Past 24 Hours Marred by Rash of Air Tragedies

Charleston Scene of 2; 31 Die at Baltimore; Three AF Jets Collide

From Our News Wires

Seven airplane crashes in scarcely 24 hours cost an estimated 36 lives late Tuesday and today. Three airliners and four military jets went down.

A jet plane was reported to have crashed today at at Gallows Point, St. John Island, one of the Virgin Islands. No details were immediately available. St. John Island, with an area of 19 square miles and a population of 750, lies just east of St. Thomas.

Three Air Force F100 Super Sabre jet fighters plunged into the Atlantic Ocean off Myrtle Beach, S.C., before dawn today on a night navigational and air refuling mission.

All three pilots were presumed lost.

A spokesman said all three were married and lived at Myrtle Beach, a seashore resort on the upper South Carolina coast.

Air Force officials speculated that two of the jets collided and pulled the third down with them.

An Eastern Airlines plane was reported to have crashed at Kanawha County Airport near Charleston, W. Va., this forenoon. First reports by another airline (American) said the plane crashed on landing. There were no further details available immediately.

A Capital Airlines Viscount airliner disintegrated in the air late Tuesday near Baltimore. All 31 persons aboard were killed. The plane fell in a stormy weather area on a flight from New York to Atlanta.

Civil Aeronautics Board investigators, probing through the twisted fragments, said at noon today that the plane was blown apart by a forceful explosion. But speculation whether the explosion was inside the fuselage or outside, possibly in a wing, would be "premature," they said.

West's Ministers Permit Gromyko to Keep Stalling

GENEVA (UPI) — Secretary of State Christian Herter broke through Russia's propaganda barrage today to bring the Big Four foreign ministers conference to grips with its main problems of German unity and European security.

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

GENEVA — The Soviet Union again rejected Western plans to bring up German unification and pushed its own demand for admission of Poland and Czechoslovakia as "full and equal" members of the foreign ministers' conference today.

The Big Four parley met for its third session—and second working meeting—at 3:30 p.m. (9:30 Pontiac time), still deadlocked on the Soviet Union's attempt to pack the conference room with its Communist satellites. The meeting lasted 2 hours and 45 minutes. The ministers will meet again tomorrow.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko warned yesterday that he planned to renew his demands today. The Western foreign ministers decided finally to let him say his piece again, rather than try to steamroller the conference into immediate discussion of the Berlin crisis.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was chairman for the day.

Herter challenged Gromyko today to join in "serious, constructive negotiation." He said if the foreign ministers meeting here make satisfactory progress it can lead to a summit session.

"My government is anxious to make the necessary progress here," Herter said at the Big Four meeting, "but the Western powers cannot make it alone."

★ ★ ★

Before the meeting opened, it was agreed among the Western foreign ministers that Herter would give Gromyko an opportunity to raise the issue of Poland and Czechoslovakia again if he wished.

Gromyko is understood to have told West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano today that the Soviet Union will reject the Western plan for German reunification at the Geneva conference.

NO SURPRISE

★ ★ ★

The Soviet foreign minister and Von Brentano conferred privately for 75 minutes at the Russian's villa. Then Gromyko rushed off to meet Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz of Communist East Germany.

A West German spokesman said Gromyko and Von Brentano "discussed their positions at the foreign ministers conference and found that they were unchanged."

Other informants said Gromyko was very firm in outlining Russia's stand on the German problem.

The Western foreign ministers each had readied general opening speeches appealing again to Russia to ease tension by agreeing to an acceptable settlement of the German and European security problems.

But Gromyko already had dashed any lingering hopes that he might permit an early cold war peace settlement which the West could accept.

Right up to the opening of today's session at the Palais des Nations, Gromyko also left little doubt of his determination to keep up the fight for the admission of Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia as equals to the Big Four.

This was the subject that was argued for 90 minutes without resolution at yesterday's session. The West is opposed to seating either nation as an equal.

But it is willing to hear their views, and those of any other interested nations, at a later stage in the conference.

Legislature Gets More New Bills for State Taxes

House Again Scuffles Over Senate-Approved Sales Levy Hike

LANSING (AP) — House members came to grips with the Senate-approved use (sales) tax bill again today as two new income tax proposals joined the growing pile of tax programs.

The House was scheduled to vote for the second time in five days on the use tax measure, aimed at adding a penny to the three-cent sales tax. Democrats, with help from two rebel Republicans, junked it last Thursday. But Republicans mustered enough votes the next day to revive it for a second vote.

A second income tax bill geared to the federal income levy and another graduated income tax, the brainchild of three Democrats, came into the House yesterday.

The latter is basically the same as others already introduced. Its sponsors, however, said it would hit a bigger share of the tax-paying population and give some needed relief to small business.

★ ★ ★

Reps. E. D. O'Brien (D-Detroit), Walter H. Nill (D-Muskegon) and Frederick Yates (D-Detroit) calculated their program would net the state 140 million dollars in new revenue.

Rep. Arthur J. Law (D-Pontiac) introduced a bill similar to one already in the Senate calling for a 5 per cent personal income levy liability. Corporate incomes would be taxed at 10 per cent.

The Legislature apparently was ready today to pull the switch that would speed $5,100,000 in biweekly paychecks skipped six days ago to nearly 26,000 state employes.

The lawmakers by the same act would pry loose $100,000 in paychecks withheld from themselves, judges and legislative staff members on April 30.

It all hinged on Senate agreement to changes the House wrote into the Smeekens bill to unfreeze restricted funds in the state treas-

Buses Will Run to Miracle Mile

Pontiac Lines Extends Franklin Road Route to Shopping Center

Beginning tomorrow, Pontiac City Lines Inc. will offer bus service from downtown Pontiac to the Miracle Mile Town & Country Shopping Center, it was announced today by Earl Dresher, general manager of the bus company.

The new service will be added to the regular Franklin road line, said Dresher, which now runs from downtown Huron and Saginaw streets to Franklin and Alton street.

Beginning tomorrow, the Franklin buses will continue two blocks south of Alton to Freemont, then swing west to the shopping center, Dresher said.

The Miracle Mile buses will leave downtown weekdays every 40 minutes, beginning at 9:15 a.m., and every 30 minutes after 2 p.m. Buses will return from Miracle Mile weekdays up to 5:20 p.m., he said.

Saturdays, the service will be every hour, leaving downtown beginning at 9:05 a.m. and returning from Miracle Mile up to 5:30 p.m.

The Miracle Mile stop will be between the W.T. Grant Co. and Kinsel's, Dresher said.

The new service will be subsidized initially by the Miracle Mile Business Association to cover any operational losses, Dresher said.

Portion of Lung Removed From Gen. Twining

WASHINGTON (AP) — Death, illness and resignation are creating problems in the top civilian and military levels of the Defense Department.

★ ★ ★

Latest in this series is the announcement that Gen. Nathan F. Twining, 61-year-old chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has undergone major surgery.

The purpose of such analysis usually is to determine whether any growth in the tissue is benign or malignant. The announcement said Twining's condition after the operation was very satisfactory.

★ ★ ★

At any rate, the chairman of the strategy-making organization obviously will be absent from his post for several weeks.

Word of Twining's illness came as Donald A. Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, was being buried at Arlington National Cemetery.

Resignations elsewhere in the Pentagon official family also confront the administration with filling at least two sub-secretary posts.

CRASH SURVIVORS — Mrs. Arthur C. Eaton holds her eight-month-old daughter Pamela after both escaped injury when a Capital Airlines plane in which they were passengers crashed at Kanawha Airport in Charleston, W. Va..

Mother Thought Only of Tot

Thanks God They're Safe

By MRS. ARTHUR C. EATON
As told to The Associated Press

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—All I could think of when the plane went over the hill was saving Pamela. I've said a lot of prayers of thanksgiving that we both managed to get out. I don't think we're hurt at all.

Pamela—she's 8 months old—and I boarded the Capital Airlines plane at Pittsburgh to fly home to Atlanta, Ga. We'd been visiting my parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Jones, in Finleyville, near Pittsburgh.

Pamela was asleep in the seat beside me when the wreck came.

I can't remember a lot of what happened in the next few minutes, but I did grab Pamela up in my arms.

Then I found I couldn't unfasten my safety belt. I could see the flames around the plane — don't know whether they were coming from an engine or where.

★ ★ ★

A man I found out later was Dr. Anthony Susan (38-year-old resident of 204 Church Lane in Pittsburgh) picked Pamela up and carried her out of the plane. Then another man freed me from the safety belt.

I was some distance behind Dr. Susan and Pamela. I remember a stewardess saying not to shove, just take it slowly.

Pamela was really frightened, and she cried for about an hour and a half.

They took us to a hospital for emergency treatment we might need. They gave Pamela a sedative to quiet her down, but she's fine now.

I'm 27, and my husband is a candy and food broker in Atlanta. He called while I still was at the hospital. I don't know how he found out about the accident, unless Capital in Atlanta called him.

Right now, I just want to get home to Atlanta. There's another plane at 8:20 p.m. and please, make sure I'm on it.

I want to get home as soon as I can.

'Every Place People Helped One Another'

By JAMES GUNDRY
Detroit Advertising Executive

DETROIT (UPI)—It all happened so fast most people didn't know what was going on. Every place I looked I saw people helping one another.

I was on Capital Airlines' 983 Constellation bound for Pittsburgh to Atlanta.

Coming in for a landing at Charleston, W.Va., we had rolled about 80 per cent of the runway when the pilot pulled the plane to the left in an attempt to ground loop because it was obvious we were going to overshoot the runway.

The airport at Charleston is built on a mountain top. As we attempted to ground loop, we swerved about 100 yards to the left and went over the edge of a deep ravine. The ship broke into flames.

The plane was suspended in the ravine so we had only about four or five feet to drop from the door of the plane to the floor of the ravine.

As soon as I got out, I noticed that ground crews were already pouring foam onto the flaming ship from above.

But the ship continued to burn and the reserve fuel tanks apparently caught fire. They exploded — bing, bing, bing.

I fly several hundred miles a week and this has not dampened my ardor for flying in the least. It is the first crash I have been in and I hope it is the last. But I will continue to fly.

'I Was Drunk Then,' Murder Suspect Says

Roy C. Hicks told police he was drunk on the night Royal Oak car dealer Parvin (Bill) Lassiter was slain and could remember only that Charles W. Nash was carrying a gun and that he heard a shot.

Hicks, 36-year-old trusted business associate of Lassiter, was to make a formal statement today to Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen.

Lassiter, owner of the Detroit Car Co., 2614 N. Woodward Ave., was found shot through the head April 8 in a ditch off the Willow Run Expressway, seven miles from the Willow Run Airport.

Pontiac State Police Detective Charles M. Leaf, who was instrumental in cracking open the Lassiter killing with a confession last week from Nash in Chattanooga, said Hicks' memory of the murder was "very vague" because, as Hicks said, he had been drinking heavily April 6 when Lassiter was killed.

DENIES ACCUSATION

Earlier, Richard Jones, 27, of Georgia, third man in custody, said Nash shot Lassiter. Nash, according to Leaf, has denied this, saying Jones fired the gun.

Detectives say Nash and Jones have accused Hicks of planning the holdup and slaying, with a payoff to both men, so he could evade paying a $4,000 debt to Lassiter. The robbery netted $320.

Leaf said that after Hicks makes his formal statement to Olsen this morning, orders for first-degree murder warrants against all three men might be issued.

It was also expected that the three would be taken to the scene to re-enact the crime.

Hicks was asked during three hours of questioning yesterday why he did not raise a question when Nash entered the airport terminal with a gun to page Lassiter.

Police said Hicks replied: "I had no idea they intended to harm Bill."

REMEMBERS LITTLE

Leaf said Hicks declared he was in a drunken sleep during the auto ride from the airport with Lassiter and could remember little although he had "worried" because he thought he heard a shot.

For 10 days in the early investigation of the slaying, Hicks was in voluntary custody of State Police.

Capt. Fred E. Davids, State Police district commander, said Hicks claimed he did not tell police his present story because "I was afraid for myself, my wife and my family."

Dulles Makes Headway in Pneumonia Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said today there has been some improvement in the pneumonia condition besetting cancer-stricken John Foster Dulles.

Press Officer Lincoln White said there had been no significant change, however, in the former Secretary of State's general condition.

Dulles has been confined to bed since the onset of what was described as a mild attack of pneumonia about a week ago.

Seaway No Wallflower

OTTAWA (UPI) — Transport Minister George Hees took note of the traffic jam in the newly opened St. Lawrence Seaway yesterday. He said the seaway "is like a popular girl at a party and the boys are having to line up for dances."

Light Showers Due to Begin Cool Spell

Scattered light showers have been forecast for the Pontiac area tonight. The low will be about 48.

Thursday and Friday are expected to continue to be cool, with the high ranging from 56-60 and the low near 40. A gradual warming is seen for the weekend. Tonight's winds will be northwest at 15-25 miles an hour.

Total precipitation will be about one-tenth inch with showers tonight and again Sunday or Monday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 56 degrees. The mercury read 68 at 2 p.m.

Ayling Chosen to Be Chairman of Trial Board

At an organizational meeting held yesterday in City Hall, V. H. Ayling was elected chairman of the seven-member Police Trial Board.

Named as vice chairman was Cecil C. Mullinix, a Pontiac Motor Division employe, who was on the old Trial Board.

He served on the Board of (tax) Review last year and this year, and was vice chairman of the Trial Board at the time it was disbanded in 1957.

John B. Dean was elected secretary of the group, which plans to meet again on May 26.

The Trial Board will at that time meet with representatives of a special study committee that Mayor Philip E. Rowston appointed in February to find ways of strengthening the Trial Board set-up in the City Charter.

Among the first duties of the Trial Board, it was agreed by its members, was the drawing up of rules and regulations for the Police Dept.

★ ★ ★

The Board plans to discuss the matter shortly with Public Safety Director George D. Eastman.

The Board agreed its early organizational meetings should be closed to the press and public.

2-Year-Old Boy Taken Off Ledge Five Stories Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two-year-old Charles Amato pushed a table to a window yesterday, climbed up and stepped out on the ledge of a fifth floor window.

His parents were away. A maid was in another room.

The child's father said later, "God took care of him today."

Civic Center Structure to Hold 80,000 Books

Library Will Be Spacious

Pontiac's new library is being designed to hold 30,000 more books than the present one.

Its total capacity will be 80,000 volumes, with 55,000 shelved in reach of the public and 25,000 in reserve for reference.

These figures represent net capacity, when books are stored on widely spaced open shelves in the middle of the main floor of the proposed building, the City Commission was told last night.

"Gross capacity under more crowded but less comfortable conditions would be much greater," said Charles M. Mohrhardt, one of four persons who gave commissioners a preview of preliminary plans for the $500,000 building to be under construction in the Civic Center this summer.

Mohrhardt is a partner in Mohrhardt & Ulveling firm, Detroit library building consultants working on the building's design with the architects, O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates, of Birmingham.

Present plans call for a two-level building of limestone and brick fronting on the south side of E. Pike street on city-owned property just east of the Clinton River.

Containing about 17,000 square feet, the low-lying library would extend 123 feet along Pike at its widest point and 136 feet southward along S. Parke street.

The public would use the upper, or grade level, while the lower level would be a partial basement used mostly by the library staff, said Harris.

ENTIRE-FLOOR VIEW

The public level has been designed so that the main library desk by the Pike street entrance will command a view of the entire floor, Harris said.

He believed this arrangement would cut down on library staff needs and contribute to order within the building.

Architects are planning glass partitions instead of walls to block off such public level areas as the children's room and young people's room.

It's planned that a smoking room will be provided and a lounge, Harris said, with most of the public level remaining unpartitioned, allowing a sweeping view from the main entrance.

Ceilings on the public level are 10 feet high, according to preliminary plans, and total height of the flat-roof building on the

Supervisors' Okay Again Sought on Sewer Projects

City Completes Financing of Two Hospital Projects

They sold $175,000 in revenue bonds to finance a hospital parking lot and issued $316,000 in tax anticipation notes to finish purchase of new equipment and furnishings.

The 30-year bonds were sold to the city's Employes Retirement System at four per cent interest. The only other bidder was the First of Michigan Corp., which asked for a five per cent interest rate.

★ ★ ★

The tax anticipation notes were sold to the only bidder, Community National Bank, at the low interest rate of two per cent.

The notes represented the third and final installment of $950,000 which the city promised the hospital for furnishings and equipment 1½ years ago.

The notes sold last night are to be paid back out of 1960 taxes that otherwise would have been earmarked for public improvements.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry voted against issuing the notes, saying that the hospital should be forced to agree to pay the money back some day.

Other commissioners protested that the money was promised the hospital "with no strings attached" before Henry was elected a commissioner last spring.

"We should demand repayment notwithstanding any comitments of any previous Commission," Henry repllied.

Voting for issuance of the notes, Commissioner Robert A. Landry served notice he would not vote any more money for the hospital unless there were provisions for repayment.

"It's about time we stopped dishing out money without getting it back," he said.

Henry wanted the hospital to cover any possible losses on the revenue bonds, but City Manager Walter K. Willman doubted there would be any.

"The bonds require $13,000 a year in meter revenues and we anticipate collecting $21,000 a year from the lot," he said. "Anyway, the city is not liable for these bonds since they are not a general obligation issue."

The revenue bond money will only partially cover cost of the proposed 214-stall lot. The city is also putting up $50,000 in public improvements funds, which is to be repaid out of surplus revenues, Willman said.

The total $225,000 cost of the lot includes construction and acquisition of 10 land parcels immediately south of the hospital between Johnson and Seminole avenues.

Commissioners last night accepted a $200 bid for resale of the 10th and final home purchased there to make room for the parking lot.

The bid was submitted by Dr. Leon F. Cobb of 75 W. Huron St. who promised to have the building at 61-63 Seminole moved by May 20, only 10 days before the city's target date for completion of the lot.

The rest of the proposed parking area already has been cleared of homes.

Safe Containing $340 Stolen From Store

A safe containing $340 was stolen from Cole's Drugs, 501 S. Saginaw St. sometime yesterday after burglars broke through a basement wall, according to Pontiac Police.

The thieves first pried open the door of the L&L Grill, 499 S. Saginaw St., which is next to the drug store, and went to the basement of the grill. They knocked a hole in the basement wall, adjacent to the drug store and then entered the second building, police reported.

Kim Is Staying at Aly Khan's Luxury Chateau

VALLAURIS, France (UPI) — Film star Kim Novak is the newest addition to the chosen few—mostly beautiful women—who have the privileges of using Prince Aly Khan's luxurious "Chateau de L'Horizon" here.

The blonde film star moved in yesterday with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Novak, while friends busily denied that this implied any romance with the former playboy turned diplomat, who is in New York.

"She was coming here for the Cannes Film Festival, the house was empty except for the staff and Aly Khan kindly suggested on one of their dates that she stay there instead of a hotel," a friend said. "That's all."

Miss Novak was a sensation on her arrival here yesterday for the formal presentation tonight of Columbia's "In the Middle of the Night" in which she stars.

Jim DeLand Dies of Attack

Popular Disc Jockey Emceed Radio Show, Practiced Law

Disc jockey Jim DeLand, known to thousands in this area as emcee of the "Bumper to Bumper Club" on Radio Station WWJ, died of a heart attack this morning.

DeLand was rushed to William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak at 7:30 a.m. today but was dead on arrival.

10,000 to Help Build Small Cars for GM

YPSILANTI (UPI)—The Ypsilanti Daily Press says that General Motors is going to build small cars at Willow Run and will have 10,000 persons at work there by November.

The Daily Press said yesterday GM will do the work in a new small car plant. General Motors declined comment.

Quoting a "reliable industry source," the Daily Press said the GM small car is designed to feature engine-in-rear construction. The paper said this will be a "high mileage engine of less than 100 horsepower" with a "radically new aluminum cylinder block."

Ten Hospital Employes Honored Here at Dinner

Ten Pontiac General Hospital employes won service pins at the fifth annual recognition and award dinner held at Devon Gables Inn last night.

The banquet was part of the hospital's National Hospital Week observance.

Ten-year service pins went to the other nine, including:

Mrs. Fay Stewart, 890 Argyle Ave., director of public relations; Glen Blust, 4421 Meigs St., Drayton Plains, a carpenter; Mrs. Anna Fortneym, 308 Clifford St., a custodian.

Mrs. Christine Albert, 59 Monroe St., a practical nurse; Mrs. Helen A. Mouser, 105 Ruth St., food service supervisor; Clarence Shepard, 497 Midway Ave., maintenance mechanic.

Alexander Nicol, 493 Cameron St., assistant laundry supervisor; Mrs. Janette Andrews, 251 Rivard St., a nurses aide; and Mrs. Dorothy M. Perry, 434½ W. Huron St., a registered nurse.

Also honored were four recently retired employes, Mrs. Lydia Collins, Mrs. Lula Buckler, Mrs. Florence Corfixson and James Conway.

Attending the banquet were employes with 10 or more years service, plus members of the hospital's administration and Board of Trustees.

In observance of National Hospital Week, the hospital will schedule conducted tours tomorrow and Friday, at 9 and 10 a.m. and at 2, 3 and 4 p.m. other Capital airliner, a Constellation, plunged over a 200-foot embankment while landing at the Charleston, W.Va., Airport. Two persons were killed and six injured.

Aeronautics officials said they believed it was the first time that one airline had two fatal crashes in one day.

The crew of an American Airlines plane with 52 persons aboard reported that an Air Force jet streaked in front of it at a distance of 45 to 50 feet Tuesday at an altitude of 16,500 feet near Bakersfield, Calif. The plane was en route from Houston, Tex., to San Francisco.

Flight engineers and others said they thought the plane was caught in a severe updraft or downdraft which pulled off part of a wing. The fuel lines in the wing snapped, spraying fuel into the burning engine.

Rain was still falling slightly at Charleston when the big Constellation came in for a landing at the airport, built by slicing off the top of a hill. The plane seemed to turn before it slowed down, witnesses said, and it tumbled off the brink of the hill. It immediately burst into flames.

★ ★ ★

A 20-year-old stewardess, Nancy Marshah, was credited with getting many passengers out of the flaming wreckage. She forced open a door after several passengers had been unable to push it open.

Walter Bevans, 70, had just been driven from the yard to the porch by the late afternoon thundershower.

"I started inside the house," he said, "and then I saw this terrible light and smoke. I saw this man lying in the field. I ran back into the house and told my daughter-in-law to call for ambulances.

"I saw one big piece of the plane burning in the air, and there was smoke coming from two other parts which sort of drifted off and away.

"It was a terrible thing."

Not far away, a group of youngsters were playing ball. Suddenly debris and bodies began falling all around them. They ran for home and cover.

The four crew members who were among 31 passengers killed in the crash of a Capital Airlines Viscount near Baltimore were from the Detroit area, but none of those killed was from the Pontiac vicinity.

The veteran pilot was Capt. W. Clyde Paddack, 53, of Detroit. Michael J. Flahaven, 28, of Dearborn was co-pilot. The hostesses were Sue Ann Wessell, 21, and Doris Elaine Gulick, 28, of Ypsilanti.

Shake Mothballs Out of Topcoat; Winter's on Way!

By The Associated Press

Michiganders, shake the mothballs out of your overcoats. You're going to need them tonight and especially tomorrow night.

An overnight snow continued today in the Houghton-Hancock area of the Upper Peninsula. Sault Ste. Marie got a little snow overnight and the Weather Bureau said the top of the Lower Peninsula possibly would get snow sometime today.

Freezing temperatures are forecast tonight in the Upper Peninsula and tomorrow night in the top of the Lower Peninsula, with a 35-40 range prevailing downstate.

Wintry weather returned to sections of the northern Midwest today but it was summer-like in wide areas in the East and Western parts of the country.

Brisk winds fanned cold air into northern Minnesota and North Dakota with temperatures dropping to near freezing. Snow fell in extreme northern areas of Minnesota and northeastern North Dakota.

Strong winds hammered northern Minnesota, extreme northwestern Wisconsin and northern Michigan Tuesday. Gusts up to 74 m.p.h. lashed the twin ports of Duluth - Superior, forcing some ships to seek safety in Lake Superior's open waters.

Dust storms were reported in parts of the windy belt and brush fires broke out in the tinder-dry sections of northern Minnesota.

Good Enough for Now

MIAMI (UPI) — Franklin S. Sampson told the Florida highway patrol yesterday that his driving license is not out of date, even if it does show an expiration date of April 1367. It's a Saudi Arabia license, dated by the Moslem calendar.

New Library to Hold 30,000 More Books

Parke street side will be only 15 feet, so that the City Hall and Public Safety Building will remain visible to the west, Harris said.

A public meeting room for about 100 persons is planned on the lower level, which could be put to public use when the rest of the library is closed, Harris said.

BOOKMOBILE DOCK

Otherwise, the lower floor will be used for storing books on reserve and other nonpublic library functions, he said.

The city's bookmobile will have a covered loading dock off a service drive on the Water street side of the building, he said.

Harris disclosed plans for two important features. He said that all the public areas could be air-conditioned within the $500,000 construction budget set by the City Commission.

★ ★ ★

And an elevator is planned next to a grade entrance on Pike street, he said, for the benefit of handicapped persons unable to mount the few steps planned in front of the main entrance.

Denyes estimated the building could fill about half of Pontiac's ultimate library needs.

If the city grows, he said, the library could be expanded in three ways.

COULD GO SOUTH

"It could be expanded horizontally to the south, which is the method we would recommend. Or a second floor could be added, and there are two unused portions of the basement excavation that could be converted into windowless rooms."

City Manager Walter K. Willman asked commissioners to give thought to the possibility of ruling out a future second floor in order to save 2 or 3 per cent on original construction costs.

It is expected that preliminary plans will be approved in time to have working drawings finished and the project ready for construction bids in July.

★ ★ ★

Construction price was estimated at $493,000, but the architects advised the city to ask contractors to submit alternate bids on how much more it would cost to build the library if it were 30 feet longer.

★ ★ ★

"The total price with the 30-foot addition may not be too much above your $500,000 price ceiling," Harris said.

Commissioners have decided to limit total costs to $600,000, with $100,000 going to meet 6 per cent architects' fees and the rest to furnish the building.

