Miriani Determined to Snub No. 2 Russian

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — Frol R. Kozlov, first deputy premier of the Soviet Council of Ministers, will get a snub from Mayor Louis C. Miriani and a handshake of welcome from Gov. G. Mennen Williams on a one-day tour of the Motor City.

The governor declined to join Miriani in turning his back on the Soviet official when he arrives in Detroit tonight. Williams will greet Kozlov at the Fort Shelby Hotel tomorrow night.

Mayor Miriani has made it clear that, officially, Kozlov is not wanted here. The mayor brusquely turned down State Department requests that he greet the Soviet official.

Kozlov also may face a picketing demonstration reminiscent of the egg-throwing incident that greeted Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan when he visited the Motor City last January.

A group calling themselves the Hungarian Freedom Fighters planned to picket Kozlov on Tuesday. However, a woman spokesman told a Detroit newspaper the picketing would be peaceful out of respect to Vice President Richard Nixon who is scheduled to visit Russia later in the summer.

She said the demonstration against Mikoyan "got out of hand."

Kozlov and his group of Russian delegates touring the United States were scheduled to arrive at Detroit Metropolitan Airport at 10:30 p.m. (EST). They were scheduled to go immediately to a hotel for the night.

A formal reception was scheduled for Tuesday by Walker L. Cisler, president of Detroit Edison, who headed up a group of private citizens hosting the Russians for a whirlwind visit and tour of Detroit industries.

Cisler admitted that the atmosphere might be "a little clouded" but that his group was carrying out its program as planned.

"We feel we are doing what is best for Detroit and what is best for international relations," said Cisler, who also had headed up the welcoming delegation for Mikoyan last winter.

Cisler declined comment on Mayor Mariani's refusal to greet Kozlov. Miriani said he did not consider Kozlov's visit in the public interest, and had suggested the State Department advise Kozlov not to come.

Miriani said he did not want any repeat of the Mikoyan incident last January when some 300 Hungarian refugees and other nationality groups from Eastern Europe besieged Mikoyan's party as it arrived at the Detroit Press Club and tossed a dozen or more eggs and snowballs at the party. None of the Soviets was struck and the only casualty was a newsman covering the incident, who was spattered with an egg. But it took some 100 policemen to restore order.

According to the spokesman for the Freedom Fighters, the demonstration against Kozlov would be orderly. She said it probably would take place Tuesday night at the hotel where Kozlov is scheduled to be the guest at a dinner reception.

Police Lieutenant Bruce Grubb, assigned to head downtown protection for Kozlov, said he did not anticipate any trouble during Kozlov's visit. "Nothing like we had when Mikoyan was here, anyway," he added.

After spending the night at the Fort Shelby, the delegation will start a tour at 9 a.m. tomorrow at Edison's River Rouge power plant.

Kozlov will tour the Ford Motor Co. Rouge River plant at 10 a.m., with a noon luncheon at the Detroit Athletic Club. A Chrysler Corp. tour will begin at 2 p.m. followed by a visit to the General Motors Corp. Technical Center at 3 p.m.

Kozlov will dine at the Fort Shelby at 5 p.m. and spend the night there. The party will leave from Detroit Metropolitan Airport for Chicago at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Mayor Miriani and other city officials have been invited to the luncheon and dinner.

Crowded County Roads, Lakes Claim Two Lives

Oakland County roads and lakes claimed two lives over the holiday weekend as parks and recreation areas handled capacity crowds.

The victims were Mrs. Roy R. Hendrix, 48, of Orion Township, who died in a two-car crash, and Jerry B. Howard, 31, of Detroit, a drowning victim.

Parks were filled to the brim Saturday, July 4, but Sunday's crowds were a little lighter.

The attendance at Dodge Park on Cass Lake Saturday was 36,000 and Sunday 25,000, while at Pontiac Lake Recreation Area it was 15,000 and 10,000.

Traffic was thickest Saturday with a few tieups on the heaviest traveled routes, police said.

Movement on Dixie highway north of Pontiac was slowed to a near crawl several times Saturday afternoon because of the large volume of traffic, the Sheriff's Department reported.

The traffic accident occurred early Sunday on M24 in northern Oxford when Hendrix' car collided head-on with one driven by Charles L. Lake of 6468 Fish Lake Rd., North Branch.

271 Lose Lives in Fourth Traffic Across Nation

Death Toll Falls Far Under Feared Estimate of 350

By The Associated Press

Traffic	271
Drownings	178
Miscellaneous	64
Total	513

The nation's Fourth of July traffic cost 271 lives during the extended 54-hour weekend.

It was deadlier than the last two-day Fourth—that of 1953 when a record 262 highway deaths were counted.

But this year's toll fell far short of the National Safety Council's preholiday estimate of 350.

Accidents killed 513 Americans in all during the Independence Day weekend.

Besides the 271 highway deaths there were 178 drownings and 64 deaths in other types of accidents including plane crashes, falls, fires and gun accidents. None died from fireworks.

The count began at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday, with the start of the after-work vacation trip departures, and ended at midnight Sunday.

The traffic death record of the weekend just past was termed by a Safety Council official a proud one for motorists and law enforcement officers.

Reds Claim 2 Space Dogs Back Safely

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union has launched a space rocket containing two dogs which were returned safely to earth, Moscow radio said today.

The announcement came from Tass, the Soviet news agency. Moscow said the launching was made July 2.

It described the event as a routine launching of a single stage geophysical ballistic rocket of medium range.

Previously the United States had recovered two monkeys sent into space. One of these died later.

The first animal of note to be projected into space was the Russian dog Laika, which died.

Mission of the rocket was to aid scientific research in "the upper layers of the atmosphere," the broadcast added.

It did not immediately say if the rocket was put into orbit around the earth or stretched farther into space. There was no immediate indication how high the dogs flew.

Moscow said the rocket was equipped with apparatus for studying the ultraviolet portion of the solar spectrum, the structure of the ionosphere and the micro-meteorite stream.

Instruments measuring the speed of air currents at different heights, density, pressure, temperature and composition of the atmosphere also were hoisted aloft, the broadcast said.

The two dogs were identified at Otchaynaya and Szezhihka—meaning daring and snowflake, respectively. A rabbit was also aboard, the broadcast said.

For Otchaynaya, it was the third space-defying rocket ascent, said the broadcast.

The total weight of scientific instruments and animals aboard was put by the Russians at 2,000 kilograms—around 4,409 pounds or more than two tons.

Aerial Dogfight Over Formosa May Be Start

China Nationalists Tell of Red Plane Buildup Along East Coast

From Our News Wires

TOKYO — The battle between Chinese Communist and Nationalist planes that increased tensions in the Formosa Strait this weekend could be the start of a new Far East crisis.

The Nationalists have been predicting such a flareup for months and recently warned that the Chinese Reds had decided at a military conference to stir things up in this critical part of the world.

It is almost a year since Red shelling of the Nationalist-held offshore islands started the Quemoy troubles.

Although this crisis fizzled out late last year, the Peiping regime has been making ominous motions in other Far East areas.

The Nationalist Chinese official Military Information Service said today the Chinese Communists have concentrated 2,300 planes — about two-thirds of the entire Red air force — along the East Coast within striking range of Formosa.

Nationalist Chinese officials have predicted a Communist offensive to coincide with the resumption of the Geneva foreign ministers conference July 13.

Today they reported an ominous buildup of Communist forces along the straits.

There were strong possibilities the United States would become involved in any flareup, Peiping radio has made a series of charges in recent days of alleged U.S. air violations of Communist territory; yesterday it said a U.S. warship intruded into Communist waters.

It issued what it called its 54th "serious warning" against "these military provocations."

The aerial battle Sunday was the biggest in the Formosa area in nine months.

Air Force headquarters on Formosa gave this account:

Four Nationalist pilots flying U.S.-made Sabre Jets were on a routine patrol south of the Nationalist-held Matsu islands when they were jumped by 12 Soviet-made MIG fighters. Within 13 minutes four MIGs were shot down.

A fifth MIG was downed by planes and anti-aircraft fire on the Palchuan — White Dog — Islands, 11 miles south of the Matsus.

All the Sabre Jets returned safely to their northern Formosa base.

The Nationalists claim the air battle was provoked by the Communists the same way last year's tension in the Formosa Strait began with Red artillery shelling.

If the Nationalist alarms are correct, why does the Peiping regime want a crisis?

It could be part of the Reds' continuing campaign to test Western defenses and determination in the Far East.

It could also be their way of reminding the United States, concerned with Europe and Berlin, that Peiping is also to be reckoned with.

The Reds also could use a new crisis for domestic purposes — to take the peoples' minds off current problems at home.

Southfield Girl Wins Miss Michigan Title

By DICK HANSON
Press Suburban Editor

A sparkling blue-eyed blonde from Southfield was chosen "Miss Michigan" last night at Walled Lake Park.

Lovely Susan Westergaard, 20, of 26060 W. Nine-Mile Rd., Southfield, was picked from 48 contestants to represent Michigan in the "Miss Universe Contest" at Long Beach, Calif., July 16-26.

"I already had the winner picked, and it wasn't me," exclaimed Susan after she was crowned by last year's winner, Shirley Ann Black of Flint.

"I've never been so happy in my life," the new queen added. "It's wonderful — I'm thrilled with winning."

Judges admitted it was a difficult task, picking one girl to represent the state from a field of 48 pretty entrants. The contest was held in the roller rink at Walled Lake Park before more than a thousand people. Preliminaries trimmed the girls' ranks to 16 finalists.

The 48 aspirants appeared first in the afternoon during a bathing suit review. This was followed by a pageant which presented them in formal gowns.

By evening, judges had narrowed the field down to the 16 finalists who returned first in bathing suits and again in formal gowns. "Miss Michigan" was picked for her beauty of face and figure in the contest sponsored by the Walled Lake Park.

1957 GRADUATE

The winner coaxes the scales to 120 pounds, stands 5 feet six and a half inches, and measures 35-23½-35. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bjarne Westergaard and a 1957 graduate of Southfield High School.

Susan has made a fast rise in the business world of Detroit. Ten months ago she was hired as a receptionist for the John Robert Powers Finishing School in Detroit.

Today, she is office manager of the firm. She also is engaged to James O'Dea, a WXYZ-TV technician, but no wedding date has been decided yet.

Among the four runnersup was another Oakland County beauty, Susan McCombe, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. McCombe of 647 Lakeview Rd., Birmingham. The others were: Joanne Cass, 18, of Detroit; Judy Coulter, 19, of Palmer Park, and Sally Ann Jones, 22, of Detroit.

It was a day of firsts for the new Miss Michigan. It was her first major beauty contest and it will bring a dream come true — her first trip to the West Coast — and her first flight in an airplane.

Susan will fly out to the Miss Universe contest at Long Beach with all expenses paid. She will receive free a complete wardrobe for the trip.

Asked what her favorite hobbies are, Susan put swimming at the head of the list. "I'd like to learn to play golf better," she added.

While in her senior year at high school, Miss Michigan was picked Homecoming Queen. That was in 1957.

Judges for yesterday's contest were Mark Beltaire, Detroit Free Press columnist; Jean Loach, WXYZ - TV personality; Arnold Hirsch, amusement editor for the Detroit Times; Robert M. Gordon, Midwest representative for the Catalina Bathing Suits Co.; and Rhea Vietor, womens editor of The Pontiac Press.

A color guard from the Naval Reserve unit at Pontiac officially opened the finals for the contest by parading the colors.

The guard consisted of Noble C. Chidester, Boatswain Mate 3.C. of Rochester; Frederick H. Graunstadt, Boatswain Mate 3.C. of Waterford; and Charles T. Shedd, Engineman 3.C. of Milford.

Suit Will Seek to Oust Hoffa

12 Teamster Members Plan to Press Charges Next Month

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — An attorney for a group of rebel Teamster members says he will take legal action in a month or two to oust James R. Hoffa as president of the big union.

Godfrey P. Schmidt said yesterday the aim of the 12 rank-and-file members would be to have Hoffa disqualified or expelled from the Teamsters so that he could not be a candidate to succeed himself.

Schmidt, who recently resigned as a member of a three-man Board of Monitors appointed by a federal court to ride herd on the Teamsters, said he hoped the monitors would join in the action.

He said about 263 charges have piled up against Hoffa and his administration since last August, only to lie collecting dust while rank-and-file Teamsters and union officials hostile to Hoffa's regime had been disciplined or ousted.

"These charges are substantial enough to oust Hoffa as provisional president" of the Teamsters, Schmidt said.

The attorney, who said he did not mean Hoffa should be ousted without trial, indicated he would ask Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts, who set up the Board of Monitors, to name a referee to examine the charges and arrange for a union trial.

Youth Beginning 10-Day Sentence

Prosecutor's Office Is Undecided About Six Companions in Beating

An 18-year-old Bloomfield Township youth today began a 10-day jail sentence while the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office still was contemplating what to do with six of his companions.

Timothy A. David of 591 Woodway Ct. checked into the county jail after his attorney John V. Manikoff decided he would not appeal David's conviction last month in the assault of a Clawson truck driver in Bloomfield Hills in March.

David was found guilty by Huntington Woods Justice James Renfrew who heard the case in Bloomfield Hills Justice Court when regular Hills Justice Alva J. Richardson withdrew.

Before finding David guilty June 25 and sentencing him to 10 days in jail, Renfrew dismissed aggravated assault charges against six other Birmingham area youths accused of taking part in the beating of Harold C. Puterbaugh, 32.

Renfrew said he dismissed the charges because Puterbaugh could not identify the six as being those who beat him March 12 after the youths allegedly became angry as he tooted his horn at their car when it didn't move away fast enough from a traffic light.

Puterbaugh did identify David, however.

George F. Taylor, chief assistant prosecutor, said he planned to confer with Puterbaugh today before he can decide whether new warrants will be issued against the six youths.

Won Top Ratings, Awards

Pontiac Citizen-Soldiers Home

By JOE SINGLETON

After two weeks of rigorous field training, members of Pontiac's 2nd Basic Combat Training Battalion returned home early yesterday morning.

The hard work of these citizen-soldiers paid off with top ratings from U.S. Army inspection teams and special regimental awards.

One top regimental award was won by Walled Lake school teacher, PFC. James K. Beck, of 2402 Pontiac Trail.

He was awarded the "Best Instructor Award" by Maj. Gen. Clyde E. Dougherty, commander of the 70th Training Division, in a special parade and awards program as the division concluded its training.

Beck was chosen from men in 12 companies which make up the 333rd training regiment. He was first chosen from the 4 companies which make up Pontiac's 2nd battalion. The Pontiac and area men sented his battalion in the competition for the regimental award.

Runner-ups in the battalion's choice, and winner in their individual companies were: Pfc. Richard G. Wilton, 5582 Harrel St., Drayton Plans; Pfc. Hubert W. Edwards, 4. 101 Glass Rd., Ortonville; Pfc. Lawrence T. Teach, 3357 Indianwood Rd., Lake Orion.

The "best soldier" award for Pontiac's 2nd battalion went to Pfc. Richard T. Gronski, 1016 Harding St., Rochester. Runnerups were: Pfc. Dieter W. Kubisch, 547 Heights Rd., Lake Orion; Pfc. Edwards and Pvt. Gerald C. Sleep, 3440 Woodland Dr., Milford.

The 2nd battalion, which was previously the 703rd Tank Battalion, made its initial summer training program of infantry training and instructions this year.

Although there was much work in this year's training program, there was some time for recreation. The Pontiac and area men captured the softball regimental championship in one-game elimination contests, but lost their bid for the division championship.

Frank D. Thompson, 967 Berwick Blvd., the battalion commander said, "I am proud of the men of the 2nd Battalion. They had to work especially hard during this year's training program due to the change in the type of training of this unit.

They came through with flying colors, and Pontiac and area residents can justly be proud of these men."

A total of 25 persons lost their lives in Michigan accidents over the July 4th holiday weekend.

Authorities reported that 13 of the dead were drowned, 11 died in traffic mishaps, and one was killed in a home fire.

A year ago, 28 persons lost their lives in accidents during the Independence Day weekend.

Six of the drowned died when a cabin cruiser on which they were riding Saturday night in Muskegon channel of Lake Michigan was rammed by a car ferry. Only two of the eight persons aboard the cruiser survived the accident.

Those who died were Alvin Kenny, 49, a North Muskegon contractor, his wife, Dorothy, 43, their son, Robert, 21, and 29-year-old son-in-law, Richard Schaub, Charleston, W. Va., and William Stong and Norman Burr, both 24, of Muskegon.

Abandon Efforts to Quell Flames

Cargo-Tanker Beached Off Louisiana After 37 Are Rescued

CAMERON, La. (UPI) — White-hot explosions seared the Belgian cargo-tanker "Anvers" today as firefighters towed it around and surrendered it to roaring flames.

The tanker was beached three miles offshore here early today after its 37 crewmen, the captain's wife and the captain had been rescued, but they feared the burning hulk might drift free again and blunder into a nearby offshore oil drilling rig.

At least six persons, two members of the crew of the 9,600-ton Anvers, two Navy seamen and two Coast Guard firefighters, were injured. None was believed seriously hurt.

Searing white explosions from magnesium bars stored in the No. 5 hold lighted the early-morning sky and the hull of the Anvers glowed red.

The last message from the Navy destroyer USS Wren said:

"Abandon all firefighting stations. Too hazardous. Beach ship."

The craft was beached three miles offshore and five miles southwest of Cameron, not far from several off-shore drilling rigs. A Coast Guard official said "We got trouble" if the ship drifts free again.

Two cutters patrolled nearby to keep the tanker from drifting off the shallows.

Officials said the 800 tons of fuel aboard the Anvers apparently had not yet been reached by the fire, which has raged since 10:23 a.m. yesterday.

The entire after-deck was burned out early today and the fire was blazing on the foredeck. The ship was listing at six degrees.

Two of the injured firefighters suffered facial burns, officials said.

ORDERED TO LEAVE

The skipper and 12 other crewmembers, aided by fire parties which had boarded the craft, stayed aboard to battle the flames but shortly after midnight they too were ordered by the Coast Guard to abandon ship.

Two destroyers, four Coast Guard cutters, two tugs and a motorship picked up the survivors from life rafts. The two crewmembers were injured during the blaze.

The 9,800-ton ship was bound from Antwerp, Belgium, to Lake Charles, La., when fire broke out in the engine room.

Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

were chasing an overloaded 12-foot rowboat. Deputy Donald Johnston, off-duty at the time, was with them.

As they approached the two-person boat it began to sink from water it had taken on.

Its occupants, Mrs. Rose E. Kulczyk, of 9120 Pulaski, her four-year-old son, Frank, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Vrabel, of Lakeville, owners of the boat, floundered in the water.

Mrs. Kulczyk went under. Johnston dived in after her. He found her body on the lake's bottom, 15 feet under the surface and hauled her to shore.

Johnston worked over the unconscious mother for 20-minutes applying artificial respiration before she revived.

The Pierce brothers pulled the Vrabels and the Kulczyk boy into the patrol boat. The boy's mother was taken to Pontiac General Hospital for a check up and released.

Sheriff Frank W. Irons today pointed to the quick action of Johnson and the Pierce brothers as "surely preventing one drowning and possibly four."

Crewmen Return to Lakes Ore Boats

DULUTH, Minn. (UPI) — Crewmen returned to Great Lakes ore boats today to end a strike that tied up 50 ships in this and other Lake Superior harbors.

The crewmen, members of Local 5000 of the Seamen's Division of the United Steelworkers, walked off the ships early last week in a move to force recognition by shipping companies.

Fifty ships were left stranded at docks or in mid-lake near Duluth, Superior, Wis., and Two Harbors, Minn., as the crewmen threw up picket lines at the docks.

42 Die in Karachi Rains

KARACHI, Pakistan (UPI) — Monsoon rains which drenched Karachi all last week killed 42 persons in floods and collapsing houses, unofficial reports said today. The floods were hitting West Pakistan today and scores of villages were reported inundated and cut off near the Kashmir border.

The Day in Birmingham

To Ask City Commission for 16-Mile Road Light

BIRMINGHAM—The City Commission tonight is expected to hear a communication from Colin Campbell, 655 Lakeview Ave., in reference to a traffic light he feels is needed on North Woodward avenue near 16-Mile road.

Campbell's letter outlines the dilemma of a westbound driver on 16-Mile road wishing to turn south on Woodward avenue, and finding the only solution is to "look for an opening and zip across."

He suggests that city engineers observe the situation for themselves, preferably around 5 p.m. At this time, writes Campbell, Woodward traffic is joined by home-bound traffic from a nearby office, and the only answer is the "look and zip" method.

Campbell thinks that a stop light system, either at Quarton road, Big Beaver road, or 16-mile road would serve to regulate Woodward traffic so that safe crossings can be made.

Also on tap is a request by City Manager L. R. Gare to negotiate for downtown parking facilities, and a hearing on the vacating of Cherry Court.

A letter to the commission from Gare points out that there are no municipal parking facilities in the northwest quadrant of the central downtown business district.

His request is to negotiate for an existing privately owned parking lot, and for adjacent property in the area.

The proposed vacation would affect the south 102 feet of Cherry Court, and would retain an easement for maintenance of public utilities.

Edward C. Wahl

Rosary service for Edward C. Wahl, 64, of 19264 Riverside Dr., Birmingham, will be held at 8 today at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Requiem mass will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic Church, with burial in Tonawanda, N.Y. Mr. Wahl died Friday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac of injuries suffered in a recent fall.

He was the representative in this area for the Leeds and Northrup Co., of Philadelphia, a scientific instrument firm. Mr. Wahl was a 1925 graduate of the University of Michigan, and a member of the American Society for Metals, the Acorn Rifle Club, and the operator of ham radio station W8ED.

Surviving are his wife, Kathryn M., and three sisters.

Ernest E. Mann

Service for Ernest E. Mann, 51, of Phoenix, Ariz., will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday from the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., with burial in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Mann, died Thursday at his home in Phoenix, Ariz., after a brief illness. He had been a longtime resident of Birmingham prior to moving to Phoenix in 1948 and was a former member of St. James Episcopal Church.

Surviving are a daughter, Suzanne W. of Detroit, and one sister, Mrs. Robert C. Hupp, of Lapeer.

up by Letts in a compromise settlement of a suit by the rank-and-file Teamsters who charged that Hoffa's election was "rigged."

He declined to estimate his chances of forcing Hoffa's ouster or to guess how long the procedure might take.

Schmidt also said it would not erase corruption in the union, any more than "getting rid of Hitler" by itself would have erased Nazism. But he said it would be "a very substantial contribution to a cleanup which is long overdue."

Schmidt said he had received threats by telephone, letter and postal card. He said he had no way to link them with the Teamster hierarchy but that he had referred them to the FBI and other agencies.

