First Pictures Show Astronaut's Walk in Space

ABOARD THE WASP (AP) — Relaxing under the blue sky from which they came, astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II had the run of the ship today — while doctors measured surprisingly light effects of their four-day space journey.

The astronauts continued to go through periodic medical checks.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, astronaut flight surgeon, said they had less apparent physical difficulties than did some Mercury astronauts on shorter missions.

Bery said it will probaby be necessary to keep the astronauts shipboard until Thursday morning.

Still the ship is comparatively a lot of room to ramble in for the astronauts who were cramped into the tight Gemini spacecraft for 97 hours and 57 minutes.

The astronauts turned in last night at 11 p.m. They were still abed at at 9 this morning.

REALLY TIRED

"Both men were real tired last night, Jim more than Ed," Berry said.

"Both were bushed. They really wanted to turn in. This is in conflict with the urge that all of the astronauts have after a mission — they all have so much they want to get rid of in talk, and in getting things out before they forget.

"They could have gone on for a number of hours of talk last night if they felt that that was indicated."

Although figures are not yet available—both men had some weight loss—Berry said the weight loss certainly was less for four days than for a mission of 34 hours.

★ ★ ★

"Gemini 4 showed that the weight loss is not an incremental thing—it doesn't get more for every day in space," Berry said.

"There was not a marked increase over what Gordon Cooper experienced."

Physicians have felt all along that the principal cause of weight loss in space flight is the amount of sweating. Sweating is the prime means of cooling. The sweat is evaporated through circulation of air in the space suit.

There is also considerable sweating after splashdown, while the astronauts wait for recovery.

This time, however, they were picked up very rapidly—"this was wonderful from our point of view," Berry said.

Berry said flight cabin temperatures remained comfortably

Snead, Ferrier in Golf Lead

Veteran pros Sam Snead and Jim Ferrier, the two oldest players in the field, led after 18 holes in the USGA Sectional qualifying this morning at Birmingham Country Club.

Snead, who was 53 last week and is trying for the 25th time to win the U.S. Open, sank a 60-foot eagle putt on the 18th to finish with a four-under-par 67 this morning.

Ferrier, a transplanted 50-year-old Australian now living in Burbank, Calif., matched Snead's 67. One stroke behind at 68 were Art Wall of Honsdale, Pa., and Howie Johnson of Palm Springs, Calif.

Among the local entries, Eldon Briggs of Detroit Golf Club, Ted Kroll of Franklin Hills and Bob Gajda of Forest Lake CC each fired 71. The cutoff was expected to be around 144 this afternoon.

Millage Hike Loses in Bloomfield Twp.

Voters in Bloomfield Township yesterday defeated by a 497-vote margin a request for additional millage sought for improvement of township road, police and fire services.

There were 1,696 votes cast against the millage hike to 1,199 votes favoring it, as 2,901 of the township's 16,229 registered voters turned out to vote.

Sixteen ballots were invalid.

While the election was limited to property owners, township officials noted that more than 75 per cent of the registered voters own property.

The turnout "is not representative of the township residents," Supervisor Homer Case said today.

"A minority group certainly spoke," he said. "This often happens, showing that the majority does not rule. Where public safety is involved, I blame the 13,000 that didn't get out to vote."

★ ★ ★

The proposition sought a higher tax rate to replace the 2-mill levy which runs through 1966.

BOOSTED TAX

It would have boosted the tax to 3½ mills in 1965-66 and 3 mills for 1967 through 1976.

Aimed at adding some 24 men to the police and fire department to take them to the national average, the levy also would have been used to pave and improve 18 miles of collector roads.

For the last of the projects, the township would have split costs with the county.

"We will continue to give limited protection in police and fire, but any more matching funds for roads will have to wait," Case said.

WORK LIMITED

Road work will be limited strictly to maintenance, he said.

★ ★ ★

Township Clerk Mrs. Deloris Little concurred, commenting that "we'll do the best by our residents that we can do with no money."

"We had so many requests to do something about the roads, but we can't do anything if we don't have money," she said.

★ ★ ★

The special election was set up in April after representatives of the majority of the 91 subdivisions in the township indicated they would support the millage increase.

The U.S. Weather Bureau today forecast the possibility of "a few severe thunderstorms with tornadoes, large hail and locally damaging windstorms" in an area of southern Lower Michigan, which includes Pontiac, from noon to 6 p.m.

Attempt Fails for Trailer Park

Waterford Board Vetoes Zone Change

A proposal to rezone a 40-acre parcel in Waterford Township for use as a trailer park was voted down last night by the township board following a lengthy hearing before a packed house.

The board's 4 to 3 vote against the zoning change followed a three-hour hearing.

Some 350 persons were present, and most opposed rezoning of the land on Pontiac Lake Road west of Airport.

As residents of this general area, opponents felt a trailer park would downgrade their community because it would encourage transients.

They thought the parcel should remain in its present zoning status that calls for single family residential development

Albert Rottman, proponent of the trailer park, argued that the proposed trailer village would provide needed low income housing without downgrading the area.

The board's four trustees — Loren Anderson, William Dean, Rudy Mansfield and Frank Richardson — opposed the rezoning.

Voting for the zoning change were the township's three officials — supervisor James E. Seeterlin, treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Olson and clerk Elmer Fangboner.

Previously, the township planning board had been deadlocked in a 4-4 vote on the zoning request.

Woman JP Raps Bronson in Suit to Halt New Court

By JIM LONG

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson was charged yesterday by a county's woman justice of the peace with squandering taxpayer money by establishing a central court system in Pontiac.

Bloomfield Township Justice Alice Gilbert accused the Democratic prosecutor in a Circuit Court suit.

She is asking that the court halt the operation of the magistrates court, which she claims was established illegally.

Bronson, who has been ordered to appear 10 a.m. Friday before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams to defend his position, termed the charges of the attractive justice as "hogwash."

The central court was recommended by Bronson in February and endorsed by the Oakland County Justices of the Peace Association. The endorsement, however, was not unanimous.

50 JUSTICES

The court went into operation May 17 and serves some 50 justices north of 14 Mile Road.

It is located in the old Board of Supervisors auditorium in the county annex office building, 1 Lafayette.

Various justices use the court at prearranged times for preliminary examinations and trials in contested state law cases only.

* * *

Mrs. Gilbert said that the State Legislature has the sole power to create courts and it "has passed no law creating or providing for a centralized justice court in Oakland County."

REFERS TO MEMO

Since making it known that she would continue to hold court in her own courtroom in the Bloomfield Township Hall, Mrs. Gilbert said that an interoffice memo has been circulated to all assistant prosecutors stating "No further orders are to be written on state offenses and directed to Justice Alice Gilbert."

The memo, she said, directs that the cases be sent to one of three justices elected elsewhere in the county who hold court in Pontiac.

"No one said Alice could not hold court in her own courtroom," said Bronson, "but as chief law enforcement officer in the county, I have the authority to direct warrants to particular justices of the peace.

"She will continue to hold court in Bloomfield Township, but she will hold court without state offense cases because of her obstinacy and refusal to abide by the decision of her justices in north Oakland County," Bronson said.

MONEY WASTED?

Bronson is wasting money, according to Mrs. Gilbert, by the "reckless disregard of the taxpayer's rights and at great expense to the public by requiring the unnecessary use of public vehicles, unnecessary loss of time by public employes, citizens and the total disregard of taxpayers expenditures for presently existing adequate facilities."

Bronson refuted this by saying that the Sheriff's Department "no longer runs a shuttle service for defendants which has tied up vehicles and personnel because of this chauffeur service to the various courts."

"They have more time to apprehend law violators and patrol the highways," added Bronson.

* * *

"No longer are prosecutors trooping en masse to all points of the compass leaving no one here in the office to serve the public."

LONE ASSISTANT

"Only one assistant prosecutor is needed in the central court."

Bronson said, "It is not my court as Alice claims, but the justices. And it only evolved after many, many months of consultation with them."

"In fact, their acceptance of the court was forwarded to me by Albert Carr, another Bloomfield Township justice. Alice isn't the only JP in Bloomfield Township."

"My feelings toward her have not changed because of this," said Bronson. "She is a delightful, charming person."

"It is unfortunate that her presence won't grace our court for the next 3½ years of this administration. We will miss her."

Divers Locate Drowning Victim in Cass Lake

Divers today located the body of a Highland Park man who fell off a boat in Cass Lake Sunday and drowned.

The body of Kenneth Antaya, 37, was located in 60 feet of water on the west side of the lake.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies and divers from four other police agencies had searched the area all day yesterday without finding the victim's body.

Deputies said Antaya was unable to swim and had been drinking before the accident.

LOOKING AT 'HOME' — Astronauts Edward White (left) and James McDivitt gaze down yesterday at the Gemini 4 spacecraft in which they circled the earth. The record-breaking space team took a look at the craft after it was hauled aboard the carrier Wasp.

low throughout — even on the parachute during descent it was 70 degrees.

REAL SWITCH

"This was a real switch from what we had before," Berry said. "The system functioned well and put the astronauts in much better shape to do the work of preparing for reentry than would otherwise have been possible."

After the astronauts were floating on the water they decided to keep their suits on rather than take them off and go to the bother of reconnecting the blood pressure equipment.

When informed that helicopters were close they replied, "Don't worry — we don't want to get out of here too fast, before we get our blood pressures."

* * *

Berry said they took five or six blood pressure readings while on the water. A tape recorder containing this data has been flown to Houston.

BETTER CONDITIONS

Berry said the postflight landing environment was much better than ever before. The sea state was excellent, and the immediate availability of a helicopter allayed any concern.

For the last three or four days before the flight, physicians went over with the astronauts the problems of postflight weightless effects.

Berry said the astronauts knew what had to be done if necessary.

"We briefed them about procedures on the water, as to what maneuvers they should do if they felt pain or any slight symptom — how to pump their legs, elevate their feet," Berry said.

* * *

The problem is the astronaut heart — weakened by pumping in a weightless condition in space—is at first not efficiently pumping when it returns to earth gravity. Blood tends to pool in the legs and feet when the astronauts stand up. Some have felt faint.

GRAVITY HITS

Berry said that at the bridling of the parachute, when the capsule is tilted into its landing attitude, the astronauts, in effect, had their first tilt with gravity. They were flipped up and each man's heart was required to pump blood to his head. Berry said that at this point they had no symptoms whatever.

"This was very gratifying to us," Berry said. "It was far, far better than anything we could have expected.

"We fully expected there might have been a loss of consciousness, although we thought it might not be that severe a thing. This proved to be true."

Again, in standing up to get out of the spacecraft and into the life raft, there were no symptoms—no lightheadedness, nausea or confusion resulting from a loss of blood supply to the brain, Berry added.

SLIGHT NAUSEA

White's slight nausea in the raft was probably the result of seasickness, he said.

He said that during the mission the astronauts had not consumed as much water as they were supposed to, and their food intake was 700 or 800 calories below the planned 2,500 calories a day.

"This was nothing of real concern but less than we anticipated," he said. "But we talked to them about water and sleep."

* * *

The astronauts confirmed the telemetry data indications that their sleep periods varied greatly.

* * *

"Jim got less sleep by far then Ed, even though in hours there was not that much difference," Berry said. "Ed, on the other hand, had periods of real deep sleep.

"The last one, late in the flight, ended on the 60th revolution after better than two hours and 15 minutes of sleep."

At Houston, Tex., officials of the Manned Spacecraft Center said no decision has been made on when the astronauts will leave the Wasp and return to Houston for a news conference.

Berry said the Gemini physicians were "tremendously optimistic" as to the implications for longer space missions of the future, from observations to date as to symptoms of ill effects on heart or blood vessel systems.

The symptoms have not been as marked as on the three- or four-hour Mercury missions such as the one made in 1963 by Air Force Maj. L. Gordon Cooper, he said.

Berry flew to the Wasp yesterday from Houston after the end of the 1,609,684-mile space mission.

* * *

Dr. Howard Minners, one of the first physicians to examine the astronauts, had said yesterday both were sound and "active, talkative and cheerful."

DRAMATIC LANDING

Other Americans across the land, who stayed glued to their televisions during the dramatic landing sequence which ended with splashdown at 12:13 p.m. (EST) yesterday, were equally cheerful — including the President of the United States.

"I just wanted to say to you and Maj. White 'well done'," President Johnson said to McDivitt by telephone shortly after the two had been plucked from the Atlantic and landed safely on the deck of the Wasp at 1:09 p.m. to a thunderous ovation from the ship's mighty crew.

"We're all in this country very proud of you," the President continued, "and I think the entire world is grateful for what you've done and particularly for your safe return.

* * *

"You've both written your name in history and in our hearts."

* * *

Then the President invited White and McDivitt to his Texas ranch this weekend where he said he had been "saving a little something for you" — presumably some sort of award.

The mayor of New York also invited them there for a traditional ticker-tape parade.

Judging from the reaction of space officials at the Houston Mission Control, the pair plainly deserved both an award and a parade.

* * *

They were jubilant over the success of the mission, which included White's 20-minute adventure outside the capsule, and said they see no barrier to moving ahead in the Gemini program to a seven-day flight in August.

DOCTORS PLEASED

Doctors especially were pleased with the flight.

Dr. Berry, the chief medical officer, said the astronauts were "in much better physical condition than we anticipated."

Hubbard, Officials on Trial Today

DETROIT (AP) — The civil rights violation trial of Mayor Orville L. Hubbard of Dearborn and two co-officials of the Detroit suburb opens in U.S. District Court today.

A jury of seven women and five men was chosen last week to hear the case before Judge Wade H. McCree Jr.

* * *

The government brought charges under an 1870 federal law which amended a post-Civil War 1866 statute.

The law forbids the willful subjection of "any inhabitant of any state, territory or district to the deprivation of any rights, privileges or immunities secured or protected by the Constitution or the laws of the United States."

TWO COUNTS

Hubbard, 62, and his codefendants, Dearborn's public safety director George W. Lesis, 57, and Police Chief Garrison Clayton, 46, are accused on two counts of conspiring and refusing to protect a home owner against an alleged attack by a mob. The defendants deny the charges.

Giuseppe Stanizone claims he was denied police protection when a mob stoned his Dearborn home on Labor Day, 1963, on the mistaken assumption he was renting to a Negro.

* * *

Stanizone, who has since moved, said he was renting an apartment to a white family and that Negroes had been hired to move the furniture.

The portly Hubbard has been Dearborn's mayor for 12 consecutive two-year terms. He has held the post since 1941. Most of his election victories were by decisive margins.

Vinh Supply Depot Is Blasted in Big Raid

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Thirty-three American jets hit the Vinh supply depot in North Viet Nam again today and pilots reported heavy damage to the target despite intense antiaircraft fire.

The raid on Vinh, 160 miles south of Hanoi, was the heaviest reported as American planes continued to hammer at targets north of the demilitarized zone. Spokesmen said all planes returned safely to their land bases or carrier bases.

* * *

Vinh had been hit Monday by U.S. Air Force planes. After the 10-minute attack today, pilots reported they inflicted extensive damage on the 40 or 50 buildings still standing in the supply depot area. They said exact damage assessments were difficult to make because of the intense ground fire.

Spokesmen said 23 tons of 750-pound bombs were dropped. They said no enemy planes were sighted.

HIT PLANT

Navy pilots said they destroyed 50 per cent of the Co Dinh power plant about 9 miles south of Thanh Hoa. Six Air Force bombers claimed they sank two barges and four sampans near the North Vietnamese coastal town of Ron, 220 miles south of Hanoi.

Another target was the Lan Van radar station near Vinh. Air Force pilots said they damaged numerous buildings, destroyed two antiaircraft positions and also damaged a secondary bridge.

* * *

In the ground war, U.S. Marine patrols killed five Viet Cong and wounded two others in the Da Nang and Chu Lai areas late Monday, spokesmen reported. The Marines captured one of the wounded men and detained 28 others as suspects.

A Viet Cong force overran a government rehabilitation center for Viet Cong defectors 25 miles southwest of Saigon. U.S. military authorities said the guerrillas killed seven government troops, wounded six others and 10 more were missing. One Viet Cong was killed in the hour-long assault.

YANK WOUNDED

Authorities said reinforcements sent into the area failed to find the attackers.

U.S. military spokesmen also announced that a U.S. Army helicopter gunner was wounded in the knee on a combat mission 320 miles north of Saigon Monday. He was reported in good condition.

* * *

A strong Vietnamese government force moved into the central highlands village of Ple Chi, which the Viet Cong occupied during the weekend and said they would hold for 15 days. They pulled out before government troops reached the town.

U.S. military sources announced that the Navy cruiser Canberra carried out six missions last week in support of U.S. Marine and Vietnamese troops. The cruiser pounded suspected Viet Cong positions along the coast with her eight-inch and five-inch guns, the spokesman said.

U.S. Navy warplanes ranged over North Viet Nam for an hour Monday night, bombing and strafing bridges, warehouses, an oil depot and railway cars.

Public Hearing Slated About Parking Structure

BIRMINGHAM — A public hearing will be held June 28 by the City Commission to determine the necessity of an estimated $1,174,000 parking structure in the central business district.

Methods of financing the five-story structure also will be discussed at the 8 p.m. meeting.

The commission set the date for the hearing at its meeting last night.

No decision has yet been made on how the structure will be financed but two methods have been discussed at length among commissioners and merchants who would benefit from the 566-car facility.

* * *

One proposal requires property owners in the district to pay 40 percent of the cost, while the other plan only provides for a rate increase to retire revenue bonds.

HIGHEST RATE

Forty per cent is the highest rate ever assessed property owners in a parking district and was used in improving the present parking lot where the structure is to be built.

The proposed structure is to be constructed on the L-shaped lot fronting Woodward and Willits. It will give the parking system an additional 370 spaces.

Surface parking for about 200 cars will remain in the lot.

* * *

Construction bids for the new structure will be opened July 1.

NEED CITED

City Manager Robert S. Kenning told the commission that it is "imperative that we resolve as soon as possible the method of financing this program."

The structure was designed by the Birmingham architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc.

Mayor Robert Page's plan to warn residents of tornados through the use of the city's civil defense siren met with mixed reaction from commissioners.

He made his proposal several weeks ago but it was tabled until last night.

Plans for additional warning were discussed but no decision was reached.

The Chamber of Commerce also offered its public address system as a means of warning residents but the plan was rejected.

Installed in the downtown district, the system's volume could be increased easily, according to the organization. Normally, the system only operates at 10 per cent of its capacity when piping music through the downtown area.

Junk Yard Trial Is Scheduled to Resume July 20

The Sam Allen & Sons scrap yard trial will resume in Oakland County Circuit Court July 20.

The nonjury trial was to have started this week, but City Attorney William A. Ewart asked for the postponement.

Ewart, who resigned effective July 1, said he did not know who would handle the case.

