3 Believed Dead in Train Crash

2 Long B&O Freights Collide Head-On Near Martinsburg, W. Va.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—Three crewmen were missing and believed dead today in the wreckage of two long Baltimore & Ohio freight trains, which collided head-on early today near Martinsburg.

* * *

The two-unit diesel locomotives, one pulling 145 cars and the other 160 empty coal hoppers, rammed into each other on a slight curve on a single track spur line two miles west of Cumbo, W. Va.

Seven other crewmen and a railroader "deadheading" home after work were aboard the two trains. One was injured critically, the others suffered bruises and cuts.

The missing were not immediately identified.

* * *

Dr. J. C. Godlove of Martinsburg, who was summoned to the scene, reported that he was told three were dead in the wreckage.

B&O officials in Baltimore said the trains were the eastbound No. 96 and westbound No. 648. The exact cause of the accident was not known, and the speed at which the trains were traveling was not immediately determined.

There were unconfirmed reports that 35 to 40 of the westbound cars piled up, while 15 to 20 on the eastbound train left the rails.

Wreckage was scattered for several hundred yards.

'57's First Baby Here Born at 12:54 A.M.

Honors in the city for the first baby delivered in the new year went to Pontiac General Hospital when a baby girl made her appearance at 12:54 a.m.

The girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Chapman of 1008 Grubb Rd., Milford.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was next in line when a set of twins, a boy and a girl, were born at 2:31 and 2:36 a.m. respectively, to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Zuehlsdorff, of 7500 Cornwall Ct., Birmingham.

At 4:10 a.m., Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital reported the delivery of their first baby of the new year to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cole, 264 W. Walled Lake Rd., Walled Lake.

Fly Refugees to U.S.

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Two planes left Munich today carrying 69 Hungarian refugees to the United States. The total number of refugees to leave here in "Operation Safe Haven" now has reached 9,404.

Meet Miss Front Page, MSU Coed Judy Bradley

"Happy New Year!"

This is the first official Miss Front Page for 1957 as selected by The Pontiac Press.

We're very happy—yes, and proud, too—to present Miss Judy Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Bradley of Spokane Drive.

Our Miss Front Page is very much a part of her university. Two years ago she was officially selected as Miss Michigan State, an honor she bore with an easy savior faire that was both becoming and characteristic.

When the 10 Western Conference queens met so they could elect Miss Big Ten, our Judy was runner up by an eye lash to Miss Minnesota. (Which just goes to show that judges are human and subject to unaccountable errors on occasion.)

All hail—Miss Bradley.

Nehru and Chou Toast Friends in Fruit Juice

NEW DELHI (AP) — Premiers Nehru of India and Chou En-Lai of Communist China toasted the New Year with fruit juice today, drinking to continued friendship between their countries.

Chou, visiting here since Sunday, was due to leave tonight for Peiping. Nehru was reported to have given Chou a resume of his talks with President Eisenhower and other leaders on his trip last month to the United States, Canada and Britain.

Lake Ice Takes 2 Cars, 4 Lives

Lone Member of Party Escapes Into Blizzard to Report Tragedy

HOUGHTON LAKE (INS) — A posse of 300 volunteers today marched out onto frozen Houghton Lake — Michigan's largest inland lake — to search for two men and two women reported missing on an ice fishing expedition.

John Whorley, 45, of Lansing, was the only known survivor of the five-member party which drove onto the frozen lake in two cars yesterday evening.

Whorley struggled through 10 degree temperatures and a raging blizzard to a lakeside cabin last night to report the two cars carrying his companions had plunged through the lake ice.

He identified the victims as Albert Sohn, a Houghton Lake laundry proprietor, Arthur Klatt and his wife, Bernie, and Doreen Butler, all of Lansing.

The distraught survivor told state police that his car went through the ice while he was returning to shore. He said he leaped out but his companion, Sohn, apparently was trapped in the car.

City Ends 1956 With 6 Fatals; Record Praised

1955 Saw Sixteen Die on Streets of Pontiac; Straley Lauds Drivers

Six persons died in traffic here last year, compared with 16 deaths in 1955.

Officials hailed the record, achieved in the face of an upsurge in traffic deaths throughout the state and nation.

"Motorists have done a fine job, but must remember," Police Chief Herbert W. Straley said, "traffic is continually becoming more and more dangerous.

"Only with every driver's care and concern can we keep the record down again in 1957."

The part played by Pontiac police officers in driving death from city streets was praised by the Chamber of Commerce safety committee chairman, Clyle R. Haskill.

"The police are to be commended for their increased efforts in enforcement of traffic laws, investigation of auto accidents and their accident prevention program," he said.

"Especially, I want to mention their educational programs as a primary reason for the decrease in fatalities. Their efforts everyday at PTA meetings, schools service clubs and other public gatherings have done a great deal to hammer home the constant dangers of the highway."

Haskill also commended the city's motorists and the members of his committee who have voluntarily worked for greater safety in the past year.

Although final figures have not been readied, it appeared that the number of accidents and the number of accident victims also were cut in 1956.

There were 1,270 accidents with 640 persons injured in 1955. Through November this year, there were 1,021 accidents with 574 injuries.

In the last seven years, a lower number of fatalities was recorded only in 1954, when five persons died. In 1950 there were 17 deaths, in 1951, 16 deaths; and in 1952 and 1953, eight deaths each.

The 1950 record is the worst in the city's history.

Weatherman Makes New Year's Resolution

CHICAGO (INS) — J. R. Fulks, meteorologist in charge of the Chicago weather bureau forecast center resolves:

"We would like to pledge that the weather will be what everybody wants. Failing this we resolve to be as accurate as possible every day in telling people what to expect."

Pasadena Host to Thousands for Rose Bowl Game

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — New Year's greetings to the nation go out today from Pasadena, where the 68th annual Tournament of Roses is being presented.

A city of less than 150,000 Pasadena is expected to play host to nearly 10 times that many people on its big day, which starts with the Rose Parade and ends with the Rose Bowl football game.

Sixty-three floats, ranging from simple displays to mechanical marvels, and all covered with flowers, will wind for five miles along a street banked high with grandstand seats, past buildings with faces peering from every window, and, past throngs on boxes, chairs and ladders in every open space.

Ike Will Outline Hands-Off Plan

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower outlines to Democratic and Republican congressional leaders today his proposed Middle East "hands-off" warning to Russia.

The chief executive wants a congressional declaration giving him advance authority to use political, economic — and, if necessary, military — pressure in the Middle East.

At the New Year's afternoon White House session, the President is also expected to expound briefly his domestic program. This calls for a 70 billion dollar budget and rules out any possibility of a tax cut in 1957.

But the big question in today's bipartisan conference is the so-called "Eisenhower Doctrine" to keep Soviet power out of the critical Middle East.

Advance reaction to the proposal was mixed. Some Democrats indicated opposition, and there was also evidence that many Republicans would dislike any such commitment from congress.

Nevertheless, prospects were good that if the President presses his case as he did with his "save Formosa" resolution two years ago, congressional opposition would wilt.

Snow, Cloudy, Cold; Tale So Often Told!

The U. S. Weather Bureau says partly cloudy and colder weather can be expected in Pontiac tonight, with occasional snow flurries occurring. Tomorrow it will be fair and continued cold. Low tonight will be 6-10 degrees, high tomorrow, 20-24.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. recorded in downtown Pontiac was 12 degrees.

At 1 p.m., the temperature registered 18 degrees!

LIVING IT UP — Easy Street runs right through the middle of his enclosure at the Paris Vincennes Zoo, as far as this happy brown bear is concerned. And why not? There's plenty of food, a good place to sleep, and as for entertainment — what can beat the fun of watching the antics of the spectators on the other side of the bars?

Williams Set to Take Oath of Office Today

LANSING (AP) — Gerhart Mennen Williams, set to take the oath for a fifth time as Michigan governor, said today "the cost of government will unquestionably go up," especially for education.

In an inaugural address to thousands of persons assembled on and around the east steps of the Capitol, the 45-year-old governor called education the No. 1 challenge of our time.

"If we are to continue to maintain our liberties, our high standards of living, our world leadership in technology and industry, we must provide our children with the education they need for the world of tomorrow," he said.

"A society of automation, atomic and solar power, cannot be operated by citizens educated to yesterday's standards."

The "little red schoolhouse" may be an object of nostalgia for some, he said, but "as an adequate educational plant it is gone forever." All this means bigger spending, he said.

Oratorically, the governor's mes-

Wood Hotel Burns in North Wisconsin

ASHLAND, Wis. (AP) — An all-wood three-story hotel, built in the days when this northern Wisconsin community was a lumbering capital, was flaming furiously today.

The occupants of the Menard Hotel escaped injury, but authorities said the main problem now was to keep the blaze from spreading to six other wood buildings to the west of the hotel and funeral home behind the burning structure.

Firemen said that as long as the wind remained from the west there was a good chance the fire could be controlled.

Remarkable Recovery Continues for Curley

BOSTON (AP) — Former Gov. James Michael Curley continues to maintain his remarkable recovery from the emergency operation performed four days ago for a critically hemorrhaging ulcer, City Hospital reported today.

The hospital said, although Curley's condition was still critical it continues to improve.

Mrs. Curley visited with her 82-year-old husband for an hour, the longest since his operation, and he was "doing very, very well."

Holly Resident, Off-Duty Deputy Crash Victims

Ross Miller 'Critical' After Car Hits Ice, Skids Into Tree

An off-duty Oakland County Sheriff's deputy was critically injured and a Holly man was badly hurt in the most serious of several accidents on icy Oakland County highways over New Year's Eve.

The national holiday traffic toll had risen to 284 by 7 a.m. today.

Ross Miller, 28, of 331 Reitman Ct., Rochester, is critical and John E. Queen, 49, of 6615 Tipsico Rd., is listed as "fair" from separate accidents at Pontiac General Hospital.

Miller reportedly suffered severe head injuries when his car skidded on some ice and hit a tree on Pontiac road near Rochester early this morning.

Fellow deputies said the officer was still "holding his own" several hours after the accident. He had been rushed to the hospital after his wrecked car was discovered by his father, Cyril, on his way to work.

* * *

Two passengers escaped unhurt in the accident on Tipsico Lake road, ½ mile north of Clyde road. Queen could not explain what happened due to his injuries but police said the highway was "very icy."

Michigan had 18 among the national highway toll with one death due to a fire and seven by miscellaneous causes for the four - day New Year's holiday weekend.

Along with the traffic total, 37 fire deaths and 73 other fatalities helped mar the long weekend. Nationally the combined Christmas-New Year highway toll now stands at 990, already breaking the previous record of 973 set last year.

Meanwhile, the National Safety Council was warning that the danger period was not past yet, with a full day to go and dangerous roads in many parts of the nation. The Council had forecast 490 New Year's Deaths.

Babson Predicts Good Year for Area Business

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the following article, noted Economist Roger W. Babson offers his predictions of what 1957 will mean in terms of business prosperity. The first part deals with the outlook for the Pontiac area, an analysis which appears exclusively in The Pontiac Press. The second part of the article concerns the national economic picture as Mr. Babson sees it.

By ROGER W. BABSON

I look for another sprightly year for Pontiac business, predicated largely upon my feeling that the automobile industry may do as much as 10 per cent more business in the coming year than it did in 1956.

I am optimistic, in fact, about the average for virtually all your ramifications of the automotive field: automobiles, trucks, buses, automobile bodies, trailers, and automotive parts and accessories.

A number of your other local enterprises may also succeed in pushing above the good levels of the year ending: Rubber products, electric power, public construction and roadbuilding.

There will be, too, a few lines that should lend their support to business in 1957 by changing little, if any, from the excellent volume of the year just ending: Paint, varnish, lacquer, dairy products, industrial construction, and the various branches of retail trade (including department, food, and variety stores.)

There may be some mild sagging in foundry, iron, and steel products. Residential building is likely to drift perhaps 5 to 7 per cent below 1956 highs, due to credit tightening.

Employment may have irregular ups and downs, but the annual average for the new year should be close to that of 1956. Wages will edge very slightly upward in some lines, but not in the spectacular fashion seen in recent years.

Local living costs will reflect some fractional gains in early 1957, but final tally for the coming year will be close to that for 1956. Buying power will be generally well sustained, although buying will tend to be more selective as the year moves along.

All in all, Pontiac merchants and businessmen should enjoy another top-notch year in 1957, with no sharp declines. Higher labor and materials costs, however, will intensify the profits squeeze.

(Mr. Babson's forecasts about the national business outlook in general is as follows:)

Both presidential candidates, in their pre-election speeches, promised peace, prosperity, and progress. They stated that they must do this in order to enforce the Employment Act of 1946. This is the basis of my Outlook for 1957, tempered of course by Russia.

1. World War III will not start in 1957.

2. 1957 Will witness gradually increasing inflation.

3. Manufacturers will be faced with higher costs for both materials and labor.

4. All businesses will be confronted by increased competition, both within their own industries and from other industries.

5. More advertising will be necessary in 1957 if profits of manufacturers and retailers are to equal those of 1956.

6. Failures will increase in 1957, both as to numbers and liabilities. Thousands of small concerns will be wiped out. One or two of the largest corporations will face bankruptcy or re-organization.

7. Cost of living will rise slightly during 1957.

8. Most labor unions will hesitate to make public fights for higher wages, but will work for shorter hours, pensions, and "fringes."

9. Europe must pay so much more for oil that it will have less money for purchasing other goods.

10. Unexpected events will occur during 1957; however, as a whole, business will remain fair, but with smaller profits.

MONEY OUTLOOK

11. As foreign countries must pay in gold or dollars for oil, their industries will be handicapped, unemployment will increase, and pressure for aid from the United States will be greater.

12. The Federal Reserve Board will not relax its restrictions so long as we have full employment in the United States; but if unemployment increases we may expect a relaxation. I am very glad Mr. Robert Cutler will again be Mr. Eisenhower's adviser.

13. Owing to the tremendous numbers of employes, suppliers, and retailers dependent upon the large corporations, these will be first to receive bank funds.

14. Many plans for expansions of plants, by both big business and little business, will be postponed. Most corporations will find it difficult to get new short-term money at any price in quantity; while long-term financing will be too expensive.

15. Tight money will cause state, municipal, and town governments to postpone plans for building roads, schools, and hospitals except in cases where the Federal Government pays most of the costs. This will put a damper on many lines of business.

16. Owing to these increased money rates, state, municipal, and town bonds, although tax free, have been declining rapidly in price. Most financial advisers forecast much lower prices for such securities. It is possible that the postponement of such building plans may so diminish demand for such money that these non-taxable bonds will sell at higher prices before the year is out. This postponement may also reduce the price of steel and other materials.

17. The money managers for each corporation, large and small, will now arrange their financing needs for two years by either se-

Stag Party Is Townwide

MANDAL, Norway—All the men in Mandal, a picturesque port in southern Norway, attend a stag party once a year. The townwide party was started 25 years ago. Shops, offices, and factories close about noon and every man goes to a nearby island by motorboat for an afternoon and evening of fishing, coffee drinking, eating, and storytelling.

SIBERIAN HUT — Typical of the homes of Russia's slave laborers in Siberia is this crude, sod-covered hut inhabited by an Estonian woman. The woman, mother-in-law of a New Jersey man, works 15 hours every night in a nearby project. She has been living in such miserable circumstances for 16 years. This photo was smuggled out of Russia without the knowledge of the unfortunate woman. Her features have been obliterated and an identifying background structure has been cut away to protect her identity. Millions of prisoners from the Balkans and Soviet satellite nations are reportedly confined in Siberia.

Good Year for Business Predicted by Babson

18. Prices of corporation bonds will not recover so quickly as the non-taxables. I forecast lower prices for most corporation bonds.

19. Many of the smaller and newer corporations will be much disappointed by their inability to secure funds during 1957, except by selling convertible preferred stocks on terms very favorable to investors. It is well to issue such securities when money rates are low because the advantages continue for many years; but not when money is tight, as such securities then tie up the borrower for a long number of years at high rates.

2;. This means that 1957 will be a good year for investors to switch from low-yielding stocks to attractive bond issues.

REAL ESTATE OUTLOOK

21. Home building, corporate expansion, and municipal improvements will decline in 1957. Therefore, it will not be a good year for speculating in real estate.

22. Interest rates on mortgages will be higher in 1957. Loans not "federally" guaranteed will require larger margins.

23. Real estate in large cities will continue inactive with declining prices due to lack of parking facilities.

24. Suburban real estate will continue active, but fewer new houses will be built. Houses will be for sale by executives who have lost their well-paid jobs.

25. Purchasers will give more attention to the size of the lots than to the houses. Better locations can be secured by buying existing houses. Modern kitchens will become a "must."

26. Acreage near proposed shopping centers will be excellent for speculation. The automobile will continue to raise havoc with real estate prices, helping some locations and hurting others.

27. New inventions in connection with heating, lighting, and other features will make most older houses obsolete.

28. Large commercial farms will continue prosperous. Small farms on the fringes of cities will be more valuable. The outlying medium-sized farms will be both expensive to operate and hard to sell.

29. The nearness to schools, churches, stores, and bus routes will become a more important factor in the re-sale of homes.

30. Those wishing to own a well-located home to occupy will find 1957 a good year to buy or build; but a dangerous year for speculation.

STOCK MARKET OUTLOOK

31. It is foolish for anyone to now forecast the stock market for 1957. The Dow-Jones Industrial Average, now around 490, may decline to 400 or advance to 600 during 1957.

32. All investors will want "safety," but wise investors will first decide whether they also want "income" or "profit." Only by luck can you obtain all three features with certainty during 1957.

33. Investors can buy, during 1957, well - seasoned preferred stocks (preferably cumulative) which will give, with safety, a yield of near 6 per cent. I will gladly send, free of charge, a list of such to any reader so requesting.

34. During 1957, good utility stocks should be attractive for yield and marketability. The demand for electricity will continue to increase throughout 1957.

35. The above two recommendations apply to those in moderate income tax brackets. The investor in medium or high brackets will buy during 1957 non-taxable state, municipal, or town bonds carrying "full faith and credit." Taxes wil gradually increase during 1957, and non-taxable bonds will be more in demand from wise investors.

36. I am not now prepared to advise readers who do not care for income, but only for profit. As above stated, the Dow-Jones Industrial Average may approach, during 1957, either 400 or 600. It will be very easy to make a mistake by either buying or selling stocks at this time, except for intelligent switches. I am willing to say, however, that readers should not get panicky and sell their oils. Even Gulf Oil, which has the largest interests in the very rich Middle East fields, should not be sold.

37. All sensible investors will carry good bank balances and reserves during 1957 so as not to be caught, whatever happens.

38. There should be no panic in the stock market during 1957. Stocks will either fluctuate near their present levels or else will gradually slide downward or upward. It will be risky to borrow money to buy stocks in 1957; rather, one might sell stocks to get out of debt.

39. The way to make money in the stock market is: (1) Confine your purchases to the stocks of the leading companies in each industry. (2) Diversify moderately and do not try to pick out winners, remembering that, whether you buy or sell, someone (probably as smart as you) is doing the opposite at the same time. (3) Store up cash when most people are bullish; use this cash to buy stocks when most people are bearish.

40. We are no longer on the Gold Standard but on a Political Standard. Although the Law of Action and Reaction will ultimately rule, yet periods of prosperity can artifically be extended by manipulating money rates, subsidies, and other financial props.

41. Every reader should have a little stock in one of the local banks in which he has his account. Bank stocks should make the "blue chips" do.

INTERNATIONAL, OTHER AFFAIRS

42. During 1957 the Administration will do everything possible to keep us out of war. It certainly will not get us involved with England, France, Israel, or their allies.

43. So long as President Eisenhower is in good physical condition (as Commander-in-Chief), he will back the United Nations with our Army, Navy, and Air Force. This is the only way in which he will be tempted ever to enter World War III.

