During Hailstorm Yesterday

Frosty Stare of Winter to Greet Spring Tonight

The official arrival of spring was only a few hours away, but someone forgot to tell winter.

Rain, snow, sleet and hail storms marched across Michigan late yesterday and returned again today. But Pontiac still awaits the heralding of spring at 3:20 a.m. tomorrow.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts continued snow flurries and snow squalls through tonight when skies are expected to clear and temperatures drop to 26.

The mercury will climb to near 42 degrees tomorrow.

For the next five days temperatures will rise to the upper 40s and the lows will remain in the high 20s, the bureau said.

Less than one half inch in a few short periods of rain possibly mixed with snow may be expected Friday through Monday.

★ ★ ★

The storms did very little damage yesterday, mostly because the strong winds were at a high altitude.

★ ★ ★

The storm struck in the Pontiac area about 3 p.m. with sleet, hail and freezing rain.

Visibility became so poor that many cars pulled to the side of the road. Few accidents were reported.

University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh said spring arrives when the sun reaches the vernal equinox and crosses the equator on its way north.

★ ★ ★

But contrary to popular belief, she points out, the day and night will not be exactly equal on the day of the equinox.

Because of the bending of the sun's rays, the sun may be seen a few minutes before it actually comes over the horizon, and also is visible after it drops below.

★ ★ ★

The low recording in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. was 26 degrees. At 2 p.m. the temperature reading was 32.

See No Rival for Hamlin in County Post

By DICK HANSON

Chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Delos Hamlin is likely to be unopposed for the top county government post when the board elects its officers next month.

Re-election of the 20-year-old supervisor from Farmington as chairman would be for an unprecedented eighth consecutive term.

★ ★ ★

He is facing no opposition at this time. Nor has he been opposed for the chairmanship in recent years.

Two supervisors have announced their candidacy for vice chairman of the board to succeed Arno Hulet, who declined to seek re-election as Bloomfield Township supervisor.

They are Milford Township Supervisor Mayon Hoard and Addison Township Supervisor Frank F. Webber.

Their nominations are expected from the floor when the board of supervisors elects its officers some time in April.

Webber, 63, of 1783 Brewer Road has served on the board for the past 10 years. He is a member of the county board of public works, chairman of the supervisors' miscellaneous committee and a member of the equalization committee.

SERVED SIX YEARS

Hoard, 65, of 103 Summit St., Milford, has served on the board six years and has been chairman of its equalization committee for the past four years.

He is a member and past chairman of the drain committee and represents the county on the Huron River Water Shed intergovernmental committee.

Requests Bill for Funds to Seek Olympics

Detroit Dem Asks $35,000 to Enable Romney to Push Bid

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Rep. Joseph Gillis, D-Detroit, has asked the House Ways and Means Committee to introduce a bill providing $35,000 for Gov. George Romney to carry Detroit's bid for the 1968 Olympics to Nairobi, Kenya, Africa, next October.

"I guess nobody else thought of it," said Gillis after appearing before the committee.

The Detroit bid will be considered along with those of Mexico City, Lyons, France, Vienna and other cities when the International Olympics Committee (IOC) meets in Nairobi to select a site.

Gillis said the need for the special appropriation arose after he checked the records and found only $200 in the budget for special commissions.

★ ★ ★

The money would furnish promotion expenses and transportation costs for the governor to make the trip. Romney said earlier he would go "if needed and able to get away."

SPECIAL MESSAGE

The governor has sent a special message to the legislature thanking them for their help in designating Detroit as the U.S. candidate for the 1968 Olympic Games.

★ ★ ★

"I would like to express sincere appreciation for the fine attitude and wonderful cooperation displayed by members of the legislature," Romney said.

Mayor Jerome Cavanagh returned to Detroit yesterday to a tumultuous welcome after spearheading with Romney and the Detroit Olympic Committee the battle to be redesignated as the U.S. city to bid for the Games.

Cavanagh told a wildly cheering crowd at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport that his city was going "to keep this thing rolling until the games are brought here."

Child-Aid Bill Hit

Romney Rips Federal Critics

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney is defying federal officials who have called his ADC-U bill "discriminatory."

Romney fired off a tough telegram to Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare, announcing that the bill providing aid to dependent children of the unemployed had passed.

The governor said he intended to sign the bill and that he wanted clarification of reports that Michigan might be denied the aid benefits.

The legislature, at the urging of Romney, yesterday passed the bill to bring Michigan under the federal program for aid of children of the unemployed.

Wilbur J. Cohen assistant secretary of welfare for legislation, had said he would recommend to his chief that the Michigan aid be denied because it was discriminatory.

Cohen, a former University of Michigan professor, complained that the Romney-backed measure would exclude persons not covered by unemployment insurance, domestic workers and farmers.

This was just the same, he said, as excluding redheads or people with black hair.

★ ★ ★

Romney declared the issue is whether the legislatures of the separate states have the authority to define eligibility for aid. He said the law is very clear on this point.

The governor cited a phrase in the law which said the beneficiary of the aid should be "as defined by the state."

In his telegram to Celebrezze, Romney said:

"We have met all the stated requirements and it is my intention to sign the bill into law."

The governor said the legislation was drawn up with the knowledge and approval of the Chicago office of the federal agency. It had been given clearance as late as March 11, he said.

'BIPARTISAN SUPPORT'

Romney made a point of mentioning in his wire that the bill was passed "with bipartisan support."

Actually, Senate Democrats fought it until the last minute.

KENNEDY PLAYS HOST — President Kennedy poses with his guests on the balcony of the American embassy in San Jose, Costa Rica, yesterday before a luncheon for the middle American presidents. Latin Chiefs Plead for Aid

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Cheered by a U.S. pledge to protect their coasts against Cuban infiltrators, six Central American chief executives make individual pleas to President Kennedy today for economic aid to better the lot of their peoples.

Although advocates of drastic action against Fidel Castro lost out, the Latin presidents generally seemed satisfied and joined Kennedy in a seven-nation "Declaration of Central America" which expressed confidence that the Castro regime will fall soon.

Kennedy promised that the United States will tighten its antisubversion ring around Cuba with more plane and ship protection of Central America's Caribbean coast.

An authoritative source said that Kennedy, in the private sessions Tuesday, impressed the presidents of Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua with the extent of U.S. military commitments —short of "shooting at Cuba"— which he revealed to them.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy also promised multimillion-dollar aid for their program of regional economic and social development. But each president had pet projects of his own and each was allotted a half hour today to plug them.

Kennedy scheduled talks with Francisco Orlich of Costa Rica, Julio Rivera of El Salvador, Miguel Ydigoras of Guatemala, Ramon Villeda Morales of Honduras, Luis Somoza of Nicaragua and Roberto Chiari of Panama.

This afternoon the U.S. President was to address students at the University of Costa Rica before boarding his jet plane for Washington.

To protect their countries against Communist infiltration, the presidents agreed:

★ ★ ★

1. To ask the Organization of American States for early action to counteract Castro-Communist subversion.

2. To hold a meeting of security officials at the cabinet level with-

Pied Piper!

Pigeon Prescription?

With several Oakland County officials in attendance at last night's City Commission meeting, the problem of pigeons popped up in the proceedings.

Since the pigeons were left homeless when the old county courthouse was torn down at Saginaw and Huron streets, Commissioner Charles H. Harmon suggested that possibly the county could offer some help.

Harmon said that "maybe what we need is a Pied Piper of Hamelin." He didn't say if his remark had any connection with Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Robert E. Lilly of the county board of auditors rose and offered a glint of hope.

"For whatever consolation it may be, I want you to know that the pigeons have found their way to the new courthouse."

★ ★ ★

City Manager Robert A. Stierer said he expects a report soon from a two-man committee recently appointed to study means of eliminating the pigeons who haven't found their way.

Suspect Tuna Ordered Off A&P Shelves

NEW YORK (AP) — The A&P Food stores chain ordered all of its own brand of canned tuna in its 4,400 stores withdrawn from sale today in the wake of reports of suspected food poisoning in Detroit, fatal in two cases.

★ ★ ★

A company spokesman said that although the suspected tuna was traced by code markings on the cans to a small shipment of 120 cases from a California packer, the company is clearing its shelves of all A&P tuna as a precaution.

County health officials in Detroit also warned housewives there to turn in any 6½ cans bearing the lid markings "WY3Y2" and "118X."

The A&P spokesman here said that the company would not rec-

Bandit Robs Bank in Area

Branch Loses $3,173 in Bloomfield Twp.

A tall well-mannered bandit robbed a Bloomfield Township branch of Manufacturer's National Bank of $3,173 yesterday afternoon and escaped in a late-model convertible.

The man, armed with a pistol, entered the branch at 4057 W. Maple Road and ordered teller Lois Steele, 33, to give him "all the money in large bills."

According to Miss Steele, he then reached over her cage and picked up a stack of small bills.

★ ★ ★

When he saw they were ones he pushed them back and scooped up several packs of tens and twenties, she said. He held his pistol on the counter all the while.

PUSHES ALARM

As the gunman was leaving Miss Steele pressed the burglary alarm. Another teller said she thought she saw a man driving out of the bank parking lot in a 1962 or '63 Buick Special convertible with a white body and black top.

There were four customers in the bank when the robbery occurred, according to assistant bank manager Fred Speer.

Bloomfield Township Police describe the bandit as between 35 and 45 years old, 6 feet 3 inches in height, weighing 200 to 225 pounds, dark of hair and complexion and neat of manner and dress.

★ ★ ★

They say the description fits that of a bandit who robbed a Detroit Bank and Trust branch last month on Detroit's East Side.

Can Affect Some Cases in County

Between 100 and 150 Oakland County welfare cases will be affected if the Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADC-U) legislation passed by the State Legislature goes into effect.

That was the estimate today of George H. Williams, director of the county's Social Welfare Department.

Williams said that was the number of families that probably would no longer receive county welfare aid or would get reduced county aid when they receive federal aid under the present provisions of the legislation.

However, a question has been raised as to whether one of the bill's provisions would meet federal requirements.

The families that would receive aid under the federal ADC-U program would be transferred to the county office of the State Bureau of Social Aid.

The county welfare department is not eligible to administer the ADC-U program.

The federal legislation requires that the administrative agency handling the program be under a merit or civil service system. The county is not.

Williams said figures on the amount of welfare aid his office would stop paying are not available.

★ ★ ★

The State Bureau of Social Aid would take over ADC-U aid to the 100-150 families and possibly "some 50 or so new applicants," according to the agency's county director, Ora Hinckley.

Miss Hinckley said it may be necessary to add to her staff to handle the increased case load. Williams said his staff "could be affected slightly."

The State Bureau of Social Aid is located in the same building as the county's Social Welfare Department at the County Service Center on Telegraph Road.

Push Search for Mall Murder Weapons

ADOISE WHITE

By JIM LONG

Police today pressed the search for a third knife and a pistol used in the Saturday slaying of Robert A. Greene, assistant manager of the Kroger store at Pontiac Mall shopping center.

Officials believe the weapons were tossed in a drain basin by Adoise White and Charles E. Hodges, both 22 years old. They are charged with first degree murder in Greene's death.

Greene, 22, of 122 Summit St., was slain after being forced to open the store safe. The father of two boys was stabbed 42 times. Two knives were found at the scene.

★ ★ ★

All the loot taken in the killing-robbery was recovered yesterday.

White's share of the loot, more than $500, was found in the basement of a relative.

White, 22, revealed its hiding place after finally admitting his part in the crime. He said he was able to stash the money without anyone's knowledge.

FIND HIDDEN SUM

Earlier in the day, police found about $700 in a wooded area near Bagley and Brush streets where Hodges, also 22, told them he had hidden it.

White, 79½ Wall St., and Hodges, 174 Prospect St., are being held without bond in Oakland County Jail awaiting a preliminary examination in Justice Court Tuesday.

The pair was arraigned yesterday before Waterford Township Justice John McGrath.

They told police they threw away the knife and 22-caliber pistol on the west side of Pontiac but did not know the exact location.

A rubber stamp belonging to the store and marked "for deposit only" was located in a drain by police yesterday.

White, a stockboy at the store, was arrested Monday. He denied any part in the crime until after his arraignment. Then he admitted his role to reporters.

★ ★ ★

Hodges, a nephew of White, told police earlier that it was his uncle that planned the robbery from the start.

★ ★ ★

White said he had no initial intention of killing Greene.

"But he kept insisting he'd tell police," White said.

Wants Bigger NATO Role

PARIS (UPI) —British Foreign Secretary Lord Home called today for a greater share for Europe in the Atlantic alliance's nuclear defense setup.

★ ★ ★

He coupled this with a warning that the political and economic rifts in Europe stemming from the breakdown of the Common Market talks with Britain should not be allowed to weaken Western Military defenses against Communist aggression.

British sources said Home, in a major address to the permanent council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), renewed Britain's offer, made originally by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to President Kennedy at Nassau in December, to assign the British V-bomber force to NATO.

In return, he was reported to have proposed that the NATO nuclear force now under study should be under the command of a European, preferably a Briton.

Home said it is a political mistake that the United States should dominate the nuclear field entirely.

However, British sources said, Home made it clear that any change in the NATO nuclear setup should be carried out in such a manner as not to endanger Western unity.

★ ★ ★

Home presented the council with firm proposals for creating a mixed NATO nuclear force. He was said to have urged the permanent council to approve this plan in time to enable it to be handed for a decision to the NATO minister council session at Ottawa in May.

The British proposals were said to include detailed arrangements for policy, command and control of such a mixed force.

Home was said to have indicated Britain's belief that the first stage should be establishment of a "multinational" force composed of national contingents, planes and submarines.

★ ★ ★

He was said to have added that, in Britain's view, a "multilateral" force of surface vessels with mixed crews should come later.

Winter's Throwing Desperation Punches

By The Associated Press

Fading winter landed storm-packed punches across broad areas in the eastern half of the nation and heavy rains today posed new flood threats in some states.

★ ★ ★

The wild outbreak of weather Tuesday included heavy snow, rain, hail, tornadoes and damaging wind storms. Storms in Indiana claimed at least three lives.

A snowstorm which swept from the Dakotas to Michigan, dumping a foot of snow in many sections, tapered off during the night as it moved into the Northeast.

Heavy snow warnings were issued for northern New York, New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine, with more than six inches predicted in most areas. Gale warnings were posted along the New England coast from Block Island, R.I., to Eastport, Maine.

TORNADOES, WINDSTORMS

Tornadoes and damaging windstorms struck areas in Indiana, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Kentucky. Several persons were injured and there was heavy property damage.

★ ★ ★

The twisters struck small communities in southern and central Indiana and killed two women in Beck's Mill. A girl drowned in a water-filled ditch in Indianapolis during a severe rain and wind storm. The tornado which swept across Crete (Ind.) caused an estimated $100,000 damage.

★ ★ ★

Violent winds swept areas in Kentucky, destroying and damaging several homes, a drive-in theater and several other buildings. Heaviest property damage, estimated at $250,000, was in Clinton County, in the southeast part of the state. Louisville also was lashed by a rain and wind storm. The storms in the state injured at least nine persons.

★ ★ ★

In Harpersville, Miss., several persons were hurt when winds toppled brick walls of the high school gymnasium during a basketball game. A tornado hit Portland, in northern Tennessee, causing extensive property damage.

★ ★ ★

Widespread damage also was caused by severe wind storms in middle and east Tennessee. Twisters also hit the northern edge of Decatur, in north-central Alabama, and in Bellefontaine, Miss.

Solons Back Judge Addition

Bill to Put 2 More on County Bench

LANSING — Legislation increasing the number of Oakland County circuit judges from five to seven was reported favorably out of the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, may yet appear this week for a vote on the floor of the House.

★ ★ ★

The bill has received the endorsement of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and the county's bar association. The additional jurists were requested by the present five judges to handle the increasing case load and the extra work required by new court rules.

If the bill passes the legislature and is signed by Gov. George Romney as expected, Romney will fill the two vacancies by appointments effective until the November 1964 election.

A bill to put most of the county's area in the state's new 19th congressional district is expected to be discharged today from the House Apportionment Committee chaired by Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Township.

PROPOSALS NARROWED

Hogan said his committee had narrowed the proposals down to two. One is Hogan's bill to split the county on a north-and-south line coinciding with Inkster Road.

This plan would put the area west of that line plus Pontiac in the 19th with Lapeer and Livingston counties. The rest of the county would remain in an 18th district reduced from its present size encompassing the entire county.

The other proposal would leave in the 18th only the five townships of Bloomfield, Troy, Southfield, Farmington and Royal Oak and the cities they contain, and it would put the rest of the county in the 19th with Lapeer and St. Clair counties.

To Open Bids on Park Work

Bids for the construction of a shelter at Aaron Perry Park will be opened at City Hall at 2 p.m. Monday, April 8.

The City Commission okayed taking bids for the one-story structure at last night's meeting.

The building will house rest rooms and storage facilities. It's estimated cost is about $14,000. The structure was necessitated by an increase in use of the park area in recent years.

Mrs. Romney Backs Library

A visit from Michigan's First Lady, Lenore Romney, has given added impetus to a drive for voter approval of funds for a public library in Bloomfield Township.

Mrs. Romney appeared Monday at a joint meeting of the Citizens Library Committee of Bloomfield Township and the Friends of the Baldwin Library at the Birmingham Community House.

"It is each citizen's responsibility to his community to see that good, comprehensive library service is provided," she said.

A decision by the Baldwin Public Library of Birmingham to terminate nonresident cards in 1964 prodded the Citizens Library Committee to place a two-sectioned proposal on the township's April 1 ballot.

One section authorizes the establishment of a free public library service through the levy of one mill, while the second specifies that the levy shall be in excess of the township's 15-mill tax limitation.

The township currently has no public library.

Henry Case Set in Circuit Court

City Commissioner Milton R. Henry today was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment March 25 on a charge of felonious assault.

★ ★ ★

Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum bound the case over to Circuit Court on grounds that the question of criminal intent should be decided by a Circuit Court jury.

Henry was released on a $100 personal bond and ordered to appear in Circuit Court at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Henry is charged with attacking patrolman Neil McCormack with his car. McCormack had been sent to the scene of an argument Jan 7, between Henry and a garage owner acting for a finance company.

★ ★ ★

The commissioner's attorneys argued that there was no criminal intent involved in the incident and therefore the felonious assault charge should be dismissed.

Pick Speaker at Oakland U. Graduation

The speaker for Oakland University's first commencement will be U.S. Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel, the university announced today.

Oakland's first commencement will be held in its new Intramural Building April 20 when approximately 150 members of the charter class will receive their diplomas.

Keppel, former dean of Harvard University's Graduate School of Education, served on one of the planning groups which helped to shape Oakland U's philosophy and curriculum in 1957.

He was appointed commissioner of education two months ago.

Oakland's charter class is graduating in April rather than in June because the university is on a three-semester plan of year-around operation.

Spanish Police Assailed

Probe Hot Dog Pix Riot

MADRID (UPI) — The United States embassy today opened an investigation into charges an American photographer was beaten by Spanish police after he became involved in a riot over hot dog pictures.

Larry Shaw of New York, photographer for Argosy Magazine, said he was struck several times by Spanish police when the riot ended. He and four other Americans were roughed up by the mob.

A U.S. embassy official said a formal protest to the Spanish government "is being considered."

★ ★ ★

Spanish government spokesman Manuel Jimenez Quilez, director general of the press, denied Shaw's charges.

"It is completely untrue and inexact that the American photographer was hit by Spanish agents when he was taken to a police station following an incident in a downtown square," he said.

★ ★ ★

Jimenez Quilez said the Americans were taken to the police station for their own protection.

Argosy Managing Editor Milton Macklin of New York said the trouble began while Shaw was taking photographs of two U.S. Airline stewardesses handing out free hot dogs in downtown Cibeles Square.

Macklin said the photos were intended for use in a magazine feature on "hot dogs around the world."

He said someone shouted "capitalist press" and a mob of about 200 persons attacked his group of five. They were rescued by police and taken to a police station.

ROUGH CROWD

Macklin, Shaw and public relations man Don Graham of Chicago were roughed up by the crowd.

The stewardesses, Judy Gilbertson of Park Forest, Il., and Bernadette Zola of New Kensington, Pa., were in the midst of the melee but were not hurt.

The incident apparently developed from an imagined insult to Spanish national pride.

One member of the crowd said later he objected to photographs being taken of the "shameful spectacle of the free food from the Americans."

Proposals on Parking Go to Legal Consultants

BIRMINGHAM — City planning board recommendations designed to correct off-street parking inadequacies have been turned over to the city's legal consultants Howlett, Hartman & Beier.

The law firm will use the board's recommendations as a basis for an amendment to the city's zoning ordinance.

The board's proposal provides that every residential building shall have one and one-half parking spaces for each dwelling unit, plus an additional space for every four dwelling units for visitor parking.

As an alternative the board suggests that builders may construct parking facilities in the ratio of one and three-quarters parking spaces for each unit.

★ ★ ★

The recommendations primarily are directed at multiple dwelling units, however the board made it clear that they could apply equally as well to single family residences.

"Existing requirements do not even meet minimum needs for off-street parking facilities," a board report states.

In a survey of apartment tenants, the board discovered there was an average of 1.41 cars for every apartment responding.

A survey of 15 apartment owners revealed a need for 1.45 parking spaces for each dwelling unit.

City Clerk Irene Hanley said that it will take the city's legal consultants one or two weeks to prepare the amendment. After that a public hearing will be scheduled.

The Bloomfield Hills Board of Education last night heard protests from three local citizens against the board's stand on the controversial school bus bill currently in the Senate Education committee.

The three protested school board attempts to work for the defeat of the bill without taking into consideration the "best interest" of school district residents.

In a letter made public at the board meeting, William A. McQueen, 5275 Wing Lake Road, cited the board's responsibility to all children in the district not just those attending public schools.

He also questioned the accuracy of facts contained in a letter to district parents distributed by the board.

The bill would require school districts to provide bus service for students at nonpublic schools up to eight miles outside district boundaries.

In the letter the board warned residents that the measure might necessitate the purchase of 20 additional school buses and might result in a two-mill tax boost.

Blast at Bill Riles Romney seeking liberalizing amendments. On the first vote, 18 Republicans voted for the bill and there were four opposition votes.

Once Democrats saw that the Republicans had the necessary majority of the 34-man Senate they started voting for the bill, making the final count 27-6.

Sen. Elmer Porter, R-Blissfield, oldest senator in terms of seniority and age, was the only member declining to vote.

★ ★ ★

The Democrats conferred with Romney yesterday morning "but he refused to budge," reported Sen. Charles Blondy, D-Detroit, Senate minority leader, who had asked concessions.

Sen. Philip Rahoi, D-Iron Mountain, leader of the liberalization forces, said he would continue to fight the bill.

Rahoi asked for an opinion from Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, which was expected to be sympathetic. He said he would fight the issue to the U.S. Supreme Court if he could find the money and backing.

Senate Majority Leader Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, whipped the Republicans into line for the vote.

"This is the bill the governor wants. Vote for it," he ordered. "The basic bill is good. Don't fool around with any amendments."

Thayer obtained his 18 votes although some Republicans were reluctant to be identified as approving the measure.

Democrats then caved in and started throwing votes for approval so they wouldn't have the stigma of voting against such a measure.

ommend that housewives take any particular action. "If they take into consideration these reports," he said, "They will probably know how to handle that themselves."

Health officials in Detroit said the two victims died of Type "E" botulism, which they called a rare poisoning. The victims were believed to be the first in the United States from this type.

Mrs. Margaret McCarthy, 39, of Detroit died Tuesday, three days after the death of her neighbor, Mrs. Collete Brown, with whom she had shared a meal of tuna.

Type "E" botulism originates in fish products and attacks the nervous system, authorities said.

They were keeping under observation two girls whose mother turned in a partly empty tuna can.

In New York, the A&P spokesman said the firm had no proof that its merchandise was involved in the poisoning, but was removing the tuna from sale as a precaution.

"The suspect container was part of a small shipment packed under the A&P label by a West Coast packer. The entire lot of 120 cases, purchased by the A&P for distribution in the Detroit area, was cleared by the California State Food Inspection Service," he said.

"Laboratory tests of the contents of the containers bearing the same code number are being conducted by the company, the federal Food and Drug Administration and by an independent testing laboratory to ascertain beyond any doubt that the product is safe and absolutely pure and wholesome."

He said each case contained 48 cans of tuna.

He said he did not know how many packers canned tuna under the A&P label, nor how long it might take to test it.

He said the same tuna is generally available in all A&P stores but that there have been no other reports of any poisoning.

The company has no plans to notify state health authorities, he said.

Dems Quickly Counter

Romney Sees Constitution 'Distortion'

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney predicts what he calls "an avalanche of last - ditch distortion and misrepresentation" of the proposed new constitution as a result of the U.S. Supreme Court decision on county unit voting.

The governor said he expects opponents to apply the ruling to their campaign to see the document defeated at the polls on April 1.

But Democrats — at whom Romney's remarks clearly were directed — retorted quickly with charges that the governor was creating the issue so he could campaign with it.

★ ★ ★

"In typical Romney fashion, he's erecting a straw man so he can beat it down," said State Democratic Chairman Zolton Ferency.

The Democrats in particular oppose the congressional apportionment formula of the proposed new document which would carve out districts based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area.

★ ★ ★

Justice William O. Douglas, in writing the 8-1 decision which found the Georgia county unit voting system violated the "one man -one vote" concept of the U.S. Constitution.

NO APPLICATION

But he stressed it had no application to legislative or congressional apportionment.

It was on this point that Romney predicted "downright distortion and smoke screening."

He said the misinterpretation already has started, "and we can expect that from now until April 1, the Georgia decision will be held up as proof that the proposed Michigan constitution violates the federal constitution.

"Such a distortion is quite a long jump from the truth, but it's only a short skip for some opponents of constitutional progress," he said.

Ferency said Democrats recognize that the Georgia ruling does not directly apply to legislative or congressional apportionment but added:

"We feel the philosophy of 'one man-one vote' as expressed in the decision is applicable to Michigan because it accurately describes political equality at the ballot box."

Assessment Rolls Termed 'a Mess'

WALLED LAKE —A member of the board of review charged last night that the city's tax assessment rolls are full of discrepancies.

Clyde Mottor termed the situation "a mess."

A "uniform method" has not been used to compile the rolls, the former councilman said.

He cited erasures on the assessment cards, unexplained figures, a lack of adjustment for building additions, no record of building permits and completely unrecorded parcels of property as the basis for his charges.

The City Council voted 6-1 to appoint a three-man fact-finding board to make a study of Walled Lake's assessment rolls and bring any discrepancies to the attention of the city assessor.

AREA NEWS

Councilman Richard J. Watkins said it is the desire of the council to get "fair and equitable" tax assessments.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Louis James, who voted against creation of the board, said he would like to see a full-time assessor appointed, not "a bunch of amateurs."

He compared the latter to interns ordered to perform brain surgery.

Mottor said he was "surprised that our mayor would vote against a fact - finding board to try to get taxable property equalized and fair."

Appointed to the board were Mottor, councilman Harold Ackley and local businessman Ralph Buffmyer.

Councilman Wendell Kellogg Jr., chairman of the five - man committee appointed by the mayor to investigate the proposed Ramsey Building purchase, stated his committee was "not prepared to report" as scheduled.

He said the committee is in the process of getting quotations from two builders on the cost of remodeling the former department store.

A special meeting is slated for 8 p.m. March 28 to discuss the committee's findings.

In other action, the council rejected all bids on the purchase of a new police car for the city.

A dispute arose over whether to accept the low bid made by a dealer from Pontiac, or to accept the second - low bid, submitted by a Walled Lake dealer, which was $56 higher.

The vote was 4-3 against the acceptance of either bid, with Councilman Ackley's vote deciding the question.

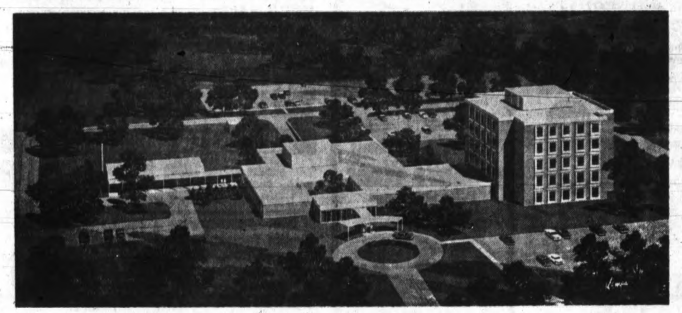
He voted against both purchases because he said it should be left to the incoming council.

The council also heard a progress report on Walled Lake's proposed sewer program by Donald W. Ringler, deputy director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

★ ★ ★

Ringler said it would be 30 days before applications for grants can be submitted to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency and the State Water Resources Commission.

A resolution in favor of the closing cut of O'Flaherty Street was introduced by the council. A public hearing was set for April 23.



Model of $3.8-Million Botsford General Hospital in Farmington Township

200-Bed Hospital Planned for County

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Construction of the new $3.8-million Botsford General Hospital, scheduled for completion here late next year, will add 200 hospital beds to a 10-community western Oakland County area.

★ ★ ★

Future plans call for the doubling of hospital capacity.

Former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner is chairman of the board of Zieger Osteopathic Hospital of Detroit, parent unit for the new hospital.

Approval of a federal grant in the amount of $1,152,585 for the new facility was announced recently by U. S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland.

★ ★ ★

The decision to build a hospital near the corner of Grand River and Eight Mile Road was based on a survey citing the need for 1,000 hospital beds in this growing area, and a desire by Zieger staff physicians to expand their base of operation, Van Wagoner said.

Construction on the five-story building is slated to begin June 15. It will house, chiefly, hospital rooms plus administrative and physicians' offices.

An adjoining single-level service building will contain surgery and x-ray departments, delivery rooms, laboratories, an emergency section, plus kitchen and cafeteria facilities.

Couple Wins Tax Judgment

Recover $54,776 on Sale of Troy Land

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A Lansing couple suing the U.S. government to recover money paid under protest as income tax has won a $54,776 judgment from U. S. District Court.

Court records disclosed the judgment entered Friday in favor of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Houghten by Judge W. Wallace Kent. The judge heard their case without jury.

The couple filed suit May 20, 1960, after paying $55,154 in taxes on the sale of 625 acres of farm land in Troy.

One parcel containing 350 acres is located at Livernois and Square Lake Road while the remainder is just north of that property.