He added that the City Commission had not determined whether he (Ewart) or his successor, Philip E. Rowston, would continue the trial.

* * *

The city and 15 residents are seeking a permanent injunction against the scrap firm's operation, charging that it is a nuisance.

MRS. WILLIAM G. WRIGHT

Woman Leads UF Committee

Calvin J. Werner, general chairman of the 1965 Pontiac Area United Fund Campaign, today announced the appointment of Mrs. William G. Wright, 184 Chippewa, as women's committee chairman for this year's drive.

A life-long Pontiac resident, Mrs. Wright has had previous United Fund experience working as a residential and commercial division solicitor.

She is a past president of the Pontiac Area Council of Camp Fire Girls and was women's division chairman for the Y.M.C.A. building fund drive.

"Women have a definite interest in community service and the necessity for it. By working with the United Fund, women can direct this interest into an action program for the whole community," she said in accepting her appointment.

* * *

A former schoolteacher, Mrs. Wright is past president of the Pontiac League of Women Voters, Pontiac Council of PTAs and the Women's Society of Christian Services.

* * *

She is currently on the Oakland County Board for the Society of Mental Health and has served as regional vice president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Purple Heart Medal for Michigan Marine

The medal was pinned on Pfc. Philip T. Nichols, 18, of Taylor, Mich.

U.S. Hikes Viet Involvement

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department spokesman said today the U.S. military command in South Viet Nam has been authorized to send American troops into combat alongside Vietnamese forces if such "combat support" is requested by South Viet Nam.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said the U.S. policy — which evidently allows expansion of American military action against the Viet Cong — has been communicated to the South Vietnamese government.

* * *

"I'm sure," McCloskey told a news conference, "it's been made clear in Saigon by American military commanders that American forces would be available for combat support together with Vietnamese forces as and when necessary."

Only last Saturday the State Department had said the primary role of U.S. Marines and paratroopers in Viet Nam is to protect and patrol key U.S. installations. Such operations, the statement made clear, would involve combat with Viet Cong fighters in the areas around the installations.

FURTHER STEP

Today's announcement appeared to carry the United States a further step toward outright involvement in ground warfare in the South. The statement made clear that "combat support" would not be limited to the areas of U.S. installations.

McCloskey said there had recently been one request from South Viet Nam for U.S. forces but that this request had been withdrawn.

The statement made clear that the basic policy decision on the enlarged scope of the U.S. military activity in Viet Nam had been made by President Johnson.

McCloskey was asked whether the decision was taken under the congressional resolution adopted last August after a U.S. retaliation raid on Communist PT boat bases in North Viet Nam in response to attacks on U.S. destroyers.

* * *

McCloskey said: "That's very much operative in all U.S. actions."

The resolution approved the use of all measures, including force, by the President to achieve U.S. objectives in the Vietnamese conflict.

FINAL DECISION

The final decision on granting combat support, McCloskey said, is up to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, top U.S. military authority in South Viet Nam. The decision would be made, McCloskey said, only after a request from South Viet Nam and in consultation with U.S. and Vietnamese commanders on the scene.

McCloskey said that so far as he knew, Westmoreland had not yet used U.S. troops in "combat support" with the Vietnamese.

The United States has about 50,000 men in South Viet Nam now. McCloskey said he would not speculate whether the prospect of increasing involvement in combat would mean further increases.

However, it was already known that substantial further increases are planned by President Johnson with additional thousands of men going in the weeks ahead.

Asked why the decision for the combat support policy was made at this time, McCloskey replied:

"It's the result of the best military judgment of what is required in the present situation and as far as we can see into the future."

Timothy Nicholson, Mother Leave Court

Guilty in Brother's Death

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Years of conflict that resulted in death for wealthy Todd Nicholson have ended in a prison term for his twin brother, Timothy.

Timothy Nicholson, 22, was convicted Monday of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of his brother Todd at the climax of a bitter quarrel last Dec. 7.

Timothy faces a maximum of one to ten years in prison. He is not eligible for probation, but could be paroled after about 18 months. A jury of seven men and five women reached the verdict after deliberating two days.

ALTERNATIVES

Other possible verdicts were first or second-degree murder and acquittal.

The emotion-charged trial — spread over five and one-half weeks — produced testimony of violent rages, protestations of self-defense and charges of falsehood.

Timothy sat dry-eyed, his head bowed, through the reading of the verdict.

Witnesses for the defense testified Todd possessed an explosive, almost psychotic, temper, often aimed at Timothy. They also said Todd had taken out a $1-million insurance policy on Timothy's life, then presented himself as Timothy for the physical examination. The twins' mother, Roberta Nicholson, confirmed this on the witness stand.

HEIRS TO FORTUNE

The twins, heirs to Cudahy meat packing and Pullman sleeping car fortunes, had pooled their efforts in profitable real estate investments, mostly through the Sun Development Co. of Phoenix, Ariz.

The prosecution claimed Timothy once threatened to kill Todd, then tried to hire a house painter to "get rid of" Todd. Failing in this, the prosecutor said, Timothy decided to kill Todd himself.

"What caused the defendant to develop this great hatred toward his twin brother, I can't explain, but it was there," said Deputy Dist. Atty. Joseph Carr in his summation to the jury.

★ ★ ★

The defense described Timothy as the milder of the twins, indicating he regularly left home, beginning at age 19, when Todd, in a violent rage, kicked him out.

★ ★ ★

"When Todd gets mad," Timothy testified, "the only thing to do is to just leave Todd alone."

King Takes Full Powers in Morocco

RABAT, Morrocco (AP) — King Hassan II personally took over all executive power in Morocco today after failing to form a coalition government representing the country's major political and labor divisions.

★ ★ ★

The 36-year-old monarch said in a special broadcast that he was assuming all powers to "safeguard the stability of the government."

Hassan recalled that he had launched negotiations for a broad coalition government.

The negotiations followed bloody student uprisings in Morocco in which government troops fired on rampaging mobs causing a number of casualties.

★ ★ ★

"Faced with the impossibility of forming a coalition government," Hassan said, "It has become necessary to revise certain articles of our constitution to perfect it in the light of present conditions and to avoid a crisis of national authority and the dangers of instability."

Dems Split on State School Aid

LANSING (AP)—Senate Democrats met behind closed doors for three hours Monday night but failed to reach agreement on school aid or how to pare an estimated $22 million from the budget.

Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, said Democrats disagreed on whether planned school aid improvements should all be appropriated this year.

★ ★ ★

Senate and House spending and education committees had agreed earlier on a $71 million improvement over this year's school aid program.

"But that was before another $25 million in cat-and-dog (scattered spending) bills had passed," said Sen. Garland Lane (D-Flint). "You can't have it both ways."

HOPING FOR CUT

Lane, appropriations chairman estimated cost of bills approved in one house or the other at $844 million. "But I'm hoping I can cut it back to $822 million," he said.

Gov. George Romney recommended $788 million in his budget message but last week said revenue for 1964-65 and 1965-66 apparently will run $39 million higher than he earlier predicted.

He still contends, however, that appropriation bills as they now stand will put the state $58 million in debt by July 1, 1967.

Dzendzel said Romney's veto threat "has nothing to do with us," but conceded it meant Democrats have to assume they will get no Republican support for the current bills.

ASK QUESTIONS

He said some Senate Democrats asked whether a $71 million school aid increase could be spent wisely — whether sufficient personnel and materials would be available for efficient use of the money.

★ ★ ★

At one point the House had been considering a $112 million improvement.

Dzendzel said the Democrats did not agree on any over-all spending level but said some "feel there have to be some cuts."

★ ★ ★

Lane said some spending measures could be postponed for the present, then considered when the legislature returns in the fall to deal with tax reform. He said updated economic forecasts and revenue figures might yield funds not now foreseen.

He said lack of Republican support would pose a problem in implementing appropriations bills by the start of the new fiscal year July 1.

Urges Removal of State Tax Unit

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Claiming that "slums are tax-made," engineer Benjamin F. Smith of Grand Rapids has urged Gov. George Romney to remove the State Tax Commission for "misfeasance and nonfeasance."

★ ★ ★

In a letter to Romney and the legislature, Smith charged the commission is violating the law by promoting illegal urban land assessments in nearly all Michigan cities and by doing nothing to investigate instances of land assessments cited by Smith and others as illegal.

Honor Band Conductor, Foundation President

DETROIT (AP) — Stanley S. Kresge, president of the Kresge Foundation and S.S. Kresge Co. vice chairman, and conducter Leonard B. Smith of the Detroit Concert Band were given honorary doctor of humanities degrees by Detroit Institute of Technology Monday.

Peace Corps Tests to Be Given Saturday

The monthly aptitude tests for Peace Corps service will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday, in the Federal Building on East Huron at Perry.

Applicants should plan on about one and a half hours at the testing center, unless they wish to take the Spanish or French language achievement test, which requires an additional hour.

Space Officials Look to Stars After Gemini Success

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A space agency official, commenting on the remarkable flight of Gemini 4, said: "You ain't seen nothing yet."

He was looking to future U.S. man-in-space flights which will be launched on an accelerated schedule as a result of the success of astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II.

* * *

Gemini spacecraft will hook up with other satellites; the pilots will perform intricate maneuvers during trips up to two weeks; and men will walk and work outside their orbiting spacecraft for longer periods than the excursion made by White.

Then on to the moon — perhaps only three years from now — and man's greatest adventure.

READY TITAN 2

Even as McDivitt and White were being hoisted from the Atlantic Ocean Monday after their four-day trip, the Titan 2 rocket for Gemini 5 was being erected at Cape Kennedy.

* * *

The crew will be veteran Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr., whose 34-hour American space flight record was shattered by Gemini 4, and rookie pilot Charles Conrad Jr. They have a late August date with the stars.

* * *

Cooper and Conrad are to stay in space for seven days, but space agency officials hinted they could be up for a longer time — based on preliminary data from Gemini 4.

* * *

Dr. Charles A. Berry, director of Gemini medical operations, said that preliminary examination of McDivitt and White indicates that "we've knocked down a lot of straw men with this mission."

He said that weightlessness apparently is not as dangerous as was feared, at least not for four days. Cooper had shown some disquieting symptoms, especially in the heart and blood vessel systems, as did Soviet cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky after his record five-day space trip.

Berry said that a rigid exercise schedule with a stretch cord apparently helped McDivitt and White to overcome any aftereffects of weightlessness.

Berry also listed the buildup of heat in a spacecraft as another toppled "straw man." He said a steady temperature of around 65 degrees, with no humidity, was maintained throughout the flight.

The physician said White experienced no dizziness during his space walk — as the Russian Alexei Leonov reported on his March 18 stroll.

A MILESTONE

Gemini project director Charles Mathews called Gemini 4 a milestone, "and now we're looking forward to the real interesting things contemplated in the future."

He said the Gemini 5 spacecraft will be somewhat different than Gemini 4. For one thing it will generate electrical power from a fuel cell — a device which converts liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen into energy. It will replace bulky batteries with a great saving in weight.

The fuel cell will give Gemini 5 a long-life capability. A similar cell is being developed for Apollo man-to-the-moon flights.

* * *

Cooper and Conrad also will launch their own satellite from the nose of their spacecraft. It will be an instrumental sphere the size of a beach ball. Then they will use a radar system to practice rendezvousing with it. McDivitt and White had no radar to help in their futile attempt to maneuver close to the orbiting second stage of their booster rocket.

VITAL REHEARSAL

The rendezvous exercise will be a vital rehearsal for the first U.S. attempt to hook up a manned spacecraft with another orbiting satellite.

The flight is scheduled in October, with astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford in Gemini 6. The target satellite will be the second stage of an Atlas-Agena rocket launched one or more orbits before Gemini 6.

Stafford plans to leave the spacecraft after the hookup and practice working with tools on spacecraft nuts and bolts. He could be the forerunner of space repairmen who ferry between satellites to fix balky equipment.

Gemini 7 is plannd as a 14-day mission in December. The remaining five flights in the Gemini program then will practice various rendezvous, docking and astronaut emergence maneuvers.

* * *

Mathews said that the schedule will be flexible and that the success of Gemini 4 certainly should encourage attempts at bolder steps than originally envisioned.

The Gemini program is expected to conclude late next year if it maintains a schedule of a flight every two months.

* * *

Starting in 1967, three-man Apollo teams will be launched into earth orbit to rehearse for moon shots. Initially, they will be boosted by the Saturn 1 rocket — a vehicle four times more powerful than the Titan 2.

Then will come the pulse-pounding earth orbit flights with the full 92,000-pound Apollo capsule boosted by the giant Saturn 5 with 20 times the power of Titan 2.

SATURN 5

If there are no hitches, Apollo program director Dr. Joseph Shea said that the first team of three astronauts could be launched to the moon on the third manned Saturn 5 rocket. That could mean a landing in 1968 instead of the present target date of 1969, he said.

After that?

* * *

Moon colonization; year-long trips to Mars, Venus and other points in the solar system; space stations that orbit for years.

All are being considered. Such will be the legacy of Gemini 4, the shots that preceded it and those that will follow.

Many States Passing Tough Laws to Cut Highway Accidents

CHICAGO (AP) — State legislatures are counterattacking in the nation's long and losing battle against highway accidents, which now kill an average of 125 Americans a day.

As more and more automobiles jam the highways, and the accident death rate climbs, legislatures are passing laws requiring seat belts, running rattletraps off the roads and reinforcing state highway patrols, an Associated Press survey showed today.

★ ★ ★

The National Safety Council said today there were 13,710 traffic deaths in the nation during the first four months this year, a 2 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Legislatures in Montana and North Dakota recently approved bills requiring safety belts for front seats of all new cars, starting with the 1966 models.

OKLAHOMA BILL

Gov. Henry Bellmon signed a similar measure for Oklahoma.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York signed a bill to compel used car dealers to install front seat belts in automobiles of 1963 and later models, beginning Jan. 1, 1967.

The Iowa Legislature ordered front seat belts for autos of 1962 and later models sold after Jan. 1.

★ ★ ★

Safety belt statutes are in force in 23 states.

DRAG RACING

Nebraska's lawmakers prohibited drag racing on streets and public highways.

The Maryland Legislature made it a crime to operate a car in any intentionally "improper manner so as to cause skidding, spinning of wheels or excessive noise." Also banned was use of a flagman or timer in a race on a street or highway.

★ ★ ★

A bill designed to get mobile junk heaps off the roads was adopted in Maryland, which hasn't had compulsory auto inspection since the 1930s.

It provides: police, starting next month, can stop any auto they consider defective and order repairs. The drivers will have 10 days to comply. If not, they will lose their licenses. In addition, when used car titles change hands after Jan. 1 the cars must meet standards to be set forth by the state commissioner of motor vehicles.

The Nevada Legislature approved legislation which forbids motor carriers to operate any vehicle that is found to be in unsafe condition.

The Iowa Legislature added 100 men to the road patrol force.

Georgia lawmakers provided money for 40 additional state patrolmen and salary increases of about $50 a month in the next two-year period for 450 patrolmen.

A new Colorado law gives the automobile the same status as a gun as a deadly weapon. It provides 1 to 14 years in prison for causing a death with a car deliberately or through extreme recklessness, such as in drag racing. Injuries under similar circumstances can result in 1-to-5-year terms.

★ ★ ★

The minimum age for a driver's license was raised from 15 to 16 in Montana and from 16 to 17 in Utah except for those who pass an approved training course.

★ ★ ★

Indiana made all driver licenses probationary for persons under 21, subject to revocation by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Dapper Crook Holds Up Motel in Birmingham

"Good evening," the well-dressed young man said, placing a brief case on the counter at the Birmingham House Motel early yesterday.

★ ★ ★

He then pulled a gun out of a bag and ordered clerk William F. Hughes to empty the cash register into the brief case.

The blond robber, wearing a dark suit, left the motel at 145 S. Hunter with $307.

Hughes of Ferndale told Birmingham police the white-collar holdup man was in his late 20s, weighed about 160 pounds and was about 5 foot 10.

★ ★ ★

He was armed with an automatic pistol or pellet gun, police said.

Flag Day Program to Be Held by Elks

Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 810 will hold its 22nd annual Flag Day program Monday at 6:30.

★ ★ ★

The dinner meeting at Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake, will honor newly naturalized citizens in the Pontiac area. Dr. Carl C. Byers of General Motors Corp. is the speaker.

★ ★ ★

The public is welcome. Tickets will be available at the door, according to Dr. Lynn D. Allen, chairman.

U.S. Soars to Zenith With Gemini Triumph

By contrast with the suspense attending the takeoff of Gemini 4 last Thursday morning, the drama in attaining a globe-girdling orbital pattern and Astronaut EDWARD H. WHITE'S breathtaking 20-minute walk in space, the projected precision return to earth yesterday of WHITE and fellow-voyager JAMES A. MCDIVITT seemed almost prosaic.

But there was nothing prosaic about the totality of their four-day interstellar venture, a history-maker for multiple-manned spacecraft.

★ ★ ★

The scientific data gained by the 62-orbit 1.7-million mile encirclement of our world has given appreciable acceleration to America's $20-billion Apollo moonshot program, virtually assuring a lunar landing by 1970.

Praise of the highest order is due the two astronauts, who comported themselves with typical American nonchalance within the space vehicle and in their communication contacts with the control center directing the flight and in personal exchanges with their wives.

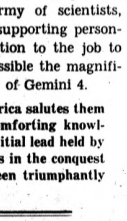
★ ★ ★

But no less worthy of commendation and the thanks of a grateful nation is the army of scientists, technicians and supporting personnel whose dedication to the job to be done made possible the magnificent performance of Gemini 4.

A proud America salutes them all, with the comforting knowledge that the initial lead held by our Soviet rivals in the conquest of space has been triumphantly overcome.

City Hall Acts Wisely in Naming Attorney

By the appointment of PHILIP E. ROWSTON as Pontiac city attorney the City commission puts an unusually well-qualified man in that important civil post.



ROWSTON

Succeeding WILLIAM EWART, who held the office for 33 years, ROWSTON'S extensive legal experience and background in local government will prove valuable assets in the administration of the City's legal department.

★ ★ ★

The appointee served on the city commission for seven years, during four of which he presided as mayor. Additionally, he has been an active participant in many areas of civic and fraternal activities.

A native of Pontiac, ROWSTON graduated from the Detroit College of Law in 1953 and entered private practice in Pontiac the same year.

We commend the City Fathers on their unanimous decision in filling the position of city attorney and extend best wishes to their choice in the conduct of the office.

Dry State Sees Alcohol Curing Water Problem

Arizonans, along with nearly everyone else in the Southwest, have a water problem. In some sections of the State, wells must be dug 25 feet deeper every year to reach the water table.

The situation is serious enough to be driving some people to alcohol for at least a partial solution to their troubles.

