Will Convert Hotel Pontiac

The Coming of the King

I—Carpenter in Nazareth

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Far across the seas, in a small country at the eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea, there is a little town called Nazareth. Two thousand years ago—or 1955 years, to be more exact, because our calendar dates from the time of this story—the carpenter in that town was a man named Joseph. They say that he was a fine craftsman and people were proud of his work.

They enjoyed the clean, fresh smell of the wood shavings as they fell away from his knife. And he enjoyed their company and their chatter.

Sometimes Joseph's wife, whose name was Mary, would sit in the room and watch, too. She liked having the children there as much as Joseph did. And everyone knew that very soon she was to have a child of her own.

Then, one day, as they were in that room—Joseph working, the children laughing and Mary sewing a tiny garment—they were startled by the sound of pounding hoofs and iron wheels on the road outside.

Now, neither Romans nor their chariots were an everyday sight in Nazareth, which was a quiet, sleepy Galilee town. And when Romans came they came as conquerors in a conquered land. So the women and children stayed indoors while the men hurried to the marketplace to see what was happening.

Hospital Group Buys Building, Reveals Plans

7-Month Negotiations Climaxed on Saturday; Price Not Announced

Large-scale plans to convert the seven-story Hotel Pontiac, 50 N. Perry St., into a 110-bed hospital were announced today by directors of the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Purchase of the 27-year-old building Saturday morning from the Hotel Pontiac Corp. climaxed seven months of negotiations, according to Administrator Harry Whitlow who will head the new hospital.

Whitlow declined to reveal the amount of the purchase price.

The hospital will take possession of the structure Jan. 1, and will begin an immediate $100,000 renovation program, Whitlow said. Of the 100 rooms, 28 will be private while the rest will be semi-private.

The hotel's three ballrooms will be converted into wards, while commercial shops on Mill St. will be taken over for an emergency clinic. Stores on Perry St. will continue to operate for the duration of their leases, the administrator said, although he indicated that a portion of the space would eventually be occupied by a pharmacy.

Other divisions will include two departments for major surgery and one for minor surgery; recovery rooms, an obstetrics department, and a rooftop solarium. The hospital will start immediately to transfer equipment and facilities to rooms on the second, third and fourth floors.

The institution will employ a staff of 200. Whitlow indicated that some members of the hotel's present working force of 30 may be retained for employment when the hospital begins operations.

The hospital's present quarters at 32 Auburn Ave. will become a clinic, although control will not be retained by the present owners, Whitlow said. The present hospital was established in 1953 and has a staff of 60.

"We want to stay away from the 'hospital atmosphere' as much as possible," Whitlow said. "The directors believe that when we're finished it will be one of the finest of its kind in the state."

The administrator stated that nearly all of the equipment now in the hotel will be replaced.

Built in 1928, the hotel was purchased by the former owners in 1952 from the Collingwood Realty Co. David Shubow, a Detroit attorney, represented the Hotel Pontiac Corp. in the sale negotiations.

Youths Wound 2 Detroit Men

Teenagers Terrorize 3 Homes, Rob 2 Stores, Cause Crash, Steal Car

DETROIT (INS) — Police today sought two youths who shot two men, forced their way into three homes, robbed two stores, stole an automobile and injured a father and his two daughters in an accident from which they fled during a crime spree last night.

The boys were believed to be between 18 and 20 years old. One was wearing a black leather jacket and the other a light colored top coat.

Shortly before 9 p.m. they robbed a beer store of $128.

Fleeing the robbery, they crashed into a car driven by James Peterson, a Detroit mailman. Peterson and two daughters Susan, 9, and Cynthia, 8, were injured. Police found a pistol holster in the abandoned auto.

The abandoned car was traced to 19-year-old Oscar Spears of Detroit. He told police he loaned the car to two boys who were considering buying it. He is being held for questioning and the other two are sought.

The youths then talked their way into the home of Arlin Lockhart. They told him they wished to telephone police but fled immediately after getting into the house.

Two blocks away, they forced their way at gunpoint into the home of 43-year-old Darel Hodge. When Hodge tried to phone police, they shot him in the leg and fled.

Then they stopped at the home of Donald Cole. They forced Cole to drive them to Outer Drive and Whitcomb, where they forced him out of the car. The auto was found at 4 a.m. today in downtown Detroit.

At 10:30 p.m. a Livonia grocery store was robbed of nearly $500 by a youth resembling one of the pair. The operator, Caley Grech, 59, was shot when he tried to stop the bandit. He suffered a flesh wound in the thigh.

Grech, Hodge, Peterson and his two daughters were all taken to Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital. Only the Petersons have been released.

Kalwitz Says Merger Talks Timely Subject

Planning Commissioner Says Study Appropriate Because of Growth

The proposed merger of Waterford Township and the City of Pontiac will be discussed at a closed meeting of the City Planning Commission to be held sometime next week, Henry C. Smith, City Planner said today.

According to Smith, the meeting will be closed because it is a regular meeting of the planning board and not set up with the express purpose of considering the proposed merger.

William F. Kalwitz, member of the Planning Commission, has presented the following facts in regard to this topic which has been stirring much local interest.

"The suggestion recently made by Mr. Frank Steere that serious thought and consideration be given to the possibility of merging the City of Pontiac and Waterford Township is timely and appropriate because of the certain continued rapid growth of this area.

"A number of economic factors exist which assure this growth. The availability of unlimited fresh water supply from the Great Lakes and the prospect of Detroit becoming an ocean port for world commerce will continue to attract industry to this region. This industrial development will correspondingly increase residential problems.

"If this is a sound premise for a look into the future, and I think it is, we can imagine Pontiac as a unit of government largely industrial surrounded by units of government which are primarily "bedroom" communities. This then leads to the question of the desirability of many units of government for a densely populated territory.

"How will these several units of government deal with the common major problems; such as, schools, water and sewerage systems, police and fire protection, roads, parks, and garbage and rubbish collection and disposal?

"How will these separate and

55 Arabs Killed in Pitched Battle at Galilee Sea

Four-Pronged Assault Strikes Border Posts; Retaliation, Jews Say

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israeli troops attacked Syrian outposts overlooking the Sea of Galilee during the night, killing 55 Syrian soldiers for the loss of four Israelis, officials said today.

Israeli sources said 29 Syrians were taken prisoner in the fog-shrouded battle on the northeast shore of the lake.

Twelve Israeli soldiers were wounded.

The attackers occupied four Syrian outposts, blew them up and then withdrew.

The action was launched on an eight-mile front last night to silence gun positions Israel claimed fired on fishing boats and an Israeli police launch Sunday. No one was hurt in that incident.

Israeli military sources said army units moved in a four-pronged advance aimed at four Syrian positions along the eastern bank of the Sea of Galilee. The positions were in the Kursi Naquart and Beth Habeq sectors and in the sector where the Jordan flows into the Sea of Galilee.

The river leaves that sea again to the south to continue its way toward the Dead Sea.

The attacking Israeli units were supported by two detachments to block the approach of Syrian reinforcements.

Military sources said the Syrian opposition was heaviest in the Jordan River sector.

U.N. truce observers rushed to the area to investigate at the first word of the Israeli attack. A U.N. spokesman said the situation in the area was quiet now.

"Israeli forces advanced against the Syrian positions to silence the batteries responsible for the unprovoked attack and secure the security of Israeli citizens engaged in their lawful occupations," the Foreign Ministry declared.

Israel claims her territory includes the entire Sea of Galilee, a lake about 13 miles long and 3 to 7 miles wide along whose shores many of the events in the life of Jesus Christ took place. Syria holds the northern half of the lake's eastern shore. A narrow strip along the southern half is held by Israel.

The Israeli attack took place along this eight-mile northern stretch. The spokesman said the Syrians shelled Israel's Ein Geb settlement, in the southeastern shore strip, but that there were no casualties in the settlement.

Sewer Dispute Continues Between City, Waterford

Pontiac and Waterford Township attorneys will be in Port Huron Friday for final Circuit Court settlement of a sewer hookup dispute.

Pontiac filed the suit Aug. 31 contending Waterford's attempt to link a planned shopping center at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Rds. with the city system violated a 1935 agreement setting up an area in the township which could send sewage through the city's treatment plant.

