

Seeks Seat to Represent District 4

An Oakland County Department of Public Works employee, George Grba, today announced he will seek the District 4 nomination for city commissioner.

Grba, 33, of 28 Kimball said he was "compelled to run by principle, not by personal ambition."

"I am a strong supporter of good government by example and setting things right, without forgetting the people," Grba said.

He is chief maintenance inspector for the county DPW.

CITY NATIVE

Grba, a native of Pontiac, will be seeking his first political office. He is the second person to enter the District 4 race running against incumbent commissioner W. Ford E. Bottom.

Bottom wasn't announced whether he will seek reelection. If he does, a primary would now be needed in his district.

Grba is a U.S. Army veteran of the Korean conflict and a graduate of Ferris Institute.

He is married and the father of two girls.

NO PARTY

In announcing his candidacy, Grba emphasized he will run as an independent.

"I will not align myself with the website control, downtown pressure group or those radical elements that create personal strife," he said.

"I will represent District 4 and support constructive programs for Pontiac," he concluded.

Cong Attacks U.S. Outpost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Two Communist guerrillas were killed and one U.S. officer wounded today in the first Viet Cong raid on an American military compound since 1959.

Maj. Gen. Charles J. Timmes, commander of the U.S. Military Advisory Assistance Command in Viet Nam, flew to the mountain city of Kontum, 260 miles northeast of Saigon, to present the Army Commendation Medal to the soldier who killed the guerrillas, Spec. 4-Gale D. Flinn of Fowler, Kan.

The award is the highest that Timmes is authorized to give without reference to a higher command.

MOST DARING

The grenade attack was made at 4:30 a.m. on the headquarters of a detachment of 130 U.S. officers and men in Kontum. It was the most daring Viet Cong exploit against an American unit since terrorists in 1959 invaded a movie performance at an American billet and killed a U.S. major and a sergeant with grenades and machine-gun fire.

Flinn was on sentry duty because nine Vietnamese Civil Guards stationed at the compound had deserted. It was believed they might have been involved in the plan to attack the compound.

Under cover of darkness, four guerrillas cut their way through a barbed wire fence around the compound.

While one guerrilla stood guard at the fence, three others ran toward a building housing field grade officers, who range from major to colonel.

to range from $110 to $145 a month. Rents include all utilities except electricity.

John Burnie of Citizens Mortgage Corp. explained that "the insurance company's decision to finance this was based on a market survey which showed there is a need for new apartment dwellings in Pontiac."

Mayor Landry hailed the project Saturday as "the first major development in Pontiac's rebuilding program."

"This will definitely help to strengthen our tax base and I'm sure these plans will act to spur more development in our city."

Firings Asked in Flint

FLINT (AP)—Genesee County's one-man grand jury recommended today the firing of two Flint administrative officers and three other city employees for alleged misfeasance and neglect of duty.

Circuit Court Judge Donn D. Parker, issuing a grand jury directive, also recommended the firing of a contract employee of the city for other reasons.

The action stemmed from Parker's investigation of Flint's Lake Huron water supply project and an expansion project at the water treatment plant.

Parker directed Flint City Manager Thomas Kay and the City Commission to take steps to discharge the six men. The City Commission scheduled an executive session late today to consider the findings.

MEN LISTED

Parker listed the following men in his directives:

Oley L. Craft, Flint finance director; Lloyd S. Hendon, city clerk; Theodore D. Moss, director of the Department of Public Works; Gerald Childers, city planner; Albert C. Hull, director of the Department of Purchases and Supplies; and Henry M. Foley, contract employee assigned to the city manager's staff consultant on the water supply and sewage project.

Plane Crash Kills All 10 Passengers

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A South Central Airlines twin-engine passenger plane burst into flames immediately after take-off today, killing all 10 persons aboard when it plunged into the edge of the runway.

The Beechcraft airplane was Flight 510 which originated in Ocala and was en route to Jacksonville.

Several people ran to the crashed plane and tried frantically to open a door.

Jo Ann Rowell, a secretary, said the sound of the engine on takeoff indicated there was some trouble. She said she immediately went outside the terminal.

BLAZE SO HOT

Would-be rescuers said they could see people sitting in their seats inside the craft, but the blaze was so hot they had to give up attempts to break open the door.

"We were trying to get the door open, but it was too hot," said Miss Rowell, who joined those at the wreckage. "We could see two people inside. They were burning."

D. M. Carroll, a city employee, said:

"It looked like the plane was about 200 feet high. The left-hand motor cut off and the engine made a whining sound. The plane turned on its left side, just like a plane circles an airport when it's way up in the air."

"Then it hit the runway and exploded and burst into flames."

Lt. Courtney Roberts of the Gainesville Police Department said identification of the bodies could not be made immediately. Eyewitnesses said only the plane's tail section and wings remained intact.

FEEDER LINE

South Central, a feeder line, serves small cities in Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas. It has a fleet of eight of the twin-engine Beechcraft.

The firm's headquarters are at Ocala, Fla. It serves Charlotte and Wilmington, N.C.; Florence, Myrtle Beach, Georgetown and Charleston, S.C.; Savannah and Brunswick, Ga.; Tallahassee, Jacksonville, Palatka, Gainesville, Ocala, Daytona Beach, Orlando, Cocoa, Melbourne, Lakeland, Bartow, Tampa, West Palm Beach, Fort Lauderdale and Miami, Fla.

Latest body priming and metal treatment facilities at the Pontiac assembly plant offer advanced corrosion resistance in the new truck.

Underbody moisture traps have been eliminated, and side, roof and front panels are one piece to eliminate corrosion-prone body joints.

Students Face Suspension for Fraternity Affiliation

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education has clamped down on two more high school secret societies.

About 12 students are to be suspended from Seaborn High School as a result of their affiliation with two fraternities.

At a special meeting yesterday, the board adopted the recommendation of Schools Supt. Dr. John B. Smith regarding the groups.

Cited were organizations known as KST and MSCP.

TO BE SUSPENDED

Students who have been active members of either group during the current school year are to be suspended from school for 20 days.

Length of suspension for boys who have pledged the organizations this year will be 10 days. They will have no makeup privileges.

Suspension is to begin Thursday, after the students involved and their parents are notified by Seaborn Principal Ross A. Wagner.

Smith said about 12 boys have admitted affiliation with the groups.

LAW FORBIDS

The board's crackdown began last summer when letters were sent to parents reminding them that state statute forbids participation in secret societies by public school students.

Representatives of Tau Alpha Epsilon, one of the Seaborn fraternities involved, last night reaffirmed that the organization has been inactive at the high school this year.

A-P John C. Swan

The family of a 19-year-old Bloomfield Township youth serving in the Air Force has been notified of his death in Misawa, Japan.

Air Policeman John C. Swan of 2375 E. Hammond Lake reportedly was shot in the head Saturday. No further details were made known.

The body is being returned to the United States. Arrangements are pending at Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Marcum of Bloomfield Township; his sister, Margaret, at home; and his brother, Fred of Pontiac.

Deadline Is 8 Tonight for Voter Registration

The deadline for registering to vote in the March 2 city commission primary is 8 p.m. tonight. City Clerk Olga Barkey reminded Pontiac residents today.

The clerk's office, on the main floor at City Hall, will remain open until 8 to accept voter registrations. It normally closes at 5.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer tries notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so—even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dynas)—now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H. In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

Reflections From Clerk's Office

License Statistics Tell Human Stories

By DICK SAUNDERS

There are many little human stories told about a city and its people in the license and permit statistics for 1963, just compiled by City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

Remember when there was a big rush for dance permits last summer after the City Commission made dancing in bars legal?

People may have decided they'd rather dance than dance. Although commissioners subsequently approved at least a half-dozen dance permits, only two were ever issued by the city clerk.

ONE LESS DANCE HALL

The permits cost $300 each. In 1963 there was only one less dance hall in Pontiac. Permits went for $25 then.

Many such oddities about this city and its people are contained in the city clerk's annual report.

A little-known ordinance, for example, eliminated "Baked Goods" from the list of licenses and cut $300 off the license fee total.

One ordinance requires $100 permits for door-to-door bakery truck operators, but a more obscure law allows peddlers who are veterans to sell their wares without being licensed.

VETERANS DRIVE

Now veterans drive bakery trucks.

If you think there were lots of fireworks here last year, you're wrong. Only 11 permits were issued for fireworks displays, compared to 17 in 1962.

It wasn't as easy to get gas either. There were 231 gas pumps licensed, 11 less than the year before.

Let's face it, 1963 just wasn't a year for auctions (there were 10 fewer auctioneers). Pontiac added two more roller skating rinks and 17 more licensed pin ball machines.

Indoor sport picked up somewhat. There were 47 pool and billiard tables licensed here last year compared to 35 in 1962.

Chances are it was easier to hail a taxicab than to find one parked and waiting. There were 11 more taxicabs licensed but five less taxicab spaces than the year before.

A good many things at city hall went to the dogs last year. The clerk issued 3,683 dog licenses compared to 3,450 the year before.

It was the first time in recent years that the sale of dog licenses had increased, boosting income from pooch permits some $500 over the 1962 take.

However, income from all the licenses and permits issued last year was a little off the 1962 total of $43,088. Last year's total was $43,075.

But many residents took it sitting down—on 40 courtesy benches at bus stops. A new item in the license list, brought $80 in fees.

If things got too rough, you could always crawl into a hole in the ground. There were two more underground vaults built in Pontiac than the year before.

Deductions Charted for State Sales Tax

The steady approach of the income tax filing deadline has promoted unusual interest in possible deductions of 1 per-cent Michigan sales taxes.

For persons filing the itemized, or long form, income tax return, The Press here reprints a chart showing how much can be listed for the sales tax.

R. I. Nixon, district IRS director, said taxpayers are required to substantiate any deduction they claim.

"Ordinarily however, they will not be asked to support the sales tax deduction claimed unless it exceeds the amount shown in the table."

ACCOUNTED FOR

Nixon said the table takes into account state taxes paid on large household items and automobiles, so these major items cannot be added to the allowance.

Nor is the Michigan cigarette tax deductible, Nixon reminded. Oakland County residents can contact the IRS office in the more information about the de-Pontiac Federal Building for direction.

Army Guard Kills Woman in Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — A U.S. Army spokesman announced today that a South Korean woman was killed by an American guard after she trespassed on an Army compound.

The incident occurred early yesterday near the headquarters of the 7th Infantry Division about 20 miles north of Seoul.

The victim, Suh Yong-ja, 34, ignored repeated challenges and started running, the spokesman said. A Korean with the woman escaped, apparently unhurt.

The spokesman said the guard's name would not be announced until after an investigation is completed.

The whale shark is the largest fish, growing to a length of 45 feet.

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — A car swung off a street curve across a lawn and into a house at 11 a.m. Sunday, caved in a bedroom wall and hurled a woman out of bed.

Helen Schwarze, 50, was taken to a hospital with head lacerations and a possible concussion.

Police said the car driver was Douglas Ray Olmstead, 20, of Palo Alto. He and a passenger were unhurt.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The following questions and answers on income tax problems are offered as a public service by the Internal Revenue Service.)

QUESTION: Why is it so important for me to enter my social security number on my federal income tax return?

ANSWER: Starting with the 1962 returns, Social Security numbers are also a taxpayer identification number.

These identification numbers will be used in processing returns through the automatic data-processing equipment newly installed by the Internal Revenue Service.

For the answer to your question call your local Internal Revenue Service office.

Aide to Erhard Takes Own Life

War Crime Suspect Found Hanged in Cell

DORTMUND, Germany (AP) — Ewald Peters, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's chief security officer, hanged himself during the night in the jail where he was being held on suspicion of war crimes, the state prosecutor's office announced today.

The prosecutor's office said Peters used a bed sheet for a rope and tied it to the window of his cell.

Peters had made the security arrangements for Erhard's trip to visit President Johnson in Texas last December as well as for his recent visits to London and Rome.

He was arrested in Bonn last Friday after he returned from Rome with the chancellor.

HELD FOR KILLING

He was being held in the Bonn jail on suspicion of taking part in mass killing of Jews in the Soviet Union during World War II.

Peters was one of two leading members of Erhard's government accused of war crimes. The government is investigating communist charges that Refugee Minister Hans Krueger committed such crimes during the Nazi occupation of Poland.

Krueger resigned Saturday, saying he had committed no crimes but did not want to damage the government.

Details of the charges against Peters were not made public. However, a government official said he has been the head of a police unit.

INVESTIGATED

He had been investigated in 1960 by the Central War Crimes Office at Ludwigsburg but nothing was found to incriminate him.

It was not known what led to his arrest. Officials refused all comment.

Shortly after the assassination of U.S. President John F. Kennedy, Peters appeared in a national television program. Some observers believe someone who knew him in Russia may have recognized him.

A PROGRESS REPORT TO ITS SUBSCRIBERS BY BLUE SHIELD, THE MEDICAL-SURGICAL CARE PLAN WHICH PAYS YOUR DOCTOR FOR YOU . . .

In 1953, Michigan Blue Shield paid $77,747 Medical-Surgical Bills for its subscribers. In 1963, over 3,000,000 bills were paid.

Because of this volume, any savings in administrative and operating costs can be significant, and all procedures are the subject of constant research and study.

In recent years, for example, research led to the installation of modern electronic data processing equipment that helped increase bill paying efficiency, and other Blue Shield administrative procedures.

Now, as the result of studies begun several years ago, Blue Shield is inaugurating several "Billing Procedure" requirements. These requirements are necessary to provide ever increasingly efficient and proper administration.

The requirements, in brief, are these:—

1. Because your Doctor has the final responsibility for your Medical-Surgical care, Blue Shield requires, effective February 1, 1964, that all charges submitted for payment by Blue Shield must be signed by the Doctor performing the service. His signature must appear on every invoice rendered to Blue Shield for payment.

2. The Medical and/or Surgical services being billed to Blue Shield shall be described in a manner that will enable Blue Shield to more quickly and accurately determine the amount to be paid to your Doctor.

These requirements have been put into effect in the interest of better cost control, uniform billing procedures, and over-all efficiency. They will serve as an added safeguard for you, the Blue Shield subscriber. Further, by order of its directors, Blue Shield management will, as in the past, protect without charge, any subscriber whom it learns has been improperly billed for services in his Blue Shield contract.

The requirements cited in this report have been made only in the interest of securing the maximum amount of Medical Care possible for your Blue Shield dollar. Blue Shield, a non-profit organization directed by 33 community leaders from the fields of business, labor and medicine, is proud of the fact that over 94% of every subscriber's dollar goes for better health protection. Blue Shield, as always, is dedicated to remaining "The First Choice of Those Who Have A Choice."

Guinea's Economy in Trouble After Five Years of Marxism

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
CONAKRY, Guinea (AP) — Guinea's economy is in serious trouble after a five-year effort to adopt Marxism. The United States is being asked to help the former French colony in West Africa to survive.

The government of President Sekou Toure has asked the United States for $30 million worth of commodities for the current year in addition to $15 million worth of food already approved.

There are serious doubts that Washington will approve the entire sum. Uncertainty shrouds the future of the first African nation to hoist the banner of Socialist revolution.

The experiment has showed that socialism does not bring magic solutions to the problems of underdeveloped nations.

RIOTING REPORTS
There are persistent reports of rioting in the interior jungle and bush. American diplomats here, who are generally sympathetic to the young country's plight, are recommending that as much help as possible be granted. They describe Guinea as an "experiment in complete independence" in contrast to most of Africa which still relies heavily on former colonial masters.

Potentially one of the richest countries in West Africa because of bauxite (aluminum) deposits and rich pineapple and banana plantations, Guinea cut itself off from France in 1958 and turned to the Soviet bloc for help. Communist money and technicians poured in but resulted in a series of failures and disappointments. Experts believe that in effect the economy collapsed. But the shock was reduced because 80 per cent of the 3 million people live outside a monetary economy.

BUNGLING METHODS
Pessimists among both Communist and Western observers believe ill-adapted methods and bungling have slowed Guinea's development for years.

The controlled radio and press continues to wage a vigorous campaign against "the sequel of colonialism" and speaks of leading the rest of Africa toward revolution.

Some Western diplomats point out that what is being described as an experiment in total independence was propped up — for better or for worse — by nearly 2,000 Soviet bloc technicians. The number is now about half that.

Japan, China Brewing Big Plant Deal
TOKYO (UPI) — Another big business deal between Japanese industry and Communist China may be signed in April.

The last such transaction brought Nationalist China to the brink of breaking diplomatic relations with Japan. It may happen again.

Textile industry sources said Japan's Dai Nippon spinning company is ready to sell Communist China a second vinyl synthetic textile plant.

The sales contract probably will be signed in Peking in April, the sources said. The price: $27.7 million to $30 million, including a fee for technical guidance.

APPROVAL LIKELY
Japan's Conservative government probably will approve the sale as it did last year on another vinyl plant for the Chinese mainland.

Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda favors trade with Red China. But he is not ready to accept Socialist de-

Americans are slowly moving in. So far 50 aid technicians and a Peace Corps contingent have arrived.

France in Mao Tse-tung's Government
Formosa was so angry over Japan's trade with Red China, plus Tokyo's repatriation of a Communist Chinese interpreter, that it almost broke diplomatic relations.

Nationalist China did cut off some of its trade with Japan, a big sacrifice — for Formosa. About 50 per cent of Formosa's exports go to Japan.

FORMOSA PROTESTS
Demonstrations broke out in Taipei at the Japanese embassy. Windows were broken before police arrived.

Some Nationalists, particularly military men who fought in World War II, still harbor personal dislike for the Japanese. Taipei reports said a Nationalist army officer tried to seize command of the armor corps partly because he was angry the government did not take a firmer anti-Japanese stand.