★ ★ ★

Temperance folk need not be alarmed, however. The alcohol is being used to cut down the evaporation of stored water.

Researchers at the University of Arizona are working on a wind-powered device that meters emulsified alcohol onto the surface of tanks and reservoirs where it forms a thin film that retards evaporation. As the film dissipates, the gadget automatically supplies more evaporation suppressant.

Two years of tests with a 53 by 78-foot pond in Tucson showed that evaporation was cut up to 35 per cent. It is estimated that the system would cost a farmer only 80 cents for every thousand gallons of water saved.

★ ★ ★

The scientists point out that if all the precipitation that falls on the state could be caught, stored and saved, Arizona would get a 20-year supply of water in one year.

But even the capture of only a small percentage of this moisture could transform desert areas into gardens.

Similar Speeches by LBJ, Kennedy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Two years apart, almost to the day, Presidents Kennedy and Johnson made Commencement Day Addresses which were identical in several ways.

MARLOW

Both called for peace, both made their appeal to the Russians, and neither mentioned the Red Chinese. The two presidents apparently felt it was hopeless to appeal to the Chinese.

In those two years the Untied States took one step nearer to peace and one away from it.

In his talk at American University on June 10, 1963, Kennedy announced the United States would try to work out a limited nuclear test-ban treaty with the Soviet Union. Within several months the treaty was signed. They've had no test in the atmosphere since.

The United States has been in an undeclared war in Southeast Asia since last February when Johnson ordered the bombing of North Viet Nam. A little over a month ago he sent troops into the Dominican Republic's revolution to save lives, he said, and to prevent a Communist take-over.

He has been criticized for both actions at home and abroad but in his talk at Catholic University here Sunday, Johnson explained that in both cases the American intention was to preserve peace.

MOTIVES MISUNDERSTOOD

Both presidents expressed concern that American motives are misunderstood abroad, or misrepresented. But, where Kennedy talked of what he called a "practical, attainable peace," Johnson talked of ideals, morality and love.

While Kennedy in his talk listed at least two specific steps toward peace—banning American nuclear tests while negotiating with the Soviet Union for a joint agreement not to test in the atmosphere — Johnson was unspecific and talked of peace in general terms.

How either president could have any assurance of peace—so long as Red China is hostile and busy building an atomic arsenal — is not clear, which is a problem both must have considered in leaving out any mention of Red China.

★ ★ ★

Johnson did include the Southeast Asian Communists in his peace appeal Sunday but there the Communists are the leaders of American-bombed North Viet Nam who haven't buckled or bent under the U.S. attack and have said there can be no peace until the Americans clear out of South Viet Nam.

When Kennedy made his talk, American-Russia relations were better than they are now. The Soviets have been critical of Johnson's military actions. Trying to soothe them may have been one of the things he had in mind.

Just what he has in mind about peace isn't clear, since he didn't spell out any of it.

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Gives Negroes Go-Ahead

WASHINGTON—President Johnson has just made perhaps the best pro-Negro speech any politician has ever made.

LAWRENCE

Indeed, his address was shown in advance to Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who "were both in enthusiastic accord" with it, as disclosed in an article by Mary McGrory, staff writer for the Washington Evening Star.

For, in speaking at Howard University last Friday night, the President blamed almost everything on the white population, praised the Negroes for their demonstrations, and, in effect, gave them the signal to go ahead with more of the same.

Mr. Johnson spoke approvingly of revolutions throughout the world and said that on every continent men "reach for new weapons" so that they may attain freedom. He then applied the concept of revolution to this country, as he said:

"But nothing, in any country, touches us more profoundly, and nothing is more freighted with meaning for our own destiny, than the revolution of the Negro American. . .

"Heroically, the American Negro—acting with impressive restraint — has peacefully protested and marched, entered the courtrooms and the seats of government, demanding a justice that has long been denied.

ALLIES OF PROGRESS

"The voice of the Negro was the call to action. But it is a tribute to America that, once aroused, the courts and the Congress, the president and most of the people, have been the allies of progress."

The President hinted that the demonstrations hadn't yet achieved all that they may in the future. He said:

"You do not take a person who, for years, has been hobbled by chains and liberate him, bring him up to the starting line of a race and then say 'You are free to compete with all the others,' and still justly believe you have been completely fair.

NOT ENOUGH

"Thus it is not enough to open the gates of opportunity. All our citizens must have the ability to walk through those gates.

"This is the next and the more profound stage of the battle for civil rights. We seek not just freedom but opportunity. We seek not just legal equity but human ability—not just equality as a right and a theory, but equality as a fact and equality as a result. . .

"To this end equal opportunity is essential, but not enough. Men and women of all races are born with the same range of abilities. But ability is not just the product of birth.

★ ★ ★

"Ability is stretched or stunted by the family you live with, and the neighborhood you live in—by the school you go to, and the poverty or the richness of your surroundings. It is the product of a hundred unseen forces playing upon the infant, the child, and finally the man."

★ ★ ★

The President also declared that "unemployment strikes most swiftly and broadly at the Negro" and that blighted hope brings despair which in turn produces "indifference to learning."

Religious Dissension Boiling Again in Viet

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The cauldron of religious dissension in South Viet Nam is boiling again, but the sparks which touched off rioting and bloodshed in earlier years seem to have weakened.

It is true that several hundred Roman Catholics clashed with police Saturday night, overturning and burning an official car. And some 700 Catholics held an antigovernment rally Sunday evening.

But several priests were on hand at the rally, apparently to maintain order, and violence was held to a minimum in the streets Saturday.

Even government police set up barricades around the trouble area rather than wade into the demonstrators. They seemed intent on handling the situation with kid gloves.

A delegation of some 300 aging Catholic laymen called on Phan Khac Suu, chief of state, with a petition that was understood to demand the resignation of Premier Phan Huy Quat.

Catholics and several political parties have been putting pressure on Quat, a Buddhist, accusing him of discriminating against Catholics.

But on all sides, the denunciations have been in comparatively mild tones so far. There is a general impression of public apathy in Saigon, a city which has grown tired of coups and riots.

If the Quat government should fall, few observers see a chance of forming any kind of coalition to replace it. They see a seizure of power by the army once again.

Catholics are worried about reports that a law will soon be promulgated giving special privileges to Buddhists. The Catholics have been joined in their protest by two other powerful religious groups, the Cao Dai and Hoa Hao sects and by several political parties.

★ ★ ★

All three faiths fear that the decree would recognize Buddhism as the predominant national religion and would regulate all other faiths as if they were professional clubs or associations.

In their present campaign, the Catholics now find themselves supported by many of the same religious groups who supported the Buddhist uprising in 1963 against the late President Ngo Dinh Diem, a Catholic. Buddhist leaders currently have very little to say about the situation.

In Washington:

Revolt Brews in War on Poverty

BY BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — By the end of summer, some 30,000 nonprofessional people are expected to be drawn from the ranks of the poor into community action programs for the war on poverty.

BIOSSAT

Largely from these same ranks will come some 45,000 paid employes of the poverty project called Head Start, a summertime crash effort aimed at helping 300,000 disadvantaged preschool children to enter kindergarten or the first grade next fall on a relatively equal footing with their luckier neighbors.

These are not routine statistics. They are a measure of the potential for social revolt contained in the war on poverty.

If that revolution comes off, and there seems no reason at this stage to doubt it will, it could ultimately dwarf all other effects of the poverty program. The participation of tens of thousands of poor people in programs designed for their own uplift can mean the first real breakdown of invisible walls which now keep them seriously alienated and isolated from the broad mainstreams of American life.

One poverty official says alienation is the principal characteristic of the urban poor and isolation a mark of the rural poor. A great goal of the anti-poverty effort, therefore, is to "reconnect" these millions with the society they live in but of which they are not genuinely a part.

★ ★ ★

It should surprise no one that the mood of the alienated urban poor today is one of "deep distrust," as poverty officials are discovering afresh. Not only the established political and business leadership but the very social and welfare agencies whose existence is formally dedicated to the poor are regarded as nearly 100 per cent suspect.

The inclusion of representatives of the poor on community action boards and committees is a highly publicized move toward bridging this crucial gap. But in the view of key officials the swelling flow of "nonprofessionals" into the program is the real cue to the prospect of social revolution.

One official: "Six months from now these people will be the real representatives of the poor."

★ ★ ★

As the prospect is envisioned, the poor helping themselves out of the depths of deprivation, ignorance and ill health will become a new force in society — balanced against the "establishment," often in conflict with it, pressing for a place as real contributors to the nation's life in contrast to their present role as hostile, embittered bystanders.

If the transformation occurs on a substantial scale, the forecast is made that within a few years some of these "representatives of the poor" will begin to turn up as precinct delegates in political party affairs. Their impact on organized labor could be considerable.

Says one poverty fighter: "They're going to give labor unions fits."

★ ★ ★

From director Sargent Shriver on down, this outlook is understood and approved. A while back Shriver said:

"We face a revolution in expectations—a radical shift in the hopes, demands and aspirations of the poor themselves. We cannot stem that tide. And we do not wish to do so."

The reactions in the establishment are something else. A considerable part of the heralded controversy over the poverty program, mostly in some of the big cities, seems to reflect recognition by seasoned politicians of the immense potential it has for sweeping, unpredictable change.

There is more involved, some officials here believe, than the politicians' natural urge to get control of a good thing. Many sense the danger to their status from an emerging new force which, if it isn't grasped by them, could one day topple them from power.

★ ★

Also unsettled, of course, are the established professionals — nurses, teachers, welfare and social workers. The nonprofessionals strike them as a serious job threat.

Some poverty officials are predicting, moreover, that the publicized unsettlement of urban power structures may appear relatively minor alongside the ferment looked for in the rural areas in the months just ahead.

Yet there is a firm conviction among responsible officials guiding and watching these changes that the predicted social revolution will not only go forward, but finally will be accepted "of necessity" by all "establishment elements" which now feel its challenge so keenly.

Dominican Rebels Name Team to Negotiate Peace

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican rebels have appointed a peace negotiating team, a move believed to indicate they are easing their opposition to proposals for a political settlement.

The six-man team is headed by rebel chief Col. Francisco Caamano Deno and includes Hector Aristy, Caamano's presidential minister in the insurgent's constitutionalist government, Foreign Minister Jottin Cury, Atty. Gen. Salvador Blanco and rebel Senate President Anibal Campagna.

The name of the sixth member was not immediately known.

The three-nation mediating team from the Organization of American States continued to meet with local leaders in an effort to break the stalemate.

OAS GROUP

The OAS group is made up of Ambassadors Ellsworth Bunker of the United States, Ilmar Penna Marinho of Brazil and Ramon de Clairmont Duenas of El Salvador.

In their first contact the mediators were told the rebels would accept no solution that did not call for revival of the 1963 constitution and formation of a new government in accordance with it.

The OAS team planned to go into the interior of the country today to sound out business and political leaders.

The mediators have been approaching some leaders not readily identified with either the rebel or junta side. This has roused speculation that they may have in mind a new "third force" formula for a government dominated by members not linked to either faction.

ENVOY WOUNDED

In Cordoba, Argentina, U.S. Consul Allison Temple Wanamaker, 46, of Seattle, Wash., was seriously wounded Monday night by gunfire from a passing car while driving home. Attending physicians said he was hit in the cheek and left hand.

Police could give no reason for the attack, but anti-U.S. demonstrations have been held in various Argentine cities protesting the U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic.

2 Area Airports to Be Surveyed

Pontiac Municipal Airport and Berz Airport in Troy will be among those surveyed this summer by the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, according to James D. Ramsey, director of the department.

In all, the survey will cover 37 Michigan communities June 18 through Sept. 6.

The "fact-finding" survey will query pilots and passengers on the origin and destination of their flights, their home base, the reason for the flight and the length of time and dollars spent in Michigan, Ramsey said.

He said the survey is expected to find increases over a 1962 tabulation showing 3.96 million take-offs and landings by passengers and pilots who spent $110 million annually in Michigan.

Twisters Hit Midwest and Plains States

By the Associated Press

Tornadoes and severe thunderstorms lashed wide areas in the Midwest and Plains states Monday night, following the stormy weather pattern of more than a week. Thunderstorms and heavy rain also hit sections in the Northeast and Southeast.

* * *

More than a dozen tornadoes were reported in parts of South Dakota, with Sioux Falls the hardest-hit section. Twisters and funnel clouds were sighted in six cities within 20 miles of Sioux Falls.

* * *

Telephone lines were knocked down and some damage was reported as a violent thunderstorm lashed the area of Craig, in northwestern Iowa. A twister swept the Sublet, Kan., region, but only minor damage was reported. Heavy rain hit many areas in Kansas and flooding was reported in some sections.

Tornadic winds battered St. Petersburg, Fla., which was doused by more than two inches of rain in 20 minutes. Severe thunderstorms pounded the Miami area and Atlanta, Ga.

RAIN, HAIL

Heavy rain and hail pelted parts of New England after temperatures climbed to 90 and higher. More than an inch of rain fell at Burlington, Vt., in 30 minutes and heavy hail struck Middlebury, Vt. The mercury reached 93 at Windsor Locks, Conn., and 91 at Boston.

Wallace Host to Press

'Bama Tour Goes On

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Visiting newsmen take another look at Birmingham today, then head for the space city of Huntsville in their tour of Alabama.

The 47 editors and reporters — including one Negro — from newspapers across the nation came here at Gov. George C. Wallace's invitation to find out if news stories about racial problems in Alabama have been distorted.

* * *

Their first day of travel in state trooper-escorted buses Monday took them to two of the cities which have experienced racial strife in recent years — Selma and Birmingham. The visit brought picketing by civil rights demonstrators at Selma.

In Birmingham, the state's largest city and the south's major steel producing metropolis, the out-of-state newsmen talked with Negro educators and visited the 16th Street Baptist church where a still-unsolved dynamite explosion killed four Negro girls in September 1963.

GATE POUNDING

Negro demonstrators tried in vain to crash the gate at a barbecue at Selma. City police under Public Safety Director Wilson Baker kept them back, and the newsmen lunched several hundred yards away without interruption.

The pickets, carrying signs and chanting "freedom songs," blocked the unpaved road leading to the covered pavilion where the barbecue was served. When the buses attempted to leave, they had to pause while police persuaded the demonstrators to clear the road.

* * *

Wallace's gesture in inviting the newsmen to Alabama brought both favorable and unfavorable reaction.

Walter Mickelson of the New Ulm, Minn., Daily Journal said he was "impressed with Wallace" and found him adept at answering the newsmen's questions.

RACIAL ISSUE

On the racial issue, Mickelson said, "I think the trouble is that people are giving political and emotional answers to economic questions."

George Shannon of the Shreveport (La.) Journal agreed with the Minnesota newsman's evaluation of the governor as a political figure who can handle himself at a news conference.

* * *

"As a Southerner, I know he's right," said Shannon. "He's armed with facts which cannot be disputed." The Louisiana editor predicted Wallace will change the minds of some visiting newsmen before they leave Alabama.

"The South as a whole ought to put on a tour just like this," Shannon added.

ON DEFENSIVE

John T. Harris of the McCook (Neb.) Daily Gazette, said he found Wallace "trying to be fair" with the newsmen, but expressed the hope that the governor will "stop being on the defensive."

"It's unfortunate that so much emphasis has been put on one problem," Harris added. "What they need is to put a little more sizzle into talking about the progress the state is making."

Alexander Bodi of the Palo Alto (Calif.) Times said:

"I came with what I hope was an open mind, trying to put aside any prejudice I might have. After listening to Wallace make a demagogic appeal to the people of Alabama and elsewhere on the pretext that he is talking to the nation's editors, I am afraid he is confirming some of the things he says we are prejudiced about in viewing Alabama."

Bodi said that as far as he is concerned, the governor has verified "the accuracy of the picture presented by the wire services which give us the news."

Russian Moon Shot Is Believed New Attempt at 'Soft Landing'

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched a rocket toward the moon today in what appeared to be its second try in a month to make history's first soft landing on the lunar surface.

The Russians first tested their soft landing system in Luna 5, which crashed on the Moon May 12. But they said at the time that the flight had collected valuable data for further attempts.

★ ★ ★

Luna 6 appeared to be the next try at a soft lunar landing, a key step toward putting a man on the moon.

The announcement of the launch by Tass, the official Soviet news agency, made no mention of plans to test a landing system.

ORIGINAL ANNOUNCEMENT

The original announcement of the Luna 5 launch did not mention such plans either. But later the Russians announced that an easy landing on the moon would be attempted. Previously they had waited until they had results and then said everything went according to plan.

A return to the earlier pattern of waiting for results was thought likely with Luna 6.

★ ★ ★

The official announcement called Luna 6 an "automatic station," the term the Russians normally use to describe an unmanned space craft.

The launch came a month after Luna 5 rocketed into space on May 9 and less than a day after the American Gemini 4 spacecraft returned safely.

★ ★ ★

A soft landing on the moon, something the United States has not yet accomplished, might be designed by the Russians to detract from the American Gemini success.

By 5 a.m. EST, Luna 6 was 12,600 miles from the earth, Tass said, and all instruments aboard were functioning normally.

Tass said Luna 6 weighs 3,172 pounds.

★ ★ ★

"The switching on of the telemetric measuring and scientific instrumentation will be done automatically, in conformity with the flight program, and also on radio command from the earth," the first announcement said.

15-Mill Tax Limitation Broken by County Board

The Oakland County Tax Allocation Board yesterday broke the 15-mill tax limitation in apportioning tax rates to the county, school districts and townships.

Traditionally, the total of county, school and township taxes apportioned to governmental units has been limited to 15 mills ($15 per $1,000 of equalized valuation).

Besides allowing variable millage to nine county school districts, the board also raised the county allocation from 5.26 to 5.30 mills and Oakland Schools share from .11 to .14 mills.

Total millage in communities ranged from a low of 13.82 in the Springfield Township portion of Clarkston Community Schools to a high of 16.52 in the Milford portion of the South Lyon School district.

★ ★ ★

The average was about 15 mills according to allocation board members.

ONLY CHANGE

The only change in the preliminary allocation set by the board last month involved a reduction of .20 mills to Farmington Township and an added .20 mills to Farmington Public Schools.

School officials had threatened to appeal the allocation of 1.40 mills to the township. The board's compromise split the disputed .40 mills.

A tax rate of 15.14 mills will apply in several communities where variable millage was allowed school systems.

An example is Waterford Township with the following breakdown: county—5.30 mills; school system—8.70 mills; township — 1 mill; and Oakland Schools — .14 mill.

BASE ALLOCATION

Pontiac Schools received a base allocation of 8.30 mills plus a variable of 1.40 mills to be levied in the city.

