

The Day in Birmingham Commissioners Deliberate on Off-Street Parking Plan

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission met behind closed doors today in the last two weeks for the purpose of trying to draw together the loose ends of the Planning Board's off-street parking ordinance, but have yet to broach the subject.

The much-discussed ordinance, which stipulates that all new or expanding parking spaces must be provided in the lot for many months but was finally tabled for further refinements.

A lengthy discussion in the assessment formula for financing a parking lot at the southeast corner of Third and Merrill streets occupied the commission's time last week.

And Thursday night's joint meeting with the Planning Board found both groups so involved in zoning problems that the subject of the parking ordinance again fell by the wayside. Presumably, a third try will be made shortly.

Sukos Is Ancient Autumn Feast of Praising, Sharing

WHOPPER SETS RECORD — Wallace Pinkham, junior and senior, with the 56-pound 9-ounce striped bass caught by the father in surf of West Tibury the nine-year history of the fall Striped Bass Derby, beach at Martha's Vineyard Island, Mass. Pop took World's record striper, a 73-pounder, was caught by his 12-year-old son fishing to "show him how to fish" here in 1932.

Sukos will be celebrated by the Jewish people of the world beginning at sunset, Monday. The holiday is a part of the Hebrew word sukka, a plural of the Hebrew word suka, a hut. The holiday commemorates the divine providence which sheltered the ancient Israelites as they wandered in the desert from the land of bondage to the land of promise.

Sukos, often called Tabernacles, is also the ancient autumn "feast of ingathering," and as such is the model after which the Pilgrims created the American Thanksgiving Day.

Reference to Sukos can be found in the Biblical Book of Leviticus. Cerebral objects associated with the holiday are the lulav, a palm branch, the myrtle, willow and eucalyptus, a citrus fruit. These represent man's dependence on nature for nourishment and beauty.

It is customary to build a booth or sukkah outside of one's home or upon the synagogue altar in honor of the holiday. In this "sukkah" prayers are said and sung, lauding the goodness of God in inspiring seekers of freedom with courage and in sending mankind the bounties of nature.

"Traditional Jews observe Sukos for eight days and follow it with a holiday known as Simchas Torah, or the 'Rejoicing over the Law,' when the cycle of weekly Biblical readings is concluded with the last verses of Deuteronomy and immediately begun again from the beginning of the Book of Genesis.

Seven Jews observe Sukos for seven days and on the eighth celebrate Simhat Torah ("The eighth-day convocation"), with rites similar to those on Simchas Torah. At Temple Beth Jacob, the festival of Sukos will be celebrated with a special holiday service in which the children of the Religious School will participate.

Mundays at 7:30 p.m., there will be a procession to the altar by the children who will carry banners of food to lay before the altar booth which will adorn the altar for the holiday. These banners will then be distributed to hospitals and other institutions to carry out the tradition of sharing associated with Sukos.

The festival will begin at 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday. Beginning Monday, Congregation B'nai Israel will observe the Sukos (Feast of Tabernacles) Services, with the following schedule: Monday—Simchas, 7:30 a.m.; Tuesday—Simchas, 7:30 a.m.; Wednesday—Simchas, 7:30 a.m.; Thursday—Simchas, 7:30 a.m.; Friday—Simchas, 7:30 a.m.

The dinner will be held Sunday Oct. 21, at 6 p.m. The dinner will welcome home Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Simon, who have been traveling extensively in Europe and are now spending the Jewish High Holy Days in Israel. Mr. Meyer is president of the Congregation.

The Synagogue's recently elected officers will be installed at this time. They are: Meyer Simon, president; Milton Kessler, first vice-president; Sam Levin, treasurer; Alvin Jacobson, financial secretary; Mel Goldman, recording secretary; with Sam Tobey, Charles Ellender, Edward Blumensohn, Sol Newhouse and George Sforowitz, members of the Board.

The dinner is sponsored by the B'nai Israel Men's Club with Joe Jacobson, general chairman.

Boy, 18, Admits Double Slaying

Youth Gives No Reason for Killing Sister, 14, and 4-Year-Old Charge

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (U.P.)—The boy around the corner "was arrested yesterday in connection with the savage two-week-old battle slaying of pretty baby sister Lynn Ann Smith, 14, and her four-year-old charge.

Police Chief Raymond P. Gallagher said Kenneth R. Chapin, 18, a high school sophomore who was a half-brother at the girl's funeral, admitted in a signed statement slaying Lynn Ann and little Stephen Goldberg.

Gallagher said Chapin, a 6-foot, 3-inch electrician's son described by teachers and friends as a "good ... quiet boy," offered no reason for the double slaying. Gallagher said the youth, a Boy Scout leader who had never before been in trouble with the police, chain-smoked cigarettes but other slaying and readily signed his statement.

Then, Gallagher said, he told authorities where they could find the death knife (behind a chair in his room) and his blood-stained clothing hanging in a kitchen closet of his home.

The police chief said "there is no question of sex being a factor in this case. It definitely is not." Gallagher quoted young Chapin's statement as saying he began stabbing and beating the girl the morning she opened the door admitting him to the Goldberg apartment in a substantial section of Springfield.

Then, Gallagher went on, the youth heard little Stephen cry. He went to the child's bed and stabbed him and beat him with the wooden knife handle.

The bodies were found by the youngster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Goldberg, when they returned from a night movie. Lynn Ann had been stabbed 34 times. Her neck was broken. Stephen was fractured.

The police chief said Chapin's check came after a house-to-house search of the neighborhood around the Smith and Goldberg homes. He indicated that a piece of crocheted thread, found in the Goldberg apartment, led to the Chapin home.

Earlier, police who described the thread as their best clue said it had been wrapped around the handle of the knife to secure better grip.

Neighborhood companions described Chapin as a "quiet boy" who traveled alone a "great deal." They said his parents always insisted he be home by 8 p.m. Stunned neighbors, meanwhile, were unanimous last night in their amazement and disbelief. Some of the reactions were:

"He was the only teen-ager I would have let into my house with a thought of my children's safety," said Mrs. Gerald Baxter.

Chapin's father in a copyrighted interview with the Boston Globe, said: "I can't understand any of this. My wife and I are taking this very bad, because above all else, we firmly believe that our son is innocent. I pledge myself to fight this to the end. I'll never let my son down."