Returns from the land sale were reported as long-term capital gains for tax purposes in the years 1957 through 1959.

★ ★ ★

The government had claimed that because of improvements and subdivision activities on the land the gains should have been listed as ordinary income.

★ ★ ★

Filing were Mayor Louis E. James, Councilman V. Douglas Merideth, Robert J. Buffmyer, 45180 S. Pontiac Trail; Wilson C. Collins, 1706 Bolton Ave.; and Elfrieda M. Henke, 2340 S. Commerce Road.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Angela Marie Costello to Robert Charles Pace by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Costello of Washington, D. C. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pace, 6527 Maple Drive, Independence Township. A June wedding is planned.

Troy Women's Club to See Expressway Film

TROY —A film entitled "Expressway Driving" will highlight tonight's dinner meeting of the Troy Business and Professional Women's Club, 7:30, at Sylvan Glen Country Club.

★ ★ ★

Two local traffic safety officers, patrolmen Arnold Koss and Lawrence Halsey, will show the movie before the business meeting.

WED 50 YEARS — In honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Muirhead, 29150 14-Mile Road, West Bloomfield Township, their children will hold an open house from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday at St. Francis Council Hall, Farmington. Married in Highland Park, the Muirheads have three sons, Douglas of Walled Lake, Basil of Detroit, and Roland of South Lyon; and nine grandchildren.

Petition for Investigation of Southfield City Affairs

SOUTHFIELD — A petition requesting a grand jury investigation of business affairs of this city was filed yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Council candidate James Wells submitted the petition, which bore 44 signatures, one of which was that of another candidate, Thomas P. Saks.

Charges listed on the document included misappropriation of public funds on the part of five incumbent councilmen.

★ ★ ★

They are John J. Hollywood, Clarence A. Durbin, Thomas C. Rowley, C. Hugh Dohany and Phillip B. Peterson.

Commenting on the jury request, Dohany said: "Anyone can file a petition such as this. Proving the charges is another matter."

He called the filing a "political move." Dohany, currently council president, is a candidate for mayor in the April 1 election.

Other reasons given for the requested investigation are "irregularities in the accounting procedures of the city" and gambling in public places without interference by the city's police.

BRIBE CHARGE

The petition also charges Rowley and Hollywood with soliciting bribes from a former city contractor.

Presiding Circuit Judge William J. Beer said the matter would be put to the entire bench (five judges) at its monthly meeting the first week of April.

After appearing in court when the petitions were filed, Rowley called the move "vicious, malicious and base."

★ ★ ★

He said he could not understand how anyone could "subject my family to ridicule and contempt for the sole purpose of gaining public office."

No details were furnished with the petition, but affidavits and copies of city documents would be offered the judges at the executive session, according to the petitioners.

Three of the five circuit judges must vote for a grand jury before the investigation is conducted.

Novi Council Backs Library

NOVI — The Village Council here has gone on record as "wholeheartedly" supporting a township public library service.

★ ★ ★

In a unanimously approved resolution, the council termed the library "a great public benefit" which "depends on public support."

Township voters will be asked in the April 1 election to authorize establishment of the service and levying of a half-mill tax for its maintenance and support.

The council has allocated $500 to carry on present services of the township's free library.

Before this action, the library was supported by donations.

Area Debaters in State Finals

Romeo High Team to Meet Mount Pleasant

ROMEO — The Romeo High School debating team will meet Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart in the state finals April 20 in Ann Arbor.

The local affirmative team talked its way to victory against the Michigan School for the Blind team in Lansing to earn a chance at the championship.

The negative team will be pitted against Mount Pleasant's affirmative squad in the finals.

★ ★ ★

The question is "Resolved: That the United States Should Join in Forming a Common Market Among Nations of the Western Hemisphere."

On the affirmative team from Romeo are Ken Seifert and Cary Kilner. The negative side of the question is argued by Bill Volz and Kim Kaiser.

★ ★ ★

Eye Boost in Building Revenue

WIXOM—An amendment to the building code approved by the City Council here will increase revenue from building licenses up to 65 per cent, according to John Finlayson, building inspector.

The amendment reduces from $500 to $100 the minimum cost of construction requiring a building license.

A majority of the building in Wixom will be affected by the amendment, Finlayson said.

The council has authorized the City Planning Commission to investigate the possibilities of an urban renewal program in Wixom.

The commission is preparing a letter to the Housing and Home Finance Agency asking the federal agency to look over Wixom to see if it would be to the city's advantage to have a "feasibility study" conducted.

Mrs. Julius Nelson, 3673 W. Maple Road, has been appointed by the council to fill an election commission vacancy.

PTA to Elect Officers at Avon Twp. School

AVON TOWNSHIP —Election of officers will be conducted at the Elmwood School PTA meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Also featured will be a discussion of how "Scouting Serves the Community," and a brief skit by the Girl Scouts of Troops No. 584 and 220.

Defense Aid to Answer Criticism by Papers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester goes before investigating congressmen Monday to tell his side of the story on administration handling of information.

★ ★ ★

Sylvester's handling of Pentagon announcements during the Cuban bombers and missiles crisis, and his statement that the government has a right to lie in times of grave crisis, drew sharp criticism Tuesday as a panel of news industry leaders testified before a House subcommittee investigating government information policies.

The Pentagon information officer and his opposite number at the State Department, Assistant Secretary of State Robert Manning, are due before the Foreign Operations and Government Information subcommittee Monday for the second installment of the inquiry.

DESCRIBES CONSENSUS

Subcommittee Chairman John E. Moss, D-Calif., wound up the first session by describing the newsmen's consensus this way:

"The government itself should now propose guidelines on policies for any future crisis."

Clark Mollenhoff of the Des Moines Register and Tribune told the subcommittee that Sylvester "stands as something of a symbol of the problem."

★ ★ ★

"I feel he has damaged his usefulness and is somewhat of a burden to the secretary of defense and the administration," Mollenhoff said. "It is difficult to see how anyone can have very much confidence in what he has to say."

Mollenhoff, representing Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society, joined other witnesses in complaining about a speech Sylvester gave in New York Dec. 6.

'RIGHT TO LIE'

In it, Sylvester said it is the "government's right, if necessary, to lie to save itself when it's going up into a nuclear war."

Charles S. Rowe, publisher of the Fredericksburg (Va.) Free Lance-Star and chairman of the freedom of information committee of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association, labeled that a "repugnant philosophy."

★ ★ ★

Other news industry spokesmen said the whole idea runs counter to the principles of a free society. They said deception is a tactic of communism, and doesn't fit in a democratic government.

A Pentagon directive, signed by Sylvester, requiring that Defense Department officials report their contacts with newsmen, also drew fire from the industry witnesses.

ORDER LIFTED

A similar order went out at the State Department, but was lifted in November when President Kennedy ended the naval quarantine of offensive weapons shipments to Cuba.

Rowe said the Pentagon order stifles dissent—and if a dissenting official "can be scared into silence, then the party line and only the party line will be given to the American people."

Mollenhoff told the subcommittee "the only way we get information is from dissenters.

"In an agency that spends $50 to $60 billion a year, I don't want dissent stopped," he said.

On the question of a government right to lie to save itself, James Reston, Washington bureau chief for the New York Times, said:

RESPONSIBILITY

"It is the basic responsibility of the President to defend the people of this country. In the ultimate extremity it may be justified to deceive the people for the purpose of deceiving the enemy. It may even be his duty to do it. But outside of that ultimate extremity, he shouldn't do it."

Reston said the information picture is not "as black as some people make it out to be.

★ ★ ★

"The best way to manage the news is to put out an announcement and then make yourself scarce. So that the informed official is not available to the reporter."

"With the present administration, in my experience, the official who is informed is more available today than he has been at any time in the last 20 years," Reston said.

The farm silo is said to have originated in central Europe in 1875 and introduced into the United States a year later.

Adm. Byrd's Fabled Ship Goes Down

BOSTON (UPI) — The USS Bear, the storied sailing ship that weathered 45 arctic voyages and carried Adm. Richard E. Byrd to Antarctic, sank early today in choppy seas off Nova Scotia.

The Coast Guard here said the 89-year-old three-masted barkentine sank just as she appeared to be winning her final battle against the sea.

The tug Irving Birch had planned to make another attempt shortly after dawn to attach a tow rope and haul the vessel to the nearest port at Halifax, N.S., 80 miles to the north. The seas were subsiding officials had said.

★ ★ ★

The sea-going tug had stood by throughout the night within 100 yards of the listing Bear as it was tossed around in the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of Canada.

The Bear's foremast snapped and was hanging over the side. The main and mizzen masts were loose and wobbling.

But officials said they believed they would be able to save the 198-foot vessel, once known as "the stoutest ship afloat."

The tug was towing the Bear to Philadelphia as a museum piece when they ran into 30-foot waves and the tow was lost.

★ ★ ★

The two men aboard, Perry Coffin and Henry Dingle, both of Dartmouth, N.S., were rescued through the combined efforts of an amphibious plane from Salem, Mass., and the tug.

Wayne County Board Plans Blue Law Hearing

DETROIT (AP) — The Wayne County Board of Supervisors held a hearing yesterday on whether the county should be exempted from the state's new Saturday-or-Sunday closing law for stores.

The law goes into effect March 28. It provides that any county can exempt itself by a two-third vote of its supervisors.

Three-fourths of all taxes — federal, state and local — goes to the Federal Government.

Committee to Study Needs of Education

Each year the task of raising money and approving budgets for higher education in Michigan becomes more and more of a problem. Quite frequently tempers flare and a great many feelings are hurt.

★ ★ ★

The net result—some institutions get what they rightly deserve and others must suffer. Gov. George Romney is aware of this situation and recently announced plans to try a new approach.

As with business decisions he has faced in the past, the Governor is forming a 50-man citizens' committee on the future needs of higher education.

★ ★ ★

It will study needs in the college and university fields and come up with a sensible report backed with facts and figures to substantiate the findings.

DAN E. KARN of Jackson, former president of Consumers Power Co., has been picked by ROMNEY as chairman. Mr. KARN's long years of service with Consumers should stand him in good stead to lead this all-important citizens' group.

★ ★ ★

The two vice chairmen are both eminently qualified men: Edward L. Cushman, a vice president of American Motors and a close associate of Romney, and Irving Bluestone, for years connected with the labor movement and administration assistant to Walter Reuther, president of the UAW.

Others on the committee will be announced shortly.

★ ★ ★

The program, as the Governor explained it, will cover a 10-year period starting in the fall of 1964. He pointed out that the two main objectives would be:

1. To evaluate the nature and extent of higher education in Michigan.

2. To recommend a plan and a program on a priority basis to meet the needs effectively and efficiently.

We can't think of a sounder solution to help our State solve its educational growing pains than through this citizens' committee. We wish it well in this extremely worthwhile project.

Indonesia Living High Off Soviet, U.S. Aid

Indonesia, short of food and clothing, is buying three luxury jet airliners for its profitless passenger service. The cost will be $3 million more than the $17 million it is borrowing from the United States to shore up its crippled economy.

★ ★ ★

Under President Sukarno, Indonesia is showing a remarkable knack for living on the best of two worlds. (This is nice work if you can pull it off.) In order to accomplish this, she has managed to become a client of both the Soviet Union and the United States.

★ ★ ★

A cold war neutral, Indonesia has built up an army of 400,000 men. After much muscle-flexing, Indonesia, with U.S. aid, negotiated a United Nations agreement last year to gain control of West New Guinea. SUKARNO now is threatening the British scheme for a Malaysia Federation, but it is not believed that he's about to risk a military showdown with a major power.

★ ★ ★

Ironically, Indonesia is potentially one of the richest countries in the world. She already has wrung from the foreign-owned oil companies 60 per cent of their profits — as against 50 per cent paid under Dutch control.

Now the government wants ownership within ten years—the companies have already agreed to a 20-year turnover—with immediate nationalization the threatened alternative.

★ ★ ★

The American interests have a pretty high hole card. Under Section 620 of last year's Foreign Assistance Act, U. S. aid recipients are given just six months after expropriating American private property to take appropriate steps to compensate the owners, or face loss of aid funds.

It could happen to Indonesia—it already has to Ceylon. It's about time some of the highhanded neutrals were made to face the facts of life, or get off the fence.

AS LITTLE as Uncle Sam evidently knows concerning the number of Russians in Cuba and what they are doing there, he probably knows about as much about the situation as CASTRO does.

Shame On Us Citizens!

David Lawrence Discusses:

Managed News: Semantics Debate

WASHINGTON — Much of the discussion lately about "managed news" is an exercise in semantics. The word "managed" can be variously interpreted as a proper as well as an improper use of information that is given to the public.

LAWRENCE

What is objectionable is something that can be referred to unequivocally as deception or untruth. President Eisenhower was blamed by Democratic partisans for having told the truth about the U2 incident in 1960.

Members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee intimated afterward that he should have withheld the truth. But Mr. Eisenhower, in an authorized quotation that appears in a book by his onetime secretary of commerce, Lewis Strauss, said:

★ ★ ★

"The most powerful weapon we have—indeed, the most powerful weapon that any people can have —is truth. If we ever find ourselves in a position where we cannot tell the truth, or where we feel that the telling will injure us, we will have sacrificed that most powerful weapon."

The whole controversy about "managed news" arose in connection with the crisis over the military build-up in Cuba last autumn. For reasons of its own, the administration did not wish to make public what it knew.

This is understandable. But when high officials of the administration assemble and talk to a group of 500 editors, reporters and broadcasters from 40 states in a "background briefing," the newsmen naturally believe they are being given the whole truth. Such a "briefing" took place here on October 15.

★ ★ ★

Under the rules of these conferences, nobody is quoted directly. A high official of the government did, however, assure the press that the Soviet equipment in Cuba was totally defensive in character and that the threat in Cuba was not a military threat to the hemisphere but one of subversion.

NO BLOCKADE

The newsmen were also told that invasion and blockade should be considered as one and had been ruled out, because ships couldn't be stopped under the threat of force without getting into a war—and a big one.

The whole tenor of these remarks left the reporters with the feeling that the United States intended to take no action beyond stepping up surveillance and trying to influence international traffic involving Cuba.

Yet, within a few days, a mobilization was ordered, and it has since been disclosed that as early as October 16 the administration had confirmed its suspicions about the presence of "offensive" missiles in Cuba.

★ ★ ★

The President didn't go on television to announce this until October 22.

All this turned out in a few days not to be true. Many excuses have been heard ever since. One is that the high officials at the "briefing" conferences didn't know about the final proof concerning the missile bases which had been obtained through air surveillance.

Another explanation is that the President kept his counsels to a few, and some of the other officials were not told what was going on.

Maybe the whole thing was just a bungle from top to bottom on the part of administration officials. Perhaps it had been agreed that no intimidation about future policy would be given even if it meant misleading the press.

One official of the government later referred to this as "managed news." A continuous debate goes on not only inside the press but outside as to what are the true responsibilities of an administration in attempting to "manage the news."

Bob Considine Says:

Jessel Sends Stiff Reply to Movie Ban by Nasser

NEW YORK — People . . . places . . . things . . . .

George Jessel, in town to talk about his new book, "Halo Over Hollywood," a collection of fond and keenly revealing epitaphs for the graves of filmland's late lamented, learned that President Nasser has barred all Jessel films from the United Arab Republic.

CONSIDINE

George has sold more Israeli bonds than Ben Gurion.

"Nasser should have looked up my record before banning my pictures," George told us. "I haven't made a picture since 1930, or somewhere in there. I starred with Lillian Gish's aunt. But I couldn't let this insult go unnoticed. I sent Nasser a stiff message."

"What did you say in it?" we asked.

George adjusted his monocle.

"I told him I'd never buy another camel, or marry another Egyptian girl."

★ ★ ★

A Pulitzer Prize-winning friend who is now a successful public relations man in New York writes:

"For the first time in my whole life, during this strike, I have been glad that I was no longer a newspaperman. I know this feeling won't last, though, because in spite of everything my heart still belongs to the newspaper business.

"I say that with full knowledge, from experience, of all the frustrations and hazards, the insecurity and inadequate pay for the vast majority of newspaper workers — unless, by chance, you happen to be a printer, mailer or truck driver!

"It infuriates me to know that even today, when newspaper salaries are infinitely better than they were when you and I were starting out, a fine seasoned newspaperman, with the education and training for a job he loves and that he does superbly, is likely to earn less than some brash young public relations counsel (euphemism for press agent or flack) earns for publicizing the newest hamburger heaven."

★ ★ ★

Want to feel real small? Then scan these figures taken from an article by Jenkin Lloyd Jones in the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"Our sun is a medium-bright star two-thirds of the way out on a flat galaxy which we call 'the milky way.' It would take 100,000 light years to go across the milky way.

"A light year is six trillion miles. New York is one-seventieth of a light SECOND from Los Angeles.

"Pluto, the outermost planet in our solar system, is 5½ light hours from here. It would take two million light years to get to the Great Galaxy in Andromeda which astronomers study because it is so near."

Voice of the People:

'Taxpayers, Think Twice Before Rejecting Bus Bill'

An article in The Press explains to the Bloomfield Township taxpayers that if the proposed bill in the State Legislature concerning bus transportation to public and private schools is passed, the cost would be much more than the proponents claim.

★ ★ ★

How much would it cost the taxpayers if all private schools closed? We would have to be accepted, but I can't begin to estimate the tax increase to furnish buildings and teachers, and how soon could this transition be made?

★ ★ ★

Can the school that your children attend make room for a few hundred or so more?

Wondering

We have been pleased with Gov. Romney's work until now. In his campaign he promised support for equal rights for all Michigan citizens. I fail to understand why his outlook has changed.

The only conclusion I can arrive at is that his campaign promises were not meant to be kept.

The school bus law has certainly been an "about face" on his part. I would appreciate knowing the reasons for his change of mind.

'Hospital Parking Very Inconvenient'

The hospital notified us that my grandmother was dying. Our only thought was getting to the hospital and we didn't stop to fumble for change for parking in the below zero weather.

★ ★ ★

My grandmother died that night and it didn't make us feel very well toward the City of Pontiac to find a ticket for overparking.

★ ★ ★

If there must be a charge for hospital parking, couldn't there be a parking attendant to collect money as people leave? We don't object to paying — it's the way it's collected that irritates.

'Good Luck, PNH, in Tournament'

I, too, would like to wish Northern good luck in the tournament games. There is no doubt in my mind that Central's Big Chiefs are the best and with a neutral court and a little fair refereeing they could have proved it.

★ ★ ★

As far as the trouble at the game is concerned, Central's players were severly punished. What happened to Northern's players?

G. H.

'Learned to Fight After High School'

I'm proud that I got to go to both Pontiac Central and Northern. When I was in school, fighting wasn't allowed after basketball games. I had to learn to fight on my own time.

★ ★ ★

Students have the school people around their little fingers. They don't even wait for the game to finish before they start belting.

★ ★ ★

With the start you kids have, you can be proud. You shouldn't have to wait at all for a job like mine. Keep it up. You have a real future. Remember, it's whether (and not how) you win or lose.

Today is Wednesday, March 20, the 79th day of the year with 286 to follow in 1963.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening star is Mars.

★ ★ ★

On this day in history:

In 1852, Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was published in book form for the first time.

In 1865, John Wilkes Booth, the man who later assassinated President Lincoln, failed in an attempt to abduct the chief executive when Lincoln failed to show up at a scheduled event.

In 1942, Gen. Douglas MacArthur issued a statement from Australia pledging he would return to the Philippines to liberate the islands from Japanese control.

In 1951, Argentine dictator Juan Peron seized an opposition newspaper in Buenos Aires.

★ ★ ★

A thought for the day: Upon landing at Leyte Island, Douglas MacArthur said: "This is the voice of freedom, General MacArthur speaking, people of the Philippines: I have returned."

Goodby to Laos

The Arizona (Phoenix) Republic

The Communist Pathet Lao, assisted by the Red Chinese, are preparing the final takeover of Laos, a country unofficially ceded to the Communists when the United States withdrew support of pro-Western Prince Boun Oum and agreed to a coalition government.

Reports tell of 10,000 Chinese coolies constructing a highway from China into Northwest Laos. Furthermore, Chinese Communists are stockpiling arms and ammunition on the Laotian border.

★ ★ ★

It might be argued that these are merely "defensive" moves on the part of the Red Chinese. But those who find that explanation hard to take point to other Communist moves of the "offensive" variety:

Most military supplies and food arriving in the Plaine des Jarres region have come from North Vietnam by truck, and Pathet Lao Reds control distribution accordingly. By denying food to "uncooperative" neutralist commanders, the Communist faction has been able to undermine morale of neutralist troops and thus force defection of whole units.

Furthermore, Communist cadre leaders have infiltrated neutralist platoons; Communist Pathet Lao troops are making threatening moves against the neutralist village of Ban Ban, lying near the supply route from North Viet Nam to the Pathet Lao bases; and Pathet Lao guerrillas recently murdered the former neutralist army chief of staff.

These facts add up to one thing: The Communists are preparing the final seizure of Laos, whenever they believe it will be to their advantage.

And the Laos coalition government? It lies crumpled in the debris of broken Communist promises. Like the coalition in Czechoslovakia which ended in total Communist control, the Laos coalition seems to have ended in another major setback for the West.

Progress?

The Wall Street Journal

Civilization spans the advance from shoeless toes to toeless shoes.

Southern Puzzle

The Milwaukee Journal

The Louisville Courier-Journal quotes a Southern writer thus: "Kentucky teams have fallen behind and one reason is obvious—they haven't been using Negro players. Instead of putting the five best he can get on the floor, our coaches put the five best white players out there."

★ ★ ★

The University of Maryland has just "signed" a Negro football player for the first time. Texas Christian, Miami and Wake Forest say they'll do the same. Why? Because there are so many good Negro athletes being used by other schools.

It would be ironic if Southern schools ended segregation not to get top students but to build winning athletic teams. Alumni associations are willing to push to almost any ends to get winners. If that means Negro players, they're bound to come to that, too.

Stamp Craze

True Magazine

There are heartening signs that the trading stamp craze is waning, done in by Lincoln's statement that you can't fool all of the people all of the time.

Thousands of women with blue-coated tongues may get their taste buds back, as more and more merchants stop giving stamps when they find that the gimmick adds mainly to the cost of doing business. Some merchants do better by selling items formerly "given away" as premiums.

Some discount-houses now advertise that their prices are as much as 15 per cent lower because they don't give stamps. The consumer pie has to be cut thinner and thinner by stamp outfits that have grown like crab grass, and the battles between competing stamp companies are fierce.

Skids Greased Into Jail for Turkey Label Lifting

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Max Phillips, 63, was placed on six-months probation yesterday for a petty larceny conviction in a limited form of shoplifting.

Phillips was convicted of removing 85-cent labels from two cans of turkey, replacing them with nice-cent labels and paying the lower price.

LABOR FIGURE DIES — James L. McDevitt, 64, director of the AFL-CIO committee on political education since 1955, died yesterday in Oklahoma City while on a political tour of major cities.

Airlines Urge Caution in Use of Recorders

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The airlines and their pilots yesterday asked the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) not to require voice recorders in cockpits unless the device is proven completely reliable and is limited to accident investigation.

★ ★ ★

The caution was urged at an FAA conference called to discuss possible mandatory installation of voice recorders on all airliners. They would be used to help solve air crashes by preserving the last words of the crew.

The FAA disclosed at the meeting that at least two recording devices have gone through 350 hours of ruthless testing under conditions ranging from a 1,100-degree fire to impact 100 times the force of gravity.

★ ★ ★

FAA officials indicated either model could be available in the near future for installation on 1,800 commercial transports at a cost of $2,000 per aircraft.

Well! It's One Way to Get Transportation

SIERRA MADRE, Calif. (UPI) —Billy Beedle, 37, jumped into what he thought was a parked taxi yesterday and got a short ride to the police station in the patrol car.

★ ★ ★

But police released Beedle. "After all, he didn't hurt anyone," an officer said. "He just made a big fat mistake."

PIN-WORMS

A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge ... small, easy-to-take tablets ... special sizes for children and adults.

Claims Crime Gains Ground

Gangsters Are Going Respectable—Bobby

CHICAGO (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said yesterday organized crime has had "more success" in recent years in making contacts with public officials, labor and lawyers — "particularly lawyers.

"And more and more gangsters are going into 'respectable' business," he said.

Kennedy said the organized crime infestation has reached into "all major cities, not only Chicago, but Detroit, St. Louis, Kansas City, New York—with the possible exception of the west coast, especially Los Angeles.

★ ★ ★

In Los Angeles, he said, police and local officials alone with federal authorities have done the best job of halting racketeering.

Kennedy acknowledged in response to a newsman's question that Hot Springs, Ark., was "wide open."

"Yes, we're working with officials there and plan some action, probably within six months," Kennedy said. "The slot machines in Hot Springs were shipped down from Chicago."

The attorney general said federal officials were combatting crime under a "different concept" than previously used, largely because of the crime legislation passed by Congress a year and a half ago.

Japanese Train Reaches Speed of 151.88 M.P.H.

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's super-express train, "Dream," reached a speed of 151.88 miles an hour on test runs yesterday, the National Railways announced.

The tests are conducted for the new Tokaido line from Tokyo to Osaka.

Officials said the top speed was developed by a four-coach electric train and held for one minute on a 20-mile model sector of the new standard gauge line now under construction.

It is to be completed in spring 1964.

Survey for Widening of Telegraph Road

A survey crew has started work on a $1.5-million modernization project to widen Telegraph Road (U.S. 24) from Eight Mile Road to the I-696 freeway under construction at 11-Mile Road, the State Highway Department announced yesterday.

The road will be widened from four lanes to six lanes, according to State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie. Construction is scheduled to start in about two years, Mackie said.

Uruguay Postal Staff Rejects Work Request

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Uruguay's postal workers yesterday rejected a government request that they end a four-day sit-down strike for payment of back wages.

The government says the national treasury is nearly empty and it can't pay up now.

Take Jewelry Worth $334,000

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Two men wearing plastic masks walked into a wholesale jeweler's Tuesday, flourishing pistols, and fled 10 minutes later with loot valued at $334,000.

The stickup was at the Gold Jewelry Co., on the fifth floor of a building at 12th and Walnut, a downtown intersection, but the principal victim was Nathan Pevsner, 63, a traveling jewelry dealer from Chicago.

★ ★ ★

Pevsner said he had $224,000 worth of loose diamonds and expensive set pieces in two pocket wallets and attache case. Hy Gold said his safe and display yielded $100,000 worth of jewelry.

Typhus-Like Plague Hits South America

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — A typhus-like epidemic on the Bolivian-Brazilian jungle frontier has caused 170 deaths in the Bolivian town of San Joaquin, press dispatches from the area said Tuesday. Earlier reports said as many as 400 persons may have died in the Brazilian town of Juajaramerin.

A medical mission from the United States reported that the disease apparently was spread by rats dislodged from the jungle by settlers moving into the area.

Kin on Payroll of Four Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Michigan congressmen had relatives on the payroll in January and made no attempt to hide the fact.

A congressman who wants to avoid publicity over hiring relatives can do it if he wants to. He can make an arrangement to put the wife or other relative on someone else's payroll, and do the same thing for the colleague.

If he wants, he can hire the wife under her maiden name and only someone with knowledge of the legislator's family background would detect that fact from a reading of the payroll.

An examination of the house payroll records for January showed cases of unemployment of Michigan relatives and their gross monthly pay:

Ann J. Diggs, wife of Rep. Charles C. Diggs, Democrat, $803. Mrs. Margaret Lesinski, wife of Rep. John Lesinski, Democrat, $785. Katherine E. Meader, daughter of Rep. George Meader, Republican, $167. Mildred Ryan, sister of Rep. Harold M. Ryan, Democrat, $383.

A four-cent postcard request will result in mailing the same day of a 109-page booklet on the proposed new constitution and an 11-page folder on the same subject, Chase said.

German Economic Invasion Changing Many Lives in Ireland

BACKGROUND — UP SPECIAL REPORT — OF THE NEWS

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Nuala O'Dea, 26, from an old Irish farming family, is a tiny and satisfied part of a German economic invasion rolling across her homeland.

★ ★ ★

Miss O'Dea works for a German factory in the sprawling industrial hinterland springing up around Shannon Airport. She starts at 8 a.m. in a brightly lit, air-conditioned factory block, takes orders from German bosses and earns $18.20 a week.

"I'm at least 3 pounds—$8.40—a week better off than in my last job as a waitress," she says. "I am also able to stay in Ireland. Until this job came along, I had made up my mind to emigrate, probably to America. There was not enough work for me on the farm."

LAND VALUES JUMP

Other Irish people view the German invasion less blissfully.

German land investments have sent values rocketing in some areas, good farms of 200 acres now cost more than twice the national average of $225 to $250 an acre. German demand has also pushed the prices of some residential holdings in County Cork to about 10 times their previous level—to $700 per acre.

Germans bid this month for about $300,000 worth of property in County Donegal. Much of it is farmland.

Dublin's Junior Chamber of Commerce warned of a danger that the small Irish farmer would be swept aside in the land rush by overseas investors.

So far, the Irish government has stood off demands to curb the rate of investment. It is in fact trying to attract more industrialists, settling them in factories and paying state grants up to two-thirds of the total capital cost of building, site development and machinery.

There are benefits ranging from interest-free 7-year loans to a 10-year tax holiday on the profits of all new export industries. At Shannon, the tax holiday lasts until 1984 and raw materials enter the airport free of duty.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-four German industries have settled in the republic since 1959, attracted by these favorable terms and also the availability of a large low-cost labor pool. German industries are turning out on Irish soil such diverse products as ballpoint pens, carpets, cranes, grain driers, wallets, fork lift trucks and mouth organs.

OUTSTRIP BRITISH

The German share of state grants outstrips even the British who are traditionally the largest foreign investors in Ireland.

Grants total $16.8 million since the government scheme got up steam in 1958. The German share is 28 per cent, Irish 25, British 16, American 10 and the rest 21 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Among critics of the German infiltration a Dublin economist said: "One trouble is they don't jolly their work people around, which is what we like to do over here. Nor are they so good at handling the unions. They're inclined to be paternalistic. And in their private lives, they tend to stick together in little German cliques."

OTHER VIEW

Jack Lynch, Ireland's minister for industry and commerce, gave the reporter a differing view: "There were difficulties of language, initially, and difficulties of temperament. These have been steadily overcome.

