Released Fliers Relax With Kin on Isle Holiday

Families Plan Picnics, Sightseeing Tours on Arrival in Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP) — Four U. S. jet fighter pilots, shot down in the Korean War and jailed more than two years in Red China, relaxed today in the love and comfort of their families on a Hawaiian holiday.

Their tears of joy were bright with new hope that 11 other captive U. S. airmen might follow them soon to freedom.

The airmen planned picnics, sightseeing tours, beach parties and talkfests to catch up on family news between military interrogations in the next three or four days.

They are scheduled to leave for their homes Monday.

Life has moved swiftly for them in the past few days. They were freed Tuesday at the Red China border near Hong Kong, flown to Hawaii in 35 hours, told of tribulations in Communist prisons, and were reunited yesterday with wives, parents and brothers in a joyous meeting.

Lt. Roland W. Parks of Omaha told a reporter his Chinese jailers gave him "every reason to believe" the other airmen would be freed soon.

RED PUBLICITY STUNT

"They used us," he said. "Now they're going to use them. The Reds want continual favorable publicity of an international nature now."

The fliers showed plainly at this time of joy that their thoughts and prayers were with the men still left behind.

Lt. Lyle W. Cameron, Lincoln, Neb., spoke for Parks, Lt. Col. Edwin Heller, Wynnewood, Pa., and Capt. Harold E. Fischer, Swea City, Iowa, when asked what he wanted most now that he was free."

"I'd like to be there to greet those other 11 when they come out," he said.

There were indications that Air Force officials flown from Washington to interrogate the men were pressing primarily for just such scraps of information as Parks brought out.

Parks said in a private interview there was every indication the Chinese Reds were "building up" the 11 remaining fliers for early release.

"They're following the same pattern they followed with us," he said. "My jailers told me they have started letting them write home for the first time."

The 11 B29 bomber crewmen were shot down Jan. 12, 1953. Red China sentenced them to terms ranging from 4 to 10 years on spy charges.

The Air Force flew in Fischer's parents, Cameron's parents and brother Robert, Parks' parents and brother Richard, and Heller's wife.

The fliers, who had stood up against more than two years of Red imprisonment, broke down at the airport when they embraced their loved ones.

Release of 11 Airmen Expected in 24 Hours

MANILA (UP)—The release of the 11 American airmen still imprisoned in Red China is expected within the next 24 hours, the managing director of the influential Times of India said tonight.

Russians Say 'Good (Hic) Bye' to Tito

Soviet Leaders Bid Fond, Alcoholic Adieu to Tito After Six-Hour Farewell Party

VIENNA (AP) — Soviet leaders Nikita Khrushchev, Nikolai Bulganin and A. I. Mikoyan arrived at Sofia Airport today for a visit of friendship to Bulgaria, Radio Sofia reported.

The radio broadcast was heard in Vienna.

The Kremlin's leaders wound up their eight-day visit to President Tito today. The Yugoslav marshal apparently managed to hold fast to his independence but echoed Soviet sentiments on German unity and Red Chinese claims to Formosa.

In Belgrade Khrushchev staggered out of the Soviets' goodbye party just before 2 o'clock this morning, issuing a blanket invitation to everyone in earshot to visit Russia.

For six hours he and Premier Nikolai Bulganin had entertained Yugoslav President Tito, top officials of Tito's government and their wives in a private room in the Serbian Parliament Building. Several hundred lesser guests danced in a concert hall nearby.

Soviet singers imported from Moscow entertained the official party.

The reception followed the signing of the joint declaration by Tito and Bulganin which concluded the Russians' eight-day visit to the Yugoslav Communist Chief Stalin had kicked out of the Soviet bloc in 1948.

Khrushchev wound up the party with kisses. After listing down a long flight of marble steps to his car, he bussed the wives of Vice Presidents Edward Kardelji and Moshe Pijade on the cheeks.

Tito's handsome wife—who drank only tomato juice during the evening—shook hands with Khrushchev, Bulganin and Deputy Soviet Premier A. I. Mikoyan. No one kissed her.

Tito drove Khrushchev to the airport in his Rolls Royce and remained on hand to see his guests off.

In a final round of handshakes before boarding his plane, Khrushchev spent more time bidding farewell to U. S. Ambassador James W. Riddleberger than any of the other diplomats present. At a dinner party last Saturday the two held a peppery exchange on the merits of capitalism versus socialism.

Tito and his visitors closed their parley last night with a declaration in general terms of principles urging that the way be paved for peaceful solution of world problems.

The document said Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union supported "the satisfaction of the legitimate rights of the Communist People's Republic of China with regard to Taiwan Formosa . . ." It did not say, however, that Peiping should fight for the island now held by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

The declaration also expressed Yugoslav-Soviet support for Red China's claims to a seat in the United Nations.

Yugoslavia has diplomatic relations with Red China and in the past has backed her bid for admission to the U.N. This was the first time, however, that Tito and the Soviets have joined in pushing Peiping's demands for Formosa.

In Washington, the State Department declined comment on the statement until it had more time to study the document. But officials said privately there seemed to be nothing new or startling in the declaration.

Company Offers to Supplement State Payments

Plan Would Amount to Guaranteed Income for Half of the Year

DETROIT (AP)—Tense auto industry labor talks centered today on the extent of employer liability under a supplemental jobless pay plan which one large producer, Ford, has reportedly accepted in principle.

Ford acceptance of the basic idea behind the CIO United Auto Workers guarteed annual wage demand—that employers foot part of the bill for maintaining workers' income when they are laid off—provided hope that a strike Monday among Ford's 140,000 workers could be averted.

However, Ford has reportedly agreed to provide its laid-off workers with weekly payments, supplementing their state unemployment compensation benefits, for only a maximum 26 weeks, or half a year.

This would amount to a guaranteed semi-annual wage instead of the full 52-week pay assurance sought by union President Walter Reuther.

Another, but probably less serious, stumbling block in solving the jobless pay issue in the crucial negotiations is the amount of supplementary jobless payments which Ford is willing to make.

The company has reportedly offered to supplement a worker's state payments for the first four weeks he is idled to provide him with an aggregate of 65 per cent of his regular take-home pay—the amount he gets in his pay envelope after tax and other deductions.

For the next 22 weeks Ford reportedly proposed lesser company-financed payments that would aggregate 60 per cent of take-home pay.

The UAW had originally demanded combined state and company payments roughly equaling full normal take-home pay. Later it scaled this down to 80 per cent of full earnings, before tax and other deductions.

It thus appeared that Reuther has won the principle of his guaranteed annual wage plan from Ford at least, but has gotten only part way so far in negotiations in achieving the implementing money arrangements he desires.

The union has concentrated its bargaining on Ford, with a walkout possible there after midnight Sunday. There was no word that General Motors has accepted the supplemental unemployment pay idea in its separate talks with the UAW.

However, the union has generally been successful in getting terms won from one major car producer spread to the rest of the industry. GM's strike deadline is midnight next Wednesday.

$3.5 Billion Bill Passes Senate

Eisenhower's Foreign Aid Program Goes to House Uncut

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's 3½ billion dollar foreign aid program sped to the House today after comfortably surviving all attempts in the Senate to reduce the total.

Senate passage last night marked the first time in five years a global aid authorization measure has won Senate approval without a money cut. Also defeated were attempts to require that a major part of economic aid be made as loans rather than grants.

The final vote was 59-18, with 11 Republicans and seven Democrats voting "no." The program is already under consideration by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The overwhelming approval recorded by the Senate, however, concealed a measure of strong dissatisfaction on the part of some senators who voted for the bill.

They served notice they would fight to reduce the money total in the Appropriations Committee and later on the Senate floor when the forthcoming money bill is taken up.

What Is So Rare as This June? Will Be Warmer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The weather bureau predicts it will be warmer than usual for the season in the eastern half of the nation during June.

It said near normal temperatures are expected over the Great Plains. Below normal temperatures were forecast for the area west of the Continental Divide except for the California coastal region.

The bureau's 30-day outlook added:

"Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over a broad area extending from the southern plateau through the central plains to the Great Lakes region. Subnormal amounts are indicated along the West Coast and in the Southeast.

Warm Temperatures Predicted for Area

Partly cloudy skies and warmer temperatures are seen for tonight and tomorrow by the weatherman. Tonight's low is expected to be 60-64, tomorrow's high near 86.

Tomorrow night, it's to be mostly cloudy and mild with scattered thundershowers and a low of 62-66.

High temperature yesterday was 80, low 51. At 8 a.m. today, the mercury stood at 65 degrees in downtown Pontiac, rising to 76 at 2 p.m.

Deadline Nears for Legislature

Tax Fight Threatening to Delay Adjournment Past Midnight

LANSING (AP) — The 1955 Michigan Legislature is supposed to wind up by midnight tonight—but a fight over new revenues threatens to delay the adjournment.

A six-man conference committee of House and Senate members struggled late last night seeking a solution of a dispute over a revision of the business receipts tax.

An increase in the tax is necessary if the lawmakers are to wipe out a 27 million dollar deficit in next year's budget.

Under legislative rules the session is supposed to end at midnight. If business is not completed then the lawmakers may recess until 10 a.m. Saturday morning and to 10 a.m. each morning thereafter — or they may let the scrap lie over until they return July 14 for their two-day final adjournment.

REACTIONS VARY

Two lengthy sessions of the tax committee produced varying reactions among members.

Some thought it might reach a solution before midnight, some thought a new committee might have to be named to carry on the fight and others thought the controversy would have to go over until July 15.

The Senate has stood for a business receipts tax increase from four to six mills and the House for seven mills on the gross receipts of business, professional and farm people.

Ten bills still were in conference committees as the Legislature started what it hoped would be its last day.

Bonanzagram Contest Award May Hit $1,300

The bonanzagram cash award will go to $1,300 unless some expert puzzle-solver submitted a correct answer to No. 12 the solution to which appears today on page 2.

If a winner appears at the Pontiac Press by 5 p.m. Monday he or she will receive $1,200. If not, $100 will be added upping the jackpot to $1,300 for the next brain teaser appearing today on page 36.

The rules are still simplified. Punctuation, while helping solve the puzzle, will not be counted in determining a winner.

Conrad, Slater in Links Finals

Texan Ousts Patton's Conqueror to Reach British Title Round

ST. ANENS, England (AP) — Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., defeated Phil Scrutton, English Walker Cup player, 5 and 4, to reach the finals of the British amateur golf championship today. Conrad's opponent in tomorrow's 36-hole final will be Alan Slater of England, who defeated Arthur Perowne 3 and 2.

Conrad, a tournament "dark horse" in spite of his fine showing as a member of the American Walker Cup team, eliminated Roger Bayliss in the quarter-finals this morning, 5 and 3.

Slater, who disposed of two top-rank Americans yesterday, upset Joe Carr of Ireland, the 1953 champion, 2 and 1.

Two other Americans, Billy Joe Patton and Don Bisplinghoff, were eliminated in the quarter-finals. Patton took a 7 and 6 thumping from Scrutton and Bisplinghoff lost to Perowne, 1-up, on the 20th hole.

Ike Plans to Fly in Smaller Plane

Will Use Twin Engine Craft for Trips to Gettysburg Farm

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is flying to his country home at Gettysburg today in a small plane. It is his first air trip there and his first in a small aircraft since he became President.

The two-engine plane, which is attached to the Air Force, has been flying between Washington and Gettysburg for some time preparing for this trip.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, told reporters the plane being used by the President has been certified as satisfactory by the Air Force. He said it also meets requirements of the Secret Service. He did not say what these were.

Asked whether the President might use the small plane frequently for trips to Gettysburg, Hagerty said "That depends on the situation at the time and I would not limit it to Gettysburg."

The plane is a four-place Aero Commander made by the Aero Design and Engineering Co., of Bethany, Okla. Ordinarily the President flies in a giant Constellation.

Ford GAW Plan Would Work Out in This Way

DETROIT (AP)—Here's an example of how combined state and employer jobless payments, as reportedly offered by the Ford Motor Co. in auto industry negotiations, would apply to a married worker in Michigan with two children and earning $2.10 an hour:

His take-home pay, after taxes, would be about $76. Under the state system he would get about $37 a week for 26 weeks of layoff.

For the first four weeks, under a guarantee of 65 per cent of take-home pay, he would be entitled to $49.40 per week. The company would pay him the difference from the state payment, of $12.40.

For the next 22 weeks of layoff, his guarantee would be 60 per cent of take-home pay, or $45.60. The company would pay him $8.60 weekly in supplemental payments.

Police Seek Mystery Car in Jeannie Rape-Slaying

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Police today sought the driver of a mystery car seen in the vicinity of where the body of 8-year-old Jeannie Singleton was found Wednesday.

Capt. Riley Stewart, chief of Kalamazoo detectives, said "the hottest tip thus far is the report by two separate persons of a mysterious automobile seen in the vicinity of where the body was found."

It was the single clue police had to the identity of the rape-slayer.

Not a trace of Jeannie was found until Wednesday when five farm children playing hide-and-seek stumbled on the girl's mutilated body in a wooded area in nearby Allegan County, 18 miles from her home.

Allegan County Sheriff Walter Runkel, revisiting the lonely murder scene near Doster, said he found footprints of a man and child leading from the rough trail road to the spot where the body was found. Only the prints of the man returned, he said.

His find bolstered the belief that Jeannie was taken to the spot by her abductor, raped and slain, probably on the day she disappeared.

Because of rains during the past week, the footprints were not suitable for casting.

The five children who found the body are to share a $300 reward, offered by the AFL United Auto Workers locals in Kalamazoo and a Grand Rapids insurance official.

Funeral service was set for today at the New Apostolic Church in Kalamazoo. Burial will be at Mt. Everest Memorial Park.

Williams Asks Data on Highway Plans

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today instructed State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler to report promptly his plans for starting the arterial highway system provided by a legislative gas tax increase.

Williams said "the people of Michigan have begun paying for a modern arterial highway system. They have accepted the increased gasoline tax on the basis of assurances that this time they will get the roads they are paying for . . . ."

The governor asked Ziegler to report at the next administrative board meeting his plans for making an immediate start on the system and to give a more detailed report by June 24 on a five-year construction program.

Van Wagoner Appointed

The State Senate yesterday confirmed Gov. Williams' appointment of Murray D. Van Wagoner, of 175 Abbey, Birmingham, to the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

Area Draft Boards' Quota 30 in July

Oakland County's draft boards have been ordered to induct 30 men into the armed services in July, State Selective Service Headquarters announced today.

The statewide quota for the month is 550, compared to 600 for May and 538 for June.

Pontiac Area Employment Equals All-Time Record

Current Pontiac-area employment is equaling an all-time high, with 81,800 workers drawing regular paychecks, it was reported today by the Pontiac office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

James H. Dudley, office manager, said only once previously—in July 1953—has employment reached the present high level.

Based on employers' reports to the MESC, Dudley said, employment should remain close to the present level through mid-July.

The area's dominant industry—motor vehicles—is currently employing 34,200 workers, the same as in July 1953.

However, the manufacturing work force is 1,900 less, while non-manufacturing has increased by 1,900, Dudley said. The manufacturing decrease is due primarily to the closing of a foundry, he said.

★ ★ ★ ★

Unemployment at mid-May was estimated at 2,100, down 300 from April and 1,900 fewer than a year ago. A heavy influx of workers into the area has tended to keep unemployment up, Dudley said.

In July 1953 unemployment stood at the 2,000 mark. Dudley noted that rising employment attracts newcomers to the area in large numbers.

★ ★ ★ ★

During May, the Pontiac MESC office issued 2,992 unemployment compensation checks worth $83,836, compared with 4,181 checks for $123,457 in April and 6,702 checks for $204,921 in March.

Realty Agent Arrested Here

Francis E. Miller, 41, to Face Embezzlement Charge

Francis E. Miller, part owner of the Stone Realty Co., at 919 Joslyn Ave., was arrested and arraigned on an embezzlement charge in Pontiac Municipal Court yesterday.

He is free on $1,000 bond after demanding examination which Judge Maurice E. Finnegan set for June 15.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said a number of Miller's clients allege they have been bilked out of sums totaling about $30,000.

Miller, 41, of 651 Second St., was arrested at his home yesterday afternoon.

He is specifically charged with embezzling $2,000 from Lester C. Barron, of 6213 Wilson Dr., Drayton Plains.

Barron told Ziem he left the money with one of Miller's salesmen as a deposit on a home-purchase, but signed no legally binding papers.

Barron said he returned on May 12, called the deal off, and was given a $2,000 check against the firm's trust fund account.

"A real estate dealer is supposed to hold a deposit such as Barron made in trust," said Ziem, "but the check bounced on May 17."

The prosecutor said his office has had "numerous other complaints of a similar nature."

A young couple, Ziem said, claim they gave Miller $600 following a preliminary agreement to buy some property. The transaction depended on whether they could obtain a G. I. loan.

The loan was not approved, they told Ziem, and they were given a $600 check by Miller. The check bounced after they used it to buy an auto.

Another complainant alleges Miller sold some property for him for $6,000 and he has been unable to get the money.

The Pontiac Real Estate Board expelled Miller from membership May 22, according to its secretary, Edward A. Maier. "Our grievance committee recommended the move after receiving a series of complaints," Maier explained.

Pontiac Policeman Given Suspension

Patrolman James B. Sexton, 29, of 694 E. Beverly Ave., has been suspended from the Pontiac Police force for three months and given a year's probation, according to James J. McCarthy, trial board secretary.

The officer, who had been charged with conduct unbecoming an officer, suffered serious injuries and was hospitalized after he claimed to have been beaten by a man who attempted to make an illegal liquor sale.

Sexton had contended, after making private investigation, that John L. Shaw, 30, formerly of 70 Houston St., "sold" him a bottle of liquor near Bagley and Wessen Sts. early April 1.

Shaw later was sentenced to 60 days in the Oakland County jail and placed on a year's probation on a felonious assault charge.

PONTIAC PIANIST — Artist Vivian Scott will be playing in familiar surroundings when she presents a concert benefiting her church Sunday evening in Pontiac High School Auditorium. Very active in musical groups during her school years here in the early 1940's, she was a member of the National Honor Society and was awarded the Sarah McCarroll Foundation scholarship for two consecutive years.

Pontiac, Waterford Youths in Road-E-O

James Barnowsky, 16, of 132 E. Rundell St., and Bud Volberding, 17, 7130 Deer Lake Rd., Waterford, will be among 70 teenage Road-E-O contestants in tomorrow's state driving championship.

The fourth annual Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce program will be held at Michigan State College and conducted by Michigan State Police.

The 70 contestants represent the best of 4,750 entries from all over the state. The winner will represent Michigan in the national finals Aug. 25-28 in Washington, D.C.

Barnowsky and Volberding won first place trophies in local contests. The final winner will be awarded, among other prizes, a $3,000 scholarship.

Cranbrook Planetarium Open for Appointments

Views of the summer sky through a 6-inch telescope will be demonstrated on a limited number of clear evenings in June, July, and early August at Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills.

Public groups may make appointments at a nominal fee by calling MIdwest 4,1600, extension 73.

The institute's projection planetarium, now being completed, is expected to be available for public viewings in July, when a schedule will be announced.

Vivian Scott Gives Recital to Benefit Pontiac Church

Vivian Scott, graduate of Pontiac High School class of 1943, honor graduate of Howard University, Washington, D. C., and Julliard School of Music, is being presented in a concert at Pontiac High School auditorium Sunday, June 5, at 8 p.m. under the auspices of and to benefit the Newman A. M. E. Church.

On March 20, Vivian made her debut at Town Hall, New York City. Her appearance was made possible by Jugg, Inc., which gives assistance to young talented artists.

Of her performance, the New York Herald Tribune music critic wrote: "An exceptionally gifted young pianist, Vivian Scott, made her debut at Town Hall as the seventh annual Jugg, Inc. award winner. Her program included works by Bach, Swanson, Schumann and Chopin.

"Miss Scott has all the excitement and ebullience of youth. Her technique is large, her tone magnificently sonorous and her fingers are fleet, strong and diciplined.

"The Prelude from Bach—Busoni Fugue in D Major was utterly arresting. Swanson's 'Sonata' and charming 'The Cuckoo' were clean and bright.

The Chopin Etudes displayed the most sensitive and relaxed musicality of the afternoon. It was in short a debut to remember."

According to her mother, Mrs. Mary Belle Scott, 146 Jackson St., Vivian showed great interest in music at the age of three.

When five years old, she began her music lessons with Mrs. Robert (Bertha) Lowe, the wife of a former minister. Later she was taught by Pauline McCaughan, known musically as Carlotta Franzell.

Other teachers were Lyla Brewer Tabor, Blanche Watson and Margaret Pelican. While still in school here, she also studied with Edward Bredshall of Detroit.

When Vivian was 13, Mrs. S. A. Kessell, founder of the Tuesday Musical here, recognized her ability and wanted to help.

Mrs. Kessell gave benefit teas in her home and made it possible for Vivian to have the Harry Protiva's grand piano when they moved to Florida. Mr. Protiva was an investment broker here.

During her years at Washington Junior and Pontiac High Schools, Vivian accompanied orchestra and band members in the district and state contests.

The young artist has presented concerts in Washington, D. C., Williamsburg, Va., Birmingham, Ala. and Berkeley, Calif. in addition to radio and television appearances.

Sunday evening she will play:

I

Italian Concerto ..... Bach

II

Carnaval ..... Schumann

Intermission

III

Etudes, Op. 25 No. 12 No 1-11 ..... Chopin

IV

Reflets dans l'Eau ..... Debussy
La Vie Breve ..... de Falla
The Maiden and the Nightingale ..... Grandos
Triana ..... Albeniz

In private life, Miss Scott is Mrs. Andrew Ramsey. She has two children, a daughter, Rheba who is six years old and a son, Drew, five.

Air Raid Warning Siren to Be Sounded Tomorrow

Pontiac-area residents today were reminded by civil defense officials that the air raid warning siren atop the Pontiac State Bank will be sounded at 1 p.m. tomorrow, as it is on the first Saturday of every month.

William L. Collins, assistant CD director for Pontiac, also listed explanations of the signals.

A steady blast on the siren for from three to five minutes is the "Alert" signal. It indicates an attack is expected within a few hours.

The "Take Cover" signal is a wail of three minutes duration and means that an attack is imminent.

The "All Clear" signal will not be given by the siren, as in the past.

Reason for this, according to the Oakland County CD office, is that radioactive fall-out could be dangerous in some areas long after other areas are safe.

The "All Clear" will be announced over the Conelrad channels.

The Pontiac CD office expects the following action to be taken when the "Alert" is sounded, outside of practice:

1. Schools begin evacuation of pupils according to pre-arranged plan.
2. Industries and business firms put emergency plans into operation.
3. Civil defense forces mobilize according to prescheduled plans.
4. Evacuation plan instituted.
5. Public turns on radios to Conelrad channels — 640 and 1240 on the radio dial. (These will be the only frequencies operating.)

On the "Take Cover" signal, with attack just a short time off, the CD office advises citizens to do the following:

1. At home — go to prepared shelter. Turn off all appliances.
2. At work — go to assigned shelters.
3. At school — go to assigned shelters.
4. In the open — go to nearest shelter or building.
5. In vehicles — get out; go to nearest shelter or building.

General rules listed by the office should a bomb actually be dropped:

1. Try to get shielded.
2. Drop flat on ground or floor.
3. Bury your face in your arms.
4. Don't rush outside.
5. Don't take chances with food or water in open containers.
6. Don't start rumors.

Pontiac Deaths

John Antonio Ablin

Service will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Melvin A. Schutt Funeral Home for John Antonio Ablin, 55, of 221 Willard St., who died Wednesday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The Rev. William E. Hakes of the First Baptist Church will officiate with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery.

In Mr. Ablin's obituary yesterday the name of a daughter, Mrs. Dolores Rice, was omitted among the survivors.

Mrs. Hargest Coleman

The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Macedonia Baptist Church for Mrs. Hargest (Rosa) Coleman, 39, of 594 California St. She died Monday at Pontiac General Hospital after a brief illness.

The Rev. L. R. Miner will officiate with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Coleman was born June 13, 1915 in Bay Springs, Miss. and was the daughter of George and Channie Paige Quince. She was married there in 1937.

She had lived in Pontiac 13 years coming here from Bay Springs and had been employed at the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She was a member of the Macedonia Baptist Church.

Besides her husband and mother, she is survived by six children, Deloris, Linda, Sandy, George, John B. and Joseph, all of Pontiac.

Also surviving are the following brothers and sisters, Wash, Matt and Cousanna Quince, of Bay Springs, Abraham of Soso, Miss., William of Biloxi, Miss., Corrine Lasiter of Philadelphia, Miss., Bobbie of Laurel, Miss., Mary Duckworth and Emma Brown, both of Pontiac.

Friends may call today after 3:30 p.m. at the William F. Davis Funeral Home.

Marquis James Peabody

Marquis James Peabody, 76, of 10 Brewer Ct. died last night after a two years' illness.

Born Jan. 15, 1879 in Rolla, Mo., he was the son of William and Ellen Nye Peabody. He married the former Winifred Tucker here in 1901.

A painter and decorator, Mr. Peabody had lived in Pontiac 55 years.

Besides his wife, he is survived by five children, Edward of California, Mrs. Ruth Rowe and Marquis Peabody, both of Pontiac, Mrs. Mable Tedder of Clarkston and Mrs. Leola Lorang of Linden.

Service will be held Monday at 2:30 p.m. at the Huntoon Funeral Home with the Rev. James H. Luther of the Silvercrest Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Edward Richards

Mrs. Edward (Martha B.) Richards, 38, of 3855 Joslyn Rd. died yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital. She had been ill six months.

Born March 14, 1917 in Detroit, she was the daughter of George and Anna Neubacher Shumaker and was married here Nov. 12, 1939.

Mrs. Richards attended school in Belair and was a member of the Latter Day Saints Church. She came here from Belair in 1939.

Surviving are her husband, mother, father and three children, Tad Franklin, Robert James and Edwin Thomas, all at home.

A brother, Richard Shumaker, of Grand Rapids and three sisters, Mrs. Frank Van Blarcom of Bay City, Mrs. Ronald Mustoe of Garden Grove, Calif. and Mrs. Al Marchment of Weeksville, N.C., also survive.

The funeral will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. in the Latter Day Saints Church with Elder Claude Cook officiating. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery. Mrs. Richards is at the Huntoon Funeral Home.

Bank Robbers Snatch $50,000

Four Stocking-Masked Men Stage Holdup in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Four gunmen held up a branch office of the Cleveland Trust Co. today, 10 minutes after it had opened. First reports to police were that the loss was about $50,000.

Four tellers and a bookkeeper were in the West Side branch.

* * *

Wearing stockings over their faces, the men fled in an automobile

While the others stood guard, one of the bandits, described as stocky and ruddy complexioned, vaulted over the tellers' bar and scooped up cash from several drawers.

* * *

Witnesses said he was about 40, weighing 200 pounds and standing 5 feet 11 in height, a tan stocking masked his face, thought to be round in shape and red in color. He wore a brown shirt and tan slacks and held a .45 caliber automatic pistol.

He crammed the currency into two of the drawers, and the bandits carried the drawers off to their waiting car.

* * *

Miss Lisa Zieba, 21, one of the tellers, said $15,500 was missing from her cage, but that $10,000 had been overlooked.

City Civitan Club to Install Officers

New Pontiac Civitan Club officers will be installed by the district governor at the club's annual dinner meeting at Devon Gables tomorrow night.

Honored guest and speaker will be Roy M. Abagnale, president of Civitan International. Installations will be conducted by Walter Lewis, governor of the Great Lakes District.

Civitan chapters from Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Ontario and other parts of Michigan will be represented at the affair.

About 600 planes depart to or arrive from foreign nations in the U. S. each day.

The Day in Birmingham

Boy Scout Troops to Join in District One Camporee

BIRMINGHAM — Boy Scout troops from Birmingham, Franklin and Bloomfield Hills will camp under the stars tonight and tomorrow at Kensington Metropolitan Park.

Scouts from the area, some 400 in all, will join with 2,100 others from District One in the camporee, a demonstration of camping skills with competition between patrols.

Units will arrive at the park and pitch tents in their assigned areas. Competitive sports and skill contests will start at 2 p.m. tomorrow afternoon. Religious services will be held Sunday followed by a noon meal where special camporee certificates will be awarded.

District One of the Detroit Area Boy Scout Council extends from Eight Mile Road to Bloomfield Hills and from Inkster to Dequindre roads. A total of 85 troops are in the district.

Oakland County register of deeds Orrin McQuaid is the new owner of the Birmingham Hardware, 152 N. Woodward Ave. McQuaid purchased the store from the estate of Lester J. Slusser last month.

"I will not take an active part in the management of the store," McQuaid said. "Tom Cummings, formerly with McBride's Hardware, will serve as manager." McQuaid said there will be some remodeling and stock changes in the store.

Other notes about businesses in the Birmingham trading area: James Tuuk, manager of the A&P supermarket, announced the installation of an air conditioning system, completing a six-month modernization project at the store.

Construction of a one-wing addition to the McManus, John & Adams Building in Bloomfield Hills started this week. The addition, expected to be completed by October, will provide an estimated 5,000 square foot increase in floor space.

Members of the Cannibal party will head the student government at the new Bloomfield High School, Long Lake Rd. and Telegraph, when it opens in September.

The Cannibal party was one of three at the school during elections for student government officers. The other two were the Pajama and Jet-Head parties.

Ed Danziger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Danziger, Wing Lake, was elected president. Others elected included Barbara Woolson, vice president; Betty Arnoldi, secretary, and Carol Brodi, treasurer.

* * *

Officers for the newly formed Our Lady Queen of Martyrs School PTA were elected recently. Temporary chairman Mrs. Dick Roach relinquished her post to Jack Cleary following his election as president.

