City's Voters Expressing Tax Basis Preferences

Pontiac voters go to the polls today to express their preference for either a city income tax or a four-mill hike in the present property tax levy. The polls are open until 8 p.m.

★ ★ ★

City officials anticipate that about 20 per cent of nearly 30,000 registered voters will turn out.

Voter preference will point the way city commissioners will go in attempting to meet financial problems.

If the city income tax is favored the commission intends to enact an ordinance which would make the tax effective beginning Jan. 1.

★ ★ ★

The income tax — one per cent for residents, one-half of one per cent for nonresidents — would be accompanied by a three-mill cut in the property tax levy.

If voters, however, show a preference for a property tax increase of four mills ($4 per $1,000 of assessed valuation) another election is necessary.

The commission has scheduled a special election for Oct. 17 in this event.

To hike the property levy it is necessary to change the charter which now limits the amount that can be levied for the operating budget to 10 mills.

VOTER APPROVAL

Voter approval is necessary for any charter amendment.

Not known at this time is how much opposition there will be to any new tax.

It's likely that those who oppose new city taxes will not bother to vote in the advisory election.

Mrs. Wilson, Founder of OU, Dies in Europe

Mrs. Alfred (Matilda) Wilson, benefactress of Oakland University, died today in Brussels, Belgium, at the age of 83.

Mrs. Wilson, and her late husband, Alfred G., founded Oakland University in 1957 when they gave their 1,400-acre Meadow Brook Farm estate to Michigan State University for the creation of a new university.

Mrs. Wilson, Dodge heiress, society matron and philanthorpist, died in a Brussels Red Cross hospital of an apparent heart attack, according to the U. S. Embassy there.

At the time of her death, she lived on the campus in Meadow Brook Hall — considered one of the great homes in America. She retained the home and its surrounding 127-acres.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Value of the land gift plus a $2-million endowment was estimated at $10 million.

Oakland University has grown from an initial enrollment of 570 to today's 3,800 with 30,000 students expected by the mid-1980s.

The university is hailed by many as having the possibilities of becoming one of the greatest in the United States.

ACTIVE IN ORGANIZATIONS

MSU President Dr. John Hannah called it "the most generous benefaction ever received by Michigan State."

Mrs. Wilson, reportedly one of the country's wealthiest women, was known as a somewhat shy, unpretentious woman who was active in many civic organizations until her death.

Once an interim lieutenant governor in Michigan during 1940, Mrs. Wilson was a familiar figure on the Oakland Univeristy campus.

College officials say she took an interest in meeting every student, and every year the highlight of college activities was a student-thrown birthday party for her.

A classroom building — Matilda R. Wilson Hall — was named after her at OU, and a dormitory named after her and her late husband at MSU.

The university's first lady was widowed twice. Her first husband was John F. Dodge, one of the two brothers, who started the Dodge Automobile Co.

Mr. Wilson, a wealthy industrialist, died in 1962.

Judge Rules Out Novi Vote on City

Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer ruled today that Novi Village cannot hold an election on its incorporation as a home rule city.

Beer said he was upholding the first ruling in the case by Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore in early 1966 that the petitions asking the election were faulty.

There can't be an election now unless new petitions are circulated and meet all requirements of the law on population density and are accompanied by a proper map describing the area, declared Beer.

Judge Beer had been considering three cases requesting court action against the village's desires to incorporate as a home-rule city.

County Okays Study of OEO

By JIM LONG

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved a $4,000 allocation for a study that could decide the future of the county's antipoverty program.

Supervisors, by a 60-17 vote, ordered the study so they can measure the effectiveness of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) program before allocating any county funds for its operation.

The board approved the study on the recommendation of its ways and means committee which stated that an evaluation of the OEO program is essential before the county made any financial commitments.

The county has been asked by the OEO to provide $25,000 to assure adequate local funding which is required under the federal program.

★ ★ ★

In the past the county's participation in the program has been restricted to free office space for the OEO, equipment and some services.

In answer to opponents of the study and additional aid, Supervisor Carl F. Ingraham, the chairman of the county OEO program, told the board that without the study it was not in a position to evaluate the program based on newspaper headlines.

"We want to know if we're doing the job and if we can do it better," explained Ingraham, "but we have no funds in our budget for an impartial study."

The study, which will take about two months to complete, will be undertaken by a panel to be appointed by Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the board of auditors, and James McNeely, executive director of the OEO in Oakland County.

White Lake Township Supervisor James Reid said he would be opposed to funding the program until he is shown some results.

★ ★ ★

"There's a (OEO) substation set up in our township hall two days a week, and there are two other people out beating the bushes, but I know of no one who is being helped," said Reid.

FATAL CRASH — Police and tow truck drivers work to free the body of a Waterford Township man from the wreckage of his car after a collision with a gravel truck in Pontiac Township this morning. The crash, which nearly tore the car in half, occured about 9:20 a.m. on Opdyke at Perry.

Hare, Milliken Urge Traffic Safety Action

By MEL NEWMAN

"Action" was the key word at the Governor's Regional Traffic Safety Conference at Oakland University yesterday as both Lt. Gov. William Milliken and Secretary of State James M. Hare called for specific measures to cut down Michigan's vehicle accident rate.

Milliken and Hare delivered the main addresses before the gathering of area traffic officials in the university's Oakland Center.

Both acknowledged that the state's fatality rate has decreased significantly thus far in 1967, but neither was ready to submit that Michigan's vehicle safety goals have been reached.

Milliken pointed out that although 228 fewer lives have been lost on Michigan highways in 1967 — a decrease of 16 per cent — injury accidents have decreased by only 3 per cent.

Accident costs, he said, will pass the $400 million mark for the second straight year at this rate.

3 KEY PROGRAMS

"There are three key measures for any action program in traffic safety, he said. "These are implied consent, a uniform statewide driver licensing law and a periodic inspection law."

Milliken praised implied consent, already in effect, as a big step toward solving Michigan's drinking driver problem.

He said a uniform driver licensing law would make sure all motorists have an adequate knowledge of state traffic regulations and that compulsory periodic vehicle inspection would assure that cars on state thoroughfares would be more roadworthy.

Hare asked for action primarily aimed at drivers, rather than vehicles.

He asked: (1) that his department be given the authority to revoke the driving licenses of "accident-prone" drivers and (2) — that Gov. Romney include in his call for the state's fall legislative session consideration of the "Illinois traffic citation system," making a traffic offender liable to loss of his license if he failed to answer a summons.

★ ★ ★

Hare said his "hands are now tied on the matter of accident-proneness or involvement" and said his department "should be permitted to investigate persons who have been involved in one or more accidents" involving danger to a person or property.

He said the Illinois system would make it mandatory that "incorrigibles" who drive with revoked licenses be imprisoned.

Car Crash Kills Waterford Man

A Waterford Township resident was killed when his car collided with a gravel truck at Perry and Opdyke in Pontiac Township, at 9:22 a.m. today.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department identified the victim as Wayne L. Progar, 22, of 2419 Elizabeth Lake.

Deputies said the car and truck collided at the intersection and the car was crushed and dragged under the truck.

Deputies said the victim had apparently not stopped for the stop sign while going north on Perry.

★ ★ ★

Driver of the truck was James Nicolay, 26, of 1737 McCoy, Walled Lake, working for Troy Aggregate Co.

The man was apparently killed instantly and was pronounced dead at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The truck driver was not held.

Independence Nixes Police

Independence Township voters yesterday turned down a 1-mill tax increase which would have provided them with a police department. The proposal was defeated by a margin of more than 3-2.

★ ★ ★

About 10 per cent of the registered voters rejected the formation of such a force, 342 to 212.

The millage would have been spread over a period of 10 years.

The township last January elected to turn down a $13,000 annual bill which provided two Oakland County Sheriff's Department patrol cars in the area.

★ ★ ★

It is still serviced, however, by the Sheriff's Department and by the Pontiac post of the State Police.

Detroit Opens Its Classrooms

DETROIT (AP) — School doors swung open today for 300,000 students in Detroit, ending a prolonged summer vacation of almost 13 weeks.

Teachers returned to their jobs Monday after winning an across-the-board raise over two years of $1,700 through a 13-day strike.

In addition to the salary increase, $850 this year and $850 the next, the teachers won reduction of the school year from 40 weeks to 39 and limitation of class size to 39 pupils.

Ratification yesterday of the proposed contract, hammered out during early morning sessions, lowered to 13 the number of Michigan school districts where agreement on master contracts for teachers has not been reached.

★ ★ ★

In five of the unsettled school districts, teachers have been ordered back to work by court injunctions. In one of them, Crestwood District in Dearborn Heights, most of the 211 teachers have resigned.

In the remaining eight of the 13 districts, some 75,000 students are still out of school.

Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken Monday asked the school boards in Bloomfield Hills, Oak Park, Dearborn and Menominee to get back-to-work orders from the courts.

Milliken, acting as governor during the absence of Gov. George Romney said injunctions are being sought in Bridgeport, Highland Park, Hamtramck and North Dearborn Heights.

Detroit teachers ratified their new contract by a vote of 3,316 to 376 after union leaders told them "that is the best we can do."

$1,700 OVER 2 YEARS

The teachers demanded $1,700 immediately when negotiations opened. They had to settle for having it spread over a two-year contract.

Under the old pay scale a beginner with a B.A. started at $5,800. A teacher with a Ph. D. and 12 years service could earn as much as $11,000.

Thundershowers Possible Tonight

The low is expected to register near 54 to 58 tonight. The mercury will climb into the 80s again tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Winds variable, mostly southeasterly will continue at five to 15 miles per hour.

The low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 60. By 2 p.m. the temperature had climbed to 81.

Each U.S. Region to Get ICBM Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's plan to build a $5-billion Nike X antiballistic missile system will provide each region of the United States with at least one battery of far-reaching warhead interceptors.

Defense scientists made this clear today in guarded interviews about Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's so-called "light" defense against nuclear attack, primarily directed to guard against a potential threat from Red China.

The decision to proceed with deployment of an antimissile system was announced by McNamara Monday in a speech to news editors at San Francisco.

Although the plan be announced is one of the biggest strategic decisions in U.S. history, it is not the often-discussed full-blown antimissile system which would have an estimated cost of up to $40 billion. McNamara opposes such an outlay.

CLOSELY HELD SECRET

The exact locations of the antimissile batteries, each with several missiles, remain a closely held secret. But one Pentagon official familiar with the plans said the main line of defense will center on several antimissile complexes stationed just below the Canadian border.

Other antimissile sites will be interspersed along the western and eastern seaboards, in the Midwest and in the Southwest and Deep South. Each site will be protected by a battery of Sprint missiles.

Government sources also indicated Canada has given the United States permission to establish one of the vital missile-detection radar sites on Canadian territory near the Great Lakes.

Nike X is a technological marvel of the 1960s which, according to Pentagon scientists, is far more advanced than the only other missile defense in existence, the Soviet ABM.

PRIME PURPOSE

Its prime purpose: to defend against what McNamara termed a possible irrational nuclear missile attack by Red China in the 1970s.

* * *

"It would be insane and suicidal for her to do so, but one can conceive of conditions under which China might miscalculate," McNamara said. In addition to providing regionwide defense, some Nike X missiles will be deployed to protect American offensive missile batteries against Soviet attack.

Thant Fears Mideast War

Lays Down Principles for Resolving Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary General U Thant said Tuesday he fears there will be a new war in the Middle East in a few years unless progress is made toward eliminating the causes of the June clash between the Israelis and the Arabs.

He laid down five principles for a solution and said the parties were already committed to them under the U.N. charter and the 1949 armistice agreements.

* * *

Thant sounded his warning and sketched his plan in an introduction to his annual report published just as the General Assembly was to open its 22nd regular session with the Middle East as the main issue.

He suggested that he be authorized to name a special representative to the Middle East "as a much needed channel of communications, as a reporter and interpreter of events and views for the secretary general and as both a sifter and harmonizer of ideas in the area."

MEETING SUGGESTED

He also suggested that with foreign ministers here for the assembly, the Security Council hold a private meeting soon on the government level to seek a consensus on "matters relating to international peace and security which are within the competence of the United Nations."

* * *

He offered to draw up an agenda for it. A U.N. charter provision for periodic council meetings attended by members of governments has never been carried out. Thant noted that the June war was the third in 20 years between Arabs and Israelis. He said that while the parties were mainly responsible, the United Nation's failure "over with the deep-seated and angrily festering problems in that area has to be considered as a major contributing factor."

Birmingham Area News

Bond Vote Set Nov. 7 for Parking Structure

BIRMINGHAM — City voters will be asked in a special election Nov. 7 to approve the sale of general obligation bonds for the construction of a new municipal parking structure.

The election was scheduled by the City Commission last night.

The amount of the bond issue will not be known until architects submit final cost estimates to the commission.

The Birmingham architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach, Inc., was authorized a week ago to begin preparing plans for the structure to be built on the present surface parking lot bounded by Merrill, Pierce and Brown.

* * *

Commissioners directed the firm to return with two proposals, one designed for 555 cars, the other with a 701-car capacity, so they can make a final determination once they know the exact status of the city's financing ability.

Hopefully, commissioners intend to retire the bond issue entirely through parking revenue and an assessment against benefitted property owners in the business district.

Projections of anticipated parking income and expenses indicate that the bond issue can be paid off without the use of tax money.

The general obligation bonds, however, pledge the full faith and credit of the city in the event parking revenue is unable to cover payments.

* * *

Preliminary estimates place the cost of the proposed structure at 1.3 million or $1,558,000, depending on which plan is finally chosen by commissioners.

HEARING ADJOURNED

A hearing of necessity on the Chester-Wallace and Lincoln relief sewers was adjourned by the commission until Oct. 16.

Property owners affected by the proposed improvement requested the postponement to give them time to discuss the merits of the sewer construction.

* * *

The Birmingham Board of Education meeting tonight will be held in the Seaholm High School Gym instead of at the Baldwin School.

Texans Flee Killer Beulah

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Texans by the thousands fled before the 130 mile-an-hour wrath of growing Hurricane Beulah today and the big storm hewed to a line straight toward the mouth of the Rio Grande.

The Weather Bureau said the storm was picking up speed and strength. Hurricane warnings were out for miles of coastline, extending as far as Port Aransas, Tex.

* * *

Aside from the possibility of death from its winds, Beulah poised a $20 million killer blow toward crops in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas. State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said $15 million in citrus and $5 million of other crops lay directly in the storm's path.

The well-organized storm was on a path for the Rio Grande and Weather Bureau observers expected her to curve on a trek up the coastline after hitting land. The landfall was expected sometime late tonight.

DEATH OF SURFER

One death in Texas was blamed on Beulah even as she was some 190 miles from this tip-of-Texas city. A giant wave toppled Bridgette Laverne Anthony from her surfboard as she rode massive waves off Freeport, Tex.

Last-Minute Appeal Set for Road Funds

Refused operating funds from the county, the chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission said today that he will make a last-minute appeal to the board of supervisors when the 1968 budget is considered for adoption Oct. 2.

The board rejected the request of Frazer Staman yesterday on the recommendation of its ways and means committee.

The road commission is seeking eight-tenths of one mill from the county's 5.40 allocation, or more than $2 million for construction and maintenance of county roads.

The commission says its revenue from the state is not adequate for continued highway improvements.

* * *

Despite the committee's statement that no funds are available, Staman said it is likely that the board may reconsider the appeal after reviewing the 1968 budget.

OPERATING BUDGET

Staman admitted that it would be impossible to remove any portion of the general operating budget without completely revising it, but added that the commission now is eying at least a portion of the estimated $1.2 million the county is to receive from the new state income tax.

The anticipated revenue is not included in the operating budget, but is only earmarked at this time toward the construction of a new jail to be built at the county service center.

The board, in other business, approved the nomination of three persons for membership on the new Metropolitan Transit Authority created by the Legislature this year.

* * *

Those nominated are David F. Breck, Birmingham attorney and city commissioner; Eugene W. Kuthy of Royal Oak; and Durward B. Varner, chancellor of Oakland University.

SUBMITTED FOR APPOINTMENT

Their names will be submitted to Gov. George Romney for his consideration for appointment.

Red Scientist Taken Home

LONDON (AP) — Pale, gaunt and looking like a sleepwalker, Soviet scientist Vladimir Tkachenko, 25, was bundled aboard a Moscow-bound airliner today after his wife accused British officials of inhuman tactics in blocking his departure Saturday.

She contended the British action left her husband in "a very bad state." The British said they acted out of fear the physicist had been drugged and was being taken back to Russia against his will. They later released him.

Tkachenko was half-lifted, half-carried up the steps of the plane by two Soviet Embassy officials. Another pushed him from behind.

Fluoridation Rule OK'd

LANSING (AP) — State Health Director Dr. Albert E. Heustis said today he has adopted an administrative rule requiring fluoridation of all Michigan water supplies serving more than 1,000 people.

* * *

Heustis said the rule was filed with the secretary of state yesterday and will take effect when printed in the next quarterly Michigan Administrative Code to be published about the middle of February 1968.

HEARTFELT LESSON — Nurses at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital learn coronary-pulmonary resuscitation from representatives of the Michigan Heart Association (MHA) in preparation for the hospital's opening of a coronary care unit next month. The method involves putting pressure on the heart. Standing around the table are Dr. Allan Silvergleit (sport coat) of St. Joseph, Dr. Eugene Plous (next to him) and Matthew Maxon of the MHA along with two training nurses. A dog is being used in the demonstration.

St. Joseph Nurses Learn Heart-Revival Method

Some 50 nurses at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital learned a method of getting oxygen to the lungs and blood circulating in the heart yesterday in preparation for next month's opening of the hospital's coronary care unit.

* * *

Representatives of the Michigan Heart Association demonstrated to the nurses coronary-pulmonary resuscitation, a 7-year-old method of reviving the heart of a heart attack victim.

It involves putting pressure on the heart and pumping an air bag before a doctor arrives. The method is used when the heart is not open for surgery.

When the doctor arrives, he gives the patient's heart shock treatments to further revive it.

* * *

Matthew Maxon of the Heart Association said the method is widely used to keep patients alive before a doctor arrives.

"You don't have to open the chest and expose it to foreign materials to keep the patient alive," he said.

Board Tables the Bee Issue Indefinitely

Waterford Township's proposed bee ordinance, which would restrict the owning, raising and keeping of bees to agricultural areas, was tabled indefinitely last night by the Township Board.

* * *

The tabling motion of Trustee E. Frank Richardson is subject to the cooperation of the Michigan Beekeepers' Association and locally involved persons in working toward a solution to the problem.

The proposed ordinance was prepared after some residents living in the neighborhood of a North Winding beekeeping operation lodged complaints at a previous Township Board meeting.

They contended the bees presented a nuisance to their children.

* * *

Thomas Stachler, owner of Stachler's Travel Trailer Sales, 3771 M59, however, was the first to complain.

DROPPINGS DEPOSITED

He said that the bees inflict damage to his trailers by depositing droppings on them and that they sting his customers.

However, results of a survey presented to the board last night indicated that far more residents of the neighborhood are unopposed to the beekeeping operation.

A petition, bearing the signatures of about 45 residents unopposed to the operation, was given to the board.

* * *

Dr. E. A. Martin, an entomology expert from Michigan State University, said his concern was that the ordinance did not establish precedent by being overly drastic.

DEPENDENT ON BEES

He said that at least $100 million worth of crops are dependent on bees, but admitted that bees can sometimes be a nuisance.

* * *

Joe Howard, a state bee inspector from Detroit, said he is convinced bees do not constitute a hazard.

* * *

Big Business Role in Society Cited by Exec

Chrysler Corp. President Virgil E. Boyd today told the Birmingham - Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce at a breakfast meeting that there is growing public recognition of the importance and effectiveness of private enterprise in bringing about social change in the public interest.

* * *

"In Detroit, for example," said the auto executive, "the business community has assumed a leading role in healing the physical and psychological wounds suffered here."

Boyd cited several top liberal political leaders including Sen. Robert Kennedy and Daniel P. Meynihan, director of the M.I.T.-Harvard Center for Urban Studies, as agreeing with his position that the profit motive can be harnessed to achieve social objectives more efficiently than can public agencies.

"I think there is a need for greater reliance upon private enterprise in solving social problems, thereby removing the uncertainties of tax increases," he said.

* * *

Financial incentives to businessmen, including tax deductions, accelerated depreciation and subsidized interest rates, are among the measures being proposed to encourage the opening of job-creating businesses in the slums and the construction or rehabilitation of low-rent housing, Boyd noted.

General: Don't Halt Bombing

SAIGON (AP)—Lt. Gen. William W. Momyer, commander of the U.S. Air Force in Vietnam, said today that stopping the bombing over North Vietnam would give the enemy a tremendous advantage.

* * *

The U.S. Air Force should "keep up what we are doing there," he said.

Momyer declined to comment on proposals by President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu that a bombing pause be proposed as a peace overture to North Vietnam.

* * *

But he declared at a news conference: "If the bombing was stopped tomorrow you would have an entirely different war from the one you have today."

Nationalists' Viet Embassy Is Blown Up

SAIGON (AP) — Communist terrorists blew up the Nationalist Chinese Embassy in Saigon's busy downtown section today and Red agents gunned down two prominent Chinese elsewhere in the capital.

South Vietnamese police said the blast that brought down the two-story embassy and an exchange of gunfire with terrorists killed one person and wounded 27. Fears spread of a new Red terror campaign in Saigon.

* * *

On other fronts U.S. planes raided inside North Vietnam's port of Haiphong for the second straight day Monday and Communist gunners rained a torrent of shells on U.S. Marine outposts below the demilitarized zone.

Throughout South Vietnam ground action was scattered.

FEMALE TERRORIST

A female terrorist pumped two shots into the chest of Col. Charles T. Chung, chief intelligence officer of the Nationalist Chinese Embassy, shortly after the embassy bombing. Later police arrested 20-year-old Phung Ngoc Anh, a Chinese girl. They found her with a 45-caliber pistol.

Chung was in critical condition.

Monday night several terrorists went to the home of a prominent Chinese professor in Cholon, Saigon's Chinese quarter, called him outside and shot him to death. They escaped.

Carrier-based Navy planes blasted Haiphong's main bridges and rail yard and hit at least four sites for Soviet-built missiles around the city.

County OKs Study of OEO Programs

Among those voicing their support of the study were Orion Township Supervisor John Lessiter and Victor Wood, one of Pontiac's representatives on the board.

"A few minutes ago this board approved $40,000 for a garbage survey," said Lessiter. "I don't see why they can't afford $4,000 for people."

One critic who argued against the study by noting that the county didn't have sufficient funds for highway improvements was told by Wood, "History won't remember us for our roads, but how we dealt with our social ills."

OBJECTED TO FUNDING

Royal Oak Supervisor Harry Horton objected to the financial assistance "because these programs start out very timidly and grow very fast."

* * *

"Eighteen years ago we were faced with the Child Guidance program," said Horton. "All they wanted then was small quarters. A few years later when they couldn't raise public funds, they came to us for a few thousand dollars. Now their budget is $180,000.

Mrs. Wilson, Founder of OU, Dies in Europe

Another gala birthday celebration was being planned for her 84th birthday on Oct. 19. The college homecoming weekend near her birthday is called Mrs. Wilson's weekend.

Oakland University Chancellor Durward B. Varner had this to say of Mrs. Wilson:

"The news of Mrs. Wilson sudden death has saddened the entire Oakland University community while her great gift which made possible the establishment of the university is well known.

* * *

"What is not so well known is the very close personal relationship between every member of this university community and Mrs. Wilson.

"She was loved and respected by all of us who had the privilege of knowing her and working with her. She never refused an invitation from the students to participate in their affairs.

"And she has never refused to do anything possible to help in the development of the university.

"While doing all these things, she never once stated or implied a criticism of what was occuring or did she offer suggestions about the course of affairs here at Oakland.

* * *

"It is a great personal loss to both Mrs. Varner and me."

Mrs. Wilson entered farming and the business world when the role was completely new to women.

She was reputed to have outworked any man on her estate as well as being articulate on architecture, engineering, masonry, plumbing, livestock, sterling silver roses, fine arts and history.

Her Meadow Brook Farms estate was used for raising Belgian draft horses, ponies and prize livestock before the land was donated to the university.

* * *

Her business ability and her knowledge of farming early won her statewide acclaim.

INSPECTING FARM

Mrs. Wilson, an ardent horse lover, was in Belgium inspecting her Belgian horse farm as part of a tour of Europe.

She might be called a self-made woman. She never attended college and was privately tutored at elementary and secondary levels.

Born Matilda Rausch in Walkerton, Ont., in 1883, she was a member on the State Board of Agriculture from 1932 to 1938 besides her brief reign as lieutenant governor.

* * *

Her first marriage to Dodge — a rugged individual and one of the giants of the early automobile industry, was in 1907.

SECRETARY TO DODGE

At the time Mrs. Wilson married him, she was working as his secretary. Dodge died of influenza 13 years later.

In 1924, she met Wilson, who at the time owned a lumber business in Detroit. They were married a year later.

Mrs. Wilson still found time up until her death to devote to a multitude of organizations, among them the Salvation Army, First Presbyterian Church of Detroit, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association and the Village Women's Club of Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. Wilson is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Frances Frederick L. VanLennep of Lexington, Ky., one of three children from her marriage to John Dodge. Two others died, Daniel in 1938 and Anna Margaret in 1924.

* * *

She leaves two adopted children from her second marriage, Richard S. Wilson of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Thomas (Barbara Jean) Eccles of Scottsdale, Ariz.

HOW THINGS THAT ARE NEW COME STRAIGHT TO YOU

QUESTION: How do newspapers get the news?

* * *

ANSWER: News interests everybody, because it tells us about what is going on in our world. The word "new" is the key—the newspaper specializes in the up-to-date, bringing recent events sharply into focus for the reader's benefit.

To do this, a newspaper must be a marvel of organization, for the news must be on the newsstands only a short time after having been edited in the newspaper city room.

As our picture suggests, news gathering begins with the reporter (upper left). A fire breaks out. A reporter from a local paper, who is on his daily job of checking police and fire departments, gets all the information he can and phones it at once to the city editor of his newspaper.

The editor may send other reporters and photographers to the scene. A story will appear in the next edition, with more details following later.

World news usually comes in from some large news-gathering association such as the Associated Press. Teletype machines in the local papers constantly relay news from all over the world in this way.

Bloomfield Hills Teachers, Board Debate

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — School board and teacher representatives squared off in a verbal battle last night before more than 1,500 residents who jammed the Andover High School gymnasium to hear about the contract dispute.

Meantime, the districts' schools remain closed and an estimated 8,000 students remain on summer vacation.

Court action to compel teachers to go back to work, as happened yesterday in neighboring Birmingham, has been ruled out by the school board.

Also rejected by the board is a teacher proposal to submit the dispute to arbitration.

The board called this morning for negotiations at 2 p.m. this afternoon.

REFUSED TO GO ALONG

A board spokesman early in the four-hour session stated that the board had refused to go along with a binding arbitration request which the teachers had agreed to and proposed earlier in the afternoon.

After charging that the Bloomfield Hills Education Association changed its original contract proposal five times, each time countermanding any progress made, a board spokesman said: "The board cannot go along with this because of the inconsistency demonstrated by the BHEA. We feel this is not the honorable solution — the association has so far received many concessions on our part thus far; now they want it all."

In support of the BHEA arbitration proposal, a teachers' representative replied: "This course of action seems the most reasonable and honorable. It would give both parties what they really want — the schools to reopen with our children back in class."

A millage hike of 5 to 10 mills was forecast by a school board spokesman.

* * *

"Our present package alone which is $847,910 more than paid last year would necessitate a 5-mill increase in taxes," said board president Richard H. McGraw. "An election will undoubtedly be necessary within two years."

Both sides admitted that progress had been made in recent negotiations, but this concerned mainly noneconomic issues such as class size, academic freedom, maintenance and counseling.

Salaries and fringe benefits still hold the two sides apart.

Along with the board's refusal to accept arbitration it also refused to ask for a court injunction. On this McGraw said: "We have complete faith in collective bargaining. We feel this is the only honorable way to settle the dispute within our own community."

HEATED CONFLICT

Walter Zahrt, a BHEA negotiator, said that the association appreciated the board's refusal to ask for an injunction.