44. The United States will not use the A-Bomb or H-Bomb during 1957 or give these bombs to any other nation. However, to save the United Nations, President Eisenhower will give that organization all the bombs it wants.

45. 1957 should be a good year to make tax-exempt gifts to colleges, hospitals, and other worthy causes. You, however, should give a stock which shows you a profit, and let the beneficiary do the selling. 1957 should be an especially good year for such institutions to make drives for funds.

46. Householders will avoid making unnecessary purchases on installments until the international situation clears. Several feasible plans are being considered, one of which is to have a very small tax on every gallon of oil moving through the Canal with the understanding that the money will be used for financing the Great Dam on the Nile River which the Egyptians so much need. This would make unnecessary any expropriation of the rich Middle East oil reserves and any renegotiations. Either expropriations or renegotiations will scare our investors out of making further foreign investments.

47. The big thing that Russia wants is not so much the oil fields as freedom to pass through the Dardanelles. This will be an important feature of a settlement of the Suez Canal problem. I further forecast that the Republic of Panama will attempt to undo the "steal" which we perpetrated in 1904, in order to build the Panama Canal.

48. I would be unfair to readers of this forecast not to mention the great importance of Mr. Eisenhower's health. In connection with any building, business, investment, or other program, it should be continually kept in mind.

49. Better fed and more intelligent populations, both in the United States and elsewere, will continue to increase. Important new discoveries and inventions will take place. Twenty years ago we were enjoying the prosperity brought on by the Electrical Era. Then followed the Motor Car and Oil Eras which we have recently been enjoying, plus a Chemical and Building Boom. These coming together account for the great prosperity of the last ten years. Sometime we will witness a business readjustment, but it will be followed by a new Electronic and Nuclear Era. Therefore, be optimistic.

50. In closing, I urge my friends to read the 8th Chapter of the Bible Book Deuteronomy, which was written 3,000 years ago and is as applicable today as ever. Incidentally, it mentions Egypt, which even then was an important factor in world events.

Saar Now 10th State of West Germany

SAARBRUECKEN (AP) — Germany's red, black and gold flag was raised over the tiny Saarland today as the nearly one million residents of the rich industrial area became Germans.

* * *

The 990-square mile Saar, occupied by the French after World War II but holding political autonomy since 1947, became West Germany's 10th state at midnight. The Saarlanders voted a year ago to become a political part of Germany. France and Germany recently completed ratification of agreements carrying out the plan.

* * *

The area has been a center of dispute between the two countries for 250 years because of its rich coal fields and steel plants. Today's changeover was political only. Not until 1959 will the Saar be fully integrated into Germany economically.

Holiday Revels End in Shooting

1 Man in Jail, Another in Hospital as Fight Ushers In 1957

One man is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital and a second is being held for investigation of felonious assault as the result of a fight outside a tavern early this morning at 262 E. Pike St., Pontiac Police reported.

* * *

Robert W. Runyon, 22, of 290 N. Paddock St., was treated for shotgun wounds in the head, back and arms. Arthur S. Abbott, 21, of 23 S. Paddock St. was booked for investigation of felonious assault following the shooting, police said.

Kenneth Givens, 26, of 350 S. Andersen Ave., was also struck, police said, by shotgun pellets. His brother, Leroy, of 41 Monterey Blvd., was treated at Pontiac General for a skinned nose as the result of the fight.

* * *

Witnesses told police the fight began at the Idletime Bar, 262 E. Pike St., when Runyon reportedly said something offensive to Abbott. Abbott then broke a pool cue over Runyon's head, police said. Police then said Abbott ran out of the tavern and got the gun.

The Givenses were injured when they approached the scene "as innocent bystanders," according to police.

* * *

When apprehended later, Abbott said he was firing the weapon, a 16-gauge shotgun, in the air "to celebrate New Year's Eve." The gun, along with a .22 caliber rifle, were confiscated by police.

Pontiac Deaths

Highway for Liberia to Be Backed by U.S.

MONROVIA, Liberia — The first construction phase of a multi-million - dollar Liberian highway program will begin soon with the building of a 150-mile road in the interior.

* * *

It will be financed by a $12,000,000 loan from the United States.

The project engineer will be James Hoban, who supervised construction of the Pennsylvania and Ohio turnpikes and New Jersey's Garden State Parkway.

Exporters Protected

TOKYO — Under new revisions of the law governing export insurance, Japanese businessmen investing capital in foreign lands will now be protected against losses.

The Day in Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM — Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley reported one of the quietest New Year's Eves in the history of the police force here.

Only one arrest was made, he said, that of a drunk driver.

The gentleman, whose name was not revealed, has the dubious honor of being the first person arrested in 1957.

Traffic on city streets was far heavier than is normal, Moxley said.

"The sound of shots and other noisy celebration is common on New Year's Eve, but we feel that perhaps the complaining person was a little more aware of it because of recent incidents in Royal Oak," Moxley added.

* * *

On the recommendation of L. R. Gare, director of public works, City Commissioners have recommended that the extension of time requested and the waiving of any liquidated damages be granted the Birmingham Construction Co.

Gare said the company was 39 days late in their estimated 175 days construction time for the Sewage Treatment Plant additions.

The liquidated damages clause called for a payment of $50 for every calendar day in default of completion. Gare explained that contractor was delayed by frost prohibiting hauling of material and because of the steel strike, both of which were beyond his control.

Former resident of the City of Bloomfield Hills, Charles B. Field, 67, died in West Palm Beach of a heart attack on Monday.

Until his 1951 retirement, he was Detroit Manager for Curtis Publishing Co. Also, he was past president of Bloomfield Hills Country Club atnd member of the DAC.

Service will be Wednesday in Delray Beach, where he and his wife have been residing since his retirement. Burial will be in Coldwater.

Mr. Field is survived by his wife, Sybil, and one daughter, Mrs. Lester Knight.

Williams Takes Oath for Fifth Time

age held the top spot on the inauguration program, a dawn to midnight series of varied events built around the taking of the oath by six Democratic state officials elected Nov. 6.

GOVERNOR LEADS

The first turn was that of Williams, winner of an unprecedented fifth term that will stretch the duration of his rule of the executive department at Lansing hrough an entire decade.

Then, following in order, was this line-up: Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, Secretary of State James M. Hare, Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown and Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski.

Given the role of administering the oaths to this all-Democratic-cast was Chief Justice John R. Dethmers of the State Supreme Court, a one-time Republican state chairman.

Democratic workers and party faithful from all parts of the state, many of them bringing along their children, drive here to take in the gala events.

* * *

For some of them, the high point socially was to be tonight's inaugural ball. At 10 p.m. the governor and his first lady, Mrs. Nancy Williams, were due to lead the grand march.

* * *

An inaugural banquet was slated earlier in the evening, following a round of receptions by the governor and the other officials in their Capitol office quarters.

Who's Governor of Rhode Island? May Know Today

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (INS) —The Rhode Island Supreme Court hopes to decide by noon today who has been elected governor.

* * *

If the decision on 5,600 protested ballots from the Nov. 2 election is ready by that time the traditional New Year's day gubernatorial inauguration may take place as scheduled.

* * *

The decision was expected yesterday but after deliberating for six hours, the court said it had not yet decided whether to admit the protested civilian and shut-in ballots.

Gov. Dennis Roberts, a Democrat, seeking his third term, was leading by 207 votes before 10,000 absentee ballots were counted. He contends the 5,600 civilian and shut-in ballots were illegally cast because they were marked before election day. He did not challenge absentee military votes.

* * *

Republican Christopher Del Sesto showed his confidence that the high court will decide in his favor by buying a new suit yesterday for the inauguration.

Conversation 'Piece' Is Cold, Old Tomb

BON AIR, Va. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. John A. Ahern Jr. have a rather unusual yard decoration—a tomb.

* * *

They discovered the tomb under weeds after they had bought the property several years ago. On the stone is inscribed the name of Anderson Edwards, born March 26, 1795, and died July 11, 1864.

* * *

The Aherns have decided to leave the tomb where it is, just a few yards from their front door. "It's a grand conversation piece," says Mrs. Ahern. "We've become very fond of Mr. Edwards."

Integration Issue Flares in Alabama Dynamiting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Police said the home of a Negro family which moved into a white neighborhood in East Birmingham was damaged by a dynamite explosion, the second in the area in a week.

* * *

Detective C. H. Pitts said Arthur Lee Flowers, 12, suffered a cut hand in the blast which blew out a wall of the house occupied by Otis Flowers and his family. No other injuries were reported.

The home of The Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, Negro leader of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, was damaged by a dynamite blast Christmas night. Two of his children and a visitor suffered minor injuries, but he himself was unhurt.

* * *

The organization has played an active part in a campaign against bus segregation laws in Montgomery. Twenty-two Negroes were arrested last week but there have been few violations the past few days pending a court test.

Another shot was fired into a Montgomery city bus yesterday but no one was injured. It was the fifth time a bus had been hit by shots since the buses were integrated under federal court order 11 days ago.

* * *

Police Commissioner Claude Sellers said last night that the city of Montgomery would hire 20 additional policemen Wednesday to help maintain order. There are about 140 patrolmen and detectives available for use outside the police station and the jail at present.

Night bus runs were suspended during the long New Year's weekend after a Negro woman passenger, Mrs. Rosa Jordan, 22, was shot in both legs Friday night.

* * *

Other segregation developments at year's end included:

Richmond, Va. — The fourth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld unanimously desegregation decrees affecting school districts in Arlington and Charlottesville, Va. The decision that may bring an early test of new state legislation designed to block classroom mixing of the races.

* * *

Tallahassee, Fla. — The Tallahassee White Citizens Council called on Gov. Leroy Collins to seize control of the city bus line under emergency powers granted him by the recent Florida Legislature. The action came after two teams of six Negroes rode integrated on the buses as part of a campaign by Negroes to win the right to occupy seats of their own choosing.

Unsteady Peace Lends Hope for Tomorrow

Vivid Contrasts Mark Eve of the New Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The world celebrated the arrival of New Year's Day against a backdrop of unsteady peace but with hope 1957 will bring an easing of international tension.

New Year's Eve revelry was a quilt of contrast throughout the globe. In the United States and much of the Western world, traditional year - ending celebrations were the rule.

In Japan, the advent of New Year meant a time for paying homage to one's ancestors and renewal of religious faiths. It was a solemn occasion and many of the country's 90 million inhabitants donned bright new kimonos to greet 1957 in accustomed style.

* * *

New Year's Eve in Hungary stood out in marked contrast to celebrations in happier parts of the world. There was no celebration for the unhappy populace of the revolution - wracked nation. The people had to be off the streets by the 10 p.m. curfew or before.

In the homes, many made cold by a shortage of coal, thousands mourned those killed in revolution.

* * *

In the United States, the nation's traffic death rate over the holiday period was rising steadily. The death toll from auto accidents alone stood at well over 250.

In Washington, President and Mrs. Eisenhower spent a quiet New Year's Eve at the White House. He and Secretary of State Dulles were scheduled to outline their Middle Eastern policy to congressional leaders today.

In Times Square, New York's traditional gathering spot for welcoming the New Year, a police estimated crowd of 450,000 jammed into the area to herald the arrival of 1957.

* * *

At Hollywood, a Texas oil millionaire tossed a party that cost $125,000. David (Tex.) Feldman 40, gave the party to prove, he said, that Texans aren't boisterous as one movie had depicted them.

* * *

Sir Winston Churchill took the occasion to praise the "heroism of the brave people of Hungary" and to call for a healing of the rift in Anglo-American relations.

French Premier Guy Mollet said he hoped the New Year would find France and Poland bound by closer ties. In a separate message to Israel, Mollet said "France vibrates with admiration at the deeds of your army and the audacity of your soldiers."

* * *

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, in a New Year's message, called for his country to stand by his policy of European unity and partnership with the free world.

President Tito of Yugoslavia said "there is no doubting the future and the victory of peace-loving strivings of humanity because these strivings are gradually being realized."

* * *

Spain's Generalissimo Francisco Franco said it was a mistake to believe that the Soviet Union is weakening.

Soviet President Klementi Y. Voroshilov said that "the past year has been marked by the active peace-loving foreign policy of the Soviet state."

In India, Prime Minister Nehru and Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai ushered in the New Year by drinking toasts to continued friendship of the two Asian nations. They also drank to world peace.

In Chicago, police estimated that 75,000 persons crowded the city's Loop for the arrival of the New Year. Most left the streets within 10 minutes after midnight.

In San Francisco, a four-alarm fire within sight of celebrants on Market Street disrupted loud but orderly merrymaking. About 30 firemen suffered from smoke inhalations in the two hour blaze.

Lighting Contest Winners Named

Harry Carlisle Wins First of 3 Prizes Given in Waterford Township

First prize winner was the Harry Carlisle family at 750 Geneva Rd. Their display included two huge lighted red candles at the corner of their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Leistman, of 368 Roslyn won second prize with a display of three carolers grouped around a Christmas tree, singing.

Third prize was awarded Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Salton, 3585 Lincolnshire. Their display resembled a church scene with carolers in robes.

Actor, 2 Actresses Sue Producers

Sterling and his wife, Miss Jeffreys, filed suit yesterday for $4,420 against the producers of the "Topper" television series. They said they were supposed to receive 10 per cent of the net proceeds of the series but actually got far less. Bernard L. Schubert and John W. Loveton are the producers.

Miss Blyth filed a $75,000 suit against producers of the motion picture "Conquest." She said she had a contract to appear in the picture but it was made without her. The film was produced by Elm Crest Productions, Inc.

1st Minute of New Year Sees 3 Born at Denver

DENVER (AP)—The stork arrived right on the heels of the New Year in Denver, delivering three babies in the first 60 seconds of 1957.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Yoder became parents of a son one second after midnight. Twenty-four seconds later a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Waldemark A. Schultz. And at 12:01 a.m. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gyalva also became parents of a daughter.

Irish Army Extremists Fire On, Wound Four

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) —Four persons returning from a New Year's church service were wounded by gunfire today when their auto ran into a road block set up to trap Irish Republican Army (IRA) extremists.

Police said the driver failed to heed warning signals on an "unapproved" road near Caledon on the border between Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic.

Name Regional Director for Health Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stanley C. Hedstrom has been named acting Chicago Regional Representative of the Health, Education and Welfare Department's Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR).

Miss Mary E. Switzer, Director of OVR, said Hedstrom would take over today following retirement of John H. Lasher, the regional representative. The Chicago regional office serves Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

FURRY MENAGERIE — Janet Wohlfiel, 13, of Scott Lake, feeds a dog biscuit to raccoon Jack while raccoon Jill tries to find another biscuit in her ear. Mugs the boxer waits for her turn. The two 'coons, which fell down the chimney last April and were promptly adopted by Janet and Mugs, have the peaceable run of the house. According to Janet, they seldom get into trouble.

Pet Coons Have Run of House

When Jack and Jill fell down the chimney the day they were born last April, they were so small 13-year-old Janet Wohlfiel could hold both of them in the palm of her hand.

* * *

Now the two raccoons weigh 15 pounds each, and scamper around Janet's Scott Lake home as if they owned it.

Janet, a student at Isaac E. Crary Junior High School in Waterford Township, had to feed the babies from an eyedropper every three hours for the first two weeks. Now, she says, they eat anything, but they're specially partial to dog biscuits.

"We gave them a big box of dog biscuits for Christmas," she said.

* * *

"Mugs wanted to mother them at first," Janet said. "Now she plays with them. They've never had any trouble."

"Sometimes they get into things they shouldn't, but they never steal anything," Janet said.

When startled, the raccoons pile into the kitchen, open the door of the cupboard and scoot inside.

"They ran when I popped the first flashbulb at them," the Press' photographer said. "But after that, whenever I flashed it, they came up and wanted to play with the camera."

Wed in Home for Aged, Pair Finds Love Exciting

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — "Love is just as exhilerating at 84 as it is in younger days," said Thomas A. Edgerton.

* * *

He and Miss Mary Bardwell, also 84, were married yesterday at the Methodist Home for Aged. They once were schoolmates but hadn't seen each other in 30 years until Edgerton entered the home last spring.

Edgerton has been married twice previously. In fact, it was Miss Bardwell who introduced him to his first wife.

Developments Pose Big Questions for West, Russia

1956 Events Build Framework for Decision in Europe

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

PARIS (INS) — The framework for decision in Europe was erected in 1956.

It was not a year of decision in itself, but the elements of historic turning points were brought together.

To the east of the Iron Curtain there were the de-Stalinization program in Russia and the anti-Russia and sometimes anti-Communist revolts in Hungary and Poland.

In the West there was the shock of the French and British splintering off from their Allies to attack Suez.

These were the main pillars of the framework for decisive events to come.

CROSS PIECES

The cross pieces supporting the pillars were many.

Marshal Tito moved close to the Soviet camp and then backed away angrily.

The big NATO crisis was over Suez, but the continuing crisis over Cyprus split Greece from her NATO partners, Britain and Turkey.

France and Germany solved the long-standing problem of the Saar when the French assembly on Dec. 12 ratified the agreement to let the Germans have the Saarland on Jan. 1.

NEED FOR INTEGRATION

The move for European integration gained impetus although there remained barriers. Among these was the continued progress of Western Germany into a lopsided economic advantage over her western partners.

The two big questions posed for Europe during 1956 were:

1. What do the Russians do to control their satellites and prevent further Hungarian-type rebellions, and can they succeed?

2. What can the West do to rebuild the alliance so violently rocked by the Suez splinter action?

The first thing the Russians did in Hungary was to try to avoid the use of force. They did the same things in Poland.

It worked at least temporarily in Poland. The Russians accepted a lesser degree of influence over the Poles in order to retain a government that was both Communist and formally friendly to the Soviet Union.

It didn't work in Hungary where the people turned their resistance into an anti-Russian and anti-Communist revolt. There the Russians sent in tanks to put down the revolt with violence.

The feeling in Western Europe is that this will be the Soviet pattern in any future revolts among satellites. The first effort will be for settlement without force, but if that fails then the Red army will go into action.

DIFFERENT PROBLEM

The problem in the West is different. There are no popular revolts in Western Europe, actual or imminent. The problem in Western Europe is at the governmental level.

At years' end it seemed there was a good chance that the Suez adventure might actually strengthen the western alliance through shock value.

As the Western European problem was at the governmental level rather than the popular level the considerations were more dispassionate than those of the men to the East of the Iron Curtain.

* * *

Statesmen in the West examined the result of their own work and tried to find better ways. The "better ways" pointed toward integration.

The splinter action by Britain and France in Suez brought unheated homes and half-empty streets to every nation in Western Europe.

* * *

The cost of the British and French action was borne by all the NATO countries in Europe. Therefore it was clear to all the alliance cannot afford individual actions which hurt the whole.

Norway's Foreign Minister Halvard Lange declared there must be a considerable degree of "pooling of sovereignty."

It seemed the Suez crisis, and its shared cost, made the leaders of nations see more clearly than ever the need for an integrated Europe.

Hungary made the Russians look brutal and menacing again.

HOMESICK — One Hungarian who wants to return to his homeland is Bela Czobel, noted painter, pictured in his Paris studio. Communists allow artists to visit abroad once a year, so he left Hungary recently with a Russian pass. He hopes to return early in 1957 because "I am 73 and I miss my house and the apple trees around it."

Dog License Due; County Winning Battle on Rabies

Oakland County dog owners should now acquire licenses for their pets, Dr. Frank R. Bates, director of the county Animal Shelter, said today.

He reminded county residents that dogs must be vaccinated for rabies within the preivous 12 months before acquiring a license.

"If it has been over 12 months," Dr. Bates said, "since the dog has been vaccinated, then it must be taken to a veterinarian for the required shot."