"At the Liebherr (crane) factory, the Germans built a row of chalets along one of Killarney's lakes and lived there in a community. But I have heard no complaints they are not mixing as much as one would expect with the local community."

★ ★ ★

Nuala O'Dea's boss is Anton Dahmen from Aachen. He is works manager of a factory at Shannon that turns out fine wire gauze for television screens, auto carbureters and pharmaceutical purposes.

Dahmen, 32, lives with his wife and 19-month-old baby in an apartment block constructed by Shannon Airport Development Co. Four other Germans are at the plant in supervisory categories.

"There are no cliques here," said Dahmen, "two of our Germans have Irish girl friends. I go to the chess club in the Shannon Community Hall and visit with Irish friends."

★ ★ ★

Dahmen said he had made a point of trying "not to bear down too hard" on his work force.

"They are more easily led than driven. Once they wanted a longer tea break. They got it. They wanted new stuff for the canteen—electric kettles and so on. They got that too.

"The big advantages of manufacturing here are the pentiful staff and our location. We are much nearer to our markets in the states and in England. We can meet an order from the U.S. in three days if the stuff is in stock."

IRISH ARE BUSY — An Irish worker sends sparks flying as he works on an auto roof section near an assembly line in a German-run plant in Dublin. So far about 24 German firms have been attracted to Ireland since 1959 by such inducement as tax holidays, interest-free loans, transportation advantages and low labor costs.

Gen. Walker Impartial; Hits JFK, Rocky

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker says President Kennedy and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York "are both the same—and I would never support either in 1964."

Walker is on a speaking tour of the United States with evangelist Billy James Hargis of Tulsa, Okla., head of the Christian Crusade, a conservative organization.

★ ★ ★

The former officer spoke to about 2,500 persons at Kiel Auditorium Tuesday night. He said both the Democratic and Republican parties are folowing a "no win" policy against communism and don't deserve public support.

Outside the auditorium, critics picketed Walker and in turn were picketed by his supporters. There was no disturbance.

Spring Flies In; Press Agents Tag Along

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Here it is almost spring again. I can tell it's almost spring because the sap is beginning to rise in press agents, many of whom are dormant during the winter.

WEST

The other day, for instance, there came fluttering into the office a robin-like notice that Alfred Hitchcock, the movie director, was coming to town.

★ ★ ★

It said he planned to visit Lafayette Park near the White House and feed the pigeons from the famous bench that Bernard Baruch once used for an office.

Reading that gave me the same sensation I get when I spy the first crocus or inhale my first whiff of fertilizer.

On the appointed day, Hitchcock arrived at the park in a long limousine and deposited himself on the bench while a press agent sprinkled peanuts around him. In a trice, he was awash with pigeons.

CONNECTION?

Some of the more astute observers at the scene were able to detect a tie-in between this ornithological tableau and Hitchcocks new movie, the name of which momentarily escapes me.

My own thoughts, however, were flying off in another direction. It occurred to me that we were witnessing the creation of a new status symbol.

After this, nobody who is at all interested in keeping up appearances will dream of feeding the pigeons in the park unless he can afford to hire someone to sprinkle the peanuts for him.

Another harbinger of spring came my way in a press release announcing that a new liqueur, created in Japan "from the fragile petals of the cherry blossom," would be introduced here during this year's cherry blossom festival.

A sheet of vital statistics listed the liqueur as 40 proof, but the press release must have been close to 100 proof. By the time I had finished drinking in its heady hyperboles, I was fairly reeling.

What intoxicated me was a narration telling how "the magic mood of Japan" had been captured in the liqueur so that the "gossamer enchantment" of the islands could be enjoyed in bottled form.

"In the cherry blossom (yae sakura) forests of Japan in early April, you will find thousands of men, women and children strolling among the cherry trees picking the beautiful, fragrant, fragile blossoms . . .

"They take these lovely blossoms home, place them on a wooden tray and pickle them with the addition of salt. For to the Japanese, the pickled cherry blossoms are an exotic delicacy . . ."

This ancient tradition has now been carried a step further by a distillery, which "collects the most perfect and fragrant of these blossoms and through a process known only to themselves extracts from the blossoms the essence of the "yae sakura."

Think of that! For years, people have pickled cherry blossoms, and now a way has been found for cherry blossoms to pickle people.

Exiles Threaten More

U.S. Opposes Raids on Cuba

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has put itself on record as being strongly opposed to hit and run commando raids on Cuba by anti-Castro exiles. But two exile group leaders said today that "our attacks will continue until the final liberation of Cuba."

★ ★ ★

The State Department said Tuesday that "such raids do not weaken the grip of the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba. Indeed they may strengthen it."

Thus the department turned a cold shoulder on the news of an attack Sunday on a Soviet camp and ship in northern Cuba. Exile sources claimed some Russians were killed in an exchange of gunfire.

Antonio Veciana and Cecilio Vazquez, leaders of the exile organizations Alpha 66 and Second National Front of the Escambray, said in a statement issued in New York this morning that the attacks would continue.

They would not comment directly on the State Department statement, but declared: "Our struggle belongs only and exclusively to the interests of the Cuban people and therefore we cannot accept that the solution of the Cuban case should be the isolation of our fatherland from the rest of the Americas."

The State Department said reports of the latest incident "reinforces our belief that these irresponsible and ineffective forays serve to increase the difficulty of dealing with the unsatisfactory situation which now exists in the Caribbean.

★ ★ ★

"The U.S. government is investigating fully to determine whether any violation of U.S. law is involved."

In a news conference Tuesday in Washington, spokesmen for the two refugee groups said the raid near Sagua la Grande in Las Villas Province was not launched from U.S. soil. They also argued that such attacks encourage opposition to Castro.

★ ★ ★

A former Castro lieutenant gave the Miami Herald a description of the raid which he said he led.

Without mentioning a raid, Havana radio said some wounded sailors had been taken to a hospital. Moscow radio, on the other hand, announced that a raid by exiles had taken place, blamed the United States, but made no mention of any Russian casualties.

Castro Blames Washington

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) —The Cuban government charged the United States today with responsibility for an attack Sunday night on a Russian merchant vessel.

In an armed forces communique, monitored in Key West, the Communist island regime blamed the U.S. government for the shelling of the Soviet ship, for endangering its crew, and for consequences that "may be the result of these actions."

The communique was the first official word from the Cuban government on the attack claimed by the exile organizations of Alpha 66 and Second National Front of the Escambray.

★ ★ ★

Havana radio said the vessel, whose name sounded like "Ligov," was bombarded Sunday at 11:45 p.m. with 30-caliber machine gun fire and several 20 mm cannon shots.

The broadcast said the ship was unloading merchandise when attacked by "pirate ships."

The radio said the attack took place at the port town of Isabela de Dagua, in northwest Las Villas Province.

Today's broadcast made no mention of casualties.

Ft. Lauderdale's Set for Students' Annual Rite of Spring

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — SPECIAL REPORT

During Easter Week two years ago, mob violence broke out in the Florida resort city of Fort Lauderdale. Thousands rioted in open rebellion against authority. Police used clubs and high-pressure hoses to put down the melee. Three hundred were arrested and stuffed into jail cells.

★ ★ ★

The rioters were not criminals, nor political agitators. They were not men driven mad by hunger, nor the oppressed infuriated by injustice.

They were college students, from good homes, and they had gathered in Fort Lauderdale for a vacation from classes.

★ ★ ★

What turned these normally peaceful young men and women into a howling mob—and how to prevent its happening again—has been studied by the officials of resort towns across the nation.

HOPEFUL SOLUTION

Fort Lauderdale alone has spent more than $11,000 on such a study, and the Florida resort—which expects an influx of 40,000 students this Easter—now believes it understands the problem and knows its solution.

That solution—supervised recreation—was tried last year with great success.

By day, the visiting youngsters competed in vigorous athletic events and talent contests on the beaches. By night, they danced the twist in a beach area set aside for their exclusive use. Wary police stood by with nothing to do.

★ ★ ★

"The city simply woke up to the fact that the kids weren't altogether to blame," explained Dr. Clem Bininger, Presbyterian church pastor and head of a civic committee formed to deal with the riot problem. "The city was guilty too," he said.

"For years, we had ignored these young people while gladly accepting the $2 million a year they spend while they are with us.

"The unrest was triggered by a complete lack of adult-supervised entertainment facilities that would give them something better to do than drink on street corners and heckle police.

FUN AND THE LAW

"We give them things to do to have fun and work off steam. At the same time, we insisted that they observe the law as others do. When youngsters learn that you're interested in them, they'll go along with you. They need discipline, and they'll respect you for it," he added.

★ ★ ★

But not every resort area agrees with the Fort Lauderdale solution. Seaside, Ore., where nearly 2,000 young people rioted last Labor Day weekend, feels adult-supervised entertainment for youngsters is a bribe to behave. It believes the answer lies in stricter law enforcement.

★ ★ ★

"Planned entertainment is just asking for more of this type of people to come back," said Chamber of Commerce President W. A. Ter Har. "Fort Lauderdale gave in to them."

Following the riots of last Labor Day, a fact-finding panel came up with a program of supervised entertainment, a program that had the recommendation of Oregon Gov. Mark O. Hatfield.

KNOCKS INSTEAD OF GAMES

But Seaside turned thumbs down on the idea and adopted instead a get-tough policy that includes new ordinances and a new, firm police chief who is training an auxiliary force in riot techniques.

Newport Beach, Calif., which expects from 20,000 to 30,000 young people during Easter Week, is pursuing a policy of "firmness with fairness," said Police Chief B. James Glavas.

★ ★ ★

"We're perfectly agreeable to their having a good time if done with good judgment and discretion," he added.

During Easter Week, Glavas said, Newport Beach will have the maximum number of police on the streets—"every officer we can scrape up. All officers will be on a shift and a half."

In contrast to all this pre-vacation concern, Hamilton, Bermuda, is looking forward to an expected record 4,000 college students this Easter. It plans to treat them in royal style, just like the paying tourists they happen to be.

★ ★ ★

The Bermuda government will spend at least $25,000 in providing each student with three full meals, sightseeing trips, dance bands and dance contests. Vouchers will be issued to each student on his arrival, and he may avail himself of the entertainment put on for his benefit, or he can go his own way.

Workers See Earnings Hike

Continuing Rise Noted by Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said yesterday earnings of nonfarm workers show a continuing rise—perhaps a shade better than the average gain for the last year.

The Commerce Department reported this in an analysis of personal income in February. Total personal income for February was estimated at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $450.8 billion, compared with $431.9 billion for February 1962.

The February total was $1.5 billion under January, but the January figure included a nonrepeating veterans' insurance dividend that added $3.5 billion to the annual rate. Taking away the dividend, personal income rose $2 billion on an annual basis from January to February.

★ ★ ★

Because a number of temporary factors such as the GI insurance dividend have affected total income in recent months, the department said, variations in nonfarm labor income present a clearer view of trends.

Earnings of employes and self-employed persons represent 75 per cent of all personal income, the department said. These earnings, it reported, increased $1 billion in January and $2 billion in February on the basis of seasonally adjusted annual rates.

"The rise over the past two months is about in line with, or a shade better than, the average increase in labor income over the past year," the department's office of business economics said.

Bouquet Too Heady

NANCY, France (AP) — Don't snooze where they make the booze — that's the moral of this story.

A winery apprentice, Jean Marechal, 16, climbed into an empty wine vat Monday for a nap and passed out from the fumes.

★ ★ ★

Jean was found an hour later by a fellow worker, revived and taken to a hospital with a king-sized hangover.

Sweden Has Tank to 'Outfight' Others

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Sweden unveiled Tuesday a test model of a light, low-slung turretless tank. Swedish military experts claim it can outfight any tank currently in use.

The new tank weighs only 36 tons, 15 tons less than the British Centurian tank now used by Sweden, but has a heavier cannon—105 mm. compared to the Centurion's 84 mm.—and eight machine guns against the British tank's two. Loading and ejection of shells are automatic.

The tank's cannon is fastened directly into the body and is gyro-stabilized, enabling it to be trained on a target even at full speed.

The United States Army will convert all its weapon measurements to meters by 1966.

Junior Editors Quiz on FORESTS

QUESTION: How important are our forests?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Forests are not only important now, they have been vital to man in the whole course of his history. Cavemen depended upon wood for fires, for the clubs and bows they needed to hunt with.

The forest gave wood for ships and made exploration possible. Most buildings have been built wholly or partially from wood.

Forests are especially important to us today because they help conserve our precious supply of water. In the woods, rain seeps down gently and is absorbed by the ground which has become rich in humus through rotting leaves.

This prevents the disastrous runoff of rain which can cause the erosion of the land.

Picture (1) suggests how forested areas can hold water which can be backed up by dams to prevent floods and supply electric power. Picture (2) shows only three of the large number of forest products we use.

And we shouldn't forget what the woods mean to us as suggested in the big picture: to give us all kinds of healthy fun and recreation outdoors, while providing cover and protection to wild animals we like to have sharing our world.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: The next time you are in a grove, see if you can walk noiselessly, like an Indian. Watch that you don't step on twigs which will snap loudly. Put your toe down first, then quietly lower the heel.

Effective Citizenship Goal of Conference

Individuals not only willing but able to discharge effectively their responsibilities as citizens is the goal of a student conference being sponsored by Gov. George Romney at Oakland University April 22.

The governor is scheduled to deliver the keynote address of the conference. Attending will be student officers of clubs, government councils and counselors from scores of state high schools.

Its objective is to give students knowledge and skills that will make them more active and effective in civic affairs.

★

"By offering high school students instruction in the practice, theory and philosophy of leadership," the governor said, "the university is helping provide the critical ingredient of our democracy, namely, individuals not only willing but able to discharge effectively their responsibilities as citizens."

The Governor will speak on the importance of preparing youths to assume these responsibilities.

Students will be taught how to lead a meeting, parliamentary procedure, how to delegate responsibilities, the psychology of organizational leadership, the philosophy of leadership as an instrument of democracy and such details as how to get the support of one's followers.

Experts in these fields from Michigan State University will be speakers in lecture sections. Students will practice what they have learned by leading meetings.

Oakland U.'s director of continuing education, Dr. Lowell Eklund, said that instruction in leadership for high school students has a very definite and continuing value.

"It has been shown that knowledge and ability in organizational leadership has a transfer to civic responsibilities later on," he said.

★ ★ ★

"The student not only is more likely to take part in civic affairs but obviously will be more effective."

OU Chancellor D. B. Varner will welcome students to the campus.

Prohibitionists Set Back in Kansas Legislature

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Kansas drys, seeking to reinstitute state prohibition repealed in 1948, suffered a legislative setback Monday.

★ ★ ★

A proposal which would have resubmitted the question to Kansas voters was killed in a House committee. Another House committee turned down a drys' proposal that the licensing of 3.2 beer sales be left to local option.

In Exotic Himalayan Land

U.S. Socialite Now a Crown Princess

By A. K. DAS

GANGTOK, Sikkim (UPI) — Hope Cooke, a 22-year-old American girl just out of college, today became crown princess of this exotic Himalayan principality in a solemn Buddhist wedding performed by 14 lamas.

The bridegroom, Crown Prince Palden Thondup Namgyal, smiled as he leaned over from his throne to help his diminutive brunette bride unwind a long white silk scarf from around her neck to complete the ancient ceremony in the royal palace.

He thus transformed Miss Cooke into Her Highness Princess Hope of Sikkim, "consort of the deities."

* * *

Princess Hope, an Episcopalian, watched with a faint smile as her second cousin, John H. Humpstone of New York, sealed the match by placing a similar white scarf around the neck of the 39-year-old crown prince.

The young New York socialite, who graduated from Sarah Lawrence College (Bronxville, N.Y.) last month, is the first U.S. citizen to marry into Asian royalty. She now rates the yellow-topped umbrella of oriental royalty wherever she goes.

GRACE'S EQUAL

As crown princess of this isolated mountain land the size of Yellowstone Park, she is considered the social equal of another American princess, Grace of Monaco, and ahead of the Duchess of Windsor.

Princess Grace's domain is smaller than New York's Central Park.

The wedding in the royal palace monastery and accompanying festivities are expected to cost $100,000. The expense, partly from state funds, coupled with the decision to marry a westerner, had provoked some parliamentary opposition, but the ceremony went off without incident.

* * *

The bride, a descendent of Mayflower pilgrims, appeared composed as she sat on a low throne during the ceremony, occasionally exchanging whispered comments and smiles with the groom, who sat cross-legged on a throne next to her and slightly higher.

* * *

It was learned later that the prince was whispering occasional tips to his bride, guiding her through the intricate, ancient ceremony.

FLYING COLORS

Mrs. Jigme Dorji, wife of the Bhutan premier and an accepted authority on etiquette in Himalayan royal families, said Princess Hope came through with flying colors. "She behaved very dignified, very well in a very traditional style," Mrs. Dorji said. " . . . She could not have been better — so dignified, so sweet."

The groom's father, 70-year-old maharaja Sir Tashi Namgyal, sat cross-legged on the highest throne.

* * *

After the marriage was completed and the crown prince had shown the bride how to sign a civil registration book recording the marriage, she spoke with his three children by his late wife, a Tibetan.

The bridegroom's eldest son, 11-year-old Tenzing, led the younger children and about 300 other guests, including 50 Americans, in presenting ceremonious white scarves to the couple as omens of good luck. Another 500 persons waited outside on the palace grounds.

The bride wore a typical Sikkimese gown of frosty white Benares silk brocade with small silver chrysanthemums on it, a gold-wrought belt and a small dagger typical of the Lepcha mountain women.

In the only departure from Sikkimese tradition, the crown prince gave his bride a western-style gold wedding band.

FOOD, WINE

After the ceremony, a festive celebration began with the serving of Sikkimese mulled fruit-millet wine known as chhang and various kinds of food for the Lepcha, Bhotia and Nepali tribesmen, as well as visiting Indian government officials and foreign diplomats.

The bride, who met her prince on a vacation trip to India in 1959, has announced she will give up her American citizenship and become a naturalized Sikkimese "as soon as possible."

"I love my husband's people," she said, "and I want to be one of them."

She has indicated she will not change her Episcopalian faith, however.

Princess Hope's family was represented at the wedding by Mrs. Selden Chapin, her coguardian and wife of the former U.S. ambassador to Iran; and her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Humpstone; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hanes of Winston Salem, N.C.; and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Metz, now living in Saudi Arabia, and their daughters, Mary Helen and Grace.

The wedding was the first performed under Sikkim's new marriage registration act, promoted by the crown prince. The act does away with the principality's casual divorce customs by requiring proof of adultery or other infidelity for divorce.

Sikkim is a country of 165,000 population, bounded by India, Nepal, Bhutan and Communist-held Tibet. It was formerly a British protectorate and is currently under Indian protection.

* * *

Until recent years, Sikkim remained isolated and nearly inaccessible. Its greatest claim to fame in the western world was the legendary presence on its towering mountain slopes of the yeti, or abominable snowman.

Time to Come Clean

'Launder' Husband, Too!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last year my husband started carrying on with another woman. He confessed and promised he'd make it up to me.

ABBY

I wanted to believe him because we have five children. Well, last August he came home with lipstick on his lips and behind his ear.

I blew my top, but he begged for one more chance so I forgave him. He was fine until a few weeks ago. I started to see lipstick on his pillow case.

I stopped wearing lipstick to be sure it wasn't mine. I've been putting these lipstick marked pillow cases aside.

Should I show them to him and let him lie his way out of it? Or should I just see a lawyer? Answer soon as I am running out of pillow cases. HURT

DEAR HURT: Show your husband the pillow cases. Then launder them, and ask your HUSBAND to come clean—and to stay clean this time.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I took some money from the place my mother had it hidden. I had to pay a boy for doing some biology drawings for me.

I intended to work and put it back before my mother missed it, but she missed it first. She took my driver's license away from me and says she is going to tell my father.

She thinks I am a liar and a thief. What to do? WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: You will have to rebuild your mother's trust in you. This may take a long time. You can succeed by being 100 per cent honest in all things.

And what's this about "paying" a boy to do your biology drawings for you? If it was done without the knowledge of your teacher, you might have to rebuild "trust" at school, too.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Whatever happened to soft, silky hair? I spent several years in the service and fought my way through several barbed wire entanglements, but I never thought I'd be sleeping by one. Any advice for a puzzled husband? BIG JOHN

DEAR JOHN: Soft, silky hair went out when ratted, sprayed-stiff hair-dos came in. But I have some good news for you. The soft, silky, natural look is coming back.

Stop worrying. Write to Abby. For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Vatican City Radio Voice

Another Gal Invades Masculine World

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Mark up another first for a woman in a world traditionally masculine.

Eilish Johnston, a blue-eyed blonde colleen from Dublin, is the first woman to become a regular newscaster on the Vatican radio in Rome.

She said the idea of varying the voices of the station for the Vatican state came from Jesuit Father Thomas O'Donnell, himself an Irishman, who heads the station's English language department.

"I don't know what he had to go through to get a woman's voice on the air," she said in an interview. "Maybe it was just the first time anyone had thought of it."

* * *

Miss Johnston, in New York on a business trip, explained that the radio job is a part time one for which she is paid. Her regular job is as a sales representative in Rome for Irish International Airlines. She has been with the airlines in Italy since 1958 and doing the Vatican broadcasts since last August.

She is on the air three times a week for 14 minutes each—doing an English language broadcast beamed to Europe, Africa and the Middle East, and rebroadcast for Australia and New Zealand.

She has nothing to do with the content of scripts, but does the translation from Italian into English of what a news staff already has prepared. Other newscasters work the same way, she said, and in all, 30 languages are broadcast.

Miss Johnston said she is strictly a voice to her listeners—"there is no personal identification of the announcer. And no commercials." Content of the programs include news in Vatican City, of the Christian world and general news, she said.

The 30-year-old broadcaster is one of five children, the daughter of an Irish civil servant now retired and living at Dunlaoghaire, not far from Dublin.

Two brothers work in West Africa, one of them as a newsman in Beirut. Her only sister is married and lives in Dublin.

Miss Johnston is a graduate of Dominican College, Dublin, and has studied languages in Naples, Paris and Rome.

She speaks English without a brogue—"you'll rarely hear a brogue in Dublin," she said. "It's said that the purest English is spoken there."

In Rome, she shares an apartment with a school teacher, a native Italian, who's an expert at making pasta and all the sauces—"I just let her cook and I enjoy the results," said Miss Johnston.

"Actually, the Irish and the Italians have a lot in common," she said. "Basically the same temperaments. Sad and melancholy one minute, on the top of the world the next.

"I often think Ireland should be on the Mediterranean. What are we doing up there in the cold?"

Discussion Held on India

A discussion on social conditions in India was heard by Chapter AW, PEO Sisterhood, during Monday's meeting in the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. Edward F. Lewis.

Two PEO International Peace Scholarship students, Jumuna Bai and Ujjwala Salve of India, addressed the group. They are presently enrolled at Wayne State University.

The chapter also announced its delegates to the state convention in Dearborn, April 15-18. They are Mrs. Walter Teeuwissen and Mrs. Joseph Bara.

Improper for Guests to Pay

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: We received an invitation to the wedding of the daughter of a neighbor of ours. The reception was held in a private room of a hotel.

Except for one champagne cocktail to toast the bride and groom, no other alcoholic beverages were served.

However, after dinner a small bar was set up in a corner of the room where guests could order drinks which they had to pay for themselves.

I have gone to many wedding receptions but this is the first time I ever encountered anything like this.

I was told that the bride's parents could not afford to provide liquor for the guests but as they knew many of them would like something to drink they had this bar set up for their convenience so that they would not have to go down to the main bar. I would like your opinion on this.

A: It was most improper to ask the guests to pay for their own drinks and if the bride's family could not afford to pay for this themselves, liquor should have been omitted.

* * *

Q: Two years ago our daughter had a child out of wedlock. Both she and our grandson live with us. She now has become engaged to a very nice young man.

They would like very much to have a church wedding and all the trimmings. I would like to know how far we may go in planning a wedding for our daughter and still have it in good taste.

A: She may have a church wedding but it should be a simple one, and of course she should not wear a white bridal veil. A reception may follow for relatives and close friends.

* * *

Q: Is there any rule as to what distance from the table one must sit?

A: None, except that of personal comfort. One should not, however, sit so close that elbows are bent like a cricket's nor so far that food is likely to be dropped in transit from plate to mouth.

High Fashion Elegance Now in Bathroom

The term "bathroom jewelry" refers to the decorative racks, and other gleaming fittings which are currently high fashion in home decoration.

This elegant description isn't too far-fetched — because accessories made of glistening goldplate or muted pewter really deserve a glamorous name.

They help to make the bathroom as high fashion as any room in the house — and can be kept decorative by wiping often with a well-lathered cloth.

New pep for tired husbands!

No wonder so many women complain that their husbands come home "too tired out to step out"! The churning tensions millions of men face on their jobs constantly drain them of the energy and vitality they might otherwise have.

• That's why many doctors recommend supplementing the daily diet with Kretschmer Wheat Germ, nature's great "bounce-back" food. Made from the germinating heart of the wheat kernel, wheat germ is the most healthful food known, according to official U.S. Department of Agriculture studies of the nutritive values of foods.

• Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually provides a total of 30 naturally balanced nutrients essential to good health, vigor and stamina! In addition, it acts like a spark plug to help the body use other high-energy foods more fully.

• Serve your husband this remarkable natural food every day for breakfast and see for yourself how much more zip and vitality he has!

• Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereals, or add to pancakes and scrambled eggs.

• Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

Baby Sitting Too Much for Domestic Help

RICHLAND CENTER, Wis. (UPI) —A cook and a housekeeper who left the governor's wife in a lurch —scrub brush and frying pan in hand—say they quit their job because they had to baby-sit too often.

It's not that Mrs. Helen Landphier, 64, and Mrs. Mabel Cooper don't like children. They simply had other things to tend to, they said, like 57 rooms—including 14 bathrooms—in the mansion of Gov. John Reynolds.

"We were asked by Mrs. Reynolds to baby-sit for the three children every afternoon," Mrs. Landphier said. "We just could not do it."

* * *

The women said they wanted to "set the record straight" about why they quit the governor's mansion. They said stories that they left because of a dispute over staggered shifts were inaccurate.

Mrs. Reynolds said she wanted the employes to work a staggered shift so the governor could have a hot meal if he came home late.

"We didn't know when or if the dinner would be served," said Mrs. Landphier. "Many times we didn't know how many to prepare for."

* * *

"We worked a five-day week and put in a 12 to 16-hour day," she said.

When the two women and another domestic worker left, Mrs. Reynolds had to do her own cooking. Mrs. Reynolds has submitted an application to the state employment service for new domestic help.

Spring Courses Begin Monday

'Y' Offers Women Judo Class

Judo and an evening tailoring class are among courses offered by the Pontiac YWCA's 10-week spring term which begins Monday.

Registrations are being taken at the "Y" for both day and evening courses.

★ ★ ★

The self-defense class for women will be directed by Bob Griffin, state parole officer recently transferred here from Lansing.

According to Mr. Griffin, every woman has "built-in" weapons as well as items which she normally carries that can protect her against an assailant if she does not panic.

"If a woman can be taught to break holds and run, screaming as loudly as possible, she has mastered the elementary steps in self defense."

But, he added, she must have practiced them so often that they are a reflex action.

OTHER CLASSES

The evening tailoring class, as well as the current day class, will be taught by Mrs. C. D. Agnew.

★ ★ ★

Golf will be offered when the weather permits, and the cake decorating course, under Mrs. Robert Hines, will return in time for Easter.

Wednesday morning swimming sessions, which include dips without instruction, are expected to continue.

Also to be continued are the Wednesday casserole and salad luncheons, followed by informal programs. Chairman Mrs. John Streit has included a number of queries for other interests in the class folder which is available at the "Y."

Nursery service for the preschool children of members will again be offered four days a week under the supervision of Mrs. Hazel Beutler.

She said that it is not recommended that any one child come all four days. The services gives the mothers a choice of days, she said, both for their own classes and for the youngsters.

★ ★ ★

Classes offered both day and evening include Spanish, directed by Mrs. Hector Bueno, and bridge, under Mrs. Thomas Hollis.

Other day classes are golf, swimming and cake decorating. Evening courses include silversmithing, furniture refinishing, tailoring and self defense.

★ ★ ★

A children's art class will again be offered on Saturday mornings by Sixten Netzler an art student at Oakland University.

This class has plans for its own art show during the spring and the young students have been collecting ideas and drawings for such an event.

His and Hers Accounts End Dollar War

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: My husband and I are at odds over the distribution of the family funds.

Our problem arises out of the fact that my husband never hesitates to make purchases for the office (he has a small business office) but is ever reluctant to spend any money on the house.

He is forever investing money in new gimmicks, equipment that costs hundreds of dollars and often is not even put to use.

"On the other hand, when I ask him whether we can have the walls and carpeting cleaned or the outside trim painted on the house, his answer is: We can't afford it. Yet he expects me to do a considerable amount of entertaining at home for customers.

The car we drive is an old worn-out 1954 model which is in constant need of repair, but he says we can't afford a newer model.

Yet it's all right for him to have three cameras, two tape recorders and a closet full of photographic and recording equipment.

Can you offer some solution?

Mrs. H. K., Chicago

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. K.: If it's any comfort to you, there's a big crowd of suffering sisters on your side!

I'm beginning to believe that the tug-of-war over spending the family funds consumes more energy than earning them in the first place.

That's why I'm a staunch advocate of his and hers checking accounts. Let him buy his gimmicks out of his account, let her maintain the house out of hers.

★ ★ ★

Of course, this arrangement requires a certain basic agreement to begin with, as specific sums must be deposited regularly in both accounts.

However, it's conceivable that you might seize a moment of harmony — after, say a particularly good dinner or a big deal at the office—when you could sell this idea to your husband.

Point out his home should be attractive too especially if it's used for entertaining customers—it reflects his ability to provide. It should be less painful for him to make this kind of arrangement once a month than to listen to your complaints every day for 30 days.

Dear Miss Feeley: This request is for budgeting on a small amount a month for a woman living alone. Due to some rental property in another locating being condemned, the monthly income will be approximately $250 per month.

Expenditures at present are: rent and utilities, $92; church, $6; hospitalization, $8; newspaper, $3. How much should be allowed for food?

