Plane Captain Acclaimed in Harbor

HERO COMES HOME — Pan American World Airways Capt. Richard Ogg looks down at a welcoming crowd at Pier Nine in San Francisco as his wife (lower right in checked coat) reaches out to greet him following arrival yesterday of the rescue ship Ponchartrain. Capt. Ogg was the pilot of the plane that ditched in the Pacific Ocean last Tuesday. All 31 passengers were saved.

Ditching Survivors Reach Shore

Overjoyed 31 Praise Pilot

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Thirty-one persons, rescued from what seemed like the brink of death when their plane ditched in the Pacific, are enjoying the comforts of home today, high in their praise of the men who saved them and giving prayerful thanks.

The men, women and children, from the Pan American clipper "Sovereign of the Skies," which now lies beneath the ocean, arrived in San Francisco yesterday aboard the Coast Guard cutter Pontchartrain.

A joyous crowd of relatives and friends met the Pontchartrain and the hero captain of the strato-cruiser, Richard Ogg of Saratoga, Calif., became the center of attention.

Ogg told, in unemotional fashion, how he was forced to ditch the plane and complimented both passengers and crew for their quiet acceptance of the crisis.

They climbed quickly aboard rubber liferafts when the plane hit the ocean swells and cracked up. Two small boats from the Pontchartrain were on hand almost immediately and took the 31 to the cutter.

Auto Industry Calls 120,000 Back to Work

Jobless Figure Cut in Half as New Models Go Into Production

The rapidly accelerating auto industry has recalled 120,000 workers since Sept. 1, the Labor Department revealed yesterday.

Figures for the week ended Oct. 13 show an increase for that week alone as 1957 model production swung into high gear.

The Oct. 13 figures show the net number of auto workers laid off since Jan. 1 has dwindled to 142,500 in the seven largest auto-producing states.

This represents a cut by nearly half from the 262,000 jobless total of Sept. 1, highest such auto unemployment figure this year.

Reduced employment in the auto industry this year has been one of the chief exceptions to an otherwise generally abundant job situation in most parts of the nation.

The lag in auto employment resulted from 1956 model car sales falling below expectations.

In other data dealing with the nation's job situation the Labor Department reported initial claims, representing new unemployment, for state unemployment insurance benefits dropped by 17,000 during the week of Oct. 13 to a total of 164,900.

This compares with 168,700 for the same week last year.

The number of workers eligible for jobless payments and unemployed for a week or more dropped during the week ended Oct. 6, by 26,600 to 887,900. This compared with a year ago figure of 799,300.

Nikita, Aides Pull Surprise Visit to Warsaw

Report Troops Massed Outside City as Poles Resist Kremlin

WARSAW (AP) — Troops were reported encamped on Warsaw's outskirts today amid signs of a crisis in Polish-Russian relations.

The soldiers were said to have moved toward the capital soon after the unheralded arrival yesterday of Nikita Khrushchev, Soviet Communist party boss, and a bevy of other Russian leaders.

They all slipped quietly out of Poland today after secret talks apparently aimed to stem this country's headlong rush toward independent communism.

The Polish people were told of the Russians' visit only after their sleek jet airliner whooshed away from a military airport.

During the visit, reports circulated in Warsaw of the arrival of the troops.

Their strength, nationality or who they supported was not known. Soviet as well as Polish forces are stationed in the country.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party organ, charged that portions of the Polish press have jumped the Communist line and are preaching a broad anti-Marxist campaign "which is shaking the very foundations of the Polish Democratic Peoples regime."

A dispatch from Warsaw to The New York Times quoted Polish sources as saying troops were placed around the city at Khrushchev's order to back up the Soviet leader's demand that pro-Russian elements be kept in the leadership Communist party.

Valdislaw Gomulka, the rehabilitated former Polish leader purged and jailed at Stalin's order for attempting to lead Poland away from Moscow's guidance, continued his comeback despite the visit.

Warsaw radio said Gomulka's restoration to favor in the Polish Communist ranks was being hailed throughout the country.

Gomulka, reportedly on his way to the top in the party hierarchy, had been pictured as bitter over the Russians' sudden arrival.

Hunters Invade Fields as Fall Season Starts

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Special Writer

Fine weather, cool and hazy, today greeted the state's small-game hunting army, estimated to be a near-record turnout. Early this morning observers reported northbound hunter traffic on Telegraph road for a long distance below and above the city was almost a solid stream. Most, apparently, were pheasant hunters heading into the upstate and upper Thumb areas.

The shooting enthusiasts had to wait until 10 a.m. to open their campaigns for pheasant, squirrels, rabbits, grouse and raccoon, but the barrage began "on the dot" according to reports from hunting areas in this section.

Even duck and geese hunters were forced to hold up shooting, although the waterfowl season began Oct. 1. From now on the shooting times revert to hours of 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. for upland game and a half hour before sunrise for waterfowl.

Today also marks the beginning of the Pontiac Press annual "big pheasant derby." The event this fall has an added feature, a $25 bond to the longest bird.

Heaviest ringneck will win a $50 bond for its taker. Hunters are reminded that no entries will be taken on Saturdays, after 11:30 a.m. or Sundays.

All hunters were also reminded again, today, that smoking out-of-doors and in campfires the Southern Peninsula below M-20, are prohibited because of the fire hazard. Exceptions are inside buildings, cars, and in limits of villages or other municipalities.

Regulations and bag limits are changed but little from last year. Two pheasant roosters may be taken in one day, four in possession and eight for the season.

Early reports today were that a heavy carpet of dry leaves and remnants of drying foliage offered area hunters and their dogs a lot of difficulty in getting birds up.

The wary roosters could hear the advancing men and dogs a long ways off, and they quietly sneaked to safer spots in most instances.

Pontiac to Hear Nixon Monday

Plan 30-Minute Stop at Grand Trunk Tracks on Huron Street

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, whistlestopping through Michigan, will be in Pontiac for 30 minutes Monday afternoon.

Nixon, whose train is due in Pontiac at 5:25 p.m., will make a 20-minute speech from the observation platform, GOP County Chairman Chad Ritchie said today.

Ritchie, who conferred with Secret Service men yesterday over security arrangements for the visit, said he is borrowing wooden sawhorses from the city to hold crowds away from the train.

Nixon's car will be backed up to the Huron street Grand Trunk crossing, Ritchie said.

He added his committee has distributed 20,000 leaflets advertising the stop at football games and shopping centers throughout the county.

Ban Joe Smith Write-in Votes in Michigan

DETROIT (AP)—You can't write in the name of "Joe Smith" for president or vice president in Michigan Nov. 6 with any hope it'll be counted.

Circuit Judge Robert M. Thomas ruled yesterday write-ins for president and vice president are taboo because these officials actually are put into office by the electoral college, not popular votes.

It is OK, however, the judge ruled, to write in names for state and local offices.

The ruling came in a suit by three members of the Socialist Workers Party on the question. The Socialist Workers and Socialist Labor parties failed to land a place on the Michigan ballot because they didn't get sufficient signatures on qualifying petitions.

30,000 Good Deeds

Boy Scouts Lead Way for Area UF Solicitors

Thousands of area Boy Scouts this weekend will be credited with about 30,000 "good deeds" as they prepare the way for Pontiac Area United Fund solicitors.

Scout troops in Pontiac, Waterford Township and Pontiac Township are distributing doorknob hangers to 30,000 homes. The placards read: "Open your door and open your heart."

Van Braidwood, Pontiac district Boy Scout executive, is directing the campaign.

The Scouts are one of several youth agencies supported by the United Fund. A large part of the $612,202 being sought by UF solicitors during the Oct. 23-Nov. 16 campaign will be earmarked for these youth services.

Later this month, Scouts will participate in a nationwide "get-out-the-vote" campaign, another community service carried on by troops in the Pontiac area.

UF headquarters has announced final plans are under way for the campaign kickoff Tuesday morning when nearly 400 United Fund workers are expected to attend a breakfast in Pontiac's Elks Temple at 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

Frank O. Staiger, nationally known speaker who last year opened the Dallas, Tex., United Fund drive, will speak on the program with Bud Guest, Detroit radio personality. Staiger is executive secretary of the Michigan District of Kiwanis.

The breakfast will be sponsored by the Pontiac Manufacturers Assn.

Working for Chaplain at Post Where 6 Boots Drowned

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—Former Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon completes his court-martial sentence today and hopes to patch up the pieces of an 8-year Marine career ruined last April 8 when the ex-drill instructor marched a platoon of 74 balky recruits into tidal Ribbon Creek here and six drowned.

For the present McKeon, 31, will be assigned to headquarters and service battalion as a chaplain's assistant on this sprawling recruit training center.

It was in that duty that McKeon spent the interval between his release from the brig seven weeks after the tragedy until Secretary of Navy Thomas reviewed the general court-martial sentence Oct. 5.

The Worcester, Mass., native was convicted of negligent manslaughter and drinking on duty. The court ordered him confined for nine months, fined $270 reduced to private and separated from the corps with a bad conduct discharge.

Thomas wiped out the fine and the bad conduct discharge and cut the prison term to three months. The prison sentence dated from Aug. 3, when McKeon was sentenced by the court. Time off for good behavior further reduced it so that he actually spent only two weeks in the brig.

Jury to Ponder Fate of Moore Monday

Testimony in the first-degree murder trial of Howard Wayne Moore ended yesterday, and the case will go to the two-man, 12-woman jury Monday after attorneys have presented their final arguments.

Yesterday's testimony, most explosive in the three-day trial, included results of a lie detector test incriminating Moore and the unexpected testimony of Moore himself, who repudiated his previous confessions on the stand and charged detectives with lying.

Pontiac psychiatrist L. Jerome Fink, cast as star defense witness, argued Moore is insane.

Two more psychiatrists, however, said they believed Moore is sane. They are Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, and Dr. Philip N. Brown, medical superintendent of Northville State Hospital.

Cranbrook Loses, 19-7, to Nichols Grid Squad

The Cranbrook Cranes went down to their fourth defeat in five games by dropping a 19-7 verdict to Nichols School of Buffalo in an Inter-State League game at Cranbrook today.

Quarterback Dave Campbell scored the only Crane touchdown on a one-foot plunge in the third period and Herb Stanton ran for the extra point.

Farm Discontent Tough to Spot in Michigan

By JACK BELL

LANSING (AP) — Orange pumpkins piled high at roadside stands, full, brown corn drying in the fields and fat dairy herds grazing in the rolling meadows attest that this was a good farm year in Michigan.

* * *

Here and there the rains came too early, too late or hardly at all. Here the potato crop was good, there it was bad, elsewhere it was middling.

But on the cross-state highways and the back roads there prevails a general air of satisfaction, if not of contentment, that seems to belie reports of any political revolt on the farm.

Farm prices aren't good enough, machinery costs too much, help is high and hard to get, but the average farmer appears to be making out.

BUT WHO KNOWS?

But whether this outward placidity spells polling place support for the Republican administration's farm policies and thus for President Eisenhower's re-election, remains to be determined.

A sizable defection in the usually Republican farm belt conceivably could tip the scales to Adlai E. Stevenson in this state of rather fixed voting patterns.

The Republicans must hold the farmers if they are to offset Democratic majorities in Wayne County, which casts about 40 per cent of Michigan's estimated 2,800,000 ballots.

* * *

The six congressional districts of the Detroit area voted 62 per cent Democratic in 1952, when Eisenhower swept the state by a 321,000 vote margin over Stevenson. In 1954, those six districts upped the Democratic percentage to 66.

Republicans hope to cut into the city vote in the battle for the state's 20 electoral votes by running Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo against democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Williams rode out the 1952 Eisenhower landslide. And he won hands down in 1954. But this year the state and national tickets have been combined on one ballot as they have not previously. Williams looks capable of breasting the Eisenhower tide. Whether he can pull Stevenson in with him is regarded as doubtful.

SEES DISSATISFACTION

Neil Staebler, Democratic state chairman, contends there is substantial defection from the Republican cause among dairymen, part time farmers who also work in industrial plants, poultry raisers

Series to Probe Budget

Since announcement of the budget by the County Board of Supervisors, criticism has been heard in regard to the handling of surpluses that might accrue and then be transferred to the Building Fund.

The Board has been charged with overbudgeting to raise money that could be turned into the erection of a new courthouse.

The Pontiac Press is investigating these in detail and will provide the taxpayers with all the information. This money belongs to the people and the people will know precisely where any sum originated and where it goes.

Adlai Invited to Press Quiz

Nixon Challenges Dem to Be Cross-Examined on H-Bomb, Draft

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP)—Vice President Nixon challenged Adlai Stevenson last night "to call an open press conference at which he can be cross-examined" on his draft and H-bomb proposals.

Winding up a two-week, 10,000-mile campaign swing amid a flourish of fireworks at a Republican rally on the Maryland State fairgrounds near Baltimore, Nixon said the Democratic presidential candidate "has refused" to submit to press questioning on these issues.

Stevenson has said, if elected president, he would seek a world-wide agreement to end the testing of hydrogen bombs. He also has suggested an end to the draft when national security permits.

* * *

About 4,000 turned up at the Timonium race track on the fair grounds last night to hear what was billed as Nixon's major reply to Stevenson on these issues.

"There is one way in which he can clear up all the confusion he has created and to let the American people know what his actual thinking us," said Nixon.

"But Mr. Stevenson has refused to permit the press to examine him on the draft, the H-bomb and other questionable issues that he has raised during his campaign.

"And, therefore, I tonight challenge him in the interest of clarifying these matters of such deep concern to Americans everywhere . . . to call an open press conference at which he can be cross-examined by the men and women whose professional duty it is to keep our country informed."

Stevenson distributed a prepared statement on his draft views at a major news conference in Washington Sept. 17. The statement did not mention his plan for suspending H-bomb tests. He was not extensively questioned on either subject at that conference.

Penman Bulganin Writes to Ike Again

WASHINGTON (INS) — Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin has sent another message to President Eisenhower.

Although Soviet Embassy and State Department officials are silent, there is speculation the letter might deal with the disarmament stalemate or the question of ending H-bomb tests.

The message — the latest in a year-long series between the two —was delivered yesterday to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles by Soviet Embassy Counselor Andrei M. Ledovski.

Dulles told Ledovski the note will be translated and presented to Eisenhower Sunday after he returns to Washington from a West Coast campaign tour.

Hold Man in Attack With Knife at Bar

An Oxford man, who police say threatened a tavern owner with a hunting knife last night, is in the county jail today under investigation of felonious assault.

Jesse C. Gutierrez, 29, was arrested by sheriff's deputies after he was overcome by other customers at the White Oaks Tavern on M24 in Oxford Township.

Gutierrez pulled the knife when Taven Owner Arthur Wilson asked him to leave after explaining he does not have a license to sell beer to take out, deputies said.

Gutierrez reportedly ran out when others went to Wilson's aid but was tackled along the road.

Driver Found Guilty

Robert Chettleburgh, 17, of 1380 Ladd Rd., Walled Lake was found guilty on a charge of reckless driving Thursday and sentenced to 10 days in county jail by Walled Lake Justice Herman Roth.

The Pontiac Press Friday incorrectly stated Chettleburgh had pleaded guilty to the charge.

Adlai Slaps Ike Leadership; Fury Shown by President

Stevenson Bombards Foreign Policy

CINCINNATI (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says President Eisenhower is providing the nation only "leadership to disaster" because any bold international action by him would "split the Republican party right down the middle."

Stevenson told a cheering audience which filled Cincinnati's 3,800-seat Music Hall last night that Eisenhower's recent statement that there was "good news" about the Suez Canal crisis was "highly misleading."

* * *

"My friends," the Democratic presidential nominee said solemnly, "there is no good news about Suez. Why didn't the President tell us the truth?

"Why hasn't he told us frankly that what has happened in these past few months is that the Soviet rulers have accomplished a Russian ambition the czars could never accomplish? Russian power and influence have moved into the Middle East—the oil tank of Europe and Asia and the great bridge between East and West."

* * *

In a full-fledged indictment of the GOP administration's foreign policies, Stevenson said that "the central fact is that the leader of the Republican party cannot possibly deal with the problems of today's world.'

The crowd cheered as Stevenson said:

"I ask your support not because I offer promises of peace and progress, because I do not. I promise only an unending effort to use our power wisely in pursuing the goal of peace.

"I ask your support not in the name of complacency but in the name of anxiety."

* * *

Stevenson flies today to South Bend, Ind., for a noon political rally and to watch the Notre Dame - Michigan State football game. He speaks tonight from Chicago over closed circuit television to audiences at Democratic fund raising dinners in 20 cities.

The Democratic nominee got one of the most enthusiastic receptions of his campaign in normally-Republican Cincinnati.

Stevenson sailed into Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles with blunt charges that they have been trying to "encourage the people not to know the truth" about the serious state of world conditions."

* * *

Obviously elated by his Cincinnati reception, Stevenson's backers said they were encouraged by their candidate's appearances in Kentucky yesterday.

Eisenhower Defends Nixon in West Speech

LOS ANGELES (INS)—President Eisenhower has thrown his kid gloves away for the duration of the campaign.

The Chief Executive tore into Adlai Stevenson last night in Hollywood with a fury he had not shown on the campaign trail since 1952. Presidential aides said he planned to keep up the hard-hitting attack until election day.

Eisenhower branded as "preposterous" Stevenson's charge that there has been a "contagion of corruption" under Republicans in Washington.

And, for the first time in the campaign, he took angry note of the attacks by Stevenson and other Democratic orators on his running mate, Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Speaking before a cheering capacity crowd of 22,000 at Hollywood Bowl, Eisenhower struck out angrily at what he called "many fatuous, foolish and futile attempts to belittle the character" of the Vice President.

He praised Nixon in glowing terms and told the applauding crowd of Nixon's fellow Californians:

"I know that you people who know him best—as I know him—will rally around to see that these futile attempts are squashed, as they should be."

The President was flying home to Washington today with a brief stop at Denver to give a campaign boost to an old friend, former Colorado Gov. Dan Thornton.

Last night's rally in the Hollywood Bowl was the biggest and certainly the most spectacular of the President's campaign.

Hollywood stars by the dozen—Bob Hope, Ginger Rogers, Randolph Scott, Fred Astaire and Michael O'Shea—to name only a few, paraded across the stage to tell why they were voting for "Ike."

Eisenhower reserved his strongest language for Stevenson's suggestion that the United States should seek a way to end the draft.

The President declared:

"The man who today dismisses our military draft as 'an incredible waste' is a man who, while I do not question his sincerity, is speaking with incredible folly or incredible ignorance of war and the causes of war."

Kefauver Visits Nixon Backyard

Touring Estes Blasts Rival's Voting Record While in Congress

EN ROUTE WITH KEFAUVER (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver today invaded the home grounds of his favorite political target, Vice President Richard Nixon, to lambast the record of the men he continues to call the "new Nixon."

* * *

Kefauver's chartered plane took him into California from Salt Lake City, where last night he accused the Eisenhower administration of playing favorites with the private utilities in the development of western power resources.

Before leaving Utah, Kefauver surprised newsmen by leaving the inference with a news conference that the Democrats were trailing the Republican Eisenhower-Nixon team.

In an appraisal of Democratic election prospects, Kefauver volunteered the opinion the Democratic national ticket "is rapidly closing the gap on President Eisenhower."

Was Kefauver conceding he and Adlai Stevenson were running behind the Republicans, he was asked.

"I think we were running behind," Kefauver replied. "It may be we haven't caught up yet. I think we are gaining ground."

Reminded the Democrats failed to carry any of the Far Western states in 1952, Kefauver was asked to appraise the situation today.

He said he was "confident" of Democratic victory in Washington and that Montana was "in the Democratic column." He called California "nip and tuck," Oregon "moving up," Democrats "head" in Nevada and making "rapid gains" in Utah.

He carried into California his attack on Nixon as one he said has voted in Congress against labor, agriculture, schools, housing, power and reclamation development, small business and increases in the school lunch program.

In remarks prepared for delivery at campaign stops during the day, Kefauver said Nixon's voting record was made as a member of the House and the Senate "before there was a new Nixon" running for national office.

"Right now the new Nixon does the talking but the old Nixon always does the voting," he said.

Detroit Youths Admit Breakin

Pair Held at County Jail for Liquor Store Theft in West Bloomfield Twp.

Two Detroit youths admitted the breakin of a West Bloomfield Township liquor store early this morning, police said.

* * *

Donald King and David Neilsen, both 17, are being held at the County Jail and are believed to have been part of a group of six who broke into the store at Orchard Lake road and Pontiac Trail.

Four other teenagers are being held by State Police in connection with the burglary.

County Sheriff's deputies turned up 15 bottles of liquor, five cases of beer and five cartons of cigarettes after the jailed pair agreed to show them where the stolen merchandise had been hidden.

The other four members of the gang, who named King and Neilsen as their companions during State Police interrogation, are expected to be transferred to the county Jail to await a Justice Court hearing on a charge of breaking and entering.

2 Hit Truck Headon, Injured on Telegraph

A Royal Oak couple was injured yesterday in a headon collision with an oil tanker on U.S. 10 near Telegraph road in Waterford Township.

Fred Snider, 60, the driver, is in fair condition today in Pontiac General Hospital with multiple rib fractures, a fractured collarbone and possible head injuries. His wife, Eva, 50, is in good condition with possible head injuries.

The truck was driven by Clarence Latham, 26, of Elsie, who was unhurt. He told police the Snider car went over the center line.

Williams Hunts in Thumb Cobo Stumps in Detroit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Williams leveled his gun at pheasants in the Thumb today while his Republican opponent, Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, hunted votes in Detroit after a rush trip to Lansing last night.

After a busy Friday shaking hands and speaking in the Bay City - Pinconning area, Williams took today off, hunting on a friend's farm in Sebewaing. Cutting the vacation to a minimum, the governor will appear in Detroit at a $110-a-plate fund raising dinner honoring Gov. Edmund Muskie of Maine tonight.

Williams was in gay spirits Friday as he toured pivotal Bay County. When one of the workers at Bay City's Chevrolet plant told him "you just keep going the way your're going and you'll end up in the White House," Williams replied:

"That wouldn't be bad."

Meanwhile, Cobo was in Detroit and Lansing, where he ripped into what he termed the governor's "intolerable attitude" toward mentally retarded children in the state.

Addressing a Detroit TV audience, Cobo said mentally retarded children are "the forgotten children of Michigan—forgotten in the midst of the governor's desire for political advancement."

Speaking on education, Cobo said the present system is "hit and miss," leaving local authorities in doubt as to whether monies expected from the state for operating budgets would be received.

King Saud's Costly Bid for Friends May Topple Him

DAMASCUS, Syria, Oct. 20 (AP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia, absolute monarch of a fabulous oil empire, has become the poor little rich boy of the Arab world.

His income is roughly 230 million dollars a year from oil. He has spent it lavishly trying to buy himself Arab popularity. He seems to be slowly realizing he has poured his money down the drain.

Saud, his princely brothers and his host of royal relatives have run through nearly a billion dollars of oil income in the last six years and now are reported to be in debt to the extent of several years' oil income. So far as the King is concerned, it hasn't done him much good.