Visiting Circuit Judge Eugene F. Black, of Port Huron, heard the case here Oct. 24 through 26, then handed down an opinion favoring the city Nov. 9.

City Attorney William A. Ewart has drafted a decree in accordance with Judge Black's opinion which the jurist is expected to sign Friday, said Waterford Attorney John W. Bell.

The township and shopping center will then have 20 days to take an appeal to the State Supreme Court which they intend to do, Bell added.

Attorney for the center, Donald Barris, has asked the judge to allow one supermarket to send sewage through the Pontiac system pending outcome of the appeal.

If Waterford wins the appeal, the hookup could be continued, said Barris. If it loses, a complete independent treatment plant will have to be built causing the center to lose about $4,000 which would be required to construct a separate disposal system for the one store.

Two-Car Collision Fatal to Detroiter

A fatal two-car collision at Telegraph Road and Northwestern Highway Saturday took the life of Detroiter Charles Langley, 47, Michigan State Police of the Redford Post said today.

Langley was a passenger in a car driven by his wife, Wilma 39. Witnesses said the Langley car was attempting a left turn from Telegraph Road onto Northwestern when a northbound car on Telegraph, driven by 28-year-old Mary Andrews of 302 Howard McNeill St., struck its left side.

Langley was dead on arrival at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital.

Police said no charges will be filed.

Trouble Brews in Paper Strike

Mailers May Walk Out; 6 Union Leaders Meet 'to Review Positions'

DETROIT (INS) — Presidents of six newspaper craft unions, including the striking stereotypers and the mailers who are threatening to strike, meet today "to review our positions" in the 12-day walkout which has closed the Detroit News, Times and Free Press.

Contracts of all six unions, representing the printers, pressmen, stereotypers, mailers, engravers and paper and plate handlers, have expired.

The Detroit Newspaper Publishers Assn. has been negotiating with all of them, as well as two other unions—the teamsters, representing drivers, and the newspaper guild, whose contract covering reporters and advertising men at the Free Press has also run out.

Yesterday, the mailers at a membership meeting voted to ask their international union to authorize a strike unless a contract is signed.

The teamsters met, too, and authorized their executive board to "take whatever action is necessary."

Negotiations between the DNPA and the stereotypers remain suspended, meanwhile, subject to resumption at the call of federal and state mediators.

The talks broke up Saturday night with wages and what was called "one minor point" unsettled.

Doctors Say to Slow Down

Ike Back in White House to Meet Top GOP Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower settled down for a brief working stay at the White House today while his physicians' advice to take things easier raised new questions about his future political plans.

He called in Republican leaders of Congress to discuss legislative proposals he will make when Congress reconvenes, and invited the visiting President of Uruguay, Luis Battle Berres, and his wife to a White House tea in the afternoon.

His legislative proposals may set the basis for the party's 1956 presidential campaign.

All the signs indicate the President will offer a program geared primarily to the "peace and prosperity" theme which Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall has been sounding for months.

High on the Eisenhower list may be a broadened farm program aimed at halting failing agricultural prices.

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, the House minority leader, already has forecast proposals offering compromises with the Democrats on highway and school construction —two controversial issues left over from the last session of Congress.

Martin also has forecast tax reduction if the budget is balanced. But Sen. Knowland of California has come out for debt reduction instead of tax cuts, and has indicated his own farm views may not parallel those of Eisenhower.

A weekend medical report said the President still is recovering normally from his Sept. 24 heart attack. But his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said Eisenhower has shown signs of "fatigue" after some of his busier periods at Gettysburg. Arrangements now call for a complete rest period from noon until 2:30 p.m. each day, with no interruptions. Otherwise there will be no changes in his schedule.

Snyder suggested the President wait at least until mid-February before deciding whether he feels physically able to seek a second term.

Eisenhower underwent a complete physical checkup at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital Saturday. There was nothing in the subsequent medical bulletin that ruled out the possibility of his running again.

Colleges Won't Get Best

NEW YORK (AP) — A special report by Columbia College says that 200,000 of the nation's brightest high school graduates are not going to college this year.

Thieves Take Nickel From Local Plant

Thieves who lugged off nearly three-quarters of a ton of metal from a factory at 24 W. Rundell St. this weekend netted about $4,300, according to Pontiac Police.

Owner A. J. Lawrence of Ajax Polishing and Plating Co., said that 41 bars of nickle, each weighing about 35 pounds, were missing.

Inspector Clark M. Wheaton said that the way in which burglar alarm wires were neutralized indicated that the thieves were not amateurs.

He said the wires were tied after a window was smashed to gain entry.

Appealing Games for the Younger Set Will Ease Your Christmas Gift-Hunting

By JANET ODELL

Christmas is for children, most of us agree. As a rule, it is easy to buy presents for them. However, we think you may like an idea or two about some different gifts for the younger set.

Games are all the rage these days. Since so much importance is being placed on family recreation, games have achieved a new status. Your best bet is to browse through a stock of games, choosing what will appeal to your family or to the one for which you are buying.

Any young Davy Crockett would like to build the Alamo. You can buy him a complete set of bricks and clay with which to construct this famous old building.

Is he a model plane fan: One store features four model plane kits in a Flight Bag. The youthful air enthusiast will enjoy pretending he is a pilot.

For some years autograph hounds have been popular with girls. Now you can get a variety of animals covered in a fabric that will take writing with a ball point pen. Some of these animals have an attached pen.

Since vanity appears early in the feminine sex, a gift of clothing is always welcome. Any teenager will love getting a pink crocheted hat dotted with matching pink sequins.

For the adolescent's small sister there are velveteen or plaid purses, made just like Mommy's. Small boys will strut in matching slacks and sport shirt sets. (They're washable.)

Children are intrigued with small gifts, they love soap made in the shape of animals. And they're sure to like brightly colored wax figures that have chocolate under the wax; they'll even like peeling it off.

Merger Talk Timely, Says Plan Official

different units of government be able to draw on the ability and brains of the most capable people in the area for the benefit of the whole area?

"What would be the effect of the merger on property taxes, use of sales tax allocations to this area, assessed valuations of property, and fiscal management? What would be the benefits of the proposed unification to the people in the communities concerned?

"These are some of the aspects of the proposal into which we must thoroughly inquire. It is not a matter to be decided for the immediate future. It is one that must be decided by the citizens with a view to the long range future. A careful and unbiased survey of the matter is of utmost importance.

"The City of Pontiac is now in enviable financial condition. Means have been established for acquiring long needed public improvements. All this is not an accident. It is the result of good governmental planning and administration for a number of years. Any impairment of this program would certainly not be viewed with favor by the citizens of Pontiac.

"In a recent interview, our City Manager, Mr. Willman, said that the matter of extending the boundaries of the City of Pontiac had been discussed by the City Commission and that he had requested the City Plan Commission to undertake the job of making such a survey.

"Since I am a member of the City Plan Commission, I have an open mind on this question and shall make no decision or express an opinion, except on the basis of fact and information developed by the Commission's study.

"However, I can say this, the Plan Commission does not now have adequate staff to do the job properly. This is not the fault of the City Commission, City Manager, or the Plan Commission. We have all been keenly aware of this and the City Manager has tried unsuccessfully for some time to remedy the situation. It may be, as suggested by Mr. Willman, that we will be obliged to resort to some professional consultation service.

"In this unification proposal, we have a problem which demands our best thinking. The future will judge the wisdom of our solution," said Kalwitz.

Youngstown, long known for its steel production, has added about 60 new companies in recent years to work aluminum into consumer goods.

GM, Auto Dealers Confab Suggested by O'Mahoney

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) suggested that directors of General Motors Corp., meeting today in New York, agree to "sit down with elected representatives of their own dealers and work out a fair contract and other problems."

"I think it would be the best thing they could do not only for the dealers and the public but also for General Motors," O'Mahoney said in an interview.

O'Mahoney made similar suggestions to GM officials several times during the month long public hearings by the Senate judiciary anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee which were suspended Friday night.

Each time, GM President Harlow H. Curtice rejected the suggestions as unworkable.