The Russians appear to be phasing out their aid to Guinea but still keeping important long-range trade deals. They buy 90 per cent of the pineapple and banana crop and supply most of the gasoline and rolling stock.

America's growing interest in Guinea apparently has angered

France, which wanted to punish the country for choosing immediate rather than progressive independence.

Toure still maintains strong ties and political preference for the East. The French-speaking Guinean elite prefer France and things French. Americans are considered somewhat funny strangers.

It Seems to Me . . .

Recent Political Happenings Arousing Pontiac's Interest

Pontiac politics are popping.

Within a fairly short space of time, we have witnessed the Jaycee vote on the charter amendment which carried by the most overwhelming margin of anything that has been on a local ballot since they made Chief Pontiac the Indian of the Year. Following that, we witnessed a surprising and gratifying interest among candidates for the commission in April. Several men stepped forward from each district almost immediately and others will probably follow.

And now we face two added developments which are certain to have a direct bearing on the primaries and elections ahead. The new City Manager, ROBERT A. CARTER, was indicted by a Flint grand jury and arrested in connection with procedures that took place when he was city manager of Flint—and which preceded his departure.

Mr. Carter is released on bond and says he welcomes the chance to explain his version of the transactions in court. He will be given the opportunity. There was considerable discussion when the Pontiac Commission engaged Mr. Carter because of the situation in Flint and Commissioner William Taylor refrained from voting for Mr. Carter when he was officially tendered the place by the other six commissioners.

And now Commissioner MILTON HENRY resigns and declares he will turn his attention "to greater things." This is probably a very sensible decision and will redound to the benefit of Mr. Henry and to the City of Pontiac. He has been a controversial figure ever since he went to the City Hall and was often the willing cause of turmoil through his arrests and attacks on others.

All of these factors add up to a spirited primary and election, in the spring. The citywide discussions will be a healthy thing for the community and should result in a much stronger government and commission.

Pontiac people have really been aroused.

Much Worse . . .

The Asiatic situation worsens. You wonder now whether even the impetuous CHARLES DE GAULLE envisioned the full consequences of his precipitate recognition of Red China. And his own rocky ship of state still heads into the open seas with breakers ahead.

Secretary of State Rusk paints a dark picture of France's new associate and points out graphically that Peking is the current menace in South Asia and is openly planning on forays into Latin America. The word "peace" has little place in the Red China scheme of affairs. Belligerence is the theme song. She "orders" de Gaulle to break with Nationalist China to his amazement and he balks; but he has deliberately let himself in for this kind of international badgering. Either he goes along or he must acknowledge that he blundered.

He's in a self-made jam.

Just as this alliance aids Red China's position in Asia, it definitely damages the U.S. battle there against communism. And if the French actions sway a flock of African colonies to vote for Red China's admission to the U.N., de GAULLE's disservice to the world will be incalculable. If this comes about, it may be high time for the United States to consider picking up her marbles and fading from the U.N. scene.

President Johnson is understandably wrought up and he wants the U. N. assembly meeting scheduled for September put off until after the elections. The President doesn't fancy running for office after Red China has bullied her way into the United Nations over our strenuous protests. Our prestige would suffer and the voters might take this into account when they visited the polling places in November.

As Red China cracks the whip in Southeastern Asia, her endorsement by France suggests that de GAULLE either fumbled the ball badly at a psychological moment—or played it that way on purpose. The Chicago Tribune states that "endorsement at this precise juncture, suggests a malicious intent." Those are strong words.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

After all the bills for the Estes luncheon were paid, your committee of three found itself with a balance of $26.27 which was mailed to the United Fund. . . . Husband: "Guess how many famous people there are in Pontiac?" Wife: "I'm not sure, but it's one less than you think." . . . Somerset Maugham is hard at work on a novel involving the dime-a-dance girls—and he turned ninety. . . . "JFK: The Man and the Myth" was on all the best seller lists when the assassination happened and it was immediately withdrawn from publication. But now the mail orders have put it into its 15th edition.

Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive area young lady: DIANA BADER. . . . The Chicago Tribune says at least 32 new TV shows are planned for the fall. Garry Moore, Mitch Miller and Phil Silvers have network thumbs bending downward. . . . Ed Sullivan says Eddie Fisher's blasts at Elizabeth Taylor "sound stupid, as he ran out on Debbie Reynolds and their two children himself." Sullivan advises him (in print) to "shut up." And Sullivan isn't carrying the torch for Taylor.

Overheard: "My wife's driving has improved so much we can repair the car nowadays instead of replacing it." . . . Prez Johnson's favorite TV show is "Bonanza." (It's my wife's, too.) And it sank Judy Garland. . . . In case you didn't know it, the greatest U.S. chess player is Bobby Fischer. He's still very young and has enough time to work up to those two rough, tough Russians. . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jiggs: The C's—Michigan basketball team; the J's—Detroit schools for the way discipline has gotten out of hand.

'You've Made My Visit A Happy One!'

David Lawrence Says:

Debt Is Increasing Alarmingly

WASHINGTON—Public debt and private debt are increasing at an alarming rate. The facts are being glossed over or ignored in Washington. Scant attention has been paid to unpleasant truths such as were discussed in a speech, a few days ago by Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.).

He gave the Senate a comprehensive outline of the deteriorating situation in the finances of the United States government.

Certainly under the doctrine of "equal time," Mr. Byrd—as the principal spokesman of the opposition viewpoint and the Senate's Finance Committee chairman—deserves for his arguments equal prominence in the press in relation to the optimistic statements by President Johnson recently in his economic report to Congress.

For Sen. Byrd's speech contains significant facts which, if they continue to go unheeded by governmental policy makers, could cause a worse catastrophe than occurred in the 1930's. Sen. Byrd put it this way:

"The federal deficit last year was $6.3 billion. This year it will be $10 billion. Together, these will become the greatest two-year peacetime deficit in history—totaling $16.3 billion.

DEPRESSION DEFICITS

"The depression deficits of the '30's raised the federal debt from $16 billion to $43 billion. The bigger and faster deficits of the '50's are raising the debt from $59 billion to some $320 billion.

"There is no doubt about the fact that federal taxes are too high. They should be cut. But the hard fact is that the basic reason for federal taxes is to meet federal expenditures."

The Virginia senator said it is easy to blame war, "cold war" and national defense for the steady rise in federal expenditures, but he declared that "the big increases in spending are in the domestic—civilian programs."

He pointed out that, since the Korean War, the federal spending total has increased by more than $30 billion, and that, out of this sum, only $7.5 billion was for military and related activities, such as foreign aid.

GNP GROWTH

Byrd criticized the oft-repeated reference to the growth of the gross national product as an indication of remarkable progress, and said:

"Increasing debt and continuing deficits follow the pattern of economic philosophy which has been dominating federal policy in recent years. Debt is used to increase the so-called gross national product."

"State and local debt now appears to be rising at a rate approaching $10 billion a year. . . .

"Federal programs to encourage the use of public credit include those for the insurance and guarantee of private mortgages and loans. . . .

TOTAL DEBT

"This debt philosophy has apparently permeated the national economy. Total debt—federal, state and local, corporate, and private—has been increasing at a rate of about $65 billion a year. It now totals more than a trillion dollars. . . .

Byrd, of course, is against the pending tax-reduction bill because he thinks expenditures should first be cut.

The senator questioned whether the enactment of such a tax measure at this time would contribute to "sound and constructive progress."

He pointed out that a tax-reduction bill also was passed in 1954 and yet, in the 11 fiscal years since then, net federal deficits have totaled $46.4 billion, "including the budget estimates for this year and next."

The senator therefore contended that, since tax reductions have not stimulated the economy to the point where deficits can be removed, deficit spending has not proved successful.

Money for Oswald Widow Is Bewildering to Friend

NEW YORK—People . . .

Places . . . Things . . .

My distinguished British journalist friend, Henry Thody, is bewildered by news of approximately $200,000 sent to Mrs. Lee Oswald since the assassination of President Kennedy.

"She must be flabbergasted," the over-whelmed Henry said at the Choppers Press Club bar "other night."

"I was married to a Slav once. Grand girl, curious mind."

"Mrs. Oswald, thinking as a Slav, must be saying to herself: . . .

"What manner of country am I in? If my husband had shot Khrushchev during the time we were living in Russia, not only he but I would be dead now. But sounds! Here they send me money. . . .

Best quote I've heard and I hope it's authentic in connection with the argument between the Air Force generals and the defense department over the need for a new manned bomber is credited to Gen. Curt LeMay.

"If somebody can prove to me that the airplane invented the Wright brothers, I'll forget what I've said about the manned bomber."

Tip from the American Medical Association on how to give them up:

"The smoker must be stopped completely, not even one cigaret per day permitted."

"The smoker should pick a target date, such as a weekend away from smoking associates."

"He should publicly state his intentions to stop on this day."

MOST IMPORTANT

"On D-day, the patient should realize that the first eight hours are the most important.

"Gum and candy are helpful substitutes."

Ill-Housed

The New York Herald Tribune

The man who said that "Congress' right hand talks economy while its left hand pours money down a rat-hole" may have been guilty of a metaphorical atrocity, but he made his point.

If he were alive today he might have something further of interest to say about a House of Representatives that preaches sermons on thrift while spending nine years and $83 million for an unfinished third office building to be equipped with those essentials for survival like heated swimming pools, a gymnasium and three-room suites.

Work was supposed to have been completed two years ago but occupancy of the so-called Rayburn Building is still many months, and many millions, in the future. Just why the House feels so ill-housed in its two fine edifices (its membership hasn't changed in half a century) isn't clear, but its war on poverty sure is hell.

Then take a look at the horrible crimes in our county last year and read the psychiatrists' comments.

It was my good fortune to work for Dr. C. A. Neafie and Dr. John D. Monroe, two fine health directors in Pontiac and Oakland County. These two gave their entire professional lives to further health needs in our area.

Michigan has a definite lack of facilities for the care and treatment of the mentally ill. How it must have grieved Dr. Monroe when a youngster found guilty of murder was ordered to the state hospital for treatment, but there was no room and he had to be kept in the youth home for several months.

People in this area should give full cooperation to the mental health program.

'City Needs Firemen to Fight Fires'

We should not ask our firefighters to flood ice rinks. That's up to the city's recreation and water departments. Being the mother of two city firemen, I know.

Says Educate Children in 'How to Live'

The old saying: "When I was 16 I thought my dad was stupid, but at 21 I was amazed that he got so smart in just five years," seemed humorous when my youngsters were small. But now that they're teen-agers it's not humorous, but frightening. It's also alarming when we read that one of the major causes of death among our college students is suicide. Personnel directors tell us the major reason for men being fired is that they can't get along with people.

It seems our school superintendents and principals should do something. If they haven't a textbook to use, I suggest Dale Carnegie's "How to Win Friends and Influence People." It might be used until they can develop something better. It would only seem to be common sense to educate our children in how to live as well as how to make a living!

Father of a Perplexed, Know-It-All Teen-ager

Disturbed by Smoke-Filled City Buses

Are parents aware of the smoke-filled city buses our teen-agers are subjected to as transportation to and from Madison Jr. High? Is there no law governing a city bus that could put the violators off? Is there no bus driver who could enforce it?

Parents have complained to the school board; bus company, principal and police department, but the problem remains unsolved. Some parents have started driving the children to school rather than risk the chance of clothing catching on fire.

We're disgusted with our children coming home smelling like an all-night poker party and having to comb cigarette fragments out of their hair.

Maybe a cold walk home by some of these offenders will enlighten them about public laws.

Not All Alike

The State Labor News (Columbus, Ohio)

The AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE) tries to give the impression that all members of AFL-CIO labor unions are liberals in their political affiliation.

This is an exaggeration as has been demonstrated time and again in national, state, and local elections. A substantial minority of at least 35 per cent of labor union membership has consistently voted for conservative candidates.

Through the circumstance of limited income, the average labor union member has to be conservative. When he or she sees the federal government squandering money that it has taken from his or her paycheck, these labor union members become just as indignant and aroused as any taxpayer.

Whenever conservative political candidates have appealed to labor union members and taken the time and made the effort to explain to these members the true facts of economic life, they have received political support.

Although this conservatively inclined labor union membership has no official or organizational representation in the AFL-CIO and other segments of organized labor, they are a definite and potent minority and a great worry to labor union officials.

HELPING HAND—Jerry Holland of 664 James Town gives daughter Cindy, 6, a few pointers on how to shoot pool. They are practicing at the Golden Cue in Walled Lake, one of the new modern billiard parlors geared toward family entertainment.

Colors, Lights and Music Make Pool a Family Sport

By JEANMARIE ELKINS

Pool is emerging from the dark, smoke-filled pool hall. The game is now being played in bowling alleys, at home and in modern, well-lighted billiard parlors catering to women and family groups.

No longer is the game connected with the "tough guys" whose long hair, dirty fingernails, black leather jackets and foul language.

NEW HALLS

New pool halls are springing up all over the area. Completely modern, they feature ample lighting, pastel colored tables, music and other such attractions to lure the female customer and the younger set.

One such establishment is the Golden Cue in Walled Lake. Opening only a short time ago in the old theater building, it is well lighted, clean and features thick carpeting and patio furniture as well as refreshments.

The newest in pool, billiard and snooker tables are here in decorator colors of green, gold, blue and tomato-soup red.

Soft music is tuned to the age group playing, pop music for teen-agers and classical and old standards for families and older groups.

WOMEN'S POOL LEAGUE

Club owners, William Berryman of West Strathmore and William Harris of Sylvan Village, are anticipating formation of women's leagues in the spring.

Not to be left out of the picture, many bowling alleys are now accommodating the pool enthusiast.

The great majority of the area bowling establishments have now installed one or more pool tables.

These range from bumper pool and the smaller or lounge size table right up to the regulation 4 1/2 x 8-foot table, depending on amount of space available.

Some more enterprising bowling alley owners are building special additions to their present buildings to accommodate a number of tables.

HOWES LANES

One such couple is Mr. and Mrs. Lester Howe of Howes Lanes in Clarkston. Their addition accommodates six regulation-size pool tables in a brilliant shade of tomato-soup red, and they are anticipating installation of a snooker table.

"We feel pool has become a clean game," emphasizes Mrs. Howe, who also states that they plan on beginning leagues in the near future, possibly next season.

Home owners are now purchasing smaller tables. The recreation room, family room, den or basement is likely to become the haven for neighborhood enthusiasts.

"Our sales have more than doubled over what they were three or four years ago," claims George Meyer, manager of the sporting goods department of Montgomery Ward's Pontiac Mall store.

LOWER PRICES

"Competition is keener and prices have been marked down from those in past years."

Most popular size table is the seven foot or step-down size, according to Meyer, though he feels more people would buy the eight-foot pocket-billiard table if they could manage to maneuver it around corners and down stairs to where they would like it.

Unlike many other sports, pool is not overly expensive nor is it only for the skilled professional.

As long as you are tall enough to see over the table, you are able to play pool. It is enjoyable for even the most inexperienced hand.

PRACTICE HELPS

A few pointers and a little practice is all that is required to improve your game.

Most pool halls charge customers by the hour but there are many tables which must be fed 20c or 25c a game.

For those who wish to really make an impression, custom pool cues, made to your specifications, are available for as little as $10 or $15.

Harlem Fire Kills Woman, 5 Children

NEW YORK (AP) — Five children and the mother of two of them died yesterday in a Harlem tenement fire. A sixth child was critically injured.

"Were it not for the fact that (fire) engine 53 happened to be passing by, the death toll would have mounted," said Fire Commissioner Edward Thompson. "People just stood and looked from the street instead of pulling a fire box."

The fire truck crew saw smoke pouring from a fourth-floor window of the tenement while returning from a false alarm.

Willie Byrd, father of three victims, told authorities he found the couch on fire and a drunken man in the apartment when he looked in on the children at 3 a.m. Byrd said he doused the blaze, chased out the man and went back next door to his sister's apartment.

TWO HOURS LATER

Two hours later his children, Thomas, 10, Josh, 6, and Terry, 5, were dead, along with Mrs. Jane Rodriguez and two of her children, Jerry, 8, and Victor, 7.

Another Byrd child, Joyce, 13, was critically burned. The smoldering fire in the Rodriguez apartment apparently had renewed itself.

Train Wreck Death Toll Put at 70

ALTAMIRANO, Argentina (AP)—The death toll in Argentina's flaming weekend train collision is estimated at 70. Twelve bodies and nine sacks of human remains have been recovered from the wreckage.

Railroad officials said a family switch may have sent the Firefly Express, jammed with a holiday crowd of 1,630, hurtling into a standing freight train 65 miles southeast of Buenos Aires at dawn Saturday.

Officers said the impact of the crash and the fire were so ravaging that the exact death count might never be known. Several hundred children were aboard the Firefly, bound from the sea resort of Mar Del Plata to Buenos Aires.

Witnesses said the collision hurled the fourth coach over the first three and sent it crashing down on the blazing engine. Most of the dead were in the fourth coach. Their remains were so incinerated that identification was virtually impossible.

The wreck was believed to be Argentina's worst rail disaster since 1926, when more than 100 Chilean military cadets perished in a train collision.

Authorities said the engineer of the Firefly apparently didn't have time to brake his train as it roared around a curve that hid the freight.

Ismael Mondine, engineer of the freight and only crewman of either train to survive, told of seeing the express bearing down on him.

"You have to jump—jump!" he yelled to his fireman as he leaped from the engine. But the fireman apparently didn't hear the warning in time.

Everything Is Unstable

Situation Back to Normal in Viet Nam

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Many of South Viet Nam's leading politicians were sunning themselves at the Sporting Club's swimming pool 48 hours after the latest military coup.

About 10 military operations against Communist guerrillas were under way in various parts of the nation. None reportedly was having much result.

