

Find No Trace of Ship Which Slammed Iceberg

From Our News Wires
HALIFAX, N. S.—High seas and whistling polar winds hampered search today for the Danish ship Hans Hedtoft, feared lost after hitting an iceberg off the south tip of Greenland.
The small German trawler Johannes Kruss reported she could find no trace of the cargo-passenger ship with from 90 to 130 persons aboard in the area given by the vessel in her final SOS yesterday. The message said the ship was slowly sinking.
It was snowing heavily when the 2,875-ton Hedtoft hit the iceberg shortly before noon yesterday.
Visibility varied widely today, ranging up to 8 or 9 miles, then towering to a mile in the rise and fall of the storm the Coast Guard said.
The 650-ton Kruss reached the area only about an hour after the Hedtoft sent its last SOS.
A U.S. Navy radar patrol plane circled above the 20-foot waves in the North Atlantic and found no trace of the ship or lifeboats. Ice packs were closing in from the north, adding to the hazards for other ships steaming north from the North Atlantic shipping lanes to join the search.
Weather conditions were reported to be improving. But in the best of weather at this time of year, a person can survive in those frigid waters for "just over 60 seconds," the Coast Guard said.
Like the White Star liner Titanic which sank April 14, 1912 with a loss of 1,517 lives, the Hedtoft was on her maiden voyage. She was returning to Denmark from her first trip to Greenland.
The 2,875-ton vessel was built specially for this dangerous route through the iceberg belt, constructed with seven watertight compartments so that if one should fill with water the others would keep her afloat.
The scene of the Hedtoft's collision with the iceberg was about 600 miles from the spot off Newfoundland where the Titanic plunged to the bottom.
The Coast Guard said the Hedtoft was the first ship to hit an iceberg in peacetime since the Titanic. The Coast Guard maintains a constant patrol of shipping lanes to warn of icebergs, but the area of the Hedtoft's accident was far north of the routes usually followed by trans-Atlantic liners.
The U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Campbell and the German fishing vessel Poseidon are steaming toward the area.

More ships were plowing toward the scene as U. S. and Canadian search planes took off in hope of getting through bad weather that had kept them grounded Friday.

Blame Faulty Wiring

FIGHT NURSING HOME FIRE—Volunteer firemen pour water on smoking Glen Ellyn Acres nursing home on the outskirts of Glen Ellyn, Ill., 30 miles west of Chicago yesterday. The flames spread rapidly through the old turreted mansion, trapping several people as the roof collapsed.

Nursing Home Blaze Is Fatal to 9 in Illinois

GLEN ELLYN, Ill. (UPI)—Officials today tentatively blamed faulty wiring for a fire which took the lives of nine persons, eight of them elderly patients, when it turned a nursing home into an inferno of smoke and flames.
Seven of the dead in yesterday's fire were invalids who were crushed to death when flames collapsed the roof minutes after firemen arrived.
The eighth fatality was an aged patient who died en route to a hospital and the ninth was a volunteer officer of the suburban fire department who died from a heart attack fighting the fire.
Officials said the 25-year-old stucco building, built in the style of an Italian mansion, had passed a fire safety test in July but that as recently as last week it had undergone repairs for overloaded electrical circuits.
CONSIDERED DANGEROUS
Glen Ellyn Fire Chief James Brody said his department considered the nursing home "the most potentially fire-dangerous building in town."
Brody said the flames had a "good start" by the time fire-fighters arrived. Smoke and fire spread from the second floor while firemen were hampered by having to connect to a fire hydrant almost a half-mile away.
Passersby and nursing home employees aided firemen in rescue work. Ten of the 20 patients of the Glen Ellyn nursing home were either able to walk to safety or escape in their wheelchairs.
Donald Stofregan, 38, a volunteer assistant fire chief, died of an apparent heart attack while fighting the flames.
The dead patients were Theresa Barnovich, 69; John Esser, 67; Aurora, Ill.; Ernest Haberkamp, 74; Lombard, Ill.; Matt Kline, 80; West Chicago, Ill.;

Raymond P. Mortimer; John Rohrer, 80; Helen Sanderson, 80; Elmhurst, Ill.; and Edward Werckentz, 90; Lombard, Ill.
Frank Mack, a nursing home orderly, said he was the first to learn of the fire.
He said he saw smoke pouring from a floor vent and then ran up to the second floor.
Mack said Rostkowski was burned when he headed to the downstairs office to call the fire department.
He said he returned to the second floor along with maintenance man Anton Rostkowski, 54. The two helped three patients who were able to walk, but most of the patients were bedridden.

