Graham to Die in Gas Chamber for Plane Blast

Murder in First Degree Returned by Jury After Short Deliberation

DENVER (AP)—Death in Colorado's gas chamber was decreed last night for John Gilbert Graham, 24, who confessed dynamiting an airliner that hurled his mother and 43 others to death.

Seven men and five women jurors deliberated an hour and 12 minutes before returning a conviction of first degree murder in the death of Graham's well-to-do mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, 55.

Graham, father of two, bit his lower lip but otherwise showed no emotion as Dist. Judge Joseph M. McDonald read the death verdict. He told reporters a moment later: "I'm innocent."

"Of course, we'll appeal," said Charles S. Vigil, one of Graham's three court-appointed lawyers. Judge McDonald granted the defense 10 days to file a new trial motion. Graham will not be for-

Horses Primed for Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The 82nd Kentucky Derby, one of America's most colorful sports events, lured 17 of the nation's finest 3-year-old thoroughbreds and something over 100,000 people to sprawling Churchill Downs today as Needles remained the horse to beat.

After a week of alternating rain and sunshine, the weatherman promised near perfect overhead conditions for the renewal of the $125,000 added race at a mile and one-quarter.

The forecast was cloudy and warm. But it was doubtful if the racing strip would be at its best because of frequent rains this week.

Post time was 4:30 p.m. (EST). For those not able to make the trek to this horse-loving Ohio River town or find a vantage point at the Downs from which to watch the race, there was television and radio from 4:15 to 4:45 p.m. (EST).

Detroit stations WJBK-TV, Channel 2, and WJR will air the Derby on television and radio.

Eighteen horses, representing 15 of the nation's top dragger racing establishments, were named, originally, for the race which often has been called "the run for the roses."

But Detroit's T. A. Grissom's

Reaping Right, Louisiana Derby winner, was scratched Thursday after injuring himself in a workout. And at least one other horse, Mrs. Helen Kellogg's Come On Red, a lover of mud, will not be a starter if the racing strip is dry.

But on the basis of 17 starters, the race had a record gross value of $167,550 with a net of $123,450 to the winner.

Needles, the sensation of the Florida racing season, remained the firm choice at 2 to 1. Second choice in the pre-race calculations at 3 to 1 was the entry of Fabius and Pintor Lea from Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm.

In the third spot at 4 to 1 was C. V. Whitney's entry of Career Boy, strictly a fast track performer, and Head Man.

Detroit Mayor Decides to Run for Governor

Tells GOP Convention He'll Be Businesslike in State Post

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo announced today he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

Republicans were jubilant at Cobo's decision and hoped that his record in Detroit would draw strength away that Democratic stronghold.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the Republican State Convention, Cobo said that the number of nominating petitions signed "represent a wholehearted, enthusiastic and sincere request that I become a candidate for governor."

"Therefore when these petitions are filed, I will become a candidate and, if elected, will serve in the same sincere, straight-forward businesslike manner I have served for 23 years in the government of the city of Detroit."

The announcement ended months of speculation about Cobo's intentions. Originally, he said he would not run but left the door open to a possible draft.

The mayor seemed impressed upon viewing stacks of nominating petitions gathered together in a downtown hotel room as top Republicans pressing for his candidacy looked on.

The petitions, bore names of more than 60,000 persons, including representation from all the state's 83 counties, he was told.

Cobo said they were "a great deal more than I anticipated" and that "someone is really doing a job."

AWAITS PUBLIC DEMAND

Before returning Wednesday from a month-long Arizona vacation, Cobo had said of the draft that he would respond if there appeared to be a genuine public demand for his candidacy.

Altogether, over 1,600 delegates chosen by district and county conventions April 18 assembled to choose the fellow party members that will speak for them at San Francisco the week of Aug. 20.

Eighteen Congressional District caucuses preceded the general convention session. They met to select two delegates and two alternates to be chosen at large by the convention.

Former Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado was the convention keynote.

Victor Riesel Totally Blind

Doctors Unable to Save Sight of Labor Writer; Rewards Now $40,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Victor Riesel, the 41-year-old labor columnist whose eyes were seized by an acid-wielding thug April 5, is now totally blind, his doctors announced last night.

Sulphuric acid was thrown in his face one month ago today. Four eye specialists announced they have been unable to save the sight of Riesel, 41, set upon early April 5 as he left a Broadway restaurant.

A few hours earlier, Riesel had made a radio attack on labor union racketeering.

REWARDS UP TO $40,000

Nearly $40,000 in rewards have failed to turn up any clue to his assailant, described only as a slender, black-haired man wearing a blue and white lumberjack. The FBI as well as local police have been conducting an intensive manhunt.

An associate said the news of his blindness was broken gradually to Riesel in his hospital room Thursday night and yesterday.

"He took it beautifully — like a major," the unidentified associate said.

He added, however, that friends feared a depression reaction may set in later.

The engineers' local has contributed to the reward fund built up by newspapers, newspaper organizations and labor unions.

Those close to the blind columnist said he will not halt his fight against labor racketeers.

'Life in Red China' in Press Next Week

Fear holds 600 million people in its grip. Fear makes a daughter report her father as a "counter-revolutionary."

Fear makes a worker stand up and admit "crimes" of which he knows nothing.

During a month touring Red China, Philip Luker discovered the truth about life under the Communist heel, and now presents a story never before told.

To learn what it's like to live in China six years after the Communists took over, don't miss the startling new series, "Thirty Days Inside Red China," starting in The Pontiac Press Monday.

300 Delegates to Attend Skilled Trades Convention

Some 300 delegates from eight counties representing the Skilled Trades Society of North America are expected to convene tomorrow at the Roosevelt Hotel for the organization's first national convention. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

The delegates are expected to draft a preliminary constitution organizing the county groups into a state society.

The recently formed national society broke off from the CIO-UAW in a move to form an independent union.

Members complained that skilled workers were not getting fair pay and benefits under the UAW-CIO Bargaining policies.

Membership in the society in Oakland County numbers around 5,000, according to Fred Cronk, business agent of the Society of Skilled Trades of Oakland County.

Forty-three delegates from the county are expected to attend tomorrow's session, he said.