Asked if he expected action on the threats, he replied firmly: "I do."

Schmidt said it was his own opinion that Hoffa could not win re-election in a fairly conducted election. He said he thought a nationwide poll (Gallup) was right two years ago when, he said, it found that 75 per cent of the Teamsters didn't want Hoffa.

Reminded that many anti-Hoffa union leaders thought the Teamster chief would win anyway, Schmidt said that was just their own idea.

Schmidt's statements on legal action against Hoffa were made as the Senate Rackets Committee prepared to look into alleged extortion deals in New Jersey and financial transactions involving Hoffa's friend Ben Dhanow.

Dranow, a former Minneapolis department store executive, is not a member of the Teamsters Union. He invoked the fifth amendment in earlier questioning by the Rackets Committee.

Dranow was described as too ill to appear last week when other committee witnesses described him as having money manipulations costly to Teamsters' treasuries.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy gave no details of extortion deals he said his investigators have uncovered in and around Hoboken, N.J.

Kennedy said Hoffa will be asked to testify again this week.

Fight Ruffles Good-Will Tour

Street Incident Mars Havana Mayor's Visit to Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A street-fight that marred a Cuban "Operation Friendship" visit failed to make a perceptible dent in civic good will between Miami and Havana.

Expressions of amity came from mayors of both cities as the Havana delegation prepared to go home today.

Mayor Robert King High of Miami said "It is my hope that this incident does not mar the friendly relations that have always existed between these two great cities."

Mayor Jose Llanusa of Havana said "The ties between the peoples of Havana and Miami are stronger than the criminals" who he accused of trying to sabotage the good-will mission.

Cuban Ambassador Ernesto Dihigo in Washington also blamed the Saturday night disturbance on "political refugees who try to duplicate on American soil what they were accustomed to do in Cuba."

Cuba's consul at Miami, Alonso Hidalgo, 32, and Cuban tourist commissioner Rafael Valdes, 29, were injured and arrested in a southwest Miami melee between some members of the Operation Friendship entourage and a group they described as a mob of sympathizers of ex-president Fulgencio Batista.

Michigan Polio Cases Almost Double 1958

LANSING (AP) — Polio cases in Michigan the first six months of this year are nearly double those recorded last year, the State Health Department said today.

The department reported 31 cases so far this year against 17 during the same period in 1958. There were six cases listed last week against one the same week a year ago.

Three of the six cases reported last week were paralytic. They were found in Detroit, Oakland County and Van Buren County.

Michigan so far has recorded 15 paralytic cases compared with 10 in the same period last year, the department said.

I'll Take Rocket Next Time, Says Dr. Von Braun

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Next time Dr. Wernher von Braun comes to Texas, he expects to be riding a rocket.

The noted scientist who directs the Army missile program, almost failed to make it here from Birmingham, Ala., in time for a speech to the Texas Bar Assn. Friday night.

Von Braun said engine trouble made the plane almost two hours late reaching Carter Field outside neighboring Fort Worth.

"It was an old-fashioned, air-breathing, piston-powered vehicle in which some people still have to travel for lack of better transportation," Von Braun told his audience.

"Next time I will travel by ballistic missile. To make it extra safe, it will be an Army missile."

How much has your income gone up in the last 18 years? During that time federal, state and local taxes have risen 655 per cent.

June Was Full of Sunshine

"And what is so rare as a day in June?

Then, if ever, come perfect days;

Then Heaven tries the earth if it be in tune,

And over it softly her warm ear lays."—James Russell Lowell.

There were 23 perfect sunshiny days in the month of June just past. Old Sol encouraged 445 couples to apply for marriage licenses in Oakland County.

There were four days to suit these with the inclinations of James Whitcomb Riley.

"It hain't no use to grumble and complain,

It's just as easy to rejoice;

When God sorts out the weather and sends rain,

Why rain's my choice."

It added up to 1.01 inches in the Oakland County-Detroit area, almost three times as much rain — 2.98 inches — fell during the month of June last year.

The three days that it wasn't sunny or raining last month the weather was fair one day and cloudy the other two.

The temperature reached its zenith for the month at 93 degrees on June 29. The low was 47 degrees. Last year during June the high was 90 and the low 44.

Overall, the average temperature for June, 1959 was 70.1 degrees. The previous year 63.9 degrees.

Bob Considine Says:

Sorry State Where Insult Goes Unnoticed

NEW YORK—People . . . Places . . . Things . . .

Terribly exasperated by the attitude of some of the Russian officials who are supervising the American Exhibition at Moscow, one of our officials exploded at a meeting:

"You fellows sound to me like a bunch of Communists!"

Sam Goldwyn's next picture, which he will begin at the age of 76 or 77, will be about the Middle East. It won't be about Israel. "That would be too obvious — for me, a Jew," Sam told us.

"Then what will it be about?" I asked, innocently. Goldwyn grinned like a Chessy cat.

"That's precisely what I won't tell you," he said. "If I did, and you printed it, at least seven other pictures on the same theme would come out before I got mine ready.

When I was a kid I thought that going to summer school was akin to going to reform school. A kid had to be a hopeless jerk to be faced with the necessity of summer school.

Something of that old prejudice still lingered in me when I recently took a boy of ours to a summer school. I had visions of his sitting in the middle of an otherwise empty classroom, an outcast who hadn't been able to square a triangle during the regular semester.

Nearly got trampled. There were 500 others there, waiting to be registered . . . some of them making up flunked grades, but many (commendably enough) taking courses months in advance of their normal schedule.

Speaking of school work, parents who have learned to steel themselves against all modern educational innovations might as well get set now for another jolt —

A four-year study of several thousand California and New York school children has shown that children who are fed vitamin-mineral capsules exhibit a definite edge over non-pill takers in mental and physical abilities.

The Upjohn people, who are concerned with such crises, report that 65 per cent of our school children have diet deficiencies (59 per cent in families of the highest income status.

The on-the-run sandwich-and-pop diet was blamed chiefly, but the yen for slimness bordering on scrawniness also came in for a blast — this one from the American Medical Association's Council on Foods and Nutrition:

"The urge for slenderness and compulsion to do as the group does results in the teen girl's refusal to eat nutritious food at home, yet she snacks frequently at the gathering places of her group. The result — decidedly unbalanced diet."

The teen boy, says the AMA group, just goes in for quantity, not quality, in his diet.

Two ball clubs confuse the vitamin-pill-taking statistcs. Both Kansas City and Los Angeles have their athletes under regular dosage. Kansas City should get the name of Los Angeles' pills.

A national magazine is running a contest with an interesting first prize: A ghost town in Arizona. Right now it is named Ulcer Gulch, and, from the sound of it, it would keep that name even under new ownership — though the winner of the contest has the right to rename the town after himself.

Good old Ulcer Gulch, 75 miles from Phoenix, has a sun-baked 11-room hotel, a parched saloon, a blistered post office, a dried out general store, one bleached private home, three bone-dry chic sales, and a dead dog.

The last person it was named for, before it was Ulcer Gulch, was one Charles P. Stanton.

He was shot and killed there in 1886.

George C. Whipple Jr., who let me in on this scoop, looked furtively from side to side and kicked imaginary pebbles in embarrassment, when asked if Stanton had an ulcer.

The most important single agricultural product of Turkey is tobacco.

Teamsters to Air Beefs Against Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamster Union members who are critical of the terms of contracts negotiated by James R. Hoffa, the union president, and the way in which they have been enforced will get a chance to testify next week before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy told newsmen the critics will come from locals in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and New York, and possibly other states.

Kennedy did not identify any of the witnesses, who probably will appear before the committee in mid-week.

The surface of the earth consists of an estimated 139 million square miles of water and an estimated 57 million square miles of land.

Two men jumped from the shadows of a home at 115 Branch St., and held them up at knifepoint, they told police.

Economic Conference Hits Anti-Inflation Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Conference on Economic Progress has attacked the Eisenhower administration's anti - inflation program as a scare campaign.

The conference is a privately supported group of labor and farm leaders and businessmen. Its report released Sunday was drawn up by Leon Keyserling, who was head of the President's Council of Economic Advisers under former President Harry S. Truman.

The conference's board members include President Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers, President A. J. Hayes of the Machinist Union, attorneys Thurman Arnold and William H. Davis, government officials in Democratic administrations, President James G. Patton of the National Farmers Union and Murray D. Lincoln, president of the Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co.

The conference report charged the administration's money policies were fostering unemployment and higher costs. It urged the government to draw up what the group called a national prosperity budget for the next five years or so with definite goals for maximum production and employment.

The report said "this manifestly calls for a much bigger federal budget and a much more liberal monetary policy than we now have."

The conference report came a week after one issued by the Cabinet anti-inflation committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The CEP report did not specifically attack the Nixon report. But Keyserling told reporters he considered the report of the Cabinet committee a political stump speech and a "paste pot reiteration" of the administration's legislative program.

The Cabinet group had said the nation is at a critical point requiring prompt adoption of stricter curbs on federal spending and removal of the interest rate ceiling on government bonds to avoid what it called the serious threat of inflation.

Keyserling's group charged "the natural desire of the average family to be protected from inflation has been played upon to induce acceptance of regressive national economic policies, which have helped those who need help least at the expense of those who deserve help most.

"The real purpose of this scare campaign has now been revealed clearly as an effort to repress American wages, on the erroneous assumption that rising wages have been the major cause of rising prices and thus weakened our competitive position abroad."

The CEP report said federal economic policies since the Korean War have created more inflation than ever before, used credit-restraint policies to slow down the economy and used a threat of inflation to retard investment in such things as national defense and education.

The report said the conference's proposed "national prosperity budget" would envisage government outlays by 1964 about 16½ billion dollars higher for goods and services than is now being spent, and about 19 billion dollars higher for social security and related programs.

Protestant Churches Polish Merger Plans

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Representatives of two major Protestant denominations met today to translate their vision of a united church into concrete terms.

It was a crucial stage in their 17 years of preliminary planning and effort.

As delegates of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian churches went into their first joint business session, their big job was to agree on a common constitution.

They also are to act on a proposed statement of faith.

These will be "momentous steps in formation of the United Church of Christ," said the non denominational weekly Christian Century. The whole Christian world," it added, is interested in the outcome.

Wide attention has focused on the merger because it is the first in this country involving denominations of such differences in organization and background.

Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where piñon won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped ½-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

Bill Would Stop Closed School Board Meetings

Public school business must be done in public meetings, and the records of these meetings are open to public inspection.

This is the meat of House Bill No. 366 introduced in the State Legislature, which would prevent boards of education from operating like autonomous states, as some have tried to do.

The bill, which amends earlier legislation, makes it clear that the board members' neighbors who elected them have the right to peek over their shoulders and know what's happening.

Charged with the enormous responsibility of educating the youth of the community, and doing millions of dollars worth of business each year, the schools have been the offspring and the wealth of the area in their trust.

It is not unreasonable that they should account for their stewardship by having their actions revealed to the public.

The act further provides that "meetings of the board shall be public and no person shall be excluded therefrom." In general, these principles have been accepted policy in our area, but spelling out the basis for this policy is wise, and we endorse the legislation.

Entire Kierdorf Case Is Slowly Being Resolved

The FRANK KIERDORF "human torch" case which focused the attention of the nation on Pontiac nearly a year ago has come to a conclusion, barring further legal maneuvers, with this box score:

One dead, two sentenced to prison, with one behind bars and another ducking the same fate with appeal machinery.

Frank Kierdorf died four days after being admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and giving police a tale about being burned by strangers.

With the discovery that a suburban Flint dry-cleaning store had been set ablaze the same night he was burned, his story was repudiated. The "human torch" label, implying someone had set him on fire, lingered on.

His Teamster-aide uncle, who promptly became "Uncle HERMAN" for the headline writers, professed his ignorance of the cleaning-shop blaze, but was convicted of possessing an illegal silencer for a gun discovered in the investigation. He was sentenced to 1-5 years in prison Nov. 11, but is still on the outside looking in.

Jack Thompson, a Teamster crony and fellow business agent of Frank Kierdorf's, was convicted of arson April 4, and sentenced to 1½ to 10 years in prison recently. He plans an appeal, but Genesee County Circuit Judge was taking no chances with the ex-convict, and packed him off to Jackson Prison.

THOMPSON'S words to the court upon hearing sentence were: "It's the Teamsters who've been convicted, not me."

We think he's wrong. It was both THOMPSON AND the Teamsters. He will be serving time, and the public now has further evidence that Mr. HOFFA'S far-flung army plays for keeps with any weapon or method available, including the torch.

USIS Director States Our Stand on Algeria

Part of General DE GAULLE'S dissatisfication with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is due to his conviction that the United States and other members are lukewarm in their support of France on the difficult Algerian problem.

In so far as this country is concerned, the recent Paris speech of GEORGE V. ALLEN, director of the United States Information Service (USIS) allayed some of DE GAULLE'S fears. Mr. ALLEN did not give blanket endorsement to all French policies in Algeria.

However, he did give formal and official recognition to President de Gaulle's efforts to attain peace and rebuilt the strife torn North African country. He lauded de Gaulle's patience and persistence in his efforts to find a permanent solution.

Gen. DE GAULLE'S hand has been strengthened also by the latest Algerian election in which pre-DE GAULLE political leaders won and right wing extremists were defeated. French colonists and extreme nationalists are stumbling blocks to peace. There seems to be little doubt that with Gen. DE GAULLE'S policies of giving the Moslems autonomy the the Algerian problem could be eased and further bloodshed avoided.

The Man About Town

World Largest

We're Biggest Michigan City With No Other Ry.

Grand Blanc: A suburban town that golf put on the map.

Figures recently issued by the Canadian National Railway show that it has the largest mileage of any railroad system on the continent. The Grand Trunk is a part of that system, mostly located in Canada, where it shares most of the railway mileage with the Canadian Pacific, but it also enters several of our states. Pontiac is the largest Michigan city exclusively served by the Canadian National System.

After a few days of close observation, I heartily agree with the sentiments expressed in a letter from of Rochester: "Any seeming faults in Queen Elizabeth II or her reign are in the royalty system, and not her own. She should not be blamed for what she inherited, which in her gracious ways she is trying to live down."

Getting at least 110 per cent endorsement is of Birmingham, who phones: "Our boys in the legislature at Lansing voted themselves a long holiday to celebrate the Fourth. But they've given nobody else any reason to celebrate, and their actions prove that they don't know why the Fourth is celebrated."

The razing of the Orpheum Theater brings recollections. I attended its opening night performance 34 years ago, the guest of the late and distinctly remember its manager,

Samuel J. Patterson,

August J. Kleist, Jr.,

who later met death from exposure when lost in a North Michigan winter.

"Talking about hard luck signs, I'll never again believe in them," phones of Walled Lake, who didn't want to walk under a ladder, so stepped off the sidewalk—and sprained his ankle.

A Little Water, a Lot of Money — Instant Waste

David Lawrence Says:

Kozlov Peddling Deception in U.S.

WASHINGTON—There must have been in Moscow an advance "briefing" of First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov by the other First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan. One doubtless told the other what to expect in America. It probably ran somewhat as follows:

LAWRENCE

"Now, Comrade Kozlov, don't underestimate the power of the press in America. You can get good headlines and lots of pictures in the paper by following a few simple rules.

"For instance, smile always, shake hands with people everywhere, visit the big supermarkets and the shops, talk about 'peaceful coexistence' and how you hate war.

"Tell those Americans that our government has done everything it could to preserve peace but somehow the American government doesn't accept what we demand, and that this is the whole trouble.

"Now, as for the businessmen, they only want to make money. Tell them how much money they can make if they open up trade with us. Not all businessmen feel that way. Some of them are reactionary—they believe in supporting their government's policies, and they call it 'patriotism.' But there are always others who like to get their names in the paper and who will go out of their way to make a fuss over you.

'BE FIRM'

"As for the President and the secretary of state, be firm with them. If you can get the people with you, it doesn't matter about the government's policies. Be sure you stress peace because the people want to be left alone—they don't like war.

"Tell them about our sputniks and missiles, of course, so that they'll know we're ahead and they will stop trying to catch up. Don't show any signs of weakening or giving in. With those Americans, it is necessary to talk tough—and then they'll melt away."

How successful was this approach? First Deputy Kozlov has followed the line very closely. How many millions of Americans are being taken in by it? Some local officials—as, for instance, the mayor of Detroit—aren't being fooled. He plainly said he saw no reason to give any welcome to an unofficial visitor who represents what Kozlov does.

But the American press has done a far better job this time in exposing the hypocrisies evident in the Kozlov utterances than when similar falsehoods were disseminated by Mikoyan on his recent visit to this country.

The New York "Times," for instance, in an editorial Sunday said that Kozlov in his speech before the Washington correspondents last week seemed to be speaking for peace and good will, but "much of what he said was either misleading or threatening." The "Times" specifies six points as follows:

"1. He said: 'The will of the Soviet people is a sacred law for the government of the U.S.S.R.' The Russian government is an autocracy. It doesn't know what the will of the Soviet people is.

"2. He said: 'We are building a new society and we believe it will be the most just social order on earth.' There is no standard of justice in Russia except what half a dozen or so people may say it is.

"3. He said: 'We do not intend to foist this order by force on anybody.' It has been foisted by force upon the Baltic states, Hungary, a good part of Eastern Germany and an unknown number of the Russian people.

"4. He spoke of reductions in the Russian army and armaments. He presented no proof that a single man had been demobilized.

"5. He spoke of offers made by Moscow to prohibit the use of nuclear weapons. He did not mention that Russia has refused to make a single binding guarantee that this would be done . . .

"6. He discussed the surrender of West Berlin to the Moscow-dominated East German Republic as a step in the direction of peace, rejecting with indignation the charge that the Russian policy for West Germany 'revealed aggressive intention.'

Dr. William Brady Says:

Mother of 7 Works Out, Can't Seem to Gain Weight

"Your advice is to the point and your humor is like cool spring water on a summer's day — refreshing. I am 47, mother of seven children, working 8 hours a day, five days a week as a secretary, and spending all my leisure catching up at home with household duties, Cub Scouts, PTA, etc.

DR. BRADY

"I feel fine, but am skinny as a rail, getting grey and always have cold hands and feet. (Signed)"

Your letter makes me tired, ma'am and a little sad. Tired to think about such a busy schedule and sad to think that a mother of seven must be away from her children every school day.

Caring for one or two children is a job. Caring for a half dozen is a full time job, and if a mother has to leave her children without her care or under other care in order to earn enough to house and feed them, the state is negligent. Automatically the state should pay such a mother a monthly salary equivalent to what she could earn in employment, for the service she renders the state by staying home and taking care of her children.

NEED MOTHER

Even though the children are left under the care of Nana, Aunt Ira or some other capable, dependable person while mother is at work, they are still deprived of the loving care and watchfulness that only a mother can give.

You say nothing about your diet, but one can well imagine such a busy person snatching an inadequate breakfast of tea and toast or coffee and a roll and lunching on a cookie and a glass of pop. To keep at your best you must begin your day with a substantial breakfast, such as Fresh fruit in season, unsugared. Undenaturized cereal, unsugared or whole wheat bread, toast or roll or hot cakes of wheat, corn, oats. Eggs bacon, sausage, ham or fish. Tea, coffee or milk.

In my booklet, "The 7 keys to Vite" (35c and a stamped self-addressed envelope) you will find the basic health, corrective, protective, regeneration, rejuvenation or reduction diet—it makes an excellent pattern on which to build your own diet to suit your individual requirements. The diet includes every essential nutritional factor, but no cereal. This, preferably undenaturized (unprocessed, unrefined) is to be added to supply the calories your work or play demands.

Police and Press Praised for Safety

Our local traffic officers are to be commended for the all-out war they planned to declare on law violators over the holiday. It's just such concentrated effort that will reduce the appalling number of deaths that result from holiday accidents.

I'm sure those officers would like to be home with their families and friends on holidays the same as the rest of us, and their work is especially praiseworthy in that they are willing to forego their own enjoyment for the sake of others.

The Pontiac Press is doing an especially fine job of promoting water safety this year. With more and more people going to the lakes and driving boats, it's necessary to keep reminding people of the dangers involved. It's impossible to tell how many lives are saved by such articles and editorials as our paper has been publishing, but if it's only one, they're worth the space. I'm just one of many who appreciate them.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

You Can Overcome Stage Fright

Dr. Larry's case should strike home with millions of you laymen who also suffer as he does. So scrapbook this column today, plus the sequel tomorrow, for you can easily banish needless social fears and become a successful public platform performer by the simple advice offered below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B-479: Dr. Larry, aged 38, is a very talented physician "But I am a victim of stage fright," he admitted to me privately.

DR. CRANE

"Why, whenever, I am scheduled to make a speech I am so keyed up the entire day prior to the event, that I can't eat.

"Last week, for example, I read a paper before our County Medical Society.

"It was at a banquet session. I couldn't eat a bite of the dinner but just sipped two or three cups of coffee.

"My listeners are usually generous with praise, so they may not realize how tense I am. But even a 2-minute talk before my Rotary Club gets me all unstrung. Can a fellow ever get over stage fright?"

FEAR OF CROWDS

"Were you ever sensitive about your nose?" I bluntly answered, for he had a Roman type of nose.

"We-l-l, I guess I have been," he admitted dubiously.

"In fact, I once debated having a plastic surgeon try to slice the hump off my nose, but I never did so."

As we chatted at some length, Dr. Larry then confessed that in high school he also had such a severe complex concerning his nose that he wouldn't even ask a girl for a date lest she laugh at him.

Actually, his nose was not unattractive and most people probably would never have dreamed that a successful medic might suffer from the type of inferiority complex that attacks laymen and teenagers.

But fears and complexes are no respecters of persons. That's why I took a chance on the fact his nose might have caused him exaggerated social fear and timidity.

WHY STAGE FRIGHT

Stage fright attacks everybody at the start, whether we be speakers, singers, athletes or magicians.

With continued practice, we quit worrying so much about its presence and may even eat a hearty dinner prior to our performance. But all good actors, speakers or singers MUST be keyed up before their performance or they are not likely to do their best.

For stage fright causes our blood pressure to rise and our hearts to beat faster.

As a result, more blood and thus more oxygen go to the brain, so our thoughts percolate faster.

If, on the contrary, we were as cool as the proverbial cucumber, then we would not be as fluent. Words would not flow as readily to express our feelings.

Don't belittle the good effects of stage fright, therefore, but never let yourself become enslaved by it.

I mention these facts because "Misery loves company." You get a lot of relief when you know everybody else has stage fright. It reassures you so you don't think you are a "freak."

Just mount your speech notes or sheet music on a cardboard background so they will not rattle as you hold them.

Or take them in both hands and pull gently in opposite directions.

for this will calm the rattling papers instantly.

It also helps to face your complexes consciously and bluntly dissect them with an irritable "So what" attitude. See tomorrow's follow-up.

