Dems Delay House Vote on Extension of Offices

By JIM DYGERT

LANSING—A final House vote on a bill to give county officials an extra two years in office was delayed this morning to give Democrats time to caucus.

The measure's fate was still in doubt as it headed for a vote this afternoon. Today is the deadline for passage of bills in their house of origin.

State Rep. Henry M. Hogan (R-Bloomfield Hills) predicted a nip and tuck battle.

House Republicans caucused yesterday on the county officer term extension issue, but reached no concensus. The House yesterday held the measure over for final consideration today.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County Democrats have come out against the measure, but Democrats from counties with Democratic officeholders have taken no such stand. Neither party has taken a formal position at the state level.

★ ★ ★

Since most of the state's counties have Republican officials, however, most opposition is expected from Democrats.

JUDGE TERMS

Also scheduled to reach a vote in the House today is a measure extending the terms of the elected Circuit Court judges until 1966.

This bill was amended yesterday to exclude 15 judges appointed this year by Gov. George Romney — including three in Oakland County — from having their terms likewise extended.

The appointed judges—Arthur E. Moore, Philip Pratt and James S. Thorburn in Oakland County — will be required to seek election for three years next fall if the bill passes without further amendment.

★ ★ ★

The State Senate yesterday passed a bill setting up a new state appellate court with three districts of three judges each. Oakland County and 17 other counties comprise one of the districts.

Allowing county officials to bypass the 1964 elections and get a two-year free ride in office was recommended by an interim legislative committee that drafted bills for implementing the new state constitution.

The idea is to start the new four-year county terms established by the constitution in 1966 when the four-year terms of state officers begin, instead of having county officers on the

Fear Clashes Over Hostages

Bolivians Rallying to Aid Government

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Fears of clashes heightened today as peasant militiamen were reported marching to Bolivia's tin mines to defend President Victor Paz Estenssoro's government against rebellious Communist-led miners.

★ ★ ★

Reports reaching La Paz said bands of armed peasants were moving on Oruro, hub of the mining district, and planned to set up camp there in a show of support for the government.

★ ★ ★

Oruro is 30 miles north of Catavi, where dissident miners are holding 15 hostages, including four Americans, in retaliation for the government's arrest of two Communist mine union leaders.

The government asked last night for U.S. arms, including planes, to effect the release of the hostages but gave no indication it planned an immediate attack.

CONFLICT FEARED

Paz Estenssoro, under heavy U.S. pressure to secure the release of the captives, moved cautiously to assure their safety. It was feared any precipitous move might touch off widespread conflict.

The government warned the miners their food supplies would be cut off unless they released the hostages by tonight.

Leftist union leaders in Oruro in radio broadcasts exhorted workers to arm themselves and prepare to make a stand against the peasant militiamen.

★ ★ ★

About 3,000 government troops are also poised in Oruro, high in the Andes 120 miles southeast of La Paz.

Heavy snow warning is forecast for the south half of lower Michigan tonight.

Beginning in the southwest this afternoon, snow is expected to spread over most of the state tonight. Snow will become heavy over the south half with new snow accumulating to 4 inches or more, the U.S. Weather Bureau reported.

Little temperature change is expected, the low dropping to 15 to 26.

Mostly cloudy and turning colder with snow flurries, the high 20 to 28 is tomorrow's forecast. Partly cloudy is the outlook for Friday.

Twenty-six was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a. m. At 1 p. m. the thermometer reading was 27.

Shot Near for Giant Saturn I

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —"Hurricane Ginny cost us two days. Then we lost another week because of the hydrogen explosion on Nov. 26. Otherwise, Saturn I is on the launching schedule laid out in August."

★ ★ ★

Army Lt. Col. Rocco A. Petrone was outlining months of painstaking preparation leading to the launching of what officials believe to be the world's most powerful rocket.

Barring further trouble, the 16-story-tall Saturn I will rumble skyward next Wednesday, Dec. 18, on a milestone test—the first attempt to ignite its high-energy liquid hydrogen second stage.

Four earlier launchings of the kerosene-driven first stage were successful.

★ ★ ★

Petrone, assistant director for plans and project management at the space agency's launch operations center, emphasized the flight would be strictly a research and development test.

But as a bonus, he said, Saturn I would attempt to orbit the world's heaviest satellite —83 feet long and weighing 19 tons, most of it dead weight, including 5½ tons of sand for ballast.

One more major trial lies ahead Thursday. This is a simulated flight test in which all systems will be exercised and a pretended launching and flight conducted.

Traffic Post, Police Office Are Positions

Both Positions Have Been Vacant During Past Several Years

By DICK SAUNDERS

Pontiac's two police chiefs both have new jobs to look forward to today.

Suspended chief Joseph Koren has accepted the position of assistant city traffic engineer and acting Chief William K. Hanger has been appointed police inspector.

★ ★ ★

Koren's appointment was to be announced officially by City Manager Robert A. Carter at a 2 p.m. news conference today in Carter's office at City Hall.

Carter revealed he had named Hanger to the inspector's post in a report on police department matters at last night's City Commission meeting.

The rank of inspector is second only to chief in the Pontiac Police Department.

The city hasn't had anyone officially serving as either assistant traffic engineer or inspector for several years, although both positions are listed in the city's personnel policy.

★ ★ ★

Koren had proposed several weeks ago that the city reinstate him in the police department as a captain, his former grade before becoming chief in June 1961.

ASKED DEMOTION

He asked Carter to demote him "in the best interests of the community and the police department as well as my own."

"I am 49 years of age," Koren noted at the time, "and have six years to serve before I would be eligible to receive my pension."

It was not immediately known how the new job would affect Koren's pension eligibility. Police and general city employes are under different retirement systems.

★ ★ ★

The new appointment automatically relieved Koren of his duties as police chief and all

TALKS TO NEWSMEN—Frank Sinatra tells newsmen today of paying $240,000 in ransom for the return of his son, Frank Jr., kidnaped Sunday from a motel in Stateline, Calif. Sinatra made the announcement outside the home of his divorced wife, Nancy, near Hollywood.

Sinatra Pays $240,000 for Son's Release

Youth Is Unharmed in 54-Hour Ordeal; FBI Is Investigating

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —Frank Sinatra's 19-year-old singer son, kidnaped at Lake Tahoe and held blindfolded 54 hours, was released unharmed on a street today after secret maneuvers in which his father paid a gang $240,000 ransom.

★ ★ ★

The FBI conducted an intensive search for the abductors, but would say nothing about progress.

Slender Frank Sinatra Jr., whose goal is to duplicate his famous father's entertainment success, was taken at gunpoint Sunday night from a motel on the California-Nevada border just before a casino singing engagement.

A private policeman patrolling the exclusive Bel-Air district picked him up—the blindfold still dangling from his neck—after he heard a shout of "hey" from darkness behind his car.

★ ★ ★

The patrolman drove him to the nearby home of the youth's mother Mrs. Nancy Sinatra, long divorced from the actor-singer.

WAS HIDDEN

There, emerging from the trunk of the car where he had hidden to avoid newsmen, came a dramatic reunion.

The elder Sinatra, who had been negotiating with the gang since Monday and flew here last night for the payoff, lost his look of haggard tenseness as he greeted his son.

"Father, I'm sorry," the youth said.

"Sorry? Sorry for what?" said Sinatra, embracing him.

Young Frank then embraced his mother, who broke down and wept.

"Don't cry, mother, I'm well. I'm in good shape."

WENT TO BED

Young Sinatra went to bed without talking to newsmen but a spokesman said he probably would do so later in the day.

Sinatra, observing his 46th birthday, spoke briefly to newsmen, saying "This is about as good a birthday present as I could ask."

IRS Isn't Sure Payoff Exempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service had no ready answer today to the question of whether Frank Sinatra may deduct from his taxable income $240,000 in ransom money paid to free his kidnaped son, Frank Jr.

Asked whether ransom money in the past has been considered a deductible item, a spokesman said, "It probably has come up before, but it has occurred so seldom that we will have to do quite a bit of checking."

These are many types of out-of-pocket expenses which are not deductible, for instance a taxpayer cannot deduct the cost of catching a person who has embezzled his money.

In most cases, a person convicted of a crime cannot deduct lawyer's fees.

Any payment "contrary to public policy" cannot be deducted.

French Farm Price Ultimatum Deadlocks Euromart Meeting

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — The European Common Market today faced a French ultimatum that threatened its very existence.

The crisis—the worst since France vetoed Britain's application for Common Market membership 11 months ago — was based on a deadlock in efforts to set unified farm prices and subsidies for the six market nations.

A meeting of Common Market agricultural ministers went into its third day with no sign of a break in the impasse between France and Germany, the body's two most powerful members.

French President Charles de Gaulle warned last July that France would "review" its Common Market policies unless the farm question were settled by Dec. 31, but later French statements had been interpreted to mean the deadline was not firm.

French agriculture minister Edgar Pisani warned the other delegates yesterday, however, that the deadline "is not a legend or a fantasy."

He then left abruptly for Paris to consult his government, saying only that he might return to Brussels today.

Observers said the implied threat was that France would quit the market or boycott its ministerial meetings — a crippling blow — unless the deadline is met.

Trade experts said that if the Common Market ceased to function, Western Europe's economic expansion could grind to a halt.

Mother of 4 Slain in Farmington Township

By PAT McCARTY

State police this morning issued a nationwide bulletin for a suspect in the slaying of a 27-year-old Farmington Township mother yesterday.

The body of Mrs. Carroll Westerman was discovered last night in a house trailer rented by William H. Hoskins, 32, Mrs. Westerman who is now being sought by investigating officers.

Police said the mother of four had been shot and stabbed in the chest several times.

Hoskins' trailer in the Hideaway Trailer Park, 21335 Renselaer, is about two blocks from the Westerman home at 21312 St. Francis.

★ ★ ★

Westerman found his wife Marilyn's body about 6:30 p.m. after an eight-hour search.

NEIGHBOR CALLS

He had been alerted about 10:30 a.m. by a neighbor, who reported Mrs. Westerman did not return home after taking her husband to work.

Westerman had punched in at Stahl Manufacturing in Redford at 6:30 a.m., police said.

His search for his wife ended when he found the family car next to the trailer home of Hoskins and his 12-year-old daughter.

★ ★ ★

Neighbors told police they had seen the Westerman auto at the trailer early yesterday morning. Others said they saw Hoskins leave sometime during the morning.

Westerman said he had planned to obtain a divorce

Air Crash Witnessed by Plane

ELKTON, Md. (AP) —A government investigator said today another plane witnessed and reported the crash of a Pan American World Airways jet airliner Sunday.

The jet, a Boeing 707, exploded at 5,000 feet on its way to Philadelphia. All 73 passengers and 8 crew members were killed in the crash.

T. W. Finch, Civil Aeronautics Board investigator at the scene, said a co-pilot on National Airlines flight 16 not only saw the explosion, but radioed the message to Philadelphia Airport saying:

Earlier Story, Page D-5

"Clipper two-one-four is going down in flames."

Finch said the National Airlines plane was about 1,000 feet above the jet in a severe electrical storm.

The message was originally thought to have come from a crew member on the ill fated Pan American flight 214.

The Gift to the Little Children

By JOHN J. STEWART

As Jesus and His disciples neared a village in the province of Perea, several women came out to meet Him, carrying or leading their little children, some of whom suffered afflictions.

These women knew of the great healing power and of the goodness and compassion of the Master. They were anxious that their children should see Him and hear Him and be blessed by Him.

Jesus and his disciples had been walking and meeting with people all day. They were tired and hungry. Nor did some of the disciples have a high regard for women and children. Despite the Master's earlier teachings to them, they still egotistically felt that only men were of much importance.

REBUKED BY DISCIPLES

So when the women with their children sought Jesus, His disciples rebuked them and told them to go away and not bother the Master.

The boys and girls with their mothers had eagerly anticipated the privilege of meeting Jesus. Especially had those who were ill and afflicted. It was in keen disappointment that they turned to go away.

But when Jesus heard what was said to them, He was much displeased. Immediately He called out to His disciples, saying, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God."

ASTONISHED AT WORDS

The disciples were astonished at the Master's words.

"Verily I say unto you, whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein."

As the disciples murmured among themselves, the mothers and their children came rejoicing unto Jesus.

And He took their little children up in His arms and talked with them and blessed them.

Orbit Lab Plan Long in Works

WASHINGTON (AP)—Groundwork for the Pentagon's new program for manned orbiting laboratories has been under way for months, with both the Air Force and the civilian space agency in on the preliminaries.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara put the project into high gear Tuesday with his announcement that the Air Force had been assigned full responsibility for running it.

* * *

The aim is to have an initial model of a Gemini-X, without men aboard, in near-earth orbit in the first half of 1966 and to have the full-sized, manned laboratory aloft about four years from now.

* * *

Contracts for studies on the project already had been either let or invited by both the Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the designing of the super-powerful Titan 3 rocket booster was well along before the formal announcement.

GLIDER PROJECT

In disclosing the space laboratory venture, McNamara also announced termination of the Dyna-Soar orbital glider project.

A Pentagon spokesman said today that under an agreement between the Pentagon and NASA it expects NASA will make available to the Air Force the data from its own studies of the feasibility and technique for multimanned laboratories.

* * *

NASA announced award of one such study contract earlier this month to Douglas Aircraft Co. This study is aimed at refining NASA's concept of "a cylindrical six-man spacecraft" put into orbit by a big booster rocket.

In talking to newsmen, McNamara side-stepped the question of how many men would be carried in the Air Force version. He said only that it would be more than two men—the number for NASA's own Gemini capsule project.

AF INVITATIONS

The Air Force, proceeding with the study of an orbital space station, issued its own invitations to industry last September for bids on study contracts.

Air Force officials, in testifying before the House Military Appropriations subcommittee earlier this year, gave a general description of the orbiting laboratory.

* * *

One proposal, said Lt. Gen. James Ferguson, deputy chief of staff for research, contemplated a "cylindrical object perhaps 10 feet in diameter by 17 feet long, which would be boosted into a 300-mile orbit" by the Titan 3 rocket.

This would contain "the element of a laboratory, plus living accommodations for two to four people to live for extended periods—for practical purposes, let us say 30 days."

connection with the police department, effective Jan. 18.

MORE SALARY

He will assume his new job Jan. 20. The position carries an $8,900 annual salary — a little more than he would have earned as a captain.

Koren was earning more than $10,000 a year as chief. In the new job, he will be an assistant to City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling.

Koren, who joined the police department in 1940, said that he did not know for certain what his duties as assistant traffic engineer will entail.

ACCEPTED POST

Koren said he accepted the post after Carter called him to his office this morning.

"He told me that after reviewing the situation in the police department he could not see how I could return in any capacity," Koren said. "He said he could see no alternative."

"He thought it best that I be removed from the department and asked me how I felt about it.

"I told him I accepted the offer," Koren said.

* * *

No decision was announced concerning a new police chief. Carter said Hanger would remain as acting chief at least until a solution was reached.

Hanger, 38, was appointed as temporary chief when Police Chief Joseph Koren was suspended with pay pending an "impartial investigation" of departmental efficiency and leadership Oct. 10. Hanger was a lieutenant.

MOVE ORDERED

That move was ordered by Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck, prior to the hiring of Carter by the commission.

Carter said that Hanger would remain as acting chief until Carter decides who will fill the post.

He refused to say whether Hanger or someone else would take over as chief.

HOME BURNS—Mrs. Donald Groves and her daughter Darby faced more grief last night as they watched flames eat through their apartment in Birmingham. The Groves' son, Michael, who commanded the White House honor guard, died of a heart attack last Tuesday. Damage to the house at 501 S. Bates was estimated at $20,000. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Home Fire Compounds Tragedy

By JIM LONG

Last week, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Groves of Birmingham lost their only son when a heart attack took the young Army captain who commanded President Kennedy's honor guard.

Last night, all their mementoes of the 27-year-old career soldier were destroyed when fire swept through the Groves' apartment at 501 S. Bates.

"All my precious clippings and baby pictures of my boy gone," cried Mrs. Groves as she watched firemen tossing charred debris from the window of the third-floor apartment.

Her son, Michael D., collapsed and died of a heart attack last Tuesday while eating dinner in his Ft. Myers, Va., home.

BARELY ESCAPED

Mrs. Groves, 46, barely escaped before flames spread through the five-room apartment about 7:30 p.m.

"I was sleeping on the couch in the front room when I heard my husband screaming that the place was on fire," said Mrs. Groves.

"All I remember is grabbing the dog and running down the stairs and outside," she said. "I didn't have on any shoes or a coat."

"We didn't have time to save nything."

DAMAGE ESTIMATE

Birmingham Fire Chief George Scott estimated damage to the three-story house at $15,000 and $5,000 for the contents. The damage was confined mostly to the Groves' top-floor apartment.

The cause of the fire has not been determined, but according to Scott, it is believed to have started in a storage area behind a wall in the kitchen.

While watching the thick smoke roll out of the windows, Mrs. Groves turned to a neighbor and asked what time it was. The reply was 8:20.

"Oh, God. It was exactly this time a week ago I received a phone call that my son was dead."

Rapped by County Board

Home Rule Act Drafters 'Too Hasty'

By DICK HANSON

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday rebuked its legislative committee for being "too hasty" in drafting a proposed enabling act for county home rule.

The board then sent the proposal back to the committee "for further study."

Having had a premonition of difficulties with the board, the committee just prior to yesterday's meeting killed its earlier resolution asking the board to send the proposed act to Lansing.

* * *

Instead, the committee submitted its proposal in the form of a report, seeking further direction from the board.

OBJECTION PARADE

A steady parade of supervisors objected to the fact that they supposedly hadn't had a chance to partake in drafting the proposed act.

* * *

Committee Vice Chairman Hugh Allerton Jr. of Southfield, who submitted the report, pointed out that "this is not a county home rule charter, but an enabling act" to set the limits for any charter that might be offered to county voters later on.

Committee Chairman Carl Ingraham of Birmingham was absent from the meeting.

* * *

Earlier, he had pressed for speedy action here in order to get an Oakland County proposal among the first to be considered by a government study committee of the State Legislature.

NOT NECESSARY

Berkley Supervisor Sander Levin said such haste is unnecessary because "it will be at least February" before the legislature is ready to consider any home rule enabling bill.

Levin joined other supervisors in questioning?

- The proposed act should set a 20-mill limit on what property taxes a home rule county could levy without a further vote of the people.
- Commissioners to draft a home rule charter later on should be elected on a non-partisan ticket.
- County officials should be elected on a non-partisan basis under home rule.
- The limit of county indebtedness should be 10 per cent of the assessed valuation of all property in the county.
- A resolution to propose home rule to county voters must be approved by a two-third majority of the board of supervisors.
- Home rule county employes should be allowed to come under civil service.

SIMILAR QUESTIONS

Others raising these and similar questions were supervisors Edward Cheyz of White Lake Township; James Clarkson of Southfield; Abraham Brickner, Oak Park; and Homer Case, Bloomfield Township.

Levin also looked askance at provisions for county purchase and operation of "zoological parks, cemeteries, public wharves, penal farms, electric light and power plants and systems, gas plants and systems, plank roads, almshouses, tram railways and the servicing of hydroplanes."

These terms are all used in the enabling act for chartered home rule cities.

* * *

They are included in the committee's present proposal as part of whole sections borrowed from the act for cities.

Corporation Counsel Robert Allen said that in offering the enabling act for home rule cities to the legislative committee, he didn't expect the committee to adopt such sections outright, but to use the existing act as a starting point for drafting a proposed county home rule enabling act.

"If I had known they were going to adopt the whole thing, I would never have offered it in such form for committee study," said Allen.

After the proposal was returned to committee, Cheyz moved that its members go as observers to the Lansing committee meetings, and not to recommend any legislation.

The motion was carried.

ballot in presidential election years. This would happen if their terms began in 1964.

The constitution does not say when the county terms are to begin.

The measure is given a slightly better-than-even chance for passage despite Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley's opinion that it is unconstitutional and failure of Gov. Romney to endorse it.

Hogan predicted it would probably pass on a close vote.

If it is approved, the terms of five Oakland County officials would be double in length.

* * *

They are Prosecutor George F. Taylor, Sheriff Frank W. Irons, Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry, Treasurer Charles A. Sparks and Clerk-Register appointee David R. Calhoun, who will take office Jan. 1.

The appellate court bill passed by the Senate puts Oakland in a district with the counties of Macomb, Livingston, Genesee, Shiawassee, Washtenaw, Huron, Tuscola, Sanilac, St. Clair, Lapeer, Hillsdale, Lenawee, Clinton, Gratiot, Saginaw, Bay and Monroe.

The district includes the Thumb area, wraps around Wayne County and extends into the south-central portion of the state.

Wayne County comprises one of the other two districts.

The third is made up of the entire Upper Peninsula and the western half of the Lower Peninsula.

HEADQUARTERS

Headquarters of Oakland County's district may be located in Pontiac.

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts (R-Oakland County) who headed the committee that drafted the bill, is expected to be a candidate for one of the appellate court's nine seats.

Sinatra said the payoff point was on Wilshire Boulevard in West Los Angeles and no deal was made to protect the abductors after they received the ransom.

"They're on their own now," he said.

Young Sinatra apparently was driven the 485 miles from the Lake Tahoe area to Hollywood in the trunk of a car.

California and Nevada authorities relaxed certain roadblocks in the area, presumably after the ransom demand.

Young Sinatra was quoted by the patrolman who found him as saying he thought there were but three in the gang. The elder Sinatra said he thought there might be as many as nine.

Civil Rights Procession Rescheduled for Feb. 9

BIRMINGHAM — An outdoor religious procession here in behalf of responsible federal civil rights legislation has been rescheduled for Feb. 9.

The march which originally was set for this Saturday was postponed because of the President's death and the month-long period of mourning.

Sponsored by the Birmingham Council of Churches, the procession is open to persons of all races and faiths.

Priests and ministers in the council chose the second Sunday in February as the alternate date because it is Race Relations Sunday and marks the opening of Brotherhood Week.

PLANS LATER

Complete plans for the new march will be announced later, the clergymen said after setting the date last night.

Originally scheduled to speak were former Gov. John B. Swainson, John Feikens, chairman of the State Civil Rights Commission; and Rt. Rev. Msgr. Clement Kern of Most Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Detroit.

Hunt Man in Slaying of Woman

from his wife and she had talked of marrying Hoskins, according to police.

The dead woman, a 5-foot-2 redhead with green eyes, was described as attractive.

She and Westerman were married 11 years ago while attending Farmington High School. Their children are Sherry, 10; Julie, 6; Roy, 3; and Janine, 2.

Hoskins' wife lives in the Pineville, Ky., area, where police think he might be headed.

In Michigan with his daughter Janice, Hoskins reportedly had known the Westermans a little over a year and had stayed with them after arriving here from Kentucky.

Since then, Hoskins and his daughter had lived in three or four trailer parks around Farmington, police said. He was employed at AT&G Co., Inc., in Redford Township, they noted.

Officials at the school attended by Janice and one of the Westerman daughters reported that Janice was absent from classes all day yesterday. They understood, they told police, that she was returning to Kentucky.

* * *

State police were called into the case by Farmington Township officers when Westerman notified them he had found his wife's body.

POST MORTEM

The results of a post mortem exam were not immediately announced. It was performed by Dr. Richard Olsen at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac.

Police did say, however, that the woman had been shot eight times with bullets from a 22-caliber gun and stabbed six times.

She was found partially clothed in the bedroom of the trailer and there were no signs of a struggle, they reported.

* * *

It was not immediately determined whether she had been sexually assaulted, police said.

STEEL ROD

Investigators from the state police crime laboratory in East Lansing are examining a steel rod with which Mrs. Westerman apparently was stabbed.

The rod, about 10 inches long, is curved at one end and looks as though it might have been a homemade ice pick, according to detective Cal Lepien of the Redford post.

Hoskins was described as stocky, about 5 feet 8 and weighing 175 pounds. He has brown hair and eyes.

Law enforcement officers between here and Kentucky have been notified that Hoskins should be considered dangerous. His daughter might be traveling with him in his brown 1960 Oldsmobile coach, police said. License number of the auto is HH-1796.

Murder of Woman Has Strange Twist

When called to perform a postmortem examination of the body of Mrs. Carroll Westerman, pathologist Dr. Richard Olsen was about to deliver a talk on homicides at the monthly meeting of the Oakland County Law Enforcement Association.

* * *

Olsen, along with several police officers, left the dinner meeting at Saratoga Farms in Novi Township.

Following the operation, Olsen returned and completed his speech, including in it what to do when a body is discovered.

Group Named as Cali Liaison

County Unit to Aid Latin Community

County Board of Supervisors Chairman Delos Hamlin today named a 12-member committee of county leaders to support the development of a local government relationship with Cali, Colombia.

Establishment of the committee is a result of a visit by an Oakland County delegation to the City of Cali and the Cauca Valley in Colombia last May, and a return visit of leading citizens from these areas to Oakland County in September.

The mutual visits were aimed at exploring the possibilities of establishing a local government to local government relationship as a part of the Alliance for Progress effort.

* * *

A similar committee will be established in Cauca Valley, and both committees will later designate representatives to work abroad as liaison between the two committees.

Named by Hamlin to the Oakland County committee are the following leaders of business, industry, labor, government and education:

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams; George Catlin, director of industrial relations, Detroit Edison; James Clarkson, president, First Federal Savings of Oakland; E. M. Estes, vice president of General Motors and Pontiac Division general manager.

* * *

Harold Fitzgerald, publisher, The Pontiac Press; A. C. Girard, president, Community National Bank; Robert J. Huber, president, Michigan Chrome and Chemical Co.; Walter Reuther, president, UAW; Jim Robbins, president, Jim Robbins Co.; James E. Seeterlin, Waterford Township Supervisor; D. B. Varner, chancellor, Oakland University; and Hamlin.

LBJ Uses 'Technique' on Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Still moving at a gallop, President Johnson is using praise and personal visits to try and nudge Congress along the lawmaking trail.

He spent most of Tuesday conferring with Senate and House leaders. And, before calling it a day, he traveled up to Capitol Hill to drop in on House Speaker John W. McCormack.

★ ★ ★

"A visit with some friends," is the way White House news secretary Pierre Salinger described the meeting—Johnson's second informal call at the Capitol since becoming President 20 days ago.

★ ★ ★

Among the friends, said Salinger, were leading congressmen from both parties, including Republican House leader Charles W. Halleck.

Johnson also gave McCormack "a very special picture" which the speaker would only say was "a picture of me taken at the White House one time."

From Congress, Johnson received the $1.2-billion federal aid bill for college construction which its supporters said was the most important legislation of its kind in a century.

For this the legislators won Johnson's applause.

★ ★ ★

"This Congress is well on its way to doing more for education than any since the Land Grant College Act was passed 100 years ago," he declared.

Some of the late President John F. Kennedy's GOP critics in Congress had contended that Republicans were passed over on foreign policy decisions and were called in only during a crisis.

Johnson, an administration official said, intends to keep Congress "fully informed on developments in a number of fields." Tuesday he had leaders of both parties in for a briefing on national security.

★ ★ ★

Today, Johnson calls his Cabinet together for its second meeting since Kennedy's assassination, confers with U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson about the President's get-acquainted appearance at the United Nations next Tuesday, and has another conference on the budget.

The President had lunch at the White House Tuesday with three executives of The Associated Press. They were Paul Miller of Rochester, N.Y., president of the AP and of the Gannett Co.; AP General Manager Wes Gallagher of New York, and William L. Beale Jr., chief of the Washington Bureau.

The three news executives said their call on the President was a social visit.

Johnson, who also held a meeting with legislative liaison men from most of the government agencies, spent 45 minutes with Budget Director Kermit Gordon, who has become one of the President's most regular visitors.

Decides County Board

Lake Orion to Have Sewers

LAKE ORION — The Oakland County Board of Supervisors answered Lake Orion's call for help yesterday.

It resolved to have the county's Department of Public Works establish a village sewage system.

AREA NEWS

Faced with state demands for action, the Lake Orion Village Council has been working on the task of cleaning up Paint Creek for more than a year.

The work started when the Michigan Water Resources Commission demanded that the village find the source of the creek's pollution, and prepare a solution to the problem.

★ ★ ★

The council learned from its engineers that the main cause of the creek's pollution was due to the discharge of sewage into the creek, from residences and business establishments.

DEADLINE SET

A timetable forwarded with the state order set March 1, 1965, as the date when facilities for sewage treatment should be in operation.

After considering several systems proposed by consulting engineers Hubbell, Roth and Clark of Birmingham, the council decided the village would need county help.

It rejected plans for a joint system with Oxford, and a system which would encompass parts of Orion Township.

In August, the council formally requested the Oakland County Department of Public Works to undertake construction of the first stage of the sewer project.

EXPERTS TESTIFIED

The council decision came after a battery of experts told council members of financial, legal and construction problems to be expected if the village should tackle the problem by itself.

Now, with county okay, the Department of Public Works will get construction plans and later negotiate a contract for building the system.

The first stage of the project calls for sewage lines throughout the area east of the lake, and in the village's central business district. The islands and peninsulas of the lake will not be included.

A way of financing the project will be determined after county representatives confer with the engineers and specifications for the system are completed.

CAN'T SAY NOW

"It would be premature to to judge the financing now," Donald Ringler, deputy director of the county DPW said yesterday.

"However a vote on the issue will definitely not be required."

Petitions Filed on Cityhood

Incorporation Eyed in Royal Oak Twp.

Petitions for a special election to incorporate Royal Oak Township into a home rule city were filed yesterday with the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The board turned the petitions, bearing 190 names, over to the boundaries committee to check their validity.

If the petitions are found to be in order, the committee is expected to recommend that the board set a date for a special election.

★ ★ ★

Both separate areas of the township are proposed for incorporation into a city under terms of the petitions.

SECTIONS DIVIDED

Royal Oak Township's two sections are divided by Oak Park. The larger portion, containing mainly Negro residents, is on the north side of Eight Mile near Wyoming. A second area is on Greenfield's east side just north of 10 Mile.

★ ★ ★

"This proposal has not been presented at a Township Board meeting," commented Township Clerk Mrs. Artie Gray today. "How does one part of a city be here and another in another area?" she asked.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gray said the drive for cityhood is being conducted by a broup of citizens and not by the board.