"We haven't had a single case of rabies in Oakland County since July 17, 1954, Dr. Bates said. This record is why we urge families to vaccinate and license their pets. Before vaccination became compulsory on Jan. 1, 1953, yearly totals of the disease in the county ranged in the 90's and 100's"

Reported rabies cases in the state of Michigan this year have decreased to 17 from numbers like 715 in 1940, 416 in 1945, 38 in 1955, he contihued.

U Nu Back at Helm as Burma Premier

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—U Nu, who advocates a policy of neutralism in foreign affairs, will resume the premiership of Burma which he resigned six months ago.

A government announcement said Nu, 49, will head the government while Premier U Ba Swe, 41, becomes one of three deputy premiers. The date of the shift was not disclosed.

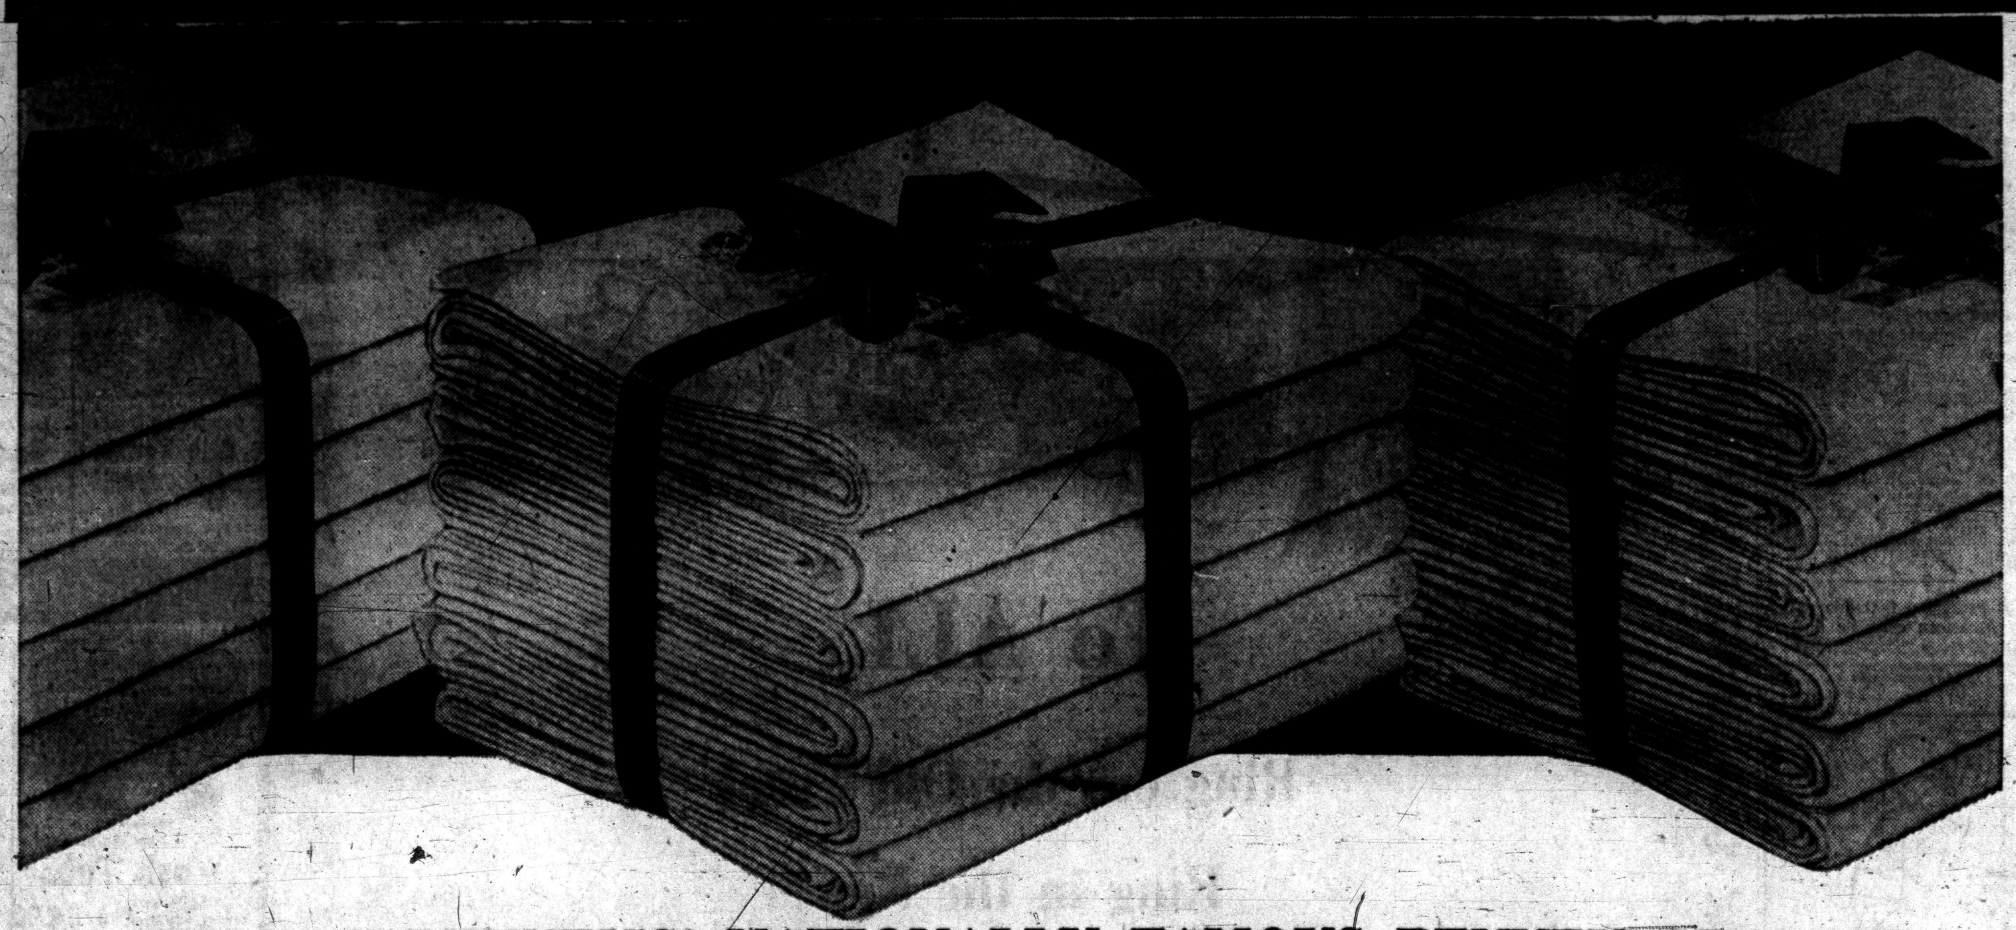

Nu has had a long career in Burmese politics. He negotiated Burma's independence from Britain in 1948. In the subsequent years, while taking a neutral position between the Communist and Western blocs, he headed the government during a protracted fight against Communist rebels.

Beat, Rape, Kill 12-Year-Old Girl

Latin American Boys Arrested, Questioned; Deny Brutal Attack

DALLAS (AP)—The body of Jeannette Irene Mangan, 12, was found stripped, raped, beaten and shot in an isolated area last night.

* * *

Her 14-month-old brother, Dick Dean, was found asleep in the tall grass a short distance away. Police said his fingers were smeared with blood, indicating he had clung to his sister's body for some time.

* * *

Police Chief Carl Hansson said two Latin American youths, 16 and 19, had been arrested, but said they denied the attack.

M. D. Mangan, unemployed father of the children and five others, said Jeannette had taken four soda bottles "to trade them down at the store for some candy for the baby."

* * *

Doctors at Parkland Hospital said the little boy was all right.

But police said he probably would have been killed except for Joe Pena, 17. Pena told police of seeing two boys washing blood from their car.

Police said Pena quoted the boys as saying they had raped and killed a girl and were going back to kill the little boy they had left in the field.

Water Wins the Spotlight on Dreary Morning After

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—On New Year's morning after the night before many ailing Americans have a sudden personal interest in one of the world's oldest wonder drugs.

It is called water.

Some wish to quaff it, hoping to bank an interior fire. Some want to rub it on their wrists, some to douse it on their hair and temples. A few want to crawl under a cool shower and lie there.

STEAM AND PONDER

Some elders wish merely to sit in a room in which water has been turned to steam as they sweat and ponder the follies of the year past—and their hopes for the year ahead.

* * *

Just what is this magic substance, water, which so many people get interested in for a single day? Why do they want to surround it—or it to surround them?

Is water good or bad for the human race?

Scientists and bartenders regard it as an essential to normal life. But poets and philosophers disagree as to the importance it should have in a well-run civilization.

VARYING VIEWS

"Water is the best of all things." Pindar, 475 B.C.

* * *

"Drinking water neither makes a man sick, nor in debt, nor his wife a widow." H. G. Bonn, 1855, who apparently never heard of typhoid fever.

Yet the ancient Chinese did. They have a proverb that goes, "Water is feared less than fire, yet fewer suffer by fire than by water."

* * *

"Water doth very greatly deject the appetite, destroy the natural heat, and overthrow the strength of the stomach, and consequently it is the cause of crudities, fluctuations and windiness in the body." Tobia Venner, 1620.

WINE WINS OUT

The quotations in anthologies ranging from those of H. L. Mencken to Burton Stevenson deal with wine twice as often as they do with water.

* * *

Briefly, to summarize the situation for the thirsty, here are some basic facts about water:

It is a chemical combination of Hydrogen and Oxygen.

It ranks with alcohol as one of the greatest solvents discovered by man, but mixed together the two often don't solve anything.

* * *

WATERY WORLD

Of the total surface of the globe about 142 million square miles is covered by water, and 55 million by land.

* * *

Water, when real cold, comes in little and big chunks called ice cubes and icebergs. It can also be a vapor but is generally fluid. In this form it is wet, one of its many properties that often make it appealing on New Year's Day.

Two final things to remember: A gallon of water weighs 8.33 pounds; and if anyone really feels like going overboard for water the best place might be the Marianas Trench in the Pacific where the water—it's salty—is 35,640 feet deep.

There is reported actually to be a single case in medical annals of a person who, while on dry land, drank so much water he drowned.

But isn't there always, in every situation, one guy who doesn't know when to quit?

2 Passengers Killed as Bus Runs Into Truck

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo. (AP)—Two passengers in the front seat of a Greyhound bus died yesterday when it smashed into the rear of a semi-trailer truck loaded with soy beans.

Twenty-eight others were injured, two seriously, in the collision 43 miles east of here on U.S. Highway 30, Wyoming's main east-west route. Both vehicles were westbound on a slight downgrade.

Bomb Threats Public Nuisance

Wave of False Alarms Hampers Police Effort to Find Real Danger

NEW YORK (AP) — Police today sought to stamp out a wave of false bomb threats they say are hampering the hunt for New York's elusive "Mad Bomber."

Since last Monday when an explosive attributed to the "Bomber" was found in New York's Public Library, police have been deluged with 41 calls.

* * *

Operating on a better-safe-than-sorry theory, police checked out all the threats. Only one proved legitimate. That led to discovery of a real bomb early Friday in the Paramount Theater on Times Square.

* * *

That missile, and the one at the library, were found unexploded. The "Bomber" has been sought since 1940. Police say he has planted at least 34 bombs in public places. Twenty two have exploded, injuring 15 persons. No fatalities have resulted.

* * *

Four bomb threats calls were recorded today. Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy warned that hoaxers, if caught, would be liable to imprisonment for up to three years.

* * *

The "Bomber" craze has not been confined to the New York area alone. Homemade explosives or false bomb alarms have been reported in Dallas, Tex., Kansas City, Mo., Wichita, Kan., Haverhill, Mass., Hartford, Conn., Philadelphia, Newark and Rahway, N.J., among others.

50,000 Iowans Out for Pasadena Picnic

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — You probably could have paved a path from Pasadena to Sioux City with all the Iowans who attended that state's 57th annual picnic.

"There must be 50,000 people here," said William Larrabee, president of the Iowa Assn. of Southern California, sponsor of the event.

The crowd sang fight songs of the University of Iowa, today's opponent of Oregon State in the Rose Bowl, and official greetings were extended by Iowa's Gov. Leo A. Hoegh.

State VFW Head Backs Potter Committee Idea

LANSING (AP) — Max C. McCarn, State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, has pledged the organization's backing to a proposal for a standing committee on veterans affairs in the U. S. Senate.

Creation of such a group has been suggested by Sen. Potter (R-Mich). Under existing procedures, legislation affecting veterans usually goes to the Finance and Labor or Public Welfare committee.

McCarn said 17 bills affecting veterans passed the House this year but got stalled in the Senate, and died.

"Count Your Blessings"

No other nation on the face of the globe can say "Happy New Year" as sincerely and as earnestly as the residents of the United States of America.

This means YOU.

We are the favored people on this globe. We have the most security, the most to eat, the highest standard of living and the greatest peace of mind known to civilization today.

★ ★ ★

If something bothers you, just remember that elsewhere the same problem is much more serious and is bothering many times as many people and bothering them to a much greater extent.

Today marks a new year.

★ ★ ★

At no time in history can a nation "count its blessings" and reach the huge total that confronts us right now. Whatever your station, whatever your position in life and whatever your current situation, you are infinitely better off than you would be in Europe, Asia, South America or the South Seas.

★ ★ ★

Occasionally, we should all check up on ourselves. This is a good time to do it. The most horrible fate we can conjure for the Russian agitators in this country would be a swift deportation to the land for which they cheer.

★ ★ ★

Changes Taking Place in Russia Constantly

As the new year dawns, Russia faces the inescapable fact that things are not "going well' for them in the world at large and also right at home.

★ ★ ★

One Maxim Z. Zuburov has just been given the pitch as the Head Man in the current Russian Five Year Plan. The simple home folk were growing restless and uneasy as twelve months passed under his "leadership" and the people found themselves as badly off — or worse — as they had been when this sainted savior took their salvation in hand. Half a dozen of his personal henchmen were given the Bronx cheer at the same time and repudiated right along with him.

★ ★ ★

Mikhail G. Pervukhin replaces Zuburov.

The "executive vice presidents" change, too.

Thus the sullen and resentful Russian people are assured that "all will be well" as the new gang takes over. The hopes for the future are as big as ever. The new regime "has everything in hand," although it isn't actually promised as glibly as usual. The Head Men don't dare to be to specific this time.

They've failed too often.

The new factory program has been lessened and the top brass admits that their ambitions along these lines exceeded their capacity to produce.

Of course, part of the collapse of the current Five Year Plan lies in the fact that the satellite nations haven't produced as much for Russia as the leaders planned. Things have gone seriously awry. Take Hungary, for example.

★ ★ ★

Take Hungary.

See what happened.

Instead of goods and materials extorted from down trodden masses, the Russians have faced an open revolt, a work stoppage and latent hostility they hadn't dreamed.

★ ★ ★

Vice President Nixon asserts that this movement has dealt international Communism a knock-out blow. He may be optimistic, but the Russians are very unhappy about the whole thing.

The Commies are having their troubles.

Good!

Ike Helps in Emergency

A big man is hard to find but in President Eisenhower the United States has not only a leader but a man concerned with the welfare of all people. This came to light again recently in one of his decisions.

★ ★ ★

When Prime Minister Nehru was to come to this country the President sent his personal plane to London to transport him. After completing the conferences in this country Nehru was taken back across the Atlantic the same way.

★ ★ ★

Under normal circumstances the specially built plane would have returned home empty of passengers. But no, President Eisenhower ordered the plane to Munich, Germany, to pick up a load of Hungarian refugees for transport to this country.

The Man About Town

We're Backward

About Asking for Markers for Our Centennial Farms

1957: What should be better than 1956 in one big respect— it hasn't a general election.

The first of each year I get word from Lansing that the Pontiac area is lagging in one respect — many of our farmers who are qualified for centennial markers are not asking for them. Oakland County has over 100 farms that have been in the ownership of one family for a century or more. Yet only about one-half of them have been marked. Very few applications were filed during 1956.

If your property has been in the ownership of your ancestors and yourself for a total of 100 years or more, all that is necessary is to write the at Lansing, and the required qualification blanks will be sent you. There is no charge for their service. When you have established the claim, you will receive a substantial metal marker and cerificate.

Oakland County promises to keep near the top in Michigan Republican circles. Among the ten men prominently mentioned for state chairman are of Birmingham, and

Al. Fortino

of Alma, who got his start at Holly.

Latest gift of $25,000 to Flint's college and cultural development comes from former Pontiac men, brothers, now in business in Flint. Clarence was a foreman with the old Oakland Motor Car Co. here. James was born in Pontiac, but has lived in Flint several years.

Clarence and James Moen,

Local army draft boards are asked to send 36 men as their January quota. The Pontiac City board sends 8, and the out-county board sends 28. The induction date for both is Jan. 10.

Word comes directly from

Gerald E. Eddy,

Chairman of the Michigan Department of Conservation, that our state's facilities for outdoor recreation were strained to their limits in 1956, many people being turned away from the state parks and other outdoor playgrounds.

What a Row to Hoe

A Year of Unanswered Questions

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This was truly an extraordinary year: it not only raised some of the biggest unanswered questions since World War II but forced hundreds of millions of people to re-examine their thinking.

* * *

The questions howl for answers —answers which may change the history of mankind, for they cover most of the main areas of the earth: the West, Middle Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

* * *

The Russians lost more ground in world opinion in 1956 than in any year since the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917. The biggest of all the unanswered questions of the year is: What will the Russians do in 1957?

Their massacre of the revolting Hungarians compelled people everywhere — non-Communists and Communists with illusions — to recognize that the basic Russian foreign policy is old-style colonialism.

* * *

The Kremlin's new appearance of good fellowship was proved to be a cover for an essentially cannibalistic policy.

The revolts in Poland and Hungary showed the iron grip of Russia could be loosened, if not broken, and that the captive people, after 11 years of exposure and indoctrination, loathe communism.

These disasters for Russia had their roots in the relaxed policy which the Kremlin announced in February.

Now these questions arise: Will the Kremlin scrap that policy and revert to the iron rule of Stalin? Would anything it did now stop the breakup of its empire? What will the West do to help such a breakup? No answer to any of these is visible yet.

* * *

At the beginning of 1956 the Western alliance — particularly among the United States, Britain and France—was solid, based on a policy of staying armed to block Russian expansion.

Before year's end the alliance was shaken by the British-French attack on Egypt and the United States' reaction. This country not only disapproved but led the United Nations into pressuring Britain and France to withdraw from Egypt.

That break, creating distrust on both sides in the alliance, is not fully healed. It probably will be. The main enemy is still Russia. The Allies weaken themselves by splitting up. Britain and France can hardly turn to Russia.

* * *

The 1957 questions for the Western Allies: Will they work together closely again? How will they handle Russia and the problems they face in the Middle East, especially the problem of Egyptian President Nasser.

The unanswered questions about the Middle East: Will Nasser talk business? Will war break out there again? How much progress can the Russians make? What can be done to keep the Middle East away from Russia?

In Asia all through 1956 the Red Chinese followed a mild policy. India's Nehru, the neutralist, had his eyes opened by the Russian performance in Hungary. Will this shove him and the other non-Communist Asians toward the West? Or will Nehru and his friends try to play it down the middle as before?

LI'L ONES

"Cheer up, Walter. It may only be puppy-love."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Melancholy Fades Away With Daily Nip (of Iodine)

"When I was a girl in Buffalo, you advocated a daily ration of iodin for everybody. I remember that mother, a great follower of yours, decided my listlessness, moping, and slight lump in the throat might be from lack of iodin, and I started taking the iodin ration as your recommended.

Soon I began to feel better and take new interest in life. I continued taking iodin for a year or more and then forgot it. Until here in Berkeley I began to feel tired all the time, no pep, downright melancholy.

