

★ ★ ★

It was as much of a surprise to the Japanese warlords as would be, let's say, an Albanian air force raid today on Washington, New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

LEFT FOR DEAD

It came less than five months after we had been left for dead at Pearl Harbor. It was the first real counter-punch we threw, the beginning of a classic comeback that will stir men's minds as long as there are minds.

★ ★ ★

Six tons of bombs were dropped on Tokyo itself, that sunny day when we let the Japanese people know they couldn't believe all they read in their controlled press.

Five hundred tons were dropped on a remote pass in Southeast Asia recently in a single B52 raid.

The H-bomb the U.S. Navy fished out of Spanish waters, though hardly much larger than one of the 500-pound bombs the Doolittle fliers carried, packed the equivalent of about 20 million tons — not pounds—of TNT.

★ ★ ★

But the Dolittle raid was the prime turning point of World War II. It ended the spread of the cancer of Japanese aggression. It caused the war Cabinet to pull back much of its air support to stand guard for follow-up American raids. It told our people and their people that we had gotten off the deck and begun the business of winning.

'Observe Driving Speed in Residential Areas'

Summer is coming and lots of children will be playing outside. Drivers, please slow down. The speed limit in residential areas is 15-25 m.p.h. Why, then, do people drive 35-50 m.p.h. on Percy King in Waterford?

Comments on Waterford School System

I am disappointed to learn that a small percentage of voters rejected proposed taxes to expand the Waterford Township school system. There is a great need for new facilities and qualified teachers. Waterford needs to become more aware of the expanding world outside. Being recently graduated from their system, I was disillusioned to find I had missed many educational opportunities that were present in other schools.

★ ★ ★

To the men and women who did reach out into the world and teach us, I am grateful. Please hire more like them, for today there is no educational system that can keep pace with our growing world. Far from keeping pace are the Waterford Township schools.

Two Discuss Safety of Cars and Drivers

The auto makers' recent blast against safety critics indicates their desire to silence anyone not in agreement with their policies. They classified these critics who purchase their automobiles as "unqualified persons."

★ ★ ★

Every auto requires an operator, but every accident should not demand a victim. Auto safety must be continued and developed to counteract the weakness of man. More protection for subjects involved in accidents under 45 miles per hour is essential. Most of the fatalities occur in this category.

CY SAVAGE
2780 SYLVAN SHORES

I have read the effusions of Ralph Nader criticizing the safety of our American cars. His main motivation must be a desire for publicity. Despite the faults that exist in cars, which are less than almost any other mechanical contrivance presently in use, the modern American automobile is probably the safest means of transportation ever developed. Many years ago statistics showed that accidents due to car defects were something less than one-tenth of one per cent of the total. I believe this is still the case.

★ ★ ★

The general procedure for years has been to call cars in to dealers because defects have been discovered. It is impossible to manufacture anything by the millions and expect perfection in every assembly.

★ ★ ★

Accidents that occur are caused by the behavior and lack of competence of the drivers. If Mr. Nader could come up with a solution to the public's driving habits it would be more to the point than trying to impose Federal controls on an industry that has done more to improve its product through the years than any other industry.

Believes Woman's Place Is in Her Home

Commenting on an article by Columbia University Professor Eli Ginzburg encouraging married women with professional training to pursue their careers, seems to me if women stayed home and managed their families, cooked meals, corrected their children, pampered their husbands, and took care of the business in the home, there would be fewer divorces and fewer juvenile delinquents. Homemaking is a full-time job and cannot be adequately carried out by impersonal hired help.

Businessmen Lack 'Know-How'

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Some Republican professionals are bemoaning the fact the GOP wears the "business party" label but gets something less than full benefit from its ties with businmen.

BIOSSAT

Basically, this is not a complaint over President Johnson's wooing of many business leaders to the pastures of consensus. It is of no longer standing, and yet it is also quite current.

In some measure it has to do with money. A good many businessmen's golden promises of campaign cash turn out to have a core of lead. Infuriated over the performance of some liberal Democrat, they often talk a big game. But at collection time they reach for the petty cash drawer.

There is, however, a good deal more to the story. What really galls party professionals is the constant, widespread evidence that all too many businessmen, from the top down at least to middle echelons, lack any real grasp of what politics is all about.

★ ★ ★

One seasoned political figure comments:

"Their lack of political knowledge and sophistication is incredible . . . appalling."

Says another:

"Where politics is concerned, a lot of them are just plain dumb."

It is a little stunning for some politicians to hear high-paid business executives ask, as some have done, how many U.S. congressmen are up for reelection this year. All congressmen, of course, run every two years.

★ ★ ★

The gripes over businessmen's ignorance of politics come from all sectors of the party. In 1964, a key Goldwater lieutenant, laboring hard for his boss, volunteered his staggering disappointment at the performance of business leaders linked with the campaign.

From the Republican party's broad center and its liberal wing, nevertheless, comes a steady fuming over the fact that so many businessmen see fit to contribute substantial sums to far right-wing causes like the John Birch Society.

The belief in professional circles is that some right-wing outfits would collapse in a month or two if their business angels deserted them financially. Party men regard such contributions as a grossly wasteful use of political dollars.

★ ★ ★

One Pennsylvania Republican expressed it when he said business contributors of this stripe seem bent on "having one last go at abolishing Washington" before they turn in their suits.

Aside from the dollar waste, professionals view this tendency as wildly impractical and having no place in sensible national politics.

Among those businessmen who stay closer to the party reservation, many are being faulted for the unimaginative monotony of their antigovernment reactions.

Their sing-song utterances have nearly destroyed their credibility in the political-idea market place. The painstakingly prepared pronouncements of the National Association of Manufacturers and the Chamber of Commerce get little attention these days.

A few years ago, the growth of businessmen's courses in politics spawned some high hopes. These have proved illusory. All too many executives, senior and junior, seem to have retired again to their corporate fortresses — where only garbled accounts of life in the political world evidently penetrate.

Numerous Republican leaders think their party has to shake the business label to become a national winner. But a good percentage would not mind having business on their side, if it would just BE on their side in really helpful ways.

A spokesman for the British Medical Association called the birth of three sets of twins a million-to-one chance. Mrs. Froggatt's husband is a farmer.

CORE Exec Admits Aid in School Hassle

DETROIT (AP) — The chairman of the Detroit chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) said Monday his group assisted in a student drive to oust the principal of Northern High School.

Alvin E. Roberts said the students from the predominately Negro school met with his group several times in the past several weeks, but that CORE has "taken no official position."

Demands for the ouster of Principal Arthur T. Carty began after Carty refused to allow the school newspaper to publish an editorial critical of the school.

The students met with CORE officials two weeks prior to a demonstration held to protest the banning of the editorial, Roberts said.

VOWED WALKOUT

The student group said last week if Carty was at his desk Monday when classes resumed following spring vacation the students would leave the building.

Carty spent Monday closeted with Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, superintendent of schools, after which Brownell said Carty would temporarily be assigned to assist in evaluating the situation at Northern, being replaced temporarily by an assistant school superintendent.

'CIA Role in MSU Unit Not Hidden'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., said Monday there was nothing clandestine about Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) participation in a Michigan State University program to train security police in Viet Nam."

"The (CIA) representatives worked specifically in training the Vietnamese police services, not in clandestine CIA activities," Saltonstall said in a statement.

★ ★ ★

The April issue of the monthly magazine, Ramparts, has an article accusing Michigan State of acting as a front for clandestine CIA activity in Viet Nam in 1955.

A university spokesman acknowledged that CIA men had been among those on the project staff but said the university did not know about them until later.

'HIERARCHY KNEW'

However, Stanley Sheinbaum, who was campus coordinator of the project said, "the hierarchy knew about it."

Saltonstall, one of the Senate group which gets CIA briefings, said he made the statement "in the interest of accuracy" because of Michigan State professors' protests about CIA infiltration of a university-contracted program.

★ ★ ★

The Massachusetts senator said that on Dec. 21, 1954, President Dwight D. Eisenhower had directed action on programs "to develop foreign police forces to maintain internal security and to destroy the effectiveness of the Communist apparatus in free world countries vulnerable to Communist subversion."

★ ★ ★

He said the National Security Council directed John Hollister, then head of what is now the Agency for International Development, to take the lead in the efforts "to improve the internal security capability of police in a number of foreign countries." The CIA was directed to assign personnel to the program.

CITES URGENCY

"The urgency of the situation in Viet Nam, which was one of the countries the President had in mind, and the nonavailability of adequate personnel, resulted in AID contracting this responsibility to Michigan State University," Saltonstall said.

"It was in this connection that CIA officers with specific MSU agreement participated in the MSU program in Viet Nam, a program designed to improve the effectiveness of the police services of that country as a part of the over-all effort to preserve that nation's independence.

★ ★ ★

"The (CIA) representatives worked specifically in the training of Vietnamese police services, not in clandestine CIA activities."

He was Todd Rainey, and his body was found by his mother, Mrs. Howard Rainey.

Pentagon: Reds Saw Bomb Recovery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department contradicted an American naval commander today and said an electronically equipped Soviet trawler kept watch for two weeks during U.S. efforts to recover a missing hydrogen bomb off Spain.

In response to questions, the Pentagon said the trawler remained in the sea search area near Palomares Beach, Spain, until March 2, about two weeks before recovery of the American bomb.

★ ★ ★

This disclosure contradicted a statement made by the commander of the naval task force a few hours after the weapon was retrieved April 7.

"I can say categorically," Rear Adm. William S. Guest told reporters at a news conference in Spain. "that there has been no Soviet trawler or other ship in the search area at any time since we began our work."

NO COMMENT

There was no immediate comment from the admiral on the Pentagon's disclosure. Nor was there an explanation as to why he had declared the Soviet trawler was not in the area.

The Pentagon said the Communist vessel, kept under constant surveillance, once approached within three miles of the Mediterranean recovery zone. Usually, however, it kept a distance of 10 to 13 miles.

★ ★ ★

The trawler, whose name was withheld, usually scouts the Mediterranean area, a Pentagon spokesman said.

Asked to describe the vessel, the spokesman said only that it was 165 feet long and carried "varied electronic equipment."

★ ★ ★

After paying a $10 fine to cover costs of cleaning the room, the couple and the horse were last seen heading north, presumably home to Oregon.

No known loss of human life has ever resulted from meteorites.

Teaching Offers Brief Respite

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Even as the rumors mounted of an offensive against a Viet Cong stronghold, young Clark Richie got an unexpected break in routine — an assignment to teach English to some Vietnamese children. This is the second in five momentous days in a GI's life.)

By JOHN HANCE

CU CHIM, South Viet Nam (AP) — The dust lay 10 inches deep on the road. It swirled up and nearly blinded the squinting soldier riding on the back seat of the jeep. He cradled his rifle and looked toward a line of trees for possible Viet Cong snipers.

The soldier, Pfc. Clark Richie of Jay, Okla., was riding into Cu Chi from the base camp of the 2nd Brigade of the 25th Infantry Division.

* * *

Cu Chi, about 20 miles northwest of Saigon, is in the heart of a Viet Cong stronghold and the Americans had moved in a month previously determined to stay.

Richie, 22, red-haired and freckled, manned a machine gun on the camp perimeter. He had seen buddies wounded and killed there. But this Tuesday he was going to Cu Chi to meet the village chief and to start teaching English to the children.

THREE SELECTED

He was one of three men from B Company selected for the job that hopefully would improve relations between the Vietnamese and American soldiers. The villagers had been cold and aloof to the GIs when they came in late January.

The Americans reached town at the appointed time. But the village chief was out and they had to hunt him down at a church a couple of miles away.

* * *

Introductions completed, the soldiers were taken to the school. Richie, who had two years at an Oklahoma junior college, was looking forward to teaching although he had no experience.

AP Photofax

ENGLISH CLASS — "How are you? I am fine!" The words are pronounced clearly and with emphasis as Pfc. Clark Richie of Jay, Okla., teaches basic phrases of English to Vietnamese schoolchildren. The classes are held in a school at Cu Chi, some 20 miles northwest of Saigon, in Viet Cong territory. The GIs are trying to win over the villagers.

"The kids," he said, "they're beautiful. I guess kids everywhere are."

60 CHILDREN

He was assigned a roomful of about 60 children, 5- to 8 year-olds.

The hour went fast. From mimeographed sheets and an interpretor the children learned to say "How are you," "Fine, thank you," "Please repeat that," and half a dozen more simple phrases.

* * *

After class the GIs immediately took the three-mile drive back to camp.

LIKE A HOLIDAY

Richie's trip to town had been like a holiday. In his four weeks near Cu Chi it was his first time in town.

Richie would teach the class twice a week — a sharp change in the wearisome routine of guard duty, patrols, lining up for meals, washing clothes in a steel helmet, cleaning weapons, scrounging for a chunk of ice and a cold beer, and gritting teeth and slapping at the swarms of mosquitoes and ants that infested the area.

One bright spot in the routine was mail call. After a dinner of roast beef, potatoes and gravy, broccoli and grapefruit juice, Richie got a letter from his girl friend, Sally Dietrich, 18, of Jay.

"A fine letter," he said. "Definitely, a damn fine letter."

BROUGHT RELIEF

Dusk about 7 p.m. this Tuesday brought relief from the day heat. And someone had come up with beer from the brigade post exchange and a chunk of ice from Cu Chi.

* * *

The day had been routine as far as the war was concerned.

A major operation against the "Charlies," as they called the Viet Cong, had been rumored the day before. Details were added today and it was said to be the first helicopter assault of the division, with Richie's company making the first landing into territory that twice before had repelled attacks by Vietnamese and U.S. troops.

* * *

Richie, who had served in Viet Nam previously as a helicopter machine gunner, pondered the possible battle. Several of his friends had been killed in the last month. Still, he said, "I guess a fight would be the best thing for us. That's what we're here for.

STILL GREEN

"We were green when we got here and still are. But the only way we'll get over that is to get experience."

It was now dark. The night patrol passed by, on its way into the enemy area.

* * *

Richie took the first night watch and sat silently atop the bunker, his machine gun ready.

Next: "Why do we fight here?"

Conservatives Go It Alone

Austria Coalition Period Ends

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Austria got its first postwar one-party government today as an all-Conservative Cabinet took over after 21 years of coalition with the Socialists.

The Conservatives decided Monday night to form a government alone after the Socialists refused to accept any reduction of their role in the government although the Conservatives had won a majority in Parliament in the March 6 elections.

★ ★ ★

"The Socialists wanted us to give firm guarantees for the entire four-year legislation period — this we could not do," Chancellor Josef Klaus told the nation in a radio-television address.

"But we proved our honest intentions by offering them the Cabinet posts they held previously with the exception of the justice ministry, which we claimed on the strength of our election victory."

'DEEP CONCERN'

Outgoing Socialist Foreign Minister Bruno Kreisky said his party could not accept these terms "because not only the Socialists, but also a large segment of the population, were deeply concerned over the aspects of such accumulation of political power in the hands of one party."

★ ★ ★

The Socialists held seven of the 17 Cabinet posts when the coalition government collapsed Oct. 22 while the 1966 budget was under debate. In the election that followed, the Conservatives won 85 of the 165 parliamentary seats, the Socialists 74 and the opposition Freedom party 6.

The Conservatives reportedly were putting on pressure to have Trade Minister Fritz Bock, a Conservative, take over all negotiations on Austria's application for associate membership in the European Common Market. Previously he shared these with Kreisky.

★ ★ ★

Bock retained his post in the new government and also succeeded Socialist party leader Bruno Pittermann as vice chancellor.

EUROMART ADVOCATE

Kreisky was replaced by Lujo Toncic-Sorinj, 51, an expert on international law and former delegate to the Council of Europe in Strasbourg. The French-educated Toncic-Sorinj is known as a strong supporter of Austria's association with the Common Market. Austria now belongs to the European Free Trade Association, Western Europe's other major trading bloc.

★ ★ ★

The return of one-party government aroused some fears because of events in the 1930s. Bitter animosity then between Conservatives and Socialists led to civil war in 1934 and paved the way for Nazi Germany's annexation of Austria in 1938.

The Conservative-Socialist coalition which has ruled Austria since the end of World War II was credited with bringing the country the stability needed to lay the foundation for its unprecedented prosperity.

But the coalition parties' proportional hold on virtually every important job in the administration and in the large nationalized sector of industry caused two-party rule to become increasingly unpopular in recent years.

22,000 Back in Mines as Talks Resume

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The number of striking soft coal miners was down to about 35,000 today.

The biggest concentration of strikers is in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia where about 25,000 remain out despite pleas from both the United Mine Workers Union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association to return to work.

★ ★ ★

Contract negotiations between the two resume today in Washington.

Nearly 22,000 strikers returned to work Monday in Kentucky, Illinois, Virginia, Colorado and Pennsylvania. In addition to Pennsylvania and West Virginia, strikers remain out in Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois and Alabama.

LARGE STRIKE

The strike, which started April 11 and spread to eight states, idled about 60,000 men at one point and was the largest strike in the soft coal fields in 15 years.

★ ★ ★

Miners, now earning a base pay of $26.25 a day, walked out after the union signed contracts with three independent producers. They said those signings left other miners without a contract.

'Schools Cheat Handicapped'

LANSING (AP) — Charging Michigan's public schools are shortchanging as many as 100,000 handicapped children, a Senate subcommittee recommended Monday a $15 million increase for special education.

★ ★ ★

Part of the problem, it added, is that the Department of Education has no one responsible specifically for Michigan's $40 million special education services to some 250,000 handicapped youngsters.

Between 10 and 15 per cent of the state's two million school-aged children have identifiable mental, physical or emotional handicaps, the subcommittee said.

★ ★ ★

Yet, it said, the Department of Education's director of special education job has been "nothing but an empty chair" for all but a few months in the last several years.

$15-MILLION BOOST

The $15-million boost would increase aid to local school districts to broaden their services, and also provide scholarships to entice more teachers into special education.

The subcommittee said there is a shortage of 1,100 teachers for the mentally handicapped.

The proposed scholarships would offer a total of $300,000, both to attract college students to specialize in the field and to induce certified teachers to take extra work to qualify them for special education.

The report said Department of Education figures showed between one-third and one-half of Michigan's approximately 50,000 mentally handicapped children are not served at all by any educational facility.

Work Safety Reform Urged

LANSING (AP) — Michigan urgently needs new laws setting minimum safety standards for industry, a governor's special task force reported yesterday.

After a study of 100 firms with high frequency accident rates, the group said situations involved in most disabling injury accidents were not covered by existing labor laws.

★

Gov. George Romney pledged immediate consideration of the report by the task force, which was made up of State Labor Department employes.

★ ★ ★

"Any needless human suffering and economic loss that results from accidents that could have been prevented cannot be condoned and should be the target of correction," he said.

The case for our oil

Many oil companies need a special motor oil to meet military requirements. We don't.

Our motor oils are that good in the first place. We've upgraded all Marathon V.E.P. motor oils to exceed the tough new performance specifications of G.M., Ford, Chrysler, and A.M.C. We try to put a little something extra into all of our products. Because, as far as we know, we're still the only oil company to guarantee your satisfaction with everything we sell and all our services. What if you're not satisfied? Tell us. We'll send your money back. A lot of people think that's a pretty strong case for trying us. Will you?