Heated conflict was obvious later when the BHEA cited the total package offered them was less than yesterday's Detroit settlement.

McGraw replied that teachers could go to the Detroit system if they wanted to.

Another dispute developed when the BHEA claimed it could get the same insurance package offered by the board at a cheaper rate. The board maintained their figures came from the fact finder's report.

Water pitchers empty, the meeting was adjourned.

RETURN TO NORMAL—Students of Birmingham Seaholm High School return to classes this morning after an eight-day delay due to a district-wide teachers' strike. The teachers reported yesterday afternoon under a court order signed yesterday morning by Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Objecting Petitions Slow Clarkston Annexation Plan

CLARKSTON — Objecting petitions carrying some 540 names slowed, but did not stop, the Village Council on its proposed plan of extending the village boundaries.

A public information meeting last night in the senior high school drew better than 300 persons, concerned mainly, it seemed, with the lack of any official say on the proposed plan.

The Clarkston Village Council proposes, according to a planning report made public Aug. 28, to seek Oakland County Board of Supervisor approval to add land north to I-75, south and west to the Dixie Highway, and east to Perry Lake Road, excluding the Clarkston Community School property and the commercial area at the foot of M15.

Since Clarkston still operates under the general law statutes of 1895, no referendum is necessary to annex. The assertion was made that an advisory vote in such a case would have no legal binding, though Councilman Donald Cooper stated a preference for such an election to learn the wishes of residents.

AREA NEWS

* * *

Some of the impact of the numerous petitions presented during last night's meeting was discounted by councilmen who felt they should not have been circulated until after both sides of the issue had been heard.

SIGNERS' OBJECTIONS

George Gary, 7850 Dixie, said the signers based their objections on the planning report which had been given public airing.

He had reference to the planned residential development of 324 acres of the old Ford property northwest of town, which had originally been asked for inclusion within the village.

Lloyd Kirby, one of the developers, countered, "If the village does not want us, we will still develop within the township."

* * *

He admitted that one of the major reasons for seeking village status for the property was to escape the road grade restrictions imposed by the county on township developments.

NATURAL BEAUTY PERILED

"We may have to take off more trees and destroy some of the natural beauty around Deer Lake, but we can meet the requirements," he said.

Kirby admitted it would have been more economical to the developers if they did not have to meet the stricter grading requirements.

Despite an impassioned plea from John Ronk, a village resident, that for the good of the area the people could not ask "How much will I get?"

* * *

Councilman David Leak, one of the planning committee, laid out an estimated financial picture for those present.

TAX REBATES

Said he, "Clarkston's share this year of the rebate from the state gas and weight tax was $7,500. By tripling the amount of roads in the village, this figure could be raised to $23,000 next year. If the private roads involved were to be made public, the amount would further increase by $2,500 and if the Deer Lake area were to be developed we would get another $9,700."

"While construction costs must be met on a matching fund basis, much of the money can be used for maintenance."

Leak, a financial planner with a major auto company continued, "This year's entire village budget amounted to $27,000. Had the annexation already taken place, our income would have more than doubled to $60,000."

* * *

He based his figures on state sales tax returns as well as the gas and weight tax and on property tax income which he figured would have doubled from the present $9,000 annual returns.

FORD PROPERTY CITED

"With the Ford property developed, we could gain another $60,000 a year," he added.

Leak said the money should immediately provide salaries for a fulltime road maintenance man and a fulltime police chief, plus parttime help. The village presently has all parttime employes.

Leak and Robert Wertman, village president, were emphatic in their statements that no extension of boundaries would take place until after a new zoning ordinance and building code are adopted.

* * *

They said they expected preliminary drafts of the two to be complete by Oct. 15. A new road construstion code, they said, is already prepared.

'MISSING OPPORTUNITY'

"We feel that by this outright disapproval, you are missing a good bet," said Leak. His opinion was echoed by several other councilmen.

Walled Lake Eyes Group to Study Annexation Plan

WALLED LAKE — City Council tonight will discuss forming a committee of 100 persons to study the city's annexation proposal. The council meets at 8 p.m. at the City Hall.

Mayor Wendel G. Kellogg Jr. is proposing that the committee comprise civic, social and church leaders, said City Manager Royce Downey.

Walled Lake's annexation proposal includes Wolverine Lake Village and three areas of Commerce Township — additions which would more than triple land area of the city.

The annexation petitions from the village have been approved by the boundaries committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, which also set Oct. 12 for a public hearing on the issue and Jan. 16 as a tentative election date.

* * *

The committee will reconsider petitions from the township Sept. 29. It tabled them for an opinion from corporation counsel regarding an alleged precedent the committee may be making if it accepts the petitions, said committee chairman Philip Mastin Jr.

Final determination of the annexation election, however, is up to the board of supervisors.

Petitions Are Prepared for Highland Police Force

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — "Our own police department would insure 24-hour protection with additional men on call within the township," said the chairman of the township police committee promoting a home department.

The township now has 16-hour coverage of one man and one car from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Petitions necessary to put the issue to a vote are being prepared by Township Attorney Harold Dudley. He said he expects to have the petitions ready for circulation by early next week.

"If the petitions will be ready then, we will begin circulating them next week," said Chester Burton, police committee chairman.

* * *

Signatures of 4 per cent of the 2,233 registered township voters are necessary for a special millage election. "The general opinion is that we will vote within three months," Burton said.

3 MILLS RECOMMENDED

His committee has recommended a levy of 3 mills for a 10-year period. This would bring in about $50,000 to provide for 24-hour protection by a chief, three patrolmen, and one auxiliary.

The funds would also finance two completely equipped police cars, necessary uniforms and equipment, Burton said.

The proposed location of the police department is the township hall which does have the space for the office, the committee chairman said.

The township is spending about $18,000 for sheriff's department coverage, Burton estimated. "We are a rapidly growing community and need added protection," he asserted.

Among the considerations of the committee in reaching its proposal was that several hours of protection are lost because the sheriff's department is based in Pontiac, and time is required for the shifts to change, Burton said.

Also, if a police car is called out of the township for help someplace else, the township is left without a car, said Burton.

"The most important benefit will be that citizens know help is just minutes away and every complaint will be investigated," the chairman said. "There will be prevention as well as cure."

A majority of residents appearing at the committee's two public meetings in August favored a township police department, Burton said.

Permit Ordered in Highland Twp.

Appeal Eyed on Trailer Park

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has 19 days to take further court action against the creation of a mobile home park in the township.

The board is expected to meet soon to decide whether or not to make the appeal, said a township official.

The township appeal, declared Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer at a rehearing yesterday, must be to the State Court of Appeals.

Beer had ordered the township to issue a building permit after hearing the appeal of trailer park developer Maurice Shacket about three weeks ago.

Shacket was appealing the July 18 decision of the Township Zoning Board rejecting his rezoning request for the mobil home park.

REASONS FOR DENIAL

Shacket is planning to put 800 trailers on 150 acres north of the Northwest Elementary School under construction on North Milford near Wardlow, north of M59.

The zoning board denied Shacket's request because it felt that the present manufacturing zoning is the best use of the land, explained Board Secretary Charles Toy.

"Mr. Shacket didn't present anything to show that the land wasn't good for manufacturing and would be better for mobil homes," Toy said.

* * *

"Other areas in the township would be more suitable for mobil homes," he added.

MORE HAZARDS

Other reasons for denial, Toy said, were that the trailer park would create more traffic hazards than manufacturing firms and would be too close to the school.

The board also objected to the open sewage system Shacket was planning, said Toy.

The township has a new ordinance regulating trailer parks. It goes into effect in about one month if no petitions are turned in objecting to it.

* * *

The ordinance, approved recently by the Township Board, sets up sizes and locations for mobil homes with regard for the entire area, Toy said. The ordinance focuses on "health and beauty considerations," he added.

ONE TRAILER PARK

He said that he believes the restrictions are "normal and average."

The township now has one trailer park of 89 trailers on 25 acres on South Hickory Ridge Road, reported Township Clerk Normagean Waters.

Trailers are not included in the property tax, said Township Supervisor Louis F. Oldenburg. However mobil home residents pay a $3 tax per month.

* * *

Of this, $2 goes to Huron Valley schools, 50 cents to the county and 50 cents to the township, said Oldenburg.

Ortonville Rotary Marks 20th Year

ORTONVILLE — The Ortonville Rotary Club will celebrate its 20th anniversary tonight with a special dinner at 6:30 at the Roto-Jay Hall.

Guests and speakers, who will make up the installation team for six new members, include Jack McCall, son of the club's first president; Wyeth Allen of Ann Arbor, past district Rotary governor; Richard W. Brown, past president of the Downtown Detroit Club; and Howard Burt, a retired past president of the Ortonville Rotary Club.

* * *

Club President A. G. Brown said that the club's ambitious program for 1967-68 would be mainly in the area of promoting Ortonville to attract business and industry.

* * *

New officers since July besides President Brown include Vice President Raymond Harris, Secretary James Radford and Treasurer John Wudarcki.

Report Set in Keego

KEEGO HARBOR — A report on the city's first total reappraisal of property will be made to the City Council at its meetng tonight at 7:30 at the City Hall.

* * *

W. M. Meier, a former Southfield city assessor whose company is doing the reappraising, began the project in early July and is nearing completion.

3-Mill Increase for Schools to Be Asked in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — The board of education decided last night to seek voter approval of 10 mills — an increase of 3 — Nov. 8.

A major share of the operational levy will be to renew for five years the 7 mills which expire this year. The board is asking for 3 additional mills for five years.

The 10 mills are expected to bring in over $1 million, said Schools Supt. George Garver. "It is important to keep in mind that this millage is to meet the increased costs of school operation," Garver stressed.

The millage, he explained, would maintain current programs, not finance new ones.

* * *

The district, levying 27.2 mills now, has one of the lowest school tax rates in the county, Garver claimed.

AWAITING DETAILS

The board of education decided last week to hold the millage election and had been awaiting details to decide on the amount of the levy.

Also at last night's meeting, the board decided to send a letter to the Commerce Township Board of Appeals about the proposed land-fill on the southeast corner of Benstein and Sleeth roads.

In the letter, the board will express its concern about the safety of school children riding the buses which will travel the same roads as the trucks carrying the refuse, said Garver.

"The board's concern is not over the land-fill because it is out of the board's jurisdiction," the superintendent said, "but over the refuse trucks on the poor back roads."

REPORT HEARD

The board's action was taken after it heard a report from Commerce Township Planning Commission member Edward Oldenkamp on the problems that may exist if the land-fill were approved.

The Oakland County Road Commission plans to operate the land-fill on 24 of the 65 acres it owns in the township. The pending request before the appeals board is for 10 acres.

The board is expected to consider the road commission's request at its Sept. 25 meeting.

Almont Hospital Board Names New Member

ALMONT — The Community Hospital Board of Trustees has appointed Robert Lang of Washington to fill the unexpired term of board member Thomas K. Richards of Almont.

* * *

Lang, a graduate electrical engineer of Lawrence Tech, presently holds the position of post engineer at the U.S. Army Tank Automotive Command.

Lang is also the chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the Romeo Community Youth and Civic Center, and he was a past president of the Washington Lions Club.

Use of New School Expected by Nov. 1, Rochester Board Told

ROCHESTER — Long Meadow Elementary School students should be installed in their new building by Nov. 1, the board of education was told last night.

The contractor still expects to complete the 20-room building by Oct. 17, according to a report by William Burch, plant engineer.

Students are presently attending sessions at Meadow Brook Elementary School on a shared basis.

Supt. of Schools Douglas Lund reported over-all enrollment up 550 students from last year to a total of 7,550. He said the increase is between a 7 and 8 per cent gain.

* * *

All classroom teaching positions have been filled, he said, but the district is still looking for a speech correctionist, a visiting teacher and an orchestra director.

The board last night ratified a contract with some 60 cafeteria employes granting them a 10 cent an hour increase, plus full medical coverage, extended sick leave days and paid holidays.

Strike Threat at Airline Tied to Interunion Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A battle over union representation appeared to be an underlying issue in a strike threat by 7,000 workers against Pan American World Airways, biggest U.S. overseas air passenger and freight carrier.

The strike call was set for 12:01 a.m., Wednesday by the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railway and Airlines Clerks. The Clerks Union is fighting the Teamsters Union for the right to represent the workers.

* * *

Clerks Union President C. L. Dennis said Monday Pan Am refused to negotiate a new contract. He said a 5 per cent pay hike unilaterally granted by the company last week was "completely inadequate."

The workers, whose old contract expired in March, average between $110 and $120 weekly.

NEW ELECTION ORDERED

Labor sources speculated the Clerks-Teamsters fight was connected to the strike.

The Teamsters won an election to oust the Clerks but the results were ordered thrown out by the National Mediation Board, which cited its own errors in the election. The board ordered a new election.

Referring to this dispute, Dennis said negotiations stalled because "Pan Am took the position that because the issue of employe representation seemed in doubt it was reluctant to work out a new agreement."

Dennis said that "with its past history," he wouldn't be surprised to see the Mediation Board "conduct a fourth, fifth or even sixth election of this dispute."

He said the workers "cannot be made to wait forever" for a new contract.

A Teamsters Union spokesman said recently the workers who want Teamsters representation were angry enough to strike over the representation issue.

House Unit, LBJ Aides Mull Tax Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Private discussions beginning today among the House Ways and Means Committee, the budget director and the secretary of the Treasury may decide the fate of President Johnson's tax increase proposal.

* * *

A majority of committee members say they would not now vote for the 10 per cent income tax surcharge sought to help finance the Vietnam war and domestic spending and hold down the Treasury deficit. But most of the objectors indicate they might vote for an increase if spending is sharply cut or the tax structure is revised or both.

* * *

Budget Director Charles L. Schultze and Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler unquestionably will be asked by the committee today whether the administration will go further than its public statements so far have indicated on spending cuts and deficit control.

Schultze has talked of spending reductions in the range of $2 billion. Committee objectors demand instead cuts more nearly matching the estimated yield of the tax increases—$7.4 billion.

TAX REVISION

Fowler has promised to send up legislation to correct Tax Code provisions that have been criticized as inequitable and too favorable to some individuals or groups.

Fowler has insisted Congress should dispose of the tax increase before taking up these complicated questions. Many members, however, want tax revision instead of, or at least in a package with, any tax increase.

* * *

Some members of the ways and means committee are exploring the possibility of writing a tax increase bill that would also include a mandatory spending ceiling.

* * *

The committee is expected to spend the rest of this week in general discussions with the officials, and then to take its time discussing what it may do with the bill.

* * *

The pressure is on the administration, which says tax action is needed quickly to head off inflation and a credit crisis, to make the first move.

* * *

Under the Constitution and House rules, a tax bill cannot move until the ways and means committee gives the word. Tax legislation must originate in the House and the committee decides whether the full House votes on it.

Slogan Eyed for Licenses

LANSING (AP) — A new slogan has been proposed for Michigan's auto license plate — "Courteous Driver State."

The proposed new slogan, to start with the 1969 plates, is advocated by F.R. MacLean of Detroit, a safety consultant and immediate past president of the Greater Detroit Safety Council.

* * *

Michigan first used the slogan "Water Wonderland." It was changed to "Water-Winter Wonderland" and the next year will be "Great Lakes State".

Idle School Reflects Millage Vote

Troy School District voters have spoken. Or, possibly it would be more accurate to say they have underscored a verdict they already handed down to school officials earlier this summer.

Voters in the Troy district don't want to pay more school taxes.

They don't want a new junior high school staffed for their children. They'd rather see it stand empty and unused.

They don't want 22 additional teachers this year. They don't want the school district to pay wage hikes already in effect.

They don't want art programs for elementary and junior high school students. They don't want the same kids to have any music courses.

* * *

They don't want elementary and junior high sports programs.

These are some of the things a proposed one-year, 7-mill tax hike would have produced. The tax hike was defeated in June by a 2½-1 margin. The same proposal was again defeated last week by a 2-1 margin.

School officials have indicated they will try again for the needed millage in a third election later this year.

* * *

Following last week's defeat, educators announced flatly that the city's new $1-million Smith Junior High School will not open this fall as scheduled. Operational funds for the new school hinged on passage of the tax proposal.

* * *

True, the upsurge of taxes on the state and national level is hurting local tax proposals. If this is the case it is a shame because residents of Troy and other municipalities will never receive so much in return for state and national tax outlays as they will from local tax billings.

Nonetheless, could it be that the new Troy school stands idle as mute evidence of taxpayers' disaffection with local tax demands (over which their voice is decisive) and an implied warning to educational establishments to live within sound, realistic budgets without periodic recourse to emergency tax measures to meet deficits in capital and operating funds?

'Constitution Week' a Time for Re-Evaluation

This is Constitution Week. Proclaimed annually by the President of the United States, the theme of this year's observance is most appropriately to "Protect Your Liberty Under Law — Know Your U.S. Constitution."

It is a timely admonition. With the Nation torn by dissident, militant groups, society threatened by the shocking spread of lawlessness and an un-American philosophy of "Dog Eat Dog" insinuating itself into the national consciousness, no thoughtful person would deny that the moment is at hand for an earnest soul searching on our individual way of life.

* * *

The immortal documents we know as the Declaration of Independence and the U.S. Constitution with its idealistic Bill of Rights give to mankind the basic tools for the orderly possession and enjoyment of liberty, property and security, and "the pursuit of happiness."

These inalienable American rights were signed into law on September 17, 1787, and the Constitution then born stands as the wisest and most humane document ever written for the democratic self government of a people.

If today, cracks appear in the American social structure—a structure that scientifically and materially is an example for all the world—the fault lies not with the written tenets of the Founding Fathers but with the prostitution of them by succeeding generations of the citizenry.

"Never before have justice, domestic tranquility and concern for the general welfare been of greater significance," declares the chairman of the State's Constitution Week committee. We add a fervent "amen," and urge all Americans to give heed to his words not only during this commemorative week but throughout all the weeks and years to come.

Women Eye Breakthroughs in Air, on Land

At first blush, this sounded like the most impressive advance in the cause of female equality since PHIL SPITALNY's all-girl orchestra.

Aeroflot, Russia's state airline, has announced it is training its first all-female flight crew for regularly scheduled service. The crew will consist of pilot, copilot, navigator, flight mechanic and radio operator.

So equal is sexual equality in the Soviet Union that the pilot holds the title of "Hero of Socialist Labor."

Then came the report that a promoter in Cleveland, Ohio, is trying to organize an all-girl professional football team to play . . . all-male football teams.

He is sure that in this vast country there must be a lot of 6-foot, 200-pound, muscled Amazons who would be eager to take on a seasonal outdoor job mauling men. Half a dozen girls have, in fact, already applied.

This we think, is going a little too far. We have no objections to taking the aerobus and leaving the flying to a Hero of Socialist Labor, even if he's a heroine.

But pro football is a rough enough game as is without getting the deadlier of the species involved in it.

Devils Down Deacons in Grid Contest

Well, contestants, for once the script went haywire, and the good guys failed to take the bad guys.

If you have trouble relating this to the first game of The Press Annual Football Contest with its winner's award of a $500 U.S. Savings bond, there is light ahead.

You see, Duke's Blue Devils overcame the Deacons of Wake Forest in Saturday's scuffle, 31 to 13. If it bore heavily on the souls of the Deacons, the score was also a sharp reverse for a sizable number of entrants who had backed them — not to mention the sorrow suffered by the 48 who had predicted a tie.

So, what's ahead for next week? Well, game No. 2 pits the Bears of Baylor against the Orangemen of Syracuse.

With 1,729 contestants picking the latter against 698 for the former (24 foresee a tie) you wouldn't have to be an Orange fancier to get the idea that The Boys From Syracuse — remember the old musical? — are something of a favorite to pull the rug from under the bears.

An oddity of our yearly grid games is that a tie hasn't occurred in the contest schedule for three years. Needless to say, such an outcome cuts the field of survivors but fast, and sets at naught a lot of painstaking handicapping on the part of contestants. The last deadlock was the 1963 Michigan-Michigan State facas.

'Bye now. A week hence, we'll give you the bitter-sweet news on the upcoming tilt.

Unoccupied Troy School

David Lawrence Says:

Peace Bid Fuss Is Exaggerated

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has plenty of problems, but he must have been surprised to read a big headline in a morning newspaper yesterday which said: Duplicity on Peace Bid is Charged to Johnson.

LAWRENCE

Harry Ashmore, formerly an Arkansas editor and now executive vice president of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, located in California, had written an article to that effect which was released to the press.

The story is that Ashmore and William C. Baggs, editor of the Miami, Fla., News, had gone to Hanoi last January to confer with Ho Chi Minh, head of the North Vietnam government, in an effort to transmit some kind of "peace feeler."

The two men, on their return to Washington, prepared a letter to the North Vietnamese chieftain after consulting with some State Department officials. It was authorized on Feb. 5 and reached a Hanoi diplomat in Cambodia on Feb. 15.

Ashmore charges that President Johnson's letter was actually sent on Feb. 2 and canceled out the informal effort of the two editors.

* * *

But it turns out now that the United States government did not tell Ashmore and Baggs that coincidentally there were some "peace feelers" being handled in Moscow with representatives of the North Vietnamese government.

'OFFICIAL' EFFORTS

These parleys were considered to be "official" and direct, whereas the Ashmore-Baggs communication was regarded as an incidental effort to advance the cause of peace. The officials did not deem it desirable to tell the two would-be peacemakers all that was going on behind the scenes.

So the whole affair looks like a tempest in a teapot, since it turns out that the United States government was not really saying through its Moscow contacts anything different from what was being conveyed through Ashmore.

The letter which President Johnson wrote to Ho was dated Feb. 8, according to the State Department. An examination of the Johnson letter reveals the big stumbling block — whether the United States would stop bombing before there was any pledge that the enemy would take reciprocal action.

* * *

In the February letter, for example, President Johnson said to the president of Communist North Vietnam:

"I am prepared to order a cessation of bombing against your country and the stopping of further augmentation of United States forces in South Vietnam as soon as I am assured that infiltration into South Vietnam by land and by sea has stopped.

"These acts of restraint on both sides would, I believe, make it possible for us to conduct serious and private discussions leading toward an early peace."

ASHMORE LETTER

In Ashmore's letter to Ho, which he says was prepared with the assistance of State Department officials, there are the following paragraphs:

"They (the State Department) expressed particular interest in your suggestion to us that private talks could begin provided the U.S. stopped bombing your country, and ceased introducing additional U.S. troops into Vietnam.

"They expressed the opinion that some reciprocal restraint to indicate that neither side intended to use the occasion of the talks for military advantage would provide tangible evidence of the good faith of all parties in the prospects for a negotiated settlement. . . .

* * *

"Speaking now wholly for ourselves, we believe the essential condition for productive talks is an arrangement under which neither side stands to gain military advantage during the period of negotiation."

So instead of "duplicity," it seems to be a matter of duplication. For the actual position of the American government as contained in the Ashmore letter is the same as in Mr. Johnson's communication to Ho.

Indeed, the incident serves only to prove that the United States has, directly and indirectly, made every effort to start peace negotiations with the North Vietnamese.

Marines in Viet Refuse to Give Night to Enemy

NEW YORK — A proposal by a group of young officers serving in Vietnam, to the effect that we should fight the enemy at night and sleep by day, led me to write that it would be as hard for us to switch as it would be for a rheumatic salmon to swim upstream.

CONSIDINE

Not necessarily so, writes Lt. Gen. Louis W. Walt, who commanded the nearly 70,000 Marines in Vietnam and now is the Corps' deputy chief of staff (manpower).

"I though I might mention to you some of the things our Marines out there in the I Corps are doing in regard to night operations," Gen. Walt writes from Washington.

"Our County Fair operation starts with a night operation.

* * *

"A hamlet is cordoned off by Marines and South Vietnamese forces under cover of darkness. Then at first light the hamlet dwellers are brought out to an area where they will be safe, and where they can be provided for; and our forces then search out the Vietcong in the hamlet.

REGULAR NIGHT ACTIONS

"Also, the Marines and Popular Force Combined Action Platoons, which currently provide security for about 75 villages in I Corps, regularly conduct night patrols and ambushes.

"In the year ending in June 1967, these Combined Action Platoons completed a total of nearly 25,000 patrol and ambush actions during hours of darkness. The figure for this past month amounted to 3,500 such night actions.

"From the outset of our operations in I corps, Marines have refused to give the nights to the enemy.

* * *

"In addition to the County Fair operations and the activities of the Combined Action Platoons, Marines in the III Marine Amphibious Force average approximately 500 patrols and 250 ambushes each night.

"This represents more than 50 per cent of the combat actions conducted by units of company and lesser size."

Voice of the People:

Urge Citizens to Work to Preserve Freedoms

The ruling of the U.S. Court of Appeals forbidding the child's verse of thanks gives a decided feeling that we are slipping behind the Iron Curtain. It is necessary to awake from our lethargy. We have freedom of worship because our forefathers had vision and courage to come to America to get it. We have independence because our fathers fought for it. Our country is great because of God's blessing on their efforts.

* * *

Are we willing to work to keep that freedom? Communism is sparing no effort to take it away. We do have a voice. Our Congressmen welcome letters telling them what we believe and giving them more force of opinion to act. Let us write and help them. Thanks to The Pontiac Press for giving us a list of our lawmakers at intervals.

In response to the invitation of "I Object" to speak out, sex education and prayer are vital. It seems we all need one as much as the other. We have fine school boards in the Pontiac-Waterford area and I am certain they know better than I what is good for our children.

Reader States Opinions on Teacher Strikes

School teachers have always tried to place themselves on a professional level with doctors and lawyers without making the educational investment to do so. If teachers want more money they should join the "rat race" of private industry. Don't worry about teacher shortages because there will always be people looking for the "easy buck." A former school teacher once told me "those who can, do, and those who can't, teach."

'We Need Laws to Stop Troublemakers'

I think Mary Ellen Riordan, Walter Reuther and H. Rap Brown are close friends. If Stokely Carmichael is brought back to the U.S. he can join them in their fight to make trouble and disrupt the whole country. These troublemakers do such a good job that they make workers believe work stoppages and riots are for their own good.

* * *

If there are no laws to stop this trouble that is ruining our country, it is time to make new laws that can stop it. It is too bad we can't count on our part-time governor to help but we can't for he admits that he has been brainwashed. So was I when I voted for him.

Question and Answer

How do those tanning lotions work if you don't go out in the sun?

INTERESTED

REPLY

One manufacturer, Sea & Ski, tells us their product (as well as that of their major competitor) contain dihydroxyacetone. According to Mr. Mayo, president, this is a harmless ingredient which causes a reaction on the amino acid or protein in the skin layer. He says the reaction varies with individuals, but with most people the result is a tan-like effect which doesn't wash off but fades in a week or two unless more lotion is used.

Industry, Fashion Join Forces for Annual Show

"Wearability" is illustrated here as Pontiac's powerful eight-cylinder engine and this smashing ensemble from Hudson's meet on the assembly line. Mrs. James J. Groves of Birmingham pauses alongside the mighty apparatus in a brightly toned red double-breasted gabardine straight lined coat. The luxurious mink tam is a startling production in shades of dawn Tourmaline and white. Completing the ensemble she will model in this year's "Hemlines and Horsepower" fashion show on Oct. 4, are beige kid gloves and the new look in handbags, a small alligator carryall.

Mrs. William King of Birmingham joins the fashion wheel in a camel two-piece ensemble with side draped skirt and new Dior neckline. The gold hardware look appears in place of jewelry and repeats the metal look on the small brown calf handbag. Camel kid gloves lend themselves to the total fashion picture for fall.

The annual "Hemlines and Horsepower '68" fashion and automobile extravaganza will take place Oct. 4. This annual event sponsored by the Alumnae and Parents' Associations of the Convent of the Sacred Heart will highlight elegant fashions from J. L. Hudson's and 1968 automobiles from Chrysler Corporation, General Motors Corporation and Ford Motor Company.

* * *

Two luncheons will precede the afternoon show in Bloomfield Open Hunt. Ticket holders may dine at either the "Hunt Club" or Village Woman's Club.

* * *

Following the show, there will be a reception and tour of the facilities at the Convent with busses to and from the luncheon site.

* * *

Dinner with cocktails preceding will take place in the "Hunt Club" before the 8:30 p.m. show. The evening will end with an afterglow.