Sail May Be Bed-lam!

WINDERMERE, England (UPI) — Four Nottingham University students announced today that they will sail across Lake Windermere in their pajamas on a brass bedstead. The bedstead, supported on a raft of planks and oil drums, is already in position for the trip Saturday. "Captain" Max Wyman, 20, said, "We want to set up a record."

Bird Lovers Gulled!

TOKYO (UPI) — Bird lovers were incensed today at the timing of a Forestry Ministry announcement that sea gulls are fair game for hunters. This is national bird week.

June 1 Start Is Forecast

Vote Asked to Clarify Adherence With Law Governing Millage

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will hold a special meeting May 20 to once again approve construction of the Farmington and Evergreen sanitary sewer systems.

"We hope it will be the last," said Harold K. Schone, director of the county's Department of Public Works.

Barring any more delays, Schone said, construction on the long-awaited $12.6 million sewers probably will begin June 1.

Upon the suggestion of the county's bonding attorney, Claude H. Stevens, supervisors will meet May 20 to "reconfirm" their past approval of contracts for the two sewers.

This has become necessary after county legal officials have added a declaratory amendment to the 1957 DPW Act — under which the two projects will be built—assuring that communities to be served will not have to exceed the 15-mill constitutional taxing limitation to meet their monetary obligations to the county.

Inserting this measure will be the last—the county hopes—of seven years of delays since the sewer projects were first envisioned.

Gov. Williams Signs DPW Act Measure

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams today signed a bill designed to clear the way for multimillion dollar sewage systems in Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

The bill stipulates that the statutory tax levies of townships which have contracted with counties and other municipalities for water and sewage systems shall be within the constitutional 15 mill limitation.

The bill had immediate effect and validated all existing contracts that meet the requirements.

The proposal was sponsored by Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland), who said other counties would be affected by the bill in the future.

In the interim, the Board of Supervisors has met many times to approve another step for the sewers, only to have another legal block tossed in its way.

Schone said plans now call for the sale of $6,919,000 in general obligation bonds for the eight-community Evergreen sewer, and for $5,748,000 in similar bonds for the four-community Farmington sewer. This has been set for 11 a.m. May 26.

The Board of Public Works, governing body of the DPW, will meet to receive bids on the bonds to the lowest bidders in order that construction might begin soon after June 1, Schone said.

Schone said construction of the Evergreen in all probability will begin two or three days before the Farmington project.

The Evergreen will benefit the cities of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Lathrup Village, Troy, Southfield, the village of Beverly Hills and Bloomfield and Pontiac townships.

The city of Keego Harbor, the major portion of West Bloomfield Township, all of Farmington Township and a small section of the city of Southfield will benefit from the Farmington sewer.

Completion of the two sewers will be welcomed by many of the residents of the areas who have had to rely on private septic tanks.

A bigger factor, as far as the county is concerned, is that for several years now it has been under orders by the State Water Resources Commission and the State Health Dept. to provide these treatment facilities to alleviate sewage overflow into the Rouge River.

A long chain of legal blocks began in March 1958 when a West Bloomfield attorney filed suit contesting the constitutionality of the DPW Act.

Although it was upheld by the late Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick, the attorney appealed Judge Hartrick's ruling to the State Supreme Court.

In a 4 to 4 split decision, the high court affirmed "by equal division" Judge Hartrick's ruling. Even with this green light to proceed, Stevens was dubious whether bond buyers would venture into the projects with four justices dissenting.

After two refusals by the State Supreme Court to rehear its split decision, it was decided to insert the declaratory amendment to meet the objection of dissenting Justices Eugene Black, Talbot Smith, John D. Voelker and Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Hills OKs Repaving Bid, Sets Hearing on Budget

BIRMINGHAM—Bloomfield Hills city commissioners last night approved a contract of the A & A Asphalt Paving Co. of Birmingham for the repaving of Opdyke road. The bid of $8,463 is for approximately a half-mile of paving.

Commissioners also set 6 p.m. May 28 as the time of a public hearing for the 1959-60 city budget.

City Manager Robert Stadler said this year's budget is $263,000. A part of the $14,000 increase is for an across-the-board salary increase of 2½ per cent for all city employes, he said.

Members of the Birmingham Musicale will hold their annual May Luncheon at 12:15 p.m. Friday at Devon Gables, according to Mrs. John R. Hertzberg, chairman of the event.

The program will consist of musical selections by two woodwind quartets from Birmingham High School. In addition, the Bloomfield Fashion Shop will present a showing of spring and summer apparel for women.

Mrs. Raymond Reilly of the Birmingham Travel Bureau will show a color movie on Russia at the Friday meeting of the Senior Men's Club at the Community House.

The club's Discussion Group has chosen "Change of Pace" for its topic. Harry I. Burch will be moderator.

The newly formed Birmingham Teen Club has announced a total membership of 489 to date.

At its meeting Friday night at the YMCA Building, the Dual-Tones, a teenage orchestra from Royal Oak Kimball High School, will play for dancing from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Area high school girls seeking summer work in the recreation field have been offered free basic training by the YWCA.

A workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. May 23 at the Central YWCA in Detroit.

Instruction for workers in day camps, playgrounds, child care and community centers and Bible schools will be given.

Registration can be made at any YWCA office.

Forest Lake Country Club will be the scene Friday of the Birmingham Tennis Club's annual dinner dance.

Mrs. David Lawrence and Mrs. Charles Letts Jr., cochairmen, said the dinner would be served at 6:30 p.m.

TV Comic Winters Hospitalized in Daze

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Comedian Jonathan Winters is in San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

He was found wandering on the waterfront Tuesday, apparently dazed, and consented when harbor police suggested they take him to the hospital.

Winters has been appearing at a night club for a reported $4,500 a week.

Winters, 33, was a regular for a time on NBC's Comedy Hour.

On one of George Gobel's TV shows Winters, as the special guest, did a musical comedy and played all the parts. He specializes in weird sound effects—many of them taught him by his mother, Mrs. Alice Bahman, when she worked for a Springfield, Ohio, radio station.

More New Tax Bills Hopping in Lansing

Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) and Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville), sponsors of the bill, foresaw no hitch. Gov. Williams was not so sure but indicated his uncertainty stemmed from lack of familiarity with one House amendment.

Had the House completed passage yesterday, administrators were ready to rush the delayed checks to state workers in the Upper Peninsula by plane, and to arrange a special distribution setup in Detroit.

However, William R. Hart, deputy state auditor general, said careful checking showed normal mailing procedures—with some use of special delivery—probably would get the job done as fast.

The paychecks, dated, written, signed and bundled by department or geographical destination, have lain in a state office building vault for a week now, awaiting the signal for release.

A bill to regulate filling station price advertising wobbled today toward a showdown vote in the Senate, badly mauled and with most of its teeth pulled.

The bill survived two attempts to kill it yesterday. One of its bitter foes, Sen. Charles O. Feenstra (R-Grand Rapids), succeeded in tacking on an amendment that badly confused the measure's scope.

Earlier, the bill was reduced basically to requiring the digit signifying any fraction of a cent in the price to be printed the same size as those giving the whole cents.

It would apply to on-the-premises or roadside posters only.

As changed by the Grand Rapids senator, the requirement would be extended to all retail merchants—whether they sold washing machines or drugs—but there was a question whether the job was legally effective.

Selassie to Visit Russia

CLOTHING DRIVE UNDER WAY — Fred Staley of 843 Glendale St. and Judy Dearing of 191 Ottawa Dr. were busy this morning weighing clothing collected in the third citywide drive for needy Pontiac families. Sponsored by the Pontiac Administrators and Supervisors Assn., the campaign is being conducted in each of the city's schools. Fred is treasurer and Judy is vice president of the Pontiac Central High School Student Council which is heading the drive in their school. The homeroom which collects the most clothing will win a theater party. Second and third place homerooms will be treated to ice cream. The drive ends Friday.

State Legislators Busy Explaining Phone Calls

LANSING (AP)—Members of the House of Representatives were as busy as a one-armed switchboard operator today with explanations of their telephone calls.

House speaker Don M. Pears (R-Buchanan) released a list of long distance calls in the first three months of the legislative session.

It showed that 15 members — 14 of them Democrats — ran up toll bills of more than $100 each.

Oakland County's six representatives expended a total of $231.05 between them for phone calls. High man was James Clarkson (D-Southfield) with $155.80 and low man was Arthur J. Law (D-Pontiac) with only $7.25.

Democrats immediately cried "politics."

THE CHAMP

Rep. Edwin A. Fitzpatrick (D-Detroit) was the champion talker with a bill of $493.04.

"There were no personal calls charged to the State of Michigan," Fitzpatrick said. "All the calls I made were related to legislative matters."

Fitzpatrick said most were out-of-state calls and had to do with his proposals for off-track betting and a sweepstakes lottery to raise money for the state.

"It is a sad time," said Fitzpatrick, "when efforts to enact laws which a legislator feels are important are seized on by some for political advantage."

★ ★ ★

He said his calls were "small potatoes compared with some of the stuff going on around here."

Fitzpatrick said the Senate committee investigating Michigan's industrial climate duplicates a governor's committee.

OTHER EXPENSES

He said this committee employed "an outside man" at $10,000 a year and that its head, Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater), made two trips to Washington by plane and one to Harrisburg, Pa., at state expense.

Rep. Walter J. Nakkula (R-Gladwin) was the one Republican topping the $100 mark with $119.10.

Pears said he has asked the by House members totalled $5,872.20 or $18 a month for each.

Pears sai he has asked the two House floor leaders, Reps Allison Green (R-Kingston) and Joseph J. Kowalski (D-Detroit) to jointly sponsor a resolution setting up a committee to study legislative spending for such items as telephone, telegraph, stationary and mailing privileges.

Kowalski said he felt release of the information was justified.

But, he said the speaker seemed more interested in publicity than in explaining the circumstances of the calls.

Some members, he said, have larger accounts because they are more active in introducing legislation and in sounding out their constituents.

Kowalski had a $20.15 bill.

"The fellow who doesn't call his constituents when he has state business to transact is not doing his job," said Rep. William Romano (D-Van Dyke), who was listed for $132.

★ ★ ★

James Bradley, Detroit	$198.75
George H. Edwards, Detroit	$159.35
Dominic Jacobett, Negaunee	$109.25
Edward H. Jeffries, Detroit	$175.40
Frank A. Mahoney, Detroit	$126.90
Louis Mezzano, Wakefield	$227.60
Frank J. O'Brien, Detroit	$110.40

Newly elected Reps. Joseph A. Gillis (D-Detroit) and Riemer Van Til (R-Holland) had no long distance calls listed. Also unlisted were Reps. James N. Folks of Horton, Harold W. Hungerford of Lansing and Ralph H. Young of East Lansing, all Republicans.

The Republican speakers office reported $149.85 in toll calls during the period and the Democratic office a $320.50 total.

State OKs Borrowing by Pontiac Schools

Pontiac was one of three Oakland County school districts whose borrowings were approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday.

A Pontiac loan of $500,000 was among the $2,770,290 the Commission approved for 21 school districts.

Troy was granted approval to borrow $195,800 and Lamphere $207,000.

All of the loans were tax anticipation notes for operating expenses.

Pontiac Delays Pact for Sylvan

New Sewage Setup Blocked Until Report on Clinton Pollution

A new pact covering Pontiac treatment of Sylvan Lake sewage was delayed last night until a report on Clinton River pollution is prepared.

★ ★ ★

Signing a contract with Sylvan Lake might hurt the city's legal position in its battle to halt pollution of the Clinton and Silver Lake by communities to the west, Henry said.

He warned that the city may have to seek injunctive relief against Sylvan Lake if it is discovered that Sylvan is contributing to the pollution.

1945 AGREEMENT HOLDS

Willman said a 1945 agreement between Sylvan Lake and Pontiac would remain in effect until the new contract is signed. Sylvan already has signed it.

A pollution study is under way by the city's Sanitation Department and a report should be ready in two weeks, Willman said.

Commissioners called for the study last month in an attempt to curb Clinton pollution which the State Water Resources Commission lays at the door of Pontiac.

Henry believed Silver Lake could be used for a recreation area if it were not contaminated by pollution that is not Pontiac's fault.

Willman said the battle against pollution had nothing to do with the sewage treatment agreement.

"It covers that portion of Sylvan that is served by sewers. The portion that isn't served by sewers is the part that might be involved in pollution."

CONTINUED TREATMENT

The agreement, similar to one signed last year with Waterford Township, provides for continued treatment, but on a metered rate of 16 cents for every 1,000 gallons of effluent handled, chargeable to the city instead of to individual customers.

Sylvan Lake, in turn, would collect from individual homes, at slightly higher rates than at present, it is expected.

Pioneer Highlands subdivision on the lake would be excluded from the agreement, Willman said, since its location is unsuitable for inclusion in the single meter arrangement.

★ ★ ★

The subdivision will continue to be served by the city under the 1945 arrangement, with Pontiac billing the homeowners directly.

Willman stressed that the new agreement contained a safety factor to prevent overloading of Pontiac's limited sewage treatment facilities.

No additional Sylvan Lake sewage lines can be laid, under the agreement, without approval of the Pontiac City Commission, he said.

City to Appeal Ruling on Ice Cream Law

The State Supreme Court will be asked to reverse the recent Circuit Court ruling declaring Pontiac's ice cream vending law illegal.

On recommendation of City Attorney William A. Ewart, city commissioners voted last night to ask the high court for permission to appeal the decision by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Judge Holland said the heart of the law, which requires street vendors to have a helper on hand to protect children from traffic, was economically prohibitive.

Ewart was not optimistic about the chances of a reversal, but said the attempt should be made.

The ordinance has been a center of legal controversy for several years. It came before Judge Holland for the first time last summer, after a test case was set up.

Fire Damages City Shop, Started in Box of Rags

Spontaneous combustion was blamed by Pontiac firemen as the cause of a $625 fire at the Carney Transmission Service, 123 W. Montcalm St. yesterday afternoon.

The fire started in a box containing dirty rags and workmen's clothing. Damage to the building was estimated at $75 and $400 to the contents.

Manslaughter Inquiry Delayed

Lawyer of Commerce Man Asks More Time to Argue Point of Law

Pretrial examination of Elmo Marshall, a Commerce Township man charged with manslaughter in the death of his wife, will be resumed May 26 before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

★ ★ ★

Justice Dieterle granted the postponement after Marshall's attorney, Bernard Girard, yesterday asked additional time to argue a point of law.

Marshall's wife Mabel, 44, died April 6, nearly two months after he allegedly shot her following a weekend drinking bout.

Mrs. Fishell testified yesterday that her father had consumed three quarts of wine with her husband's father on the day of the shooting.

At the request of her father, Mrs. Fishell said she told her mother that Marshall was sitting in the bedroom holding a .38 caliber revolver and that he wanted to see her.

She testified she warned her mother "to be careful."

"The next thing I remember is hearing the shot," Mrs. Fishell, of 1841 Point Dr., testified.

Assistant Prosecutor Anthony Renne said Mrs. Marshall died last month as the result of an infection caused by the single .38 caliber bullet entering her stomach.

GOP Interested in Love Life of Tuna, Too

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some years back, Republican congressmen kidded Democratic administrators for investigating the love life of a tuna.

Now Rep. John J. Rooney (D-NY) has discovered an Eisenhower budget request for tuna ecology.

At recent hearings of a House Appropriations subcommittee, Rooney asked if tuna ecology had once been referred to as the study of a tuna's love life. A Fisheries and Wildlife official replied it had.

"I thought surely this new administration would not do such a thing," Rooney said.

Rep. Frank T. Bow (R-Ohio) broke in: "Does this gentleman think his party is the only one interested in love life?"

Nuptials So Exciting, Man, 62, Goofs Name

CHICAGO (UPI) — Nicholas Ribich, 62, of Chicago admitted he made a slight mistake when he applied for a license to marry his wife, Annabelle, 53.

He blurted out the name Nicholas Fischer when the marriage license clerk asked him his name last Nov. 27. Ribich is a native of Yugoslavia and his last name translated into English means "Fisher" or "Fisherman." He sometimes is called Fisher by his fellow workers.

"We were both nervous and excited because we were getting married for the first time," Ribich said yesterday as he filed a court petition to change the name on the marriage license from Fischer to Ribich.

U.S. Manufacturers' Hopes Tumble

Britain Unlikely to OK More Imports

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

LONDON (AP)—American hopes of widening the market here for its consumer goods seem likely today to be deferred again.

The strength of the pound sterling and the swelling of British gold reserves well above the danger point gave U.S. manufacturers cause to hope.

But top officials at both the British Treasury and the Board of Trade say the time isn't ripe yet. Their view: confidence in the pound had been restored, but until reserves are built even higher caution will be the British rule.

The British government holds that the balance of trade with the United States under existing curbs on many consumer goods is still too precarious to risk further liberalization now. But they insist that is their next goal now that currency convertibility is being achieved. And, of course, they add that the day would be hastened if the United States would buy still more British goods.

★ ★ ★

Also a Treasury top man says the British consumer is unpredictable. The British woman's already high interest in American styles might lead to a rush of buying if given free rein. Or British youths might take a flash yen for American style suits—even a sudden fad for some popular singers could bring in so many American phonograph records that it could mean a drain of a sort on the balance of trade with the dollar area.

★ ★ ★

American officials here suspect there may be other reasons for the British dragging their feet on relaxing curbs on American goods.

The Americans had high hopes that the strong revival of British industry and its growing financial stability would lead off an expansion of the British token import plan. This now allows a trickle of consumer goods into the country—to an annual maximum of five million dollars a year.

Then came a series of incidents in the United States that aroused resentment here. The British stiffened their attitude.

★ ★ ★

The American moves included: granting contracts for heavy electrical equipment to U.S. firms, although British producers made lower bids; U.S. curbs on oil imports hurting both British producers and U.S. oil companies with overseas fields; and wool fabric duties by which the United States greatly increases the tariff after a certain amount has been admitted each year. British mills say this hurts them most because they can't tell when the duty will rise and can't plan output ahead on their high style fabrics.

★ ★ ★

The Board of Trade official says that further relaxation of imports from the dollar area is coming, but it will be on capital goods — machinery and the like — and not on consumer items.

★ ★ ★

Electric refrigerators and parts can be imported to a total of $215,740 worth a year but subject to a duty of 15 per cent. Washing machines pay the same duty and the total value allowed is $134,475 a year. Vacuum cleaners can come in up to $188,350 worth.

It's scarcely worth trying to build up a market — especially since the import quota would have to be divided among many competing American firms.

In the fashion field, Americans could ship $56,195 worth of women's dresses other than silk, $25,240 worth of full fashioned stockings, and $1,500 worth of corsets, girdles and brassieres. Duties range up to 33 per cent. Duties on men's garments have the same maximum.

★ ★ ★

Phonograph records, which seem to worry the Treasury a bit, pay a duty of 15 per cent if music, and 10 per cent if just a speech.

Autos—a story in themselves—pay 30 per cent duty and 658 cars a year can come in.

Nightclub Boss Attaches Salary of Judy Garland

NEW YORK (UPI) — A warrant to attach Judy Garland's salary for her seven-night charity stand at the Metropolitan Opera House was issued late yesterday to Brooklyn nightclub operator Ben Maksik, who has a $150,000 breach of contract suit pending against the singer.

★ ★ ★

Neither Miss Garland nor her husband and producer Sid Luft was available for comment.

Maksik, operator of the Town and Country Club, has charged Miss Garland with improperly breaking off an engagement there.

★ ★ ★

He said the attachment relates only to Miss Garland's salary and not to the funds being taken in for the Children's Asthma Research Institute and Hospital at Denver, which her performances benefit.

Exiled Cardinal Returning to U.S.

BONN, Germany (UPI)—Thomas Cardinal Tien, exiled Roman Catholic primate of China who was injured in a highway accident nine months ago, will fly to the United States at the end of June, it was announced last night.

The 69-year-old prelate, who came to Germany to stimulate interest in the plight of Catholicism in Communist China, has been hospitalized in nearby Sieburg since the accident here last August. Doctors said his health has improved sufficiently to allow him to return to the United States where he took up residence after he was ordered to leave China by the Communists.

Montgomery Remarks Hit Below the Belt

Field Marshal BERNARD L. MONTGOMERY in his tirade against American leadership is acting like an irresponsible little boy. When he remarked that our leaders are "people who are not very well," and then added that this is "no good," he was hitting below the belt.

★ ★ ★

The war-time general said that American leadership could be characterized by "lack of decision at top level." He was pitching shots at President Eisenhower, John Foster Dulles and Secretary of State Christian Herter.

★ ★ ★

He also made the point that Britain had come forward to supply the "consistency" needed by the Western Alliance. Further he stated that IKE did not understand the Normandy battle plan.

We would like to remind this old general that there probably would not have been a Normandy battle plan had it not been for the United States and Eisenhower. If our history is correct, we recall that the United States came to the recue of Great Britain and Montgomery.

What would MONTGOMERY'S war record be without the U.S. and EISENHOWER?

His derogatory remarks just on the eve of the East-West Foreign Ministers' meeting was poorly timed to say the least. These remarks could be a damaging blow to British American unity.

The London Daily Sketch commented: "Monty is dead right when he said that old soldiers should stay out of politics. If only he would take his own advice."

We concur and feel that most Britons do too.

MONTGOMERY'S apology is reluctantly accepted since he should have known better.

Rockefeller's Intentions Aren't for Publication

Eastern publishers and especially those in New York State, feel that the ultimate Republican ticket will be NIXON and ROCKEFELLER.

★ ★ ★

Word has gone around that Rockefeller will disclaim any interest in the vice presidency if he be approached right now and pressed for a categorical "yes" or "no." And yet the feeling persists that when the time comes, and he finds Nixon is the definite choice and he faces the second slot or nothing, that he will acquiesce.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps it's just human nature for Mr. ROCKEFELLER to dodge a commitment while he privately entertains secret aspirations for the Presidential nod itself. Nor did this idea originate with him.

Newspapers have suggested it.
And so have enthusiastic friends.

★ ★ ★

But a consensus of the nation right now places Nixon far out in front. Many front runners are beaten and especially front runners in political races. But Nixon seems to have the capacity to take the lead when the barrier is sprung and then make every post a winning one.

★ ★ ★

In fact, his chief rival, ADLAI STEVENSON, is carefully avoiding the leading spot. You couldn't blast ADLAI into a front position just now with TNT. He knows his best chances are for the rest of the field to run itself into oblivion and then "just happen to be available" at the proper moment. And he has many staunch supporters in his own right. Lots and lots of water has to run under innumerable bridges between now and the two great conventions, but the early morning line looks like:

Stevenson-Kennedy
Nixon and Rockefeller

SOME people are always trying to shift responsibility for their actions. Many a person prays, "Lead us not into temptation," and when he yields to some temptation, he tells himself it wasn't his fault—it was due to his prayer being unanswered.

WHEN a person overhears some one laugh heartily these days he doesn't wonder what amused him—he wonders if he isn't losing his marbles.

Things to Comb Out of His Beard

There's Another Key Geneva Parley

GENEVA—More important than the four-power conference is another international proceeding which has been going on here for six months and which concerns far more directly the future peace of the world. It's the long-drawn-out but fateful conference between the Soviet Union and the West over the question of whether the testing of nuclear weapons shall be permanently prohibited by a treaty signed by all nations.

LAWRENCE

On its face this means merely stopping the tests, but actually it means more—subsequent pressure to ban the use of nuclear weapons altogether in time of war.

★ ★ ★

The sessions on nuclear tests are in recess till June 8 because it is impracticable for two conferences to be going on simultaneously, as the foreign ministers cannot possibly give attention to both subjects at the same time.

But before the recess was agreed upon, the Russians were moving eagerly and with surprising speed toward agreement on as many articles of the proposed treaty as possible. The articles remaining, of course, are the big ones and will receive the most careful scrutiny later on, with the chances of an agreement within many months being anybody's guess.

Back of all this, however, is one big and all-pervasive question. Why do the Soviets want an agreement at all? Are they merely exhibiting that humaneness of spirit which has been so conspicuously absent in their attitude toward other international problems? Are they worried about the possible acquisition of new weapons by Red China and other nations?

If the Soviets already have more missiles than the West and are scientifically "ahead of us," as the anti-administration politicians in the United States so often declare, then why do the Russians think we would ever agree to stop testing to get better ones? Also, what is the real truth about nuclear tests—are they as damaging as has been claimed?

The most reliable information available here is baffling, for the expert scientists on the Allied side do not agree. You can find some who say that any "fallout" is dangerous today, others who say it may be dangerous 10 or 100 years from now, and still others who say there is far more danger from natural radioactivity that has nothing to do with nuclear tests.

★ ★ ★

But granting that tests are mildly injurious—and the Soviets have been responsible for initiating the worldwide alarm about tests, aided and abetted by some Communist stooges in the scientific field in nearly every country—the question remains as to what the Soviets hope to gain by the proposed ban.

The real answer probably is that the Soviets feel they have enough weapons now to devastate any enemy country, and they are well aware that the United States has three times more than would be necessary to destroy all of the Soviet Union. It becomes urgent, therefore, to keep any other nations, especially the irresponsible ones, from getting nuclear weapons.

Can the information be kept secret? There is reason to believe it can be. It is significant that the Soviets do no, send as much nuclear data to their own satellites as the United States don't trust them.

There are, to be sure, many motivating considerations. Thus, the expense of testing is enormous. The British are feeling this already, but the Russians see it as an even bigger burden upon them. If, therefore, there are enough weapons to destroy an enemy, why make any more. That's the Soviet argument, and it looks plausible on its face.

★ ★ ★

But once tests are banned, will the use of the weapons themselves be outlawed? If so, the Soviet Union can dominate Europe with its "conventional" forces, and, if the propaganda to compel the withdrawal of large bodies of NATO troops from the continent of Europe and to bring about the abandonment of military bases for American forces is successful, then the Kremlin will have achieved, in effect, a military victory without firing a shot.

The Country Parson

"If just by talking about problems we solved them — some of us would already have solved our neighbor's troubles."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Telling Patient or Relative of Cancer Is Doctor's Duty

It may be true, as some critics say, that I lean far backward in the effort to exclude symptoms from this column. But I contend that this is a HEALTH column, where we may properly discuss physiology, hygiene and prophylaxis (prevention) but not pathology, diagnosis or treatment.

