Nationalists Preparing to Evacuate Tachens

Action Delayed Till Ike's Policy Gets Final OK

Removal Operation to Be Handled Jointly by U.S. 7th Fleet, Chiang

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Although Nationalist Chinese officials won't say so, there is no question but that Chiang Kai-shek's forces will abandon the Tachen Islands.

Reliable sources said today the many problems involved have been worked out at conferences between Nationalist and American officers. Planning has reached the stage where the operation can begin whenever the signal is given.

The sources said the evacuation would be a joint operation, under the overall command of Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet. His flagship, the cruiser Helena, is now at the north Formosa part of Keelung.

About 15,000 regulars and guerrillas will be evacuated. The 15,000 civilian inhabitants will be given their choice, and most are expected to ask for evacuation.

The English language China News reported that some 300 planes of the 7th Fleet conducted maneuvers north of Formosa yesterday.

The newspaper, quoting what it called reliable sources, said the air show was considered here to be a "show of strength to tell off the Reds."

There was no immediate comment from the 7th Fleet.

Nationalist four-engine bombers attacked Yikiangshan Island through a curtain of antiaircraft fire in the predawn darkness today and caused extensive damage, official reports said.

Other bombers ranging more than 30 miles northeast in the Yushan Island area sank a 1,500-ton Chinese Red warship, the reports said.

Cold Weather to Stay Here Another Day

High tonight is expected to range between 10 and 14 degrees, climbing slightly to between 15 and 18 tomorrow.

Meanwhile scattered snow last night brought slippery spots on trunklines around Pontiac, Jackson, Lansing, Manistee, Kalamazoo, Cadillac, Holland and West Branch areas, the State Highway Dept. said. Maintenance crews worked throughout the night to correct conditions.

Yesterday in downtown Pontiac, the mercury rose from a 16-degree low to a high of 29. Slightly more than two inches of snow fell.

Today, at 8 a.m. the thermometer stood at 10 degrees, climbing to 16 by 2 p.m.

MacArthur to Be Honored

OLD SOLDIER 75 TODAY — General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, hero of the Pacific and one of America's most illustrious military figures of all time, faces the camera with eyes upward as he enters his 76th year. This picture of the general was made last night as he and Mrs. MacArthur arrived in Los Angeles for a civic celebration of his birthday, at which a statue of him will be unveiled in MacArthur Park in Los Angeles. MacArthur is 75 years old today.

Wilson Seeks No Changes in Military---Short of War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson told a concerned Congress today he sees no need for any "important changes" in United States armed forces "short of war."

Wilson, appearing before the House Armed Services Committee to report on American military strength, made no mention in prepared remarks of the mounting tension over Red Chinese threats to Formosa.

But the Formosa situation loomed large in the background. Also scheduled to brief the lawmakers was Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee told newsmen the briefing by Wilson and Radford had been scheduled some time ago and was not specifically prompted by the Formosa problem.

In his statement, Wilson said, "We must be prepared, in line with our collective security responsibilities, to come rapidly and effectively to their Allied nations' assistance . . . in the event of aggression short of general war."

Wilson said he did not expect Russia "to take action during the next few years that would deliberately precipitate another world conflict." But Communist aims are unchanged, he said, and a "conflict might arise through miscalculation on their part."

Next year's program, he said, "lays particular stress on the utilization of nuclear energy in military operations . . . and (in) the development of operational guided missiles to meet the urgent

Violence Flares Anew at Simplex

Unionists Return to Plant for Second Time After Being Dispersed

Union members returning to the strike-bound Simplex Industries, Inc. plant in Southfield Township brought a renewed call for police protection this afternoon after Sheriff's deputies dispersed a group of 300 union sympathizers earlier today as violence flared.

Plant officials renewed their call for help at about 1 p.m. when they reported "15 or 20 carloads of unionists" were returning to the scene.

During the morning outburst a worker's car was overturned, and he reportedly fired three shots from a rifle as he sought to free himself at the Simplex Industries Inc., on Twelve Mile Road near Telegraph.

An Oakland County Circuit Court hearing has been set Feb. 7 at which Local 157, UAW-CIO will attempt to show why an injunction limiting their picketing of the plant should not be made permanent.

The company has claimed 30 of its 50 employes went on strike Dec. 14 without giving 10 day notice and taking a formal strike vote as required by law.

The strike was called when three union officials working at the plant were discharged, a union spokesman said.

According to Larry Davidow, attorney for plant owner Frank Doerner, about 30 or 40 carloads of UAW-CIO members arrived at the plant at 5 a. m. today, parking on both sides of Twelve Mile Road.

Davidow stated that the union men kept employes wishing to work out of the plant by force, and overturned the car of employe Edmund Blakeman.

Davidow said the pickets threw hot coffee in Blakeman's face, and he fired three shots from a rifle he was carrying for protection to free himself. It is not

Committees OK Full War Power for Eisenhower

Formosa Plan Goes to Senate After 26-2 Vote by Two Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees today approved 26-2 a resolution giving President Eisenhower full war powers to defend Formosa and its outposts.

Sens. Langer (R-ND) and Morse (Ind-Ore) voted against the resolution which was recommended to the Senate in exactly the form it passed the House yesterday by a 409-3 vote.

There was some doubt whether the Senate would begin debate today.

Unless there is unanimous consent for immediate consideration, any measure must under Senate rules "lay over" for one day after it is reported by a committee.

Some individual senators indicated they held doubts and apprehensions about the wisdom of the resolution in its present form. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), for one was talking about offering a substitute although he said he did not know whether he would.

Kefauver would not go into details as to what changes he had in mind. He did say that if he offered a substitute it would involve the United Nations far more specifically than does the present resolution.

Sen. Knowland (Calif) the Republican leader, said "time is important."

Sen. George (D-Ga), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said it was doubtful if the Senate could take up the resolution today. The resolution is now being considered jointly by the Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees.

Even if the committees do complete work on it and report it to the Senate, George said, the objection of only one senator would stall formal debate until tomorrow. Unanimous consent is required for the Senate to consider a matter before it has "lain over" for one day.

The 400-3 House vote yesterday came within 27 hours after the President had made his request for a resolution giving advance approval for any military action Eisenhower holds necessary to keep Formosa, the Pescadores and other unnamed areas out of Chinese Communist hands.

"A remarkable unity. . . in the Hopes for Captives Torpedoed by War

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—This week's developments regarding Formosa have dealt a blow to hopes at the United Nations for the early release of 17 Americans held in Red China.

They also have lessened chances that the Security Council can act effectively to bring about a cease-fire order in the Formosa area, or that the 60-nation General Assembly might act in the dispute.

Stumbling blocks were mentioned as including President Eisenhower's message, congressional action and Premier Chou En-lai's unyielding statement Monday in relation to Formosa.

Fluoride Ballot Rejected by City

Commission Refuses to Put Issue Before Voters Without Petitions

Pontiac City Commission refused to place the fluoridation question on the April 4 ballot without the circulation of petitions.

A plea to do that failed for want of a second in last night's Commission meeting.

Pontiac attorney H. Malcolm Kahn, who said he represented a group of city residents opposed to fluoridation, stressed two points in making his request:

1. Opponents did not have 90 days in which to file petitions to put the question on the ballot, but only 33 days.

2. Should the 2,100 signatures be obtained by Feb. 15, the ordinance they would call for on the ballot would require a "yes" vote for those opposing fluordiation and a "no" vote for those in favor.

This would be confusing and would not gain a fair sampling of public opinion, he said.

Support was given Kahn by Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, who moved that the Commission's Jan. 11 unanimous action approving fluoridation be withdrawn and that the question be put to the voters.

His move failed for lack of a second.

"I didn't realize that they had only 33 days, not 90 days as I thought when I first voted," Miles said.

"My phone calls were 20-1 against fluoridation, so there must be a substantial group against it," he added.

Commissioner John A. Dugan said most of his calls had been in favor of fluoridation.

The plan, as passed two weeks ago, authorizes the city manager

13 Michigan Solons OK Ike's Request

WASHINGTON (INS) — Thirteen of Michigan's 18 congressmen yesterday voted for the resolution granting President Eisenhower authority to use U. S. armed forces to protect Formosa from the Chinese Reds.

The other five members of Michigan's delegation either were absent or abstained from voting.

Those who did not vote included Reps. Hoffman (R); Rabaut (D); Knox (R); Bennett (R), and Dondero (R).

Rep. Clare Hoffman, one of those who did not vote, said:

"I think it is a declaration of war and I don't think the cost in lives will justify it."

He said he did not vote against the resolution because "I did not want to oppose the present administration."

Both Michigan senators, Charles Potter (R) and Patrick McNamara (D), were pledged to support the President's resolution when it comes before the Senate today.

Clergyman Gives C. of C. 3 Guides to Better World

"Jesus took 12 men and turned the world upside down," Dr. William H. Alexander told Pontiac Chamber of Commerce members last night in stressing his point that a few resolute people could start a movement which would better their whole community.

"Great things depend on a few persons who give themselves to an idea which results in lifting the whole to a new level," the Oklahoma City clergyman stated before 350 C. of C. members at the annual meeting in the Elks Temple.

"You know that we live in a perilous age where a hydrogen bomb blast could wipe out a country . . . We must ask ourselves if we are part of the answer or part of the problem . . .

"Whether we have a wholesome attitude, a self fit to live with, a world fit to live in and a philosophy fit to live by."

Action for good must come from within, he stated, and called for three things to bring this about.

First, intelligent thinking. "Not prejudiced thinking. We are even guilty of this in the church. We tell our young people not to do things, without giving them positive things to do.

"The question is not are young people going to dance, it's where they're going to dance. In a honky tonk or a boys' club?"

Intelligent thinking is not wishful thinking, he stated. Politics may be "dirty," but "they will get no better until you get in and do some sweeping, instead of just hoping it will cure itself."

The greatest harm to this country economically and morally, he asserted, "was bringing up a seg-

M'Arthur to Get New Accolades

Los Angeles Cheers as the General Arrives for 75th Birthday Events

LOS ANGELES (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur prepared to receive new accolades from this city today, his 75th birthday.

Not even the season's heaviest fog could dim the enthusiasm of the welcome for the hero of the Pacific last night. A crowd of 1,500 waited two hours for his delayed arrival at Los Angeles International Airport. Many more cheering thousands lined the route to his hotel.

At a luncheon given by the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles, he will receive an award for extraordinary merit from the Rt. Rev. Francis Eric Bloy, bishop of the diocese. He is expected to make a short, informal address to 1,100 persons in Biltmore Bowl.

His major address was scheduled for tonight at an American Legion dinner before more than 1,000 in the Ambassador Hotel's Embassy Room. Here, he will receive a four foot birthday cake decorated with 75 red, white and blue candles and toped with five gold stars—and perhaps a surprise or two.

As he steped from the plane last night, accompanied by his smiling wife and three aides from New York, MacArthur said:

"I come not as a stranger, but as one who has known your wonderful city for more than 50 years."

City May Vote on Realignment of Districts 1, 2, 3

Commissioners Order Proposal to Move Four Pontiac Precincts

After rescinding action taken last week, the City Commission last night ordered preparation for the spring election of a proposal calling for realignment of three city districts.

The move, proposed by Mayor William W. Donaldson (District 3), is intended to bring to closer balance the number of voters in each of the city's seven districts.

As proposed, the move would shift Precincts 4 and 39 from District 1 to District 2, and Precincts 30 and 31 from District 2 to District 3.

Donaldson presented statistics showing that Dr. Roy V. Cooley's district—1—has a voting population 30 per cent above the average in the seven districts. Donaldson's district is 30 per cent under the average. The average district has 5,670 voters.

District 2 (represented by Commissioner Harcourt S. Patterson) would gain a little more than 1 per cent.

If the proposal presented next week is approved, it will be presented for voters' approval April 4.

Last week, the Commission voted to send the proposal to the Charter Study Committee, which it planned to reactivate. Only Donaldson was against last week's move, which was made on Commissioner Floyd P. Miles' (District 4) motion.

Last night, only Miles of the six commissioners present dissented from the new move.

"This involves changes that should be made after study and not on the spur of the moment," he said.

The shift was suggested for the first time at last week's session.

Donaldson said the move would give proportional representation to all districts. "I feel my district is shrinking constantly while the others are expanding constantly," he said.

Trickery Helped Japs in Invasion of Tachens in '37

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese recalled with a chuckle today a bluff they ran on the Chinese 18 years ago near the Tachens—and passed it on for what it was worth today.

In 1937 a modest Japanese landing force, perhaps a regiment or two, went ashore near Hanchow in the Tachen area. Feeling a bit exposed, they ran up a giant balloon with a streamer in huge Chinese characters:

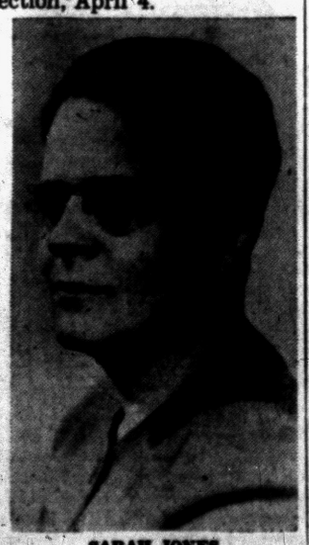

"Million - man Japanese army lands at Hanchow!"

They said it worked.

Rochester Woman Seeking Third Term on State Board

Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, 62, of Rochester, today announced her candidacy for re-election to a third term on the Michigan State Board of Agriculture on the Republican ticket in the spring election, April 4.

The board is the governing body of Michigan State College.

SARAH JONES

Miss Jones is MSC's delegate to the Assn. of Governing Boards of State Universities and Allied Institutions.

She became the second woman to be elected president of the group last November.

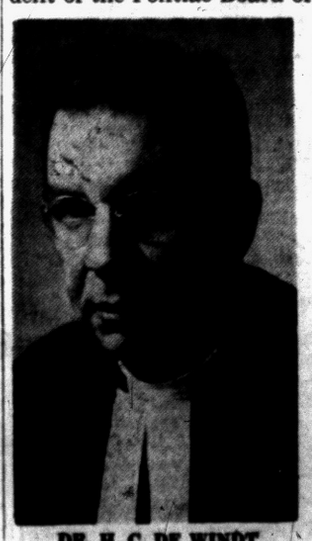

Miss Jones was first elected to the board in 1943 and was re-elected in 1949.

Known for her accomplishments in farm research throughout the state, she holds a doctor's degree in animal genetics from the University of Wisconsin.

138 Pontiac High Seniors Will Graduate Tomorrow

The commencement will be held at 8 p. m. in the boys' gymnasium of the high school. Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Pontiac Board of Education, will preside.

DR. H. C. DE WINDT

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac Schools, will present the diplomas to the 138 graduates.

The January class of seniors will be presented by John Thors Jr., high school principal who will also confer the special awards to outstanding class members.

Jack Porritt has served as president of this class and will be presented on the program. Other class officers include Carol Young, vice president; Patricia Ryder, secretary and Alice Weber, treasurer.

1st Inoculations Nearly Finished

County Immunization of Primary Pupils Enters 2nd Phase in February

The first phase of a countywide immunization program covering some 8,000 primary school students in Oakland County will be completed Tuesday, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director.

Teams from Oakland County Health Department have been visiting schools this month, giving inoculations for diphtheria and tetanus.

On a second round of the schools, beginning next month, booster shots will be given for the first two diseases, along with immunization for smallpox.

Schools already visited include South Lyon, New Hudson, Novi, Lee Brooks (Milford), Davisburg (Holly district), Union Lake, Ortonville, Bertha Baker (Lake Orion), Twin Beach (Walled Lake), Daniel Axford (Oxford), Leonard, Holly and St. William (Walled Lake).

Shots were administered this morning to children at Highland and Sashabaw (Clarkston) Schools. This afternoon the immunization team is at Glengary School in Walled Lake.

Inoculations are scheduled Tuesday morning at the new Walled Lake School and Commerce School. This will complete the first round.

Dr. Monroe said the county's immunization program is not meant to take the place of parents' responsibility to have their children inoculated by their family physician.

The free program, he explained, is intended to insure that all children attending school are immune, to lessen chances of spreading contagious diseases in classrooms.

Coldest Weather of Season Chills Much of Country

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The winter season's coldest weather chilled broad areas of the country today as a January cold wave showed no immediate sign of a breakup.

The Midwest got the stiffest sweep of the arctic air which moved out of central Canada and sent temperatures tumbling to zero and below again this morning.

The cold front extended as far south as central Florida and the eastern Gulf region early today with temperatures in the 30s.

Light snow or flurries fell over much of the northern area from the northern Rockies to western New York state. More snow was in prospect for most of the north central region. The snow in the East extended over eastern Ohio, northern West Virginia, western Pennsylvania and western New York.

In Germany, dense fog wrapped the North Sea coast today, bringing shipping and air traffic to a standstill.

There were 70 ships stalled on the Elbe River.

to purchase the necessary equipment for adding sodium fluoride to the water after April 15. The method is advocated as a means of reducing tooth decay, especially in youngsters.

In his arguments, Kahn said:

"Experts differ on the effect of fluorides on childen and on elderly people. It is admitted that it is toxic—that is, poison.

"Of course, poisons in small amounts may not be bad, but it has been charged that overdoses cause kidney, liver and other ailments, such as arthritis.

"It is not necessary for the Commission to take every piece of business before the public for a vote certainly. But water is everybody's business."

TIMED BY THE ATOM—Said to be the world's most accurate timing device, this "atomic clock" is the invention of Columbia University Professor Charles H. Townes, left, with assistance of Dr. J. P. Gordon, right. Called "Maser" for its function, "Microwave Amplification by Stimulated Emission of Radiation," it uses energy radiated by molecules of ammonia as its timing standard. Possible uses: Accurate measurement of earth's rotation, spectroscopic study of molecular structure, frequency modulation, and a role in navigation.

Sen. Broomfield Files Bill for Water Supply Survey

Oakland County's State Senator William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) today introduced a bill calling for a $100,000 appropriation to the Water Resources Commission to help finance joint state-local water supply surveys.

The measure is similar to one initiated by Broomfield previously which passed the House, but was vetoed by the Senate in April last year.

The first bill called for $37,500. The House approved $25,000 before the higher chamber killed the measure.

Broomfield's current plan would make any "combination of two or more counties, cities, villages or townships" eligible to participate if they lie "wholly or partially within an urbanized area of the state . . ."

"Urbanized area" would mean any city or village together with surrounding areas with a population density not less than 100 persons per square mile.

The surveys, of which the state would not pay more than half the cost, would include a review of water supplies and lead to recommendations toward solving the problem of dwindling reserves, Broomfield explained.

The Oakland County Supervisors' Inter-County Committee has proposed a five-county water authority for this area to include Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw and Monroe.

At last Friday's supervisors' meeting, the Inter-County Committee said they hoped to get outside financial aid for planning this area's future water supply.

The senator's bill might be worked out to make aid available to groups such as the proposed water authority, he stated.

The bill would allow the respective legislative bodies of units wishing to conduct surveys to "file a written request for a contract with the Water Resources Commission . . ." defining . . . the scope, objectives and need for such studies . . ."

The commission would give priority to areas with the greatest need. The area including Oakland County should be high on the priority list, said Broomfield.

"I have an understanding with the Water Resources Commission that the Oakland-Wayne area is the one to which the bill is primarily directed," Broomfield said. "But we need the support of citizens in the entire area to get the measure through."

The commission would enter into contracts for the surveys with the units selected. The state group would not begin the survey until local units involved had paid in their share of costs.

Ground water studies authorized would include, but not be limited to, drilling test wells, observation wells and conducting pumping tests.

Surface water studies allowable would include "engineering reports involving the treatment and transportation of surface water supplies." This, the senator said, would clear the way for a survey of possibility of bringing water from the Great Lakes into this area.

Although Pontiac has solved its immediate water problem by reconditioning old wells and building several new ones, City Manager Walter K. Willman says the long-range solution lies in bringing in water from an outside source.

Officers Disperse Crowd in Southfield

known whether anyone was struck by the bullets.

The injunction in force limits the picketing to six men.

Sheriff Frank Irons and six deputies assisted by a Southfield township policeman dispersed the group which had surrounded the plant.

International UAW-CIO representatives Jack Pearson at Local 157 headquarters in Detroit said the group of union men at the plant were only supporting the legal number of pickets, and did not engage in violence, or keep employes out of the building.

Pearson said company employes fired several shots from a shotgun, a .22 rifle, and a revolver, but no one was injured.

Pearson said the plant owner had signed an agreement to recognize the union as the bargaining agent for all of the shop's employes, but failed to negotiate for a contract, and fired a shop steward.

Oakland County Prosecutor Fred C. Ziem talked briefly this morning with the plant owner and his attorney.

Ziem called a meeting for 3 p. m. today of both union and firm employes, to hear both sides of the morning's fracas before considering whether any warrants should be issued for violation of the injunction.

Davidow said he plans to seek a court order for the union to show cause why they shouldn't be cited for contempt for violating the original restraining order.

UM to Continue 5-Year Search for Polio Drugs

ANN ARBOR (UP)—The Department of Epidemiology at the University of Michigan will continue its five-year search for drugs in treating paralytic polio.

University President Harlan Hatcher and Basil O'Connor, President of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, made the announcement jointly yesterday after the foundation authorized a new grant of $129,199 for the fifth year of the school's project.

Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. is chairman of the Epidemiology Department.

Man Is Killed Crossing Street

A 59-year-old man became Pontiac's first traffic fatality of the year, this morning.

Andrew F. Chunovich of 675 Cortwright St., was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital this morning after he was struck by a car at Oakland and Ojesta Aves., where he attempted to cross the street, according to Pontiac Police.

Police quoted the driver, Ethan A. Rogers, 52, of 470 Roseberry Ct., Drayton Plains, as saying:

"I was going south on Oakland avenue about 35 miles an hour. I passed a car which had pulled onto the shoulder and I was in the outside lane. I saw the pedestrian in front of my car and I couldn't stop in time to avoid the accident."

Rogers was scheduled to make a statement to the Oakland County Prosecutor's office today.

Chunovich, who police said was on his way to work, was hurled about 40 feet by the impact.

Lt. Joseph Koren, head of the traffic and accident bureau, said the last fatal accident which occurred in Pontiac was June 19, 1954.

"We had been hoping for a clean slate in 1955, because we were encouraged by the excellent record in the city up until this morning. We had five fatalities in 1954, which was quite an improvement over former years."

Chunovich was born in Yugoslavia November 27, 1895, the son of Joseph and Anna Chunovich and had lived in Pontiac 20 years.

Surviving are a son, Walter of Oak Park and a daughter, Mrs. Helen Jara of Southfield Township.

Two brothers also survive, John with whom he lived and Nicholis, both of Pontiac. Arrangements will be announced later by the Huntoon Funeral Home.

ment of the people to believe if they won't work the government will take care of them."

Intelligent thinking is not static thinking, Dr. Alexander said. "The Pontiac car wasn't developed by men who refused to try new ideas."

His second main point was, "Realize the sacred in life." The world is not "half sex and half cynicism," the doctor declared. "There are beautiful things in life which are real too."

His last point was, "Learn to reach right decisions." Say, "Here I stand simply because it's right.

"There is no problem, including world peace, that can't be taken care of by people who believe in their community and aren't afraid to give of themselves for that community," the clergyman said.

Before Dr. Alexander's speech, Chamber Manager Robert J. St. Clair summed up the year's accomplishments. "In 1954, Pontiac citizens showed a desire to accept community responsibility," he stated.

Outgoing President Milo J. Cross introduced this year's president, Ralph T. Norvell, who presented other 1955 officers. They are Dr. George N. Petroff, first vice president; Howard O. Powers, second vice president; Irving Steinman, secretary, and H. Wayne Gabert, treasurer.

Directors introduced, who completed their terms last year, were Hazen S. Atkins, Robert M. Glenn, Howard V. Heidenbrand, Robert S. Nelson, W. Charles Perkins and George M. Watson.

Toastmaster for the event was Bruce J. Annett. The invocation was given by the Rev. S. D. Gouvellis and musical slections were played by Clifford H. Weigand.

Lake St. Clair Tragedy Unites Boyhood Friends

DETROIT (UP)—A diver who recovered the body of a teenaged girl from Lake St. Clair discovered today she was the daughter of a boyhood pal he hadn't seen in years.

Eric Schmidt, a boatyard operator and professional diver from nearby Trenton, said the name of 15-year-old Carol Giacobazzi sounded familiar.

"So I checked up and found that her father, Fred Giacobazzi, lived next door to me in Carlinville, Ill.," Schmidt said. "He used to climb with me in our pear tree."

Carol, who lived with her parents in St. Clair Shores, drowned Monday when she fell through the ice while skating. Schmidt recovered the body yesterday.

Haiti President Arriving in U.S.

Ike Will Role Out Red Carpet When Magloire Lands Today

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower rolls out the red carpet today for the first of the free world's chief executives to visit Washington this year—Haiti's President Paul E. Magloire.

The Haitian chief executive will arrive at Washington's Military Air Transport terminal at 4 p.m. (EST) to begin a nine - day official visit to Nashville, Chicago and Boston.

President Magloire and Mrs. Magloire will be greeted at the airport by Vice President Richard Nixon and Mrs. Nixon. The couple will be accorded full military honors before taking the traditional Pennsylvania avenue parade route to the District building where they will receive the keys to the city, and then they will go to the White House.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower will greet them at the steps of the executive mansion and honor them at a state dinner at 8 p.m. The Magloires will be overnight guests at the White House before moving to Blair House on Thursday.

The 47-year-old chief executive, who took office in December 1950, is credited with having brought more progress to the Caribbean island republic in the last four years than in any previous period of its history.

Tourist business to the island has increased four times and substantial progress has been made in the construction of a project to irrigate 130,000 acres of land and furnish electric power for the island.

City Hall Will Close All Day Saturdays

Beginning Feb. 5, Pontiac City Hall will be closed Saturdays.

In order that employes still work a 40-hour week, office hours beginning Monday, Feb. 7, will be 8 a.m. to 5 p. m. daily.

The new plan was given the City Commission's tacit approval last night after it was presented by City Manager Walter K. Willman following the regular Commission meeting. Official action was not required.

Only exceptions to the new rule will be before elections and at tax collection time.

To comply with state law, the clerk's office will be open the last Saturday before an election. To handle crowds of taxpayers, the treasurer's collection office will remain open when necessary.

Rebel Surrender Lessens Tension in Latin America

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UP) — The threat of bloodshed between neighboring Costa Rica and Nicaragua subsided today after 300 Costa Rican rebels surrendered to internment in Nicaragua. An Inter-American Peace Commission postponed a planned Washington trip to finish its conciliation job.