Frank Murphy was elected vice president; Mrs. Paul Rebe, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Brindle, recording secretary; Richard Thomas, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Sudz, corresponding secretary.

A new Presbyterian congregation, to be known as the Northminster Presbyterian Church, will be organized at 8 p.m. Sunday in the chapel of First Presbyterian Church, 1669 West Maple St. The new church will serve the Pembroke area in northeast Birmingham.

A site for the new church has been procured on Big Beaver and Crooks Rds. After formal organization plans will be made for the official installation of the Rev. McKay Taylor as pastor.

City Fire Stations Being Studied Today

Two representatives of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and the Michigan Inspection Bureau are in Pontiac today checking existing fire station locations and making surveys to determine where future stations can best be placed for maximum protection.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the two, who arrived in the city yesterday, will submit a written report in about a month.

Willman said the last complete survey of Pontiac's fire protection facilities and equipment was made in 1928. A supplemental check was made in 1944.

There are about 80,000 private airplanes in the U. S.

Authorities Complete Missing Man's Note

The authorities figured out the missing man's note. This is how they arrived at the meanings:

WHILE ON A TREK YESTERDAY, I CAUGHT SIGHT OF THE BEAUTIFUL NIGER. TREK is better than TREE here; the phrasing would have been IN or UP IN A TREE, whereas we know he was on a journey. TREK is a South African word, but the inexperienced traveler might well have transposed it to apply to a West African journey.

NIGER, the long river through French West Africa and Nigeria, is the only possible word here. It would be impossible to see a TIGER in Africa, for the tiger's habitat is Asia. AS IT STREAMED BELOW ME follows naturally, STREAKED would not apply so well to a river.

IT GAVE ME CAUSE TO PONDER. This is better than any combination of PAUSE and WONDER. CAUSE, that is, reason, has more validity than the phrase GAVE ME PAUSE, meaning "made me hesitant or uncertain." WONDER is not a strong enough expression for his state of mind; PONDER shows the deep concentration necessary for making a grave decision.

IF I SHOULD WILL IT follows logically; since there is no TIGER, KILL is ruled out. For the same reason, MY LIFE WOULD BE SHAPED BY STAYING is better than any combination of SHAMED or SHARED with SLAYING or SWAYING.

THE JUNGLE REWARDS THE HUNGER OF MAN AND BEAST ALIKE. The story clues mentioned that this man was "under the spell of tropical Africa," and this seems to be a statement of his philosophy. It is more appropriate to the situation than any combination of REGARDS OR RETARDS with HUNGER or HUNTER.

The story clues characterized the writer as "silent, absorbed with his ego," and therefore SINCE I DO NOT CARE TO DEBASE MY IDEAL is more in accordance with the clues than CARE or DARE TO DEBASE MY IDEAS. An egotist would DARE anything, and would usually consider it beneath him to DEBATE IDEAS because he is sure he is right.

I CANNOT WELL EXPLAIN OR JUSTIFY MY NEED is better than the inversion, I CANNOT TELL—EXPLAIN OR JUSTIFY MY NEED TO OTHERS I SHALL NOT. And NEED is more cogent than DEED here; his NEED for a different life is more the burning question than his DEED in running away from the safari.

NORMAL LIFE HAS BEEN A PRISON TO ME. NORMAL covers more ground than FORMAL; FORMAL has more of the connotation of social standards, than of the NORMAL accepted standards of living. And PRISON is more apt than POISON, for the note goes on I MUST HAVE FREEDOM TO BE MY ODD SELF. PRISON vs. FREEDOM is his big problem.

ODD is a better choice than OLD here because this is said by a young man who could not very well refer to his OLD SELF.

ALONE WITH MY PATENT DESIRE — ALONE has more meaning than ALONG for the writer's desertion of civilization proves his need to be ALONE. His desire is no longer LATENT, that is, hidden or dormant, but is actually PATENT, that is, obvious or evident.

FOR EXPERIENCE OR DEPTH —there is no evidence that the young man was seeking DEATH but rather a new life that would have the DEPTH lacking in his NORMAL LIFE. Therefore, WHAT (THAT would have called for THAT which) I HAVE ALWAYS DREAMED WILL COME TRUE. If DEATH is ruled out, then DREAMED follows the thought better than DREADED.

The signature is not LONESTAR, for the young man is not from Texas. It is a word that means "a guiding ideal" of "a star that leads" — the young idealist signs himself LODESTAR.

WHILE ON A TREK YESTERDAY, I CAUGHT SIGHT OF THE BEAUTIFUL NIGER AS IT STREAMED BELOW ME, IT GAVE ME CAUSE TO PONDER. IF I SHOULD WILL IT, MY LIFE WOULD BE SHAPED BY STAYING. THE JUNGLE REWARDS THE HUNGER OF MAN AND BEAST ALIKE. SINCE I DO NOT CARE TO DEBASE MY IDEAL, I CANNOT WELL EXPLAIN OR JUSTIFY MY NEED TO OTHERS. I SHALL NOT. NORMAL LIFE HAS BEEN A PRISON TO ME. I MUST HAVE FREEDOM TO BE MY ODD SELF. ALONE WITH MY PATENT DESIRE FOR EXPERIENCE AND DEPTH, WHAT I HAVE ALWAYS DREAMED WILL COME TRUE.

Sigma Chi Betrays Blondes

Where Are the Golden Girls of Yesteryear

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Sentimental members of old Sigma Chi fraternity have linked themselves up traditionally with a certain type of girl, the blue of whose eys and the gold of whose hair are a blend of the Western skies.

* * *

They always took their internationally famous theme, "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" pretty literally. It was not law exactly but, Panhellenic, it was custom.

Well this year, these gentlemen of distinction have switched to brunettes. They have officially refuted their song by selecting three brown-haired beauties to vie for the title of "International Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" at their 100th birthday celebration to take place in Cincinnati, Ohio, late this month.

The coeds are cute all right, but they are decidedly not in keeping with Sigma Chi standards.

It is doubtful, for instance, that any of these sweet young things would—like a rainbow trail—fade in the afterglow. (But then that always seemed a lot to ask of a girl anyway.)

SOMEWHAT STUNNED

Ever since I received the announcement about the Sigs' upcoming upheaval of blondes, I have been somewhat stunned, for I hazily recall my own college days when a Sigma Chi who fell, by dire chance, for a redhead or darker was subject to all sorts of ridicule.

On my straft-laced campus, it was properly assumed that either you looked like a blend of the Western sky, honey, or you were barred from the big white Sigma Chi mansion.

Never will I forget one careless evening when a lovely, but dusky-haired, senior girl bowled over a Sig and he gave her his cross - shaped, diamond-studded fraternity pin.

This signified that, one starlit night in spring, the young gents of Sigma Chi were obligated to march in formation to a position below the brunette's dormitory window and sing for her a medley of fraternity tunes, winding up of course with the sweetheart song.

Such a ritual was performed for any senior girl "pinned" to a senior male, and it invariably left most girls in tears and most men in a cow-eyed condition, vulnerable to the wiles of the next coed who came along.

JULIET GIGGLED

Only in this case, the serenade didn't work. The boys marched up all right and took positions under the window where the brunette sat Julietishly, lighted candle in her hand.

* * *

All went well until the boys came to "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," and then things generally broke down. Even Juliet herself tittered (she was a giggly girl anyway) when they sang the bit about the gold hair, and the gentlemen of Sigma Chi slowly marched away. Still singing, but disgusted.

Shortly thereafter, the romance ended. He couldn't stand the ribbing, and she wouldn't bleach. The song was bigger than both of them.

But here, in '55, at the fraternity's centennial, this ivy-covered tradition is to be kicked aside in favor of three brownettes from the University of Texas, Duke and San Diego State College. Well might one ask what gives.

'WHAT GIVES?'

"What gives?" we asked cartoonist Milt Caniff, chairman of the judges and Sigma Chi from Ohio State University, class of '30.

"Well, there were about 100 candidates for the international sweetheart," explained Milt bravely, "and it was just happenstance—you know, I'm married to a blonde so I am not prejudiced—that the ones we picked were all brunettes.

"We worried a bit about it, but then we dug through the song book and found a ditty called 'Our Brown-Eyed Sweetheart,' which exonerated us completely. In this song, it says that the Sigma Chi girl can have dark hair and still get by okay."

Caniff added on behalf of his fellow judges—actor John Wayne, tennis star Tony Trabert and restaurateur Vincent Sardi — that "actually this is the way it should be. Sigma Chi must be democratic in its appreciation of beauty."

First a dark horse wins the Kentucky Derby; then Eddie says maybe, but not yet, to Debbie, and now this. It's an unpredictable, wishy-washy year we're living in. . . .

Grand Rapids Man Gets Lansing Post

LANSING (AP) — Thomas H. E. Quimby of Grand Rapids has been appointed by Gov. Williams as director of the State Workmen's Compensation Department.

Quimby, who is chairman of the Kent County Democratic Committee, is traffic manager of the Doehler-Jarvis Division plant in Grand Rapids.

The Legislature created the director's job this year in a revision of the workmen's compensation set-up.

The director, who will be paid $13,500 a year, will head the administrative branch of the department. The idea of the change is to leave the compensation commission free to review injury claims by workmen.

Quimby's appointment is for a term expiring Jan. 1, 1959.

Cancer Society Ups Lung Research Grant

MINNEAPOLIS (INS) — Directors of the American Cancer Society have allocated one million dollars for lung cancer research because of its rising death rate.

The amount, voted yesterday at a meeting in Minneapolis, doubled the sum which had been set aside for research in lung cancer.

Gov. Walter Kohler of Wisconsin, ACS board chairman, also announced a new fund raising policy adopted by the group.

It prohibits ACS units from participating in any new federated fund appeals or community chest drives.

Oakland County Needs New Roads Very Badly

Michigan's legislature has voted a cent and a half gas tax to build new roads. We face a desperate need.

Our roads are probably further "behind the times" than anything found in the great Wolverine Commonwealth. We pride ourselves on keeping abreast or ahead of the times. Yes, by and large, Michigan always does well.

★ ★ ★

However, traffic has swept far past and beyond anything we offer in the way of roads. This is no criticism of the Highway Department. Probably it has done better than any of us has a right to expect with the money allotted.

But that fact doesn't lessen our current failures one whit. We have been woefully negligent and while the new annual appropriation of 35 million dollars seems wholly insufficient, it's a starter.

State authorities must be certain now that this money is used where the traffic exists. Traffic in Oakland County is probably the heaviest and the slowest outside of Wayne. Probably more left-hand turns block longer lines of traffic here than they do anywhere else.

We're the gateway.

★ ★ ★

Northern traffic from more than two million Michigan people concentrated directly south passes through Oakland County. All automobile traffic from the east swings into Michigan around Lake Erie or through Canada. We're the primary target both times and we haven't half enough roads to handle our own personal volume. Cars from the populous states of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, all of New England and the Southeast migrate through Oakland.

★ ★ ★

Of the 83 counties in the state, we're second largest in population. No other county is close. We're third largest in square area. And our highways are absolutely alive with teeming traffic in all directions.

In the past, sparsely settled counties and those off the main highways have received grants that were disproportionate to their needs and rights. No one protested much. We wanted some good roads everywhere.

★ ★ ★

However, the current move is aimed primarily to help the places that have been swamped with traffic far beyond their capacity. Oakland ranks at the top. Traffic crawls in many, many places. In others it crawls—stops—and then crawls to another stop.

★ ★ ★

We urge the authorities to concentrate the current spending where it is most needed. This is no time to temporize. The taxpayers deserve to have the money placed where it will do the greatest good to the greatest number. Wayne is the biggest county in population. We're next. The two adjoin. This is where the local traffic exists and this is the area of greatest concentration of outstate movements.

★ ★ ★

We need help.
We need help desperately.

President Asks Congress to Revise Refugee Act

In a special message President Eisenhower has given Congress a most important task.

He has asked that the lawmakers enact 10 changes in the Refugee Act of 1953. All of these revisions are designed to liberalize a law long under attack for its harshness and unworkability.

That the President is on sound ground is beyond doubt. When passed a year and a half ago the act was supposed to provide for the admission of 209,000 refugees by the end of 1956. With half the law's life already gone, fewer than 10 per cent of the 209,000 refugees have been admitted to the country.

One change asked by Mr. Eisenhower to speed admissions is abandonment of the requirement that each refugee have a passport. As the President pointed out "people who have risked their lives to escape from totalitarian nations often have no passports."

★ ★ ★

Among other things he asked elimination of the required two year history of each refugee. Also urged is a revision which would make it sufficient for a group to guarantee a refugee work and a home rather than to require an individual American to do so.

Having received assurances that administration of the law is being improved greatly, the President made no recommendation in that field or that the life of the act be extended.

★ ★ ★

Congress is honor bound to make this law work. In the name of the United States it promised the world that we would accept 209,000 refugees. Our lawmakers have no choice but to revise the act so that it will do just that even to extending the law's life beyond 1956, if necessary.

SINCERITY gives wings to power.

The Man About Town

They're Envious

Other Sections Breed Larger, Far Hungrier Mosquitoes

Home cooking: Almost numbered among the lost arts.

Other sections of Michigan, jealous of Oakland County's 400 lakes, are spreading propaganda untruths about us. These near arid areas claim that lakes breed mosquitoes. Such is not the case. These pests propagate best in stagnant water, usually found in swamps and cat holes, in which many of these other areas abound. Back from a tour that covered 35 Michigan counties, my best informant says Oakland was the only one in which he was not bothered by mosquitoes, even when driving his car at a good rate.

David Lawrence Says:

Red Refugees Use Radio to Strike Back at Moscow

BONN—Not very far away from here—at Munich—there's a work in operation of profound importance to the free world. It's called Radio Liberation. Unlike the Voice of America or Radio Free Europe, both of which also perform a valuable service in the "cold war," this enterprise is carried on by refugees who talk directly to the people in their homeland.

* * *

The best testimony to the effectiveness of Radio Liberation is the intensive efforts of the Soviet regime to jam the transmitters and prevent people behind the Iron Curtain from listening to these broadcasts, which are delivered in seventeen languages for the nationalities inside the Soviet Union. Now broadcasts have just been begun to the Soviet people in the Far East.

With the exception of a few American advisers and technical assistants, the program staff is made up entirely of former citizens of the Soviet Union. Several are onetime listeners who have fled from the Communist dictatorship.

Unlike those broadcasting on other projects which are recognized as "foreign," the speakers on Radio Liberation use such terms as "we Russians" or "we Ukrainians," and, when they criticize the Soviet system, they do it as members of the family and as fellow citizens—not as outsiders.

DESCRIBES WORK

Robert F. Kelley, who was for many years in charge of the Russian desk in the Department of State, is deputy to the president of the American Committee for Liberatioin from Bolshevism and heads up the work in Munich. He described the activities of his group to this correspondent as follows:

* * *

"The over all objective of Radio Liberation's broadcasts is to deepen and widen the gulf between the peoples of the Soviet Union and their Communist rulers. With this end in view, the broadcasts seek to increase the stress and strain and the tensions which exist in the Soviet Union and to sow the seeds of disaffection where it does not now exist.

"Consequently, Radio Liberation seeks to encourage in the Soviet Union the spirit of resistance to oppression, to fortify anti-Communist sentiments, to bring home to the peoples of the Soviet Union that they have friends in the free world and to develop among them a sympathetic attitude towards Western democracies.

PASSIVE RESISTANCE

"An effort is made to reduce to a minimum the collaboration of the peoples of the Soviet Union with their Communist government and to develop an attitude of non-cooperation and such passive resistence as will not entail punishment of the participants.

* * *

"The activities of the American Committee for Liberation from Bolshevism are based on the concept that the peoples of the Soviet Union are our potential Allies in the world-wide struggle against communism.

There is no question but that disaffection exists on a wide scale in the Soviet Union in varying degrees, ranging from incipient dissatisfaction with existing conditions and doubts as to the realization of Communist ideals, lack of sympathy with present problems of the Kremlin and so on, to complete disillusionment and fierce hatred of the Communist regime.

BOLSTER OPPOSITION

"It is in the interest of the free world to integrate the opposition of the peoples of the Soviet Union to the Communist rulers, however passive and ineffective such opposition may be at present, into the struggle of the Western democracies against the Kremlin."

* * *

This work is carried on with considerable difficulty and with some danger. The Soviets have been trying to intimidate and terrorize the broadcasters, and during the past year Communist agents have been especially active in trying to undermine the operation.

Six months ago one of the most capable leaders of Radio Liberation was murdered and another member met a mysterious death which has never been satisfactorily explained.

Efforts likewise may be expected from inside Germany to try to sabotage the project.

REFUGEES CONTINUE

Meanwhile, the steady stream of refugees from behind the Iron Curtain continues and they all say that the Radio Liberation broadcasts are giving hope to many persons, who spread their ideas by word of mouth.

There is no way of estimating what may some day grow from little seeds dropped here and there inside the satellite countries as well as in the Soviet Union.

Radio Liberation is supported not by any government but by the people in various countries. The American committee is composed of Howland H. Sargeant, formerly assistant secretary of state for public affairs, and a board of prominent Americans, with headquarters at 6 East 45th St., New York, where comprehensive records of the work being done are maintained.

'Plans for Strike Arranged by Reuther but It Will Be Workers Who Lose Out

I am applying herewith to some of you men, old and young, employed at General Motors who are facing perhaps a long strike. It is plotted by Reuther and gang, demanding this crazy, un-American guaranteed annual wage.

Let me ask, have our industries a guarantee of business? Do you expected to get paid and not work for it? Remember Reuther doesn't love our American capitalism.

Also remember the threat they made in Washington to the Democrats in regard to their helping put this guaranteed annual wage over on our free enterprise. It will be you to lose out, not Reuther.

Mrs. Francis Questions Outcome of Vivisection

Using the rhetorical question, we might ask: Do you know any of the American war prisoners who were cruelly tortured by the Chinese Reds?

Then you may have heard the testimony of the famous scientists, Dr. Charles W. Mayo and Dr. J. A. M. Meerloo, who informed the United Nations and the U. S. Congress that these tortures were based on animal experiments of the world-renowned Russian vivisectionist, Ivan Pavlov.

A letter in this column introduced the question of cancer. It is true that cancer has been given to many animals in the course of experiments. Animal experiment has, in fact, been far more successful in giving disease to animals than taking it away from humans.

The number of deaths from cancer continues to climb, but medical research so far has achieved very little more than the knowledge that cancer is hereditary in mice. On the other hand, studies of thousands of patients, made by the University of Pennsylvania, indicate that the disease is not hereditary in humans.

Animal experiment has proved cruelly misleading and disappointing in many other instances. As Dr. Carlos Hines of Indianapolis, widely-known clinical researcher, has said: "I cannot overemphasize the fallacies inherent in efforts to apply directly to man the results of animal experimentation."

Tory Win May Influence U. S. Campaign Next Year

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

The striking Conservative victory in Great Britain cast its shadow on the outlook in the United States.

* * *

Enthusiasm for American shares in the stock market since September 1953 has been based in part in confidence engendered by the Eisenhower administration.

The Eisenhower economic policy has been based on recognition that business spending for new facilities creates the extra margin needed to supplement consumer outlay.

Sir Anthony Eden correctly judged the British situation, and was warranted in testing in an early election whether he personally had the majority support. Otherwise he would be handicapped at home and abroad as a mere heir and assign of Sir Winston Churchill.

MORE SIGNIFICANT

Perhaps even more significant than the split between the left and right wings of the Labor Party was the fact that rising prosperity in Great Britain reduced the allure of the Socialist program of dividing wealth.

* * *

This was in line with the remark made to this writer by the late William Jennings Bryan shortly before his death three decades ago. Bryan observed that the public is more interested in money-fixing and economic panaceas in times of depression than in eras of high-level employment.

If this is the case, and if something akin to existing peace and prosperity continues until November 1956, then the Eisenhower administration will start with an advantage. It will be well for analysts to remember that the issues in good times make rehashing of the controversies of the depressed 1930s seem obsolete.

A preview of a likely attempt to stage the 1956 U. S. political imbroglio in terms of the rich vs. the poor was given in the recent British campaign. The London Times summed up the basic issue in this manner:

"The Conservatives' main concern is to enlarge the national cake; Labor's is how it shall be shared out. The Conservatives believe that in a mixed economy prosperity depends on the spur of incentives and private enterprise; Labor believes that in a mixed economy weaknesses are best met by regulation and control."

SYSTEM RENAMED

Fortunately, we have not gone as far down the Socialist road as Britain. Nowadays during the cold war, socialism is deemed a dirty word, and the euphemists have a new label for their onslaught on a free-choice economic society, namely, a mixed economy. (I call the system a mixed-up economy.) The pollution of the enterprise system in Britain has put brakes on her economic recovery.

* * *

The Eisenhower administration in meeting the challenge of the recession from midsummer of 1953 to midsummer of 1954 showed faith in the capacity of the enterprise system to work out its problems without governmental intervention.

If good times persist through next year, there may be political hay for the incumbents in resisting further excesses toward centralization of functions at Washington.

The administration should take pride in what it has done to relieve the federal budget through returning to the states, the localities and private enterprise those activities which they are able and willing to perform.

* * *

As far as Americans are concerned, the British elections were a test hole into the impact on political thinking and feeling of economic expansion.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Patient Who Has Had Ovary Removed Wonders If She Can Become Pregnant

Constance is afraid she can never have a baby. But many supposedly sterile couples have found that they could have babies after all, just by following the facts outlined below. This outline of the "rhythm theory" should be well understood by all brides and grooms.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-347: Constance L., aged 28, asks a question of interest to many married couples.

"Dr. Crane, two years ago I had a tumor on one ovary, so my physician removed that ovary and tube.

"I have been perfectly normal ever since, but my husband and I wonder if I can never have a baby.

"Since my other ovary is apparently normal and I menstruate on a regular schedule, isn't pregnancy still possible?"

PREGNANCY FACTS

Yes, the removal of one tube and ovary should not prevent a wife from having babies, if her husband is not sterile and if they know the facts about conception.

* * *

Latest medical evidence suggests that a wife ovulates on the 15th day before the next expected period begins.

"But how can I tell that, when my monthly cycles fluctuate from 23 days to 31 days?" Constance asked, and then showed me her record chart of the past year, which ran 27, 28, 28, 26, 29, 27, 28, 23, 28, 29, 31, 28, 27 days.

In other words, how do we know whether Constance's current month is to be a 23-day cycle or a 28-day or even a 31-day cycle? We don't!

TIME MAY VARY

So we must anticipate that it can be any one of those. If it should be a 23-day month, then her ovulation day will be 23-15, which means the eighth day after the last onset. That would be the date on which an ovum (egg) would be freed from her ovary and susceptible to fertilization.

* * *

On the long month of 31 days, then 31-15 would throw this date on the 16th day after the onset of her last period.

Her total fertile period would thus range from the 8th to the 16th day from the last onset. The "rhythm theory" adds 3 extra days at each end (5th to 19th).

But her usual cycle is about 28 days, which makes the 13th day from the beginning of the last period as the most likely time for Constance to become pregnant.

MANY ARE CHILDLESS

Many couples may be happily married for 20 years and never have a child, due to the fact that the ovum and sperm cells may have only a 12-hour span in the entire month when they can affect each other.

* * *

By chance alone, this narrow span of time may thus be missed, year after year, unless the data previously mentioned are utilized.

Some researchers think the ovum may be susceptible to fertilization for 36 to 48 hours, but the sperm cells may lose their potency in 12 to 24 hours, or possibly less, so conception is only a brief interval in the month.

Moreover, the vaginal secretions are often unduly acid, and acids paralyze the movements of the sperm cells. So many childless wives have found that an alkaline douche (teaspoon of baking soda in a quart of water) may overcome this obstacle.

MALE STERILITY

It is also estimated that men are just as likely to be sterile as women, so it is possible that lack of children is the husband's fault.

An otherwise healthy wife may also have her tubes sealed off from childhood infection, so the sperm cells cannot reach the ovum at all. The Rubin test can quickly reveal whether the tubes are open or closed.

Surgery may sometimes be indicated in case of a very badly tipped womb, but don't resort to surgery until you have checked off the simple, common sense methods first.

Send for my medico-psychological booklet, "Facts About Pregnancy," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus a dime.

It has enabled thousands of supposedly sterile families to have children by following the facts outlined above.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Growth of Nails Depends on Your State of Nutrition

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Growth of the nails, like growth of the skin as in the healing of wound or ulcer, proceeds at a rate which depends on the state of nutrition.

* * *

Most Americans get most of their daily calories directly or indirectly from what I call cheat-food, or what more polite nutrition authorities call inadequate food, meaning the stuff has been deprived of most of the vitamins and minerals before the food barons consider it pure and refined enough for the namby-pamby Yankee digestion.

In other words refined white flour and refined white sugar yield most of the calories in the everyday diet of most Americans. So we hold these two high calory food staples, which keep so well that they may be shipped anywhere and store indefinitely, mainly responsible for the national malnutrition.

A diet of refined white sugar and-or refined white flour will not keep animal or man alive as long as a diet of sugar cane or beet and-or wheat.

TRY BROWN SUGAR

Now, before you make a note on your shopping list to get a trial package of crude or "natural" brown sugar and-or a pound of plain wheat next time you go to the grocery or market, I must warn you it is not that easy.

* * *

In order to procure plain wheat you must first find a farmer who grows it and then persuade the poor geek he won't get in trouble with the government if he sells you a few pounds of the stuff when nobody's looking.

And if by any chance you come across crude brown or "natural" sugar in the market you'll still be stymied by a trick notice stamped on the bag, to the effect that it is suitable for animal feed.

That is not to say it is unfit for human consumption, but, after all, suppose the clerk asked what kind of animals you keep at your house?

BRITTLE NAILS

If your nails do not grow as fast as they should—it takes three to four months for the nails to grow their full length normally—or if they are brittle, ridged, pitted, it isn't just the damage done by the hideous "polish" if you're short on brains.

* * *

The trouble is malnutrition and if you hope to regain a state of good nutrition you'll have to cut out most of the cheat foods on which you worry along at present and eat the foods which everybody ate before the middle of the nineteenth century when the food barons began to "refine" things for the ignorant Yankee consumer.

In the pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks, sent on signed written request, if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope, I tell how to supplement your ordinary vitamin and mineral deficient diet to combat malnutrition evidenced by poor nails.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Hal Boyle Says:

Vaccine Fuss Recalls Dr. Jenner Smallpox

NEW YORK (AP)—"Is this vaccine really safe for my child?"

Many American parents are still haunted by doubt over whether to let their children be inoculated in the 1955 national anti-polio campaign.

In London, more than 150 years ago, parents were asking themselves the same question: "Is this vaccine really safe for my child?"

The vaccine had been developed by Dr. Edward Jenner to rid the world of what is perhaps the deadliest infectious disease ever to afflict mankind—smallpox.

* * *

Although separated by a century and a half, there is a distinct historical parallel between the introduction of the polio and the smallpox vaccines.

Both stirred public doubt and medical controversy. But whereas the nation's health agencies today have moved swiftly to establish new tests to assure the safety of the polio vaccine, Dr. Jenner's smallpox vaccine had to fight against ignorant fears — and even religious prejudice — for many years, before winning complete acceptance. It still has its diehard foes.

There are some interesting parallels between Dr. Jonas P. Salk, discoverer of the polio vaccine, and his great predecessor, Dr. Jenner.

* * *

Both were dedicated scientists who liked to follow their own ideas.

Dr. Salk found the answer to polio in infected monkeys. Jenner found the answer to smallpox in a mild relative of the disease in cows.

Dr. Salk felt so certain of his polio vaccine he inoculated his own children with it. The second person Dr. Jenner inoculated with his smallpox vaccine was his only son. Dr. Jenner had had the disease in youth, and therefore could not test it on himself.

Dr. Salk has shown no interest in profiting personally from his vaccine. Neither did Dr. Jenner, who at one time was inoculating 300 people a day at his own expense. Years later he received two substantial government grants.

* * *

The menace of polio is minor compared to the ravages of smallpox, which during the 18th century exterminated sixty million people in Europe alone, taking two million lives in Russia in a single year.

It was still a scourge more dreaded than war when Dr. Jenner began investigating an old country saying, "Those who get cowpox never get smallpox." His own boyhood suffering had left him with a life's dream: To find a way to wipe out the disease, which sometimes had a death rate as high as 35 per cent, often left the faces of survivors—including the face of George Washington—deeply pock-marked.

* * *

In 1796, some 16 years after he had made his first private test, Dr. Jenner publicly demonstrated his vaccine. It was greeted with hope and fear, anger and vituperation.

A leading surgeon denounced it. Some pulpiteers thundered it was against the will of Heaven to cure God-imposed smallpox by an inoculation of man-made cowpox. One minister's verdict: "The most degrading relapse of civilization that ever disgraced the civilized world."

It was whispered about that one boy after being vaccinated took to bellowing like a bull and a girl grew hair all over her body and mooed like a cow.

Despite all the outcry, a year later 70 leading London medical men signed a statement of confidence in the new vaccine.

Its public adoption was delayed by an unfortunate incident. A fellow named George Pearson, who reportedly never had seen a real case of cowpox, began lecturing on the subject and distributing free vaccine virus, which proved to be infected. In 1803 Jenner, after establishing that Pearson's virus was contaminated, began his own inoculation program under the auspices of the Royal Jennerian Society.

Public confidence was restored. In 18 months 12,000 London residents were vaccinated, and the annual smallpox death rate dropped from 2,018 to 622. Thomas Jefferson was one of the first prominent Americans to have his family vaccinated.

* * *

The Jenner vaccine technique was improved by subsequent investigation. But even now, through some biological freak, a mild case of smallpox will occasionally crop up following vaccination.

But U. S. authorities once vaccinated 3,515,000 residents of the Philippine Islands without a fatality. Where vaccination is compulsory, smallpox is almost nonexistent. Wherever vaccination isn't enforced, the number of cases of smallpox rises.