DR. BRADY

In many instances it is difficult to decide whether to give advice or remain silent. For instance:

"I went to our doctor" (writes the mother of a family) "at the first sign of discharge which began several years after the menopause. This was a year ago.

"The doctor laughed at me and said not to worry. I had just worked too hard, but it would be all right in a short time. He told my husband to take me to a movie occasionally or out to dinner once or twice a week . . .

★ ★ ★

"When I went back to the doctor he said the same thing and assured me it would stop. After three months it did, and I began to feel a little better, although not as well as I should, and the doctor said this was because I was getting older.

FIND CANCER

"Months passed and still I did not feel at all well. Then I read in your column about changing doctors.

"So I did, and to my grief found that I have fibroid tumor which has become cancerous. I had an immediate operation, but it was too late, as the cancer had spread so far . . ."

The correspondent does not say whether the doctor examined her when she first complained of the discharge. She does not criticise the doctor.

If the doctor examined the patient properly it is perhaps possible that he knew from the first what the condition was—and maybe told the patient's husband what it was.

In any such case it is best, I think, to leave it to the judgment of the physician and a responsible member of the family whether to tell the patient the truth. That is, unless the patient suspects the trouble is cancer and wants to know the truth.

It is the doctor's duty to tell the patient or the patient's nearest relative that he believes the trouble is cancer. As a general rule the patient past middle age can and should take it. For the younger patient, leave it to God.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Spinster, Don't Be Literary Snob

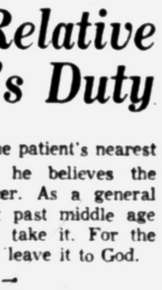

Girls, nota bene; Don't be a literary snob or you may never wear a wedding ring. Jane tried to rate her boy friend on the basis of his handwriting, and may have lost a wonderful husband in the process. Men are notoriously poor letter-writers. And some of our foreemost executives write a scrawl you can't decipher.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B-433: Jane B., aged 32, is a very efficient medical secretary.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, I want to join your Scientific Marriage Foundation," she wrote a few months ago, so I sent her an Application Form.

DR. CRANE

She seemed like a very charming woman, with four years of college. And her photograph showed her to be very attractive.

Moreover, her references were very good and our clergyman Field Counsellor also gave her a very good endorsement after his personal interview.

So we introduced her to an engineering graduate whose Application showed similar religion, racial background, hobbies, etc.

★ ★ ★

But Jane refused to answer the first letter he sent to her!

"Dr. Crane, his spelling was bad. Why, I found four misspelled words on the first page!

"And his handwriting was so poor I could hardly read it. So I didn't even answer his letter.

"Will you PLEASE introduce me to somebody who can spell and use correct grammar!"

Well, we did put Jane in contact with an English teacher in high school, but I should like to cite Jane's case as a warning to all unmarried women.

★ ★ ★

Some of our most successful executives and professional men write very badly. They can't spell. Their grammar isn't too good.

A lot of college men graduate with honors in science when they barely got a "C" grade in English composition.

★ ★ ★

Don't get so prudish about grammar that you girls turn down a chance to meet a very attractive man!

They use a false standard of values. They derive the notion that a man's handwriting is a true barometer of his personality.

That's not true. In various psychology laboratories, we have found little correlation between handwriting and personality traits.

★ ★ ★

A slovenly writer, for example, may be a very careful and exact scientist or engineer, chemist or bookkeeper.

And a very neat, exact script may come from the pen of a man who throws wet towels on the bathroom floor, leaves his wet razor on the wash basin, and never thinks to have the oil changed in his auto.

As a warning to women in general and especially to the thousands who have joined our non-profit Scientific Marriage Foundation, may I urge you to PLEASE carry on enough correspondence to learn the true assets of the men you are assigned as pen pals, and then date that man long enough to find out his real personality.

★ ★ ★

Don't jump to such snap judgments. A lot of you meticulous office secretaries have absorbed a post-graduate education from the talented doctors or business executives from whom you take dictation.

You have superior literary knowledge and possibly a vast fund of technical information. But don't flaunt it, if you want a husband!

Then she applies the "Compliment Club" technique till he can't live without her, so he hastens to the jeweler's for an engagement ring!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Tells Effectiveness of Safety Check Program

In answer to "Think It Over" regarding the effectiveness of the Safety Check Program conducted in Pontiac: As a representative of the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee, I would like to take this opportunity to clarify a few points.

You made a point when you state that many vehicles that should be inspected will not go through the voluntary lanes. However, one out of five of the "safe" vehicles that do go through the lanes will not pass!

Some benefits are: One. A program of this type helps develop citizen support for highway safety legislation such as a periodic inspection law.

Two. Since the driver must participate in the check program to the extent of running his vehicle through the lane and possibly having items repaired, it makes an impression upon him and we feel it makes him much more safety minded.

Three. The publicity that a program of this type receives also reaches many people.

Four. The Safety Check in Michigan last year uncovered 2,400 vehicles with unsafe brakes.

You can rest assured that the entire State is being well covered by this program and that it is a very worthwile contribution to highway safety. The Chamber of Commerce, Pontiac Police Department, Automotive Dealers, schools and the many others who make this possible should be commended.

Working Wives Are Hired by Men

Attention: Mr. P. O. Clerk:

When our three little boys are through college and General Motors guarantees 52, 40 hour working weeks (election year or otherwise)—

When they discover a sure-fire cure for the common cold and I can charge it to Blue Cross—

Then I shall be very happy to give my job to your male friend, but meantime, please bear in mind — we working wives didn't hire ourselves. It was a man!

GOP Leaders Hail Bright Job Picture

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional Republican leaders hail improvement in the unemployment situation as "solid progress" toward complete recovery from the recession.

They said it also would be a strong factor in the administration's drive for a balanced budget.

GOP leaders from Congress discussed April job figures with President Eisenhower at their weekly White House review of legislative matters.

The labor and commerce departments report that from March to April employment went up 1,184,000 and unemployment dropped 735,000. The total of 3,627,000 unemployed was the lowest since December 1957.

Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen and House leader Charles A. Halleck drew these conclusions from the report:

—Pending proposals in Congress involving "reckless spending" will lose their steam.

—The forecast of Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell—that in October employment will be up to 67,000,000 and the number of jobless down to 2,800,000—will be borne out.

Is Tax on Bottle Deposit Legal?

One day last week, I bought a few items at one of our neighborhood groceries. One of the items was two cartons of pop. When the cashier handed me my receipt, I noticed he had charged sales tax on the deposit of the bottles.

I asked the owner of the store if he always charged tax on pop bottle deposits and he said he did. If he didn't, it would just be another item at the bottom of the receipt. A poor excuse, it seems to me, to charge tax on.

Since then I have noticed some stores charge tax and some don't. I know when you return 24 cents worth of bottles they don't give you 24 cents plus one cent tax back. I know I have never been charged sales tax on deposits made when buying auto parts and the used ones returned.

I feel, there are several people that don't realize this tax is being added onto bottle deposits.

If this tax is illegal, the merchants should be notified by our revenue department. This is meant to be constructive criticism only.

U.S. Organizing State Department Staff to Handle African Affairs

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Getting the U.S. State Department organized for a greater interest in African affairs has now been under way about six months.

Last August Congress authorized a new assistant secretary of state for African affairs. The job was given to Joseph C. Sattherthwaite, a 59-year-old career foreign service officer with 33 years experience in Latin America, the Middle East and South Asia.

His African experience consists principally of a hitch as consul general in Tangiers. But he has put in six years in the State Department's old office of Near East and African Affairs, as deputy director and head of research. So he has a broad knowledge of the Dark Continent. And today he described his job with the simple statement that "everything in Africa is happening at once."

Building up a staff of American experts on Africa to handle its explosive situations is a major function of his new division. Number of foreign service officers with African experience is limited. But they form the nucleus for a bigger organization. It now has 74 people in Washington, 406 in the field, plus 432 on foreign aid projects—912 in all.

Today the U.S. has embassies in seven African countries — Ethiopia, Ghana, Liberia, Libya, Morocco, Tunisia and Union of South Africa. There are in addition 11 consulates general, 14 consulates and one branch office in 21 out of nearly 50 nations, territories and colonies.

'These counts exclude U.S. embassies and diplomatic posts in Egypt and Sudan, which are still regarded as parts of the Near East, and Algiers which is regarded as French territory.

This admittedly isn't much representation for a continent almost four times the size of the U.S., with about 225 million people. About five million are of European extraction. The Africans are 85 to 90 per cent illiterate and per capita income runs from $30 to $200 a year.

★ ★ ★

The situation in each country is different and American policy for each country has to be tailored to fit.

It is therefore ridiculous to try to lump Africa statistically. But its main cultures have been estimated as 32 million Christian, 86 million Moslem, 75 million primitive, one million Hindu, Jew and minor sect, 31 million with only tribal affiliations at best.

★ ★ ★

Politically, Africa's 50 national boundary lines are not drawn on ethnic nor even geographic lines. If any one prediction about Africa's future is safe, it is that the map is going to change drastically in coming years. Just how, no one can say.

5 NEW NATIONS

Since World War II, five new, independent African nations have been established — Morocco, Tunisia, Libya, Ghana and Guinea. In 1960 four more new nations will come into being—Somalia, Nigeria, Cameroon and Togo.

But the movement toward confederation in Africa is strong today, and many countries will be loosely united. Ghana and Guinea are in the process of federating. Tunisia, Morocco and the Algerian revolutionary government have discussed forming a Greater Maghreb. Kenya, Uganda, Zanzibar, Nyassaland and Tanganyika have discussed an East African regional association. Others are in the making.

★ ★ ★

All this makes difficult the determination of any unified U. S. policy toward all Africa. But in general terms it can be stated that the American government, founded on a basic belief in independence, is sympathetic to self-determination for Africans. But the American approach is to encourage these ends by peaceful means, not through revolt.

★ ★ ★

In this attitude, the U.S. runs smack against opposition from its British, Belgians, French and Portuguese who for some hundreds of years have had colonies in Africa and don't want to let them go. This is the most difficult problem which the expanding U.S. interest in Africa will have to deal with at the diplomatic level in the years ahead.

Next: American vs. Communist interests in Africa.

Detroiters Sad at King's Visit

Only a Few Belgians Will See Monarch Due to His Tight Schedule

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's colony of 40,000 Belgians was unhappy today. Tomorrow King Baudouin I arrives in Detroit and only a handful will get to greet him.

The Detroit Belgians protested the short time the King is scheduled to spend with his own people to the Belgian ambassador in Washington and the United States State Department. The protests were to no avail.

Baudouin will follow a speeded-up itinerary in which he'll tour industrial plants, and dine with manufacturers and civic leaders during his two-day visit.

Only an hour has been set aside for the King to visit with Detroiters of Belgian extraction. He will meet with about 50 leaders of Belgian groups tomorrow at a reception in a downtown hotel. Detroit's Belgian community is one of the largest in the U.S.

Adolph DeLue, president of the United Belgian American Societies of Detroit, said replies were received from the Belgian embassy in Washington and the State Department.

"Due to the heavy program for the King and the large size of the Belgian community in Detroit, it will be impossible for him to receive as many people as desired," said the reply from Wiley T. Buchanan Jr., chief protocol officer of the department.

DeLue said he does not blame the king for the arrangements.

"We wanted to have a big meeting in our Belgian hall so the King could come out there and speak to a large group of his people," DeLue said.

"We have a wonderful Belgian band and they wanted to play at least one number for the King.

"If the King could not come to our hall, we would have held our meeting in some downtown building. We would have done anything if he could have met with a big group of our people and said a few words.

"There are among us some men who fought in World War I with King Albert, grandfather of the present King. They wanted to meet him."

Fear of Hospital Cuts No Ice With the Judge

WESTFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A Springfield man offered a phobia about being hospitalized as an alibi in a District Court automobile case Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Lloyd Casey, 48, told the court: "I was dazed and heard someone say they were going to put me in a hospital. I just left."

★ ★ ★

Judge Andrew Anderson fined Casey $35 for operating to endanger and gave him a three-month suspended sentence for leaving the scene of an accident.

Italian Actress Sued Over Auto Collision

SAGINAW (AP) — Allen L. Gerow, 51, of Clare suffered chest injuries Tuesday when a crane cable snapped on a construction job near here as he was unloading cement from the crane bucket. The crane boom knocked Gerow into a 12-foot excavation.

Union Leader Fined in Attack on Cameraman

★ ★ ★

Judge Harry Steiner imposed the fine Tuesday and commented "Some people take offense to having their pictures taken, but this is no reason for laying a hand on a photographer."

Roll tried to take a picture of J. F. Cambriano, another Carpenters Union official, as the latter arrived at Honolulu Airport April 14.

Airliner Has Close Shave With AF Jet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An Air Force jet streaked within 50 feet of an airliner with 52 aboard Tuesday, the passenger craft's crew reported.

"It looked like a barn—didn't miss us by more than 45 or 50 feet," said Dale Shimon, copilot of the American Airlines plane. He said the near miss occurred at 16,500 feet 50 miles west of Bakersfield, Calif.

"These incidents happen all the time," Shimon added.

Capt. Ralph McPhee, pilot of the airliner, said the jet fighter, either an F86 or F100, passed directly in front of his plane. He said he had no time for evasive action but immediately radioed a report of the incident to air traffic control authorities.

The passenger plane was en route from Houston, Tex., to San Francisco.

Hospital Strike Moves to Court

New York Institutions Ask for Injunctions as Negotiations Fail

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations aimed at ending a six-day-old strike of nonprofessional workers at six hospitals have broken down. The next move is apparently up to the courts.

Five of the six hospitals go to court today to seek temporary injunctions against the strike. The sixth hospital has already been granted an injunction.

★ ★ ★

The striking union has been given loans and gifts of $54,000 by other unions who support the strike.

A boycott of hospital deliveries ordered by a laundry truck drivers union has apparently caused the hospitals little difficulty so far.

★ ★ ★

Some of the hospitals have their own laundries, now manned by volunteers to replace striking workers. Others say they have plenty of linen on hand and can borrow from other hospitals.

Talks reached a stalemate Tuesday night. No date for new talks was set.

Local 1199 of the Retail Drug Employes Union called the strike in a move to obtain recognition. The hospitals refuse to recognize the union as bargaining agent for some 3,500 nonprofessional workers. The six hospitals have about 2,700 patients.

Telegram Stirs Senate Stew

GOP Leader Regrets Implication of Message From MMA Lobbyist

LANSING (UPI) — The Senate was in a stew today about a telegram that praised Republicans for putting Gov. G. Mennen Williams over a barrel.

"On behalf of the Republican caucus I want to state that we deeply resent the implications in the telegram—it is a distortion of the Senate position," said Senate majority Leader Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair).

The telegram was sent to all 22 GOP Senators by Joseph Creighton, lobbyist for the Michigan Manufacturers' Association, and MMA Manager John C. McCurry.

"You have him (Williams) over the barrel for the first time in 10 years," the telegram said, referring to the struggle over taxes. "Keep him there till he screams 'UNCLE.' God bless each of you."

Williams said the telegram "makes clear the motive of certain elements who have been working day and night to prevent a solution of this cash crisis. The motive is simply to 'keep the governor over the barrel.'"

★ ★ ★

Sen. Paul C. Younger (R-Lansing) said he thought the telegram was a proper expression made by free men in a free country."

Sens. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) and John H. Stahlin (R-Belding) both said they resented the telegram.

"Thank God we are not members of the association," Stahlin, a Belding industrialist said.

There Are No Magic Cures

Cancer Quacks Can Kill

The Food and Drug Administration, American Medical Association and American Cancer Society have teamed up to educate the public against cancer quacks. Here's the first of a three-part report on those quacks and their profession — "the cure that kills.")

By HELENA FROST
American Cancer Society

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The charge is murder. Or manslaughter.

It depends on whether the cancer quack is a charlatan who preys on the credulous, the ignorant, the fearful and the suffering. Or whether he is an egomaniac who actually believes in his "cure" that kills.

Cancer diagnosed and properly treated before it colonizes in other parts of the body can be cured. Proper treatment means surgery or radiation, for they are still the only methods of saving life from cancer.

Chemotherapy has made great strides: Drugs are now used to prolong life and lull suffering.

* * *

No mechanical gadget can cure cancer.

Yet quackery continues to tell the Big Lie.

* * *

The "cure" may be nothing more than a distilled water injection; or a pill composed of a laxative and herbs; or a gadget that radiates "attuned color waives;" or a grape diet or "coffee enema."

All harmless? Yes, "cures" of this type are harmless in content, or lack of it. Yet they kill patients with early cancer; plunder and torture those with advanced disease; and impoverish those who haven't cancer at all.

Obviously the quack doesn't believe minds fearful of nonexistent disease; or he wouldn't if he could. For just as obviously, the quack isn't trained not to find cancer, or to find it.

And compassion for groundless fear, for terminal suffering, or for imperiled life, cannot be expected of "the meanest man in the world."

That is how George P. Larrick describes the quack. As Commissioner of Food and Drugs of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Larrick has intimate knowledge of what he calls "the world's second oldest profession."

* * *

Dr. Albert H. Holland Jr., former medical director of the FDA describes cancer quackery as a major crime and urges "vigorous warfare" against it.

"There's a strange contrast in the way society reacts to crimes like larceny, kidnapping and murder," Dr. Holland said, "and its comparative indifference to cancer quackery. Perhaps it's because the quack commits no act of violence. Yet his crime has all the aspects of larceny, kidnapping and murder.

NAME YOUR POISON — This intricate device, demonstrated by an American Cancer Society representative, promised to diagnose cancer and all manner of other ailments by means of a "squeak" from the machine. Machine's promoter was put on probation when it was discovered he himself couldn't tell he was too ill to survive a prison term.

"He takes money he has no right to, under false pretenses — which is larceny.

"He 'treats' a periously sick child and promises to return it in good health — for a ransom.

"He 'treats' early cancer and delays surgery or radiation until it is too late. An that is manslaughter, if not murder."

* * *

The Federal government doesn't deal with murder, in fact with no crimes of violence except kidnapping. But the FDA can prosecute any infringement of interstate commerce with foods, drugs and mechanical devices that are worthless for their labeled or advertised purposes. And the Post Office Department can prosecute when the mails are fraudulently used to sell quack treatments and gadgets, to solicit patients or to advertise "cures."

Both agencies are doing a maximum job within their jurisdiction. But in between are vast areas of medical quack activity which can only be curbed by integrated programs of federal and state control.

Cancer quack activities alone are milking the American people of at least $50,000,000 annually, according to Dr. H. A. Press, who explores "new and unproved methods of treatment at the American Cancer Society.

"That is probably the minimum figure," said Dr. Press. "The number of known cancer quacks is reckoned at a conservative 4,000. When we consider that just one of these has taken an estimated million a year from its victims, the total take of this terrible racket can be astronomical."

* * *

"We need a coordinated program of federal, state and local control," said Commissioner Larrick. "And to achieve such a program we need an aware public. So our best weapon against quackery is education.

"And I mean the education of the educated."

For the Big Liars are up-to-the-minute in terminology. They fasten on the trends of the century and produce science fictions that ring plausibly in the ears of those who panic at the fact of cancer, or even the thought of it; who are deaf to the truth, even now, when the truth about cancer begins to have the clarion note of hope.

The Big Liars are up-to-the-minute in promotion, too.

They are organized. They hold meetings under the guise of scientific lectures. They use high-priced specialists in mass psychology. They use all media, radio, television, circulars and paid articles in religious publications and other periodicals, to condemn "the medical trust for suppressing the development of life-giving discoveries."

And Commissioner Larrick says: "In my opinion many vendors of cancer treatments who really believe in their remedies, and who have scientific training, are the most dangerous to the public. Their sincerity is most convincing to the sufferer who wants so badly to believe that he has found an easy cure."

(Next: It takes two to make a swindle.)

Construction Safety Bill Goes to Senate

LANSING (AP) — The Senate today took over a bill which would permit construction employes to go to court to halt work on projects they considered excessively hazardous.

* * *

The measure squeezed through the House yesterday, 56-44, collecting a minimum number of votes needed for passage. It would allow construction workers to seek court injunctions stopping work on projects where they felt the lives of employes were in danger.

A similar measure cleared the House last year and died in the Senate.

Also approved was an amendment to the state drain code which would give counties and county drain commissioners more leeway in arranging construction of a sewage system to serve more than one township or other political subdivision.

* * *

To Build New School on Mackinac Island

MACKINAC ISLAND Mich. (AP)—Mackinac Island is going to have its first new public school since 1812.

* * *

The present six-room frame school was built by the British government near old Ft. Mackinac.

Following the war of 1812 the school was given the island by a special act of Congress.

* * *

The new school will be built near the Grand Hotel for the island's 1500 elementary pupils. Students of high school age will continue to attend St. Ignace high on the upper Michigan mainland.

'Queen City of the North'

Marquette Upper Michigan 'Capital'

(This is the 17th in a series of articles in Michigan's industrial and cultural achievements written by Michigan newsmen as an introduction to Michigan Week 17-23.)

By ROBERT L. BIOLO
City Editor
Marquette Mining Journal

MARQUETTE — Marquette, which lays claim to being Upper Michigan's "capital," is the region's largest city and the county seat of what, in area, is the Midwest's biggest county.

Marquette County, 1,870 square miles, is larger than Rhode Island.

Although second in popluation to Sault Ste. Marie, by a shade, in 1950's census, the city of Marquette's current population is estimated at 20,000, or 3,000 more than 1950's figure.

A picturesque community, with two docks, famous Presque Isle park, a small boat harbor, scenic Sugar Loaf Mountain and widely diversified industries, Marquette calls itself the 'Queen City of the North.'

With a tradition older than Michigan itself and a historic background which made it the setting for a colorful blend of Indian and nationality folklore, Marquette today stands as Upper Michigan's richest, most urbanized and fastest growing community.

Industrial development began here in 1849, when rich iron ore deposits were discovered in nearby Ishpeming and Negaunee, and the city became the Lake Superior shipping site for ore from the Marquette range. Marquette envisions an even brisker shipping industry with the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Marquette remained prosperous through the years and generally has had low unemployment, attributed to its industrial diversification. Its largest industry, the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railroad, employs 450, while 25 other firms employ a total of 1,500. The city has six sawmills within its area, and Cliffs Dow Chemical Co. here is the world's largest producer of charcoal briquettes.

Marquette County is the most heavily forested of the state's 83 counties, and more than 95 per cent of the country's 1,125,000 acres are covered with forest.

Most of the Upper Peninsula's state and federal offices are located here, including those of the State Police, State Conservation Department, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, Michigan Children's Aid Society, Bureau of Social Services and Boy Scouts. The city is the seat of the Marquette Catholic Diocese and the district headquarters of the Methodist Church.

Marquette is also the medical center of the Upper Peninsula, with St. Luke's Hospital having a bed capacity of 185, St. Mary's 80 and Morgan Heights Sanatorium 100. All are modern structures, either remodeled or with new additions.

Culturally, Marquette sets the region's pace, with Northern Michigan College bring to the community a rich variety of concerts, widely known speakers and other events. Northern, in its second half-century of existence, is expanding rapidly, due primarily to the leadership of Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president since July 1956.

Its staff numbers 204 and its faculty 124. Enrollment shot up from 562 seven years ago to over 1,800 this year, and the current figure is expected to double by 1970. Plant expansion kept pace with growth and the campus has doubled in size in the last three years. Twelve married student apartment buildings, a two million dollar fieldhouse and two student residence halls are among the buildings erected in the past five years.

Biggest impact on the community recently has been the construction of the mammoth K. I. Sawyer Air Base, 16 miles south of the city. Real estate value of Sawyer, on which construction began in 1956, is over 37 million dollars. About 31 million more is programed for the next three years. When the base becomes operational, in two years, the 4,000 military men assigned to it will draw a monthly payroll of $1,500,000, and the 234 civilian employes will receive $78,000 monthly.

Sawyer has three commands. Col. Philip N. Loring heads the host ADC (Air Defense Command), which includes the 473rd Fighter Group that will fly supersonic F102s. Other commands: SAC (Strategic Air Command), currently headed by Lt. Col. Russell Cheever, and SAGE (Semi-Automatic Ground Environment) air detection system, commanded by Col. Leon H. Berger. The SAGE building, nearing completion, will contain equipment valued at 60 million dollars and is the 17th of 26 SAGE units in the U.S. under construction.

Marquette is the communications center of the UP, due largely to Frank J. Russell, who operates WDMJ-TV, publishes the Marquette Mining Journal, Iron Mountain News and Escanaba Press, and owns three radio stations. His faith in the region led to construction of the CBS television outlet here.

Warden Raymond J. Buchkoe, a 25-year career man in corrections work, keeps a tight rein on the Marquette state prison, dubbed "Michigan's Little Alcatraz" because the state's most dangerous criminals are sent there. The prison has 1,450 inmates, including 800 behind the walls (others are trusties).

The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, a gigantic regional organization, combining a chamber of commerce and tourist council promoting the industrial and tourist development of the area, has been headquartered here since its inception 30 years ago.

Marquette residents say the city moves forward cautiously, but steadily. The nearness of Lake Superior, the world's largest body of fresh water—which is so vital to industry today—its location and its picturesque northland beauty are counted among the city's principal allies.

Tourists Drop $7 Million in Miami in 1958

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Miami socked away more than one billion dollars from seven million tourists in 1958, the State Development Commission reports. The figures were said to be a 13 per cent decrease from the previous year.

Reports, compiled by questioning tourists at the state's entry and exit points, said the heaviest criticism was leveled at Florida's roads and scenery-hiding road signs.

More visitors, 12 per cent of the total, came from New York State.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Circuit Court judge has ordered the city of Miami to refund more than a million dollars to traffic violators.

Judge Robert H. Anderson said Monday violators were illegally fined since metropolitan government took over in Dade County with its 26 municipalities March 1, 1958.

He ordered an immediate shutdown of Miami's traffic courts and labeled all Miami traffic convictions null and void since March 1958.