Viet Nam's new strongman, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, walked down Saigon's main street with the strongman he displaced, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh. The apparent intention was to show there were no hard feelings. The two men did not draw crowds.

Things were back to normal. U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is known to feel that the war against the Communist guerrillas will be continued without interruption. Some other Americans do not share Lodge's optimism.

"Any continuity in command that Viet Nam may have had after President Ngo Dinh Diem was overthrown now has been lost completely," a ranking U.S. Army officer said.

A U.S. diplomat foresaw the probability more coups and continuing delays in the war effort.

"It's too easy to make a coup here now," he said. "The military commands are too conveniently organized into corps and divisions, which makes it possible for one or two men to control really powerful units."

"America is going to have to live with continuing instability here and go on supporting the anti-Communists, whoever they may be, against the Viet Cong. We have no choice."

Of several hundred Vietnamese questioned in the past few days, the overwhelming majority expressed indifferent or negative views of the latest coup.

One officer, who had been loyal to Maj. Gen. Ton That Dinh, the interior minister jailed by Khanh, said: "If I ever got the chance, I would kill Khanh."

This was an extreme view, although there are indications that potentially powerful militia groups still can make lots of trouble for Khanh.

But as far as U.S. economic assistance and military aid is concerned, it is business as usual.

The first wholly reinforced States was erected in New York concrete building in the United City in 1875.

U.S. Seeks Clarification of De Gaulle Asia Policy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are expected to seek clarification from Paris as to what President Charles de Gaulle means in proposing a neutrality treaty for Southeast Asia and what he intends to do about it.

Along with de Gaulle's recognition of Red China, the neutralization plan is a source of deep concern at the highest levels of the government here.

proposition. If he is talking about a vague, ultimate goal, perhaps years off, they see no great difficulty. But if he intends now to wage a campaign for neutralization of South Viet Nam they see serious trouble ahead.

U.S. officials are worried about the impact of French moves in the Far East and especially in Viet Nam, where this country has more than 15,000 men engaged in a fight against Communist expansion.

Uncertainty over de Gaulle's proposal was evident in Johnson's news conference Saturday when, discussing the neutralization plan, Johnson told reporters, "You will have to ask Gen. de Gaulle about the details of his proposal."

U.S. NOT SURE

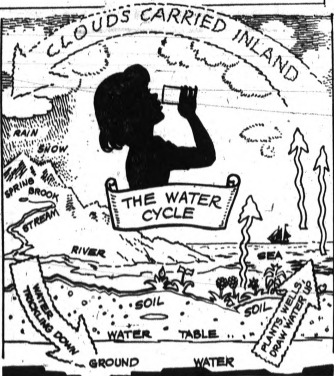

From other high officials it was learned that the United States does not know precisely what if any action de Gaulle has in mind to carry out his proposition. If he is talking about a vague, ultimate goal, perhaps years off, they see no great difficulty. But if he intends now to wage a campaign for neutralization of South Viet Nam they see serious trouble ahead.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

QUESTION: When water evaporates, is it lost?

ANSWER: We often think of water evaporating into nothingness; yet actually water is never lost. Instead, it changes form and moves from place to place, all of it having come originally from the sea.

These points will be clear when you study the illustration, showing how water moves in a kind of circle, called "the water cycle."

First, when warmed by the sun, water rises from the ocean, in the form of invisible "water vapor." When this meets cooler air, it condenses in the form of minute droplets which appear to us as fog or clouds.

These are blown far over the land and when they get too heavy to be held aloft, fall as fresh water rain, the salts having been left behind in the sea.

Rain soaks into the ground, causing crops to grow, and building up an underground reservoir, which supplies wells and springs. This is the "ground water," it's surface being the "water table."

Other amounts of rain run down in the form of brooks which turn into streams and rivers and finally return to the sea.

Much water lies for a long time underground; yet a great deal is drawn up by plants which radiate water vapor into the air, helping to keep the water cycle moving.

FOR YOU TO DO: The next time it rains, you will see the water cycle in active movement. Trace what is happening to the rain. How much is sinking into the ground, how much running off to join some brook or river?

Arms Talks Politer Than Ever

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst
The atmosphere at the 17-nation Geneva disarmament conference never has been better.

The Communists are being polite as never before and have shown interest in many subjects. But they obviously are in no hurry to settle down to concrete negotiations on any one disarmament measure.

Qualified Western diplomats feel it will be a long and hard haul before new East-West agreements can be reached.

Britain can be expected to push full speed ahead to build up trade with the Communist countries in the coming weeks.

Results of the trade drive in 1963 were encouraging, with exports rising to the Soviet Union and its European satellites by 11 per cent over 1962 to about $350 million.

This is regarded in London as a healthy basis for future expansion. Britain will try for a new trade agreement with Russia next month.

GERMANY VS. DE GAULLE: Speaking of East-West trade, the subject is a new source of discord between West Germany and France.

The West Germans are angry because they feel that, despite treaty provisions calling for close Franco-German consultation, the French failed to keep them adequately informed either on President Charles de Gaulle's intent to recognize Red China or on French attempts to line up new trade deals with the Kremlin.

On the same day that Bonn disclosed the Soviet Union was not interested in a 1964 trade agreement with West Germany, French Economic Minister Valéry Giscard d'Estaing popped up in Moscow to discuss—guess what—more trade between Moscow and Paris.

President de Gaulle has a fondness for national referendums and reportedly had hoped to hold one this year as a means of demonstrating his continuing hold on the French people.

But he now is believed to have dropped the idea for lack of issues.

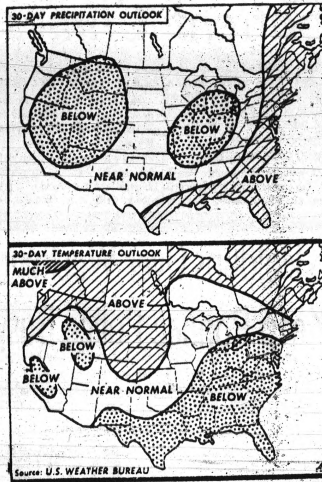

One thought was to hold a referendum on a proposal to scrap the French Senate. But the average Frenchman couldn't care less about the Senate, which has little power anyhow.

MALAYSIA: It still is possible that the cease-fire arranged between Indonesia and Malaysia in Borneo by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy will fall apart. But in Malaysia, Kennedy is being credited with a successful effort due to his direct, sometimes tough, approach.

"Diplomatic sources said he used no classical diplomacy and wasted few words in his talks with Indonesia's Sukarno, Malaysia's Tengku Abdul Rahman and the Philippines' Diosdado Macapagal."

Kuala Lumpur sources say Kennedy sidestepped no issue and faced up to problems raised by the three leaders. The approach won promises for conferences to seek a peaceful solution to the quarrel.

Kale, an excellent source of vitamin, can be safely kept in storage for long periods.

COLD AND DRY — The 30-day forecast by the U.S. Weather Bureau predicts that the Pontiac area will have below-normal temperatures and precipitation during February.

To Test 'Fire-Spotter'

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadian forest protection chiefs heard a report of the development of an electronic device that would spot forest fires before they could be visible from the air. The device records ground temperature from air variations and will be tested this spring.

Falcon entered two classes in Europe's 2,700-mile winter ordeal—won them both and finished 2nd overall out of 299 cars. That's durability!

In the Rallye's five special Alpine sections, Falcon was first overall in four, tied for first in one. That's roadability!

In the Rallye's final test around the Monte Carlo racing course, Falcons were first and second. That's maneuverability!

MONTE CARLO—The 33rd Monte Carlo Rallye started with 299 cars. Some 2,700 miles and 3½ days later, only 163 were still in the rally when the field struggled into Monaco—but they included all eight of the specially equipped Falcons that originally started!

This eight-out-of-eight record was perhaps more remarkable than the fact that, despite a handicap formula that favored the smallest cars, a Falcon captured second place overall. One car can have luck... but eight have to have total performance.

Because the Rallye is run in the dead of winter and samples every variety of weather and road conditions the continent can provide, and because it winds up on the most remote roller-coaster byways in the French Maritime Alps, it is a supreme test of all the car's abilities. Falcon steering had to be flawless on glare ice above a 1,000-foot drop. Those fabulous V-8's had to run like dynamos. And the cars had to be comfortable, for even a minor discomfort can become an agony in four nights and three days of virtually continuous running.

The final results in the Monte Carlo Rallye gave Falcon 2nd place overall, 1st in Class 8 of the Touring category against Mercedes and Valiant.

Falcon took 1st and 2nd in Class 5 of the Grand Touring category, beating Jaguar, Reliance, Saab and Valiant, and 1st and 2nd in the final three-lap test on the Monte Carlo circuit. The best finish by a Valiant was 88th overall. The Falcons' astonishing performance won many plaudits and awards: Bill France, NASCAR president, awarded the NASCAR trophy for the U.S. car to place highest in overall standings.

But Falcon got a lot more than trophies. It got experience in how to build a car better, make it tougher, refine its road-holding, sharpen up its total performance.

That's the real reason why Ford is interested in open competition—why Ford-built cars have so much more to show drivers. In 1963, Ford was the only U.S. car maker to enter the Monte Carlo event. This year, other U.S. cars entered. As one Ford spokesman said, "We're glad to see other U.S. cars join the Rallye. It makes the competition keener, and the results more significant."

The competition-equipped Falcon's demonstration of solid ruggedness and durability is another convincing example of the total performance that's built into all Ford cars. Drive one and see for yourself.

Falcon proves it's America's toughest compact in the rugged Monte Carlo Rallye!

Four Falcons started from Oslo, four from Paris, on routes calculated to be equal in difficulty and length. Weather conditions varied from clear, bitter cold through freezing fog to blinding snow—and the time schedules made no provision for delays. Here a Falcon swirled through a sudden snow shower, testing traction in a practice run.

$45 million puts a stronger, completely changed Falcon on the road!

Falcon for 1964—incorporating $45 million in improvements—has to be test-driven to be believed. New wider stance springs at the rear and a redesigned front end give it a ride that makes you check the price tag to be sure you're in the right car. A smaller steering wheel, redesigned seat and dashboard placement make for interior room that used to be available only in more expensive cars. All-new body styling—featuring modern crimp-lined sculpturing—doesn't give a clue to the 1964 Falcon's price either. You begin to get the idea when you run down the list of engine options.

Standard is the thrifty Falcon Six. This is an updated version of the engine that set an unbeaten Mobil Economy Run record. Two other slightly larger six-cylinder engines are optional—both squeeze a drop of gas until there's no more mileage left in it. Top of the line is the 260 V-8. A special version of this engine powered the Falcon team that dominated this year's Monte Carlo Rallye. The 260 version runs on regular gas while giving any Falcon sports-car seat.

Despite the ride, room and zoom, the 1964 Falcon is still an economy-minded compact. With all the body styles available—2- and 4-door sedans, Futura and Sprint hardtops, convertibles and wagons—plus the engine and transmission options, you can pretty much decide how far to go with your Falcon. Any way you do it you'll wind up with America's only total performance compact.

Totally new, completely changed, the 1964 Falcon offers choice of three thrifty sizes or a rugged 260cu. in. V-8.

Credit Unions work for people

...not for profit

And people are the credit union. People like you, your neighbor, your fellow employees, fellow church members. People having a common bond... who join together in a non-profit corporation to provide a better means of saving money and obtaining low cost credit when needed.

Yes, people are the credit union. They own it. They run it. They—the members—tailor its policies and services solely to meet the needs of the members—not to make a profit on them.

And credit union members are getting the benefits of low cost loans, higher savings dividends and greater financial security.

Are credit union loans really low cost? They certainly are! For most people, the credit union offers the most favorable rates they can get anywhere... lower than so-called "bank rates", substantially lower than small loan companies, department or appliance stores and automobile dealers. For many, the credit union is the only place they can turn for emergency help. And most credit unions charge just one interest rate on loans to everyone.

Savings dividends are higher, too. The 76 credit unions in Oakland County paid an average of over 4% interest this past year, providing more than two million dollars in dividends to members in the area. And there are bonus dividends... such as life insurance matching members' savings, and full life and disability protection while repaying loans—all provided at no extra cost.

If you do not already belong to a credit union, you and your family may be able to qualify for one in your community. Now is a good time to inquire about your eligibility, and also learn many ways to stretch and protect the dollars you earn. How? We'll send you FREE, without obligation, a year's subscription to Everybody's Money, the authoritative, handy pocket-size, national publication on everyday personal and family finance. It's interesting, useful, colorful and yours for the asking.

Psychiatric Outpatient Clinics Arouse Interest

Three area hospitals have shown initial interest in having psychiatric outpatient clinics under a new community mental health program.

The clinics are sought by the Oakland County Mental Health Board as part of the developing program to make more psychiatric services available locally.

Both Pontiac General Hospital and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital have expressed their interest in letters to the board, according to member Dr. Harry Arnkoff. A similar response came from William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, he said.

WILLING TO HELP

Dr. John Mara, medical director at Pontiac General Hospital, wrote "We would be very enthusiastic to help you in any way possible. The matter has been turned over to our psychiatric board and I suggest you work with them on details."

Sister Mary Xavier, administrator at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, stated the hospital's continued desire to serve the community "in any way deemed imperative."

"Our new facilities are due by 1965," she wrote, "and it might be hoped to start with an outpatient psychiatric clinic at that time, hoping to have it in full operation by 1967."

BEING CONSIDERED

At William Beaumont Hospital, the matter has been turned over to Dr. Charles Barker, head of the psychiatric department, for further consideration.

The board of a new Providence Hospital being built in Southfield hasn't replied yet to the mental health board.

Board members agreed to also contact Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and the board of a proposed Crittenton Hospital at Rochester, with a similar request for outpatient clinics.

At a meeting of the mental health board Friday, Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, congratulated its members for their speed in getting the community program launched.

HEADED COMMITTEE

He headed a senate committee which drafted the Community Mental Health Act last year, making these programs possible at the county level.

Roberts said it probably will take the board five years to get a lasting program rolling along smoothly.

He said the State Legislature should appropriate $800,000 July 1 for matching funds available throughout Michigan. The annual appropriations should increase steadily each year, Roberts added.

The senator urged the board to look for better ways to help the mentally retarded also, particularly through local schools, so that they won't have to go on to already overcrowded state institutions.

LOCAL FACILITY

Roberts suggested a local facility for mentally retarded youngsters, where those requiring full commitment could be visited regularly by their parents.

Such a facility could also offer day care for less severely retarded preschoolers, he said. These facilities and outpatient clinics will enable state institutions to concentrate on research and the better care and treatment of severe cases, said Roberts.

5 Holdups Over Weekend Keep Pontiac Police Busy

Armed bandits kept Pontiac police busy over the weekend, staging five holdups since Saturday afternoon.

A kidnapping, an armed robbery and a safe-cracking were reported earlier.

Victimized the past three days were Mazza's Market, 663 Jollym, Flash Cleaners, 339 W. Huron; Kroger Supermarket, 750 N. Perry; McDonald's Florist, 850 Woodward; and the Pontiac Motor Court, 570 S. Telegraph.

Kroger's suffered the heaviest loss when two gunmen escaped with $1,100 after a daylight robbery.

EMPTY CONTENTS

Customers in the store at 10:15 a.m. yesterday were herded to the rear while employees were ordered to empty the contents of their cash registers into a paper bag.

The meat manager, Donald Knapp, 23, went unnoticed and was able to call police from a phone at the rear of the store but the bandits had sped away before police arrived.

The getaway car was found 10 minutes later on Court at Jollym. Police said it had been stolen several days earlier.

THE ROBBERY AT MAZZA'S

The robbery at Mazza's Saturday afternoon was its second in 15 hours and the third since Dec. 28.

LONE GUNMAN

A lone gunman, posing as a customer, ordered the wife of the owner, Mrs. Frank Mazza, 55, to hand over money in the cash register, more than $50. He escaped on foot following the 1:10 p.m. robbery.

Friday night two men escaped with an undetermined amount of cash when they held up Mazza and his wife, Nancy.

Saturday at 7:15 p.m., $331 was taken from two employees of Flash Cleaners, Janet E. Spires and Laura Grogan, both 16 years old.

Two men wearing cold weather ski masks ordered the two girls into the back room before they escaped.

YOUNG MAN

Yesterday at 8 p.m. Mrs. Catherine C. McDonald, 55, of McDonald's Florist was robbed by a young man armed with an automatic pistol.

He came into the store on the pretense of ordering funeral flowers. He escaped with $30.

At 2:33 a.m. today a gunman walked into the office of the Pontiac Motor Court and demanded that Mildred Stratton, 44, give him money.

She told him that all she had was two checks for $12 and the bandit left empty-handed.

LOCKED IN TRUNK

Shortly after 9 p.m. Friday George E. Wyman, owner of Wyman Furniture Co., was locked in the trunk of his car for over three hours by two men who kidnapped him in an unsuccessful attempt to rob his store.

Wyman, 51, was taken from outside his home and driven back to the store at 17 E. Huron, but the bandits were stymied when he could not find the key to turn off the burglar alarm. Sometime early Saturday

Sixteen persons died in Michigan's traffic over the weekend, with collisions taking 11 of the lives.

Four died in smashups that resulted from a driver's loss of control, and one pedestrian was killed by a car.

Three of those who lost their lives in collisions were Port Huron school children. They died Friday night when an automobile rammed the rear of their bus, bursting the gasoline tank and turning the bus into a torch.

The Associated Press tabulation of weekend fatalities began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Ford A. Mecum, 47, of Winthrop died early this morning of multiple injuries he suffered in the 6:25 p.m. accident.

Troy police said Mecum was northbound on Dequindre just north of 17 Mile. He started to pass a car when another vehicle pulled out of a driveway on the west side of the road. Mecum drove into the ditch and hit the culvert.

Mecum was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. His body is at the Diener Funeral Home, Shelby Township.