"Ken was so close to us that we would know, without any doubt, if any of these things were true. They aren't, and we will fight for him all the way."

Reds Link Spies to Allen Dulles

French Paper Drops
Name of CIA Director
Into Scandal

PARIS (U.P.) — The French Communist party, apparently trying to divert suspicion from itself, made an effort today to link the name of Allen Dulles with France's dramatic spy scandal.

The head of America's Central Intelligence Agency and brother of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was dragged into the scandal by the French Reds in an apparent effort to throw investigators off a trail which might lead to the Communist headquarters as the receiving point for stolen French defense secrets.

The Communist party newspaper, Humanite, in Paris today published a photo of Allen Dulles among a group of pictures of the leading characters in the sensational espionage case.

The pictures were labeled with the caption: "Behind these faces is hidden the truth of the leakage affair." The word "leakage" referred to leaks of defense information from top-secret meetings of the French National Defense Committee.

Humanite accused French authorities of refusing to "knock on the door behind which is the truth—that of the Mafia which unites (former Paris Police Chief Jean) Baylet and (former Interior Minister Leon) Marinand-Deplat with the Yankies O.S.S. of Allen Dulles."

The Communist paper's reference to the O.S.S.—the American Office of Strategic Services—was erroneous since that wartime agency was replaced several years ago by the CIA.

extensive research in cancer holds promise for the development of a chemical to act specifically against the malignant growth.

"As for the Salk vaccine for polio," he said, "we don't know the answer until next April. It seems to hold promise, but so does other polio research based on live vaccines."

With regard to socialized medicine, Dr. Baker stated emphatically that he believed a tax supported program of medical care would "decrease quality and not increase cost."

"The family doctor is called upon to deal with emotional and psychological problems as often as physical illnesses.

"No government system would give life to that type of contract. "I would rather see medical care budgeted through private insurance and hospitals provided by private initiative on the part of the people and the medical profession."

Dr. Baker, who lives at 1129 Fairfax St. in Birmingham and has his offices in the Pontiac State Bank Building, is the Michigan former president of the Michigan State Medical Society. Before he was named president-elect in 1933, he served four years in succession as speaker of the House of Delegates for the society.

A fellow of the American College of Surgeons since 1927, he has held medical office in the Oakland County Medical Society, and in 1950 was elected to "Outstanding Service to Medicine" by that organization. He served on the board of directors of the Michigan Medical Service for 12 years, and for the past three years has been secretary.

Dr. Baker received his M.D. Degree from the University of Michigan in 1916 and a graduate degree in orthopedic surgery from the U. S. Army Medical School in Washington, D.C.

Following his military career, he returned to teach surgery at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor while achieving his graduate degree in surgery.

Married and the father of two daughters and two grandsons, Dr. Baker has a wide range of outdoor sports among his hobbies. He is a charter member of the Kiwanis Club and the Torch Club.

Expressing his pride in the society which he heads, Dr. Baker pointed out that the Michigan State Medical Society has many "firsts" to its credit.

Youths Get Jail
for Drinking
Three Girls, One Boy
Draw Sentences After Pleading Guilty

Three teenage girls were sentenced to 12 days in Oakland County Jail and a 20-year-old youth paid a $30 fine and drew five days Friday after a stern lecture by Municipal Judge Cecil McCullum about the group's drinking.

After hearing their pleas of guilty to illegal possession of beer, McCullum called the youths' predicament "unfortunate and intolerable."

The three girls, on probation for a similar charge growing out of a Sept. 4 raid by Pontiac Police vice squad on a drinking party at 14 Clark St., are Joyce Gjelhaug, 19, of 873 Woodland; Doris Nightingale, 18, and Bobbie Sloop, 18, both of 171 N. Mill St. The trio failed to pay $30 fines each after McCullum sentenced them to five days and $30, or 11 days.

Robert Franzell, 20, of 1250 Cherryland Dr., owner of a car in which all four were arrested Oct. 3, escaped the extra seven days in jail when he paid the $30 fine. McCullum said that the probation period for the three girls would be increased after serving their sentence, and Franzell would get 30 days probation.

According to Detective Raymond E. Meggett, of the vice squad, Franzell admitted buying beer from an unidentified man at Bagley and Wesslen Sts. prior to the arrest.

Three bottles of beer were found in the auto which Miss Gjelhaug was driving.

The Ladies' Club of New Bethel Baptist church will celebrate their tenth anniversary Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

Head Cut in Accident
Jerry Thomas, 17, of 39 E. Berkeley Park, was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital when injuries suffered yesterday when he auto skidded on loose gravel and struck a utility pole off Avenue Township. According to the hospital, Thomas has a concussion and head cuts.

playmate, Rosaline Hacker, 16, of 23000 Colony, happened by. "I shouted for them to stay away," said Mrs. Byers. "But they thought I said, 'But they dogs were nipping at their heels walked over and I licked their hands.'"

The owner, Mrs. George Cardavill, who lives nearby, heard the commotion and called the dogs away from their victims, who were freed from 10 to 15 minutes.

Oakland County Sheriffs dep. Mike Felton said both dogs have had rabies shots.

According to Mrs. Faulner, Johnny's mother, the attack on her son resulted from a protective instinct in the older dog for her month-old pup, who tagged along for the excitement.

John was treated by the family doctor for bites to both legs. Mrs. Byers was injured more when she climbed the tree than by any nips the dogs gave her. "I'm not used to that kind of exercise," Mrs. Byers commented.

Two Nipping Pooches Tree Franklin Housewife, Youth

A Franklin Village housewife and an 11-year-old neighbor youth spent part of yesterday climbing trees, but not for exercise. They were trying to get away from two dogs which were nipping at their heels.

Mrs. W. B. Byers, of 26475 Normandy, the tree housewife, had rushed to the rescue of John Faulkner, of 26862 Scenic, when she heard him screaming for help near his home.

"I have someone was in trouble," said Mrs. Byers. "So I ran down there, about two and one-half blocks from my home."

Mrs. Byers said the boy was in a tree just out of the dogs reach when she arrived and she tried to shoot them home with a stick. "They started nipping at me, and I knew I had to get out of there so I climbed another tree," said Mrs. Byers.