City attorneys said they will appeal the decision. Miami courts will continue to try and fine violators until the Florida Supreme Court rules, they said.

The Circuit Court order stemmed from attempts by two traffic violators to get back $65 they paid in fines.

The Scandinavian Hospital at Seoul is nearly completed. It will have 460 beds and is to be staffed by 90 Scandinavian doctors and nurses, aided by 200 to 250 Koreans. The hospital, a gift of the Scandinavian people, is for the training of native surgeons, physicians, and nurses.

ONLY NEWSPAPERS SELL CARS FROM ASSEMBLY TO AUTO BUYER!

NATIONAL AUTOMOTIVE ADVERTISERS use the daily newspaper to pre-sell their product for the dealer, telling their story to as many people as they can possibly reach. And, by using newspapers, they can reach over 100,000,000 people at any time they please.

The local car dealer uses the daily newspaper because he knows that there is no better read, better shopped advertising medium than the daily newspaper. Last year local advertisers spent $2½ billion in their favorite medium, the daily newspaper. That's six times as much as they spent in radio and ten times as much as they spent in TV. Whether you're a manufacturer or retailer—no matter what business you're in—you get Total Selling effectiveness only in the daily newspaper. Ice Cream, Cake for Little Girl Who Saved Three WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (AP) —Three boys, between 5 and 6 locked themselves in an automobile trunk near a swimming pool party.

Debbie Wilson, 5, heard their muffled weeping and went to Mrs. Harry Hemstalk, owner of the car and the pool. Debbie had trouble making her understand what was wrong. But her earnestness finally impressed the woman, who rushed to the car and released her son, Kip, Stephen Fredericka and Robert Perona.

The parents then decided on a reward.

1,672,000 Auto Output Planned for 2nd Quarter

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—The nation's auto makers have scheduled 1,672,000 cars for production for the April-June quarter. They built 1,600,359 units in the January-March period.

The significance of the figures is that if they are realized a 12-month output of six million or more cars this year is virtually assured.

Most industry analysts now are agreed this year's over-all sales total will approximate six million units of American-built vehicles. Imports should account for at least 450,000 more unit sales.

Whatever else may be said about the car market right now, it is enjoying a near-boom, spurred by the return of the traditional spring upturn. The last such seasonal upsurge developed in 1955.

Some experts have said that with its almost eight million car assemblies that year, the industry produced itself into a recession. True or not, that total was nearly 1½ million more cars than ever before were produced in a single year. It brought a new sales record of approximately 7¼ million retail deliveries, but the record was made with a lot of forced selling and profitless prosperity for many new car retailers.

PRODUCTION JUSTIFIED

So far as is currently apparent present high level production is justified by retail demand. Authoritative estimates put production in U. S. factories for the first four months of the year at 2,150,000 units and retail deliveries at approximately 1,827,000.

The production and sales figures indicate dealer inventories are continuing to mount. They are estimated at between 870,000 to 900,000 units. Industry authorities note, however, that at the present sales rate they represent a total far from unwieldly.

Ward's Automotive Reports, which described the inventory total as near 900,000 units, said that was a 46 days supply, down somewhat from previously reported averages.

★ ★ ★

Chevrolet and Ford account for the largest part of the dealer stocks. A Ford source said recently that Chevrolet's dealer inventories were much larger than Ford's, but gave a somewhat indefinite figure. Chevrolet has not talked about inventories.

NEED INVENTORIES

Of course, these two major producers, accounting for about 50 per cent of U. S. car sales, need substantial inventories. And, in the midst of a hot fight for industry production and sales leadership, they are keeping dealer stocks at what they considered good competitive levels.

Both Chevrolet and Ford increased their output last week to give the industry its best production week of the year to date. Built last week were 136,650 cars. The best previous week's total assemblies were 135,976 made in the week ended Jan. 17.

It had been suggested in some quarters that advance publicity concerning the compact car plans of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler might cause some motorists to defer new car purchases until the newer units were introduced. So far there has been no such reaction to talk about smaller cars.

But there have been sharp upturns in deliveries of the smaller American Motors Rambler and Studebaker-Packard Lark models.

Reds Shell Island 1st Time This Year

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Chinese Communists shelled Peikantang Island in the Matsu group Tuesday night for the first time this year.

The 14-minute attack came on an even-numbered day, when the Communist guns on the mainland facing the Quemoys and other Nationalist offshore islands normally are silent. Peikantang is in the northern end of the Formosa Strait 150 miles north of the Quemoys.

Reds Show Contempt for Ministers' Meeting With Picayunish Delays

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets — with help from the West, which let itself get tangled in childlike tabletalk — are turning the foreign ministers meeting into the kind of spectacle predicted by Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The ministers, he said, would get bogged in details. He wanted first a summit meeting of the "heavyweights." After they had reached agreements, he said, the ministers could get together to stew over the details.

Khrushchev finally consented to a Big Four foreign ministers conference — United States, Soviet Union, Britain, France — because the West insisted. The meeting was to open Monday. So what happened?

Before the ministers could even hold the session, they got snarled in an argument — over the kind of table to use — which for all practical and realistic purposes was strictly kid stuff.

It hardly added, in the eyes of the world, to the dignity and seriousness of the meeting.

★ ★ ★

The West, allied with West Germany, refuses to recognize the legitimacy of the East German Communist government, which is a Soviet satellite. But the U.S.S.R. wants exactly this kind of Western recognition for the East Germans.

MUSICAL CHAIRS

So the Soviets insisted the Big Four start their meeting at a round table. They hoped somehow they could then get the West to let East Germany take full part in the conference, and by moving a few chairs there'd be room at a round table.

But the West insisted on a square table because, with each of the Big Four occupying one side, there would be no room, theoretically, for the East Germans. Actually, the kind of table made no difference.

There would be room at any kind of table for the East Germans if the West agreed to let them sit in; there would be no room for them at any kind of table if the West didn't.

While all this was being hashed over, the Soviets, Andrei Gromyko got the conference further confused. He demanded both West and East Germany be allowed to take part in the Big Four conference as full participants.

This is exactly what the West didn't want — for East Germany, that is — for fear that Western permission for East Germany to sit in as a full participant might be interpreted as Western recognition for East Germany.

To avoid such an interpretation, the West had been willing for the two Germanys to sit in the conference room but with the understanding they would be merely consultants who couldn't speak unless asked a question.

A compromise was worked out. The two Germanys couldn't be full participants, but instead of having to wait to speak until spoken to, both could ask permission to be heard on any subject.

So the first brief meeting of the Big Four was held and finished.

Then Gromyko messed things up for the second meeting. This time he demanded that the Soviet satellites, Poland and Czechoslovakia be allowed to take part as full participants.

The West objected. So the second meeting, Tuesday, broke up. It, too, was brief.

None of Gromyko's demands — that the two Germanys, plus Poland and Czechoslovakia take full part in the Big Four conference — should have caused any surprise.

Last March, when the Soviet Union agreed to a Big Four meeting, it demanded the full participation for the two Germanys and Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The reason Gromyko was able to snarl up the meeting now with this demand for those countries was that the Big Four foreign ministers hadn't worked out details before they met. They are tangled in the details now.

But the way Gromyko handled all this can be interpreted as a form of Soviet contempt for the whole idea of a foreign ministers meeting.

He could have made all his demands at one time on the first day. Instead, he stretched them out, delaying by that much any effort by the Big Four to get down to the business which brought them to Geneva, the discussion of Germany.

Rugs in Style, but So Is Tile

Anticarpet Senators Can Relax Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here's the latest on the capital's carpet controversy: Nobody will force rugs on senators.

Those who want tile floors in their spiffy new office suites may have tile floors.

This is unofficial, but it should comfort anticarpet senators.

The floors involved in the $150,000 carpet controversy are those in the Senate's shiny new 25-million-dollar office building.

Forty-two senators now occupy quarters there. Each suite consists of five rooms. On the floor of each senator's private office is a pretty green carpet almost a half-inch thick. On the other floors are rubber tiles.

The tiles have brought complaints—from some that they aren't up to standards of senatorial stature and that they provide a slippery surface for secretaries. Carpets are needed, they contend.

On the other side are those who argue that the $150,000 the Senate has voted for carpets would be a waste of the taxpayers' money. So, they contend, would be the further cost of trimming the bottoms from all the doors to let them open over the carpets.

Unnecessary expenditure, objected Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis). He polled his 15 employes and found they were perfectly content with tile.

Entirely uncalled for, said Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill). He tried to persuade the Senate to oppose rugs but was floored by a 55-34 count despite his offer to buy rubber heels for the slipping secretaries.

Don't fret about us, said Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM), whose staff perambulates on tile. "We are satisfied," said he.

On the other side, Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) demanded a carpet for one, a carpet for all. Neuberger retained his billet in the old office building, which is carpeted all the way.

BAD COMBINATION

The prorug senators say they're concerned about the ladies. High heels and tile floors, they insist, were not made for each other.

Proxmire contends the argument is slippery, not the floors.

"I tried it myself and you can't slide," he said.

Proxmire and Douglas have invited the faint of heart to test a nonskid wax which they say will end all qualms.

Philip Roof, executive assistant to the Capitol architect, said the slide is only one problem. It's mostly noise, Roof said.

Ready to Enter Space Race

Britain Plans Launching of Own Earth Satellites

LONDON (AP) — Britain has announced it intends to enter the space age by launching its own earth satellites.

★ ★ ★

Prime Minister Macmillan told the House of Commons yesterday that scientists had been given the go-ahead to develop instruments for an artificial earth satellite.

The rocket that will carry the first one aloft to join the U.S. and Russian satellites has not yet been chosen, Macmillan said.

He expressed hope that a British rocket could do the job. The implication in his statement was that if this was not possible the British may try to borrow a rocket from the Americans.

TO DISCUSS COOPERATION

A team of British experts will travel to Washington shortly to discuss possible U.S.-British cooperation, Macmillan said.

The British decision was welcomed in Washington. The State Department expressed hope there would be many opportunities for the United States to cooperate as the British program develops, "thereby widening the area of international cooperation in the peaceful use of outer space."

British scientists are trying to adapt military rockets, now being developed here, as satellite carriers. The main hope lies in the Bluestreak, a missile being built to cover a range of 2,500 miles.

★ ★ ★

Macmillan said Britain is also opening consultations with countries in the British Commonwealth for collaboration on the project.

Announcing the program, the Prime Minister said: "It is clear that Britain ought to play her part in this advance of scientific effort."

WILL STUDY IDEA

Macmillan said it would be easier to get Soviet collaboration if the U.S.S.R. joined the United Nations space research body. But he agreed to further study the idea.

★ ★ ★

The Prime Minister revealed that British spending on the project is puny compared with U.S. and Russian efforts.

"At the moment we are spending substantial but modest sums more in hundreds of thousands of pounds than in millions for design of the instruments and to make the necessary designs for modification of the military rocket," he said.

The instrument research program is being coordinated by a British National committee under the direction of physicist Harrie Massey. He will lead the mission to Washington.

After Macmillan's statement the professor held a news conference along with Lord Hailsham, the British minister responsible for scientific matters.

Hailsham stressed that the British project would not be in the lunar probe class. Nor are there plans at present for sending up animals in the satellites.

WIDE EXPERIENCE

"What we contemplate is a number of satellites flying around with measuring instruments," Hailsham said.

Massey said British technicians had wide experience in developing the kind of instruments needed for an artificial satellite.

The professor said there was no question of British efforts overlapping American and Russian research.

"There is so much to see and do that no two countries, however great, can hope to cover all these things in a period of 20, 30 or even 40 years," Massey said.

SEE YOUR QUALITY BUICK DEALER...AND

Watch Dale Robertson in Tales of Wells Fargo on NBC-TV Monday Nights
Along with the most talked about style on the road today goes performance new even to owners of previous Buicks . . . and too great for you to miss.
Buick '59 is livelier yet smoother, more powerful yet thriftier, as any previous Buick owner will tell you. And credit goes to the turbine smoothness of Buick transmissions, plus the new responsiveness of Buick "Wildcat" engines.
At the wheel, too, you'll find new handling ease and finned-brake sureness that owners put high on their "most liked" list.
But that's far from all these owners tell us. They talk about new operating economy from the most efficient power plant on the road today. About quality of finish and detail, and of quietness that even beats the best of Buick heretofore. They speak of reliability . . . and they speak of the pure pleasure of owning a Buick '59 . . . in ways that warm the heart.
But the best spokesman for Buick '59—and what it can do for you—is a Buick itself. Why not go to your Buick dealer and get the inside story, today?

Musicale Ends 35th Year

Pontiac Press Photos

The sun was shining when these four members of the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale arrived at Devon Gables for the closing program of the 35th year of the group. Left to right are Vera Bassett, Mrs. R. H. Austin, Mrs. Jack Strait and Mrs. Bertil Benson.

Workshop Revue Sparks Luncheon

By DORA S. DAWSON

The 35th year of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Club closed Tuesday afternoon with a luncheon in the terrace room at Devon Gables, which was filled to capacity. Mrs. W. H. Sink, a past president, gave the invocation.

Mrs. Ralph Norvell, president, held a brief business meeting. Mrs. W. F. Maybury, past president and co-chairman of the recent state convention of musical clubs, gave a short survey of its success and paid tribute to the work of the Pontiac members.

SCHOLARSHIPS ANNOUNCED

Results of auditions for scholarships to Interlochen Music Camp were given by Mrs. H. G. Woolcock, also a past president. The recipients are Martha Kurzweil, Margaret Moreau and Pamela Morris.

★ ★ ★

Special guests were the state president, Michigan Federation of Music Clubs, Mrs. Ralph Curtis; Mrs. Robert Livesay, president of Birmingham Thursday Musicale; Mrs. Isaac Robertson, president of the Past - Presidents Assembly in the State; Mrs. William Hohmeyer, violinist of Birmingham; Mrs. H. S. McFarlane of Bloomfield Hills; and Rhea E. Vietor, women's editor of The Pontiac Press.

Mrs. J. B. Forman, program chairman of the year, introduced Mrs. Dora Dawson, chairman of the day, who spoke of the sincere and applied success of the workshop, which was started 10 years ago by a former president, Mrs. T. E. Wiersema.

As a study group within the Tuesday Musicale, the workshop presented a revue of its work as the entertainment of the afternoon.

The first part of the program featured the beginning of Workshop when five members met in Mrs. Chris Gaensbauer's living room in 1949. The narrator, Clare Nicholls, told of their ambitions and inhibitions and a quintet comprised of Mary Lindquist, Golda Hogue, Florence Woolcock, Chris Gaensbauer and Clare sang happy songs about their accomplishments. The lovely incidental music and the lyrics were the creation of Flora Wager, who accompanied them.

BACK TO 1959

The program then skipped over 10 years, to when a typical meeting was held in the home of Ethel Dodge. A study of music of the 20th century was presented with Chris Gaensbauer as coordinator.

With amusing comparisons she pointed out the results of modern musical compositions, with their dissonances that repel each other, their lack of fixed key or any key, their disregard of form and rules, and their use of a 12-tone scale.

She emphasized that composers are sincere and striving to express their feelings in the life of today. She asked that listeners have open minds and hearts, looking for beauty and real creative work that will live, for there may be another Bach or Beethoven among modern composers.

Illustrations of contemporary composing were given by Golda Hogue who played short numbers by Hindemith and Schoenberg; Alice Furlong who played "3 Score Set" by William Schumann; and Margaret Heldenbrand who played four excerpts from "The Household Muse" by Milhaud.

"One Hand, One Heart" from Leonard Bernstein's "The West Side Story" was sung by Yvonne Smith. A Gershwin medley was arranged and played by Myrtle Angott, who also played the luncheon music.

Mary Lindquist sang the dramatic and tragic "Magda's Aria" from Menotti's opera, "The Consul."

Each was a contribution that made a very impressive and understanding illustration of modern musical literature.

As a closing, the Workshop Ensemble sang clever words and music composed by Bernice Rosenthal, summing up its aims and achievements. Mrs. Rosenthal accompanied and directed.

Hostesses were Mrs. M. A. Calbi, Mrs. Cecil Newstead, Mrs. J. C. Strait, Mrs. F. E. Bonner and Mrs. J. A. Rammes. Mrs. A. A. Dodd was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. John Napley and Mrs. Ralph Becker, the floral committee, placed arrangements of pansies on all the tables.

Chemise-Clad Ladies Flee Salon 'Gusher'

LONDON (UPI) — A gusher came in at Vidal Sassoon's exclusive Bond street beauty salon yesterday but Vidal and his socialite customers didn't care for it much.

It was water, not oil, pouring from a burst tank in the basement. It flooded the main floor where the ladies were sitting in their underwear and pink chemises having their hair done.

★ ★ ★

"Pardon us," said the firemen and cops as they sloshed through.

"Don't mention it," said the socialites, trying to maintain dignity with their hair in curlers and nylon chemises dripping.

Sassoon was aghast. In the shop at the time were Lady Listowel, wife of the governor general of Ghana; Lady Richardson, wife of actor Sir Ralph Richardson; and Lady Maurea Wyatt, wife of socialist politician Woodrow Wyatt.

★ ★ ★

Dear Abby . . .

Happy Event Now Well Advertised

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband owns a shoe repair shop. When I was expecting our first baby he prayed every night for a boy. Well, I had a nine-pound boy and he almost went wild. He took shoe polish and wrote "IT'S A BOY!" all over the windows of his shop. He wanted to put an ad in the paper but I wouldn't let him. Now he wants me to go buy some of those birth announcements and send them to everybody we know but I say NO, it is like begging for a present. All our friends know we have a baby. Am I wrong or not?

ABBY

NEW MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If you feel that sending out birth announcements is like "begging for a present," don't do it. I think your husband has already done a pretty thorough job of advertising the happy occasion. Good luck!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have a so who is 24. He is going with a widow who is 48, (same age as I). He is really in love with her and there is nothing anyone can say or do to change his mind. I've tried introducing him to young folks but he always goes back to her. This has been going on for four years. She has children older he is. He's met them and likes them very much. Our clergyman has talked to him and I have talked my heart out, but he still wants to marry her. How can I stop him from ruining his life?

HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: All the words in the world are useless against the power of physical attraction. Your son is 3 times 7 and if he wants to "ruin" his life, you can't stop him.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: We know an old maid in a small town near here who has money to burn, but she is very homely. Her brother wrote to me and said she was getting on his nerves and he wished I knew of someone who could get interested in her. With all her money, it would be a pretty dirty trick to fix up a friend with this woman. If we say we don't know of anybody, can we offer an alternate way for this man to get his sister married off?

CITY FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: When a woman has money "to burn"—she can usually find her own "match." Suggest that she take a cruise.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who is 14 years old. I weigh 123 pounds and am 5 ft. 8. One of my problems is that I wear a size 13 shoe. My feet look big and when people ask me what size shoe I wear, I am ashamed to tell them the truth, so I say I wear size nine. Some girls looked in my shoe during gym and they found out I take size 13 and they started yelling around, "Sweet thirteen and never been kissed!" Abby, I feel so bad about this I hate to go to school. What should I do?

SIZE 13

DEAR SIZE 13: Try very, very hard (and this will take some excellent acting ability on your part) to laugh right along with the kids who are trying to be clowns at your expense. They will soon admire you for being such a good sport and the teasing will stop in a hurry.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: We are average, hard-working people and have two grade school boys and a little girl who is almost 5. I want my husband to build a third bedroom for the girl but now I am afraid to. If we build the bedroom I am afraid my mother-in-law will move in on us for good. She loves to visit us, but so far she stays only two weeks at a time because she has to sleep on the sofa in the living room. I would never correct her but she is bossy, untidy and hard to get along with. Don't print my name or my husband will have a fit."

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: Why deprive your family of comforts you can afford because of your mother-in-law? Build the room for your daughter and make it plain that it is not a guest room, but your daughter's room.

Chitchat

Plastic bags are both a boon and a danger. Several babies have been suffocated when they pulled one of these bags over their heads. It seems that static electricity builds up inside and literally glues the bag to the baby's face. Keep all such bags away from small children.

Adults, however, can make good use of them as hand protectors for dirty jobs. Slip a small bag over each hand and hold in place with a rubber band at the wrist. Surprisingly enough, they will keep your hands fairly warm when you clean out the freezer.

A new insect killer is on the market. It is said to spray twice as long because of a new type valve which dispenses the insecticide in an extra-fine mist. It's fine for all sorts of crawling and flying bugs. But don't use it on plants.

By the way, are you careful never to puncture an aerosol can? It may explode.

Look for a new little paperbacked book titled "The Pocket Book of Household Hints." It will cost you all of 35 cents, but may save you hours of time. It contains 1,497 household time and work savers.

We are intrigued with this one: Put your child's discarded Davy Crockett hat in the garden. The birds may think it's a cat and stay away from your berries and plants.

Let Round Steak Stand in Soy Sauce Mixture

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Dr. Roy Alexander is associated with MSUO. He and his wife are pleasant additions to the Pontiac scene. They spent several years in Okinawa while Dr. Alexander was working at the university there.

Mrs. Alexander picked up this recipe for Teriyaki from a Japanese friend in Okinawa. It calls for beef, but she says that pork chops done this way are delicious. Dr. Alexander always does the honors on the outdoor grill. Three guesses who does the work of preparation inside, beforehand?

TERIYAKI
By Mrs. Roy Alexander

2-3 pounds round steak
⅓ cup soy sauce
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon ginger
Clove of garlic

Mix soy sauce, sugar and ginger. Add garlic clove. Put meat in this mixture in a flat dish and add water to cover. Let stand anywhere from 2 to 24 hours. Remove from marinade and broil.

St. Michael Church Scene of Ganje-Dortch Nuptials

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Adalene Dortch of East Tennyson avenue. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ganje of Cambrook Lane, Waterford.

Escorted to the altar by her grandfather, Garland Wells, the bride was dressed in a floor-length gown of embroidered nylon tulle over satin with five tiers of ruffles and a semi-train. A tiara held her fingertip veil, and she held a bouquet of white roses blended with stephanotis and ivy.

Think of Reward

Sweet Tooth Ruins Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If you've got it on your mind, sooner or later it will land on your hips, abdomen or waist! I mean all of those luscious sweets.

Every individual and every family has its own decided taste in food. What one dotes on the other cannot abide. Our habits in eating are perhaps the strongest of all.

It seems to me that those who have a "sweet tooth" are the ones who seem to have the worst time sticking to a diet. A letter before me says, "I have just finished your 9-Day Diet with the greatest success. I lost seven pounds in nine days. This is just what I needed to lose. I never felt hungry. The only hardship was leaving off sweets, but for a short time I could stand it.

"It has been my habit to make candy at least three times a week, and then eat most of it myself. I do not believe a day passes that I don't have at least one candy bar and sometimes when I make pie I think nothing of eating half of it myself. I know this sounds like a lot to some folks but it is just natural to me."

The "sweets" habit is widely spread and makes you wide. Readers write asking how they can reinforce their willpower so that they can stick to a reducing diet. One of the main complaints is the necessity of leaving off candy and desserts.

You will not believe it until you try it, but after you have been divorced from the daily candy bar for a while it will lose its appeal for you. I know of no way in which I can help my readers stay on a diet except to keep calling their attention to the goal ahead.

Every time you are tempted to backslide remember how much better you will look and how wonderful it will feel when you are rid of those extra pounds.

You can have sugar in your coffee (unless you drink a lot of coffee) and you can even get away with a couple of those SMALL pieces of hard candy after dinner unless one sweet sets you off like one drink does an alcoholic.

Some carbohydrate is needed even in a reducing diet.

Hostess Will Be Offended Either Way

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: At a lunch party last week the hostess served a very delicious homemade cake with a special frosting. (A recipe for which she is noted.) One of the women present scraped all the frosting from the top of the cake before eating it. We were horrified at her behavior and thought her very rude.

"When I related this incident to a friend she said she saw nothing wrong with this. Will you please give me your opinion of such behavior?"

Answer: She was probably on a sugar-free diet and could not eat the frosting. It would have been better, however, had she eaten the cake with a fork and left the frosting on her plate, instead of scraping it off before eating the rest.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married shortly and we are having a wedding dinner after the ceremony for about one hundred guests. In making arrangements for the dinner, we were told that we could have either chicken or roast beef. Should we decide on one or the other beforehand, or should a request be made on the reception cards enclosed with the invitations, asking the guests to designate their own choice?"

Answer: You decide beforehand, and chicken will be better for your wedding dinner than roast beef.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know what is proper when three people ride in the front seat of an automobile with the husband as the driver. Does the wife sit next to him and the woman friend next to the door, or vice versa?"

Answer: It is more polite for the wife to take the less comfortable middle seat and let their guest have the choice one next to the door.

Americans Lack Pride in Their Careers

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

This weekend Frank Jr. was home from college. Among other things he said to his father, "Oh, by the way, I've decided not to major in economics next year after all. Maybe I'll take medicine. There's no sense in boning up on all that economics stuff if I'm going to land in medical school."

Though his father was awfully discouraged by this career uncertainty, it never occurred to him to say, "Why not consider pharmacy, Frank? I'm going to retire one day. You could take over. But to run the Dodge drugstores, you'd have to know something about drugs."

It seems to have become part of the American parent's code of honor never to suggest that children follow our career footsteps. Our young must always blaze their own trails independently without reference to any paths, however appropriate, that we have made.

This is tough on young Frank who'd like nothing better than to take over his father's business. But he never dares say so lest he appear feebly dependent on a parent's success instead of bravely creating a bigger, different one of his own.

In other countries it is not considered disgraceful to follow the occupations of fathers and grandfathers. From childhood young people know where they're going and how they're going to get there. This freedom to use and develop the efforts of previous generations gives them a sense of pride, of continuity, of economic certainty.

They do not suffer the kind of anxiety that harasses our young people who must make their inexperienced career decision alone from the hundreds presented to them in the cold impersonal pages of their college catalogues.

Why must our young always pioneer new occupations?

Well, I think we Americans lack proper pride in what we can hand on to our children. In our souls we feel that young Frank should be able to do better than we have. Americans are immigrants—and we're still dreaming the old immigrants' dream of eternally greener opportunities beyond the horizon.

In its time the dream helped make America great. Now it's time we woke up from it. Or the old dream may end by making us all so ambitious that we never even notice the opportunities right under our noses.