Most of Saud's expenses in his campaign to win popularity have been payments to newspaper editors and politicians for a pro-Saudi line. Editors of fly-by-night papers of almost no circulation suddenly found their profession—particularly in Lebanon and Syria—a well-paying one. As one Arab journalist told this correspondent:

"Saudi officials have promised me that if I start a daily newspaper and keep it going for six months, they will pay me 50,000 pounds sterling—nearly $150,000. After that I expect to get 30,000 yearly."

* * *

King Saud's "kept press," has followed a line of attacking Iraq, where King Faisal is a member of the Hashemite family, blood enemies of the house of Saud. Iraq is a member of the Baghdad Pact, so these papers attacked the pro-Western alliance in favor of a Middle East grouping of Egypt, Syria and Saudi Arabia—the so-called ESS bloc.

* * *

But this had the effect of lending support to extreme nationalists, Arab reformers, leftists and Communists, who wave the banner of Egypt's President Nasser. Saud by now must suspect that those cheering Nasser are out to topple the Saudi throne. As an absolute feudal monarch whose wealth depends on American oil money, Saud is unpopular with anti - Western Arabs and with young Arabs who dream of reforms. Some of these demand nationalization of the Arabian-American Oil Co. (ARAMCO) and its pipelines to the Mediterranean. This could spell ruin for Saud.

* * *

Egyptian influence must worry Saud. Egyptian officers have been in Saudi Arabia as members of a military mission. Ever since, there have been rumors of subversion inside the Saudi army. Some of the Egyptian officers were asked to go home.

Now Saud has gone to the extreme of waving the olive branch toward the Hashemite representative of his archenemies, King Faisal of Iraq. The two Kings met in mid-September. Iraqi sources say they laid plans for future cooperation against Arab extremists. But if this friendship should go too far, Saud risks a break with Egypt's Nasser, who is strongly anti-Iraq, and this could prove disastrous for Saud. It could turn the full force of Arab nationalism, fanned by Nasser, against him.

Saud's own entourage, particularly his powerful minister of state, Sheikh Youssef Yasin, probably will restrain him from breaking with Nasser. But there are rumors that Saud is going to stop paying subsidies to editors in Syria and Lebanon. If he does, a really dirty campaign by shoestring papers is in store.

Its target would be King Saud.

The Day in Birmingham

Arrange 10,000 Books for AAUW Sale Start

BIRMINGHAM — Books by the yard for decoration, current best sellers, elderly encyclopedias and loads of relatively recent reference books are among the 10,000 volumes that are ready for the AAUW book sale next week.

Preview of the sale for members and 32 invited organizations is tomorrow at the Detroit Edison office in Birmingham.

Then next week, the sale will be under way from 2 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday and Friday and from 2 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday.

Shuttling back and forth from the various garages and homes that have housed the many books during collection weeks, Mrs. Robert Walls and Mrs. John Rosier and their handling committee are hard at work today.

Other busier groups of the many committees under Mrs. John S. Judd's leadership are the one pricing books under Mrs. Berrien Ketchum's leadership, and the transportation committee under Mrs. William K. Ginman and Mrs. William H. Younger.

"Lots of people remember they have books to give while the sale is in progress, and the transportation committee continues its pickup, making new supplies available on the book-tables during the week," a committeewoman advises.

Funds go for scholarships and to provide tours of Cranbrook exhibits for Birmingham school children.

Mrs. Norman Krupp will give an organ recital at Lutheran Church of the Ascension tomorrow at 4 p.m., with all choirs taking part. Bach, French composers and moderns will be featured.

Today is workday for the Pilgrim Fellowship of First Congregational Church, with money earned in various jobs throughout the community going for missions.

Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham will hold a dinner meeting at the Waldron Hotel, Pontiac, at 7 p.m. Monday, with each member bringing a guest.

Satisfaction with success of the first luncheons of the St. Elizabeth Guild's luncheon series was expressed by Mrs. Robert Stacey, guild president yesterday.

The guild will continue the series in December on Town Hall lecture days, but not in November, when the Harvest Festival is set for one of the two days.

About 80 attended the first and 100 the second day's smorgasbord luncheons, she reported.

Waitress Runs Would-Be Thief Into Hands of Law

Pursued by an irate waitress brandishing a bottle of Worcestershire sauce, a shivering man accused of stealing a jacket ran into the arms of the law last night.

Jacket in hand, Jose Santos, 21, of 690 Auburn Ave. was nabbed by officers on S. Saginaw street, they said, fleeing from Mrs. Irene Fleming, the waitress and wife of the owner of Hickory Hut Cafe, 20 S. Saginaw.

Santos admitted taking the jacket from a clothes rack about 2 a.m. while Mrs. Fleming was on duty, police said. Santos explained he was cold, police added.

The jacket was returned to its owner, Glen Smith, of 93½ S. Saginaw and Santos arrested for larceny from a building.

City Man May Face Child Cruelty Count

A warrant of child cruelty may be asked Monday, Pontiac police said, against a 24-year-old man who allegedly beat the 10-month-old daughter of his common-law wife.

William R. Norman, of 39 Mechanic St. was held for investigation today, they said, on complaint of the woman, Judy Bishop, of the same address.

The baby, Janice Bishop, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment of facial injuries, authorities said. She was listed in good condition.

Mrs. Bishop told police Norman frequently beat the girl when he was angry. She sought police aid, she said, after Norman struck the girl in the face Wednesday.

Teenager, 17, Jailed for Burglary Attempt

A 17-year-old youth, his hand severely cut, was arrested last night for investigation of an attempted office burglary an hour earlier, Pontiac police said.

The suspect, police believe, cut his hand breaking a rear window at the Gee Coal Co., 91 Lake St., where blood stains were found.

Although the broken window touched off a burglar alarm, the thief pried open an inner door to enter the office, police said. Nothing was missing, however, according to the owner, William A. Brower, of 2389 Pauline St.

The suspect was arrested at midnight at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Clinic and held for questioning today.

Farm Discontent Hard to Spot Here and potato growers. He said this is matched by attendant dissatisfaction among small town businessmen.

Staebler says the issues by which he believes the Democrats "will approach getting one half the farm vote," revolve primarily around farm economic distress, apprehension over Eisenhower's health and what he calls "fear" of Vice President Nixon. He said Democrats who supported Eisenhower four years ago are coming home.

John Feikens, Republican state chairman, concedes Democrats have made inroads into the ranks of part time farmers.

* * *

"Labor has done a good job there," he said. "But we think we can offset that by gains we have made in suburbs around Detroit and by holding the support of full time farmers."

Feikens says Eisenhower's activities in behalf of peace constitute the biggest issue the Republicans have going for them in Michigan.

A looping swing through the farm and small town areas of central and southern Michigan turned up support for the arguments of both chairmen.

DEMOCRAT IN OAKLAND

At the outskirts of Novi, Norman Watson has a roadside stand representing a $30,000 investment. Watson is a Democrat, though Oakland County is Republican. He says he is going to repeat this year his 1952 votes for Stevenson and Williams.

Watson cocked one foot up on a stack of fruit crates and observed he thinks the Republicans are going to lose the vote of a friend of his who put in 65 acres of potatoes, expected to make $6,000 out of them but actually lost $600.

Farther westward, lies Livingston County, a part of the Sixth Congressional District that went Republican by 12,000 votes in 1952 and swung Democratic by 6,000 two years later.

* * *

Near Brighton, H. C. Thompson was sitting in his real estate office, reading a newspaper.

Yes, Thompson said, he is going to vote for Eisenhower and Cobo although he thinks Williams is "a very wonderful politician."

"I don't think the farmers are mad at Eisenhower," he said. "In fact, I had dinner with four of them last night and they all were going to vote for Ike."

NO SQUEEZE HERE

As a small businessman, Thompson said he doesn't feel the kind of economic squeeze the Democrats are talking about.

West of Webberville, in the same congressional district, Roy Hagg was refilling his silo with corn silage. Hagg took time out to shout over the clatter of the conveyer:

"If Ike had somebody else running with him but Nixon, I'd vote for him. If Ike should die, we'd have Nixon for President and that is just exactly what Wall street wants."

* * *

Fifteen miles south of Lansing, at Leslie, Kenneth Evans guessed as he filled the gas tank "It'll be old Ike again."

"The farmers are not talking much about politics and I couldn't rightly say which way they are going to vote," Evans said.

Near Jackson, in the Republican Second Congressional District, R. L. Morris listens to a lot of political talk from people who rent his motel rooms.

NIX TO NIXON

"I don't know what it amounts to," he said, "but I hear a lot of people say they aren't going to vote for Eisenhower because of Nixon."

Morris is going to vote for Eisenhower and Williams.

Farther south, William Enders was just coming out of the house to tend the chickens. A Democrat, he's going to vote for Stevenson and Williams again this year.

* * *

Down the road a few miles J. Willis Hoffman was gathering eggs in his hatchery.

"I'm for the present administration," he said, "I can't see rigid price supports. And I can't see dropping nuclear weapon tests. We've got to be ready for what the other fellow might do."

Hoffman, who runs a 270-acre dairy farm and hatchery in spite of a heart attack two years ago, said he has no qualms about Eisenhower's health.

Jordan Banking on U. N. Censure

Severe Penalty Against Israeli for New Border Attacks Expected

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Jordan expressed confidence today the U.N. Security Council would deal more severely with Israel's latest border attacks than it has done in the past.

* * *

But there was no indication any member of the 11-nation council was preparing a resolution on the subject. Members appeared to be waiting to hear Israel's defense against Jordanian charges.

The council decided yesterday to consider conflicting Jordan and Israel complaints and listened to speeches on Jordan's allegations. It then adjourned in the hope of hearing Israeli Ambassador Abba S. Eban next week. Eban is in Jerusalem for consultations.

In the council debate, Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev called for "energetic action." Iranian delegate Djalal Abdoh asked for "necessary measures for the maintenance of international peace" in the Middle East.

Abdoh later indicated he was still undecided whether to draft a resolution. A U.S. spokesman said the United States was not drawing up one and he did not think Britain and France were. Those countries normally take the lead on Palestine matters.

More than 100 persons have been killed in recent skirmishes along the Israeli-Jordan frontier.

Cotton Picker's Son Lost in Snake Area

ASHVILLE, Ala. (AP) — National guardsmen were called out last night to search for a 3-year-old child missing in dense, snake-infested woods near his farm home since midafternoon.

M. Sgt. James Sullivan said the child, Jack Woods Jr., son of a St. Clair County farmer, apparently strayed from a field as other members of his family were picking cotton.

Sullivan said the boy's mother died a few weeks ago.

About 45 members of Co. A of the 152nd Tank Battalion joined state patrolmen, local and county police in the search.

The area in which the child is being sought is timberland which has been cut over, but there is dense undergrowth. Ashville is about 30 miles northeast of Birmingham.

Crack Navy Fliers Change Commanders

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — The Navy's Blue Angels, crack flight team, planned to receive a new commander today in a 300-mile an hour ceremony.

Cmdr. Ed Holley was ready to take over from Cmdr. Richard L. Cormier as the Grumman Cougar jets roared over the Pensacola Naval Air Station's sSherman Field in a tight diamond formation. Holley is a native of Aiken, S.C.; Cormier is from San Diego, Calif.

The right wingman's slot in the formation was left empty in memory of Marine Capt. Charles Holloway Jr. of Opp, Ala. He was killed Thursday in the crash of his jet while practicing for the ceremonies.

Cormier is being transferred to the west coast.

Both communities are in Macomb County, north of Wayne County.

'Wanted' Killer Given Life — Twice

JACKSON (AP) — Nealy Buchanon, who fled Southern Michigan Prison a year ago while serving 1 to 15 years for armed robbery, was back today under two life-term sentences which a judge recommended never be softened or decreased.

* * *

Buchanon, 32, was sentenced at Lansing yesterday after pleading guilty to slaying Mr. and Mrs. Howard Herrick at their Stockbridge farm Sept. 3, 1955.

Circuit Judge Marvin J. Salmon said Buchanon "would not hesitate to kill again" and made his recommendation against any clemency anytime.

Buchanon quickly was whisked to Jackson, from where he fled in a prison truck which he was driving as a trusty two days before the double-slaying.

Buchanon was captured this week in Baltimore after his picture was recognized in a crime magazine's "Wanted" section by a neighbor.

Unrest in Poland May Send Nikita, Pals Job-Hunting

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

There can be little doube about it now—Moscow is scared.

The naked Soviet interference in the internal affairs of the Polish Communist Central Committee had to be dictated by a consideration as strong as fear.

The reasons for Soviet intrusion on the Polish meeting had to be of the utmost importance to the Kremlin for it to risk exposing itself before the world in an act of colonialism.

Moscow would be extremely embarrassed now if it had to use force to reimpose discipline in Poland and Hungary, the two satellite Communist countries which are rushing headlong toward some form of political independence. But the Russians may yet have to apply force. If they do, Khrushchev's days as the boss of Communism are numbered.

The Russians fostered public discussion and even debate in the satellite countries. This was a safety valve, a means of letting off public steam and avoiding explosions from the rising discontent in these countries. The relaxations got out of control.

Anti-Russianism, always strong in Poland and Hungary, combined with resentment of Stalinism and brought about a split in the ranks of the satellite Communist parties between the national Communists and those who feel they need Moscow's protection and discipline to retain power.

Moscow still has the means to apply force to stem the tide. The Kremlin can twist economic screws to bring governments of satellite countries into line. If that fails to cow the public in these countries, a more naked form of force, even the use of Soviet troops may be needed.

The ruling group in Moscow thus faces a dilemma, and if it cannot be resolved without serious damage to the Kremlin's cause, then somebody is going to have to pay. That somebody likely is Nikita Khrushchev, first secretary and boss of the Soviet Communist party.

* * *

The growing ferment in the satellite nations and the growing confusion among the world Communist rank and file are bound to start a quarrel in the Kremlin, where there likely is deep resentment of the way Khrushchev and his cohorts threw their weight around. Trouble in eastern Europe can be the excuse for a move against Khrushchev & Co.

In this respect, one man who cannot be counted out of the picture is Georgi Malenkov, whom Khrushchev pushed from top positions in party and government.

More Jobs Than '55

The survey showed a 20 per cent increase in industrial employment over the same period last year. Seventeen industries reported employment of 531 in September, 1956, compared to 444 for the same month last year.

Studying Law Behind Bars Sure Paid Off

ST. LOUIS (AP) —Patrick James McPherson studied law during his 13 years in prison. It paid off, finally.

Hailed into circuit court on a felony charge of stealing a $52.50 typewriter, he faced a possible maximum sentence of 10 years in prison if convicted.

But he contended before Judge James E. McLaughlin the valuation included an excise tax which couldn't be included in determining the value of stolen property. Subtracting the $4 tax brought the valuation below $50, the legal division between misdemeanor and felony thefts.

The charge was reduced to misdemeanor theft, which carries a maximum term of only one year. That's what McPherson got. He pleaded guilty.

Await Water Cost Figure

Report Is Due in Farmington

Engineers Doing Survey for Three-Community Utility Authority

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — "Everything hinges on costs," Supervisor Albert Gain said today of the proposed water system for Farmington City and Township and a part of Southfield Township.

A report of the findings of Pate and Hirn, a Detroit engineering firm making a preliminary survey for the system, is expected next week, Gain said.

"We can't move until we hear from the engineers," he said.

If expense of the proposed system can be supported, he explained, by the three municipalities, their govering bodies can then name one man each to create a water authority.

The water authority will then be able to contract for water, arrange financing and carry out other needed processes.

"We should get on with this thing as fast as we can," Gain said. "We have a moral obligation to supply these people with water.

Our whole mode of life is changing and we must keep up with its change, he said. All of modern living requires an adequate supply of water, whether it be the home or industry."

Full faith and credit of the township should be pledged, if necessary, to obtain financing for the proposed system, he said.

He pointed out that it would not mean a tax increase, or that the township will be expected to pay the bill, only that the township will underwrite the sale of the bonds.

Several experts have said that the proposed system can easily pay for itself from revenue.

Gain also stated that he hoped to see the matter of sewers for the township pressed to a successful conclusion.

"For awhile this looked like a dead issue," he said, "but it's very much alive right now, and as far as I am concerned both water and sewers are going to be pushed until we get them."

NEW FARMINGTON CHURCH — Nestled in a grove, this new structure of contemporary architecture is Trinity Episcopal Church. Standing at the end of LaMuera drive on 11 Mile road in Springland subdivision, it will be dedicated tomorrow afternoon at 4 p.m. The Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the diocese, will celebrate the Holy Communion.

Bishop to Aid Trinity Church Dedication

FARMINGTON—The Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Michigan, will be present when the new building of Trinity Church Farmington is dedicated tomorrow afternoon at 4 p.m.

The new building, nestled deep in the woods at the end of LaMuera drive, in Springland Subdivision of Farmington Township, is first unit of a building which is someday to include an expanded worship center to seat 400 peeople, an educational unit and an auditorium. The present unit seats 200.

An open house at the new building and a reception in the church school room the planned following the service.

For the service, Holy Communion will be celebrated by Bishop Emrich and the Rev. William S. Logan III, dean of the Westside Convocation, will preach. He is rector of St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Redford, of which Trinity Church Farmington was a mission, founded in February 1952.

The central altar of the church was designed by the architect, Stephen Spencer of O'Dell, Hewlett and Lukkenbach, of Birmingham, so that no one is seated more than eight rows from it.

It thus allows the congregational to be a vital part of the Liturgy of the Holy Communion.

The church has already attracted wide acclaim for its uniqueness and beauty in contemporary style while maintaining some traditional aspects. Its simplicity blends with majesty of tall trees in the natural woodland about it.

Vicar of the church is the Rev. James B. Guinan who grew up in Pontiac and graduated from Pontiac High School in 1937. His father, Gerald Guinan, is a Pontiac businessman.

The church's 60 pledging families have 80 per cent of the $100,000 building fund in sight.

New Romeo Post Office to Be Started in 1957

ROMEO—Construction of a new, modern post office building in Romeo is scheduled to start early next year, according to word received this week from Congressman Jesse P. Wolcott.

The U. S. Post Office department has taken an option on property west of the Romeo Public Library, 75 by 100 feet, facing on Church St. and running through to Newberry St. Bids will be sought for the new building which, upon completion, will be leased to the post office department.

Size of the proposed structure will be approximately 3,200 square feet or twice the size of the present post office on Main street.

There will be ample room for truck maneuvering and parking in the rear, and the village has approved the opening of an alley along the east side of the property between both streets.

All new, modern equipment and bank-type counters will be installed in the new building, Wolcott said.

Prospective bidders may obtain further information by contacting Arthur Chandler, real estate manager, Main Post Office, Chicago, Ill.

Classmates Join in Asking Boy to Return Home

ROCHESTER — Schoolmates of Jim May, 14-year-old Rochester High School student who left home early Monday, believe he would return if he knew of his mother's worry.

"All the kids at Rochester want him to come back," says Carol Hoffman, a tenth grade student as is Jim.

His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth May, was termed ill with worry yesterday after days of trying to contact the boy.

He ran away early Monday morning before school, she told Rochester police Monday. Since then police in three states have been notified, but no word of the boy has been received, except that he hitchhiked a ride to Royal Oak.

The boy's father died two years ago, and he has a younger brother, Tim, 10.

Home, School Building Booms

State Finance Approvals Lag; 23 Bond Issue OKs Sought This Week

LANSING (AP)—A boom in building projects is causing a backlog of bond issue approvals to pile up, the State Municipal Finance Commission reported today.

The Commission, which passes on proposed bond issues by school districts and other local units of government, said it is now running about a month behind.

Edward W. Mikrut, consultant to the commission, said that 23 requests for bond issue approvals were received this week compared to six to 10 in the usual week.

"It's just that everyone wants to build," Mikrut explained. "School building is booming especially as the school districts try to catch up with space requirements because of the multiplying pupil enrollment.

"New home building in cities, particularly on the fringe areas of larger cities, is causing local units of government to issue bonds for such things as sewer construction and other needed improvements.

"We're undermanned here and just fighting hard to catch up."

News Roundup Puts Politics in Top Spot as Ike, Adlai Hustle for Votes

This Week In Review
By JAMES LEE

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower's cross - country campaigning and the stepped-up efforts of his Democratic rival, Adlai Stevenson, dominated the headlines this week.

Th chief executive covered the Midwest, the Pacific Northwest, and Southrn California in his most extensive quest for votes so far in his second-term bid.

A Los Angeles speech was added to an itinerary that included Minneapolis - St. Paul, Seattle, Portland, and Denver.

In Minneapolis, the President said prospects for farm prosperity are bright. He declared: "Clearly, we are over the hump."

In Seattle, Ike had words of scorn for his opponents, whom he accused of resorting to the "half-truth" and the "big straddle."

CITES PROSPERITY

The President said America is more prosperous and secure than at any time in its history.

Oe added: "And yet, in these da of political frenzy this is not what we hear. We hear, instead, the angry hum of a locust-swarm of partisan orators. They are singing a strange, sad song—about a feeble and fretful America."

In Portland, Eisenhower continued his assault on the Democrats. He then flew on to Los Angeles.

Republicans pointed to the huge, cheering crowds that greeted the President at every stop he made. This, the GOP strategists said, offered spectacular proof of the Eisenhower popularity.

ADLAI BLASTS H-BOMB

Stevenson opened his week's driv for votes with an announcement that if elected president he would promptly launch negotiations with Russia and Britain to end H-bomb tests.

The Democratic nominee, speaking over a nationwide TV and radio hookup, demanded: "What are we waiting for? It seems to me imperative that a world policy of stopping these tests be established at the very first possible moment."

Stevenson challenged the warnings sounded by Ike and other administration officials that to halt H-bomb tests would endanger America's lead in the atomic weapons field.

In the course of his week's activity, Stevenson made his most bitter attack of the campaign, with Vice President Richard M. Nixon as his target.

He called Nixon "a man of many masks . . . whose trademark is slander."

Stevenson said world peace is too "delicate and uneasy" to permit Nixon to occupy the vice presidency.

YUGOSLAVIA ISSUES

During the week, the President announced that the U.S. will continue to give economic aid to Yugoslavia but that shipments of heavy military euipment, including jet aircraft, will be held up for the rime being.

Eisenhower, in a formal message to the vice president and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), replied to questions Congress asked him last July in connection with aid to Yugoslavia.

* * *

He said there has been no change in Yugoslavian policy since Marshal Tito broke with the late Joseph Stalin in 1948 and became independent of Russia.

Moreover, the President said, Yugoslavia is 'not participating" in any Communist "conquest of the world" policy and that it is in the interest of American security to continue the assistance.

The questions were raised by Congress when it became evident that Tito was enjoying a new and apparently close relationship with the present Russian fulers.

SUEZ HASSLE

The Suez Canal problem continued to hold the close attention of diplomats. Britain and France reiterated their support of the 18-nation plan for international control of the canal, which Egypt expropriated last July.

* * *

An Anglo - French communique suggested, however, that the two governments would consider any other proposal Egypt might make for a solution which would provide assurance of uninterrupted use of the waterway.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told a news conference that if war should break out between Israel and Jordan, the U.S. will aid any "victim of aggression." He stressed that this aid would be kept "within constitutional means.'

But Dulles noted that "aggression is not always easy to define." He said that the U.S. is endeavoring to determine now whether the recently-reported shipments of arms from Syria to Jordan are "helpful" or "dangerous."

