Coast Digs Out of Worst Snow in Five Years

Weather Bureau Warns of Colder Temperatures to Follow

NEW YORK (AP)—The Northeast dug out of its worst snowstorm in five years today, as clearing skies brought a forecast of increasingly cold weather.

The storm, which started Sunday afternoon, caused at least 60 deaths and deposited up to a foot of snow in some sections.

The Weather Bureau here said the storm was moving in a northeasterly direction along the New England coast and out to sea.

However, the bureau warned that a wave of freezing air was waiting to move in on the area from the northwest and Canada as soon as the snowstorm is gone.

Sleet extended as far south as North Carolina yesterday. There was snow in Georgia.

North of Washington, D. C., the sleet coated heavy snowdrifts with a treacherous icy surface, crippled traffic and brought accidents on roads, streets and sidewalks. Adding to the death toll were sledding mishaps and heart attacks as many persons bucked the snow and sleet afoot or tried to shovel it.

Today, this was the state-by-state death toll:

Washington, D. C., area, 7; Maryland, 2; Pennsylvania, 16; New Jersey, 19; New York, 5; Connecticut, 7; Rhode Island, 2; Massachusetts, 6.

Up to a foot of snow piled up in some places yesterday. Philadelphia had 10 inches, its heaviest in seven years. New York recorded a 9.6-inch blanket as of midnight, the most since a 15-inch fall in 1949.

The northern section of the Midwest also reported biting cold with a low of 32 degrees below zero at International Falls, Minn. The arctic air extended over wide areas

Cold Weather Lashes Pontiac

Mercury Will Tumble Even Closer to Zero Mark Tonight

The Pontiac area, chilled by the bitterest weather this winter, can expect even colder temperatures tonight—and frigid weather until this weekend.

The U. S. Weather Bureau warns that thermometers will drop to two to five degrees above zero tonight, rising to 16 to 20 Wednesday. Brisk north to west winds and a few snow flurries also are forecast.

Pontiac, along with the rest of Michigan, took on a new coating of snow Monday night as the tag-end of a blizzard swept across the state, dumping 4 inches of snow along Lake Michigan and north of Cheboygan.

About an inch of snow glazed highways here and in Detroit, although no serious accidents due to slippery roads were reported in Oakland County.

The weatherman sees continued cold weather at least through the weekend.

The Weather Bureau's long-range forecast today says temperatures in lower Michigan will run from about five above zero to 15 above for the next five days—well under normal.

The mercury Monday started struggling upward after a low of five degrees recorded about 12:15 a.m., but couldn't get past the 20-degree marker all day.

Temperature fell steadily during the night to a low of 13 at 8 a.m. today, but climbed back to 17 degrees by 1 p.m.

U. N. Command Agrees to Peace Talk Thursday

Gets Proposition From Reds but Details Loom Large and Difficult

SEOUL (AP) — The U. N. Command today agreed to meet with Communist liaison officers Thursday to discuss resumption of negotiations to arrange a Korean peace conference.

U. S. State Department representative Kenneth Young stipulated in a note to the Communist high command that he was sending his liaison secretary to Panmunjom "for the purpose of discussing conditions for resuming conversations as well as the date for their resumption."

The Communists proposed late yesterday that liaison officers meet at Panmunjom tomorrow to discuss resumption of preliminary political talks to set up an overall Korean peace conference.

Young sent the Red request to Washington and the decision was made by the State Department there.

The preliminary conference, which was to work out the time, place and composition of a peace conference, was broken off Dec. 12 when U. S. special envoy Arthur Dean walked out after Red negotiators had accused the United States of "perfidy."

Earlier, India offered the Korean repatriation commission a secret plan for solving the tense war prisoner problem after the group turned down a Swedish proposal to free all POWs as civilians Jan. 23.

Rejection of the Swedish plan does not mean the POWs will be held past then but only that the specific proposal was not acceptable.

India voted against it with the Communist Czech and Polish delegates against the Swedes and the Swiss.

After hearing the new Indian proposal, the commission adjourned until Thursday.

The commission did not reveal any details of the Indian plan, but it appeared possible it might be similar to one revealed Monday by a top source.

The source said an Indian plan under consideration would give the prisoners back to the Allied and Red commands, getting the Indians and the commission off the hook without an out-and-out ruling against either side.

Case Against 4 Stalled; Canada Hunts Informer

Ritchie Finances Flight With Union Reward for Shooting Information

DETROIT (UP) — Canadian Mounties joined today in the hunt for Donald Ritchie, key witness in the Walter Reuther ambush shooting who used a $5,000 reward from Reuther's own union to finance his escape into Canada.

Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien said a "legal technicality" had been cleared up that had prevented Canadian authorities from pursuing Ritchie as a fugitive.

Ritchie, a 33-year-old small-time thug, disappeared into Canada last Friday after escaping from a Motor City hotel where he was held in protective custody about six days.

He had given Detroit authorities two signed statements about the 1948 shotgun attack which left the CIO president's right arm permanently crippled.

The CIO United Auto Workers Union disclosed late Monday it had paid $5,000 to Ritchie for providing the information which led to warrants being issued for four men allegedly involved in the murder plot. He said he himself participated in the attack.

Canadian attorney Don Morand disclosed he drew up the legal agreement under which Ritchie got the $5,000. Ritchie's common-law wife collected the money Friday about a half-hour after Ritchie had escaped.

The reward was paid, he said, because no one outside a few top Detroit officials knew Ritchie had fled police custody.

Morand said he drew up the escrow agreement between Ritchie and the UAW. Payment was to be made as soon as warrants were issued for the arrest of the four he accused.

"After he had been in custody about six days," Morand said,

Over 100 Dead or Missing in Austrian Snow Disasters

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — More than 100 persons are dead or missing in a major avalanche disaster in the Vorarlberg region of Austria, police at Bregenz reported today.

The toll was announced as other vast snowslides throughout central Europe's mountainland claimed at least 23 dead and 44 missing.

Police said that more than 50 of the victims of the Vorarlberg disaster were missing in the village of Blons.

The avalanches blocked the small Lutzbach river and many of the missing may have drowned.

The other 50 persons listed as dead or missing were from scattered villages in Vorarlberg province, police said. The reports indicated that the sudden avalanches may add up to the nation's worst snow disaster.

Only three years ago more than 124 people were buried alive in a similar catastrophe.

The snowslides severed communications and isolated hundreds of villages.

Rising temperatures were melting the snow, bringing threats of more avalanches.

The slides dealt death and destruction through picture postcard villages in the Austrian Tyrol, the Bavarian Alps, northern Italy and Switzerland.

Thousands of foreign tourists and winter sports fans were isolated.

Reds Deadlock Big Four Plans

Failure to Agree Upon Site Poses Real Threat to Jan. 25 Parley

BERLIN (AP) — The continuing deadlock between representatives of the three western powers and the Russians over a site for the projected Big Four foreign ministers meeting raised Allied concern today as to whether the conference would come off at all.

The failure of the talks between the four Berlin commandants on arrangements to produce any results thus far posed a genuine threat to the scheduled Jan. 25 opening of the big parley, some Western sources said.

One competent diplomat asserted that further failure to reach agreement would pose the natural question: "Do the Russians want the meeting at all?"

The third meeting of the four commandants wound up early this

Dems Cry 'Steamrolling' to Speedup of Labor Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican plans to speed consideration of President Eisenhower's proposals for revising the Taft-Hartley labor law today drew Democratic cries of "dictatorial and steamroller tactics."

The Republican majority of the Senate Labor Committee, headed by Chairman H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, moved to dispense with hearings and to bring the Eisenhower program to an early vote in the committee.

Smith, who introduced legislation to carry out the 14-point program right after it reached Capitol Hill yesterday, said lengthy hearings last year fully covered the issues involved.

But committee Democrats led by Sen. Murray of Montana, charged Republican speed-up strategy amounted to "dictatorial and steamroller tactics.

Murray, senior Democrat on the committee, said in an interview that Secretary of Labor Mitchell should be called to explain the recommendations. If the Republicans refuse to do this, Murray contended, it would mean "they are trying to ram this down our throats."

Murray also demanded that top management and labor officials be invited to discuss the proposals in public session.

Smith reportedly might be willing only to ask Mitchell to brief the committee informally behind closed doors.

On the other side of the Capitol Rep. McConnell (R-Pa), chairman of the House Labor Committee called the Eisenhower recommendations a "moderate approach" to

Senator Rakes Tax Officials

Williams Cites Coddling of Detroit Bank Robber in Truman Regime

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Williams (R-Del) told the Senate today about what he called a "disgusting example of gangster coddling" by tax officials under the previous Democratic administration.

Renewing his one-man crusade against tax violators, Williams said his latest case involved Sam Cammarata, convicted Detroit bank robber, now reported serving out the balance of a 15- to 30-year sentence in Michigan.

Williams said Cammarata, known by numerous aliases, slipped back into this country in 1939 after being deported to Sicily, but paid no income taxes from 1939 to 1946 when Treasury agents found him hiding out in Ohio.

Instead of bringing criminal prosecution, Williams said "the Treasury Department allowed this gangster to file belated tax returns for each of the years involved and dropped all efforts for prosecution."

Hit-Run Victim, 8, Staggers Home

An eight-year-old boy, suffering a brain concussion, staggered a block to his home last night after being struck by a hit-and-run driver. He is reported in fair condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Thomas Howard, son of Ivan and Violet Howard of 164 S. Francis Ave., was run down about 6:30 p.m. while on his way to the Pontiac Boy's Club at 530 E. Pike St. He was accompanied by Albert T. Rogers, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers of 221 S. Edith St.

Albert said a car driven by a woman struck Thomas near Sanford and Auburn Avenues as they were running across the street, but she did not stop to aid the injured youth.

Thomas, periodically lying down to rest and leaning on objects for support, finally managed to arrive home and was taken to the hospital by his parents and Albert's father.

Birmingham to Vote April 7 on Employes Pension Fund

Extras Win OK by Commission

Will Cost City $7,613 More Annually; Must Be Charter Change

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—City voters will get the chance to throw another lever on voting machines April 7 as a result of City Commission action last night.

Lawmakers approved a charter amendment increasing the city's contribution to the employes retirement fund.

It would cost the city an additional $7,613 annually, and would provide more adequate benefits for city employes and their dependents.

Mrs. Florence Willett, of 655 Pilgrim Rd., protested the poor condition of roads in the Quarton Lake subdivision, especially Pilgrim road.

Commissioners advised her to circulate a petition for improvements so that they could have the city engineer prepare cost estimates on the job.

The lawmakers also approved 44 election workers for 11 precincts in the special primary election Jan. 21.

This is necessary to select candidates for the Feb. 11 election to fill the state legislature vacancy in the third district created by the resignation of Rep. Howard Estes.

Morse to Fight Committee Plan

But Easy Win Predicted on Formula to Permit GOP Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) today promised to fight a Senate committee reorganization formula worked out by Senate leaders, but they predicted it would win anyway.

The formula is designed to permit the Republicans to retain control of all important legislative committees even though they are a minority by one vote in the Senate.

Senators Knowland (R-Calif) and Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), the party leaders, agreed upon the plan yesterday and said they expected it to win easy approval.

* * *

Morse announced he would oppose the scheme because it leaves him on the Public Works and District of Columbia committees, generally regarded as undesirable assignments.

* * *

The Knowland-Johnson plan, involving a change in Senate rules, will give the GOP 18 bonus seats on committees as the technical Senate majority. They now have 14. Bonus seats are posts which senators may hold as a third committee assignment, in addition to the two which go automatically to each senator.

Some such device as this was needed to let the Republicans control the committees, since there are only 47 GOP senators to 48 Democrats.

* * *

The new plan will give the GOP a margin of one on each of the Senate's 15 regular committees except those on which Morse sits.

The Democrats decided to go along with an increase in the Republican bonus seats, one Democratic source said, so that the Republicans could not contend that Democrats kept key bills bottled in committees.

light through the night to dig out people buried by huge masses of melting snow which carried tree trunks and boulders. Grim rumbles from the mountain sides indicated more slides.

In many areas snow piled as high as 13 feet. Up to four feet of new snow fell on mountain tops in Bavaria during the night, but at many points drifts were thawing rapidly.

Railway traffic on the main east-west railroad between Vienna and Switzerland was at a standstill. West of the Arlberg Pass avalanches roared down on the tracks and a key bridge was believed destroyed. The line was blocked also east of Innsbruck.

As new storms piled up fresh drifts in many areas of northern Italy, rescuers after a week's battle through blocked mountain passes reached five villages isolated near Udine. The hamlets were nearly out of food.

In Switzerland, railway men worked through the night to reopen the northern approach to the St. Gotthard rail tunnel, the vital rail link between Italy and central Europe. Single line traffic was resumed this morning.

er, mayor and Pontiac Civil Defense Council chairman, "has contributed to constructive action by his willingness as a good teacher in business and living," Poole said.

William O'Connor, secretary of Pontiac Jaycee, was presented the Key Man Award by Treanor for outstanding work within the group.

Highlighting the annual affair was main speaker Wally Weber, University of Michigan freshman football coach. His topic, "Athletic Values," drew a parallel between civic achievement and the "golden rule of sports."

"Modern civilization is drifting away from the teaching of hard work in this push-button age," he contended. "As a result our educational system is slowing down.

"Hard work, character building and enthusiasm are the key exponents to one's ultimate potential," he said.

He compared a team in action to democracy in action.

"A team well organized with the Golden Rule will rise like the propelling force of the American way of life. The display of action is the sportsman's way."

Urging Jaycees to foster high caliber sportsmanship in Pontiac, he said that a football game or any sport is to promote high esteem rather than revenge or an undue willingness to win.

"A player is supposed to grace a sport as a citizen in industry or business," he concluded.

Among those present were Mayor Arthur J. Law, City Manager Walter K. Willman, C. of C. Manager Robert J. St. Clair and Herbert Auer, president of the Michigan Jaycees.

Chairman of the annual affair committee was Allen V. Peters.

the problem, but he did not immediately introduce legislation to carry them out.

Murray and other Senate Democrats said the Eisenhower labor proposals contained "some good and some bad." Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY), a committee member, said the controversial law needs "far more revision" than suggested by the President.

A major point in the Eisenhower program was a recommendation that Congress require a government-sponsored election among workers to determine whether they approve of a strike.

The President's proposal was couched in general terms and did not specify when such a secret ballot should be taken.

However, when Smith introduced implementing legislation he proposed that such a vote be taken under National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) supervision after a strike had begun.

* * *

Under Smiths' bill, a majority of all eligible workers—not just those voting—would have to approve the walkout. In cases where a walkout failed to get the required majority support workers who failed to return to work could be fired.

This provision of Smith's bill apparently surprised the secretary of labor, who told newsmen he had read Smith's legislation earlier and had not understood that the poll was to be held after a strike began.

Murray termed this "a strike-breaking weapon." He called it "another attempt to try and show that union leaders don't have the bloody battle over the farm issue will not materialize, at least as far as the Senate is concerned."

He called his committee to hear Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson review the program and the farm situation in general next Monday.

Administration leaders were understood to have agreed to throw their weight as fully as possible behind what all recognized will be an uphill fight.

Most congressmen agreed that Mr. Eisenhower's idea to set aside up to 2½ billion dollars worth of surplus farm commodities, which would be eliminated from price support calculations, is a good one.

Such features as this, House members indicated, could get through. But as one GOP member put it: "To vote to lower already falling farm prices would be committing political suicide."

Key Witness Flees on UAW's $5,000

"his story apparently stood up and I was informed that the money was to be paid to Mrs. Ritchie through the escrow agent in whose care the money had been deposited."

Detroit authorities in charge of the Reuther investigation expressed shock at the reward disclosure.

They said they could not go ahead with pre-trial examination Thursday of two of the American defendants named by Ritchie, nor with the extradition of alleged triggerman, Clarence Jacobs, from Canada.

Samuel Travis, attorney for Carl Renda, 35, whom Ritchie accused of plotting the murder attempt along with Santo (Sam) Perrone, Jacobs and Peter Lombardo, said the state's case had fallen through completely.

"It has all the aspects of purchased testimony that isn't worth a nickel in court," he said.

After his wife collected the reward, Ritchie told police assigned to guard him that he was going to "take a shower." Instead, he turned on the water and tiptoed past them to freedom.

The UAW reward disclosure explained Ritchie's deposit in a bank at Chatham, Ont. He deposited $3,500 there shortly after his escape last Friday and later bought a car with a $1,400 check drawn on the bank.

A UAW spokesman said the union made arrangements to pay Ritchie the reward through a "reputable" Windsor attorney provided the witness would tell his story to authorities. He said the deal was "worked out without the knowledge of the law enforcement agencies or the Wayne County prosecuting attorney."

The spokesman said the $5,000 payment was not part of the union's long-standing $100,000 reward offer, which is under the jurisdiction of a public committee in charge of an additional $120,000 reward fund.

Jacobs, held on a technical charge in Windsor, Ont., is Ritchie's uncle. He denied his nephew's charge that he was the trigger-man and pleaded with him through newspapers to give himself up and "make a true and honest statement."

Jacobs was quoted as saying that Ritchie "wasn't any nearer to that shooting than I was and I didn't have anything to do with it."

Ritchie, an ex-convict with a long Canadian police record, said in his statement that he had been hired to accompany the would-be assassins to Ruether's home April 20, 1948, and drive the getaway car "if anything went wrong."

After Ritchie's disappearance, O'Brien used the statement as the basis for the attempted murder warrant designed to return Ritchie so he can testify.

C. of C. Dinner Date Is Jan. 21

Dr. W. H. Alexander of Oklahoma Will Speak; F. S. Lyndall, Emcee

A nationally known speaker, Dr. William H. Alexander of Oklahoma City, will be featured guest at Pontiac Chamber of Commerce annual meeting scheduled for Jan. 21 at 6:30 p.m. in the Elks Temple.

Robert J. St. Clair, C. of C. manager, said Dr. Alexander is "pastor of the largest Christian church in Oklahoma and has received enthusiastic reviews from leading magazines."

Toastmaster for the affair will be Frank S. Lyndall, Sears, Roebuck & Co. store manager. General chairman is George K. Zimmerman, vice president of Pontiac Varnish Co.

The annual dinner also will see installation of the Chamber's officers, said St. Clair.

A limited number of tickets is available at the Chamber's Hotel Waldron office and St. Clair advises interested persons to make reservations as early as possible.

Indiana Plane Crash Kills Three Ohioans

KNIGHTSTOWN, Ind. (AP)—Three men from Columbus, Ohio, were killed early today when their four-place Stinson plane crashed on a farm a mile and a half northeast of Knightstown.

They were: Walter M. Clark, 35; Joseph W. Dobbins, 37; and John Edward Oyer, 47.

State police said Clark apparently was the pilot since he had a pilot's license in his pocket.

The cause of the crash was not known. Temperatures were near zero and a stiff wind was blowing.

Korean Peace Talks to Resume Thursday

the 22,500 prisoners be released as civilians after midnight Jan. 22. The Reds insist they be held until a Korean peace conference discusses their fate.

Although the United States agreed to discuss reopening of the stuck preliminary talks on a peace conference, the actual conference still appears many weeks — and perhaps months—in the future at best.

The liaison officers meeting Thursday would be to talk over another session which would only draw up the plans and set the date for the peace conference.

At a brief news conference Young was asked if the United Nations would demand retraction of the "perfidy" charge. Young replied, "We will have to work that one out."

His manner indicated that an actual retraction might not be necessary.

Elizabeth Opens N. Z. Parliament

Ritual Almost Identical to Royal Ceremonies in English Commons

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—A reigning British monarch—Queen Elizabeth II—opened the 100-year-old New Zealand Parliament today for the first time. The ceremony was almost identical with royal openings of the Mother of Parliaments, the House of Commons in London.

The Queen wore her sparkling white coronation gown, with a diamond tiara, diamond necklace and earrings, and the blue riband of the Order of the Garter.

Her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, was in the uniform of an admiral of the Royal Navy.

For the high point of the Queen's tour of New Zealand, 10,000 people thronged outside Wellington's Parliament Building. Another 300 were seated on the steps leading to the main entrance, 400 more sat on tiered seats in the members' social room and 300 picked persons—including the 80 members of the House of Representatives—packed the Legislative Council chamber, where the opening took place.

The chamber has been used only for Parliament's opening since 1950, when the Council—the upper house—was abolished and New Zealand adopted a one-chamber system of government.

The Queen's seven minute "speech from the throne" had been prepared by the government of Prime Minister Sidney Holland, just as her speeches to Parliament are written by Britain's Cabinet.

In it she expressed confidence that "with the openness of mind to be expected from a new country, my government and people in New Zealand will continue worthily towards the lessening of international tension and the preservation of concord among nations."

Even Man in Prison Cell Interested in Weather

BOSTON (UP) — Prisoners are interested in the weather, too.

Chief Meteorologist Oscar Tanenbaum of the U. S. Weather Bureau here says that on an average of once in six months he gets a letter from a man in prison.

"He wants to know the weather conditions at a certain place at a definite time," says Tanenbaum. "Presumably he thinks he has been wrongly judged, and hopes to establish facts that will free him."

Swipes Bean Soup Recipe From Senate Restaurant

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

WASHINGTON (INS) — Little did I think I'd ever come down to the nation's Capitol and swipe something, but I just pulled it off!