CRITICS ARE FORGOTTEN

It's easy to criticize the work of another person. A man whose name is William Shakespeare wrote verse and produced plays. A man whose name is John Payne Collier gained notoriety while picking Shakespeare's work to pieces, laughing at it, making fun of it but who is now remembered? I doubt it.

If you have ever heard of the latter but few hours with William Shakespeare.

The "Knicker" makes more noise than the person who quietly builds, who is constructive in thought and action. He is the one whom we admire. Last week, last evening, today there are the wrecker; unable to build they take delight in tearing down—but they are soon pushed aside, forgotten.

It is the builders we remember.

Press Publisher Defends Crime Reporting Methods

ANN ARBOR (U-P)—A lawyer critic of newspaper crime reporting and a newspaper publisher defended it in an exchange of views from the same platform yesterday.

Charles W. Joiner, University of Michigan professor of law speaking for the Michigan Bar Association and newspaper accounts of trials and newspaper accounts of trials often influence the jury beyond the evidence in court.

"In some cases it has denied an individual a fair trial," Prof. Joiner said. "Sometimes even the state has been denied a fair trial."

Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of the Pontiac Press, said in reply: "It seems to me democracy is on trial instead of the press. You can't suppress the right to talk to the American people."

"In a jury today," Fitzgerald said, "apparently you want to get a person who knows nothing about everything."

Fitzgerald also defended newspaper responsibility and raised a question of the ethics of "the attorney who leaks evidence" to the press.

Prof. Joiner and Fitzgerald spoke before the University of Michigan Press Club as members of the same discussion panel.

Fitzgerald said that it would be difficult to find a jury that could approach a case without any feelings or prejudices whatsoever. He also said:

"Sometimes the attorney leaks evidence intentionally because he wants to get it out. If you object to getting it out, you must admit the lawyer was at least unethical in leaking it."

Prof. Joiner said that in some cases jurors said they went home to read papers, "because we wanted to see if we missed anything."

Fitzgerald refused to concede that newspapers were irresponsible in their handling of courtroom conversations.

Highways in Mexico Washed Out by Rain

MEXICO CITY (U-P)—The Communications Ministry said yesterday virtually every major highway in Mexico is impassable in part because of rains and storms.

This includes sections of the Pan American Highway, and the major tourist routes from El Paso and Laredo, Tex., to Mexico City.

The ministry said portions of the Ciudad Juarez-Mexico Highway were blocked by landslides, and water washed out bridges.

The Puebla-Veracruz Highway leading to the important Gulf port city is blocked by landslides.

All traffic has been suspended between Mexico City and Tuxpan due to landslides and washouts.

Holiday Sermon Written by Rabbi

An address by Rabbi Sanford E. Jacobson, leader of Temple Beth Jacob, appears in a volume of sermons published this week by the Union of American Hebrew Congregations.

Entitled, "A Set of Holiday Sermons," the book contains messages for Jewish festivals by some of the nation's leading rabbis. The theme of Rabbi Jacobson's address is the holiday of Purim, the Festival of Lots, which has its origin in the Book of Esther. It is called "The Name or the Reality."

Pointing out that the Book of Esther does not contain the name of God, Rabbi Jacobson writes, "Judaism recognizes that God is even in the midst of those who apparently deny Him. Though they insist that God is a stranger to them, they are no strangers to God."

The Union of American Hebrew Congregations is the parent body of American Reform temples, including Temple Beth Jacob.

Men's Club Names Study After Dr. Rufus M. Traver

Many friends gathered Friday evening at the Bethany Baptist Church, to have dinner with the Rev. Rufus M. Traver and to honor him, for the 30 years he has given to religious and civic affairs in Pontiac.

Judge H. Russell Holland, secretary of the Pontiac Men's Club, said: "I came to Pontiac in 1921 and Dr. Traver has helped to make my ministry a blessing. Dr. Traver has a great depth of character. He has lived a long time but because he has reached into our hearts and has reminded us of our Savior. It is a privilege to know him."

"I have been pastor of the First Baptist Church for 25 years and people still meet me on the street and call me Dr. Traver," stated Dr. Traver. "The memory of Dr. Traver is so precious that his name comes to peoples minds first, at the mention of the First Baptist Church."

Dr. Traver added, "Dr. Traver believed in neighborhood Sunday Schools and started the ones at Bethany Baptist and Memorial Baptist churches. I have stopped in after the plans were all in operation and am continuing the program."

Dr. Traver, as one of his warmest and closest friends, "I thought it might be difficult to serve as pastor to a former minister but Dr. Traver has been so kind and understanding. He has come to me at the close of a sermon with encouraging and stimulating comments," he remarked.

A letter was read from Dr. Traver's son, the Rev. Roland Traver. He wrote: "He is the finest and best father in the world."

The Men's Club is furnishing the pastor's study and in honor of Dr. Traver, calling it the "Traver Study."

Glenford Haviland presented the honor guest with a dressing gown from the men of the church.

Dr. Traver thanked his friends for coming, for the honor given him, his gift and closed with a word of prayer.

In attendance Sunday will be members of the recently formed Columbian Charities, Inc., now engaged in promoting a rodeo to raise funds for Boysville. Support for Boysville comes from the Knights of Columbus councils in Michigan.

Ed Mooney of Milford has been

Confident Living

Laugh, Work With Hands and Live to Ripe Old Age

BY NORMAN VINCENT PEARLE
A vice-president of the Monsanto Chemical Company has recently organized what he calls his "Confident Club." The membership rules say "Your job... comes first...
personal considerations are accordary... take your office home evenings. Saturdays, Sundays, holidays... accept all invitations to banquets, meals and committees."

The regulations also explain the member to regard fishing, hunting, golf, bowling, billiards, gardening as a waste of time and money; forbid him to "take a vacation allowed you"; and insist that he "work all day and drive all night to keep an appointment the next morning." No sure-ment to have a heart attack is overlooked by the "Confident Club."