State Road Toll at 154

The bride is the former Mary E. Harned, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Harned, 2100 Harned. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Earle Cook, 3346 Kern, Orion Township.

For her wedding, the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of white brocade. A crown with deep pearls held her shoulder-length veil.

A reception followed the nuptials in the church Fellowship Hall.

Troy Hearing Set Tonight to Air Rezoning for Project

TROY—The question of rezoning for the proposed K-Mart here will be again aired at a public hearing tonight, this time in the Troy High School.

Parties on both sides of the fence are expected to express their views on the project, proposed for construction on the southwest corner of Maple and Stephenson.

Written invitations to the session were mailed out Friday to all homes in Troy. The letters were unsigned.

Developers claim that the proposed store will be an asset to Troy, as a tax base and as a place of employment for 180 residents.

FIRMS OPPOSED

Opposing the K-Mart are several industrial firms, including the Jim Robbins Co., Western Coating Co. and the Judson Miller Co.

In general their opinions agree with that of city planners, Villan-Lemay & Associates of Southfield.

The consultants argue the site is better suited for industry, for which it is now zoned, and that the shopping center would cause a traffic problem.

Developer, Frazer-Werbe Co., contends that ample off-street parking would be provided and adjacent roads would be modified to handle the increased traffic, at most to the developer.

Additional points of view are expected to be presented at tonight's hearing, which begins at 7:30 p.m.

Walled Lake PTA Unit to Fete 2 Ex-Leaders

WALLED LAKE — Two past presidents of the Walled Lake Elementary School PTA will be honored at a founders' day dinner and program tonight.

Joseph Brandt and Harry G. Champe will receive their past president pins after the 6:30 p.m. dinner in the multipurpose room of the school. Also on the program is an appearance by the Sweet Adelines choral group.

Increased acreage in Michigan was offset by decreased yield per acre in the fall potato crop to lower the total yield 10 per cent in 1963.

Dr. David Wells, mathematics director for Oakland County Schools, and Robert McKenney, a member of the Rochester faculty, will direct the program and lead study sessions.

Children will not attend school on afternoons of the meetings. A schedule of the review periods follows:

FBI to Probe Negro's Death

Found Shot Near His Mississippi Home

LIBERTY, Miss. (AP) — The FBI begins an investigation today of the shotgun slaying of a Mississippi Negro who reportedly took part in civil rights activities.

Louis Allen, a logger in his 50s, was shot to death near his home here Saturday. His body was found under a truck with a load of buckshot in his head.

The U.S. justice department said it has asked the FBI to determine if there is any basis for federal action.

The dead man's brother, Morris Allen, said in Milwaukee that Allen had taken part in civil rights activities.

TESTIFIED IN CASE
Morris Allen also said his brother once testified against a white man charged with slaying a Negro.

He charged that Mississippi authorities had harassed his brother ever since.

Sheriff Daniel Jones denied Allen had been harassed, and said he did not know Allen had taken part in civil rights activities.

Ed Hollandale, communications officer for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee in Jackson, said Allen "was a witness in the fatal shooting of Liberty Negro Herbert Lee by State Rep. Eugene Hurt."

SELF-DEFENSE
Records showed Allen did not testify in the case, Hollandale said. A coroner's jury ruled that Hurt shot Lee in self-defense.

Charles Evers, state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said in Jackson the Allen shooting "was similar in many respects to the ambush slaying of Medgar."

Medgar Evers, Charles' brother and a state civil rights leader, was shot in Jackson last summer.

Byron De La Beckwith, a white man, is being tried on a charge of first-degree murder in the crime.

'Hot Line' Cut by Lightning

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — The newspaper Uusi Suomi said lightning cut the Washington-Moscow "hot line" Saturday, putting it out of service for 42 minutes.

Uusi Suomi said the bolt cut the line near Turku, Finland. The line was restored by switching to another cable pending complete repairs.

The "hot line" is designed to give the U.S. president direct communication with the Soviet premier in an emergency.

Coffee Council to Meet to Curb Higher Costs

LONDON (AP) — The International Coffee Organization has summoned its 59-nation council to meet Feb. 10 to take up the problem of spiraling prices. Executive Director Josep Olivera Santos said Saturday night the council was meeting at the request of importing countries in hope of cutting costs. The executive board has been unable to act because it has been blocked by Indonesia.

The council, on the other hand, is free to vote the increase.

Stranglings Terrorize Boston

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Twelve women have been strangled in Eastern Massachusetts since June 1962. Were they all the victims of a "mad strangler?" The following dispatch is the first of three that analyzes the murders and captures the mood of a frightened city.)

BOSTON (UPI)—Fear and death as violent as that from the annals of Jack the Ripper stalk the streets of Boston these nights.

Boston, a city of culture and art, finds itself face to face with a series of murders resembling something out of a bizarre pocket novel.

Twelve women have met death by strangulation in Eastern Massachusetts in the last 19 months, 11 of them in the greater Boston area. The similarities in all 12 were too striking to be ignored.

All were sexually molested. Most lived alone and most were strangled with a stocking or some article of underclothing. Many of the women were connected in some way with a hospital. None of the victims' apartments were entered forcibly.

PATTERN DEVIATES

The pattern of killings shows two obvious deviations. The first six women, slain between June 14 and Aug. 20, 1962, were at least 55. From then on, with one exception, the slayer chose younger women.

The other departure from the pattern was the slaying of Modiste Freeman, 37, in a Boston parking lot Oct. 14, 1962. She was the only one strangled outdoors and the only one in the 30-year age bracket.

The grim series began in the spring of 1962 when Mrs. Anna Slesers, a 55-year-old divorcee, leased a three-room apartment at 77 Gainsboro in Boston's Back Bay section. She moved into the third floor quarters June 1. She never lived to pay another month's rent.

Mrs. Slesers' son, Juris, 23, visited his mother frequently and often took her to church.

FOUND BODY

On the evening of June 14, he stopped in at her new address and found her body sprawled on the kitchen floor, the cord of her housecoat wrapped tightly around her neck.

The housecoat, her only clothing, had been ripped open.

Mrs. Slesers, a seamstress, had been seen alive last when she returned from work earlier that evening. The killer had ransacked the apartment but, as in each of the other slayings, there was no sign of forced entry.

Sixteen days later, on the evening of June 30, Mrs. Nina Nichols was strangled in her fourth floor apartment in Boston's Brighton section, four miles from where Mrs. Slesers had lived.

BEDROOM FLOOR

The body of Mrs. Nichols, a 68-year-old semiretired physiotherapist, was found on the bedroom floor. She was lying on her back with her stockings tied around her neck. She was wearing a slip, a torn bra and a flannel robe.

The apartment had been ransacked, but there was no sign of forced entry.

Two days later Helen Blake, 65, a practical nurse, was found face down on her bed, a bra and two nylon stockings twisted around her neck. She lived in a second floor apartment in Lynn, a suburban city north of Boston.

Once again the apartment was ransacked and once again the killer had gained entrance mysteriously.

2 DAYS EARLIER

Although Miss Blake's body was not found until July 2, authorities said she died two days earlier, the same day that Mrs. Nichols was murdered.

On July 11, the scene shifted back to Boston. Mrs. Margaret Davis, a 60-year-old widow, was strangled in a South End hotel room. This time the killer used his bare hands.

Then for 41 days, there was nothing. Boston spinsters began to open their doors and venture out for a walk along warm sunny streets again.

Police did a lot more walking. They still had found no killer.

Party Starts With Dessert

Man Stays Gentleman

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Just before Christmas, two ladies came into the laundrette and covered all the tables with wrapping paper, ribbons, etc., and while their clothes were being washed they wrapped Christmas gifts.

When my clothes were dry, I asked politely if I could use one of the tables, to fold my sheets and blankets. I can't quote their replies, but I guarantee you that if those women had been men I would have punched them both right in the mouth.

When my wife saw the laundry all wrinkled and unfolded, her face got as red as her hair. She said I should have called the owner of the place or the police.

I said a gentleman wouldn't have done such a thing. She said when a woman shows that she is no lady, a man is relieved of the obligation to act like a gentleman.

We'd like your opinion.

PHIL IN TOPEKA

DEAR PHIL: A gentleman acts like a gentleman even when a woman acts like a slob.

A woman would never try to pull that stunt on another woman.

DEAR ABBY: A girl in our dorm is knitting a sweater for her "boy friend." She is the laughingstock of the dorm because this boy has been playing her for a sucker all year.

He dates other girls, and when he does ask her for a date, he usually breaks it at the last minute with some phony alibi, but she always forgives him.

How can we get her to realize that she is wasting her time?

Pair Visits Ski Resort

Among ski enthusiasts at Whiteface Mountain in upper New York State are the Robert Douglas Patons (Mary Elizabeth McKim of West Huron Street).

They were wed Saturday in All Faiths Chapel, First Congregational Church, Port Huron. Rev. Grant Noland of the First Presbyterian Church, Crosswell, officiated.

Wild cherry shade French velvet fashioned their sheath gowns and rose headpieces.

John Paton of Worthington was best man for his brother who is of Albany, N.Y. The bride's brother, Samuel J. McKim of An Arbor, ushered with Earl Greenob of Birmingham.

The bride is an alumna of Eastern Michigan University and her husband was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan College.

Check First Invitation to Dance

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: A month ago a boy whom I date occasionally asked me to go to his school dance. I said I would. The dance is to take place next week.

I saw him twice since then but nothing more was said about the dance, so I took it for granted that he changed his mind. Several days ago, another boy invited me to go to a dance that same evening and I accepted.

Last night the first boy called and during the conversation mentioned the dance again. I told him that since he was at fault for not having said anything to me about the dance, I thought it was all off and so I accepted another invitation.

He was quite angry. I think he was at fault for not having mentioned the dance again before last night and that I was right in assuming he had changed his mind.

Will you please tell me who is right?

A: I'm sorry, but you are wrong. Having told the first boy that you would go to the dance, you should not have accepted a second invitation without first asking him if he still expected you to go to the dance with him.

Pantry, Linen Showers Given for Local Girl

Two recent pre-nuptial showers honored Elaine Landry, who will wed Ralph Curtis Clauson, Saturday, in Sacred Heart Church, Auburn Heights.

Mrs. Ellen Boehmer of Third Avenue was hostess at a pantry shower and Mrs. Leo Criven of Westbrook Avenue gave a linen shower.

Among the guests were former Pontiac resident, Mrs. Ole Clauson, recently of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Fred C. Dore of Pontiac and Munising. They are grandmothers of the future bridegroom who is the son of the Oren Clausons of Spence Street.

Miss Landry is the daughter of the Maurice H. Landrys of Donley Avenue.

Two Units Will Meet, Start Drive

The February meetings of both the evening and afternoon groups of Kappa Delta sorority, South Oakland Alumnae Association, will be held at the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The evening group will meet at 7:30 p. m. Feb. 11. Hostesses will be Mrs. G. B. Work and Mrs. Wolcott Hall of Birmingham and Mrs. George Heine of Pontiac.

The afternoon group will meet Feb. 10 for an all day workshop at the Society. Hostesses will be Mrs. E. L. Haberkorn of Royal Oak.

Both groups will stuff envelopes for the Society's annual Easter Seal drive to start soon.

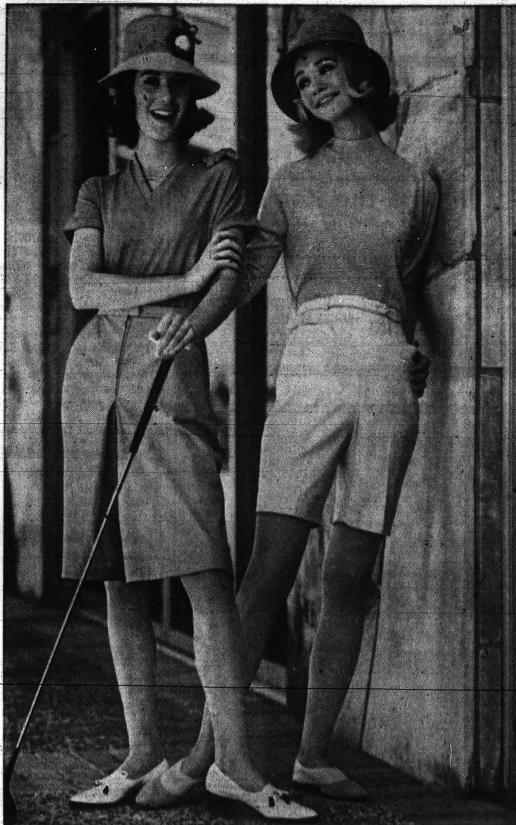

The Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults has been the sorority's main philanthropic project for many years.

Maple Leafers Elect Officers

The Maple Leaf Luncheon Club elected officers at the annual meeting Friday in the Lamplighter Room at Howard Johnson's Restaurant on Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Florence May White is incoming president; Mrs. Vivian T. D. B. secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Ben Moshier, publicity chairman.

Serving on the committee for the day were Mrs. Harold Soper and Mrs. H. T. Romberg. The Andrea Sinenau was a guest.

Active or spectator, both latch on to Easetta, Harburt's exclusive new wonder fabric making its debut this season. Combining Dacron-cotton for the first time, woven with Lycra fiber in a left-to-right stretch, Harburt man-tailors Easetta for easy-movement fit. Shown here in a fly front culotte (left) and side zipper Frontier Jamaica. Both coordinate perfectly with several different versions of stretch knit striped pullovers. Part of a complete Easetta collection, also in suits, shifts, skirts and slacks. Available locally.

Local Art Exhibits Embroider Already Romantic Month

February seems to be art month in the Pontiac area.

Starting today residents may view the second annual Pontiac Mall art exhibit. All work shown has been done by Oakland county artists.

Three well known Michigan artists will award 28 prizes, four in each category: oils; pastels; mixed media; drawing; sculpture; graphics; and water color. Prize winners will be announced at a later date.

Judging the show will be Robert Thom, Marshall Fredericks and Michael Church. Exhibit hours are 9:30 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Cranbrook Students

The Galleries at Cranbrook Academy of Art will feature, "Design Concepts," an exhibition of student projects in the design department, during February.

Also showing is "Textiles and Objects Designed and Collected by Alexander Girard (Folk Art and Fabric)".

The Galleries are open from 2 to 5 p. m. everyday except Mondays and major holidays. There is an admission.

OU Art Gallery

A large exhibition of painting and drawings by John Beardman will open Feb. 9 at 4 p. m. in the Oakland University Art Gallery, according to Dr. John Galloway, chairman of the OU art department.

A native of Ohio, Beardman received his first academic degree from Oberlin College. He then studied at the Sorbonne in Paris as he worked with the internationally renowned printmaker, Stanley William Hayter.

Beardman later took master's degrees in both art history and studio art at Southern Illinois University where he served two years as a teaching fellow.

NOW ON FACULTY

He has lived in Greece and has traveled widely in the Mediterranean area. In 1962, he left the University of Connecticut to join the Oakland faculty.

Beardman's paintings and drawings are non-figurative and depend upon the vehemence of their movement and structured planes to convey meaning.

The gallery is open Monday through Friday from 12 noon until 4 p. m. Admission is free and the gallery does not take a commission for the sale of works.

The Beardman exhibition will close Feb. 28.

Pictures at Cranbrook

A new exhibit, calculated to stimulate added interest in art among both children and adults, opens Feb. 19 in the Young People's Art Center.

Gallery of Cranbrook Academy.

Purpose of the exhibit is to demonstrate photographically to children the means used to achieve an example of work done in each of the eight departments of Cranbrook Academy of Art; metalworking, ceramics, weaving, architecture, design, sculpture, graphics and painting.

While the show has been set up principally for children, adults will find it a comprehensive picture tour through the Academy's studios — studios that are not open to the public.

Guided tours through the exhibit for school groups free of charge may be made by advance appointment. The exhibit will remain up through May.

False Adage: 2 Can Live as Cheaply as 1

By MARY FEELEY
 Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: I am 19 and have met my dream girl. However, my mother says that I should slow down and learn something about managing my finances in case my girl is not a natural-born magician.

I have not been self-supporting and my parents have been helping me by buying dress, gas and auto repairs for my weekly trips home, since I am employed about 100 miles away.

Please give me some advice to get myself on a self-supporting basis. Then after I do become self-supporting, how much should I be able to bank weekly (as if I were supporting another person), for I understand the adage about two being able to live as cheaply as one is untrue.

My weekly income after taxes is $54.77.

Due on college education ($200 total): $5.
 Payments on auto: $13.
 Travel expense for auto: ?
 Room (missile site, so this is cheapest I found): $10.40.
 Food: ?
 Clothing: ?
 Church: $1
 Personal expenses and entertainment: ?

I have filled in my fixed expenditures. I will appreciate any comment about them, as well as suggestions as to what proportion of my salary should be spent on the other items.

Should I start saving a small amount now? W. R. P., Birmingham, Ala.

I'm not accusing you, understand—paying back your college loan is all to the good; and if that car is necessary to the job, it's just one of those things you have to contend with. However, the best you can do, as the situation stands, is:

Room, $10.40; food, $12; personal expenses, $4; miscellaneous, including church, $3; car operating, $5.50; clothing, $2; loans, $18.

Even cutting it fine, this set-up doesn't allow anything for recreation. Unless your girl invites you over for dinner, you're out of luck. Also, nothing for savings at this point.

You'll have to pay off those loans before you can figure on being self-supporting, even on the most basic, stringent budget. When that is done, you can put as much of the $18 as possible into savings.

If you're really determined to stand on your own feet, you'll have to count every penny and take every short cut. Make your clothes last by taking care of them.

Use that car only when you absolutely have to. Watch the coffee breaks.

You're right about two not being able to live as cheaply as one. Your job is to support one for the time being.