DULLES HOPEFUL

On the Suez situation, Dulles said he felt encouraged about prospects of achieving a "just and peaceful" solution as a result of progress made by ghe United Nations Security Council. The secretary conceded, however, that "many difficulties" remain.

The U.S. Navy, which successfully pioneered the first atomic submarine two years ago, announced that it has ordered construction of a nuclear - powered guided missile cruiser.

* * *

The 700-foot vessel, displacing 14,000 tons, will cost $87,500,000. The Bethlehem Steel Co. plant at Quincy, Mass., will build the ship and the nuclear power plant will be supplied by Westinghouse Electric.

A mid-ocean rescue thrilled the nation this week when a crippled Pan American Airways stratocruiser bound from Honolulu to San Francisco landed in the sea beside the Coast Guard cutter Pontchartrain. All 31 persons aboard the airiner were saved without serious injury.

Still Tough to Pinpoint Campaign Issues as Ike, Adlai Grasp for Something Solid

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson have had time enough—with the election only 18 days away—to show what they think the campaign issues are.

* * *

Eisenhower has concentrated on domestic affairs, not the foreign field, although he devoted all of his Sept. 19 opening speech to foreign problems.

Stevenson has divided himself more evenly between affairs at home and abroad. Yet, judging from the way he picks up an issue, drops it, and comes back to it, he looks like a man having trouble deciding what to play up most.

With one exception Eisenhower has brought the word "peace" into every speech he has made as a reminder that the Korean War, which he inherited, has ended and that country has peace.

He also sometimes mentions Korea directly and most of the time, in one way or another, combines "peace" with "prosperity and progress."

In short, he is saying: "Folks, everything is going well. Everything is under control. Things will get better too. Since you never had it so good, why rock the boat?"

* * *

Stevenson's central theme is just the opposite: "Things are not as good as the Republicans make them appear. All kinds of things need doing, but the Republicans won't do them. They're not interested in everybody, only rich people."

Stevenson has painted the Republicans as a do-nothing party for anyone but the wealthy. And he has tried to link Eisenhower tightly in the public mind with the Republican party.

The strategy in this is clear enough: a lot of people who didn't like the Republican party might still vote for Eisenhower pe rsonally. But they might not if they began to think of Eisenhower and the GOP as the same.

The proof of what Eisenhower and Stevenson think the campaign issues are is shown by what they talk of in their speeches.

* * *

But if you just listened to them say what they thought the issues were you might think they were a couple of confused candidates rummaging in a bagful of ideas, looking for something to say.

* * *

Although peace is his central theme, Eisenhower has said: "There is one thing that is not an issue in this campaign: the longing of all Americans for peace, prosperity and progress."

Another time he said he thinks the real issue is: "How do we manage America's internal affairs?" At another time he said: "What then is the real issue? It is this: What principles . . . policies and programs can best help our people . . .?"

Stevenson, when talking of issues, has said the vice presidency is one of the "most basic" issues. Another time he said he considers the "question of war and peace . . . the overriding issue in any presidential campaign." Still another time he said "peace is not an issue in this election, but how best to deter aggression."

He said, "The central issue in this campaign may well be which party means what it says." And he said: "So far as the Democratic party is concerned this is the major issue . . . We are dedicated to our vision of the new America."

* * *

ROLL OUT THE RUG

J. L. VOORHEES

We have visitors. Do we make them welcome? Do we make them friends? San Francisco has an angle—make visitors, friends.

Our city may not have cable cars but we do have friends who greet us cheerily from across the street, as they pass, at church and in the homes of mutual friends. We have elements of neighborliness that go deep in the soil of living; it would be impossible to display it as we could the Bay Bridge or Fishermen's Wharf. It is part of us. It is so tender that to display it would be breeching one of the precious things of our lives, and yet it is there. We feel it, sense it, cling to it and value it above all else. We have merchants who know our likes and cater to them, make us feel mighty welcome when we enter their stores. Our Main Street is like the Who's Who of the finer things of life and San Francisco can't duplicate it. When we Roll Out the Rug it leads to spiritual values, of which we are very proud.

New National Shrine to Honor Immigrants

Plans are in the making to create a new national shrine at the base of the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor. It will constitute a tribute to the part immigration has played in the development of the United States.

★ ★ ★

A campaign to raise five million dollars for this purpose will start on Oct. 28, seventieth anniversary of the unveiling of the statue. The American Museum of Immigration will be built at the foot of the statue where films will be shown and other programs held. There records will be kept of the many immigrants who have made outstanding contributions to American life.

★ ★ ★

A part of the money raised will provide an endowment fund which will carry the Museum's educational and patriotic program to the schools and public through traveling exhibits, films and other means. Prominent labor and industrial leaders are heading the campaign.

★ ★ ★

Immigrants to our land have made profound contributions to its progress. It is fitting that this attention should be called to them. No finer use could be made of the area within old Fort Wood, from the middle of which the statue rises.

When the statue was erected, there was insufficient funds to develop the area properly, so it was filled with rubble and covered with stone flagging. The new museum will complete and embellish the Liberty National Monument and will be maintained by the National Park Service.

★ ★ ★

Here is a voluntary patriotic project which stirs the imagination. Millions of Americans, both old and young, will be happy to participate in it.

The New Atomic Clock

Scientists are entitled to take a bow for their feat of successfully harnessing the atom to the task of accurately measuring time.

The new clock they have devised aptly has been named the Atomichron. It has no mainspring or stem and in no sense is an ordinary timepiece. The Atomichron is described as ticking away at the astonishing rate of over nine billion megacycles a second and as being more accurate than time itself.

So accurate is it that it won't vary as much as a second in 3,000 years. Its use probably will be greatest in areas far removed from the ordinary task of determining the time of day and where maximum possible accuracy is necessary.

It gives promise of being valuable in long distance air and sea navigation as a determinant of distance and position and in scientific research dealing with the measurement of velocity.

Liberal Tariff Policy Urged on Congress

In a carefully worded report, obviously the result of deep study, the Committee for Economic Development (CED) urges on Congress adoption of a policy of progressive tariff liberalization.

CED is a private, non-political organization of 150 leaders in business and education. It was formed to study and report on the problems of achieving and maintaining a high level of employment and production within a free economy.

Its chairman, J. D. Zellerbach, is president of Crown Zellerbach Corporation of San Francisco. He emphasized the fact that CED does not favor unlimited free trade but believes it is in our national interest to follow a policy of gradual and selective tariff liberalization.

Moreover, says Mr. Zellerbach, "the Committee believes that the expanding American economy will be better able to maintain its dynamic forward movement in a climate of trade liberalization than in a climate of trade restrictions." He added that in the meantime "our expanding economy will tend to absorb those adverse effects of trade liberalization which may be felt in particular segments of our industry."

★ ★ ★

Next Mr. Zellerbach makes an important and we think sensible reservation. The rule, governing tariff liberalization, he says, "should be to avoid making labor and facilities idle on a substantial scale in situations where they cannot be re-employed within a reasonable time."

Here, surely, is some distinguished and authoritative support for President Eisenhower's ideas on Reciprocal Trade.

The report now is in the hands of the House Ways & Means subcommittee on Customs, Tariffs and Reciprocal Trade Agreements. We commend it to the careful study of members of that committee.

The People's Business:

Stresses Roads

Cobo Concentrates Upon the Highway Issue

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—The issue of highways appeared to give Detroit Mayor Cobo the most political mileage on his eight-county swing through northeastern Michigan.

At least, every audience the Republican nominee for governor spoke to listened attentively to the candidate's pitch on this subject.

As one local editor in a tourist area said later, "Our highways are our lifeline up here."

That the crowds were interested was clear. But it was hard to tell whether they accepted Cobo's argument that Democratic Gov. Williams is responsible for existing bad deficiencies.

★ ★ ★

Williams also has had a good deal to say about roads, not only this year but during the 1954 campaign. Williams blames Charles M. Ziegler, the Republican state highway commissioner.

NEVER MENTIONED

In his entire tour this week, Cobo never mentioned Ziegler's name.

The partisan Republican crowds liked it when Cobo pictured Williams in his activities at the Democratic National Convention as a puppet at the end of strings held by Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers Union head.

Cobo would refer to the television shot of Williams casting Michigan's heavy vote for Adlai E. Stevenson, and say that the governor really wanted to go for Averell W. Harriman but Reuther wouldn't let him.

"Did you see that? Wasn't that really something? Cobo would ask rhetorically. A titter would run through the crowd.

★ ★ ★

In Alpena and again at Rogers City, Cobo seemed to strike a responsive note when he declared that the state was "committed" to pay out at 100 per cent on the $190 a pupil formula for state aid to schools.

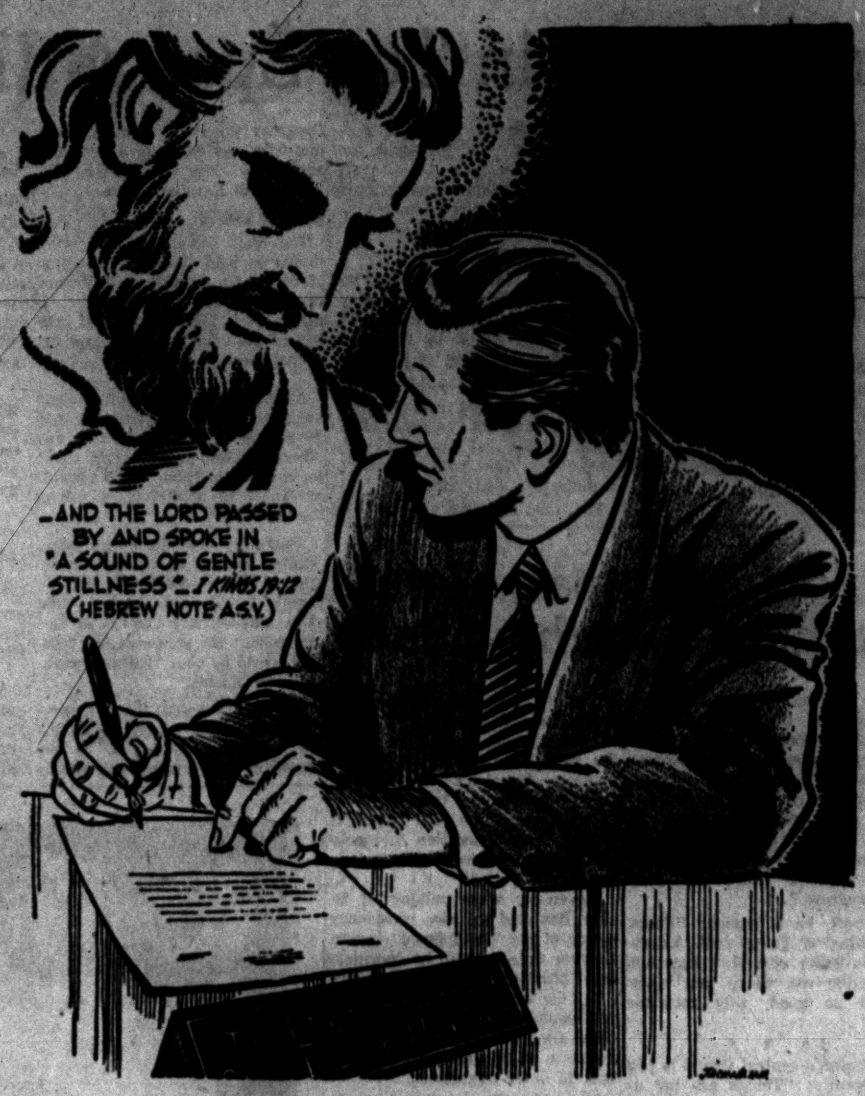

NAME OMITTED

For some reason, the Republican nominee consistently omitted to mention the name of President Eisenhower—a word that invariably injects enthusiasm into a Republican gathering.

★ ★ ★

At Alpena and again at Rogers City cutting of Eisenhower birthday cakes were part of the rally programs, with Cobo accorded knife wielding honors.

Cobo said the party was "indeed fortunate" to have its ticket headed by a leader who enjoyed the confidence of his own countrymen and of peoples across the water. But he would stop short of uttering the name.

Days of All Faiths

Tomorrow Is Laymen's Sunday

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Since 1942 the third Sunday in October has been Laymen's Sunday in the Protestant churches. Back in 1942 only 30 congregations took part in the new observance; now the number is impossible to count. The estimate is that the emphasis on laymen will be the feature of more than 100,000 services Sunday.

The day is sponsored jointly by United Churchmen, which is the laymen's organization within the National Council of Churches, and the Laymen's Movement for a Christian World, an independent interdenominational group.

The purpose now, as it was in 1942, is to awaken Christian men to deeper spiritual lives. One way to do this, the sponsors believe, is to draw men into active participation in the worship services of their churches, and that is what will happen. Thousands of men Sunday will leave their customary role as spectators and listeners and will take over the entire service, sermon and all, with the clergyman sitting on the sidelines.

Publicity for Laymen's Sunday says that the occasion is both a recognition and a statement of the fact that "for Christians there is no double standard between clergy and laymen. All share the same obligation to spread the Good News by what we say and do, and especially by what we are."

This year's theme, drawn from St. John's Gospel, Chapter 8, verse 32, is "the truth will make you free." The meaning here, say the sponsors, is that real freedom comes from knowledge of the Christian way of life. This is learned through each man's own efforts to apply Christian moral principles in all his relationships, to bring a divine orderliness into every area of his life.

TWIN SHOEMAKERS

Thursday, Oct. 25 in medieval times was the biggest day of the year for the shoemakers' union, or guild, as labor organization were then called. The reason for the celebration was that it was St. Crispin's and St. Crispinian's Day, dedicated to the twin patrons of shoemakers.

These twin saints, Romans by birth, went as missionaries to the town of Soissons, in France, where they supported themselves by making and repairing shoes, following the example of the great St. Paul, who, rather than live on the charity of his people, earned his own living as a tentmaker. Crispin and Crispinian were very early saints—the record is not clear as to whether they lived in the third or the fourth century.

A popular superstition involving shoes was practiced by medieval girls on St. Crispin's eve. It was believed that if a maiden going to bed that night would place her shoes with the heel of one against the middle of the other, she would have good dreams and, more important, good luck in love. This arrangement of the shoes forms a T, or "tau cross," which even in pre-Christian times was considered a most potent symbol. The custom was probably followed long before this time of Crispin and Crispinian but later became connected with them because of their association with shoes.

The twins were finally executed by order of the Emperor for the crime of being Christians, but according to legend their executioner had no easy time of it. He tried to drown them and then to boil them, but they weathered both ordeals without harm and in fine good humor. A fire was being prepared for them, but by this time the executioner was in such a fury of frustration that he jumped into it himself. The Emperor put a stop to the fiasco by having Crispin and Crispinian beheaded.

In all the New Testament there is only one reference to the wife of Pontius Pilate (Matthew, Chapter 27, verse 19) and that brief passage does not reveal her name. Tradition, however, calls her Claudia and has a good deal to say about her.

The story is that while she was with her husband in Judea, she showed considerable interest in the Jewish religion and then, when Jesus appeared and began to preach, she was so captivated by His life and teaching that she risked everything by becoming a secret follower of His.

Although Claudia is not a saint in the Western calendar, there are parts of the Eastern church in which she has been canonized and is honored Oct. 27.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Calcium, D Relieve Backaches

Both my husband and I have obtained great relief from backache by correcting our calcium and D deficiency as you suggest in the rheumatiz pamphlet . . . (Mrs. R. H.)

Answer—Thank you. Low back pain is a familiar manifestation most Americans suffer after fifty, if they live, as a consequence of lifelong namby-pamby diet. Send stamped self-addressed envelope and ask in writing for the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatis. If you alter the title of the pamphlet, there will probably be no reply.

Suffered a coronary occlusion last March, and the first thing I did before calling the doctor was several good deep breaths of fresh air. Later on I found you advocating just such . . . (B. L. A.)

Answer — Not deep breathing. Belly breathing. Or, if Anglo-Saxon is not proper, call it natural or bellows breathing. In volumette 2 of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, C V D, about heart and artery troubles I explain why bellows breathing improves circulation. In volumette 21, How to Breathe,—well, for either volumette send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope. I know of no other emergency remedy which is quite so effective for immediate relief of a "heart attack," angina, palpitation, tachycardia (spell of racing or very rapid heartbeat) or other cardiac distress. But please understand, this applies to natural belly breathing only.

Several druggists here said they did not have any pure grain alcohol and they doubted if doctors would give me any. How do people get the pure grain alcohol for your ear drops? (W. F. J.)

* * *

Answer—The recipe calls for ten grains of boric acid dissolved in a flundounce of "pure grain alcohol." Ordinary diluted alcohol, that is, the standard alcohol used for making tinctures and other medicines. I specify pure grain alcohol in order to make it clear that "rubbing alcohol", denatured alcohol, etc., will not do. It does not mean absolute alcohol. I assume that in most instances, druggists provide the alcohol, but if your druggist demands a prescription, he is rigidly complying with the law. Absolute alcohol (dehydrated alcohol) used by chemists is about 99 per cent strength. Dilute alcohol is about 40 per cent strength. For instructions for preparing drops for chronic running ear and for fungus infection send stamped, self-addressed envelope

All over body, but at present on arms . . . doctors say eczema and allergic to something, can't tell what. I call it weeping eczema. . . (Mrs. M. S.)

Answer — Send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for two pamphlets—Eczema and Relief for Allergy, or if you want only one send just the stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Subject to hay fever and asthma for many years. Had violent reactions from some shots and nearly died . . . finally found a druggist right here at home who had the remedy (kalion) you suggest in your pamphlet on Allergy. It has done me worlds of good. Wasn't down with asthma at all this year, and the pollen count has been very high . . . (T. H. M.)

Answer—Thank you. The druggist right there at home probably expects to remain in business a long time. The druggists in the big city who "never heard of it" probably want to make a pile in a hurry. For the pamphlet relief For Allergy send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Offers Psychoanalysis of Judas

Here's a brief psychoanalysis of Judas Iscariot which should serve as interesting discussion material for church group tomorrow. Judas probably loved Christ as much as Peter and John did, but he was a patriot who wished to launch a coup d'etat quickly and thus place Christ on Caesar's throne.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-396: Judas Iscariot is a shameful name in religious history.

But Judas himself was probably an intelligent patriot who expected to see Jesus upset the Roman conquerors and take over the throne for himself.

Please remember that Peter and James and John and the other Apostles held that very same view, for they all regarded Christ as a temporal monarch who would overshadow their former King David.

Judas also admired Jesus and had supreme confidence in him. For he had seen Christ raise the dead, restore sight to the blind and perform many other miracles.

Judas thus realized that Christ was all-powerful. So on that fateful Palm Sunday when the multitudes flocked into Jerusalem and laid palm branches in Christ's pathway, Judas probably figured the time was ripe for Christ to take over temporal reins of government.

But Judas also realized Jesus was compassionate and so interested in the welfare of individuals in the crowd that Christ wasn't pushing the royal coup d'etat fast enough. By Thursday nothing had yet happened.

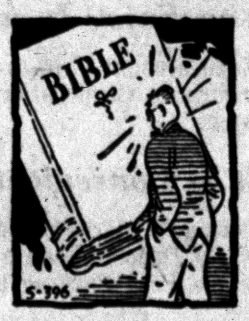

"If I can precipitate a crisis," Judas probably thought, "and thus get Jesus into direct conflict with the Sanhedrin, as well as with Rome, then Christ will be forced to declare himself."

* * *

Judas thus betrayed Jesus perhaps as a means of speeding up the coup d'etat.

But when Christ offered no resistance and meekly let himself be led as a sheep to the slaughter, Judas was dumbfounded.

Until Christ was finally nailed to the cross, Judas probably still expected that legions of heavenly soldiers would come down to join the Jewish patriots who were waiting to launch a revolution against Rome.

Too late, Judas found out that he had completely misjudged Christ's mission here on this planet Earth. Judas was then so overcome with remorse that he cast down the 30 pieces of silver on the temple floor and went out and hanged himself.

This did not happen, however, until Judas saw that Jesus was finally condemned (Matthew 27:3) and still offered no resistance.

* * *

Furthermore, none of the other Apostles is reported to have upbraided Judas in any way, showing they probably held much the same viewpoint as he did.

This may seem like a radically different view of Judas Iscariot, but it will be good for your soul to stretch your imagination and try to analyze the current political conditions surrounding Christ.

It is very easy for us to upbraid Judas. We even think all the 12 Apostles were very slow in grasping Christ's purpose here on Earth.

But we have the advantage of hindsight. We are doing Monday morning quarterbacking in the field of religion.

No other case in ancient religious history ever show God making a sacrifice to win the favor of us human beings!

Instead, the ancient religions always depicted mankind as making various sacrifices to appease a cruel or austere god.

* * *

Thus, human children were throw into a fiery furnace to mollify Baal. And the Hindu even tossed babies into the Ganges till the start of this 20th Century to win favor with their gods.

So there was no precedent for Jesus or this unique divine sacrifice to win mankind.

No wonder the 12 Apostles misjudged Christ! Judas didn't remotely appreciate Christ's unique mission till it was too late.

Then, in apparent anguish of soul, he killed himself by hanging. But don't accuse Judas too strongly for the others held the very same viewpoint about Christ as a temporal ruler to unseat Caesar and become a world monarch.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Press Article on Archery Assailed by Two Hunters

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

In regards to an article on October 10 written by Jack Patterson, I believe that the allusions to Lady Robin Hoods and Masquaradors were definitely in bad taste.

This mighty Hunter who seems to think that the woods are his private property should prepare himself and show us bumbling archers just how this is done. I believe that meat as the end of an archer's hunting trip is secondary and the enjoyment of the lovely autumn season first. I have hunted deer for the past five years. Sans meat and I have enjoyed every minute of it.

In closing, I would like to challenge this Daniel Boom once more to show us how it is done, O Mighty Hunter.

'Ike's a Success, Let Him Go On'

My son, a senior in college, was home last week. He said the biggest single campaign issue among the undergraduates is peace. That's understandable. Who wants to fight a foreign war on foreign soil for the foreigners? They always start these things.

Eisenhower is the champion of peace. Also, he's the champion soldier if the Russians want to start an H-bomb dropping contest.

What's more important in the world today? Nothing. We all have jobs. That ranks second.

Why fool with success on the two most important things there are?

'GOP Isn't Really Party of the Rich'

Why do they refer to the Republicans as the "rich" party? Stevenson could buy and sell most people. He doesn't have to work. Phil Hart's wife got a fifth of $5,500,000 for her share of the Tigers, to say nothing of all the other millions her father left.

Averell Harriman, prominent Democratic candidate for President, has more money than all the other presidential candidates in both parties combined. Let's get it straight who some of the rich candidates really are.

One Who Isn't

'Illinois Scandals Not Adlai's Doing'

They are trying to smear Stevenson in Illinois with those half dozen scandals during his Governorship. Well, he didn't bring them about. He just helped clean them up. Tell Dewey to try and be fair.

Suggests Writer Educate Himself

In regards to the letter published in this column from Mr. John Q. Public, it appears from said letter that Mr. John Q. Public is not a well informed Public. I suggest that he educate himself to that fact.

The people living in the North End of the City are not against progress or expansion. They are against the location of the proposed switch yard. If you had been interested in knowing the facts, you would realize (as every public minded citizen does) that this proposed switch yard is pernicious to the community. There are schools and churches located less than two blocks away.