Journey To Love

By Virginia Nielsen

Chapter XXXIV

Alex opened the folder to the first account of the discovery of Phineas Redd's body. It was dated August 18. His eye skipped down the column:

"—physicians say that the body discovered late last night had lain for at least four days on the barren slope—"

Four days! And it was discovered on the seventh. Alex felt his scalp prickle. That would place the date of the murder on August 13, the same date of Kathie's deed!

He thumbed through the large yellowed sheets until he found an item:

"Charlie Hammer admitted that his brother came to him late on Tuesday night a week before and told him he was in trouble as a a result of a poker game, that his life had been threatened, and that he was secretly leaving the islands."

Alex worked backward from the issue of the paper before him and arrived at August 13. So, apparently, had the police, who openly talked of Job Hammer as the suspected murderer in following accounts.

What had happened on that evening of August 13, 1908, after Phineas Redd and Job Hammer had signed the deed before him?

The next newspaper account suggested one answer.

"—a possible motive in the murder of Phineas Redd was uncovered when Ebenezer Ward, of Waikiki, revealed he had paid the murdered man $5,000 for some property in Waikiki some three weeks before his death. There was no money on the body when it was found."

The police had talked of robbery. But Bea's father had reported that his brother had spoken of a poker game.

Alex glanced down at the deed. —wish to acknowledge and pay a debt—A phony deed to pay a poker debt? A poker game would probably involve other than just two men. "And that's where the man who wanted Bea Powers out of the way comes in," Alex exclaimed to himself.

He glanced at the deed again, at the two witnesses' names scrawled in the lower left-hand corner. They were all but illegible, and he bent closer over the faded ink.

PENCIL DROPPED

Suddenly his pencil dropped from nerveless fingers. The first witness to the deed was Ebenezer Ward! Old Ebenezer had witnessed a phony deed transferring property he himself had purchased from the same man?

"Not him." He stared at the faint signature before him, an expression of horror coming over his face.

That was when he had rushed back to the Wikiwiki, as fast as his car and the dinghy would carry him. He had been as relieved to see Kathie as she had been to see him, but he had not wanted to alarm her by telling her so.

He had hated to leave her alone again, but it was imperative that he catch the thief old Ebenezer Ward had sent out to look for the deed. Unless the police could make him talk, nobody would believe—

No one would have thought it of Ebenezer Ward. Alex himself had written more stories than he could remember about Ward's generous civic activities.

Now they paraded in a montage in his mind. Ward had dedicated a new school. He had extended greetings to visiting dignitaries. He had given to countless charities.

Ebenezer Ward would have been the last man he would have suspected. Why should anyone suspect the man who had been No. 1 on the list of those to be interviewed for their opinions from a recent eruption of Mauna Loa to a new political appointment.

NO WONDER

No wonder the old villain was wild to get hold of Kathie's deed! The higher they climbed, the harder they fell. And it was no wonder, either, that Ward had been able to clock Kathie's comings and goings so accurately. Sam had been with her almost constantly, up to today.

And where did Sam come in? Just what was his part in all this? And was Kathie actually planning to marry him?

Ward's thief was a clever one. Alex had to admit, growing more and more annoyed as he failed to gain on him or catch sight of him. He was dodging among the moored craft in the basin, managing to keep a hull between him and Alex as he zigzagged toward shore.

It took concentration and sharp hearing to keep on his trail.

Then, all at the same time, the thief's dinghy came into sight around the bow of a sloop and Alex spotted a narrow waterway between two craft.

It would give him a shortcut, and he oared his tiny boat through it with a burst of speed. He was ready, standing up in the dinghy, when the other man jumped ashore. Alex threw his rope in a loop over a piling on the same pier and leaped out to chase hot-footed after him.

When he thought he was near enough, Alex hurled himself at the man in a tackle, pulled him down, and they rolled over and over in the dust of the unpaved road. Alex, thinking the man might be armed, exerted his strength to keep his hands engaged.

It was a patrolling police car that ended the struggle. "Officer," Alex panted, "don't let that man get away!"

They were rookie officers, and as luck would have it, Alex knew neither one. "Neither of you'll get away!" they told him sourly, and nothing he could say would change their decision.

Tries to Resolve Quarrel, Gets a Six-Inch Slash

All a 22-year-old Pontiac man was trying to do was to bring about peace and quiet early Sunday morning.

For his trouble, he received a six-inch knife wound in his right leg.

James Anthony of 521 Bloomfield Ave. was treated for the wound and released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Here's the story he gave police of how he was stabbed:

Walking on Franklin road near Rockwell avenue at 1:15 a.m., he sighted a man and a woman quarreling violently on the street.

When he tried to calm the couple, he said, the man swung at him with a knife. Both then fled.

Anthony told police he had never seen the two persons before.

Lathrup Woman Dies in Garage Accident

The body of a Lathrup woman, Betty Griswold, 38, was found in her garage by a relative Sunday afternoon, according to troopers at the Redford State Police Post.

Miss Griswold, of 28641 Lathrup Blvd., was found slumped over the back of her car. A post mortem performed by Dr. Richard E. Olsen, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital pathologist, listed cause of death as carbon monoxide poisoning.

Troopers said the death was accidental. Miss Griswold, who recently graduated from the University of Michigan Law School and passed her bar examination last month, took sedatives prescribed by her doctor.

Detectives said the autopsy disclosed traces of the sedative. The investigators said she evidently drove her car into the garage, closed the garage door, became dizzy and fainted, and then succumbed to a combination effect produced by the sedative, small amount of carbon monoxide fumes in the closed garage, and the heat.

Waterford May Get Fire Chief

Could Be Chosen at Board Meeting Tonight; Two Have Applied

There is a strong possibility that the Waterford Township Board will appoint its first full-time fire department chief when it meets at 7:30 tonight.

Township Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson said that only two men had applied for the $6,500 position. He added that it was "anybody's guess" which of the two applicants, present assistant Fire Chief Lewis R. Goff, or present Pontiac Fire department employe, Elmer Fangboner, would be appointed.

Goff has been with the Waterford department as a full-time paid man for the last nine years and lives with his wife and five children at 130 S. Tilden Dr. He is 42.

Fangboner, 50, resides with his wife at 3327 Meinrad St. in Drayton Plains. All of his four children are married and he has lived in the township for the past 33 years.

After a fire chief has been named he will be asked to submit recommendations for the hiring of three additional firemen, Johnson said.

In other business scheduled for tonight, the Board will discuss the possibility of extending a water main west on Elizabeth Lake road from Gateway street to service the Stringham School.

There are two alternate plans for the installation submitted by engineers Johnson & Anderson. Whether to have a 357-foot installation costing $3,963, or to extend the main an additional 300 feet for estimated cost of $5,855, will be decided.

Right to Choose Own Correspondents

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U. S. Court of Appeals today upheld the State Department's right to choose the news correspondents it would allow to travel to Communist China.

It did so in ruling—3 to 0—that the department did not exceed its authority in denying permission to author Waldo Frank, 69, of New York to travel to Red China.

Frank sought to go to China as a special correspondent for Latin American newspapers, and to lecture at the University of Peking. He claimed that the department discriminated against him in violation of the "due process" provision of the Fifth Amendment.

But Judge Warren E. Burger said the secretary of state must be allowed "wide latitude" in carrying out foreign policy. He said the department should be allowed to establish strict criteria for those it permits to travel to Red China.

The state department had said that only news organizations with at least one full time correspondent overseas could send a man.

"It is axiomatic that the conduct of foreign affairs necessarily involves flexible measures and policies which can be adjusted to meet changing conditions," Burger wrote.

What Will They Say?

LONDON (UPI) —Jim Gault, who shared a record $840,000 football pool win, took his wife to New Zealand with some of the prize money. But Mrs. Gault still had just one new dress and one new hat when they returned.

"We don't want the neighbors talking," said Mrs. Gault. "We haven't been throwing our money around," said Gault.

U.N.'s President Sees Easing on Berlin by West

HOUSTON, Tex., (AP) — The Berlin situation likely will result in a stalemate with the West granting the Soviet minor concessions, United Nations General Assembly President Dr. Charles Malik predicted Sunday.

"Some kind of adjustment will be made in order to maintain the balance of power," he told a convention session of the Southern Federation of Syrian - Lebanon American Clubs. He is a former Lebanese foreign minister.

Malik said countries in the Near East are threatened with Communist infiltration now more than ever before.

Escapes Serious Injury as Boat Flips on Lake

A Waterford Township man escaped serious injury yesterday when his speed boat hit a wave and flipped in Williams Lake.

Taken to Pontiac General Hospital with lacerations to the head and neck was Robert M. Young, 24, of 2590 Williams Lake Rd.

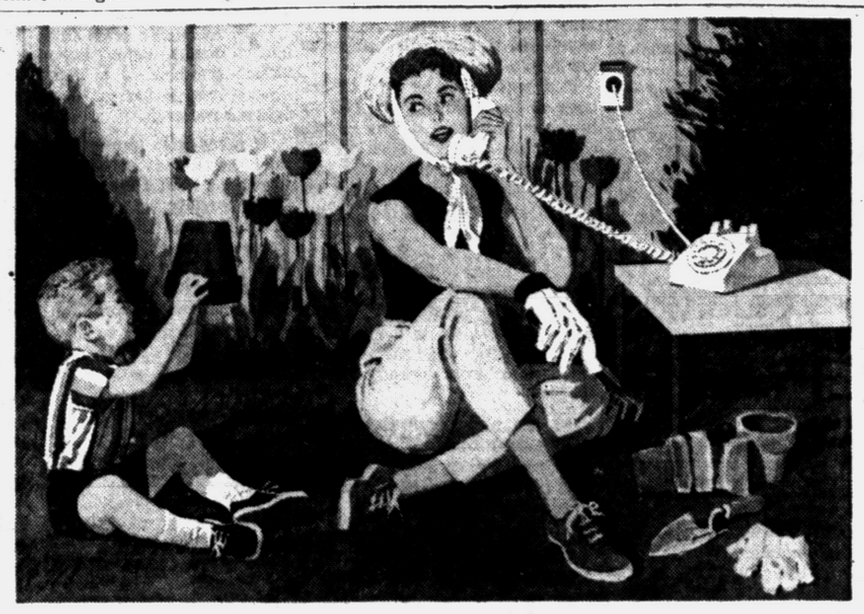

Young was driving his 12-foot runabout when the accident happened at 7:30 at the north end of the lake about 350 feet from shore.

Two unidentified men who witnessed the accident pulled Young from the water and took him to shore and called an ambulance which took the injured man to Pontiac General, where he was treated and released.

Their Humor Can Be Deadly

Showoffs Are Big Water Hazard

(This is the last of a three-part series —"Swim for Safety"—presented in cooperation with the Pontiac YMCA.)

"Showoffs" are a pain anywhere, but around beaches and swimming pools they are a positive menace to life and limb.

That is why one of the most important water safety rules is never to "show off" around boats, swimming pools or beaches, according to John Moreau, Pontiac YMCA swimming instructor.

It may be fun to rock the boat or duck unsuspecting bathers, but if your victims can't swim, or should strike their heads on hidden rocks, humor very quickly turns to tragedy.

Another trouble with showoffs is that when they're not getting other prople into trouble, they're getting into it themselves. Many a showoff has had to be rescued because he got himself into a predicament from which he could not extricate himself.

Sometimes those going to his rescue suffer injuries or death.

The time a lifeguard takes in saving a showoff from his own foibles might cost more deserving people their lives.

Another way people get into trouble is by doing their racing away from shore. "If you're going to have a race," Moreau cautioned, "start it out in the water from a float or a dock and then race toward the shore.

"That way you will be closer to land in case something goes wrong and you have to have help. You may also be able to reach shallow water. Should you be racing toward deep water, you might find yourself in trouble, exhausted and far from help."

COURAGE NOT ENOUGH

Courage is always magnificent, but courage alone is not enough to rescue a drowning person from deep water.

All too often it only results in the would-be rescuer becoming a victim himself.

To rescue a drowning person from deep water requires courage, but still more necessary are swimming expertness, physical stamina, and the special knowledge that can come only from sound training in lifesaving methods.

No one should undertake a rescue from deep water unless he is a strong swimmer," Moreau said.

"It's common," he said, "for lifeguards to have to go to the aid of not only the original victim, but a well-meaning but incompetent rescuer as well. Many times this means a double tragedy."

HERE ARE RULES

Moreau said many lives could be saved by adhering to these simple rules:

1. In making a rescue, never get into the water yourself unless you absolutely have to. Try to use a pole, a stick, or a rope to reach the victim.

2. Never swim to a rescue when you can use a boat.

3. If you must swim, try to take along some means of support such as a board or inflated inner tube.

4. If the victim is near the shore and you can't swim, push a board or other buoyant object out to him so he can hold on until help arrives.

5. If you can't swim, don't try to save a victom in deep water. You will likely come to grief yourself. If you are ever faced with such a situation, go for help as fast as you can.

6. Everyone, whether he can swim or not, should practice the rules of artifical respiration.

Vanish From Algerian Monastery

Rebels Take Two Monks

ALGIERS (AP)—The chant of "Salve Regina" echoed through the chapel of the Thibarine Trappist Monastery during evening vespers when a five-man rebel team entered the gate which never closes.

The men—wearing French paratrooper uniforms—asked to see the father superior.

"We have an unpleasant mission," the leader told Father Jean-Marie. "We have to take you and two other monks with us."

"My duty is to guard my spiritual community," replied the superior. "I would rather die than abandon it."

The rebels did not insist. But two other monks—Brother Mathieu and Brother Luc — packed their belongings and followed the rebels into the night.

"Don't worry," the rebels told the superior. "We will do your monks no harm."

Outside the monastery the group was joined by 12 other guerrilla fighters. Together they disappeared into the darkness.

The incident occurred last Wednesday night. Thursday morning the father superior notified the French military in nearby Medea, some 60 miles south of Algiers.

A pursuit was ordered in the rugged Atlas Mountains, but the French army said it was 12 hours behind the rebels and that chances of finding the group were dim.

For more than 20 years, the Thibarine Monastery of Notre Dame de l'Atlas—Our Lady of the Atlas Mountains—has served as a haven for the area's impoverished Moslem population.

The monks refused a French army garrison for protection.

"We trust in God," they told French officers.

Cecil Is Dead 3 Years After Zoo 'Wedding'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cecil, the "lonesome, lovesick" camel who figured in a fancy zoo "wedding" in 1956, is dead.

Robert Mattlin, Crandon Park Zoo director, said death resulted from an obstructed intestinal tract.

Three years ago The Miami Herald conducted a drive to buy a mate for Cecil.

Cecil and the mate — Cecilia — were joined in widely publicized full-dress nuptials. They had a son. Cequel—since traded to the Havana zoo for a zebra and antelope—and a daughter, Manana.

Expects Little Help for Wheat Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman and ranking Republican member of the Senate Agriculture Committee say there's little chance for adoption of legislation at this session of Congress to aid the wheat industry, bogged down with a record surplus.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La) said Sunday the initiative would have to come from the House and that it would be useless for the Senate to propose anything. Similar views came from Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt).

President Eisenhower recently vetoed one wheat bill passed by Congress, saying it would only make a bad matter worse.

House Group to Probe Lobbying on Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hearings on reports of lobbying, influence or pressure activities in support of particular weapons or individual services will get under way Tuesday before a House Armed Services investigating subcommittee.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La) said his subcommittee will subpoena for questioning any former generals and admirals now working for defense contractors, who do not volunteer information about their present activities.

Let Grandmother Help With Chores

By MARIE DAERR

"My daughter never lets me do anything," complained Mrs. F.L., who has made her home with her son-in-law and daughter for the past five years.

"She never lets me forget that she is the housekeeper," Mrs. F. L. contiued. "When I try to wash the dishes, she says, 'Oh, Mom, let me take care of that!'

"I'm afraid to pick up a dust rag or a broom. Of course, I know my eyesight isn't as good as it used to be. And I admit I'm a bit stiff from arthritis.

"But is there any reason why I should be assigned to an easy chair, just because of that? I'd be glad to replace any dish I broke, though I don't think that would be necessary often."

Mrs. J. W.'s complaint isn't unique. It's one that is heard from many an older person whose children, well-meaning and loving though they may be, are making the mistake of being overly protective. They forget that Grandma's or Granpa's morale is infinitely more important than a gold star for a perfectly kept house!

Does it matter if occasionally a cup slips from Grandma's fingers? What if the end table does show a few flecks of dust after Grandma has wielded the dust cloth? Neither of these "tragedies" looms very big beside the useless feeling that comes when an older person isn't allowed to be a real part of the household.

What about the person who is handicapped by a stroke or other disability? Here, too, overprotection by the family can work real harm.

"Doing things for himself, no matter how limited, gives the handicapped person needed self-respect and a feeling of achievement," said Miss Lyla Spelbring, supervisor of occupational therapy at University of Michigan Hospital, at Ann Arbor. "You can help that person most by helping just as little as necessary."

Simple gadgets often do much to help the handicapped re-enter the independent class. A fork with a sharpened edge can be both knife and fork and give the person who has the use of only one arm complete independence in feeding himself.

A housewife who was paralyzed on one side from a stroke needed her good arm for the cane that helps her walk. Therapists at University of Michigan Medical Center have taught her how to set the dinner table in one quick trip.

An ordinary wheeled car does the trick. She loads the dishes on the cart, hangs her cane on the handle and uses the cart for needed support as she goes from kitchen to dining room.

At the center men and women with limited use of their hands can even relearn how to play cards. Women learn how to cook meals.

"Urging the patient to help himself doesn't mean pushing him into things he cannot do," Miss Spelbring warned. "Doctors and therapists should be called on for professional opinions.

"Luckily, most handicapped persons can be taught to do much. It requires time, effort and concentration. But it is worth it."

Q—I have quite a collection of old-fashioned souvenir spoons, and I'd like to enlarge this. My children laugh at me and say there are many better hobbies. What do you think?—Mrs. R. R.

A—Many people enjoy collecting as a hobby; and, since you have a good start on your collection why not stick with it? After all, it's your hobby.

Q—At what age can a widow without dependent children begin collecting Social Security? Mrs. J. C.

A—At age 62.

Coffee Cup Fatal to Tot

COLLINSVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Teddy Ray York, 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond York, died Sunday when he fell from his bed onto a coffee cup. Ray Bachus, the county investigator, said a jagged edge of the cup severed the child's jugular vein.

It is estimated that one of every 259 working persons in the U. S. is employed in some phase of the various printing and publishing industries.

I Say, This Lad Is a Rebel, and for Profit

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (UPI) — The American Revolution and the War of 1812 are indeed over.

The winner of seven prizes on commencement day at the St. James School here was Stephen D. Ingham, an exchange student from Adlington, England. One of his awards was for the best essay on "The Genesis of the Declaration of Independence."

Denmark has doubled the area devoted to commercial and private forests in the past 75 years.

Honor Asked for Early President

Madison? What'd He Do?

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison.

You probably know quite a bit about the first and third presidents, and likely something about the second. How about the fourth?

"The most unhonored and unsung of the founding fathers" is what Rep. Stewart L. Udall (D-Ariz) called Madison.

A movement is growing at a modest pace to provide some sort of monument in Washington to the man historians credit most with the drafting and adoption of the Constitution.

One accomplishment alone should have made posterity better aware of Madison; he wrote the Bill of Rights.

Udall introduced a resolution last week for a commission to look into the possibilities of a Madison memorial. Earlier there had been suggestions that the 24 historic columns removed from the Capitol for its east front extension might form part of such a memorial.

The relative neglect of Madison by later generations is full of ironies. He chose the name of the capital city which has never gotten around to raising a stone to his memory. His beautiful Virginia home, Montpelier, is still standing. But it has never been made a shrine for patriotic pilgrims—like the homes of Washington, Jefferson and Robert E. Lee.

It was largely as a writer that Madison made his first great contributions—helping draft the Constitution and compose the brilliant pamphlets urging its adoption which we now know as the Federalist Papers.

Yet his official papers have not yet been gathered in a complete edition. Only last month scholars from the Universities of Chicago and Virginia asked for and got permission of the House to copy some of its own early records in the national archieves, to go into the first comprehensive collection of Madison papers.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

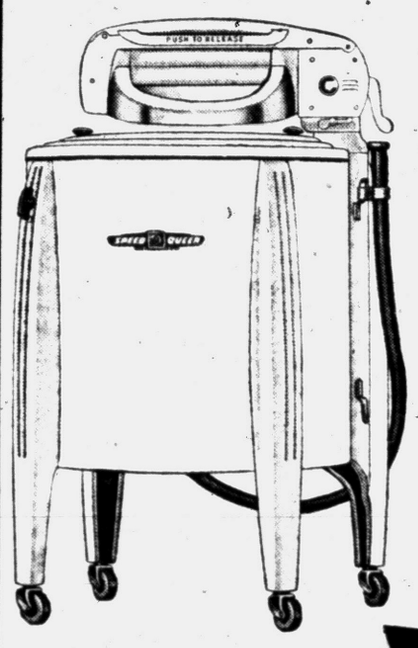

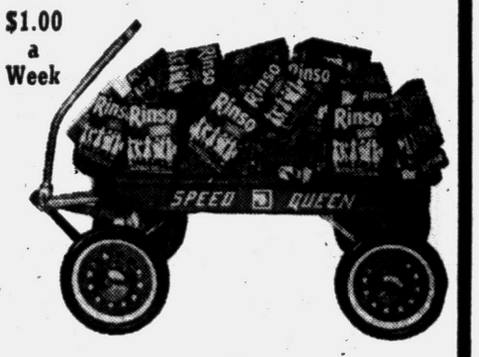

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

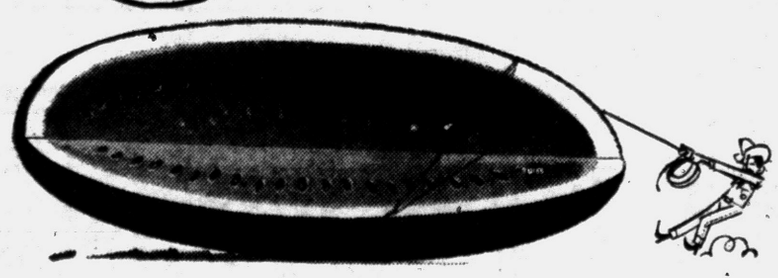

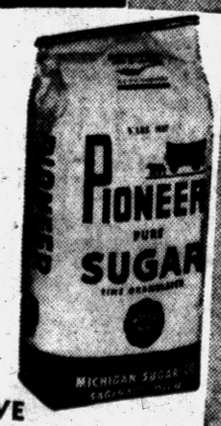

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Record Crowds Throng Area Holiday Shindigs

Boat Races, Tugs o' War, Fireworks Are Featured

Bright and sunny skies brought out record crowds in all the area communities which staged Fourth of July celebrations Saturday.

