More Pictures of Mars Ready

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The world gets a look at the second and third pictures taken of Mars by Mariner 4, the amazing U.S. spacecraft which also found that planet's atmosphere too thin for any form of earth life.

Jet Propulsion Laboratory officials said the photographs, snapped as the 575-pound spacecraft swung past Mars Wednesday at the climax of a 7½-month voyage, would be released to news media later today. The officials gave no hint of what the photographs showed.

Picture No. 1, released Thursday night, contained the bare outlines of an earth-like desert bordered by amorphous shapes that might possibly be vegetation.

Taken at an altitude of 10,000 miles it showed surface markings as small as three miles in diameter—far sharper than is possible with earth telescopes.

As picture No. 3 was coming yesterday, laboratory scientists told a news conference that Mariner 4 had helped them determine that Mars' atmosphere at the surface is about as thin as earth's at a height of 90,000 to 100,000 feet.

"Men landing there certainly would have to wear space suits," said Dr. William H. Pickering, laboratory director. "But when you consider the amazing complexity and variety of life forms on earth, you can't exclude the possibility that some other kinds might have evolved on Mars."

8 MILLION HIGH
Scientists who measured the gradual fading of signals coming through Mars' atmosphere as Mariner 4 swung behind the planet calculated it extends no more than eight miles above the surface. Earth's blanket of air is more than 20 miles deep.

The new space station called Proton-1 was lofted yesterday. First reports said it was the biggest payload ever hurled into space. But Tass indicated that the boosting rocket was the key factor in the experiment.

The American Titan 3C rocket with a thrust of 2.65 million pounds orbited a satellite with a dummy payload weighing about 21,000 pounds last month.

The U.S. satellite was attached to the second stage of the rocket bringing the total weight to 32,340 pounds. The two sections separated after six hours.

American scientists noted, however, that the Soviet satellite had no rocket attached. They estimated that if a rocket had been attached, the total weight would have been about 40,000 pounds.

LITTLE DOUBT
A British space expert said in London there was no doubt that the new Soviet rocket is intended for spacecraft capable of sending men to the moon.

Illinois Bids Fond Farewell to Stevenson

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—Led by their governor, the people of Illinois paid a personal farewell to Adlai E. Stevenson today.

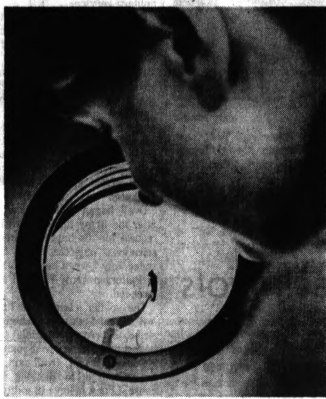

All through the night and the day, thousands of Illinoisans filed past the flag-draped casket underneath the rotunda of the Illinois capitol.

The procession was halted only briefly, when Gov. Otto Kerner led Stevenson's family, friends and political associates in a short memorial service.

"We miss him," Kerner said. "But we are proud that to us came the honor, the rare privilege, the fortunate circumstance that made a period of our own lives coincide in part with his."

"We lived in the shadow of greatness—a greatness which somehow seemed to bring each of us a special feeling, a particular kind of pride, a sense of satisfaction that we lived in the world of Adlai Stevenson."

"He has come home and will rest from his weary tasks and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Foster's Children Testify Over Prosecution Protest

The Carl F. Foster murder trial was adjourned late yesterday afternoon after two of Foster's three small children were called as defense witnesses over the objections of the prosecution.

Richard Foster, 6, and his sister, Stephanie, 5, were allowed by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem to testify in his chambers instead of the courtroom stand.

The trial being heard without jury will go into its fifth day Monday.

Foster's children were among nine defense witnesses called to testify after Dr. Richard E. Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, completed prosecution testimony.

Foster is charged with the slaying of his wife, Angela, who was found hanging in the basement of their house Feb. 18, 1964.

REOPENED CASE
The death was then ruled a suicide but police reopened the case after Foster was charged with the death of a Bloomfield Township divorcee, Mrs. Maurice Crook, 20, last December.

Mrs. Foster's body was exhumed several months after the death and an autopsy was performed.

New Demonstrations Feared as Rebellious Viet Officer Is Killed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Air Force B52 bombers flying for the first time in support of Vietnamese ground forces, dumped 500 tons of bombs today on suspected Communist positions in central Viet Nam.

Between 25 and 30 of the big jets flying 22,000 miles from Guam blasted the suspected area in the Mang Yang Pass, a key part of Route 19 stretching across central Viet Nam.

A major ground operation is reported under way along the route to clear out Viet Cong guerrillas and open the road to a supply convoy.

On the political front, the killing of a rebellious army colonel by government security forces raised fears of new demonstrations by South Viet Nam's Roman Catholics.

The Defense Ministry said Col. Pham Ngoc Thao, a Roman Catholic who led at least two unsuccessful coup attempts, "was ambushed by security forces and seriously wounded" in a forest near Bien Hoa Friday. It said he died of his wound while being flown to Saigon.

INTENSE MANHUNT
Thao had been the subject of an intensive manhunt. He was sentenced to death in absentia by a military tribunal on May 7.

Reliable sources had reported earlier that Thao was arrested in a Roman Catholic monastery in the Saigon suburb of Thu Duc. Bien Hoa is 20 miles northeast of Saigon.

Most of Thao's civilian and military followers were Catholics. These included Brig. Gen. Lam Van Phat, who is still at large.

Roman Catholic charges of persecution by Buddhists in the government have sparked previous upheavals.

IS DISCREDITED
Official Vietnamese sources, however, believed that Thao had discredited himself in the abortive coup attempts and confessions (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Kosygin Says U.S. Can Expect Rebuffs for Viet

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Alexei N. Kosygin said today each new action by the United States in Viet Nam will cause counteraction and rebuff by the Viet Cong and Communist countries.

Kosygin accused the United States of creating "an extremely dangerous situation" in Viet Nam that threatens peace not only in Southeast Asia but all over the world.

The Soviet premier spoke after U.S. Ambassador at-Large W. Averell Harriman was reported to have outlined American policies to Kosygin in an effort to avoid misunderstandings that might lead to an accidental confrontation.

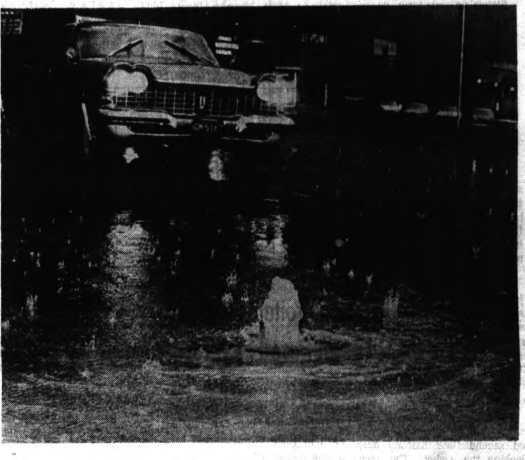

In his first public speech since three hours of talks with Harriman Thursday, Kosygin reiterated Soviet support for North Viet Nam's terms on peace in the area.

They include an American withdrawal and local settlement. Kosygin spoke at Riga.

Mrs. Lowe was with her husband Ted, 32, when their car was struck by one driven by Arnold Leddy, 38, of 283 St. Clair, Romeo, at a Troy intersection.

The 11:40 p.m. accident occurred at John R. and Big Beaver. Both Lowe and Leddy are under observation at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Hurlbut was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital after the car in which he was riding struck a large draft horse on Lapeer Road near Davison Lake Road, Oxford Township, at 1:40 a.m.

RIDER SHOUTS
The driver, Alford C. Kalar, 62, of 61 Mill, Lapeer, told sheriff's deputies that he had his headlights on low beam and didn't see the horse in the road until one of his passengers shouted.

The horse, owned by Virginia King, 921 E. Davison Lake, was killed.

Kalar and his other passenger, Luther Mason, 45, of 430 Mitchell Lake, Attica Township, are in satisfactory condition at Lapeer County General Hospital with lacerations and fractures.

An early evening thunderstorm dumped two inches of rain on the Pontiac area last night, flooding streets and basements, knocking down utility lines and trees and darkening homes briefly.

Sunny weather will return to the area tomorrow, however, bringing with it a high of 76 to 82.

Streets were flooded and water came up to front doors in the South Boulevard, Ophrys area. Building materials floated over streets and lawns when catch basins became plugged.

Sections of Pontiac's west side were flooded and residents experienced similar conditions to those of last month when 1.5 inches of rain fell on Sunday, June 16. Some basements were flooded again.

Lightning struck trees and a house in the Waterford Township area, but with only slight damage.

The two-inch rainfall last night, equaled the total for the month last year in July.

Prior to last night's storm, a total of 1.3 inches was recorded for this month.

Tonight will be fair and cool, low 54 to 60.

Winds are west to northwest, 5 to 10 miles per hour.

Sixty-three was the low mercury reading preceding 8 a.m. today. The temperature had reached 79 by 2 p.m.

Yellow Cab Is Girl's Magic Chariot

Though the golden carriage is not a pumpkin but a Yellow Cab, it brings as much magic into Linda Pitts' life as the coach did for Cinderella.

Eight-year-old Linda, the granddaughter of Mrs. Elsie Pitts of 102 Elm, is deaf.

When she enrolled in the Willis School's class for the acoustically handicapped last September, Linda was completely mute.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Lou Davis, teacher of the special education class, within one school year, Linda learned to speak 50 words.

"She has developed into a fantastic lip reader," said Mrs. Davis.

SUMMER LAPSE
"But I was afraid if she couldn't practice her new skills over the summer, much of her progress would be lost."

"The Last Deafies, an organization made up of parents of deaf or hard-of-hearing youngsters, awarded her a six-week scholarship so she could continue her studies at the Baldwin School."

"There was only one problem. Linda was eager to attend but she needed transportation."

"I called a number of social agencies and several area service clubs to hear exactly the same answer. They were sympathetic with my cause but couldn't help me."

"In desperation, I phoned the Yellow Cab Co. just to find out the cost."

"I spoke with Leslie Edwards, the Pontiac manager."

"After I told him about Linda and how much the additional training would mean to her, he said, 'You've come to the right place.'"

"Your transportation troubles are solved. We'll see that she gets to and from school every day of the program. And there will be no charge!"

True to his word, a Yellow Cab drives up to Linda's home every morning at 8:45 to whisk her away into a world every bit as exciting and thrilling as Cinderella's ball.

YOUR CARRIAGE AWAITS—Opening the door for 8-year-old Linda Pitts of 102 Elms is Leslie Edwards, Pontiac manager of the Yellow Cab Co. The cab firm made it possible for Linda to attend special classes for the acoustically handicapped at Baldwin School.

'Bama Town Still Uneasy After Outbreak, Klan Rally

GREENSBORO, Ala. (AP) — An uneasy peace has settled over this rural community after a Ku Klux Klan rally that followed an outbreak of racial violence which sent 17 Negroes to a hospital.

City and county police, backed up by a reinforced squad of riot-trained state troopers, kept vigil, fearful that a renewal of civil rights demonstrations might touch off another clash today.

FBI agents and Justice Department attorneys also maintained close surveillance on the west Alabama city of 3,000 which until Friday had reacted peacefully to the civil rights campaign.

Greensboro has been one of the targets in the fight for racial equality led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The violence erupted when a small force of city and state police and sheriff's deputies sought to break up a gathering of about 75 young Negro pickets who had refused to leave the grounds of the Hale County courthouse.

Officers swinging nightsticks began clubbing the Negroes to drive them back. A small number of white bystanders waded into the crowd, attacking the demonstrators with clubs, rubber hoses and fists. One man swung a hammer.

Hours later, several hundred white men and women gathered in a high school stadium heard Grand Dragon Robert Creel of the United Klans of America appeal for restraint.

Creel, who recently gave up his job as a machinist in a Birmingham foundry to devote full time to Klan activities, told the crowd they must "act like white men."

STAND UP
"White men have to stand up for white men," he shouted. Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton of Tuscaloosa, another speaker, also made a brief reference to the racial clash. He called it an "example of L.B.'s Great Society."

Still another speaker, Klan attorney Matt Murphy Jr. of Birmingham, blamed the town's troubles on what he called the "Jewish bankers' empire." He advocated bombing attacks on the Soviet Union, Red China and Cuba.

Seventeen Negroes were treated at Good Samaritan Hospital in Selma, 50 miles to the southeast, following the clubbing episode.

The chairman of the Hale County Hospital Board at Greensboro, Hammer Cobbs, said that hospital was prepared to treat the injured but none of the Negroes sought help here.

Detroit Is Injured in Rose Twp. Crash

A Detroit woman is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital after her car left a road in Rose Township and hit a tree yesterday.

Mrs. Dorothy M. Shattuck, 66, suffered an injury to her right hip in the 4:40 p.m. accident on Hickory Ridge just south of Perch Lake Road.

She told sheriff's deputies that she was forced off the road by an unidentified farm truck.

New Premier on Job Blames Leftists in Greek Riots

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Premier George Athanasias Novas charged today that leftists had instigated Friday night's antigovernment rioting here. He warned that his new regime will not tolerate violence.

Athanasias Novas summoned his 15-member Cabinet to discuss the crisis and try to strengthen his controversial government with more Cabinet appointments.

The Greek capital appeared quiet this morning after the violent demonstrations in support of ousted Premier George Papandreou.

More than a score of demonstrators were arrested and 110 persons — half of them police — were reported injured in sporadic outbreaks during the night. Other antigovernment demonstrations, involving thousands, were staged Friday in Salonika and elsewhere.

EXTRA PATROLS
Extra police patrols were on duty around Athens to guard against further demonstrations.

Athanasias Novas said he would have the demonstrations investigated because he had reports that Center Union party deputies were involved. The government party is a broad grouping that includes elements ranging from the left to right.

The rioting broke out shortly after King Constantine had sworn in Novas' new Center Union government and departed by plane for his Corfu Island summer palace.