Stage Lights Given to Troy High School

TROY — The Troy Arts Festival Association has had ceiling beam lights, valued at $450, installed to illuminate the stage in the Troy High School auditorium.

The formal presentation was made by Probate Court Judge Norman R. Barnard, president of the association. The cost of the 24 lights represents part of the proceeds from the third annual Troy Arts Festival held earlier this year.

Accepting the gift were Rev. Richard Snoad, vice president of the Troy Board of Education, and Schools Supt. Dr. Rex Smith.

★ ★ ★

The donation of the lights follows the past policy of the association and the Troy Drama Workshop, cosponsors of the annual festival held in Troy, of distributing profits to community projects.

COMMUNITY PROJECTS

In the past, the monies raised have been divided between the Troy Community House Fund and the Friends of the Troy Public Library.

In addition to the lights, an inventory of stage flats, office equipment, decorations and costumes, valued at $300, has been accumulated by the association with the proceeds from this year's festival.

The association also has elected its officers for the coming year. Roy Barrett has been named to succeed Judge Barnard as president.

★ ★ ★

Other officers are Mrs. James Carey, first vice president; Vincent J. McAvoy, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Reeder, executive secretary; Mrs. Leo Savoie, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Fred Sprenger, assistant treasurer.

Architect's Conception Of Veterinary Clinic Being Built At MSU

Work Begins on MSU Vet Clinic

Construction on one of the largest and most unique projects of its type has been started at Michigan State University.

As part of the MSU Science Complex, a new 177,000-square-foot veterinary clinic is being built to house the Department of Veterinary Medicine.

It also will serve as an animal hospital and teaching laboratory for the entire College of Veterinary Medicine.

Completion, according to Paul B. Brown, vice president of Harley, Ellington, Cowin and Stirton, Inc., Detroit, architects and engineers, is scheduled for spring of 1965.

★ ★ ★

The $4.7-million clinic will include three wings and an adjacent pathology building built around a 2-story 170-by-118-foot reception - office - laboratory-classroom building.

TWO WINGS

One wing will be used for the study of large animals; another, for small animals, and the third will house a 500-seat auditorium which will be made available to the entire science complex.

"A huge incinerator, overhead monorail system, specialized X-ray equipment and unique manure removal system are among features incorporated to make the MSU clinic the finest in the country," Brown said.

The incinerator, 10 feet wide by 27 feet long and 11 feet high, will be able to consume at least 1,000 pounds per hour and will be located in the pathology building, as will an overhead monorail system.

Installed in the necropsy room, it will be used to transport carcasses from the loading entrance throughout the building to laboratory tables, the refrigerator, or the incinerator charging area.

X-RAY EQUIPMENT

The clinic will include X-ray equipment for large animals.

The manure removal system in the large wing, the only such installation of its type in the country, was specially designed by Harley, Ellington, Cowin and Stirton working with MSU representatives.

The system provides an underground sewer system with manholes at each stall.

During the removal operation, manure is shoveled into the manholes and water is recirculated to transport it to a collection system located to the south of the building.

Troy Board Okays New 5-Year Pact

TROY — The Troy School Board last night gave unanimous endorsement to the work of Schools Supt. Dr. Rex B. Smith by extending his contract for another five years.

Dr. Smith's present contract runs out in June. Under terms of the new agreement, he will continue with the school system for five more years at the present rate of pay, $17,333 annually.

In other business last night the board adopted a policy of punishing seniors who are caught destroying school property during the last few weeks of school.

★ ★ ★

If they are caught in any act of vandalism, the seniors are to be excluded from commencement, baccalaureate and other graduation activities.

DESTROY PROPERTY

Dr. Smith said today in past years some seniors have destroyed school property, and adoption of the new policy should serve as a deterrent to this.

★ ★ ★

The school board also agreed to send a letter of appreciation to Troy's civil defense workers for their assistance in supervising athletic events and helping the police department check schools at night.

Jail Term, Probation Dealt for Bar Theft

An ex-convict from Oak Park was sent to prison and a former Pontiac resident was placed on probation yesterday for their June 30 theft from a Pontiac bar.

Felix Stemlo, 32, of 24240 Kenosha, Oak Park, was given a 2½- to 4-year term by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Thomas J. Fairbanks, 32, of 14830 Middlebelt, Livonia, was placed on three years' probation. Judge Ziem also ordered Fairbanks to serve four months in jail and pay $310 restitution and $150 court costs.

★ ★ ★

Both men pleaded guilty to larceny in a building. They were originally charged with unarmed robbery. Fairbanks first pleaded guilty to the robbery charge, but was allowed to withdraw that plea last Thursday.

INCORRECT CHARGE

The prosecutor's office said the robbery charge was incorrect.

The two men were accused of looting the safe of the Trojan Bar, 72 Auburn, of $1,260. Fairbanks, who lived in Pontiac until recently, was a bartender at the tavern.

Stemlo was on parole from his second prison term for previous armed robbery convictions.

SUPER BURNER — Pontiac Motor Division has installed a new three-stage incinerator in its salvage department which filters smoke into a vapor. At the controls of the incinerator, which has a capacity of 90 tons every 24 hours, are William Bunnell (left), salvage supervisor, and Milton L. Prashaw, assistant director of purchasing. The equipment uses a water spray to remove fly ash after burning.

State Publisher Arraigned on Arson Charge

MCBAIN (AP — A newspaper publisher was arraigned Tuesday on a charge of arson in connection with a fire which damaged his concrete building in this Missaukee County community.

* * *

Ben Minier, 58, of McBain waived examination in Justice Court and was released on $500 bond to await a hearing in Circuit Court. Minier publishes the weekly McBain Chronicle.

State police said Minier admitted setting the Sunday fire, allegedly to collect insurance money. A witness saw Minier leaving the building shortly before the fire broke out, state police said.

The building was insured for $3,000 and its contents for $1,500, authorities reported. An estimate of Sunday's damage was not available.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A torrential summer rain and flash floods threatened to maroon 6,000 residents of lowlying areas of Buenos Aires Tuesday night.

Transportation, power and communications systems were disrupted as the River Plate spilled over its banks. River front districts were under water 2 to 4 feet deep.

Subway tunnels were flooded and suburban railway services stopped.

Weak Rights Bill Advances

LANSING (AP) — A weakened civil rights bill advanced to the House today after the Senate lopped off some powers originally listed for the new State Civil Rights Commission.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley's sharp attack on the bill was answered by 33-0 Senate passage Tuesday after a half-dozen changes were made in the proposed powers of the commission.

* * *

The power cuts were not as severe as had been proposed by a joint House - Senate Appropriations Committee meeting which drafted amendments behind closed doors Monday.

The secret meeting produced amendments which would have left the commission powerless to hire employes, limited it immediately to one office, and prohibited it from keeping confidential files.

These amendments were thrown away by the Senate State Affairs Committee, but other amendments coming from the secret session were attacked by the committee, which earlier had approved the unamended version.

The Senate left untouched a provision subjecting the commission's rule-making power to the Administrative Procedures Act, bringing commission rules under legislative scrutiny.

Kelley said this section "attempts to give the legislature the power to control almost completely the activities of the commission," and said he will try to have this section struck down by the courts if it becomes law.

The Senate Appropriations Committee slashed the proposed commission director salary from $19,000 to $15,000 annually and made other proposed salary cuts.

Senate Majority Leader Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, said this was his main disappointment in the progress of the civil rights legislation. "You've got to get a top man in as director," Thayer said.

* * *

The Senate struck the bill's power to "create" local advisory agencies and conciliation councils and substituted a power to "promote and cooperate with" such groups.

* * *

Other powers deleted by the Senate from the bill:

—To recommend to "the appropriate state agency" programs of formal and informal education.

* * *

—To pay travel and other expenses of members of advisory agencies and conciliation councils, who shall serve without pay.

* * *

—To underwrite technical and clerical assistance for these agencies and councils.

Kids Douse JFK Flame

WASHINGTON (AP)—The eternal flame over the grave of President John F. Kennedy was relighted a few minutes after it was accidentally extinguished Tuesday by holy water sprinkled on the grave by a group of school children.

John C. Metzler, superintendent of Arlington National Cemetery, said the children were taking turns sprinkling the grave when "the cap came off the bottle, and a stream of water hit the flame directly—extinguishing it."

City's Perimeter Road Another Step Forward

Giving tangible evidence of the rejuvenation of downtown Pontiac was the opening recently of the north section of the perimeter road.

★ ★ ★

A five-lane one-way thoroughfare beginning at Mt. Clemens Street on the east, it covers .8 mile to terminate at Huron Street on the west. The roadway will considerably ease and expedite traffic flow in the area encompassed.

The unfinished half of approximately the same length, planned for completion next year, will continue south on Cass Avenue from Huron Street and converge at Parke Street with the extension running south from Mt. Clemens Street.

★ ★ ★

Although not an integral part of the urban renewal concept, the $3.5 million perimeter road ideally complements it. It should play a large part in giving added desirability to the area under development.

★ ★ ★

We commend both state and city on their cooperative first step toward solution of the City's constrictive volume of traffic.

Spirit of Law Shown Michigan Fugitive

We commend the State Parole Board on its action in freeing ALONZO GUNSELL on probation that he may resume the place in society recently disrupted by his apprehension in Colorado as a fugitive from a Michigan prison farm.

Criminal punishment is a many-sided social instrument, one objective of which is reformation and redemption of the malefactor.

★ ★ ★

Since GUNSELL, under the name of GEORGE KING, for 10 years led an exemplary life while caring for a wife and three children and winning the approbation of his employer and community, it would seem that he had fulfilled this one aspect of his debt to society.

★ ★ ★

It is doubtful that any person of good will would fault the parole board for its decision to waive other aspects of the case —legal and technical—in granting the onetime prisoner the consideration we believe he has earned.

★ ★ ★

It is likely that the probationer is enjoying the first unburdened peace of mind he has experienced in a decade and that this will indeed be a very merry Christmas for him and his family.

Japanese Adopting West's Political Tactics

The Japanese, long known as a nation of imitators, have adeptly emulated Western political techniques in their relatively new democracy.

Faced with a $7,000 limit on campaign expenditures, many a candidate in the recent general elections followed the old practice of having contributions channeled through "research institutes." Candidates were restricted to three posters each (previous limit 12,000), but many "accidentally" dropped cards, complete with photo and slogan, in telephone booths, stores, bars and buses.

★ ★ ★

But for all the uproar over procedure, the election amounted to an important vote of confidence for procapitalist pro-Western Premier HAYATO IKEDA.

The Socialist opposition blasted off on the worrisome inflation that has accompanied Japan's phenomenal economic boom. But the government retorted that incomes have risen 52 per cent while prices have gone up only 14 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The incumbent Liberal-Democratic Party won majority control of the House of Representatives for another four years—taking 283 of the 467 House seats.

At a time when worldwide the democracies are finding little to cheer about, it's reassuring to know that no radical political philosophy shows signs of nipping the Nipponese.

Death Choosy With U.S. Chiefs

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The United States has been lucky, in a grisly way, because death was choosy.

Eight presidents have died in office, four of them assassinated, and seven vice presidents.

MARLOW

Death, always nimble, skipped around and never tapped a president and vice president in any single four-year term.

A president without a vice president was always left to finish out his administration or a vice president survived to succeed him.

Thus any confusion which followed this transfer of power was always less than if a president and vice president both died in the same term.

Now once again, with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson moved up to the presidency, there is no vice president.

MORE PRETENTIOUS

The law which provides for a successor to Johnson, if the president died, is a lot more pretentious looking than it really is.

Next in line for the presidency, when there is no president or vice president, are John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, 71, speaker of the House; Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona, 86, president pro tempore of the Senate; and the Cabinet, starting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The order of succession, laid down by Congress in a law of 1947, seems to be generously spread out over the government. That's misleading.

★ ★ ★

If Speaker McCormack became president, he would automatically have to resign from Congress and give up the speakership.

THEN NEW SPEAKER

The House would elect another speaker. Then, if McCormack died, the new speaker of the House would be next in succession.

Since McCormack says he favors the law which puts him next in line to Johnson, there is almost no chance the House will change the order of succession.

Thus the House, under ordinary circumstances, has a stranglehold on the line of presidential succession.

★ ★ ★

Three events could change that but all would have to be extraordinary and seem remote.

1. The speaker who became president might die—he'd have to die pretty quickly —before the House had a chance to pick a new speaker.

COULDN'T BE PRESIDENT

If so, the Senate's president pro tempore would become president. Then the new speaker, when elected, could not be president although he would be No. 1 in line of succession if the new president died.

2. In this nuclear age—in case of attack—so many top officials might be wiped out that only some surviving Cabinet member, if any, would be left under the 1947 law to assume the presidency.

★ ★ ★

3. Or, there might be an assassination plot to kill the president, vice president, speaker and Senate president pro tempore. If it succeeded, the secretary of state would become president.

Hardly The Whole Answer

David Lawrence Says:

Fixed Election Dates Are Bad

WASHINGTON — There has never been a period like the present in American politics. It baffles the opposition party, of course, but it points up as well a far more startling weakness in the presidential system than even the law by which successors to a president who dies in office are designated.

LAWRENCE

★ ★ ★

The weakness is the obligation written in the Constitution requiring that presidential and congressional elections be held at fixed times.

★ ★ ★

No vice president who has succeeded to the presidency heretofore has had such a short unexpired term to serve as does President Lyndon Johnson. There are less than 11 months before the next presidential election.

In virtually all other cases where a vice president has succeeded to the top office, there has been time for a record to be made, and hence both parties have had an opportunity to establish their principles in the mind of the electorate.

Mr. Johnson must go before the people largely on the record of his predecessor.

★ ★

The truth is that the period before the presidential election in 1964 is too short for both sides.

NOT FIXED

Under a parliamentary system, the selection of the chief executive is not held on fixed dates but only when the consensus in a country demands that the voters be given a chance to approve or disapprove of the incumbent legislature and administration. A majority vote in the parliament fixes the time for the election.

In the United States today, campaigns are longer than they are in Britain. Yet with plenty of TV and radio time available, there is no real necessity for barnstorming tours and long trips by the presidential candidates.

The late President Kennedy felt that he had to make many personal appearances in different parts of the United States as early as a year before the election. He was actually on a political trip to Texas last month, though there were some nonpolitical gatherings that he addressed on the same journey.

★ ★ ★

The theory has been advanced that a TV appearance discussing national issues doesn't take the place of hand-shaking with local politicians.

If, however, elections were not required at fixed intervals — but only when a major national issue was up for decision by the voters — there would be no need for the numerous campaign trips before the national conventions which some presidents in both parties have felt they had to make.

The difficulty with a fixed election date is that often no single issue happens to be outstanding at the moment. Yet, perhaps a few months later, something of vital importance does come up and public opinion then has no opportunity of expressing itself on that issue at the polls.

There are many things besides the law of presidential succession which need careful examination nowadays.

★ ★ ★

The basic need is that the will of the people shall be expressed at an opportune time and someone chosen for the presidency who will deal with particular issues as the people desire.

Thoughts

A thought for the day—American historian Henry Brooks Adams said, "Knowledge of human nature is the beginning and end of political education."

Bob Considine Says:

Powerful Sub Killer Marks New Arms Phase

For every offensive weapons system there must be a defensive system.

Witness, for example, the current expenditure of countless millions of dollars by the U. S. and the U.S.S.R. in the race to develop an antimissile missile, a missile that will surge up into space and clobber another missile before it can plunge on to its target.

CONSIDINE

If such a defensive weapon is developed by the Russians, then we will set out, at some incredible cost to produce an antimissile missile, designed to knock down the missile that is about to knock down the missile we've thrown at Minsk or Pinsk in the Great Retaliation.

These thoughts emerge from the unveiling here last week of the Navy's newest weapon, the Subroc, a fantastic bit of business built by the Goodyear Aerospace Corp. to strike at the Soviet Union's impressive submarine fleet — if called upon.

★ ★ ★

Simply put, the nuclear-tipped Subroc fits into any standard U.S. Navy submarine torpedo tube.

UNBELIEVABLE

Given the support of the proper black boxes, however, it will do things that early experimenters with the torpedo would not have believed.

Tests in the Pacific have proved beyond question that Subroc will burst from its tube like any conventional torpedo. But there the similarity ends, for keeps.

About 50 yards from the launching sub Subroc's solid fuel engine ignites. With thousands of pounds of thrust it shoots through the water at a steep angle. It breaks through the surface with a great splash and fountain of steam.

Then its inertial guidance system, after checking in a thousandth of a second with the North Star, starts on its way to its target — a submerged enemy submarine far beyond the range of torpedoes. Sonar and Lord knows what else have located the enemy. Electric computers have poured the information into the brain of Subroc.

TOWARD TARGET

At still classified altitude, speed and range the engine breaks loose from the "brain" and nuclear payload after sending it toward its target at very great speed. The payload smashes into the water, plunges down like an overly agitated depth charge, finds the enemy sub, then detonates.

Meanwhile, the Russians are probably at work on an orbiting net designed (hopefully) to swoop down and snare Subroc as it comes busting up from the depths.

Writer Gives Suggestion for Self Rescue From Ice

Now that the winter season is upon us we will be hearing of those who have broken through the ice.

I would like to offer this suggestion to any who may find themselves in this plight. Instead of frantically fighting to get out of the icy water and find the ice so slippery a hold cannot be secured, simply place the arms outstretched on the surface of the ice. Very quickly the clothing will freeze to the ice and afford a firm hold to help you pull yourself out.

Writer Questions Proposed Salary Raise

Congress is asking for a $10,000 a year raise. What have they done to deserve this income? Why doesn't Mr. Broomfield get more money for burial benefits for the people on social security? Two-hundred and forty-four dollars is not enough. They should cut foreign aid, then they could help the aged at home.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Broomfield has forgotten about the workingman. If we have to buy our freedom we will soon go broke. Justice Earl Warren can retire at $35,000 a year. Who will spend that money when he is gone, his relatives?

Let's see that our congressman produces or have a change.

Resident Expresses Sorrow Over Death

I would like to express my grief and sorrow over the loss of our great President, John F. Kennedy. He was one of the greatest leaders since F.D.R. He was a man that never feared death. He never asked for bodyguards or a bulletproof car. The one that did this awful crime is in the hands of a just God. Our great, young leader gave his life for his country and ours. He died a hero.

★ ★ ★

Let's all pray for the new president, Mr. Johnson. Let's give praise to a beautiful wife and mother, Jackie Kennedy, for all the grief and sorrow she had to bear. She was a brave woman to hold up and try to match the strength he had for our country. He was one that never gave up on anything.

★ ★ ★

I would like to see a statue of him placed in our city. His memory will live on for me as the greatest president in our history.

Policeman Thanked for Aiding Daughter

A nice policeman from Waterford came out on Walton Blvd. and helped get my daughter and her friends off a road where the car was stalled.

★ ★ ★

My daughter and her two friends started out for church on Walton Blvd. and got stalled there. They went up to the house and asked if they could use a phone to get out. The nice gentleman said yes he'd help them. He'd call the cops for disturbing the peace! And he did!

I wonder why that man called the police. Because they were teen-agers of course! They only asked for help and the man seemed to think they were criminals.

Let's not blame all teen-agers for what a few do. After all, we adults won't want to be blamed for what other adults do.

Debatable Resolution

The New York News

The City Council adopted a resolution urging the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to spay every female dog and cat it puts up for adoption.

★ ★ ★

This resolution foreshadows a drive by several humane societies for a state law requiring the ASPCA to practice such pet-animal birth control without exceptions. The ASPCA objects strenuously, on several grounds, some of which may have merit. But the idea itself is sound and truly humane, as we see it, and the 1964 Legislature's aim should be merely to write the idea into the best and most workable law that can be drawn up.

★ ★ ★

Our population of piteous stray dogs and cats, unwanted and homeless, is already too large and is growing larger. Humane measures for cutting it down constitute true kindness to animals — and the spaying operation, properly performed, is painless and frequently beneficial.

Absent-Minded

Parade

An absent - minded professor at U.C.L.A., came across a woman in his bedroom. "Madam," he said surprised, "what are you doing here in my bed?" Said the lady equally surprised, "I like this bed, I like this room. I like this house, I like this neighborhood and besides I am your wife."

Wide Choice

The Des Moines Register

Congressional Quarterly called the nation's first lady "Mrs. Claudia T. Johnson" instead of "Lady Bird" or "Mrs. Lyndon B." The usage may spread. "Lady Bird," a baby nickname of Mrs. Johnson, persisted in spite of her efforts to shake it, and she came to accept it because of her husband's delight in it. Part of the delight was in the matching initials it gave them, which they perpetuated in naming their children, pets, and ranch.

★ ★ ★

But affectionate as "Lady Bird" is for a pet name, it has its shortcomings as the formal name for the wife of a President of the United States. A Texan, a senator, a Vice President, maybe — they are all in some degree comic characters. But the Presidency is serious business.

With women's names, the options are wide. A man in the United States has a standard form, from which he departs at his peril. J. William Fulbright manages to part his name on the side instead of the middle, but only at the risk of the "J" getting lost. John Foster Dulles was one of the few Americans to succeed in getting his middle name spelled out in full. As President of the United States, Lyndon B. Johnson could start a nuclear war, but he can't easily be anything but Lyndon B. Johnson.

★ ★ ★

His gracious first lady, however, born Claudia Alta Taylor, can be Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson, or Mrs. Claudia T. Johnson. Take your choice. Or better, yet, take her choice.

Yule Trees Studied

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan Christmas tree is the focal point of the largest and most comprehensive experiment of its kind in the world.

Under the direction of Jonathan Wright, Michigan State University forestry researcher, the project involves more than 100,000 trees planted on 15,000 plots in 39 separate localities throughout the United States and Canada.

About 20 of the plots are in Michigan. Some are located at the Berrien State Forest, national forest land and at Michigan Tech property at Houghton. All are on public land.

★ ★ ★

Wright said one tree, from the Voges Mountains in France, could theoretically speed up Michigan tree production by about 25 per cent.

WOULD REDUCE

"If this tree were planted entirely, it would reduce the time it takes to produce a marketable tree from about eight years to six years," Wright said.

"It grows four feet in five years, and, after that, about two to two and one-half feet per year," he said.

"We grow 162 varieties from the U.S. and 21 foreign countries, including Latvia, Hungary, Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Romania from behind the Iron Curtain," Wright said.

★ ★ ★

Wright is studying the trees on the basis of mineral nutrition, foliage anatomy and growth characteristics. He said the findings should help boost the $3-million-a-year Christmas tree industry in Michigan and, in the long run, also have positive effects on the $300 million-a-year forest products industry.

AVOID SEED

Wright indicated the Michigan growers presently avoid seed from the northern parts of Europe, particularly from the Ural mountains.

"Trees grown from these seeds develop very intense yellow needles," he said. "They start to turn color in early September, and by Christmas time, some of the needles are almost the same color as a ripe lemon."

Wright is making a study of the genetic characteristics of these trees because he said it is important to the development of vigorous hybrids of high quality.

★ ★ ★

The Scotch pine experiment started in 1959 and is slated to continue for eight years. However, the work with the various plots around the world will continue for at least 50 years, Wright said.

"After we finish the Christmas tree study, we will continue to study the trees for pulp wood and timber uses."

Smaller studies are being carried out on 15 other species of pines, spruce, larch, oaks and firs, Wright said.

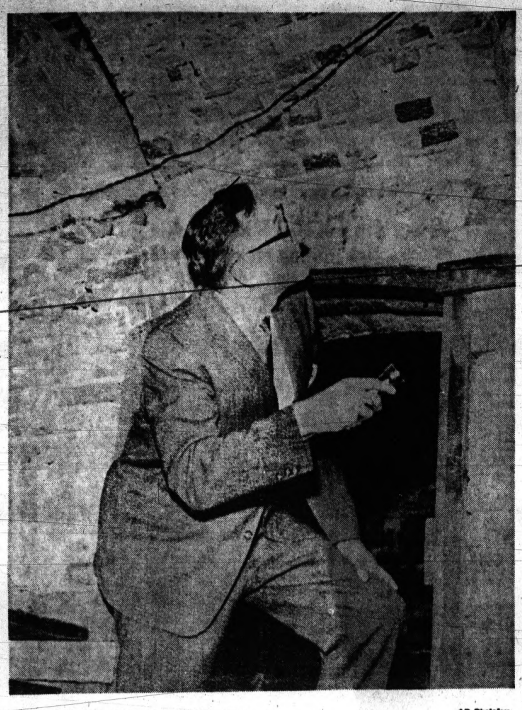
Congressman Is an Historian



AP Photofax

EXPLORING CAPITOL CELLAR—Deep down in a sub-basement of a Washington, D.C. cellar, Rep. Fred Schwengel, R-Iowa, an authority on the history of old buildings, examines a masonry oven used during the Civil War to bake bread for Union troops. Schwengel's hobby is exploration and he has contributed to U.S. Historical Society publications.

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fred Schwengel, tall, rugged and 56, heaved a manhole cover to the side and started to climb down a hole in the ground behind the U.S. Capitol.

"This will make some story," he said with a laugh. "A congressman going down a manhole."

It was a normal exploration —in pursuit of a hobby—in the life of Fred Schwengel, a Republican congressman from Iowa, a man who surely knows more about the byways and history of the Capitol than any other man who works there.

Schwengel's knowledge and enthusiasm about the Capitol came to public notice in the last week with the publication of "We the People." It is a lavishly illustrated history of the Capitol, produced by the National Geographic Society and sponsored by Schwengel's U.S. Capitol Historical Society.

BEST SELLER

On the day he descended into the manhole, Schwengel, flush with the news that the book was a best seller, was taking a group of newsmen, their wives and children on a tour of those recesses of the Capitol hardly anyone but Schwengel ever sees.

Schwengel led his little group down the manhole into a pitch black, narrow corridor that brought them into an oven used to bake bread for Union soldiers during the Civil War.

He showed them the sandstones drifting out of place on the west front of the original building and then the marble bathtub used by senators to bathe during the 19th century and then the ancient, still-working, air - cooling system that brought relief to the Senate chamber in the 1880s and then the magnificent view of Washington from the dome and then more.

WORLD CAPITAL

"When I came to Washington as a congressman in 1955," he said, "my interest quickened. I was in the capital of the world. There was so much history around me. I became so interested that I gave up golf to have more time for reading and exploring."

But, he continued, he soon found out that there wasn't a good one-volume book written on the Capitol.

* * *

"I had been using one written in the 19th century," he said. "That was my bible on the Capitol. In that book, the author says there are 13 columns on top of the Capitol dome holding up the statue of Freedom there, one column for each of the 13 original colonies. I always thought that was a beautiful idea.

"Then one day I climbed up and counted them. There are only 12 columns. I decided a new book was needed."

Schwengel and others organized the U.S. Capitol Historical Society in October 1962, and the history, "We the People," published last week, is the society's first production. The book sells for $1 in the Capitol rotunda.

Vandal Damages Dixie Negro Home

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A steel ball fired Tuesday night by a slingshot-wielding passerby crashed through the front window of the home of a Negro family active in segregation activities here.

* * *

Police said the ball apparently was fired by a person on foot, and from across the street from the home of Arthur Shores. The $50,000 home has been the target of racial bombings twice this year and both times was damaged extensively.

Stripes Rest on Chinning Bar

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Patrolman Tohmas V. Dacey will get another chance to be promoted to sergeant on the Perth Amboy police force if he can get his chin up.

Dacey took the physical examination for the promotion June 26 but flunked when a civil service technician ruled he had not passed the test for chinning the bar.

Dacey appealed, saying the technician yanked a chair out from under him when he barely had a fingerhold on the bar and could not pull himself up.

State Civil Service Commissioner William J. Killeen Jr. ruled that Dacey should be given another chance to chin himself.

Fair Job Ordinance

DANVILLE, Va. (AP) — Danville's City Council passed a fair employment ordinance yesterday a few hours after Negroes staged the first racial demonstration here since last summer.

The two actions apparently were not related, since the demonstration was a series of sit-ins at restaurants and theaters. The ordinance, adopted by a 5-3 vote, prohibits discrimination in the hiring and promotion of city employes.

Ask State Aid for Research

LANSING (AP) — A resolution asking the legislature to approve college research projects worth $418,555 was introduced Tuesday in the House.

The projects are those offered by state institutions of higher learning for inclusion in the economic expansion program approved earlier this year by the legislature.

All will deal with research in a field which would contribute to improvement of the state's economy.

Michigan State University, with five projects of its own and a share of a sixth, leads the list of schools. There are a total of 12 projects on the list, approved earlier by the House Committee on Economic Development.

Financial support for the research would be drawn from the $750,000 fund set up by lawmakers last spring under Gov. George Romney's economic expansion plan.

About one truck out of seven produced in the United States is for export markets.

N.Y. School to Allow American Nazi Speech

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP)—Hofstra University's student council reversed itself Tuesday night and voted to allow American Nazi party leader George Lincoln Rockwell to speak on the campus.

The vote was 7-5 in favor of Rockwell's appearance. Earlier, the council voted 6-5, with one abstention, against his appearance.

Flags to Fly at Full Staff

DALLAS (UPI) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker said yesterday he will fly flags at his house right side up and at full staff "when it stops raining" in spite of the mourning period for President Kennedy.

The three poles in the controversial Walker's front yard were bare yesterday because of the rain.

A month ago, Walker flew the flags upside down because he said President Kennedy had described the country as being "in distress." Flying the flag upside down is an international signal of distress.

Walker normally flies the American, Texas and Confederate flags on the three poles.

"My flags are always flown full staff now," he said.

Great Lakes Water Levels Likely to Hit All-Time Lows in '64

DETROIT (AP)— Lakes Michigan and Huron are expected to plunge by next month to the lowest levels since the Army Corps of Engineers began keeping data on the Great Lakes in 1860.

All five lakes are below 1860-1962 average levels, as well as those for the last 10 years.

★ ★ ★

None is expected to start rising before the end of February, and six months hence it is predicted all still will be below both the long-term and 10-year averages.

The Corps of Engineers blames primarily a series of years of below normal precipitation in the Great Lakes basin. Below - average levels have prevailed continuously on all except Ontario since the beginning of 1962.

NO SET CYCLES

Experts within the lake survey division of the Corps of Engineers say there are no set cycles of wet and dry seasons prevailing within the basin; that they come at irregular, unpredictable intervals. No attempt is made to forecast lake levels more than six months in advance.