The final allocation for school districts was as follows:

Avondale, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Walled Lake and West Bloomfield, 8.30 mills; Berkley, Dublin, Ferndale, Holly, Huron Valley, and Oak Park, 8.70 mills; Brandon, Clawson, Hazel Park, Lamphere Madison, Royal Oak, South Lyon, Southfield and Troy — 9.70 mills.

★ ★ ★

Other school district allocations were Clarkston, 8.38, Farmington, 8.50; Lake Orion, 8.56; North Oxford, 8.17; Novi, 8.69; and Oxford Area and Rochester, 8.59.

MILL ALLOWANCE

Townships allowed an even one mill were Groveland, Highland, Holly, Rose, Royal Oak, Waterford and White Lake.

Other township allocations were Addison, 1.29; Avon, 1.32; Bloomfield, 1.40; Brandon, 1.26; Commerce, 1.38; Farmington, 1.20; Independence, 1.32; and Milford, 1.38.

Still others were Novi, 1.01; Orion, 1.14; Oakland and Oxford, 1.11; Pontiac, 1.35; Southfield, 0.53; and West Bloomfield, 1.40.

Lyon and Springfield townships requested no millage allocation and received none.

Construction Value in City Drops in May

Building construction in the city last month dropped in value compared to April, although the total number of building permits increased slightly.

According to Carl F. Alt, city building inspector, there were 152 permits issued last month for construction valued at $610,833.

During April there were 135 permits issued for construction valued at $822,373.

In May, 1964, there were 168 permits issued for construction valued at $2,121,273.

★ ★ ★

For the first five months of the year, building construction is down from the same period last year.

706 PERMITS

In 1964, the five-month total was 706 permits for construction valued at $4,533,118, while this year there have been a total of 503 permits issued for construction valued $2,264,390.

Thirteen of the permits last month were issued for new family dwellings — an estimated $101,800 worth of construction.

In April, eight new family dwelling permits were issued for construction valued at $77,800.

Five new commercial building permits were issued in May for an estimated $256,500 worth of construction.

Smoked Fish Curbs Rapped

Claim Stricter Laws Would Ruin Industry

LANSING (AP)—A group of Michigan fishermen and processors protest that stricter regulations on the handling of smoked fish would put them out of business.

The protest came at a hearing conducted Monday by the State Agriculture Department.

The stricter standards were recommended by a study committee named by Gov. George Romney following several deaths blamed on smoked Great Lakes fish about 18 months ago.

The deaths were attributed specifically to "botulism E," a rare food poisoning.

The fishermen and processors particularly objected to proposed regulations that fish be kept at a temperature of 36 degrees from the time they are taken out of the water and that they be smoked at a temperature of not less than 180 degrees for at least a half hour.

"You're trying to place an impossible regulation on the producers," said Richard McNab of Muskegon. "In the summer, the fish are taken out of water that sometimes is as warm as 70 degrees."

McNab suggested a 45 degree requirement, as for meat packers.

"A 36-degree temperature requirement would put us right out of business," seconded Hillard Grover of Montague.

SMOKING HEAT

Donald Ulrich of Spring Lake said a lot of processors can't smoke the fish at 180 degrees. If they could, he said, they wouldn't be able to sell them because the extreme heat does not make for a desirable looking product.

Other processors objected that a five per cent salt requirement would make the fish so salty they wouldn't sell.

Oakland Twp. Unit Plans United Front to Keep Mining Out

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — A meeting of the Citizens for Oakland Township has been set for next Tuesday in the hope that united action will keep out sand and gravel mining operations proposed for the area.

Cooper Supply Co., of Detroit, a subsidiary of Texas Industries, has petitioned for an amendment to the zoning law to allow mining in the area.

Donald Oselett, 1342 Inwood, chairman of the citizens group, said a corporation will be formed in order to "stand united" if Cooper takes the case to court.

He said an attorney for the company indicated at a public hearing last week that, if the request is not granted by the zoning and township boards, it (Cooper) will take the case to court.

★ ★ ★

"This whole thing is just ridiculous," said Oselett. "I moved out here last November because it was such a beautiful, peaceful spot with its rolling green hills and valleys.

WILL MOVE AGAIN

"Now, if they do this, I'll have to move again because I have seven children and I'm not going to endanger their lives."

He said that even though Cooper claims its trucks won't be using township roads to the west, he doesn't think it can be avoided.

"Those are dirt roads and not equipped to take the heavy loads," he said, "so they would have to be reinforced at the taxpayer's expense.

★ ★ ★

"Besides, it's dangerous. Last year, a gravel truck from Ma-Comb County forced a school bus off the road right near my home."

$15,000 IN TAXES

Cooper says its operation will net the township about $15,000 a year in taxes. Oselett says that just 50 new homes would bring in at least $10,000 "and they would be there permanently."

Cooper has stated that after 15 years, it would move out and the land would be completely restored.

The land is located in the northeast sector of the township near the Macomb County line. The firm has already purchased 185 acres and has option to purchase another 11 acres.

★ ★ ★

The citizens meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Township Hall in Goodison.

AREA NEWS

Hospital Chief Resigns Post

LAPEER — George Syler, director of Suncrest Hospital, Lapeer County's infirmary for the aged, and director of the county's department of social welfare, has resigned at the request of the social welfare board.

His resignation follows that of Dr. William C. Heitsch, medical director at Suncrest, who resigned May 10.

Heitsch quit after criticism by the state that medical records had not been kept up on all Suncrest's patients.

The welfare board said Syler's resignation was requested "due to the relationship between the administration of Suncrest and the employes."

★ ★ ★

Employes charged that some of them had been harassed because of union activities and that the administration has shown favoritism.

CLARKSTON — Billy Mitchell awards for accomplishment in Civil Air Patrol (CAP), have been presented to two members of the Clarkston Civil Air Patrol.

Honored were Cadet 2-Lt. Kathy Eudis, of 53 Church, and Cadet 2-Lt. Robert Grace, of 5234 Sashabaw, Independence Township.

★ ★ ★

Presentation of the awards at a recent recognition night ceremony was made by Col. J. Issitt, Michigan Wing Commander, CAP.

Retiring Educator Is Honored by 200

ROCHESTER—More than 200 persons attended a reception Sunday in honor of Miss Winifred Wilson, assistant principal of Central Junior High School, who is retiring after 35 years of teaching.

★ ★ ★

Miss Wilson has spent 17 of her 35 teaching years in the Rochester schools as teacher and assistant principal.

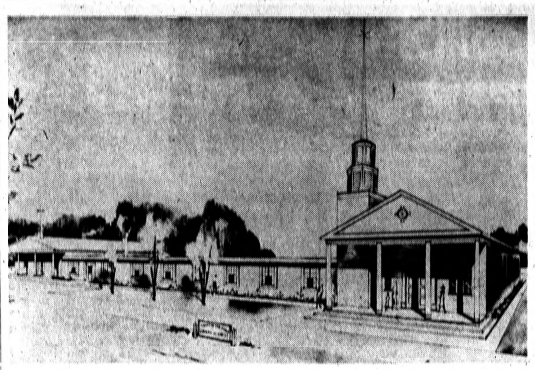
The reception was given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maine, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Holman, Eloise Tallant and Willamena Ribbink.

Among the out-of-town guests at the party were Dr. Dale Kennedy, executive secretary of the Michigan Education Association, and former Schools Superintendent Don Baldwin.

★ ★ ★

Miss Wilson was given a money tree containing about $150.

After spending some time at her home on Rock Lake in Vestaburg, she plans to travel.



CONSTRUCTION STARTED — Ground was broken Sunday for the first unit of Heart of the Hills Church of Christ, shown above in an artist's sketch. The $42,000 building will be located at Orion and Maplehill roads in Avon Township. Richard Boyer of Oxford is the general contractor for the structure, which will contain a 150-seat chapel, seven class-rooms and an office. Completion is scheduled for October. The total program calls for 17 additional classrooms and a 400-seat sanctuary, cost estimated at $200,000. Rev. Henry J. McAdams is pastor of the 50-member, three-year-old congregation.

To Head Huron Valley District

School Superintendent Named

MILFORD — Dr. Truman Owens, former Michigan educator now serving as a school superintendent in New Jersey, has been named to head the Huron Valley School System.

Owens' appointment, announced today by school board president Horace Lodge, will become effective Aug. 1. His salary has been set at $16,000.

The resignation of Erwin M. Johnson from the post is to take effect July 1.

However, Johnson has indicated he can be called upon to orient the new superintendent if he is available.

Owens, 41, currently is superintendent of the Haworth Public Schools in New Jersey, although he was educated and has served most of his career in Michigan.

WSU DEGREES

Both his bachelor of science and master of education degrees were earned at Wayne State University. He received his doctor's degree from the University of Michigan.

Owens began his teaching career in Dearborn, where he taught elementary classes for seven years.

From 1957 to 1964, he was connected with the Lamphere School System as elementary and junior high school principal.

★ ★ ★

Owens has been a consultant on team teaching to Ohio University, the West Clermont Schools of Amelia, Ohio, and the School Management Institute of Columbus, Ohio.

He has taught graduate courses for the University of Michigan and spoken to various educational groups.

Owens and his wife have two children.

Johnson, who has worked in the district for 17 years, has been superintendent for five. Prior to his appointment as head of the district, he had been assistant superintendent for four years and high school principal for eight.

★ ★ ★

Under his leadership, the district has built seven school additions and is now constructing a new junior high school.

WATCHED GROWTH

Johnson has watched district enrollment grow from 1,492 when he came here to the current 4,966.

Educated at Western Michigan University, Michigan State University, the University of Michigan and Columbia University, Johnson taught in Mancelona, Belleville and at WMU before starting his Milford career.

Johnson, 57, said he has no immediate plans other than attending a workshop on rural education at Columbia University this summer.

★ ★ ★

Johnson's son, E. Allen, lives in Milford. His stepchildren are Mrs. John DeGarmo of Fort Knox, Ky.; Mrs. Stephen Miller of Cincinnati, Ohio; and Sheldon Thornton, at home.

Linked to School Vote

'Politics' Charged Over Census

A charge of "politics" among the school census takers in Avondale School District was raised at the school board meeting last night.

Mrs. William Bergin, 1664 Ledbury, Avon Township, said a census taker asked her who she was going to vote for in the June 14 school election.

"I thought these people were supposed to be nonpartisan and hired by the school board," she said. "I know who I am going to vote for, but this kind of thing might persuade someone who hasn't made up his mind."

Assistant School Supt. Arnold Ojala said the census taker had been reprimanded. He was asked to name all the census takers. When he mentioned Mrs. William U. Porter, a candidate for the school board, trustee Edward Turner responded:

★ ★ ★

"I think it's a poor policy when selecting census takers to choose a school board candidate. Why do you have to go with the same crew time after time. This is supposed to be nonpartisan. There has been too much coattail-hanging on this administration."

Ojala explained that it is hard to get census takers and that only one person had volunteered.

"These people were picked before the candidates were announced," he said.

At Lake Orion

Deadlock Unresolved

By BILL EASTHAM
Asst. City Editor—Suburban

LAKE ORION — The dispute over the status of Robert V. Parenti as village attorney and Robert J. Swem as village assessor apparently will have to be settled by higher authority.

At the council's last meeting May 24, Parenti's contract was terminated by Village President Clarence B. Rossman, effective June 1, without action by the council.

At the same meeting the council accepted the resignation of Swem, which he had attempted to withdraw, against the wishes of Rossman.

In a crowded meeting at the Village Hall last night, both sides of the dispute claimed legal rights to their position, and nothing was resolved.

★ ★ ★

Rossman opened the meeting by reading a prepared statement to the council in which he objected to the presence of Parenti at the council table.

INTERPRETING LAW

He said he would refrain from having the attorney removed by the police because this would put the officers in the position of interpreting the law.

Rossman also read a four-page letter to Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley in which he asked for a "statement or opinion to the effect that Mr. Parenti's actions in maintaining that he is legally the village attorney until a qualified successor is appointed are in violation of the village charter.

"Also, by copy of this letter to the Michigan Bar Association, I am requesting that Mr. Parenti's course of action be cause for investigation and appropriate action."

★ ★ ★

Parenti is scheduled to take office as president of the bar association July 1.

SO INSISTENT

When Rossman concluded the letter, Councilman Robert D. Stokes demanded to know why Rossman is so insistent on ousting Parenti as village attorney.

Rossman said the attorney is too "negative," without explaining what he meant.

Stokes pursued the question further, and a brief, table-pounding, shouting session developed, punctuated with some heckling from the audience.

★ ★ ★

Rossman finally gaveled the meeting to order and asked for a roll call vote on the appointment of Robert L. Templin, former senior assistant prosecutor, as village attorney.

VOTED NO

All the councilmen voted no except Lewie Rossman, who abstained.

Rossman tried to get Templin appointed to the job last April, but the council voted against him.

The village president then read a letter from Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson which stated that he would accept the position only at the unanimous request of the council.

★ ★ ★

Bronson defeated Templin in the race for prosecutor last fall to become the county's first Democratic prosecutor since the 1930s.

SEVERAL LETTERS

Rossman also showed the council several letters from area attorneys in which he said they agreed to serve as village attorney.

He then called for a special meeting on June 17 to interview a candidate for the job. He declined to say who the candidate is.

When asked by Stokes for a statement on the dispute, Parenti termed the whole matter "ridiculous," and said he would defend his position in court if necessary.

★ ★ ★

Most of the councilmen are reluctant to hire a new attorney because of pending litigation against the village regarding the pollution of Paint Creek.

HANDLED CASE

Parenti has handled the case since it was started nearly a year ago.

Swem also indicated that he is a long way from giving up the fight for his office and told the council, "I am still your village assessor."

He said he had conferred with several state officials in Lansing yesterday, including the State Tax Commission, Rep. Robert J. Slingerlend of Lake Orion and Sen. Carl D. O'Brien of the 17th District.

★ ★ ★

Swem claims that the council violated the village charter by not turning the tax rolls over to him when he took office.

TO STEP IN

He said the attorney general has agreed to step into the matter.

★ ★ ★

This is in contrast to a letter from the attorney general's office to Rep. Slingerlend stating that the attorney general does not have a staff big enough to become involved in such disputes.

Study Group Celebrates 15th Year

Ten charter members of the original 19 were present at Monday night's meeting of the Waterford Child Study Club.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Erwin Greer of Southward Drive was hostess, assisted by Mrs. William J. Emerson.

★ ★ ★

The group's first president, Mrs. Donald C. Weaver of Kalamazoo, installed officers for the coming year.

★ ★ ★

Serving as president will be Mrs. John Sawyers. Vice presidents are Mrs. Robert Holan and Mrs. Richard Kuhn.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bruce Gorte and Mrs. Richard Ladouceur are secretaries; Mrs. Morton Jacobs, treasurer and Mrs. Thomas Spragle, historian.

15th ANNIVERSARY

This was the 15th anniversary of the club. Since its beginning, 150 children have been influenced by what their mothers learned at meetings.

★ ★ ★

All the past presidents were present. In addition to Mrs. Weaver, they are Mrs. James DenHerder, Mrs. Dean Toles, Mrs. Harlan Oakes, Mrs. Edmund Windeler, Mrs. Greer, Mrs. William Freyermuth and Mrs. Norman Cheal.

OTHER GUESTS

Former members who were guests were Mrs. William Bowden, Mrs. Lauren Manhart of Birmingham, Mrs. Paul McCoy and Mrs. C. H. Alden.

Completing the list are Mrs. Gordon Bennett of Grand Blanc, Mrs. Donald Redmond, Mrs. William Shunck and Mrs. Neil Hunter.

Milliner Sews Astronauts' Hats

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — United States astronauts who go to the moon will wear headgear designed and produced by a ladies' milliner.

★ ★ ★

Anne Sary, for 33 years proprietor of a hat shop in Hartford, where her originals sell for $15 and up, has won a National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) contract for the protective headgear to be worn by the Project Apollo astronauts under their bubble helmets.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Sary can't say much about the headgear or what it looks like because "the Apollo program is all in the future."

★ ★ ★

But, she explains, it meets three basic NASA requirements: it's comfortable, durable and not too warm.

SIX WEEKS

About six millinery designers were asked to submit ideas, and Mrs. Sary won.

"I'm just as proud as I can be that it was awarded to me," she says. "It was lots of hard work while I was designing it."

★ ★ ★

That alone took six weeks, she says. And that was just a beginning.

★ ★ ★

"I thought all I'd have to do was design a helmet — a cap type thing that fastens under the chin," she says.

But after she sent in her prototype, back came "a sheaf of papers listing changes they needed."

★ ★ ★

"NASA is terribly exacting," she explains. For instance, NASA told her some of her stitches were off by a thousandth of an inch. She had measured with an ordinary tape measure.

"Good heavens, do you measure these things with a . . . micrometer?" Mrs. Sary asked.

"As a matter of fact, we do," NASA told her.

Mrs. Sary works on the headgear by herself in a locked room in her home.

She says she makes them with a regular professional sewing machine, a "special machine," and a lot of hand work.

At first she used her son, Wilfrid, 16, as a model, but his head hasn't developed enough yet.

So she asked NASA for a model, and received a "Yul Brynner" — a wooden block model of a man's head.

PARTTIME

She works on the NASA contract only at night and on weekends, because during the day she has her millinery business to attend to. She says she stays up all night sometimes to get a model finished.

"I have to have a model ready when they have a space suit ready," she says.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Sary, a native of Luton, Bedfordshire, England, a millinery center, worked in high fashion shops in Paris and Boston before coming to Hartford to establish her own shop.

She says she likes designing spacemen's hats. "It's a challenge to do something different. I'm quite elated that my creations may end up on the moon, and very, very proud."

Astronauts' milliner Mrs. Anne Sary, who is designing headgear for Project Apollo, works in her hat shop on chapeaux for her women customers.

Case of Missing Hairbrush Is No Longer a Mystery

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago you had an item in your column telling the party who had picked up her beauty operator's favorite hairbrush please to return it quietly and there would be no questions asked, as someone had witnessed her little stunt.

ABBY

Well, Abby, I am not the beauty operator who wrote to you with that problem, but someone did steal my favorite hairbrush about a year ago, and one day last week it suddenly was back in my drawer. So thanks a lot.

LUCY AT THE LOOKING GLASS

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Would you please put my mind at ease and put a "confidential" message in your column to "JUST WONDERING"? Answer either yes or no. Was the lady who was seen slipping a hairbrush into her purse from St. Paul, Minnesota? Thank you.

"JUST WONDERING"

Black and white speak of fashion in summer shoes, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. The new poromeric Corfam material takes the worry out of keeping whites white. Both the all-white saddles and the black-and-white three-eyelet oxfords can be kept immaculately clean with a damp cloth. The black leather slipons show one of the many ways elasticized gores are incorporated into summer shoe styling.