Mrs. S. Gerard Conklin is this year's chairman with fashion coordinators, Mrs. Frederick Strals, Mrs. Philip Huber and Mrs. Gregory Frederick Jr.

* * *

Mrs. Harry Winston Jr. along with Mesdames: Windle Jarvis Jr., William Markley, and Frank Noftz will handle ticket sales.

WOMEN'S SECTION

"The finished product" is seen in Mrs. John L. Lelich's easy daytime green wool costume. A tiny bolero jacket with double breasted effect covers her short-sleeved panel dress. Elegance is spelled out in the leopard toque. Her daughter, Joyce, is set for an afternoon of motoring in a wool skimmer with colorful tie in shades of green and white. Emphasizing the Twiggy influence, Joyce wears a matching cap, green patent shoes with matching shoulder bag and green fishnet hose. The Lelichs live in Birmingham.

Pontiac Press Fashion Photos by Ed Vanderwerp

Hitching a ride at the fender mounting stop along Sacred Heart's "Assembly of Fashion," Mrs. Richard Meurer of Birmingham displays an air of casualness in tan wide wale corduroy pants topped with a tangerine wool double breasted short coat. Peeking out from under is a white turtle neck sweater. Her shoulder tan calf bag finishes the look of casual glamour.

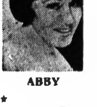
Wants to Celebrate Anniversary --- Without Husband

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I will soon have my 25th wedding anniversary except for one thing. My husband and I have separated for the past six years. He has tried to get a divorce, but he will never get one as long as I am living because I shall continue to contest it. You see I am one of those old-fashioned girls who happen to beileve that marriage is "for better or worse, till death do us part."



ABBY

* * *

Now this may sound funny to you, but I want to celebrate my silver wedding anniversary with a big party. I want my four children to be there along with friends and family, and I want to get anniversary gifts even if my husband isn't present. I know that one day the crazy fool will come back to me, and when he does, of course, I will take him back.

Does my idea of a silver wedding party sound too wild? And please advise what gifts you think my children should give me. I want some lovely silver to hand down to my grandchildren.

NANA

* * *

DEAR NANA: Unless your estranged husband returns to help you celebrte your 25th wedding anniversary, I'm afraid your idea of celebrating without him is "too wild."

DEAR ABBY: A very dear friend of mine sent me an invitation to her daughter's wedding.

The bride is 14 years old and the groom is 23! Because of my personal convictions that the bride is too young to marry, I have refused to attend the wedding.

Do you believe my actions are too severe, considering I wish the couple all the happiness in the world under the circumstances?

CONCERNED

* * *

DEAR CONCERNED: If your term "very dear friend" really means what it says, your friend may "need" a friend at this wedding. You should go and keep your "convictions" to yourself.

DEAR ABBY: My son was recently divorced. It wasn't a messy name-calling divorce, but a fairly friendly one.

His ex-wife has remarried, and her new husband does not want her, or her two small children to have anything to do with her ex-family. They have moved across town, and have not told anyone of their address, which I respect. And I wish them well.

My son pays a high child support, but he never sees the children, although the court gave him visitation rights. My husband says to leave them alone. My son feels the same way about it. But they are my grandchildren and I miss them. This is all the new husband's idea. Is this fair? What's the answer?

UNWANTED GRANDMOTHER

* * *

DEAR UNWANTED: No, it's not "fair" —but there is nothing you can do about it. If your son has "visitation rights" and he's not using them, it would appear that he couldn't care less about whether his children ever see their grandparents or not. So don't blame the ex-daughter-in-law or the "new" husband entirely.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ANITA: A woman likes—indeed "needs"—to be told out loud that she is loved. And I will tell you another not-so-well-kept "secret." So does a man.

Polly's Pointers

Finds Roller Works

DEAR POLLY — I am answering Lucy who wanted to repaint her metal kitchen cabinets. Remove the old paint with paint remover, a square spatula and a wire brush. Follow directions on the remover can very carefully.

I wore an old pair of nylon gloves to keep the remover from burning my skin. Apply a thin coat of rust preventative. (POLLY'S NOTE — Do not put this on top of any paint or sealer, only on bare metal). I find new paint will chip and peel very easily if the old is not removed. It is a lot of hard work but well worth it. — PAT

DEAR POLLY — My metal kitchen cabinets had yellowed and I tried painting them with a brush but they were streaky and messy. I then tried using a roller and it worked. Remove the cabinet handles and just roll on the enamel. A brush can be used for the hard-to-reach areas.

Also, I apply cold cream to my hands and face since I always seem to get splattered when I paint. To remove the stains after painting I add another coat of the cream and tissue my skin clean. Either salad or cooking oils are also good and gentle paint removers. — P. M.

DEAR GIRLS — Just yesterday a friend told me that she always used rubbing alcohol to remove paint from the skin. She finds it is particularly good to use on children who might stick a finger with turpentine on it in the mouth. Mrs. P. Q. also uses a roller and points out the fact that the result is slightly stippled. Try a small inconspicuous place first to see if you like the stippled effect. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When I washed the winter's grime off of my windows my fingers and fingernails were saved from much wear and tear. I used a small vegetable brush for scrubbing out all the corners of my many paned windows.

Home permanent plastic squeeze bottles make good darning eggs. They have round edges and are just the right size to hold in the hand. I also use small plastic bottles for watering small potted plants and for filling my stream iron. — MRS. E. K. S.

DEAR POLLY — Due to a serious illness my hair has nearly all fallen out. I have a wig but do not know how to care for it. I find it is too expensive to send it out as I am elderly and living on a small income. I do hope some of the kind ladies can help me — PEARL

* * *

More are: art, adults hair styling, powder puff mechanics, decoupage, holiday workshop and charm and poise.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the "Y" on West Huron Street.

A Bottle Holder

Make the children a tip-proof bottle holder to use when they are pasting, glueing, or polishing shoes. Drill a hole in the lid of a cigar box large enough for the bottle to fit in it. Then set the bottle in the box, closing the lid over the bottle top. This keeps the bottle anchored and prevents spills.

Hamburgers Never Go Out of Style as Treat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Great big juicy hamburgers are a treat at any time. Done on the outdoor grill, they're superb.

Mrs. Lloyd Langmaid of Waterford has a special recipe she wants to share with Press readers.

Our cook of the day has three children.

BAR B BURGERS
By Mrs. Lloyd Langmaid

⅔ cup (1 small can) evaporated milk
1 egg
1½ pounds ground beef
⅓ cup fine cracker crumbs
1⅓ teaspoons salt

⅛ cup finely chopped green pepper

Mix all ingredients together and form into 6 patties. Broil to desired degree of doneness.

Help Patients Socialize to Speed Recovery

The emotionally ill are not hopelessly ill. They were well once, and can be well again with proper care and understanding.

More important than any other kind of treatment is contact and friendship with other normal, happy people.

As a social activities aide in mental hospitals the volunteer can offer a warmth and understanding more beneficial than any psychiatry.

By joining in social activities with the patients, such as music, games and dance, and by acting as group discussion leader on pre-selected topics, the volunteer aide is invaluable.

This position, open daily or evenings from Monday through Sunday, is available for a man or woman over 20. Volunteers should call the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau in Birmingham.

Slate Fall Vows

An October wedding for Susan Marie Tiltman and William G. McMorrian has been announced.

Parents of the couple are the Thomas H. Tiltmans of Daffodil Drive and the Gerald McMorrians of Romeo.

Yard Goods Tradition

Curling Iron Use

If you have an old-fashioned curling iron around the house, don't throw it away, for it comes in handy when dyeing clothes or curtains. It makes a good gripping tool for turning articles in the dye bath, and its handles don't get hot.

Experts Set to Discuss Food in '67

DETROIT — More than 3,000 Detroit-area homemakers will learn how to stretch their family's food dollars at a special Ford Auditorium event Monday at 7:45 p.m.

The program — "An Evening With The Experts" — is the highlight of Food Information Week, Sept. 24-30. It will be open to the public.

Hungarian born chef and restaurateur Louis Szathmary will give a lively illustrated talk entitled, "Food is the Show." He will tell homemakers how to prepare gourmet meals using convenience foods.

Chef Szathmary's Chicago restaurant, The Bakery, recently won a place on Holiday Magazine's list of top 100 American Restaurants. He and his wife, Sadako, own and operate another dining spot in Chicago's Old Town area.

A second part of the program will feature Laurence Taylor, a nationally-known conference leader. He will lead a humorous and informative question-and-answer period between the audience and a panel of food experts. The session will test consumer knowledge of trends affecting food and the food industry.

Taylor was recently associated with Hillsdale College as vice president of leadership development until his retirement in 1965 at which time he went into the full-time work of conference planning and consultation.

Reason Our Youth Is Alienated Today

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

He was 13 when his father lost a status fight in his corporation and had to take a cut in his income.

* * *

Was the boy informed of this parental defeat? Don't be silly. What American parent ever confesses himself insufficient to his child? So he remained uninformed of his parents' brave, patient struggles to overcome the failure.

He was kept in his "nice" private school utterly unaware of the disciplined economies that kept him there. When insomnia induced his father to seek psychiatric treatment, that, too, was kept the darkest secrets. Yet submission to such treatment calls upon all one's resources of humility and courage.

"TRIPPING"

Accordingly, upon flunking two college courses last midterm, the boy has been "tripping" via LSD — tripping away as far as he can get from his own shamefully failing and insufficient self.

"The alienated student's use of LSD represents a frustration with reality, a sense of the futility of efforts to alter the external world," says Dr. Seymour L. Halleck, director of student psychiatry at the University of Wisconsin.

I wonder, Dr. Halleck. Are the kids frustrated by reality — or by what their never-failing, never-struggling parents tell them is reality?

As to this "external world," I feel pretty "alien" to myself. It's not exactly the kind of world any person of sensibility can delight in. For it is moving through Pay-Off Time — a time when every historical mistake made by the white-man heroes of the western world are flying home to roost on this country's chickenhouse.

If I don't take off for space travel via LSD it's not because I so delight in this uncontrollable external world. It's because I don't cop out on the human race merely because its going gets tough. That's why you stick with it, too.

Unlike Dr. Timothy Leary, we're no renegades. We've accepted our membership in a species whose destiny has been struggle ever since it was hatched.

What frustrates the kids are the lies we tell them about reality. Our television commercials alone are enough to frustrate anyone with their disparities between reality and fairy tale fiction. You never get dirty cleaning your house. If you use somebody's mouthwash, you're assured of success and a happy sex life.

You can "come on down" to sunny Florida any time you feel like it with the help of your credit card. No, sir. If the kids are rejecting membership in their struggling species, it's because their elders feel obliged to pretend they don't belong to it, either.

Extra $20 Million to Fight Rats Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, criticized for jokingly rejecting a $40-million rat extermination bill in July, is expected to approve an extra $20 million to fight rats in city slums.

* * *

But an economy mood on Capitol Hill threatens a proposed emergency allocation of $58 million to 143 critically overcrowded hospitals.

The rat extermination and hospital proposals are included in a bill up for House debate today which would provide $950 million through 1971 for various federal-state health programs.

* * *

The hospital aid amendment was added by the commerce committee on a party-line vote. But Republicans plan an all-out drive against the amendment, whose chief sponsor is Rep. Richard L. Ottinger, D-N.Y.

Ottinger told the rules committee last week that while his proposal is backed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Budget Bureau has not given its approval. The proposal would be for one year.

Rep. William L. Springer of Illinois, senior GOP member of the committee, said "It would be dangerous to adopt the scheme.

* * *

"The funds would quickly be taken up by a few hospitals with plans already formed, principally in New York," he said. "This is a New York amendment, and any congressman who has been sold on the idea that he may get a chunk of it for a hospital in his district is being taken in."

His remarks were prepared for floor delivery.

Strong bipartisan support is expected, however, for another unbudgeted proposal, an amendment by Reps. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., and Charles Mathias, R-Md., to increase the $870 million allocated for project grants to the states by $20 million.

* * *

The amendment doesn't specify how this money is to be used, but its sponsors make clear it is for states to establish rat control programs.

Prisoner Flees on Horseback

PARCHMAN, Miss. (UPI) — Billy Preston Phillips, serving a 10-year sentence for staging a shoot-out with police, escaped from the Mississippi State Penitentiary on horseback yesterday.

* * *

The horse later was found wandering around the Delta countryside, but Phillips was still at large.

* * *

Authorities said Phillips, 29, of Vicksburg climbed on the horse during sunrise work assignments and rode out of the penitentiary farm camp. He was a trustee.

Battle of Ragtag Armies in Red China Is Reported

HONG KONG (AP) — Two ragtag armies, each led by uniformed militiamen, battled for six hours with mortars, rifles and machine guns in a town near Canton, a Hong Kong Chinese said today. He claimed 20 or more died in the street fighting.

Kwok Hing, 45, told of witnessing the bloodletting in the most detailed report so far of near-anarchy in the area around the southern Chinese metropolis of 1.8 million.

★ ★ ★

Most of the accounts to date have come second- and third-hand from travelers to the mainland. It was not possible, however, to check Kwok's story.

He told of crouching under a bus for six hours while the armies of men and youths in peasant clothing clashed Saturday at Sun Tong, about 30 miles east of Canton in Kwangtung Province.

The street-to-street / fighting involved about 600 people with uniformed militiamen leading the two groups, he said.

Kwok estimated there were about 60 or 70 wounded, but said he could not tell which, if either unit was Maoist or opposed to Chinese Communist party leader Mao Tse-tung.

Kwok said he and about a dozen other people were on a bus to Canton when it ran head-on into the skirmish area. "Most of the others ran or took cover in side streets," he said, "but I dove under the bus and stayed crouched under it until the fight ended."

"There were mortar shell explosions and rifle and machine gun fire with patrols edging along streets and shooting at one another. It was like watching a war movie."

Kwok said the two opposing groups made no attempt to collect their dead and wounded, "they just left them dying there in the street."

A Japanese newsman, expelled from China, described Canton as a deserted city where foreigners are cautioned not to leave their hotels after dark and barricades are up at major intersections.

1968 Budget to Be Based on a 3.6-Mill Levy

It appears that Waterford Township will spread the same 3.6 mills for the 1968 budget that it levied the past two years, according to early indications.

Despite the objections of Democratic Trustee Robert E. Richmond, the Township Board last night approved a recommendation by Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson that the estimated 3.6-mill levy figure be conveyed to the county.

Richmond indicated he was against taking any action until he was presented with a proposed budget to review.

Richmond criticized Johnson for not presenting his budget recommendations to board members on time.

* * *

He said the Charter Township Act clearly specifies that supervisors should prepare and present proposed budgets to township boards by Sept. 1.

PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing and final approval of the budget must be negotiated by Nov. 1.

The board, which was given some material pertaining tt the budget last night, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Township Hall for preliminary discussion of the budget.

Johnson cited a work load and new personnel as reasons his recommended budget was not completed.

He said he felt no millage increase would be necessary because the township is expected to gain about $114,000 in receipts from the new state income tax next year.

DELINQUENT ACCOUNTS

In other business last night, the board approved a motion that delinquent special assessment payments totaling $4,642 be placed on the next assessment roll and that $181 in delinquent water and sewer bills be assessed against the involved properties.

Approved was a supervisor's proclamation that next week be declared Oakland County Counselors' Week in the township.

Some 350 school counselors in the county reportedly serve approximately 120,000 students.

Complaints to the Police Show Decline in August

The number of complaints investigated by the Waterford Township Police Department this year increased to 7,016 with August's 938 complaints.

After eight months last year, by comparison, township policemen had investigated 6,186 complaints.

However, the number of complaints in August 1966 exceeded last month's total by 57.

Included among last month's complaints were 151 larcenies, 66 malicious destruction of property reports, 55 break-ins and 10 automobile thefts.

* * *

The report indicated that eight of the break-ins were cleared and that seven stolen cars were recovered.

* * *

Arrests last month numbered 67—52 involving adults and 15 juveniles.

In addition, police cited 104 adults and nine juveniles for traffic violations, according to the report.

Dog warden complaints numbered 401 last month. Citations were issued to 28 dog owners and 116 dogs were transported to the Oakland County Animal Shelter.

GOD IS ALIVE!

The divine Principle — the basic cause which is God — is as vital and active on man's behalf now as when Christ Jesus healed in Galilee.

Don't just accept this on faith . . . you can prove it for yourself. You can prove that an understanding of God can transform a person's life, his character, his health.

Ralph W. Cessna, C.S.B., a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak on this subject in a lecture called "Is There a God?" He will discuss the point of view of both those who sincerely feel there is no God and those who believe that God can be absent or unavailable in time of need.

Mr. Cessna will answer these concepts with examples of individuals who, through a new awareness of what God really is, have eliminated deep character faults, overcome illnesses called incurable, and unhappy situations.

New Dorm Hours for Coeds in Effect

Most Oakland University coeds who live on campus can now set their own hours of coming home under new dormitory regulations which place curfews only on freshmen under 21.

The new liberalized hours for women went into effect last night as the result of dissatisfaction with last year's hours.

"I certainly feel that our women students are mature and wise enough to make intelligent decisions concerning their own hours," said Dean of Women Patricia Houtz.

Oakland thus joins the growing ranks of colleges and universities who have minimized curfews for residence hall girls.

* * *

"It is amazing the number of schools moving in this direction," reports Mrs. Houtz, who said she has taken a survey of regulations at other colleges.

Under a successful experimental program last year, senior coeds and those 21 years of age and over were given keys for admittance to dormitories after closing hours.

Freshmen, sophomores and juniors under 21 were normally required to be in dorms by midnight Sunday through Thursday and 2 a.m. Friday and Saturday last year.

About 300 freshman women are now required to return to their hall by these same times this year while some 350 upperclass women are not required to observe any particular closing hour — except good judgment.

* * *

Freshman coeds may have 10 special late permissions for weekdays during the semester as well as approved overnight privileges, Mrs. Houtz explained

UNIVERSITY PHILOSOPHY

The new policies are based on the university's philosophy to encourage students to achieve high standards of academic and personal development and to grow in maturity and responsibility.

* * *

OU's new Commission on Student Life — made up of students, faculty and administration — proposed the changes last spring after student hearings and approval of Chancellor Durward Varner.

Agent for GM to Seek Site for Substation

City commissioners will have a relatively short agenda tonight.

Only 11 items are scheduled for discussion, including an offer of Argonaut Realty Division of General Motors to purchase city-owned land in Aaron Perry Park for construction of an electrical power substation.

The substation would provide Pontiac Motor Division with electrical power.

The commissioners will also:

- Receive a recommendation to readvertise for bids for new sewage plant equipment.
- Consider a change in the zoning ordinance which allows for street dedication in multiple dwelling subdivisions before site plan approval.

* * *

- Pass a resolution honoring Nelse S. Knudsen, a former city commissioner, who died last week.
- Hear a report on the activity of a youth group which worked with the Pontiac Police Department this summer.

* * *

- Receive the bus report for August.
- Discuss results of the tax advisory election.

---

The number of passengers killed during flights made on the scheduled air services of the world rose from 684 in 1965 to 908 in 1966.

Church Leader Backed on Rights Fund

SEATTLE (AP) — A swelling lineup of religious leaders across the nation today backed an Episcopal leader's appeal that all faiths divert money to Negro-led groups working to improve the lot of their race.

Messages of support poured in from various Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish officials.

Hailing the plan, Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of the National Council of Churches, said the interdenominational organization favored reallocation of church funds to help "victims of discrimination" win justice.

The president of the American Jewish Committee, Morris B. Abrams of New York, said it also stood behind the call for "a major cooperative undertaking" to aid the poor in their struggle for "basic human rights."

SENDS ENDORSEMENT

Catholic Bishop James P. Shannon of St. Paul-Minneapolis sent his endorsement of the plan "for broader ecumenical response' 'to the crisis in slums of American cities.

Numerous others messaged their approval.

* * *

The reaction came in response to a plea by Episcopal Presiding Bishop John E. Hines for a "full-scale mobilization" of religious resources to underwrite efforts of Negro community-action groups.

To start the process, his own church's governing convention here is considering a proposal for shifting $3 million annually from usual church programs to back urban projects for Negroes.

Meanwhile, bishops Monday swept aside objections to the seating of a nonconformist colleague, the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike.

* * *

The action "showed a progressive openness on the part of the bishops," said Bishop Ivol I. Curtis of Seattle.

It also gave a possible clue to the mood of the Church in acting on a pending document that would strongly uphold freedom of doctrinal inquiry, and call for changes in canons virtually blocking heresy trials.

Bishop Pike was named last year in a heresy case, now bogged down in complications.

He Was 'In,' Mate, in Striped T-Shirt

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Bill Rentschler decked himself out in one of the convict-striped T-shirts that are the rage among teen-agers in his home town and went riding through nearby Milton.

Two police officers pegged him for an escaped convict. "But I bought this shirt," protested the 17-year-old from Pace, Fla. The police took him to jail.

Rentschler telephoned his grandmother whose explanation was enough to free him.

Tax Injunction Court Hearing Is Postponed

An Oakland County Circuit Court hearing for an injunction against the new state income tax was postponed yesterday for one week.

KUHN

Pontiac attorney Richard Kuhn is challenging the tax because voters were given no voice when the Legislature approved the act in July.

* * *

He is seeking a court order restraining the state from putting the new tax into effect Oct. 1.

The hearing has been rescheduled for Sept. 25 before Judge William R. Beasley.

3 Are Rescued Adrift in Lake

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Three men stranded in Lake Michigan when their 35-cabin cruiser ran out of gas were rescued and brought ashore here by the Coast Guard yesterday.

Erwin Raphael of Holland and two companions, were aboard the "Infinity R" on the way from Chicago to Saugatuck and were running in a dense fog when their fuel supply was exhausted.

* * *

Raphael radioed a distress call and when the fog cleared, the disabled boat was spotted by a Coast Guard search plane from Traverse City.

A Coast Guard boat from Muskegon located the craft off the Muskegon shore line and towed it to shore.

House Whips: Big Legislative Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Whip Leslie C. Arends sat alongside the center aisle, counting his troops and making a mental note of the absentees.

On the Democratic side, Whip Hale Boggs stood at the rear of the chamber with two aides, making a list of Democrats present and voting.

* * *

The vote on an amendment to the foreign aid bill complete, Arends and Boggs disappeared into their respective cloakrooms to telephone absent members and urge them to come to the floor.

A similar scene takes place in the House during most major legislative battles. Arends and Boggs, as whips of their parties, have the jobs of getting enough members to the floor to uphold their parties' positions.

TURN OF CENTURY

There have been whips in Congress since the turn of the century, and the British Parliament has had them since 1770. The term stems from the "whipper in" who was the man in a fox hunt responsible for keeping the hounds from leaving the pack.

Arends, 71, silver-maned Illinoisan who is the senior GOP member of the House, has been his party's whip since 1943, longer than any man in history. An effort to replace him in 1965 failed and he is considered solidly entrenched now.

* * *

Boggs, 53, holds his position by appointment of the speaker and the majority leader, unlike Arends who is elected by the GOP membership. The youngest member of the House when first elected at 26, the Louisiana Democrat has held his post since 1962.

* * *

Each operates through deputy and assistant whips. Arends has three deputies—Reps. William H. Bates of Massachusetts, Jackson E. Betts of Ohio and Burt L. Talcott of California—while Boggs has a single deputy, John E. Moss of California. Under them are assistant whips, serving states or regions, 14 for the Republicans and 19 for the Democrats.

NO LOAFERS?

Arends picks his deputy and assistant whips. "They're loyal," he said in an interview. "I don't think I've got a loafer in the bunch."

The assistant Democratic whips are picked by the state or region they serve, and usually by the senior Democrat from the area. In some southern regions, it is difficult to get an assistant whip who favors the party position or who can do much to line up votes.

While Arends has to contend with up to 30 potentially balky members on most issues, Democrats have 70-80 Southerners plus some conservative border staters who frequently line up with the Republicans to oppose administration proposals.

Twice this year, on a measure to increase the national debt limit, Republicans were solidly opposed, so Democrats had to rely on Southerners to get the bill through. The first time they failed, but the second time they succeeded.

ALL-OUT EFFORT

Republican policy positions—which signal an all-out whip effort—are taken by the party's policy committee. Headed by Rep. John J. Rhodes Jr., a conservative from Arizona, it meets every Tuesday.

About once a month, Republicans hold a conference of the entire membership under Chairman Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, often to discuss controversial issues on which the party is split.

Democratic policy, like that of any party in power, follows the lead of the White House.

On major issues, both party whips poll their memberships, through the assistant whips, to see where the votes lie. Then they can use what Arends calls "persuasion" on the doubtful members.

When crucial amendments come up on the floor, the whips put in "whip calls" to summon their members. Arends and Boggs estimate they can get their troops to the floor in about 15 minutes.

So far this year, however, Republicans have apparently had more success at this than Democrats.

* * *

"The underdog tries harder," Arends said. "We're out to make a record, particularly the freshmen. They're a little more determined."

* * *

Boggs put it differently. "The Republicans do a better job because they're the minority. There's a natural cohesiveness in the minority. You're not responsible for a program."

On a number of important issues this year, most notably the President's anticrime bill, the Democratic whip organization did almost no work, since it appeared extremely doubtful the bill could be passed in the form the administration wanted.

* * *

By picking its spots, the Democratic leadership and whip system has loooked good, when it was passing the debt limit increases, funds for model cities and the D.C. reorganization bill, and bad when it did little on the crime bill and on the ill-fated rat extermination measure which was voted down.

Champ St. Louis Now Must Wait for AL Opponent

Cardinal Pilot Foresaw Flag Last Spring

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Manager Red Schoendienst said in the spring that the St. Louis Cardinals would win the 1967 National League pennant. The Cardinals made him a prophet in September.

"I told only one guy in the spring that we were going to win," disclosed Schoendienst as he stood in the middle of the St. Louis dressing room watching his players use champage bottles for fire hoses, dousing everyone in sight.

* * *

"It was in Fort Myers," Schoendienst related. "We were playing the Pirates and I told Danny Murtaugh, 'don't tell anybody, but we're going to win the pennant.' If you don't believe it, ask Danny."

Schoendienst should have told his old roomie, Stan Musial, who now is his boss as Cardinal general manager. Musial, his suit wet with the bubbly stuff, shaving cream across the back, confessed he felt the Red Birds were a first division team, no more.

The Cardinals clinched the flag Monday night with a 5-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies as Bob Gibson pitched a three-hitter. A four-run sixth inning after being held hitless for five by lefty Dick Elsworth did the trick. Julian Javier singled home what turned out to be the winning run.

Schoendienst said the secret to the Cardinals' 11th pennant was the ability to pick each other up when it was necessary. The club lost pitcher Ray Washburn with a broken thumb, outfielder Curt Flood with a torn shoulder muscle and Gibson with a broken leg.

"Bobby Tolan picked up for Flood and even helped at first base for a while when Orlando Cepeda was hurt," Schoendienst said. "Nelson Briles came out of the bullpen to help when Gibson was injured. Our young pitchers made up for the loss of Washburn."

CLUB WAS DOWN

Schoendienst recalled that when Gibson was felled by a line drive off the bat of Roberto Clemente July 15 "the club was down. I said, 'why can't we pick up for Gibson,' and Briles came out of the bullpen and did the job."

The trade for Roger Maris, acquired from the New York Yankees, also came in for comment from the manager. "It enabled us to move Mike Shannon to third base where he did a great job. He worked hard at it. And Maris got some big hits for us and did well defensively."

Schoendienst had special praise for Dick Hughes, the 29-year-old rookie pitcher. "I felt all along that Hughes would be one of our best pitchers."

Musial, who roomed with Schoendienst in 1946 when the Cardinals won the pennant, complimented his manager on a great job.

"He stuck in there with our young pitchers" said Musial. "He didn't try to overmanage, you know what I mean. He was perfect for this group."

Joe Don Looney Plays Out Option

WASHINGTON (AP) — Running back Joe Don Looney is playing out the option year on his contract with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League, Redskins' Coach Otto Graham said Monday.

Looney has not signed a new contract for the current season and has received his last offer, Graham said.

Looney was the No. 1 draft choice of the New York Giants in 1964 and played with the Baltimore Colts and Detroit Lions before joining the Redskins last season.

He was reported to be earning about $25,000 a year, but under NFL regulations will be subject to a 10 per cent cut if he plays out his option this year. If he does not sign with the Redskins before May 1, he will be free to negotiate with other teams.