Mrs. E. C.,
"Small town in California"

Dear Mrs. C.: You could do pretty well with the following basic figures:

Food, $50; clothing, $20; laundry, other upkeep expenses, $13; medical, $10. These, added to your other expenditures, would leave you about $50 a month to divide as you like between personal expenses, gifts, recreation.

(What's your money problem? Write Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope and she will try to help.)

Goes Twice Speed of Sound

Girl Envy of Squadron

MC GUIRE AFB, N.J. (UPI) — A teen-age girl today was the envy of her squadron because she is the first female member of the U.S. Air Force to travel twice the speed of sound.

Airman 2C Margaret Ward, 19, of Morris Plains, N.J., a member of the 30th Air Transport Squadron, accomplished the feat as a passenger in an F106 Delta Dart Jet Monday.

★ ★ ★

She got the trip for being one of two winners in last month's Miss McGuire Air Force Base contest.

The Air Force said yesterday it believed the only other woman to travel that fast was Jacqueline Cochran, internationally known aviatrix.

Nancy Anne Fleming Will Marry Tomorrow

LANSING (AP) — Nancy Anne Fleming, Miss America of 1961, will be married Thursday — the first day of spring — to William Johnson of Okemos. He's a fellow student at Michigan State University.

The wedding will be performed in Alumnae Memorial Chapel on the university campus.

Nancy, 20, of Montague, entered MSU as a home economics major in September 1961. By last fall, she had caught up to junior standing by carrying a heavy class load and studying through the summers.

She switched majors, to communications, with an eye on a possible radio or TV career.

Nancy got an engagement ring last December from Johnson, a pre-law student at MSU. His father is Dr. Walter Johnson, a professor of education at MSU.

The wedding will be a small, semiprivate affair at Nancy's request. Campus police will keep the curious away from the chapel.

"This is a sacred occasion to Nancy and she wants to have it without fanfare just like every other girl," explained Mrs. Johnson, her mother-in-law to-be.

Insist on Ideal or Accept Improvement?

Apportionment's Major Issue Between Constitution Factions

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third of eight articles on Michigan's proposed constitution.)

By GENE SCHROEDER

LANSING (AP) — "The new apportionment section . . . will give Michigan one of the most representative legislatures in the country." — Gov. George Romney, a Republican.

"The proposed legislative apportionment does not provide even one house on a population basis. The language and formula for apportionment is obscure and unclear." — Former Gov. John Swainson, a Democrat.

"It is highly doubtful whether the experts on government and the political process . . . can ever reach an agreement as to the ingredients of an ideal system of legislative apportionment." — Inter-University Faculty Committee on Constitutional Revision, nonpartisan.

★ ★ ★

The committee, composed of 35 professors from six Michigan colleges and universities, says the question of whether or not the people are given fair and equitable representation is probably the most critical issue in the controversy over Michigan's proposed new constitution.

Even among the educators, mainly political scientists, there were differences of opinion on how the revised constitution meets the equitable representation issue.

Some felt that the document falls short of the objective, others believed it comes sufficiently close to it.

"The choice is by no means easy or clear cut," the committee observed. "Is it better to insist upon an ideal or to accept an imperfect improvement?"

SENATE APPORTIONMENT

Major bone of contention between the opposing viewpoints is the apportionment plan for the state Senate.

Republicans say it gives consideration to areas of the state where sparsity of population seriously impairs effective communication between a legislator and his constituents.

Democrats contend the proposed formula giving 80 per cent weight to population and 20 per cent to area equates 19 acres with one human being and is intended to insure Republican control of the Senate.

★ ★ ★

The analysis prepared by the Inter-University Committee says that there are both good and bad points about the 80-20 formula.

"On the negative side it must be said that the clam that the plan is based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area is only true for the state as a whole. In any given county, the entitlement to senatorial representation may vary widely," the committee reported.

The educators said it must be recognized that the plan will not provide straight popular representation and is not designed to do so.

They added: "It will, however, guarantee the metropolitan counties of the state that they will receive their full entitlement of seats under the terms of the constitution.

"Furthermore, they will receive their seats prior to the smaller counties, and according to a mathematical formula. Thus they will not have to compete with the smaller counties for their senatorial representation.

"Although the plan does not provide straight popular representation, it does increase the senatorial representation of the heavily urbanized counties.

"Whether the increase is sufficient is a highly political question."

POPULATION SHIFT

The committee said it should also be noted that since the state's area remains constant, the only factor that can change senatorial apportionment is a shift or change in population.

"Since the population trend at this point appears to be inexorably upward, and since the growth rate of the more populous counties is greater than that of most small counties, their entitlement to senatorial seats will be bound to increase overtime," the educators explained.

The revised constitution's apportionment formula for the House has not come in for the intensive criticism leveled by the Democrats at the Senate plan. But they point out that the House is not based entirely on population, either.

GOP spokesmen contend the House would be based as nearly as possible on population, subject to the requirement of not violating county lines.

Another factor which prevents the House apportionment from reaching straight popular representation is a provision granting one representative to every county or group of counties having .7 of one per cent of the state's population.

★ ★ ★

Under the present constitution, only .5 of one per cent is required.

SERIOUS BLOCK

Of the two factors, the committee of professors found the county line requirement to be the most serious in blocking straight population representation.

"The county line problem produces more and greater distortions," the committee said.

"The range between the largest and smallest probably districts is 2.1 to 1. On the basis of the 1960 census, the largest representative area will be Monroe County, population 101,120; the smallest will be Van Buren County, 48,395."

However, both Republican and Democratic delegates at the constitutional convention generally agreed that county lines should be observed in drawing up house districts and that city and township lines also should be followed wherever possible in multi-seat counties.

★ ★ ★

This was considered a major advantage in preventing gerrymandering — the drawing of district lines to benefit the political party in power.

Commenting on the county line requirement, the educators said it has been observed ever since Michigan obtained statehood and it also is followed in most other states.

"This neither adds to nor detracts from its merits," they added.

On the makeup of the bi-partisan apportionment commission which would handle the seating, the committee noted that opponents had assailed the commission on grounds that half its members would come from areas containing only eight per cent of the state's population.

This would come about because commission members are to be selected by each major political party with one resident from each of four regions of the state.

The educators said, however, that allocation of half the representation on the commission to the sparsely populate north country is somewhat mitigated by the method of appointment.

Members of the commission are to be designated by the state organizations of the major political parties.

DEPENDABLE APPOINTEE

"Neither party is likely to name a person who cannot be relied upon to protect party interests, whether he hails from Detroit or from Ironwood," the committee observed.

Since the commission must follow precise and rigorous constitutional directives, the educators added, "it seems unlikely that partisan maneuvering will dominate the commission or that the outstate members will gang up on the members from urban southeastern Michigan."

When the commission convenes, it will be faced with the alternative of either working out a mutually acceptable plan or surrendering its discretion to the Supreme Court.

"The provisions for the apportionment commission, in spite of the over-weighting of the most sparsely populated areas, constitute a notable advance in the realm of legislative apportionment," the professors said.

★ ★ ★

They concluded: "Certain facts about the proposed apportionment are clear. It will constitute an improvement over the apportionment system currently in effect, which was adopted by referendum in 1952.

"It will not provide a system of straight popular representation in the Senate, but it will come close to doing so in the House.

"It does provide a system of guaranteed decennial reapportionment under specific constitutional instructions which leaves little room for political maneuvering."

Judges Name Minnesota Dem New Governor by 91 Votes

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A court order declaring Democrat Karl Rolvaag eligible for a certificate of election as Minnesota's governor is to be issued Thursday or Friday by the three-judge panel which supervised the recount of ballots from the Nov. 6 election.

The panel attested a 91-vote lead for Rolvaag Tuesday and turned down a motion by attorneys for Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen that the recount findings be thrown out.

★ ★ ★

The attorneys argued that the recheck of ballots was no more valid than the November tabulation by the State Canvassing Board which had shown Andersen the victor by 142 votes.

Presiding Judge J. H. Sylvestre said there was unanimous agreement by the panel on nearly 4,000 disputed ballots which came before them and said all three jurists adhered to the verdict for Rolvaag.

POSSIBLE APPEAL

Only a possible appeal to the Minnesota Supreme Court thus stood between the 49-year-old Democrat and the chair which Andersen, 51, was continued to occupy until, under state law, a successor was ruled "qualified and elected."

"It's a great day and I'm naturally elated," said Rolvaag from the basement quarters in the Capitol, where he has been keeping abreast of governmental operations.

Andrsen said he will decide whether to appeal after his attorneys study the judges' order.

"Once the opinion is reviewed, there will be no delay on the appeal decision," the governor promised.

There could be a delay of several weeks in the final determination if Andersen appeals.

The final recount figures gave Rolvaag 619,842 votes, Andersen 619,751, a margin of seven-thousandths of one per cent for the Democrat.

State law assesses costs of a recount against the ultimate loser. There are moves in the conservative-controlled legislature to have the state pick up the current bill, estimated at about $250,000.

AP Photofax

WINNER — Karl Rolvaag, Dem challenger, will be named this week as new governor of Minnesota, following a court recount of Nov. 6 ballots giving him a 91-vote margin over Republican incumbent Elmer L. Andersen, who may appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Los Angeles to Back Detroit Bid

LOS ANGELES (AP)—County supervisors pledged yesterday to support Detroit in its bid for the 1968 Olympics.

Detroit Monday as the United States nominee to host the games, beating out the Los Angeles bid in a 32-4 vote. Portland got two votes, San Francisco and Philadelphia one each.

"We ought to be good losers and have no animosity," said Supervisor Frank G. Bonelli.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—headed by Jefim Stepanovic Novoselov, member of the government state planning committee, arrived today for talks on industrial cooperation with Yugoslavia.

State Leaders to Be Honored

LANSING (UPI) — Ten state leaders will be given special awards this year marking the 10th anniversary of Michigan Week.

The Citizen Leadership Awards will be presented to individuals throughout the state "who have made significant contributions to the educational, religious and cultural advancement of Michigan," said a Michigan Week spokesman.

Nominations are now being taken for the awards, to be presented during the May 19-26 observance.

Passover Recipes Observe Ancient Jewish Diet Laws

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

During the Lenten season we are sometimes prone to forget that all our readers do not have to observe the laws of fasting. Our Jewish readers, for instance, are anticipating their Passover season which comes toward the end of the Lenten season.

* * *

Chicken is a traditional food eaten at this time and we're giving you a modern way of preparing it. Herbs and mushrooms, plus canned tomato sauce add interesting flavor.

Put roasting a chicken may be a new idea to some of our readers. Here's your chance to try it.

Pot Roasted Chicken

1 (4-pound) chicken, cut up
1 cup minced onions
¼ cup poly-unsaturated oil
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon rosemary
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
1 (3-ounce) can mushroom pieces
1 teaspoon flour
1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
1 cup boiling water

Brown chicken and onions in oil. Add remaining ingredients. Cover and simmer for 1 hour or until chicken is tender. Serves 4-6.

Because wheat, rye, barley, oats and millet are among the forbidden foods, cakes have to be made from special recipes. Here are two new ones.

Passover Banana Sponge Cake

6 large eggs, separated
1 large whole egg
1½ cups sugar
1½ tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup sifted potato starch
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground mace or nutmeg
3 large bananas
Confectioners' sugar

Beat 6 eggs yolks and the 1 whole egg together in a rotary or electric beater until frothy. Gradually beat in sugar, lemon juice and rind.

Sift together potato starch, salt and nutmeg or mace. Gradually blend into the egg and sugar mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gently fold into the batter.

Rinse 3 ungreased 9-inch round layer cake pans with cold water. Line bottoms with waxed paper cut to fit them. Divide the batter equally between the 3 pans.

Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes or until cake is firm in center. Cool in pans to prevent too much shrinkage.

Turn out onto wire racks, having top sides up. Put layers together with sliced bananas. Dust top with confectioners' sugar.

NOTE. In a household where the strict Seder laws are followed, cake may be topped with whipped cream if cake is not served as dessert for a meal in which meat or chicken is featured.

Wine Passover Cake

1¼ cups matza cake meal
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
6 tablespoons finely ground almonds
3 large eggs, separated
1½ cups sugar
½ cup sweet red wine
½ cup fresh orange juice
1½ tablespoons grated orange rind
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Mix the first 4 ingredients together. Set aside. Beat egg yolks until they are thick and lemon colored. Gradually beat in sugar and continue beating until thick and light.

Add wine, orange juice, orange and lemon rinds and beat with an electric mixer set at medium speed for four minutes. Fold in dry ingredients.

Beat egg whites until they stand in soft, stiff peaks and fold into the batter. Turn into a 10x14-inch spring form pan or into a 10x4-inch round tube cake pan.

Make in a preheated slow oven (325 degrees) 1½ hours or until done. Invert cake on a wire rack to cool. Remove from pan when cold.

Maple Drink Right in Season

In the late Vermont winter, when the false spring still has plenty of snap and bite to it, the maple farmer is out in the sugar bush for the yearly sugaring-off. The scene is dear and familiar to us . . . painted over and over again in loving detail by Grandma Moses.

Lovely, lovely maple syrup . . . amber-gold and sweet . . . every spoonful smacking of the good old days, of country cooking, of friendly kitchens full of charm and calico.

Actually, the idyllic sugaring-off shown to us by Grandma Moses was very hard work and although machines are not as charming as children with cold noses and mittens, modern methods of producing maple syrup make it much easier and much thriftier to enjoy mapley recipes to our heart's content.

Our New England Maple Nog combines maple syrup with instant nonfat dry milk crystals for convenience, economy and flavor, flavor, flavor. The instant crystals impart to this recipe a smooth richness, a silky, delicate texture and all the nourishment . . . proteins, B vitamins, calcium and phosphorus . . . of whole milk.

New England Maple Nog

12 eggs, separated
1 cup maple syrup
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ginger
6 cups instant nonfat dry milk crystals
10 cups water

Beat together egg yolks, syrup, salt and ginger. Stir in instant crystals and water; blend until smooth. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into milk mixture. Chill. Makes 12 servings.

NEW ENGLAND MAPLE NOG . . . Inspired by Grandma Moses' famous Vermont scene of sugaring-off and made with instant nonfat dry milk crystals and maple syrup.

Indian Style Chicken Calls for Curry

If you like curries, here is one that's a little different.

INDIENNE BANANA CURRY

1 medium onion, chopped
½ cup thinly sliced celery, and a few minced leaves
½ cup chopped tart apple
2 to 3 teaspoons curry powder
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup chicken stock or bouillon
1 cup milk
3 cups diced cooked chicken
3 medium bananas, green-tipped
Hot cooked rice
Side-boys

Slowly cook onion, celery, apple and curry powder in butter 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in flour and salt, then chicken stock and milk. Cook and stir until mixture thickens and boils. Add chicken; heat through and add more salt and curry powder if desired.

Cut bananas into ¾-inch slices and add to curry mixture. Let simmer 5 minutes. Serve with hot rice and sideboys.

Side - boys — Small dishes of chopped pimiento - stuffed olives, raisins, chopped green onions, chopped hard - cooked egg, chutney, chopped pecans, toasted coconut, chopped preserved ginger root.

New Snack

Coconut chips are made from thinly shaved fresh coconut meat that has been roasted at a very low temperature for a couple of hours. The brown skin does not have to be removed from the coconut when preparing this snack.

U.S. Criticism of Friends: Blunt Plan or Poor Blunder?

EDITOR'S NOTE — Twice in two months, the State Department has used blunt words in criticizing U. S. friends and allies. Do the incidents involving Canada and Brazil fit into a pattern under the Kennedy administration?)

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is beginning to lose its reputation for speaking only in diplomatic doubletalk.

HIGHTOWER

Twice in two months it has shown a startling preference for plain words bluntly spoken in criticism of friends and allies.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker of Canada, who was the target last Jan. 30, and President Joao Goulart of Brazil, who was angered by the most recent blast, may well wonder whether an undiplomatic new era is opening in U.S. diplomacy.

Closer to home, observers have the impression that these bursts of verbal erring have not always been coldly calculated.

In the Brazilian case, the truth as seen in Washington was blurted out in an unpremediated way. A series of fumbles followed.

The incident began early this month in a secret session of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee looking into Communist activities in Latin America. Ambassador Lincoln Gordon testified at great length on conditions in Brazil. His report to the committee is said to have been very frank and when he looked it over for possible publication he decided none of it should be made public.

★ ★ ★

As a substitute, Gordon and other State Department officials prepared a summary statement which was sent to the committee. Among other things, it said that Communists had infiltrated the Brazilian government — a serious accusation for one friendly nation to make against another even though U.S. officials regarded it as a true statement.

ATTRIBUTUTION MIXUP

The summary, State Department informants say, was supposed to have been sent to the committee as a statement by the department, not by Gordon personally.

Somehow, however, the paper arrived at the committee as a statement from Gordon and was so printed. When the committee released its report last Thursday, news stories reported the Reds-in-government charge and it brought immediate expressions of indignation in Brazil.

The State Department first said the statement had been wrongly identified in being attributed to the ambassador. When that brought protest from the subcommittee, the department said the view was shared by the department and by Gordon though the statement should have been a departmental one.

Some officials now question whether the reference to the Brazilian government should have been included at all in any kind of public statement. Furthermore, the evidence is that a mistake was made in not making certain that Gordon's name was separated from the statement when it was sent to the committee.

Finally Undersecretary of State George Ball issued a statement deploring the whole affair and emphasizing basic U.S.-Brazilian friendship. In Brazil, aides of President Goulart said he was satisfied and it appeared that the matter would be dropped and Gordon would be able to return to his post. It also appeared that Brazil would definitely get substantial U.S. financial assistance.

Qualified informants insist that there was nothing deliberate or calculated about the criticism directed at Brazil. It became public by misadventure.

But in the Canadian affair, there is no doubt that the action was deliberate.

The miscalculation in that instance was that the reaction in Canada was much more violent than expected.

Diefenbaker had refused to accept U.S. nuclear warheads for antiaircraft and airborne weapons equipped to handle them in defense of the North American continent and western Europe.

QUESTIONABLE DEFENSE

His policy had become an issue in the Canadian Parliament and he had defended it with a number of statements which the tate and Defense departments considered erroneous. Among other things, he had questioned the need for a nuclear-armed air defense system.

State and defense officials decided to set the record straight from Washington's point of view. Without naming Diefenbaker, the State Department issued a statement saying point by point that several of his arguments were wrong and that his non-nuclear defense policy was not justified.

★ ★ ★

Diefenbaker blasted back, accusing the United States of intrusion in Canadian affairs. A great political storm arose in Ottawa and Diefenbaker lost a confidence vote in Parliament. He faces general elections next month with his non-nuclear policy an issue. So are Canada's relations with the United States.

President Kennedy is known to have been annoyed by the failure of the State Department to realize the angry reaction which its statement might very well get in Canada.

LATER . . . APOLOGY

Looking back, some officials thought that the whole thing might have been more diplomatically written. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a news conference he regretted it if the tone of the U.S. comment had caused offense in Canada.

While such incidents as the statements concerning Canada and Brazil inevitably raise questions about changes in U.S. tactics under the Kennedy administration, it is likely that they fit a pattern in only one respect.

Kennedy and Rusk do feel that occasionally issues arise on which the United States should speak up frankly, even at the risk of allied irritation. This attitude probably has filtered down through the government.

Yet it is also true that neither Kennedy nor Rusk personally worked on the Canadian statement. So far as can be determined, neither was involved in the Brazilian matter.

There have been many such incidents in the past.

★ ★ ★

When a high officer or an agency like the State Department speaks out against the politics of another country, a bombshell effect is usually inevitable. If the criticism is complicated by rumbling or misjudgment, the result is likely to be magnified.

But what counts in the long run is the lasting diplomatic effect—what Canada, for example, ultimately does about its defense policy and Brazil about its Communist problem.

Comma Out; in Coma

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — The State Department of Economic Development sent out a press release announcing the 18.5-million tourists who visited Nevada in 1962 spent $594,000—an average of 3½ cents each.

★ ★ ★

The stunned tourist industry regained its composure when the department admitted someone had dropped a comma and three zeroes and that they meant visitors spent an average $33 each for a total of $594 million.

3 Candidates Visit County

Three candidates nominated for state office by Democrats are touring Oakland County today.

★ ★ ★

They were to visit Pontiac to greet employes of Pontiac Motor Division at the plant gates during the afternoon shift change.

Paul L. Adams, candidate for State Supreme Court on the nonpartisan ballot, Eugene B. Power, candidate for re-election to University of Michigan Board of Regents, and Gerald Tuchow, candidate for State Board of Education, also will campaign in Waterford Township.

They will meet for dinner with the Waterford Democratic Club at 6:30 p.m. at Pontiac Lake Inn and afterwards attend a meeting in the Mountain View Subdivision.

Adams and Power were to meet with Royal Oak's Senior Citizens Club at 10 a.m. and lunch at noon with the Ferndale Kiwanis Club.

All three were slated to greet visitors to the Royal Oak Home Show at the city's Farmers' Market at 5 p.m.

Postal Chief to Talk at OU

Some 300 postmasters and postal supervisors from throughout Michigan are expected to attend a management meeting at Oakland University Saturday.

Regional U. S. Post Office Director Donald Swanson of Chicago will be the main speaker.

He is a former mayor of Southfield and past state fair commissioner here.

Lawyer Put Own Money in Cuba Jail

NEW YORK (AP)—James B. Donovan, New York lawyer negotiating for the release of more than 20 Americans in Cuban jails, disclosed Wednesday that he used $170 of his own money to set up prison accounts for 17 on the Isle of Pines.

Donovan said the condition of the Americans remaining in Cuban prisons "has been materially improved since the release of the Bay of Pigs prisoners and our delivery of drugs and food to Cuba.

"But, it remains true," he said, "that no imprisonment in a tropical prison is a pleasant ordeal."

★ ★ ★

He declined to give any details of the condition of the four prisons.

"In some mysterious fashion," he said, "these people are being cooperative with me. Details about prison life nearly anywhere could be made to sound pretty bad."

The first two of the Americans expected to be released as a result of the current negotiations arrived in Miami Sunday. Both were women. One had spent more than two years in a jail.

★ ★ ★

Donovan has declined to give any details of the basis for their release, but said it was entirely different from the ransom of the 1,113 invasion prisoners, which he negotiated.

Business Tax Boon Sees Spending Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Last year's tax benefits to business are apparently paying off in stepped-up spending plans for new plant machinery and equipment.

Government economists figure that prospective rise in industry's investments brightens the outlook for a moderate acceleration in business economy in the second half of the year.

Government officials said Tuesday there is no doubt now that the two 1962 tax stimulants to investment—a 7 per cent tax credit and a liberalized rulebook for depreciation — have influenced a good many firms to expand or modernize this year.

Kill Driving Age Bill

BOSTON (UPI) — The House yesterday killed a bill to increase the minimum driving age from 16 to 18.

How Employes Cheated DPW

DETROIT (UPI) — An ex-Department of Public Works (DPW) official yesterday told an all-woman jury how easy it was to cheat the supposedly foolproof scales at city incinerators.

Betram Ilton, who was suspended during a police probe of DPW operations and later awarded another job, told the court that by pressing the weight - recording button at the right moment when the needle was on the rebound, you could register a lighter tonnage than a truck actually weighed.

Ilton said it was simple for incinerator scalemen to use this procedure when they wanted to give the truck drivers a break and cheat the city. For making a truck lighter the truckers paid a small kickback.

Ilton further revealed that even though the rules plainly state that each truck must pass over the scales going to the incinerators, the scales are built so they may be easily avoided.

Car Strikes, Drags Teen 12 Miles

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — A sports car struck and killed a Charlottesville youth early yesterday and dragged his body beneath the vehicle for 12 miles.

A witness chased the car into Charlottesville where it was found abandoned near the University of Virginia campus. The body of James Patrick Akins, 19, was recovered from under the low-slung auto.

Police questioned the owner, an unidentified university student, to determine who was driving the car.

Akins, home after attending Clemson College on a football scholarship for a semester, and a friend Barry Mawyer, had an accident in their car near a restaurant - motel.

★ ★ ★

A witness, Merle Durham, said Akins was either thrown from the car or was getting out on U.S. 250. The sports car came along and struck Akins, dragging the youth with it.

Durham said he jumped in his car and chased the sports car into Charlottesville at high speeds.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Since 1939 when Detroit started bidding for the World Olympics, headed by Fred C. Matthaei and a five-man committee, the Motor City plea was heard by the U.S. group for 1956 and 1964.

In both instances, the International Olympic Committee (IOC) did not go along with the U.S. choice.

The U.S. committee made it known again this week that Detroit is again the choice amid the disparaging remarks by the Los Angeles rat pack.

Now, the Detroit bid looks stronger than ever as the 1968 site.

What will this mean, not only for Detroit, but the Pontiac area and all of Michigan?

It means the bidding will start by area communities to stage a portion of the 19 men's sports, six women's sports and 150 events as held in Rome in 1960.

There were 84 nations competing with 5,396 competitors, plus thousands of coaches, officials, trainers, doctors, etc.

It will bring 300,000 or more visitors into the immediate area extending from downtown Detroit and far through Pontiac.

WORLD COVERAGE

Newspapers and communication services from throughout the world, eleven hundred of which serviced the 1960 games, will make this area their headquarters for a period of three or more weeks.

All the athletic fields, arenas, courts and sports areas in lower Michigan will be utilized for competitive events and practice sessions.

There are many good possibilities for competitive events to be held in the Pontiac area.

★ ★ ★

Most likely the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club will handle much of the pistol and rifle events and archery if added to the '68 games.

The Bloomifeld Hunt Club might feature the equestrian events, and many of our area lakes could be dressed up to stage some of the many water events.

There will be a great need for indoor arenas and here again is another good reason why a Pontiac Civic Auditorium would give the city a share of the 1968 Olympics.

With Detroit almost a certainty to get the 1968 games it's time for communities to start bidding for a share of this world activity.

The need for a civic auditorium is justified not only by city necessity but now by opportunity to share the 1968 Olympics.

This is the time to get a five-year plan in motion.

Play Northwestern Tonight at U-D

Huskies Eye Road to Cage Glory

The Huskies of Pontiac Northern put their "Cinderella" dreams of glory in the state high school basketball tournament on the line tonight at 7 p.m. in the University of Detroit's Memorial Field House.

Trying to toll a midnight curfew for those hopes will be a talented — and favored — Detroit Northwestern quintet.

The winner of tonight's quarter-final clash will meet the survivor of the "battle of the unbeatens" between Grosse Pointe and Ferndale which will be staged as the concluding portion of the U-D twinbill.

That meeting will take place Friday in the state semifinals at East Lansing.

Coach Dick Hall and the PNH cagers have emerged from five district and regional tournament victories and conquerors of play-off pressures and with the knowledge that each succeeding game will be tougher than the last.

REGIONAL WIN

The Huskies just squeezed by Livonia Bentley, 48-47, for the regional title Friday as sophomore Roger Hayward bounced in a layup shot in the last three seconds of play.

Northwestern moved into tonight's contest by decisioning Detroit Southwestern, 65-58, behind the 31 points of 6-6 center Ben McGilmer.

PNH has won eight in a row, one short of the victory string compiled during the regular season, with the five playoff wins all coming on the home court.

That factor will make the "away" game today even more significant in the drive by the Huskies toward a possible state Class A championship.

Both teams are expected to utilize similar offensive patterns. If so, their fastbreak, shoot and crash the backboards styles of attack could produce a high scoring contest.

Control of the rebounds will be a major factor in the outcome, probably, and it is in this area that the Huskies have shown a winning form lately.

Hall will undoubtedly stay with the successful combination of Jerry Reese and Mike Burklow as the playmaking guards, Roger and Gary Hayward as the scoring forwards and center Wayne Daniels to give backboard and defensive protection.

OTHER GAMES

In an area quarter-final clash at Rochester High School, Marysville will play Flushing in a 7:30 p.m. Class B meeting. Marysville qualified for this contest by nipping Fenton, 53-51, at Clarkston last week.

Another area team with "Cinderella" hopes in the state playoffs is Imlay City and those hopes will be risked tonight at Port Huron against Detroit St. Thomas at 7:30 p.m.

The Spartans rode the solid shooting of forward Tom Hall to victory in the Bay City regional Class C tournament. They will meet a tough St. Thomas team tonight, conqueror of Grosse Pointe St. Paul which conquered Capac which had a dual conquest of Imlay City this season.

Aguirre Shows Dodgers Plenty in 8-3 Triumph

Tiger Miscues Yield Unearned Runs; Lary Signs Contract

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Hank Aguirre, the American League's stingiest pitcher last season, worked six innings and appeared in mid-season form yesterday as the Detroit Tigers scored an 8-3 decision over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The victory was the fifth in a row for the Bengals.

★ ★ ★

Aguirre, whose 2.21 earned run average topped AL pitchers last season, has worked 13 innings in exhibition play without giving up an earned run.

Al Kaline smacked four sharp singles to pace the Tigers at the plate and run his spring average to .382.

The Tigers broke a 1-1 deadlock in the fifth inning when they scored four runs on doubles by Jake Wood and Rocky Colavito, singles by Billy Bruton and Kaline, a walk, an error and a wild pitch.

They added three more runs in the seventh when Wood singled home Dick McAuliffe and Don Wert and later scored himself on Kaline's fourth hit.

Errors—the Tigers had four of them—accounted for two of the Dodgers' runs.

Miscues by McAuliffe and Wert and Duke Snider's single chased home the first tally in the second inning, while Tommy Davis' sixth-inning sacrifice fly scored a run set up by Wood's error.

OFF REGAN

The Dodgers added their final run in the eighth off reliefer Phil Regan. Daryl Spencer's single and Wally Moon's second double of the day preceded a sacrifice fly by Lee Walls.

Regan was effective over the final three innings, giving up just three hits.

The Tigers announced that pitcher Frank Lary had signed his 1963 contract after taking less than the maximum 25 per cent cut from a salary reported to have been around the $40,000 level last season.

Lary has been working out with the club without a contract because of the doubtful condition of his throwing arm. He had a poor 2-won, 6-lost record last season, after having been a 23-game winner in 1961.

He was scheduled to work again Thursday, but was called to Northport, Ala., due to the illness of his father-in-law.

The Tigers were scheduled to try for their sixth-straight vcitory against the Pittsburgh Pirates at Lakeland today.

Baltimore Relocates 1960 Success

By The Associated Press

The Baltimore Orioles, traveling along baseball's exhibition trail undefeated in 10 games, seem to have located the glory road they suddenly and inexplicably stepped off in September of 1960.

