

U.S. Bombs Having Little, If Any, Effect on N. Viet

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — On the basis of Pentagon-stated objectives, the U.S. air war against North Viet Nam is far from a success after nearly 10 months.

Based on the same announced goals, there are some elements of failure.

These views are the consensus in discussions with a wide range of qualified sources within and outside the U.S. government, and are supported in a study of other information available from the government.

A main objective of the bombings, which began last Feb. 7, was to cut down the flow of North Vietnamese soldiers and supplies into South Viet Nam.

The evidence, chiefly the government's own figures, shows that, despite heavy battle losses, Communist forces in South Viet Nam are stronger in numbers than ever before.

And U.S. officials believe the enemy has the capability of moving up to four more divisions into South Viet Nam over the next six months.

Another major announced goal of the bombing was to prod the North Vietnamese into halting their support of the Red aggression in the south. Hanoi's chiefs seem more defiant than ever.

Indications point to intensified U.S. bombing in the north around the clock.

This probably will mean a marked rise in the number of jet combat sorties, now averaging about 600 a week.

It also undoubtedly will mean more U.S. air losses. So far, 149 U.S. planes have been downed.

The bombing targets are likely to remain essentially the same — mostly bridges, roads, railroads and ferries along the lines of communication leading through North Viet Nam.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara also certainly would dispute any conclusion that the limited air war has been a failure.

U. S. Attorneys Try to Solidify Case Against Trio in Lizzzo Trial

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—An FBI informer testified in Federal Court today he met with high-ranking Ku Klux Klan officials in Jacksonville, Fla., to plan the assassination of a Klansman who revealed information about the secret order.

The testimony of Gary Thomas Rowe came as federal attorneys worked to solidify their case against three Klansmen who alleged role in the slaying of a woman civil rights worker was revealed in a mid-night rendezvous with Rowe.

Rowe was the first prosecution witness today in the federal conspiracy trial of Collie Leroy Williams, William Eaton and Eugene Thomas.

Rowe, a stocky red-faced man, said he was with the three when they allegedly killed Mrs. Viola Lizzzo the night of March 25.

Rowe recounted the day he said he spent with the three before the murder and detailed a high-speed chase after the murder of Mrs. Lizzzo of Detroit.

DROPS BOMBHELL

Rowe dropped a bombshell during his testimony when he told the court he had gone with Thomas to Jacksonville to plan an assassination of a Klansman. He did not give any details, but the planned assassination apparently had no connection with the Lizzzo case.

Harbert Kinney, George Kavanagh, team head; and Wayne Gardner. The team toured the site for two hours yesterday. High-energy physicist Nicholas Samios is also a team member.

A-Site Team, Romney Meet

JACKSON (AP)—The head of a government inspection team said today there is no serious drawback to the Ann Arbor-Northville site proposed for a vast nuclear reactor project.

But Dr. George Kavanagh of the Atomic Energy Commission declined to compare the site with 10 others he has inspected so far in the government's hunt for a project location.

Kavanagh and four colleagues spent yesterday and today inspecting the Ann Arbor-Northville area, then met with Gov. George Romney.

They planned to examine the Ft. Custer area between Battle Creek and Kalamazoo later today.

The huge, mile-wide complex will cost more than $300 million and will be the largest of its kind in the world.

POWERFUL MEANS

It is seen as science's most powerful weapon for exploring the fundamental secrets of nature in a quest which proponents say may eventually have a rich practical payoff from developing new sources of energy.

Warm Trend Due in Area

A warming trend will drift into the Pontiac area tomorrow with highs of 36 to 44 and partly cloudy skies.

Tonight is expected to be fair with temperatures quite cold, the low, 16 to 24.

The weatherman predicts Thursday will be partly cloudy with high temperatures continuing in the 40s.

Morning westerly winds at 10 to 14 miles per hour will be about the same tonight.

The low mercury reading prior to 8 a.m. today was 26. The recording at 2 p.m. was 33.

City to View Status of Tavern Licenses

Ten Pontiac tavern owners have petitioned the City Commission to act tonight on the question of upgrading local taverns to Class C status, permitting liquor by the glass.

The commission decided last night to place the petition on tonight's agenda.

Reportedly signed by all the tavern owners currently in business in the city, the petition stated:

"It was stated by you, Mr. Mayor, that the issuance of liquor licenses would not be a political deal as it has sometimes been in the past."

"We were gratified by your statement and encouraged when you and the commission selected your five-man committee to study the issue and report to you, the commission."

PREVIOUS PLAN
The petition notes that the five-man committee, which was headed by Philip Sauer, downtown restaurant owner, did submit a plan for upgrading.

However, the tavern owners claim things have been at a stalemate ever since.

"We feel that, as businessmen and taxpayers of Pontiac, we have a right and even a duty to request that your commission issue a complete statement concerning their position on the upgrading of taverns in the city," the petition concludes.

In other business, the City Commission is expected to receive a proposal tonight from the city's consulting engineers for a study of Pontiac's combined storm and sanitary sewer system.

3 SMALL LAKES
The study is preparatory to separating the system. This is aimed primarily at relieving the city of the problem.

Defense Chief Views SE Asia War Situation

Believes Hanoi Has 9 Regiments in South; 'Red Casualties Up'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, back home from Viet Nam, said today the Communists are tripling the rate of infiltration from the North.

But he also declared that "We've stopped losing the war."

McNamara, with Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, talked with newsmen as he stepped out of a jet plane that had flown him nonstop from Guam.

McNamara said he believes there are now nine North Viet Nam regular regiments in South Viet Nam.

He said the rate of infiltration from the North had been about 1,500 a month during the recent rainy season, but the rate during the dry season is expected to be 4,500 a month.

DEFEATED IN EFFORT

McNamara said the Communists had been defeated in their effort to cut South Viet Nam in two, and their casualty rate had risen 100 per cent over what it was a year ago. But he said the enemy has "very substantially raised the level of infiltration."

He was asked about the proposal of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, to bomb the port of Haiphong in North Viet Nam.

McNamara did not comment directly on that, saying only that the bombing of North Viet Nam is designed to attack the lines of infiltration.

He again said there will be increased emphasis on the bombing.

McNamara and Wheeler stopped for three hours at the Guam Air Force Base from which the heavy B52s are launched.

McNamara and Wheeler made no comment on reports that the number of B52s in Guam may be increased.

RETURNS HOME — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara talks with newsmen at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington today upon his return from Viet Nam.

Returning with him were John T. McNaughton, assistant to McNamara, and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Proposed Local College Hit

Says Osteopaths For Merger

A spokesman for the Michigan State Medical Society (MSMS) claimed today that the vast majority of osteopathic physicians want amalgamation with medical doctors.

The osteopathic college proposed for Pontiac also came in for criticism in a two-day hearing in Detroit before the House State Affairs Committee.

Leading off this morning's session, Dr. John J. Coury, spokesman for the MSMS, said that MSMS had sought "ever closer association between M.D.'s and D.O.'s for four years."

He said that the state society has firmly set amalgamation as its goal.

Dr. Coury cited four areas where efforts have been made toward unity. These were:

• Opening postgraduate education programs to osteopaths.

• Joint staff hospitals were authorized and encouraged.

• Recommended closer association between M.D.'s and D.O.'s in Michigan communities.

• Supported the election of a D.O. to the board of directors of a projected Michigan Society (Blue Shield).

'WOULD HURT STATE'

Continued division of M.D.'s and D.O.'s would decrease the attractiveness of Michigan as a place for physicians to practice, according to Dr. Coury.

"Amalgamation is the road to the best in health care in Michigan," said Coury.

Questioned by members of the 13-member House committee, the MSMS spokesman admitted that some restrictions were placed on D.D.'s at hospitals with joint staffs.

The State Affairs Committee is conducting an interim study into proposals for state support of a projected Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine.

This college is planned for a 164-acre site at Auburn and Opdyke on Pontiac's east side.

Indicating the MSMS opposition to the college, the Port Huron surgeon said the society "wanted expansion of existing facilities at Wayne State University, the University of Michigan and Michigan State University."

Dr. Coury urged the committee, headed by Rep. John J. Fitzpatrick, D-Detroit, to "encourage and not discourage the unity of M.D.'s and D.D.'s."

Also appearing at the morning session was Dr. J. Vincent Murphy, past president of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Dr. Murphy led off a presentation to be made this afternoon by the osteopaths in (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Romney Tells of 'Danger' in Vetted Education Bill

LANSING (AP) — The $12.2 million higher education bill he vetoed was insignificant in its dollar amount but would have set a dangerous precedent, Gov. George Romney said today.

Durward Varner, chancellor of Oakland University, yesterday declined any comment on his own dispute with Romney over the veto — a clash which had prompted an angry letter to Romney from Michigan State University board chairman Warren Huff and critical statements yesterday from the governor.

At a news conference, Romney discussed a meeting he had yesterday with presidents of several smaller state schools, including Varner.

The meeting "involved an exchange of views on higher education," the governor said. "And I told them I want to sit down with them again to discuss their needs before next year's budget is drawn up."

The bill would have set a dangerous precedent because it would let the schools control their appropriations through control of enrollments, he said, adding:

"Appropriations are the only way the state — the governor and the legislators — can shape Michigan's response to its higher education needs."

UNDER BOARD

The seven smaller schools were formerly under the control of the State Board of Education, but have been autonomous since the adoption of the 1963 State Constitution.

FBI Reports on First 9 Months

National Crime Rate Up 5 Pct.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The national crime rate jumped 5 per cent in the first nine months of this year, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported today.

Violent crime increased in all four major categories — murder, rape, robbery and aggravated assault. The number of rape cases increased 6 per cent, murder and robbery were up 5 per cent each and assault rose 2 per cent.

The figures compared the first three quarters of 1965 with the corresponding period of last year.

Following a recent trend, crime rates rose slower in big cities than in small towns and suburbs. The FBI recorded a 2 per cent hike in cities with population of more than one million and a 7 per cent increase in towns of 10,000 to 50,000 persons.

The suburbs showed the sharpest increase in serious crime. Robberies rose 18 per cent, rape 11 per cent and grand theft involving over $50, was up 10 per cent in suburbia.

The FBI said it found no general jump in farm area crime rates, but reported a 10 per cent increase in murders. The robbery rate declined 10 per cent and auto thefts dropped 8 per cent.

Broken into geographic areas, the FBI said Western states led the increase in crime with 11 per cent. Robbery and burglary accounted for this, it said.

The Northeastern area had a 6 per cent jump. The North-Central and Southern states each reported only a one per cent increase.

The FBI said national crime trends showed assaults with a gun rose 15 per cent; armed robbery, 10 per cent, and day-night burglaries, 12 per cent. Shoplifting went up 7 per cent, it said.

Escalating Living Cost Reaches All-Time Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose two-tenths of 1 per cent in October to a new all-time high, the Labor Department said today. All major items except groceries went up. Housing, clothing, transportation and medical care costs all went up, bringing the government's consumer price index to 110.4, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The index figure means it took $11.04 to purchase typical products that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

Assistant Commissioner Arnold Chase of the bureau said the increase brought the yearly rise in the index to 1.8 per cent since October 1964, compared with the annual rise of about 1.2 per cent in the previous several years.

SHOULD STOP

"We're still all right," Chase said when asked if the yearly rise indicated inflationary danger signs.

But, he added, "this is about as much of a rate of price increase as we should have."

The biggest increase in October was in new car prices, which rose 1.2 per cent largely because auto dealers offer fewer concessions at the start of a new model year.

Chase said this reported increase did not conflict with a Texas White House statement that retail prices for new 1966 models had dropped eight-tenths of 1 per cent compared with a year ago.

The 1.2 per cent increase is based on a comparison with September.

TO GO UP

Chase said that as auto dealers clear out leftover 1965 models, new car prices will show a further increase in November.

He also said the over-all index will probably be up a little more this month when the figures are all in, and that the nation may end the year with an annual price index increase of 2 per cent.

After-tax earnings of factory workers hit a new high in October of $90.97 for single workers and $97.82 for workers with three dependents.

support of the proposed medical school.

Deans from Michigan's three medical schools told the committee yesterday that a proposed state-supported osteopathic college at Pontiac would be inefficient, expensive and unnecessary.

Dr. C. J. Tupper, associate dean of the University of Michigan medical school, said "There is no longer any discernible difference between osteopathy and the practice of medicine."

Tupper and Dr. Andrew D. Hunt Jr., dean of Michigan State University's new two-year medical school, said they personally opposed the establishment of an osteopathic college anywhere, anywhere.

Dr. Morton Levitt, associate dean of Wayne State University's College of Medicine, testified he would not fight the idea if current medical school expansion plans were carried out first.

He noted, however, that Wayne hopes to expand its entering medical class from 125 to 200 students — on a par with the U-M by 1968, and, perhaps to 250 by 1970.

He added that even after the proposed expansion it would be cheaper to utilize MSU's two-year faculty to set up a full school, than to build an osteopathic college.

Tupper said the percentage of U-M medical graduates entering general practice had declined during the past decade, reflecting a national trend. He said the same is true in osteopathy.

GM Charges Plant Sabotage

FLINT (AP) — Management of General Motors' truck Fisher Body No. 2 plant charged yesterday that it unnamed employee sabotaged 191 bodies for new 1966 model cars in the 10 weeks prior to last Wednesday's start of the United Auto Workers strike.

Fred J. Schnarr Jr., plant manager, made the charge in a letter to the 3,100 strikers as negotiators resumed in an effort to settle the dispute.

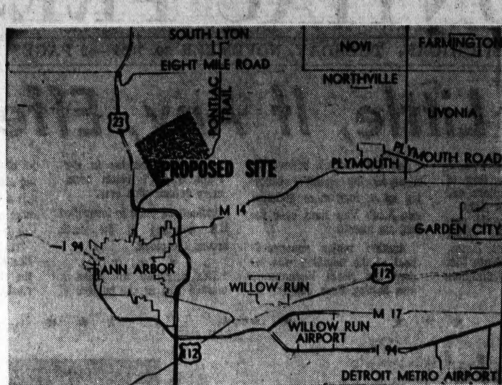

Talks Saturday and Sunday prove fruitless.

A total of 4,700 workers are idle.

A strike by UAW Local 508 over work load complaints at Fisher Body 2 has idled another 1,600 men at the Chevrolet assembly plant, dependent on Fisher for car bodies.

DENY COMPLAINT

Fisher management has denied that excessive work is the cause of the strike.

Mental Patient Held in Gun Death of Wife

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — "I told you I'd get you!" customers and employees heard shouted in Toppe Department Store Monday.

Then shooting — and a 21-year-old woman clerk at a checkout counter fell dead, hit by two bullets.

More shooting wounded two customers — a pregnant young woman and her mother — but not seriously.

Next, the manager of the store's children's department, Myron Rothman, found himself looking down the barrel of a carbine.

READING BOOKS

Dale Fravor, 39, of Toledo, a customer, was looking at paperback books when he heard a woman cry, "My god, he shot her."

"He was coming my way and I ducked down," Fravor said. "It was trapped. When he came up even with me, I jumped on up and grabbed his arms, and another man took the gun away."

Rothman and another store employee came up and helped subdue the gunman.

Police arrested John C. Carollozzi, 22, who they said had been released from Toledo State Hospital three days earlier.

He was Carollozzi's wife, Elizabeth, who was slain.

Authorities charged Carollozzi with murder — and returned him to Toledo State Hospital.

views contend that if it were not for the bombings, infiltration of men and arms would have been far greater.

NO COMPLAINTS

Critics in the armed services and in Congress do not complain that hammering at communications links obviously is not doing the job.

What they want is a wider ranging assault to knock out North Viet Nam's ability to sustain the aggression south of the 17th Parallel.

"To win a war, you have to destroy an enemy's will and his capacity to fight," said one military source. "We're not doing either in North Viet Nam."

Reports gleaned from diplomatic sources with contacts in Communist North Viet Nam are that the Communists can carry on with considerable hardship but no basic dislocation.

REPAIR ROADS

The U.S. fighter bombers are destroying them in the target areas, these reports say, but the North Vietnamese are repairing their roads, patching up their railroads, fixing up damaged rolling stock, and either bypassing damaged bridges or getting them into usable shape.

AP Photos

Force and Navy jets are barred from chopping at North Viet Nam's industry, the irrigation system so vital to her food supply, most of her power facilities, most of her petroleum supply.

Hanoi, North Viet Nam's capital and seat of much of her industry, and Haiphong, chief port of entry for seaborne supplies from the Soviet Union, are off limits.

U.S. reconnaissance has spotted a buildup of anti-aircraft defenses around both complexes, which would raise the price to the United States if Americans strike there.

NO ASSURANCES

American authorities are careful to stress that this country never has given any assurance that the industrial and port complexes would remain immune but for now these officials believe any attacks on Hanoi and Haiphong would carry a high risk of triggering deeper involvement of Red China.

Officials have taken pains to underscore again and again that there is no desire to destroy North Viet Nam's economy.

It is estimated that only about 10 per cent of North Viet Nam's power capacity has been knocked out. Also, only a small segment of North Viet Nam's petroleum stocks have been destroyed.

Military experts say big oil supplies are stockpiled in the Haiphong area.

There are those in the armed services who, strongly favoring the approaches to Haiphong and establishing a blockade, argue that it would be much better to prevent Soviet-built missiles from arriving than to knock them out after they are in place.

An estimated 50 to 60 ships arrive in Haiphong in a given week, many believed loaded with war supplies.

What has the bombing accomplished? According to data available here, more than 50 bridges have been at least temporarily disabled. Some lead directly from Red China to Hanoi.

However, the policy of being satisfied with knocking out only one span of a bridge still is in effect.

energy to making new advances in medicine.

Romney, boosting the two sites, said he hoped "you take a good look... we just want the facts to speak for themselves."

He said Michigan has a wealth of educational, industrial and other facilities to support the project. He reminded the inspection team that in the past 10 years, the state has tripled its appropriations for higher education.

Kavanaugh's team is looking at 17 of the 140 sites proposed by various states. The National Academy of Science will recommend alternative sites to the AEC which will then make the final selection.

SOON AS POSSIBLE

Kavanaugh said he hoped to "select the site as soon as possible next year—but that doesn't necessarily mean early next year."

He decided to speculate on how political considerations would affect the site selection.