R. S. Nelson to Lead City's U. S. Savings Bond Drive

Robert S. Nelson, vice president and general manager of Universal Oil-Seal Co., Pontiac, has been named chairman of a forthcoming campaign aimed at increasing purchases of U. S. savings bonds in Pontiac. The appointment was made by Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, with whom Nelson will meet in Washington Feb. 25.
The intensive one-week drive, scheduled to begin March 9, will be known as the "Pontiac Share-in-America Campaign." Principal objective is to encourage widespread participation in the payroll savings plan among wage and salary earners employed by all firms in the area.
Oakland County Savings Bond Committee Chairman Alfred C. Girard predicted the campaign, under Nelson's leadership, will be instrumental in increasing the number of new payroll savers enrolled by appreciably more than 2,500 set as the minimum goal.

Nelson said he will ask all Pontiac area employers who now have the payroll savings plan to encourage greater employee participation. Firms which do (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Charge Treason to Defendants in Sedition Case

New Charge Added On After Judge Declares a Mistrial

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The three defendants in the Powell sedition case, their trial declared a mistrial, faced today the added charge of treason.

In a swift procession of events Friday, U.S. Dist. Chief Judge Louis E. Goodman declared a mistrial, a new complaint charging treason was filed, and the defendants were arraigned on the new charge and released on bail.

The three are John W. Powell, 39, editor of the since discontinued China Monthly Review; his wife Sylvia, 38, and Julian Schuman, 38, of New York, associate editors.

U.S. Atty. Robert H. Schnacke said he would ask a federal grand jury to indict the three on charges of treason. The sedition and treason charges probably would be combined, he added.

Judge Goodman declared a mistrial because of the way his own remarks Thursday had been treated by local newspaper headlines.

RULES OUT TESTIMONY
At that time he was ruling out a Korean War veteran's intended testimony that Chinese Communist propaganda demoralized some American prisoners of war. The veteran was not permitted to testify.

The government charges some such propaganda came from the China Monthly Review.
The Powells and Schuman are charged with conspiring to impede the U. S. war effort through publication of false reports that the United States waged germ warfare in Korea.

In disallowing the POW testimony, Judge Goodman, in the absence of the jury, said it didn't come under the Sedition Act of 1917 because it didn't occur within U. S. jurisdiction.

But, he added, testimony already in evidence would be "prima facie sufficient to sustain a verdict of guilty under the treason statute."

Unlike sedition, treason under the law can be committed anywhere and at any time, not just in wartime.

On Friday defense attorney Doris Brin Walker showed Judge Goodman newspaper accounts which said he had stated the trio was guilty of treason. She moved for a mistrial on grounds the trial had been prejudiced and the judge agreed.

Clear and Cold Is Outlook for Pontiac Tonight

Cold and clear the low dipping to near zero tonight is the forecast for the Pontiac area by the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Mostly fair and continued cold with a high of near 24 is the outlook for Sunday.

The Weather Bureau said the nation is in for a cold spell in February, except in two areas.

The Bureau's 30-day forecast said temperatures would average below seasonal normals except east of the Appalachians and in West Coast states. The coldest weather will prevail in the Northern Plains.

Plan to Receive Polio Shot? See Coupon

In order to obtain an estimate of the number of persons who plan to receive a polio immunization shot at one of the clinics sponsored by the Pontiac Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, the Council is asking those people to fill out a coupon on page 7 in today's Press.

The Council will sponsor city-wide polio clinics beginning the week of Feb. 16.

They will be open to all persons over one year of age. Those who have not received the first immunization shot as well as those ready for the second, third or booster shot are eligible for the clinics, according to Mrs. William H. Anderson, Council president.

The clinics will charge a $1 fee for each shot and are sanctioned by the Oakland County Department of Health.

The coupon will be run again on Monday.

8 Killed, 2 Hurt in Boat Blast

Mississippi River Craft Blows Up When Boiler Explodes at Landing

HELENA, Ark. (UPI)—An oil slick and some debris today marked the spot on the Mississippi where eight men were killed and two women injured yesterday when the boiler of their boat exploded.

The 50-foot log-loading boat was pulling into the riverbank about 20 miles downstream from here. It was going to load logs consigned to a Helena firm on barges that were standing by.

One of the women who survived the blast, cook Cecile Hutchinson, said that then "all of a sudden I heard... boom!"

Former Slave and City's Oldest Woman Dies at 108

A woman born in slavery 108 years ago and who lived to become Pontiac's oldest woman died last night.

Mrs. Cillie Collins who spent her childhood as a slave on an Alabama plantation suffered a heart attack at her home, 405 1/2 Branch St. Attempts by a fire department inhalator squad to revive her failed.

She lived with her sole surviving relative, Miss Rose Smith, 54, a granddaughter.

Born Dec. 23, 1850 on a large plantation in Cook County, Ala., Mrs. Collins had only distant memories of her parents. First her father and then her mother were held by their masters.

She rarely spoke of the Civil War, but remembered as a child that slaves spoke in whispers of how they built trenches for Confederate soldiers and then hid in them.

"They used to hope that the Yankees would overrun the Southerners so they could become free," Mrs. Collins recalled.

Many times the freedom-seeking slaves would be caught and whipped, Mrs. Collins said, and she would see the lashes on the back of some.