Others will be from Macomb, Wayne, Ingham, Kent, Washtenaw, Saginaw and Genesee counties.

Cronk said 60 per cent of the Oakland County membership is employed in Pontiac plants.

Other items on the scheduled 14-point agenda will be the formulation of an international publication and financial reports from the county organizations.

"We will also outline how to combat UAW propaganda and bring out the truth about the birth of our society," Cronk said.

Secrecy Shrouds H-Bomb

By BOB CONSIDINE

ABOARD U.S.S. MOUNT MCKINLEY, OFF ENIWETOK (INS) — An H-bomb which may turn out to be as powerful as all the non-atomic bombs dropped by both sides throughout six years of World War II will be dropped 10 miles from an eight-jet intercontinental bomber at dawn Tuesday.

There is the all-important qualification, of course, of "weather permitting," and right now weather prospects for Tuesday do not look too good.

The curtain of secrecy shrouding plans for America's first hydrogen bomb drop was partially raised by the Atomic Energy Commission while the radio-active debris of Saturday's atomic test was settling into the Pacific.

State Man Drops H-Bomb

ENIWETOK (AP) — Major Dwight E. Durner, 37, of Charlotte, Michigan, will trigger the hydrogen bomb to be dropped in this area next Tuesday.

Durner, navigator-bombardier of the B52 Stratofortress assigned to the test drop, is assigned to Kirtland Field, Albuquerque, N. M. Of the seven-man crew, Durner pokes the button which sends the bomb plummeting.

An AEC spokesman disclosed:

1—Tuesday's H-bomb test, to be witnessed by newsmen and civil defense officials 32 miles away from "ground zero."

2—The awesome bomb will be dropped from a B52, the Strategic Air Command's new eight-jet intercontinental bomber.

3—The only living higher animals at Bikini's Mamu Island painted as a gigantic bull's-eye target.

An Air Force spokesman said there can be no thought of dropping the titanic bomb by parachute. He added:

"It might be hard to come within 15 miles of a target with a chute drop from that height." He said in all probability the B52 will make a 180-degree turn as soon as the H-bomb drops from its bay, then step up to supersonic speed and try to put at least 20 miles between itself and the blast to follow.

Press Gets Advance Peek Kodiak Cubs, Panda Twins to Highlight Zoo Opening

A number of new thrills are in store for visitors to the Detroit Zoo in Royal Oak during the forthcoming season—160 to be exact. The attractions are represented in the addition of 60 animals and 100 new birds over last year.

The latest animal arrivals were displayed for members of the press yesterday. They included four Kodiak bear cubs known as "Dottie," "Ditto," "Daisy," and "Dandy," a pair of unusual Lesser Pandas called "Wynken" and "Blynken," and a broken-legged Dorcas Gaxelle which answers to the name of "Molly."

Also trying to steal the show and attract the flash of photographer's bulbs was a young polar bear, "Harvey."

The cub for the greatest attention with their humorous antics during feeding time. Dottie started it off by falling into her dish as the cubs dashed out to feast on bread and milk.

"They get as much food on them as they do inside," was a comment that summed up the way the cubs eat. They lie in it, stand in it and run through the plate and conclude by placing their heads in the dish in order to reach every last drop of milk.

The cubs are black with white rings around the neck and weigh about 30 pounds. Kodiaks reach full growth in five years. They are the largest North American animal and will some day tip the scales at 1,200 to 1,500 pounds. All four were born at the zoo in January.

Wynken and Blynken are the pride and joy of Director Frank McInnis and other Park officials who have been trying for many years to obtain these members of the raccoon family from the Himalayas.

The names Wynken and Blynken were given the pair because of their deliberate movement and sleepy appearance, according to McInnis. Their current diet includes bamboo shoots grown in the Park greenhouse.

Molly the gazelle has been one of the most talked about animals in the zoo in recent weeks due to the medical treatment being received by the 15 pounder. Zoo doctors have been successful for the first time in saving an animal after such an injury. Molly currently has a cast on the broken hind leg and should be almost back to normal by opening day.

Harvey drew a great deal of attention running around with its big polar bear mother and making moaning sounds like a young calf.

There are several other new animals which were born to regular Zoo residents. These include 18 baboons, various antelopes, llamas, and bears. A large baboon known as "The Boss" fathered the baboon tribe.

The additional birds are of all species and kinds and give the zoo its finest collection in history, said McInnis.

Hammaraskjold Flies to Gotham

U. N. Expects Immediate Report on Arab-Israeli Negotiations

ROME (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold leaves today for his New York U. N. headquarters to make a detailed personal report on his month-long mission to the troubled Middle East.

Hammarskjold spent part of his final hours here finishing up the report he will deliver to the U. N. Security Council which sent him on the mission to seek ways to ease Arab-Israeli tensions.

Hammarskjold is due to arrive in New York Sunday.

In 25 days of personal diplomacy, Hammarskjold won cease-fire pledges from Israel and four Arab neighbors — Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon. The exact extent to which these pledges commit each state will not be known until the Security Council convenes—probably within a week.

A brief spat between the Arab allies yesterday revealed they do not see eye to eye on how far the agreements bind them.

But It Sure Does Hurt, Suh Dixie's Loyal Sons Wince, Pitch in to Wash 'Yankee'

"Confederate pride" was hurt yesterday when three "rebel" soldiers pitched in to clean up a Union Army memorial site in the city.

As a civic project to aid the American Legion, owners of the site at the Oakland-Saginaw intersection, seven members of Delta Battery of the 516th AAA Missile Battalion in Auburn Heights grabbed rakes and shovels in the clean-up work.

But Capt. Harold Strong, commander of the unit, forgot to check his roster. Included in the detail were three men from south of the Mason-Dixie line.

"I can't understand why a rebel is up here cleaning up this place for the 'yankees,'" First Sgt. Alvin Atwell, of Arkansas, protested.

"After this I probably will never be able to go home again to face my southern friends," Pvt. Jacob Wilson of South Carolina said as he raked up debris, much against his will.