It is plain to see that your home, family and pocketbook are not effected by the proposed switch yard.

Most Exciting Book in World -- The Bible -- Is Top Seller

Confident Living

Drama, Love and Wisdom Found in Inspired Text

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Not too long ago the New Yorker, that most interesting and charming magazine which tries so hard to be sophisticated, sent to its advertisers a promotion brochure boasting of the vast coverage it had given to one subject during the past year or two, and pointing out the tremendous reader response.

That subject was a book — and that book is the Bible. Apparently the editors were impressed that God is so popular in this country that His book is still far and away the best of all best sellers.

DR. PEALE

The New Yorker and other magazines are to be praised for emphasizing the Bible, for of course the Bible is more than just another book. Dr. George A. Buttrick, the distinguished Presbyterian minister says: "There is only one Book. That Book is the noun; other books are but poor adjectives."

And the fact that the Bible is still big news in the New Yorker, as well as in our religious magazines and newspapers, emphasizes the fact that, for hundreds of years, it has been and still remains the most exciting book in the world.

More people buy it than any other; more people read it than any other. The best sellers whose titles come and go on the best seller lists are relatively short-lived, and no matter how many millions of copies may be sold in any one year, the total number of Bible sales is always far greater.

Why is this so? The answer is simple. The Bible is a book that literally has everything. As Dr. Francis Carr Stifler of the American Bible Society points out, it contains "codes of law, biographical sketches, building specifications, dramas, history, lusty war songs, tender love lyrics, sermons, proverbs and letters."

PRACTICAL GUIDE, TOO

Not only is it a source of inspiration and faith to millions all over the world, but it is even a practical guide to the development of natural resources.

In Israel today, engineers and scientists have used passages from it to rediscover King Solomon's famous mines and oil wells that may have been responsible for the smoke that covered Gomorrah.

Week after week, I write in these columns about the practical application of passages from the Bible to help you solve the problems all of us face in our daily lives. Yet I am sure that some people who read these suggestions have no Bibles.

If you are one of these, why not make this week the week you will get a Bible of your own. And read a chapter a day.

FOR ANY FAITH

For Protestants, the beloved King James version and the New Revised Standard version are available in a wide variety of editions at all book stores. "The Heirloom Bible," a magnificent new family Bible illustrated beautifully in full color, is the latest edition of the King James version.

For Catholics, there are the familiar Douay translation, the new Confraternity version and the equally new Ronald Knox rendering.

And for Jews, the Jewish Publication Society offers an acceptable edition.

• • •

Bring a Bible into your home this week. And don't let a day pass without looking into the most exciting book in the world.

Church Colleges Feeling Pinch

Mounting Enrollments Putting Schools Deeper Into Debt

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The more tuition fees a church college takes in these days, the harder up it gets.

• • •

Sound stange?

Well, it's the economic fact of life on church-run campuses as described at the United Lutheran Church Convention.

Dr. Gould Wickey of Washington, executive secretary of the chruch's Board of Higher Education, reported the denomination's 10 seminaries and 14 colleges are being packed with mounting enrollments.

DEEPER AND DEEPER

But as more students hand over tuition fees, he said, the tighter colleges' financial straits become.

Why? Because even with average tuition fees upped from $399 in 1951 to $498 in 1956, the fees still amount to just 60 per cent of the college costs for each student. For the rest, the college foots the bill.

The financial paradox brought on by an otherwise happy increase in student bodies, Wickey said, "is giving the college administrators increased concern."

• • •

Enrollments shot up 9.3 per cent in 1955, and another 7.8 per cent in the colleges in 1956, with 40 per cent of the students being Lutherans. Catholics are the second largest group in the Lutheran colleges.

Evangelist to Speak

The Rev. V. L. Siggers, a blind evangelist, will be guest speaker at 8 p.m. Sunday in the St. James Missionary Baptist Church, 345 Bagley St. The Rev. V. Luther Lewis extends a welcome to the public.

Practical Religion to Be Topic of Talk

The need for practical religion will be the topic of a free public lecture by Sylvia N. Poling at 4 p.m. Sunday in the First Church of Christ Scientist, Williams and Lawrence streets.

A member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Miss Poling will speak on "Christian Science: The Way to Holiness and Health."

Active in public education several years, Miss Poling holds degrees from Arizona State College and has studied at the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Southern California.

Becoming interested in Christian Science as a college student, she resigned from the teaching profession in 1950 to devote full time to the public practice of Christian Science healing.

The northwest regions of Australia produce the warmest weather, while the coolest temperatures are to be found in the extreme southeast section.

William Hertle will be the speaker at 10 a.m. using for his theme, "Mustard Seed Faith."

REFUGEE FAMILY ARRIVES — The Rev. Ralph C. Claus, pastor of St. Trinity Ltuheran Church, welcomed the Hradetzky refugee family from Western Germany to the fellowship of his church and to Pontiac. Shown are (left to right) Dieter who is 22 years of age; Ulrich, 19; Mrs. Erna Hradetzky; Peter, 14, and Pastor Claus. Mr. Hradetzky has been missing since 1944. The family was sponsored by the Women's Society of St. Trinity.

St. Trinity Sponsors Refugee Family

St. Trinity Lutheran Church was happy Friday morning to welcome a refugee family from Western Germany, Mrs. Erna Hradetzky and her three sons Dieter, Ulrich and Peter. The St. Trinity Women's Guild sponsored their immigration through the Lutheran Refugee Service.

Mrs. Hradetzky and her sons were met and greeted at Detroit Friday by Pastor Ralph C. Claus and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Schwab, chairman of the congregation.

Upon arriving in Pontiac they were welcomed by Mrs. E. Klemm, president of the Women's Guild, and a group of ladies at a breakfast at the home of Mrs. Fritz Kasat, 302 Raeburn Ave.

Mrs. Hradetzky was born in Poland of German parents and upon marriage they made their home in Silesia (which is now a part of Poland). Her two oldest sons, Dieter and Ulrich, were born in Silesia.

In 1940 they moved to Prague, Czechoslovakia, where her husband was to work. Upon the Russian occupation of March, 1944, they fled to the British Zone of West Germany.

They spent five years in the British Zone, Mrs. Hradetzky supporting her family by knitting and sewing. She was assisted by her oldest son Dieter, who after school worked for a farmer during the summer and in a bakery shop during the winter.

In 1952 they were moved to the American Zone of Germany as a result of a united effort to equalize the number of refugees in the German Zones.

In the American Zone of Germany Dieter served his apprenticeship of four years as a typesetter and linotype operator, while his brother Ulrich served as an apprentice window-dresser.

Mrs. Hradetzky was given a job in the Registration office for the refugees fleeing East Germany. While in the American Zone of Germany they applied for immigration to the United States through the Lutheran World Federation.

When the St. Trinity Lutheran Ladies' Guild decided to sponsor a refugee family, giving them the opportunity to come to the United States to establish a Christian home in liberty and freedom, they selected this family from the Lutheran Refugee Service.

The Hradetzky family sorrowfully leaves behind Mr. Hradetzky who has been missing since March, 1944; and an older daughter who is happily married and living in Western Germany.

The sentiments of this family were expressed by the 19-year-old son who said, "Now we just want to learn to be good Americans."

Congregationalist Leader Urges Church Unity

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Albert Buckner Coe of Boston told the midwest regional meeting of the Congregational Christian Churches, "There are too many denominations for our own good."

Dr. Coe, president of the church's Massachusetts conference, reported there is an "encouraging" movement toward church union now. He said the "first of several steps" will be taken in Cleveland, Ohio, next June toward union of Congregational Christian Churches with the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Congregation to Hear Returned Missionary

The Rev. Daniel R. Bursch, home on furlough from the mission field in Africa, will be guest speaker at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Pilgrim Holiness Church.

He supervised the educational activities in each of these places. Prior to going to the mission field, Mr. Bursch was principal of the high school department of the Colorado Springs Bible College.

The Rev. E. C. Swanson, pastor, extends an invitation to the public to hear the Rev. Mr. Bursch.

U. S. Pastors Off on Brazil Tour

12 Methodist Pastors Spend Month Studying Mission Churches

Twelve Methodist ministers from throughout the United States left Miami, Fla., Thursday for a month-long evangelistic mission to the Methodist Church of Brazil, and a tour of Methodist missions in Latin America.

The mission, sponsored jointly by the Methodist Boards of Missions (New York) and Evangelism (Nashville, Tenn.), will include three weeks of evangelistic teamwork with Brazilian ministers and Methodist missionaries to Brazil.

The visitors will preach in Brazilian churches and meet with laymen, ministers and missionaries to discuss evangelistic techniques, including personal and visitation evangelism.

The director of the mission while it is in Brazil will be the Rev. Duncan A. Reily, a Methodist missionary from Victoria, Texas, who is secretary of evangelism for the Methodist Church of Brazil.

LIST SCHEDULE

The schedule for each day of the mission includes: Mornings—inspirational meetings with missionaries and Brazilian pastors on Christian doctrines, the Bible faith and other topics; afternoons—training of Brazilian pastors and laymen in personal and visitation evangelism and actual visitation of prospective church members; nights—evangelistic preaching services.

The Brazilian church will provide interpreters for the visiting missioners.

The group will tour Brazil's capital, Rio de Janeiro, Nov. 19 and leave for home the following day.

In most cases, the churches or districts which the missioners serve in the United States will underwrite the cost of the journey. The mission and evangelism boards will not provide funds for the travel.

Outlines Value of Conferences

Congregational Leader Cites State Meetings as 'Vital to Church'

BATTLE CREEK—The state conference is the central and vital missionary agency of the Congregational Christian Churches, a leading Michigan churchman said this week.

The Rev. Dr. Harold N. Skidmore, East Lansing, superintendent and registrar of the Michigan Conference of the Congregational Christian Churches, delivered the opening address to 500 delegates assembled at First Congregational Church here for the Midwest Regional Meeting of the Congregational Christian Churches.

The delegates, almost equally divided between ministers and lay people and representing 19 middle western states, this year are considering for the annual three-day session the relationship of their state unit—the conference—to the local churches and also to the concerns of the denomination at large.

"And it is underlined that no conference shall in any way interfere with the autonomy of the local church," he said.

As contrasted with the organization of most other church bodies, the relationship of the Congregational Christian Conference to national denominational boards and agencies is cooperative rather than hierarchical, the speaker explained.

"The main function of the state conference," Dr. Skidmore said, "is its responsibility for the basic missionary tasks within its own borders and its fundamental responsibility to the churches within the state as a service agency for the full accomplishment of those common tasks for the Kingdom of God which no one church can accomplish alone."

DEDICATED ADDITION — The new annex of the First Open Bible Church was dedicated Friday night with the Rev. Elmer Kritsinger coming from Des Moines, Iowa to be the dedication speaker. The men and boys of the church did all the building themselves after work and school hours. The women took turns preparing hot suppers at the church for the workers every night.

First Open Bible Church Dedicates New Annex

The First Open Bible Church dedicated the new church annex at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The Rev. Elmer Kritsinger of Des Moines, Iowa, was the principal speaker. In charge of the dedication service was the Rev. L. E. Welshone, divisional superintendent of the Eastern Division.

Ground was broken June 15 of this year for the new addition which was built by men and boys of the congregation after working and school hours.

The addition is 40x50 feet and will seat 200. The former chapel will be used as a Sunday School unit and youth chapel.

Like the present church it is of baslite block painted white. The interior walls are blue with limed oak pews and rostrum. The floor is natural oak.

The estimated cost of the addition was $40,000. By doing the work themselves, the men and boys kept the total cost down to $13,000. This includes heating and everything.

The Rev. Virgil Peter with his congregation, purchased the land for the church in 1946. The present building was completed in 1953 under the direction of the Rev. L. Fred Peter and then was known as the Calvary Assembly Church.

On Dec. 3, 1954, the congregation affiliated with the Open Bible Standard Church with headquarters at Des Moines and the name was changed to First Open Bible Church.

The Rev. T. H. Staton came here with his family from Jamaica one year ago to become pastor of the church. He had been serving as missionary in Jamaica.

Starting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, a revival will be held with guest evangelists.

Southern Baptists Organize 5 Groups

Southern Baptist in Michigan met to organize five new associations this week at Bethany Church in Lansing.

Featured speakers were Fred Hubbs, superintendent of missions in Motor Cities Assn.; A. B. Cash, director of pioneer missions, SBC Home Board; L. G. Hall, pastor, Cass Park Church, Detroit, and Dr. W. W. Phelps, faculty member of Belmont College, Nashville, Tenn.

Fifty Southern Baptist churches, with membership of more than 10,000, have been organized in the state in recent years, Hubbs said.

The group expects to form a state convention soon.

Take Safety Measure

DENVER (INS)—The American Automobile Association has a timely hint for motorists now that cold weather is coming along.

When pulling into a service station to have a battery recharged, don't smoke.

During the charging operation batteries emit explosive hydrogen gas. A spark from a cigarette, cigar or pipe could cause a dangerous explosion.

The committee, being nonsectarian, won't take one cent from a religious organization.

"We don't advocate any specific Bible - reading program," Mrs. Deforeest says. "We want everyone to read the Bible according to their own creed—be it protestant, Catholic or Jewish."

During Bible week an editorial award of a bronze plaque is made for the best editorial on Bible week observance. "Little Talks With Big Thoughts" are sent out throughout the year to industrial magazines and favorite prayers of well-known people are given newspapers in the United States and Canada.

Father's in the Dough

FORT KNOX, Ky. (AP) — While the father of the bride is supposed to play a minor role at weddings, it wasn't so at the wedding of Miss Bobby Jean Short and John Rigbee.

Guests wondered if the daughter could cook as well as the father. He baked the huge three-tier wedding cake.

Sgt. Short is a cook in a Fort Knox mess hall.

But don't Protestants believe that every sin must be paid for?" Jim asked his friend, a well known Bible-believing Protestant layman.

"Why, yes," Ted replied, "Protestants have always believed that all sin must be paid for."

"But you don't believe that church attendance, donations to the church, going to mass, and repeating prayers help to pay for sins, do you?"

"No, Jim, the Bible makes it clear that none of our actions, however good they may be, can help to pay for our sins. From the beginning of time there has been only one sacrifice for sin. The Bible says: 'Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many.'" (Hebrews 9: 28)

"Do you mean that there is nothing we can do to help pay for our sins?" Jim continued.

"If we follow the Bible," Ted replied, "it is the inescapable conclusion that there cannot be any further sacrifice for sin. Nothing we do, nothing we give, will serve to gain merit for us in the sight of God. Everything that can be done has already been done in the sacrifice of the Son of God, Jesus Christ."

"Well, then, how do we gain favor in the sight of God?" Jim asked.

"Just by accepting His favor, Jim. Either we must decide to accept God's free gift of salvation through the completed sacrifice of Jesus Christ, or we neglect the offer and thereby cut ourselves off from the mercy of God. The Bible makes this choice clear when it says that 'the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.'" (Romans 6: 23)

Bible-believing Christians know that salvation is based on faith in the completed sacrifice of Jesus Christ. This faith results in the performance of good deeds. Good deeds are a natural characteristic of the believer in Christ, but they are not a means of salvation. The Bible makes this clear when it says: "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them." (Ephesians 2: 8-10)

Age Does Not Affect Ideal Weight

By JOSEPHINE Lowman

A letter before me stimulates this column because it highlights a misconception many women have and suggests several bits of information my readers may find valuable.

* * *

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I may have missed it but I have never read about weights for older women in your column. I am 47 years old, 5 feet, 6 inches, and weigh 128 pounds. My measurements are: Bust 36, waist 30 and hips 37 inches. I have had six children."

There should be no special weight charts for older women. While it is true that the average woman gains weight as she grows older, this is not desirable. Your ideal weight all through your life is the same as your ideal weight at the age of 25 or 30.

You might allow yourself 5 pounds more when you are older for cosmetic reasons, but no more. These 5 pounds may be becoming in that they add some bloom to the face and would hardly damage figure or health.

* * *

Many people fail to take build into consideration when calculating what their weight should be. Well-qualified height and weight charts allow quite a difference between the ideal weight for a certain height, depending on whether the frame is small, medium, or large.

The difference in poundage between the small frame and the heavy one may be as much as 10, 20 or more pounds. So think of your build when deciding what you should weigh.

MUSCULAR BUILD

Consider the development of your muscles also. A person with well-developed muscles, and without any extra fatty deposits, may weigh more and look slimmer than she would if her body had less tone.

* * *

The woman who wrote this letter has a waistline which is out of proportion. This probably is due to lazy abdominal muscles which resulted from her pregnancies. She should lose several inches from this measurement by taking abdominal exercises and watching her posture.

This can be a vicious circle. The muscles become weakened and this leads to poor posture, while poor posture, in turn, increases the laxness as the years go by.

A good girdle should be worn at all time (except when exercising or sleeping) until the abdominal muscles become stronger.

* * *

If you would like to have my abdominal exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

There should be no special weight charts for older women. Your ideal weight all through life is the same as your ideal weight at the age of 25 or 30.

Cancer Victim Bride Loses Leg 'Trusting in God'

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Clutching a silver dollar in each hand, an Oklahoma City bride smiled bravely as she was wheeled into surgery late yesterday.

"I'm going to hold these until they fall from my hands," said pretty Cherrie Lee Thompson, 17.

"You know why I'm going to hold them? Because of what it says right there — 'In God we trust.'"

With these words Cherrie disappeared into the operating room—and lost her right leg.

* * *

It was the climax of a week which brought both happiness and tragedy into Cherrie's life.

Wednesday she married her classroom sweetheart, LeRoy Jay Thompson, 21. And Thursday she learned that her leg had to be amputated to save her from cancer.

* * *

Her new husband, a soldier who returned 10 weeks ago from Korea, rushed home on emergency leave from Ft. Jackson, S.C., when he learned cancer had attacked his fiancee.

Philippines Mark 12th Anniversary of Leyte Landing

MANILA (AP) — The Philippines today celebrated the 12th anniversary of the landing of American World War II liberation forces on Leyte island and pledged continued strong friendship with the United States.

President Ramon Magsaysay and his cabinet flew to Tacloban City to participate in the ceremonies. The United States was represented by Ambassador Albert Nufer and Maj. Gen. John B. Ackerman, commander of the U.S. 13th Air Force.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who waded ashore on Leyte at Red Beach to direct the liberation forces, sent a cabled greeting saying "Time has not dimmed, nor will it ever dim, the poignant memories of that day when American soldiers and Filipino patriots stood shoulder to shoulder on Philippine soil in defense of Philippine freedom."

Russia 'Ready' for Japan Trade

Izvestia Reports Plan to Oust U.S. as Supplier of Raw Materials

MOSCOW (INS) — The Soviet government's official newspaper Izvestia said today that Russia is now ready to take the place of the U. S. as supplier of raw materials, timber and coal to Japan.

The newspaper said this was indicated by the Soviet's plan to raise Russo-Japanese trade exchanges up to $32,000,000 a year after today's signing of a pact that effects the resumption of trade relations.

Russia will buy textiles, ships and machines from Japan in exchange for raw materials.

Meanwhile, Japanese sources said Japan's Minister of Agriculture Ichiro Kono, in Moscow for the signing of the trade pact, meets today with Russian Fishing Industry Minister Alexander Ishkov.

Ishkov and Kono are to discuss the formation of the Soviet-Japanese Fisheries Committee to watch over implementation of the Pacific Fisheries Agreement which becomes effective after today's restoration of diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Mississippi So Low Barges Are Stalled

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Low water is slowly throttling commercial navigation on the middle and upper Mississippi River and other waterways in the Midwest.

La Crosse, Wis., shippers were told by barge line officials yesterday all up-river barge traffic on the Mississippi north of the Chain of Rocks near St. Louis will be canceled effective Oct. 24.

Shipping on the north end of the river usually continues until it is frozen over. At times the season has lasted into early December.

Big Bill Saves Harry From Cooler Twice

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—Harry Lyon was permitted his freedom on a $100 bond when Justice of the Peace Edward Murray could not cash the $1,000 bill Lyon had presented for payment of a $500 bond. Lyon had been charged with trespassing.

Lyon showed up in court again on a charge of disturbing the peace and Murray set his bond at $500. When Lyon again presented the $1,000 bill, Murray whipped out his check book and wrote Lyon a $500 personal check in change.

Hip-Walking Exercises Key to Beautiful Figure

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"Have you ever tried any of this hip-walking that ballet dancers do?" inquired the beautiful Miss Jeanne Crain, who was sitting on the floor of her hotel suite showing me the exercises that give her such a thin waist.

★ ★ ★

"What's a hip-walk?" I asked. I was sitting on the floor too, the better to observe her, my dear.

And so Miss Crain began wiggling across the floor on her . . . well, let's say on her hips. First the right hip, then the left hip. She was walking on her derriere, if you must know.

"That's very good for thinning," Miss Crain said. "Try it."

I tried it—and frankly, I'm still sore. Imagine walking around on your . . . well, your hips. But if it's going to make me beautiful, I'll try it some more.

"But that's not the principal exercise," added Miss Crain, whose measurements are 35-22½-35, which gives her a waist line about two and one-half inches thinner than the average beautiful gal would have.

"Here it is—try this one," she invited.

Lying flat on her back on the floor, she lifted her legs as high as she could, lowered them to about an inch from the floor where she held them for a moment, then lifted them again, and repeated this performance 10 times.

"That's all you need to do," she said. "Ten times in the morning, ten times at night, and your rib cage will be like steel."

"That's all?" I said in surprise.

★ ★ ★

"Don't say 'That's all?' till you try it," she recommended.

She was right, for I could only get through five maneuvers the first time. I seemed unable to get my legs up very far—somehow my stomach kept getting in the way—and then when I lowered them, I couldn't seem to get them back up again.

"You see, it's hard at first," Miss Crain, the mother of four, which makes it all the more remarkable, said.

"But soon it becomes a part of your daily routine. Any so-called beauty secret is no good if it takes a half hour because, let's face it, you're only going to do it for a week.

★ ★ ★

"But this takes only a few seconds and any woman can do it . . . after all, we all have the same equipment."

Miss Crain added that it's also such a wonderful investment because when you get your waist down, then you can wear any dress in the stores, at such bargains, too.

"You can be well dressed for the tiniest amount of money because it's the expensive clothes that disguise figure defects. So maybe you take five or six minutes a day . . . and see what you've got."

"Can you eat anything you want to then?" I asked her.

"I weighed 112 in high school and I weigh 112 to 114 now," she answered. "When I get up to 115 pounds, I start watching it."

I fear there is one slightly important fact here that Miss Crain didn't mention. She started the exercise when she was 15 and has been at it all these years since.

"And don't lie on a bed to do the exercise. That takes away the good of it. If men," she added, "had to wear form-fitting things like women do, they'd all be humiliated, and they'd exercise."

Personally, I have my doubts about the benefits of the thing for men, because, although I did the exercising, it made me so hungry, I gained two pounds.

Why ?
Play Guessing Games?

Don't just send any kind of a soiled garment to your dry cleaner without giving him some explanation as to what caused the soil and then expect him to send it back to you fresh, as good as new, and packed in a crisp, clean bag. Tell your cleaners about the stains on your garment—food, liquids and the like.