Some persons have questioned whether mention of Romney as a potential Republican presidential candidate would make the White House less willing to approve a Michigan site.

Kavanaugh said he said he is "confident Congress will take it seriously as a major science project."

Three-state legislators, U.S. Rep. Paul Todd, D-Kalamazoo, and several state officials joined Romney in meeting the inspectors.

Competition for the 200 Billion Electron Volt (BEV) accelerator has involved governors, university presidents, senators and industrialists.

Several states reportedly have made cash offers to the AEC, although the commission did not list financial help in its criteria for site selection.

Romney said yesterday Michigan had advantages in the contest.

LANSING (AP) — A Democratic Party official said Monday he had "new, hard information that an arrangement has been made" between Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich., and former Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

The party official, who said he did not want to be identified, said "And Williams' increased activity over the weekend lends credence to these reports from informed, usually reliable sources."

The reported arrangement was that McNamara would announce his retirement from the Senate, clearing the way for Williams to run for his seat.

Neither Williams, McNamara nor Democratic National Committee man Neil Staebler was immediately available for comment.

For at least the third and fourth times in two months, Williams, now assistant secretary of state for African affairs, said he was available as McNamara's successor — if McNamara is to be succeeded in 1966. Williams' statements have been in answer to queries from newsmen.

The 71-year-old senator has said he would announce about the first of next year whether he would seek a third term.

His health is good, he says, and he enjoys his job. His only shortcoming, he says, is that he is, he says, Senators serve six-year terms, and McNamara would be 72 at the start of his second term.

Traffic Study Is Rejected; 'Fails to Solve Problems'

BIRMINGHAM — Disappointed with a traffic study report, the City Commission last night refused to accept it until they can review it with the writer, traffic consultant John J. Dobeck.

The traffic report centered on the area bounded by Maple Hunter, 16 Mile and Adams.

"I don't think we should accept the report because it doesn't resolve any of the problems," said Commissioner Ruth McNamee.

The report covers, among other things, proposals submitted by a citizens committee in June in hopes of reducing through traffic and preserving the residential character of the neighborhood.

Commissioners, along with several members of the citizens committee, noted that the idea behind the proposals was lost.

CLIMATE MAR. 24

By a unanimous vote, the commission recognized the Birmingham Fire Fighters Association (BFFA) as the sole bargaining agent for members of the fire department.

The BFFA had asked for the voice recognition last week but the commission had postponed action so it could decide if there was a need for an election.

The organization represents 23 of 37 firemen.

Official's Son Gets $8,000-a-Year Job

Oakland County Treasurer James E. Seeterlin yesterday appointed Shane F. Murphy, son of County Clerk-Register John D. Murphy, as deputy treasurer.

The post was vacated by Theodore Koella, who resigned Nov. 1 to become assignment clerk for Oakland County Circuit Court.

Murphy, 23, will receive a starting salary of $8,000 per year in the third-ranking position in the treasurer's department.

Beginning next Jan. 1, however, the minimum salary for the post will increase to $8,500 with a maximum of $9,400.

Murphy is a 1959 graduate of the University of Detroit High School. He served in the Army from 1961 to 1964 and since has worked as an assembler and press operator for a metal products firm.

The new appointee is 710 and lives with his parents at 710 Catalpa, Royal Oak. He has not attended school.

3 Items Stressed

The use of zip code, correct address and first-class postage is urged by Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson to assist the post office in prompt delivery of Christmas greetings.

Donaldson, whose staff faces a holiday deluge of some one million pieces of mail a day during the peak, said public cooperation would enable the department "to handle an even greater volume of mail with less effort than last year."

Nationally in 1964, about 99 per cent of the Christmas mail reached its destination before Christmas Eve.

The postmaster warned that street addresses in telephone directories are generally correct, but that cities and towns in the directory do not always correspond with the mailing address.

Donaldson cited first class mailing and use of return addresses for forwarding of mail if a letter is undeliverable.

SECOND CLASS

Second class letters, he said, generally end up in the dead letter basket if bearing an incorrect address. He emphasized again this year that poorly wrapped and loosely packed cartons are the major cause of parcel post damage.

In addition, Donaldson suggested that all mailers attempt to mail often and early, avoiding a last-minute rush.

2nd Week of Reversing Planners

Waterford Board OKs Rezoning Request

The Waterford Township Board — for the second consecutive week — reversed recommendations of the Township Planning Commission and Oakland County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee by unanimously approving a rezoning request last night.

A parcel of land on Dixie Highway, near Scott Lake Road, was rezoned from commercial-1 to commercial-3.

The applicant, Earl L. Mull, reportedly plans to construct a transmission repair shop on the property, thus expanding an existing business.

Previously, the Planning Commission argued that C-3 zoning was too extensive and too permissive for the area.

Planning Director Vern Wiggin echoed this contention last night, adding that the commission was willing to consider C-2 zoning for the area.

SPOT ZONING

The County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee rejected the proposal because of spot zoning.

Representing Mull, Robert Cunningham said that the proposed new building would upgrade the area.

Last week, the Township Board approved a rezoning request for establishment of a large apartment complex on Dixie Highway near Telegraph.

Prior to this action, both the Planning Commission and the county committee had recommended denial of the proposal.

TO MEET DEC. 14

The Township Board and Planning Commission will meet Dec. 14, reportedly to discuss recent differences in zoning cases.

Robert Griffin's request to open a teen-age dance hall at 659 M St. was granted by the board, providing the owner meet certain requirements.

Griffin indicated that food and entertainment would be provided at the establishment, to be known as Mr. G's House A-Go-Go.

The owner and township police concurred that certain standards should be set, namely dress regulations, strict supervision and policing inside and outside.

the County Health Department, Township Building Department, Police Department, Fire Department and rules and regulations for the dance hall.

In other business, the board approved a resolution of intent to proceed with the proposed Athens Street blacktopping project and authorized township engineering consultants to make a cost estimate.

The special assessment district project includes that area between Sashabaw and Lawrence.

The board agreed that the township assume legal, recording, engineering and title fees in acquiring 27 additional feet of right-of-way for a proposed driveway on Elizabeth Lake near Lochaven.

The Planning Commission last week accepted a special approval request for construction of Bethel United Church of Christ.

Also last night, the board agreed to sell lot 767 of Elizabeth Lake Estates No. 3 Subdivision of - way for a proposed driveway on Elizabeth Lake near Lochaven.

He 'Banked' on Surprising Holdup Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert A. Poole, a Washington businessman, wasn't short-changed when he went to the bank Monday.

As he returned to his car, two gunmen surprised him.

"This is a holdup," one said as he jumped in. Poole stepped on the gas.

The gunman was jolted out of the auto, but not before he fired a shot. The bullet struck Poole's heavily stuffed money bag, penetrated some bills and deflected weakly off a silver of silver. Poole suffered a slight thigh injury.

Annexation Plan Turned Down

ROME—The Macomb County Board of Supervisors yesterday turned down a proposal to annex a portion of Bruce Township to the village.

The board of supervisors recommended that the village and township officials work together to solve their sewer problems then petition the board again if necessary.

Several township residents petitioned the Village Council earlier this year for annexation to correct their sewer problems.

The council expanded the proposal to include 1,000 acres and sought approval of the board of supervisors to hold an election on the matter.

News of the Area

Village Clerk Norman Engel said the reasons given by the supervisors for turning down the annexation proposal included the substantial effect the move would have on the township's tax base and the opposition voiced by the majority of residents involved.

In an advisory vote three weeks ago, township residents voted against annexation 73 to 35. The results were used as a guide by a special committee of the board of supervisors.

The annexation issue arose when several residents of the township were told to correct their sewage disposal situation. Unable to obtain sewer service by other means, they appealed to the village for an annexation in order to get village service.

Engel said representatives of the village and township will try to work out a mutually acceptable solution.

"There is still a health problem and something will have to be done about it," he said.

PLAN MEETING

Township Clerk Edward Sutherland said today that village officials have been in touch with officials of the township and that a meeting may be set up this week.

He said there are two possible solutions which will be investigated.

Under one plan, the village could sell sanitary sewer service to the township, thereby avoiding annexation.

SMALLER PORTION

The other possibility, according to Sutherland, is that a smaller portion of the township, immediately north of the village, be annexed.

Annexation appears to be favored by these property owners just north of the village who are directly affected by the lack of a sewer system.

Some residents within the 1,000 acres who are not directly affected oppose annexation, he said.

School Work Contracts Let

SOUTH LYON — Contracts totaling $55,436 were awarded to three firms by the board of education last night for the construction of a 10-room addition to the high school.

Awarded contracts for their low bids were Julian Wilson and Son, Birmingham, general contractor, $165,556; Gilles Plumbing & Heating, Livonia, $61,880; and McGee Electric Co., Detroit, $28,000.

Work is scheduled to begin immediately with completion by Aug. 15.

The funds for the project were included in a $2.7-million bond issue approved by voters on June 14.

The bulk of the money — $2,250,000 — will be used to construct an 800-student high school. When it is completed the present high school will become a junior high facility.

Dublin School Official Wasn't at Meeting

It was erroneously reported in yesterday's Pontiac Press that Raymond Hoffmann voted in favor of the proposed Dublin-Waterford Township Schools merger.

Oakland Schools officials today admitted making the mistake, adding that neither Hoffmann nor Eric Spitzer, Dublin's two members on the Oakland County School District Reorganization Committee, were present at Friday's meeting.

VARIETY SHOW PLANNED — The Clarkson Women's Club will stage its first variety show at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Clarkson High School Little Theater. There will be 12 acts in the show, entitled "Syncoated Skirts." One skit features (from left) Mrs. William Kreiner, 6703 Dale; Mr. and Mrs. Bart Connors, 6334 Snow Apple; and Mrs. Kenneth Valentine, 7684 Phelan, all of Independence Township. Tickets for the show can be obtained from Mrs. Douglas Kuehne, 6522 Northview, Independence Township.

Boundaries Set for Vote on Farm Aides

Community boundaries have been established for the 1966 Oakland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee (ASC) elections, to be held Dec. 9.

Farmers are to choose the committeemen who will serve for the next year as local administrators of the new national farm programs, according to Robert Long, committee chairman.

He noted the organization's responsibility has increased under the new omnibus farm bill.

Programs administered by the committeemen include the Agricultural Conservation Program acreage allotments, marketing quotas, commodity loans, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, the National Wool Program and farm storage facility loans.

Other duties are assigned to the committeemen by the secretary of agriculture as the need arises.

47 PER CENT

The 1,175 farmers who voted in the county election last year represented 47 per cent of those qualified.

Funds disbursed under the committee's supervision totaled $265,000, Long said.

Of that amount, $95,000 was for price support loans aimed at increasing market returns, including funds used for wheat and corn diversion programs.

Some 1,430 acres of Oakland

County farmland was improved under the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) cost-sharing arrangement.

Participating farmers paid about half of the $72,000 cost of the program, with the balance supplied by the ACP.

Long noted that farmers qualify to vote in the Dec. 9 election if they are eligible for one or more of the farm programs administered by the committee.

With the exception of two community elections to be held at 1:30 p.m. Dec. 9, all others will be at 8 p.m.

The exceptions are the Milford-Commerce election to be held at the Carlos Long residence, 3988 Sleeth, Commerce Township, and that for Orion and Oakland township farmers to be held at the Oakland Township Hall.

POLLING PLACE

The Ralph Schuster residence, 6821 Drake, will be the polling place for farmers from Waterford, Avon, Pontiac, Troy, Southfield, Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Farmington and Royal Oak.

Other 8 p.m. elections are for Lyon-Nov, Lyon Township Fire Hall; Holly-Groveland, Holly Township Hall; Brandon-Independence, Brandon Township Hall; Rose Springfield, Springfield Township Hall; Oxford-Addison, Oxford Junior High School, and Highland-White Lake, Highland Township Hall.

Ex-Area Resident at Mission Confab

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Rev. Donald L. Hessler, a former Independence Township resident, is currently attending the fifth annual missionaries' workshop at the Maryknoll Fathers' seminary in Maryknoll, N.Y.

Father Hessler, a missionary serving in Mexico City, is one of more than 70 Maryknoll missionaries at the two-week session. The brother of Mrs. Ted Henning of 8181 Allen, Father Hessler has been assigned to Mexico since 1950. He attended Lake Orion public schools before entering Maryknoll seminary in 1954.

Cityhood Plan Studied

UTICA — The question of incorporation of the City of Utica, the City of Shelby Township into a new home rule city is now under study by legal counsel.

The matter yesterday came before the Macomb County Board of Supervisors, which turned it over to legal counsel for further study.

Louis Kreiter, Macomb County chief elections clerk, said it probably will be two weeks to a month before a decision is made on whether an annexation election will be held.

Two weeks ago, petitions were filed with the county clerk seeking to incorporate a portion

His plan would extend the City of Utica to include an area of Shelby Township bounded by Hall Road, Hayes Road, 21 Mile Road and the New York Central Railroad tracks.

ENTIRE TOWNSHIP

In a countermove, Shelby residents filed petitions seeking an election to form the entire township into a home rule city called Shelbydale.

According to Kreiter, action filed with the county clerk seeking to incorporate a portion

China Waging War of Nerves With India by Probing All Along Himalayan Border

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Communist Chinese troops are probing south all along India's Himalayan frontier. Some Indian blood is being spilled.

Peking is flooding New Delhi with protest notes charging India with provocations and warlike activity.

Two theories are popular in government circles:—The Chinese, frustrated by lack of success in Africa and Southeast Asia, are hardening their stance from India to Korea so as to exploit every opportunity to cause trouble, especially for the United States.

—The Chinese intend to give moral support to Pakistan in its conflict with India and at the same time create "irritations" and conflicting claims that could be propaganda preparation for renewed hostilities against India.

ATTACK UNEXPECTED

New Delhi doesn't expect a major Chinese attack soon, however.

One of Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's top Chinese experts points out that the winter snows have closed the mountain passes leading south from Chinese-held Tibet to the Indian plains.

Neither do Indian experts expect a major Chinese intervention in the Viet Nam war or a trial of strength elsewhere against American armed might.

The Chinese for the moment seem willing to let the Vietnamese take the punishment inherent in tangling with the Americans, the experts say.

ACROSS BORDER

No such inhibitions are evident among the Chinese troops on the Indian front. They push across the border with impunity.

In the past two weeks, the attack there in 1962. This area over from the 1962 border war.

Chinese have heated up virtually the entire front from the Ladakh region of Kashmir in the west to the eastern mountain passes more than 1,000 miles across the subcontinent.

The Chinese have made probes into the Northeast Frontier Agency for the first time since they launched a major Indian effort.

One Indian expert on China said Peking's current campaign seems aimed at destroying the last vestiges of restrictions left

After that bloodletting, China unilaterally announced demilitarized zones had been established along its frontier with India.

"Lines of control" were set. The Chinese now have violated their own ground rules and obviously no longer consider the last vestiges of restrictions left

Was 'Peace March' Led by Viet Uncertainty?

The 'Peace March' on Washington against our military embroilment in Viet Nam is now history — to take its place with similar displays of opposition to government policy that have unfailingly marked America's resorts to arms.

There was opposition among the colonists to our Revolutionary fight for freedom from England. In the North, bloody riots erupted against the draft during the Civil War, while in the supposedly exalted South the potential military manpower never approached realization.

Again, prior to World War I public reaction against American involvement was so strong that Woodrow Wilson won a second presidential term on the soon-proved fallacious slogan "He Kept Us Out of War."

From the late 30s to early 40s, there was the strong isolationist "America First" movement, and national hero CHARLES LINDBERGH headed a vocal assault against aid to the Allies which attracted widespread support and huge rallies.

Later, LINDBERGH became one of the civilian heroes of World War II, serving in several vital capacities. When the chips are down, however, American patriotism can be relied upon to rally to the flag and carry it through to victory.

But there is one essential element affecting American solidarity missing in our Viet Nam involvement. The people do not know what is going on.

They are in the dark. The Administration has ducked calling our accelerating campaign in Southeast Asia a War—while the death-and-injury toll of American boys mounts weekly.

The Administration has so doctored the news from that battle front and so hamstrung honest and factual reporting of it that the generality of Americans have not the remotest idea of events transpiring in distant Viet Nam.

The Administration calls for full support of its policies while withholding frank disclosure of what we are up against and the state of our military fortunes.

The Administration, in short, has imposed an evil, wartime censorship on a military operation that it will not acknowledge is a war. Necessary, legitimate censorship in war is one thing — obscuration of our "advisory role" in Viet Nam that daily claims lives of our soldiers quite another.

Why not cut out the double talk, Mr. President, and tell your countrymen that we are at war in Viet Nam, how we stand there, and what needs to be done to accomplish our aim?

Generally speaking, the American people are in accord with your policy of halting the spread of communism over the world's largest continent. But the fine spirit of support they have thus far shown deserves better official treatment at your hands.

Firm Government Aim of W. German People

One of the most encouraging results of the recent German elections was the poor showing made by splinter parties and extremist groups.

It was these twin evils which, battling on economic instability and resentment over the Versailles Treaty, doomed the post-World War

I Weimar Republic, Germany's first experiment with democracy.

An analysis by a government minister of political trends since 1949, when the Federal Republic was born, considers both splinterism and extremism to have declined into insignificance.

No less than 11 minor parties ran in the 1965 elections for the Bundestag (West Germany parliament), but among them they garnered only 1.1 million votes — 3.6 per cent of the total of 32.6 million.

By contrast, in the first elections in 1949, nearly 30 per cent of the votes cast went to extreme leftist or rightist or splinter parties.

While the present national constitution, unlike that of 1919-1933, makes it difficult for splinter parties to get seats in the parliament, the analysis concludes that it is their clear rejection by the German people that has been responsible for this heartening change.

Perhaps men do learn from history after all.

War's Intensity Not a Surprise

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, just returned from Viet Nam on his seventh visit, expresses surprise at the "intensity and scale of attacks by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces in recent weeks."

He didn't have to be surprised. Those forces are probably the toughest in Asia.

In their eight-year war with France, they killed and wounded over 130,000 of the French forces, suffered perhaps more than 200,000 casualties themselves.

McNamara's "surprise" could be taken as an example of how this country and France underestimated the spirit of those Vietnamese who get and got their leadership from the old Communist, Ho Chi Minh, leader of North Viet Nam.