If the Salk vaccine now follows the same steady curve of mass performance achieved by the Jenner vaccine, a quicker public acceptance and modern medical resources should make it possible within a generation or less to list polio and smallpox where they both belong — among the diseases of the past.

OUR FIRST TOURISTS—4

De Soto Sees the Mississippi River

When Hernando De Soto was Spanish governor of Cuba and Florida, he asked the Indians where he could find gold. They directed him west, and for three years he wandered through the present Gulf States. He did not find wealth, but in 1541 he did discover a great river the Indians called "The Father of Waters."

When De Soto died of fever his friends buried him in the Mississippi River to protect his body from hostile Indians.

Since that time the Mississippi has played an important part in American history. It carried the rafts and boats of the first settlers, and the land along its banks is one of the richest farming regions in the world.

The Mississippi and its chief tributary, the Missouri, is the longest river system in the world — 4,200 miles. Starting as a ten foot wide stream in north central Minnesota, the river later becomes about a mile wide.

Mark Twain wrote about it in his book "Life on the Mississippi." The river was the setting for the colorful show boats, and the song "Old Man River" affectionately refers to the Mississippi.

In the drawing you see De Soto discovering the Mississippi. Color the picture so you will have your own story of America's first tourists.

Chiang Urges Fliers' Release

Calls Holding Captives 'Blackmail'; Hints U. S. Will Lose Face

TAIPEI, Formosa (INS) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek declared today that Red China should follow up its freeing of the four U. S. fliers by releasing "all American prisoners immediately and without condition."

"Otherwise," he said, "we can only conclude they are being held as hostages for bargaining purposes. This is clearly blackmail."

"If such a practice is to be countenanced," the president of Free China warned, "American prestige in Asia will suffer a serious setback and the period of imprisonment for the other Americans may be prolonged."

Chiang, replying to a questionnaire from Seymour Berkson, general manger of International News Service, also denounced as "sham" Soviet Russia's current overtures of peace, saying they are part of a design "to enslave the whole of Asia."

In this category, Chiang placed the recent suggestion that he enter into direct negotiations with the Peiping government.

"Nothing shall induce me to do so," he said. "For in the past 30 years, the Chinese Communists in their dealing with my government have repeatedly used negotiation as a means to gain objectives which they could not gain by force, through this old Communist trick."

Two Prisoners Dine on Needles, Springs

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Two Wyandotte County jail prisoners went on an unusual diet in the bullpen cell yesterday.

At a hospital last night physicians pumped from the men's stomachs such things as needles, parts of bed springs and zipper tabs from their jail clothing.

The prisoners were Lester Ray Thomas, 17, charged with arson, and Gordon Keith Anderson, 30, charged with arson and murder.

No End in Sight in Rail Walkout

British Factories Slow Down as Strike Grinds Into Sixth Day

LONDON (AP)—Britain's nationwide railway strike ground into its sixth day today with labor peacemakers reporting "no progress at all." Industrial plants were slowing down from lack of materials from warehouses jammed with finished products.

Talks between leaders of the striking Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen and the General Purposes Committee of the powerful Trades Union Congress broke down last night.

* * *

Factories and workshops began to cut operations, with widespread unemployment in prospect if the strike does not end quickly.

Six major Welsh steelworks announced they would bank their furnaces today and put 2,700 workers on odd jobs.

The 70,000 ASLEF members, who man the bulk of the nation's locomotives, are demanding a raise of $1.12 a week over their present base pay of $27.30.

Under present methods of manufacturing, about 15 to 20 per cent the total weight of an automobile is aluminum.

Postal Head Awards Mail Truck Contracts

WASHINGTON (UP)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has announced the award of contracts for purchase of 2,375 new red, white, and blue trucks.

One contract, for 2,000 vehicles, went to Fargo Motors of Detroit. The other, for 375 parcel-delivery vehicles, went to International Harvester Co., of Chicago.

Summerfield said delivery of the new trucks will begin in October.

Officer Recalled in Buying Probe

Will Quiz Capt. Wool More on Purchase of Service Uniforms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigating senators called Air Force Capt. Raymond Wool today "to answer a lot more questions" about the federal income tax returns he has sworn he falsified.

The Internal Revenue Service said meanwhile "we would be derelict in our duty if we did not follow through" to investigate his story.

The tax collectors are known to have had observers at some sessions of the public hearings by the Senate Investigations subcommittee. The subcommittee is taking testimony from Wool and others in a search for evidence of possible graft in the buying of uniform equipment for the armed forces.

Wool, now stationed at Shelby, Ohio, formerly headed textile uniform buying for the armed services. He has denied receiving any bribes. But he admitted in testimony Wednesday that he had falsely claimed income tax deductions for business losses on a Morristown, N.J., dress shop which he said actually was earning profits.

First Reports Filed on State Gas Price

LANSING (AP) — Preliminary reports, aimed at justifying recent gasoline price increases, have been submitted by nine major oil companies.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, acting on orders from Gov. Williams, had asked the companies to submit the reports on costs and profits to explain why gasoline prices were higher in Michigan than in neighboring states.

Kavanagh said the companies now will be asked to submit more detailed reports by a Sept. 1 deadline.

Companies represented at the meeting included Standard Oil, Shell, Cities Service, Sun, Gulf, Pure Oil, Texas, Sinclair, and Socony.

Underwater Construction Sets Record at Straits

LANSING (AP) — The Mackinac Bridge Authority said a new world record for pouring underwater concrete was established this week by foundation contractors at the straits bridge.

The contractors, Merritt, Chapman & Scott Corp., poured 99,587 cubic yards of concrete into bridge foundatioins between April 29 and May 28, the authority said.

The authority said the American Bridge Division of U.S. Steel Corp. will start erecting the main steel towers on or about the first of July. The towers will reach a height of 552 feet above the lake level.

The bridge is scheduled for opening by Nov. 1, 1957.

B'Wayites Fly to Venice to See Hepburn Movie

By EARL WILSON

VENICE—Now that thirty of us Broadwayites have flown to Venice to go to a movie in a gondola, I can tell you that Joe DiMaggio is very popular in Italy.

Joe's name is on every Italian calendar because the month of May is spelled "Maggio."

What a trip we had to see Ilya Lopert's picture "Summertime" starring Katherine Hepburn.

"Venice, anyone?" asked one of our guides when we finally took off—from the 38th St. terminal.

On the trip to Idlewild airport, my wife graciously allowed me to sit next to the window and drink in the Long Island scenery saying that in all fairness she expected to sit at the window all the rest of the way to Europe.

EARL and GONDOLIER . . . So This Is Venice!

At Gander everybody went to the bar except Dave Garroway! The early morning TV star stayed in the Italian airliner and snoozed.

At Paris' Orly Field—or Midnight Orly Field, as I nicknamed it—a huge enthusiastic crowd of French journalists did not turn out to greet us.

Passenger Eleanor Holm dropped her passport, and I discovered that her name has been changed from Eleanor Holm Rose to Eleanor Holm.

Then suddenly the breath-taking Alps!

"The glorious Catskills at last!" shrieked Mort Nathanson of our party. "And there is a whole field of spaghetti—isn't that typically Italian!"

From Milan we took a train, and at Verona eight people said this must be Newark.

★ ★ ★ ★

All the male Italians kept exclaiming "Benny" when they passed Eleanor Holm. She asked who Benny was, and discovered it was an Italian word meaning "good" and "nice."

★ ★ ★ ★

Twenty-four hours after leaving New York, we arrived at the Grand Hotel on the Grand Canal in a gondola and a downpour. But the next day was sunny, and we New York movie lovers went to St. Mary's Square to see something we don't have in New York—pigeons!

Mae West may take her wiggles and waggles to the London Palladium . . . David Schulte, cigar store heir, will marry fashion photographer Lili Carlson.

A West Coast wrestler called himself "Marlon Brento" and enters the ring in torn undershirt and tights . . . Jackie Loughery, "Miss United States," is one of the harem honeys in RKO's "Son of Sinbad."

Marge and Gower Champion, whose "Three for Tonight" will close, have five film offers . . . Ezzard Charles' friends think the ex-champ will announce his retirement shortly . . . Singer Eileen Barton's back from Mexico with the divorce.

State Road Toll Up 12 Per Cent in Year

LANSING (UP)—Michigan's traffic death toll for the first four months of 1955 increased 12 per cent in comparison with the same period last year, State Police reported today

A record total of 154 traffic deaths during April jumped the four-month figure to 534 persons killed. The April death toll was 35 more than were killed last year in that month.

State Police records showed an increase in deaths and injuries but a slight decrease in the number of traffic accidents this year.

Of the 12,600 arrests made by State Police in April, 11,539 were for traffic and motor vehicle violations.

State Police also answered 6,957 complaints and made 25,060 property and 3,545 liquor inspections during April.

Swindlers Find Victim

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP) — Three would-be swindlers changed their minds when they saw their prospective victim's "bank."

The trio, posing as policemen, told a stranger that if he paid them a $50 fine, alleged morals charges against him would be dropped. They agreed to accompany the victim to his bank to get the money. After walking several blocks, the man pointed to a building and said, "That's my bank."

It was the police station. The men fled.

Carnation Trade Mark

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—P. K. Seidman, a certified public accountant, figures it has cost him $1,500 to keep a white carnation in his coat lapel over the years. He started sporting a boutonniere at Columbia University. Wearing one got to be a matter of principle because of the ridicule of his classmates. The Navy is responsible for his never wearing a hat. "The Navy took away my flower and made me wear a hat," he explained.

Bob Considine Says:

Restless Mr. Smith Sees Speedier Flight

TULSA (INS)—Sat next to a man with the improbable name of Smith on an American Airliner flight out this way for the Oklahoma Press Association convention.

We were tooling along at 350 m.p.h. or so but this man Smith was mildly impatient. He apparently has something to do with airline travel and, like most of those fellows, he was thinking of the future of his business.

The next revolution in air transportation (he said) will be the widespread adoption of the turbine engine. The principle is ancient: We've had steam turbines in operation, generating power, for generations. The big lesson that has been learned concerns weight. We no longer think of turbines in tons. We think of them in pounds.

The aviation turbine power plant is a lot of power in a small package. It has four great merits:

1—It has what is called a "small frontal area," which means that the front of the engine and its cowling, which has to be pushed through the air with the balance of the plane, is much smaller than any other type of power plant. Being smaller, it takes less power to push it through the air faster.

ALSO WEIGHS LESS

2—It also weighs considerably less, per pound per horsepower, than any conventional reciprocating engine of 4,000 horsepower would weigh around 4,000 pounds. It is not unreasonable to expect that a turbine engine of comparable horsepower will weigh one ton less.

On a four-engined airplane you would save four tons in engine weight alone. You could either add that saving to the pay load capacity of the airplane, or you could add it to the fuel supply, to give the ship more range. Or you could make the airplane smaller and more efficient.

3.—The reciprocating engine on this DC7 and on most planes today used an expensive fuel which is called high octane. It costs a lot more money than the high-test gas you buy for your car. And each octane burns hybrid juice called J P Fuel. This will be a great contribution to economy. After all, fuel cost represents a high proportion of the total cost of operating an airplane.

SIMPLE ENGINE

4—The turbine is a simple engine, compared with the complex reciprocating engine with its thousands of moving parts. In the long run, the turbine engine will be more dependable and its cost of maintenance and overhaul will be less.

* * *

You see (this man Smith continued, with the authority of a man who might be president or chairman of the board of one of the big lines), operating airplanes is a business.

You're talking about important business factors when you talk about (A) more power for the same size, (B) less resistance and more speed, (C) fuel which cost less, (D) simpler and more dependable engines easier to maintain. You don't need to be an engineer to understand that.

It won't be long (he concluded) before speeds of 450 to 550 miles an hour for the transport will be here rather than just around the corner.

In the 1960-1965 period it will be conventional to fly nonstop between the coasts in a bit under five hours.

* * *

(At which time the restless Mr. Smith will be cooking up some way of doing it in three, safely, soundly, and with an engine which for all we know, may function superbly on surplus Navy hamburgers).

Possible Link Seen Between Diesel, Cancer

LONDON (AP)—The British Medical Assn. has warned of the "possible danger of fumes from diesel engines" as a factor in lung cancer.

The association yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution to be sent to transport authorities noting "the remarkable coincidence between the increased use of diesel fuel and the rise of mortality from lung cancer and other respiratory diseases."

Moving the resolution, Dr. J. O. M. Rees said that although the increase in lung cancer has been associated with cigarette smoking "many have found that explanation is more facile than factual." He called for further research into the effects of diesel fuels.

In 1954 nearly two million casualties were recorded for motor vehicle accidents.

'Carnival' Jibes at TVA Defeat

Event Held to Honor Ground Breaking for Dixon-Yates Plant

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — A carnival spiced with gibes at neighboring TVA-land greeted yesterday's ground breaking for the controversial Dixon-Yates electric plant.

Signs, banners, placards and streamers decked this east Arkansas city's main street, shouting welcome to private utility magnates who planned the $107,250,000 plant.

"Kilowatt Carnival" drew about 7,000 spectators. They watched a parade, listened to speeches and feasted on five tons of free barbecue, 400 pounds of cole slaw, 600 gallons of baked beans and soft drinks.

* * *

Dixie private power executives and Arkansas' top public officials were on hand for ceremonies at the Mississippi riverside flatland where the plant will be built. Construction will take two years.

Absent were public officials from neighboring Tennessee, where the Dixon-Yates project in most political circles is unpopular.

The project was worked out by the Eisenhower administration as a private power substitute for a new steam electric plant the Tennessee Valley Authority wants to build.

* * *

Backers of TVA say it's a move to undermine TVA's public power system.

"I've looked forward to this a long time," said Edgar A. Dixon, president of Middle South Utilities, Inc. "Often I thought it would not come to pass. It's a monument to the American way of doing business."

Gives Second Million to Mark Birthday

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Philanthropist Charles Stewart Mott celebrated his 80th birthday yesterday by giving the Flint School Board a million and a half dollar junior college building.

The wealthy former executive of General Motors Corp. also broke ground for the first senior college building. It will cost Mott another million.

The senior college will be a branch of the University of Michigan.

Asked why he gives away so much money, Mott said, "I want to be comfortable in my grave."

Schuman Plan Nations Will Air Expansion

MESSINA, Sicily (AP)—The six nations of the European coal-steel community agreed early today to call an international conference to discuss wider economic unity for western Europe.

France, however, was reported strongly opposed to yielding any sovereignty to an international control agency. West Germany also was said to be wary.

* * *

Agreement to call the conference came in a session lasting until after midnight of the foreign ministers of France, West Germany, Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg, meeting as the Ministers' Council of the Schuman Plan coal-steel group.

Pontiac's 1954 Crime Rate Shows Jump

By JOSEPH K. SFAIR

Pontiac's crime rate proved to be higher in the past year than in most communities in the United States, according to a breakdown of the FBI's annual Uniform Crime Reports. The nation's crime rate was reported increased on an average of 5 per cent.

The city's rate jumped about 12 per cent in 1954, with a total of 1,550 crime incidents as compared with 1,385 in the previous year.

Based on FBI statistics, the number of crimes here, on basis of local population, amounted to 2,020 offenses per 100,000 people. The figure is worse than the rate of 1,900 per 100,000 recorded for other cities in the nation having populations over 25,000.

The local rate was unfavorable also in comparison with all large and small cities which averaged 1,846 crimes per 100,000.

BURGLARIES INCREASE

Pontiac's higher trend was mainly due to a predominance of burglaries which totaled 469, as compared with the previous figure of 297. The burglaries include breakins of business places and homes.

Larcenies last year were reported at 816, slightly higher than the 783 former figure.

However, murders declined last year. Four deaths were reported due to violence. In 1953, eight had occurred. Robberies also decreased from 40 to 32; aggravated assaults went from 80 to 69, and rapes for last year were reported at 11, as compared with 19.

Whether vice activities were increased in Pontiac wasn't definitely determined, but a Pontiac Police Dept. annual report shows that members of the vice squad increased enforcement nearly 100 per cent.

The 3-man bureau consists of Sgt. Raymond E. Meggitt, Patrolman Herbert C. Cooley and is headed by Sgt. Donny Ashley.

The report of the bureau states that general vice "activity (enforcement) increased approximately 65 per cent, during the last six months of 1954, due to addition of a third man (Cooley) to the vice detail." The report continued:

"Further curtailment of vice in the city of Pontiac could be realized with the addition of more personnel."

PERSONNEL INSUFFICIENT

According to Lt. Davy Gilpin, now on sick leave and once the head of the vice bureau, eight men had been working on the vice squad formerly, and that had been considered insufficient.

Besides numerous other duties, the report states, "This detail (3-man vice squad) is also responsible for the investigation and approval of applicants for various other licenses issued by the city of Pontiac; for instance, dance permits, pool hall licenses, bowling alley licenses, tobacco licenses, mechanical amusement licenses."

It also is responsible "for the proper preparation and investigation of all applications for licenses to sell liquor, beer or wine before such applications are submitted with police recommendations to the city commission for action." The 3-man bureau made 221 liquor license investigations in 1954.

The vice squad for 1954 hit a figure of $15,278.79 in confiscations and fines. This is nearly double the 1953 total of $8,830.85.

The bureau made 550 arrests, with the majority resulting in convictions. Thirty-one of the arrests were made for other departments, which also are undermanned. The vice squad, with only Ashley and Meggitt, made 329 arrests in 1953, with confiscation 50 per cent below this year's reported figure.

HOPED TO EXPAND

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley had voiced hope that the department's personnel would reach 140 by Jan. 1 of this year. The previously reported number of policemen on the force was 108 with 12 civilians employed in various bureaus. But two patrolmen recently quit to take other jobs, and at least three top ranking officers will be due for retirement soon.

According to Straley, the city needs at least 140 policemen to do an adequate job of public safety. His estimate is based on results of a national survey which had claimed 1.4 policemen per 1,000 persons are needed in normal industrial communities, and 1.7 for heavy industrial cities. His estimate of a 140-man force is based on the lower figure.

He further estimates about 125,000 persons or more are in Pontiac during working days, about 30,000 to 40,000 being attracted from outside the city to Pontiac's industrial plants.

It's believed from past records, according to police, that Pontiac's dope traffic and other vice activities are increasing.

DOPE TRAFFIC SOARED

In 1953 here, it was reported that dope traffic had soared at least 95 per cent over the previous year.

The matter of dry statistics, officers believe, is meaningless; but whether there is a relationship between increased dope traffic and general uprise in general crime here is the basis for comparison.

Experts say there is.

"An upswing in narcotics means also an upswing in every other phase of crime," said Meggitt.

Ashley proposes that "control of vice would show a corresponding reduction in other crimes."

Whether vice in Pontiac is surging beyond the average limits is to be pointed out in these comparisons.

Lansing has four policemen on its vice squad, as compared with the three in Pontiac. Yet, Pontiac vice squad has six times the number of arrests so far this year.

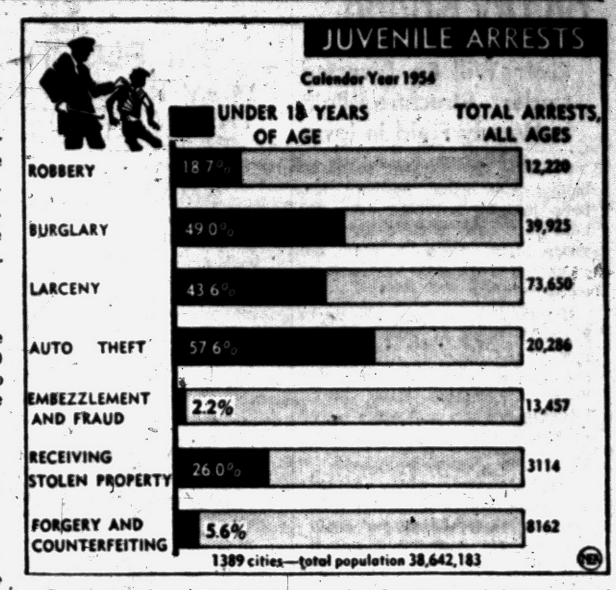

Flint, with its 8-man vice squad, racked up only 25 per cent more than Pontiac's 1954 total of confiscations and fines.

SHORTAGE HAMPERS WORK

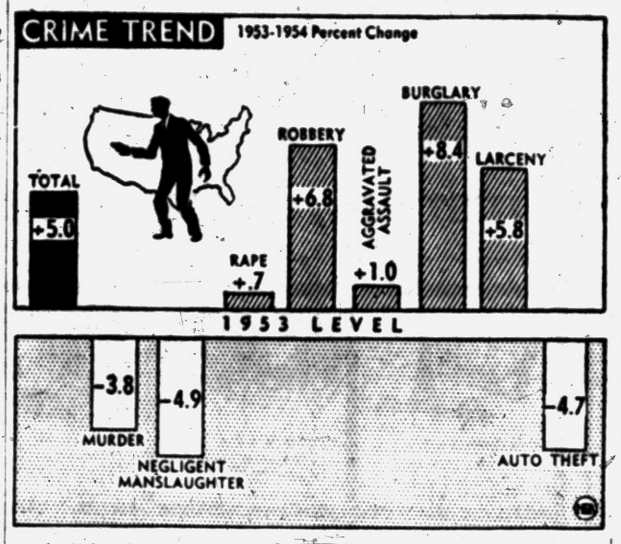

Shortage of manpower in the bureau, which had reported a 90 per cent conviction record, also hampers undercover work by the officers.

Straley and Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of detectives, both recently complimented the work of their men. All deaths due to violence in both 1953-54 had been cleared.

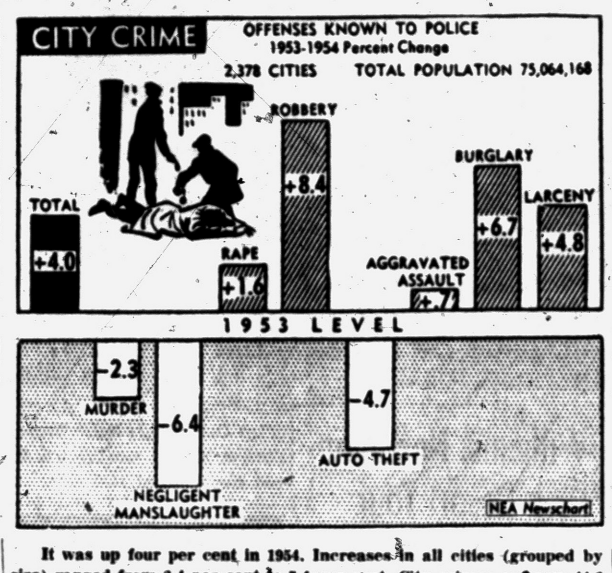

Records up to the present, police say, indicate a forthcoming 1955 annual report which will show increased vice activities in Pontiac.

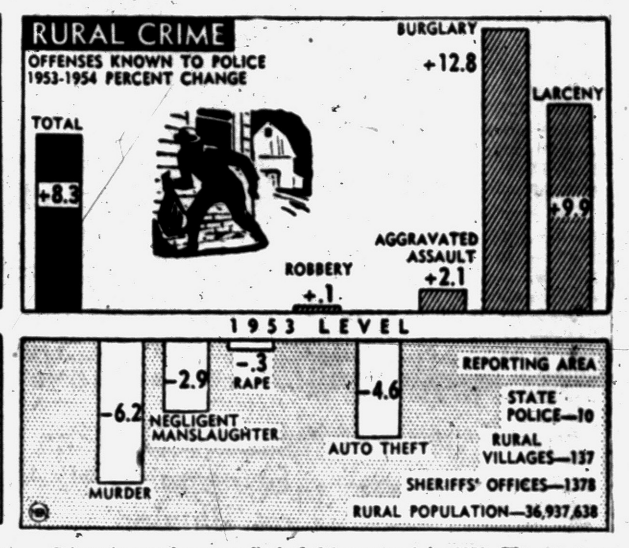

Youngsters from 17 years of age and under represented 9.7 per cent of all arrests in 1,389 cities during 1954, according to the FBI's annual crime report.

As it has for the past seven years, the annual crime report of the FBI shows that the trend of major crimes in 1954 was up. The rise was five per cent, for a new high of 2,267,250 estimated major crimes.

It was up four per cent in 1954. Increases in all cities (grouped by size) ranged from 2.4 per cent to 7.4 per cent. City crimes are now 44.2 per cent above pre-World War II average.

Crime in rural areas climbed 8.3 per cent in 1954. Figures were compiled from reports sent in by 1,525 law enforcement agencies, representing a rural population of almost 37,000,000.

Gets Eyesight Back in Fight With Wife

ST. FAITH'S, England (AP)—Peter Barr had a row with his wife—and regained his sight after 10 years of blindness.

The 34-year-old veteran was blinded while flying in the closing months of the war. He was married after his return home.

Arguing with his spouse this week, he smashed his right fist into his left palm to hammer home a point—and suddenly caught his first glimpse of Mrs. Barr.

"In 10 to 15 minutes I could see properly," Barr related yesterday.

Jaycees Bring Circus to Pontiac Saturday

Don't be surprised, Pop, if Junior wants to get out of bed early tomorrow morning.

The circus is coming to town!

Local Jaycees are bringing King Brothers and Cole Brothers Combined Circus to Pontiac tomorrow and youngsters from 6 to 60 who enjoy a preview of circus activities will have to get up early if they plan to watch the circus unload this year on the circus lot at Walton boulevard and Baldwin.

Exact hour of arrival has not been announced, but Jim Inscho, Junior Chamber of Commerce circus chairman, thinks it will be at dawn or earlier.

The circus is coming to Pontiac from Monroe and the unloading will start immediately upon arrival in order to be ready for the afternoon and evening performances, set for 2 and 8 p.m.

The combined circus brings all of the familiar patterns of circus pageantry with some modern twists, according to advance men.

From the blaring bands, gaudily-bedecked circus animals and beautifully costumed girls in the grand entry to the man on the flying trapeze, the show is genuine American circus, dazzling, daring and delightful.

Among the acts are the bareback riding Dorchesters from England; Kareff, balancing trapeze; Sandra Pettus, 8-year-old elephant trainer; Tobak, high school horse in a dressage number and Bozo Harell, originator of the tramp clown.

The circus is complete with all of the trimmings, including elephants—11 of the 17 appear in the performance, and 26 Liberty horses work in groups of 8, 10 and 8.

* * *

There are jugglers, aerialists, acrobats, clowns and a revival of the ancient chariot races. In addition there is a full - grown menagerie, sideshow and concert.

From a group of five young ladies who qualified in a runner-up contest, the Jaycees will select "Miss Pontiac", in a ceremony at the evening performance.

A parade will precede the tent shows. At 11:30 a.m. the procession will leave the circus grounds, heading south on Montcalm to North Saginaw. It will turn south to Oakland, north on Oakland past Pontiac Motor Division headquarters, then back out Baldwin to the grounds.

Some 400 underprivileged youngsters will be taken to the circus.

Doors will open one hour before the shows. Tickets for grandstand seats and general admissions are on sale at Walgreen's as well as at the grounds.

PRESSing Questions:

Who Works Harder, Husband or Wife?

"A man may work from sun to sun but a woman's work is never done."

That the old adage still holds true, at least in the minds of the modern day Mr. and Mrs. Pontiac, was in evidence this week as the Gallup-ing photographer plodded patiently up and down Saginaw Street, popping the pertinent question.

Of the 16 persons polled, only one, Mrs. Ralph Sanderson, 90 Oak Street, expressed the opinion that men work the harder of the two sexes. Others thought the work evenly divided. Here are some of their comments:

Pauline Smith, 3119 St. Clair Drive: I think that a wife works harder. In most cases nowadays the wife holds down a job outside of the home as well as having the children to look after and the housework to do in the evenings.

Pauline Smith

Joe Donahue, 78 S. Tasmania; Well, the average woman's working hours are from 6 or so in the morning until 10 or 11 at night.

DOANHUE

Then, many women hold down jobs as well as do housework and look after children. I put in 10 hours a day and am tired when I get home but I think I would be much more so if I followed my wife around all day. On the other hand, if my wife tried to do my work, she would find it impossible.

MRS. QUANCE

Mrs. Robert Quance, 54 Hudson I think the work is equally divided. Each has a different type of work to do and each is equipped to carry out those duties. I don't thjnk there is much difference.

W. L. Schwartz, 4207 N. Fulton: I would say very sincerely that, in most cases, the women do by far the greatest amount of work and put in the most hours. Of course, a lot of men might say otherwise, but from personal experience and from what I have seen, that is my opinion.

SCHWARTZ

Mrs. Bertha Hunt, 252 Judson: Women, definitely have more work to do. The old saying that a women's work is never done is certainly very true. Keeping house properly is a full time job and many women do that and work outside the home as well.

MRS. HUNT

Dave Dunsky, 19357 Santa Barbara; The average woman does work harder than her husband. Much harder. Many of them work outand raise a family and keep an excellent house all at the same time. Where would you find a man that would do as much and do it as well?

DUNSKY

Mrs. B. Van Scoyoc, B. 100 E. Huron; I don't think that women actually do more or work harder, but the work certainly lasts longer. Our day starts ahead of theirs and finishes much later.

Mrs. Van Scoyoc

Thomas Dodson, 310 Tilden; That is a hard question to answer. Individual cases vary. Either may be lazy and the burden may fall on the other. Sickness or other conditions may alter the situation. From my observation, to establish and maintain a happy home is no easy task and both must work very hard.

TO ATTEND COURSE — Vicky Micu, 16, Pontiac High school student and assistant editor of the school publication, Tomahawk, was chosen to attend the Journalism Short Course at MSC from June 20 to July 1. Vicky, next year's editor of the Tomahawk, is being sponsored at the course by the Pontiac Press. Editors of high school papers throughout the state will live in college dorms and have the services of counselors. The course will be under supervision of the college staff. Included on the agenda are visits to the State Capitol and the Lansing State Journal.