Aiming his comments this time at the company's directors, O'Mahoney said "We will be watching with the greatest of interest what takes place in the board of directors sessions."

Curtice had explained that successful auto manufacturers, who depend upon retail dealers to serve as their representatives with the public, must retain decision on dealers as individuals.

He said his office door is always open to any dealer and that he and other GM executives visit thousands of them every year. He noted that GM also has dealer councils.

O'Mahoney repeated his offer late Friday but Curtice replied:

"I think I suggested that I would rather see them one or two at a time in my office."

O'Mahoney said that if GM directors agree to "meet with dealers in a democratic way, that would stave off any legislation that will be very much less welcome to General Motors."

CREDITS GM LEADERSHIP

O'Mahoney credited General Moters leadership "with two important declarations" as a result of the month-long public hearings on GM operations.

O'Mahoney said that the two GM announcements are:

"Extension of contracts with retial auto dealers from one year to five years.

"Agreement to drop false registration of cars in the production battle with Ford and other competitons."

O'Mahoney said both these policies were announced by Curtice "as the result of the public hearings and without "legislation."

O'Mahoney said there had been widespread complaints from GM dealers that the year to year selling contract agreements gave the corporation too much power to terminate their contracts.

President Curtice surprised both dealers and subcommittee members by his announcement, during the hearings, that the 18,000 car and truck dealers could extend these agreements for five years.

Widening of Willits Street Tops Commission Agenda

BIRMINGHAM—Proposed widening of Willits Street to three lanes and assessing portions of the cost on adjoining property owners will be discussed at tonight's City Commission meeting. A special assessment district would be set to help pay for the 36-foot-wide pavement, curbs, sidewalks and drainage necessary to provide a route for those trying to skirt Maple's traffic.

A report from Chief of Police Ralph Moxley to the commission tonight calls Maple a "seriously congested traffic artery," and says that the Baldwin intersection has had a 35 per cent increase in less than five years.

Another draw from Maple's traffic would be 14 Mile Road which City Manager D.C. Egbert will tell the commission is in need of improvement from Telegraph to Clawson. His report suggests it be widened to at least 22 feet and at Woodward Avenue to 42 feet wide.

The Community House wants to erect a sign identifying itself and commissioners may amend their ordinance to allow such institutions as it, the YMCA and churches to advertise themselves.

Permission to build a nine-apartment unit at Eton and Maple for M. E. Green, and garage permits for two residents with a bit under required land may be granted when the Zoning Board of Appeals meets tomorrow night at municipal building.

Green wishes to build a multiple-family building in East Maple Gardens subdivision on two lots totaling 21,970 square feet, rather than the 22,500 asked in the ordinance. The building would be just east of present apartments on that corner.

William F. Peschel, 1651 Latham, and James R. Longwell, 288 Ravine, ask permission to build garages in slight variance to limitations, because of odd shaped lots.

Dr. Clarence E. Simpson

Services for Dr. Clarence E. Simpson, noted Detroit physician whose son, Sherrill, lives at 2470 Bretby Drive, will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. with interment in Grand Lawn Cemetery, Detroit.

He died Saturday morning, after living several years in the Arnold home, Detroit. Born in 1877, he practiced medicine in Detroit over 40 years, had been president of Wayne County Medical Assn. and belonged to Detroit Boat Club and Detroit Athletic Club.

Also surviving are his daughters, Mariette Simpson and Mrs. Lyford M. Moore Jr., and a sister, Mrs. Frank C. Atherton, of Honolulu.

Brrrr, Here's Weather Report for a Cold Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Brrrr. It was cold today in a vast portion of the country.

The kind of weather that turns noses red and makes ears tingle prevailed from the Rocky Mountain and plateau states clean over to the Atlantic states. Early morning temperatures throughout the cold belt wavered near freezing or below.

In parts of Minnesota and northwest Wisconsin, it was sub-zero. Grantsburg, Wis., reported a 15 below reading, one of the lowest in the nation.

The high was 69, at Vero Beach.

The coastal area of Oregon and Washington experienced heavy rain with nearly 3 inches measured at Astoria, Ore., and 1.37 inches at Seattle in a 24-hour period.

Charles Nixon Injured in Two-Car Collision

Injuring his chest when he hit the rear of another car on Howard street Sunday, Charles Nixon, 43, of 56 W. Rutgers St., was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital.

The other driver, Voanda Wilson, 44, of 788 Corwin Ave., told police she was slowing down at a railroad crossing when Nixon struck her car.

Suspected Saboteur Graham in Hospital

DENVER (INS) — John Gilbert Graham, accused of killing his mother by blowing up an air liner with a dynamite time bomb, spent a peaceful Sunday at Colorado General Hospital in Denver.

Graham entered the hospital's psychopathic ward Saturday for a 30-day mental examination.

Denver District Judge Edward Keating committed Graham for the test after the 23-year-old accused man pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity when arraigned Friday on charges of murdering Daisie E. King on Nov. 1. The crash also killed 43 other persons.

Sunday Fire Damages Hibbard Court Home

Fire in a home at 53 Hibbard Ct. caused $1,100 damage Sunday afternoon, Pontiac Fire Department said.

Firemen said the blaze occured when a flatiron became overheated. They said there was no insurance to cover the loss.

Highland Park Woman Hurt as Car Overturns

Inez Wilson McCauley, 35, of Highland Park, was reported in good condition today at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital after an accident Saturday night on Union Lake near Elizabeth Lake Roads.

She suffered severe lacerations and bruises when she drove her car off Union Lake Road, striking a tree and rolling over in the road.

Growing Christmas Trees in This Area

With the spirit of the holiday season in the air, perhaps it is a good time to reflect on the production of Christmas trees in the Pontiac area.

Landowners who had the foresight already are reaping the financial benefits from the growing of the trees in this section.

A few years ago they became aware of the possibilities of converting hilly and other unproductive land to that use, after having found that its cultivation was unprofitable for regular agriculture.

They now are supplying a good portion of the Christmas trees for their own area and also find a ready market at good prices from customers from outside.

Oakland County still has hundreds of acres of rough land whose generally considered poor soil has all of the qualities on which Christmas trees thrive and grow rapidly.

If you have any such land, right now is the proper time to get in your orders for planting in the early Spring. The supply of these seedlings never quite meets the demand, so prompt action is necessary.

The Michigan State Conservation Department raises millions of these seedlings every year, which are distributed at less than cost to those who have the acreage to give them a chance to grow into Christmas trees or even into lumber.

Over 100,000 such seedlings were transplanted into Oakland County this year, yet this is far below the assigned quota for our area, if the department's starting fields had been apprised far enough in advance to meet the seeding requirements.

In about a dozen years these seedlings, no larger round than a toothpick when planted, will be ready for cutting for family trees. In the meantime they require no cultivation and practically no care.

There is every possibility that Oakland County can grow all of the Christmas trees required in its homes, but also make it one of our leading crops for shipment to the large cities and other outside markets.

These trees, each grown with room for a symmetrical development, are far more desirable and command a higher price than those coming from tree trimmings or brushy undergrowths and hedgerows in Northern Michigan.

If you are interested in such a project, your first action is to get in touch with the department at Lansing. The required blanks will be sent you, together with instructions for planting and care for their rapid and proper growth. Or you can go through our County Agricultural Agent, Lyle B. Abel.

Movies Note Pickup

Among the many industries which have done better in 1955 are the movies.

One of the first to feel the competition of television, the motion picture industry plunged into the doldrums in 1954. The number of pictures produced dropped away down, personnel was cut prodigiously and expenditures were pared all along the line, as attendance lagged.

This year there was a pickup. It was not spectacular, but it was noticeable. And any pickup at all, after 1954, was heartening.

More pictures have been produced. Income of most of the studios is expected to total higher than last year. Foreign business has been better. Hollywood has found it possible to make a profit with fewer stars on its rosters.

The new situation facing the movies has resulted in better pictures. The ordinary picture has not drawn well. The public has become choosy. It takes an outstanding film to bring a pickup in attendance. And so Hollywood has concentrated on fewer films, and better ones.

Perhaps competition here has been a good thing. It has helped the public. In the long run it may prove to have benefited the industry.