PCH Campaign

Magazine Drive Opens

By HELEN COLLIAS

Pontiac Central High School has just begun its annual magazine selling campaign, the biggest fund raising project of the year.

Under the authorization of Assistant Principal Donald MacMillan, the Student Council organized the campaign and the Student Union, under the direction of John Zimmerle, will handle business details.

Everyone is urged to participate in the drive as the school will get approximately one-third of the sales. The school quota is $8,000 while the individual quota is set at $6.

Prospective uses of the earned money include scholarships, new show cases, stage curtains and similar dramatic production equipment, promotion of class activities and more.

★ ★ ★

This year, more than ever before, the Student Council is promoting the campaign by offering prizes, cash awards and parties.

TWO MOTORCYCLES

Two motorcycles or their cash equivalents will be given away to high salesmen and quota salesmen alike.

The school high salesman will also have his name entered in a national campaign drawing for a chance to win an all-expense paid week's vacation for himself and his parents anywhere in the continental United States.

There will also be daily cash awards and treasure chest drawings.

★ ★ ★

Throughout the campaign, qualified salesmen will be invited to a daily pizza party after school.

HOMEROOM PRIZES

Special homeroom prizes also have been set up. The first homeroom to get 100 per cent participation will get its teacher's weight in Hershey bars.

For the second and third high homerooms, there will be a theater party during school hours.

The winning homeroom and the high salesmen from remaining homerooms selling $25 or more will get to go to a Tiger baseball game in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The campaign will last until next Monday. As a final treat, all quota salesmen will be able to attend a student talent show at the end of the campaign.

REGIONAL TOURNAMENT

Central's spring forensic students won last week in the regional tournament held at the U. of M. center at Flint. Thirty-two schools took part.

Eileen Hatchett won first place and the regional plaque in humorous reading.

Veta Smith won first place in the finals of original oratory.

Both girls will now compete in state finals to be held in Ann Arbor Saturday.

Other Central speakers were Ned Barker, who tied for second in the finals in extemporaneous speaking; Carol Johnston, who won fourth in the finals of girl's extemporaneous speaking; and Roberta Wine, who received a second place in original oratory.

Teen Center Will Open This Friday

By MARGARET HONNOLD

Teens from Seaholm High School and other Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills high schools will be rewarded Friday for their labors when the Birmingham-Bloomfield Teen Center finally opens its doors.

Scheduled for the opening night performance are the Yorkshires, a local group.

In addition, a popular disc jockey has agreed to announce the bands and other entertainment.

Admission charge for the night will be 50 cents for members and $1 for guests.

★ ★ ★

All area high school students are urged to buy membership cards soon.

PRICE INCREASE

After the opening night, the price of membership is to be raised.

Membership in the Teen Center will include free entry into the center on weekdays and entry for a small fee on Friday and Saturday nights when there are live bands.

A membership also allows the bearer to bring one guest per night to all center functions.

Proceeds earned from Thursday's opening night at St. Dunstan's Playhouse in Bloomfield Hills will be donated to the Teen Center.

The play is "Anxieties of '66," an original musical comedy.

South Lyon Enters SOS Viet Project

By SANDRA RICHARDSON

The Student Council at South Lyon High School has decided to answer the plea and participate in Operation SOS (Send Over Soap) for Vietnamese Children.

The contest ends Friday.

The winning junior high or high school will not necessarily be the one with the largest number of bars but the one which has collected the most bars of soap per student.

LeCercle Francais in South Lyon is going through the process of choosing pins for its members this year.

★ ★ ★

In order for the students to vote, they must have earned 60 points.

The points are earned by working on the bulletin boards, bringing refreshments and giving a program on some aspect of French life, history or culture.

★ ★ ★

The Student Council has begun a search for all talent at South Lyon High to participate in its program which is to be held Wednesday.

N. Farmington Concert Friday

North Farmington high School's music department will present its annual Spring Music Concert Friday in the gymnasium. The program will begin at 8 p.m. under the direction of Lawrence Haver.

Latin Club will hold its annual Roman Banquet, Thursday, at 6:30 in the cafeteria.

In the true Roman tradition all first-year Latin students will be servants to the royalty and landowners of the countryside (second and third-year students.)

Lavish finery and cuisine are being prepared for the evenings festivities.

★ ★ ★

Roman games and sports will bring to a close the banquet with everyone's favorite, the ever popular, chariot race.

BASEBALL GAME

French Club president Leslie Scott announced that plans are in the developing stages for an afternoon baseball game . . . against the Spanish Club.

Sophomores and juniors have picked up petitions for Student Council offices.

The forms must be returned by Wednesday.

Campaign speeches will be delivered on Wednesday of next week to all underclassmen.

★ ★ ★

Elections will be held April 28.

Big Town Highlights Seen During Educational Trip

By JUDY FRANCIS

Returning from their senior educational field trip yesterday were the Waterford Kettering High School seniors and their nine sponsors.

The trip to New York was highlighted by tours of the United Nations Building, Cathedral of St. John and Upper Manhattan.

They also toured Lower Manhattan, Fifth Avenue, Central Park and Lincoln Cultural Center.

Everyone received a free admission ticket to the Empire State Building observatory roof which was used during the students' free time.

★ ★ ★

Featured events were a harbor cruise to the Statue of Liberty and the enjoyment of a Broadway hit play, "Barefoot in the Park." The group also attended a first run movie and stage show.

FIRST TRIP

The event was the first senior educational field trip that has been taken.

Kettering seniors are back at school, a little reluctantly perhaps, but ready to begin the last lap toward graduation.

Something new is coming up at Kettering this year, an art club to be sponsored by Robert Seeburger, art instructor.

Although the club has a sponsor and interested students, they must present a constitution to the Student Council for approval.

★ ★ ★

Class pins were ordered by the Student Council last week.

The pins are made of silver and have W-KHS on a bar and a connecting chain guard with the year of graduation.

★ ★ ★

At Utica High

Annual Honors Banquet

By DOLLY GASKILL

The sixth annual Honors Banquet will be held tonight and Thursday evening at Utica High School.

All students whose names appear on the honor roll for three out of four card markings are invited to attend.

Because of the large number of student concerned, two banquets are scheduled.

Students whose names appeared on the qualifiers' list were asked to pick up their tickets in the bookstore. Guest tickets may be purchased at the bookstore also.

At tonight's banquet, all seniors and half of the sophomores will attend. On Thursday, all juniors and the remaining half of the sophomores will attend.

Certificates of outstanding performance will be given to the students and guest speakers will be featured at both banquets.

All junior class rings have arrived at the jewelers. Students are asked to pick them up as soon as possible. Balance of the payments should be paid at this time.

The Girls' Athletic Association was busy Friday evening cleaning up the gym after a very successful "Spinster Spin."

★ ★ ★

Straw caused the biggest clean-up problem. The GAA could hold a hayride next week to get rid of the straw.

IN FULL SWING

The Washington Club is in full swing. With all permission slips turned in, Marvin Lichtenstein, club sponsor, will notify the travel agency and set up definite plans for the June trip.

The trip will last three days instead of the customary two.

During this time the students will visit Lincoln Memorial, Washington Monument, Smithsonian Institute and many other points of interest.

★ ★ ★

The Future Teachers Association sponsored a bake sale recently with the money collected earmarked for club activities and the scholarship fund.

The annual Talent Show will be presented April 22. Any students in the Utica school system are invited to participate in the event for awards.

10 Marian High Students Take Part in Art Workshop

By PATRICIA POLMEAR

Ten Marian High School students participated in the recent art workshop sponsored by the Detroit Archdiocesean Art Teachers' Association at Cabrini High School, Allen Park.

Sister Marie Suzanne and Sharon Yurek, Marian art instructors, demonstrated art techniques, with the aid of students, to teachers from the 57 schools that attended the meeting.

Selection of student participants was based on their outstanding work in the various types of art.

"I was very proud of the school and felt that the girls displayed an excellent representation of their knowledge," remarked Sister Marie Suzanne.

★ ★ ★

"A favorite work was Susan Naughton's drawing of Rolling Stone, Nick Jaggers."

An eight-foot umbrella adorned the display which drew a large crowd of art teachers.

Marybeth Toomey, senior, and Jacqueline Rougeau, junior, demonstrated scratchboard technique.

Seniors Cynthia Dolan and Elizabeth Gottschalk showed their advanced figure drawing.

Oil painting was done by Diane Baran and Patricia Shgelyn, juniors. Aimee Hess, junior, displayed some original designs.

Other participating students included Julie Tata, senior, and Christine Cal, junior, who spent the day in printmaking, linocuts, and wood cuts.

At the end of the day, many of the displays were given away as samples.

"It was wonderful. The people were friendly and showed a genuine interest," exclaimed Elizabeth Gottschalk.

Cranbrook, Kingswood Set World Affairs Seminar

By RICHARD BOSLEY

Cranbrook School, along with Kingswood School, will hold its 12th annual World Affairs Seminar April 28 and 29. This year's topic for discussion is the Near East.

As in the past, the topic of current interest was chosen well in advance of the seminar date, and speakers were obtained from embassies, universities, and the State Department.

The World Affairs Seminar is a coeducational experience which permits the student to learn and question on a first-hand basis, as a change from the textbook and classroom method.

About 40 qualified students were selected from Cranbrook and an equal number from Kingswood.

★ ★ ★

A group limit is established to increase discussion and personal contact.

AT BOTH SCHOOLS

The seminar is held simultaneously at Kingswood and at Cranbrook with a rotation of speakers and an exchange of male with female seminarians; thus the program can be doubled in size and yet remain coeducational.

This year's slate tentatively includes speakers from the the United States State Department, The Arab League from Saudi Arabia, Iraq, the United Arab Republic, Turkey, Israel, and hopefully from Jordan and Syria.

Although much credit must be given to Ben M. Snyder, assistant headmaster, for choosing the topic and obtaining the speakers, all the rest of the organizational work and preparation has been done by a panel of ten students.

★ ★ ★

From Cranbrook are Mike Stern, Jeff Kurfess, Kim Yamasaki, Tom Elliott and Frank Kolbert. Cicely Guenther, Joanie Wilkie, Mary Fisher, Jane King, and Riane Arnkoff represent Kingswood's planning committee.

During the two days of the seminar, all of participating students are excused from academic obligations.

Three or four representatives speak each day; each one limits his remarks to about a half hour followed by an hour of open question and answer.

★ ★ ★

A student chairman and secretary act as moderators.

INTELLECTUAL EVENT

The seminar — which is perhaps the most important intellectual event at the two schools — involves considerable preparation.

★ ★ ★

A large selection of books and periodicals is placed in the school library — a certain amount of which is required reading — and speakers are obtained for seminar briefings.

★ ★ ★

Included on the speaker's agenda are Julien Bryan, executive director of the International Film Foundation with films of the Near East, Dr. Richard Mitchell from the University of Michigan with an analysis of U. S. policy in the Near East, a panel of graduate students at the U. of M. from Near Eastern countries presenting a diverse view of Pan-Arabism, and Dr. Nimrod Raphaelli on Near Eastern economic planning.

SEMINAR STUDY—Ben M. Snyder, assistant headmaster of Cranbrook school, shows Frank Kolbert of Huntington Woods and Cicely Guenther of 1141 Lake Park, Birmingham, pertinent reference materials for the 12th annual World Affairs Seminar. A joint project including students from Kingswood and Cranbrook, the seminar will be held April 28 and 29. The Near East will be this year's discussion topic.

Don't Tread on the Beatles

Quartet's Fans Fly to Defense After Poll

Gilbert Youth Service

Let not even the faintest whisper of criticism be voiced against the Beatles.

The fans are as vociferously pro-Beatle as ever, and quick to take pen in hand in defense of their heroes.

"The Beatle Defending Association of America" (address unknown) wrote hotly after reading a Gilbert Poll which indicated the Beatles were falling from favor. This was just one of scores of letters.

"Your column . . . was sickening," the anonymous author stated. "The Beatles have hit after hit after hit.

★ ★ ★

"The Beatles sound great no matter what the song is and most of the other groups can only sing one type of song."

FAB GROUP

"Beatlemanics, Inc.," with a Northhampton, Mass., address, indignantly informed the pollsters that "the Beatles are a fab group who give us teenagers some relief from all the advice that is being shoved down our throats."

Another letter writer states unequivocally that the Beatles "are just as popular now as they ever were."

An illustrated tribute to the Beatles took the form of free verse, from which we quote a portion:

"Beatlemania is a quick glance at a passing idol
Beatlemania is a simple and wonderful thing
Beatlemania is love
Beatlemania is a risk worth taking Beatlemania is every girl's wish come true."

Marine From State Killed in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lance Cpl. Thomas N. Yagle, a Marine from Traverse City, Mich., was listed as killed in action in Viet Nam Monday by the Defense Department.

The department listed Yagle's wife, Betty Fay, as next of kin.

Another Michigan Marine previously listed as missing was reported dead, but the department said the death was not due to hostile action. He was Pfc. Tommy L. White, son of Mrs. Julia B. Luellen of Southgate.

Most Students Rate Teachers Able

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research, Inc.

Teen-agers have a deep interest in the problems of their teachers, and some definite ideas on what can be done about the matter.

Nearly 56 per cent feel that teachers do not enjoy the respect they should. Yet 57 per cent say their parents would be delighted if they themselves became teachers.

More than 57 per cent think their own teachers competent, and only 4 per cent adjudge them poor. (Most of the rest think them just mediocre.)

As might be expected, the girls in particular think their parents would be glad to have them become teachers.

★ ★ ★

There are two schools of thought among the young people on how teachers can obtain respect.

'MUST MEAN BUSINESS'

"Demand it." says one group. "Show you mean business."

But even more of them take the opposite tack.

"Treat the students like human beings," say the members of this group. "Don't be so strict. Be open minded. Try to see the students' point of view. Try to respect and understand the students."

★ ★ ★

On teachers' other difficulties, the students think most of them fall in the categories of low wages, inability to get along with or understand the students, lack of experience, wildness in the classroom and integration.

DEEP UNDERSTANDING

And what makes a successful teacher?

"The ability to interest students and make them want to learn," says Carolyn Logan, 16, of Camden, N.J.

Says Karen Day, 18, of Manchester, N.H.: "A deep understanding of young people and a desire to help them in any way possible."

★ ★ ★

"Grading a student on his work and not by how well she likes him; also having fun while teaching," commented Viva Valentine, 17, of Starkville, Miss.

MORE OBSERVANT

"Being more observant of what goes on in class, and taking care of cheating students privately and skillfully," says Cindy Neumann, 14, of LeSeur, Minn.

What should teachers do to get more respect from their students?

"Meet the students halfway," said 18-year-old Allen Labbe of Hartford, Conn.

"Don't give so much homework," was the opinion of Gary Czolgos, 14, of Lincoln, Neb.

Jeanie Kays, 17, of Louisville, Ky., said she "didn't think teachers should talk harsh to their students" if they wanted the proper respect.

A 16-year-old from Monroe, Mich., Fred Gentmer, thought the greatest difficulty facing a young teacher today was "poor wages and insufficient classroom facilities."

Young teachers, in the opinion of Brenda Kernodle, 17, of Indianapolis, Ind., find the going difficult because "they are too close to the ages of the students."

Sharon Stout, 17, of Bethlehem, Pa., thought it was all a matter of discipline or, as she put it, "letting the students know from the beginning who is the boss."

Teens Chafe at Traditions

Growing Up Hard in Europe

Gilbert Youth Service

Americans who work hard at "togetherness," and think no home is properly designed if it doesn't have a family room, may be surprised to find that restive European teen-agers chafe at the traditional bonds of family life.

In countries like Spain and Portugal, unmarried teen-agers are expected to be at home for the four-course midday luncheon and for late dinner.

In Portugal, it's customary for the unmarried son to make his home with his parents till he is 35 — but he can also expecte to be supported till that age.

Striking out on your own by sharing an apartment with other career-ists is frowned on.

★ ★ ★

Says a young Spaniard who is in the travel business, "I tried having my own apartment with a university friend, but I knew I was hurting my parents's felings, so I gave it up. I don't want to live at home, because my parents want to do everything as a family.

DIFFICULT

"If I say I'm going to the cinema, they want to go, too. It's difficult to be independent without causing hurt."

In a small country like Holland, it's customary for the university student to spend every weekend at home, and when vacation time comes, to travel with the family.

Girls in these European countries are slowly beginning to take positions as secretaries and translators, but the percentage is still small.

★ ★ ★

And even if they are working, they must still be home-centered. Evenings are devoted to visiting other members of the family, and talking over family news over cups of strong, black coffee.

Damaged Jet Lands Safely in Denver

DENVER (UPI) — A "severe explosion" caused by a snapped nose gear linkage rocked a United Air Lines DC8 jet with 31 persons aboard in flight early today, but the aircraft landed safely at Denver's Stapleton International Airport.

None of the 24 passengers or seven crew members was injured. The plane landed amid all available fire and emergency equipment in a light snowstorm.

★ ★ ★

The flight was Flight 267 from Philadelphia to San Francisco. It stopped at Detroit and Chicago before landing in Denver.

A United spokesman said the plane did not make a scheduled stop at Omaha because of a snowstorm there.

Bank Holdup Suspect Held in South Bend

BARODA (AP) — A warrant charging bank robbery and armed robbery was authorized Monday by Berrien County Prosecutor John Hammond against a man captured at South Bend, Ind., after a bank holdup at Baroda.

Hammond said he was awaiting a conference with U.S. Atty. Harold Beaton of Grand Rapids to determine whose office would prosecute the case since the victimized bank is federally insured.

★ ★ ★

Held under police guard for treatment at South Bend Memorial Hospital was a man identified as Nolan Clayton Jr., 24, of Hammond, La.

He was captured after a police chase when his car slammed into the rear of a truck at an intersection in the South Bend suburb of Roseland. State Police at Niles said three bags containing a total of at least $8,500 were recovered from the pursued car along with a pistol.

Spokesmen at the Baroda Branch of the Intercity Bank of Benton Harbor said they were held up Monday by a lone gunman. They said he fled with loot estimated at between $5,000 and $10,000.

The U. S. Bureau of Standards is connected with the Department of Commerce.

Hostels Now Rec Centers in Big Cities

Gilbert Youth Service

In major cities across the country, hostel headquarters are fast becoming recreation centers for indoor activities.

At informal get-togethers on Friday and Saturday nights, teen-agers who originally shared enthusiasm on ski slopes and bicycle rides drop in to see travel films, and how-to-do sports movies, join in folk-singing, and even sign up to take part in an amateur show.

★ ★ ★

Hostel leaders feel it's only natural that a bunch of teen-agers sharing a mutual love of the outdoors should like to band together for similarly healthy indoor fun.

And even on weekend hostel-ing trips, there's provision made for nonsports activities, ranging from informal dancing and guitar playing to dress-up costume dances.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEEDLESS GRAPES

QUESTION: How can seedless grapes be grown without seeds?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The seedless grape is among the most popular and widely used of California varieties. It was brought to America in 1879, from Australia, and was named Thompson's Seedless after the man who imported it.

These grapes, excellent for table use, also proved valuable in the production of raisins. Soon, many growers started to raise them.