Tigers Can't Rid Selves of Two Boston 'Thorns'

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Yastrezemski, Jones and Santiago!

Sounds like a Notre Dame backfield, but they couldn't be because they didn't play for any ties last night, as they helped the Boston Red Sox to a 6-5 victory in 10 innings before 42,674 fans at Tiger Stadium.

The Detroit defeat threw the American League race into a three-way tie with Boston and Minnesota while the White Sox were still a half game behind after losing 3-2 to the California Angels.

Carl Yastrzemski, the triple crown leader of the American League, and Dalton Jones, both of whom have feasted on Tiger pitching this year, delivered the seat dusters in the 9th and 10th innings, respectively, helping to beat Detroit for the 10th time in 17 games this season.

Yastrzemski, who has eight homers against the Tigers, more than any other team, drove his 40th of the year into the second deck off reliefer Fred Lasher with one out in the 9th to tie the score at 5-5.

It was the first home run given up by Lasher, who has been superb in relief for the Tigers this year.

Then there's the Jones boy from Baton Rouge, La., who uses his bat like Clyde Beattie uses a whip for taming Tigers.

THIRD HOMER

Jones, a 6-1 and 180 pound third baseman, hit only his third homer of the season, but it was enough to beat the Tigers. To add a little icing to his feat, he speared a line drive in the bottom of the 10th off the bat of Bill Freehan to end the game.

Jones was also the Tiger tamer on May 24 when his home run defeated Denny McLain, 1-0, in Detroit.

McLain started last night and was hit hard, giving up three runs in the top of the first. Jones also helped in the scoring with a single.

He was on base all five times during the night, four on hits and once via a two-base error by Dick McAuliffe.

* * *

The Tigers came back in the second to tie it 3-3 with a homer by Norm Cash, double by Freehan, walks to Don Wert and McAuliffe and a big two-run single by Jerry Lumpe.

McLain again started the third by walking Mike Andrews. Yastrzemski's second hit and a sacrifice fly to Reggie Smith gave the Sox the lead, 4-3, as Fred Gladding finished the inning.

Cash answered the boos of the big throng with his second homer in the 6th ining to tie it. The Tiger reliefers looked as if they had things under control fo the next five innings.

McAuliffe made the best defensive play of the night in the 8th when — Jones on third and Rico Petrocelli in first — he snared a fast bounding ball, tagged Petrocelli and touched first to get catcher Russ Gibson.

Lasher got out of the jam as Jose Tartabull flied out to leave Jones stranded on third.

TAKE LEAD

John Wyatt was on the mound in the 8th when Al Kaline started with a single. Horton sacrificed and Northrup sent a 2-2 pitch to left field for a 5-4 lead as Kaline scored.

Cash was walked intentionally, and the strategy worked as Freehan struck out and Don Wert popped to short center.

STRAIGHT AHEAD — Milford unleashed a potent air game last week in its season-opening grid game, but the Redskins expect to utilize the ground offense more Friday night at Livonia Clarenceville in their Wayne-Oakland loop kickoff. Providing the blocking along one side of the line likely will be 6-2 junior end Mark Giegler (left), plus seniors Robin Andrews (center), a 210-pound tackle and 170-pound guard Rick Falardeau.

Houston Ripped Florida State

MSU Wary of Foe

EAST LANSING (AP) — Coach Duffy Daugherty says his mood of "cautious hopefulness" has been shaken by the scouting report on Houston, the Michigan State opponent in the Spartan opener this Saturday.

"Dave Smith, who scouted them for us, reports they are an outstanding team," said Daugherty. "They had Florida State 33-0 before they started to put in the reserves."

Houston won its opener last Friday night 33-13.

* * *

"We haven't been a good opening team when the opponent has had one game under its belt," said Daugherty. "You make more glaring mistakes in an opening game than any other time."

Houston, coached by former Spartan assistant Bill Yeoman, topped the nation in total offense last fall. Daugherty said the game had been scheduled before Houston became a football power.

"If we had known they were going to be this tough, maybe we wouldn't have scheduled them," Daugherty quipped. "That shows what happens when you try to help someone out.

"We're not saving anything for Southern California," Daugherty added, referring to the second opponent. "We want to win this game as much as any on the schedule."

Daugherty said he has not received a game film of the Houston opener, a usual courtesy.

"We understand Florida State asked that there be no exchange," he said. "They play Alabama next. I'd probably make the same decision," he added. "Houston would be foolish to hurt themselves."

Meanwhile, he said, Yeoman wired Daugherty asking what ball he would use in the game—meaning the brand name.

"An oblique spheroid," Daugherty wired back, referring to the shape.

Lions, Packers May Move Rematch Game

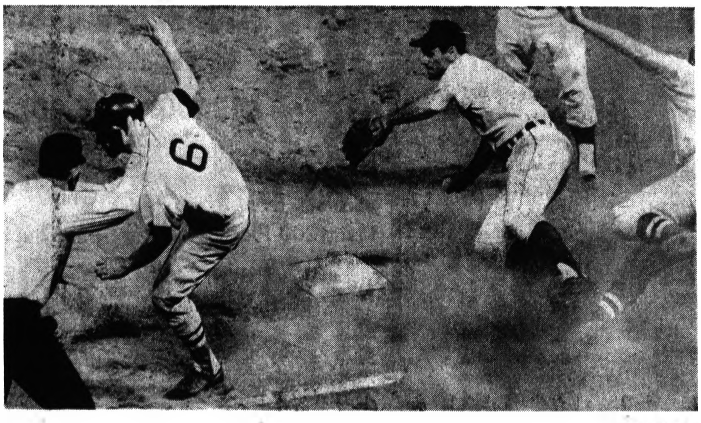
GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — The owner of the Detroit Lions says the second game with the Green Bay Packers Oct. 8 may be shifted to Milwaukee, or played on Monday if the Detroit Tigers get into an American League playoff.

"It takes some pretty complicated figuring," said William Clay Ford, the Lions' president. "But if the Tigers get in a playoff and especially if there should be a rain delay in there, we might not be able to get in our stadium.

"Then we'd do one of two things — we might play in Detroit Monday night or we might play in Milwaukee," Ford said.



AP Wirephoto

UNUSUAL CLUTCH PLAY BY TIGER — Detroit's Dick McAuliffe (with glove on) skids into foul territory at first base in the eighth inning Monday night after making rare unassisted double play. The Tigers' second sacker fielded a sharp grounder by Russ Gibson (falling at right), tagged out base runner Rico Petrocelli (6) who was retreating to first and beat Gibson to the bag while holding Dalton Jones on third base in the none-out situation. Umpire Ed Runge makes the call at the left and first baseman Norm Cash is behind McAuliffe.

Intrepid Earns America's Cup

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — Amercia yet retains her grip on some prized possessions, such as the gold in Ft. Knox, the Liberty Bell — and the America's Cup.

Yachting's Holy Grail, which has never left these shores in the 113 years of its existance, will remain on the shelf of the New York Yacht Club for at least another three years. Intrepid, the American cup defender, saw to that Monday by giving the Australian challenger, Dame Pattie, her fourth and final defeat.

The winless Dame put up a game fight in moderate winds which she was designed for but, as Jock Sturrock, her skipper, said after the race: "We didn't go fast anough."

Undaunted by America's decisive 20th straight defense of the cup, the British challenged for the trophy minutes after Commodore Percy Chubb of the New York Yacht Club stepped ashore.

The challenge, for 1970, came from the Royal Dorset Yacht Club of Weymouth, England.

Angels Defeat White Sox as Race Tightens

From Our Wire Services

Minnesota's Ted Uhlaender and California's Rick Reichardt delivered the big late inning hits in their respective games to keep the American League pennant race at a torrid pace.

Uhlaender's single in the 10th inning driving in pinch-runner Pat Kelly, and the six-hit pitching of Jim Kaat helped Minnesota a 2-0 triumph over Kansas City.

* * *

On the West Coast, after the White Sox tied it 2-2 in the 8th, Reichart's two-out single in the 9th off reliefer Bob Locker scored Roger Repoz with the winning run in the California 3-2 victory.

In the other game, three Baltimore pitchers combined to shut out New York, 2-0.

The White Sox started the game in a four-way deadlock for the lead with Minnesota, Boston and Detroit and could have taken a one-half game lead with a victory.

But Reichardt's clutch hit snapped the Sox' five-game winning streak and left them trailing the Twins, Red Sox and Tigers.

With one out in the ninth, Don Mincher singled to right, then gave way to pinch runner Repoz.

WINNING RUN

Repoz tagged up and took second on Jimmie Hall's fly to deep center, then scored the winning run on Reichardt's single to center.

The victory was the fourth in a row for the fifth-place Angels.

Ricky Clark, the Angels' starter, had a one-hitter going and had retired 17 batters in a row when the White Sox struck for two unearned runs in the eighth inning and tied the game 2-2.

Ken Boyer led off with a grounder to short and was safe as Jim Fregosi fumbled the ball for an error. With one out, Ron Hansen beat out an infield hit to advance pinch runner Tommie Agee to second.

Agee stole third and scored as Rocky Colavito bounced a single off the glove of third baseman Leo Rodriguez, with pinch runner Buddy Bradford racing to third on the hit.

After Curt Simmons replaced Clark on the mound, Bradford scored the tying run as second baseman Bobby Knoop tossed out pinch hitter Smoky Burgess.

The Angels clipped Cisco Carlos for an unearned run in the second inning and knocked out the Chicago starter in the sixth while increasing their lead to 2-0.

BOBBLES BALL

Reichardt singled with two out in the second, took third on Bob Rogers' single and continued home when center fielder Ken Berry bobbled the ball.

In the sixth, Rodriguez singled, was bunted to second and scored on a single by Fregosi.

Don McMahon then relieved Carlos, pitched out of further trouble and checked the Angels until the eighth, when he went out for a pinch hitter.

Jim Hunter, 11-16, gave up only three hits for Kansas City until the 10th, when Bob Allison started the Twins' two-out rally with a single to left.

After Rod Carew walked, Pat Kelly ran for Allison and Uhlander snapped to center, scoring Kelly, and Carew also scored when Joe Nossek bobbled the ball for an error.

Cardinals Led From June 18

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals moved into the National League lead June 18, fought off two challenges from the Chicago Cubs in July and then roared to their second pennant in four years.

Manager Red Schoendinst's Cardinals battled with Cincinnati in the early months of the National League race, but injuries to key players put the Reds into a tailspin and St. Louis jumped to a 3½ game lead at the mid-season All-Star Game break.

* * *

A torrid first 44 games by leftfielder Lou Brock, the Cards' leadoff hitter, enabled St. Louis to start the season at the top of the pack. During the span, Brock cracked 13 home runs, drove in 37 runs, stole 22 bases and hit .348.

But over the long haul, first baseman Orlando Cepeda was the Cardinals' most consistent offensive threat. Cepeda battled for the batting championship much of the season and had driven in more than 100 runs by the end of August.

HURLER SIDELINED

Most Carinal boosters thought championship hopes were shattered July 15 when a line drive off the bat of Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh broke a bone in pitcher Bob Gibson's right leg. But St. Louis' young pitching staff quickly filled the gap left by the loss of a 20-game winner for seven weeks.

Gibson's injury was just another example of what the Cardinals did all season. When Gibson was injured, St. Louis had a four-game lead. When the big right-hander returned Sept. 7 his teammates owned a comfortable 11½-game margin.

* * *

A 24-year-old right-hander, Nelson Briles was one big reason for the Cardinals' post All-Star Game surge. Briles came out of the bullpen to replace Gibson in the starting rotation and responded with an eight-game winning streak and a 13-5 mark.

Possibly the most unexpected pitching help came from Dick Hughes, who had spent nine years in the minor leagues, led the Cardinals with 14 victories.

Chippewas Lose QB Bob Miles

MOUNT PLEASANT (UPI) Bob Miles, quarterback for Central Michigan University's football team, has broken his leg and will be out for the rest of the season.

* * *

The university said Monday that Miles, from Royal Oak, the first-string quarterback, broke a bone in his left leg during Central's 23-21 defeat of Bradley Saturday.

Switch Farm Leaguers

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Yankees Monday announced the acquisition of infielder Len Boehmer from Cincinnati's Buffalo farm club while the Reds claimed pitcher Bill Henry from the Yankees' Syracuse farm club in the International League.

OLSM Defeated by St. Anthony

Jerry Sinkel toured the two-mile course at Rouge Park yesterday in 10:16 to lead Detroit St. Anthony to a 19-42 cross country victory over Orchard Lake St. Mary.

Andy Jugan placed third to lead OLSM. It was a nonleague meet and the first of the season for the Orchard Lake squad.

Buster Busts Foe; Wants Joe Frazier

NEW YORK (AP) — Undefeated Buster Mathis and Joe Frazier, amateur rivals in the Olympic Trials three years ago, appear to be heading on a collision course in the pro ranks today.

"I want Frazier," bellowed Buster, trimmed down to a svelte 239½ pounds, after he dropped 186-pound Ron Marsh five times in stopping the fighting Kansas schoolteacher in 1:13 of the fourth round at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

* * *

The onetime 300-pound blimp may get Frazier but not right away. Frazier, 17-0, ranked first by Ring Magazine and eighth by the World Boxing Association, has an Oct. 17 date with Tony Dohle in Philadelphia. He saw Buster's debut as Garden main eventer.

Buster, now 21-0 with 15 knockouts but unranked, may take on faded Brian London of Britain for promoter Ingemar Johansson in Stockholm or Goteborg in late October or early November. Johansson, the former heavyweight champion, saw Buster demolish the outweighed, outgunned and outsped Marsh and then talked business with Jimmy Iselin.

SIMILAR BACKING

Iselin is Mathis' manager and one of a syndicate of wealthy young men backing the 23-year-old thick-necked giant from Grand Rapids. Frazier has a similar syndicate behind him in Philadelphia.

The Garden mentioned Dante Cane, a tall, 229-pound Italian stablemate of middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti. Cane made an impressive debut here by stopping Jerry Tomasetti, 199, of Scranton, Pa., in 2:19 of the first round of another 10-rounder on the card.

To this suggestion, Buster repeated "I want Frazier."

Mathis beat Frazier in the Olympic Trials in 1964 and then beat the Philadelphian again shortly afterwards in a workout in California. But Buster broke a thumb and Frazier replaced him on the team.

Marsh, 6-foot and 53½ pounds lighter than the 6-3 Mathis, was Buster's eighth straight knockout victim. Marsh, 22-2, said it was the first time he was floored or stopped.

* * *

How did Mathis look to him?

"Looking from where I was looking most of the night, he looked very good," quipped Marsh. "He's surprisingly fast and is very strong. He's got lots of power. He could give Frazier a lot of trouble."

The near-sighted Marsh deliberatedly butted Mathis in a corner in the final seconds of the second round.

"I lost my head," admitted Marsh. It almost cost him his head, too.

Flint Golfers Win Best-Ball Tourney

A Flint twosome of Steve Braun and Larry Cunningham bested a couple of Pontiac teams in a playoff over the weekend in taking the Waterford Hill Country Club best-ball championship.

Braun and Cunningham turned in a 66 to share the top spot with the teams of Clyde Skinner-Truman Hammitt and Paul Bada-Goerge Hammitt.

In the playoff, Braun and Cunningham carded a birdie on the first hole to win the event. Skinner and Truman Hammitt birdied the fourth hole to claim second place.

Even the little things are important in a football game. Take those little white stripes on a football. Now, would you think anyone would care if they were there or not?

A lot of folks care and among them is Ed Wichert, recreation director at Bloomfield Hills, who was pressed into service as coach of the Hills' Andover High School football team because of the teacher contract dispute which sidelined the regular coach, Bob Kefgen.

Wichert was on the job Friday as Andover entertained Oak Park and he had a bad afternoon.

Hills lost the game, 26-20, a good reason for Wichert to be in less than a jolly mood, but adding to his discomfort was Oak Park's use of a football without white rings.

* * *

"We use a rubber ball, and they used a leather one," Wichert was saying Monday. "Ours had the white rings according to the rules, but their leather ball didn't.

PASSING BALL

"And theirs was a red ball and a good passing one," Wichert added.

WHITE STRIPE

"We complained to the head official about the lack of rings but he said it was okay," Wichert said.

Rules state the ball must have rings (white, one-inch stripe at each end) unless the two coaches agree to some other type, so they probably could play with a watermelon if both okay it.

Whether it would have made any difference if Oak Park used a red ball with white stripes or one without stripes or a white one with red stripes is difficult to say.

* * *

Wichert made the point that Oak Park had red uniforms and the red ball blended well. And the Oak Park passing game worked well as the team came up with four TD passes and 244 yards in the air.

Wichert will turn the reigns back to Kefgen this week if the teachers and board of education settle their contract differences.

"I was looking forward to the Clarkston game," said Wichert, "I told the other coaches I didn't want to go out as a loser."

Pacers Ready for Jug Spots

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — The nation's finest 3-year-old pacers were to draw for post positions today for Thursday's 22nd renewal of the rich Little Brown Jug.

Fabulous Romulus Hanover, shooting for the second leg in pacing's triple crown, is favored to take the big pot in the $80,000 Jug purse.

Romulus, son of Dancer Hanover-Romola Hanover, already holds a victory in the Messenger Stake, the first leg of the triple.

Trainer-driver Billy Haughton, who will guide Romulus, is after his third Jug triumph. Haughton won with Quick Chief in 1955 and Vicar Hanover in 1964.

The pacing classic will be contested at the Delaware County Fairgrounds, one of the nation's fastest one-half mile tracks.

Half a Stride Good Enough

Dave Galloway edged teammate Butch Fenlon by half a stride for first place yesterday as Waterford Township took the measure of Oxford, 21-38, in cross country.

Both runners were timed on the Waterford course in 10:28.

Dennis Clack and Doug Bass finished third and fourth for Oxford which lost its first meet in three outings. DeWayne Russell was fifth and Bill Martin sixth for Waterford.

Pros Bite Wrong Hand

By DUFFY DAUGHERTY
Head Football Coach
Michigan State University

Pro football is biting the hand that feeds it — the college football player.

It used to be an honor for a college senior to play in an All-Star game but now the pros frown on games not of their own choosing.

The pros would love it if the College All-Star game at Chicago and the American Football Coaches Association game in Atlanta were called off. Chances are they'd use the sites and dates.

The Chicago game once signified the kickoff of the pro football season. Now, if a College graduate plays in it, he risks being cut by his new pro team because it has already started practice. Time was when the pros didn't work out until after the All-Star Game.

NO FARM SYSTEM

We have no bone to pick with pro football but with a merger of the National and American Football Leagues in the works it's about time the pro promoters began leaning over backwards to cooperate with the colleges and the stars they produce. Colleges are not a farm system for pro football.

Last June an Armed Forces game between college stars of 1966 was set for Frankfurt, Germany. It was called off because NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle refused to give the game his blessing. One team was to represent the Army, the other the Air Force. Pro football fumbled a goodwill opportunity.

The pros inferred that some individuals would profit by the Armed Forces game. Actually, nobody was to get any more than expenses. Some college coaches are up in arms that this game was torpedoed by fellows they helped in the past.

* * *

The pros asserted some of their upcoming stars, who cost them nothing more than a year's salary, would be exposed to injury in Germany. Injury? My left flanker.

Pro teams used to play two exhibition games. Now they play five and six. They seem to switch franchises or create a new one wherever a new municipal stadium or baseball park is built. They want a finger in every pie.

LOST POWER

Maybe pro football's moguls forget that two years ago some colleges permitted stars to sign contracts right between the goal posts at bowl game. This is no longer necessary because the leagues no longer fight over a player. No team has to pay bonuses up to $400,000 for one man. The college stars have lost their bargaining power.

Promoters are getting all the benefits of calling their game a sport rather than a business. If they're not careful they may lose their claim to exemption from antitrust laws.

Red Wings Ax Two Players, Sign More

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Red Wings have signed two players and reduced their roster to 40 as they prepare for their first exhibition hockey game Thursday against the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Left winger Gary Jarrett and spare goalie George Gardner signed contracts for the upcoming season, Wings General Manager-Coach Sid Abel announced Monday.

Gardner, 24, finished last season with Detroit, after tending goal with Memphis and Pittsburgh. He allowed 36 goals in 11 games with Detroit.

Jarrett, 25, racked up 71 points with 29 goals and 42 assists last season with Pittsburgh in the American Hockey League.

Among those cut were former Red Wing Alex Faulkner and ex-Michigan Tech defenseman Dennis Huculak.

Detroit meets defending Stanley Cup Champion Toronto at Olympia Thursday.

TALL TASK — Big Willie Washington, 6-7 and 240 pound defensive end of the Pontiac Firebirds, will have a task as big as he is Saturday night when the F-Birds meet the Mt. Clemens Arrows at Wisner Stadium in what should be the big grudge game of the MFL.

Mt. Clemens Next Foe

Big Willie Firebird Long Arm

The long arm of Willie Washington has been a big factor in the surprising play of the Pontiac Firebirds in the Midwest Football League this season.

Saturday night Big Willie and the F-Birds will get their toughest assignment when they meet the Mt. Clemens Arrows at Wisner Stadium in the big grudge game of the MFL.

* * *

Mt. Clemens under coach Lisle Wells, is the franchise which was located in Pontiac for two years under a lend-lease basis and many of the former stars familiar to Pontiac fans are still under contract to Wells.

Big Willie, not to be confused with Willie Lee Washington, 6-2 tight end with the Firebirds, was praised as one of the defensive stars in the Pontiac 7-6 triumph over Ypsilanti almost two weeks ago.

Pontiac was idle last Saturday and head coach Tom Tracy made special praises for Big movies of the victory.

Willie made two key plays, along with middle linebacker Jon Izer, in the final minutes of the game when the Vikings were inside the five-yard-line three times.

MISSISSIPPI SCHOOL

Washington, an employe at Pontiac Motor, attended Alcorn A&M in Mississippi, but had to leave school to gain employment to support his family.

On a couple occasions against Ypsilanti, Willie reached over the pass protection to jar quarterback Steve Juday.

Mt. Clemens has former Hillsdale College quarterback Pat Brown, former Toronto Argonaut Steve Rogin and ex-All County star Ron Bishop as the signal calling crew.

Tony Odneal, a favorite with Pontiac fans last year, Jim Johnson, Bob Micheau and another ex-Canadian League runner Jim Wills spearheaded the offensive attack for Mt. Clemens.

Mt. Clemens was unbeaten and unscored upon in two games until the powerful Dayton Colts led by Pistol Pete Mikolajewski whipped the Arrows 34-7 last Saturday night.

* * *

The defeat for Mt. Clemens really scrambled the MFL race as all teams have now tasted at least one loss.

The Firebirds are back on the practice field tonight at Wisner Field and coach Tracy is hoping to perk up the offensive attack.

* * *

Normally consistent Bill Harrington was off target in his passing against Ypsilanti, but Tracy said, "Bill didn't have much practice with us and he's just getting his timing."

RECORD CROWD

The game could bring about a record MFL crowd for Pontiac surpassing the 5,600 which clash last year.

Tickets in advance are available at Osmun's, Griff's, Bob-Kens, VFW Post 1370 and the Firebirds' downtown office. Firebird officials note that the advance sale has been the biggest of any game in three years.

Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. Saturday night.

West Coast 11s Better Rankings With Victories

By the Associated Press

Victories by Southern California and UCLA during college football's initial big weekend have moved the West Coast teams into solid positions in the Associated Press poll.

* * *

The first poll of the regular 1967 season finds the Trojans in fourth place, a gain of three positions over their preseason rankings, and the Bruins in the No. 6 spot, two places higher than in the pre-campaign estimate.

Notre Dame, Alabama and Michigan State are 1-2-3 in that order, the same positions they occupied in the preseason ratings. The three play their first games this week-end, the Irish against California, Alabama against Florida State and the Spartans against Houston.

The voting with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis

Impressive Victories Earn State Ratings

Impressive victories over Midland and Ferndale last Friday earned Pontiac Central and Royal Oak Dondero rankings among the top 10 Class A high schools in the season's first Associated Press state football poll.

Central's Chiefs dumped Midland, 21-0, and drew 41 votes, only four less than Dondero who routed Ferndale, 25-7, and took up residence right where it left off last fall, in the fifth spot.

Hazel Park and Birmingham Seaholm drew berths in the second 10 while Walled Lake and Pontiac Northern are among the 20-30 grouping. No other county school was rated in Class B, C or D, although Dryden (north of Rochester) is tied for sixth in "D".

Battle Creek Central, Saginaw Buena Vista and Galesburg-Augusta, as might be expected, grabbed the top spots in Classes A, B and C.

Sportswriters and sportscasters at AP member newspapers and broadcast stations across the state picked Adrian Catholic Central as the top team in Class D.

Classes C and D were separated for the first time in the poll this year.

Battle Creek Central topped Class A last year. Saginaw Buena Vista was the top school in Class B and Galesburg-Augusta led Class C-D in last year's final poll.

Firm Offers Rust Warranty

No matter what model '68 car you buy, you'll be getting the best bargain on warranties ever offered. Indeed, General Motors has extended its warranties to include "everything except tires which are warranted by the tire manufacturers."

But is "everything" except tires on cars getting factory backing for longer periods? Not necessarily. Still unwarranted is the actual car body, except for defects in workmanship or paint.

Ziebart Process Corp., 821 Oakland Ave., Pontiac, is offering a five-year, or 50,000 miles, warranty on cars treated by its rustproofing process. The warranty will protect against "any rust through" over the prescribed period.

The process involves spraying a petroleum-based chemical coating "inside" door panels, headlamp fixtures and other areas susceptible to rusting.

The average "treatment" costs about $55. Under the 50/50 warranty, motorists whose cars have been Ziebarted are called in each two years or 20,000 miles for a free inspection and "an extra shot" of Chemical if it's needed.

Ziebart Process Corp., 821 Oakland Ave., Pontiac, will be happy to discuss their Guaranteed Protection program, just call FE 4-0502.

Opening lead—♦3

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

Victor Mollo, one of England's greatest players and writers, has produced a humorous book on play entitled "Bridge in the Menagerie."

JACOBY

The two principal characters in his menagerie are an obnoxious expert called the "Hideous Hog" and an unfortunate dub called the "Rueful Rabbit." The rabbit does everything wrong. The hog tries to play every dummy, usually at no-trump, and continually brings off most absurd swindles.

Today's hand shows the rueful rabbit bringing off a defensive swindle of his own.

West's opening lead of a low diamond was most unusual but he had no decent lead and anyway we are interested in the rabbit, sitting East. Declarer played low from dummy. The rabbit played his jack and was surprised when he held the trick. Then he returned the queen to his partner's ace. The partner led a third diamond and anyone but the rabbit would have ruffed.

* * *

In that case declarer would have had no trouble making his contract. He would simply have won the next trick, played his two top trumps and three top clubs; entered dummy with the ten of trumps and discarded his queen of hearts on a good club.

The rabbit did not ruff. He just discarded a low heart. After this remarkable coup declarer saw no better play than to take the heart finesse. It lost and he was down one.

Had the rabbit made a brilliant play? Not at all! He had thought the contract was three no-trump and was delighted that his failure to ruff the diamond hadn't cost him anything.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Wednesday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Dialogue necessary between you and one very close. Don't take persons, situations for granted. Find out what opposition is thinking, saying. Then clarify your own feelings.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Be quiet within. Know that what you seek is not faraway. Accent on solitude, a kind of pause, breather, chance to regain strength. One you aided may come back and ask for more.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): New ideas ring bell of success. Old methods apt to lack necessary punch. Friendly exchange of ideas today provides answer. Socialize. Meet people. Be alert, alive to opportunity.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You may require aid of one with experience to achieve goal. Your chance for success depends upon willingness to listen. Don't permit conflict between domestic and professional areas.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Wait for all facts. Premature decisions cause needless setback. Realize this and act accordingly. Keep communication lines open. Important message is due. Be ready to receive it.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Fine for inaugurating savings program. Avoid waste. Look to future where security is concerned. Improve comforts of home. Check details. Be wary of one who starts argument.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Temptation is to find fault, argue. Overcome it. Make intelligent concessions. Applies especially to dealings with mate, partner, close associate. Make meanings crystal clear.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Some of your aims may be obscured. Family or co-workers tend to lack confidence. Make necessary adjustments without relinquishing principles. Emphasis on health, home and work.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Be ready for changes—especially where children are involved. There is switch of attitude. Tonight discuss needs with one close to you. Be analytical.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Economic matters flash to forefront. You make decisions concerning home and career. Tendency is to lean on one with experience. Don't feel guilty. You have right to know.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Be sure you get money's worth. If confused, check facts. It may be that you are pushing in wrong direction. Day to make corrections. Study AQUARIUS message.