Oliver P. Gibbs

Oakland County Board of Supervisors' "Grand Old Man" died Friday.

Oliver P. Gibbs had served Avon Township as its supervisor for 26 years until his retirement two years ago. He had served as chairman of the county board and had also held several appointive state posts.

Oliver Gibbs was a farmer. Serious minded, deeply interested in his community, he was one of a stalwart group who for years formed the backbone of the County Board of Supervisors.

He was no "yes" man. He had a mind of his own, and he was ever ready to fight for the good of Avon Township, and for any principle in which he believed.

He will long be remembered as a good and loyal citizen and as a fine and capable public servant.

Recently spending a few days in his old home town of Pontiac,

Harley Hungerford,

now living in Detroit, writes of his joy and amazement at our progress, and the manner in which we handle civic affairs, as compared to the larger city. He was here for the Christmas parade, and says it "exemplified the spirit of the occasion more correctly than anything I ever before witnessed." He says our downtown street decorations "show a good taste and lack of ballyhoo," and he wonders how Detroit people could ever endure a strike "if they had a newspaper as good as Pontiac's."

What Can You Expect From Such a Background

David Lawrence Says:

'Competitive Coexistence' Philosophy Should Be Explained to American People

WASHINGTON — The American people have not yet been given the "facts of international life," particularly in connection with the new formula of "competitive coexistence" which is supposed to describe the battle of the East and West to win "neutralist" countries.

The discussion at present is confined to the inner councils of the administration, but Congress is bound to bring it all out in the open in the coming session.

The point at issue is this: How long can the American taxpayers be expected to spend billions of dollars abroad without getting some direct benefit in the way of national security?

Should the United States, for example, by furnishing economic aid, bid for the friendship of India and other Asian countries or of Egypt in the Middle East? Is it the duty of the Asian countries themselves to ward off Communism or is it the obligation of the United States to persuade and cajole them with dollars to do what they outght to do anyhow? Why should it be necessary to bribe nations to be realistic in the face of the record of Communist aggression?

AN IDEA FOR INDIA

These questions go to the heart of the controversies that have arisen in Asia and the Middle East where America now is placed in the position of either agreeing to furnish billions of dollars of help or else seeing the various countries allegedly "being pushed into the arms of Moscow."

A policy that is bound to be given consideration here is whether it wouldn't be a good idea to let India know that if Nehru and his sinister handyman—Krishna Menon — want to embrace Communist imperialism and allow themselves to become puppets of Moscow in the international field, the United States may say: "Go ahead, put yourselves under the Communist yoke and when you have experienced its 'joys' long enough and see the dangers to your independence, come back to us—if you can then get disentangled—and we will welcome you as a loyal ally."

Everybody knows that Israel, on the other hand, is innately imbued with Western ideals. There is naturally a strong pro-American sentiment in Israel and a strong pro-Israel sentiment in the United States just as there have always been strong ties between Americans of Irish ancestry and Ireland.

NOT A JEWISH QUESTION

The first allegiance of the American Jews is to the United States, but it is natural for many of them for sentimental reasons along with many non-Jews to be deeply sympathetic with the efforts of the infant Republic of Israel to preserve her independence in the troubled Middle East.

The principle involved is not a "Jewish Question." In fact, in recent months it has become an American defense question due to Egypt's peculiar behavior.

It looks now as if it will be to the best interests of the United States to play ball with Israel and, if necessary, to furnish military aid as in the case of Iran, Iraq, Pakistan, Turkey and Greece. For Israel, unlike Egypt, has not tried to play the Western alliance off against the Kremlin in a sort of bidding match.

NOT INDISCREET

The policy of standing by America's friends and allies is well illustrated in the statement made by Secretary of State Dulles about "Portuguese provinces" which has been criticized by some Democratic politicians as indiscreet.

But Dulles in his implicit opposition to aggression either with respect to Goa, the Portuguese colony of India, or Macao, off Red China, was rightly positive and not indiscreet at all. He might well have gone further and bluntly reminded the Indian government that Portugal is our ally, and holds the Azores—a very vital base for our Air Force and our Navy in the Atlantic Ocean.

It is a thousand times more necessary to stand by a long time friend like Portugal than to worry about hurt feelings in New Delhi where the steady tirade of insults against the United States during the last few years had not gone unnoticed.

Not only is America unable to afford large expenditures of taxpayers' money to "buy" allies in Asia where hundreds of millions of people still live under primitive conditions—but Russia cannot really do it either.

It may be better policy, moreover, to let Russia try to take on the job. The larger the external burdens Moscow undertakes with heavy drains on capital goods, the greater the internal pressures. Likewise, the longer the needed consumer goods are withheld from the Russian people the sooner will come the day of the crackup of the Kremlin.

Repression of Anger, Fear Tends to Damage Arteries

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

From the reasons trumped up to explain the popular abuse of the barbiturates, a moron might suppose the "nerves" of a "high-strung" or "refined" person use up or waste energy unless "controlled or regulated" or "quieted" by sedatives.

Nerves have only one function: They conduct messages or impulses.

Nerves perform their function for years and years and never "wear out," become "exhausted" or "break down." They are comparable with the wires that carry telephone or telegraph messages.

Nerves neither generate nor expend energy.

There's only one kind of energy known to physiology, and that is physical, muscular, caloric energy.

ANY OTHER?

If, indeed, there is any other kind of energy than that measured by the calories expended when one takes a walk or dusts the whatnot, let the physicists elucidate it.

The Sophisticated knuckleheads, feeding on sedatives prescribed by indulgent physicians or procured illegally, say "tension is not in the nerves; it's in the heart and arteries."

Even the most rugged individualist is more or less subject to the amenities and conventions of business, professional, and domestic life.

Naturally, or primitively, one should react to the impulses and emotions of everyday by fighting, playing, chasing or running away.

CAN'T ACT NATURALLY

But, darn it all, one can't behave in a natural way without being considered uncivilized or low-life.

For that matter it betrays low breeding to raise one's voice, redden in anger, or sneer or clench fists as though to bounce one off the so-and-so's jaw.

The repression of emotional impulses may be essential for an executive in business or for a social leader, but it damages heart and arteries far more than it would to fight or run away—or vicariously, take some general exercise.

Either anger or fear (even worry, anxiety) damages heart and arteries most if repressed. Repress, says Webster, means to restrain oneself from showing, feeling, uttering; to prevent natural or normal expression.

Expression of the emotions, that is. If this seems nutty, fathead, read Darwin's most fascinating book, 'Expression of the Emotions,' and Cannon's 'Bodily Changes in Pain, Hunger, Fear and Rage.'

Maybe you'll continue to take dope when you're "upset" instead of taking a walk or a few somersaults, but anyway you'll know better.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

War Weary World Needs Real Christmas Meaning

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

This is Christmas time, and what is the meaning of it all?

I wonder, as I watch the Christmas shoppers going hither and yon searching for a present to bestow upon some friend or relative, just how many have really taken the time to stop and think why the Christmas day is really held so sacred, and what it all means to us.

If we, the people of this war weary world, would adjust our lives nearer to the teachings of Christ, if we would cultivate brotherly love, instead of hate, substitute honesty in place of dishonesty, dissolve our terrible greed for money, and do unto others as we would be done by, all these terrible wars and the prospect of future wars would end.

Auto Mechanic Defends U.S. Capitalist System

I wonder if Albert Mills of Utica has compared the investments of the Ford Motor Company during the periods he mentioned.

If he is a working man, as most of us are, his only investment is his time and possibly a few hand tools. He is paid according to the time he spends on a machine which does the producing and is paid for by the company, for which both the machine and Mr. Mills works.

If, on the other hand, his investment were several million dollars, I'm sure he would and could expect to earn his $147 per day.

"Did Marx err?" Study the greatest exponent of Marxism (Russia) and the answer is very plain. Definitely he did.

Study also the very recent history of England (1945-1955) and discover how those who traded capitalism for the Socialist Party theory soon chucked it and got back on the capitalistic gravy train.

I'm an auto mechanic, working on straight commission. If I work I get paid. No work—no pay. And I love it.

Ike May Not Barnstorm Nation if He Runs Again

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even if President Eisenhower's doctors tell him he can run for a second term, they may tell him at the same time he can't make the usual campaign for the presidency.