The retreat of the insurgent remnants across the Nicaraguan frontier apparently marked the definite end of the two-week-old Costa Rican revolution. It came after the San Jose government ordered its troops into the now abolished neutral zone along the border with Nicaragua to hunt rebel holdouts.

Grand Rapids Snowfall Blamed in Purse Theft

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Grand Rapids' heavy snowfall played a key role in at least one crime, police said today.

Doris Hackett told police someone stole her purse after she laid it on the seat of her car for a minute while she went to the rear of the car to brush snow off the windows.

Denies Auto Theft

Charged with auto theft, Norman Smith, 18, of 3530 Maybee St., demanded examination yesterday when he appeared in Pontiac Municipal Court. Judge Maurice E. Finnegan ordered him held in the Oakland County Jail when Smith failed to post a $1,000 bond, pending the hearing Jan. 31.

Pontiac Deaths

Raymond M. Beadle

Raymond M. Beadle, 25, of 3701 Baldwin Rd. died yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after several weeks illness.

Born in Pontiac May 13, 1929, he was the son of Richard and Maizie Dods Beadle.

Mr. Beadle was a graduate of Pontiac High School and attended Spring Arbor Seminary and Ypsilanti State Normal College.

He was employed as bookkeeper in the Pontiac City Water Dept.

Surviving besides his parents, are a brother, Rex H. Beadel of Utica, and a sister, Ivaleen at home.

The funeral will be held Friday at 3 p.m. from the Sparks - Griffin Chapel. The Rev. Howard C. Artz, pastor of the Free Methodist Church which he attended, will officiate. Burial will be in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Pashko Gashy

Funeral service will be held Friday at 10 a.m. from St. Michael's Catholic Church for Mrs. Pashko (Katharina) Gashy, 60, of 230 Elm St. Burial will follow in Mount Hope Cemetery.

Mrs. Gashy was born in Hungary April 21, 1894. She came here from Cleveland 29 years ago and was a member of St. Michael's Catholic Church.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Anna Lang of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada; two cousins, Mrs. Katharina Nadensek and Mrs. Edward Nadensek, both of Cleveland.

Mrs. Gashy was found dead in her home Monday night.

Mrs. Robert Ryan

Prayer service will be held at 8 p. m. today at Sparks-Griffin Chapel for Mrs. Robert (Ruby Flo) Ryan, 32, of 52 Williams St. The Rev. Wesley R. Wibley of the First Assembly of God Church will officiate. After the service, Mrs. Ryan will be taken to Bloomfield, Mo. for service and burial.

Mrs. Ryan died Monday night in Pontiac General Hospital.

Mrs. William Schramm

Mrs. William (Minnie W.) Schramm, 83, of 306 Ferry Ave. died at her home after an illness of three months.

Born in Mt. Clemens Jan. 30, 1871, she was the daughter of August and Theresia Schultz and was married there in 1887.

Mrs. Schramm was a member of St. Trinity Lutheran Church and came here 44 years ago from Mt. Clemens.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Howard Frost, Mrs. Harry Lutz, Mrs. David Meyer, four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Two sisters, both of Mt. Clemens, Anna Schultz and Mrs. Emma Peters, also survive.

The funeral will be held Friday at 2 p. m. from the St. Trinity Lutheran Church with the Rev. Ralph C. Claus officiating. Burial will follow in Clinton Grove Cemetery at Mt. Clemens.

Mrs. Schramm will be at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home until noon Friday when she will be taken to the church for service.

Planning Board Continues Discussion of Basic Goals

BIRMINGHAM — Doing for the third time what they set out to do over a year ago, Planning Board members last night again took up committee discussion on the board's long range policies and objectives.

Planning Director Robert Boatman said the business district, street system and parks and open space classifications were under consideration. "All these things are so interrelated, the board would like to make a complete presentation to the public, of just what it hopes to ultimately accomplish," Boatman said.

Convenient, desirable shopping facilities, efficient means of moving traffic within the city and providing routes for traffic which will by-pass the city, plus a park and recreation system to satisfy all ages briefly outlines last night's activities, said Boatman.

To expedite completion of a report showing goals of the board, members will begin holding committee sessions every third Tuesday of the month, in addition to the regular fourth-Tuesday - of - the - month meeting. Five zone changes were to be considered at the next public meeting.

Aetna Drivequiz, a new highway saftey quiz, has been making the rounds in Birmingham, and successfully, too, according to Police Lt. Henry Timm.

Not only schools, but private businesses here have put out the automatic quiz box to a test. But the real test is based on the three scoring brackets, an indicator of how much study is needed after the 20 true-false questions have been answered in five minutes time.

Timm said the students showed average or above average ability in the Drivequiz, one of six made available to selected communities. It is being circulated by the Police Department through Albert W. Bates, Aetna Insurance agent.

The general alarm was sounded last night when fire broke out at Birmingham High School. Winds had whipped flames from a salamander onto a straw and canvas covering protecting fresh cement work going on in the new addition, Fire Chief Vernon W. Griffith said, but damage was negligible.

Twenty minutes before that, firemen responded to a call at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Schafer, 603 Suffield. Griffith said painters had left a can of volatile paint thinner in the basement the day before, which burst into flames when a match was struck in the room.

Schafer, who carried the flaming tin outside, was treated for burns of the hand at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

Red Peace Act Perplexes Bonn

Cabinet Mulls Soviet Announcement Ending State of War

BONN, Germany (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Cabinet met today to consider Russia's surprise announcement ending the state of war with both the Communist and anti-Communist parts of Germany.

The question: "What does it mean? A lot or nothing?" overshadowed the Cabinet's routine business in Bonn's first official step to evaluate the latest Russian move. The Western Allies took the same step in 1951.

Adenauer himself is still on vacation in the Black Forest but is due to return to the capital tomorrow.

Allied and German officials agreed that the Russian statement was another shot in its vigorous campaign to prevent West German ratification of the Paris agreements with the Western Allies to rearm the Bonn republic.

Officials in Washington and Paris took the same view.

But it was not yet clear what practical effects the Soviet declaration would have. Speculation in German and Allied circles ranged from the possibility of a new Berlin blockade to a Russian retreat from Germany.

interest of the nation's security," the President said of the House action. His comment was relayed through White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former 8th Army commander in Korea, said today the only change he sees in the President's Formosa policy is that it "virtually tells the Reds to go ahead and take the offshore islands."

The retired general said that as he sees it the Formosa policy resolution merely "restated in formal language what we have been doing all along" while additionally giving "the green light" to the Communists to take the island outposts of Formosa.

James W. Clapp Injured When Struck by Car

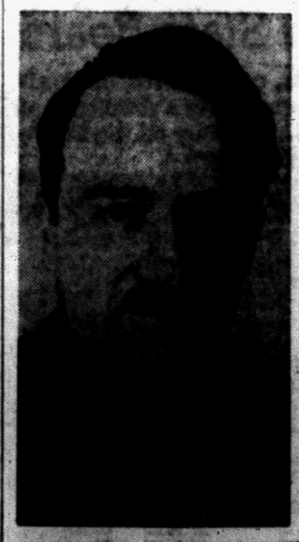

James W. Clapp, 79, of 154 S. Johnson St., was treated for minor injury at Pontiac General Hospital Tuesday when he was hit by a car driven by Joseph E. Wolfe, 16, of 115 Wayne St., at Huron and Perry Sts.

Pontiac Police quoted Wolfe as saying he was unable to see the pedestrian as he stepped from the curb. Wolfe told police that a car turned in front of him obscuring his vision.

Three Await Sentencing in Home Loan Frauds

DETROIT (UP)—Three persons named as principals in FHA home loan improvement frauds today awaited sentencing after changing their pleas to guilty yesterday in Federal Court.

Federal Judge Frank Picard said the three, Wallace Helles and his wife, Doris, and Paul Stradtner, all of Detroit, would be sentenced next week.

said the warship was the target of eight 500-pound bombs "most of which hit their mark." Pilots reported heavy explosions and big fires after the bombs hit.

The official Central News Agency said the total lack of Communist activity yesterday might mean the Reds are preparing for a large-scale attack on one or more of the Nationalist's island outposts.

Seventh Fleet units bolstered by four carriers of the Essex class were in position to cover a withdrawal when the signal is given. Sources said such a signal would come from Washington after the Nationalist government had notified the United States formally that it wants to pull out.

In Long Beach, Calif., the Navy announced that three heavy cruisers and eight destroyers are scheduled to leave Feb. 8 for the Far East. Rear Adm. Roland M. requirements of our air defense and retaliatory forces."

The continental defense program, Wilson said, is being "pushed with all practical speed" and he predicted early development of improved radar, piloted and pilotless planes of all ranges and better submarine devices.

The Air Force, he said, is aiming for 131 wings, over 23,000 planes and 975,000 men by mid-1956, "four more combats wings than the Air Force planned one year ago."

FILM PAIR TO WED—Actress Julie Adams and Actor Ray Danton are pictured at Universal-International Studio, as they announced they planned to be married on March 20. Julie recently changed her first name from Julia because she thought it sounded "old maidish." Miss Adams was divorced in 1953 from screen writer Leonard Stern. It will be Danton's first marriage.

Gregory Peck Returns to Hollywood—Alone

Asked if Veronique Passani, 22, a newspaperwoman, would come over here later, Peck said on arrival yesterday, "there are no such plans at present."

During Peck's seven months' absence his wife, Mrs. Greta Konen Peck won an interlocutory divorce decree and custody of their three sons.

Says Actress to Ask Barrymore Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Barrymore Jr., 22, will be named today in a divorce suit filed by redheaded former actress Cara Williams, 28, her attorney says.

Milton Golden said yesterday she will charge extreme cruelty and will ask custody of their 9-month-old son, John Barrymore III, and reasonable support.

The couple was married Dec. 23, 1952 in Las Vegas, Nev. She formerly was married to jockey Alan Gray. This is Barrymore's first marriage.

Work on Animal Shelter Set to Begin This Spring

Work on a new shelter for the Michigan Animal Rescue League Inc. will begin this spring, it was announced at the group's meeting Tuesday in Hotel Roosevelt.

William A. Brown, Rochester, president of the Oakland County humane organization, said construction of facilities for the group's rescue and placement operations would get under way as soon as weather permits.

Site for the shelter will be a tract at Featherstone road and East boulevard, which the league recently purchased from the City of Pontiac.

Adequate facilities for housing about 100 animals will be installed at first, with plans for later expansion.

The shelter project, like all other activities of the non-profit corporation, is being financed through contributions and proceeds from the sale of used items at the unit's resale shop, 297 Oakland. Members also conduct an antique sale each year at Will-O-Way summer theater, E. Long Lake road.

Since the league was organized in May 1953, the original eight founders have continued to function as the executive board. Now, however, the group has over 600 members and carries on a county-wide program, returning lost pets to owners and finding homes for stray dogs and cats.

They also investigate reports of cruelty and neglect, as well as handling other matters involving animals.

Officers of the league, in addition to Brown, are Dr. Campbell Harvey of Orchard Lake, a Pontiac physician, vice president; Mrs. Martin Davis, Rochester, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruth Townsend, Pontiac, financial secretary; Mrs. Robert J. Bartlett, Oxford, treasurer; Miss Georgia Hoyt, Mrs. David Turner and B. J. Edwards Jr., all of Pontiac, directors.

Mrs. Martin said the league plans a fund drive this spring to raise additional capital for the shelter project. "We feel there is a definite need for an animal shelter operated wholly and completely by a humane group," she added, "and we are determined to have one."

The league will meet again next month.

Stress Payroll Savings Plan

Treasury Asks State's Residents to Boost '55 Bond Purchases

GRAND RAPIDS—A fist full of savings bonds in the hand of every wage earner is one good safeguard in every community against an economy of ups and downs, according to Earl O. Shreve, national director of the U.S. Treasury's savings bonds division.

Speaking before a group of 150 industrialists and bankers from Kent, Allegan, Muskegon, Barry, and Ionia counties last night, the treasury director officially kicked-off a community wide payroll savings drive for the regular purchase of savings bonds.

Shreve said Michigan residents went over their 1954 savings bonds sales goal. State-wide purchases last year in the popular E and H savings bonds were $302,793,000.

"Americans now own over $38 billion in series E and H savings bonds," he pointed out. "The important fact about this figure is not that it represents the highest amount ever held in saving bonds by individual Americans, but rather that it represents a tremendous back-log of liquid savings to be used in financial emergencies, or to purchase goods and services for which individuals saved 10 years ago.

Shreve said that the treasury is asking Americans to set aside $5.5 billion this year in series E and H savings bonds. Michigan's goal is $321.8 million, and 58.710 more payroll savers.

"We would like to have the majority of these purchases come through the payroll savings plan in companies and businesses like yours," he told his audience. "To the extent that you as employers and top management officials encourage savings bond purchases and promote the payroll savings plan, to that extent will you be building in your community a reservoir of spending power that will benefit your community in years to come."

Hit-Run Pedestrian

CATLETTSBURG, Ky. (AP) — A man leaving the tavern where George A. Baker's car was parked slipped on a patch of ice and fell against Baker's car, making a small dent in its side. Then he walked away without speaking. Baker reported the incident to Policeman James Prince, who charged it to a "hit and run pedestrian."

Estimates by the U. S. forest service now place the total known stand of Ponderosa pine at approximately 250 billion feet.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Vehicle Sales Total 6,600,824

Over 5 Million Autos Included in '54 Figures for U. S. Plants

DETROIT (AP)—The nation's auto plants sold 6,600,824 motor vehicles in 1954, the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. reported today.

The total included 5,558,739 passenger cars, 1,038,946 trucks and 4,039 coaches. In passenger car volume 1954 became the third best year in automotive history.

In 1953 the industry's factory sales consisted of 6,116,948 cars, 1,262,209 trucks and 4,057 coaches.

The association's report showed that 206,544 passenger cars, 194,595 trucks and 337 coaches were shipped to foreign markets last year. In 1953 exports accounted for 186,262 cars, 138,615 trucks and 326 coaches.

The 1954 record included a December production volume of 669,778 cars, 96,234 trucks and buses. This was the third highest monthly total in history and the third highest in industry records.

Coeds' Appeal Sends Sailors Into Stampede

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP)—Girls at Northern Illinois State Teachers College asked the Navy to export 15 sailors for their next dance Feb. 11. Some sailors almost got killed in the rush.

The Great Lakes Naval Training Center newspaper Friday carried a letter from coeds at Williston Hall at Northern, situated at Dekalb. The girls said not enough men are showing up for their dances and asked for 15 sailors for the next dance. It added:

"We future teachers of America need this as a morale booster. We really aren't bad-looking. It's just that there aren't any 'men' on the campus."

Lt. R. W. Burnu, special services officer, said he had hundreds of volunteers. He said they took the first 15 sailors who volunteered and then hung out the "so sorry" sign.

The chipping squirrel or hackee always carries four nuts in the pouches of its jaws on each journey to its storehouse.

CIO Council President Serves Community

Civic responsibility such as serving and participating for the betterment of your own community is a virtue more of us should practice today. Giving freely of his time is Fred V. Haggard, president of the Oakland County CIO Council.

Mr. Haggard was recently reappointed to serve a second five year term on the city's Fair Employment Practices Board. The board is empowered to hear and seek adjustment of complaints of unfair employment practice within the city based on race, creed, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

Since 1937 Haggard has been active in local union affairs, serving first as financial secretary of the Fisher Body Local 596, UAW. He was first elected president of the CIO Council in 1951. He is now in his second term as its president.

Only last August Mr. Haggard found time to accept an added responsibility when he was elected to serve as a Board of Trustees member for the Pontiac Foundation, and he is a member of the Pontiac Area United Fund Board.

Aside from the above mentioned jobs he still has found time to be active in the Urban League, Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and other social and fraternal organizations.

Working together for a common cause is one of the attributes which will lead to a more understanding way of life and a better all around community spirit.

We believe Fred Haggard has accomplished this in Pontiac. The community at large recognizes and appreciates this service.

If more of us would take the time to look around and see where he or she could best serve the community we would lead a happier life and be an inspiration for others to do the same.

Income Forms Baffling

Looked at your income tax blank yet?

If you haven't, prepare for a shock. Above all, sit down before you start inspecting the new form 1040. On it will be found the reasons why there is a rising tide of complaints at the income tax office in Washington.

It's all because, say some critics, no one can understand either the form itself or the directions for filling it out. Form 1040 is the one to be used by many lower income persons and by all taxpayers with incomes of $5,000 or more or with any income from investments.

Some of the trouble, according to U. S. News & World Report, is due to the many changes made in the law by Congress. Another factor is the short time the Internal Revenue Service had to prepare the forms after enactment of the new law August 16. They had to be in the hands of the printer by the end of September.

There's even trouble ahead as far as the users of punch card form 1040A are concerned. Instead of getting the punch card forms from the District Director as required, many taxpayers are filling out the sample sent them. As a result elaborate plans for the machine handling of 1040A returns may have to be abandoned.

Before you make out 1040, study it carefully, check and double check every item and then pray that next year's forms will be much easier to understand.

Constitutional Proposals

That our Founding Fathers were wise in making it difficult to amend the Constitution is emphasized in every new session of Congress.

By the end of the fifth day of this session no less than 59 proposals for changes in the Nation's basic law had been dropped into Congressional hoppers. This compares with the 61 submitted at the start of the 83rd Congress.

Had it not been for the difficulty in getting amendments approved, our Constitution long since would have become unrecognizable. As it is an amendment requires two-thirds approval of the Senate and House and ratification by three-fourths of the states. The result is that very few even get through Congress.

There were no surprises in this year's batch of proposed amendments. Eleven of them, including the revived Bricker proposal, would limit the President's treaty power. Nine urge new methods of electing Presidents and nine propose guarantees of equal rights for women.

Five amendments aim at giving members of the House of Representatives four year terms. Five would reduce the voting age to 18. Among 20 other amendments, one would ban foreign aid except during war. Another would prohibit any Federal appropriations for the general welfare and a third would limit Federal income taxes to 25 per cent.

"Adenauer believes the world would have permanent peace if the atomic bomb were outlawed." — Press report. Most of us, however, believe that in order to achieve permanent peace it would be necessary to outlaw all weapons of war back to and including the bow and arrow.

J. P. Barden Offers Solution to Location and Financing of New County Courthouse

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Most people in Oakland County agree that something must be done soon about the present overcrowded, inconvenient firetrap that we have for a courthouse. It is my belief that the courthouse should be located right where it is. Here is my solution to the problem:

The county engineer's office could draw up plans for a modern five-story building. The first floor designed with store fronts facing Saginaw, Huron and Wayne streets to be rented to commercial businesses. The rent from this first floor would, in about 20 years, pay off bonds sold to build such a building.

It wouldn't be too big an engineering fete to move the present vaults now in use by the Register of Deed's office and the County Clerk's office to the basement of the new building.

Wants Junk Mail Halted and Taxes Reduced

I think that Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield ought to do a real job while he is eliminating his junk mail program and eliminate it on rural routes and in towns where there is no house delivery, as well as on city routes.

We are interested in reducing our taxes as well as in eliminating the nuisance of this unsolicited mail. Let's go the whole way, Mr. Summerfield, and get our mail service on a business basis. There are a lot of us who want our tax load lightened.

Maintain Healthy Diet Rather Than Fluoridate

A healthy human being is built according to eternal laws that never change and by eating nutritious foods that man has not processed.

White flour and its products, white sugar and its candy products, cola drinks, ice cream and many other foods and drinks have all been processed to a vast extent and will not build a healthy human being.

What affects one part of the body, affects all other parts. If a person's teeth are in bad condition, other parts of the body are likewise.

The highly processed foods listed are terrific destroyers of teeth, bones, and all other parts of the body. Putting fluorine, an inorganic poison, in drinking water will not build strong teeth nor bodies.

Fluorine is only used for two things; rat poison and the etching of glass. If it will etch glass, what will it do to your body?

Let's correct the cause of bad teeth and not just treat the effect of a bad diet.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Millions of Boys, Girls Let Themselves Become Slaves to Physical Defects

Are you shy because of some supposed physical defect? Then read my advise to Dave and never run away from people. Instead, be a rebel! Start a revolution. Assert your freedom from such slavery to your big nose or ears or mouth or freckles, etc. Memorize the technique outlined below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-333: Dave L., aged 19, is a shy college student.

"Dr. Crane, you can probably guess my problem," he began and pointed to his prominent nose.

"People make fun of me about my proboscis. I've even been kidded by being called an elephant. And it has made me so shy that I shun parties. For people talk about me behind my back.

"I'm sure no girl would go out on a date with me, but I am hungry for good times like other people enjoy.

"Would it be impossible for plastic surgery to reduce the size of my nose and would you recommend it?"

Plastic surgery can do wonders in transforming facial appearance and it can always be invoked as a last resort.

But most of you people exaggerate your supposed defect. This is not so unusual for you see it 100 times per day whereas the general public views it only occasionally.

Dave has lost his proper perspective. Whenever he looks at his face in the mirror, he immediately focuses on his nose.

It is large but nothing abnormal, although Dave thinks it is a mountain.

We psychologists talk about the cripple complex. It refers to this distortion of perspection which almost everybody tends to develop who has some defect.

Millions of boys and girls are letting themselves become psychological slaves of their freckles or noses or busts or thick ankles or ears or blushing faces or stuttering, etc.

Such victims should rebel and declare a revolution. For nobody should permit himself to become a slave to any segment of his anatomy.

Here are a few psychological rules to follow in your revolt:

(1) Laugh at yourself and capitalize on your supposed defect. Don't you recall how Jimmy Durante has thus attained fame and fortune by capitalizing on his snozzle" or large nose?"

Joe E. Brown and Martha Raye are two other movie stars who have used their facial characteristics to good advantage instead of hiding away and wincing when they meet peeople.

Develop a snappy comeback when people kid you. If they ask, "Whered you get that big snoozle?" then laugh and reply: "By sticking it into other people's business."

If you are fat and they kid you on this score, laugh and retort, "Well, just remember that there's more of me to love," or else reply, "Well, we fat folks give off more heat in winter and more shade in summer."

If people laugh at you and tease you, actually this is an asset, for you have a head start in winning friends and popularity. For when you make people laugh, they feel happier and hence will want you in the party.

Shortsighted teenagers don't realize that they have a natural asset when people tease them. For the teasers letdown and aren't on guard. They feel more comfortable. They also feel superior in ego and that's the first step in winning their friendship.

(3) Join the "Compliment Club" and thus turn your attention off self by looking for virtues in other people. Then pay your companions sincere praise. This keeps their ego further inflated.

You folks in the same boat with Dave will find that you can win sweethearts and friends very easily, without recourse to plastic surgery, if you'll simply get wise to psychology, and quit feeling sorry for yourself.

Send for my "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope plus a dime.

Aunt Het

Sometimes I wish I was important like the President. He goes to bed and cures a cold, and folks like me never have time.

David Lawrence Says:

Formosa Fighting Kindles New Unity in Washington

WASHINGTON — The atmosphere of non-partisanship here in dealing with military and international affairs at this moment is perhaps the most significant piece of news in many years.

Maybe it's the awareness of crisis in the world, maybe it's the realization at last that American strength if properly reflected in foreign policy can deter and prevent aggression, and maybe it's the confident belief that firmness and policies based on principle will in the present emergency result in less rather than more aggression, but there is a distinct change in Washington.

Passage by the House by a virtually unanimous vote of a resolution to give the President power to use the armed forces in the Far East when he deems it necessary is a dramatic display of unity.

Maybe the warnings during the last political campaign have made the Democrats disinclined to yield to the temptation to play politics with international policy, though it remains to be seen whether the example set by the House will be followed by the Senate.

Already rumblings are heard there and the next 48 hours will tell the story of whether the Senate will go along or undo some of the progress made toward bi-partisan unity in the House.

Some Democratic senators are arguing that the President doesn't need the power because presumably he possesses it inherently. Others are saying the power should be qualified. But there can be no persuasive argument against the plea that whether the President needs the authority or not, the whole world will be impressed if both houses of Congress by overwhelming vote have spoken out clearly in support of the President's message warning Communist China.

The main thing now is for the Congress to assert its courage and show its readiness to protect the defense line in the Far East as set forth by the President. For China is not a powerful military nation and it is questionable whether the Soviet Union will care to become involved in Asia and run the risk of being in trouble in Europe at the same time.

Historically the Russians dislike intensely the idea of any two-front war. That's why they hesitated to engage Japan in World War II until Hitler was decisively beaten.

Some phases of Russia's vacillating attitude are involved in a report just issued by the Senate internal security subcommittee which is a part of the Senate Judiciary Committee. This report was unanimously agreed to and was signed by Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, Eastland of Mississippi, Olin Johnston of South Carolina, Democrats, and by Sen., Jenner of Indiana, Watkins of Utah, Welker of Idaho and Butler of Maryland, Republicans.

These seven members of the committee reported some important conclusions regarding the conduct of the war in Korea. They write that the testimony of our senior military commanders was that "victory in Korea was possible and desirable." They go on to say that all the commanders were in the European theater first, and "none was a MacArthur man" in the sense of having served under him during World War II.

The conclusion reached by Gens. Mark Clark, Van Fleet, Almond, and Stratemeyer as well as Adm. Joy after personal observation in Korea was "that the action required to achieve victory would not have resulted in World War III." None of them feared Russian entry.

Another pertinent conclusion of the military commanders was that "political considerations were permitted to overrule military necessities" in Korea and that "possible subversion, wishful thinking, European orientation, and Allied pressure" denied victory to the U. N. forces.

These military chiefs pointed out that there is need for clarification of the role of the United States in "a U. N. war" and that this ought to be satisfactorily accomplished "before the United States again commits its forces, its prestige and its vital interest in another U. N. military engagement."

The committee unanimously recommends that "the proper sphere for political decisions in the conduct of war should be outlined and the area of military operations to be conducted by professionals should be defined," so that "political interference in the conduct of hostilities and the negotiation of a military armistice should be eliminated."

These are strong words from a bi-partisan committee, and the lessons of the Korean War experience may have a bearing in the direction of any military operations which the U. N. may order in the future in Asia or Europe.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

Job by job Alben Barkley is writing his autobiography on glass doors.

Our exclusive specimen of reformed veepees will next rattle his charm bracelet on the Committee of Foreign Relations. This is the committee that investigates committees.

The State Department brought me up with a U-turn for suggesting Foster Dulles was responsible for sending the Athletics to Kansas City. Now they expect the Barker to straighten out that Willie Mays-Ruben Gomez embrawlio in Porto Rico.

Our foreign relations have been strained like baby food. The Barker's first job will be to turn a couple of hats around. Convince Syngman Rhee the grass is just as green on his side of the 38th Parallel. And switch Adenauer's bird dog around so it points north and south.