The 25-year-old monarch apparently had thought that Greece's worst crisis since the Communist civil war of 1947-1949 was past. Twenty-four hours earlier, he had fired 77-year-old Papandreou in a dispute over the premier's proposed purge of politically active officers in the army.

FAST WORK
Athanasias Novas, 72, managed to put together a 15-man Cabinet in one day. It included six ministers who had served under Papandreou, who like Athanasias Novas is a member of the Center Union party.

Three more party members were expected to announce today that they would join the new government.

Under the constitution, the new government must reconvene Parliament by Aug. 1 to seek a vote of confidence.

The Center Union party has 170 seats in the 300-member Parliament, but a party split conceivably could defeat the confidence vote and force new elections.

'Fasting' Soldier Termed Unsuitable

FORT MONMOUTH, N.J. (UPI) — Pvt. David Ovall, who staged a 17-day hunger strike to get out of the Army as a conscientious objector, was a civilian today after being discharged as unsuitable for military service.

An Army spokesman said the 23-year-old draftee from Los Angeles was released because of a "defective attitude" toward military service.

Ovall left the post here yesterday with his father, Vincent, who had been visiting him for several days.

His commanding officer last month recommended a discharge on grounds of unsuitability. The spokesman said an Army board of officers was appointed to hear the case and Ovall was given legal counsel.

The private, however, waived board action and accepted the discharge.

Ovall began fasting June 20 after the Army turned down his request for discharge as a conscientious objector. The fast ended July 7 when he was taken to Paterson Army Hospital and force-fed.

The soldier claimed to have lost 42 pounds during the hunger strike, but Army officials said he lost only six or seven pounds.

During his fast, Ovall said, "I am prepared to die for my cause. I don't believe in military service."

The tall, slender private was drafted just one month before he was to enter Los Angeles City College as an art major.

The Army said it refused Ovall's discharge request because "he did not meet the criteria as a conscientious objector."

Ovall had served 13 months of a two-year hitch before going on the hunger strike.

Birmingham Area News Noted Plastic Surgeon in Unity Center Speech

Magic Power of Self-Image Psychology

BIRMINGHAM — Dr. Maxwell M. Maltz, a plastic surgeon, will speak at the Birmingham Community House July 26 at 8 p.m. on "The Success Mechanism," a subject discussed at length in his best-seller book, "Psycho-Cybernetics."

Dr. Maltz is sponsored by the Unity Center. There is no admission charge but an offering may be made to the Center.

Dr. Maltz has made numerous experiments dealing with the power of self-image. Through these, he has discovered psychological effects from plastic surgery. The patient acquires a new "self-image" when scars or deformities are removed, he has stated.

He has practiced in England, France, Germany, Italy and Latin America. Dr. Maltz has also given lectures at the University of Amsterdam, the University of Paris, and the University of Rome.

In addition, he has served as professor of plastic surgery at both the University of Nicaragua and the University of El Salvador.

Dr. Maltz is the author of several books and plays, including "Adventures in Staying Young," "Dr. Pygmalion" and "The

Magic Power of Self-Image Psychology."

Substitute teachers are being sought by the school district, according to Kenneth Nagley, director of personnel for the Birmingham Public Schools.

Preferences are given to degree holders but applications will be accepted from persons with a minimum of 60 semester hours of college work.

Interested parties are asked to report at the personnel office, Chester at Martin.

Floods Ravage South Korea Prompt U.S. Action Saves Many Persons

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — Fast action by American soldiers and helicopter crews was credited today with saving scores of lives in the worst floods to hit South Korea in 70 years.

The government announced today that 74 persons have been killed and 94 injured by the rampaging waters. An additional 43 persons were reported missing. The casualties included South Korean soldiers.

The floods were triggered by torrential rains that broke an unprecedented drought and sent the country's five biggest rivers cascading over their banks. Only a few days ago, the South Korean Army was hauling water to help the country's farmers save their rice crop.

A government flood committee estimated that 142,000 persons lost their homes in various parts of the nation as the rains continued to fall throughout the republic.

Comparatively low casualties were attributed to speedy American rescue operations.

RAGING WATERS
Eighth U.S. Army headquarters reported an estimated 2,800 persons plucked out of the path of the raging waters by helicopters. The 2nd Infantry Division set up housing and prepared food for some 2,500 refugees.

Other units airlifted food, blankets and medicine to the villages of Toong-Ni and Yooncho, hard hit by the floods.

Authorities estimated the floods swept through 25,000 homes throughout the country, creating 70,000 refugees in the central provinces of Kyunggi and Kangwon alone.

Nearly 80,000 residents of the capital were forced to flee their homes yesterday when the swollen Han River hit the danger mark. The river receded somewhat this morning.

The floods blocked roads and highways and disrupted the nation's five major railroads, interfering with rescue efforts.

Pneumonia Blamed in Nigerian's Death

ANN ARBOR (AP) — An unusual form of pneumonia was blamed Friday for the death of a 26-year-old Nigerian who received a kidney transplant from his mother five months ago.

Abraham Adedire, a graduate student at Michigan State University, died Tuesday. The cause of death had not been re-examined, pending results of an autopsy.

Mrs. Asabi Adedire flew here from home in Ibe, Nigeria, last February to donate a kidney to her son in a five-hour operation at the University of Michigan Hospital.

Another defense witness, Foster's aunt, Mrs. John K. Featherstone testified Angela Foster told her: "If you are going to commit suicide, hanging is the only way because in a few moments you are dead."

Mrs. Featherstone of 817 Orlando also testified Mrs. Foster had attempted to take her life in 1962 by turning on gas jets on her kitchen stove.

Stevenson, one-term governor of Illinois, twice a candidate for the presidency, his spokesman said in the United Nations and other great venues throughout the world in the cause of peace, rested on the same wooden table which 100 years ago bore the body of Abraham Lincoln underneath the Illinois capitol dome.

Since he died on a London street Wednesday of a heart attack, the nation and the world had paid tribute to the man from Illinois. Now it was the turn of Stevenson's fellow Illinoisans and Mid-westerners.

An estimated 2,500 persons jammed the rotunda for the service. They included Stevenson's three sons, congressmen, governors, state legislators and public officials, and consuls from foreign countries, many of them in native dress.

CHOIR SINGS
The University of Illinois choir sang from an otherwise deserted second floor balcony overlooking the casket. The choir sang "Illinois," "These Things Shall Be A Lifter Life" and "America the Beautiful."

Stevenson's body will rest underneath the capitol dome until 11 a.m. tomorrow, when it will be taken to his boyhood home of Bloomington, Ill. Burial will be at Bloomington Monday.

also indicated Mars' atmosphere is one to two per cent as dense as earth's. Earlier estimates had ranged as high as 10 per cent. This finding will be valuable to men now pondering whether to use parachutes or retro-rockets in braking the descent of instrumented capsules they want to land on Mars in 1970.

The study of the red signals, known to react differently to various kinds of molecules in an atmosphere, showed no oxygen on Mars. This agreed with telescopic studies which indicate the presence of nitrogen, carbon dioxide, iron and a trace of water.

Calculations of Mariner 4's path made it likely that the first picture was of a desert area called Phlegra, north of the Martian equator.

BETWEEN DESERTS
The second and third pictures along a north-to-south track would fall between two deserts called Elysium and Amazonis.

Later frames in the 25-minute camera sweep would cover a broad dark area, Mare Cimmerium, and another desert, Phaethon, astronomers said.

There was no hint as to when the later pictures being radioed across 14 million miles at a rate of one every 10 hours would be received.

Farm Problems Aired Harriman, Red Aide Talk

MOSCOW (UPI) — Presidential envoy W. Averell Harriman, in another move to shore up U.S.-Russian relations, discussed agriculture for three hours today with Soviet Agriculture Minister V. V. Matskevich.

The meeting in Matskevich's office included a luncheon during which the two recalled their first meeting in 1955 when Matskevich addressed a conference of American state governors in Chicago.

Western observers said Harriman's mission here was not so much to try to end the Viet Nam crisis as to restore the U.S.-Soviet feeling of tensions that existed before Viet Nam.

Harriman said he had a "long and cordial talk" with Matskevich and received a briefing on Soviet farming developments.

OLD PROPHECY
Harriman said he hoped the Russians would fulfill a prophecy he once made in a book — that the U.S.S.R. would have two good harvests out of every five.

Matskevich assured Harriman this was possible.

The meeting in Matskevich's office included a luncheon during which the two recalled their first meeting in 1955 when Matskevich addressed a conference of American state governors in Chicago.

Their second meeting occurred in 1959 when Harriman toured Soviet farmlands.

Ambassador Foy D. Kohler accompanied Harriman today.

Rocky to Run Again Despite 'Rumblings'

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York says he doubts that anyone can talk him out of running for a third term in 1968. He left open his ambition for the GOP presidential nomination.

At a news conference Friday, Rockefeller said without qualification that he is running again. He had said May 4 that he had "every intention" of running again, but qualified this at the time, telling reporters: "If I make a flat statement, then you fellows are going to hold me to it."

Rockefeller's announcement Friday came amid rumblings of discontent among state Republicans.

The governor, just back from vacation at his Venezuelan ranch, said he is not giving any time or thought on whether to seek the presidential nomination again in 1968. He said it would be "meaningless" to discuss it since "we are so far away from 1968."

Rockefeller insisted there was no split between him and Sen. Jacob K. Javits, around whom Rockefeller dissidents appear to have rallied.

French authorities said they have launched an investigation.

Wants Birth Control Plan to Be Halted

CENTREVILLE (AP)—A St. Joseph County birth control program—which includes sterilization at public expense—is "clearly illegal and a shocking misuse of public authority," Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley said Friday.

Kelley has asked County Prosecutor William L. McManus to halt implementation of the program there and to send full details and a justification of the plan.

If any attempt is made to implement the plan, said the attorney general, he would take the "necessary legal steps to halt it."

FIRST IN STATE

The St. Joseph County plan, which would be the first public program in the state to authorize sterilization, goes beyond recent legislative bills designed to provide information and referral on family planning services for welfare recipients and establishing planning clinics for both married and unmarried mothers.

The bills must have the approval of Gov. George Romney before they can take effect.

Mars' Secrets Bared by Mariner Exposures

America won another interstellar blue ribbon when Mariner 4 focused in on Mars, the planet nearest our own.

Mariner took off last November 28 on a 228-day, 325-million-mile voyage projected to intercept the red-hued planet and photograph its 4,200-mile diameter.

All went on schedule, with one picture already received after a transmission process that consumed eight and a half hours. Scientists who directed the Mariner excursion expect a score of pictures to be forthcoming within 10 days.

Although the shots taken will not, nor were intended to, give evidence of whether or not life exists on Mars, their scientific disclosures on atmosphere, surrounding radiation and gravity fields will provide essential knowledge in designing a Voyager package to land on the planet in 1971 and obtain an answer to the question.

All Americans thrill to this latest space exploit with highest praise for the dedicated corps of scientists and technicians whose vision and skills project man's minds farther and farther into the vast universe.

Diplomat Double-Talk Is Universal Tongue

One of the nice things about diplomacy is that it is so diplomatic.

Example: When President DE GAULLE of France visited Chancellor LUDEWIG ERHARD recently to discuss issues dividing the two nations, it was the general feeling that the two leaders would be doing extremely well to agree on what day of the week it was.

But what did DE GAULLE say to newspapermen?

"I have every reason to hope," he declared solemnly, "that this meeting will lead to a further deepening of the understandings between us."

Just what did this mean when there didn't seem to be any "understandings," deep or otherwise?

Veteran interpreters of DE GAULLE utterances took it to mean that the French president expected a clearer understanding of French-German differences to emerge from the meeting but little success in solving them.

Diplomacy, it's wonderful. It lets you know exactly what it doesn't mean.

Basic Economic Savvy Need of All Americans

Much discussion is given to the need for an increasing supply of talented scientists and engineers to meet the demands of this technological age. This is vitally important. But, even so, it must not be allowed to obscure the need for greater understanding of our economic system, and of education which will provide that understanding.

That point was recently made by an officer of a major industrial organization, backed by a survey showing that only 5 per cent of our high school graduates have ever had a course in economics and seven out of nine instructors teaching the subject have had less than a one-year course.

Even worse, only one college graduate in four is even exposed to a course in economics. And, said the executive, the survey shows that 9 out of 10 people are convinced that every corporation makes a profit in the average year, when in reality more than a third show a loss.

"Four out of 10 citizens think our businesses make too much profit," said the industrialist, "yet they have no idea what those profit levels are. The median public estimate is a profit level of 20 per cent on sales, or about five times the 4 per cent on sales which is actually earned."

All the scientific knowledge that man can devise will do little good unless there is understanding of what makes our economic system tick and of what it means in terms of freedom, not just material abundance, to all Americans.

LBJ Secretive on Viet Strategy

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The Johnson administration is trying to keep the Communist world guessing on what's next in Viet Nam but it's having the same effect on this country and, apparently, on Republicans, too.

President Johnson, who talks a lot on many subjects and held two news conferences in the past week, plays the cards close on Viet Nam to avoid tipping off the Reds and giving them time to prepare.

But the result is a general vagueness on what's cooking although what's in the pot doesn't look good and he was frank to say so.

At his news conference last week, he said things in Viet Nam would get worse before they got better and the number of troops there would have to exceed the announced goal of 75,000.

Did this mean calling up reserves or increasing the draft call? Johnson said, "We will be in a better condition to act upon matters of that kind" after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returns from Viet Nam.

WEEK-LONG SURVEY
McNamara, accompanied by Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., nominated to be U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam, left Wednesday for Saigon for a week-long survey. Before they took off, McNamara held a news conference.

What he said was interpreted as meaning there might soon be need to mobilize reserves, increase draft calls and extend the enlistment of men on active duty.

Thursday, The Associated Press reported the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff have unanimously recommended boosting American forces in South Viet Nam to 175,000 by the end of the year, or more than 100,000 above the 75,000 now scheduled to be there.

But, shortly after arriving in Viet Nam late Thursday, McNamara denied the Joint Chiefs of Staff had unanimously recommended an increase in combat troops.