DR. PEARLE

1. One less hour of worry for one more hour of laughter.
2. One less week of high-pressure living for one more week of restful vacation.
3. One less luncheon conference of relaxation.
4. One less evening of formal society for one more evening with a good book.
5. One less hour under the electric light for one more hour in the sunbather.
6. One less hour in the automobile for one more hour enjoying along on foot.

Every businessman would do well to clip this prescription and put it under the glass of his desk in his left hand as a constant reminder. As Dr. Andrew A. Link-schneider points out in his book,
"The Will to Live," too many business men devote the first half of their lives to making money, only to spread it in the second half getting their health back.

The most important part of all for those of us who want to live to ripe old age is that of Sara M. Jordan, director of the gastroenterology department at Harvard's famous Lahey Clinic:
"That man is blessed who has a philosophy and an optimistic attitude on life. But even the best born pessimist and mental defunct can change his spots. I have seen it happen often in patients who turn by teaching or exposure to the value of optimism and philosophy in guarding against their disease."

There is one wonderful old man who comes to my church—
he has learned his lesson well.
At ninety-three, he needs no glasses and stands straight as a runner. Formerly an American ambassador, he likes to spend his time working with his hands —carpentry in his hobby. "There is more trouble avoided," he says, "by working with your hands than by any other way except praying." He does both. I am

Hangover Proves Boon to Medical Research

CHICAGO (INS) — A search for a hangover cure has resulted in a portable, pocket-size respirator that promises to be of incalculable value in medical emergencies.

The respirator, described in the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, can be loaded with a cylinder of gas to administer anesthetics or packed with a cartridge of oxygen for resuscitation purposes.

Researchers at Western Reserve University and the University Hospital of Cleveland hit on the idea while working on a small oxygen inhalator for use in hangover treatment of acute alcoholism.

Lucy and Desi See Own Show, Chortle in Dark

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene: Another busy week in the film town. What can happen next? Maybe the Debbie Reynolds-Eddie Fisher engagement?

On Monday I sat and watched "I Love Lucy" along with Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz. Also a number of others who were invited to the home of Parker Levy, creator of the new Desilu show, "Decem-ber Bride."

Lucille and Desi had just returned from New York, where they had been to see Ed Sullivan's show the night before.

The Arnazes chortled in the darkened room as they watched their show. They seem to enjoy it as much as anyone. The finished showed Desi winning $1,000 in the stock market.

"Is that all there is, Desi?" asked Lucille, who had forgotten the show, she months ago. "Sure honey," he replied. "Do you want me to make a fortune and ruin the show?"

Betty Grable, making her TV debut on the "Show of Stars," got lost in the shuffle when all the fuss arose over Mario Lanza's mouthing to old records. She was never more nervous about a show; she told me as soon as it was over she ran to her dressing room.

I hope the Lanza fiasco will prompt the networks to stay away from pre-recording and other photo devices. Mouthing to records is okay in movies, where perfection can be achieved by retakes. But no TV singer can completely carry off the illusion of singing when he isn't.

TV's greatest asset is still its spontaneity. Nothing should be allowed to detract from it. "A Star is Born" premiere. "All I want is a picture as good as that one," Warner replied the Liberator picture will be even greater.

Hazel Park to Dedicate City Hall Sunday

Gov. Williams to Be Speaker

3 P. M. Ceremony Set Despite Opposition by City Council

Hazel Park.—The new $214,750 Hazel Park City Hall at Jean R. Rd. and Stephenson Hwy. will be dedicated here at 3 p.m. Sunday. Governor Williams and other notables are scheduled to speak at the event.

A dance will be held in the basement of the building tonight. The Sunday dedication date was maintained in spite of a conflict between Mayor Zigmund N. parko and Hazel Park councilmen who opposed the time.

The issue was argued two hours in a meeting, but Mayor Nibbelo insisted it must go through. Invitations already had been sent out to the Governor and other officials and had been accepted, Nibbelo said.

The council capitulated only after the builder signed a stipulation that the dedication Sunday in no way constituted acceptance of the building by the city.

Leon E. Garbin, Lifelong Resident, Dies at Oxford

OXFORD.—Services for Leon E. Garbin, 76, of 2865 Lakeside Rd., will be at 2:30 Monday from the funeral home, Rochester. A military graveside service will also be held at Oxford Cemetery. He died Friday night at his home.

Mr. Garbin was born in Oxford Sept. 20, 1858, and has lived his entire life there. He was a Spanish-American War veteran and a past commander of the Pontiac-Kimble Camp of Spanish-American War Veterans, a life member of Oxford F. & A. M. and a member of Oxford Baptist Church.

He retired 25 years ago as a postal railway clerk. He is survived by his wife, Blanche.

Mrs. Harry E. King to Speak at Millford

MILFORD.—Mrs. Harry E. King, past president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be the guest speaker at the Millford PTA meeting Monday night in the millituary room of the Bertha Baker school.

Mrs. King, who has served PTA groups for many years, has also served on the Pontiac Board of Education.

Leonard Manager Fined

BRONSON.—Meritt Dean, campaign manager for Donald J. Leonard, Republican gubernatorial candidate, was fined $14 in justice court Friday for speeding 47 miles an hour in a 25 mile an hour zone. Dean was driving Leonard to a campaign appearance in Sturgis at the time, police said.

Urges Switch to Smaller Eggs

ARMED SERVICES ASKED TO CHANGE BUYING HABITS AS AID TO FARMERS

WASHINGTON (INS).—Agriculture Department officials said today the Pentagon can help poultry farmers hard hit by sharply reduced egg prices if the armed services will switch their egg buying habits.

The matter came up for consideration Friday at a meeting of the department's egg advisory committee which renewed the policy it took last spring against excessive government egg buying to support prices.

The 24-man committee told agriculture officials that settlement of the egg price difficulty was strictly an industry matter and that they did not believe the government should intervene at this point.

However, officials said that the Pentagon could help the farmers without doing any unnecessary egg buying at the present time if the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force would switch from buying large grade "A" eggs to medium-sized grade "A" eggs.

Actually, officials pointed out it would prove much more profitable for the Pentagon and there would be no loss in food value to the military. The Agriculture Department pointed out that a pound of grade "A" eggs costs 25 cents.

But agriculture officials said they had little hope the Pentagon would follow their advice. Like everyone else, a department official said, the military likes the large grade "A" eggs and "there's nothing we can do about it."