The second annual Homecoming celebration in Pontiac Township proved to be a "most successful venture" according to members of the sponsoring organizations.

Among the events which drew the most favorable comment were the boat races on the Clinton River, the tug o' war between the local past of the American Legion and township volunteer firemen and the fireworks display which was the finale of the two-day program.

Dryden's main street was blocked off Saturday for its "Boom Day" celebration. It looked like a small Western town with booths set up in front of store buildings and all kinds of farm implements on display nearby

A large crowd gathered at the Community School for the delicious chicken barbecue which was served on the school lawn. The chickens were broiled over a large open pit fire, hundreds at a time.

Meanwhile, baseball games, tug o' wars and other activities were in progress on the school athletic field during the afternoon. The all-day event was sponsored by the Dryden Area Development Assn.

WILLIAMS IN UTICA

Utica Lions President Vern Skaug said today that Saturday's 13th annual Fourth of July was "more successful than last year."

Skaug stated that there were between 15,000 and 20,000 persons lining the parade route in the morning. Gov. Williams again was honorary parade marshal.

The governor performed his traditional act of crowning "Miss Utica" on the reviewing stand immediately before the parade started. The 1959 queen is Gwen Beer, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Beer, of 45262 Engle Dr., Sterling Township.

Her attendants were Judy Jambriska and Geraldine Czerwinski.

The best service club float in the parade was the Romeo Lions Peach Festival publicity float. Riding on it were "Miss Romeo," Sheila Dahn, and her two maids, Mary Martell and Margaret Devine.

The top winner in the most beautiful float category was the Algonac City entry, and in the most patriotic division the National Bank of Detroit with its statue-like figures portraying the Mount Surabachi flag-raising ceremony on Iwo Jima.

AT ROCHESTER

The Rochester Kiwanis "4th O-Ram-A" also drew a large crowd to the Rochester Senior High School athletic field Saturday night, according to club chairman Milton Weaver. He estimated the number in attendance at close to 3,000.

The program opened with top amateur talent, and then featured an hour-and-a-half show by professional artists. The finale was a giant fireworks display visible for miles.

1,700 Fight Forest Fire 4th Day in California

SIERRAVILLE, Calif. (AP) — A grimy army of 1,700 men fought on today to contain a stubborn mountain forest fire which has burned over 80 square miles of brush and timber.

Each day for four days since a careless camper set the fire last Thursday, smoke-blackened convicts, rangers, Air Force men, volunteers and Zuni Indian fire-fighting experts from Gallup, N.M., have checked the blaze. Then afternoon and night winds have whipped the blaze across canyons. Thus far it has destroyed an estimated 27 million board feet of timber.

CROWNS 'MISS UTICA' — Gov. Williams paid his traditional Fourth of July visit to Utica Saturday to crown the queen of the 13th annual Lions celebration there, and to march at the head of the Independence Day parade. Chain Reaction Accident Hurts 2

Police Say Teenager Smashed Into Car He Believed Was Moving

METAMORA TOWNSHIP—Two teenagers were injured Saturday when the car in which they were riding hit another causing a chain reaction accident on Palmer road west of M24, the Lapeer County Sheriff's Dept. reported today.

Patricia Humble, 15, of 4630 Attica Rd., Attica, and Paul Pickett, 17, of 1133 Pratt Rd., Metamora Township, both suffered cuts, bruises and head injuries. They were taken to Lapeer County General Hospital.

Patricia was released from the hospital yesterday, and Paul was reported in satisfactory condition today, hospital officials said.

Driver of the car was Thomas L. Nass, 16, of 1220 Palmer Rd. He was ticketed for failure to have his car under control, police said.

Nass told officers that he thought that the three cars stopped behind another vehicle halted in the middle of the street were moving. His car piled into the ones ahead, police said, but occupants of the other cars weren't hurt, although some were shaken up.

The car which had stopped on the crest of the hill was driven away before anyone could see the license number, investigating officers said.

Satchmo Swings Into New York, Blows 'Em Down

NEW YORK (UPI) — Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, less than a week out of an Italian hospital after a bout with pneumonia, strolled onto the stage at Lewisohn Stadium in Manhattan Saturday night and blew his trumpet.

Armstrong had been scheduled to appear at the concert on the night of his 59th birthday, but had been forced to cancel because of his illness. The Armstrong All-Stars appeared with wild Bill Davidson as guest trumpeter, and several other jazz groups were added to the program to replace the headline attraction.

Armstrong walked onto the stage just before 11 p.m. as Johnny Dankworth and his orchestra were completing the finale. Someone handed him a trumpet. He blew a few tentative notes and the astounded crowd whooped to its feet and began a ragged chorus of "Happy Birthday."

Armstrong shushed them with his theme song, "Sleepy Time Down South." Then he blew into "Back Home Again in Indiana," and "Gypsy."

The performance lasted about 15 minutes.

"I didnt come here to prove I'm not sick," Armstrong said later. "I came just to play."

Couple Will Be OK as Chaperons

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am twenty and a young man whom I see often and think a great deal of, though there is nothing serious in our friendship, has asked me to spend my vacation motoring with him and a young married couple. The latter are about thirty.

"I know them slightly but they are well thought of in our town and are good friends of his. They expect to stop off at motels and we would be gone two weeks. Will this be proper?"

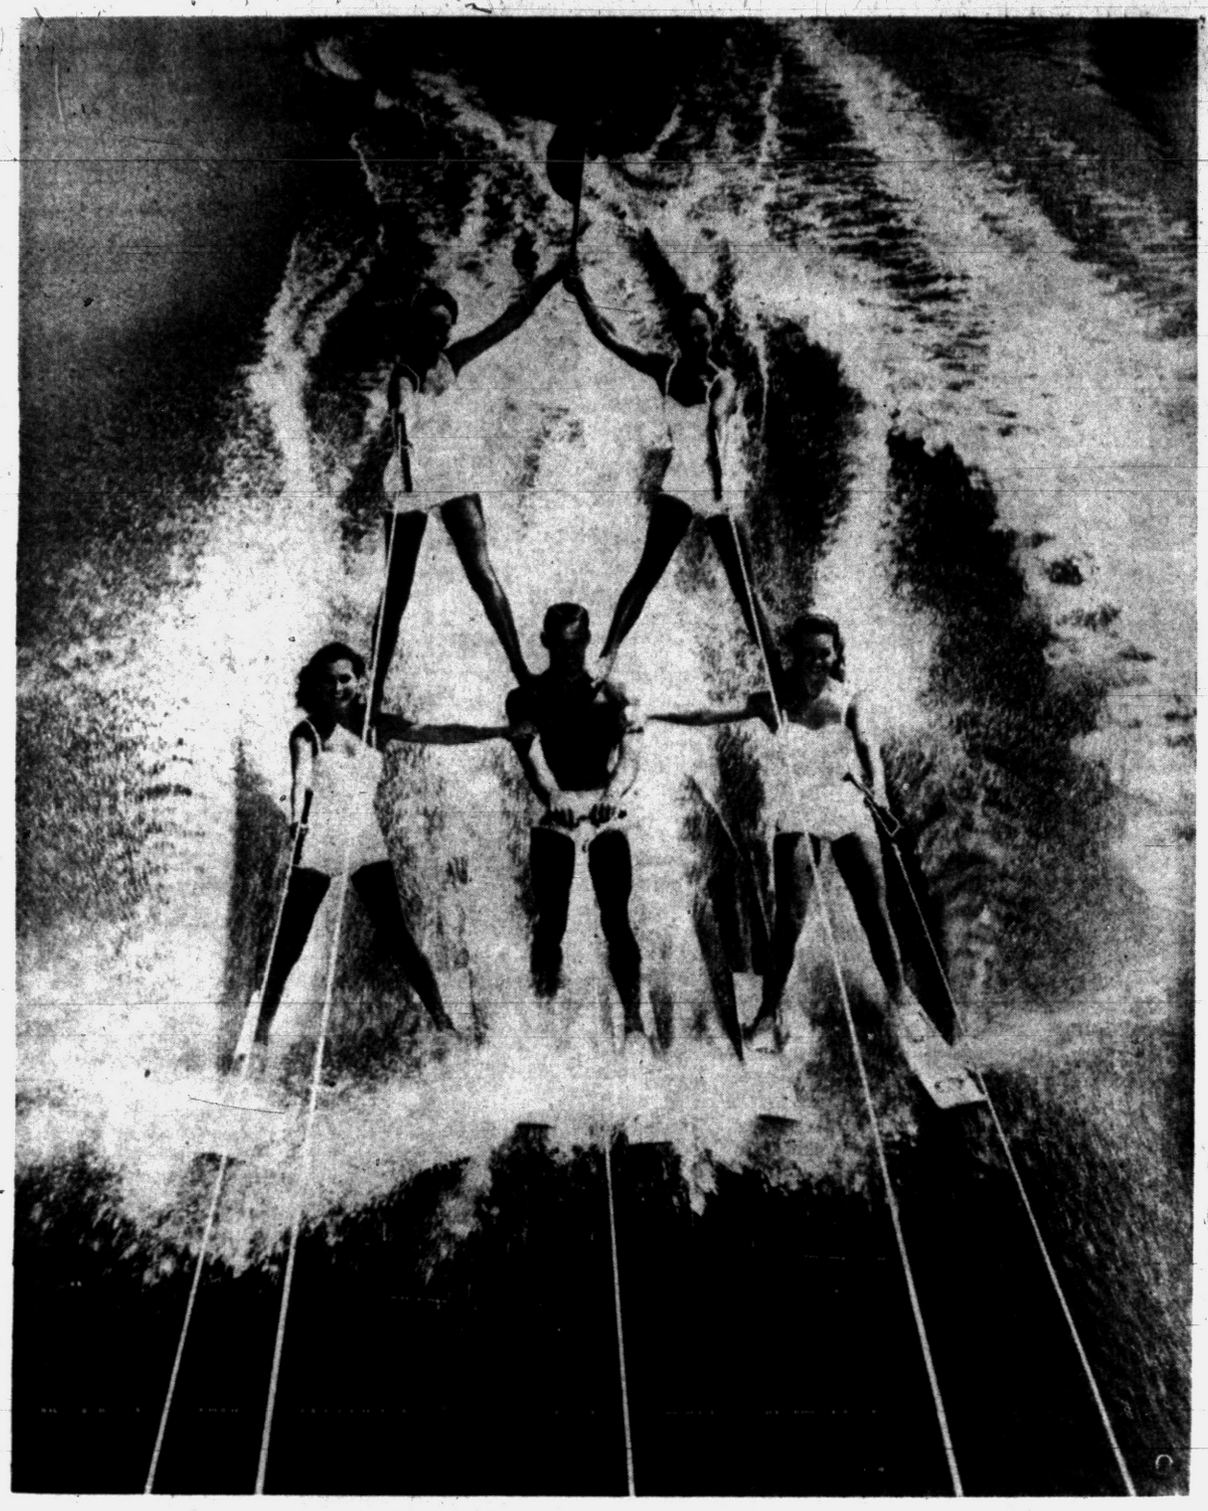

Answer: The married couple who will accompany you will be all the chaperone even Mrs. Grundy would want you to have.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know what is proper in this situation: Suppose you are out with a group of people when suddenly your throat becomes dry and you decide to put a candy drop in your mouth. There aren't enough in the package to offer around. Should you mention the fact that you'd like to offer them but don't have enough, or should you put it in your mouth, return the remaining few to your purse, and say nothing?"

Answer: You can say as you take one "I have a tickle in my throat and must take a cough drop." Then offering the package, continue, "Would anyone like one?" Very probably your companions seeing that there are only a few drops left will not take any, but whatever they do, you will have relieved your throat and been polite by offering what you had.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband is in the Army and at the present time is stationed overseas. Every now and then an occasion will arise when I have to send a greeting card to a friend or relative. I would like to know if it would be proper to include my husband's name with mine even though everyone knows that he is away from home."

Answer: My suggestion is to sign the card with your name and then add, "John would send his love (or best wishes) too if he were here."

Magazine Refutes Criticism

Culture in the U. S. Is Growing Fast

NEW YORK — The average American is reading more books, listening to more good music, dressing more fashionably and eating more sophisticated food than ever before.

This is part of the evidence, says a current magazine article that indicated that American taste, often criticized, is changing for the better and will continue to do so.

According to the publication, there are four major forces elevating American taste. They are (1) rising income, (2) more education, (3) the efforts of "tastemakers" to spread their gospel, and (4) the old American striving for self - betterment.

There are today 42 major American symphony orchestras, as against only six in 1905 and 32 in 1956. Counting those in colleges and smaller communities, the total is more than 1,100 — at least 275 of which were formed between 1951 and 1957.

"One reason for the broadening of U.S. musical taste," the magazine says, "is that the sale of serious music on records is increasing at least as fast as the sale of all records. The fact is that many Americans with a record player today listen to more musical works in a year than even professional musicians once could do in dozens of years."

Americans are buying some 630 million books a year (including paper-backs and juveniles, but not textbooks), an increase of 300 million from 1949. While a large percentage of the paperbacks may be "trash," good books—"The Iliad," "The Odyssey," "The Catcher in the Rye," "1984"—have sold well too.

As further evidence of improving American taste, the magazine points to the anticipated simpler, cleaner lines for automobiles, and better design for appliances.

Furniture with gross stylistic excesses seems to be growing scarce, the magazine says, and "American food preferences are becoming astonishingly sophisticated."

Dishes that could be found in the haute cuisine of New York and a few other cities 30 years ago are now fairly common in millions of middle class homes, it is reported.

American women, wearing clothes that can be copied quickly and mass - produced cheaply, are the most tastefully dressed in the world. The general level of taste in clothing is still rising.

"And it is merely recording the obvious to say that high culture in the United States is not only very much alive, but is growing fast," says the magazine. "The American artistic output, as the whole world testifies, is both sizable and respectable.

"American writing, painting, sculpture, architecture, and music were once merely imitations and extensions of European culture; today they influence the culture of the rest of the world as much as it influences them."

Your Teenager Won't Help? Have You Asked 'Em Lately?

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI) — Don't your teenagers help with the dishes or mow the lawn, mom? Next time, ask them.

That's the solution as 2,500 junior high and high school students in 20 cities see it. The youngsters—1,357 girls and 1,143 boys—were questioned by a manufacturer of household products to determine product use.

More than 68 per cent of the students surveyed said they would be willing to help around the house—if asked.

"My mother doesn't give me a chance to show what I can do around the house," was a typical comment from a 15-year-old girl. "Even if I volunteer to do the dishes, she'll just brush it off and do them herself. I just stopped volunteering."

A 16-year-old boy said: "I know things are hard and I'd be willing to pitch in, if they'd only ask me. But they make me feel so useless, I just get out of the house as soon as I can and come back only when I have to."

"Help around the house?" said a 14-year-old boy. "Sure, I could. I guess I could wash a window as well as my mother, but she's not going to ask and I'm not going to stick my neck out so she can chop off my head."

In families with more than one child, the elder usually does some light housework—anything from shopping for groceries to mopping the kitchen floor. Most of mother's helpers are girls.

The middle child of several in a family generally is left to help as he or she sees fit. But youngest and only children are shielded from housework, the survey showed.

Slightly more than 9 per cent of the teenagers indicated uncertainty about doing chores. Typical was this comment from a boy: "It all depends. If I'm not doing anything else and mom asked me, I probably might."

But more than 22 per cent didn't cotton to the idea.

Said one boy: "What, am I crazy or something?"

"The teenagers seemed to feel that adults have abandoned them to their own devices," said Howard S. Cohoon, president of the company and father of a married daughter.

"We don't give them the sense of responsibility that they need," he continued. "This is evidenced by the lack of parental interest in assigning them simple household tasks."

Cohoon believes most teenagers want more supervision and guidance from the adult world—not the freedom that has been thrust upon them.

"They want to come into the world of adult responsibilities with adult privileges," he said. "They are just waiting for our invitation."

Kathleen June Elliott and John Edwin Sleight were married Saturday evening at First Methodist Church. The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Elliott of Chippewa road and Dr. and Mrs. James D. Sleight of Battle Creek.

MRS. JOHN E. SLEIGHT

300 Guests Witness Sleight-Elliott Nuptials

Honeymooning at Lake St. Clair are Mr. and Mrs. John Edwin Sleight who were married Saturday evening at First Methodist Church. Some 300 guests witnessed the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Paul T. Hart.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Elliott of Chippewa road. Parents of the bridegroom are Dr. and Mrs. James D. Sleight of Battle Creek.

Fashioned of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, the bride's floor length gown featured a fitted basque waist with Peter Pan collar of lace set on a yoke of nylon tulle and long tapered sleeves.

Front tiered ruffles of tulle with a fly-away overskirt of Chantilly lace completed the gown. She wore a crown-type headpiece with a fingertip veil of French illusion and held a chapel bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. John DeMund of Orchard Lake attended as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Ann Sleight, sister of the bridegroom, of Battle Creek, Patricia Butler of Waterford, Carol Richardson of Detroit and Suzanne DeMund of Morgantown, W. Va.

Mrs. DeMund wore a gown of white marquisette imprinted with pink over pink taffeta. The bridesmaids wore ballerina length dresses of white marquisette imprinted with pink over white taffeta.

The gowns featured scoop necklines and cap sleeves with a crushed cummerbund and back sash of pink taffeta. Their headpieces were crowns of pink seed pearls with short flounce veils, and each held a cascade bouquet of pink Marguerite Daisies.

Flower girl Paula Elliott of Inkster, niece of the bride, wore a dress styled after the bridesmaids' in a short length with a stand-out skirt. She wore a wreath of white Marguerite Daisies and carried a pink net and white satin basket of rose petals.

Richard Campbell of Battle Creek was best man. Ushering were Raymond Elliott of Inkster, brother of the bride, Thomas Grimshaw of Farmington, cousin of the bridegroom, John Matthews of Battle Creek and Stuart Rutter of Lansing.

The guests attended a reception in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony.

Mrs. Elliott wore a blue organza and lace princess style dress with matching accessories and a red garent rose corsage on her handbag. A pink imported cotton sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of pink Carol Amling Roses on her purse was the choice of Mrs. Sleight.

For traveling the new Mrs. Sleight wore a pastel blue organdy dress trimmed in white and designed with a cowl collar. Her accessories were white.

Both young people attended Albion College where John was affiliated with Sigma Nu Fraternity. Mr. Sleight is a former Michigan State University student.

The couple will reside in Battle Creek.

Children Parade at Club Picnic

A parade of children was featured when the Sylvan Shores Improvement Association held its annual Fourth of July picnic at its members' private beach.

Twenty-eight youngsters in costume paraded to the park, led by a band dressed in patriotic colors. Prizes were awarded for costumes.

Winners included Marian Leigh and Susan Moore, most original; and Ronald, Robin, and Renae Ballard, most humorous. Linda Adams and Keith Sirlin won honors for having the best decorated vehicles.

Chosen the most patriotic were Sandy Thomas, Ruth Sirlin, Kay Sirlin, Larry Scheisel and Debby Leigh, the five members of the band.

Judges were Mrs. Arthur O'Neill, Ronel White, and Charles Gaffney.

The children participated in races during the afternoon, followed by a penny scramble.

Kids Don't Care How Hard Mom Works

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dave's mother was trying to spoon applesauce into his little brother's mouth when Dave knocked over his glass of milk.

There was a pause. Then, with protesting weariness in her voice, his mother said, "Why can't you ever watch what you're doing?" She got her mop and started to wipe up the spilled milk.

The idea of asking Dave to wipe it up never entered her mind.

It couldn't. For, like all of us who let other people overwork us, Dave's mother feels a good deal of resentment at her healthy children's endless demands on her. But she's only half-aware of it. It seems such a mean, unnatural feeling she's afraid to become fully aware of it.

To live with this uncomfortable suggestion that she doesn't love her youngsters the way she ought to she has developed a driving need to prove that she does.

So when Dave spills his milk the need overwhelms her, and there isn't any room in her mind for the idea of asking him to wipe it up. Like a puppet pulled by invisible strings she gets her mop and proceeds to do his work for him.

Which is unfortunate. Because 6-year-old Dave doesn't register the work his mother is doing for him. What he does register is the secret irritation with which she does it. And frightened by it, he'll use the rest of the afternoon to pester her with new demands in the hope she'll somehow respond to one with genuine interest and kindness.

So it makes no sense whatever for child guidance experts to tell her that Dave needs to learn to correct his own mistakes. She's too absorbed in her own need to prove herself loving and patient to have any interest in his need.

The only way she can use their wise counsel is to become fully aware of her resentment.

As long as she fears it as evil, she can't. Actually, it's an appealing sensation. All Dave's mother is really doing as she resentfully wrings out her mop for the fourth time is to say, "See how overworked I am? Won't someone please help me?"

The trouble is, Dave can't translate her resentment into its innocent meaning. Which is why she must try to translate it for him. And instead of rushing for the mop, say, "All right, get the mop, dear. Sop up the milk, and show Buddy how well you can help Mother."

After removing the last load from a clothes dryer leave the door ajar or run the dryer about five minutes.

A floor-length gown of white lace and tule fashioned with a beaded sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and long tapered sleeves was the bride's choice for the ceremony, which was performed at Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, Westerville. She wore a lace cap with a fingertip veil of illusion, and carried a cascade of white roses.

Mrs. Joan Germer of Columbus, Ohio, was matron of honor. Other attendants were Janet Grimes and Marilyn Rodgers, both of Drayton Plains.

The bridegroom's brother, Dale Corbin, was best man. Ushering were Joseph Remington of Waterford and Kenneth Mackley of Richmond, uncle of the bridegroom.

Family Service Offers Help

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I have written about The Family Service Association of America which has affiliated agencies in the United States and in Canada. These organizations help so many troubled persons and unhappy families.

Today I want to give you some information which you will need if you require their help. In the first place these agencies are not always listed as "Family Service." The names vary by community.

So if you do not know the location of your agency, check your telephone directory for "Family Service." "Family Counseling," "Marriage Counseling," "Family and Children's Service," or call your Community Chest or United Fund or Community Welfare Council for information or write to Family Service Association of America, 215 Fourth Avenue, New York 3, N.Y.

Regardless of the fact that Family Service is available to half the population of the United States, there are many newer suburbs, small towns and rural areas, which may have no Family Service agency. In this case get in touch with the local Community Chest, United Fund, Council of Social Agencies or the Public Welfare Department. These agencies will be able to name sources of help in their own areas.

The detailed setup varies with different agencies but the general practice is to charge according to one's ability to pay — with the charge never excessive. When a person cannot afford to pay anything at all, the service is free. The first interview is always free.