There's a difference between running for the White House and spending four years in it.

As president for another four years Eisenhower would have to expect occasional strain, if only in making big decisions, but by careful planning he might be able to avoid both fatigue and unusual exertion.

HEAVY CAMPAIGN

But if he put on the traditional presidential campaign, he could hardly avoid them.

The traditional campaign calls for train trips or plane trips, talking to crowds at whistle-stops or in auditoriums. There would be exertion, if only in trying to make himself heard, in climbing steps, and in shaking numerous hands.

While going through all that, Eisenhower would have this additional burden, one his opponent wouldn't share: he'd still be president and have to carry on his duties of that job, at the same time.

If the doctors tell Eisenhower, perhaps in February, that he can seek re-election, it will be because they have found his heart attack—which came from a diseased artery which closed—did not damage the heart itself to the point where he couldn't undertake the daily job of the presidency.

IT DOESN'T FOLLOW

And even though one artery was diseased to the point of closing, it doesn't necessarily follow his other arteries are in the same bad shape or close to it. He might never have another attack. Doctors still don't know much about the progress of disease in other arteries in a case like this.

* * *

But the chief consultant among Eisenhower's physicians—Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston, one of the world's top heart specialists—was asked this question at a news conference Oct. 22: Were Eisenhower's chances for a second attack greater than for the first?

White said the question was hard to answer but added, "I think that might be true."

It is routine when heart doctors have seen a heart attack victim through to the point of full recovery to tell him he can resume a normal life if he slows down a bit and does not try to overdo it.

In the early days of Eisenhower's attack, Dr. White consulted with Dr. Eugene Lepeschkin, University of Vermont authority on cardiograms, who later said Eisenhower could run again if he wanted to provided he avoided "any emotional or physical strain and meantime watched his health."

Clergymen Calling at Florida Hospital Given Denominational List of Patients

Dr. Baker gratefully cites a helpful innovation by a hospital in Florida. It should be imitated widely by all big hospitals, for there is a terrible loneliness connected with pain. And the faithful clergy are vital allies of physicians at the sickbed.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-319: Dr. William Baker, aged about 55, is a genial pastor at a Presbyterian church in Florida.

He and his vivacious wife entertained me at luncheon when I was there recently to conduct combined services for the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches.

"Dr. Crane, I wish to tell you about a very helpful innovation by one hospital here," Dr. Baker said.

"It is something that might well be imitated in other large cities, too.

"For example, all the patients are entered in a daily religious index, classified according to denominations.

"Thus, whenever a clergyman arrives to visit a parishioner of his church, he can also see if any others are there as patients about whom he hasn't yet been informed.

"As you know, many people are emergency patients. They'd like to have their priest or minister call on them in such critical times.

"But we clergymen often aren't notified immediately. Yet we may be calling on some other patient in that same hospital.

"So the hospital graciously compiles a daily index. All I need do is turn to the 'Presbyterian heading and look down the page.

"In a few seconds I can then see the names of all Presbyterians who are patients at St. Vincent's that day.

"As a result of this efficient plan, I may be able to call on three or four of my parishioners when I otherwise would have called on but one.

"We clergymen are very appreciative of this thoughtful innovation and so are the patients, too.

EXTRA TIME

This religious indexing of all patients, obviously takes some extra time.

But it is one of the excellent psychological services of the hospital and should be duplicated far and wide.

For there is nothing to match the loneliness of pain!

With love and joy and many other emotions, we share with others and are extroverted in our thinking.

But when stricken down with a serious illness and when racked with pain, we are acutely aware of our loneliness.

So sick people are usually more grateful than ever when their clergyman calls upon them.

His reassuring words, comforting prayer, and inspiring smile, are actually of great medical value.

Time and again I have told you that God is the best medicine we physicians can ever prescribe for anybody.

And the clergy are God's effective allies, so the patients grow more relaxed as soon as their clergyman enters the room. Their fearful tensions begin to subside.

Jesus is often called the Great Physician. And his clergymen belong in that same medical classification.

Father Rudolph of Wisconsin says almost half of his parishioners get better as soon as he enters their home, and thus many who otherwise would enter hospitals, decide they are so much improved they don't require further medical aid.

There is much truth to that observation. Active church people undoubtedly have more freedom from peptic ulcer, spastic colitis, angina pectoris and other nervous afflictions.

And even when they suffer from organic ailments, they can relax and recuperate faster when teamed up in a partnership with God Almighty.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Fruit Growers Schedule Meet

Insect Damage Topic for Discussion Tuesday Night

ROMEO — All Macomb County fruit growers and lot owners in subdivided orchards are being asked to attend an education meeting at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Romeo High School auditorium.

The problem to be discussed is the damage being done to orchards of the commercial fruit growers by insects from neglected fruit trees in the Romeo area.

Members of the Macomb County Council of Fruit Growers met in September to take the first step in a program to save the three-quarter million dollar industry.

Upon their invitation, state horticultural specialists and representative orchard men were called into the area to study the effect untended orchards were having on the fruit crop here. These experts concurred with the local fruit growers in the opinion that if some action were not taken soon the 1956 crop would be in jeopardy.

COMPLETE SURVEY

A fruit inspection team recently completed its survey of the two large subdivisions, Mountain View and Romeo Orchards. The men counted the number of trees on each lot, determined their condition and contacted each lot owner.

It was pointed out that according to Michigan State Law the Commissioner of Agriculture has the authority to request that the landowners adopt approved practices that will control the insects or plant diseases, or the neglected trees must be removed.

A report of the fruit inspection team will be read at the meeting. Representatives from the Bureau of Plant Industry, Michigan Department of Agriculture, will also be present to explain the eradication program.

2 Boards Meet in Farmington

Township Master Plan More Fully Explained to Group

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board met in special session Wednesday night with the planning board to further discuss the advantages of adopting a master plan for the township. The plan was presented to the Township group for study at a regular meeting two weeks ago.

Thomas Cornell, Planning Board chairman, explained that this is a long range, over-all plan, that it is not an arbitrary decision, but a program substantiated by scientific study. He pointed out that a master plan could add greater logic to the present zoning ordinance and eliminate spot zoning.

Thomas Tardy, township zoning inspector, asked whether the plan would require a new zoning ordinance, and was told that while some amendment to the present ordinance may be necessary, a new ordinance would not be required.

The desirability of industrial development was discussed. Harvey Freeman, secretary of the planning board, stated that it is the opinion of members of his group that industrial development is both desirable and necessary.

"Without a master plan we are courting disaster," Freeman said.

RAPID GROWTH

O. E. Dunkel, Superintendent of the Farmington School District, asked that location of schools be considered in the proposed plan and pointed out that the school board has had considerable difficulty in locating desirable sites for new schools.

The rapid growth of this community has placed an increasing burden on the schools. He pointed out that in the past, the school board has attempted to project an idea of its future needs, only to find it necessary to revise figures upward.

"The township board can have more to do with the development of desirable school facilities than the school board itself," Dunkel said.

Ernest Blanchard, township supervisor, stated that the boards should work more closely together since the problems of both are much alike.

Cornell urged that the board give the plan every possible consideration and favor them with an early decision. The township board will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday evening to consider the answer.

Tower Climber Gets Mental Test

Semi-Crippled Father Goes Up 250 Ft. to Call Attention to Plight

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A mental hearing was the prospect today for 45-year-old Asa Beck who despite his severe rheumatism crawled 250 feet up a television tower yesterday to attract attention to what he termed his family's plight.

Beck, a resident of nearby Guthrie, said, "I was going to jump by sundown unless they could help us." State troopers finally coaxed him down after he had been there more than an hour.

He declared his wife and six children were starving. Judge Mildred Patterson, who convicted Beck for failing to provide for them, said, however, his family "was better off now than it has ever been."

Guthrie spent the night in the Oklahoma County Detention Ward. Mrs. Patterson said officers planned to sign papers calling for a mental hearing.

She said Beck had been "using his family's welfare check to buy a car and other things."

Beck tossed away his crutches, scaled a six-foot barbed wire fence and climbed hand over hand up the 1,572-foot tower of station KWTV.