* * *

IF TOMORROW IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you soon will emerge with positive program. Recent events have tended to discourage you. But cycle changes—to your benefit.

* * *

VOYAGER AND FAMILY—Robert Manry, Cleveland newsman-turned-sailor, is getting ready to leave St. Louis on a trip around the eastern half of the country. Manry made headlines in 1965 by sailing the Atlantic alone in his 13-foot "Tinkerbell." With him are his wife, Virginia; son, Douglas; daughter, Robbin; and the family dog. The Manry's were heading for the Gulf of Mexico on their first leg of their year-long voyage.

Senate to Be Kinder to Cities, Rent Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's model cities and rent subsidy bills are expected to fare well in the Senate compared with the way the House treated them.

The House voted nothing for rent subsidies and only $237 million of the $662 million which Johnson asked for his model cities plan. Rent subsidies would help the poor pay for their housing; the model cities program would help cities build model neighborhoods as a step toward eventual overhaul of slums on a widespread basis.

* * *

The Senate Appropriations Committee voted to restore the full $40-million authority request for rent subsidies and $537 million for model cities—$300 million more than was approved by the House.

Senate approval on the committee recommendations was expected today.

DOUBTS SUCCESS

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., senior Republican on the subcommittee which handled the bill, said he did not know of any moves to reduce the committee figures in the floor debate.

He doubted any would succeed if attempted.

Some Senate supporters of the rent subsidy program voiced unhappiness over language put into the committee's report on the bill which they said could limit its effectiveness.

* * *

The report states that if nonprofit sponsors of rent subsidy projects find they must seek government loans, they shall be required to put up a 5 per cent equity investment.

The bill's managers said that it was necessary to include this in order to get the committee to vote for the full $40 million. The report does not have the force of law.

The Senate was slated to vote first on a proposal by Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, to cut $20 million from the bill for the Civil Defense Administration.

He suggested the money "could well be applied to a rat control program, or to a dozen or more other vitally needed programs which have not been funded or whose appropriations have been drastically reduced."

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., said he would try to get the Senate to reject increases made by the committee, at Johnson's request, in the authorization to sell participation certificates in government loans.

News Analysis

WASHINGTON — A liberal Democrat's claim that President Johnson torpedoed a hopeful Vietnam peace move last February gives new ammunition for Republican "credibility gap" charges against the administration.

Harry S. Ashmore, former Arkansas editor, said State Department officials dealt with him and Editor William C. Baggs of the Miami, Fla., News with "an almost total absence of candor" in the affair. This matched GOP descriptions of the administration's general performance in Vietnam statements.

* * *

But most politicians seemed to regard Ashmore's charge that Johnson "effectively and brutally canceled" a promising attempt to start peace talks as likely to leave only a minor abrasion on the image Johnson has labored to build as a man willing to negotiate at the drop of a hat to end the war.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, defending the President, made it difficult for even the Republican doves to suggest Johnson doesn't really want peace unless Hanoi surrenders.

'INCONCEIVABLE'

Dirksen told newsmen he could not conceive of any circumstances under which the President wouldn't make "every possible effort to stop the killing" in Vietnam. He suggested that Ashmore's charge bore the "taint" of those who seek a peace candidate for President.

* * *

Ashmore classified himself among the vigorous war policy critics when he identified himself with "the eclipsed Adlai Stevenson wing of the Democratic party" and as a confidante of Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Consequently politicians filtered the former editor's charges against the President in that light, even if they didn't agree his account of the preparation of a "conciliatory" letter to Hanoi with administration help was as "misleading" as the State Department said it was.

Ashmore said his letter to Ho Chi Minh had been overtaken by an uncompromising message from Johnson.

* * *

William P. Bundy, assistant secretary of state, who conferred with Ashmore and Baggs, said the two mistakenly felt their channel of communication with Hanoi was at the center of the peace stage.

Bundy said that "by far the most important" was a direct exchange then going on between the United States and North Vietnam through Moscow.

Bundy said the administration operation was extremely secret and it was unthinkable to inform Ashmore and Baggs about it.

Guard Sets Riot Exercise

JACKSON (AP) — National Guard troops from the Jackson area will conduct a "reconnaissance in force" exercise in the city next Sunday as part of Pentagon-ordered riot control training.

* * *

A Guard spokesman said the exercise would not simulate riot conditions, however, and no contact with the general public will take place.

Plans to hold riot control training in Lansing recently triggered opposition from the Lansing Human Relations Commission. The National Guard eventually abandoned plans to hold the exercise in Lansing and transferred it to Ft. Custer near Battle Creek.

The Jackson Human Relations Commission also adopted a resolution opposing any kind of "mock riot" training.

In Sunday's exercise, troops will be transported to 15 roadblock locations around the city and to public buildings which they might be assigned to protect.

* * *

Purpose of the exercise, a spokesman said, would be to familiarize guardsmen with locations where they would be sent during a civil disorder.

A FULL HOUSE — With an audience completely filling its new house at the Lincoln Center in New York, the Metropolitan Opera Company opened its 83rd season last night. Verdi's "La Traviata" was presented with Montserrat Caballe starring. Conductor Fausto Cleva is in center foreground. The opening was earlier than usual to accommodate a longer-than-usual season.

New Star Highlights First Night at Met

By MARY CAMPBELL

NEW YORK (AP) — The news at the opening of the Metropolitan Opera Monday night was soprano Montserrat Caballe. Miss Caballe, singing Violetta in Verdi's "La Traviata," has the figure of the robust divas of past generations but her voice is a glory now and would be in any generation.

Miss Caballe, from Barcelona, Spain, sang at the Met once, in "Faust," two seasons ago. Last season she sang only a few times. This Violetta, her first with the company, firmly establishes her for the first time at the Met as a star.

* * *

Often the news at Met openings is not on the stage. Last season, it was the opening of the new opera house in Lincoln Center. Many seasons it has been the society people in the audience.

But this season, 83rd in Met history, will also be its longest, 31 weeks, and the opening night took place so early that many habitual opera first-night boxholders were still on vacations. Not one Whitney, Vanderbilt or Morgan was seen in the audience and the only Rockefellers were Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller III. He is chairman of the board of Lincoln Center.

23rd SEASON

Tenor Richard Tucker, starting his 23rd season with the Met and singing on his sixth opening night, sang Alfredo, opposite Miss Caballe. Tucker's voice is still clear and distinctive. The years have only added a desirable authority and weight to his tones.

Cornell MacNeil was nearly perfect as the elder Germont. His voice is large and warm and for this part of the stern father, he makes it sound mature, self-righteous and self-condident, never evil.

* * *

Fausto Cleva conducted at deliberate, perhaps a shade too deliberate, speed, always maintaining consistency and a sense of cohesiveness.

Miss Caballe negotiates the coloratura in Act One apparently effortlessly. Her voice is not the silver of Joan Sutherland's, who sings Violetta even more effortlessly, but many colors of the rainbow. Therefore, she sounds different when she is being romantic, vivacious, self-sacrificing and dramatic. Her most successful mood on opening night was that of tenderness, especially the first and fourth act love arias. It was the latter at which she received her greatest applause.

Miss Caballe also can hit high notes with a clear, beautiful pianissimo, a remarkable accomplishment.

The production, by Alfred Lunt, with sets and costumes by Cecil Beaton, was new last season.

48 Convicts Run Amok at Saginaw Jail

SAGINAW (AP) — About 48 prisoners at the Saginaw County Jail went on a rampage Monday tearing out plumbing, smashing windows, burning mattresses and ripping up tables.

Sheriff Robert Loubert said 10 city policemen, 10 Saginaw Township officers, six State Troopers aided county deputies in quelling the trouble.

* * *

Loubert said the uprising started right after lunch with a protest of poor food. He belittled the charge, saying that 60 other prisoners took no part and said they had no complaints.

The trouble started, he said, in one unit housing 28 men and spread to another cellblock housing about 20 men.

Nixon Tops Gov. Romney for GOP in N.J. Survey

TRENTON, N. J. (UPI) — Eleven per cent of New Jersey's voters favor Michigan Gov. George Romney as the nation's next president, according to a survey conducted by a professional pollster for the Republican State Central Committee.

* * *

Romney was topped by former Vice President Richard Nixon, but President Johnson outpolled all six Republican and Democratic presidential choices in the survey.

Johnson was selected by 26 per cent of the 600 voters interviewed in the state's 21 counties. His nearest rival was Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., the only other Democrat in the survey, who drew 19 per cent of the vote.

Nixon drew 17 per cent; Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, 11 per cent; Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, 7 per cent, and Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., 4 per cent.

The remaining 5 per cent either favored some not on the list or had no favorite.

The poll, taken by E. John Bucci of Public Opinion Surveys, Swarthmore, Pa., also indicated that 52 per cent of the New Jersey voters are Democrats, 30 per cent Republicans and 18 per cent independents.

181 Security Arrests Reported in Egypt

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt has made 181 security arrests since the beginning of the Arab-Israeli war in June, a semiofficial Cairo newspaper said today in reply to a U.S. press report that 70,000 Egyptians had been arrested in crushing a plot to overthrow President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Al Ahram, the newspaper that generally reflects Nasser's thinking, issued the arrest figure.

* * *

The New York Daily News reported Friday in a copyright story from Beirut by Fred Sparks that agents arrested more than 70,000 men, shot hundreds and were jailing about 1,000 people a day. The News story also said Egyptian army engineers were building desert prison compounds hundreds of miles from the nearest oasis.

"I'm a stock broker. One reason listed stocks generally are so popular is their profit record."

"Less than 1% of U.S. corporations, they make 70% of the profits."

Just how many stocks are listed on the New York Stock Exchange?

"Something over 1,200 common stocks. That represents less than 1% of the corporations in the country."

And those few make about 70% of the profits?

"That's right. Generally, they're the big companies, the leaders. You use their products and services practically every hour of the day."

Is a company's profit the main consideration when the Exchange lists it?

"That's important, of course. At the time of its original listing, a company has to demonstrate that it has been able to earn at least $1,200,000 a year after taxes, normally for three years."

For just three years?

"That's just a guideline. Every company is considered on its own merits. The Exchange wants to be satisfied that the company has a good position in its industry and prospects for maintaining that position."

FREE INVESTMENT GUIDE ON LISTED STOCKS—SEND COUPON TODAY.

To an investor, isn't a company's profit the whole story?

"No. Another big factor is that there is usually more information available about listed stocks, because the Exchange expects prompt disclosure of important facts. Smart investors see another advantage in the fact that about 12,000,000 people own listed stocks. That means you can usually find a buyer or seller when you need one quickly and easily, and at a price close to the last sale on the floor."

When a company gets listed, does it automatically stay listed?

"There's nothing automatic about it. There are criteria for listing, and criteria for de-listing, too."

Does all this mean listed stocks are right for any investor?

"Not necessarily. The best advice is to discuss your situation with a member firm broker—the amount you can invest after regular expenses and emergencies; and your goal of growth, dividends, or the safety of principal that bonds might offer. Ask the broker for facts and his own opinion, then exercise your judgment. Whatever you buy, securities or anything else, carries a certain risk. But I think every investor should remember the advantages that listed stocks can offer."

Missiles, Electronics Busy

Active Market Holding Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market held a gain in active trading early this afternoon but the margin of gains over losses was narrowing.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.74 at 940.48.

* * *

Some of the missile and electronic issues were active and higher in further response to the Government's approval of the Nike-X antimissile program.

A shift was apparent, however, from some of the recent high flyers into blue chips.

A degree of consolidation of the recent advance was in progress, analysts said.

The top steel makers edged higher following the fourth straight weekly rise in steel production. The rise in housing starts also was encouraging.

Auto stocks were very narrowly mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 343.1 with industrials up 1.4, rails up .4 and utilities off .3.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Royal American Industries was very active as it edged higher. Syntex rebounded a couple of points. Duro-test sank nearly 2 as profits were taken on its recent upsurge. Supermarkets General, Electronic Assistance, Allied Paper and Microwave Associates advanced a point or more. United Asbestos and Rusco Industries were active fractional gainers.

Teacher Strike Still On in NY

Some Issues Soften; Talks Resume Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators for both sides in the week-old strike by New York City teachers against the 1.1 million-pupil public school system recessed today without agreement, dimming earlier optimism for a possible break.

"It is 3 a.m.," said Mayor John V. Lindsay as the talks at Gracie Mansion broke off. "No agreement having been reached, I have recessed the talks until 3 p.m. today."

* * *

Albert Shanker, president of the striking AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, later told newsmen, "The board of education and the city must come up with more money."

SOME HEADWAY

"A lot of issues were discussed pro and con but nearly all the issues involved mean more money," he said. "We made some headway. Some of the previously hard issues are a little softer now."

Earlier the 1,100-member Assistant Principals Association, which has urged its members to conduct classes during the strike, reversed itself and called on the board to close all schools by Wednesday.

* * *

Betty Ostroff, president of the association, said the change in policy resulted from what she termed "a horrible week, where conditions in the schools were not safe and not right. It has been a charade this past week."

MAY STAY AWAY

She said the association would urge its members to stay away from the city's 900 schools if the board did not comply with the request.

Shanker, commenting on the move after the talks broke up, said it "will help speed up negotiations."

Talks at the mayor's residence had been going on since 6 p.m.

Problem: Packing

Cargo Containerized

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

CUNNIFF

NEW YORK — Shippers the world over are now developing the concept of containerization, which is the skill of loading a standard-size container to the same capacity as a vacationer loads his suitcase.

By combining scores of small shipments into one big container measured to fit the dimensions of planes, railroads, ships and trucks, cargo handlers believe they can change this staid old industry.

* * *

The containers, most of them metal, range in length from less than 10 feet to about 40 feet.

Already shippers claim they are saving millions of dollars for themselves and customers. Old ports are adapting their dock-side facilities. And the new jumbo jets soon to be in the air are being built with containers in mind.

OBVIOUS SAVINGS

The concept provides obvious savings. One 2,000-pound container, for example, costs far less to handle than ten 200-pound packers with the same destination.

Other possible advantages are numerous: less pilferage, less paper work, lower insurance rates, easier customs clearance, speed and the ability to use the containers on rail ship, plane or truck.

This interchanging of the container among different modes of transportation provides a customer with door-to-door movement of his good without repacking or rehandling. The container remains sealed.

A metal container that begins its trip on a domestic railroad as a piggyback car may cross the Atlantic in the hold of a ship and then be attached to a tractor-trailer and hauled through Europe by road.

The speed with which this concept is catching on was discussed this month at the Trans- 10 nations gathered.

One of these, James Crowley of Moore-McCormack Lines, told the audience that U.S. flag shipowners already had invested $160 million in container ships and equipment and by mid-1969 will have spent $900 million.

* * *

No matter how successful, however, the new industry is suffering many growing pains. And like almost any youth, the problems must be solved early or be a nuisance for life.

Some customers, for instance, have been disturbed to find their goods severely damaged, even though the container might never have been opened at any time during shipment. In other words, shippers still must develop skill in packing.

PACKING PROBLEMS

If a container is not packed tightly, goods within will inevitably smash about. In other instances, poor weight distribution within the container has caused it to buckle and even rip when lifted.

Shippers also are learning that packing for different transportation modes presents special problems. Cargo packed for an ocean voyage, for instance, must withstand much rolling and pitching.

* * *

Those involved in air shipping are facing a serious problem of weight. In order to take full advantage of the jumbo jets all aircraft manufacturers now are trying to cut container weight while still keeping strength.

Regardless of the problems, and even regardless of the industry's inability to correct them, most companies now in the business foresee a tremendous expansion ahead of them.

Goldwater Reveals Tricks of Political Infighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential hopefuls have available a manual on political infighting by Republican Barry Goldwater but if any of his novel tactics are adopted, it's not likely Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's transportation crew will be the victims.

Goldwater, discussing his losing bid for the White House in 1964, told how his lieutenants silenced the opposition at the GOP convention in San Francisco where he won the nomination on the first ballot and of a Keystone Kops caper involving Humphrey's plane crew.

* * *

"I will not reveal the names of people responsible, but we had every cable of every television company and every radio company marked up in the loft of the Cow Palace" in San Francisco, Goldwater said. "If anybody got a little too obnoxious," he said, "they could always have cable trouble. "And you might recall Sen. Hugh Scott got up once with the bullhorn and it didn't work. The batteries weren't in it." Scott was backing fellow Pennsylvanian, Gov. William W. Scranton, for the nomination.

"These are the things that you do," Goldwater said in a National Educational Television network interview Monday night.

'PERFECTLY FAIR'

"It is perfectly fair in love and war.

"We had all kinds of things planned. We even had a plan once to try to keep Hubert Humphrey's crew of his plane locked up in their rooms so they couldn't get out and fly someplace."

The interviewer asked what happened. "They got out the window," Goldwater reported.

Whoever wins the GOP nomination next year, assuming President Johnson runs again, will be facing what Goldwater calls "probably the cutest, smartest, throat-cuttingest political operator I have ever run into."

But Oregon Democratic party officials said Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller could beat Johnson, at least in Oregon, as things stand now.

STRONG CANDIDATE

They also maintain GOP Gov. Ronald Reagan of California also would be a strong candidate but that Rockefeller is the only Republican who could actually win.

Reagan ruled out today setting up any Reagan-for-President campaign organization before the GOP convention, reiterating he isn't a candidate. However, he said he will set up an organization in California to handle the June presidential primary campaign for the favorite-son delegation he intends to lead to the convention.

Rockefeller, continuing his efforts to halt any speculation about his candidacy, turned down Reagan's invitation to visit California for a conference of governors on state medical care programs. He said such a meeting might have "presidential implications."

Gov. George Romney of Michigan, another top GOP presidential prospect, plans to attend part of Reagan's session.

Auto Output Most for Week Since July

DETROIT (AP) — Even with strike-bound Ford Motor Co. at a standstill, U.S. automakers turned in their best car production figures since July this week, the trade publication Automotive News said Monday.

The industry assembled 133,217 cars last week compared with 116,874 in the holiday-shortened previous week and 153,622 in the same week a year ago. The jump over the Labor Day week ended Sept. 9 was 14 per cent.

* * *

Meanwhile, Ford dropped 13 per cent in both passenger car and truck production. Ford made 13,942 cars during the Labor Day week and dealers have a month's supply of 1968 models —86,965 new cars.

General Motors, with 93,546 car assemblies, led the field with 70 per cent of the total output planned to put 12 of its plants on six-day work weeks this week, Ward's said.

OUTPUT BOOSTED

Chrysler Corp. turned out 32,750 new cars and American Motors, with new interest being shown in its Javelin and Rambler American models, said it would operate its Kenosha, Wis. plant this Saturday. AMC turned out 6,810 cars this week, up from the 4,618 during Labor Day week.

Ward's said the industry was to build its five-millionth passenger car of calendar 1967 Monday — but it said passenger production to date is 14.2 per cent behind that of a year ago with the chasm continuing to widen as the Ford strike continues.

4 Eye Problems of Farm Labor

LANSING (AP) — Four house members were in West Michigan Monday for a two-day study of farm labor problems. They stopped in Oceana, Manistee and Mason counties.

* * *

The four were Reps. Philip Pittenger, R-Lansing; James Bradley; D-Detroit; Dennis Cathorne, R-Manistee; and Raymond Kehres, D-Monroe.

Deputy's Father Killed in Crash

ALLEGAN (AP)—William F. Miller, 78, of Allegan was killed Monday when his car and a tank truck collided on M89 a mile east of Allegan. The truck driver, Frank Rothermil of Spring Lake, escaped injury.

Miller was the father of Allegan County sheriff's deputy William Miller who dispatched other deputies to the accident scene, not aware his father was the victim.

3 Engineers Promoted at Pontiac Div.

Three organizational changes within Pontiac Motor Division's engineering department were announced today by Stephen P. Malone, chief engineer.

They are:

- Clifford L. Barkell, who for the past three years has been Pontiac's resident manager at the General Motors Proving Ground, becomes assistant superintendent of engineering shops.

* * *

- Walter E. Greene, who for the past year has been supervisor of laboratory and test engineering, succeeds Barkell.
- Richard T. Hartzell, who for the past year has been a senior experimental project engineer, succeeds Green.

All appointments are effective immediately.

Barkell joined Pontiac in 1948 as a laboratory technician and he also served as a dynamometer operator before being assigned to engineering research in 1953.

In 1956 he was named an experimental project engineer before becoming foreman and later general foreman of the model sheet metal shop. HXE ACCE sheet metal shop. He accepted his Proving Ground assignment in 1964.

* * *

Barkell, who attended Highland Park Junior College, lives with his wife and five children at 3919 Baybrook, Waterford Township.

JOINED DIVISION

Greene, 3240 Angelus, Waterford Township, joined the division in 1961 as a project engineer. He was named supervisor of laboratory and test engineering in 1966.

A 1957 graduate of Duke University, he is married and has two children.

Hartzell came to Pontiac in 1955 as a college student trainee while attending Purdue University. He was graduated from Purdue in 1957 and after receiving his master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1959 and serving in the U.S. Air Force, he returned to Pontiac in 1962 as an experimental engineer.

* * *

The following year he became a designer and in 1965 he was named experimental project engineer and in 1966 he became senior project engineer.

Hartzell is married, has two sons and lives at 2557 Warwick, Bloomfield Township.

Close-Up of a Hippie: Life Is Pain, Loneliness

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — She wears her hair long and her skirts short and her eyes are wise, sad, glazed but still innocent.

She is a seeker after simplicity but her life is an endless complication. Her creed is to hurt no one but she constantly hurts herself. Life, she says, is pain; and suicide she accepts as an option for later, but not now. There is too much life yet to be tasted; too many experiments yet to be tried; too much pain to sift for meaning.

Her name, not her real name, is Ursala.

Girls who resemble her are returning to campuses all across the nation this month. They are part of a growing army of the alienated.

Ursala spent her summer in Canada. She thought it would be cool to spend time observing the profusion of symbols of the mechanized, computerized society she can't abide.

Boredom set in and sent her to Mexico.

She could have gone to London or Athens or Paris. That will come later.

* * *

Her life is a conscious pursuit of the individual self but her style falls into a shared pattern of pot, promiscuity and petty crime. She is stamped a hippie and judged. Dropping out of one society, she drops into another.

In her freshman year in college, she had started out to be a psychiatrist. She began sleeping with a graduate student. He moved on. She began sleeping around. She still considers herseld innocent but adds with a touch of sadness, "I find myself constantly redefining what I mean by innocence."

The daughter of professional people, Ursala's intelligence quotient is in the 150s. She was a leading student in her high school class. She was active in school clubs. She liked science. She liked drama.

But in college something happened. "I became aware. I became open. I began to search for myself," she said.

Ursala's parents were of little help to her even before college. Her home life was painful. Her mother had lovers. Her father had mistresses. Eventually, they had a divorce. Ursala doesn't blame them. She doesn't pity herself. She says she accepts, she understands, she forgives. Her anger is reserved for less personal things—the war in Vietnam, racial hatred.

God or the traditional idea of God is irrelevant to her. The solace to be plucked from a cold and barren universe is love and love alone. "I want to write. I want to write a long novel about love," she said as a freshman. She is now a junior and she has collected her material. But the energy for the long novel isn't there. So she writes poetry, love poetry, but talks with contempt of her lovers.

* * *

"Do you know George? God, he is such a hypochondriac. He gets a little ache and he's dying."

At a party, she danced in bare feet and wore flowers in her hair. The windows were open, but the smell of pot was there.

Ursala danced and danced, and her loneliness was utter.

ORDINANCE NO. 94A

Ordinance Fixing and Regulating Use of Sewers in Pontiac Township, the Cost and the Manner of Collecting Same

An ORDINANCE fixing and regulating the use of sewers by private individuals in the Township of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan, and prescribing the manner of construction and of connections, and providing for the licensing of Sewer Builders in said Township, and providing for the punishment of violations of this Ordinance.

THE PONTIAC TOWNSHIP BOARD ORDAINS AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. The sanitary sewer system of the Township of Pontiac consists of main and lateral conduits built of glazed vitrified pipe, concrete pipe, brick, glazed vitrified segmental block or iron pipe, with the necessary accessories. They are designed to carry off all liquid house waste, and are known herein as sanitary sewers. The sewers in the streets passing in front of the various lots are called main or lateral sewers; the sewers leading from the main or lateral sewers to the property on either side are called house drain connections.

SECTION 2. All connections of house sewers, drain or plumbing work with the sewer system of the Township of Pontiac shall be made in accordance with the provisions of this Resolution and Housing Code of Michigan, being Act. No. 167 of the Public Acts of 1917, and as amended, and all other State Laws pertaining to same.

SECTION 3. No person, firm or corporation shall lay, alter or repair any house drain or sewer work, or make any connections whatever with any sewer or house or building belonging to the sanitary sewer system or do any kind of work connected with the laying of house drains or house sewer or making any repairs, additions to or alterations of any drain or sewer connected with or designed to be connected with the sanitary sewer system, until a permit has been obtained from the Township of Pontiac as provided herein. Any person doing such work without such permit shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to a fine, as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 4. Any person desiring to make any connection between any sanitary sewer system under the jurisdiction of said Township and other premises owned by private individuals shall first file with the Township Clerk an application for a tap-in permit stating thereon the name or names of the principles of such firm, the firm name, the type of business entity, and place of business. Each application for a permit shall be accompanied by the permit fee of Fifteen ($15.00) Dollars. In addition thereto each applicant shall deliver to said Township Clerk a surety bond executed by a corporate surety company licensed to do business in the State of Michigan in the amount of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars conditioned upon the fact that said applicant will promptly and properly replace and restore any sidewalk, pavement, or street surface over any opening he may have made to as good a state and condition as found previous to the time of the opening of same and further the conditioned upon the fact that all work done in conjunction with said sewer connection shall be done in a proper and good workman-like manner, and further conditioned upon the fact that said openings and connection work on said sewer shall be kept and maintained in a good workman-like manner and in good order for a period of one (1) year after the completion of same. In addition to the foregoing each applicant shall submit a certificate of insurance from an insurance company licensed to do business in the State of Michigan showing that the applicant has in full force and effect a public liability insurance policy in the minimum amount of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars for each person the Three Hundred Thousand ($300,000.00) Dollars for each incident and Twenty Thousand ($20,000.00) Dollars for property damage; said certificate of insurance shall further disclose that said insurance policy shall be in effect for the entire period of time that the work is in progress on said sanitary sewer system. Upon compliance with all the foregoing requirements the Superintendent of the Township Water & Sewer Department shall issue said permit allowing the connection to be made to the Township's Sewer System.

SECTION 5. No connection with any sewer of the sanitary system within the Township of Pontiac and no extension of any house drain or from a connection previously made shall be made by any person, firm or corporation until a permit for doing the same shall have been obtained from the Township Clerk. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to make a house drain connection or any other kind of connection with the sewer system of Pontiac Township shall first make an application to the Township Clerk for a permit to make such connection on a form prepared by the Township Board and in a manner prescribed by said board and shall pay to the Township Treasurer such fees — and charges as are required by the Township Board before such permit herein provided for, or in any manner not herein prescribed for such connection shall subject the person, firm or corporation making the same, and the owner or owners of the premises for which such connection is made, to a penalty hereinafter prescribed.

SECTION 6. Application for permit to connect with the sewer system must be made in writing by the owner of the property to be drained, or his authorized agent. Such application shall give the exact locations of the property, number of lot, number of feet front, number of buildings to be connected, and number of sinks, water closets and other fixtures to be connected, and the name of the licensed sewer builder employed to do the work, and shall be made on blanks furnished for the express condition that the owner for whose benefit the connection is made, shall in behalf of himself, his heirs, or assigns hold the Township of Pontiac harmless for any loss or damage that may in any way result or be occasioned by the making of such connection. Provided, further, such permit shall be filed in the office of the Township Clerk within five days after the completion of the work and shall be accompanied by a correct return, signed by the licensed sewer builder and the Township of Pontiac Sewer Inspector showing the number of feet of pipe laid and fixtures drained, together with such other information as may be required to make a complete record of the work on forms prescribed by the Township Board.