He may fine Chiang Kai-shek half the distance of Formosa and stop that French nonsense of drinking milk. The Barker can do it. He has the only smile in Washington that you don't have to hold up with toothpicks.

We have briefed Alben on the amicable solution of either foreign or domestic relations. We do the visiting.

That smile of Alben's is smoother than waffle syrup. When he was shilling for F. D. R. he made more friends than the national chairman could pay off.

The Barker may speak with a drawl but he listens sharp.

After some of his early Kentucky elections the Mau Maus should be softer than blue blankets. We're not so sure about the Huk Huks and the Veet Veets. Looks like a lot of duplicate effort.

Tabulation of All Tonsillectomy Fatalities Would Appall Parents, Reduce Surgery

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

From the continuing high mortality which tonsillectomy maintains in Yankeeland—a statistical tabulation of the fatalities from this atrocity, mostly young children, if one had the time or the inclination to record them, would appall sentient parents, might even cause some to put off the proposed tonsillectomy till next summer or autumn — when, likely as not, "those bad tonsils" the everready operators insist "must come out without delay" will have shrunk to normal anyway.

That is, if the kids are permitted to play outdoors as much as they wish, rain, hail, warm, cold, damp, snow, blow, cloud or sunshine.

Ay, there's the rub. Few parents know enough (about hygiene) to give their children free reign about this. Either they regard their children as idiots in capable of knowing whether they are comfortable or they go along with the medical authorities holdovers from the nineteenth century—who still imagine simple everyday "exposure" to cold, dampness, draft, change etc., accounts for whatever illnesses they are unable to diagnose accurately.

Every day I thank God for blessings bestowed on those I love and ask for the wisdom and patience I need to make doctors and folks understand the difference between tonsillectomy and tonsillotomy.

Tonsillectomy means an attempt to remove every bit of tonsil tissue from the throat. I say the attempt because nine times out of ten more or less tonsil tissue remains after the operation.

Tonsillotomy means snipping off the obstructing portion of tonsil, instantaneously.

Upon unconsciousness, unawareness, ignorance of the histology and pathology of the tonsils the businessmen of medicine have developed their peculiar belief that it is tonsil tissue (lymphoid, round-cell, adenoid) tissue in itself that injures health.

If tonsil tissue were malignant extensive dissection of the throat in the attempt to eradicate it, as in tonsillectomy, would be rational treatment. Perhaps the most convincing evidence that it is not malignant or harmful in any way is the everyday observation of odds and ends of tonsil which remain intact long after tonsillectomy.

The sales talk of the trick specialist who boasts that he "gets all the tonsil" is for gullible customers.

Signed letters not more than one page or 300 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to diseases, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

You Can't Blame A-Bombs or TV for Lousy Weather

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—Try yourself on this true or false list:

A-bombs have changed our weather.

A-bombs or H-bombs could be used to stop hurricanes.

More television is causing changes in our weather.

You score 100 if you replied false to each one, take it from D. Lee Harris, of the Scientific Services Division, U.S. Weather Bureau, Washington.

He told the American Meteorological Society today of studies which find no effect on wind, temperature or rainfall from A-bomb tests. There might be brief local effects, as from the big cloud which forms, but nationally any effects are insignificant, he said.

One effect might be to make lightning less severe, by increasing the electrical conductivity of the air, but that is mighty hard to prove. Anyhow, taking any sting out of lightning would be good.

Harris and Lester Machta published their findings last week in the magazine Science, and Harris added some sidelights in an interview.

He said he spent six weeks after the 1953 A-bomb tests in Nevada answering letters and calls from people who said (A) that the bombs were lousing up weather, (B) asking if the bombs affected weather.

And there were a number of people who figured that more TV broadcasting was causing more rain, drought or whatever else it was they didn't like.

As for A-bombs or H-bombs as antidotes for a howling hurricane, Harris cites some squelching figures:

Condensation of moisture to form rain releases energy, and the energy released over an entire hurricane is equal to the energy of 2½ Hiroshima A-bombs every second.

WALLY THE WALRUS

When you put Wally the Walrus on a cake of floating soap, he will look just like a real walrus who travels on a cake of ice in the Arctic Sea. The walrus, whose name really means "whale-horse," uses his long tusks to help gather clams, oysters and other shellfish.

1. With crayons, you can color the walrus light brown and give him dark brown whiskers. Leave the tusks white.

2. Paste this picture on stiff paper. Cut out the two parts. Paste the front and back parts of the walrus' head together. Do not paste the bottom part or the legs. Then spread the two parts of the body apart and Wally will sit up. Put him on a cake of floating soap and he will look like a real walrus.

Gamblers Said to Use Windsor

Canadian City Thought to Be Banking Center for Detroit Racketeers

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit and Windsor authorities are said to have found that the Ontario city is being used as a banking center by Detroit numbers racketeers who want to escape U. S. income taxes on gambling winnings.

It was learned that the Detroit Police Rackets Squad and the Special Investigations Squad of the Windsor Police had been joined by income tax agents from both countries and had found a deposit of $168,000 cash in a safety box of a Windsor bank.

It was rumored that the box was held in the name of a well-known Detroit numbers racketeer.

The case broke Dec. 31 when 42-year-old Henry Cornish, who has a long gambling record, was jailed after customs inspectors, acting on a tip from Windsor Police, discovered $5,000 cash under the front seat of his auto.

Four days later Cornish was released on bail, but he was re-arrested coming across the river again, this time on foot, with another $5,000 on his person. Arrested with him was Earl Cousins, reported to be a former secretary of one-time heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis.

Cornish's car and the money were seized and both men are now out on bail.

After the first arrest, police evidently found the key to the safety deposit box while searching Cornish's Detroit home.

George Twemlow, chief investigator of the Detroit Income Tax Division, said he was familiar with the situation and would do everything in his power to bring the case into court.

Inspector Clayton Nowlin, head of the Detroit Vice Squad, admitted his group was investigating but refused to give details.

GI Hero Swaps Gold Bars for Sergeant Rank

NEW YORK (AP) — Jake William Lindsey, whose heroism in World War II won him a Medal of Honor, is a master sergeant again after wearing a second lieutenant's bars for more than two years.

The 33-year-old soldier gave up his commission when he returned from Germany last week and was discharged. He was sworn back into the service as a master sergeant yesterday.

"I'm just a sergeant at heart," he commented.

"I just think I can do a better job in the Army as a sergeant. I talk like a sergeant. If you are an officer, that kind of talk don't go with recruits in the new Army."

Lindsey, who commanded an infantry platoon in Germany, said he hopes to get back with the para-troopers. He served with them in Korea before being commissioned at Ft. Benning, Ga., in 1952.

Except for a year and a half after World War II and the five days between his discharge and yesterday's re-enlistment when he signed up at his home town of Shubuta, Miss., Lindsey has been in the Army since 1940.

A routine physical examination turned up the possibility that Lindsey might have diabetes and almost wrecked his re-enlistment plans. Authorities, however, soon decided this would not apply to a Medal of Honor winner.

Faces Cruelty Count in Ice-Cube Surgery

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—A man accused of using a shoemaker's needle and an ice cube anesthetic to close a gash in a boy's head faced court action today on a charge of cruelty to children.

He is Howard C. Dale, 47, who was named in a second warrant with Eleanore J. Billeter, 33, on a morals charge.

Police said Dale dipped a needle in alcohol and sewed up a gaping head wound on Mrs. Billeter's 10-year-old son last month after the boy fell on ice. They said Dale also had mistreated the boy in other ways in recent months.

There's a new zip to Dynaflow*
— and better gas mileage to boot!

This is something you really ought to try.

Even though you may be familiar with earlier versions of Dynaflow Drive—either from personal experience or from hearsay—you owe it to yourself to press the pedal of a 1955 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflow.

Just as simple as ever to operate—easier, in fact, with the new positioning of the lever.

Just as smooth as ever, with nary a lag, halt or hesitation throughout the speed range.

But brother!—hang on to your hat when you call for action!

Because that's what you get, instantly.

Because twenty power blades inside the very heart of this wondrous automatic transmission switch their pitch for get-away performance—much like the airplane's propeller is angled for take-off.

It's as simple as that—but far more thrilling than words can tell.

And it's a big boon to your gasoline money, too. For, just as the plane's propeller changes pitch aloft for greater fuel efficiency in cruising, so the Dynaflow "propellers" change pitch to deliver a lot more miles per gallon in normal driving and cruising.

Come in and try it—this week. You'll find it harnessed to the highest V8 horsepowers in Buick history—and housed in the bold new styling that says Buick and nothing but.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Hal Boyle Says:

Como Stays Easy-Going by Turning Down Money

NEW YORK (AP)—Do you think it would help you to relax if you had a chance to earn $250,000 this year above your regular income—and you turned it down?

Well, Perry Como turns down that kind of extra money every year. It is one of the ways he avoids tension.

"Money is important only to a point," he said somberly. "Then you have to work for other things."

Perry gave up a $125 a week income as a barber shop proprietor for a $28 a week job with a band because he wanted to sing. Today his vocal chords bring him some $900,000 a year. He makes this sum from his CBS TV and radio shows and his recordings.

He takes eight weeks off each year. By working four of those weeks in top drawing movie houses in New York and Chicago he could pick up a guaranteed $250,000 more. Each year Como rejects the offer.

"You can only wear one suit at a time," he says.

Millions of Americans envy his talent or income less than they do his air of utter relaxation. But behind his easy going manner lies an aptitude for hard work.

"We do a lot of rehearsing," he remarked, "when you know where you're going and why, you can afford to feel relaxed.

Como is both one of the simplest and most complex figures in show business. He has a strong religious nature and his friends says he attends church almost daily. He draws a pretty rigid line between his public life and his home life.

"There's nothing wrong with show business," he said, "but I want to keep my kids normal kids I don't want to subject them to a lot of commotion. I want to keep them apart from it. They've got their school work to do. That's the most important thing for them right now."

He and his wife share an old-fashioned theory on how to raise children:

"Just love them every day, and when they need a good whacking give it to them. But they don't need it very often. They're good kids. Usually just telling them what you expect of them is enough. Sometimes I worry for fear they don't cause enough trouble. I don't want them to become regimented."

Perry and his wife take a two-week vacation each year apart from their children. The other six weeks the family spend together.

"Some times I still give the kids a haircut," he said. "but not very often They're not very good tippers."

In the last 10 years Como has turned out eight records that sold more than a million apiece, a mark exceeded only by Bing Crosby, who has been in the big time twice as long.

Because of his solid success and his happy home life Perry is something of an idol to young singers who find themselves popular overnight. They bring their personal problems to him.

"But what can I do for them except maybe give them a haircut or buy them a cup of coffee," Como said. "You can't solve another person's problems for him. He has to work them out for himself.

"You can't blame a kid too much at 25 or 26 if he wakes up one morning and suddenly finds the world at his feet—and flips his wig. Unless he has his wits about him, he has a hard time to keep from getting lost the first week they hand him a $5,000 paycheck.

"A boy should have learned the value of a buck the hard way before he gets that kind of money."

The reason the young ones come to Perry for advise is he has never let money confuse him. He never got lost.

"I was lucky," he said. "I had a good wife to keep me stable. If a man doesn't have that, success doesn't mean a thing."

Williams His Downfall

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — The name Williams spelled trouble for Tom P. Williams. He was arrested by a Secret Service agent, Leo Williams, on a charge of using slugs to make a long distance telephone call. He was booked at the jail by George Williamson. His bond was set at a hearing before U. S. Commissioner William M. Hill.

'Inside Story' of Dress as Important as Design

PARIS (INS)—The "inside story" of a Paris dress is just about as important as the design itself. Two tricks—interfacing and fastening—give that extra French "dash" to a garment.

Home seamstresses know that the most original Paris design, a special fabric, an expert cut and even the waistline of the mode are not alone responsible for the success of a dress. It is the structure and "the little things" that give the finishing Paris touch.

The secret that makes the bell-skirt stick out like a lamp-shade, that makes graceful folds fall day-in and day-out exactly along the same special line and which gives the curve to a peplum lies in the Parisian way of interfacing garments partly or entirely.

Interfacing is done with a pressed material called "Pellon" in America and now available to ladies who sew at home as well as to manufacturers.

This sort of material makes it possible and easy to give clothes the real "chic" allure. The Paris Haute Couture houses do not "line" a skirt or a coat with the interfacing but cut this felt-like material and sew the dress or coat fabric together with the interfacing to a double-layer garment. Thin, sheer and even cheap textiles will keep their shape and look Parisian when properly faced.

An interfaced, flaring skirt with a deep box-pleat at the back will have body and keep its shape. Taffeta, so fashionable this year, will become "alive" if worked this way.

The secret of the Parisian velvet crinoline gowns is in the interfacing. Dior's new jacket line with the peplum standing away from the hips in a lamp-shade manner is also based on interfacing plus lining.

The second Paris "trick," important for home-seamstresses, is mainly applicable to slim and sheathy styles. It is the zipper fastening. Here the rule is: the sheathier the frock the longer the zipper.

The slimmest and simplest Paris dresses owe their perfect fit to zipper fastenings from the neck down to the middle of the thighs at the back center. Paris stylists use such long fastenings even on dresses which have a front buttoning. That way the dress can really mold the body since no leeway has to be left to put it on or take it off.

These long zipper fastenings at the back should be almost invisible. The two fabric edges meet exactly in the middle thus covering the zipper completely. Like a seam it then is flattened with the iron.

Doreen V. Brown Is Honored at Shower

Doreen V. Brown was feted at a miscellaneous bridal shower given by Mrs. N. V. Philpott and Mrs. Verne P. Sinkler at the Philpott home on North Edith street, Tuesday.

Miss Brown, who is the daughter of the Joseph Wackters of South Paddock street, will speak her nuptial vows with Joseph T. Odarizzi on Feb. 19. The ceremony will take place at St. Vincent de Paul Church. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Odarizzi of Hazelton, Pa.

Guests at the shower were Mrs. Wackter, Mrs. Carl Brock, Mrs. Frank Weger Jr., Mrs. Richard Cardona, Mrs. Floyd R. Loomis and Zina Forrest. A buffet supper was served by the hostesses.

Greta Hedlund Given Shower

Greta Hedlund, bride - elect of Jerry Swanson, was honored when 30 friends gathered Tuesday evening for a miscellaneous bridal shower.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hedlund of Clive street and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Swanson of Birchcrest. Mrs. Swanson was hostess for the shower in her home.

The couple will exchange their vows Feb. 5 in a ceremony to be performed at Christ Lutheran Church of Waterford.

Local Club Meets in Chandler Home

Mrs. Johnnie Bee was honored Monday evening when members of the Lucky 13 Club met at her Chicago avenue home on the occasion of her birthday. She was presented a gift by the group.

Mrs. Dahlhofer Heads Group

Mrs. Louie Sutt opened her Lake Orion home Monday evening to 10 members of the Busy Thinker Cancer Club. The group sewed 175 cancer pads and held an election of officers. Mrs. Bob Dahlhofer was elected chairman; Mrs. Clarence Palmore, treasurer; Mrs. George E. Thompson, secretary and Mrs. Arnold Leach and Mrs. Lee Bailey are in charge of entertainment. A luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the Raskob avenue home of Mrs. Thompson.

Pontiac Press Photos

Mrs. George T. Pudduck of Barnes road (right) is serving as general chairman of the annual "Sno-Ball" to be sponsored Feb. 5 by Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. Making sure every detail is mentioned on the poster are Mrs. Robert Terry of East Pike street (left) and Mrs. Kenneth Miller of Lincoln avenue.

Mrs. Ogden Re-elected President

Mrs. B. H. Ogden was re-elected president of Alpha Sigma Nu Sorority when the group met at the Woodstock road home of Mrs. Andrew Mitchell.

Allen Copley presented a humorous and entertaining travelogue illustrated with colored slides of England, Switzerland, Scotland, Italy and France. A travel quiz followed.

Assisting Mrs. Ogden during the coming year will be Mrs. Howard Looney who was elected vice president; Mrs. William Looney, secretary; Mrs. T. P. Robertson, treasurer; and Elena Bajari, historian.

Year end committee reports were received during the business meeting and program committees for the ensuing year were appointed by the president.

Mary Kelly and Mrs. William Rice were guests of the sorority. Refreshments were served by the hostess who was assisted by Mrs. Howard Looney, Miss Bajari and Clarabelle Amidon.

Citizenship Class Plans Program

Plans for a Washington-Lincoln program to take place Feb. 21 were discussed when 14 members of Janice Antona's Citizenship Class met recently at the Stanley avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. George Durr.

Allen Copley will show colored slides to the group and give a talk on Europe when the group meets Thursday at Pontiac High School.

Mrs. Oakley Is Hostess to Musicale

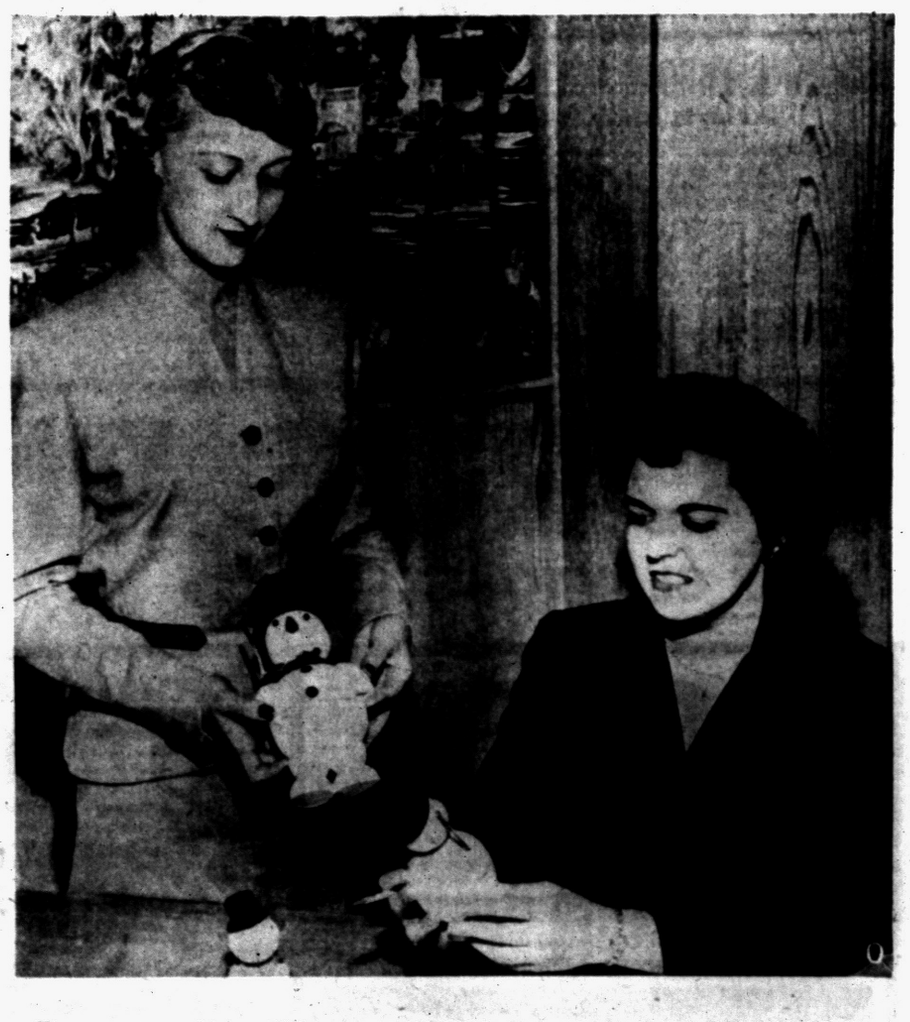

Mrs. A. K. Oakley was hostess in her Cherokee road home Tuesday afternoon for a meeting of the Tuesday Musicale Workshop. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. W. S. Furlong and Mrs. Paul A. Kern.

Mrs. Donald B. Hogue, as analyst, reviewed the contrast of the 18th century classicists and the 19th century romanticists as a background for our modern music. Aaron Copland's book, "Our New Music," is the basis of this year's study.

A piano solo was played by Mrs. E. D. Foley, and Mrs. George Putnam sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Martin Wager.

The remainder of the program consisted of a group of duo-piano numbers played by Mrs. Oakley and Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer.

Mrs. H. V. Heldenbrand will be hostess for the February meeting at Hotel Waldron.

The snowmen which will be among the decorations at the annual "Sno-Ball" are being closely inspected by the decorations chairman, Doris Ball of South Eastway drive, (left) and Helena Geistl of South Ardmore street (right) who is serving as patrons' chairman. Dancing will take place from 9:30 until 1:30 a.m. at Old Mill Tavern in Waterford. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Pontiac Toastmistress Club Has 'Open House' Tuesday

Wed in Candlelight Rite

Twila B. Pike of Peggy street became the bride of Larry Finkle Saturday evening in her home.

The Rev. D. D. McColl of First Christian Church performed the 7:30 candlelight ceremony before members of the immediate families and close friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Amburn of Sylvan Lake, and he is the son of Mrs. Delton Hillman of Watkins Lake and Lyle A. Finkle of Poplar street.

The bride wore a white knit dress with black and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations and red roses for her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carte of Downing court were the couple's attendants. The new Mrs. Finkle will reside on Peggy street and the bridegroom will return to Ft. Eustis, Virginia, where he is stationed with the Army.

Shower Honors Mrs. Rounds

Mrs. William Rounds of Elizabeth Lake was honored Saturday evening at a stork shower given by Mrs. George Grey on Princeton avenue. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Glenn Reamer of Drayton Plains and Mrs. Glenn Reamer Jr.

Guests at the shower were Mrs. Alvin Fox, Mrs. Eva Dixon, Mrs. Donald Goodrich, Mrs. Richard Durnbaugh, Mrs. George W. Grey, and Mrs. Harry Alee.

Blue Star Mothers Make Contribution

Reports were read and a contribution made to the Bobbie Dunn fund when members of Blue Star Mothers, Chapter Four met Tuesday evening at YMCA.

Speechmakers Have Fun and Learn Too

There was fun for all—well for almost everyone Tuesday evening when the Pontiac Toastmistress Club held an open house at the YMCA.

They had invited the Pontiac Toastmasters to join with them in presenting a typical meeting.

A few of the speechmakers admitted to feelings of panic, but there was no open manifestation of this.

These people have joined their specific group to learn the art of public speaking, and last evening's efforts proved just how much is accomplished in these meetings.

In this group you never have to strain your ears, and they know how to throw the questions to the audience to stimulate interest. They know about proper inflection, voice projection and many artful ways to keep the listeners on their toes.

The four main speakers Tuesday evening were Mrs. Evelyn Cole, Anthony Renne, Mrs. Howard Wheatley and Dr. Harold Busse.

The speeches varied from thought provokers to the very light and entertaining. And you didn't have to guess as to the meaning of the topic. If there was depth, you felt it, and you never missed the satire or open joking.

Critics for these speeches were George Crabtree, Mrs. A. E. Atwood, Harvey Perry and Mrs. Robert Bunce. But that wasn't all. Where they finished, chief evaluator Arnold Whittaker took up.

Then even the critics were criticized. This is done on a very friendly basis, but with the idea of helping that person become even better in his delivery.

You can't make grammatical errors and get away with it in these groups either. The grammarian of the evening was Shirley Dovre.

Then if anyone of these people overlook an error, the tailtwister brings them up in a big sweep—and here's where you pay.

A penny for every error is the usual fine, and you'd be surprised how this keeps the treasury filled. Mrs. Jerry McLeod was the tailtwister last evening, and Otto Mildebrandt was timekeeper.

President of the Toastmistress Club Mrs. Robert Sutton and Charles Dugas, president of Toastmasters spoke briefly, and Mrs. Sutton welcomed the guests.

Toastmistress for the evening was Mrs. Leon Windsor and Mrs. J. E. McLeod was topicmistress. Jerry McLeod gave the joke of the evening.

The invocation was given by Maurice Decker an dHelen Lapisch, state chairman gave the inspirational close.

Dames of Malta to Extend Degrees

February 2 is the date Corinne Sisterhood 184, Dames of Malta will extend degrees to a class of candidates. Plans were made when the group met recently at Malta Temple on Perkins street.

A donation was made to the Bobbie Dunn fund and a dinner report was given by Mrs. James Schram.

Shermans Honored on Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman of Myrtle street were honored recently at a surprise party on the occasion of their 20th wedding anniversary.

Hosts for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sherman and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Sherman of Walled Lake. The party was held in the Jay road home of the Stanley Shermans.

Coming Events

Welcome Rebekah Lodge 246 will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in Malta Temple on Perkins street.

Ladies Aid Society of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church will meet at the church Thursday for an all-day meeting and work on cancer pads. A box luncheon will be served at noon.

Do You Know How to Distribute Magazines? . . . This May Be Your Job

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I am 19 years old, a high school graduate, and quite attractive," a young girl writes, "and I am very anxious to be an airline hostess.

"I have no idea of how to go about it, and wonder if you could tell me. I am quite shy about walking in cold to one of the airline offices and asking, but I know I could handle the job well, as I do understand people.

"Is it necessary to take a course, or do the airlines train you themselves?"

Some of the airlines have their own training programs, and some will take you on if you have gone to a private training school.

My feeling is that you would do better to go to a private training school, since your shyness might be a handicap, if not treated first. Also you do have time, because the airlines actually perfer hostesses to be between 21 and 28 years old.

At a good training school, you will be taught all the airline procedures, plus tips on grooming, poise, and even voice lessons. The job of an airline hostess is fun, but it looks deceptively easy.

Actually, you have to know a good deal to be able to handle all kinds of people and remain smooth, beautiful and unruffled, come what may. You have to be a combination psychologist, nurse and model.

At the Grace Downs school, they told me about many aspects of this type of job. It is surprisingly complicated.

You have to learn meteorology, and, at the other extreme, you have to learn how to distribute magazines properly on a plane. It sounds silly, but you can get in trouble if you do it wrong. You are taught to distribute magazines from the rear, working forward, so passengers won't be annoyed if they see their favorite magazine taken by another passenger.

You have to really like children, and you have to learn how to handle the occasional difficult passenger.

My suggestion would be that you have a talk with a private training school and see whether they feel you are qualified, and whether you feel that you honestly could handle the job, and like it!

Find Cause of Peeling, Then Paint

By HUBBARD COBB

We've had, over the period of years, a good many letters from readers who have started off to paint a ceiling only to find that in certain areas the paint has peeled or blistered. The question then comes up whether or not to remove all the old paint right down to the plaster or take a chance and paint over the old paint.

We are inclined to say that in ordinary circumstances it's worth the chance of painting over the old paint rather than to first remove all the old paint.