My loot is a famous old recipe, and I lifted it right out of the House of Representatives, with Secret Service men and Capitol police all over the place.

Its official name, as it appears on the back of the daily menu, is "The famous Senate Restaurant Bean Soup recipe" and it's an unwritten law of both houses that it's never off the menu.

Never? That's a large word, but as the political dopesters down here might put it, "Private sources close to the White House vouch for the truth of the statement."

Day in and day out, year after year, come New Deal, Fair Deal, or Republicans, it's never time for a change about "the famous Senate restaurant bean soup."

That it's good goes without saying. It's so good that it would need a Shelley, Keats or Browning, at the very least and certainly nobody under the rank of poet laureate, to describe its flavor with anything like proper lyrical justice.

What's more, it's cheap, it's easy to make, and it's a meal in itself. So get out the old thumbnail and cut out the following verbatim paragraph:

"Take two pounds of small Navy pea beans, wash, and run through hot water until beans are white again. Put on the fire with four quarts of hot water. Then take one and one-half pounds of smoked ham hocks, boil slowly approximately three hours in covered pot. Braise one onion chopped in a little butter, and, when light brown, put in bean soup. Season with salt and pepper, then serve. Do not add salt until ready to serve. (Serves eight.)"

That's it, except for one or two explanatory tips of my own. The first concerns the recipe's first sentence, about taking the beans, washing, and running through hot water. That doesn't mean anything but the beans, I asked the chef, so I know.

Further, in case yours is an army family, with somebody recently or perhaps still in uniform, you may balk for a moment at that phrase, "Navy pea beans."

But I can and do reassure you on the loyalty issue involved.

With my own eyes I saw a four-star general in the Capitol restaurant, slurping up great mouthfuls of the Senate's favorite, without even looking worried about the best Army traditions.

At half the tables, in fact, the large white plates filled to the brim with "Senate bean soup" were being enjoyed impartially by Republicans and Democrats alike.

And why some of our legislators can go upstairs to the floor afterwards, and behave like such partisan sourpusses, I'll never know.

I've always been urged by my betters to take a livelier interest in the working of my government, a tthe city level, the state level, and the national level.

Right now, my interest of the national level is so lively, I'm going to the nearest naval supply depot and buy me some Navy pea beans.

Clark Says Korean Fight Won't Resume

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gen. Mark Clark, here to serve as official host for a movie premiere, said he doesn't think hostilities will be resumed in Korea.

The enemy, he observed yesterday at a press conference, is now sufficiently impressed by American force of arms and convinced that this country is not bluffing about its foreign policy.

Clark will attend the first public showing here tonight of "Cease Fire," filmed in Korea with GIs as the actors.

Need $50 Billion for U. S. Roads

Automotive Engineers Told Spending Must Be Quadrupled

DETROIT (AP)—The nation's highway system needs expansion and improvements that would cost 50 billion dollars, the Society of Automotive Engineers was told today.

The figure was the estimate of A. E. Johnson, of the Arkansas State Highway Department. He said state highway departments now have only 1½ billion dollars to spend annually, whereas at least six billion is needed.

Johnson said: "We are too dependent upon the motor vehicle not to get our affairs in order to finance, design and construct an adequate highway system. We must build these highways to last their full economic life expectancy and it is time that money is spent to solve many of the problems dealing with the economics of highway transportation and the problem of adequate structural design."

The American Association of State Highway Officials, Johnson said, now is trying to develop a comprehensive load and road research project. The project is intended to promote the design and construction of new pavements, aid in the preservation and betterment of existing roads, and establish an engineering basis for vehicle weight statutes and taxation.

Hoy Stevens of the Bureau of Public Roads told the engineers an estimated 20 million motor trucks will be in operation by 1975. The most recent survey showed there were 8,690,000 trucks in use as of July 1, 1953.

Oakland Home Kids to Be Guests at Wrestling

Twenty youngsters from Oakland County Children's Home will be the first "special guest" group to attend current Wednesday night wrestling shows at Pontiac Armory.

Nelson Robertson and Jack Mann, show promoters, said the children will be guests at this Wednesday's fight program. Students from Pontiac Public Schools orthopedic section and other disabled youngsters will be guests at the Jan. 20 show. The Jan. 20 group will be given free transportation to the armory by Local 614, UAW-CIO.

Robertson and Mann hope to provide seats at each Wednesday show to special groups who might not be able to attend otherwise.

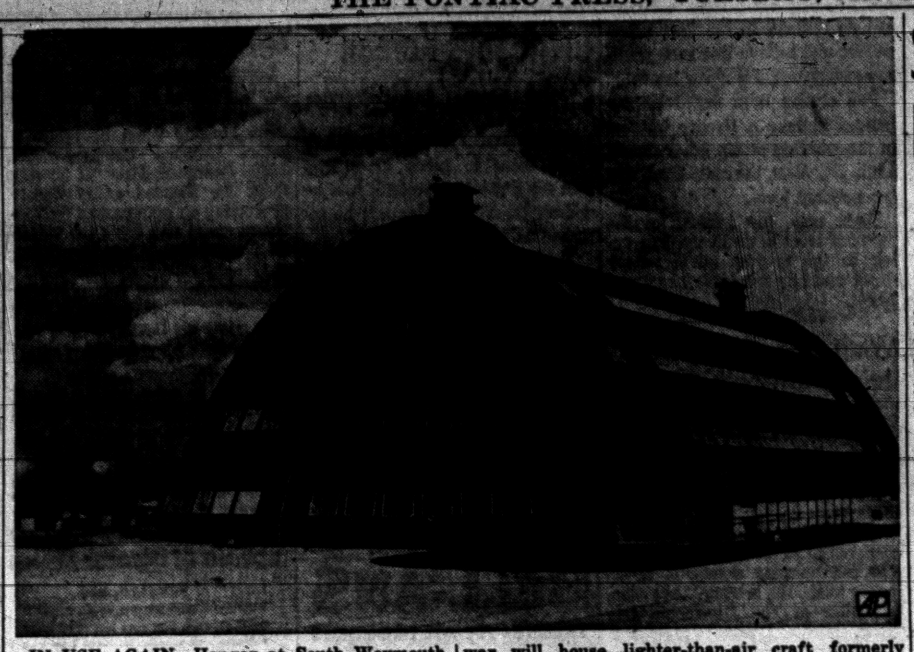

Wife of Fire Chief Killed in Car Crash

SAUGATUCK (AP) — Mrs. Marian Weber, wife of John R. Weber, fire chief of East Grand Rapids, was killed as the car in which she was riding with him skidded and hit an automobile carrier Monday on U.S. 31 a half mile north of here.

She died at Holland Hospital. Weber was admitted with a broken leg and other injuries.

South Haven state police said the car, with Weber at the wheel, slid out of control rounding a curve and plunged into a vehicle carrier driven by Lawrence F. Gabover, 30, of Chicago. Gabover escaped with minor injuries.

The Webers were returning from Racine, Wis., where they attended the wedding of their son, John R. Weber.

Says Hubbard Incited Beatings

Ex-Dearborn Official Testifies in Proceeding to Oust Mayor

DETROIT (INS) — A former Dearborn city official testified yesterday that Mayor Orville L. Hubbard ordered leaders of a recall movement "beaten up" and thrown out of town.

The witness was Clyde Hale, former secretary of the Dearborn Board of Assessors, who testified before Probate Judge Wallace Waalkes Jr. in ouster proceedings against Hubbard.

Hale said the order was read by Hubbard to department heads at a weekly conference.

He said the order was directed against Charles Wagner and Stanley Herdzig, leaders in a recall movement aimed at removing Hubbard from office.

Herdzig was beaten up and the alleged assailant, James Hughes, city controller, later was acquitted of assault charges.

Hubbard denied issuing an order to attack either of the two.

Hale said he quit his job shortly after the attack on Herdzig.

The ouster proceedings are being heard in the Wayne County Building and were ordered by Circuit Judge Miles N. Culehan, sitting as a one-man grand jury investigating Hubbard's administration.

Hale also testified that Hubbard ordered property adjacent to Wagner's boosted in taxable value, leaving his at its then current level "to embarrass him."

2 Gunmen Wound Detroit Bar Owner

DETROIT (INS) — Two gunmen shot and severely wounded a Detroit tavern owner today as he made his way upstairs to living quarters over his bar.

The gunshot victim is Edwart Matt, 56, said to be in critical condition at Grace Hospital. Matt suffered wounds in the abdomen and right leg.

Matt said the gunmen accosted him as he started up an outside set of stairs after closing his bar at 2:30 this morning.

He said they announced a holdup and he commenced firing from a .38 caliber revolver he carries to guard tavern receipts. The gunmen returned his fire.

U-M Law School Chosen to Give Admission Tests

ANN ARBOR — The University of Michigan Law School has been designated as a testing center for the nationwide administration of the Law School admission tests of Feb. 20, April 10 and Aug. 7, 1954, William B. Harvey, admissions officer, announced today.

Depending upon the law school to which they wish to make application, college seniors, juniors and in some instances sophomores are eligible to take the tests.

Each applicant should find out as soon as possible from the law schools in which he is interested whether he should take the test and on what date.

Application blanks and a Bulletin of Information describing registration procedures and containing sample test questions should be obtained four or five weeks in advance of the testing date from the Admissions Office of the Law School or directly from the Law School Admission Test, Education Testing Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, N. J.

Motorist Hospitalized After 3-Car Collision

David Tossey, 18, of 722 Long Lake Blvd., Lake Orion, one of three motorists involved in a collision yesterday at Perry St. and Parkwood Ave., was hospitalized with a concussion. His condition today at Pontiac General Hospital is reported good.

Tossey and Stewart McArthur, 38, of 983 Cambridge, Berkley, were stopped behind a school bus, Pontiac Police said, when a car driven by John C. Thompson 22, of 119½ W. St. Clair, Romeo, ran into the back of Tossey's auto, pushing it into McArthur's car. All were northbound on Perry street.

American Can Co. 42-Day Strike Ends

NEW YORK (INS) — Striking CIO-United Steelworkers and the American Can Co. signed a 22-months agreement early today ending a 42-day walkout over wage demands.

The settlement, running to Oct. 1, 1955, provided for a 8½-cent hourly pay boost, plus additional benefits to reduce existing geographical and job differentials and improved holiday and vacation benefits.

A spokesman for American Can said the struck plants are expected to be "in full production during the course of the current week."

Affected by the walkout of 20,000 USW members were 32 container manufacturing plants and two machine shops in the U.S. and at Vancouver, B.C.

Lake Orion Resident Awaits Court Date

A Lake Orion man waived examination yesterday on bad check charges and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Jan. 18.

Jack Joyce, 29, of 707 Lakeview, appeared before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback, three hours after his arrest by Michigan State Police etective Charles Leaf.

Joyce, a businss manager of a manufacturing company at 3279 Lapeer Rd., Pontiac Township, is accused of making out checks to non-existent employes and cashing them himself, Leaf said.

So far $400 worth of checks have been taken, Leaf said, and a complete audit may show a greater loss.

New 3D Maps Give Congress Weather News

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government has installed new 3D maps to tell a congressman everything about the weather except how political winds are blowing in his home town.

A dedication service was scheduled today for the elaborate multicolored weather maps just off the floor of the House and Senate.

Rain, snow or shine, two Weather Bureau experts show up at 9 a.m. every day to fill the big glass panels with red, yellow, white and green symbols which portray the weather from Mexico to Canada.

* * *

It takes them three hours, but when they are through a congressman can tell the temperature in his home town—plus wind direction, precipitation, atmospheric pressure and so on.

George Winthrop, head of the Weather Bureau's daily map unit, said it was "pure coincidence" today's ceremony coincided with the worst snow and sleet storm of the season.

Can a congressman decipher all those waving lines, arrows and other marks?

"You'd be surprised," Winthrop said. "Many congressmen are better meteorologists than the people who make the maps. They are keenly interested in the weather here and back home. They can make their own forecasts."

* * *

The weather bureau has had old glass map cases since 1902, but they included weather stations which had been closed for 20 years.

As for the three-dimensional effect, that was obtained by laying out three layers of glass, each with its own symbols. Winthrop called it "lamination" on a "delicately grained glass surface."

That makes it easier for a congressman to distinguish an occluded front from a high pressure area.

Italy's Cabinet Crisis

It is probably no overstatement to say that the resignation of Premier Pella's government is as bad news for the West as it is for Italy.

Certainly it is unfortunate that the crisis should have come at this stage. It also is regrettable that the principal cause of it was a split of the conflicting elements which make up the Christian Democratic Party to which Pella belongs.

The party lacks a working majority in the Chamber of Deputies. But it is so close to control that it needs only a little help from the Limerals and Republicans on the Left and the Monarchists on the Right.

The fact is that the crisis has developed in the wake of political events which attracted world wide attention. Originally Premier Pella's task supposedly was limited to the creation of a caretaker government so the budget could be passed.

He accomplished that but apparently developed a liking for the post of premier to which he was able to cling by seeking a favorable solution of the Trieste dispute.

Pella might have survived the dissatisfaction which developed in his own party if he had had the support of former Premier De Gasperi. Lacking that and with the Trieste dispute still unsettled, fall of the government became unavoidable.

That isn't the only bad news for the country which has the largest Communist party in Europe. Italy is facing serious labor trouble and the prospect of having to vote on the European Defense Community with a weakened government.

An even graver cause of concern is the fact that whoever heads the next government probably won't have enough support for effective administration.

U. S. Consumers Praised

A statement praising American consumers as the world's best credit managers provides a reassuring sidelight on the state of the Nation's economic health.

This praise came from Arthur O. Dietz, president of the C. I. T. Financial Corporation, the country's largest independent sales finance company.

As reported by the Associated Press, he listed the significant facts that about four out of ten consumers have no debt at all and only 29 per cent of them owe as much as $1,000.

"About half the consumers in the United States," he continued, "have savings equal to at least one year's income. Total personal savings amount to more than $200 billion and the figure is growing at the rate of $17 billion a year."

★ ★ ★

There isn't anything much wrong with an economic system which enables so many people to build up such a large cushion of savings.

Sewage Problem Solved

Completion within a few days of an [illegible] program of Pontiac's sewage disposal plant will mark the solution of one of the city's most urgent problems.

The problem was one of public health and it arose because the plant was inadequate to care for [illegible] 000 gallons a day, was called on to treat 15,000,000.

Such a situation naturally attracted State attention and in 1951 the Water Resources Commission and State Health Department ordered remedial action.

To finance the project on which work was begun in October, 1952, the city issued $700,000 in revenue bonds and used $100,000 from its contingency fund. At the same time the sewer service rate for individual homes was raised from $6 to $9 to help defray the additional operating cost.

While the work now being completed means the plant is able to meet any current demand, it does not mean that there never will have to be any further sewage plant expansion. Eventually, according to City Engineer Wrenn, an auxiliary plant will have to be constructed to take care of growth in the city's northeastern section.

In thus complying with State health requirements, the city has acquired another noteworthy public improvement. The better service thus made possible not only will benefit all residents but will make life far preasanter for all those who live along the Clinton River downstream from Pontiac.

I would like some information on pot-type oil burner stoves. Picking up the papers nowadays all you see is some flash fire that has taken lives or destroyed homes, resulting from an oil burner explosion. The kind of stove many of us have to use due to lack of space or until furnaces can be installed.

An article on care of stoves and reasons for explosions and how to prevent them would be greatly appreciated by me and I believe many other readers.

I don't doubt that you'll have this information soon because your paper is known for splendid cooperation in these matters.

Wonders if White Flour Is Devoid of Vitamins

Dr. Brady stated recently in his column that "Refined white flour is virtually devoid of vitamins and minerals." Baking companies advertise that their white bread is loaded with same and "builds bodies eight ways," etc.

It seems inconsistent. I wonder what are the facts?

Sandy

Editor's note: Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County Health Department director, stated that refined white flour does have a much smaller amount of vitamins and minerals than does whole wheat flour. He points out, however, that many bakeries add vitamins and minerals in the baking. A Michigan Department of Health bulletin indicates that some of this enriched white bread contains almost as many vitamins and minerals as does the whole wheat bread, certainly far more than white bread that has not been enriched.

David Lawrence Says:

Most of Ike's T-H Remedies Are Good but Compulsion to Join Union Is Bad

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's message setting forth his proposals for the amendment of the Taft-Hartley Act is on the whole a constructive contribution to a perennial controversy.

Basically, the President feels that the framework of the present law is sound.

His thesis is that the Wagner Act provisions still in the law safeguarded collective bargaining and that it required in addition the Taft-Hartley Act to safeguard the employe from abuses of power.

But the area in which Eisenhower proposes legislative changes is not confined either to unions or management alone. He has come forward with remedies for inequitable situations that have arisen over the interpretation of present law.

After all, it is not the explicit phrases of the law but what the members of the National Labor Relations Board and subsequently the courts say they mean which causes the bitterness and the intensive effort to secure amendments from Congress.

Most of the changes being recommended are technical in nature and are far more significant to lawyers for unions and management than they are to the general public.

Yet there are some new suggestions made by the President which will attract widespread attention. The injunctive process in the courts should not, Eisenhower thinks, be started without some effort at special mediation.

Likewise, the much-disputed "secondary boycott," he says, should not be enjoined in the courts automatically but the Department of Justice should have discretion and not be obliged to intervene. This, too, gives time for the law of reason to work.

Definitions of what are or are not "secondary boycotts" would be clarified if the President's proposals are adopted by Congress.

He also would cure a technical weakness in the present law whereby workers out on strike might lose their right to vote for a bargaining representative. This is a rare occurrence and has been much exaggerated as "union busting," but it is a defect which can be and, of course, should be cured.

Some ambiguity has developed by law that a contract lasts for its duration and can be reopened only if the contract itself specifically authorizes a reopening.

The question of responsibility for damage suits is also dealt with. The theory that a union can be sued for acts of its members has been a constant cause for controversy.

The President says the normal "rules of agency" under the common law should be applied. Then a person directly authorized to carry out a particular act could be held liable, along with the union. The same applies to management.

The President thinks that a secret ballot should be conducted by a governmental agency to determine whether workers want to go out on strike.

The difficulty with this is that, if the leaders urge the men to vote for the calling of a strike as a piece of maneuvering to impress management in a negotiation — that is, as a psychological act — the workers will vote for it anyway.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith, chairman of the labor committee, wants to have a secret vote taken also after the men are out on strike a certain length of time to see if they want to go back.

Both proposals are designed to give the worker freedom of choice without coercion.

There has been a conflict on some labor questions between state and federal law. Lately a decision by the Supreme Court of the United States has brought even more confusion.

The proposed amendment would make clear that the states still may enjoin picketing or disorders involved in strikes if they so provide in their laws. Then the state authority would not be set aside through the National Labor Relations Board or the federal courts.

Unions originally wanted the federal government not to exercise any police power in connection with physical combat arising over strikes.

Some of the Eisenhower amendments will be approved by the unions and others will be vehemently opposed. There's one amendment offered by Eisenhower which would sanction compulsory unionization in seven days after employment in the construction, amusement and maritime industries on the ground that they have "unique problems."

The principle of compulsion, however, is anti-liberal at all times. The price of a job should not be "thought control."

Men conscientiously opposed to membership in trade unions in free America should not be compelled to join an organization they do not want to join.

With that exception, the Eisenhower message is a forward-looking document in labor-management relations.

Habits Can Be Broken, but It Is Not Easy Job

King John now is making slaves of far more Americans than bowed to King George prior to 1776. So declare your personal revolution. Become free men and women. Resolutely follow the path to freedom outlined below. It will not be easy, but Valley Forge was no picnic, either!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-392: Frank G., aged 41, is Beth's father, who comes home occasionally so drunk he beats up his wife and daughter.

"Dr. Crane, I feel terrible when I sober up and learn what I have said or done," he protested.

"And I've tried to quit drinking. But every so often I get low and some of my friends will say, 'Come on, Frank. Have a drink. It'll buck you up.'

"Well, I try to refuse, but ultimately I go along. Oh, I figure I'll take only one. But I have never stopped with one drink.

"The people who say you can stop, don't know what they are talking about, for if you are with a crowd of your pals and they keep insisting, you'll take a second drink.

"I should know for it has happened to me hundreds of times. So is there any way to break my slavery to alcohol?"

Yes, a man can break any habit, even though it is a lifelong custom, but it is no easy job.

You must first work up your resolve to a high point. You must get so irate at yourself that you are in a fighting mood.

Then set your goal for today only. Try to resist your old habit just till bedtime. For these short races bolster your ego. You can then win these daily short races, and each victory gives you more assurance.

If you have been traveling with a drinking crowd, then break off with your crowd, too. That was one of Frank's chief problems.

For breaking a habit often involves breaking your whole past way of living. So join a church and drive yourself into activity therein.

If you feel too strongly the tendency to drop into a tavern for a glass of liquor, substitute the habit of dropping into a drug store, instead, and make it a cola beverage or soda pop.

But abhor your old associates as if they are poison. For that's exactly what they are to you, if they are poisoning your home life.

Try to encourage more recreation with your family. Take your wife and children with you, as to picnics, bowling games, church, or the movies.