Cobo for Governor Drive Snowballing

LANSING (AP) — A move to nominate Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo as Republican candidate for next year was gaining momentum as the Legislature prepared to wind up its 1955 session.

* * *

Sens. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland) and Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) gave a pep talk supporting Cobo at a caucus of House Republicans yesterday.

House members said most Republican representatives signed a petition urging Cobo to become a candidate.

Speaker Wade Van Valkenberg (R-Kalamazoo) will represent the House when the petition is presented to Cobo at a June 9 luncheon in Detroit, lawmakers said.

APPEALS TO DEMS

Cobo's backers contend he can pick up more Democratic votes in Detroit than any other candidates in the running.

"Most of the younger members didn't sign the petition," said Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor). Sallade is chairman of a group backing Sen. Potter for the nomination.

Dutch Cabinet Crisis Comes to Quiet End

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Holland's three-week-old Cabinet crisis has come to a peaceful end with the same government still in office.

Premier Willem Drees, who resigned May 17 after his Labor-Catholic coalition was defeated in a parliamentary dispute over rent increases, agreed to withdraw his resignation. The government has been in office three years.

June 14 Is 'Magic Date' for Hampshires' Weddings

June 14 seems to be a magic day for the Hampshire family — at least for wedding dates.

The parents of Iola Hampshire, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bahling, were married June 14, 1905 in Imlay City. Charles and Mrs. Hampshire, 2005 Dexter Rd., celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary June 14. They were married in Imlay City in 1930.

To round things off, one of the Hampshires' sons Dale, will marry Sylvia Rouse this month — no prize to the person guessing the date of their wedding. Dale will be married in Lincoln Park, not Imlay City.

Herman and Mrs. Bahling, both 71 years old, have 10 grandchildren — six girls and four boys, and six great grandchildren —three girls and three boys. The Bahlings moved from a farm in Imlay City to Brown City nine years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Hampshire have lived in Pontiac 15 years, and have three children, Sharon, Dale, and Dean, who is with the Air Force in England.

Open house will be held June 19 in the Hampshire home to celebrate the marriage of Dale and the new Mrs. Hampshire, the Bahling's 50th anniversary, and the Hampshire's 25 years of marriage.

Police Seek Killer of Oak Park Man

DETROIT (AP) — Police today sought the killer of an Oak Park man murdered in the second floor appliance shop he operated part time in suburban Hamtramck.

Officers believed the victim, Charles L. Chinn, 48, was killed by a robber. His wife, Theresa, 43, said he was carrying $500 when he left his home Saturday.

Doctors said Chinn may have been dead for 48 hours when his body was found lying on the floor of his shop yesterday.

Mrs. Chinn said she had not reported her husband's three-day absence because "he had gone like that before."

Work Continues on Dry Bridge

River Will Be Diverted Under Structure Built in Weedy Field in Iowa

ONOWA, Ia. (UP)—A $2,000,000 bridge that leads nowhere has been hanging half-built over dry land just west of here for eight years. Now engineers have the go-ahead to spend $3,000,000 more on the project.

But they say it may take up to $8,000,000 more to divert the waters of the Missouri River under the span and complete the bridge itself. Contractors have begun bringing dredges and other heavy equipment here so work can begin this spring.

The Decatur, Neb., bridge commission built a 750-foot west end approach and 840-foot main span in 1946 when it looked as if Congress was going to take action on a 21-year-old navigation project between Omaha, Neb. and Sioux City, Ia.

Under the plan, the river channel would have passed Decatur at the exact spot where the bridge stands.

It was planned that the bridge, whose 1,200-foot east end approach has yet to be built, would connect with a highway running from Decatur to here, a distance of eight miles.

The riverless bridge was built on dry land, where weeds now flourish, to save an estimated $400,000 in construction costs. Army engineers say the bridge commission decided to take a "calculated risk" in building the span in the hopes Congress would authorize the planned channel stabilization projects along the Missouri.

But the funds never materialized.

Now Congress has appropriated $3,000,000 for work on the Missour near the bridge site and Army engineers say they have been assured "top consideration" requests for the remaining $8,000,000.

The first contract was let to Cunningham-Kiewit Construction Co., Omaha, Neb. Early next spring, work will be started on 7,303 feet of dikes and revetment work above the bridge to cost $645,740. Another contract for similar work will be let soon.

Initial work is planned to "tie the river down," and the actual switch of the channel is not expected to come until later stages of the project.

Molotov Ouster Talk Is Revived by Slav Report

LONDON (UP) — There are strong rumors in diplomatic and press circles that V. M. Molotov may be on his way out as Soviet foreign minister.

Speculatioin on Molotov's future was revived by a report from Belgrade that the foreign minister had agreed to step down and that he will be replaced by Pravda Editor D. T. Shepilov—a comparative unknown in Soviet politics.

Molotov is one of the last strong links in the Soviet government with the regime of the late Premier Josef Stalin. He is one of the few men remaining in the thinned ranks of Russia's "elder statesmen" and has been rated the leading foreign affairs expert of the Soviet Union.

Diplomatic sources here said there is considerable "evidence" that Molotov's grip on day-to-day direction of Soviet foreign affairs has been slipping for months.

Walt Disney's True Life Adventures

Scores Reuther Economic Talk as 'Illusion'

DETROIT (AP)—A National Assn. of Manufacturers representative says Walter Reuther's use of the "purchasing power theory" is "dangerous" because of its "illusion of truth."

"It is dangerous," said George C. Hagedorn, NAM chief economist, "because it promulgates all sorts of half truths and fallacies, and ignores the many facets of the economic problems involved."

Hagedorn, in a talk yesterday, added:

Reuther poses as a humanitarian when he uses the 'purchasing power theory' in his demand for minimum wages, tax cuts on lower incomes and wage guarantees, instead of just saying, 'We want more for our people.'

"Wage increases and fringe benefits do not increase purchasing power because they do not increase the supply of money. By increasing the price of products, they actually slow down the ability of other consumers to buy . . .

"Prosperity cannot be encouraged by writing it into a contract. Long-term growth must depend upon a climate that encourages investment.

Detasseling Corn Bred at Cornell University

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP)—Agricultural experts at Cornell University have introduced a new breed of corn that features "natural detasseling." It promises to eliminate the need for costly hand detasseling by northeastern breeders.

Its called Hybrid-T and could increase farmers' yields by providing seed corn that is—for the first time—100 per cent hybrid.

Dr. Herbert Everett said some experimental work on corn-breeding of this type had been done in Texas, but he believed he has the first natural detasseling corn in the northeast.

Williams, Newsmen Plan Resort Tour

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams states he will join a group of more than 20 Midwest travel editors June 17 in the start of a West Michigan vacationland tour.

The governor advised the sponsoring West Michigan Tourist and Resort Assn. he will join the newsmen's group at breakfast in Grand Rapids. He plans to join their bus trip to the W. K. Kellogg Bird Sanctuary in northern Kalamazoo County and will return to Lansing after lunching with the writers as guests of the Kalamazoo Gazette.

Chester C. Wells, secretary-manager of the tourist association, said the newsmen will spend eight days in covering about 1,500 miles of western Michigan tourist attractions.

Find Body in Harbor

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Occupants of a pleasure boat directed Coastguardsmen Thursday to the body of William R. Schutema Jr., 19, of Grand Haven, missing since May 7. The body was recovered near the harbor's north pier. Schultema's boating companion, Daniel Gould, 20, of Ferrysburg, still is missing.

for this wide-open beauty

It's the new kind of hardtop—
The 4-Door Riviera!

A HARDTOP is a car that looks like a Convertible with the top up—but has a solid steel roof overhead—and no center posts in the side window areas.

Up until just recently, it could be built in volume only with two doors—not more—because it would take wholly new structural principles to hinge another set of doors without floor-to-roof center posts.

But Buick came up with those new structural principles and is now building—in volume—hardtops with four doors.

You see one pictured here. It's the 4-Door Riviera. And it's taking the country by storm...

Because here, at long last, is an automobile with the sleek and sporty styling of a true hardtop—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers, plus the added room of a full-size Buick Sedan.

On top of that, this beauty is all Buick—with the buoyant ride of Buick's all-coil springing—the walloping might of Buick's record-high V8 power—the whip-quick getaway and sizable gas savings of Buick's spectacular Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

And it's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series—the budget-tagged 188-hp SPECIAL, and the high-performance 236-hp CENTURY, illustrated here.

Come visit us for a first-hand meeting with the 4-Door Riviera—and see how quickly and how easily the last word in automobiles can be yours.

Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.*

Graduation Activity Precedes All in Pontiac High Schools

A School Year Passing Fast

Picnics, Proms and Final Exams Due; Last Minute Awards, Honors Given

The school year is fast coming to a close, with picnics, the senior prom, and the start of reviewing for final exams taking up most of the time of the Pontiac High student body.

Tomorrow, highlight of spring at PHS, the senior prom will be held. "Aqualantis," theme for the affair, will put an end to activities, other than classday and the long-awaited arrival of caps and gowns, for the seniors.

Today the yearbook, the Quiver, was delivered to the students, with the theme being a make-believe Student Union ticket, which was punched as the various activities and grades were viewed. Colors were red, white, and black, and the book consisted of 144 pages, as compared with 126 last year.

As principal, John Thors Jr. will be leaving PHS at the end of this semester, a number of dinners honoring him have been held recently. The annual faculty dinner yesterday, honored him, along with other faculty members who are leaving the school. They were E. C. Russell, director of the vocational department, L. L. Smith of the vocational department, and Orley Hill, vocational instructor.

Thors was also honored at the Hi-Y banquet May 26, at which time newly elected officers were announced and awards were presented. Taking over as president is Dale Hannan, assisted by Fred Roeser, vice-president. Secretary is Ken Bogard, with Bill Hampton chaplain and Dick Bashore, sergeant-at-arms.

Awards were also presented to seniors for distinguished service. Recipients of the awards were Russell Anderson, Harold Richards, Jim Wilcox, Charles Kelty, Bob Kline, Louis Schimmel, and Joel Goldberg. Senior Louis Schimmel and sophomore Leon Frayer were also awarded special plaques.

A "first" at PHS was held today, the Science and Arts Fair, sponsored by the English, science, and art departments. Over 300 exhibits will be shown on the school campus and in the gymnasium, and sponsors Georgianna Schultz, Constance Pokela, and John Youngpeter hope to make it an annual affair. The entries and exhibits will be judged and awards will be given.

Election of officers for the fall semester was recently held by the Projectionist Club, with Bob Erb being chosen president. Vice-president will be Norma Balmer, with Judy Lauckner taking over the post of secretary-treasurer. A picnic will be held Tuesday at the Cass Lake Yacht Club, with Mike Clark hosting, and Norma Balmer, Paul Hagle, John Ensworth, and Linda Schellenberg heading committees.

Good news came to four PHS seniors this week, who learned they have been accepted to General Motors Institute of Technology. They are Robert Gustavson, Thomas Jacobson, Grant Kitchen, and Gerald Vallad.

Another senior, Walter Hodge, was made recipient of the Honorary National Scholarship to Harvard College, covering four years study at the institution.

Graduating seniors from Playcrafters Club recently journeyed to Detroit to see "The King and I," with a talent show given later by some of the club members for the benefit of the rest of the group. Highlighting the event was adviser, Mary Parrish's own version of the song "I Hate Men."

Dolphin Hour Is Presented at 4th Period Gym Class

"The Dolphin Hour" was presented last Friday by the PHS Dolphin Club for the 4th hour gym class. Swimming to "The Story of Three Loves" were Marianne Crozier, Jane Skelley, Carol Shaw, and Judy Learned.

"Waltzing Bugle Boy", next was presented by Marion Greenlee, Janice Bendig, and Chris Selden, followed by "Song of the Barefoot Contessa" with Marcia Stapp, Barbara Calhoun, Saida Tuttle, JoAnne Cargal.

Carol Donaldson, Judie Cohassey, Darlene Stange, and Ruth Ann Tower swam and depicted "Chicken Reel." Concluding the program was "The Whistling Boy," with Gloria Opie, Judy Huntwork, Sharon McRae and JoAnne Cargal.

Curbstone Cuties Shine in British Rail Strike

LONDON (UP)—Because of the railway strike, the government asked motorists to paste signs on their windshields offering hitchhikers lifts to work—at the hitchhikers' risk.

A number of cars appeared today carrying windshield stickers which read:

"A lift at your own risk—females only."

St. Fred Seniors to Hear Talk by Cardinal Mooney

Although busy and worried were St. Fred seniors, with those final exams early this week, by today they were people of leisure with nothing more to do than think of graduation on Tuesday and what following days would bring.

Underclassmen put their noses to the grindstone this week as they reviewed books from cover to cover for final exams which will begin for them on Wednesday.

The arrival of caps and gowns this week gave seniors an excuse to show off. And show off they did, but do you blame them?

Last Thursday sacristans, altar boys, and members of the boy's schola took time off for a well-deserved picnic at various parks. The return of tired sunburned pupils was proof of the wonderful time had by all.

A small informal get-together was held at Jane Hoffman's house at Sylvan Lake Tuesday night. Following a hotdog roast at the shoreside, baseball playing and swinging drew the attention of most of those in attendance.

New hair cuts, styles, and permanents in all corners of the senior room gave proof of readiness and planning for those last happy days.

This afternoon seniors feasted at a party given by the juniors. The reading of the history-will-and-prophecy got things under way with a big bang and lots of laughs. Following this, seniors took off caps and gowns to enjoy a snack and some dancing.

Sunday, seniors are looking forward to "Senior Day" when they will journey to U. of D. Stadium along with all other parochial school graduates for a talk by Edward Cardinal Mooney. The afternoon will end with solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

"Ah'ing" and "oh'ing" in front of the new picture hung in the hall this week were seniors and curious underclassmen who managed to fight their way to the front. What was the big attraction? The senior composite, of course.

The trophy case, in which are all of St. Fred's prize possessions, was moved from the senior home room out into the hall this week where all passersby may now view its contents.

St. Mike Graduation Tops Packed Week

This past week has been more important than any to St. Michael seniors; it was Senior Week, last week of school.

Caps and gowns were donned by the graduates on Wednesday and for the rest of the week these beaming 59 have been the idols of every underclassman.

Kensington Metropolitan Park was the scene of the class picnic on Thursday. Return to school Friday for graduation practice showed the results of the day before. Sun baked faces and weary muscles recalled to every senior the good time they had at their final school sponsored outing.

Sunday is the big day, the severing of the tie between students and school. Graduates and their parents will attend a Baccalaureate Mass followed by breakfast in the hall. In the afternoon all the seniors are going to the U. of D. where Cardinal Mooney is going to address all the graduates and their parents from this Archdiocese. Graduation is to take place at 8 p.m.

The activities of the Sodality have been quite extensive. The winners of the May Altar and the Marian Book Contests were announced this week. Creators of the prize winning May Altars were Nicke Schlict and Patricia Eckman who tied for first place. Judith Schlict was found to have the most original Marian Booklet.

Reception into the Sodality took place the same night as the May crowning. Those received were Mary Catherine Pruente, Frances Goulet, Rosemary Flanigan, Mary Ann Johnson, Joan Beauregard, Helen Franzel, Kathleen Heitjan, Jackie Hoover, Katherine Clark, and Elaine Neussendorfer.

As to the actual Crowning, Joanne Healander who crowned Our Blessed Mother had as her attendants the following: Elaine Neussendorfer, Kathleen Heitjan, Elizabeth Klinck, Mary Ann Johnson, Carol Cremer, Phyllis Raymond, and Janice Sears. Fred West was cross bearer and Dave Smith and Bob Anderson served as Acolytes.

John O'Dea, president of the Student Council announced last Friday that the results of the voting for next year's student council officers as shown on the ballots turned in by the Michaelites were: Fred West, president, John Keller, vice president, and Pat Martin, secretary.

Students and faculty alike are proud of sophomore, Jim Barnowski who came in first, out of 70 contestants, in Pontiac's Jaycee's Road-E-O contest. Clyde R. Haskill presented Jim with his trophy during a special high school assembly. Everyone wishes him luck in the state contest which is to be held in Lansing Saturday.

Sounds of delight and—shall we say—"disgust" were heard from rooms 1, 2 and 3 this week as juniors and seniors received their pictures that were taken the night of the Prom. Of course no one was pleased with his own image, especially any junior like Jean Shaw whose shoeless feet can be seen.

Nevertheless these pictures will be lasting mementos of that night.

Junior and senior members of the Michaelite Staff were given a chicken dinner by the school, Wednesday. Underclassmen on the staff, although not given the dinner, enjoyed sundaes as rewards for their services this year.

Wednesday, May 26, was the date of the banquet held at the K. of C. Hall for the Junior D. of I. Bowlers. The highlight of this evening was the presentation of the trophies. Barbara Cooper was captain of the winning team. Dorothy Allen, recognized as the most improved bowler, was given a trophy for her efforts. She raised her average 43 points.

No More Victims in Building Collapse

DALLAS (AP)—Rescue workers believe no more persons are trapped in the debris of two collapsed buildings.

The toll stands at three dead and eight injured.

A vacant three-story building crumbled Wednesday night before wrecking crews could finish tearing it down. It smashed onto a next-door cafe and music store.

A 22-hour search for victims was halted late yesterday.

Labor Exchequer Chief May Resign in Britain

LONDON (AP)—Labor party sources reported today that Hugh Dalton, former chancellor of the exchequer, is quitting the party's high command "to make way for younger men."

Dalton is 67.

He has served continuously since 1935 in the Laborite "shadow cabinet," the socialists' top policy-making group from which labor government is formed when elected.

American Cancer Society Bans New UF Participation

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A new American Cancer Society policy on fund-raising bans additional participation by the society's units in federated appeals or community chests.

The new policy was announced by Wisconsin's Governor Walter J. Kohler, chairman of the society's board of directors, and Rutherford L. Ellis, of Atlanta, Ga., chairman of the executive committee and the committee on federation policy.

The announcement, made in Minneapolis, was released for Michigan through the society's Michigan division.

Kohler said cancer society units, already in a united fund or community chest, may continue the relationship so long as they maintain the rate of growth of independent units.

He said the national policy of no new participation in federation was made necessary by the growing threat of cancer and the need for funds to expand the attack on the disease.

The society's Region IV, including delegates from Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota and Indiana, is holding its annual conference at Minneapolis this week.

Michigan is represented by more than 30 volunteers at the meeting.

Baltimore Eyes Ban on Needless Honks

BALTIMORE (AP)—Now that New York and Paris have clamped down on unnecessary horn honking, says Henry Barnes, former Denver traffic expert now trying to unsnarl things here, Baltimore is undoubtedly the worst city in the world for such offenders.

Barnes estimated there are 250 million illegal horn honks in the city each year.

The shortest measurable length of time, he opined, is the tiny interval between the switch of a traffic light and the honk of an impatient Baltimorean's car horn.

Fractured Hip Won't Keep Her From Marrying

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Elenor O'Leary, 36-year-old widow who is hospitalized with a fractured hip, isn't going to change her wedding date a second time.

She will be married Saturday to Ray Roberts, 51, a widower, in Deinor Hospital in suburban St. Charles.

The couple last Christmas decided to be married July 31. In February Mrs. O'Leary fractured her right ankle and while convalescing she and Roberts changed their wedding date to June 4. Friends warned them of the superstition that it's bad luck to change the wedding date.

Three weeks ago, when Mrs. O'Leary's ankle was about healed, she fractured her right hip when her car ran into a ditch near her home. But she refused to postpone the ceremony a second time and got the hospital's permission to be married there.

Potty Burglar Treats Flowers Sentimentally

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP)—This sentimental burglar wouldn't harm a flower.

This character removed 20 potted plants from a house under construction in Hillsborough, painstakingly planted them in the front yard and made off with the pots.

Asks Free Shots for All Children

Dems Introduce Bill to Pay for Vaccine for Every Child

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats have set in motion a drive to make free Salk vaccine available "to every American child."

It would go well beyond President Eisenhower's plan to pay for antipolio inoculation only of children whose parents can't afford the shots.

A bill to carry out the rival Democratic proposal was introduced last night by Chairman Hill (D-Ala) and the other six Democratic members of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee. At the same time, Hill called a meeting of the committee for Monday to consider the proposals.

* * *

In New Jersey, the State Health department said yesterday it was returning its entire vaccine supply —enough for 239,850 doses — to Wyeth, Inc., Marietta, Pa., for retesting.

Dr. Carl E. Weigele, assistant health commissioner, said this was being done at the request of Wyeth.

Tokyo Police Arrest Top Communist Chief

TOKYO (AP)—Tokyo police Thursday arrested Tsunesaburo Takenaka, 46, one of nine Communist leaders who went underground in 1950 to escape an American occupation order to report to police for questioning.

Lower courts have ruled the order has no legal status since the end of the occupation.

Lady Wonder Tells the World

Horse Knows Answer--Ike Will Win Again

RICHMOND, Va. (INS)—Lady Wonder, the pot-bellied old mare with a penchant for soothsaying, is telling the world:

President Eisenhower — "Ike," the nag calls him—will win again.

This wonder horse, the pride and property of Clarence and Claudia Fonda of near Richmond, has been wrong.

* * *

The Fondas are the first to admit it to visitors who continue to flock to the modest red stable just south of Richmond where Lady Wonder does her work.

But tens of thousands of tourists who have pulled into the Fondas' five acres off U.S. route 1 will swear by the horse.

In almost 30 years, ever since Mrs. Fonda discovered "latent psychic talent" in the colt she bought to plow their land, more than 100,000 wondering visitors have posed their questions. This is more than have been to worship at the old Kentucky home of the king of the sires, Man O' War.

SOLVES PROBLEMS

For a fee ($1), Lady Wonder will rattle off a few arithmetical problems—the sum of two plus two, for instance, and then answer three questions.

* * *

She gives the answers by nuzzling an oversized, specially built typewriter.

Slowly, and seemingly giving the matter some thought, she moves along the big keys, nosing one down now and then until a word appears.

Presidential elections, the rise and fall of cabinets and heads of state, the whereabouts of missing persons — these are everyday posers handed the aging brown mare.

* * *

JUST HORSE SENSE

Another time—perhaps it was just horse sense—she picked 26 winners out of 28 races at Pimlico.

Mrs. Fonda says Lady Wonder was reared on a milk bottle and, even now, doesn't get anything but hand-picked oats and fresh grass from the lot outside.

* * *

"We don't let her out to graze, though," said Clarence Fonda, a retired machinist and toolmaker. "She never knows when to stop."

For the past several years, Lady Wonder has had regular "office hours"—from noon to 3 p.m. daily.

"But it's such a jam," said Mrs. Fonda, "we may have to lengthen the hours this summer."

* * *

"People get angry when they have to wait," she explained. But there is a standing rule—only one person can interview the wonder horse at a time.

EQUINE MR. KEEN

Things are quieter now around the Fonda farm than they were a couple of years ago, when folks by thousands were sending questions from every section of the country for Lady Wonder to answer.

If all started after she had stuck her nose into the matter of several lost persons. There were one or two successes. Then a number of miscues.

That didn't bother Mrs. Fonda a bit. "I always tell people I can't believe some of the things Lady says, myself."

Folks ask, honestly now, does Lady have a mind of her own? Mrs. Fonda answers, sometimes, with the tale of the time she forgot to feed the filly first.

* * *

After supper, when she went out to the stable, there was Lady indignantly tapping on the typewriter. And out came one word: "Pig!"

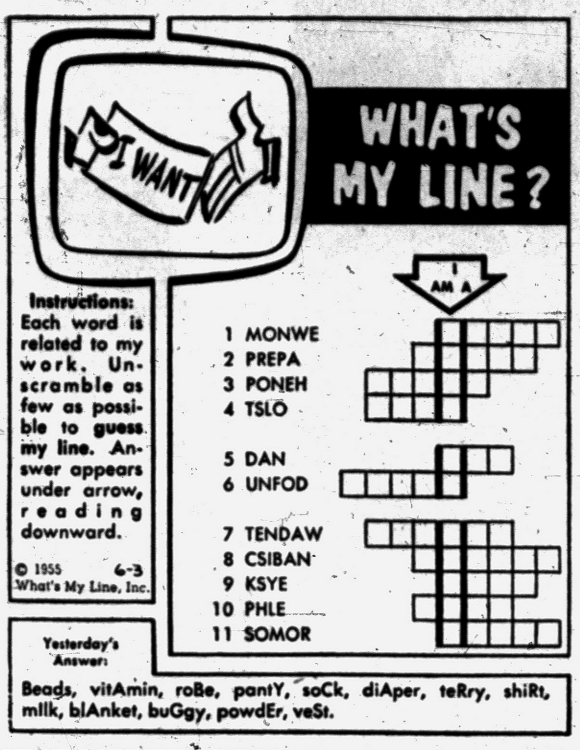

Recorder of Deeds Transactions Are Up

Business transactions in the Oakland County Recorder of Deeds office for the first five months of 1955 were up one third over the same period last year, according to Orrin McQuaid, register.

Documents processed during May totaled 14,790, an increase of 3,191 compared with May 1954. Receipts of fees came to $21,924.95, as compared to $16,472 last May.

Last month's total includes 3,290 deeds, 1,613 mortgages and 5,689 chattel mortgages. Photostats numbered 2,083 and miscellaneous papers passing through the office totaled 2,102.

The average housewife walks approximately 450 miles in her kitchen each year.

Mrs. Robert Nelson of Illinois avenue (right) is chairman of the reception committee for the annual Pontiac City Panhellenic tea to be held Sunday at the YWCA. She is pictured discussing college activities with (left to right) Alice Bego of Osceola drive; Marianne Crozier of Tilden avenue; and Deanna Mielke of Sedum Glen.

Seniors from Pontiac, Waterford and Bloomfield Hills High Schools are invited to gather Sunday at the YWCA on Franklin boulevard for a Pontiac City Panhellenic tea. Those attending will be greeted by members of the organization, including Mrs. Charles H. Allen of Pioneer avenue, Mrs. James Nye of Elsinore drive and Mrs. Robert Isgrigg of Menominee road, pictured (left to right). Mrs. Nye and Mrs. L. Jerome Fink are co-chairmen of the tea.

Her Parents and His Haven't Met

Who Calls Who When His Folks Arrive in Town?

By EMILY POST

A bride-to-be writes: "I am going to be married soon to a man whose home is on the West Coast. We will be married in the East and his parents are coming here for the wedding.

"His mother and father are complete strangers to me and my family. They will arrive in town a week before the wedding and will stay at a hotel.

"I would like to know what is proper in regard to a meeting prior to the wedding.

"Is it up to my parents to call and invite them to come to see us, or is it up to his parents to call on us when they arrive?"

Answer: His mother should have written to you and your mother as soon as she was told of the engagement.

It is quite possible, however, that she is unaware of this convention and the fact that they are coming to the wedding shows they approve of the marriage.

When they arrive in town your mother should write, or telephone, his mother and ask them to come to see you in the afternoon, or for dinner, and do what you can to make their visit to your town as agreeable as possible.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it ever permissible for a man to go through a door first?

"I find it very awkward to try to help open a heavy office building door from behind, whereas it would be simple to go first and hold it open for the woman with me.

"Could I be considered rude for doing this?"

Answer: Under the circumstances you speak of, it is always proper to say, "Excuse me—let me go first and open the door for you; it's very heavy."

"Dear Mrs. Post: At an executive board meeting composed entirely of men, should they stand when the president's secretary, who is to take minutes of the meeting, comes in?"

Answer: In this situation, the men do not rise.

Mrs. O'Brien Heads Chapter

Mrs. Eddie O'Brien was re-elected president of Psi Chapter of Sigma Beta sorority when members gathered Thursday evening at the Ottawa drive home of Jean Sheridan.

Mrs. Thomas Thornberry was elected vice president; Mrs. Eugene Russell, treasurer; Miss Sheridan, recording secretary; and Mrs. Raymond Meggitt, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. DeVere Games was named charity chairman; Mrs. Morgan Siple, editor; and Mrs. Walter Woods, parliamentarian.

Members of the chapter made plans to entertain their husbands July 23 at a progressive dinner. A picnic will be enjoyed Aug. 4.

When a door sticks at the top or bottom, it's often possible to remove sufficient wood without having to take the door down by using a coarse wood file instead of a wood plane.

Personal News of Interest in Pontiac

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Wiersema of West Iroquois road have had as their houseguests the Stanley Heberts of Honolulu, Hawaii. The Heberts are making their annual visit in the States.

Pauline Zoller of Ann Arbor, sister of Mrs. Wiersema, joined the group Wednesday evening at dinner.

Renewing old acquaintances are Dr. and Mrs. Rolf Brunckhorst of San Francisco and their 6-month-old son, who are spending several weeks with Mrs. Brunckhorst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Ashton of Birmingham.

Mrs. Brunckhorst arrived with the baby 10 days ahead of Dr. Brunckhorst, and has been entertained at a series of luncheons and dinners. Mrs. M. L. Gardner of Detroit gave a luncheon as did Mrs. Ashton, who invited friends to Devon Gables.

A luncheon at Orchard Lake Country Club was given by Mrs. William Graham of Birmingham, and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Stewart entertained with a dinner in their Romeo home. On Wednesday the Ashtons will hold a dinner at Fox and Hounds for the Brunckhorsts.

The visitors will head for a stay on Mackinac Island on June 10, returning to the Ashtons' for a brief visit before they leave for home again.

* * *

Among graduates receiving degrees at June 16 commencement exercises at the University of Detroit will be Joseph Kleiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira A. Kleiner of Judson street.

As a student of Detroit Institute of Musical Art, which is affiliated with U. of D., and a cooperative student at Wayne University, his degree of bachelor of music education will be conferred upon him by U. of D.