SECTION 7. Y branches or stubs shall be placed at frequent intervals, one or more for every lot. A record of the location of such Y branches or stubs shall be kept at the office of the Township Clerk and shall be furnished to the licensed builder but at the risk of licensed sewer builder as to the accuracy of the same. All connections with the sewer of the sanitary system must be made at such Y branch or stubs or in the event that it is necessary to make such connections with the sewer at a point where a Y or stub has not been provided, the connections shall be made by inserting a Y or stub in the main sewer or lateral but no such connection shall be made except with the approval of the Township Sewer Inspector in the presence of the Township Engineer.

SECTION 8. At least twenty-four (24) hours notice in writing must be given at the office of the Township Clerk before any street or public way can be opened for the purpose of laying a house drain. No work of laying house drains can be commenced or continued unless permit is on the sewer builder or one employed by him.

SECTION 9. The Township Sewer Inspector shall be given written notice when any work is ready for inspection and all work must be left uncovered and convenient for examination until inspected and approved. Such inspection shall be made within twenty-four (24) hours after such notification. The licensed sewer builder shall remove and replace all rejected work and shall make all work fully meet the requirements of this resolution, and all work shall be done to the full satisfaction of the Township Sewer Inspector.

SECTION 10. No person, firm or corporation shall injure, break or remove any portion of any manhole, lamphole, flush tank or any part of the sewer system, or throw or deposit or cause to be thrown or deposited in any sewer system, or throw or cause to be thrown or deposited in any sewer opening or receptacle connecting with the sewer system, any garbage, offal, dead animals, vegetable or thing whatsoever except faeces, urine, the necessary water closet paper, liquid house or mill slops, and cellar water as elsewhere provided for.

SECTION 11. Cellars and cistern overflow shall not be connected with any sewer or house drain without the special permission of the Township Engineer and permit issued by the Township Clerk and then only when they can be trapped in such a manner that the water seal cannot be broken.

SECTION 12. No roof water, surface water, or storm water of any sort shall be connected with the sanitary sewer system of the Township.

SECTION 13. No open gutter, street drain, cesspool, privy vault, or catch basin shall be connected with any sewer or house drain. Any licensed sewer builder or any person making any such connection shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to the penalty hereinafter provided.

SECTION 14. No exhaust from steam engines can be connected with any sewer, or any house drain, or private sewer that is connected with any sewer or the sanitary system, and no blow-off from steam boilers, can be connected.

SECTION 15. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to lay pipes for water, gas, steam, or any other purpose, upon any streets or alleys upon which sewers are laid, shall give at least twenty-four (24) hours written notice to the Oakland County Road Commission before opening the street, and the manner of laying and back filling over such pipes shall be subject to the approval of the Oakland County Road Commission. All such work shall be planned and executed so that no injury shall occur to any public sewer or to any house drain connected therewith.

SECTION 16. In case a water or gas pipe, conduit, or other obstructions shall come in the way of a drain or sewer, the question of passing under or over the same must be determined by the Township Engineer. In no case shall the licensed sewer builder be allowed to decide the question. All expense connected with passing by, under, or over such pipes, conduits or obstructions shall be borne by the owner of the property for whose benefit the connection is being made.

SECTION 17. No house drain, surface drain, or main sewer or gas pipes shall be laid in the same trench with water pipes and in no case closer together than three (3) feet.

SECTION 18. Whenever it is determined to construct a sewer or drain on any street or right-of-way, all willow or poplar trees or other trees forming hair-like roots, within a distance of seventy-five (75) feet from the main sewer or any house connections, shall be cut down and the life of the stump destroyed to prevent further growth of the roots, and thereafter shall no trees of the above mentioned varieties be planted within the prescribed limits.

SECTION 19. No pipe drain can be laid above the bottom of a wooden drain, whether in actual use or not, unless the pipe is made to rest on a substantial foundation of puddled clay brick, or stone, and in no case will it be allowed to let drain pipes rest on any perishable foundation. Whenever it is necessary to disturb a wooden drain in actual use, it must in no case be obstructed without the special permission of the Township Engineers.

SECTION 20. The Township Sewer Inspector shall have the power to stop and prevent from discharging into the sewer system any private sewer or drain through which substances are discharged which are liable to injure the sewers or obstruct the flow of the sewage.

SECTION 21. Before any old private drain or any house drain built before going into effect of resolution shall be connected with the sewer systems, the owner of the private drain or house drain shall prove to the full satisfaction of the Township Engineer that it is entirely clean and that it conforms in every respect with the rules and regulations prescribed by this resolution.

SECTION 22. In opening any street or alley all materials for paving and ballasting must be removed with the least possible injury or loss of same, and together with the excavated material from the trench, must be placed where it will cause the least inconvenience to the public. As little as possible of the trench must be dug until the Y branch in the sewer is found. Whenever the sides of the trench will not stand, perpendicular sheeting and branches must be used to prevent caving in of banks. In no case will tunneling be permitted, except upon written permission of the Township Engineer.

SECTION 23. All openings and obstructions in any street, lane, or alley must be guarded at all times with sufficient barriers and during the night shall be indicated by red lights and such other precautions as shall be necessary to guard the public against accidents, and at all times the work shall be so done as to cause the least inconvenience to property owners and the general public.

SECTION 24. The house drains, from a point three (3) feet outside of the house to curb line, shall be of A-1 standard socket salt glazed vitrified earthenware pipe, unless laid less than three feet in depth, when it shall be of cast or wrought iron. Its interior diameter shall be four inches. Outside the curb line the interior diameter shall be six inches. The connection between four and six inch pipe shall be of the best quality of hard burned vitrified shale pipe, with sockets and of a make and quality to be approved by the Township Engineer.

SECTION 25. The cover of the Y branch or stub on the sewer shall be carefully removed so as not to injure the socket. The first length of pipe attached to the Y branch or stub on the sewer shall be carefully removed so as not to injure the socket. The first length of pipe attached to the Y branch shall be curved so as to give a good fall into the sewer. The entire line of pipe on any house branch shall be laid as nearly as possible in a straight line and on a uniform grade from a point three (3) feet outside the wall of the house to the Y branch or stub. (Such grade shall have a fall of not less than one foot in thirty from the house to the sewer unless by special permission of the Township Engineer, in which case provision must be made for regular and efficient flushing.)

Curved pipe shall be used for every deflection from a straight line of more than three inches in two feet.

Unless otherwise specified in writing by the Township Engineer, the manner of laying the pipe and making the joints shall be as follows:

1. The joints of vitrified-pipe sewers shall be made with a joint compound approved by the Township Engineer, which will be furnished by the contractor.

2. The method of preparing, caulking and pouring shall be subject to the approval of the Township Engineer.

3. Care must be taken to remove all sand and debris from the bell. The joints shall be carefully centered and caulked with a gasket of dry oakum or jute, using proper caulking tools, leaving for the joint compound a depth of one and one half (1½) inches.

4. After the joints are properly caulked, a suitable runner shall be placed and the heated compound poured from one side so that it shall run around the pipe and fill the space, making a complete joint.

5. Runners shall not be removed until the compound has thoroughly set.

6. Alternate joints may be run on the bank of the trench by standing one length of pipe with bell end up, inserting spigot of second pipe caulking and pouring as herein specified.

7. The compound shall be heated in a suitable retainer until it reaches the fluidity of water, stirring continuously to prevent carbonizing.

8. No pouring shall be done until the entire mass in the heating kettle shall have attained the proper consistency, and the contents of the kettle shall be kept heated to the point of pouring to prevent chilling.

9. A pouring vessel large enough to completely make one joint at a single pouring shall be used.

10. Before pouring any joint the bottom of the trench under the bell shall be hollowed out so that the barrel of the pipe rests evenly and firmly on a substantial bed in true grade and alignment.

11. Sewers and drains shall be subject to the official tests prescribed by the Township Engineer.

12. All inlets and outlets of septic tanks shall be bulkheaded.

SECTION 26. All back filling over that part of any house drain within the boundaries of any street, alley or public grounds, must be either thoroughly puddled or tamped in layers not exceeding four inches in thickness, and the question which shall be done shall be determined by the Township Engineer. The replacing of any gravel or paving shall be done within forty-eight hours after the laying of the house drain or sewer and must be done so as to make the surface at least as good as it was before being disturbed and to the full satisfaction of the Oakland County Road Commission and the licensed sewer builder will be held responsible for any subsequent settlement in the ground or pavement. All water pipes must be protected to the satisfaction of the Township Engineer and all gas pipes must be protected to the satisfaction of the company owning the same, and any subsequent damage to either water or gas pipes, by reason of the construction of the house drain, or subsequent settling of the earth shall be made good by the licensed sewer builder.

SECTION 27. House drains and sewer laid within Township limits in and for houses on streets where no public sewers are yet laid, shall be done according to the regulation of this resolution in every particular, and the owner or agent of the property must secure a permit to connect the same with the public sewer as soon as the same is built past the property from which said drain is laid.

SECTION 28. No connection with any sewer of the sanitary sewer system shall be made excepting as herein provided for. Any person who shall make, or permit, or cause to be made, a connection with such sewer in a manner contrary to the provisions of this resolution, shall, upon conviction in the justice courts, be fined any sum not less than ten ($10.00) Dollars and not more than one hundred ($100.00) dollars in the discretion of the court, and any person who shall fail to remove any private drain connected with the sanitary sewers of the Township of Pontiac, which is constructed contrary to the provisions of this resolution, within ten (10) days after being notified by the Township Engineer, that the same is unlawfully made, shall be subject to a penalty of five ($5.00) dollars for each day that such forbidden connection shall continue.

SECTION 29. Any licensed sewer builder or any other person guilty of any violation of the provisions of this resolution shall, upon conviction thereof in the Justice Court be fined any sum not less than ten ($10.00) dollars and not exceeding one hundred ($100.00) dollars at the discretion of the court, and may be confined in the Oakland County Jail for a period not exceeding ninety (90) days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

SECTION 30. In case of controversy as to price, the Township Board shall act as arbitrator and may proceed to do the work and charge the actual cost of the same to the property owner.

SECTION 31. This Ordinance shall take effect ten (10) days after the passage thereof by the Pontiac Township Board, and supercedes Ordinance No. 94.

This Ordinance enacted by the Township Board of Pontiac Township, Oakland County, Michigan, September 11th, 1967.

Remember, You Need More Than One Kind Of Fire Insurance And This One Is Sure Fire!

It's probably not the kind of fire insurance you're thinking of. It's even better. For instance; when you have an H. H. Smith heating oil contract

1. You are insured against ever running out of oil with our automatic, "KEEP FULL" Service.
2. You are insured against short measure because all of our deliveries are accurately metered to the last drop.
3. You are insured against high heating bills because your payments can be spread out over a 12 month period instead of just six or seven months.
4. You're insured against paying any fuel oil bills while the family's no. 1 breadwinner is laid up due to illness or accident.

How's that for sure-fire fire insurance?
We can promise you, "IT'S GREAT"!

'Evaluate,' Reagan Tells News Execs

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan today urged the nation's newspapers to remain vigilant in protecting the people's right to know about conduct of public business.

But in a speech prepared for the eighth annual Conference of United Press International Editors and Publishers, attended by John W. Fitzgerald, editor of The Pontiac Press, the California governor sounded a note of caution.

"I would hope there would be a continuing evaluation not only of news gathering and news gatherers but also of the place of interpretive reporting in news writing and the value, if any, of the political gossip columnist and rumor monger," he said.

Reagan, who plans a three-day speaking tour late this month to Illinois, South Carolina and Wisconsin, noted he had become the subject of increasing presidential speculation recently.

Although he plans to run as a favorite son presidential candidate in California, the Republican governor repeatedly has denied that he is or expects to be a candidate for president.

He flatly denied two recent stories — one that reported he met with Gov. Paul Johnson of Mississippi to discuss making a bid for Southern delegates to next year's GOP National Convention and another that his top aide quit in a dispute over whether Reagan should increase national speechmaking activities.

"I've never met Governor Johnson," he said, "but what is even more significant, I have a wire in which Governor Johnson says he never met me."

Turning to the duties of newspapers in reporting public affairs, Reagan said he shared with newsmen a common task as "custodians of the public trust."

He said newspapers had a responsibility to keep the public informed when their officials fail to meet their responsibilities.

"I think by and large down through the years, you have done just that," he said. "But someplace along the line there has been a loosening. Agencies of government at every level are seeking to perform their services more and more with less and less attention to the right of the people to know."

* * *

Officers said Mestin was placed under arrest when he appeared at police headquarters shortly after George Major, 51, of 499 Highland had been shot in his home about 7 p.m.

Major is reported in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital. He had been listed in serious condition prior to undergoing surgery Sunday night for wounds of the thighs and chest.

Hay-Filled Silo Tips and Tumbles to $10,000 Ruin

PROMISE CITY, Iowa (AP)—Bob Lockridge's leaning tower of silage has toppled.

"I've got bricks and hay all over," says Lockridge, who watched his brand-new, seven-story silo tip more and more each day since Sept. 12.

The silo, one of the largest in the area, contained 800 tons of hay when it finally tumbled into a $10,000 ruin.

"The contractor told me even before it fell that he would build me another one," Lockridge said. The old one lasted four months.

Disagreements With Kids Causes No Worry for Actor

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "My children often disagree with me—thank God!" Peter Ustinov said.

The brilliant actor-director-writer brought a note of cheer to parents who have been staring into their cocktails worrying about their kids being disobedient.

WILSON

"I've no objection at all to them being disobedient," Ustinov said. "Parents should remember that besides being parents, they're also the bone on which the puppy can shape its teeth.

Ustinov, father of four, including a daughter of 22, says his offspring not only disagree with him but with each other, and he finds that healthy, too. What do his children disagree with him about?

"Pretty near anything. But I'd rather they disagreed with me than agreed with me on everything. Filial piety—I don't believe in that."

Ustinov in a lighter vein said he could even picture himself as a type of father who could become angry at a child for obeying and slap the child for not being disobedient.

Ustinov has great scorn for LSD. "I only take a pill when I'm feverish," he said.

Hearing Set Today on Sliding-Scale Tuition

LANSING (AP)—A number of top Michigan State University officials, including President John Hannah, were invited to testify today at a legislative hearing on Oakland University's and MSU's controversial sliding-scale tuition plan.

★ ★ ★

An eight-member House subcommittee scheduled the hearing and invited Hannah, University Secretary Jack Breslin and members of the MSU Board of Trustees.

★ ★ ★

Majority Democrats on the MSU board, by a 5-3 party line vote, approved the so called ability-to-pay tuition plan earlier this year when faced with the need to boost tuition charges at OU and MSU.

★ ★ ★

Under the plan, the schools' per-student annual tuition for Michigan residents would range from $354 to $501, depending on the income of the student's parents.

★ ★ ★

If his family earned $11,800 a year or less, a student would pay the minimum $354. If its income was $16,700 or more, he would pay the $501. Nonresident students would pay a flat $1,200 each.

★ ★ ★

Last year's tuition rates at MSU were $354 for residents and $1,020 for nonresidents.

Detroit Engineer Receives Traffic Honor

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Alger F. Malo, Detroit, was presented Monday with the Theodore M. Matson Memorial Award for outstanding contributions to the advancement of traffic engineering.

Malo, director of the Detroit Department of Streets and Traffic, was honored at the 37th meeting of the institute of traffic engineers at St. Louis.

The award is named for the former director of the Yale Bureau of Highway Traffic. An ITE spokesman said the award is the outstanding honor in the traffic engineering profession.

Pit Mishap Fatal

HASTINGS (AP)—William H. Newman, 38, of rural Hastings, was killed Monday in a gravel pit accident on the south side of Jordan Lake. Newman was inside a gravel hopper when a piece of the heavy machinery moved, crushing him.

U.S. Bombing Is a National Nightmare for People of N. Viet

EDITOR'S NOTE — How effective is the U.S. policy of bombing North Vietnam? That question, the source of intense controversy in this country, is discussed today in the second in a five-part series of first-hand reports assessing the war.

---

By BOB CONSIDINE

SAIGON—The angry dialogue over the bombing of North Vietnam usually lacks a telling ingredient: The extent of the damage done to date.

CONSIDINE

At the cost of some 700 planes and a considerably smaller number of pilots we have changed Ho Chi Minh's dream of a cheap take-over in South Vietnam into a national nightmare for his people.

Though still bound by certain restrictions imposed by President Johnson and his advisers, Air Force and Navy planes have wiped out 85 per cent of North Vietnam's thermal power generating resources, 30 per cent of its railroad system, 50 per cent of its railroad repair capability, 3,500 trucks, 4,000 boats, and half of its force of Russian-built MIGs. (Most of Ho's remaining MIGs are believed to be operating from Red Chinese fields, on the rare occasions that they operate at all).

The bombings have brought about what amounts to a national mobilization of the civilian population. More than 500,000 have been diverted into a pick-and-shovel repair work. Some 175,000 are involved in air defense, 100,000 in keeping communication lines open and 20,000 in coastal defense.

U.S. fighter pilots have become so adept at evading surface-to-air missiles, supplied by Russia, that the kill rate for this impressive 32-foot-long hypersonic weapon has fallen to one in 70 fired.

* * *

Indeed, intelligence reports filtering back to Saigon tell of bad blood between Soviet technicians and their North Vietnam counterparts at SAM sites.

WANTON MISUSE

The Russians are pictured as enraged by the wanton misuse of the costly weapons system by their comparatively naive allies.

The inexorable result of 13,000 sorties a month over the North, most of them directed against the needs and comforts of the enemy, is chaos and privation.

There is rationing now of rice, fish and meat. Large areas must depend on crude oil-lamps instead of electric light. Every movement by day is fraught with hardship and danger.

* * *

But the most galling part of all must be the fact that, for all this sacrifce, North Vietnam can show nothing except increasing misery.

NOT REWARDED

The privations have not been rewarded with successes on the battlefields in South Vietnam. The enemy grows stronger each day. The cheers over the downing of an American jet are soon throttled by the appearance of two more to take its place.

Despite our absolute control of the air space over North and South Vietnam there is little chance that we can ever completely shut off the flow of men and goods from North to South.

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara has estimated that enemy forces inside South Vietnam need hardly 100 tons of war material a day from the North. Their current level of combat being what it is, 100 tons would not be an impossible store to smuggle down the countless trails that constitute the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

* * *

As for manpower, Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters now put at about 6,000 a month the number of armed and trained infiltrators. It is a figure that is not much smaller than the number that flowed into South Vietnam before the first bomb was dropped above the demilitarized zone in February 1965.

Critics of the U.S. bombing policy have used this fact to "prove" their contention that bombing has no chance of shortening the war or bringing Ho to the negotiating table.

Actually, the impact of the bombing can be seen on just about every North Vietnamese soldier who makes it all the way to his assigned post in South Vietnam.

On the average, he is a younger, poorer-trained and less dedicated soldier than those who came, and often perished, in 1965 and 1966.

* * *

He has been much more affected by the agonies of the long trip to this war front, a trip made against hazardous and morale-shaking odds: hostile nature, all the diseases that infect jungle and swamp, and the strafing, bombing and napalming by U.S. planes.

He is deserting much more readily than the older comrades who preceded him.

If he stays loyal to Ho Chi Minh he may find himself called upon to go places and do things never demanded of his predecessors.

The early waves of North Vietnamese fought mainly in the north of South Vietnam. They fought as they had trained, together, united, completely familiar with their accustomed military tactics, precepts, communications and philosophy.

Now the Nguyen-come-lately from Hanoi might well find himself shipped farther and farther south in South Vietnam to plug gaps in Vietcong units in the central highlands and in South Vietnam east, just to the north of Saigon. The VC desertion rate has been particularly high in those areas.

The reason given at Gen William Westmoreland's headquarters is that the big enemy buildup of 1965 in the lower Mekong Delta area, still overwhelmingly VC-controlled, was drained of much of its manpower.

These recruits, mostly boys and young men, were sent from their swampy homeland to live and fight in the jungles to the north. They rebelled in serious numbers.

Their recruiters, tough-willed guerrillas, were forced to stop milking the region for fear of losing the support of the people in general, whose sons had sent word back about the horrors of jungle life.

Hence, gaping holes in VC ranks above Saigon. Hence, the need of filling them with North Vietnamese, most of them much the worse from wear from U.S. aerial harassment on their weeks-long trip down from the North.

There are many intelligence reports dealing with disputes between the VC and their allies from the North. The VC considers them martinets and, worse, "foreigners."

It does not seem likely that we will ever accede to hawkish demands that we should "drop the big bomb and get it over with."

As for destroying the port of Haiphong, which could be done without much trouble with conventional bombs, Secretary McNamara recently told the U.S. Senate's Preparedness subcommittee that such a massive move would (1) violate the nation's policy of waging limited war and (2) North Vietnam could still get most of the military gear it needs by way of land and river routes.

McNamara revealed that American planes had already destroyed most of Haiphong's petroleum off-loading capability. Now the resoruceful North Vietnamese float the stuff in by barge from tankers anchored at sea and have more than enough to keep their battered machinery of war running.

As with the ground forces, the rule of the Air Force is simply to keep the pressure on, draw the noose a bit tighter each day. The eventual outcome is inevitable victory.

Detroit Schools Opened as Teachers Win Raise

DETROIT (AP) — School doors swung open today for 300,000 students in Detroit, ending a prolonged summer vacation of almost 13 weeks.

Teachers returned to their jobs Monday after winning an across-the-board raise over two years of $1,700 through a 13-day strike.

In addition to the salary increase, $850 this year and $850 the next, the teachers won reduction of the school year from 40 weeks to 39 and limitation of class size to 39 pupils.

Ratification yesterday of the proposed contract, hammered out during early morning sessions, lowered to 13 the number of Michigan school districts where agreement on master contracts for teachers has not been reached.

* * *

In five of the unsettled school districts, teachers have been ordered back to work by court injunctions. In one of them, Crestwood District in Dearborn Heights, most of the 211 teachers have resigned.

In the remaining eight of the 13 districts, some 75,000 students are still out of school.

Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken Monday asked the school boards in Bloomfield Hills, Oak Park, Dearborn and Menominee to get back-to-work orders from the courts.

Milliken, acting as governor during the absence of Gov. George Romney said injunctions are being sought in Bridgeport, Highland Park, Hamtramck and North Dearborn Heights.

Detroit teachers ratified their new contract by a vote of 3,316 to 376 after union leaders told them "that is the best we can do."

$1,700 OVER 2 YEARS

The teachers demanded $1,700 immediately when negotiations opened. They had to settle for having it spread over a two-year contract.

Under the old pay scale a beginner with a B.A. started at $5,800. A teacher with a Ph. D. and 12 years service could earn as much as $11,000.

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE — Three of the principals in yesterday's regional traffic safety conference at Oakland University, (from left) Lt. Gov. William Milliken, chairman of the event, Bruce Madsen and Secretary of State James M. Hare, discuss the conference program. Milliken and Hare delivered the main speeches to the gathering, which included many Oakland County traffic officials.

Hare, Milliken Urge Traffic Safety Action

By MEL NEWMAN

"Action" was the key word at the Governor's Regional Traffic Safety Conference at Oakland University yesterday as both Lt. Gov. William Milliken and Secretary of State James M. Hare called for specific measures to cut down Michigan's vehicle accident rate.

Milliken and Hare delivered the main addresses before the gathering of area traffic officials in the university's Oakland Center.

Both acknowledged that the state's fatality rate has decreased significantly thus far in 1967, but neither was ready to submit that Michigan's vehicle safety goals have been reached.

Milliken pointed out that although 228 fewer lives have been lost on Michigan highways in 1967 — a decrease of 16 per cent — injury accidents have decreased by only 3 per cent.

* * *

Accident costs, he said, will pass the $400 million mark for the second straight year at this rate.

3 KEY PROGRAMS

"There are three key measures for any action program in traffic safety, he said. "There are implied consent, a uniform statewide driver licensing law and a periodic inspection law."

Milliken praised implied consent, already in effect, as a big step toward solving Michigan's drinking driver problem.

He said a uniform driver licensing law would make sure all motorists have an adequate knowledge of state traffic regulations and that compulsory periodic vehicle inspection would assure that cars on state thoroughfares would be more roadworthy.

Hare asked for action primarily aimed at drivers, rather than vehicles.

He asked: (1) that his department be given the authority to revoke the driving licenses of "accident-prone" drivers and (2) — that Gov. Romney include in his call for the state's fall legislative session consideration of the "Illinois traffic citation system," making a traffic offender liable to loss of his license if he failed to answer a summons.

* * *

Hare said his "hands are now tied on the matter of accident-proneness or involvement" and said his department "should be permitted to investigate persons who have been involved in one or more accidents" involving danger to a person or property.

He said the Illinois system would make it mandatory that "incorrigibles" who drive with revoked licenses be imprisoned.

Hurricane Perils Coast of Texas

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Hurricane Beulah, already a killer, swung toward Brownsville at the mouth of the Rio Grande and the lower Texas coast today with ominous fury.

Unless the massive storm again changed course, Beulah threatened a devastating strike through the citrus groves of Texas' lower Rio Grande Valley, laden with a mutimillion-dollar crop, and up the coast past Corpus Christi, a busy port, tourist center and site of a big naval air station.

At 6 a.m. EDT the Weather Bureau issued emergency hurricane warnings for the Gulf Coast from Brownsville to Port Aransas, a short distance beyond Corpus Christi, and gale warnings for the sector from Port Aransas to Galveston, more than 300 miles northeast of Brownsville.

Late last night, the 11-day-old hurricane, responsible for at least 22 deaths in a vicious sweep through the eastern Caribbean and across Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula, slowed its advance toward the west northwest and turned erratic. ratic.

Once more describing Beulah as a severe and dangerous hurricane, the Weather Bureau urged immediate precautions for the alerted areas.

Independence Nixes Police

Independence Township voters yesterday turned down a 1-mill tax increase which would have provided them with a police department. The proposal was defeated by a margin of more than 3-2.

About 10 per cent of the registered voters rejected the formation of such a force, 342 to 212.

The millage would have been spread over a period of 10 years.

The township last January elected to turn down a $13,000 annual bill which provided two Oakland County Sheriff's Department patrol cars in the area.

It is still serviced, however, by the Sheriff's Department and by the Pontiac post of the State Police.

Thundershowers Possible Tonight

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts mostly cloudy tonight with a chance of showers and thundershowers with not much change in temperature.

The low is expected to register near 54 to 58 tonight. The mercury will climb into the 80s again tomorrow.

* * *

Winds variable, mostly southeasterly will continue at five to 15 miles per hour.

The low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 60. By 1 p.m. the temperature had climbed to 79.

County Okays Study of OEO

By JIM LONG

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved a $4,000 allocation for a study that could decide the future of the county's antipoverty program.

Supervisors, by a 60-17 vote, ordered the study so they can measure the effectiveness of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) program before allocating any county funds for its operation.

The board approved the study on the recommendation of its ways and means committee which stated that an evaluation of the OEO program is essential before the county made any financial commitments.

The county has been asked by the OEO to provide $25,000 to assure adequate local funding which is required under the federal program.

* * *

In the past the county's participation in the program has been restricted to free office space for the OEO, equipment and some services.

In answer to opponents of the study and additional aid, Supervisor Carl F. Ingraham, the chairman of the county OEO program, told the board that without the study it was not in a position to evaluate the program based on newspaper headlines.

"We want to know if we're doing the job and if we can do it better," explained Ingraham, "but we have no funds in our budget for an impartial study."

The study, which will take about two months to complete, will be undertaken by a panel to be appointed by Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the board of auditors, and James McNeely, executive director of the OEO in Oakland County.

White Lake Township Supervisor James Reid said he would be opposed to funding the program until he is shown some results.

* * *

"There an (OEO) substation set up in our township hall two days a week, and there are two other people out beating the bushes, but I know of no one who is being helped," said Reid.

FATAL CRASH — Police and tow truck drivers work to free the body of an unidentified man from the wreckage of his car after a collision with a gravel truck in Pontiac Township this morning. The crash, which nearly tore the car in half, occurred about 9:20 a.m. on Opdyke at Perry. Authorities are withohlding identification of the victim until notification of next of kin.