Pontiac area residents taking part in Townships Players production of the "Anniversary Waltz," to be presented May 14-16 at West Bloomfield High school, are Donald Craig, left, who has the lead, and William Raines.

Will Middle Age Be Magnificent?

By RUTH MILLETT

Dr. Smiley Blanton who has written a book "Now or Never: The Promise of the Middle Years" refers to the years between youth and old age as the "magnificent middle years."

It's a nice-sounding phrase—but does it really mean anything?

They can be and they are magnificent if—

You don't strive to imitate the young but are quite willing to act your age.

You have learned the all important lesson that you and you alone are responsible for your own happiness.

You have begun to learn how to conserve your strength and budget your time so that you have both the hours and the energy for the things you really want to do.

You have given up the idea that the world should revolve around you and are happy to be a small frog in a big puddle.

You realize that life is too short to be spent regretting the past, trying to change other people or carrying on personal feuds.

You know that it is much more satisfying to work for a sense of personal achievement than to knock yourself out trying to impress others.

You are eager to try new things and aren't afraid to take a chance or risk failure.

You don't assume that because you have never done a thing you aren't capable of doing it.

Summer Permanent

Time now to think about the permanent you will want as the basis of your summer hair care. Remember these points for best results: Split ends or the remains of your last permanent must be trimmed away. Hair must be well shaped to carry out your selected hair style. Tell your operator what you want and expect of a wave. Let her know what chemicals (rinses, bleaches or dyes) have been used prior to your permanent.

All these things are important to the success of your wave. We will be happy to consult with you.

Lays Youth Delinquency to Lack of Religion

Couple Speak Vows in Commerce Church

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Carney of 9570 Cooley Lake Rd. and the late Mr. Carney. Mr. and Mrs. Vern Richardson of 3227 Newton Rd., Walled Lake, are the parents of the bridegroom.

A colonial-styled gown of chantilly lace and tulle with a Peter Pan collar studded with rhinestones was worn by the bride. A strand of pearls belonging to the family for several generations surrounded the collar.

Carol Schulz of West Bloomfield Township, was the maid of honor and Jane Johnson of Pontiac and Verna Richardson, a sister of the bridegroom of Walled Lake, were bridesmaids.

The couple will live in Alpena during the summer.

Challenge Must Be Met, Warns Oakland Judge

By LEE WINBORN

The primary cause of juvenile delinquency is not divorce but lack of religious education and training, according to Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

He was speaking at a public meeting held in the Rochester High School last night.

Outlining the part the community and environs can play in the county's "team" program of youth guidance, the noted jurist said, "We don't do enough, early enough on the local level" to help youngsters.

Judge Moore went on to describe several cases of children who were "once loved" but were later failed by youth groups, churches and other organizations who didn't meet the challenge of assisting them when they needed it most.

★ ★ ★

He pointed out that the primary cause of juvenile delinquency is not divorce, as popularly believed, but rather lack of religious education and training.

The dominant part of the Rochester Area Youth Guidance Committee's program, Judge Moore said, should be "to get every child in contact with religion."

★ ★ ★

The second cause of delinquency, he said, is failure of parents to understand the importance of education. The third is the children's absence of contact with character-building agencies and recreation proups, the judge added.

NEED INTEREST

The success of a youth guidance program, such as the one now in operation in the Rochester Community School District, is based on interest of the general citizenry plus specialized personnel to work on the problems that come to the committee's attention.

With Oakland County juvenile authorities and Michigan State University Oakland cooperating, "this can be an outstanding program nationally," Judge Moore predicted.

The key to the whole project is "to have good neighbors who insist on good behavior," he said. This can be accomplished, the judge added, by having everyone take part in the program and emphasizing the "friendly" aspect of it.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Edgar A. Lucas, executive case work committee chairman, said emphasis should be placed on "juvenile decency instead of juvenile delinquency" — that love, interest, understanding and sympathy of citizens will be repaid with interest.

OTHERS SPEAK

Presiding at the meeting was Eugene V. Rounds, chairman of the General Citizens Committee.

★ ★ ★

He introduced James Van Leuven, assistant director of Children's Services for the Oakland County Juvenile Court and court referee who elaborated on operation of the county-wide youth guidance program.

★ ★ ★

Rochester Village President Clarence M. Burr, said that the Youth Guidance program gives citizens the opportunity to do a "fine thing" in Rochester.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Lowell R. Eklund, director of continuing education at MSUO, and Thomas Pfeiffer, assistant director of Protective Services for Juvenile Court, both commended the some 50-member guidance committee for the progress it has made to date.

New Lathrup Budget Includes Pay Hikes

LATHRUP VILLAGE—Action on Lathrup Village's 1959-60 budget of $206,246 will be taken at next Monday's regular council meeting, Administrator Gerald K. Stone announced today.

Stone said the tax rate on the budget would be the same as for last year — $7.50 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation.

The new budget which is approximately $7,000 higher than that of last year, calls for a third full-time policeman and a five per cent across the board increase in city employes' salaries.

A public hearing on the proposed budget was held last Monday night but no action was taken.

St. Andrew's Church Plans Rummage Sale

ROCHESTER — Hundreds of name-brand dresses and other quality merchandise will be included in the rummage sale to be held this weekend at St. Andrew's Catholic Church here, Mrs. Clark Quinn, publicity chairman, announced today.

Receives Kresge Grant

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The Kresge Foundation of Detroit, Mich., yesterday gave $100,000 to Trinity College here to be used toward the construction of a student center. Ground-breaking for the building is scheduled to start next month.

Wheat Control May Be Eased

'Good Chance' Limits on Nonmarketed Grain Can Be Lifted—Hart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) said yesterday "there is a pretty good chance" that federal acreage limitations on wheat consumed solely on the farm where it is grown will be lifted.

Hart, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said he hoped the committee could complete a workable wheat bill in the next few days.

Meanwhile, the House passed and sent to the White House yesterday a bill to postpone from May 15 to June 1 the time for announcing wheat marketing quotas for the 1960 crop.

This will give Congress additional time to consider new wheat legislation aimed at reducing wheat production. Wheat supplies are now at a record high.

Both the Senate and House agriculture committees are considering various proposals for reducing wheat plantings. What now is supported at 75 per cent of parity while the national acreage allotment is 55 million acres.

"I have done my darndest to convince the Senate Committee to remove all limitations on wheat grown for personal use," Hart told his weekly news conference. "That of course is the Yankus case."

This was a reference to a former Dowagiac farmer, Stanley Yankus, who sold his farm and announced plans to move to Australia in protest to wheat acreage restrictions.

Yankus maintained he should not be penalized for growing excess wheat as long as he fed it all to his own chickens.

On other matters, Hart said nine Senators have asked to co-sponsor an anti-lynching bill he introduced last week.

Rochester 'Y' Slates Swim Classes Here

ROCHESTER — The Rochester YMCA has set up a schedule of swimming classes for children between nine and 17 years of age at the Pontiac "Y" beginning Saturday, Robert Wisdom, Rochester "Y" secretary, announced today.

The swim sessions will be held each succeeding Saturday through June with the exception of Memorial Day weekend, he said.

Classes for boys will be at 2 and 2:45 p.m. and for girls at 3:30 and 4:15 p.m. All sessions will be 45 minutes long.

Seventy-two boys and 72 girls can be accomodated, Wisdom said. Registration may be made by telephone or in person on a first come—first served basis.

★ ★ ★

Registrants must furnish their own transportation. The only other requirement is that girls must wear bathing caps and suits of some material other than wool which tends to clog the pool system.

2 Cases Delayed in Macomb Court

Two area court cases which were scheduled to go to trial yesterday in Macomb County Circuit Court at Mount Clemens were adjourned and new dates set.

The $50,000 damage suit filed in 1957 by Robert J. West, Detroit architect, against the Board of Education of the Romeo Community School District has been postponed to May 27. West's attorney, Leslie Jones, was ill.

The case of William M. Oming, former Washington treasurer charged with embezzlement of $2,533 in township tax receipts, also was adjourned. Reason given was that one of the prosecutor's witnesses was not available to testify.

★ ★ ★

Oxford Village Workers Miss Pay Hike, Pension

OXFORD — Raises for village employes or the pension plan they had sought in lieu of pay hikes were deleted from the budget of $123,051 for 1959-60 adopted last night by the Oxford Village Council.

Local millage was raised one mill because of the cutback anticipated from the state in the last half of the coming fiscal year.

As Village Manager Ralph Precious explained it, Michigan's population during the past 10 years has increased about 24 per cent while the village population has increased only 7 or 8 per cent or less than half as much as the state in general.

★ ★ ★

This means, the manager said, that the funds to be distributed in April 1960, for the period from Jan. 1 to March 31 next year, will be based on the new population census, and Oxford will collect about 15 per cent less in sales tax rebates.

$5,000 LOSS SEEN

The dollar loss would be in the neighborhood of $3,000 per year, Precious said. Adding this figure to reduced gas and weight tax receipts, it could mean a total loss of approximately $5,000.

★ ★ ★

The Council awarded the fleet insurance bid of $557.82 to the Curtis Insurance Agency.

★ ★ ★

Last night marked the second reading of the amended building code to which one revision was added. It sets the permit fee for remodeling at $3 per thousand dollars with a minimum of $6.

★ ★ ★

The Council also had the first reading of a gasoline station ordinance which provides that there shall be 500 feet between a station and a public building and 750 feet between stations.

County Board Advises 'No'

Enlarge Wolverine Lake?

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A request that 20 acres of undeveloped land in Commerce Township be annexed to the village of Wolverine Lake was recommended turned down by the Boundaries Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Arno L. Hulet, committee chairman, said the petition for annexation of the 20 acres was found to be "irregular and erroneous," and containing a description of a portion of the village.

Hulet said he would recommend to the full Board of Supervisors that the petition be turned down, allowing petitioners to draft another request.

The petition was signed by Ben Lerner, a land developer, and 126 village residents.

Lerner, according to Hulet, wanted the area annexed to the village in order to receive village services for the plot which he planned to develop into a subdivision.

Beetles Make Exciting Game

'Giants' Measure Up to 6 Inches in Dense Jungles of Africa

WASHINGTON — Some of the most exciting big-game hunts take place in the insect world where giants are measured in terms of inches.

Though it was long known to science, fewer than a score of specimens had ever been recovered. Nothing was known of its habits or life cycle except that it belonged to the family of long-horned beetles, the Cerambycidae, whose larvae are wood eaters.

After capturing many weirdly shaped, colorful but lesser-sized insects, Dr. Zahl had become resigned to missing the elusive super beetle when he received a message to come quickly to a nearby oil refinery.

Arriving in the office, he found his long-sought quarry imprisoned under an inverted metal wastebasket. A true Titanus giganteus, it had been discovered crawling around the grounds. It measured nearly five inches and carried an armament of jaw and talons that could slash a human finger to the bone.

With one more hunting area to explore, Dr. Zahl flew to a remote mining outpost at the jungle's edge in Brazil's Amapa Territory, near the French Guiana border.

The rainy season was due there any day, and with it were expected hordes of insects of all kinds. Moreover, evidence had indicated that only when the jungle is newly drenched do the giant cerambycid beetles emerge from under bark and logs for their nocturnal mating flights.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately for the quest, the season was unusually late. After waiting in vain for the deluge, the Geographic naturalist was forced to return to New York without the hoped-for big-beetle bonanza.

Then came a surprise. About a month later, a box arrived at Dr. Zahl's apartment from friends at the Amapa mining settlement.

"There they were," marvelled the insect hunter as he pulled away pad after pad of packing tissue. "15 enormous, shiny specimens of Titanus giganteus—to me the most beautiful sight in the world."

One was six inches long.

About $1,000 worth of damage had been done my car. So I told my wife to see what could be done about getting the names and addresses of witnesses while I went back and finished my game."

Young Producer Has Theory About Mothers

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Sam Goldwyn Jr., a young producer (three movies, three children), has a theory about American mothers.

He believes that each of them, no matter how much she complains, thinks of her male child as the most innocent young nonconformist in town. If he does something mischievous, she may spank him good. But secretly she tells herself that he's just nonconforming—and, as everybody who can read knows, this is a good thing.

Goldwyn carries this belief because of more than 10,000 letters he's received from around the country. The producer has let it be known that he's searching for a boy, around 12, to play Huckleberry Finn in the movies.

"Every mother is convinced," he is convinced, "that her son is Huck Finn reincarnated. They dwell on the fact that he is, shall we say, deserving of an occasional lick behind the woodshed, but it is only because he doesn't want to 'conform'."

When Hollywood fellers try to tell me about a "great new search for an unknown star," they generally are bending a tin ear. But now I've met Sam Jr., the seeker after Huck Finn. I begin to wonder if there may be a touch of sincerity left in lovable old screenland.

"Look," he says, "Huckleberry Finn is the universal boy. Not only that, he's the universal truth—the little bit of all of us searching for adventure.

"I know there's some good potential publicity in this search, but you've got to believe me, just the right kid is hard to find. Ideally, I want a professional actor kid to play the part. Somebody like Mickey Rooney used to be. Or Andy Griffith — man, I wish he were a boy again.

"But since last February, I've done nothing but interview boys, and so far, nothing. In Hollywood, I talked to 300 kids, culled from 800. And in New York so far, I've seen 40, culled from 300 candidates. Close, but no Finn.

"So I get all these letters from mothers—more than I can possibly see. They have children from six to 21, the perfect Huck, but they don't quite understand the problem.

"Our boy has to be a child who is just about to become a man. He's just about to begin to shave—well, every five weeks he'll shave—but he still has the clarity of thinking of a child. Know what I mean? It's a difficult, sensitive, terribly short and critical period in a boy's life, and when I see the right one buzzers will ring."

Goldwyn, who looks like an elongated version of the boy he is seeking, lights up from the forehead freckles down when he speaks of this character Finn. He claims to have read Mark Twain's classic every two years since he was 12, which would make 10 times. He's planned to produce the film for six years, but sharpened his young talents first with a trio of movies called "Man with a Gun," "The Shark Fighters" and "Proud Rebel."

He isn't sure yet that he's ready to do justice to what he considers the greatest book since the Bible ("Who could?"), but he can't wait any longer. Having given up on finding children in the professional ranks, he leaves this week for the Mississippi shores. There, he will probably find more boys who are really hones . . . the kind who, when he asks "Why do you think you should play Huck Finn?", will reply "Because we need the money."

"I guess I do, when you consider what it is," he says. "I asked dad about it once, and he said, 'Everybody talks about it, but they don't realize, it's just doin' the best I can.'"

Swiss Get Round Table for East-West Knights

GENEVA (UPI) — A massive doughnut-shaped table, hastily built as a concession to the Russians, appears to satisfy all the major participants in the East-West foreign ministers' conference.

Each of the Big Four delegations has seats on the rim of the table for its foreign minister and his two top aides. Lesser advisers are seated two or three rows deep behind the chief delegates.

The 12 places occupied by the Big Four representatives take up a little more than half of the table's 56-foot circumference. Separate rectangular tables for the two German delegations are set close to the clear section of the rim.

A third rectangular table, between and behind the German tables, accommodates the secretaries who will handle conference paperwork.

The table, built in four wedge-shaped segments, was put together quickly by Swiss carpenters after the Russians insisted that the conference must be held at a round table.

★ ★ ★

The doughnut shape of the table appeared to be a matter of the carpenters' convenience, at least for the time being, no use is being made of the hole in the table's center.

WEST 'SQUARES'

The rectangular tables occupied by the Germans and the secretaries are the kind the western powers favored. Similar ones were used at Big Four get-togethers in the past. Four of them would have been arranged in a hollow square, with one table reserved for each of the major conference delegations.

The United States and Russia are seated at the ends of the big four are around the center table. The West German delegation is seated near the Americans and the East Germans sit near the Russians.

The two chief aides flanking Secretary of State Christian A. Herter at the U. S. portion of the table are Assistant Secretary of State Livingston T. Merchant and ambassador to Moscow Llewellyn Thompson.

The usual signs designating the nationality of the participants are absent from the conference table. The only sign it bears, identifying the chairman of the meeting, will rotate around the rim from delegation to delegation.

Britain's Selwyn Lloyd presided at the opening conference session. Russia's Andrei Gromyko was chairman yesterday, Herter today, France's Maurice Couve de Murville tomorrow, and so on.

Lens Solution Causes No Harm

No Blindness, Infection Reported as Resulting From Cleaner's Use

No blindness or infection has occurred from use of a Barnes-Hind wetting solution for contact lenses from the pathogen reported last week by the Federal Food and Drug administration, according to reports from all over the United States.

This was the word today from Barnes-Hind Laboratories of Sunnyvale, Calif., the 20-year-old pharmaceutical firm which was the target for the FDA announcement from Washington on April 27, when wearers of contact lenses were warned not to use the solution because of a bacterium assertedly found in one batch.

The California firm immediately cooperated with the government agency and was successful in recalling all of its solution, regardless of lot numbers, and has replaced it with a sterile product which can be identified by a new pink color. The recalled material was green in color.

Contact lens wearers, thrown into a panic by the FDA charge, may relax and begin using a new sterile solution.

Harry W. Hind, president of the drug firm, stated that the concern which swept the nation is rapidly subsiding.

"We have been manufacturing a wetting solution for 19 years and have never received a complaint," Hind said, adding that not a single report of blindness has been recorded from use of the solution.

Civic Music Drive Over Top in Waterford

The Waterford Township Civic Music Association's one-week annual membership drive went over the top, according to president Margaret Ann Beattie.

The association now has 475 members. They not only can attend three concerts scheduled in Waterford but will be permitted to attend Civic Music Association concerts in Rochester, Lapeer, Wayne and Trenton among other communities throughout the country.

The first local concert will be given Dec. 12 at the John D. Pierce Junior High School, with the Columbus Boys Choir scheduled to present "Amahl and the Night visitors."

The two other programs will include Rod Strong's Dance Company doing interpretations, ballet and comedy numbers. A world famous pianist will be scheduled during the season, Miss Beattie said.

Although the membership drive has been completed, persons who have been out of town or were not contacted may still become members by contacting the Civic Music Association, Box 67, Drayton Plains.

Vienna Spirit Still Survives

Opera, Culinary Spots Live as of Old Amid Postwar Construction

WASHINGTON—In Vienna's famous amusement park — the 'Wurstelprater'—riders of the 'Big Wheel' look out on a booming city where change only accents its timeless grace and gaiety.

The revolving wheel, 210 feet high, is itself a light-hearted link with the Austrian capital's varied past. Built in 1898 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of Emperor Franz Joseph's reign, it witnessed a nightmarish battle between German and Russian troops in 1945.

But where desperate men exchanged shots among iron spokes and girders, the turning wheel now offers fun seekers the city's best view of construction progress under a postwar expansion program.

Long before the departure of Russian and Western occupation troops in 1955, Vienna was digging out from wartime destruction. In a recent National Geographic article on eastern Austria, the late Beverly M. Bowie reported that the Viennese have already built 50,000 new apartments as well as schools, hospitals, highways, and sports arenas.

* * *

The event that signified liberation to most Austrians was not a troop parade or a political speech, but the opening in November, 1955, of the bombed-out, rebuilt Opera House. It combined the more hectic features of a World Series opener, an Inauguration Ball, and the first Armistice Day.

THEATER POPULAR

Vienna offers a formidable selection of plays. Nowhere in Europe are theater tickets cheaper. The problem is to get them. When an English company came over to present Vivien Leigh and Sir Laurence Olivier in Shakespeare's Titus Andronicus, twice as many people struggled for seats as the house could hold.

Returning visitors, nostalgically seeking old restaurant specialties, run a gastronomic gamut that includes schnitzel and boiled beef with horseradish sauce; shish kebab from flaming swords; roast venison, boar, and pfefferoni and caviar.

Yet a dash of melancholy pervades Vienna. Scaffolding on the soaring spire of St. Stephen's Cathedral evokes memories of World War II shelling—and of wars and sieges that have wracked the city since Roman times.

Slavs Seek Membership

VIENNA (AP)—Yugoslavia is the first Communist country to apply for membership in the International Council of Women whose executive council is meeting here. The ICW press spokesman, Betty Barzin of Belgium, said Yugoslav women have a good chance of acceptance for membership "because they are not affiliated with the women's organizations of the Soviet-dominated Communist states, whose activities are not of a voluntary nature."

Pickpocket Is Charmer

MONTREAL (UPI) — Police searched today for the most charming pickpocket in their memory, a specialist in lifting grocers' wallets. The most recent victim, grocer Eskel Freeman, said the tall, lovely, beautifully dressed brunette picked his pocket of $160 while he reached for the package of cigarettes she ordered. She drove off in a car with a man and two children before he noticed his loss.

Pilot Spares Golfers, Hurt Landing on Road

★ ★ ★

But pilot Ralph Horn, of North Stonington, Conn., saw the course was crowded and didn't want to risk hitting one of the players.

★ ★ ★

He chose a nearby road, a much poorer landing strip. The landing tore off the wings and wrecked the plane. Horn was reported in fair condition at a hospital.

Hal Boyle Complains:

'Ole Big Ears' Label a Pain in the Neck

"Be careful of what you say—or ole 'Big Ears' will have it in the newspapers, the next thing you know."

"You mean that's all you do is write just one piece a day? How in the world do you spend your spare time?"

"I've got a young nephew that doesn't know what to do with himself. How can he go about getting a job like yours?"

★ ★ ★

"Personally, I don't have much time for reading, but my wife says she likes your column very much. What's it about?"

"Personally, I don't find much time for reading—just the really important things. But my husband says he gets a laugh out of your column. What's it about?"

WHAT GOOD ARE YOU?

"If you can't help me get a parking ticket fixed, just what does the power of the press really amount to?"

"Where do you get all your ideas—steal 'em?"

"What's life like on a free pass? Do you guys ever pay your way in to see anything?"

"Well, how's the ole press agents' lifesaver today?"

"It's a really cute idea. We're holding a canary singing contest to introduce a new bird food, and if you'll just agree to serve as a judge you'll find plenty of really cute material."

"What if it is made up? Do you think a thing has to be true to be interesting?"

"I been reading that Khrushchev is sick. How sick is he actually?"

GOT A TIP?

"Don't tell me a guy in your position doesn't get a really good Wall Street tip now and then. How about passing one on, ole palsy walsy?"

★ ★ ★

"Dear sir: You cur. Why are you always picking on women in your column? Are you mad at your mother? (signed) 'Angry Wife.' "

"Dear sir: You jerk! Why do you always give wives the best of it in your column? Are you a man or a mouse in your own house? (signed) 'Old-fashioned Husband.' "

★ ★ ★

"Sure I know it's a tough job and you could use a raise. But look at it this way: There are at least six guys on the copy desk who are tired of writing headlines—and would love to have your problems — and your working hours."

Beauty Queen Admits Thefts

Just Wanted to Get New Start, She Says, After Arrest

LITTLETON, Colo. (AP) — A 20 year-old girl was in a jail cell today, only 10 months after she was crowned a state beauty queen.

Dixie Ann Gottfried has signed statements admitting two armed robberies last Monday, according to sheriff's investigator William Maraggos. No charges have been filed.

★ ★ ★

"All I wanted was $50 for a room and some new clothes and a few dollars to get a new start," said the 5-foot-11, 150-pound beauty. "I was flat broke."

Mrs. Gottfried won the Miss Colorado Jaycee title last July, as blonde Dixie Ann Dickes of Pueblo, Colo.

When two patrolmen arrested her late Monday night at nearby Aurora, her hair was long, unkempt and dyed black. She was dressed in slacks and a rough shirt.

Records at her home town of Pueblo show she was fined $125 last November for fighting and pouring beer on two policemen who attempfed to arrest her in a tavern.

Mrs. Gottfried was arrested less than 15 minutes after an Aurora drugstore was robbed at gunpoint of $131 and narcotics.

She admitted she had robbed a Denver hotel early Monday of $17.

"I wouldn't have tried the drugstore job if I'd gotten $50 in the first one," she said.

★ ★ ★

The lithe beauty said her husband, William D. Gottfried, 23, is in the Illinois Prison for the Criminally Insane. He was convicted of kidnaping a policeman, Maraggos said.

He'd just raise cain if he knew about this," she said.

Blast on Sun Kicks Up Storm Above Earth

SACRAMENTO PEAK OBSERVATORY, N.M. (AP) — An explosion on the sun, described as one of the strongest radio flares ever recorded, kicked up a magnetic storm in the earth's atmosphere Sunday.

Now it is dying out. Astronomers say they expect the last of it Thursday, along with the last of accompanying radio trouble.

Harry Ramsey, chief observer at this mountain top observatory in south-central New Mexico, said, "The solar flare was about 100,000 miles in length and 50,000 miles wide."

Ramsey said the sun spot grew to 10 to 20 times the brightness of the rest of the sun and lasted from 2 p.m. through sunset.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Jack Evans, observatory director, said: "This is the kind of flare we see—oh, about three or four of — during the maximum of a sun spot cycle, which is 11 years. Anything over an hour is quite surprisingly long."

Puts Up Block to OK on Dillon

Louisiana Senator Set to Talk 'a Day or Two' About Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La) raised a roadblock today to speedy Senate approval of C. Douglas Dillon's promotion to the No. 2 spot in the State Department.

★ ★ ★

When Dillon's nomination reaches the Senate floor, Long said, "I may speak for a day, or even two days, to illustrate why we have spent so many billions in other countries and in some instances gotten nothing but hatred in return, under the type of leadership represented by Mr. Dillon."

★ ★ ★

Long is the only announced opponent of the nomination, which was received with enthusiasm Tuesday by most of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Dillon faced more fire from another source today. He was called before a closed session of the committee for further questioning about putting secret labels on country-by-country breakdowns of foreign military aid.

Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho) protested secret classification of military programs in Latin America.

The opposition of Long and Church delayed a committee vote on Dillon's nomination as first under secretary of state. This is the spot Christian A. Herter vacated when he was named secretary to succeed the ailing John Foster Dulles.

Police to Return Records in Vice Charge Acquittals

A token step in behalf of 51 persons acquitted of vice charges in connection with the Dec. 5 numbers racket raid was taken by the City Commission last night.