"Every one of my family ought to be in a hospital," he sobbed to rescuers. "They're sick from pneumonia and they don't have enough to eat."

Beck said he was "framed" on the child abandonment charge and was told to leave the state. Upon his return from California a few weeks ago, he said, he found his wife and six children near starvation. His oldest is 18. Beck said his wife Ruth had lost 56 pounds.

He said that because of his crippled condition he has made a living for years by making artificial flowers and selling them in Oklahoma City. At present he is unemployed.

"Ben-Gay gave me a new lease on life—relief from pain!"

Says Mrs. Louise Pirz of Lynbrook, Long Island.

"I had tried many other products before I discovered Ben-Gay", writes Mrs. Pirz, "but they didn't give me the real relief I wanted from the pains in my shoulder and arm. To tell the truth, I felt as though I were only half alive. The pain bothered me that much!

"What a difference with Ben-Gay! The pain eased up in no time. I wouldn't be without it!"

Yes, there's nothing like BEN-GAY! Its world-famous scientific formula contains up to two and a half times more of two famous pain-relieving agents than any of five other widely offered rub-ins. Adrian Man Loses Life in Big Balloon Ascension

(Michigan's history is rich and alive. Too often it is lost in dull of school lessons. The following series was compiled from eyewitness accounts on file in the Michigan Historical collections University of Michigan, with the aid of assistant director F. Clever Bald.)

By JOHN BARBOUR

ADRIAN, Sept. 16, 1858 (AP)—The spectacle of a balloon ascension that thrilled all of Southern Michigan was stricken with tragedy today. One balloon pilot is lost and feared dead.

Ira J. Thurston of Adrian, who built the balloon, was trapped on the partially filled gas sack and carried skyward by a strong west wind. The balloon has been recovered, 30 miles from Windsor, Ont., but there was no sign of Thurston.

His associate and close friend, W. D. Banister also of Adrian, returned to the city after watching for more than an hour with a telescope.

It all began as a great spectacle that drew hundreds from surrounding communities. Trains brought spectators from Jonesville, Manchester, Hillsdale, Hudson, Blissfield and other southern Michigan cities and towns. More arrived from as far away as Toledo, Ohio.

WIND RUPTURED

The ascension had been postponed once 12 days ago when Thurston's balloon of hand-sewn India silk was ruptured by a strong wind.

In an effort to beat a strong wind, Banister decided to make the ascension this morning before the whole crowd had arrived. Thurston decided at the last minute to go along. Just as the ascension got underway, a train carrying 500 persons arrived from Jonesville.

The ascension was made without incident and Banister said when he landed that the scene "would repay one for attempting even the hazardous balloon ascension to look upon."

The pair said they could see Adrian, Manchester and Tecumseh beneath them—Lake Erie to the east, Toledo to the south, Coldwater, Hillsdale and Jonesville to the west, and Jackson, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and Detroit to the north.

NO HEIGHT ESTIMATE

There was no estimate of the height they reached. They landed in a farmer's field, 17 miles from Adrian in Riga Township of Lenawee County. A crowd of 25 persons gathered around them. It was then the accident occurred.

Thurston was not satisfied with the rate at which the gas was escaping from the balloon, so he climbed on top of the sack and told Banister and two farmers to lift the under edge of the balloon so the gas would escape more quickly.

The balloon, Banister said, had a capacity of 240,000 gallons and was 126 feet around. Thurston held onto a square wooden piece at the top. Then he told Banister and the two farmers to let go of the under edge.

FOLLOW ME

One farmer, however, apparently didn't hear, because he continued to cling to the balloon and Thurston was carried upwards. The balloon bounced into the air, without the weight to hold it down.

At 10 feet above the ground, the farmer let go and fell. Thurston was calm, yelling "follow me across the field, it will be alright shortly."

However, as he continued to cling to the gas sack, the balloon was caught by the wind and carried to the northeast. Banister said he watched through a telescope for more than an hour as Thurston's balloon got smaller and smaller.

(Footnote: It wasn't until next spring that Thurston's skeleton was found in the Toledo area. Papers and other items made identification positive.)

Graham to Crusade for Gotham in 1957

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, has accepted an invitation from New York City's Protestant churches to stage a major crusade here in 1957.

"This will be by far the No. 1 challenge I have ever accepted," Graham told a news conference at offices of the Protestant Council of the City of New York.

He and officials of the Council said more than a year of preparations would precede the start of the crusade, which would utilize the services of thousands of singers, counsellors and assisting ministers.

Dr. Dan Potter, the Council's executive secretary, said the specific time for the crusade had not been set but that is would be some time in 1957, after the month of May. It will last from six weeks to two months or more.

We're Getting Bigger

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Census Bureau says U.S. population increased by 10 per cent between the 1950 census and Nov. 1. It said there are now 166,280,000 Americans.

Workers to Study State Election Laws

Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen has scheduled an educational conference for county election workers Dec. 15 at 10 a.m. in the office building at 1 Lafayette St. All city and township clerks have been invited to attend and bring co-workers to join in studying recent changes in the state election laws, Allen explained.

State Director of Elections Robert Montgomery will be on hand to give advice, the clerk added.

Wayne Loses ROTC

DETROIT (AP) — The Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) program at Wayne University will be discontinued effective July, 1957, William E. Stirton, Wayne vice president, has announced. The action is part of a nationwide program of Air Force ROTC retrenchment, he said.

Canadian manufacturers produced $12,843,000 worth of musical instruments and parts in 1954, a decline of about 5 per cent from the year before.

Doggies Long for Refined Things – Like Fancy Hats

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
(Copyright, 1955 by INS)

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—(INS)—In the old days when a pup dog wobbled to your chair and placed a dainty dirty paw on your knee, all he wanted was love. Or possibly, if you were eating, a scrap of salami.

Today it's different. Today a dog's longing eyes are visualizing more refined things. His dirty little paw is out to suggest that you buy him some clean little kid booties for Christmas, and if he is wiggling, it is no longer a sign of ecstasy. It's a sign he's chilly and would like a ski suit or a reversible tweed greatcoat with a belt in the back.

"Dogs are more and more fashion-conscious, I guess you are aware," said Lucille Rudiburg, co-proprietress of "Canine Couturiere," a custom clothing salon for dogs of all breeds. "More and more they are facing the problem of keeping up with the Joneses' poodle.

"After all, dogs are not the least bit dumb — you agree?—and if they see a friend wearing a trenchcoat in the rain or a jeweled collar and lead in the evening, they're going to think twice about it."

At first, the unclothed dog may just snarl facetiously and think "What a crazy mutt!"

"But sooner or later, he will want to be dressed warmly and attractively too and he will start wondering why, if he is truly a man's best friend, man is being so stingy about his wardrobe."

Miss Rudiburg, a former CBS fashion coordinator, operates the "C.C." in partnership with Debra Frye, one of the world's foremost sculptors of dogs, and the two of them are up to their ears in gift ideas for pooches.

They have all-size reversible tweed coats (flannel for fine days) to be worn by large dogs of the boxer, Doberman and airdale types; tiny coats in satin-lined velvet for chihuahuas and undersized medium-sized dogs; water-repellent trenchcoats, belted of course, for active outdoor dogs; camel's hair coats for dogs who like the snow but were not equipped by nature to cope with the chill of it.

There is also a complete line of doggie-pajamas ("people open windows at night, and there are drafts on their pets," explains Debra), and of pastel and jeweled resort clothes.

For the dog who has everything, there will be a line of fancy sunglasses and hearing aids.

"And look at this darling theater coat with buttons on the belly!" It also had a red velvet collar and lead embroidered with rhinestones and pearls. "Admittedly dogs don't go to the theater much, they do like to feel festive occasionally like the rest of us."

Debra and Lucille insist that most short-haired pups should be dressed, particularly in winter, as a health measure — and also, they contend, the dogs love it.

"There are some types that you simply cannot get clothes on," they concede, "but there are more who are simply not happy unless they are well-dressed." For the latter type dog, "Canine Couturiere" offers hats by Mr. John, priced from $25 for the sports felts, to $50 for the feathered brocades.