Th amount of water needed to fill up feeder streams and smaller lakes, whether early spring rains have a quick run-off over frozen ground or soak in, and whether there is a quick or slow snow-thaw all influence levels, too.

★ ★ ★

Lakes Michigan and Huron, which are joined by the Straits of Mackinac between Michigan's two peninsulas and constantly have similar levels, are expected to begin rising in mid-February, but it is predicted they will be 2.6 feet below the long-term and 2.0 feet below the 10-year average at the beginning of June.

These two lakes are expected to dip this month below their all-time December low set in 1933—a foot below the so-called Low Water Datum Line from which channel depths are measured.

ALL-TIME LOW

By February, it is predicted, they will have fallen below the all-time low set in February, 1926. That was 1.2 feet below Low Water Datum.

A December decline of 4.5 inches, almost twice normal for the month, is predicted on the basis of below normal precipitation thus far and a forecast of below normal by the U.S. Weather Bureau for the rest of the month.

★ ★ ★

Lake Erie sagged below its Low Water Datum Line in November and is expected to fall another .2 of a foot before it begins spring rise in March. A rise of a foot is predicted by the end of May, but even then Erie is expected to be about a foot and a half below the long - term and 10-year averages.

Levels on Lakes Superior and Ontario are somewhat controllable by compensating gates at their outflows into the St. Marys and St. Lawrence Rivers.

BELOW AVERAGE

But both of them currently are below both their long - term and 10-year average depths and neither is expected to reach either level over the next six months. Superior is expected to drop .4 of a foot below Low Water Datum in March and Ontario to hit that line in February.

Great Lakes shipping virtually has ended for the season and the continuing fall thus will have no immediate appreciable effect upon it. A slow spring rise, however, could. For every inch lost in depth, ship operatures measure cargo losses in tons.

★ ★ ★

The pleasure fleet now is in winter quarters, but boat houses that stood over water in some recent wet years, such as 1952, now are on dry land.

Low Water Datum Lines are measured from approximately sea level, specifically the mean level at Father Point, Que., at the mouth of the St. Lawrence. Lake Superior's arbitrarily-line is 600.0 feet above that level; Michigan's and Huron's 576.8; Erie's 568.6, and Ontario's 242.8 feet.

HOME-GROWN LEMONS — It isn't easy to grow lemons right in your own living room, but Mrs. Mary Davidson of 3089 York, Auburn Heights, finally succeeded after six years of patient "green thumbing." The lemon tree was planted from seed, and every year would have fragrant blooms — but not fruit. Now there are four large lemons almost ripe for pluckin' which will be wrapped in tissue paper and stored in the refrigerator for succulent Christmas dinner pies.

Less Reflective Than Earth

Moon's Not Bright and Shiny

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — SPECIAL REPORT

By RALPH DIGHTON
Associated Press Science Writer

PASADENA, Calif. — A funny thing about the moon: it looks bright at night, but that's only because the sky around it is so dark.

Actually, the barren moon is much less reflective than earth with all its lush vegetation, because earth has vast areas of water and sand which throw off the sun's rays almost as well as a mirror.

This is why the United States' first close - up pictures of the moon will have to be taken in black and white, as were those snapped by the Soviet Lunik. There isn't enough natural illumination, even in bright sunlight, for color pictures.

★ ★ ★

The moon's low reflectivity is one reason the Ranger 6 spacecraft, scheduled for launching early next year, will carry nothing but television gear. All once - planned scientific experiments, totaling more than 300 pounds, have been stripped off so Ranger 6 can have better television cameras and more power to operate them.

PRIMARY TEST

"Taking television close - ups of the moon's surface is the primary experiment for Ranger and always has been," project manager Harris Schurmeier said in a preview of Ranger 6 as it underwent last-minute tests at the U.S. space agency's Jet Propulsion Laboratory before shipment to Cape Kennedy, Fla.

"Ranger is our first hope of getting the information we need about the moon's surface before men try to land there. All we really know now is that the lunar surface is light-absorbent.

★ ★ ★

"But is it suitable for a spacecraft to land on? Is the surface a thick layer of dust, into which men would sink and suffocate? Or is it rough-textured like a lava bed, so jagged that a spacecraft would topple over?

"Ranger 6 will tell us at least some of this. Its six cameras will begin sending back pictures of the moon from a height of 1,000 miles, and continue for 10 minutes until the space craft crashes on the lunar surface."

TEST LAUNCHINGS

The first two Ranger shots were test launchings, not aimed at the moon. Two more missed the moon. Ranger 5 hit it but failed to send back signals.

Schurmeier said there will be no equipment to send back direct pictures of what Ranger 6's cameras scan. Its signals will be recorded on tape and then converted into pictures.

★ ★ ★

"We'll have to develop and analyze them," he said, "but we hope to have publishable pictures within 24 to 48 hours."

If everything works, Ranger 6's pictures should be the best yet taken of the moon. The Russians photographed the moon in 1959, but their vehicle came no closer than 6,000 miles.

★ ★ ★

Four Rangers are scheduled for launching next year. After them will come Surveyors, more elaborate craft designed not only to take television pictures but also to make soft landings—braked by retro rockets—and scoop up samples of the lunar surface. Special instruments will analyze the samples and radio the findings back to earth.

Pay Hikes for State's Employes

LANSING (AP) — Pay raises for state workers averaging slightly more than 3 per cent and costing about $6.5 million a year have been recommended in a staff study prepared for the State Civil Service Commission.

About 32,000 classified employes would be affected. Any wage hike authorized would become effective next July.

The commission, meanwhile, announced a public hearing on the recommendation for next Tuesday. A commission decision is expected next Wednesday.

Under the new state constitution, any pay raise ordered by the commission can be adjusted by the legislature or vetoed by a two thirds majority of both houses.

FINAL SAY

The commission previously had the final say in the matter although the legislature could force cuts in state agency staffs by reducing their appropriations.

The last general pay adjustment for state workers was a 4 per cent raise effective at the start of the fiscal year this past July.

* * *

The proposed adjustments would give most state workers an increase of between 3 and 4 per cent; give no increases for medical doctors or psychiatrists who received special mid-year adjustments a few months ago; provide most institution service workers with a 2 per cent increase, and give special adjustments of from 6 to 10 per cent to a few classes such as clinical psychologists and community planning specialists.

Schools to Eye Swim Program

Recreations Director to Propose Extension

Extension of the instructional and competitive swimming program in Pontiac schools will be proposed tomorrow night at the regular meeting of the Board of Education.

Dr. Lee Haslinger, director of physical education, athletics and recreation, will present the swimming proposal.

Dr. Haslinger will tell board members that Pontiac students have to wait until the 10th grade before "we make any serious effort to teach beginning, advanced, and competitive swimming skills."

The estimated cost of the new swimming program is $6,000 annually.

TRANSPORTATION PLAN

In other business, a report will be presented reviewing the school district's transportation program, including the number of pupils on various bus runs, bus routes and associated problems.

Richard C. Fell, assistant superintendent, is slated to make a preliminary report on rehabilitation needs of local school buildings. Fell seeks to develop plans to handle rehabilitation in the next few years.

Tomorrow night's meeting is the only regularly scheduled session of the Pontiac school board this month, because of the holidays.

Perjury Brings Second Term

A Port Huron youth serving a 5- to 15-year prison term for unarmed robbery was given another identical sentence yesterday for perjury during the trial of an accomplice in the robbery.

John W. Breathour, 20, was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Breathour was convicted of perjury by a jury Nov. 20. He was accused of lying under oath in the October trial of Charles Byas, 22, of Detroit.

* * *

Breathour, Byas and Norman Royer, 21, of Avon Township forced their way into a Waterford home May 30 and took the occupant's money and car after fleeing from Camp Pontiac, a minimum security prison in White Lake Township.

CONTRADICTED STATEMENT

Breathour, who pleaded guilty to the robbery charge along with Royer, said at Byas' trial that Byas was not with them in the robbery, contradicting earlier statements he had made.

* * *

Byas was convicted. He and Royer also received 5- to 15-year prison terms.

Vote to Rename Idlewild for JFK

NEW YORK (AP) — City Council has voted to rename Idlewild Airport in memory of the late President John F. Kennedy.

* * *

The airport measure, approved unanimously Tuesday, is believed to be the first local law ever sponsored by the entire council. Mayor Robert F. Wagner's signature is assured. Idlewild would be known henceforth as the John F. Kennedy International Airport.

Slam Cigarettes for Delinquents in State Institutions

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A practice of furnishing cigarettes to juvenile delinquents in state institutions came under attack Tuesday by the finance committee of the Kent County Board of Supervisors.

* * *

It followed a statement from a New York institution to cover the cost—including $1.68 for cigarettes and magazines — of returning a 14-year-old boy here from New York.

* * *

Lawrence Larsen, director of juvenile court services, said smoking is permitted in state institutions but prohibited at Kent County facilities.

* * *

He was instructed by the committee to inform New York officials that Kent County objects to paying such costs in the future.

See? You Can Do Anything Better Than We

Pontiac Press Photos by Edward E. Noble

First you cut the aluminum foil to fit the lamp shade. Who says this job would be difficult?

Now you take artificial wreathing and trim the foil-covered shade. Maybe I should have bought some tree ornaments too.

Lamp shade? Why, this is my Christmas hat. You've heard of being all dressed up like a Christmas tree, haven't you? And I got some ornaments on it after all.

The best laid schemes o' mice and men
Gang aft a-gley: (To a Mouse by Robt. Burns)

By JEANMARIE ELKINS

And so it went as I innocently made plans and purchased materials to make a Christmas party wig out of holiday ribbon.

I'm widely known among my friends and family for my lack of creative artistic ability. It was decided, that if I could make a party wig of ribbon, ANYONE could make one.

* * *

Packing my clothing for a weekend trip, I tucked the precious instructions deep into a mammoth purse, which I stuffed under the seat of my car.

STOLEN!

During the course of the evening, someone broke into said car and cleaned it out. Along with all my clothes and purse, some lucky soul now has the only copy of a set of instructions for making a holiday party wig.

Tuesday morning came, and there I sat, with no instructions and no project in mind.

* * *

Remembering an old lamp shade at home, I rushed to my car and picked it up. I brought along an assortment of Christmas wrapping paper, ribbon, lace, Christmas cards, and other miscellaneous articles with which to transform the shade into a thing of beauty.

Clutching my treasures, I rushed back to The Pontiac Press to perform my creative miracle.

Obviously something had to be done with the dingy shade. I began by covering it with silver foil, cutting it to size and leaving one-half inch on either side to fold over the edges.

By holding one end of the foil with tape, it was a simple task even for me to roll the shade into the foil, fastening the opposite end with rubber cement.

From this beginning any number of ideas were possible. I finally decided on a spruce garland. One available locally is made of polyethylene and can be pulled apart and put together in a number of places, affording a variety of designs.

Securing this in place with staples around the edges of the lampshade, I then attached a number of small Christmas tree ornaments.

This particular design might appeal to those who, for one reason or another, do not wish to put up a full size Christmas tree. A decorated lampshade might serve the same purpose.

* * *

The variety of designs is limited only by the imagination. Ribbons and Christmas cards may be used to make designs. Or the real artists may wish to paint his own design or make a mosaic by using various colors of decorative tape.

And, of course, in a moment of desperation when you 'haven't got a thing to wear' a decorative lampshade may double as a holiday chapeau!

By MIRIAM NEAL

Making an apron can be sticky business.

In the women's department we were looking for holiday ideas and decided to try some ourselves . . . so you could profit from our mistakes.

I can't sew and am generally unskilled to the point of being pathetic with my hands. So I chose something easy. An apron. Not a lovely thing of organdy, or chintz or brightly colored cotton. But a paper apron.

* * *

All that was needed was some Christmas wrapping paper, two yards of border lace, a half yard of 27" wide Pellon and some color coordinated ribbon. Plus lots of rubber cement, a pair of scissors and plenty of elbow room.

I wasn't going to experiment. Just follow the instructions step by step. 1) Cut square of gift wrap 14"x19" (easy enough, just remember to make the marks on the wrong side of the paper and take extra precautions so your straight line isn't wiggly)

WATCH THOSE CORNERS!

2) Round corners on bottom edge. (Warning! be sure it's the bottom edge. An apron will look a little silly with upside down Christmas trees.

Suggestion: use a saucer or other stable object when rounding the corners, otherwise continuous trimming will result in a pretty dinky apron.)

3) Taper in to waistline. (Just four words! But think of it. This can make or break the whole thing. But keep calm.)

Draw a straight line (on the wrong side of the paper) from the upper end of the curve to the waistline. Measure the distance from the line to edge of the paper and draw another line the same distance from the opposite edge. Then, and only then, cut.

4) Scoop waistline down one inch at center. (Measure for the center. Measure one inch. Use ruler from mark to corner, draw line. Follow the line when cutting. Thus avoid sagging waistline)

* * *

5) Cut Pellon in corresponding shape. (They mean corresponding to the apron. It's simple. Just trace and cut.)

6) Apply rubber cement to back of both parts. (All over. This is where things start to get sticky. Please! remember that the rubber cement will GO THROUGH the Pellon. I found out the hard way.)

7) When dry, press together. (This like trying to put a good table cloth on right the first time. Only worse. Suggestion: get someone to help you, otherwise it is all too prone to stick in the wrong places.)

MEASURE AGAIN

8) Cut strip from gift wrap for waistband 2½" wide. (Again, MEASURE, PLEASE.)

9) Gather lace, then glue to edge of apron at back. (If you don't like rubber cement stop here. No matter how neat you are, your fingers will wallow in it.)

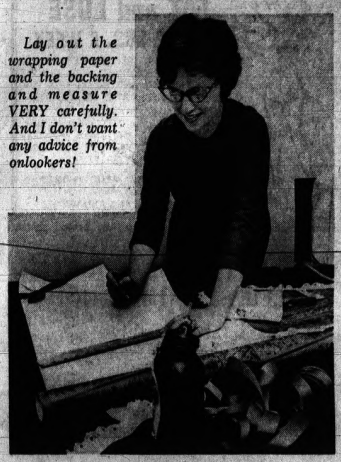
After I was halfway through it occurred to me that double faced sticky tape or real live thread would do just as well. But, alas, it was too late. So I smeared on.

* * *

10) Cement strip of Pellon to one half of waistband lengthwise then fold waistband in half. Cement apron between open edge. (If you think about it long enough you'll figure out what they mean. That's all that's difficult about this step.)

11) Staple ribbon ties at each side of waistband. About 20" long.

Then on my desk there arose such a clatter that people jumped to see what was the matter. And oh! to their wondering eyes there did appear: A crisp little apron for Christmas this year.



Lay out the wrapping paper and the backing and measure VERY carefully. And I don't want any advice from onlookers!

Putting on the lace is simple if you can keep the rubber cement off your fingers. Maybe I should take up sewing.

How does this look? That pocket was my own idea. And if the apron gets dirty, I'll throw it away and make another one . . . . maybe.

Musicale Presents Christmas Festival

A festival of Christmas music was presented Tuesday afternoon at Central Methodish Church. Pontiac Tuesday Musicale chorus, directed by Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer and accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Schmitz and Mrs. W. H. Sink, organist, were the artists.

* * *

At the opening of the program members and guests joined in singing carols led by Mrs. D. B. Hogue and accompanied by Mrs. M. J. Wages.

* * *

Introduced by Mrs. J. B. Nicolls Jr., Mrs. Gaensbauer directed the chorus in a variety of numbers, ranging from 14th century German to modern settings of more familiar tunes.

BACH

The chorus opened with "Good Christian Men, Rejoice." Following was Bach's familiar "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light" from the Christmas Oratorio.

"O Magnum Mysterium," 16th century by Victoria, was sung in Latin. A quartet consisting of Mrs. William Brady, Mrs. John Radenbaugh, Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks and Mrs. Alfred DuBruck was featured with the chorus.

Brahms' "Ave Maria" by the chorus followed, after which Mrs. O. L. Smith and Mrs. V. M. Lindquist sang "Mater Ora Filium."

ORGANIST

Opening her group of organ selections with the modern arrangement of "Greensleeves," Mrs. Sink continued with "In Dulci Jubilo," an ancient carol arranged by Peaksell, and "Pastorale" from "La Prologue de Jesus," a traditional tune arranged by Clokey.

* * *

The chorus followed with a modern setting of an old English carol and "Hark Now, O Shepherds," a Moravian folk carol arranged by Luvaas. Then another quartet composed of Mrs. LaVerne Cox, Mrs. Richard Esser, Mrs. George Putnam and Mrs. Max Shane sang "The Cherry Tree Carol," a Kentucky mountain carol.

Solos by Mrs. William Mercer and Mrs. P. E. Rathgeb Jr., highlighted "Go, Tell It on the Mountain."

* * *

Concluding the program was "Wreathe the Holly, Twine the Bay" by Branscombe with Mrs. L. A. Ryden as soloist.

Following the program a social hour was held in the fellowship hall.

Group Meets in Home

Members of Epsilon chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa were entertained in the new Lacota Drive home of Helen Kinney and Mabel Smith for their December meeting Monday.

Gifts were brought for patients at Pontiac State Hospital and the Oakland County Children's Center.

Members sang Christmas carols, accompanied on the organ by Miss Smith.

Plans Made at Meeting of the Board

Members of the executive board of the New Citizens League of Pontiac met at the North Ann Arbor Avenue home of Mrs. Janice Antona Saturday evening.

* * *

Plans were completed for the annual "Christmas Around the World" program to be held Dec. 20 at 8 p.m. in the Pontiac Central High School cafeteria.

The board voted a Christmas donation to be given to the Oakland County Youth Center.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

Minister Is Illiterate

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that bothers me immensely. We have a new minister whose language is atrocious.

ABBY

I can hardly sit through his sermons any more. He says, "He done," "had went" and "they is." Abby, don't you think that after four years in Bible college he should be able to do better than that?

My 10-year-old son notices these mistakes and mentions them to me. Is there a remedy?

SMALL TOWN

* * *

DEAR SMALL: I don't know how "small" your town is, but if the people were bigger they could raise enough money to import a more literate minister.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is interfering with my marriage. We have lived with her ever since we've been married and she is the type who likes to run everything herself because nobody can do anything as well.

I have never made a meal, and I am not allowed to clean or iron. If I do anything, she does it over.

* * *

My husband thinks I should consider myself lucky to have free room and board. When his mother criticizes me, my husband never says a word to defend me.

Should I leave him now before we have any children?

UNHAPPY

* * *

DEAR UNHAPPY: If it's a question only of whether you should leave him BEFORE you have children, or AFTER you have had them, I'd say leave him now.

Better yet, why don't you BOTH leave his mother? The room and board is far from free — it's costing you your happiness.

DEAR ABBY: I have recently moved to a city where I have no friends and know very few people. I would like to meet a handicapped girl between 20 and 30.

All the handicapped girls I have ever met have such a sweet quality about them. Perhaps it is because they have suffered and consequently have more feeling and depth.

This may seem strange to you, but I have my reasons. Where can I meet such a girl?

"S"

* * *

DEAR "S": The local Society for Crippled Children and Adults (also known as the Easter Seal Society) is listed in your telephone directory.

Ask them if you may be included in their next social get-together when their local club meets. I am sure they will welcome you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO KENTUCKIAN: It doesn't take any more energy to PLAN than it does to wish.

* * *

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

* * *

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Dinner Held by Local Club

Mrs. Tom Hruska opened her Iroquois Road home Tuesday evening for the Pontiac Opti-Mrs. Club's annual cooperative Christmas dinner.

Mrs. Roland Smith and Mrs. Carl Rose assisted the hostess.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Vyola Whitted demonstrated cake decorating and Christmas gifts and trimmings.

Mrs. Charles Crane and Mrs. Mark Dahon were guests.

Rector's Wife Guides Annual Christmas Tea

Mrs. Carl R. Sayers, wife of the rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will be hostess to the women of the parish for their annual Christmas tea.

On Monday the women and their guests will gather at the rectory. This is one of the purely social events on the calendar of the Episcopal Churchwomen. It has been held in a member's home just before Christmas each year since the founding of the congregation in 1867.

Traditionally, the women bring to the tea wrapped gifts for patients at the Pontiac State Hospital.

HOSPITAL VISITS

Since 1958 several St. Stephen's women have made monthly visits to the State Hospital. Mrs. Jack Dillon of Birmingham is chairman of the group which takes cookies and coffee there on the second Thursday of each month.

* * *

The women serve their refreshments, play games and visit with the patients in a specific ward of the hospital.

Dances Set for Holiday

The Square Set is making plans for their Christmas square dance and gala New Year's Eve dance.

* * *

Saturday evening from 8:30 p.m. to 12 a.m. the group will hold their Christmas square dance at Herrington Hills School. All intermediate square dancers are welcome.

* * *

A buffet luncheon will be served. For further information, call Mrs. Russell J. Williams of Oaknoll Street, Mrs. Margaret Harris of Rochester or Mrs. Melzer W. Searway of Troy.

* * *

The New Year's Eve dance will be held at the Pontiac Township Hall beginning at 9 p.m. A buffet luncheon will be served.

* * *

All square dancers are welcome. Further information and reservations may be obtained by contacting Charles Hocevar of Elizabeth Lake Road.

WCTU Unit Holds Meeting

Gifts for the Pontiac State Hospital were gathered at the Monday evening meeting of the Pontiac Unit of the Women's Christian Temperance Union at the First Church of the Brethren.

Mrs. Edward Shelby and Mrs. Richard Green provided music and Mrs. Leonard Blackwell told a Christmas story.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Engene Shelton and Mrs. Sherril Grubbs.

Sturdiness Is Glamour

You have to see the latest bathrobe to believe it! Instead of the traditional baggy blanket-type tied with rope, it has the glamour of filmy nylon fabric, lace, and embroidery. But from a maintenance standpoint, this confection is just as sudsable as its more plebian ancestor.

Home Problems Traced to 'Fun' Ethic

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

"The 'fun' ethic is the root of the adolescent problem at home and in school." I was recently told by Fred M. Hechinger, New York Times education editor and author of the widely discussed book "Teen-age Tyranny."

★ ★ ★

"The notion that all struggle should be removed from children's experience must be the first to go if we are to get them back on the track."

I agree with him. But remove the "fun" fraud from children's lives? How can we? Don't we live by it ourselves?

Certainly, many teen-agers indulge in precocious sexual activity. But what about their elders who "buy now and pay later" for the fun they want — the vacations, cruises, transistor radios?

Isn't this the land of the credit card—the deferred bill? Who among us grownups is willing to postpone gratification until we've paid for it?

Sure, this is the country where teachers teach children that work is ordeal by saying, "O.K., you've had your fun now. Let's get back to work."

But isn't this also the country of the time clock, the coffee break. Do we parents go to work with joy in the opportunity to use our energies productively? Or do we have to be hounded to it? Given our playtimes?

Unquestionably, schools have created a whole philosophy to spare children dull drill in phonic preparation for reading. But how about our devotion to "labor-saving" devices? who among us personally strains baby's vegetables?

Aren't our gadgets here to spare us dullness, too? What about our washing machines, the buttons that spare us the exertion of getting up and turning the television dial?

★ ★ ★

Undoubtedly, the teen-ager dares not differ himself from his "crowd," dares not wear clothes or serve snacks other teen-agers don't wear or serve. But don't our child guidance "experts" tell us to get the support of other parents before we rule against school night parties?

What parent among us dares stand up for his own convictions without HIS "crowd" behind him?

It will take a powerful lot of uprooting to uproot the "fun" ethic from the lives of Americans. I wonder what the Founding Fathers would think of the "fun" ethic in operation. It bears little resemblance, I'm afraid, to the "pursuit of happiness" they had in mind on July 4, 1776.

Subtle Beauty of Plastic Mats

The appearance of your Christmas table can be enhanced with "linen look" textured plastic mats tastefully designed to hold even your most elaborate or formal table appointments. Their white surface is decorated along one side with a spruce and candle motif.

But don't be fooled by the delicate appearance — just a sudsy sponge is needed to wipe the place mats clean.

Soap Face Then Shave

A noted dermatologist—Dr. Herbert Mexcon, of the Boston University School of Medicine — advises men to wash their faces with soap and water for at least one minute before shaving.

This preliminary soaping serves to soften whiskers and remove the natural oil which might impede razor action!

Children May Act in Wedding

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My daughter would like to have her six nieces as bridesmaids. The oldest is 14 and the youngest 6. Her only adult attendant would be the maid of honor who is her age.

She has her heart set on having the children and while I think they would look very sweet in the wedding, I have never before heard of having only children as bridesmaids. Would this be in good taste?

★ ★ ★

A: Although often seen in England, it would be very unusual in this country to have only children as bridesmaids. However, if they can be counted on to walk up the aisle correctly, your daughter may quite properly have them take part in the wedding.

Q: Before paying a visit to friends, is it not proper to telephone first to see if it is convenient for them? I have always made this a practice.

However, few people seem to do it. Am I right in thinking this is an exacted courtesy?

★ ★ ★

A: Telephoning before paying a visit is not exacted, but it is certainly a thoughtful courtesy that should be encouraged.

Q: I was married two months ago. I still go to work. Now that I am married, should I include my husband's name with me on Christmas cards to fellow employes? Most of them have never met my husband.

A: You would include his name only on the cards you send to those who know him.

The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Formal only on the cards you send to those who know him.

The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Formal Wedding Procedure," includes details on the wedding procession, the receiving line and other helpful wedding information.

Use These Two and Be Warm

Two unusual electric pads forecast heat waves for winter nights.

One is a quilted "footwarmer" which can be spread across the foot of the bed, or higher for relaxing warmth under back and shoulders. It's machine-washable, of course.

A smaller oblong heating pad can be applied to the exact spot of pain. This comes with two removable covers — one to launder while the other is in use.

Beads Get Bathed Right 'On Location'

To wash those fashionable new beaded curtains, run a sudsy sponge down the length of each strand — right "on location." Follow up with a damp rinse cloth.

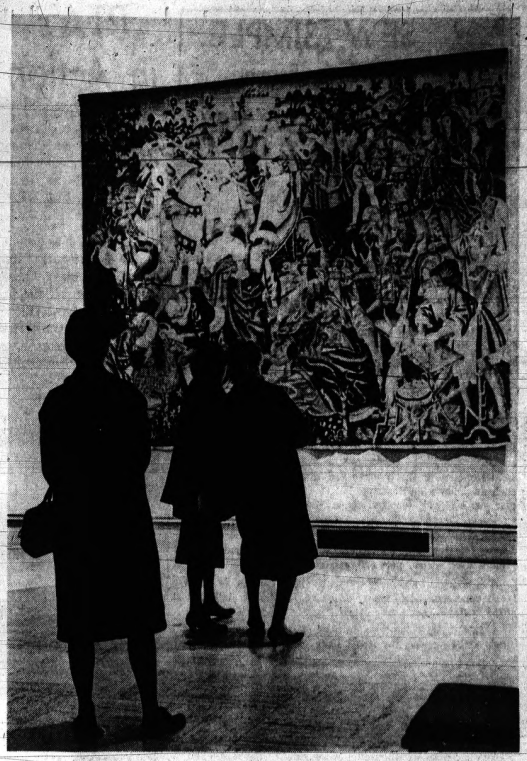
Getting a close look at a 20th Century tapestry currently on display at Cranbrook Institute of Art Museum are John McIntosh of Birmingham and Kay Weaver, Franklin, Pa. Designed originally as a stained glass window, this tapestry was borrowed from Christ Church, Cranbrook. The tapestries will be on display through mid January.



Visitors come daily to see the historical tapestry exhibit. Seen above is a typical medieval example. The design fills every bit of the hanging and makes no attempt at perspective. The Art Institute is open every day but Monday and holidays. There is an admission charge.

Let Sons Do Laundry, Too

Mothers who work outside the home often find it beneficial to have sons as well as daughters help with the family laundry.

By learning to turn out a sparkling clean wash with ease, boys gain valuable experience for the day when they will be "on their own" at college, in a bachelor apartment—or helping an extra-busy wife.

Sharp Idea for Suede

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — My college roommate is betting a silver dollar that you will not use one of my hints.

If you have a pair of suede pumps that have rain spots on them, rub the spots with an emery board. The spots will disappear before your eyes. (But not too hard or so will the suede. —POLLY)

● My white washcloths do not stay white very long so I boil them with lemon rinds. This will also whiten dish towels and remove the discoloration from cooking vessels.—JEAN.

DEAR POLLY — I like to grow mint but dislike the way it grows wild and tries to take over the entire garden.

To prevent this, I cut both the top and bottom out of a two-pound coffee tin, sink it into the ground so that the top of the can is at ground level and plant the mint inside the can.

It will thrive and grow, will not spread and will provide all the mint leaves I want—MRS. E. J.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY—If you have a clothesline that you take down between laundry days here is a good way to store it.

Bend a wire coat hanger so that the curved ends bend in instead of out, wrap the clothesline around the indented center and hang in a convenient place.

● For a spool rack, use the pliers to untwist a wire hanger below the hook. Slip spools of thread down onto the bottom bar. To close the hanger, slip an empty spool over the hook and onto the open ends. Hang on one arm of a chair while sewing.—MRS. L. G.

DEAR POLLY — I am 6 years old and my mother is writing this for me. One day, to her delight, I drank all the broth from my vegetable soup through a straw. She thought this a good idea that might entice other children to drink broth they otherwise would avoid.—CATHY

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer: I have a clutch type cashmere coat which I constantly have to 'clutch' to keep warm. I am wondering if I can put bound buttonholes in it at this late date. I will have some extra material because the coat needs to be shortened.

Mrs. C. J. L.

Dear Mrs. C. J. L.: Yes, you certainly may still put buttonholes in your coat. Remove any stitching that was used to attach the facing to the lining. Fold the facing back out of the way, since the buttonholes will be made on just one layer of fabric.

Carefully mark and space the buttonholes and proceed as you would if the garment had not been completed. Hand sew the lining to the facing, finish the back of the buttonholes through the facing by hand and presto, you will feel that you are wearing a new coat.

(If you need help with the buttonholes, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for my free leaflet, "Bound Buttonholes." Address Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Dear Eunice: I am in the process of making a coat and am very disturbed because the front edges swing to the sides instead of hanging nice and straight. It there any way to correct this?