If you can join a local unit of Alcoholics Anonymous, well and good! But even in A. A. you will constantly be in danger of a relapse unless you also cure your underlying maladjustment, whether sexual, social, financial or whatnot.

A good medical check-up is desirable at the start, and your physician can give you some nerve tonics to help bolster your morale and your physical vigor during the first few days.

Caffeine, sugar foods and vitamins are usually much needed by the chronic drinker who wants to free himself from his abject slavery to King John (Barleycorn).

Here in America where we enshrine freedom, you should all be free men and women, never bending the elbow in slavish deference to King John.

So declare a Revolution, as our ancestors did in 1776 when they refused to bow to King George. King John is now a far worse tyrant.

Baering Down

Explanations in the Korean compounds ended with 21 Americans doing a Cossack stomp on foot.

Cannot picture a Tennessean doing a botch-hotcha to the strum of a Volga picket fence.

I'm not making fun of those 21 guys because I know they blew their fuses. They were given a course of treatment that would have made a sheep-herder of a matador.

I gandered soldiers flipping their wigs in World War I. Mostly because they were only in step with their feet.

Some guys don't naturally belong in an army anymore than a bowling ball on a window sill. It's dangerous to everybody.

I saw my battery mates go over the blue wall in 1918. Some were on the level and some were maligners. But like Blondin on that Niagara tight-wire either side looked good to 'em.

That's why we should hesitate before branding 'em traitors. I'd mark 'em out of step.

Some of them were told they would be commissars when the Commies took over America. Anybody who would swallow that pap wouldn't have to butter a porcupine.

Brady Says Feed Soft Mashed Potato to Baby Who Has Swallowed Object

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

In a period of three and a half years 195 persons came to Los Angeles County Harbor General Hospital receiving service, with the complaint of having swallowed foreign bodies.

There were about as many dull objects as there were sharp.

In most instances the object swallowed passes harmlessly through the alimentary tract to be expelled from the body in perhaps 48 to 72 hours.

Twenty of the 71 foreign bodies became lodged in the esophagus (gullet)—6 bone fragments, 2 open safety-pins, 7 coins, 1 ring and 1 chunk of meat.

These twenty objects were removed by means of the esophagoscope—a tube inserted into the gullet, through which the physician can see and grasp with a suitable instrument the foreign body—from 1 to 72 hours after they had been swallowed.

If X-ray films of the abdomen show the foreign body has remained stationary at any point [illegible] passed naturally next day—one the end of a toy horn, the other a penny.

In 51 cases the foreign body was in stomach or bowel at the time of the first examination. Operation for removal was done only twice, and in one the operation might have been avoided.

In both instances of operation the object had been swallowed deliberately, the first, three open safety pins, by a woman with suicidal intent—after recovery she was brought to the hospital several times for attempted suicide.

The second, a tenpenny nail, which the patient admitted he had swallowed just before going to prison, so he might have a weapon while in prison; that had been four years before any symptoms of trouble occurred the symptoms resembling those of appendicitis.

If the object swallowed is clear glass, plastic or other transparent (radiolucent) character, fluoroscope or film after barium may render it visible.

Use of the esophagoscope is sometimes advisable if symptoms persist for more than 24 hours even though X-ray examination fails to reveal a foreign body, for it may be radiolucent.

In any case these rules should be followed when a baby has possibly swallowed the missing object:

1. No laxative or physic of any kind.

2. Give the child all the ripe banana, mashed [illegible], apple sauce he wants for the next two or three days.

3. An older person should eat a large salad—of raw or slightly cooked cabbage, celery, carrots, spinach, parsnips, green beans, lettuce, and any other greens available—twice a day for two or three

McCarthy Plans 2 Probe Forces

Split Unit May Conduct 2-Way Investigations; Alaska Hearings Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said today his Senate investigations subcommittee may divide forces and run separate, simultaneous searches for Communist and non-Communist skullduggery.

He said he plans to start tomorrow secret hearings launching an investigation of alleged graft and corruption in government spending in Alaska. He has declined to give details or to name witnesses in advance. But he did say the inquiry has "no overtones at this point of Communist activity."

* * *

Still planned, but with no date set, he said, are further hearings in his search for evidence of Communist infiltration of industrial plants in New York state which hold government defense contracts.

He said he or some other member of the all-Republican subcommittee may sit as a one-man subcommittee at Albany, Schenectady, Syracuse or Buffalo, N. Y., and perhaps in all four cities to complete that phase of inquiry. He mentioned a possibility of moving these hearings to Washington. He had presided at hearings in Buffalo late last year and recessed with an announcement he would return to reopen them.

* * *

He released a staff summary which, he said, showed a spurt in activity by the subcommittee in 1953 as compared with 1952. He listed 70 public hearings held in 1953 at which 208 witnesses testified, compared with a 1952 total of 20 public hearings at which 39 witnesses were heard.

The summary said there also were 123 closed-door hearings at which 320 witnesses testified in 1953, as against 6 closed hearings in 1952 at which 9 witnesses were heard.

The Government Operations Committee, parent of the subcommittee and also headed by McCarthy, moved yesterday to seek a legal opinion on his attempts to curb the right of witnesses to refuse to answer question on constitutional grounds.

* * *

The committee asked the Justice Department for opinions on:

1. May a witness who denies any spy activities then invoke protection of the Fifth Amendment and refuse to answer other questions about spy activities or communism without risking punishment for contempt of Congress?

2. Is McCarthy correct in contending that refusal to testify on any grounds other than the Fifth Amendment is contemptuous?

Value Timber Products in State at $65,000,000

The value of raw timber products in the state reached $65,000,000 in 1953, according to Charles Allen, chairman of Michigan Forest Industries.

The Detroiter's year-end statement claimed that the greatest share of the woodland crop was hauled from the woods as pulpwoo or sawlogs.

Allen said the remainder went into veneer logs, fuelwood, excelsior, bolts, posts and mine timers. Pulp mills consumed 775,000 cords during the year while sawmills used 760 million board feet of logs.

The forest industry spokesman said prospects for a good future timber supply "look brighter than ever before."

Mother and Son in Wage Dispute at Papa's Plant

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"He's going to be sore before it's over."

This was the opinion voiced yesterday by Mrs. George V. Harrison as she and her 19-year-old son picketed her husband's venetian blind factory in a wage dispute.

Mrs. Harrison and George Jr. astrounded labor oficials by asking for membership in Local 795, AFL Carpenters Union. Tehy say it's no noke.

The son said his father had refused to increase his pay of 75 cents an hour and noted he plans to get married in May. Mrs. Harrison said she had received no pay at all for assembly and cutting work.

Asked what her husband's attitude was, Mrs. Harrison replied: "He was just as sweet as can be. Didn't say a word. He's going to be sore before it's over."

"He has troubles enough without a former president criticizing him," Truman says. "It's a man-killing job."

He made his comment in a speec yesterday at a meeting of the Radio and Television Executives Society.

Press Editor Finds Slim Look Dominating Spring Fashion Showings

Emphasis on High Bosom, Long Bodice, Back Styling

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK—There is news in fashion this spring of 1954. With all the designers in agreement with the silhouette, it means that by Easter, the American women will be in a "look"—the first time in several years.

Mrs. Clemence

All of the designers showing their collections at a pre-showing for fashion editors Monday at the Waldorf-Astoria were in accord with the slim look with emphasis on the high bosom.

Emphasis also is placed on the long, slim bodice (few belts) and the back movement. Many of the designers achieve the back interest with large panel inserts falling from the waist, through the use of sashes and with dramatic necklines.

The bulkiness has been taken out in the 1954 fashions, and the hipline is always slim. Where the skirt is full, the flaring is always toward the hemline.

Fabrics are important in fashion this year with linen and silk standing out in every category. Silk is mixed with wool, cottons and synthetics and has changed the face of all the fabrics, giving them a soft sheen.

Polka dots, both large and small are fashionable this spring and are used to trim costumes or as an entire outfit. Embroidery, braid and fluted ribbons are other costume accents.

Fashion editors who gathered for Press Week, which is sponsored by the New York Dress Institute, were waiting for Oleg Cassini's collections. (Mr. Cassini had established himself as quite a wit at previous showings).

Although held up eight hours by ice and the blizzard here in New York, Mr. Cassini joked with models and editors as he presented his collection which he terms the "Balcony Line."

Most prevalent in the showing were princess and empire silhouettes with flattering contour lines. These are important to the designer who is a believer in the grace and beauty of the feminine form.

In accordance with the backward movement, Mr. Cassini has designed a striking dress which he calls "I'm Walking Behind You." The back interest in this pink satin and chiffon gown is created by a satin panel insert falling from the waist.

Three skirt silhouettes prevail from suits to ball dresses in the Patric collection for Miss America. These are romantically full, slim as a "dandy" or elegantly backswept.

Patric sees American women as modern women reminiscent of the Victorian and Edwardian eras. The costume look has a period look in the elaboration of the dress which never plays second fiddle to the jacket, but is dramatically bare to show off shoulders both during the day and evening.

This collection of silk suits, coats and dresses in navy and blue has highly developed Edwardian elegance, all shape and fabric with little embellishment.

White collars are neckline news—from oversized sailor collars of pique to tiny Peter Pan collars massed with tiny white flowers for afternoon.

Paul Parnes showed several suit jackets and boleros with white pique collars of all sizes. In this collection the boleros were shaped close to and rounded at the bosom and suit jackets were shaped by double-breasted closings under the bosom.

Suits in every designer's collection shown Monday make news. Some have short sleeves, others are bracelet-length and some are full-length. Those shown with push-up sleeves seemed to have more appeal to visiting editors.

The slim look is everything in suits and the scooped-out necklines and backward movement make them elegant news for evening.

Today the visiting press will preview the collections of Herbert Sondheim, Originala, Ben Zuckerman and Harry Frechtel.

Silk is in the spotlight for spring, either pure or mixed with wool or cotton. Molly does an afternoon suit for Jack Sarnoff in gray silk and wool with molded curves achieved by tricks of seams and darts. Tiny straw hat is by Sally Victor.

An empire waist is formed in silk surah and pleated white chiffon by Oleg Cassini who wraps the waist with tiny cords of matching fabric. The neckline deepens in back in accordance with the "backward" movement emphasized by many designers. Polka dots of navy blue on a burgundy background sound a new color note to a traditional spring favorite.

Indicative of the inclination toward prettiness rather than hard chic is this navy worsted suit designed by Beni Claire for Paul Parnes. Accented by a Sally Victor hat, it is the exception to the slim-skirted daytime costumes being shown by many designers.

Tells Work of Goodwill Industries

Mrs. Helen Kopka Speaks to Pontiac Club Federation

Mrs. Helen Kopka, promotion director for Goodwill Industries of Detroit, was guest speaker when Mrs. Charles D. Scribner opened her home on Ottawa drive Monday afternoon to members of the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Kopka is a past president of the Detroit City Federation of Women's Clubs, past president of the Southern Oakland County PTA and past state president of PEO.

After being introduced by Mrs. Charles Crawford, program chairman, Mrs. Kopka presented an enlightening account of the Goodwill Industries.

She explained that the organization is a social agency operating for the benefit of the physically handicapped.

There are 105 of these Christian organizations in the United States and 17 in foreign countries, said the speaker.

Mrs. Kopka explained that Dr. John Martin organized the industry in Detroit. The organization is 30 years old in that city and boasts three branch shops which rank it the third largest in the United States.

In explaining the principle of the Goodwill Industries, Mrs. Kopka said that discarded clothing, furniture and appliances are picked up, then taken to the workshops where they are cleaned and repaired by handicapped people.

After this rejuvenation, they are put in stores in low income areas. The workers are paid from the sales.

People who work for Goodwill Industries are those who have been handicapped either by birth, accident or illness. The staff at Goodwill Industries sees that each person has physical care, spiritual guidance and assistance with social adjustment.

Hostesses for the day were members of the Pontiac Women's Chorus. The committee from the chorus included Mrs. George Tallerday, Mrs. Harold Tripp, Mrs. Paul McKibben, Mrs. Sidney Olson and Mrs. William Cowie.

Mrs. Paul Gorman, federation president, appointed Mrs. Grant Helwig, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Charles Uligian, Mrs. E. M. Evans and Mrs. A. W. Ragsdale to serve on the nominating committee.

It was announced that Mrs. Cecil McCallum and Mrs. Howard Powers will be in charge of the federation benefit to be held in April.

Mrs. Ruth W. Parshall briefed the group on the works of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Tea was served from a wrought iron table centered with arrangements of cut flowers matching the decorations of the dining room. Mrs. Gorman presided at the tea service.

Believes Kitchen Again Becoming Center of Home

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — American families are going back to the kitchen as the heart of their home.

Modern architecture, postwar prices on appliances that have put them within everyone's reach and the trend toward easy living are credited with the current move.

William W. Wurster, dean of the School of Architecture at the University of California at Berkeley, made these observations while visiting Texas.

He said that architects are doing away with pantries and dark corners and by skillful design have cut kitchen travel to a minimum.

Reasonable postwar prices on appliances have given mother more time to entertain the rest of the family in the kitchen while she prepares meals, he added.

"The trend is toward easy living. The formal dinner has gone the way of the frock coat, and people are spending more money on travel and education than our predecessors did on homes in an effort to show off their possessions." He concluded:

Patient Goes Home

Mrs. George Grogan has returned to her home on South Shirley avenue after undergoing surgery in a Detroit hospital.

BPW Club Holds Dinner

Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club met at Hotel Waldron Monday evening for dinner and to hear Grace Heitsch report on the meeting of the City Federation.

Contributions were voted for the March of Dimes and the Sister Kenny Foundation, and the group pledged assistance with preparations for the Well-Child Clinic at Lakeside Homes.

Vera Bassett was appointed chairman of a sale to be held Jan. 30, and Mary Mitchell outlined the Chamber of Commerce report for the past month.

A large group plans to attend the District One meeting Sunday at the Community Activities Building on Williams Lake road. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Norman Dyer, Mrs. Marjorie Baker and Amy Koellner.

Mrs. Harold Euler Hostess to Group

Mrs. Harold Euler was hostess to the Colonial Group of First Congregational Church Friday at her home on Ottawa drive.

Presiding at the business meeting was Mrs. D. R. Wilson, and Mrs. Paul Taylor led devotions.

Serving on the luncheon committee was Mrs. Robert Armstrong, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Frank C. Castell, Mrs. James Clark, Mrs. H. C. Cites, Mrs. Harold Dudley and Mrs. J. Lee Voorhees.

Given Membership in Missions Board

Mrs. E. E. Blackstone was awarded a pin and certificate of membership in the Presbyterial Board of National Missions at a recent meeting of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Ted Koella received honorary membership in the Board of Christian Education and Mrs. Leslie Ellis in the Board of Foreign Missions.

Constitution Talk Heard by Sylvanites

"Our Constitution" was the title of the talk given by Mrs. E. V. Geizer, president of the New Sylvanites Club, when the group met Friday evening in the home of Mrs. John Cauley of Benvenue avenue.

Twenty-two members attended. Cards were played during the evening and Mrs. J. King Graham, Mrs. William Bull and Mrs. Robert Menees were awarded prizes.

The next meeting will be held on Jan. 21 at the home of Mrs. Anthony Osler on Garland avenue.

Refrigerator Tip

The door of your refrigerator should close tightly on a piece of paper. If the paper slips out easily, have the door strip replaced. Otherwise, you will waste fuel.

Two Bloomfield Schools to Join to Give Operetta

The tenth in a series of Gilbert and Sullivan operettas traditionally given at Cranbrook School will be a collaboration between students and faculty of Bloomfield Hills High School and Cranbrook School.

Musical director of the operetta, William Reddick, well-known Detroit composer and choral director, has been guest conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Detroit City Symphony, and musical director of Ford Sunday Evening Hour for seven years.

The production, which is scheduled for late in February, will feature Cranbrook boys' voices and Bloomfield Hills School girls' voices.

Cranbrook School faculty members directing phases of the production include G. S. Blythe, Warren Moore, Templin Licklider, Jack Benson, Hubert Davis and the Rev. Walter Young. From Bloomfield Hills School will be Dorothy McCannon and Clarence Luckman.

Proceeds of one of the three performances will be donated to the Children's Hospital of Michigan.

Dinnerware Colors

Don't expect much change in popular dinnerware colors this year. Don Schreckengost, art committee chairman of the U. S. Potters Association, has predicted that the warm earth or nature tones of green, brown, gray and pink will continue to be the top colors in 1954 American dinnerware.

Membership Party Planned

Italian-American Club Auxiliary met Monday evening with Marcia Palace on West Howard street to make plans for a membership party.

The date for the party has been set as Feb. 28 at Knights of Pythias Hall. Dancing will follow the cooperative dinner, and refreshments will be served throughout the evening.

A money-making project is planned for March, and the annual spring dance is scheduled for June, with Mrs. Joseph Bonfiglio as chairman.

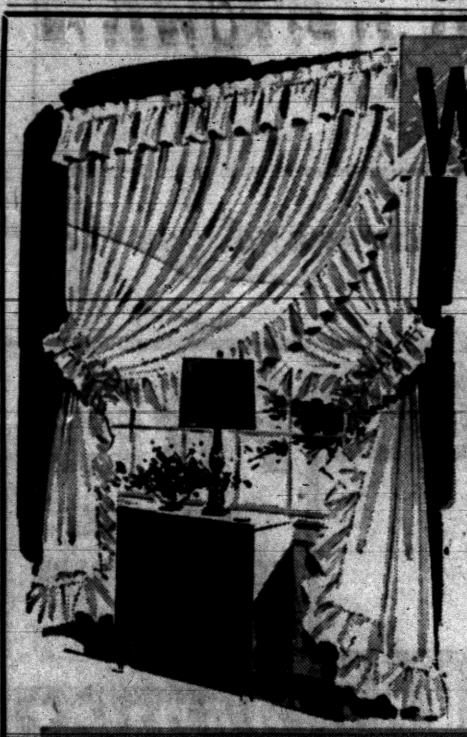

Mrs. Floyd R. Loomis of Voorheis road will be hostess for the next meeting.

Encourage Child to Take Own Bath

Until what age does a child need to take a daily bath? "Forever," says a health authority in no uncertain terms! She adds that a child should be taught to bathe himself in the tub as soon as he can understand and is capable of using the washcloth.

It's usually easier, of course, for mother to do the washing and rush the process through. But don't give in to the temptation. A child who feels confident and able to take care of himself is a happy child, at ease in the world.

Floors Take On Beauty, Style

Watch your step these days! Because if you do, you'll see some beautiful new colors and patterns in hard surface floorings.

Decorators can't say enough good things about floor tiles that last almost as long as you do, and need only simple soap and water mopping to keep them lovely. The new vinyl plastic floor tiles don't even need waxing ever!

One reason they look so decorative is because there's no base to these tiles, so that the color extends right through them from top to bottom. This makes for a richer, clearer color, of course.

You can do your own floor decorating and plan the most effective borders or center motifs.

And for the children's room, you can encourage orderliness by creating separate areas—an area for study, for play, for sleep. You do it simply by using different color tiles on the floor for each

Hog-Killing Time Brings Back Vivid Memories of Missouri Farm Life

Never Run After Men, Girls Told

But It's Acceptable to Do Some Catlike Stalking

By EMILY POST

The question of "How far may a girl run after a man?" is put to me by a group of college girls.

In answer let me say that, catlike, she may do a little stalking. But "run?" Not a step! The freedom of today allows her to go to meet him half way, but the girl who runs, runs after a man who runs faster.

To be sure, she can invite him to any sort of party, so long as it is not just a sit-at-home party for two.

She also may invite him to a dance, or, on occasion, buy tickets for an entertainment and telephone him, "I have two tickets for the game (or the theater or whatever). Would you like to go with me?" It isn't so much what she does, as the way she does it.

Dear Mrs. Post: Should my young son be taught to greet our friends and neighbors whom he sees on the street, or should he wait until he is spoken to.

I have heard several of the children in the neighborhood criticized for not speaking first — which I always thought was correct — but after hearing these criticisms I'm not sure. Will you please tell me what is proper?

Answer: According to old-fashioned manners, a child always waited to be spoken to, but everybody likes a friendly child and being greeted by one is pleasing rather than otherwise.

Dear Mrs. Post: Can you give me some idea of what to write to the women's club of which my late wife was a member? This club was founded by the sale of bonds which, upon maturity, would be repaid to the members.

I would like to donate this bond to the club as a memorial to her. Any assistance you can give in this matter will be appreciated.

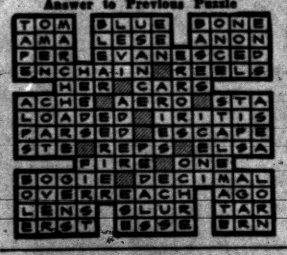

Answer: Simply write to the secretary and tell her that instead of turning your wife's bond over to you, you would like the club to buy something with it to keep in memory of her.

There's elegance in traveling with snow white rawhide leather luggage. The larger cases feature inside waterproofed and zippered cosmetic pockets for spillables and softly quilted bottoms to cushion the most fragile fabrics against wrinkles. Solid brass locks and half-moon handles will take rough handling.

Use Black Walnuts in Cookies

Recipe Says Their Flavor Improves as They Age

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Did anyone give you a bag of black walnuts for Christmas? Then try these delicious black walnut cookies. You can buy shelled black walnuts in a can now too; so they are available all year around.