See if Your Love Is an Exploded Dream

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: He's all I can think or dream about!

"I met him a year ago at a dance, we've never been out together. I don't even know if he remembers me. And I'm in love with him!

"I invited him to a party I gave once, but he couldn't come and I guess his refusal scared me because I can't get up nerve enough to ask him to anything else, or even speak to him for that matter.

"Whenever our eyes meet I feel all funny inside. It must be love because I've never felt this way about anybody before.

"I thought dates with other boys would make me forget him, but I was fooling myself. The main part of my life is dreams.

"I've tried everything I could think of to forget him — dates, work, even tearing him down. The last doesn't work because I can't find anything wrong with him.

"Please tell me how to fall out of love."

Answer: You might try coming to real grips with your love. So far you've tried to sidestep him. You've curled your precious dream into a tight little ball inside of you, and he knows nothing about it.

It will stay a mirage unless you get close enough to touch it, inspect it, feel the full impact of it.

And that means getting acquainted with him. You see him around often enough. He looks at you. But he's not aware of you. And he won't be while you keep your distance.

Go places where he goes, so you can take advantage of a stray moment to be introduced to him. Make a point of speaking to him by name when you see him around.

Dawdle near where he's standing so you can talk to him. Find out how his voice sounds and what it says.

Help him find out how you tick. Invite him to the house for something quite informal so you can get even better acquainted.

He might then do something to make all your hopeful waiting worth while. Or you may find that your dream was a gossamer thing with no weight and substance. An exploded dream won't hurt for too long.

"Dear Miss Woodward: The other night at a dance I met a wonderful boy and we had a beautiful evening together.

"I tried to show him how much I enjoyed being with him. He told me he would probably call me the next day if he could, so I gave him my phone number.

"I'm still waiting for him to call. And I'm tortured with thoughts that I paved the way too smoothly for him.

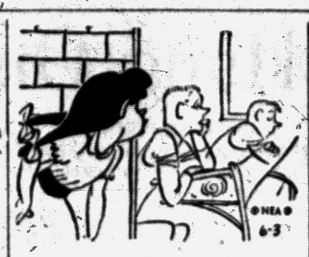

"I'm sure he must think I'm really stuck on him. How should I act if he does call, or if I see him on the street?"

Answer: You're afraid you were too eager, too friendly, too easy to fall. You're sure, because of that, he considers you lightly.

But lots of things can have kept him from calling you — legitimate things.

Stop worrying. And if he does call, or you see him, remember him with pleasure and surprise.

Be glad to see him again and hope out loud that it will happen often. Then start dreaming sweet dreams for a change.

Fruit Bread Keeps Moist for Days

Mrs. O'Toole's Loaf Is Deliciously Full of Nuts and Raisins

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

At a recent luncheon we ate this delicious Pineapple Nut Bread. Not only did the cook, Mrs. Howard O'Toole of Pontiac Lake, give us the recipe, she gave us some bread to take home. It kept fresh and moist for several days. By then the family had eaten it all up.

* * *

Mrs. O'Toole is a petite woman with an enthusiasm for living. She conducts a summer business that gets her out of bed at the crack of dawn. For many years she has been a member of the Webford Club. She also belongs to PEO.

PINEAPPLE NUT BREAD
By Mrs. Howard O'Toole

2 cups sifted flour
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup raisins (optional)
½ cup walnuts, coarsely chopped
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1 can (No. 1) or 1 cup crushed pineapple, not drained
1 teaspoon soda

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt into a bowl. Add raisins, if used, and nuts. Mix the egg, vanilla and melted shortening and add to dry ingredients. Dissolve the soda in the pineapple and add to first mixture. Stir just enough to blend.

* * *

Bake in a greased 8x4x4 pan for 1 hour in a 350 degree oven. Let stand 24 hours before slicing.

One tablespoon of orange or lemon juice may be substituted for 1 tablespoon of pineapple juice, if desired, to give the bread a more decided flavor.

A dripping water faucet that won't let you sleep can be given an emergency remedy. Tie a string to the faucet and let it extend down from the faucet mouth to guide the drops silently into the sink.

Hang On to Talent for Future Use

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some women train for a profession, then give it up willingly for marriage and a family.

* * *

Others give it up, all right, but spend the rest of their lives letting everybody know that if they hadn't married George, they would be famous painters or pianists or writers or what not.

There's still another group that gives up a career to raise a family; then happily reenters it, on a part time basis, while the children are in school.

Marian J. belongs to this last group, and she has a very satisfying life.

COMMERCIAL ARTIST

Marian was a commercial artist and a good one.

She trained for it for many years and eventually held a well-paying job.

After she married and the children came along, she gave up her career for the time being—except for an occasional bit of volunteer work.

But here's the important thing. Instead of being pushed into some volunteer activities which were irrelevant, Marian used her talents.

KEPT PRICES LOW

For the Red Cross, she did posters announcing events. For the Community Chest drive, she didn't ring doorbells; she did posters.

She did the special signs for school events, for rummage sales and church suppers.

She worked harder than most who have small children at home.

All her work was directed not only toward helping the community, which it did, but toward keeping her own hand in.

When her children were in school, Marian began to branch out a little, for, by this time most people knew about her effective posters.

Taking the samples she liked best, she approached grocers, restaurants, all kinds of shops and offered to do special signs for sales, for special offers, or for price reductions.

She kept her prices low and was meticulous about meeting deadlines.

Now, Marian has a nice part-time art business with as much work as she can handle for the present.

THE YEARS AHEAD

"But the best part is," says Marian, "that in the years ahead, when the children leave home, I won't be a wistful and unemployed mother.

"By then, I can be a full-time commercial artist and my children and friends won't have to feel sorry for me!"

Children Need Shock of Realism

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Kit's history class was reporting on the rigors of early Pilgrim life.

One by one, her classmates listed them as hostile Indians, bitter cold, poor crops, etc. Then Kit raised her hand.

She told Miss Smith that she'd once read a book about a little Pilgrim girl named Praiseful whose only doll was a corn husk surmounted by a round wooden button and some wool from her mother's spinning wheel.

Earnestly, she offered the idea that this doll also demonstrated the rigors of early Pilgrim life.

Miss Smith rejected it sharply. She said, "Katharine, your lesson is in your history book. If you haven't studied it, don't try to bluff me with fairy tales. You can sit down."

Now Kit's mother had encouraged her interest in Praiseful.

She had read her the book; comforted her worry over Praiseful's deprivation; shared her relief when the story made a ship arrive from England with a real doll.

DEVELOPS HATE

And because she was an inexperienced little girl, Kit had expected the same cooperative feeling from her teacher. Its sharp refusal shocked her.

By the time she reached home, she'd decided she 'hated" Miss Smith.

So her mother undertook to reduce this 'hate" by reducing Kit's expectations of Miss Smith.

Pouring cocoa, she said: "Kit, a little turtle will sometimes hide in his shell. A little bird will fly away instead of hopping about on the lawn. A baby bear will suddenly run for a tree his mother has taught him how to climb.

"Why do you suppose these animal children behave like this?"

"Because a bigger animal wants to hurt them?" asked Kit interestedly.

"Yes," said her mother. "Their parents have told them what you must know. They've said, "Children, remember that all the creatures you will meet will not love you as we do.

"So don't expect it. If you want to show off, choose to do it only for people who love you."

"I showed off to Miss Smith, I guess," Kit said.

"Yes," said her mother, "you did. You got her mixed up with me. You showed her private feelings you give to mothers, not strangers."

* * *

This calm acceptance of Miss Smith's right to refuse parental relationship to Kit was helpful.

So she no longer experienced the disappointments that are inevitable when children go frisking about the world in the delusion that it's exclusively inhabited by fathers and mothers.

And Kit was soon recovered from "hate" of the teacher which had resulted from her unrealistic demands.

Birmingham Women Painters Will Stage Exhibition

BIRMINGHAM—Following closely a sale and exhibition held a few weeks ago by the Birmingham Society of Women Painters, the group has issued invitations for its 11th annual exhibition Tuesday at "Quartermore," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Moses on East Long Lake road.

Mrs. George O. Cutter is general chairman and Mrs. John H. Hoppin Jr. is planning the staging. Mrs. F. Chalmers Smith is in charge of refreshments.

Easels will be set in the courtyard and terraces and pictures will be hung on trees and walls.

Presiding at the punch bowls in the afternoon and again in the evening from 7 until 9 will be Mrs. Emil Weddige, wife of the group's instructor; Mrs. Eliel Saarinen, Mrs. Marshall Fredericks, Mrs. Sarkis Sarkisian, Ruth Spicer, Mrs. J. Irving Schultz, and Mrs. F. C. Dowling.

Others will be Mrs. R. A. Thom, Mrs. Carl W. Neumann, Florence Davies, Mrs. Cyril Miles, Mrs. Sterling Saunders, Elizabeth Payne, Alice Morgan, Miss Jeannette Guysi, Mrs. Dwight B. Ireland, Mrs. Anthony Mauillo and Mrs. Colin Campbell.

FETE BRIDE-ELECT

In East Lansing last week Ann Sterling of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Joseph Terrell of Vassar entertained at a shower for bride-elect Margaret Jo Ireland who is completing her senior year at Michigan State College. Margaret will be married June 17 to Wendell E. Smith of Saginaw.

Mrs. Ross A. Wagner will give a dessert and shower for Miss Ireland on Monday and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith of Saginaw, parents of the prospective bridegroom, will give the rehearsal dinner June 16 at Devon Gables.

VISITING SISTER

Mrs. Charles H. Haralson of Tulsa, Okla., is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Vinton Birch of Harmon avenue. Mrs. Birch has issued invitations for a tea for her sister on Thursday.

Mrs. Elting DuBois is chairman of the next luncheon June 15 for women of Birmingham Country Club. Her assistants are Mrs. Linn Smith and Mrs. Marshall Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Fisher (Joyce Coulton) of Glengary circle announce the birth of a daughter, Laurel Ruth, on May 9.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Andres (Nancy Meyer) of West Long Lake road are receiving felicitations on the birth of a son, Robert Karl, May 16.

LEAVE FOR EUROPE

Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Estes will leave this week for Europe for a month of travel. They left Birmingham Saturday and will visit in Boston before flying to England.

To benefit the St. Vincent-Sarah Fisher Home for Children, Mrs. Lawrence S. Heintz will open her home on Pilgrim road for a tea Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wiggins were hosts at a cocktail party last Saturday for the volunteer firemen of Bloomfield Village.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Boynton have left to make their home in Coral Ridge, Fla.

VISIT BIRMINGHAM

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Packard of Winter Park, Fla., who formerly lived in Birmingham, are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Mosher of Glenhurst drive.

Mrs. A. J. Auchterlonie has come from her winter home in Sarasota, Fla., for a visit with the James B. Auchterlonies of Franklin. She will go on to Cape Cod to spend the summer.

JACQUELINE S. GOTZ JERALD V. SPIRES

There were two college graduates in the Joseph Spires' family, of North Francis street. The Spires' daughter, Jacqueline Gotz, was graduated from Philips University in Enid, Okla., on May 25, with a BA degree. Says U. S. Has 60,000 Addicts

Narcotics Chief Tells Senators Drug Trade Is Serious Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger told Senate investigators today there are about 60,000 drug addicts in the United States—one in every 3,000 persons.

"Despite the substantial progress which has been made in the field of narcotic drug control," Anslinger testified, "there is abundant evidence that drug addiction remains a serious problem."

The chief of the U. S. Narcotics Bureau was a witness at the opening of hearings by a Senate Judiciary subcommittee looking toward stronger laws to attack the narcotics problem.

* * *

The 60,000 figure, Anslinger said, is exclusive of marihuana smokers, who are not "true addicts." Marihuana smoking has become "an increasing problem" in recent years, he said.

"Drug addiction among adolescents," the commissioner said in a prepared statement, "took on major proportions after World War II, and reached its peak about 1951. Since then it has shown signs of abating except in several areas."

The greatest concentrations of addicts, Anslinger said, are in the New York, Chicago and Los Angeles areas. Most addicts, he said, prefer heroine, which "commands a dollar value far in excess of gold." New York City, he said, is the center of the heroin smuggling.

Anslinger said there was one drug addict in every 400 persons in this country before the passage of national control legislation, starting in 1909. By World War I, he said, there was one addict among every 1,500 persons, and by World War II narcotics traffic probably had reached its lowest ebb.

After World War II, he said, there was an influx of heroin from the Middle East and European countries and beginning in 1950 heroin from Communist China began reaching this country in volume.

"This traffic still continues," Anslinger said. "Heroin smuggling from Lebanon is also a serious problem."

Expects Reds to OK New Priest in Moscow

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Michael Francis Doyle, counsel for the Catholic Assumptionist Mission to Moscow, says he expects the Soviets to approve an application by the Rev. Louis F. Dion, A. A., registrar at Assumption College here, to serve as chaplain to the American colony in Russia.

Father Dion would replace the Rev. Georges L. Bissonette, A. A., who was ordered to leave Russia last March.

A pail of water set in a freshly painted room will help remove the odor.

Twin Tornadoes Rip Missouri Area

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Twin tornadoes tore through the countryside around the Sugar Lake resort area near St. Joseph yesterday. Trees were ripped up and a number of cottages damaged across a three-mile path.

George Mordock said he and other guests were watching the funnels cross the lake.

"One of the funnels swung out and missed us. The other came straight ahead. We thought it would get the cabin but it just snapped off part of the tree in the yard," Mordock reported.

Actress Has Daughter

HOLLYWOO D (AP) — Attorney Nathaniel Willis and his wife, actress Andrea King, became the parents of a 7 pound, 2½ ounce baby girl yesterday. The child was named Deborah Anne.

Two of three American adults wear eyeglasses.

Truman Library to Get $75,000 Through Dinner

CLEVELAND (AP)—Financier Cyrus S. Eaton says the Harry S. Truman dinner tonight is assured of raising $75,000 for the former President's library fund.

Eaton, board chairman of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, is chairman of the Ohio sponsoring committee.

Truman arrives in Cleveland by train this morning for a press conference. The former President and Mrs. Truman will attend the $100-a-plate dinner as guests of honor.

Government Clears Up Vaccine Confusion

(Editor's Note: A series of government actions and reports has finally cleared away much of the confusion plaguing the nation's polio vaccination program. In the following dispatch, it is possible for the first time in nearly seven weeks to provide official answers for many of the questions troubling parents.)

WASHINGTON (UP)—Many parents are wondering what to do about polio shots for their children now that the government has given the signal for resumption of the inoculation program.

* * *

Here are the main questions they are asking along with the answers provided by the Public Health Service, leading polio experts, and other authorities.

VACCINE SAFETY

Q—Is Salk vaccine safe?

A—The Nation's top polio specialists have re-examined the basic formula and proclaimed it safe and effective. The Public Health Service has double-checked all vaccine distributed so far and pronounced it generally safe. (Only announced exception: Two suspect lots by Cutter Laboratories.)

Stiff new federal testing and manufacturing standards were put into effect last week to make new batches extra safe.

WHEN TO INJECT

Q—What is the best time to have your children vaccinated?

A—A committee of government advisers, including Dr. Jonas E. Salk, said the best time is "before the epidemic season," which runs from mid-August to mid-September. But it said shots during a polio outbreak do have a place in preventive medicine.

Q—Is it safe, then to go ahead with second shots this summer?

A—You should check with your private physician or with your local health authorities on this point. The Salk committee said second shots can be given during the height of the polio season "without appreciable concern" because of the "slight immunity" provided by the first.

Q—What about first injections during the height of the polio season?

A—Authorities disagree. You should get the advice of your physician or local medical officials. The Salk committee said first injections should be given during an upswing in the polio season only after "careful consideration" of the possible dangers.

Many experts categorically oppose injections then, however, because of the known fact that shots of any kind at such a time often trigger paralysis in a person where the polio virus has been incubating.

Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, U. S. surgeon general, personally favors going ahead with first injections on the grounds the chance of paralysis being triggered is "minor" compared to the advantage of being protected against possible polio.

INTERVAL BETWEEN

Q—Does the first shot have to be repeated if there is a long delay before the second shot is given?

A—No. The ideal interval between first and second shots is two to six weeks but the second doses can be given with benefit months after the first.

The first dose provides some immunity for as much as two years. The third shot should be given about seven months after the first dose, preferably shortly before next year's polio season.

SUPPLIES ON HAND

Q—Who gets first call on available vaccine supplies?

A—The 9,000,000 first and second grade children being inoculated free by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Q—Who comes after that?

A—Other children in polio's most susceptible age group—5 through 9 years. President Eisenhower has asked that they be given top priority after the first and second graders.

Q—When will these various groups be taken care of?

A—Eisenhower expects enough vaccine will be released to finish the program for first and second graders by Aug. 1. There is no official estimate on how soon other children will get their shots but the government expects vaccine supplies to pick up substantially after Aug. 1.

NEEDY CHILDREN

Q—What about children whose parents can't afford to pay for shots?

A—Congress is expected to pass legislation requested by Eisenhower providing $28,000,000 to buy vaccine for needy children. Some states are arranging to inoculate all their children free.

CUTTER VACCINE

Q—What's wrong with Cutter vaccine?

A—The Public Health Service says there appears to be a "definite association" between two Cutter lots and nearly 70 confirmed cases of polio among Cutter-inoculated children.

But it said exhaustive tests so far have failed to prove the vaccine is to blame and that "we may never learn the cause of the incident."

Q—Is there any danger for Cutter-inoculated children who haven't come down with polio?

A—Scheele says no. He says children who received Cutter vaccine before it was withdrawn from the public April 27 presumably already would have come down with polio by now if they were going to get it.

VACCINE EFFECTIVE

Q—What is the advantage of Salk vaccine?

A—Scheele says the chances of a vaccinated child getting polio are only about 1 in 6,000. The chances of a non-vaccinated child contracting it, he said, are about 1 in 1,700.

Q—Does the vaccine guarantee a child against polio.

A—By no means. The field tests last year showed it is 60 to 90 per cent effective against the various types of polio—not 100 per cent.

Scientists say it is probably more effective this year because of the elimination of a defective preservative and other improvements. But it still is not sure-fire.

Court Orders U. S. to Act on Passport

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ordered the State Department to hold a formal hearing by next Tuesday on a passport application filed by Dr. Otto Nathan, executor of Albert Einstein's estate.

The Appeals Court set aside yesterday a District judge's order that the department issue a passport "forthwith," but set a rigid timetable for action by the department and directed that the court be notified of the result, with the reasons for it.

Dr. Nathan, who first applied 2½ years ago, sought court aid to get the passport in time for a scientific meeting in Bern, Switzerland, opening July 11. He said he wants to arrange for release of Einstein's unpublished manuscripts.

Graham Hopes to Turn Frenchmen to Bibles

PARIS (AP)—Billy Graham says he hopes his first crusade in France next week will persuade more Frenchmen to turn to their Bibles.

The American evangelist, who opens his campaign Sunday in this predominantly Roman Catholic land, said last night he didn't expect the big turnout that marked his seven-week tour of Britain.

A regulation polo field is 300 yards long, 160 yards wide, with a polo goal being 24 feet wide.

First jewelry was fashioned before recorded history, for divine protection and magic power.

Duke to Open Games

MELBOURNE (INS)—The Duke of Edinburgh is scheduled to open the 1956 Olympic games in Australia. Enthusiastic officials point out the presence of the Duke will add color and pageantry to the opening ceremony.

Expect 1,000 at KC State Convention

MACKINAC ISLAND (UP)—Nearly 1,000 delegates from throughout Michigan will attend the annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus here June 9-11, it was announced today.

Highlight of the convention will be a pontifical high mass with Edward Cardinal Mooney, Archbishop of Detroit, as celebrant. Rev. Albert A. Kehren, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Muskegon Heights, will be deacon of the mass.

Walker L. Cisler, president of the Detroit Edison Co., will give the main address on "Peacetime Uses of Atomic Energy" at a banquet the evening of June 10. Gov. G. Mennen Williams also will address the convention and his wife will be hostess at a tea for wives of delegates at the governor's summer mansion here.

Birds Do the Work

TOKYO (INS) — Anglers with their wet flies, dry flies, expensive poles and hip boots can throw them all away if they can learn to do what expert fishermmen do on the Nagara River in Gifu, central Japan. From mid-May through mid-Octover, these fishermen fish for "Ayu," a trout-like fish, not with lines and hooks, but with Cormorants, swan-like birds. Cor-Cormorant fishing is done only at night, when the fish are lured near the boats by blazing torches, and Cormorants held on leash dive and catch them. The birds are then drawn in to deposit their catches.

MORE THAN A LIFEGUARD — Cpl. Marvin Fox, of Los Angeles, lifeguard at U. S. Army swimming pool in West Berlin, Germany, balances 130-pound guard's chair on chin.

These Modern Girls

CHICAGO (INS) — Today's girls are either maturing faster, physically, or becoming fashion-conscious at an earlier age than their older sister. The Formfit Company of Chicago reports that seven out of 10 girls now wear brassiers at age 12, and more than half of them don a girdle before they are 15 years old.

Twenty-nine of every 100 workers in New York state are factory workers. National average is 25 of every 100 workers.

Failing Poison Try, Woman Chokes Self

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Rose Bergen, 67, and her daughter, Hilda, 37, drank a bottle of poisoned wine last Tuesday in a suicide pact.

They left a note reading: "We hope to find blessings in another world."

Mrs. Bergen died but her daughter survived and was taken to Bellevue Hospital, where she was reported as improving.

Yesterday attendants found Miss Bergen strangled at the foot of her bed. Fashioning a noose from a strip torn from her bathrobe, she had hung herself from a bedpost.

Thirty-nine per cent of the deaths and 35 per cent of the injuries due to motor vehicle accidents last year occurred on Saturdays and Sundays.

Film Tycoon's Ex-Wife Leaves Million Dollars

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Mayer, former wife of film magnate Louis B. Mayer, left an estate estimated at a million dollars.

Her will, filed for probate yesterday, left more than $600,000 in bequests to relatives, friends, employes and charities.

Mrs. Mayer died May 21 at the age of 71.

Lillian Gish to Play Role of Grace Kelly's Mother

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — What a flood of memories will crowd Lillian Gish's mind when she returns from Europe to play Grace Kelly's mother in "The Swan." In 1939, Lillian was the star of the MGM picture portraying the princess, which now falls to Grace.

Curiously enough there is a resemblance between Grace and Lillian and she can very well pass for the Academy Award winner's "mom."

Both ladies have been absent from MGM for some time, Grace for over a year while on and off suspension, and "The Cobweb" is Lillian's last picture for Leo the Lion. Since then she's been in Europe—well, so has Miss Kelly.

SWEET GRADUATE

On June 16, Margaret O'Brien will be a sweet girl graduate when she receives her diploma from University High School. She's 18 now, and she tells me that she starts work four days later at RKO in "Glory."

"Aren't you going to college?" I asked her.

She says she'll take some college courses but she doesn't expect to try for a degree.

"Walter Brennan and Charlotte Greenwood have been signed for 'Glory'," says Margaret, "and I'm hoping that RKO will get Gary Crosby to play opposite me. I see him going in and out of church and he seems so nice." What? Another admirer for young Mr. Crosby!

OFFERS REJECTED

After Margaret Hayes played the sexy school teacher in "Blackboard Jungle" she had plenty of offers and turned them all down. That was because she didn't want to be separated from her husband, Herbert Swope Jr., and their two children, in New York.

But now the entire Swope clan is back in Hollywood to live until October—at least. Margaret's husband is a TV producer and he's been transferred to the coast until middle fall.

MOVING AGAIN

Mrs. Edmund Purdom says that she is moving in the next two weeks, which will make six times in eight months. She told me that she rented Guy Madison's house at Malibu and her lease is up.

"Next time I move it's going to be permanent. I am going to buy a house," said Tita.

Gloria de Haven is in love again—and he's a tall and handsome auto dealer named Dick Fincher who flew up from Miami to be with her in New York.

I told Jack Webb that he'll be thinner than ever after his 30-day 1-night stands, exploiting "Pete Kelly's Blues."

Dorothy is going with him and he opens in San Antonio July 27, tours all of Texas and boy! is it hot in the Lone Star State in summer. He then goes on to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Buffalo and on and on.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Joan Crawford and her bridegroom, Alfred Steele, are being feted with a supper party Saturday at Maxim's in Paris. Invitation came from Earl Blackwell.

Van Johnson takes Evie to Rhode Island to visit his dad, Charles Johnson, who's been both mother and father to Van.

Troy Township Census Rechecking Nears Completion

Send Medal Back to White House; Say Son Captive

LEMONT FURNACE, Pa. (AP) — The parents of an American airman presumed dead in Korea, have restated their belief that their son is a Communist prisoner and have returned his Purple Heart Award to the White House.

* * *

Ottley R. Coulter and his wife, Ethel, called the medal awarded to their son, 1st. Lt. John R. Coulter, an empty honor.

* * *

Coulter said his last definite information was that his son was a prisoner in North Korea. The Air Force verified that the airman had been on a prisoner of war list but was presumed dead Jan. 31, 1954, after exhaustive investigations failed to reveal his whereabouts.

* * *

In a letter sent yesterday to President Eisenhower and signed by both parents, they declared:

* * *

"We do not want this medal under the present circumstances. It does not honor our son or its donor."

REAL FLY UP — Eleven Brownies of Williams Lake Troop 391 got a real "Fly Up" recently, when they toured the Pontiac City Airport. For Brownies, the Fly Up ceremony marks their graduation from Brownie to Girl Scout status. The flight they all took was a little different experience, and had them all up in the air, they testified. Shown here are Jean McGinley, Linda Terefenko, Nancy Hallenbeck, and Patsy McMurray, along with flying instructor Kenneth Barber. The aerial adventure was the climax of a year of activities. The girls were accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Roy Hallenbeck, and assistants, Mrs. Eldon Rosegart, and Mrs. Harry Carleton.

Small Number Deciding Factor

Incorporation Balloting Validity Determined by Nose Count

TROY TOWNSHIP — Rechecking of the township's incorporation census is expected to be completed today, a spokesman for the Secretary of State's office said this morning.

* * *

Indications are that completion of the census will show a very narrow margin of names deciding whether the area has enough residents.

Official James Chapman said the search for more names missing from the original census is nearly completed. Voters in Troy will go to the polls Tuesday to vote on incorporation, and elect a nine member charter commission.

However if the revised census shows the population lower than the 500 per square mile required by state law, Tuesday's voting will be void.

"I don't know how many persons the area is 'short'," Chapman said, "because I'm not sure of the exact area. The area is a problem for the local township government."

He added that approximately 400 names missed on the first census have been unearthed.

Based on an area of 27.5 square miles, and 13,750 residents required, the original census was some 533 short.

DONALD J. SMITH

Receiving his bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Lawrence Institute of Technology Tuesday will be Donald J. Smith, of 2142 Fortress, Drayton Plains. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Rhuel S. Smith of Lake Orion, he is employed at Pontiac Motor Division as a supervisor in the plant engineering department.

Ensigns Toss Caps, Listen to Navy Chief

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The Naval Academy sent its 115th class into service today with the traditional tossing of the white caps and words of encouragement from Navy Secretary Thomas.

The 740 graduates heard Thomas tell them to "take a genuine interest in your men; treat them firmly, impartially, fairly and with respect; keep them informed; be accessible to them; give them authority and responsibility."

Then they were presented their diplomas and sworn into the Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps before a jam packed crowd of 10,000 in Dahlgren Hall.

First in line was Thomas F. Statan of Rochester, N.Y., the class honor man who attained a 93.3 scholastic average over the four year course.

The class was one of the smallest in several years.

Recreation Plans Detailed for Waterford Township

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The recreation board of Waterford Township has announced summer plans for township residents leisure time enjoyment.

Particularly focusing attention on youth activity, summer plans will include: playground programs, swimming instruction, day camping, softball leagues and social clubs.

"We feel a responsibility of helping parent answer the question asked by children frequently following the close of school of —"What Can I do!", states recreation superintendent, Tom Belton.

"With this in mind," continues Belton, "plus the realization that children's abundance of leisure time in the summer can be put to either a beneficial or harmful use, we are planning activities best suited for our youths enjoyment and health while keeping within the limits of our finances."

Activities are planned when possible so they will not be in competition with the children's leisure time. Playgrounds will open one week following the closing of school. Swimming classes will be conducted immediately following the closing of school, while the day camp will run the last six weeks of summer vacation.

A twilight Little and Junior soft ball league will be in operation through most of the summer.

Boys and girls who are interested and can meet the various activity requirements will have an opportunity for participation in all of these programs during the summer months at little or no cost.

"All activities are planned with the purpose of helping people realize the most possible from their leisure time in terms of fun, and growth. All recreation staff members are qualified for their position and programs are designed not only for individual enjoyment but for education in an informal fun atmosphere," concluded Belton.

Recreation booklets will be distributed through the schools and other organizations the first week of June. Contained in these booklets will be detailed information concerning all summer activities.

Find Oak Park Builder Guilty of Larceny Here

A Oak Park builder yesterday was found guilty of larceny by conversion in Oakland County Circuit Court and visiting Judge Michael Garland, of Owosso, set sentencing for June 20.

Ben Bayer, owner of Marlowe Builders Inc., was charged with failing to produce a clear title to a home bought by a Ferndale man a year ago. Bayer was unable to return a down payment, said Assistant Prosecutor Donald A. Brown.

School children picked the official state bird of Illinois in an unusually statewide referendum in 1928. The cardinal nosed out the blue bird 39,226 votes to 30,306.

Moscow's Big Gum Store Gripes About Shoddiness

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia's leading department store, The Gum in Red Square, is complaining that a lot of the goods it gets to sell are so shoddy it's ashamed.

The Gum (pronounced goom) is the Macy's, Gimbels, and Marshall Field's of Moscow.