The seeds had been eliminated by breeding, by selecting those with fewest seeds until gradually there were few seeds or none at all.

Can you guess how Thompson raised his grapes if there were only a very few seeds?

The answer is that Thompson brought over cuttings from vines which were producting seedless grapes. He planted these, made new cuttings and so kept the strain going.

This is the way cultivated grapes are grown. In (A) we see cuttings of canes with 4 or 5 buds, made in the fall.

Stored over the winter, these are set out in the spring (B) and developed roots.

Later they are arranged in vineyard rows. A trunk then grows, from which all except a few canes are trimmed (C). The energy of the vine then causes large, fine clusters of grapes to grow from the canes (D).

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Slice a seedless grape and see how free from seeds it really is. You will understand why this variety is so good for the production of raisins.

One-Fourth of Mankind

(2) Out of the Yellow Earth

by Don Oakley and John Lane

The Black-Haired people Tame the Land

Floods, of Water and of Men — China's Twin Sorrows

He reclaimed the land from the water and led the rivers back to the sea.
—Said of Yu the Great

The civilization that was to become China had its beginnings in the cradle of the Yellow River, an area that has been inhabited by men, or near-men, for possibly half a million years.

This is the age given the remains of primitive Peking Man, who may or may not have been the ancestor of the modern Chinese.

There, bounded in the east by vast ocean, on the north and west by desert and mountain, on the south by wilderness, scattered tribal clans emerged and began a long process of cultural development and expansion.

There, perhaps 3,000 years before Christ, were forged beginnings of a culture which was eventually to embrace a quarter of Asia and which, because of its physical isolation, was to endure relatively unchanged down to our own day.

According to tradition, this was China's golden age.

MODEL RULERS

While the Egyptians were building the first pyramids, legendary sage-kings, whom later Chinese like Confucius were to look back on as model rulers, were teaching the "black-haired people" how to cultivate the fertile yellow earth, to drain the marshes, domesticate animals, erect dwellings, make weapons of bronze with which to conquer savage tribes.

The wife of the sage king Huang Ti showed the people how to make thread from the cocoons of the silkworm.

During the reign of Yoa, a great flood, reminiscent of the Biblical account, was subdued by his son Yu.

Yu, it is said, established the first dynasty, the Hsia.

BABYLON FOUNDING

If there was such a dynasty, it was contemporaneous with the founding of Babylon.

There were, it is said, 18 kings of Hsia. The last, however, was a cruel tyrant who was overthrown by the Prince of Shang.

Just as floods and barbarian invasions were to punctuate Chinese history for thousands of years, so this first revolution set the pattern for the way in which nearly every later Chinese dynasty was to rise and fall.

* * *

It is with the Shang Dynasty, which began about 1766 B.C., that the story of China leaves the realm of legend and enters that of fact.

Tourism is now the major economic activity in the U.S. Virgin Islands. Revenue from tourists increased steadily from $25.8 million in fiscal 1962 to almost $48 million in fiscal 1964, and the number of visitors from 200,000 to 450,000 in the same period.

Court Decision 'Rewarding'

Pair Win Loyalty Oath Fight

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — "He told us to have patience."

Mrs. Vernon Elfbrandt recalled the words of the attorney at the start of the legal battle she and her husband began five years ago against Arizona's loyalty oath.

* * *

In June 1961, the Elfbrandts refused to sign the loyalty oath because they believed it was unfair. Monday the U.S. Supreme Court, in a 5-4 decision, agreed with them.

Now it appears the state owes the Elfbrandts, both Tucson schoolteachers, $60,629 in back pay. It could be more if the money has drawn interest.

'WILL BE REPAID'

During that time the couple has gotten by on $20,000 in contributions and loans from friends.

"We haven't seen the decision yet so we don't know if we will get the back pay or how," said Elfbrandt. "I assure you, if we do, the persons who loaned us money will be repaid."

Mrs. Elfbrandt filed a suit against the state in the summer of 1961, saying that a section of the law which required an oath that she was not a Communist or never had been a member of any subversive organizations was unfair.

"We felt this was vague. I was unsure exactly what organizations and actions were prescribed under the law. I felt that public employes who felt strongly about social issues might be hesitant to take action because they wouldn't know what might violate the law," Mrs. Elfbrandt said.

RETAINED ATTORNEY

The Elfbrandts retained Tucson attorney W. Edward Morgan, an official of the American Civil Liberties Union, to handle their case.

"He warned us that the case probably would go before the U.S. Supreme Court and not to give up before then.

"He was right. We went before every court in the state before the Supreme Court heard us, but it was worth it. The judges asked good questions and they seemed familiar with the case. It was by far the high point of the case," she said.

"There were two types of loans. One actually was a gift. The people just gave us money without expecting anything in return. Others loaned us money with the stipulation that we pay them back if we ever won the case. We owned nothing if we lost," Mrs. Elfbrandt said.

The couple, who are Quakers, are active in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the American Friends Service Committee, American Federation of Teachers and the American Civil Liberties Union.

Father Gets Big Charge From Daughters' Wardrobes

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I don't know what I'm writing to your for. My problem is money and you can't help me unless you get big hearted and send me a check for $50,000. I own my own business and make good money, but my wife spends it faster than I can make it.

ABBY

To make matters worse, I have four daughters who are exactly like their mother. I am going under every month in bills, and there doesn't seem to be any end to it.

Will you please tell my wife and daughters to quit being extravagant?

OWES PLENTY

DEAR OWES: I will not! That's YOUR job. It's sad enough to have spoiled your wife, but you are guilty of perpetuating the crime by raising four more females in her image.

Turn off those charge accounts and put your better half on an allowance.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: This is for ALBANY MOTHER who hates tight pants, so she buys her son's slacks at the Salvation Army store because that's the only place she can find pants with pleats in front. She was also very proud of her son because he wore his hair cut short and was an honor student.

My son's hair hangs in delicate curls around his shirt collar, and his pants couldn't be much tighter. It would make such a good story to say he's a delinquent and a high school dropout, but he's not.

He is a top student at a fine university. All the adults who know him say he is one of the most conscientious, dependable young men they've ever met.

His explanation: "People who know me, know me. And those who don't, have no right to judge me by how long I wear my hair and how tight my pants are."

ANOTHER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If your conscientious, dependable son is misjudged because of the length of his hair and the tightness of his pants, he is doing himself a disservice.

There are more beatniks with long hair and tight pants than honor students.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: How does a girl tell the difference between just a friendly kiss, and one that could lead to trouble?

CANDY

DEAR CANDY: If you don't know the difference, you shouldn't be out after dark without your mother.

★ ★ ★

Troubled? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Women Delegates Having a Ball

WASHINGTON (AP) — They wear read feathers and Indian headbands. One wears her arm in a vegetable sack. One lost her tooth at an embassy party. One got lost in the Smithsonian.

They're delegates to the Women's National Democratic Campaign Conference — 31 women from Pawnee County, Okla., who came east to try to find out how to defeat their Republican governor.

Washington won't soon recover.

THEY'RE GREEN

"Everyone's been real nice to us," said Charlene Sharpnack, "I think they know we're sorta green."

At lunch with 3,700 women, you could lose a friend — but not the Pawnee group. They've gotten in dutch with the Connecticut delegation for singing "Boomer-Sooner," the University of Oklahoma fight song, to the tune of the Connecticut state song.

They're bunking three to a room to save money, and the chartered bus they came on still has a "Home Sweet Home" sign over its toilet and curtains on the window.

"We sorta horsed around today," confided Charlene. "After lunch, some went to the Smithsonian. They came back in a panic at 5 o'clock because they'd lost Jewel (Tennent)."

AP Wirephoto

Three Oklahoma women who came east to attend a conference of women Democrats show how they "horse around" in between business sessions. Part of a 31-delegate group from Pawnee County, they are from left Mrs. Clete Sackett who lost a front tooth at an embassy party; Mrs. Frances Staff and Mrs. Cleo Swan. One of the group explained "we sorta horse around."

Jewel denied being lost, and said she had left early.

"Anyway," said Charlene, "Some others went to Georgetown to take pictures. The rest of us (three) stayed here to take care of political business."

Clete Sackett broke off a front tooth eating a cookie at an embassy. Sis Parrish protects her hand, kissed by an ambassador, in a plastic bag.

One got a "greenhorn" award for never having been out of Pawnee county and Jennie Trinkle shook hands with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

In between functions they hire a cab for $4 an hour "to see the big sights." At 3 a.m., they're still sitting up talking, girl-talk, calling one another on the phone and eating prunes and oranges.

Everywhere—Muriel Mitchell says even in bed—they wear their white $1 headbands and eight-cent red feathers. One, Cleo Swann, is half Cherokee Indian.

"For eight cents we've never had so much fun," said Muriel. "Those feathers do wonders."

They planned to wear them to the White House late today in lieu of hats required at a formal reception.

They leave for home right after the reception and plan to change out of their tea clothes at the first truck stop.

The truck stop probably won't forget them either.

Boots Still Kick About

Boots will still be kicking around in feminine footwear for fall and winter 1966.

The National Shoe Retailers Association says the trend will be to boots closer to the leg and lower heights.

But for the kookie look, there'll be some covering the knee, some with cut-outs. For town and tailored clothes, watch for the bootie-shoe, heeled and closed at the ankle.

Gloves Getting a Cut-Out Look

Yves St. Laurent designs gloves, too. Coming this summer to the U. S. will be a moderately priced selection of his thoughts on what a lady should wear on her hands.

Chief among his ideas: cut-outs over the knuckles and little horseshoe curves that bare a bit of the hand from the wrist to knuckle.

'Cut-Outs' Are 'In'

Latest idea — and probably the most far out of all: Stockings purposely made with holes at the knee or heel or toe. To go with the cut-out dresses is what they're for.

Given a big boost by the new short skirts, the shoes are now available in every price range.

And when they start selling for $4, then it's no longer a designer's decree. It's an established fashion fact.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

The following little playlet presents a woman who showed remarkable self-control and tact in a difficult situation.

The scene: The dining car of a train.

The characters: Two friends on a train trip. Let's call them Mrs. A. and Mrs. B. Mrs. A. really has beautiful features, but her waistline is lost in overweight and so is the lovely bone structure of her face. Mrs. A. while smiling and pleasant, actually appears to be tired.

Mrs. B. could never claim real beauty as her own, but she is vital and animated, clever with makeup, clever with hair style and clothes, and has a marvelous figure.

As is usual on trains, there isn't much choice a la carte. The meals are often numbered. Both women ordered the same dinner. This consisted of a choice between corn chowder and consomme, and between green beans and creamed carrots. Besides that there were calves liver, mashed potatoes, head lettuce with a choice of dressing, rolls and a variety of desserts.

* * *

Guess what Mrs. A. chose—corn chowder, creamed carrots, and Russian dressing on the lettuce. She also ordered ice cream and cake for dessert, and said to the waiter, "Would you please put a little of the gravy on my potatoes and could I have some chocolate sauce on my ice cream?"

Guess what Mrs. B. chose—consomme and green beans, French dressing and a half grapefruit for dessert. She said to the waiter, "I don't want any gravy." Then she felt apologetic and said to her friend, "I simply can't handle fats. I must be very careful about it. It must be my liver or gall bladder or something."

Then she continued to the waiter, "Will you please bring my French dressing on the side so that I can put it on the salad myself?" She looked across the table again and smiled and nodded her head and said, "Same thing." As it turned out Mrs. B. did eat one small roll, lightly buttered, while Mrs. A. ate her rolls and one of Mrs. B.'s also.

This makes Mrs. B. sound irritatingly noble, but she really isn't. She goes on a food binge every once in a while, but she leads a very active social life and has had to use these little tricks in order to keep her ideal weight without offending her friends. Actually, she didn't starve. She had a very good meal.

Here's Time-ly Tip

Never carry your watch in your purse, warns Marcia Moore, Bulova's fashion coordinator. The delicate mechanism may absorb oils from cosmetics or perfumes. And a career girl should keep her watch out of the desk drawer where it can come in contact with dust, dirt and lint.

Conservatives, take heart. Jack Baker, president of Sportempos, Inc., is on your side.

He thinks the thigh-high way out clothes are for places like New York, Chicago or London: cities where there are so many people on the sidewalk wearing something kookie is the only way to be seen.

Women in Denver or Little Rock, he says, should follow their instinct and stick to less flamboyant styles.

One of the world's greatest experts in making the nothing play is our old friend "Hard Luck Joe."

JACOBY

Here Joe uses a nothing play to lose a cinch vulnerable slam. West's four heart bid crowded North into a doubtful four spade bid but there was nothing doubtful about the spade slam. It was a laydown except for the combination of a bad luck situation and Joe's nothing play.

West might well have gone to seven hearts. He could not be set more than six tricks and actually would have escaped for only five down. But West had two reasons for not sacrificing at that point.

The first reason was that, for all he knew, one of his opponents might be void in hearts and go on to a lay down grand slam. The other was that West had some hope of beating six spades. He was void of clubs and if he could just get his partner into the lead there was hope for a profit.

West opened the three of hearts. Joe reached over and played dummy's six. East played the seven and Joe played his deuce.

There was a long pause at the table. East had not noticed that his seven had held the trick. Eventually, West picked up the cards, turned them over, placed them in front of his partner and remarked, "You just won the first trick."

East turned the cards over, said, "So, I did."

Then East thought awhile and led back a club. West ruffed and down went Joe.

His play of the six spot from dummy was a most unusual nothing play. It only made a difference because West held the six top hearts but there was no reason for Joe not to play the eight. This play could not lose. The six play did.

Textbook Bill on Minority Groups Loses

LANSING (AP) — The House defeated a move to give minority groups a guaranteed place in Michigan textbooks Monday, but gave preliminary approval to one intended to guarantee them a place in the neighborhood of their choice.

Defeated by default was a bill originally intended to require a one-semester course on the history of the American Negro. The vote was 49-48, but 56 "yes" votes are required for final passage.

★ ★ ★

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Rosetta Ferguson, D-Detroit, was amended to include "the achievements and accomplishments of any and all ethnic and racial groups who have made contributions to world, American and Michigan society."

The approval of the State Board of Education would be required for all such social studies and history textbooks, whether they were used in private, parochial or public schools.

HOUSE HUNTING

Receiving preliminary approval were a pair of bills by Rep. James Del Rio, D-Detroit, a former real estate broker, which would prohibit any real estate broker, salesman or agent from refusing to show a house or to refer a customer on the basis of race, color or national origin.

The measures are in position for a final vote today.

Fewer Soldiers Volunteer for Viet Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of Army soldiers volunteering for service in Viet Nam has dropped sharply and steadily since December, it was disclosed today.

The main reason, an Army spokesman said, is that a soldier now has a pretty good chance of getting into the war whether or not he volunteers to go.

★ ★ ★

Statistics made available on request showed that the monthly total of Army men asking to go to Viet Nam reached a peak of 4,492 in December.

This fell to 2,568 in January, to 2,280 in February and 1,710 last month.

VIET VOLUNTEER

The Army said 26,342 soldiers had volunteered for Viet Nam in the past 12 months.

Army strength in Viet Nam now stands at more than 146,000. There is a heavy requirement for replacements to fill vacancies left when men are returned home because their enlistments run out, their one-year tour of duty in Viet Nam expires, or they are wounded or fall ill.

The Navy said that as of April 5, 22,819 of its enlisted men had volunteered for service in the Viet Nam theater. This is an over-all figure, without any time frame provided.

The Marine Corps and the Air Force said they do not keep totals on volunteers for Viet Nam.

BEST QUALIFIED

On this point, the Air Force said it "does not differentiate between a volunteer and a non-volunteer for Viet Nam, but fills vacancies with the best qualified available."

Although more than 26,000 Army men have volunteered for Viet Nam over the past year, only 19,788 actually have been assigned there so far.

★ ★ ★

This is because volunteers are dispatched to the war zone when there are vacancies in their particular skills. Also, a man may not be taken out of his parent unit until there is assurance that he can be replaced so that the unit's integrity will not be harmed, the Army spokesman said.

Parents Still Await Word in Kidnaping

SURFSIDE, Fla. (UPI) — The parents of kidnaped Danny Goldman are still waiting hopefully for some kind of word.

Three weeks ago yesterday a man described as stocky and middle-aged took Danny, 18, from his canal-side home.

Since the kidnaping March 28, the family has made three public appeals for the safe return of their only child.

"There is nothing new, no contact with the kidnaper," according to Robert Traurig, an attorney for Danny's father, Aaron Goldman, a building contractor.

★ ★ ★

The Goldmans have offered a $25,000 ransom, reportedly the price the kidnaper demanded when he took Danny. Friends and neighbors of the Goldmans hav also offered to put up an additional $15,000.

"I am sure the Goldmans have not given up hope that Danny will be found," the attorney said yesterday.

Camp Founder Rites Thursday

INTERLOCHEN (AP) — Funeral services will be held here Thursday for the man who made this spot in northwestern Lower Michigan woods known around the world.

He was Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, founder of the National Music Camp and Fine Arts Academy, near Traverse City. He suffered a heart attack last Tuesday and died Monday at the age of 74.

★ ★ ★

The Interlochen establishment which Dr. Maddy started with a $15,000 loan in 1928, now spreads over 500 acres between Long and Green Lakes, some 16 miles southwest of Traverse City.

He was appointed a professor of music at University of Michigan in 1930 and named professor emeritus in 1962.

Spring Storm Rocks West

Snow Clogs Roads in Rockies, Plains

By United Press International

A major spring storm pushed down from the Rockies across the Central Plains today.

Weather warnings typical of midwinter were posted from the Canadian border southward to Arizona and New Mexico.

More than a foot of snow was on the ground at Lander, Wyo.

Many Wyoming highways were closed by drifting snow, and in Texas, highways were closed by blinding dust storms.

* * *

Violet thunderstorms smacked Arkansas and eastern Oklahoma last night and a belt of rain spread eastward through Illinois and along the Gulf Coast.

HIGH WINDS

Wilburton, Okla., was hit with 70-mile-an-hour winds and large hail. Walnut Ridge, Ark., was swamped with more than an inch of rain.

At least six deaths were blamed on the storm. Three persons died in Illinois when two semitrailer trucks collided on wet pavement.

Two persons were killed in a traffic accident on a snowy Colorado highway, and one death was reported in a nine-car pileup west of Casper, Wyo.

* * *

The weather bureau posted warnings for an 11-state area.

BALMY READING

Warm temperatures and rain were pushed ahead of the storm front. Chicago recorded a balmy 75 degrees yesterday and enjoyed a light soaking rain that lasted through the night.

Along the Gulf Coast, the rains were heavier. Pensacola, Fla., recorded 1.16 inches, as did Mobile, Ala.

Maugham Proposed Just Once

(Second of Two Parts)

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Four old friends of W. Somerset Maugham were taking a fond look at the life and times of the famed English author.

The conversation took place at the University of Southern California, and listeners included a curious mixture of academic and show business types.

One of the speakers, George Cukor, arrived with a dazzling trio: Lillian Gish, Shirley MacLaine and Mia Farrow.

THOMAS

Reading from his soon-to-be-published book, "Remembering Mr. Maugham," Garson Kanin recalled asking the once-wed Maugham if he had ever proposed marriage more than once. No, replied the author, but he assuaged Kanin's disappointment by adding that the single proposal was not to his wife.