Plans are for the site to be leveled off with a stone wall built around it. The project has been in the blue-print stage for five years until the soldiers volunteered, ac-

Jaycees to Give Awards to Top Three Motorists in Contest Tomorrow

Trophies will be won by the top three teenage drivers in the annual Road-EO contest, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce tomorrow to promote safe teenage driving.

The champion also will get a $30 savings bond and the chance to compete next month at a state contest in Lansing.

Contestants from the city's three high schools will vie in a laid-out course at the Tri-Huron Parking lot. Parking, shopping, turning and backing will be judged.

All entrants will have passed written examinations concerning city driving regulations.

The Jaycees also will sponsor the event May 13 in Walled Lake and May 20 in Rochester. City and county law officials are cooperating.

Nationally a contest of state winners will be held in July for scholarships worth $1,500, $1,000 and $500.

Ike Spending Weekend With Grandchildren

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (INS)—A weekend of pony rides and lots of fun are on tap today for two widely known city youngsters—Dwight David Eisenhower, 8, and his sister, Barbara Ann, 6.

The children are spending the weekend with their grandparents, President and Mrs. Eisenhower, at the chief executive's farm on the edge of the Gettysburg battlefield.

Eisenhower came to Gettysburg yesterday afternoon. His trip was slowed near Frederick, Md., by a cackling thunderstorm, but he arrived at his farm two hours after leaving Washington.

Within minutes, he donned tweed and headed for the putting green near his house. Today, he is expected to take advantage of bright, cool weather and play a round of golf at the Gettysburg Country Club.

livery, Thornton lauded the Eisenhower administration as the "greatest administration for the American working man in our history" and credited it with turning the nation "back from the brink of war on three occasions."

TOUGH ON SOCIALISM

"The overwhelming success of the Eisenhower administration is the greatest blow that socialism has had in this nation," Thornton said.

"The Eisenhower administration champions free enterprise, it knows that the free enterprise philosophy is the magic which makes America tick."

Besides Cobo and Thornton, the convention was to hear from Donald S. Leonard, an early announced candidate for the governorship nomination.

Leonard opposed Gov. Williams in 1954 and went down to defeat by about 250,000 votes. He said Saturday night, as he had often before, that he would stay in the race regardless of Cobo's decision.

DOAN MADE CHAIRMAN

In a pre-convention meeting, the Republican State Finance Committee installed as its chairman Leonard I. Doan, president of the Dow Chemical Co., at Midland.

A letter was received from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield asking that he not be considered for a berth on the delegate-at-large group for the national convention.

He said he thought he and others in elective or appointed positions should forgo the honor "in behalf of party workers who would not otherwise have recognition."

Leonard took a similar position.

Nelson Charles Walker

Nelson Charles Walker, 22, of 36 Bliss St. was dead on arrival yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital. He was crushed between the dump body and frame of a truck while at work at the Boice Builders Supply Co.

He had been a resident of Pontiac five years, coming here from Hillman where he was born May 31, 1933. His parents were Joseph N. and Bernice F. Hunt Walker.

Mr. Walker was a veteran of the Korean War, was employed as a truck driver.

He leaves his parents, one brother, Merrill Walker of Pontiac; six sisters, Mrs. Dora Borgert of Goodrich, Mrs. Genevieve Grudz of Flint, Helen Walker of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Agnes Keetch, Mrs. Fern Kemp and Charabelle Walker, all of Hillman.

Mr. Walker's body will be taken from the Pursley Funeral Home Sunday morning to the Crandall Funeral Home, Atlanta for service Tuesday with burial in the Hillman Cemetery.

Three Business Places Cited for Law Violations

Warrants charging owners of three city establishments with violation of state food laws were obtained yesterday by a Michigan State Food Inspector, Pontiac police said.

Two warrants cite unsanitary conditions in a restaurant owned by Louis Savis, 554 N. Perry St. and a bakery run by Robert E. Mount, 432 Orchard Lake Rd. Sam Cobitz, 254 E. Pike St. was named in another warrant which alleged that his grocery store there were apples for sale in unlabeled crates.

Texas Democrats Decide Johnson-Shivers Today

DALLAS (U)—Texas Democrats, meeting in more than 5,000 precinct conventions, today choose between Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Gov. Allan Shivers in a bitter "loyalist vs. conservative" battle for control of the state's delegation to the national convention.

The fight, more than a personal struggle for power between the state's two top political figures, is a continuation of the 1952 split in the ranks of Texas Democrats when Shivers bolted the party to support Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee, for president.

At stake in today's precinct conventions are Texas' 56 votes in the national convention at Chicago and control of state Democratic machinery for at least the next two years.

Shivers, a strong exponent of state's rights, has said he has no apologies for supporting President Eisenhower in 1952 and that he will not support the Democratic ticket this year unless the presidential nominee is acceptable to him. He has called for a delegation "that represents Texas thinking rather than Washington thinking."

MACHINE CONTROL

Johnson has the support of veteran Rep. Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House, who was first to urge that Johnson be named both delegation leader and the state's "favorite son" nominee for the Democratic presidential nominee.

Johnson, the Senate majority leader who backed the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, Adlai Stevenson, has called for a "unified delegation representing all Texas Democrats, not just one faction."

He wants a delegation that is pledged to support the willing to come back home and work for their election in November.

Shivers has the support of the State Democratic Executive Committee which joined in the 1952 bolt to swing Texas into the Republican column. His backing has been drawn largely from conservative, anti-New Deal Democrats.

NATO Sessions to Close Today

'No Clear Agreement' Met on Countering Red Economic Offensive

PARIS (U)—Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization moved into the closing sessions of a two-day meeting today without any clear agreement on expanding the 15-nation organization in the economic and political fields.

But they ordered the drafting of a manifesto which was expected to outline new areas of responsibility for members of the alliance in meeting the new Soviet tactic of expanding Communist influence by trade and aid.

DULLES' IDEA

The manifesto was expected to be confined to an expression of determination to meet the new Communist challenge on political and economic fronts.

Indications were that the problem of how to do this would be handed over to a committee of two or three Atlantic pact ministers, with orders to report back to the council in the fall.