Wished I could remember what kind of iodin . . . as though by telepathic communication, one day I picked up the paper and there you were — at least your name — with an article titled 'Iodin Chases Blues.'

I wrote at once for your pamphlet, got back on my daily nip of iodin, and thanks to you I'm back to my normal self and feeling just wonderful . . ." (Signed)

OMITTED REPORT

You know, I was a little disappointed in the Berkeley lady's report. Glad to hear from a reader who derived some benefit from this column, but the lady failed to state whether she has noticed return of natural color to her graying hair.

Seriously, as I have said before, I don't know whether a suitable daily or weekly intake of iodin actually restores natural color to prematurely gray hair. I'll believe that when I see it. All I know is that a good many readers taking iodin have assured me that their gray or graying hair has regained more or less of its natural color.

All right, all right, I have said. If one looks at one's graying hair, it never looks so gray when one is in good spirits as it does when one is melancholy.

LACK PREVALENT

Iodin deficiency of moderate degree is as widely prevalent in North America as calcium deficiency is. Consumption of more milk, cheese, eggs, peas, beans, greens, nuts, and peanuts might prevent calcium deficiency.

Consumption of more sea food might prevent iodin deficiency. But only a small minority of the population will heed such advice or alter their diet habit so long as they can drag along as they are.

I'm still advocating a daily ration of iodin for every man, woman and child in the country. This does not mean that anyone should take medicinal doses of iodin without the advice and supervision of a physician. The daily ration of iodin I recommend is not more than one should get from food or water.

* * *

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Childhood Notion May Be Distorted

Gladys offers an interesting problem, so scrapbook her case. It will show you one of the underlying reasons why psychiatrists probe deep into your childhood to eradicate long-standing phobias. Don't let mistaken childhood notions fetter your adult happiness! Send for the leaflet below and grow up in your emotions.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-362: Gladys T., aged 19, has lived in Miami since she was eight years old.

"Dr. Crane, I have an interesting problem," she began, "and a lot of my friends have reported the same situation.

* * *

"For example, I moved down here to Miami when I was in the third grade. And just recently I visited my old home in Philadelphia.

"Since school was in session, I decided to go back and see if my former teachers were still there.

"One of them was and I had a good visit with her. But what shocked me was the fact the classroom seemed so small.

"Throughout all those intervening years, I had remembered it as a very large room. In my imagination it seemed to be twice as big as I found it.

"How do you explain this problem of mine?"

SPACE CUES

At birth, a baby has no sense of space or size. If one tree is 20 feet away and another is 100 feet, he can't tell the difference.

But after he begins to crawl or walk, he soon finds out that he reaches the more distinct tree first, and must crawl much farther to arrive at the hazy tree.

* * *

In that simple manner, he thus learns that relative clarity of outline indicates distance.

He also finds that of two standard objects, such as mature maple trees, the one that looks smaller on the horizon is father away.

These facts are acquired subconsciously, even before he arrives at kindergarten, although at the age of 12 months he may have sat on his mother's lap and literally reached out for the moon.

SMALL CLASSROOMS

When Gladys was a kindergarten student, her classroom seemed very large to her for at least two reasons.

First, in contrast to the rooms in her home, it actually was large.

Second, as a child it took her many more steps to cross the room in either direction. And we subconsciously use our stride to determine distance.

Gladys then grew to adulthood in Miami. But her childhood impression of the large classroom still remained.

When she returned to Philadelphia and again visited the same schoolroom, her present stride was much greater than it had been prior to the age of eight years.

* * *

But she had failed to realize that her subconscious measuring stick (stride) had been lengthening.

So, like most of us, she found her former classroom apparently much dwarfed.

CORRECT CHILDISH IDEAS

All of us need to correct many childish impressions that still disturb our adult peace of mind.

Many people in adulthood still refuse to eat healthful foods just because of some silly childhood episode.

Maybe, for example, the individual over-ate and thus became very sick. So he has allowed his nausea to attach to that food throughout all the intervening years.

In such cases it is wise to retrain one's self. Never be a life-long slave to inefficient childhood impressions.

* * *

A kindergarten fear of toads or of bugs or of lightning or of ghosts, may thus continue to fetter the happiness of millions of adults all because they do not consciously analyze the childhood nature of their early terror and banish it in the light of later adult facts.

Send for my booklet "How to Control the Emotions," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It will help you become master of your fears.

Suggests Traffic Changes for Decrease in Accidents

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Let's do something now! After reading the article, "Fatalities Hit New Peak," may I suggest for Pontiac that our two main streets immediately have "No Left Turns" signs placed at all signal lights and "No Turns" at the corners of Saginaw and Huron, Saginaw and Lawrence, and "No Right Turn" at Mt. Clemens and North Saginaw?

With traffic attempting to turn with people walking in such large numbers at these corners, it is impossible to move traffic through the downtown areas.

Also, to prevent so many accidents at Huron and Telegraph, why not prohibit all left turns at that corner?

Too many people drive round and round the block, wating for a meter or maybe for their wives to finish shopping so she can be picked up at the curb. Let's all park at the first city parking lot and walk to the shopping district. Pontiac now has city parking on both sides of Saginaw and also both ends of town.

Another safety rule could be used. Perhaps a 15-mile speed limit near schools could be enforced. Many cities and states now have this law.

Gives His Support to Sweepstakes

Apparently Britain is badly in need of cash. Someone suggested the other day that the Irish people run a dozen world-wide sweepstakes and raise enough money to buy North Ireland from the British. This would make the Irish happy and would give the hard cash to the Government that needs it so desperately. I'll guarantee to buy a small hat full of tickets myself. I think the Irish lotteries are honestly run.

'Should Teachers Slap Pupil's Face?'

Should teachers slap pupils in the face? Last week my son came home from school with fingerprints on his face, put there by a teacher. I called the school and politely asked what happened. I was told the teacher had gone but that I would be called the next day about the matter.

I have not been called, so I'm wondering if maybe the teacher wasn't partly in the wrong also. If my son misbehaves I want him punished, but he has a slapping place, and it doesn't happen to be his face either. I wonder what other parents think about the matter?

Wants Williams Groomed for '60

I hope the Democrats start grooming Governor Williams right now for the Presidential nomination in four years. He's the man this country needs in the White House. He's the only man that can get elected Governor of Michigan every time he runs. He even does it when Eisenhower sweeps the state.

Some people are just natural vote getters. The President is one himself. But don't forget that Michigan has the same kind of candidate in G. Mennen Williams. The party must make the biggest possible use of his talents in 1960.

F. G. Eyes Nehru With Suspicion

I hope President Eisenhower and the State Department view this Nehru with the proper suspicion. I think he's purely an opportunist and will talk out of the side of his mouth that best suits his fancy that day.

Can he tell why he has been so friendly with the Russians? Can he explain what India's intentions really are? The guy blows hot and cold at will. I only hope our State Department is sufficiently suspicious.

Says Albanians About to Revolt

According to reports, the Russians are really getting into a worse and worse jam (fortunately). The smallest of all the satellite nations, Albania, is about to rebel. Good. They have been kicked around and knocked into the ground ruthlessly by a Commie hood named Hoxha. A well ordered revolt might show the Reds they haven't any friends anywhere among their "possessions."

For 21 Americans, 1957 Looms as a Happy New Year--Indeed

(In politics, 1956 was an "Eisenhower year." But with the President barred from seeking a third term, with Adlai Stevenson finished as a presidential possibility there will be new faces coming to the front of both the Republican and Democratic crowds. In the following article, 2nd of a series devoted to what and who are up-and-coming in '57, one of Washington's most noted reporters points out the men and women to watch in the coming year.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — Twenty men and a woman—some already familiar to millions and others little known outside official circles—are slated to assume increased power and prestige during the exciting new political year ahead.

Top man on Horatio Alger's "bound to rise" totem pole would almost certainly be 43-year-old Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who has already tipped off his rising stature with a full-fledged foreign policy speech which gave the administration's blessing to increased aid for our European allies.

Republican national Chairman Leonard Hall, as astute a politician as Washington has seen since James A. Farley's early New Deal days, frankly disclosed on a recent national television program that Nixon has been marked for vastly enlarged duties and responsibilities.

Some are frankly predicting that the youthful Californian is to be deliberately groomed for the presidential nomination in 1960.

Hall himself is expected to play an increasingly important role in the political guidance of the Eisenhower administration. The jolly, rotund New Yorker who gave up a judgeship to steer the Grand Old Party, has been proved so right in his calculation of the temper of the American electorate that President Eisenhower now listens to Hall, rather than Attorney General Herbert Brownell, on vital political matters.

IF SUMMERFIELD QUITS

Should Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield resign, as generally anticipated since his recent throat operation, Hall is slated for that high ranking cabinet post.

White House insiders will tell you that another "man to watch" is Interior Secretary Fred Seaton, a former senator who is so popular with both Democrats and Republicans on Capitol Hill that he can be considered a potential GOP presidential nominee in '60.

The "woman to watch" is retiring Ambassador to Italy Clare Boothe Luce. Although she is withholding her acceptance until February for a re-check of her delicate health, the attractive bombshell is expected to assume a high post either in the State Department or the White House. She may possibly succeed Harold Stassen as "Secretary for Peace," a post which holds unofficial Cabinet status.

The American people will become increasingly aware of Paris-born Christian Herter, retiring governor of Massachusetts who shortly takes over the desk of Herbert Hoover Jr. as No. 2 man at the Department. A former Congressman, well liked on Capitol Hill, Herter shares Ike's "New Look" Republican views to a greater extent than does Secretary of State Dulles, whom he may ultimately succeed.

HUMPHREY IS STRONG

The two men who will most intimately affect your pocketbook and market basket during the coming year are Treasury Secretary George Humphrey, "strong man" of the Eisenhower cabinet, and William McChesney Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

Multimillionaire Humphrey is expected to remain at his desk at least until the giant money bills have passed Congress next summer, and until he has molded the tax and fiscal patterns for the second Eisenhower administration.

As the top conservative in government, Humphrey will probably do all in his power to curtail any grandoise ideas for another foreign spending program of Marshall Plan proportions.

Martin, as the architect of the current "tight money" policy, will wield terrific influence in curbing, or losing the battle against inflation.

Three other administration men to keep an eye on during the coming year are:

Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles, fair-haired boy of the military services, who has won for the Air Force the exclusive right to develop the long-range guided missiles program. He may step into Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's spot at the Pentagon.

Arthur Larson, official biographer of the new Eisenhower "progressive conservative" political philosophy who has recently assumed control of the United States Information agency and its Voice of America project. This post is regarded by many as a stepping-stone for Larson to enormously increased responsibilities in the administration.

Robert (Bobby) Cutler of Boston, who has been persuaded to return to the White House as special assistant for National Security affairs. In this role, Butler will boss the vital national Security Council which dominates our foreign and defense strategy.

MILT AND GRUENTHER

In unofficial capacities, two other men will greatly influence presidential decisions.

They are Gen Alfred E. Gruenther, Ike's closest friend and advisor who has returned from NATO to head the American Red Cross; and Milton Eisenhower, the President's youngest brother who, as new president of nearby Johns Hopkins University, will be increasingly called on by Ike for advice on both foreign and domestic matters.

By all odds the most powerful Democrat during the coming session will be House Speaker Sam Rayburn who, thanks to a victorious Democratic House and Senate in the face of an Eisenhower landslide, will speak with the greatest authority for his party. The mentor of senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson, who is also from Texas, "Mr. Sam" consequently will wield great influence with both houses of Congress, as well as with the national committee.

DEMS TO WATCH

The most up-and-coming Democratic senators to watch will be: 89-year-old Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island, who for the first time will head the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, its second ranking Democrat.

Others will include: Mike Mansfield of Montana, probable new Democratic Senate whip; Humbert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, most vocal spokesman for the insurgent northern liberal group; Wayne Morse of Oregon, who retained his seat despite herculean administration efforts to defeat him with former Interior Secretary Douglas McKay; and Frank Lausche of Ohio, five-times governor whose vote-getting propensities and political unpredictability will insure him much wooing by both political leaderships.

Two Republican senators, John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, can also expect increased personal stature during the coming session. Saltonstall is slated for chairmanship of the Republican conference, which entitles him to attend the weekly legislative sessions with the President at the White House.

Cooper, as former ambassador to India, will undoubtedly be consulted frequently about the expected shift in U. S. foreign policy to mend our fences with the neutral, uncommitted nations of the Far East.

Assured Financial Help

French 'Insiders' Fretted as Ike Quashed Rumors

By ELIE MAISSI

PARIS (INS)—President Eisenhower probably doesn't know it, but a statement he made last November killed off, at least for one day, one of France's most flourishing industries — rumor mills.

At the height of the Suez crisis, the President publicly reassured Britain and France the U. S. had no intention of letting them founder economically and thus destroy the results of 12 years of American financial help.

This statement confounded the "experts," made hash of "first-hand and absolutely reliable" information and angered the hundreds of people who pay handsomely for just such word from the horse's mouth.

Every large world capital has self-styled specialists who grind out information, much of it false or exaggerated, for the edification and education of their clients. But in Paris it's big business.

LATEST RUMOR

The most recent of the sensational, and false, rumors—that Gen. Charles De Gaulle would come back as a quasi-dictator and that the French economy would collapse—eventually were printed in newspapers in France and abroad.

The stories were credited to "very reliable sources" or were said to be based on "secret" information. Both, competent observers believe, were hogwash.

There was certainly some evidence that Premier Guy Mollet's government was weakened by the Algerian and Suez crises and the consequent strain on the French pocketbook.

COUP REPORTED

But the confidential bulletins to which so many Frenchmen subscribe said it was all but a sure thing that some elements were planning a coup d'etat which would result in De Gaulle's returning to power and President Rene Coty's resigning.

The tipsters then told their clients that France had been humiliated in Egypt and that President Eisenhower had decided to get rid of Mollet to "punish" him.

* * *

There was certainly a feeling in responsible French government circles that the national economy could be jeopardized. But this feeling was picked and translated by the so-called experts into predictions of a catastrophe.

The catastrophe, like the return of De Gaulle, hasn't happened.

Mr. Eisenhower's statement gave France new hope and, for a few rare hours, cleared the air of Paris of the plague of rumors, reports and fables.

Air Passengers Soar

PARIS (AP)—Twice as many persons made trips by plane in 1956 as in 1951, the International Air Transport Assn. reports. A total of 78 million passengers have been flown over the world's airlines this year—and that does not include figures for the Soviet Union and Red China.

'57 Looks 'Hopeful' —John Foster Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Looking into the New Year, Secretary of State Dulles sees "reasons for hope" in the diplomatic struggle against Russian communism, but "the future is not without its dangers."

And during the New Year, he said in a year-end statement last night, "the United States will have to accept an increasing responsibility to assist the free nations of the Middle East, and elsewhere, to maintain their freedom and develop their welfare."

Dulles said "a rising tide of patriotism" is apparent in Poland and other satellite countries, and Communist parties elsewhere "show signs of wanting to speak for themselves."

But he said the Soviet rulers "are still powerful and they still seek success."

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

HAPPY NEW YEAR

One of the oldest of wishes is "Happy New Year." It is said all over the world by many people in many languages.

You can make this card, too, and send it to parents, friends or relatives. Cut out the picture along the heavy lines and paste it down on cardboard. If you like you can leave an edge around the upper part. But when you color this picture with crayons make sure you make the edge a different color.

Run a paste brush lightly over the background and along the edges of the lettering panel. Then sprinkle confetti on it. Some will stick to the paste and give the card a gay New Year appearance.

When your card is finished, fold the bottom center panel forward on the dotted line and fold the two end panels under. Then your card will stand up.

Measuring time by calendar is a story in itself. So, for the rest of the week we will bring you that story together with a calendar for yourself.

(Sherry Baker of Shreveport, La., was the first to send this idea and receives $10. You may win an award if you send your suggestions to this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Rugged Rodent Leaves Firemen Hanging on String

WOODBRIDGE, N. J. (AP)—All that is needed is a stronger string and an ambitious rodent, and firemen believe their novel cable method will work.

Their method involves using a rat and a string — and thereby hangs a tail.

The string was attached yesterday, in the latest of several attempts, to the tail of what an electrician termed "the most cooperative rat we've ever used."

He got 600 of the 730-feet through a pipe under the New Jersey Turnpike. But then the string broke and the rodent disappeared.

If a rat ever completes the trip, a cable will be tier to the string and drawn in turn through the pipe for use on a fire alarm system for a nearby housing project.

Symphony Leaders Feted

The board of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra and the Women's Association sponsosed an open house for members of the orchestra Sunday. Mrs. Maxwell L. Shadley (left) was hostess at her home on Ottawa drive for the affair. The open house honored Francesco Di Blasi (right), conductor of the symphony, and Mrs. Di Blasi (center).

150 Attend Open House in Pontiac

Francesco Di Blasi, Celia M. Turner Are Guests of Honor

Francesco Di Blasi, conductor of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, and Celia Merrill Turner, associate conductor, were honored at an open house Sunday, held in the Ottawa drive home of Dr. and Mrs. Maxwell L. Shadley.

Members of the Board of Directors and the Women's Association of the symphony orchestra were sponsors of the affair, which was attended by approximately 150.

Richard C. Poole, president of the board of directors, announced that the next concert, on Jan. 23 at Lincoln Junior High School, will feature James Tamburim and Lare Wardrop. Tamburim plays solo trumpet and Wardrop the English horn. Also to be featured will be Paula Bookstine, violinist.

Mrs. Joseph Walker was chairman of the refreshment committee at Sunday's affair, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Bennett, Mrs. Charles Uligian, Mrs. Fred Coleman, Mrs. S. V. Sekles, and Mrs. Robert Bronoel.

Others were Mrs. Vernon C. Abbott, Mrs. B. B. Roush, Mrs. Arnold Hillerman, Mrs. Paul Gorman, Mrs. Herman Dickstein and Mrs. William B. Donaldson.

Don't Let Age Prejudice Stop You

Over 45? Here Are Job-Hunting Tips

Clerical, sales and unskilled jobs are the ones most frequently closed to older workers, but a surprisingly high proportion of skilled and professional jobs are restricted, too.

Age prejudice turns up most often in these industries: Durable goods manufacture, insurance, real estate and wholesale and retail trades. Older job seekers get better breaks in service industries and in the construction business. One big employer that hires without age prejudice is the federal government.

People over 45 who are job hunting should bear these tips in mind.

Examine your outlook. Tough as things may seem, industry needs people, and undoubtedly you possess abilities that can be used.

Set your aims. What kind of job do you want this time?

Don't worry about slowing down. You may be overemphasizing the problem out of fear.

Face the possibility that you may have to change your ocupation, take less pay, move to another location or work odd hours.

Learn how to look for a job. When you go out to sell yourself to an employer, don't apologize for your age; be matter of fact. Above all, hang on to your self-confidence. Somewhere there's an employer who needs your experience and abilities.

Dorothy Tolbert Marries Evan Downey

A floor-length gown of French imported lace and maline was worn by Dorothy J. Tolbert for her marriage Saturday to Evan L. Downey.

The fitted bodice of the bridal gown was fashioned with tapered sleeves and a Peter Pan collar, embroidered with iridescent paillettes. Alternate tiers of hand-clipped lace and maline made up the full skirt that fell into a chapel sweep.

A tiara of paillettes held her veil of illusion. Her flowers were sweetheart roses and shattered carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. David Tolbert of East Longfellow avenue are parents of the bride, and Evan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Downey of Lancaster, Ohio.

AT PILGRIM CHURCH

The Rev. E. C. Swanson of Pontiac Pilgrim Holiness Church officiated at the service assisted by the Rev. M. L. Goodman of Owosso. The ceremony was held at Pontiac Pilgrim Holiness Church.