He told of an eight-year affair with a woman named Nan. She disappeared after a fight, and he traced her to Chicago, where he proposed marriage. Although professing her love, she refused. Later he discovered she had been pregnant by another man.

UNACCUSTOMED TEARS

Said Maugham with unaccustomed tears: "I have often wondered what course my life would have taken except for that freakish happenstance."

Clare Booth Luce observed that the picture of Maugham as cold and detached was a false one. "I think it was because of the eyes," she said. "They were like desert stones, dark and glittering and unpleasant to look at."

* * *

"And he had that forbidding face," added Ruth Gordon. "It could seem cold and cruel. But that was only exterior. The interior was warm."

Maugham's essential loneliness was stressed by George Cukor, who recalled him saying, "It's a lonely life, writing. When you are writing a book, you are entirely preoccupied with your characters. When you cut them out of your life, it can be very lonely."

NEVER ENJOYED LIVING

"I once asked him," said Kanin, "whether it was harder to learn to write or to live. He replied that he always enjoyed writing, but he never enjoyed living."

"Maugham believed the beginning and the end was writing," said Mrs. Luce. "I remember visiting his place on the Riviera and seeing the studio where he worked. His chair faced away from the Mediterranean; he didn't want to be distracted by the view.

* * *

"He worked every morning for three or four hours. Then he stopped for lunch; he liked gimlets and stingers as well as martinis. After a nap, he went over what he had written. He once told me that he corrected his sentences more than any modern writer except Proust."

"Writing was everything to him," agreed Cukor. "He once said that he had loved and had been loved, but never at the same time."

FEWER FRIENDS

Kanin told of asking Maugham in his last years whether age brought fewer friends and more enemies. "Yes," the author replied grimly, "as sad and unfortunate as that is, it is true."

But then he added as death approached: "No matter what its miseries, life should be grasped."

The program ended as it had begun, with Maugham's clipped voice reading the sentences over which he had labored so lovingly.

Sophia Loren Weds Film Producer Ponti

Miss Loren, who is making a film in London, flew here on Easter weekend to meet Ponti. At the time they denied that they were getting married again.

Detroit Strike Authorized by City Workers

DETROIT (AP)—Public Employes Council 77, an AFL-CIO union, voted Monday to authorize its executive committee to call a strike against the city if its wage demands are not met.

No date was set for a walkout, however, and Albert G. Leggat, city labor relations director, pointed out state law still prohibits a strike by public employes although it was liberalized to permit collective bargaining by them.

A charge of politics was raised on each side.

Thomas Fitzpatrick, the union's international representative, said Mayor Jerome Cavanagh had scoffed at the union and accused it of "saber rattling."

Jack Kauffmann, council president, and Fitzpatrick said "Mayor Cavanagh thinks this is some sort of political game," and accused him of worrying about admission of Red China to the United Nations while ignoring union demands.

VOTE PROPAGANDA

Legatt accused Council 77 of attempting to sound most militant among unions seeking city employe members. He said this was "for election propaganda."

Key Gainers Taper Off

Market in Sluggish Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market went through a sluggish and irregular decline early this afternoon.

While some of the recently volatile glamor stocks were off a scattering of points, their percentage losses were moderate in view of their very large gains made earlier this year.

Analysts saw the list as continuing a "correction" of its strong recovery move.

Coppers, airlines, aerospace issues and other recent high-steppers were among the outstanding losers.

The big rise in Gross National Product in the first quarter was encouraging background for stocks but at the same time Wall Streeters aw it as keeping alive the possibility of a tax cut to dampen the economy.

Steels and rails showed a slightly higher trend. Motors were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .6 at 348.0 with industrials off 1.8, rails up .5 and utilities off .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.62 at 938.36.

LITTLE CHANGE

Du Pont rose nearly a point while little change was shown by such blue chips as General Motors, Jersey Standard, American Telephone and International Nickel.

★ ★ ★

Prices were generally lower in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. Simmonds Precision and Alloys Unlimited fell about 2 each. Losses exceeding a point were show nby Kysor Industries, Ford of Canada, Conductron and Flying Tiger.

Corporate bonds declined fractionally. U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Jets Hit N. Viet for Second Day

Big Power Plant Near Haiphong Destroyed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U. S. jet fighter-bombers raided North Viet Nam's heartland for the second consecutive day, pounding a major plant just outside Haiphong Monday night, a U. S. spokesman reported.

Following close on the attack Sunday on missile sites near Hanoi, two Navy planes in a low level, radar-controlled attack dropped about 15 tons of bombs on the Uong Bi power plant 14 miles northeast of North Viet Nam's chief port.

★ ★ ★

The pilots reported showers of explosions and said the lights of Haiphong went out at once. The plant provides 15 per cent of North Viet Nam's electricity, including a third of the power Haiphong uses and one-fourth of the needs of the capital 60 miles to the west.

Navy planes raided the Uong Bi plant twice in December before the start of a 37-day bombing pause. After the second raid Dec. 22, it was reportedly almost totally destroyed, but the spokesman said today it apparently had been rebuilt.

WAR CLOSER

Neither Hanoi nor Haiphong has been hit by U. S. air attack, but American planes brought the war close to the capital Sunday with attacks on missile sites 15 and 17 miles south and southwest of Hanoi. Pilots reported both sites were engulfed in flames.

★ ★ ★

The raid Monday night was carried out by twin-jet Intruders, a subsonic plane designed to deliver big payloads on low-level attacks. They came from the carrier Kitty Hawk and reported only light, ineffective antiaircraft fire, although both Haiphong and Hanoi are said to be ringed with Soviet-built antiaircraft missile sites.

Court Upholds Verdict for GM

CHICAGO (AP) — The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld Monday a lower court decision that General Motors Corp. was not negligent in the design of a 1961 Chevrolet station wagon.

The ruling was on an appeal by Mrs. Barbara Evans, widow of Roy Evans, a research chemist, from a decision in the U.S. District Court in Evansville, Ind.

★ ★ ★

Evans was killed in a collision of his Chevrolet station wagon and an automobile in Vanderburgh County, Ind. Mrs. Evans alleged he lost his life because the design of the wagon permitted the driver's side of the station wagon to collapse.

The widow, who sued for $480,000 damages, said the wagon had an X-frame while a competing make had a perimeter frame including side rails.

★ ★ ★

In the opinion of the Court of Appeals the judges stated Mrs. Evans had not shown her husband would have survived the collision if the station wagon had a perimeter frame.

Detroit Bank Puts Higher Interest on Time Deposits

Detroit Bank & Trust has announced it will pay five per cent interest (annual rate) on time deposits of $1,000 or more left on deposit for six months.

Interest will be paid and compounded semiannually. The new rate became effective yesterday

★ ★ ★

Th five per cent time deposits are available to individuals and nonprofit organizations, and will be automatically renewed for six months at the end of the initial six-month deposit period.

All regular savings will continue to earn the present four per cent annual interest rate, the maximum any bank can pay under current federal regulations.

New Products Fight for Store Shelf Space

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK—Americans' insatiable appetites for new products—and their reluctance to part with old favorites—are creating problems for the nation's supermarkets.

It is the battle for the big inch on the store shelf.

Theodore A. Von Der Ahe, president of Von's Grocery Co. in California, estimates his stores carry about 15,000 items.

Another 4,000 to 5,000 are offered to the stores each year, of which they take about 1,000.

BIG SQUEEZE

"With new items coming out all of the time, you have to knock out some items or squeeze the shelf space on existing ones," said William A. Schroeder, vice president, consumer marketing, Corn Products Co.

That is why, from time to time, a rinse, a 16-ounce bottle of root beer or a breakfast cereal will disappear from the shelves.

★ ★ ★

Consumer loyalty is high, and both the stores and the manufacturers are worried that the housewife will switch to a competitor.

"We try to take care of her as long as we can," Schroeder said.

10 YEARS

The company estimates that it may take 10 years to get housewives to switch from its old starch to its new spray.

"We use samples and coupons to try to get them to switch," a company spokesman said.

"But consumers know what they want, and it's not necessarily what you do."

The government has estimated that three-fourths of Americans working in 1975 will be dealing with products that don't even exist today.

PRODUCTS MULTIPLY

Campbell Soup Co. products have multiplied from 44 to more than 400 since 1954. General Foods Corp. introduced 17 new products in 1965, and General Mills, Inc., had 10. Green Giant Co. brought out 30.

National Dairy Products introduced everything from a spicy flavor of cheese to red and blue-striped vanilla ice cream.

Quaker Oats Co. came out with an old favorite in a new form, instant oatmeal.

Gordon Ellis, executive vice president, Pet Milk Co., estimates about 95 per cent of new products and brands introduced either are unsuccessful or fall far short of expectations.

★ ★ ★

Ellis said 65 years ago, the life expectancy of a new product was at least 20 years. Now, with increased competition, it is less than seven years in the food industry, and still dropping.

More of the proposed products are being weeded out along the line—in early stages of exploration, screening, business analysis, development or testing.

Good News for Chrysler Stockholders

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp., first of the auto makers to reports its first quarter operations, today told of new highs in sales and profits for the first three months of 1966.

Chrysler President Lynn A. Townsend told the annual stockholders meeting that first quarter sales totaled $1.441 billion smashing the old record of $1.266 billion set in the opening quarter last year.

★ ★ ★

Net earnings of $62.5 million topped the old first quarter high of $56.6 million set last year.

Worldwide car and truck sales by Chrysler amounted to 556,894 units, compared with the previous high of 498,127 set last year.

BOARD CHAIRMAN

George H. Lowe, who will retire Dec. 31 as chairman of the board, proposed to stockholders that Townsend be given the additional duties of chief executive officer. This was to be acted on at the director's meeting later today.

Under Chrysler's operating setup, Love as board chairman had served as chief executive officer while Townsend was president and chief operating officer. There was no immediate indication Townsend would be named chairman of the board.

Safety Proposals Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is considering 67 additional safety requirements for motor vehicles it purchases, including some entirely new and novel and others that would refine or revise existing safety standards.

★ ★ ★

The General Services Administration supplied a list of "proposed areas for investigation" in its automotive safety standards project planning when asked Monday about future possible regulations.

A spokesman said the 67 points listed represent safety ideas under study and consideration on which no determinations have been reached.

Last year, the agency broke the ice on specific safety standards for government automobiles with adoption of 17 requirements for 1967 models.

FUTURE MODELS

The GSA standards apply directly only to government motor vehicle purchases. However, the automobile industry has announced it is making some of them generally available in future models.

★ ★ ★

The ideas include:

Relocation of the gear shift lever or redesign so as to use a dial or buttons.

Removal or redesign of the instrument panel or dashboard, to minimize injury to the head and upper body and protection on the under surfaces of the instrument panel to protect the limbs of drivers and front-seat passengers.

ROOF PADDING

Padding of the entire roof to minimize injury to occupants in the event of collision and overturn.

Fire resistant interior upholstering materials.

Audible alarms to warn of a backing vehicle.

Windshields and other glass areas which will absorb greater impact.

BLIND SPOTS

Elimination of blind spots to the rear and increase of the field of vision to within 30 degrees of lateral on each side.

Increased wiper area on windshields and wipers on rear windows, especially station wagons.

Increased defrosting capability, both front and rear.

Vision, reflection and glare criteria based upon the vision capabiities of older drivers.

RUNNING LIGHTS

Running lights for daytime use.

Development of systems to prevent brake locking, development of a system to provide for application of brakes in the event of an operating failure, and more effective emergency brake systems.

★ ★ ★

Peace Feelers to Asia Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield prodded the State Department to put out diplomatic feelers for an Asian peace conference on Viet Nam.

Acting entirely on his own, Mansfield offered what he called a new approach to possible negotiations.

He proposed in the Senate yesterday that Hanoi, Peking and "such elements in South Viet Nam as may be essential to the making and keeping of a peaceful settlement" be invited to meet in Burma or Japan.

Asked in a subsequent interview what hope there is for such a conference, in view of North Viet Nam's rejection of previous peace feelers, he replied:

"It's up to the diplomats to see if they can't arrange such a meeting. I would hope that our State Department representatives would consult with Burmese and Japanese officials and suggest such action."

Mansfield said he does not believe that avenue has been explored sufficiently.

IN PURSUIT OF PEACE

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told the National Democratic Women's Campaign Conference Monday night that President Johnson "spends many hours a day in relentless pursuit of peace."

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I will soon have $12,000 to invest. I am 60, employed, recently divorced and with no one to help me. I have eight shares of Sears, Roebuck; $400 in savings bonds; $4,000 on deposit with an insurance company and $1,000 in savings. What should I do to supplement my Social Security income at age 65? I have thought of Sears and more savings bonds. My income-tax rate is pretty high, and I can't afford to gamble in any way."

M.M.

A) Sears is a fine stock which, like a host of other top-quality blue chips, has come down in price in a market which has become quite speculative — with most attention focussed on the so-called swingers. I believe you have enough Sears.

There is risk in the current market, and since you cannot afford this, I suggest that you put half of your funds in more savings bonds — the only security I know of which cannot fluctuate.

I would put the balance into equal amounts of Merck, a top-grade pharmaceutical; General Foods, a splendid growth issue relatively depressed in price; and Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing, which produces Scotch Tape and a wide line of other items. These should enhance your capital over the five years ahead.

Wings 'Little Guns' Have Been Loud in Series

From the Press Box
BY RAYMOND L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The breach between the National Football League and its young rival the AFL is wider today than at any time in the past seven years.

This is the opinion of Ralph Wilson Jr., president of the Buffalo Bills, who along with his general manager Dick Gallagher, coach Joel Collier and quarterback Jack Kemp, were the annual sports night guests of the Pontiac Traffic club last evening at the Elks.

* * *

Wilson, who has long been a proponent of closer relationships, a common draft and championship play between the two leagues, said, "Getting together would be to the benefit of the game and the owners, but the two leagues are farther apart now than ever before."

The competition for players with the huge bonuses has been the current point of aggravation.

Our biggest weakness is that we're in too many of the smaller cities. "We must get a foothold in the Detroits, Chicagos or Philadelphias," he said, "and let anyone in these areas come up with an adequate stadium and we'll have a tenant for them."

Someone suggested to Wilson that if he wanted to move out of Buffalo, he might find a home here in the Pontiac-Detroit area.

"Put yourself a stadium somewhere in the area and you'll stand a very good chance of getting a pro team. The cities which have pro teams now aren't ready to let them go as evidenced by the big stadia now being built around the country."

* * *

"I might be wrong when I say that we (the two leagues) can't get together on anything. The Bills played the Packers on the basketball court and the Browns played the Jets basketball team, so there might be hope," he jested.

KEMP EX-LION

Personable Jackie Kemp who started in pro football with the Lions prior to the 1957 season, has been the key to the Bills' success to two successive AFL championships.

The team Buffalo has whipped the last two years for the title has been the San Diego Chargers much to Kemp's pleasure.

"I recall when coach Sid Gillman traded me to Buffalo four years ago for just 100 bucks. What hurt was he even offered Mr. Wilson change," said Kemp.

When Kemp started with the Lions, coach Buddy Parker had Bobby Layne and Tobin Rote at quarterback, and he did admit that although he was very impressed with the kid from Occidental College he had no choice but to let him go.

* * *

During his short stay in training camp at Cranbrook, Kemp was the favorite of the veterans in their hazing rules. They made him sing the Occidental College song at every team gathering, at meals and even on the plane during exhibition season.

In fact, if Kemp had been around longer the Occidental College fight song might have become the team song of the Lions.

Kemp has long been out of pro football's hazing realm which belongs to rookies. He was chosen as the AFL's Most Valuable Player after the 1965 season and was also elected as the League's player representative.

* * *

Collier, who succeeded Lou Saban as head coach of the Bills, is former defensive coach and he takes the helm with sparkling credentials. In 18 straight games not an AFL team had scored a touchdown on the ground against Buffalo.

The Bills and the rest of the AFL know that the Midwest, which is Big Ten territory and strength of collegiate football, has been their weak spot.

This is where they may have to fight their big battle to win the war and gain the peace with the NFL.

Palmer Is 'at Home' With Title

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Arnold Palmer flew home for a rest in his Pennsylvania home today, the four-stroke winner in the Tournament of Champions golf playoff.

Runner-up Gay Brewer headed for the $85,000 Dallas Open, which starts Thursday.

* * *

Palmer won his second straight Tournament of Champions title in a playoff Monday and $20,000 when he shot a 34-35—69. Brewer picked up $12,000 second place money with his 36-37—73.

Bucking 35-mile-an-hour winds and a sandstorm, Palmer took a two-stroke lead after the first nine holes of the playoff — the first playoff in the tourney's 14-year history. He went into the 18th hole with a five-stroke margin.

PLAYED GOLF

Palmer admittedly played it safe on the last hole and went over par with a bogey 5. But it was still safe enough to give him a four-stroke margin at the wind-up.

The 18 hole playoff attracted 2,847 fans and a gross gate of $19,929. Palmer and Brewer each received $4,982 for the playoff.

* * *

Palmer and Brewer traded birdies for the first four holes, but Palmer took a lead of two strokes after nine holes. Brewer fell behind in what probably was the decisive turn of events when he bogeyed the eighth and ninth holes.

* * *

Brewer fell further behind on the 10th with his bogey 6. Palmer virtually cinched the match with his birdie 2 on the 11th when he put a four-iron shot two feet from the pin to go four ahead.

Victory Would Send Detroit Into Finals Against Montreal

DETROIT (AP) — Chicago Coach Billy Reay said after Sunday's 5-3 loss to the Detroit Red Wings that the difference in the Stanley Cup semifinal series so far was that "their big guns are outplaying our big guns."

But a look at the scoring statistics shows the Red Wings' "little guns" haven't been exactly silent.

* * *

The Red Wings, who hold a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven semifinal series, play host to the Black Hawks in the sixth game tonight.

A victory would move the Red Wings into the finals which start in Montreal Sunday. A loss would send the Black Hawks and Red Wings to Chicago for the deciding game Thursday.

SCORED TWICE

Norm Ullman, blanked by Chicago goaltenders during the regular season, found the range Sunday and scored twice. He has six assists and his eight points puts him in the point scoring lead.

Paul Henderson, who scored one goal against Chicago during the regular season, already has tallied twice, Dean Prentice and Bryan Watson have each added a pair of markers after being blanked in regulation play.

* * *

Floyd Smith, with two goals as compared to one in the 14 regular season games, and Andy Bathgate, with four goals — one more than he counted against them in the season, are others ahead of their individual scoring pace.

Curiously, Alex Delvecchio and Bruce MacGregor, who topped the Red Wings in scoring against the Black Hawks with six goals, have yet to score a goal in the playoffs.

FOUR POINTS

Chicago's leading scorer so far is defenseman Pat Stapleton, who has four points on a goal and three assists.

Bobby Hull, who set National Hockey League records with 54 goals and 97 points, is the only Chicago player to score two goals. The Red Wings hold a 19-8 goal-scoring edge in the series.

But Reay refuses to let Hull shoulder the blame for his team's showing.

* * *

"There are two or three other players who aren't contributing much to the cause," said Reay.