In some instances you may be asked to wait a while. Your name will be put on the waiting list. This is due to the fact that there is more demand for help than there are workers and hours in the day. Do not consider this evidence of indifference, as the vast majority of these workers are dedicated. Usually there will be a wait of only a few days.

More and more folks in the middle and higher money brackets are coming to these agencies for help.

People often can afford to pay for the aid of the Family Service when they could not afford a personal psychiatrist. Also many persons prefer to go to an organization of this sort than to a psychiatrist, and as I mentioned in a recent column, many people who think that they need one find that they do not.

If you do not have a Family Service Agency near you and wish to organize one, write to Family Service of America at 215 Fourth Avenue, New York 3, N.Y. They will consult with you in organizing a family agency.

Do not hesitate to go to a nearby agency just because you cannot pay. There will be no embarrassment for you.

Tomorrow: "It Isn't How Old You Are, But How Old You Think."

This young housewife is getting information on how to obtain help for her problems. Regardless of your financial situation, the Family Service Association will help you.

Little Porcupines Made of Ground Beef, Rice

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Tired of hamburgers or regular meat balls? Try this recipe for Porcupine Meat Balls as suggested by Mrs. Harvey Haslock of Davisburg. Her younger son is very fond of them.

Active in two PTAs, Mrs. Haslock is the retiring president of the PTA Council.

PORCUPINE MEAT BALLS
By Mrs. Harvey Haslock

2 pounds ground beef
1 cup minute rice
1 teaspoon salt
1 small onion, chopped
1 can tomato paste
1 to 1¼ teaspoons poultry seasoning
Pepper

Mix beef, rice, one tablespoon tomato paste and seasonings. Make into 30 balls the size of golf balls.

Put remaining paste and 2 tomato paste cans full of water into a pressure cooker and stir to mix. Let come to a boil. Put in meat balls. Cover. Set pressure at 15 pounds. Cook 20 minutes.

If you have no pressure cooker, simmer the meat balls about 30 minutes in the tomato paste and water on top of the stove.

Togetherness Hits Man's Private World

By RUTH MILLETT

Men, you'd better watch it. This "togetherness" fever is beginning to spread from the home to the office. So if you don't find a quick cure, you're likely to find yourself without any retreat from "togetherness" at all.

What ought to have you worried is the news that the wives of the four top executives of one company have been hired as "consultants' by the organization their husbands run. Maybe, by now, the correct term is "ran.'

As consultants, they entertain at business luncheons, hold conferences, travel with their husbands, and even team up on business golf dates. They stretch the idea of "togetherness' to the point of borrowing their husbands secretaries.

Well, anyhow, that's what I read in the paper. And though the account said it was all the husbands' idea, I can't buy that.

It wasn't the men's magazines that started preaching the "togetherness" gospel in the first place. The women's magazines can take the credit—if anybody thinks they deserve credit—for that.

It hasn't been the husbands who have sponsored "togetherness" in the home. Its been the little woman's pet theory and she is the one who has been pushing it.

So if it moves with force into the business world, you can be sure it will be the little woman who sells the idea to her husband.

That's the reason for this warning. Beware of such suggestions as, "If you'd fire your secretary and let me do her work, think how much money we could save," or "What you need is the woman's angle. I'd be glad to sit in on your next sales conference."

When you get that word, it means "togetherness" — togetherness at the office as well as at home. And, brother, that's an awful lot of togetherness for any man to have to put up with.

Scarf, Lotion Are Musts in Hot Sun

NEW YORK — "Take the sun gradually to avoid drying-out precious oils in both your skin and hair," suggests Ellen N. Baum, beauty expert.

"A little prevention goes a long way," she said, "so be sure to take along a bottle of sun lotion and a scarf for your hair on every beach outing."

Will-O-Way Classes Set

Registrations for the four-week supervised recreation - dramatic program for children, beginning at six years, are now being accepted at the Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater on West Long Lake road in Bloomfield Hills. The program begins July 20.

Recreation activities, including pony riding and baseball, will be available along with speech and dramatic training Mondays through Thursdays from 9 a.m. until noon.

The fun approach to music features singing, harmony, composition and learning to play an accompanying instrument, such as the ukelele or guitar. Other activities include fencing, ballet and modern dancing.

The speech and dramatic training include all phases of theater production, along with radio and television technique.

Parents and children are invited to visit the school before the new program begins.

Laundry Cases on the Way Out

Along with the vanishing memorabilia of days gone by, are the laundry cases that once carried students' clothing by mail between home and campus.

Nowadays, most dormitories and fraternity and sorority houses have automatic washers and dryers. Smart upperclassmen get freshmen pledges to do their laundry, instead of loading the mails and mother.

When you dust your books, make sure that you wipe the edges away from the binding. This way, you keep the dirt out of the back binding.

Soap Advised After Certain Skin Surgery

Victims of acne-scarred skin will be interested in a recently developed treatment called dermal abrasion—or sandpaper surgery. As the name implies, this is a process of scraping the skin.

However, in spite of the temporary irritation and redness which naturally result, patients are advised to wash with soap shortly after the dressings are removed.

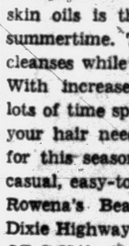

It just goes to show that soap-and-water cleanliness is good post-surgical therapy for very sensitive new skin. And clean, well-washed skin is the best precaution against unsightly blemishes.

HAIR CARE

by Rowena Wilson

Hair needs extra care during summer months. Perhaps you are one of those women who are at a loss to know how to keep hair and scalp clean, and yet retain the natural oils essential to soft and glistening hair. A shampoo that contains a duplication of nature's own skin oils is the right one for summertime. The shampoo cleanses while the oil pampers. With increased humidity and lots of time spent in the water, your hair needs a new styling for this season. It calls for a casual, easy-to-care-for hairdo. 2 Sides to the Problem . . . Abby

She's Avoiding You—Learn Why

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a wonderful wife and six fine kids but my wife talks on the telephone all day and in the evenings when I come home she starts doing her washing, ironing and housework. She never sits down and watches TV with me because she is so busy doing other things. She even does canning at night and our deep freeze is full.

ABBY

At night she falls into bed and is so tired she turns on her side and goes to sleep. I am about to crack up. She went to the doctor and he told her she was good for a hundred years yet. I make good money but I am lonesome.

GETTING GREY

DEAR GETTING: There is a reason why your wife knocks herself out all evening and falls into bed exhausted. It furnishes her with an excuse for avoiding you. Get to the bottom of it by talking it over with her. The fault could be yours.

DEAR ABBY: Only God (and now you) knows how I have prayed and wept because of what I have found out recently.

The man I took to be my adored husband sixteen years ago has been molesting our two little girls who are 6 and 8. I can't tell you how this has torn me apart. I do not want a broken home, yet I cannot tolerate this. Please, Abby, can you or anyone else help me?

BROKEN-HEARTED

DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED: Your husband is a sick man. Before the day is over, call your family doctor and he will tell you exactly what to do.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell this little story to the woman who complained because her husband never called her mother "MOM."

Someone asked my mother-in-law what her daughters-in-law and sons-in-law called her.

She said, "The first year they call me 'MRS. McGUIRE'—and after that they call me 'GRANDMA.'"

VELMA

DEAR ABBY: I had been invited to dinner and brought my hostess a layer cake of which she is inordinately fond. Recently I was again invited to her home for dinner but this time she ASKED me to bring the very same cake, saying she'd pay for it! I was shocked. Not wishing to offend her, I obliged, but she did not offer to pay me. (Had she, I would have reused the money.) Should this occur again is there a retort with which I could courteously decline her suggestion? I do not like to be told what to bring.

OFFENDED

DEAR OFENDED: If she invites you again and suggests you bring that same layer cake, tell her you are quite bored with making that same old cake and intend to "surprise" her with something different. Then surprise her!

DEAR ABBY: I am helping my niece with her wedding plans and we disagree on one thing:

She says the kiss belongs in the ceremony and has religious significance. I say it would be more dignified to leave it out. What do you think?

DIGNIFIED

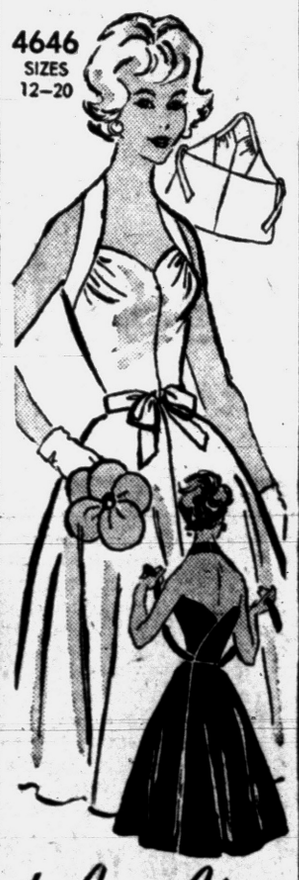

DEAR DIGNIFIED: Ask your clergyman. Religious ceremonies differ. A wedding kiss is always in good taste. I your niece wants it, it's HER wedding.

What is more than 300 years old but new as the next minute?

ONE OF A SERIES

ANSWER: THE DAILY NEWSPAPER. Although its origin goes back to the early 17th Century, your newspaper is as modern as tomorrow. In recent years newspapers have invested over $700 million in new plants and equipment, and improvement is constantly going on. An automotive official said, "We can talk a lot about automation, but the newspaper press is probably the earliest and still one of the most remarkable examples of automation ever developed."

'Frankie' Still Swoon Cue for U.S. Teens

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — It may be sheer coincidence, but sometimes it seems that anybody worth his salt (in the ecstatic years of teenagers) is named "Frankie." Back in my giddy days, when one shrieked "Frankie," everybody knew it was young savern-chest.

Today it is possible for six bobbysoxers to swoon simultaneously, barking "Frankie" as they faint, and each with a different swivel hip in mind.

I suppose the revered name of "Frankie" will go out one day, as Rudolph Valentino's did. Somebody will write a hit called "Frankie the Blue-Nosed Fafnir" and that'll be the end of it.

But meantime, at the peak of the frenzy, Britain's Frankie Vaughan has come to New York's Copacabana, leaving low several dozen thousands of youthful admirers in England and the colonies.

He no sooner arrived, quietly and politely and modestly, than he was summoned urgently to the offices of PAN-AM World Airways which had been forced, at lipstick-point, to bring their idol 3,106 "kisses" from the London fan clubs.

"Well," whispered Frankie, hoarse from laryngitis rather than emotion, "that's wonderful." He looked at all the tiny pieces of white paper, etched with mouth-prints and signed by the smoochers from afar and said that there really is no difference between American and British teenagers.

"All over the world, I think, their degrees of devotion to a singer, say, varies very little," he said. "The only difference is in their age of interest in entertainers.

"What you call your teenagers are what we in England would call tween - teenagers. Your children mature earlier, I think. They are great rock and roll fans at the age of 12. In England, they don't roll till they're 15 or 16."

There may be another difference, as I learned from asking Vaughan the question, "Why are all the teenage idols, males? Why don't the teenage boys have young girl singers to rave about — young Francines to compete with Frankies?"

"Well, let's face it," he said. "A boy teenager has an entirely different attitude toward life than a girl. In England, at least. They have to be responsible persons. They have to learn trades. During the period of life when girls are attracted to show business heroes, boys have to start thinking of these other things—how to become responsible men."

He conceded that American boys might be different. "They have more money to spend, probably, and less conscious worry about the future. And it does seem there is less family life here. But subconsciously, whether they like it or not, I think American boys begin as teenagers to start thinking of stability. They have to—to attract girls."

Frankie Vaughan is unusual for a bobbysoxers' dream boy. He is 31, married, has two children. Whether belting a song or giving it the moonlit mute, he never undulates. As a consequence he is a family favorite, has broken all theafer records recently, including Danny Kaye's box office high at the Palladium.

When his family was bombed out of their Liverpool home during the war, he was taken into the Lancaster Boys' Club which nurtured him, "and kept me off the streets," for five years. He never forgot, and since stardom has contributed all the royalties from his hit records—plus the receipts from literally hundreds of concerts—to the club.

Not only is he a "big brother" to his alma mater, he attempts to adopt the same role with the girls who would cherish locks of his black wavy hair, if they could get it. Rather than inspiring them to outpourings of adolescent emotion, Frankie Vaughan takes the attitude: "Now look, girls, don't be silly . . ."

We wish him not only luck, but emulation, in the United States!

Begin Spices Israeli Politics

Herut Party Founder Leads Opposition in Tel Aviv Parliament

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — Rabble-rouser, fanatic and fascist are words often used by his foes to describe Menahem Begin, leader of the opposition in the Israeli parliament. Genius, patriot and statesman are how his admirers catalogue him.

The founder and leader of the Herut (or Freedom) Party, the 45-year-old Begin is probably the most arresting orator on the country's political scene.

At present, his party has only 15 members in the 120-member House, but they comprise the second largest group in the multifaction Israeli parliament. They sit in the center, between the National Religious Party and the dominant Social Democrat Mapai Party.

As the leader of the underground terrorist group, Irgun Zvai Le'Umi, Begin extracted blind obedience from his amateur troops during the anti-British operations that led to the founding of Israel.

His men blew up the immigration offices in Haifa and Tel Aviv in March, 1944, as the first "act of war" against the British for their refusal to admit Jews to Palestine.

The IZL chose prominent political and military objectives for its bombs and attempted to avoid unnecessary loss of life, in contrast to another terrorist group, the so-called Stern Gang, which indiscriminately murdered Britons at any opportunity.

For four years, until the State of Israel was proclaimed, Begin remained in hiding. Once, the British searched the house where he was staying and he hid under the roof.

While in the underground, an American brought him an offer from President Truman: If IZL called off its campaign, Mr. Truman would issue a declaration in support of the Jewish aims. Begin replied, "We haven't shed blood to receive declarations."

In 1951, Premier David Ben-Gurion asked Begin, "Do you want me to order the army to march into Jordan now?" The Herut leader replied, "No, but you must be on the lookout for the right opportunity."

Wounded Man Facing Arrest

City Resident Claims Booker Newcomb Shot After Break-In

A 35-year-old Pontiac man, shot early Sunday morning in the home of an acquaintance, faces arrest for investigation of burglary upon his release from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Charles Hampton, 458 Franklin Rd., told Pontiac police his wife, Sarah, woke him up at 3 a.m. Sunday and told him she heard noises.

He turned over and fell asleep again, but sounds he heard a half hour later roused him. Looking up, he said, he saw Booker T. Newcomb, 35, of 540 Arthur St., standing in the doorway of the bedroom.

He took a shotgun from beside the bed and fired at Newcomb, who feld from the house, he said.

Hampton called police who found Newcomb at the hospital where he had gone for treatment of the wound.

Newcomb is in satisfactory condition today. He was hit in the arm by the gunshot.

2 Hospitalized as Boats Collide

West Bloomfield Youth, Dearborn Man Hurt in Middle Straits Mishap

Two men were injured, one critically, in a boat collision on Middle Straits Lake in West Bloomfield Township Saturday night.

State Police listed the injured men as Richard Frankowski, 28, of Dearborn, and Thomas Cashman, 17, of 2365 Dolman Dr., West Bloomfield Township.

Both were taken to Pontiac General Hospital. Frankowski is listed in satisfactory condition today. He suffered head and face cuts and had six teeth knocked out, police reported.

Cashman suffered severe lacerations to the shoulder, chest injuries, and a fractured right leg. He is in critical condition.

Troopers investigating the accident said both boats were traveling at a high rate of speed and both had lights on.

Frankowski was riding in a boat driven by Stanley Rynicki, 43, of Garden City, while Cashman was a passenger in the boat of Thomas Leggat, 17, of 3060 Hiller Rd., West Bloomfield Township.

The Rynicki boat struck the second craft broadside, troopers said. The Leggat boat sunk. Troopers plan to question the operators today. No charges have been pressed against either driver as yet.

Without development of new alloys capable of resisting high temperatures, the jet engine, like the gas turbine, would not have been practical from an engineering viewpoint.

Windy City Welcomes Royal Pair

CHICAGO (UP) — Queen Elizabeth II stepped ashore in Chicago today amid the thunder of army artillery, roaring ships' whistles and the cheers of thousands of spectators massed around Buckingham Fountain landing.

A cordon of police struggled to hold back other thousands trying to approach the reviewing stand on the dock.

The royal yacht Britannia's barge brought Elizabeth and Prince Philip ashore promptly at 10 a.m. The yacht was moored outside the breakwater.

A 21-gun salute began when the launch started toward shore. In close formation, a flight of jet fighter planes roared low over the scene. Hundreds of small pleasure craft followed the barge.

It looked like an amphibious assault, a scene reminiscent of World War II.

So began the Queen's 13-hour day in Chicago.

The queen was wearing a short-sleeved summer dress, elbow-length white gloves, a flowered hat and a string of pearls.

She was smiling and looked rested after spending all day Sunday on the voyage from Parry Sound, Canada, to Chicago.

GREET ROYAL PAIR

U.S. Chief of Protocol Wiley Buchanan greeted the Queen and Philip officially. The royal couple then passed down a long line of officials, including the ambassadors to the United States from the United Kingdom and six commonwealth nations.

An honor guard of soldiers, sailors and Marines stood stiffly at attention while the band saluted Elizabeth with "God Save the Queen." It followed with the "Star Spangled Banner."

Prince Philip stood beside Canada's Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker during the playing of the anthems.

Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois and Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago escorted the Queen as she reviewed the guard of honor.

With prows pointed toward shore, 28 U. S. warships — the greatest concentration in Lake Michigan since the war of 1812—lined up in tight formation during the ceremonies. The white-uniformed crews were massed on deck, standing at attention.

FIRST FOR CHICAGO

As for Chicago, this is the first time the city has ever entertained a British sovereign. An army of planners at work for months, toiled all through Sunday and late in the night, polishing the arrangements for the 13-hour program. At the eleventh hour, ladies who will meet the Queen and Philip, or dine in their presence, were still fussing with formal dinner gowns.

The arrangements for the Queen's day included:

A series of 40 horsemen at one point, with more than 2,000 policemen lining the route. "No anti-British demonstrations today," said a city official.

Nearly four hours with food, luncheon, tea, and a banquet with 1,000 guests.

Stops at the International Trade Fair, two museums, and three hotels.

And finally, fireworks at the scheduled departure hour, 11 p.m.

Police estimate more than a million out-of-towners are in Chicago. Another million residents, they said, are expected to line the streets to see the royal couple.

In short, Chicago is ready for a big day, all set to give Elizabeth and Philip the biggest, warmest reception since they left London, June 18.

This is a far cry from the isolationist Chicago of the 1920s when William Hale (Big Bill) Thompson, the mayor cried, "Keep King George out of Chicago."

Mansfield Hits Chairman Butler

Claims His Criticism of Dem Leaders Is Hurting '60 Chances

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic whip Mike Mansfield accused Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler today of endangering the party's 1960 election chances by sniping at its congressional leaders.

Mansfield said it would be "far better" if Butler supported Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson and speaker Sam Rayburn "instead of participating in these attacks."

The Montana senator said, "We'll have a tough time in 1960 under any circumstances, but the chairman of the Democratic National Committee finding fault with the leadership is not going to help the party one bit."

Without naming Johnson or Rayburn, Butler said yesterday that the party's congressional leaders threatened the Democrats' chances in 1960 by their "conservative and moderate" stand. He said this dismayed "quite a few Democrats around the country."

Unless the Democratic Congress shows "initiative" and takes a "positive progressive attitude," Butler said, the party faces a "tough situation" in the next elections. He urged Democratic lawmakers to forge a record for 1960 by passing "progressive" bills even if they knew President Eisenhower would veto them.

RECORD SPEAKS

Mansfield retorted, "The record of the past two Congresses under Democratic control was responsible for Democratic victories in 1956 and 1958 and I believe the record of this Democratic Congress also will help elect Democrats."

Butler said in a local TV interview that "younger members of Congress" will return to Washington "in a fighting mood" for the second session of the 86th Congress next year because "they know they will have to have a solid record of accomplishment in order to win re-election."

"We believe we have to try to influence the Democratic leadership of the Congress to come along with the national progarm, rather than the conservative and moderate program which they are trying to follow," he said.

Among other things, Johnson and Rayburn, both Texans, have sought to make big Democratic spending proposals "veto proof" by scaling them down to meet some of Eisenhower's objections.

These compromise tactics have been criticized by liberal Democrats who believe the party should push broad welfare legislation and then let the Republicans try to justify presidential vetoes in the 1960 campaign.

18-Hole Playoff Necessary at Warwick

It's Finsterwald vs. Wall Today for Buick Title

Dow, Art in 282 Tie; Middlecoff's 65 Falls One Stroke Short

By BILL CORNWELL

GRAND BLANC—For the second consecutive year the $52,000 Buick Open golf tournament is going to run five days, but this time for an entirely different reason.

A year ago the Buick tourney was carried over to a Monday by heavy showers that rained out the second round of action.

Now it's a playoff instead of a washout that extends the 1959 Buick event to another Monday as Art Wall Jr. and Dow Finsterwald go 18 holes for the championship today at Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club.

Beginning at 1 o'clock this afternoon, Wall and Finsterwald battled head-to-head over Warwick's 7,280 yards for the $9,000 top prize after winding up in a first place tie yesterday with 72-hole totals of 282, six strokes below par.

Deadlocked Saturday at the 54-hole mark with 210s, Wall and Finsterwald stuck together through Sunday's drama as each golfer fired par 72 following a double-bogey and bogey finish on the 18th green.

Wall staggered to a double-bogey six at No. 18, taking four blows to get on the carpet and then blowing a three-foot putt.

Dow, playing right behind Art in the final threesome, nearly followed in Wall's footsteps. Needing just a par to win, Finsterwald also took four knocks to get home, but he holed his 18-inch putt for a bogey five to knot the score.

Wall toured the sprawling Warwick course in regulation 36-36 style. Finsterwald, on the other hand, fought back from a 39 on the front side with four birdies for an incoming 33.

There were approximately 29,700 spectators watching yesterday's activity and the field of 61 pros and five amateurs treated them to a thrilling show.

It was a day of hot streaks and great rounds. It was a day that saw Gene Littler set a new course record with a brilliant 66 and Cary Middlecoff shatter it less than two hours later with an even more brilliant 65.

It was a day when big Julius Boros made a tremendous bid to win by shooting a record-setting 31 on the front nine before running out of gas and luck. It was a day that saw little Jerry Barber rifle a 67 and miss a chance to tie the leaders by lipping the cup with a 10-footer on the 18th green.

The blazing finishes by Middlecoff and Barber enabled them to share 3rd place at 283. Pete Cooper and Jay Hebert closed with 69s to take 4th at 284. Ken Venturi was all alone in 5th spot with 285, while Boros and Arnold Palmer came next at 286.