Mrs. B. R.

Dear Mrs. B. R.: It is very difficult to diagnose problems such as yours without seeing the coat, however, I think I can give you a remedy that will correct this.

This often happens when a woman is full-busted and the coat pattern has very small darts. (Remember how often I have told you that the larger your bust measurement, the more dart control you will need)?

Try taking a much deeper dart at the underarm, or if there is no underarm dart, make one just opposite the fullest part of the bust.

This should swing the side front of the coat up, which in turn usually makes the fronts hang perfectly straight.

Don't be alarmed because the side seams come out a little uneven—they can be straightened when the hem is marked.

GIFT WINNER

Attach a zipper about 2 inches from the edge of a wash cloth and machine stitch all 4 of the sides of the wash cloth to the end of a beach towel.

Result: a handy pocket for sun glasses, lotion, cigarettes, makeup or whatever!"

This great idea that can be made in a matter of minutes and make a fine gift for male or female of any age, wins this week's Tailor Trix award for Mrs. Richard Witbrodt, Bay City, Mich.

Dear Eunice Farmer: You seem to come to the rescue for everyone. I am keeping my fingers crossed that you will be able to help me. I have a beautifully simple, dressy black dress that fit me last year.

Unhappily, it is too tight this year. I tried to let out the seams but there was an ugly mark that I couldn't get out.

I need this dress desperately for the Holidays because I can't afford a new one. Have you any suggestions?"

Mrs. A. B. R.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. A. B. R. Thanks for your confidence, I hope I can always come up with the answers you need. Since this is a perfect year for the oriental influence, why not open the side seam (or seams) face the edges and make a half slip (or skirt) out of a dull black satin.

You will not only be in style, but if you lose weight this year, you can always close up the seam again. (Actually, this idea could be used in a combination of colors, textures, or whatever.

You may even prefer a tunic look you can create by cutting the hem shorter than your under skirt. Designs are often created through necessity).

Do you need a colorful cocktail hat for a few of the Holiday parties? If so, and you don't want to spend much money, spend a few hour's time instead and make a real eye-catcher.

Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Sew Simple and request a copy of our instructions for making a satin cocktail hat. It will brighten up any dull costume!

OES Holds Dinner to Celebrate Season

A Christmas buffet dinner, caroling, and a gift exchange preceded the business meeting for Pontiac Chapter No. 228, Order of the Eastern Star, Monday evening at the Pontiac Masonic Temple.

The arrangements for the evening were under the direction of Mrs. N. D. Vincent, Catherine McCrindle, Mrs. LeRoy Hecox, and Glen Williams.

During the business meeting plans were made for a rummage sale this Saturday.

Glen Williams and Mrs. Meta Mc Ilroy led the group in Christmas carols to close the meeting.

See Sparkle in Stockings

When fashion forecasters speak of a Sparkling Season ahead, you can take them literally. Even your legs will glow! Newest of the nylons geared for holiday parties glitter with gold and silver.

Don't worry that the sparkle may wash out because these new hose are made of glittering yarn with the sparkle permanently built in. Just squeeze them through lukewarm soap or detergent suds and rinses.

Remove Film of Wax Often

In recent years, linoleum and similar types of floor covering have moved from the kitchen to every room in the house. These floorings look best with a light film of self-polishing wax, but this should not be allowed to accumulate. Layer over layer, because thick wax becomes increasingly difficult to remove.

Instead, wash floor often with warm soap or detergent suds and a soft mop, then rinse with a clean mop wrung out of warm rinse water.

See Sea-Cow Get Sudsy-Soak

One southern city launched its cleanliness campaign with a demonstration of a sea-cow taking a bath in thick, soapy lather. This is proof positive that there's nothing like a sudsy soak to clean animals — including people!

Candlelight Ceremony Marks Local Wedding

Rev. Lyle Harmon officiated at the marriage of Beverly Ann Mullin to Larry James Keeley, recently, in the home of the Lynn R. Swansons on Barkman Drive.

The Marvin Mullins of Oxbow Lake are parents of the bride and her husband is the son of Mrs. Swanson and the late Arthur Keeley.

The bride's gown of white chiffon over taffeta was styled with long-sleeved bodice of Chantilly lace and a bouffant street-length skirt. Her silk illusion veil fell from a jeweled tiara.

An orchid corsage and the bridegroom's gold-and-pearl necklace completed the ensemble.

Drucilla Petersen as maid of honor, appeared in Nile green velveteen with satin tunic. She carried red and white variegated carnations. Bobbie Ruth Swanson attended as flower girl.

Gary M. Keeley stood as best man for his brother and Charles Swanson of Walwick, N.J., seated guests at the candlelight ceremony, followed by a home reception.

The newlyweds will reside on Mt. Clemens Street.

Post Office Has Bountiful Harvest

Some $125 million worth of postage will be used on Christmas cards and packages this year. This is enough stamps to cover 350 acres or half a square mile. If placed end-to-end, the stamps would stretch some 30,000 miles — once around the world, with plenty to spare.

If Light Is Bright You Work Better

Make sure that your kitchen sink is adequately lighted. This prevents the fatigue of working in your own shadow. It also lets you see clearly whether you are sudsing and rinsing the dishes thoroughly enough to protect your family's health.

Easy Holiday Window

This Christmas you can let children fancy up windows and mirrors in the house to their hearts content. No need to discourage them from this fun occupation because of haunting visions of post holiday dismantling when you're met by stubborn resistance from soap, push button snow and decals. There'll be no problem, if you follow this simple procedure.

Draw a Santa, a tree or other Christmasy motif on a large sheet of paper. Cut out design to form a stencil and attach stencil to the window with snips of adhesive or cellophane tope.

★ ★ ★

Now mix four tablespoons of baking soda with a half-cup of water in a flit gun, atomizer or other squirt-type contraption and let youngsters spray window with mixture. This "snow-da," after a couple of applications, produces the same affect as the push-button snow only it costs considerably less and since it's a pure food product it's perfectly safe for children to work with.

No need to worry if it travels from hand to mouth. And no need to worry if the aim is wild and the soda lands on rug or furniture. The solution dries to a fine white powder which can be brushed off or whisked up with the vacuum.

EASILY REMOVED

When it comes time for you to step in and remove decor after the holidays are over, the only equipment you need is a dry terrycloth towel. The "sno-da" brushes off with the greatest of ease, taking with it any soil and dust and leaving panes sparkling.

★ ★ ★

Youngsters can also use "snow-da" to give the Christmas tree and greens a frosty coating. Or greens can be dipped in a soda solution.

Toys Too Vital for Haphazardry

Toys are the tools with which a child grows, learns, has fun and discovers the world around him. A guide to parents of pre-schoolers on the significance and wise selection of toys is available in a free booklet, "Play Tools to Shape a Child's World," from Playskool Research, 437 Merchandise Mart, Chicago, Ill.

Pontiac Lodge Will Present Tots' Program

Pontiac Vasa Lodge 510 will present a children's program, directed by Mrs. Margaret Brooks, at the Christmas party, Saturday in the Knights of Pythias Hall on Voorheis Road.

The business meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. sharp and dancing will follow the program.

The Arvid Englunds, the John Wennstens and the Arvid Nybergs comprise the committee.

Members and friends of the lodge are invited.

Lacy Lingerie Is Sturdy Stuff

Although sheer lacy lingerie may look delicate, it is usually made of sturdy, machine-washable synthetic fabrics. These "come clean" after short suds and rinse cycles.

Junior Editors Quiz on JEEPS

QUESTION: How did the jeep get its name?

ANSWER: The jeep was developed during the 1930s as part of a program for motorization of the U.S. Army.

It was first thought of as a fast scouting car to use in place of the motorcycle—but it was soon found that the little jeep could do an amazing amount of work.

Only 11 feet long, its four-wheel drive and powerful four-cylinder engine, combined with a light body, enabled it to plow through mud; jolt its way over rock trails; cross rickety bridges.

It could carry six men, serve as an ambulance, fight fire, and could be used as a mobile machine gun mount or to haul ammunition.

Because of these capabilities, the little car's official name was General Purpose vehicle, of G. P. The sounds of "G" and "P" suggested its name, "jeep."

This is only one explanation of the name; not everyone agrees to it. Some say it came from a cartoon character created by E. C. Segar. When used with capitals, the word jeep is a trade-mark for a present-day civilian car of similar type.

FOR YOU TO DO: The big picture shows a jeep sharing a moment of triumph. Can you guess what three-star general is riding toward us? It is the American general, Mark Clark, riding into Rome after his troops had taken that city during World War II.

Postage Stamps Honor President Kennedy

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (EN)—The tragic assassination of our late President John F. Kennedy has focused the attention of many philatelists to the Togo Kennedy Visit issue, and we already have had numerous inquiries for this set.

The stamps were issued last year when Togolese President Olympio visited Washington.

Cameo portraits of both Presidents Kennedy and Olympio appear on these stamps which also show the Capitol . . . the 100F denomination is set in a large souvenir sheet measuring 3"x4" with the White House and Palace of Togo and both countries' flags in full color, as well as the portraits of both presidents.

Due to the limited remaining quantities of this issue, we can offer the available stocks of sets and sheets on a first come first served basis.

Interested collectors may obtain the set of 3 stamps and the large souvenir sheet by sending $2.00 to ELMONT STAMP CO., Queens Village 29, N.Y. (We reserve the right to limit quantities) approvals and other offers will be included.

Bachelor Hopes Santa Claus Will Supply a Wife

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An Oklahoma City man is ready to end his bachelor status—if Santa Claus can supply the right name.

The Oklahoma City Times promised to fulfill the fondest wishes of the best three letter-writers in a Christmas contest.

★ ★ ★

The marriage-ready bachelor, who signed his real name but asked that a pen name be used at present, said he wants a list of marriageable women.

"I must meet more women fast," he told Santa. "One at a time is too slow. At 60 there is not much time left."

Wake Forest Paper Names 'Who Ain't'

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., (UPI) — The Wake Forest College student newspaper, protesting the exclusion of 25 students from the publication "Who's Who at American Colleges and Universities," has named the students to an organization called "Who Ain't."

★ ★ ★

"We hope, through the 'Who Ain't' list, to bring home the need for revising the criteria for 'Who's Who,'" said Charles Osolin of Broomall, Pa., editor of the Old Gold and Black.

The newspaper said the selection of students for "Who's Who" should be based on extra curricular as well as academic accomplishments. Some critics also have claimed "political feelings" were involved in the selections.

Pontiac City Affairs

Commission Tables JFK Name for Loop

The perimeter road is still the perimeter road.

A motion to name the highway John F. Kennedy Drive was tabled indefinitely last night by the City Commission.

Commissioners indicated they would give the matter more thought after receiving a planning commission recommendation that the highway be officially known as the perimeter road.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Robert A. Landry moved to table the resolution suggesting it be named after the assassinated president.

SLATED FOR ACTION

The resolution had been introduced by Commissioner Dick M. Kirby last week and was slated for action last night.

Commissioners are unofficially considering the possibility of naming a park after Kennedy instead of the loop highway.

In other action at last night's meeting, comimssioners tabled a resolution to pay the American Legion Cook-Nelson Post $15,000 for a triangular parcel of land at Oakland and Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

The land is needed for right-of-way for a proposed interior loop road designed to circulate traffic inside the perimeter road.

LEGAL DESCRIPTION

Commissioners Winford E. Bottom and Loy L. Ledford suggested action be tabled until a legal description of the land, including its size in feet, is prepared for the commission.

They also felt it would be unwise to purchase the parcel until the city agrees on a price for adjacent property also needed. That property belonging to First Baptist Church. The church property does not include the church building.

In another move, Ledford asked City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling to prepare for commissioners a list of all current city projects untilizing the services of Jones, Henry and Williams, the city's consulting engineers.

★ ★ ★

Ledford said he wanted to know what costs were yet to be paid to the Toledo, Ohio, firm on various projects, particularly the Clinton River Drain project.

SINCE 1930's

The firm has supplemented Pontiac's engineering department since the mid-1930's.

It has been the city's engineering consultant on virtually every major project in the last 25 years, more recently working on the new water system and plant, sewage treatment plant, Clinton River Drain and a survey of the city's sewerage system and future needs.

Commissioners approved contracts with two appraisers for independent appraisals on R20 urban renewal land tabbed for federal financed multiple housing.

★ ★ ★

The contracts went to William O. Bliss of Detroit and Eugene R. Nosar of Bloomfield Hills.

Each was for $375. The land is located on the north side of East Pike at Douglas.

FINAL APPROVAL

Commissioners also gave final approval to ordinances rezoning properties from residential to commercial on the north side of South Boulevard between Going and East Boulevard, and on the east side of Oakland, Pensacola to Orlando.

A public hearing was held on a proposal to vacate a small portion of Bondale with easement reserved for public utilities.

Approval of the move was deferred until the petitioner agrees to provide a turn-around at the end of Bondale and to move an existing fire hyrant.

The street is being vacated to provide more parking area behind doctors' offices at 880 Woodward.

FENCED LOT

The lot is to be fenced in the future, and the hydrant must be relocated outside the lot.

Commissioners concurred with a recommendation of the planning commission to deny a State Highway Department request to change the name of Mount Clemens Street.

They also approved a recommendation to deny a request to rezone residential property to commercial on Second, between Highwood and Laurel.

3 Youths Caught After Area Theft

Three youngsters broke into an Avon Township home Nov. 8 and took more than $200 worth of tools and other items which police later found at the home of Robert Hale, 17, of 2840 Livernois, Avon Township.

Hale yesterday was placed on two years' probation by Circuit Court Judge Stanton G. Dondero and ordered to pay $100 court costs.

The youth pleaded guilty Nov. 18 to a charge of receiving stolen property.

The boys who broke into the home were turned over to Juvenile Court authorities.

Helmets worn by World War I soldiers were designed to resist shrapnel at 750 feet per second.

'No Plans to Quit,' McNamara Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says he has no plans to leave his cabinet post.

★ ★ ★

Asked at a Washington news conference yesterday how long he hopes to remain as Pentagon chief, McNamara replied with a chuckle: "Well, I don't really think how long I hope to remain is as pertinent as how long the President will ask me to remain."

★ ★ ★

Appointed by the late President Kennedy, McNamara said he will serve as long as President Johnson "believes I can effectively carry out his policies."

Exiled Viet Politico Returns to Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Dr. Pham Huy Co, a leading political opponent of the Ngo Dinh Diem regime, returned to Saigon today after living nine years in exile in France.

★ ★ ★

Co is chairman of the National Revolutionary Council, a party outlawed by the Diem regime. His underground organization set off explosions in Saigon from time to time. Co and his group favor continued close cooperation with the United States.

City OKs Submission of R20 Plan to U.S. Officials

By DICK SAUNDERS

The City Commission took a big step in putting the R20 urban renewal project back on its feet financially last night.

A resolution to submit major revisions in the R20 project plan to federal officials for approval was unanimously adopted by commissioners.

The revised plan proposes a hike of nearly $4.5 million in the net cost of Pontiac's first urban renewal project.

* * *

The newly proposed R20 plan will be on its way to the Urban Renewal Administration regional office in Chicago before the end of the week.

POSSIBLE REVISION

It will now be subject to possible revision by federal officials before they approve it. Further action locally on the plan is contingent on federal approval in Chicago and Washington, D. C.

Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates estimated it will take four to five months to be processed by federal officials, prior to final approval here and in Washington.

The proposed plan is an expanded version of the original R20 project plan and budget, including a proposal by the city to build a $1.3-million parking structure to cover much of the local share of R20 costs.

* * *

Some of the major changes proposed are:

- An increase in the project budget to finance excessive costs incurred to date and additional expenditures which will result from the expanded R20 plan.
- An increase of $1,540,224 in the amount which federal officials will allow the city in noncash credits toward its share of the net project cost.
- A slight change in the R20 project boundary, which would add a relatively small area bounded by the Clinton River, Saginaw and Water streets.

* * *

- The addition of 45 structures to the list for acquisition and demolition, only three of which lie outside the present R20 boundary.

MOST SIGNIFICANT

The most significant, single item in the proposed plan is the parking structure which the city tentatively proposes to build on the southwest corner of Pike and Saginaw.

The city would finance this through a bond issue much as it financed municipal parking lots. The bonds would be retired by revenue from parking fees.

In effect, the success of the new R20 plan hinges on how federal officials will react to this item. The city is asking an $840,000 "credit" on the parking structure toward the local share of R20 costs.

* * *

In processing both the original R20 plan and the R44 project plan, federal officials showed a tendency to reduce proposed credits more than any other budget item.

ONLY 2 WAYS

Since the city pays its share in only two ways — cash or credit — any reduction in the amount of credits, increases the cash amount needed.

The original R20 budget called for a $6,184,458 gross project cost; $2,744,482 for proceeds from the resale of land, leaving a net project cost of $3,439,976.

The new plan proposes a gross cost of $9,726,966, with $1,846,550 estimated as proceeds from land sales leaving a net cost of $7,880,416.

* * *

Under the original budget, the federal share (paid in periodic grants as the project progresses) was $2,293,317. It would be $5,253,611 under the new plan.

RAISES SHARES

The proposed plan raises the city's share from $1,146,659 to $2,626,806. The original budget covered the city's share with credits totaling $1,099,095.

The new plan would increase these credits to $2,639,379, about $12,574 more than the city's share of the proposed net cost.

By adding land between Water Street and the Clinton River, the urban renewal staff hopes to pick up an additional $471,828 in Clinton River Drain credits. It will also allow for more attractive redevelopment possibilities in that area.

Purchase of that land was not feasible when the original R20 plan was formulated because the Oakland Theater stood there. The theater later burned down.

ALSO PROPOSED

It is also proposed that some 45 additional structures in the R20 project be bought and cleared. The vast majority are residential structures originally marked only for rehabilitation.

"Over the last few years, it became obvious that the cost of rehabilitating these homes would be too great to be worth the expense, so the owners have indicated they'd rather sell," said Bates.

There are also some proposed changes in the original land use plan for redevelopment.

The new plan will now be reviewed by federal officials, who normally suggest several further revisions before approving it.

RETURN TO CITY

Once approved, it will return to Pontiac, be scheduled for a public hearing and then will come up for final approval by the City Commission.

At that time it will be returned to Chicago, along with documents supporting the legality of its various stages of execution.

Final approval by federal officials is usually automatic at that point and the loan granted contracts are signed.

* * *

This second step, beginning with the local public hearing, usually takes about two months, according to Bates.

Land Price Objected to by Mackie

LANSING (AP)—State Highway Commissioner John Mackie has told the Senate his department may not build its new headquarters in the downtown Lansing Capitol Development Area if it has to pay for the land. The asking price is $500,000.

Mackie, in a letter to Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, urged the Senate to reconsider proposed legislation to require the department to purchase the land.

Mackie said the department originally planned to put up the new building on a site outside the Lansing downtown area. The department agreed to a location in the area near the State Capitol with the understanding the land would be free since it already is owned by the state, he said.

"If we are required to purchase this land, I feel compelled to review our previous agreement," Mackie said. "To act otherwise is to disregard the efficiency needs of the department and obvious savings to the taxpayers."

He Didn't Like Waiting

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI) —John Powell, 18, was put on probation for 18 months yesterday after he admitted firing a shotgun six times at his girlfriend's bedroom window when she stood him up on a date.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of the happening to you. Pilot Cheats Death as Fighter Crashes

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Col. Charles Yeager, commandant of the Aerospace Pilot School at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., escaped serious injury when he was forced to parachute from an experimental NF104 jet fighter plane yesterday.

The first man to fly faster than sound, Yeager ejected when his rocket-assisted plane went into a spin as he was coming back into the atmosphere from about 100,000 feet, an Air Force spokesman said.

Yeager suffered face burns when the oxygen in his mask ignited. The plane was destroyed.

South Arabia Closes Yemen Border After Bombing at Airport

ADEN (AP)—A state of emergency has been declared in the Federation of South Arabia and the border with Yemen ordered closed following a bombing at Aden airport in which a woman was killed and 39 persons injured.

Police searched for the bomber whose target apparently was Sir Kennedy Trevaskis, the British high commissioner, and other officials about to leave for London for talks on next year's elections.

★ ★ ★

Sir Kennedy escaped with a shrapnel cut on his finger. Three British aides and an Arab official of the federation were seriously injured.

Witnesses said the bomb was tossed from a spectators' gallery at the airport and landed in a flower bed near the official party. The bomber apparently escaped in the confusion.

Authorities speculated he might have been a Yemeni or an Arab nationalist.

Both Yemen's revolutionary government and Arab nationalists oppose the British-protected federation, composed of Aden and sheikdoms, sultanates and emirates in southern Arabia.

The bomb killed an Indian woman, Mrs. Jamnadas Bhagavanji, 38, who was about to board the plane with her family.

Among topics to be taken up in the London talks was a dispute over the election of a local legislature in Aden, a former British crown colony on the Red Sea that joined the federation last Jan. 18. Aden natives want a wholly elected legislature to replace the present 23-member Legislative Council on which seven members are nominated by the British high commissioner.

Also to be taken up was a recommendation to allow Aden's 100,000 Yemenis to vote. The federation government opposes enfranchisement of the Yemenis because Yemen has never renounced its claims to parts of Aden.

Do You Remember Fay Wray?

Sweetheart of King Kong Now Goes on Television

30 YEARS AGO — Fay Wray is shown in the arms of Ralph Bellamy in a still shot for the movie "Once to Every Woman" made 30 years ago. Bellamy currently stars in television as a doctor in "The 11th Hour." Miss Wray will appear with him in the show.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — It was one of those warm, sentimental reunions that Hollywood enjoys.

Exactly 30 years ago Ralph Bellamy was playing a doctor opposite Fay Wray in a movie called "Once to Every Woman." Today he was once again a doctor —a psychiatrist in "The 11th Hour"—and Miss Wray was appearing with him in the television series.

THOMAS

★ ★ ★

"We've had great fun recalling the old times," the actress commented. "Ralph has not changed at all. He still has that quality of sincerity that he had when he was a young leading man."

★ ★ ★

Nor can it be said that Miss Wray has changed a great deal. Her beauty, her warmth and charm seem little altered by the years.

Bellamy was one of many male stars she played opposite in the talkie era. They also numbered Gary Cooper, Spencer Tracy, Fredric March, Ronald Colman and—King Kong.

HAIRY BRUTE

Alas, of all her distinguished costars it is the hairy brute with whom she is always remembered. Who could forget the helpless Fay clutched in the paw of the mighty Kong as he stood atop the Empire State Building?

"I used to resent the picture," she commented, "but now I don't fight it any more. I realize that it is a classic and I am pleased to be associated with it. Why, only recently in France an entire issue of a magazine was devoted to discussing the picture from its artistic, moral and even religious aspects."

★ ★ ★

Miss Wray is getting her career active again after a year's inactivity.

"My agent used to be MCA and when they broke up I decided not to do anything about it," she explained. "I had enough to do with my three children. But now that my youngest is off to Stephens College, I think I'll get a little busier."

NEVER DEVOTED

"I was never really devoted to my career, the way some actresses are. It has been a source of great enjoyment to me. But it is not my whole life."

Miss Wray, now widowed, reminisced about Hollywood's golden days:

★ ★ ★

"There may have been a wild crowd, but I wasn't part of it. I went around with the British group — Ronald Colman, Clive Brook and his wife, Richard Barthelmess, William Powell. We played tennis a great deal and always had tea standing by on the tennis court. That was a time of gracious living, when the town was smaller and everybody knew everybody."

Korea President Park to Pick New Cabinet

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)— The South Korean Cabinet headed by Premier Kim Hyun-chul resigned Tuesday night to give President-elect Chung Hee Park a free hand in picking a new government.

A new constitutional government is to be installed Dec. 17 to end the present military rule which started with Park's May 16, 1961 coup that overthrew President John M. Chang's government.

Give Food to Hard-to-Please

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

What to give the person who has everything? That's easy if you like to cook. Food.

Gifts from your kitchen are always appreciated by those who can't or don't prepare fancy food at Christmas. And gifts of food are a nice way to say thank you for favors.

Candy is the most obvious choice. Here are several recipes that shouldn't prove too difficult even for novices in the kitchen.

Use your imagination to create interesting packages. Cover coffee cans with adhesive paper. Put candies in the little plastic strawberry boxes and overwrap with plastic wrap. Fill an apothecary jar from the dime store, etc., etc., etc.

Coconut Drops

2 cups sugar
½ cup milk
1½ cups shredded coconut
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine sugar and milk in saucepan. Stir over quick heat until sugar is dissolved; then cook slowly, stirring constantly; to the soft ball stage 238 degrees.

Remove from fire; stir in coconut and vanilla. Drop from a teaspoon on to wax paper.

* * *

Easy Fondant

½ cup sweetened condensed milk
2½ cups sifted confectioners
1 teaspoon vanilla

Slowly blend milk and sugar; mix in vanilla until smooth. If fondant is too hard to handle, add more sugar. Use to stuff dried apricots, figs and pitted dates.

Before stuffing dried apricots, steam for 5 minutes or until plump but not softened.

* * *

Orange Sugared Nuts

1½ cups sugar
¼ cup fresh orange juice
¼ cup water
2½ cups shelled walnuts or pecan halves
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
Sugar

Cook 1½ cups sugar, orange juice and water together to 238 degrees on the candy thermometer or until a little mixture in cold water forms a soft ball. Remove from heat; add nuts and orange peel. Stir until syrup begins to look cloudy.

Before mixture hardens, drop by spoonfuls on waxed paper. Separate nuts at once. Roll nuts in additional sugar if desired. Makes about 1¾ pounds.

* * *

Make up your own brand of cheese. This recipe makes five cups, enough to give some and to keep some for yourself.

¼ pound Danish blue cheese
1½ pounds natural Cheddar cheese
1 12-ounce can of beer
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
dash of Tabasco

Open the beer and let stand long enough to calm down. Crumble the blue cheese, grate the Cheddar, mix in salt and mustard. Blend with the butter, Worcestershire and Tabasco. Gradually add beer.

Beat mixture until creamy. If you have an electric mixer, so much the better.

Resist all temptation to eat the cheese on the spot and place it in a variety of covered pottery jars. Refrigerate. It will keep for several weeks.

Finally, for your most sophisticated recipient, make cream de menthe jelly. This is delightful with roasts or fruit. Spread a spoonful on grapefruit halves and broil a minute to melt the glaze and emphasize the flavor.

Cream De Menthe Jelly

1 can (6 oz.) frozen concentrate for lemonade
1 cup water
1 package (1¾ oz.) powdered pectin
2½ cups sugar
½ cup green creme de menthe

Bring lemonade concentrate, water, and pectin to a boil. Add sugar, bring again to a boil, boil rapidly 1 minute. Skim, add creme de menthe. Makes 2 cups.

APRICOT DESSERT CREME — Get out your prettiest compote or bowl to serve this delicate dessert. Made with sucaryl, it is unusually low in calories.

Sucaryl-Sweetened Dessert Has Minimum of Calories

Apricot Dessert Creme

4 1-pound cans sucaryl-sweetened apricot halves, drained
2 tablespoons apricot brandy
2 tablespoons Sucaryl solution
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
4 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup nonfat dry milk
¼ cup ice water
5 lady fingers, split

Puree 3 cans of the apricots; add brandy and sucaryl. Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve over boiling water. Add to apricot puree, blending well. Beat egg whites and vanilla until stiff peaks form; fold into gelatin.

Combine dry milk and ice water; beat on high speed of mixer until mixture holds its shape. Fold into apricot mixture.

* * *

Line sides of a 6-cup mold with lady fingers; spoon in the apricot mixture and chill until set. Garnish with remaining can of apricot halves.

* * *

Makes 10 servings. Each serving contains 104 calories; 5 grams protein; trace of fat; 17.5 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 181 calories.

French Toast Gets Cheese Filling

Here is a French toast luncheon version of the morning favorite. Blue Cheese Monte Cristo is a delicious blend of ham, American blue cheese and Swiss cheese on crisp French toast.

Blue Cheese Monte Cristo sandwiches make a hearty and nutritious lunch for the children on these cold winter days. Tall glasses of cold milk, crisp pickles and crunchy potato chips round out the luncheon menu with cookies as dessert.

Blue Cheese Monte Cristo

4 slices white bread
2 slices boiled or baked ham
2 slices Swiss cheese
2 tablespoons crumbled American blue cheese
2 eggs, beaten
2 tablespoons milk
⅛ teaspoon sugar

Make sandwich by placing ham and Swiss cheese on two slices of bread. Crumble American blue cheese on top of Swiss cheese. Place other slice of bread on top.

Mix eggs, sugar and milk together. Dip sandwich into egg mixture, coating both sides well. Fry sandwich in butter until golden brown and cheeses begin to melt. Serve hot. Makes 2 sandwiches.

Caraway Dumplings Fine with Sauerkraut

Simmer canned sauerkraut 30 minutes. Bury fat frankfurters in kraut.

Stir up dumpling batter using biscuit mix and add ½ teaspoon caraway seeds. Drop dumplings onto kraut; cook 10 minutes uncovered, 10 minutes covered.

Beef Shanks Require Long Slow Cooking

Some folks say that the sweetest meat is next to the bone. When you try hearty beef shanks, you'll agree. Shank meat is lean with quite a bit of connective tissue and is usually sold with the round shank bone left in, says the American Meat Institute.

To bring out its full meaty flavor, the best way to cook it is by braising. The long, slow cooking time needed for braising is worthwhile when you taste the resulting tender, delicious meat of the shanks.

Use a five - or - six - inch skillet when you want to make paperthin French pancakes, and fry one pancake at a time.

Kitchen trick: Candied ginger is difficult to cut, so rinse it in hot water before applying the knife.

Eddie, Liz Divorce in the Final Stages

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eddie Fisher and Elizabeth Taylor may be divorced soon.

Fisher was quoted yesterday by columnist Harrison Carroll of the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner that negotiations are in the final stages, and that Miss Taylor may get the divorce by the first of the year. The singer and the actress have been separated for more than a year.

Last year Americans legally gambled more than $50 million dollars at race tracks.

2 Ex-Convicts Are Sentenced

Two Pontiac ex-convicts were sent back to prison yesterday for their Sept. 23 burglary of Thrifty Drugs, 4985 Dixie, Waterford Township.