Reay didn't name the players but it's obvious he was thinking about Phil Esposito, Eric Nesterenko and Stan Mikita.

Esposito scored nine goals against Detroit in the regular season but has been held to a lone assist so far. Nesterenko had six goals but has only one in the playoffs, while Mikita has a goal and two assists, compared to five goals and 10 assists during the season.

* * *

Detroit Manager-Coach Sid Abel told his players that the series was far from over, saying: "We've still gotta win one more."

Want No Series of Losses

Tigers Fear Losing Streak

DETROIT (AP)—Consistency and the ability to stay out of long losing streaks has marked Charlie Dressen's tenure as manager of the Detroit Tigers.

The best the Tigers could do in the seven years before Dressen took over was to put together two seven-game winning streaks in 1956 and an eight-game streak in 1961.

* * *

Under Dressen, the Tigers won eight in a row in 1963, put together seven at a time in 1964 and upped the string to eight again last year.

Dressen's record for getting out of losing streaks is even better.

* * *

The Tigers twice lost 10 in succession and added nine and eight-game losing streaks in the same seven-year pre-Dressen period.

SECOND HALF

They had another 10-game streak in 1963 but Dressen caught only the second half of that one as he replaced Bob Scheffing.

The five the Tigers lost when he took over was the longest of the season under Dressen.

* * *

Six losses in a row were recorded in 1964 and the team's worst streak in 1965 reached five.

The club record for games won consecutively is 14, set in 1909 and tied in 1934. The record for losses is 13, set in 1920 and matched in 1953.

OLDEST MANAGER

Dresden, at 67 the oldest manager in the majors and second only to Chicago's Leo Durocher in years at the helm, moved above the .500 mark as a skipper last year.

His record going into the 1966 campaign was 1,025 victories and 1,003 defeats.

* * *

"You can't take much credit as a manager in a winning streak," Dressen said Monday. "When your pitching is good and the hitting is there, you win.

"Losing streaks are something else, though. If the batters aren't hitting, there's little you can do but hope. One thing I have done is to have the team run a little more and use the hit-and-run. The hit-and-run is a good device to use to snap hitting slumps," too," he added.

* * *

Denny McLain and Bill Monbouquette were Dressen's choices to pitch today's Patriot's Day doubleheader in Boston. Dave Wickersham will get another start in Wednesday's final game of the series.

Field Ready for Marathon

Foreign Contingents in Boston Meet

BOSTON (AP) — A record field of some 500 distance runners, headed by strong Japanese and Korean contingents, jammed the starting line in Hopkinton today for the 70th Boston A.A. Marathon.

Variable clouds with the temperatures reaching into the 50s and an easterly wind 10-15 m.p.h. were forecast for the noon (EST) start of the 26-mile, 385-yrd Patriot's Day classic.

* * *

Tooru Terasawa, 31-year-old manager-runner of the four-man Japanese team, was favored to return the winner's laurel wreath to his country for a second straight year.

Terasawa, a veteran of 22 marathons, is rated Japan's top distance runner, having won his nation's qualifying test in 2:14:35 on Feb. 13. He passed up the Boston Marathon last year when a five-member Japanese team finished 1-2-3-5-6.

The meet record of 2:16:33 set by Morio Shigematsu in 1965 also is threatened by Terasawa's running mates, Hirokazu Okabe, 24, Kenji Kimihara, 25, and Seiichiro Sasaki, 20. The quartet is so strong that Shigematsu could finish no better than ninth in Japan's qualifying run.

Albany Keglers Take 2nd Place in ABC Tourney

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Town N Country Lanes of Albany, N.Y., moved into second place in the professional classic team division of the American Bowling Congress tournament Monday night with a six game 5038 total.

* * *

Town N Country was only the seventh of 44 professional teams to complete. The big names of the sport are scheduled to bowl in early May. Leading the division presently is the Jenny 5 of Rochester with a 5693 score.

* * *

Ed Martenis led the Albany team with a 621 total as Town N Country rolled 2910 Monday, best three games series so far in classic play.

Earlier in the day, 59-year-old Les Kilbourne of Chicago rolled 696 in regular singles for eighth place. Ernie Koch of Chicago leads with 728. No other changes were recorded in the standings.

Russell Chosen Coach Amidst NBA Playoffs

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics return to business at hand and try to square their National Basketball Association series with the Los Angeles Lakers tonight after naming capt. Bill Russell their 1966-67 coach.

Less than 24 hours after dropping the series opener 133-129 in overtime, the Celtics surprised the sports world Monday by choosing Russell to succeed Red Auerbach, who is retiring from the coaching ranks after the playoffs to concentrate on duties as general manager.

* * *

"I'm pleased, proud and happy," Russell said after becoming the first Negro to coach a major league pro club. "Once again the Celtics are making National Basketball Association history — not only on the court but on the bench."

The 32-year-old Russell, who has two years left on a contract paying him $100,001 annually, announced he would serve as a player-coach. He admitted that he was getting old, but said, "As a player, I believe I'm one of my assets as a coach."

SURPRISE CHOICE

The choice of Russell caught most observers by surprise because for years he had insisted that any pro coach had to be "a candidate for a nut factory." In addition, the Celtics reportedly were considering several others, including Alex Hannum, Paul Seymour and Frank Ramsey.

"I consider this one of the biggest personal challenges I've had in the past 10 years," Russell said. "When Red first asked me, I thought he was putting me on. Then he assured me he sincerely wanted be to take the job.

Olympic Delegates Gathering

ROME (AP) — Delegates of the International Olympic Committee are arriving in Rome today for a crucial meeting to pick the sites for the 1972 Games — at a time when its selection of Mexico City for the 1968 Games still is under heavy fire.

The IOC selected Mexico City — a metropolis 7,500 feet above sea level — at a meeting in Baden Baden, Germany, in 1964.

Soon afterward, athletes and officials in many parts of the world criticized the choice, claiming that performances, and maybe the health of athletes, would be affected.

The latest attack on the choice of Mexico came from Britain.

Twenty British athletes and officials sent a letter to the London Times calling attention to "the deplorable effect that the altitude of Mexico City will have on some of the events to be held there."

The letter added: "The only solution, short of removing the games from Mexico City altogether, which is apparently now impossible, is to hold the endurance events of athletics at a separate low-level altitude."

* * *

Having sorted out the choice of Mexico City for the 1968 Games, the IOC then must get down to the business of picking the sites for 1972.

Detroit, Montreal, Munich and Madrid are bidding for the Summer Games. Salt Lake City, Utah; Banff, Canada; Sapporo, Japan, and Lahti, Finland, are trying for the Winter Games.

Betting today in Rome favored Banff for the Winter Games and Munich for the Summer Games.

An official said: "The IOC may think it's time for the Summer Games to come back to Europe—but there could be one problem. And that's the one involving Eas Germany and West Germany.

"If Munich lost out then I would think Detroit would be well in the running. Remember, Detroit has tried many times. And the last time the Summer Games went to the States was in 1932 at Los Angeles."

Milford Stays in W-O Lead

Milford stayed atop the Wayne Oakland League baseball race with a 3-0 decision over visiting West Bloomfield yesterday.

Wet grounds cut the Tri-County and W-O schedules in half. Lapeer tripped Oxford, 6-2, in the Tri-County opener for both, but Kettering and Romeo were postponed until today.

The Northville - Bloomfield Hills, and Clarkston-Clarenceville contests were not played in the Wayne-Oakland, while Brighton trimmed Holly, 7-3.

In non - league tilts, Walled Lake slipped by North Farmington, 5-1; Royal Oak Kimball nipped Farmington, 3-2; Hazel Park edged Royal Oak Dondero, 7-6; and Imlay City ripped Almont, 9-1.

Bill Spietz hurled a one hitter and fanned 13 for Milford, allowing only a two-out single in the final inning by losing hurler Les Randall. The two moundsmen were tied 0-0 until the bottom of the fifth.

The host Redskins then scored twice on Dave Lincoln's single, Spietz's double, a run-producing single by Bob McFarland and an error. Herb Mick drove in the final run with a single in the sixth.

Milford thus remains the only unbeaten W-O team (3-0).

Brighton squared its mark at 2-2 with four runs in the first two innings and Bruce Evenson's one - hit hurling. Mike Carnes' rbi-single in the first was Holly's only safety.

Oxford spotted Lapeer five runs in the first three innings and couldn't catch up. Jim Mathieson and Roger Miller, who shared the mound duties for the Wildcats, also had the losers' two runs batted in.

TWO-HITS

Stan Tuckwell's two-hit pitching paced Walled Lake's win. He also led off the winning rally with a single. Terry Lehman and Ken Armstrong each had run-producing base hits in the outburst.

Imlay City's Topie had a triple and two singles to account for four runs in the Spartans' rout of Almont (10-1).

Kimball and Hazel Park both pulled out wins with two-run rallies in the bottom of the seventh.

Junior third baseman Kurt Ritter plated the winning run for Kimball with a single after a passed ball had tied the score with two out. Gary Knox struck out eight in notching the mound win.

Dondero had taken a 6-5 lead over Hazel Park on Al Shepler's seventh inning triple; but a walk and an error opened the gates for two comeback markers by the Vikings (2-1).

College Half-Miler Boasts Statistics

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP) — The half-miler on the Lynchburg College track team this spring is something special.

A girl.

The girl is Kathy Switzer, 19, Sports Editor of the school newspaper, the Critograph. She has the unusual, for a half-miler, statistics of 37-25-37. Pretty, too.

Kathy, a sophomore from Vienna, Va., says "I like to do crazy things."

Thursday afternoon, Kathy becomes the first coed ever to run for the Lynchburg College track team, competing in the 880-yard run against Frederick College.

Saturday she plans to run again, against St. Andrew's College.

Then she'll get prettied up and, that evening, try to outdistance some opposition in the "Miss Lynchburg" beauty contest.

16 MEN

Kathy made the Hornet track team partly because she can run and partly because of a desperate shortage of runners available to Coach Aubrey Moon. Only 16 male students turned out for track.

"I doubt if she'll win, but I have hopes she'll place or show," says Moon. "She's not exactly a slowpoke."

Skippers Gain Golf Victory Over Captains

Clarkston Nets Easy Track Win; Dryden Ends Drought

Waterford Township won a must match, Walled Lake took the early lead in the Inter-Lakes League and Lake Orion made a successful debut in prep golf results Monday.

Waterford's Skippers (1-1) took a 195-202 decision over archrival Kettering (3-1) at Pontiac Country Club. The victory earned them 50 points in the All-Sports Trophy race.

* * *

A win would have clinched at least a share of the coveted prize for the Captains who now lead, 350-100. The Captains' Dave Moilanen took medalist honors with a 35. Red Skelton of WTHS had a 36.

Walled Lake opened its I-L schedule by winning three matches in a four-team meet at Pontiac Municipal. Pontiac Northern's 219 total was 16 below the winning Vikings but good for a 2-1 mark.

Farmington was 1-2 with 223 strokes and Livonia Stevenson was blanked with its 236 total. Russ Herron and John Huebler of Walled Lake had 36 and 39, respectively, on the par 35 back nine. Jack Brown paced PNH with a 40.

Lake Orion played the first golf match in the school's history yesterday and drubbed Oakland A League rival Madison, 214-259, at the Bald Mountain course.

John Karvala (38), Tim Daigle and Gene Harry (both 42s), Bill Shultz and Carl Speas (both 46s) all outscored Madison's best individual total.

WOLVES ROMP

Clarkston swept three events and took first place in 10 events, plus tying in another, to whip Lake Orion, 80-29, yesterday.

In a night meet, Dryden won a Southern Thumb League meet for the first time in the 1960's by nipping Brown City and Capac under the lights at the latter's field.

Dryden had 48½ points, Capac 44 and Brown City 43½.

Clarkston had one double winner, Mike Madison who won both of the hurdles. The Wolves finished one-two-three in the low hurdles, the 100 and 220-yard dashes. They are 1-0 and Lake Orion is 0-2 over-all.

The Dragons will be host to the first night track meet at the school's new athletic layout Wednesday when Clawson will visit at 7 p.m.

Dryden's Doug Maxfield set a school record with a 5-6 winning high jump; and the Cardinals' Denny Thomas won the 100 and 220 dashes.

Dryden also won the shot put as Ken Blair tossed it 41-7½ and the 880 relay in 1:48.5.

Pirate Reliefer Tough

Strong Arm on 'Old Face'

By The Associated Press

As a youth Roy Face had a weak heart — but it got strong.

As an aging baseball player, he has a strong arm—but its not getting weak.

The 38-year-old Face made his fourth apperance of the season Monday night and saved Pittsburgh's 4-3 victory over Cincinnati. It was the Pirates' fifth triumph in the first six games of the week-old season.

* * *

Face's performance was similar to his first three and added strong evidence that he will be one of the most effective relief pitchers in the majors this season, his 13th with the Pirates.

A poor 1964 season and a knee ailment last year gave indications that Face might be finished. But he is a veteran at coming back with a record dating to his youth.

STREP THROAT

"In high school I developed a strep throat," Face recalled, "and they gave me too much sulfa drugs. It weakened my heart.

* * *

"The doctor said absolutely no exercise. A few months later, though, I was playing football and not long after that I was accepted for Army service.

* * *

"I also had rickets when I was five. The disease left my bones soft and bent, and I ran a high fever. They said I looked more dead than alive. I wasn't expected to live through the night, but I made it."

Now Face is a nightmare for National League batters.

* * *

In his first game on opening day last Tuesday, the right-hander came on in the ninth inning with the contest tied 1-1, two out and three Atlanta Braves on base. He retired Frank Bolling on a fly ball, left for a pinch hitter and the Pirates eventually won in 13 innings.

Last Saturday he relieved in the ninth inning, with the Pirates leading St. Louis 5-3, one on, one out and a count of two balls, no strikes on Julian Javier. He promptly induced Javier to hit into a game-ending double play.

The next day he ended a rally after the Cardinals had scored five runs and still had two on with only one out. The Pirates eventually won that one, too.

ANOTHER SAVE

Finally, against the Reds Monday night, he appeared in the ninth inning to hold a one-run lead. Cincinnati had runners at first and third with two out. Face again wasted little time. He struck out Art Shamsky, and the Pirates had another victory.

His latest appearance was a major league record 459th straight without a start — a start being something he hasn't had since 1957.

* * *

A three-run rally in the sixth inning gave the Pirates the victory over the Reds, the last two runs scoring on Jose Pagan's pinch double.

In the only other game, Los Angeles defeated Houston 6-3 as Don Sutton scattered eight hits in eight innings and won his first major league game. Lou Johnson rapped two singles and a double, driving in two runs and scoring one.

Rain washed out Atlanta at Philadelphia.

Bomb Deal Markup Is Explained

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department explained yesterday why it paid $21 each for bombs originally sold to a German firm for $1.70 each.

A spokesman said the higher price took into account expenses the buyer incurred transporting the explosives, building facilities to remove the bombs' nitrates for fertilizer and obtaining real estate leases and licenses needed to store the material.

"These costs were incurred by the contractor on speculation that he could find a market for the explosive for peaceful uses," the spokesman said. "In view of these acts, it was determined that the items were recovered at a minimum cost."

The Pentagon originally sold the German firm 7,562 of the 750-pound bombs as surplus in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Last fall, as B52 planes were dropping increasing tonnages of bombs in Viet Nam, the United States decided to buy back 5,570.

GOOD DEAL

The $21 repurchase price was negotiated with the Kaus & Steinhausen Co., of Hamburg.

Officials said they considered this a good deal since new 750-pound bombs cost about $440. The bombs repurchased originally cost $330.

The United States is in the process of acquiring new supplies of this size bomb from U.S. manufacturers now gearing for production.

★ ★ ★

Secretary Robert S. McNamara mentioned the repurchase at a news conference Thursday, but said it indicated no shortage of bombs for the Viet Nam effort.

★ ★ ★

The defense chief said this country has an inventory of 331,000 tons of bombs stored around the world.

Assiniboia was the name of a region which covered what now are adjoining portions of the Canadian provinces of Manitoba and Ontario and the states of Minnesota and North Dakota.

140 Extra Children

Camp Oakland Expands Facilities

Camp Oakland will provide summer camping for 140 additional children this summer, I. W. Robertson, chairman of the camp's service club committee, announced last night.

Robertson of 2936 Binbrooke, Troy, spoke to more than 200 representatives of Oakland County service clubs in the dining hall of the Oxford camp. The clubs annually provide about half the camp's operating expenses.

Two new cabins under construction each will house 16 children for two-week summer vacations.

This will result in an increase in the annual camper total from 500 to 640 underprivileged children.

At the same time, Robertson kicked off the summer camp's annual campaign to raise operating funds. He set a goal of $25,600 for 1966, or less than $25 per child per week.

Fifteen club representatives turned over checks totaling $3,300 after the dinner.

Children 6 through 12 participate in the summer program at the 320-acre camp.

Escapee Lands Back in Prison

Pontiac Man Jailed for Aiding Fugitive

A 22-year-old fugitive is back in jail today after his apprehension late Sunday night by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

William C. McCullough of 1987 Oakfield, Brandon Township, was turned over to Tuscola County authorities yesterday.

McCullough had escaped from the Tuscola County Jail at Caro earlier this month while awaiting sentence on a burglary charge.

He was captured by deputies at the Ortonville home of a relative where he fled following a traffic accident on M15 near Seymour Lake Road in Brandon Township.

★ ★ ★

Irvin J. Brown Jr., 32, of 28 Roselawn, Pontiac, driver of the car in which McCullough was riding, was arrested at the scene of the accident and charged with aiding and abetting a fugitive.

JAIL SENTENCE

Brown entered a plea of guilty yesterday before Brandon Township Justice Lawrence Follis and as sentenced to 60 days in jail.

The driver of the other car in the accident, Mrs. Mary E. Moore, 28, of Dryden was uninjured, as were three of her children riding in the automobile.

Jackie Calls Engagement Rumors False

SEVILLE, Spain (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy today flatly denied reports of a planned engagement to Spanish diplomat Antonio Garrigues.

"I want to make it crystal-clear and completely understood that there is no basis in fact in rumors of an engagement," U.S. Ambassador Angier Biddle Duke, speaking for Mrs. Kennedy, said today.

"Mrs. Kennedy deserves one's respect and understanding and should not be subjected to false rumors of any kind," Biddle Duke told newsmen.

The ambassador said he made his statement "on behalf of Mrs. Kennedy."

★ ★ ★

Garrigues, the Spanish ambassador to the Holy See and a friend of Mrs. Kennedy's late husband, President John F. Kennedy, flew here today to join a party of 60 guests — including the former first lady — at the home of the Duchess of Alba

LAST VISIT

European press reports of a "romance" betweend Garrigues and Mrs. Kennedy began during her last visit to Rome when he was her escort.

Newspapers revived the "romance" when it was learned that the ambassador and Mrs Kennedy would be at the "Feria" of Sevilla together.

"These stories are ridiculous and Mrs. Kennedy is very upset over them," a friend said. He explained that Garrigues is nothing more than an old friend of the Kennedy family.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kennedy went to the bullfight Monday afternoon, but declined an invitation to a dinner party and spent the evening at home.