ONE OF 'PRIME MISSIONS'

He didn't mention other forces and then added the use of combat troops was one of the "prime missions" of his trip.

If this leaves the question of far larger forces for Viet Nam up in the air, the two top Republican leaders in Congress don't seem better informed on this subject than the general public.

Thursday Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said they want to be consulted about a call-up of reserves or any large-scale commitments of troops beyond the limits already indicated by the administration.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

O sing unto the Lord a new song:
sing unto the Lord, all the earth... Psalm 96

Dr. Lee Hastings Bristol Jr., has and is "singing unto the Lord a new song." His vital faith and talent has led him into many areas of service. Trained in the multiple careers of business, music and lay ministry, Dr. Bristol found conflict in sustaining them all.

After many successful years in business his music and lay ministry won out. In 1962 he accepted the presidency of Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N.J., a unique interdenominational institution which prepares young men and women for positions of musical leadership in churches and schools. Dr. Bristol's dynamic faith has been expressed in his lay sermons in the Episcopal church, in his books and articles, and in his sacred music. Composer of many hymns and organ compositions, he says, "Music transcends language in bringing people together who couldn't otherwise communicate." Now he is instilling that faith in young people at Westminster Choir College who will in turn instill it in others through music.

Dr. Bristol believes that "service is the rent we pay for our place on earth."

Attendance Is Problem

Church Eyes Young Adult Needs

United Press International
There are 30 million young adults between the ages of 18 and 29 in America today. A large majority have nothing to do with the church.

How to reach this big segment of the population is an urgent concern of all denominations.

On the premise that the first step in ministering to any group of people is to learn something about them, the Methodist Church four years ago assigned several clergymen to infiltrate the young adult world in San Francisco, Dallas and Wilmington, Del.

Their job was not to seek converts or talk up religion, but simply to look and listen, to find out as much as possible about the attitudes, values, aspirations and needs of young adults.

Their findings were reported by the Rev. Charles E. Mowry, coordinator of the research project, to a recent conference of Methodist officials at Highland Park, Ill.

Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Saturday, July 17, the 180th day of 1965 with 167 to follow.
The moon is approaching its last quarter.
The morning stars are Saturn and Jupiter.
The evening stars are Venus and Mars.
On this day in history:
In 1821, Florida was formally ceded by Spain to the United States.
In 1841, the English humor periodical, Punch, was first published.
In 1898, the Spanish Civil War began as Gen. Francisco Franco led army forces in a revolt against the republican government.

In 1948, southern Democrats from 13 states met in Birmingham, Ala., and organized a state's rights party to oppose the Truman-Barkley ticket. Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina was nominated for president.

Here are some things they learned which should interest not only church leaders but all members of the older generation... who have trouble communicating with young adults:

There is in America today a distinct, and in many ways self-contained, young adult culture. Its members reject many of the values and institutions of the dominant adult culture. Their formative experiences have been "the ultimate difference" from those of the generation which lived through the depression, the new deal and World War II.

Their view of what life is like has been influenced by cold wars, nuclear weapons, urbanization, automation, population explosion, swift technological advance, and widespread affluence.

They are a serious generation, "devoted to inquiry, doubt and questioning." They "meet change with excitement rather than resistance."

They have fewer absolutes in their value systems. Their ethic "places a greater value on relationships as contrasted with the preceding generations' value on virtues." They attach vast importance to "complete honesty, frankness in truth and realism, and are less concerned about 'niceness' and ritualized propriety."

A QUAINOT NOTION

One of the quaint notions of their elders which they have largely discarded is the tendency to treat sex as "the ultimate of ultimates." Although they are not prudish about sex, they have come to believe that "it is far more intimate to know another person in depth without sex than to sleep with another without knowing that person."

They are more tolerant, more willing to accept and relate to people whose way of life differs from their own, than their elders. This trait is particularly noticeable in their attitude toward such outcaste groups as homosexuals.

They are non-joiners. They tend to look with skepticism upon all institutions which are held in high favor by their elders.

ers, and particularly upon the church.

Even though they are disenchanted with the institutional church, they are acutely interested in religious questions, especially the basic questions about the meaning of life and the destiny of man.

They shy away from the institutional church because they find it too often is not interested in helping them work out their own honest answers to these questions, but is rather trying to entangle them in the support of its own programs.

Spacemen 'Waived' Off to Paris

By WASHINGTON STAFF
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Here is an untold story about the way National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) officials rustled up 11 passports in one hour when the President made a snap decision to send astronauts Ed White and James McDivitt to the Paris air show a white back.

The two veteran Air Force pilots were honored guests at a State Department party when the word came that they were to leave for Paris in a few hours.

A NASA official had "passport photos" snapped of McDivitt, White and others of the overseas party as they stood around at the reception. Then he dug up a key passport official.

Asked the official of the NASA man: "Got their birth dates?"
The answer: "No."
Passport man: "We'll waive

Voice of the People:

'Let's Preserve Right to Voluntary Unionism'

The upcoming congressional vote to eliminate Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Law, which gives American working people a freedom of choice, should be carefully watched by all American voters. It is now clear that any Congressman who votes to take away the protection of 14B is "owned" by Union Labor dictators. There can be no other conclusion.

Why should we fight for freedom of the working classes abroad — and give it away to labor bosses at home? Why should we fight regimentation of people abroad and allow ourselves to be regimented for the benefit of the union hierarchy at home? Why should we spend money and lives fighting dictators who grab power abroad, and pass laws to strengthen the power of labor dictators at home?

Why should we claim to fight monopoly here in America, yet vote to strengthen the biggest monopoly — the power of labor unions here at home? Why would we advocate separation of church and state and practice a partnership between big union labor and our own American government? As someone recently said, with 14B eliminated, "you will be able to work without belonging to a church, but you won't be able to work without belonging to a union — and paying dues to a dictator."

Disagrees With Recent Tuition Increase

The action at the University of Michigan by Eugene Power and his Republican friends once again demonstrates Mr. Power's ability to talk low tuition and vote high tuition. This increase following the most reasonable, fair and responsible legislative appropriation in years defies the long-held belief that public universities should offer an equal opportunity to all students. It was a cruel betrayal of the students who had already enrolled at the University.

All colleges and universities could make good use of more money, but as we regents, governors and trustees should not pick the pockets of students. In my opinion, tuition is a most unfair tax. We should all support a fair tax reform program, based on ability to pay, that would provide adequate funds for all education and other state services.

I am certainly not moved by Governor Romney's defense of this shocking raid on the students' pocketbooks. His claim that tuition rates at the University of Michigan are a bargain compared with other great public institutions, except in a very few states noted for their lack of support to public institutions and concern for students, is not true. For the governor of a state to infer that a public university should be compared with private institutions is unfair and shows a lack of knowledge of our system of public education where doors should be open equally to all.

Says Cedarville Skipper Was at Fault

CHICAGO (AP)—The captain of the Norwegian ship Topdalsfjord testified Friday that a collision of his ship and freighter Cedarville in the Straits of Mackinac was the fault of the Cedarville's captain.

Capt. Martin Joppich of the Cedarville, which sank after the accident, was not present at the U.S. Coast Guard hearing, which will determine whether his license should be revoked.

Ten lives were lost when the U.S. Steel Corp's Cedarville sustained a gaping hole in her side after slicing across the Topdalsfjord's bow in a dense fog on May 7. The bodies of seven crew members were recovered and three are missing. About a dozen other crew members of the Cedarville were injured.

Roman T. Keenen, attorney for Joppich, entered pleas of innocent to four charges of negligent seaman ship against Joppich. The main charge is that of excessive speed in a fog.

APPEARED SUDDENLY
Capt. Rasmus Haaland of

Olo, Norway, master of the Norwegian-American line's Topdalsfjord, said the Cedarville appeared suddenly in the fog, moving at an excessive speed, and without sounding any signals.

Haaland said his own ship was proceeding at a slow speed because of the fog and reduced visibility when the collision occurred about 9:45 a.m.

Keenen, however, said in his opening statement that it was "unfortunate these proceedings are not more properly directed toward Capt. Haaland."

"We believe the evidence will show not only that Capt. Joppich was not guilty of these charges," Keenen continued, "but that he did a marvelous job throughout the collision." He also said the evidence would show "the Topdalsfjord crew threw up their hands and said the collision was inevitable and did nothing to prevent it."

CIVILIAN EXAMINER

The hearing by Charles Carroll, civilian hearing examiner for the Coast Guard, will determine if Joppich was guilty, and if so, if his license will be revoked or suspended.

Another hearing is set for Aug. 24 at St. Ignace, Mich., where the Norwegian ship expects to be in port.

Astronaut Trainee Unhurt in Accident

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A helicopter dragged astronaut Elliot M. See Jr. through the water at the end of a harness line Friday during a training exercise in the Gulf of Mexico.

See, 37, a civilian from Dallas, Tex., released the harness after about 15 feet, swam to a one-man life raft and was lifted into the helicopter. He was not injured.

The accident occurred while See and Neil Armstrong, 34, backup crewmen for the Gemini 5 spacecraft, were practicing water escape methods from a dummy Gemini capsule.

New Antitrust Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I will enforce the antitrust laws as fairly as I can," the nation's new chief trust buster says.

Toast Is Old Custom at Dinner

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I have been told that at the bachelor dinner, after the bridegroom-to-be proposes a toast to the bride and all have drunk, the glasses are then broken.

Will you please tell me if this is true, and if so, what is the meaning behind this?
A: It is a time-honored custom which is followed to this day.

After drinking the bride's health, the stems of the glasses used to drink the toast are broken so that they "might never serve a less honorable purpose."

Q: Will you please tell me if and when it is proper for a man who has received a doctor's degree (other than that of medicine, surgery or dentistry) to use the title doctor before his name?
A: When the title is an earned or honorary one indicating that a man or woman has received a degree in such a faculty as divinity, law, philosophy, or literature, it is used mainly in professional work.

In private life, he may continue to call himself "Mister." In any event, he usually uses "Mr." or no title at all on visiting cards and in club or social directories.

His friends and acquaintances may wish to call him "Doctor" in courtesy.

The clothes of the bride's and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception."

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Religious Husband Needs Refresher Bible Lesson

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My problem is that my husband will not let me visit my sister. She lives in Nevada. She was married once, had a child, and then had the marriage annulled. She married again, briefly, but it didn't work out, so she got a divorce.

She is now living with a man who has a legal separation from his wife. He can't get a divorce because of religious reasons. He treats my sister very well and is a wonderful father to her son.

She has many good qualities, we understand each other, and I love her. My husband doesn't even want me to talk to her on the phone. Abby, I'm her only sister and she has no one else to confide in.

ABBY

My husband is afraid she will be a bad influence on me. He is a very religious man and his word is law. What should I do?

ONLY SISTER

DEAR SISTER: A religious man should know something of forgiving seventy times seven. And if he chooses to ignore that, refer him to John (New Testament) which suggests that he who is without sin cast the first stone.

DEAR ABBY: My sister is a 28-year-old divorcee. She's very good-looking and a live wire. She has no children. She met a man in Florida last winter. He is 55 years old but doesn't look it. My sister has convinced him that life begins at 40. He wants to marry her, but here's the problem: This man wants my sister to keep a kosher kitchen. She's never done it before and hates to go to all that bother.

Do you think she should keep kosher for this man?

DEAR BEA: Not unless the man is Jewish.

Carol Duncan Weds Today at The Kirk

A reception in Rotunda Country Inn followed the marriage of Carol Lynn Duncan to George F. King Jr. of Tempe, Ariz., today, at Kirk-in-the-Hills.

An Empire sheath gown of white silk organza over tulle for the daughter of the John F. Duncans of Stanhope Street, West Bloomfield Township, featured inset flowers at the scoop neckline and skirt border.

BOUFFANT VEIL
Her bouffant veil was a French illusion. She carried white roses, Shasta daisies and stephanotis.

Peggy Duncan of St. Clair Shores was her cousin's honor attendant at the double-ring rite performed by Rev. Raymond H. Roache.

Mrs. Albert Dugan, Ann Arbor, and Mrs. Douglas Forrester of Detroit, wearing tangerine organza, were bridesmaids.

William E. Hoke was best man for the son of Mrs. George F. King of Clarkdale, Ariz., and the late Mr. King. William Mikesch of Royal Oak and Perry Penniston of Dayton, Ohio, ushered.

RESIDE IN TEMPE

The couple will spend a few days in Michigan en route to their new home in Tempe. She is an alumna of Alma College and attended the University of Grenoble, France. Mr. King was graduated from Arizona State University.

Southern Wedding Trip Follows Noon Ceremony

Dr. and Mrs. Albert John LaMontagne (Edwina Elinor Schaeffer) left for a honeymoon in Miami Beach after their marriage today in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Auburn Heights.

Their parents are the Edwin M. Schaeffers of Peveril Road, and the Arthur J. LaMontagnes of Southfield.

The bride's Empire gown of white peau de soie was styled with Alencon lace bodice and floor length A-line skirt. A lace and pearl tulle cradled her illusion veil. She carried white orchids, roses and stephanotis.

A reception in Devon Gables followed the noon ceremony performed by the Rev. Henry Kraft.

The couple who will reside in Royal Oak was graduated from Wayne State University and the University of Detroit School of Dentistry, respectively.

Edwina Elinor Schaeffer, daughter of the Edwin M. Schaeffers of Peveril Road became the bride of Dr. Albert John LaMontagne, son of the Arthur J. LaMontagnes of Southfield, today, in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Auburn Heights.

Blazers in Style for Any Season

There's no longer a season for blazers — they're excellent fashion all the time, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

But colors shift with the time of year and, right now, blazers in light denim blue and French blue are highly popular. Watch the continued growth of separate tuxedo jackets of brocade fabric or moires, to be worn with conventional black formal trousers. These have not been big sellers as yet, but the comparatively few that have been worn this season created an enormous amount of interest.

Canadian Scandal Figure Back in Police Custody

MONTREAL (AP) — Lucien Rivard, central figure in a government scandal, was back in police custody today and U.S. officials were reported seeking his swift extradition to face narcotics charges in Texas.