John R. Gipson, 28, of 241 W. Wilson and Joseph Johnson, 22, of 318 E. Wilson, were given identical 4- to 15-year terms by Circuit Court Judge Stanton G. Dondero.

Both pleaded guilty Nov. 19 nighttime. They were accused of taking $27.50 in cash and $200 in merchandise from the drugstore.

Gipson was on parole from the second of two previous prison terms for burglary. Johnson was discharged from parole earlier this year. He also served time for burglary.

A third defendant in the case, Mrs. Sarah Amps, 32, of 330 Franklin, is to be sentenced next week. She pleaded guilty Nov 19 to entering without permission.

Hoffa Lawyer Says Judge Is Prejudiced

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—An attorney for Teamsters President James R. Hoffa accused a federal judge Tuesday of having decided already that Hoffa is guilty of jury-tampering charges against him.

James Haggerty asked Judge Frank Gray Jr. to disqualify himself from hearing Hoffa's trial, which starts Jan. 6.

Hoffa also signed Haggerty's affidavit accusing the judge of prejudice. There was no immediate action on the affidavit.

Hoffa is charged with conspiring to tamper with the jury which tried him last year on a charge of conspiring to violate the Taft-Hartley Act. That trial, lasting nine weeks, ended in a mistrial.

Connally Back in Hospital

Blood Inflammation 6 Days After Release

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Texas Gov. John Connally, shot down with President Kennedy Nov. 22 and thought well enough to be released six days ago, was back in the hospital today with complications from his wounds.

The new ailment was inflammation of a blood vessel in his right leg, the indirect result of the sniper's bullet that passed through his chest, then hit his wrist and went into his leg.

His doctor called it a "superficial inflammation" and said the governor would be in St. David's Hospital for five or six days. The doctor said Connally's condition was not serious and no surgery would be required.

★ ★ ★

Connally will carry on routine business while he is in the hospital, a spokesman said. Mrs. Connally, who stayed at the governor's side for the 13 days he was in Parkland Hospital in Dallas after the shooting, stayed home with the couple's three children this time.

NEAR HUSBAND

Mrs. Connally was in the presidential "bubbletop" limousine next to her husband and in front of Jacqueline Kennedy when the sniper fired his fatal shots into Kennedy and wounded her husband.

During treatment at Parkland Hospital, Connally had to be fed intravenously through a tube in his right calf. Doctors said a coagulation of blood clots, called a "superficial thrombophlebitis" occurred at the point where the tube was inserted.

The governor's arm was still in a cast because of his shattered wrist.

Set to Print Hemingway Last Notes

NEW YORK (AP) —Paris literary life in the 1920s is the theme of the first Ernest Hemingway manuscript to be published since his death — but there are more to come.

The author left "about 50 pounds" of hand - written and typed manuscripts, notes and letters, says his widow, Mary.

★ ★ ★

The last item to be completed was the book about Paris a collection of 20 sketches in which the author reminisces about life along the Seine and such literary figures as F. Scott Fitzgerald, Gertrude Stein, Ford Maddox Ford and Ezra Pound.

Titled "A Moveable Feast," it will be published next May 5 by Scribner's. Mrs. Hemingway described it at a news conference Monday as "biography by ricochet."

Mrs. Hemingway said she had avoided public talk about literary works left by her husband until inheritance taxes on his estate had been settled.

The widow, who was sole heir of the estate, said the taxes were paid last week.

"It took practically all of his life savings," Mrs. Hemingway said.

Teen Killed, 4 Injured as Truck Strikes Truck

NILES, Mich. (UPI) — A Grand Rapids girl was killed yesterday and four other teenagers injured, two critically, when their car ran a stop sign at an intersection outside the city and was struck by a lumber truck.

The victim was identified as Marcy Ann Markowski, 17, passenger in the car driven by David C. Redding, 18, also of Grand Rapids.

Studebaker Corp. Predated Automobiles

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Studebaker Corp. has been in the transportation business longer than any other American automaker. It's the only one that predates the automobile.

Founded in 1852 by blacksmith brothers Henry and Clem Studebaker, the company made only three wagons that year. But soon five Studebaker brothers were in the fast-growing business, and it prospered. It started making cars as well as wagons in 1902.

★ ★ ★

Studebaker prospered in the postwar boom but gradually lost out in automotive competition as the Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — took more and more of the automobile business.

PACKARD MERGER

The South Bend firm merged with the faltering Packard Motor Car Co. in 1954 in an effort to broaden its market. The Packard, however, continued to decline in sales and finally was laid to rest.

Studebaker embarked on a diversification program in 1958, the same year it started producing the compact Lark, a stubby economy car that never sold as well as had been expected.

The firm has poured millions of dollars into the diversification program and now is involved in production of farm equipment, appliances, soil additives.

The auto division lost more than $2.2 million in the third quarter of 1963, but the company said all other divisions were operating at a profit.

On the same day it announced the loss, Nov. 1, the firm laid off 1,500 auto workers in South Bend.

Studebaker's long history in the wagon business lasted until 1920, when the last of the horse-drawn vehicles business was disposed of.

The first car made partly by Studebaker in 1902 was electric, the first gasoline-powered automobile coming two years later. Studebaker had long since been a million-dollar operation by the time it started making cars.

Studebaker prospered as a wagon maker for the Union Army during the Civil War and it was a prime supplier of prairie schooners as the nation moved west.

LAST ONE DIED

The last of the Studebaker brothers, J. M., died in 1917, although some descendants remained with the company for decades.

In the postwar era, riding a crest of prosperity, Studebaker became the world's fourth largest automaker, although well behind the Big Three. In 1952, it had a working capital of $65 million.

Its young president, Sherwood Egbert, resigned last month as auto sales continued to decline. He was replaced by cost-conscious Byers Burlingame, who started as a clerk with Packard in 1925.

★ ★ ★

Burlingame recently announced a cutback in some 2,000 jobs in the auto division, explaining it was necessary to produce a new break-even point. He indicated then that more cuts could be expected.

AP Photofax

FIRST VEHICLE — The first vehicle produced by the Studebaker Corp. was this covered wagon called the "Conestoga." It was produced during the Civil War by the Studebaker brothers. The corporation, which has decided to quit making cars in the United States, is the only automaker that predates the automobile.

Imlay City Lass Right on Target

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) —Kathy Brown, a junior at Central Michigan University who never handled a rifle before last September, fired a near perfect score Monday during her midterm examination in a physical education activities course.

Miss Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don M. Brown, of 216 Cheney, Imlay City, scored 99 points with a 22 caliber target rifle. Perfect is 100.

ROTC Sgt. John LaPalm, Miss Brown's instructor, compared the feat to a novice bowling 297, or shooting under par golf.

Arabs End Secret Talk

CAIRO (AP) — The advisory committee of the Arab League Defense Council ended a four-day secret session Tuesday. Chiefs of staff of the armies of 11 Arab nations discussed military measures if Israel goes ahead with diversion of the waters of the River Jordan.

A simple, rapid method to tell farmers when too much salt in the soil is threatening crops has been developed. It involves taking aerial photographs with film sensitive to infrared rays, which appear distinctive in photos of plants with excess salinity.

Russ Troops Reported Leaving Hungary

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Army, which crushed the Hungarian revolution seven years ago, plans to leave Hungary in the next few months, diplomatic sources said today.

Only a few token units will be left behind under the Warsaw Pact agreement, the sources said.

Western diplomats interpreted the move as a sign of easing tensions in Eastern Europe and of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's faith in the stability of Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar's regime.

* * *

The pullback — signaled by the gradual repatriation of the families of Soviet soldiers still in Hungary — is part of a pattern prevailing over Eastern Europe.

OTHER DEPLOYMENT

There are no Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia, Romania or Bulgaria. Some forces remain in Poland, and East Germany is heavily garrisoned.

But the soldiers stationed in Poland are said to confine themselves to maintaining communications links between Moscow and Berlin and are seldom seen around the country.

When Hungary exploded in rebellion in 1956, Soviet soldiers and tanks smashed the uprising. Since then, the Kremlin has kept a large garrison — unofficially estimated at two tank and two motorized divisions — within the nation.

Unofficial estimates put Soviet strength at 20 divisions, 10 tank and 10 motorized, in East Germany, and 2 divisions, 1 tank and 1 motorized in Poland.

STABLE NATION

Qualified diplomatic sources said that agreement between Moscow and Budapest to withdraw troops is based largely on Kadar's successful efforts to restore his nation's stability since 1956.

Kadar's achievements are due in part to his success in building one of the more liberal East European regimes — with the apparent approval of Khrushchev.

One of the elements of new Hungarian stability is economic progress, partly through Soviet economic aid in the form of the "friendship" oil pipeline and the Soviet - sponsored East European electric power network.

Many fighters in the 1956 uprising have been amnestied, and Hungary has sought to regularize its relations with Western countries.

Hungary's defense will now be secured partly through the Moscow - led Warsaw Pact and its own national forces. These are reported to include one armored and four motorized army division, about 1,000 tanks, three fighter groups equipped with Soviet - built Mig fighters, one bomber group supplied with Soviet IL-28S and a varied deployment of ground - to - air missiles.

* * *

Western defense experts also estimate that the Soviet Union commands a total of 80 divisions which can be marshaled rapidly from Eastern Europe and European Russia.

Friend Says Oswald's Wife Greatly Admired JFK

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — An attractive brunette housewife who sheltered the family of President John F. Kennedy's accused assassin says Marina Oswald was a great admirer of the nation's young Chief Executive.

Ruth Paine, who took Russian-born Mrs. Lee Harvey Oswald into her home at nearby Irving for two months, told about the Oswalds' family life Tuesday night in an interview with newsman Wes Wise of Dallas station KRLD-TV.

On the day of the assassination, Mrs. Paine said she arose before Mrs. Oswald and her children were up, turned on the television set, and took her own young daughter to the dentist.

GREAT ADMIRATION

"I left the television on for Marina," Mrs. Paine said, "because I knew of the great admiration she had for the President.

"When I returned home, Marina thanked me. She said she had got out of bed in a bad mood, but that the sight of President Kennedy arriving at Love Field had buoyed her spirits."

Before the day ended Oswald was arrested and charged with killing both President Kennedy and Dallas policeman J. D. Tippit. About 48 hours later a nationwide television audience and scores of newsmen saw Jack Ruby, Dallas strip-tease joint owner, kill Oswald.

Mrs. Paine said that Mrs. Oswald came to live with her Sept. 24 because Oswald was out of work and worried about their new baby, expected in about a month.

PROTECTIVE CUSTODY

Mrs. Oswald now is held in protective custody of the U.S. Secret Service at an undisclosed spot.

"Lee seemed very relieved," Mrs. Paine said, "when I asked Marina and their little girl to our home until he got straightened out financially."

She said Oswald seemed very perturbed over being jobless with the baby's arrival so near.

When they learned a hidden rifleman had killed Kennedy, she related, Mrs. Oswald was almost overcome with grief and remarked how "awful it will be for Mrs. Kennedy to raise those two little children without a father."

TERRIBLE THING

"What a terrible thing," Mrs. Paine quoted Marina as saying.

"She had no political beliefs." Mrs. Paine said of Oswald's wife, adding that "Marina was mostly interested in her children."

Mrs. Paine said that she never noticed anything wrong with Oswald that "could have matched his later actions." She said the couple seemed normal in their relations and "I never saw anything that made me think he'd mistreat her."

Asked if Oswald discussed shooting or spoke of guns, Mrs. Paine said: "I don't know. I never saw a gun. I had no idea he had one."

India Air Force Officer Arrested for Espionage

NEW DELHI (AP)—A senior Indian Air Force officer, Group Capt. Prakash Chandra, has been dismissed from the service and arrested for espionage, Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan told parliament today.

Chavan refused to name the foreign country involved, saying it was not in the national interest to give details. He said Chandra served in the accounts branch of the air force. A newspaper report today said he was arrested Dec. 4.

Sentence Is Church, Class

ONEONTA, Ala. (AP) — Two juveniles who admitted desecrating a church have been ordered to attend school and church regularly or go to a correctional institution.

The boys' parents were required to furnish labor repairs of the church.

Juvenile Court Judge R. G. Kelton sentenced the pair to Alabama Boys Industrial School until they are 21, but suspended the sentence Tuesday, provided that the boys meet the other conditions.

Contract Awards Set for 3 Schools

Contracts for construction of two new elementary schools and an addition to Crary Junior High School will be awarded tomorrow night by the Waterford Township Board of Education.

The construction projects are a part of the school system's $6.25 - million building program over the next five years.

In other business at the special meeting, board members are expected to designate the financial institution from which the school system will borrow $200,000 against state aid.

* * *

Also slated for board attention is the proposed reinvestment of building and site funds of the school district in treasury bills.

Bids on both the school construction and borrowing of $200,000 will be opened at another special board meeting tonight.

Coin Shortage Worries U.S.

Public Supply Tight Around the Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury expressed its concern today over the coin shortage which has become steadily worse during the Christmas shopping rush.

In the past few months, the Treasury has tried not to call attention to the shortage, apparently on the theory that publicity would lead to hoarding.

* * *

The shortage was obvious long before the start of the Christmas season. There are now shortages in every denomination except silver dollars. The supply is tight in almost every area.

* * *

Some banks have been asking the public to keep their coins in circulation. Some companies which rely heavily on coins in their business have been shipping large amounts from one area to another.

GOOD BUSINESS

The shortage is said to be due to good business in retail sales and increased use of vending machines, parking meters and other mechanical devices.

* * *

Demand for coins usually reaches a peak about Dec. 15, but Treasury officials apparently are bothered more about the prospect of continued shortages than about the current dearth.

* * *

A Treasury spokesman expressed the concern in a terse statement after it was reported that a House committee had decided not to take early action on a $500,000 appropriation for a start on a new mint in Philadelphia.

* * *

The Philadelphia and Denver mints, working on virtually a 24-hour-day, seven-day-week basis, will produce 4.1 billion pieces of change in the year which ends next June 30 but it has been estimated that the nation's commerce could use 6 billion.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Doctor Must Determine Cause of Anemia

BRANDSTADT

Q—Is there such a thing as chronic anemia? What are the symptoms? What causes it and, is there any way to control it?

A—There are several kinds of chronic anemia as distinguished from the acute form that occurs due to a hemorrhage.

Chronic anemia may be due to a deficiency of iron, vitamin B12 or other essential elements.

The onset is gradual and the symptoms may consist of weakness, sore tongue, numbness or tingling of the fingers and pallor of the skin and mucous membranes.

CAREFUL STUDY

Because there are several forms, you should have a careful study including microscopic examination of your red blood cells. Your doctor can then prescribe medicines you need to control the condition.

Although persons with leukemia usually develop some degree of anemia, anemia is never given as the diagnosis in suh persons.

Leukemia is a malignant disease of the blood believed to be a form of cancer and is characterized by an overabundance of white blood cells.

* * *

Anemia is not a form of cancer and is characterized by a deficiency of red blood cells and hemoglobin (the red coloring matter in these cells). Persons with anemia frequently have a low white cell count, also.

HOARSENESS

Q—I am troubled with hoarseness due to mucus on my vocal cords. As I do a lot of singing this is a great handicap. Can anything be done to relieve this?

A—You should be examined by a throat specialist to rule out cancer of the larynx. This is fairly common and is not easily detected by your family doctor.

If no cancer is present, one of the best remedies is the inhalation of steam with or without tincture of benzoin in the water.

* * *

In order to be successful, you should have the steam kettle or generator on the floor and sit over it with your head draped with a bathrobe or sheet, thus forming a steam tent. If you do this for 15 or 20 minutes two or three times a day you should be able to sing like a canary.

Q—My doctors says I have valvular heart disease and take digitalis. What is this medicine supposed to do and how long must I take it?

A—As a result of rheumatic fever or some other infection, you have a scarring of a heart valve. This causes some leakage or back flow with each heart beat.

Digitalis has a specific action on the heart causing it to contract more slowly and more forcefully. This helps to compensate for the leakage.

Although your doctor may want to adjust the dosage from time to time, you will have to take digitalis or some closely related drug indefinitely, unless it is decided that you are a fit candidate for surgical repair of the scarred valve.

Sox Continue Youth Moves in Fox Swap

Nellie, 36, Shipped to Houston; Chicago Gets Cash, Players

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball's hottest seat for little Nellie Fox was the bench.

The Chicago White Sox knew Fox would fret as a part time ball player, so under their current youth movement, he was dispatched to Houston in an inter-league trade Tuesday for two Colt farm hands — pitcher Jim Golden and outfielder Danny Murphy.

Fox, who will be 36 Christmas Day, joins a long list of departed "over-age" players, traded away by the White Sox in the last several years. The list includes Luis Aparicio, Al Smith, Billy Pierce, Minnie Minoso, Early Wynn and Sherm Lollar.

★ ★ ★

In return for the peppery second baseman, who has a lifetime batting average of .289 and six times hit .300 or better, the White Sox received a pitcher who was 9-11 at Oklahoma City last season and a former 1200,000 Chicago Cub bonus baby who batted .234 with San Antonio and .268 with Oklahoma City last season.

LOST JOB

Fox batted .260 in 1963 but was being pushed off his job by a pair of youngsters, Al Weis and Don Buford.

Fox came to the White Sox in a swap which sent Joe Tipton to the Philadelphia A's in 1949. In 1950 he became the regular second baseman and went on to compile such records for most consecutive games without a strikeout (98); most years leading the league in fewest strikeouts (10); most consecutive years leading the league in singles (7); most consecutive games played at second base (749) and so on down the line.

He played in 14 All-Star games and was the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1959 when the White Sox won the pennant.

★ ★ ★

When Richards was managing the White Sox, he decided to rest Fox in 1951.

"He needed a rest and I ordered him benched for his own sake," said Richards. "The next thing I knew, Fox was dashing around the outfielder shagging fly balls during batting practice. Finally, I hid his glove but the next day I had to put him back in the line-up."

Loyola Quintet Heads National Basketball Poll

By The Associated Press

Loyola of Chicago's national champions, impressive in early season tune-ups, are comfortably out front in The Associated Press' weekly college basketball poll.

Loyola polled 32 first-place votes and a total of 353 points to lead the field. NYU, which whipped Cornell and Tulsa in its first two games, was second with 312 points.

★ ★ ★

Duke No. 3 in the voting won the West Virginia Centennial tourney by knocking off eighth-rated Ohio State and the host Mountaineers. The Blue Devils, 3-0 on the year, open their Atlantic Coast Conference slate Saturday against league dark-horse Clemson.

The Top Ten teams, with first-place votes in parentheses, won-lost records through games of Saturday, Dec. 7, and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

NO THREE-POINTER THIS TIME — University of Detroit forward John Schramm (25) boots one goalward against Loyola of Chicago last night; but the sport is basketball and not football so there were no points for his efforts. Loyola, the nation's No. 1 team rated, took a 113-108 decision in overtime. Identifiable players are John Egan (11) and Rich Rochelle (10) of Loyola, and center Dick Dzik (51) of the Titans.

Celtic 'Foul Author' Misses NBA Royalties

NEW YORK (AP) — "I thought he'd get killed before he got his first foul shot," said Red Auerbach.

"Frank, I felt sorry for you out there," said Walter Brown.

"Don't say that, Mr. Brown," said Frank Ramsey. "It's all over and done with."

★ ★ ★

"The Celtics must be pretty sensitive, they were complaining all night," said Referee Norman Drucker.

"Personally, I haven't even seen the article," said Referee Earl Strom.

"Fake," said the fans, from all over Madison Square Garden.

And so it went in the National Basketball Association game between the Boston Celtics and the New York Knicks, the night after Frank Ramsey of the Celtics turned author.

"It seemed like everybody in the joint read the article," said Auerbach, the Celtics coach.

"The article" was one in a magazine, under Ramsey's byline, detailing how he lures opponents into committing fouls, and fools the officials. The article drew a reprimand from NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Some 8,237 fans turned out at the Garden Tuesday night, mainly to see how the officials reacted to Ramsey, and vice versa. There wasn't much else of interest, as the Celtics toyed with the cellar New Yorkers for a 132-113 victory. That gave Boston an 18-2 record for the first quarter of the long season.

In the first game of the doubleheader, the St. Louis Hawks fought off the Philadelphia '76ers down the stretch for a 113-103 decision.

In another NBA game last night, the San Francisco Warriors defeated the Baltimore Bullets 117-108, as Wilt Chamberlain scored 49 points.

But Ramsey held the spotlight.

FIRST FOUL

He took the court about midway through the first half and almost the first time he got his hands on the ball he was called for charging a defensive player. The Boston bench erupted, and the referees called a technical foul.

Before he was through, Ramsey had played 21 minutes, collected 15 points, hustled all over the floor and drawn four personals. He did not appear to get the best of the officiating, despite catcalls from the stands to: "Fake a foul, Ramsey."

Brown of Lions Selected

NEW YORK (AP) — The defense-minded Chicago Bears, Green Bay's ground troops and the pass-happy New York Giants dominated the National Football League All-Star team announced Wednesday by The Associated Press.

★ ★ ★

The Bears placed six players on the 22-man first offensive and defensive units. Green Bay had five and New York four.

Y. A. Tittle, the Giants' superb passer, was a near unanimous choice for quarterback and Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's record-breaking ground gainer, received all but two votes for fullback. Mike Ditka, fine tight end of the Chicago Bears, also polled all but two of the 42 votes cast.

The selections were made by a committee of three sports writers and broadcasters from each of the 14 league cities.

FIVE ON DEFENSE

Ditka was the Bears' only representative on the offensive team but the fine defensive club placed five men on the first unit. They were 6-foot-8 end Doug Atkins, linebackers Bill George and Joe Fortunato and the two ball-hawking safety men, Richie Petitbon and Roosevelt Taylor.

★ ★ ★

Only nine of the 22 men selected last year repeated—six on offense and three on defense.

They were Del Shofner, New York Giants' split end; tackle Forrest Gregg of Green Bay; guards Jerry Kramer of Green Bay and Jim Parker of Baltimore; center Jim Ringo of Green Bay and Tittle of the 1963 offensive team. The defensive repeaters were tackles Roger Brown of Detroit and Henry Jordan of Green Bay and corner back Herb Adderley of Green Bay.

★ ★ ★

Shofner and Ditka were picked for the two end jobs with Gregg and Dick Schafrath of Cleveland at tackles and Kramer and Parker at guard with Ringo at center.

Tommy Mason of the Minnesota Vikings was named the running back to pair with fullback Brown. Bobby Joe Conrad, Charlie Johnson's favorite target at St. Louis, was picked as flanker back.

★ ★ ★

The Giants placed end Jim Katcavage and corner back Dick Lynch on the defensive team with the five Bears. Jack Pardee of the Los Angeles Rams gained a linebacker berth and Brown, Jordan and Adderley repeated.

SOLID SUPPORT

Ray Nitschke of Green Bay, Joe Schmidt of Detroit, Dale Meinert of St. Louis and Sam Huff of New York, all middle linebackers, received solid support in a wide battle for the linebacking jobs.

Rosey Brown of New York and Charley Bradshaw of Pittsburgh were close on the heels of the first two offensive tackles and Darrell Dess of the Giants and Ken Gray of St. Louis were just a shade behind Kramer and Parker. Bob DeMarco of St. Louis received solid support behind Ringo at center and Chicago's Mike Pyle also had strong backing.

★ ★ ★

Mason had the edge on the Packers' Tom Moore for the running back job and Conrad grabbed the flanker post over competition from Terry Barr of Detroit and Bobby Mitchell of Washington.

U-D Almost Ambushes Nation's No. 1 Quintet

Loyola Rallies for 113-108 Overtime Win

Titans Lose 6-Point Lead Late in Game; Murrey, Hyatt Star

CHICAGO (AP) — Loyola, the nation's No. 1 basketball team, came from behind to tie Detroit and then went on to win in overtime 113-108 at Chicago Stadium Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Loyola's victory, its third straight this year, was pulled off in much the same manner the Ramblers accomplished last March to win the NCAA championship at Cincinnati.

Trailing by six points, 95-89, with two minutes remaining in regulation time, the Ramblers, sparked by Ron Miller, pulled even at 98 - 98 as the buzzer sounded.

25-FOOTER

The clinching basket, forcing the contest into overtime, was tossed in by Miller who popped in a 25-foot jump shot. Only seconds before, Miller connected on another jumper as Detroit, trying to stall out the clock, faltered.

Detroit, which trailed 49-42 at the intermission, was sparked by two sophomores in the second half—Dorie Murrey and Lou Hyatt. Murrey scored 20 points in the second half while Hyatt hit for 10.

★ ★ ★

In the overtime, Tom Markey, a 6-5 Loyola sophomore, stole a pass and scored on a layup to give the Ramblers the lead for good, 108-106. After that, Les Hunter, Loyola's 6-7 pivotman, took charge and sank two quick baskets to put the game out of reach with just one minute remaining.

Miller was the high man for the Ramblers with 28 points.

Waterford Sets Hot Pace in Edging Lakers, 60-54

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Waterford took the chill out of a cool evening Wednesday with a hot-shooting performance in downing West Bloomfield, 60-54.

The Skippers fired at a 44 per cent pace in the Lakers' to win their 1963 cage opener, and they handed the Lakers their second setback in three outings.

The Skippers opened with a flurry in the first half and held a 29-16 lead at intermission. They turned back a Laker threat in the closing half to wrap up the decision.

Forward Rick Russ and guard Bill Lemaux sparked the Skipper attack in the first quarter. Russ picked up seven points and Lemaux added five to push the winners into a 14-6 lead at the end of the stanza.

While the Skippers were ripping the nets with ease, the Lakers were having their first-half problems.

18 PER CENT

They picked up only one field goal in the first quarter — a push shot by guard Dan Greig —and finished the first half with six for 38, an 18 per cent pace.

The Lakers battled the Skippers on even terms through the third quarter and narrowed the deficit to five points in the final frame with 5:57 remaining.

But clutch baskets by Lemaux and Bill Boroska kept the margin at five to six points for the remainder of the game.

The Skippers hit on 24 of 54 shots from the field for their 44 per cent. The Lakers closed with 19 of 69 for 27 per cent.

Guard Rick Ziem, a sophomore, led a balanced Skipper attack with 16 points. Other players hitting double figures were Russ (10), Boroska (11) and Lemaux (13).

Greig shouldered the burden of the Laker attack. He netted only six points in the opening half but came back with 17 in the final half to take scoring honors with 23 markers.

★ ★ ★

The Laker hot shot also gave the Skippers a scare in the fourth quarter when he teamed with Steve Alix to trim the lead to five points.

Greig picked up 10 points in the final quarter, going six-for-six at the charity line, and Alix added eight points to give the West Bloomfield crowd something to cheer about.

ALL HANDS — Waterford's Skippers gang up for a rebound at West Bloomfield where they wrapped up their season opener, 60-54. Moving for the ball are Skippers Bill Lemaux (13), Rick Russ (35) and Rick Ziem. Laker battlers at right are Steve Alix (53) and Tom Moller (51).

All team coaches and captains are requested to attend the meeting. Three leagues have been proposed: one for boys 18 and under, one for 15 and under, and a third one for 12-and-under players.

Each team would be permitted to carry 15 players plus a spare goalie.

Milford 'Boxed' by Parkers

Wolves Keep Rolling

Clarkston kept rolling along the victory trail last night by spoiling Oxford's basketball opener, 81-56.

★ ★ ★

But another Wayne-Oakland League team, Milford, was not so fortunate.

The Redskins took on the almost impossible task of winning in Highland Park's bandbox gym. With two regulars — Bill Allen and Jim Mendham — out of action with the flu, Milford lost, as expected, 71-49.

Oxford gave Clarkston a little trouble in the early minutes, trailing only 12-10. But Ken Miskin and Dan Craven started hitting and the Wolves rolled to their fourth win without a loss.

Miskin led all scorers with 22 points, Craven tossed in 18 and Mike Bray added 12.

The Wildcats were paced by Dan Van Vleet's 15 points. Buzz Cork scored 13.

Clarkston led, 46-26 at the half.

NOISY PLACE

"That gym must be worth 10 to 15 points for Highland Park," said Milford coach Chuck Schroeder. "Those fans make so much noise, and the place is so small, you can hardly hear yourself think."

The Redskins, minus their top rebounders, had little success containing the Parkers under the boards.

In addition, Milford only converted one free throw.

"We normally would make 12 to 15," said Schroeder, "but we only had eight chances."

Gary Newcomb and Tim Barnes each scored 16 points for Milford. The Redskins have a rematch with Highland Park at Milford later in the season.

North Branch Tops Brandon

Imlay City Moves Past Almont Quintet

North Branch rolled to its third straight victory in as many games last night with a 72-59 victory at Ortonville Brandon.

Imlay City, co-favorite along with North Branch in the South Central League, took Almont in stride, 71-38. Deckerville, another member of the league topped Carsonville, 54-48.

Ortonville's inexperienced forces ran into foul trouble early and the visiting Broncos capitalized on the charity.

The Black Hawks managed to stay close during the first period but slowly fell behind the remainder of the contest.

★ ★ ★

Ralph Magrif scored 17 points and grabbed 21 rebounds for the winners. Dennis Bugg was high with 21. Steve Hubbs and Harold Webb each had 14 points for Ortonville with Hubbs taking 27 rebounds.

EARLY LEAD

Imlay City struck early, gaining a 19-7 first period lead.

Dale Goodrich paced the winners with 20 points while teammate Ed Lomerson tossed in 17.

Wayne Schmidt scored 21 points and Carl Warszcynski hit 19 as Deckerville held off a second half Carsonville rally. The winners led at the half, 30-19.

Lancers No Match for Cranbrook Five

By DON VOGEL

Emmanuel Christian, a Class D school, is noted for taking on much larger schools in athletics with fair success.

But the Lancers bit off more basketball than they could chew yesterday afternoon when they entertained Class B Cranbrook. The Cranes were too tall and aggressive for the Lancers who suffered an 81-55 setback.

★ ★ ★

Emmanuel could do nothing under the backboards when Cranbrook had 6-4 Jim Bailey and 6-2 Doug Fisher on the floor at the same time.

Ron Jackson was the only Emmanuel player who appeared willing to tangle with two husky Cranes when it came to battling for rebounds. He drew four fouls in the first half and this curtailed his efforts.