During the first two years of President John F. Kennedy's administration, McNamara kept coming back from Viet Nam full of optimism and only slowly, after Kennedy's death, began saying the war might be long and hard.

PAYING PENALTY
This country is paying the penalty for having failed to understand the quality of its opponents and for having failed to do more to defeat it.

Now Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., historian and special aide to Kennedy, writes of the late President's reaction when he heard that South Viet Nam's President Ngo Dinh Diem, had been killed, not by Communists, but by his own people.

Diem, backed by this country for eight years, was assassinated Nov. 2, 1963, along with his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, just three weeks before Kennedy's death.

In his book just out, "A Thousand Days," Schlesinger says Kennedy was "somber and shaken."

JFK DEPRESSED
"I had not seen him so depressed since the Bay of Pigs. No doubt he realized that Viet Nam was his great failure in foreign policy, and that he had never really given it his full attention."

The failure to understand what was happening in Viet Nam, and what was needed to offset the Communist thrust, began long ago.

The French, holding Viet Nam as a colony since the 19th century, were driven out by the Japanese in World War II. After the war, the French returned.

After the French pull-out, Viet Nam was divided into the Communist north and the non-Communist south. This country began helping the south.

It was after his death, when South Viet Nam began to disintegrate under Viet Cong pressure, that this country gradually got into the war itself, directly.

Double String Ceremony!

Presidency Lacks Organization

WASHINGTON—Arthur Schlesinger Jr. and Theodore Sorensen, who have written books about how the presidency was conducted under the late John F. Kennedy, have performed a useful service.

The intimate details of how important decisions were reached emphasize the LAWRENCE lack of organization that surrounds the highest office in government.

This is still characteristic of the White House under the Johnson administration.

No private business of any size would be permitted by the stockholders to function in the same haphazard way.

Sooner or later, the American people, when they get all the facts, will insist that a system of responsible government be substituted for the present method whereby impromptu, spur-of-the-moment decisions are made on the advice of untrained persons in top posts in the government.

BETTER WAY
There's a better way, and the British government practices it. The bureaucrats have their say down the line, but the Cabinet consists of a group of men who sit in with the prime minister frequently to give him advice and counsel on every major decision.

The fact is that if 10 of the most outstanding men in the United States were appointed to the Cabinet and divested of the duty of actually managing a particular department in all its detail and if permanent career officers were chosen to operate the departments, the Cabinet officers would be free to sit alongside the president and give their entire time to him.

They would assist the chief executive every day not only in reaching decisions but in carrying them out.

Each of the Cabinet officers would, of course, after being nominated by the president, have to be confirmed by the Senate in the same way as department heads now are appointed.

DIRECT RESPONSIBILITY
Today the White House assistants and they all have a far-reaching influence in advising the President of the United States — are chosen by the chief executive, but they are directly responsible to the people, as is the case under the British system.

Too much emphasis is placed at the White House nowadays on political advice — as to what will be popular or unpopular — too little thought is given to the long-range effects of the vital decisions that have to be made.

President Johnson does call to his Texas home every now and then some members of his cabinet, but it is apparent that he does not have at his side constantly a Cabinet of 10 persons who are thoroughly familiar with national and international problems.

There have been occasional group meetings, but a regular procedure requiring council meetings at least three of four times a week between the Cabinet and the President is still not being put into effect.

Some day the errors and mistakes of the present system will come into full view, and the American people will demand a remedy.

Fate of Hospital Proved Doctor's Death Sentence

NEW YORK — Dr. Gordon Seagrave, the legendary "Burma surgeon" who died last spring, succumbed as much to a broken heart as any of the other troubles that racked him.

He had played a love of his fellow man and a waste-paper basket full of surgical equipment discarded by the Johns Hopkins Medical School into a 200-bed modern hospital and nurses school at Nankham, Northern Burma.

When the Japanese came flaming into the region early in World War II, Dr. Seagrave and 18 of his Burmese staff joined Gen. Vinegar Joe Stilwell and his men on their long "We had the hell beaten out of us!" retreat on foot into India.

Then there came a great day when, as the war neared its end, Dr. Seagrave returned to Nankham. But his life's work lay in ruins. The hospital and school had been used as a Japanese headquarters, and, as such, had been leveled by U.S. bombs.

Dr. Seagrave went back to work, rebuilding with the money he had earned on his books and articles. But that ran out by the middle 1950's. He was broke and sick when American friends formed the American Medical Center for Burma.

Dr. Seagrave's luck changed. His hospital grew to 300 beds and a complex of 25 buildings. He treated 10,000 patients a year with the help of an expanding staff.

Then something happened in Burma. It wanted no more truck with foreign interests. It showed no partiality. The bureau chief of Tass was given the best the same day as the philanthropic Ford Foundation.

Dr. Seagrave's last days were agonizing as he waited for the edict from Rangoon that would end him. It came not long after he died, as if some bureaucratic heart had been touched enough to stay the blow.

It was not a case of money-cut-down-the-rat-hole. In the end, the doctor had trained more than 1,000 nurses, instructed dozens of Burmese doctors.

They continue the work of the man Ambassador Chester Bowles once called "the best of America overseas."

Dr. Seagrave's death moved many Americans to make contributions to the American Medical Center for Burma.

They will most certainly not go to waste. A country with a need and a welcome has been found — South Korea.

Through the American-Korean Foundation, a Dr. Gordon Seagrave Hospital and Nurses Training School will begin to rise there in 1966 like a reincarnation of the dedicated man.

In Washington:

Little Hope for Dirksen's Dream

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — By the week, Republican Senate leader Everett M. Dirksen's dream of slowing the trend toward "one man, one vote" in state reapportionment comes closer to crumbling in the dust.

Even if he could muster winning support in Congress next year for BLOSSAT his proposed constitutional amendment allowing one legislative house to be reapportioned on a nonpopulation basis, Dirksen still would be fighting a losing game.

This year the Senate killed his plan, and in 1966 very likely would do so again by a wider margin. But, should an amendment somehow emerge despite the present outlook, it would have to be ratified by 28 of the 50 state legislatures.

As of right now, however, 28 states have adopted new reapportionment plans under the June 1964 Supreme Court edict decreeing "one man, one vote" in both legislative houses. Another five have worked out new plans but some litigation still pending.

Eleven other states are under court order to act or are taking voluntary action before the 1966

Voice of the People:

'Administration Is Aware of Want Among Citizens'

We should be grateful for an administration which recognizes want or distress among the Nation's citizenry and is trying to provide alleviation. Unfortunately, and all too often by persons who have a voice in forming public opinion, such efforts are met with attempts to minimize the merits and to overemphasize the faults. The same misgivings were voiced more than 30 years ago against the New Deal programs that proved to be of advantage to the Nation as a whole; particularly Social Security which turned out to become a blessing for millions of individuals.

Therefore, there is no reason to have misgivings against similar programs in our time. The cheers go to the City Commission for the wise and timely decision to join the County in the Office of Economic Opportunity and the jeers to those who are trying to throw the monkey wrench.

Suggests Forming a Pontiac Drama Group

Pontiac has been accused of not being a cultured city, but I beg to differ. We have the Pontiac Symphony and there is now a Pontiac Great Books Group meeting twice each month. The discussions have been most stimulating.

Pontiac still lacks a drama group. I contacted The Pontiac Press and Parks and Recreation and both are willing to cooperate if enough people are interested in forming such a group. So, come on all you would-be thespians and speak up! Remember, "United we stand, divided we fall."

'Citizens Should Learn Problems of Aged'

When people like Mrs. Thompson write letters of criticism about nursing homes, based only on superficial facts, it gives all nursing homes a black eye and many elderly citizens who may be planning to enter homes will only become more anxious and upset after reading such a letter.

Nurses and nurses' aides check all patients frequently to keep them dry and comfortable. The food is well-prepared and nourishing. Menus are posted at all times and are checked by the Health Department.

Citizens of every community should spend more time educating themselves to the problems of the aged instead of tearing down the work of those who are striving to cope with this ever-increasing social problem.

their mayors and others to come racing to Washington in search of major assistance.

The situation is now sufficiently improved (with promise of still further betterment) to encourage the Advisory Commission of Intergovernmental Relations to include many proposals in its recommended 47-item 1966 state legislative program.

Some samples among the model bills intended for study by the 50 legislatures:

Proposals for often badly needed community-wide planning for water supply and waste disposal; for statewide vocational education programs; for uniformity among building codes across local lines, to reduce housing costs and spread use of new materials; for removal of constitutional limits on local property taxes and borrowing, with statutory provision for local exercise of these powers; for reserving the vital zoning authority to larger communities and to counties.

The advisory commission would also like to see state legislation creating metropolitan councils of public officials who could consider the whole range of areawide problems now building up.

The way things have been going, chances are good that at least some of the now urban-minded legislatures will put some of these measures on the books in the sessions just ahead.

Bodily Defects Aid in Success

Plato: One of the lucky things in this world is to have something obviously wrong with you.

It ordinarily helps a human being to get ahead if he has a recognizable but not too repulsive defect.

This is one way in which people differ from chickens, and perhaps lower forms of zoological life.

BOYLE

The pecking order in chickens expects failure and lack of performance complete similarity. If you put a spot of blood on a times, too.

One of the things we like about Babe Ruth is that, although he knocked 714 home runs, he also struck out a lot of times.

The difference between the chicken flock and the human flock is simply this: Chickens are suspicious of perfection; humans are suspicious of imperfection. One of the things we like about George Washington is that, for all his granite force of character, he now and then let his temper get the better of him — and blew his stack, even as you and I.

One of the things we like about Abraham Lincoln is that, for all his political sagacity and eloquence in sustaining the American Union, he was homesely and perhaps mildly hempecked. So was Socrates.

Ways Sought to Speed Work

Windup Date Is Closing In on U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — An Irish proposal to have the permanent members of the Security Council voting for an operation shoulder 70 per cent of the cost, said one delegate. "If we start junking items now, the next step might be to abolish the General Assembly altogether because of the peace-keeping crisis."

The United States has shown coolness toward the Irish plan, and the Soviet Union has rejected it as a violation of the U.N. Charter.

If the assembly fails to meet its deadline, it will have to resume the session in January. Delegates in general are reluctant to gloss over or drop any major items in order to meet the target date.

"We skipped the last session," said one delegate.

Two of the issues, introduced by Britain and the Soviet Union, are expected to take at least two weeks for disposition.

FULL AIRING

Britain wants a full airing of its item calling for peaceful settlement of disputes.

The Soviets are certain to demand full debate on their item dealing with "the inadmissibility of intervention in the domestic affairs of states." This has been viewed as a launching pad for Communist attacks on U.S. intervention in the Dominican revolt and American policy in Viet Nam.

Three other political items — peaceful uses of outer space, Korea and relations among European states — will probably get token treatment or be relegated to a lesser committee.

The remaining item, Cyprus, is expected to touch off lively debate.

THORNY PROBLEM

The special political committee still has before it the thorny problem of peace-keeping finances which caused the East-West deadlock that paralyzed the last assembly session.

The committee dealt briefly with the issue last week but under African pressure switched to the question of racial segregation. This debate is expected to run into next week.

There are still 38 nations to speak in the debate on peace-keeping finances. It centers on

Poverty War Progress—2

Community Action Growing

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a five-part series.)

By LOUIS CASSELLS
United Press International

WASHINGTON — Nearly half the money voted by Congress for the war against poverty—$685 million out of $1.5 billion in the current fiscal year—is earmarked for "community action programs."

A community action program can be almost any kind of project — from a birth control clinic to a night school for illiterate adults.

Detroit provides free medical and dental treatment. Washington, D.C. offers free legal help. New Haven, Conn., operates neighborhood employment offices.

Tucson, Ariz. is organizing credit unions. Henry County, Ohio, is building a rest center for migrant farm workers.

A nationwide survey by UPI reporters shows that some community action programs have gotten off to a good start, with wide public support. Others have stirred monumental local rows.

20-WORD CLAUSE
Much of the controversy stems from a 20-word clause which Congress wrote into the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 in an effort to make sure that community action programs meet the real needs of the poor.

It requires that each federally-financed project be "developed, conducted and administered with the maximum feasible participation of residents of the areas and members of the groups served."

The Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) has interpreted it to mean that no community program may receive a federal grant until it can show that the poor are well represented on the policy planning board of its antipoverty agency.

Some people—including OEO Director Sargent Shriver—think this is a great idea, the one thing that makes the current war against poverty significantly different from earlier types of social work and public assistance.

MAYORS DISMAYED
Others — including the mayors of several big cities — take a dim view of an arrangement which threatens the municipal government's control over the golden stream of federal dollars.

Mayor Samuel W. Yorty of Los Angeles found the whole idea so unpalatable that he refused to take the steps necessary to qualify for OEO grants until a bloody riot exploded last August in an impoverished Negro section of his city.

Los Angeles now has a poverty board composed of 12 local government officials, 4 officials of private welfare agencies, and 7 representatives of poor neighborhoods. It has begun to receive OEO grants.

But UPI correspondent Nicholas Beck reports there is still much discontent in Negro and Mexican-American neighborhoods, and a feeling that the poor do not yet have any real voice in decision-making.

PROGRAM STALLED
In San Francisco, the anti-poverty program was stalled for eight months by a bitter struggle between City Hall and an organization called "Citizens United Against Poverty" which includes ministers, civil rights leaders and representatives of the city's Negro sections.

The upshot was a compromise under which the policy board is composed of 5 poverty area representatives and 7 city appointees, with the mayor retaining a veto power over any program involving city funds.

Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley also has been involved in a running feud with a militant civil rights group, the Woodlawn Organization.

It charges that the poor have been given short shrift on planning agencies and that OEO money is being used to bolster the city's Democratic political machine.

TURN ATTENTION
Early this month, OEO officials were advised by the Budget Bureau which usually speaks for the White House on matters of administration policy — that it might be a good idea to soft-pedal the business of putting poor people into policy-making positions and to concentrate on giving them jobs in local antipoverty programs.

When this news leaked out, Washington observers concluded that the sensitive ear of Lyndon B. Johnson had detected cries of pain from big city mayors who feel that the OEO's rules are upsetting local political relationships.

The White House promptly issued a formal denial that the Budget Bureau's suggestions to OEO were made on behalf of the President.

And Shriver declared that the policy about representation of the poor "will remain exactly what it has been from the very beginning."

MONEY TROUBLE
In New York, the nation's largest single antipoverty project, known as "Haryou-Act," has landed in trouble of another kind.

Haryou-Act provides job training, counseling and other services to 12,500 Negro youngsters in Harlem.

Its programs have been praised by both federal and city authorities. They were credited in some quarters with averting serious racial disorders in Harlem during the past summer.

But questions have arisen about the way Haryou-Act has handled federal funds.

EXPLANATION

Its director, Livingston L. Wingate, a former aide of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., explained that, in his zeal to combat poverty, he sometimes transferred money from one account to another in a very informal way.

After conducting an audit of its own, the OEO called in the Justice Department to determine if grounds exist for criminal prosecution.

In New Haven, Conn., poverty war funds are being used to turn seven schools into community centers which remain open until 10:30 p.m. nightly to offer sports, games, clubs, evening classes for children and adults, legal aid offices and clinics staffed by visiting nurses.

In Atlanta, Ga., a dozen neighborhood service centers are providing day care for children of working mothers, homemaking lessons, family counseling, emergency legal and medical assistance, employment services and a vocational training program for 2,000 unemployed men.

In Pittsburgh, some 30,000 of lessons, family counseling, emergency legal and medical assistance, employment services and a vocational training program for 2,000 unemployed men.

In Pittsburgh, some 30,000 of the city's 138,000 poor adults have been enrolled for job training, work experience, literacy classes or other programs.

And, UPI correspondent Gloria Wolford adds, "The freedom of the community action program for politics is little short of amazing in a city run by a firmly entrenched, patronage-minded Democratic machine."

(YONAH BROW: The Neighborhood Youth Corps.)

Officials at St. Joseph's Hospital refused to give further details.

Red Confusion Reigns in Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Justified. But the Communist student leader, Juvenio Pulgar, voicing a pro-Moscow view, commented that "we are on the brink of becoming another Colombia, where violence no longer has anything to do with ideology." Colombia for years was plagued by violent banditry.

UNBRIDLED TERRORISM
Even a founder of the movement is expressing second thoughts about unbridled terrorism. Domingo Alberto Rangel has been in jail since October 1963, when the government imprisoned extreme left congressmen after the killing of five guardsmen. Once an advocate of unbridled violence, Rangel recently wrote President Raul Leon: "It pains me to see Venezuela

Rhodesia Proving Ghana Scapegoat

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — The breakdown Rhodesian regime has served to strengthen Ghana's position at home and in the rest of Africa.

Mobilization of Ghana's armed forces — including recruitment of an unpaid militia just started — will require belittling by the people, Nkrumah says.

Government papers have announced that any commodity shortages and other hardships should be blamed on Rhodesia's white prime minister, Ian Smith.

No mention was made of scarcities which have been occurring sporadically here for more than a year because of mismanagement and corruption.

Ghana imported consumer goods worth more than $200 million to make Accra appear a well-stocked showcase during last month's African summit conference.

These goods are mostly gone and stringent controls have been restored. Some clothing, shoes and various foodstuffs already are scarce.

BIG SHOW

"Of course I am hoarding," said one Ghanaian maitron cheerfully as she strolled from an Accra shop carrying 25 pounds of sugar.

Wide powers have been assumed by the government under the Africa defense bill rammed through Parliament last Friday. Under it, the president assumed the equivalent of martial law control.

PRESTIGE RISES

Nkrumah's prestige in the rest of Africa, which appeared at a low point at the end of the summit meeting, has risen sharply in the period since Rhodesia broke away.

The Ghanaian leader has for years advocated a unified military high command in Africa to deal with such situations as Rhodesia.

Nigerian papers have praised Nkrumah's criticism of British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and questioned the effectiveness of sanctions ordered by Britain and tacitly backed by Nigerian Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa.

$49.8 Million

Teens Big Spenders

(Special to The Press)

Oakland County's teen-agers have come into their own. They have wealth such as their parents never dreamed of at their age.

They have plans, ideas and an influence over the family pocketbook that was unheard of in former years.

Mother has virtually abdicated in their favor. Time was when she was the family purchasing agent. She still does most of the buying, but only after lending an attentive ear to what junior has to say.