Stretch debuts this season in a casual hat that takes to the rain or the golf course with equal aplomb. A bucket design in Klopman's Mills' double-duty poplin of dacron-cotton and Lycra, it incorporates another important fabric innovation in its stretch band that adjusts easily to the head size. Literally "no higher than a man's head," this hat by Dobbs would be a most comfortable choice for wear in an automobile. About $6.50.

Bond's sport coats for summer have pattern interest. Shown here are two natural shoulder, three-button models with notched lapels and flap pockets. Fashioned in tropical dacron and worsted, both styles are tapered slightly at the waist but with enough ease to allow for comfort. Left, the Ashley; right, the Penn. Each about $33.

This beige suit—a light shade in a season of darker tones—is a smartly cut two-button model in a dapper "silk look" fabric of dacron polyester and wool with fish mouth lapels and center vent. By Varsity Town, about $85. Available locally.

Area recipients of recent awards for outstanding participation in activities at the student radio station WAYN at Wayne State University are Gary Peace of Kemp Street and Carlyn James of Troy, also Gilbert Kanat of Beverly Hills, for radio.

The mass communications division of WSU presented the distinguished service award to Station WXYZ for its contribution to student broadcasting.

Beta Sigs to Meet

The RKO chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Larry Ettinger on David K. Plans for the coming year are to be made.

Bon Voyage Tea Honors Student

Anne Sadovsky was honored Sunday at a "Bon Voyage" tea given by her mother, Mrs. Vincent Sadovsky of Overbrook Road.

Anne is leaving this week for Leysin, Switzerland where she will attend University School as a student of the Foreign Language League.

Fifty guests were present. Assisting were Mrs. V. L. Newcomb and Mrs. Arnold Brown.

WAVE Claims Her Captains His, Her Type

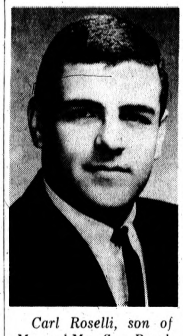
GARLAND, Tex. (AP) — Aerographer Bonnie Page claims to be the only WAVE to serve under "His" and "Her" captains.

From 1955 to 1957, she was a WAVE Aerographer's Mate Second Class at the Dallas Naval Air Station and her commanding officer was Capt. David Sooy.

★ ★ ★

The captain retired, and so did WAVE Page, but in August 1963 she enlisted in the Waves Reserve Training Unit in Dallas, and her commanding officer was Lt. Cmdr. Nadine Niehouse.

WAVE Page's claim was made soon after Capt. Sooy and Lt. Cmdr. Niehouse were married.



Carl Roselli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Roselli of Tex Avenue, was graduated recently with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Returned from a brief honeymoon are Mr. and Mrs. Garry Michael Harris (Beverly Ann Giroux) who were wed recently in the Central Methodist Church. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Giroux of Longworth Street, Mrs. Richard Cole of Sutherland Street and Bill Harris of Whittier Street. Imported illusion veiling complemented the bride's gown of tiered white Rochelle lace. Her attendants were Mrs. Gerald Morgan, Auburn Heights, and Linda Conkle. With best man Gerald Morgan were ushers Wayne Hull and Wayne Ehlers. A reception in the CAI Building followed the evening rite performed by Dr. Harry Godsell and Dr. Milton Bank.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today a woman's hands do many things besides rock the cradle. They grasp a tennis racket and a golf club, work in the garden, wash the dishes, take care of the baby and still manage to look lovely at dinner or bridge. However, this doesn't just happen. It is the result of thought and care.

It is hardly a breakthrough when I remind you that the nails must have regular manicures, if the hands are to be lovely. However here, are a few ideas which may be new to you or which you may have forgotten.

HEALTH

The color and condition of the nails can tell a physician lots about us. Good health promotes healthy nails.

It has been thought that buffing the nails promotes nail health since it increases circulation under the nail.

Try to control rough cuticle with the regular use of a cuticle cream or oil. Do not cut it unless absolutely necessary. Push it back from the nail.

Use an emery board and do not file the nails too close at the sides. This causes them to break at the points.

★ ★

Wear rubber or plastic gloves when your hands are in water and wear cotton gloves when working in the garden.

Always apply a hand lotion after washing the hands. This will make a big difference in their appearance.

If your nails break off, try leaving off nail polish for a while. Also be sure that your diet has enough protein in it and is vitamin rich.

A couple of times a week massage the hands with a good cream and then wear cotton gloves for a few hours. Even better, massage the cream in before going to sleep at night and sleep in the gloves.

Friends Honor Janice Halter

Janice Rae Halter of Alco Drive is being entertained before her marriage to Robert Edward Stocker, Saturday, in Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church.

Mrs. James Moshier and Mrs. Gerald Sheldon gave a recent pantry shower in the Auburn Heights home of the Robert Stockers, parents of the future bridegroom.

Hostesses at a recent trousseau shower were Mrs. William T. Mountain of Second Avenue and Mrs. Daniel McGillis of Windsor.

★ ★ ★

The daughter of the Robert P. Halters of Alco Drive was also honored by Mrs. Lloyd Dyker of Barkman Drive and Mrs. John Sabat of Alco Drive.

Lady's Train Ride Almost Expensive

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — Natalie Coelho, in her 70s, appeared a bit upset at the Essex subway station here and asked train starter Henry McCuster if he would take her back to the Dover station where she boarded the train. She said she had misplaced her coat.

The two of them found the coat draped over a turnstile where it had been hanging for some time. Sewn in the lining of the coat, and untouched, were bills totaling $2,980.

Both Cake and Pie Make Up This Dessert

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Mrs. Raymond Vess suggests an unusual dessert recipe. This should make an interesting summer pie.

Although Mrs. Vess was generous with her recipe, she was too modest about herself and gave no information.

LEMON CAKE PIE
By Mrs. Raymond Vess

2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
Pinch of salt
Juice and rind of 1 lemon
1 cup milk
Unbaked 8-inch pie shell

Beat together flour, sugar, butter, egg yolks, lemon juice and rind and salt. Add milk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake 10 minutes at 425 degrees. Reduce heat to 375 degrees and bake 30 minutes longer.

Use More Money for Food in Russia

Food costs the average Russian family over half of its earned income, a recent survey shows.

Average United States families spend only 18½ cents of each disposable dollar for food, according to the Department of Agriculture.

Seabees Have Veteran Pilot as Chaplain

By HAL BOYLE

CHU LAI, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Seabees building a new attack airstrip here have a real sky pilot as chaplain.

BOYLE

He is Lt. George M. Sheldon, Olympia, Wash., a former naval combat flier who flew 71 missions in Korea off the carrier Philippine Sea. He also holds five Air Medals and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

The chaplain, who served 13 years as a line officer in the Navy after graduating from Annapolis, is highly popular with the nearly 600 members of Mobile Construction Battalion 10.

As one of the Seabees said:

"We do hard, sweaty work from 12 to 18 hours a day. When we have a problem, we need someone to talk to who can talk our language. The padre can."

STANDS OUT

Chaplain Sheldon is 6 foot 1, has hazel eyes, closecropped, iron-gray hair and a Lincolnesque countenance. He wears a gold cross on his shirt and a big colorful Vietnamese jungle hat that makes him easily identifiable from a distance.

Seated in a hot tent not far from the supplies-strewn beach, Lt. Sheldon told why he gave up combat flying to preach the Gospel.

★ ★ ★

"A variety of things led me to the ministry," he said. "When I joined the Episcopal Church in 1955, I made a commitment to Christ and his Church. I began to read the Bible as a coherent whole rather than as bits and piecemeal. Gradually, I came to the conviction that this was the work I should follow."

He resigned from active naval duty in 1959 to enter the Divinity School of the Pacific at Berkeley, Calif. After graduating in 1962, he served in parishes in the San Francisco Bay area and Salt Lake City before rejoining the Navy.

HARD WORKER

The padre works as hard as any Seabee himself. He holds six religious services weekly for the Seabees and Marines, helps in the military's people-to-people program, and is active in the direction of a native orphanage. But his greatest satisfaction comes from the endless hours of counseling men who come to him for help — Protestants, Catholics and Jews alike.

"They are typical of the problems of men away from home — loneliness, financial difficulties, and worries over the stability of their marriages," he said. "Occasionally, there is a man who doesn't adjust well to military life and believes he is being picked on.

★ ★ ★

"Our biggest problems result from communications failures — when the men don't get letters from home regularly or don't write home regularly themselves.

"Mail is the greatest morale builder. The simple words 'I love you' are still the most important in the world."

HANKERING

Chaplain Sheldon, whose wife and two children live in Oxnard, Calif., hasn't flown an airplane for nine years but still hankers to now and then.

"But I like this work better," he said. "The thrill of flying is essentially selfish and can be shared only with other people in the same game. But any kind of ministry — whether it be preaching, teaching, nursing or healing — involves the giving of self to others.

"The tangible rewards are not very great. But the intangible rewards are."

Everybody in trouble turns to the chaplain. What does the chaplain do when he has a problem?

"Well, if he can't solve it himself," said the padre smiling, "I suppose he takes it to another chaplain."

Sales of manufacturing concerns in the U.S. for 1964 totaled $443 billion in comparison with $412 billion the year before, according to the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Alaska has the highest ratio of males to females in the U.S. — 57 per cent male to 43 per cent female. For the nation as a whole the ratio is 49-51, with women predominating.

tiny particles in gasoline

(before they stop you!)

What does the American FINAL/FILTER* really do? Automotive engineers know—they asked for it and American Oil Research developed it to stand between you and trouble. You see, all gasolines pick up tiny impurities in transit and in storage. These impurities, should they get in your gasoline tank, could clog up the fuel line filter and stop you cold. The American FINAL/FILTER stops harmful contaminants right at the pump nozzle. If you use your car on the job (and even if you don't), stay out of trouble—"fill 'er up filtered" with American® Regular or American® Super-Premium.

Kaline's Batting Outburst Gives Tigers Win

AP Photofax

BAD INNING — The Detroit Tigers defeated the LA Angels, 6-5, last night thanks to some poor throws in the LA infield. The top photo shows Julio Gotay chasing a low throw from pitcher Dean Chance as shortstop Jim Fregosi falls to the ground. In the lower photo, Dick McAuliffe gets to second as Fregosi tries to make the tag, but too late. Chance stood on the mound rubbing the ball as McAuliffe went for the steal in the 5th inning.

Two Homers Down Angels in 6-5 Game

Bengal Outfielder Hits Clincher in 8th Inning; Aguirre to Start

From Our News Wires

LOS ANGELES — Al Kaline said today he hoped that the outburst of power he displayed Monday night against the Los Angeles Angels was but a sample of what he hopes to produce now that he feels good again.

"When I feel good I hit the ball well," the veteran Detroit Tigers outfielder said. "And I believe I'm going to have another of my good years."

★ ★ ★

Kaline personally demolished the Angels as he hit two home runs, the second with a man on base in the eighth inning to pull the Tigers ahead for a 6-5 victory.

And that four-bagger came off the Angels top relief hurler, Bob Lee.

To the best of Kaline's recollection, it was his first off the ace Los Angeles fireman.

With a double and two home runs, his 10th and 11th of the season, Kaline began the climb back, boosting his average in one night from .267 to .275.

It was the first time in two years that Kaline has hit two home runs in one game, he said.

BASES EMPTY

Kaline slammed a bases-empty homer in the sixth off Dean Chance.

Denny McLain started on the mound for the Tigers, but was relieved by Larry Sherry in the fifth when the Angels went ahead 5-1 on two singles by Joe Adcock and a double and a single by Paul Schaal.

Kaline's sixth inning homer, coupled with a triple by Jim Northrup made it 5-4 for the Angels until the eighth.

Hank Aguirre is scheduled to put his 5-2 record on the line tonight. Fred Newman (6-3) is slated for the mound chores for the Angels.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers round out their series with the Angels Wednesday night. They'll take Thursday off and return to the Motor City Friday for a 12-day home stand.

SPORTS

Sectional Field of USGA Tees Off at Birmingham

Sectional qualifying continued today for the U.S. Open, June 17-20 at Bellerive CC in St. Louis with the fields at Birmingham and Cleveland holding the spotlight.

Eighteen golfers qualified at four sites — Chicago, Cincinnati, Dallas and Portland yesterday. The remaining 101 berths will be filled at nine sites today.

Sam Snead, Cary Middlecoff, Tommy Bolt, Art Wall and Ted Kroll are among the top names who must shoot their way into the Open through 36 holes today at Birmingham Country Club.

Thirteen of the 35 players will gain berths to St. Louis.

At Cleveland where many of the tour players are getting ready for the Cleveland Open, 106 golfers go after 38 spots with such names as Jack Burke, Denny Shute, two-time PGA winner; Kel Nagle, British Open champ from Australia; Dave Marr, Tommy Aaron, Billy Maxwell, Bob Goalby and Jacky Cupit.

SNEAD HERE

Snead, who has won more than 100 tournaments but never has been able to win the Open, was scheduled with Art Wall on the tee at 7:44 a.m. at Birmingham CC.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday at Clovernook CC in Cincinnati, Duff Lawrence, a club assistant pro from Columbus, Scioto CC, fired a pair of 68's for 136 to lead 18 Monday qualifiers.

A total of 38 played at Medinah in Chicago, scene of the 1949 National Open, and Dick Hart of Hinsdale, Ill., led the eight qualifiers with 73-74—147.

Shelley Mayfield, once a touring pro now a club pro, paced 20 players after four spots at Dallas. He shot 72-69—141 over the par-72 Brookhaven Country Club Course.

At Portland, Oregon:

Decision Is Expected Today on AFL Teams

OCEANPORT, N.J. (UPI) — The American Football League (AFL) owners planned today to announce which two cities would be awarded franchises to enlarge the loop to 10 teams by the 1966 season.

For weeks Atlanta and Philadelphia have been given the inside track, but during Monday's opening session of the owners' two-day, closed-door meeting with Commissioner Joe Foss, Milwaukee gained stature and New Orleans lost some.

★ ★ ★

The expansion committee — Sonny Werblin of the New York Jets, Lamar Hunt of the Kansas City Chiefs and Bud Adams of the Houston Oilers — reportedly were impressed with Atlanta's orderly desegregation policies.

Milwaukee, losing the baseball Braves to Atlanta next season, was mentioned for the first time.

Werblin said former Notre Dame football coach, Terry Brennan, was heading "an attractive group" wishing to install a pro football franchise in the vacuum created by the departure of the Braves.

A total of 58 groups in about two dozen cities had applied for franchises.

The AFL planned to announce the cities, then investigate the groups before awarding franchises.

ROSTER INCREASE

Foss said the eight AFL teams would immediately increase their rosters from 36 to 40 players, plus two men on the injured reserve list.

When the new clubs are stocked after the upcoming season, each original team could freeze 23 men. This would allow the newcomers to draft from among 19 players on each of the original teams.

Detroit BPA Has Grand Jury Date

DETROIT (UPI)—Officials of Detroit's Bowling Proprietors Association have been ordered to appear Friday morning before a Federal grand jury investigating price-fixing in Detroit-area bowling alleys.

The Anti-Trust Division of the Justice Department has subpoenaed records and minutes of BPA meetings for the last three years in connection with the investigation.

The Detroit BPA includes 112 bowling establishments, virtually all major lanes in the metropolitan area.

10 Selected by NHL to Hall of Fame

MONTREAL (AP) — Ten former hockey players, several of whom were stars around the turn of the century, were named Monday to the Hockey Hall of Fame.

The 10 selections:

Arthur Farrell, who played with the old Montreal Shamrocks club more than one-half century ago.

★ ★ ★

Blair Russell, of the Montreal Victorias.

Jack Marshall, who played with the old Montreal Wanderers.

Ernie Russell, another member of the Wanderers in the early 1900s.

Clint Benedict, goalie with Ottawa and the Montreal Maroons some years ago.

TWO WINGS

Sid Howe, who came up through the Ottawa Primrose Junior club and played with Ottawa, St. Louis and Detroit in the National Hockey League.

Marty Barry, who played with the Boston Bruins, Montreal Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings in the NHL.

Red Horner, long-time defenseman with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Bill Mosienko, who was a forward with the Chicago Black Hawks.

Angels' Chance Wants New Chance

LOS ANGELES (AP — Any accomplished golfer who has ever taken eight strokes on the first hole must know how Dean Chance feels.

The Los Angeles Angels' star pitcher would like to go back and start all over.

★ ★ ★

The 23-year-old right-hander became extremely conscious of records and statistics last year when he won 20 games and compiled a 1.65 earned run average.

In so doing, he became the youngest person ever to win the Cy Young Award — the prize annually tendered to baseball's top pitcher.

Though two-thirds of the season remains to be played, Chance has little hope of equaling or bettering his 1964 ERA.

When he failed to preserve a 5-1 lead Monday night in a game Detroit eventually won, 6-5, Dean's ERA ballooned to 4.81.

NEEDS SHUTOUTS

He would have to pitch 140 runless innings in a row, the equivalent of more than 15 consecutive shutouts, to get his ERA down to 1.65.

★ ★ ★

Chance's plight may be one reason Angel Manager Bill Rigney entered a hospital Monday to be examined for an annual flareup of stomach ulcers.

Chance can't be all to blame.

Angel hitters have averaged a mere .215 in the process of losing 19 of their last 31 starts. In that span, they've scored 86 runs.

Kansas City Gets First Pick

Baseball's New Draft Begins

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball conducts its great experiment today — a revolutionary free-agent draft of high school boys and collegians patterned after the pro football draft.

Before the long day and night are over, several hundred athletes will have been selected unless there are unexpected hitches in the plans of Commissioner Ford Frick and his staff.

★ ★ ★

Each major league team gets one choice. Each of the 20 clubs in the two class Triple A minors — Pacific Coast League and International League — get two selections.

Each of the 20 teams in the three Class Double A leagues — Texas, Southern and Eastern — get four picks. There is unlimited selection for the 122 teams in the eight Class A leagues.

If the Class A boys, all major league farm clubs, want to keep it going they can keep drafting until every high school graduate in America is on the list.

FIRST CHOICE

Kansas City had first pick because the A's finished last in the American League in 1964. The New York Mets, last in the National League, had the No.2 selection.

A boy drafted by a team can sign — or else. If he waits six months, he goes back into the pool for another draft. Although the original idea of the draft was to cut down on the big bonus payments, it was expected that the first round selections would price themselves at the $100,000 level.

Players expected to be picked in the early rounds included: Rick Monday of Arizona State, Bill Conigliaro — Tony's brother — of Swampscott, Mass., Joe Coleman Jr. of Natick, Mass., Bill Guerrant of Western Michigan, Dave Pflasterer of Union, Tenn., John Fouse of Arizona, Fred Mazurek of Pittsburgh, Bob Robben of Missouri, Terry Craven of San Fernando State, Kenneth Ash of Missouri, Bruce Aitkenod Florida Southern and Alex Pero of Grambling.