Mrs. Collins married and had two daughters, but both her husband and children have been dead "a long while," Miss Smith said.

Mrs. Collins, who had lived in Pontiac for 30 years, told her neighbors she lived so long because she "led 'a good life." "Be good and you will live a long life," she told her acquaintances. A deeply religious woman, Mrs. Collins was a steady church-goer and preferred to have the Bible read to her rather than current news.

Mrs. Collins enjoyed sewing and continued her hobby until death, Miss Smith said.
Mrs. Collins never used glasses.
She enjoyed watching television, particularly Westerns. She often smoked a long cornoc pipe about the house.
She rarely spoke of her slave days, but did tell friends she cared for children of the plantation and had to rise early in the morning to feed the chickens.
Rising early was a habit she carried through her life. "No matter what time I'd get up, Grandmother would already be sitting there awake," Miss Smith said.
Her body is at the Frank Caruthers Funeral Home, 110 West St.

Offers Red Ink Remedy

EXPLAINS TAX PLAN—Gov. G. Mennen Williams presented several major tax proposals to a statewide television audience last night, in his attempt to get the state out of the red ink. Complete details will be given to the Legislature next week.

Lindemer Questions Income Tax Legality

Lawrence B. Lindemer, Republican State chairman, here today for the Oakland County GOP "Action Conference" at Bloomfield Hills High School, questioned the legality of the graduated income tax proposed last night by Governor Williams.

"There's no use in having the Legislature adopt such a measure and then have the State Supreme Court toss it out," Lindemer said.

The state chairman, who this morning had breakfast in Detroit with Gov. Stratton of Illinois, said he agreed with Stratton who ventured the opinion that Michigan is in its financial predicament because it hasn't tailored its expenditures to match its income.

"Rather, the governor has been looking at our state problems through rose-colored glasses," Lindemer said.

Some lawmakers have questioned whether the state constitution would permit a graduated income tax.

As for Williams' proposed five per cent corporations profits tax, Lindemer said he felt provisions should be made to exempt small businesses and those just getting started from such a tax.

Lindemer said he wasn't ridiculing Williams' proposals and that he would withhold either rejecting or accepting them until many unanswered questions are answered.

"Many legal clouds shroud the governor's plans," he said.

Collection of the income tax by the state might also prove burdensome on the taxpayers' who would have to foot the bill to pay the personnel needed to collect the taxes, he said.

When asked whether he thought Williams' tax plan was aimed at the upper and middle income group, Lindemer replied: "Sure it is."

Rep. Roosevelt to Speak

DETROIT (AP)—Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.), eldest son of the late president, is scheduled to speak at a civil rights meeting Feb. 8 at St. Stephen's A.M.E. Church. Also on the program are two Michigan Democrats, Reps. John Dingell and Charles Diggs.

Would Net State $100 Million in Its First Year

5 Per Cent Corporation Profits Levy Is Also Proposed by Governor

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. Williams last night unveiled his 140 million dollar new tax package, keying it to a graduated income tax designed to yield 100 million dollars the first year.

A married couple with two children would incur no tax liability on the first $6,333 of income.

The program, beamed to a statewide television audience, was his long awaited, long-run answer to mounting financial woes that threaten state workers with payless paydays in a matter of weeks.

What he offered was generally a stripped down version of the Dec. 3 report of citizen advisers to a special legislative tax study committee set up 18 months ago.

The governor's main recommendations:

1. A personal income tax exempting the first $1,000 of salary or wages, with rates graduated from two per cent in the $1,000-$3,000 bracket to six per cent on income over $13,000. A $35 a person tax credit would be allowed.
2. A five per cent corporation profits tax, estimated to bring in 110 million dollars a year when coupled with a seven per cent net income levy on banks and other financial institutions.
3. Virtual repeal of the 25 million dollars a year tax on stocks, bonds, and other intangible property.
4. A 45 million dollar cutback in the corporation franchise tax, reducing it to a nominal rate of two mills on net worth payable only as a minimum alternative to the profits levy.

More than one half the state's income beyond $2,750, a married couple on income over $4,000 potential taxpayers would be excluded from liability under the Williams income tax.

A single person would pay only a married couple with one child on income over $5,167.

VON BRAUN AT CAPITOL—Wernher von Braun, German-born rocket expert, shows a model of a Jupiter missile to Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La.) during a call at Brooks' office yesterday. Von Braun was among witnesses called for testimony before Senators looking into America's missile and space exploration progress.

Senators Hear Missile Report

House Set to Begin Similar Hearings on U. S. Preparedness

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic attempt to accelerate defense spending appeared likely today after Senate testimony that more money is needed to match Soviet space and missile advances.

Two days of a wide ranging Senate inquiry into the status of U. S. preparedness touched off speculation that Senate Democrats may try to expand President Eisenhower's defense budget.

Eisenhower is recommending slightly over 40 billion dollars in defense spending for the fiscal year beginning July 1. Both he and Secretary of Defense McElroy contend this is adequate to cope with any Soviet threat.