But he still managed to toss in 19 points, with nine coming on free throws. Emmanuel's Ralph Wingate pumped in 13 points in the last period to take game honors with 24.

Fisher, who played almost three quarters, led Cranbrook with 17. Bailey, who sat out most of the second and fourth periods, netted 14. Buzz Mieros and Jack Hipps each scored 13.

The Lancers more than held their own against a combination of starters and reserves in the second period — Bailey was on the bench — and against the second liners in the final six minutes of the game.

It was the first and third periods that spelled Emmanuel's second defeat in four games. Cranbrook is 3-0 over-all.

OVERWHELMING LEAD

The Cranes caught the Lancers flat-footed with aggressive play at the outset and blistered the nets to gain a 26-5 first-period lead. The Lancers started recovering in the second period, but never could equal the Cranes in quickness and hawking loose balls.

Bailey and Fisher also caused the Lancers a problem besides grabbing nearly all the rebounds. The shorter Emmanuel players had several shots blocked by the tall Cranes and on occasion passed up possible attempts, apparently fearing the ball would be batted down.

Although they were outclassed, the Lancers were taught some valuable lessons by their more experienced opponents. This should prove profitable in later games against schools more in Emmanuel's class.

Rams, Eaglets Win Handily

St. Fred Helps ROSM Take Lead

Royal Oak St. Mary used an assist by St. Frederick to move into sole possession of first place in the Northwest Parochial League race Tuesday evening.

The Irish trimmed Waterford Our Lady of Lakes, 60-47, while St. Frederick was knocking off Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, 86-67. Orchard Lake St. Mary blitzed St. Agatha, 76-46.

The ROSM win put the Irish atop the league with a 3-0 record. St. Fred and FOLS are lodged in second place with 2-1 marks.

The defeat was the fourth in succession for the Waterford squad and the third in league competition.

★ ★ ★

Eleven players dented the scoring column for the Irish with Rod Bannister and Don Wells picking up 13 each.

ROSM jumped off to a 14-8 first quarter lead and upped the margin to 31 to 19 at intermission.

MISS FOUL SHOTS

The Lakers had an opportunity to keep the game close at the charity line but they lost the range. They cashed in on only 15 of 42 attempts.

Pacing the Laker attack was Bill Brandt with 17 points. Wes Borys collected 10.

Four players scored in double figures in St. Frederick's easy win over Farmington OLS.

Mike Dean led the scoring assault with 21 points, and Lowrey Holland continued his hot scoring streak by dumping in 19 markers. Holland has racked up 97 points in four contests.

The Rams got added scoring assistance from Bob Peoples (12) and Ed Moreski (14).

★ ★ ★

St. Frederick took advantage of a Farmington cold streak in the first quarter and built up a 22-3 margin at the end of the stanza.

The squads matched baskets through the final three quarters.

GAME HONORS

Bob Hart captured game-scoring honors for FOLS with 25 points. He canned nine field goals and went seven - for - 10 at the free-throw line.

The win was St. Frederick's third in four outings. The Rams' lone loss was a 53-51 setback by Royal Oak St. Mary.

The Eaglets of OLM erupted for 38 points in the second half to win easily over St. Agatha.

St. Agatha trailed at halftime, 38-29, but collected only six points in the third stanza while the Eaglets were tossing in 20 markers.

Frank Rompel led the Eaglet scoring parade with 25 points. Ken Kwilosz poured in 14 and Ralph Kibilolski added 10.

The win left the Eaglets with a 1-1 league record and a season mark of 2-1.

Lapeer Edges Flint Kearsley by 67-66

For the second straight season, Lapeer and Flint Kearsley tangled in a pulse - stopping basketball game.

And for the second straight year, the Panthers beat their Flint rival by one point. This time the score was 67-66.

★ ★ ★

It was Lapeer's third win in as many games.

The Panthers, who were sparked by Dick Fellers 22 points, led from the opening tipoff until the fourth period when they fell behind by five points.

But the Panthers rallied to regain the lead and then managed to barely hold it.

Ron Starking scored 12 points and Bob McKenna 10 for the winners. Gary Owen of Kearsley took game honors with 30.

Marimont Baptist (A) held onto first place in the Christian Service Brigade League in last week's cage action with a 63-16 win over United Missionary.

Paul Oliver sparked the winners with 19 points. Danny Irwin tossed in 16 for the losers.

Tom McDonald turned in the top individual performance of the week with a 40-point outburst as Sunny Vale Chapel defeated Oakland Avenue Presbyterian, 51-46.

Deer Kill Third Highest in History

Large Number of Nimrods Tagged 114,500

Southern Area Kill Increases; Condition of Deer Good

Michigan's 1963 army of firearm deer hunters, believed to be the largest ever, took an estimated 114,500 whitetails, third highest on record.

The Conservation Department's kill figure, yet to be refined by a postcard survey of hunters, points to an increase of 10 per cent in the buck harvest, from 63,380 last year to 69,800 this season.

Antlerless deer kill jumped 37 per cent, totaling 44,700 as against 32,510 during the 1962 season.

Hunters in the northern Lower Peninsula killed 45,000 bucks, some 5,000 more than a year ago, to register their second highest take of antlered whitetails. In the Upper Peninsula, the buck figure reached 18,300, about 500 above last year.

For the third year in a row, sportsmen set a new record for buck kill in the southern Lower Peninsula where deer numbers are snowballing at the rate of 14 per cent annually.

This year's total is estimated at 6,500, up 19 per cent from last season.

Traffic counts and field surveys indicate that antlerless deer kill rose from 6,670 last year to 11,200 in the Upper Peninsula and from 25,840 to 33,500 in the northern Lower Peninsula.

BETTER CONDITION

Biological checks of more than 11,000 deer at the department's roadside stations show that the physical condition of the herd improved in most areas.

The department reports that yearling bucks, whose numbers make or break each season, accounted for a greater per cent of the total kill in both regions of northern Michigan. The proportion of 1½-year-old bucks climbed from 49 to 54 per cent in the Upper Peninsula, and from 71 to 72 per cent in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Antler size in yearling bucks, another barometer of the herd's physical condition, increased throughout most parts of the state.

Field studies reveal that hunting pressure was generally heavier than a year ago. Estimates from the Mackinac Bridge suggest that the number of Upper Peninsula hunters may have been up six per cent over last season.

Although no final figures will be available for several months, department officials estimate that upwards of 475,000 deer licenses were sold to crack the 1959 record of 468,600.

More Regulatory Power Sought for Commission

LANSING (AP) — The Conservation Commission would have more power to set rules and seasons for the taking of fish and game if recommendations of a special committee reporting to Gov. George Romney are followed.

★ ★ ★

"Regulations of the wildlife harvest should be a function of the commission," declared a sub-committee on laws and regulations.

The committee noted the historic reluctance of the legislature to give such full authority to the commission.

There are two basic reasons, however, why this is desirable, the group said:

— The commission, acting by regulation, can manage wildlife resources with much greater flexibility than the legislature acting by statute.

— The commission has immediate and continuous access to reports of the department staff and can translate scientific findings into effective regulations more readily than the legislature.

The switch in power, the committee said could be accomplished by legislation first closing all seasons on game and fish and then giving the commission power to issue new regulations as to the time, place and manner of taking fish and game.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Members of the committee were Circuit Judge Louis McGregor of Flint; Paul Weber, of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. in Detroit; J. Russell Bouws, Holland motel and restaurant owner, and Dr. Paul Herbert, chief of the Research Department of the Department of Economic Expansion.

Codification of the conservation laws is urgently needed, the committee said, and the laws are overlapping and full of inconsistencies and conflicts.

The committee called for repeal of the present bounty system. This would release about $250,000 in fish and game funds that now is "presently wasted in bounty payments," it said.

The license buyer should pay the fee of the vendor in addition to the license fee, the committee said. Licenses still could be offered for sale without fee at conservation offices and possibly other state offices. It was estimated another $250,000 would be saved by this change.

The committee found a number of present regulations "of doubtful value."

One cited was a regulation requiring bow hunters to unstring their bows while carrying them in a car and also to put bows in a case or lock them in a trunk. There were 47 arrests during the past year for failure to lock up or case a bow.

"It is difficult to understand what purpose was served by the work of the officers making these arrests beyond the annoyance and harassment of bow hunters," the report remarked.

The law requiring guns to be cased dismantled or locked up a car trunk also was criticized. In the past year there were 429 arrests for violations of this statute.

The committee suggested the department was losing more in public goodwill by such rigid enforcement than it was gaining in protection of the deer herd.

Also termed futile were laws prohibiting possession of guns or bows in game areas just before the opening of hunting seasons.

OPERATION CARIBOU — Two game biologists for the state of Maine work quickly to release two caribou after the animals were airlifted by helicopter to the northwest plateau of Mt. Katahdin in northern Maine. The caribou were brought from Newfoundland in the hopes of starting a herd in the Baxter Park area.

African Safaris on Move to Newest Hunting Area

For the past five years, the big game in Ethiopia has had a pleasant time of it. All hunting was prohibited during that period.

Now comes the announcement that the ban on hunting has been removed. Thus Ethiopia now assumes the status of one of the outstanding safari areas of Africa.

Kenya has for years been the mecca of the big-game hunters of the world. This area has been hunted rather extensively. While there is still plenty of game in Kenya, it has been limited to the point where, like every overshot country, the game is becoming increasingly wary and difficult to find.

Ethiopia holds 45 varieties of African game.

Outstanding are lion, leopard (both spotted and black), cheetah, elephant, buffalo and greater and lesser kudu. In addition, this country is the home of the majestic mountain nyala which is found nowhere else.

Ethiopian safaris need not be oppressively expensive. The hunting license costs $40.

Then there are "capitation fees." These vary from $2 on such animals as baboon, hare and hyena to $300 for elephant and $600 for mountain nyala. Gazelles, all varieties, list at $10. In other words, you can spend as much or as little as you wish and you regulate your shooting according to your pocketbook.

Ethiopia can be reached easily by air and the entry into the country has been made easy by the authorities. No visas or travel permits are needed and you need not register unless you plan to be in the country more than 30 days.

For complete information, write to Torrey Stearns, No. 1 East 53rd Street, New York 22, N.Y.

Budget, Parks Top Business for Commission

An increased budget, state park and game area concession leases and land matters will come up for consideration Thursday and Friday when the Conservation Commission meets in Lansing's Jack Tar Hotel.

Commission approval will be sought to upgrade the Conservation Department's present budget by some $6.5 million during the 1964-65 fiscal year.

Final action on the total proposed budget of $28.5 million will rest with the 1964 Legislature.

★ ★ ★

In another matter, the Commission is scheduled to award new concession leases at the Grayling winter sports park, Hartwick Pines state park, Highland recreation area and Pointe Mouillee state game area.

BOH Pro Named Horse Group Head

Two members of area riding groups were among four officers elected by the southern Michigan chapter of the Professional Horsemen's Association during a recent meeting at Metamora.

Gene Rawlins, Bloomfield Open Hunt Club, was named chairman, and Chris Duffield, Rochester Riding Academy, was picked to serve as secretary.

Charles Grant, Flint Riding Academy, will serve as vice-chairman. Louise Lasher, Metamora Hunt Club, was elected treasurer.

Department Field Men Agree on Elk Hunting

Conservation Department field men working in Michigan's "elk country" met last week at Higgins Lake to review and share experiences related to the elk herd in the northeastern Lower Peninsula.

No decisions were reached, but there was general agreement that some type of selective hunting of the animals will be necessary, and soon.

Injured Red Wings Call Farm Players

DETROIT (AP) — Beset by numerous injuries, the Detroit Red Wings promoted three Pittsburgh farm club regulars Tuesday for emergency duty and sent two players back to the minors.

Up from the Hornets of the American Hockey League are forward Floyd Smith, Defenseman John Miszuk and goalie Hank Bassen.

The Wings, who have won only one of their last 10 National Hockey League games, said the players would report in time for possible action at Toronto tonight.

Smith, 28, is the leading scorer in the AHL with 30 points in 20 games. He played five games with Detroit at the start of the season.

Returning to Pittsburgh is forward Paul Henderson, 21, who had been an emergency fill-in. Irv Spencer, 26, a defenseman, was sent to Cincinnati of the Central Professional Hockey League.

There was a rare visitor in Pontiac Monday.

An Arctic owl decided to spend the day under the kitchen window outside the Moore residence at 136 E. Rundell.

"The owl stayed under the window for some time," reported Mrs. Luella Moore. "It finally flew across the street when we tried to take some pictures."

The owl, rarely seen on its migration flight, set up housekeeping in the middle of the baseball diamond at Aaron Perry Park.

Mrs. Moore said the owl blended in so well with the fresh snow "that you could just barely make it out."

Boat Racer Uninjured

SEATTLE (AP) — Hydroplane driver Bill Muncey escaped injury Tuesday when Miss Notre Dame, owned by Shirley McDonald, of Detroit, caught fire and exploded during a test run on Lake Washington. Muncey said he was "doing about 150" miles per hour when a gas line came loose and the fire started. He said he doubted if the boat could be saved.

City Cagers in Practice Tilts

Play continued in the city Parks and Recreation Department's men's basketball practice game schedule last night with three teams posting victories.

★ ★ ★

The night's best game saw Southwest Community Club top West Bloomfield Heating, 63-57, on the Madison Junior High Court. The two teams are expected to be strong contenders for the city title this season.

West Bloomfield led by three points at halftime and by one with one quarter to play, but Southwest closed strong for the victory.

Other action found White Lake Pharmacy grabbing a last period victory over 300 Bowl, 51-39, and Corr's Fuel made a successful debut with a 73-57 verdict over the Bachelors' Club.

White Lake entered the final period tied with 300 Bowl at 34 apiece, but held the latter to only five points in the last session while erupting for 17.

Corr's built an early lead against the Bachelors and then pulled away from the losers with a fourth quarter margin of 22-12.

★ ★ ★

Two games are planned for tonight. The Pontiac Police will play Wilson's All Stars at 7 p.m. and Town & Country has an 8:30 p.m. date with the Bachelors' Club at Pontiac Northern.

The football safety has been worth two points since 1883, and the field goal has had a value of three points since the rule adopted in 1910.

Were Last Death Plane Words From Another Craft?

WASHINGTON — The dramatic "Clipper 214 out of control . . . going down in flames" message, supposedly flashed by the pilot of a doomed Pan American World Airways jet, may have come from another plane, it was learned today.

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), UPI was informed by a reliable source, has evidence that the chilling words came instead from the copilot of a National Air Lines DC8 flying only 1,000 feet above the Pan American 707 just before it fell in flames at Elkton, Md., Sunday night, killing all 81 aboard.

The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA), which released the tape recording containing what presumably was the Pan Am pilot's final communicatin to the Philadelphia Approach Control Center, apparently assumed it must have come from flight 214—the plane that crashed.

★ ★ ★

After the control center first heard "clipper 214 . . . out of control . . . down (or here) we go," it immediately asked:

THE CONVERSATION

"Clipper 214, were you calling Philadelphia?"

★ ★ ★

A voice calmly answered: "Clipper 214 . . . going down in flames."

★ ★ ★

Both the "out of control" message and the "down in flames" cry, the source told UPI, actually were flashed instead by one of the pilots on National flight 16 which was in a holding pattern over New Castle, Del., at 6,000 feet—1,000 feet above the Pan American jet.

'READY TO GO'

Before what has been presumed to be the "final message," the Pan AM pilot had informed the control center he was "ready to go"—meaning he received permission.

"Clipper 214, stay in pattern," the center replied.

"Roger, no hurry," was the answer—and the last positive communication received from flight 214.

★ ★ ★

Presumably, the CAB first learned that the final message probably came from another plane when investigators questioned the National pilots.

VITAL TESTIMONY

Their testimony may be the most vital of all in the solution of the tragedy, for they apparently were the most reliable and closest eyewitnesses to the 707's death throes. There was no indication what they told the CAB.

Nor was there any immediate explanation how the National crew knew that the flaming jet below them was Pan American flight 214. It was assumed that the National pilots were aware that 214 was the aircraft below them in the holding pattern through previous communications on a radio frequency available to both planes.

The official transcript of the ground-air communications on that fateful night mentioned National flight 16 on several occasions, but gave no hint that its crew had witnessed the accident.

It did cast doubt on the theory that severe turbulence may have contributed to the crash.

Shortly after the crash, the National pilot told approach control, "We don't want to stay here at New Castle."

The controller gave him a new heading and commented, "This could possibly put you into a smoother area."

"It's smooth enough here," National 16 replied. "We're just getting lightning."

★ ★ ★

CAB investigators continued a painstaking examination of a one-inch piece of aluminum foil taken from the badly battered and scorched flight recorder.

The flight recorder was recovered at the crash scene late Monday.

Investigators were openly disappointed at the condition of the flight recorder, from which they hoped to gain information on the stresses encountered, the airspeed, direction, altitude and what gyrations the Pan Am jetliner may have gone through.

Sylvan Lake to Eye Joint Water Lines

The possibility of a combined water system with Keego Harbor will be discussed tonight at 8 p.m. by the Sylvan Lake City Council.

Sylvan Lake City Manager Leroy Trafton said he will ask the council whether consideration of tieing the two systems together should go any further.

He said the actual details of any such link would have to be worked out. He added that the proposal was still very tentative.

★ ★ ★

At the present time, the city of Sylvan Lake obtains its water from two community wells, while Keego Harbor does not have a municipal water system.

Retired Clerk Leaves Estate of $2 Million

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — F. Bert Magee, 79, a retired city bookkeeper, who lived simply while playing the stock market, left an estate of well over $2 million.

Probate papers disclosed yesterday that Magee, who died Oct. 16, left his estate in trust. His widow, E. Marie, a nephew and two nieces each will receive 15 per cent of the income.

The remaining 40 per cent will be divided between six grand-nephews and grand-nieces, the Elks Lodge charity fund and the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in Spokane.

★ ★ ★

The Shrine Hospital will receive the residue of the trust on the death of all heirs.

Trading Moderate

Strong Rails Keep Market Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Strength in rails kept a wobbly stock market on the upside early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

While industrials gave a spotty performance, rails forged ahead following a prediction by Stuart T. Saunders, chairman of Pennsylvania Railroad, that the net income of U.S. railroads in 1964 would rise to $650 million from $571 million this year.

★ ★ ★

Pennsy and New York Central made new highs for the year with fractional gains.

The industrial average, however, was dragged down by a loss of about 5 points by du Pont. The market for du Pont was dampened by a secondary offering of 130,000 shares of the chemical giant.

UNCHANGED

Motors were unchanged to lower.

Mail-order-retail stocks took small losses. The government reported retail sales in November eased from the record October rate—predictably, because of the public reaction to President Kennedy's assassination in late November.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 284.0 with industrials unchanged, rails up 1.7 and utilities up .2.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in moderate trading. Gains exceeding Corporate and U.S. Government bonds declined in moderate trading.

Ruby Defense by Top Lawyer

California Attorney Will Head Trial Staff

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A Californian considered one of the nation's foremost trial lawyers will head the defense staff at the murder trial of Jack Ruby, who killed the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Melvin Belli — pronounced Bell-eye — of Los Angeles and San Francisco, said Tuesday night he was undertaking Ruby's defense "and I'm going to lead on it."

Belli, author of 28 law books and a past president of the American Academy of Trial Lawyers, said Ruby, 52, would plead innocent by reason of insanity.

FAIR TRIAL?

Asked if he believed Ruby could receive a fair trial in Dallas, Belli said: "There is no assumption that he can not." He said there was no plan at present to ask a change of venue.

Ruby's trial for murder in the shooting of Lee Howard Oswald, 24, the accused assassin, is set for Feb. 3 before Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown of Dallas.

★ ★ ★

Brown said three national networks or their affiliates have asked to televise the trial.

"I've done a lot of thinking and praying about it," he said, "but I don't know about it yet."

BULKY MAN

Brown, 55, a bulky man with graying, wavy brown hair, predicted he would be criticized widely regardless of what he decides about television.

Ruby shot Oswald before a nationwide television audience Nov. 24 as he was being transferred from Dallas' City Hall to the county jail, where Ruby now is held without bond.

★ ★ ★

Belli said relatives of Ruby contacted him soon afterward but he could not commit himself then. One reason, he said, was a murder trial in Los Angeles which went to a jury Tuesday.

"I also wanted to be certain that there was no connection between Jack Ruby and Oswald, or between Ruby and anybody else," Belli said.

WAS CONVINCED

Belli said he did not believe Ruby "was just a publicity seeker" and he was convinced Ruby had no association with Oswald or any conspiracy.

Soybeans Firm Up; Other Grains Ease

CHICAGO (AP) — Speculative support firmed soybean prices but the grains were mostly easier today during the first several minutes of transactions on the board of trade.

Soybeans moved up more than two cents a bushel in spots, while losses in wheat ranged to well over a cent on the new crop months. Other commodities held within small fractions either way of previous closes in rather quiet dealings.

Brokers ascribed the weakness in new crop wheat to reports of snowfall in parts of the Great Plains where moisture long has been badly needed.

Retraining Is Necessary

After Illness, Student's Ability Impaired

By LESLIE J. NASON

Hang-over effects of an illness long forgotten may make Johnny fail in his classes, or misbehave.

When there's a problem in deportment or scholarship, a search should always be made for some current physical disability. If there is none, look next for a disability in the past. Retraining — whether mental or muscular—may have been neglected.

A case in point is that of Joe. Joe's third grade teacher reported that he had behavior that often accompanies a hearing loss. His attention was poor and he was a bit rowdy.

A school nurse examined Joe's hearing and found it normal. However, a year previously his hearing had been impaired after an attack of mumps. Although Joe's hearing had returned to normal, his behavior had not!

Joe's parents and teachers made a special effort to help him regain control of his attention and correct his bad behavior. Their combined efforts solved the problem.

ALL MUST HELP

It takes effort. Changes in behavior are not automatic. Pupils need the help of understanding parents and teachers.

While in the sixth grade David broke his writing arm and carried it in a cast for two months. Up to this point he had been a good student. Now, his grades deteriorated until, in the eighth grade, he was barely passing.

What had been overlooked? No one had reminded David that he must retrain the muscles of his writing arm in the skills of handwriting. When David did start handwriting practice his grades immediately began to improve. Within four months, he was making A averages.

* * * *

Then there was Elsie. She had a severe illness while in the fourth grade. She was out of school for several months and, when she did return she needed, and received, special treatment.

EXPECTED BEHAVIOR

Two years later Elsie still expected, and received, special treatment at home and at school. Her grades were low. Yet, with her intelligence there was no reason for Elsie to be at the bottom of the class.

* * *

Since her doctor stated that she no longer had a physical disability, Elsie's parents and her teachers cooperated to help her stop behaving like a person with a physical disability.

Told that she was expected to take the responsibility for getting along at home and at school, she began to behave like a normal child. She not only made better grades, but was happier.

One of the paradoxes of contract bidding is that a pair is likely to reach a higher contract by starting with an underbid instead of an overbid.

Thus in the Oxnard, Calif., sectional late in October most pairs arrived only at six spades. North would start with a forcing two club or two spade bid and then would move slowly fearing that his partner would be bidding on high cards in the red suits.

Of course, some players reached seven spades after an opening two bid, but the bidding sequence that had least trouble getting there started with a one club opening by North.

South had a natural spade response and now North was in trouble, but pleasant trouble. How was he going to show his full strength?

He finally decided that the only way would be through a Blackwood four no-trump. I don't know exactly what he planned to do if South's response showed no aces, but when South showed one ace, North continued with five no-trump.

I think that North would have gambled out the grand slam if South had shown his one king, but South never gave North a chance.

North and South were playing that a Blackwood five no-trump as a follow-up to four no-trump guaranteed all four aces.

So South knew about all the aces. He also was pretty sure that North had at least four spades to the ace-king. How else could North have done all that bidding after merely opening one club?

In that case, South's king of clubs and queen of spades had to be all that was needed for a grand slam in spades so South bid it.

Q—The bidding has been:

What do you do now?
A—Bid four spades. This is by no means a stop bid.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues with a bid of four no-trump. You show two aces and he goes to five no-trump. What do you do now?

The Oakland County chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health will hold its annual meeting for public officials.

Charles F. Wagg, director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, will be the main speaker.

Wagg will outline rules and regulations, as drawn up by his department, for implementing the new community services act.

FOR LEGISLATURE

Edward T. Raney, PhD., president of the county chapter, said the luncheon is designed to acquaint state legislators with problems of mentally ill children and adults.

Dr. Raney added that the newly appointed Oakland County Community Mental Health Services Board, established under the new law, has been invited to the meeting.

PROMOTED — James K. Sutton (right), commanding officer of the Pontiac Army Reserve, has the silver leaf of a lieutenant colonel pinned on his shoulder by Col. Joseph Daiek, regimental commander. Formerly a major, Sutton has been commanding officer of the 2nd Battalion, 333rd regiment, for 18 months. Sutton received the new rank in ceremonies Monday at the Reserve Center, 40 Walnut.

Space Center to South Bend?

Studebaker Town Has Good Chance in Bid

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — The hope of getting a space research center gleamed today as the silver lining in the cloud cast over South Bend by the final shutdown of Studebaker auto production.

"I think South Bend has a better chance of getting the proposed $50-million National Aeronautics and Space Administration Research Center," Harold Montross, trouble shooter sent here by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, said.

★ ★ ★

The University of Notre Dame is one of several bidders for the facility. Montross spoke Tuesday at a meeting of civic and business leaders called by Mayor Frank Bruggner.

COMMITTEE

Bruggner appointed a 35-member committee to study means of offsetting the $50-million annual payroll loss. Franklin Schurz, editor and publisher of The South Bend Tribune, and Paul Gilbert, department store owner, were appointed cochairmen.

Louis Nicolini, director of the Indiana Employment Security Division, attended the conference. He said he plans to go to Washington Thursday to confer with Department of Commerce officials.

★ ★ ★

Studebaker's Truck Division, bolstered by large military contracts, will continue to operate in South Bend, but the end of passenger car manufacture means the loss of jobs for about 6,000 workers.

Board Chairman Randolph H. Guthrie said in a news conference in New York Tuesday the firm had lost $40 million since 1959 in "trying to stay alive in the car business."

Girl Crash Victim Listed Satisfactory

Jannis Roberts, 17, of 3053 Barkman, Waterford Township, is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after being injured at 11:38 p.m. yesterday in an auto accident at Dixie and Scott Lake Road.

Miss Roberts was riding in a car driven by James Collett, 17, of 801 E. Columbia, headed southeast on Dixie.

A car driven by James Ross, 50, of 1253 Hummer Lake Road, Orion Township, pulled out of a gas station and hit Collett's car, according to police.

Collett's auto was pushed into a third car driven by Robert Harry, 25, of Taylor.

The boll weevil, scourge of cotton, first appeared in the U.S. in 1892, migrating into Texas from Mexico.

First Plans Okayed for Child Units

Preliminary plans and financing for first units of a proposed Children's Village at the County Service Center were approved yesterday by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

In recommending approval, the ways and means committee assured the necessary funds for the $646,000 initial project would be available in time to begin construction in March.

The units are intended to house wards of the juvenile court.

According to court authorities, the new facilities will relieve overcrowded conditions at the existing Children's Center, enable the separation of emotionally disturbed youngsters from those who are normal, and provide for more individual care and treatment.

★ ★ ★

Units proposed at this time will include two rehabilitation cottages and a special services unit.

SEPCIAL UNIT

The special service unit, according to Juvenile Affairs Director James Hunt, will be a semidetention building for troubled youngsters.

Half the cost for initial units is being underwritten by a federal grant under the Accelerated Public Works Act.

The county's share will include $103,000 from unappropriated funds this year and $220,000 in next year's budget.

★ ★ ★

In other action, the board of supervisors approved plans and financing for a $60,000 central air control system in the courthouse complex and an additional $3,240 appropriation for the Oakland Child Guidance Clinics.

The money was asked for by the clinics to carry their program of psychiatric treatment through until next year's budget.

Truck Crushes Farmer

MECOSTA (AP) — Walter A. Enyart, 42, was crushed fatally yesterday in a farm work accident. Police said he was pinned under a truck which fell through a floor in his barn.

Top Suspect in Railroad Case Caught

LONDON (AP) — Scottland Yard's elite plainclothes unit, the Flying Squad, captured "the Weasel" after a chase over London rooftops Tuesday night.

"The Weasel," racing driver Roy James, 28, was charged with plotting and performing the greatest robbery in British history—the Aug. 8 train holdup that amounted to more than $7-million.

★ ★ ★

Thirty flying squad officers surrounded James in a cottage in the swank St. John's Woods district. He fled through a skylight and along the roofs of adjoining houses, but soon was caught.

James is the 21st person to be charged in the case.

Planned Child-Abuse Law Nearly Curbed by County

A proposed state law to further protect children from physical abuse by parents or custodians nearly foundered before the County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

The board decided by a 39-38 vote not to send the proposed law back to the legislative committee, after several supervisors challenged its clarity.

Other supervisors objected because the committee hadn't asked the Oakland County Medical Society for an opinion of the proposal.

★ ★ ★

The law, originally proposed here by Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard, would require doctors and hospitals to report suspected cases of child abuse to the state health commissioner for investigation.

PROVIDED FOR

The proposed law doesn't cover prosecution of child abuse. Judge Barnard said the prosecution of such cases is provided for by existing statutes.

He explained that, in requiring doctors and hospitals to report their suspicions, the proposed law would protect them from lawsuits in the event their suspicions are not verified in court.

County Juvenile Affairs Director James Hunt told the board that there have been many child abuse cases in the, county in which doctors were reluctant to testify for fear of being sued if a case was lost.

★ ★ ★

The proposed law now will be included among those to be sought by the county in the legislature in 1964.

CLOSE VOTE

The close vote of acceptance here recorded a rare occurrence in which Board Chairman Delos Hamlin voted for the proposed law, while Ways and Means Committee Chairman David Levinson voted to send it back to committee.

TAKES OFFICE — James Reinert, 701 Second, will be installed as worshipful master of Roosevelt Lodge 510, F&AM, in 8 p.m. ceremonies Saturday at Masonic Temple, 22 State. Other new officers are Alfred Vaughn, senior warden; Harry Hodge, junior warden; Charles Buell, treasurer; and William Pfahlert, secretary.