Mrs. F. J. Motsinger, sister of the bride, was her matron of honor. Her gown was of bonnet blue velveteen with a taffeta skirt and overskirts of net and chiffon. She carried yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Lois Mitchell of Owosso and Marilyn Thomas of Ferndale were bridesmaids. They were gowned identically to the matron of honor, and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

BROTHER TAKES PART

Paul Downey of Owosso was his brother's best man. Male attendants were Lowell Downey of Lancaster, Ohio, and Carroll Johnson of Owosso. Seating the guests were Lloyd Carson and Dick Grimes.

At the reception, held at the YWCA, Mrs. Tolbert greeted her guests wearing a navy blue suit with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Downey chose a navy dress with pink trim and matching accessories. She also wore a corsage of pink roses.

* * *

MRS. EVAN L. DOWNEY

Dorothy J. Tolbert and Evan L. Downey were married Saturday. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Tolbert of East Longfellow avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Downey of Lancaster, Ohio.

Wrinkles Warn You Don't Be Careless

If you have become aware of the appearance of tiny wrinkles, take particular care not to let your skin become dry.

Use a good night cream faithfully. The application of adhesive plaster across the wrinkke, gently pulling the skin smooth first, sometimes helps.

Coming Events

Bill and Eddie Bonner of Delaware drive and Judy Smith of Tilden avenue hosted a pre-dance party at the Bonner residence Tuesday evening prior to the Keloa Klub New Year's Eve party held at the YMCA.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth P. Pantone of Ferry avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Kenneth David, Dec. 30 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Grandparents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. John Kent of Ferry avenue and Lowell E. Poling of Bay street.

The lipstick that's going places with the younger set is a soft pink color called "Busy Number." Smooth and creamy and long lasting, it gives just the right amount of grownup emphasis to a teenager's lips.

DAV Auxiliary Distributes Gifts

Those making the visit included Mrs. Kenneth French, Mrs. Roseline Hickman, Mrs. Viodra Bridges and Mrs. Ralph Ellsworth. Mrs. James Helvey, Mrs. William Lyons and Mrs. Ellsworth assisted Mrs. Willis Bugg, hospital chairman in wrapping the boxes.

Also assisting with the project were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cremer, Earl Franklin, Mrs. Amy Harp, Mrs. John Martin; Mrs. John Mangan, Mrs. Michael McAleer, Mrs. William Sawyer, Mrs. Don Schumacher, Mrs. Frank Stoner and Mrs. Don Thomas.

Florence E. Rivers Weds Harry Bulson

The marriage of their daughter, Florence Elizabeth, to Harry Clayton Bulson of Milwaukee, Wis., is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rivers of Hartford drive.

Patient in Hospital

Mrs. Nellie Orr of South Pemberton road is a patient at Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago, Ill. where she will undergo surgery on Wednesday.

Program Held by Story League

Mrs. J. R. Shaffer served as program chairman for Pontiac Story League when the group met recently in the Adah Shelly Library.

The story, "Seek Not Afar" was presented by Mrs. Walter Hedley. Mrs. Shaffer presented "It Happens Once A Year," by Elizabeth Yates, and "The Christmas Donkey" was given by Mrs. Robert Boggs.

Evaluators for the evening were Mrs. Theodore Fauble, Mrs. Oscar Schmidt and Grace Clark. Mrs. Kenneth Preston was a guest at the meeting.

Lively Animals, Circus Clowns Pep Up Nursery

This three-dimensional effect, no matter how slight, will prove intriguing to the child.

The gay colors of circus clowns and animals, or fairy tale characters, adds to the decor as well as the youngster's amusement.

You can provide the youngster with a weekly variety, if you want to take the trouble, by making them yourself, via tracings, and sticking them up with tiny bits of transparent tape.

MRS. GLORIA LUCK

Oakland Church Members Honor Youth Leader

Two hundred members of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church gathered at Fellowship Hall for a farewell dinner and program honoring Mrs. Gloria Luck.

Mrs. Luck has resigned after serving as youth director for five years. She organized the Pioneer Girls and the Boys Brigades, young people's groups in the church.

Representatives from 11 groups and organizations of the church spoke briefly of Mrs. Luck's work with them and commended her for her cooperation and interest in them.

Mrs. Luck was presented with gifts from various groups, and spoke briefly thanking them for the gifts and for their assistance in her work.

MRS. ROBERT BARTON CORBIN

Guyneth Ann Lanpher became the bride of Robert Barton Corbin Thursday evening. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Weston Lanpher of East Beverly avenue, and his parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Barton Corbin of Washington, N. J.

Corbin-Lanpher Nuptials Performed in Church Rite

The Rev. Alfred Barton Corbin of Christian Missionary Alliance Church, Washington, N. J., performed the ceremony Thursday evening uniting his son, Robert Barton Corbin, and Guyneth Ann Lanpher in marriage. He was assisted by the Rev. G. J. Bersche of the local Christian Missionary Alliance Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Weston Lanpher of East Beverly avenue are the parents of the bride.

For the service, witnessed by 150 guests, the bride wore a gown of nylon velvet with a high-collared neckline and fitted bodice. The princess styled dress, fastened down the front with self buttons, was fashioned with a back fullness that flared from the waistline. The gown was made by the bride's mother.

The bride's pillbox hat held a chapel-length veil of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of pink anthuriums.

Matrons of honor Mrs. Paul Winder of Washington, N. J., and Mrs. Bill Lanpher of Perry wore brocaded taffeta dresses and carried aqua and pink carnations in a semi-cascade arrangement. Their gowns were of peacock blue and turquoise respectively.

BRIDESMAID IN AQUA

Richard Pease was best man. Ushers were Bill Lanpher of Perry, Paul Winder of Washington, N. J. Neal Clarke of White Plains, N. Y., Robert Ellis of Windsor, Ont., and Cecil HoKanson of Baltimore, Md.

RECEPTION HELD

A reception was held at Roosevelt Temple immediately following the service.

Mrs. Lanpher chose a violet colored dress for her daughter's wedding. She wore black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Corbin wore a slate-blue dress with white and black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

'Just This Once' Insidious Foe

Make a regular habit of your beauty chores if you want them to pay you dividends. Never pass up creaming your face and hands or brushing your hair because you're too tired.

If you do this once, you'll do it often and that's the beginning of beauty neglect. It's easy to start thinking that it won't matter just once.

But presently, you'll notice that your hair is drab and lifeless and your skin dry and tending to collect wrinkles. At this point, you'll need to work twice as hard to regain lost ground.

Virtues Easily Can Become Vices

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Another old thought for the New Year!

Alexander Dumas wrote: "There are virtues which become crimes by exaggeration."

This is an interesting thought. Had you stopped to realize that a person who is extremely generous is likely to be extravagant? One who is thrifty may be "tight."

The extreme of gay is frivolous, those without fear may be reckless and those who are stoic may be stubborn. Of course this does not necessarily follow but we are apt to have the vices of our virtues.

It is possible to be conscientious to the point of being overbearing.

This young girl realizes now that she didn't know enough about wall-papering to attempt it alone. She realizes, too, the meaning of Josephine Lowman's comment, "unguided enthusiasm is frenzy."

Unguided enthusiasm is frenzy. Too much trust, without wisdom, is gullibility.

Ambition generally is considered to be a virtue, yet the person who is ridden by the need for personal gain may lose all sense of proportion. Both kindness and love, when too possessive, can be cruel.

PITY PERFECTIONIST

The perfectionist may create works of art out of her house, herself and her meals, but she may be lacking in spontaneity and adjustability. Even sadder, is the one who strives to be a perfectionist and cannot "make the grade." She ends up getting nothing done but lives in a state of perpetual frustration and dissatisfaction.

Thank heavens I always knew I could never be a perfectionist! Otherwise we would not have had so many friends in so often, and I would never have written one column, much less 365 a year!

What to do about this? Perhaps we should weigh our values carefully, hold onto our best characteristics and try to play down their diabolical twins.

Life seems to be a continual choice, the short range choice and the long range choice, and it takes a clever person to know how the two can be correlated into a pattern which makes any sense!

Resolutions Made to Be Broken!

Dallas Expert Says Guilt-Spurred Vows Seldom Are Kept

By WHITEY SAWYER

DALLAS (AP) — That New Year's resolution you broke this year and the one you're going to break next year — yes, you will — stem from a guilty feeling.

That's the word of Dr. Harold M. Chapman, director of psychological services at Southern Methodist University.

Dr. Chapman is quite cheerful about his prediction that you'll weaken.

* * *

"This morning I asked a class of about 15 how many had made New Year's resolutions at one time or another. All their hands went up.

"Then I asked how many had kept their resolutions. Not a single hand was in the air."

* * *

"What a person resolves would give a good indication of one's value, what one prizes,' he said.

And he added, "a feeling of guilt is the most fundamental reason behind New Year's resolutions."

"Giving up smoking and drinking are probably two of the most common,' he said.

"But they cover just about everything that human beings do.

* * *

"Other common ones probably would include to make more money, to spend less, to get along better with the wife, to get rid of her next year, and the like.

* * *

"But they always fall in some area of self-improvement or self-acceptance. There is an underlying need to become nearer the person one wishes to be."

Higher Waistline for 1957 Sheath

NEW YORK (NEA) — Pretty, full-skirted dresses and the sheath in many variations share honors in resort collections.

This year, the sheath gets a higher waistline look through midriff treatments and higher placement of the belt.

* * *

The cape, in combination with the slim sheath line, is new to resort fashions. Capelet ensembles look the newest. The cape may or may not be detachable but it's always in the same fabric as the dress: floating silk or lightweight wool.

Capes appear in another version, that of the pretty neckline with a wide, capelike collar. Lengths for the cape start at the elbow and go to the hip.

Women Find Satisfaction in Life's Little Triumphs

They Experience Their Greatest Pleasure Contemplating Safe, Happy Family

By RUTH MILLETT

A woman is never so pleased with herself as when—

She tries on a sheath dress that has been hanging in the back of her closet for months because it fit too snugly and finds it is no longer too small.

* * *

She strains her own ingenuity instead of her pocketbook to redo the living room, wielding paint brush herself, refinishing old furniture, etc., and a woman guest says casually, "What a charming room. Do you mind telling me the name of your decorator?"

She finally sells her husband on an idea he was dead set against and finds to her secret delight that she has been so subtle in her selling campaign that her husband is taking credit for the original idea.

She concocts a dish with a few leftovers, a dash of imagination and a soupcon of desperation in order to have a meal for unexpected guests and her husband says later that evening, "Boy, that was some meal. Why haven't you ever had that before?"

* * *

Looking through the dresses on a sales rack she sees a dress she wanted months ago but felt she couldn't afford marked down to half price. She not only can get the dress but she can get a bargain, and pat herself on the back for not having bought it at its original price.

She has said goodby to the last guest after a party and has the happy feeling that the party was a big success.

She finally finds the perfect retort to the "friend" whose cattiness for years has gone unchallenged.

* * *

She looks around the living room some evening and sees almost with the eyes of a stranger a happy family, safe and sound under one roof and for the moment each one looking content to be there, and thinks to herself, "I guess I'm not doing such a bad job after all."

Sturdy Drawers Practical Aspect of Buying Chest

MADISON, Wis. (INS) — There's more than storage space to consider in buying a new chest of drawers.

A home furnishings specialist advises that the way the drawers are made should be a top consideration in choosing a chest.

Look for dovetailing in both the front and back of the drawers. The sides and front should have grooves to hold the drawer bottom in firmly. There should be a dust-proof panel between the drawers — cardboard doesn't wear well enough for use there.

Also important, is to be sure drawers slide easily. The way to tell whether they do is to look for a center slide glued to the bottom of the drawer. This fits over the center part of the frame underneath the drawer and assures easy moving.

Keep Ankles Trim by Exercising Feet

Whenever you happen to think about it, it's a good idea to make a circle with each foot, say, 10 or 20 times.

Hippy? You Need Diet, Exercise and Good Girdle

If you've a hip problem, the most satisfactory thing to do about it is to reduce the measurements by exercise. But meanwhile, there are other things you can do to trim down your hips by optical illusion.

Always wear a good girdle and don't feel that you can go without it in pedal pushers, a housedress or blue jeans. You can't.

Keep your skirt colors darker than your blouse colors and stick to narrow belts. Stay away from tailored suits, tight, short skirts and the sheath dress. Full skirts or those with soft lines are better for you.

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter tells me: "After an evening club meeting our hostess served a delicious dessert—a huge wedge of home-made apple pie and a king size portion of ice cream on top of it. Half the size would have been sufficient for me. "I forced myself to finish it as I thought it would be rude to leave it and was very uncomfortable afterwards. Is it ever permissible to leave a large part of a serving on one's plate under the curcumstances?"

When you do not help yourself, it is not necessary to eat the entire amount that is presented to you. If you help yourself, you should not take more than you wish to eat.

Dear Mrs. Post: "I have always so much enjoyed not only telephoning my hostess to thank her again for her hospitality (within a few days) but have considered the calls I've had from guests after a party some of the 'best part' of entertaining. However, I've found that some people don't do this but often vanish for weeks, or until it's party-giving time again.

"Isn't this being rude, or am I being old-fashioned? I've heard it said that saying thank you when one leaves is sufficient, but very often when the party is quite large one barely even gets to see a departing guest and their hurried thanks couldn't possibly mean so much as a thoughtful call within a few days. Will you please give me your opinion?"

Answer: It is not considered necessary to telephone and thank a hostess a second time. There are, however, many who love this as you yourself do.

Dear Mrs. Post: "My son is planning to become engaged in several weeks. I have heard that his fiancee's parents are not going to give her an engagement party Under the circumstnaces, would it be proper for me to give it?"

Answer: You cannot give a party to announce the engagement, but after the announcement has been made by her family, it will be entirely proper for you to give a party in honor of the engagement.

Shure, Blarney Stone Has Magic Power

Tourists in Ireland kiss the Blarney Stone to test its magic power of conferring verbal eloquence. The word "blarney," came into the language as a result of the Lord of Blarney's dealing with Queen Elizabeth I.

Chile seeming to agree with her heavy tax demands, Blarney put her off with "fair words and soft speech." Finally, the Queen realized the deceit and declared: "All this is Blarney; what he says he never means."

One New Year Resolution Enough

By ANNE HEYWOOD

This year, instead of making new resolutions, how about hauling out a few of the old ones from years gone by, the ones you never really did put into effect?

Most of us, I think, make virtuous resolutions every New Year's Day and then forget them somewhere along the line. So this year let's make no new ones; just take one of the old ones and really put it to work.

One is enough. I've never known anybody who could follow through on a whole list of resolutions but I've known many who took one and really lived up to it—with remarkably effective results.

Another pointer I've learned through the years is this: When you make a resolution, don't just determine to exercise grim self-control. None of us are saints, and there's no sense expecting ourselves to be. Instead, think in terms of the advantages you will personally gain from carrying out the resolution.

Here, for example, are some which friends and readers of mine have carried out and with good results.

DIETER'S PROBLEM

1. "I am really going on a diet and get my figure back."

This, of course, takes a lot of doing. Even though we remind ourselves that it'll be worth it, we'll look younger and prettier — or handsomer as the case may be—that isn't always enough to help us resist temptation. So add to it the fact that you'll be able to get a much better job and make much more money if you're slim.

For example, the stout housewife who tries to enter the job market has a difficult time because, in addition to all the other strikes against her, she doesn't look efficient and businesslike.

The fat girl who already has a job, is probably limited in her opportunities. She's apt to be stuck behind the scenes where it is not only dull, but the salary is much lower.

FAT MAN, TOO

So, too, with the fat man. He doesn't seem up - and - coming, doesn't look as if he's worth the top salaries.

I've known this point of view to help dieters who have heretofore always failed.

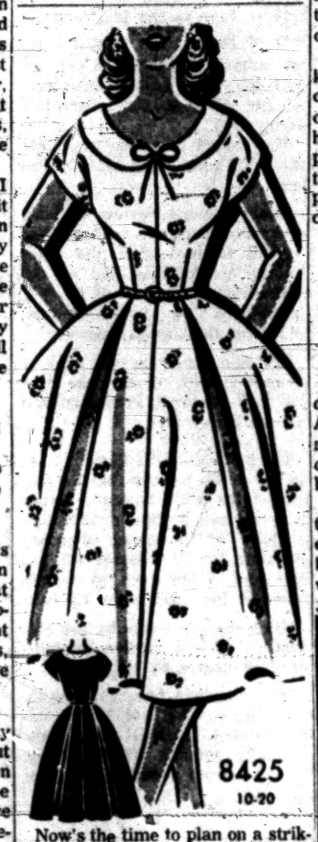

2. "I am going to stop wasting time and begin to accomplish things."

This is the real lulu.

We organize a schedule, plan to accomplish more than is humanly possible and end up with a guilt complex. This defeats our purpose and makes us accomplish less because we are dragging our own anchors with guilt.

* * *

Instead, start on one really creative interest, something self-indulgent that you've always wanted to do, like painting or music. You'll find yourself so interested in it, so anxious to fit it in, that you'll organize your life and get the necessary chores out of the way in no time flat!

This Salad Uses Tasty Cranberries

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Cranberries are such a cheerful looking food that we should use them often while they are in season. Of course, if you have a freezer, you can tuck some away for out-of-season use also. We think this salad is popular with everyone.

Today's cook is Mrs. Cecil Botkins of Rochester. With three small children and a husband whose work calls him away from home at odd hours, Mrs. Botkins isn't able to participate regularly in outside activities. She does work whenever possible in the Martha Guild of her church.

CRANBERRY SALAD
By Mrs. Cecil Botkins

2 cups cranberries
1 cups cold water
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
Dash of salt
½ cup chopped nuts
¾ cup diced celery

Wash cranberries, add one cup cold water and cook until tender. Add sugar and cook 5 minutes more. Dissolve gelatin in ½ cup cold water, then stir in hot cranberries. Add salt.

Chill in refrigerator until partially thickened. Add nuts and celery. Chill firm. Serve on bed of lettuce or watercress; garnish with mayonnaise. Serves 6-8.

SHIRLEY STRIEBE

Mr. and Mrs. John Delfs of West Allis, Wis., announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Striebe, to Robert Bruce Chatterton Jr. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bruce Chatterton of Interlaken road, Pine Lake. No date has been set for the wedding.

Dishes Need Hot Suds

Rinsing off plates and silver under running hot water with a swish of a rubber sponge does not constitute a real dish-washing job. To get dishes really clean, you need both hot, soapy water and really hot rinse water. Let them drain dry in a rubber rack.

New China Reiterates Old Theme

In fine china, French provincial patterns, muted pastels that impart a delicate, fragile appearance and fresh florals have at long last come into their own again.

The erstwhile lover of modern design is now asking for a pattern "like mother used to have," something warm and familiar that reminds her of a quieter, easier age. A dainty, small-scale floral in raised enamel on a pastel rim or coupe may satisfy the desire for something sweet, pretty and utterly feminine.

A softly stylized leaf pattern may answer the current quest for something that blends the old and the new in a freshly contemporary manner. A formal border motif on a coup-shaped plate may fit in with a newly acquired taste for gracious and elegant dining.

Fashion Hint

Spring wedding gowns have lots of back details adding shapely fullness, such as butterfly back bows, ruffled backs and perky back bows and sashes. Emphasis is placed on feminine treatment in fabrics instead of formality.

Heavy draperies and resilient rubber tile flooring can do a lot to cut down on the noise in your home. And a double wall construction cuts down on noises between rooms.

We take pleasure in wishing the best of luck to all our good friends and patrons. May the New Year be full of happy days to you and yours.

Arrest Ends 5-Year Search

Agents Take Fugitive Sought as Accomplice in Holdup-Slaying

CHICAGO (AP) — FBI agents last night seized Joseph James Bragnola, one of the nation's most 10 wanted fugitives, who has been sought for five years in the hold-up-slaying of a New Orleans used car dealer.