We base this on the fact that except for the loose paint, taking off all the rest will be a terrible job. It will take hours to do and if a scraper is used there is a chance of cutting right through the glaze of the plaster which will mean more work.

A liquid or paste remover is not too satisfactory because of possible damage to other finished areas in the room.

Of course, you should try and find the cause of the peeling and correct it. Usually it's due to water seeping through the plaster from the area above the ceiling. In other cases it's because the plaster at this point was damp when the paint was applied or was dirty.

The loose and peeling paint must all be removed before you apply fresh paint. A pad of steel wool and a putty knife are what you will need for this little task.

If the paint film is thick, fill in these areas to make them level with spackle or apply sufficient coats of paint to build them up level with the surrounding area.

Manicure Set Has Many Uses

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP) — Milady's manicure set can be used for may different things besides glamorizing fingernails.

It can be used, for instance, to repair radios.

L. A. Frankel, of Astoria, N. Y., wrote in a recent General Electric Co. technical publication that:

Nail polish can double as cement. The polish remover can be used as a plastics solvent. A filed-down orange stick makes a good non-conductive screw-driver. And emery boards and nail files can clean connections to be soldered.

Clippers can cut and strip small wires. Tweezers can pick up minute parts dropped inside the set, or they can hold tiny parts in place for work inside cramped quarters.

Rita Jacobs designs a cardigan in novelty knit to complete a smart ensemble for holiday and resort wear. It is fully fashioned with gold coin buttons and a golden medallion on the high bustline pocket and is so right with a matching linen skirt or sheath. It is a perfect accessory for any travel wardrobe.

Soap and Water Cleans Wood

NEW YORK (UP — Soap and water are good for the complexion —of furniture.

The shabby look of tables, chairs and other polished pieces could be nothing more than a collection of dirt from coat after coat of polish or wax applied to a dusty surface. Experts say suds often will restore the woods to their original sheen.

To clean a polished wood surface, mix a bowl of thick, warm soap suds. Then pick up a generous portion of surface suds on a damp cloth or sponge and rub firmly over a small section of the wood, working with the grain. Rinse with a cloth wrung out of warm water, and dry with a soft, lintless cloth.

Repeat in sections until the whole surface has been scrubbed. A second or third treatment, with fresh suds each time, may be necessary. Once the wood is completely dry, apply a coat of polish or wax.

Farewell Gift of Money Is Problem

By EMILY POST

A reader explains as follows: "Another young woman and myself are planning to give a going-away party for a friend who is going abroad to further her studies.

She can carry only a certain amount of luggage and she has all the things that she will need. We would like to present her with a purse so that she may have extra spending money. We also would like to have the guests send the money beforehand so that we may present her with a check for the full amount at the party.

Will you please tell us just how to go about this, and also if it would be proper to ask each guest for a specific amount, or do we leave it up to them to give what they please? Your help in this matter will be very much appreciated."

Only the closest friends of the person going away could possibly be asked to contribute. You call each one on the telephone and tell them exactly what you have written to me and ask if they would like to contribute to a purse for Mary, and if they would, to please send it to you beforehand.

Leave it up to them to give whatever they feel they can afford and say that the amounts are not to be made public and that as they are received they will be put directly into the purse which will be given to Mary the night of the party. The names of the donors would be listed on the card enclosed but not the amounts.

Dear Mrs. Post: Does a man precede a lady through a revolving door in order to push it for her, or does he push it from the rear? If the revolving door is in motion, does he still precede her in order to control the door, or does he follow?

In either case he lets the lady go first and pushes and controls the door from the rear.

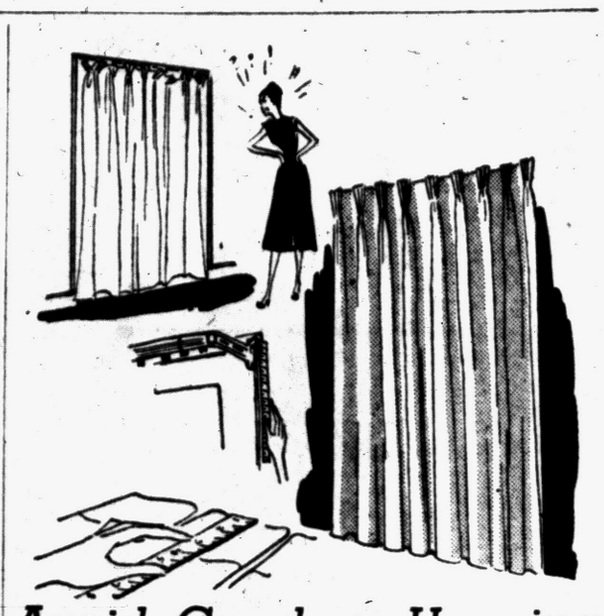

Dear Mrs. Post: I believe it is considered bad form for a girl to help a man on with his coat. If this is true, is it also bad form for a girl to help another woman on with her coat?

A girl does not help a man on with his coat unless he is an invalid or otherwise enfeebled. She does, however, help a woman on with her's if this can be done easily.

Avoid Careless Hanging of Important Draperies

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

To choose a handsome fabric for draperies, and even to make them expertly isn't enough. They must stand at attention, heads up with the headings and no slumping of folds.

Avoid the wayward, careless look that spoils the effect of draperies, first by choosing the right rod in the right size and attaching it in the right place securely so weight won't make it sag.

Draperies should cover both the top and sides of woodwork — attach the rod high and at the extreme edges of the window frame.

To make sure the drapery stands tall enough to hide the window frame, measure from the top of the bracket to the holes in the slide where the hooks go; then measure from the top of the drapery to determine where hooks should be sewed.

The measurement from the top of the drapery to the curve of the hook must be equal to or greater than the measurement from the top of the bracket to the holes in the slides. To make sure the drapery swings backward close to the wall, fasten two hooks at each side of the rod on the brackets.

Quick Loaf Made With Dates 'n' Nuts

Mrs. Hubbard Adds Graham Flour to Favorite Bread

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Quick breads are just what their name implies—quick to make. For easy cutting you should let the bread stand 24 hours. This Date-Nut Bread, a recipe from Mrs. E. F. Hubbard Jr., will grace the lunchbox as well as the tea table. You will like the flavor given it by the touch of graham flour.

Mrs. Hubbard is a young Walled Lake homemaker with two youngsters to keep her active. Her hobby is sewing, and she enjoys her membership in a Home Extension club.

DATE-NUT BREAD
By Mrs. E. F. Hubbard Jr.

1 cup dates
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup boiling water
¾ cup brown sugar
1 unbeaten egg
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups sifted flour
½ cup unsifted graham flour
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
½ cup nut meats, chopped

Mix dates, baking soda and boiling water; let cool. Add rest of ingredients, mix well, and turn into a greased bread pan. Let set 20 minutes before baking. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees. Makes 1 loaf.

New Knits Hold Favor All Year

Knits are bigger news than ever! In the past few seasons they've been "re-discovered" by the American woman who wants fashions that fit into her active way of life . . .and who wants smartness, too!

She has found that knits stand year-round service, that they are designed for wear at all hours. . . that they are easy to care for. Most important. . .they are being styled with a new young approach. . . smart and casual in feeling. . .definitely versatile.

A recent collection by a famous designer is wonderfully keyed to the American woman and her tastes. Lightweight wool chenilles are knit in ribbed or flat designs that look like textured wools. . . some are edged with lacy crochets.

One-piece slim or flare-skirted dresses are for daytime, some with little jackets run the gamut from morning coffee to the cocktail hour! The new long sheath line abounds in flat - knits with "middy" tops. . .some eased gently through the waistline. . .others straight as an arrow.

For evening, scooped and sleeveless sheath dresses, some bejeweled at the neck, look utterly glamorous. . .may be worn with companion jackets. A two - piece dress with the look of lace has a scoop neck top, a full, full skirt that calls for at least three petticoats! A slim two - piece dress has a satin cummerbund that may be added for smartness after five!

Bride Wears Satin Gown for Morning Wedding

To reside in Belton, Texas, are Mr. and Mrs. Lowell M. Kage. The bride is the former Jeanette Sanders, daughter of the Lloyd L. Sanders' of Rochester. He is the son of the George Kages of Pontiac road.

The Rev. Harry Paul performed the 11 o'clock ceremony Saturday morning in St. Andrew Church of Rochester before 200 guests. The altar was decorated with vases of white carnations.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white satin brocade fashioned with matching jacket. Her headpiece secured a fingertip veil and she carried an arrangement of white carnations.

Frances Bohlman of Auburn Heights attended the bride as maid of honor and Barbara Kurkowski of Rochester was a bridesmaid. They wore street length gowns of mauve taffeta in princess style and matching hats. They carried bouquets of yellow carnations.

A reception was held during the evening at Avon Park Pavilion in Rochester. The bride's mother wore a mauve street length gown of rayon silk with matching hat.

The bridegroom's mother chose a street length gown of wine colored rayon silk with a pink hat. Both mothers wore corsages of pink carnations.

The new Mrs. Kage changed to an aqua and gray print dress with aqua and luggage accessories for a honeymoon trip to Higgins Lake. The couple will reside at Ft. Hood where he is stationed with the U.S. Army.

HAIR COMBING

From questions asked by customers in our shop, I am beginning to realize that part of the trouble women have in taking care of their hairdo is lack of understanding on how to comb them.

Use both hands . . . this is important, for if the line is to be retained the hair must be kept close to head while combing and never allowed to get out of bounds. Whenever you use a comb or brush, follow along with the other hand.

This prevents the hair from springing away from the comb (or brush) as it passes through.

Curls should be turned loosely over finger and then allowed to fall into place. This gives them a more natural look. Back comb if necessary but brush it out carefully.

You virtually wipe from your face the things you don't want to see

You'll Suddenly Seem to Have Grown an Entirely New and Flawless Skin!

You will be startled when you see yourself—your friends will be startled when they see YOU—and oh, how envious they will be!

LANOLIN PLUS Liquid Make-Up really covers the sins of your skin. Those tiny lines and imperfections you so thoroughly hate, are hidden from sight. So amazing is the covering power of this heavenly liquid, you could, if you wished, use a shade lighter than your own skin and still have a perfect new-skin look. But it does two more beauty wonders for you:

1 It instantly imparts a kind of youth-giving radiance that is completely new. That is because all its shades are the living colors of young skin. They LOOK alive. The living shade most flattering to you is easy to find, too, as you will discover when you see them all.

2 LANOLIN PLUS Liquid Make-Up, containing the magic of LANOLIN PLUS, helps to soften and smooth your skin every minute you wear it.

Imagine a make-up that not only gives you the appearance of having instantly grown a new, flawless and younger-looking skin, but that also makes it softer feeling and smoother looking. $1 plus tax, available wherever cosmetics are sold. Indeed, there is nothing in all the world like LANOLIN PLUS Liquid Make-Up.

McBride Finds She's a 'Stiff'

Her Tipping Criticism Bounces Back

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

"A Waiter Named Pete," the letter with a Cleveland, Ohio, postmark was signed, and the writer, angry because I suggested that tipping ought to be abolished, accused me of being a "stiff."

"Whether you know it or not," fumed the anonymous Pete, "being a waiter is a highly professional trade everywhere in the world except in this country and the reason it's not so here is people like you.

A waiter's salary is $30 a week union scale. The restaurant or hotel he works for expects people to tip to make up the difference in pay, also the restaurant or hotel knows the waiter can make or break an establishment with good service or bad.

"For instance, you walk into a restaurant and the word is out already. You are a stiff, meaning rotten tipper. So you order a steak medium rare, my dear Miss McBride. If you are in a hurry they can make you wait forever.

You complain to the manager that you have waited too long. The manager complains to the waiter, the waiter explains that the cook is stuck and forgot to put the order on. Oh, there are many ways to take care of stiff."

I surely hope Pete will never get my steak order and I don't envy the restaurant or hotel he makes or breaks, but I'm delighted to learn about stiffs. My position on tipping—abolish it as un-American and raise prices high enough to provide a good living wage to waiters, waitresses, bellhops and others—produced considerable mail. Most correspondents agreed with my position.

New Yorker Milton Scott's letter was typical. "Millions and millions of people in all walks of life agree 100 per cent that the damnable custom of tipping should be abolished and forever!" He wrote enthusiastically.

A waitress from Boca Raton, Fla., said "we don't like to extend our palms (for tips). But how to force our employers to pay us more—that's the $100 question, and in the meantime we have to eat."

Bessie Macklin, a Kansas City, Mo., waitress, claims that some women are very difficult to wait on.

"The office girl is the worst of all," she decides, "for she has the impression that she is better than the one who serves her. Not all men tip well either, and the ones who demand the most service tip the least."

Another Ohio correspondent, who gave name and address but prefers anonymity here, is burned up over what he calls "the robbery tip" when a number of waiters are used at a big dinner.

He says that if the tip for all services comes to $60, 10 waiters might have to split $20, and the remainder would be kept by the maitre d'hotel.

"The division of tips is such a racket that in the hotel trade the Maitre d'Hotel department is called the Capone department," says my correspondent.

Nothing anybody wrote has changed my opinion. I still think salaries should be upped and tipping abolished. I believe this arrangement would suit all my correspondents, too, even Pete the Waiter and a young woman who accuses me of snatching their Christmas dinner out of her children's mouths, thus crediting me, I'm sure with much more influence than I possess.

Meantime, I'll go on as usual meticulously calculating 15 per cent of the check and thrusting it into the outstretched palm.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

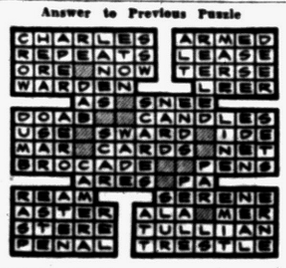

If your doctor has put you on a strict diet, it may seem like the most important thing in life to you for the moment. But remember it isn't important to others.

So don't talk about your diet constantly.

Mattress Pad New

There's a new plastic mattress pad that looks and feels like taffeta. The rayon and vinyl filling won't lump, no matter how often it's washed or even boiled. It's dust-proof and odorless.

Rings Can Fit Too Tight Sometimes

Both These Girls Lost Affections for First Love

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've been engaged since last summer to a wonderful boy. But a boy I knew before I became engaged keeps calling me on the phone.

I told him I worked and stopped answering the phone, now he meets me after work and wants to drive me home. I refused so often, but the other night I broke down and went out with him. When we were alone he told me he loved me, and I think I love him.

Since I went out with him I've been very cross with my fiance who asked me if anything's wrong. Of course, I said no. Do you think I should tell him, or wait to see if this other thing is something I should forget?"

Things can get out of hand when you aren't quite honest with yourself and with the other people involved in the situation. Had you announced the good news of your engagement the very first time your old friend called you on the phone, you wouldn't be in the swivet you're in now.

Apparently, though, you said nothing about it, so he had every reason to think the coast was clear and that you were just playing coy and hard to get.

His persistent efforts to see you still didn't drag the truth out of you. Until now he has your heart, your mind, your imagination and your digestion completely out of whack.

Why under the sun did you get engaged in the first place unless you had the greatest respect, admiration, affection for and confidence in that wonderful fiance of yours?

The minute his ring went on your finger other men should have become simply people—not prospects. You should have been immunized against all approaches, your love should have been your protection against whims and fancies.

So why not be honest with yourself, and get back to first principles? You're engaged because you want to be, and that means the end of random flirtations. Tell the stirrer-upper that you're not free to see him any more and you'd appreciate it if he'd respect your wish that he leave you strictly alone. Then forget him, and devote your whole heart to making your fiance happy.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Two weeks ago I became engaged and I thought I was deeply in love. But last week end when my fiance was out of town I met Jack — and I never knew anyone could be so wonderful. I spent the whole week end in a state of romantic bliss. Jack is so different — he makes me feel so mature!

Now that my fiance is back I'm afraid to tell him what has happened to my heart. Jack has asked for dates but I've said no — yet I know he's the one I love. Please, Miss Woodward, tell me what to do!"

Your finger's too young to wear an engagement ring, it would seem. Your heart doesn't know it's own mind yet. But the thinking, the planning, the family consultations that went into getting you engaged should be respected.

So don't see Jack for two months. Give yourself that time to see (without Jack around) whether your engagement ring really does fit you.

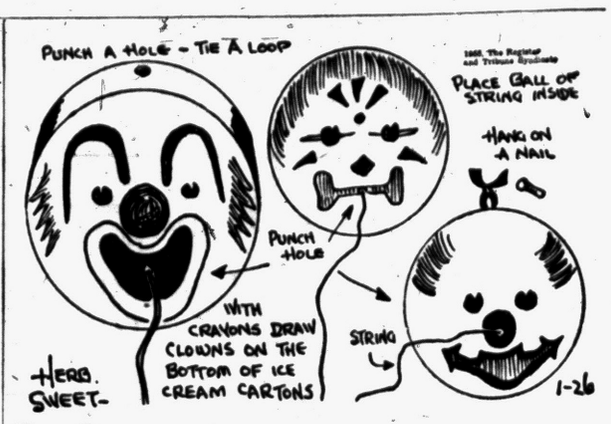

His Shirts Plunge

The plunging neckline is diving again—this time on men's shirts.

Kid Gloves Lined

Cold while driving: You've tried heavy gloves, but you can't seem to manage the wheel when you're wearing them. For safety and good looks, kid gloves now come lined with cashmere that's not bulky.

Try It

This Clown Holds String

Have you sent in your idea to share with other TRY-ITEERS? It is fun to share and you will make others very happy.

Here is our WINNER OF THE WEEK and she is Maureen Gallagher of Roslindale, Massachusetts. She tells us that unless string has a holder it gets all tangled up, so here is a way to keep it handy. Her TRY IT book and surprise is on its way. Wash a pint ice cream container well and let it dry.

Next, use show card colors or crayons to make a clown face on the bottom of the carton. Follow the clown in the drawing or make some of your own. Punch a tiny hole in the mouth for the string to come through. Make another hole for the loop for hanging to go through. Use this in your room or kitchen.

You may want to get a book with clown faces in it to make several different drawings for your holder.

Boys Brave Cold to Imitate Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Blame it on the Braves, but the baseball season has started here.

Despite snow flurries and near-zero temperatures, police were called today to break up a ball game in the street. Five boys, aged about 11, were the contestants.

Officers said they advised the lads not to play in the street and suggested they wait for further diamond action until the weather warms up.

First automatic glass blowing machine was invited in 1903.

Jewelers Foxy Fellows; Change Anniversary Gifts

By MARGARET LATROBE

Much as I like jewelers I never realized what foxy fellows they were until this year's Almanac called my attention to the fact that they revised the gift list of wedding anniversaries a few years ago.

Until this happy change occurred it was hardly worth even being married at all unless you could stick it out for 60 years and get yourself into the diamond category. But this is different now—diamonds are mandatory on the 10th anniversary, when a wife is still young enough to enjoy them.

The traditional list "recommended by social authorities" suggested celebrating wedlock thus: 1st—paper, 2nd—cotton, 3rd—leather, 4th—fruit and flowers, silk, 5th—wooden, 6th—sugar and candy, iron, 7th—woolen or copper.

You can easily see that with such piffling presents, we were getting nowhere. It took the traditionalists 25 years to get to the pay dirt, with silver at the 25th, pearl for the 30th; ruby for the 40th and gold for the half century.

Since 1948, however, when the bracelet salesmen came to their senses and revised the list, marriage has been a lot more worthwhile. Well before your 20th anniversary you are assured of such items as china, clocks, crystal, silver, diamonds, fashion accessories, pearls, furs, gold, platinum. It still takes 35 and 40 years to reach the jade and ruby class. Emeralds don't arrive until you and Pop have been cooing at each other 55 years. (And some of us married late, at that.)

The point is that the jewelry associations have done us ladies a big favor and should be thanked for their efforts. If it looks a touch mercenary, just recall that they too have wives. They also must remember anniversaries, even though they can do it wholesale.

What I'm wondering is this. Have they thought of a way to remind husbands when the gold charm bangles pen and pencil sets are to be gift-wrapped? Have they perfected an alarm clock which rings madly once a year, warning Pop to get out his check book? Or do they simply depend on wives to stimulate remembrance?

Our fifteenth happy year is coming up this summer. Watches, it says here, is the most acceptable gift. Does that mean I have to give him one, or do I get them both?

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today

AP Photographer Gets Bronze Star for War Bravery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Associated Press photographer Frank (Pappy) Noel receives the Bronze Star today for bravery under fire and for standing up to the Communists during more than 32 months as a war prisoner in Korea.

Noel was cited for bravery on the night of Nov. 29-30, 1950, when the Marine Corps convoy in which he was riding during the fighting withdrawal from the Chosin Reservoir was attacked by the enemy.

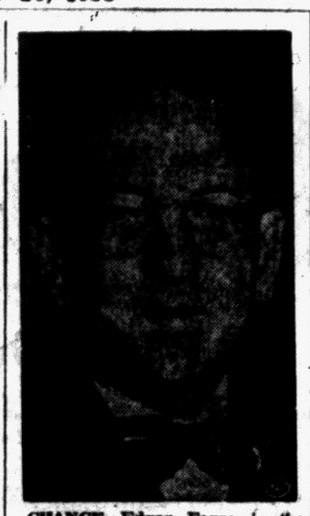

The Navy citation said Noel "fearlessly exposed himself to intense enemy fire to remove wounded Marines to safe positions and to procure urgently needed ammunition."

After the photographer was captured, the Navy said, he displayed "indomitable courage and resourcefulness in maintaining a high state of morale among the prisoners and in indicating a proper mode of conduct for other captives in the face of the pressures exerted by the enemy to turn the prisoners against their countries."

De Gaulle Backer Gets Algeria Governor Post

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France's government today named one of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's leading supporters in the National Assembly, Jacques Soustelle, to be governor general of Algeria.

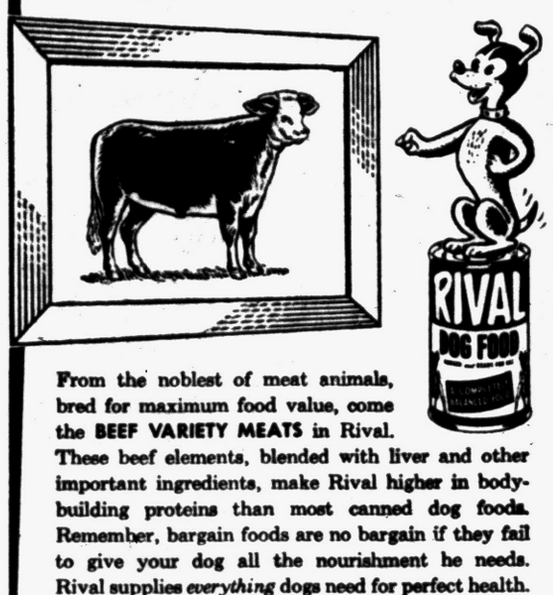

The surprise appointment appeared designed, at least in part, to rally support for the government in the Assembly debate on North African policy beginning next week.

Soustelle replaces Roger Leonard, whose two years in the office have been marred by terrorist outbreaks in the past three months.

Favorite Spot for Stars, Too

Las Vegas Fast Becoming Tourist Mecca

In this fourth article of his revealing series on Las Vegas, America's Monte Carlo, Bob Considine traces the ownership and public—and hidden—backers of the fancy gambling resorts which have made the Nevada town a plush playground.

By BOB CONSIDINE

LAS VEGAS (INS)—In Las Vegas, after Bugsy Siegel was erased, came the gold rush. A deluge of Hollywood, black market and upper-crust tourists washed over his fabled spa, the Flamingo, leaving in the receding tide an estimated $4,000,000 a year net profit.

The word "estimated" is used because no one knows exactly how much the operators clear in Las Vegas. Nevada's two per cent bite on the gross handle throughout the state comes to less than $2,000,000 a year.

It accepts the money gratefully, being unable to get along without it. The state can't afford to supervise the nightly count and must take the word of the operators—who, here and there, never won any awards for integrity.

Siegel had guessed right about Las Vegas, and it didn't take long for the word to get around. It was natural that he should be followed into the city and its environs by a wave of his peers and inferiors in the racket world.

They had money to invest, and Las Vegas welcomed it in view of the fact that few top investment houses or insurance companies wished to take such a flyer.

Many who followed Bugsy had taken the lead of Frank Costello and others and had transferred their bootlegging, bookmaking and other illicit earnings to legitimate businesses.

And so the desert was made to bloom additionally by the coming of Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn; the Thunderbird, now accused of being secretly controlled by Meyer and Jake Lansky; the Sands, and the Sahara. It continues to bloom.

There was and remains in most of these and other Las Vegas establishments a lot of underworld money—just as is the case with all but a handful of New York's swankiest restaurants and night clubs, which are owned almost exclusively by retired rum runners and speak-easy operators who long since have contracted religion and won a respected place in the social scene. In Las Vegas the delousing process continues.

Morris Rosen, whose record is spread over 31 pages in the Kefauver reports, moved into Las Vegas to settle the affairs of Siegel. Rosen's son married one of Siegel's daughters, so he appeared in the role of foremost friend of the murdered murderer's family.

The affairs were complicated. As is usually the case in Las Vegas, Siegel had a bit of several clubs going for him, in addition to horse books and the Flamingo.

Rosen, also known as "Doc Harris" and "Joe Stacci," found mysterious Joe Epstein, Virginia Hill's "banker," on hand with the books, and also Bugsy's man in Las Vegas, much-arrested Moe Sedway. Rosen began looking for buyers for the Flamingo. He found Sanford Adler and Charlie Resnick, who owned the El Rancho Hotel at the time; and such others as Gus Greenbaum, overlord of the Capone-New York syndicate race wire in Phoenix; Israel Alderman, also called "Little Auldie" by the FBI; Dave Berman, ex-convict who was one of Bugsy's trusted aides; and Jack Burke and Sam Diamond, California bookies.

They bought the place for $3,900,000 with a downpayment of either $500,000 or $600,000. In appreciation of what Sedway later told Sen. Kefauver was Rosen's deal-making genius, Rosen was given a 10 per cent slice for nothing. Today it would be worth $650,000.

Adler was put in as manager, and representative of a group that owned 51 per cent. But the absence of Bugsy's strong hand was soon evident.

Soon there were inflamed arguments among the partners, while the fancy customers serenely kept pouring in the money. Adler took his case to Carson City and won it, then punched Rosen in the face in a post-trial argument. An outsider who bought a tiny piece was slugged and forced to yield it. He fled in terror, in his stocking feet.

Rosen announced that he would get Adler. Frightened, Adler drove all night to Beverly Hills, Calif., and told his story to Clinton H. Anderson, chief of police. Then he sold out his share.

Among those who had to be paid off were members of the New York syndicate who had bankrolled Siegel after the latter spent his entire fortune—estimated at $1,000,000—on the hotel and casino.