In 1960 the Orioles battled the New York Yankees down to the wire before losing out in the American League pennant scramble.

They were in first place on Sept. 9 and on Sept. 15 were still virtually tied for the top with an 83-58 record to 82-57 for the Yankees. Then came a disastrous series with the Yankees, and the Orioles ultimately finished second, eight games behind with an 89-65 record.

★ ★ ★

The Orioles slipped to a third-place finish in 1961, 14 games back of the Yankees, and last year fell to seventh place, 19 games out of first.

Now with shortstop Luis Aparicio and outfielder Al Smith obtained in an off-season trade with the Chicago White Sox, a reversal of the downward trend seems evident.

A triple by Aparicio started the Orioles on the ay to their 10th straight victory Tuesday, 4-3 over the White Sox at Sarasota. The blow triggered a three-run first inning burst and the Sox never caught up.

The world champion Yankees, meanwhile, continued at the bottom of the AL standings with a 3-8 mark. They rapped out 15 hits, but lost to Kansas City 9-5 at Bradenton.

HIT BARRAGE

Cleveland smashed 18 hits and crushed Houston, the National League exhibition leader, 13-3 at Tucson.

Cincinnati helped by John Edwards' two - run homer, nipped Minnesota 5-4 at Orlando and Norm Larker's ninth inning single drove in the winning run for Milwaukee as the Braves edged Pittsburgh 7-6 at Fort Myers.

Lee Thomas homered and drove in another run with a single, leading the Los Angeles Angels to a 5-1 victory over Boston at Palm Springs, Calif.

Liston Ordered Back to Miami for Examination

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Despite stormy objections by his adviser, heavyweight champion Sonny Liston must come back from Chicago Friday for an official examination to determine whether he is unable to fight Floyd Patterson.

The Miami Beach boxing commission ordered the champion's return after a hearing Tuesday night in which Liston's Miami physician, Dr. Duke Baird, said he had no conclusive evidence that Liston had torn the cartilage in his left knee.

Jack Nilon, Liston's adviser, protested bitterly against the decision, but failed to sway chairman Fred Aaronson and other commissioners.

Red Wings Put Crimp in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings have sabotaged almost completely any chance of Chicago's Black Hawks winning a National Hockey League championship.

★ ★ ★

The Wings walloped the Black Hawks 5-1 in the only NHL game last night.

Chicago trails league-leading Toronto by three points. Chicago is only a point ahead of Montreal. And Montreal plays at Toronto tonight.

If the Canadiens win, Montreal will take over second place. Chicago would be dropped to third.

The Hawks would be at a disadvantage for the Stanley Cup playoffs if they were to finish third.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the Montreal-Toronto game Wednesday, Boston is at New York. New York plays at Boston Thursday and on Saturday Chicago is at Montreal and Detroit at Toronto. The regular season ends Sunday with Chicago at Boston, Toronto at Detroit and Montreal at New York.

HULL INJURED

The slumping Hawks lost the services of Bobby Hull in the first period of Tuesday night's game in Chicago Stadium. Hull injured his right shoulder while checking Doug Barkley into the boards. He is expected to be ready for the Hawks' final two games this weekend.

★ ★ ★

Norm Ullman paced Detroit with a pair of goals while teammate Gordie Howe added to his scoring lead. Howe collected his 36th goal and his 47th assist for 83 points, giving him an eight-point lead over New York's Andy Bathgate.

The five goals against Chicago put Glenn Hall's drive for the Vezina trophy in jeopardy. Hall and Montreal's Jacques Plante are tied with 171 goals against each but Plante has one more game than Hall to play.

'Fireball' Joins Ford

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Glenn (Fireball) Roberts, holder of more late model stock car records than any other driver, has joined the Ford Motor Co. and will compete in his first race under the new affiliation in Bristol, Tenn., March 31.

Swimmers to Begin AAU Indoor Finals

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — America's great indoor swimming splash begins today. It's the four-day National AAU indoor championships in Yale's swanky 25-yard natatorium.

Some 400 water wizards will be competing for 16 titles, four daily. American winners and runners-up will get a free trip to swim in the Pan-American Games at Sao Paulo, Brazil next month.

Back for action are all of the 1962 champions.

Shaping up is a terrific battle for the team title between Indiana and Yale, with Minnesota and Michigan strong challengers. The Hoosiers from Bloomington, Ind., have been given a slight edge because of superior divers.

Before the meet ends, swimming xperts should get an excellent picture of America's swimming might. The Olympic Games are being held next year.

Takes All-Events Lead in ABC by Hitting 2,055

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Until he took first place in regular all-events and teamed with Gerry Schmidt for the regular doubles lead Tuesday at the American Bowling Congress Tournament, Bus Oswalt's only claim to fame was the Fort Wayne, Ind., all-events title.

The shy, 27-year-old right-hander amassed a 2,055 nine-game all-events total, dwarfing the 1,871 which won his hometown title earlier this year and the 1954 rolled up by previous ABC co-leaders Andy Hudoba of Youngstown, Ohio, and Vince DiNapoli of Rochester, N.Y. Hudoba and DiNapoli dropped to second place.

Hickey Says Victory Is 'Most Satisfying'

NEW YORK (AP)—For Marquette's Ed Hickey, the Warrior victory was the most satisfying of a long basketball coaching career.

For Providence's Joe Mullaney, the Friars' victory was another in a long line of heart-stopping scramblers.

The two teams posted quarter-final triumphs in the 26th National Invitation Tournament Tuesday night, Marquette blazing past St. Louis 84-49 and Providence counter-rallying for a 106-96 decision over Miami of Florida.

Marquette and Providence square off in the opening game of Thursday night's semifinal doubleheader at Madison Square Garden, preceding a match between Canisius and Villanova.

Hickey, involved with St. Louis Coach John Benington in a feud that has resulted in a breach of basketball relations between their two schools, watched contentedly as his veteran Warrior squad thoroughly outclassed the Billikens. Hustle, speed and a 51 per cent shooting average made it a Marquette romp.

Hickey, who has accused St. Louis of luring away a player committed to Marquette and vows he will never again play a Benington team—"unless we're paired off in a tournament"—refused to dwell on the controversy after the game.

MOST SATISFYING

"I'd rather avoid the feud phase now. Not that I've said anything I have to apologize for . . . but I don't want to take any of the luster from this victory—the most satisfying of Ed Hickey's career."

That career, incidentally, spans a quarter-century at Creighton, St. Louis—he was Benington's predecessor there — and Marquette. Hickey's had 11 NIT entries, and won in 1948 with St. Louis.

Mullaney, whose Friars' trademark seems to be either fighting back from big deficits or fighting to hold on after big leads, saw Miami cut a Providence bulge of 19 points to a slim two in the final minutes before a run of eight straight successful free throws clinched a 13th victory in a row.

Ray Flynn, a quick-firing sharpshooter, popped in 38 points for Providence and Jim Stone added 26. Kenny Allen scored 19 for the Hurricanes of Miami, who were forced to play a long stretch without their big men, 7-foot-1 Mike McCoy and 6-7 Rick Barry, due to foul trouble.

With an 8-0 shutout of Westside Colonial Lounge last week, the league leaders pushed their advantage to 25 games over runner-up Eamon Electric.

The window cleaners displayed excellent consistency against Westside, bowling team games of 1,069—1,049—1,041 to total a 3,159 series.

Big Joe Foster topped the individual efforts last week with 268—680 marks. There were 24 series of 600 or better.

HIGH POINT

Auburn Lanes reports a high mark in its Ladies Major League last week. Daisy Eldon of the house team rolled 233—609 for the first 600 series in the league's history.

Sherry Norris was only 18 pins shy of the magic figure in the Tuesday Morning Charmers circuit at Auburn. She was nosed out for high game honors by Doris Longton, 219—216.

Vern Sillers struck a blow for the women last week when she came through with 220—521 totals in the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital League at Timberlanes. Harry Whitlow maintained some of the men's superiority with 205—541.

Maple Lanes had some fine scores Wednesday by the ladies in its Woman's Midweek loop. Helen Grubbs rolled 236—573, Margo Walker 220—585, Ellen LaQue 200—544 and substitute Loretta Vickery was a hit with 227—528.

There were 68 games of 200 or better and 16 series of at least 600 in the Cooley Lanes Senior House circuit last week. Art Hebda's 672 topped the list while George Rinkenberger scored with 268.

Cooley's Multi-Lakes Ladies' League was paced by Marie Reynolds' 212-213—617 efforts last Tuesday.

ANNUAL TOURNEY

The seventh annual keg tournament between the Knights of Columbus and Elks groups was bowled recently at Elks and Westside with the latter team coming out on top, 37,202—36,976.

Returning to its own league play, the K of C group had a 269—616 by George Hensel, a 211-232—644 by Frank Polasek, 233-232—638 by Jerry Robak, 211-243—636 by Elias Vela and a 247 by Bernie Wyzgoski.

Two other features of Wednesday's activity were a 166 triplicate by Frank Doll and a 227-241—626 performance by John Lindgren. The latter went over 200 for the first time in eight years with that effort.

At 300 Bowl last week, the Tuesday House League had 25 games of 200 or better, topped by Ralph Puertas' 231. High series honors went to Bill Ash who hit 215—624.

★ ★ ★

Haylett, 65, will retire June 30 after 35 years as head coach.

Rec Playoffs Taking Toll of Area 5s

Saginaw bombed Southwest Community Club, 76-62, in the state Class A playoffs at Port Huron to leave the area only two teams in the district tournaments.

Jo-Jo's Pontiac's Class D champs, will play East Detroit tonight at Lasky Center in Detroit at 7 p.m.; and O'Neil Realty, Waterford Township's Class B titlists, will meet Livonia at 9 p.m. in Detroit's Patton Center.

In local recreation playoff activity last night, Michigan Bell forced the city Class C playoffs to an extra game by stopping Columbia Avenue Baptist, 60-54.

In the township Class D tournament, O'Neil defeated Tim's Barber Shop, 66-63, and Hoyt Realty beat Woodcum Drilling, 49-46.

★ ★ ★

SWCC fell behind early, 24-7, against Saginaw and couldn't catch up although George Fedd tallied 25 markers for the losers.

Michigan Bell took an early lead, but had to rally from a late tie to hand the Baptists their first loss in the double elimination tournament.

Dave Struble's 30 points led O'Neil to its win while Mickey Dean hit 21 in the Hoyt victory. Hoyt will play Reeves Service tonight at 7:30 in the Pierce JHS.

Carr Breaks Record

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Lanky Henry Carr of Arizona State University, who had been flirting with the world record in the 220-yard dash for two years, finally broke it Tuesday night.

Carr churned around one turn in chilly Goodwin Stadium in :20.4, one-tenth of a second faster than any human before.

★ ★ ★

The recognized record is held by Stone Johnson of Grambling, La., College; Ray Norton, Santa Clara Valley, Calif., Youth Village, and Paul Drayton, Villanova.

Carr, a 6-foot-3 sophomore from Detroit, was slow getting out of the blocks. Midway through the turn, he burst into a lead over teammates Ron Freeman and Tom Hester and three University of Utah runners. At the tape, Carr was 10 yards ahead.

Freeman was first out front, and Carr credited his senior teammate with making him give a little extra. Freeman finished second and Hester third.

REALLY MOVING

"Hank came by me so fast I didn't even see him," Freeman panted. "He was really moving."

Carr, appearing calm and relaxed as he waved to a cheering crowd of 2,000, said:

"Ron really helped a lot. I sometimes don't get a real good start but I had to pull right from the beginning with him taking off like that."

Coach Senon (Baldy) Castillo, who is dedicated to building a track power at A-State, said there was no wind aiding Carr. Castillo said the track would be surveyed Wednesday to make certain the distance was correct.

★ ★ ★

Prior to his record shattering effort, the 200-pound, 19-year-old sprinter ran 'on the winning A-State 440-yard relay team, won the broad jump at 24 feet, 1¾ inches and the 100-yard dash in :09.6. Last Saturday against New Mexico University he had a :09.4 in the 100.

EASY VICTORY

After his 220, Carr ran a leg on A-State's winning mile relay team as the Sun Devils piled up 115½ points to 27½ for outmanned Utah.

Time Grows Shorter for Pro-Am Bowlers

With the 300 Bowl's Professional Association Pro-Am tournament now only three weeks away, the list of probable qualifiers is alarmingly slim.

The opportunity for local bowlers to pick up a chunk of the $5,100 prize money with the assistance of a pro kegler is very good. Only the amateur wins in the Pro-Am tournament.

Last week, Monroe Moore of Pontiac helped a Louisiana bowler to pick up the first prize in the New Orleans PBA tournament. A similar accomplishment in Pontiac next month could be worth $1,000 to a fortunate amateur.

The local Pro-Am will be bowled on Wednesday April 10th, one day preceiding the start of the PBA Open competition.

Eliminations for the Pro-Am are in progress now at Howe's Lanes and 300 Bowl. Qualifiers in both the men's and women's fields are taken on the basis of one bowler per ten entries.

Howe's is having eliminations every weekday afternoon while "300" is running its competition Saturdays, Sundays and Mondays.

In reviewing the scores already turned in, Moore estimated a three-game handicap series of 675 or better will be needed to qualify.

Going into the weekend, only nine keglers had managed to qualify at that pace. This included three keglers from outside the county.

However, instead of paying the flat $7.00 entry fee for each qualifying attempt, a bowler may plop down the lump sum of $50 and buy a spot in the Pro-Am.

This has been done by individuals and it is also the strategy of some teams who sponsor their best bet to cash in on the prize money with hope of sharing the winnings possible.

Individual establishments are also sponsoring their own 10-man tournament with the winner receiving a paid entry into the Pro-Am.

The mat program gets under way at 8:30 p.m.

Special Early Season For Rainbows, Browns

Michigan trout fishermen will get a chance to do some spring training before the regular season opens the last Saturday in April.

The Great Lakes, and connecting waters, and about 40 streams in the Upper Peninsula will open April 6 for rainbow fishing.

* * *

And there will be a bonus this year. Brown trout also will be legal in these early waters.

Fishermen who help inaugurate the state's early season will probably find the spring training quite unlike Florida and Arizona where the baseball teams are working out in sunny weather.

Snow along the river banks, possibly ice on the edges and a blizzard or two will be the general rule the first week or so. Added to this will be low water temperatures.

The St. Clair, Detroit and St. Mary's Rivers will be open. But the Soo Rapids of the St. Mary's, famed for its rainbow fishing, will remain closed until the regular season opens April 27.

FALL SEASON

No streams in the lower Peninsula will open early for steelheads (lake run rainbows). Several Lower Michigan waterways will be open during the fall.

Streams to be open above the Straits are located in Baraga, Gogebic, Houghton, Keweenaw, Mackinac, Marquette and Ontonagon Counties.

Michigan's early spring season on rainbows has not been held since 1957 because of declines in spawning runs. This marks the first year that brown trout have been included on the list of waters open to early action.

These fish frequently move upstream to spawn in the same waters where rainbows make their spring runs.

* * *

Next month's opener will be a week earlier than before as a result of legislation last year which moved the starting date ahead from the second to the first Saturday in April.

Sportsmen with a penchant for sharpshooting will again be able to test their skills with bows and arrows and spears starting April 1 when rough fish become legal targets in designated streams of 66 Lower Peninsula counties.

Carp, suckers, redhorse, mullet, dogfish and garpike may be taken by archers and spear fishermen during the season which runs through May 31 in this part of the state. Above the Straits, the season will be open during May in designated streams of all upper peninsula counties except Ontonagon.

* * *

Free lists of waters open to these special seasons are available through the Conservation Department's Publications Room or any of its field offices.

Following is the list of U. P. streams open to rainbow and brown trout fishing beginning April 6.

OXYGEN TEST—Clarence Taube, biologist for the Institute of Fisheries Research in Ann Arbor, is shown taking an oxygen sample on a Michigan lake. Heavy snow depletes oxygen in the lakes and on occasion there is a winter kill of fish.

Fish Survive in State

Expect Low Winter Kill

ANN ARBOR (AP) — There's some good news for fishermen — the winter fish kill is not expected to be severe in Michigan this year.

The winter kill generally occurs in shallow, weedy lakes when a heavy layer of snow on the ice cuts off sunlight and depletes oxygen. Decaying vegetable matter helps use up the oxygen, with the shortage working from the bottom up.

Deeper lakes without too much weed and those with springs or flowing water inlets and outlets mostly are immune.

Although snow conditions around the state vary, the concensus is that the winter kill won't be serious this year. No kill conditions are reported as yet from several lakes used as a test index by the institute of fisheries research at Ann arbor.

Experts such as M. J. DeBoer of the Conservation Department fish division, Jim Merna of the Ann Arbor Research Institute and John Williams of the Hastings Fish Research Center agree that winter kill isn't necessarily the entirely bad thing some fishermen might think.

"It actually is a good thing on a lot of lakes," DeBoer said, "especially in those where there is an excess of stunted fish. The suffocation is generally not 100 per cent. The hardier fish survive to find more food and the growth rate is faster than normal for the next couple of years."

Williams terms the kill "a mixed blessing."

BULLHEADS SURVIVE

The kill generally occurs in panfish lakes. Perch and bluegills are the first to be affected. Such trash fish as bullheads and green sunfish are hardier and sometimes survive to take over the lake. New plantings can correct this situation, however.

The deeper, spring-fed lakes favored by trout and the other more valuable fish generally aren't hit.

The fisheries research institute and others have been doing some research on various methods of trying to fight the winter kill. One method involves pumping oxygen into the water, just as is done in home aquariums. The institute isn't convinced this is practical.

This past winter, outboard motors were used to churn oxygen into the water at Mud Lake and the Winnawana flooding area, both in Washtenaw County.

Four outboards of five, 7½, 10 and 18 horsepower were used. The outboards threw the water over the ice and it seeped back through holes cut in the ice, carrying oxygen back into the lake.

Test conditions weren't ideal, since there was a thawing to help avert the winter kill during the test. Merna said the experimenters still think there are good possibilities in the idea.

Lake Bottom Suit in Thumb

Public Access Sought to Lake Huron

A suit was filed last week in Huron County circuit court by State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley in an effort to confirm public ownership of filled Lake Huron submerged lands near Grindstone City.

Conservation Department Director Gerald E. Eddy, plaintiff for the people of Michigan, has asked for a court decree declaring that the state holds clear title to two piers which extend 1,000 to 1,300 feet into the lake, and to lands filled along the subdivision of Grindstone Shores.

Favorable court action would provide public access to some of Lake Huron's best perch and black bass fishing.

It also would clear the way for development of a recreational harbor of refuge which is being considered in the area by the U.S. Corps of Engineers and the Michigan Waterways Commission.

Gustave Rothe, one of 19 defendants named in the suit, claims ownership of the piers because of a land purchase he made from the Cleveland Quarries Company in 1945. He also claims exclusive control over access to these two finger-like fills.

Other defendants own or have interests in lots bordering roads in Grindstone Shores which have been closed to the public.

Eddy, in his declaration, emphasizes that the involved bottomlands were conveyed to the people of Michigan by the federal government at the time Michigan became a state, and are protected by legislative acts.

The courts have interpreted these acts as protecting Great Lakes bottomlands lying below the water's edge, saving them for public use at all times.

Flock Reported on Loon Lake

Whistling Swans Now Arriving

Swans have started arriving in Oakland County.

A flight of the whistling species pulled into Loon Lake near Drayton Plains Monday night and were seen convorting in open water along the north shore.

* * *

"There are 11," reported Mrs. Verna Averill of Loon Lake Shores. "They are in the open water where the Clinton River diversion runs into the lake.

"This is the first time in the 11 years I have lived here that I've seen wild swans on the lake. A neighbor said she saw five a couple of years ago."

Shorthair Pointers to Vie at Highland

The German Shorthaired Pointer Club of Michigan will hold its annual Spring Field Trial at Highland Recreation Area April 6-7.

R. H. Terry of Copley, Ohio, and Lance Spencer of Detroit will judge puppy, derby and limited stakes. James Howard of Akron, Ohio, and Ray Bauspies of McHenry, Ill., will judge gun dog and open all age.

Puppy and derby stakes are open to all German pointing breeds. Gun dog, open all age and limited stakes are open to all pointing breeds.

Entries may be obtained from Mario Di Mambro, field trial secretary, 6746 Shadowlawn, Dearborn.

Complete Examinations

Oral examinations were held this week for 32 Conservation Department employes who are seeking six regional posts as deputy directors or assistants under a new reorganization program.

Residents of the area have purchased swans in the past and three are still on the lake. They are white, too.

The whistling swans are on their annual migration north. More flights will be stopping over on county lakes in the next month.

TROUT FESTIVAL

The 27th National Trout Festival will be April 26-28 at Kalkaska.

Included will be parades, fishing contests, dancing and exhibits. The regular trout season opens April 27.

Two college students have been sentenced for illegal killing and possession of deer.

William Serdoner, 20, of St. Clair and Ralph G. Booze II, 21, of Midland, both students at Northwood Institute were arrested in St. Helen last week.

Conservation Department and state police officers found three deer in the trunk of the men's car. Two were does, each carrying twin fawns.

GUILTY PLEAS

They pleaded guilty before a St. Helen justice of the peace and each was sentenced to pay fines and costs of $115 and serve 60 days in jail. In addition, their deer hunting rights were suspended for three years.

The attorney for the men filed notice of appeal and the case will go to circuit court for a final decision.

The beaver trapping season for Oakland County and Southern Michigan in general opened today.

Trappers can take four beavers in Oakland County. The season ends March 31. If there are any otters in the county, they are protected.

'Dr. No' Seeks a Yes

'This Time the Spy Ate Shrimp

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — James Bond, alias Sean Connery, looked very much the picture of British secret agent 007 — the double-0 classification indicating he was licensed to kill.

THOMAS

He was traveling first class, stopping in an expensive suite at the Beverly Hills Hotel. After his potion of whisky over ice, he sat down to raw hamburger. Two glasses and a lunch of shrimp, followed by a bottle of champagne—vintage, of course—were chilling nearby.

His attire was curious. Instead of the precision-cut Saville Row suit, he wore Ivy League cotton slacks and a striped shirt, with only socks on his feet. A disguise, no doubt. Hidden from view was a Walther PPK 7.65mm revolver, the one with the silencer.

★ ★ ★

His mission in the States? I can report that this time he was not up against his longtime adversary, the Soviet murder agency SMERSH.

BIGGER GAME

He was seeking bigger game: the American box office. Actor Connery was on a nerve-grinding fortnight tour of the United States to drum up attention for the first film from the Ian Fleming mystery book about agent James Bond, "Dr. No."

"Just in from Kansas City," reported Connery. "Attended a theater convention. My arm is black and blue from being struck as I was told: 'This is the breadbasket of the U.S.A.' "

Otherwise, he seemed unscathed from his arduous mission for that unsecret organization, United Artists. He is a rugged-looking chap, trimly tall with a rutted face and black eyebrows that accent his brooding eyes. His voice bears a breath of his native Edinburgh, but his Erin-sounding name is for real; his father was from Ireland.

RETURN TRIP

Connery's visit here for the "Dr. No" preview marked a return for him. His previous engagement was a fairly well-kept secret, but he did play the romantic lead in "Darby O'Gill and the Little People" for Walt Disney. "My mother liked it," said the actor.

He also had another run with an American company, even less productive. He played "Requiem for a Heavyweight" on television in London and attracted interest from all the studios. He signed with 20th Century-Fox.

★ ★ ★

"There was an atmosphere of death about the company, and I did nothing for two years," he said. "They wanted me to come to Hollywood, but I had no yen to join the charm school."

Connery has no fears of sinking his own identity into the well-tailored form of James Bond.

"I have a nonexclusive contract and I am required to make a Bond only every 14 months," he explained. He is returning to shoot the second of the series, "From Russia, with Love," in Turkey and England.

The Bond books have been a recent craze in America, due in great part to the unwitting press agentry of John F. Kennedy, a Fleming fan. They have long been popular in England.

Home Building Sees Big Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite some gloomy predictions when President Kennedy signed his order four months ago today banning discrimination in federally-financed housing, the home-building industry appears headed for another prosperous year.

★ ★ ★

It's still too early for a detailed analysis of the effects of the order, but early indications are that it did little to slow the pace of home building.

In February, construction began on 86,500 private housing units. On a seasonally adjusted basis, this was 4 per cent above January and 11 per cent ahead of February 1962.

NO INDICATION

There is no indication yet of any extensive flight from use of financing by the Federal Housing and Veterans Administrations to conventional methods.

Loan applications for the FHA and applications for VA appraisals were down slightly in February compared with the same month last year, but officials said other factors than the housing order are involved in the decrease. Total FHA loan applications are up 7 per cent over February 1962.

★ ★ ★

In planning its budget for fiscal 1964—starting next July 1 — the FHA estimated a 3 per cent rise in applications for loans on new and existing homes.

"A lot of things we worry about don't happen," explained David L. Lawrence, chairman of the President's Committee for Equal Opportunity in Housing.

INDUSTRY PRAISED

The former Pennsylvania governor, White House housing aide for slightly over a month, praised the housing industry for its efforts to live with the order instead of trying to find ways to dodge it.

★ ★ ★

He also thought Negroes would be helped in their efforts to move into better neighborhoods by a recent action of the National Association of Real Estate Boards in making clear that it is no violation of their code of ethics for a realtor to sell a house to a Negro in an all-white neighborhood.

Housing officials said that so far no regional pattern has emerged indicating that the anti-bias order has affected home building.

The Public Housing Administration said that of 269 preliminary loan contracts involving 27,949 dwelling units that come under the order, 11 have been canceled due to the antibias order, involving 396 dwelling units.

The Urban Renewal Administration also indicated that the order had so far had only a minor effect on its operations.

Minimum Wage Bill Lives or Dies in Vote Today

LANSING (AP)— Proponents of a state minimum wage bill looked hopefully today for the key vote that could dislodge such a measure from the Senate Labor Committee and send it to the floor for a vote.

Under pressure of today's legislative deadline for reporting bills out in the house of origin, the six-member committee closed out hearings on the controversial measure by listening to the same familiar arguments of past sessions.

Minimum wage proposals have been introduced in every session in recent years but usually were killed in committees.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Robert Vanderlaan, R-Grand Rapids, freshman chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, said a decision would be made today on whether to report out the bill or let it perish.

He offered no comment on the chances for the minimum wage bill to survive, but it appeared the proposal had the backing of at least one Republican and the two Democrats on the committee. One more vote could bring it to the floor.

The last hope for minimum wage enactment lay in the Senate after Rep. Riemer Van Til, R-Holland, reported his House Labor Committee had killed all three of the proposals it has been considering.

POSSIBLE SUBSTITUTION

Vanderlaan said it was possible, however, that one of the House bills — calling for a $1 minimum wage and presumed to be the version favored by Gov. George Romney — might be substituted for the Senate bills.

"We will consider substituting this bill," said Vanderlaan. "Raising the floor to $1.15 and removing some of the exceptions would seem to be a realistic view in proposing a minimum wage."

Labor spokesmen predicted neither of the two Senate bills could survive because both were sponsored by Democrats, both calling for a $1.25 minimum.

★ ★ ★

"I doubt if they'd ever let one of those out," said Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers. "If it did, it would have a Republican name on it."

Mazey promised "We can deliver all the Democratic votes in the Senate and House, and if Romney really tries, we can get a bill through."

The House bill which Vanderlaan said might become a substitute for the Senate versions was introduced with bi-partisan support by Rep. William Doorn, R-Grand Rapids.

ROMNEY DENIES DOORN

Although Romney called for a minimum wage — specifying no particular amount — in his State of the State message to lawmakers, he has denied that the Doorn proposal is an administration bill.

Nevertheless, it has been regarded as the bill among six introduced in the 1963 session that the governor would prefer to see passed.

"All I really hoped for was to get a bill passed," Doorn said yesterday. "That way, we'd have a law that could be amended later if that was necessary."

The Doorn bill's $1 wage floor is the lowest among the bills introduced. Others ranged from $1.15 to $1.50.

It has been criticized by Democrats and by labor as being to restrictive in making exceptions, among them farm workers, domestics, caddies, theater ushers, newsboys, part-time student employes, seasonal resort workers, salesmen on commission, and persons collecting tips as a large share of their income.

Such exceptions were under attack again last night as the Senate Labor Committee heard testimony from labor spokesmen and representatives of retail business interests.

★ ★ ★

Mazey told the committee that Michigan, by not having a minimum wage, is in a category with Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina.

"Those are the states with the lowest living standards in the country," said Mazey. "That's not very good company."

The UAW executive said earlier he didn't expect any minimum wage bill to emerge from the 1963 legislature, but added: "It's up to Romney to prove me wrong."

Mazey indicated, however, that the UAW would be willing to settle for a compromise.

"Politics has been called the art of the possible," he said. "The difference is between what's desirable and what's possible. Anything would be better than nothing."

Mazey's testimony before the committee was reinforced by Myra Wolfgang, vice president of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes Union, who called for a bill that would put waitresses, busboys, kitchen workers and hotel employes under a minimum wage.

Pleads Guilty in Break-In

Leo Hooks, 39, of 178 S. Saginaw St., yesterday pleaded guilty to safe robbery in a Dec. 17 attempt to open a safe at Pontiac Mills, 20 Franklin Road.

Hooks, one of three men arrested in the case, changed his plea to guilty while his trial was in process before Circuit Judge William J. Beer. Judge Beer scheduled sentencing for April 2.

Hooks was apprehended at the scene of the crime by Edward Johnson of the Pontiac police. Wille De Boes, of 241 W. Wilson St., and Billy P. Sparks, of 44 Lake St., were arrested later.

★ ★ ★

Sparks pleaded guilty to safe robbery March 1 and is awaiting sentencing. DeBoes failed to appear for his trial Friday and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. His bond of $500 was forfeited.

Judge Beer canceled Hooks' bond and Hooks was held in Oakland County jail until sentencing.

Kremlin's Faltering in Middle East

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI)—Things are not going well for the Kremlin in the Middle East, one of the major infiltration targets of Soviet strategy.

Having built up its influence in Iraq with considerable military and economic investments, Moscow is currently witnessing the fact that the new Iraq regime has clamped down with severity on Communists and shot some of their leaders.

The new Syrian regime also has tightened its grip on the Communists and is tracking them down.