November Weather Warm

No Preface to Winter's Book

Despite the sun's sudden departure, November was relatively warm right through Thanksgiving, without the bone-chilling preface to winter we experienced last year.

The thermometer posted an average of 44 degrees for the 30 days and on 16 days the temperature hit 50 or better.

Warmest day was Nov. 17, when we basked in 65 degrees. The lowest mark did not come until Nov. 30, last day of the month, when it slipped to 24.

★ ★ ★ ★

Month's end in 1962 was the opposite, however, when the temperature leaped to 65 for the record high day.

PEEK-A-BOO

A peek-a-boo sun left us with 19 days during which it was partly cloudy or rainy. Heavy fogs slowed motorists on three mornings.

Nov. 22, the day of President Kennedy's death, seemed to fit the occasion. Overcast skies gave way to spats of rain and wind as the tragic news sped from Dallas.

But Thanksgiving was sunny, and served up a non-unpleasant 56 degrees along with the traditional turkey.

★ ★ ★

All in all, we fared four degrees warmer than the mean temperature of 40 last year.

★ ★ ★

Last two weeks of November a year ago were a wintry period, with the season's first snow and low temperature hovering about the freezing level.

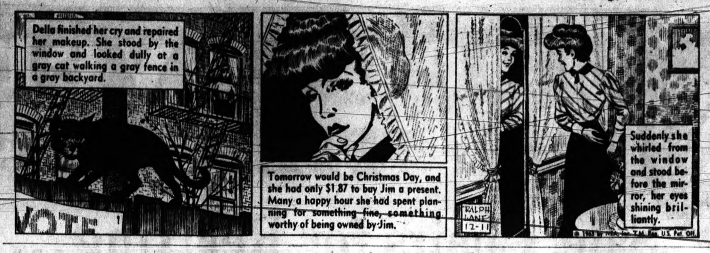
GIFTS OF THE MAGI

BY O. HENRY



Redistricting Is at a Stalemate

By JIM DYGERT

Maybe the cynics were right after all.

Their confidence was a bit shaken last month when Oakland County Democrats and Republicans met peacefully in a heart-warming burst of bipartisanship and agreed on a plan for new State Senate districts in the county.

The prospect of their example proving infectious raised hopes that the bipartisan State Apportionment Commission might agree to develop new districts in time for Michigan to hold legislative elections next year.

But now the cynics' scoffing is being vindicated.

The spirit of cooperation has run into that familiar old brick wall known as partisan stalemate, both in Oakland County and within the state apportionment commission.

The culprits are a number and a bridge.

County Democrats, according to their deputy county chairman, James M. McNeely, see no sense in going to work on House districting in the county until the state commission decides whether the county will get nine or 10 House seats.

ASK RECOMMENDATION

However, they would be glad to roll up their sleeves and resume bipartisanship if the county GOP would strongly recommend 10 seats, as the Democrats already have.

The Republicans won't do that, according to County GOP Chairman Charles L. Lyle.

"We are not going to pretend we are the ones to interpret the new Constitution," says Lyle.

This is where the bridge comes in. The apportionment commission is divided over the question of whether the Mackinac Bridge makes the Upper Peninsula contiguous with the Lower Peninsula.

MUST BE CONTIGUOUS

The constitution says area within a district must be contiguous.

If the two peninsulas are made contiguous by the bridge, then a district containing area of both is legally possible and Oakland County could get 10 seats.

If not, there would be separate districts on each end of the bridge and Oakland could claim only nine districts.

* * *

However, Republicans are ready and willing to apply their bipartisan spirit to developing alternate plans for both nine and 10 seats. In fact, they already have four or five tentative plans for each case.

Democrats consider that a silly waste of time and work.

DON'T MIND

"We don't mind the little extra work, though," says Lyle.

If the whole argument seems silly, consider the factor that the area near the bridge usually votes Republican.

Locating a second district there would give the GOP a safer seat than they could expect in Oakland County.

* * *

The dispute threatens to produce what was long ago predicted—a partisan deadlock that could prevent the commission from meeting the Feb. 1 deadline for having new districts in time for the August primary.

NO BASIS

Failure to meet the deadline could leave the state with no basis for legislative elections unless the State Supreme Court steps in to resolve the issue.

The local stalemate dampens the hope that bipartisan agreement here could help the commission meet the deadline, which was the original thought behind the attempt at cooperation.

U. S. Probes Bankruptcy of Vegetable Oil Company

ZALNEWARK, N. J. (UPI) — Federal Bankruptcy referee William Tallyn will try to determine today whether 690-million pounds of edible oils were removed from a company's storage tanks before it went bankrupt.

Tallyn froze the assets yesterday of two storage tank firms, which were believed to have received vegetable oil from the company, Allied Crude Vegetable Oil & Refining Co. of Bayonne, N. J.

The firms are the Hudson Storage Co. and the International Refining and Packaging Co., both of Weehawken, N. J.

Tallyn issued an injunction in U.S. District Court tying up their assets.

WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS

Allied Crude, which went bankrupt last month when it failed to meet $18 million in margin calls, had issued warehouse receipts for the missing oil. Only seven million pounds of it have been found in storage tanks.

Tallyn acted on a request by Nathan Ravin, counsel for Daniel J. Delear of Jersey City, who has been named receiver for Allied Crude.

Ravin said there is reason to believe that 125 tank cars containing Allied Crude's oil was transported to the two firms before it filed its bankruptcy petition.

* * *

Ravin also said in his petition that Hudson Storage Tank Co., which filed for reorganization under bankruptcy laws Monday and was associated with Allied Crude, recently opened a tank yard in Bayonne at the Lackawanna Railroad Terminal.

PART OF OIL

He said that at least part of the missing oil "might have been sent" to the two storage tank firms.

Ravin said a number of witnesses will be called at today's hearing, including officials of American Express Warehousing, Ltd., which owned the tank farm where the oil was supposed to be stored.

Ravin also said he would decide soon whether to file contempt citations against Anthony Deangelis, president of Allied Crude, and Ben Rotello, controller of the firm.

The contempt citations would stem from their refusal to answer more than 100 questions during their appearances before Tallyn about the company's operations.

TROUBLE SHOOTER

A self-styled "trouble shooter" for DeAngeles, Nicholas Papaccio, testified yesterday that oil could have been pumped out of the tanks without removing a lock and chain.

U.S. Atty. David M. Satz said his office and the FBI were investigating the matter which has become more widespread almost daily.

One result of the case was the suspension from trading on the major commodity and security exchanges of two old line brokerage houses. Ira Haupt & Co. was liquidated and J. R. Williston & Beane was merged with another brokerage firm.

Financial losses in the scandal so far have been estimated at more than $150 million.

Borge Picture of Modesty Cuts Self From TV Picture

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Victor Borge swung around sharply toward me in the Carnegie Hall dressing room and asked me, "What's Smoky the Bear's middle name?"

WILSON

"How would I know Smoky the Bear's middle name?" I said.

"You should know it," Borge said. "It's 'the.'"

Thank God for people like Borge who can convert trifles into laughter. They are especially precious today. While he was dressing to tape his Jan. 8 ABC TV show, a piano tuner began working in the next room.

"Reminds me of my wife," he said. "I took her to an opera. The orchestra came out and tuned up. As it finished, she said, 'I didn't care much for that first composition.'"

Borge, who'll probably do six TV shows a year (instead of one) via a new deal, demonstrated a refreshing modesty in rehearsal.

"Cut that closeup of me," he said. "Everybody knows what I look like. If you need a closeup, take one of the chair with me out of it; it'll be an improvement."

* * *

Robert Mitchum was approached by a giddy female fan at the Copacabana who wasn't quite sure whether he was Bob Mitchum or his son, Jim. Finally, deciding it was Bob, she said, "Your son look just like you."

"I guess," replied Bob, "he must have been drinking."

* * *

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The swingy English Palace set refers to Queen Elizabeth's consort as "Philip the First." . . . 20th Century-Fox's album of JFK's speeches sold 100,000 copies the first day . . . Ben Lillie is due from London to start rehearsing "High Spirits." . . . Edward G. Robinson and his son, whose battles once made headlines, had lunch and dinner together at the Monsignore . . . Teen-age idol Brook Benton announced he and his wife are parents for the fourth time.

* * *

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "It must be wonderful to be a cab driver," says Taffy Tuttle. "Every day you go to work in a taxi."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "I am a great believer in luck. The harder I work, the more I seem to have of it."

EARL'S PEARLS: It's surprising how easy it is for a man to understand a wife—when she isn't his.

Neil (Doc) Simon, author of the comedy hit, "Barefoot in the Park," was asked how he forces himself to sit down and start work. "First," he said, "you send your wife out shopping in an expensive store. . . ." That's earl, brother.

Hope's Eye Better After Treatments

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope underwent a minor follow-up photocoagulation treatment of his left eye Tuesday. A Children's Hospital spokesman said the eye is reacting very favorably.

The spokesman said Hope expects to leave the hospital by the end of the week and expects to make his Christmas tour of Mediterranean area military bases as planned.

Lodge Nixes D.C. Primary

Says He's Not in Race for '64 Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge has refused to have his name entered in the District of Columbia presidential primary. He says he is not a candidate for the 1964 GOP nomination and has no intention of running.

Lodge had been asked Nov. 18 by District Republican Chairman Carl L. Shipley to consider writing that he had no objection to his name being entered in the May 5 preference primary.

* * *

But Lodge, former Republican senator from Massachusetts and now U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, wrote Dec. 4 that "were I to write the type of letter which you request, it would put me in an extremely false position. Therefore, I must object."

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, whom Lodge helped win the 1952 GOP presidential nomination, has been reported trying to convince Lodge to make himself available for the 1964 GOP nomination.

NO CANDIDATE

Lodge's answer to Shipley left the field for the GOP primary here devoid of candidates so far. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona told Shipley he would consider the matter; former vice president Richard M. Nixon said he is not a candidate and does not want his name entered in any primaries; Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine said she has not decided whether she will run for president.

District of Columbia residents will vote for president and vice president for the first time in 1964.

* * *

Under the district's presidential primary law, a candidate cannot be placed on the ballot unless he gives permission, or else signifies he does not object.

The Gift to the Little Children

By JOHN J. STEWART

As Jesus and His disciples neared a village in the province of Perea, several women came out to meet Him, carrying or leading their little children, some of whom suffered afflictions.

These women knew of the great healing power and of the goodness and compassion of the Master. They were anxious that their children should see Him and hear Him and be blessed by Him.

Jesus and his disciples had been walking and meeting with people all day. They were tired and hungry. Nor did some of the disciples have a high regard for women and children. Despite the Master's earlier teachings to them, they still egotistically felt that only men were of much importance.

REBUKED BY DISCIPLES

So when the women with their children sought Jesus, His disciples rebuked them and told them to go away and not bother the Master.

The boys and girls with their mothers had eagerly anticipated the privilege of meeting Jesus. Especially had those who were ill and afflicted. It was in keen disappointment that they turned to go away.

But when Jesus heard what was said to them, He was much displeased. Immediately He called out to His disciples, saying, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God."

ASTONISHED AT WORDS

The disciples were astonished at the Master's words.

"Verily I say unto you, whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein."

As the disciples murmured among themselves, the mothers and their children came rejoicing unto Jesus.

And He took their little children up in His arms and talked with them and blessed them.

$240,000 Paid to Abductors by His Father

Youth Picked Up by Private Policeman Near Mother's Home

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Frank Sinatra Jr., reported abducted from a motel on the California-Nevada border Sunday night, turned up at 3:10 a.m. today in the exclusive Bel-Air district here.

The 19-year-old singer's father told newsmen he paid $240,000 to get the boy back—no questions asked.

Friends said the youth, picked up by a private patrolman and brought to his mother's nearby home, was not harmed. The patrolman said he told him he was blindfolded throughout his 54-hour ordeal.

Sinatra Jr. did not talk to newsmen thronged outside the mansion of Nancy Sinatra. But his father, long divorced from the boy's mother, spoke briefly.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Sinatra "is speechless," he said—"and I'm about the same way."

HIS BIRTHDAY

"By the way," he said, "I might add that it is my birthday—46—and this is about as good a birthday present as anyone could ask for."

The FBI had no comment. Sinatra Sr. said "a gang of seven to nine" kidnapers was involved.

He said he paid them off in small bills, left at a pickup point on Wilshire Boulevard in West Los Angeles. He said "no deal was made" to protect the abductors after the payoff.

★ ★ ★

"They're on their own now," Sinatra said.

★ ★ ★

Patrolman George C. Jones said he found Frank Jr. walking along his beat on Roscomare Road, not far from Mrs. Sinatra's home.

SOMEONE YELLED

Jones said he was driving along when someone yelled "Hey!"

"I rolled down the window and this kid asked me: 'Can you drive me to Nimes Road?'"

Mrs. Sinatra and her two daughters live at 700 Nimes.

Fear Clashes at Tin Mines Over Hostages

Bolivia Militiamen Said to Be Rallying to Aid Government

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)— Fears of clashes heightened today as peasant militiamen were reported marching to Bolivia's tin mines to defend President Victor Paz Estenssoro's government against rebellious Communist-led miners.

Reports reaching La Paz said bands of armed peasants were moving on Oruro, hub of the mining district, and planned to set up camp there in a show of support for the government.

Oruro is 30 miles north of Catavi, where dissident miners are holding 15 hostages, including four Americans, in retaliation for the government's arrest of two Communist mine union leaders.

The government asked last night for U.S. arms, including planes, to effect the release of the hostages but gave no indication if planned an immediate attack.

CONFLICT FEARED

Paz Estenssoro, under heavy U.S. pressure to secure the release of the captives, moved cautiously to assure their safety. It was feared any precipitious move might touch off widespread conflict.

The government warned the miners their food supplies would be cut off unless they released the hostages by tonight.

Leftist union leaders in Oruro in radio broadcasts exhorted workers to arm themselves and prepare to make a stand against the peasant militiamen.

★ ★ ★

About 3,000 government troops are also poised in Oruro, high in the Andes 120 miles southeast of La Paz.

The four Americans, all attached to the U.S. Embassy, were seized by the miners Friday night after they had gone to Catavi to deliver a $15,000 U.S. aid check for a school and an orphanage.

★ ★ ★

They were taken into custody at the home of a Dutch mine manager and locked under heavy guard at union headquarters together with the Dutchman, a German mine superintendent and nine Bolivian technicians.

★ ★ ★

Cram 15 Men in One Room

(Editor's Note: Associated Press writer Jorge Canelas visited the hostages held by Communist-led tin miners in Bolivia. Here is his report.)

By JORGE CANELAS

ORURO, Bolivia (AP) — The four Americans and 11 others held by rebellious Bolivian tin miners are crammed each night into one room 18 by 12 feet and sleep on the floor without mattresses.

They all appear in good health but seem understandably concerned and annoyed at their unexpected imprisonment.

The hostages were interviewed by newsmen yesterday at the mine for the first time since they were taken prisoner Friday.

★ ★ ★

None of the captives complained about the food, but they said sanitary facilities were inadequate and water was short.

Bill Headed for House Vote

County Officer 'Free Ride' Still in Doubt

By JIM DYGERT

LANSING — A bill to give county officials an extra two years in office was headed for final vote in the House of Representatives today with its fate still in doubt.

State Rep. Henry M. Hogan (R-Bloomfield Hills) predicted a nip and tuck battle.

Oakland County Democrats have come out against the measure, but Democrats from counties with Democratic officeholders have taken no such stand. Neither party has taken a formal position at the state level.

★ ★ ★

Since most of the state's counties have Republican officials, however, most opposition is expected from Democrats.

JUDGE TERMS

Also scheduled to reach a vote in the House today is a measure extending the terms of the elected Circuit Court judges until 1966.

This bill was amended yesterday to exclude 15 judges appointed this year by Gov. George Romney — including three in Oakland County — from having their terms likewise extended.

The appointed judges—Arthur E. Moore, Philip Pratt and James S. Thorburn in Oakland County — will be required to seek election for three years next fall if the bill passes without further amendment.

★ ★ ★

The State Senate yesterday passed a bill setting up a new state appellate court with three districts of three judges each. Oakland County and 17 other counties comprise one of the districts.

GOP CAUCUS

House Republicans caucused yesterday on the county officer term extension issue, but reached no concensus. The House yesterday held the measure over for final consideration today.

Allowing county officials to bypass the 1964 elections and get a two-year free ride in office was recommended by an interim legislative committee that drafted bills for implementing the new state constitution.

The idea is to start the new four-year county terms established by the constitution in 1966 when the four-year terms of state officers begin, instead of having county officers on the ballot in presidential election years. This would happen if their terms began in 1964.

★ ★ ★

The constitution does not say when the county terms are to begin.

CHANCE TO PASS

The measure is given a slightly better-than-even chance for passage despite Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley's opinion that it is unconstitutional and failure of Gov. Romney to endorse it.

Hogan predicted it would probably pass on a close vote.

If it is approved, the terms of five Oakland County officials would be double in length.

★ ★ ★

They are Prosecutor George F. Taylor, Sheriff Frank W. Irons, Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry, Treasurer Charles A. Sparks and Clerk-Register appointee David R. Calhoun, who will take office Jan. 1.

The appellate court bill passed by the Senate puts Oakland in a district with the counties of Macomb, Livingston, Genesee, Shiawassee, Washtenaw, Huron, Tuscola, Sanilac, St. Clair, Lapeer, Hillsdale, Lenawee, Clinton, Gratiot, Saginaw, Bay and Monroe.

The district includes the Thumb area, wraps around Wayne County and extends into the south-central portion of the state.

Wayne County comprises one of the other two districts.

★ ★ ★

The third is made up of the entire Upper Peninsula and the western half of the Lower Peninsula.

HEADQUARTERS

Headquarters of Oakland County's district may be located in Pontiac.

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts (R-Oakland County) who headed the committee that drafted the bill, is expected to be a candidate for one of the appellate court's nine seats.

Road Toll Hits 1,702

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Traffic accidents in Michigan through yesterday this year claimed 1,702 lives, according to state police corrected provisional reports. The highway death toll at the same time last year was 1,491.

French Ultimatum Threatens Euromart

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — The European Common Market today faced a French ultimatum that threatened its very existence.

The crisis—the worst since France vetoed Britain's application for Common Market membership 11 months ago—was based on a deadlock in efforts to set unified farm prices and subsidies for the six market nations.

A meeting of Common Market agricultural ministers went into its third day with no sign of a break in the impasse between France and Germany, the body's two most powerful members.

French President Charles de Gaulle warned last July that France would "review" its Common Market policies unless the farm question were settled by Dec. 31, but later French statements had been interpreted to mean the deadline was not firm.

★ ★ ★

French agriculture minister Edgar Pisani warned the other delegates yesterday, however, that the deadline "is not a legend or a fantasy."

LEFT ABRUPTLY

He then left abruptly for Paris to consult his government, saying only that he might return to Brussels today.

Observers said the implied threat was that France would quit the market or boycott its ministerial meetings — a crippling blow—unless the deadline is met.

Trade experts said that if the Common Market ceased to function, Western Europe's economic expansion could grind to a halt.

COME TO HALT

They said this could have a serious effect on western defense planning.

France, which has large surpluses of farm products, wants to keep down government price subsidies and sell its cheap agricultural products to Germany and other common market nations.

★ ★ ★

It wants the protection of high tariffs on farm products from non-market nations.

Light Snow, Cold Are Due

A light snow is expected to whiten the Pontiac area tonight, with temperatures dropping to near 25.

Temperatures for the next five days will skid 5 to 7 degrees below the normal high of 34 to 36 and low of 20 to 24. It will be a few degrees colder during the weekend. Tomorrow's high will be near 28.

Not much snow is forecast for the period. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts precipitation will total about one-quarter inch in snow flurries, mostly over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-six was the temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 1 p.m., the thermometer reading was 30.

Hunt Suspect in Area Murder

Mother of 4 Slain in Farmington Township

By PAT McCARTY

State police this morning issued a nationwide bulletin for a suspect in the slaying of a 27-year-old Farmington Township mother yesterday.

The body of Mrs. Carroll Westerman was discovered last night in a house trailer rented by William H. Hoskins, 32, who is now being sought by investigating officers.

Mrs. Westerman

Police said the mother of four had been shot and stabbed in the chest several times.

Hoskins' trailer in the Hideaway Trailer Park, 21335 Renselaer, is about two blocks from the Westerman home at 21312 St. Francis.

★ ★ ★

Westerman found his wife Marilyn's body about 6:30 p.m. after an eight-hour search.

NEIGHBOR CALLS

He had been alerted about 10:30 a.m. by a neighbor, who reported Mrs. Westerman did not return home after taking her husband to work.

Westerman had punched in at Stahl Manufacturing in Redford at 6:30 a.m., police said.

His search for his wife ended when he found the family car next to the trailer home of Hoskins and his 12-year-old daughter.

★ ★ ★

Neighbors told police they had seen the Westerman auto at the trailer early yesterday morning. Others said they saw Hoskins leave sometime during the morning.

DIVORCE SOUGHT

Westerman said he had planned to obtain a divorce from his wife and she had talked of marrying Hoskins, according to police.

The dead woman, a 5-foot-2 redhead with green eyes, was described as attractive.

She and Westerman were married 11 years ago while attending Farmington High School. Their daughters are Sherry, 10; Julie, 6; Roy, 3; and Janine, 2.

★ ★ ★

Hoskins' wife lives in the Pineville, Ky., area, where police think he might be headed.

Carter Names Acting Chief to Post of Police Inspector

City Manager Robert A. Carter said last night that he has named acting Police Chief William K. Hanger to the post of police inspector, a rank that is second only to chief in the Pontiac Police Department.

The announcement came as part of a report from Carter to the City Commission on police department matters.

Carter said he expects to reach a decision on who will be chief, and other police matters, "within a week."

★ ★ ★

Hanger, 38, was appointed as temporary chief when Police Chief Joseph Koren was suspended with pay pending an "impartial investigation" of departmental efficiency and leadership Oct. 10. Hanger was a lieutenant.

MOVE ORDERED

That move was ordered by Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck, prior to the hiring of Carter by the commission.

Carter said that Hanger would remain as acting chief until Carter decides who will fill the post.

He refused to say whether Koren, Hanger or someone else would take over as chief.

★ ★ ★

However, in listing his reasons for naming Hanger an inspector, Carter indicated the 17-year veteran wouldn't get the nod.

'NOT FAIR'

"I don't think it would be fair, or in the best interests of efficiency, for a man to return to a position where he must take orders from officers to whom he has been giving orders," Carter said.

"Also, this is a very useful position for the in-service training of future chiefs. They can come up through the ranks and be ready for the job.

"The police chief is also the only major city department head without an assistant as such," Carter explained.

In effect, the inspector is an assistant chief. Next in line are captains, then lieutenants.

NOT SINCE '59

There has not been an inspector in the department since Clark Wheaton retired in 1959. The duties of assistant chief have been handled by command captains.

Hanger will continue to draw close to $10,000 a year prorated, until a permanent chief is appointed.

He has drawn about the same pay that Koren is getting since he became acting chief.

Carter said he hoped to decide on the chief's post soon because "the city can't afford to go on paying two chiefs."

City Attorney William A. Ewart said he felt the appointment of a police officer of lower rank than chief by the city manager "is legal under the present state of flux."

Rocket Close to Blast-Off

Saturn Goes Dec. 18 Despite Setbacks

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —"Hurricane Ginny cost us two days. Then we lost another week because of the hydrogen explosion on Nov. 26. Otherwise, Saturn 1 is on the launching schedule laid out in August."

Army Lt. Col. Rocco A. Petrone was outlining months of painstaking preparation leading to the launching of what officials believe to be the world's most powerful rocket.

* * *

Barring further trouble, the 16-story-tall Saturn 1 will rumble skyward next Wednesday, Dec. 18, on a milestone test—the first attempt to ignite its high-energy liquid hydrogen second stage. Four earlier launchings of the kerosene-driven first stage were successful.

RESEARCH ONLY

Petrone, assistant director for plans and project management at the space agency's launch operations center, emphasized the flight would be strictly a research and development test. But as a bonus, he said, Saturn 1 would attempt to orbit the world's heaviest satellite — 83 feet long and weighing 19 tons, most of it dead weight, including 5½ tons of sand for ballast.

One more major trial lies ahead Thursday. This is a simulated flight test in which all systems will be exercised and a pretended launching and flight conducted. Then will follow the critical last inspections of all systems, leading to the countdown which is to start at 11 p.m. (EST) Tuesday and last approximately 11 hours.

FULL THRUST

When the Saturn 1—forerunner of the Saturn 5 man-to-the-moon rocket — blasts off, the first stage will generate its full 1.5 million pounds of thrust for the first time. The second stage will produce 90,000 pounds delivered by liquid hydrogen—quite a kick when ignited in the vacuum of space.

If successfully orbited, the satellite will be a monument of sorts to the late President John F. Kennedy.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara put the project into high gear Tuesday with his announcement that the Air Force had been assigned full responsibility for running it.

* * *

The aim is to have an initial model of a Gemini-X, without men aboard, in near-earth orbit in the first half of 1966 and to have the full-sized, manned laboratory aloft about four years from now.

* * *

Contracts for studies on the project already had been either let or invited by both the Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the designing of the super-powerful Titan 3 rocket booster was well along before the formal announcement.

GLIDER PROJECT

In disclosing the space laboratory venture, McNamara also announced termination of the Dyna-Soar orbital glider project.

A Pentagon spokesman said today that under an agreement between the Pentagon and NASA it expects NASA will make available to the Air Force the data from its own studies of the feasibility and technique for multimanned laboratories.

* * *

NASA announced award of one such study contract earlier this month to Douglas Aircraft Co. This study is aimed at refining NASA's concept of "a cylindrical six-man spacecraft" put into orbit by a big booster rocket.

In talking to newsmen, McNamara side-stepped the question of how many men would be carried in the Air Force version. He said only that it would be more than two men—the number for NASA's own Gemini capsule project.

AF INVITATIONS

The Air Force, proceeding with the study of an orbital space station, issued its own invitations to industry last September for bids on study contracts.

Air Force officials, in testifying before the House Military Appropriations subcommittee earlier this year, gave a general description of the orbiting laboratory.

*

One proposal, said Lt. Gen. James Ferguson, deputy chief of staff for research, contemplated a "cylindrical object perhaps 10 feet in diameter by 17 feet long, which would be boosted into a 300-mile orbit" by the Titan 3 rocket.

This would contain "the element of a laboratory, plus living accommodations for two to four people to live for extended periods—for practical purposes, let us say 30 days."

HOME BURNS—Mrs. Donald Groves and her daughter Darby faced more grief last night as they watched flames eat through their apartment in Birmingham. The Groves' son, Michael, who commanded the White House honor guard, died of a heart attack last Tuesday. Damage to the house at 501 S. Bates was estimated at $20,000. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Home Fire Compounds Tragedy

By JIM LONG

Last week, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Groves of Birmingham lost their only son when a heart attack took the young Army captain who commanded President Kennedy's honor guard.

Last night, all their mementoes of the 27-year-old career soldier were destroyed when fire swept through the Groves' apartment at 501 S. Bates.

"All my precious clippings and baby pictures of my boy gone," cried Mrs. Groves as she watched firemen tossing charred debris from the window of the third-floor apartment.

Her son, Michael D., collapsed and died of a heart attack last Tuesday while eating dinner in his Ft. Myers, Va., home.

BARELY ESCAPED

Mrs. Groves, 46, barely escaped before flames spread through the five-room apartment about 7:30 p.m.

"I was sleeping on the couch in the front room when I heard my husband screaming that the place was on fire," said Mrs. Groves.

"All I remember is grabbing the dog and running down the stairs and outside," she said. "I didn't have on any shoes or a coat."

* * *

DAMAGE ESTIMATE

Birmingham Fire Chief George Scott estimated damage to the three-story house at $15,000 and $5,000 for the contents. The damage was confined mostly to the Groves' top-floor apartment.

The cause of the fire has not been determined, but according to Scott, it is believed to have started in a storage area behind a wall in the kitchen.

While watching the thick smoke roll out of the windows, Mrs. Groves turned to a neighbor and asked what time it was. The reply was 8:20.

"Oh, God. It was exactly this time a week ago I received a phone call that my son was dead."

Rapped by County Board

Home Rule Act Drafters 'Too Hasty'

By DICK HANSON

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday rebuked its legislative committee for being "too hasty" in drafting a proposed enabling act for county home rule.

The board then sent the proposal back to the committee "for further study."

Having had a premonition of difficulties with the board, the committee just prior to yesterday's meeting killed its earlier resolution asking the board to send the proposed act to Lansing.

* * *

Instead, the committee submitted its proposal in the form of a report, seeking further direction from the board.

OBJECTION PARADE

A steady parade of supervisors objected to the fact that they supposedly hadn't had a chance to partake in drafting the proposed act.

* * *

Committee Vice Chairman Hugh Allerton Jr. of Southfield, who submitted the report, pointed out that "this is not a county home rule charter, but an enabling act" to set the limits for any charter that might be offered to county voters later on.

Committee Chairman Carl Ingraham of Birmingham was absent from the meeting.

* * *

Earlier, he had pressed for speedy action here in order to get an Oakland County proposal among the first to be considered by a government study committee of the State Legislature.

NOT NECESSARY

Berkley Supervisor Sander Levin said such haste is unnecessary because "it will be at least February" before the legislature is ready to consider any home rule enabling bill.

* * *

Levin joined other supervisors in questioning?

- The proposed act should set a 20-mill limit on what property taxes a home rule county could levy without a further vote of the people.
- Commissioners to draft a home rule charter later on should be elected on a non-partisan ticket.
- County officials should be elected on a non-partisan basis under home rule.
- The limit of county indebtedness should be 10 per cent of the assessed valuation of all property in the county.
- A resolution to propose home rule to county voters must be approved by a two-third majority of the board of supervisors.
- Home rule county employes should be allowed to come under civil service.

SIMILAR QUESTIONS

Others raising these and similar questions were supervisors Edward Cheyz of White Lake Township; James Clarkson of Southfield; Abraham Brickner, Oak Park; and Homer Case, Bloomfield Township.

Levin also looked askance at provisions for county purchase and operation of "zoological parks, cemeteries, public wharves, penal farms, electric light and power plants and systems, gas plants and systems, plank roads, almshouses, tram railways and the servicing of hydroplanes."