Mrs. Gene Helbig of Long Lake says these cookies will improve with age—if you are able to keep them in the cookie jar long enough to age. Mrs. Helbig is a young homemaker with a small son. She enjoys keeping house and entertaining. Reading is her hobby.

BLACK WALNUT COOKIES
By Mrs. Gene Helbig

1 cup butter
1½ cups brown sugar
3 large eggs
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda, mixed in small amount of hot water
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 to 3½ cups sifted flour
1½ cups chopped dates
1 cup black walnuts, chopped

Cream butter and sugar, add eggs and beat well. Add vanilla and soda mixed with water. Sift dry ingredients together and add to creamed mixture. Add dates and nuts last. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking pan. Bake 10 to 12 minutes or until brown in a 350 degree oven.

Smooth Out Outmoded Rough Walls

Textured Plaster Looks Out of Place and Dismal Today

By HUBBARD COBB

Some years back there were a lot of people who felt that if a house didn't resemble an old Spanish fort it wasn't fit to be lived in.

We've passed through this stage of architectural thinking but there are still a lot of homes with plastered walls which are textured and antiqued and about as dismal as a wall can get.

If you have such a wall, there are a lot of things you can do with it and we don't mean setting it on fire.

A textured wall can be smoothed out to a fair degree by overcoating it with a plastic paint. This type of paint has a good deal of body to it and will fill in the cavities in the textured surface.

If you wish, you can first sand down the wall with a portable sander and then apply the plastic paint. This produces a somewhat smoother finish than does the plastic paint alone.

If you wish to paper the wall, sand it down, apply the plastic paint and then apply a felt underbase for your paper.

Some of these oldwalls are in such a sorry state that they aren't worth trying to patch or smooth out. Your best bet here is to apply some material such as wallboard over the old plaster.

Some of these materials can be nailed or fastened with an adhesive right to the old plaster if the plaster is solid. Others will require furring strips applied over the existing wall to serve as a nailing base.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

But Maybe Pa's Sausage Wouldn't Be as Good Now

It's hog-killing time in the farm country back home. I know because Ella Snell from Missouri has sent me a present of some souse. Souse is a fine-flavored jelly made from pigs' feet and I like it better than I do hog's head pudding, but we used to have both when we killed hogs.

MISS McBRIDE

Some people also liked hog brains and sweetbreads mixed with scrambled eggs but my mother couldn't get any of our family to eat those.

Maybe I wouldn't really like it, but I do believe I'd enjoy being part of a hog-killing again. My brother Tommy and I used to look forward to it each year, because we were allowed to stay home from school to help — not that we did much but stand around big-eyed.

During the winter the farmers took turns butchering and each man pitched in to help his neighbor. The day before our killing, Mama dressed plenty of chickens, baked bread and light rolls, pies and cakes, selected a last year's ham to boil and brought up from the cellar cherry preserves, green tomato catsup, pickled peaches and spiced gooseberries.

With Tommy tagging along, Papa got out his rifle and carried water to be heated over the outdoor fire.

When the neighbors came at dawn next day, Papa cornered the first shoat and shot him through the head, straight between the eyes. Then the men plunged the pig into a hogshead full of boiling water. They knew exactly how long to leave him in the water for the hairs to scrape off well.

After that the carcass was strung up on a kind of scaffold and the neighbors helped Papa cut off the hams and shoulders and the leanest part of the side meat—middlin, we called it.

The fattest part of the side meat was kept for lard, and a strip of lean, also from the lard side, was used for sausage. Lard meat was cut up in squares and cooked in a big kettle set on four bricks over a fire of hickory chips.

Mama generally was the stirrer and she also helped strain the lard but it was Papa who worked it with two paddles so that if turned snow white. Left over from the lard were brown cracklings, good in cornbread.

The hog's head — with eyes taken out — was boiled until the meat fell from the bones. The liquid was strained off, put back on the stove and thickened with meal. Then the meat from the head was mixed with the mush. That was hog's head pudding, and we ate it fried for breakfast. For supper we had the spareribs fresh with cabbage and little lean slices of pork tenderloin fried crisp.

I can't remember that Tommy and I ever did much really except occasionaly grind the sausage mill. One person had to grind and another feed, but Mama woudn't let us feed for fear of nipping our fingers. She almost lost her thumb that way when she was a little girl.

Papa was known for his lard and sausage—the prettiest, whitest lard in the county and the best-seasoned sausage. I often think of him, up to his elbows in sausage meat, mixing and seasoning. That's the sausage I've been yearning for ever since.

But shall I confess something rather sad? If I were to eat Papa's sausage today, I'm afraid I'd find it a little too highly seasoned for my grownup taste. Which merely proves that probably a sausage memory is like any other—better if it stays a memory.

Return Gifts Personally if Possible

Girl Should Take Betrothal Presents to Boy's Mother

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: My daughter is breaking her engagement. We would appreciate knowing how the gifts the boy's family gave as engagement presents should be returned?

"Do you mail them? Do you give them to the boy or call at his house with them personally?"

Gifts of real value should be returned to the givers, of course, but how they are returned depends on a lot of things. In your case, since the boy's family seems to live in your town, I think the most gracious gesture would be to return them personally. Mailing them back would be the only way if they lived out of town.

And taking them personally to the boy's mother need not be an awkward and embarrassing moment. Gifts that have not been used, but were intended for the new home, should be carefully wrapped and boxed together.

Personal things, lingerie, for instance, or gifts marked with her initials, should be considered twice.

In any case, your daughter could make sure that the boy's mother would be at home at a certain time (preferably when he is not), then she could drop in with the package.

"Under the circumstances" she feels these lovely gifts should be returned. The mother may protest and insist that she keep them —but at least the polite and correct gesture will have been made by your daughter.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 17 and have been going steady with a boy I love very much for more than a year. He wants me to marry him and has offered me an engagement ring, but I refused it because of my reluctance to settle down and get engaged.

"In fact I want to be free for a while, and this desire of mine is causing us lots of trouble. I asked him to wait for a while—we both should go around with others during this wait.

"But he's miserable about it and says if I really loved him I wouldn't make him wait or want to run around with other boys. Am I wrong—or is he?"

You'd be wrong to accept an engagement ring and agree to settle down, feeling as unsure and restless as you do. And he's wrong in trying by that "you don't really love me" argument to force you into making a decision.

Until your mind is made up and you see your way clearly, perhaps a cooling-off period is best for you both. It needn't necessarily include running around with other boys, or other girls. It's just a vacation from each other—and you can put a time limit on it.

At the moment you're haunted by the idea of going with other boys. But getting dates with them might not be easy, and you may not enjoy them if you get them.

But give it a try if you feel you must. Get the idea out of your system—then perhaps you'll be more eager to concentrate on this boy you love—but not quite enough.

Hal Boyle Says:

Best Gift for Youngsters: Just a Little More Time

NEW YORK (AP)—"Anything you do for kids takes lots of time. And while we are willing to give them everything else, that is the one thing we are reluctant to give them—time.

"And that is probably why we have so much juvenile delinquency."

I think that remark pretty well sums up the problem of dealing with children. I wish it were my observation, but it isn't.

* * *

It belongs to Frank Blair, who discovered the truth of it by living. Frank, who was a transport pilot in the last war, has seven children and makes more money than a successful counterfeiter—except Frank makes his honestly. He is newscaster of the NBC-TV network show called "Today."

But having and loving seven children—and earning them a good living—Frank found wasn't quite enough. Too much of the burden fell on his pretty wife, Lillian.

"With my odd working hours," he said, "I couldn't spend the time with my kids that I felt a Dad should."

* * *

But Frank, who at 38 looks like a handsome older brother of his children, found the answer—in a family corporation in which each member has a voice in the family decisions. Here's how it came about:

* * *

"Lil and I discovered the kids liked to have bull sessions to discuss where they'd got out of line and done wrong or to talk over family projects. We found they didn't mind being punished if they had a voice in deciding whether the punishment fitted the crime.

"At their own suggestion we started having these 'Let's talk it over sessions,' and they developed into mock trials, and Lil and I found ourselves on trial, too, sometimes. We found out what the kids thought we were doing wrong, particularly after one of the kids got the idea of keeping minutes of the meetings."

Then Frank decided to create a family corporation to rule on all family questions with each member being allowed one vote for each year of his age.

* * *

The current voting status is as follows: Frank, 38; Lil, 37; young Frank, 17; John, 15; Tom, 13; Mary, 7; Theresa 4; Paul, 1; Bill, 1.

Currently the senior partners are able to outvote the junior members of the Blair corporation 75 to 59 in a showdown, but Frank says it doesn't often come to that.

* * *

"The kids don't vote as a bloc against us," he said. "The first thing we found out is that they won't take advantage of a situation if you give them a sense of participation. That is the wonderful thing about children—their real sense of honesty and fairmindedness."

The family corporation meets every Sunday. The members vote fines and penalties and punishments, decide questions like what type of new car to buy and where to spend vacations.

The kids have routine chores they are expected to perform, but are paid for extra duties such as baby sitting. Each member of the family pays a penny a week for each year of his age, and the pot is divided among the kids just before Christmas each year, including as a bonus the money chipped in by Dad and Mom. Lil acts as treasurer by popular demand.

* * *

"I don't know whether it would work with every family," said Frank. "But this corporation game has helped bring us closer together, and we all have learned a great deal from it.

"It has given us a real insight into our children's minds, really opened a new world to us. You can't push your kids out the front door, tell them to come back in three hours, and then forget them. That is how they get into trouble. You have to find a way to give them something to do—and a feeling of responsibility."

IT'S FOR THE RABBITS—Barbara Fuller, 7, of Liberal, Kan., nestles close to something straight out of a bunny's dream world. It's a carrot which tips the scale at an ounce over five pounds. The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Fuller, grew the giant in their back-yard garden.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Jordan's Justice Ministry has drafted a new law providing the death penalty by hanging for pro-Israel spies, Justice Minister Bahjat Talhouny announced today. The maximum penalty has been 15 years imprisonment.

Pleads Guilty in Auto Deaths

Ferndale Man Will Be Sentenced on Negligent Homicide Count

Archibald Menzies, 25, of 1048 Rosewood, Ferndale, pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of negligent homicide when he was arraigned before Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Sentence was set for Jan. 25 and Menzies was released on $500 bond.

Menzies is still on crutches from injuries received when his car crashed head-on into another auto on John R just north of 12 Mile Rd. last Aug. 19, killing two teenage occupants of the other vehicle.

Menzies was attempting to pass another car and was on the wrong side of the road when the autos collided, according to Royal Oak Township police.

Ex-Premier of Italy Refuses to Try Again

ROME (AP)—Former Premier Giuseppe Pella today refused a request from President Luigi Einaudi that he try to form a new Italian government.

Pella resigned the premiership a week ago after a split with leaders of his middle-of-the-road Christian Democrat Party, Italy's largest, who thought his policies were too far to the right.

After the week of consultation with political leaders of all parties, Einaudi called Pella to the presidential palace today and asked him to again head the Cabinet.

Church Seeking to Form Parish

Rochester St. Philip's to Submit Resolution to Episcopal Diocese

ROCHESTER—A resolution to incorporate St. Philip's Episcopal Church as a parish will be sent to the Diocese of Michigan.

Decision to make the move was made at the annual church meeting Sunday.

Leonard Harding, speaking for the finance committee, said the move was partially due to three accomplishments: 1) Reduction of the building indebtedness, 2) the church's growth within the past three years, and, 3) pledge collections.

Upon receiving Diocese' sanction, four vestrymen will be appointed. Thereafter, St. Philip's will select its own rector, vestry and other officials.

In other business, a budget of $13,956.20 was presented and approved by the members.

Three Silver Service crosses were presented by the Rev. Edgar E. Lucas to Mrs. Varnon T. Baxter, president of the Altar Guild, Richard Eberline of the building committee and Harding, finance committee treasurer.

Build Community Ice Rink in Romeo

ROMEO — A community skating rink is being constructed just north of the Congregational Church on North Main street.

According to the Rev. C. Earl Page, the church will supply the property and power while Verellen Electric Co. will hang the lights.

Foltz Brothers are donating the earth to make the sides of the 100 by 50 foot rink.

The fire department has consented to flood the oval-shaped area and will maintain it through the winter.

WSCS Meets Thursday

NEW HUDSON — WSCS of the Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Lee Pierce at 2:30 p.m. Thursday. The lesson will be "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God."

Mrs. Schmitt is shown above with her collection, of which many are antique and of intricate makes with exquisite tone. The bells vary in size from miniatures to elephant bells. Some are carved from bamboo of the South Seas. She has been collecting for six years after reading an article on the hobby in a church magazine.

Farm Groups Disagree on Merits of Flexible Plan

WASHINGTON (INS) — Major farm organizations have greeted President Eisenhower's new farm program with mixed reaction.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson conceded that "it isn't perfect," but he indicated to newsmen that he has high hopes that it will weather objections on Capitol Hill and gain approval.

President Allen B. Kline of the American Farm Bureau Federation described the program as "forward looking" and "essentially sound."

Most of the critics of the plan for a system of flexible price supports favor retention of current rigid high price supports.

Some, however, such as the National Grange, were disappointed that the administration turned its back on other farm proposals.

The Grange has advocated a two-price plan, which would allow American farm commodities to move into foreign markets at competitive world prices, while the portion of those commodities sold domestically would be under rigid high price supports.

This system supposedly would help the U. S. expand its export market which has declined badly in the past year.

After being informed of Eisenhower's proposals, Herschel Newsom, master of the Grange, said a plan is needed that will be flexible for foreign markets.

He said he does not understand how the Eisenhower program will "keep us from having the same old surplus bugaboo."

Women's Club Names Officers at Ortonville

ORTONVILLE — Nineteen members of the Women's Club attended the luncheon and election of officers at the home of Mrs. Frank Brigham last week.

Mrs. Claude Owen was elected president and will take office next September.

Others named were Mrs. Dale Dickason, vice president; Mrs. Everett Uloth, recording secretary; Mrs. Clare Wolfe, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Horace Kohn, treasurer; Mrs. C. B. Crossman, pianist; Mrs. B. L. Hamilton, parliamentarian, and Mrs. L. M. Boutell, auditor.

Fight Blazing Tar at Highland School

HIGHLAND—Possibility of an explosion spurred Highland volunteer firemen yesterday forenoon as they fought to control a fire in a tar wagon on the grounds of the Highland Elementary School.

Some 250 seventh and eighth graders were in the nearly completed school building several feet away when a spark from the melting wagon's chimney ignited asphalt in the device's heater tank.

The final coating of tar was being applied to the roof of the new addition when the fire broke out.

Although the wagon burned for about an hour, firemen were able to confine damage to the heater tank and two tires.

Two Betrothals Are Announced in Marlette Area

MARLETTE—Two engagements have been announced by area families this week.

Says Projection Needs Freedom

Claims Box Is Prison; Eventually Picture Can Be on Wall Screen

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK — Now that color television is here, it is interesting to speculate where it will go.

Dr. Lee De Forest, now 80 years old and often called the "father of radio" because of his invention of the audion tube, believes it is going to release TV from its vacuum box.

He refers to the large cathode beam viewing tubes, whose front faces are the TV screens we stare at, So long as they're needed, TV is imprisoned.

The man who made present day radio possible wants scientists to liberate TV.

It is not really necessary to confine color TV to this "vacuum chamber," he said after reviewing existing TV color tubes and finding none ideal, but to liberate it will require "ingenuity and imagination unlimited." As a beginning, he had these suggestions:

"Why not use a dazzling needle of light instead of the cathode ray? Assume a brilliant (neon) gas tube which can be modulated millions of times per second, focused with tiny concave mirrors mounted in spiraled formation upon a small, light, rapidly revolving cylinder, or disc, which throws the beam across the face of a large screen."

This can be done "provided only that we can find the gas tube combining sufficient brilliancy with no inertia lag or hangover, one whose light output can be quantitively modulater at 6,000,000 times per second!"

Not easy, of course, but it is only one approach. Another:

"Let our synthetic chemists provide a new type of light-modulating liquid cell; or, better yet, a new type of refracting crystal which deflects a transmitted light beam quantitively in response to the received modulated television signal.

This beam could then be spread sequentially over the viewing screen by a mirror drum or two drums, as above described, transversing first a focusing lens or system of lenses."

* * *

De Forest was speculating in the current issue of the technical journal, "Radio and Electronics," whose publisher is Hugo Gernsback, a prophet of considerable honor in the electronic field because he predicted the coming both of radio and television years before most people thought them anything but science - fiction dreams.

* * *

Gernsback carried DeForest's reasoning one step further. People want larger TV pictures, yet "we have even now reached the practical limit in our direct view television tubes."

Therefore, it is "almost certain" that both black and white and color TV sets will some day be based upon projection-type receivers.

He thought many of the technical bugs in existing experimental projection tubes had been removed and others could be.

More important, is the public's indifference to the projection idea, and he surmised that this indifference is due to the nature of the present day screen.

Most home walls are not light enough to make good screens he said. Roll-up, portable screens are "psychologically wrong — they always look like makeshifts." The industry must develop a screen "both esthetic and utilitarian."

He suggested a permanently installed wall mirror three by four feet "or larger." Its back could be made white when it was used as a TV screen.

At other times it would serve as an "art mirror." Or there might be "a beautiful painting in a frame."

It would be painted on closely fitting, narrow slats. By turning a crank in the picture frame, the slats would reverse and form a plain, white surface.

But "there are many other optical, chemical, and mechanical ways to accomplish the same result," he added.

HANG-ON RADIO—Passengers can listen to the radio and relax while riding on Milan, Italy, streetcars, after loudspeaker systems were installed in public transit vehicles. All a passenger has to do is pull a strap and the radio goes on. The loudspeaker, small enough to fit just above the strap, is connected to a radio near the driver's seat.

Music Report on Board's List

Dale C. Harris to Tell Education Group About Instrumental Tutoring

A report on Saturday tutoring in instrumental music at Pontiac High School is among items slated for Pontiac Board of Education's attention at its regular meeting Wednesday.

The session will start at 7:30 p.m. at board offices, 40 Patterson St.

Dale C. Harris, director of instrumental music for Pontiac Public Schools, will tell the board about the Saturday music instruction.

The board also will consider transferring money for Pontiac High School alterations and an ash removal and coal hoist system to the building and site fund.

New teachers, resignations, and other items also are on the agenda.

Ice-Fisherman Dies in Ventless Shanty

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — William G. Sholes, 33, of Tekonsha, in Calhoun County, suffocated yesterday while ice fishing in a shanty on Nottawa Lake.

His body was discovered by a companion, Eugene Renicki, who returned to the shanty to find Sholes, the father of three children, slumped over an oil heater with his clothes on fire.

There was no air vent or chimney in the shanty and Calhoun County Coroner R. D. Scott said death was caused by asphyxiation.

No Hat Hindrance

NEW YORK (AP)—In one movie theater here your view is seldom obstructed by a hat on the woman in front of you. A sign in the lobby says: "Elderly ladies are permitted to wear hats during the performance."

The Zulus of South Africa believe that every man always is accompanied by an ancestral spirit in the form of a serpent which moves underground. If the serpent dies the man dies and then the serpent comes to life again.

Circuit Court Opens With 7 Arraignments

Three persons stood mute, three pleaded guilty and one pleaded not guilty when arraigned yesterday before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge George B. Hartrick, at the opening of the February term of circuit court.

Guilty pleas were entered on negligent homicide, auto theft and attempted breaking and entering in the nighttime charges. One was released on bond for future sentence and the other two were returned to Oakland County Jail when unable to post bond.

One person was released on a $500 personal bond after pleading not guilty to discharge of firearms and bonds of $1,000, $500 and $100 were posted by those who stood mute.

New Recording Answers Junior's Stork Queries

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ever have little Junior ask: "Where did I come from, Mommy?"

If you're like most of us parents, you probably stammered, got red in the face, then blurted out some makeshift answer that sounded a little stupid—even to Junior.

Today, Capital Records previewed the easy way to answer those inevitable stork queries. A new record album due Feb. 1 is called "The Birth of a Baby." It is just exactly that.

The album is a 30-minute tape recording of an actual birth which was produced for a radio broadcast with the parents' cooperation over station WISC, Madison, Wis.

The only people allowed in the delivery room were the doctors, nurses and the mother. The baby, the mother's first, also showed up. All are anonymous, although the father was a University of Wisconsin student when the baby was born two years ago.

A doctor acts as commentator and does a good job on the play-by-play, sounding somewhat like a medical Edward R. Murrow describing the coronation of a queen. He even starts off in the best broadcasting manner, i.e.:

"The obstetrician has just entered the delivery room."

From then on, every detail and sound of the baby's birth is recorded, building up the suspense that only nature can create. The album even has a strong finish, the baby's crying drowns out the commentator.

The polar bear and the polar fox range farther north than any other land mammal.

KING OPTICAL CO.
COMES TO PONTIAC

PONTIAC, Mich.—(Special)—If you need or wear glasses, you should be interested in the amazing offer being made to the readers of this newspaper by the King Optical Co., 3½ S. Saginaw St., Kay Bldg., Suite 202, corner Saginaw and Pike Sts. Phone FEderal 5-9081, where they offer their sensational new policy — one price to all; 100 styles shapes and colors at one price of $8.98, no more, no less; you just can't pay more. Price of $8.98 includes your choice of frames and opthalmic quality precision ground and polished lenses, processed to your exact needs, regardless of prescription or lens strength required. A tremendous assortment of latest style frames to choose from; gold filled frames and rimless mountings; zylo frames in all colors, shapes and sizes, with or without gold trim; combination zylo and gold filled frames, laminates, Scotch Plaids, etc.