Middlecoff's 34-31 scorecard listed seven birdies and an eagle deuce. His eagle came on the 10th green where he backspun a 100-yard wedge shot into the cup and the Doc followed this with birdies on 11, 12 and 13.

He also birdied the 604-yard 16th hole by reaching the carpet in two shots and there were "birds" on the 2nd, 4th and 5th holes. Middlecoff barely missed birdie putts on 6, 7 and 9 and he putted only 28 times during the round.

Littler hit every green in regulation except the 5th on his way to a 34-32 performance. He birdied six holes, visited only one sand trap and had no bogies.

Boros, five strokes behind at the start, birdied five of the first six holes and actually led the field by one stroke as he walked to the 7th tee.

But it was then that his putter, which had been knocking in everything, stopped working. Boros failed to card a single birdie the rest of the way and he bogied four holes coming home for 40 blows and a closing 71.

Barber birdied five holes and never bogied in his stretch drive. Don Fairfield made six birdies to close out with 68 while burly Mike Souchak birdied five straight holes—11 through 15—and had six altogether for a finishing 69.

Jay Hebert had "birds" on 10, 11, 12 and 13 and a total of six. Cooper got three birdies and bogied none to complete the list of seven who broke 70 Sunday.

Defending champion Billy Casper soared to 78 yesterday and finished 11 shots off the pace. Sixteen players equalled or bettered par of 288 for the 72-hole distance.

Cleveland Completes Sweep in 10, 5-4

Layoff Blessing to Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Jimmie Dykes established a goal of .500 by the All-Star break and the Detroit Tigers had to back up to reach it.

"I'll be satisfied if we're all even by the All-Star game," said Dykes the day he became manager two months ago. "Then we can work from there."

The Tigers were 2-15 at the time and .500 seemed miles away.

But the Tigers are .500 — with 40 victories and 40 defeats. And Dykes isn't happy about it.

The 5-4 loss to front-running Cleveland in 10 innings yesterday was Detroit's fourth straight. It was the second straight in extra innings and gave the wounded Tigers a 1-7 mark in overtime action.

"This three-day layoff is a blessing," said Dykes, who is beginning to wear the pained expression so many Detroit managers wore in recent years.

"Once we get those injured guys back, we'll be all right. We're not out of this race by a longshot."

Al Kaline should return to centerfield when the Tigers resume American League play Thursday night at Kansas City. Second baseman Frank Bolling may require an additional day or two before he's ready.

But the way the Indians are moving, it could be no one will catch them.

They have a two-game lead and a six-game bulge over fifth-place Detroit.

The Tigers had a splendid chance to slow them down yesterday and faltered. It was the same in the second game of the July 4 doubleheader.

"We just fold up in extra innings," Dykes moaned.

The Indians struck quickly in the 10th yesterday. George Strickland sliced a double to right. He came in with the clincher on Vic Power's hard shot that eluded first baseman Larry Osborne for an error. The run became earned when Tiger castoff Tito Francona singled for the fourth consecutive time.

Rhubarbs spiced the earlier action and had the crowd of 16,686 hooting with displeasure. There were three incidents with the umpires and all three went against Detroit.

Most painful was when Harvey Kuenn was called out at second trying to advance after a run-scoring single in the seventh. Kuenn, extending his hitting streak to 20 games, appeared to beat the throw. But umpire Nestor Chylak decreed otherwise and set off a raging debate.

COSTLY MISS — Art Wall Jr., with his left foot planted in the spot that he putted from, misses a three-foot putt on the 18th green in the final round of the Buick Open golf tourney Sunday at Warwick Hills. If the putt had dropped, Wall would have won 1st place plus $9,000. Now he's playing Dow Finsterwald in an 18-hole playoff today for the crown.

A Sorry 18th for Both

Disconsolate Wall Sure Dow Feels Same Way

GRAND BLANC — "Its pretty disheartening to play golf as well as I did and then have a finish like that."

The speaker was Art Wall Jr., the year's leading PGA money winner, who for one day at least let $9,000 slip through his fingers with a double-bogey six on the 18th hole in the windup of the Buick Open tourney.

"I have no complaints and no regrets about what I tried to do," Wall said, "its just one of those things that happen."

"However, it certainly is discouraging to end a tournament that way. You play a real bad hole with all those people watching you, then walk off the green feeling like an idiot, and I'm sure Dow feels the same way as I do," lamented Art.

Dow, of course, refers to Finsterwald, who 15 minutes later bogied the 18th hole at Warwick Hills Country Club to tie Wall for the championship with a 72-hole score of 282, six under par.

Wall, 1959 Masters champion with the baseball bat grip, and Finsterwald, 1958 National PGA champ who is one of the most consistent money winners in professional golf history, were waging an 18-hole playoff at Warwick today for the title.

To the winner goes a fat check for $9,000 while the loser will pocket 2nd place cash totaling $4,600.

Finsterwald and Wall are facing each other in a playoff for the 2nd time in their pro careers. Art defeated Dow last summer in the Rubber City Open at Akron, Ohio, sinking a birdie putt on the 2nd hole of their sudden-death duel.

Both players took four strokes to reach the green on No. 18, a 453-yard par four hole.

Wall struck a tree with his 2nd shot and he chipped over the green with a wedge. Then he chipped back within three feet of the pin, but muffed the putt for a six.

Finsterwald hit a bad tee shot and went for the green with a 2-iron. He didn't make it and, like Wall, chipped over the green. Dow chipped back and canned an 18-inch putt for his five that forced today's playoff.

SHORT PUTTS

Long-hitting Jack Nicklaus, the Walker Cup star from Ohio State University, was low amateur in the Buick event with a 288 total, even par.

Michigan's low amateur was Tom Draper of Brimingham, who finished far down the list at 306. The state pro delegation fared poorly with Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills leading the group at 294 for earnings of $164.29.

Pontiac's Gene Bone, host pro at Warwick, had very little success on the golf course, but he did turn out to be a good prophet. Gene predicted that 282 would be the winning score. Bone failed to survive the 36-hole cut.

BACK HOME — Ingemar Johansson, back home with the world heavyweight title, waves his famous right hand to welcoming fans at Torslanda airport north of Goteborg, Sweden. The 26-year-old Swedish idol, his country's first world boxing champion, arrived home Saturday after flight from New York. Yesterday he and his fiancee, Birgit Lundgren, had a close call in a stock car ride.

WIMBLEDON HEADLINERS—The new king and queen of the tennis world, Alex Olmedo and Maria Bueno, share the spotlight at the ball in London Saturday night after the Wimbledon tennis championships. Olmedo, Peruvian star of the U. S. Davis Cup team, and Miss Bueno of Brazil won the singles titles for a South American sweep in the Wimbledon, generally accepted as the world series of amateur tennis.

Drives 100 in Race Car

Ingemar Brushes Death

FALKENBERG, Sweden (UPI)— Ingemar Johansson, who wasn't a bit fazed by Floyd Patterson, emerged pale and shaken yesterday from a brush with death at 100 miles per hour.

World heavyweight champion Johansson, who stopped Patterson in the third round of their title bout, came here yesterday and was introduced to the crowd at the auto racing track. Then he and his fiancee, pretty Birgit Lundgren, squeezed into a Ferrari racing car and Ingemar drove down the track.

Johansson had the speedster rolling at more than 100 m.p.h. as he approached a treacherous hair-pin curve where even expert drivers slow down drastically.

The crowd gasped, Ingemar slammed on the brakes and skidded dangerously, but safely, around the curve.

When the car stopped, Birgit was pale with shock and Johansson was also pale and needed a few moments to regain his composure.

Johansson, who is receiving the plaudits of his countrymen for his title triumph, said Saturday that his return bout with Patterson might be held in Los Angeles because that city has offered promoter Bill Rosensohn a guarantee of $1,500,000.

However, Rosensohn said in Los Angeles that the bout, if held within 90 days as called for in the return-bout contract, probably would be held in New York.

Widings Third in Canoe Test

Starting in 16th position proved an insurmountable obstacle for Holly's defending champion canoe—racing team of Albert and LeRoy Widing, in yesterday's Midwest International marathon at Lupton-Omer. The boys finished third, back of arch-opponents Steve Kolonich — Larry Kendall (1st) and Ralph Sawyer—Jerry Wagner (2nd, after a gruelling 87-mile battle.

Winners' time was 8:38.0, the Widings', 8:49.0.

The Widings, teaming up with Sawyer and Wagner, in one station wagon, leave this weekend for British Columbia, where both pairs will paddle in the 130-mile Prince George race July 17.

Crowds, reported much bigger than a year ago when the Holly pair won, lined the entire route, Sunday.

The Widings drew to 3rd position after the first 45 minutes and raced behind the two leaders all the way, with Kolonich and Kendall in front all the time. The one-two teams started in the first row.

Area Inboard Boats Among Ecorse Leaders

A Drayton Plains skipper won one race and a Royal Oak inboard pilot was 2nd in a hot finish at the Ecorse Water Festival races Sunday.

Henry Ball, Drayton Plains, drove his "Wait-4-Me" to victory in the 48-class. His best heat was 47 m.p.h.

Royal Oak's Jim Miller was nipped at the finish by Geroge Byers of Columbus, Ohio, in the final heat of the 7-liter class. Best heat time was 68.9 m.p.h.

CHICAGO (AP)—The Oak Brook-Detroit CCC polo team defeated Diamond B, 6-5, in the opening match of the season in suburban Oak Brook.

Defeat Orioles Twice Snapping Losing String

White Sox Nip A's, Pascual 7-0 Winner Over New York

BALTIMORE (AP)—"Slow down. You're racing your stuff," Billy Jurges told Tom Brewer.

"Hustle," the Boston Red Sox' new manager commanded his players. They did, won a doubleheader and broke a seven-game losing string.

"It's terrific, just wonderful," the enthusiastic manager said after Sunday's twin victory over Baltimore. "They really hustled. They all hustled."

Ted Williams, dropped as low as sixth in the batting order for the first time in 20 years, raced from first to third on a single.

Marty Keough stole second to set up a run, and saved the Red Sox from serious trouble with a great running catch with the bases loaded.

Sammy White, who had driven in only two runs in the last five weeks, broke out of a slump and batted in five in one game.

It all added up to a 9-0 and 6-3 sweep over the Orioles.

BILLY JURGES

Frank Baumann, now 3-1, won the second game from Hoyt Wilxhelm (9-4). Wilhelm started the season with nine straight victories, but now has lost four in a row.

Luis Aparicio singled, stole 2nd and came home on Nellie Fox' 10th-inning hit to make Chicago White Sox reliever Turk Town the winner over the Kansas City Athletics, 4-3.

An 8th-inning homer by Aparicio and a 9th-inning blast by Al Smith had enabled the White Sox to tie the score. Losing pitcher Ned Garver knocked in a pair of Kansas City runs with a homer and a single.

Camilo Pascual of the Washington Senators pitched a four-hitter to shut out the New York Yankees, 7-0, with the help of homers by Roy Sievers, Harmon Killebrew (his 28th) and Jim Lemon. Pascual fanned 10 Yanks.

It's Time to Take an 'All-Star' Break

Powerful NL Squad Favored in Tuesday Tilt

Wynn, Drysdale May Be Starting Hurlers at Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A power-laden National League squad, headed by Henry Aaron, Willie Mays and Ernie Banks, was favored today to end the American League's two-year dominance in tomorrow's 26th annual All-Star Game at Forbes Field.

A capacity crowd of 35,000 was assured for this second mid-summer contest in Pittsburgh since the All-Star event was inaugurated in 1933. The last one played here, on July 11, 1944, was won by the National League, 7-1.

Including Aaron, Mays and Banks, the Nationals boasted 13 players batting better than .300 to only six for the Americans. The senior circuit also had four of its seven pitchers with 10 or more regular season victories while the American had only one, Chicago's Early Wynn. In home runs, the Nationals also led, 207 to 200.

Managers Casey Stengel of the American League and Fred Haney of the National arrived late last night and said they would announce their starting pitchers, as well as the batting orders, early this morning. Although the two veteran pilots refused to give even a hint of their mound choices, it was believed they had last minute changes of heart.

Stengel, who earlier had indicated Hoyt Wilhelm, Baltimore's knuckleball expert, as his opening pitcher, was said to be considering switching to Wynn. Haney, originally believed to be favoring Lew Burdette, his own right-handed ace with Milwaukee, may open with Los Angeles' Don Drysdale.

In addition to Mathews, Moon, shortstop Banks, and outfielders Mays and Aaron, the National League's starting all-stars will include first baseman Orlando Cepeda of San Francisco, second baseman Johnny Temple of Cincinnati and catcher Del Crandall of the Braves.

The Americans' starting squad, besides Fox, include first baseman Bill Skowron, New York; shortstop Luis Aparicio, Chicago; third baseman Harmon Killebrew, Washington; catcher Gus Triandos, Baltimore; and outfielders Al Kaline of Detroit, Minnie Minoso and Rocky Colavito of Cleveland. Kaline, sidelined for several days by a cheekbone operation, was expected to be ready.

Haney—who in his only other All-Star managerial effort last year, lost to Stengel 4-3—has five left-handed hitters available on his bench. These include Stan Musial, who was named by Haney for his 16th All-Star appearance. The others are Bill White and Joe Cunningham of St. Louis, Vada Pinson of Cincinnati and Smoky Burgess of Pittsburgh. Right-handers Frank Robinson of the Reds, Ken Boyer and Hal Smith of the Cards and Dick Groat and Bill Mazeroski of the Pirates, round out the National League squad, excepting the pitchers.

Shutout Keeps Milwaukee in Lead

By United Press International

Funny thing if that tight National League pennant race wound up in a three-team tie, wouldn't it.

Well, that's not so far-fetched. It almost happened 51 years ago, y'know. And the way the Milwaukee Braves, San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers are hanging in there, it could happen in 1959.

What's more, if the Pittsburgh Pirates remain in contention, this could be the closest four-club race in baseball history.

As the teams take the mid-season break for Tuesday's All-Star game, the Braves lead the Giants by three percentage points and the Dodgers trail both by a half-game. The Pirates, in fourth place, are only 3½ games off the lead.

How close can it get? In 1908, the Chicago Cubs, under Frank Chance, beat out the deadlocked John McGraw Giants and the Fred Clarke-led Pirates by one game.

Milwaukee regained a slim first-place margin Sunday when Carlton Willey beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-0, with a four-hitter while the Giants divided a pair of 4-2 decisions with the St. Louis Cardinals. The Dodgers won a double-header from the Cubs 4-3 and 5-3, and the Pirates swept the Cincinnati Reds 7-5 and 3-2 in 11 innings.

Joe Adcock and Ed Mathews each drove in two runs for the Braves to ease Willey's path to victory over Philadelphia. Every Braves' player hit safely at least once in the 13-hit assault on their former teammate, All-Star pitcher Gene Conley. This was the 10th time this year the Phils have been blanked.

Bill White, a reserve All-Star outfielder, hit the first grand slam homer of his major league career for the Cards to sink his former Giant teammates in the opener. Jack Sanford was the victim. Ernie Broglio pitched a six-hitter for his third straight victory.

Gold Cup to Miss Supertest 111

DETROIT (AP) — Canada's Miss Supertest III roared past five other unlimited powerboats in the final heat to capture the Gold Cup in the Detroit Memorial Regatta on the Detroit River Saturday.

Bucking 20-mile winds, the Harmsworth Trophy challenger was lucky to avoid the accidents that plagued many of the other 11 starters.

Miss U. S. I, owned by George Simons of Detroit, sank in the first heat when her supercharger broke loose and tore a hole in the bottom of the $30,000 racer.

Miss Buffalo, a syndicate owned boat making her debut, caught fire after her supercharger blew up in a qualifying run.

Miss Supertest III, owned by James G. Thompson of London, Ont., led five of the six boats in the fifth and final heat across the starting line before the gun and left Jack Regas and the Seattle owned Miss Bardahl as the only boat with an official start.

Regas, last season's Gold Cup winner, was drowned out in a wall of water on a turn as she battled with Bill Stead of Reno, Nev., in Maverick, and Don Dunnington, of Washington, D. C., in Nitrogen. Miss Bardahl's heavy Rolls Royce engine sputtered to a stop and she was out of the race.

Miss Supertest III edged by Bill Muncey of Seattle in Miss Thriftway and Chuck Thompson of Detroit in Miss Detroit to take the first elimination heat at an average speed of 99.392 m.p.h.

Miss Bardahl set a record 114.8 m.p.h. to capture the second elimination heat. Her winning time was Regas beat Miss Supertest III in the fourth heat with the fastest heat speed of the day, 101.161 m.p.h., to smash Miss Detroit's record of 100.641 m.p.h. in the third heat.

Miss Detroit finished second in the final score based on points earned in three of the five heats. Maverick was third and Miss Bardahl fourth.

WLYA Ends Spring Series

The Independence Day holiday weekend afforded area sailors opportunity to engage in some important competition. Fine sailing weather provided tight, interesting events for both Watkins Lake Yachting Assn., and Pontiac Yacht Club.

WLYA concluded its spring series with four races on the Fourth and two Sunday. A 22-boat field is expected for this weekend when WLYA sails a handicap event, all to start at one time.

A two-day "special" was sailed at PYC, on Cass Lake, with 24 lightnings taking part in the members only set. Pontiac Yachters will head north to Tawas, for the annual district lightning 3-day series starting Friday in the "big lake" (Huron). At least a dozen PYC craft will sail this regatta. Several skippers trailered up last weekend, will spend the week in practice runs.

Spring series results for WLYA—Thistles, Don Zannoth (Seaweed); snipes, Carol Morris (R-Buoy); lightnings, Fred, Bruce Brede (Busy Bees). Runnersup, respectively, were Norman Ledwan (thistle), Ray Frankel (snipe), Dave Green (lightning).

Holiday winners (WLYA—thistles, Zannoth, Frank Hill; snipes, Neil Wheeler (new boat, Little Faster), Carol and Chuck Morris; lightnings, Dave Green (both races).

Winners in PYC weekend races—Dave Davies in Masla won the overall 3-race series; top 10—Clarence Holman, Jerry Gray, Don VanDoren, Gene MacCracken, Charles Buck, Burt Bouwkamp, Ken Bonnett, Alex Clark and Claude Bennett, in order.

Legion Lead to Southfield

Defending champion Southfield made a big move towards capturing the opening round title in the 18th District Junior Legion baseball league by cutting down Rochester and Birmingham in succession over the weekend.

The sweep broke a three-way tie for 1st and left Royal Oak as the top contender to give Will Oliver's contingent in the run for top 1st round honors.

Southfield blasted Rochester 14-2 Saturday and took Birmingham 9-6 yesterday. Royal Oak tripped Birmingham 6-1 and Rochester 12-3.

Troy divided beating Clawson 12-8 after bowing to Berkley by 5-3. Clawson whipped Milford Saturday, 11-5.

Southfield combined good hitting and pitching. Bob Filar gave Rochester five hits while fanning 10 as John Dempsey was batting in five runs with three hits. A five-run 4th ruined a 1-0 Rochester lead. Dave Newsome and Tom Ridley allowed Birmingham five safeties. Ridley and John Van Brunt had three hits apiece.

Jim Hirsch and Bob Lyons hurled the Royal Oak triumphs. A five-run 4th overcame a 1-0 Birmingham edge. Bill Pyles and Jerry McCullough batted in two runs each backing Hirsch's 3-hitter. Lyons fanned 11 as four in the 1st clinched the Rochester tilt early.

A three-run double by Dick Billings and Jerry Glidewell's homer with a man on paced the Troy victory. Doug Smith fanned four of six batters in relief after Clawson had belted four homers. Berkley led all the way to beat Troy.

The Sunday line scores:

The Real Diagnosis

Long Is 'Almost Out of Control'

NEW ORLEANS (NEA)—Contrary to what we have been told officially in meaningless words like "nervous breakdown . . . small stroke . . . heart condition . . . overwork," Louisiana's Gov. Earl Long is actually:

1. Driven frantic by the towering angers and fears that often beset members of a dynasty.
2. Mentally damaged to a considerable extent — with further damage likely at any moment.
3. Physically on the edge of death.

In short, the elected executive of "Sportsman's Paradise" is "almost completely out of control — and cure is virtually impossible."

This is the real diagnosis of Long, made after examinations in three hospitals by scores of doctors and technicians and explained to me by professional people who could lose their jobs if their names were attached to the truth.

Some of them will be fired anyway simply because no names appear here. But as one nationally-known Louisiana doctor told me:

"It's a relief to get this story off my chest. If the governor wants to hide from the facts, that's one thing. But the people of this state have the right to know."

His honesty — and that of his colleagues' — is not shared widely in the state. Many scholars who have intimate understanding of this fantastic case play it safe by refusing to talk.

"You can understand my position," you hear again and again.

For in this state, the half-light of half-reason is accepted as "the way things are." Long himself is accepted as both the law and its defiance. And more often than not, the shrug has replaced shame and righteous indignation.

Strangely, psychiatrists tell me, Long had been diagnosing himself in public ever since his dramatic outbursts in the legislature in early May.

What kind of politician, the doctors ask, exposses the unhappy truth about the way his relatives were killed, or how he manipulates church groups or what extremes he would use to be governor?

What kind of official rewrites the laws of mental health and claims he's not sick — and then calls in psychiatrists to treat him?

What kind of middle age is it that finds itself preoccupied with children — any children — and suddenly after 27 years decides he's going to divorce his wife, who has borne him no children to perpetuate the fame, fortune and fable of the name of Long?

But in the light of history, Earl is no "Kingfish" like Huey, powerfull founder of the dynasty. Gov. Huey was on the verge of reaching out for the White House, via a third party threat, when he was shot down by an assassin in 1935.

"This is no longer a politician," one doctor said. "And no longer an official or mature individual.

"This is a human individual who has had enough of the pressures on him. His body and mind simply cannot or will not stand the strain any more.

He has had enough of the rigors of office. He has had enough of the fears of sterility and the pressures of being the childless branch of a dynasty.

"He is telling everybody he is in trouble. He is forcing himself to be treated medically."

But in trouble, under treatment, under pressure — even if he were jailed or dead — you hear that Louisiana would re-elect Long if he wanted to run again.

And he wants to. He has to — in spite of medical predictions that he could not survive another campaign. For dynasties are very demanding, especially in Louisiana: Governor Huey; Congressm a n George; Senator Russell . . . and now childless, Governor Earl.

GOV. EARL LONG: ". . . a human individual who has had enough of the pressures on him."

Hen Clucks Its Own Production Demands

HARTSHORNE, Okla. (AP) — Automobile dealer Dan Volture says he has a stray hen that clucks until he lets her inside his air-conditioned office. Then she marches to a wastepaper basket under his desk to deposit an egg.

Before hot weather set in, she laid her eggs in seats of old cars.