That was the suggestion of U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, who urged the NATO members to marshal their resources for a 10-year plan to win over the uncommitted peoples of Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

Kin of Thorpes Face Circuit Court Trial

MOUNT CLEMENS (U)—Richard and Josephine Radwill today both faced circuit court trial in the disappearance of Mrs. Anna V. Thorpe and $80,963 from her secretary of state's branch office in nearby St. Clair Shores.

They are sister and brother-in-law of Mrs. Thorpe, who vanished March 2 along with her husband, Floyd, and their daughter, Kathleen.

Radwill, 26, is charged with conspiracy to embezzle and aiding and abetting an embezzlement. Mrs. Mrs. Radwill, 32, is accused of conspiracy to embezzle.

Both admit they flew to Mexico with the Thorpes, whom the state accuses of embezzlement of the $80,963 missing from Mrs. Thorpe's office.

Thousands Welcome Cowboy

Fine Runnin' Conditions Greet Roy on Red River

(Cowboy star of TV and movies, Roy Rogers is currently fulfilling a childhood ambition by boating down 1,000 miles of the Red and Mississippi Rivers to New Orleans.)

By ROY ROGERS

NEW BOSTON, Tex. (INS)—We left Arthur City, Tex., at 8:30 in the morning and moved along real smooth and fast which brought us to Clarksville just a couple of hours later.

There were about 3,000 people on shore, all turned out to welcome us, and they felt real bad when we ran into our first bit of bad luck near their hometown.

As the officials on shore waved me in, our boat hit something under water and punctured a hole in the hull.

I was able to beach her all right, though, and the local boat company trailed her into Clarksville and patched her up fine.

We had a very pleasant lunch with the Rotary Club and moved on out again at 3:45 in the afternoon.

Runnin' conditions were good, except for driftwood and since I'm in the lead boat, I was kept busy dodging.

We got into New Boston on schedule, and there was another crowd, mostly boys, on hand. We went on over to the private home in the town where we were stayin' the night.

The boys crowded around and we all watched the local Boy Scout troop do some colorful Indian dances. I got a chance to meet a lot of the fellows in person.

Our party turned in fairly early so we could get up to start the next leg of the trip which will take us across the border into Arkansas and our next stop at Fulton.

Free Press Celebrates 126th Publishing Year

DETROIT (U)—Michigan's oldest newspaper—the Detroit Free Press—is 126 years old today.

The newspaper was founded May 5, 1831. At that time Michigan was still a territory and Detroit's population was less than 3,000. It was known then as Democratic Free Press and Michigan Intelligencer. John R. Williams and Joseph C. Brown were the owners and Sheldon McKnight was the first editor.

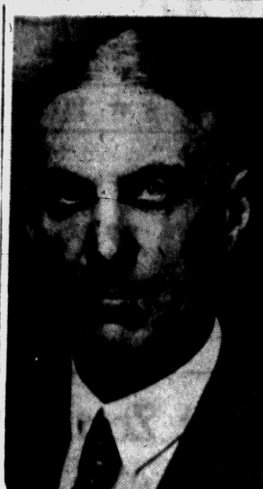

Since those early days the newspaper has changed ownership 13 times. John S. Knight, head of Knight Newspapers, Inc., has been president and publisher since 1940.

Two Women Bruised in Area Car Collision

Two Drayton Plains women suffered bruises when the car in which they were riding collided with another in Avon Township Friday night.

Emma B. High, 57, and Bertha M. Fields, 22, were treated and released by Pontiac General Hospital. They were passengers in a vehicle driven by Russell High 19, of Hillman.

High told Oakland County deputies he did not see a car operated by Irene L. Kaye, 36, of Berkley, in time to avoid the crash.

Justice Reid, 84, Coronary Victim

Oldest Supreme Court Judge Dies in Hospital After Heart Attack

MT. CLEMENS (INS)—State Supreme Court Justice Neil E. Reid died here last night a few hours after he suffered a heart attack. He was 84.

Justice Reid was stricken in his home and rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital where he died.

He had been in poor health for several years, but managed to carry on his work until recent weeks. He still had four years of his current term to go. His death deprives Republicans of the balance of power in the court.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams is expected to appoint a Democratic successor—the third justice to be appointed by the Governor. With a new Democrat, the court will be split down the middle with four justices from each party.

OLDEST MEMBER

In addition to being the oldest member of the court, Reid was third in years of service. He was elected in 1943 and re-elected in 1951.

The gaunt, colorful 6-foot-4 judge began his career as a $3-a-week law clerk while attending the Detroit College of Law, from which he was graduated in 1896. He was appointed Probate Judge of Macomb County in 1910 and since had occupied a judicial bench.

In addition to being a Mason, Reid was a Kiwanian, an Odd Fellow and a Knight of Pythias. He also was a member of the National Council of Boy Scouts of America, and a hobby was taking scouts on campsouts to his summer home on Drummond Island.

Known as a "rough and tough" Circuit Judge, particularly regarding prohibition law violators and armed robbers, Justice Reid voted to upset some of his own "tough" sentences after gaining the Supreme Court.

Reid was born in Bruce Township of Macomb County, outside Mt. Clemens. He leaves his widow, Maude C. Reid. Funeral arrangements were incomplete today.

Registrations Mount for Coming Elections

After two months during which voter registrations were closed by state law, Pontiac voters are now signing to vote in the coming August and November elections.

The city clerk's office reports that 218 registrations have been received since the April general election. This brings the total registration for the city to 37,369.

Registrations for the August primary will be closed July 9.

Voters may register at the city clerk's office, the Oakland County CIO Council, 214 E. Lawrence St. and local union halls 594, 596, and 653.

Loses Billfold and $185

Some $185 was in a wallet lost yesterday at the corner of Joslyn road and Madison avenue, according to the owner, Willis Perry, 585 Mt. Clemens St.

He told Pontiac police the billfold also contained checks for $90 and $20.

The Day in Birmingham Services to Start Sunday at Northminster Church

BIRMINGHAM — Northminster Presbyterian Church will greet its first worshippers tomorrow in the first section of the church being built on Big Beaver Road near Adams.

Northminster's congregation will have worship service at 10:30 a.m. in the $65,000 structure that is a small segment of the church designed by architect Linn Smith.