Bragnola, 40, was described by the FBI as a hired gunman who was involved in the murder of Henry Stern during a $50,000 holdup in 1950. He will be arraigned today before U. S. Commissioner C. S. Bentley Pike.

* * *

Agents said Bragnola surrendered meekly in a cocktail lounge on Chicago's South Side. He was unarmed.

Stern was pistol-whipped by a gang of thugs who invaded his home. He died a short time later. His wife was left trussed in their upstairs apartment while the holdup men raided it for money and jewelry.

* * *

The FBI said the holdup was planned by a New Orleans robbery gang. Bragnola was one of three gunmen imported from Chicago to carry out the robbery, the FBI said, because the plotters feared they might be recognized by their intended victim.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, said in Washington that six persons were allegedly involved in the crime. Bragnola is the last to be located, Hoover said.

Bragnola carried documents when arrested indicating he was using the name Joseph A. Starnic and had been working as a cook in Chicago.

2057 'Anthropologist' Looks at 1957 'Apes'

By EARL WILSON

An anthropologist in New Miami, Fla. (pop. 19,000,000) announced an amusing discovery about the savages who lived in this village 100 years before . . . back in antiquity in 1957.

"These aborigines lived here before the old city was destroyed by the Gerat Atom Explosion of 1968," the learned man said.

"Yes" — and he smiled a tight professorial smile—"they indulged in a kind of mass suicide or collective masochism which shows us that their thinking processes hadn't developed yet.

"I fear," he added, "they were still apes.

"Yes, apes!" he thundered when there was a murmur from the auditorium. "One of the best known of these aborigines and a leader of the so-called culture of that day—hrrrumph!—was an ape known as 'Mr. Muggs.'

"He even ran for President, according to some of the ancient parchments we have unearthed at great cost. Another animal named Mr. Pogo ran also. We haven't been able to categorize Mr. Pogo animalistically speaking.

"However," the sacrificial rites they practiced in their huts which they called 'hotels' or 'motels' or 'hiltons,' were barbaric.

"First, they'd drink something they called 'buze' till insensible, then indulge in a sport called 'Casualty,' driving their automobiles head-on against another automobile. They always tried to beat last year's deaths and they always did.

"They only went 100 miles an hour, very slow by today's standards.

"But they had another monstrous custom . . . these savages did.

"They'd keep drinking 'buze' till they collapsed . . . until they'd get sick at their stomach and ache all over. When they awoke next day they'd groan with pain and think they were going to die.

"Often they wished they could die."

The learned doctor paused. "We know their brains weren't developed because they lacerated themselves this way while believing they were having a good time."

He shrugged. "But let's not be too harsh. They were our ancestors, even if they were apes. Don't forget, too, they were virtual slaves, virtual peons, often working 30 long hours a week.

"Now, added the doctor, "that we're enjoying a five-hour week, it's easy to see how one's brain can be befuddled by exhaustion; so let's don't condemn the apes o our family tree.

"Today we take a pill to exhilarate ourselves, a pill to get over our exhilaration. We know nothing about this 'hangover' of our ancestors, and let's hope we never do. It was nothing to monkey around with, ever for monkeys. The end of the 'buze,' however, was the godsend. What a break for our civilization when our aborigine ancestors drank up the whole supply of 1965 celebrating the 100th anniversary of the end of the Civil War!

"That," added the savant, "was progress. Let's drink a pill to it!"

Tries to Speed Flint TV Action

FCC Agency Advises Shortened Procedure in Settling Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission's Broadcast Bureau has recommended that the agency follow a shortened procedure in disposing of a reopened contest for TV Channel 12 at Flint, Mich.

* * *

The channel was awarded in May 1954 to Detroit radio station WJR. Competing bids by Trebit Corp. and W. S. Butterfield Theaters were denied.

The contest has since been in litigation, and the commission is now proceeding into new hearings scheduled to open Jan. 7, under an order from the U. S. Court of Appeals here.

The Broaodcast Bureau noted that the competition for the Flint channel is more than four years old.

* * *

In view of previous proceedings, the bureau said the commission should omit a further report by an examiner, and decide the reopened contest on the basis of the evidence which the examiner will take in the forthcoming hearings.

Calls for Study of U.S. Children

Retiring Official Cites Important Role Played by Communities

By FRANCIS LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's time to take a searching look at "the way of life of all children," not just the delinquents or the disabled, says Dr. Martha M. Eliot, departing chief of the U. S. Children's Bureau.

Dr. Eliot, whose resignation takes effect today, feels it is necessary to know the general conditions of life under which children are growing up in all sorts of communities.

"What is happening in their day-to-day existence?" she wants to know. "What are things that make for a satisfactory environment that will assure their growing up to be well adjusted people?"

A nationwide research project is needed in the cities, the suburbs and the rural areas, says this gray-haired, gray-eyed woman of 66, who has devoted her life to the cause of children.

Dr. Eliot is leaving the Children's Bureau after an association of more than 30 years but she's not retiring at all from her cause. She will be professor of maternal and child health at Harvard University's School of Public Health.

Dr. Eliot says our society lacks the solidarity of family life it had 75 years ago; there are smaller family groups, more moving about. "It's good for children to belong to a family and neighborhood group," she says, and "we must make certain children have ample ties to feel they belong to a family and group."

She called for imagination and planning by community groups—schools, recreational agencies—to meet this need.

East Prussia in Revolt?

Year Ahead Looks Good for the Picture Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What will the new year bring to Hollywood?

* * *

Take a look over my shoulder as I squint into the crystal ball. Here are my exclusive predictions of things to come in 1957 — predictions that have proved 85 per cent fallible.

No relief is in sight for the victims of longseatitis. Movies will be longer than ever. Maybe not as long as 'The 10 Commandmandments.' But you'll be seeing more three-hour films.

* * *

This will be the year of decision for Elvis Presley. The squirmer has a big juvenile following, but the teen-agers are notoriously fickle fans. Presley will have to convince the adult audience that he has talent. This is a monumental task.

The standard film idols — the Holdens, Coopers, Stewarts, Lancasters, — have nothing to worry about. Their earning power will continue undiminished, partly due to lack of competition. The studios have failed to build up rivals for the vet stars.

* * *

The era of the big studio operation will fade. Only one company, Columbia, still exists under one-man rule. More and more, the studios will be run by committees, with the bulk of the films made by outside producers.

Efforts will be made to break out the backlogs of films made after 1948 and put them into TV. These have been held back because talent unions have contracts calling for a part of the take.

* * *

Among the big pictures of the year: "Raintree County," "Sayonara," "South Pacific," "Andersonville," "Sleeping Beauty," "The Pride and the Passion,' "Something of Value," "Island in the Sun," "A Farewell to Arms," "Face in the Crowd," Pajama Game," "The Spirit of St. Louis,' "No Time for Sergeants," "The Last Hurrah," "Pal Joey."

* * *

Hope you have the same.

505,000 Receive GI Home Loans

VA Estimates That '56 Was 3rd Highest Year in Program's History

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration estimates that 505,000 veterans received GI home loans totaling $5,800,000,000 during 1956.

* * *

That would make this the third highest year in the 12½-year history of the GI loan program, but the volume was down 22 per cent from the record 649,000 home loans totaling $7,100,000,000 guaranteed during 1955.

The year-end review of loan guaranty operations made no reference to the effect the tight money market has had on GI home loan program but the VA announced Dec. 1 that it was watching the situation closely.

This announcement was made in connection with an increase from 4¼ to 5 per cent in the interest rate on FHA loans.

* * *

The top rate on GI loans is fixed by law at 4½ per cent but VA said that if the FHA increase results in a shrinkage "to harmful proportions" of the amount of money available for GI loans it will ask President Eisenhower to recommend an increase in the GI rate.

GI loans are made by private lenders with a portion guaranteed or insured by VA.

Since the loan program was inaugurated in June 1944, VA has underwritten 4,760,000 GI home loans originally totaling $38,800,000,000. VA guaranteed about 21 billion of the total.

Pickle Packers '57 Baby to Pick Tune on Piccolo

The Association announced it will award piccolo lessons to the first baby born in the United States in 1957.

Water Line Blown Up by Arab Commandoes

JERUSALEM (AP) — A water pipeline was blown up by Arab Fedayeen (commandos) in the interior of Israel Saturday night, the Israeli Army says.

The pipeline provided water for the Messilath Zion area midway between Tel Aviv and Jerusalem.

German General to Be NATO Head Next Year

BONN, Germany (AP)—Informed sources said here today that a German general will be named next year as commander of NATO land forces in Central Europe. Lt. Gen. Hans Speidel is the probable choice.

Such an appointment would mark the first high military post for a German in the Western Alliance since World War II.

THE FBI STORY

By

Don Whitehead

J. Edgar Hoover writes in the foreword of "The FBI Story" about Don Whitehead: "We had complete confidence in his integrity, ability and objectivity . . . Mr. Whitehead had to have the facts if there was to be a worthwhile objective result, and full facts were given him so long as they did not violate security."

READ EACH OF THE 30 CHAPTERS AS THEY APPEAR IN THE PONTIAC PRESS STARTING MONDAY, JANUARY 7th.

You will find exciting reading, thrilling entertainment, in these factual accounts of actual cases of your FBI. You will learn authoritatively the facts in such cases as:

A Southern governor who was a virtual prisoner of the Ku Klux Klan until he secretly asked help from the FBI to break the power of the Klan in his state.

Four FBI agents pose as cattle buyers, an insurance salesman, an oil prospector and an Indian herb doctor, track down one of the craftiest killers of the Southwest—"The King of the Osage Hills."

Every chapter complete in itself! Fully illustrated with exceptional photos and drawings to give you a more factual and complete report of thirty of the most interesting cases in "THE FBI STORY."

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

This was an evening spent with Sugar Ray Robinson in his cabin-in-the-sky domicile up the road a piece from the Long Pond Inn training quarters, at Greenwood Lake, N.Y. His Sugarship was surrounded by the old regulars, who have come all the way with him, including The Emperor, George Gainford, and trainer Harry Wiley. He wore a sharp polo shirt, also as usual, and his vivacious mannerisms, complete with rapid chatter and gleaming grin, all were in place.

If there's a difference in this Robinson and the precomeback Robinson it wasn't discernable to the naked eye. Either in the gym, where he has been drilling or, here in this setting, which was his bivouac back in the days when no one ever would have questioned his ability to go 15 rounds with a crude strongboy like Gene Fullmer.

"I feel as though I could go 40 rounds," Sugar was saying. "They," and he swept his right arm through the air to cover a multitude of critics, "had better worry about Fullmer going 15 because I have gone 15." And he turned on that cocky grin.

Those who question his chances of beating Fullmer seem to peg their reasoning on one particular Robinson fight, his defeat by Ralph (Tiger) Jones, Jan. 19, 1955, when he flubbed and floundered around the ring under the Tiger's pressure offensive. We asked him about it.

"I'd been out for 31 months," he said, suddenly serious. "He was the toughest middleweight in the business at the time, and he may still be. I came into the ring with nothing that night. I had weighed 159 when I retired and the same when I came back. The average athlete usually picks up weight out of training and works back down to fighting weight. I had no excess to fall back on, no reserve of energy. It's different now."

FEELS AS THOUGH HE NEVER RETIRED

"I'm at the stage now where I can do what I want in there," he answered. "Actually, Gene, I feel as though I never retired, and that's not just talk. Main thing is, I'm relaxed."

Sugar slithered off the chair and suddenly was crouched in the center of the room. "I can wait until a punch gets right here," and he held an open hand six inches from his chin, "then counter or, slip it." And he went through the motion of zinging a right through the air and then of slipping an imaginary punch. There is no man who can make the superb moves of a boxer so gracefully. Here was pure articulation of motion.

The hum of conversation continued at the big table in a corner where Gainford was attempting to clean the boys at hearts. Robinson took time out for a dig at Big George and then went on talking.

"I feel everything happens for the best. Like this virus which knocked me out of training, I thought I was in excellent shape before that happened, but I feel as good now as I've ever felt in my life. Like I said, it was for the best. It turned out that way when I was training for Olson a year ago. I hurt my ankle then and the fight was postponed. But when I went into the ring in Chicago I knew I was right."

Crane Star 4th in Mat Tourney; HP Wins Pair

A fourth place finish by Cranbrook's Gary Grikscheit, two firsts for Hazel Park and six qualifiers from Berkley gave Oakland County a solid representation in the first Southeastern Michigan Amateur Wrestling Association tournament held last weekend at Ypsilanti.

Grikscheit, a 175-pounder, was outstanding throughout the two-day event to pace the small Crane delegation. Veteran Jim Thompson, 154, and Andy Snedden, 175, were the Hazel Park champs. Berkley's 138-pounder Don Oldham just missed copping a title as he bowed out in double overtime, while his teammate Al Anderson was runner-up in the 165 class.

Defending state champion Ypsilanti High and Ann Arbor dominated the first place medals with four winners each. Adrian had the other two as 150 wrestlers from 10 area schools took part in the successful tourney.

Louis Figures Fullmer Could Beat Himself

Joe Picks Robinson to Stop Gene in 10 Rounds, Wednesday

That's the way Joe Louis sizes up the Wednesday night title bout at Madison Square Garden. The former heavyweight champion picks Robinson, 36, and feels Sugar Ray might put away the thick-necked, muscular challenger within 10 rounds.

"Gene is strong and rugged and figures to be on top of Ray all the way," said Joe after watching Robinson's final two workouts. "Fullmer should miss a lot of punches. He usually does. That might be his downfall.

"Robinson has looked real sharp. His combinations have been fast and accurate and he is throwing his right like a bomb. His legs seem in wonderful condition. Ray should win because he is quick to take advantage of the other fellow's mistakes."

Ray, apparently out to impress boxing writers and the public that he is fully recovered from his bout with the virus bugs, thrice staggered his sparmate. A flashing right to the jaw in the first round rocked Williams and a vicious uppercut snapped Lee's head back and almost sent him to the canvas twice in the final round.

Despite Robinson's standout workouts of the past few days, the betting still favored Fullmer by 8 to 5.

This Kick Counted

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne State University doesn't kick a field goal very often, but when it does . . .

Halfback Jim MacMillan's field goal enabled Wayne to beat Western Reserve, 10-7. The last Wayne field goal kicked was in 1942 against Grosse Ile Naval Air Base, but Wayne lost that one, 7-3.

Howe Makes Gain in Race for NHL Scoring Honors

MONTREAL (AP) — Gordie Howe, Detroit's flashy forward, is making a bid to overhaul pace-setting Jean Beliveau of Montreal in the National Hockey League scoring race.

The 28-year-old Howe, who has won four scoring titles, collected eight points in three games last week to narrow Beliveau's lead to six points. The Canadiens' classy center produced three points during the week to boost his total to 52 as compared to Howe's 46.

Statistics released by league headquarters today do not include last night's game between Detroit and New York when Howe scored the only goal as the Wings won, 1-0.

The Red Wings' Ted Lindsay and Norm Ullman—both Howe's "production' linemates—rank third and fourth with 43 and 35 points, respectively. The Canadiens' Bert Olmstead remains fifth with 33.

Howe is the top goal-getter with 23, while Beliveau, the defending scoring champion, has the most assists, 33. Montreal's Jacques Plante boasts the best average among the goalies, 2.14, and also leads in shutouts with five.

	G	A	Pts.

Moylan, Rose in Dixie Event

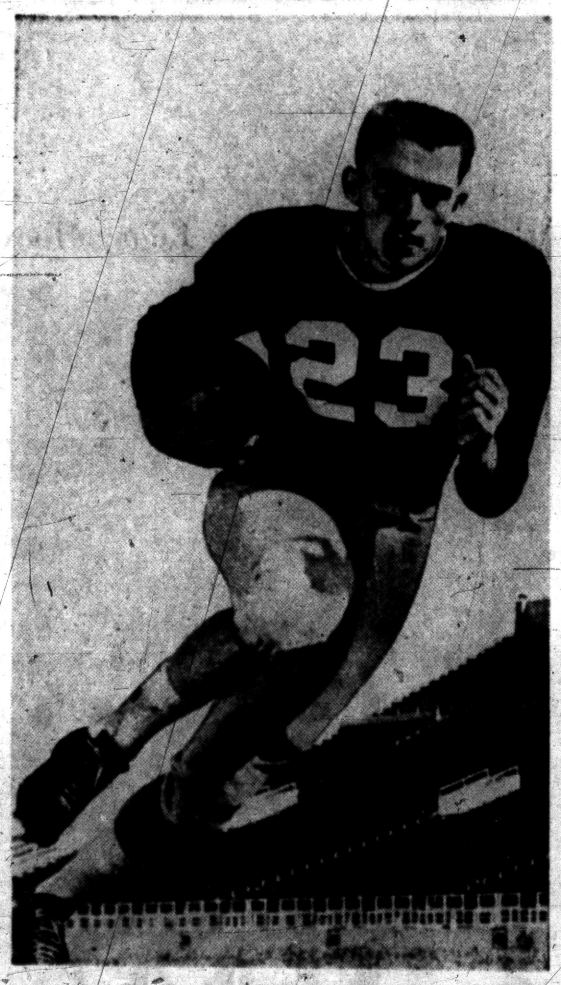

Top Seeds Get First Competition in Net Tourney at Tampa

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Top-seeded Ed Moylan of Trenton, N. J., and second-seeded Mervyn Rose of Australia will play their first matches in the 30th annual Dixie tennis tournament today.

Moylan will play the winner of an early match between Joe Heych Jr. of Tampa and Ivan Salas of Chile. Rose will play the winner of a match between Ray Sumner of Ormond Beach, Fla., and Hector Cabello of Mexico.

The top players were idle in the tournament's opening round yesterday. The best first-round match pitted Jimmy Shaffer of St. Petersburg against Lonnie Jordan, formerly of Montgomery, Ala., but now stationed at Fort Benning, Ga. Shaffer, one of the South's top junior players, won 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

Iowa Seeks to Continue Big Ten Reign

PASADENA (INS) — The Iowa Hawkeyes, champions of the Big Ten Conference, will attempt to uphold the annual tradition of plastering the Pacific Coast Conference today when they meet an upstart Oregon State team in the classic Rose Bowl game.

The oddsmakers decree that Iowa is a 7½ point favorite to down the Beavers in the first repeat contest in Rose Bowl history. During the regular season, Iowa defeated Oregon State 14-13 in an intersectional game.

A crowd of more than 100,000 fans, a large percentage from the Midwest and the Northwest, will fill the great concrete saucer to capacity. The weatherman predicts a typical Southern California January day of sunshine and 70 degree temperatures.

If Oregon State loses in today's game it will be in keeping with a long-established precedent. The Pacific Coast Conference has won only once since 1947 when the Rose Bowl pact between the Big Ten and the PCC came into existence.

AP Wirephoto

HAWKEYE GENERAL — Ken Ploen, Iowa quarterback, is the Hawkeyes' big weapon in today's Rose Bowl clash against Oregon State. Ploen, who was named the Big Ten's most valuable player this season, guided Iowa to eight wins in nine games.

But those who favor the Beavers point out that today's 43rd Rose Bowl contest could surprise the chalk players. Oregon State, coached by one of the nation's up-and-coming football mentors, Tommy Prothro, is a fast, clever team with an accent on deceptive, breakaway running.

The Beavers boast a balanced backfield featuring tailback Joe Francis, who suffered an injury in practice but who is ready to go today, wingback Earnel Durden and speedy Paul Lowe. The Beavers run from a single wing which Prothro developed as backfield coach under Red Sanders of UCLA.

Coach Forest Evashevski's Hawkeyes operate from a Wing-T and their forte is power and defence. The Iowa backfield has not been outstanding as a high-scoring combination but it has chewed up yardage during the regular season with metronome-like consistency.

* * *

The Hawkeye offense is generaled by Kenny Ploen (pronounced "Plain") one of the better field captains in the Big Ten. They boast a big, rugged line keystoned by All-America tackle Alex Karras. The Beavers have an All-America tackle of their own in John Witte and the line play in today's contest promises to be destructive.