The King Optical Co. states that there is no reason why good glasses should cost more than $8.98 and invite comparison; that though their price is low, they couldn't use finer materials or better workmanship if they were to charge $35.00. There is no extra charge of any kind for extra strong corrections, for tints, for astigmatism or for fancy shapes. There is no switching and no high pressured salesmanship.

The firm offers $1,000.00 Reward to anyone who can purchase glasses at their office for more than the price they advertise. This reward offer is guaranteed by two leading London, England Insurance Companies. Bifocal glasses are also available in Double Vision, Seamless, Invisible Kryptoks, One-Piece Ultex and Flat Top types at $4.98 additional.

The firm has branches in Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Battle Creek, Hamtramck, Muskegon and Kalamazoo, and in many principal cities of U.S. and Canada. Office hours are 9 A. M. to 5:30 P. Commission Will Consider Assessment Formula

SUPPLY LINES—The strategic importance of the aerial doorway Thule Air Force has opened to the Arctic is shown graphically in these contrast pictures. For eight months of the year, sea route to the area is blocked by ice like that through which the LST struggles behind ice-breaker (above). But big cargo planes, like the C-124 loading below at Thule, work all year 'round.

Exploitation of Polar Region

Air Supply Could Realize Arctic Explorers' Dream

This is the second of three dispatches by Douglas Larsen on the United States' new Air Force base at Thule, Greenland.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

THULE AIR FORCE BASE, Greenland (NEA)—The Air Force may have the answer to the great dream of all Arctic explorers: extensive settlement and exploitation of the tremendous mineral wealth of the vast polar region.

This could come from the unique system it has found for supplying great numbers of men operating this newest, most costly and most strategically important air base the U. S. has built since World War II.

That system is supply through the air. It's necessary because from Sept. 30 to July 1 the water route to Thule, located half way between the North Pole and the Arctic Circle, is frozen. There is no land route.

It's an operation which embodies all the lessons of the World Wat II "hump" flying and the Berlin and Korean airlifts. It's more ambitious than any previous air supply program because the distance is greater and for the first time it's an integral part of the permanent planning for a major overseas base.

Cargo and personnel funnel into here from two main supply points: the U. S. terminal at Westover AFB, Mass., and headquarters of the Northeast Air Command at Pepperrell AFB, St. Johns, Newfoundland.

In addition to the tremendous needs of Thule for all kinds of supplies, many tons of freight are reflown from here to advance radar stations of the continental fence, isolated forward weather and communications posts and to numerous scientific parties in the upper polar regions. This supply activity is a major mission of the base.

Tremendous planning goes into figuring almost everything needed during the port's closed months so that as much of total needs as possible can be shipped in.

However, the complexity of the other mission, support of giant bomber and fighter-interceptor operations, means that thousands of unexpected needs come up which must be satisfied quickly by air. Such things as mail and perishable food must be flown in daily.

About 500 tons of cargo and tion. Most of the cargo is just dropped or parachuted in. Ingenious ways have been devised to do this job such as attaching long flares to dropped cargo to keep it from being lost in the snow and darkness.

Many Thule officers feel that the greatest potential of the base as a future benefit to private enterprise is as an air terminal. If this is true, a sure by-product will be fulfillment of the explorer's dreams of growing populations in this frozen but rich area, kept alive by air support.

Koreans Convicted for Betraying Dean

SEOUL (AP)—Two Koreans were convicted today of betraying Maj. Gen. William F. Dean to the Communists in 1950. One was sentenced to death and the other to life imprisonment.

Although the prosecution asked five-year prison terms for both defendants, the judge sentenced Choe Chong Bong to death and Han Doo Kyoo to life imprisonment.

Both men admitted accepting $5 rewards from the Reds following the capture of the 24th Division commander. They insisted, however, that they had been trying to help Dean when he was captured.

The general wrote to President Syngman Rhee asking clemency for the two men, but the judge said no official notice of the letter was given to the court.

LANSING (AP)—Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth of Flint has agreed to serve as chairman of a citizen's committee to sponsor an independent survey of Michigan's probation and parole supervision programs.

'53 Business Up at Local Airport

All Hangars Occupied; Total of Based Planes at 117

Number of airplanes permanently based at Pontiac Municipal Airport increased from 107 to 117 during 1953, according to Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager.

"All hangars are fully occupied and 39 aircraft owners are on the waiting list," said Hoskins.

"A steady growth of activity is evidenced by sale of a total of 97,357 gallons of aviation fuel in 1953, compared with 94,849 gallons during 1952," Hoskins stated.

Some 2,911 passenger carrying and cargo trips started or ended at the airport in 1953, contrasted with 2,039 in the previous year, the airport manager said.

"We expect business to continue on the upswing in 1954," he remarked.

Major maintenance items listed by Hoskins included applying 11,134 square yards of surfacing material on the parking and taxi area. Airport and Department of Public Works employes did the work at cost of $1,200.

Over 12,000 square feet of roof surfacing material was applied to Hangars 1 and 2 at cost of about $950. The north-south and southwest-northeast runways were repaired by resealing worn and damaged areas and 400 feet of the southeast runway was regraded.

A Douglas DC-3 owned by the Rich-Wing Corp. of Detroit was based at the airport for a short time, the largest plane to be stationed here.

The large transport plane had to move to Wayne Major Airport, said Hoskins, when the corporation's insurance company advised their required minimum runway length was 3,150 feet, while Pontiac Airport's length is 2,500 feet.

Amendment to Be Discussed

Tonight's Agenda Also Includes 24 Hearings on Street Projects

Pontiac City Commission tonight has scheduled 24 public hearings and discussion of possible changes in property owners' shares of the costs of sidewalks, drains and other improvements.

The amendment changing the city's special assessment formula is on the agenda for tonight's commission meeting at 8 p. m. at Pontiac Municipal Court, 8 S. Mill St.

The commission is expected to discuss appointing a member to Oakland County Board of Supervisors. The recent death of Clare W. Seery, board chairman, left a vacancy in Pontiac's 10-man delegation.

Edwin Gage, owner of the Tel-Huron Shopping Center, is scheduled to talk over proposed rezoning of property along Telegraph road near Glendale avenue.

Pontiac-Oakland County Industrial Union Council has a request that the city try to keep the U. S. Government from closing down 180 temporary homes in Crystal Beach and Parkview subdivisions. The temporary dwellings, built during World War II, house hundreds of people, the union council says. The council says the government plans to close the units July 1.

Commissioners are expected to discuss a request from Frank P. Benning for transfer of location of a 1953 Class C liquor license from 522 S. Saginaw St. to 137 Oakland Ave. and to add Settimio Sesti as partner on the license.

Rezoning of two lots at Columbia and Joslyn avenues to permit business use is also on tonight's meeting schedule.

Bellevue from Paddock to Jessie
Belmont from Michigan to Hazel Bend
Bliss from Hill to Parkhurst
Chandler from Mariva to East Boulevard
Douglas from Pike to Mt. Clemens
Jessie from Mechanic to Hazel Bend
Lois from Roselawn to East Boulevard
Michigan from Paddock to East Boulevard
Shirley from Pike to Fiddis
Tasmania from Pike to Maines
Center from Auburn to Whittemore
Cottage from Saginaw to Perkins
South Edith from Whittemore to Osmun
Judson from Shirley to Sanford
Midway from Sanford to East Boulevard
Raeburn from East Boulevard to railroad
Whittemore from Sanford to East Boulevard.

Public hearings on special assessment rolls for two-inch blacktop pavements on the following streets are also scheduled tonight:

Jacokes from Lafayette to Murray
Portage from Stout to Johnson
East Ann Arbor from Baldwin to University
Mansfield from Joslyn to Barkell
Mansfield from Barkell to Fuller
Monterey from Mt. Clemens to Omar.

Students at Cairo Clash, 4 Injured

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Rival student factions clashed at Cairo University today and four youths were reported injured.

Witnesses said the incident occurred while students of the extreme Nationalist Moslem Brotherhood were commemorating the anniversary of the death of a comrade who fell in the anti-British fighting in the Suez Canal zone in 1951.

Michigan Skiing in Full Swing

Snack Bars and Lodges Provided at Most of 38 Sports Centers

Michigan's winter sports season is in full swing with 38 well-equipped ski centers in operation this year, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Slalom bowls for the expert skier, as well as runs for the skier of moderate ability and easy slopes for beginners will be found at most winter sports areas.

Of the 38 ski centers, one is new: The Missaukee Mountains Winter Park near Lake City, in the northwest section of the Lower Peninsula.

At Boyne Mountain Lodge near Boyne City, also in the northwest part of the Lower Peninsula, a heated outdoor swimming pool is in use this year. The pool is open to the public the year 'round.

Warming stations, snack bars, lodges, restaurants and even cocktail lounges are among facilities offered Michigan's winter vacationists.

The Michigan Tourist Council predicts that some 300,000 skiers, skaters, ice-fishermen and hunters will visit the state's winter recreational areas before the season closes.

Store Manager Tests Clerk, Finds Her Alert

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Store manager Alec Fox, left a few minutes before closing time. But, wanting to test his clerk's alertness, he reentered the store and punched the cash register.

Mrs. Glenna Jeffries, 26, the clerk, heard the register ring. Alarmed, she looked around and saw "a man in a topcoat bending over the register."

She notified the manager of an adjoining store, Charles Forbes, that someone was rifling the register.

Forbes called police, who dashed to the store and found Fox still standing near the register. Remarked Fox:

"I guess she was alert all right."

Reuther Fighting to End Gambling in Auto Plants

Editor's Note: Walter Reuther's fight to keep the wage increases he wins for his auto workers from going into the pockets of plant gamblers almost cost him his life, some high authorities believe. After nearly six years of investigation, five men are accused of plotting his death with a shotgun in April, 1948. The following dispatch describes how gamblers operate in the plants and what has been done to curb them.

By WAYNE KLEIN

DETROIT (UP) — Most of the bets are small but the best estimate is that $60,000,000 a year goes into the pockets of gamblers preying on auto workers in the Motor City's forest of factories.

One of the leaders in the fight to stamp out numbers and mutuels rings, horse betting and even high-priced card games right in the plants has been CIO President Walter P. Reuther.

It is a lush field for gamblers. Naturally they take hard any attempt to flush them. One theory is the gamblers decided Reuther was pushing his campaign too hard and that is why a shotgun charge tore through a window of his home into his shoulder on April 20, 1948. A syndicate was out to get him, some firmly believe.

Reuther, a non-drinker and non-smoker, is tolerant of the habits of his fellow union officials and members. But his tolerance ends when it comes to gambling. The price in strikes and other efforts to get workers' wages up, he explains, is too high for the rewards to be siphoned off by gamblers.

After consolidating his position as president of the 1,250,000 member UAW in 1947, Reuther has waged a continuous campaign against the rackets in auto plants.

He pushed through an amendment to the union's constitution prohibiting any man found gambling inside the plants from ever holding union office. The union's executive board has made it a policy not to recognize grievances of workers found guilty of gambling. This takes away his right of complaint, no matter how wronged he may have been, because under union-management contract a worker's grievance first is passed on by the union as to it validity.

But the UAW recognized that penalties are not enough. The workers must be educated to the fact that gambling pays only the gambler. A 32-page booklet now is in the works proving how badly the odds go against bettors in all games of chance.

Mutuel games are the most popular. The bets usually are small and the payoff big — when there is one. The auto worker sees a chance, no matter how small it is, to buy a new car, make a down payment on a house or send his children to college on a 50-cent or one dollar bet.

And in the auto plant, the gambler has all his suckers close at hand. The runners — persons who accept and payoff bets — get jobs that permit them to move about in the plants. A good runner will make from $100 to $500 a week in addition to his factory pay.

The Detroit Police Department has regular vice squads keeping an eye out for them. But arresting them is a thankless job. Another just pops up the next day. The trick is to get the syndicate leaders. State Police recently arrested the alleged top figures in a "United Nations" syndicate at Flint.

A three-card monte game was broken up at a Detroit plant. It had been in operation just three weeks but in that time the sharks netted $23,000.

One headache for Reuther is that a few locals "look the other way" on gambling. Some small-time officials also have been in on the take. "But we're weeding them out and cutting them down," a spokesman said.

Employes Put Out Fire at Huron Optical Lab

A $250 fire in the Huron Optical Laboratory, 818 Community National Bank Building, was extinguished yesterday by employes of the company, according to Pontiac firemen.

Lawrence McCulloch, owner of the optical company, said today that a steel tool being heated on a hot plate fell into a pan of solvent and pitch, which ignited.

Eden Reiterates German Policy

Says Free Elections Must Precede Uniting of Country

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden declared last night that Britain "can never abandon" the Allied position that free all-German elections must precede reunification of the divided, occupied country.

His statement, on a national radio broadcast two weeks before the Big Four foreign ministers are scheduled to meet in Berlin, served notice that progress in the talks would depend on Russia's changing her fixed policies.

* * *

The Soviets have held out for formation of a provisional government as the first step toward reuniting Germany. They insist also that East Germany should have the same representation in such a regime as more populous West Germany.

In Berlin, representatives of the three Western Powers and the Russians still were unable to agree on a site in the divided city for the Jan. 25 ministerial conference. After three days of meetings, the representatives of the four powers recessed early today until tomorrow.

Eden said the West must insist on free Germany-wide elections "for that is the only method by which we can get a representative German government with which the four powers can discuss a German settlement."

* * *

It would be a "reasonable request," he said, if the Russians asked for "assurances" against possible revival of German aggression.

French Hit Vietminh in 19th Attack by Air

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — Bearcat fighters from the French aircraft carrier Arromanches joined land-based French fighters and bombers today in the 19th straight day of bombing and strafing Vietminh forces clustered around the fortified plain of Dien Bien Phu in northwest Indochina.

There still was no indication of when the estimated 20,000 Communist-led rebels would launch their anticipated assault on the big French fortress position on the northern border of the kingdom of Laos.

Continuing their mopups in the Red River delta around Hanoi, French army headquarters reported 18 Vietminh killed and 43 captured.

Princess Dating 3 Eligible Men

Margaret Is Keeping Gossips Guessing On Status of Townsend

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret has that gay, happy look again and the gossip grapevine is wondering if she's shaken off an old heartbeat for someone new.

Reports from Brussels say RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend, rumored No. 1 in the princess' affections last year, has found a new romantic interest in Dutch Countess Alwina Van Limburg Stirum. And the 23-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II recently has been buzzing about with not one but three highly eligible young men.

* * *

The countess has denied rumors of any engagement plans with Townsend but acknowledged to reporters she often goes riding with the handsome wartime air hero. "We are just good friends," she said.

Townsend was transferred from London to Brussels as air attache last summer amid persistent speculation that Princess Margaret wanted to marry him.

Some church officials and government higher-ups reportedly were worried over the possible union between the princess and the 34-year-old Townsend, who is divorced.

* * *

Good friends of Princess Margaret say the slim, violet-eyed girl is heart-free again and the Townsend problem has receded quietly into the background.

Despite the "heart-free" talk, three names have weighed heavy recently in the perennial gossip sweepstakes for the princess' hand.

The newest is that of 30-year-old Lord Plunket, tall and handsome captain in the Irish Guards and a temporary equerry to Queen Mother Elizabeth. Plunket—Patrick to the royal family—has escorted Margaret often to the theater and spent last weekend with the princess and her mother at the royal lodge at Sandringham.

Still a frequent companion of Margaret is Mark Bonham-Carter, publisher's assistant and son of Sir Maurice and Lady Violet Bonham-Carter. The gossips really twittered when they were out together three nights in a row recently.

And the princess is being seen again with Billy Wallace, polo-playing stepson of Herbert Agar, former Louisville, Ky., newspaper editor. He's a long-time escort.

Budget Based on Ike 'Pledge'

Williams Is Banking on Continued Prosperity in 1954-55

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams' budget recommendation for 1954-55 is based on a conservative expectation of "continued prosperity."

Williams filed his $365 million budget document with the Legislature in preparation for the opening of the 1954 session tomorrow. The budget is 8 per cent above this year—but is "balanced" for the first time in Williams' five years in office.

The governor and his advisers leaned heavily, Williams said, on the "pledge" by President Eisenhower for "prompt use of every legitimate means available to the federal government that can be used to sustain prosperity."

Williams also emphasized the optimistic forecasts of the President's Council of Economic Advisers and other spokesmen of the national administration.

He said that these forecasts agreed with earlier ones made by his budget office, but that the state's crystal-gazing was slightly more conservative.

Williams estimated the state treasury's general fund will take in $5,600,000 less than this year.

Actually, he forecast an $8 million, or 4½ per cent, drop in the state sales tax, a $1,750,000 reduction in liquor revenues and $600,000 less from the use tax.

But, he said these are balanced by the increased return expected from the new business receipts tax. The latter tax is expected to produce $11 million more than it did this year, because it was only collected on three-fourths of the current year.

Juror Remains on Case Despite News of Tragedy

CLEVELAND (AP) — A four-day trial of two men on grand larceny charges was nearing a close when a juror learned his son had been killed in a Nebraska airplane crash.

If the juror were released from further duty, as Common Pleas Judge Earl R. Hoover offered yesterday, it would mean a mistrial. The case would have to be tried again.

Andrew Andrews, 47, a juror, decided to remain. "I would like to leave for Nebraska now, but . . . I want to do my duty to my community," he explained.

Five hours later the jury completed its work, acquitting one man and convicting another of stealing coiled wire.

"An act of heroism," Judge Hoover said of Andrews' decision.

Priest Is Glad to Die of Cancer

Ex-Detroiter Rev. Julius Busse Waits for Death, Welcomes Extra Time

PARSONS, Kan. (AP)—"I consider it a privilege to die of cancer."

The Rev. Julius Busse uttered these words from his bed at Mercy Hospital here, and explained:

"You see, with cancer you have time to prepare for death. With something like a heart attack, you go too quickly to make your final preparations."

Smiling, but speaking matter-of-factly, the 46-year-old Catholic priest said yesterday in an interview:

* * *

Death is no stranger to the priest, an Army chaplain five years. He served with the 7th division in World War II.

* * *

"It isn't the certainty of death that men fear," he said. "It is the uncertainty of death. The soldiers I saw die weren't frightened any longer after they knew for sure they were going to die."

After his service in the Army he was a rector at Louisville, Ky., and Detroit.

In September 1952, he resigned his post at Detroit, intending to go to Japan to set up a Passionist monastery. But illness halted his plans. He came to Parsons and underwent surgery for cancer. His health has been fading since.

1954 Packards Unveiled Friday

Feature New Model in Clipper Line; Tubeless Tires Optional

Packard's 1954 model cars will go on dealer display Jan. 15 with an entirely new model in the Clipper series, a 212 horse-power engine in the Packard series, and tubeless tires as optional equipment.

It will be the first time that tubeless tires have been offered as original equipment by any manufacturer.

List prices generally will remain unchanged, although some models with added equipment or optional items of last year made standard, will include the cost of the equipment in the tag.

Packard said dealers' authorized handling charge will be increased $3 on four models, to make the charge uniform on all models. A $10 to $15 increase in the pre-delivery charge has been authorized by some other makers with their new model introductions.

The Packard price range runs from $2,544 for the special club sedan to $3,125 for the Panama model in the Clipper series. In the Packard series it runs from $3,344 for the Cavalier to $7,250 for the eight-passenger, chauffeur - driven limousine.

The new Packard series engine is a straight eight, claimed to possess unusual acceleration properties. Other engines are the Clipper special at 150 horsepower; a Clipper deluxe at 165 and the Cavalier with 185.

Packard said the new 212 horsepower engine is its leading mechanical innovation. However, all models have advanced styling, numerous new color combination inside and outside, and a variety of upholstery fabrics.

Added to optional items this year is a four-way power seat. This and power steering, power brakes, and electric window lifts are among improvements made standard on the Packard Caribbean model. They are optional, extra-cost on all other models.

The Clipper and Packard series provide a total of 14 separate body styles for 1954. New in the Clipper models in a super model. A luxury hardtop, called the Pacific, is new to the Packard series.

PACKARD CLIPPER CLUB SEDAN—New Packards will go on display in dealer showrooms Friday. Shown above is the Clipper deluxe club sedan. Major styling changes have been made in the medium-priced Clipper lines, while the company has returned to more conservative styling changes in its high-priced Packard line. Engines have increased power, with the new Packard engine developing 212 horsepower. The new cars will be shown in this area by Mazurek Motor Sales, 245 East South Blvd., and Vreeland Brothers Sales & Service, 490-500 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake.

Clarence Jacobs Facing Quiz in Thompson Murder

Clarence Jacobs, named as the gunman in the Reuther assassination plot, faces questioning in the unsolved murder of Lydia Thompson.

Capt. Howard L. Seiler, head of the Michigan State Police Post at Redford, said Jacobs will be questioned for the following reasons.