Rivard, 46, was captured Friday in a secluded cottage on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, 15 miles southwest of here. He and another prisoner had escaped March 2 from Montreal's Bordeaux Prison where he was awaiting extradition. The other prisoner has been recaptured.

A federal grand jury in Laredo, Tex., had indicted Rivard and three others on charges of conspiracy in a $56-million narcotics smuggling operation via Mexico. After his escape, Rivard was ordered extradited with the others, who have been turned over to U.S. authorities.

Rivard's arrest climaxed a nationwide manhunt. Police declined to give details of the arrest. However, a detective told newsmen that two other men were taken into custody with the narcotics suspect.

Police had offered a $15,000

reward for information leading to Rivard's capture.

Pierre Lamontagne, a Montreal lawyer who acted for the U.S. government during the extradition hearings, said he and U.S. authorities are "exploring all possibilities" of getting Rivard out of Canada quickly.

Lamontagne broke the scandal when he reported he had been pressured to obtain Rivard's release from Bordeaux jail on bail.

Raymond Denis, a former executive assistant to the immigration minister, allegedly offered a $20,000 bribe to Lamontagne. Denis, arrested Wednesday, had been fired by Immigration Minister Rene Tremblay last October.

A royal commission inquiry was conducted by Quebec Chief Justice Frederick Dorian. He issued a report last month criticizing Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's justice minister, Guy Favreau, for dropping an investigation into the bribery allegations. Favreau, leader of Quebec's Liberal party in Quebec Province, resigned but the Cabinet absolved him of any wrongdoing. Pearson kept him in the government as president of the Privy Council.

Legislators
End State Tour
at Isle Royal

HOUGHTON (AP)—Members of the Michigan legislature's committee on tourism and conservation touring Upper Michigan will spend the weekend at Isle Royal before heading home.

The tour, which started a week ago at Mackinac Island, served to acquaint the lawmakers with several new projects that hopefully will attract more tourists to the Upper Peninsula. They include a new water ski show at Iron Mountain planned to rival the famous Florida shows, a Great Lakes Memorial park and marina at Menominee, another park at St. Ignace and other projects.

The tour was arranged by the Michigan State Tourist Council with help from the Department of Conservation.

"This dramatic and rather recent upswing in preparation for an expanding travel industry is based on educational research and is coming about because of close teamwork among private and public interests, local leaders and state and federal agencies," Dr. Clark Gunn, a tourism specialist from Michigan State University, told the group here.

Ken Dorman, director of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association at Houghton, said Friday that "no portion of the trip is being financed by state funds."

"Transportation costs are coming from a fund supported by area banks, utilities, industry and service businesses," he added.

First Church of God Wants to Serve Community

BRIGHT SUN — Trying to keep back the hot rays of a burning sun are (from left) Lester L. McFarland, of 73 Prall; Kimberly Burgher, 10, of 1333 Mount Clemens; and Barbara Kincaid, 12, of 822 Palmer. The three are enjoying a boat ride on the church's pond, part of the 16-acre recreation site surrounding their church. The First Church of God offers use of the area to residents, by appointment.

Members of the First Church of God moved to their new building and 16-acre recreation site at 1333 Mount Clemens, in front of Galloway Lake, just this April.

Ever since then they have been developing the grounds for public use. It is their sincere desire to serve the community and be good neighbors.

The grounds contain a picnic area, ball diamond, lagoon, barbecue area, small boat and fishing facilities, a spot for horseshoes and an open air chapel.

Pontiac area residents are welcome and invited to use the grounds upon appointment.

For 41 years the First Church of God has served Pontiac area residents.

REVIVAL MEETING

It was born out of a revival meeting with Rev. Clyde Thompson of Muskegon as evangelist. Services were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown on Center St. for two years.

The laity plays an important part, as it is believed that the ministry is to be performed by the total church. The church is nondenominational and strongly evangelistic.

Members of all ages attend both Sunday School and church.

A visitation program has been set up to keep in touch with shut-ins, those who are ill and members who have been absent.

Much of the visiting is done by the laity. Jean Crow is the regular church visitor.

YOUTH GROUP

The church's youth group is very active, even during the summer. They keep busy at tending camps and spirituals and will travel to St. Louis for a meeting the first week of August.

Mr. and Mrs. David Groves are in charge of the youth group.

The Ladies Missionary Society is an industrious group and works to support two main areas, Wounded Knee, N. D. and Greece.

Pastor of the church is Rev. Otis Burgher who came here from Welch, Va., Feb. 16, 1964.

Rev. Burgher and his wife, an organist, have three children, Otis D., Sara R., and Kimberly Ann.

FISHING — Sara Burgher, 1333 Mount Clemens, is trying her luck with a fishing pole at the lagoon on the grounds of the First Church of God. Fishing is one of the many activities offered on the 16-acre church site. Sara is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Otis Burgher.

RECORD BOOK — Sunday school teacher Mrs. Victor Chambers of 4661 Kempf, Waterford Township, is looking at the attendance record book held by her minister, Rev. Otis Burgher of the First Church of God. Shut-ins and absent Sunday school pupils are visited by the teachers and other members of the laity.

Confab Ends for Adventists

This weekend marks the end of the 97th annual convention of Michigan Adventists at Grand Lodge.

Many members of the Pontiac Seventh-Day Adventist Church, 111 Mount Clemens, are attending the convention with 15 to 18 thousand other church members from throughout Michigan.

Leading church officials from the international headquarters of the church, Washington D. C. and Gav. George Romney were among the featured speakers.

Each Friday evening at sunset, the Seventh-Day Adventists usher in their day of worship, which lasts until sunset Saturday.

No work or commercial activity is conducted during that time in accord with the Biblical instructions on which Adventists base their worship.

Interfaith Bureau on Family Life Set in Escanaba

ESCANABA — An interfaith family life bureau has been established here to serve adults and young adults.

The Upper Peninsula Family Life Bureau was established by Bishop Thomas L. Noa of the Marquette Catholic Diocese. It will be funded by the diocese.

The bureau's executive board is to be made up of two Catholic couples and two Protestant couples. A Catholic priest and a Protestant minister also sit on the board in a nonvoting role.

The bureau will offer courses in marriage for high school seniors as well as instruction for engaged couples.

Plans also call for workshops in family life work for clergy, teachers and others dealing with married couples and children.

Director will be Urban G. Steinmetz, a sociologist and a marriage counselor. He is believed to be the first layman in the country appointed full-time as head of such an organization under Catholic auspices.

EVANGELICAL TABERNACLE — Rev. A. J. Baughey, pastor of the Evangelical Tabernacle on Watkins Lake Road, is explaining the current camp meeting to his grand daughter, Tammy Baughey, of 2804 Page, Waterford Township, as John C. Hodge of Watkins Lake, mow the lawn in preparation for the event. The Pontiac Holiness Camp Meeting is being held on the church grounds, July 15-25.

Church Declares 'Bill Coffing Night'

William T. Coffing has resigned after 12 years of service to the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church as its choir director.

Tomorrow night has been designated as "Bill Coffing Night" by the Session of the church and two surprises have been planned for him during the service.

Special music will be provided by choir members at the 7 p.m. service. A mixed quartet number will be presented by Linda Schultz, Jeanne Shafer, Jim Webb and Dennis Mott.

Mrs. Ross Morton will sing a solo and a duet will be sung by Mrs. Gerald Shultz and Mrs. Stephen Hubbell.

The Berean Fellowship Sunday school class of which Mr. Coffing is a teacher will provide the refreshments following the worship hour.

The Sunday school began a special effort June 1 to add "100 new members in 100 days."

Forty-two members have been enrolled so far.

Pastor Theodore Allebach will preach on "Only Christ Offers Real Life" tomorrow morning.

Port Huron Church Is Due to Be Razed

PORT HURON — This city's oldest Catholic church, St. Stephen's, constructed 100 years ago, will be razed this year. A new St. Stephen's will be built on a 10-acre site on the outskirts of the city, parish officials revealed this week.

Blue Water area as early as 1670 to care for Indian tribes along the St. Clair River and Lake Huron, but it wasn't until the early 1800s that regular missionary work was inaugurated.

In Port Huron, Mass was first celebrated in a private home, then in a loft above a carpenter's shop. Later a church previously owned by Methodists was acquired.

Land on which the present church stands was donated by a private family and the cornerstone was laid in 1865.

The pages and heroes of history are receding from us, and history contracts the record of their deeds into a narrower and narrower page. But time has no power over the name and deeds and words of Jesus Christ.—William Channing, American writer and orator.

Join With Social Service Agencies

Center Result of Catholics, Protestants

DETROIT — Two churches near downtown Detroit — one Catholic and the other Lutheran — have joined forces with three social service agencies in an all-out effort to solve community problems by using new ideas.

Known as the Interfaith Community Center, the grass-roots program is being coordinated by Richard Peck, who is on leave from his post as a family counselor at Wayne County Catholic Social Services.

Working with Peck are Marvis Spencer, a native of Jamaica, who is special program supervisor on loan from the Protestant Community Services, and Frank Alloto, group work supervisor who is from the Catholic Youth Organization (CYO).

The Interfaith Center is the product of eight months of planning by a committee composed of the Rev. Henry Langhals, CPPS, pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic Church; his assistant, the Rev. Paul Schenk, CPPS the Rev. Larry Gotts, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, and key personnel of Wayne County Catholic Social Services, the CYO and Protestant Community Services.

The center, housed in a building donated by a retired businessman, has made a survey of the needs of 500 of the 1200 families living in the neighborhood.

"Now that we know what these needs are, we plan to bring into our area other social agencies to work with us rather than organize one agency to do everything," Peck said. "Representatives of a number of agencies — the Michigan Employment Security Commission, Visiting Nurses Association and the Detroit Welfare Department to mention only a few will come to the Center where they can be contacted easier."

Without regard to race or creed, the Center already has started special programs for children with social behavior and school problems and for mothers on public assistance and for senior citizens.

Orchard Lake Church Marks 91st Birthday

Orchard Lake Community Church will tomorrow be celebrating the 91st anniversary of the Orchard Lake Chapel. It was originally dedicated on July 18, 1874.

For 65 years the chapel served as a summer place of worship. A Sunday school and regular worship services began in 1899.

The present church was organized in 1943 with the Rev. Barney Roepeck as Pastor.

Special missionary interests include work in Japan, Mexico, Iran, Arizona, Tennessee and New Mexico.

It is the policy of the church to be prepared to minister to all who choose to worship there.

Dr. Cleland will deliver both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. sermons. The full chancel choir will sing at both services and two sessions of Sunday School will be held concurrently with worship services.

A contributor to the Interpreter's Bible, Dr. Cleland is also the author of two books. He has been the James B. Duke Professor of Preaching in the Divinity School at Duke since 1954.

REV. DR. JAMES T. CLELAND
The Rev. Dr. James T. Cleland, dean of the chapel at Duke University, will be guest preacher at the Kirk in the Hills tomorrow morning.

A Prayer for the End of the Day

I knelt to pray when day was done, and prayed, "O Lord, bless everyone; Lift from each saddened heart the pain, and let the sick be well again." And then I awoke another day, and carelessly went on my way.

The whole day long I did not try to wipe a tear from any eye; I did not try to share the load of another brother on the road; I did not even go to see the sick man next door to me. Yet once again when day was done, I prayed, "O Lord bless everyone."

But as I prayed, there came a voice into my ear; There came a voice that whispered clear, "Pause, hypocrite before you pray; Whom have you tried to bless today?"

"God's sweetest blessings always go, By hands that serve Him here below."

And then I hid my face and cried, "Forgive me God, for I have lied, let me but live another day, And I will live the way I pray." — First Congregational Church Bulletin.

Area Youths Off on Alaskan Trip
Nine youths from this area will leave on a three-week trip to Alaska today, after earning and saving one-third of the fare. Parents will pay the remainder.

The boys will be accompanied by and under the supervision of Edward J. Kuhn, 2288 N. Lake Angelus, a teacher of social studies. It will be his ninth annual trip at his own expense.

Kuhn took a similar trip when he was eleven years old, and was so impressed that he has organized similar treks which are open to any boy who will earn his share of the cost.

Church Will Honor Rev. S. M. Edwards

The Rev. S. M. Edwards and the congregation of Liberty Baptist Church will be guests of the Antioch Missionary B. A. P. Church tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in honor of Rev. Edwards' 6th anniversary.

Refreshments will be served in the church's fellowship room.

The Sunday School and Women's Auxiliary will be in charge of the devotional services.

Whether a man lives or dies in vain can be measured only by the way he faces his own problems, by the success or failure of the inner conflict within his own soul. And of this no one may know save God.—James Conant, American scientist and educator.

Plan Novena to Saint
St. Michael's Church will begin a novena to St. Anne tonight at 7:30. It will continue until July 25.

Fast Action Pledged on Auto Claims Act

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James H. and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley plan early action to implement Michigan's motor vehicle accident claims act, signed Friday by Gov. George Romney.

The law establishes a fund to aid victims of accidents caused by uninsured drivers.

Hare, whose department will administer the fund, said he would start an immediate search for director and members of the 22-member board.

Kelley ordered three members of his staff to begin setting up plans for implementation of legal aspects of the new law.

FORMAL OPINION

He said his staff is now preparing a formal opinion in answer to questions about the act

asked by Senate Majority Leader Raymond Drendzel, D-Detroit.

"I feel that a cooperative effort by the proper state agencies, the legal profession, the insurance industry and an informed public will bring more than just beneficial to the entire community," said Kelley.

Kelley, Hare and Romney all praised the act as a major step to helping victims of uninsured drivers. Romney was supportive from his chief legislative backer for changes he said would strengthen the fund's actuarial soundness.

Beginning Nov. 1, the fund will collect $1 from the owner of each insured motor vehicle and $25 from the owner of each uninsured vehicle. A first-year fund of more than $18 million is anticipated, based on vehicle registrations.