Neither team has relied heavily upon passing during the regular season but both Ploen and Francis are competent passers and both have been unlimbering their arms quite regularly in practice sessions.

Should a stalemate develop in the beefy lineplay in aerial offense by either side could turn the trick.

Big Turnout Over Weekend at Mt. Holly

Operators of the Mt. Holly Ski Area reported this morning that weekend patronage at the Dixie Highway slopes, north of Drayton Plains, was "very heavy."

Plenty of snow was available on the area's hills, much of it artificial, blown by the Mt. Holly snow machine.

There were some skiiers at Pontiac Ski Club's layout on Teeple Hill, Highland Recreation Area, club officials related today, but the slopes were not yet in general use. Some mechanical work on the tows, and final installations for the night lighting were completed. With addition of about three inches of powder snow the area will be ready ot go, full blast, probably on New Year's Day. Officials watched todays' weather conditions with considerable optimism. It was snowing steadily.

Knight Leader in LA's Open

Omaha Pro Shoots 5 Under Par Card as 64 Make Grade

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sixty-four qualifiers for the Los Angeles Open golf tournament were led by Dick Knight, 27, pro from Omaha, Neb.

* * *

The firing yesterday was at five courses and Knight turned in a five-under-par 34-33-67 at Lakewood Country Club in Long Beach.

* * *

The 64 who qualified will join approximately 87 golfers who were exempt, including most of the game's big names, for the $37,500, 72-hole open starting Friday. It will be preceded by a pro-celebrity event Thursday.

* * *

Majority of qualifiers were local golfers. Out-of-towners who made the grade included Charles Sifford, Philadelphia, 37-35-72 at Hillcrest, and Bobby Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., 36-38-74 at Hillcrest.

Woman Driver Wins Regatta Race at Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The lack of about 10 seconds more racing time spelled the difference in winners of a nine-hour endurance speedboat race yesterday.

* * *

A 19-foot, 300-horsepower boat drive by Mrs. Al Martin and two male co-pilots took first place, 206 feet ahead of Del Daily, who was catching up fast in his 19-footer also pushed by a 300-horsepower engine. Both contestants are from Miami.

* * *

Daily's boat was considerably faster but he lost six minutes in a pit stop to put in a new battery and ran out of time just before he got ahead again.

Mrs. Martin's boat travelled 354.423 miles in the endurance race, which was a feature of the annual Orange Bowl regatta.

New Year's Bowl Game Facts and TV Coverage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sugar Bowl at New Orleans—Tennessee (10-0) vs. Baylor (8-2), ABC-TV, 2 p.m., EST.

Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.—Iowa (8-1) vs. Oregon State (7-2-1), NBC-TV, 5 p.m., EST.

Orange Bowl at Miami—Colorado (7-2-1) vs. Clemson (7-2-1), CBS-TV, 2 p.m., EST.

There also are three smaller games scheduled—the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. between George Washington (7-1-1) and Texas Western (9-1-0), the Prairie View Bowl at Houston between Texas Southern (8-1) and Prairie View A and M (4-5) and the Tangerine Bowl at night at Orlando, Fla., between Mississippi Southern (7-1-1) and Texas State (7-2).

While the promoters have found themselves in the unusual position of trying to sell leftover tickets, the Orange Bowl could turn into the closest of the four big ones. The other big bowls are sellouts.

Clemson and Colorado are evenly matched and use the same kind of grind-'em-down-along-the-ground offense. They employe little passing.

Loyola Trips Broncs in Thrilling Battle

CHICAGO (AP) — Western Michigan dropped a 57-55 thriller to Loyola last night in a hand-fought basketball game in which the score was deadlocked 13 times, 5 in the final 8 minutes.

A pair of field goals by Jim Dewulf in the last two minutes clinched the victory for Loyola, ending a two-game losing streak for the Chicago club. The teams never were separated by more than 6 points.

Diehm Holds Early Lead Among SVC Pointmakers

Last year Pontiac finished third in the conference, but the overall scoring honors went to Willie DeWalt, all-stater who finished with a 21.6 average.

With only four games under his belt, Diehm is far ahead of the field in the league. He has hit for 30 field goals and a total of 77 points for a 19.2 average in the early scoring race.

Best field goal shooter behind Diehm has been Al Miller, 6-foot-4 All-Valley forward who has hit 22 buckets in his 56 points. But this has been for five games and thus gives him only a 11.2 average.

* * *

Behind Diehm among the best averages is Deb Blondin of Saginaw who was the league's second best scorer last season.

Bay City Central, Pontiac's opposition Friday night in the initial game of the New Year, shows some balance in its scoring with three players among the top ten.

Guard Chuck Crampton has hit for an average of 14 points per game with Don Kanicki hitting at a 12.6 mark. Other BC scorer is Harold Busch with a 9.6 average for three games.

* * *

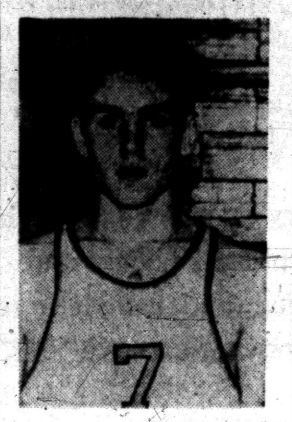

Crampton also has the best single game output of any player in the SBC so far. He scored 26 for the Wolves against Saginaw.

Pontiac, with a 4-0 mark, is the only unbeaten team among the SVC schools, but the Chiefs are tied with Flint Northern in the league with 2-0 records. Since Northern does not play until next week against Flint Central, a win at Bay City Friday would give PHS sole possession of the lead temporarily.

Crawford, Mitchell Star in Senior Bowl Practices

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Tailback Jim Crawford of Wyoming, the nation's leading ground gainer last year, will be operating from a new position in the Senior Bowl game Saturday.

* * *

North Coach Joe Kuharich shifted Crawford to fullback in yesterday's opening practice and the hard-running 190-pounder turned in an impressive showing. Crawford gained 1,104 yards from the Wyoming single-wing offense last season.

* * *

Also standing out in yesterday's opening workout was tall Wade Mitchell, Georgia Tech quarterback who was named outstanding player in Tech's 21-14 Gator Bowl victory over Pittsburgh Saturday.

* * *

Brown was handicapped in the workout by the absence of 10 squadsmen who will report after the New Year's Day bowl games. Kuharich of the Washington Redskins had two absent, John Bayuk and Dick Stapp of Colorado's Orange Bowl team.

Olivar Scans Trojans' Spot

Yale Grid Mentor Is 'Definitely Interested' in Coaching Job

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Yale's football coach Jordan Olivar had University of Southern California athletic boosters humming "boola, boola" today in the wake of his public announcement that he would be "interested in probably one of the best coaching jobs in America."

Asked point-blank before 3,000 persons at a Rose Bowl luncheon if he would be interested in becoming the new USC coach, Olivar said that "anyone would be interested," and that he could be "tempted" to leave old Eli "under certain circumstances."

The USC Trojans have been looking for a replacement for coach Jess Hill since the SC mentor elected to move upstairs to become athletic director of the California school next year.

Hill's first choice for his successor was coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, but the Sooners appear to have a stranglehold on his services for a long time in the future.

Last week, Coach Hill was rumored to be in Florida courting Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty of Michigan State.

"I haven't received a bid either official or unofficial from SC, but if I did get an offer, and it was right, I would definitely consider it."

Tabori to Make American Debut at K.C. Games

NEW YORK (INS) — Famed Hungarian miler Laszlo Tabori, one of handful of runners to cover the distance in less than four minutes, will make his U.S. debut in Boston Jan. 19.

Sports Illustrated, which is sponsoring an exhibition tour of the U.S. by the athletes, announced meanwhile that the debut of the tour will take place in Miami Jan. 2. The athletes will be guests of the city of Miami until Jan. 7.

Orange Bowl Foes Aim for Vindication

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Clemson and Colorado, smarting under implications they don't measure up to past performers, met today in the 23rd annual Orange Bowl football game.

* * *

Officials of each team have repeatedly said they want nothing better than to prove the detractors wrong. The crowd is likely to see a see-sawing ground game with just enough passing to keep the opponent on guard.

Colorado was a three-point favorite but that figure has wavered from one point to such an edge as 2½ points. This is the team that crunched over mighty Oklahoma for a first half lead of 19-6 and was bypassed in a second-half aerial attack to lose 27-19. The team won seven regular season games, lost two and tied one.

The Buffaloes finished the season with the second-best record in the Big Seven, back of Oklahoma. But conference rules prohibited Oklahoma from representing it again this year after having been here last year.

* * *

Clemson, choice of the Atlantic Coast Conference, had a season record of 7-1-2. The loss was to Miami in the Orange Bowl stadium.

* * *

* * *

Another reason was the teams play the same crushing ground game, both offensively and defensively. Colorado operates about 60 per cent of the time from the single wing and the rest from T formations. Clemson used the T almost exclusively.

* * *

Clemson gained 2,511 yards in total offense; Colorado got 2,521. The Buffaloes scored 267 points and gave up 122. Clemson scored 146 and held opponents to 74.

The game, scheduled to start at 2 p.m., EST, will be televised by CBS nationally. The forecast was for fair weather with temperatures 72 to 75 degrees.

Negro 11's Play in Prairie Bowl

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two of Texas' best Negro college teams, Texas Southern University and Prairie View A&M, clash today in the 29th annual Prairie View Bowl game.

* * *

* * *

Pat McCormick Honored

Diver Wins AAU Award

NEW YORK (INS) — Winsome Pat McCormick, queen of the Olympic diving board, has been named winner of the 1956 James E. Sullivan A.A.U. Memorial trophy.

Mrs. McCormick is the second woman to win the title. Swimmer Ann Curtis won the trophy in 1944.

The award is presented annually by the A.A.U. to "the amateur athlete who, by performance, example and good influence did most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship during the year."

Mrs. McCormick, runner-up for the trophy for the past three years, won both the springboard and platform dives in the 1952 and 1956 Olympic games and has won a total of 27 championships.

* * *

Mrs. McCormick easily won out over Rafer Johnson, who placed second in the Olympic decathlon; and Thane Baker, three times Olympic medalist, took third place.

Wings Bounce Back on Top

NEW YORK (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings celebrated New Year's eve by bouncing back to the top in the torrid National Hockey League race by way of a 1-0 shutout of the New York Rangers.

Gordie Howe, the second highest scorer in league history, fired the big goal that put Detroit back in first place by a slender one-point margin over the idle Boston Bruins.

Detroit now leads with 45 points. Boston has 44 and has played one more game.

It was New York's first New Year's eve loss in a decade and the Rangers' first shutout on home ice since Oct. 24, 1955.

Howe, runnerup to Montreal's Jean Beliveau in scoring this season, fired the only goal of the game at 12:02 of the second period. It was his 24th of the season and eighth against the Rangers.

Only two penalties were called in the game. But both were against New York and one figured in the score.

Larry Popein was in the penalty box when a rink pass from Ted Lindsay was deflected into the air. The puck landed at Howe's feet and the big forward slammed a 15-footer past Gump Worsley. Lindsay and Red Kelly got assists on the play.

Red Wing goalie Glenn Hall made 21 saves in recording the first shutout against New York since Terry Sawchud did it for Boston in the fall of 1955.

Brazilian Wins in Orange Bowl

Fernandes Captures Junior Title With Win Over Perry

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (INS) — Carlos Fernandes of Sao Paulo, Brazil, won the boys 18-and-under title yesterday in the 10th annual Orange Bowl junior tennis tournament and stamped himself as a future tennis great.

He defeated Norman Perry of Los Angeles, the sixth-ranked U.S. junior, 6-1, 6-3, 8-6, after downing Rudy Hernando, of Modesto, Calif., the 10th ranked U.S. junior, 9-7, 6-4, Sunday.

* * *

But Odds Are Uncertain

TCU Cotton Bowl Favorite

DALLAS (AP)— Texas Christian was the favorite, but such a narrow favorite to beat Syracuse in the Cotton Bowl today it was difficult to establish the odds.

Some as low as two and three points were reported and the sports writers had rated it all even as the Horned Frogs, runners-up in the Southwest Conference with a 7-3 record, prepared to meet Syracuse, champion of the East with a 7-1 mark.

Last-minute ticket sales indicated there will be more than 65,000 —possibly 70,000—in the mammoth saucer at 1 p.m., CST when the Frogs, outweighting Syracuse eight pounds to the man in the line — 212 average to 204 — and boasting a ground attack of the same proportions as the Orangemen, plus what may be a greatly superior aerial game, lash at the Eastern powerhouse. Capacity for the Cotton Bowl is 75,504.

For the Frogs it's vindication day —the day when they can pull themselves out of the "second rate" class and win their first Cotton Bowl game in the last four tries. It also is a day for Syracuse to justify its selection to meet TCU in the Cotton Bowl.

Syracuse has played only one bowl game and it was disaster. That was the 1953 Orange Bowl when the Orangemen took a 61-6 blasting from Alabama.

Key man in the grinding, battering ground attack of Syracuse is All-America Jimmy Brown, who scored 106 points and generally ranked himself among the finest of all time in Eastern football.

Texas Christian, which lost to Mississippi 14-13 in the Cotton Bowl last January, still hinges its hopes to Jim Swink, a man who made All-America in 1955 but fell short the past season although still one of the most dangerous runners in TCU history.

Ortiz Retains Status After Beating Kerwin

NEW YORK (AP)—Classy Carlos Ortiz still was unbeaten among the pro lightweights today but he had to come off the floor to win his 19th straight.

Ortiz, 20, survived a first-round knockdown last night, then came on strong to win a unanimous decision over Gale Kerwin of Valley Stream, N.Y. after 10 brisk rounds at St. Nicholas Arena.

Puerto Rican living in New York, Ortiz staggered Kerwin in the fifth round and followed it up in the ensuing stanzas with a whirlwind attack that gave him a one-sided verdict.

Judges Al Singer and Frank Fullam scored it 8-2 for Ortiz and Referee Johnny Lobianco had it 8-1-1.

Wins 6 Straight Years

UNIVERSITY, Miss. (AP) — When Mississippi finished its football season with a 7-3 record, it marked the sixth straight year that Coach Johnny Vaught's Rebels have won more games than they lost.

In his ten seasons of coaching Ole Miss, Vaught experienced only one losing campaign. That was in 1949 when his team had a 4-5-1 record. His 1950 team split 10 decisions. His 10-year record is 71 victories, 23 defeats and 5 ties. In 1952 his team was unbeaten with 8 wins and 2 ties.

Top Kegling Teams Set for Match Test

CHICAGO, Ill. (INS) — Two teams which captured nearly every team and individual bowling championship during the 1955-56 season, will meet for the coveted Bowling Proprietors Association of America team match game title the last two weekends this month.

* * *

* * *

These two teams will bowl 12 games in Chicago and then will move to St. Louis for 12 more games.

Unbeaten Vols Picked Over Baylor

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Undefeated Tennessee and rugged Baylor entered their Sugar Bowl battle today with no hint of whether they would stage a tight defensive football game or a wide-open offensive show.

* * *

The weatherman called for clear to partly cloudy skies with the temperature in the mid-70's for the 1 p.m., CST kickoff.

The 81,000 seats were sold out several days ago and many late arrivals planned to watch on television. The American Broadcasting Co. got broadcast and television rights.

Neither Coach Sam Boyd of Baylor nor Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee would guess how the game would develop and neither seemed worried about the oddsmakers verdict of Tennessee by 7½ points.

Boyd told newsmen, "We can move the ball and we have a capable defense — but so have they."

Wyatt said, "It could be a defensive game, but one break can throw those kind wide open."

The game brought together two of the nation's most publicized stars, All-America performers Johnny Majors of Tennessee and Bill Glass of Baylor.

* * *

Majors, a triple-threat tailback in the Tennessee single wing system, rolled up 549 yards rushing and 552 passing and punted for a 43-yard average. He averaged 5.1 yards per rushing attempt and completed 61 per cent of his passes. His brilliant quick kicking kept foes in trouble.

Glass, a 6-foot-5 tackle in Baylor's multiple-T offense, weighs 230 pounds, made 154 tackles during the season, is faster than a number of his backfield mates and led his team in pass interception returns.

Sellout Audience Looms at Tangerine Bowl Tilt

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Mississippi Southern and West Texas State, two of the strongest of the country's smaller football powers, clash tonight in the Tangerine Bowl.

A near sellout crowd of 13,000 is expected for the kickoff at 8 p.m., EST. The outcome is rated a tossup.

Southern, an independent, brings a record of seven victories, one defeat and one tie into the fray. In the regular season it lost by one point to Florida State and tied Alabama of the Southeastern Conference.

West Texas has a 7-2 record. The Buffaloes lost to Arizona by seven points and dropped a 16-13 decision to Texas Western that cost them the title of the rugged Border Conference.

Coaches Thad Vann of Southern and Frank Kimbrough of West Texas exchanged game films but had no opportunity for scouting during the regular season. But Vann said a study of the films convinced him "West Texas certainly is as good as any team we've played."

All-American Basketball Tourney Finals Tonight

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Wesleyan and New Mexico A&M battle for the basketball crown in the All-American City tournament finals tonight. Wesleyan took an 82-72 semifinal win over Virginia last night and New Mexico A&M upset Maryland, 45-43.

New Mexico A&M put on a ball-hawking, rebounding exhibition to edge favored Maryland which was frustrated by fouls in an attempt to break up New Mexico A&M's defensive-style play.

Needles Gained 200

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida-bred Needle, who captured the 3-year-old championship of 1956 when he won the Flamingo, Florida Derby, Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes, has added 200 pounds and grown in height since his last race in August. He is training for the Widener to be held at Hialeah, Feb. 23.

Indiana's Dees Tops Big Ten Scorers

CHICAGO (AP) — Indiana's Archie Dees slipped slightly but continued his all-games basketball scoring lead in the Big Ten with 170 points in 7 games for a 24.2 average.

High scorers (based on average)

	Games	FG	FT	Avg.
Dees, Indiana	7	85	60	24.2
Ruklick, Northwestern	6	63	49	22.5

Evvy Wants Credit, Would 'Sluff' Blame

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Coach Forest Evashevski of Iowa, whose football team met Oregon State in the Rose Bowl today, was a man to joke yesterday.

At the annual bowl kickoff luncheon Evashevski and everybody else was relaxed.

Like other principals, the Iowa tutor was called on to make a speech.

"If we win," Evashevski said, "I want all the credit. If we lose, I want the blame placed on my teacher at Michigan, Fritz Crisler."

Wolverines vs. Yale Tonight

Scoring Duel Between Lees on Horizon

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A high-scoring duel between a couple of deadeyed basketball stars named Lee is on tap for tonight when Michigan plays host to Yale.

George Lee has been leading the Wolverines in dumping the ball through the hoop this season with an average of 19.5 for seven games. He's the Big Ten's sixth leading scorer.

His namesake, John Lee of Yale, is the highest scorer in Ivy League history. He tallied 605 points last season for a 23.3 average and has been doing just about as well this year.

The two Lees aren't related.

It's three-game winning streak snapped by Washington (Mo.) in overtime last Saturday, Michigan will be meeting its last non-conference foe before embarking on the Big Ten campaign at Indiana this weekend.

Wolverines' other losses were to Wichita and Nebraska. They downed Delaware, Kent State, Butler and Pittsburgh.

* * *

Yale will be playing the last game of a rugged Christmas vacation tour of the Midwest. The Bulldogs lost the other three — to Bradley, Wisconsin and Northwestern. They lost to Northwestern last night 73-67.

* * *

The Elis are coached by Joe Vancisin, a onetime Michigan assistant. He's in his first year as Yale's skipper.