Commissioners voted to let the 51 persons have their criminal records returned to them by the Police Department, although Mayor Philip E. Rowston believed they had a right to the records anyway.

Commissioners voted the step just the same, in case a 60-day statute of limitations governing return of police records applied to the case.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry had once demanded a formal apology to the persons acquitted of charges. But he didn't press for one last night and none was made.

The names of the 51 persons were read aloud by City Clerk Ada R. Evans from a list drawn up by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Eastman Report Due in 2½ Weeks

Police Reserve Breakup Feared

City Commissioner Robert A. Landry last night predicted the Pontiac Police Reserve organization would "break up" if city administrative officers decide to restrict its activities.

"You're going to find that 80 per cent of the reserves won't be put to work anymore, I'm afraid, or their work will be so restricted they won't want to continue in the reserve," Landry warned after about 50 reservists protested the direction of negotiations over their status.

But Rowston said a full report by George D. Eastman public safety director, on how he proposes to use the reserve in the future would be ready in about 2½ weeks.

"I think we should wait until we have the report before going into details," said Rowston, calling for an end to the discussion.

John Graham, reserve chief, said his men decided to appear before the Commission "to ask questions" after he had reported back to them last night on Monday's progress.

Among those at Monday's session were Rowston, Graham, Eastman, City Attorney William A. Ewart and City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Willman said Eastman's report would be ready for study by the negotiating group after he returns from a two-week vacation, beginning Thursday.

Reservists complained about the delay and Landry sided with them. "The public safety director should have been able to tell us before now whether he is going to use the reserve or not. This point is a policy matter which this Commission should pass upon."

★ ★ ★

Eastman said today he should have his report ready by June 5. He repeated that the reserves play an "important part" in Pontiac and would have a future roll in the city's police activities.

But the public safety director declined to go into details while negotiations are in progress.

Leveling most of their complaints at Eastman, reservists threatened to quit April 15, saying that morale was being ruined by a sharp curtailment in their activities.

Rowston at that time persuaded the volunteer officers to hold off quitting in hopes that their future status could be decided satisfactorily through negotiation.

Reservists were apparently irked last night with three questions brought up by the administration during negotiations: whether reservists should accompany regular officers in patrol cars; whether reservists should continue to carry pistols on duty; and whether they should be bonded in the event of law suits?

The first proposal reflects the Police Department's new policy of one-man patrol cars. One reservist complained that Eastman said reservists would be "excess baggage" in patrol cars.

"Would you go to war unarmed?" another reservist queried the Commission, protesting against dropping pistols.

"Civilian life and military life are two different things," replied Willman. "But the question has been raised whether reservists should be bonded if they are armed."

★ ★ ★

Ewart said the question had been posed whether an arrest by a reserve officer carries the same weight in court as an arrest by a regular police officer.

Under questioning by Landry, though, he admitted that he knew of no instance in which an arrest by a reserve officer had been questioned in court.

Ike Sees Red Propaganda in Drive to Seat Satellites

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower said today the Soviet Union seems to be pushing a propaganda drive in seeking admittance of Red satellite nations to the Geneva foreign ministers conference.

Eisenhower told a news conference he is very hopeful the Soviets will abandon such propaganda tactics so the conference can get down to fruitful negotiations.

Eisenhower had been asked to evaluate the Soviet efforts thus far to win seats at Geneva for Communist East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Those efforts have kept the foreign ministers' conference from getting to discussion of real problems.

Eisenhower replied it is very difficult to find out what is going on behind someone else's forehead.

In the course of the news conference, the President discussed these other matters:

Khrushchev—No one has contacted him, Eisenhower said, regarding the possibility of a visit by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to the United States.

Message — Eisenhower announced that later in the day he would send Congress a special message dealing with problems in the fields of housing, highway construction and disposal of and curtailment of wheat surpluses.

In all those fields, he added, legislation is badly needed.

Appointees—For the third week in a row, Eisenhower pictured himself as rather baffled as to why the Senate is delaying confirmation of some of his key nominees for federal posts.

He made that remark when asked whether he thought the opposition in the Senate, mainly among Democrats, is assuming some sort of pattern.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower called today for quick congressional action increasing the gasoline tax, revising the costly wheat support and control program, and providing additional home loan insurance authority.

Ohio Workers to Get SUB From Big Three

DETROIT (UP) — The automotive big three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — have agreed to pay supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) to Ohio workers back to the fall of 1957.

Ohio legalized such payments in addition to state unemployment compensation last week.

GM workers will be eligible back to Oct. 7, 1957, and will split up an estimated one million dollars. Ford retroactively goes back to September 1957, and a UAW spokesman said $821,000 is available for them.

No figures were available immediately on how much is available to Chrysler employes. But the UAW said agreement on payment of SUB, if and when legalized, was worked out with Chrysler in negotiations last fall when new three-year contracts were signed.

Two Defendants Missing

Trials Ready to Begin

Two defendants who were awaiting trial in Oakland County Circuit Court didn't show up yesterday when their cases were called.

★ ★ ★

They couldn't make it because they were in jail charged with crimes in Mt. Clemens and Kalamazoo, according to Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Taylor said he was ready to begin separate larceny in building trials of Fred Gerber, 19, of 13845 Marshall St., Clawson, and James Banks, 32, of 3452 Chene St., Detroit, when he was notified the defendants were under arrest elsewhere.

Gerber, Taylor said, was arrested Monday night in Mt. Clemens charged with stealing tires off a car. Taylor said he has began habeas corpus proceedings to return Gerber to Oakland County to stand trial for purse snatching from a woman in her home on March 7.

Taylor, however, won't be able to see Banks for at least 60 days as he pleaded guilty to another larceny in a building charge in Kalamazoo and was sentenced to 60 days Monday.

Taylor said he has asked police there put a hold order on Banks to return him here upon his release.

Banks was to go to trial in Pontiac yesterday for taking money from a Royal Oak dime store last September.

Both Gerber and Banks were on $500 bonds when they got into their latest scrapes with the law, Taylor said.

Hollywood Headlines

Ask Your Jockey How Grable Keeps Curvaceous

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—Betty Grable left for Las Vegas Tuesday night, not to work but to be with Harry James while he's playing the Flamingo. She's going to be an eyeful to the people sunning around the swimming pool with that snappy 118 pound figure of hers. I can tell you there's a bit of an inside secret about how Betty keeps those curves:

She learned about a special kind of high protein wafer from the jockeys at Hollywood Park, a wafer which most of them eat to keep them in riding shape. These boys can't afford to put on an extra pound and they slipped the secret to Betty. Don't write me—write your favorite jockey if you want the name.

Natalie Wood believes the greatest compliment she has ever received comes from Sir Laurence Olivier who has asked her to play opposite him in "The Entertainer," a motion picture he'll make in London.

"He has been my favorite actor ever since I was a little girl," said Natalie, "and Vivien Leigh has been my favorite actress. I certainly want to do the picture if Warner Bros. do not preempt me."

Boris Morros, who was an invaluable spy for the U. S. government for many years, is back in town. I happened to meet him at the Beverly Hills Hotel and he told me he's just back from doing an act from Boris Pasternak's "Dr. Zhivago." He said he knows Pasternak very well and that he's not only a talented writer and poet but a great musician and studied under Stravinsky.

I asked him why Pasternak didn't seek sanctuary in this country when he was being so badly treated in Russia. He said Pasternak had lived in Russia all his life, his roots are there, and he is waiting and hoping to see if things will change.

"I am here on my life story for Columbia," Morros told me.

I like Bill Lundigan so much as a man and an actor I'm delighted he's getting back to acting again after so many years of extolling the virtues of a well-known automobile in commercials. Under the Ziv banner, Bill will star in "Space," a new science-fact-fiction TV show scheduled for October beaming on TV.

From Las Vegas Mickey Hargitay called to say that he had told Al Zugsmith he would not do "The Private Life of Adam and Eve."

Stop Off in New York on Honeymoon Flight to Europe

The couple literally had been in the clouds almost ever since their wedding late Tuesday in Las Vegas, Nev.

JET TO NEW YORK

First they flew to Los Angeles, then they took a jet for New York. It arrived here at 7:08 a.m.

Accompanying the newlyweds were a friend, Miss Pat Newcomb, and 112 other passengers. A crowd of about 200 persons gathered to watch them leave the plane at Idlewild Airport.

★ ★ ★

Reporters carried on a kind of running interview as the couple hurried through the throng to a limousine for the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

One asked the actress how she felt.

"What do you think?" she asked in return. "It's my wedding day and I feel wonderful."

★ ★ ★

When photographers asked them to embrace for pictures, Miss Taylor declined and said: "We're saving that for ourselves."

NEXT STOP — SPAIN

The couple was scheduled to leave by plane late today for Spain, but Fisher said he had to complete passport arrangements and their departure might be postponed.

He said he and his wife expect to be abroad three or four months.

★ ★ ★

After they reach Madrid they will take a charter plane to Barcelona and board a honeymoon yacht which has a cabin styled after Christopher Columbus' quarters on the Santa Maria.

Fisher's schedule in Las Vegas was at jet age speed, but on the ground.

Then a limousine sped him to the county courthouse, where in 10½ minutes he got a Nevada divorce from actress Debbie Reynolds, alleging mental cruelty.

A quick phone call brought Liz to join him in the marriage license bureau across the hall from the divorce court. Then, 3½ hours after the divorce, the two were wed in brief Jewish rites performed by two rabbis in a residential area synagogue.

A limousine then hurried the two past 200 fans outside the synagogue and on to the bride's $500-a-week rented ranch.

★ ★ ★

There champagne corks popped furiously for a hasty reception. Next the couple hurriedly gathered up their luggage and passports and were off to the airport.

Peter Lorre Removed From Critical Status

GRANADA, Spain (AP) — Veteran movie actor Peter Lorre has been taken off the critical list but faces a long convalescence from a heart attack.

Limit Boats on Seaway

OTTAWA (UP)—Officials are emphasizing that pleasure boats under 20 feet long and less than two tons deadweight are banned from the St. Lawrence Seaway. Regulations made into law recently note that the seaway is for moving cargo, and small craft may use other available channels.

His Protest Stinks

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — Restaurant owner Sam Saletta, 42, protested that the city was failing to collect his garbage by lining up a three-week accumulation of refuse right smack in the middle of the street.

And Child Psychology Adds Finishing Touch

Medicine Makes Orphanages Obsolete

NEW YORK (AP) — The orphan, forlorn and alone in the world, has all but vanished from the American scene.

Ahead of him into obsolescence has plunged that old-fashioned institution, the orphan asylum.

Credit for this goes primarily to science and medicine.

Research, wonder drugs, antibiotics, vaccines and improvements in surgical techniques are keeping so many people alive today that the number of children who have lost both parents has dropped a dramatic 93 per cent in the past 40 years.

The almost fantastic decrease in the nation's death rate and the increased life expectancy of the average citizen cut the number of new orphans to 52,000 last year.

If life and death conditions prevailing in 1920 had remained unchanged, the figure would have been 750,000.

DRAMATIC RESULTS

The fact that more people are staying alive and that people are living longer has had a particularly dramatic effect on children.

At the moment, for instance, there are about 2,700,000 children in this country who are under 18 and have lost one or both parents. Had it not been for the improvement in the nation's health, there would be close to 10 million.

The fast diminishing numbers of orphans logically would have had the effect of putting the hundreds of orphanages in the nation out of business.

It has come, however, at a time when there has been vastly increased understanding of children and their problems. The result has been that the number of institutions for children has remained almost static since 1920 at about 1,600.

But today few of these institutions are orphanages. They are almost entirely diagnostic and treatment centers for disturbed children, retarded children, children with special problems who need special treatment.

Many of them have retained, for sentimental or traditional reasons, their old names. One famous home for "foundlings" still keeps its name but its emphasis has shifted from door-step babies to the placement of children for adoption or in foster homes and to treatment of the disturbed or neglected.

Today, too, good practice demands that fully orphaned children be placed quickly in adoptive homes rather than cared for in institutions. Sometimes half-orphans are placed in foster homes for short-term or long-term care. And in many instances, public welfare funds are provided for a widowed mother so she can keep her family together.

INSTITUTIONS HARMFUL

With increased knowledge of children's need's child experts are convinced today that, unless circumstances are unusual, institutional care is actually harmful for children under 6, including infants. Thus scores of communities have closed orphanages and rely on foster homes instead.

★ ★ ★

"Communities which persist in providing long institutional care for forsaken children are literally endangering the lives of those children," said John A. Reid, executive secretary of the Child Welfare League of America.

"There is clear evidence that a much higher incidence of mental disturbance and stunted physical and mental development exists in children who have been subjected to this type of care, regardless of the quality of the care."

The shift in child care techniques and the scarcity of orphans has resulted, too, in a marked drop in the numbers of children involved in what social workers now call "group living" — institutions. In 1933 there were about 144,000 in what once were called orphanages.

At the last count — 1957 — the number had dropped to 87,000 and is still decreasing.

Most of them were disturbed children, or those who were taken out of unstable homes, broken homes, disturbed homes — but at least 50 per cent were expected to return to family living in less than two years.

Fenton Kegler Wins Howe's Meet by Pin

Jim Walker of Walled Lake had the top actual of 2377 and George Bishop of Drayton rolled the best game of 279. Bob Cannon of Rochester hit 277.

★ ★ ★

Bishop finished 3rd overall with 2489, Bob Kelly and Gene Shell of Drayton hit 2458 and 2457, Holly's Art Swartz totaled 2442 and Fred Vess of Clarkston 2439.

Judge Says Case Gone to Higher Jurisdiction

But Always Cold, Desolate

Antarctic Historic and Scenic

By MAURICE CUTLER

McMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (UPI)— Apart from the cold, the most striking impression on a newcomer to the Antarctic is made by the continent's desolate but magnificent scenic beauty.

The area around this U.S. Navy air base on Murdo Sound, about 800 miles from the south pole, is a fitting example of this.

The base was built early in 1956 to provide air support for the construction and maintenance of U.S. International Geophysical Year science bases scattered throughout the Antartic.

It has been continuing in this role since IGY ended Dec. 31 and is now part of the U.S. Antarctic Research Program.

★ ★ ★

Situated on a slope of the southern tip of Ross Island, an ice-locked mound of volcanic ash which overlooks McMurdo Sound, the base is a cluster of about 40 huts of various sizes including a chapel, and surrounded by supply dumps.

Huge table-like icebergs, rising to 200 feet in height and often miles long, drift into the Sound after breaking off the Ross Ice Shelf, a huge chunk of ice the size of California.

The Ross Shelf is on the other side of the island and it extends for several hundred miles to the east.

In addition to being one of the most scenic areas of the continent, McMurdo Sound is also the most historic.

It was from here that British Antarctic pioneers Captain Robert Falcon Scott and Sir Ernest Shackleton made their historic made their historic dashes to the Pole.

The hut is still in solid condition, but snow and ice accumulating over the decades since it was last used have all but covered the structure.

Only the gabled roof and about two feet of the walls remain above the snow. Because of the snow blown inside, it is impossible to enter the hut without a major excavation project.

Also in the vicinity of this modern camp are three memorials which dramatically illustrate that Antarctic exploration, even today is filled with hidden dangers.

At the edge of a 40-foot cliff near the Scott hut is a cross erected in memory of a member of his expedition who was swept to his death in a savage blizzard nearby. And on top of another hill at the end of the base's main street is a tall wooden cross facing the South Pole and inscribed with the words: "To strive, to seek, to find and not to yeild."

The cross is a memorial to Scott and his four companions who died about 100 miles from here 46 years ago as they returned from their "march" to the Pole, terribly disappointed because they'd been beaten by the Norwegian Amundsen.

★ ★ ★

Overlooking the Scott hut as a grim reminder to present-day visitors to this bleak land is a religious memorial to Seabee tractor driver Richard T. Williams who drowned in 600 fathoms of McMurdo Sound early in 1956.

★ ★ ★

Death has claimed the lives of 15 other men in Operation Deepfreeze operations, including six who died in a plane crash while enroute to McMurdo last October.

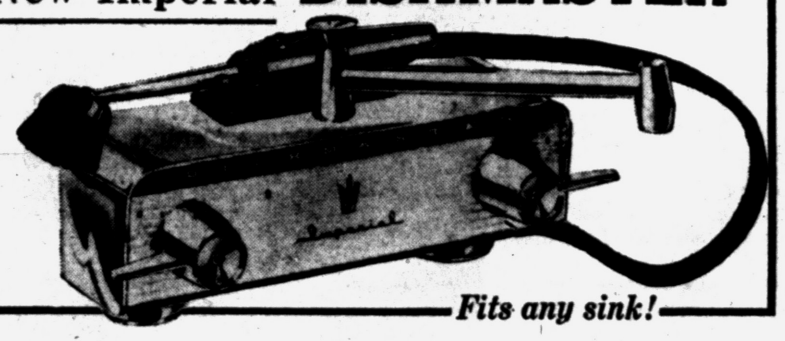

New York Central Has White Elephant

JORDAN, N.Y. (UPI)—In 1860, the New York Central Railroad purchased 3.8 acres of land in this upstate village on which to store fuel for the old wiod-burning locomotives.

The Central has been unable to sell the now vacant property, which is assessed at $200 and says it still pays $4 a year in taxes on it.

Nats' Killebrew Treats Dykes Just as He Did Norman

Husky Senator Makes Feast of Tiger Pitching

His 2 Home Runs Rip Detroit 7-4 as Sisler Draws Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmie Dykes has found out why Bill Norman's last two days as manager of the Detroit Tigers were so miserable.

Dykes met Killebrew for the first time last night. Killebrew was completely unimpressed by the Tigers' change in managers or their streak of seven victories in eight games.

The husky Washington Senator third baseman treated Dykes' pitchers just as he had in the lamented Norman era. He feasted on the Tiger staff for his usual two homers and guided the Senators to a 7-4 victory.

It marked the third straight game Killebrew has clobbered Detroit pitching for two towering home runs. He did it May 1 and May 2 at Briggs Stadium as the Senators beat the Tigers 4-3 and 15-3. It was after the 15-3 trouncing that Norman was fired and Dykes named manager.

Killebrew now has homered twice in one game, four times in the last 12 games. He leads the American League in home runs with 12 and runs batted in with 28.

Last night Killebrew drove in five of Washington's runs off Frank Lary, Dave Sisler and Ray Narleski. He now has 15 runs batted in in four games against the Tigers.

★ ★ ★

Lary, who had won with route-going performances in his last three starts, failed to hold a 3-0 lead in the sixth inning. Killebrew tied the game with one swing after Bob Allison had doubled home Albie Pearson. He belted Lary's pitch 420 feet into the left-center field bleachers and scored behind Allison.

Harvey Kuenn's single and Lou Berberet's double gave Detroit a momentary 4-3 advantage in the seventh.

Ex-Tiger J. W. Porter sent Lary to the showers with a double. Reliefer Dave Sisler soon joined Lary after walking Roy Sievers and Pearson. Ray Narleski came in and let Allison tie the score with a sacrifice fly. Then Killebrew belted another mammoth clout—this one good for three runs—into the left field seats off Narleski.

Sisler, making his second appearance with the Tigers after his acquisition from Boston, was charged with the defeat. It was his first decision of the season.

Bill Fischer, who wasn't good enough to make the Tigers last season, earned his second victory over his former teammates. Truman Clevenger mopped up after Sievers pinch hit for Fischer in the productive seventh.

Detroit scored twice in the first. Eddie Yost, making his first appearance in Tiger regalia in the city where he played for 15 years, led off with a single. Larry Osborne scored Yost with a double and rode home himself on Al Kaline's single.

Killebrew and the Senators get another crack at Tiger pitching tonight. Dykes has nominated lefty Don Mossi to hurl for the Tigers. For the fourth-place Senators, it'll be Hal Griggs, who pitched a two-hitter against New York in his last start.

KILLER BREWS A BLAST — Harmon Killebrew of the Washington Senators has the American League and especially the Tigers in a storm with the way he has been putting the ball into the stands. The third baseman who was signed in 1954 for $30,000 is playing his first season as a regular and he has hit 12 homers and has 28 runs batted in already. He killed the Tigers with two homers and five RBI's yesterday.

U.S. Walker Cup Squad Tries 'Weatherproofing'

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — The brash youngsters of America's Walker Cup golf team are out to prove they are just as good as the British in high winds and rough weather.

★ ★ ★

"The more wind we get Friday the better we'll like it," said 23-year-old Ward Wettlaufer of Buffalo, N.Y. "We want to play the course under as many different conditions as possible so no matter what British weather is like Friday we will be ready for it."

U.S. amateur golfers defend the Walker Cup against the British Friday and Saturday over the 6,806-yard Muirfield course beside the Firth of Forth.

"We're not worrying too much about the wind — it will be the same for the British," Wettlaufer added.

The chubby New Yorker's comments came after British golf writers warned the youngsters on the team that when the wind blows at Muirfield par can be as high as 76. By American standards normal par is 36-36—72.

The other three newcomers on the invading team — Deane Beman, 21, of Silver Spring, Md.; Tom Aaron, 22, of Gainesville, Ga., and Jack Nicklaus, 19, of Columbus, Ohio — joined Wettlaufer in saying they were unfraid of Scotland's feared seaside weather.

In four days' practice the Americans have turned in some surprisingly good scores, with Charlie Coe, the playing captain from Oklahoma City, setting the pace. Coe, U.S. National Amateur champion, had a 67 yesterday—best for either team.

Coe said he would wait until just before Thursday's 5:30 a.m. EST deadline to announce his lineup for the Scotch foursomes.

Four team matches will be played Friday with eight singles matches Saturday. In Scotch foursomes, the players on each team hit alternate balls.

Two 1-0 Blanks in Softball Loop

Arro Tops Buttercup, Harrison Over Bears in City Action

A pair of 1-0 shutouts, both in the National division, featured last night's 2nd round of City League softball activity at Beaudette and Northside parks.

Both 1-0 decisions took place on the Beaudette diamond and in each case the game's only run was unearned and came in the top of the 5th inning. Arro Realty beat Buttercup Drive-In and Harrison's Grill defeated Big Bear Construction.

Arro's Art Weiss outpitched Chuck Martin with each hurler spinning a two-hitter. Guy Weiss singled home Dayton Patterson with the deciding tally after Patterson reached 2nd base on an outfield error.

Harrison's Roger Voorheis got the best of Gene Mayer in the other mound duel as he limited Big Bear to three safeties. Mayer allowed six hits. Chuck Pace scored the decisive run on an infield miscue after whacking a two-bagger.

In International loop games at Northside, the Sport Shop trounced the Pontiac Police, 8-1, and Griff's Grill walloped Langdon's Boat Livery, 10-2.

Tonight's games: At Beaudette—Lakeside Royals vs. Pontiac Merchants (American), 7 p.m., and UAW-CIO Local 594 vs. Deni's Corner (American), 8:30 p.m. At Northside—Blue Star vs. Wright's Upholstery (National), 7 p.m., and State Hospital vs. Rogers Electric (International), 8:30 p.m.

First Error in 2 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra was charged with his first error since July 28, 1957, Tuesday night—one game after he set a major league record for catchers with 148 consecutive errorless games.

The New York Yankee veteran, marking his 34th birthday Tuesday, was handed an error when his throw went into center field as he tried to nail the stealing Minnie Minoso in the fifth inning of the game with the Cleveland Indians.

Silver Lake Honors Split

It was "divide the honors" day Tuesday in the women's weekly Silver Lake Golf League. Low putt laurels were shared by Mrs. Elbert Looney and Mrs. Earle Weber, each with 17. There was a three-way tie for 1st place in the "blind hole" event among Mrs. Loren Aris, Mrs. Wayne Harrison and Mrs. Looney, all shooting sevens on No. 1.

Doctoring Your Golf

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Three-putt greens.

DIAGNOSIS: Defeatist attitude on approach putts.

TREATMENT: On no other shot in golf, I am convinced, is the proper mental attitude more important than on the long approach putt. Too many golfers play this shot despairingly, with only a vague hope of getting the ball to stop somewhere in the general vicinity of the cup. This is the "three-putt attitude."

The way I sees the thing, (to borrow a phrase from the late Kingfish), the idea is simply to do your very best to MAKE these long approach putts. True enough, none of us is going to hole many of these 50 and 60 footers. But that is not the point.

The point is that the best way to get the ball CLOSE TO THE CUP is to try to knock it IN THE CUP. Be positive and resolute about the matter.

Picture the ball following the proper line and falling into the hole just as it loses its last bit of momentum. It costs nothing to aim at perfection on these long puts, and it will save you many three-putt greens.

Bronx-Born Rocky Slugs Indians Past Yankees

Colavito Gives Casey Fits

By United Press International

All's fair in love and war, so the Indians are now using a "rock" to knock off the Yankees.

This particular rock happens to be Rocky Colavito and what hurts the Yankees is that he was born and bred in the Bronx and always dreamed of playing for them.

Every time he opposes the Yankees now, however, he turns the game into a nightmare for Casey Stengel.

Like Tuesday night, for example, when he blasted his eighth homer, two doubles and a single in a 7-6 victory that represented Cleveland's third straight triumph of the season over the slumping World Champions.

To make matters worse for Casey, he had to sit and watch ex-Yankee Woody Held slam a two-run homer during a five-run third-inning outburst for the Tribe.

Cal McLish gave up homers to Mickey Mantle, Elston Howard and Yogi Berra but still wound up with his fifth straight victory even though he needed relief help from Jim Perry. Young Perry struck out four of the seven men he faced to protect Cleveland's 1½ game lead in the American League race.

Three Yankee errors helped the Indians score four unearned runs and one of the errors was committed by Berra, who had set a record by catching 148 straight games without a miscue.

Chicago White Sox outfielder Al Smith socked a towering two-run homer off Boston relief pitcher Murray Wall in the 12th inning Tuesday night for a 4-3 victory.

The game, which lasted four hours and 23 minutes, also marked the 1959 debut of Boston's defending American League batting champion, Ted Williams. The 40-year-old slugger had been out since March with a pinched neck muscle.