Meanwhile, officials said they had no information on a report from Sen. Edward J. Tamm (R-Minn.) that the government is about to buy 27 million dollars worth of eggs.

One official said the statement was news to the department although there had been a report some time back that West Germany was planning to buy a substantial quantity of frozen eggs in this country.

In another development, the department reported that the Commodity Credit Corporation has purchased 22,852,996 million bushels of wheat so far this year as compared with 23,456,416 bushels in 1933.

The report, which covered purchases from January through Sept. 12, also said that extremely small quantities of wheat and other price-supported commodities have been withdrawn from the program this year.

Spelling Error Trips Up Passer of Bogus Checks

BATON ROUGE, La. (U.S.)—George Edward Perry faces 10 separate charges of theft and forgery because he couldn't spell.

Sheriff Bryan Clemmons said Perry passed $1,500 in worthless General Gas Corp. checks before he was arrested Thursday. He said Perry posed as a gas company employee with a company identification tag around his neck. He even had a check protector machine in his car.

But the last word in the firm's name on the printed check blank was spelled "corporation."

Mull 1 Cent Milk Hike

DETROIT (U.S.)—Dairy men are talking of a possible one-cent increase in the price of retail milk next week. Standard milk now sells for 21 and 22 cents.

Congress May Be Asked to Ease Wheat Controls

BY OYD A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (U.S.)—The Eisenhower administration may recommend that the next Congress ease production controls on small farms which grow wheat for their own use as livestock and poultry feed.

These restrictions are encountered by bitter farmer protests and court fights in some areas of the midwest and northeast.

An instance is the protest rallies at Hillsdale, supporting the action of Ralph Shishberry who is pressing a federal court suit to have wheat controls declared unconstitutional.

Under the law, farmers may not plant more than 15 acres of wheat when federal marketing quotas are in effect without being subject to penalty rates, equivalent to about half the current market price of the grain.

This provision applies whether the grain is intended for sale or for use on the farm.

Morse said he had been surprised to find that most of the small farmers who have protested against this restriction believed it to be a regulation promulgated by the present administration although actually it has been a provision of farm law since 1933.

"There appears to be some justification," Morse said in an interview, "for the argument that a farmer should be free to grow wheat for livestock and poultry feed for his own farm."

"The department will look into the matter before the new Congress returns and possibly come up with recommendations for changes."

Farm legislation passed by the recent Congress will provide for an automatic easing of wheat production controls in states where past production of this grain has been small. States which annually plant less than 25,000 acres of wheat will not be subject to federal planting allotments and marketing quotas when these controls are imposed in the other states.

But in states where such controls would not apply, the government price support rate for wheat would be only 75 per cent of the rate in areas covered by restrictions. The states which will be free of controls next year include Alabama, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Nevada, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont.

NATURE LOOKS IN

The spacious Conner living room is 30 feet long by 17 feet wide, has attached dining ell. The blonde wood of the furniture is complemented by softly-shaded Sahara carpeting. Drapes, in huge leaf pattern, carry the color Sahara, turquoise and gold on white background. Custom-made ottomans are three feet square.

A huge picture window on far side of the room seems to frame and bring into the room the autumn scenery. The fireplace is wall, Mrs. Conner plans to completely in mirrors. Since she is partial to blonde furniture, it is used throughout the house and Mrs. Conner herself recently bleached and painted it. Several pieces in mahogany, perfect for this winter, she plans to have the large mahogany TV set.

Your Neighbor's House

Vernon L. Conners Choose White Brick and Tennessee Sandstone Ranch Home

By ARBIE KUCERA

While still congratulating herself on the speed and efficiency with which she had dispatched her spring housekeeping in her Janeville, Wis., home this year, Mrs. Vernon L. Conner received a pleasant surprise.

Her husband, manager for the Janeville Plant of the Fisher Body Corporation, was informed of his transfer and promotion to the management of the firm's Fleetwood Division in Detroit.

Naturally pleased, though they had grown fond of their Janeville home in the three years they'd been there, the Conners who are formerly of Pontiac,

As for the house—just one trip through it and one is sold on the beautiful residence.

As one enters the spacious flagstone-floored entrance hall, there is a separate but and cloak closet and an ample mirror for the convenience of guests.

The living room is 30 feet long and the great picture window at the far side seems to frame the fall scenery and bring it right indoors. Furniture is blonde and large comfortable chairs, divan and ottomans spell luxurious comfort. The overstuffed pieces are covered in a tweed of gold, beige, black and white. The Sahara wall-to-wall carpeting, finished in pickled pine. One wall in the breakfast room and the ceiling border in the kitchen have a unique wall paper with red background and white motif. Cupboards and closets are plentiful and modern conveniences include automatic dishwasher, disposal and twin steel sinks.

Around the corner from the breakfast room is a compact laundry holding automatic washer and dryer.

A cuckoo clock sent to Mrs. Conner from Germany and gold china, curiously, cafe style, add a cheery note to the modified farm-style kitchen with attached breakfast room tured in part above, the master bedroom and sitting room is walled in turquoise, with twin spreads and drapes in rose red and turquoise on white background. Blonde furniture around. A two-piece gray sectional sofa complete furnishings. Features are the built-in bookcase and double closets.

Adjoining this room is a large bathroom in powder-blue tile. Waterproof paper in a modernistic nautical print is blue, coral and white with a touch of black. The large built-in dressing table and vanity are in ivory. The floor is repeated in the mosaic tile of the floor.

10 by 8 by 9 feet breakfast room and 11 by 11 foot kitchen. A screened porch, reached from both kitchen and living room, is furnished in rattan, and green bamboo drop-shades protect from the sun. The floor is done in green and rust asphalt tile squares. Outdoors is a pleasant terrace.