★ ★ ★

After accepting quietly an anti-Communist policy of President Abdel Gamal Nasser in Egypt, Russia now finds things are getting out of hand.

FEAR REACTION

This development has come at a time when Moscow has become ostensibly more sensitive to anti-Communist policies of the countries with whom it is doing business, for fear of Red China's reaction.

★ ★ ★

One of Peking's arguments in the conflict with Moscow is that Russia is doing too much business with the so-called bourgeois circles in developing countries and ignoring the proper revolutionary movements of Communist elements.

But there is a lot more at stake for the Kremlin in the Middle East presently than the future of the local Communist movements.

The Kremlin has been working hard to gain and to extend a foothold in the Middle East. It has forced its way into the oil-rich and strategically important area by supplying Nasser with arms back in the late 1950s, to help undermine western influence there.

★ ★ ★

But Nasser after accepting aid on a sizable scale from the Russians clamped down on the Communists in Egypt and outlawed the party. Moscow did not like it but swallowed the blow for the sake of political considerations.

But when General Abdel Karim Kassem's revolution ousted King Feisal in Iraq the Kremlin at once approached the new regime in Baghdad and has since poured into Iraq large quantities of modern arms and economic aid.

★ ★ ★

There were very strong indications that Moscow was in effect seeking to build up Kassem as a counter-weight to Nasser, thus trying to gain ground in the area by playing along with the two rivals for Arab leadership and playing one against the other. This game has come to naught. Kassem is dead and the new regime looks to Cairo for cooperation.

"Spontaneous" demonstrations against Iraq in Moscow last week are a measure of the anger of the Kremlin leadership over what is happening in the Middle East currently.

The Soviets are beginning to find out—the hard way—that their policy of so-called competitive coexistence is not only costly but also frustrating.

★ ★ ★

The setback in the Middle East comes after a series of failures in Africa, where Russian infiltration strategy has not paid off either. In the Congo, in Guinea and in some of the other newly emerging African nations Moscow has to pull out or at least to pull back.

★ ★ ★

With Peking watching, the Kremlin's embarrassment must be all the greater.

Anti-French Action Likely by Algerians

ALGIERS (AP) — The Algerian government appeared likely to propose some sort of anti-French action today at a special national assembly session called in response to French nuclear testing in the Sahara.

Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's government charged yesterday that France touched off an underground atomic explosion in the Sahara Monday.

Ben Bella's cabinet had threatened earlier to tear up cooperation agreements with France if the test was carried out.

★ ★ ★

The French refused to confirm or deny that another test has been conducted, although widespread rumors had indicated one was in the works.

NO NOTICE

The cabinet gave no advance notice of the recommendations it wanted the national assembly to consider. But in view of its earlier warning, the cooperation agreements seemed a likely target.

The nine agreements for cooperation, signed last Aug. 28, cover technical aid, the status of French civil servants, financial administration and joint development of oil and mineral deposits in the Sahara.

Their cancellation would present a grave obstacle to France's plans for development of the Sahara oil fields. It also would imperil the future of the 170,000 French settlers who remained in Algeria after independence.

★

Cancellation of the agreements also would threaten the economic development of Algeria, which since independence has looked chiefly to France for economic aid. If this were cut off, Ben Bella might be forced to turn to the Communist world.

JFK to Ask Cut in Foreign Aid?

Said to Want Lower in Bid by $200 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informants say President Kennedy will ask Congress next week to reduce his own $4.9-billion foreign aid budget request by about $200 million.

The informants said yesterday that Kennedy's message, expected March 28, will have a two-fold aim:

1. To blunt some of the recommendations for cuts in foreign aid spending which reportedly are included in a presidential committee's report due to be made public later this week.

2. To take some of the steam out of a drive by some Congress members to slash foreign aid spending even more.

The special 10-man committee headed by Gen. Lucius Clay was appointed by Kennedy last December and asked to report on how the foreign aid program is contributing to U.S. security.

★ ★ ★

High-ranking informants said the report, to be given Kennedy when he returns from Costa Rica late today, sets no specific figure for foreign aid. But, they said, the effect of its recommendations would be a reduction of hundreds of millions of dollars in such spending.

Administration sources who have seen the report say it supports the foreign aid program in general but calls for tighter standards in giving assistance to other nations.

They said it also urges greater participation by western European nations in helping underdeveloped countries.

Original Copy of Document Still Missing

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — For more than 30 years, the original copy of Kentucky's constitution has been missing.

★ ★ ★

Some historians figure it will turn up in a musty file of papers. Others say it was destroyed.

The only copy of the constitution, adopted in 1891, is a typewritten document apparently copied from the original.

★ ★ ★

Also, the constitution of 1850 has disappeared from sight.

The state has copies of its first two constitutions, adopted in 1792 and 1799, but they were missing for a number of years before they were returned, secretly, to the governor in 1948.

Romney Signs 4 Bills to Law

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney yesterday signed four bills into law.

One of three given immediate effect appropriates $400,000 to the highway department to repay the department for funds used to plan a new armory in Wyoming, Kent County.

★ ★ ★

Another is an open-end supplemental appropriation for school aid for the current fiscal year; it is expected to run about $65 million.

The third authorizes a land transfer in Grand Traverse County from the department of mental health to the conservation department.

★ ★ ★

Romney also signed a bill allowing the East Grand Rapids School District to use certain land for a street.

Demonstration Led Against S. Korea Junta

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Ex-President Yun Po-sun defied South Korea's military junta today and led a demonstration of his supporters from Seoul's City Hall Plaza to the U.S. Embassy.

Some 7,000 persons gathered in the plaza to see Yun, 65, take to the streets with his campaign against the military junta's plan to extend its rule for four more years.

The military had banned all political activity and demonstrations.

BRIEF MARCH

The march by Yun and his supporters was brief. A police cordon barred them from the street leading to the embassy. Yun was hurried into a car, which drove away.

Earlier, two major political parties—Yun's Civil Rule party and the Shingjung party of former Premier Huh Chung—announced they would launch a nationwide campaign to "fight to the death" against the junta's continuance in power.

In a joint statement, the parties demanded that the junta chief, Gen. Chung Hee Park, withdraw immediately his proposal for a plebiscite to give his regime four more years of life.

Business District Blaze Roars in Terre Haute, Ind.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP — Fire swept through the Terre Haute business district today, destroying 10 stores, injuring three firemen and causing millions of dollars in property damage.

★ ★ ★

Five buildings were destroyed and others were damaged in a seven-hour blaze whipped by 30 mile per hour winds. Firemen controlled the fire at 8:32 a.m. Central Standard Time, but kept a four-block downtown area roped off.

A fire department official who asked not to be quoted by name said damages could reach $3.5 million.

U.S. 40 and other downtown streets were closed by piles of brick from fire-shattered walls.

Dynamite charges planted in the path of the wind-driven fire were withdrawn after tons of water and diminishing winds controlled the blaze.

SEEK SPARKS

Firemen continued to seek out dangerous sparks in the debris. "We'll probably be here at this time tomorrow morning," said Fire Chief Norman Fesler.

Mayor Ralph Tucker, helping direct the battle against the fire, called it "the worst tragedy our city has had."

★ ★ ★

Firemen had laid dynamite in a clothing store ahead of the eastward-moving fire, planning to set it off if the flames reached the big Mies Clothing Store, the next building to the west, in an attempt to stop the fire there.

London Bores Sir Winston; Off to Monaco

LONDON (UPI)—Sir Winston Churchill today was reported so bored with inactivity in London that he plans a vacation trip soon to sunny Monaco.

A friend of the family said the 88-year-old wartime prime minister was fed up with having nothing to do here but read.

He said Sir Winston probably would leave next month for Monte Carlo, where he broke his thigh in a fall last year.

★ ★ ★

The friend described the old warrior as in his best health for some time, but restless because of the inactivity forced by his age.

Loud Mouths Stand in Way of Progress

CAIRO (AP) — The racket in Cairo sometimes gets so loud you just can't think.

In fact, it's standing in the way of progress.

So says veteran journalist Ali Amin in an editorial plea to his fellow citizens to lower their voices.

★ ★ ★

Impartial visitors can only agree. Few cities in the world are as noisy as Cairo.

A friendly conversation here often resembles a New Year's Eve party in full swing.

"Once we manage to stamp out noise," Amin says, "We shall preserve the people's nerves. With less strained nerves, production will increase. Strained and tired nerves are incapable of building the future we dream of."

Might Come From a Foot in Your Mouth

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals is to have a loose tooth in middle age.

"Get your fingers out of your mouth," your wife says one morning at breakfast, reaching across the table to slap at your hand. "Scuse. Ughgotta loose tooth," you mumble.

BOYLE

"Either there is an echo in this room," says your wife, "or I understand you to say you have a loose tooth, which is more or less impossible."

"Ughgotta loose tooth!"

"The old lady on the floor below us has had three husbands, and outlived them all," remarks the wife. "One of them lasted until 85. She told me all about her husbands, and none of them ever had a loose tooth.

★ ★

"Oh, well, you would!" says the wife crossly. Then she goes to the desk, thumbs through the family insurance folder and announces forlornly, "Just as I thought—we're not covered. Why does this have to happen to me?"

As you step into the bus you tell the driver: "Ughgotta loose tooth."

"Move to the back of the bus, please," he replied. It is hard to impress a bus driver.

It is also hard to impress the boss.

"Ughgotta loose tooth," you tell him.

"I have a lame back," he answers, "but the company still has to make a profit to stay in business."

"Ughgotta loose tooth."

"Well, go see your dentist—I'm not the chaplain," the boss says impatiently. "But hurry back, or you'll be too late for the coffee break."

It turns out your dentist deals only with situations involving firm teeth or no teeth. He sends you to a specialist.

They strap you in a chair. The specialist enters, sticks a monkey wrench into your mouth, clamps it, and looks out the window. You look out the window, too, to see what he is looking at, and then—he gives a quick jerk on the wrench, and your loose tooth is out.

"Thammps," you tell him.

He sends you back to your own dentist, who examines you and says, "Now you'll need a new bridge. It'll take about three weeks and I estimate the job at $365—give or take $100."

You hurry back to the office. Sure enough, you've missed the coffee break, but you at least have the pleasure of spending the rest of the day opening your mouth and showing where the loose tooth was.

★ ★ ★

Your wife is very kind to you when you get home and explain in gap-mouthed English the ordeal of your day. When you awaken the next morning, you find your wife has thoughtfully put a shiny two-bit piece under your pillow.

"That's for lunch—I'd suggest soup," she says. "You've been a good boy."

"Thammps."

There's nothing quite like a loose tooth to teach one that middle age has its own rewards.

Figaro! Figaro! Figaro! Figaro! Figaro!

MOTTEGGIANA, Italy (AP)—It's tough getting a haircut and shave in Motteggiana these days. In fact, it's impossible.

The local barber — or figaro as he's called in Italy — retired recently and before a replacement could be found his shop space was rented out. There wasn't another empty shop in the village. So until one becomes available, residents will have to get their barber service in nearby communities.

Thieves Caught When Returning Loot to Owner

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Two love-sick teen-agers who stole automobiles in order to hold on to their girl friends were caught by police — in a stolen car.

The two had turned up for their first date in a stolen gray foreign car which, they said, belonged to the father of one of them.

This meant that for every subsequent date they had to arrive in the same make and color of car, which they stole and then carefully always replaced after use.

Police were waiting for them when they brought back one of the cars after a drive with the girls.

the point is, people read newspapers every day

It's only natural. Because today is an unfinished story to be continued tomorrow and the day after. And people want to stay with it. Of the 9 out of 10 U. S. adults who read newspapers, 80% read a newspaper on all five weekdays, and about three quarters read a newspaper on weekends. Just pick a day. Any day. And you'll find people by the multi-millions reading, searching, discovering, deciding in the most needed medium imaginable, their own personal, indispensable daily newspaper.

Stock Trading Slow

Motors, Coppers Up on Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors, coppers, and chemicals showed plus signs as the stock market edged higher early this afternoon in slow trading.

Gains of key stocks ran from fractions to around a point but most changes were small. Quite a few stocks showed small losses. Steels were mostly easy although Republic Steel had a small advance.

★ ★ ★

Trading slackened even below yesterday's slow pace. Wall Streeters credited the market's firmness chiefly to short covering—that is, the purchase of stock to repay shares borrowed to effect short sale contracts in which sellers hope to profit by buying replacement stock at lower prices in the future.

ANNOUNCEMENT SET

The New York Stock Exchange was scheduled to announce the monthly total of stock sold short after the market close today.

U.S. Smelting picked up a couple of points while Polaroid and Xerox were each ahead about a point, probably in response to short covering, brokers said.

★ ★ ★

Woolworth and Eastman Kodak each advanced about a point while du Pont, Radio Corp. and American Smelting did slightly better than that.

Chrysler and American Motors were fractional gainers. Ford and General Motors were firm.

★ ★ ★

Among the larger blocks was 17,800 shares of Lorillard which fell ⅞ to 45, later clipping the loss. Liggett & Myers and American Tobacco made fractional gains.

★ ★ ★

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange in slow trading. Lease Plan International gained about 2. Gains of more than a point were made by Dominion Steel & Coal and Molybdenum common.

Bonds Mixed; Most Unchanged

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices were narrowly mixed at the start of trading today.

Over-the-counter dealers in U.S. government securities said most of the list was unchanged from yesterday's close. There were a few declines of 1-32 among some of the shorter maturities. Trading was quiet.

Rails appeared to shade lower among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Industrials and utilities were irregular.

Printers Near New Deadline

Set by Union Heads to End NY Stalemate

NEW YORK (UPI) — Striking printers moved closer today to a deadline of "several days" set by their international union leaders to end the stalemate in the city's 103-day newspaper shutdown.

Elmer Brown, International Typographical Union (ITU) president, was expected to return to the scene soon if striking Local 6 fails to reconsider its rejection of the compromise $12.63 package approved by the publishers.

While no printer - publisher meetings were held yesterday, negotiations continued with two other striking unions—the Mailers and Photoengravers.

While agreement on these two contracts was considered important, the key to the over-all settlement was the next move of the printers.

'FAIR VOTE'

Brown earlier threatened the possibility of withdrawing ITU strike benefits and suggested that other unions involved in the strike might withdraw their support.

Brown said he and other printer union leaders believed the compromise offer which was rejected by a 64-vote margin on Sunday was "fair and the best that could be obtained at this time."

Local 6 President Bertram A. Powers said yesterday that while any member of the union could get up at next Sunday's regular monthly membership meeting to demand a new vote on the settlement offer, he would not ask for a reversal of last Sunday's balloting.

★ ★ ★

"And I have no intention of moving for a referendum," Powers said.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who proposed the compromise settlement, said he was "not prepared at this time to recommend that the printers reconsider the proposals to end the strike.

"The union is the one which must decide what its future course will be."

Supply Is Meager in Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP) — Supply was meager in the grain futures market today in early transactions on the board of trade and prices were mostly slightly easier.

Brokers said the trade was limited largely to evening up commitments on the March contracts on which trading was to cease at noon. Some of the liquidation in that delivery was reflected in shifts to long positions in other months.

U.S., Russians OK Joint Weather Plan

ROME (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union agreed today to a joint weather satellite program. Representatives of both nations said they hoped the accord eventually will lead to American-Soviet cooperation in interplanetary exploration.

Teams of U.S. and Soviet scientists have been meeting in Rome during the past 10 days to work out details of an accord for coordinated satellite launchings.

The chief negotiators are Hugh L. Dryden of the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration and Anatoly A. Blagonravov of the Soviet Academy of Science.

They announced at a joint news conference that each nation will keep a satellite in orbit on a more or less permanent basis for the collection of weather data. The nations will exchange the information via a special 24-hour communications network. It also will be made public.

Dryden and Blagonravov also announced agreement on the launching of the U.S. Echo 2 satellite for joint communications tests.

★ ★ ★

Great Britain will participate in the tests.

Both Dryden and Blagonravov said they hoped the accords would open the way for broader agreements.

"The first step is always the hardest," the gray-haired Blagonravov added.

Dryden said the original U.S.-Russian accord under which the current negotiations were held envisaged interplanetary probes of Mars and Venus.

He said scientists of the two countries would discuss such probes at a meeting in Warsaw later this year. He added: "I hope there will be future coordination to avoid duplication."

Blagonravov said: "Mankind wants to reach the planets. There is a question of how to assure man's safety on such trips. For this we must have exact data on conditions in space.

"If we collaborate in the future we will reach this goal more quickly."

★ ★ ★

The two scientists were asked: "Does this mean the race for Mars and Venus is over?"

Dryden replied. "Let's get to the moon first."

Russ Charge Collusion

Rip U.S. on French N-Test

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union charged today that the reported French nuclear test in the Sahara helped to develop arms for the Western powers and was condoned by the United States.

Soviet Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin angrily denounced the French test at a meeting of the 17 - nation disarmament conference. Canada, India and the United Arab Republic joined in the protests.

France, boycotting the conference since it opened a year ago, has not confirmed reports that it tested a nuclear device Monday.

Tsarapkin declared that the French government had flaunted the U.N. General Assembly's call for an end to all testing by Jan. 1, 1963, and added:

"It is characteristic that the western delegations, and particularly the United States delegation, did not find a word to condemn the French test. This silence shows that France, by testing nuclear weapons, had made its contribution to the arms development of the Western Bloc and to the nuclear armaments race in general."

CHARGES U.S.

Tsarapkin also accused the United States of fostering a nuclear and conventional armaments race.

He declared that U.S. refusal to accept two or three on - site inspections to police a test ban is "the inevitable consequence of the nuclear araments race, a policy persistently pursued by the United States."

Tsarapkin blamed the deadlock on general disarmament and a treaty to ban nuclear tests on "the recent feverish measures aiming at nuclear armament of West Germany and the recent Nassau agreement for an atomic nuclear armed fleet and for a multilateral Western nuclear force."

Earlier, U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle urged the Soviet delegation to "change its rigid and unreasonable position and begin discussing the major issues involved in reaching agreement on a test ban, rather than insist that discussion be limited to the question of numbers (of inspections) and its own numbers at that."

★ ★ ★

Tsarapkin has refused to discuss any other aspects of inspection as long as the Western side declined to accept the Soviet inspection quota. The West says the number is too low.

City Approves Plan for County Center

A proposed $516,000 county project to provide additional utilities at the Oakland County Service Center was approved by the City Commission last night.

City approval of a portion of the project involving sanitary sewers was necessary before the county could get a federal grant to cover half the cost.

The property is within the corporate boundaries of Pontiac. The over-all project would provide improved water, sewer and heating facilities to existing buildings and permit further development of the site.

The county has agreed that no areas outside the service center may use the sanitary sewer system without formal approval of the City Commission.

Project plans must be filed for final approval by April 1.

15-Inch Wheels to Be Returned to Ford Models

DETROIT (AP) —Ford indicated yesterday it will return to 15-inch wheels on some of its 1964 model cars. Currently all cars made by the company use 14 or 13-inch wheels.

A low profile tire will go with the 15-inch wheels so that the over-all height of the vehicle will be the same as with 14-inch wheels.

Hans Matthias, chief engineer of Ford Division, said the new tires in tests have shown 30 per cent greater tread wear than present original tires, 20 per cent better skid resistance and 10 per cent higher speeds.

Ford disclosed no further details.

At Akron, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. confirmed reports that it was building the new tire.

Senate Unit Backs Bus Measure

LANSING (AP)—The Senate Education Committee today reported out with a recommendation for passage of the controversial bill requiring that certain school districts receiving state aid to transport children also carry children from private and parochial schools.

The so-called school bus bill was amended to delete some of the provisions objected to by school administrators. The amneded bill also carries the provision that it will not be effective until July 1, 1964, giving school districts time to work out any problems involved.

Among the amendments was one striking the provision asking that the ditsricts carry pupils living up to eight miles outside the district. As now written, the bill provides for transportation only within the district.

It also is specified in the amended bill that there will be no interference with the transportation systems of such cities as Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Grand Rapids, Flint, Battle Creek and Kalamazoo and others with their own school bus arrangements and not receiving state aid.

Sen. Charles Youngblood Jr., D-Detroit, an advocate of the bill, said he had threatened to have the committee discharged — relieved of responsibility for the bill—unless it was reported out favorably.

This is not necessary, he said, since a compromise was reached and the final committee vote on reporting out the bill was unanimous.

16 Die in Crash of King's Plane

CUENO, Italy (AP) — A jetliner carrying members of King Saud's entourage crashed into a mountain today killing all 16 persons aboard, search officials reported.

The Saudi Arabian monarch was not aboard.

The Comet IV had carried the king to Nice last night from Geneva, then returned to pick up other members of his party. It was on its way back to the Riviera resort when disaster struck.

The plane carried seven members of the king's staff, including a senior officer of the Saudi army and a nine-man crew of Britons and Saudi Arabians, authorities reported.

★ ★ ★

At Aix-En-Provence, France, search and rescue center officials reported the plane went down in a rain storm near this Italian town and there were no survivors. Snow was falling at the scene this morning.

Authorities here said the plane struck about half way up Mt. Matto, a peak two miles high.

An anonymous caller told police a bomb had been placed in the Nice hotel where King Saud is staying. A thorough search failed to turn one up.

The King arrived in Nice last night with a party of 50 including seven of his wives and concubines. They have a floor in a seaside hotel.

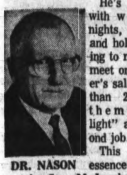
Also in Nice were two of the king's sons, Prince Mansour Ben Saud and Prince Sultan Ben Saud.

To Collect Real-Life Student Data

Teaching Manpower Needed in Research

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

The typical man teaching in today's schools is both angry and impatient.



He's fed up with working nights, weekends and holidays trying to make ends meet on a teacher's salary. More than 200,000 of them "moonlight" at a second job.

This was the essence of a report by Sam M. Lambert, director of the National Education Association's Research Division entitled "Angry Young Men in Teaching," in a recent issue of the NEA's Journal.

DR. NASON

These young men teachers in public schools can be a real service to their communities and augment that average $5,500 salary they receive from teaching.

'How? They can help educators learn more about how students learn.

Too much of the present writing on the theory of learning relates to how animals learn. It does not apply directly to the classroom.

Manpower is needed for extensive work with students with data collected on a nonexperimental basis.

HELP INDIVIDUAL STUDENTS

And there is a ready market for outside efforts in their own fields, provided they make special preparation for the work.

Every week my mail contains letters from parents who are searching for help in solving learning problems of their children.

Individual pupils need help. It takes more time than the classroom teacher can give during the school day.

Many students who make good grades also need help in developing better learning skills. They study too long hours.

A survey at Long Beach (Calif.) State College showed that more than two-thirds of entering freshmen were concerned lest their study habits be inadequate for college.

I have encouraged young teachers in my classes to try their hand at helping individual pupils improve learning skills.

Either as a hobby or on a consulting basis, this has proved to be a rewarding experience for both teacher and pupil.

★

One young man I know who has been doing consulting work along with his teaching for the past three years now has as many pupils as he can accommodate at $10 a session.

He began with a high school girl who was having trouble learning biology.

First he gave her immediate help in the subject. Then he attacked the problem as something more than tutoring.

He reviewed her previous work. They talked over the way she went about studying her text, organizing her materials and preparing for exams.

He studied her examination papers, looking for clues to improve her learning techniques. He talked with her about her present goals and the future and moves she could make toward reaching these goals.

TEACHER REWARDED TOO

This is the type of interest and help sorely needed by the individual student enmeshed by mass education.

Teacher after teacher has reported to me that the insight gained through intensive work with individual students has made them more successful in the classroom.

The satisfactions derived from this type of work outweigh the money rewards and could go far toward reducing the frustrations of "angry young men teachers."

In spit of his bidding South was an expert card player. Unfortunately, he was also a hand hog. Otherwise, he would have let his partner wrap up three notrump.

JACOBY

I cashed my king and ace of hearts. My partner had opened the three, dropped the deuce on the second lead and I knew he was ready to ruff.

It was also apparent that unless my partner held the king of clubs declarer would have the rest of the tricks, but if my partner held that card declarer would have to guess between a club and a diamond finesse.

South and West knew all about suit preference signals so I could play the ten of hearts to ask for a diamond return or the five to ask for a club return.

I decided that South was in a mood to play me for a double cross so I carefully placed the ten of hearts on the table. My partner ruffed and led back a diamond as I had asked.

South glared at me for a while and finally remarked "That was too obvious. You can't have the king of diamonds." Then he played the jack from dummy and another game contract had bit the dust.

$10,000 Loaned to County in Drain Project

The city last night loaned $10,000 to the county to do some work for the city.

The transaction was approved by the City Commission in an attempt to start purchase of right-of-way for the Clinton River drain project before bonds are sold to finance the estimated $2.7-million job.

Clinton River improvement in downtown Pontiac is an Oakland County Drain Commission project. It will eventually be paid for by the city.

★ ★ ★

No cash will be available for the job until the proposed bond issue is sold, so the drain commission asked the city for the $10,000 loan to complete some right-of-way purchases now.

Money will come from reserves in the city's state gas and weight tax fund. The drain commission will repay the loan as soon as bonds are sold.

The bond issue is currently awaiting approval of the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

SALE OF LOT

In another right-of-way transaction last night, commissioners approved sale of a 9,040-square-foot slice of a municipal parking lot along the west side of Parke Street north of East Pike Street.

The parcel is being purchased by the Michigan State Highway Department for $24,184. The money will go into the city's parking fund for retiring parking lot bonds.

No objections were voiced at a public hearing on an ordinance to rezone parts of Lots 2, 21 and 22 and all of Lots 3, 4, and 16-20 in Assessor's Plat No. 121.

The parcels are around Pontiac Retail Store and lie on Mt. Clemens and Mill streets. Several of the lots belong to the store and are to be used for parking.

Following the hearing, the ordinance rezoning the lots from residential to commercial was approved by commissioners.

★ ★ ★

All of the lots lie inside the proposed perimeter road. Rezoning had previously been recommended by the planning commission.

STREET VACATION

A public hearing was held on a proposal to vacate part of Willard Street between lots 21-22, Assessor's Plat No. 134.

The proposal was approved after no objections were voiced. It was recommended by planners in connection with replatting of a portion of the R20 urban renewal project area.

A planning commission recommendation to rezone three lots at the southeast corner of Telegraph Road and Glendale Avenue was sent back to planners for more study.

★ ★ ★

The proposed change from a residential to a commercial zone has been opposed by several affected property owners.

Commissioner Charles H. Harmon suggested that a personal service zoning would be preferable to commercial and moved to reject the planning commission recommendation.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, commissioners accepted Water Superintendent Herbert Parker's cost estimate of $8,019 for a water main on Clare Avenue, from Joslyn to Fuller.

Assessed cost would be $6,354.23 with the city's share, $1,666.77. Project plans will be slated for a public hearing April 2.

The main was requested in a public necessity resolution submitted by Commissioner Loy L. Ledford last week.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners gave final approval to a tavern license transfer of ownership and location by a 5-1 vote. The tavern is moving from 18 S. Perry St. to 856 Oakland Ave.

The license, formerly owned by Louis Koprince Jr. and Julius K. Koprince, is being sold to Paul I. Spadafore.

The tavern was tabbed for demolition in the city's urban renewal program. Voting against the transfer of location was Commissioner Winford E. Bottom, into whose district the tavern is moving.

★ ★ ★

The Commission had already granted tentative approval of the move several months ago.

Also approved last night was a request to transfer ownership of a tavern and SDM licensed business at 377 E. South Blvd. from Thomas Clark to Clovis Skelton.

ACCEPT DEEDS

Commissioners also accepted deeds for Lot 116 of Franklin Gardens Subdivision and portions of land in Homestead Park Subdivision No. 1. The plots were sold to the city by the state for unpaid taxes.

A petition from Pontiac Elks Lodge asking the city to vacate an alley abutting the lodge site on Orchard Lake Avenue was referred to the planning commission for study and recommendation.

In the interest of public safety, Commissioner Winford E. Bottom requested a street light at the intersection of Miles and Vaught Streets, and Commissioner William H. Taylor requested parking restrictions on West Huron Street.

★ ★ ★

Taylor said that cars are allowed to park too close to corners on the north side of the street from the high school to Telegraph Road. Taylor said the cars blocked the view of people turning into Huron.

Bottom also asked City Manager Robert A. Stierer to get a report on whether or not the Pontiac Police Reserves have been returned to full status as ordered by the commission last fall.

Findings After Time of Killing?

Victim's Body Possibly Preserved in Cold

Dr. Jean Forest said yesterday, after examining the house where the body of Aubrey Posey, 34, was found last Wednesday, it was possible that Posey had been dead since the previous Friday.

An inconsistency on the time of the murder arose when Brady P. Boley, 46, of 164 W. Pike St. confessed the slaying to Waterford Township police Monday.

★ ★ ★

He said the stabbing occurred March 8. A report by Dr. Forest, following an autopsy on the dead man, estimated time of death 12 to 24 hours prior to the discovery of the body at 6:30 p.m. March 13.

Dr. Forest cited three factors that would contribute to refrigerating the body and, thus, preserve it for a period longer than normal.

Waterford Township police established in their investigation that the front door had been open at least 12 hours. A neighbor noticed it open and instructed one of her children to close it Saturday afternoon.

The four-room frame house at 571 Crescent Lake Road, Waterford Township, was heated by a single space heater termed an inadequate heating unit, in the front room.

A third factor that would contribute to preservation of the body was that it was on the floor in a rear bedroom. The room was cool, and the area near the floor was the coolest, the doctor observed.

Convicted 2nd Time in 'Joke' Killing

A 51-year-old grandmother of 12 yesterday was convicted of manslaughter for the second time in the 1961 "joke" shotgun slaying of her husband.

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury returned the guilty verdict against Mrs. Sara Ragatz, of 6098 Ashland St., Commerce Township, after two hours of deliberation.

Mrs. Ragatz was convicted of the same charge in 1961 for the death of her husband, Ernest, 38. But she won a new trial because of prejudicial testimony.

★ ★ ★

She was accused of shooting her husband Feb. 13, 1961. She told police the shooting was an accident that resulted from a joke.

Ragatz was killed when she pointed a 12-gauge shotgun at him, and he said, "Go ahead and shoot. It isn't loaded." She believed him, Mrs. Ragatz said.

Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero set April 3 for sentencing.