FUND PAYMENTS

The fund will pay up to $10,000 for an individual's injuries, $25,000 for all injuries in a given accident and $5,000 in property damage caused by an uninsured driver.

Hare said the payer of the $1 fee would receive cheaper uninsured motorist coverage under the fund than under private policies.

He said the $25 paid by the uninsured driver fund in no sense an insurance policy—it merely permits such a driver to operate in Michigan.

An uninsured driver responsible for an accident on which the fund pays a claim will lose his driving privilege until he has the amount of the claim.

Claims will be accepted after next Jan. 1. Hare estimated about 1,000 will be filed in the first month. No claims for less than $50 will be honored.

Can Force Repairs

Slum Housing Bill Is Signed

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney Friday signed a measure designed to force repair or even allow removal of substandard dwellings in which the owner does not reside.

It was among 34 measures signed by the governor, including a $24.1 million school aid bill—up $7.9 million from 1964-65—and an auto vehicle accident claims fund.

The housing measure gives owners 90 days to correct violations, and then allows the local government unit to make repairs and charge the owner for them.

If no one has lived in the dwelling for six months, the local unit can either repair or remove the property.

PROPERTY LIEN

If the owner does not pay the charges, they become a lien upon the property.

Romney also signed a bill allowing a person 10 years after the conviction of a person under 21, to set aside that conviction if the person's behavior since then warrants it.

Excluded would be persons who had been convicted of more than one criminal offense or an offense punishable by life imprisonment.

Eight of the bills signed Friday affect senior citizens. They include a measure prohibiting an insurance company from cancelling or increasing premiums or failing to renew automobile coverage after a person is 65, if he still has a valid driver's license.

ELDERLY CARE

They also include expansion of medical assistance for those aged to include a dental program and extension of the same $140 a month benefits to those in medical care facilities as were extended in 1964 to those in convalescent homes.

Romney signed bills creating three new boards or councils—a law enforcement officer training council, a state fire safety board and a state board of horology—to regulate watchmakers.

He also signed a bill providing that in townships candidates for township office shall be nominated at primary elections rather than by caucus as now is done in about one-half of Michigan's townships.

Jester Scenes Above Living Room Sofa Emphasize Room's Alice Blue Accents

background for LIVING

Blues Dominate Living Room

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press
Evidence of Rex A. Terry's interest in the Age of Chivalry is found throughout the Terrys' gracious home on Waddington Road, Bloomfield Township.

Hanging on the red brick wall of the staircase is a relief of St. George and the dragon in polished and antique cast iron.

Cool blues dominate the color theme of the nearby living room; gray-blue walls, deeper blue carpeting and a Alice-blue draperies.

On the pecan drum table near the sofa, covered in an Alice-blue on white embroidered linen, are two mementos from a trip to the Orient, a Japanese inkstand and an ivory Chinese shore scene.

The shore scene, mounted on ebony, is hand-carved from a single block of ivory. Resembling an open oyster shell, inside are tiny men, trees and Chinese junks.

SCULPTURED DETAIL

The sculptured detail expressing the scurrying waterfront on a typical workday is fantastic.

A child's rocker in the room was used by the Terrys' daughter, Pamela, when she was small. Pam is now a student at Western Michigan University.

"The Japanese doll on the corner table," said Mrs. Terry "is over 100 years old."

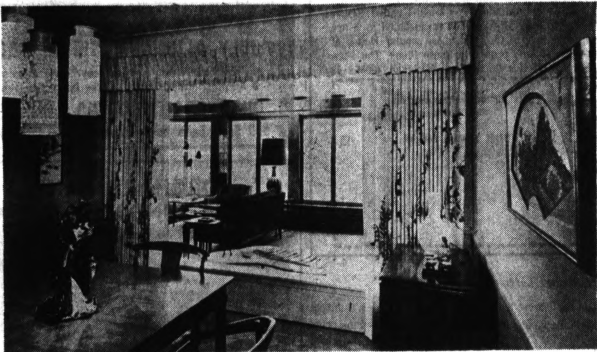

Protected by a glass globe, her embroidered floral gown is in perfect condition. She carries a cherry-blossom branch in her hands. Complementing the room's blues are button-back chairs upholstered in a shocking, light and deep-pink thread-striped boucle.

The informal family room adjoining is paneled in birch and floored in slate.

Warm tones of gold, bitter-sweet, black, caramel and chartreuse blend in the contemporary floral fabric of the sofa.

In the room's informal dining area, a round walnut pedestal table centers a curvy shag oval. Black-leather chairs complete the arrangement.

UNUSUAL SPLIT: This most popular split level of the last five years has an unconventional exterior, plus an interior which places the living room two steps down from the dining room and includes a number of other interesting features.

Most Popular Split Has Novel Design

Regular readers of the House of the Week series know that we have been doing continuous research on the most popular homes presented in recent years.

One of these proved to be a one-story, expandable house; another, a two-story traditional.

This time we are bringing you the most popular split level of the last five years. It's a somewhat unconventional split level, both inside and out.

A different approach to basic split-level living produces a balcony dining room and a glamorous living room.

The living room, usually on the middle level with the dining room and kitchen, has been dropped down to within two steps of the first level.

The relationship between these two rooms is further dramatized by liberal use of decorative wrought iron railing.

Architect Herman H. York has given the outside of the house an unusual look for a split level by blending the upper roof into the roof over the lower section and extending a horizontal cornice line across the entire front in an unbroken sweep.

Another special feature is the outdoor dining deck directly behind the kitchen and on the same level.

It's connected by stairway to the ground level terrace behind the recreation room and makes a pleasant setting for outdoor relaxation or dining, with food service possible from either the kitchen or an outdoor barbecue in the rear yard.

There are 1230 square feet of living area on the bedroom and living levels, with 508 square feet in the foyer, recreation room and study on the entrance level.

With the entrance on the ground level, a minimum of grading is necessary on level or gently sloping lots.

The entrance is sheltered and nicely framed on both sides.

Inside the front door, both the coat closet and powder room open on the foyer.

The long sight lines from the foyer through the recreation room and its sliding glass doors to the rear terrace, and across the 18-foot living room, contribute to a feeling of spaciousness.

Family areas of the house can be reached from the front entrance without entering the living room.

A half-flight of stairs from the recreation room reaches the dining room alongside the kitchen door.

And a U-turn at that point takes you the rest of the way up to the bedroom level.

Off the recreation room to the left is a small study, guest room or fourth bedroom. The kitchen is 18 feet long, with ample space for family meals.

UPPER LEVEL

On the upper level are three bedrooms and a large bath. The bath is accessible from the hallway and from the master bedroom through a compact dressing room. The master bedroom also has a walk-in closet.

Architect York has indicated stone on the front facade, but brick may be substituted without materially changing the character of the design.

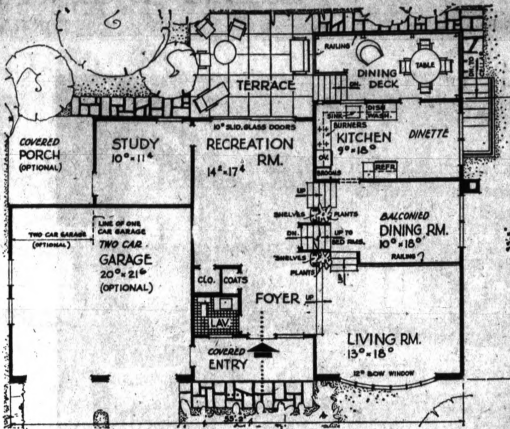

Should a fireplace be desired a chimney can be located outside the living room wall at the side.

The small basement can be reached either from the recreation room or from an exterior entrance sunken at the right rear corner of the house.

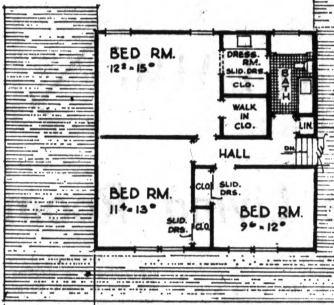

Wood Beam Trellis Filters Patio Sunlight

A trellis of horizontal wood beams filters the sunlight over patio and provides an attractive architectural device.

Since the lumber is exposed directly and constantly to the weather, it should be pressure treated with chemical preservatives.

LOWEL LEVELS: Recessed entry provides shelter for the trip from front door to garage. There is choice of routes to upper level, either from foyer or from recreation room.

ROOF OF ALTERNATE TWO CAR GARAGE
BEDROOM LEVEL. Master bedroom is equipped with walk-in closet and dressing room which leads to main bath.

Mud Room Is Big Boon to Mothers

The way kids keep getting into dirt and bringing it inside, keeping the house clean can be an endless job. Wouldn't it be nice if you could have down the rascals before they track it all in?

You can do the next best thing by installing a "mud room" with bathroom facilities near the back door or kitchen.

There the entire family can shed dirty or wet footwear and clothing before entering the rest of the house. Children at play can use it without "demolishing" the other bedrooms. A drink of water can be gotten without soiling the kitchen.

Mother after gardening or dad after painting both need a similar place to clean up and change clothes. Many times, tools, equipment and play things are kept in the same area — meaning they stay out of the house, yet are easily accessible.

Another mud room convenience in many homes is the shower bath. This is ideal for both youngsters and grownups alike, who can use it after work, play or a trip to the beach. Since mud rooms are so perfect for cleanups, many homeowners combine them with hobby or workshop areas. Still another variation is the mud room-laundry room combination, with the laundry tub doubling as a clothes-soaker and cleanup basin.

Use Special Paints, Brushes

Now Masonry Can Be Painted Easily

The many alkali resistant paints on the market today together with special brushes and rollers for masonry surfaces have made painting masonry a relatively simple matter.

But, as in most simple tasks, there are right ways and wrong ways. These tips will help you secure a better paint job with minimum effort.

First, be sure that the surface is clean, cracks, indentations and spalls filled, and the surface otherwise intact before painting.

Wash away oil and grease; remove dirt and other materials with a wire brush.

If there is a white salt-like material adhering to concrete, stucco or mortar, it is probably efflorescence. This is caused by moisture which dissolves salts in the interior of alkaline materials and carries them to the surface.

Efflorescence must be removed before painting or re-painting by brushing — do not wet or more crystals may appear. Painting seals the masonry surface and will help prevent efflorescence and damp walls.

Select the right, quality paint. Remember, concrete is quite alkaline and alkali is not a friend of many paints. Cement is in concrete, brick, stone mortar, cluder blocks and stucco to mention a few masonry surfaces.

Alkaline resistant paints include: latex paints designed for use on masonry; Portland cement paints; oil base stucco and masonry paints; solvent-thinned rubber-base paints; catalyzed coatings (best applied by a professional); and bituminous coatings (used primarily below grade and not recommended where appearance is a factor).

The purpose of the painting, the condition of the surface and the expected exposure all combine to dictate the selection of the right paint.

Consequently, these factors should be related to your local reputable paint dealer and he will help you choose the right paint for every masonry painting project.

There are many quality alkali resistant paints and each has its advantages and disadvantages. For example, latex paints for use on masonry surfaces can be used with confidence.

VARIETY OF COLORS

They come in a wide variety of colors, are water thinned and can be applied on a damp surface. Indeed, the surface should be dampened before applying the first coat.

Oil base stucco and masonry paints are similar to conventional house paints in many respects. Their flat or low sheen qualities tend to hide these paints produce good results.

Steel in Homes Shows Increase

In the view of steel marketing experts, anyone who builds a home within 10 years will utilize an average of five tons of steel as compared with the present use of 1.5 tons.

Steelways, publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, says steel is usually used in the frame while exteriors are conventional materials such as brick and wood.

After World War II, the steel industry thought steel could simply be substituted for wood. However, the public was not interested, preferring steel used with other materials in home construction.

Inside the home, porcelain-steel bathtubs represent 40 per cent of the market.

Tile Dados Clean Easily

Homeowners can profitably take a tip from modern hospitals by using easy-to-clean materials on wall areas most susceptible to dirt and grime.

Many modern hospitals use a ceramic tile wainscots on all well-traveled hallways because of its easy cleanability.

Similar thoughts can be applied to busy halls and entranceways in the home, where ease of maintenance assures easier living.

Sentiment Can Sway Woman Home Buyer
Women often are attracted to a house for sentimental reasons. They will jump at the chance to buy a house that has charm and one outstanding feature, and so many other drawbacks that it doesn't even make sense. Sometimes there isn't even room for the family.
"We can always add to it," are famous last words that have made some families miserable.
For one thing—you can't always add to it.
And for another—you can't always afford to add to it.
WRONG NOTION
There is a notion among house buyers that if you buy an eight-room house for $32,000 that you should certainly be able to add additional rooms at less than $4,000 each.
This doesn't always work out. Adding to a house can be a rich man's hobby, unless he can get materials at cost and do the work himself, or he lives in an area where labor is very cheap.
People who have had the experience of putting additions to a structure say they were appalled at the cost. In many cases they found it far better to sell the house and move to a larger one.
There are other reasons for deciding against an addition. If it is tacked on to a tiny house in a tiny-house neighborhood, it may look off base.
Many people do not like the big-flash-in-a-little-pool look, so the improvement may not increase the value of the house when the time comes to sell it.
Even if one has lots of land so that he could add without affecting the original appearance of the house, an addition is very serious business.
As costs of materials rise, we may not be able to duplicate the look of the old dwelling.
WIDE MARGIN
There is a wide margin in bids in the same neighborhood, in some instances.
Local carpenters often work

White Leads Wall Colors in Popularity
Off white heads the list of the top 10 wall colors in home decorating in 1964.
Lemon yellow is a close contender, reports a paint company. Benjamin Moore, in its regular analysis of popularity in home decorating colors.
Greens show in a variety of hues and tints, the company said.
Neutrals are predominantly earth tones and identified by such names as stone, bark, pebble and sand.
Beige still is in the upper half of the list but seems to be losing some of its glamor.
Also among the best sellers are antique gold, citron, light blue, stone gray and a soft, bluish pink.