Many stains don't show up until heat hits them, and then it is too late. Certain liquids will react on cellulose acetate under heat and cause material to disintegrate or the color to change. The best thing to do is always send the garment to the cleaner as soon as you can after you spilled something on it.

It is always a wise thing to ask when you buy textiles or garments—"WILL IT CLEAN?"

U. S. Suez Pilots Ponder Walkout

Salary Situation Not Up to Expectations, Claims Disgruntled American

CAIRO (AP)—An American pilot says he and his countrymen working on the Suez Canal are considering a walkout because the pay situation hasn't come up to expectations.

"We are disappointed with the way things are turning out," said Elmo Holland, 43, of Newport Beach, Calif. "So far, all the pilots received is 110 Egyptian pounds expense money — about $330—but the Egyptians took $27 income tax, which is contrary to the way we understood it."

"Our final decision on the question of a walkout will be made after we collect our first paychecks this weekend," Holland said.

Holland and four other American pilots arrived here last month for training in guiding ships through the 103-mile waterway. He said 17 Americans were training at Port Said. They were recruited by the Egyptian government after the Sept. 15 walkout of foreign pilots of the old Suez Canal who refused to work for Egypt under nationalization. Fifteen Russians are also reported training for canal jobs.

"Originally the Egyptians promised us around $1,200 monthly," Holland said, "but judging the way other pilots are paid, we doubt whether we will receive anything near that, but it's because of the sudden shortage of pilots and they're working overtime for it. It may take Americans a long time to get into such high-pay brackets."

OLYMPIC CASUALTY — Vince Ferguson of New York, NCAA titlist from the University of Wisconsin lies unconscious in the ring after taking a hard punch to the jaw in his semi-final middleweight bout with Ed Crook of Detroit in the Olympic Boxing trials at San Francisco last night. He was unconscious for five minutes following the fight.

Full House Expected for Lions-49ers

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — Another sellout crowd bettering 54,000 is expected to jam Briggs Stadium tomorrow to watch the pace-setting Detroit Lions shoot for their 4th straight victory in the NFL against the San Francisco 49ers.

An interesting ground battle between a couple of "McIlhennys," one a veteran and the other a rookie, will be a highlight of the pro encounter.

* * *

In Hugh McElhenny, the 49ers have the best breakaway back in the circuit. He has gained 226 yards in three games and is 4th among the NFL ground gainers.

Detroit will counter with its rookie standout Don McIlhenny, who leads the team's ground attack with 182 yards in three games. He is also the Lions' top scorer with four touchdowns.

The Frisco outfit is in a tough spot inasmuch as it has to dump the Lions to get back into contention in the Western Division race.

* * *

Coach Frankie Albert will go along with veteran Y. A. Tittle at quarterback, but local fans are sure to see much of former Michigan State signal caller Earl Morrall whom Albert figures for future stardom in the pro ranks.

Big factor for Detroit this year has been the comeback of Bobby Layne, whose passing arm has accounted for some of the best marks in the league.

Layne has completed 36 of 61 attempts for 570 yards, including three scoring aerials.

Dorn Dibble and Dave Middleton have been Layne's favorite targets.

Another reason for Detroit's success to date has been the forward wall whose defense has held three teams to an average of only 87 yards rushing per game.

Help is expected behind Gene Gedman at fullback with the addition of Tom Tracy who is making his debut with the Lions after getting his release from Ottawa of the Canadian League.

Tracy, 5-10 and weighing 200 pounds, was the object of a long hassel when Ottawa refused to release him to the Lions before the season. After he suffered a leg injury, the Roughriders placed him on waivers.

Big Leon Hart will move into the slotback post in place of Jim Doran who injured his leg against Los Angeles last week.

Another record crowd tomorrow would break the mark of 108,000 for the first two Lion home games.

Kickoff time is 1:30 p.m. with standing room only tickets available at the Briggs Stadium gates.

Entire Slate of NFL Grid Teams in Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Eagles and New York Giants can throw the National Football League's Eastern Conference into a 3-way deadlock for first place tomorrow as all 12 teams in the loop play the fourth game of the regular season.

Only two teams remain undefeated — the Chicago Cardinals and Detroit Lions—and the Cards invade Philadelphia to meet the surprising Eagles, who are tied for second place with the Giants, each 2-1 for the year.

New York, which stopped the defending champion Cleveland Browns 21-9 when Alex Webster scored three touchdowns, will be the choice over the Steelers in their game at Yankee Stadium.

* * *

Wins by both Philadelphia and New York would leave the Cards, Eagles and Giants all wrapped up in a 3-1 knot at the top of the heap.

In other games, the Browns are favored over the Redskins at Washington, with Los Angeles the choice over the Green Bay Packers in a game at Milwaukee.

* * *

Green Bay won its first game last week, beating Baltimore 38-33, while the Rams were losing to Detroit, 24-21, and the Chicago Bears thumped the 49ers 31-7.

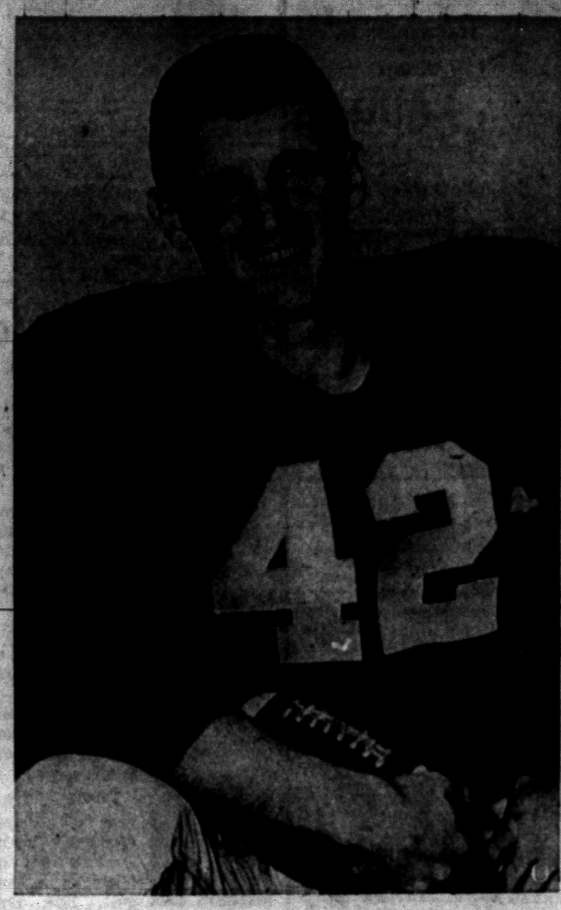

There will be no electronics from now on. Commissioner Bert Bell said on Thursday after a poll of the league owners rule 12-0 against further use of midget radios to convey messages from the bench to the quarterback.

* * *

The practice was started by Paul Brown of Cleveland, who gave instructions via the airwaves to his quarterback, who had a receiving set in his helmet.

* * *

Similar systems were tried by Detroit and the Chicago Cardinals.

LIONS' ROOKIE ACE — Detroit Lions' counter to the famed Hugh McElhenny of the San Francisco 49ers tomorrow will be Don McIlhenny, rookie sensation who is the team's leading ground gainer and scorer in three games this year. McIlhenny has 182 yards rushing and four touchdowns to pace the Lions.

Spartans Favored

Sellout for MSU-ND

SOUTH BEND (INS) — Michigan State's powerful Spartans, victors over Stanford, Michigan and Indiana, were 14-point favorites to beat twice-defeated Notre Dame today as the teams clashed before a sellout crowd of close to 60,000 at South Bend.

Notre Dame's starting eleven has at least six sophomores and the youngsters' inexperience has cost the Irish decisions to Southern Methodist and Purdue. The only Irish win thus far this season was been over Indiana.

Adding to Notre Dame coach Terry Brennan's woes for the Michigan State battle are injuries to five key players. They are halfbacks Jim Morse and Aubrey Lewis, center Lou Loncaric and ends Dick Pendergast and Bob Scannell.

All probably will see action but it is doubtful if they can stand up to the gruelling punishment which can be expected from the Spartans' burly line.

* * *

Paul Hornung, Notre Dame's great quarterback, holds much of the hope of the Irish for a respectable showing against the power-laden Michigan Staters.

Hornung's running, passing, kicking and hard tackling have been outstanding, even in defeat.

But he is only one man competing against a whole corps of star Spartan backs topped by slashing halfback Clarence Peaks.

Walt Kowalczyk, one of Michigan State's best ball carriers, has been hampered all season by a leg injury, but is expected to see service against the Irish. Jim Wulff is slated to start at right half, Don Arend at fullback and Pat Wilson at quarterback.

Wilson is the replacement for graduated star Earl Morrall and must turn in a good job if his team hopes to beat out Oklahoma for national honors.

Wolves Favored

Spirited 'Cats Test 'M'

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The 31st edition of the 64-year-old Michigan-Northwestern football rivalry takes place today in Michigan Stadium.

A spirited band of Wildcats arrived here yesterday, heartened by a rousing sendoff given them by 2,000 students on the Northwestern campus at Evanston, Ill.

Northwestern, wearing all-white uniforms but no pads, pranced through a 45-minute workout on stadium turf shortly after their arrival under the guidance of their new coach, Ara Parseghian.

Parseghian was sincere about the abilities of the Wildcats. They aren't strong on talent, he said, but they do have fight which they showed last week as they held Minnesota to a scoreless tie.

Northwestern enters the traditional fray with three starters suffering from minor injuries. End Ben Natolski, guard Al Viola and tackle John Smith are slated to be in the lineup for the kickoff, however.

"But I don't know how long they'll be able to play," Parseghian said.

Michigan comes up to the struggle heavily favored and at peak strength. End Ron Kramer, whose left hand has been bandaged since the Michigan State game, doffed the bandage yesterday for the 1st time.

He said his hand is "better." Only a couple of reserve Wolverine backs are doubtful.

Giambra Gains Split Decision

NEW YORK (AP)—To the victor belongs the spoils but sometimes there is glory for the conquered.

Such was the case last night when sharpshooting Joey Giambra, Buffalo, New York, middleweight contender, gained a split decision in 10 rounds with ever hustling Gil Turner of Philadelphia at Madison Square Garden.

* * *

A 3-1 underdog and spotting his taller rival 7¼ pounds — 158 to 150¾—the 26-year-old Turner carried the fight all the way to his harder hitting rival. At the finish he was tired and wobbling but still firing away with both hands.

Giambra, a picture puncher, let Gil have both barrels in the decisive final round but he could never make the veteran haul down his flag. Handsome Joey connected with at least 20 solid shots to Turner's jaw in that fiery finale to a blistering television fight and still couldn't floor him.

Pankey's Keeps Lead in City Table Tennis

Pankey's Hanger Grill held a three-point lead in the Pontiac Table Tennis League today after taking a 5-1 verdict from Capitol Barber. Runner-up Pontiac Varnish gained a 4-2 decision over Newberry Market.

L. H. Cole Oil pulled within one point of the Varnish team by whitewashing General Conveyor, 6-0. Fleet Carrier downed Bethany Baptist, 5-1, and Moote Electric defeated Frayer's, 4-2.

Jim Reed of Newberry's conquered Ron Beckman of Pontiac Varnish, 21-16, 15-21, 21-17, in the feature singles match. In the outstanding men's doubles match, Dick Heitsley and Bruce Bancroft of Pankey's tripped Frayer's John Stephens and Paul Baytarian, 21-18, 20-22, 22-20.

League standings:

	Pts.		Pts.
Pankey's	15	Conveyor	8
Varnish	12	Newberry	7
L. H. Cole	12	Capital	7
Fleet Carrier	10	Moote's	7

Campanella Blasts Pair for Dodgers

TOKYO (AP)—Catcher Roy Campanella hit two homers good for six runs and Clem Labine pitched four-hit ball today to give Brooklyn's visiting Dodgers a 7-1 triumph over Japan's Central League All-Stars.

* * *

The victory made it one win and one loss for the Dodgers on their Japan tour. They dropped their opening game to the Tokyo Giants 5-4 yesterday.

* * *

Labine had a shutout until the ninth inning, when the All-Stars rallied with two away.

St. Fred Faces Vikings Tonight

St. Frederick makes its 31st successive attempt to break into the winning column tonight at Wisner Stadium in Suburban Catholic League football game with St. Rita of Hazel Park.

The Vikings have won four out of five decisions this season while St. Fred has lost four and tied one. Starting time is 8 p.m.

Three SCL games are scheduled Sunday afternoon.

St. Michael's Shamrocks seek to retain the Roamin' Jug for the 7th year in a row against St. Mary at Royal Oak, defending champion Orchard Lake St. Mary guns for its 5th straight victory at Centerline St. Clement and St. James of Ferndale meets St. Benedict at Highland Park.

Shifted Bruins Oppose Detroit

Boston NHL Club Pays 1st Visit to Olympia in '56 Series

A shuffled Boston Bruin NHL club visits Olympia Sunday night for the 3rd home stand for the Detroit Red Wings this season. Bruins will be in action in Detroit for the 1st time of the new campaign and will be playing the 2nd of a four-game road trip.

Incidentally, the Bruins carry the longest winless string at Olympia in the Wings' home ice history. They have not won on Detroit ice since a 3-1 victory Oct. 31, 1953. In the last 20 games they have dropped 14, tied six.

Four new players are on the Bruin roster. Several 1955 faces are missing. Center Jack Caffrey from Pittsburgh, center Larry Regan from Quebec, defensemen Allan Stanley and Jack Bionda are new.

* * *

Most important changes in lineup include the shift of Doug Mohns from wing to defense, and in the back line where three of the 1955 players are out. Bill Quackenbush has retired. Hal Laycoe is a minor club manager and Lionel Heinrich is back in the minors. Backing up Mohns, however, are veterans Capt. Fernie Flaman, Leo Boivin and Bob Armstrong.

* * *

Top Bruin line is intact, Leo Labine, Real Chevrefils and Don McKenney. Vic Stasiuk, Cal Gardner, Jerry Toppazzini, Johnny Pierson and Fleming Mackell are back. Terry Sawchuk is the goalie.

Same Old Stand

Senators Remain in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators will be back at the same old stand next year.

* * *

The club's five directors voted unanimously yesterday to stay here, after two weeks of talk that Washington's American League baseball franchise would be transferred to another city.

Afterward, Calvin Griffith, president of the Senators, said, "We will stay here the rest of our lives."

The decision came after many baseball followers here had become convinced the Senators probably owuld be playing out of Los Angeles next season.

Published reports had pictured Griffith as anxious to move to a city where his club could make more money. And, it was indicated, he preferred Los Angeles over Louisville, San Francisco and Minneapolis, the other cities biddingfo r the franchise.

* * *

Griffith said the directors decided that what they have here is better than anything offered them by the other cities.

Leading Washington businessmen and organizations, he said, had shown disappointment over reports of a move and had made known their desire to keep the club here. But he said there was no specific proposal of measures to help the club, beset by low attendance after successive finishes near the bottom of the league.

* * *

A committee from the Washington Board of Trade had promised Griffith Thursday to help with ticket sales. Griffith also was told then that the committee felt a new stadium would be built here within a few years.

In their statement, the club directors said they had decided to stay in the capital "in view of the interest in the retention of major league baseball in Washington which has been expressed by numerous organizations and individuals during the past weeks and the many promises of continued public support which have been made."

* * *

One of the happiest over the decision was Mrs. Anne Robertson Griffith, widow of the late Clark Griffith who headed the Washington club for more than 40 years.

"This is wonderful news," she said, adding that Clark "never would have moved."

Vikings Roll Toward Title, Edge Wolves 24-21 at Flint

By DAVE DILES
Michigan AP Sports Editor

The road to Michigan's high school football title is downhill the rest of the way for Flint Northern's Vikings.

By the same, slim margin with which they ruled the state's prep football ratings compiled by the Associated Press, the Vikings won out over 2nd-ranked Bay City Central Friday night in the state's top prep game of the year.

The score was 24-21, and Northern used a 22-yard field goal in the 1st period for its margin of victory. Top-ranked Vikings got the important points from sure-footed Arden Reierford, 188-pound halfback who also accounted for one touchdown and three extra points.

It was Northern's sixth successive triumph, and Bay City's 1st defeat after five victories. Wolves, coached by Elmer Engle, were gallant in their defeat, however, battling back from a 10-0 deficit in the 1st period and grabbing the lead in the 3rd period before Northern regained the advantage.

* * *

One of the largest crowds in Michigan scholastic football history - 15,680 — looked on as the state's two top schoolboy clubs battled it out in Atwood Stadium in Flint.

* * *

Flint Northern now must defeat one-beaten Saginaw- Arthur Hill, twice-defeated and once-tied Pontiac and twice-beaten Flint Central along the route to the state title.

Bay City's fireplug fullback, 140-pound Namon Smith, shot the Wolves into the lead in the 3rd period when he raced 69 yards for a score. End John Halstead, who starred also as a pass receiver, kicked the extra point and Central led 21-17 as the period neared an end.

But Northern came back and scored before the quarter came to a close. Winning touchdown was a sensational reverse by left half John Sharp, who went 63 yards, bowling over tacklers as he sprinted to paydirt.

Romeo Remains Unbeaten, 26-0

Romeo stayed among the Class B unbeatens by trouncing Oxford last night 26-0.

The Bulldogs scored the first three times they had the ball. It was the passing arm of Butch Dallwitz that provided the offensive power for Romeo.

Dallwitz hit Fran Chapman with a 25-yarder to the one and then Dallwitz went over for the TD. Dave Proper's placement was good.

Also in the 1st quarter Dallwitz passed 28 yards to Tom Williams after a 55-yard march to make it 13-0.

To start the 2nd quarter, after a 45-yard march, Dallwitz threw to John Fowler 14 yards and it was a 19-0 game at halftime.

Ray Ritter went two yards in the final stanza and Proper converted for the 4th TD.

Oxford got only three first downs and reached the Romeo 17 as the closest point. Dallwitz hit on his first seven passes.

Home Game Ducats

Tickets for the five home games the Red Wings will play in November will be on sale at Olympia box office Sunday noon, it was announced today by Lewis M. Cromwell, box office treasurer.

Included in the November games are a pair of contests with Toronto, single games with Chicago, Montreal and New York.

Canadian Golfer Dropped

TORONTO, Oct. 20 (AP) — Moe Norman, Canadian amateur golf champion, last night was dropped from Canada's team for the Americas Cup matches in Mexico City next week because of "serious doubt" over his amateur status.

* * *

James P. Anglin, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Assn. and also captain of the Canadian team, said the action was taken after an informal meeting with RCGA governors.

After the meeting, Anglin said in a statement the decision had been made on the basis of evidence submitted to C. E. Robinson, secretary - manager of the RCGA, concerning "activities being carried on by Moe Norman of such a nature that it cast serious doubt upon Moe's status as an amateur golfer."

Doug Bajus, Vancouver golfer picked earlier in the season as first alternate, has been appointed to take Norman's place in the cup competition between Canada, the United States and Mexico in Mexico City next weekend.

Bout Officials Not Permitted Card Changes

NEW YORK (AP)—Boxing officials in New York State will not be permitted to make changes on their scorecards after Nov. 1 unless they immediately call a commissioner "or whoever is in charge" to correct an error.

* * *

"I'm not accusing anyone of skullduggery or anything like that," said Julius Helfand, chairman of the state athletic commission, in announcing the change yesterday. "But as it was we had no way of knowing when a change was made. Under the new system this can't happen."

* * *

Helfand said a simplified score card also will be used by officials after Nov. 1.

Maekawa, Lane on Olympic Ring Team

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Uncle Sam's Olympic boxing team, battered but happy after three nights of fierce swinging, looked toward Australia today with hopes for an even better record than this nation compiled in 1952.

Ten men, from Hawaiian flyweight Ray Perez to heavyweight Pete Rademacher, emerged as this nation's finest non-professionals last night and won places on the squad.

The military services, as they had predicted, won more than half the titles—six. Collegiate fighters took two and regional and Golden Gloves' champions one each.

Beating the 1952 record of five gold medals presents a tough chore and coach Milton (Dubby) Holt makes no prediction. He does say it's a representative squad and will be in the finest condition possible.

The team, ranging in age from 17 to 27, was formed on seven decisions—one a split—and three technical knockouts. NCAA middleweight King Rouse of Idaho State had the fastest time of it in the finals. He stopped Paul Wright of Flint, Mich., the favorite, with a two-handed flurry in the 1st round.

The split decision went to Maekawa in his final bout against Dave Abeyta of Idaho State. Two judges voted for Maekawa. The other liked ABeyta. The little winner fought all three nights in a University of Wisconsin uniform he borrowed because he left his own togs at home.

The big upset of the night came in the light middleweight semi-windup when Ed Crook from Detroit halted the 52-fight win streak of New York's Vince Ferguson. The New Yorker, NCAA titlist from Wisconsin, was knocked unconscious in the 2nd round. He did not come to for five minutes and was taken to a hospital for observation.

These are the members of the United States Olympic boxing team:
Flyweight, 112½, Ray Perez, Hawaii.
Bantamweight, 119, Choken Maekawa, Hawaii and Michigan State University.
Featherweight, 125½, Harry Smith, New York City.
Lightweight, 132½, Louis Molina, San Jose, Calif.
Light Welterweight, 140, Joe Shaw, St. Louis.
Welterweight, 148, Pearce Lane, Big Rapids, Mich.
Light Middleweight, 156½, Jose Torres, Puerto Rico.
Middleweight, 165½, Roger Rouse, Idaho State College.
Light Heavyweight, 178½, Jim Boyd, Rocky Mount, N. C.

Skippers Handle Jays in Second Half, 21-13

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Second-half rallies have been typical of Waterford all season and yesterday afternoon the Skippers did it again to whip Southfield 21-13 in a crucial Inter-Lakes battle.

* * *

"We've come back in the second half all season," said coach Dave Freeman, "I'm just hoping we can start the game like that some time."

"That second-half rally may fail us one of these days," he added.

Southfield, playing with a make-shift lineup filled with sophomores because of injuries, held control for the first period to take a 6-0 lead with Ron Brewer going over from the four after a 55-yard march.

* * *

As gun sounded for the half, Waterford's last play with Lindie Salathiel carrying, fell short on the two-yard line and the Jays led at intermission, 6-0.

Waterford wasted no time by taking the third period kickoff and marching 53 yards to score with Terry Kaines going the last 10. A 30-yard pass from Salathiel to Clayton Roth was the big gainer in the drive.

A few minutes later Southfield stopped a Skipper drive on the 12 and took over but on the second play Ed Clark picked up a Jay fumble on the 17 and went over to score. Roth added his second point to make it 14-6.

* * *

Coach Freeman substituted by platoons and the Jays began to falter. A 47-yard march started late in the 3rd stanza and finished after 40 seconds of the 4th period with Salathiel carrying 11 yards to score. Roth made it 21-6.

Second stringers whom Jay coach Monte Charles elected to use played the entire fourth period and counted the final tally with Tom Ridley going one yard.

The win put Waterford atop the league in a tie with Walled Lake. The showdown comes next week between the two teams at Walled Lake.

Win for Jefferson

Jefferson Junior High's junior varsity gridders took an easy one from the Washington Jayvees yesterday 18-7, at Washington's field.

Howard Scruggs, Julius Harper and Julius Charity accounted for Jeffs' tallies. Three long passes as the game ended produced Washington's counter.