As the Senate inquiry went into recess until the middle of next week, Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La.) of the House Space Committee announced hearings paralleling the Senate's will begin Monday.

A possible hint to Democratic plans for defense spending came Friday as Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) recessed the inquiry by the combined Senate Space and Preparedness subcommittees.

Johnson, chairman of both groups, said public testimony so far by top defense, space and missile officials indicate there are deficiencies which must be explored behind closed doors because of military secrets involved.

Johnson said the next phase will cover "information as to the aggressive forces that might be thrown against us."

Referring to what he called the decision by McElroy to slash funds and forces for the various military programs, Johnson said "The key considerations that he took into account could be discussed only behind closed doors."

Roy Johnson, director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, which handles military missile and space programs, said he could use an additional 300 million dollars above budget estimates.

He said this would speed up development of powerful booster engines needed to put bigger payloads up for space vehicles and satellites.

Other highlights:
1. Dr. Wernher von Braun, Army missile chief, estimated that if the Russians continue to push ahead it will take the United States five years to match Soviet developments in intercontinental ballistic missiles.

2. William M. Holaday, Pentagon missiles chief, said his recommendations to speed building of atom powered Polaris missile submarines were not accepted by administration budget officials. But Holaday said he supports Eisenhower's $40,945,000,000 defense budget.

3. Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, testified that by the middle of next year his agency hopes to flight test a rocket cluster generating up to 1 1/2 million pounds of thrust.

Another scientist estimated the Russians used a rocket with 250,000 to 500,000 pounds of thrust in launching their 2,900-pound Lunik which the Soviets say went into orbit around the sun.

The truck driver, Howard F. Wendel, 31, of Wyandotte, was unharmed.

The Culp boy died in William Beaumont Hospital Thursday. He had suffered a fractured skull when struck by a car Wednesday at Washington street near Hudson street in Royal Oak.

Driver of the car, Henry Kozak, 36, of 46 Wellesley Dr., Pleasant Ridge, was not held.

Arctic cold surges over Plains states

Surging cold Arctic air stung broad areas east of the Rockies today. The numbing blast plunged the mercury 10 to 25 degrees below zero over the northern Plains, the upper Mississippi Valley and parts of the Midwest. It penetrated as far south as Texas.

Winds gusting to over 30 m.p.h. swept through the Hudson Valley of eastern New York.

The effects of heavy rainfall, which pestered the Southeast Friday with one to four inches, were still prevalent in the area.

Early morning snow flurries were reported in the Great Lakes region and parts of New England.

Flint Man Dies in Dixie Crash

Royal Oak Youngster Succumbs After Being Hit by Car

After going almost a whole month without but two Oakland County traffic fatalities, two occurred within the past 48 hours, raising the January total to four.

The latest victims were Dwight A. Suggs, 26, of Flint and Richard P. Culp Jr., 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Culp, 334 W. Genoa road, St. Clair.

Suggs was dead on arrival at Flint's St. Joseph hospital yesterday.

Of injuries received when his car collided head-on with a loaded steel truck on U.S. 10 in Holly Township.

Alone in the car, Suggs apparently lost control of his car and skidded across the center line of the highway, Flint State Police said.

The truck driver, Howard F. Wendel, 31, of Wyandotte, was unharmed.

The Culp boy died in William Beaumont Hospital Thursday. He had suffered a fractured skull when struck by a car Wednesday at Washington street near Hudson street in Royal Oak.

Polio-Stricken Father Saves His 3 Children

BATTLE CREEK (UP)—A polio-stricken father was credited today with saving the lives of his three children in a fire which destroyed their home last night.

Zenith Bess, a polio victim, first noticed an overfilled chair on fire in his home. At first he tried to carry the chair outside. But when he was unable to do this, he went upstairs and led his children to safety.

Bess was in the hospital with first and second degree burns over 15 per cent of his body. His son James, 6, was in critical condition with burns over 80 per cent of his body.

Two daughters, Judith, 7, and Janet, 4, suffered first and second degree burns on their faces, arms and legs.

Bess' wife was attending a baby shower given for her by her mother at the time of the fire.

Ex-Walled Lake Man Held in Shooting

A former Walled Lake advertiser-pumping three bullets from an ailing man, Edward Whitney, 58, was today held by Chicago police after a 21-year grudge.

Whitney, who now lives in Birmingham, Ala., climaxed 21 years of brooding over the death of his daughter by shooting William F. Rubert, 69, who was taken to St. Luke's Hospital with bullet wounds of the left chest, right arm and index finger.

Whitney surrendered to police outside Chicago's Orchestra Hall Building where the shooting took place. The long standing grudge resulted from the death of Whitney's daughter, Kay, who died in 1937 at the age of 11, police said.

In 1946, he was acquitted by a Chicago federal jury when he was charged with threatening Rubert by mail from his home in Walled Lake.