In the far end of the house are three bedrooms and two baths. The first bedroom, reached from a long hall carpeted in Sahara, with life and leaf pattern wall paper, is 11 by 14½ feet. Spreads and drapes are in (Continued on Page 14)

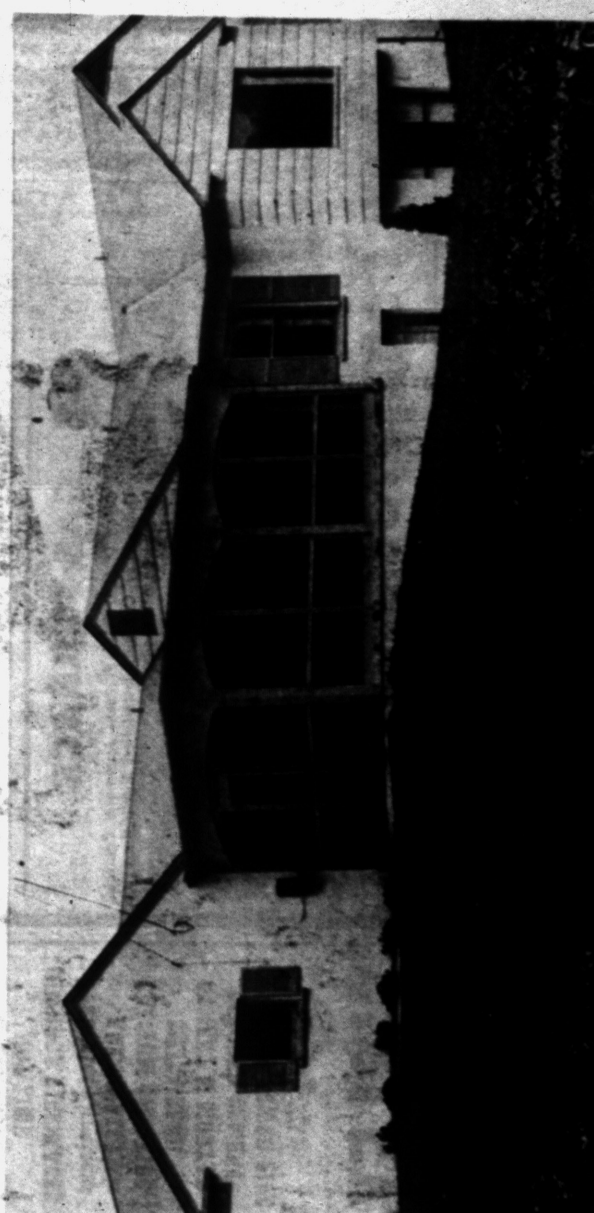

THE CONNERS LIVE HERE.—The new Huntington Valley home of the Vernon L. Conners is white brick and Tennessee sandstone. Shutters, cupola and other wood trim are in gray. The attractive house is situated in the middle of an acre of fertile land and is adjoined by a second acre which they purchased recently. They plan to landscape, have a garden, tulip beds and fruit trees.

DINING ELL.— Conveniently located at one end of the huge living room the dining ell is 13 by 13½ feet long. Its blonde furnishings include credenza and desk, the latter piece which Mrs. Conner herself bleached and finished in maple. Carpet is piernalla.

HANDSOME FROM THIS VIEW TOO.— From the rear of the living room above it, the screened porch can be reached from the house, attractive here as from all angles, one sees the window of the kitchen or living room and from the terrace outside.

brown, dusty rose, aqua and rust. Huge blonde pieces in the room include double bed, hassock and chest, with a unique low-vanity boasting large, round mirror reaching to the floor. Walls are painted and the floor is carpeted in the Sahara shade.

A bath connecting first and second bedrooms is done in the same color. Waterproof paper on the upper half of walls is beige and coral.

The second bedroom has twin beds and chest in blonde woods. Spreads and drapes are aqua on a white background, with a touch of gold and black scrollwork. Blue pink throw rugs on the natural floors reflect the bluish pink of the walls.

The master bedroom is 13 by 17½ feet. Walls are turquoise and spreads and drapes repeat this color with rose red on a white background. The all-blond furniture includes twin beds, dressing table and stool, twin lamps and a two-piece sectional sofa in gray. Features of this room are the twin chests and built-in bookcase.

The biggest bath, off the master bedroom is in powder blue tile. The waterproof paper, in modernistic nautical print, is blue, coral and white. The built-in dressing table has feminine top and the fixtures and the mosaic tile floor are in ivory.

Downstairs, the Connors have big recreation room, 43 feet long by 14½ feet wide. Walls of this room are in light green and pickled pine panelling. Drapes have an old-fashioned coach design in black on a white and green block-background. There is a shuffle-board area and a place to show moving pictures.

Another part of the basement houses the oil heating plant, electric hot water heater and electric range. The two car garage with plastered walls is painted in light green. Here there is a disappearing ladder which leads to the attic.

Mrs. Connors, of course, is partial to blonde furniture and enjoys having a part in finishing some of these places for her home. Recently she bleached and finished in blonde, two lamp tables, a kid-sized desk and a smoking humidor.

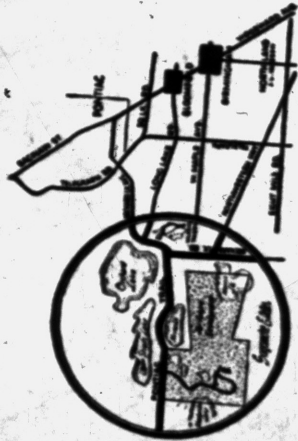

"My next project,—one for this winter," she says she recently told her husband, "will be re-finishing the large mahogany TV set in blonde."

The Connors plan to put in red maple trees and fruit trees in the spring. They recently bought the acre adjoining their property and so have more than two acres, which they will have landscaped. They plan to have their own garden and a tulip bed.

The builder and owner of Huntington Subdivision, where 223 homes are being constructed, is Ralph H. Schell, Inc., of Birmingham. The firm selling the Connors their home was Marley Real Estate, also of Birmingham.

As an accident prevention measure, paint the top and bottom steps of a basement stairway a light color, which will make them easier to see.

New Home Sites Opening Sunday

Development to Have 5 Miles of Frontage on Brendel Lake

Opening of a new home-site development is announced by James Cole and Louis Esauick, developers, and the C. Schuett Realty, Inc. The new area will have its first public showing Sunday.

Located on the southwest shore of Brendel Lake, this property is reached from M-59 via Bogey Lake Road. The entire project when completed will cover an area of more than 80 acres.