Dear Miss Feeley: I am a Navy man and served all during the war. The government paid in Social Security for all of us, not to exceed $160 per month.

Now our local Social Security office says that if you are drawing a retirement check or retirement check from the government, you are not entitled to draw Social Security—say the minimum of $40 per month.

I have 17 quarters paid in, and I need 21 quarters to be covered for minimum of $40 at age 65. Birth date, May 1, 1907.

Must I now make up the rest of the quarters in civilian employment in order to draw the minimum in Social Security at age 65? G. H. S., Escondido, Calif.

Dear G.H.S.: Yes, you'll have to make up those 21 quarters in order to get the $40 monthly payments from Social Security.

Ceremony Performed in Chapel

The chapel of Central Methodist Church was the setting for the marriage of Mr. John Ellis of Lotus Drive to Roger Dean Holm of Longcroft Drive.

Rev. Ronald Thompson of the Trinity Methodist Church performed the Saturday afternoon ceremony.

The former Janet Lyon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Lyon of Milford. Her husband's parents are Edwin O. Holm of Chester, Iowa, and the late Mrs. Holm.

With her dress of Kelly green silk, the bride wore matching accessories and carried yellow daisies.

Phyllis Lyon attended her sister as maid of honor. Ingrid Holm was flower girl and Jeffrey Ellis ring-bearer.

Maj. Richard Holm, USAF, recently of Norfolk, Va., presently en route to England, was best man for his brother. Guests were seated by Richard Hullen and Robert Dika.

Bride Picks Lace for Ceremony

Sandra Lynn Hovey of Elizabeth Lake Road exchanged vows with Paul Thomas Colborn Rev. Chalmers Mastin in Bethany Baptist Church.

A reception in the Hotel Roosevelt ballroom immediately followed the evening ceremony.

Daughter of Mrs. Helen C. Peterson of Ross Drive and Ralph Hovey of Lake Stevens, Wash., the bride chose a full-length gown of Chantilly lace over white satin.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a pearl tiara. White carnations and red sweetheart roses comprised her bouquet.

WORE YELLOW
 Mrs. LaVerne E. Colborn, matron of honor, wore yellow chiffon over taffeta styled with floor-length skirt. Her bouquet included white carnations and yellow roses.

LaVerne E. Colborn was best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mrs. Francis Colborn of Pershing Road and the late Mr. Colborn. Donald Taylor and Norman Edwards seated the guests.

Short Men Can Now Stand Tall

Short men should select jackets with squared shoulders and avoid stubby or high-rolled lapels. Coats shouldn't be so short that they make you look "cut in half" or so long, they shorten your legs — pick hats with a tall crown and medium to narrow brim to give the effect of height. Avoid heavy shoe styles... Wear the narrow ties in vogue today... and see that your trousers are well-tapered and trim.

The stage lights played on Mr. and Mrs. James Stevens Bennett (Connie Lee DesAutels) at their wedding reception Saturday in Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater where they met last May. The bridal couple and their attendants were seated on center stage for the wedding dinner.

Couple Opens Curtain on Real-Life Romance

Connie Lee DesAutels and James Stevens Bennett played the lead roles of John Proctor and his wife in "The Crucible" at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater; he is a real-life marriage partner Saturday.

They exchanged vows before Rev. William Palmer in the Shrine of the Little Flower, Royal Oak, and chose the stage at Will-O-Way for their reception.

Daughter of the Raymond M. DesAutels of Orchard Lake, the bride had studied ballet for seven years and dramatics at Will-O-Way for two years.

Her husband, who attended Michigan State University, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Grant S. Bennett of Berkeley. He played dramatic roles with the Clarkston Village Players and enrolled at Will-O-Way last spring.

ITALIAN SILK

With her full-length gown of white Italian silk, the bride wore a cap of silk leaves and a bouffant illusion veil. She carried white orchids and rosebuds.

Pamela Eshyn of Farmington was maid of honor; Robin Turner of Bloomfield Hills and Sandra Brown of Orchard Lake were bridesmaids. Connie Bennett was junior attendant and two-year-old Cheri DesAutels was flower girl for her sister.

The attendants wore full-length Empire gowns of turquoise satin and held nosegays of white and pink rosebuds.

Charles Bennett stood as best man for his brother, William Rudnik of Hazel Park and Duane Peck of Dearborn ushered. Michael DesAutels served as a page.

The couple, presently in rehearsal for the April production of "Pajama Game," will live in Royal Oak.

Alumnae Unit Will Meet

Alumni of Centenary College for Women, Centenary Junior College and Centenary Collegiate Institute, Hackensack, N. J., will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. Mary Conlisk Bruce, Grosse Pointe Shores.

Assisting Mrs. Bruce are Mrs. Stanley F. Novaco and Mrs. Sheila Flaherty Wilson, both of Allen Park, class of '58.

Bylaws for the Detroit chapter of the Centenary Alumni Association will be adopted and officers elected.

Toughen Trousers

Press heavy tape just inside the lower edge of your son's new trousers to prevent fraying where the trouser rubs the shoe.

Tape adjoining legs of two or more card tables together for an improvised buffet table.

Make It Yourself

Cover a cellulose sponge or steel wool scouring pad with a bright scrap of material to make a pincushion for your sewing basket.

Long Handled Spoons Prove Worth in Home

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY — Quite by accident I discovered how handy an iced tea spoon is in my kitchen.

I keep several in the utility drawer and constantly use them for spooning instant coffee or mayonnaise out of an almost empty jar or emptying contents from small cans.

These small spoons with their long handles are worth their weight in gold in my home. — W.Q.

DEAR POLLY — I wonder how many people know that salt rings can easily be removed from snow boots and galoshes by brushing them with vinegar and cold water? — I.K.

DEAR POLLY — My teenage daughter had a slip or two that were too tight. I bought lace insertion similar to that on her slips, opened the side seams and zigzag stitched the insertion down the sides.

It takes twice the length of the slip plus four inches of lace for each one. This makes too-tight slips prettier and as good as new. — MRS. W.T.

DEAR POLLY — Hobbyists who paint china and ceramics will find that a plastic bag filled with beans, cereal or rice will be perfect support for the piece being painted.

• Next time you are looking for a bookmark, cut off a corner from a used envelope. Slip it over the corner of the page.

• To keep a spool of thread from dropping off the table as you sew, lay the spool on its side in the scissors handle. — ROBINA

Vocabulary Level Important to Teaching

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
"A scurvy elephant! That's what you called my Jim." The mother of the eight-year-old had come to school with blood in her eye after receiving this report from her offspring.
"I have never called any child a name; however, I did say your son was a 'disturbing element.'" particularly difficult position. In college they are required to use a sophisticated vocabulary—the language of the pedagogues, sometimes called "pedagogy." Like most persons they speak two languages—adult talk and baby talk. The language of the 7 to 11-year-olds is in between.

At this age a child is adding many new words to his vocabulary. Usually, they are watered down adult words.
Many of the new words the child uses lack the precise meaning to him that adults place upon them. It requires a conscious effort for any new teacher to speak on the vocabulary level of the children.
There is too little opportunity for a teacher to listen carefully to an individual child when faced with a group of 30 or 40 children.

TEACHER MUST ADJUST
It is unfair and unrealistic to expect the children to make the adjustments to the teachers' level of speaking. If there is to be understanding between teacher and child, it is the teacher who must learn to adjust.
Somewhere in the training of an elementary school teacher, there must be an opportunity for him to get acquainted with, and talk at length with, children of the age he will be teaching.
In order that he pass on information and learning, there must be clear understanding between teacher and child.
Once communication is established on a firm basis the teacher can help a child develop a wider vocabulary.
While this vocabulary is being developed it is extremely important that the child form the habit of grasping the precise meaning of each new word.

each to develop according to his personal needs.
Such development calls for something more than a series of courses. San Francisco State College attempts to accomplish this training through a seminar taught by a team of specialists.
Grades are abandoned. At the end of the seminar students are either recommended for certification, or not recommended.
A teacher-training program should enhance the strengths of an individual. It should also make it possible for him to develop needed background and skills.
LEARN LEARNING
If he is to facilitate a child's learning, he must be skilled at learning. If he is to help a child become skilled in reading, writing and arithmetic he, too, must possess these skills.
A teacher-training program must include all of these elements.

the club suit for a moment and led dummy's ten of spades.
Had West been in a thinking mood, he would have distrusted South's generosity and refused to cash his last spade, but West wasn't thinking.
He did cash that fourth spade and South was able to discard a club from his hand. This unblocked the suit and gave him his contract.
South solved his problem with finding a way to unblock the club suit, but everything would have been much easier if he just led the seven of clubs—the start and dropped the ten and nine on the second and third leads of the suit. This way he would have been left with the deuce and the unblocking problem would never have arisen.

Your partner continues with five diamonds. What do you do now?
Answer: Tomorrow

His next play was the king of clubs and when West discarded the seven of diamonds South saw that he was in trouble.
He didn't have any club losers, but if he played dummy's ace of clubs in order to drop East's jack, the club suit would be blocked. He would make four tricks instead of the five he needed for his contract.
South solved his problem with help from West. He abandoned

Head of Car Dealers' Unit Says Profits Are Too Low

DETROIT (AP)—John H. Lander, president of the National Automobile Dealers Association, said today in his keynote address at the NADA convention that its members are not satisfied with dealer profits.

"In the face of a record volume year, record-breaking profits by four auto manufacturers and good business conditions generally, our dealers do not better in 1963 than in 1962 despite our efforts to boost dealer profits," Lander said.

"We estimate that profits at year-end will be about 2 per cent before taxes," the outgoing NADA president reported.

Lander added in his report to the NADA membership, "If we deduct the income received from allied activities such as financing and insurance, many dealers are actually making less than 1 per cent and others are losing money. The manufacturers should be concerned by this situation."

UP IN ARMS

Lander said dealers "all over the nation are up in arms because some leasing and rental companies are allegedly being subsidized by some manufacturers to purchase their particular make of car. The NADA opposes all such subsidies."

Continuing his discussion of car leasing, Lander said, "Perhaps some manufacturers can tell us why any firm in America, regardless of size or purchasing power, should be allowed to buy cars with special concessions which are better than those extended to their own dealers."

Switching to the subject of car warranties, Lander said, "We have heard complaints about the unreasonable attitude the manufacturers are adopting in rejection of warranty claims."

"This is hard to comprehend when they have spent so many millions advertising their extended warranties. They must realize that the rejection of one warranty claim destroys the confidence of the customer and the dealer."

Auto Group Honors Flint Industrialist

DETROIT (AP)—The National Automobile Dealers Association paid tribute to industrialist-philanthropist Charles Stewart Mott of Flint at its annual Old Timers luncheon Sunday.

More than 1,000 persons representing the auto industry, its dealers and the public — heard Mott extolled for his internationally known interest in education and youth.

The 88-year-old Mott, in accepting a special plaque, recalled his early years with the Western-Mott Wheel Co. of Flint which became a part of the then 5-year-old General Motors Corp. in 1913. Mott rose to the post of executive vice president of GM before his retirement.

Mott told the group: "I was on the original board of directors of the Automobile Association of America and am the only survivor; I was on the General Motors board of directors in 1913 and am the only survivor of that group; I am the only survivor of a group of 15 which founded a golf club in Flint. And I'm getting mighty lonesome," he concluded.

Former Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, a Flint auto dealer, was main speaker and recalled how he got his first job as mail boy in Mott's firm at the age of 13.

"The greatest moment of interest in people, for no other man in our times has shown Mott's concern for the progress of others in a more inspiring, yet practical and productive way," Summerfield said.

Hastings, making his 41st jump with the Kentucky Parachute Association, landed feet first in a soft, wet field Sunday. James Little, Louisville, another jumper who was watching from the ground, said Hastings was saved from death when his reserve parachute blossomed briefly.

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE? — Only a fight or the puck could attract such a crowd at an ice hockey game and neither one is visible here. Action occurred during Sweden's 7-4 win over the U. S. Hockey squad at the Winter Olympics Saturday. Player on ice with mouth open is the Swedish goalie Svensson. New York Rangers' prospect Ulf Sterner is No. 10 for Sweden. Bill Christian (5) and Tom Martin (2) are the identifiable U. S. performers in the scramble.

Silver Medal Added to Bronze

U.S. Olympic Hopes Brighter

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Phicky Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore., added a silver medal to her earlier bronze with a flashing run in the women's giant slalom ski race and young Yank figure skaters got off to a strong start Monday in the United States' brightest day in the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

Miss Saubert, 21-year-old Oregon State coed, broke the monopoly of France's brilliant Alpine sister team by tying Christine Gotsche for second — a fraction of a second behind Christine's sister, Marielle, the gold medalist.

The winning time was 1 minute 52.24 seconds. Jean and Marielle did it 1:53.11.

On Saturday, it was Christine, at 19 a year older than Marielle who zoomed home first in the slalom, with Marielle second and Miss Saubert a happy third.

The three clash again Thursday in the third leg of the Alpine competition — the downhill — and Miss Saubert has vowed, "I will go all out for the gold."

RUSSIAN ROMP

Jean's two medals are the only ones collected so far by the U.S. team. The Soviet Union, on the other hand, is making a team runaway of the Games, with a total of 15 — six gold, five silver and four bronze.

The Russians picked up another silver in the Nordic combined, with the gold going to Torbjorn Knutsen, a 32-year-old Norwegian clerk who had been thought too old for such a rigorous skiing test.

Rallying after placing second behind defending champion Georg Thomas of Germany in the jumping Sunday, Knutsen sped the 9.3 miles of the cross-country in 50 minutes, 58.6 seconds for 469.20 points.

Graded on both jumping and the cross-country, Russia's Nikolay Kiselev was second with 543.04 points, followed by Thomas with 433.89.

John Bower of Auburn, Maine, had the ninth best cross-country time with 52:26.4 but finished 18th in the final combined standings with 403.76 points.

HIT BY FLU

Jim Shea was 27th with 346.76 points, after racing the cross-country in 53:04.2. The third U.S. entry, Jim Page of Lake Placid, N.Y., scratched because of an attack of influenza.

In the start of the men's figure skating competition at the Ice Stadium, Scotty Allen, the 15-year-old schoolboy national champion from Smoke Rise, N.J., shot into fourth place in the first two of five compulsory figures. The final three will be skated Tuesday.

Monty Hoyt of Denver, former U.S. champion, was ninth and Tommy Litz of Hershey, Pa., who shines in free skating, was 15th.

Manfred Schniedler of Germany assumed the lead with 363.0 points, followed by Karol Divin of Czechoslovakia, 353.9, and Alain Calmat of France, the strong favorite, with 347.7. Allen, third after the first figure, was close with 342.6.

Hoyt's score was 321.6 and Litz had a total of 306.3 points from the judges after two school figures, in which the contestants trace involved fixed designs on the ice.

The compulsory figures, a strong point for Europeans, count 60 per cent in the final judging. The free skating, a phase in which young Allen rates among the world's best, counts 40 per cent. The free skating climax is scheduled Thursday.

Red Wings Fall to 5th as NY Wins

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings managed only one point over the weekend and found themselves in fifth place in the National Hockey League today as the New York Rangers continued their surge.

Detroit was hammered by Montreal, 9-3, Saturday night as Bobby Rousseau scored five goals.

The Red Wings salvaged a 2-2 tie with Toronto Sunday night on Parker MacDonald's goal in a wild third period.

Chicago moved back into a first place tie with Montreal by beating Boston 5-2 Sunday, after playing a 2-2 tie with New York Saturday. New York upset Montreal 4-2 in Sunday's other game. Toronto defeated Boston 5-1 in Saturday's other contest.

SPORTS

TOUGHER SLATE

The Red Wings also find themselves playing a tougher schedule before playing host to New York next Sunday.

Detroit plays Chicago in a home-and-home series Wednesday and Thursday, then journeys to Boston next Saturday.

New York, meanwhile, has two games with cellar-dwelling Boston this week before playing at Montreal Saturday.

Youth Outlasts Age in Palm Springs Meet

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Tommy Jacobs is getting a little bolder and Jimmy Demaret is getting a little older. Which is not only a rhyme but a reason the 50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic turned out the way it did.

Jacobs won it, beating Demaret on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff Sunday after they finished the regular season 90 holes in 353 strokes each, seven under par.

Demaret, 53, offered this wry salute to his 38-year-old adversary:

"Tommy's a good boy and it was nice he could win it. After all, I've got a lot of years left and he's about through."

Demaret, who hasn't won a PGA tournament in nearly seven years, admitted the 90-hole exercise left him slightly exhausted. In the playoff, he gave away 25 years.

BOLDER GAME

Jacobs said his victory was largely a result of his recent resolution to play a bolder game of golf.

Jacobs, who has a home at nearby Bermuda Dunes Country Club, won the playoff with a nine-inch putt for a par three on the 92nd hole. Demaret, whose drive left him about 40 feet to the left of the green, was lying three when Jacobs holed out.

Hayes Jones Will Retire This Season

BOSTON — Michigan's flashing hurdler, Hayes Jones, says he wants to run in the Olympics again, but plans to retire after this year.

Jones won his 50th consecutive hurdles event Saturday night in the Boston A.A. Games.

"This is it," the Detroit school teacher said after his victory in the 45-yard hurdles.

"This is the last year. I'm going to keep on until the Olympics. If I make the Olympics, fine, if I don't."

Jones, a former Pontiac resident, said "Running used to be fun. Now it's just a chore. I have to push myself. I had to push to do it tonight."

Jones said he hopes to go into coaching when he retires, specializing in women's track.

4th Rated Kentucky Meets Georgia

By The Associated Press

Adolph Rupp doesn't much care for cramped old Woodruff Hall in Athens, Ga. Never did. At least not since Feb. 13, 1951.