On the other hand, junior does his own purchasing without consultation, except among his own contemporaries.

And he does plenty. On the basis of recent surveys, Oakland County's teen-age capitalists are spending in the neighborhood of $40 million of their own money per year.

It goes for records, soft drinks, toiletries, cosmetics, entertainment, food, cameras, automobiles, sports equipment, fountain pens and many other products.

The spending total is derived from studies and surveys made by the National Education Association, the Small Business Administration and the American Marketing Association.

They find that the nation's teen-agers have an income of no less than $11 billion a year, equivalent to $49 for every youngster between 13 and 19.

In Oakland County, it amounts to a healthy $40,868.00 for the 101,979 who are now in the teen-age bracket locally.

Some of them earn part of this money by doing odd jobs after school and during summer vacations. The rest comes from their weekly allowances, which vary with their age and their requirements.

SPEND IT FAST

Such money must be spent quickly before it burns holes in the pockets. Out to attract it are merchandisers of everything from skate boards to stuffed dogs.

Of even greater interest to merchandisers and manufacturers is other family purchasing, placed at $30 billion nationally, over which the teen-agers have a direct influence.

They have a strong voice in deciding the make of car that is bought, the kind of food, the home furnishings and, of course, their own wearing apparel.

In Oakland County, in line with the national findings, this influence affects purchases estimated at over $136 million a year.

Ships Expected Out of Seaway

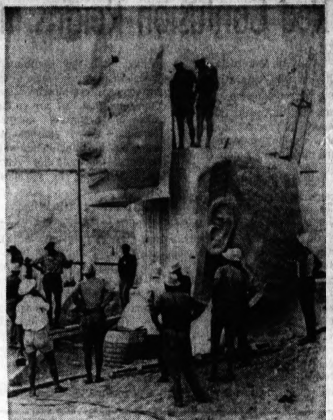

DETROIT (AP) — All 124 ocean vessels in the St. Lawrence Seaway are expected to be cleared from the system by Dec. 3 when it closes officially, seaway officials said Monday.

Last winter, three ocean vessels were trapped in the waterway when ice clogged the passageway.

Sol Goldberg, attorney for Mrs. Jones, said her complaint identified her as the widow. Goldberg declined further comment but said Sugar risked court censure if he could not prove his allegations.

A legislative investigation has received testimony of improper practices by Brookdale Cemetery.

Americans spent $92.3 billion for food last year, a 41 per cent increase over 1954's expenditures of $65.4 billion.

KING-SIZE FACE-SAVING — Engineers go to a great effort to save the face of Ramses II, Egyptian king who ruled more than 3,000 years ago. The great stone head from the ancient Abu Simbel temples is being moved to higher ground in a massive international operation to preserve the shrine from the huge man-made lake which is forming behind the Aswan Dam in Egypt. The face slab weighs 30 tons.

Dominicans Alerted: 'New Rightist Plot'

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Dominican authorities were alerted today for possible action against an "imminent plot" by rightists resentful of alleged Communist influences on the provisional government.

Provisional President Hector Garcia Godoy announced yesterday that his foes — presumably the same group responsible for the abortive revolt in Santiago Nov. 22 — are preparing a new attempt to overthrow him.

"A known group of persons are developing a plan that includes acts of terrorism, violence, attacks, assassinations, kidnappings and other incidents intended to create a chaos situation that would cause the government to fall," Garcia said.

Soon after issuing the statement, the provisional president held one of his rare meetings with U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett.

Bennett said later the meeting was "routine."

"He (Garcia) mentioned the (plot) announcement, but we didn't discuss any of its details," the Ambassador said.

STAGE DEMONSTRATION

While the two men were meeting, about 100 members of the anti-Communist United National Democratic Front (UNDF) were staging a "token demonstration" outside the Dominican "White House" which included the publication of an open letter to Bennett.

The letter charged that the United States had imposed a pro-Communist government on the Dominican Republic without the consent of the people.

"The predominantly American intervening forces have consciously or unconsciously favored the Communists with the forced installation of a 'provisional government' which has shown partiality in all its proclamations," the letter said.

The demonstrators were specifically protesting the contin-

Hero Citations to 2 From State

Youth, Woman Get Money and Medals

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Niles, Mich., schoolboy and a Detroit housewife were cited for heroism Monday and given medals and cash awards by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

Happy J. Hipshire Jr., 16, who helped to save an elderly couple from drowning in Barron Lake April 11, 1964, received a bronze medal and $750.

Mrs. Mary E. Townsend, 34, received a bronze medal and $500 for each of her two children for educational expenses. Mrs. Townsend saved 3-year-old Tammy Lynn Jackson from a possible death in traffic April 21 of this year.

The Carnegie Commission annually makes awards and citations for citizens who by their own risk have saved lives of others.

FIRST PERSON

Happy, the citation said, was the first person to go to the aid of H. J. and Elizabeth Brawley, both 70, when their rowboat capsized in Barron Lake 150 ft from shore.

Happy entered the water fully clothed and swam to the couple, fighting his way through mud and weeds.

Mrs. Brawley was beneath the boat, breathing in the 18 inches of air space. Happy dived beneath the boat, pulled her away, and brought her to the surface. She was pulled aboard a rescue boat.

Brawley was on the surface but his weight prevented his being put aboard. Another boat arrived. As Happy steamed the two with a hand on each, Brawley was taken aboard the second boat.

Mrs. Townsend ran into traffic to save Tammy Lynn. The boy had toddled from between two parked cars into the path of oncoming traffic.

A car struck Mrs. Townsend and Tammy Lynn as she held the child. Tammy Lynn suffered a fractured rib. Mrs. Townsend suffered a broken leg and broken arm.

Gen. LeMay Gets Top Philippine Decoration

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay yesterday was presented the Philippines' highest decoration for "exceptionally meritorious and outstanding services."

Philippine Ambassador Oscar Ledesma made the presentation of the Legion of Honor in the Degree of Commander to LeMay. He noted that the Philippine air force owed the former U.S. Air Force chief of staff a "debt of gratitude" for his invaluable contribution to its growth and development.

Ziegler was an infantry rifleman stationed in West Berlin. He told of going into East Berlin to meet a girlfriend while in a depressed mood, getting drunk and deciding to stay with the Communists on Aug. 16, 1959.

Ziegler told the court he realized his mistake a short time later, and tried to escape in late 1959. He was arrested by East German police and served a seven-month prison term for the escape attempt.

Ziegler said a second attempt of escape was foiled last August when he was captured trying to slip through the British Mission building at Potsdam.

What Is a High School Equivalency Certificate?

It is now possible for men and women who never finished High School to earn a special High School Certificate. This diploma is called the High School Equivalency Certificate, and receives general acceptance in business and Civil Service as the equivalent of a regular 4 year High School Diploma.

More than 43,000,000 adults are presently without High School Diplomas. These people have been held back from better pay because they have never completed High School. State Education Departments were deeply concerned with this "DROPOUT" problem. Exams were set up to qualify these adults for a Special High School Home Study.

Recent government reports show that a person who has a High School Diploma earns $120,000 more during his lifetime than a non-graduate. This means that a High School Diploma could be worth $25 to $30 more a week. So why be held back from better pay. For a Free Home Study High School Book, write to National School of Home Study, Dept. EP, 27753 Mount Road, Warren, Michigan.

Says Johnson Losing Ground

One-Stop Recruiting

LBJ Okays U.S. Job Centers

Economist Cites War, 'de Facto Price Controls'

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson approved today a one-stop plan for government job seekers which he said would make it easier to attract capable people.

When it is in full effect, interested citizens won't have to go from agency to agency to learn about federal job opportunities, but will be able to get all the information in one place.

Information centers will be set up in 55 major centers, acting for the entire federal government. They will replace 684 boards of examiners, each acting for only one department or agency. Some cities now have as many as 30 or 40 of these boards.

Describing the merit system as "the keystone of good government," Johnson called the new recruiting plan "an excellent beginning."

CENTRAL OFFICE

"Eventually there should be a central information office in every major metropolitan area where citizens can get information, not only about federal jobs but about all the functions of the federal government," Johnson said.

In a letter to Chairman John Macy of the Civil Service Commission, Johnson wrote: "This is a high priority program which has my full endorsement and I shall look to you to provide the leadership for implementation at the earliest possible date."

"I am sure you will enjoy the full support of heads of departments and agencies in the pursuit of our common goal of quality and excellence in the federal service."

Officials said one-stop job information centers will be set up within a month in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Atlanta, Ga., Chicago, St. Louis, Mo., Dallas, Tex., Denver, Colo., San Francisco and Seattle, Wash. All these cities have regional offices of the Civil Service Commission. Similar offices will be established later in other large cities.

Johnson was described as pleased by assistant press secretary Joseph Latin after he received a report Monday that new car buyers are being given the full benefit of last June's reduction of the excise tax from 10 to 7 per cent.

Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, said a survey of prices of new-model autos by the Bureau of Labor Statistics shows manufacturers and retailers are passing on to buyers the full amount of the reduction and have reduced prices slightly in addition.

Bundy Leaving Would End Era

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The expected departure of McGeorge Bundy as President Johnson's top aide on foreign policy would complete a major revamping of the White House staff, the brilliant but often and abrasive presidential assistant has assumed many of the administrative functions once handled by Bundy.

Bundy, the brilliant but often and abrasive presidential assistant for national security affairs, has been offered the presidency of the Ford Foundation at about $75,000 a year — more than double his $28,500 White House salary.

DRASTIC CHANGES

The best guessing here and in Washington is that the former Harvard University dean brought to the White House in 1961 by President John F. Kennedy, will take the job of Bundy's job as a presidential assistant has been downgraded under Johnson. And it now seems apparent that the assignment as secretary of state, which he apparently would relish, is firmly in the grasp of Dean Rusk.

REVAMP STAFF

Should Bundy resign — and there has been no evidence that Johnson is resisting such a move — it would mark the end of a subtle, two-year-long reorganization of the White House staff along Johnsonian lines.

Kennedy, much like Dwight D. Eisenhower before him, thought of staff aides as specialists. Johnson, more the free-wheeler, likes to tag particular aides to do particular chores without consulting organizational charts.

Instead of viewing the office of the president as a rather formal piece of machinery, Johnson gradually has personalized it to his attention.

Johnson has displayed no such distrust of the Cabinet departments. Indeed, he has expressed a preference for dealing directly with top Cabinet officers, feeling each should be the paramount expert in his assigned field.

Unlike Kennedy, he does not pick up the phone and call departments at State or Defense. He has not been able to see Johnson seemingly feels he can get along in normal circumstances without Bundy — and without out first going through such cool-leagues as the many-hatted long headed.

RELATIONS COOL

More than that, Bundy's personal access to the President has diminished, seemingly because of a cooling of relations between the two men. Of late he has gone out. And Johnson has not been able to see Bundy in normal circumstances without Bundy — and without out first going through such cool-leagues as the many-hatted long headed.

Dead Soldier's Gear Tells Little Of The Man

'It'll Take a Lot of Bullets...'

By TOM TIEDE
BIEN HOA, Viet Nam (NEA) — Everybody liked Everett Goias.

He didn't have an enemy in the world.

A quiet, puppy-dog, friendly fellow from San Francisco, he used to say that dinner and his girl back home were his great loves. So the guys in Bravo Company would tease him about both of them. And he'd blush and grin.

"When you getting married, Ev?" they'd ask.

"Soon's I get back to the States," he'd giggle.

"Hope she's got a good job."

"Why's that, fellows?"

"Cause somebody's gotta pay for all that food you eat."

CALM, COLLECTED

Ev Goias, a specialist fourth class, 20 years old, 5 feet 6 1/2, 153 pounds. A fearless fellow, they say. He'd come back from the jungle missions as if the horror hadn't happened at all.

He liked to joke about the war, in fact. "If they do ever get me," he'd say, "it'll take a lot of bullets."

It did.

They finally got Ev Goias the other day and it took seven bullets.

One of them passed through his neck and left two charred holes at the top of his massive shoulders. It was a tracer slug, continuously burning. And he lived with it smoking in him for nearly an hour.

SCREAMS, FIRE

His group had been cut off from larger elements of the 172d Airborne Brigade by ambushing Viet Cong, who charged with screams and scorching fire, who blew horns and threw hand grenades, who expended more firepower in two hours than they normally do in two weeks.

Most guys ducked for cover. Ev Goias gave them hell and then some.

Firing from hip and shoulder, he would fashion a screen of smoke and when it cleared he'd be someplace else. Running, jumping, ducking. He always liked the action. And he felt if he kept moving, the slugs couldn't catch up with him.

But they did this day.

One in the leg and one in the neck at first. And the chunky GI crashed to the ground.

REFUSES TO DIE

Leaking blood and close to shock, he refused to die. He grabbed hold of grass clods and pulled himself back to the others. He crawled 50 yards like that and then asked, almost apologetically, for help.

But there was none. His small unit had been chopped to shreds. Men were dying everywhere. Sheets of fire had trimmed the brush of the area like a lawn mower and the only movement was from the wounded.

Ev Goias got hit five more times. And then he died. He never uttered a word of pain.

"God, what a guy!" a pal said afterward.

"Why is it the good ones always get it?" offered another.

"Hey," said a third. "You remember how slow he was around the tent? But did you see him out there! He was everywhere."

"He played football in high school, you know."

"I'll bet he was a good one."

"Yeah, he was good in everything."

"Yeah."

"Anybody see his rings? He bought a $400 engagement set."

"I think he sent them to his girl."

"Yeah."

"God, what a good guy he was."

Everett Goias, short, squat, black-haired. He used to talk about his block in San Francisco, and high school games, and Fisherman's Wharf, and getting married when he got back to the States.

Everybody liked him. He didn't have an enemy in the world.

Except one.

Holiday Season Begins With Tea

By MADELEINE DOEREN
Pontiac branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association sponsored a Holiday Tea, Monday, in the Pontiac YWCA. Cedar stair roping and Christmas table trees in the foyer set a gay mood for the occasion which marks one of the year's highlights.

Mrs. Robert Castell and Mrs. Robert S. Isgrigg were co-chairmen of the table setting exhibit by members, Mrs. Edward Buckley and Mrs. William Maybury were social cochairmen.

Red carnations, holly and greens centered the tea table laid with a cloth of red net over satin with jeweled felt motifs and a gold braid border.

Collaborating in the tea table arrangement were Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald and Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald.

CHRISTMAS SPOONS

Among the exhibits was Mrs. Vaughn S. Garrison's supper table with a felt-scalloped green net-over-linen cloth. Appointments included a Venetian liqueur set and gold dessert spoons from a Danish Christmas collection.

Mrs. Edmund Rogers and Mrs. Standish Sibley placed white milk glass on a dinner table laid with red linen. Red balls and holly formed the centerpiece and holly tumblers rested in beaded coasters.

The inscription "Merry Christmas To You" on red linen intrigued those who stopped to admire Mrs. William Rogers' tea table centered with Santa in a wreath of peppermint-stripe candies, red Christmas tree balls and greens. Silver candelabra held twisted candles.

FOR CHILDREN

Gold braid edged a round cloth of white felt with paper holly plates and snowman mugs for the children, done by Mrs. Robert Oliver II and Mrs. Richard Zimmerman. Beaded felt ornaments and popcorn ropes decked the tree centerpiece.

Copper angel candleholders brought from Mexico flanked an arrangement of dried artichokes, wood roses and greens for Mrs. Clifford Ekelund's buffet table. The deep green linen cloth was overlaid with an imported cloth handwoven in gold thread.

GREENS

Among members who designed and exhibited wreaths, swags and mantel arrangements were Mrs. Vernon C. Abbott, Mrs. Louis Schimmel, Mrs. Russell Galbraith, Mrs. James Nye and Mrs. Harold Dudley.

For her flat wall Christmas tree, Mrs. L. Jerome Pink used strips and slivers of mirror and blue cathedral glass.

Alternating at the tea table were Mrs. P. V. Wagley, Mrs.

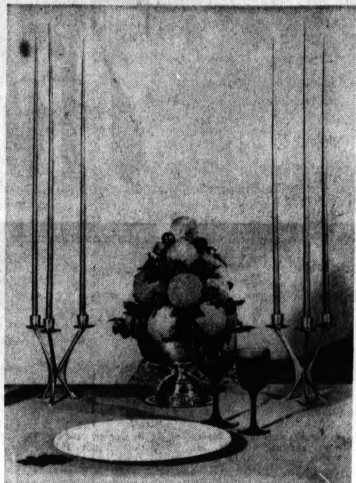

Walter K. Willman, Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Basil Brown, Mrs. Arthur W. Selden, Mrs. Buckley, Mrs. Robert Alton, Mrs. Ekelund and Mrs. Isgrigg.

On the social committee were Mesdames: Clark Adams, Robert Arltmeier, Robert Arlstrong, Howard Barker, Mahlon Benson, Floyd Blakeslee, Chauncey G. Burke, William Cashin, James Clarkson, Frederick Cockle and James Corwin.

Others were Mesdames: Edward Dalton, C. G. Darling Jr., Harold Dudley, S. M. Dudley, Robert Dudley and Harold Eaker, also Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald and Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Fink, Mrs. Abbott and Mrs. Brown.

Among the guests were Mrs. Clarence Maguire of Grosse Pointe, president of the Michigan Division, WNFQA and Mrs. William McCallum of Birmingham, Michigan extension chairman.

Osage oranges and blue Christmas tree balls flanked by blue tapers set a holiday theme for Mrs. Kenneth Vandenberg's dinner table. Beaded fern leaves tucked beside the stark white Wedgwood service plates complement the blue linen tablecloth.

If Asked You May Speak Up

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My mother and father are soon going to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary and my sister and I are planning a party in their honor.

My mother never owned sterling silver flatware, so last year my sister and I decided to start a set for her. Whenever a special occasion arises, we give her a place setting for a gift. I would like to know if it would be proper to suggest to friends and relatives who wish to give them gifts that they add to this silver?

A: To any who ask you what to give your parents, you may quite properly say, "I am sure they would love a piece of the Regency pattern silver, if you wish to give that much."

But unless they do ask, you must not suggest this to them.

HAT WITH TUXEDO

Q: Will you please tell me what type of hat is correctly worn with a tuxedo?

A: A black Homburg or black or gray soft-brimmed fedora in the winter, gray fedora in the spring or fall, and a Panama in the summer.