More than five miles of sandy beach is included in the project, and community recreation areas are incorporated in plans for a village. Many fine lots add to the attractiveness of the property. Developers report that many desirable spots maintain the lake level and assure adequate water supply for home builders.

Brendel Lake is in White Lake Township, west of Pontiac. Opening festivities Sunday will include rides in amphibious Ducks for all who want to see the property from the lake.

Color Fades From Appliance
Refrigerators, Stoves, Sray White in Show of New York
By OLGA CURTIS
NEW YORK (INS)—After all the talk about colored kitchen appliances, it looks as if most of the color is going into the kitchen and not into the appliances.

Unashamed white refrigerators, sinks and cabinets were used in most of the kitchen displays shown this week by the modern living exposition in New York. This show, sponsored by the nation's lumber dealers, offered a variety of model rooms and new appliance displays.

The kitchens were colorful, but except for a few displays, they all had white appliances.

One example was a cheery modern kitchen done in black and white. The walls were red, the work surfaces black, and the appliances plain white. An extra bit of trim was added by topping side shelves in a linoleum that had a white-on-black conflict pattern.

Another kitchen, done early American style, featured a red brick fireplace and gay provincial patterned wall paper in coral and blue. The cabinets were painted white, but the appliances again were white.

The few colored appliances were noteworthy on other counts. The hanging cabinet refrigerator, introduced by GE last year, was shown in one room in a pale blue and imitation wood plastic finish. Another novel kitchen display also featured wood and a surprising amount of antique copper trim. In fact, even the dishwasher was done in antique copper.

Since 1945 the American Cancer Society has devoted about $20,000,000 to cancer research.

Every day 630 Americans die of cancer, American Cancer Society statistics show.

Use Dress Rule for Home Decor

Decorating the Home Can Be as Easy as Dressing Yourself

Decorating a home successfully can be as easy as dressing yourself well.

Every woman knows what a touch of make-up, a new hat or matching handbag and shoes can do for her appearance. But too often that knowledge is forgotten when it's a question of furnishing or refurnishing a home.

You would not expect to buy a green hat, a black dress, a red handbag and brown shoes and have a good ensemble. Each item in itself might be good but the over-all effect would not. In the same way, you can not expect to assemble a varied lot of furniture and drapery materials and have a good interior.

The first rule of good decorating is to set a goal and work toward it. Don't buy a thing just because it is pretty. Ask yourself whether it will fit into your over-all plan, and if it will not, save your money for something that will.

Use soft and greyed colors for your walls, ceilings and floor coverings in rooms. They will not jar on the nerves of anyone in the family and they are a good background for bright hues. Given your color scheme up by using strong colors for accents in upholstery fabrics, pictures, pillows and accessories.

Select bathroom materials with both color and permanency in mind. Finishing the bath with a material such as tile will make it waterproof and thus eliminate future decorating needs. Limit the tile colors to one or two, since the bathroom is a small space and will seem crowded with more.

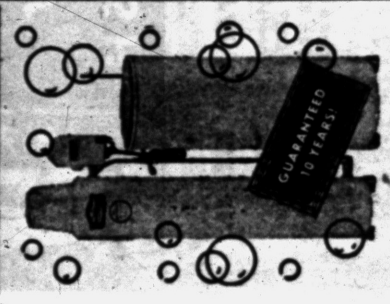

Buy quality whenever you decorate. Cheap mattresses, sofas with poor springs and knickknackery vases may be easy on the short-term budget but they are unsatisfactory long-term investments.

Underfurnish your home. That's an easy way to decorate effectively. Too many chairs, too many small tables, too many pictures—all these can ruin a decorating scheme even when it is fundamentally good.

House Without Basement Asks Moisture Protection

In a house which does not have either basement or crawl space, the first floor is often a finished concrete slab which is cast over a base that's directly on the ground. Much of the cost of excavation is saved in this manner as the foundation needs to go only below the frost line and the space within requires only leveling.

When this type of foundation is used, the slab itself should be separated from the foundation walls with edge insulation. If cold floors are to be avoided in winter, proper waterproofing beneath the slab is also of the utmost importance to minimize the moisture that may come up through it.

Bright Carpet Is 'High Style' Decorators Decide Brilliance in Color Sets Off Room

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — Carpets should be bright to look at as well as soft to walk on, New York store decorators have decided.

Almost every store stylist in the city has offered a display featuring brilliant carpet colors. Instead of the traditional neutral base for furniture, these carpets hit you in the eye.

One typical new setting of model rooms had carpets in sharp, unexpected colors like intense apricot, vivid blue, deep garnet and shocking pink. And these eye-catching colors were complemented by repeats in wall, drapery and upholstery colors.

The bedroom that had the apricot rug also had equally brilliant apricot silk drapes. The model living room with the blue carpet featured upholstery in blue, lime green and emerald. And the garnet carpet, a shaggy cotton type, was set off by the white and garnet color scheme of the formal dining room in which it was used.

Similar displays in another New York store also played up the importance of colored carpets. There was a pink and yellow bedroom with a "glowing" pink carpet, and a blue-parquet library room which unexpectedly showed off an intense lime carpet.

Just in case anybody missed this new decorating idea, the style experts made it even more obvious by using carpets to set off carpets. They put a shaggy white wool area rug over the carpet for one hearthside grouping, and accented another carpet by placing a fancy hooked rug in the middle of it.

Special Coatings Aid Designers Using Plastic

Special coatings, besides beautifying everyday articles, are making it possible for designers to use plastics for things traditionally made only of metal—trumpets and trophy cups, for instance, jewelry cases and radio housings, razor blades dispenser and light switch shields; costume jewelry and clock faces.

The protective coating, when thickened by subsequent electroplating, puts longer life into plastic objects and helps make them resistant.

Handy Rack for Pot Covers Made at Home

Storage of round-knobbed lids for kitchen utensils can be simplified by putting a false back on a cabinet panel and cutting keyholes in the panel to accommodate and hold the knobs.

Hardboard of the 1/2-inch tempered pressed wood type is easy to cut for this panel. If the door itself is paneled there may be enough space for the knobs. Otherwise the inner panel is mounted on a frame.

The keyholes can be formed by boring holes 1/2-inch larger than the knobs and cutting slots with a keyhole saw to hold the neck of the knob.