Vikings Trip Van Dyke, 19-0 to Stay Clean

All Scoring in 2nd Half With John Walker Getting Two

For Walled Lake, yesterday's 19-0 victory over Van Dyke was really the calm before the storm.

By winning, the Vikings stayed neck and neck with Waterford in the Inter-Lakes title race, and will be host to the showdown next Friday night.

Van Dyke was a stubborn foe for two periods, but again the Viking speed told the tale in the second half.

Frank Fink, back in the lineup after a week's absence with a leg injury, again was a shining light along with Johnny Walker who scored twice and Dick Yeargan who tallied the other.

* * *

Yeargan went 12 yards early in the 3rd period and Walker carried 11 yards later in the stanza to make it 12-0.

In the 4th period Walker went over from the six and he added the point.

Walled Lake was hurt by 70 yards in penalties, having a 70-yard kickoff return and a 50-yard run by Fink recalled.

It took Walled Lake only five plays to go 80 yards for the second TD. The Vikings totalled 331 offensive yards.

A pass from Larry Dion to Larry Hughes for 35 yards set up the first TD, and a good punt return by Dick Greig was the key in the final tally.

Turning three fumble recoveries into touchdowns and striking consistently through the air, the Avondale Yellowjackets had things all their own way as they romped to a 27-0 victory over Lake Orion at Avondale last night.

The triumph put Coach Frank Crowell's locals right back into the thick of things in the red-hot Oakland B League. The Jackets are now tied for second, with Troy and could take over the top spot by upsetting Clawson next week.

By losing, Lake Orion was virtually eliminated from title contention. The Dragons gained well between the 30-yard stripes but could never get a serious threat going as the alert home defenders pounced on five fumbles and intercepted two passes.

Avondale backs Dick Gronski and little Sven Blomberg gave the Jackets an early lead they never relinquished with some outstanding passing. The pair finished with nine completions in 18 attempts for 136 yards and two touchdowns.

Each hit end Dwight Moulton for scores through the air and scored one apiece themselves to pace the winning attack. Steve Saunders kicked three extra points.

The Blomberg-to-Moulton aerial score was the play of the night and was set up by a 30-yard punt return by Fred Ryten. With the ball at the Orion 23, Blomberg connected with the lanky end on a perfect over-the-shoulder flip while running laterally across the field.

The visitors gave it a battle until the home boys put the game on ice in the last 10 minutes but never even got close to TD territory. "Nothing went right all evening," commented coach Ted Sela.

He had high praise for the Avondale passing. Crowell said the victory was due largely to his team's ability to "handle the ball better" than in previous games and good defensive play.

Both schools now have 4-2 season records with Avondale 3-1 in loop play. The blanking was the first suffered by Orion this season and must be considered quite an achievement since the Dragons went into the contest with a 26.6 per game scoring average.

JACKET ROLLS — Little Sven Blomberg, sparkplug of the night, went for a first down on this play as Avondale blasted Lake Orion, 27-0, to gain a second place tie in the Oakland B. Chiefs Face Favored Arthur Hill Tonight

Victory in the Saginaw Valley Conference, an elusive thing for Pontiac High's football team this season, will be sought again tonight when the Chiefs invade Saginaw to tackle rugged Arthur Hill.

Coach Ed Graybiel's charges, at full strength with the notable exception of halfback Jim Shorter, are once more underdogs for this important conference game which gets under way at 8 o'clock in Arthur Hill Memorial Stadium.

The Chiefs have dropped Valley decisions to Bay City (32-0) and Flint Central (13-12). Their overall record is two wins, two losses and one tie.

Kurt Kampe's Lumberjacks whipped Flint Central 40-0 in their only SVC test. They boast a season mark of 4-1, the lone setback coming a week ago at the hands of strong Grand Rapids Catholic Central.

Shorter, bothered by an ailing ankle, is a very doubtful participant in tonight's contest. His injury has failed to respond to treatment and the star pass defender's absence could be a crippling blow.

Graybiel will string along with the same lineup that has started the last few games. Dick Whitmer gets the call at quarterback, with Lonnie Humphrey, Charley Robinson and Charley Spann rounding out the backfield.

Pontiac's defensive unit will have to cope with quarterback Jim Draves, an aerial specialist, as well as a dangerous running attack by a fleet band of ball carriers.

For the benefit of Pontiac fans planning to attend the game, the route to Arthur Hill Memorial Stadium is easy. Follow highway US-10 through Saginaw to the west side of the city. Turn left off from US-10 (State street) at Mackinaw street and proceed five blocks to the stadium.

Excited Sub Leaves Bench, Downs Runner

MAPLETOWN, Pa. (INS) — A Mapletown High School bench warmer rose to the occasion last night to tackle a touchdown-bound Point Marion High ball carrier.

Paul Medacy made it a 12-man team for Mapletown by bolting from the bench in the 4th quarter and tackling Point Marion's Dick Brewer, who had stolen the ball.

Point Marion was awarded a touchdown by officials, but Mapletown won anyway, 20-13.

Falcon Skein Ends, 25-13

It was the end of the victory line for Rochester last night, The Falcons, ranked 6th in Class B ranks last week, could not stop Lapeer's Tom Wilson, and were thus beaten 25-13.

A bad pass from center gave Lapeer the first break of the game. The Panthers got the ball on the 17 and Wilson, who scored all 25 points, went over from the three.

Rochester shot back with Fred Weaver going 63 yards to make it 6-6 after the 1st period.

Both teams scored in the 2nd stanza. Wilson went 50 yards on the kickoff and then added the point, and Dave Peters went two yards and also made the point for a 13-13 halftime score.

In 12 plays, Lapeer went 72 yards with Wilson bucking over from the three in the 3rd period, and in the 4th period Wilson went seven yards after a 64-yard march.

Rochester got to the 28-yard line in the last period. Wilson picked up 164 yards in 25 carries, and he has now scored all of Lapeer's 44 points in last two games.

The loss snapped Rochester's five-game winning streak and will probably knock the Falcons out of the top ten in B ranks.

Holly 11 Stays on Heels of Wayne-Oakland Leader

Northville High School retained first place and Holly continued a close second as both posted victories in Wayne-Oakland League games last night.

* * *

Brighton and Milford battled to a 12-12 tie in the only other loop contest of the night. West Bloomfield was idle.

Northville had no trouble racking up its second victory in the league and fourth of the season in hammering out a 24-0 win over Clarkston.

Ed Wittenberg sparked the win as he scored once and passed for two other tallies with Bill Yahne on the receiving end both times.

Holly was pushed to the limit in posting its third triumph in four W-O tilts by a 27-25 count over Clarenceville.

Dennis Clarke scored twice, Amos Bradsher and Bill Taylor once each, and Phil Tinsman kicked the three important points after touchdown for Holly.

At Brighton, the Bulldogs bounced back twice to deadlock the score but failed in a chance to clinch the issue when a last quarter drive stalled at the Milford seven. Then Milford reached Brighton's 20 when a pass interception broke up the threat in the final minute of play.

Delno Munson and Bob Cauppi scored the Milford touchdowns. Sean Lavan and Bill Loveland reached paydirt for the home team.

Maples Beaten by E. Detroit

State's 4th Ranked Team Delivers 28-6 Setback

East Detroit's high-powered attack, held to a skimpy 7-0 halftime lead, rolled in high gear after Shamrocks routed the Birmingham Maples, 28-6, in an Eastern Michigan League football game last night at Birmingham.

The state's 4th ranked Class A team, sparked by fleet halfback Gary Ballman who scored three touchdowns and passed for another, swept to its 3rd league win and 6th of the season to wipe out all Maple hopes of repeating as EML champs.

Ballman's 16-yard end sweep in the 1st quarter gave East Detroit its 7-0 advantage at halftime. The speedy Ballman skirted end for a seven-yard TD run in the 3rd period and moments later heaved a 40-yard paydirt aerial to end Eugene Picard. Ballman sprinted 18 yards in the 4th quarter to wind up the scoring.

Biringham's lone touchdown was sandwiched between the Shamrocks' 3rd and final tallies. Swift Tony Evangelista broke through the middle of the line and dashed 41 yards for the six-pointer.

In remaining EML games last night, Port Huron nosed out Ferndale, 7-6, and Hazel Park edged Mt. Clemens by the same 7-6 margin. Ferndale's loss enabled East Detroit to gain sole occupancy of 1st place.

Southern Thumb leader Memphis was handed a 6-0 defeat by South Central boss Imlay City yesterday, while two other members of the STL, Almont and New Haven kept pace in the race.

Almont smothered Capac 46-0 as five players figured in the scoring lead by Earl Chisa's 60-yard punt return and his 50-yard pass play to Larry Kersten.

New Haven took the measure of Dryden to move into a tie with Memphis in the league.

Ortonville won its 5th game in six starts by trimming North Branch, 8-0, in South Central play.

Barons Score 41-6 Victory for 4th Win

Prosperity continued at Bloomfield Hills where coach Don Hoff is guiding the Hillsmen to one of their finest records in school's history.

Yesterday afternoon the Barons waltzed to their 4th victory in five games by trouncing Detroit Country Day 41-6.

Big Jim Kearney's running setup all but one of the Baron touchdowns, with Dave Drury providing the scoring punch. Drury scored on a 24 yard pass interception and passed to Doug Danziger and Harlan Davis for 43 and 30 yard TD's.

Jim Jones scored from the one, Tom Faunce from the two and Kearney 70 yards for the other scores.

The Barons piled up a total of 314 yards on total offence.

Summerfield addressed the final session of the four-day 52nd annual Convention of the National Assn. of Postmasters Thursday night.

He said the speedup of mail delivery might sound like a "wild dream," but added: "Who is to say we can't accomplish it in the foreseeable future?"

Summerfield said the day of jet transport of mail is only a few years away, while "the age of the guided rocket is just around the corner."

He said President Eisenhower "took politics out of the Post Office Department," and "is one of the best friends postmasters ever had."

Your Neighbor's House:

Architect Designs Home for His Family

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Who can better display his professional skill for all the world to see than an architect? In his own home he can incorporate all the ideas he has cherished, ideas perhaps that other people won't let him use.

* * *

Stephen S. Page, A.I.A. has designed a home to meet the needs of his young family and to carry out some of his pet theories. For a site the Pages chose three-quarters of an acre on Cragin road.

The lot is a sloping one with a small creek meandering through the lower end of it. On the adjoining lot there is a small white horse stable built against the hill. This lends a rural flavor to the scene.

We had the rather unique experience of being shown through a house by the husband rather than the wife, or both of them occasionally.

Mrs. Page was in a Detroit hospital with a two-day-old daughter, Peggy. Two-year-old Clif accompanied his father everywhere. And Tramp, the beagle, wasn't far behind.

In describing the exterior of the front of the house Mr. Page explained that he was trying to create the illusion of no outside wall. With that in mind, the front is painted white like the inside walls. Panels under the windows are blue, while the front door is red.

The carport is large, with storage space at the rear. The roof is supported by black iron columns. The house itself is a combination of cement block and redwood, all set within pre-fabricated redwood frames. The roof sits on the block walls.

The back portion of the house hangs over the hill. Here it is two stories high. The lower level of the interior is unfinished. There is room, however, for a small apartment to be made there, or two bedrooms, a bath and a playroom. But that is for the future.

The redwood siding on the back is finished with a sealer coat and will in time take on a silvery gray tone. Panels under the windows are painted a turquoise blue. The basement door is red.

Behind the carport is a large porch with while pillars. The ceiling here and the overhang on the house are turquoise color. A rock garden has been built up around the corner of the porch. Despite heavy frosts, the portulaca showed an occasional bright bloom.

In the front yard the sweet alyssum bordering the raised garden and the yellow mums were in full color. There are gravel walks from the circular drive to the house.

The front door opens into the dining room. To the right there is an open stairway to the basement. This is proving to be a hazard to two-year-old Clif—not so much as a place where he might fall—but as a wonderful hole in which to throw things!

The floors throughout the house are oak, finished in what Mr. Page calls a midnight finish. He says they are the second floors of this kind to be installed in the state. They are made of random width boards without pegs like ranch floors.

With the exception of the stairwell wall which is a Madonna blue and a panel of the same color under the windows, the walls are white. Originally Mr. Page left them that way to convince a client that white walls are practical. Now his wife won't let him paint them.

The dining room table is Philippine mahogany mounted on slender blond legs. The plywood chairs are painted black, as is the inside of the front door. The curtains are white with a black print.

Opposite the front door is a large sliding door coat closet. These doors are made of African mahogany. All the woodwork is a combination of redwood and Philippine mahogany.

Separating the kitchen and dining room is a storage wall of Philippine mahogany with a pass-through. The counters and splash boards in the kitchen are yellow Formica. The double sink overlooks the porch and side yard.

On the right of the sink the counter juts out to form a breakfast bar. The linoleum is gray, spattered in yellow and white. The curtains are brown with an aqua and yellow print.

The living room is at the back of the house where the windows frame a rustic view. The ventilating windows are in the center of the three windows so that the draperies may be drawn from either side. These draperies are brown with green and tan.

At one end of the room there is a platform raised about eighteen inches from the floor. Plants fill one corner, a record player the other. In the center is a prefabricated fireplace set on tiles.

Mr. Page is enthusiastic about this fireplace. It takes only a little space, yet provides the cheer and warmth a larger fireplace would. No outside chimney is needed.

Storage cabinets cover the wall under the window at the opposite end of the room. Plans are for a corner couch to be put into this area some day. A small piano fits against one wall.

Throughout the house there is valance lighting with just a minimum of low independent lamps. The Pages like this kind of light. It is good for TV viewing, they say, for reading and for general illumination.

In addition to making the furniture Mr. Page painted most of the pictures hung on the walls. The one over the stairway has a medieval feeling to it. Rich in blues, reds, purples and greens, it was painted during his Cranbrook days. It blends perfectly with the blue wall.

The bathroom is done in texture tile in a color called seagull. It looks brown or gray, depending on colors used near it. Contrasting colors of emerald or salmon are perfect. The curtains are striped gray and brown.

Little Clif has a room with bunk beds in it. One wall is cement block, the other three are plastered. His curtains are a deep turquoise with an ABC print.

The guest room — but now serving as the nursery for Peggy—has twin beds in addition to the crib. They have dark green spreads. Between them is a low chest. The draperies are yellow. When we left, Tramp was curled comfortably on one of the pillows. He didn't know how soon he would lose his favorite sleeping place!

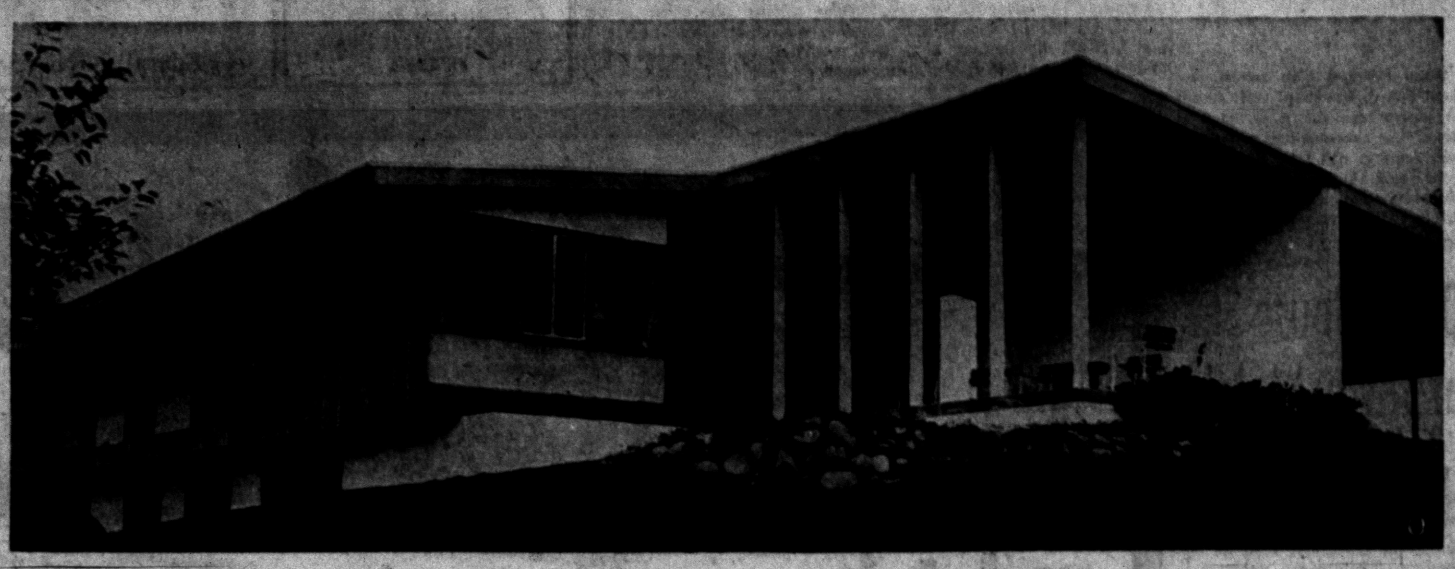

The double bed in the master bedroom has a storage headboard covered in the same green tweed-like fabric as the bedspread. There are two of the black plywood chairs used in this room. Low bookshelves have been made by laying boards on top of glass bricks.

All bedroom windows have the ventilating sash in one end. This permits the draperies to cover almost all the glass without shutting out air. The bedroom draperies are green with an interesting leaf design.

Navajo Indian scatter rugs harmonize well with these draperies. Potted plants give more life and color to the room. We mentioned earlier the chest, custom built by Mr. Page.

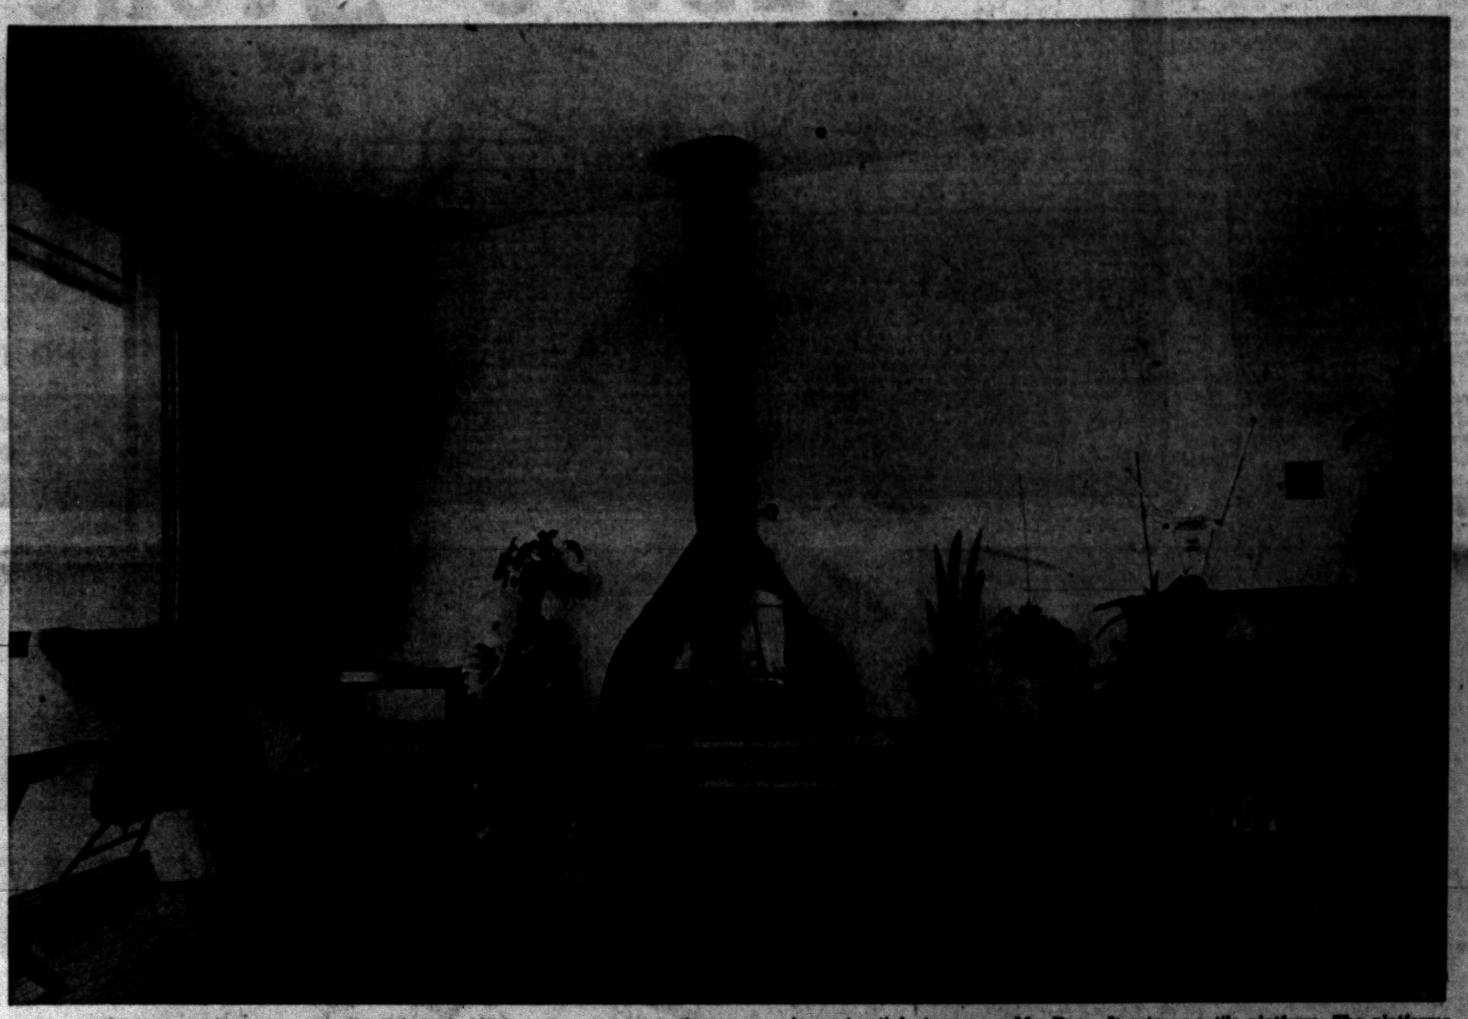

We were sorry not to see Mrs. Page. But her husband, having designed the house, knows it like the proverbial book. He was more than capable of showing us around.

O. L. Pokorny and Son of Detroit did the actual building.

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderwerp

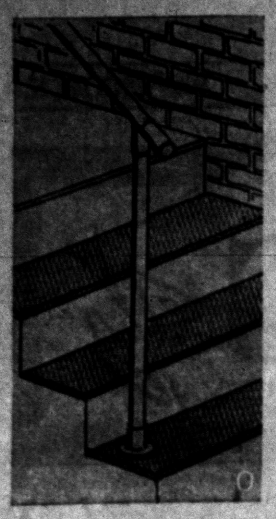

PRE-FAB FIREPLACE — Two-year-old Clif sits in his favorite spot next to the fireplace. Thumb in mouth, he is at peace with the world. Tramp, the family beagle, casts a wary eye on the photographer. This pre-fabricated fireplace needs no chimney, is most satisfactory, says Mr. Page. It sets on a tile platform. The platforms on either side are wood and are used for sitting as well as for holding plants and the record player. Walls throughout the house are white.