* * *

An article in Soviet Trade, official newspaper of the Ministry of Trade, complained that early this year the store received 500 children's coats which were defective in tailoring and lining. These came from the Baltsk Factory in Odessa, which also sent other defective goods to Gum. Despite this telegraphed complaint, reported Gum, it received another 400 shoddy coats and had to return them.

* * *

"Perhaps it would not be worth mentioning these facts if there had not been other similar cases where factories in Kaluga, Tula, Kharkov etc. have been sending shoddy and useless goods to The Gum and other stores," said Soviet Trade. "It is no wonder that people don't want to buy clothing manufactured by these factories . . .

"Buttonholes don't fit. Sleeves are off. Boys' school uniforms from Kazan are no good. The tunics don't match the trousers . . . the styles don't fit. The orders don't match."

* * *

Soviet Trade also complains that for the first 2½ months of 1955, Gum received only 13 per cent of its orders from the factories. But in the last 15 days of the quarter it received 87 per cent. Thus, in a rush, somebody was "fulfilling the plan."

Oakdale Project Sale Arranged

Former Tenants to Sign Ownership Papers at Ceremony Tuesday

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — The 590 dwelling units of the Oakdale Gardens Housing Project will officially be turned over to its new resident owners at a ceremony at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

Officials from the Chicago regional office of the U.S. Housing Administration will be present to sign the papers that will make homeowners of the former tenants of the war housing project. The sale will be retroactive to June 1.

The tenants formed themselves into a residents' cooperative organization and purchased the housing project, located north of Eight Mile road near Wyoming, for a price of $1,443,985.

More than 75 per cent of the 590 shares in the project have been sold, mostly to former tenants, and the remaining 25 per cent will be sold by the cooperative group.

Tuesday's official action will add over 800 new property owners to the strife-riven Carver School District, and may prove a solution to the troubles that have assailed the district during the past years. Currently there are only about 64 property owners in the area's 8,000.

Only property owners can run for school board positions and the increased representation is seen as a possible answer to the problems that have vexed the district.

Lapidary Class Planned at Cranbrook Institute

A lapidary class in cutting and polishing semi-precious stones will be held on eight Wednesday evenings beginning June 15 at Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Open to the public, the course is taught by Luella Schroeder, experienced lapidary and silversmith, and is primarily designed for beginning students, although there will be facilities for two advanced workers.

Since the class must be limited in size, early registration is urged. Information about fees and enrollment may be obtained by calling MIdwest 4-1600, extension 73.

Four Towns Troop Having Camp-Out

FOUR TOWNS—Girl Scouts of Four Towns Troop are having a camp-out tonight and tomorrow at the Pontiac Lake Recreation area.

Leaders accompanying the group are Mrs. Harriet Bendall, Mrs. Kathleen Allen, Mrs. Bual Tubbs, and Mrs. Gladys Brugin.

R. V. Todd Is Named Trial Board Chairman

R. V. Todd of 160 Cherokee Rd. was named last night as chairman of the Pontiac Police and Fire Trial Board. He succeeds Thurlow L. Harsen who is still serving as a board member.

Also elected at the regular monthly meeting was James J. McCarthy of 240 Cottage St. as secretary. Other members of the 5-man board include Stephen J. Cloonan Jr. and John B. Wilson.

Eastern Junior High Teachers Honor Staley

Francis Staley, principal of Eastern junior high school who next year steps to the helm of Pontiac high school, saw his life pass in review Thursday night at an honorary dinner given by his Eastern faculty.

Sixty-seven teachers and staff members attended the program with Ray Lowry serving as master of ceremonies.

Helen Lapisch served as program chairman and assisting her in the "This is Your Life?" portrayal were Loran MacKellar, Jean Kimple, Maurice Levine, Harold Smead, John Sluka, Roy Woods, Mrs. William Tompkins, Mrs. Arthur VanRyzin, Mrs. John F. Ward, Mrs. Samuel Miller and Henry Elling.

Staley succeeds John Thors Jr., who retires from the Pontiac high school principalship this year.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY—Planning to mark their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday are Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Lee, of 2033 Vermont St., Troy Township. Married June 3, 1905, in Leigh, England, they have three daughters, Mrs. John James of Troy Township, Mrs. Ralph Crawford, of Pontiac, and Mrs. Lynda Cahoon of Bethesda, Maryland, seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. The daughters are holding open house at their parents' home from 2-7 p. m. Sunday.

Week's Trip Is Prize for Winner

Four New Contestants Seeking to Reign as Queen of CAI Fair Opening June 24

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Four new names have been added to the list of aspirants for the crown of CAI Fair Queen. Tossing their hats in the ring are Thelma Tricker, Janet Warner, Stephani Hill and Korine Frizzle.

The crowning will climax the three-day fair which ends June 26.

Proceeds of the annual event will be used to pay off the Community Activities Building mortgage, of which nearly $5,000 remains.

Others who entered the contest earlier are Sherry MacIntosh, Carmen Piechowiak, Priscilla Boyd, Beverly Hankins, Shirley Lamberton, Maureen Clark, and Cleon Mullins.

To the winner of the queen contest will go a free week's vacation at the Gay El Rancho, at Gaylord.

Votes cost 1 cent each, and are collected in canisters issued to contestants when they enter the contest.

The Waterford Branch of the National Farm and Garden Club detailed plans yesterday for their Wayside Market booth at the fair.

They will be selling white elephants, baked goods, jams, jellies, house plants, small potted trees and bulbs. Mrs. D. E. Edstrom is the chairman. The group will also display plant arrangements in the hobby exhibit.

Fine Shrubs Need Care; They Don't 'Just Happen'

Have you ever driven past someone's home and admired the beautiful shrubs and wished your own looked as nice? Those attractive shrubs didn't just happen. They are the result of good planning, proper planting and good care.

Shrubs are an intermediate group of plants that tie in the trees to the low growing plants and lawns, according to William Aho, forester with the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

Shrubs fit well with evergreens in a landscape plan and can be used as screen plantings to hide any objectionable view.

They give the homeowner a beautiful bloom during the spring and summer, and provide food and shelter for birds during the cold winter months.

PLAN FOR FALL

Spring planting is over but it is never too early to plan for the fall planting season, says Aho. Some of the points to remember are the soil requirements of shrubs, what shrubs will grow in sun or shade, and what types of shrubs to plant in different locations.

* * *

It is always better to have a definite planting plan, and you will save money by doing so.

Aho points out that while homeowners usually plan and plant their shrubs with a critical eye, for some unknown reason they sorely neglect to care for them. Because of this neglect, each year many beautiful shrubs have had to be removed which could have been saved by proper pruning.

The real purpose of pruning woody plants is to keep them in a healthy and attractive condition.

In pruning always keep the natural shape of the shrubs for good appearance. Prune the intersecting branches plus the dead, diseased and over-mature canes.

CUT TALL SHRUBS

If a shrub has grown too tall, cut it down to within a few inches of the ground level and it will produce a new vigorous shrub.

The time of pruning depends on the shrub's blooming habits. Early flowering shrubs, such as the forsythias, should be pruned after blooming because they produce their flowers on wood that is one year old or more.

If the forsythia were pruned in early spring or late fall the flower buds would be removed.

* * *

Late flowering shrubs are to be pruned during the dormant period because the flowers are produced on the current year's growth.

If you have a hedge and it needs attention, shear it in early June. When the growth appears ragged in the latter part of July shear it again to approximately one-half inch of the old growth.

GLOXINIA TO BE PROUD OF — Shown with the gloxinia of which he is "justly proud," is Joseph A. Piscopink of 31230 Farmington Rd., Farmington Township. Already he has counted over 40 blooms on the flourishing plant, with new buds still appearing. At one time the gloxinia had 20 blossoms, all opened up, plus a number of buds. Florists say the plant is unusually productive, state 20 to 22 blooms per season as a good showing for gloxinia. Piscopink waters the plant with rainwater exclusively, and adds liquid fertilizer to promote growth.

Spare That Native Tree While Building a House

Careless builders really can ruin a tree.

A startling statistic was presented recently by a tree authority, who said that seven out of every 10 native trees growing on home sites in new developments die within a year or so after a new home owner moves in.

Herman S. Porter, of the Bartlett Tree Experts, says that with proper care during construction, nine out of 10 trees could be saved.

If you're planning on the dream home, impress on your builder that carelessness in earth moving operations is responsible for the high casualty list of trees in new suburban areas.

Not only does loss of trees tend to lower property values, but to remove a few big trees which have died is a costly operation.

Porter suggests a four-way cooperation between home owner, architect, builder and tree specialist before and during construction of homes in wooded or semi-wooded tracts.

OFFERS PLAN

Once you have determined which trees should be saved, here's a program he recommends:

* * *

Build a wooden fence around average size trees. The fence should extend at least eight feet out from the trunk, or more if the tree is a giant one. All machinery, materials and workmen should be kept out of the fenced-in area.

Don't remove the top soil from the root feeding area of the tree, even temporarily.

Do not pull or bulldoze stumps of trees whose roots may be intertwined with those of trees that are to remain.

Feed all trees immediately where roots or environmental conditions are disturbed. If any percentage of the root areas is destroyed, trim or cut back a corresponding amount of the top.

During building operations, do not permit any soil to be piled over areas in which trees are growing.

If fills are made over root area, be sure that wells, stone and tile for aeration and watering are used to the extent necessary. Make certain roots and base of trunk get sufficient air for respiration.

TUNNEL UNDER ROOTS

Lay out underground surface lines for water, gas, sewerage or even electric conduits in advance of construction so that the least amount of damage possible will be done to the roots. Tunnel under roots where avoidance of tree roots is impossible.

* * *

Do not allow plows or rotary tillers to work in the root feeding areas of the trees. All turning of soil there should be done by hand with a fork.

Do not permit burning of debris where smoke or heat will affect either roots or crowns of trees.

Permit no trees to be used as anchors unless heavy layers of burlap or other suitable materials are first wrapped around trunk to protect them from cables, ropes or chains.

Do not drive nails in trees to hold signs or temporary boxes.

Feed trees during building and grading operations. Spray them to keep them free of insects, and give them plenty of water during hot summer months for the next few years after the home is completed.

Only white pine and aspen trees yield wood suitable for making matchsticks.

Bran middlings are one of the standard polishing agents used in the manufacture of tin plate.

Can Bring Big Crop Increase

Apply Solution When Night Temperatures Go Below 60 Degrees

With the new hormone spray it is now possible to have tomatoes one-third larger, more symmetrical, better filled out, and frequently near seedless.

This sounds like something out of a salesman's catalog, but it is actually possible, says John K. Bray, Oakland County assistant agricultural agent.

Hormone sprays will improve the set of early tomatoes when night temperatures go below 60 degrees, says Bray.

The sprays are available under several trade names such as Sure-Set, Tomato-Tone, and Blossom-Set. They should be diluted according to directions on the package and applied to open blossoms with a hand sprayer.

Most people have better results with the hormone sprays that are sprayed directly on the open blossoms rather than the kind that are sprayed over the entire plant.

If night temperatures, at the time of the second and third flower clusters, are still falling below 60 degrees in the evening, then the second and third flower clusters also should be treated.

Confine as much of the spray as possible to the flower clusters and do not spray the entire plant. Knapsack and quart sprayers work exceptionally well

These chemicals are powerful plant growth regulators and should be used with caution, but when used with manufacturer's direction, it is safe and you will really be surprised with larger and filled-out tomatoes.

It is possible, with cool night temperatures, by using the hormone spray to harvest five times as many tomatoes. When tomato blossoms that are not treated with hormone spray have night temperatures that drop to 50 degrees, the flowers drop and fruit settings may be delayed as much as two or three weeks.

With 15 minutes of labor and a relatively cheap hormone, you are sure to harvest your tomatoes early.

Trench Silo Fine for Storing Excess Grass

John Trocke, assistant county agricultural agent, says that now is the time to be thinking of how to store that excess grass farmers always have in June. There is no better way to save that surplus than in a trench silo.

Carlton Crawford of Milford and Keith Middleton of Lake Orion, two farmers who have used the method, cite advantages they have found using a trench silo.

"It saves that extra grass in June for August feeding when our pastures are usually drying up," they state.

Adolph Engler of Pine Row Farms says, "An added benefit is in the increased yield of high quality second cutting I get. These cows really milk on second cutting alfalfa."

Garden Question

Q—Last year our rose blooms were badly disfigured by a tiny insect. What is it, and what can be done to prevent similar damage this summer?

A—The tiny insects which destroyed so many roses last year are called thrips. They work their way into the unopened bud and suck the juices, causing distortion and failure to open.

Dusting or spraying regularly with a mixture containing DDT, lindane or malathon.

Conrad Only American in Semifinals

ST. ANNES, England (AP)—England's Arthur Perowne defeated young Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla., 1-up at the 20th hole and Phil Scrutton walloped Billy Joe Patton, 7 and 6, leaving Joe Conrad as the only American to reach the semifinals of the British Amateur Golf Championship today.

Conrad, of San Antonio, Tex., trimmed England's Roger Bayliss, 5 and 3.

The 4th semifinalist was Alan Slater of England, who followed up yesterday's double upset of Americans by eliminating Joe Carr of Ireland, the 1953 champion, 2 and 1.

Results of this morning's matches, played in the rain on a course made soggy by a heavy all-night downpour, were crushing to American hopes.

The Americans, who had thoroughly trounced Britain's amatures in the recent Walker Cup matches, had sent nine men into the round of 16 yesterday. And the three who survived to reach the quarterfinals had been strongly favored.

Conrad was the only one who played steady golf on the mushy 6,657-yard, par 35-36-171 Royal Lytham and St. Annes course.

* * *

Patton, belting his shots wildly off the tee and putting badly, won only one hole from Scrutton.

"If I had played him all day I never would have beaten him," Billy Joe said afterward.

Bisplinghoff, three down at the tenth, rallied to square his match with Arthur Perowne, 25-year-old Norfolk farmer, but Perowne got him on the 2nd extra hole.

Conrad, driving accurately and putting well, always had the measure of Bayliss, who often found himself in trouble in the rough.

After overtaking Conrad at the 6th, Bayliss was bunkered twice at the 7th and conceded the hole. The Texan sank a 20-foot putt for a two at the 9th, where Bayliss again was bunkered, and turned three up.

* * *

Pulling away on the back nine, Conrad closed out the match on the 15th, where the Englishman pulled his drive into the rough and was still in the rough with his 2nd.

The cards:

Conrad	out	354	546	342—36
Bayliss		456	445	x3x—xx
Conrad	in	443	444
Bayliss		452	546

(Conrad wins 5 and 3)

X-picked up

Bisplinghoff	out	345	545	553—38
Perowne		445	434	542—36
Bisplinghoff	in	444	354	444—36—75
Perowne		454	454	454—39—75

Extra holes

Bisplinghoff 45

Perowne 44 (Perowne wins 1-up, 20 holes)

Conrad meets Scrutton in one semi-final this afternoon while Slater faces Perowne. The 36-hole final will be played tomorrow.

* * *

Bisplinghoff got off to a rocky start. After taking the 1st hole he lost the 4th, 5th, 6th and 8th and he didn't draw level until the tough dogleg 17th.

They halved the 1st extra hole and on the 20th, the 20-year-old Floridian hit his 1st two shots into deep rough. He pitched beautifully within 25 feet of the cup but couldn't sink the long putt. Perowne's 2nd was hole high 25 yards to the left on a bank. He chipped to within three feet and got an easy four.

* * *

Patton, who had beaten Scrutton in a Walker Cup match, never got started today.

ROOKIE REPORTS—Milwaukee manager Charlie Grimm welcomes John Edelman (right), new bonus pitcher as he reports to the Braves at Ebbets Field before Thursday's game with the Dodgers. John, 19-year-old West Chester, Pa., State Teachers College student, lost no time getting into action, taking a turn on the mound during the 8th inning, 10-run rally of the Dodgers. He gave up 2 singles, then struck out Gil Hodges and got Jackie Robinson on a pop foul to end the inning. Brooklyn won, 13-2.

Tennis 'Brunch' Slated Sunday at Orchard Lake

The annual tennis "brunch" for members of Orchard Lake Country Club will be held Sunday at 12:30 p.m., with an outstanding doubles exhibition scheduled for the club's courts.

Don MacKay and Fred Otto will meet Chet Murphy and Earl Clark Jr.

The MacKay-Otto tandem has won the Detroit city doubles, Saginaw Valley doubles and Orchard Lake Invitational doubles in the past and each has been in the city singles champion and state open champ.

Murphy is the tennis coach at the University of Detroit and Clark is his number one player. Murphy, 3-time Big 10 doubles champion, was ranked in the top 10 in the nation in doubles. Clark, the UD captain, is the son of Earl (Dutch) Clark, all-time football great and former grid coach and athletic director at UD.

Sparrow Signs Contract With K. C. A's Farm

UD Star Becomes Two Sport Pro; RO Player Also Signed

Two more Oakland County Athletes have signed professional baseball contracts—both with the Kansas City Athletics.

Guy Sparrows of Pontiac, who gained more renown at the University of Detroit for his basketball ability, has been signed for Savannah, Ga., of the Class A South Atlantic League.

Sparrow reportedly received the $4,000 maximum pay short of a "bonus" contract and will join Savannah after UD graduation, June 16. At Savannah, he will become a teammate of another former Pontiac High School sports star, Jim Engleman.

The other county player signing with the Kansas City organization was Jim Zickel, former Royal Oak High School star, who was an outfielder for Michigan Normal College. He was assigned to the A's Class B farm at Lancaster, Pa.

Sparrow, a 6-5 first baseman, batted .356 and drove in 25 runs for the Titan squad this season. He was signed by Kaycee scout Herb Strunk. The big Pontiac athlete thus becomes a two-sport professional.

He already is under contract to play pro basketball for the New York Knickerbockers. He was their 4th draft choice following last winter's college season.

Durocher Discounts Brooks' Fearsome Home-Run Power

NEW YORK (AP)—As far as Leo Durocher is concerned, the Brooklyn Dodgers' fearsome array of sluggers is vastly overrated. Even their home runs are phony.

Before today's game the Dodgers owned 68 homers in 45 games, a much faster pace than that set by the 1947 New York Giants when they accumulated a record 221 four baggers.

* * *

But did that make much of an impression on the voluble Giants manager? Not so you could notice it. A reporter asked Leo if he had occasion to see Wednesday night's Milwaukee-Brooklyn game at Ebbets Field when the Dodgers blasted six homers—three by Duke Snider.

* * *

"Yeah, I watched it on television," Durocher snapped. "I turned the foolish thing off and on a couple of times and finally shut it off for good after Snider hit his third."

Why? Was there anything wrong with the sound? Didn't he get a weak picture:

"Sound . . . Picture . . . My foot. I was just plain disgusted by those cheap fly ball homers. With the exception of Snider's second one all were fly balls. Homers, horse feathers. Everything is a home run in Ebbets Fied. All you gotta do is get the ball up in the air and it will go over some fence. The fences are right behind the infielders."

* * *

"Sure they've got a lot of home runs. Why shouldn't they with a park like that? It's made to order for them. I'll tell you what. I know they've played more games on the road than at home but I'll bet they've hit more homers at Ebbets Field than in all the other parks combined."

A check showed Leo was right. The Dodgers have played 21 games at home and 24 on the road, but they've hit 38 balls out of Ebbets Field and only 30 in seven other parks.

Moran Arrested on Charge of False Testimony

Matchmaker in Philly Faces Grand Jury Action in Johnson Case

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Matchmaker Pete Moran faced Grand Jury action today on charges that he gave false testimony at a Pennsylavnia Athletic Commission probe of the nationally televised Harold Johnson-Julio Mederos fight May 6.

Moran was arrested during a recess in the hearings yesterday and released in $3,500 bail.

* * *

The commission has charged that Johnson was drugged prior to his bout with Mederos. Mederos was awarded a TKO at the end of the second round when Johnson couldn't continue.

The commission also has charged that Moran has violated Pennsylvania law by serving as a co-manager of Johnson. The law prohibits a matchmaker from being a manager of any fighter.

* * *

As a result of the Johnson-Mederos bout all professional boxing in Pennsylvania has been suspended by Gov. George M. Leader.

The specific accusation made against Moran was that he testified falsety on Wednesday that he never had contacted any member of Peter Perri's family since the start of the investigation.

Perri's wife, Mrs. Goldie Perri, testified that same day that Moran talked with her a week ago and that he had urged her to ask her husband to say that a signature listing Peter Perri as a co-manager of Johnson was genuine.

Mrs. Perri termed the signature forgery.

In an affidavit signed by Perri he also called the signature a forgery. Perri is in a hospital with an undisclosed illness.

Club Goes 'Pftt'

Everyone Worried by Braves' Big Slump

BROOKLYN (AP) — "Pftt," went Del Crandall, making a noise like a backfire in answer to the baseball riddle: 'What's wrong in the Braves teepee?'

"Everything. Everything is going wrong," Del said, "and everybody is worried."

* * *

What's good for Crandall is good for Milwaukee baseball and right now the Braves are wounded and staggering back down the National League trail while Crandall is doing some serious soul-searching.

"It's hard to find an angle, a gimmick to pin it on and when you do find it, it's not easy to correct."

Milwaukee is in fourth place, 13 games from first. Crandall is batting a forlorn .175. He has hit only three homers.

The 25-year-old Crandall is called the best young catcher in baseball. He hits the long ball, when he hits. He throws well and moves good for a big man. He's a lean 6-1.

* * *

In the role of catcher-captain he is a guiding force to this deflated wonder club, the pre-season pennant pick with the majority of baseball writing men, which took a 13-2 drubbing from the Dodgers yesterday.

* * *

"You try anything you can when you're in a slump. Extra hitting practice if you get the time, just anything," said the clear-eyed Crandall. "I've been swinging under the ball. Now I'm concentrating on swinging down on the pitch. I never thought it would be this rough."

Dryer Pitches Another 1-Hitter

Dairy Hurler Is Victor This Time; Drug Trips Keith and Lions

Bruce Dryer hung up his 2nd straight 1-hit pitching preformance Thursday night to feature softball action at Drayton Plains in the Waterford Recreation League.

Dryer, who lost a 1-0 1-hitter to Gidley last week, shut out Sylvan Center on a lone safety last night, and struck out 8 while walking only 1. Richardson Dairy gave Dryer 3 runs in the 1st inning and took a 5-0 decision.

In the 1st, a walk and singles by Wimp Caswell, George Kaiser and Jack Hagan, plus an error gave the Dairymen 3 runs.

In the 2nd game of the twin bill, Drayton Drug tagged Harlan (Fat) Keith for 6 hits and pinned a 6-2 defeat on the Waterford Lions. Gary Boe yielded 7 walks and was in constant trouble, but hung on for a 4-hit victory for Drug.

Drug tallied 3 runs in the 3rd, enough to win, on Stu Hutchinson's single, Keith's error, a single by Cecil Hapes, a sacrifice and Paul Atkins' double.

Record Crowd Sees Dedication Contest

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A crowd of 7,123—the largest ever to attend a South Atlantic League game in Jacksonville— saw the first-place Braves shut out the Macon Peaches 1-0 in the dedication game of Jacksonville's new $500,000 ball park here last night.

The personal appearance of Fess Parker, portrayer of Davy Crockett on television, helped create the traffic jam at the turnstiles.

THURSDAY'S HOME RUNS

Champ Jockey Misses Injury in Bad Spill

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—National riding Champion Willie Shoemaker narrowly escaped injury in a spill after he won the sixth race at Hollywood Park yesterday on the Llangollen Farm's Feast.

Shoemaker was spilled when his horse jumped at a shadow at the finish line. The jockey curled into a ball when he hit the turf and remained motionless while the rest of the field passed him. He was given an ovation by the crowd and came back to ride in the next race.

Roy Lumm also was ungeated by Royal Puzzler, in the same race shortly after the field left the quarter pole headed into the straightaway. Royal Puzzler was tripped in a jam and sprawled heavily. Lumm was not seriously injured.

Gavilan Beats Italian

SANTA CLARA, Cuba (AP)— Kid Gavilan, former welterweight champion, knocked out Luigi Celumine, of Italy, in the third round before 4,000 fans last night. Gavilan weighed 152½, Celumine 157.

Celumine was floored in the second round for a count of eight.

Maples Win 6th Title

The sports year 1954-55 will probably go down as the greatest in the history of Birmingham High School.

Athletic endeavor for the Maples came to a conclusion Thursday with Birmingham marking up its 6th championship for the year by taking the Eastern Michigan League track crown.

The Maple football team finished well down the list as Hazel Park won its 1st grid title, but the cross country team was the EML titlist. From then on, it has been a battle to see who would be runnerup to Birmingham.

John Petrakis' basketball team won the title and the Maple swimmers did likewise. This spring, only the tennis trophy eluded Birmingham's jammed trophy case.

Maple representatives won championships in baseball, golf and track.

In climaxing the season with the EML track meet Thursday, Birmingham won 7 1sts and took the meet with 65¾ points. It was the Maples' 1st title since 1951 and ended a 3-year domination by Mt. Clemens.

The Panthers were 2nd with 46¼ points, followed by Hazel Park, 40; Port Huron, 29¼; East Detroit, 13¾; and Ferndale, 6.

Gordon Pade set a new EML record in the 120-yard high hurdles with a 15.3-second effort. Another fine Maple performance came from freshman shot putter Chuck Gibson, who took his specialty in 49 feet, 4¼ inches.

In addition to Pade's mark, 2 other league records were broken. Bill Thomas of Mt. Clemens broke the 180-yard low hurdle mark with a 20.3-second clocking and the Port Huron medley relay team did 2 minutes, 38.6 seconds.

Thomas was the meet's only double winner. He added 1st in the broad jump to his low hurdle triumph.

Close Tilts Mark Action in City Softball League

A five-run 7th inning rally by Chuck & Louie's Market to tie the score was wasted when Louie's Tavern punched across the clincher in the last of the 7th to win, 8-7. It was the 1st of two close men's city league softball games played Thursday night at Northside Park.

Louie's Tavern club held a 7-2 C&L nine then combined three hits with four enemy miscues to score five times and knot the count. Winners' Bill Schroder singled and crossed the plate for the payoff on a three-base error by catcher Louis Styles.

In the nightcap Northside Service edged Pontiac & Opdyke, 7-6, coming from behind in the process. P & O tallied four times in the 2nd inning to lead, 5-3, only to see Northside score twice to tie in the same stanza, then take the lead for good with a pair of runs in the 3rd. Art Weiss and Gil Luebke shared the pitching duties for Northside, permitting three hits. Bob DeBell went the route for P & O's squad.

Two girls' league games were dueled at Beaudette, featuring lots of hitting and very little sound pitching.

Best mound job was a five-hitter by Bernice Dennis of Giles Realty as her teammates pounded out a 15-1 victory over GMC.

Shaw's Jewelers wound up the evening with an 11-5 decision over Gingellville. Shaw's utilized nine hits and six errors for its total.

Bitter Soccer Rivals Meet in Detroit Tilt

Sunderland and Huddersfield Town, bitter rivals in the famed English Soccer League, meet in their "dream game" at McCabe Field (Boston blvd. and Broadstreet) in Detroit next Sunday at 2:45 p.m.

The game, bringing two teams of equal caliber to Detroit for the 1st time in soccer history, will be the final public appearance of the two high-ranking squads before they return to England.

Negro Leader Succumbs

CLEVELAND (AP)— Gordon H. Simpson, a Negro leader here and a halfback for the Ottawa Rough Riders football team in 1913, died yesterday at 63.

So That's What Makes Those Home Runs!

CINCINNATI (AP) — It's not the rabbit in the ball that produces all those home runs in the spring. It's the air.

A. W. Walstrom, Cincinnati weatherman, took his eyes off the weather chart and baseball boxes to explain:

"Assuming the weight of the baseball to be the same in July or August as it is in April or May, and in view of the fact that the air is considerably less dense during hot summer months, the law of gravity will bring a baseball to earth more quickly in the summer."

So it has more bounce in the spring.

Dave Grote of the National League's service bureau said the hitting averages of players on clubs in the Arizona-Texas area, where the air is light the year round, substantiate this meteorological theory.

Young Fishermen Aided by Friend

ATHENS, Tex. (AP) — The small fry who like to wet a fishing line now and then have a friend in E. B. LaRue.

LaRue has a small pond on his property. Youngsters found there were crayfish, which look like a small lobster, in the pond.

When youngsters began fishing for them LaRue stocked the pond with 1,500 more crayfish. He says he'll keep the pond stocked.

A daily sight is several tots fishing, some so small they have to bring their parents along to bait the hook for them.

Lions Sign End, Guard

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Lions have signed guard Jim Ricca and defensive end Walt Yowarsky, both former players for the Washington Redskins. Both came to the Lions last January in a trade which sent linebacker Laverne Torgeson and defensive halfback Jim Hill to the Redskins. Ricca played four seasons with Washington and Yowarsky two.

Abilene Picked in NAIA Meet

Sprinter Morrow Is Wildcat Standout in 4th Annual Test

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Host Abilene Christian College was the favorite today as athletes of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics, a far-flung organization of mostly smaller schools, rolled into Abilene for the fourth annual meet.

The Wildcats, spearheaded by one of the country's finest sprinters, Bobby Morrow, were narrow choices over old sparring partner, North Texas State, in the major event of the meet—the track and field championship.

It loomed as a two-way fight with the withdrawal of Occidental of California because of examinations. Occidental would have been expected to give all a run for their money.

Minor Leaguer Hits Long One for Force Out

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Jim Cleverly of the Indianapolis Indians hit into one of the longest force plays in baseball history during a game here with the Saints.

Pitcher Jose Santiago was on first base. In running to first, however, Santiago tripped over the bag and pulled a groin muscle. After being helped to his feet the runner said he was OK.