The home forces, down 4-2 before 22,012 Fenway Park fans, made a determined bid to catch up off winner Rodolfo Arias after two were out in the bottom of the 12th. Jackie Jensen hit his eighth homer and Dick Gernert reached base on an error before Sammy White flied out on a 3-2 pitch.

Dick Donovan, first of four Chicago pitchers, gave the White Sox a 2-0 lead on a two-run homer in the second inning.

HAPPY WARRIORS — Three happy Indians whoop it up in the dressing room after they helped beat the New York Yankees, 7-6 in Yankee Stadium last night. Rocky Colavito (left) hit a homer, double and two singles; Jim Perry gave up one hit and fanned four in two innings of relief and Woody Held (right) hit a two-run homer.

Entry Deadline for Champions' Tourney Friday

Area bowling teams interested in entering the 2nd annual Tournament of Champions for Waterford league winners have only until Friday to do so.

That is the entry date for the event sponsored by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce. Competition will be held May 21-24 at four keg houses. The semifinals and finals will be rolled at Dixie Recreation on the 24th.

Any men's team which won a championship at any of the four participating alleys or in a loop which started at the former Huron Bowl are eligible to compete for the $200 1st prize. Runnerup teams may take part where titlists do not enter.

St. Joseph Bowler in Women's Lead

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A 90-pin per game handicap added to a 660 actual series has given Mrs. Ruth Retz of St. Joseph the handicap singles lead in the Michigan Women's Bowling Assn. tournament at Grand Rapids.

She fired games of 214, 241 and 211. Adding the 90-pin spot per game gave her a handicap total of 756, two pins better than Mrs. Shirley Pearson of Rockford who had reached the lead a week earlier.

The tournament concludes May 30.

Will Use 2-Way Radio System at Indianapolis

Hope to Solve '500' Starting Woes

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — After losing nine cars in the last two 500-mile races before they had completed a single lap, the Indianapolis Motor Speedway will try to smooth out the May 30 start with a two-way radio system.

Speedway President Tony Hulman announced today that a radio transmitter and receiver in his pace car will keep him in touch with chief steward Harlan Fengler at the starting line.

Fengler, in turn, will be in telephone communication with eight observers around the 2½-mile track. It is impossible to see the entire track from any one spot.

Last year the first three cars in the lineup pulled out of the pits ahead of the pace car. Two extra laps were necessary before the lineup could be straightened up for the official start. Then 15 cars were involved in a pile-up on the first lap. Driver Pat O'Conner was fatally injured, six other drivers were unable to continue and another completed only one lap.

Hulman had announced earlier that the new starting system adopted two years ago would be abandoned. That system called for drivers to pull out of the infield pits and find their positions behind the pace car. The old arrangement, being restored this Memorial Day, lines up the 33 cars on the track in 11 rows before their engines are started.

Fifty-eight of the 61 cars entered were at the track yesterday and most of their drivers were out practicing for Saturday's time trials.

Johnny Thomson of Boyertown, Pa., veteran of six Indianapolis races, was timed unofficially at 146.2 miles per hour on two different laps. The four-lap qualifying record of 145.9 was set last year by Dick Rathmann of San Gabriel, Calif., whose brother, Jim, turned an unofficial lap at 147.06 Monday.

There was two accidents — one on the track and one in the pits. Joe Fukoshima of Los Angeles, a mechanic, suffered a leg injury when he fell under the big gray Novi to be driven by veteran Paul Russo of Webster, Ill. It was being pushed in the pits. Driver Rex Easton of Springfield, Ill., escaped injury when his Hoover Special skidded almost 800 feet in the northwest turn and stopped undamaged against an inner railing.

Great Gallon—Meadow Patch

DETROIT (AP)—Great Gallon and Meadow Patch — a pair of three-year-olds unaccustomed to winning—won last night and paid $242.20 in the daily double at Hazel Park Harness Raceway.

It was the second largest double of the season which began April 27.

Each horse was victorious for the first time in three starts. Great Gallon paid $11.40 in winning the first race. Meadow Patch paid $33.80 in the second.

Robinson 'Signs'

Basilio Scoffs at 'Sugar'

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The camps of both Carmen Basilio and Gene Fullmer scoffed today at Sugar Ray Robinson's announcement that he has signed to defend the world middleweight championship against Basilio here Sept. 21.

Former champ Basilio, who says all he knows of the proposed deal is what he reads in the papers, said in Syracuse, N.Y., that the terms outlined "sound like one of Robinson's deals."

And Marv Jenson, manager of Fullmer, insisted his fighter and Basilio are signed to meet for Robinson's vacated title in Syracuse, sometime in July.

"This is just another trick by Robinson to prolong confusion in the middleweight division," Jenson said in West Jordan, Utah.

Ever since he was shorn of his crown by the National Boxing Association nine days ago, the 39-year-old Robinson has been negotiating for defenses in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Dallas, in addition to Philadelphia.

The NBA clipped Robinson's wings for failure to defend since winning his title back from Basilio in Chicago on March 25, 1958. Robinson remains champion in the eyes of the non-member New York Athletic Commission but that group is ready to crack down on Sugar Ray Friday.

★ ★ ★

There was uncertainty still whether Sugar Ray's signing in Philadelphia got him off the hook in New York State. Under a court order Robinson has until Friday to "enter into articles of agreement" for the Basilio fight. Whether his solo singing would be interpreted as entering into articles of agreement was questionable.

Chairman Melvin L. Krulewitch of the New York commission would say only: "The commission has received no word of the Philadelphia signing. But this matter undoubtedly will be discussed by the commission."

The announcement of the 15-round rubber match at Municipal Stadium, with a gross of $750,000 to $1,000,000 predicted, was made by Alfred Klein, a member of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission.

Dr. Ward Wylie, NBA president, said later in Mullens, W. Va., he would recommend that the NBA executive committee reinstate Robinson as world champion for the title defense.

Zauchin, Valentinetti Sold to Miami Club

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senators Tuesday night announced they have sold the contracts of first baseman Norm Zauchin and pitcher Vit Valentinetti to the Miami Marlins of the International League.

Zauchin, 28, was obtained by the Senators from Boston in January, 1958 along with Albie Pearson in a trade for Pete Runnels. Norm hit .228 in 96 games for Washington last season. He was .211 in 19 games this year.

Valentinetti, 30, came to Washington from Detroit last season in a trade for pitcher Al Cicotte. For the Tigers and Senators last year, the chunky right-hander had a 5-6 record. This season, Vito had appeared in seven games, had an 0-2 record and a 9.81 earned run average.

Zauchin has been out with flu for more than a week and Julio Becquer has been filling in at first.

Homer in 10th Wins for Drug

Jim Patterson's tremendous home run, which cleared the right field screen, broke up a 10-inning marathon between Drayton Drug and Spencer Floor Covering and gave the Druggists an 8-7 victory in last night's feature Waterford League softball game at Drayton Plains.

Patterson's booming blow came with one man out in the top of the 10th and climaxed an uphill climb for the Druggists, who faced a 7-1 deficit entering the 3rd inning. Arlo Flesher, the victim of Patterson's homer, was the losing pitcher while Bill Goulet received credit for the win.

Hoot Gibson of the Arrows, taking up where he left off last season, trippled home three runs in the 1st inning to trigger his team to a 7-5 win over Dobski's Bar in the 2nd game of the evening. The Arrows were outhit, 9-4.

Hold Half-Game Edge After 3-1 Win Over Phillies

Dodgers Slip Into NL Lead

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodyers won their fourth in a row last night, beating Philadelphia 3-1 behind the five-hit pitching of young Danny McDevitt. That gave the Dodgers a half-game lead over Milwaukee although the two clubs are tied percentagewise (.600). The Braves lost 7-3 to the Chicago Cubs.

St. Louis kept Cincinnati from making it a virtual three-way tie by beating the Reds 7-4. Pittsburgh defeated San Francisco 6-5 in 12 innings.

No one has been able to put together more than a four-game string in the National League scramble this season. Fact is, only the Braves and Dodgers have won that many in a row. The Braves won their first four and took first place early in April. The Dodgers won four straight and came within .133 percentage points of first place three weeks ago.

It's a repeat of last year's pennant scrap in the NL, when the longest winning streak was seven games. The Dodgers, who finished seventh, never won more than four straight last year.

The Dodgers now have won seven of their last 10, and McDevitt has two of the three complete games the pitching staff has produced in that span. The 26-year-old lefty (2-1) had a two-hit shutout until the eighth-inning last night, when Willie Jones hit his seventh home run. McDevitt walked none, fanned six.

It was McDevitt who singled home the Dodgers' first run in the fifth after loser Gene Conley (1-1) had purposely passed Don Zimmer. The Dodgers scored twice in that frame, getting the other on an error. Duke Snider singled home the final run in the eighth off reliever Jack Meyer.

The Cubs handed five - game winner Lew Burdette his second loss in a row, scoring five in the ninth at Chicago on a home run by Walt Moryn and pinch-hitter Earl Averill's first grand-slam. Tony Taylor also homered off Burdette, who had been 3-0 against the Cubs since April, 1957. Don Elson (1-1) won it with one inning of scoreless relief. Starter Bob Anderson was tagged for homers by Del Crandall, Johnny Logan and Ed Mathews, who leads the majors with 13.

The Pirates, shut out on three hits for six innings by Johnny Antonelli, put it away with three runs in the 12th. Gordon Jones (1-2), fourth of six Giants pitchers, was the loser. Bennie Daniels who lost his first decision as a starter Monday night, won this one in relief, although roughed up for two runs in the 12th on two singles and three errors. Two of the boots were by Bob Clemente, whose single proved the clincher for the Pirates.

72 Breeds Represented in OCKC Show

Entries Total 900

By The Press Outdoor Editor

Regarded as Michigan's largest one-day dog show, the annual spring all-breed exhibition by the Oakland County Kennel club takes place Sunday at Detroit Artillery Armory, 15000 West 8-Mile road.

Entries for this benched show and obedience trial have reached 900, club officials reported today. The total is 25 per cent above that for 1958, and represents some 72 breeds. The show opens at 9 a. m., concludes at 5 p. m.

SHOW SPONSORED BY ALL-MEN CLUB

Hundreds of out-of-state exhibitors were expected for both the OCKC show, and for Saturday's unbenched, all-breed show by the Ingham County Kennel club, at Lansing. Practically all dogs from the Lansing show will move into the armory for the OCKC exhibition on Sunday.

★ ★ ★

None of the 38 OCKC members will enter any champion of his own in this show. The club is unique, in that its membersihp is entirely male. It is also unusual in that it is believed to have more members who are licensed judges than any other American all-breed club.

DO OUTBOARDS FRIGHTEN FISH?

For a long time fishermen and outboard motor boaters have been feuding over whether or not the "props" of outboard motors frighten fish with noise and turbulence, and cause damage to fishing grounds. Mort Neff, on his "Michigan Outdoors" TV program tomorrow night (7:30) has a film made in Marineland, Fla., to provide an answer to these questions. The picture was made by Dick Gail, of the Champion Spark Plug company, who will make some observations about the matter.

MICHIGAN'S BEST TROUT STREAMS

Listed among the 100 best trout streams in the nation, as compiled by Outdoor Life experts, are four from Michigan. This observer would add at least one more; the Manistee. Rated as No. 6 on the list of top areas are the Boardman, world-famed brown trout water; Platte—fast becoming equally good as a brown trout stream; the UP Carp river, rainbows, browns and brooks; AuSable, good browns, many big rainbows, some brooks. The Pere Marquette might also be included as one of the best.

★ ★ ★

Although Michigan trappers encountered poor winter conditions, they did manage to take 15,607 beaver and 830 otter. The harvest is reported by the conservation department as being considerably below the 1957-58 record season. Most beaver were trapped in the UP. Half of the otter were taken there also, none in the southern part of the Lower Peninsula.

Prices for pelts are lower, running $13-$15 for beaver and $20-$25 for prime otter.

KING-SIZED — The fish the northern Michigan angler holds above looks like a foot-long specimen, but it's the camera angle that makes a six inch smelt look that way. His catch is typical of the popularity of smelt dipping, in which thousands of Michigan anglers participate each spring.

TUESDAY'S FIGHTS

YUMA, Ariz.—Art Aragon, 152½, Los Angeles, knocked out Bobcat Terrance, 158, Chicago, 2.

NEEDS MOORINGS — Go back, captain, and put out a stern hook and a bow line on that sharp-looking boat near the shoreline. Quiet water can churn up in a hurry. It isn't enough just to beach the bow on the sand.

You're the Skipper

By JOHN BOHANNAN
Syndicated Boating Writer

You're looking over the bow of your boat toward a beautiful beach. Its white glare has been tempered by the lengthening afternoon shadows, and the smooth, dark water in the lee of the shore looks inviting. All hands would like to go for a swim, followed by a picnic on the sand.

You can have a barrel of fun and stay out of trouble if you'll do a little preliminary checking and follow a sensible routine.

1. Check the weather report, and take a look at your barometer and the sky. If it looks like the beach may become a lee shore due to a sudden wind shift, forget the landing party and drive around in your car if you must.

2. Study the chart. Are there any hidden rocks? Does the nature of the bottom indicate good holding ground for your anchor? Does the spacing of the fathom curves indicate that the depth lessens gradually, or is the water deep-to, shelving abruptly close alongside the shore?

3. If you are in tidal water, check the tide tables to see whether the level will be rising or falling during your picnic.

The owner of a large, deep-draft boat—whether power or sail—will want to anchor well offshore and make his landing in the dinghy. Like other small craft, it can be dragged up on the beach and off easily for return trips.

If you have a large outboard cruiser, a small inboard, or a shoal draft centerboard sailboat not large enough to stow or tow a dinghy, but too big to be beached, you've got to mix good seamanship with common sense.

Take soundings constantly as you near the shore. Keep your speed slow enough so you can back away from the situation before you run aground.

As you make your final approach, put out a stern anchor and station someone aft to play out the line as you edge ahead. This hook will be worth its weight in gold if a wind shift takes place, and will keep you in control of your craft.

Questions and Answers

At my favorite beach there are no trees for tying a bow line. It seems like a lot of work to lug a marine anchor ashore. Is there any other solution to this problem?

You can use one or two ground anchors such as are used for tying down light airplanes. They screw into the earth and have good holding power, yet are more easily portable than a marine anchor.

Electronic depth sounder, lead line, or for the last few feet when in shoal draft craft, a boat hook or oar will do the trick.

Eddy Files Protest on Change of Fund

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan Conservation director Gerald E. Eddy was among conservation officials from three states protesting a proposed change in allotment of federal funds for wildlife restoration at a recent meeting in Milwaukee.

A plan to base the allotment formula on number of licenses instead of total dollar amount of sales should be shelved for a year, Eddy told the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Little Boy, Big Fish

Five-year-old David Yankus is already an avid and conscientious fisherman. The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Yankus, 505 Oakley Park Rd., was fishing at Reed's Lake with his uncle, Warren Pushaw, 3310 Buss Dr., yesterday when he hooked and landed a fat 9½-inch bluegill all by himself.

David also caught several smaller 'gills, took a bass which he released (they're not yet legal piscatorial prey).

Washtub Size 'Snapper' Gives Big Meat Supply

One of the largest turtles taken from an Oakland county lake in years was reported this week by Donald Clement, of 6984 Patmore, near Williams lake, who took a wash-tub size "snapper" from Williams lake, near Hatchery rd.

Clement says he first saw the old mossback several weeks ago, decided to go back and try to spear it. He relocated the 3½-foot long reptile, speared it in one flipper, and lugged it home.

The turtle weighed more than 30 pounds, had a mouth, sharp-rimmed, that opened nearly six inches.

Divide Twin Bill

HILLSDALE (AP) — Don Smith pitched a three-hitter in Hillsdale's 1-0 victory over Central Michigan in the opening of a doubleheader yesterday. Central won the nightca 7-5.

Broncs Trip Michigan for 3rd Straight Win

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Western Michigan has had the University of Michigan's number on the baseball field this season.

The Broncos won their third straight over the Wolverines yesterday 7-1. Larry Belanger hit a two-run homer for Western and three Bronco pitchers held Michigan to seven hits.

Michigan plays at the University of Detroit today and another victory for the Titans could earn them a bid to the NCAA playoffs.

Multi-Lakes to See Unusual Travel Films

Following a potluck dinner, Hans Bretzner will show his "Round the World" pictures, which stress people and their ways of life rather than scenery. Film was shot in Hawaii, Indo-China, Singapore, Siam, Burma, India, Italy, France and many other places.

First Press Medalist Still Tops

68 by Pontiac's Rogers in 1952 Is Unsurpassed

May 20 Entry Deadline for Prep Invitational Golf Tourney

By BILL CORNWELL

The finest high school golfers in the Oakland County area will be trying once more to crack an enviable record when The Pontiac Press Prep Invitational golf tournament has its 8th annual outing May 25 at Pontiac Country Club.

They will try again to better the record-setting medal score of 68 posted by Pontiac Central's John Rogers in 1952 when the Chiefs won their only Press golf title.

That was the year the Press tourney was born and Rogers' brilliant round, a 35-33 scorecard at Municipal Golf Course, has withstood the challenge of every teenager who took aim at it.

For the last six years the best prep golfer in this territory, several of whom are now making headlines on the collegiate and amateur fronts as well as the professional level, have failed to equal or surpass the one-under-par effort by Rogers in the 1st Press event.

Among the youthful stars who have set their sights on Rogers' score without success are 1957 Michigan Amateur champion Lloyd Syron of Pontiac, Jack Reynolds of Waterford, Pete Green and Tim Baldwin of Birmingham, and Bud Badger of Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

Others of prominence who also couldn't beat it are Tommy Watrous, assistant pro at Oakland Hills, Waterford's John Wettlaufer, Bob Goldsmth of Birmingham, and Mike Conroy, son of North Hills pro Leo Conroy.

The greatest threat to Rogers' mark came last year on the city links when Pontiac Central's Dick Whitmer was medalist with 33-37—70. Pontiac's Bill Pembroke and Bob Runyon fired 70's in 1952 while Rogers was setting his record total.

That glittering 68 will be just like a magnet one week from next Monday when five-man teams from high school throughout the country area shoot for team and individual titles.

The largest field in the history of the Press tournament is expected to gather at Pontiac CC for the 18-hole medal play test. Tee-offs will begin simultaneously on both nines and starting time is 8:30 a.m.

Trackmen and golfers in Oakland County have their two biggest weekends of the season coming up in the form of the state regionals and finals.

Area thinclads will take part in regional meets at Detroit Thurston, Ypsilanti, Fitzgerald, Howell and Flint Central Saturday shooting for a chance to battle for state honors May 23 at Michigan State and Central Michigan.

Regional play for golfers is set for Friday with teams in this section competing at Flint Brookwood, Farmington Country Club and Burroughs Golf Course near Brighton. Finalists will vie for Michigan honors at two Port Huron layouts May 23.

Cranbrook's powerful Class B thinclads swamped Pontiac Northern's squad 84-24 yesterday, led by Larry DeWitt's three firsts. Waterford grabbed the top spot in a 3-way test at Milford, against Milford and Clarenceville in which three field records were broken. Skippers had 77, Milford 54 and Clarenceville 6. Birmingham edged Hazel Park in an EML dual, 56-53 for its 4th straight league win.

In other area meets Bloomfield Hills outscored OL St. Mary 58-51 in an event moved a day ahead, to accommodate the Eaglets, and Carkston defeated Pontiac St. Michael 56-33.

Huskies collected only one first place at Cranbrook. Jan Lawrence won the vault at 11 feet. DeWitt won the dashes and broad jump in the Cranes' 6th dual win. Mike Montgomery was only a step behind Cranes' Ogden in a hot finish for the 880.

Skippers grabbed 9 firsts at Milford, including two each by Jim Smith (hurdles), Larry Warner (100-220). They figured in three field records, Warner' 10.3 and 23.3 for the century and furlong, and Mike Ewer's 2:03.8 half mile.

Bill Krull's 9½ points was tops for the Bloomfield - OLSM meet.

Bill Flanagan won the dashes for Mikemen, but Clarkston had a 12¼-point winner in Bill Powell who won the broad jump, took two 2nds, in the 100-220, and ran a relay leg. Clarkston took 9 firsts for its 3rd dual victory.

Baseball activity yesterday saw Darrell Thorpe pitch a one-hitter as Avondale defeated Fitzgerald, 8-0 while Cranbrook defeated Pontiac Northern 5-3 with Roger Rothenburger getting the win.

Don Lamphere was the loser for PNH although he gave up only six hits while the Huskies got nine.

Bill Jennings was Avondale's big hitter as he drove in four runs with a single and a 3-run homer. Lone hit off Thorpe was a single in the 6th inning by Gostomski of Fitzgerald.

In golf yesterday, West Bloomfield stayed unbeaten in dual competition by whipping Clarkston, 163-191. John Shaw and Don Cole each fired 37 at Pontiac Country Club for W. Bloomfield.

Clarkston scores were Jim Gunther 42, Gar Wilson 48, Ed Glenny 51 and Jack Weaver 50. Barry Johnson with 45 and Jim Hollister's 44 were the other Keego scores.

Armada's baseball team made it 5-0 in the Thumb League by downing Dryden, 6-0 with Bill Bolio hitting a 2-run homer and Henry Hicks getting a pair of doubles. Roland Lashbrock struck out 12 Dryden batters.

It's Mrs. Marquardt Again at Lakepointe

The Women's District Golf Association held its second weekly 18-hole tournament of the season yesterday at Lakepointe and Mrs. H. G. (Rylma) Marquardt made it two victories in a row.

★ ★ ★

Winner in regulation distance last week at Red Run, Mrs. Marquardt had to go into a sudden-death playoff yesterday to defeat Mrs. L. W. Smead of Orchard Lake.

★ ★ ★

After the two golfers finished their 18-hole rounds with 86's, Mrs. Smead bowed out on the 2nd extra hole by missing a 10-foot putt for a par five as Mrs. Marquardt canned a 30-footer for her par. Mrs. Marquardt's regulation scorecard read 43-43 while Mrs. Smead posted 45-41.

MIAA Title in Balance

By United Press International

The MIAA league baseball conference championship hung in the balance in a double-header at Albion today.

Today is the last day of action in the MIAA, with Calvin opposing Albion in two games at Albion and Hillsdale playing two at Olivet.

That left Hope only one game behind Albion in the championship race and a single loss by Albion today would mean a tie for the championship while a double loss would mean Hope would claim the championship alone. Albion would clinch the championship with a double victory.

GOP Leaders Tell Eisenhower

Jobless Drop to Help Balance Budget

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican congressional leaders told President Eisenhower yesterday afternoon that the sharp April drop in unemployment will be a major factor in the administration's drive for a balanced budget.

The leaders, holding their weekly legislative conference with the President, said the improved economic picture would be a weapon in the GOP fight against Democratic spending programs that might upset the budget.

The labor and commerce departments reported Monday that the number of jobless dropped by 735,000 last month to a total of 3,627,000, the lowest figure since December, 1957.

After conferring with the President, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) and House leader Charles A. Halleck (Ind.) said the unemployment drop was an indication of "solid progress" toward complete recovery from the recession.

They drew these other conclusions from the employment report:

—Pending legislative proposals involving what they called "reckless spending" will lose their steam.

—The "restrained policies" of the Eisenhower administration in dealing with the business slump produced much more desirable results than would have the "panic button" proposals of the Democrats.

—Economic improvement in the next few months will bear out the prediction of Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell that unemployment will be down to 2,800,000 by October.

★ ★ ★

Halleck said the report increased administration hopes that it can achieve a balanced budget in the fiscal year beginning July 1. He said "the growing feeling against extravagant, reckless spending is beginning to make itself felt."

IKE AGREES

Halleck and Dirksen said the President joined them in "their "high degree of satisfaction" over the April employment report. But they said he continued to be concerned about the existence of unemployment anywhere.

Dirksen also told newsmen that the report stiffened opposition to the Senate-approved bill of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) to establish a special commission to make a short-range study of unemployment. The measure has bogged down in the House.

Assistant Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield (Mont.) disagreed with Dirksen. He said there still was a need for the Johnson study, but that it should be a long-term, continuing investigation rather than a quick, 60-day inquiry.

LONG-TERM PLANS

He said Congress "should not operate on a spur-of-the-moment basis but make long-term plans to meet unemployment that comes with increasing population and automation."

Mansfield noted that a million high school and college graduates will enter the labor market next month.

★ ★ ★

Some other Democrats contended that the drop in the jobless total did not end the need for aid to economically distressed areas where unemployment is chronic.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) said the "temporary improvement" in the jobless picture should not hinder proposals like his idea for the creation of a youth conservation corps.

Dior Fashions Go to Moscow Next Month

PARIS (AP)—The House of Dior, pace-setter in women's fashions for the Western world, is going to invade Moscow next month.

"There's a lot that can be done for Moscow's woman in the street," said Jacques Rouet Dior, director general of the fashion house who recently returned from a week in the Soviet Union. "Their style shows different taste. But there is a sack style influence."

The Soviet Chamber of Commerce invited Dior to present its spring and summer collection in Moscow June 12-16. Yves Saint Laurent, the young designer who took over after Christian Dior's death, will stay at home to work on the fall and winter collection.

This will be the first official French fashion show in the Soviet Union for more than 40 years. There will be 12 Dior models and 120 different outfits.

★ ★ ★

British, Italian and Polish fashions already have been presented in Moscow. American styles will be shown there for several months during this summer's exposition.