TRAMP AND HIS MASTER — Man and dog take their ease on the modern sofa. This view of the southern half of the living room shows the unusual arrangement of the ventilating sash in the windows. Curtains can be drawn from either side to darken the room without interfering with the open windows.

DISTANT VIEWS — This is a view of the house liked by Mr. Page. In the far distance is Clif's bedroom. Between that and the dining room in the foreground are two other bedrooms and the bath. The wall surrounding the stairway to the basement shows up plainly. Note the valance lighting. It has been used throughout the house. The floors, called Fireside Plank, are the second floors of this type to be laid in Michigan. They are oak, finished in a sealer finish. To the right a bit of the Philippine mahogany table made by Mr. Page can be seen.

When covered with asbestos-cement board, basement stair treads no longer are dingy or hard to clean. The asbestos board provides sure footing, will take the hardest wear, and shuns grime and dirt. Moreover, there is no danger from fire from a carelessly dropped cigarette.

These Tips Will Prevent Gutter Troubles

DO . . . know that when water pours over the sides of a roof gutter, the cause is either debris in the channel or an improperly slanting gutter.

DO . . . when an examination shows no debris, get the gutter to slant toward the downspout by a readjustment of the brackets which hold the gutter to the house.

DO . . . fix a tiny leak in a metal gutter by scraping away the rust (if any) with a wire brush, coating with a preservative paint and spreading asbestos roof cement over the area.

DO . . . fix a larger leak in a metal gutter by pushing a piece of heavy roofing felt or aluminum foil into the wet roofing cement, then adding a little more cement to cover the edges of the felt or foil.

DO . . . close holes in a wooden gutter with wood putty or plastic wood, but when there is a split along the grain of the wood, fill the crack with a caulking compound.

Carpet 'Extends' Room

Ease of cleanability makes it simple to enjoy the luxury of wall-to-wall carpet. Such carpet makes small rooms look larger. It is restful both because of its appearance and its sound-deadening qualities. In homes where rooms are connected by "wide-open-spaces" using the same carpet throughout creates an impression of roominess far beyond the actual scope.

Not Costly to Repair Hardwood Flooring

Hardwood floors offer a lifetime of service. Worn and unattractive floors need not be replaced in many instances. They over often can be repaired and refinished inexpensively.

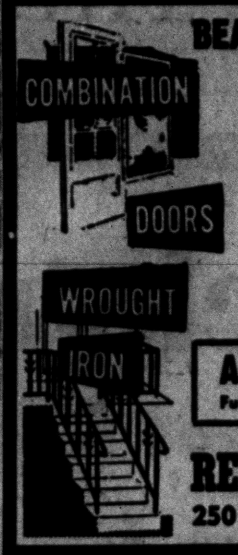

* * *

Your local carpenter has the know-how to even up a sagging floor and to remedy most speaks. After existing hardwood floors have been evened and otherwise repaired, the next step in the refinishing procedure is a good sanding job.

Floors of the northern hardwoods —maple and birch—require only light sanding to smooth them. Any handy do-it-youself enthusiast can handle the sanding chore. Small and compact sanding and polishing machines are available on a rental basis at many hardware stores.

Open House Set at Savoy Motel

Open house will be held Sunday, October 21, from 2 to 6 p.m. at Pontiac's newest motel, the Savoy Motel, on Telegraph road at Menominee. Visitors are welcome to inspect the rooms and to meet the owners, Richard Scribner, Hubert H. Curson and Morris Dresner.

The two-story U-shaped building, started in May, has 40 units, including single and double rooms, and two suites. The office, TV lounge and manager's apartment are in a separate building at the entrance.

The motel building is made of cement block, coated with a paint that contains minute flecks of glass. It is speckled with various bits of color on white and buff. Trim is turquoise and doors are painted bright orange.

In the individual rooms the floors are carpeted. Quiet colors have been used on the walls and for the bedspreads. Each room has a TV set, hi-fi music and a telephone. All table surfaces are covered with formica.

Steam heat can be controlled in each room. In the summer, blowers on the furnace send chilled water through the pipes for air conditioning. Special insulated walls deaden the noise of traffic outside.

Protects Outside Stairs

Weather forecasters are predicting another severe winter this year. You can prevent outside steps from the basement from becoming snow-traps or from becoming sheeted with ice by installing a steel hatchway over the stairs. The hatchway, available at building supply dealers, can be set into place permanently in a few hours.

Ways to Check Home Lighting

Test Strategic Areas, Comfort, Safety Factors in Considering Needs

Many an otherwise modern home today has lighting facilities that belong to another era.

A study reveals that few homes in the United states would earn a 100 per cent score on proper lighting, and it sets forth several fundamental needs that should be fulfilled to meet a family's good-sight requirements.

Some of the needs:

Tubular lights set completely around the "grooming" mirror in the ceramic tile wall of the bathroom, for shaving, makeup, etc.

Bright lights in the laundry, for sorting clothes, prewash inspection for spots, and ironing without eye strain.

Lights at strategic points in the kitchen, especially at the range, sink and storage areas. An ideal type is concealed, diffused illumination installed behind the splash-backs and under over-the-sink cabinets.

PLENTY OF OUTLETS

Plenty of electrical outlets for various types of lamps for different kinds of reading: casual, intermittent, serious and prolonged.

An efficient light over the "memo desk" in the kitchen or utility room, and at the living room desk.

Lighting for safety: in the bathroom for identification of medicines; at entrances, exits and stairways to prevent falls; in the children's room for play and study, and in the sewing room.

* * *

Illumination for recreation. A rumpus room with safe and easily cleaned quarry tile floor and light-reflecting walls is a better room for games if a ceiling fixture is installed to direct light on the ping-pong or billiard table, or over card tables.

Wood Sash Popular

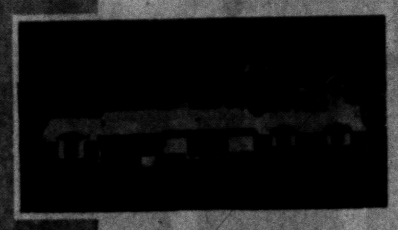

One reason for the growing popularity of wooden sash around large picture windows in contemporary homes is that the wood sash blends readily with the home siding, whether it is western red cedar or Douglas fir. Wood sash and frames can be built to any size and this is important since most of these large glass spaces are not standard.

Motel's Colored Doors Are Distinguishing Note

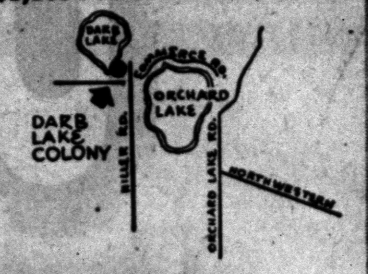

A new 97-room motel on U. S. 240 near Rockville, Maryland, hit on a bright eye-catching scheme to attract the passing motorist. Instead of using the usual same color on the long line-up of doors, every fourth door is painted a different attractive color—a bright Chinese red, a pure white, a brilliant blue, and a sunny yellow, in that order.

The colors not only catch the motorist's eye, but help him to spot his room easier, and create a very cheerful atmosphere.

Paint Can Emphasize Good Features of Home

Painting your house this year? Look over its exterior before you start, keeping in mind that paint can bring out good features and minimize bad ones.

The good features can be emphasized by painting them a different but complementary color than the over all color. Bad features—a too heavy chimney climbing up the outside wall, for example—can be minimized by using paint of the same color as the main exterior surface.

Wash-Dry Unit Is Space Saver

Maybe you won't have to remodel your home, after all, to have the convenience of a first-floor laundry. Maybe the space you need is available in the back hall, the breakfast nook, the pantry or even the kitchen, now that only 36 inches of wall space are required for one of the new all-in-one washer and gas clothes dryer units.

However, if you are remodeling you may want to consider one of these combinations anyway, instead of installing two separate laundry appliances. You'll gain floor space you hadn't counted on for an extra storage cabinet.

The idea of a double-function laundry unit was born of desperation, says a large appliance manufacturers association. Dealers reported that in thousands of small homes without basements, homemakers were facing the necessity of sacrificing much-needed space in the kitchen or even a bedroom in order to install a washer and separate gas clothes dryer, which they consider indispensable.

Now a two-in-one has solved their problem of space and gives them the added luxury of completely automatic laundry service with push-button ease.

The association points out that these units are made for heavy duty and do everything a separate washer and dryer would do, despite their compactness. To operate, you simply set the dials, and place the soiled clothes in the machine with your favorite detergent, of course.

Without any further attention from you, your clothes are soaked, washed thoroughly, rinsed several times in clean water and finally, fluff-dried or, if you prefer, left just damp enough to iron.

Sanding Essential to Fine Floor Finish

Northern hard maple, beech and birch flooring comes from the mill smoothly surfaced, but in laying any floor, slight inequalities, scratches and scars are bound to occur. Scraping or sanding removes these. A really smooth sanding is the most important part of a good floor finishing job.

Scrape and sand with the grain—lengthwise, using either a cushioned hand sanding block or a power sander of the familiar belt-type or oscillating type — never one of the disc type. No. 2 or 2½ sandpaper is suggested for leveling-off high spots and joints, and No. 1 for the second cut.

The final step—most important of all—is the finish-sanding with No. 0 or 00 paper (or both, if necessary). Don't be content with anything less than perfect sanding. The finest finish can never make a poorly sanded floor look like anything but a poorly sanded floor.

Fifth Avenue Jeweler Changing 'Settings'

A world famous jewelry store on Fifth avenue in New York, after 118 years of ultra-conservative interiors, is making colorful changes throughout its salesrooms. The silver department has been painted a soft, flattering gray, contrasted by brilliant red velvet draperies.

One of its main jewelry salons is now painted a lovely pastel, which complements the Georgian furniture pieces and provides a new, colorful setting for the display of gems.

First to Use Lacquer

The Chinese and Japanese used lacquer more than two thousand years ago. One of the earliest known records of the use of lacquer goes back to Imperial Japan many centuries ago, when the office of "Chief of Imperial Lacquer Department" was created.

FHA Loan Will Cover Cost of Painting Home

If you have been wanting to paint your house either inside or out — or both — and if you are eligible, and you probably are — you'll find it easy to get an FHA loan to cover the entire cost. You can have your contractor estimate the cost of the full job and then file your loan application through him. Or, if you want to do the job yourself, see your local bank or FHA representative.

You can take as long as three years and 32 days to pay off loans of less than $600—and as long as five years and 32 days for loans above that amount.

They Go for Basements

Ninety-two per cent of every hundred homes in the Northeast are built with basements, says the Institute of Home Designers. Many large-scale developers in that area have never constructed a basement-less house, and a home without a basement usually is a low-priced structure of the "summer cottage" type.

Use Care in Selecting Finish for Flooring

It is important to select the floor finishing product best suited to the species of hardwood flooring installed. Close fibered and delicately grained wood should be finished with penetrating sealer. No filler is required. Northern maple and birch are examples of the colorful and delicately grained woods. The sealer type of finishes were originally developed for these two species.

Most Roofs Go Unnoticed —So Check Yours Now

Is your house roof all set to withstand another rigorous winter and the fire dangers that accompany the heating season?

If you can answer 'yes" to that question, you belong to an elite minority. Few householders check their roofs as often as they should, according to building experts.

Because roofs take such a year 'round beating from the weather, they generally demand periodic inspection and upkeep. An exception are the permanent-type shingles, such as those made of asbestos-cement. These require little or no maintenance, since they do not wear out, rot or rust and they cannot burn.

So, if you have ordinary shingles it would be wise to check their condition before the bitter winds of winter begin to blow and chimney sparks start finding a resting place on your rooftop.

Should you have an aversion to high places, however, play it safe and call in a specialist for the job.

Important common flaws to look for in checking are loose, broken or warped shingles, and shingles that have deteriorated badly as a result of prolonged weather exposure. All shingles that cannot be nailed down securely should be replaced.

If the roof has seen many years of wear, perhaps a large number of units may be badly worn or rotted. In that event, the best choice may be to re-roof in the interest of safety and protection of your investment.

If you decide the time has come for a completely new roof covering, you can choose from a variety of shingle types. One of the most highly regarded, from the viewpoints of permanence and protection, is the asbestos-cement variety. As the name implies, these shingles are made from portland cement and asbestos fibers. They have a top rating for fire-safety, as they cannot burn. They do not wear out, rot or rust.

Asbestos roofing shingles can be identified by their rigidity and stone-like composition. Since they last indefinitely, their use will eliminate the need for any subsequent re-roofing for the life of the house.

Upholstery Care Calls for Regular Vacuuming

One of the most important rules for the proper care of upholstered furniture is to vacuum-clean it methodically. Remember that dust falls just as steadily on your sofa and chairs as it does on a polished table in the same room. The difference is that it can be seen on the table, but it is not nearly so likely to attract attention on the upholstery.

Don't wait for dust to become evident. Vacuum upholstery and other household fabrics regularly. Each time that you do, you are carrying away damaging, disfiguring dust and dirt.

"Better be safe than be sorry." So, whether you have one gun or several, put your mind at ease by making one of these racks. Pattern 405 gives actual-size cutting guides for all shaped parts, and shows every step of the simple construction. It will be mailed for 25c. This pattern is one of five in the Sportsman's Packet for $1. Pontiac Press Pattern Dept. Bedford Hills, New York.

To open a stopped up sink drain, pour a handful of baking soda down the drain pipe, add one-half glass of vinegar, and cover tightly for about a minute.

A common problem in every home is how to screen from view those necessary items of equipment which are not attractive. Simply shield them from sight with a fencing of rugged, attractive, economical corrugated asbestos-cement sheets. The corrugated sheets provide a beautiful surface to paint, but they require no painting for preservation.

Removable Windows

You will be able to wash three windows in your new house in the time it requires for one window in your present home if you make sure that your next windows are removable. In a recent test, the manufacturers of removable double-hung wood windows found that on the average, a window sash which can be removed can be washed in less than 35 per cent of the time required when the sash is locked in the frame as with old-style windows.

Households Increase 900,000 Each Year

Rate of growth of the U. S. is faster than either government or industry thought, according to Census Bureau figures just released.

It had been assumed that the rate of family growth was 600,000 a year, but the number of households increased in the U. S. from 43,600,000 in 1950 to 48,800,000 in 1956, an average annual gain of 900,000.

It will take more than a million and a quarter new homes a year, said H. V. Simpson of the West Coast Lumbermen's Assn., just to keep even with the burgeoning growth of our dynamic nation.

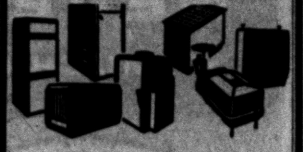

Fortunately, he said, we will never run out of lumber, America's basic home building material, for west coast forests which produce half the nation's lumber needs are on a sustained yield basis to grow lumber for generations in the future.

New Building at Record High

New construction activity exceeded $4.2 billion for the third consecutive month in September to round out the most active quarter on record, according to preliminary estimates prepared jointly by the U. S. Departments of Commerce and Labor.

The value of work installed for place during the past month brought the third quarter total to nearly $12.8 billion, 3 per cent more than in the July-September 1955 period. After adjustment for seasonal factors, new construction activity in the third quarter of 1956 was at an annual rate of $44.5 billion, compared with actual outlays of $43.0 billion in 1955.

Private industrial building continued at a record-breaking rate in September and for the first time in any quarter exceeded the $800 million mark. Construction of office buildings and churches was also greater in September than in any previous month.

Private residential building held steady at about $1.4 billion a month during the third quarter, but the $4.3 billion total for the quarter was 10 per cent below the record set in July-September 1955.

Public construction expanded in September to another new high, with a monthly record again established for highway construction. Public school building and sewer and water facility work were at about peak levels for the third consecutive month.

The value of work installed in these three important public-works types, undertaken primarily by state and local governments, accounted for two-thirds of total public construction expenditures in the quarter just ended. Outlays for military facilities in the continental United States reached a postwar monthly high of $148 million.

Among some of the names in a home magazine's "Forecast Colors for 1957" are Peacock Green, Lemon Peel, Larkspur, Wild Plum, Siamese Pink, Cantaloupe and Flame.

Brighten Up 'Rec' Room With Attractive Colors

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A "rec" room sometimes suggests more wreck than recreation. Granted that it's a place for informal use and play, it will yield many more dividends in family pleasure and pride if given attention commensurate with its use. Whether the walls are of wood panelling or plaster, it should be easy to create an attractive room that will become a second living room rather than a catch-all relegated to rumpus use. Even if the walls are cinder block, they will form an attractive background when finished with a masonry paint.

Green or blue may be too cold for a basement room, although turquoise can be used most successfully if the woodwork is in a light color. A salmon or light coral is a good live color that combines with either light or dark wood. Usually low, the recreation room ceiling should be finished in a light shade. If the ceiling has not been plastered over, a do-it-yourself job can be accomplished through the use of fabricated sound-proofing squares.

Asphalt tile in black and white or in black squares alternating with wall colors is a good floor choice from the standpoint of upkeep and appearance. For cement floors, special paint is available that will keep the dust down and withstand heavy traffic. Waxed, it is attractive without covering or as a background for small shag rugs in light colors.

* * *

The present trend in recreation rooms is away from the humorous or barroom type of decoration, many families having discovered that the space can be put to better use if keyed to more decorous family interests. The dimly lit "rumpus" room with the "clever" legends is giving way to a family center, one that will serve as well for mother's P.T.A. meeting as for the teen-agers' Friday night dance.

If there is not enough outside light, unframed mirrors at one end of the room will help, as will a simulated window of the shadow-box type with lighting from behind. Inside window-shutters may be used to further the illusion. If the room is decorated in contemporary style, photomurals of summertime activities are interesting conversation pieces. Buy an unfinished bookcase, sectioned for books, records and trophies, and paint it to match the walls.

Furniture bought expressly for the recreation room will double the family's pleasure in the room. A comfortable davenport is a good investment, as it can serve as an emergency guest-bed. If the furniture from the screened porch must spend its winter in the recreation room, these pieces should be selected for their suitability to both places, so it is good planning to consider the screened porch and the recreation room together from the standpoint of color choice in furnishings.

* * *

When no apologies need be made for it the recreation room contributes its full share of enjoyment to family living.

Whenever you do welding, brazing, or soldering at home, protect your work bench or table by working on an asbestos-cement siding or roofing shingle. The asbestos material guarantees that the heat and flame stay where they belong.

100 Nails a Minute With Power Hammer

Savings up to $175 per house are expected from a new hammer which supplies and drives its own nails upward, as well as downward.

Three different types of this hammer are coming into the market and tests show they'll drive as many as 100 nails per minute. These tools aren't for the home workshop, however. They are priced from $950 to $1,200 each. For ordinary pounding, we'll have to stick to the common hammer—whether it has a pretty plastic handle, chromium plate or inlaid gold initials in a hickory stock.

Storage Walls, Compartment Closets Solve Today's Wardrobe Problems

The problem of wardrobe storage space is being solved more and more today, in old homes and new, by the use of storage walls and compartmented closets in bedrooms, dressing rooms, and corridor areas adjacent to bedrooms.

In planning these built-ins, the two main rules are to allow enough space to keep everything handy and then to make them look attractive on the inside and outside.

Shelves and compartments are easy to build and inexpensive if made from any of the ten woods of the western pine region, and doors of the same material may be hinged or sliding, solid or shuttered. The shuttered variety adds a note of novelty that is increasingly popular.

A well-designed storage wall can transform the atmosphere of the room or corridor from one of coldness by the mellowness, and natural warmth of the western pine.

REQUIREMENTS VARY

The requirements of the members of the family who use the closets will vary, but there is sure to be a need for the shallow type shelves that afford a high degree of visibility for such items as hats, shoes and pocketbooks.

Therefore at least one bank of these shelves should be included. They should run from the floor up to the height the users can conveniently reach. Above this level, with separate but matching shuttered doors, and extending to the ceiling, it is a good idea to build storage facilities for little-used household items, seasonal decorations and seasonal clothing.

* * *

Since these upper compartments are usually closed, the inside of the shutters can be covered with a solid layer of cedar that will help to keep out moths.

If space permits, a second unit for outer clothing and long garments is desirable. If space is limited, then this section can be included next to the shelf unit and can be lined with incense cedar to impart a pleasant fragrance to the garments.

Many variations on these plans are not only possible, but often necessary. For a man's bedroom, it might be well to use two or more of the shelves to relean shirts, in which case these shelves should be closed by solid doors behind the shutters.

If the ceilings are very high, the Western Pine Association suggests that the topmost section that is for seldom-used items be enclosed by solid doors of a light wood, such as Idaho white pine or ponderosa pine, to contrast with the shutters and thus seem to lower the ceiling. The shuttered doors usually made of sugar pine, can be of any width. The effect to be created, and general convenience, will dictate whether one wide door or two or more narrow doors should be chosen.

Ford Reactor at UM Dedication Is Nov. 16

ANN ARBOR (UP) — The University of Michigan announced today it will dedicate its million-watt Ford nuclear reactor Nov. 16.

Ernest R. Breech, chairman of the board of the Ford Motor Co., will deliver the main address.

The ceremonies will be held in conjunction with the Phoenix Project's annual Atom Day, during which scientists and engineers from UM will describe atomic energy research activities sponsored by the project in their particular fields.

The Phoenix Project is a memorial to university men killed in World War II and is devoted to peacetime uses of the atom.

The reactor was built with a one-million-dollar gift from Ford.

A university announcement said the reactor will be the most powerful in the nation excepting those at government installations.

It has been under construction since June 1955.

Harlan Plans 4 Talks in Southeast Michigan

ANN ARBOR (UP)— University of Michigan President Harlan H. Hatcher will make four addresses in southeastern Michigan Oct. 29-30.

He will address a luncheon at Lapeer and later speak at a dinner in Bad Axe Oct. 29. The next day he will speak at a luncheon in Caro and a dinner in Mt. Clemens.

To Address Teachers

ANN ARBOR (UP)—Hayden K. Carruth, a University of Michigan speech professor, will address teachers attending Friday's regional convention of the Michigan Education Assn. at Grand Rapids.

Urges U.S. to Quit Grain Business

LANSING (UP) — A demand that the government get out of the grain business was voiced Thursday by a Michigan grain dealer.

Charles Force of Kalamazoo, vice president of National Feed and Grain Dealers Assn., spoke at a conference of the Michigan Grain Dealers Assn. at Michigan State University.