Then Cleverly came to bat and clouted a ball to deep left center field over 400 feet from home plate. As Santiago ran from first he collapsed and the relay from the outfield to second base forced the runner.

Instead of a double or triple, Cleverly was charged with a force out.

Close Race Expected

District American Legion Baseball Loop Set to Open Its Schedule Wednesday

What could be one of the best American Legion baseball league races in this area in several years is scheduled to begin next Wednesday when the 6-team 18th District loop starts play.

Chairman Al Voss of Birmingham's Charles Edwards post has released a schedule for the season which will find the teams involved in a double home-and-home setup.

At the conclusion of the 1st round, the league leader will represent the 18th District in zone tournament play, July 15-17. Second half of the season will continue to crown a district champion.

Last season, Berkley led at the half-way point and competed in the zone tourney, but Birmingham was the district champion. Both posts will be represented again along with Waterford, Clawson, Rochester and Huron Valley Boys Club.

Although in the Milford area, the Huron Valley team is backed financially by the Birmingham post. Rochester returns to competition after several seasons absence, but Royal Oak failed to enter, and for the 7th straight year, Pontiac is not represented.

The opening day's schedule sends Birmingham to Waterford, Clawson to Rochester, and Berkley to Boys Club.

* * *

A wide-open race for title honors is expected but Birmingham, Berkley and Clawson should be particularly strong. Each will draw players from high school teams that were league champions.

Birmingham won the Eastern Michigan League title, Berkley was the Inter-Lakes champion, and Clawson had an undefeated season and won the Oakland B Conference crown.

Waterford, with a young team, was runnerup to Berkley in the Inter-Lakes, and Rochester, an independent, had a fine 8-3 record.

Birmingham loses its mound ace of a year ago, Dick Sheldon, but nevertheless retains a strong staff of Don Cornila, Larry Milford and Larry Hower. Also making the age limit is Legion veteran Bill Watkinson, playing his 5th season of junior baseball. Herb Kelly again will manage the Birmingham club.

Clawson's entry will be managed by high school coach Bob Acton, who probably will have the services of much of his fine prep team, including pitcher Tom Raines.

Jerry Blakely, the busy director of baseball activity at the Huron Valley Boys Club, will handle the Boys Clubbers, while Wilson Severance and Al Chesney sparked Rochester's return to the Legion circuit.

Donald Beedle is baseball chairman of the Waterford post and the team will be managed by Dwight Thompson. Most of the Skipper varsity team is eligible for Legion play, including pitchers Jerry Kruskie and Chuck Gillis.

Ambitious Flaherty Maps Plans for 'Bobo' Olson That Include Moore, Cockell and Then Marciano

NEW YORK (AP)—Sid Flaherty, a very practical man with big ideas, has an ambitious schedule for Bobo Olson, his chief breadwinner.

"If Bobo can handle a big man like Archie Moore, we'll go to England and fight Don Cockell," Flaherty said. "Then we'll be ready for Rocky Marciano next spring or summer."

How about the middleweight title that Olson already owns?"

"Oh, he'll defend that, too," said Flaherty, ignoring the commission rules that call for a man to be stripped of one title after winnig a second.

Flaherty and Olson were in town to meet the press before going to Asbury Park, N.J. for the Eastern phase of his training for the June 22 light heavyweight title match with Moore.

"Olson has been a 169-pounder for years," said Flaherty. "Before he ever won the title he was fighting big fellows like Lloyd Marshall and Tommy Harrison. That's his normal weight, about 169. Nobody says anything when Sandy Saddler or Jimmy Carter go way over their class limit between title fights. I don't know why anybody should get the idea that Bobo can't make 160 anymore.

* * *

"If he beats Moore, he'll still be ready to fight anybody in the world at 160 pounds."

Reminded that the commissions frown on any double-title holding, Flaherty replied, "We'll et the public be the judge of that. They'll know who the real middleweight champion is."

Flaherty has a European tour planned for Olson and his stablemates "if he gets over Moore, or even if he loses and looks good."

Did Flaherty really think Olson would be ready to fight Marciano this year or next?

* * *

"With the tax situation what it is, it wouldn't be smart to fight Marciano this year but we would be ready for him next spring."

* * *

Olson was asked to compare Moore, Marciano and Cockell.

"Moore is the smartest," he began. "Marciano is the strongest and the heaviest puncher." He stopped.

How about Cockell?

"Very sad," said Olson who was a ringside spectator at the British champion's bout with Marciano in San Francisco.

Rookie Bob Speake of the Cubs played for a service team in Japan. His team won 99 games, lost eight and tied one.

Gromek's Loss Dims Bengals' Victory

DETROIT (AP) — Back to winning ways, these should be bright days for the Detroit Tigers.

But they're not.

Even though they completed a two-game sweep over the Washington Senators yesterday, winning 4-3, Tigers again lost the services of their veteran righthander, Steve Gromek.

The 34-year-old hurler, bothered by a sacroiliac condition, reinjured his back and it's estimated he will be out of action for 10 days.

Gromek was making his first start since May 24. He pitched until the eighth inning — long enough to register his 6th victory against two losses.

He aggravated his back in the 2nd inning and again in the 8th, and was forced to leave the mound. Al Aber took over and, although the Senators scored twice on shortstop Fred Hatfield's error, he stopped them to protect Gromek's victory.

Manager Bucky Harris is deeply concerned over the status of the Tigers' pitching.

"We have only four regular starters now," Harris pointed out. "that makes it rough. We have a doubleheader this Sunday, then the Yankees come to town for four days."

Asked if he thought whether one of the bull pen pitchers would be given a chance in Gromek's absence, Harris replied:

"I'll have to think that one over for a while."

As it stands now, the Tiger starters are Ned Garver, Billy Hoeft, Frank Lary and Duke Maas. Of these four, only Hoeft has been winning lately.

Harris has six pitchers in the bullpen — Aber, George Zuverink, Paul Foytack, Leo Cristante, Bob Miller and Babe Birrer. The latter, a 25-year-old righthander, was recalled Wednesday from Buffalo.

Perhaps the best bet to get a start in the four game series with Baltimore, which opens tonight with a night game, is the strong-armed Zuverink. It is recalled that the big Dutchman from Holland, Mich., thrived at just about this time last year when he was liberated from the bullpen.

While he was in there yesterday, Gromek pitched effectively and showed no outward signs of having any difficulty with his back. He gave up seven hits and walked two. He even contributed a double to a three-run rally in the 6th. As it turned out, his hit knocked in the winning run.

Washington had taken a 1-0 lead on Pete Runnels solo homer in the 4th, but Detroit quickly tied it in their half of the inning on a trio of singles by Kaline, Ray Boone and Bubba Phillips.

Chuck Stobbs was the losing pitcher. He worked the 1st six innings, giving up all four runs and 11 hits. His teammates almost balled him out in the 8th by scoring twice on singles by Busby and Runnels, plus Hatfield's error on Juan Delis' easy grounder.

At the top of the backswing, the weight should be mainly on the straight—but not locked—right leg. The left knee, as pictured, has moved in toward the right knee. But both knees must remain on the same horizontal line (as pictured) to prevent a left-side sag. That's very important. Any left side sag moves all too easily over into a right side sag. What happens? You hit the ground back of the ball before you hit the ball. Is that good? When the left knee moves in toward the right in the backswing, the left heel should rise to keep both knees on the same horizontal line. This helps keep left side sag out. Our pictured player has swung too far over in the backswing. The average golfer would be late with the clubhead at impact, unless he started his downswing very, very slowly. Of course, all good players are slow at the top.

Leafs Regain IL Top Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Toronto Maple Leafs were back in first place in the International League today thanks to a trio of four-hit ball games.

One of the four-hitters was tossed by their own Connie Johnson as the Leafs blanked the Cuban Sugar Kings in Havana 4-0 last night. And the other two were thrown at the Montreal Royals by a pair of Richmond righthanders, Mike Kume and Jake Thies, in 3-0 and 4-0 victories.

Rochester dropped a 2-1 decision to the Richmond Virginians and remained in a virtual tie with the Sugar Kings for third place. In the battle for seventh place, Buffalo edged Syracuse 7-6.

He has been pro at Marine Drive for the last 13 years.

Leonard said he will "pick his spots" on the tournament schedule for the next two years.

Toronto Paper Says Wings to Trade Sawchuk

Reports Hall, Flashy Edmonton Goalie Is Figured in Deal

TORONTO (AP) — Goalie Terry Sawchuk, pride of the Detroit Red Wings hockey team since 1951, will soon be traded to the Boston Bruins, the Toronto Star said yesterday.

The paper said Sawchuk's trade probably will be announced this weekend. It also said Glenn Hall, flashy, young goalie for the Edmonton Flyers in the Western League, would replace the National Hockey League's Vezina trophy winner in Detroit nets.

The Star further said rumors of a trade involving the three-time Vezina trophy winner were being whispered at the league's meeting Wednesday at Montreal. However, none of the five teams in the league could definitely state whether a deal with Detroit had been cemented.

• • •

Sawchuk carried home the trophy emblamatic of goaltender superiority in the league in 1952, 1953 and this year.

He has been the Wing's regular goal tender since coming into the league from Indianapolis in 1951.

Red Wing officials in Detroit had no comment on the reported trade.

Michigan Favorite for Central Track

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Big Ten champion Michigan was favored today to capture the 30th annual Central Collegiate Conference track and field meet Saturday at Marquette University.

The powerful Wolverine squad, including five of seven Big Ten individual titleholders, entered the meet yesterday, throwing the race for the team title wide open. Michigan State is defending champion. Other strong contenders for the team title will be Wisconsin, which has entered a 16-man team, and Missouri, with an 11-man entry.

The 'Why' of Kaline

DETROIT (AP) — This is why American League pitchers worry about 20-year-old outfielder Al Kaline of the Tigers:

He leads the team in batting (.382), runs (34), hits (66), triples (5), home runs (8) runs batted in (36) and stolen bases (5).

He's only second in doubles, though, with seven.

SPEAKER GORDIE HOWE, (above)—Star forward of the Detroit Red Wing Hockey team, will be a speaker at the Pontiac Civitan Club, meeting at Pontiac Hotel Wednesday, June 8, at noon. The program will include film highlights of the 1955 Stanley Cup playoff games, plus interesting sidelights of hockey described by Gordie. A round-table discussion will be held. Dr. S. J. Chafets is chairman of arrangements for the special program.

National Judo Champ to Compete in Tokyo

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Red-Headed Gene le Bell, the two-time national AAU judo champion from Los Angeles, has been invited to compete in the national judo tournament of Japan at Tokyo next

The 190-pound ex-GI, who handed the judo patrons a surprise for the second straight year when he walked off with the AAU grand tournament and heavyweight titles last Sunday, said he is "seriously considering the invitation, which is quite an honor for an American to receive."

Souchak Clips 'Wolves' in Round Robin

GREAT NECK, N.Y. (AP)—Muscle boy Mike Souchak emerged as a strong threat for the Deepdale Round Robin of championship today because he refused to be "chewed up."

Mike, 27, the nation's leading money winner and one of the brightest of the new pros, was fed to the wolves yesterday in the opening round of this mathematical jigsaw puzzle, but it was the wolves who came out yelping, tails between their legs.

"They're giving Mike the works," commented one observer when the first day pairings were announced. "They'll cut the big guy to pieces and eat him without salt."

* * *

Souchak was matched in the opening foursome with defending champion Sam Snead, Masters champion Cary Middlecoff and PGA champion Chick Harbert.

But when the sun set over Deepdale's 18th green, there was the 208-pound Souchak even with Snead at 68, the best score of the day. He had five plus points, three points out of first place, Harbert was minus three and Middlecoff, who is a weekend partner of President Eisenhower, was next to last in the field of 16 with minus seven.

In this unique arithmetic derby each player's score is compared with that of each of the others in his foursome and his point total is computed off this. Mike picked up three points from Middlecoff, who shot a 71 with a double-bogey 6 on the final hole, and two from Harbert, who had a scrambling 70. Snead got his five the same way.

* * *

An unexciting par 70 was good enough to give Furgol eight-plus points at the expense of Shelley Mayfield and Johnny Palmer, with 73's, and Bob Rosburg, 72.

* * *

Australian Peter Thomson and Houston's Tommy Bolt were in second place with plus-seven after firing identical 69's against Doug Ford, 72, and Ted Kroll, 73. In the other foursome, Julius Boros, former U.S. Open champion, picked up six plus points, shooting a 70 against a trio of 72's turned in by Jackie Burke, Gene Littler and Bo Wininger.

* * *

The first day standings went like this: Furgol, plus 8, Bolt and Thomson, plus 7, Boros, plus 6, Snead and Souchak, plus 5, Rosburg, even: Burke, Littler and Wininger, minus 2, Harbert, minus 3, Mayfield and Palmer, minus 4, Ford, minus 5, Middlecoff, minus 7, Kroll, minus 9.

BENGALS' SENSATION — Al Kaline, 20-year-old Detroit Tigers outfielder, says he isn't superstitious—these shoes have toes cut out because he's breaking in new ones. Al grew a half-inch and gained 20 pounds since last season and is a greatly improved hitter.

Aragon Decked, Rallies to Earn Ring Decision

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Art Aragon, 146½, knocked down for an eight-count in the third round and beaten most of the first six, came back strong to win a unanimous 10-round decision over Don Jordan, 143¼, before a turnaway crowd of 10,000 at the Olympic Auditorium last night.

The 20-year-old Jordan, state lightweight champion, held the upper hand at the outset and it looked like curtains for the Golden Boy when a straight left and a rocking right decked him in the third round.

Aragon was badly hurt but managed to get up and back into the ropes. The over-anxious youngster missed his opportunity and Aragon was carrying the fight back before the bell sounded.

Aragon, 28, and with more than three times as many fights as Jordan 25, reversed the whole picture by coming back strong in the fight. He put Jordan on the run and went on to win the final four rounds.

Forest Lake Champ Leads at Reading

READING, Pa. (AP) — Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, took a two-stroke lead today into the 2nd day of the $5,000 Women's Eastern Open Gulf tournament.

The South American golfer, who won the Wolverine Open at Pontiac, Mich. just last Sunday, shot a 35-34 for a 1st round of 69 as play opened yesterday at the Berkshire Country Club. Marilynn Smith of Wichita, Kan., show a 35-36 — 71 for 2nd place.

Vonnie Colby, Hollywood, Fla., was one stroke behind Miss Smith. Tied for 4th place were Glora Armstrong, Oakland Calif., and Marlene Bauer, Sarasota, Fla., each with 73.

Tiger Notes

DETROIT (AP) — Ned Garver, who changed his locker in the Tigers' dressing room, hopes to change his luck tonight.

Owning a disappointing 3-7 record, he will pitch against Baltimore's Duane Pillette (0-0) in the opener of a four-game series.

Garver, whose locker used to be almost directly in front of manager Bucky Harris' cubicle, has been moved across the room.

"I sure hope it changes my luck," he said.

"Why, now you'll win five in a row now that you're next to me," kidded the lanky Jack Phillips.

Phillips, by the way, has done an excellent fill-in job at 1st base in the past two games, and also gets an award for modesty. "I'm just a flash-in-the-pan," he said yesterday, "three hits the 1st day and only one the 2nd." But his one hit was a big two-run homer.

In a moment of seriousness, Phillips said, "I'm glad I can play so Fain can rest his knee. He needs it." Phillips, himself, had missed most of the early part of the season with a leg injury.

Al Kaline's three hits — two singles and a triple — lifted him into the American League batting lead, jumping past teammate Harvey Kuenn. Kaline is hitting .382, Kuenn .379.

"I'll be back soon," said Kuenn sidelined with a pulled leg muscle. "probably just in time to take four swings at Turley of the Yankees."

Tears Fall as Mr. Stagg Rejoins Gridders of '05

CHICAGO (AP) — Amos Alonzo Stagg was the center of a tear-jerking, hand-clasping, reminiscing reunion last night with players he coached more than 50 years ago at the University of Chicago.

The annual winners of the "C" banquet celebrated the 50th anniversary of Stagg's 1905 Big Ten championship teams in football, outdoor track, tennis and cross-country.

* * *

The white-haired little coach, nearly 93, greeted nine members of his famed 1905 gridiron squad that wound up a perfect season by beating Fielding Yost's point-a-minute Michigan giants, 2-0.

The chipper oldtimers, all pushing 70 or more, included Captain Mark Catlin, who tackled a Michigan player for the winning two points; Leo Detray, Merrill Meigs, Art Badenoch, William Boone, Edwin Parry, Jessie Harper, Lester Larson and Fred Walker.

Chicago dropped football in 1939 and quit the Big Ten entirely in 1946.

Stagg wept after keynoting his banquet speech with: "I'll think of you always as the boys who won your letters and who I had the honor of coaching. . . God bless each of you. . . I love you very much."

The return of Stagg to the scene of his great coaching successes from 1892 until 1933 could have been filled with more elation.

Taking some of the edge off the celebration was word by the school's chancellor, Lawrence A. Kimpton, that there is no likelihood of a return of "big time" football at the university.

The reunion's climax for Stagg undoubtedly came when Stella, his wife of 60 years and constant companion, was made an honorary member of the "C". It was unprecedented.

Long-Time Trapper Talks Retirement

IRONWOOD (AP) — John Kangas is 86 and has been trapping beavers since 1903 in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Whether he'll do any beaver trapping next year is problematical. John says: "I'm getting tired."

A catch of only six beavers last season may have had an influence, too.

John still is hunting deer, also. He began that in 1899 "when the fee was a dollar and you could shoot five deer."

John got a buck last season—the limit now. And last October he shot a 400-pound bear in his orchard.

Dottie's Pick Breaks Her Own Track Record

DETROIT (AP) — Dottie's Pick broke her own track record last night at Hazel Park harness Raceway.

The filly won the $5,000 Sep. Palin pace in 2:00 2-5, cutting a 5th of a second off the old record she set May 21.

Ten winning horses in the United States paid off at better than 100 to 1 odds during 1954.

Young McNeece Promises Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—Paddy Young and Billy McNeece, two rough and ready characters who would look good in a battle royal, meet tonight at Madison Square Garden and you can't hardly find them kind no more.

After the clever boxing ability of Carmelo Costa and Lulu Perez last week, this 10-round match figures to satisfy the taste of those who prefer blood and thunder.

Win on Movie Name

Evelyn Bertram and Alice Criest, employed at the Farmers Market in Pontiac, were $109 richer Wednesday after a longshot named Dorothy Lamour won the 6th trotting race at Hazel Park Wednesday night. The two girls bought a $2 ticket. They will divide their bounty—$54.50 each.

Eight former Yankees are members of the Baltimore Orioles.

Antonelli Back on Beam, Against Redleg 'Cousins'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baseball didn't necessarily borrow an adage from the turf but it is true there are pitchers for teams just as there are horses for courses in racing.

Take the likes of Sal Maglie, who apparently needs only throw his glove down on the pitching mound to beat the Brooklyn Dodgers. And there's Don Newcombe, whose favorite cousins are the Cubs, Ellis Kinder and the White Sox, Russ Meyer and the Cubs and Bob Lemon and the Athletics to mention just a few others with soft-touch clubs.

Now Johnny Antonelli, the New York Giants' talented left-hander, has joined the group with the Cincinnati Redlegs his favorite sparring partner. Apparently all Johnny needs to set himself right is to pitch against the Redlegs.

* * *

Belted out in his last three starts, the Giants' ace southpaw got himself back on the beam Thursday as he went all the way to turn back Manager Birdie Tebbetts' crew 6-3.

It marked the eighth straight time Antonelli had beaten the Redlegs since joining the Giants last year. Before that, as a member of the Milwaukee Braves, he was on the wrong side of the ledger with a 3-5 record against Cincinnati.

But the Giants failed to gain on the Brooklyn Dodgers, for the National League leaders went on a 10-run scoring splurge in the eighth inning and defeated the Braves 13-2. The defending champions, however, did pick up a game on the Chicago Cubs who dropped an 8-4 night game to the resurgent Philadelphia Phillies.

* * *

The Pittsburgh Pirates cut loose with a 17-hit barage to down the St. Louis Cardinals 12-3.

The New York Yankees held to their three game lead in the American League by thumping the Kansas City Athletics 12-6 in a night game.

* * *

Herb Score, Cleveland's rookie southpaw, fanned 10 in the first four innings and then cooled off as the Indians turned back the Baltimore Orioles 9-3. Young Al Kaline regained the American League batting lead with two singles and a triple in Detroit's 4-3 victory over the Washington Senators. And the Chicago White Sox edged the Boston Red Sox 4-2 for Virgil Trucks' fifth pitching triumph.

* * *

Antonelli received home run help from Don Mueller and Willie Mays in retaining his mastery of the Redlegs. Ted Kluszewski hammered his 15th homer off Antonelli with nobody on in the sixth but Mays matched it with his 14th off Bud Podbielan in the seventh. Mueller hit his homer in the first.

* * *

The Dodgers bombarded three Milwaukee pitchers with nine hits in their 10-run inning. The trio—Dave Jolly, Roberto Vargas and bonus pitcher John Edelman—also helped the league leaders with three walks. Earlier Duke Snider, who hit three homers against the Braves Wednesday night, connected with his 16th off Bob Buhl. Billy Loes gave up six hits including homers to pinch hitter Eddie Mathews and Johnny Logan.

Andy Seminick's first inning grand slam homer was the big blow in the Phillies triumph over the Cubs.

* * *

Aided by 13 bases on balls and home runs by Gil McDougald, Elston Howard and Hank Bauer, the Yankees easily posted their 19th success in their last 22 games. Bob Grim limited the Athletics to two runs and five hits through the first seven innings but in the eighth was tagged for four runs and five hits, including a three-run homer by Jim Finigan.

* * *

Chalking up his sixth victory against three losses, Score held the Orioles to a third inning single by Billy Cox and a sixth inning double by Hal Smith until the eighth. Then the young rookie weakened but the Indians had a good padding by that time on six unearned runs off Saul Rogovin in the second, four of them coming around on Dave Pope's homer.

Pontiac Speedway Starts Night Racing This Sunday

First of the Pontiac Speedway's night racing series is scheduled Sunday with the 1st race at 7 p.m., following the trials at 5:30.

A 25-lap feature headlines the 9-race program, which also includes a 15-lap semifinal.

Mickey Kaflin, Jack Conely and Bill Kourt, who each have one feature at the M59 track, will be seeking their 2nd, with the challengers including Gene Lock, Ron Duman and Joy Fair, who returns after a one-show absence to attend the 500-Mile classic in Indianapolis.

Slated to make their 1st start as NASCAR drivers are Bill Shultz and Chuck Shaughnessy, both veterans of the Pontiac Speedway.

The track will be host to 50 children from the Oakland County Children's Home and Ricky, the TV Clown, will be on hand to entertain.

Wednesday night racing will begin next week (June 8), with qualifying at 7 o'clock and the 1st race at 8:30 p.m.

Stydahar Gets Axe as Coach of Grid Cards

Assistant Ray Richards Given 'Jumbo Joe's' Job With Chicago 11

CHICAGO (AP)—Joe Stydahar has been dismissed as head football coach of the Chicago Cardinals with his first assistant, Ray Richards, succeeding him.

The release yesterday of "Jumbo Joe", former All-National Football League tackle with the Chicago Bears and coach of the Los Angeles Rams, by Managing Director Walter Wolfner came as no surprise.

* * *

There had been rumors Stydahar was on the way out after he completed two years on his three-year contract last season with a combined record of only three victories and one tie in 24 gaames.

Wolfner said Stydahar and the club had reached a settlement on his contract which reportedly called for $16,000 a year.

Richards, 48, was Stydahar's line coach, when he guided the Rams to the NFL title in 1951 and joined the Cards last year after failing to get his release as an assistant with the Baltimore Colts in 1953.

He played professionally for the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions after starring at tackle for Nebraska in the 1920's.

Richards was line coach from 1938 through 1948 at UCLA and head coach at Pepperdine College in 1949 and 1950.

The naming of Richards puts the Cardinal coaching reins in new hands for the fifth time since Jim Conzelman left after the 1948 season.

McGinnis Recovering in Veterans' Hospital

Following a recent serious hip operation, Joe McGinnis, former star Pontiac Golden Glover and ex-serviceman, is recovering in Detroit Veterans' Hospital. Joe was a free-swinging flyweight and the darling of the fans in Pontiac Press tourneys of a decade ago. He underwent surgery some three weeks ago. Friends may visit him at the hospital, where he is resident in C-wing, room 701.

Polo Double Bill Set for Ivory Field

Pontiac Chiefs' polo team, trying to break a slump, meets the improving Rochester Polo Club tonight as part of a doubleheader in the Michigan polo tournament at Ivory Field.

Pontiac-Rochester contest starts at 8 p.m. Franklin Hills will tangle with Toledo at 9 p.m.

Bucks Option Hogue

PITTSBURHG (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates today optioned Calvin Hogue, 27-year old right-handed pitcher, to Williamsport of the Class A Eastern League. Hogue was recently returned to the Pirates from Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League where he had a 1-0 record.

EAST LANSING—Michigan State pitcher Ed Hobaugh averaged 14 strikeouts per game while a prep star at Ford City, Pa.

NET RESULTS — Doris Hart, above, and Louise Brough are in England for the tennis season which culminates with the Wimbledon Championships, June 20-July 2. Miss Hart is the United States women's champ.

Pontiac Boys Honored

Two Pontiac High School graduates will be among the letter winners honored at the annual athletic banquet at Ferris Institute June 7. Larry Cates won a baseball award and Robert Ortez won a letter for competing on the 1st track team in Ferris' history. Detroit sportswriter Marshall Dann will be guest speaker.

Chiefs Victors in Final Game, 2nd in Valley

Johnston Goes All the Way for an 8-4 Win; Season's Card 13-3

Pontiac High School's baseball Chiefs closed out another fine season yesterday on the home lot at Wisner Field. Coach Ed Heikkinen's club disposed of its final foe, Flint Central, by a lusty 8-4 count on a combination of good and timely hitting and effective mound work.

Chiefs clinched the game in the big 2nd inning when six tallies were chased in. They added single runs in the 4th and 5th also, to round out the solid victory that left the team in 2nd place in Saginaw Valley standings (with a chance to tie for the top spot).

Victory was Pontiac's 8th in SVC and 13th, against 2 losses in SVC and 3 overall.

Jerry Vallad, Bob Smith, Walt Poe, Dick Slade, Don Daniels and Bob Murphy accounted for the winning runs. Pontiac sent Al Hayward home in the 4th and Bob Johnston in the 5th.

Central never threatened.

Santee Resumes Quest Today for Elusive Four-Minute Mile

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—Wes Santee resumes his courtship with the elusive 4-minute mile tonight and the Kansas Cowboy, among others, hopes the romance, one of the most widely publicized since Di Maggio and Marilyn hit the front pages, will finally be culminated.

The setting will be Compton's annual invitational track and field meet, where a year ago Santee almost caught up with his frustrating 4-minute mile thing.

He hit 4:00.6 that balmy June night for a new American record a feat he subsequently improved to 4:00.5 this past April in the Texas Relays at Austin.

* * *

Four minutes has been trapped and beaten now seven times since the spring of 1954, twice by the world record holder, John Landy of Australia (3:58.0), twice by Dr. Roger Bannister, of England, who did it first, and just last Saturday in the same race by three men.

They were an unheralded Hungarian named Laszlo Tabori (3:59) and two Englishmen, Chris Chataway and Brian Hewson (3:59.8).

Main opposition to Santee tonight should be Fred Dwyer, the little ex-Villanova runner whose racing-wrestling act with Wes enlivened the Wanamaker indoor mile in New York this winter.

* * *

Dwyer has openly predicted he will beat Santee and many experts will not be surprised if he does.

Santee, whose expense money fees were questioned earlier this week—he denied they were excessive—is to go into the Marine Corps in June. This may be his last favorable opportunity to reach his goal this year. He has another booking at Boulder, Colo., but he said he doesn't fancy the high altitude.

Aside from the mile, the meet talent is on the lean side.

The high jumping duel between collegian Ernie Shelton of Southern California and high schooler Charles Dumas of Compton, who tied at 6-10 at Fresno last month, should be excellent.

Shotputter Parry O'Brien and javelin thrower Bud Held, both world record holders, are also due to compete.

Spotlight on 2-Mile After Fantastic Race at London

LONDON (AP)—Now that the Four-Minute Mile Club is getting a bit crowded, the time has come today to talk of two miles and Sandor Iharos of Hungary.

Iharos is a 25-year-old clerk who runs everything from the 400 meters to the 5,000 meters (more than three miles), and excels in all events.

If the hard-training young man hadn't been knocked out in a bout of air sickness coming here Friday, Iharos would more than likely have upped the total of sub-four-minute milers in Saturday's fantastic race at the White City Stadium to a rousing quartet.

What's more, Iharos in condition could have won that foot spectacle and perhaps brought the world record for the mile down to 3:57 or thereabouts. As it was, his second-string shadow, Laszlo Tabori, won in 3:59 while Chris Chataway and Brian Hewson of Britain finished second and third in 3:59.8 each.

Tabori never was within 10 yards of Iharos in competition back in Budapest.

Further, Iharos was in great condition. A week before he had sped the 1,500 meters in 3:42.6 (equivalent to a mile in a few tenths of a second over 4 minutes). With the fierce competition on the White City track Saturday, Iharos might have forced the race to even faster times.

Former Pro Gridder Resumes Coaching

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Dick Humbert, once a professional football star with the Philadelphia Eagles, has returned to college coaching. Humbert has been named end coach at the University of Richmond.

Humbert, a native of Reading, Pa., starred in football, basketball and baseball at Richmond 15 years ago. A former end coach at the University of Arkansas, Humbert since 1952 has been employed in a shell-manufacturing plant in Bridgeton, N. J., and has been teaching and coaching in Bridgeton High School.