These contributors were Meyer and Jake Lansky, Frank Costello, Frank Erickson, Lepke Buchalter (who sent Siegel west in the first place) and one or two others, probably Joe Adonis and possibly Lucky Luciano. There was some old Capone money in there, too.

The report persists that some of them retained their pieces and continue as silent partners. If so, they are indeed silent. Costello, for example, has never been seen in Las Vegas. And if the notorious Tony Accardo, Capon relict, had or has any tie-in through Greenbaum, the Las Vegas police appeared to have no respect for a property owner.

ONE-ARMED BANDIT—They do things up right in the Las Vegas gambling places. Just in case you don't recognize that a slot machine is a "one-armed bandit" as it's called in popular jargon, they dress them up, as shown in this photo, to look the part.

On Jan. 9, 1953, for instance, the Chicago Crime Commission informed the Nevada Tax Commission—which is the gambling licensing body of the state—that Accardo was headed for Las Vegas. The excellent Los Angeles Police Department also was notified.

Accardo, whose name has been linked to every known racket, was given a frigid reception at International Airport, L. A., and told to move on.

Immediately after his arrival in Las Vegas he was picked up by Chief of Police Al H. Kennedy and charged with vagrancy — though he had a $6,700 roll in his pocket. Told to scram, he did.

The third crop of Flamingo owners has little apparent relationship to the first two groups. It is headed by T. E. Hull, owner of a string of motels through the West. He is sometimes known as the "man who made motels moral." He once tried to copyright the word "motel," and was among the first to dress up those roadside flops with swimming pools, bars, television and the like. He operated the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel and the El Rancho Hotel in Sacramento, both of which were sold recently and are leased back to him for 20 years.

According to papers on file at Carson City, 29 others are among the Flamingo's new owners. These include Dr. Stanley Immerman, prominent Los Angeles surgeon; Albert Parvin, responsible for the costly decorations of the Flamingo and other "strip" spots; moving picture producer David W. (no relation) Siegel; and Ed Levinson, formerly part owner and casino manager of the Sands.

Among the lesser holders of "points in the corporation"—as single percentages are known in the trade—are George Raft, a close friend of the late Siegel, and Tony Martin, annually the star attraction of the Flamingo's flashing floor shows.

The new crowd in control paid $7,000,000 for Bugsy's dream palace with, it is understood, less than $1,000,000 down. When the new owners took over they signed an agreement with Greenbaum—who seems to retain at least a rooting interest—that they'd spend $2,000,000 more in improvements—to keep apace or ahead of ambitious other "strip" attractions.

The report from banking circles is that some of the new owners learned, with a shock, that an old $2,500,000 Galveston bank loan matures in September 1955, at which time they must put it up or blow their investment.

They would like to borrow $4,000,000 for 10 years, and are said to be offering a $1,000,000 bonus to anyone who'll take the chance and gamble on Las Vegas' future.

The comparative ease with which off-course money flowed into Las Vegas after the Flamingo showed the way can be seen from a study of the financing of the Desert Inn, as brought out when the Kefauver committee questioned Wilbur Clark and Moe Dalitz at length.

Clark, voted the best hotel-and-casino manager along the "strip," once ran the El Rancho Vegas before the postwar boom. He took his money and plunged into the building of the Dester Inn but soon ran out of cash and credit.

He walked the streets of San Diego, where he once owned bars, and of L. A., where he numbers judges among his friends, looking for financing.

Dalitz, former Cleveland rum czar and gambling house operator who now has extensive intersets in steel, laundries and other businesses, and his associates, advanced Clark about $1,300,000 to complete the Desert Inn and gained control.

They have expanded their holdings considerably, including the building of a remarkable 18-hole golf course which has become the scene of one of the nation's biggest annual tournaments.

With Dalitz in the operation are Morris Kleinman and Thomas Jefferson McGinty, two other gentlemen who grew rich by slaking parched throats during prohibition, and former Cleveland gamblers Sam Tucker, Ruby Kolod and Barney Rothkopf, alias Lou Rody, who refused to testify before the Kefauver committee.

The handsome Sands Hotel was built by Max Kufferman, who described himself as a friend of Meyer Lansky for 25 years. Kufferman is head of a California loan company.

Indications were also that part of the financing came from Joseph "Doc" Stacher, alias Morrie Rose, Joseph Rosen, Doc Ewiner, etc., described as one of the leaders of the old third ward mob in New Jersey and associate of Longie Zwillman.

The Sahara, built by Del Webb, the co-owner of the New York Yankees, who built the Flamingo for Siegel, offered such lush living comfort that gamblers with financial investments in other establishments took permanent residence. The money behind the Sahara has puzzled many a local.

Listed owners are Milton Prell, ex-Los Angeles jeweler who operated skillball machines in Butte, Mont., where he was fined for conducting a lottery; Al F. Wonter and Barney Morris, small-time Portland, Ore. gamblers, and other unknowns.

But these are calm and collected operations compared to the storm that has cooked up behind the Thunderbird—one of whose principal stockholders is Cliff Jones, Democratic national committeeman for Nevada and former lieutenant governor.

6 Department Stores Burn in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fire destroyed the buildings and stock of the Harry Kaufman Inc., department stores in the 7th St. retail area here last night and threatened at one time to sweep a whole block.

Harry Behrens, secretary of the company, said the six buildings of two to four stories occupied by the stores were a total loss. He estimated stock damage at $200,000 and city officials figure the total loss would amount to more than $300,000.

Tenants were evacuated from apartments above nearby retail stores. About 65 policemen—all available in the immediate area—were called in to handle the traffic tangle as thousands of persons gathered. Armed services police and civil defense workers were called in to help.

One fireman was injured in a fall from a fire tower and two were overcome by the dense smoke.

Charter Revision Set for Vote

Up for Ballot in April Election

Designed to Correct Error in Retirement Plan for City Workers

Pontiac voters April 4 will again vote on a charter revision concerning city employes retirement for the second consecutive election. This time, however, they will be voting to revise the revision.

The City Commission last night agreed to submit to the electorate an amendment calling for a change in the wording of an amendment changing the city pension plan passed in November.

The error, which made all city employes ineligible for retirement until age 65, was discovered almost immediately after the election when Police Capt. Edward H. Shigley resigned.

Shigley believed he could retire at age 52, then begin receiving his pension benefits when he reached 55.

His belief was based on one section of the amendment which stated that voluntary retirement age is 60 for all city employes but police and firemen.

However, it was discovered another section said employes would have to be 65 before drawing benefits of the plan.

Last night's action changes the erroneous "65" to "on or before his voluntary retirement age."

(Shigley, who attempted to resign in November after 28 years on the force and then withdrew his resignation because of the amendment error, is now an assistant Oakland County prosecutor. He was placed on a leave of absence from the Police Department until May 1.)

The latest amendment change was prepared by A. G. Gabriel, Detroit fiscal expert, along with City Attorney William A. Ewart and City Finance Director Oscar Eckman, secretary of the Employes Retirement System Board of Trustees.

In another action, the Commission deferred to the next informal meeting communications from the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees and the Pontiac Fire Fighters' Assn.

The hospital board seeks revisions of a Commission resolution empowering the board to move ahead with plans for a $3,000,000 addition and to name a consultant.

Howard White, president of the fire fighters, appeared before the commissioners and told them the firemen were the only city employes not receiving holiday pay.

On the recommendation of the city attorney, the Commission turned down a plat applied for by Ernest Little, at Walton Blvd. and Telegraph Rd.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles moved that the Commission "refuse to accept as is," adding that "a public road of proper width be included" in any future plat.

John Walser was awarded the contract for changing the Clinton River channel between Douglas and Paddock streets. The excavators' low bid was $3,106.

The 1955 appropriation ordinance was passed and put into immediate effect. It supplies the funds for the largest budget in Pontiac history—$4,393,960.

A public hearing was held and confirmation deferred on a special assessment roll for a water main along Columbia avenue from Baldwin avenue to the western boundry of assessor's plat 107.

The Commission also:

Approved transfer of two package beer and wine licenses and a tavern license.

Approved a $22,000 maintenance bond for Weissman Excavating Co., Inc. for a combined sewer along West Rutgers street.

Deeded to Charles U. McManus all but a portion of lot 155, assessor's plat 13 after payment had been made in full on a land contract.

Raps Colorado Springs as Site of AF Academy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Engle (D-Calif) contended today that selection of Colorado Springs as the site for the new Air Force academy will cost the government additional millions for water.

The Californian renewer his request to Air Force Secretary Talbott for information as to where the proposed academy will get its water.

Engle said he noted Colorado Springs officials are recommending that the city buy 10,000 to 18,000 acre feet of water annually for Twin Lakes at $350 an acre foot.

"Does that sound like no water problem?" Engle asked.

Expectant Mom Gets Bundle From Heaven

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Jim McCraw, expecting her first baby at any minute, was the most composed of all among the crowd of relatives at the airport here yesterday.

Then a big four-engine craft landed, and a Church of Christ minister stepped off and handed the Terrell, Tex., woman a red bundle.

Inside and breaking into a big grin was the baby, brought for adoption from Frankfurt-on-Main, Germany, by the minister, Gus Farmer, also of Terrell.

After 10 Years of Fluoridation

Tooth Decay Dips in Grand Rapids

Grand Rapids (UP) — Grand Rapids, the first city in the world to put fluoride in its drinking water, has observed the 10th anniversary of the beginning of the experiment.

Ten years ago yesterday the first fluoride was put into the city's water and it has been used ever since with startling results.

The anniversary, which was observed without fanfare, would have gone by completely unnoticed if it hadn't been for an announcement by the Detroit District Dental Society that it will "celebrate" Grand Rapids' 10th anniversary of fluoridation next Tuesday, a week late.

The Detroit celebration actually is a device Detroit dentists are using in an effort to convince the people of that city that their water should have fluoride, local officials said.

Grand Rapids Health Department officials said fluoridation of the city's water supply has reduced dental cavities among children by as much as 67 per cent.

The original fluoridation experiment was supervised by Dr. Philip Jay of the University of Michigan and Dr. H. Trendley Dean, director of the National Institute of Research.

At that time, Jay said it would be 10 years before he could tell if the experiment was successful. Muskegon, which also used Lake Michigan water, was set up as a control city and did not get fluoride. Tooth decay records were kept in both cities in an effort to determine if fluoride was of any value in reducing cavities.

The experiment didn't have a chance to run for 10 years because when results of the first five years were made known, Muskegon residents clamored for fluoride to be put in their water immediately and got it.

During the first five years of the experiment, few cities followed Grand Rapids' lead.

But after the report of the first five years of the experiment in Grand Rapids was published, hundreds of communities began to add the chemical to their water.

At Lansing, the Michigan Department of Health said more than 22,000,000 people in 1,030 communities in the United States today are drinking water fortified by the agent which decreases tooth decay.

Dr. Fred Wertheimer, head of the dentistry section of the department, said the fluoridation process meets some resistance "but eventually water fluoridation will be accepted the same way water chlorination and milk pasteurization are now accepted by most people as important measures in protecting and promoting public health."

In Michigan, however, fluoridation proposals haven't been too successful. Voters in Flint, Iron Mountain, Lansing and Three Oaks have turned the idea down in referendums and Saginaw started it and then discontinued it when Saginaw voters turned it down in a referendum last fall.

Opponents of fluoridation have charged that the rate of heart disease, cancer, liver and kidney ailments and other diseases have increased in Grand Rapids since the experiment started but local health officials said they are all "falsehoods."

Waterworks officials said only a slight solution of the chemical is put in the water, about one part fluoride to a million and that it "could do no harm to anyone."

Coffee House Tradition Being Revived in London

LONDON (AP)—The coffee houses of Samuel Johnson's 18th-century London are reviving, but with plate glass and neon-lit facades.

A Londoner can buy a cup of coffee almost as readily as the traditional British cup of tea. About 150 coffee shops mushroomed in London during the past year and they're popping up now at the rate of two a week. Brightly incongruous among ancient soot-blackened business fronts, they flash exotic names like Moka, El Cubano, Chiquito, Sirocco and Mocamba.

The typical shop has a tavern-like bar with high stools and a little cluster of low plastic - top tables with well upholstered chairs. Walls are painted or papered in splashy patterns.

Arising from the business side of the machine is a row of half dozen handles made like miniature baseball bats. The operator, many times a slick, black-haired Italian, pulls on a handle to force water just below the boiling point through finely ground coffee placed over a fine filter.

The product is a heavy, black liquid, too strong or bitter for many to drink straight. For the tender-tongued, there is "cappuccino"—coffee with milk heated and whipped to a froth by bubbling steam through it.

Britons got coffee fever during World War II, according to one importer. Tea was rationed then, but coffee wasn't. American troops also helped create the demand. But until the last two years most coffee was sold as an incidental part of other restaurant fare.

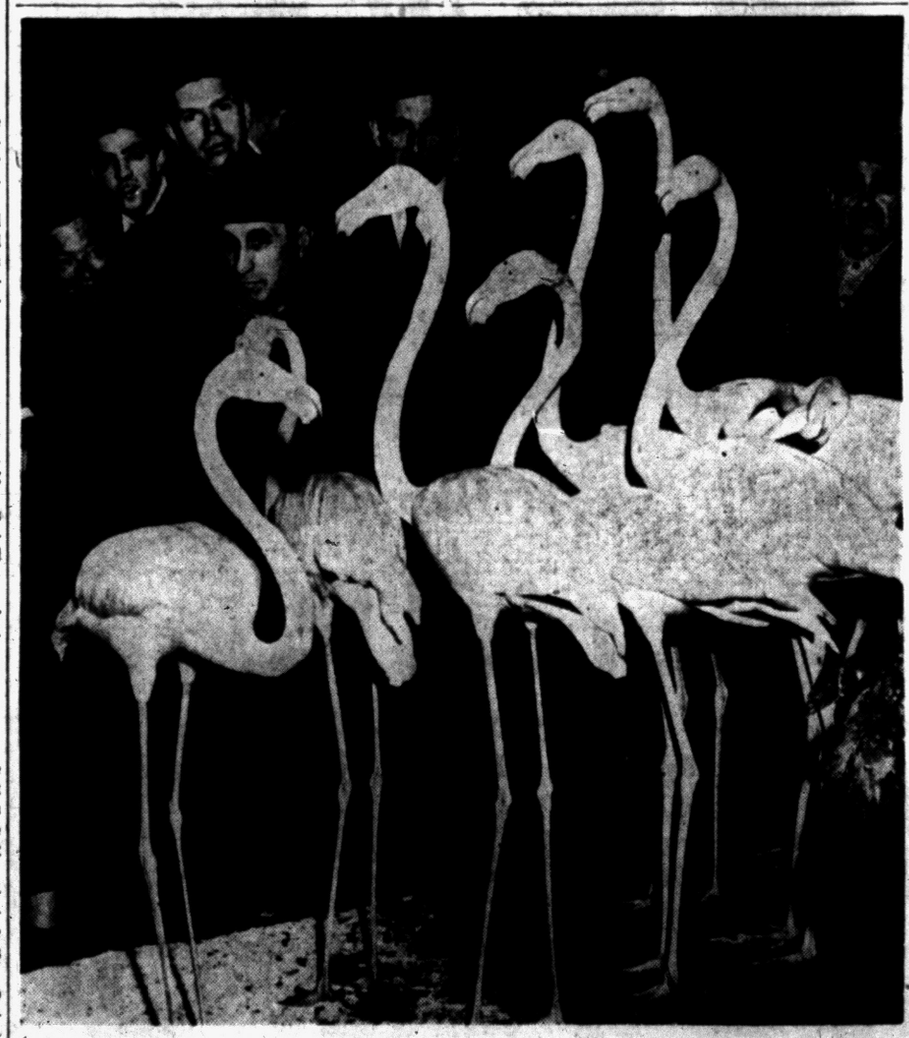

Woman Attended Red Camp in County

DETROIT — An Inkster resident testified in Federal Court Tuesday that he and Mrs. Rebecca Maisenberg, 53, were students together in 1932 at the Camp Liberty School for Communists in Farmington.

The Government witness was Virgil Stewart, 44, of 28701 Hopkins Inkster.

Mrs. Maisenberg, wife of a Detroit milliner, is charged with lying about Communist affiliations in 1938 when she became a naturalized citizen. She has denied the allegations.

The hearing, before Judge Frank A. Picard, will determine whether Ms. Maisenberg's citizenship should be revoked.

RUBBERNECKS ALL—Genuine flamingoes draw crowds at a show window in downtown New York where the eight graceful birds add live color to a display of southern resort fashions. Soviet Atom and H-Tests Believed to Be Extensive

(Editor's Note: There has been considerable speculation of late on Russia's success in producing atomic weapons. However, there has been no official word. The following dispatch represents informed opinion on Russian progress in atomic development.)

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Russians have tested a greater number and variety of atomic and hydrogen weapons than the U. S. public realizes, informed sources said today.

Official American and Russian statements to date indicate that the Soviets have fired at least 11 test shots, starting in 1949 when they broke the U. S. atomic monopoly. This figure is now obsolete.

The United States has staged a minimum of 50 nuclear explosions, Great Britain 3. Both this country and Britain are getting ready to conduct new tests this year.

The Russians may be, too. In any case, it can now be said on high authority that they have set off considerably more than 11 test explosions. The true figure may be double that number.

It also can be stated that the Russians have tested H-bomb reactions more than once since the only Soviet thermonuclear shot, fired on the morning of Aug. 12, 1953, which this country has announced.

The Atomic Energy Commission purposely does not announce each and every nuclear explosion in the U.S.S.R. which the United States detects. Reason: To keep the Russians guessing as to just how accurately we are keeping tabs on their atomic progress.

Not since the Soviet hydrogen test of August 1953 has it been possible for non-official observers in this country to maintain a tidy box score on Russian tests.

That explosion brought the officially reported Soviet score to four, including one in September 1949 and two in October 1951.

Since then all announcements, U. S. or Russian, have been couched obscurely in terms of "test series" instead of individual explosions. Three such series have got into the news since the 1953 H-bomb test.

One followed on the heels of the hydrogen experiment. The other two—the only others officially announced by either country—began in late August or early September last year.

As of Oct. 26, 1954, the date of the latest U. S. announcement on Russian test operations, the Soviet score stood at an irreducible 11. This score is based on the absolute minimums that could be derived from the various official statements.

It worked out at four through the 1953 H-bomb shot, at least two in an atomic test series of that year, a minimum of two more in August-September 1954 and at least three from mid-September to Oct. 26.

The United Press has learned that the test program reported in the October announcement continued for an indefinite time after that date, making the 11-shot minimum obsolete.

It also learned that the minimums derived from the deliberately non-specific announcements of previous test series erred substantially on the low side.

An informed source said the Soviets have been steadily increasing the frequency of their test programs and the number of explosions per series.

The latest series, he said, was comparable in magnitude to the four U. S. test programs to date in Nevada which ranged from five explosions in January-February 1951 to 11 in March-June 1953.

U.S. May Withhold Visas of POW Kin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department, because of the tense Formosan situation, is reported unlikely to grant passports to relatives who want to visit Americans imprisoned in Red China.

An informed source said yesterday he doubted the department would permit travel to Red China as long as Nationalists and Communists are trading shots along the Chinese coast.

Relatives of 15 airmen and two civilian Army employes recently were invited by Red China's Premier Chou En-lai to visit their kin held in China—illegally, this country contends.

Recent studies of 1,183 polio patients showed that 1,165 had brown or black hair and eyes, 17 had brown eyes and blonde hair and one had blue eyes and blonde hair.

Doubt Beclouds State Birthday

Michigan May Be 118 Today; Robert E. Lee Caused the Confusion

LANSING (UP) — Michigan, because of a bitter boundary dispute with Ohio 120 years ago, observes what may or may not be its 118th anniversary today.

State officials admit they aren't sure when Michigan officially started celebrating its existence.

Was it:

1. Jan. 26, 1837, when Congress formally admitted Michigan as the 26th state in the union?

2. Or November, 1835, the year Michigan approved its first constitution and elected a full slate of state officers and the year to which Michigan's entry was "backdated" by Congress?

3. Or July 18, 1836, when Michigan's first Supreme Court came into existence?

State officials also said they don't especially care whether Michigan is 118, 119, or 120 years old.

"The governor's office takes no official stand on the matter," Alfred Fitt, Gov. G. Mennen Williams' legal aide, said.

"All we know is there was a state when we got here," another executive aide said.

"Eventually the teachers of history will straighten the thing out," Dr. Lewis Beeson, historical Commission secretary, said.

Meanwhile, state officials said they have no choice but to accept 1837 as the date of statehood, although Michigan's state seal still has the year "1835" in Roman numerals.

The dispute over statehood for Michigan arose from a boundary battle with Ohio.

Just as Michigan made its claim for statehood in 1835, it engaged Ohio in the so-called "Toledo War."

Acting Gov. Stevens T. Mason led troops into Ohio to fight for an area near Toledo, but no shots were fired and the matter was placed on the conference table for settlement.

Ohio finally won the argument in 1937, and Michigan was given what is now known as the Upper Peninsula as compensation for its territorial losses to Ohio.

Once the boundary issue was settled, Congress formally approved Michigan's statehood.

"You could say the dispute over Michigan's anniversary could be blamed on the person who surveyed the boundary between the two states," Eugene F. Sharkoff, director of the Legislative Service Bureau, said.

The surveyor was Robert E. Lee, known more for his Civil War role than for his role in molding Michigan's boundary.

First English-built locomotive to run on an American railroad was the "Stourbridge Lion," which made a trial run at Honesdale, Pa., on Aug. 9, 1829.

Where to Put Them?

Junior High Pupils Topic of Waterford PTA Group

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Juggling the 1955-56 time schedule to squeeze 1,935 junior high school students into daily classes as the problem when some 50 PTA representatives met at the monthly PTA-Principal-Superintendent Conference last night at the high school.

A proposed schedule would have 680 eighth graders attending school from 8:30 a. m. to noon. Arriving as these students left would be 670 seventh graders, who would remain in school until 4:30 p. m.

Ninth grade students would follow a 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. schedule, allowing time for their advanced study schedule.

Voting another bond issue to finance a new junior high school has been deemed inadvisable at this time by Supt. William Schunck. Schunck said interest rates would be too high, because of other recent bond issues.

A heavy elementary school enrollment will be eased with four new buildings scheduled for occupancy by this time next year.

A ratio of one teacher for every 30 pupils in the upper three grades of the high school, will still permit the school to be accredited by the North Central Assn.

In other action last night, Thomas Belton, recreation superintendent, asked for organization of a special committee which would plan an educational campaign informing the public of the recreation program.

GOP Majority Fights Feikens

Elders in Legislature Demand the Removal of State Chairman

LANSING (AP) — More than three quarters of the Republican members of the Legislature today were reported to have demanded removal of John Feikens as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

Rep. Herb Clements (R-Deckerville) said 51 of 59 House Republicans had asked for a "change in the leadership of the State Central Committee."

"We voiced no personal criticism of John Feikens, who has worked hard and conscientiously," Clements said, "However, we believe that the Republican Party is coming back strong with a moderate progressive program along the Eisenhower thinking."

Clements said the confidence of the people would be bolstered by new leadership to promote the Republican program.

Republican legislators have pledged full participation in the spring election, he said. But he hinted that efforts would be "intensified" by a new leader working more closely with the Legislature.

Younger members of the House, known as the "Young Turks", were reported solidly opposed to the move to oust Feikens, a pro-Eisenhower Republican.

Feikens himself has shown no great interest in keeping the job if it means a fight.

Commander Cites Service to Veterans

In marking the observance of National Veterans of Foreign Wars Week Jan. 23-29, Fred McDaniels, commander of the Oakland and Macomb County units, has cited the organization's 56 - year record of service to veterans.

"The largest single unit of our organization is the national rehabilitation service, which has some 100 loyal employes," McDaniels stated. "This service represents our members and other veterans, as well as their dependents of deceased veterans, who may request our assistance in any claim or problem they may have with a federal agency."

Besides a staff in Washington, the group has service officers in the state who are ready and willing to give expert help to veterans and veteran's dependents who file claims with the regional Veterans Administration offices or hospitals, McDaniels said.

Jaycee Group to Survey Area

Will Check Attitudes of Waterford People on Incorporation

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The incorporation research committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce plans to make assignments for a inventory and attitude survey of Waterford Township at its next meeting Feb. 7, committee chairman Philip Nelson has revealed.

Such a survey will include statistics on the population, housing, education facilities, churches, and medical and professional facilities of the area.

Nelson said that following the survey, final analysis of the statistics will be made preparatory to sending two man teams throughout the township, explaining the committee findings to civic organizations and service groups.

These teams will be prepared to present the pros and cons of incorporation to the people of the community, he added.

"It is not the intent of the Jaycees to take sides in this issue," Jaycee president Charles Pappas stated. The group is gathering all information posible on incorporation to aid citizens in drawing their own conclusions, Pappas added.

Russia Claims She Originated A-Secret Swap

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press today published a statement by atomic scientist Dmitri Skobeltsyn claiming the Soviets had been the first to propose a sharing of atomic secrets among nations.

The statement was contained in an account of an interview which the papers said Skobeltsyn had given the Daily Workers in New York. The atom expert is representing the Soviet Union on a committee at U.N. headquarters making preliminary arrangements for the world scientific conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy, to be held in Geneva next August.

(In New York, the interview did not appear in yesterday's edition of the Worker and a spokesman for the Communist party newspaper gave only one answer to all questions about the matter: "We just don't know anything about it.")

Skobeltsyn said the Soviets first proposed international sharing of atomic secrets in 1946, when they asked that a U.N. committee work out recommendations for organization of an exchange of such information.

He also cited Russia's recent announcement that she would give atomic aid and information to five Communist countries and said the Soviets were considering a further extension of this plan.

Avoid Crowds to Escape Polio

Alberta Study Shows Disease Is Transmitted Through Air

EDMONTON, Alberta (AP) — "Stay away from crowds" still seems to be the best advice on how to avoid polio.

This was among the findings of an Alberta Health Department research team which looked into data on transmission of polio.

No evidence was found directly linking polio with swimming, but swimming places usually are crowded and hold the same risk as other places where people congregate.

The research group was appointed by the Health Department to survey polio cases in Alberta between April 1, 1953, and March 31, 1954.

A total of 1,437 cases, or nearly 90 per cent of all persons stricken in the province in the 1953 - 54 outbreak, were studied.

Analysis of case histories shows that polio can be spread by coughs, sneezes, talking or breathing. Transmission through the air was given as the most probable explanation of 58.5 per cent of the cases investigated.

The survey disclosed interesting information as to how polio spreads.