Are you shopping around to determine what your business is worth? If so, you are doing it the hard way. Why not phone and have one of our capable representatives call on you to discuss the matter. We have found that when a business is shopped at an unmarketable price for a while, the owner finally realizes this and reduces the price to market value. In the meantime he has automatically discouraged potential buyers. So, be sure when offering your business that you know the market value. Again, feel free to call us at your convenience.

Murders 2 Sailors, Then Kills Himself

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — Two Navy sentries shot to death on tiny Midway Island, were killed by a third sailor who later took his own life, naval authorities said today.

★ ★ ★

The man accused of the double slaying had been missing several hours after officials found the bodies of the two guards. He was found dead of gunshot wounds in an abandoned bunker.

Midway officials discovered the crime about 2:30 a.m. Tuesday after a sentry failed to answer a query.

Names of all three men were withheld by the Navy.

Air Defense of Alaska Is 'Adequate'

WASHINGTON (AP)—"The air defense of Alaska is adequate. We are continually improving our radar and updating aircraft with improved air-to-air missiles and improved radar."

★ ★ ★

The assurance came from the Defense Department Tuesday. Some Alaskan officials had questioned whether the state's defenses were adequate after two Soviet reconnaissance planes zipped over a corner of the state Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

It was disclosed that among the improved arms guarding Alaska are faster-than-sound nuclear-tipped missiles mounted on Air Force interceptor planes.

★ ★ ★

The missiles, it was learned, are advance models of the Falcon — a slender, seven-foot rocket with a nuclear warhead that can be guided by radar to its target.

85 Flew Back to Hawaii on a Wing and a Prayer

HONOLULU (AP) — Eight-five passengers and crewmen who sweated—and prayed — during a six-hour, low-level flight on two of four engines flew back to California from Hawaii today.

The 76 passengers took off from Hickam Air Force Base near Honolulu at 9 p.m. aboard a Military Air Transport Super Constellation. It was the same type of plane that had to turn around in mid-Pacific early Tuesday and head back to Hawaii.

The nine-man crew of the ill-starred flight split up on two planes to make the run to Travis Air Force Base, Calif. All crewmen rode as passengers this time.

The plane captain, Lt. Cmdr. Robert L. Ekelund, and the other Navy men in his crew flew off to California about an hour before the passengers left. Air Force crew members took off two hours before Ekelund.

'PRETTY TIRED'

"I plan to catch up on some sleep en route," Ekelund said. "I'm pretty tired from that last flying job."

Earlier the pilot told newsmen, "somebody asked me when I stuck my head out of the pilot's window after landing how old I was. I'm 41. But at that time, I felt about 60."

None of the passengers showed reluctance to try again to reach California, although most admitted they were scared during the first flight when the two engines conked out just before the point of no return between the West Coast and Hawaii.

★ ★ ★

The plane landed at Hilo on Hawaii Island—closer to the turn-around point than Honolulu—with gasoline for only 13 more minutes of flying.

The crippled MATS transport limped to Hilo shortly after dawn Tuesday after Ekelund dropped in altitude from 9,000 to 3,500 feet to conserve fuel and take advantage of prevailing winds. As the plane descended, all personal luggage and belongings — and even some mail—was tossed overboard.

LOSES $420

One passenger, Jeannette McCoy of Grand Rapids, Mich., threw out her purse. She remembered later it contained $420 in cash.

A man jettisoned 12 bottles of scotch whisky.

★ ★ ★

Two engine failures forced the big plane to turn around 937 nautical miles out of Hickam. The passenger list on the transpacific flight included five service wives and nine children. As the Constellation landed on a rain-slicked runway at Hilo, a third engine quit and one of the dual tires on the left landing gear blew.

★ ★ ★

Everyone climbed out shaken but safe. "I think everyone was scared," said Marine Lance Cpl. Frederick J. Scensny, Detroit.

Broadway Toast to Hope Proves Slightly Overdone

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Bob Hope got the USO award at a dinner here where the preliminary speeches were so interminable that the crowd began muttering. "I thought," Hope said, when he finally got on, at the Astor, "that I would have to receive this award posthumously . . . It's the first thing I got from the USO that I didn't get in a needle . . . I won't make much of a speech. It seems silly to go to a lot of trouble when there's only one newpaper publishing."

WILSON

Sexy Natalie Wood descended upon NY—literally, for her plane circled Idlewild for an hour—to work as a salesgirl in a department store petshop. That's what she'll be playing here for a month in "Love With a Stranger" opposite Steve McQueen.

Deadline Ax Is Poised Over Many State Bills

LANSING (AP) — Several important pieces of legislation were on the floor and the future of some other proposals was in doubt today as the legislature reached its self-imposed deadline for reporting out bills in their house of origin.

★ ★ ★

A house-approved resolution to permit a two-day extension for appropriating bills was pending action in the Senate, but it was doomsday for hundreds of other proposals introduced in the last two months.

Already on the calendar in the House were several of Gov. George Romney's administration bills, among them a construction safety code and a proposal to reorganize the State Department of Economic Development.

Awaiting debate in the Senate was the governor's proposed solution to the so-called Ford-Canton controversy, a bill amending the state's unemployment compensation law to define eligibility of workers laid off as the result of strikes elsewhere.

SOME FREED

The Senate Appropriations Committee turned loose an upward-revised version of the governor's recommended budget of $122.6 million for higher education, calling for an additional $500,000 to expand Wayne State University's medical school.

★ ★ ★

A proposed minimum wage law was to live or die today by the decision of the Senate Labor Committee, and a congressional reapportionment bill in the House was to join one already out in the Senate.

Among the more controversial pieces of legislation already dealt the ax were proposed repeal of the 1962 Sunday closing law, and Sunday liquor sales for Detroit.

In peril, in the House Ways and Means Committee, was the bill calling for Michigan to sanction greyhound racing.

A milk pricing bill, nearly identical to one vetoed last year by former Gov. John Swainson, was expected to come from the House agricultural committee.

Other bills reaching the floor of the legislature yesterday were proposals to set up a permanent youth conservation camp for delinquent boys and regional centers for diagnosis and detention of delinquents.

The House State Affairs Committee reported out a bill to increase the night speed limit on the Michigan freeway system from 60 to 70 miles per hour.

To boost prospective enrollment of the Wayne State University medical school, the Senate Appropriations Committee found some money by chopping some $386,000 from the Michigan State University agricultural extension and experimental station budget.

The Sunday liquor sales bill failed in the Senate despite the willingness of its sponsor, Sen. Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit, to have the proposal put to a vote before going into effect in any city, village or township.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Russell Strange, R-Clare, had expressed hopes his bill to repeal the Sunday closing law would reach the floor, to be passed before the law goes into effect March 28.

It died in the House State Affairs Committee.

Democrats were known to have pressed for the greyhound racing bill to be reported out by the laws and means committee in two meetings yesterday.

"I thing it ought to come to the floor and be discussed," said one member of the committee.

Rep. Harry Demaso, R-Battle Creek, original sponsor of the greyhound bill, said he had switched his position and would oppose the bill if it came to the floor.

★ ★ ★

"I don't like the way it came from the state affairs committee or the way it was handled," said Demaso. "Ways and means ought to bury it."

A similar bill was killed last year.

Elliott Is Hit for Quitting TV Debates

PINCONNING (UPI) — State Republican party Chairman Arthur Elliott's withdrawal from two proposed television debates on the new constitution drew fire last night from Democratic party chairman Zolton Ferency.

"I'm disappointed but not surprised to learn that Elliott has crawled out of his agreements," Ferency told a gathering of school board members and school teachers here.

"I suspect he discussed these debates with Gov. (George) Romney since Romney also has refused to put his views to a fair test in open discussion, we can conclude they decided not to run the risk of having their snow-job melt away in the heat of debate," Ferency said.

Ferency said Elliott had agreed to meet him in debate over a Detroit TV station and again in Jackson.

New Physical Exam Okayed for Insurance

LANSING (AP)—Revised examinations for life, accident and health insurance agents will become effective April 5, State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn has announced.

"The examinations are now approximately 30 per cent more difficult," Colburn said.

Actress Discards Third Husband; Dreams of 'Best'

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Actress Jeff Donnell shed her third real-life husband Tuesday and said "my best husband" was the make-believe one she had on television—George Gobel.

★ ★ ★

Miss Donnell won a divorce and an undisclosed property settlement from John L. Bricker, a Foremost Dairies executive. She charged that he belittled her in public and told her to shut up.

★ ★ ★

Her previous husbands were Michael Anderson and actor Aldo Ray.

★ ★ ★

"If I marry again," she said, "my husband will be a combination of Lew Ayres, Dave Garroway and Johnny Carson. But there aren't many around like that these days."

Auto Warehouse Burns in Saulte Ste. Marie

SAULT STE MARIE (AP) — Fire swept through the P. Jacob and Son Co.'s warehouse yesterday, damaging the building and 21 new cars and several trucks stored in it.

★ ★ ★

Firemen said the blaze started in a repair shop. The amount of loss was not immediately determined.

QUICK RESPONSE — An advertisement run in The Pontiac Press last week by the Pontiac Board of Realtors has produced a load of mail for Robert C. Irwin, board president, and his secretary, Melodye Smith. The board outlined provisions it opposes in President Kennedy's tax proposal and asked for support from area residents. So far, some 2,700 coupons supporting the local board have been mailed to Irwin.

House GOP Supporting Budget Cuts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Republicans yesterday pledged to support their leaders' attempts to cut at least $4.5 billion from President Kennedy's record high $98.8-billion budget.

But GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck, Ind., told newsmen that the out-numbered Republicans will have no chance of making such cuts without Democratic help.

The rank-and-file Republicans took their stand at a closed caucus.

They adopted a resolution stating that "every effort" should be made to hold federal spending in the new fiscal year starting July 1 at the $94.3-billion level estimated for the current fiscal year.

The resolution was advanced by the Republicans' policy chairman, Rep. John W. Byrnes, Wis. Republican leaders said that not more than one or two of the rank-and-file party members indicated they had any reservations about the resolution.

During Hailstorm Yesterday

Frosty Stare of Winter to Greet Spring Tonight

The official arrival of spring was only a few hours away, but someone forgot to tell winter.

Rain, snow, sleet and hail storms marched across Michigan late yesterday and returned again today. But Pontiac still awaits the heralding of spring at 3:20 a.m. tomorrow.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts continued snow flurries and snow squalls through tonight when skies are expected to clear and temperatures drop to 26.

The mercury will climb to near 42 degrees tomorrow.

For the next five days temperatures will rise to the upper 40s and the lows will remain in the high 20s, the bureau said.

Less than one half inch in a few short periods of rain possibly mixed with snow may be expected Friday through Monday.

★ ★ ★

The storms did very little damage yesterday, mostly because the strong winds were at a high altitude.

The storm struck in the Pontiac area about 3 p.m. with sleet, hail and freezing rain.

Visibility became so poor that many cars pulled to the side of the road. Few accidents were reported.

University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh said spring arrives when the sun reaches the vernal equinox and crosses the equator on its way north.

But contrary to popular belief, she points out, the day and night will not be exactly equal on the day of the equinox.

Because of the bending of the sun's rays, the sun may be seen a few minutes before it actually comes over the horizon, and also is visible after it drops below.

★ ★ ★

The low recording in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. was 26 degrees. At 1 p.m. the temperature reading was 31.

Continue Weapons Search in Pontiac Mall Murder Case

By JIM LONG

Police today pressed the search for a third knife and a pistol used in the Saturday slaying of Robert A. Greene, assistant manager of the Kroger store at Pontiac Mall shopping center.

Officials believe the weapons were tossed in a drain basin by Adoise White and Charles E. Hodges, both 22 years old. They are charged with first degree murder in Greene's death.

Greene, 22, of 122 Summit St., was slain after being forced to open the store safe. The father of two boys was stabbed 42 times. Two knives were found at the scene.

All the loot taken in the killing-robbery was recovered yesterday.

White's share of the loot, more than $500, was found in the basement of a relative.

White, 22, revealed its hiding place after finally admitting his part in the crime. He said he was able to stash the money without anyone's knowledge.

FIND HIDDEN SUM

Earlier in the day, police found about $700 in a wooded area near Bagley and Brush streets where Hodges, also 22, told them he had hidden it.

White, 79½ Wall St., and Hodges, 174 Prospect St., are being held without bond in Oakland County Jail awaiting a preliminary examination in Justice Court Tuesday.

The pair was arraigned yesterday before Waterford Township Justice John McGrath.

They told police they threw away the knife and 22-caliber pistol on the west side of Pontiac but did not know the exact location.

A rubber stamp belonging to to the store and marked "for deposit only" was located in a drain by police yesterday.

White, a stockboy at the store, was arrested Monday. He denied any part in the crime until after his arraignment. Then he admitted his role to reporters.

Hodges, a nephew of White, told police earlier that it was his uncle that planned the robbery from the start.

White said he had no initial intention of killing Greene.

"But he kept insisting he'd tell police," White said.

Requests Bill for Funds to Seek Olympics

Detroit Dem Asks $35,000 to Enable Romney to Push Bid

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Rep. Joseph Gillis, D-Detroit, has asked the House Ways and Means Committee to introduce a bill providing $35,000 for Gov. George Romney to carry Detroit's bid for the 1968 Olympics to Nairobi, Kenya, Africa, next October.

"I guess nobody else thought of it," said Gillis after appearing before the committee.

The Detroit bid will be considered along with those of Mexico City, Lyons, France, Vienna and other cities when the International Olympics Committee (IOC) meets in Nairobi to select a site.

Gillis said the need for the special appropriation arose after he checked the records and found only $200 in the budget for special commissions.

★ ★ ★

The money would furnish promotion expenses and transportation costs for the governor to make the trip. Romney said earlier he would go "if needed and able to get away."

SPECIAL MESSAGE

The governor has sent a special message to the legislature thanking them for their help in designating Detroit as the U.S. candidate for the 1968 Olympic Games.

★ ★ ★

"I would like to express sincere appreciation for the fine attitude and wonderful cooperation displayed by members of the legislature," Romney said.

Mayor Jerome Cavanagh returned to Detroit yesterday to a tumultuous welcome after spearheading with Romney and the Detroit Olympic Committee the battle to be redesignated as the U.S. city to bid for the Games.

Cavanagh told a wildly cheering crowd at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport that his city was going "to keep this thing rolling until the games are brought here."

Official Raps Tot-Aid Setup

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney is defying federal officials who have called his ADC-U bill "discriminatory."

Romney fired off a tough-talking telegram to Anthony J. Celebreeze, secretary of health, education and welfare, announcing the bill had been passed, that he intended to sign it and asking clarification of reports that Michigan might be denied the aid benefits.

The legislature, at the urging of Romney, yesterday passed the bill to bring Michigan under the federal program for aid of children of the unemployed.

Wilbur J. Cohen assistant secretary of welfare for legislation, had said he would recommend to his chief that the Michigan aid be denied because it was discriminatory.

Cohen, a former University of Michigan professor, complained that the Romney-backed measure would exclude persons not covered by unemployment insurance, domestic workers and farmers.

This was just the same, he said, as excluding redheads or people with black hair.

★ ★ ★

Romney declared the issue is whether the legislatures of the separate states have the authority to define eligibility for aid. He said the law is very clear on this point.

The governor cited a phrase in the law which said the beneficiary of the aid should be "as defined by the state."

In his telegram to Celebrezze, Romney said:

"We have met all the stated requirements and it is my in-

100-150 Cases Involved Here

Would Be Transferred to State Agency

Some 100 or 150 Oakland County welfare cases will be affected if the Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed legislation passed by the State Legislature goes into effect.

That was the estimate today of George H. Williams, director of the county's Social Welfare Department.

Williams said that was the number of families that probably would no longer receive county welfare aid or would get reduced county aid when they receive federal aid under the present provisions of the legislation.

However, a question has been raised as to whether one of the bill's provisions would meet federal requirements.

The families that would receive aid under the federal ADC-U program would be transferred to the county office of the State Bureau of Social Aid.

The county welfare department is not eligible to administer the ADC-U program.

The federal legislation requires that the administrative agency handling the program be under a merit or civil service system. The county is not.

Williams said figures on the amount of welfare aid his office would stop paying are not available.

★ ★ ★

The State Bureau of Social Aid would take over ADC-U aid to the 100-150 families and possibly "some 50 or so new applicants," according to the agency's county director, Ora Hinckley.

Miss Hinckley said it may be necessary to add to her staff to handle the increased case load. Williams said his staff "could be affected slightly."

The State Bureau of Social Aid is located in the same building as the county's Social Welfare Department at the County Service Center on Telegraph Road.

The two agencies work closely to avoid duplication of effort and welfare payments. The state agency primarily handles such programs as old age assistance, aid to the blind and disabled and aid to dependent children under the existing federal program.

Bandit Robs Bank in Area

Branch Loses $3,173 in Bloomfield Twp.

A tall well-mannered bandit robbed a Bloomfield Township branch of Manufacturer's National Bank of $3,173 yesterday afternoon and escaped in a late-model convertible.

The man, armed with a pistol, entered the branch at 4057 W. Maple Road and ordered teller Lois Steele, 33, to give him "all the money in large bills."

According to Miss Steele, he then reached over her cage and picked up a stack of small bills.

★ ★ ★

When he saw they were ones he pushed them back and scooped up several packs of tens and twenties, she said. He held his pistol on the counter all the while.

PUSHES ALARM

As the gunman was leaving Miss Steele pressed the burglary alarm. Another teller said she thought she saw a man driving out of the bank parking lot in a 1962 or '63 Buick Special convertible with a white body and black top.

There were four customers in the bank when the robbery occurred, according to assistant bank manager Fred Speer.

He said the robber fumbled at the counter while making out a fictitious deposit slip which he presented to Miss Steele.

TOLD TO BE QUIET

When several other bank employes became aware that a robbery was taking place, the man "told them to keep quiet," Speer said.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Township Police describe the bandit as between 35 and 45 years old, 6 feet 3 inches in height, weighing 200 to 225 pounds, dark of hair and complexion and neat of manner and dress.

They say the description fits that of a bandit who robbed a Detroit Bank and Trust branch last month on Detroit's East Side.

Seek to Locate Poison Source

NEW YORK (AP) — The A&P food store chain ordered all A&P canned tuna in its 4,400 stores withdrawn from sale today in the wake of reports of suspected food poisoning, fatal in two cases, in Detroit.

DETROIT (AP) — Authorities sought today to pin down the source of a rare type of food poisoning — known as type E botulism—that has killed two Grosse Ile women.

★ ★ ★

Wayne county health officials warned housewives to turn in a brand of canned tuna fish which is being investigated as the cause of the fatalities.

Mrs. Margaret McCarthy, 39, died of the poisoning yesterday after a scarce serum was flown here from Toronto, Ont., Friday night in an effort to save her.

A neighbor, Mrs. Collette Brown, 37, died Friday. A third woman who shared a tuna fish snack with Mrs. Brown and Mrs. McCarthy before all three were stricken Thursday suffered less severe poisoning and was reported recovering.

Persons having 6½-ounce cans of A&P brand tuna fish, chuck style, light meat, were told to Pied Piper!

Pigeon Prescription?

With several Oakland County officials in attendance at last night's City Commission meeting, the problem of pigeons popped up in the proceedings.

Since the pigeons were left homeless when the old county courthouse was torn down at Saginaw and Huron streets, Commissioner Charles H. Harmon suggested that possibly the county could offer some help.

Harmon said that "maybe what we need is a Pied Piper of Hamlin." He didn't say if his remark had any connection with Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Robert E. Lilly of the county board of auditors rose and offered a glint of hope.

"For whatever consolation it may be, I want you to know that the pigeons have found their way to the new courthouse."

★ ★ ★

City Manager Robert A. Stierer said he expects a report soon from a two-man committee recently appointed to study means of eliminating the pigeons who haven't found their way.

See No Rival for Hamlin in County Post

By DICK HANSON

Chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Delos Hamlin is likely to be unopposed for the top county government post when the board elects its officers next month.

Re-election of the 59-year-old supervisor from Farmington as chairman would be for an unprecedented eighth consecutive term.

★ ★ ★

He is facing no opposition at this time. Nor has he been opposed for the chairmanship in recent years.

Two supervisors have announced their candidacy for vice chairman of the board to succeed Arno Hulet, who declined to seek re-election as Bloomfield Township supervisor.

They are Milford Township Supervisor Mayon Hoard and Addison Township Supervisor Frank F. Webber.

Their nominations are expected from the floor when the board of supervisors elects its officers some time in April.

Webber, 63, of 1783 Brewer Road has served on the board for the past 10 years. He is a member of the county board of public works, chairman of the supervisors' miscellaneous committee and a member of the equalization committee.

SERVED SIX YEARS

Hoard, 65, of 103 Summit St., Milford, has served on the board six years and has been chairman of its equalization committee for the past four years.

He is a member and past chairman of the drain committee and represents the county on the Huron River Water Shed intergovernmental committee.

Hulet, 68, has served three consecutive years as vice chairman and has been a supervisor for the past seven years.

He is running for township treasurer in the April township elections.

Latin Chiefs Plead for Aid

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Cheered by a U.S. pledge to protect their coasts against Cuban infiltrators, six Central American chief executives make individual pleas to President Kennedy today for economic aid to better the lot of their peoples.

Although advocates of drastic action against Fidel Castro lost out, the Latin presidents generally seemed satisfied and joined Kennedy in a seven-nation "Declaration of Central America" which expressed confidence that the Castro regime will fall soon.

Kennedy promised that the United States will tighten its antisubversion ring around Cuba with more plane and ship protection of Central America's Caribean coast.

An authoritative source said that Kennedy, in the private sessions Tuesday, impressed the presidents of Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua with the extent of U.S. military commitments—short of "shooting at Cuba"—which he revealed to them.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy also promised multi-million-dollar aid for their program of regional economic and social development. But each president had pet projects of his own and each was allotted a half hour today to plug them.

Kennedy scheduled talks with Francisco Orlich of Costa Rica, Julio Rivera of El Salvador, Miguel Ydigoras of Quatemala, Ramon Villeda Morales of Hon-

Wants Bigger NATO Role

PARIS (UPI) —British Foreign Secretary Lord Home called today for a greater share for Europe in the Atlantic alliance's nuclear defense setup.

★ ★ ★

He coupled this with a warning that the political and economic rifts in Europe stemming from the breakdown of the Common Market talks with Britain should not be allowed to weaken Western Military defenses against Communist aggression.

British sources said Home, in a major address to the permanent council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), renewed Britain's offer, made originally by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to President Kennedy at Nassau in December, to assign the British V-bomber force to NATO.

In return, he was reported to have proposed that the NATO nuclear force now under study should be under the command of a European, preferably a Briton.

Home said it is a political mistake that the United States should dominate the nuclear field entirely.

However, British sources said, Home made it clear that any change in the NATO nuclear setup should be carried out in such a manner as not to endanger Western unity.

★ ★ ★

Home presented the council with firm proposals for creating a mixed NATO nuclear force. He was said to have urged the permanent council to approve this plan in time to enable it to be handed for a decision to the NATO minister council session at Ottawa in May.

The British proposals were said to include detailed arrangements for policy, command and control of such a mixed force.

Home was said to have indicated Britain's belief that the first stage should be establishment of a "multinational" force composed of national contingents, planes and submarines.

He was said to have added that, in Britain's view, a "multilateral" force of surface vessels with mixed crews should come later.

Winter's Throwing Desperation Punches

By The Associated Press

Fading winter landed storm-packed punches across broad areas in the eastern half of the nation and heavy rains today posed new flood threats in some states.

★ ★ ★

The wild outbreak of weather Tuesday included heavy snow, rain, hail, tornadoes and damaging wind storms. Storms in Indiana claimed at least three lives.

A snowstorm which swept from the Dakotas to Michigan, dumping a foot of snow in many sections, tapered off during the night as it moved into the Northeast.

Heavy snow warnings were issued for northern New York, New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine, with more than six inches predicted in most areas. Gale warnings were posted along the New England coast from Block Island, R.I., to Eastport, Maine.

TORNADOES, WINDSTORMS

Tornadoes and damaging windstorms struck areas in Indiana, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Kentucky. Several persons were injured and there was heavy property damage.

★ ★ ★

The twisters struck small communities in southern and central Indiana and killed two women in Beck's Mill. A girl drowned in a water-filed ditch in Indianapolis during a severe rain and wind storm. The tornado which swept across Crete (Ind.) caused an estimated $100,000 damage.

★ ★ ★

Violent winds swept areas in Kentucky, destroying and damaging several homes, a drive-in theater and several other building. Heaviest property damage, estimated at $250,000, was in Clinton County, in the southeast part of the state. Louisville also was lashed by a rain and wind storm. The storms in the state injured at least nine persons.

★ ★ ★

In Harpersville, Miss., several persons were hurt when winds toppled brick walls of the high school gymnasium during a basketball game. A tornado hit Portland, in northern Tennessee, causing extensive property damage.

★ ★ ★

Widespread damage also was caused by severe wind storms in middle and east Tennessee. Twisters also hit the northern edge of Decatur, in north-central Alabama, and in Bellefontaine, Miss.

Solons Back Judge Addition

Bill to Put 2 More on County Bench

LANSING — Legislation increasing the number of Oakland County circuit judges from five to seven was reported favorably out of the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, may yet appear this week for a vote on the floor of the House.

★ ★ ★

The bill has received the endorsement of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and the county's bar association. The additional jurists were requested by the present five judges to handle the increasing case load and the extra work required by new court rules.

If the bill passes the legislature and is signed by Gov. George Romney as expected, Romney will fill the two vacancies by appointments effective until the November 1964 election.

A bill to put most of the county's area in the state's new 19th congressional district is expected to be discharged today from the House Apportionment Committee chaired by Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Township.

PROPOSALS NARROWED

Hogan said his committee had narrowed the proposals down to two. One is Hogan's bill to split the county on a north-and-south line coinciding with Inkster Road.

This plan would put the area west of that line plus Pontiac in the 19th with Lapeer and Livingston counties. The rest of the county would remain in an 18th district reduced from its present size encompassing the entire county.

The other proposal would leave in the 18th only the five townships of Bloomfield, Troy, Southfield, Farmington and Royal Oak and the cities they contain, and it would put the rest of the county in the 19th with Lapeer and St. Clair counties.

Mrs. Romney Backs Library

A visit from Michigan's First Lady, Lenore Romney, has given added impetus to a drive for voter approval of funds for a public library in Bloomfield Township.

Mrs. Romney appeared Monday at a joint meeting of the Citizens Library Committee of Bloomfield Township and the Friends of the Baldwin Library at the Birmingham Community House.

"It is each citizen's responsibility to his community to see that good, comprehensive library service is provided," she said.

A decision by the Baldwin Public Library of Birmingham to terminate nonresident cards in 1964 prodded the Citizens Library Committee to place a two-sectioned proposal on the township's April 1 ballot.

One section authorizes the establishment of a free public library service through the levy of one mill, while the second specifies that the levy shall be in excess of the township's 15-mill tax limitation.

The township currently has no public library.

To Open Bids on Park Work

Bids for the construction of a shelter at Aaron Perry Park will be opened at City Hall at 2 p.m. Monday, April 8.

The City Commission okayed taking bids for the one - story structure at last night's meeting.

The building will house rest rooms and storage facilities. It's estimated cost is about $14,000. The structure was necessitated by an increase in use of the park area in recent years.

duras, Luis Somoza of Nicaragua and Roberto Chiari of Panama.

This afternoon the U.S. President was to address students at the University of Costa Rica before boarding his jet plane for Washington.

To protect their countries against Communist infiltration, the presidents agreed:

EARLY ACTION

1. To ask the Organization of American States for early action to counteract Castro-Communist subversion.

★ ★ ★

2. To hold a meeting of security officials at the cabinet level within four weeks—probably at Managua, Nicaragua—to plan measures to halt the flow of their nationals to Cuba and the flow of Communist money, propaganda and arms from Cuba. U.S. officials indicated that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy may attend.

3. To arrange for more rapid and complete exchange of intelligence on such movements.

The presidents said they will seek the cooperation of other countries. An authoritative source said they mean Mexico, through which much of the travel between Cuba and Central America has been passing.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet news agency Tass, without waiting for the text of the declaration, described it as a new conspiracy against Cuba. It saw the economic consequences of the conference as a "further binding of the banana republics" to the United States.

The presidents agreed to speed up their fledgling common market which would tie in later with a Latin-American free trade area.

Neither A&P, Dr. Gordon Eadie, director of disease control for the Wayne County Health Department, nor George Daughters, Detroit district director of the Food and Drug Administration, would say that the A&P tuna definitely caused the deaths.

"The entire lot of 120 cases purchased by A&P for distribution in the Detroit area was cleared by the California State Food Inspection Service."

Two Detroit girls, who became ill after eating tuna fish sandwiches, were admitted to children's hospital for observation last night. They are Mary Carol Nantais, 10, and her sister, Madeline, 11.

The hospital listed the girls' condition as fair.

Spanish Police Assailed

Probe Hot Dog Pix Riot

MADRID (UPI) — The United States embassy today opened an investigation into charges an American photographer was beaten by Spanish police after he became involved in a riot over hot dog pictures.

Larry Shaw of New York, photographer for Argosy Magazine, said he was struck several times by Spanish police when the riot ended. He and four other Americans were roughed up by the mob.

A U.S. embassy official said a formal protest to the Spanish government "is being considered."

★ ★ ★

Spanish government spokesman Manuel Jimenez Quilez, director general of the press, denied Shaw's charges.

"It is completely untrue and inexact that the American photographer was hit by Spanish agents when he was taken to a police station following an incident in a downtown square," he said.

★ ★ ★

Jimenez Quilez said the Americans were taken to the police station for their own protection.

Argosy Managing Editor Milton Macklin of New York said the trouble began while Shaw was taking photographs of two U.S. Airline stewardesses handing out free hot dogs in downtown Cibeles Square.

Macklin said the photos were intended for use in a magazine feature on "hot dogs around the world."

He said someone shouted "capitalist press" and a mob of about 200 persons attacked his group of five. They were rescued by police and taken to a police station.

ROUGH CROWD

Macklin, Shaw and public relations man Don Graham of Chicago were roughed up by the crowd.

The stewardesses, Judy Gilbertson of Park Forest, Ill., and Bernadette Zola of New Kensington, Pa., were in the midst of the melee but were not hurt.

The incident apparently developed from an imagined insult to Spanish national pride.