VISITING FRIENDS

Q: My husband and I were invited to visit friends of ours who recently moved into a new apartment. This will be our first visit to their new place.

My husband says it is customary to take a small gift when going to a new house or apartment for the first time. If they were giving a housewarming, I could see taking a gift, but as we are merely going for a visit, I don't think a present is necessary. May I please have your opinion?

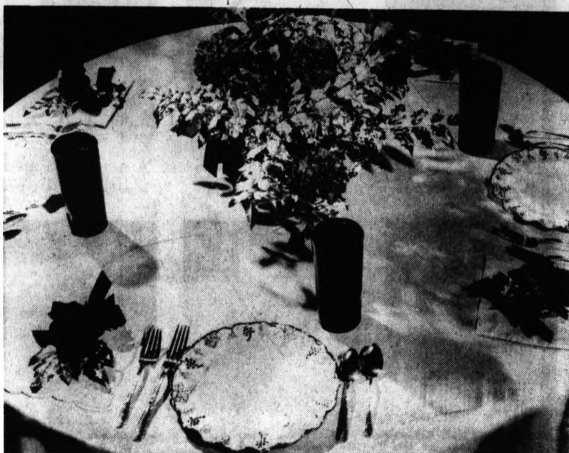

A: Taking a gift for their new apartment is not at all obligatory, but it is a friendly gesture and one which many follow.

Parents of Teenagers Awake To the Dangers That Exist

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Every time I see a letter in your column from a mother grieving because some nasty boy got her "innocent" little daughter in trouble, my blood pressure rises.

My 16-year-old son is dating steady (and I do mean steady) a 15-year-old girl. He practically lives at her house.

We've tried to impress upon him the pitfalls of too much familiarity. But about the time we get the message across to him, she breaks away from her for an evening, the girl's mother invites him to dinner or for a day-long outing.

The girl is available any time of night or day on a moment's notice. She seems to have no restrictions. They go to school together, eat lunch, together, come home together, and if they don't spend the evening together, they're on the phone talking.

When they're here, they're constantly holding hands, scuffling or necking. I assume they behave the same way at her house. Perhaps this girl's mother doesn't know what she is doing. Your publishing this letter might wake her up.

ONE BOY'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: In the absence of restrictions from the girl's parents, you should set up a few.

I'll publish your letter not only to awaken that girl's mother, but to awaken countless other parents who need it.

DEAR ABBY: We have to do a "career book" for school and my chosen career is modeling. (Fashion modeling.)

I have always wanted to be a model, Abby, and I don't think that is anything to be ashamed of. People snicker when I say I want to be a professional model as though modeling were not much of a profession.

Some have even hinted that it isn't very respectable. Others say there is no future in it. I have been told I have the figure for it.

I am 5 ft. 8 inches tall and weigh 112. I am 17 years old and have done some amateur modeling, and people in the fashion business have told me I am good.

Will you please tell me the truth about modeling?

WANTS TO MODEL
DEAR WANTS: Modeling is a respectable profession. (It's the "part-time" models with side-lines that give it a bad name.)

And as for the future: Grace Kelly, who married the Prince of Monaco, was a model. Does that answer your question?

CONFIDENTIAL TO G. S. J.: Your motives are admirable, but the man who doesn't have what it takes to ask for his own job rarely keeps it long.

Troubled? Write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press.

Russia's Arctic Circle City Has a Boom Town Look

By ALINE MOSBY
MURMANSK, U.S.S.R. (AP) — The deep snow has drifted over the graves and only a few markers can tell you this is where 18 American and British World War II victims are buried, north of the Arctic Circle here and so very far from home.

The little cemetery, for merchant seamen killed bringing supplies to Russia, has the same blue picket fences edged by berry crusted bushes as when I first visited Murmansk in April, 1960.

But the view is different now from the cemetery on the hill overlooking this city, 1,400 miles north of Moscow on the Barents Sea.

Rows of prefabricated apartments and shops are mushrooming up the once barren hills toward the cemetery and more factory smokestacks have been added to the horizon.

The largest city in the world above the Arctic Circle has become larger. In 1960 it had 230,000 souls. Now the population is 270,000 with 700,000 claimed for the entire Murmansk region on the Kola Peninsula.

Some Murmanskers are Somis and Komis, ethnic groups similar to Laplanders. Most are Russians, lured to the boom city by bonuses as high as 40 per cent of salaries, 10 days extra vacation and a base salary 10 per cent higher than usual.

BIGGEST ARCTIC POST

The Soviet planners are pumping investment into Murmansk because its port, the biggest Arctic port, is kept ice-free the year round by the warm gulf stream. The harbor bustles with fish canneries, as Murmansk is one of the biggest Soviet fishing ports, and electronic cranes loading 1,000 tons of fish, fertilizer and iron ore each hour.

The Murmansk I saw in 1960 looked like a gold rush Alaskan town with wooden houses and muddy streets. Now more streets are paved.

When this young city sprouted in 1918 on the treeless tundra, wood had to be hauled from Archangel to build houses. Stone buildings didn't appear until the 1930s. Now a prefab housing factory grinds out those same apartment houses that are bringing modern conveniences like a drab barracks effect to the Soviet Union.

A theater with tall gray columns has been built. There is also a new football stadium, used as a vast skating rink during the winter, and a hockey stadium where Murmansk hopes to stage winter sports festivals complete with reindeer races.

A modest new hotel has modern furniture and a curious lobby of corrugated plastic in yellow and red. A 32 "polar" department store, hospital, music college, library, schools, shops, cafes and restaurants have also changed the city.

I saw two horse-drawn sleds on the streets. But there are automobiles now and new and jammed trolley buses.

It is easy to understand why workers want bonuses to move here. Murmansk is a city of near darkness. Fifty-eight days of the year have no daylight. In November, dawn brings a pale Arctic light about 10 a.m. Sunrise turns the snowy hills pink about 1 p.m. and sunset comes two hours later. It's twilight by 3 and dark by 4.

For a city of 270,000 Murmansk has an appalling lack of public facilities. Sailors from the 300 foreign ships which dock here annually are out on the town every night. Many fill the Seamen's Club, and two more 12-room clubs will be built to provide housing and entertainment.

NO DINING ROOM

Murmansk has only two passable hotels, and the new one, the Severnaya, has no dining room. So the Arctica Hotel is gay every night with fellows in unruly hair and ski sweaters and girls in beehive hairdos. By 8 o'clock the doors are locked because the tables are filled for the evening. By 9 the place is so lively, between the vodka and the so-called jazz orchestra, that you expect to see chairs starting to fly. Dancing was banned long ago and any couples who try are hustled to their seats.

Amiable drunks wander to foreigner's tables, asking where they're from. Perhaps it's the 50 degree below zero weather or the long nights, but Murmansk has overfulfilled its production quota of inebriates.

The quieter young set prefers the new youth cafe. Waitresses keep out lurching celebrators and a permanent chess table stands in the foyer.

Murmansk is not accustomed to foreign tourists. You can't find a postcard or souvenir to show for the 36-hour train ride up here from Moscow past miles of pine and birch forests, frozen lakes and log cabin villages.

Junior Editors Quiz on TOY DOGS

QUESTION: Is it true that toy dogs originated in China?

ANSWER: Most breeds of dogs were developed to help their human masters in various forms of hunting, such as the beagles, hounds, setters, pointers and so on.

But, at an early time, men discovered how much pleasure could be derived from breeding and raising dogs purely as pets.

Small dogs were more practical to keep inside a house, and so came the cultivation of the toy breeds.

Ancient China had a large part in this development. The most striking of toy dogs, the Pekingese, was bred in the royal Chinese court to typify a regal appearance.

The tiny Pekingese, some so small as to be carried inside a Chinese sleeve, still bear themselves with pride, being very intelligent and quite aggressive.

The Chinese also developed the larger chow-chow and the pug dog, as well as a hairless breed of dog said to have been carried by sailors to Mexico, and now called the Mexican hairless dog (1).

China, however, cannot claim all the toy breeds. England developed the toy spaniel; Italy, a miniature greyhound; Germany, several toy breeds.

The tiny Chihuahua (2), toy among toys, originated in Mexico.

FOR YOU TO DO: Many of you may possibly feel that a toy dog is not as much of a dog as a big one. Find someone who has a toy dog and pay a visit. You will find that although the little fellows may weigh less, they are just as protective, affectionate and doglike as the big ones.

Waterford to Get Test at PCH Tonight

Hopes to Become Two-Sport Champ

Ron Rothbarth, a scratch bowler and a par golfer, would like nothing more than to be the first person to hold the city championships in both sports.

In Sunday's first qualifying round of the Pontiac City Bowling championships, Rothbarth gave Huron Bowl's lanes a good taming with his 200-252-210-711 series.

It was the second time this young bowling season that he has gone over 700. He had a 717 series several weeks ago.

Bowling and golf have been Rothbarth's two favorite sports since his days as a Pontiac Central student.

"The only variety letter I ever won at Central was in golf. I started playing and caddy at Pine Lake when I was 16," he said, "and at 17 I started bowling quite a bit."

He wouldn't say which of the two sports he liked the best but he commented, "I love the outdoors and in the summer I think golf is the greatest. But when the indoor sports season rolls around I love to bowl a few times a week."

MANY HONORS

Rothbarth has had his share of honors in both sports. In 1961, he and Earl Kindra, a friend from Detroit took second place in the doubles event of the ABC in St. Paul. They finished with 1,330 pins while the champs that year were four pins better at 1,334.

In 1956 he won the city golf championship at Municipal course and through the years has taken numerous other titles on the links in the area.

He's had 299 and 297 games in bowling and has been down to 65 in golf, but the two big goals for a golfer and a bowler have avoided him.

"I'd like to get a hole-in-one and a 200 game in one year and I'd be content for life as my participation in both sports," he said.

A 25-year employee at General Motors Truck, Rothbarth is a great booster of local golf and bowling events.

"I can't understand why all bowlers or golfers don't compete in local events and tournaments which are designed to suit them," he said, "there's a feeling of satisfaction in competing for anyone who really likes the sports."

"This city bowling tournament, just as The Press Bowl-rama was in the past, is good for all average bowlers, especially the 140 to 170 averages with the handicap advantage. If the bowlers who claim they like the sport would sit down, and analyze how good their chances are in a tournament like this, there would be 3,000 or 4,000 entries."

Rothbarth was among 86 who qualified Sunday to enter the semifinals Sunday morning Dec. 12, at Huron Bowl. Thursday night is the final deadline for qualifying next Sunday at 300 Bowl and Huron Bowl and the target score for "getting into the semifinals" is a 601 total.

CHANGE UNIFORMS — The New York Yankees yesterday traded shortstop Phil Linz (left) to the Philadelphia Phillies for infielder Ruben Amaro (center). Al Luplow, former Michigan State University football and baseball star, hopes to patrol the outfield for the New York Mets after being dealt by the Cleveland Indians for a minor league player and cash.

Dodgers, Twins May Stand Pat

PORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — The Los Angeles Dodgers and the Minnesota Twins, 1965 league champions, may be forced to stand pat during the annual baseball meetings.

There were no indications two days after the opening of the meetings that any of their challengers want to make any trades with the champions that might help them win successive pennants.

Trading already was underway between other clubs, however, with the New York Yankees swapping utilityman Phil Linz to the Philadelphia Phillies for shortstop Ruben Amaro, and the New York Mets buying Al Luplow, Cleveland outfielder, for a reported $30,000.

The Mets were expected to announce today they are sending outfielder Joe Christopher to the Boston Red Sox in exchange for shortstop Eddie Bressoud.

COMPLETE DEAL

The Mets also sent pitcher Tom Parsons to the Houston Astros to complete a previous deal for catcher Jerry Grote, and the California Angels signed veteran pitcher Lew Burdette.

Burdette, longtime Milwaukee star, has been a free agent since posting a 3-5 record with the Chicago Cubs and the Phillies last summer.

"Lew feels he can still pitch," said Bill Rigney, manager of the Angels. "Being new to the American League might give him a new lease on life."

Neither the Dodgers, World Series champions, nor the Twins took any players in Monday's draft of minor league prospects, although 23 players were picked by other American and National League teams.

The swap of Linz for Amaro highlighted Monday's activities. The list, with position, drafted by, and from, played in 1965, reads:

1st Col. infielder, Houston, Jack Sweeney, Cleveland, 374.
2nd Col. infielder, Houston, Columbus, Pittsburgh, 425.
3rd Col. infielder, Houston, Columbus, Pittsburgh, 425.
4th Col. infielder, Houston, Columbus, Pittsburgh, 425.

Notre Dame 11 Loses at Polls

By The Associated Press
Ten days ago Notre Dame battled Michigan State in what would have been the game for the national college football championship. Today, a lot of

Pontiac Swim Entries Show Well in AAU Meet

Bruce Featherstone, Carl Hiller and Steve Yedlin sparked the Pontiac Swim Club's strong showing in its fourth annual AAU Age Group and Open Thanksgiving Meet at the Pontiac Northern pool.

Pontiac's boys and girls finished fourth over-all with 145 points Saturday. The large Motor City Swim Club easily took first place with 348 points.

Among the other 28 teams entered, Garden City's Parks and Recreation squad was second with 254, the Northwest Stingrays of Detroit were third, 180, and Detroit's Bulldog Aquatic Club took fifth with 105.

In all, 750 swimmers entered the two-day meet, a record turnout for the local club's holiday meet. The swimmers weren't pushing each other to record times this early in the season, but the competition was close in many of the 66 (33 male, 33 female) events.

VERSATILE

Featherstone, a 12-year-old versatile performer, placed first in two backstroke, a butterfly and freestyle event. He received a fifth first place medal as a member of the PSC's winning 200-yard medley relay team for 11-12-year-olds.

Hiller and Yedlin are both key performers for the Pontiac Northern varsity team. They each took three firsts—including one apiece in the men's competition—and scored in two relay races.

Pontiac member John Mason, who is expected to help the Pontiac Central varsity as a sophomore, scored in five events. Ken Hughes, Bill Kimmins, Frank Yedlin and Jeff Bisanz also helped the PSC cause.

Among the girls, sisters Linda and Kathy Ebbert each scored individually and on relay teams with Carol Kotzian, Debbie Cort and Ellen Spink.

Rochester swimmer Erica Sawhill also placed in an event for 11-12-year-olds. She trains with the Pontiac team but is currently ineligible to compete as a member.

NAMED COACH—Dick McGuire, a longtime National Basketball Association basketball court star and former coach of the Detroit Pistons, was named coach of the New York Knickerbockers yesterday. He replaces Harry Gallatin who was fired.

NY Knicks Fail to Gallop; Oust 'Horse' as Coach

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Knickerbockers are conceding the only way to escape the National Basketball Association depths is at a gallop. As a result Harry (The Horse) Gallatin is out of a job for the second time in 11 months.

The Knicks, mired in the NBA's Eastern Division cellar for the sixth straight season, fired Gallatin—his coach for less than a year—Monday and named Dick McGuire, another former New York ace, to succeed him.

The unexpected coaching change was dictated by the Knicks' inability to win despite their acquisition of scoring stars Walt Bellamy and Dick Barnett in early-season trades and by Gallatin's apparent reluctance to utilize the team's speed in a free-wheeling, fast-break style of play.

City Vehicles Gain Attention in Flint Show

Pontiac sports car and motorcycle enthusiasts made a winning showing over the holiday weekend at the second annual Rod and Custom Sports Show at Flint's IMA building.

A double winner was Bob Burchmeier, a designer of special machines, who took first place in the Full Custom Sports Car class and was voted the Most Outstanding Custom Car award for his 1963 modified Stingray.

Post office employee Louis Zoch captured the historical restored excellence award with his German Zundapp World War II vintage motorcycle.

Zoch has shown the desert adapted machine—originally owned by General Rommel—at six shows this year and won six trophies.

Another motorcycle devotee, Ron Finch who runs a paint and custom shop, took second place awards with Honda and German BSA motorcycles in separate events.

Well-Traveled 'Caveman' Is Dead at 85

WHEELER, Tex. (AP) — Noble Chancey Myers, who lived in a cave much of his 85 years, died on a bed of burlap bags Monday, but he owned the bed and the 320 acres around it.

Myers, who said he had worked in Paris, watched battles in Spain and punched cattle on the pampas of the Argentine, returned to the cave on his half-section of land 12 miles north of this Panhandle town for at least a few months each year.

In another cave, friends found a metal box containing the title to Myers' land, a bankbook with a Wheeler bank showing a balance of $20,000, a will and other papers. Sheriff Bus Doran estimated value of the land at $40,000.

Myers' only living relative, Daisy Fuller of Oklahoma City, said her brother left home when he was 14 and took a job as a bronc rider for a Texas ranch.

DeGaulle Eyes Popularity Dip

Speech Set Tonight
After Look at Polls

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle, aware of public opinion polls showing his lead declining, changed his mind about remaining aloof from political activity in advance of Dec. 5 French national election. De Gaulle was recording a 15-minute television speech for prime time tonight. It will be repeated over radio tomorrow.

The 75-year-old President previously had planned only an election eve speech over television to France's 39 million eligible voters, but the polls showed his massive early lead slipping before the onslaught of five opposition candidates.

Gaullist forces were confident no single opposition foe could unseat the general, but they feared that a joint opposition total big enough to force him into a runoff would severely damage De Gaulle's prestige both at home and abroad.

According to the latest polls, De Gaulle's share of the vote dropped in one month from a high of 56 per cent to 57 per cent, then 51 per cent.

STRONG SPEECH

Editorial writers said today De Gaulle would be well advised to come up with a fiery speech tonight or see his share of the electorate drop below 50 per cent.

The opposition has been conducting an energetic grassroots campaign supplemented with television time. It has been based on the theme that De Gaulle is too elderly to warrant another seven years in the Elysee Palace.

The major anti-Gaullist candidates are centrist Jean Lecanuet, young and personable, and left wing candidate Francois Mitterrand.

As usual, de Gaulle's speech was recorded in the strictest secrecy so that his opponents could not prepare quick replies or even answer him in advance. Lecanuet, Mitterrand and a right-wing candidate Jean-Louis Tixier — Vignancour scheduled public rallies immediately after the de Gaulle broadcast.