Completed facilities include a chapel with a seating capacity of 194, three large Sunday School rooms, a nursery, a pastor's study and a kitchen.

The Rev. MacKay Taylor, established the Northminster Church here a year and a half ago. For a few months worship was in the manse, and since then has been in Poppleton School.

Membership has grown from 75 at the June 5, 1955, formal organization to 120 now. Plans are to schedule two Sunday morning services in the near future. An afternoon dedication of the church is set for June 3.

St. James Episcopal Church's members will be represented at Monday's diocesan meeting in Detroit's St. Joseph Church, and at the Oakland Convocation Wednesday in Pontiac's All Saints Church.

Mrs. Archie Crowley and Mrs. Theodore Wedel will be speakers at the Pontiac meeting.

April's water demand by residents was up to 54 million gallons according to Fire Chief Park Smith. His water supply report for last month shows that over two million gallons were pumped on April 24.

The rummage sale of the First Presbyterian Church is set for May 10 and 11, with hours 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on both days.

New officers of Hickory Grove PTA, to be installed at the May meeting, are Eldred Lowell, president; Mrs. Ward Ross, vice president; Franklin Osterhof, secretary.

Charles Caskley, 23, of 282 South Blvd. E., suffered contusions of the right hand when struck by a rolling car at an East Auburn Street service station Friday morning.

A station official said the man was undoing the chain holding the car to the wrecker when the auto rolled against him. He was treated and released by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

It Will Cost 40 Millions Air Force Orders ICBM Plant Built on West Coast

WASHINGTON (INS)—An Air Force order for immediate construction of a 40 million dollar assembly plant at Sorrento, Calif., stirred reports of rapid progress toward intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The Sorrento plant, to be built by Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp., is expected to turn out the first "production model" of an ICBM in two to three years.

There is a possibility, meanwhile, that a "hand-made" prototype of the 5,000-mile rocket will be tested over the Atlantic even sooner. Several thousand persons have been at work on Convair's project at San Diego, Calif.

An expert associated with the Sorrento undertaking told International News Service: "You can be sure we already know what we are going to build."

Bare details of the Sorrento construction were announced Wednesday by the Air Force and by Joseph T. McNamery, head of Convair.

They said:

1. The plant will occupy 280 acres, will have more than a million square feet of floor space, and will employ 6,000 people by 1958.

2. Ground for the construction will be broken this month; the plant will have a skeleton staff by next spring and will be in full operation by the fall of 1957.

3. McNamery said the Sorrento group will be under the direction of J. R. Dempsey and will be an autonomous organization for the research, development, manufacture and testing of "Atlas" intercontinental ballistic missiles.

"Atlas" is the code name for the Convair ICBM, the "Titan" will be built by Martin Aircraft Co. at Denver, Colo. Completed missiles will be turned out at both places.

The 4th Regimental Band of Sylvan Lake Elks Lodge 723 and the marching units of Crystal Temple 435 will hold their annual parade and program in honor of May Day in Pontiac Sunday.

The parade is scheduled for 2:30 starting on Sanderson Avenue and proceeding through the city to Bagley School where the program will be conducted.

The marchers will pay tribute to the new Pontiac Lodge 610 temple with a short pause in front of the Orchard Lake Avenue building enroute to the school.

National, state, and local officers will appear on the program. Musical selections and readings will be heard and refreshments served during the annual event.

Elect Local Chiropractor Leader of State Group

Dr. James O. Whitmer, of 107 Berkshire St., was elected treasurer of the Michigan Academy of Chiropractors yesterday during the state society's annual convention in Detroit.

Other officers named by the delegates were Dr. Bernard A. O'Dell of Detroit, president; Dr. Lester O. Anderson of Detroit, vice president; and Dr. John C. Schreck of Dearborn, secretary.

Best Friend's Brother Shoots Her Husband

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mrs. Virginia Segasture remembered Donald Wesley Edwards all right. Mrs. Segasture, now 27, remembered Edwards, now 20, from her school days—when he was just 6 years old and lived across the street.

"I was dumbfounded," she said yesterday, when she learned that the young man accused of killing her husband is the same Donald Edwards.

Her husband, Malcolm, 27, was killed during a holdup April 18. A taxicab driver, he was shot four times and left in an alley.

SIGNED STATEMENT
Edwards was arrested Thursday night. Police said he admitted in a signed statement that he shot Segasture. He said he fired when the cab driver grabbed for his gun.

Mrs. Segasture said she always considered Marie Edwards, Donald's elder sister, as her best friend.

Mrs. Segasture broke into tears when she confronted Edwards, held on a first degree murder charge, yesterday. Edwards said he didn't remember her.

Edwards said the holdup netted him $10. Segasture left, in addition to his wife and son, Peter, 6, a daughter, Linda, 5.

AEC OKs Building of 2 Nuclear Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two utility companies have won Atomic Energy Commission approval for construction of the nation's first big scale nuclear power plants.

The AEC announced yesterday it was granting construction and nuclear fuel permits to Consolidated Edison Co. of New York and Commonwealth Edison Co. of Chicago.

Consolidated plans a 55-million-dollar plant near Buchanan, N.Y., about 24 miles above New York City. Commonwealth expects to build a 45-million-dollar southwest of Chicago. In neither case does the cost estimate include land or transmission facilities. Both plants are scheduled for completion in the fall of 1960.

The New York reactor will be rated at 236,000 kilowatts of generating capacity. The Illinois plant is designed to produce 180,000 kilowatts of electricity.

Judges Delay Report Hearing

Tangled Legal Dispute on Congressional Data Publication Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — A three-judge federal court will step Monday into a tangled legal dispute over the right of the courts to delay or halt publication of congressional reports.

Already one judge has issued a temporary delaying order, another has set it aside, a three-judge appeals court has it under consideration, and a congressional committee has voted to ignore it as unconstitutional.

The Methodist Federation for Social Action started the tangle with a complaint that a Senate Internal Security Subcommittee publication, "A Handbook for Americans," improperly described the federation as "a religious Communist front."