In case your dog is one of the difficult varieties who might chew up a lovely $33.50 velvet wrap and consider a cherry-trimmed hat edible, the proprietresses understand. And they have a substitute gift to offer: a stocking, to hang by the doghouse with care.

It contains a bone, a pipe, a donut and an effigy of a cat.

"If you've got THAT kind of dog," they shrug, "he'll love it."

Members told their favorite Christmas stories and Mrs. A. Coats, a retired missionary, told of Christmas in India.

WSCS Gathers for Luncheon

The Julia Circle of the First Methodist Church was hostess at the noon-day luncheon when members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the church recently for their Christmas meeting.

Mrs. Frank Coons gave the Christmas story from St. Luke, for the devotions. The Girl's Ensemble of Pontiac Senior High School presented a group of Christmas carols, and an original story by Mrs. J. Wendell Green, "The Little Boy Down the Lane," completed the program.

Fur Jacket Would Make a Practical Yule Present

Every girl would love a fur jacket from Santa this year, and this is a gift that is practical as well as glamorous.

Today's versatile fur jackets can go to campus or office and with a quick change of accessories step out for an evening dance date. Scrafs, flowers, jewelry, belts and such effect the transformation.

One of the popular budget furs of the season is sheared fox, according to latest reports from the fur manufacturers.

Sure to delight any girl is a sheared fox bolero, which can be worn over a wool dress to the office, and go festive for evening with a garland of artificial flowers strung together and worn in place of the daytime scarf.

The same jacket can go to a cocktail date with a chiffon scarf matched to the color of a gay little cocktail hat.

Furs in soft pastel shades have a natural affinity for pearls. A sapphire sheared beaver jacket that goes to the football game emerges for the evening prom with large pearl clusters clipped at the collar.

A sporty sheared raccoon jacket achieves glamour by exchanging the wool campus scarf for one of crisp taffeta in a flattering pastel tint, tied in a huge butterfly bow and perched on one shoulder.

A girl can give free play to her imagination and go gay with jewelry. Jeweled butterflies are not hard to find, and look wonderful pinned on the pockets of a fur jacket.

Family Series Helpful Guide

today offer formal courses for students in subjects like family relations, marriage and preparation for marriage.

The Roman Catholic church offers pre-cana (preparation for marriage) and cana (post-marriage) conferences on the diocesan level. In Boston last year, 1,000 engaged couples attended pre-cana meetings and 600 married couples attended cana.

Protestant churches and Jewish temples are active with Sunday school classes, young people's forums, young married couples clubs and community programs.

In Chicago, the planned parenthood association together with the church federation of greater Chicago (Protestant) and the Chicago Rabbinical Association (Jewish) offer a four-meeting course to young couples.

A typical group of six couples met recently in the association's offices on Sunday afternoon. They heard a clergyman discuss spiritual aspects of marriage at the first meeting.

At subsequent sessions, they will hear a home economist discuss money management, a medical doctor detail the physical and psychological aspects of love and sex and a psychiatrist discuss the personality factors in marriage.

Pre-cana conferences are organized along similar lines. A priest, a doctor and a married couple lead the frank discussions.

Dr. Abraham Stone, of New York, has been conducting preparation for marriage clinics for the last 25 years at the marriage counsultation center, community church. He sums up the preparation for marriage philosophy this way:

"An hour's discussion before marriage may be more valuable then weeks of counselling later, after difficulties have arisen."

(Tomorrow — After the honeymoon is over.)

Young Adults Plan Dance

Morey Stein is chairman of the Christmas dance of the Young Adults Club of the Pontiac YMCA. The dance will be Thursday from 9 to 12 p.m. in the Green Room of the YMCA and is open to all young adults in the Pontiac area.

* * *

Planning decorations on the Christmas theme are Ruth Chamberlain and Nina Miller. John Rawlis is in charge of refreshments and Carolann Bingham is handling publicity.

Music will be furnished by an orchestra and entertainment will include mixers, door prizes and refreshments. Young people are invited to go stag or take a guest.

Other activities planned by the group for the winter season include ice and roller skating, bowling and a service project for children.

Accepts Bid and Breaks Prior Date

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter tells me: "My husband and I and two other couples made reservations at one of the supper clubs for last Saturday night. It was to be a Dutch treat party.

"Friday evening, one of the wives who was supposed to come with us called and said that Mrs. X., who is socially prominent in this town, had asked her and her husband to a party Saturday night. She said that she would rather go there as it would give her husband an opportunity to meet some important people.

"I thought she was wrong to accept this other invitation when she had an appointment with us. The other wife feels as I do but our husbands think it was perfectly understandable and that there is no reason to feel slighted. What is your opinion?"

Answer: This really depends upon the importance of the opportunity that was offered to her husband by that invitation. Under ordinary circumstances, accepting this second invitation would be the height of rudeness. But if it was a real opportunity for him, I think their "rudeness" might be forgiven.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married Christmas week and would like to have the church decorated with red flowers and green foliage in keeping with the season. I have been told that red flowers are wrong at a wedding and that only white flowers are correct. Will you please give me your opinion?"

Answer: At this particular season, the Christmas colors would be most suitable.

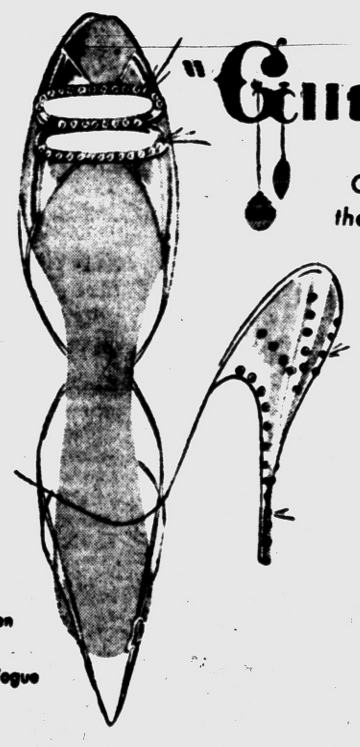

"Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be rude to complain about something at a lunch or dinner party given in a restaurant? I mean, can I say something to the waiter who serves me without embarrassing the hostess?"

Answer: As a guest, you cannot say anything because the impoliteness would be to the hostess.

Chapter Seven

THE FALSE TRAIL

The little Dumdiddy heaved the mighty piece of chalk to his shoulder and ran a few feet down the street. Then he lowered the chalk and made an arrow on the pavement. He lifted the chalk, ran a few more feet and made another arrow.

And so he went, as fast as his poor knobby feet could carry him, drawing arrows through the town.

Meantime, back in the alley where the redheaded robber had left him, Beanie huddled on his heels and shivered. At last an hour had passed and it was time for him to follow the arrows.

The more he thought about it the less he liked going. But he was afraid of making the robber angry. And he was afraid the robber would know he was afraid.

"I'm as brave as anyone," he told himself fiercely. "I'll show him!"

He got to his feet and set out to follow the chalk arrows the robber had left for him. They led him off the main street and down alleys and through empty streets. He passed store after store but the arrows never stopped. He passed large warehouses and factories and still the arrows went on. He went down streets where there were only private homes and not a store in sight and still the arrows went on.

Finally he found himself out of town on a road leading to Far Away Places and there, where there were no houses or stores or anything except a road, there the arrows ended.

Beanie searched and searched but he could find no more arrows. He was exhausted. He sank down by the road and he thought, "The robber has tricked me!'

In his heart he was glad and he said, "I hope I never see him again!" He curled up in a pile of leaves beside the road and fell sound asleep.

As soon as Beanie snored his first snore, the little Dumdiddy struggled down from a nearby rock where he'd been waiting. With a sigh of relief he threw away the last tiny speck of chalk he held in his hand. Then he slipped into Beanie's pocket and he, too, fell asleep.

The next morning when Beanie awoke he was hungry. He reached in his pocket for the raisins and nuts he had brought from home. But they were all gone. The Dumdiddy had finished them off.

Beanie found the Dumdiddy in his pocket. He pulled it out and thought about how his sister, Betsy, had made it for a present for Santa Claus.

"What a dope she is!" said Beanie and he started to throw the little figure away. But there was something so sad in the Dumdiddy's expression that Beanie changed his mind.