Two Postal Unions

Will Vote on Merger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The national executive board of the United Federation of Postal Clerks, AFL-CIO, has approved a tentative agreement for a merger with the national postal union.

The postal union previously approved the agreement. Federation president E. C. Hallbeck said yesterday special conventions of the two unions will be held early next year to vote on ratification of the merger agreement. If approved, the merger will create the largest union in the government with more than 200,000 members.

New Economic Sanctions Adding to Hardships of Indonesians

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A new set of economic rules has heaped more hardships on the Indonesian people, already gripped in the vise of inflation.

The Indonesian economy was sick before the Communists and their allies tried to stage a coup Oct. 1. It is sicker now as the army chases Communists, and Chinese businessmen, fearful of being caught in the roundup, take to cover.

The common people are apprehensive as the cost of living skyrockets.

The price of rice, second quality, has reached 2,000 rupiahs per liter. In the last week of June, it was 310 rupiahs. This is a 677 per cent increase.

ESSENTIALS RISE

Other essential commodities have risen in the same proportion.

An unstable situation in trade circles resulted in a near panic among businessmen — notably Chinese, who are reported smuggling their capital abroad.

A presidential decree gave the government the right to seize control of key private enterprises.

The price of gasoline was increased along with railway and interland shipping fares.

NEWER POLICY

Finally, a new economic-financial policy for 1966 was decreed by President Sukarno.

This called for an austerity program in development projects but stipulated that spending would be continued on Sukarno's political and prestige enterprises.

The policy put all imports and exports under increased government control.

The new policies were issued either by Sukarno or by his civilian aides apparently without the consent of the army, which has been virtually ruling the country since the attempted coup.

CLAIM DIVERSION

Army-controlled newspapers and sympathizers said the new economic rules were issued to divert the people from the anti-Communism campaign.

Supporters of the military fear that the army may be blamed for the deteriorating economic conditions.

Sukarno wants the Communist movement to be kept so that his concept of "Nasakom" remains alive. "Nasakom" calls for co-operation between nationalist, religious and Communist groups. Sukarno said it was not necessary that the PKI — the initials of the Indonesian Communist party — represent the Communists on "Nasakom."

The military has been posed to the Communists in any form. Last week, the defense minister and chief of staff of the armed forces, Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, said in effect that the military is not anti-Communist but anti-PKI.

Political quarters say that time is on Sukarno's side. Sukarno apparently feels that with time he may regain the full powers that he partly lost to the military after the attempted coup.

Each year about 30 children under the age of six are suffocated in refrigerators.

State Man Is Charged in Fatal Fire

Clear and Cold Prevalent Across Most of Nation

By The Associated Press

There were a few wet spots but clear and cold weather prevailed across the major part of the nation today.

Temperatures dropped below zero in the Dakotas and Minnesota, and the freezing line extended deep into the Southland.

Heavy snow covered areas in the Northeast. Snow flurries continued from the Great Lakes region to the Appalachians and snow fell along the eastern shores of the lower Great Lakes. Snow squalls dumped two feet of snow at Conneaut, Ohio, and heavy snow was reported in much of northeastern Pennsylvania. In New York State, a foot of snow was on the ground in western areas and 16 inches in the north central region.

HARD FREEZE

The Weather Bureau issued warnings of a hard freeze to night in Arkansas, northern Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky.

Light rain fell during the night and early morning in western Washington and in parts of Florida. Gale warnings were posted for the Northwest coast as a new Pacific storm approached the region. Rain was indicated in the north Pacific Coast and also along the south Atlantic Coast.

SHARED HOUSE

Mrs. Hampton, whom the defendant said he married last summer, and her six children shared the house with Mrs. Erma Bowie, 23, and the latter's three children.

Police said Hampton came to the house early Monday and was told by Mrs. Bowie and her children that Hampton was at work.

Mrs. Hampton was at work when Hampton then went into the bedroom, where there was no electric fixture, and lighted a candle. The candle lit and the house was filled with smoke.

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) —

The conference of 19 American republics ends today after laying the groundwork for a sweeping overhaul of the inter-American system.

Chief U.S. delegate W. Averell Harriman said the meeting was "of historical significance."

He said its most significant action was a proposal to incorporate into the charter of the Organization of American States the social and economic principles of the Alliance for Progress.

The conference early today approved by acclamation an "Economic and Social Act of Rio de Janeiro" containing a series of proposed amendments to the OAS charter. It is a companion to political recommendations approved Sunday.

Both will be submitted to another conference in Buenos Aires next July for incorporation into the OAS charter.

PROVIDES BLUEPRINT

The act states that "it is essential to incorporate into the economic and social field of the inter-American system as a jurisdictional binding, principles of mutual security, solidarity, cooperation and assistance."

The act provides a blueprint for a great society for Latin America.

It calls for more equitable distribution and better use of land, better cities, stable prices and an end to inflation, fair prices and access to markets for exporters, reduction in barriers to trade, and economic integration of the hemisphere by the foreign ministers in July.

other conference in Buenos with a Latin-American common market as the goal.

For the first time the more developed nations of the hemisphere will have a binding obligation to aid their less advanced neighbors.

ECONOMIC POLICY

The act also calls on all OAS members to refrain from carrying out any economic policy likely to affect another member adversely.

The act urges joint action to beat down barriers against Latin American products abroad.

The next hurdle for the proposals in the act will be a conference in Panama early next year at which amendments to the 17-year-old OAS charter will be drafted. If these are adopted, integration of the hemisphere by the foreign ministers in July.

they will be submitted to the legislatures of the OAS nations for ratification.

The political proposals approved Sunday are designed to strengthen the OAS machinery. They include annual inter-American meetings and creation of political, economic and social, and educational and cultural councils for the organization.

To Boost Fire Control

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) —

Kelso Roberts, Canada's minister of lands and forests, told a major turning point in hemisphere relations. They say that by agreeing on the need for re-forests on a visit here Monday, he said the plans for fire control system to protect the day. He said the plans for delegates took a step toward a stronger organization.

Ask Conspiracy Warrants on 3 Loan Firms, 2 Execs

DETROIT (UPI) — Conspiracy warrants were asked yesterday against three Detroit loan companies and two of their executives by the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office.

William P. Long, chief of the prosecutor's criminal fraud division, said the specific warrants were asked on the complaint of one couple who were charged $4,500 for a $2,000 loan.

However, Long said, at least nine other persons have been allegedly defrauded.

The loan companies included:

Loan by Phone Systems, Inc., Bonafide Improvement and Investment Co., and American Acceptance Corp. Warrants also were asked against Lawrence Crantz of suburban Southfield, president of Loan by Phone and Bonafide, and Marvin Simon, treasurer of Oak Park, secretary-treasurer of American Acceptance.

The charges detailed by Long include conspiracy to cheat and defraud, conspiracy to fraudulently obtain signatures to notes, mortgages and contracts and conspiracy to violate real estate licensing laws.

Detroit Police were waiting for Crantz and Simon to surrender today.

Drive to Split California Has New Strength

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — A well-financed drive to split California, the nation's most populous state, into two separate states was progressing today.

The proposed plan would split the state at a point north of Los Angeles along the Tehachapi Mountains — roughly from Santa Barbara due east to the Nevada border.

The controversial plan gained momentum yesterday with the filing of articles of incorporation for "Founders of the States of California."

A two-state group is headed by State Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, who filed a bill last year to divide the state.

Dolwig's plan actually passed the state senate, but was dealt a quick death by an assembly committee.

The two-California organization argued yesterday that court-ordered reapportionment of the state legislature had thrown control to California's urban areas and had created a "breakdown in checks and balances."

Charles M. Kearns Jr., president of United Aircraft's systems center at Farmington, Conn., said the trains could reduce travel time on existing tracks between New York and Washington from four hours and 15 minutes to three hours and 35 minutes.

Unveil Plans for Jet Train

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — The United Aircraft Corp. unveiled plans today for a jet-propelled train which is said to provide faster and more comfortable service at a smaller cost than conventional trains.

The company briefed Gov. John N. Dempsey on the futuristic train in connection with the Connecticut Transportation Authority's plan to provide high-speed travel for the New Haven Railroad between Hartford and New York.

The train's basic power unit would be a modified 50-passenger car powered by two-to-four gas turbine engines, a modified form of engines used to propel aircraft.

Depending on the size of the train and the number of power plants, they could travel from 120 to 160 miles an hour on tracks now used by diesel locomotives. With improved signal devices, the trains could go faster in the firm said.

Coroner Plan Cost to Hamlin

An outline of the financial problems stemming from a proposed new coroner system will be presented for review to Oakland County Board of Supervisors' Chairman Delos Hamlin.

Sen. Sander M. Levin, D-Berkley, said today that he hopes to contact Hamlin to discuss the matter and review information he received yesterday at meetings with Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson and Health Director Dr. Bernard Berman.

"Both were very helpful to me in formulating an opinion," said Levin.

"But there are budgetary items that must be considered since the proposals call for a full-time, trained pathologist and a morgue," Levin said.

The meetings held separately with Bronson and Berman lasted about two hours each.

The present coroner's system has been criticized a number of times by Bronson, most recently following the accidental deaths of three patients at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. Her first suggested possible new legislation earlier this year.

Quiz Radio Operator From Sunken Liner

MIAMI (UPI) — A board of inquiry called the radio operator of the Yarmouth Castle today for testimony regarding efforts to send an SOS from the ill-fated pleasure liner as it burned in the Atlantic.

Apparently no distress signal was received from the vessel, which sank Nov. 13 with the loss of 89 lives after burning for more than five hours.

Cost Guard officers were expected to ask detailed questions of Alphonse Martines, the Yarmouth Castle's radio operator, when he appeared as the board's main witness today.

Capt. Byron Voutsinas, master of the vessel, testified before the board last week no radio distress call was made because the radio shack was burning. An effort was made to signal nearby ships with blinker and flare, he said.

During testimony yesterday, Chief Engineer George Vazos backed Voutsinas' statement that the captain was the last man to leave the flaming ship, although he had left the vessel earlier aboard a life boat.

'CAPTAIN LAST'

Vazos repeated there were no other passengers aboard when he and the captain rowed away from the sinking ship.

Vazos said an unidentified ship's cleaner reported to him about 12:30 a.m. There was a fire in room 618. The room was vacant because it was last for passengers, he said.

It was located above the galleys and had no furniture in it.

The engineer said he rushed to the room and when he opened the door saw a little smoke, and strange colored flames.

"It was not like wood burning, which has a dark color. This was clear and very bright. It was sort of like liquid burning. I can't say exactly. It was not like oil."

Efforts to fight the fire with water through hoses and the ship's sprinkler system failed, the engineer said, and he and the captain began evacuating the passengers.

Snow Tracks Prove Suspects' Downfall

Fresh snow tracks played an integral part in leading Waterford Township Police to two suspects early this morning after a coin box at the So-Spa Car Wash, 6890 Cooley Lake, had been tampered with.

Police followed the tracks to a nearby home, finding two 16-year-olds fitting the description given by James Easton, 2028 Hemlock, West Bloomfield Township.

Easton spotted two youths attempting to open the coin box while driving on Cooley Lake Road and immediately notified police.

Police are continuing their investigation.

Bobby Stalled at Brazil Port

Plane Engine Fails Above 'Green Hell'

MANAUS, Brazil (UPI) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., his wife, Ethel, and the party of 24 accompanying them on a Latin American tour were stranded overnight in this jungle outpost by airplane engine trouble.

One of four engines on the chartered Brazilian airliner carrying the party cut out half an hour after the plane had taken off on what was to have been a nonstop flight to Caracas.

The party returned here to await the arrival of another plane from Rio de Janeiro.

The airplane engine failed over the "Green Hell" jungles of the Amazon, a vast and virtually trackless area extending from the Andes to the Atlantic in which there are only two radio beacons to guide pilots.

Manaus is a river port deep in the Amazon jungles. The Kennedy party spent the weekend here, relaxing from a stringent schedule of activities in the four Latin American countries the Senator has visited.

CUTS STAY SHORT

Kennedy's stay in Venezuela, originally scheduled to last three days, was reduced to two hours, including a stopover in the iron-mining center of Puerto Ordaz and then to 18 hours in Caracas alone. The Senator had planned to return to the United States today.

It was not certain immediately how long Kennedy now plans to spend in Caracas. It may be that he will stop over only long enough to refuel the plane and talk briefly with President Raul Leoni.

He was to have met the President at 8 a.m. today, two hours before the scheduled hour of his departure for New York.

Snow Spreads Over Britain

LONDON (AP) — More heavy snow spread over Scotland and England today, piling up in massive drifts and bringing floods to the low sections of the Midlands.

Gales in the Irish Sea and the English Channel kept the Liverpool-Dublin ferry in port and stopped flights between London and the Channel Islands.

At Elstead, south of London, high winds blew down a 60-foot cedar tree in actor Peter Sellers' garden.

Police in Yorkshire struggled through 14-foot drifts to get in insulin to an 18-year-old diabetic girl stranded for three days in a country inn.

Lifetime Collection of Movies Proving a Big Profit Maker

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When movie and television producers need shots of a sea gull, a shipwreck or a sunset, they call Elmer Dyer.

You name it and Elmer is likely to have it among the million feet of film contained in his library of unique movie library.

They don't have it, he will go out and shoot it.

Dyer has been making movies for 53 years, and he has lost none of his enthusiasm for film. I dropped by his library one stormy day and found him contemplating a visit to the ocean.

"There ought to be some big waves up today," he mused. "Should make some great shots."

STACKS OF FILM

The Dyer place is stacked to the ceiling with cans of film he has taken in his lifetime. They are arranged as to subject: birds, flowers and fruits, foot ball, ambulances, snow, etc. But it is obvious that most of the cataloging is inside the canny film maker's head.

over at 'Petico Junction,'" he told an assistant. "I think you'll find a signal flare in the fire-works I shot at the Rose Bowl."

Dyer started in the movie business for Universal in 1912 and worked for most of the studios over the years in filming background and aerial shots, notably "Hells Angels" for Howard Hughes. The idea for a library came out of his hobby of collecting films of old aircraft.

"I must have six or seven thousand feet of old airplanes, including some 1904 shots of the Wright brothers," said Dyer. "Cutters would hear about the film and ask if they could buy some of it to use in movies."

FOUND WORK

After three years in the Air Force during World War II, Dyer found he could work in the studio. Television was then an upstart, and the major studios wouldn't sell any stock footage to television film makers. Dyer saw a chance to service them from his own library. He has added to his collection on trips and locations. During the last 20 years, he has shot only in color; his foresight is now paying off in the era of tinted television.

"I have filmed every major city in the United States," said Dyer. "I have 125 reels on New York alone. Some of it is obsolete because of new buildings. But most of the establishing shots — Central Park, the Battery, the Statue of Liberty — don't age."

"My shot of the Prometheus statue in Rockefeller Center has been used dozens of times."

Dyer figures he can fill eight out of ten requests or stock footage. He demonstrated the encyclopedic nature of the collection when his aide reported a "Peyton Place" wanted a shot of a 1958 convertible Ford at night.

"I've got one — if they can use a Thunderbird," he replied.

Released Gls Praise Cong

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Two American soldiers released by the Viet Cong said today they had been well treated during their two years of captivity.

Spec. 5 Claude E. McClure, 25, of Chattanooga, Tenn., said his captors cared for his wounds, shared their food with him and allowed him mail from his family and Red Cross packages.

"Had it been the Saigon government I would have been tortured," said McClure. Sgt. George E. Smith of Chester, W.Va., said he believed his liberation was "the direct result of protests in America against U.S. involvement in the Viet Nam war."

The Viet Cong in announcing their release Saturday said they were being freed to show good will toward Americans opposing the war.

The soldiers appeared at a news conference arranged by the Cambodian information minister.

"I have known both sides," said Smith, and the war in Viet Nam is of no interest to the United States.

Industrywide Bargaining Will Be Continued --- Abel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big Steelworkers Union, ready to quit industrywide bargaining after the recent contract settlement "suggested" by President Johnson, has changed its mind. The decision to stick with the long tradition of bargaining in concert with the Big 10 steel companies apparently settles a sharp internal division within the million-member AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union.

Union President I. W. Abel, who unseated long time Steelworkers chief David J. McDonald in the midst of the recent steel crisis, made it clear the union will continue its 10-year system of negotiating with the major companies that represent 80 per cent of the nation's steel production.

"The record shows that our FILM LIBRARY — When movie and television producers need shots of almost anything they can't get readily themselves, they call Elmer Dyer. If he doesn't have it, he'll go out and get it. He has been shooting movies for 53 years, using color the last 20.

At a secret policy meeting, the top union leaders at the time, Steelworkers Vice President Joseph Maloney, with Abel also present, said, "Next time we'll take them (the companies) on one at a time and beat hell out of them."

The Teamsters union, which has the power to halt most of the nation's trucking, has for many years used to good effect the "falling-domino" theory of negotiations, in which one big company at a time is picked off without creating a national crisis and government intervention.

NOT SHARED

But Abel, in tracing the history of steel bargaining, said that "I don't share this great concern" about crisis bargaining. Abel spoke to a collective bargaining conference being held here by the AFL-CIO Chemical Workers Union.

A Steelworkers spokesman confirmed it was Abel's first public reaffirmation of industrywide steel negotiations.

Firm Smoking Ban 'Kicked' in 4 Hours

DENVER (UPI) — Jesse Shawnyder's ban against smoking in any part of the Samsonite Corp. plant, including parking lots and rest rooms, lasted just about four hours yesterday.

Shawnyder, chairman of the corporation and a nonsmoker, said he instituted the no smoking rule because he was concerned about the health of his employees.

But they put up such a protest, including a union grievance, that he rescinded it because of "my great concern for the viewpoint as well as the welfare of my employees."

Man 'Dyes for Job, Not for a Woman, Psychiatrist Says

NEW YORK (AP) — A man will dye, dye, dye for his job, but not for the woman next door, a psychiatrist says.

Sales of men's hair coloring products have boomed 73.3 per cent this year, the biggest jump in the men's toiletries field. Barbers report a big business in touching up the gray.

One manufacturer, L'Oreal of Paris, has developed a line of 12 shades of coloring. Clairol, which made hair coloring for women socially acceptable, is entering the field, advertising: "Does he or doesn't he? Hair coloring so natural only his barber can tell for sure."