1. An anonymous informant, who in 1950 linked Jacobs to the Reuther case, referred to the suspect as "the key to the Lydia Thompson case."

2. Jacobs is a former employe of Santo (Sam) Perrone, whose name cropped up during the Thompson investigation.

The captain said, however, that his men would delay the questioning until it wouldn't interfere with the case against Jacobs in the Reuther shooting.

Jacobs, accused by missing witness Don Ritchie of shooting UAW President Walter Reuther in 1948, was arrested last week by Canadian authorities. He is fighting extradition.

Capt. Seiler said Jacobs has been sought since 1950, but had eluded arrest in the United States by returning to Canada each time authorities got hot on his trail.

He said the questioning might be delayed months due to the extradition proceedings.

Although pointing out that Jacobs must be considered a suspect in the Thompson ax-slaying, Capt. Seiler said, "We aren't too excited."

He pointed out that "officers investigating the Thompson case get anonymous tips periodically, but "nothing of major importance has shown up yet."

Besides the anonymous information linking Jacobs to the murder, the captain pointed out that a Perrone tie-in with the Thompson case never has been proved.

After Mrs. Thompson's savagely slashed body was found in a woodlot in White Lake Township in 1945, a search of her fashionable Orchard Lake home revealed a note mentioning Perrone.

The note, apparently in Mrs. Thompson's handwriting, said: "If anything happens to me, see Sam Perone."

Although the name was misspelled (Perrone spells his name with a double "r"), police and special investigators questioned him at length.

But Perrone steadfastly denied even knowning Mrs. Thompson, let alone having any knowledge of the crime. The Detroit suspect, sought in the current Reuther inquiry, even took lie detector tests, said Capt. Seiler. He was released.

The Reuther assassination attempt and the Thompson slaying differed greatly, added Capt. Seiler. One was a professional-type shooting, while the other apparently was a sadistic murder of passion.

Even though police have made little progress toward solving the Lydia Thompson case, Capt. Seiler gave every indication that the investigation is far from ended.

Atom Scientist Urey Attacks McCarthy

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)—Dr. Harold C. Urey, atomic scientist and Nobel Prize winner, last night criticized the congressional probe of alleged espionage at Ft. Monmouth and said, "I don't believe the U.S.S.R. has a better agent in this country than Sen. McCarthy."

The scientist called such investigations "an irresponsible type of activity."

He said he had been told that the Ft. Monmouth investigation conducted by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) had "ruined morale" among scientific personnel at the Army radar and communications research center there. He expressed the fear that such developments might discourage young people from going into scientific work.

Urey made the remarks in reply to questions from an audience attending a lecture sponsored by the Schenectady Freedom Forum.

Cowboys' Feet Getting Bigger; Boots Prove It

DENVER (AP) — Take it from a man who knows, cowboys' feet are getting bigger.

"Yes sir," says Theron Brooks, sales manager for one of the Southwest's oldest manufacturers of cowboy boots, "the cowboys of yesteryear didn't begin to fill the boots of the modern-day range rider."

Brooks said cowboys of the early 20th century rode their horses wherever they went and, as a consequence, their feet took an average 5½ size.

Today's cowpokes currently average a size 9½ boot.

Court Upholds Illegal Evidence

Opinion Affirms Man's Gambling Conviction in Maryland Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — A state may permit some of its counties to use in gambling trials evidence obtained by illegal search and seizure, the Supreme Court has ruled.

"Territorial uniformity is not a constitutional requisite," said justice Berton, author of the opinion handed down by the court yesterday.

The 7-1 decision affirmed conviction on bookmaking charges of Julius Salsburg in Anne Arundel County, Md.

Maryland conceded the evidence against him was obtained by local police in an illegal search and seizure, but pointed to a 1951 state law which provided that illegally obtained evidence could be used in Anne Arundel and two other counties.

Salsburg was sentenced to six months and fined $1,000. Justice Douglas wrote a short dissent in support of Salsburg. He said the federal constitution bars the use in any criminal prosecution of "evidence obtained by lawless actior of police."

In another action, the high tribunal split 4-4 and thus let stand a lower court decision that Serge Rubinstein may remain free on $1,000 bail while contesting a deportation order.

The decision was given by the U. S. Court of Appeals here, in rejecting a Justice Department effort to revoke Rubinstein's bail and hold him on Ellis Island. The wealthy, Russian-born financier now will have a trial in federal court here on the issue of legality of the deportation order. The order was based on a 1947 conviction on draft dodging charges.

Women at Home Are Better Than Average Drivers

CHICAGO (UP)—A survey shows that housewives are better than average drivers, husbands and cartoonists to the contrary.

In 64 occupational classes listed according to insurance loss ratios, housewives ranked 28th in the handling of private passenger cars.

They were well ahead of auto salesmen, 32nd, truck drivers, 43rd, garage employes, 48th, and most professional groups.

The rankings, made by statisticians for the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co., cover the years 1949-1951.

The housewives also placed ahead of the clergy, who in 55th place were in strange company, just ahead of entertainers and liquor distributors.

Teachers, who also include a lot of women, placed seventh to set a good example for students who finished in 62nd place.

Some of the other groups shown up were insurance agents, 53rd, doctors, 39th, lawyers, 50th, and enlisted military personnel, 64th.

Farmers, ranked fourth, led all other major occupational groups. They were preceded only by proprietors of wholesale businesses, county agents, and retired persons, each a much smaller class.

Jan. 27 Trial Set in City Parking Suit

Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick today set Jan. 27 as trial date for Pontiac city's petition to condemn property at 11-49 Parke St. for a public parking lot.

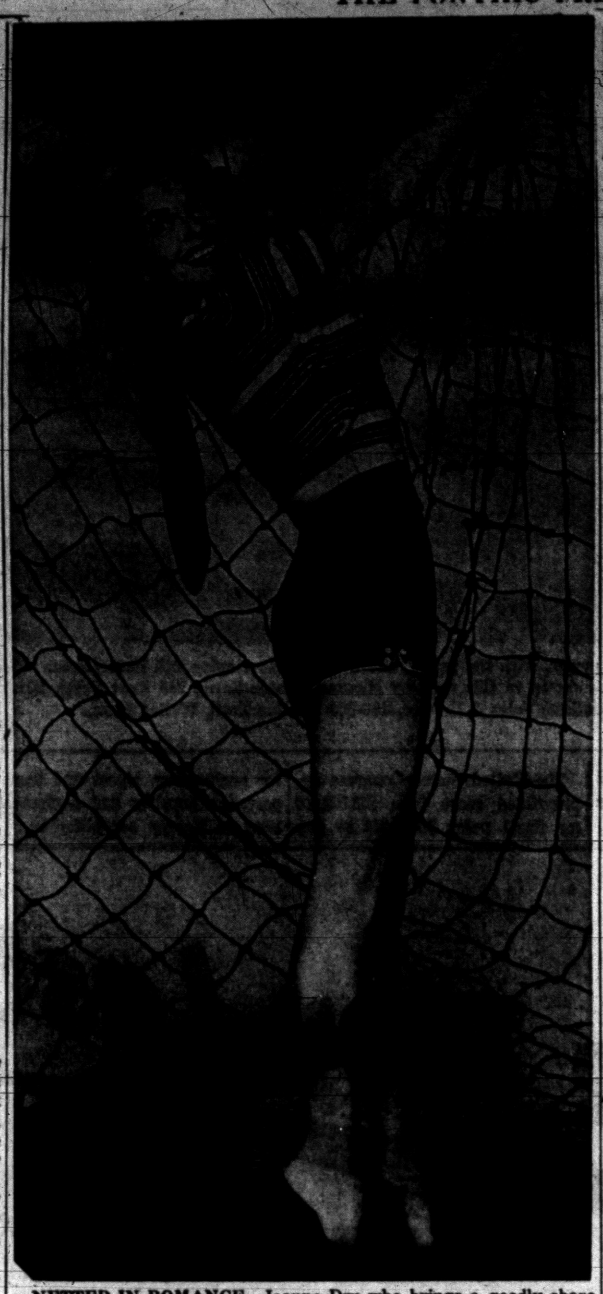

Selection of a jury for the hearing, originally scheduled for today was postponed until the day of the trial at presiding Judge Hartrick's suggestion.

The petition for condemnation was filed by City Attorney William A. Ewart last August. Use of the property plus adjoining city-owned land for a 200-car metered parking lot was deemed a public necessity by Pontiac City Commission.

Polygamy Is Insurance

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (INS)—An editorial in the Nyasaland newspaper "Bwalo" recommends polygamy as solid "unemployment insurance" and explains it this way: "Sometimes for unforeseen reasons you may be recommended for the sack from your work. I have seen many people who suffer when they return home after working for a long time. This happens because they have no second wife at home to do some work for them."

Partly Built Home Destroyed by Fire

Fire destroyed a partly constructed $35,000 house at Bald Eagle Lake near Ortonville last night despite a three-hour battle to save it.

Robert Chambers of 233 Breckenridge, Ferndale, had already put some furniture in the home preparatory to moving in, said Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Everett Fredericks. Damage to the contents was estimated at $5,000.

The Ortonville Volunteer Fire Department fought the flames from 10:30 p. m. until nearly 2 a. m. today. Origin of the fire was not determined.

Instructor Offers an 'A' for Teacher, Babysitter

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Assistant professor John W. Schwada, red-eyed and weary after a night of walking the floor with his infant daughter, slumped into his chair to begin his 8 o'clock class in International Organizations at the University of Missouri.

He offered a top grade to any class member "who will either teach this course for the remainder of the semester or take over as a babysitter at my house."

Johnny Ray to Get Divorce in Mexico

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A Mexican divorce is scheduled Thursday for 26-year-old Johnny Ray and Marilyn Morrison, 23, daughter of Hollywood night club operator Charlie Morrison.

The weeping singer and his wife, who separated a year ago, have agreed on a financial settlement and she will obtain the decree, her father told newsmen. She will leave tomorrow for El Paso, where she will meet Ray. The case will come before a judge in Chihuahua.

The couple was married in May 1952 and separated the following January.

Michigan Group Asks U. S. Cash

Waterways Men Dine Congressmen, Explain River, Harbor Needs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan congressmen got a dinner last night from 20 members of a Michigan delegation who hope to convince Congress to spend 89½ million dollars for waterway inprovements in Michigan.

Bert Robb Waterways Commission director, told the congressmen that the 89½ million dollar figure was arrived at after the group had made a study of 36 river and harbor projects.

He said the figure "was not optimistic, nor was it inflated or padded in expectation that it will be cut."

State Rep. George Van Peursem of Zeeland pointed out that Michigan has received only 178 million dollars of some 3½ billion spent by the federal government on waterways projects.

The dinner was sponsored jointly by the Marine Affairs Committee of which Van Peursem is a member, and the Joint Interim Committe on Flood Control and Drainage, of the Michigan Legislature.

State Sen. Frank Heath of Bay City, chairman of the interim committee, said that congressional appropriations for projects that Congress originally authorized many years ago "have dwindled almost to the vanishing point."

Harry F. Schmidt of Port Austin chairman, said that the state's waterways help make Michigan the "arsenal of democracy.' But he said the federal government has contributed little compared to money collected by the state, in deepening channels and improving harbors.

Open Forum for Vets Slated Here Sunday

An open forum meeting giving veterans opportunity to gain official information and discuss their problems is scheduled for Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in the Disabled American Veterans home, 199 Auburn Ave.

Officers slated to preside include Denvil D. Adams, national veterans service officer; Frederick G. Beattie, of the U. S. Department of Labor; Joseph Tabor, DAV state commander; Russell G. Hill, Michigan field service officer; and Fred S. Galloway, director of Oakland County veterans affairs.

Ray C. Jewell, publicity chairman, said information will be supplied on subjects including new legislation, rehabilitation, widow's and children's pensions, federal loans, hospitalization and other related fields.

Once each year, Jewell explained, Oakland County veterans assemble to hear and question national and state veterans service officers.

Stars Tiring of Film Chores in Other Lands

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Stars like Clark Gable, Lana Turner, Gene Kelly and Claudette Colbert have returned from long picture-making jaunts abroad, and chances are they won't soon be going again.

Gregory Peck and Alan Ladd are reportedly among those yearning for an early return to Hollywood. Aside from the normal feeling of homesickness, many of the stars have good reasons for wanting to be back.

Glenn Ford, who has made at least five pictures out of the country, was telling me some of the factors that will cause him to think twice before he accepts another overseas assignment. Unlike the others I have mentioned, Glenn did not go abroad for tax purposes.

* * *

"I could very easily have taken advantage of the 18-month tax deal," said the actor on "The Human Beast" set. "I had already been in Europe eight months to make a picture. But another 10 months would have meant spending two Christmases away from home. I couldn't see it.

"I suppose I was stupid financially. But it turned out that the tax deal was repealed before I would have finished my 18 months, and I wouldn't have earned a fabulous amount of money."

He had this to say to actors who are contemplating overseas films:

"If you are planning to go for a paid vacation, you've got a shock coming. Put your travel folders away. You can fix your contract to provide time before and after the production. But you'll generally find you have to start work the moment you arrive. And the extra month you planned for touring will probably be taken up with finishing the picture.

* * *

"Two things you will learn making pictures in foreign countries: patience and tolerance. You can't expect to find the comforts you have in Hollywood. Wardrobe? You carry your own. Dressing room? They'll laugh at you when you mention it. Heat on the set? There isn't any. If you want to keep warm, you'll buy a heater and keep it beside you.

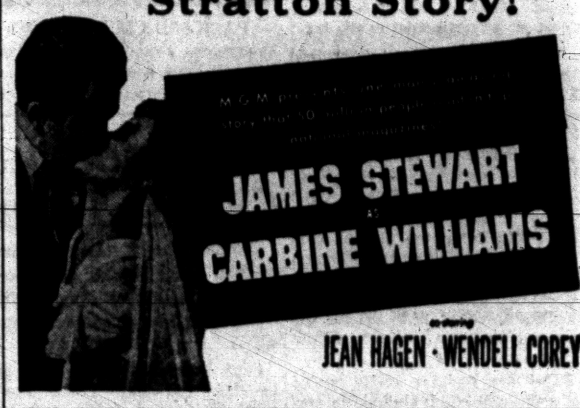

"You'll also have to learn that time means nothing. A scene that takes five hours to shoot in Hollywood will require five days over there. In France, work starts at 9 in the morning. But that doesn't mean everyone is on the set and ready to shoot at 9. That's the hour when everyone starts to arrive at the studio!

"Another thing you'll learn: that American actors aren't welcome everywhere. In England, they're glad to have you and treat you well. But in many other countries, they resent your presence. They consider that you are taking jobs that rightfully belong to native actors.

* * *

"They also think of Americans as children. They consider Hollywood movies juvenile and laugh at our 'childish' tastes."

Kentucky Keeps Place Atop AP's Basketball Poll

Hickok Award to Ben
Hogan Wins $10,000 Belt as Leading Pro

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The honors keep piling up for Ben Hogan for his unprecedented sweep of the U. S. and British Open championships and the Augusta Masters Tournament in 1953.

Hogan, named as the Male Athlete of the Year in the Associated Press poll last week, yesterday won the Ray Hickok $10,000 belt as the "Professional Athlete of the Year."

* * *

In addition, the Metropolitan Golf Writers announced in New York that a new golf trophy, to be known as the Ben Hogan Award, would be given for the first time Jan. 21 to "a person who has overcome a handicap in order to play golf and thus has proved an inspiration to others."

* * *

Hogan was so seriously injured in a 1949 automobile accident that for a time his life was feared for. He recovered and amazed doctors by insisting on playing golf again. His tremendous sweep last year was generally acclaimed as the finest performance in golf since Bobby Jones' 1930 grand slam.

* * *

The Hickok award was announced last night at the annual Rochester Press-Radio Club dinner for the infantile paralysis fund, but Hogan could not be present.

* * *

He received 51 first-place votes among the 93 ballots and his total of 201 points on a 3-2-1 point basis was almost twice that of the second-place finisher, catcher Roy Campenella of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Brown Figures Field Goal May Win Pro-Bowl

Predicts 3 Touchdowns for Each Club in Tilt at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cleveland Browns' head man, Paul Brown, says he expects both teams to score at least three touchdowns Sunday in the annual All-Pro Bowl football game in Memorial Coliseum and that a field goal may decide the issue.

He didn't say so, but Brown has the best field goal kicker in the business, Lou (the Toe) Groza. Most people will agree that Groza is the best of all time, and at his best when the chips are down. Los Angeles Rams remember distinctly that he beat them in the waning seconds of the playoff game for the world title in Cleveland, 30-28.

Brown said today he is well pleased with the way things are going with his collection of Eastern Conference stars, who will oppose the Western Conference outfit coached by Buddy Parker of the world champion Detroit Lions.

Brown has been working his squad twice a day, while Parker has been content to operate only once daily. Eastern squad will continue right up through a Saturday morning workout. But Parker said he would finish Friday.

West is handicapped by the illness of Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch, star pass-catching end of the Los Angeles Rams, and the absence of Gordon Soltau of the San Francisco '49ers, who went to San Francisco where his wife is expecting a baby. Parker said he hoped to have Hirsch back in a day or so. Hirsch has the flu.

'Rocket' Closes In on Gordie

Richard Trailing Howe in NHL Point Derby by Single Tally

NEW YORK (AP)—Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, Montreal's excitable right winger, is challenging Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings for the National Hockey League scoring lead today.

Richard, who last Friday charged that Howe was receiving "paper assists" in games at the Motor City, picked up nine points last week, six of them on assists, as he moved to within one point of the Red Wings' stalwart.

Howe, who gained only one point last week, has 45 points to 44 for Richard. The Rocket is the circuit's leading goal-getter with 25.

Ted Lindsay of Detroit is 3rd with 38 points. Rounding out the top five are Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion of Montreal with 37 points and Ken Mosdell, also of the Canadiens, with 35.

Clarkston Five Keeps Edge on Drug, Beattie in Township Circuit

Clarkston's Merchants stayed at the head of the Waterford Township Recreation basketball league Monday night, tripping Briggs Sports, 44-31, for their 4th straight triumph.

Drayton Drug stayed on the Merchants' heels by downing Davis Machinery, 56-46. Drugs' record is 4-1. Beattie Motors also advanced to 4-1 with an easy 57-29 verdict over Poole Lumber.

In the night's other game, Manny's Ringside defeated Waterford High Faculty, 56-27.

Wayne Beckley's 26 points were high for the night's play. He paced Drayton Drug's win over Davis, while Burl Glendening had 17 for the losers. Manny's trailed by one point at the half, but came back behind Dick DeWitt and Bill Frankenfield, who accounted for 32 points between them.

Clarkston was led by Percy Moore with 13 and Ed Hintz with 10 against Briggs. Clark Rouse scored 14 points to pace Beatties, while Chuck Gillis had 15 for Poole's.

Sparks From 'Hot Stove'

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Bruce Edwards is expected to be one of the leading candidates for the Chicago Cubs' 3rd base post next spring. Edwards, former catcher for the Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers, made a fine comeback at 3rd base with Des Moines of the Western League last season, batting .321 and piloting the club to a 4th place finish.

New York Yankees, who mailed out their 1954 contracts only three days ago, already are having salary troubles. Whitey Ford, an 18-game winner for the world champions last year, balked at the "real small raise" he was offered Monday and plans to pursue his squawk with Roy Hamey, assistant to general manager George Weiss.

Three of the five catchers on the 1954 roster of the Philadelphia Phillies are switch hitters, Ken Silvestri, Mike Sandlock and Joe Lonnett hit from either side of the plate. Rounding out the well-balanced staff are left-handed batting Smoky Burgess and Stan Lopata, a right-hander.

Bobby Feller is almost a cinch to go over the 2,500 mark in American League strikeouts in the 1st month or two of the 1954 campaign. The erstwhile Cleveland fireballer has fanned 2,479 batters during his 15-year career.

Jim Bolger, who will report to the Cincinnati Redlegs at Tampa, Fla., next month, is a better defensive outfielder than Terry Moore, in the opinion of Ernie White, ex-St. Louis Cardinals' pitcher. White, Bolger's manager at Columbia of the Sally League in '53, says "I saw Jim make outfield plays Moore couldn't make."

Hoosiers Better in '54

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—The national champion Indiana Hoosiers passed the halfway mark in their 1953-54 basketball campaign today with a better record than they had at the same time a year ago.

* * *

With 11 regular-season games left, the Hoosiers' record stands at 10-1, including a 73-67 triumph over Purdue last night. Indiana lost two of its first three games last season but went on to compile a 23-3 mark, winning the NCAA title in a 69-68 thriller against Kansas.

Key man in the Hoosiers' surge a year ago was big Don Schlundt and the 6-foot-9 blond, still only a junior, is performing even better this time around.

* * *

He had a spectacular first half against overmatched Purdue last night. He took eight shots from the field in the first 13 minutes and hit all eight. In between, he sandwiched in six free throws without a miss.

Coach Branch McCracken took pity and benched the scoring genius, allowing him to return only briefly in the second half. Schlundt wound up high man with 30 points.

Kentucky and Duquesne, the two teams ranked ahead of Indiana in the Associated Press weekly poll, also won easily last night. Kentucky breezed over De Paul 81-63 and Duquesne romped against Cincinnati 80-60 with Dick Ricketts scoring 30 points.