Four persons from widely separated points attended a picnic and became ill 10 days later. Two had symptoms suggestive of polio but recovered without diagnosis. A third was diagnosed as a polio case and recovered. The fourth died of polio.

Investigation showed a housewife who had prepared food for the picnic was diagnosed as a polio case a short time afterwards. Although she was too ill to go to the picnic her food was served. Of the four picnickers later stricken only one, so far as is known, had direct contact with the housewife.

Five Areas to Hold Polio Fund Marches

Five sections of Oakland County have scheduled Mothers Marches on Polio for Thursday, when contributors are asked to turn porch lights on from 7 to 8 p. m.

Volunteers in Ortonville, Metamora, Lakeville, White Lake Township and Imlay City will be seeking contributions to the March of Dimes at that time.

Heading the Brandon Township collection, which includes Ortonville, is Mrs. Laverne Borst. Mrs. Elbert Williams is chairman for Metamora village and Richard deBeaubien is running the Metamora Township campaign.

Mrs. Paul Johnson, Mrs. Dorothy Barns and Mrs. Betty Ford will be callers in Lakeville. Chairman of the Imlay City march is Mrs. Grant Muir. Proceeds from the third annual basketball contest between the Towners and the Faculty, scheduled for 8 p. m. Feb. 2, will be turned over to the drive.

Security Hearing Concludes Today

DETROIT (AP) — The security hearing of suspended immigration officer Harold H. Nettle, shrouded in secrecy, concludes today.

Nettle, 37, was suspended last Oct. 3 from his post of chief of the immigration border patrol at Sault Ste. Marie. Although his loyalty was not questioned, charges were brought that some of his wife's relatives were Communists or Communist sympathizers.

All participants in the hearing were tight-lipped after yesterday's opening session. The only statement came from Harry Kobel, Nettle's attorney. He said he is "confident that we will refute the charges."

Ten witnesses were called — four reportedly by the government and six by the defense. Two of them identified themselves as Ronald Hokkanen, a storekeeper, and Ernest Nordquist, a welder, both of Angora, Minn., where many of Mrs. Nettle's relatives reside.

Williams Asks Dairymen to Confer on Milk Probe

LANSING (AP)—Southeastern dairy farmers have been invited to a conference with Gov. Williams to air their charges of an alleged milk price monopoly in the area.

The governor said representatives of the attorney general's office and state agricultural officials also would be invited to attend. Date for the conference has not yet been set.

Some 400 dairy farmers headed by Harold H. Fritz, president of the Romeo local of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., asked for a grand jury investigation of the alleged monopoly.

A resolution sent to the governor charged "monopolistic price fixing" and an "illegal monopoly" aided by "collusion of some persons connected with the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. with certain companies."

The dairy farmers said they are only getting 6 to 8 cents a quart for milk which is sold in Detroit for as much as 22 cents a quart.

Williams said the remedies that could be applied would depend on what situation actually exists.

"If the main or exclusive problem relates to economic but legal discrimination against the farmer," he said, "then an economic study with strong public support might be the best answer.

"If there is a legal monopoly, it should be investigated and prosecuted to the full extent of the law."

Sees Airplanes With A-Power

Could Make Nonstop Flight To and From Any Point on Earth

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics urged today "unceasing effort" toward development of atomic power plants for airplanes.

The reward would be "nonstop supersonic flight to any point on the face of the earth and return," said the committee, the top federal air research agency.

NACA said with that as a goal, industry, the Atomic Energy Commission, the military services and NACA itself are taking part in "vigorous, sustained attacks" on tremendous technical problems to be solved. The world's first nuclear-powered submarine, the Nautilus, is now undergoing operational tests.

In a letter submitting the committee's annual report to President Eisenhower, NACA Chairman Jerome C. Hunsaker noted that the agency's appropriation for the current fiscal year is 52 million dollars, and that it has asked for about 60 million for the next fiscal year.

"The current trend toward leveling off expenditures for scientific research in aeronautics is forcing hard decision to slow down or to defer indefinitely research projects essential to the timely development of new weapons," said Hunsaker, a Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientist.

"It is now wise to accelerate scientific progress. In the long run, scientific research is the best insurance that there will be 'value received' from the country's whole aircraft program."

The NACA, appointed by the President, coordinates the nation's aeronautical research. It operates a number of laboratories.

Township Officials Discuss Highways

LANSING (AP) — Highway and street construction was the main topic of the opening session of the annual state convention of the Michigan Township Supervisors Association yesterday.

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler termed as a healthy sign the increased interest in highway development being shown by Michigan residents.

Frank K. Evans of Mason, engineer - superintendent of the Ingham County Road Commission, told a panel discussion that teamwork is needed in planning subdivision street development.

Evans suggested that township boards, boards of supervisors, road commissions, drain commissions and plat boards coordinate their efforts to see that streets and subdivisions are planned to best serve the public.

GOP Finance Director to Resign at Convention

LANSING (AP) — Berry Beaman, finance director of the Republican State Committee, says he will resign his post at the party's state convention in Detroit Feb. 19.

Beaman, of Parma, has been finance director for six years.

Asked if he might be available to succeed David W. Kendall of Jackson, who is retiring as national committeeman, Beaman said that would have to wait until Kendall actually steps aside.

Dan Gerber, Fremont industrialist, was reported as a likely successor to Beaman as finance director.

Dog May Win Approval as Honorary Legislator

LANSING (UP)—A dog may become a member of the Michigan Legislature.

Rep. Charline White (D-Detroit) said today she will sponsor a resolution making "Happy," the seeing-eye dog of Rep. Robert D. Mahoney (D-Detroit), an honorary member of the House of Representatives.

Weekly Report Lists Decrease in Diseases

New communicable disease cases in Oakland County during the week ended Saturday dropped sharply from the previous week, according to reports filed today by Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director.

Chicken pox and mumps, which hit seasonal peaks during the week ended Jan. 15, showed much smaller totals, although higher than the same week last year.

Reports for Pontiac and Oakland County, as listed by Dr. Monroe, are given below with comparative figures for the previous week and a year ago:

Pontiac	Past Week	Prev. Week	Year Ago
Chicken pox	16	34	4
Measles	1	4	3
Mumps	4	7	1

Enrollment Rising in Exercise Course

The class is for ladies 16 and over who wish to tone their muscles, trim their figure and limber up.

All exercises are under the direction of Carol Wolfe, local ballet and ballroom dance instructor. Mrs. Wolfe leads the group through a series of techniques designed to limber and stimulate muscular coordination, encourage loss of excess fat and promote good posture.

Red Signs Going Up

DETROIT (AP) — The city of Detroit will replace 10,000 yellow stop signs with the new red type. Alger F. Malo, director of the Department of Streets and Traffic, says 2,500 will be replaced each year for the next four years.

Association to Meet

A 8 p.m. Thursday meeting of the Oakland County Assn. of Citizens League will be held at 1117 Cambridge St., Berkley.

Kavanagh Vetoes Ousted Solon's Recognition Plea

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh yesterday filed a brief rejecting Sen.-elect Anthony J. Wilkowski's arguments that the Senate should give him back the seat it voted to take away from him.

The Senate refused to seat Wilkowski, a Detroit Democrat, on the grounds that he was unfit for office because of a 19-year-old conviction for an election recount fraud.

The attorney general asked the Supreme Court to turn down Wilkowski's petition for a writ of mandamus to force Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart to swear him into office.

Kavanagh's brief argued that Wilkowski was trying by indirection to compel the Senate to mandamus the Senate itself.

The courts have no right to force the Legislature to do anything, Kavanagh said.

He held that the lieutenant governor cannot pass on the qualifications of senators or reverse a decision by the Senate.

Turnout Insures Teen Program

Weekly Youth Night to Continue at CAI in Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Teenage response to the township recreation department - sponsored weekly "Youth Night" has dictated its continuance.

Recreation Supt. Thomas Bolton said membership cards will be available to all high school students at a cost of 35 cents, and future charges of 25 cents per person will be made.

All fees are used for the operational cost of the informal evening of activity for the area teenagers. Bolton said the function will continue to be held for the balance of the school year from 7:30 - 9:30 p. m. Thursday evenings at the CAI building.

Dancing, games and a dairy bar are offered.

Ferndale Pastor Heads Presbytery of Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — The Rev. H. Paul Sloan, pastor of the Drayton Avenue Presbyterian Church in Ferndale, was elected moderator of the Presbytery of Detroit yesterday.

Dr. Sloan will succeed the Rev. Allan A. Zaun, pastor of Detroit's Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Chrrch.

Mikes Upset Orchard Lakers in SCL Play

Milford Hurdles Clarkston 5

By JACK SAYLOR

Mighty Milford turned on the steam in the 3rd period Tuesday night to pull away from a game, but over-powered Clarkston five and take a 68-52 decision in their big Wayne - Oakland League tilt.

An overflow turnout watched Jack Minzey's Redskins overcome a 1st half shooting lapse to hand Clarkston its 2nd loss of the season and extend the Milford record to 8-1.

While the Wolves saw their 7-game winning streak go by the boards, they nevertheless retained a share of 1st place in the W-O, with a 5-1 league mark.

In other games, Troy laced Oxford, 74-49; Avondale spilled Lake Orion, 47-37; Northville downed slumping Keego Harbor, 53-47; and Walled Lake nudged Redford Union, 48-47. Utica won the battle for top spot in the Bi-County by defeating South Lake, 50-44.

While Milford's shooting was badly off form in the 1st half, some sensational foul shooting kept the game close as Clarkston held leads of 13-10 at the quarter and 31-30 at the half. The winners wound up sinking 28 of 40 foul shots.

Then in the 3rd period, the Redskins found the range. Fred Baker began to hit from outside, and Don Perkuchin lent Tom Gould important help on the backboards. The 2-man rebound team was too much for Clarkston's Dick Johnston to handle alone.

Little George Lang turned in a sparkling game for Clarkston and led his team with 19 points. Gould and Jim Davidson, who fouled out early in the 2nd half, each had 19 for Milford.

Lyn Wright and Albert Hill teamed up to pace Avondale's upset of Lake Orion, which ended a 4-game losing streak for the Yellowjackets. Wright tossed in 18 points and Hill added 10 and did a fine rebounding job.

Northville also finished a 4-game win famine at the expense of Keego. Sam Minard's Presidents claimed a 3-point lead with 2 minutes to play, but bad passes brought their downfall. Keego's only consolation was a 23-point performance by Frank Rogers.

Peyton Goodwin's Troy ball club, gathering momentum as the season progresses, crushed Oxford with 21-point 2nd and 3rd quarters. Floyd Bailey banged in 20 points to lead the Colts, but Jack Acton supplied 13, Rex Moore, 12 and Jim Murdock, 10. Dwight Spiker and Fred Bergin had 11 each for the Wildcats.

Close games are commonplace wherever the Walled Lake team appears and Tuesday was no exception as Niles Freeland's Vikings eked out its 48-47 see-saw victory over Redford Union.

Taulbee had 18 points. Fenton handed neighboring Holly a 68-48 defeat as Madden scored 27 points. Roger Vorheis registered 18 for the Broncos. Lou Haase's 17 points supplied the victory impetus for Utica at South Lake.

St. Benedict	7	1	St. Clement 2 6
St. Mary OL	6	2	St. Rita 1 7
St. Frederick	4	4	St. James 1 7

St. Michael knocked neighboring Orchard Lake St. Mary out of a 3-way tie for the Suburban Catholic League basketball lead last night, upsetting the Eaglets 49-44.

St. Benedict dumped St. James 48-38 to retain its share of the top spot, while St. Frederick outlasted Royal Oak St. Mary 59-56, in an overtime thriller.

Orchard Lakers jumped into a 13-4 lead in the 1st four minutes, but St. Michael bounced back to pull to within two points, 19-17, at the end of the 1st period. Marty Keller sank two free throws to give the Shamrocks a 27-26 advantage midway through the 2nd quarter, and the Mikes never again relinquished the lead.

Holding a 44-38 edge going into the final period, Coach Bob Mineweaser's outfit froze the ball during six of the last eight minutes. John Keller sank five of six free throws to account for all of St. Michael's 4th-quarter scoring.

Keller led the Shamrocks with 16 points, while Joe Wilhelm had 13 and Marty Keller 12. Pete Ziebron had 13 for the losers.

Mikes' reserves suffered their 1st defeat in eight starts, bowing to St. Mary's juniors, 34-29.

Royal Oak St. Mary overcame a 38-36 3rd-period deficit to tie the score at 53 points and send its game into overtime. Dick Doyon sank a field goal and two free throws and Del Chavez added two more charity tosses in the extra period to outscore the Irish 6-3 for the final margin.

Cats' Rally Almost Nips Irwin-Rosa for an Upset

Irwin-Rosa, once beaten 2nd place team in City Basketball League Class D standings, narrowly averted an upset last night by edging Bad Cats, 43-42, in overtime.

After trailing for three quarters, the Cats exploded for 17 points in the finale to tie the score at 38-all at the end of regulation play.

A free throw by Wylie proved to be the winning point as each team tossed in two baskets in the extra session. Walker of the winners and Bowers of the Cats shared scoring honors with 15 points apiece.

In other Class D games, Spartans downed Lakers 42-36, Wolverines dumped Slaybaugh's 35-27, and Boys Club beat Meteors 43-34.

TONIGHT'S GAMES—Shaw's vs Clarkston (Class A, 7 p.m., PHS); Boys Club vs Davis (Class B, 8:30 p.m., PHS); Hawks vs Blue Devils (Class D, 7 p.m., Lincoln); Police vs Elks (Class D, 8:30 p.m. Lincoln).

Players Turn 'Thumbs Down' on New Ruling

No One Seems to Like Shrinking of Catchers Working Area

NEW YORK (AP)—There appeared to be only one thing certain today in the new baseball rule which sets the catcher's box as a rectangle measuring 43 inches in width—no one liked it.

Four receivers on the New York clubs had unkind words for it and Carl Hubbell, farm director of the New York Giants and a great left-handed pitcher in his prime, not only doubted that the rulemakers could make the rule work but also came to the defense of the intentional pass.

"This rule won't serve any purpose at all except to give the catcher more work," said Hubbell. "He'll have to time his jump out of that box to get the wide pitch and maybe for a time we'll see some wild pitches.

"But it won't eliminate the intentional pass and why should it? The intentional pass is a strategic part of the game, a calculated risk by any manager.

The new rule was announced in Chicago Monday. Apparently there is no limit on the depth of the catcher's box. But if he crosses either line before the ball leaves the pitcher's hand, it's a balk.

"I think they'll have to do some clarifying before we can fully understand it," said the Brooks' Roy Campanella. "As for cutting down the intentional pass, I don't think this can figure."

Said the New York Yankees' Yogi Berra:

"I read about it last night but I haven't been able to figure it out yet. But I can't see it stopping the intentional pass."

West Westrum of the New York Giants said:

"I can only see it making things tougher for the catcher. It won't stop the intentional pass and it will make it more difficult for us to handle the pitch-out, which is a fast fall."

Red Wing Star Suspended for Tiff With Fan

Ted Lindsay Benched for Next 4 Contests by Campbell Ruling

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, fighting an uphill battle in their campaign to take over National Hockey League leadership from the Montreal Canadiens, will play their next four games without the services of their ace forward, Ted Lindsay.

The fiery Wing captain Tuesday was suspended from NHL play for 10 days as a result of a rinkside scuffle with a fan during a game at Toronto Saturday night.

The suspension, ordered by League President Clarence Campbell following an inquiry into the incident, was the heaviest penalty ever levied on a Red Wing player.

Incensed Red Wing officials indicated they would appeal the ruling.

Bruce Norris, vice president of the club and an NHL governor, said he would contact other members of the board of governors asking that the penalty be lightened.

Campbell, in handing down his decision, said he inflicted a heavy penalty on Lindsay because he already has been involved in "two similar incidents on previous occasions this season." The hearing Tuesday in Detroit, Campbell said, showed Lindsay's latest altercation was "in my opinion, completely indefensible."

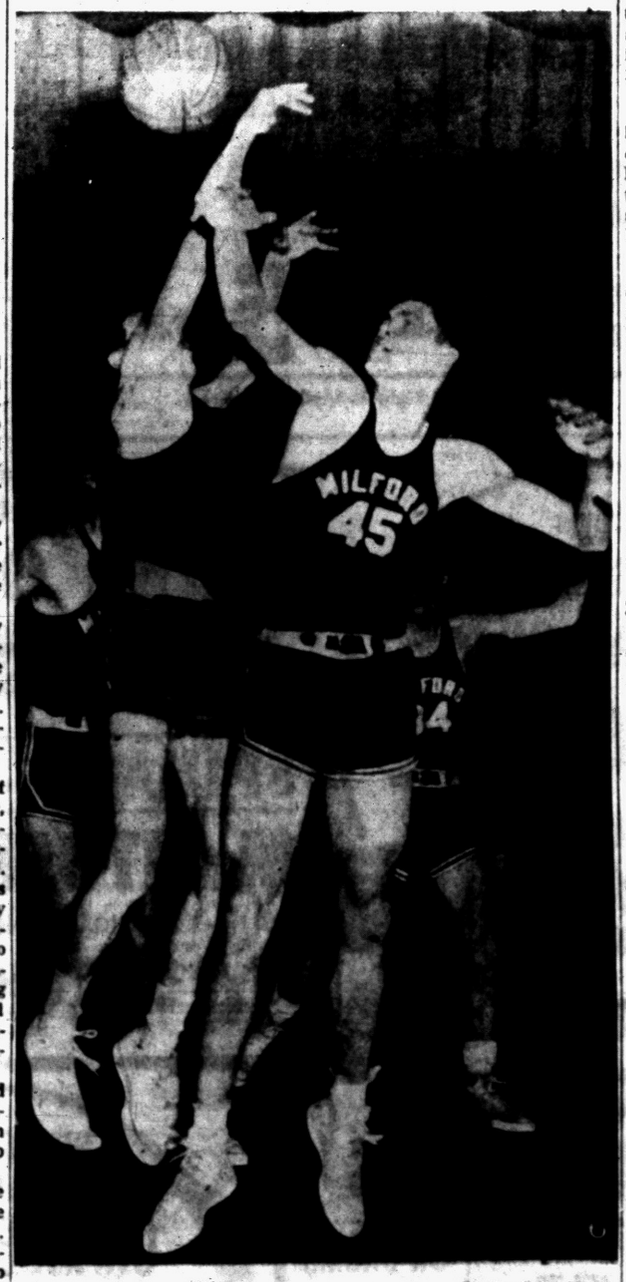

Campbell also rebuked Red Wing officials, who, he said, promised to take disciplinary action against Lindsay after the two fracases earlier in the season.

The incident which led to the suspension occurred during the second period of the Toronto game. It originally involved the spectator, whom Campbell declined to name, and Gordie Howe, high scoring Wing forward.

Campbell said the spectator told game officials he had grabbed Howe's hockey stick to prevent it from striking his small son as Howe and Eric Nesterenko of Toronto were scuffling on the rink.

Lindsay hurried over to the fan and struck him with his hockey stick. The two scuffled briefly, but no one was injured.

Cooper Is New Knollwood Pro

Floridan Selected to Succeed Herm Fiebig at Birmingham Area Club

Pete Cooper, veteran tournament player from Florida, yesterday afternoon was named golf professional at Knollwood Country Club.

He will succeed Herm Fiebig, who recently resigned as pro-greenskeeper at the Birmingham area club after 21 years of service.

George Kayes, Detroit attorney who headed the committee to select Fiebig's successor, said this morning that Cooper will begin active duties the latter part of March. He was pro at Tampa's Palma Ceia Country Club this winter.

Cooper, 39, played on the pro circuit for eight years, winning the Virginia Beach Open last year. He also has been head pro at several Florida clubs. Fiebig's aides, Joe Thacker, Eddie Masimas and Sam Moore, are expected to remain at Knollwood.

White Sox Option Player to Millers

The Sox obtained Sawatski from the Cubs after the 1953 season and last year he batted .183 in 43 games. The Sox now have three catchers, Sherm Lollar, Clint Courtney and Earl Battey, 6-foot, 200-pound Negro star who batted .292 for Waterloo, Iowa last year.

With Sawatski gone, the Sox will take 40 players to spring training.

Gridiron Signal Confused With Military Salute

PITTSBURGH (INS) — The military salute — used as a signal for unnecessary roughness in college and professional football — is under attack from four veterans organizations that claim the signal desecrates the greatest honor given our flag.

They are the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans and American Veterans Association.

The organizations became interested because of the plight of a 4th grade pupil in a Pittsburgh district school. During an Americanism class, he knew that folded hands meant prayer, but said that the salute was a football signal.

Harris Meets Perrault

SAGINAW (UP)—Detroit welterweight Duke Harris has been signed to meet Joey Perrault of St. Paul, Minn., in a 10-round bout at the Saginaw auditorium Feb. 8, it was announced today.

Celtics' Sharman Seeking Stardom in Two Sports

BOSTON (AP)—Bill Sharman, possessor of basketball's best one-hand set shot and a burning desire to make good in baseball, won't permit himself anything short of a big league performance in either sport.

That attitude makes a great "pressure" man of the 6-foot-1 Boston Celtics star, named most valuable player in the recent All-Star game of the professional National Basketball Assn.

Teamed with backcourt partner Bob Cousy and center Easy Ed Maccauley for the fourth season Sharman, having his best year, gives the Celts the most awesome offense in the game.

Bill, the former University of Southern California athlete now living in suburban Needham with his wife and three children, currently leads the NBA in free throw accuracy (87.8 per cent). He's third in field goal percentage (43.4), seventh in scoring (809), and tied for sixth in scoring average per game (19.3).

Now Sharman has signed a contract with the Brooklyn Dodger baseball organization to return to the diamond after a year's layoff.

Bill, an outfielder, signed with Dodgers in 1950 and played that year at Pueblo in the Class A Western League, 1951 at Fort Worth in the Class AA Texas League and '52 at St. Paul in the Triple A American Assn. But a broken hand and a pulled tendon in '53 found Sharman at Mobile doing a discouraging sting as pinchhitter.

Jeffs Surprise Eastern Quint

Hand Unbeaten CJHS Leaders First Defeat in Eight Starts

Once beaten Jefferson upset Eastern, 39-26, in City Junior High Basketball League play yesterday afternoon to snap a 2-year 8-game unbeaten string for the Indians.

Jeff's victory threw the league lead into a 3-way deadlock between Jefferson, Eastern and Washington. All now have 3-1 marks.

Paced by Hudson Ray's 13 points, Jefferson roared to a 20-8 halftime lead and never was in trouble. Chuck McIlrath was high for Eastern with six points.

Lincoln won its 1st victory of the season, 45-37, over winless Wever. Larry Walker hit 24 points to lead Lincoln, while Tom Hyatt had 21 for the losers.

Washington dumped Birmingham 33-16 in a non-conference contest. John Phlegm sparked the Braves with eight points, but Pete Green of Brimingham took game honors with nine.

Louis Is Credited for Holman Victory

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Heavyweight John Holman of Chicago today gave Joe Louis credit for his fourth-round victory over Argentina-born Cesar Brion Tuesday night in Miami Beach Auditorium.

Referee Jimmy Peerless halted the bout with the South American champion, who twice went the distance with Louis, on his knees, clutching at Holman's legs. Holman brought him down with a right to the chin.

"I heard Joe Louis say if you work on a man's body, the head automatically will come down," Homan said. "I made up my mind to do just that."

Clarkston High to Have Lighted Football Field

Work Is Expected to Be Started Soon on Project

Clarkston High School's football team, which won the Wayne-Oakland League championship last fall will defend its title on a newly lighted field this season.

Work is expected to begin shortly according to an announcement made recently by the committee in charge of the project. Five home games have been carded for this season with the prospects of having a lighted field.

A program of raising necessary funds is underway. Donations by Clarkston organizations and receipts from special events sponsored by the faculty and students amounts to over $1,000.

Public donation is expected to provide the $4,000 additional funds. All labor for installation of the lights, poles, and necessary grading and sodding of the field has been donated.

Canvassing of the district will begin Feb. 1 and interested persons may contact Edmund Gunter at MA 5-4776.

Pennsylvania Measure Asks TV for Penn Tilts

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A resolution introduced in the Pennsylvania State Legislature Wednesday would open up Pennsylvania college football to television.

The resolution asked that all state aided colleges and universities be prevented from entering agreements under which the number of televised athletic contests is restricted.

The measure is in opposition to the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s Game of the Week policy, already under attack in other legislatures and by the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conferences.

Furgol to Compete in Big British Test

NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Furgol, lame-armed U.S. Open golf champion, announced today he planned to compete in the British Open golf championship at St. Andrews July 4-8.

He is here to receive the Ben Hogan award, given annually to the player who overcame the greatest physical handicap to make a success in golf.

Furgol's left arm is 10 inches shorter than his right as the result of a childhood accident.

Maple Tankers Win

Birmingham High School's swimmers remained undefeated in Eastern Michigan League competition Tuesday by sinking Port Huron, 62-20, at Barnum Pool. The Maples took every first and all but one second place as they racked up their 5th victory against two non-conference losses.

Mosconi Takes Lead Over Coast Cue Ace

CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Mosconi, world's pocket billiards champion, defeated Joe Procita of Los Angeles Tuesday in the first two blocks of their 1,500-point title match.

Mosconi had runs of 62 and 53 to win the first block, 150-68, and runs of 59 and 42 to win the second block 150-21.

Procita had a run of 48 in the fourth inning of the first block and took a 54-0 lead but Mosconi came back with his run of 62 and was never headed.

College Cage Game Ill, Blame Bonus 'Bug'

The Associated Press

Something's wrong with college basketball. But what?

Take your pick. You'll find supporters for any of the charges.

But after you consider some of the arguments, you find just about every one winds up with a swipe at the bonus rule. The bum what threw the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder didn't cause half the hubbub as the gentlemen who rewrote the free-throw rule last March.

About the only men connected with the sport who favor the rule are Ozzie Cowles of Minnesota and, presumably, Bruce Drake of Oklahoma, chairman of the committee that put the bonus rule into effect.

The rule was intended to cut down fouls, and according to Cowles the rule has the machinery to do the job. It puts a tough penalty on fouling by paying off for foul shot excellence — awarding a bonus attempt to the player who sinks his first free throw.

Cowles says you can't fight it, you just have to make the most of it. It penalizes fouls, so why not make the most of it. The Minnesota coach has stressed practice, practice and more practice on free throws, and it's paid off more than once for the Gophers this season.

But the majority of coaches — as well as writers and fans — are against the rule. Harry Combes of Illinois says basketball is sick and the bug what did it is the bonus rule.

He's fed up with a system that often gives a victory to the team with the best foul line success rather than field goal artistry and accuracy. It's turned basketball into a free throw exhibition, says Combes, and "that certainly shouldn't be the case."