JOB WORRIES

Dr. W. G. Eliasberg, a psychiatrist and author, says older men color their hair because they are afraid of losing their jobs to younger men, not because they want to enhance their sex appeal.

"Some men make sex their career. On the whole, these are the real extremists," he said.

What the hair coloring industry is built on, he said, is the man who is concerned about his career.

"It is a matter of economics," Eliasberg said. "You must not look 40 if you still want to be promoted. So if you have the bad luck to lose your hair or have it turn gray, you cover up."

PREJUDICES FALL

Eliasberg, who has a full shock of white hair, said in an interview that prejudices against wigs, wigs, hair spray and coloring have fallen. "There is a trend for both sexes toward rejuvenation, to appear younger than you have the misfortune of being," Eliasberg said. "You have to appear youthful. Everyone who is in that boat does it."

"All these people live under the same pressures of rejuvenation. They are 40 to 45, the economic pressures are increasing. Their central motive is to keep young, and if not to be young, to appear young."

"It increases their security and makes them feel they are not too old for promotion," he said.

"Sex enters very infrequently. A man that age is domesticated to such an extent that only occasionally will he want to flirt with his neighbor's wife."

"But with women, it is different. They are worried about their appeal," he said.

Ohio Plans Pollution Monitors

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio plans to install a system of water quality monitoring stations on every major tributary of Lake Erie as part of its war on water pollution, Gov. James A. Rhodes said Monday night.

The governor told the Great Lakes Commission's annual meeting that the monitoring program will be carried out with the cooperation of the United States Geological Survey.

Nine stations are scheduled to be put into operation this year, he said, with the first to be installed soon on the Black River in Elyria. Others are scheduled for near Fremont, High, Defiance (2), Cleves, Athens, Painesville, and Toledo.

Rhodes said the stations will "maintain a 24-hour vigil" to detect pollution and measure improvements in water quality.

FIRST FULL DAY

Representatives of eight Great Lakes states were on hand for the first full day of the commission's meeting.

Nearly 12 delegates from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin attended meetings of the commission's five standing committees.

Giant Carrier Leaves Manila

N-Powered Vessel Will Join Viet Fleet

MANILA (AP) — The $5,000-ton Enterprise, the world's largest aircraft carrier, entered the South China Sea today for the first combat patrol ever undertaken by a nuclear-powered surface ship.

The Enterprise sailed from the U.S. naval base at Subic Bay late Monday or early today and set a westerly course to join units of the 7th Fleet operating against the Communists in Viet Nam.

The giant ship's movements are classified, and a Navy spokesman would only say the Enterprise is "no longer in Subic Bay." However, the Navy had announced earlier that the "Big E" would be assigned to a station in the South China Sea with the 7th Fleet.

The Enterprise and her escorting nuclear-powered guided missile frigate, the Bainbridge, have been assigned indefinitely to Pacific waters. Two more nuclear-powered surface ships will join them early next year.

SECURITY CLOAK

The Enterprise entered Subic Bay Nov. 27 for supplies and to give her crew a few days rest after the Pacific crossing from California. During the stay in Subic Bay, the Navy kept the carrier under security wraps and barred all but official visitors.

The Navy spokesman said that in keeping with policy concerning ship movements, no further announcements concerning the Enterprise could be expected for some time.

Clock and watchmaking first took shape as an art in Germany.

OSO Satellite Is Shut Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency has shut down one of its most widely traveled satellites — the sun-seeking OSO-2, which made 4,100 orbits around the earth.

Equipped to gather data about the sun, the OSO-2 relayed 2.2 million bits of information back to earth on each orbit. The satellite, launched Feb. 3, exceeded its life expectancy by more than 50 per cent.

It was shut down because it had depleted its gas supply for position control that enabled National Aeronautics and Space Administration researchers to keep it pointed at the sun.

NATO-Warsaw Pact Accord Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A non-aggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Soviet-led Warsaw Treaty Organization was proposed today to the White House Conference on International Cooperation.

Luci Bidding Adieu to Pets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lucie Boris and Natasha — a fond farewells today to six of the White House's growing litter of hamsters.

The master babies, the first progeny of Boris and Natasha, Lucie's pets, are being given away to youngsters across the nation who wrote the President's 18-year-old daughter asking for them.

Nine-year-old Cathy Gaus of Somerville, N. J., who has a sister Cathy, 7, and a brother Wally, 2, who "bites," told Lucie she was "glad to hear that you like hamsters and have so many babies . . . please could I buy a baby of yours? Here is two dimes as a deposit."

Lucie returned the two dimes and, after obtaining an Okay from Cathy's mother, dispatched the first of the hamsters to the little girl.

Lucie received more than 100 letters from children and teachers asking for one of her pets. The choice of who was to get the hamsters was "terribly difficult," according to her press aide, Mrs. Martha Ross.

Besides Cathy, the others chosen were:

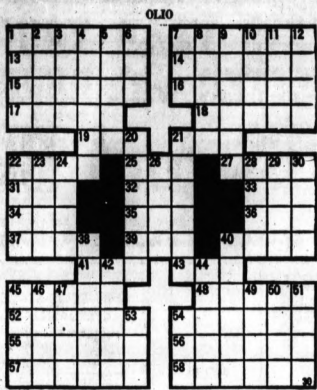

The kindergarten class at Philadelphia's Springdale School ("May we have one? Will you let us know so we don't buy a mouse?"); the primary special education class at the Post School, Battle Creek, Mich.; the third grade at Sims Elementary School, Austin, Tex.; Andrew Bassis, 7, of San Rafael, Calif. ("Could you give me a girl because I would like to name it after you?"); and Linda Reid, 12, of Glenview, Ill. ("I am fond of animals and would like to be a veterinarian when I grow up.")

NATO-Warsaw Pact Accord Proposed

The conference's Committee on Arms Control and Disarmament, which made the suggestion in a report, also said that in the long run Communism China will have to be included in any system for international security and disarmament. But it added that "the long run can be very long."

The committee reported to the conference, which was called by President Johnson in support of the United Nations' International Year of Cooperation. The report was submitted for discussion along with other conference papers concerned with keeping the peace.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told the conference's system for international security and disarmament. But it added that "the long run can be very long."

COMMITTEE HEAD

The disarmament committee is headed by Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, a former presidential science adviser and present dean at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The committee said an agreement between the rival military alliances in Europe would recognize "that the situation in central Europe — including the situation in Berlin — can be changed only by mutual consent, not by force."

The committee also argued that the United States need not wait for better relations with mainland China before seeking agreements with the Russians on such things as reducing strategic forces or freezing nuclear stocks.

For years to come, the report said, such agreements could be "safely implemented while the Chinese continue their efforts to develop their own nuclear force."

But the committee said the United States should try to open bilateral talks with China on arms control, find out the conditions under which China might qualify for and accept the responsibility of U.N. membership, and support efforts to bring the big Communist country into a disarmament conference.

A conference Committee on International Law recommended that the United States drop an existing limitation on its acceptance of the jurisdiction of the World Court. Under the so-called Connolly Amendment, which the committee recommended deleting, the United States itself determines which matters are essentially domestic and therefore outside the purview of the International Court.

Housewife Slices 42-Cent Cake, Finds Diamond

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Jean Smiley, a housewife in western Australia, cut her daughter a slice of date cake she had bought at a chain store for 42 cents.

She noticed a sparkle in it. It was a diamond ring.

She told newsmen about it and now the ring is on its way back to a girl in Perth whose fiancé is at sea with the Australian navy.

The girl, Marilyn Carter, works in the bakery where the cake was baked. She had taken off her engagement ring and another ring her fiancé gave her and put them under a cup for safety.

"I'm hoping the other ring will also turn up in a cake," Marilyn said.

'Divorces Can Be Fun' Is Note of Tony-Sandy Split

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Tony Bennett and his wife "Sandy," whom he met when she was head of one of his fan clubs, will divorce very soon . . . after several separations and reconciliations.

It's to be a "pleasant divorce" — if there is such a thing. They spent Thanksgiving together with their two children, but he left their home in Tenafly, N.Y., for the Hotel Warwick in N.Y.

Paul Anka's as great a crowd-pleaser as Frank Sinatra at the Copacabana . . . he sang for an hour and a half at his opening . . . French, Spanish, Italian, rock 'n' roll . . . and got two teen-age girls and a boy about 10 up to dance (the boy stood on a chair).

"You're the swingin'est bunch of old-timers I ever heard," Paul said, tearing off his tie and winking at the kids' rehearsal. Boss Jules Podell — not ordinarily so demonstrative — got off his chair to thank him.

Comedian Norm Crosby, now top rank, offered several truisms: "One good turn gets most of the blanket" . . . "Teen-agers are really getting out of hand. They drive 90 miles an hour on the thruway . . . holding hands and smooching . . . in different cars . . . going opposite directions."

Phyllis Diller surprised the management of the Miami Beach Deauville by insisting on choosing her own opening act for her engagement starting Feb. 11. She picked her husband, actor Ward Donovan, a fine singer.

"Lingerie and fashion shows" are now popular cocktail hour attractions at the pub. I dropped "Dudes & Dolls" and found the willow mode in nightgowns appreciated by 80 guys . . . and one girl. (You see who's interested in lingerie fashions).

Monte Prosser says he invented the "Cool Girls" name at the Copacabana some 23 years ago, and he seriously doubts the authenticity of stories saying Jack Entratter, now president of the Las Vegas Sands, swears he did it.

"Richard Rodgers and I are writing a show together," Allan Sherman happily informed Hugh Shannan at L'Intrigue. All that, Rodgers & Sherman? . . . Dick Gregory dedicates his new book, "What's Happening" to Beany Dunn, publisher of the Chicago Playboy Club, where Dick started, and to EW here, one of his early fans. (Just call me Star-Maker).

"One good thing about a career in Show Business," says Ruth Buzzi at Upstairs at the Downstairs, "is that nobody's hoping you fail except all your best friends" . . . That's earl, brother.

U.S. Bombs Having Little, if Any, Effect on N. Viet

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — On the basis of Pentagon-stated objectives, the U.S. air war against North Viet Nam is far from a success after nearly 10 months.

Based on the same announced goals, there are some elements of failure.

These views are the consensus in discussions with a wide range of qualified sources within and outside the U.S. government, and are supported in a study of other information available from the government.

A main objective of the bombings, which began last Feb. 7, was to cut down the flow of North Vietnamese soldiers and supplies into South Viet Nam.

The evidence, chiefly the government's own figures, shows that, despite heavy battle losses, Communist forces in South Viet Nam are stronger in numbers than ever before.

And U.S. officials believe the enemy has the capability of moving up to four more divisions into South Viet Nam over the next six months.

Another major announced goal of the bombing was to prod the North Vietnamese into halting their support of the Red aggression in the south. Hanoi's chiefs seem more defiant than ever.

Indications point to intensified U.S. bombing in the north around the clock.

This probably will mean a marked rise in the number of jet combat sorties, now averaging about 600 a week.

It also undoubtedly will mean more U.S. air losses. So far, 149 U.S. planes have been downed.

The bombing targets are likely to remain essentially the same — mostly bridges, roads, railroads and ferries along the lines of communication leading through North Viet Nam.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara almost certainly would dispute any conclusion that the limited air war has been a failure.

AEC Team Is Inspecting, 2nd Proposed State A-Site

ANN ARBOR (AP) — An Atomic Energy Commission inspection team yesterday took a look at one of two possible Michigan sites for an ultrasophisticated atomic research tool, a proton accelerator.

Today, the 5-man group will inspect the other suggested Michigan site at the surplus Fort Custer military reservation. Altogether, locations in 43 states are being considered.

The huge, mile-wide complex will cost more than $300-million and will be the largest of its kind in the world.

Dr. George Kavanagh, deputy general manager for research and development of the AEC, who heads the team, described the Ann Arbor site as "reasonable."

He cautioned that "We're not making any final evaluation ourselves."

NORTHFIELD TWP.
The site inspected yesterday consists of 3,840 acres of farmland in Northfield Township near Whitmore Lake.

The inspectors will have lunch with Gov. George Romney before viewing the 3,000-acre Fort Custer location.

Seven other teams are currently inspecting the other sites.

Their reports will be evaluated by the National Academy of Sciences, which will recommend several sites. The AEC will then base its final decision — expected in about six months — on that recommendation.

FBI Informant Likely Witness in Liuzzo Case

Government Lawyers Attempting to Prove Conspiracy in Killing

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Top government attorneys—trying to prove conspiracy in the shooting of Viola Gregg Liuzzo — were expected to bring an FBI informant into court today.

Asst. Atty. Gen. John Doar of the Justice Department's civil rights division declined to say definitely, however, whether he would call Gary Thomas Rowe Jr.

He did indicate Rowe, a paid FBI informer for five years, would testify in the trial of three Ku Klux Klansmen.

The Klansmen went on trial yesterday on charges of violating the civil rights of Mrs. Liuzzo, a white Detroit housewife, who was shot to death March 25.

Mrs. Liuzzo, mother of five, was shuttling demonstrators from Montgomery to Selma after the civil rights march last spring when she was killed.

ON TRIAL
The Klansmen on trial are Collier Leroy Wilkins Jr., 22, of Fairfield, Ala., and Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala. They are defended by former Mayor Art Hanes of Birmingham.

The trio was indicted on state murder charges in addition to the federal charge. Only Wilkins has been tried in state court, however, and he was acquitted by an all-white jury at nearby Hayneville.

Eaton and Thomas are scheduled to be tried on the murder indictments next spring.

The federal indictment — which carries a maximum of 10 years in prison and a fine of $5,000 — does not mention the name of Mrs. Liuzzo, wife of Anthony Liuzzo, a Teamsters Union official.

The Klansmen are being tried in the court of U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Johnson Jr., whose ruling last spring allowed the march to Montgomery on grounds that demonstrators had a right to protest in that form.

The government claims Mrs. Liuzzo's right of protest was violated.

Official's Son Named Aide by Seeterlin

Oakland County Treasurer James E. Seeterlin yesterday appointed Shane F. Murphy, son of County Clerk-Register John D. Murphy, as deputy treasurer.

The post was vacated by Theodore Koella, who resigned Nov. 1 to become assignment clerk at Oakland County Circuit Court.

Murphy, 23, will receive a starting salary of $8,000 per year in the third-ranking position in the treasurer's department.

Beginning next Jan. 1, however, the minimum salary for the post will increase to $8,500 with a maximum of $9,400.

Murphy is a 1959 graduate of the University of Detroit High School. He served in the Army from 1961 to 1964 and since has worked as an assembler and press operator for a metal products firm.

The new appointee is single and lives with his parents at 710 Catalpa, Royal Oak. He has not attended college.

Senator Visits in Cambodia

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield returned to Bangkok today after a one-day visit to Cambodia.

The Montana Democrat made no comment to newsmen regarding his conference with the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

He was the first high-ranking American to see Sihanouk since Cambodia broke relations with the United States last May.

Kelley Warns of Yule Frauds

'Don't Look for Santa in Garb of Salesman'

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley warned consumers yesterday to beware of slick operators preying on Christmas spirit to perpetrate frauds.

"Look for Santa Claus to come down the chimney in his red and white suit and not through the front door in the garb of a door-to-door salesman," said Kelley.

He warned that the fraudulent holiday period put people in a warm and trusting mood so he capitalized on this fact and often leaves his victim stunned and unaware for a long time to come.

Kelley listed the following rules to guard against fraud:

- Whenever possible deal with established local merchants or with salesmen of established organizations.
- Don't sign anything in blank and carefully read anything you do sign. If the deal is complicated, check with your lawyer; if it is costly, check with your financial adviser also.

• If you are buying anything on installments, figure exactly what your total cost will be when you finish making your payments.

• When possible delay your decision on making a major purchase or signing up for a costly service for 24 hours to give you an opportunity to check competitors for price and friends for experience.

RETURNS HOME — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara talks with newsmen at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington today upon his return from Viet Nam.

Returning with him were John T. McNaughton, assistant to McNamara, and Gen. Earl G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Says 9 Hanoi Regiments Are in S. Viet Nam

'Communists Defeated in Bid to Split Nation; Casualties Way Up'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, back home from Viet Nam, said today the Communists are tripling the rate of infiltration from the North.

But he also declared that "We've stopped losing the war."

McNamara, with Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, talked with newsmen as he stepped out of a jet plane that had flown him nonstop from Guam.

McNamara said he believes there are now nine North Viet Nam regular regiments in South Viet Nam.

He said the rate of infiltration from the North had been about 1,500 a month during the recent rainy season, but the rate during the dry season is expected to be 4,500 a month.

DEFEATED IN EFFORT

McNamara said the Communists had been defeated in their effort to cut South Viet Nam in two, and their casualty rate had risen 100 per cent over what it was a year ago. But he said the enemy has "very substantially raised the level of infiltration."

He was asked about the proposal of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, to bomb the port of Haiphong in North Viet Nam.

McNamara did not comment directly on that, saying only that the bombing of North Viet Nam is designed to attack the lines of infiltration.

He again said there will be increased emphasis on the bombing.

GM Charges Plant Sabotage

FLINT (AP) — Management of General Motors' struck Fisher Body No. 2 plant charged yesterday that unnamed employees sabotaged 191 bodies for new 1966 model cars in the 10 weeks prior to last Wednesday's start of the United Auto Workers strike.

Fred J. Schnarr Jr., plant manager, made the charge in a letter to the 3,100 strikers as negotiations resumed in an effort to settle the dispute.

Talks Saturday and Sunday prove fruitless.

A total of 4,700 workers are idle.

A strike by UAW Local 598 over work load complaints at Fisher Body 2 has idled another 1,600 men at the Chevrolet assembly plant, dependent on Fisher for car bodies.

DENY COMPLAINT
Fisher management has denied that excessive work is required.

Schnarr said car bodies had been "deliberately damaged," requiring costly repairs and causing production losses.

He said windshields and other glass was scratched and that vinyl and convertible tops had been slashed.

A union spokesman said the charges had not been proved.

City to View Status of Tavern Licenses

Ten Pontiac tavern owners, to request that your commission issue a complete statement concerning their position on the question of upgrading local taverns to Class C status, permitting liquor by the glass.

The commission decided last night at an informal meeting to place the petition on tonight's agenda.

Reportedly signed by all the tavern owners currently in business in the city, the petition stated:

"It was stated by you, Mr. Mayor, that the issuance of liquor licenses would not be a political deal as it has sometimes been in the past."