Modern optical instruments can bring the moon within a seeing distance of 25 miles from the earth according to present calculations.

Kozlov's Growl Is Echo of Khrushchev

Expect More Soviet 'Tough Talk' on Berlin

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union get along better when they stick to dancing. Everybody liked everybody during the Bolshoi dancers' two months' stay in this country.

But the 100 nimble-footed Russians left just a few days before the arrival here late in June of Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov. He smiled and was jolly and was pretty nimble too in hopping around to see everything.

Then suddenly Thursday he sounded like his boss, Premier Nikita Khrushchev: he gave a very chilly warning that the Soviet Union would meet force with force if the United States resorted to military action in the Berlin crisis.

His statement followed by a few hours published reports in this country that Khrushchev was very tough in talking about Berlin to former Gov. W. Averell Harriman of New York in Moscow. There was an air of gloom-and-doom about the reports.

They were put in perspective later when Lincoln White, the State Department's press officer, said he didn't know of any American alarm over what Khrushchev is alleged to have told Harriman.

But why should there be? There's nothing new in Khrushchev's being tough about Berlin. And since Kozlov is Khrushchev's messenger, there's nothing very surprising about his comments either. He could hardly do anything but echo his boss.

Khrushchev has talked tough about Berlin all along, ever since last Nov. 27.

That's when he first warned the Western Allies to get their troops out of West Berlin. Since he knew this would create a crisis—whose end no one could be sure of — it must be assumed his warning was well thought out.

And no wonder. West Berlin, although 110 miles inside Communist East Germany, is occupied by Allied troops and a population whose allegiance is to West Germany. It's been a pain to the Soviet Union since the end of the war.

It was so much of a pain that Joseph Stalin, more than 10 years ago, tried to force the Allies out by blockading the city. President Harry Truman broke that with the airlift. There was only one reason he could get away with it.

At that time this country — which had the atom bomb while Stalin didn't — was militarily stronger. The Soviets for 10 years then played quiet on Berlin—until they were equally strong with bombs and missiles.

The fact that Khrushchev said "Get out" last November—after waiting 10 years to resume where Stalin left off—is pretty good evidence he feels powerful enough to get away with it. It's a gamble, of course.

It could lead to war if the West refuses flatly to budge. But he apparently felt strong enough to take the gamble. Meanwhile, the Allies, seeking a peaceful settlement but refusing to get out, have talked with the Soviets for six weeks at Geneva. The talks resume July 13.

At Geneva, the Soviet Union refused to back down from its overall demand — that the West get out; the West refused to budge from its over-all position—that it won't. The Soviets made some concessions, the West made more.

Since the talks will start up again it would seem poor bargaining for Khrushchev to switch suddenly to a conciliatory soft line now when, by sounding tough, he may hope to wring more concessions from the West later this month.

It would be foolish to hold Khrushchev's threats and warnings lightly. But it would hardly make sense for American government officials to get pneumonia every time Khrushchev sneezed.

The whole point is simply this: any toughness he's showing, or Kozlov is showing, is exactly the same toughness the Soviets have been showing all along. There's nothing new in that.

It would be new if they did anything else.

U.S. May Chalk Up New Peak in 1959

Construction Climbs to Record

NEW YORK (AP) — That old joke "New York would be a nice city if they could ever get it built" is now applicable to most of the nation.

It's likely that the entire year will set new peaks. Two things that might prevent that are a steel strike—structural steel is one of the products in shortest supply—and a tightening money situation that could cut off mortgage funds.

But the construction industry is confident for the long run. America's backlog of needs for homes, offices, highways, schools, hospitals and various public buildings seems to grow faster than builders can put new installations into place.

The Labor and Commerce departments report that the value of construction put in place in June set a record for the month. For the first half of the year the spending is put at 25 billion dollars, or 3¼ billion more than in the first six months of 1958, and a record setter.

Much of the increase over last year has been in home building—10¼ billion dollars this year against 7¾ billion last. Many construction industry analysts expect this pace to slow. One of them, George Cline Smith, economist of F. W. Dodge Corp., however, says, "I don't expect the decline to be severe."

But another form of building is expected to pick up after a year of contraction. That is industrial building. During the recession it was apparent that many industries had built facilities beyond the demand at that time for their products.

With the recovery and the indications that a new business boom is starting, the excess of capacity is expected to disappear. A new industrial expansion will start—if construction industry experts are right.

Public construction spending has been increasing. In the first half of 1959 it is put at 7½ billion dollars, nearly one billion more than in the like period last year. growth will continue. And since all signs point to still greater population growth, the construction industry expects to be kept busy for years to come.

Smith says that the construction industry now accounts for about 12 per cent of the gross national product—the dollar value of all goods and services.

And he thinks that in 40 years there will be twice as many persons in the United States as today —all of them in need of homes and places to work and all sorts of public services.

Construction—except for industrial plants—paid little attention to the recession. Home building faltered only slightly. Office building went along at a record clip. And public construction tended to increase.

With a new boom apparently in the making, the construction industry sees its chief worries now as rising costs, tightening money supply, and perhaps some interruptions in production of materials.

Sukarno Rules in Indonesia

Dissolves Assembly and Takes Full Control as Djuanda Resigns

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno took over full executive power and responsibility today, and faces the task of pulling this sprawling 3,000-island republic out of its financial and political mire.

Premier Djuanda resigned, giving Sukarno a clear field to pick a new Cabinet. Sukarno abolished the 1950 constitution Sunday, dissolved the constituent Assembly, and reinstated the 1945 constitution.

The 1945 constitution—declaring Indonesia's independence from the Dutch—centralizes power in Sukarno and allows him to proceed with establishing what he calls "guided democracy."

GOP Senators Vow Civil Rights Push

WASHINGTON (AP) —Republicans are going to keep the heat on in an effort to get civil rights legislation passed in this session of Congress, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) said today.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, told an interviewer that a GOP broadside fired at Senate Democrats last week is only the beginning of a campaign to force action. Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) and others said in Senate speeches that the Democrats are responsible for inaction.

"We're going to keep the heat on until we get something done," Dirksen said.

Nobel Prize Scientist Has Heart Operation

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Dr. Arthur H. Compton, 66, winner of the Nobel Prize and professor of natural philosophy at Washington University, is recovering from a heart operation.

Barnes Hospital said Sunday that the scientist's condition is very good.

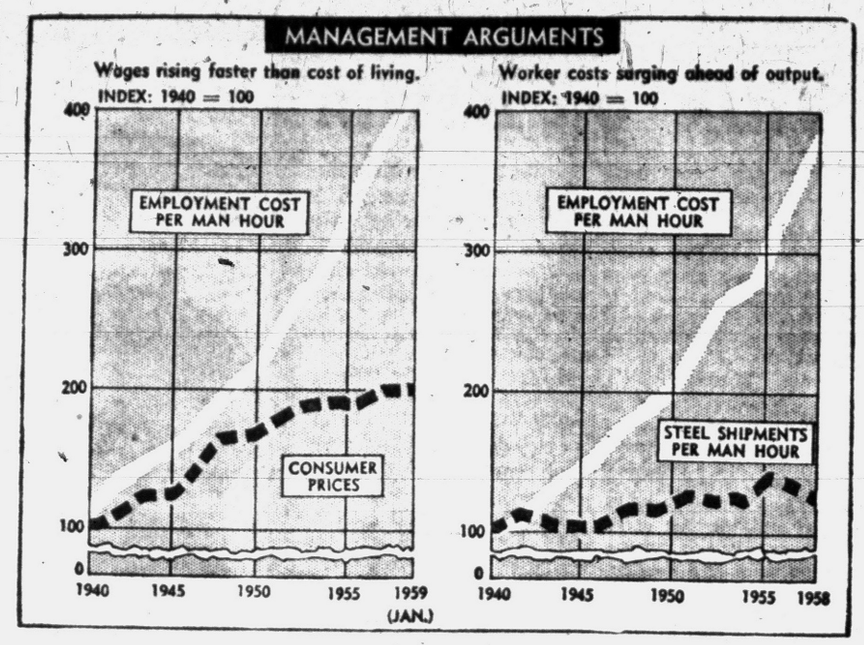

Dr. Compton last week underwent surgery to repair the main artery carrying blood from the heart.

Dr. Compton played an important part in developing the atomic bomb. He won the Nobel Prize for physicis in 1927.

FIGURES IN STEEL DISPUTE—Newscharts, above, show some of the figures which the steel manufacturers and the United Steelworkers Union have thrown at each other during fruitless contract talks. The statistics put forward during more than eight weeks of conversation have failed to bring the two sides one inch closer to agreement. A threatened June 30 walkout was stayed until July 15 as requested by President Eisenhower of union President David McDonald. The nation anxiously looks for results from further talks. A strike in this key industry could force the layoff of millions of workers in other fields and send the whole economy spiraling downward.

Cyd Charisse Quits MGM, Will Be in TV Spectacular

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—Ending 15 years on the MGM lot, 10 under exclusive contract, Cyd Charisse has asked for and received a full release—with a hatful of jobs which are hers for the asking. Speaking moviewise, Cyd is talking about co-starring with Gregory Peck in "The Billionaire" at 20th Century-Fox. And this isn't all!

The Ford Company has set her for "An Evening with Cyd Charisse," a color TV spectacular beaming on Nov. 17 for which Cyd will receive the highest price ever paid a woman performer for a single show, $250,000!

Just as Fred Astaire was permitted to do with his Emmy-sweeping "Evening with Fred Astaire," Cyd will have complete control of her program, selecting her own producer, director and talent.

I might add that these plans have been quietly afoot for six months but the beautiful dancer couldn't reveal them until her MGM contract ended June 21.

Looking lean and even handsomer after taking off pounds by exercising, Pat Boone is back in town. He says he's finally going to make the complete break from singing in motion pictures by playing a straight dramatic role.

He has optioned the English novel, "Beyond the Mountain," by Alexander Ramati. It's a dramatic story of a refugee and his brother, who escaped from Siberia and make their way to freedom.

And by the way, Pat has been presented with a leather and gold bound copy of his book, "Twixt Twelve and Twenty," by his publishers, Prentice Hall, because it has now sold 350,000.

Ex-Polish Flier Crosses Atlantic in Small Boat

NEW YORK (UPI)—A former Polish airman Sunday completed a lonely 85-day voyage across the Atlantic in a 25-foot boat.

Christoper Grabowsky, thin, tanned and in tatters, sailed into quarantine this morning, nearly three months after leaving Tangiers.

He said he encountered severe storms early in his voyage and then was becalmed off Atlantic City Friday.

Grabowsky's wife, Marina, and son flew here from Africa and had been waiting for a reunion with him.

The lonely sailor at one time was feared lost, it had been so long since he had been heard from.

He grew a long, bushy beard on the voyage and lost a considerable amount of weight. His clothes were shredded by the weather.

Welland Canal Traffic Jammed

50 Ships Await Passage as Tug Sinks in Lock, Drowning Captain

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (AP)—Traffic in the jam-plagued Welland Canal was blocked again today while workers tried to hoist a tug that sank in Lock 4 on Saturday, drowning its captain.

Nearly 50 ships were waiting in Lake Ontario to use the canal's up-bound waterway.

The 55-ton construction tug Grand Bank sank, for the second time this year, when the lock's water level was being raised.

Capt. Ernest Fiander, 62, North Sidney, N.S., jumped free of the sinking vessel but was sucked under the turbetent water as it rushed into the lock. His body was recovered yesterday. Three crewmen jumped free.

Last March the tug sank in Toronto Harbor following a collision with a dredge.

Red Mail Lauds Khrushchev for Helping a Thief

MOSCOW (UPI) — Nikita S. Khrushchev's story of how he helped rehabilitate a thief has started a flow of laudatory letters to the Soviet premier from prison camp inmates and former convicts, Pravda said today.

It was the first time since Stalin's death that an effort has been made to portray a Soviet Premier as a national "father."

Three former prisoners who were given the chance to rehabilitate themselves and were elected chairmen of collective farms wrote, "The people understand and love you, Nikita Sergeivitch," Pravda said.

The Communist Party newspaper said thousands of similar letters poured in after Khrushchev told the story about the thief in a speech to a recent writers' congress.

15,000 Americans Expected

Muscovites Shine Up City for Tourists

MOSCOW (UPI)—Curtain or no, Americans are thronging into Russia with their cameras, guide books and drip-dry nylon travel shirts.

Before Stalin's death in 1953, American tourists in the Soviet Union were scarce. But under Nikita Khrushchev, Russia has flung open its doors and has become this year a full-fledged tourist target for an army of summer souvenir-hunters from the U.S.

In 1958, 5,000 Americans visited the Soviet Union. This year, the estimate by travel agencies is that 15,000 will come.

Already in Moscow is the advance wave of early visitors who want to get their color photo slides back home on the projection machine before the neighbors do.

We resident correspondents who were looked upon as rarities during the winter are being upstaged on the streets by fresher Americans with shorter skirts, brighter lipstick and swoopier tail fins.

Three types of Americans are staring at the gold oniondomes of the churches inside the Kremlin walls these days.

First are the pleasure tourists who've discovered it's fashionable, or "U" (short for upperclass), to visit Russia. After all, everybody's been to London and Paris.

Next come delegations on the cultural exchange circuit: educators, writers, entertainers, artists, scientists, etc. In the third group are businessmen and economists.

A dozen Americans are now building the American exhibition in Moscow, and when that opens July 25, there'll be an influx of 80 guides from the U.S.

What the effect of all these crew cuts and pretty girls will have on the heretofore isolated Russians, only time will tell.

But there's such a travel boom that already the USSR is losing its exclusivity. One American tourist couple complained the other day there were four other American couples on the plane they took to Leningrad. What's more, five couples touring the country recently discovered they were all from Los Angeles.

In the tradition of Russian hospitality, Moscow has been shined up for the rush of visitors. Two new tourist hotels recently were built with lobbies as big as railway terminals, resplendent with glittering chandeliers and marble statuary.

A production quota for souvenirs has been dutifully fulfilled, and you see the same souvenirs in all the stores — mainly crystal and enamel ware, carved wooden trinkets and balalaikas (guitars) which no Russian would be caught with.

Intourist says new hotels also have been built in 25 other cities in the Soviet Union and American-pioneered motels are being erected along highways.

Khrushchev himself is sometimes on hand for the visitors. The Soviet Premier, with his boundless energy, likes to greet visitors from all over the world, and this season he's putting in overtime to exchange views with Americans, even tourists.

Balloonist Floats East Heading for Mailbox

BUFFALO, Wyo. (AP)—Donald Piccard, 33, floated eastward today in a huge helium - bloated balloon carrying 250 letters to a mail box.

The letters will be mailed by Piccard when he lands — somewhere, he hopes, near the East Coast.

A crowd of 6,000 saw the launching Sunday night as the climax to Buffalo's diamond jubilee celebration. Piccard, of Northfield, Minn., is the son of pioneer balloonist Jean Piccard.

The longest river in Scotland is the Eay. It is 118 miles in length and carries more water to the sea than any other stream draining the regions of the British Isles.

Father, 3 Drown After Saving Four

CORINTH, N. Y. (AP) — A father, his two daughters and another man drowned Sunday when a homemade, outboard motorboat capsized. Before drowning, the father saved four children, including his two sons.

The accident occurred about 50 yards offshore in Ener Lake, in the lower Adirondack where the group was picnicking.

The victims were Ricard Hustis, 49, his daughters Myrtle, 5, and Lucy, 7, and Jay Dorsett, 58, builder of the 12-foot boat.

State police said Hustis swam back and forth to shore and pulled his two sons, 6 and 9 years old, and two other children, aged 2 and 3 to safety. He died as he tried to return for his two daughters.

Dorsett was not able to swim, troopers said.

Mother Still Kicking, but Carbone Will Stew

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Vincent Carbone Jr., 34, was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary for selling a television set so he could get enough money to bury his mother.

Sentence was imposed after city Judge Joseph P. Kuszynski determined first of all that there was no TV set and, second, that Carbone's mother was still alive.

An average of 13 months is required to bring sugar cane to maturity.

Vigorous Mart Off to New High

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels, motors and chemicals paced a vigorous stock market toward another new high early today. Trading was active.

Most key stocks showed gains of fractions to a point.

The market took off from its pre-Fourth of July explosion when it closed the trading week Thursday at a record high despite the uncertainties of a three-day weekend.

Confidence remained high and the outlook for second quarter earnings was excellent. The ticker tape lagged behind transactions for a 10-minute spell.

U. S. Steel advanced more than a point and Youngstown Sheet was around a point ahead while other leading steels showed small gains.

General Motoros and American Motors were around a point ahead. Other automotive stocks made moderate gains.

A few small losers dotted the list. Among these were Standard Oil (New Jersey), American Telephone, General Electric and U. S. Gypsum.

Hold 2 Teens in Burglaries

Juvenile Arrested in Grocery Store; Youth Denies Part

Two teenagers, one a juvenile, were arrested by Pontiac police officers last night and held for investigation of three burglaries.

The juvenile, 16, admitted the burglaries to police and was taken to the Oakland County Children's home.

Jerry Lee Lemmert, 18, of 2040 Richwood St., Pontiac Township, denied any knowledge of the burglaries but admitted being with the younger boy all evening.

The juvenile was arrested in the Perry St.-Friendly Market, 1220 N. Perry St., at 11:45 p.m. Sunday. Officers investigated when they found the front door had been forced open.

The boy was wandering down the aisles with a small basket containing three bottles of wine and a bottle of beer. He told officers he was getting "something to drink."

He admitted breaking into George's Sandwich Shop, 1018 Joslyn Rd., and the Dairy Queen establishment at 1059 Joslyn Rd., earlier in the evening.

Nothing was missing from the sandwich shop but a portable radio had been taken from the Dairy Queen.

Lemmert was arrested shortly after the juvenile was caught. Officers said he had been drinking, and was on parole from Jackson State Prison. He had been convicted on a burglary charge.

Italy is again going to have gold coins—but they will have no face value and won't be legal tender. They will be commemorative "medal money," issued to mark the 10th anniversary of the Constitution. They will be sold to the public. All the coins will have the same design and will be of 22-carat gold and in three weights and diameters.

Demand Good for Wheat, Rye

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat and rye futures were in good demand today in early transactions on the Board of Trade but other grades and soybeans were steady to weak.

Dealers said there appeared to be a heavier volume of hedge selling in wheat than on any previous day this year but that it came with considerably improved flour mill buying.

The arrivals of 459 cars over the three-day holiday weekend were somewhat larger but apparently less than expected in view of the progress of the harvest east of the Mississippi River.

Corn and old crop soybean contracts led the setbacks with losses running to major fractions of a cent. After an hour, wheat was ½ to ⅞ cent a bushel higher, July 1.88; corn ¼ to ⅞ lower, July 1.23⅞; oats ¼ higher to 1¼ lower, July (new type contracts) 66⅝; rye ⅛ to ½ higher July 1.22⅞; soybeans unchanged to ⅜ lower July 2.23½.

Israel to Get New Leaders

Ben-Gurion Resigns to Form Another Regime After Arms Crisis

JERUSALEM (AP)—David Ben-Gurion was expected to begin forming a new government today after his resignation as prime minister climaxed a 10-day crisis over an Israeli arms deal with West Germany.

The 15-member coalition government, which quit Sunday night stayed on as a caretaker regime until a new one is formed. But Ben-Gurion said he will "have nothing to do" with the four ministers from the left wing Achduth Avodah and Mapam parties.

These four brought about the four-year-old government's fall by voting against the sale of 250,000 grenade throwers to West Germany. Most of them already have been delivered.

In his letter of resignation to President Izhak Ben-Zvi, Ben-Gurion accused the four of violating the principle of collective cabinet responsibility by their action. All cabinet members had pledged in 1957 to support cabinet decisions or resign.

Observers thought it was a sure bet that Ben-Gurion would form the new government, because he is the head of the biggest faction in Parliament. His Social Democrat Mapai party and affiliated Arab minority groups backed Ben-Gurion in approving the arms deal.

The Achduth Ave-Dah and Mapam parties are expected to be excluded from any new government Ben-Gurion might form.

Man Arrested in Park on Gambling Charge

A Detroit man was arrested Sunday evening at Oakland Park on a charge of possessing gambling equipment.

Samuel Burd, age unknown, was selling punch-board chances when spotted by Detective John Felts.

He admitted selling chances, but told Felts the proceeds went to a benefit fund for show-business people.

Besides, he told the officer, he was giving only show-business people a chance to buy.

The unimpressed officer took Burd to the station where he was booked.

Refuse to Predict Ike's Stand on Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House refused to predict today whether President Eisenhower would sign or veto the $1,375,000,000 housing bill. He has until midnight Wednesday to act.

Eisenhower's budget and housing advisers have recommended a veto because of two features—urban renewal funds greater than the President requested and a new public housing authorization which he did not seek.

Wedding? Must Be a Mistake

Everyone Tries to Hush Tie of Gangster's Girl, Congress Secretary

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Authorities speculated today about a lavish but secretive wedding at which a reported 200 of Chicago's gangland elite saw the daughter of the Windy City's No. 2 hoodlum married to the son of a U. S. congressman's secretary.

"I suppose the heat's on in Chicago," Miami Crime Commissioner Dan Sullivan said. "They certainly made a special attempt to keep out of the limelight."

The wedding and reception were given Saturday by Sam (Mooney) Giancana for his pretty 19-year-old daughter Bonnie and Anthony Tisci, son of the secretary to Rep. Rowland Libonati (D-Ill). Estimated cost was $10,000.

Giancana, who appeared last month before the Senate Rackets Committee investigating the prostitution and pinball rackets in Chicago, dabbed at his eyes with a handkerchief when he gave his daughter away.

But little else could be learned about the affair. Guests slipped unobtrusively into town, attended the ceremony at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church and the reception at the luxurious Fontainebleau Hotel, then left as quietly.

The hotel even denied that the reception took place. "There is no wedding reception or party of any kind here today," a Fontainebleau spokesman insisted.

But observers noted burly men guarding the doors to the plush party rooms where bejeweled women and men in dark suits and dark glasses mingled while strolling musicians serenaded them.

Knife-Point Robber Hits Auburin Hotel

A holdup man who held up the night clerk of the Auburin Hotel at knife-point and escaped with $61 early this morning is being sought by Pontiac police.

Oliver Walls, 75, of 3140 Fisher St., Walled Lake, told police the bandit entered the 464 Auburn Ave. hotel at 3 a.m. and asked him if anyone named "Abernathy" had checked in.

When he checked the register, Walls said, the bandit grabbed his shirt collar with one hand and produced a butcher knife with the other.

Police believe the hotel bandit may be the same man who earlier in the evening tried to rob a Detroit hotel at knife-point.