Voters Picking Tax Basis

Pontiac voters go to the polls today to express their preference for either a city income tax or a four-mill hike in the present property tax levy. The polls are open until 8 p.m.

* * *

City officials anticipate that about 20 per cent of nearly 30,000 registered voters will turn out.

Voter preference will point the way city commissioners will go in attempting to meet financial problems.

* * *

If the city income tax is favored the commission intends to enact an ordinance which would make the tax effective beginning Jan. 1.

The income tax — one per cent for residents, one-half of one per cent for nonresidents — would be accompanied by a three-mill cut in the property tax levy.

If voters, however, show a preference for a property tax increase of four mills ($4 per $1,000 of assessed valuation) another election is necessary.

The commission has scheduled a special election for Oct. 17 in this event.

* * *

To hike the property levy it is necessary to change the charter which now limits the amount that can be levied for the operating budget to 10 mills.

VOTER APPROVAL

Voter approval is necessary for any charter amendment.

* * *

Not known at this time is how much opposition there will be to any new tax.

* * *

It's likely that those who oppose new city taxes will not bother to vote in the advisory election.

Mrs. Alfred Wilson, Founder of OU, Dies at 83 in Europe

Mrs. Alfred (Matilda) Wilson, benefactress of Oakland University, died today in Brussels, Belgium, at the age of 83.

* * *

Mrs. Wilson, and her late husband, Alfred G., founded Oakland University in 1957 when they gave their 1,400-acre Meadow Brook Farm estate to Michigan State University for the creation of a new university.

Value of the land gift plus a 2-million endowment was estimated at $10 million.

Oakland University has grown from an initial enrollment of 570 to today's 3,800 with 30,000 students expected by the mid-1980s.

* * *

The university is hailed by many as having the possibilities of becoming one of the greatest in the United States.

ACTIVE IN ORGANIZATIONS

MSU President Dr. John Hannah called it "the most generous benefaction ever received by Michigan State."

Mrs. Wilson, reportedly one of the country's wealthiest women, was known as a somewhat shy, unpretentious woman who was active in many civic organizations until her death.

Once an interim lieutenant governor in Michigan during 1940, Mrs. Wilson was a familiar figure on the Oakland Univeristy campus.

Each U.S. Region to Get ICBM Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's plan to build a $5-billion Nike X antiballistic missile system will provide each region of the United States with at least one battery of far-reaching warhead interceptors.

Defense scientists made this clear today in guarded interviews about Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's so-called "light" defense against nuclear attack, primarily directed to guard against a potential threat from Red China.

The decision to proceed with deployment of an antimissile system was announced by McNamara Monday in a speech to news editors at San Francisco.

Although the plan he announced is one of the biggest strategic decisions in U.S. history, it is not the often-discussed full-blown antimissile system which would have an estimated cost of up to $40 billion. McNamara opposes such an outlay.

CLOSELY HELD SECRET

The exact locations of the antimissile batteries, each with several missiles, remain a closely held secret. But one Pentagon official familiar with the plans said the main line of defense will center on several antimissile complexes stationed just below the Canadian border.

Other antimissile sites will be interspersed along the western and eastern seaboards, in the Midwest and in the Southwest and Deep South. Each site will be protected by a battery of Sprint missiles.

Government sources also indicated Canada has given the United States permission to establish one of the vital missile-detection radar sites on Canadian territory near the Great Lakes.

Nike X is a technological marvel of the 1960s which, according to Pentagon scientists, is far more advanced than the only other missile defense in existence, the Soviet ABM.

PRIME PURPOSE

Its prime purpose: to defend against what McNamara termed a possible irrational nuclear missile attack by Red China in the 1970s.

* * *

"It would be insane and suicidal for her to do so, but one can conceive of conditions under which China might miscalculate," McNamara said. In addition to providing regionwide defense, some Nike X missiles will be deployed to protect American offensive missile batteries against Soviet attack.

U.N. Bedeviled by Middle East

General Assembly Is in Regular Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The General Assembly opens its regular session today preoccupied with Middle East problems that few delegates thought they could quickly solve. For the first time, a Communist seemed assured of election as assembly president.

The Arab-Israeli conflict, underscored by a new brief Suez Canal fire-fight Monday, took a "high priority" place on the agenda. But tough advance position statements from both sides foreshadowed more forensics than movements towards peace.

* * *

The man expected to guide debate on the question is Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu of Romania. Reflecting his government's independent foreign policy, the 51-year-old Communist has received wide support as a presidential candidate.

WITHDRAWAL DEMANDED

Even before the 22nd regular session got under way Soviet and Arab voices demanded Israel's immediate withdrawal from territories captured during the six-day June war. The Israeli reply was that without its recognition by Arab states and direct negotiations there could be no solution to the problem.

The Israelis also spiked in advance as "pro-Arab" a peace plan that London informants said British Foreign Secretary George Brown brought with him to the new session.

* * *

Brown's plan called for a pullback of Israeli forces from the Suez Canal 25 or 30 miles to a fortified line on the Sinai peninsula as a move to prime an eventual settlement, the informants said.

ISRAEL CALLS IT RETREAT

But Israel considers the proposal equal to retreat without any compensating Arab gesture and believes it would only weaken their own bargaining position.

Bond Vote Set Nov. 7 for Parking Structure

BIRMINGHAM — City voters will be asked in a special election Nov. 7 to approve the sale of general obligation bonds for the construction of a new municipal parking structure.

The election was scheduled by the City Commission last night.

The amount of the bond issue will not be known until architects submit final cost estimates to the commission.

The Birmingham architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach, Inc., was authorized a week ago to begin preparing plans for the structure to be built on the present surface parking lot bounded by Merrill, Pierce and Brown.

* * *

Commissioners directed the firm to return with two proposals, one designed for 555 cars, the other with a 701-car capacity, so they can make a final determination once they know the exact status of the city's financing ability.

Hopefully, commissioners intend to retire the bond issue entirely through parking revenue and an assessment against benefitted property owners in the business district.

Projections of anticipated parking income and expenses indicate that the bond issue can be paid off without the use of tax money.

The general obligation bonds, however, pledge the full faith and credit of the city in the event parking revenue is unable to cover payments.

* * *

Preliminary estimates place the cost of the proposed structure at 1.3 million or $1,558,000, depending on which plan is finally chosen by commissioners.

HEARING ADJOURNED

A hearing of necessity on the Chester-Wallace and Lincoln relief sewers was adjourned by the commission until Oct. 16.

Property owners affected by the proposed improvement requested the postponement to give them time to discuss the merits of the sewer construction.

The Birmingham Board of Education meeting tonight will be held in the Seaholm High School Gym instead of at the Baldwin School.

Romney Flies Urban Pennant

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney, who has an eye on the Republican pennant, arrived here Monday night as the St. Louis Cardinals won the National League pennant.

He heard a lot of horn tooting over the Cardinals' victory.

* * *

Romney, undeclared candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, drove from the airport accompanied by a couple of aides.

He visited a police precinct in a Negro neighborhood and talked about ways of easing racial troubles and preventing violence with a veteran Negro Police Capt. T.E. Brooks.

DETROIT RIOTING

Brooks told Romney he could barely believe the rioting broke out as it did in Detroit.

"I just didn't believe in all this world it would break out in Detroit...You had good communications," Brooks said.

* * *

Romney is on tour of urban areas to learn about programs that might ease the racial troubles in big cities like Detroit.

Brooks advised Romney that communications is the main answer.

Last-Minute Appeal Set for Road Funds

Refused operating funds from the county, the chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission said today that he will make a last-minute appeal to the board of supervisors when the 1968 budget is considered for adoption Oct. 2.

The board rejected the request of Frazer Staman yesterday on the recommendation of its ways and means committee.

The road commission is seeking eight-tenths of one mill from the county's 5.40 allocation, or more than $2 million for construction and maintenance of county roads.

The commission says its revenue from the state is not adequate for continued highway improvements.

* * *

Despite the committee's statement that no funds are available, Staman said it is likely that the board may reconsider the appeal after reviewing the 1968 budget.

OPERATING BUDGET

Staman admitted that it would be impossible to remove any portion of the general operating budget without completely revising it, but added that the commission now is eying at least a portion of the estimated $1.2 million the county is to receive from the new state income tax.

The anticipated revenue is not included in the operating budget, but is only earmarked at this time toward the construction of a new jail to be built at the county service center.

The board, in other business, approved the nomination of three persons for membership on new Metropolitan Transit Authority created by the Legislature this year.

* * *

Those nominated are David F. Breck, Birmingham attorney and city commissioner; Eugene W. Kuthy of Royal Oak; and Durward B. Varner, chancellor of Oakland University.

SUBMITTED FOR APPOINTMENT

Their names will be submitted to Gov. George Romney for his consideration for appointment.

The nominees were selected by a special committee of the board of supervisors.

OU Founder Dies in Europe

College officials say she took an interest in meeting every student, and every year the highlight of college activities was a student-thrown birthday party for her.

A classroom building — Matilda R. Wilson Hall — was named after her at OU, and a dormitory named after her and her late husband at MSU.

* * *

The university's first lady was widowed twice. Her first husband was John F. Dodge, one of the two brothers, who started the Dodge Automobile Co.

Mr. Wilson, a wealthy industrialist, died in 1962.

Red Scientist Taken Home

LONDON (AP) — Pale, gaunt and looking like a sleepwalker, Soviet scientist Vladimir Tkachenko, 25, was bundled aboard a Moscow-bound airliner today after his wife accused British officials of inhuman tactics in blocking his departure Saturday.

* * *

She contended the British action left her husband in "a very bad state." The British said they acted out of fear the physicist had been drugged and was being taken back to Russia against his will. They later released him.

Tkachenko was half-lifted, half-carried up the steps of the plane by two Soviet Embassy officials. Another pushed him from behind.

HEARTFELT LESSON — Nurses at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital learn coronary-pulmonary resuscitation from representatives of the Michigan Heart Association (MHA) in preparation for the hospital's opening of a coronary care unit next month. The method involves putting pressure on the heart. Standing around the table are Dr. Allan Silvergleit (sport coat) of St. Joseph, Dr. Eugene Plous (next to him) and Matthew Maxon of the MHA along with two training nurses. A dog is being used in the demonstration.

St. Joseph Nurses Learn Heart-Revival Method

Some 50 nurses at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital learned a method of getting oxygen to the lungs and blood circulating in the heart yesterday in preparation for next month's opening of the hospital's coronary care unit.

* * *

Representatives of the Michigan Heart Association demonstrated to the nurses coronary-pulmonary resuscitation, a 7-year-old method of reviving the heart of a heart attack victim.

It involves putting pressure on the heart and pumping an air bag before a doctor arrives. The method is used when the heart is not open for surgery.

When the doctor arrives, he gives the patient's heart shock treatments to further revive it.

* * *

Matthew Maxon of the Heart Association said the method is widely used to keep patients alive before a doctor arrives.

"You don't have to open the chest and expose it to foreign materials to keep the patient alive," he said.

Board Tables the Bee Issue Indefinitely

Waterford Township's proposed bee ordinance, which would restrict the owning, raising and keeping of bees to agricultural areas, was tabled indefinitely last night by the Township Board.

* * *

The tabling motion of Trustee E. Frank Richardson is subject to the cooperation of the Michigan Beekeepers' Association and locally involved persons in working toward a solution to the problem.

The proposed ordinance was prepared after some residents living in the neighborhood of a North Winding beekeeping operation lodged complaints at a previous Township Board meeting.

They contended the bees presented a nuisance to their children.

* * *

Thomas Stachler, owner of Stachler's Travel Trailer Sales, 3771 M59, however, was the first to complain.

DROPPINGS DEPOSITED

He said that the bees inflict damage to his trailers by depositing droppings on them and that they sting his customers.

However, results of a survey presented to the board last night indicated that far more residents of the neighborhood are unopposed to the beekeeping operation.

A petition, bearing the signatures of about 45 residents unopposed to the operation, was given to the board.

* * *

Dr. E. A. Martin, an entomology expert from Michigan State University, said his concern was that the ordinance did not establish precedent by being overly drastic.

DEPENDENT ON BEES

He said that at least $100 million worth of crops are dependent on bees, but admitted that bees can sometimes be a nuisance.

* * *

Joe Howard, a state bee inspector from Detroit, said he is convinced bees do not constitute a hazard.

* * *

Big Business Role in Society Cited by Exec

Chrysler Corp. President Virgil E. Boyd today told the Birmingham - Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce at a breakfast meeting that there is growing public recognition of the importance and effectiveness of private enterprise in bringing about social change in the public interest.

* * *

"In Detroit, for example," said the auto executive, "the business community has assumed a leading role in healing the physical and psychological wounds suffered here."

Boyd cited several top liberal political leaders including Sen. Robert Kennedy and Daniel P. Moynihan, director of the M.I.T.-Harvard Center for Urban Studies, as agreeing with his position that the profit motive can be harnessed to achieve social objectives more efficiently than can public agencies.

"I think there is a need for greater reliance upon private enterprise in solving social problems, thereby removing the uncertainties of tax increases," he said.

* * *

Financial incentives to businessmen, including tax deductions, accelerated depreciation and subsidized interest rates, are among the measures being proposed to encourage the opening of job-creating businesses in the slums and the construction or rehabilitation of low-rent housing, Boyd noted.

General: Don't Halt Bombing

SAIGON (AP)—Lt. Gen. William W. Momyer, commander of the U.S. Air Force in Vietnam, said today that stopping the bombing over North Vietnam would give the enemy a tremendous advantage.

* * *

The U.S. Air Force should "keep up what we are doing there," he said.

Momyer declined to comment on proposals by President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu that a bombing pause be proposed as a peace overture to North Vietnam.

* * *

But he declared at a news conference: "If the bombing was stopped tomorrow you would have an entirely different war from the one you have today."

Nationalists' Viet Embassy Is Blown Up

SAIGON (AP) — Communist terrorists blew up the Nationalist Chinese Embassy in Saigon's busy downtown section today and Red agents gunned down two prominent Chinese elsewhere in the capital.

South Vietnamese police said the blast that brought down the two-story embassy and an exchange of gunfire with terrorists killed one person and wounded 27. Fears spread of a new Red terror campaign in Saigon.

* * *

On other fronts U.S. planes raided inside North Vietnam's port of Haiphong for the second straight day Monday and Communist gunners rained a torrent of shells on U.S .Marine outposts below the demilitarized zone.

Throughout South Vietnam ground action was scattered.

FEMALE TERRORIST

A female terrorist pumped two shots into the chest of Col. Charles T. Chung, chief intelligence officer of the Nationalist Chinese Embassy, shortly after the embassy bombing. Later police arrested 20-year-old Phung Ngoc Anh, a Chinese girl. They found her with a 45-caliber pistol.

Chung was in critical condition.

Monday night several terrorists went to the home of a prominent Chinese professor in Cholon, Saigon's Chinese quarter, called him outside and shot him to death. They escaped.

Carrier-based Navy planes blasted Haiphong's main bridges and rail yard and hit at least four sites for Soviet-built missiles around the city.

County OKs Study of OEO Programs

Among those voicing their support of the study were Orion Township Supervisor John Lessiter and Victor Wood, one of Pontiac's representatives on the board.

"A few minutes ago this board approved $40,000 for a garbage survey," said Lessiter. "I don't see why they can't afford $4,000 for people."

One critic who argued against the study by noting that the county didn't have sufficient funds for highway improvements was told by Wood, "History won't remember us for our roads, but how we dealt with our social ills."

OBJECTED TO FUNDING

Royal Oak Supervisor Harry Horton objected to the financial assistance "because these programs start out very timidly and grow very fast."

* * *

"Eighteen years ago we were faced with the Child Gudiance program," said Horton. "All they wanted then was small quarters. A few years later when they couldn't raise public funds, they came to us for a few thousand dollars. Now their budget is $180,000.

Income Forecast

A college graduate starting to work today can expect to earn an average of $444,000 during his career, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

Drug Penetrates Glove

Cancer Research Peril

By Science Service

WASHINGTON—Scientists using DMSO as a way to get disease-causing chemicals into laboratory animals are in danger of absorbing the substances themselves. Even the rubber gloves they wear won't protect them.

* * *

A team of British scientists warn, in a letter in the British journal, Nature, that DMSO not only penetrates skin, carrying deadly chemicals with it, it will penetrate the gloves as well.

* * *

It is DMSO's capacity to get through skin that makes it increasingly popular as an experimental tool. Test compounds in DMSO solution are simply painted on animal's backs. They pass through the skin and are quickly distributed throughout the body.

* * *

DMSO, widely acclaimed three years ago as a potential cure to a variety of ills from headache to arthritis, was pulled out of circulation in 1965 by the Food and Drug Administration when it learned the solvent causes eye damage in some animal species.

* * *

Since then, FDA has lifted its ban somewhat, now permitting its use in animal experiments and in treatment of patients with scleroderma, an incurable skin disease.

Junior Editors Quiz on NEWSPAPERS

QUESTION: How do newspapers get the news?

* * *

ANSWER: News interests everybody, because it tells us about what is going on in our world. The word "new" is the key—the newspaper specializes in the up-to-date, bringing recent events sharply into focus for the reader's benefit.

To do this, a newspaper must be a marvel of organization, for the news must be on the newsstands only a short time after having been edited in the newspaper city room.

As our picture suggests, news gathering begins with the reporter (upper left). A fire breaks out. A reporter from a local paper, who is on his daily job of checking police and fire departments, gets all the information he can and phones it at once to the city editor of his newspaper.

The editor may send other reporters and photographers to the scene. A story will appear in the next edition, with more details following later.

World news usually comes in from some large news-gathering association such as the Associated Press. Teletype machines in the local papers constantly relay news from all over the world in this way.

Fearful Farmer Still Aloft

MANILA (AP) — A 48-year-old Filipino farmer climbed a 60-foot coconut tree seven weeks ago, claiming somebody was out to kill him. He is still up there.

Quirino Berja, a father of 10, is sheltered by a plastic sheet and palm fronds and lives on food provided by friends and hauled up by rope.

* * *

Relatives have climbed the tree to try to persuade Berja to come down and newsmen tried too Sunday, but Berja shouted:

"I don't know you . . . I'm not coming down . . . They'll kill me."

Neighbors near Binalonan, 100 miles north of Manila, said Berja's fears stem from the death of his 29-year-old son under mysterious circumstances. Two men were arrested in connection with the case but later were freed on bail.

Monks, Women Said Used by Laos Reds

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Refugees from a Communist controlled province say the Pathet Lao guerrillas are ordering Buddhist monks to military duty and drafting women to fight in the front lines, reliable sources report.

If the reports are true, it would be a major shift in Pathet Lao policy. Communist-leaning Prince Souphanouvong always has made it a point to be lenient with monks, and previously there had been few verified reports of Pathet Lao women rifle carriers.

The sources said refugees from Xieng Khouang Province in north-central Laos told them women, as well as men, aged 15 to 40, are liable to be drafted for combat duty.

Two 14-year-old girls were quoted as saying they fled when told they would become front line rifle carriers rather than rice and ammunition bearers, as they had been told when recruited. They also said they had seen one entire company of women soldiers.

IN VIET COMBAT

A royal Laotian army officer said, however, the girls might have seen North Vietnamese or Vietcong women troops, long used in Vietnam combat, moving down the Ho Chi Minh trail through Laos.

Reports from the refugees said that not only do the unwarlike monks face the draft, but they also have been banned from their ancient customs of early morning rice begging and saying morning prayers.

One monk was quoted as saying he left Red-held territory because he feared conscription, and punishment for draft dodging was "very severe." He said he expected a major recruitment drive would reach its peak by late September.

Idle School Reflects Millage Vote

Troy School District voters have spoken. Or, possibly it would be more accurate to say they have underscored a verdict they already handed down to school officials earlier this summer.

Voters in the Troy district don't want to pay more school taxes.

They don't want a new junior high school staffed for their children. They'd rather see it stand empty and unused.

They don't want 22 additional teachers this year. They don't want the school district to pay wage hikes already in effect.

They don't want art programs for elementary and junior high school students. They don't want the same kids to have any music courses.

* * *

They don't want elementary and junior high sports programs.

These are some of the things a proposed one-year, 7-mill tax hike would have produced. The tax hike was defeated in June by a 2½-1 margin. The same proposal was again defeated last week by a 2-1 margin.

* * *

School officials have indicated they will try again for the needed millage in a third election later this year.

Following last week's defeat, educators announced flatly that the city's new $1-million Smith Junior High School will not open this fall as scheduled. Operational funds for the new school hinged on passage of the tax proposal.

* * *

True, the upsurge of taxes on the state and national level is hurting local tax proposals. If this is the case it is a shame because residents of Troy and other municipalities will never receive so much in return for state and national tax outlays as they will from local tax billings.

The time has come to swallow hard and pay the bill. The thought of a new, modern educational facility standing idle and empty makes it hard to swallow at all.

Nonetheless, could it be that the new Troy school stands idle as mute evidence of taxpayers' disaffection with local tax demands (over which their voice is decisive) and an implied warning to educational establishments to live within sound, realistic budgets without periodic recourse to emergency tax measures to meet deficits in capital and operating funds?

'Constitution Week' a Time for Re-Evaluation

This is Constitution Week. Proclaimed annually by the President of the United States, the theme of this year's observance is most appropriately to "Protect Your Liberty Under Law — Know Your U.S. Constitution."

It is a timely admonition. With the Nation torn by dissident, militant groups, society threatened by the shocking spread of lawlessness and an un-American philosophy of "Dog Eat Dog" insinuating itself into the national consciousness, no thoughtful person would deny that the moment is at hand for an earnest soul searching on our individual way of life.

* * *

The immortal documents we know as the Declaration of Independence and the U.S. Constitution with its idealistic Bill of Rights give to mankind the basic tools for the orderly possession and enjoyment of liberty, property and security, and "the pursuit of happiness."

These inalienable American rights were signed into law on September 17, 1787, and the Constitution then born stands as the wisest and most humane document ever written for the democratic self government of a people.

If today, cracks appear in the American social structure—a structure that scientifically and materially is an example for all the world—the fault lies not with the written tenets of the Founding Fathers but with the prostitution of them by succeeding generations of the citizenry.

"Never before have justice, domestic tranquility and concern for the general welfare been of greater significance," declares the chairman of the State's Constitution Week committee. We add a fervent "amen," and urge all Americans to give heed to his words not only during this commemorative week but throughout all the weeks and years to come.

Women Eye Breakthroughs in Air, on Land

At first blush, this sounded like the most impressive advance in the cause of female equality since PHIL SPITALNY's all-girl orchestra.

Aeroflot, Russia's state airline, has announced it is training its first all-female flight crew for regularly scheduled service. The crew will consist of pilot, copilot, navigator, flight mechanic and radio operator.

So equal is sexual equality in the Soviet Union that the pilot holds the title of "Hero of Socialist Labor."

Then came the report that a promoter in Cleveland, Ohio, is trying to organize an all-girl professional football team to play . . . all-male football teams.

He is sure that in this vast country there must be a lot of 6-foot, 200-pound, muscled Amazons who would be eager to take on a seasonal outdoor job mauling men. Half a dozen girls have, in fact, already applied.

This we think, is going a little too far. We have no objections to taking the aerobus and leaving the flying to a Hero of Socialist Labor, even if he's a heroine.

But pro football is a rough enough game as is without getting the deadlier of the species involved in it.

Devils Down Deacons in Grid Contest

Well, contestants, for once the script went haywire, and the good guys failed to take the bad guys.

If you have trouble relating this to the first game of The Press Annual Football Contest with its winner's award of a $500 U.S. Savings bond, there is light ahead.

You see, Duke's Blue Devils overcame the Deacons of Wake Forest in Saturday's scuffle, 31 to 13. If it bore heavily on the souls of the Deacons, the score was also a sharp reverse for a sizable number of entrants who had backed them — not to mention the sorrow suffered by the 48 who had predicted a tie.

So, what's ahead for next week? Well, game No. 2 pits the Bears of Baylor against the Orangemen of Syracuse.

With 1,729 contestants picking the latter against 698 for the former (24 foresee a tie) you wouldn't have to be an Orange fancier to get the idea that The Boys From Syracuse — remember the old musical? — are something of a favorite to pull the rug from under the bears.

An oddity of our yearly grid games is that a tie hasn't occurred in the contest schedule for three years. Needless to say, such an outcome cuts the field of survivors but fast, and sets at naught a lot of painstaking handicapping on the part of contestants. The last deadlock was the 1963 Michigan-Michigan State facas.

'Bye now. A week hence, we'll give you the bitter-sweet news on the upcoming tilt.

David Lawrence Says:

Peace Bid Fuss Is Exaggerated

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has plenty of problems, but he must have been surprised to read a big headline in a morning newspaper yesterday which said: Duplicity on Peace Bid is Charged to Johnson.

Harry Ashmore, formerly an Arkansas editor and now executive vice president of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, located in California, had written an article to that effect which was released to the press.

The story is that Ashmore and William C. Baggs, editor of the Miami, Fla., News, had gone to Hanoi last January to confer with Ho Chi Minh, head of the North Vietnam government, in an effort to transmit some kind of "peace feeler."

The two men, on their return to Washington, prepared a letter to the North Vietnamese chieftain after consulting with some State Department officials. It was authorized on Feb. 5 and reached a Hanoi diplomat in Cambodia on Feb. 15.

Ashmore charges that President Johnson's letter was actually sent on Feb. 2 and canceled out the informal effort of the two editors.

* * *

But it turns out now that the United States government did not tell Ashmore and Baggs that coincidentally there were some "peace feelers" being handled in Moscow with representatives of the North Vietnamese government.

'OFFICIAL' EFFORTS

These parleys were considered to be "official" and direct, whereas the Ashmore-Baggs communication was regarded as an incidental effort to advance the cause of peace. The officials did not deem it desirable to tell the two would-be peacemakers all that was going on behind the scenes.

So the whole affair looks like a tempest in a teapot, since it turns out that the United States government was not really saying through its Moscow contacts anything different from what was being conveyed through Ashmore.

The letter which President Johnson wrote to Ho was dated Feb. 8, according to the State Department. An examination of the Johnson letter reveals the big stumbling block — whether the United States would stop bombing before there was any pledge that the enemy would take reciprocal action.

* * *

In the February letter, for example, President Johnson said to the president of Communist North Vietnam:

"I am prepared to order a cessation of bombing against your country and the stopping of further augmentation of United States forces in South Vietnam as soon as I am assured that infiltration into South Vietnam by land and by sea has stopped.

"These acts of restraint on both sides would, I believe, make it possible for us to conduct serious and private discussions leading toward an early peace."

ASHMORE LETTER

In Ashmore's letter to Ho, which he says was prepared with the assistance of State Department officials, there are the following paragraphs:

"They (the State Department) expressed particular interest in your suggestion to us that private talks could begin provided the U.S. stopped bombing your country, and ceased introducing additional U.S. troops into Vietnam.

"They expressed the opinion that some reciprocal restraint to indicate that neither side intended to use the occasion of the talks for military advantage would provide tangible evidence of the good faith of all parties in the prospects for a negotiated settlement. . . .

* * *

"Speaking now wholly for ourselves, we believe the essential condition for productive talks is an arrangement under which neither side stands to gain military advantage during the period of negotiation."

So instead of "duplicity," it seems to be a matter of duplication. For the actual position of the American government as contained in the Ashmore letter is the same as in Mr. Johnson's communication to Ho.

Indeed, the incident serves only to prove that the United States has, directly and indirectly, made every effort to start peace negotiations with the North Vietnamese.

Marines in Viet Refuse to Give Night to Enemy

CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — A proposal by a group of young officers serving in Vietnam, to the effect that we should fight the enemy at night and sleep by day, led me to write that it would be as hard for us to switch as it would be for a rheumatic salmon to swim upstream.

Not necessarily so, writes Lt. Gen. Louis W. Walt, who commanded the nearly 70,000 Marines in Vietnam and now is the Corps' deputy chief of staff (manpower).

"I though I might mention to you some of the things our Marines out there in the I Corps are doing in regard to night operations," Gen. Walt writes from Washington.

"Our County Fair operation starts with a night operation.

* * *

"A hamlet is cordoned off by Marines and South Vietnamese forces under cover of darkness. Then at first light the hamlet dwellers are brought out to an area where they will be safe, and where they can be provided for; and our forces then search out the Vietcong in the hamlet.