★ ★ ★

One member of the crowd said later he objected to photographs being taken of the "shameful spectacdle of the free food from the Americans."

Proposals on Parking Go to Legal Consultants

BIRMINGHAM — City planning board recommendations designed to correct off-street parking inadequacies have been turned over to the city's legal consultants Howlett, Hartman & Beier.

The law firm will use the board's recommendations as a basis for an amendment to the city's zoning ordinance.

The board's proposal provides that every residential building shall have one and one-half parking spaces for each dwelling unit, plus an additional space for every four dwelling units for visitor parking.

As an alternative the board suggests that builders may construct parking facilities in the ratio of one and three-quarters parking spaces for each unit.

★ ★ ★

The recommendations primarily are directed at multiple dwelling units, however the board made it clear that they could apply equally as well to single family residences.

"Existing requirements do not even meet minimum needs for off-street parking facilities," a board report states.

In a survey of apartment tenants, the board discovered there was an average of 1.41 cars for every apartment responding.

A survey of 15 apartment owners revealed a need for 1.45 parking spaces for each dwelling unit.

City Clerk Irene Hanley said that it will take the city's legal consultants one or two weeks to prepare the amendment. After that a public hearing will be scheduled.

tention to sign the bill into law."

The governor said the legislation was drawn up with the knowledge and approval of the Chicago office of the federal agency. It had been given clearance as late as March 11, he said.

'BIPARTISAN SUPPORT'

Romney made a point of mentioning in his wire that the bill was passed "with bipartisan support."

Actually, Senate Democrats fought it until the last minute, seeking liberalizing amendments. On the first vote, 18 Republicans voted for the bill and there were four opposition votes.

Once Democrats saw that the Republicans had the necessary majority of the 34-man Senate they started voting for the bill, making the final count 27-6.

Sen. Elmer Porter, R-Blissfield, oldest senator in terms of seniority and age, was the only member declining to vote.

★ ★ ★

The Democrats conferred with Romney yesterday morning "but he refused to budge," reported Sen. Charles Blondy, D-Detroit, Senate minority leader, who had asked concessions.

Sen. Philip Rahoi, D-Iron Mountain, leader of the liberalization forces, said he would continue to fight the bill.

Rahoi asked for an opinion from Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, which was expected to be sympathetic. He said he would fight the issue to the U.S. Supreme Court if he could find the money and backing.

Senate Majority Leader Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, whipped the Republicans into line for the vote.

"This is the bill the governor wants. Vote for it," he ordered. "The basic bill is good. Don't fool around with any amendments."

★ ★ ★

Thayer obtained his 18 votes although some Republicans were reluctant to be identified as approving the measure.

Democrats then caved in and started throwing votes for approval so they wouldn't have the stigma of voting against such a measure.

The Bloomfield Hills Board of Education last night heard three protests from local citizens against the board's stand on the controversial school bus bill currently in the Senate Education committee.

The three protested school board attempts to work for the defeat of the bill without taking into consideration the "best interest" of school district residents.

In a letter made public at the board meeting, William A. McQueen, 5275 Wing Lake Road, cited the board's responsibility to all children in the district not just those attending public schools.

He also questioned the accuracy of facts contained in a letter to district parents distributed by the board.

★ ★ ★

The bill would require school districts to provide bus service for students at nonpublic schools up to eight miles outside district boundaries.

In the letter the board warned residents that the measure might necessitate the purchase of 20 additional school buses and might result in a two-mill tax boost.

Pick Speaker at Oakland U. Graduation

The speaker for Oakland University's first commencement will be U.S. Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel, the university announced today.

Oakland's first commencement will be held in its new Intramural Building April 20 when approximately 150 members of the charter class will receive their diplomas.

Keppel, former dean of Harvard University's Graduate School of Education, served on one of the planning groups which helped to shape Oakland U's philosophy and curriculum in 1957.

He was appointed commissioner of education two months ago.

Oakland's charter class is graduating in April rather than in June because the university is on a three-semester plan of year-around operation.

City Approves Plan for County Center

A proposed $516,000 county project to provide additional utilities at the Oakland County Service Center was approved by the City Commission last night.

City approval of a portion of the project involving sanitary sewers was necessary before the county could get a federal grant to cover half the cost.

The property is within the corporate boundaries of Pontiac. The over-all project would provide improved water, sewer and heating facilities to existing buildings and permit further development of the site.

The county has agreed that no areas outside the service center may use the sanitary sewer system without formal approval of the City Commission.

Project plans must be filed for final approval by April 1.

Assessment Rolls Termed 'a Mess'

WALLED LAKE — A member of the board of review charged last night that the city's tax assessment rolls are full of discrepancies.

Clyde Mottor termed the situation "a mess."

A "uniform method" has not been used to compile the rolls, the former councilman said.

He cited erasures on the assessment cards, unexplained figures, a lack of adjustment for building additions, no record of building permits and completely unrecorded parcels of property as the basis for his charges.

The City Council voted 6-1 to appoint a three-man fact-finding board to make a study of Walled Lake's assessment rolls and bring any discrepancies to the attention of the city assessor.

AREA NEWS

Councilman Richard J. Watkins said it is the desire of the council to get "fair and equitable" tax assessments.

* * *

Mayor Louis James, who voted against creation of the board, said he would like to see a full-time assessor appointed, not "a bunch of amateurs."

He compared the latter to interns ordered to perform brain surgery.

Mottor said he was "surprised that our mayor would vote against a fact - finding board to try to get taxable property equalized and fair."

Appointed to the board were Mottor, councilman Harold Ackley and local businessman Ralph Buffmyer.

Councilman Wendell Kellogg Jr., chairman of the five - man committee appointed by the mayor to investigate the proposed Ramsey Building purchase, stated his committee was "not prepared to report" as scheduled.

He said the committee is in the process of getting quotations from two builders on the cost of remodeling the former department store.

A special meeting is slated for 8 p.m. March 28 to discuss the committee's findings.

In other action, the council rejected all bids on the purchase of a new police car for the city.

A dispute arose over whether to accept the low bid made by a dealer from Pontiac, or to accept the second - low bid, submitted by a Walled Lake dealer, which was $56 higher.

The vote was 4-3 against the acceptance of either bid, with Councilman Ackley's vote deciding the question.

He voted against both purchases because he said it should be left to the incoming council.

The council also heard a progress report on Walled Lake's proposed sewer program by Donald W. Ringler, deputy director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

* * *

Ringler said it would be 30 days before applications for grants can be submitted to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency and the State Water Resources Commission.

A resolution in favor of the closing off of O'Flaherty Street was introduced by the council. A public hearing was set for April 23.

200-Bed Hospital Planned for County

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Construction of the new $3.8-million Botsford General Hospital, scheduled for completion here late next year, will add 200 hospital beds to a 10-community western Oakland County area.

* * *

Future plans call for the doubling of hospital capacity.

Former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner is chairman of the board of Zieger Osteopathic Hospital of Detroit, parent unit for the new hospital.

Approval of a federal grant in the amount of $1,152,585 for the new facility was announced recently by U. S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland.

* * *

The decision to build a hospital near the corner of Grand River and Eight Mile Road was based on a survey citing the need for 1,000 hospital beds in this growing area, and a desire by Zieger staff physicians to expand their base of operation, Van Wagoner said.

Construction on the five-story building is slated to begin June 15. It will house, chiefly, hospital rooms plus administrative and physicians' offices.

An adjoining single-level services building will contain surgery and x-ray departments, delivery rooms, laboratories, an emergency section, plus kitchen and cafeteria facilities.

Rochester YMCA at 34 Pct. of Goal

ROCHESTER — The fifth annual membership drive of the Rochester Area Branch YMCA has reached 34 per cent of its goal, Campaign Chairman Lloyd Lake announced today.

Aiming for 2,400 members and $9,000 in dues, campaign workers have reported 648 residents have joined thus far and collections have reached $3,194.

A meeting of drive workers is scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow in the "Y" facilities on Helen St.

Some 150 volunteers are canvassing the area in an attempt to gain members in the association's local branch. Their efforts will continue through April 4, when the drive ends.

Couple Wins Tax Judgment

Recover $54,776 on Sale of Troy Land

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A Lansing couple suing the U.S. government to recover money paid under protest as income tax has won a $54,776 judgment from U. S. District Court.

Court records disclosed the judgment entered Friday in favor of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Houghten by Judge W. Wallace Kent. The judge heard their case without jury.

The couple filed suit May 20, 1960, after paying $55,154 in taxes on the sale of 625 acres of farm land in Troy.

One parcel containing 550 acres is located at Livernois and Square Lake Road while the remainder is just north of that property.

Returns from the land sale were reported as long-term capital gains for tax purposes in the years 1957 through 1959.

* * *

The government had claimed that because of improvements and subdivision activities on the land the gains should have been listed as ordinary income.

Open House Scheduled at Nursery

ORCHARD LAKE — Parents interested in seeing the function of a cooperative nursery are invited to the Lakeland Cooperative Nursery's annual open house next Monday and Tuesday.

Purpose of the open house is to acquaint parents with their child's work in nursery school. It is also planned to let prospective members become acquainted with the classroom and projects of the children.

The first night is scheduled for parents with children in the three-year-old class, while the second is for parents of the four-year-old group.

* * *

Time of the open house is from 6:30 to 8 p.m. each night in the nursery classrooms at the Orchard Lake Community Presbyterian Church, 5171 Commerce Road.

Novi Council Backs Library

NOVI — The Village Council here has gone on record as "wholeheartedly" supporting a township public library service.

* * *

In a unanimously approved resolution, the council termed the library "a great public benefit" which "depends on public support."

Township voters will be asked in the April 1 election to authorize establishment of the service and levying of a half-mill tax for its maintenance and support.

The council has allocated $500 to carry on present services of the township's free library.

Before this action, the library was supported by donations.

WED 50 YEARS — In honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Muirhead, 29150 14-Mile Road, West Bloomfield Township, their children will hold an open house from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday at St. Francis Council Hall, Farmington. Married in Highland Park, the Muirheads have three sons, Douglas of Walled Lake, Basil of Detroit and Roland of South Lyon; and nine grandchildren.

Petition for Investigation of Southfield City Affairs

SOUTHFIELD — A petition requesting a grand jury investigation of business affairs of this city was filed yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Council candidate James Wells submitted the petition, which bore 44 signatures, one of which was that of another candidate, Thomas P. Saks.

Charges listed on the document included misappropriation of public funds on the part of five incumbent councilmen.

* * *

They are John J. Hollywood, Clarence A. Durbin, Thomas C. Rowley, C. Hugh Dohany and Phillip B. Peterson.

Commenting on the jury request, Dohany said: "Anyone can file a petition such as this. Proving the charges is another matter."

He called the filing a "political move." Dohany, currently council president, is a candidate for mayor in the April 1 election.

Other reasons given for the requested investigation are "irregularities in the accounting procedures of the city" and gambling in public places without interference by the city's police.

BRIBE CHARGE

The petition also charges Rowley and Hollywood with soliciting bribes from a former city contractor.

Presiding Circuit Judge William J. Beer said the matter would be put to the entire bench (five judges) at its monthly meeting the first week of April.

After appearing in court when the petitions were filed, Rowley called the move "vicious, malicious and base."

* * *

He said he could not understand how anyone could "subject my family to ridicule and contempt for the sole purpose of gaining public office."

No details were furnished with the petition, but affidavits and copies of city documents would be offered the judges at the executive session, according to the petitioners.

Three of the five circuit judges must vote for a grand jury before the investigation is conducted.

The local affirmative team talked its way to victory against the Michigan School for the Blind team in Lansing to earn a chance at the championship.

The negative team will be pitted against Mount Pleasant's affirmative squad in the finals.

* * *

The question is "Resolved: That the United States Should Join in Forming a Common Market Among Nations of the Western Hemisphere."

On the affirmative team from Romeo are Ken Seifert and Cary Kilner. The negative side of the question is argued by Bill Volz and Kim Kaiser.

Eye Boost in Building Revenue

WIXOM—An amendment to the building code approved by the City Council here will increase revenue from building licenses up to 65 per cent, according to John Finlayson, building inspector.

The amendment reduces from $500 to $100 the minimum cost of construction requiring a building license.

A majority of the building in Wixom will be affected by the amendment, Finlayson said.

The council has authorized the City Planning Commission to investigate the possibilities of an urban renewal program in Wixom.

The commission is preparing a letter to the Housing and Home Finance Agency asking the federal agency to look over Wixom to see if it would be to the city's advantage to have a "feasibility study" conducted.

Mrs. Julius Nelson, 3673 W. Maple Road, has been appointed by the council to fill an election commission vacancy.

PTA to Elect Officers at Avon Twp. School

AVON TOWNSHIP — Election of officers will be conducted at the Elmwood School PTA meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

In Walled Lake

In addition, the petitions of two incumbents were invalidated because they lacked the candidates' consent and an affidavit of qualification for the post.

The incumbents are Councilmen Harold Ackley and Richard J. Watkins. Both have until tomorrow at 5 p.m. to correct their petitions, according to city attorney Howard Bond.

* * *

Filing were Mayor Louis E. James, Councilman V. Douglas Merideth, Robert J. Buffmyer, 45180 S. Pontiac Trail; Wilson C. Collins, 1706 Bolton Ave.; and Elfrieda M. Henke, 2340 S. Commerce Road.

Insist on Ideal or Accept Improvement?

Apportionment's Major Issue Between Constitution Factions

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third of eight articles on Michigan's proposed constitution.)

By GENE SCHROEDER

LANSING (AP) — "The new apportionment section . . . will give Michigan one of the most representative legislatures in the country." — Gov. George Romney, a Republican.

"The proposed legislative apportionment does not provide even one house on a population basis. The language and formula for apportionment is obscure and unclear." — Former Gov. John Swainson, a Democrat.

"It is highly doubtful whether the experts on government and the political process . . . can ever reach an agreement as to the ingredients of an ideal system of legislative apportionment." — Inter-University Faculty Committee on Constitutional Revision, nonpartisan.

★ ★ ★

The committee, composed of 35 professors from six Michigan colleges and universities, says the question of whether or not the people are given fair and equitable representation is probably the most critical issue in the controversy over Michigan's proposed new constitution.

Even among the educators, mainly political scientists, there were differences of opinion on how the revised constitution meets the equitable representation issue.

Some felt that the document falls short of the objective; others believed it comes sufficiently close to it.

"The choice is by no means easy or clear cut," the committee observed. "Is it better to insist upon an ideal or to accept an imperfect improvement?"

SENATE APPORTIONMENT

Major bone of contention between the opposing viewpoints is the apportionment plan for the state Senate.

Republicans say it gives consideration to areas of the state where sparsity of population seriously impairs effective communication between a legislator and his constituents.

Democrats contend the proposed formula giving 80 per cent weight to population and 20 per cent to area equates 19 acres with one human being and is intended to insure Republican control of the Senate.

★ ★ ★

The analysis prepared by the Inter-University Committee says that there are both good and bad points about the 80-20 formula.

"On the negative side it must be said that the clam that the plan is based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area is only true for the state as a whole. In any given county, the entitlement to senatorial representation may vary widely," the committee reported.

The educators said it must be recognized that the plan will not provide straight popular representation and is not designed to do so.

They added: "It will, however, guarantee the metropolitan counties of the state that they will receive their full entitlement of seats under the terms of the constitution.

"Furthermore, they will receive their seats prior to the smaller counties, and according to a mathematical formula. Thus they will not have to compete with the smaller counties for their senatorial representation.

"Although the plan does not provide straight popular representation, it does increase the senatorial representation of the heavily urbanized counties.

"Whether the increase is sufficient is a highly political question."

POPULATION SHIFT

The committee said it should also be noted that since the state's area remains constant, the only factor that can change senatorial apportionment is a shift or change in population.

"Since the population trend at this point appears to be inexorably upward, and since the growth rate of the more populous counties is greater than that of most small counties, their entitlement to senatorial seats will be bound to increase overtime," the educators explained.

The revised constitution's apportionment formula for the House has not come in for the intensive criticism leveled by the Democrats at the Senate plan. But they point out that the House is not based entirely on population, either.

GOP spokesmen contend the House would be based as nearly as possible on population, subject to the requirement of not violating county lines.

Another factor which prevents the House apportionment from reaching straight popular representation is a provision granting one representative to every county or group of counties having .7 of one per cent of the state's population.

★ ★ ★

Under the present constitution, only .5 of one per cent is required.

SERIOUS BLOCK

Of the two factors, the committee of professors found the county line requirement to be the most serious in blocking straight population representation.

"The county line problem produces more and greater distortions," the committee said.

"The range between the largest and smallest probably districts is 2.1 to 1. On the basis of the 1960 census, the largest representative area will be Monroe County, population 101,120; the smallest will be Van Buren County, 48,395."

However, both Republican and Democratic delegates at the constitutional convention generally agreed that county lines should be observed in drawing up house districts and that city and township lines also should be followed wherever possible in multi-seat counties.

★ ★ ★

This was considered a major advantage in preventing gerrymandering — the drawing of district lines to benefit the political party in power.

Commenting on the county line requirement, the educators said it has been observed ever since Michigan obtained statehood and it also is followed in most other states.

"This neither adds to nor detracts from its merits," they added.

On the makeup of the bi-partisan apportionment commission which would handle the seating, the committee noted that opponents had assailed the commission on grounds that half its members would come from areas containing only eight per cent of the state's population.

This would come about because commission members are to be selected by each major political party with one resident from each of four regions of the state.

The educators said, however, that allocation of half the representation on the commission to the sparsely populate north country is somewhat mitigated by the method of appointment.

Members of the commission are to be designated by the state organizations of the major political parties.

DEPENDABLE APPOINTEE

"Neither party is likely to name a person who cannot be relied upon to protect party interests, whether he hails from Detroit or from Ironwood," the committee observed.

Since the commission must follow precise and rigorous constitutional directives, the educators added, "it seems unlikely that partisan maneuvering will dominate the commission or that the outstate members will gang up on the members from urban southeastern Michigan."

When the commission convenes, it will be faced with the alternative of either working out a mutually acceptable plan or surrendering its discretion to the Supreme Court.

"The provisions for the apportionment commission, in spite of the over-weighting of the most sparsely populated areas, constitute a notable advance in the realm of legislative apportionment," the professors said.

★ ★ ★

They concluded: "Certain facts about the proposed apportionment are clear. It will constitute an improvement over the apportionment system currently in effect, which was adopted by referendum in 1952.

"It will not provide a system of straight popular representation in the Senate, but it will come close to doing so in the House.

"It does provide a system of guaranteed decennial reapportionment under specific constitutional instructions which leaves little room for political maneuvering."

Judges Name Minnesota Dem New Governor by 91 Votes

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A court order declaring Democrat Karl Rolvaag eligible for a certificate of election as Minnesota's governor is to be issued Thursday or Friday by the three-judge panel which supervised the recount of ballots from the Nov. 6 election.

The panel attested a 91-vote lead for Rolvaag Tuesday and turned down a motion by attorneys for Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen that the recount findings be thrown out.

★ ★ ★

The attorneys argued that the recheck of ballots was no more valid than the November tabulation by the State Canvassing Board which had shown Andersen the victor by 142 votes.

Presiding Judge J. H. Sylvestre said there was unanimous agreement by the panel on nearly 4,000 disputed ballots which came before them and said all three jurists adhered to the verdict for Rolvaag.

POSSIBLE APPEAL

Only a possible appeal to the Minnesota Supreme Court thus stood between the 49-year-old Democrat and the chair which Andersen, 51, was continued to occupy until, under state law, a successor was ruled "qualified and elected."

"It's a great day and I'm naturally elated," said Rolvaag from the basement quarters in the Capitol, where he has been keeping abreast of governmental operations.

Andrsen said he will decide whether to appeal after his attorneys study the judges' order.

"Once the opinion is reviewed, there will be no delay on the appeal decision," the governor promised.

There could be a delay of several weeks in the final determination if Andersen appeals.

★ ★ ★

The final recount figures gave Rolvaag 619,842 votes, Andersen 619,751, a margin of seven-thousandths of one per cent for the Democrat.

State law assesses costs of a recount against the ultimate loser. There are moves in the conservative-controlled legislature to have the state pick up the current bill, estimated at about $250,000.

WINNER — Karl Rolvaag, Dem challenger, will be named this week as new governor of Minnesota, following a court recount of Nov. 6 ballots giving him a 91-vote margin over Republican incumbent Elmer L. Andersen, who may appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Moves Unevenly

Moderate Trading on Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved unevenly in moderate trading early today.

Changes of most key stocks were fractional, a few going to a point or so.

Sunray DX Oil continued in demand, rising ¼ to 33⅞ on 10,000 shares.

★ ★ ★

Woolworth advanced well over a point. Crown Cork sank more than a point.

DU PONT RECOVERS

Du Pont recovered a full point in a slightly higher chemical section. Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, and Eastman Kodak added fractions.

★ ★ ★

Motors showed a steadier tone. Chrysler held a fractional gain after rising nearly a point. General Motors was steady. Other leading auto stocks were about unchanged.

The leading steels showed very little change. Bethlehem eased. Electrical Equipments were steady to higher, Westinghouse Electric adding a fraction.

The top oils were very narrowly mixed.

Slight gains were posted by American Telephone, United Aircraft, Kennecott, Southern Pacific, American Airlines, and American Tobacco.

Down fractionally were Mercy, Southern Railway, and Bethlehem.

Opening blocks included: General Motors, unchanged at 62¾ on 2,500 shares; American Telephone, up ⅛ at 120½, Royal Dutch, unchanged at 46¾, and U.S. Steel, unchanged at 45⅛, all on 2,000 shares.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Changes were small. Gainers included General Plywood, Universal Controls, and Molybdenum. Among losers were Sherwin-Williams, Heli-Coil, and Arkansas-Louisiana Gas.

Printers Near New Deadline

Set by Union Heads to End NY Stalemate

NEW YORK (UPI) — Striking printers moved closer today to a deadline of "several days" set by their international union leaders to end the stalemate in the city's 103-day newspaper shutdown.

Elmer Brown, International Typographical Union (ITU) president, was expected to return to the scene soon if striking Local 6 fails to reconsider its rejection of the compromise $12.63 package approved by the publishers.

While no printer - publisher meetings were held yesterday, negotiations continued with two other striking unions—the Mailers and Photoengravers.

While agreement on these two contracts was considered important, the key to the over-all settlement was the next move of the printers.

'FAIR VOTE'

Brown earlier threatened the possibility of withdrawing ITU strike benefits and suggested that other unions involved in the strike might withdraw their support.

Brown said he and other printer union leaders believed the compromise offer which was rejected by a 64-vote margin on Sunday was "fair and the best that could be obtained at this time."

Local 6 President Bertram A. Powers said yesterday that while any member of the union could get up at next Sunday's regular monthly membership meeting to demand a new vote on the settlement offer, he would not ask for a reversal of last Sunday's balloting.

"And I have no intention of moving for a referendum," Powers said.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who proposed the compromise settlement, said he was "not prepared at this time to recommend that the printers reconsider the proposals to end the strike.

"The union is the one which must decide what its future course will be."

15-Inch Wheels to Be Returned to Ford Models

DETROIT (AP) —Ford indicated yesterday it will return to 15-inch wheels on some of its 1964 model cars. Currently all cars made by the company use 14 or 13-inch wheels.

A low profile tire will go with the 15-inch wheels so that the over-all height of the vehicle will be the same as with 14-inch wheels.

Hans Matthias, chief engineer of Ford Division, said the new tires in tests have shown 30 per cent greater tread wear than present original tires, 20 per cent better skid resistance and 10 per cent higher speeds.

Ford disclosed no further details.

At Akron, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. confirmed reports that it was building the new tire.

News in Brief

Duane Jones, 3796 Shaddick St., Waterford Township, told police yesterday that four hub caps valued at $46 were stolen from his car in front of his house.

Spring Hopes Rise for Businessmen

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — With spring at the threshold, many businessmen are cautiously deciding they may be better off than they were admitting.

They won't go so far as to say that business shouldn't be a lot better than it is. And they have problems and worries by the bushel. They often do.

DAWSON

But neither today's conditions or tomorrow's prospects are as dire as many were saying a little while ago.

Federal slide-rule artists, after a new look at the employment figures, find some improvements scattered amidst the bad news they released earlier this month.

The steel industry is enjoying a mild sort of boom. Auto makers can reel off both figures and hopes—all on the rosy side. And spring could work its minor miracle among the winter weary and send auto sales still higher.

CHRONIC PAIN

Unemployment is the most chronic pain. But even it may be eased somewhat by spring's opening up of more outdoor jobs.

Labor strife—present and potential—is a particularly large cloud this year. But whether it blows away or becomes a major thunderstorm is yet to be seen.

Corporate earnings reports mostly are on the cheerful side. Indications are that the trend is continuing. Dividend payments have been rising. The stock market discounted this some time ago, and now is looking about for new prospects to foretell.

★ ★ ★

Employment figures take on a cheerier hue as the Labor Department looks the latest figures over and finds they weren't as bad as could be expected in the final weeks of winter. This is known as adjusting them seasonally.

On this basis, factory jobs increased in February for the first time in seven months. While the factory work week actually dropped a bit, it wasn't as much as usual for the time of year. So, seasonally adjusted, it is recorded as lengthening after two months of shrinkage.

TO TAKE EDGE OFF

All of this is designed to take some of the bitter edge off the increase of the rate of unemployment to 6.1 per cent of the total labor force, the highest percentage in 15 months.

Steel production's seven straight weeks of expansion puts it 19 per cent higher than early February. Some of the gains come from stock building as a hedge against the possibility of a strike late in the summer. Some is credited to rebuilding of stocks allowed to dwindle during the steel industry's private little recession.

★ ★ ★

But a good part of the new orders is reported to be from customers who need the metal for use now and in the spring as their own business expands. Two of steel's big customers—autos and construction—have been doing fine and see no letup soon.

Consumer spending continues high in most regions. This is reflected in retail sales figures, the increase in installment debt, and in the various surveys of buying intentions. Confidence in the business situation still holds high.

Those with things to sell to consumers—from clothes to household appliances, from autos to new homes—are counting upon good spring business. There are regional differences, whether caused by the weather or unemployment. But on the whole, it looks like a good spring after a nervous winter.

Russ Charge Collusion

Rip U.S. on French N-Test

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union charged today that the reported French nuclear test in the Sahara helped to develop arms for the Western powers and was condoned by the United States.

Soviet Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin angrily denounced the French test at a meeting of the 17 - nation disarmament conference. Canada, India and the United Arab Republic joined in the protests.

France, boycotting the conference since it opened a year ago, has not confirmed reports that it tested a nuclear device Monday.

Tsarapkin declared that the French government had flaunted the U.N. General Assembly's call for an end to all testing by Jan. 1, 1963, and added:

★ ★ ★

"It is characteristic that the western delegations, and particularly the United States delegation, did not find a word to condemn the French test. This silence shows that France, by testing nuclear weapons, had made its contribution to the arms development of the Western Bloc and to the nuclear armaments race in general."

CHARGES U.S.

Tsarapkin also accused the United States of fostering a nuclear and conventional armaments race.

He declared that U.S. refusal to accept two or three on - site inspections to police a test ban is "the inevitable consequence of the nuclear araments race, a policy persistently pursued by the United States."

Tsarapkin blamed the deadlock on general disarmament and a treaty to ban nuclear tests on "the recent feverish measures aiming at nuclear armament of West Germany and the recent Nassau agreement for an atomic nuclear armed fleet and for a multilateral Western nuclear force."

Earlier, U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle urged the Soviet delegation to "change its rigid and unreasonable position and begin discussing the major issues involved in reaching agreement on a test ban, rather than insist that discussion be limited to the question of numbers (of inspections) and its own numbers at that."

★ ★ ★

Tsarapkin has refused to discuss any other aspects of inspection as long as the Western side declined to accept the Soviet inspection quota. The West says the number is too low.

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "My husband has a heart condition, is highly nervous, and needs fishing to relax his strenuous life as a traveling salesman. We own Phelps Dodge, General Electric, General Motors, Standard of New Jersey, Alcoa, J.I. Case, Bethlehem Steel. The doctor has advised us to buy a summer cottage; to fish for relaxation. It will cost $5,000. Would you tell me what stocks to sell to get $5,000 down payment on the cottage? I'm a nervous wreck myself, can't think straight, and need an expert's advice. Please help me." T.Y.

A) A careful computation shows that you will have to sell virtually all of your stocks. I should retain Jersey Standard and dispose of the rest, which will bring you in about $5,000.

People with heart conditions frequently live to a ripe old age, as I hope your husband will. I know how hard it is, but I urge you to compose yourself — don't try to carry the whole burden of your husband's condition.

Q) "At 30, I am married, and we have five children. We own our home and have some money saved. I have $22,000 life insurance. I would like to invest in stocks, but a friend says I should buy $30,000 more of insurance. Wouldn't I be better off investing my dollars in stocks?" C.F.

A) In a certain sense you would be, since insurance — if inflation continues — will be paid off in dollars with less than current buying power. Good growth stocks can protect you against inflation by rising in earnings, dividends, and price.

In your circumstances, however, I don't think you are quite ready for a stock program. Your present insurance would not go far toward protecting your large family, if anything happened to you.

I believe you should keep an adequate savings account, build your insurance protection as your friend suggests, and then — if more funds become available — consider starting a stock program.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

16 Die in Crash of King's Plane

CUENO, Italy (AP) — A jetliner carrying members of King Saud's entourage crashed into a mountain today killing all 16 persons aboard, search officials reported.

The Saudi Arabian monarch was not aboard.

The Comet IV had carried the king to Nice last night from Geneva, then returned to pick up other members of his party. It was on its way back to the Riviera resort when disaster struck.

The plane carried seven members of the king's staff, including a senior officer of the Saudi army and a nine-man crew of Britons and Saudi Arabians, authorities reported.

★ ★ ★

At Aix-En-Provence, France, search and rescue center officials reported the plane went down in a rain storm near this Italian town and there were no survivors. Snow was falling at the scene this morning.

Authorities here said the plane struck about half way up Mt. Matto, a peak two miles high.

An anonymous caller told police a bomb had been placed in the Nice hotel where King Saud is staying. A thorough search failed to turn one up.

The King arrived in Nice last night with a party of 50 including seven of his wives and concubines. They have a floor in a seaside hotel.

Also in Nice were two of the king's sons, Prince Mansour Ben Saud and Prince Sultan Ben Saud.