In addition to Conigliaro and Coleman, other relatives of former big league players who are expected to go high include Bob Dickman of Rutgers, son of Em Dickman, former Boston pitcher; Del Unser of Mississippi State, son of Al Unser and Hal Jeffcoat Jr. of Tampa, Fla.

SECOND CALL

There will be a second draft meeting in September to take care of boys playing American Legion junior baseball and a third draft in January to handle the athletes who graduated from school at that time.

Under the high school rule, no player can be signed until his original class graduates from high school. College players can be signed only after they have completed their sophomore year.

Home Course Big Help When Playing in Pro-Am

Assistant pro Gerald Preiskorn and member Jim Krause enjoyed their home course at Pine Lake yesterday by winning the weekly pro-am event with a best ball 34-31—65.

Prieskorn also teamed with Clare Shephard of Pine Lake for a 66 to tie with Dick LeBeau of the Detroit Lions and pro Stan Jawor for second place.

Low pro honors went to Ben Lula of Hillcrest with a 71.

In gaining the pro-am triumph, Krause, the 1963 Pine Lake club champion, scored a birdie on the 11th hole and with the one stroke handicap here, it netted him an eagle.

This helped his team with five strokes since Prieskorn took a triple bogey on the hole.

Krause had five birdies in his own round, firing a 77, while Prieskorn shot a 76 on his own ball.

★ ★ ★

The cutoff for the money prizes was at 69 and Gerry Prieskorn and Stan Rozema fired a 69, as did pro Elmer Prieskorn and Chuck Livingston.

Bill on Boxing Offered by Hart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., introduced today the 1965 version of his bill to place professional boxing under federal policing by a boxing commissioner.

He pictured heavyweight champion Cassius Clay's disputed 60-second knockout of Sonny Liston in their Lewiston, Maine, bout as reason enough to justify the. bill's enactment. A similar bill by Hart and others died last year in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

★ ★ ★

Hart contended enactment of the bill this year represents a last chance for the survival of big time boxing and to rescue it from the "shadowy interests which appear to dominate boxing."

The bill would:

1. Establish in the Justice Department the office of U.S. boxing commissioner with broad powers to investigate and police pro boxing.

2. Require federal licenses for pro boxers, managers, promoters and matchmakers.

3. Authorize the commissioner to require the filing of all contracts, agreements and financial reports by licensees, and to establish and enforce minimum standards for boxing.

4. Provide enforcement weapons including suspension or revocation of licenses, and prosecution in the criminal courts for undercover deals, false reporting and unlicensed participation in interstate boxing.

PENALTIES SET

Criminal penalties would range from up to $1,000 fine and a year in jail for boxers, to $5,000 and five years for managers, promoters and matchmakers caught in violations.

"The nation will not founder if this bill is not passed," Hart observed in a prepared Senate speech. "However, society is reluctant to tolerate any organized activity that is not endowed with some standard of morality and orderliness and self-discipline."

Hart said his Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, which repeatedly has investigated and condemned racketeering in boxing, plans no hearings on the bill. He said the need for the bill is well understood, and so are its terms.

"The fight itself in Lewiston, Maine, is worth 10 volumes of testimony," Hart declared. "The hearings we held last year were a prophecy of what did occur.

QUICKLY MOVED

"We were told, for instance that no single state, no matter how strict its standards, can cope with the ills of boxing; that those states with strict standards just don't get the big fights."

He noted that when the World Boxing Association and Massachusetts state boxing authorities sought to ban the Clay-Liston bout in Boston, it was moved quickly to Lewiston.

Second Round in Collegiate World Series

Arizona State Meets St. Louis; Ohio State Wins, 2-1

OMAHA (AP) — The 19th College World Series heads into the second round today with top-ranked Arizona State facing St. Louis and Ohio State meeting Washington State in the top games and the top players awaiting the first major league draft of free agents.

The first round produced no major surprises and much of the talk centered on the draft in New York.

It will be a big surprise if Arizona State's Rick Monday, the long-striding 19-year-old outfielder with a Duke Snider swing, isn't the No. 1 choice. The Kansas City A's get first choice.

★ ★ ★

Monday was far from the top hitter of the first round, though, as he settled for 1-for-5, including a bunt single and sacrifice fly.

Little Bob Fry of Washington State set a Series one-game record of four stolen bases, including a theft of home. He was 3-for-5 and belted a two-run homer as the Cougars whipped Texas 12-5.

SET RECORD

Sal Bando of Arizona State slammed a single, double and home run and drove in three runs as the Sun Devils cut down Lafayette 14-1 for their 50th victory, an NCAA record. Right-hander John (The Robot) Pavlik had a no hitter until the seventh and was 3-for-4 at the plate.

The other games belonged to the pitchers. Steve Arlin, Ohio State sophomore right-hander with a sizzling fast ball, stopped hard-hitting Florida State 2-1 on four hits. Arlin set a Big Ten strikeout record.

John Marcum, St. Louis left-hander, fanned 14 in his three-hit 2-1 victory over Connecticut. Gerald Boehmer's bases-empty homer in the sixth won the game.

2 From Birmingham Lacrosse Selections

Two Birmingham players were among first and second team selections on the All-Midwest Lacrosse team picked by the coaches association recently.

Bill Muir, a first team selection, and Don Fouracre, on the second team, are both members of the Michigan State team.

Denison and Ohio State dominated the honor teams.

Belting Baseball for Braves

Ex-Bengal Bolling Making Comeback

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A few months ago veteran Frank Bolling's future with the Milwaukee Braves was doubtful. Now he's a top candidate for National League Comeback-of-the-Year honors.

After slumping to a .199 batting average in 1964, the 33-year-old Bolling is hitting a lusty .321 this season in helping the Braves stay on the heels of the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers.

★ ★ ★

"I feel very good and everything is going good for me," Bolling said Monday as the Braves enjoyed a day of rest.

"I'm hitting the ball good, but I'm not doing anything any different than last year. It's just one of those things — and I hope it continues."

A graduate of little Spring Hill College in Alabama, the softspoken Bolling refused to give up on himself after his miserable 1964 campaign.

He started only three games at second base after Aug. 12 and reportedly was trade bait. However, his value had dwindled.

Rookie Sandy Alomar and young Woody Woodward were the top candidates for the second base spot when the Braves opened spring training in March. However, Bolling regained his form and has nailed down his old job.

NO EXCUSE

"Last year was a nightmare," Bolling said. "I couldn't do anything right. I wish there was some excuse, but there isn't. I was just awful. My ankle, which I broke on the next to last game of the 1963 season, had healed and I felt good. There just isn't any explanation for my slump.

"Now, though, I'm hitting the ball solidly, whether I try to pull the ball or go to right on the hit-and-run, I've got momentum — the same as the club. I hope we both keep going."

"Frank has been one of our definite plusses this year," said Manager Bobby Bragan.

"He worked for his job and won it. He's as good as ever in the field — and that's plenty good — and his hitting has been a pleasant surprise."

Bolling broke in with the Detroit Tigers in 1954 and was a regular until he was replaced last year. He was obtained by Milwaukee in 1961, and has led National League second basemen in fielding in three of his four years with the Braves.

★ ★ ★

Owner of a .260 lifetime average, Bolling collected only 70 hits in 352 times at bat in 1964. This season he already has 42 hits, including one homer and 11 doubles, in 131 trips. And, despite a lowly spot in the batting order, he has driven in 13 runs.

Plante's Retirement Has Rangers Looking

MONTREAL (AP) — The New York Rangers are expected to go after an established goal-tender today following the retirement of 12-year veteran Jacques Plante.

Plante, a six-time Vezina Trophy winner, told a news conference at the National Hockey League meetings here Monday night that he was quitting hockey in order to spend more time with his family.

★ ★ ★

The 36-year-old former Montreal Canadien star had played the last two seasons for New York and just last month underwent surgery on his right knee.

"The operation was a success and my decision had nothing to do with that," Plante said. "I just decided that the traveling had become too much and I want to spend more time at home with my family. I'd like to get a coaching job at the junior level in the Montreal area."

WORE MASK

Plante pioneered the wearing of masks by goaltenders. All goalies went bare-faced until Jacques began wearing a mask in 1959. Most goalies follow the practice today.

Ranger General Manager Emile Francis said Plante's retirement would change the Rangers' outlook on possible trades as well as the minor league draft today and the NHL draft Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Plante's retirement was the biggest development of the opening day of meetings.

Earlier Monday, the American and Western Leagues agreed to play an interlocking schedule with each of the nine AHL clubs playing four games against each of the WHL clubs. Each WHL club will play six times against American League opponents.

Hazel Park Fans Turn Out in Rain

HAZEL PARK (AP)—Slightly less than 10,500 fans endured occasional showers Monday at Hazel Park Race Track and wagered $788,528 on the nine-race card.

The daily double combination of Devious Miss and Itsim paid $118.00.

Strikeaway, Tall Brave, Blandy B. and Bronzino combined in the twin double to pay $2,100 to holders of 28 winning tickets.

Devious Miss was the longshot of the day, winning the opening race and paying $34.20.

Italian Sails to World Title

NAPLES, Italy (UPI) — Tino Straulino of Italy won the world 5.5 meter sailing championship Monday, completing the final heat in 4 hours 2 minutes and 58 seconds.

Straulino's boat totaled 6,469 points, Australia's Southern Cross was second with 6,462 points.

American Gardner Cox of Villanova, Pa. finished third with 5,855 points.

Invitational Field Set

Ninety-six teams, broken down into six flights, will take part in the Western Golf and Country Club Invitational tournament, June 10-13.

State medal play champion Bud Stevens of Western and Ed Rovsek of Dearborn CC are considered the favorite the team.

Pro Golfers Swinging With New TV Plan

NEW YORK (NEA) — The continuing encroachment of television in sports has caused professional golfers to envision a moment when their backswings would be interrupted for a word from the sponsor.

★ ★ ★

Thus, they have labored to insure against the possibility and the fruits of their efforts may prove to be a blueprint other sports would do well to follow.

The nation's touring pros have developed the first television sports "package" put together by the athletes themselves. And, in the claim of the Professional Golfers' Association, "it puts TV to work for golf today and five years from today."

Worked out by Martin Carmichael, a lawyer who departed CBS to form a consulting firm, the package will hopefully: (1) protect against saturating the viewer with golf; (2) eliminate competing live golf shows at the same hour; (3) centralize exposure efforts of 30 PGA tournament sponsors and (4) protect the player from unwarranted television invasion during play.

SOLD PLAN

Says Carmichael: "We've sold our plan to three blue chip sponsors for over $2.5 million and this is indication the idea is successful from the standpoint of money.

★ ★ ★

"But the real test is what we can do for golf in the long pull. We're hoping that proper management will make the game even more attractive to TV audiences five years from now.

"And, of course, the plan has immediate benefits for the contestants. Total purse for this year's tour has been enriched by about $500,000 because of the package, or 20 per cent more than the 1964 prize money."

In 1965, 13 meets are being shown in the package (as many others, such as the Masters, are televised on their own under previous contracts). The outlet is Sports Network ("an independent is more flexible to work with") and 140 stations will carry the action.

And, of course, everybody gets to finish his backswing — for better or worse.

Pistons Have Intention of Making Deal

DETROIT (AP) — Owner Fred Zollner and General Manager Don Wattrick will represent the Detroit Pistons at the annual National Basketball Association meeting in Boston Wednesday and Thursday.

The Pistons, still looking for a play-making guard, are hopeful of swinging a trade or two.

Detroit has its eye on Walt Hazzard, the No. 1 draft pick of the Los Angeles Lakers.

★ ★ ★

The NBA is prepared to consider the admission of a tenth team which would start play in the 1966-67 season. Pittsburgh, Houston and San Diego appear to have the inside track with Cleveland expected to submit a bid for a third straight year.

Cincinnati will seek approval on switching from the Eastern to the Western Division with Baltimore replacing the Royals in the East.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati formerly played in the loop's Eastern Division but was selected over the Pistons to switch to the East when the Philadelphia franchise was moved to San Francisco.

Billy Campbell Falls in British Amateur

PORTHCAWL, Wales (UPI)—Walker Cup star Bob Gardner and Bill Hyndman assumed leadership of the American contingent in the 1965 British Amateur championship today following the surprise elimination of Bill Campbell in the opening round.

In all, 11 American representatives were beaten, leaving 23 to carry U.S. hopes in a field that numbered 170 when play began.

★ ★ ★

Eight Americans won opening-round matches, 14 drew byes and John Thornton, of Rochester, N.Y., moved all the way to the third round after receiving a first round bye and having his second round opponent withdraw.

Gardner, 44, of Essex Falls, N.J., comes into the championship after accepting a first-round bye with a match against 20-year-old "Wild Bill" Murray of Scotland.

The young Scot gained his nickname for erratic play on the fairway as well as the greens.

Hyndman, 49, runnerup to Deane Beman in the 1959 British Amateur, also skipped the opening round and today was pitted against Michael Bills, a powerful English hitter.

Richard Landridge's upset of Campbell Monday as a complete surprise.

★ ★ ★

The handsome 44-year-old Huntington, W. Va., resident blew a two-foot putt on the 18th and drove into the rough on the 19th.

Cleveland Stops Twins, 2-1

Tiant Pitches 2-Hit Contest

AL Leaders' Streak Ends at Four

By The Associated Press

Luis Tiant didn't hesitate in making a big splash with his entry into the American League last season. There are some, though, who say Tiant is hesitating now.

The Cleveland right-hander stopped league-leading Minnesota on two hits Monday night as the Indians won their fifth straight game and stopped the Twins' four-game winning streak with a 2-1 decision.

★ ★ ★

The victory was the fourth in a row for Tiant, who rocketed to a 10-4 record in less than half a season after the Indians purchased him from Portland of the Pacific Coast League last July 17.

This year, though, Tiant has become the center of a controversy in the AL. Some players have accused him of throwing an illegal hesitation pitch, a weapon allegedly employed by the legendary Satchel Paige.

"Tiant is the reincarnation of Satchel Paige," Boston's Frank Malzone insisted recently. "He uses the hesitation pitch, and it's illegal. He throws it two ways, both curves.

BOTH CURVES

"One is a slow curve, and there is a definite stop in his motion before he releases the ball. When he throws his normal curve, there is a hesitation which is not quite the way Paige used to do it, but it has the same effect. But the umpires aren't calling it."

Tiant ridicules such a thought as does Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts, who played in the AL the same time as Paige.

The Twins might not have found Tiant illegal Monday night, but they certainly found him difficult to hit. The 24-year-old Cuban allowed only successive doubles by Tony Oliva and Don Mincher in the fourth inning while bringing his record to 5-2.

★ ★ ★

Backed with consecutive home runs by Leon Wagner and Rocky Colavito in the Indians' half of the fourth off Jim Grant, Tiant retired 15 Twins in a row before walking Harmon Killebrew in the ninth. The loss for Grant was his first after five victories.

Elsewhere in the AL, Detroit edged Los Angeles 6-5, New York trimmed Kansas City 4-2 and Chicago defeated Boston 7-3.

Phillies Plate 'Enough' Runs

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "When you get three runs off Koufax, you ought to win," Phillies Manager Gene Mauch said Monday night.

The Phillies got those three runs, all right, but it wasn't nearly enough as Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Philadelphia 14-3.

★ ★ ★

The Dodgers collected 16 hits off loser Lew Burdette, Ed Roebuck, Art Mahaffey and Jack Baldschun, to give Koufax his eighth victory against three defeats.

He struck out 13 and leads the majors with 119.

Koufax, who has beaten the Phillies 10 out of the 11 times he has faced them, gave up nine hits, including a two-run home run by Dick Stuart and a solo homer by Cookie Rojas.

★ ★ ★

"Stuart hit a fast ball — a real good one," said Koufax. "And the ball Rojas hit in the sixth inning was also a good fast ball."

SWINGING BUNT

It seemed like everyone in a Dodger uniform was hitting, and that included Koufax. He had a two-run double and a swinging bunt single as he boosted his batting average from .139 to .175.

"Don't knock my hitting," said Koufax. "I've been improving all along."

Stuart's home run stirred up a mild argument. The ball whizzed down the left-field foul line and hit in the corner, bounced in the air and ricocheted off an overhanging part of the stands before rebounding onto the playing field.

Third base umpire Tony Venzon signaled a home run. But Stuart, at first, pulled up at second. The Dodgers then argued over Venzon's ruling.

★ ★ ★

"Maury Wills (the Dodgers' captain) knew it was a homer," said plate umpire Al Forman.

"The last thing I said in the ground rules conference at the plate was 'any ball that hits off the ledge out there and then hits the overhang is a homer'."

LEAPFROG PLAY — Dick Stuart (7) Philadelphia Phillie first baseman leaps over sliping Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers after taking a throw from pitcher Ed Roebuck in an attempted pickoff. The throw went into right field for an error and the Dodgers whipped the Phillies, 14-3.

Two Short Games Played

Rain Hampers Action in Softball Loops

Wet grounds wiped out the city softball games at Northside Park last night and the two games at Beaudette Park only lasted a total of 11 innings between them.

Motorcar Transport needed only five innings to dispose of Michigan Bell, 10-0, with the contest being halted by the 10-run-lead rule. Gary Achenback hurled an abbreviated no-hitter for the win.

★ ★ ★

The four-run rule applied in the nightcap as Buckner Finance trimmed Bud & Lou's Bar, 10-2, in six innings. Larry Thompson accounted for four runs on a homer, single and an error.

Grant St. Armour of Motorcar also had a circuit clout in a winning cause.

The makeup games tonight at Northside will have L&S Standard Service playing Orchard Lanes at 7 o'clock and the Pontiac Merchants meeting Idle Time Bar at 8:30. Two regularly scheduled American League tilts are set for Beaudette.

Waterford Township has two games at the Drayton Plains diamond this evening also. The league has released its standings to date.

PBI Scores Upset in City 'A' Loop

Pontiac Business Institute jumped into the thick of the city recreation Class A baseball race last night with a 5-0 two-hit upset win over Huron-Airway at Jaycee Park.

★ ★ ★

Ed Sparkman evened his record at 1-1 with the shutout. The young left-hander whiffed 10 of the defending city champions and was touched for singles in the second and third innings.

Huron-Airway, with four regulars missing from the lineup, could muster only two base runners on base on balls during the final four frames.

Second baseman Morey LaPratt provided all the plate punch Sparkman needed. The first of his three singles drove in the game's initial run and his final hit plated an insurance tally in the seventh.

This was the first loss in three starts for Huron-Airway. PBI made it two straight after losing its opener despite a one-hitter in that one by Sparkman.

Tonight, CIO 594 will entertain Cranbrook (making its debut) at 7:30.