REGULAR NIGHT ACTIONS

"Also, the Marines and Popular Force Combined Action Platoons, which currently provide security for about 75 villages in I Corps, regularly conduct night patrols and ambushes.

"In the year ending in June 1967, these Combined Action Platoons completed a total of nearly 25,000 patrol and ambush actions during hours of darkness. The figure for this past month amounted to 3,500 such night actions.

"From the outset of our operations in I corps, Marines have refused to give the nights to the enemy.

* * *

"In addition to the County Fair operations and the activities of the Combined Action Platoons, Marines in the III Marine Amphibious Force average approximately 500 patrols and 250 ambushes each night.

"This represents more than 50 per cent of the combat actions conducted by units of company and lesser size."

Urge Citizens to Work to Preserve Freedoms

The ruling of the U.S. Court of Appeals forbidding the child's verse of thanks gives a decided feeling that we are slipping behind the Iron Curtain. It is necessary to awake from our lethargy. We have freedom of worship because our forefathers had vision and courage to come to America to get it. We have independence because our fathers fought for it. Our country is great because of God's blessing on their efforts.

* * *

Are we willing to work to keep that freedom? Communism is sparing no effort to take it away. We do have a voice. ## Reader States Opinions on Teacher Strikes

School teachers have always tried to place themselves on a professional level with doctors and lawyers without making the educational investment to do so. If teachers want more money they should join the "rat race" of private industry. Don't worry about teacher shortages because there will always be people looking for the "easy buck." A former school teacher once told me "those who can, do, and those who can't, teach."

I think Mary Ellen Riordan, Walter Reuther and H. Rap Brown are close friends. If Stokely Carmichael is brought back to the U.S. he can join them in their fight to make trouble and disrupt the whole country. These troublemakers do such a good job that they make workers believe work stoppages and riots are for their own good.

If there are no laws to stop this trouble that is ruining our country, it is time to make new laws that can stop it. It is too bad we can't count on our part-time governor to help but we can't for he admits that he has been brainwashed. So was I when I voted for him.

REPLY

One manufacturer, Sea & Ski, tells us their product (as well as that of their major competitor) contain dihydroxyacetone. According to Mr. Mayo, president, this is a harmless ingredient which causes a reaction on the amino acid or protein in the skin layer. He says the reaction varies with individuals, but with most people the result is a tan-like effect which doesn't wash off but fades in a week or two unless more lotion is used.

House Whips: Big Legislative Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Whip Leslie C. Arends sat alongside the center aisle, counting his troops and making a mental note of the absentees.

On the Democratic side, Whip Hale Boggs stood at the rear of the chamber with two aides, making a list of Democrats present and voting.

* * *

The vote on an amendment to the foreign aid bill complete, Arends and Boggs disappeared into their respective cloakrooms to telephone absent members and urge them to come to the floor.

A similar scene takes place in the House during most major legislative battles. Arends and Boggs, as whips of their parties, have the jobs of getting enough members to the floor to uphold their parties' positions.

TURN OF CENTURY

There have been whips in Congress since the turn of the century, and the British Parliament has had them since 1770. The term stems from the "whipper in" who was the man in a fox hunt responsible for keeping the hounds from leaving the pack.

Arends, 71, silver-maned Illinoisan who is the senior GOP member of the House, has been his party's whip since 1943, longer than any man in history. An effort to replace him in 1965 failed and he is considered solidly entrenched now.

* * *

Boggs, 53, holds his position by appointment of the speaker and the majority leader, unlike Arends who is elected by the GOP membership. The youngest member of the House when first elected at 26, the Louisiana Democrat has held his post since 1962.

* * *

Each operates through deputy and assistant whips. Arends has three deputies—Reps. William H. Bates of Massachusetts, Jackson E. Betts of Ohio and Burt L. Talcott of California—while Boggs has a single deputy, John E. Moss of California. Under them are assistant whips, serving states or regions, 14 for the Republicans and 19 for the Democrats.

NO LOAFERS?

Arends picks his deputy and assistant whips. "They're loyal," he said in an interview. "I don't think I've got a loafer in the bunch."

The assistant Democratic whips are picked by the state or region they serve, and usually by the senior Democrat from the area. In some southern regions, it is difficult to get an assistant whip who favors the party position or who can do much to line up votes.

While Arends has to contend with up to 30 potentially balky members on most issues, Democrats have 70-80 Southerners plus some conservative border staters who frequently line up with the Republicans to oppose administration proposals.

Twice this year, on a measure to increase the national debt limit, Republicans were solidly opposed, so Democrats had to rely on Southerners to get the bill through. The first time they failed, but the second time they succeeded.

ALL-OUT EFFORT

Republican policy positions—which signal an all-out whip effort—are taken by the party's policy committee. Headed by Rep. John J. Rhodes Jr., a conservative from Arizona, it meets every Tuesday.

About once a month, Republicans hold a conference of the entire membership under Chairman Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, often to discuss controversial issues on which the party is split.

Democratic policy, like that of any party in power, follows the lead of the White House.

On major issues, both party whips poll their memberships, through the assistant whips, to see where the votes lie. Then they can use what Arends calls "persuasion" on the doubtful members.

When crucial amendments come up on the floor, the whips put in "whip calls" to summon their members. Arends and Boggs estimate they can get their troops to the floor in about 15 minutes.

So far this year, however, Republicans have apparently had more success at this than Democrats.

* * *

"The underdog tries harder," Arends said. "We're out to make a record, particularly the freshmen. They're a little more determined."

* * *

Boggs put it differently. "The Republicans do a better job because they're the minority. There's a natural cohesiveness in the minority. You're not responsible for a program."

On a number of important issues this year, most notably the President's anticrime bill, the Democratic whip organization did almost no work, since it appeared extremely doubtful the bill could be passed in the form the administration wanted.

* * *

By picking its spots, the Democratic leadership and whip system has loooked good, when it was passing the debt limit increases, funds for model cities and the D.C. reorganization bill, and bad when it did little on the crime bill and on the ill-fated rat extermination measure which was voted down.

Griffin on 'Brainwashing'

Romney's 'Slip' an Asset?

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney made a "slip" when he said he had been brainwashed about Vietnam, but, "The slip may prove to be one of his greatest assets," U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin, R - Mich., said Monday night.

Griffin, in Lansing to address the 51st annual state Kiwanis convention, told a news conference that the short range impact of the brainwash comment won't be helpful, "But over the long haul it will be an asset."

* * *

The comments followed news reports that Romney, an undeclared candidate for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination, has been slipping badly in national popularity since the Detroit riots and the brainwash comment.

"In the long run what counts is that Gov. Romney was saying what was on his mind," Griffin said. "He was being honest and in the long run he'll come out on top."

"Another fellow named Eisenhower wasn't a polished politician," Griffin added. "He made a few slips and goofs."

* * *

Asked to comment on rumors that Romney may declare his candidacy within the next few weeks, the senator said he thought this would be a "good idea," adding that "I hope he does."

"I personally think Gov. Romney should become a candidate," he said. "I believe he's carried on the courtship long enough to decide whether he should become a candidate."

Romney, when asked if he will seek the nomination, has frequently replied that he is carrying on a "courtship" with the idea.

DECLARATION EFFECT

Griffin said he thought a declaration by Romney would "Crystalize his candidacy" and would bring support from many persons who have been hesitant about making a commitment, waiting to see which way Romney will move.

Teacher Strike Still On in NY

Some Issues Soften; Talks Resume Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators for both sides in the week-old strike by New York City teachers against the 1.1 million-pupil public school system recessed today without agreement, dimming earlier optimism for a possible break.

"It is 3 a.m.," said Mayor John V. Lindsay as the talks at Gracie Mansion broke off. "No agreement having been reached, I have recessed the talks until 3 p.m. today."

* * *

Albert Shanker, president of the striking AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, later told newsmen, "The board of education and the city must come up with more money."

SOME HEADWAY

"A lot of issues were discussed pro and con but nearly all the issues involved mean more money," he said. "We made some headway. Some of the previously hard issues are a little softer now."

Earlier the 1,100-member Assistant Principals Association, which has urged its members to conduct classes during the strike, reversed itself and called on the board to close all schools by Wednesday.

* * *

Betty Ostroff, president of the association, said the change in policy resulted from what she termed "a horrible week, where conditions in the schools were not safe and not right. It has been a charade this past week."

MAY STAY AWAY

She said the association would urge its members to stay away from the city's 900 schools if the board did not comply with the request.

Shanker, commenting on the move after the talks broke up, said it "will help speed up negotiations."

Talks at the mayor's residence had been going on since 6 p.m.

Problem: Packing

Cargo Containerized

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Shippers the world over are now developing the concept of containerization, which is the skill of loading a standard-size container to the same capacity as a vacationer loads his suitcase.

CUNNIFF

By combining scores of small shipments into one big container measured to fit the dimensions of planes, railroads, ships and trucks, cargo handlers believe they can change this staid old industry.

* * *

The containers, most of them metal, range in length from less than 10 feet to about 40 feet.

Already shippers claim they are saving millions of dollars for themselves and customers. Old ports are adapting their dock-side facilities. And the new jumbo jets soon to be in the air are being built with containers in mind.

OBVIOUS SAVINGS

The concept provides obvious savings. One 2,000-pound container, for example, costs far less to handle than ten 200-pound packers with the same destination.

Other possible advantages are numerous: less pilferage, less paper work, lower insurance rates, easier customs clearance, speed and the ability to use the containers on rail ship, plane or truck.

This interchanging of the container among different modes of transportation provides a customer with door-to-door movement of his good without repacking or rehandling. The container remains sealed.

A metal container that begins its trip on a domestic railroad as a piggyback car may cross the Atlantic in the hold of a ship and then be attached to a tractor-trailer and hauled through Europe by road.

The speed with which this concept is catching on was discussed this month at the Trans-10 nations gathered.

One of these, James Crowley of Moore-McCormack Lines, told the audience that U.S. flag shipowners already had invested $180 million in container ships and equipment and by mid-1969 will have spent $900 million.

* * *

No matter how successful, however, the new industry is suffering many growing pains. And like almost any youth, the problems must be solved early or be a nuisance for life.

Some customers, for instance, have been disturbed to find their goods severely damaged, even though the container might never have been opened at any time during shipment. In other words, shippers still must develop skill in packing.

PACKING PROBLEMS

If a container is not packed tightly, goods within will inevitably smash about. In other instances, poor weight distribution within the container has caused it to buckle and even rip when lifted.

Shippers also are learning that packing for different transportation modes presents special problems. Cargo packed for an ocean voyage, for instance, must withstand much rolling and pitching.

* * *

Those involved in air shipping are facing a serious problem of weight. In order to take full advantage of the jumbo jets all aircraft manufacturers now are trying to cut container weight while still keeping strength.

Regardless of the problems, and even regardless of the industry's inability to correct them, most companies now in the business foresee a tremendous expansion ahead of them.

Goldwater Reveals Tricks of Political Infighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential hopefuls have available a manual on political infighting by Republican Barry Goldwater but if any of his novel tactics are adopted, it's not likely Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's transportation crew will be the victims.

Goldwater, discussing his losing bid for the White House in 1964, told how his lieutenants silenced the opposition at the GOP convention in San Francisco where he won the nomination on the first ballot and of a Keystone Kops caper involving Humphrey's plane crew.

* * *

"I will not reveal the names of people responsible, but we had every cable of every television company and every radio company marked up in the loft of the Cow Palace" in San Francisco, Goldwater said. "If anybody got a little too obnoxious," he said, "they could always have cable trouble. "And you might recall Sen. Hugh Scott got up once with the bullhorn and it didn't work. The batteries weren't in it." Scott was backing fellow Pennsylvanian, Gov. William W. Scranton, for the nomination.

"These are the things that you do," Goldwater said in a National Educational Television network interview Monday night.

'PERFECTLY FAIR'

"It is perfectly fair in love and war.

"We had all kinds of things planned. We even had a plan once to try to keep Hubert Humphrey's crew of his plane locked up in their rooms so they couldn't get out and fly someplace."

The interviewer asked what happened. "They got out the window," Goldwater reported.

Whoever wins the GOP nomination next year, assuming President Johnson runs again, will be facing what Goldwater calls "probably the cutest, smartest, throat-cuttingest political operator I have ever run into."

But Oregon Democratic party officials said Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller could beat Johnson, at least in Oregon, as things stand now.

STRONG CANDIDATE

They also maintain GOP Gov. Ronald Reagan of California also would be a strong candidate but that Rockefeller is the only Republican who could actually win.

Reagan ruled out today setting up any Reagan-for-President campaign organization before the GOP convention, reiterating he isn't a candidate. However, he said he will set up an organization in California to handle the June presidential primary campaign for the favorite-son delegation he intends to lead to the convention.

Rockefeller, continuing his efforts to halt any speculation about his candidacy, turned down Reagan's invitation to visit California for a conference of governors on state medical care programs. He said such a meeting might have "presidential implications."

Gov. George Romney of Michigan, another top GOP presidential prospect, plans to attend part of Reagan's session.

Auto Output Most for Week Since July

DETROIT (AP) — Even with strike-bound Ford Motor Co. at a standstill, U.S. automakers turned in their best car production figures since July this week, the trade publication Automotive News said Monday.

The industry assembled 130,217 cars last week compared with 116,874 in the holiday-shortened previous week and 153,622 in the same week a year ago. The jump over the Labor Day week ended Sept. 9 was 14 per cent.

* * *

Meanwhile, Ford dropped 13 per cent in both passenger car and truck production. Ford made 13,942 cars during the Labor Day week and dealers have a month's supply of 1968 models—86,965 new cars.

General Motors, with 93,546 car assemblies, led the field with 70 per cent of the total output planned to put 12 of its plants on six-day work weeks this week, Ward's said.

OUTPUT BOOSTED

Chrysler Corp. turned out 22,750 new cars and American Motors, with new interest being shown in its Javelin and Rambler American models, said it would operate its Kenosha, Wis., plant this Saturday. AMC turned out 6,810 cars this week, up from the 4,619 during Labor Day week.

Ward's said the industry was to build its five-millionth passenger car of calendar 1967 Monday — but it said passenger production to date is 14.3 per cent behind that of a year ago with the chasm continuing to widen as the Ford strike continues.

An ORDINANCE fixing and regulating the use of sewers by private individuals in the Township of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan, and prescribing the manner of construction and of connections, and providing for the licensing of Sewer Builders in said Township, and providing for the punishment of violations of this Ordinance.

THE PONTIAC TOWNSHIP BOARD ORDAINS AS FOLLOWS:

The sanitary sewer system of the Township of Pontiac consists of main and lateral conduits built of glazed vitrified pipe, concrete pipe, brick, glazed vitrified segmental block or iron pipe, with the necessary accessories. They are designed to carry off all liquid house waste, and are known herein as sanitary sewers. The sewers in the streets passing in front of the various lots are called main or lateral sewers, the sewers leading from the main or lateral sewers to the property on either side are called house drain connections.

SECTION 2. All connections of house sewers; drain or plumbing work with the sewer system of the Township of Pontiac shall be made in accordance with the provisions of this Resolution and Housing Code of Michigan, being Act. No. 167 of the Public Acts of 1917, and as amended, and all other State Laws pertaining to same.

SECTION 3. Any person doing such work without such permit shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to a fine, as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 4. Any person desiring to make any connection between any sanitary sewer system under the jurisdiction of said Township and other premises owned by private individuals shall first file with the Township Clerk an application for a tap-in permit stating thereon the name or names of the principles of such firm, the firm name, the type of business entity, and place of business. In addition thereto each applicant shall deliver to said Township Clerk a surety bond executed by a corporate surety company licensed to do business in the State of Michigan in the amount of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars conditioned upon the fact that said applicant will promptly and properly replace and restore any sidewalk, pavement, or street surface over any opening he may have made to as good a state and condition as found previous to the time of the opening of same and further the conditioned upon the fact that all work done in conjunction with said sewer connection shall be done in a proper and good workman-like manner, and further conditioned upon the fact that said openings and connection work on said sewer shall be kept and maintained in a good workman-like manner and in good order for a period of one (1) year after the completion of same. In addition to the foregoing each applicant shall submit a certificate of insurance from an Insurance Company licensed to do business in the State of Michigan showing that the applicant has in full force and effect a public liability insurance policy in the minimum amount of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars for each person the Three Hundred Thousand ($300,000.00) Dollars for each incident and Twenty Thousand ($20,000.00) Dollars for property damage; said certificate of insurance shall further disclose that said insurance policy shall be in effect for the entire period of time that the work is in progress on said sanitary sewer system. Upon compliance with all the foregoing requirements the Superintendent of the Township Water & Sewer Department shall issue said permit allowing the connection to be made to the Township's Sewer System.

SECTION 5. No connection with any sewer of the sanitary system within the Township of Pontiac and no extension of any house drain or from a connection previously made shall be made by any person, firm or corporation until a permit for doing the same shall have been obtained from the Township Clerk. SECTION 4. Application for permit to connect with the sewer system must be made in writing by the owner of the property to be drained, or his authorized agent. Such application shall give the exact locations of the property, number of lot, number of feet front, number of buildings to be connected, and number of sinks, water closets and other fixtures to be connected, and the name of the licensed sewer builder employed to do the work, and shall be made on blanks furnished for the express condition that the owner for whose benefit the connection is made, shall in behalf of himself, his heirs, or assigns hold the Township of Pontiac harmless for any loss or damage that may in any way result or be occasioned by the making of such connection. SECTION 7. Y branches or stubs shall be placed at frequent intervals, one or more for every lot. A record of the location of such Y branches or stubs shall be kept at the office of the Township Clerk and shall be furnished to the licensed builder but at the risk of licensed sewer builder as to the accuracy of the same. All connections with the sewer of the sanitary system must be made at such Y branch or stubs or in the event that it is necessary to make such connections with the sewer at a point where a Y or stub has not been provided, the connections shall be made by inserting a Y or stub in the main sewer or lateral but no such connection shall be made except with the approval of the Township Sewer Inspector in the presence of the Township Engineer.

SECTION 8. At least twenty-four (24) hours notice in writing must be given at the office of the Township Clerk before any street or public way can be opened for the purpose of laying a house drain. No work of laying house drains can be commenced or continued unless permit is on the sewer builder or one employed by him.

SECTION 9. The Township Sewer Inspector shall be given written notice when any work is ready for inspection and all work must be left uncovered and convenient for examination until inspected and approved. Such inspection shall be made within twenty-four (24) hours after such notification. The licensed sewer builder shall remove and replace all rejected work and shall make all work fully meet the requirements of this resolution, and all work shall be done to the full satisfaction of the Township Sewer Inspector.

SECTION 10. No person, firm or corporation shall injure, break or remove any portion of any manhole, lamphole, flush tank or any part of the sewer system, or throw or deposit or cause to be thrown or deposited in any sewer system, or throw or cause to be thrown or deposited in any sewer opening or receptacle connecting with the sewer system, any garbage, offal, dead animals, vegetable or thing whatsoever except faeces, urine, the necessary water closet paper, liquid house or mill slops, and cellar water as elsewhere provided for.

SECTION 11. Cellars and cistern overflow shall not be connected with any sewer or house drain without the special permission of the Township Engineer and permit issued by the Township Clerk and then only when they can be trapped in such a manner that the water seal cannot be broken.

SECTION 12. No roof water, surface water, or storm water of any sort shall be connected with the sanitary sewer system of the Township.

SECTION 13. No open gutter, street drain, cesspool, privy vault, or catch basin shall be connected with any sewer or house drain. Any licensed sewer builder or any person making any such connection shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to the penalty hereinafter provided.

SECTION 14. No exhaust from steam engines can be connected with any sewer, or any house drain, or private sewer that is connected with any sewer or the sanitary system, and no blow-off from steam boilers, can be connected.

SECTION 15. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to lay pipes for water, gas, steam, or any other purpose, upon any streets or alleys upon which sewers are laid, shall give at least twenty-four (24) hours written notice to the Oakland County Road Commission before opening the street, and the manner of laying and back filling over such pipes shall be subject to the approval of the Oakland County Road Commission. All such work shall be planned and executed so that no injury shall occur to any public sewer or to any house drain connected therewith.

SECTION 16. In case a water or gas pipe, conduit, or other obstructions shall come in the way of a drain or sewer, the question of passing under or over the same must be determined by the Township Engineer. In no case shall the licensed sewer builder be allowed to decide the question. All expense connected with passing by, under, or over such pipes, conduits or obstructions shall be borne by the owner of the property for whose benefit the connection is being made.

SECTION 17. No house drain, surface drain, or main sewer or gas pipes shall be laid in the same trench with water pipes and in no case closer together than three (3) feet.

SECTION 18. Whenever it is determined to construct a sewer or drain on any street or right-of-way, all willow or poplar trees or other trees forming hair-like roots, within a distance of seventy-five (75) feet from the main sewer or any house connections, shall be cut down and the life of the stump destroyed to prevent further growth of the roots, and thereafter shall no trees of the above mentioned varieties be planted within the prescribed limits.

SECTION 19. No pipe drain can be laid above the bottom of a wooden drain, whether in actual use or not, unless the pipe is made to rest on a substantial foundation of puddled clay brick, or stone, and in no case will it be allowed to let drain pipes rest on any perishable foundation. Whenever it is necessary to disturb a wooden drain in actual use, it must in no case be obstructed without the special permission of the Township Engineers.

SECTION 20. The Township Sewer Inspector shall have the power to stop and prevent from discharging into the sewer system any private sewer or drain through which substances are discharged which are liable to injure the sewers or obstruct the flow of the sewage.

SECTION 21. Before any old private drain or any house drain built before going into effect of resolution shall be connected with the sewer systems, the owner of the private drain or house drain shall prove to the full satisfaction of the Township Engineer that it is entirely clean and that it conforms in every respect with the rules and regulations prescribed by this resolution.

SECTION 22. In opening any street or alley all materials for paving and ballasting must be removed with the least possible injury or loss of same, and together with the excavated material from the trench, must be placed where it will cause the least inconvenience to the public. As little as possible of the trench must be dug until the Y branch in the sewer is found. Whenever the sides of the trench will not stand, perpendicular sheeting and branches must be used to prevent caving in of banks. In no case will tunneling be permitted, except upon written permission of the Township Engineer.

SECTION 23. All openings and obstructions in any street, lane, or alley must be guarded at all times with sufficient barriers and during the night shall be indicated by red lights and such other precautions as shall be necessary to guard the public against accidents, and at all times the work shall be so done as to cause the least inconvenience to property owners and the general public.

SECTION 24. The house drains, from a point three (3) feet outside of the house to curb line, shall be of A-1 standard socket salt glazed vitrified earthenware pipe, unless laid less than three feet in depth, when it shall be of cast or wrought iron. Its interior diameter shall be four inches. Outside the curb line the interior diameter shall be six inches. The connection between four and six inch pipe shall be of the best quality of hard burned vitrified shale pipe, with sockets and of a make and quality to be approved by the Township Engineer.

SECTION 25. The cover of the Y branch or stub on the sewer shall be carefully removed so as not to injure the socket. The first length of pipe attached to the Y branch or stub on the sewer shall be carefully removed so as not to injure the socket. The first length of pipe attached to the Y branch shall be curved so as to give a good fall into the sewer. The entire line of pipe on any house branch shall be laid as nearly as possible in a straight line and on a uniform grade from a point three (3) feet outside the wall of the house to the Y branch or stub. (Such grade shall have a fall of not less than one foot in thirty from the house to the sewer unless by special permission of the Township Engineer, in which case provision must be made for regular and efficient flushing.)

Curved pipe shall be used for every deflection from a straight line of more than three inches in two feet.

Unless otherwise specified in writing by the Township Engineer, the manner of laying the pipe and making the joints shall be as follows:

1. The joints of vitrified-pipe sewers shall be made with a joint compound approved by the Township Engineer, which will be furnished by the contractor.
2. The method of preparing, caulking and pouring shall be subject to the approval of the Township Engineer.
3. Care must be taken to remove all sand and debris from the bell. The joints shall be carefully centered and caulked with a gasket of dry oakum or jute, using proper caulking tools, leaving for the joint compound a depth of one and one half (1½) inches.
4. After the joints are properly caulked, a suitable runner shall be placed and the heated compound poured from one side so that it shall run around the pipe and fill the space, making a complete joint.
5. Runners shall not be removed until the compound has thoroughly set.
6. Alternate joints may be run on the bank of the trench by standing one length of pipe with bell end up, inserting spigot of second pipe caulking and pouring as herein specified.
7. The compound shall be heated in a suitable retainer until it reaches the fluidity of water, stirring continuously to prevent carbonizing.
8. No pouring shall be done until the entire mass in the heating kettle shall have attained the proper consistency, and the contents of the kettle shall be kept heated to the point of pouring to prevent chilling.
9. A pouring vessel large enough to completely make one joint at a single pouring shall be used.
10. Before pouring any joint the bottom of the trench under the bell shall be hollowed out so that the barrel of the pipe rests evenly and firmly on a substantial bed in true grade and alignment.
11. Sewers and drains shall be subject to the official tests prescribed by the Township Engineer.
12. All inlets and outlets of septic tanks shall be bulkheaded.

SECTION 26. All back filling over that part of any house drain within the boundaries of any street, alley or public grounds, must be either thoroughly puddled or tamped in layers not exceeding four inches in thickness, and the question which shall be done shall be determined by the Township Engineer. The replacing of any gravel or paving shall be done within forty-eight hours after the laying of the house drain or sewer and must be done so as to make the surface at least as good as it was before being disturbed and to the full satisfaction of the Oakland County Road Commission and the licensed sewer builder will be held responsible for any subsequent settlement in the ground or pavement. All water pipes must be protected to the satisfaction of the Township Engineer and all gas pipes must be protected to the satisfaction of the company owning the same, and any subsequent damage to either water or gas pipes, by reason of the construction of the house drain, or subsequent settling of the earth shall be made good by the licensed sewer builder.

SECTION 27. House drains and sewer laid within Township limits in and for houses on streets where no public sewers are yet laid, shall be done according to the regulation of this resolution in every particular, and the owner or agent of the property must secure a permit to connect the same with the public sewer as soon as the same is built past the property from which said drain is laid.

SECTION 28. No connection with any sewer of the sanitary sewer system shall be made excepting as herein provided for. Any person who shall make, or permit, or cause to be made, a connection with such sewer in a manner contrary to the provisions of this resolution, shall, upon conviction in the justice courts, be fined any sum not less than ten ($10.00) Dollars and not more than one hundred ($100.00) dollars in the discretion of the court, and any person who shall fail to remove any private drain connected with the sanitary sewers of the Township of Pontiac, which is constructed contrary to the provisions of this resolution, within ten (10) days after being notified by the Township Engineer, that the same is unlawfully made, shall be subject to a penalty of five ($5.00) dollars for each day that such forbidden connection shall continue.

SECTION 29. Any licensed sewer builder or any other person guilty of any violation of the provisions of this resolution shall, upon conviction thereof in the Justice Court be fined any sum not less than ten ($10.00) dollars and not exceeding one hundred ($100.00) dollars, at the discretion of the court, and may be confined in the Oakland County Jail for a period not exceeding ninety (90) days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

SECTION 30. In case of controversy as to price, the Township Board shall act as arbitrator and may proceed to do the work and charge the actual cost of the same to the property owner.

SECTION 31. This Ordinance shall take effect ten (10) days after the passage thereof by the Pontiac Township Board, and supercedes Ordinance No. 94.

This Ordinance enacted by the Township Board of Pontiac Township, Oakland County, Michigan, September 11th, 1967.

Remember, You Need More Than One Kind Of Fire Insurance
And This One Is Sure Fire!
It's probably not the kind of fire insurance you're thinking of. It's even better. For instance; when you have an H. H. Smith heating oil contract

1. You are insured against ever running out of oil with our automatic, "KEEP FULL" Service.
2. You are insured against short measure because all of our deliveries are accurately metered to the last drop.
3. You are insured against high heating bills because your payments can be spread out over a 12 month period instead of just six or seven months.
4. You're insured against paying any fuel oil bills while the family's no. 1 breadwinner is laid up due to illness or accident.

How's that for sure-fire fire insurance?
We can promise you, "IT'S GREAT"!