"We were gratified by your statement and encouraged when you and the commission selected your five-man committee to study the issue and report to you, the commission."

PREVIOUS PLAN
The petition notes that the five-man committee, which was headed by Philip Sauer, downtown restaurant owner, did submit a plan for upgrading.

However, the tavern owners claim things have been at a stalemate ever since.

"We feel that, as businessmen and taxpayers of Pontiac, we have a right and even a duty

Back Raises for 5 Officials

OK Due Next Week for Administrators

The City Commission decided last night at an informal meeting to grant pay raises to five top municipal administrators. Formal action is expected at next week's commission meeting.

After a 45-minute meeting behind closed doors, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. announced the pay hikes, which are slated for the five administrators appointed by the commission.

The city clerk's pay is to be raised from $9,500 to $8,814, the director of finance from $12,750 to $13,403, the city attorney from $14,430 to $17,500, and the assistant city manager from $10,200 to $11,557.

With the exception of the city attorney, these pay rates were recommended by the Michigan Municipal League.

NO RECOMMENDATION
The commission also plans to raise the salary of City Manager Joseph A. Warren from $20,000 to $21,500. The league offered no recommendation on the pay for city managers.

Essentially, the new wages for the top administrators is in line with a new salary and job reclassification plan adopted earlier this year for all city employees.

Warm Trend Due in Area

A warming trend will drift into the Pontiac area tomorrow with highs of 36 to 44 and partly cloudy skies.

Tonight is expected to be fair with temperatures quite cold, the low, 16 to 24.

The weatherman predicts Thursday will be partly cloudy with high temperatures continuing in the 40s.

Morning westerly winds at 7 to 14 miles per hour will be about the same tonight.

The low mercury reading prior to 8 a.m. today was 26. The recording at 1 p.m. was 31.

FBI Reports on First 9 Months

National Crime Rate Up 5 Pct.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The national crime rate jumped 5 per cent in the first nine months of this year, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported today.

Violent crime increased in all four major categories — murder, rape, robbery and aggravated assault. The number of rape cases increased 6 per cent, murder and robbery were up 5 per cent each and assault rose 2 per cent.

The figures compared the first three quarters of 1965 with the corresponding period of last year.

Following a recent trend, crime rates rose slower in big cities than in small towns and suburbs. The FBI recorded a 2 per cent hike in cities with population of more than one million and a 7 per cent increase in towns of 10,000 to 50,000 persons.

The suburbs showed the sharpest increase in serious crime. Robberies rose 18 per cent, rape 11 per cent and grand theft involving over $50, was up 10 per cent in suburbs.

The FBI said it found no general jump in farm area crime rates, but reported a 10 per cent increase in murders. The robbery rate declined 10 per cent and auto thefts dropped 8 per cent.

Broken into geographic areas, the FBI said Western states led the increase in crime with 11 per cent. Robbery and burglary accounted for this, it said.

The Northeastern area had a 6 per cent jump. The North-Central and Southern states each reported only a one per cent increase.

The FBI said national crime trends showed assaults with a gun rose 15 per cent; armed robbery, 10 per cent, and daylight burglaries, 12 per cent. Shoplifting went up 7 per cent, it said.

2nd Week of Reversing Planners

Waterford Board OKs Rezoning Request

The Waterford Township Board — for the second consecutive week — reversed recommendations of the Township Planning Commission and Oakland County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee by unanimously approving a rezoning request last night.

A parcel of land on Dixie Highway, near Scott Lake Road, was rezoned from commercial to residential.

The applicant, Earl L. Mull, reportedly plans to construct a transmission repair shop on the property, thus expanding an existing business.

Previously, the Planning Commission argued that C-3 zoning was too extensive and too permissive for the area.

Planning Director Vern Wiggins echoed this contention last night, adding that the commission was willing to consider C-3 zoning for the area.

SPOT ZONING

The County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee rejected the proposal because of spot zoning.

Representing Mull, Robert Cunningham said that the proposed new building would upgrade the area.

Last week, the Township Board approved a rezoning request for establishment of a large apartment complex on Dixie Highway near Telegraph.

Prior to this action, both the Planning Commission and the county committee had recommended denial of the proposal.

TO MEET DEC. 14

The Township Board and Planning Commission will meet Dec. 14, reportedly to discuss recent decisions in zoning cases.

Robert Griffin's request to open a teen-age dance hall at 6559 M59 was granted by the board, providing the owner meet certain requirements.

Griffin indicated that food and entertainment would be provided at the establishment, to be known as Mr. G's House A-Go-Go.

The owner and township police concurred that certain standards should be set, namely dress regulations, strict supervision and policing inside and outside.

He 'Banked' on Surprising Holdup Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert A. Poole, a Washington businessman, wasn't short-changed when he went to the bank Monday.

As he returned to his car, two gunmen surprised him.

"This is a holdup," one said as he jumped in. Poole stepped on the gas.

The gunman was jolted out of the auto, but not before he fired a shot. The bullet struck Poole's heavily stuffed money bag, penetrated some bills and deflected weakly off a roll of silver. Poole suffered a slight thigh injury.

The request calls for an age limitation of 15 to 20. However, a state statute pertaining to nightclubs may restrict the minimum age to 17.

A soft drink license also was approved for the business.

Final approval of the proposal hinges on the owner's compliance with requirements set by board drawing up an enabling ordinance which would allow teen-agers 15 to 17 to use the hall.

In other business, the board approved a resolution of intent to proceed with the proposed Athens Street blacktopping project and authorized township engineering consultants to make a cost estimate.

TO STUDY LAW

Township Attorney Paul Mandel, was asked to study the state law regarding minimum age for such an establishment and to look into the possibility of the township drawing up an enabling ordinance which would allow between Sashabaw and Lawrence.

The board agreed that the township assume legal, recording, engineering and title fees in acquiring 27 additional feet of both Lake Estates No. 3 Subdivision — of way for a proposed 551. Furell submitted the top bid last week.

The Planning Commission last week accepted a special approval request for construction of Bethel United Church of Christ. Also last night, the board agreed to sell lot 767 of Elizabeth Lake Estates No. 3 Subdivision to Charles Furell for $1,500. Furell submitted the top bid last week.

HEART BEATING FASTER? — Surgeon Lt. Valerie Marvin, a 28-year-old blonde from London, examines a new recruit at the Raleigh Navy Training Base in Torpoint, England. Dr. Marvin, one of only eight women doctors in the service, examines all new recruits to the base, about 150 a week. "After the initial surprise, they just accept me," she says.

Windup Date Is Closing In on U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — An Irish proposal to have the peace-keeping crisis, said one delegation, "If we start junking items eration shoulder 70 per cent of now, the next step might be to abolish the General Assembly the cost."

The United States has shown as coolness toward the Irish plan, and the Soviet Union has rejected it as a violation of the U.N. Charter.

If the assembly fails to meet its deadline, it will have to resume the session in January. Delegates in general are reluctant to gloss over or drop any major items in order to meet the target date.

FULL AIRING

Britain wants a full airing of its item calling for peaceful settlement of disputes.

The Soviets are certain to demand full debate on their item dealing with "the inadmissibility of intervention in the domestic affairs of states." This has been viewed as a launching pad for Communist attacks on U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic and American policy in Viet Nam.

Three other political items — peaceful uses of outer space, Korea and relations among European states — will probably get token treatment or be relegated to a lesser committee.

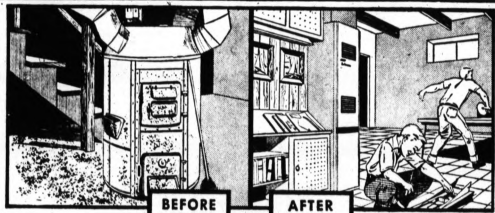

The remaining item, Cyprus, is expected to touch off lively debate.

THORNY PROBLEM

The special political committee still has before it the thorny problem of peace-keeping finances which caused the East-West deadlock that paralyzed the last assembly session.

The committee dealt briefly with the issue last week but under African pressure switched to the question of racial segregation. This debate is expected to run into next week.

There are still 38 nations to speak in the debate on peace-keeping finances. It centers on

If Not Too Bad

Bodily Defects Aid in Success

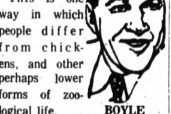

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

One of the lucky things in this world is to have something obviously wrong with you.

It ordinarily helps a human being to get ahead if he has a recognizable but not too repulsive defect.

This is one way in which people differ from chickens, and other perhaps lower forms of zoological life.

The pecking order in chickens requires complete similarity. If you put a spot of blood on a healthy chicken, the other chickens will surround and peck it to death, feeling it is a threat to the rest of the flock. They suspect it of being diseased.

One of the things we like about Babe Ruth is that, although he knocked 714 home runs, he also struck out a lot of times.

One of the things we like about George Washington is that, for all his granite force of character, he now and then let his temper get the better of him — and blew his stack, even as you and I.

One of the things we like about Abraham Lincoln is that, for all his political sagacity and eloquence in sustaining the American Union, he was homely and perhaps mildly henpecked.

We expect excellence always from our champions, and usually from each other. But we also expect failure and lack of performance from them some times, too.

MAKE OVER PAST Lifetime Collection of Movies Proving a Big Profit Maker

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When movie and television producers need shots of a sea gull, a shipwreck or a sunset, they call Elmer Dyer. You name it, and Elmer is likely to have it among the million feet of film contained in his unique movie library. If he doesn't have it, he will go out and shoot it.

Dyer has been making movies for 53 years, and he has shot none of his enthusiasm for film. I dropped by his library one stormy day and found him contemplating a visit to the ocean.

"There ought to be some big waves up today," he mused. "Should make some great shots."

STACKS OF FILM

The Dyer place is stacked to the ceiling with cans of film. He has taken in his lifetime. They are arranged as to subject: birds, flowers and fruits, foot ball, ambulances, snow, etc. But it is obvious that most of the cataloging is inside the canny film maker's head.

"They want a signal flare over at 'Peticoat Junction,'" he told an assistant. "I think you'll find a signal flare in the fireworks I shot at the Rose Bowl."

Dyer started in the movie business for Universal in 1912 and worked for most of the studios over the years in filming background and aerial shots, notably "Hells Angels" for Howard Hughes. The idea for a library came out of his hobby of collecting films of old aircraft.

"I must have six or seven thousand feet of old airplanes, including some 1904 shots of the Wright brothers," said Dyer. "Cutters would hear about the film and ask if they could buy some of it to use in movies."

RELEASED GLS Praise Cong

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Two American soldiers released by the Viet Cong said they had been well treated during their two years of captivity.

Spec. 5 Claude E. McClure, 25, of Chattanooga, Tenn., said his captors cared for his wounds, shared their food with him and allowed him mail from his family and Red Cross packages.

"Had it been the Saigon government I would have been tortured," said McClure.

Sgt. George E. Smith of Chester, W. Va., said he believed his liberation was "the direct result of protests in America against U.S. involvement in the Viet Nam war."

The Viet Cong in announcing their release Saturday said they were being freed to show good will toward Americans opposing the war.

The soldiers appeared at a news conference arranged by the Cambodian information minister.

"I have known both sides," said Smith, and the war in Viet Nam is of no interest to the United States.

Industrywide Bargaining Will Be Continued---Abel

DIFFERENT TUNE

But the newly elected Steelworkers' leadership sang a different tune when it returned to Pittsburgh from the White House in September to pursue a fired-up membership to accept the settlement, reached after President Johnson had laid specific "suggestions" before backlogged negotiators and kept them virtually locked up until they reached agreement.

There was fear at the time that the powerful wage policy committee of the union might reject the White House settlement.

At a secret policy meeting, the top union leaders at the time, Steelworkers Vice President Joseph Maloney, with Abel also present, said: "Next time we'll take them (the companies) on one at a time and beat hell out of them."

The Teamsters union, which has the power to halt most of the nation's trucking, has for many years used to good effect the "falling-domino" theory of negotiations, in which one big company at a time is picked off without creating a national crisis and government intervention.

NOT SHARED

But Abel, in tracing the history of steel bargaining, said that "I don't share this great concern" about crisis bargaining. Abel spoke to a collective bargaining conference being held here by the AFL-CIO Chemical Workers Union.

A Steelworkers spokesman confirmed it was Abel's first public reaffirmation of industrywide steel negotiations.

Firm Smoking Ban 'Kicked' in 4 Hours

DENVER (UPI) — Jesse Shawyer's ban against smoking in any part of the Samsonte Corp. plant, including parking lots and rest rooms, lasted just about four hours yesterday.

Shawyer, chairman of the corporation and a nonsmoker, said he instituted the no smoking rule, because he was concerned about the health of his employees. But they put up such a pro union, including a union grievance, that he rescinded it because of "my great concern about the viewpoint as well as the welfare of my employees."

Plane Down on I-96

IONIA (AP) — Engine failure forced David Blake, 29, of East Lansing, to land his light plane on I-96 highway near Ionia Monday on a flight from Grand Rapids to Lansing. There was no disruption to traffic.

Man 'Dyes' for Job, Not for a Woman, Psychiatrist Says

NEW YORK (AP) — A man will dye, dye, dye for his job, but not for the woman next door.

Sales of men's hair coloring products have boomed 73.3 percent this year, the biggest jump in the men's toiletries field. Barbers report a big business in touching up the gray.

One manufacturer, L'Oréal of Paris, has developed a line of 12 shades of coloring. Clairol, which made hair coloring for women socially acceptable, is entering the field, advertising: "Does he or doesn't he? Hair coloring so natural only his barber can tell for sure."

JOB WORRIES

Dr. W. G. Eliasberg, a psychiatrist and author, says older men color their hair because they are afraid of losing their jobs to younger men, not because they want to enhance their sex appeal.

"Some men make sex their careers. On the whole, these are the real exceptions," he said.

What the hair coloring industry is built on, he said, is the man who is concerned about his career.

"It is a matter of economics," Eliasberg said. "You must not look 40 if you still want to be promoted. So if you have the bad luck to lose your hair or have it turn gray, you cover it up."

OHIO PLANS Pollution Monitors

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio plans to install a system of water quality monitoring stations on every major tributary of Lake Erie as part of its war on pollution, Gov. James A. Rhodes said Monday night.

The governor told the Great Lakes Commission's annual meeting that the monitoring program will be carried out with the cooperation of the United States Geological Survey.

Nine stations are scheduled to be put into operation this year, he said, with the first to be installed soon on the Black River in Elyria. Others are scheduled for near Fremont, Higby, Delancey (2), Cleves, Athens, Painesville, and Toledo.

Rhodes said the stations will "maintain a 24-hour vigil" to detect pollution and measure improvements in water quality.

FIRST FULL DAY

Representatives of eight Great Lakes states were on hand for the first full day of the commission's meeting.

Nearly 125 delegates from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin attended meetings of the commission's five standing committees.

Giant Carrier Leaves Manila

N-Powered Vessel Will Join Viet Fleet

MANILA (AP) — The 85,000-ton Enterprise, the world's largest aircraft carrier, entered the South China Sea today for the first combat patrol ever undertaken by a nuclear-powered surface ship.

The Enterprise sailed from the U.S. naval base at Subic Bay late Monday or early Tuesday and set a westerly course to join units of the 7th Fleet operating against the Communists in Viet Nam.

The Enterprise and her escorting nuclear-powered guided missile frigates, the Bainbridge, have been assigned indefinitely to Pacific waters. Two more nuclear-powered surface ships will join them early next year.

The Enterprise entered Subic Bay Nov. 27 for supplies and to give her crew a few days rest after the Pacific crossing from California. During the stay in Subic Bay, the Navy kept the carrier under security wraps and barred all but official visitors.

The Navy spokesman said that in keeping with policy concerning ship movements, no further announcements concerning the Enterprise could be expected for some time.

Detroit River Cable Car Due

Final OK Likely Today by Common Council

DETROIT (AP) — A cable car service linking Detroit and Windsor, Ont., now appears a sure thing—pending U. S. and Canadian government approval.

Detroit's Common Council gave informal approval Monday to the proposed $3 million ferry, but the Detroit River Formal approval was expected today.

Backers say TeleFerry (that's its name) would be a boost to the tourist trade in both Detroit and Windsor.

At their lowest point, the ferry's cable cars would be 120 feet above the river. Each of the 80 cars would carry four passengers at 75 cents a head. The ferry's steel strand would be hooked to towers near Cobo Hall on Detroit's side of the river and to Cleary Auditorium in Windsor. Detroit anticipates a $40,000 annual revenue.

Luci's Steady Is 'Just Another Basic Trainee'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Patrick J. Nugent, 22, may be the steady boyfriend of the president's daughter, but he is "just another basic trainee" at Lackland Air Force Base.

That is as Nugent of Waukegan, Ill., wants it.

He spent his first day on active duty with the Air National Guard yesterday and got $26 in advance pay and a 56-cent haircut.

Nugent asked that he be left alone and kept out of the White House limelight. He spent his first day before reporting for basic training at President John F. Kennedy's LBJ Ranch with Luci Baines Johnson, 18.

"He is just another basic trainee to us," Lackland officials said. "We will do different training to him than to anyone else."

Nugent will have six weeks basic training at Lackland. He is a member of the 3710th Squadron, based here, reporting for basic training by Maj. Richard Bachmeyer.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Actress Natalie Wood has returned a huge diamond engagement ring to Ladislav Blatnik, Venezuelan shoe tycoon, and ended their engagement.

Miss Wood confirmed yesterday in Hollywood that she had returned the ring, but declined other comment. Blatnik also declined to discuss the reason for the breakup. He said he will return to Caracas.

Von Braun Interview Kept off Belgian TV

An interview with space scientist Werner von Braun has been kept off television in Antwerp, Belgium, because of protests over his part in the development of German missiles in World War II.

Socialist City Councilman Roger de Keyser told the Municipal Council the interview, scheduled for showing tonight, had been postponed.

More than 6,000 persons were killed by the German V1 and V2 rockets in the final months of the war, De Keyser said. He said he resented any publicity given to Von Braun.

Brezhnev in Russia After E. German Visit

First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev of the Soviet Communist party returned to Moscow yesterday after three days visiting in East Germany for talks "in an atmosphere of cordiality, fraternity and full unity of views."

No reason for the trip was given in the official announcement.