He furnished his own defense in the trial, saying that his daughter in the custody of an aunt in Chicago had been taken off insulin injections she received as a diabetic.

Faith healing had been substituted for the injections because of Rubert's influence. Whitney claimed. He argued that he was under a strain because of his daughter's death.

Whitney said he came to Chicago Tuesday to seek out Rubert. Witnesses told police he fired "six or seven shots" at Rubert as the Christian Scientist fled from his office in the building into an elevator.

The elevator door closed behind Rubert before Whitney could enter. One bullet pierced the glass door, police said.

Whitney calmly handed the pistol to an officer he found outside saying, "I shot him because he killed my daughter."

In 1939 Whitney had filed manslaughter charges against Rubert and two associates. A Chicago court found them innocent.

Gov. Williams Proposes a Graduated Income Tax

DETROIT (AP)—The $140 million Gov. Williams' tax package in brief:

Personal income tax ..... $100,000,000
Corporate profits tax ..... 110,000,000
Revenue Gain ..... $210,000,000
Corporate franchise tax repeal ..... 45,000,000
Intangibles tax repeal ..... 25,000,000
Revenue loss ..... 70,000,000
Net revenue gain ..... $140,000,000

1. Exemption of industrial machinery and equipment from the personal property tax, lowering the yield to local governments $120 million dollars—this sum to be replaced dollar for dollar by direct grants from the state treasury.

2. A $9 a person a year rebate of state sales tax, the estimated amount paid on food purchases.

3. Certain new so-called nuisance taxes and revisions of existing "nuisance" levies, including those on beer, tobacco and telephones.

Along with these citizens committee suggestions, Williams turned thumbs down on a Republican move in the Legislature—still in the embryo stage—for an increase in the state sales tax from the present three cents to four.

A "soak the poor" plan, Williams called it.

The Day in Birmingham

Protestant Youth Sunday to Be Marked Tomorrow

BIRMINGHAM—Younger members will be in the church spotlight tomorrow as the Annual Protestant Youth Sunday is observed.

The principle meeting of the day will be at 7:30 p.m. when youth from all Protestant churches attend a special "Count-down for Christ" service at the First Presbyterian Church.

Magnus Von Braun, noted rocket expert, will discuss the relationship of Christian faith in our present age of long-range missiles.

Prior to his talk, a brief worship service will be conducted by the young people. The 45 members of the high school age choir of the Presbyterian church under the direction of L. Robert Slusser will sing.

At 5:30 p.m. the young people of this church will have their annual banquet in the social hall. Bill Ellis, master of ceremonies, will pay special tribute to approximately 100 members who have contributed to the musical program of the church.

Another 40 will be honored for their work as church school assistant teachers and other church activities.

The newly formed religious drama group will present a play written about college campus life.

Damages estimated at $2,500 resulted from a fire yesterday at the Leonard Westrate home at 1585 Buckingham Rd., according to Park H. Smith, fire chief.

Smith said the fire, which killed the family's dog, started in a basement incinerator. Walls and furnishings in the recreation room were destroyed.

At Pinter's Service Station, Woodward avenue and Quanton roads, the gasoline pump caught fire after it was struck by the firm's two truck. The pump, which was torn loose from the foundation, was destroyed but nothing else was damaged, Smith explained.

not have the plan will be asked to install it.

Larger employers will be urged to appoint a payroll savings committee. Functions of these committees will be to distribute bond literature and interview all employees individually the week of the campaign — to make sure each wage and salary earner is given an opportunity to sign up for bond purchases. Enrollment will be on a voluntary basis.

Nelson will ask owners of smaller firms to interview their employees themselves if at all possible.

Nelson, who is 42 and a native of Detroit, has been associated with Universal Oil-Seal Co. since graduation from Albion College, except for three years spent in the U.S. Navy during World War II. He was a lieutenant at the time he was mustered out in 1946. He has been vice president and general manager at Universal since 1948.

Active in civic affairs, Nelson is president of the Pontiac Manufacturers Association and a member of the board of Pontiac YMCA, Michigan United Fund and Pontiac Community Chest. He is a member of the Pontiac City Club and Pine Lake Country Club.

According to Girard, Oakland County residents invested $10,951,443 in series E and H savings bonds during 1958, short of the county's fair share of the Michigan quota by more than $4.6 million. The 1959 goal is $15,576,000.

The county chairman said that thousands of Pontiac families have been able to realize major financial objectives, such as new homes and cars, college educations for their children, and worry-free retirement with proceeds of savings bonds purchased painlessly by means of the payroll savings plan.

Find No Sign of Ship Which Struck Iceberg

from its North Atlantic navigational patrol station 300 miles to the southwest.

Nine small vessels set out from Greenland in a blizzard to try to help. The Greenland Navy command said three of them were forced by the storm to drop anchor.

The Greenland Navy Command advised the U.S. Coast Guard the Hedtoft carried life rafts equipped with radios that sent out a continuous beacon signal. But none of the ships in the area reported hearing such signals.