* * *

Some coaches take an indirect swat at the bonus rule, charging that the officiating is at fault. They cite increasing cases where foul shots rather than field goals decide contests. But again, it's the bonus rule — granting the extra point — that gets the final blast.

Minnesota College Abandons Football

WINONA, Minn. (AP) — St. Mary's college, dogged by disastrous seasons for the last three years, yesterday dropped inter - collegiate football.

The decision was announced by Brother J. Ambrose, school president.

In the last three years St. Mary's has won only one game, tied one and lost 20. During that period it was outscored by rivals, 663 to 114.

Tech Beats Indiana 5

DETROIT (AP) — Forward Walter Dzurus netted 17 points last night to lead Lawrence Tech to a 76-63 win over Manchester College of Indiana in a basketball game at Hackett Field house. Tech led all the way except for a brief period late in the 3rd quarter when the Indiana team knotted the score at 50-50. Forward Dick Piper headed Manchester's scoring with 21 points.

Hoad Defeats Seixas, Trabert Tops Rose

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) —Vic Seixas, the U.S. champion from Philadelphia, was eliminated from the Australian National Tennis championships Wednesday, leaving Tony Trabert of Cincinnati the lone U. S. survivor.

Trabert advanced to Saturday's semifinals by whipping Australian Mervyn Rose, the defending titleholder, 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Seixas went down before the Aussies' Lew Hoad 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 8-6.

Trabert will meet Ken Rosewall and Hoad will tangle with his countryman, Rex Hartwig, in the round of four on Saturday.

Valdes Wins 12th in Row Against Unknown Flood

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Nino Valdes of Havana, chief claimant to a chance at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight crown, scored victory No. 12-in-a-row and his seventh consecutive kayo Tuesday night but added little to his prestige.

He twice floored Jack Flood, a journeyman from Spokane, Wash., once in the first and again in the second before putting him away for good in the seventh of a scheduled 10-rounder.

The end came in 2:37 of the round on a stiff overhand right to the jaw after Valdes had led nearly all the way.

Valdes received 60 per cent of the unannounced gate.

Flood, winner of 12 of his 24 fights over 8 years, was credited on the AP scorecard with only the third round but also said he absorbed his worst punch, aside from the finisher, in that round.

In the second round, Flood was dropped to his knees by a right cross but he grabbed the ropes and pulled himself up. There was no count.

Sensing a possible upset in the third, as Flood recovered and belabored his heavier opponent in Valdes' own corner, the crowd cheered for the Spokane fighter to "pour it on."

Valdes, whose weight was announced as 212, got out of the hole, however, and biding his time, he shook Flood with the blow to the stomach before the round ended.

Wilson Denies Financial Gain Motivates Big 10

CHICAGO (AP) — The tight cloak of secrecy which has surrounded the meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. television committee was expected to be lifted late today at a news conference.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said Tuesday a committee chairman will be named and plans of the committee will be disclosed.

The new committee was selected to formulate a plan aimed to satisfy the television football interests of various college conferences. The Pacific Coast and Big Ten Conferences were against the 1954 national NCAA program of the Game-of-the-Week.

Meanwhile, Harvey Chrouser, athletic director of Wheaton College, criticized the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conference stand for regional television.

Chrouser's remarks brought an immediate denial from Tug Wilson, Big Ten athletic commissioner, that the Big Ten has motives for financial gain in proposing regional television.

Chrouser said "the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conferences' insistence on regional televising of football games could kill football for American boys . . . and the future of the NCAA.

The Big Ten's prime motive in opposing the NCAA's TV plan," said Chrouser, seems to be "a desire for the cash the public will spend for the television of football games of its choice."

Wilson came back, saying: "We don't want to get into a war of words about football television but there have been so many false charges and so much loose talk that I want to make a few brief remarks.

"We did not solicit but anticipated legislative interest in a liberalized television program and we will resist legislative action which would force unrestricted television. "It is an absolute fact that the Big Ten does not stand to gain financially under the television program which it has fostered and if anyone wants to take time to examine the facts, we will be glad to provide them," Wilson continued.

Earlier in the day, State Rep. Ora Dillavou in Springfield, introduced in the Illinois House a bill to permit the University of Illinois to televise football games.

Byers, meanwhile, would say nothing about the television committee meeting except to announce the withdrawal of Max Farrington of George Washington University from the 12-man committee.

Byers gave no reasons for Farrington's withdrawal but said a successor would be named today.

Neither would Byers indicate who would get the committee chairmanship. Speculation had it that Earl S. Fullbrook, University of Nebraska faculty representative and retiring NCAA secretary treasurer, would get the post.

Only one pair of brothers have won collegiate singles tennis titles. Clifford Sutter won the championship in 1932. Brother Ernest won in 1937 and 1938. Both played for Tulane.

Gillman Named to Pool's Job With Pro Rams

Cincinnatian Had Top Record Among College Mentors

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams finally have selected a successor to Hampton Pool as head coach for 1955. He is Sid Gillman of the University of Cincinnati, whose won and lost record is second only to Bud Wilkinson's at the University of Oklahoma.

Gillman signed a contract Tuesday in Chicago and was to fly to New York Wednesday to join Ram Owner Dan Reeves and his associates, Ed Pauley and Fred Levy Jr., for the National Football League draft, which starts Thursday.

Terms of Gillman's contract were not disclosed, but a good guess would be at least $20,000 a year for at least two years. Pool lasted longer than any other Ram coach—three years. The others served two years or less — Joe Stydahar, Clark Shaughnessy, Bob Snyder and Adam Walsh.

Gillman, after he returned to his Cincinnati home, said he considered the Ram offer a challenge. He said he would bring some of his assistants at Cincinnati here but probably would hire a coach with pro league experience to get the benefit of his knowledge of playing personnel.

Reminded that the Rams long have been a passing team, Gillman said: "You may be sure that the Rams will be air-minded. You have to pass in order to survive in the pro ranks."

Phils to Have Two 'Robin Roberts' for 1955 Season

NEW YORK (AP)—If you believe the ivory hunters—baseball scouts to the laymen — the Philadelphia Phillies will boast two Robin Roberts in their Clearwater, Fla., spring training camp.

One is the real Roberts, of course. The other is a 20-year-old righthander who not only is built like the Phillie ace but is supposed to pitch like him. His name is Jim Owens who was with Syracuse of the International League in 1954.

More than one scout tabbed Owens as the best pitcher in the minor leagues last year, and they know all about Cleveland's Herbie Score, too. Not only that, but these same scouts rate Jack Meyer, another righthander coming up with Owens, as not far behind.

What have these two done to deserve such high praise? Well, Owens won 17 and lost nine with the Chiefs and added two victories in the playoffs. "The bear," as he is called, led the International League with a 2.87 earned run average and five shutouts. Meyer had a 15-11 record with the same team and picked up five more victories in the playoffs. He paced all pitchers with 173 strikeouts. The year before he led the Eastern League with a record 224 strikeouts.

"Owens has the best curve ball in baseball," said Roy Hamey, Phillies' general manager recently. "And you don't have to take my word for it. All the scouts of the rival clubs back me up. Meyer throws as hard as anyone in the big leagues. If Owens and Meyer fulfill the promise they have shown in the minors, this pair will help give us the strongest hurling staff in baseball."

'Hall' Calls DiMag

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, long ago confirmed as one of the greatest New York Yankees, will find out today whether he has become a member of baseball's immortals in the Hall of Fame.

Today's count of votes by 10-year members of the Baseball Writers Assn. marks the third try for entry by DiMaggio. The Yankee centerfielder retired after the 1951 season.

He missed by 14 votes last year, being named on 175 of the 252 ballots cast—just short of the three-quarters needed.

The actual counting of the ballots could be an all day affair. They've been coming into Commissioner Ford Frick's office since mid-January, where they've been kept under lock and key.

Last year Rabbit Maranville, Bill Terry and Bill Dickey were elected to take their place among the greats at the Cooperstown, N. Y. shrine.

The writers are permitted to vote for 10 men, but the order in which the names appear on each ballot doesn't matter. The number of ballots vary from year to year with the changes in the seniority of the members.

In order to be eligible for selection a man must have been active in the last 25 years but have been out of organized baseball as player, manager, coach or umpire for at least five years.

Exceptions were granted to allow men receiving 100 or more votes in the 1953 elections to remain eligible. That stipulation covered DiMaggio, Dickey and Ted Lyons. With Dickey being elected last year, DiMaggio and Lyons remain the lone exceptions.

No one has any advance information on the voting, but since DiMag missed by such a small margin last year he seems likely to be chosen this time.

Besides the three men elected and DiMaggio, there were four who polled more than 100 votes a year ago. Lyons, the ex-Chicago White Sox pitching mainstay, received 170 votes and missed out by 19. Former Brooklyn Dodger hurling star Dazzy Vance collected 158 votes and Gabby Hartnett, ex-Chicago Cub catching great, accumulated 151. Next in line were Hank Greenberg, currently Cleveland general manager and Joe Cronin, now general manager of the Red Sox.

* * *

The hall of fame, established in 1936, enshrines 73 members. The new members are formally installed each year at Cooperstown on the day two major league teams play an exhibition game there.

Joe Giardello Faces Andrews

'Rusty' Middleweight Contender Hoping for Shot at Title

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Ring rusty Joe Giardello takes on Al Andrews tonight in a 10-round bout that could land the Philadelphia tough guy an early title fight with middleweight champion Bobo Olson.

It will be Giardello's first fight in four months, a period during which Joey has been having troubles with: (1) His knee; (2) the police, and (3) Pennsylvania boxing officials.

Giardello hopes he can use the Andrews bout as a springboard for a championship match with Olson.

Tonight's fight at the Municipal Auditorium will be televised nationally by CBS (10 p.m. EST). Proceeds will go to the March of Dimes.

Giardello is rated the No. 1 challenger for Olson's title. He was due for a title shot this winter but bowed out of a scheduled match with Olson because of a knee operation.

New Gadgets for Fishermen

By JACK PATTERSON

This is the time of year when manufacturers of fishing gear bring their new items out in the open for the benefit of dealers and, incidentally, for the benefit of those fishermen who chance to stumble across such a display.

PATTERSON

Probably because they feel the bite of competition in the late winter air, tackle makers this year have done a little better than usual, in this writer's opinion, in bringing out some genuinely useful items.

There is, of course, quite a collection of novelty stuff, of rather limited appeal. One example is the tip-up rig which will either turn on a red light or sound a buzzer when a fish takes the bait. Might be useful at night, but who uses a tip-up at night?

Probably the fly fisherman is the chief beneficiary of 1955 improvements and gadgets. One item, the white fly line, has long been needed for evening and night fishing, but has never been generally available to the fisherman. This year most of the important manufacturers have added white lines to their stock.

Two gadgets which should be useful to the fly man are a small, very light snap which can be snapped directly to the fly and will float with it (another boon to the night fisherman because a fly can be slipped on by feel) and a small barbed eyelet which when inserted in the hollow center of the end of the fly line does away with the necessity of knotting the leader to the line. Of negligible weight, the eyelet is designed to do away with the knot splash which is often unavoidable when the line is knotted to the leader.

Gladding has brought out a 15-yard double taper fly line spliced (and rather badly in the sample we saw) to 25 yards of 15 pound backing. The result is a perfectly castable line at a considerably lower cost than the standard double taper.

For the spin fisherman a three-foot length of lead filled line is offered as the answer to casting ultra-light lures with medium and heavy spinning outfits. This gismo might be useful for certain salt water fly work where rather constant winds and the present trend to smaller, lighter streamers and plugs don't always add up to a harmonious combination.

Speaking of salt water, spinning reels by many makers are being improved and modified with the somewhat tougher requirements of the salt water fisherman in mind. Which is not a moment too soon, for the popularity of light tackle work for shallow water ocean species is growing faster than any other type of fishing. It's made its grip felt in this area as one can easily see if he takes note of the many local people who have turned up missing since the first of the year.

If, for one reason or another, salt water has no particular appeal, you can still hunt rabbits until the end of the month, much later in the north. Foxes, too and bobcats in the timber country. Recent snows should prove very useful for such activities.

Profitable Sideline!

Golfer-Trapper Catches 319 Muskrats in 1954

A well-known Pontiac golfer has turned a sideline into a fairly profitable business, along with his father's help.

Jim Hanes, Sylvan Village, who does quite a bit of summer shooting over the area's fine links, teamed with his dad, Harry Hanes of Keego Harbor, to assemble a bag of some 319 fine muskrat skins during the 1954 'rat season. Included in the bag, but in addition to it, was a prime male mink taken from the first trap Hanes checked after the season opened.

Aided by an extension of the season up to Jan. 15, trappers had good ice to work on, a condition that helped boost the size of the bag, Hanes points out.

"Muskrat fur, itself, was nearer a more prime condition because of early cold spells in December," Hanes says.

Property owners about the three lakes provided a bit of assistance for the trappers. "We received many calls from owners who were having trouble with these 'rats undermining their front lawns, and causing the ground to cave in."

Prices, too, Hanes said he was happy to report, are up from the 1954 figures. "This catch brought us $1.45 a skin on the market. Last year they were worth only $1.05 each.

"I think, and other trappers back me up, that the price gain is due to the low catch in the Pte. Mouillee marshes. High lake water levels cut cattail growth and consequently reduced feed for the rats, and places for them to build their homes on."

More Wildfowl Wintering Here

LANSING (AP)—More ducks and geese are wintering in Michigan this year than ever before, the conservation department says.

The department reported aerial and ground surveys revealed a duck and goose population of more than 300,000.

Largest concentrations are in Lakes St. Clair and Erie and in the Kalamazoo and St. Joseph river basins, the survey showed.

The total included some 280,000 ducks, mostly in the eastern part of the state, and about 18,000 geese, scattered in the western part of the state.

Herbert J. Miller, department waterfowl specialist, said more shore foods have been available to the birds because of light snowfalls and generally mild weather.

Brooks Sign 2 Hurlers

BROOKLYN (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers said Wednesday that pitchers Erv Palica and Bob Milliken have returned signed contracts, making a total of 31 players announced as signed thus far. Rookie second baseman Charles Neal, up from St. Paul, came into the fold Tuesday.

60 Expected to Race in Ice-Yacht Event

MT. CLEMENS (UP)—Some 60 iceboating enthusiasts from Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin, are expected to compete Sunday on Lake St. Clair in the Northwest Ice Yachting Association's national championship races.

Art Bentler, secretary of the host Detroit Ice Yacht Club, said the races had to be postponed last weekend because the ice wasn't firm enough. "However, we expect about six inches by Sunday," he said.

Shooters Name Officers for '55

2 From County Given State Assn. Positions in Recent Elections

Michigan Rifle and Pistol Association held its annual election of officers recently at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

Robert Gubbins was re-elected vice president in charge of small-bore rifle shooting and Cash Bond, an ex-vice president, was named to the board of directors.

Three area clubs also elected new officers. Pontiac Rifle and Pistol Club named Fred Mayer president, Robert Waggoner, vice president, Seeley Dart, executive officer and Fay Magner secretary-treasurer.

John Treeful is new president of the OCSC Rifle and Pistol Club. Other officers are Frank Stephens, vice president; Frank Brusha, executive officer; Bill James, assistant executive officer; Jack Alcock, chief instructor; and M. E. Guy, secretary-treasurer.

D. R. Wilson Rifle and Pistol Club elected Fay Magner, president; Milt LaPorte, vice president; Louis Jelsch, executive officer and Fred Mayer, secretary-treasurer.

The clubs named Mayer, Treeful, Kjell Danielson, Magner and Bond as a rifle committee, with LaPorte and Bond chairman and director of public relations.

County Marksmen Win State Honors

In grand aggregate scoring, Robert Gubbins was 1st in the women's class, John Treeful was 1st and Nancy Newman 2nd in sharpshooters' division and Don Rose was 1st among marksmen.

Carolyn Henry was 1st in Junior B Class in the 1st and 2nd matches, Bert Beam was 2nd in match No. 1, Howard Collins was 2nd in sharpshooters in match No. 3 and Kjell Danielson was 2nd in marksmen in match No. 4.

Armstead Wins 20th

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Undefeated Lawrence Armstead of New Orleans scored his 20th kayo in 21 straight victories Tuesday night when he stopped Billy Lynch of Hartford, Conn., in the second round of a scheduled 10-rounder. Armstead weighed 136, Lynch 138.

New Rules to Govern Fishing in Au Sable

By MORT NEFF

To members of the trout fishing fraternity, regulations governing the main stream of the Au Sable river make the big news in fish laws for 1955. From Burton's landing to Wakely's Bridge fishermen may use nothing but artificial flies as the lure. The minimum size legal trout taken from these same waters must now be 10" in length, and the maximum daily limit has been reduced to 5 trout.

NEFF

It must be said in favor of the Au Sable river guides that their own recommendations for the changes played an important part in bringing about the new rulings. And in asking for these changes these same guides were acting most unselfishly, for it may mean fewer satisfied customers in the summer months ahead.

Ten inch trout get a lot smarter than the 7" variety! And obviously the smaller bag limit simply means fewer trout to take home from the trip.

Yet the guides realized that the future of Au Sable trout fishing may well depend upon this measure. Many of the fish taken under the old laws had not reached spawning age, and the use of bait and "hardware" lures proved lethal to undersized fish which promptly died after release.

Ohio Support for Control of Lamprey Sought

AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration made another move Tuesday to line up Ohio support behind the U.S.-Canadian treaty to destroy sea lampreys in the Great Lakes.

William C. Herrington, special assistant to the undersecretary of state for fisheries and wildlife, told Rep. Baumhart (R-Ohio) that Ohio is the only Great Lakes state containing strong anti-treaty sentiment.

Sea lampreys have killed millions of dollars worth of fish in the Great Lakes, but have not been active in Lake Erie, which is adjacent to northern Ohio.

In a conference at Baumhart's office, Herrington also assured the Vermillion, Ohio, congressman that nothing in the treaty would involve federal or Canadian control over U.S. commercial fishing. He handed Baumhart some proposed legislation to go along with the treaty spelling this out.

Baumhart has opposed the treaty because he says fishermen in this district fear federal control.

"However," he told a reporter after the meeting, "I will study the proposed legislation and discuss it with fishermen in Ohio this weekend."

Yesterday, Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) announced he would support the treaty—if it is confined to lamprey destruction—when the administration submits it to the senate next month for ratification.

Two Fox Hunts Held in Area Last Weekend

Two fox hunts were held in the Pontiac area last weekend.

Detroiter Robert Bettelon accounted for two of the four foxes killed in the Detroit Sportsmen's Congress' 1st hunt of the season near Oxford.

Hugh Stevens of Detroit and Milton Poland of Royal Oak bagged the other two foxes. A total of 102 hunters took part in the expedition.

Rochester's firemen sponsored another hunt at Meadowbrook farm. Eight-eight hunters participated and bagged seven foxes. A dinner at the American Legion Hall concluded the affair.

Bush Named Prexy of M-L Shooters

Other new offiers include Don Wilson, statistical officer; Frank Bursha, publicity oficer; Frank Hernacke, executive officer; and John Zeph, secretary-treasurer.

42 Top Pros to Play in Thunderbird Test

Maxim Regains Position as Top Lightheavy Contender

NEW YORK (AP)—Joey Maxim is back in his old familiar place as No. 1 challenger to light heavyweight champ Archie Moore in the latest ring ratings as a result of Paul Andrews' knockout over Boardwalk Billy Smith.

As Maxim, the former champ, handled Andrews with ease in November, Pal Joey just naturally moved up.

While the heavyweights waited for champion Rocky Marciano to make up his mind about his next fight, the lower ratings were shuffled. Jimmy Slade dropped from seventh to 10th after his defeat by Earl Walls of Toronto. Rex Layne, of Lewiston, Utah who has been winning in the West, climbed from ninth to seventh and Charley Norkus of Port Washington, N. Y. advanced one peg to ninth.

Nino Valdes of Cuba still is Rocky's No. 1 challenger. Moore isn't ranked in that division.

Jimmy Carter, the lightweight champ, and Paddy DeMarco, former champ, still are rated in that order in the 135-pound division. It's the same story for feather champ Sandy Saddler and Teddy (Red Top) Davis who meet Feb. 25 in a title match. Bobby Bell earned a rating (No. 8) in the feather class by defeating Rudy Garcia.

Bobo Olson's leading challenger is Joey Giardello, the Philadelphia middleweight who boxes Al Andrews at Norfolk tonight. Tiberio Mitri of Italy, Bobby Jones of Oakland, Calif. and Gustav Scholtz, unbeaten German, all moved up in the 160-pound class.

AUSTRALIANS ON MSC TRACK TEAM—Three Australians are on Michigan State's track team. From left: Doug Stuart, 23, of Sydney, high jumper (6 foot 3⅜); Dave Lean, 19, Launceston, Tasmania, hurdler (:52.3 for British Empire games record in 440 and :14.8 in 120 highs; Captain Kevan Gosper, 21, Newcastle (:47.1 in 440 Empire games and Big Ten favorite).

Kerbawy Ready to Drop Pact

Lions' Official Is Irked by Loss of Gil Mains to Argonauts

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit Lions general manager Nick Kerbawy was ready to toss the proposed "no raiding" pact with the Big Four of the Canadian League into the ash can today following the loss of defensive tackle Gil Mains to the Toronto Argonauts.

Mains, a 235-pounder, developed into one of the most aggressive linemen in the league last season. An announcement from Toronto yesterday said that Mains had signed with the Canadian team Jan. 15 for a reported $13,000 a season.

Kerbawy said "the proposed peace pact with the Big Four could possibly be tossed into the ash can as a result of the Argo's action."

Kerbawy indicated yesterday he didn't intend to give up Mains without a fight. He said there "is strategy involved in this matter" but declined to say what the strategy was.

Illini Cage Coach Cannot Decide Whether All or None of Big 10 Quintets Are Outstanding

CHICAGO (AP) — Harry Combes, University of Illinois basketball coach, says "either there isn't a great team in this conference or they're all good."

Combes was referring to what is becoming one of the tightest races in Big Ten basketball history.

No team has fewer than two losses and most haven't reached the halfway mark of 12 games. It is quite possible the champion will have four losses or maybe several teams will share the title with a record five defeats.

Whatever the final standings, a sharp look in won and loss columns shows Big Ten teams don't stack up too well nationally even though they have a record of 49 victories and 25 defeats against non-conference teams.

Most of the teams beaten by the Big Ten are not ranked in this week's Associated Press poll. In fact, only three schools which have played Western Conference foes are among the top 20.

They are North Carolina State (3), Marquette (11) and Missouri (12).

North Carolina State beat Minnesota, currently tied for the conference lead, Marquette lost to Michigan State but defeated Michigan and Missouri knocked off Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin after losing to Illinois.

The team that has been the toughest for the Big Ten is Penn. The unranked Quakers have whipped Iowa, tied with Minnesota for the league lead, Purdue and Michigan State.

Other than Penn, the Big Ten has beaten eastern teams eight times without a loss. Princeton took four of the defeats and Pitt two.

Against southern and southeastern teams, the Big Ten has a 6-3 mark including Illinois' only non-conference loss, a 72-66 setback by Loyola of the South.

Against far western opposition, Iowa beat Stanford; Michigan defeated Denver and lost to Brigham Young, and California downed Ohio State twice.

The bulk of the Big Ten victories against non-conference foes has been in the midwest. Western Conference teams have beaten other midwest teams 30 times and 13 of these triumphs were at the expense of Butler, Valparaiso, Washington of St. Louis and St. Louis.

Haas Defending Champion for $15,000 Event

Bolt, Middlecoff and Littler, Winter's Three Winners, Also on Hand

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Forty-two selected professionals tuned up today for the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational Golf tournament, a 72-hole event that gets under way Thursday.

The 1954 winner, Fred Haas Jr., who came with a rush in the final round to capture the event, is here, along with the victors in the three previous tournaments held in California this winter.

They are Tommy Bolt, fresh from the San Diego Open; Cary Middlecoff, the Bing Crosby winner and Gene Littler, who won the top $5,000 prize in the Los Angeles Open.

Little is affiliated with the Thunderbird Country Club. He turned professional here a year ago and signed to play for the club.

The pros will play the first two rounds paired with club members in pro-amateur competition for an extra prize, and wind up the last two rounds in pure medal play for the main money. Their individual scores apply to the full 72 holes, of course.

Boston Writers Pay Honor to Athletes

BOSTON (AP) — Willie Mays and Johnny Antonelli of the world champion New York Giants and catcher Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees will be among those honored tonight at the 16th Boston Baseball Writers' dinner.

Antonelli and pitching coach Frank Shellanback will be honored for their contributions to the Giants who completed a great year by pulling a four-game World Series sweep on the Cleveland Indians.

Doby Still 'Reaching'

Corum Doesn't Believe Cleveland Star Has Quite Reached Peak of His Ability

By BILL CORUM

NEW YORK (INS)—Larry Doby of the Cleveland Indians is a fine looking man, pleasant to meet and talk with, and certainly a good ball player.

Indeed, he often looks like such a good player that you wonder why he isn't a better one. And that sentence isn't quite as foolish as it may sound.

What I mean is that I don't believe that Larry ever has quite reached his top potentiality with the Indians.

My hunch is that one of these seasons, possibly next season, baseball will see a better Larry Doby than it ever has seen before.

In any case, the Indians' center fielder made an excellent talk in New York the other evening and, between courses, told me a couple of interesting things about Lo, the Poor Redmen of the World's Series.

Since it is human nature to look ahead toward a better day after troubles, the 1st thing that Larry told me was that he thought the Indians would win again in the 1955 pennant race in their league, and positively not lose four straight in the World's Series.

"We have a good team," he said, "and have had ever since we got that boy Al Smith in left field. He made a great difference and he's a fine player, who is going to get better.

"What happened to us in the series, and I take nothing from the Giants in saying it, was that after we set that American League record for victories, which became our big goal after we finally had beat the Yanks out of the flag, we droped into an easy chair and couldn't get out of it.

"It wasn't that we took the Giants lightly. Since we play 'em every spring, we knew better than that. If the people in the National League thought that their winning the pennant was a fluke, the Indians, at least knew better."

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—The Throttled Swing.

If women could but realize how easy, how comfortable, how much fun it is to swing a bowling ball with a push-away, I'm sure they would, from the very start, practice that all-important fundamental.

Failure to push away the ball immediately throttles all action, kills the swing, and makes work of carrying the ball. As the sketch shows, the body remains erect and the ball, without swing, is usually dropped "kerplunk" on or behind the foul line.

To get into swing — enjoyable, comfortable swing — hold the ball in the palm of the left hand, about waist high, and as you take your first step, push the ball outward, away from the body.