These terms are all used in the enabling act for chartered home rule cities.

* * *

STARTING POINT

Corporation Counsel Robert Allen said that in offering the enabling act for home rule cities to the legislative committee, he didn't expect the committee to adopt such sections outright, but to use the existing act as a starting point for drafting a proposed county home rule enabling act.

"If I had known they were going to adopt the whole thing, I would never have offered it in such form for committee study," said Allen.

After the proposal was returned to committee, Cheyz moved that its members go as observers to the Lansing committee meetings, and not to recommend any legislation.

The motion was carried.

Dems Hail Passage of College-Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has sent to President Johnson the $1.2-billion college construction aid bill—hailed by supporters as the most important measure of its kind in a century.

Democratic leaders said jubilantly after the 54-27 vote that they looked to education as the brightest feature on the record of the 1963 session of Congress.

* * *

They said the college measure would be followed, perhaps late this week, by a $1.56-billion vocational education bill on which Senate-House conferees reached final agreement Tuesday.

They also pointed to the $231-million medical education bill, carrying funds to build new medical and dental schools and to make loans to students in these fields, signed Sept. 24 by the late President John F. Kennedy.

KENNEDY MESSAGE

The college and vocational bills carry out a number of points in the broad education message Kennedy sent to the Capitol last January. Johnson gave his strong support after taking office.

Under the college bill, all of the nation's 2,100 private and public colleges would be eligible for aid to help in building classrooms, laboratories and libraries.

* * *

However, priority would go to those making plans to expand their facilities sharply to help meet the doubling of enrollments, expected to reach 7 million by 1970.

The three-year measure authorizes annually $180 million in grants to four-year colleges, $120 million in loans for the same institutions, $50 million in grants for public junior colleges and $25 million the first year plus $60 million each the second and third for grants to graduate schools. All of the programs would be on a matching basis.

The grants would be limited to buildings used for instruction or research in the natural and physical sciences, engineering, mathematics and modernizing libraries.

Sinatra's Son Is Released

They are customers of the patrol service, Jones said.

Jones said young Sinatra told him he talked one of his captors into letting him go before another returned from the pickup point with the money.

TALKED TO SON

Sinatra Sr., who flew here Tuesday night from Reno after being contacted about a ransom, said he had talked to his son twice while the boy was being held—once on Monday and again Tuesday.

Dr. Rex Kennamer told reporters the "boy is in good shape; he's not injured in any way."

Young Sinatra went to bed not long after he was brought to the home. At 5:50 a.m., Sinatra Sr. left for his own home. Remaining with the boy were his mother and a younger sister, Christina.

Jack Entratter, a friend of Sinatra Sr., said in Reno, Nev., that the kidnapers twice contacted the boy's father at the Mapes Hotel in Reno.

The second time, Entratter said, they told him to go to a gas station in Carson City.

* * *

"The contact man for the kidnapers told Frank that he should go to Los Angeles and he'd be contacted there," Entratter said.

Janice, Hoskins reportedly had known the Westermans a little over a year and had stayed with them after arriving here from Kentucky.

Since then, Hoskins and his daughter had lived in three or four trailer parks around Farmington, police said. He was employed at AT&G Co., Inc., in Redford Township, they noted.

Officials at the school attended by Janice and one of the Westerman daughters reported that Janice was absent from classes all day yesterday. They understood, they told police, that she was returning to Kentucky.

* * *

State police were called into the case by Farmington Township officers when Westerman notified them he had found his wife's body.

POST MORTEM

The results of a post mortem exam were not immediately announced. It was performed by Dr. Richard Olsen at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac.

Police did say, however, that the woman had been shot eight times with bullets from a 22-caliber gun and stabbed six times.

She was found partially clothed in the bedroom of the trailer and there were no signs of a struggle, they reported.

* * *

It was not immediately determined whether she had been criminally assaulted, police said.

STEEL ROD

Investigators from the state police crime laboratory in East Lansing are examining a steel rod with which Mrs. Westerman apparently was stabbed.

The rod, about 10 inches long, is curved at one end and looks as though it might have been a homemade ice pick, according to detective Cal Lepien of the Redford post.

Hoskins was described as stocky, about 5 feet 8 and weighing 175 pounds. He has brown hair and eyes.

Law enforcement officers between here and Kentucky have been notified that Hoskins should be considered dangerous. His daughter might be traveling with him in his brown 1960 Oldsmobile coach, police said. License number of the auto is HH-1796.

County Board of Supervisors Chairman Delos Hamlin today named a 12-member committee of county leaders to support the development of a local government relationship with Cali, Colombia.

Establishment of the committee is a result of a visit by an Oakland County delegation to the City of Cali and the Cauca Valley in Colombia last May, and a return visit of leading citizens from these areas to Oakland County in September.

The mutual visits were aimed at exploring the possibilities of establishing a local government to local government relationship as a part of the Alliance for Progress effort.

* * *

A similar committee will be established in Cauca Valley, and both committees will later designate representatives to work abroad as liaison between the two committees.

Named by Hamlin to the Oakland County committee are the following leaders of business, industry, labor, government and education:

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams; George Catlin, director of industrial relations, Detroit Edison; James Clarkson, president, First Federal Savings of Oakland; E. M. Estes, vice president of General Motors and Pontiac Division general manager.

Decides County Board

Lake Orion to Have Sewers

LAKE ORION — The Oakland County Board of Supervisors answered Lake Orion's call for help yesterday.

It resolved to have the county's Department of Public Works establish a village sewage system.

AREA NEWS

Faced with state demands for action, the Lake Orion Village Council has been working on the task of cleaning up Paint Creek for more than a year.

The work started when the Michigan Water Resources Commission demanded that the village find the source of the creek's pollution, and prepare a solution to the problem.

★ ★ ★

The council learned from its engineers that the main cause of the creek's pollution was due to the discharge of sewage into the creek, from residences and business establishments.

DEADLINE SET

A timetable forwarded with the state order set March 1, 1965, as the date when facilities for sewage treatment should be in operation.

After considering several systems proposed by consulting engineers Hubbell, Roth and Clark of Birmingham, the council decided the village would need county help.

It rejected plans for a joint system with Oxford, and a system which would encompass parts of Orion Township.

EXPERTS TESTIFIED

The council decision came after a battery of experts told council members of financial, legal and construction problems to be expected if the village should tackle the problem by itself.

Now, with county okay, the Department of Public Works will get construction plans and later negotiate a contract for building the system.

The first stage of the project calls for sewage lines throughout the area east of the lake, and in the village's central business district. The islands and peninsulas of the lake will not be included.

A way of financing the project will be determined after county representatives confer with the engineers and specifications for the system are completed.

CAN'T SAY NOW

"It would be premature to to judge the financing now," Donald Ringler, deputy director of the county DPW said yesterday.

"However a vote on the issue will definitely not be required."

Petitions Filed on Cityhood

Incorporation Eyed in Royal Oak Twp.

Petitions for a special election to incorporate Royal Oak Township into a home rule city were filed yesterday with the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The board turned the petitions, bearing 190 names, over to the boundaries committee to check their validity.

If the petitions are found to be in order, the committee is expected to recommend that the board set a date for a special election.

★ ★ ★

Both separate areas of the township are proposed for incorporation into a city under terms of the petitions.

SECTIONS DIVIDED

Royal Oak Township's two sections are divided by Oak Park. The larger portion, containing mainly Negro residents, is on the north side of Eight Mile near Wyoming. A second area is on Greenfield's east side just north of 10 Mile.

★ ★ ★

"This proposal has not been presented at a Township Board meeting," commented Township Clerk Mrs. Artie Gray today. "How does one part of a city be here and another in another area?" she asked.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gray said the drive for cityhood is being conducted by a broup of citizens and not by the board.

Stage Lights Given to Troy High School

TROY — The Troy Arts Festival Association has had ceiling beam lights, valued at $450, installed to illuminate the stage in the Troy High School auditorium.

The formal presentation was made by Probate Court Judge Norman R. Barnard, president of the association. The cost of the 24 lights represents part of the proceeds from the third annual Troy Arts Festival held earlier this year.

Accepting the gift were Rev. Richard Snoad, vice president of the Troy Board of Education, and Schools Supt. Dr. Rex Smith.

Architect's Conception Of Veterinary Clinic Being Built At MSU

Work Begins on MSU Vet Clinic

Construction on one of the largest and most unique projects of its type has been started at Michigan State University.

As part of the MSU Science Complex, a new 177,000-square-foot veterinary clinic is being built to house the Department of Veterinary Medicine.

It also will serve as an animal hospital and teaching laboratory for the entire College of Veterinary Medicine.

Completion, according to Paul B. Brown, vice president of Harley, Ellington, Cowin and Stirton, Inc., Detroit, architects and engineers, is scheduled for spring of 1965.

★ ★ ★

The $4.7-million clinic will include three wings and an adjacent pathology building built around a 2-story 170-by-118-foot reception - office - laboratory-classroom building.

TWO WINGS

One wing will be used for the study of large animals; another, for small animals, and the third will house a 500-seat auditorium which will be made available to the entire science complex.

"A huge incinerator, overhead monorail system, specialized X-ray equipment and unique manure removal system are among features incorporated to make the MSU clinic the finest in the country," Brown said.

The incinerator, 10 feet wide by 27 feet long and 11 feet high, will be able to consume at least 1,000 pounds per hour and will be located in the pathology building, as will an overhead monorail system.

Installed in the necropsy room, it will be used to transport carcasses from the loading entrance throughout the building to laboratory tables, the refrigerator, or the incinerator charging area.

X-RAY EQUIPMENT

The clinic will include X-ray equipment for large animals.

The manure removal system in the large wing, the only such installation of its type in the country, was specially designed by Harley, Ellington, Cowin and Stirton working with MSU representatives.

The system provides an underground sewer system with manholes at each stall.

During the removal operation, manure is shoveled into the manholes and water is recirculated to transport it to a collection system located to the south of the building.

Troy Board Okays New 5-Year Pact

TROY — The Troy School Board last night gave unanimous endorsement to the work of Schools Supt. Dr. Rex B. Smith by extending his contract for another five years.

Dr. Smith's present contract runs out in June. Under terms of the new agreement, he will continue with the school system for five more years at the present rate of pay, $17,333 annually.

In other business last night the board adopted a policy of punishing seniors who are caught destroying school property during the last few weeks of school.

★ ★ ★

If they are caught in any act of vandalism, the seniors are to be excluded from commencement, baccalaureate and other graduation activities.

DESTROY PROPERTY

Dr. Smith said today in past years some seniors have destroyed school property, and adoption of the new policy should serve as a deterrent to this.

★ ★ ★

The school board also agreed to send a letter of appreciation to Troy's civil defense workers for their assistance in supervising athletic events and helping the police department check schools at night.

Jail Term, Probation Dealt for Bar Theft

An ex-convict from Oak Park was sent to prison and a former Pontiac resident was placed on probation yesterday for their June 30 theft from a Pontiac bar.

Felix Stemlo, 32, of 24240 Kenosha, Oak Park, was given a 3½- to 4-year term by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Thomas J. Fairbanks, 32, of 14830 Middlebelt, Livonia, was placed on three years' probation. Judge Ziem also ordered Fairbanks to serve four months in jail and pay $310 restitution and $150 court costs.

★ ★ ★

Both men pleaded guilty to larceny in a building. They were originally charged with unarmed robbery. Fairbanks first pleaded guilty to the robbery charge, but was allowed to withdraw that plea last Thursday.

INCORRECT CHARGE

The prosecutor's office said the robbery charge was incorrect.

The two men were accused of looting the safe of the Trojan Bar, 72 Auburn, of $1,260. Fairbanks, who lived in Pontiac until recently, was a bartender at the tavern.

Stemlo was on parole from his second prison term for previous armed robbery convictions.

About 20 of the plots are in Michigan. Some are located at the Berrien State Forest, national forest land and at Michigan Tech property at Houghton. All are on public land.

Wright said one tree, from the Voges Mountains in France, could theoretically speed up Michigan tree production by about 25 per cent.

WOULD REDUCE

"If this tree were planted entirely, it would reduce the time it takes to produce a marketable tree from about eight years to six years," Wright said.

"It grows four feet in five years, and, after that, about two to two and one-half feet per year," he said.

"We grow 162 varieties from the U.S. and 21 foreign countries, including Latvia, Hungary, Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Romania from behind the Iron Curtain," Wright said.

★ ★ ★

Wright is studying the trees on the basis of mineral nutrition, foliage anatomy and growth characteristics. He said the findings should help boost the $3-million-a-year Christmas tree industry in Michigan and, in the long run, also have positive effects on the $300 million-a-year forest products industry.

AVOID SEED

Wright indicated the Michigan growers presently avoid seed from the northern parts of Europe, particularly from the Ural mountains.

"Trees grown from these seeds develop very intense yellow needles," he said. "They start to turn color in early September, and by Christmas time, some of the needles are almost the same color as a ripe lemon."

Wright is making a study of the genetic characteristics of these trees because he said it is important to the development of vigorous hybrids of high quality.

★ ★ ★

The Scotch pine experiment started in 1959 and is slated to continue for eight years. However, the work with the various plots around the world will continue for at least 50 years, Wright said.

"After we finish the Christmas tree study, we will continue to study the trees for pulp wood and timber uses."

Smaller studies are being carried out on 15 other species of pines, spruce, larch, oaks and firs, Wright said.

Cuba Plans to Buy Uruguay Corned Beef

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana radio says Cuba has agreed to buy 500 tons of Uruguayan corned beef.

Meat has been rationed at six ounces a week per consumer in Cuba and refugees arriving recently in Miami say there has been no distribution of meat for three weeks. Pork for traditional Christmas dinners will be provided by Cuban farmers, the Castro government has announced.

Pilot Cheats Death as Fighter Crashes

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Col. Charles Yeager, commandant of the Aerospace Pilot School at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., escaped serious injury when he was forced to parachute from an experimental NF104 jet fighter plane yesterday.

The first man to fly faster than sound, Yeager ejected when his rocket-assisted plane went into a spin as he was coming back into the atmosphere from about 100,000 feet, an Air Force spokesman said.

Yeager suffered face burns when the oxygen in his mask ignited. The plane was destroyed.

South Arabia Closes Yemen Border After Bombing at Airport

ADEN (AP)—A state of emergency has been declared in the Federation of South Arabia and the border with Yemen ordered closed following a bombing at Aden airport in which a woman was killed and 39 persons injured.

Police searched for the bomber whose target apparently was Sir Kennedy Trevaskis, the British high commissioner, and other officials about to leave for London for talks on next year's elections.

★ ★ ★

Sir Kennedy escaped with a shrapnel cut on his finger. Three British aides and an Arab official of the federation were seriously injured.

Witnesses said the bomb was tossed from a spectators' gallery at the airport and landed in a flower bed near the official party. The bomber apparently escaped in the confusion.

Authorities speculated he might have been a Yemeni or an Arab nationalist.

Both Yemen's revolutionary government and Arab nationalists oppose the British-protected federation, composed of Aden and sheikdoms, sultanates and emirates in southern Arabia.

The bomb killed an Indian woman, Mrs. Jamnadas Bhagavanji, 38, who was about to board the plane with her family.

Among topics to be taken up in the London talks was a dispute over the election of a local legislature in Aden, a former British crown colony on the Red Sea that joined the federation last Jan. 18. Aden natives want a wholly elected legislature to replace the present 23-member Legislative Council on which seven members are nominated by the British high commissioner.

Also to be taken up was a recommendation to allow Aden's 100,000 Yemenis to vote. The federation government opposes enfranchisement of the Yemenis because Yemen has never renounced its claims to parts of Aden.

Do You Remember Fay Wray?

Sweetheart of King Kong Now Goes on Television

30 YEARS AGO — Fay Wray is shown in the arms of Ralph Bellamy in a still shot for the movie "Once to Every Woman" made 30 years ago. Bellamy currently stars in television as a doctor in "The 11th Hour." Miss Wray will appear with him in the show.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — It was one of those warm, sentimental reunions that Hollywood enjoys.

Exactly 30 years ago Ralph Bellamy was playing a doctor opposite Fay Wray in a movie called "Once to Every Woman." Today he was once again a doctor—a psychiatrist in "The 11th Hour"—and Miss Wray was appearing with him in the television series.

★ ★ ★

"We've had great fun recalling the old times," the actress commented. "Ralph has not changed at all. He still has that quality of sincerity that he had when he was a young leading man."

★ ★ ★

Nor can it be said that Miss Wray has changed a great deal. Her beauty, her warmth and charm seem little altered by the years.

Bellamy was one of many male stars she played opposite in the talkie era. They also numbered Gary Cooper, Spencer Tracy, Fredric March, Ronald Colman and—King Kong.

HAIRY BRUTE

Alas, of all her distinguished costars it is the hairy brute with whom she is always remembered. Who could forget the helpless Fay clutched in the paw of the mighty Kong as he stood atop the Empire State Building?

"I used to resent the picture," she commented, "but now I don't fight it any more. I realize that it is a classic and I am pleased to be associated with it. Why, only recently in France an entire issue of a magazine was devoted to discussing the picture from its artistic, moral and even religious aspects."

★ ★ ★

Miss Wray is getting her career active again after a year's inactivity.

"My agent used to be MCA and when they broke up I decided not to do anything about it," she explained. "I had enough to do with my three children. But now that my youngest is off to Stephens College, I think I'll get a little busier.

NEVER DEVOTED

"I was never really devoted to my career, the way some actresses are. It has been a source of great enjoyment to me. But it is not my whole life."

Miss Wray, now widowed, reminisced about Hollywood's golden days:

"There may have been a wild crowd, but I wasn't part of it. I went around with the British group — Ronald Colman, Clive Brook and his wife, Richard Barthelmess, William Powell. We played tennis a great deal and always had tea standing by on the tennis court. That was a time of gracious living, when the town was smaller and everybody knew everybody."

Korea President Park to Pick New Cabinet

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The South Korean Cabinet headed by Premier Kim Hyun-chul resigned Tuesday night to give President-elect Chung Hee Park a free hand in picking a new government.

A new constitutional government is to be installed Dec. 17 to end the present military rule which started with Park's May 16, 1961 coup that overthrew President John M. Chang's government.

Were Last Death Plane Words From Another Craft?

WASHINGTON — The dramatic "Clipper 214 out of control . . . going down in flames" message, supposedly flashed by the pilot of a doomed Pan American World Airways jet, may have come from another plane, it was learned today.

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), UPI was informed by a reliable source, has evidence that the chilling words came instead from the copilot of a National Air Lines DC8 flying only 1,000 feet above the Pan American 707 just before it fell in flames at Elkton, Md., Sunday night, killing all 81 aboard.

The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA), which released the tape recording containing what presumably was the Pan Am pilot's final communicatin to the Philadelphia Approach Control Center, apparently assumed it must have come from flight 214—the plane that crashed.

★ ★ ★

After the control center first heard "clipper 214 . . . out of control . . . down (or here) we go," it immediately asked:

THE CONVERSATION

"Clipper 214, were you calling Philadelphia?"

★ ★ ★

A voice calmly answered:

"Clipper 214 . . . going down in flames."

★ ★ ★

Both the "out of control" message and the "down in flames" cry, the source told UPI, actually were flashed instead by one of the pilots on National flight 16 which was in a holding pattern over New Castle, Del., at 6,000 feet—1,000 feet above the Pan American jet.

'READY TO GO'

Before what has been presumed to be the "final message," the Pan AM pilot had informed the control center he was "ready to go"—meaning he received permission.

"Clipper 214, stay in pattern," the center replied.

"Roger, no hurry," was the answer—and the last positive communication received from flight 214.

★ ★ ★

Presumably, the CAB first learned that the final message probably came from another plane when investigators questioned the National pilots.

VITAL TESTIMONY

Their testimony may be the most vital of all in the solution of the tragedy, for they apparently were the most reliable and closest eyewitnesses to the 707's death throes. There was no indication what they told the CAB.

Nor was there any immediate explanation how the National crew knew that the flaming jet below them was Pan American flight 214. It was assumed that the National pilots were aware that 214 was the aircraft below them in the holding pattern through previous communications on a radio frequency available to both planes.

The official transcript of the ground-air communications on that fateful night mentioned National flight 16 on several occasions, but gave no hint that its crew had witnessed the accident.

It did cast doubt on the theory that severe turbulence may have contributed to the crash.

Shortly after the crash, the National pilot told approach control, "We don't want to stay here at New Castle."

The controller gave him a new heading and commented, "This could possibly put you into a smoother area."

★ ★ ★

CAB investigators continued a painstaking examination of a one-inch piece of aluminum foil taken from the badly battered and scorched flight recorder.

The flight recorder was recovered at the crash scene late Monday.

Investigators were openly disappointed at the condition of the flight recorder, from which they hoped to gain information on the stresses encountered, the airspeed, direction, altitude and what gyrations the Pan Am jetliner may have gone through.

Sylvan Lake to Eye Joint Water Lines

The possibility of a combined water system with Keego Harbor will be discussed tonight at 8 p.m. by the Sylvan Lake City Council.

Sylvan Lake City Manager Leroy Trafton said he will ask the council whether consideration of tieing the two systems together should go any further.

He said the actual details of any such link would have to be worked out. He added that the proposal was still very tentative.

★ ★ ★

At the present time, the city of Sylvan Lake obtains its water from two community wells, while Keego Harbor does not have a municipal water system.

Retired Clerk Leaves Estate of $2 Million

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — F. Bert Magee, 79, a retired city bookkeeper, who lived simply while playing the stock market, left an estate of well over $2 million.

Probate papers disclosed yesterday that Magee, who died Oct. 16, left his estate in trust. His widow, E. Marie, a nephew and two nieces each will receive 15 per cent of the income.

The remaining 40 per cent will be divided between six grand-nephews and grandnieces, the Elks Lodge charity fund and the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in Spokane.

★ ★ ★

The Shrine Hospital will receive the residue of the trust on the death of all heirs.

State Solons Invited to Michigan Fish Fry

LANSING (AP)—The legislature was invited Tuesday to the first fish fry ever held in Michigan's Capitol Rotunda after approving a resolution declaring Dec. 16 - 21 "Michigan Fish Week."

The resolution and the fish fry next Monday are designed to restore public confidence in the state's commercial fishing industry.

Trading Moderate

Rails Soar in Mixed Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Rails were strong in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was moderate.

Gains and losses of key stocks were mostly fractional.

★ ★ ★

Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central made new highs for the year as they gained fractions. Strength in the rails was attributed to a prediction by Stuart T. Saunders, Pennsy chairman, that net income of U.S. railroad would rise next year to $650 million from $571 million in 1962.

Fractional gains were made also by Santa Fe, Southern Railway, Chesapeake & Ohio, Southern Pacific and others.

Boeing was firm, steadying now that news of the ditching of its Dyna-Soar space glider has been digested. McDonnell Aircraft, regarded as a possible beneficiary of the substitute orbital space laboratory, was up a fraction. Other aerospace issues were fairly steady.

★ ★ ★

Studebaker continued to slide, losing a fraction. Chrysler gained a little, General Motors lost a fraction and Ford was firm.

Xerox added another 4 points and U.S. Smelting rose about a point.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .2 to 283.4.

Prices were narrowly mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Gainers included Barnes Engineering, Hartfield Stores and Pyle National.

Ruby Defense by Top Lawyer

California Attorney Will Head Trial Staff

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A Californian considered one of the nation's foremost trial lawyers will head the defense staff at the murder trial of Jack Ruby, who killed the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Melvin Belli — pronounced Bell-eye — of Los Angeles and San Francisco, said Tuesday night he was undertaking Ruby's defense "and I'm going to lead on it."

Belli, author of 28 law books and a past president of the American Academy of Trial Lawyers, said Ruby, 52, would plead innocent by reason of insanity.

FAIR TRIAL?

Asked if he believed Ruby could receive a fair trial in Dallas, Belli said: "There is no assumption that he can not." He said there was no plan at present to ask a change of venue.

Ruby's trial for murder in the shooting of Lee Howard Oswald, 24, the accused assassin, is set for Feb. 3 before Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown of Dallas.

★ ★ ★

Brown said three national networks or their affiliates have asked to televise the trial.

"I've done a lot of thinking and praying about it," he said, "but I don't know about it yet."

BULKY MAN

Brown, 55, a bulky man with graying, wavy brown hair, predicted he would be criticized widely regardless of what he decides about television.

Ruby shot Oswald before a nationwide television audience Nov. 24 as he was being transferred from Dallas' City Hall to the county jail, where Ruby now is held without bond.

★ ★ ★

Belli said relatives of Ruby contacted him soon afterward but he could not commit himself then. One reason, he said, was a murder trial in Los Angeles which went to a jury Tuesday.

"I also wanted to be certain that there was no connection between Jack Ruby and Oswald, or between Ruby and anybody else," Belli said.

WAS CONVINCED

Belli said he did not believe Ruby "was just a publicity seeker" and he was convinced Ruby had no association with Oswald or any conspiracy.

Stocks Sell Unseen

Trade by Phone

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The headlines say: Stocks Hit New High. Trading Volume Soars. Customers Accounts Frozen When Brokerage House Is Suspended. Profit Taking Clips Prices.

DAWSON

And yet most of the stocks directly involved may never have been seen or handled by their actual owners.

Most of the 17 million Americans who own stocks may have theirs in safety deposit boxes, to be sure. But the shares that change ownership over and over in stock exchange trading may never travel further than from one brokerage house's vault to another's. And they make up only a small percentage of the total outstanding, and tucked away.

★ ★ ★

A customer opens a brokerage account much as he does a bank account. He must deposit enough money to cover both the cost of the stocks in which he wants to trade and the cost of commissions for buying and selling—fixed by the exchanges and determined by the price and amount of stocks traded—and the charge for credit should the customer want to buy on margin.

PUT AWAY STOCKS

Some customers pay for their stocks and sock them away. Many leave them with the broker as part of their account without even seeing them.

Brokers say up to 90 per cent of the orders to buy or sell are received by phone from customers with accounts. Usually phone orders involve selling stock held in the broker's vault in the customer's name, or the buying of stocks to be placed there.

★ ★ ★

There are two chief types of brokerage house accounts.

—An individual investor buys stock for cash. They must be promptly paid for in full—either out of his account, or by actual currency or check.

—Traders buy on margin, as set by federal and stock exchange regulations. The federal rule at present is that 70 per cent must be settled in cash, with the broker lending the extra 30 per cent at a specified charge. Individual brokerage houses often require more cash than the legal limit. If the price of the stock should fall enough to jeopardize the margin, the broker may call for more cash, or if necessary he will sell the stock to protect the 30 per cent credit involved—and the hapless speculator gets what's left.

TRADING METHODS

Buying or selling on the exchanges is done this way: The brokerage house phones the customer's order to buy, say, to its trader on the floor, who seeks out another broker with an order to sell the same stock. They try to get goether on a mutually agreeable price. Normally, the stock is delivered within four trading days.

★ ★ ★

Orders are of several kinds.

—A market order is to buy or sell promptly at the best price available.

—An open order is to buy or sell at a specified price. This remains in effect until it can be executed or until canceled.

—A stop order is to buy or sell as soon as the stock reaches a specified price or goes through that level. The floor broker executes the order as quickly as possible but there's no certainty it will be at the exact price if the stock is moving swiftly.

PRICE VARIANCE

Bid and asked prices give brokers and traders clues. A bid is the highest price anyone says he'll pay at a given time. Asked is the lowest price anyone will take at the same time. Until one or the other budges, or someone else comes along, there's no transaction.

Short sellers are still another breed. They borrow stock the broker has in his vaults and sell it at the going price. Their aim is to buy it back later at a lower price, return it to the broker, and pocket the difference between what they sold it for originally and what they finally paid to buy it back — minus commissions and borrowing charges.

This works fine — but only if the price really goes down. If it goes up they still have to buy the stock some time and return it to the broker—and take their loss.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am 65 years of age with an invalid sister to care for and expenses are great. I was appointed her guardian. She owns a large block of Corning Glass stock. These shares are selling for less than what she paid and I don't want to sell now. If they recover, would you advise selling and investing for more income? With nursing costs mounting, I need income rather than growth." D.C.

A. Your sister's stock is a sound growth situation but seems unlikely for some time to come to afford the current income you're going to need. I definitely think you should sell this stock when it gets back near her purchase price and put the proceeds into a savings institution.

I do not believe you can afford to assume any risk in your difficult situation.

Q. "We are a young couple with a new baby. My husband carries about $100,000 in life insurance and we have $6,000 in savings. Our objectives are adequate retirement income and educational funds. Should our savings henceforth be placed in common stocks? Should we follow a particular stock buying program?" H. O.

A. Your insurance and savings backlog appears to be satisfactory and I think you are justified in placing future spare funds in common stocks. From now on, I would very definitely follow a particular stock buying program.

Since your objectives are set for many years ahead, I would concentrate entirely on growth and would buy only those issues which seem capable of moving ahead faster than the economy as a whole. In this category, I would include such stocks as Bristol-Myers, Proctor & Gamble, Corn Products and Long Island Lighting.

Seek Workers of Studebaker

Auto Makers to Hire Closing Firm's Men

DETROIT (AP) — The automobile industry in Detroit is attempting to employ Studebaker Corp. workers who face layoff in South Bend, Ind., the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) said Tuesday.

Thomas Roumell, director of the state agency, did not indicate how many of the estimated 6,000 South Bend workers might be picked up by Detroit companies. However, he said Detroit firms were interested mostly in skilled personnel.

★ ★ ★

Companies seeking men from South Bend include Ford, Chrysler, General Motors and the Budd Co., Roumell said.

The MESC has contacted the Indiana Employment Security Board for a list of available Studebaker employes, Roumell said.

A BOOM YEAR

The year 1963 has been a boomer for the auto industry in Detroit. Production and sales records have fallen and factories have been in almost constant high gear.

Roumell said Ford's Truck Division, GM's Hydramatic Division and GM's Pontiac Motor Division are among the units seeking Studebaker men.

★ ★ ★

He said Chrysler Corp. was interested particularly in professional personnel though also seeking salaried and hourly workers.

Roumell said his office was especially interested in an estimated 150 Michigan residents who travel from homes in this state to Studebaker jobs at South Bend.