There was only silence after the Danish government-owned ship sent out its last signal late yesterday.

CALLS SPECIAL MEETING

In Copenhagen, King Frederik IX summoned Premier H. C. Hansen to report on the progress of the search. Then Hansen called his cabinet into extraordinary session.

The 2,575-ton Hedtoft hit the iceberg shortly before noon Friday and radioed less than four hours later she was "slowly sinking and needed immediate assistance."

The 650-ton Kruss reached the area about an hour after this appeal.

But the wind was 60 m.p.h. icy waves were 20 feet high and fog cut visibility. Then darkness fell.

The German trawler combed the area through the night just before daylight there was still no trace of the missing Danish vessel.

The Kruss radioed the approaching U.S. Coast Guard cutter Campbell:

"Have searched, nothing found or seen, no lights or lifeboats or ship."

"Plenty ice from northwest. We must go. We are becoming ice bound. It is dangerous for the ship and we can do no more."

The Campbell radioed later, when about 50 miles from the scene: "No further contact with Hans Hedtoft. Trawler Johannes Kruss still searching. Conditions poor due to weather and darkness. No evidence of Danish motor vessel sighted. Trawler reported ice closing in from northwest, however continuing search. Navy aircraft arrived at 4:30 and searching area."

Navy Super Constellation was sent 1,000 miles from Argentina, Nfld., to circle over the area and try to direct the search ships by radar.

The continuing search was being directed from the Royal Canadian Air Force Search and Rescue Center in Halifax.

14 Groups Mark Founder's Day

The 90th anniversary of the founding of the PEO Sisterhood was celebrated Thursday by Oakland County PEO Cooperative, representing 14 chapters in the Pontiac area. The luncheon program was held at the Birmingham Community House. Education is the foremost project of the PEO sisters, who own and operate Cotter Junior College in Nevada, Mo. The PEO Educational Loan Fund, begun in 1909, has helped more than 12,000 girls receive a college education. The Sisterhood also aims at peace through its International Peace Scholarship program. This enables foreign students to study in American schools. Speaker for the day was Mrs. T. M. Roberts of Birmingham, a member of Chapter 1. Her topic, "The Twain Shall Meet," dealt with the tour of the Orient she and her husband took. She spoke chiefly on Japan, emphasizing the friendship and hospitality they received everywhere they went. By returning this, she said, East can meet West. Delegates to the cooperative group from Pontiac Chapter AW are Mrs. Webster Francis and Mrs. James Boaz. Chapter CL delegates are Mrs. L. V. Ostrander and Mrs. H. M. O'Toole. PLANNED PROGRAM Mrs. J. J. Plumb of Chapter AD was Founder's Day chairman. Other committee members were Mrs. K. L. Krabbenhoff and Mrs. T. M. ## You Must Explain to His Relative Appreciative Note Asks Permission to Exchange Gift

By EMILY POST
"Dear Mrs. Post: What may I do about exchanging a pair of lamps sent me as a wedding present by a relative of my fiancé? The lamps are sent from a large department store, and while they are very pretty, they are completely out of keeping with the rest of my furnishings. So what can I do?"
"I certainly don't want to start out on the wrong foot by hurting her feelings, but I can't see spoiling my whole room because of them. Will you please come to the rescue?"

Answer: Yours is an unhappy situation that comes to many of us, and from long experience I believe the best thing you can do is to write, or tell, your fiancé's relative that the lamps are beautiful, and that she is spoiling you by sending such an expensive present. But that as they are ancient Chinese and will not look well in your strictly modern room, you wonder if she would mind if you exchanged them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of ours has recently taken a job as a waiter in one of the better restaurants here in town. My husband and I often go to this particular restaurant. I would like to know, if he should happen to wait on us, would it be proper to give him a tip or might it offend and embarrass him to be given a tip by friends?"

Answer: Yes you should tip him because a large proportion of the money he earns comes from tips and it would be unfair to deprive him of this because you think it might embarrass him.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have just received word that my ex-mother-in-law has passed away. I was always very fond of her but since my divorce had not seen too much of her. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to go to the funeral home to pay my respects."

Answer: Your letter indicates that your mother-in-law did not take active sides against you at the time of your divorce and therefore you may with propriety go to the funeral home to pay your respects.

Mrs. Wagner to Host Group

Mrs. Charles Wagner, president of St. Hugo Altar Guild, will be a hostess at a coffee at her home in Bloomfield Hills from 10 to 12 a. m. Tuesday for all members who have joined the guild since November. This will be the first in a series of four coffees to be held throughout the year to welcome new members. Mrs. Alan Cline is chairman of the committee.

Attending the Founder's Day celebration were, left to right, Mrs. H. M. O'Toole, Mrs. J. J. Plumb, Founder's Day Chairman, and Mrs. P. C. Satterthwaite, chairman of the Oakland County Cooperative Group. Mrs. Satterthwaite's daughter, Sally, is attending Cotter Junior College, which is owned and operated by the Sisterhood.