* * *

Aiding John Lee as a Yale point maker will be Larry Downs, a 6-5 sophomore. Downs led the Bulldog freshman last year in scoring with an average of 27.3.

Michigan coach Bill Perigo expects to start his usual quintet of M. C. Burton, Ron Kramer, Pete Tillotson and Billy Wright in addition to George Lee.

She Wanted Fish

LITTLETON, N. C. (AP) — This is a fish story about the big one that didn't get away.

Mrs. Blanche Fuller of Littleton, fishing at Roanoke Rapids lake with a group of friends, saw a big fish slip off the hook just as she was about to land it. She leaped into the lake and scooped up the fish in her skirt. The fisherwoman's reward for the wetting was a bass weighing one and a half pounds.

Construction Slated Soon on Waterford Post Office

Waterford village will have its first post office building by mid-summer, it was announced by Mrs. Robert Amos, Postmaster.

Arthur C. Chandler, regional real estate manager, informed Mrs. Amos of the government transaction yesterday and said that the new building will be located on the northeast side of Dixie Highway near Andersonville road.

Successful bidder, Joseph W. Long, 1550 Commerce Rd., Milford, will begin building operations in January, with an estimated completion date set for July 1.

Long will lease the building to the government for a 10-year periods, plus two 5-year renewal options, Mrs. Amos said.

The structure will be of cement block construction with brick front and will cover 2,062 square feet of floor space. Overall dimensions are 26 by 78 feet.

The present Waterford Village Post Office is located on Andersonville road and has been in operation in the 'temporary' quarters for over two years. The four-employe crew accommodates 1,600 people in the area.

Heart Attack Takes Monologist Draper

NEW YORK (UP) — Ruth Draper, internationally famous in the theater for her solo sketches, died Saturday apparently of a heart attack. She was 72.

Miss Draper was found dead in her upper East Side apartment by her maid. She currently had been appearing at the Playhouse Theater on Broadway where she opened Christmas night. She gave two performances Saturday and was scheduled to give two today.

* * *

A leading monologist for more than 40 years, Miss Draper created 37 sketches and 58 characters. She used no sets, and her props rarely exceeded a table and chair.

Newlyweds to Live in Texas

Donna McCallum Bride

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Donna Lou McCallum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. McCallum of Crescent Lake became the bride of William J. Saunders of Waterford Township, Saturday at 7:30 p. m. The ceremony took place in the Sunny Vale Chapel, Pontiac, with the Rev. James Parker officiating.

The bride chose a gown of lace Chantilly, fashioned with a fitted bodice, a sweetheart neckline, short sleeves, and lace gauntlet. The bouffant skirt extended into a chapel-sweep train.

Attending the bride were Bonnie Lonie, maid of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. Robert McCallum, Mrs. Donald Skinner, Mrs. Lee Motsinger, and Charlene Simmons, all of Pontiac.

Serving as best man was James Saunders of Farmington. The ushers were Charles Saunders of Detroit, Robert McCallum, Gerald McCallum and Robert Carr all of Pontiac.

Cottrell Files for Supervisor

Former President of Wolverine Lake Is New Councilman

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Clifford K. Cottrell, former president of Wolverine Lake Village and present member of the Wolverine Council, has filed a nomination petition for the job of supervisor of Commerce Township.

COTTRELL

Cottrell became the first president of Wolverine Lake in 1954 and served in that capacity until April, 1956. His present term as a village councilman will not expire for another year.

* * *

He has been a resident of Commerce Township since 1945, the same year he established his construction and wood products business.

Cottrell has been active in community affairs, being chairman of Boy Scout Troop 117 of the Oakley Park area and sponsor of a Little League baseball team known as the Glengary Yanks, 1955 champions of Walled Lake. He was fire chief of the Oakley Park Volunteers for three years.

Now an officer of the Masonic Lodge in Walled Lake, Cottrell is also a past member of the Rotary Club.

He has a daughter, Nancy, 23, and a son, Wesley, 14.

An average child grows more rapidly in the summer months, and most slowly during winter season, according to medical research.

Area Women's Exercise Class Being Offered

Weekly sessions will begin at 7:30, Tuesday, January 8th at the CAI Building. All ladies in the Waterford Township vicinity are invited to register by calling the recreation office, OR 3-9152 at once.

* * *

Carol Wolfe, recreation dance specialist, will conduct the lessons. The physical exercises, accompanied by piano, are designed to acquaint the participant with proper exercise techniques for healthful living, provide practice, and to give inspiration for continued exercising in the home.

Missing Lansing Man Found Dead on Farm

GARLAND, ARK. (AP) — The decomposed body of an itinerant Michigan farm worker who disappeared about a year ago was found yesterday beneath a pile of hay on a farm near Garland in southwestern Arkansas.

The body was identified as that of Joe Van Y, 52, of Lansing, Mich. He was reported missing about a year ago while visiting relatives here.

Set Registration Deadline Jan. 7

Special Vote Will Tell Now Status or Whether Remains as Is

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The question of whether Wixom becomes an incorporated village or remains a part of Commerce and Novi Townships will be decided at a special election scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 5.

All residents of the territory involved will be able to vote, whether or not they own property. Only five days remain in which to register for the election with the deadline set at 8 p.m. Monday, Jan. 7.

Citizens living in all or parts of sections 20, 28, 29, 30, 31 and 32 of Commerce Township and in all or parts of sections 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 of Novi Township will decide the vital issue.

Roughly, the area concerned includes Wixom and the territory lying about two miles north, two miles south, one mile east and one mile west of Wixom.

Both Hadley J. Bachert, Novi Township clerk, and Earl V. Garner, Commerce Township clerk, urge residents who are not already voters to apply for registrations as soon as possible.

Commerce Township Hall, 2840 Fisher Ave. — Monday through Friday, except New Year's Day, through Jan. 7 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Commerce Fire Hall, 593 West Commerce Rd. — every day except Sunday. Novi Township Hall, 25850 Novi Rd. — Monday through Friday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Wixom Cooperative Co., 49350 Pontiac Trail — Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

On the final day of registration, Novi Township Hall will be open from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. Commerce Fire Hall will be open during the same hours.

Queen Honors Atom Scientists

LONDON (AP) — The traditional New Year's honor list announced today by Queen Elizabeth II gives top recognition to two atomic scientists.

Sir John Cockcroft, who is credited with being the first man to split the atom by mechanical means, was awarded the Order of Merit, Britain's most treasured distinction, the order is limited to 24 living members. Cockcroft is director of Britain's Harwell atomic energy project.

Sir Christopher Hinton, key figure in Britain's expanding atomic power program, was made a Knight Commander of the British Empire. He is managing director of the atomic energy authority's industrial division.

Nearly 2,000 men and women from all walks of life were named in the honor list.

No More Recognition of Common Law Wife

LANSING (AP) — From this day on, Michigan courts will not recognize common law marriages entered into after Dec. 31.

The official attitudes of the courts is changed as a result of an enactment by the 1956 legislature which becomes effective today.

Supporters of the bill said their aim was to reduce litigation stemming from alleged "common law marriages" which in court often turned out to be merely illicit relationships between a man and a woman.

They argued that it would cut down on litgation involving the legitimacy of children, inheritances and veterans and pension rights where claims were asserted by women claiming to be common law wives.

ROBERT DAVIS

Movie Depicts Canary Islands

Robert Davis to Show Color Travel Film Jan. 8 at Crary School

Robert Davis will return to Waterford Township for his second appearance in a series of six travel and adventure programs, at 8 p.m. January 8 at Isaac Crary Junior high school.

His newest adventure film in color, "Canary Islands," is, hailed by educators as one of the most interesting and informative motion pictures ever to be presented in the area.

Mr. Davis' 20 years of experience in motion pictures have brought forth adventure-packed travelogs, short subjects for television and educational use and the production of commercial films.

Boasting of an average temperature of 70 degrees, the Canary Islands is a hidden paradise for visitors. From the desert where vultures might go hungry to the 12,000-foot snow-capped Mt. Teide, Davis has captured the enchantment of the Islands.

Western to Get Stanley's Place

New Television Series Is Being Prepared by Sheldon Reynolds

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Mike Wallace is hot, all right: NBC offered Mike a firm three-year pact — $100,000 annual guarantee — to take over the "Tonight" show from Allen and Kovacs.

Mike turned NBC down. His "Night Beat" is due for a network now . . . (Meanwhile, back at "The Big Surprise," Wallace's wallet gets $1,500 fatter per week).

Sheldon (Foreign Intrigue) Reynolds has another TV series cooking — "The Sword," a French musketeer cloak-and-dagger version of TV's trenchcoat-and-Luger . . .

"Bengal Lancers," which had its premiere only a month ago, already shows a profit — because they struck oil on the site Screen Gems bought to shoot the Lancers' location scenes . . .

MOVE PREDICTED

NO MORE DIETING

Radio set sales went up 20 per cent in '56 and TV sales sets declined . . . Portables are 40 per cent ahead of last year's all-time high . . . TV sets are down about 9 per cent.

Ike Will Press Civil Rights Bill

Coalition Is Organized to Offset Opposition to Filibuster Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's determination to press his civil rights program in the new Congress stirred more maneuvering today by rival Senate groups on the issue.

Eisenhower told Senate Republican leaders of his plans at a White House conference yesterday, and reportedly made it clear he did not intend to draw back from an expected Southern filibuster against the bills. The GOP leaders pledged their support.

* * *

A Northern-Western coalition of Democrats and Republicans, intent on amending the rule which permits filibusters, chose Sen. Anderson (D-NM) as its floor leader, and voiced claims of mounting strength. Its members arranged to meet again Wednesday in the office of Sen. Douglas (D-Ill).

* * *

Meanwhile Dixie Democratic senators planned their own strategy meeting for Wednesday in the office of Sen. Russell (D-Ga).

Most of the talking came from the pro-civil rights bill camp, but Russell told a reporter the Northern-Western group might find it has won more than it had either bargained for or wanted if it succeeds in its drive to rewrite Senate rules.

* * *

"There are a lot of rules" others would like to change, he said, but he declined to go into detail.

Anderson, however, announced he will offer a motion when Congress meets on Thursday challenging the theory that the Senate's rules continue from one Congress to the next one.

* * *

The rules themselves forbid the imposition of any time limit on debating motions to change them, and require the vote of 64 of the 96 Senators to limit debate of a bill. Without a limit, a determined minority can talk a bill to death, preventing it from coming to a vote, by continuing debate on it until proponents of the measure surrender.

Dime Bag of Candy Purpose of Holdup

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Paul Ennis, 41, told police a dark-complexioned man in a downtown drug store last night held one hand in his pocket, looked at Ennis menacingly and ordered:

"Walk over to that counter and buy me 10 cents worth of chocolates."

As Ennis complied, sales girl Carol Case started to reach for the wrong bin, evoking "I don't want nuts — I want chocolates!" from the holdup man.

Ennis paid the 10 cents, handed over the candy, and watched the man make a hurried exit. He told police he saw no gun but thought the man may have had one in his pocket.

Dean Visser Resigns

HOLLAND (AP) — Hope College has announced that John Visser, its dean of men, has accepted a position as assistant to the registrar at Western Michigan College in Kalamazoo and will assume his new duties Feb. 1. Visser was Hope basketball coach from 1951 until this year when he became dean of men.

Old Injury Fells Garroway; Polio Benefit Goes On

NEW YORK (AP)—Dave Garroway, master of ceremonies of NBC's "Today" television program, will be confined to bed at least two weeks with recurrence of an old back and leg injury, aides said today.

Garroway felt some pain Christmas Eve, but continued to do his show through the remainder of the week. He was ordered to bed by his doctor Friday.

The "Today" show, broadcast from 7 to 9 a.m. (EST) will be presented as scheduled Thursday from Tampa, Fla., to start the National Polio Foundation fund drive. Jack Lescoulie, a "Today" regular will substitute for Garroway.

Arizona Lad, 7, Rescued Unhurt

Treated for Exposure at Hospital; Interested Chiefly in Chicken Soup

The youngster, who walked off a Seligman ranch early Saturday, is being treated for a mild touch of exposure at a Williams hospital where he was flown after he was found yesterday.

* * *

Two cowboys, Oscar Pannich and Alvin Wagner, spotted him on the slopes of Mt. Floyd, some 20 miles north of Seligman in a barren area that extends to the southern reaches of the Grand Canyon.

Jack, who started on a long walk Saturday with his dog, just kept on walking after leaving the ranch where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hodges of Seligman, were visiting. The dog returned a few hours later without the boy.

Searchers estimated the warmly-clad youngster must have walked some 50 miles, mostly in circles. Temperatures in the area dipped to 14 degrees over the weekend.

* * *

"I saw deer and antelope," he said, "but I didn't have a gun. I ate dirty snow that was on the north side of the mountain."

New School Dedicated

EAST JORDAN (AP) — Dedication and open house ceremonies Sunday completed East Jordan's new $400,000 grade school building, which replaced a 50-year-old structure declared unsafe. Construction started last year after school district residents approved a $410,000 bond issue by a vote margin of 3 to 1.

Champagne Flows Out Like Oil Flows In

Texans an Extremely 'Genteel' People — and Party Cost $125,000 to 'Prove' It

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A Texas oil millionaire last night spent $125,000 on a party to prove that Texans can be genteel.

However as champagne flowed like oil the party proved only that one can have as much fun in a ruffled shirt as in cowboy boots.

* * *

David (Tex) Feldman, reportedly the wealthiest independent oil operator in the world, was the host for the blowout, the fanciest in Hollywood memory.

Feldman, whose income is estimated at 7 million dollars a year, said he tossed the party primarily for his wife, Jane, but admitted:

* * *

Feldman took over Romanoff's Crown Room and Tom Douglas, noted architectural and interior designer, spent two days and $75,000 converting it into a Delmonico's of the early 1900's.

The party brought out some of the biggest names in the industrial, oil, movie and department store fields.

* * *

Among the guests, all of whom came attired in turn-of-the-century costumes, was Conrad Hilton, the hotel tycoon, who even wore mutton chop sideburns. Clark Gable came as the only and only Rhett Butler.

The headline act was Edith Piaf, the French singer who got $7,500 for singing three songs.

Perhaps the happiest of all couples on the dance floor was Jeanne Crain and Paul Brinkman celebrating a public reconciliation of their marriage, the breakup of which earlier in the year had made sensational headlines.

* * *

"No one is happier than Jeanne and I and our four children about tonight," Brinkman said.

One of the honored guests was Jack L. Warner, head of Warner Bros. studio, who had first shown the movie "Giant" to Feldman. The wealthy Texan objected to a scene in the movie which showed millionaire Texans as boisterous fun lovers.

By 2 a.m. of Jan. 1, 1957, when the party started dwindling, the movie looked pretty authentic.

Arson Suspect Held in Hartford

Seized at Church Door; Says All Priests, Nuns Should Commit Suicide

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—A man who told a policeman he thinks "all priests and nuns should commit suicide" was held today for questioning about a fire that destroyed a Roman Catholic Cathedral.

Police said the man, who identified himself as James M. Windridge, 30, was picked up last night as he tried to get into a Baptist church about a mile and a half from St. Joseph's Cathedral, which had burned to a shell earlier in the day.

* * *

He was held under $25,000 bond on charges of breach of the peace, resisting arrest and vagrancy.

Damage to the church was estimated at five million dollars. It was the second church fire here since early Sunday, when St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church was swept by fire. Damage there was estimated at $250,000.

Windridge was arrested by Patrolman Theodore Napper, one of 73 policemen assigned to guard the city's churches and synagogues after Fire Chief Henry G. Thomas said the two fires in 31 hours "have to be more than coincidence."

* * *

Napper said he questioned Windridge after the latter, with a Bible in his hand, tried the doors of the Shiloh Baptist Church for the third time in a short period.

Napper said Windridge made the remark about priests and nuns when he asked him what he was doing at the church. The patrolman said Windridge resisted arrest.

Replacing 1868 School

DOUGLAS (AP) — Construction has started on a $90,000 elementary school, scheduled to be completed next August, to replace a two-story, frame school building built in 1868.

Fence Snags Burglar, Holds Him for Police

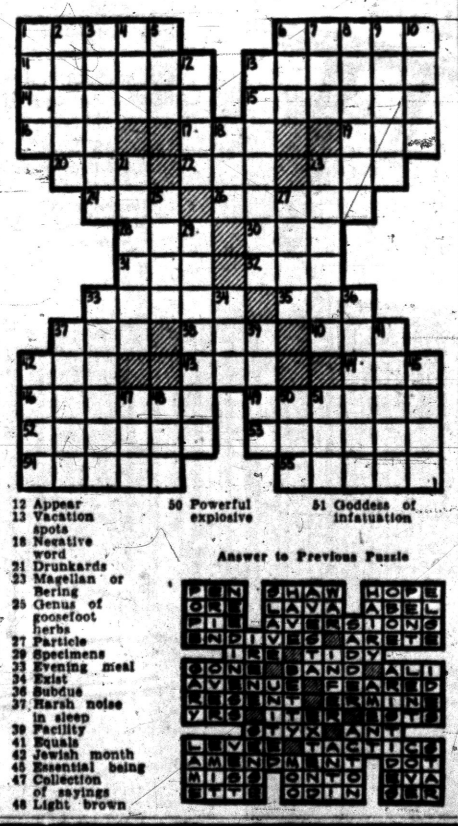

CINCINNATI (AP)—The gun holster of a fleeing burglar snagged on an iron fence last night, and held him fast until police captured him.

Police said the captured burglar, under questioning, gave the name of a two-gun companion. The guns turned out to be Christmas present cap pistols.

And the two burglars were eight years old. Their loot: two school writing tablets, from a junior high school.

Security For You

Employes to Deduct 2¼ Per Cent More

Your take-home pay is going to be a little less this year if your job is covered by Social Security. But, the difference every pay day will be so small that you may not notice it.

The reason: Your boss—starting today (Jan. 1)—is going to deduct 2¼ per cent of your pay for Social Security, instead of the 2 per cent he's been taking out since Jan. 1, 1955. The new tax rate will apply to all your earnings up to $4,200 a year.

The most the increase can cost you as an employe is $10.50 a year. Thus, your total Social Security tax payment can't be more than $94.50 a year. Your boss has to contribute an equal amount.

Averaging the increase out, the maximum it can cost you is 20 cents a week. If your total yearly earnings will be less than $4,200, the amount of tax will be less. For example: If your weekly pay is $50, the increase will be 12½ cents a week.

If you work for yourself—that is, you're self-employed—and you're covered by the Social Security law, your Social Security tax also has been increased effective today. The increase is from 3 to 3⅜ per cent of your net earnings up to $4,200.

Thus, the maximum increase for you is $15.75 a year or an average of about 33 cents a week. Your maximum Social Security tax will be $141.75 a year.

NEW PROVISION

* * *

Summed up, the additional cost is designed to cover the cost of making you eligible—under certain conditions — for Social Security payments if you're severely disabled and can't continue to work much.

You'll be eligible for the payments if you:

1. Are 50 or older, and
2. Have a medically established mental or physical disability so severe that you can't engage in any substantial work, and
3. Have had the disability for at least six months and it appears that the disability will last for the rest of your life, and
4. Have worked under Social Security for five of the ten years before you were disabled and for 18 of the 36 months before you were disabled.

* * *

The payments will be the same as those you'd be entitled to if you were 65 and had retired. The payments will range from $30 to $108.50 a month.

However, any other payments you get from the federal government will be subtracted from your payments if the other payments are based on a disability. This includes workman's compensation paid to you through your state and veteran's pension or compensation.

There'll be no additional money paid to you because you have dependents until you reach 65. After reaching that age, additional money will be paid.

With this new disability provision and the Social Security tax increase, Congress also set up a special bookkeeping arrangement. The money from the tax raise will be put into a special Disability Insurance Trust Fund. From this fund will come the disability payments.

(You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your own Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)