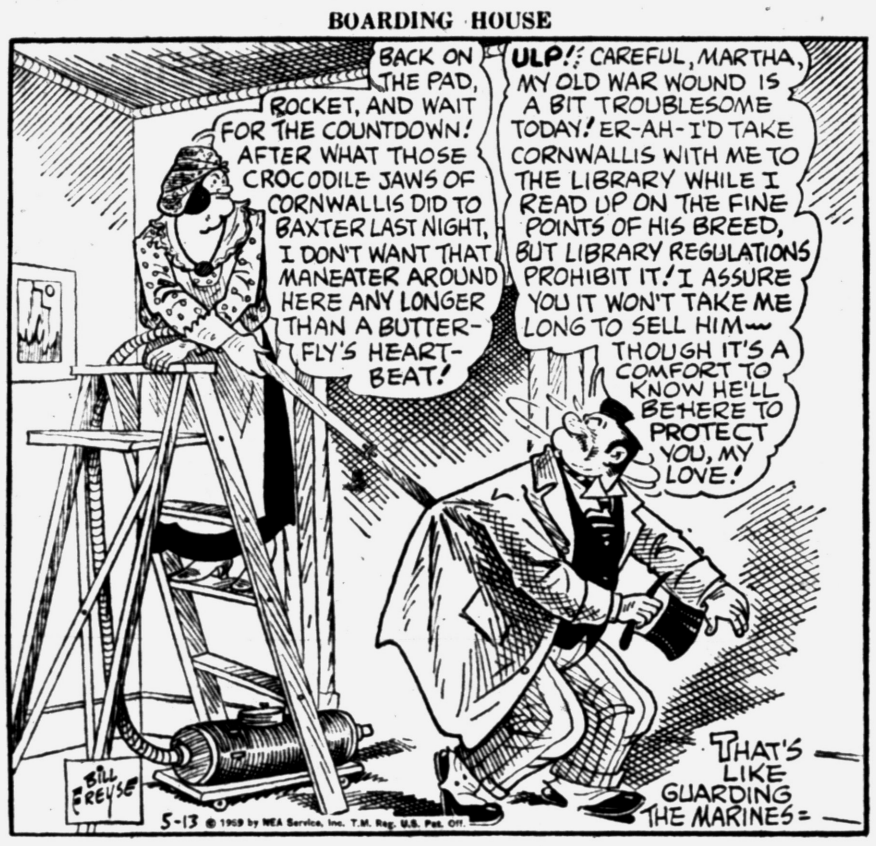

Dior emphasized he is not going to Moscow to sell.

"The purpose of this trip is prestige," he said. "It is also cultural and to show what we are doing."

John L. Lewis Hits Labor Bills

Brands All Proposed Regulation Measures in Congress Antiunion

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Lewis folded his arms, leaned back in the witness chair and declared today all proposed labor regulation bills represent thinking of interests opposing labor.

★ ★ ★

There cannot be welded by the Congress "a cast iron chastity belt around the waists of 16 million" people in labor unions without their consent, Lewis told members of a House labor subcommittee.

★ ★ ★

Lewis, his bushy eyebrows now gray, a tiny red rosebud on the lapel of his dark blue suit, said he was authorized by the United Mine Workers to express their view on proposed federal legislation to regulate labor unions.

He didn't like the bills.

The bill introduced by Rep. Graham Barden (D-NC), chairman of the House Labor Committee, Lewis called "eighty-eight pages of misery for a member of a labor union."

The Kennedy-Irwin bill passed by the Senate he described as "about 66 pages of misery; it's a more refined and delicate bill and the misery isn't quite so strong."

All of the bills, he said, represent interests adverse to labor unions and collective bargaining —"people with axes to grind, people with motives, sinister or otherwise I wouldn't undertake to say. . . . They all represent support by the rich, the wealthy and the powerful against the poor."

★ ★ ★

Life in America, even for the so-called average man, Lewis said, is better than the standard achieved by the land owner and kind of the Middle Ages.

"Why change it? Why change it? Why discriminate?" he asked.

He says the problem is an internal one for unions to solve and, anyway, there are plenty of laws against embezzlement to curb union frauds if the laws are enforced.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile the AFL-CIO, which supported the original Senate bill before amendments were added in the Senate, indicated a switch in sentiment.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council is to meet here next week to go over the Senate version section by section.

Steel Talks Recess to Regroup Forces

NEW YORK (AP)—Wage contract negotiations for the steel industry were in recess today, to give management and union representatives time to reassess their positions.

Negotiators met for about three hours Tuesday but there was no announcement by either side.

★ ★ ★

Asked to comment on the session, David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said "We cannot negotiate in the press."

★ ★ ★

"We have been meeting all morning and are negotiating carefully," said R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president of the U.S. Steel Corp. and top negotiator for the industry.

The present wage contract expires June 30.

There are about 800 coffee houses now in Vienna which serve both Viennese and American coffee. With the American coffee you get "cream and sugar."

Foreign Demand Spurs Futures

CHICAGO (AP) — Reports that India and Pakistan are in the market for wheat brought out an additional moderate volume of short covering today on the May contract in early dealings on the Board of Trade.

There were no indications of how much or which varieties of wheat the two nations may buy but there were hints that the total would be sizable and be the largest export purchases in several weeks.

Other contracts were narrowly mixed in slow dealings.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ¾ cent a bushel higher on May to ⅜ lower on the new crop months, May $1.90½; corn unchanged to ½ lower, May $1.75 unchanged to ½ lower, May 67½; rye 1¼ lower to ¼ higher, May $1.37½; soybeans ½ lower to ⅛ higher, May $2.30⅜.

★ ★ ★

Now Gabert, a widely known Pontiac businessman, is launching a sale to signal 30 years of business. Back in 1929 he opened his store carrying one one line, radios.

★ ★ ★

"Then around 1935 there began a trend, which I went along with, whereby business was expanded to include just about every household appliance you can think of," Gabert, of 349 Auburn Ave., recalled.

Gabert is known for being the first chairman of the Commercial Division of the Pontiac United Fund ever to push this division over its goal.

1st U.S. Car Builder Apperson Dies at 89

★ ★ ★

In 1893, Apperson and his late brother, Elmer, began building a horseless carriage in their machine shop at Kokomo, Ind. He was born on a farm near Kokomo.

★ ★ ★

"It was a far cry from the mechanical miracles of today, but it ran," he said in a recent interview. "It will run yet."

Labeled "First American Car," the vehicle now is in the Smithsonian Institute in Washington.

Apperson also was credited with being the nation's first automobile driver. He drove the car on its trial run July 4, 1894, scaring chickens, livestock and farmers as he rattled along a country road outside Kokomo.

★ ★ ★

The car was manufactured on assignment for Elwood Haynes, who later provided financial backing for the Haynes-Apperson Auto Co. which built cars for a number of years.

The Apperson brothers went into business for themselves producing as many as 14,000 to 16,000 cars a year for a number of years before Elmer died in 1920. Apperson sold out to a syndicate in 1924.

New Retailing Center to Open

GMC Truck and Coach Starts $500,000 Unit in Philadelphia

A new GMC Truck & Coach Division retail branch for the sale of GMC trucks will be erected in Philadelphia, it was announced today by Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division.

The building will be approximately 30,000 square feet in area, on a 4.09-acre site. Cost of the property and construction will amount to approximately $500,000. General contractor is the H. F. Campbell Construction Co. of Detroit.

"Making this investment in a new sales and service facility for GMC Truck customers in Philadelphia reflects our optimism in the future of the trucking industry here," Monaghan said. "The city, one of the most important in the nation for truck operators, ranks seventh in new truck sales."

Groundbreaking on the construction job started today, with completion expected in August. At that time, the present GMC Truck retail branch will move its center of operations to the new store.

★ ★ ★

The new branch will be ideally located to serve truck users in the area. Some of the nation's largest truck lines have terminals in the vicinity and will have quick access to the new GMC service facilities.

Firm Will Expand Detroit Dockage

DETROIT (AP) — Expansion plans are now in gear for the Port of Detroit, handicapped for dock space since the start of the 1959 shipping season.

Detroit Marine Terminals on the Rouge River, a tributary of the Detroit River, announced plans yesterday to triple its capacity through a million dollars in new construction.

David C. Lowe, president, said the expansion will increase transit shed space by 50,000 square feet and provide for a 700-foot extension of the terminals' dock.

Fuel Stocks Hit by New Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved unevenly in fairly active early trading today.

Gains and losses of key stocks were mostly from fractions to about a point.

★ ★ ★

Sharper losses were taken by selected issues, including shares of companies threatened with competition from the newly-announced liquid hydrogen fuel for rockets. Thiokol, a rocket fuel stock and recent big gainer, dropped about 2. A similar loss was taken by General Tire.

Parke, Davis Pact With Union Near

DETROIT (AP)—The International Assn. of Machinists last night accepted, subject to certain clarifications, a proposal by Parke, Davis & Co. for a new three-year contract.

★ ★ ★

The clarifications were to be discussed today at a bargaining session called by state mediator Walter Quillico and federal mediator William Rodgers.

Employes have been working at Parke, Davis without a contract since an old two-year pact expired April 30.

★ ★ ★

The union previously had authorized a strike with a noon deadline for today if the bargaining committee does not work out the clarifications.

The clarifications deal with what a company spokesman said were slight changes in some fringe benefits.

City Man Invents Gadget to Gauge Brake Fluid

The hair-raising terror of failing car brakes as you bear down on a crowded intersection or try to slow up for a curve in the highway is as unnecessary as the old-fashioned blowout.

This is the assurance given by Pontiac Motor Division inspector Gibson Bryan of 184 E. Huron St. He has invented an hydraulic brake indicator that will warn the driver when fluid is running low in the brake system of his vehicle.

"It should cut down brake failures by between 80 and 85 per cent, said George D. Preidis who is promoting sales of the product.

The device they are talking about is called the Ajax Hydraulic Brake Indicator. It is currently being tested by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department on several of its vehicles and by the Waterford Township Police Department which has had one installed on each of its five patrol cars.

Also, Bell Telephone Co. is planning to test the Ajax indicator on several of its light trucks, said Preidis. "We are also hoping that schools will take to the idea, and use them on school buses, he added.

According to Preidis, George Scott, state motor vehicle adviser for public schools in Michigan, is sold on the brake indicator as a big safety factor and intends to recommend their use on school buses.

The auto industry has long been seeking a safety device that would indicate when fluid brakes are about to give out. But a workable system that would not be too cumbersome has proved elusive.

Bryan feels he has the answer. It is a compact unit that would fit on the master brake cylinder.

"When the level of the fluid in the cylinder decreases to one third from the empty level, the unit operates a red safety light on the dashboard of the vehicle," he said. "This warning light gives the driver the opportunity to replace the loss of fluid before it is gone entirely."

The brake indicator is being produced by the D & D Manufacturing Co. here in conjunction with the Pontiac Coil Co.

Youngster, Mother Hurt in Area Auto Smashup

Four-year-old James Phipps of 7775 Foster Rd., Clarkston, was injured at 2 p.m. yesterday when the auto his mother was driving struck the rear of a car making a left turn from U.S. 10 onto Sashabaw road.

Mrs. James Phipps, 39, told Waterford Township Police she was attempting to pass a car making a right turn and did not see the car driven by Charles Hurd, 39, of 3838 Beaker St., Drayton Plains, until it was too late.

She was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for chest injuries. Her son suffered cuts to his arm and forehead. Both were released today.

Glare Causes Mishap; 2 Area Youths Hurt

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — Two Madison Heights teenager youths were injured last night when their car skidded off the road and hit a tree on Drahner road east of Barr road here, Romeo State Police reported today.

Driver of the car was Carl Vieau, 16, of 30823 Palmer St. His passenger was Daniel Nykanen, 18, of 31075 John R.

Both were taken to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, where they were treated for multiple cuts and bruises and released.

Vieau told officers he was blinded as he rounded a curve by headlights of an oncoming car.

Plan Harvard-Leningrad Exchange of Professors

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Harvard University officials say a tentative agreement has been reached for an exchange of professors between Harvard and Leningrad State University in the Soviet Union.

Officials said the Harvard-Leningrad exchange will focus mainly upon research work. They said it was hoped to begin the program next September, with two or three professors and extend it later on.

Hooded Bandit Flees With $500

Holds Up Attendant at Sunoco Gas Station on Opdyke Road

★ ★ ★

Oakland County sheriff's detectives today are checking for fingerprints and other clues which might lead to the bandit's capture.

The attendant, Jess Freeman, of 319 Liberty St., told deputies a man of about 20 years old walked up to him as he was working at the Snover & Landis Sunoco Station, 1405 Opdyke Rd., shortly after 9 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Freeman was alone at the station. The man said, This is a ton. The man said, "This is a "I just laughed, thinking it was a joke," Freeman continued. "Then I saw he had a gun in one hand."

★ ★ ★

"Before I had a chance to, he just grabbed the cash drawer from the register and ran," Freeman said.

There was $400 cash and $100 in checks in the drawer, deputies reported, Freeman said he had seen the getaway car parked near the station earlier. He got the license number and a description of the auto. Another man was driving the car, he said.

Deputies traced the car through the license to a James V. Davis, of 2027 Walnut St., who lives near the station. As deputies questioned Freeman, they said Davis drove into the station.

He had seen the patrol cars and stopped to tell officers that his car had been stolen earlier, between 7:30 and 9 p.m. A bulletin on the missing car was issued to all points in the area and Pontiac Police recovered it at 10:45 behind the Moose Lodge, at 350 Mt. Clemens St.

★ ★ ★

The auto had been abandoned but a woman's nylon stocking was found lying on the ground nearby.

Freeman said the holdup man was about 5 feet 10, weighed about 150 pounds and was wearing jeans.

Mrs. Madary to Be Arraigned

Accused of Wounding Father in Squabble Over Children

An Addison Township mother of two, who allegedly shot her father for scolding her son, will be arraigned in Oakland County Circuit Court Monday on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Jean Madary, 32, of 301 Rockwood St., yesterday afternoon appeared before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback and waived a pre-trial examination.

Justice Stanaback bound Mrs. Madary over to Circuit Court for arraignment after setting a $1,000 bond. She was unable to furnish the bond and was returned to the county jail.

Mrs. Madary told police that she shot her father, John H. Phillips, 62, three times with a .22 caliber rifle Saturday afternoon because "he was always picking on my children." Phillips lived with Mrs. Madary and her husband, Donald.

★ ★ ★

Police said also that Mrs. Madary was angry at her father because he reportedly had called police that Madary was violating his parole by drinking. Madary was arrested May 5 for allegedly beating up his father-in-law.

Belgium's King Wows Society in Washington

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The 118 guests at the Pan American Union Building smiled and applauded as Baudouin, in almost faultless English, explained he meant it as a compliment to Nixon, a "famous son of this great state."

★ ★ ★

"I can say," said Nixon, "that in my six years as vice president none of us has ever heard a speech which was more eloquent, articulate and which came more from the heart and which gave us a truer picture of a paople and a nation."

★ ★ ★

The King's graceful, unhackneyed speech to Congress drew unusual praise from the lawmakers who heard it. This, as Nixon noted, was a considerable achievement since words are the business of Capitol Hill.

★ ★ ★

The King completes his three-day official visit to Washington tonight by giving a state dinner of his own at the Belgian Embassy. President Eisenhower and Nixon, his hosts on the two previous nights, will head the guest list.

Schools to Get Half of Interest Pay Friday

LANSING (AP) — Half of a 35½ million dollar primary school interest payment for hard-pressed school districts will go out Friday, Gov. Williams reports.

★ ★ ★

The governor said vouchers for the second half of the payment are being written but will be held up until more money comes into the state treasury, possibly by the end of the month.

The payments are in addition to a 28 million dollar school aid payment which went out Monday to ease the threat of payless paydays for teachers.

Special taxes in insurance companies, utilities and railroads raise the primary school interest fund which goes to schools semi-annually.

To Take Mayor's Post in Spite of Wife's Fall

POOLE, England (UPI)—A year ago Councillor A. J. Stokes was chosen mayor of Poole but his wife, Vera, slipped and broke her leg soon after hearing the news. Stokes passed up the mayorship.

Yesterday the council, which names the mayor from its membership, again tapped Stokes for the job. His wife promptly slipped and broke her wrist. But this time Stokes said he would take the post anyhow.

Try to Avert Strike at Cape Canaveral

★ ★ ★

A stormy session Tuesday settled nothing, but did result in postponement of a strike at least until the meeting with mediator John A. Kenney of Tampa.

★ ★ ★

The Carpenters Union seeks higher wages from the Patrick Air Force Base Contractors Assn. The union has only about 115 employes at the center, but about 5,000 other union workers at the picket lines.

The carpenters average $2.85 an hour. They have rejected a management offer of a staggered 35-cent an hour wage package in a two-year contract.

Fred Astaire Wants to Give Back 1 Emmy

But a spokesman for the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences says the award was won fairly by Astaire—and it is his.

Astaire said through a spokesman he wanted to return the award because of confusion over the "best actor" category. Some critics, including Ed Sullivan, contend the Emmy should have gone for a dramatic instead of a dancing performance.

"I don't think anyone will disagree that Mr. Astaire is an actor and that he gave a great performance," replied Thomas Freebairn-Smith, Academy executive secretary. He indicated the matter was closed.

Woman Made Director

DETROIT (AP) — Miss Alicia Dwyer, a former Ann Arbor city councilman, has been appointed a member of the board of directors of the Michigan Business and Professional Assn.

You'll Know 'Whodunit' This Summer

TV Rerun Time Is Upon Us Again

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — If, from now through September, you keep having the uncomfortable feeling that you've seen just about everything on your TV screen before, do not be alarmed: you have.

This summer, even more than in previous years, warm weather is repeat, rerun time on the TV networks. If one is a creature of habit, there is no way to miss a flood of Westerns in which you know in advance who rustled the cattle, of whodunits in which you know who triggered the fatal shot.

There are, a few bright spots in the program schedules. For instance, the pleasant Chevy Show, summer replacement for Dinah Shore, will be back on Sunday nights with Janet Blair and John Raitt. The Ed Sullivan Show, as usual, continues through the summer.

Teresa Brewer and Tony Bennett will star in "Almanac" on Saturday nights to fill in for Perry Como. But in place of Steve Allen there will be a bunch of film repeats of another season's "Suspicion" series.

One of the more curious bits of summertime programming is the decision to replace Edward R. Murrow's "Person-to-Person" on Friday nights with Ted Mack and the Original Amateur Hour. The Arthur Murray Party, heretofore a perennial summer replacement is so firmly established now that it too will indulge in the repeat-show activity. A musical show will take over for Lawrence Welk and his crew. Pat Boone's show will also be off for the summer. Andy Williams, who took over for Boone last summer, has moved to another network to fill Garry Moore's variety shoes this season.

The panel and quiz shows will, for the most part, stay on with new shows — live or tape. There are a few new film series which will run with new shows through the summer largely because they haven't been around long enough to store up enough repeats. Milton Berle and his Music Hall will move out to make room for a British comedian named Dave King.

Nixon Only V-P on TV Not Working Controls

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Well, what do you know! This town's got night life again.

It was becoming a sleepy little village, with very little going on after midnight, when suddenly, due to Louis Pirma and his wife Keely Smith, our town started pulling the sidewalks out at 12 o'clock.

WILSON

For the first time since Johnnie Ray's appearance in 1953, the Copacabana offered a 2:30 a.m. show, starring Louis and Keely, who don't mind being up late. They are accustomed to working in Las Vegas and Lake Tahoe, where they often start their last show around 6 a.m.

In fact, at about 4 the other morning when he finished his last show, Louis said, "Man, compared to Las Vegas, this is a breeze. This is like havin' a night off."

★ ★ ★

It was nice seeing V. P. Nixon on NBC TV, Hal Block observed; he was the only vice president not working the controls.

★ ★ ★

I met a Methodist Minister's daughter, Paula Hill, who's signed to play a gun moll in the "Pretty Boy Floyd" film. She's also played a baddie on TV for "Mike Hammer," "Highway Patrol" and "Mr. and Mrs. North." Paula's father, the late Rev. Fred Selsby Hill, preached in Birmingham, Ala., but after his death, his three daughters decided to see the world. One became a stripteaser. Paula ran a restaurant in Hollywood, and was also a disc jockey.

Her mother, who used to warn her about Broadway, in the words, "All is not gold that glitters," is frequently with her daughter in New York and doesn't find it as bad as she thought it'd be.

We asked Solly Schwartz, president of RKO Theaters, how he likes working for a coal company (the Glen Alden Co. of Wilkes-Barre which through List Industries controls the theater chain). Solly made a typical coal-miner type statement: "We're in the black!" he exclaimed.

Roxanne Arlen, the Taffy Tuttlish beige-blonde doing so well on TV, was explaining that she has an agent who's a go-getter. "I decided," she said, "to let him go and get." . . . George Gobel claims in his Waldorf act that his wife, spooky old Alice, went away and left him home to tend to his knittin'. "She broke my collar bone before she went so it would knit while she was away," he says. Goebel also does some humorous song titles, including, "I'll Come Home From the Strawberry Festival and Get Rash With You," or "The Bullfighters Shouted Ole and Riped Hernando's Hide Away."

DISHWASHER JOINS VON BRAUN — Dr. Frederick Wigand carries his suit case as he leaves his home in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, en route to Huntsville, Ala. to work with Dr. Werhner von Braun on the U. S. missile program. Dr. Wigand, 61, who washed dishes two years in a Calgary hospital, turned out to be one of Germany's top wartime missile experts. He was associated with von Braun during World War II, and since he couldn't get a job in his field of chemistry, wrote to von Braun for a job.

TV News and Reviews

Producer, Video Network Feuding About Quality

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wednesdays and Fridays are the customary fight nights on TV, but not this week.

★ ★ ★

This week, the tastiest TV embroilment of the season began on Monday and was still boiling late yesterday. It involved two of TV's behind-the-scenes cruiserweights—an independent packager and an NBC-TV veepee.

On Monday, on a local taped interview show chauffeured by Mike Wallace, guest David Susskind thwacked away at all three major networks.

Susskind's outfit has been responsible this season for such shows as Armstrong Circle Theater, some Du Pont Shows of the Month and the recent NBC-TV suicide, Oldsmobile Music Theater.

Susskind conceded there were some shows of merit on TV, but he lashed out rather fiercely against all three networks for the bulk of their TV fare.

He gave CBS-TV relatively good marks, although he made it plain his enthusiasm for CBS-TV's programing chief, Hubbell Robinson, was moderate. ABC-TV he consigned to the dungeon for its diet of westerns and mysteries.

★ ★ ★

But it was for NBC-TV that he reserved his hardest whacks. He called it "the saddest case history in network programing" and accused NBC-TV of trying to go the way of ABC-TV, and needlessly so, added Susskind, because of NBC's sound financial structure.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday, NBC-TV replied by launching a blitz of its own against Susskind. Chief blitzer was Sydney Eiges, NBC's vice-president in charge of publicity, who issued a written statement unusual for its harshness of tone.

Eiges said Susskind's "art of self-promotion" has "obscured the number of mediocre programs he has produced over the years."

He then singled out Oldsmobile Music Theater — although not by name—an NBC-TV show:

"It," said Eiges, "has been universally criticized by the press for its lack of originality and its mediocrity. It ranks 114th in program popularity among 125 programs. It has just been canceled by its sponsor."

Whatever the outcome of the fracas, it should keep Madison avenue in a reasonable state of disorder for a few weeks. Some hands, I'm sure, will regret the airing of the whole business. But frankly I find it all pretty exhilarating.

Toll-Free Xway to Be Dedicated

Detroit-Toledo Highway Will Be Opened May 22 by Officials of 2 States

LANSING (AP) — The first toll-free expressway connection between midwestern states on the federal highway system — the Detroit-Toledo expressway — will be dedicated by Michigan and Ohio officials May 22, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie reports.

The dedication marks the opening to traffic of 50 miles of continuous expressway from just south of Detroit to Toledo.

Sen. Patrick V. McNamara (D-Mich) will lead state legislators, municipal officers and road officials in a caravan from Detroit to the Ohio line. The group will include Mayor Louis Miriani of Detroit and Mayors of 14 downriver communities.

A bronze placque in the expressway median will be unveiled by Mackie and Everett S. Preston, director of the Ohio Highway Department.

Gov. Williams and Lt. Gov. John Donahey of Ohio will unveil welcome signs of their respective states.

★ ★ ★

Mackie has dubbed the new expressway "the seaway freeway." He explained that eventually it will stretch north to Port Huron and serve a 110-mile perimeter along Lake Erie, the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair and Lake Huron.

Anna Maria Alberghetti Has Minor Operation

★ ★ ★

A hospital spokesman said her condition is good and the 22-year-old Italian-born singer will be home within two or three days.

Huron Forest Menaced by Fire From City Dump

Sting Mixture Can Save

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A mixture of extracts from honey bees, wasps, hornets and yellow jackets can save a patient's life, Dr. Robert F. E. Stier reported at the annual meeting of the American Academy of General Practice. The mixture, he said, takes the shock out of insect stings and prevents near-fatal allergic reactions.

Waits at Corner for Women's Signal

JERUSALEM (UPI)—The traffic light in Israel have small figures painted on the glass — a man standing still on the red light and a man walking on the green.

One day recently, a policeman spotted a puzzled-looking elderly woman standing at an intersection in Jerusalem while the light flashed red and then green several times without her trying to cross the street.

Keeps Animals Happy

BOSTON (UPI)—The discovery of a new family of chemical agents that make laboratory animals more cheerful was reported at the annual meeting of the American Chemical Society here. One of the agents, nialamide, overcame mental depression. The drug now is being tried on humans, but it's not available for general use yet.

There are about 6,900 hospitals in service in the U. S.

By the end of 1958, fluoride-treated water will be available in 1,650 U.S. towns and cities with a combined population of 34 million, compared with 94 communities and a total population of 1,500,000 eight years ago.

SPEAKING of BEAUTY

Analyzing you is part of our job! We'll be happy to discuss frankly every line & curve of your face. We'll show you how to make your entire figure look more graceful by choosing a hairstyle that flatters your whole silhouette.

(Surprised? You've sometimes looked into a full-length mirror before deciding on a certain hat. The best hairstyle is also chosen with regard to your complete appearance. We'll be glad to show you why.)

The ability to relax makes a beautiful difference in your looks! Tension hurts your appearance two ways: first, with frown-lines . . . then with "tautness" that dries your skin into permanent harsh wrinkles. Plan your visits to us as "the pause that will refresh you."

Only shining cleanliness and health keeps your hair "alive" with beauty! Make an appointment for a shampoo regularly. If your hair feels limp when you comb it, consult us about the new revitalizing treatments. It takes us just five minutes more before your shampoo —and it pays you amazing dividends!

What makes a woman beautiful? One famous photographer says it's mostly the imagination of her audience! Many of the loveliest ladies I know were not born with perfect features. But they've faced the mirror without fear, and found new ways to soften defects by "playing up" their best features.