Plans 'Ladies Day Out' Classes

Mrs. Crisp Is Volunteer of Month

The Central Volunteer Bureau has announced the selection of Mrs. William Crisp as its January Volunteer of the Month. First vice president of the YWCA Board of Directors, Mrs. Crisp directs the planning and scheduling of the "Ladies Day Out" classes held on Wednesdays and Thursdays. These classes provide Pontiac area housewives an opportunity to meet at the Association's center for a day of activities while their children play in the agency's nursery. Additional evening classes are held for hobbies and craft projects. "Mrs. Crisp is a very warm personality, always interested and helpful," according to Mrs. Reba Netzer, executive director at the YWCA. This active mother of three has been coming to the Y for the past five years and has worked on the "Ladies Day Out" project for about two years. She works every Wednesday morning, and returns in the evening whenever there are night classes. ## Wed 47 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Colwell of Ferry avenue will celebrate their 47th wedding anniversary Monday.

They Have Their Eye Upon You!

"How's my 'credit rating'?" Just think it over. You often hear it said that it is an advantage to establish credit, but perhaps not as much is said about keeping your credit good, points out an extension home management specialist. Once you establish credit, you are watched — not only your record of payments, but any reports about your activities from newspapers and other sources through credit bureaus. Your credit rating may follow you all over the country. Your credit is valuable property — protect it. Make payments promptly at the agreed time. If you're unable to meet a payment, call your creditor or visit him and tell him what you will be able to do. Be especially careful to protect property until it is all paid for.

Mrs. William Crisp, of North Cass Lake road has been named January Volunteer of the Month by the Central Volunteer Bureau. Selected for her work at the YWCA, Mrs. Crisp is chairman of the Y's Young Adult Department and has been coming to the association for the past five years.

ADELE M. RYDESKI

Dear Abby . . . Ring Up 'No Sale' on This Cashier; A Good Wife Is Hard to Find, Too!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
"DEAR ABBY: A girl who cashiers for my husband came to me and told me that all the gossip that was going around about her and my husband WAS true. I almost died because I hadn't heard any gossip. She said they were in love. I spoke to my husband and he says he LIKES her but doesn't LOVE her. "When I see her driving my husband's car around town it is like someone puts a knife through my heart. This whole thing is making me a nervous wreck. My husband says to overlook it because a good cashier is hard to find. What should I do?" HEARTSICK
DEAR HEARTSICK: A good wife is harder to find than a good cashier. Insist that your husband get rid of her. If he gives you an argument, ring up "NO SALE!" There is more than "cash" registering in this deal. "DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who takes you out and eyes every girl he sees? That's my friend. When we are in a restaurant he looks every girl up and down and down and up and I say to him, 'Hon, what are you looking for?' and he says to me, 'Hon, what are YOU looking for? AN ARGUMENT?' Is there anything I can do about it?" JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: If a man can't keep his eyes on the girl he's with—the girl would be wise to do a little "looking" herself. For another friend. "DEAR ABBY: My husband has had athlete's foot since World War II and it has almost worried me crazy. No matter how much I scrub the tub I am afraid to take a bath after him. Don't tell him to see a doctor because he already has and nothing he gave him has killed it. My neighbor said sun lamp treatments would cure it. A friend of mine suggested maybe it was a vitamin deficiency. I wish you would tell me what I should do." WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: I am no doctor but I know that the only place you will find a cure is in a dermatologist's office. If (after 12 years) your present doctor hasn't given your husband any relief, try another one. "DEAR ABBY: I am so ashamed but I need help. I have lived with a man for 27 years and had two daughters by him. One is 26 and the other 24 and they are both married. Now he left me and I am

62 years old and can't get work because of my age. I have no income, except what my children give me. Everyone thinks we are married and I don't want to arrest him because of the scandal. He owns property, has money in the bank, and is a respected citizen." ASHAMED
DEAR ASHAMED: Call your Legal Aid Society. If this man is a property owner and has any self-respect he doesn't want a scandal either. When a lawyer spells out what his responsibilities are toward you, he will listen carefully and act accordingly. "DEAR ABBY: The opinion you EXPRESSED should have gone by slow freight." CONFIDENTIAL TO BEAU THE BEATNIK: The opinion you EXPRESSED should have gone by slow freight. For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Batista Captain Awaits Death

To Face Firing Squad After Supreme Tribunal Denies Appeal

HAVANA (AP)—Former Army Capt. Pedro Morejon today awaited execution as a war criminal after his appeal was denied by Cuba's supreme revolutionary tribunal.

The tribunal rejected Morejon's appeal from a lower court death sentence on charges of assassination, homicide, robbery, incendiarism and damage.

The only recourse left to Morejon under the revolutionary penal code is a direct appeal to revolutionary leader Fidel Castro, now commander in chief of the nation's armed forces.