Developers Add 48 Units
Construction began last week on an additional 48 units at the Independence Square Apartment complex, 3801 Dixie, Independence Township.
Scheduled for completion by fall, the complex will contain 92 units at a total development cost of approximately $1.25 million.
Sited on nine acres, the apartment complex has 650 feet of lake frontage on VanNorman Lake. It features a private beach, shuffleboard courts, boat docking and a club house.
All apartments have a private balcony with a glass door wall affording a scenic view of the lake.
Sound conditioned for convenience, the units also feature air conditioning and carpeting.
Developers of the complex are Clare E. Snell of Royal Oak, James G. Hartrick of 801 S. Adams, Birmingham, and Don White of 2891 Dixie, Waterford Township.

Tile Proves Practical
A quick check on the quality of building materials used in a home can be made easily on the inside.
The average bathroom has at least 120 square feet of ceramic tile, as both a decorative and practical surfacing.
If bathrooms are surfaced with ceramic tile it's a tip-off that the builder is quality conscious.

Sewer Back-Ups Often Not Insured
Damage caused by flooding from backed-up sewers is not generally covered by insurance.
Typical policies that provide coverage for some kinds of water damage, usually exclude flooding from floor drains and sewers.
For this reason, it's a good idea to have your local plumbing contractor install a backwater valve in cellar drains. A simple precaution such as that can save the homeowner hundreds of dollars.
The force of water backing up from storm and sanitary sewers has been known to break basement floors, weaken sub-foundations, and cause building walls to settle.
Not only does basement flooding damage property, it also creates an unwholesome sanitary condition resulting from the deposit of sediment and sewage.
Basement floor drains with backwater valves are simple in construction and operation. The valve enclosure is a hinged metal flap, normally open to permit continuous circulation of air through the drain.
It swings wide to provide a full waterway for drainage from the basement to the storm sewer. It closes instantly with a slight seal at the slightest sign of reverse flow.
Such a floor drain, installed by a competent plumbing contractor, is the homeowner's best

It's taken Sandy Koufax 10 years, but he's finally made it. As a hitter.

Koufax, one of the best pitchers in baseball but previously one of the worst hitters, continued his surprising batting pace Friday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the Chicago Cubs 3-0 and remained just four percentage points behind National League-leading Cincinnati.

The 29-year-old Dodger ace rapped two key singles, setting up two runs and scoring the other.

The two-hit game, his fourth of the season and second in a row, rocketed his batting average to .227 with 15 hits in 66 times at bat. Never before has Koufax collected more than seven hits in a season. Never before has he batted better than .123.

Australian Ace Closes Record Tour of Europe

PARIS (AP) — The record-keeper can relax for a while. Australia's Ron Clarke, who has set four major world track and field records, has finished his seven-week tour of Europe and isn't going to be running for a while.

Clarke and France's Michael Jary have rewritten most of the distance records this summer. Jary, who is now treating himself to a vacation, set records at one and two miles, 2,000 and 3,000 meters.

He closed out the tour in Paris Friday night by winning the 5,000 meters in a slow 13:55.8 pending mark he set two weeks ago.

LIFETIME MARK

In fact he went into the season with a .084 lifetime average, just a bit under Ty Cobb's all-time high of .267.

Before this year, Koufax had a more difficult time getting a hit off opposing pitchers than opposing batters had getting hits off him.

Fullback Bedridden

PEEKSKILL, N.Y. — Fullback Matt Snell, bedded with the flu for the last two days, hopes to join the other New York Jets in practice workouts Monday. Coach Webb Ewbank put his American Football League club through two workouts Friday.

But his performance against the Cubs was typical of the new Koufax.

With two out in the second inning, Jim Lefebvre singled. Instead of finding Koufax an easy third out, Cub pitcher Larry Jackson found the ball sailing into center field for a single.

Lefebvre stopped at second, then scored as Ernie Banks let Maury Wills' grounder get by him for an error. Koufax followed across as Jim Gilliam singled.

SCOOTED HOME

Then, in the sixth, Lefebvre walked with two out, and this time Koufax lived a single up the middle. Lefebvre again moved to second, then scooted home on Wills' single.

Oh yes. The victory was Koufax' 16th straight and 16th of the season — high in the majors — against three defeats. He posted his third shutout and lowered his earned run average to 2.82 while completing his 15th game in 22 starts.

He also extended his National League record by reaching 200 strikeouts for the fifth consecutive year. He fanned nine.

giving him a major league-leading total of 204, just 102 away from his NL record of 206.

Elsewhere in the National League, Cincinnati knocked off Philadelphia 5-1, Milwaukee crushed Pittsburgh 13-2, St. Louis trimmed New York 8-5 and San Francisco nipped Houston 2-1.

HOME RUN

Cincinnati's Sammy Ellis pitched a five-hitter for his 13th victory against four defeats. One of the Philadelphia hits was Johnny Callison's 18th home run in the ninth inning. The Reds scored two runs against Jim Running, 10-4, in the first when Dick Stuart dropped a two-out throw from Cookie Rojas.

two doubles. Rico Carty drove in three runs as the Braves handed Pittsburgh's Bob Veale his seventh setback against nine victories.

St. Louis erupted for six runs in the sixth inning, three on errors by Al Jackson and Roy McMillan, erasing a 4-2 New York lead. Bob Gibson brought his record to 11-7 although he gave up home runs to Charley Smith, Jesse Gonder, Johnny Lewis and Jim Hickman.

Bob Shaw held Houston to two hits through seven innings, one of them Joe Morgan's home run, and three Giant relievers held the Astros harmless the rest of the way. Dick Schofield singled across the winning run in 10 hits for Milwaukee, bringing his record to 10-7, and socked

Palmer Ready for Fast Finish

TORONTO (AP) — Arnold Palmer was set today to stage one of his old time fast finishes and win the $20,000 first prize in the $100,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship.

The better from Latrobe, Pa., started the final round of the 72-hole tournament with a 207, two strokes behind the 206 of the leader, Bruce Devlin of Australia, playing out of Hilton Head Island, S.C.

But Arnie has shown improvement in every round over the 6,828-yard Mississauga course and, unless his play falls off, he could easily make up the two-stroke deficit.

Palmer shot a par 70 in the first round Wednesday, a 69 Thursday and a 68 Friday. His 88 enabled him to make up three strokes on Devlin, who took a one-over-par 71 after a 68 opening day and a second round 66.

BIG JACK

Big Jack Nicklaus, the Masters champ from Columbus, Ohio, also is in a spot for a winning finish, although he missed a chance to take the lead or tie Devlin when he posted a two-over-par 72. That dropped him into a tie with Palmer at 207.

Mason Rudolph, of Clarksville, Tenn., and Gene Littler of Las Vegas, Nev., can't be counted out, either. Each shot a 69 Friday.

day to make it a four-way tie at 207.

When he finished Friday, Devlin said he didn't deserve to be leading. He declared his play was "the worst I've ever done in my life."

In the event of a tie for first place, a sudden death playoff will start immediately.

Wednesdays Gain Puts Mart Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market this week managed to produce the third of a string of weekly advances as the pace of trading simmered down considerably.

Actually, the week was ahead only by virtue of a strong session on Wednesday. Changes on average were trifling on the other days.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 4 1/2 to 899 1/2.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1 1/2 to 324.9.

GOOD REASONS

Wall Street seemed to have as good reasons as ever for selling stocks again. For one thing, President Johnson told his news conference on Tuesday that U.S. forces will soon be engaging in more active combat in Viet Nam and that "new and serious decisions" on the war may soon be necessary.

The stock market waited uncertainly until early afternoon for news of the Johnson conference, then wavered for the rest of the session. The next day it mounted a respectable rally on fairly good volume.

"It appears the market is getting used to the war news," said one analyst.

Volume for the week was 19,025,428 shares compared with 15,618,870 for the four-day trading week preceding.

BUILDING BASE

Some analysts said the market might be slowly building a base for the "traditional summer rally."

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Colorado Fuel & Iron, up 1/4 at 17 1/2; Pan American, up 1/4 at 17 1/2; McKesson & Robbins, up 1/4 at 4 1/4; Fairchild Camera, up 1/4 at 4 1/4; and Polaroid, up 1/4 at 6 1/4.

The five most active issues this week on the American Stock Exchange were:

Hits Dems for State of Viet Nam Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top House Republican has accused the Senate Democratic leadership of abandoning "rational debate and reasonable discussion" of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin made the assertion Friday in a statement aimed at Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield.

Laird, a frequent critic of the administration, has said the President might be close to losing GOP support on Viet Nam. He is chairman of the House Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield.

RAPPED FORD

His remarks followed Senate speeches by Mansfield on June 30 and July 8. Mansfield criticized House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan for what he said was a threat to withdraw support from Johnson unless he orders "indiscriminate slaughter of Vietnamese by air and naval bombardment."

Republicans have "proceeded in a reasonable and responsible manner," Laird said. "They have shown a spirit of fairness in standing up for the administration policy against Democratic critics of that policy."

Prices Shift Up and Down on Grain Mart

CHICAGO (AP)—Trade in the grain futures market was fairly active most of the time this week, and it kept prices shifting broadly and sometimes rapidly but they closed generally with little net change.

The varying pattern was by the day rather than by the hour, or as in the case of crop soybeans, by the minute. Monday, all commodities were under weakening selling pressure, which drove numerous contracts into sharp losses. The trend thereafter, though, was largely a slow recovery with setbacks small and temporary.

A good deal of the activity was toward balancing the commitments in the expiring delivery. The most effect, by far, was in old crop soybeans where prices swung over a range of 5 cents or so each day, finally closing weak.

In other contracts where actual market factors were more closely related, weather and condition of the growing crops were the guiding influences and those were bearish when other considerations were absent.

Wheat began to resume its long vacated role as a major commodity on the Board of Trade as volume climbed rapidly with speculators inclined toward at least a mildly bullish outlook over the long range.

Favorable soil moisture and growing conditions imparted some weakness to new crop corn and soybeans.

Business Notes

Two senior vice presidents of MacManus, John & Adams have been elected to the Bloomfield Hills advertising agency's board of directors, according to Ernest A. Jones, president.

Charles E. Felt, director of creative services, and James A. Walker, regional manager of the agency's Minneapolis, Minn., operations, were elected at a recent meeting of the board.

The M. A. Benson Lumber Co., Inc., 549 N. Saginaw, has been named a charter member of the Master Remodelers Guild, a national association of firms dedicated to upgrading the remodeling business.

Butcher Hogs Hold at Peaks

CHICAGO (AP)—The butcher hog market held at higher peaks this week than a week ago, but the tops were paid sparingly most days with trade never more than moderately active.

The supply of 24,000 head compared with 22,000 for the previous holiday week and two weeks ago. However, last week's best price of $25.50 was paid on only one day and two weeks ago it reached $25.75 only once.

The average price for the week was estimated at $24.80, up 38 cents from last week. A year ago it was $17.32.

Slougher steers under 1,150 lbs. finished the week $5 to 50 cents lower, others steady to 25 cents lower. It was the fourth consecutive week of a lower trend and dropped prices of prime grade as much as $2.50 from the peaks paid during the first week of June. Average choice grade was off 10 cents.

Bond Market Price Range Is Mixed to Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices were mixed to higher this week. U.S. Treasury bonds showed little change. Of 40 bonds on the over-the-counter list, 17 closed the week lower and 13 higher.

Corporate bonds, measured by the Associated Press Average of 60 issues, were higher on balance. Industrials showed a moderate gain while rails worked up slightly and utilities remained unchanged.

Volume of the New York Stock Exchange came to $14.2 million par value, more active than last week's $7.5 million but below the $44.5 million turnover of the same week a year ago.

Large Gain Noted in Area Firm Sales

A 29.3 per cent increase in sales and a 34.6 per cent improvement in earnings have been reported by Garlock, Inc., parent company of Michigan Precast Concrete, Inc., 2175 W. Maple Commerce Township.

For the 26-week period ending June 27, sales of $24,238,000 were $5,494,433 better than the $18,743,567 recorded a year ago, according to A. J. McMullen, Garlock president.

The directors also voted to increase the regular quarterly dividend from 20 to 25 cents per share. A similar raise from 15 to 20 cents per share was voted earlier this year.

Fiery Smashup Claims 5 Lives

PRINCETON, Ky. (AP) — A flaming three-car crash on straight stretch of U.S. 63 in Caldwell County near Princeton, Ky., today claimed five lives and hospitalized five others.

State police identified the dead as Mrs. James McKinley, 30, of Huron, Ohio, and her son, Jerry, 12; Ernest C. Winegarner, 24, of Pontiac, Mich.; his sister, Shirley, 12, and their mother, Mrs. Helen Winegarner, 38.

Hospitalized in Princeton were Robert McKinley, Huron, Ohio, believed driver of one of the cars; Rose Marie Winegarner, 16, and Vickie Winegarner, 10, passengers in the car apparently driven by Winegarner; and Travis Merridith, 34, also of Huron, Ohio, and his wife, 32.

Three of the Merridiths' children, Lynn, 11, Gale, 5, and Mike, 3, were in the car but apparently escaped unharmed.

The McKinley and Winegarner cars collided head-on about two miles west of the entrance to the Western Kentucky Parkway, state police said. The Merridith car then struck the wreckage.

The Princeton Fire Department fought for one hour to bring the fire under control.

He also said Negroes would again march on city hall "and I don't want this march turned around."

Ass. Police Chief L. C. Terrell ordered a parade by 300 Negroes, most of them teenagers, halted Friday after several fistfights broke out between whites and biracial pickets at a shopping center near City Hall.

BACKS DECISION

After the rally, Young said in an interview he was in accord with Terrell's action in halting the parade.

"We are going to do everything we can to keep down a civil war in this area," Young told a newsman. "But if blood is going to be shed in this area, we are going to let it rain down, and we are both black and white."

Young said at the rally he wasn't advocating violence, "but I am saying, stand up and don't let these people run over you."

Dear, assistant U.S. attorney general for civil rights, declined comment on his mission, except to tell newsmen that he was in Bogalusa to "see that the laws are complied with and that all people show respect for law and order."