WANT MORE INFO
Dist. Judge Robert N. Wilkin ordered Thursday a delay until May 11 in publication of 75,000 additional copies of the pamphlet, authorized by congressional resolution. He also suggested that a three-judge court be set up to consider further action. Wilkin, 70, is a retired Ohio jurist who sometimes helps out on the bench here.

Wilkin's order was countermanded late that night by Judge F. Dickinson Letts, 81. The action was disclosed in court records yesterday.

Judge Letts, after hearing arguments in an unusual night court session in his apartment, said Wilkin's order constituted an "unwarranted and unauthorized action by the judiciary."

Even before Letts acted, the Senate-House Printing Committee had directed publisher Raymond Blattenberger to proceed with the printing of the pamphlet, and to ignore "the processes of any court" in the matter. The committee contended the courts, under the Constitution's separation of powers, have no right to interfere with Congress.

Threat Just Rumor, Says Area Housewife

A housewife confirmed yesterday that she was not threatened in a fight which preceded the deaths of four youths in an auto accident early April 26.

Accounts that day alleged that the woman was warned by them not to summon police to the fight or the windows of her home would be smashed.

Space in The Pontiac Press to make this clear "for the benefit of the youths' parents" was sought yesterday by the sole survivor of the auto-tree crash on Pontiac Lake road.

He is Wayne Cunningham, 23, of 280 N. Saginaw St., who said: "None of the boys was a troublemaker. We hadn't set out to get into a fight. But they're dead now and can't defend themselves against what people say."

U. S. S. R. to Produce Salk Polio Vaccine

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio said today the Soviet Union is going to produce polio vaccine developed in the United States by Dr. Jonas Salk.

The broadcast quoted Prof. Mikhail Chumakov, head of the Soviet Institute for the Study of Polio-myelitis, as saying in an interview:

"The U.S.A.'s most important achievement in study and treatment of poliomyelitis is Dr. Salk's vaccine. We are convinced it is an effective vaccine and we are going to produce it here in the Soviet Union."

Sinatra Teaches Loren Yankee Slang Terms

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — In a restaurant on the bullfighters' street in Madrid, my legwoman sized up Sophia Loren, the Italian movie beauty.

And what a size to size up! Since I couldn't get to Spain, my wife, inspected "Sofseuh"—and reported she's a "sweet girl."

Sophia of the fantastic figure was learning five talk from Frank Sinatra. She'd already mastered early five such as "You're a gasser" and had progressed to more daring terms.

SOPHIA

"I want to get married when I am 24 or 25, and he must be intelligent but not handsome," Sophia said.

"Why not handsome?" my B.W. asked her.

"Because I'm jealous. I couldn't stand it if other women looked at him. I haven't found him yet."

Hair Trigger Alarms Make Firemen Work

A newspaper carrier threw a folded paper high into the air yesterday. Falling back to earth, it grazed the lever of a fire alarm box, bringing six fire trucks shrieking to the intersection.

Firemen said carrier Ronald Vestal, 14, was considerably awed. Just as awed was City Controller Oswald Dietrich when a dozen police officers burst into his City Hall office. Somebody had leaned inadvertently against an alarm button beside the City Hall safe, signalling police headquarters and summoning officers from all over town.

Jersey Woman Jailed for Plot

Charged in Conspiracy to Murder Parents for Inheritance Money

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP) — A 28-year-old woman was arrested last night after her indictment with two youths on charges of conspiracy to murder her mother and stepfather.

The woman suspect, Miss Dorothy Long of nearby Westwood, was jailed here when she failed to make $15,000 bail.

Bergen County Prosecutor Guy W. Callisi said she and the two other suspects, whom he identified as Joseph Bernard Lynch, 19, and Robert May, 20, both of Jackson Heights, N.Y., planned to divide up the money from her parents' estate. Callisi said he did not know the value of the estate.

ACCUSED IN KILLING
The prosecutor said the three were named in an indictment handed up by a grand jury Tuesday. He announced it last night.

Miss Long, Lynch and May are accused of conspiring to kill her stepfather, Leland Lloyd Thurlow, and her mother, Mrs. Marie Harriet Thurlow.

Callisi said Thurlow is a professor at a military academy in New York State. He did not name the institution. The Thurlows live in Westwood weekends, the prosecutor said. The rest of the time they are at the school.

Callisi said the murder plot came to light on March 23 when May shot and killed Joseph Lumucio in New York because Lumucio found out about the scheme and tried to muscle in.

May pleaded self-defense in the shooting and is currently being held in New York City on a Sullivan Act charge.

Lynch is in a New York City jail for violating probation.

Rhee's Chief Rival Dies; Assured Election Victory

SEOUL (U.P.)—P. H. Shinicky, 61, death would slow down the presidential campaign, increase interest in the vice presidential race, and assure re-election of Rhee.

Shinicky's death left the field to Rhee and Moscow-trained Cho Bong Am, who renounced communism in 1946, served briefly in a Rhee cabinet, and was chosen to head the ticket of the newly organized Progressive party.

Shinicky was the candidate of the Democratic party, second in strength only to Rhee's Liberal party. A government source said the party could not enter a new candidate because the deadline for qualifying is past.

FIGHTER LIKE RHEE
Shinicky was stricken aboard a train carrying him to Iri, 125 miles south of Seoul. He was taken to the Iri hospital where he died. Like Rhee, Shinicky was a long-time fighter for Korean independence. He lived 25 years in exile in China until the defeat of Japan in World War II ended Japanese rule of his homeland.

A gray-haired man who always had a Chinese proverb at the tip of his tongue, Shinicky was rated the only opponent capable of drawing a substantial vote against Rhee who is 81. Observers agreed Shinicky's

Truck Firms Await Okay of Sale Plans

The proposed purchase of the Liberty Highway Co. by the Suburban Motor Freight was revealed yesterday by James R. Riley, president of Suburban. Liberty's Pontiac terminal is located at 324 Irwin St.

According to Riley, an application has been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to acquire Liberty's certificates of operation, motorized equipment and terminal buildings.

Although details of the agreement have not yet been made known, it has been estimated that the purchase will involve an investment of about $1 million. The combined fleets of the two firms will number close to 800 trucks, tractors and trailers if the proposed sale is approved.