Trout Strays Long Way From Homesite

LANSING (AP) — A rainbow trout, tagged and released on the Manistee river last spring, was recently captured near Homestead dam, about 100 miles from point of release, the state conservation department reported today.

The fish had to swim down the Manistee into Lake Michigan, along the lake shore to the Betsie river and upstream to the point of recapture. When tagged, the fish weighed 42 ounces and was 19 inches long. When recaptured, it weighed 60 ounces and measured 22 inches.

68 Bowlers Pick Up 7-10 Split in Tourney

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The 52nd American Bowling Congress Tournament may not set any scoring records but it appeared making a new mark for successful 7-10 conversions.

The tournament started its 67th day today and there have been 68 7-10 splits converted, the latest yesterday.

Spain Reports Increase in Basic Industry in '54

MADRID (UP) — Spain achieved a substantial increase in her industrial base during 1954, Minister of Industry Joaquin Planell said in a report to the Spanish press.

The report included figures and percentage increases in the national production of coal, iron and steel, electricity, chemical industry and transport.

Planell reported that for the first time since 1929 Spain's annual production of pig iron and steel had surpassed 1,000,000 tons.

He said the industry during 1954 produced 872,000 tons of pig iron, an increase of 9 per cent over 1953, and 1,103,000 metric tons of steel, representing a 23 per cent increase over 1953.

Planell also reported increases in the production of coal, electrical energy and other basic industries.

Young Farmers to Meet

MINNEAPOLIS (UP — The nation's top young farmers will gather here June 1-3 for the first annual outstanding young farmers award program. The program is co-sponsored nationally by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the American Petroleum Institute. Four winners will be announced at an awards banquet June 2.

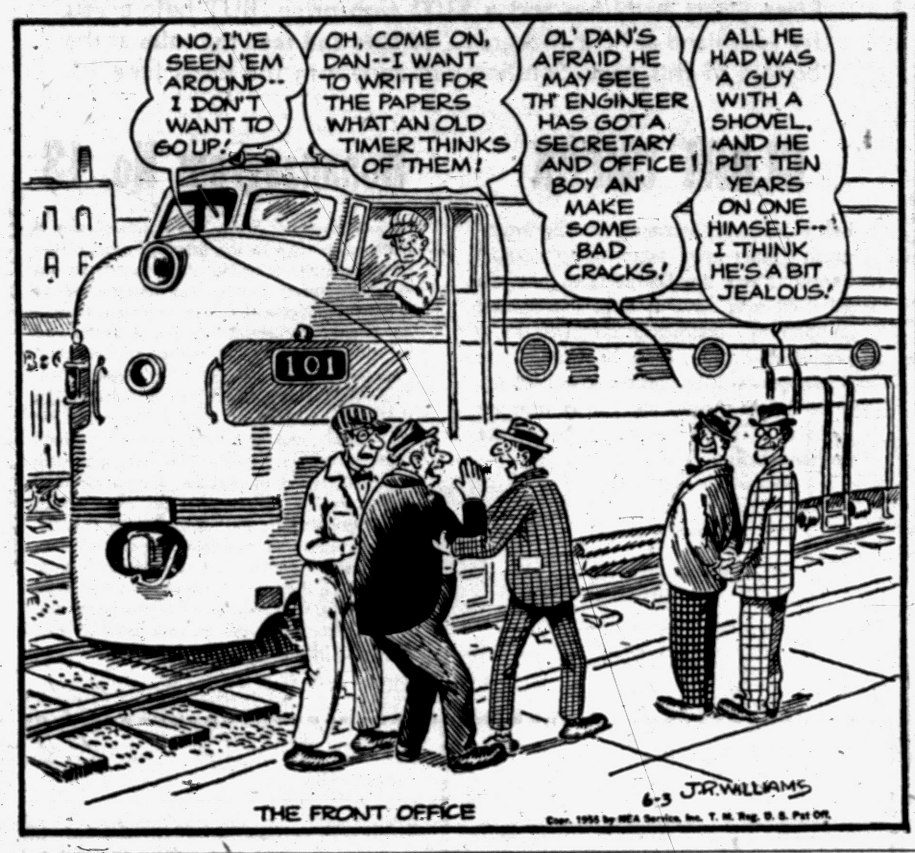

Some Hong Kong People Still Live by Bootlegging

HONG KONG (UP)—There are still some people in Hong Kong living by bootlegging.

H. A. Angus, acting director of commerce and industry, in a report on Hong Kong's preventive service, said, however, that illicit distillers in Hong Kong have undoubtedly suffered heavy losses owing to a stepped-up police vigilance against bootleggers.

Some of the figures Angus revealed in his report are: illicit stills discovered in 1954—459; fermented material destroyed during the same period—3,300 gallons.

Grains Ahead Slightly Today

CHICAGO (AP) — More plus than minus signs were posted by grain futures on the board of trade today but the grains did not extend very far.

It was a rather slow market, notable mainly for the general lack of selling pressure. Soybeans had a firm tone from the start. As trading progressed wheat, corn and rye also firmed. Oats lagged.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ¼ higher, July $1.98⅝; corn ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, July $1.42; oats unchanged to ½ lower, July .66 ½; ½ to ¾ higher, July $1.07¾; soybeans unchanged to ½ higher, July $2.42½, and lard 2 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $12.30.

Boy Scout Leaders Picked at Four Towns

FOUR TOWNS—Norval Parker has been selected Boy Scout troop committee chairman of the Troop 67, sponsored by the Four Towns Methodist Church.

Assisting him are committee members Don Gregary, Ralph Allen, Harry Garretson, Early Taylor and Jack Perry. Guy Poosch is the new scoutmaster, assisted by Vincent Myers.

Investigating Indecent Liberties Charge Here

Pontiac Police today are investigating a complaint that an elderly man enticed two 5-year-old girls into a garage and took indecent liberties with them.

A woman was quoted as saying she saw the man lead the two children into the building on Osmun street, according to police.

At least one out of 10 American school children is in need of special help in reading.

Newcomers to Rome this season are warned to watch their signals. In the upside down Roman system of hand waves, a pushing away gesture is a sign of welcome while a gesture in which the hand is pulled toward the head is a sign of farewell.

Mart Advances in Early Deals

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced today in early dealings. It was the second straight rise following three sessions of indecisive price movements.

Gains today ran to around 2 points in key areas while losses were fractional.

Most major divisions were higher, and the firmness extended to the tobaccos which have been under fire in recent sessions in the midst of new discussions about cancer and smoking.

Allegheny Corp. preferred, which is being called, gained 9 points at 325, a total gain of 47½ points this week.

There were a few good early blocks, Among them were Chrysler 1,000 up ⅝ at 76⅞, RCA 1,400 up ⅛ at 54⅝, Deere 2,400 up 1 at 34⅝, and U. S. Steel (new) 1,500 up ⅛ at 42⅞.

Also higher were Goodyear, Boeing, National Distillers, American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, American Cycanamid, American Tobacco, American Can, Trane, Reynolds Tobacco "B," New York Central, and Paramount Pictures.

'Big 3' Produces Over 3 Million Cars, Trucks

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry's "big three" of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler built 3,817,824 cars and trucks in this year's first five months. In the same 1954 period they assembled 2,720,286 vehicles.

General Motors' share was a booming 1,980,678 vehicles compared with 1,458,201 last year; Ford 1,122,555 compared with 911,843 and Chrysler 714,591 compared with 350,242.

Of the General Motors portion its big Chevrolet division accounted for 808,270 cars and 158,235 trucks; Ford's over-all output included 745,842 Ford cars and 164,194 trucks, Chrysler's Plymouth division built 356,380 cars.

In the comparable 1954 period Chevrolet built 630,313 cars and 153,453 trucks, Ford division 623,508 cars and 138,815 trucks; Plymouth 172,693 cars.

May output by each of the "big three" was down somewhat from the preceding month's volume. GM's May total was 427,749 cars and trucks against 430,985 in April; Ford built 230,176 vehicles in May against 235,752 in April; Chrysler's May total was 133,008 units against 149,284 in April.

Men Boosting Retail Trade

Dollar Volume Is 4 to 8 Per Cent Over Same Week Last Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Good weather and widespread promotions helped lift retail trade this week well above the levels of a year ago, it was reported today by Dun & Bradstreet.

Menfolk contributed substantially to the total volume of buying — retailers reported a sharp rise in sales of new automobiles, major appliances and men's' summer suits. Demand for women's and children's wear declined slightly.

Housewives turned their attention to warm weather and picnic fare. Hams, at prices considerably below a year ago, were favored, and beef sold well.

Total dollar volume of retail trade for the week ended Wednesday ranged from 4 to 8 per cent higher than in the same week last year, Dun & Bradstreet said. All major geographic areas shared in the increase except the Pacific coastal region, where retail sales were unchanged to 4 per cent lower than a year ago. Percentage changes elsewhere were as follows: Northwest up 1 to 5; New England up 3 to 7; East up 4 to 8; Midwest up 5 to 9; South up 6 to 10, and Southwest up 7 to 11.

Shoppers bought less merchandise than in the previous week because stores in many parts of the country were closed on Memorial Day.

To Recommend Reopening Plant

Eaton Official Confers With Vassar Citizens and Unionists

VASSAR (AP) — Frank H. Mott, administrative vice president of the Eaton Manufacturing Co. of Cleveland, has promised to recommend reopening the company's foundry division in Vassar.

* * *

But Mott said yesterday the decision will be made by the company's board of directors.

The company has announced plans to close the foundry June 30. It blamed labor costs and what it called "an uncooperative attitude" by the AFL United Auto Workers for the decision.

Mott said the ability of the company to line up business for the foundry division would determine how quickly the plant returned to production if the board's action is favorable.

Mott made the statement at a meeting with union officials and a citizens' committee which is seeking to keep the plant open. It is Vassar's only industry.

Arnold Smith, president of the union local, said his men would consider a wage cut from the current hourly average. The company says the area average for the industry is $2.05.

The plant presently employs about 550 persons. The population of the town is 2,800.

Trucks Lashes Back at Attack by MUCC Writer

LANSING (AP)—Rep. Kenneth O. Trucks (R-Baldwin) lashed out at the editor of a Michigan conservation newspaper yesterday for a "vicious attack" on a fellow lawmaker.

Trucks took the floor to complain about an article in "Michigan Out-Of-Doors," a publication of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs.

The article, which appeared in the June issue, criticized Rep. Joseph O'Connor (D-Detroit) for opposing an extension of conservation commission discretionary control over the deer herd.

Victor Beresford, editor of the publication, quoted O'Connor as saying constituents whom he had met in saloons were against commission control over the herd.

City Underwriters Given National Quality Awards

"The personalized service of the well-qualified life underwriter is the American way to obtain family security," Dr. Dana Whitmer, Superintendent of Pontiac schools said Thursday at the annual National Quality Award breakfast of the Pontiac Life Underwriters Assn.

"In many countries, the government imposes compulsory, standardized securities for everybody, at the sacrifice of individual freedom," continued Dr. Whitmer before the assembled life underwriters at the Waldron Hotel.

"In this country, you make up your own mind and get the kind of security you want and need through the individualized service of a life underwriter. In that way, you are a name and not just a member; you are a person and not just a hole in a punch card."

Dr. Whitmer presented National Quality Awards to Clifford E. Malson, of Prudential Insurance Co.; Howard C. Fowler, Central Life; Curtis E. Patton, Great West Life; Dee H. Pritt, Lincoln National; and Roobert H. Wilkinson and Robert J. Zimmerman, both of Columbus Mutual.

He was introduced by Max Wilson, president of the Pontiac association who presided. Mr. Wilson also introduced Robert Wilkinson, chairman of the National Quality Award Committee

The National Quality Award is presented annually by the National Association of Life Underwriters, New York and the Life Insurance Agency Management of Hartford, Connecticut.

Based on factors measuring quality of service to the public, the national Quality Award is a coveted honor sought by underwriters in the United States and Canada.

'Bonanzagram'

Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will appear in the Press June 10.

CLAIM CHECK

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 13 is published Friday, June 10. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 13

Deputy Inspector Black had assigned one of his men to hide in the dressing room of the new stadium, following an anonymous tip to headquarters that it was being used as a base of supplies by dope peddlers. Skeptical about such casual tips, the Inspector and his aide arrived late on the scene, and even lingered to see the end of a close game. They then hastened to the rendezvous, but the man assigned to the job did not show up. Finally the Inspector decided to look into the matter himself. The dressing room was empty and in disorder. A torn piece of paper on the floor caught his eye. It had been trampled by the spikes of the players, so that many of the letters were missing, but it was certainly a hasty message from the missing detective. Inspector Black studied it carefully, was able to fill in the gaps, and realized his man was on to something big. Can you, too, decipher the message?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story or anecdote, accompanying the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation will help solve the message but is not necessary to win.

All missing letters must be correctly inserted to win a Bonanzagram prize. Punctuation will not be considered in judging a correct answer.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p. m. Tuesday, June 7. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, June 7 for Bonanzagram No. 13. Address "Bonanzagram, % Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." Postmark on this letter must be not later than 5 p. m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employes of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employe's household.)

2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.

3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly Bonanzagram. If more than one winning answer is received, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.

4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize, but there is no limit on number of entries.

5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.

6. Judges' decision will be final and contestant's submission of entries indicates acceptance of these rules.

7. No liability is accepted for entries that fail to reach us.

8. The Press reserves the right to alter rules and/or discontinue the contest at its discretion.

Clarkston Champ to Try for State Driving Honors

CLARKSTON — Teenage Road-E-O winner Bud Volberding will be seeking the title as the state's most skillful young driver Saturday.

The winner of the Waterford Township contest, he's scheduled to try his hand again at the obstacles and tests designed to determine the state champ.

The reward for the title is a $3,000 scholarship, and a crack at at the national title later in the summer.

The contests are sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of the Jaycee's youth activities.

Guernsey Among Top 10

ROMEO — A new record placing seventh in fat production among the 10 highest of the Guernsey breed in her class has just been completed by Langmeadow Connie, a senior three-year-old cow owned by Howard H. Colby, of Colby Dale Farms.

Connie produced 14,194 pounds of milk, and 787 pounds of fat in 365 days on two times daily milking. This record-breaking performance equals 6,602 quarts of high-quality milk, officials of the American Guernsey Cattle Club said.

Washington Sets Price Support Rates on Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thee Agricultural Department has announced a scheme of price support rates for 1955-crop wheat for the nation's terminal grain markets and for 2,694 commercial and 378 non-commercial wheat producing countries.

The rates are designed to reflect a national farm average of not less than $2.06 a bushel—or 82.5 per cent of parity—compared with $2.24 or 90 per cent of parity for the 1954 crop.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they must pay.

The rates range from $1.57 to $2.33 in designated commercial producing countries compared with $1.68 to $2.52 last year and with $1.16 to $1.70 in non-commercial countries. This is the first year that non-commercial countries have been designated.

SPECIAL ELECTION

To the Qualified Electors:

Notice is hereby given, that a Special Election will be held in the Township of White Lake in the County of Oakland and State of Michigan, at the White Lake Township Hall.

WITHIN SAID TOWNSHIP ON TUESDAY, JUNE 14, 1955

For the purpose of voting on the following proposition:

"Shall the White Lake Township Rural Zoning Ordinance as passed by the Township Board for the Township of White Lake, in the County of Oakland and State of Michigan, on the 12th day of March, A.D., 1955, be approved or rejected?"

Whereas, heretofore on April 11, 1955, pursuant to Section 12 of Act 184 of the Public Acts of 1943, as amended, a petition was filed by a certain number of qualified and registered voters residing in the Township of White Lake, of not less than 8% of the total vote cast for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected, praying therein for the submission of the Township Rural Zoning Ordinance as passed by the Township Board for the Township of White Lake to the electors residing in the Township for their approval or rejection.

NOTICE RELATIVE TO OPENING AND CLOSING OF THE POLLS

ELECTION LAW, REVISION OF 1943

(3093) Section 1. On the day of any election the polls shall be opened at 7 o'clock in the forenoon, and shall be continued open until 8 o'clock in the afternoon and no longer. Every qualified elector present and in line at the polls at the hour prescribed for the closing thereof shall be allowed to vote.

The polls of said election will be open at 7 o'clock a.m. and will remain open until 8 o'clock p.m. of said day of election.

BERT A. McKEACHIE, Township Clerk.

Seek Clues to Killer of Priest in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Police had few important clues today as they continued their investigation of the slaying of the Rev. John Chiramal, 40-year-old Roman Catholic priest from India.

Father Chiramal died in Mother Cabrini Hospital at 9 a.m. yesterday from stab wounds which extended across the left side of his chest and into his left arm.

Three hours earlier he had staggered into the Little Sisters of the Poor residence on the near West Side and collapsed.

Father Chiramal, founder and director of Boys Town in India, came to Chicago Tuesday to solicit funds from among prominent Indians in the city attending the Rotary International Convention. He had been in the United States about four years, traveling extensively to raise funds for the Boys Town in India.

Trucker Saves Farmer's Life in Wild Rescue

KIMBALL, Neb. (AP)—Ed Rickman, Jacinto, Neb., was driving his water-hauling truck along the highway when he saw a driverless tractor circling in a field.

Rickman looked again and saw a body lying in the path of the tractor. He turned his truck, drove through a fence and crashed into the tractor 50 feet from the still figure.

* * *

Today farmer Ray Perea, 57, Kimball, was recovering from head cuts. He had fallen from the tractor, then was raked by the harrow it was pulling before the machine circled and started back toward him. Rickman was not hurt.

Woman Disarms Man Attacking With Knife

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Dorothea James, 32, told police that when a man approached her brandishing a knife, "I knew what to do."

She grabbed his arm, twisted it and seized the knife. She told him if he wanted the knife back, he could pick it up at police headquarters. The man dashed off.

Miss James said she learned how to handle men through her work at a mental hospital here.

Melody Is Still Tops in Pops

'Craze' Not Expected to Fade in View of New Disney Series

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—The show is ended but the melody lingers on—The Ballad of Davy Crockett, that is.

Six months have elapsed since the tune was introduced in the Davy Crockett series on ABC-TV's Disneyland show, yet it remains high in popularity ratings.

Meanwhile, the Davy Crockett fad among the kids shows little signs of subsiding, with Crockett coonskin caps, pistol holsters and other merchandise grossing millions of dollars.

* * *

The full length motion picture put together by Walt Disney from the three Crockett TV films is doing what the trade paper Variety describes as smash business at a New York theater where it made its premiere a little over a week ago.

Fess Parker, towering actor who portrayed Davy in the TV films, has been catapulted from comparative obscurity to stardom.

But the song has done perhaps more than anything else to make the nation Davy Crockett conscious. For weeks now, it has been commonplace to hear someone—and often a grownup—humming the tune on the street, on buses, on trains. Three different Davy Crockett records have been on best seller lists for weeks and remain among disc jockey favorites. The tune has been on Your Hit Parade 13 weeks, including this coming Saturday, and in first place 10 weeks.

* * *

The music for the Ballad of Davy Crockett was composed for Disney by George Bruns and the words wirtten by Tom Blackburn, who also did the script for the TV series and the motion picture.

Oddly, a record made by Fess Parker has been running No. 2 behind one by Bill Hayes under another label. And a close contender has been a version sung by Tennessee Ernie Ford.

* * *

The Crockett craze, like most fads, ordinarily could be expected to fade in six months or so. However, Disney has a new series entitled The Legend of Davy Crockett in the works for his ABC show next season, possibly as many as four complete programs. Unlike the original three, which stuck reasonably close to historical fact, the new Crockett shows will have more latitude in portraying Davy in feats attributed to him by legend but not necessarily supported by historical data.

Philippines May Get $800 Million Claim

MANILA (AP)—A member of the Philippine technical reparations panel said last night there is a very good possibility the Philippines will receive 800 million dollars in reparations from Japan.

Prospero Uy-Barretta of the National Power Corp. said he was "90 per cent sure" the war indemnity issue would be settled in the forthcoming high-level negotiations in Manila.

Barretta arrived from Tokyo where he had taken part in preliminary talks.

to Get Out Vote in '56.

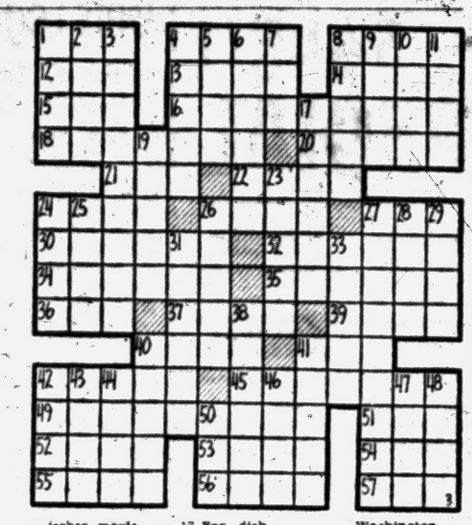

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Heritage Foundation says it again will sponsor a nationwide nonpartisan campaign to get out the vote for the 1956 presidential election.

Henry Ford II, retiring chairman of the Board of Trustees, said yesterday the foundation's similar campaign in 1952 "is generally credited with the record 62 million vote of that year."

Red China Hits Move for Defending Formosa

TOKYO (AP)—Radio Peiping today said the extension of responsibilities of the Philippine-based U.S. 13th Air Force to include Formosa "is diametrically against the desire of the world public for relaxation of tension in the Taiwan (Formosa) area."

The U.S. Air Force announced the change Thursday.

Atomic System for Home Would Both Heat, Cool

ABSECON, N. J. (AP) — A year-round home heating-cooling system powered by a nuclear reactor about twice the size of an auto battery has been put forth as "a practical reality possibly within a few years."

Robert E. Ferry, general manager of the Institute of Boiler & Radiator Manufactorers, made the forecast at the institute's annual meeting, and said the new concept marks the first proposal to put atomic energy to work actually within the home itself.

He indicated that if the manufacturers were to begin research on the system now, they would be in full production by 1958.

* * *

The "A-boiler" system, consisting of the baby reacton hooked up to a boiler, will be explosion-proof and safe from radioactivity, Ferry said.

Placed in the garage or basement, the system will both heat and cool the home for about six years on a single charge of fissionable material sealed within the reactor, he said.

Ferry estimated the cost of the six-year charge at about $300. He said the reactor would be replaced with another sealed unit at a similar price after its charge has been exhausted. Institute sources said the price of such a charge would tend to go down as the price of nuclear fuel declines.

* * *

A completely new integrated installation of the boiler and baby reactor would cost about $1,500, he said. In a new house, he said, savings of several hundred dollars would result from eliminating flues and chimney. It would cost around $1,000 to convert existing boilers, according to Ferry.

Ferry explained that summer cooling in homes by the A-boiler system would be accomplished by addition of a small absorption refrigeration unit, which operates on heat, similar to a gas refrigerator. Water chilled by the unit would be piped to convectors or dual baseboards to cool the home.

* * *

In winter the same sealed piping circuits would carry hot water, as in a modern conventionally fueled hot water heating system. Household hot water would be heated by a coil in the boiler, and a snow melting system of tubing extended under walks and driveways could also be powered by the reactor.

'One in Million' Luck Runs Out

Airman Dies in Crash After Surviving Jump Through Jet Canopy

MOUND CITY, S.D. (AP)—Luck ran out for an Air Force radar observer who once lived to tell how he shot himself out of a closed canopy of a jet plane at low level.

Lt. Myron E. Farb, 28, formerly of St. Louis, Mo., and Airman 1-C Donald L. Chappman, 23, LaCrosse, Wis., were killed yesterday when the light plane they were flying crashed in flaming wreckage near here.

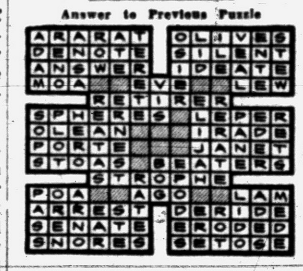

* * *

Farb survived a "one-in-a-million" chance last Feb. 13 when he shot himself out of a jet trainer flying at 1,500 feet. Veteran jet pilots said his chance of survival was one in a million. His only injuries at the time were a bruised head and a broken leg.

Farb ejected himself from the jet plane when the pilot dropped the craft from 30,000 to 1,500 feet. Farb was unable to contact the pilot on the ship's intercom radio and thought something was wrong. He fired the shell which ejects the seat, without opening the canopy, and was thrown through the plastic top.

Infant mortality rates in the U. S. of 28 per 1,000 of live births in 1953 was 30 per cent less than 1943, and 50 per cent less than 1933.

Saginaw Man Gets Legal Job

John S. Tennant Now General Counsel for U. S. Steel

SAGINAW (AP) — "Big Steel" has taken over the talents of an ex-Saginaw man for its top legal job.

He is John S. Tennant, 49-year-old corporation lawyer, now general counsel of the giant U.S. Steel Corp.

Tennant, born in Saginaw in 1906, received his early schooling in city schools. He comes naturally by his legal ability. His grandfather, John S. Tennant, was one of Saginaw's early lawyers.

Tennant left an outstanding scholastic record when he graduated from Saginaw High School in 1923. He took a pre-law course at Central Michigan College where he worked part-time to help pay his way.

In 1926 he enrolled at the University of Michigan. He worked his way through school as an assistant in the law library and received his law degree in 1931.

After graduation he married a fellow student, the former Mary Kent-Miller. Then he joined the New York law firm of White Case, becoming a partner in 1948. From 1934 to 1948 he had headed its Paris office.

Since January Tennant had been associate general counsel of U.S. Steel. He was moved up to general counsel in May, succeeding Roger M. Blough, who became chief executive officer on the retirement of Benjamin F. Fairless.

Tennant's new appointment brought recollections to his high school classmates of the early 1920s.

Former Mayor Edwin W. Koepke, now an attorney, said, "Jack was well-liked. He was an all-A student too."

Raymond M. Thayer, plant superintendent of the U.S. Graphite Co. division of the Wickes Corp., described the new general counsel of U.S. Steel as "a smart kid and a good kid."

Nearly 14,000 persons were killed in weekend traffic accidents last year.

College to Give Facts on Effects of Alcohol

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Western Michigan College has revived instruction in scientific temperance — a course once required of all Michigan schools under state laws but since dropped for a lack of qualified instructors.

The course, to be given as a part of the college's extension work, will not support either drys or wets. It will give factual information on the effects of alcohol on the human mind and body.

College Sponsors Sea Scout Unit for Students

KENTFIELD, Calif. (UP)—The lure of the sea at the College of Marin is so strong that even the school's president has gone to class to learn how to build his own boat.

Located on the Marin County side of San Francisco Bay, the college sponsors a chapter of Sea Scouts whose skipper is head of the school's art department, Edwin A. Cadogan.

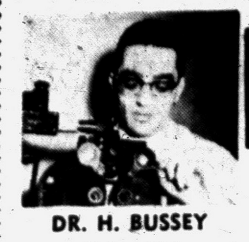

In the past two years, 27 boats have been built. Students built 10 of them, and three were built by faculty members, including Marin's president, Ward H. Austin. The other 14 were built by men interested in boats and taking instruction in boat design and construction.

The Sea Scouts meet in college classes but get no academic credit for their work. Cadogan and a local yachtsman, Emil Lamerdin, teach piloting, seamanship, small boat handling and navigation.

In addition to learning seamanship, Marin College's sailors collect marine specimens for the biology laboratories by dragging the bottom of San Francisco Bay during their frequent cruises.

Most of the silver dollars now in circulation were minted between 1921 and 1927. The minting of silver dollars was suspended in 1935.

"At our hospital—

As President of the Detroit Hospital Council and Director of Oakwood Hospital, Mr. Cousin is thoroughly familiar with various hospitalization plans. "No other plan protects Michigan people as well as Michigan's own Blue Cross," he says.

There is no substitute for Blue Cross-Blue Shield" says Mr. Jacques Cousin, Director of Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn, Michigan

"My job gives me an excellent opportunity to see many hospital protection plans in action . . . to determine the extent of coverage they give their members . . . and to see what they mean to our hospital.

"Experience tells me there is no substitute for Blue Cross. No other state-wide hospitalization plan protects its members as well as Blue Cross.

"Members have only to show their Blue Cross - Blue Shield identification card when they're admitted to our hospital. When they have the Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract, we know immediately that they're entitled to all the basic hospital services they need . . . the hospital services themselves, rather than limited cash payments.

"Then, too, no hospital deposit is required. The patient has none of the usual forms to fill out . . . there's no red tape of any kind.

"Members have these privileges because their Blue Cross contract is, in effect, a contract between member and hospital . . . with Blue Cross acting as the financing agent, ready to cover the cost of basic hospital services the member needs.

"This 3-way arrangement—between the member, the hospital and Blue Cross—is unique, and that's why it's so much easier for Blue Cross members to get the care they need when they need it.

"Our hospital doesn't have to worry about Blue Cross subscribers paying their hospital bills . . . and the subscriber doesn't have to worry, either . . . because in most cases, Blue Cross covers the entire bill, leaving the subscriber no more to pay than incidentals like phone calls, and so forth. This is why Blue Cross means much more to our hospital, and to practically every general hospital in the state, than commercial hospital insurance.

"Just as the hospitals urge people to have Blue Cross, doctors urge people to have Blue Cross' companion plan—Blue Shield, for medical-surgical care. Blue Shield does an outstanding job of helping people pay for the medical-surgical services they need when they're hospitalized.

"You might wonder how such wonderful protection is possible. It's possible only because Blue Cross and Blue Shield are strictly non-profit organizations . . . sponsored by Michigan hospitals and doctors just so Michigan people can have the kind of protection they need. And, because these are non-profit organizations, the subscriber gets back more in benefits than he could ever get through a commercial insurance company!

"For these reasons, Blue Cross - Blue Shield is as important to hospitals and doctors as it is to the subscriber. That's why we are pleased when a patient at our hospital is a Blue Cross - Blue Shield subscriber."