Pair on Trial in Thrill Killings

CHESTER, England (UPI) — A 27-year-old stock clerk and his plump, bleached blonde girlfriend went on trial today for the thrill murders of three youngsters.

The case has caused such anger and outrage that police built a special bulletproof dock for defendants Ian Brady and Myra Hindley, a 23-year-old former stenographer.

"We have been warned that there might be trouble," a police spokesman said.

The sex and sadism case was deemed so important that for the first time in nine years the crown's chief law officer—Atty. Gen. Sir Elwyn Jones — will prosecute.

★ ★ ★

Police said both Brady and Miss Hindley were students of the pleasures of cruelty and a trunk full of books on the subject, including some by the Marquis de Sade, the 18th century Frenchman who gave his name to the word sadism, were found in their lodgings.

Local Man Injured in 2-Car Collision

A 25-year-old Pontaic man is reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after being injured in a two-car collision yesterday.

Lawrence J. Mariatt of 470 Oakland was hospitalized after his car collided with one driven by Roger M. Jewett, 45, of Royal Oak.

Pontiac police said the accident took place just before 7 a.m. at the intersection of Summit and Oakland.

Selecting Jury in Torture Case

Mother, Children on Trial in Teen's Death

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Attorneys for a mother and five children charge with torturing a teen-aged girl to death today questioned a jury already approved by the prosecution.

★ ★ ★

The eight men and four women tentatively approved as jurors by the prosecution said they would be willing to sentence children to Indiana's electric chair if proven guilty of first-degree murder.

Mrs. Gertrude Baniszewski and five children ranging in age from 13 to 17 are on trial in the death of Sylvia Likens, 16, Oct. 26, 1965.

Sylvia, a boarder in the Baniszewski home, was kicked, slapped, scalded and branded with a hot needle before she died, Marion County deputy coroner Dr. Arthur P. Kebel said, adding the girl appeared to have been starved.

★ ★ ★

"Do you have conscientious scruples such as to prevent you from assessing the death penalty?" The prospective jurors were asked yesterday by Chief Deputy Leroy K. New of the Marion County prosecutor's office.

SINGLE 'YES'

He received only one "Yes" answer.

That woman was replaced by a 13th waiting member of the venire of 50 prospective jurors.

The six defendants have five defense attorneys who, as a group, possess 20 preemptory challenges.

★ ★ ★

This means they can dismiss a prospective juror without explanation. In addition, they can challenge prospective jurors for numerous causes.

The jury selection process was expected to last through today.

Bandit Robs Attendant at Gas Station

An attendant at a Pontiac Township service station was robbed of $123 early today by a gunman who bound him with clothes line before fleeing.

Charles Ferguson, an employe at Jerry's Citgo Service, 3450 Walton, told Oakland County sheriff's deputies a man masked by a nylon stocking with a hat pulled over his face came into the station about 4:30 a.m.

Ferguson said the man pulled out a 22-caliber automatic pistol and said, "This is a holdup, I want all your money."

The attendant said he gave the bandit the cash from the register before being forced into the men's room and tied up by the gunman.

★ ★ ★

Ferguson struggled free of his bonds just as another employe arrived at the station at 5 a.m.

Dutch Couple Arrives in NY From Mexico

NEW YORK (UPI) — Crown Princess Beatrix of The Netherlands and her German-born husband Claus Van Amsberg arrived here last night from a Mexican honeymoon.

They hurriedly left Kennedy Airport for an undisclosed destination in the New York area.

★ ★ ★

Newsmen were asked by the princess, as "a personal favor," not to attempt any interview at the airport. She would not reveal how long she and her husband planned to stay in New York.

The couple made futile attempts to evade photographers. At one point, Beatrix snapped, "Why don't you leave us alone, for once?"

Williams, who later headed the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), gave up his teaching post at the University of Minnesota in 1943 to join the Manhattan project. The super-secret research group deveoped the first atomic bomb at its Los Alamos, N.M., headquarters.

12 in Wedding Party Die in India Mishap

BOMBAY, India (UPI) — A truck carrying a wedding party to the ceremonies caught fire and crashed, killing 12 persons and injuring 22 others near Nasik, 200 miles northeast of here, it was reported today. The dead included the bridegroom's parents.

The accident occurred last night when an oil lamp inside the truck overturned setting the vehicle on fire. Rescuers pulled 20 women from the blazing wreckage.

Waterford Man Asks Exam in Wife Shooting

A 40-year-old Waterford Township man, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, demanded examination yesterday at his arraignment before Township Justice Patrick K. Daly.

★ ★ ★

Examination for Harold W. Goodman of 672 S. Winding was set for 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

He is in Oakland County Jail in lieu of $2,500 bond.

Five million bicycles were sold in this country in 1964, more than double the number sold a decade earlier. Industry gives some of the credit to the growing popularity of two-wheelers among adults, who are currently responsible for about 25 per cent of total sales.

Lake Michigan Hunt Ends; Two Men Found

GRAND HAVEN (AP)— Two Milwaukee men reported missing since Sunday on Lake Michigan in a 16-foot outboard motorboat were found today near Two Creeks, Wis., the U.S. Coast Guard reported.

Why can you buy a BEAUTY Crest home at Huntoon Shores Subdivision for several hundred dollars less than you would pay for a comparable home built by another builder? Because hundreds of hours of careful research by Beauty Crest's competent planning experts have discovered that today's home buyer will not sacrifice quality for price; he demands full measure for his dollar spent. Beauty Crest has cut building costs through volume purchases of raw material—and passed the savings on to the buyer. Your choice of a spacious Tri-Level — Ranch — Colonial — 3 or 4 bedrooms at only $16,150 (plus lot). Models on Airport Road between M-59 and Williams Lake Road.

Mme. Chiang in Detroit Talk

Predicts Liberation of China Without GI Aid

DETROIT (UPI) — Madame Chiang Kai-Shek predicted yesterday that Red China will be liberated by Nationalist China some day "without the use of a single American doughboy."

Madame Chiang, at a news conference preceding an address to the Economic Club of Detroit, also said she "cannot conceive of any situation in which the Red regime on the Chinese mainland would be admitted to the United Nations."

She said that on her current visit to Washington she has had assurances from U.S. State Department officials that this country will continue to oppose admission of Red China to the U.N.

Of the recent anti-Vietnamese war demonstrations held in the United States, she said, "To those of us who understand democracy, these demonstrations are simply a part of living.

★ ★ ★

"Unfortunately, to the Communist world, the demonstrations look as if there were discord and dissension in the United States and that is unfortunate."

'NEVER ASKED'

Madame Chiang, asked why no Nationalist Chinese soldiers were fighting in Viet Nam, said, "We never have been asked to send any. If we are invited to send troops to Viet Nam we would give the matter consideration."

★ ★ ★

Asked if she agreed with those who thought the United States should step up its bombing of North Viet Nam port areas, she replied that "the Communists do not understand anything but superior force and the answer depends on whether you want the war to drag on and to lose more lives of your soldiers."

Hunter's Outlook Is Gay Despite Gloom of Family

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Tab Hunter's brother Walt was killed in Viet Nam . . . his family life's confused and he hasn't been able to see his father in several years . . . but you can't make a cynic out of him.

WILSON

"I've had many great breaks in life," Tab said the other day at the Americana La Ronde Room before flying to Spain to film "The Christmas Kid."

"My brother Walter was 35 . . . I'm 34," Tab said. "When it happened to Walt, I thought, Why not me instead of him? This was a guy with a wife and 7 kids.

"Walt expected it though," Tab said. "He never thought he'd be back.

"When I went to the San Francisco Memorial Cemetery for the burial, there was one limousine after another there for other families of other victims.

"Walt taught me to ride," remembered Tab, who's now a thorough horseman with a ranch deal in Oregon, associated with Pitchers Don Drysdale and Bob Miller of the Dodgers.

"I was scared but he made me stay with it. He was a great sportsman.

"I was born in Bellevue Hospital," Tab said. "I guess my father's in New York. Some years ago I went to a pretty tacky address and a gal opened a door. I asked for him. He wasn't there. I said, 'Tell him his son came to say hello.' I never heard any more.

"But I'm not dejected or cynical," Tab said. "I'm sorry if I sound a little downbeat. I think life has been real good to me."

SPECIAL LIMITED ENROLLMENT! EXPIRES MIDNIGHT, MAY 22, 1966

A board of doctors creates a new kind of health plan for people over 40 only!

Gives you extra cash over and above your present hospital insurance for the "danger years" ahead and—for the first time—actually pays money to help keep you well!

If you are over 40, you can qualify for the new 40-PLUS BENEFIT PLAN, if you mail your Enrollment no later than Midnight, May 22, 1966—and you can enroll for only $1.00!

This, surely, is among the greatest values, as well as the most unusual health insurance program, ever offered to men and women over 40! Think of it. Simply by the stroke of your pen, you can now get the valuable "extra cash" protection you've wanted at the very time when you are most apt to need it . . . all at a cost substantially less than you might expect!

How the 40-PLUS BENEFIT PLAN Differs from Ordinary Health Insurance

The 40-PLUS Benefit Plan has been created by an insurance company run by doctors, the Physicians Mutual Insurance Company, which has specialized in health and accident protection for physicians, surgeons and dentists exclusively for more than 63 years. Now this fine old "doctors company" offers a wonderful new "extra cash" plan to men and women over 40! And you may enroll during this Limited Enrollment Period—without having to see a company representative and without any red tape!

In short, if you are over 40, you can now qualify for 40-PLUS. No other qualifications are required—provided you enroll during this limited Enrollment Period.

How 40-PLUS Helps Your Doctor Keep You Well

As you know, and as your doctor will tell you, people who have regular physical examinations have a better chance to stay well and live longer. For example, doctors know that if cancer is discovered in its early stages there is a much better chance of curing it. To encourage you to see your doctor regularly, 40-PLUS will pay up to $10 to help pay the cost of an annual routine physical check-up. You see your own doctor any time within 60 days after you receive your notice—but only if you want to.

But, of course, even if you see your doctor regularly, you can still be struck by sudden accident or illness and land in the hospital tomorrow. This is especially true during the dangerous "over 40" years when cancer, heart attack and other serious diseases are most apt to strike. That's why 40-PLUS also pays extra cash benefits direct to you—in addition to any other insurance or Medicare—for you to use any way you wish.

$100 a Week Extra Cash Paid Direct to You

Here's how this valuable "extra cash" protection pays off in your time of need: $100 a week ($14.28 a day) will be paid directly to you from the very first day of hospital confinement, for as long as 52 weeks, each time you are hospitalized for a new sickness or accident! You get paid for every day—even if you are hospitalized for only one day—as much as $5200 for a full year! Even if you are hospitalized for a full year and have received your full $5200 in benefits, if you should be so unfortunate as to be hospitalized again—you are still entitled to all benefits all over again, as long as you have been out of the hospital for at least six months between hospital confinements.

Important: Here is a real "plus" for you if you have been told you are uninsurable. Even if you have suffered from chronic ailments in the past, the kinds of conditions that come back again and again or are likely to recur, 40-PLUS will cover you for these pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force for two years.

Naturally, 40-PLUS will cover you for any new accident or sickness. Accidents are covered immediately, as soon as your policy is in force. After your policy is 30 days old, you are covered for sicknesses which begin thereafter. There are only a few usual exceptions: war, military service, mental disorder or alcoholism, or if something happens "on the job" and is covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws. You are free to go to any hospital of your own choice that makes a charge for room and board, with these exceptions only: nursing homes, convalescent or self-care units of hospitals, Federal hospitals, or any hospital primarily for treatment of tuberculosis, alcoholism, drug addiction or mental disorder.

40-PLUS and the "Danger Years"

Of course, like most people over 40, you probably have some hospital insurance. But, as everyone knows, the most complete hospital insurance—even Medicare—simply doesn't cover everything. The fact is, you need more protection.

But now that you're over 40, now that you've entered the "danger years," it may be difficult to obtain the extra protection you need at a price you can afford—or, because of the condition of your health, you may not be able to obtain it at any price!

That's why the new 40-PLUS Benefit Plan is so important to you—it brings you the hard-to-obtain "over 40" protection you need, at remarkably low rates. For only pennies a day, 40-PLUS will give you extra cash to help fill the "financial gap" probably not covered by your present insurance or Medicare.

And remember this—even if your basic hospital expenses are covered—you'll still need help with all your regular household expenses!

Think for a moment—if you're a husband, father and breadwinner, and you're suddenly hospitalized, what happens? Your income stops. Your expenses go up. Even if you have some kind of "salary insurance," it probably won't come close to replacing your full-time pay. It's quite likely that you and your family will never fully recover the tremendous financial loss!

If you're a wife, mother and homemaker, and are suddenly hospitalized, what happens? Who will look after your family, see that the children get hot meals, are properly clothed? Who will do the laundry, the marketing, the cleaning? Your husband may lose time from his job . . . friends and relatives may have to help out temporarily . . . you may even have to hire full-time domestic help! Everything will be upset. Debts may be incurred, savings may be lost—worse still, peace of mind may be shattered, and even recovery can be seriously delayed!

If you're over 65, and are suddenly hospitalized, what happens? Medicare won't pay all of your hospital expenses or any of your household expenses. Most senior citizens won't want to dip into savings it may have taken a lifetime to accumulate . . . or become a "burden" to their children or community. Surely you wouldn't want to become "dependent" after all the years it has taken you to secure your independence.

Now you can stop worrying—now that you can obtain the remarkable two-way protection of 40-PLUS.

Actually, important as all of these extra cash benefits are, they are far from the only advantages you can enjoy . . . if you act before the enrollment deadline. For example:

Benefits Tax-Free—Can't Be Reduced

■ For as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums, we will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—and we guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal on all policies of this type in your entire state. Furthermore, your benefits will never be reduced—and all your benefits are tax-free!

Carry Any Other Insurance You Want

■ Yes, the 40-PLUS Benefit Plan pays you extra cash in addition to any other health insurance you carry, whether individual or group—even Medicare!

Surprisingly Low Cost

■ With these wonderful "keep well" and "get better" benefits, you might expect 40-PLUS to cost much more than other health plans—but, in fact, it costs considerably less than you might expect! Only $3.95 a month from age 40 through age 64—only $6.95 a month when you are 65 or over—no additional premiums can ever be assessed—and, regardless of your age, your first month is only $1.00!

A Respected Company

■ As important as all the valuable benefits, the low cost and ease of enrollment is this vital fact: Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity and reputation of the Physicians Mutual Insurance Company, "the doctors company," specializing in health and accident protection for physicians, surgeons and dentists all across America, for more than 63 years. Doctors right in your own community know about us and may actually be insured by Physicians Mutual. (If this is the first you have heard of Physicians Mutual, it's probably because this is one of the very few offerings it has made to the general public.) Serving hundreds of thousands of policyholders throughout the United States direct by mail, Physicians Mutual has its headquarters in Omaha, Nebraska, and is licensed and incorporated in that state. Its Board of Directors is composed entirely of respected members of the medical, dental and insurance professions.

How Can They Offer So Much For So Little?

The question is a sensible one; and the answer makes good sense, too: By encouraging our members to see their doctors for routine check-ups each year . . . we hope to be able to keep more people out of the hospital. This means lower claims costs.

In addition, we have lower sales costs. 40-PLUS is a mass enrollment plan. All business is conducted directly between you and the company by mail. No salesmen or investigators are used.

It all adds up to real savings we share with you by giving you high quality protection at low cost.

Easy to Enroll—No Red Tape—No Salesmen Will Call!

Simply fill out the short Enrollment below and mail it with $1.00 for your first month's coverage! We will issue your 40-PLUS Benefit Policy (Form P302 series) immediately—the same day your Enrollment is received. This automatically puts your policy in force. Along with your policy, you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. When you need your benefits, you can be sure that your claim will be given "top priority" treatment. In addition, we'll see to it that you receive special forms yearly to take to your doctor for your physical examination.

When you receive your policy, you'll see that it is direct, honest, easy-to-understand. But—and please note this carefully—if for any reason you change your mind, you may return your policy in 10 days and we will promptly refund your dollar!

Don't Wait Until the Deadline to Enroll!

Remember, the sooner we receive your Enrollment, the sooner 40-PLUS will cover you! So it's best you fill out and return your Enrollment now, before the deadline date arrives. (Two Enrollments are provided below so that husbands and wives may both enroll. In that case, be sure to enclose $1.00 for each Enrollment.)

So, won't you take the necessary few minutes today —and return your Enrollment together with the dollar required to put it into effect? Your Enrollment must be postmarked before midnight of May 22, 1966, or it cannot be accepted. Better mail your Enrollment today.

17 Important Questions Answered

ABOUT THE NEW 40-PLUS BENEFIT PLAN

The New Plan That Pays You Extra Cash When You Are Hospitalized—Plus Extra Benefits To Help Keep You Well

1. What is the 40-PLUS BENEFIT PLAN?
It is a new health insurance plan for people over 40 only—that pays an extra cash income direct to you when you are hospitalized and, in addition, provides a physical examination benefit each year to help your doctor keep you well.

2. Why do I need 40-PLUS in addition to my regular health insurance or Medicare?
Probably your present hospital insurance—even Medicare—won't cover all your hospital expenses. But even if it did, you would still need help to pay all your regular household expenses while you are hospitalized.

3. Can I collect in addition to any other health insurance or Medicare?
Yes. 40-PLUS pays you in addition to any health insurance you carry, whether group or individual —even Medicare!

4. Is there a lot of red tape to qualify?
No. The only qualification is that you must be over 40—even senior citizens over 65 are welcome.

5. If I become hospitalized, when do my benefits begin?
$100 a week ($14.28 a day) will be paid directly to you from the very first day of hospital confinement.

6. How long will I be paid?
For as long as 52 weeks (as much as $5200.00) while you are hospitalized for each new sickness or accident. If the full 52 weeks has been used, and the same condition recurs, a new 52-week period will be provided if there has been an interval of 6 months between hospital confinements.

7. When does my policy go into force?
It becomes effective on the date your Enrollment is received. Accidents are covered on that date. After your policy has been in force for 30 days, you are covered for sicknesses which begin thereafter.

8. What if I have had a health problem that may occur again?
Pre-existing conditions are covered after your policy has been in force for two years.

9. What conditions aren't covered?
Only the usual exceptions: war, military service, mental disorder or alcoholism, or any condition covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

10. Does 40-PLUS pay in any hospital?
You will be covered in any hospital anywhere in the world that makes a charge for room and board, except nursing homes, convalescent or self-care units of hospitals, Federal hospitals, or any hospital primarily for treatment of tuberculosis, alcoholism, drug addiction or mental disorders.

11. Can I drop out any time? Can you drop me?
No matter how many claims you make or how much you collect, we will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—for as long as you live. We guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal on all policies of this type in your entire state. Yes, of course, can drop your policy on any renewal date.

12. Will my claims be handled promptly?
Yes. With your policy, you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. Your claims will be processed quickly and your checks will be sent directly to you.

13. How do I get my "physical" each year?
40-PLUS actually pays your own doctor up to $10 annually toward your routine physical examination (but only if you want it). You receive special forms yearly to take to your doctor, so that he can give you your checkup within 60 days.

14. Why are the premiums so low?
Because this is a mass enrollment plan—and no salesmen are used—our volume is higher and our sales costs are lower.