Air Reserve Unit Seeks Members in U. S. Drive

The Pontiac Air Force Reserve squadron has joined in a nationwide "Operation Buildup" drive in an effort to expand its unit and help bring combat flying wings to full readiness. The chief aim of the project is to secure qualified veterans for the Reserve wings. Technician vacancies are wide open in many Air Force specialties among the 24 wings. Critical shortages exist in aircraft and engine mechanics, transportation, supply, communications, operations, radio and radar.

Don't Begin Unwanted Friendship
Failure to Return Bid Will Prevent Awkwardness

By EMILY POST
A reader writes as follows: "My husband and I were invited to a dinner party recently by a couple whom we met at the house of friends of ours. As my husband did not particularly like them, we declined the invitation."

"I am planning on giving a party soon to repay some of my obligations, and I would like to know if I am obligated to this couple for the invitation to my house even though we did not go."

Answer: Since you have explained that your husband does not wish to include these people among his friends, it will be better not to begin a friendship that you feel sure you have no wish to continue.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently we moved into a new neighborhood and the woman next door invited me to her house one evening to meet several other women who live on our street. (1) Will you please tell me what my obligations are to this neighbor? Should I buy her a small gift in appreciation? (2) Am I to invite all these women to my house some evening?"

Answer: (1) It would be a nice gesture on your part to send your hostess a few flowers. (2) Although it is proper to wait until these women have called on you, it would be quite all right to invite those who were especially friendly to you and whom you like to your house.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My fiancé has asked his married brother to be best man and now he seems to think it would be impolite not to have his sister-in-law as my matron of honor. I hadn't counted on including her. Will you please tell me if it is necessary to do so?"

Answer: Not only is it unnecessary that you do so, but only in exceptional cases where the wife is the bride's most intimate friend and the husband the most intimate friend of the bridegroom, do they both serve.

NANCY JOANNE HAGANS
The Rev. and Mrs. John O. Hagans of Holland announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Joanne, to D. Nolan Kaiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton D. Kaiser of Ledyard street. Both are seniors at Albion College, graduating in June. She is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Iota and he is a member of Sigma Nu and Phi Beta Kappa. The couple plans an Aug. 17 wedding.

Margaret Waters Weds in St. Benedict Ceremony

Honeymooning in the Smoky mountains are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Allison Compton. The bride is the former Margaret Waters of Lincoln avenue.

St. Benedict Church was the setting for the 11 o'clock ceremony performed this morning in the presence of 150 guests.

The Rev. Thomas Hoar officiated at the service before an altar decorated with arrangements of white snapdragons and carnations.

As she approached the altar on the arm of her cousin, Knowlton Cousins of Detroit, the bride was wearing a beige sheath dress fashioned with a matching jacket trimmed in beige lace. Her accessories were of a matching color with a corsage of white cymbidium orchids pinned to her purse.

Gertrude Paquette of Detroit served the bride as honor attendant wearing a pink sheath dress with matching jacket. A corsage of Louisiana carnations and garnet roses was pinned to her purse, which matched her dress.

Mrs. Robert A. Compton of Milford was the bride's other attendant. Her dress, also in pink was accented by lace trim on the collar and edging the sleeves. On her purse was a corsage of Scarlet King carnations and Pinocchio roses.

Robert A. Compton of Milford performed the duties of best man for his father. Seating the guests were Peter F. Spellman, William J. Dean and John Dean.

A reception was held at Rotunda Inn immediately following the ceremony.

The bride changed to a navy blue silk suit with white accessories for her going-away costume. Upon their return the newlyweds will reside on West Iroquois road.

FRANCES MARIE PATTON
Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Lunsford of Greenville, S. C., formerly of Pontiac, announce the engagement of their sister, Frances Marie Patton, to Robert Dale Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Strong of Oliver street. A June wedding is planned.

Manion-Zimmerman Wed in Morning Church Rite

MRS. H. THOMAS MANION
Patrice Zimmerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Zimmerman of Whittemore street, became the bride of H. Thomas Manion in a ceremony performed in St. Vincent de Paul Church today. He is the son of Henry J. Manion of South Sanford street and the late Mrs. Manion.

The Rev. Fabian K. Weber celebrated the mass at 9 o'clock in the presence of 200 guests.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of silk organdy tulle designed in Empire lines. The scoop neckline was accented by an edging of imported Venetian lace.

A coronet encrusted with seed pearls secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried an arrangement of white orchids, stephanotis and ivy on a mother-of-pearl prayerbook.

Mrs. G. G. Grubb performed the duties of matron of honor for her sister in a gown of Cotillon blue crystallette. Katherine Jean Zimmerman, sister of the bride and Mrs. James Peters were the bride's other attendants. Their gowns of powder blue crystallette were designed like that of the honor attendants, with pleated cummerbunds and full skirts of a waltz length.

Small coronet type matching fabric braids were worn by the attendants and each carried arrangements of yellow and white majestic and shasta daisies in bamboo baskets.

Wilfred D. Smith served as best man. Seating the guests were Gerald E. Manion and Thomas Thornberry.

A reception was held this afternoon at 4:30 in the Amvet's Hall. Mrs. Zimmerman greeted her guests wearing a wedgewood blue dress with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink rapture roses and carnations.

Following a honeymoon trip to the Smokey mountains and Florida the couple will reside on Indianwood road.

NANCY LOUISE DUROCHER
Dr. and Mrs. N. E. Durocher announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Louise, to John Peter Wacker, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur G. Wacker of Ann Arbor. Nancy will be graduated from Grace Hospital School of Nursing, Detroit, in September. A December wedding is planned.

MSU Praises Program by Recording Favorites

By BARBARA JOHNSON
EAST LANSING—One of Michigan State University's biggest attractions of the year, the "Record Star Parade of 1936," was held Monday evening.

Ted Heath's orchestra from England was lauded by everyone present. The campus daily newspaper devoted an entire column to praising Heath and his fabulous music. The best of showmanship was displayed by all performers in the show.

Nat "King" Cole was the featured singer in this musical event. The entire attention of all spectators was given him as he presented many of the songs that his name is associated with. Cole's piano playing was also enjoyed by all.