BLAMES AUTHOR

Gov. McKeithen was rebuffed earlier this week when he called for a 30-day cooling off period to allow both sides to sit down at the conference table. The governor blamed Negro author Louis Lomax, who is in Bogalusa, for the rejection of the truce by local Negroes.

Later he had the state's top Negro educators, a Negro labor leader and Negro attorneys come to Baton Rouge for talks about Bogalusa and Friday he met with officials of the Council for a Better Louisiana.

FOR YOU TO DO: Think of some other examples of men and women too who do daring and courageous things in our modern world.

ON-THE-SPOT INSPECTION — John Doar, head of the Justice Department's civil rights division, leaves Bogalusa, La., city hall yesterday after conferring with Mayor Jesse O'Leary. Doar was sent to the racial trouble spot by the White House.

White House Envoy Tries to End Bogalusa Impasse

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) —

White House emissary John Doar sought today to end the racial impasse here and a Negro leader vowed that if blood is shed it would be "all kinds — both black and white."

A. Z. Young, president of the Bogalusa Civic and Voters League, which has spearheaded the civil rights campaign here, added however, "We are going to do everything we can to keep down a civil war in this area."

Doar, who came here under White House orders to see what could be done to solve the six-month-old racial conflict in this penninsula town of 23,000, planned more private talks with city officials and civil rights leaders.

Gov. John J. McKeithen said he must have the massive support of both white and Negro leadership throughout the state to help ward off outsiders whom he said were blocking efforts to gain racial peace at Bogalusa.

DO EVERYTHING

"As intelligent Louisianians, we dare not sit back without doing everything we can to prevent racial trouble," McKeithen told his weekly news conference Friday at Baton Rouge, the state capital.

Young, at a rally of some 300 Negroes Friday night, called for picketing today "in the four corners of Bogalusa."

He also said Negroes would again march on city hall "and I don't want this march turned around."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson, already determined to hold next year's budget down to "bare bones," wants officials to keep on saving money on everything from pencils to missiles.

Johnson called officials to the White House yesterday for the second straight day for a session on economy in government.

He stressed the necessity of reducing government costs to permit the United States to finance its role as world leader in education, health and other fields.

Urging each cabinet department to make cost-reducing suggestions that could be of use to other departments as well, he pointed to charts showing how the Defense Department had reduced its estimated expenditures by billions of dollars.

"You all don't work with missiles but you may find out how to save on a pencil, or an electric bill, or a food bill or anything," Johnson said.

"I want each of you to bear in mind that the great burden of federal taxation is not on the rich of this country, not on the poor of this country, but on the average family."

"It's the average family that's going to pay this bill. They are the ones that buy the missiles."

They are the ones that pay for the chauffeured limousines. They are the ones who pay to light the chandeliers."

Johnson told subcommittee officials to come up with a "realistic bare bones budget" that bosses will be able to defend when he gives it a line-by-line going over at the end of the year.

Jack's Part in New Movie

a Thing That Fell on Him

By EARL WILSON

BEVERLY HILLS — Jack Lemmon says Billy Wilder was watching a football game on TV, and saw a huge fullback make an end sweep, gallop out of bounds, and fall right on top of a spectator — after which the fullback slid off through mud and snow for 15 yards — still on top of the spectator who felt a little crushed.

"Billy Wilder saw this thing, and he says to himself, 'That's a movie, and the guy underneath is Lemmon!'" Jack said the other afternoon, smoking a cigar and nursing an Old Fitzgerald here at the Beverly Hills Hotel.

And it is to be Lemmon's next movie.

He plays a news photographer who has been covering the Cleveland Browns, and the film will be partially shot in Cleveland.

I couldn't find out much more about the movie: the title, for example, seemed to have escaped Jack, if he'd ever heard of it.

"There are three reasons I can't tell you any more about it," Jack was in a short-sleeved blue shirt with cigars in the top pocket.

"First, Billy won't let me . . . second, I don't know any more . . . third, he probably doesn't know any more, because he's still writing it."

"Wilder's in the enviable position of having people put their trust in him without seeing the script."

Lemmon, on his part, is riding high from the great reaves for "The Great Race." He quietly battled and licked a mild siege of hepatitis after finishing the picture at Warner's and purposely withdrew from the maelstrom for a few weeks, and was off to the Moscow Film Festival when I saw him, and was in truth a real Jolly Jack.

There seems to be a new trend in Hollywood: saying nice things about bosses.

Jack L. Warner had signed as many autographs at "The Great Race" premiere as the stars and this couldn't go unnoticed.

"He's the only real boss left in Hollywood, the only guy who'll gamble with his own life," Jack Lemmon said. "Sure, I've been upset by some of his decisions. But nobody would touch 'Wine and Roses' but him, nobody would touch Jack Lemmon in a drama but him."

Water Request Before Board

White Lake to Seek Waterford Accord

White Lake Township officials will meet on Wednesday night to discuss a proposed agreement with Waterford Township board members about the regular meeting at 7 p.m. Monday.

This will be one of the featured topics of discussion when Waterford Township board members hold their regular meeting at 7 p.m. Monday.

Board members will also discuss Planning Director Vernon Wiggins' request that they approach the state attorney general regarding legality of ruling made by Oakland County Zoning Commission.

The ruling states that all Township Zoning Board decisions on zoning petitions whether requested or denied be submitted to the Coordinating Zoning Committee for review prior to final action by the various township boards.

Wiggins contends the committee's requests are unreasonable and that the county should be concerned only when property borders another township.

Also on the agenda is a special assessment district hearing on the Pioneer Street sidewalk project. The board also will consider approval of the final plat of Hutton House Subdivision and open bids on a dump truck for the cemetery department.

- Moscow Radio Pays Tribute to Stevenson
LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio paid tribute today to the late Adlai E. Stevenson saying he had "every reason to be ranked among America's distinguished statesmen."

- The English-language broadcast beamed at North America, said the late ambassador to the United Nations "had a large following among his countrymen, speaking as he did for those who realize the danger inherent in the war-mongering of the ultra right and felt it their duty to oppose such views. Stevenson was known for his sane approach to world affairs."

More Pictures of Mars Ready

PASADENA, Calif (AP)—The world gets a look at the second and third pictures taken of Mars by Mariner 4, the amazing U.S. spacecraft which also found that planet's atmosphere too thin for any form of earth life.

Jet Propulsion Laboratory officials said the photographs, snapped as the 575-pound spacecraft swung past Mars Wednesday at the climax of a 7½-month voyage, would be released to news media later today. The officials gave no hint of what the photographs showed.

Picture No. 1, released Thursday night, contained the bare outlines of an earth-like desert bordered by smudges that might possibly be vegetation.

Taken at an altitude of 10,000 miles it showed surface markings as small as three miles in diameter—far sharper than is possible with earth telescopes.

As picture No. 3 was coming yesterday, laboratory scientists told a news conference that Mariner 4 had helped them determine that Mars' atmosphere at the surface is about as thin as earth's at a height of 90,000 to 100,000 feet.

"Men landing there certainly would have to wear space suits," said Dr. William H. Pickering, laboratory director. "But when you consider the amazing complexity and variety of life forms on earth, you can't exclude the possibility that some other kinds might have evolved on Mars."

The American Titan 3C rocket with a thrust of 2.65 million pounds orbited a satellite with a dummy payload weighing about 21,000 pounds last month.

The U.S. satellite was attached to the second stage of the rocket bringing the total weight to 32,347 pounds. The two sections separated after six hours.

American scientists noted, however, that the Soviet satellite had no rocket attached. They estimated that if a rocket had been attached, the total weight would have been about 40,000 pounds.

LITTLE DOUBT
A British space expert said in London there was little doubt that the new Soviet rocket is intended for spacecraft capable of sending men to the moon.

Kenneth Gaffand, vice president of the British Interplanetary Society, also said there was little doubt the Soviets intend to use the rocket for construction of a manned space station.

"This," he said, "is the booster we have been expecting the Russians to launch following the series of test firings they have made for the past three years from their cosmodrome east of the Aral Sea into the central Pacific."

Volcano Erupts on New Guinea; 300 Endangered

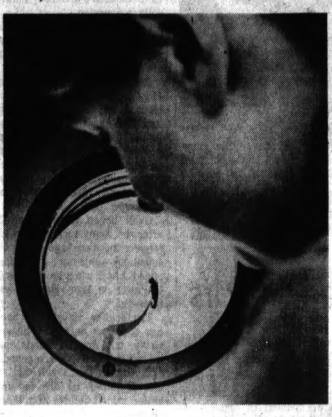

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (AP)—Mount Langla, a 4,000-foot volcano on an island in the trust territory of New Guinea, erupted violently today.

The fate of 300 villagers living within five miles of the mountain was unknown.

The volcano shot a stream of molten rocks, ash and smoke 12,000 feet high.

The glare from the summit could be seen from the New Guinea mainland, 60 miles south.

An airline pilot who circled the column of spiraling ash reported a stream of lava was moving toward the villages of Sag Sag and Agulupela.

2 Foster Children Testify Over Prosecution Protest

The Carl F. Foster murder trial was adjourned late yesterday afternoon after two of Foster's three small children were called as defense witnesses over the objections of the prosecution.

Richard Foster, 6, and his sister, Stephanie, 5, were allowed by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Zieman to testify in his chambers instead of the courtroom.

The trial being heard without jury will go into its fifth day Monday.

Foster's children were among nine defense witnesses called to testify after Dr. Richard E. Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph

Huge Bombers Used 1st Time on Guerrillas

New Demonstrations
Feared as Rebellious
Viet Officer Is Killed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Air Force B52 bombers flying for the first time in support of Vietnamese ground forces, dumped 500 tons of bombs today on suspected Communist positions in central Viet Nam.

Between 25 and 30 of the big jets flying 2,200 miles from Guam blasted the suspected area in the Mang Yang Pass, a key part of Route 19 stretching across central Viet Nam.

A major ground operation is reported under way along the route to clear out Viet Cong guerrillas and open the road to a supply convoy.

On the political front, the killing of a rebellious army colonel by government security forces raised fears of new demonstrations by South Viet Nam's Roman Catholics.

The Defense Ministry said Col. Pham Ngoc Thao, a Roman Catholic who led at least two unsuccessful coup attempts, "was ambushed by security forces and seriously wounded" in a forest near Bien Hoa Friday. It said he died of his wound while being flown to Saigon.

INTENSE MANHUNT

Thao had been the subject of an intensive manhunt. He was sentenced to death in absentia by a military tribunal on May 7.

Reliable sources had reported earlier that Thao was arrested in a Roman Catholic monastery in the Saigon suburb of Thau Duc. Bien Hoa is 20 miles northeast of Saigon.

Most of Thao's civilian and military followers were Catholics. These included Brig. Gen. Lam Van Phat, who is still at large.

Roman Catholic charges of persecution by Buddhists in the government have sparked previous uprisings.

IS DISCREDITED

Official Vietnamese sources, however, believed that Thao had discredited himself in the abortive coup attempts and contenders.

Illinois Bids Fond Farewell to Stevenson

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—Led by their governor, the people of Illinois paid a personal farewell to Adlai E. Stevenson today.

All through the night and the day, thousands of Illinoisans filed past the flag-draped casket underneath the rotunda of the Illinois capitol.

The procession was halted only briefly when Gov. Otto Kerner led Stevenson's family, friends and political associates in a short memorial service.

"We miss him," Kerner said. "But we are proud that to us came the honor, the rare privilege, the fortunate circumstance that made a period of our own lives coincide in part with his."

"We lived in the shadow of greatness—a greatness which somehow seemed to bring each of us a special feeling, a particular kind of pride, a sense of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1).

Crashes Claim 2 Lives in Area City, Area Pounded by Two-Inch Rainfall

A Utica woman and a Lapeer man were killed in traffic accidents in Oakland County last night and early this morning.

Deade are Lynda C. Lowe, 22, of 8645 Lozen, and Reuben O. Hurlburt, 36, of 443 S. Main. Both were passengers.

Mrs. Lowe was with her husband Ted, 23, when their car was struck by one driven by Arnold Leddy, 39, of 283 St. Clair, Romeo, at a Troy intersection.

The 11:40 p.m. accident occurred at John R. and Big Beaver. Both Lowe and Leddy are under observation at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Hurlburt was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital after the car in which he was riding struck a large draft horse on Lapeer Road near Davison Lake Road, Oxford Township, at 1:40 a.m.

RIDER SHOUTS
The driver, Alford C. Kalar, 62, of 61 Mill, Lapeer, told sheriff's deputies that he had his headlights on low beam and didn't see the horse in the road until one of his passengers shouted.

The horse, owned by Virginia King, 921 E. Davison Lake, was killed.

Kalar and his other passenger, Luther Mason, 45, of 430 Mitchell Lake, Attica Township, were in satisfactory condition at Lapeer County General Hospital with lacerations and fractures.

An early evening thunderstorm dumped two inches of rain on the Pontiac area last night, flooding streets and basements, knocking down utility lines and trees and darkening homes briefly.

Sunny weather will return to the area tomorrow, however, bringing with it a high of 76 to 82.

Streets were flooded and water came up to front doors in the South Boulevard, Opdyke area. Building materials floated over streets and lawns when catch basins became plugged.

Sections of Pontiac's west side were flooded and residents experienced similar conditions to those of last month when 1.5 inches of rain fell on Sunday, June 10. Some basements were flooded again.

Lighting struck trees and a house in the Waterford Township area, but with only slight damage.

The two-inch rainfall last night, equalled the total for the month last year in July.

Prior to last night's storm, a total of 1.2 inches was recorded for this month.

Tonight will be fair and cool low 54 to 60.

Winds are west to northwest, 5 to 10 miles per hour.

Sixty-three was the low mercury reading preceding 8 a.m. today. The temperature had reached 77 by 1 p.m.

Yellow Cab Is Girl's Magic Chariot

Though the golden carriage is not a pumpkin but a Yellow Cab, it brings as much magic into Linda Pitts' life as the coach did for Cinderella.

Eight-year-old Linda, the granddaughter of Mrs. Elsie Pitts of 102 Elm, is deaf.