Morejon's execution would be the first in the Havana area. An unofficial total of 262 supporters of ousted dictator Fulgencio Batista have been shot elsewhere in the country.

Oklahoma Police Say Lucille Haglund, 2 Men Admit Burglaries

A 16-year-old Highland Township girl and her two male companions were being held by Oklahoma authorities today after they admitted burglaries which netted them $3,000 in jewelry.

The girl is Lucille Haglund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Haglund of 2405 Lakeside Dr. She told police she was staying with Dave Holt, 37, of Muskogee, Okla., and Robert Hobbs, 19, of Farmington, N.M.

The girl's father said his daughter had run away from home Dec. 2 with Hobbs, whom he said was from Highland Township.

"We put a tracer on her as a missing person but then we got a letter from her Dec. 8 saying they were in Farmington, N.M. and were married," he said.

He added that the girl had known Hobbs for almost a year and since he had been to the Haglund home "a lot of times," he didn't press charges against the boy.

"He seemed like a pretty good boy. I guess I was wrong," he added.

The girl had been writing her parents regularly until last week, he said, and had told them her husband had gotten a job as a carpenter.

The three are being held for New Mexico authorities who want them for the burglary. Officers said they found several hundred dollars worth of jewelry in the motel room they were using.

Safety Differential Is '59 Pontiac Optional

Pontiac Motor Division has the answer for motorists who are bothered by costly tow truck bills during those long winter months of inclement weather.

One of the most popular safety and convenience options available with the new 1959 Pontiac is Safe-T-Track Differential, a feature which virtually eliminates slides and bog downs due to a rear wheel spin in snow, ice, mud, and loose sand.

As long as either rear wheel has any traction at all, Safe-T-Track will automatically multiply power to the slipping wheel to the wheel that grips. The wheel having poorer traction does not spin and forward momentum is constant, enabling the driver to maintain control of the car under adverse conditions.

Revenge Seeker Wounds the Wrong Brother

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Former G-man John Madala, head of Hialeah Race Track's security department, hadn't the slightest acquaintance with the crippled tip sheet peddler who shot him three times.

"I never saw the man before, as far as I know," Madala said from his bed in Doctors Hospital.

Track officials said today that Maxim Gay, 75-year-old tip sheet salesman, meant to shoot Madala's brother, Joseph, a member of the security force in charge of tip sheet operations.

Gay, bent with arthritis, told investigators he wanted revenge because the track had "taken away my living" by prohibiting sales on the premises.

"Joe was the one that Gay was looking for," said Everett Clay, track executive.

Gay was booked at county jail on charges of assault with intent to commit first degree murder.

Soft Integration Support Claimed

Legislators in Virginia Say They Can Pass Gov. Almond's Program

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Senate supporters of Gov. J. Lindsay Almond say they believe they have enough votes to pass today his program to ease the impact of school integration.

A ruling was expected soon—possibly today—by Chief Justice Earl Warren on the Arlington School Board's request for a delay of enrollment of four Negroes in the Stratford Junior High School.

In Norfolk school officials said, "everything is in readiness" for integration Monday of six schools closed last fall.

The Almond program—granting tuition payments to those who don't want to attend integrated schools and repealing compulsory school attendance—already has passed the House of Delegates.

It now is before the Senate Finance Committee, whose membership includes most of the senators who had been seeking stronger action than Almond sought from the special session.

Justice Warren promised Arlington swift action on its request for a delay.

Arlington school officials said plans were complete for enrollment of the Negro children and that no trouble is anticipated should a delay be denied. To make certain no incidents occur, police will block off an area of a half mile surrounding the school Monday morning.

Norfolk police said they had no present plans "to show police force" at the six schools to be integrated there, and expect no violence.

The tuition grant bills sailed through the House of Delegates by unanimous vote, and the school attendance repealer by a count of 89-3. The House also approved a bill making it a felony for a person over 14 to threaten—or communicate the threat of—a bombing.

The Senate's only action Friday was to reaffirm an earlier resolution pledging a continued fight against what it called usurpation of state authority by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Dem Against Rackets Probe

Lone Party Signer Will Not Vote for State Inquiry Measure

FLINT — The lone Democratic signer of a legislative resolution to set up a labor rackets inquiry in Michigan says he'll vote against it if he gets the chance.

"It's a waste of money and nothing more than a Republican move to degrade the influence of the laboring people and their leaders in the coming election," said Sen. Garland Lane (D-Flint).

The five-man Senate Labor Committee headed by Sen. John P. Smekens (R-Coldwater) asked this week for $10,000 to launch an inquiry patterned after the McClellan committee investigation in the U. S. Senate.

Lane, the only Democrat on the committee, said he signed the resolution merely to assure himself a place in the investigating group.

"I've been on the labor committee for all of my 10 years in the Senate and want to make sure that a Democrat familiar with labor problems takes part in this inquiry if it's authorized," he said.