That's the day he lost his first game as head coach of the Kentucky basketball team. It was at Woodruff Hall. And home-standing Georgia, then as now, was a defensive club, Georgia won, 29-16.

Chances are that the score will be higher than that tonight when Rupp again takes his Wildcats into Woodruff Hall — he once vowed he never would again — but it's likely to be a test of Georgia's defense.

Rupp will be seeking his 700th victory as the Kentucky coach and the Wildcats ranked fourth in the nation, will be gunning for

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan, winner of six straight league games, can just about clinch the Big Ten basketball title if it can get through its next four games without losing.

The testy part of the schedule starts tonight at Ohio State. The second-ranked Wolverines then must face Illinois, Indiana and Minnesota before meeting some of the lesser teams.

Michigan showed its class Saturday in downing Michigan State for the second straight week, 95-79. It was U-M's 15th victory in 16 games.

The Wolverines rushed to a 53-7 halftime lead as Bill Buntin scored 23 points. Buntin fouled out with 14:10 remaining in the game and never scored another point.

49 FOULS

Michigan also lost the services of Oliver Darden with six minutes remaining, while MSU captain Pete Gent also left via the foul route as the officials called 49 infractions.

Cazzie Russell, who topped all scorers for the second straight week with 25 points, netted seven of those markers to lead U-M on an early nine-point spurt that put the Wolverines ahead 10-4. MSU never went ahead after that as Michigan extended its lead to 20 points, 59-39, just before Buntin fouled out.

The Spartans rallied briefly and twice closed to within eight points. But the Wolverines continued to control the boards and never allowed their arch-rivals to get any closer.

Marcus Sanders topped MSU scorers with 21 points, while Stan Washington added 17 and Gent and Fred Thomann 13 each.

Larry Tregoning pitched in with 15 for Michigan, with Darden adding 11. Darden also topped both squads with 17 rebounds.

"We felt this time we'd get on the backboards," said Michigan coach Dave Strack.

The Wolverines lost out in the rebounding department for the first time this season in the first meeting with MSU. The Spartans are the conference rebound leaders.

MSU coach Fordy Anderson said he didn't feel his team took full advantage of the situation after Buntin went out. "We played better in the game at East Lansing," he added.

Titans Fail in Attempt Against Rated Villanova

By The Associated Press

The University of Detroit couldn't quite pull it off and lost 70 to 76 to sixth-ranked Villanova.

Detroit was down by as many as 11 points in the second half, but twice moved to within one point of a tie in the last three minutes of play. But the Titans couldn't catch the fast-moving Wildcats Saturday night.

Michigan trimmed Michigan

LITTLE CHANCE

While holding Indiana Tech well below its 90-point average, Olivet had little chance with its top scorer, Mike Rabbers, out of action because of injury and Dave Carroll tossing in 32 points for the winners.

Bud Acton and Bill Moore scored 35 points each in Alma's victory over Lawrence Tech.

The high scoring battle between Defiance and Spring Arbor featured individual marksmanship. Paul Shaban and Norm Krueckebier fired 33 and 28, respectively, for the winners and Dave Baker 30 for Spring Arbor.

Wayne State ran out of time in its loss to Buffalo. The Tartars shot nine straight points in the last 50 seconds, missing a tie by one point.

Jack McGowan of Largo, Fla., picked up $1,200 for his third place finish with 285 and Pete Cooper of Lake Worth, Fla., won $1,100 for his 286. Leland Gibson of Kansas City, Mo., finished with 290 and won $1,000.

Ex-Tiger Manush Among Group

Six Players Named to Baseball Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP)—The spitball is legal in the Hall of Fame even if it is out of bounds in organized baseball.

Burleigh Grimes and Urban (Red) Faber, two of the last pitchers to throw the spitball legally, were among the six new members named by the Hall of Fame Veterans' committee.

Miller Huggins, the little man who managed the New York Yankees to six pennants in 12 years, and Heinie Manush, the powerful outfielder with a lifetime .330 batting average, also made the grade along with two from the pre-1900 era—John Montgomery Ward and Tim Lincecum. Grimes, Faber and Manush are alive.

FORMER TIGER

Manush, 62, played in the majors from 1923 to 1939 and spent most of his career in the American League with Detroit, St. Louis, Washington and Boston. He finished up with Brooklyn and Pittsburgh in the National and later managed in the minors, scouted and coached. In 1926 he won the batting title at Detroit with a .378 average.

In some ways Ward was the most remarkable of the group. A jack-of-all-trades as a player, Ward was the only man to collect more than 2,000 hits, 2,151, and also to win more than 100 games, 153, as a pitcher. Ward, active from 1878 to 1894, managed three clubs, acted as president of the Boston Braves, pitched a perfect game for Providence in 1883, organized the Players' Brotherhood and also was the lawyer for the National League.

SET RECORD

Ward also set a record of 12 assists for a second baseman that still is in the book.

The addition of the six new men boosted the total membership in the Cooperstown, N.Y., museum to an even 100. The new members were picked by the veterans' committee from players who had been retired at least 20 years.

The Baseball Writers Association, who consider only those active within the last 20 years but retired at least five, are conducting a second ballot after failing to name anybody on the first vote. The writers expect to announce the results later this week.

Grimes, 76, and Faber, 75, were among this group of four pitchers permitted to continue use of the spitball after it was legislated off the book. Grimes actually was the last. He was active until 1934, retiring with a 270-212 won-lost record.

BOWLING

The women are holding their own in the North Hill men's House League Wednesday night.

Last week, in fact, they were scene stealers. The second place Randy West Hair Stylist team—the lone female squad in the field—had an actual 1000 game.

Jo Gohl had 211 and Doris Lanktree 212 in the game with 188—the lowest of the five women's scores.

In the Airway First League Wednesday, Betzi Waisanen scored well with 234—582 totals, and June Blum hit 220—545. Agnes Wolf had a 501 and Vi Rouse a 522 in the Airway Angels League.

The Mrs.'s took three points from the league leading Alley Cats and closed the gap between first and second place.

At 300 Bowl last week the scores included a 245—631 duo by Bob Rebennack and 234—415 pair by Al Bornak in the Tuesday GMT & C American League.

Jerry Mazza had 215—610 and Ernie Kulazowski 223 in the Tuesday night House League; while the 300 Bowlerettes recorded a 208—511 effort for Jean Swayne. Gerry Upcott made the 6-7-10 split.

The house team was in the GMC National loop spotlight Tuesday with a 1890 game and a 3123 series. Fran Protti's 188 led the 300 Bowlers League the same night.

Rec Quintets in Title Bids

Championship drives continue in the recreation basketball spotlight this week.

Spencer Floor Covering needs only one win to clinch the Waterford Township Class A title while O'Neil Realty is one game from tying for the Class B crown.

In city action, unbeaten West Bloomfield Heading has become the first team to clinch a berth in the city Class A playoffs.

A change from the normal procedure will find the city American League playing at Madison Junior High School Thursday night instead of Pontiac Central as usual.

Ex-Con Sought in Shooting

Two Policemen Killed in Los Angeles Store

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An ex-convict who learned printing in prison was being sought today, Police say he killed two officers who tried to arrest him for trying to pass a forged check.

Police said a nationwide manhunt has been ordered for Leaman Russel Smith, 33, with emphasis on Las Vegas and Chicago, as well as the Los Angeles area.

Police said Smith, released from Leavenworth Federal Prison last October, opened fire in a Sears Roebuck store, Saturday night, killing Sgt. Charles Paul Monaghan, 37, and officer Robert M. Endler, also 37.

A third policeman, Endel Jurman, 27, and a store clerk, Stephen S. Suzuki, 35, were wounded in the shooting at the Los Angeles store.

ASK ABOUT CHECK
Jurman, at a hospital recovering from bullet wounds in the chest and arm, said yesterday the shooting began while he and his partners were questioning Smith about a $167.40 check he and a woman were trying to cash.

Jurman said Smith asked "are you a policeman?"

He said when he answered yes, Smith started firing. Sgt. Monaghan was shot through the head and officer Endler was shot through the heart.

The officers were in plain clothes.

The woman, Mrs. Barbara Walker, 25, did not attempt to escape, officers said, though she had a .38-caliber pistol in her purse and was carrying five California driver's licenses, all apparently filled out with fictitious names.

Detectives said they later found 140 bogus payroll check blanks bearing the names of a well known soap company and a headache remedy firm at Mrs. Walker's apartment.

PRISON MATE

Meanwhile, a former prison mate of the suspect, who had taken a course in engraving and photography, was arrested in El Monte, Calif., as part of the bogus check ring, officers said.

The former prison mate was identified as Donald Castner, 30. A third man, Dennis H. Anderson, 21, also was arrested, police said.

14U: S. Astronauts Join Space Team

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Fourteen new astronauts head into classrooms today to start training for the next big space projects the two-man Gemini and Apollo moon flights.

Introduced here Oct. 15, the spacemen bring membership in the U.S. team to a 23-member total.

Most of them finished moving families to Houston within the past week.

For the first three or four months, they'll stay busy with mathematics and astronomy, looking often at celestial formations on a planetarium dome to learn "road signs" for space travel.

Specialized training for the actual journeys will come next at the manned spacecraft center which is east from downtown Houston.

Four kidneys were used because the baboons were small and doctors wanted to be sure that transplanted organs were ample for the job.

MIAMI (P)—A 14-year-old boy, his own kidneys useless, banked today on four kidneys transplanted from two baboons to save his life.

A Miami medical team at Variety Children's Hospital performed the rare surgery in six and a half hours yesterday.

A spokesman said the transplant itself was a success. He said it will be weeks, perhaps months, before doctors know if the boy will live.

Dies of Pneumonia

MONROE, Mich. (AP)—Federal Judge Charles C. Simons, 87, an immigrant's son who served on the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals for more than 25 years, died Sunday of pneumonia. He received his first federal court appointment from President Warren G. Harding in 1923, as U.S. District Court judge at Detroit. He was named to the court of Appeals in Cincinnati in 1932, became chief justice in 1932 and retired in 1959.

NY Schools Boycotted by Integrationists

Board Is Not Moving Fast Enough, Claim
Leaders of Protest

NEW YORK (AP)—Thousands of Negro and Puerto Rican children, joined by many white sympathizers, boycotted the nation's largest school system today demanding total integration.

A spokesman for the one-day protest movement estimated that 262,000 pupils participated—about 65 per cent of the Puerto Ricans and Negroes among the million pupils in New York City schools.

But the city's 850 schools remained open in the face of the demonstration—even those institutions with high absenteeism and some teachers marching in the civil rights picket lines.

Shortly after class bells rang, authorities reported about 2,700 pickets outside 300 schools. This was far short of the 8,000 pickets the demonstration leaders had forecast.

Pickets made no effort to interfere with or dissuade pupils arriving at the schools for the start of a new semester.

POLICE PATROL
About 2,000 policemen were assigned to schools and another 6,000 were ready for duty if needed.

The boycott and picketing dramatized minority group dissatisfaction with the Board of Education plan for coping with school racial imbalances resulting from living patterns.

Sponsors of the protest declared that the board's intention to start busing children from one neighborhood school to another next fall is not far-reaching enough.

The board of education called the one-day boycott a "lawless course of action" and urged all pupils and teachers to be at school.

SCHOOLS WARNED
The Rev. Dr. Milton A. Galamison, leader of the demonstration, warned that the boycott will be repeated "as often as necessary" and may be climaxed with a "sustained boycott of indefinite duration if the board of education does not budge from its position."

James B. Donovan, president of the board, said he would not "yield one inch to pressure." He said he would hold Calamison "personally and criminally responsible" if any children are injured during the demonstration.

Architect's Sketch Of Village Apartment Complex To Be Built On South Telegraph

Groundhogs Can't Agree

Winter's last weeks will be mild or cold, depending upon which groundhog you watched yesterday.

Two cities in Pennsylvania, both claiming to be official groundhog cities, forecast six weeks more cold. Quarryville and Punxsutawney groundhogs both saw their shadows.

In Michigan, groundhogs ducked back into burrows without casting a shadow of a shadow.

While the Weather Bureau insisted Michigan will be cold, even below normal in spots during February, the five-day forecast sides with the local groundhogs.

RETURN TO NORMAL
Temperatures will return to above-normal by Wednesday, with mild conditions persisting into the weekend.

There was one fifth of an inch precipitation this weekend. The low before 8 this morning was 14. By 1 p.m., it had reached 28.

$1.6-Million 'Grand Prix'

Work to Begin on Apartments

Work will begin tomorrow morning on a proposed $1.6-million "village-type" apartment house development on Pontiac's west side.

Construction plans were announced by a group of Detroit developers Saturday at a meeting with Mayor Robert A. Landry and other city officials.

Preliminary plans for the apartment complex were unveiled last October when the city rezoned the seven-acre apartment site on the east side of Telegraph between Hazel and Edna.

The development is to be known as the Grand Prix Apartments and will be owned by Grand Prix Apartment Co., and built by Aristocrat Building Co. of Detroit.

COMPANY OFFICERS.
Both companies are headed by Jerome Keywell, president; J. Phillip Levant, vice president; and Kopel I. Kahn, secretary-treasurer.

The original plan and re-zoning request had come from Henros Building Co., also owned by the Detroit group.

"We hope to have the first units ready for rental by June," Keywell said Saturday. "Our current target date for completion of the entire project is Sept. 1."

The development is being financed by a loan from John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., through the company's Detroit correspondent, Citizens' Mortgage Corp.

EIGHT BUILDINGS
Keywell said the development would consist of eight-story buildings housing 154 living units. There will be 108 one-bedroom units and 46 two-bedroom units with basements.

There will also be off-street parking for 100 cars. The development is being designed by Wah Yee Associates Architects of Detroit.

Yee said the apartments would be "of a contemporary styling designed to protect the village image.

WOOD FRAME

Scientists Eye Space Failures

Cameras Don't Work as Ranger Hits Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Space scientists sifted through coded tapes today in a search for the reason why spacecraft Ranger 6 plunged into the moon with its cameras blind to the wonders of the lunar landscape.

The agonizing end to a 66-hour flight came at 1:24 a.m. yesterday when Ranger 6 reached its historic rendezvous and six television cameras aboard wouldn't function.

FRUITLESS MISSION

The fruitless journey of Ranger 6 was the sixth straight failure in the Ranger program. The cost to date: $168 million—figured at $28 million a shot.

Ranger 6 was the first of the costly spacecraft to complete the difficult moon-approach maneuver faultlessly—which made the blind crash even more frustrating for its designers.

Coast Guard Holds 4 Cuban Vessels

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Coast Guard said today four Cuban fishing vessels it boarded in U.S. territorial waters off the Florida coast are being escorted to Key West.

A spokesman said the boats were expected to arrive at the Coast Guard base around noon. An investigation started by boarding parties yesterday will be completed.

The ultimate disposition of the four fishing vessels is uncertain, but they are being detained at present for violating U.S. territory by fishing within the three-mile limit.

Guardmen sent to board the boats were directed to examine their papers and cargo and determine whether any U.S. law had been violated. They later were directed to take the boats to port.

LIGHT TRUCK DEBUT—This high-load capacity delivery van today makes its entry into the economy truck field as GMC Truck & Coach Division's Handi-Van. Only 167 6 inches long, the truck can carry up to 2,100 pounds of cargo. It also boasts GMC's latest anticorrosion protection.

GMC Making New Light Van

GMC Truck & Coach Division today announced that a forward-control delivery van will be added to its line of light-duty trucks.

Calvin J. Werner, division general manager, said production of the new vehicle, called the Handi-Van, is already under way here at GMC's assembly plant.

"This development brings a new dimension to our light-delivery line," said Werner.

"These vehicles are tailored to the needs of those who require economical, durable and easy to maintain trucks."

Handi-Van has a 211-cubic-foot cargo space with a load capacity up to 2,100 pounds. Curb weight is listed as approximately 2,900 pounds.

MANEUVERABLE

and 74-inch width, the highly maneuverable truck has a turning radius of 16 feet.

The light van is powered by a 90-horsepower four-cylinder engine, with a 120-horsepower six available as an option. Three-speed manual transmission is standard, but an automatic is optional.

House to Hear Amendments on Antibias Bill

LBJ and McCormack
Predict Passage After
Only Minor Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bipartisan forces backing the civil rights bill test their strength today as the House starts considering amendments to the measure.

Both sides have been talking since debate opened Friday.

President Johnson and Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., have predicted the bill will come through the process without being seriously weakened.

Southerners are unhappy with every provision. Members from other parts of the country have doubts about some of them.

The heaviest fire undoubtedly will be directed at proposals banning racial discrimination in employment, public accommodations and federally aided programs.

The various sections will be open to amendment in the order in which they appear in the bill, which brings the one dealing with voting rights first under attack.

EQUAL VOTING

This provision, mainly aimed to speed up court action on voting cases and to ensure that any voter qualification standards are applied equally to whites and Negroes.

Southerners say the area of voting qualifications belongs solely to the states. They plan to offer an amendment clearly limiting the proposal to federal elections.

The controversial public accommodations provision will come up next.

An attempt to knock it out entirely is certain to be made and if that fails, a variety of amendments to limit its coverage have been prepared.

Senators Dig In on Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate gets down to business today on the tax cut bill with a fight over a college education amendment expected to provide the first major test.

Debate on the top-priority $11.6-billion administration measure began last Thursday but only a few speeches have been made on it so far.

However, Senate leaders put their colleagues on notice that there would be long sessions all this week in an attempt to pass the measure by Saturday and send it to conference with the House.

Democratic leaders held out some hope of finishing by Thursday night.

FLOOR BATTLES

It appeared likely that there would be only five or six major floor battles on the bill and that these would not involve the most important provisions.

No change is expected in the rate cuts, which benefit practically every individual and corporate taxpayer in the nation.