When she enrolled in the Willis School's class for the acoustically handicapped last September, Linda was completely mute.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Lou Davis, teacher of the special education class, within one week, Linda learned to speak 50 words.

"She has developed into a fantastic lip reader," said Mrs. Davis.

SUMMER LAPSE
"But I was afraid if she couldn't practice her new skills over the summer, much of her progress would be lost."

"The Lost Decibels, an organization made up of parents of deaf or hard-of-hearing youngsters, awarded her a six-week scholarship so she could continue her studies at the Baldwin School."

"There was only one problem. Linda was eager to attend but she needed transportation."

"I called a number of social agencies and several area service clubs to hear exactly the same answer. They were sympathetic with my cause but couldn't help me."

"In desperation, I phoned the Yellow Cab Co. just to find out the cost."

"I spoke with Leslie Edwards, the Pontiac manager. 'After I told him about Linda and how much the additional training would mean to her, he said, 'You've come to the right place. 'Your transportation troubles are solved. We'll see that she gets to and from school every day of the program. And there will be no charge!'"

True to his word, a Yellow Cab drives up to Linda's home every morning at 8:45 to whisk her away into a world every bit as exciting and thrilling as Cinderella's ball.

Bama Town Still Uneasy After Outbreak, Klan Rally

GREENSBORO, Ala. (AP) — An uneasy peace has settled over this rural community after a Ku Klux Klan rally that followed an outbreak of racial violence which sent 17 Negroes to a hospital.

City and county police, backed up by a reinforced squad of riot-trained state troopers, kept vigil, fearful that a renewal of civil rights demonstrations might touch off another clash today.

FBI agents and Justice Department attorneys also maintained close surveillance on the west Alabama city of 3,000 which until Friday had reacted peacefully to the civil rights campaign.

Greensboro has been one of the targets in the fight for racial equality led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The violence erupted when a small force of city and state police and sheriff's deputies sought to break up a gathering of about 75 young Negro pickets who had refused to leave the grounds of the Hale County courthouse.

Officers swinging nightsticks began clubbing the Negroes to drive them back. A small number of white bystanders, waded into the crowd, attacking the demonstrators with clubs, rubber hoses and fists. One man swung a hammer.

Hours later, several hundred white men and women gathered in a high school stadium heard Grand Dragon Robert Creel of the United Klans of America speak for restraint.

Creel, who recently gave up his job as a machinist in a Birmingham foundry to devote full time to Klan activities, told the crowd they must "act like white men."

satisfaction that we lived in the world of Adlai Stevenson.

"He has come home and will rest with his weary tasks and awesome burdens. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois has returned."

Stevenson, neo-term governor of Illinois, twice a candidate for the presidency, his nation's spokesman in the United Nations and an eloquent voice throughout the world in the cause of peace, rested on the same wooden table which 140 years ago bore the body of Abraham Lincoln underneath the Illinois capitol dome.

Since he died on a London street Wednesday of a heart attack, the nation and the world had paid tribute to the man from Illinois. Now it was the turn of Stevenson's fellow Illinoisans and Midwesterners.

An estimated 2,500 persons jammed the rotunda for the service. They included Stevenson's three sons, congressmen, governors, state legislators and public officials, and came from foreign countries, many of them in native dress.

CHOIR SINGS

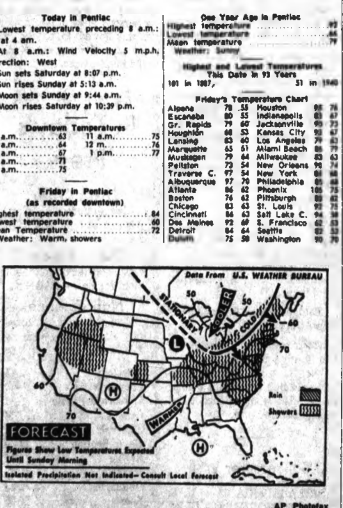

The University of Illinois choir sang from an otherwise deserted second floor balcony overlooking the casket. The choir sang "Illinois." "These Things Shall Be a Lotter Life" and "America the Beautiful."

Stevenson's body will rest underneath the capitol dome until 11 a.m. tomorrow, when it will be taken to his boyhood home of Bloomington, Ill. Burial will be at Bloomington Monday.

New Premier on Job Blames Leftists in Greek Riots

ATHENS (UPI) — Angry youth taunt police in Athens, Greece, yesterday, in protest to the ousting of Premier George Papandreu. King Constantine returned Papandreu Thursday. The new premier, George Athanasidis Novas, blamed leftists for the disorder in which 100 persons were injured.

plan for his Corfu Island summer palace.

The 25-year-old monarch apparently had thought that Greece's worst crisis since the Communist civil war of 1947-1949 was past. Twenty-four hours earlier, he had fired 77-year-old Papandreu in a dispute over the premier's proposed purge of politically active officers in the army.

Under the constitution, the new government must reconvene Parliament by Aug. 1 to seek a vote of confidence.

The Center Union party has 170 seats in the 300-member Parliament, but a party split conceivably could defeat the confidence vote and force new elections.

More than a score of demonstrators were arrested and 110 persons — half of them police, — were reported injured in sporadic outbreaks during the night. Other antigovernment demonstrations, involving thousands, were staged Friday in Salonika and elsewhere.

EXTRA PATROLS

Extra police patrols were on duty around Athens to guard against further demonstrations. Athanasidis Novas said he would have the demonstrations investigated because he had reports that Center Union party deputies were involved.

The government party is a broad grouping that includes elements ranging from the left to right.

The rioting broke out shortly after King Constantine had sworn in Novas' new Center Union government and departed by also indicated Mars' atmosphere is one to two per cent as dense as earth's. Earlier estimates had ranged as high as 10 per cent. This finding will be valuable to men wondering whether to use parachutes or retro-rockets in braking the descent of instrumented capsules they want to land on Mars in 1970s.

The study of the radio signals, known to react differently to various kinds of molecules in an atmosphere, showed no oxygen on Mars. This agreed with telescopic studies which indicate the presence of nitrogen, carbon dioxide, iron and a trace of water.

Calculations of Mariner 4's path made it likely that the first picture was of a desert area called Phobos, north of the Martian equator.

BETWEEN DESERTS

The second and third pictures would fall between two deserts called Elysium and Amazonis.

Later frames in the 25-minute camera sweep would cover a broad dark area, Mare Cimmerium, and another desert, Phobos, astronomers said.

There was no hint as to when the later pictures being radioed across 134 million miles at a rate of one every 10 hours would be released.

Farm Problems Aired

MOSCOW (UPI) — Presidential envoy W. Averell Harriman, in another move to shore up U.S.-Russian relations, discussed agriculture for three hours today with Soviet Agriculture Minister V. V. Matskevich.

Western observers said Harriman's meeting today followed his three-hour session with Premier Alexei N. Kossygin Thursday was a good omen for reopening of a Soviet-American dialogue to improve relations.

Soviet-American discussions of mutual problems including disarmament have been stagnant for many months because of the Viet Nam crisis.

It became apparent yesterday that Harriman's mission here was not so much to try to end the Viet Nam crisis as to try to restore the U.S.-Soviet exchange of tensions that existed before Viet Nam.

Harriman said he had a "long and cordial talk" with Matskevich and received a briefing on Soviet farming developments.

OLD PROPHECY

Harriman said he hoped the Russians would fulfill a prophecy he once made in a book — that the U.S.S.R. would have two good harvests out of every five.

Matskevich assured Harriman this was possible.

The meeting in Matskevich's office included a luncheon during which the two recalled their first meeting in 1956 when Matskevich addressed a conference of American state governors in Chicago.

Their second meeting occurred in 1959 when Harriman toured Soviet farmlands.

Ambassador Foy D. Kohler accompanied Harriman today.

Rocky to Run Again Despite 'Rumblings'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York says he doubts that anyone can talk him out of running for a third term in 1968. He left open his ambition for the GOP presidential nomination.

At a news conference Friday, Rockefeller said without qualification that he is running again. He had said May 4 that he had "every intention" of running again, but qualified this at the time, telling reporters: "If I make a flat statement, then you fellows are going to hold me to it."

Rockefeller's announcement Friday came amid rumblings of discontent among state Republicans.

The governor, just back from vacation at his Venezuelan ranch, said he is not giving any thought to whether to seek the presidential nomination again in 1968. He said it would be "meaningless" to discuss it since "we are so far away from 1968."

Rockefeller insisted there was no split between him and Sen. Jacob K. Javits, around whom Rockefeller dissidents appear to have rallied.

Army, Drafted Part Company 'Fasting' Soldier Termed Unsuitable

FORT MONMOUTH, N.J. (UPI)—Pvt. David Ovall, who staged a 17-day hunger strike to get out of the Army as a conscientious objector, was a civilian today after being discharged as unsuitable for military service.

An Army spokesman said the 23-year-old draftee from Los Angeles was released because of a "defective attitude" toward military service.

Ovall left the post here yesterday with his father, Vincent, who had been visiting him for several days.

His commanding officer last Monday recommended a discharge on grounds of unsuitability. The spokesman said an Army board of officers was appointed to hear the case and Ovall was given legal counsel.

The private, however, waived board action and accepted the discharge.

Ovall began fasting June 30 after the Army turned down his request for discharge as a conscientious objector. The fast ended July 7 when he was taken to Paterson Army Hospital and force-fed.

The soldier claimed to have lost 42 pounds during the hunger strike, but Army officials said he lost only six or seven pounds.

During his fast, Ovall said, "I am prepared to die for my cause. I don't believe in military service."

The tall, slender private was drafted just one month before he was to enter Los Angeles City College as an art major.

The Army said it refused Ovall's discharge request because "he did not meet the criteria as a conscientious objector."

Ovall had served 13 months of a two-year hitch before going on the hunger strike.

Birmingham Area News Noted Plastic Surgeon in Unity Center Speech

BIRMINGHAM — Dr. Maxwell M. Maltz, a plastic surgeon, will speak at the Birmingham Community House July 26 at 8 p.m. on "The Success Mechanism," a subject discussed at length in his best-selling book, "Psycho-Cybernetics."

Dr. Maltz's talk is sponsored by the Unity Center. There is no admission charge but an offering may be made to the Center.

Dr. Maltz has made numerous experiments dealing with regrowth of injured tissue. Through these, he has discovered psychological effects from plastic surgery. The patient acquires a new "self-image" when scars or deformities are removed, he has stated.

He has practiced in England, France, Germany, Italy and Latin America. Dr. Maltz has also given lectures at the University of Amsterdam, the University of Paris, and the University of Rome.

In addition, he has served as professor of plastic surgery at both the University of Nicaragua and the University of El Salvador.

He is the author of several books and plays, including "Adventures in Staying Young," "Dr. Pygmalion" and "The Magic Power of Self-Image Psychology."

Floods Ravage South Korea

Prompt U.S. Action Saves Many Persons

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — Fast action by American soldiers and helicopter crews was credited today with saving scores of lives in the worst floods to hit South Korea in 70 years.

The government announced today that 74 persons have been killed and 94 injured by the rampaging waters. An additional 43 persons were reported missing. The casualties included South Korean soldiers.

The floods were triggered by torrential rains that broke an unprecedented drought and sent the country's five biggest rivers swelling over their banks. Only a few days ago, the South Korean Army was hauling water to help the country's farmers save their rice crop.

A government flood committee estimated that 142,000 persons lost their homes in various parts of the nation as the rains continued to fall throughout the republic.

Comparatively low casualties were attributed to speedy American rescue operations.

ed that little Catholic reaction to his death was likely.

Thao helped lead an attempted coup against former armed forces commander Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh last Sept. 13. This attempt failed, and another on Feb. 19, largely through the intervention of Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, the current premier.

Ky has had close relations with Buddhist leaders and is not popular with Catholics.

The colonel had been in hiding since the Feb. 19 attempt, in which he actually fled Saigon for one day.

ASKED SURRENDER

At first, the government asked all participants in the February coup to surrender.

Those who did surrender received generally light sentences from a tribunal. But Thao and Phat held out and received death sentences.

The 43-year-old colonel joined the Communist-led Viet Minh during the guerrilla war against French rule of Indochina. At one time he had served as commander of the Viet Minh's 81st Regiment and later as chief of Viet Minh intelligence.

After the war, he went to work for the government of Ngo Dinh Diem, a Roman Catholic assassinated in a military coup of January 1963. Thao served as chief of the critical delta province of Kien Hoa, and subsequently attended the U.S. Command and Staff School.

Vietnamese authorities reported that a hand grenade was thrown yesterday in front of the quarters of a U.S. Special Forces adviser in Phan Thiet, about 100 miles east of Saigon. The Vietnamese officials blamed the incident on a Viet Cong terrorist and said he eluded capture.

Hear Foster Children in Murder Trial

Schmier objected to the children as witnesses, stating they should be spared such a traumatic experience.

Among other witnesses yesterday was Foster's mother of 286 S. East Boulevard, who described her daughter-in-law as a nervous person on questioning by the defense.

HEAVY DRINKER

Testifying in cross-examination by the prosecution, Mrs. Foster said that she signed a commitment order to have her son, Carl, placed in St. Clair Hospital due to his heavy drinking after the death of Angela. He was there one day, she said.

Another defense witness, Foster's aunt, Mrs. John K. Featherstone testified Angela Foster told her: "If you are going to commit suicide, hanging is the only way because in a few moments you are dead."

Mrs. Featherstone of 817 Orlando also testified Mrs. Foster had attempted to take her life in 1963 by turning on gas jets on her kitchen stove.

Report Explosions in Congo Republic

PARIS (AP) — A series of grenade attacks and a plastic bomb explosion in Brazzaville, capital of the Congo Republic, were reported today by travelers arriving by plane.

Travelers from the former French Congo said unconfirmed reports were circulating that three persons had been killed in grenade blasts late Wednesday or early Thursday. The bomb explosion had been set against a hotel tower of the type used for radio antennas or power lines.

The city, where the African Games are to be formally opened in ceremonies Sunday, was very tense under reinforced police patrols, the travelers said.