Feminine attraction of the show was vocalist June Christy. Many of her selections were from her latest album, "Something Cool."

The Four Freshmen also appeared. It is evident that the quartet's singing was appreciated, since it has been voted America's top vocal group by two famous entertainers.

Campaigning has begun for next year's officers class. Posters have been placed on all of the most traveled sidewalks on campus.

Candidates have also been passing out tags with their names on them in all the dorms at dinner-time.

The Fresh-Soph Council is planning an election rally Tuesday. This rally will give the students a chance to hear the platforms of the 16 finalists for sophomore and junior class officers.

Malkim JAC Entertain DAR Members

The Junior American Citizens club of Malkim school provided the program Thursday, for the General Richardson chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Frank Dennis fifth grade teacher is leader of the club sponsored by the D.A.R. chapter.

The meeting was held at the Adah Shelly Library with presidents of sixteen other JAC clubs as guests. Wayne Kaiser, president of Malkim's club announced the program on George Washington and the Revolutionary period in United States history.

A play entitled "What Fred Dreamed" concluded the program. The play depicted the return of George Washington and his wonder at the twentieth century. Other schools represented were Bagley, Whittier and McConnell.

JAC clubs serve children of all races and creeds, teaching justice, Americanism and character. The clubs are a national D.A.R. project, a table decorated with red, white and blue flowers and candles with through their business meetings Mrs. Bradley Scott presiding. Mrs. and programs attempt to teach the fundamentals of good citizenship.

Mrs. Lloyd Porter JAC chairman, presented outstanding citizenship pins to Marilyn Johnson of principal of Malkim school and Mrs. Bagley school, Donna Reed of McConnell, John Castro of Whittier and Wayne Kaiser of Malkim.

The pledge of allegiance to the United States flag was led by Edward Williams with Major Finley as color bearer and Harry Lawrence and Alvin Keel, color guards.

Mrs. Allan Monroe regent, Mrs. George Eldred and Mrs. E. G. Clark gave reports on the recent national D.A.R. continental congress, in Washington D. C.

Refreshments were served from clubs are a national D.A.R. project, a table decorated with red, white and blue flowers and candles with through their business meetings Mrs. Bradley Scott presiding. Mrs. and programs attempt to teach the fundamentals of good citizenship.

DAMP PROOF YOUR CELLAR—Cement-base paints with silicones added are applied in much the same way as other cement waterproofing compounds.

Silicone Additive in Paints Halts Cellar Water Leaks

From time to time you may have read about silicones, the "wonder chemicals" for which chemists have dreamed up such a variety of applications as water repellents. They've done it again. This time, incorporated in cement-base paints, the versatile silicones are prepared to do yeoman service for a cause close to homeowner's hearts—the control of water seepage and dampness in basements.

The new product is a coating that both decorates (it's offered in several colors) and protects. Bonding chemically and mechanically to the most porous masonry, it penetrates microscopic pores, bridges larger voids, and sheds water with minimum absorption.

However, neither the new paint nor anything akin to it will perform miracles. The reason: There are several basic causes of water leakage or dampness in basements which are beyond the control of waterproofing compounds.

CONDENSATION

Among the causes listed by engineers for Silphane Corp., are condensation, poor masonry and faulty drainage systems. Don't attempt to waterproof interior basement walls without first making a careful check of your home to determine these causes, and then correct them.

Condensation is one of the more common damp-basement headaches. It occurs when warm, humid air in the basement meets cooled walls and floors. Condensation is at its worst when more moisture is added to the air by laundering, clothes drying, etc.

Ready for Summer Use? Is Your Vacation Cottage

Vacation-minded people are getting busy perking up the summer retreat so that when the time comes to move in everything will be in order.

If the cottage hasn't been chosen do it as soon as possible so it may be put in apple-pie order and reek of comfort when you move in.

If you find one with a nice view and perhaps a lake or stream to dot its magic, don't pass it up because there is work to be done. Simple repairs, a bucket of suds and variety store accessories with little expense and effort can go a long way to putting the vacation cottage in the cozy bracket.

The idea is to do a good clean survey remaining drabness. Here are some pointers that might be helpful in organizing your retreat:

1. Do a thorough soap and water cleaning first. Clean windows, floors, walls and table surfaces with a good stiff brush and plenty of soapsuds.
2. Clean upholstery and other dust catchers with the vacuum cleaner.
3. If there are no window curtains or draperies get plastic or paper curtains that may be suds-swabbed clean. Or use sheets, by fastening clips to the tops through which you can slide a rod. The sheets may be kept bright-white all summer just by tossing them in the laundry. Or use colored sheets if you have them and they harmonize with the room decor.

4. Use self-adhesive plastic to cover shelves, cabinets, wall areas over sink, stained table tops and bookcases. A 40-foot roll would cost about $8. Apply it with the hands in a jiffy, and take it up when you leave the cottage if the landlord doesn't approve of it. Striped papers may be applied to jog up wall sections.
5. Plastic waste paper baskets are ideal for refuse, may be used at home later.
6. Plants go a long way to creating cheerful atmosphere. Geraniums are especially effective and numbers of them placed on window sills or shelves will distribute color beautifully. These too may be taken home at the end of the summer.

7. If the floors are bare, don't despair. They may be kept clean and cool by occasional scrubbing. A few area rugs from home may dress them.
8. Drab furniture may be covered with old sheets, bedspreads or shower curtains. But don't make it a hodge-podge. Pick out the worst piece or two of the lot to cover and let it go at that.
9. Plan to keep a big bunch of rhododendron or other greens in a floor receptacle all summer. Cover a big ice cream or lard can with plastic adhesive and use it as the container.
10. If there aren't enough lamps, don't worry. Summer days are long and candles can fill the bill until bed time.

If you own your own summer cottage you can do a lovely but inexpensive job of brightening it up. Fiber rugs are gay and piggy-bank priced and the old paint bucket can do wonders in refurbishing everything in the house. Beat-up old end tables, dining tables, chairs and walls lap up new colors as joyfully as the nursery set does lollipops.