First Place Lures Crowd in Softball

Christ Lutheran Church's 13-10 conquest of Union Lake Baptist and Donelson Baptist's 6-3 win over St. Paul Methodist has tossed the Waterford Township Church Softball League into a threeway battle for first place.

★ ★ ★

The Lutherans' slugfest last night was paced by Jerry Johns with a single, double and triple which led to six runs and Joe Filka's homer and single for three. Dale Hack had a two-run blast for the losers.

Donelson matched the other two's 2-1 marks behind the four-hit hurling of Lloyd Elliott. Larry Frohm had two doubles for the Baptists.

Tryouts Are Slated

The Pontiac Boys Club Class D baseball team will hold tryouts tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. at Jaycee Park field No. 1.

Three Draft Choices Under Lions' Contract

Three more Detroit Lions rookie draft choices, Jim Kearney of Prairie View, flanker Preston Love of Nebraska, and defensive back Jack Jacobson of Oklahoma State, have signed 1965 contracts.

★ ★ ★

All will report to the Lions training camp at Cranbrook School July 27.

Kearney, a 6'2" and 205-pound 11th choice, is considered a prime defensive halfback prospect for pro ball. He is a native of Wharton, Texas and majored in biology in college.

Third Triumph Helps Boost Money Earning

QUINCY, Ill. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth, winning her third tournament of the year, has increased her money-winning lead on the Ladies PGA tour by $978 over Mickey Wright, LPGA headquarters said today.

Kathy, who captured the Bluegrass Invitational Sunday, boosted her earnings to $9,379 and hopes to boost it in the $9,000 women's Western Open at Beverly Country Club in Chicago starting Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Mickey has collected $8,401. Kathy and Mickey also are 1-2 in their trophy earnings. Each has played 31 tournament rounds with Kathy averaging 72.22 strokes and Mickey 72.74

Losses Widen

Stock Market Drop Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market drifted lower, widening its losses early this afternoon. Trading was slack.

Key stocks were down from fractions to more than a point.

★ ★ ★

DuPont stretched an early 2-point loss to 4, depressing the averages.

The loss on average was sharp but it occurred without any apparent selling pressure.

MOVES LOWER

The list moved gently lower for most of the morning then increased its declines as bidders became more and more reluctant.

The business news background was fairly neutral but many Wall Street market analysts published comments which were very cautious.

★ ★ ★

The decline took in steels, motors, chemicals, electrical equipments, mail order-retails and aerospace stocks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.3 at 326.8, with industrials off 2.9, rails unchanged and utilities off 2.

AVERAGE DOWN

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 8.42 at 893.73.

Prices worked irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Zale Jewelry rose more than 2. Up about a point were Northeast Airlines, Xtra Inc. and New Mexico & Arizona Land.

Corporate and U. S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged in light trading.

Hunt Continues for Slayer of 3

Attention Centers on Texas Mystery Girl

BIG SPRINGS, Neb. (UPI) — A nationwide hunt for a college graduate charged with killing three persons in a Nebraska bank holdup continued today while attention centered on a mystery girl in Texas.

Federal authorities declined to say whether they were closing in on Duane Pope, 22, charged with last Friday's $1,500 robbery in this Nebraska Panhandle ranch town.

But a cafe owner in Hutchinson, Kan., said he was "just about positive" Pope was in his cafe yesterday, and federal agents were reported closely watching the mystery girl in Fort Worth, Tex.

Sources said the girl attended McPherson (Kan.) College with Pope and that the well-liked McPherson football captain had dated her.

★ ★ ★

Pope graduated nine days ago. The girl attended McPherson only during the first semester, and did not return last February.

TELEPHONED GIRL

Shortly after the bank robbery Friday, sources said Pope had telephoned a girl in Fort Worth.

Pope's whereabouts have remained a mystery since he rented a car in Salina, Kan., the day before the robbery and slayings. The car was returned to Salina Friday night.

Formal murder charges against Pope were filed Thursday while the three victims of the bank robbery were buried.

★ ★ ★

Bank President Andrea Kjeldgaard, 77, cashier Glen Hendrickson, 59, and Mrs. Lois Ann Hothan, 35, a cashier and widowed mother of two children, were slain by the bank robber while they lay helpless on the bank floor.

Confidence Seems Unshaken

Business Pulse Okay

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Business health continues apparently unshaken by dispute over monetary policies or government guidelines for the behavior of industry and labor unions.

DAWSON

Judged by the latest flow of statistics, business confidence seems little affected even by nervous twitches in the stock market over international trouble spots or comparisons of today's prosperity with the 1929 boom and bust.

★ ★ ★

Key industries report sales still strong, some records being set in production, and a steady flow of new orders that promise busy months ahead.

Autos and steel, the two segments where an early summer letdown has been most feared, have entered June at record, or near-record, speed.

2-WEEK CLIMB

Steel output has climbed for two straight weeks. The latest weekly tonnage is 2,727,000, just 79,000 tons below the record poured in the week ended April 24. The drop from that record in the first three weeks of May appears to have been due as much to repair work at overstrained mills as to any easing of demand.

Most mills report orders on the books will keep them going near top speed through June and July. Any inclination of steel users to live off built-up inventories may have been postponed till after the strike deadline of Sept. 1, or until a wage pact settlement is reached.

★ ★ ★

Auto production has set a monthly record for six straight months. The spurt of sales and output in the opening months of the year at the time had been thought due largely to shortages caused by last fall's strikes.

But figures for May show that Americans are still buying cars at a great rate, setting a record for that month.

PERCENTAGE UP

Assemblies in May rose to 837,168 cars, or 15 per cent higher than the previous record for May, set last year. The first five months of 1965 saw 4,259,628 cars produced, compared with 3,654,697 in the like period of 1964.

Auto industry confidence rides high. June assemblies are expected to rise to 902,000 cars, or 16 per cent more than a year earlier. This would make the second quarter output of around 2,600,000 cars higher even than the first quarter which many had forecast would be the high for 1965 model production.

★ ★ ★

The fast pace continues in many other industries.

New orders for all U.S. factories rose to a record in April of $41.2 billion, up a half-billion from the previous record set in March.

NEW ORDERS

Business puts special emphasis on new orders because they indicate activity in the weeks and months ahead, as distinguished from production figures which show how business is doing now, or has been doing in past weeks.

Order backlogs on factory books have been pushed close to $59 billion by the upsurge in new orders.

★ ★ ★

These are the health statistics businessmen watch while government economists and officials debate whether the ups and downs of the business cycle have been licked.

The stock market may wonder how long the four-year-old economic upswing can continue without a breather or a downturn. But many of the current statistics, and many important indicators of things to come, still point upward.

Successful Investing

(Q) "I am 77 years of age and have heavy medical bills. I live with a son and his family who cannot afford any expense on my account. I own 900 Pacific Gas & Electric; 300 Safeway Stores; 100 Chesapeake & Ohio and 50 U. S. Steel. I have a considerable capital gain on all my stocks. These, with Social Security, provide my entire income and I am anxious to guarantee that I don't become a burden to my family. Do you suggest any changes?" I. C.

(A) Your list requires little change. You are overly represented in Pacific Gas & Electric, but I should not be concerned about that in your particular stiuation.

The only stock I suggest switching is U. S. Steel, which is subject to wide price variations and yields less than four per cent. I advise exchanging this stock for Green Shoe, offering a better than four per cent return.

Estes Wins Second Trial After High Court Reversal

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes, the promoter convicted of fleecing loan companies of millions of dollars, will be tried a second time on state charges, a prosecutor says, after the Supreme Court reversed his conviction Monday.

The high court in a 5-4 decision ruled that Estes did not receive a fair trial in 1962 because the hearing was televised.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, at least two of the justices indicated the ruling does not ban television of all trials—that it applies only to the Estes' case.

Dist. Atty. A. R. Archer Jr. said at Monahans, Tex., that he will prosecute Estes again—either on the same charge or a similar one. Estes was assessed eight years for swindling in the 1962 trial.

FEDERAL COURT

The Supreme Court ruling did not affect the federal court conviction in El Paso, Tex., in which Estes was sentenced to 15 years. He now is in federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

The judge and prosecutor in the Jack Ruby murder trial said the Supreme Court ruling will have no affect on Ruby's appeal, but one of his lawyers said he plans to include the high court decision in the appeals brief.

★ ★ ★

Ruby was sentenced to death for killing presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

A nationwide television audience saw Ruby, operator of a Dallas striptease joint, shoot Oswald in the City Hall basement two days after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy here Nov. 22, 1963.

Ruby heard a court jury pronounce him guilty of murder and call for the death penalty at the end of his Dallas trial before Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown. Before letting lawyers argue for and against reversal of this verdict, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has ordered a sanity hearing for Ruby.

In Ruby's case, television cameras were allowed in the courtroom only as the jury returned its verdict.

OVER DEFENSE PROTESTS

Live television was permitted—over defense protests — until a jury was completed in the Estes trial and as jurors reported their decision, with only silent filming of the testimony and none during final arguments.

★ ★ ★

Judge Brown said the Supreme Court ruling on Estes had no bearing on the Ruby case: "Only the verdict was televised, so his rights were not infringed. Besides, the defendant agreed to it."

3 Trustees for Hospital to Be Named

Appointments to the board of trustees of Pontiac General Hospital are expected to highlight tonight's City Commission meeting.

★ ★ ★

Three terms on the hospital board expire June 30. Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, a two-term board member, has indicated that he does not wish reappointment.

Other terms expiring are those of Aleck Capsalis, board chairman, and Isaac Smoot.

In other business, appointments are also to be made to the Housing Board of Appeals.

★ ★ ★

Still other business is to include a public hearing on rezoning for a multiple housing-shopping center complex on Pontiac's east side.

Developer Charles L. Langs of 3631 Dorothy, Waterford Township, is scheduled to request that the commission delay final action on his rezoning request.

To Close Gaps Between Words, Actions

Wants Legislators on Party Committees

LANSING (AP) — A freshman legislator is trying to narrow the gaps between the official pronouncements of political parties and the actions of their members.

* * *

While Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency calls for fiscal reform now and the Democratic-controlled legislature says "later," Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, is trying to make sure his plan for installing legislators on the central committees of both parties gets to Gov. George Romney's desk.

Montgomery, although he favors fiscal reform now, says he objects to Ferency's public pronouncements on the subject without prior discussion with the Democratic caucus in the House or Senate.

DAMAGING EFFORTS

"He is damaging our internal efforts with his external pronouncements," Montgomery said.

* * *

Although a House bill to add every legislator to his party's Central committee already has passed and gone to the Senate, Montgomery tried Monday night to amend a Senate bill to do the same thing.

* * *

The amendment failed, 40-29.

Since only one new law amending the same section of state law can take effect each year, Montgomery wants to make both bills identical and then allow one to die.

He said that "two voices are being heard from each party — that of the party and that of the legislators. Instead of two party positions in the state, we have four."

IN OPPOSITION

Majority Floor Leader J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, and Minority Leader Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, joined in opposition to the amendment. Traxler asked Montgomery to withdraw the amendment, and Waldron, objected that "once elected, we represent all the people of a district. It's not correct that we should be on the committee of one party."

* * *

Montgomery has no intention of adding 148 legislators to the 76-member state central committees but he hopes to pressure party leaders into an agreement to add about 12 representatives and six senators to each.

Ceylon, with an area of 25,332 miles, is about the size of West Virginia. The country has about 10.6 million inhabitants.

Mrs. Herbert Wales of Dallas, a former president of the American Bridge Teachers' Association, believes that a teaching hand should be simple and straight forward so that today's hand should really meet with her approval.

JACOBY

The first point of interest is North's three no-trump response to his partner's opening no-trump. North has no reason to show his five card club suit because no-trump must offer the best play for game.

West has a normal opening lead of the king of hearts and South can see that he must attack clubs. If the club finesse works he can count five clubs, three diamonds and the two major suit aces for 10 tricks. If it fails he can still count nine tricks provided his opponents aren't unkind enough to take five tricks before he can gather in his nine.

South can insure that this won't happen by the simple expedient of ducking the first two rounds of hearts. He can do this safely because West can't shift to any suit that will embarrass him.

So he lets West hold the first two heart tricks and wins the third. Then he tries the club finesse and East is in with the king.

East does not have a heart left so he shifts to a spade. South must refuse the spade finesse. He can count nine tricks without it and he has contracted to take only nine tricks.

Later he can try for a tenth trick by leading a spade from dummy after first cashing all the clubs and diamonds. He won't make this tenth trick but he has nothing to lose by trying for it, after he has made certain of his contract.

♠ CARD Sense ♠

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	4 ♦	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
5 ♣	Pass	6 ♣	Pass

You, South, hold:

♠ K Q J 2 ♥ A 10 4 ♦ 3 2 ♣ A 6 5 4

What do you do?

A—You don't exactly know what your partner is up to but you should bid six no-trump. This contract should be safe and if he wants to bid seven hearts you are perfectly happy about that contract.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of responding two hearts your partner responds two diamonds. You rebid to two spades and he bids three diamonds. What do you do now?

To Seek Funds for City College

Officials Want Aid for Osteopath Center

City officials will journey to Lansing tomorrow for a hearing on a Senate bill to furnish state funds for the projected Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., City Manager Joseph A. Warren and Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson are to appear before the Senate Ways and Means Committee.

A Pontiac surgeon, Dr. Benjamin F. Dickinson, president of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, is also slated to appear at the hearing.

The Senate committee is slated to hear public reaction to an amendment to a $2.8-million project study bill. The proposed amendment would approve state funds to study the proposed college to be located in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

The amendment for the college funds was added to the study bill after another bill, which would have provided operating and maintenance funds for the school, died in the Senate Appropriations Committee.

City officials are expected to support the study amendment.

Liquor Bill Wins Round in Legislature

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's 2,200 state licensed package liquor dealers won a $1.8-million round in the House Monday night.

The House defeated, 41-25, a move by Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, to refer a bill revamping the prices charged the dealers by the state to the House Taxation Committee.

★ ★ ★

The bill would save the dealers $1.8 million a year and cost the state the same amount in revenue, Montgomery said, "and because of its effect on our income it should get further study."

The state, which controls all liquor sales, sells to the package dealers for 10 per cent less than they are permitted to charge at retail. The dealers contend that two four per cent taxes have been added since the formula first went into effect and that they come out of the markup.

TB Committee Will Disband

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors Bylaws Committee yesterday took action to disband the Tuberculosis Sanatorium Committee which is no longer operative due to the sale of the TB Sanatorium.

This committee had served as liaison between the board of supervisors and the already-disbanded TB Sanatorium Board of Trustees.

S. James Clarkson, chairman of the bylaws committee, said that the Oakland County Corporation Counsel has been asked to prepare the necessary resolution to disband the defunct committee.

It also was requested to draft a companion resolution that would provide for creation of a new liaison committee between the board of supervisors and County Board of Institutions which has jurisdiction over the medical care facility where TB patients now are housed.

★ ★ ★

Both resolutions will be returned for consideration of the bylaws committee.

Train Bill Gets Senate Okay

A bill introduced by State Rep. Robert J. Slingerlend, D-Lake Orion, which makes diesel-drawn trains responsible for damages and cost of fighting fires that they set was passed yesterday in the Senate.

Since the House of Representatives has already passed the bill, only the governor's signature is needed now to bring diesel trains under the 1923 Forest Fire Act which only specified steam locomotives.

★ ★ ★

Slingerlend said that about $10,000 has been paid to local townships by the New York Central Railroad for past fires since he introduced his bill.

Previous to this, said Slingerlend, the townships seldom got answers to their letters asking reimbursement for fighting fires.

'Sugar Output in Cuba Hits 6 Million Tons'

By DANIEL HARKER

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro ended the 1965 sugar harvest Monday night with the announcement that 6 million tons have been produced.

Cuban sugar production regularly used to reach 6 million tons before 1961, when Castro tried to get away from the one-crop economy by shifting emphasis to other branches of agriculture and to heavy industry. This was reversed in 1963, but the new policy did not show results until this year.

★ ★ ★

Last year's crop of 3.8 million tons was one of the lowest in recent years.

The government has not announced how much of this year's crop will be sold on the world market. Trade agreements with the Soviet Union call for delivery of 2.1 million tons.

★ ★ ★

The Cuban economy suffered a sharp setback after the industrialization drive cut into the sugar production and dried up the foreign currency it produced. The Soviet Union and its allies in Eastern Europe provided massive economic aid.

Tito Makes 1st State Visit to East Germany

BERLIN, (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia arrived in East Berlin today for his first state visit with East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht who not long ago condemned the Yugoslav leader as a class enemy.

Tito arrived aboard a special plane from Prague, where he was the guest of the Czechoslovak government for six days.

ALLISON T. WANAMAKER

Envoy Is Shot in Argentina

Machine Gun Blasts U. S. Official's Car

CORDOBA, Argentina (UPI) — Two terrorists firing a submachine gun from an automobile shot and wounded U. S. Consul General Allison Temple Wanamaker last night in this central Argentine city.

Wanamaker, 47, of Seattle, Wash., was struck in the face and hand by bullets and cut by shattered glass from the windshield of his car. The bullet that struck him in the face lodged near his spine.

The consul was taken to a private hospital where the bullet was to be removed. He was reported in good condition and talked this morning by telephone with officers of the U. S. Embassy in Buenos Aires.

The shooting was the second terrorist attack against Wanamaker in the past month. In May, his automobile was destroyed by fire caused by a Molotov cocktail firebomb. Wanamaker, however, was not near the car at the time.

★ ★ ★

Wanamaker, a veteran career service officer, told police he was driving to his home from the consulate last night when a gray automobile began following.

PULLED ALONGSIDE

When he stopped for a traffic signal, he said, the gray car pulled alongside and one of the two men in it fired a submachine gun at him.

Police said 10 bullets were fired, eight striking the automobile, one wounding Wanamaker in the hand and the other lodging at the base of his neck.

Cordoba, an industrial city stronghold of Peronist sentiment, has had several recent anti-American outbreaks attributed to Communist and Peronist resentment at U. S. policy in the Dominican Republic.

★ ★ ★

Student groups have been especially active in the anti-American agitation.

When French President Charles de Gaulle visited Argentina last year it was in Cordoba that Peronists showed the strength to nullify police efforts to protect the visitor.

A day of wild street rioting featured de Gaulle's visit.

TOKYO (UPI) — An earthquake jolted eastern Japan today but there were no reports of injury or damage.

Ford Hails Flight, Raps Military Space Work 'Lag'

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Applause for America's civilian space achievements with the four-day flight of Gemini 4 but concern over what he said is a lag in military space work was voiced here Monday by Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich.

The House Minority Leader was here as guest of honor at a fund-raising reception. Kent County Republican Chairman George V. Boucher said 750 tickets had been sold at $25 each.

★ ★ ★

Ford shared the spotlight at a news conference with Gov. George Romney, who was a special guest at the reception.