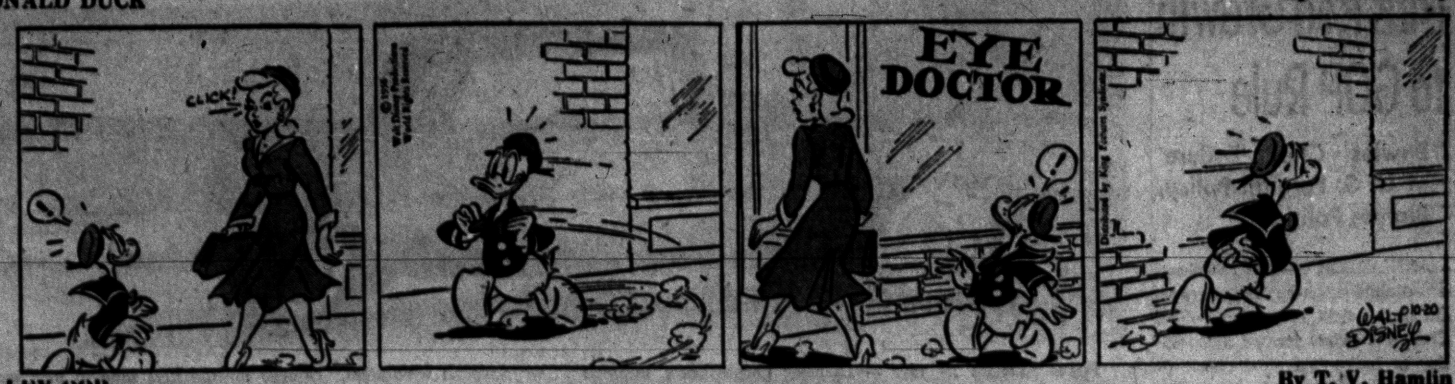

"The federal government has no right to compete with private citizens," Force said.

He urged an investigation of the Commodity Credit Corp. after the election.

The CCC holds billions of bushels of wheat, corn and other agricultural commodities estimated in value at six billion dollars, Force said.

He suggested an investigation might lead to a cut in government grain-buying and turn the business back to private industry.

Bowles Cites 'Failure' of U. S. Foreign Policy, Blames Politics

ANN ARBOR (UP)—The Eisenhower administration has failed gravely in the field of foreign policy, Chester Bowles, former ambassador to India, told an audience of Michigan Democrats here last night.

* * *

Bowles was speaking in behalf of presidential aspirant Adlai Stevenson at a dinner of Democrats of the Second Michigan Congressional District at the University of Michigan.

Attacking Republican foreign policy, Bowles said, "Between 1952 and 1956 international communism embarked upon successful new policies for which we remained totally unprepared."

Bowles said the GOP destroyed the foundations of bipartisanship which keeps foreign policy on a "level of dispassionate discussion and cooperation among men of good will of both parties."

POLICY IN RING

The Republicans have brought foreign policy into the political arena and they have failed to trust the American people with the facts about our relations with the rest of the world, Bowles said.

Bowles urged the election of Stevenson as "the best qualified man in foreign affairs ever to run for the presidency in the history of our country."

Also receiving praise was Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who Bowles said is "one of the ablest, most vigorous and farsighted young governors any state has ever known."

Work on $2,661 Goal in Brandon Township

ORTONVILLE — Work has begun in Brandon Township to make the United Fund drive here a success, Chairman Marvin Featherston announced today.

Workers have been appointed for a door-to-door canvass and all organizations are being contacted.

Goal this year is $2,661; 50 per cent of which will remain in Brandon Township for the developing of Crossman Park and a better recreational program.

TEENAGER—14

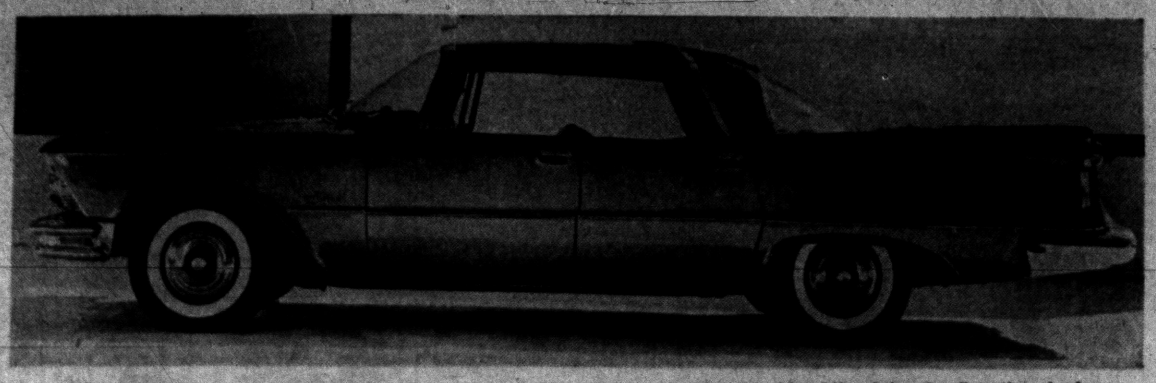

Teenager Shot at Brawl, Doctors Fear Arm Lost

DETROIT (UP)—Harry G. Willnus, 19, a Western Michigan College sophomore, was shot and wounded critically early today while watching a youthful brawl in Plymouth.

At University Hospital in Ann Arbor, doctors sought to save the youth's left arm but said they doubted it could be done. The upper arm was mangled by a shotgun blast.

Three other youths required hospital treatment.

Melvin H. Killions, 19, of Canton Township, was held in the Wayne County Jail for investigation of assault with a 12 gauge shotgun.

FOUR SERIES IN 1957 — Chrysler Corporation's Imperial for 1957, announced today, will feature lower, wider styling, more horsepower, dual headlights, curved side glass and a four-way wrap-around windshield. Offered for the first time in four separate series, the cars will be unveiled Oct. 30. Shown above is the Imperial Crown four-door Southampton hardtop.

Ike Running Ahead in New York

NEW YORK (UP) — The election scene in New York is a welter of political crosscurrents.

They stem from problems as far apart as policy in the Middle East and prices for milk.

* * *

A sampling of opinion in the cities, the villages, on the farms, indicates these are the main outlines of the picture at this point:

1. The Republicans.

President Eisenhower won the state's 45 electoral votes by 848,000 votes, or 56 per cent of the total, in 1952. His upstate margin easily outweighed the loss of New York City by 350,000.

* * *

Upstate today, his popularity seems holding at a high level generally. You hear few criticisms of Eisenhower, or expressions of concern about his ability to fill another term.

2. The Democrats.

Adlai Stevenson drew big crowds in recent appearances in New York City, and they seemed to respond more warmly to him than in 1952. His running mate Sen. Estes Kefauver has been campaigning more widely upstate. About the outlook there, Democratic spokesmen say they feel encouraged. One asserted, "Eisenhower won't get a million - vote edge upstate this time."

* * *

3. The issues.

No single one seems to be exerting a statewide pull. In New York City, GOP candidates are questioned sharply about foreign policy, arms for Israel, the Suez, immigration laws, and to a lesser degree, "hard" money and housing. Upstate, many dairy farmers criticize Secretary of Agriculture Benson, but not Eisenhower. They express no deep feelings on other questions. The "small man versus big business" argument is helping running highest in New York City.

Campaign fever seems to be

Party headquarters are bustling. Volunteer organizations have workers stationed all over the city. There has been considerable placarding and doorbell ringing.

Upstate, things are quieter.

There have been reports of widespread disaffection among the dairy farmers, because of a squeeze between cost and producer prices for milk.

Questioning unearths criticism in the dairy regions, but whether it will switch many votes is a different question.

* * *

One farmer said, "It doesn't make any difference which administration is in, so far as milk prices are concerned. I voted Republican before and I expect to again."

The owner of a general store in a Dairy Belt village said, "People around here seem satisfied. I know because I cash their checks. Most of them vote straight Republican."

An official of a dairyman's organization said, "They (the farmers) haven't anything against Ike, but they sure are sore at Benson."

Another official commented, however, "Ike's going to lose some farmers who are Democrats but switched over to him in 1952."

One big election crosscurrent developed in Harlem, big Negro district in New York City, predominantly Democratic.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., Negro Democrat who represents Harlem, announced last week he will support Eisenhower. He said he approved Eisenhower's stand on civil rights, and that the nation's Negro groups had been snubbed by Stevenson.

Democrats denounced Powell as a "turncoat."

Earlier, the Amsterdam News, Negro newspaper, had come out in support of Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits, Republican, who is in a neck-and-neck race with New York City's Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Democrat, for the U.S. Senate.

This also was over the civil rights issue. The paper has not yet endorsed a presidential candidate. But Editor James Hicks said "We say his (Eisenhower's) civil rights record is a best seller."

The State Federation of Labor, with 1½ million members, voted to support Wagner. An official said it was the first time in 20 years the federation endorsed a senatorial candidate.

* * *

In New York City, the Javits-Wagner race holds almost as much interest as the presidential battle. Most observers consider it a tossup. Both candidates are well known. Both have been strong vote getters in other contests.

Javits is Jewish, Wagner a Roman Catholic. Each says he does not expect much "bloc" voting.

Drops Some Prices, Boosts Others

'57 Car Sales War Is On! Ford Underselling Chevy

DETROIT (UP)—The Ford Motor Co., first to boost 1957 auto prices, revised list prices yesterday.

* * *

Ford came up with both a car and a station wagon at a dollar less than Chevrolet which last week proclaimed it "continues to offer the lowest priced passenger car in its field."

Ford's original 1957 list prices were announced three weeks ago. Yesterday's revision upped 13 models and reduced five. The changes range from a $41 cut to a $30 increase.

List or so-called "suggested retail" prices of Ford and Chevrolet do not include federal or state taxes, transportation costs or dealer preparation charges.

UP AND DOWN

Ford's first price list, issued Sept. 29, increased prices from $1 to $104 or an average of 2.9 per cent for all models, compared with 1956.

Chevrolet's price list, announced last Saturday, was up from $50 to $166 over last year's. No over-all percentage increase was announced.

Both Ford and Chevrolet lists are based on six-cylinder cars. A V-8 engine adds $93 to the cost, Chevrolet or Ford. Optional equipment, of course, adds to prices.

* * *

Ford's lowest priced car in its revised list is the "Business Tudor" in the Custom Series. It goes for $1,679 or a dollar less than Chevy's cheapest, a Series 150 utility sedan at $1,680. Ford's Sept. 29 price was $1,685.

Ford shaved an identical $6 from the price of its Ranch Wagon, bringing it to $2,071, compared with Chevrolet's $2,073 on its Series 150 Station Wagon.

Chevrolet also advertised a week ago it was offering "the lowest priced hardtop in the industry." Ford's hardtop prices, as revised, range from $2,063 to $2,167. Chevrolet's lowest hardtop price is less than $1,967.

* * *

Ford revised downward $41 the price of its Fairlane 500 "Sunliner," bringing it to $2,261—exactly the same as Chevrolet's Bel Air convertible.

Driver Hospitalized, Rider Hurt in Collision

A Birmingham driver was hospitalized and his passenger slightly injured in a two-car collision at Walton and Adams Roads in Avon Township Friday.

Ernest T. Richards, 80, one of the drivers, is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with back injuries. Doris J. Richards, 41, was treated for multiple bruises.

Jean H. Vought, 34, of Avon Township, driver of the other vehicle, was unhurt.

Curtice Finishes 4-Week Inspection of Europe Plants

LONDON — Harlow H. Curtice, General Motors president, reports "impressive progress" in GM's expansion and modernization program in Great Britain.

Curtice inspected GM's Vauxhall Motors, AC-Delco and Frigidaire operations at Luton, Dunstable and Hendon after a four-week tour of GM's manufacturing and assembly operations in Great Britain and the Continent.

Curtice reported the company's major program to double Vauxhall Motors' passenger car and truck capacity to 250,000 units annually is "on schedule" and should be virtually complete by the end of the year. The Vauxhall program, launched in 1954, includes construction of more than three million square feet of floor space for a new press shop, body and final assembly building at Luton, and truck manufacturing and parts warehousing facilities at Dunstable.

Marlette Optioning Land for New Plant

MARLETTE—At a recent meeting of the Village Council an option was taken on 22 acres of land for a sewage disposal plant.

The land is part of 40 acres located one mile east of the village of Marlette. The option was obtained from Henry Setter, according to Village Clerk Cecil Dawson.

The council also approved the acceptance of two new subdivisions, the Harry Dawson and the William Little subdivisions, also two building permits for the Marlette Coach Co. were approved.

Imlay OES Elects New Officer Staff

IMLAY CITY—The Imlay City Chapter OES held election of officers this week.

New officers are: worthy matron, Mrs. Wallace Johnson; worthy patron, Wallace Johnson; associate matron, Mrs. Keith Clark; associate patron, Keith Clark; secretary, Mrs. George Noble; and treasurer, Mrs. Russell Brechbiel.

Installation will be held Nov. 8.

OK Mouseketeer Pacts

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Mice in the courtroom? There certainly were—21 of them, and they all had movie contracts approved. The troupe of youngsters, members of the Mickey Mouse club, range in age from 9 to 17. Superior Judge Harold W. Schweitzer yesterday approved their contracts and options so they can continue to appear in film and television production for Walt Disney Studio.

Accused Detective Quits

DETROIT (UP) — Heiney A. Wagner, 43, a detective sergeant, resigned Friday from the Detroit Police Department under charges he accepted $50 to free a man from jail. The man was being held in a stabbing case. Police Commissioner Edward Piggins ordered the Wagner case turned over to the Wayne County prosecutor.

Imperial for '57 Lower, Packs More Horsepower

A lower 1957 Imperial with stepped-up horsepower, torsion bar suspension, curved side glass, dual headlights and four-way wrap-around windshield was announced today by Chrysler Corp.

* * *

The new car, in "arrested motion" styling, will be unveiled by dealers Oct. 30.

"We are broadening the market for this automobile by offering it for the first time in four distinct series and in every popular body style," said Clare E. Briggs, vice president in charge of sales.

It incorporates such engineering features as three-speed pushbutton drive, ball joint torsion-bar front suspension, 14-inch wheels, adjustable six-way power seats, air conditioning and heating system, recessed safety door handles and torsion-bar top lock on the convertible.

MORE HORSEPOWER

A new engine delivers increased horsepower. The 1957 Imperials are nearly four inches lower and three inches wider, yet include more leg room and head room than last year's models.

New safety door handles, requiring only an upward motion of the hand, are recessed.

The rear deck slopes sharply to the bumper between rear tail fins canted outward to emphasize width. A deck lid with molded spare tire impression is available at extra cost. Large openings in the wrap-around rear bumper house recessed back-up lights. Twin tail pipes are concealed behind the bumper.

Gunsight tail lights, Imperial's trademark, have been molded into rear fenders for the first time.

See Big Year for New Cars

No Old Model Backlog, Lots of Style Changes Bolster Prospects

DETROIT (UP)—The nation's auto makers and merchandisers start the 1957 model year with all factors favoring big output and sales in the 12 months ahead.

* * *

Two factors standing out are:

Retailers have no accumulation of unsold outgoing models; the 1956 cars will have been disposed of by the time the new model gets into full stride.

The new models have perhaps the greatest eye-appeal and engineering refinement ever offered simultaneously by all makes in any one new model year.

NO SALES PROBLEM

Prices are higher for most models. The increases generally are attributed to higher labor and materials costs and the styling and the general design improvements. Industry experts who have seen all the 1957 models agree retailers will have little difficulty selling buyers on the lower, longer cars with soaring tail fins, wider glass area and further improved power plants.

And many experts, after examining the industry's newest offerings, are inclined to go along with inside-industry predictions the new car market in 1957 will absorb at least 6½ million units.

Along with sharp reduction in new car inventories before the 1957 models began to arrive from the factory, the franchised dealers have greatly improved their used car situation.

One recent survey indicates stocks of used cars in the hands of new car dealers are at the lowest level of the year. The survey does not take into account the used car stocks of dealers whose sole business is dealing in second hand cars.

Earnings

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (INS) — Net sales and earnings of General Foods Corp. in the six months ended Sept. 30 were the highest for any corresponding period in the company's history. Sales amounted to $468,593,000, a gain of more than $28 million. Net earnings were $23,430,000, equal to $1.90 a share, compared with $20,817,000, or $1.76 a share, a year earlier.

THE STORY OF GLASS — 6
In Our Daily Lives

Glass is no longer a luxury, as it was in early days. It is important and vital in modern life, yet we are so used to it that we take it for granted.

Here is a picture to show you a few of its uses, but there are many more. Look around your home and see how many places you can find glass in use.

Janet is holding a mirror, in which she has been admiring her string of glass beads, and beside her is a little glass elephant ornament. Behind her is a window letting in the sunlight, and overhead is an electric light.

At the right is a thermometer, and the radio on the wall has glass tubes in it. The milk bottle, tumbler, bowl, measuring cup, and soda bottles are all made from glass.

Color this picture with your crayons, and then paste it down on cardboard. Cut around the top edges of the bowl, measuring cup and tumbler and bend at dotted lines. Then, when you fold the bottom panel forward at the dotted line they will stand up. Now you have a collection of pictures on the story of glass, and can have your own glass museum.

'Lucy' Soars to Top Spot in Trendex Video Ratings

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — "I Love Lucy" bounced back to the tip of the top Trendex TV shows . . . The nine others: The Ed Sullivan Show, Climax, Skelton, Lineup, Gleason, Montgomery, $64,000 Question; What's My Line, and General Electric Theater.

Do we need another TV quiz? Well, we're getting one — "The Price Is Right," involving housewives and bargains, and it replaces the 10:30 a.m. TV portion of NBC's wobbly "bandstand."

NBC-TV's "The Great War" bit off a bigger chunk of history than it could chew importantly in one hour. It was just a crisply produced martial newsreel . . .

Fess (Davy Crockett) Parker sings opera on Gobel's show tonight.

Bert Lahr is Ray Bolger's first guest star on NBC's Washington Square," starting tomorrow.

GRANDMA AGAIN

Gertrude Berg (Molly Goldberg) is a grandma for the fourth time via grandson Henry, born to daughter Mrs. David Schwartz.

Too bad John Cameron Swayze's anti-freeze TV sponsor couldn't keep him from being frozen out of his new job . . .

Studio One gets knocked off two weeks in a row by election blab . . .

Amazing, two TV stars accusing each other of stealing such bad taste as the James Dean grave-robbing . . . Any more James Dean "tributes" and Rudy Valentino may demand equal time . . .

Bob Hope contacted his agent to sign up Don Larsen during the seventh inning of his perfect World Series game, explaining how Bob beat Sullivan to Don.

Don McNeil's Breakfast Club radio singer Betty Johnson makes her first TV acting try on NBC's suds serial, "Modern Romances." The sequence is called "I Dreamed," and by no coincidence Betty has a new record with that title . . .

Butler Blasts GOP in Idaho

Raps Political Publicity Stunt by Ike Regarding Start of Dam Project

COUER D'ALENE, Idaho (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler charged last night the setting off of two dynamite explosions by President Eisenhower in the upper Colorado River basin Monday were "nothing but the cheapest sort of political publicity stunt."

Eisenhower set off the explosions by touching a telegraph key in the White House. They signaled the start of a construction of two dams on the Colorado River — at Glen Canyon, just downstream from the Utah-Arizona border, and at Flaming Gorge canyon, just south of the Utah-Wyoming line.

Eisenhower referred to the upper Colorado project in his Portland speech Thursday night as government's awareness of federal responsibility."

Butler, here to address a Democratic rally, charged the explosions were "nothing but blasts of Republican hot air."

Butler said construction contracts for the dams had not been let at the time of the blasts "and almost anyone knows you don't start blasting away on a dam project until you have hired the construction workers."

Senators to Study Tanya's Abduction

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alexi Chwastov's effort to take his American-born daughter, Tanya, to live in Russia over her mother's objections will be studied next week by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

* * *

Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) said the first witness at two days of public hearings starting Monday will be Roland Elliott, an official of Church World Services. It was on the basis of a suit by that organization that British officials removed the 2½-year-old girl from a Russian ship as it was preparing to leave Britain for the Soviet.

* * *

The suit was brought on behalf of the child's mother, Mrs. Elena Dieczok of Detroit. The British court eventually will decide whether custody of the child goes to the father or mother.

* * *

Chwastov is a native of Russia who came to this country as a displaced person. He and the child had sailed from New York Oct. 3, eluding U.S. immigration officials.

U. S. Carrier Rushing to Aid Ship in Typhoon

MANILA (AP)—The U.S.S. Essex headed through typhoon - tossed seas today in an effort to reach the stricken Philippine ship Lepus in the Pacific off the northeastern Philippines.

Latest distress messages from the Lepus said water was entering one of her hatches. The ship has 36 crew members, no passengers.

The Lepus, 1,666-ton freighter owned by the Madrigal Shipping Co. of Manila, said it was in the vicinity of Typhoon Jean now bearing down on the Philippines with 110 mile-an-hour winds.

Contract Probe Won't Call Hall

Excuse GOP Chairman From Telling If Bids Went to Party Faithful

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jack Brooks (D-Tex) said today he does not plan to force Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall to testify on allegations of political pressure in the award of a big government contract.

* * *

Brooks, chairman of a House Government Operations subcommittee, said he would not subpoena Hall to testify because "I'm just afraid it would be regarded as political."

* * *

Hall, who has offered to testify any time after Election Day, declined an invitation to appear yesterday, saying he was too busy with the current political campaign.

* * *

Brooks said the subcommittee would decide whether to hold more hearings on the 1954 award of a 43 million dollar contract to expand a government nickel plant in Nicaro, Cuba. However, Brooks said he believed the inquiry — which began last January — is about finished.

* * *

Two days of hearings on the matter ended yesterday amid Democratic-Republican recriminations which have marked the proceedings from the beginning. Once again, GOP members of the group were absent. They have denounced the hearings as politically inspired.

Japan Treaty With Russia Ends War — but Little Else

MOSCOW (AP) — The Japan-Soviet Union agreement is not a formal peace treaty but merely ends the 11-year technical state of war. No date has been fixed for a conference on a peace treaty.

* * *

The joint declaration today proclaimed agreement on 10 points:

1. To end the state of war between the Soviet Union and Japan.
2. That diplomatic relations shall be re-established.

* * *

3. That relations be based on the principles of the United Nations.
4. The U.S.S.R. supports Japan's application to be accepted as a U.N. member.
5. The Soviet Union promises to release and repatriate all Japanese prisoners of war.
6. The Soviet Union renounces reparations claims.
7. The two countries are to negotiate in the sphere of trade, merchant navigation and other commercial relationships.
8. The convention on fishing in the north Pacific and the agreement over air-sea rescue, signed in Moscow last May, goes into force.
9. The Soviet Union and Japan agree to continue negotiations on the conclusion of a formal peace treaty after the re-establishment of normal diplomatic relations.

The agreement on the crucial territorial issue was contained under point 9:

"The U.S.S.R., meeting the wishes of Japan and taking into account the interests of the Japanese state, agrees to hand over the Habomais and Shikotan islands to Japan with the proviso that the actual handing over of the islands to Japan will be carried out after the conclusion of a formal peace treaty."

10. The joint declaration is subject to ratification and will come into force on the day ratification instruments are exchanged.

Aide to Rep. Powell Guilty of Tax Evasion

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) says a secretary of his convicted of income tax evasion "got the rawest deal anyone ever got."

* * *

The secretary, Acy Lennon, 53, was convicted yesterday on four of six counts of evading $4,210 in income taxes from 1949 through 1954.

* * *

Federal Judge Archie O. Dawson presided at the trial.

The maximum sentence Lennon can receive is 20 years in prison and $40,000 in fines. He is scheduled for sentencing Monday.

* * *

Powell last night repeated his statement that "no pressure whatever" had been brought on him to announce his support of President Eisenhower for re-election.

Powell, a Democrat, supported Adlai E. Stevenson in 1952. Last week he announced he was switching to Eisenhower.

Six New York Negro Democratic leaders claimed Powell switched allegiance because of White House pressure in connection with the tax difficulties of his three staff members.