15. How much does my first month cost?
Only $1.00, regardless of age. After your first month, you pay only $3.95 a month until age 65; only $6.95 a month from age 65 and over.

16. Why is there a "deadline" date?
In order to offer the Plan to people over 40 without any qualifications and still maintain our low rate, we can only make the Plan available on this basis during a limited enrollment period. The deadline date is firm—we cannot accept your Enrollment unless postmarked on or before that date.

17. Why should I enroll right now?
Because an unexpected sickness or accident could strike without warning—and you will not be covered until your policy is in force. Remember, if for any reason you change your mind, you may return your policy within 10 days and your $1.00 will be refunded immediately.

'Sound of Music' Top Picture

Oscars Are Presented

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Britain's Julie Christie, rugged Lee Marvin and "The Sound of Music" won the top Oscars — with the President's daughter Lynda Bird Johnson a guest star in the audience.

The blonde Miss Christie was honored at last night's 38th annual Academy Awards as an English model who sleeps her way to success with a succession of high and low society figures in "Darling."

Hands to face, sobbing but gleeful, she gasped: "I don't know what to say except to thank everyone concerned — especially my darling, John Schlesinger (the director), for this wonderful picture."

Said Marvin, the roaring drunk gunfighter of "Cat Ballou," after prolonged, thunderous applause indicating a popular choice:

"Half of this (Oscar) belongs to a horse someplace out in the valley" — a reference to the dilapidated nag he rode in the Western film.

★ ★ ★

It was one of the hardest-to-predict Oscar races in years. Much sentiment favored Rod Steiger as "The Pawnbroker."

There were predictions that "Ship of Fools" or "Doctor Zhivago" would win as best picture. One of the closest contests was between two Julies, good friends.

Julie Andrews — who didn't win for "The Sound of Music" — did accept an Oscar for its director, Robert Wise, now at work on another picture in Hong Kong.

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to accept," said Miss Andrews, radiant in an orange gown. "I know he's heartbroken not being here this evening."

The brilliantly melodic "Sound of Music" — in which Miss Andrews was again nominated for her role as a governess as when she won in "Mary Poppins" a year ago — won the best picture award.

The award for best performance by an actor in a supporting role went to Martin Balsam in "A Thousand Clowns." He played a "square" business success, the older brother of happy-go-lucky Jason Robards.

Mansfield Urges Feelers on Asian Peace Confab

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield prodded the State Department to put out diplomatic feelers for an Asian peace conference on Viet Nam.

Acting entirely on his own, Mansfield offered what he called a new approach to possible negotiations.

He proposed in the Senate yesterday that Hanoi, Peking and "such elements in South Viet Nam as may be essential to the making and keeping of a peaceful settlement" be invited to meet in Burma or Japan.

Asked in a subsequent interview what hope there is for such a conference, in view of North Viet Nam's rejection of previous peace feelers, he replied:

"It's up to the diplomats to see if they can't arrange such a meeting. I would hope that our

Ford Recalling 30,000 Cars Due to Defect

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. disclosed yesterday its dealers are asking approximately 30,000 owners of 1966 model passenger cars to return them for inspection of a brake line.

Ford said approximately 25,000 Ford and 5,000 Mercuries are involved, and that dealers began recalling them April 8.

The company said in a formal statement after it was asked to verify reports of units being recalled:

"Company personnel discovered, while unloading some vehicles from rail carriers on which the cars had been spring-loaded, that a few of them had a damaged brake line due to severe bouncing.....

★ ★ ★

"No reports of the failure of the brakes in any unit have been received from customers."

CLIP INSTALLED

In units found damaged, Ford said dealers also are installing a clip to reroute the brake line.

It added that the affected units were built in late February and in March when the location of the clip was changed in production.

The company reported customers were being advised by telephone to return units for inspection and that many of the modifications already have been completed.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman explained springs normally are used to lock units in place on railway cars.

Brake line damage reportedly was caused by the exhaust pipe bouncing against it.

Senate OKs Pay Hike

$2.5 Million Asked for OU, OCC Buildings

Construction Fund Proposals Go to U. S. Office of Education

The State Higher Education Facilities Commission has recommended an allocation of $2.5 million in federal construction funds to Oakland University and the Oakland Community College Farmington Orchard Ridge and Highland Lakes campuses.

OU is to receive $1 million for its proposed $4-million engineering building; OCC $750,000 for its $6.9-million Orchard Ridge campus development and $750,000 for its $2.2-million Highland Lakes campus development.

The recommendations will now be forwarded to the U.S. Office of Education for final approval.

The local allocations are part of the commission's $20.3-million package recommendation for 28 Michigan colleges, universities and community colleges.

The $20.3 million available this year is nearly double the amount available to the state last year.

Federal grants totaling nearly $16 million were recommended for 12 projects at 11 public colleges and universities and 11 projects at 10 private four-year institutions. They have a total cost of $63 million.

The remaining $4.3 million was recommended for projects at seven community colleges, to cost an estimated total of $20.6 million.

Outstate projects, with estimated total cost and recommended federal funds include:

- Northern Michigan University, Marquette, learning resources center, estimated cost, $5.5 million, federal funds recommended, $1 million.

Pontiac City Commission Is Reelected in a Landslide

By L. GARY THORNE

Pontiac voters yesterday reelected all seven incumbent city commissioners to two-year terms by a large citywide margin.

More than one-third (11,015) of the city's 32,320 registered voters went to the polls in a turnout labeled "good" by election workers.

Wesley J. Wood, seeking reelection to his District 6 seat, emerged from yesterday's balloting as the top vote-getter, according to unofficial returns.

Wood, 59, of 11 N. Sanford, finished with a 3,421-vote margin over Mrs. Charles W. Neldrett, 54, of 62 Mariva. Mrs. Neldrett received 2,810 votes to Wood's 6,231.

★ ★ ★

Reelected by substantial margins were Wood, T. Warren Fowler Sr., Robert C. Irwin, William H. Taylor Jr., Leslie H. Hudson, John A. Dugan and James H. Marshall.

COURT VOTE

Voters also reelected Pontiac's two municipal court judges Maurice E. Finnegan (6,382) and Cecil B. McCallum (6,304), to new six-year terms. Both were unopposed.

Some novel vote patterns were demonstrated by the city's electorate in only the second election of district commission representatives on an at-large basis.

★ ★ ★

The tightest runoff race was in District 4 where incumbent Hudson, 43, of 315 Gallogly, topped challenger George Grba, 35, of 28 Kimball, by a total of 1,072 votes.

WON HIS DISTRICT

Grba, who won the most votes in District 4, garnered a total vote of 4,074 citywide while Hudson recorded 5,146 votes.

Grba had bested Hudson in the March primary.

Commenting on yesterday's results, Grba said, "I was quite surprised at the returns. There seemed (on the basis of the primary) to be a trend for a change."

Said Hudson, "I have to give the credit to the other districts (for reversing the primary results). It's been an uphill battle all the way."

SIMILAR CASE

A similar voter performance occurred in District 1 where incumbent Fowler finished second in that district race to challenger Charles M. Tucker Jr., 33, of 161 Earlemoor.

Tucker took nearly all six precincts in District 1 by comfortable margins. Fowler did come close in his own voting precinct, finishing only four votes behind.

In the citywide balloting, Fowler topped Tucker by 2,110 votes — 6,113 to 4,003.

★ ★ ★

SAME PATTERN

The pattern was nearly duplicated by Hudson of District 4 and Marshall of District 7.

Hudson carried only one precinct, his own, in District 4, but outdistanced the challenger in the citywide returns.

Meanwhile, Marshall topped former Mayor Robert A. Landry in only two District 7 precincts, but easily won election with his total citywide vote.

It was the first time Marshall

Measure Also Gives Governor $10,000 Raise

Approval Comes on Heels of Favorable Commission Report

LANSING (AP) — The Senate voted legislators a $5,000 pay raise early today, hours after a citizens' commission recommended the increase.

Michigan lawmakers' salaries —already the highest of any state—would go to $15,000. The present $2,500 expense allowance would be retained and fringe benefits would be broadened.

The Senate also threw in a $10,000 raise for the governor and increases for the attorney general, secretary of state and lieutenant governor.

The bills must go to the House, where a similar $5,000 raise for legislators was approved last year.

★ ★ ★

The commission recommended the raise was appointed by the Senate and Gov. Romney, but Romney has not said whether he will sign the bill.

IN SESSION

The Senate stayed in session until nearly 1 a.m. to vote on the pay raise.

Two Republicans joined 18 Democrats in giving the measure the minimum 20 votes it needed for approval.

Several senators absented themselves during the vote.

★ ★ ★

Nine Republicans and a Democrat opposed the hike, but enough of them joined on a vote for immediate effect to insure the bill would take effect Jan. 1 1967, following this year's general election.

NO DEBATE

There was no debate on merits of the general raises although Democrats skirmished briefly over whether party leaders should get extra pay of up to $5,000. That proposal was dropped after a hasty caucus.

The raise for elected state executives passed 25-6.

Besides the governor's jump from $30,000 to $40,000, it would boost the attorney general and secretary of state from $20,000

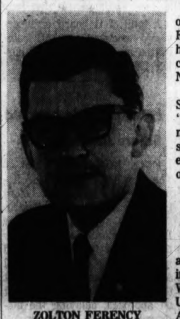
Seeks Dem Nod for Governor



ZOLTON FERENCY

EAST LANSING (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency announced today that he will seek to oppose Republican Gov. George Romney on the Nov. 8 ballot.

In an address at Michigan State University, Ferency said, "When I leave the campus of my alma mater today, I shall be seeking nomination and election to the office of governor on the Democratic ticket."

Ferency made his announcement at a meeting of the Democratic party's MSU Academic Resource Council.

The meeting was attended by a large number of party leaders, including ex-Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a candidate for the U. S. Senate, and Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

Ferency made his announcement in a room that is a reproduction of the Michigan Constitutional Convention Hall — where Romney's political life was begun.

Romney was a delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

Among the issues he will debate with Romney, Ferency said are education, air and water pollution and mental health facilities.

ANNUAL BIG NIGHT

Hollywood's annual big night went off with all the traditional hoopla — blinding klieg lights and stands full of shrieking fans outside the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

One of the loudest ovations was for Lynda Bird Johnson, 22, escorted by actor George Hamilton, 26. She was in a brown fur jacket over an orange dress; he, tanned and smiling, in white tie and tails.

Hamilton, with Patty Duke, presented the Oscar for the best achievement in sound to "The Sound of Music."

★ ★ ★

USUAL FORM

Quipmaster Bob Hope, presiding for the 12th time, was up to his usual form:

"George Hamilton is here with a beautifully feathered friend, Lynda Bird Johnson. If he plays his cards right, he may be the second Hamilton in the White House.

"We welcome Lynda Bird, and this is a nice switch — someone from Washington coming to Hollywood."

★ ★ ★

Hope himself received an honor — a gold medal, the first ever awarded by the academy, bearing a miniature replica of the Oscar.

'UNIQUE SERVICE'

It was for his "unique and distinguished service" to the industry and the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

Other top awards:

Best foreign language film: "The Shop on Main Street," made behind the Iron Curtain in Czechoslovakia.

Best song: "The Shadow of Your Smile," from "The Sandpiper."

Best screenplay based on material from another medium: "Doctor Zhivago," by Robert Bolt.

Best story and screenplay written directly for the screen? "Darling," by Frederick Raphael.

Commission Will Discuss Sewer Pact

A revised agreement for the Pontiac leg of the Galloway Creek storm sewer heads the agenda for tonight's meeting.

The trunk sewer on the northeast end of the city is to be constructed in connection with the master interceptor system by the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Previously City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling reported that the trunk sewer project would be constructed ahead of the county system.

The reason for making it a joint city-county project was to "materially" reduce the total cost, he added.

Generally, the sewer is to follow the creek bed from a point on the north city limits to just below Galloway Lake.

In other business tonight, the commission is to consider a request for a dance permit for Bud & Lou's Tavern, 417 Auburn.

Also tonight, several rezoning petitions are also scheduled for commission consideration.

Lone Gunman Robs Bank in Southfield

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — A lone gunman robbed the National Bank of Southfield of an estimated $1,600 in this Detroit suburb yesterday.

The FBI described the robber as a Negro wearing a light trenchcoat and black gloves and carrying a long-barreled pistol. Agents said he escaped in a yellow Mustang car.

New Exhibit Emphasizes the Modern 'Look' in Math

By PAT McCARTY

"Look here! Look here!" the visitor to the Mathematics Emporium is coaxed.

If the signs don't reach him, chances are the Op Art and dramatic photographs will in the new permanent exhibit at Cranbrook Institute of Science.

"This is what mathematics looks like," said Gordon Ashby, who designed the exhibit for International Business Machines Corp.

Ashby, a California designer with an architectural background, spoke of his display as one which will involve the youngsters and adults viewing it in creative thinking about mathematics.

Numbers are de-emphasized.

ILLUSTRATIONS

Instead, the visitor's attention is drawn to illustrations of a snowflake, a chambered nautilus, a daisy — or to objects as simple as a can of baking powder, a pretzel or a doughnut beside a coffee cup.

Each is an "analogy to a mathematical idea," Ashby said, noting that the display is aimed at the visually-oriented rather than print-oriented student.

The completely new exhibit covers such subjects as calculus, topology, projective geometry, probability theory, symmetry and computers.

Featured is a collection of small displays that make use of common objects to relate mathematics to the everyday world.

FEWER ANSWERS

There are fewer answers than questions in the display, geared to stimulate further investigation and experimentation by those viewing it.

"In approaching the Cranbrook exhibit, we wanted to create an exhibition that would make mathematics 'look-at-able' and bear repeated visits," Ashby said.

"We hope the Mathematics Emporium achieves this and that the viewer, like a shopper in a department store, will discover something new and different to attract his attention and excite his interest no matter how many times he sees the displays."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Robert T. Hatt, institute director, said he welcomed the fresh approach and content of the new display.

DISCOVERY OF MESSAGE

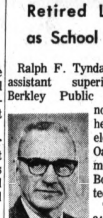
"Discovery of the message may require a little bending and stretching of tboth body and mind, but the reward should be an enlarged understanding a mathematics and its place in the world of today," Hatt said.

Starting today, the exhibit is open to the public from 1 to 5 p.m. daily and to groups on appointment from 9 a.m.

Enters OCC Trustee Race

Retired Last July as School Official

Ralph F. Tyndall, 64, former assistant superintendent of Berkley Public Schools, announced today he would seek election to the Oakland Community College Board of Trustees.



TYNDALL

Tyndall of 2436 Shenandoah, Royal Oak, retired from the Berkley system last July after 13 years service.

Prior to that, Tyndall held administrative posts with three other school systems and was employed by an educational publishing firm in New York.

Terming the establishment of OCC as an educational landmark in Oakland County, Tyndall believes that a branch of the college is needed in the southern area of the county.

He said he would like to play a part in the college's progress and help to see that it continues to present the best educational opportunities available to all youth of the county.

A University of Michigan summa cum laude graduate, Tyndall holds membership in several educational organizations including the National Education Association and the Michigan Association for Supervision of Curriculum Development.

County OKs Preliminary '67 Budget

A tentative 1967 Oakland County budget of $23.2 million was approved yesterday by the County Board of Supervisors.

★ ★ ★

The board also received a proposal from S. James Clarkson, supervisor from Southfield, calling for a boost in the per diem compensation for supervisors from $15 to $25. It was referred to the supervisors' ways and means committee.

The tentative 1967 budget is nearly $4 million higher than the preliminary budget approved by the board last year at this time.

A local tax rate of 6.43 mills would be required to meet expenditures specified in the 1967 budget. These include $7,964,811 in salaries, $10,902,101 in department expenditures and $4,340,940 in nondepartmental appropriations.

A year ago the tentative budget was based on a tax rate of 5.92 mills.

ALLOWED 5.30 MILLS

The county tax allocation board, however, allowed only 5.30 mills for the county when it apportioned the 15-mill limitation between the county, school districts and townships last May.

Now that the 1967 preliminary budget has cleared the board of supervisors, it will be referred to the allocation board.

Revisions of the tentative budget will begin when the county is advised next month of its tax rate by the allocation board.

The final 1967 budget will be approved by the board of supervistors next fall.

CLARKSON'S PROPOSAL

Clarkson's proposal, which also calls for an increase of from $25 to $35 per day for the chairman of the board of supervisors, must be approved by the ways and means committee before being voted upon by the full board.

A two-thirds vote of the board is required for a change in compensation.

Clarkson cited the rising cost of living and also the fact that committee meetings generally are longer than a few years ago in suggesting the boost in compensation.

★ ★ ★

Last year the 86-member board of supervisors collected approximately $43,000 for attending meetings. This includes per diem as well as mileage reimbursement at 10 cents a mile.

★ ★ ★

A total of 11 board of supervisors meetings and 283 committee meetings were held during 1965.

Area Caterer Said Missing Since April 8

SOUTHFIELD (UPI) — Southfield police disclosed yesterday Robert Rosenberg, 32, a well-known caterer, has been missing since April 8 when he telephoned his wife to tell her he was "being held."

Mrs. Rosenberg told police her husband called and said he was "being held and not to call the police."

He said he would phone the next day with further details. He never called.

Detroit police found Rosenberg's car April 10 with papers strewn about inside.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rosenberg said her husband was carrying about $300 at the time he disappeared.

She said she immediately called the family attorney and asked his advice.

He apparently told her to keep the incident quiet, but yesterday police decided to reveal the details.

won election on his own. He was appointed to the incumbent commission in 1964 to serve out the term of the late Emmett S. Wellbaum.

ALL PRECINCTS

Only two incumbents, Taylor and Irwin, carried all of their respective district precincts, although Wood ran second in only one District 6 precinct and Dugan finished behind in just two of his district's eight precincts.

Candidate comments on the unofficial vote returns dovetailed closely with the results. The winners were elated and the losers dejected.

"I'm pretty happy," said Dugan, who won without an official labor endorsement. "I feel I got the rank and file support."

★ ★ ★

Mayor Taylor labeled yesterday's voting "wonderful support of this team."

MAKES COMPLAINT

Grba, District 4 challenger, complained of some voter confusion on the at-large election procedure.

Landry, who tasted defeat for the second straight commission election, did not appear bitter. It was also the second election that he had carried District 7 and lost out citywide.

Landry urged 100 per cent support for the reelected commission so that the city can move forward. "My congratulations to the victors," he added.

★ ★ ★

Tucker, indicating a continuing interest in city politics, said District 1 voters yesterday had shown that they didn't want the present incumbent as their representative.

THANK HELPERS

"I wish to thank all those who supported me and I will continue to work for those goals which I believe in," he concluded.

The 34 per cent voter turnout yesterday was less than that for 1964's commission contests when a record-smashing 14,341 voted.

The largest number of voters was in District 5 with 2,119 out of 7,597 going to the polls. District 1 registered the largest percentage of voters with 44 per cent or 1,975 of 4,511 registered voters turning out to vote.

City Clerk Mrs. Olga Barkeley said the vote tally would be official when certified by the board of canvassers at a meeting tomorrow night.

TERMS EXPIRE

The present commission terms expire at noon Monday. An organizational meeting will be held Monday night and the regular commission meeting on Tuesday.