Then — keep going. Soon you'll have coordination of footwork and ball swing and . . . bowling will be a pleasure instead of a tedious, tiring job. The swing is the thing!

Macfadden Dodges Alimony Troubles

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP) — Bernarr Macfadden, 87-year-old exponent of the body beautiful, says he's staying in Canada a while in hopes of keeping out of the clutches of the law.

U.S. courts have ordered the thrice-married former publisher and physical culturist to fork over nearly $10,000 in alimony and other payments to two of his divorced wives. Macfadden says he hasn't got it.

Checking into a hotel here yesterday, Macfadden told newsmen he planned to stick around "until things cool off back home."

U.S. May Cut Activities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government departments and agencies have been ordered to examine all their activities that compete with private enterprise and decide which can be "reasonably ended." Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes, in a memo made public last night, urged that all federal business activities be ended unless "it would not be in the public interest."

Uncovered Garbage Can Costs Gypsy Rosy $15

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Here in the biggest, weirdest city in America, you can get many things you can't find elsewhere—including troubles.

Miss Gypsy Rose Lee has just paid a $15 fine for not having her garbage can covered.

★ ★ ★ ★

Then you're a litterbug?" I asked Miss Lee when the news smote my ears.

GYPSY ROSE

"I think so. I don't mind paying the fine," she said. "I'm all for cleaning up the city. It's as dirty as Calcutta! France and Italy don't have garbage cans setting out on the street. But it wasn't fair to pick on ME for not being covered up when nobody else's garbage can had a cover on, either."

The idea of a famous strip-teaser being covered, or uncovered, caused Miss Lee to break the seriousness with a laugh.

"At 9 in the morning, a man came to our door," Gypsy related.

"I got my caretaker to accept it as soon as I saw it was a summons. I'd had about 10 garbage can covers stolen. You can't keep them—you know that!

"My caretaker paid the fine down on 2d Av. Later I walked down the street to buy a garbage can cover.

"Well!" snorted Gypsy. "I counted 18 cans in the block that weren't covered. There was one hotel where there were 9 cans that weren't covered.

"Then I tried to buy a garbage can cover. Did you ever try to buy a garbage can cover?"

I admitted I had never been so favored.

"'You have to buy the whole garbage can, Miss,' they say. I said I didn't want a whole can. I just wanted to cover my garbage can up. Well!"

★ ★ ★ ★

"It seems a little ironic," she said, "that Gypsy Rose Lee should have the only garbage can in the block that's covered up! After all my years of not being covered . . ."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Dagmar does another big-time TV spot, subbing for Jan Murray as m. c. of "Dollar a Second" next week when he vacations . . . Eddie Bracken's been offered the lead in "Ankles Aweigh." Incidentally, Danny Shapiro, who wrote the lyrics, has now become "Dan Shapiro."

When Lisa Kirk's tights and operalength hose shrank just before her opening at the Plaza Persian Room, she phoned Marlene Dietrich who rushed over two pair which fit perfectly. Lisa's old songs—"Ain't We Got Fun?" and "If I Could Be With You One Hour Tonight"—brought up to date—resulted in her best show yet.

Barney Ross said about Sugar Ray Robinson: "Sure, he kept in shape dancing, but dancer's legs ain't fighter's legs."

JULIE ADAMS

Howard Hughes sees Polly Bergen . . . Nick Condos, Martha Raye's ex, will open a N.Y. cafe . . . Julia Adams has the female lead in "Six Bridges to Cross."

Jeff Chandler's Las Vegas take will be $110,000 for four weeks.

Soviet Boots Song Writer Straight to Tin Pan Alley

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—You try to write or perform a peppy, American-type love song in Russia and they'll think you're real crazy, Jack. So crazy you may be booked on the 8:17 sleigh to Siberia.

The reason is simple enough. The Soviet doesn't like or approve of love, outwardly expressed the American way. It is considered unseemly, unnecessary, un-Russian and a general waste of time considering there is work to be done.

This is the word from Julie Whitney, a bubbly little dublichka who used to be one of her homeland's top "pop" song writers during the war when Moscow and Washington were sort of in tune. But directly after the war, in 1947 — pow!

"They dug me, all right," she recalls. "But in the back."

Julie doesn't mind so much anymore, now that she has escaped to the U. S. and is writing her mushy melodies in New York while waiting for U. S. citizenship paper; but she was plenty miffed when she was frozen out of a lucrative career right at the height of it. She had just written three revue songs and was the new star of Iron Pan Alley when suddenly: "America was no longer our ally and my songs were much too decadent, too capitalistic and too Western."

They were jerked from the show, and Julie—who had married U. S. newsman Tom Whitney during wartime—was no longer peddling song hits.

"The Soviet," she says bitterly, "it don't like sex and it don't like romance. If a song is gay, it gives the people gay ideas and this is no good.

The popular song racket in Russia is a good deal tougher to break into than it is here, though this may seem incredible to the millions of Americans who have tried, unsuccessfully, to get their little ditties published.

"You see, there is only one publishing company in all of Russia for the 200 million people," over the piano keys as she spoke. "And that one"—she struck a vicious chord—"is owned by the government."

Since the government music house publishes little besides marching songs and working songs and sentimental ditties about children, a songwriter must go directly to a singer or an orchestra leader and bargain with him. If you're a "known" composer, as she was during the war, you can get as high as $500 for a song, and smaller "royalties" from persons who perform it thereafter.

Since the song is unpublished, in sheet music form, the people pick it up and sing or play it by ear. "There is one wonderful quality about Russian pop songs," Julie says. "They always have definite melody, and it is very easy to sing them once you have heard them."

On the other hand, "they almost never have lyrics that anyone wants to repeat. Russian song lyrics always tell some kind of not-very-funny joke. Or they are very pathetic, usually about sad things that happen to children."

One of Julie's greatest delights in Moscow, her home town, was smuggling in American popular records. "Everybody in the music world loved them, but you had to have diplomat friends who would bring them in, or know what record dealers could be trusted to sell them 'under the counter'."

She developed a great admiration, especially, for Cole Porter. He is "one big guy" to her. Her greatest pride is that she is about to be admitted to ASCAP (American Society of Composers and Publishers)—"which means that I will be together with Cole Porter.

Julie Whitney is little, black-haired, dark-eyed, 35 years old and excited. Her first U. S. songs are being published this month. They're titled "If We Had Met Before" and "I Never Say No to My Heart," and they're lovey-dovey as all get out.

She describes them as "songs I could have written in Russia, but wouldn't have. Even a Nightingale doesn't do so well in a cage. . ."

Grains Falter After Advance

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains were unable to carry through with the advance of the two previous sessions on the Board of Trade today.

The momentum was still upward at the start as commission houses had buying orders on hand. It was notable, however, that opening grains were not as substantial as yesterday, and trading was not as active.

After the first few minutes of dealings, buying power slackened. Prices of all cereals came down and in some cases went under the previous close.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ to ⅞ higher, March $2.32⅝; corn unchanged to ½ lower, March $1.54¼; oats ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, March 77⅝; rye ⅛ lower to ½ higher, March $1.24¼; soybeans ⅛ to 2 cents lower, March $2.80¼; and lard 3 to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $12.70.

Steel Stocks Roaring Ahead

Strength in the steel division came from the action of U. S. Steel yesterday after the close in raising the dividend and proposing a two-for-one split.

Big steel itself was laggard in appearing on the tape. Stock exchange officials had a rough time in matching buying and selling orders to create a market for the stock.

Defense stocks, which were strong yesterday, were higher as well today but not with the enthusiasm shown by steels. General Dynamics opened on 3,500 shares up 1⅞ at 93½ and then fell back a little. Douglas Aircraft was up around a point and then receded to a fractional gain.

ERNEST R. BREECH

Breech to Head Ford Co. Board

Vice Presidents Given Added Duties, 2 New Ones Appointed

DETROIT (AP) — A one-time blacksmith's helper has been elected board chairman of the Ford Motor Co.

Election of Ernest R. Breech to that position was announced yesterday by Henry Ford II, president. It is designed, Ford said, too help meet demands of the "increased breadth and depth of the company's operations."

Also announced following a board meeting was election of Lewis D. Crusoe and D. S. Harder as executive vice presidents and Robert S. McNamara and Dwillard J. Davis as vice presidents.

Crusoe assumes charge of the company's three automotive divisions; Harder will have charge of three basic manufacturing groups.

McNamara replaces Crusoe as vice president and general manager of the Ford division; Davis succeeds Harder as vice president in charge of manufacturing.

Announcing the administrative changes Ford said the company's over-all expansion and improvement has involved facilities expenditures of more than half a billion dollars in the last two years; the company's share of the truck and car market has increased 37 per cent and two new divisions had been created.

Ford said Breech "will continue to share with me, as president and chief executive officer, the basic management responsibilities and decisions of the company."

Breech, born in Lebanon, Mo., 58 years ago, was president of Bendix Aviation Corp. when he joined Ford in 1946 as executive vice president. Before that he had been a vice president of General Motors, and later president and board chairman of North American Aviation, Inc.

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB®. The price of InfraRUB is only 98¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

GM Motorama Seen by 215,000

Show Closes New York Run Tuesday Night and Heads for Miami

NEW YORK — The General Motors Motorama of 1955 wound up its nationwide debut at the Waldorf-Astoria last night at midnight with attendance at the six-day showing totaling over 215,000.

The tremendous reception accorded the show in New York strengthened expectations of General Motors officials that the 1955 Motorama will be even more popular than GM's 1954 exhibit which was seen by record crowds in five cities.

GM President Harlow H. Curtice said the capacity crowds were evidence of the nation's economic health, as well as of the public's keen interest in scientific and industrial progress.

"The enthusiastic interest in our 1955 products displayed by Motorama visitors is an indication of the market that awaits a manufacturer who offers outstanding values," Mr. Curtice said. "It reinforces my conviction that our economy will reach a new peak in 1955."

A caravan of GM vans last night began moving the cars and hundreds of other Motorama attractions to Miami, where the show will be open to the public in Dinner Key Auditorium Feb. 5 to 13 inclusive.

Twenty-two representatives of the General Motors Overseas Operations Division gathered at GMC Truck and Coach Division yesterday for a briefing on new product details and the 1955 sales strategy.

R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager, and B. M. Wilton, product market research manager, conducted the meeting for the division.

Among the overseas division representatives was E. K. Wild, general sales manager of the overseas division of New York.

The group included 15 overseas officials from New York, five from Detroit and two field representatives.

The appointment of W. J. Moriarty as business management manager of the Lincoln-Mercury Division has been announced by Joseph E. Bayne, general sales manager.

Detroit Edison Co. reported Thursday its electric power production for industry reached an all-time-high of 107,774,000 hours last week. This was an increase of 1.9 per cent over the previous week.

The Altes Brewing Co. of Detroit has changed its name to the National Brewing Co. of Michigan. Jerold C. Hoffberger, president of Altes, said the firm soon will introduce National Bohemian beer in the Michigan area. Hoffberger also heads the National Brewing Co. of Baltimore.

D. H. Pritt, Pontiac representative of The Lincoln National Life Insurance Company, is the winner of a special one-month nation-wide sales contest conducted by his company.

Police said the driver of the other car, Mrs. Andeline M. Hogan, 35, of 3665 Oakview Rd., Drayton Plains, admitted running a red light at the intersection when the accident occurred.

Stock, Commodity Marts Reflect Formosa Stand

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Formosa Strait lies close to the stock and commodity markets these days.

Reaction was quick to the President's request that Congress authorize our forces to fight if necessary for the defense of Formosa.

Aircraft and metals stocks were bid up. Rubber, cocoa, tin and copper futures prices rose and grains felt an increase in export demand as traders envisioned what would happen if a Far Eastern war were set off.

Yet, the sharpest break in stock prices in recent years followed the start of the war in Korea. And the outbreak of World War I in 1914 hit financial markets so hard that the stock exchange was closed for 4½ months.

Why does the mere threat of war send some stocks up, as this week, while the sudden advent of war sends most stocks down?

This isn't as muddled as it seems on the surface, brokers explain.

A peacetime economy makes for the greatest over-all prosperity. What is being produced is for use by consumers. Peacetime production raises the standard of living.

In wartime—in spite of all the flashiness of inflation and high employment—the important part of what is being produced is to be destroyed, not used. There is no benefit to the economy.

A sudden outbreak of war disrupts the economy. Sources of materials, labor supply and markets are either cut off or restrained. The outlook for most businesses is less favorable, and the price of their stocks decline.

But talk of the threat of war calls to traders' minds the possibilities for the "war babies"—the companies that might be expected to get increased orders for the hardware of war. The stocks of these suppliers of the military tend to rise.

Psychology plays a large part. With the threat of war the taxpayer is more willing to spend for defense. Stock traders figure that orders for military goods are more likely to rise than to be cut.

But when war comes suddenly—as with Pearl Harbor—investors turn fearful of the coming disruption of many business lines, and the stocks of industries with no immediate prospect of supplying the military effort look less appealing.

U.S. Steel Pays $1; Proposes Stock Split

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's biggest steelmaker, United States Steel Corp., was plunging into 1955 today with a couple of financial jet rockets behind it—a boosted common stock dividend and a proposed 2-for-1 stock split.

It was the first dividend increase in four years and the first stock split since May 2, 1949, when stockholders voted a 3 for 1 split of common, raising the authorized shares to their present total.

The news caught Wall Street napping yesterday although at the time of the third quarter report last October there were rumors aplenty of a dividend hike—unconfirmed at the time.

The board of directors, waiting until long after the close of the New York Stock Exchange, declared a dividend of $1 a share on common, payable March 10 to holders of record Feb. 4.

The stock had been on a 75-cent dividend basis since 1951.

Directors have approved for submission to the stockholders at their annual meeting May 2 a proposal to change each share of common into two shares.

Union Reveals Work Guarantee for Truckers

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The AFL Teamsters Union claimed today it has just won for truck drivers in 22 states an assured steady employment such as the CIO is trying to get from the auto industry.

Details of the recently-signed labor contracts, covering 175,000 drivers in the midwest, south and southwest, were disclosed at the teamsters union executive board's winter meeting by James R. Hoffa, a union vice president.

Hoffa, of Detroit, the auto production center on which the CIO is centering a drive this year for its guaranteed annual wage plan, personally negotiated the new six-year teamster union agreement.

One contract covering more than 100,000 city cartage drivers in a dozen midwestern states sets a new minimum wage of $2.24 to $2.49 an hour. It provides that most drivers, once they start a week's work, must be paid for a full 40-hour week whether they actually work that long or not. This amounts to an $89.60 guaranteed weekly wage.

In three other contracts covering interstate or long-haul drivers in 22 states, employers are required to guarantee a $75 weekly wage.

Avery Rips Wolfson in Corporation Note

CHICAGO (AP)— Sewell Avery says the attempts of Louis E. Wolfson to gain control of Montgomery Ward & Co. is "a financial venture launched for the benefit of his backers and himself."

The 81-year-old chairman of the big retail and mail order firm made the accusation in the company's first letter to stockholders soliciting their backing in the fight for control.

The annual stockholders' meeting will be held April 22.

Wolfson, said Avery in the letter, "has had no experience in retailing. In our opinion he is not qualified to manage this great corporation in the best interests of stockholders."

Avery compared the firm's present situation with 1931 when he was placed in control.

"The record of the present management of Ward's is one of building up the stockholder's equity and making a profit, of so managing the company that you could invest with confidence," the letter said.

Aeroquip Sales Show 6 Per Cent Increase

JACKSON (UP) — Sales of Aeroquip Corp., one of the world's largest manufacturers of flexible hose lines, increased 6 per cent during the first quarter of the 1955 fiscal year compared with the similar period of 1954, the firm reported yesterday.

In a report to stockholders, President Peter F. Hurst said the sales increase brought earnings to about $400,000 or 43 cents a common share, compared with $26,355 or 13 cents a share for the quarter ended Dec. 31, 1953.

Waives Exam in Theft

David Childs, 18, of 89 Owen St., Detroit, was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday when he waived examination on an auto theft charge. Appearing before Oak Park Justice William F. Nern, Childs was ordered held in the county jail when he failed to post a $3,000 bond, pending arraignment Jan. 31.

Will Do Tribute on 'Toast' Show

Says Newcomers Miss Buildup Networks Gave Early Performers

NEW YORK (AP)—Pretty Jane Pickens says she thinks radio in its heyday gave its stars a better buildup than television does now.

Looking forward to the first reunion of the Pickens Sisters in a professional performance on the air in 18 years, Jane recalls the time when the networks "had a stable of people, and they built this up."

Jane, who now has cut her broadcasting activities to the weekly Jane Pickens Show on NBC radio, says:

Jane and sisters Patti and Helen will sing together again on Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town on CBS-TV Jan. 30 in a tribute to radio based on a book by Ben Gross, radio-TV editor of the New York Daily News.

Jane calls it a testimonial to radio's support of its stars that the Pickens Sisters have become a legend, although they were on as a trio only from 1932 through 1937.

"One of the reasons NBC built us up," she says, "was because CBS had the Boswell Sisters, who already were well established before we came along. They had us on every single night and on commercials all around the clock. You could hardly turn on the radio without hearing us."

The Pickens Sisters broke up in late 1937. Helen now is Mrs. Thomas Acheson, of New York, and Patti is Mrs. Robert Simmons, of Bucks County, Pa. Jane became a Mrs. for the second time last March when she married William C. Langley, New York investment banker.

Bing's Recovery Called Satisfactory

Attendants, who say he is making satisfactory progress, reported today that he will remain in the hospital for another week, then will spend a month at home convalescing. He underwent surgery last week.

Only members of his family and a few business associates have been permitted to visit him.

8-Cent Stamp Marks Rotary's Fiftieth Year

A new 8-cent stamp commemorating the 50th anniversary of Rotary International will go on sale here Feb. 23, it was announced today by H. Sherwood Davis, assistant Pontiac postmaster.

The large-size blue stamp carries the Rotary motto, "Service Above Self," and a design including a globe, flaming torch held aloft, and the Rotary wheel emblem.

Davis said collectors could purchase full sheets of the new stamp from the local post office. If first-day cancellations are desired, a reasonable quantity of addressed envelopes should be sent to the Postmaster, Chicago, together with a money order to cover the cost of the stamps.

Navajo Warriors Whoop, Dance to Bolster Project

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (INS) — Chanting Navajo Indians staged their first war dance in nearly 100 years yesterday to dramatize support of the Upper Colorado River storage project.

Several thousand Indians gathered at picturesque Window Rock, capital of the Navajo nation, for the sacred ancient ritual — "The Enemy Way."

Led by tribal medicine man Adetu or Hosteen Gonni Pedoni, a score of select Navajos went through the ancient ritual symbolizing war. Nearly 2,000 other Navajos formed a huge circle around the dancers in the natural amphitheater in front of Window Rock. They also re-enacted the signing of the Treaty of 1868 with the United States government.

War whoops echoed through the hills for the first time since the early 1860s when troops led by Gen. Christopher (Kit) Carson rounded up the warring Navajos.

At a tribal council meeting prior to the war dance the Navajos called on the United States to live up to its Treaty of 1868 with the Navajos which set aside farming land for the tribe in the four corners area of Utah, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona.

Maurice McCabe, secretary of the Navajo tribal council, said the approval of the Upper Colorado project is the only way the U. S. could fulfill its treaty obligations.

Reclamation officials said the project would permit irrigation of some 125,000 acres of land on the reservation. The Upper Colorado River Commission and a citizens' grass roots committee from the four states were guests of the Navajos at the ceremony and at a huge barbecue following the dance.

Leaders of the tribe said they staged the ceremony not only because they will benefit, but because the entire West will profit from the project.

Sam Akeah, chairman of the tribal council, said the Navajos hoped to demonstrate through the dance that they would work for their rights to the Colorado River water—"the last water hole of the West."

Newsman Guides Airplane to Safety

The pilot, Frederick E. Royce Jr., lost his way during a snowstorm on a flight here from Chicago. But he spotted an illuminated sign on which he made out the word "king." So he radioed the local control tower to ask where the sign was.

The control tower contacted the Grand Rapids Herald. A desk man thought a moment, then said the sign probably was that of the King Milling Co. at nearby Lowell.

With that information, Royce and a passenger, John D. Reaser, had no further trouble coming in.

Says Jap Reds Plan to Resume Public Life

KYOTO, Japan (AP)—Yoshio Shiga, one of Japan's top Communists, declared today seven other Japanese Communist leaders now underground will shortly appear before the public.

Shiga, who is running for a seat in the House of Representatives, is rated the No. 3 Communist in Japan, following Kyuichi Tokuda and Sanzo Nozaka. All went underground in June 1950, when the U.S. occupation cracked down on Reds in Japan after outbreak of the Korean War.

Clinic in Daytime, Speakeasy at Night

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A police raid on a city-operated health center has disclosed the establishment doubled as a speakeasy and gambling mecca by night.

Stunned officials of the Department of Public Health said the establishment's caretaker James Weathers, 40, would be suspended immediately.

Police said Weathers and his wife Gladys had card and dice games going in the doctors' conference room each night and served whisky and beer to the patrons, charging the "customers" for the liquor.

Charge Employe Stole $100,000 From Bus Firm

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — A trusted employe today was charged with the larceny of $100,000 from the Worcester Bus Co., which reported a net profit of only $1,414 for the first three quarters of last year.

Walter E. Hoyle, 44, father of two, was ordered held yesterday in $100,000 bail after he admitted, police said, taking the money during the past 22 months.

Authorities said Hoyle had access to money boxes turned in by drivers in his capacity as a $4,000-a-year revenue agent. He had been employed by the company for 16 years and was named revenue agent two years ago.

Deputy Police Chief P Frank Carroll quoted Hoyle as saying he took "at least $300 to $500 a week," but didn't know the exact total.

Carroll said investigators found $20,000 in bills and coins in Hoyle's fashionable home and in his garage and that another $10,000 was found in a safe deposit box.

Carroll said a warrant to search Hoyle's home was obtained after a three-hour conference between police and company officials and employes. Hoyle's arrest followed.

Hearst in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—Publisher William Randolph Hearst Jr. has arrived on what he called "a couple of weeks journalistic visit."

10 Pontiac Nurses Attend Conference

A three-day meeting conducted at Kellogg Center, East Lansing, by the Michigan League for Nursing is being attended this week by 10 nurses from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital here.

The conference, taking place Monday through Wednesday, is being attended today by Mrs. Frances Mehlberg, head nurse in medical-surgical division; Mrs. Josephine Peterson, supervisor for the pediatrics division, and Miss Dorothy Williams, surgical supervisor.

Yesterday, Sister Mary William, administrator, and Sister Mary Niceta attended along with Mrs. Hanna Bubb, charge nurse, and Mrs. Gertrude Juckno, staff nurse.

On Monday, the hospital was represented by Miss Cecelia Hubarth, assistant director of nursing; Mrs. Dorothy Fernald, assistant supervisor of the medical and surgical division, and Mrs. Mary Clarkson, staff nurse in pediatrics.

Today's Expanding Economy Is Unlike That Which Triggered Crash of 1929

(Third in a series)

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market crash of 1929 was an economic Pearl Harbor.

It killed some people, the men who committed suicide, or died of heart attacks beside the tickers. It struck down the hopes of many others. And ultimately, through the great depression that swiftly followed, it hit the life of every American.

Nobody ever will be able to wholly assess the effects of those tragic years. How much did they set back the economic growth of America? How deep is a sense of insecurity did they leave?

"1954 may well be considered by future generations as a turning point in our history . . . Certainly, it will long be remembered as the year when America conquered the depression phobia."

Long books have analyzed the 1929 catastrophe. They show speculation, rigging and other sharp practices. Such as the fever of the times that people bought a stock without knowing what that company produced—or if it produced anything.

Things are different today because of regulations that did not exist then.

Did the stock market crash cause the great depression of the 1930s?

Comer prefers to say it "triggered" the slump. Other factors existed. It dramatized and aggravated them.

Moreover, it set in motion a chain reaction of contractions.

People cut back on buying and spending. They were scared. Sales dropped. Production slowed. Unemployment set in. The banks were scared too. Some had failed. They called in notes. Everybody lost confidence.

And confidence is like the film of oil that supports tons of machinery. To a considerable degree, the whole, towering American economy rides on it.

Today, the economy is expanding rapidly. The population is rising. More people need more, want more, produce more, earn more, save more.

And today, the stock market is near peak points in simple statistical comparison with 1929 figures. Some observers believe it is too high. Others say it bears little resemblance to the situation of that day.

They point out the differences between the periods. In 1929 the population was 122 million, of which 48 million were employed. In 1954 the population had grown to 163 million, of which 62 million were employed.

The difference in billions of dollars was:

	1929	1954
Personal Income	88	286.2
Savings	4	19.6
x-Gross product	104	350
Listed stock value	85	169
Stock exchange credit	8.5	1.9

X-Estimated total value of all goods and services produced.

The stock exchange credit figures show the money borrowed from vaults and other sources as reported by the New York Stock Exchange. Thus, in 1929, the credit in the market was equal to about 10 per cent of the total value of all the stocks. Today, it works out to about 1.134 per cent.

Moreover, the dollar in 1929 was probably worth double what it is today. Adjust today's stock prices and credit total to that fact, the analysts say, and today's market is nowhere near the 1929 levels.

They say, also, that the market now is an "investor's market," not speculative, backed by billions of dollars of holdings bought by huge trusts, pension funds and insurance companies not likely to unload giant blocks of stock on the market.

"The question inevitably arises whether a similar cycle of speculation and collapse could again occur. The simple answer is 'Of course.'"

But would a crushing depression follow again?

Legislation exists today, the so-called "built-in controls," designed to check any wild surges of speculation, and to operate against the forces that usually break loose in a chain-reacting slump.

It may be that the United States already has halted two potential depressions since the end of World War II. Your children may never see another economic disaster on the size and scale that you witnessed.

Tomorrow: How much safer are you today?

Police Stop Speeder as Wheel Falls Off

Embarrassed Parents Admit Twin Troubles

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—The parents of the Wood twins have about decided on a footprint test to find out which is Charles and which is Robert.

Mrs. Douglas R. Wood thinks she can tell them apart but she isn't sure.

Capt. Wood said yesterday it may take a "footprint expert" at Reese Air Force Base, where the boys were born Nov. 24, to figure it out.

After they cried all night, Mrs. Wood thought they might be in the wrong cribs. She switched them and they went to sleep.

"I knew I had it whipped then," the mother said.

Then the other boy broke out into a rash.

She decided she just gave them both too much juice.

"People must think we are terrible parents not knowing our own children," she said.

Capt. Wood, who is wing adjutant at Reese, said he never did know. Their other children are Douglas, 5, and Debbie, 3.