A man fitting the Pontiac holdup man's description threatened a clerk at the Mayflower Hotel, 17729 Telegraph Rd., at knife-point at 11:45 p.m. but fled empty-handed when a woman in the hotel lobby screamed.

Believed Cured by Faith

Dies in Diabetic Coma

DETROIT (AP) — A woman diabetic, who threw away her insulin in the belief she had been cured by faith, died yesterday in a Detroit hospital.

A medical examiner's hearing was scheduled today to determine whether Mrs. Wanda Beach, 37, of Stanton, died of insulin withdrawal or other causes.

The woman, a diabetic since infancy, came here Friday to attend services of Evangelist Oral Roberts. She called her parents Friday night and told them she was completely cured.

Relatives said Mrs. Beach had to have daily insulin shots to keep the diabetes under control.

A motel manager, William McKee, said Mrs. Beach told him and other motel residents she was cured and was throwing away her insulin. He said the woman became ill yesterday. She was taken to Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital where a doctor said she already was in a diabetic coma and too far gone to respond to emergency treatment.

Roberts was not available for comment. However, a member of his party, the Rev. R. F. Deweese said, "This is a tragic case. We constantly advise people never to do a thing like that. We advise them to go to their own doctors and get a medical examination and clearance before stopping medical treatment."

Campaigns in 98 Degree Heat

Long Is Near Exhaustion After Stiff Weekend Tour

WINNFIELD, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long, his waning strength sapped further by an arduous weekend campaign trek, planned a return today to the state capital at Baton Rouge, hopeful of again picking up the reins of state administration.

He spent the night at his farm home here, which he refers to as his "pea patch." He arrived near exhaustion.

Long's enemies presumably were prepared for his advent on the capital scene, from which he was forcibly removed May 30 for mental treatment at a Galveston, Tex., institution.

Long won release from mental observation June 26. In the next 10 days, he moved erratically about the state from Winnfield to Covington, New Orleans, Baton Rouge, and finally, on a spectacular barnstorming tour Saturday in which he launched his 1959 campaign for re-election.

Last Wednesday Long suffered what was described as a slight heart failure.

His doctors cautioned him against Saturday's stump tour, but Long ignored them to travel some 300 miles in 98-degree heat from one corner of Louisiana to the other. He ended up Saturday night hoarse and shaken.

But he was feeling poorly when he arrived at Winnfield in mid-afternoon Sunday. He napped for a while, then was propped up in bed while doctors gave him a check.

Long finally turned in for the night, after sitting for a time in a rocking chair.

War Threatens OAS Meeting

Carribean Countries Set for Open Battle if Talks Don't Succeed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The threat of a shooting war in the Caribbean hung today over a meeting of the Organization of American States (OAS) on the Dominican Republic's invasion charges against Cuba and Venezuela.

The three countries have placed their armed forces on a war footing. Reports from Cuidad Trujillo, the Dominican capital, quoted high government officials as referring publicly to the possibility of "open belligerence."

The OAS was expected to summon a special meeting of the foreign ministers of the 21 American nations to discuss the tense Caribbean situation.

Dominican Ambassador Virgilio Diaz Ordonez told the Organization last week that Cuba and Venezuela backed invasions of his country June 14 and June 20. He said 3,000 men were training in Cuba and 25 warplanes had been obtained by Venezuela in preparation for a new invasion.

Cuba and Venezuela heatedly denied the charges. They said that the Dominican Republic planned to bomb Santiago, Cuba, and Maracaibo, Venezuela.

Diaz Ordonez told the OAS that a threat to the peace existed which required that the inter-American foreign ministers be summoned under terms of the Rio Mutual Assistance Treaty. He said speedy action was needed to avoid "catastrophe" and "bloodletting."

It was doubtful that the Dominican Republic could get the 14 votes needed to invoke the never-before-used foreign ministers provision of the treaty. Instead, the OAS probably will call the ministers meeting on broader grounds, such as to discuss economic problems and means for strengthening representative democracy.

Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt said in Caracas last night that he would refuse to permit any OAS representative to enter his country to investigate the Dominican charges.

Cuban minister of state Raul Roa said at a reception that his government was completely opposed to any foreign ministers meeting to discuss the charges.

It was not known whether these two countries would soften their stand if the foreign ministers conference was called on the broader grounds rather than on the Dominican threat-to-peace contention.

Burglars Take No Holiday Here

Many Thefts Reported in Pontiac; Cash, Coins, Equipment Stolen

The Fourth of July weekend was no holiday for burglars in Pontiac. Several break-ins were reported to the Pontiac Police Dept.

Someone broke into Harrison's Grill, 1300 N. Perry St., by smashing glass out of the front door, and stole an undetermined amount of change from vending machines.

The Berdica Shoe Repair shop at 548 Beverly St. was burglarized. $30 was taken from the cash register. The intruders entered by breaking glass out of the front door.

Phil's Marathon Service station at 480 Orchard Lake Ave., was entered by burglars who broke a window on the side of the building. It has not been determined what is missing.

The apartment of Betty Christiansen, 390 E. Blvd., was broken into and some alcoholic beverages stolen.

3 Guns Boom 21-Round Salute to Royal Couple

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip were hailed with a 21-gun salute as they sailed through the narrows between Mackinac and Round Islands yesterday headed for Chicago.

Three National Guard howitzers began thundering a 5-minute salute to the royal visitors from a fort once seized by the British in the War of 1812.

W. Stewart Woodfill, chairman of the Mackinac State Park Commission said, "the entire ships' company of 250 men, plus guests and dignitaries, were kept out of sight. Only the royal couple, both dressed in white, were to be seen."

He noted that only the Queen and her consort can receive an official salute.

After the cannon fired their last round the Britannia lowered her ensign in salute and headed toward the Mackinac Bridge with her escort of three American and three Canadian ships of war.

Police said the Britains's presence caused one of the worst traffic jams in Straits history.

Some 10,000 persons craned their necks to catch a glimpse of the royal couple.

Antique Lover Finds Bottle of Presidential Pills

LITTLETON, N.C. (AP)—Mrs. Marvin Breedlove Jr. of Henderson found a bonus when she bought an antique chest.

In it, she found a bottle of assorted pills prescribed for Martin Van Buren, eigth president of the United States.

The prescription, written in red ink in spidery handwiring, carried the following instructions:

"Small reds—laxatives—one at night.

"Large reds — nerves — as needed.

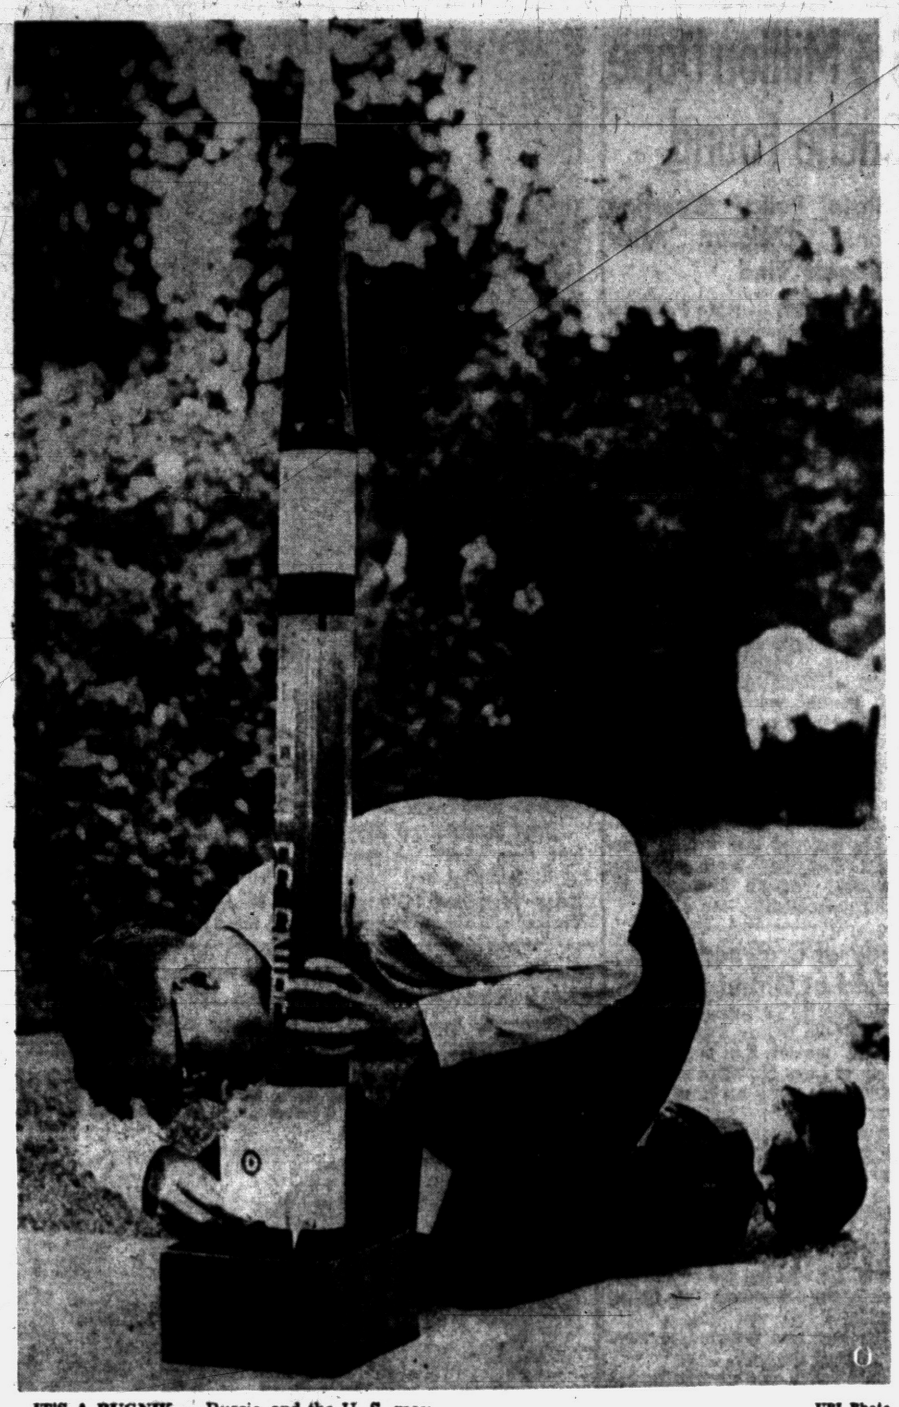

"Brown—digestives—one or two at meals.

"Pink—headache—½ to 1.

"Black — liver — 1 at night if needed."

The prescription was signed by a Dr. Jones.

Tomatoes are one of the richest sources of vitamin C.

IT'S A BUGNIK — Russia and the U. S. may launch dogs and monkeys, but 15-year-old Peter Finney of Pinner, England, is ready to rocket a black garden beetle aloft in the nose cone of his "Hercules Snipe." The schoolboy is just looking for a suitable launching site from which to send up his five-foot aluminum and tinplate missile, which has three motors and magnetic steering. The youth says it will reach 3,000 feet before releasing the nose cone and beetle back to earth with a parachute.

Toots Makes Thieves of Most Honest Souls

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The New York I knew will never again be quite the same as it was at 3 o'clock the other morning.

Toots Shor's unbelievable saloon, which opened Apr. 30, 1940, two and a half years before Pearl Harbor, was locking up for the night for the last time. Out into dimly-lit W. 52nd St. came Robert Q. Lewis, carrying a table telephone which he had wrapped in a napkin and was taking home as a souvenir.

From the "wake," as many had called it, Audrey Meadows had smuggled a dinning room chair. She had induced a male friend to maneuver it toward the door so she could carry it away in a cab. Mrs. Walter Cronkite has always struck me as an honest woman—but she had stuffed an ash tray in her purse.

All these and much fore loot had been carried away by Toots' customers in memory of one of the greatest drinking places in the history of modern world.

Yes, it's going on 20 years since another generation opened it—Jimmy Walker, Rags Ragland, Mark Hellinger, Bill Corum had popped through these swinging doors when the world was much, much younger.

AUDREY

There'd been the war . . . food rationing, the dimout, the brownout, the curfew . . . probably Toots wished sometimes for the 40c—a quarter, dime and nickel—he had flung against an opposing wall on opening day so he could go in, as he called it, "flatpocket," or "empty," meaning broke.

The new generation sat here now. Steve Allen was talking to Bob Feller. Eddie Arcaro, Lew Parker, Betty Kean, were there . . . Johnny Broderick, the famous fighting cop, was without a tie, and some witty fellow was shouting, "Johnny, starting tomorrow, you're barred from here for coming in without a tie." And Johnny was knowing all the time there was no tomorrow here.

"Never before have so many been barred from one place so quickly," Walter Cronkite said.

It would be easy to say that Toots himself broke into tears at seeing the end of this place where he started out poor and would up a millionaire. Maybe he felt like it. But I heard one fellow say, "G'night Toots, got to go. Just want to say I had some good times here."

"Me, to," he said, his face puckering. He reached up and pulled at a piece of wood against one of the showcase tables. "Might as well start tearing the place down," he said. Then he thought better of it and straightened the wood back into place. He clearly wasn't ready for it to go just yet.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Someone described a girl who's at the awkward age about men: "Too young to give up home, but old enough to be nervous." That's earl, brother.

Germany Owns the Saar Again

Return of Rich Industrial Area Puts Country 1st in Western Europe

SAARBRUCKEN, Germany (AP) — Saarlanders swarmed into conversion centers today to exchange their French francs for German marks. This rich industrial area returned to West German economic control at midnight.

The one million residents have five days in which to exchange their francs for marks. They will receive one mark for every 117 francs turned in.

The Saar, which has been a disputed pawn between France and Germany since the days of French King Louis XIV, was occupied by France after both world wars. It's residents voted each time to return to Germany.

Return of the area puts West Germany into the uncontested No. 1 position among Western Europe's industrial powers. Its coal production is about 17 million tons annually and the steel output amounts to about 3½ million tons, boosting Germany's total capacity to 150 million tons of coal and close to 30 million tons of steel.

6 Die in Plane Crash on Side of Mountain

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — A birthday celebration ended in the death of six persons when a private plane crashed into lofty Mingus Mountain, 20 miles northeast of this northern Arizona city.

The dead were Russell M. Potts, 33, pilot and general manager of Marsh Aviation in Phoenix; Mrs. Atlie Coats, 24, of Blythe, Calif., and her son Woody, 3; and Tommy, 16, Jerry, 11, and Patrick, 8, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Daniels of Prescott.

The party, celebrating Patrick's eighth birthday, had been waterskiing. All were wearing bathing suits.

The plane took off Saturday evening but was not found until Sunday by Air Force and Federal Aviation Authority search planes.

Indonesia Premier Quits as Sukarno Takes Over

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesian Premier Djuanda resigned today after President Sukarno abolished the provisional constitution and issued a decree assuming full executive power over the republic.

Groucho Hushes Scholars on the Last Word's Panel

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—In a moment of recklessness, Groucho Marx was handed a visa last year and allowed to join the high-minded panel on CBS-TV's The Last Word.

The battered linguistic ligatures having healed, Groucho made his second annual appearance, or raid, last night and the event made the weekend for me.

He slashed the Marx of Groucho all over the place; he called his copanelists, Dr. Bergen Evans, John Mason Brown and Editor Russell Lynn, "lily-livered" when they stymied his attempt to discuss, of all things, labor legislation.

He sung opera in German; confessed that Groucho Marx is a greater force for good English than Shakespeare, whom he termed "a charlatan of the first water"; advocated armless women because "you can get further faster" with them; admitted he was often rude, but never tasteless.

Groucho expressed admiration for a fellow-scholar, Milton Berle. "When a fellow says 'very wonderful,'" said Groucho of Uncle Miltie, "you know he knows what he's talking about."

In wilder moments, Groucho assailed those who use the dainty phrase "like so" when plunking down on a tabletop the nose cone of a rocket.

He also definied gracious living as "going into the jungle with an ice box."

Short Shots: Some of the real juice in TV still is served on Sunday morning, when nobody is watching.

Look Up and Lie on CBS-TV presented ". . .And All That Jazz," first of a four-part series picking apart America's youth and their crazy mixed-up values.

The first episode Sunday shredded the "togetherness" concept and showed how it often becomes the sand in which parental ostriches can hide.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Jimmy Durante says he wants Van Cliburn as a guest on his Sept. 25 special for NBC-TV. The hour is being taped on Aug. 25 . . . Perry Como has cut his first album of swinging jazz tunes for RCA-Victor . . . Ed Sullivan is bringing out a book, "Christmas With Ed Sullivan," for the Yuletide trade. The book consists of the Christmas remembrances of famous people.

Red Cross OKs New Technique

Mouth-to-Mouth Way of Artificial Respiration Officially Adopted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The "mouth-to-mouth" technique of artificial respiration has been adopted officially by the American Red Cross for use on both adults and children.

The organization announced Sunday that teaching of the mouth-to-mouth system will begin immediately in Red Cross first aid and water safety courses. An instruction manual describing it has been distributed to chapters.

In the newly adopted system, the rescuer breathes directly into the mouth or nose of the person under treatment.

For a child, relatively shallow breaths are forced in about 20 times a minute. For adults a more vigorous charge of air is forced in and allowed to escape about 12 times a minute.

Mitchell Optimistic About Steel Peace

NEW YORK (AP) — Contract negotiations in the basic steel industry resume here today after a weekend recess.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said Sunday he believed there was a "good possibility" of agreement before the extension of the current contract expires July 14.

Mitchell, who was interviewed in Washington on a radio program, said he saw a "heartwarming sign" in the quick response of the industry and union to President Eisenhower's plea to keep the negotiations going beyond the original June 30 contract expiration date.

The companies and the United Steelworkers of America agreed to extend the contract until July 14.

No 4th Fatalities for Delaware in Safety Drive

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Delaware called out the state police office workers and every other available policeman over the Fourth of July weekend, and the result was safety.

There were no fatalities recorded from traffic accidents, drowning or other causes, as a result of the safety drive. Newspapers in the state cooperated by publicizing the penalties for auto violations and urging readers to take special care over the holiday.

It was the second major holiday in succession the state has been free of accidental death, the other being the Memorial Day weekend.

Skyrocket Explosion Hurts 9 at Saginaw

SAGINAW (AP) — Nine persons were hurt when falling particles from a skyrocket exploded over them at Hoyt Park here Saturday night.

The injured were among a crowd of 20,000 persons attending the Fourth of July outing at the park.

Treated at hospitals for burns and other injuries were Mrs. Nina Cothren, 40, and her daughter, Terry, 6; Richard Nowaczyk, 32; Thomas Kerns, 17; Sandra Kerns, 17; Susan Smith, 7; Don Marshall, 32; Mrs. Homer Schultz, and Frank Tomczal, 55, all of the Saginaw area.

Widow Wants to Leave Nikita's Old Homestead

STALINO, Ukraine (UPI) — An aging widow in this Soviet industrial center says she wants to move out of the home once occupied by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. It's too small.

Like other low income Stalino citizens, the widow hopes eventually to share in the benefits of new housing construction in the coal and steel industrial city.

But for the time being, the grandmother receives 360 rubles ($90 at the official exchange rate) a month from a pension, and must share the three tiny rooms in the building on the city's outskirts with three other persons.

The widow was identified only by her last name, Kandanya.

The rooms measure roughly eight by eight feet. The house was once owned by Khrushchev's father-in-law and housed the Khrushchev family during the early mining days when the present Russian leader held clandestine meetings before the revolution.

The rooms still are furnished meagerly. But historical interest notwithstanding, the city authorities are rushing a program to clear the residents from the building as soon as possible and put them in new apartments.

The demand is much greater than the supply.

Stalino Mayor Alexi Mihaelovich Bakhaiev promised the widow, during the course of an interview with Western and Communist-bloc newsmen, that he would look into her case.

These Jokesters Speak Gems of Cave Wisdom

STANTON, Mo. (UPI)—Twenty geology students from all over the nation are serving as cave guides this summer at Meramec Caverns here.

The first thing they had to learn, according to cave director Lester B. Dill, was to tell jokes while conducting their tours. Otherwise, he said, they would be too technical—and boring.

Some people once thought it would be a good thing to hang all the gossips. Then they discovered there'd be no one left to pull the rope . . . Ima Washout says she can remember when, if a woman told you how many pints and quarts she had left on the shelf, she meant canned fruit. —Earl Wilson.

$½ Million Dope Cache Found

State Police Question Ionia Laborer After Biggest Find

IONIA (UPI) — State Police today were continuing their questioning of an Ionia laborer in the discovery of nearly $500,000 worth of marijuana.

The largest cache of marijuana ever uncovered in Michigan was confiscated Saturday in an abandoned schoolhouse 10 miles southwest of Ionia.

Ignacio R. Torres, 42, of Lake Odessa was arrested when police learned he and a brother in San Diego, Calif., are listed as the owners of the schoolhouse.

The Marijuana, which was freshly cut and packed in 205 one-pound cellophane bags, would have brought $492,000 on the underworld drug market, police said.

State Police narcotics investigators said there may be a connection between the supply uncovered in the schoolhouse and 134-pound cache found about six weeks ago in Allegan.

It is believed that a large narcotics ring has been operating througout western Michigan, investigators said.

Body of Drowned Boy Found at Grand Haven

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — The body of 5-year-old Donald Steensma was washed up on the north shore beach of Lake Michigan yesterday about two miles north of Grand Haven.

A vacationer taking a stroll down the beach, Ronald Hedl of Chicago, found the body. Hedl lives in a cottage near the lake.

Donald was last seen on the south pier at Grand Haven State Park where the family was on an outing. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Steensma of Grand Rapids.

The boy was believed to have toppled off the pier.

State police skin divers dragged the waters in the area of the pier for a week.

Alexander the Great was destroyed by the wiles of a woman, according to Afghan legend. The woman was a beautiful Afghan dancer named Roxana. The story goes that she married the Greek warrior after his conquest of her country, but brooded darkly over its defeat. She took her revenge after a great feast in Babylon at which Alexander ate and drank hugely. Pointing to a pool in the garden, she dared him to swim in it. He plunged into the cold water, and from its effects took a fever and died.

NEW SHRINE TO HISTORY — The Cumberland Gap, where the southwest tip of Virginia joins Kentucky and Tennessee, was dedicated today as a new historical shrine of America. Visitors are shown looking out over this famous pass in the Cumberland Mountains from the Pinnacle Observation Terrace. From this terrace, five states can be seen. Over 20,000 acres of forest land in the area have been donated to the National Park Service.

Wants Labor Bill Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American people want a labor bill now, says Robert R. Nathan, national chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action.

In a statement sent to Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) of the House Labor Committee, Nathan said Congress should not permit an alliance of the Teamsters Union and "reactionary employers" to block action on legislation providing labor-management controls.

The American Bible Society dates back to 1816.