"The thing looks almost real," he thought and he dropped it back into his pocket. "Well, anyway, I must get some food."

He rose and looked about. Far off in the forest he saw smoke curling among the tree tops. He followed the smoke until he came to a little purple house sitting all alone in a clearing.

In front of the door stood a big black pot. Beanie climbed over the pot and knocked at the door. A kind-faced woman opened the door. She smiled at Beanie.

"I am hungry," said the boy. "Could I have some food?"

"Certainly, you poor dear boy," said the old woman. "Come right in." She led Beanie into a pleasant room where everything was neat and orderly except for three black pots that stood one behind the other in the middle of the room.

"Now, rest yourself," said the woman, "while I fix you some food."

Beanie turned away and looked out of the window. "How lucky I am to have found such a kind old lady!" he thought.

The Dumdiddy, peeping at the old lady from Beanie's back pocket, was thinking the same thing when suddenly he saw the old lady put both hands to her face and give it a tug.

"Good gracious!" cried the Dumdiddy to himself. "That's not her face! That's a mask!"

Next: Witch of the Black Pots

"COULD I HAVE SOME FOOD?" — When Beanie knocked at the door of a purple little house sitting alone in the clearing, he was met by a kind looking old lady. When Beanie asked her for food, the old lady smiled and led him into a pleasant room where everything was neat and orderly except for three black pots that stood one behind the other in the middle of the room.

Canada's geese puplation numbered 357,000 on June 1, 1955, a drop of 2 per cent from the total the year before.

Berserk Father Kills 2, Himself

Detroit Plant Worker Murders Wife, In-Law; Wounds His Daughter

DETROIT (AP) — Three persons were dead and a fourth wounded today in the aftermath of a wild shooting spree yesterday by a husband-father in the home of his estranged wife.

Among the dead was Arthur Jackson, 44, a factory worker who police said put a bullet into his own brain after killing his wife, Vera, 36, and her brother, Harold Brenner, 28.

Jackson's 15-year-old daughter, Barbara, was wounded in the right leg by one of eight bullets her father sprayed about the terror-stricken household before reloading his automatic and firing a ninth shot into his own head.

The Brenners—Harold, his expectant-mother wife, Betty, 22, and their two children, Gailann, 4, and Ronald, 3—were among nine persons in Mrs. Jackson's home when the shooting took place. They were visiting his sister for the first time in a year.

Others endangered by the shooting included two neighbor children with whom Barbara was baby-sitting, Steve Dooley, 2, and his sister, Mischella, 4, and Barbara's girl friend, Shirley Starr, 15.

* * *

Police detective Paul Montgomery said the Jacksons had been estranged for several months and that Mrs. Jackson recently had obtained an injunction to restrain her husband from bothering her or her friends.

Market Decline Not Unexpected

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined today in early dealings with some losses running to around 3 points at the outside.

All major divisions were depressed—steels, motors, rubbers, aircrafts, chemicals, railroads, oils, airlines, and utilities.

Sources in Wall Street said some uncertainty was created by the new turn in the state of the President's health. His doctors ordered a slowdown in his work pace.

However, it was stressed that the market currently is near its record high peaks and it has been acting tired. Therefore a dip at this time would not be unexpected.

Bethlehem Steel opened on a block of 3,000 shares off 3 points at 166¼. General Motors had a block of 9,000 shares off 1⅛ at 47⅛.

Show Moving to Earlier Time

Jack Webb Hopes to Restore His Program to Top 10 Rating

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I'll give those rascals a run for their money."

This, translated into family-paper English, was the vow of Jack Webb. The sleek sleuth of Dragnet has declared war on CBS' Climax, which has nudged him out of the top 10 shows for the first time in his TV history.

Webb, who fought his way to the top of the show business heap, isn't going to take this sitting down. No. 1 in his plan of attack is to move his show from the 9 p.m. to the 8:30 slot.

"We've always had to fight for our audience," he explained. "We never had a strong show before or after us. I don't mean they weren't good shows; I mean we didn't inherit any audience from them.

"Now at 8:30 we'll follow Groucho, and that ought to do us a lot of good. After all, they put Climax on at 8:30 and they always manage to have a cliffhanger at five minutes before nine. Pretty sneaky. I don't blame people for not wanting to turn the dial to see us.

"But I don't think our only problem is in time slotting. Perhaps we can do a better job than what we have been doing. Now we're putting more money into the shows and we've got some new gimmicks."

On of the new gimmicks is a real romance for Joe Friday. He has had a gal in the past, but it was done as an experiment to test public reaction. The reaction was good.

Webb added that he has a new setting to work with. He has done a lot of filming at Los Angeles' modern police headquarters. His first show at the 8:30 time—Jan. 5—will feature a tour through the building.

More German PWs Freed by Russians

BERLIN (AP) — Fifty-seven German prisoners of war freed by the Soviet Union arrived in West Berlin today. They were the first to reach Western territory in two months.

The latest returnees were part of a "large group" which ADN, the Communist East German news agency, reported arrived in the Soviet zone during the weekend. nounced 600 prisoners would reach the West German border tomorrow.

The Russians abruptly stopped the repatriation of prisoners Oct. 20, after 5,836 had reached West Germany and an undisclosed number had been freed in East Germany. Previously the Russiand had promised Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to turn loose 9,626.

* * *

The Soviets gave no explanation for their interruption but it was generally viewed as pressure of the West German government to speed up the establishment of diplomatic relations with Moscow. So far, however, the Bonn regime has not nominated its first ambassador to Russia.

State Department's Press Officer Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Suydam, 64, the State Department's chief iress officer, died of aheart attack yesterday — less than two months after his wife died.

Secretary of State Dulles last night praised Suydam for "great ability, coupled with a kindly personality and high sense of public duty."

As spokesman for the department, Suydam had accompanied to several international conferences, including the recent Big Four foreign ministers meeting at Geneva. He had directed the State Department's press section since Oct. 1, 1953, and was on leave of absence from his post as chief editorial writer of the Newark, (N.J.) Evening News.

Gunmen Shoot Grocer

DETROIT (AP) — Caley Grech, 59, of Livonia, was shot and wounded in the abdomen, by one of two gunmen who held up his grocery store and escaped with between $400 and $500 last night. Grech was wounded when he grappled with one of the men.

3-Year-Old Girl Dies as Skirt Catches Fire

DALLAS (AP)—A 3-year-old girl who liked to twirl around and make her favorite cotton skirt stand out in a circle died last night of burns suffered when a gas fire set the swirling skirt afire.

Witnesses said little Martha Lou Whitworth, thinking the whole house was on fire at the time of the accident Saturday, led her little brother, Tommy, 2, outside. There Mrs. Whitworth, who had been talking with a neighbor, saw her child afire and slapped futiley at the flames and tore the blazing clothing.

Reds Keep Promise?

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio reported today that the reduction of Soviet armed forces by 640,000 men—promised in August—has now been completed. The broadcast confirmed Western speculation that a chief purpose of the troop cut was to aid the Kremlin's big drive to increase Soviet agricultural output. The ex-soldiers have been "transferred to agriculture," the radio reported.

Blizzards Strike Northern Europe

Avalanches Bury Homes in Norway; Glider Pilots Trapped in England

LONDON (AP) — Blizzards struck parts of northern Europe today. Avalanches buried homes in Norway and huge snow drifts trapped nine glider pilots on the Shropshire slopes of England.

A Norwegian steamer, the Reias, snapped a rudder in a storm off the Atlantic coast of Ireland. A Royal Navy antisubmarine ship and a British freighter went to her aid.

The Liberian freighter Peiades, ran aground on the Spanish coast near Tarifa lighthouse in Gibraltar Straits.

Although much of Europe had fine weather, the first real heavy snows of winter swept over Scandinavia. Temperatures reached 29 below zero in northern Norway.

A father and his 3-year-old daughter were killed when an avalanche smashed their home on Flakstad Island, in northern Norway. Three others in the family escaped.

The British glider pilots were caught 1,600 feet up on Long Mynd in Shropshire. The seven men and two women are living in a small club hut, eating canned food and breaking up packing cases for firewood. They have a telephone line to the village of Church Stretton though.