The first roll call vote on the bill may come today on support for the Finance Committee's decision to knock out of the measure the cut in capital gains tax rates inserted by the House.

The decision put into effect the only change in the House version asked by the administration. President Johnson's supporters are expected to have little difficulty in repeating this vote in the floor vote.

COLLEGE EDUCATION

A proposal by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., to allow a tax break on college education costs is up for debate today, with a vote expected Tuesday.

Ribicoff's amendment would allow tax savings of up to $25 a year for each student that a family has in college.

Opponents estimate this would cost the government $750 million the first year.

Democratic leaders look for a close vote.

 "I expect you to make bad plays," growled West. "I usually keep quiet, but when you accompany your bad play with a speech the combination is too much for me."
 JACOBY

It seems that South had won the opening spade lead and played his king of clubs. East had put on his ace and remarked facetiously, "Aces were made to take kings."

Once East played the ace there were no further problems. East still made his jack of clubs, but declarer made the other 11 tricks.

Had East stopped to think when that first club was led he would have seen that declarer would have to continue clubs if he wanted to make the contract.

He would have let the king hold the trick and won the next club. Declarer could still set up the rest of the club suit, but he would have had to get over to dummy to do it and that would use up dummy's only entry so that the last three good clubs would be useless.

There would still be lots of play left to the hand, but assuming that East and West played carefully South could make only eight tricks instead of 11.

How should a player know when to hold up? There is no absolute rule, but in general you have nothing to lose and a lot to gain if you hold up when your opponent plays this own long suit.

Strike Deadline Is Extended in Network Fight

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Negotiators met for hours beyond a strike deadline today to avert a nationwide strike against two major radio and television networks.

A contract between ABC, NBC and the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians expired at midnight Friday.

Both sides agreed to negotiate beyond the deadline, a company spokesman said. A union spokesman said the extension was at the companies' request.

Affected are 1,900 employees in New York, Washington, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The union said it was seeking job-security provisions and a pay hike to equal salaries for comparable jobs at the Columbia Broadcasting system. A different union represents CBS employees.

The union said ABC would be hardest hit by a strike since a majority of those affected work there. They include white collar workers, janitors, wardrobe and makeup men as well as technicians. NBC's membership is primarily of technicians.

The networks said they have sufficient supervisory personnel to take over to avoid interruption of programs.

Legislature Will Face Income Tax Proposal

LANSING (AP)—The legislature next week will face a proposal that Michigan's voters be asked to approve a 3 per cent income tax.

The bill, if approved by voters, would impose "a specific tax of 3 per cent upon the taxable gross income of every person, whether a resident of this state or a nonresident who derives taxable gross income from sources within this state."

Mother, 4 Children Suffocated by Fire

LA SALLE, Ill. (AP)—A mother and her four children suffocated Friday in a fire in their two-story brick-frame residence.

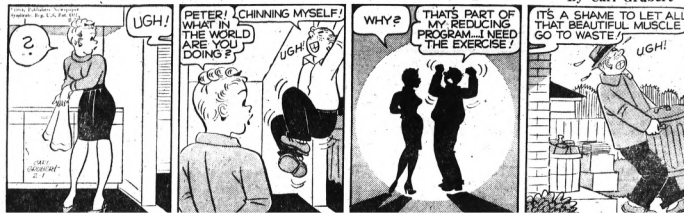

Fire Chief Manning Heffron said the fire had begun in the living room and spread up the stairway to the second floor.

Its cause was undetermined. The father, Charles, 38, was at work.

The board of education called the one-day boycott a "lawless course of action" and urged all pupils and teachers to be at school.

SCHOOLS WARNED

The Rev. Dr. Milton A. Galamison, leader of the demonstration, warned that the boycott will be repeated "as often as necessary" and may be climaxed by a "sustained boycott of indefinite duration if the board of education does not budge from its position."

James B. Donovan, president of the board, said he would not "yield one inch to pressure." He said he would hold Galamison "personally and criminally responsible" if any children are injured during the demonstration.

Architect's Sketch Of Village Apartment Complex To Be Built On South Telegraph

Groundhogs Can't Agree

Winter's last weeks will be mild or cold, depending upon which groundhog you watched yesterday.

Two cities in Pennsylvania, both claiming to be official groundhog cities, forecast six weeks more cold. Quarryville and Punxsutawney groundhogs both saw their shadows.

In Michigan, groundhogs ducked back into burrows without casting a shadow of a shadow.

While the Weather Bureau insisted Michigan will be cold, even below normal in spots during February, the five-day forecast sides with the local groundhogs.

RETURN TO NORMAL

Temperatures will return to above-normal by Wednesday, with mild conditions persisting into the weekend.

There was one fifth of an inch precipitation this weekend. The low before 8 this morning was 14. By 1 p.m., it had reached 28.

$1.6-Million 'Grand Prix'

Work to Begin on Apartments

Work will begin tomorrow morning on a proposed $1.6-million "village-type" apartment house development on Pontiac's west side.

Construction plans were announced by a group of Detroit developers Saturday at a meeting with Mayor Robert A. Landry and other city officials.

Preliminary plans for the apartment complex were unveiled last October when the city rezoned the seven-acre apartment site on the east side of Telegraph between Hazel and Edna.

The development is to be known as the Grand Prix Apartments and will be owned by Grand Prix Apartment Co., and built by Aristocrat Building Co. of Detroit.

COMPANY OFFICERS

Both companies are headed by Jerome Keywell, president; J. Phillip Levant, vice president; and Kopel I. Kahn, secretary-treasurer.

The original plan and re-

zoning request had come from Henros Building Co., also owned by the Detroit group.

"We hope to have the first units ready for rental by June," Keywell said Saturday. "Our current target date for completion of the entire project is Sept. 1."

The development is being financed by a loan from John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., through the company's Detroit correspondent, Citizens' Mortgage Corp.

EIGHT BUILDINGS

Keywell said the development would consist of eight-two-story buildings housing 154 living units. There will be 108 one-bedroom units and 46 two-bedroom units with basements.

There will also be off-street parking for 180 cars. The development is being designed by Wah Yee Associates Architects of Detroit.

Yee said the apartments would be "of a contemporary styling designed to protect the village image.

WOOD FRAME

"The structures will be of wood-frame, concrete block construction, with face brick, large expansive glass and aluminum sliding-type windows."

Scientists Eye Space Failures

Cameras Don't Work as Ranger Hits Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Space scientists sifted through coded tapes today in a search for the reason why spacecraft Ranger 6 plunged into the moon with its cameras blind to the wonders of the lunar landscape.

The agonizing end to a 66-hour flight came at 1:24 a.m. yesterday when Ranger 6 reached its historic rendezvous—and six television cameras aboard wouldn't function.

Experts at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here, who controlled the spacecraft's voyage, hope to find out what went wrong by Feb. 28—the probable date of the launching of Ranger 7.

Laboratory directors went ahead with plans for Ranger 7's flight—an identical photo mission—pointing out that the Ranger series is designed to gather information needed for manned U.S. landings planned later this decade.

FRUITLESS MISSION

The fruitless journey of Ranger 6 was the sixth straight failure in the Ranger program. The cost to date: $168 million—figured at $28 million a shot.

Ranger 6 was the first of the costly spacecraft to complete the difficult moon-approach maneuver faultlessly—which made the blind crash even more frustrating for its designers.

The camera system was considered one of the simplest mechanisms on the 804-pound spacecraft.

A check of Ranger's radioed messages showed no sign of the code which, run through a computer, would have produced earth's first close-up pictures of the moon.

Thomas A. Matheis, Texas Instruments engineer, said the cameras were open.

Coast Guard Holds 4 Cuban Vessels

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Coast Guard said today four Cuban fishing vessels it boarded in U.S. territorial waters off the Florida coast are being escorted to Key West.

A spokesman said the boats were expected to arrive at the Coast Guard base around noon. An investigation started by boarding parties yesterday will be completed.

The ultimate disposition of the four fishing vessels is uncertain, but they are being detained at present for violating U.S. territory by fishing within the three-mile limit.

Guardians sent to board the boats were directed to examine their papers and cargo and determine whether any U.S. law had been violated. They later were directed to take the boats to port.

GMC Making New Light Van

GMC Truck & Coach Division today announced that a forward control delivery van will be added to its line of light-duty trucks.

Calvin J. Werner, division general manager, said production of the new vehicle, called the Handi-Van, is already under way here at GMC's assembly plant.

"This development brings a new dimension to our light-duty delivery line," said Werner.

House to Hear Amendments on Antibias Bill

LBJ and McCormack
Predict Passage After
Only Minor Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bipartisan forces backing the civil rights bill test their strength today as the House starts considering amendments to the measure.

Both sides have been talking since debate opened Friday.

President Johnson and Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., have predicted the bill will come through the process without being seriously weakened.

Southerners are unhappy with every provision. Members from other parts of the country have doubts about some of them.

The heaviest fire undoubtedly will be directed at proposals banning racial discrimination in employment, public accommodations and federally aided programs.

The various sections will be open to amendment in the order in which they appear in the bill, which brings the one dealing with voting rights first under attack.

EQUAL VOTING

This provision, mainly amending existing laws, is designed to speed up court action on voting cases and to ensure that any voter qualification standards are applied equally to whites and Negroes.

Southerners say the area of voting qualifications belongs solely to the states. They plan to offer an amendment clearly limiting the proposal to federal elections.

The controversial public accommodations provision will come up next.

An attempt to knock it out entirely is certain to be made and if that fails, a variety of amendments to limit its coverage have been prepared.

Senators Dig In on Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate gets down to business today on the tax cut bill with a fight over a college education amendment expected to provide the first major test.

Debate on the top-priority $11.6-billion administration measure began last Thursday but only a few speeches have been made on it so far.

However, Senate leaders put their colleagues on notice that there would be long sessions all this week in an attempt to pass the measure by Saturday and send it to conference with the House.

Democratic leaders held out some hope of finishing by Thursday night.

FLOOR BATTLES

It appeared likely that there would be only five or six major floor battles on the bill and that these would not involve the most important provisions.

No change is expected in the rate cuts, which benefit practically every individual and corporate taxpayer in the nation.

The first roll call vote on the bill may come today on support for the Finance Committee's decision to knock out of the measure the cut in capital gains tax rates inserted by the House.

The decision put into effect the only change in the House version asked by the administration. President Johnson's supporters are expected to have little difficulty in repealing this vice in the floor vote.

COLLEGE EDUCATION

A proposal by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., to allow a tax break on college education costs is up for debate today, with a vote expected Tuesday.

Ribicoff's amendment would allow tax savings of up to $325 a year for each student that a family has in college.

Opponents estimate this would cost the government $750 million the first year.

Democratic leaders look for a close vote.

Guinea's Economy in Trouble After Five Years of Marxism

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

CONAKRY, Guinea (AP) — Guinea's economy is in serious trouble after a five-year effort to adopt Marxism. The United States is being asked to help the former French colony in West Africa to survive.

The government of President Sekou Toure has asked the United States for $30 million worth of commodities for the current year in addition to $15 million worth of food already approved.

There are serious doubts that Washington will approve the entire sum. Uncertainty shrouds the future of the first African nation to hoist the banner of Socialist revolution.

The experiment has showed that socialism does not bring magic solutions to the problems of underdeveloped nations.

RIOTING REPORTS

There are persistent reports of rioting in the interior jungle and bush.

American diplomats here, who are generally sympathetic to the young country's plight, are recommending that as much help as possible be granted. They describe Guinea as an "experiment in complete independence," in contrast to most of Africa which still relies heavily on former colonial masters.

Potentially one of the richest countries in West Africa because of bauxite (aluminum ore) deposits and rich pineapple and banana plantations, Guinea cut itself off from France in 1958 and turned to the Soviet bloc for help. Communist money and technicians poured in but resulted in a series of failures and disappointments.

Experts believe that in effect the economy collapsed. But the shock was reduced because 80 per cent of the 3 million people live outside a monetary economy.

BUNGLING METHODS

Pessimists among both Communist and Western observers believe ill-advised methods and bungling have slowed Guinea's development for years.

The controlled radio and press continues to wage a vigorous campaign against "the sequels of colonialism" and speaks of leading the rest of Africa toward revolution.

Some Western diplomats point out that what is being described as an experiment in total independence was propped up — for better or for worse — by nearly 2,000 Soviet bloc technicians. The number is now about half that.

Americans are slowly moving in. So far 50 aid technicians and a Peace Corps contingent have arrived.

The Russians appear to be phasing out their aid to Guinea but still keeping important long-range trade deals. They buy 90 per cent of the pineapple and banana crop and supply most of the gasoline and rolling stock.

America's growing interest in Guinea apparently has angered

France, which wanted to punish the country for choosing immediate rather than progressive independence.

Toure still maintains strong ties and political preference for the East. The French-speaking Guinean elite prefer France and things French. Americans are considered somewhat funny strangers.

Japan, China Brewing Big Plant Deal

TOKYO (UPI) — Another big business deal between Japanese industry and Communist China may be signed in April.

The last such transaction brought Nationalist China to the brink of breaking diplomatic relations with Japan. It may happen again.

Textile industry sources said Japan's Dai Nippon spinning company is ready to sell Communist China a second vinyl synthetic textile plant.

The sales contract probably will be signed in Peking in April, the sources said. The price: $27.7 million to $30 million, including a fee for technical guidance.

APPROVAL LIKELY

Japan's Conservative government probably will approve the sale as it did last year on another vinyl plant for the China mainland.

Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda favors trade with Red China. But he is not ready to accept Socialist demands and follow France in recognizing Mao Tse-tung's government.

Formosa was so angry over Japan's trade with Red China, plus Tokyo's repatriation of a Communist Chinese interpreter, that it almost broke diplomatic relations.

Nationalist China did cut off some of its trade with Japan, a big sacrifice for Formosa. About 50 per cent of Formosa's exports go to Japan.

FORMOSA PROTESTS

Demonstrations broke out in Taipei at the Japanese embassy. Windows were broken before police arrived.

Some Nationalists, particularly military men who fought in World War II, still harbor personal dislike for the Japanese. Taipei reports said a Nationalist army officer tried to seize command of the armor corps partly because he was angry the government did not take a firmer anti-Japanese stand.

The textile plant will be sold to Communist China on the installment plan, if the Japanese government approves the deal. Industry sources said Communist China would make a 25 per cent down payment, with the balance spread over five years. Interest would be 6 per cent per year.

DISCUSS PROBLEMS

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk was in Japan last week discussing trade and economic problems with the Japanese cabinet.

Rusk said the United States will not trade with Communist China and considered the sale of American wheat to Soviet Russia to be a special case.

Sources close to Rusk said the United States would voice no objections if its friends trade with Red China so long as strategic goods were not involved. But these sources said the United States would take a dim view of transactions with the Communists if the credit terms were so easy as to amount to foreign aid.

It Seems to Me . . .

Recent Political Happenings Arousing Pontiac's Interest

Pontiac politics are popping.

Within a fairly short space of time, we have witnessed the Jaycee vote on the charter amendment which carried by the most overwhelming margin of anything that has been on a local ballot since they made Chief Pontiac the Indian of the Year. Following that, we witnessed a surprising and gratifying interest among candidates for the commission in April. Several men stepped forward from each district almost immediately and others will probably follow.

The French actions sway a flock of African colonies to vote for Red China's admission to the U.N. DE GAULLE's disservice to the world will be incalculable. If this comes about, it may be high time for the United States to consider picking up her marbles and fading from the U.N. scene.

President Johnson is understandably wrought up and he wants the U. N. assembly meeting scheduled for September put off until after the elections. The President doesn't fancy running for office after Red China has bullied her way into the United Nations over our strenuous protests. Our prestige would suffer and the voters might take this into account when they visited the polling places in November.

As Red China cracks the whip in Southeastern Asia, her endorsement by France suggests that DE GAULLE either fumbled the ball badly at a psychological moment—or played it that way on purpose. The Chicago Tribune states that "endorsement at this precise juncture, suggests a malicious intent." Those are strong words.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

After all the bills for the Estes luncheon were paid, your committee of three found itself with a balance of $26.27 which was mailed to the United Fund. . . . Husband: "Guess how many famous people there are in Pontiac?" Wife: "I'm not sure, but it's one less than you think." . . . Somerset Maugham is hard at work on a novel involving the dime-a-dance girls—and he turned ninety. . . . "JFK: The Man and the Myth" was on all the best seller lists when the assassination happened and it was immediately withdrawn from publication. But now the mail orders have put it into its 15th edition.

And now Commissioner MILTON HENRY resigns and declares he will turn his attention "to greater things." This is probably a very sensible decision and will redound to the benefit of Mr. HENRY and to the City of Pontiac. He has been a controversial figure ever since he went to the City Hall and was often the willing cause of turmoil through his arrests and attacks on others.

All of these factors add up to a spirited primary and election in the spring. The citywide discussions will be a healthy thing for the community and should result in a much stronger government and commission.

Pontiac people have really been aroused.

Much Worse . . .

The Asiatic situation worsens. You wonder now whether even the impetuous CHARLES DE GAULLE envisioned the full consequences of his precipitate recognition of Red China. And his own rocky ship of state still heads into the open seas with breakers ahead.

Secretary of State Rusk paints a dark picture of France's new associate and points out graphically that Peking is the current menace in South Asia and is openly planning on forays into Latin America. The word "peace" has little place in the Red China scheme of affairs. Belligerence is the theme song. She "orders" de Gaulle to break with Nationalist China to his amazement and he balks; but he has deliberately let himself in for this kind of international badgering. Either he goes along or he must acknowledge that he blundered.

He's in a self-made jam. Just as this alliance aids Red China's position in Asia, it definitely damages the U.S. battle there against communism. And it

'You've Made My Visit A Happy One!'