Texas Parenthood Group

Builds Modern Center
HOUSTON, Tex. — This city's Planned Parenthood Center now has its own building—a structure as modern as the group's social philosophies.

The center, built at a cost of $50,000, is one-story high, with brick walls and a corrugated asbestos-cement front. The front recessed several feet from the sidewalk and to door height is a solid expanse of corrugated sheets.

Above the corrugated sheets, to the roof line, is a continuous glass area. Inside there are a large reception room, two clinic rooms, two staff offices, a business office and a nursery. Folding doors are used to space the rooms as desired.

The center's program includes prenatal counseling, professional advice for children's complex and clinical service for mothers in the low income brackets.

Impromptu Dryer

Buy Your Child

Mirror of Own

Gives Tot Incentive

to Correct Eating,

Grooming Habits

Most parents expect good "mirror habits" from children, but too often the child, to look into a mirror, has to stand on a chair, climb on top of the chest of drawers or balance on the edge of the wash-bowl.

To bring the mirror within reach, try using a platform step in the bathroom below the wash-bowl. Or, if a step would be in the way, a separate mirror at child-height on an adjoining wall.

To provide a full-length view for dressing, mount a large wall mirror in the child's bedroom. The child will receive extra incentive to correct his appearance and posture if the mirror is surrounded by a white frame on which feet and inches are marked. Nocturnal calls can be made along the frame of the dais at which each height measurement was made.

For the girl of the house a dressing table of her own is desirable. An ordinary play table, given a sheet of mirror for the top and placed before a framed mirror on the wall, will do nicely if the girl is still in the fast-growing stage.

Or, if she's well along in high school, a full-sized dressing table is recommended. Simplest of all to install is a full-length mirror on either side of a closet door. These come in standard sizes to fit almost any door, and six plastic clips for securing them are furnished with the mirror.

A large tack board to serve as the frame for a wall mirror is another children's room idea. The frame, which can be of cork material or soft wood, enables the child to pin up lessons from her current collection page.

It's good to keep children in mind, too, in placing a wall mirror in the dining room or breakfast nook. If a child is able to see his reflection while eating, he will quickly become conscious of table manners.

The finest mirrors obtainable are labeled "twin ground" to show that each surface of the plate glass has been ground simultaneously to parallelism. Mirrors made with twin-ground glass are almost completely free of distortion.

Second Bath Doubles Sales on New Home

Builders are finding that a second bathroom can just about double the sales potential of a new house.

Only a few years ago the three-bedroom house had but one bathroom. Now, with housing experience, a competitive market, more builders are putting two bathrooms in the same house as exhibitions of new homes all over the country will show.

In addition to this, builders are greatly improving all-around bathroom standards. They're installing recessed storage space; installed modern, airtight, streamlined plumbing; paid careful attention to proper lighting; extended tile wainscoting higher than before; and added durable tiled countertops around the wash basins to serve as vanity-dressing counters.

In quality homes of this type, the first bathroom will serve both as a powder room and a master-bedroom bath. The other will serve the key activities areas and the other two bedrooms.

Smart Occasional Chair Used Winter or Summer

By STEVE ELLINGSON

They shouldn't be compared, I suppose, but have you ever thought of the difference between a modern mother and Mother Nature? A modern mother weeds elgible if she doesn't have a new hat or shoes every few weeks. Then too, she studies and follows fashion's dictates from one season to the next. It might be length of a skirt in the fall, hip pads in the winter, a low cut gown in the spring, or any one of the other fables which are constantly changing.

But Mother Nature seems to get by real well with the same seasonal garb she has used for untold centuries. And the same goes for her "accessories."

On a recent midwestern trip, I noticed that the ball stones which pounded the wheat into the ground, were just about the same size as those that wrecked Grandpa's grain one August afternoon 30 years ago.

In a sense, I believe that this do-it-yourself furniture building idea is a lot like nature. It's been going on for centuries. Now you take the occasional chair pictured with television across Dawn Oney. Here is a piece of furniture that is useful summer, winter, fall and spring. It may be used indoors in the winter and outdoors in the summer. It's comfortable, good looking, and the design is one that will never go out of style.

Of course, anybody can build this chair when they use the full size pattern. All that's necessary is to trace the pattern on wood, then saw it out and finally put it together. There's nothing to it.

A list of required materials is printed on each pattern along with simple easy to understand directions. Even the screw holes are all located for you. The pattern is designed to be used by the most inexperienced amateurs.

You can save money and have a whole of a time doing it when you build your own furniture. Try it once, and notice the feeling of accomplishment you have after finishing a project.

To obtain the full size occasional chair pattern No. 106 send 50 cents in coin to Steve Ellingson, The Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, California. (Please note, for prompt service your letter should be sent to the California address.)

West Virginia produces more coal than any other U. S. state — 133 million tons in 1953.

13 Are Missing in Hotel Blaze

4 Buildings Destroyed as Fire Does $500,000 Damage in Texas

WICHITA, Falls, Tex., Oct. 8.—Thirteen persons were unaccounted for here today after fire destroyed the small four-story Milam Hotel and the four other buildings in the block.

Fire Capt. Joe Counts said, however, that it would be "up in the air" before it was definitely known whether anybody actually died in the blaze which started yesterday afternoon at 5:30 p.m.

Counts told the Associated Press that four people are still held in pumping water on the fire equipment at 4 a.m. today he still had 30 pieces of fire equipment pumping water on the fire. At that time, he said, no bodies had been found.

Fire Chief Eugene White earlier had said there was a possibility some persons were trapped in the blazing 75-room hotel. Of the 27 guests registered, more than a dozen made their way to safety by an outside fire escape. In all, 14 guests were accounted for. Counts said.

Firemen said heavy smoke and flames were coming from the hotel, which was a three-story building. A shoe store, a barber shop, a department store and a music firm were demolished.

Counts said two of his firemen suffered minor injuries.

Blunders took $8 from the Sylva County, Mich., last night. The thieves broke into the Sylva County Jail and took $8 from the jail's cash box.

Michigan State Trooper Harold Wade of the Pontiac Post Road both breakings were evidently made by the same persons who earlier broke into the Sylva County Jail.