In an added novel twist to yesterday's voting, the only declared write-in candidate, Joseph Singleton, 30, of 365 S. Marshall, tallied the same number (224) of votes that he received in the March 7 primary.

Owner Asks Fast Action on Museum-Gift House

BIRMINGHAM — Unless prompt action is taken, the city may lose a gift house that is being eyed as an historical museum

The owner, Birmingham architect Carl Luckenbach, told City Commissioners last night that the structure must be moved soon or it would be necessary for him to have it demolished so he can proceed with a new building.

The house at 384 Willits is of Victorian architecture and over 100 years old.

Plans for the museum were outlined to the commission last week by J. B. McMechan, chairman of the Historical Board.

★ ★ ★

He said the museum could be the first in a grouping of old buildings in a setting similar to Greenfield Village.

PUBLIC FUNDS

Since public funds would be needed to relocate the structure, the commission directed City Manager Robert S. Kenning to prepare a report.

He told them at the time that it would probably be three weeks before he could return a recommendation.

"Several members of the Historical Board have known about the pending demolition for some time," said Luckenbach. "Their active interest has come too late."

★ ★ ★

Luckenbach said he would meet with McMechan today, and if arrangements can be made, the house could be moved to another site he owns and stored for 60 days while a permanent location is found.

MOVED TEMPORARILY

Commissioner Ruth McNamee agreed that the house should be moved temporarily and details worked out later.

The commission, in other business, approved the widening of Oakland from Woodward to Hunter, and Chester from Maple to Willits for the peripheral road around the central business district.

The administration was directed to prepare construction drawings and preliminary cost estimates on the two projects.

★ ★ ★

The cost of the improvements will be assessed in part to benefited property owners. The percentage they will pay has not been determined.

The widening of another leg of the ring road, Forest from Woodward to Hunter, was authorized by the commission last week.

Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, promised major appointive department heads would be given pay increases beginning July 1 provided the legislative increase is approved.

'SHOULD GET MORE'

Romney has said the department heads should get more money.

Leaders hoped to speed the legislative pay measure to Romney and force him to make his decision while the House and Senate still have control of the appropriations for the coming year.

The commission report, saying a raise "will improve the image" of the Legislature, went to Romney this morning.

★ ★ ★

Soon after, the Senate Ajrropriations Committee voted 5-1 to send the pay bills to the full Senate.

FRINGE BENEFITS

Fringe benefits tacked to this year's bill principally include the opportunity for lawmakers to participate in medical and life insurance programs to the same extent as civil service workers, who get about two-thirds financing from the state. Legislators now pay their own full costs.

★ ★ ★

The bill also transfers the setting of mileage allowances from statute to joint House-Senate rules. The present allowance is 10 cents per mile.

A winter follow-up program will be conducted after regular school hours on weekdays and on Saturdays.

Pupils who have completed the tenth grade are eligible. They must live in either the Pontiac, Hazel Park, Oak Park or Ferndale school districts.

RELATED PROGRAM

A federal grant of $39,330 for a related program to be conducted at Cranbrook was previously announced.

★ ★ ★

This program will draw 30 boys from the Farmington Township, Troy, Royal Oak, Berkley and Madison Heights school districts.

Program Cost Spiral Evident

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

WASHINGTON — Government programs always seem to cost many times more than the original estimate and the deadline for completion seldom is met.

An example is the cost of the 41,000 mile interstate highway system authorized in 1956 at a cost of $27 billion in federal funds with a completion target of 1968.

The cost was upped to $41 billion and now the latest estimate is $46.3 billion with completion perhaps not reached by 1970, the advanced deadline.

Excuses are many. The chief one is that the states, which were supposed to acquire and defray the cost of right-of-way were in many instances slow to carry out their end of the project.

* * *

The funds come from the issurance of taxes on gas, tires, a manufacturers tax on trucks, busses and trailers, and a weight tax on trucks and buses weighing more than 26,000 pounds.

IN TROUBLE

These collections were put in a highway trust fund, but the fund is now in trouble by $5 to $7 billion to complete the program.

Highway experts are now saying that the interstate highway system even when completed, will not adequately meet the future traffic needs

Coming up: a demand upon the Congress for authorization of federal funds for thousands of miles of more new highways, on the interstate highway system.

That means we'll keep on paying special highway taxes when we buy gas. The fund will not be allowed to lapse.

After paper was invented and first produced in China in the second century, China remained the center of the paper-making industry until the 8th Century when Muslims established a paper plant in Baghdad.

Edith Henderson, of Rice Lake, Wisconsin, had tried crash diets, but without success. Then she tried Ayds Reducing Plan Candy. "I went from 227 pounds to 130," she said. "And I've maintained the weight loss, too." Ayds, taken as directed, curbs your appetite. On the Ayds Plan, you automatically eat less because you want less, so lose weight naturally. Not a drug. Clinically-proved. Delicious vanilla caramel or chocolate fudge-type.

County Supervisors Change Committees

A bylaws amendment eliminating the salaries committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and replacing it with a personnel policies committee was approved yesterday by the board of supervisors.

Establishment of the personnel policies committee was specified in the merit system proposal adopted a week ago by the supervisors.

Like the dissolved salaries committee, the personnel policies committee will consist of seven members of the board of supervisors appointed by the board chairman with concurrence of the full board.

Duties will be broader than those of the salaries committee whose function was to review the salary structure for county employes each year and make recommendations to the county budget makers.

The personnel policies committee will administer the merit system.

Besides reviewing salaries, it will advise the county board of auditors on classification and reclassification of employes.

It also will prepare and enforce specific rules and regulations in connecton with the merit system and recommend to the board of supervisors the provisions of all employe fringe benefit programs.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the board of supervisors, is expected to make the personnel policies committee appointments later this month.

Teaching Offers Brief Respite

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Even as the rumors mounted of an offensive against a Viet Cong stronghold, young Clark Richie got an unexpected break in routine — an assignment to teach English to some Vietnamese children. This is the second in five momentous days in a GI's life.)

By JOHN HANCE

CU CHIM, South Viet Nam (AP) — The dust lay 10 inches deep on the road. It swirled up and nearly blinded the squinting soldier riding on the back seat of the jeep. He cradled his rifle and looked toward a line of trees for possible Viet Cong snipers.

The soldier, Pfc. Clark Richie of Jay, Okla., was riding into Cu Chi from the base camp of the 2nd Brigade of the 25th Infantry Division.

★ ★ ★

Cu Chi, about 20 miles northwest of Saigon, is in the heart of a Viet Cong stronghold and the Americans had moved in a month previously determined to stay.

Richie, 22, red-haired and freckled, manned a machine gun on the camp perimeter. He had seen buddies wounded and killed there. But this Tuesday he was going to Cu Chi to meet the village chief and to start teaching English to the children.

THREE SELECTED

He was one of three men from B Company selected for the job that hopefully would improve relations between the Vietnamese and American soldiers. The villagers had been cold and aloof to the GIs when they came in late January.

The Americans reached town at the appointed time. But the village chief was out and they had to hunt him down at a church a couple of miles away.

★ ★ ★

Introductions completed, the soldiers were taken to the school. Richie, who had two years at an Oklahoma junior college, was looking forward to teaching although he had no experience.

AP Photofax

ENGLISH CLASS — "How are you? I am fine!" The words are pronounced clearly and with emphasis as Pfc. Clark Richie of Jay, Okla., teaches basic phrases of English to Vietnamese schoolchildren. The classes are held in a school at Cu Chi, some 20 miles northwest of Saigon, in Viet Cong territory. The GIs are trying to win over the villagers.

"The kids," he said, "they're beautiful. I guess kids everywhere are."

60 CHILDREN

He was assigned a roomful of about 60 children, 5- to 8 year-olds.

The hour went fast. From mimeographed sheets and an interpretor the children learned to say "How are you," "Fine, thank you," "Please repeat that," and half a dozen more simple phrases.

★ ★ ★

After class the GIs immediately took the three-mile drive back to camp.

LIKE A HOLIDAY

Richie's trip to town had been like a holiday. In his four weeks near Cu Chi it was his first time in town.

Richie would teach the class twice a week — a sharp change in the wearisome routine of guard duty, patrols, lining up for meals, washing clothes in a steel helmet, cleaning weapons, scrounging for a chunk of ice and a cold beer, and gritting teeth and slapping at the swarms of mosquitoes and ants that infested the area.

One bright spot in the routine was mail call. After a dinner of roast beef, potatoes and gravy, broccoli and grapefruit juice, Richie got a letter from his girl friend, Sally Dietrich, 18, of Jay.

"A fine letter," he said. "Definitely, a damn fine letter."

BROUGHT RELIEF

Dusk about 7 p.m. this Tuesday brought relief from the day heat. And someone had come up with beer from the brigade post exchange and a chunk of ice from Cu Chi.

★ ★ ★

The day had been routine as far as the war was concerned.

A major operation against the "Charlies," as they called the Viet Cong, had been rumored the day before. Details were added today and it was said to be the first helicopter assault of the division, with Richie's company making the first landing into territory that twice before had repelled attacks by Vietnamese and U.S. troops.

★ ★ ★

Richie, who had served in Viet Nam previously as a helicopter machine gunner, pondered the possible battle. Several of his friends had been killed in the last month. Still, he said, "I guess a fight would be the best thing for us. That's what we're here for.

STILL GREEN

"We were green when we got here and still are. But the only way we'll get over that is to get experience."

It was now dark. The night patrol passed by, on its way into the enemy area.

★ ★ ★

Richie took the first night watch and sat silently atop the bunker, his machine gun ready.

Next: "Why do we fight here?"

Jets Hit N. Viet for Second Day

Big Power Plant Near Haiphong Destroyed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U. S. jet fighter-bombers raided North Viet Nam's heartland for the second consecutive day, pounding a major plant just outside Haiphong Monday night, a U. S. spokesman reported.

Following close on the attack Sunday on missile sites near Hanoi, two Navy planes in a low level, radar-controlled attack dropped about 15 tons of bombs on the Uong Bi power plant 14 miles northeast of North Viet Nam's chief port.

★ ★ ★

The pilots reported showers of explosions and said the lights of Haiphong went out at once. The plant provides 15 per cent of North Viet Nam's electricity, including a third of the power Haiphong uses and one-fourth of the needs of the capital 60 miles to the west.

Navy planes raided the Uong Bi plant twice in December before the start of a 37-day bombing pause. After the second raid Dec. 22, it was reportedly almost totally destroyed, but the spokesman said today it apparently had been rebuilt.

WAR CLOSER

Neither Hanoi nor Haiphong has been hit by U. S. air attack, but American planes brought the war close to the capital Sunday with attacks on missile sites 15 and 17 miles south and southwest of Hanoi. Pilots reported both sites were engulfed in flames.

★ ★ ★

The raid Monday night was carried out by twin-jet Intruders, a subsonic plane designed to deliver big payloads on low-level attacks. They came from the carrier Kitty Hawk and reported only light, ineffective antiaircraft fire, although both Haiphong and Hanoi are said to be ringed with Soviet-built antiaircraft missile sites.

Court Upholds Verdict for GM

CHICAGO (AP) — The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld Monday a lower court decision that General Motors Corp. was not negligent in the design of a 1961 Chevrolet station wagon.

The ruling was on an appeal by Mrs. Barbara Evans, widow of Roy Evans, a research chemist, from a decision in the U.S. District Court in Evansville, Ind.

★ ★ ★

Evans was killed in a collision of his Chevrolet station wagon and an automobile in Vanderburgh County, Ind. Mrs. Evans alleged he lost his life because the design of the wagon permitted the driver's side of the station wagon to collapse.

The widow, who sued for $480,000 damages, said the wagon had an X-frame while a competing make had a perimeter frame including side rails.

★ ★ ★

In the opinion of the Court of Appeals the judges stated Mrs. Evans had not shown her husband would have survived the collision if the station wagon had a perimeter frame.

Detroit Bank Puts Higher Interest on Time Deposits

Detroit Bank & Trust has announced it will pay five per cent interest (annual rate) on time deposits of $1,000 or more left on deposit for six months.

Interest will be paid and compounded semiannually. The new rate became effective yesterday

★ ★ ★

Th five per cent time deposits are available to individuals and nonprofit organizations, and will be automatically renewed for six months at the end of the initial six-month deposit period.

All regular savings will continue to earn the present four per cent annual interest rate, the maximum any bank can pay under current federal regulations.

New Products Fight for Store Shelf Space

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK—Americans' insatiable appetites for new products—and their reluctance to part with old favorites—are creating problems for the nation's supermarkets.

It is the battle for the big inch on the store shelf.

★ ★ ★

Theodore A. Von Der Ahe, president of Von's Grocery Co. in California, estimates his stores carry about 15,000 items.

Another 4,000 to 5,000 are offered to the stores each year, of which they take about 1,000.

BIG SQUEEZE

"With new items coming out all of the time, you have to knock out some items or squeeze the shelf space on existing ones," said William A. Schroeder, vice president, consumer marketing, Corn Products Co.

That is why, from time to time, a rinse, a 16-ounce bottle of root beer or a breakfast cereal will disappear from the shelves.

★ ★ ★

Consumer loyalty is high, and both the stores and the manufacturers are worried that the housewife will switch to a competitor.

"We try to take care of her as long as we can," Schroeder said.

10 YEARS

The company estimates that it may take 10 years to get housewives to switch from its old starch to its new spray.

"We use samples and coupons to try to get them to switch," a company spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

"But consumers know what they want, and it's not necessarily what you do."

The government has estimated that three-fourths of Americans working in 1975 will be dealing with products that don't even exist today.

PRODUCTS MULTIPLY

Campbell Soup Co. products have multiplied from 44 to more than 400 since 1954. General Foods Corp. introduced 17 new products in 1965, and General Mills, Inc., had 10. Green Giant Co. brought out 30.

National Dairy Products introduced everything from a spicy flavor of cheese to red and blue-striped vanilla ice cream.

★ ★ ★

Quaker Oats Co. came out with an old favorite in a new form, instant oatmeal.

Gordon Ellis, executive vice president, Pet Milk Co., estimates about 95 per cent of new products and brands introduced either are unsuccessful or fall far short of expectations.

Ellis said 65 years ago, the life expectancy of a new product was at least 20 years. Now, with increased competition, it is less than seven years in the food industry, and still dropping.

More of the proposed products are being weeded out along the line—in early stages of exploration, screening, business analysis, development or testing.

Good News for Chrysler Stockholders

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. President Lynn A. Townsend gave stockholders a glowing report of the firm's auto business at the annual stockholders meeting today.

Townsend reported first-quarter sales this year were the highest of any similar period in Chrysler history. They totaled 366,925 cars, an increase of 38,000 units over the same period last year.

Townsend said Chrysler was continuing its program of becoming a worldwide automotive company.

"We expect to make additional investments overseas in the next year for the opportunities for growth abroad are very great and we intend to use them," he said.

EXPANSION PLANS

Townsend added, "I want to emphasize that we will be able to carry out our plans for expansion overseas within the limit of President Johnson's guidelines on direct investment abroad by American companies."

Safety Proposals Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is considering 67 additional safety requirements for motor vehicles it purchases, including some entirely new and novel and others that would refine or revise existing safety standards.

The General Services Administration supplied a list of "proposed areas for investigation" in its automotive safety standards project planning when asked Monday about future possible regulations.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said the 67 points listed represent safety ideas under study and consideration on which no determinations have been reached.

Last year, the agency broke the ice on specific safety standards for government automobiles with adoption of 17 requirements for 1967 models.

FUTURE MODELS

The GSA standards apply directly only to government motor vehicle purchases. However, the automobile industry has announced it is making some of them generally available in future models.

The ideas include:

★ ★ ★

Relocation of the gear shift lever or redesign so as to use a dial or buttons.

Removal or redesign of the instrument panel or dashboard, to minimize injury to the head and upper body and protection on the under surfaces of the instrument panel to protect the limbs of drivers and front-seat passengers.

ROOF PADDING

Padding of the entire roof to minimize injury to occupants in the event of collision and overturn.

Fire resistant interior upholstering materials.

Audible alarms to warn of a backing vehicle.

Windshields and other glass areas which will absorb greater impact.

BLIND SPOTS

Elimination of blind spots to the rear and increase of the field of vision to within 30 degrees of lateral on each side.

Increased wiper area on windshields and wipers on rear windows, especially station wagons.

★ ★ ★

Increased defrosting capability, both front and rear.

Vision, reflection and glare criteria based upon the vision capabiities of older drivers.

RUNNING LIGHTS

Running lights for daytime use.

Development of systems to prevent brake locking, development of a system to provide for application of brakes in the event of an operating failure, and more effective emergency brake systems.

★ ★ ★

Offer Rewards in City Slaying

Rewards totaling $1,500 have been offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of a Caro truck driver, murdered in Pontiac last Friday.

★ ★ ★

Amounts of $500 have been contributed each by Teamster Local 614, Pontiac, and Michigan Conference of Teamsters, and the Central Transport Co., Detroit, the firm employing the shooting victim, Carlaroy W. Henry.

Henry, 29, was killed with one shot from a 22-caliber gun after making a telephone call from an outside booth at Woodward and South Boulevard.

The father of three children, Henry had just arrived in Pontiac from Saginaw and had called his Detroit office to check in.

★ ★ ★

His body was discovered next to his still-running diesel truck at 2:28 a.m., just nine minutes after he had reported to Detroit.

LACK CLUES

Police Detective John A. DePauw said that no substantial clues have been uncovered as yet, with the exception of a shell casing found near the body and a partially filled ammunition clip containing nine bullets in a nearby field.

★ ★ ★

The shooting is believed to have occurred during a robbery, since Henry's wallet was missing, according to police. They said that Henry may have been carrying between $20 and $40.

Joseph Bane, president of Local 614, said that the Teamsters are hoping to raise $10,000 in reward money.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I will soon have $12,000 to invest. I am 60, employed, recently divorced and with no one to help me. I have eight shares of Sears, Roebuck; $400 in savings bonds; $4,000 on deposit with an insurance company and $1,000 in savings. What should I do to supplement my Social Security income at age 65? I have thought of Sears and more savings bonds. My income-tax rate is pretty high, and I can't afford to gamble in any way." M.M.

A) Sears is a fine stock which, like a host of other top-quality blue chips, has come down in price in a market which has become quite speculative — with most attention focussed on the so-called swingers. I believe you have enough Sears.

There is risk in the current market, and since you cannot afford this, I suggest that you put half of your funds in more savings bonds — the only security I know of which cannot fluctuate.

I would put the balance into equal amounts of Merck, a top-grade pharmaceutical; General Foods, a splendid growth issue relatively depressed in price; and Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing, which produces Scotch Tape and a wide line of other items. These should enhance your capital over the five years ahead.

Q) "Isn't real estate a better hedge against inflation than stocks? With stocks, less experienced people get panicky and sometimes sell out to quickly. It takes time to sell real estate." J. B.

A) I have before emphasized that well-situated real estate has increased steadily in value — more than enough to keep abreast of the rising tide of prices. Real estate, however, requires care and a degree of knowledge about how and where to buy. For the average investor, I believe growth stocks offer the most practical long-term hedge against inflation.