David Lawrence Says:

Debt Is Increasing Alarmingly

WASHINGTON — Public debt and private debt are increasing at an alarming rate. The figures are being glossed over or ignored in Washington. . . . Scott attention has been paid to unpleasant truths such as were disclosed in a speech a few days ago by Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.).

He gave the Senate a comprehensive outline of the deteriorating situation in the finances of the United States government.

Certainly under the doctrine of "equal time," Mr. Byrd — as the principal spokesman of the opposition viewpoint and the Senate's Finance Committee chairman — deserves for his arguments equal prominence in the press in relation to the optimistic statements by President Johnson recently in his economic report to Congress.

For Sen. Byrd's speech contains significant facts which, if they continue to go unheeded by governmental policy makers, could cause a worse catastrophe than occurred in the 1930's. Sen. Byrd put it this way:

"The federal deficit last year was $6.3 billion. This year it will be $10 billion. Together, these will become the greatest two-year peacetime deficit in history — totaling $16.3 billion.

DEPRESSION DEFICITS
"The depression deficits of the '30's raised the federal debt from $16 billion to $43 billion. The bigger, and faster deficits of the '50's are raising the debt from $26 billion to some $320 billion.

"There is no doubt about the fact that federal taxes are too high. They should be cut. But the hard fact is that the basic reason for federal taxes is to meet federal expenditures."

The Virginia senator said it is easy to blame war, "cold war" and national defense for the steady rise in federal expenditures, but he declared that "the big increases in spending are in the domestic — civilian programs."

He pointed out that, since the Korean War, the federal spending total has increased by more than $30 billion, and that, out of this sum, only $7.5 billion was for military and related activities, such as foreign aid.

GNP GROWTH
Byrd criticized the oft-repeated reference to the growth of the gross national product as an indication of remarkable progress, and said:

"Increasing debt and continuing deficits follow the pattern of economic philosophy which has been dominating federal policy in recent years. Debt is used to increase the so-called gross national product."

"State and local debt now appears to be rising at a rate approaching $10 billion a year. . . . Federal programs to encourage the use of public credit include those for the insurance and guarantee of private mortgages and loans . . .

TOTAL DEBT
"This debt philosophy has apparently permeated the national economy. Total debt — federal, state and local, corporate, and private — has been increasing at a rate of about $65 billion a year. It now totals more than a trillion dollars."

Byrd, of course, is against the pending tax-reduction bill because he thinks expenditures should first be cut.

The senator questioned whether the enactment of such a tax measure at this time would contribute to "sound and constructive progress."

He pointed out that a tax-reduction bill also was passed in 1954 and yet, in the 11 fiscal years since then, net federal deficits have totaled $46.4 billion, "including the budget estimates for this year and next."

The senator therefore contended that, since tax reductions have not stimulated the economy to the point where deficits can be removed, deficit spending has not proved successful.

Best quote I've heard (and I hope it's authentic) in connection with the argument between the Air Force generals and the defense department over the need for a new manned bomber is credited to Gen. Curt LeMay.

"If somebody can prove to me that the airplane invented the Wright brothers, I'll forget what I've said about the manned bomber."

Ill-Housed

The New York Herald Tribune

The man who said that "Congress' right hand talks economy while its left hand paws money down a rat-hole" may have been guilty of a metaphorical atrocity, but he made his point.

If he were alive today he might have something further of interest to say about a House of Representatives that while spending nine years and $83 million for an unfinished third office building, to be equipped with those essentials for survival like heated swimming pools, a gymnasium and three-room suites.

Work was supposed to have been completed two years ago but occupancy of the so-called Rayburn Building is still many months, and many millions, in the future. Just why the House, feels so ill-housed in its two fine edifices (its membership hasn't changed in half a century) isn't clear, but its war on poverty sure is hell.

'Mental Health Program Needs Area Cooperation'

The Oakland County Community Mental Health Board is a newly-formed group working on a plan to help adults and children. This group has made a study of needs and feels the first step is setting up mental health outpatient clinics. You do not feel it is necessary? Then take a look at the horrible crimes in our county last year and read the psychiatrists' comments.

It was my good fortune to work for Dr. C. A. Neafie and Dr. John D. Monroe, two fine health directors in Pontiac and Oakland County. These two gave their entire professional lives to further health needs in our area.

Michigan has a definite lack of facilities for the care and treatment of the mentally ill. How it must have grieved Dr. Monroe when a youngster found guilty of murder was ordered to the state hospital for treatment, but there was no room and he had to be kept in the youth home for several months.

People in this area should give full cooperation to the mental health program.

Says Educate Children in 'How to Live'

The old saying: "When I was 16 I thought my dad was stupid, but at 21 I was amazed that he got so smart in just five years," seemed humorous when my youngsters were small. But now that they're teen-agers it's not humorous, but frightening. It's also alarming when we read that one of the major causes of death among our college students is suicide. Personnel directors tell us the major reason for men being fired is that they can't get along with people.

It seems our school superintendents and principals should do something. If they haven't a textbook to use, I suggest Dale Carnegie's "How to Win Friends and Influence People." It might be used until they can develop something better. It would only seem to be common sense to educate our children in how to live as well as how to make a living!

'Are parents aware of the smoke-filled city buses our teen-agers are subjected to as transportation to and from Madison Jr. High? Is there no law governing a city bus that could put the violators off? Is there no bus driver who could enforce it?

Parents have complained to the school board, bus company, principal and police department, but the problem remains unsolved. Some parents have started driving the children to school rather than risk the chance of clothing catching on fire.

We're disgusted with our children coming home smelling like an all-night pop party and having to comb cigarette fragments out of their hair.

Maybe a cold walk home by some of these offenders will enlighten them about public laws.

Not All Alike

The State Labor News (Columbus, Ohio)

The AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE) tries to give the impression that all members of AFL-CIO labor unions are liberals in their political affiliation.

This is an exaggeration as has been demonstrated time and again in national, state, and local elections. A substantial minority of at least 25 percent of labor union membership has consistently voted for conservative candidates.

Through the circumstance of limited income, the average labor union member has to be conservative. When he or she sees the federal government squandering money that it has taken from his or her paycheck, these labor union members become just as indignant and aroused as any other taxpayer.

Whenever conservative political candidates have appealed to labor union members and taken the time and made the effort to explain to these members the true facts of economic life, they have received political support.

Although this conservatively inclined labor union membership has no official or organizational representation in the AFL-CIO and other segments of organized labor, they are a distinct and potent minority and a great worry to labor union officials.

Keep Mouth Shut Before Meal

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

One way to keep peace in the family is to keep mum before meals. A survey found that most quarrels between husbands and wives erupt just before the dinner hour.

If all the motor vehicles in the United States were placed bumper to bumper they would form a line long enough to reach the moon—and some days that seems to be just what has happened.

Harlem Fire Kills Woman, 5 Children

NEW YORK (AP) — Five children and the mother of two of them died yesterday in a Harlem tenement fire. A sixth child was critically injured.

"Were it not for the fact that (fire) engine 58 happened to be passing by, the death toll would have mounted," said Fire Commissioner Edward Thompson. "People just stood and looked from the street instead of pulling a fire box."

The fire truck crew saw smoke pouring from a fourth-floor window of the tenement while returning from a false alarm.

Willie Byrd, father of three victims, told authorities he found the couch on fire and a drunken man in the apartment when he looked in on the children at 3 a.m. Byrd said he doused the blaze, chased out the man and went back next door to his sister's apartment.

TWO HOURS LATER

Two hours later his children, Thomas, 10, Josh, 6, and Terry, 5, were dead, along with Mrs. Jane Rodriguez and two of her children, Jerry, 8, and Victor, 7.

Another Byrd child, Joyce, 13, was critically burned. The smoldering fire in the Rodriguez apartment apparently had renewed itself.

By JEANMARIE ELKINS

Pool is emerging from the dark, smoke-filled pool hall. The game is now being played in bowling alleys, at home and in modern, well-lit billiard parlors catering to women and family groups.

No longer is the game connected with the "tough guys" those with long hair, dirty fingernails, black leather jackets and foul language.

NEW HALLS

New pool halls are springing up all over the area. Completely modern, they feature ample lighting, pastel colored tables, music and other such attractions to lure the female customer and the younger set.

One such establishment is the Golden Cue in Walled Lake. Opening only a short time ago in the old theater building, it is well lighted, clean and features thick carpeting and patio furniture as well as refreshments.

The newest in pool, billiard and snooker tables are here in decorator colors of green, gold, blue and tomato-soup red.

Soft music is tuned to the age group playing, pop music for teen-agers and classical and old standards for families and older groups.

WOMEN'S POOL LEAGUE

Club owners, William Berryman of West Strathmore and William Harris of Sylvan Village, are anticipating formation of women's leagues in the spring.

Not to be left out of the picture, many bowling alleys are now accommodating the pool enthusiast.

The great majority of the area bowling establishments have now installed one or more pool tables.

These range from bumper pool and the smaller or lounge size table right up to the regulation 4½ x 9-foot table, depending on amount of space available.

Some more enterprising bowling alley owners are building special additions to their present buildings to accommodate a number of tables.

HOWES LANES

One such couple is Mr. and Mrs. Lester Howe of Howes Lanes in Clarkston. Their addition accommodates six regulation-size pool tables in a brilliant shade of tomato-soup red, and they are anticipating installation of a snooker table.

"We feel pool has become a clean game," emphasizes Mrs. Howe, who also states that they plan on beginning leagues in the near future, possibly next season.

Home owners are now purchasing smaller tables. The recreation room, family room, den or basement is likely to become the haven for neighborhood enthusiasts.

"Our sales have more than doubled over what they were three or four years ago," claims George Meyer, manager of the sporting goods department of Montgomery Ward's Pontiac Mall store.

LOWER PRICES

"Competition is keener and

prices have been marked down from those in past years."

Most popular size table is the seven foot or step-down size, according to Meyer, though he feels more people would buy the eight-foot pocket billiard table if they could manage to maneuver it around corners and down stairs to where they would like it.

Unlike many other sports, pool is not overly expensive nor is it only for the skilled professional.

As long as you are tall enough to see over the table, you are able to play pool. It is enjoyable for even the most inexperienced hand.

PRACTICE HELPS

A few pointers and a little practice is all that is required to improve your game.

Most pool halls charge customers by the hour but there are many tables, which must be fed 20c or 25c a game.

For those who wish to really make an impression, custom pool cues, available for your specifications, are available for as little as $10 or $15.

Two Policemen Killed in Los Angeles Store

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An ex-convict who learned printing in prison was being sought today. Police say he killed two officers who tried to arrest him for trying to pass a forged check.

Police said a nationwide manhunt has been ordered for Leaman Russell Smith, 35, with emphasis on Las Vegas and Chicago, as well as the Los Angeles area.

Police said Smith, released from Leavenworth Federal Prison last October, opened fire in a Sears Roebuck store, Saturday night, killing Sgt. Charles Paul Monaghan, 37, and officer Robert M. Endler, also 37.

A third policeman, Endel Jurman, 27, and a store clerk, Stephen S. Suzuki, 55, were wounded in the shooting at the Los Angeles store.

ASK ABOUT CHECK

Jurman, at a hospital recovering from bullet wounds in the chest and arm, said yesterday the shooting began while he and his partners were questioning Smith about a $167.40 check he and a woman were trying to cash.

Jurman said Smith asked "are you a policeman?"

He said when he answered yes, Smith started firing. Sgt. Monaghan was shot through the head and officer Endler was shot through the heart.

The officers were in plain clothes.

The woman, Mrs. Barbara Walker, 25, did not attempt to escape, officers said, though she had a 25-caliber pistol in her purse and was carrying five California driver's licenses, all apparently filled out with fictitious names.

Detectives said they later found 448 bogus payroll check blanks bearing the names of a well known soap company and a headache remedy firm at Mrs. Walker's apartment.

PRISON MATE

Meanwhile, a former prison mate of the suspect, who had taken a course in engraving and photography, was arrested in El Monte, Calif., as part of the bogus check ring, officers said.

The former prison mate was identified as Donald Castner, 30. A third man, Dennis H. Anderson, 21, also was arrested, police said.

Most of them finished moving families to Houston within the past week.

For the first three or four months, they'll stay busy with mathematics and a n astronomy, looking often at a revolution formations on a planetarium dome to learn "road signs" for space travel.

Specialized training for the actual journeys will come next at the manned spacecraft center which is east from downtown Houston.

Stockholders Eyed

Return to Mart Slow

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Return of the public to the stock market after its fright back in the 1962 crash is seen by many in the rise in speculative activity. But it is the same kind of individual who bought stocks a few years back?

Some glamour stocks have been getting a big ride remis-cent of the flush days of 1961. Trading volume has been heavy on many days this month.

But whether the activity of individual traders is distinct from the many institutions that play an ever more important role in the market, is for in-and-out speculation or for relatively long term investment is a question.

The big jump in the number of individual Americans who own stocks that marked the previous four years seems to have slowed markedly in 1963. The role of the institutions as owners goes on increasing.

NUMBERS DECLINE
Some top-tier corporations, traditional choice of the long-term investor, have seen the number of individual stockholders decline in the last 12 or 18 months. Others have seen the long advance in numbers slacken.

Many of the stock splits announced in recent weeks have frankly named as a reason the desire to bring share prices into the reach of more people to widen the ownership. The move to make stock acquisition easy and attractive for employees also is spreading among corporations.

POTENTIAL ADVERTISERS

Stockholders are potential customers for and advertisers of a company's products. Also, wide ownership makes for stability, narrows the opportunity for a takeover after by one clique or an outsider. Large shareowner rolls tend to make future corporate financing easier.

Corporate executives usually deny domination by the institutional pension funds, bank trustees, insurance companies, mutual funds—whose ever swelling piles of cash to invest have spurred their stock purchasing.

But the role of institutional traders in the stock market itself is closely watched by federal regulatory agencies and exchange officials alike. And the part they play or could play in corporate affairs is also of interest to individual stockowners, big and little, and to corporate management.

Exactly how many individuals own stock in American corporations isn't known. Adding up the number of share owners reported by various firms won't give the answer: Too many persons own shares in more than one company, many leave their shares in the names of their brokers or bankers.

17 MILLION

But sampling surveys have indicated that the number has swollen since World War II, some say as high as 17 million individuals. Counting those who have an interest in corporations as owners of mutual fund shares or as participants in pension funds that own stocks, the number could be even higher—or if only an estimate at best.

But the drop in the number of share owners reported by some leading corporations, and the small gains reported by others used to steady and sizable year-over-year increases, make estimates even more tentative.

Trial for Hoffa in 3rd World War

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—The U.S. government was expected to try this week to direct-witness testimony of James H. Hoffa to alleged jury tampering during his 1962 conspiracy trial.

As the jury tampering trial of Hoffa and five others entered its third week today, none of the 22 government witnesses called to testify in the trial had been called to the stand.

U.S. attorneys, however, said they planned to concentrate on one count of the multiple-charge indictment alleging Hoffa and former Nashville teamsters' local president, Ewing King, attempted to "corrupt" a woman juror in the 1962 trial in Nashville.

OTHER TRIAL

U.S. District Court trial here is an outgrowth of Hoffa's 1962 trial on charges of sharing $1 million in illegal kickbacks.

Solons Debate State Budget

Record $624 Million Requested by Romney

LANSING (UPI)—The Senate Appropriations and House Ways and Means committees open a major job this week—hearings on Gov. George Romney's request for a record general fund budget of $624 million.

The chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, Sen. Frank Beale, R-St. Clair, said today he thought the budget would get through without drastic changes, but Rep. Arnell Engstrom, R-Traverse City, the longtime boss of the ways and means committee, wasn't as optimistic.

"It might have a little rough sledding," Engstrom said. "Most of the legislators when they first see it shudder a little bit because it's so high."

The budget is $74 million more than Romney asked last year and there is little chance he'll wind up like he did then, with more than he asked for.

Instead of the $547 million requested the legislature appropriated $550 million in 1963.

Both houses of the legislature were scheduled to meet tonight and the budget hearings are expected to get under way Wednesday.

Higher education, where Romney wants to spend $183.2 million for operations, may be one area house economists will seek to reduce, Engstrom said.

"I have no personal feelings about the budget," Engstrom said, "but some of the members of the committee think it is pretty high. We're going to look it over pretty carefully."

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers Union, whose contracts often set national patterns, is going to drive hard for improved fringe benefits, particularly pensions, in 1964.

The UAW is leaving no doubt that fringe improvement will be an all-out goal, even if the union unexpectedly were to pass up seeking a substantial wage increase, or possibly profit-sharing, in the wake of one of the auto industry's most lucrative years.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPER

Q "I have just received $2,000 in Bar Mitzvah gifts, which means, of course, that I am going to be a bar mitzvah in a few years. What would you advise?" G.S.

A With several years to go before you reach college, I believe your money should be put into strongly growing stocks that should enhance your capital over a period of time.

I am going to suggest a good packaged food company and a strong utility. The first of these is, Consolidated Foods, whose better known brand names include Kitchen of Sara Lee and Mott's. The second is a utility, serving an expanding area in and around Dallas and offering one of the finest growth records in the utility group.

Ape Kidneys Given to Teen

MIAMI (U-A)—A 14-year-old boy, his own kidneys useless, barked today on four kidneys transplanted from two baboons to save his life.

A Miami medical team at Variety Children's Hospital performed the rare surgery in six and a half hours yesterday.

A spokesman said the transplant itself was a success. He said it will be weeks, perhaps months, before doctors know if the boy will live.

FUNCTION PROPERLY The new kidneys were functioning properly, doctors said.

The chief dangers, the spokesman said, are an infection may occur or the transplants will not "take."

Four kidneys were used because the baboons were small and doctors wanted to be sure that transplanted organs were ample for the job.

The divorce rate among British aristocracy is about three times as high as that of the general population.

All were employed on a farm near here.