* * *

George Washington, No. 7 was the only other member of the top 10 in action and the unbeaten Colonials won their 10th game, 84-53, over Washington and Lee.

The Big Seven produced a pair of mild surprises as Nebraska won its third straight, 88-75, over Kansas State, and Colorado tripped Oklahoma 80-68.

* * *

Iowa and Indiana Retain Undefeated Big 10 Status

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa's young Hawkeyes kept pace with the powerful Indiana Hoosiers in the Big Ten basketball race last night. Both teams turned in impressive victories to remain undefeated in conference play.

Iowa, winning its 3rd straight in the Big Ten, broke away from a 38-37 halftime advantage with a 55-point 2nd-half outburst that swamped Michigan, 93-78.

Indiana, defending Big Ten and NCAA champion, toyed to a 73-67 victory over Purdue. Don Schlundt led the scoring with 30 points. It was Indiana's 4th Big Ten win.

In other Big Ten games, Illinois beat Ohio State, 90-76, as Johnny Kerr of the Illini scored 38 points—his all time high, and Wisconsin drubbed Northwestern 64-47 in a ragged game that saw Ron Weisner lead the Badgers with 12 points.

In midwest independent activity, Kentucky stampeded DePaul, 81-63, Marquette edged Loyola, 69-63 and Bradley beat Drake 93-53.

In games Saturday night, Minnesota is at Iowa, Illinois is at Ohio State, Indiana at Wisconsin, Northwestern at Purdue and Michigan State at Michigan.

IL Approves of Two Newest Loop Clubs

NEW YORK (AP)—Richmond, Va., and Havana will be formally admitted to the triple-A International League today.

President Frank Shaughnessy said the session would be brief since both cities already have met the requirements laid down by the league.

St. Fred Girls Win

St. Frederick's girls basketball team won its 1st CYO League game Sunday, defeating St. James 33-15. Captain Mary Drake led the winners with 13 points. St. Fred team last year on the CYO local, divisional and Archdiocesan championships.

Archery Meet Tonight

Waterford Recreation Winter Archery League opens competition tonight at the Community Activities Building. Teams 1 and 2, 12 11, and 3-10 vie at 8:30 p.m., while teams 4-9, 5-8 and 6-7 shoot at 9:30.

'Nothing to Hide'

Molinas, Benched Indefinitely by NBA, Plans to Appeal to League's President

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Jack Molinas, under indefinite suspension from the Fort Wayne Pistons for betting on the team's National Basketball Assn. games, today denied that he ever wagered on his games as a Columbia University star.

* * *

The tall 21-year-old forward, graduated from Columbia last June, was regarded as one of the league's outstanding rookies before his suspension Sunday by both the Piston management and the NBA.

In an interview with Bob Renner, Fort Wayne News-Sentinel sports writer, Molinas also said he plans to appeal to NBA President Maurice Podoloff.

Podoloff already had turned down Molinas' offer to play without salary if the league wouldn't expel him. The expulsion will be automatic at the end of the season unless Molinas obtains a hearing.

* * *

"I have nothing to hide and I plan to go to New York in a day or so to straighten things out with the district attorney's office in the Bronx," Molinas was quoted by Renner. "I want to get this cleared up as I never bet on a game while I played at Columbia."

* * *

Molinas said his betting contact was Stanley Ratensky and "I used to play basketball with him in the school yard."

Molinas said the New York youth who handled his bets "is just an ordinary guy and no center of gambling interests.

"I called in all the bets to New York from my home here in Fort Wayne and he placed them for me. I definitely bet on only games I thought we could win. I have never done anything dishonest in my life."

Wildcats Hold Margin Over Duquesne Five

Hoosiers, Aggies and Hilltoppers Trail Top Quintets

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Kentucky's powerful basketball team, voted top team in the nation in the Associate Press poll yesterday, wasted no time in living up to its high rating.

The Wildcats, winning the poll of sportswriters and broadcasters for the third week in succession, went out and trounced De Paul last night 81-63 for their tenth straight victory.

* * *

Duquesne, only 30 points behind Kentucky in second place, also confirmed its rating, trimming Cincinnati 80-60, and third-place Indiana came through with a 73-67 victory over Purdue.

* * *

The top three, running in that order for the third successive week, enjoyed comfortable margins over the rest of the field in the fifth poll of the season. Kentucky was first on 25 of the 90 ballots cast and piled up 734 points in the 10-9-8 etc. scoring system. Duquesne got only 17 first-place votes, but had plenty of seconds and thirds to wind up with 704, while Indiana totaled 671 and received nine No. 1 nominations.

* * *

The rankings were shaken only slightly all down the line, in fact. Oklahoma A&M was fourth and Western Kentucky fifth, just as they were a week ago. Holy Cross moved up one place to sixth and George Washington moved up to seventh from a tie for 12th before whipping Washington & Lee 84-53 for its 10th straight.

* * *

Oklahoma City swapped places with Duke, moving up to eighth while the Blue Devils dropped to ninth, and Minnesota fell from sixth to 10th after losing to Indiana Saturday night. Oregon State was the only team to fall from grace, plummeting from 10th to the also-ran list after splitting weekend games with Idaho.

The results (on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis(with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Kentucky (25)	734
2. Duquesne (17)	704
3. Indiana (9)	671
4. Oklahoma A&M (8)	489
5. Western Kentucky (5)	441
6. Holy Cross (3)	262
7. George Washington (13)	191
8. Oklahoma City (4)	178
9. Duke	173
10. Minnesota	112

Second 10 Wichita (1), Kansas (tie) 103; Niagara 96; Seattle (2) 72; Rice 57; Louisiana State 55; Dayton 49; Colorado A&M 46; Illinois 41; Idaho (2) 39.

Lions and Redskins Play Charity Game

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Lions, National Football League champions, will meet the Washington Redskins at Briggs Stadium Aug. 27, in a night exhibition game for charity.

General manager Nick Kerbawy announced the game yesterday after talking to Redskin president George Preston Marshall and said it would be the only appearance of the Lions in Detroit before the season starts.

It's the 6th annual charity game, sponsored by the Detroit Free Press. Lions beat the Redskins 31-17 in an exhibition last year at Buffalo, N.Y.

Lions also announced that they had signed 11 players for the 1954 season. Latest was Dreher Gaskin, 6-foot-4 end from Clemson College.

Turner Stops Coleman at Motor City Arena

DETROIT (AP)—Chuck Coleman, 160¼ of Detroit, fell last night to the experienced gloves of St. Louis' Jesse Turner, 158, in a 5th round technical knockout at Motor City arena.

Referee stopped the fight at 1:43 of the 5th in the scheduled 8-rounder because he said Coleman was taking too much punishment.

Chico Clay, 134, Battle Creek, Dec. Eddie Bridges 134, Pontiac.

Tribe Signs Spartan

DETROIT (AP) — Scout Nap Ross announced today the signing of Stan Turner, Michigan State college shortstop, to a Cleveland Indian contract.

Turner received a bonus of around $4,000, maximum permitted for players being sent to the minor league for seasoning. Turner was assigned to Cleveland's farm club at Keokuk, Iowa, in the Class-B Three-I League.

Pennsylvania May Withdraw From Ring Unit

Quaker State Chairman Attacks NBA for Policy on Archie Moore

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania state athletic commission chairman Frank Wiener says he will recommend that the Keystone state withdraw from the National Boxing Association when the three-member commission meets two weeks from today.

Wiener attacked the national body yesterday for lacking the "guts" to enforce its ultimatum to light heavyweight champion Archie Moore that he either sign to fight local favorite Harold Johnson, rated the No. 1 contender, by last Dec. 24 or be suspended and have the title vacated.

Three County Fives Seeking 1st Cage Win

Waterford, Ortonville, Clarenceville All Try Away From Home

Three Oakland County basketball teams take to enemy courts tonight in an effort to find their 1st basketball victories of the season.

Waterford, loser of six straight, is at Avondale, Clarenceville (0-5) plays at South Lyon; and Ortonville goes to Goodrich. After three great seasons, the Blackhawks got off on the wrong foot this year and are winless in five starts.

Two of the country's three unbeaten teams also are away from home protecting their records. OL St. Mary is in Pontiac against St. Frederick's and Ferndale is at East Detroit.

The third, Milford, is idle.

Keego (3-1) is at home against Madison; Troy (4-2) entertains Lake Orion; and Southfield (4-2) hosts Plymouth. Holly plays its annual game with neighboring Fenton on the latter's court. Holly has a 2-2 record.

The schedule:

Waterford at Avondale; Madison at Royal Harbor; OL St. Mary at St. Frederick's; St. Michael's at RO St. Mary; Lake Orion at Troy; Berkley at Clawson; Clarenceville at South Lyon; Plymouth at Southfield; Farmington at Lowery; Holly at Fenton; Shrine at Lourdes; Ortonville at Goodrich; Patterson at Cranbrook; Ferndale at East Detroit; Fort Huron at Hazel Park; Utica at Center Line; South Lake at Warren; Eastland at Fraser; Van Dyke at Hamtramck; Lakeview at Lake Shore; Almont at Brown City; Capac at Armada; Dryden at New Haven.

Dorais Trophy Instituted by Sports Guild

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Sports Guild has announced a new football award in its list of trophies for sports excellence — the Gus Dorais Memorial.

In memory of Charles E. (Gus) Dorais the new trophy will be presented every year to the outstanding football player. This and the Bud Shaver award are the Guild's top honors.

Bobby Layne will be presented the first Dorais award Jan. 26 at the 7th annual Guild banquet. Lloyd Brazil, former athletic great and University of Detroit athletic board chairman, will be given the Shaver trophy.

11 Pass Tests for Skating Proficiency

Sue Welch won bronze medals for both figure and free style, while Lloyd Dixon won dance bar and singles free style bar.

Other dance bar winners were Cecile Myles, Jackie Borey, Robert White, Jill Manek, Martha Machnauer, and Jerry Ammans. Diane Clouse also won a singles free style bar, Mary Clouse won the silver dance bar and Ronnie McDonnell won the bronze dance test medal.

Merchant Five Blasts Foes to Retain Loop Tie

Swindell Sets Pace in Win Over Stadium Inn With 16 Total

Pontiac Merchants remained in a tie for 2nd place in City Basketball League Class B standings Monday night by blasting Stadium Inn, 49-26.

Undefeated Class D leader Phalanx extended its string to five games with a 44-30 triumph over Hi-Knights. Tom Metzdorf piled up 21 points to lead Phalanx scorers.

Senior, Hi-Y handed Lakesiders their 5th straight setback, with the winners' John Waterbury and losers' Charles Agne each collecting 13 points. Jack Johnson hit for 24 points as his Panthers drubbed Bogie Lake, 52-12. Losers were held to two free throws in the 2nd half.

Missle Dribbles retained their unbeaten Junior Girls' League leadership with a 29-2 rout of the Baskettes. Pat Ronan sparked the victory with eight points.

In other girls' contests, Dick & Wes beat the Unknowns, 30-8, and Racketeers downed the Skid Kids, 17-10.

CLASS A—Shaw's Jewelry vs General Motors (PHS) gym, 7 p.m.); Chuck's Shack vs Poole Lumber (PHS gym, 8:30 p.m.).

CLASS D—Phalanx vs Bogie Lake (Lincoln gym, 6:30 p.m.); Police vs Junior Elks 723 (Lincoln gym, 7:30 p.m.); Hi-Knights vs Lakesiders (Lincoln gym, 8:30 p.m.).

Kelly, Lindsay on All-Star 6

But Richard Gets Nod Over Howe in Hockey's Mid-Year Poll

MONTREAL (UP)—For the 1st time in four seasons, Maurice (Rocket) Richard of the Montreal Canadiens was picked over Detroit's Gordie Howe for the right wing berth on the National Hockey League's all-star team announced today.

Canadien defenseman Doug Harvey and center Ken Mosdell, defenseman Red Kelly and left-winger Ted Lindsay of the Red Wings and goaltender Harry Lumley of the Toronto Maple Leafs made up the dream team selected at the halfway mark of the 1953-54 campaign.

Hockey writers and broadcasters in each of the six NHL cities will vote again at the end of the season before the $1,000 all-star selections become final.

The 50 selectors rated the talent as follows:

FIRST TEAM: Goal—Harry Lumley, Toronto (57); Defense—Red Kelly, Detroit (57) and Doug Harvey, Montreal (57); Center—Ken Mosdell, Montreal (68); Wings—Maurice Richards, Montreal (72) and Ted Lindsay, Detroit (78).

SECOND TEAM: Goal—Al Rollins, Chicago (54); Defense—Bill Gadsby, Chicago (51) and Tim Horton, Toronto (39); Center—Ted Sloan, Toronto (39); Wings—Gordie Howe, Detroit (71) and Ed Sanford, Boston (51).

'Y' Comes From Behind to Win Intramural Tilt

YMCA overcame a 7-point halftime deficit to defeat Oakland Avenue Presbyterian, 38-28, in Pontiac "Y" Intramural Basketball League play Monday night. Tom Baytarian paced the win with 15 points.

Greek Orthodox, led by Sam Cosma's 11 points, trounced the Apprentices, 34-19, in the 2nd game.

Red Sanders Not Entirely Shocked by Loss to MSC, but Didn't Expect It to Result From Kicking Game

By GRANTLAND RICE

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — It was some time after the Rose Bowl game that Red Sanders, UCLA coach, turned back to the past.

* * *

The past for him was still the recent Rose Bowl game. And it might be mentioned that his summary of the game included no alibi. In substance, Red admitted that Biggie Munn had too many good men to throw at him. Sanders' reserve force was weak.

* * *

Point Sanders brought up was the inconsistency of football. "We had moved into the Rose Bowl on our all-season kicking strength, said Red. "The kicking game was actually our main weapon. We had blocked seven kicks in the fall season.

"In the Rose Bowl game we were leading 14-0. We had picked up 154 yards to 54 yards in the 1st half. Then what turned against us? The kicking game. I'll admit those two fine marches by Michigan State also figured heavily. They were magnificent, but they wouldn't have won without a collapse in our kicking department.

"First—the blocked kick; second—the missed point after a touchdown; third—the low line-drive punt to Billy Wells that led to the 4th touchdown.

* * *

"These three affairs amounted to 15 points against us. I wouldn't have been shocked if we had fumbled. I wouldn't have been astonished if they had kept on cutting up our defenses for they had more fast, fit and high-class extra men than I have seen in a long time.

* * *

"But when we were leading 14-0, had someone whispered that kicking will beat you—I would have laughed. The bullet-like low kick of Paul Cameron was a setup for a touchdown. It simply meant Wells, a brilliant runner, was off and flying before any of our defensive men had even started. The value of impetus in such a case is terrific."

It's Time Out!

'Mysterious John' in Hospital

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — News that "Mysterious John" Montague is seriously ill in a Los Angeles hospital brings vivid recollections of what almost certainly was the wildest, most improbable golf match ever played anywhere in the world since the invention of the ancient Scottish game.

* * *

The date was Nov. 14, 1937, and the site the old Fresh Meadow Club on Long Island. The principal figures were Montague, Babe Ruth, Babe Didrikson and Mrs. Sylvia Annenberg, a fair amateur player.

* * *

Though you might never have heard of Montague, he was the main attraction on that memorable day. The buildup that had preceded him in his first Eastern appearance would have done credit to Barnum. For more than a year the nation's sports fans had been intrigued by stories from the West about a fabulous figure who could drive a golf ball farther than any man living, and who shot 61s and 62s over regulation courses.

* * *

In the midst of the hullabaloo about the dimpled "mystery man," he had been collared by the law and brought to Elizabethtown, N. Y., to face a seven-year-old charge of armed robbery of a roadhouse. They said he had been known around there under another name, but he was acquitted by a jury after a trial which drew national billing.

And so, less than three weeks later, Montague consented to make his public golfing debut in this charity match.

* * *

Their only bad oversight was in not surrounding the entire course with about a regiment of cavalry. An hour before the foursome was scheduled to tee off, the thundering herd had given up trying to reach the admission gate and was flooding in from all points of the compass. By the time Montague actually hauled off and hit one, the immense crowd was packed solidly from tee to green on the first hole and was still coming.

* * *

It was estimated—we thought conservatively—that 12,000 persons tried to watch the match. Few of them saw anything. The two Babes were thought to have been 2 up when the fiasco ended, but you couldn't have proved it.

* * *

Under the circumstances, Montague deserved credit for hitting the ball at all. He looked like about a good, solid 80 shooter. There was no question that he could hit a terrific ball from the tee, but his irons obviously were erratic. Never again was the myth of his super-golf to be seriously revived.

Pressure on Commission to Publish Violator List

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Associated Press Outdoor Writer

LANSING (AP) — State conservation commission is under a lot of pressure to overrule the recommendation of Durward Robeson, chief of the field administration division, by continuing the publication of lists of conservation law violators.

The commission ordered the lists prepared last October until the end of 1953 as a trial. The move had been demanded by some outdoor writers as a climax to the uproar which developed when the department refused to publicize the names of 10 prominent men convicted of overshooting ducks.

Robeson, called on for a recommendation on the continuation of the prepared list, advised against it on the grounds that the names were available from local officers, the courts, district conservation offices and the headquarters office when the convictions were complete.

Unstated, but undoubtedly in the background, is the argument the staff used against the lists in the 1st place—it costs money to prepare them.

Newspapers have been using the lists as a check against the possibility of a prominent person suppressing his conviction. And some newspapers have been publicizing all the local names that appear.

CASE—Regarding 'Pull.'

Good On Slick Alleys—What Ned Day does in playing a fast or slick surfaced alley is effective for him, to be sure, but it is difficult to achieve. Yet it's worth a try because it increases hook action. It is called "pulling the arm."

On a slow (run) alley Day stiff-arms the follow-through, straight-on, to cause the ball to "break" far down the alley. On medium-surfaced alleys he breaks the arm at the elbow in a smooth lifting action to impart spinning hook break half-way down the alley. On a slick alley he hurries the upward lift, snapping the ball in a quick release so the ball begins hooking immediately. Thus the arm finishes cross-angle to the left, chest high, as sketch shows.

I experimented with the pull-finish long ago, but quit it because I pulled the ball unintentionally too often on slow and medium alleys. I prefer shifting my stance a bit to the right on slick alleys and in that way get a more direct angle at the 1-3 strike pocket. Yet the pull may work well with you.

Friday's games—St. Benedict at St. Michael; St. James at St. Mary (OL); St. Mary (RO) at St. Rita.

Orchard Lake St. Mary, highest scoring quintet in the conference with a 62.3 average, comes to Pontiac to meet winless St. Frederick. Game is set for 8:15 p.m. in the Fred's hall.

St. Benedict, tied with the Eaglets with a 3-0 mark and boasting a 59.6-point scoring clip, entertains thrice-beaten St. Rita in the other top contest.

St. Michael's Shamrocks, winners in two of their three starts, travel to Royal Oak to meet 5th-place St. Mary. Irish edged St. Frederick, 47-44, in their opener but have dropped three straight losses since.

Mikes' biggest test is set for Friday, when St. Benedict comes here. If Coach Bob Mineweaser's crew can spring an upset on the undefeated Ravens, the Shamrocks will retain a good chance to stay in the thick of the championship race.

Albion's Ex-Coach Eyes Kansas Post

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Star says that Delmar Anderson, 42, former coach at Albion, Mich., college, is rated a strong prospect for the football coaching job at the University of Kansas.

K. U.'s athletic director, Arthur C. Lonborg, said at Lawrence that the field was reduced to "four or five" men.

According to the Star, the list includes Anderson, Jack Mitchell of Witchita University, Volney Ashford of Missouri Valley College and Norris Patterson of William Jewell College.

Lonborg said the selection of the new coach will be announced Friday morning by the board of regents.

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — All-America Johnny Lattner, Notre Dame halfback, receives the Robert W. Maxwell Memorial award in Philadelphia tonight as the "College Football Player of the Year" for 1953.

Michigan Wilts Under Hawks' 2nd Half Spurt

Leading Only by Point, Iowa Zooms to 93-78 Big 10 Victory

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Iowa's speedy sophomores still have to meet their match in Big Ten basketball. They crushed Michigan last night 93-78 with a 2nd-half outburst of 55 points.

Hawkeyes were leading by only one-point 38-37 at the half.

Iowa's three straight conference wins are 2nd only to Indiana's four. Both teams are undefeated in conference play.

Bill Logan was the main power for the Hawkeyes with a 32-point scoring spree. But for a while it looked like it might be a real tussle.

Wolverines demolished Iowa's 5-point lead in the 2nd quarter as Jim Barron drove under the basket for a lay-in that tied it up at 37-37 with a bare two minutes to go.

Second half was a complete reversal of form. Michigan, which had clipped off 48 per cent of its shots in the 1st half, faded before Iowa's flashy attack.

Al Andrews Scores Easy Victory in NY

NEW YORK (AP) — Fast pitching Al Andrews turned his back on a big town triumph and headed back home to Wisconsin today.

The clever, 23-year-old over-sized welterweight scored an impressive eastern debut last night with a one-sided verdict over New York's Joey Klein. On the conbined three scorecards he lost only one round in the 10-round feature.

Andrews was offered immediately two more New York dates. But manager Ike Bernstein said he was taking only one fight at a time and Andrews is booked against Ted Olla in Milwaukee Jan. 25.

Trucks Sees White Sox as Contenders in 1954

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Veteran right-hander Virgil (Fire) Trucks did some crystal gazing today and saw the White Sox as 1954 pennant contenders with a chance for the title "if another deal or two is made."

Trucks would not elaborate on the deals in mind—a department ruled over by Trader Horn Frank Lane—but the 34-year-old pitcher thought the Sox "need a little more bench strength."

Trucks will receive the Chicago Baseball Writers' Assn. award Sunday for making the outstanding comeback of 1953. After a 5-19 record for Detroit in 1952, despite two no-hitters, Trucks posted 20-10 last season. Fifteen of those victories came after the Sox got him from the St. Louis Browns in June.

"I'll be trying very hard again this year," said Trucks. "I don't see why I shouldn't win 20 more. I wasn't much better in 1953 than I was in 1952, but the big difference came from the defensive support. The Sox were the best fielding team in the league.

"Richards (manager Paul Richards) also gave me a new pitch," continued Trucks, who has a record of 128 victories and 101 defeats in 13 seasons of major league pitching. "I call it the slip ball."

Ex-College King Winds Up With 1-Stroke Margin

Harbert and Barber Tie for 2nd With Count of 282, Win $2,050

By JACK STEVENSON

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The difference between winning the national intercollegiate golf title and the Los Angeles Open is quite simple, says the fellow who has won both.

"There was a $4,000 check here," explained youthful-looking Fred Wampler of Indianapolis, who yesterday steadied a shaky game in the rain and held off several challengers to win the $20,000 open by a stroke. He had 281 for the 72 holes.

* * *

Wampler, 30, a 150-pounder whose build and style are reminiscent of Ben Hogan, won the NCAA title in 1950 as a senior at Purdue after three times taking the Big Ten crown.

Although he turned pro that same year, this was his first tournament win, and now he heads for Bing Crosby's pro-amateur at Pebble Beach, Calif., with a lot of added confidence as well as greenbacks.

Wampler came up to the 17th hole after three straight bogeys and needed even par to beat the veteran Chick Harbert, who came in earlier with a 282 after finishing with a pair of birdies. He got his pars and just missed birdie on both holes to finish with a 75 for the day.

Jerry Barber, pro from nearby La Canada, playing with Wampler, had a birdie on the final hole to finish with a 1-under-par 70 and tie Harbert. Each took $2,050 second money.

* * *

Third place cuts of $1,075 went to four players with 283—Ed Oliver Palm Springs, Calif.; Fred Hawkins, El Paso; Bud Holscher, Santa Monica, Calif.; and the Australian Peter Thomson, runner-up to Hogan in the British Open last summer. Thomson had a 66 yesterday, the best o fthe day.

Amateur honors, also at 283, went to Bruce Cudd, University of Portland junior, who fired a 67 for his best tournament round.

Those were the only fellows to beat par 71 for the four rounds at Fox Hills Country Club, a 7,000-yard course.

* * *

At 284 and getting $675 were such veterans as Lew Worsham, E. J. Harrison, Julius Boros and Eric Monti. The leader through the first two rounds, Bill Nary, sagged to 74s the last two days and wound up to 285 for $500.

Amoros, Mickens Up Too

Brooklyn's Top Rookie Is Don Zimmer, Who Awaits Retirement of Peewee Reese

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Captain Peewee Reese, the great Brooklyn shortstop, is not yet ready to retire. But when he is, the Dodgers have a replacement waiting in the wings. He is Don Zimmer from St. Paul.

Since Reese will be 35 years old next July, it is almost a certainty that Zimmer, 12 years Peewee's junior, will be kept around.

Zimmer, a really fine hitter, has an added obstacle to overcome in addition to the usual ones that confront all rookies. Last July 7 he had his skull fractured by a pitch and was in a coma for five days, undergoing surgery for the removal of a blood clot.

The operation was a complete success and his recovery is complete. But the question naturally arises as to whether he will face pitchers with his previous youthful fearlessness and determination.

Zimmer will receive plenty of competition for the leading rookie candidate from the 18 other newcomers at the Dodgers Vero Beach Fla., spring training camp.

One who may provide plenty of competition is Edmundo (Sandy) Amoros, the fleet litti Cuban outfielder who led the International League in hitting with .353.

Nine new pitchers will vie for a spot on the varsity. Four are graduates of Montreal, three from St. Paul and two from Fort Worth. Best record is owned by Tom LaSorda, a cratty little southpaw who had a 17-8 mark and a 2.81 earned run average at Montreal.

Best prospect of the lot may be Glen Mickens. The 23-year-old right-hander made a strong impression in the Dodger camp last spring. He had a remarkably low 1.78 era in the Texas League.

5 Years Make Big Difference to This Coach

Formerly Low Scoring, Barthelme's Team Now Hitting 100 Points

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five years ago coach Al Barthelme's basketball teams scores read like a football result. Today, his Baltimore U. team is averaging a whopping 101.9 points a game, highest in the country.

In their last two games they poured in 142 and 131 points, 4th time in seven games they've gone over the century. They don't miss often, either, making 49.4 per cent of their shots.

Two seasons ago, Baltimore won the Mason Dixon Conference post season tournament by a margin of only five total points, 119 to 114, in three games.

Five years ago Barthelme's Towson Catholic High School team lost in a scholastic playoff by the score of 14-12.

Why the change then to offense?

His team is green this year, explains coach Barthelme.

"Offensive ball is easier to coach, so I decided I'd try firehouse ball, or rat race basketball, as I call it."

Charles Rated Edge Against Satterfield

CHICAGO (AP) — With pre-fight preparations complete, Ezzard Charles and Bob Satterfield rested today for their 10-round Chicago stadium heavyweight match Wednesday night.

Charles, just off a knockout-victory over Coley Wallace, was a solid 3-1 favorite in the nationally-televised bout.

"I expect to weigh between 188 and 190 pounds," said the former heavyweight champion, who hopes an impressive victory will set him up for a shot at the current champion, Rocky Marciano.

Satterfield, a 180-pounder, probably will not be offered Marciano, even if he wins, but a victory certainly could make this the most successful of a number of comebacks.

NCAA Rules Body Studies Faking of Grid Injuries

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Injury faking by football players to stop the clock is being studied by the NCAA football rules committee and there is a possibility some action may be taken to prevent it.

"I don't know how we can legislate ethics," said committee chairman H. O. (Fritz) Crisler of the University of Michigan, "but there are many things that could be done to prevent such faking.

"We could, for instance, stop the clock after each play in the last two minutes of the 1st and 2nd halves. Or we could let it run during these periods."

The discussion was inspired by the Iowa-Notre Dame game last season which ended in a 14-14. Twice in the closing seconds of the two halves the Irish came from behind and scored touchdowns when players claimed injuries.

Last week in Cincinnati the American Football Coaches Assn. denounced faking of injuries to stop the clock. The coaches said they would give full assistance to outlawing such faking in an effort to "maintain football on a high moral and ethical plane."

It was the 2nd straight year that Notre Dame has figured in rules committee discussion. Last year, the controversial Irish "sucker shift," a maneuver calculated to pull the opposition offside, was reviewed but the rules makers decided the solution was simply a matter of the official's calling it.

Rules committee received 25 suggestions yesterday for changing the one-platoon system and rejected 22 of them, strengthening the general belief that the limited substitution rule is to stay.

Turkey's Leader Coming to Visit U.S. for 1st Time

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

The Turks aren't satisfied merely to be among the most enthusiastic of the United States' Allies. They also think everyone should get better acquainted.

So, later this month, Turkish President Celal Bayar will be arriving in New York for the first visit of a Turkish chief of state to the United States.

His advance man who already is here is Dr. Halim Alyot, director-general of Turkey's department of information. Dr. Alyot is a heavy-set, relaxed man with a dark complexion and iron-gray hair.

He talks with remarkable frankness, only occasionally warning that some particular item is "off the record."

The Turks do, and through geographical necessity must continue to, live next to the Russians.

The questions and Dr. Alyot's answers about Russia ran like this:

"At the moment the Russians are in the midst of an internal crisis. It may be that the new regime in the Kremlin needs time to establish itself at home.

"But—Russian objectives do not change. We have lived next to them for hundreds of years. Their foreign policies are the same now under the Communists as they were under the czars."

Can we gain anything by negotiating with them?

"We should never lose any opportunity for peaceful negotiation—no matter what the reason may be for a change in the Russian attitude."

The gist, however, was that the accords reached by Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia have materially strengthened Mediterranean defenses.

"A quarrel between brothers is the worst kind of a quarrel."

The Turks believe that neither Egypt's quarrel with Britain over Suez or Iran's quarrel with Britain over oil should be allowed to distract attention from the over-all world picture.

The Turks are proud of their development at home. Next year they hope to operate on a balanced budget.

Exports are on the rise and new construction ranges all the way from hospitals and schools to roads and bridges. Come to Turkey, they say, there are no "Americans, go home" signs there.

Ferndale Man Given Three Years Probation

Kenneth Cody, 18, of 512 Vester St., Ferndale, was placed on three years probation and ordered to pay $250 costs Monday by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick on a charge of grand larceny.

Cody was also ordered to make restitution of $104 he admitted taking from a gas station Dec. 19, 1953, where he was employed at part time. He pleaded guilty to the charge Dec. 28.

Grains Start Up but Fail to Hold

CHICAGO (AP)—A little price upturn at the start failed to hold in grains on the board of trade today.

Purchase overnight of wheat by West Germany, very cold weather in the Midwest and trade rumors that part of the government's cottonseed oil stocks may be shipped to countries behind the Iron Curtain stimulated the initial demand. There was no follow-through buying, however.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ⅝ cents lower, March $2.09½, corn ⅛ to ¼ lower, March $1.54⅝, oats unchanged to ¼ lower, March 79⅝, rye ¼ to ½ lower, March $1.20¾, soybeans ½ to ¼ lower, January $3.06 and lard 25 to 35 cents a hundred pounds lower January $17.07.

FBI Spy Story Told by Attorney

North Carolina Man Is in Red Party 4 Years, Reports to U. S.

WASHINGTON (INS) — A Charlotte, N. C. attorney disclosed today that he was a volunteer undercover FBI agent in the Communist party for nearly four and one-half years.

Ralph Clayton Clontz Jr. told the Subversive Activities Control Board that he was personally tutored and indoctrinated by Junius I. Scales, whom he identified as chairman of the Communist party in North and South Carolina.

He also testified that he was awarded a scholarship at the Jefferson School of Science in New York City because of a commendation by Scales.

Board Chairman Thomas J. Herbert is conducting hearings to determine if the Jefferson School is a Communist front as alleged by the Justice Department, and therefore should be required to register its officers with the government.

Clontz said he provided information to the FBI on Communist activities from August 1948, to February 1953.

He said he actually joined the party in January 1950, at the behest of the FBI. Clontz noted that he was able to become a full-fledged party member only after undergoing a rigorous examination by Scales and another Communist official.

Teenage Girl Jailed in New Year's Row

Miss Esther Morganfield, 17, of 559 Nevada Ave., was sentenced to 10 days in Oakland County Jail yesterday by Pontiac Judge Maurice P. Finnegan.

Miss Morganfield pleaded guilty to creating a disturbance by threatening others and starting a fight while police were investigating a shooting in the Pontiac Armory at 57 Water St., New Year's Eve.

Police were called to the armory when George E. Wright, 24, of 107 Harrison Ave., accidentally shot himself in the side.

A companion of Wright's, Manuel Crumb, 22, of 283 Branch St., owner of the gun, was later fined $25 in Pontiac Municipal Court for possession of an unregistered gun.

Fireman Overcome by Smoke at Blaze

Waterford Township Fireman Lewis Goff, 35, of 130 S. Tilden Ave., is reported in fair condition this afternoon in Pontiac General Hospital after being overcome by smoke while fighting a $1,500 truck fire earlier today.

Two supermarket counters on a truck driven by Robert Doran, 19, of Detroit, were destroyed, according to Police Chief Frank Van Atta, when a blaze started in the cloth and tarpaulin wrapped around the counters. Little damage was done to the truck.

The fire broke out just south of U. S. 10 on Telegraph road.

New York Town Has World's Littlest Library

It's the Bu-Ran-Ark Library, built in 1940 by Melvin C. Bush and given a title compounded from three family names. The library, containing 300 books, is housed in a "building" nine feet high, six feet wide and one foot in depth.

Plane Crash Kills 2

SEOUL (AP)—The U. S. 8th Army reported two Army lieutenants were killed today when their L19 observation plane crashed into a mountain and burned. Their names were withheld.

First thoroughbred stallion imported to the United States was Bulle Rock in 1730.

Mart Manages to Hold Steady

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market held fairly steady today following a four-day decline.

Gains and losses extended into the major fractions with the plus signs prominent in many areas of the market.

In the higher categories were the aircrafts, mail orders, and most chemicals. Oils were unchanged to lower. Other major divisions were steady to mixed.

For the past four days the stock market has been going through a downward adjustment following an unsuccessful attempt to push to a new recovery higher. The average level of prices of early December, the recovery top, apparently proved to be a barrier to progress.

Higher stocks included U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, Allied Chemical, American Can, and Du Pont.

Lower were Schenley Industries, American Cyanamid, and Sinclair Oil.

GMC Truck and Coach Division's December production of 12,211 trucks was the highest monthly output since April when 12,880 were turned out.

Arraign Youths at Mt. Clemens

State Police Seek to Link Trio With Other Area Break-ins

ROMEO — State Police are continuing attempts to link three young burglary suspects arrested Sunday morning with other breakins in the area, Det. Ray McConnell said today.

Two of three youths picked up, Frederick L. Allen, 19, of Rochester and Richard Parks, 17, of Pontiac, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Sanborn in Mt. Clemens yesterday.

The third, a 16-year-old Pontiac boy, is being held at the Oakland County Children's Home. A petition was filed in Macomb County Probate Court yesterday charging him with breaking and entering in the nighttime.

The three were arrested in connection with a break-in early Sunday at a gas station owned by Michael Monicatti, 4055 Auburn, Utica. State Police traced the license number of a car seen at the scene to Allen.

After Allen and Parks confessed the break-in, police said, they implicated the juvenile.

Pontiac Has Bigger Production Share

Pontiac Motor Division grabbed a bigger share of United States automobile production last year, revealed Ward's Automotive Reports today.

The auto statistical agency said the division's cut of 6.4 per cent of total production in 1952 increased to 6.7 per cent in the past year.

Ward's also pointed out that Pontiac's 'straight-eight" engine was used in 90.7 per cent of its cars built in 1953, the "sixes" in 9.3 per cent.

Half GM Truck Output Registered in 10 States

Nearly half of the 629,057 General Motors trucks registered last year in the United States were centered in 10 states, according to Ward's Automotive Reports.

The Detroit statistical agency said California had the largest number of GMC trucks, with 58,800 registered as of July 1, 1953. The other nine top-ranking states and the number of GMC trucks were: Texas, 49,246; Pennsylvania, 30,512; New York, 30,301; Missouri, 22,900; Ohio, 22,423; Illinois, 22,283; Michigan, 19,595; Indiana, 16,277 and New Jersey, 15,994.

Trial of Weber Begins Today

Pleasant Ridge Man Charged With Shooting Sleeping Stepson

The assault with intent to kill trial of Anthony Weber, 36, of 310 E. Ten Mile Rd., Pleasant Ridge, opened today before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

He is charged with shooting his stepson, Frank Gabriel, 22, in the head with a .22 caliber rifle last Sept. 18 as Gabriel lay sleeping in their home.

Police Chief William P. Katke quoted Weber as saying he shot his stepson because "he was stealing my wife's affections."

Gabriel told Katke he awoke when he felt a "jolt in my head," disarmed and slugged Weber with the weapon, then called police.

The youth was struck just above the eye by the bullet which penetrated his skull about a half-inch.

One of the area's oldest residents, Mrs. Muir moved to their farm with her husband, James M., 40 years ago. Mr. Muir died in 1951.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Don Gibson, Mrs. Russell Rupp, and Margaret, all of Milford and Mrs. Katherine Wallace of South Lyon; three sons, W. Joseph, John C. and Morris G., all of Milford; three grandsons, two great-grandsons and a sister, Mrs. A. S. Phelps of Corunna.

Since 1850, the western part of the United States has been growing faster than the East.

Prober Reports 100 Testified in Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — Rep. Kit Clardy (R Mich), disclosed today that at least 100 persons have been called to testify this month before a House un-American activities subcommittee in Detroit.

Some of those subpoenaed, said Clardy, will be "employes" of the Detroit Board of Education.

He declined to specify whether the latter will be teachers or how many will be called.

At the same time, Clardy also declined to speculate on when the Detroit hearings would commence. He said they might be postponed further due to the Detroit trial of six Michigan Communists.

It takes approximately 24 hours for a new day to dawn completely around the earth. Another 24 hours are required for the completion of that day at the last time zone. At the very moment the day dies there the third day dawns in the first zone.

Romans Made Good Concrete 2,000 Years Ago

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP) — Samples of 2,000-year-old concrete —still in serviceable condition— recovered from an ancient submerged Roman wharf, have been brought here by Henry L. Kennedy, president of the American Concrete Institute, for examination at local laboratories.

Believed to be the oldest known example of hydraulic concrete, which is capable of "setting up" or hardening under water, the samples were taken from piers that once supported a large wharf in the bay of Pozzuoli, Italy, near Mt. Vesuvius.

According to Italian technologists who presented the samples to Kennedy during a recent trip there, Roman engineers discovered that the volcanic ash from Mt. Vesuvius reacted with lime to make a cement that would harden under water.

Wheat is reported to have been grown as high as 14,000 feet altitude in Tibet.

Human Brain Beats Man Made Robot's

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (UP)—If the phenomenal accomplishments of the so-called electronic "brains" scare you, relax. The human brain is here to stay.

That's the reassuring word from electronic engineers at the Minneapolis-Honeywell plant here. Concerned over some of the science-fiction dreams of robot-controlled factories run by giant computers, the engineers thought it time to debunk some of these starry-eyed predictions.

They pointed out that, despite the spectacular technological developments occurring almost daily, it would be a task much beyond the capabilities of today's experts to build a machine as complex and capable as the human brain.

Such a machine would have to be about the size of the Pentagon and chock-full of wiring and apparatus. The electrical power necessary to operate it would probably equal the power used daily by a city the size of Philadelphia. In addition, it would take almost as much water as flows in the mississippi river to cool the machine.

And when you've done all this, you might have a man-made "brain" that could equal an ant's brain!

Produce Synthetic Mineral Compounds

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP)—New developments in the geological department of the University of California have successfully produced several natural mineral compounds never before synthesized in the laboratory.

Researchers said the work will shed new light on geological processes operating in the outer part of the earth's surface. The experiments being conducted yield information that may contribute to industrial manufacture of silicate materials.

It was a shortage of these materials during World War II that led to much of the current research.

Many silicate materials have desirable optical, magnetic, electric and thermal properties and are now being manufactured synthetically on an industrial scale instead of being mined.

The Welsh Eisteddfod is an annual congress of bards and literati of Wales, whose purpose is to encourage and preserve Welsh music and literature. The institution dates back to the 12th century.

NO MONEY DOWN
We do not make this offer with the purpose of luring you to our lot. We know that often a family urgently needs dependable transportation but lacks the necessary down payment. If you have lived in or near Pontiac for a year or longer and have established good credit you can purchase a car here with no money down at state regulated interest rates.

1952 NASH Rambler station wagon. Weathereye heater, good tires, smooth running condition. Ideal all purpose car. Very good gas mileage. No money down. $60 a month.

1947 OLDSMOBILE Eight. Radio and heater, both work fine. Good finish, fresh interior, good tires. $27.24 a month.

Flexible Prices Seem Doomed

Congressional Farm Leaders Believe Ike's Plan Will Be Rejected

ENID, Okla. (AP) — Touring congressional farm leaders indicated today they believe both the House and Senate will reject the flexible price support features of President Eisenhower's sweeping new farm law proposals.

Members of the House Agricultural Committee, scheduled to hold a hearing today in their nationwide tour to sound out farm sentiment at the grass roots, found themselves squarely at odds with the President's proposals.

The President recommended the gradual abandonment of price supports at 90 per cent of parity in favor of a system of flexible supports at between 90 and 75 per cent. Under a flexible program, government price guarantees would be high in time of shortages to encourage production.

Chairman Hope (R-Kan), a key figure in any future farm legislation, said only that "there are wide differences of opinion over this proposal," but he is known to favor continuation of rigid supports.

Most members declined to be quoted by name but left little doubt of their attitude.

Rep. McIntire (R-Me) summed it up when he said the administration's "long-term planning will have to square with short-term realities."

With an election coming up this fall, some Republicans contend that the present political and economic "climate" is not favorable for a sudden shift to a new price support system. They also remember 1948, when the 80th Congress compromised on price supports Democrats won.

Reports Career Affects State of Person's Vision

The Better Vision Institute reports that the career a person chooses is likely to have a bearing upon his vision.

It said 75 per cent of the workers in the garment industry have faulty vision, while only 16 per cent have below-par eyesight in the railroad industry.

Other types of work, and the percentage of faulty vision, are: office work, 53 per cent; textile industry, 52; furniture industry, 50; and heavy machine industry, 35.