The space effort concluded Monday shows, said Ford, "that we started the program from very sound foundations."

He said it has been proceeding in an orderly way and was accelerated through the Gemini 4 effort "in a swifter manner than contemplated only a few months ago." He said, however, he believed the Pentagon "could do some things" to speed military aspects of space work.

Romney said the legislature's decision over the weekend to return in the fall for work on fiscal reform was a reversal of its stand when the session opened and was a move in the direction he seeks.

★ ★ ★

"I didn't come up with a specific approach on tax reform this year because it already had failed three times," said Romney. "I tried to promote bipartisan interest in a need for tax reform. I'm not interested in creating a controversy—only in getting results."

Ford remained critical of opponents of United States military policy in South Viet Nam and in the Caribbean.

HARD CORE AGITATORS

"There is solid evidence that on some campuses these people are hard core agitators," said Ford. He termed lie-downs and sit-ins at the White House "irresponsible dissent" to United States policy and saw such giving rise to Communist "miscalculation" of American intent.

Both Ford and Romney sidestepped a question which asked each to evaluate the other's chances in the 1968 presidential race. Each steered their answer into calls for a need of Republican unity in the 1966 congressional elections.

★ ★ ★

"If the Republican Party does not make sizable gains in that election, you'll have a difficult time getting adequate candidates in 1968," said Ford.

Both also spoke of new drives toward repairing the GOP image through newly organized coordinating and research committees on state and national levels.

"Through the work of such committees and the caliber of their members, said Ford, "I'm sure we can elect 70 to 80 Republicans to Congress in 1966."

Act to Curb Closing of Hospitals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Veterans Committee moved today to halt further closings of veterans hospitals without its prior consent.

The action came as President Johnson was reported ready to accept a White House panel's recommendation that he continue in operation five of 11 veterans hospitals and two of four old soldiers' homes he had ordered closed by July 1.

The House committee, reopening a hot controversy, approved legislation to bar either construction of new veterans hospitals or closing of old ones unless it had given advance approval.

Old soldiers' homes — called domiciliaries by the Veterans administration — also would be covered by the new restriction.

★ ★ ★

Johnson's original closing order was based on the contention that the older, less-efficient and least-used hospitals should be shut down as new and more modern ones were completed.

However, hot protests arose in Congress at his selection of those to be closed. One of them was in Miles Clty, Mont., and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., led the chorus of complaints.

The furor reached such proportions that Johnson set up a special advisory panel to consider whether any mistakes had been made. He has had on his desk since May 11 the panel's recommendation that the order be partly rescinded.

The veterans committee once before went to the point of approving a curb on future hospital closings. But it backed off at the last minute at urgent request of the White House.

★ ★ ★

The White House was understood to have had emissaries on the phone again today urging the committee to delay its action and forecasting prompt presidential approval of his panel's recommendation.

There was some speculation that if the President in fact agreed to the panel's recommendation, the committee's bill might not be pushed to enactment.

Masked Bandit Robs Gas Station in City

A masked bandit robbed the Clark Oil Station at 946 Oakland of about $35 early this morning and fled on foot after locking the attendant in a rest room.

The attendant, Earl Ward, 68, of 595 Valencia said the gunmen, who carried a sawed-off shotgun, came into the station about 4:15 a.m.

82 Alarms Answered by Waterford Firemen

Waterford Township's fire department answered 82 alarms during May compared to 87 for the same month last year.

The department has handled 337 alarms through May this year compared to 486 during the same period in 1964.

Two Zoning Moves Made in Waterford

Waterford Township Board members last night approved a rezoning proposal to correct an error in the township zoning map and denied another proposed zoning change.

★ ★ ★

Rezoned by the board from recreational to single family residential to correct the map was the proposed Lake Oakland Shores subdivision.

The board denied rezoning from commercial to manufacturing of a parcel on Hatchery proposed for warehouse use.

In other business last night, the board voted to proceed with a special assessment street lighting district at VanCampen and Seeden.

★ ★ ★

This action followed a public hearing in which no objections to the special assessment district were heard.

Navy Seeks to Boost Strength by 11,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy, taxed by the demands of the war in Viet Nam, has proposed boosting its strength by about 11,000 officers and men, it was learned today.

The Navy wants to do so by prolonging enlistments and active duty tours of certain skilled and seasoned officers and men for perhaps six months, sources said.

★ ★ ★

There were strong indications that the Navy proposal was running into heavy weather at the top Defense Department level, where the final decision will be made.

The recommendation was submitted to Pentagon leaders as Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze's appeal for voluntary extensions appeared to be a flop.

FEW VOLUNTEER

In the month since Nitze publicly appealed for Navy men to "make a personal contribution to meeting the present challenge," fewer than 100 officers and only about 200 enlisted men have agreed to stay in uniform three to six months beyond the expiration of their terms of service.

Asked about the reported proposal, the Pentagon said:

"We will not comment on any internal working papers between the services and the office of the secretary of defense."

★ ★ ★

The Navy is about 6,000 short of its manpower goal of 674,115 officers and men.

Thus, to reach that goal and 11,000 more beyond, the Navy would have to freeze the enlistments and active duty tours of about 17,000 skilled officers and men.

TO FULL STRENGTH

The additional people, sources said, would be used to bring U.S. fleet units in the Pacific up to full strength. They have been operating at somewhat below the maximum allowable level.

Navy officers said that units of the 7th Fleet standing off Viet Nam have had to operate without relief crews to spell men in the virtually round-the-clock operations. It was understood that the manpower increases were intended not only for the 7th Fleet but for the 1st Fleet, which operates closer to the U.S. Pacific Coast.

★ ★ ★

The Navy needs no authority, beyond approval of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, to extend enlistments and duty tours on an involuntary basis. The other armed services would have to get special action, such as a presidential emergency proclamation in order to take a similar step.

Sources reported that the Navy also had raised the possibility of calling some reservists to active duty.

Generally, the Navy brass dislikes the idea of using the draft.

A Look at Renewal Progress in Big Cities

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series on federally subsidized Urban Renewal in Michigan. It discusses the programs of Detroit, Grand Rapids and Flint —the state's Big Three cities.)

By A. F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer

Detroit possibly has the nation's most ambitious urban renewal program—22 projects already under construction or in planning and involving a net expenditure of $152 million.

Grand Rapids, however, has the state's outstanding show. It appears to be "instant renewal" to the visitor. New downtown buildings are going up and old, shabby ones coming down simultaneously.

★ ★ ★

Flint reportedly is the only city of over 100,000 population in the Great Lakes states without a federally subsidized renewal or public housing project under way. But it hopes to begin sharing in Urban Renewal Administration handouts by late summer. It plans to shoot for redevelopment of 1,533 acres.

Detroit, off to an early but slow start, has three outstanding examples of success.

HIGH-CLASS DISTRICTS

Two onetime slums now are high-class, downtown residential districts with gleaming sky-scraper apartments and town houses. What once was deteriorating, old Corktown on the near west side is now dotted with neat, new light industrial buildings.

On the other hand, Detroit has nothing to show except block after block of bare land for its first central business district renewal attempt. Some, however, view the $10 million acquisition and demolition costs as well spent, even if the property has been bare three to four years.

★ ★ ★

That central business district project rooted out Skid Row. There were high hopes for a time that an "International Village" of shops and restaurants would replace the demolished pawn shops, hole - in - the - wall bars and flophouses.

But "International Village" failed because promoters couldn't get everyday citizens to underwrite 10 per cent of the cost and the Area Redevelopment Administration withdrew a $6 million loan commitment to finance 65 per cent of the cost of that dream.

TO GROW RAGWEEDS

Most of the 59 denuded acres along Michigan Avenue between Washington Boulevard and Tiger Stadium appear destined to grow ragweeds another summer. But developers see as a fringe benefit the privately financed building of a new multi-million-dollar hotel at Washington and Michigan.

If Skid Row had stood, they say it wouldn't have been built.

★ ★ ★

Grand Rapids' showcase project is Vandenberg Center, spread over lower Monroe Street and flanking the Grand River and I-196.

This 40 acres, according to City Planner Donald W. O'Keefe once was characterized "by 70- and 80-year-old obsolete stores, vintage public buildings, flop houses, pigeon roosts, small bars and an element of general defeatism."

FINANCING OK'D

Grand Rapids voters approved a three-year tax of $1.25 per $10,000 of assessed valuation to finance acquisition and demolition. A countywide vote then authorized a 10-year, $1.25 tax to finance new public buildings in the area.

Close to $30 million in private construction already is assured in Vandenberg Center and construction got under way almost simultaneously with demolition in a program deliberately designed "to avoid a daisy-growing hiatus."

★ ★ ★

Besides the private construction, which includes a new $8 million home for the Grand Rapids Press, there will be a $10 million City - County Building and a $5 million Hall of Justice, housing courts and police administration offices.

Of the gross outlay of $10.8 million, it is figured land resale will cut the net to $6.3 million, and new construction will zoom tax assessments.

FOR LIGHT INDUSTRY

Like Detroit, Grand Rapids also has had success with a West Side reconversion for light industry. At least 85 per cent of 44 acres has been resold and more than $4 million of new construction started or finished.

In planning stages, Grand Rapids has a 150 - acre multi-housing project, a medical complex and an educational-cultural center.

★ ★ ★

Flint is planning its first urban renewal project for 133 acres lying between the downtown business district and the city's College and Cultural Center. The latter has blossomed with Mott Foundation millions, but toward the central city is an old residential area, decaying in spots.

It is the eye - sore spots the city plans to extract for new structures. The project would not be one of mass tear - down and build-up.

★ ★ ★

This Central Park project would be the first of seven, involving a total of 1,100 acres, if Flint's tentative planning is carried through to federal approval and final action.

Expressway construction, which will cut Flint into four segments, has been getting priority. And the problems related to rehousing of low-income families displaced by this have delayed urban renewal beyond originally anticipated undertaking.

But it took more than city planning and federal money to get these projects out of the status of ragweed fields.

The original initiative came from United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther. He pledged $10,000 from the union as "seed money" and urged the then mayor, Albert E. Cobo, to appoint a committee to help get the original Gratiot project moving.

★ ★ ★

Cobo's committee raised $50,000 from private sources to be used exclusively for planning redevelopment of the whole area and building a model of it. The committee organized the nonprofit Citizens Redevelopment Corp. In 1955 and then raised $500,000 from utilities, downtown businesses, unions and private sources.

The Citizens Redevelopment Corp. proposed to use its $500,000 as a revolving fund for land acquisition, and began seeking a national-level developer to carry out its plan.

FOUND DEVELOPERS

It found its developers in Samuel Katzin and Herbert Greenwald of Chicago, and the corporation arranged a three-year option with the city to acquire parcel - by - parcel the 55 acres to be redevoted to residential use.

Its first purchase came to $120,000 for the 22 - story, $3-million Pavilion Apartments Building, for which it helped acquire an FHA construction loan. Then it also acquired two more parcels for town houses to be built by Katzin and Greenwald.

★ ★ ★

With a carrying charge it had agreed to pay the city for its option and $75,000 spent for removal and relocation of a church, the corporation had virtually exhausted its capital.

Just as town houses, containing 186 units, were nearing completion, Greenwald was killed in an airplane crash and the Greenwald - Katzin empire fell apart. The town houses were threatened with foreclosure.

The citizens' group worked out with Katzin and the Greenwald estate a plan to take over all but six of the town houses, built to be sold as cooperatives.

To meet costs, the corporation started renting then empty town houses, meanwhile, getting tax concessions from the city and so - called financial breathing-time to take care of its FHA commitments.

James Bell, handling "Operation Bail Out" for the citizens' group, is hopeful of disposing this year of the three corporations into which the town houses were separated for cooperative sale.

Bell estimates there is about $100,000 in the treasury of the Citizens Redevelopment Corp., but he expects it will have lost $400,000 by the time it disposes of the final town house.

City Projects Blossoming; Officials Prepare 'Big Sell'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a two-part series on the progress and future of Pontiac's urban renewal program.)

By L. GARY THORNE

Pontiac's efforts at urban renewal, now five years old, have begun to blossom. According to city officials, the renewal vine is due to drop some juicy fruit.

Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates and Asst. Director George H. Wilhelmi view 1965 as "the year of the big sell."

Some 79 lots have already been sold for redevelopment.

Bates said 80 remaining parcels are in the "active negotiation" stage.

★ ★ ★

The city's welcome mat is out for interested developers.

REDEVELOPMENT

While a majority of the unsold renewal land is now ready for redevelopment, major work remains before several parcels are ready for developers.

Among the projects to be done this year are the following:

- Rebuilding of Water Street as a boulevard.
- Construction of a new Hill Street along the eastern side of the civic center district.
- Creation of greenbelt park areas along Osmun between Hovey and Paddock.
- Construction of an ornamental park at the southern entrance to Wide Track.
- Further site improvement work, including a general clean-up of future building sites.
- Completion of demolition work — 28 buildings to go.
- Construction of a two-story, $75,000 union office building.
- Construction of a Community National Bank drive-in branch.
- Expected construction of 15 to 20 single-family homes on scattered lots in the R20 area.

★ ★ ★

In addition, rehabilitation of existing structures must be completed.

NEGOTIATIONS UNDER WAY

Bates said that negotiations were under way with several developers, which could result in bricks and mortar during the present calendar year.

Negotiations also will be completed this year on the acquisition of one more building — the Lewis Furniture Co.—in the R44 project.

This building was recently added to the project's acquisition list.

★ ★ ★

Despite the city's renewal accomplishments and potential accomplishments, the program is often subject to criticism.

MAGNITUDE OF PROJECT

"The magnitude of what's been going on doesn't really hit people," said Wilhelmi.

"People look at the four corners at Auburn and Saginaw and say nothing's happening."

But, something is happening, claims Wilhelmi.

★ ★ ★

Urban renewal, while definitely a revitalizing factor, is not a cure-all, but can provide the food for growth.

OTHER PROJECTS

Complementing Pontiac's renewal efforts has been the extensive work necessary in the relocation and improvement of the Clinton River in the downtown area and, of course, construction of Wide Track Drive.

These are the pep-giving vitamins for Pontiac's future growth.

'Heal-In' Woes Still Unsolved

Stressed Demands for Better Facilities, Pay

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The "heal-in" at mammoth Los Angeles County General Hospital is over .The sore problems that caused it have only been salved, not solved.

Interns and resident doctors at the towering, 3,000-bed complex recently deliberately increased its patient population.

★ ★ ★

They admitted more patients than usual — and discharged fewer. From a May 1-24 average of 2,441, the number rose to 2,991 May 25.

Dr. Richard Boggs, president of the Interns and Residents Association at the hospital, says it was to dramatize demands for more facilities and help and for better pay.

EARLY DISCHARGE

"Because of the press of patients at the door," he said, "we have had to discharge patients earlier than would be desirable. We decided to give them the best care instead of letting them go earlier. We're tired of compromising medical judgment because of a lack of facilities.

"The pathology department, for example, is four years behind in typing autopsy reports. We have to wait an average of one to two weeks — sometimes three weeks — for an upper gastrointestinal report on a patient who is bleeding," he said.

★ ★ ★

Interns get $300, first-year residents $419 a month. They work the national average of 83 hours a week, Boggs said.

"Fifth-year plumbers' apprentices in the same hospital get $741 a month. We have three fifth-year resident doctors each with 14 years training, who get $625 a month."

County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, who met with heal-in leaders said, "their threats and tactics in attempting to pack the hospital were wrong. The county will not be blackjacked."

The heal-in tapered off to 2,658 patients by latest count, which the hospital says is within normal range.

The County Board of Supervisors ordered an investigation by county officials. Hahn expects a report in about 10 days.

Russian Gals Are in Swim Swimming in Nothing Much

BY EARL WILSON

MOSCOW — The Russian women don't need bikinis . . . they strip off their slips and dresses and swim in their bras and panties.

WILSON

It makes them a little moist going home after a day at the beach.

In the Russia of today under "K & B" Kosygin and Brehznev — the women are better off than they were a decade ago. They wear high heels sometimes . . . especially the young girls . . . they have beauty parlors . . . they have more than one shade of lipstick. But shapeless old grandmothers still sweep the streets and work around the railroad—usually bossed by a man with his arms folded—in a manner that makes every American tourist a little heartsick for them.

★ ★ ★

An American woman told me that when she walked the streets doing her normal shopping, while she was pregnant, the Russian women scolded her

"Pregnant women are supposed to stay home in Russia," she explained. "One reason is they don't have maternity dresses here."

But there are some real charmers with good looks and plenty of style here. "One can steal an American heart. Blonde, windblown-looking, high-heeled, leggy, wiggly in their own smoldering way, they do a pretty good job of making friends for Russia while serving as Intourist guides.

★ ★ ★

Irene Vasiliyvev was such a blonde. Every day she herded us into our bus and kept us not too far off schedule.
Her English was good; her errors were rare.

Vincent L. Broderick, a 45-year-old Princeton graduate, took command of New York City's 27,000-member police force yesterday.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner administered the oath to Broderick as the new commissioner's wife and six children watched.

Broderick, former chief assistant U.S. attorney for the Southern District of New York, pledged to open or reopen "avenues of sympathetic communication between police and various elements of the public they serve," including racial minorities.

Sweeney is about to complete 35 years of active service dating from his 1930 graduation from West Point.

Actress Fined for Giving Teens Beer

Commedienne Cass Daley, 47, has been fined $500 and placed on three years' probation in Newport Beach, Calif., on conviction of furnishing alcohol and contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Yesterday, Municipal Judge William Christensen directed her to conduct herself as a law-abiding citizen during the probationary period.

Police said she supplied a keg of beer for a motel room party attended last March 26 by 20 teen-agers including her son, Dale, 16.

Australian Leader Backs LBJ on Viet

Australian Prime Minister Sir Robert Gordon Menzies says the issues being fought about in Viet Nam "concern the whole world. They are not merely local issues."

Menzies lunched with President Johnson in Washington yesterday. Afterward, he told newsmen "we are completely as one" in resisting Communist aggression in South Viet Nam."

Ruling Upheld in Libel Case

State GOP Officials Free of Charge in Suit

LANSING (AP) —The Michigan Supreme Court has upheld dismissal of libel and slander charges against Gov. George Romney, former Gov. Wilber State Chairman Arthur Elliott and Richard Van Dusen, former legal aide to Romney.

The charges were brought by Richard Durant, controversial conservative Republican chairman of Wayne County's 14th Congressional District.

★ ★ ★

The court upheld a summary judgment entered by Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph Moynihan. The three - year-old case still is pending against former Republican State Sen. John Stahlin and Charles Ferry, Stahlin's former public relations man.

The case revolves around a letter which the court says was written in 1962 by Stahlin and Ferry, charging that Durant headed extremist elements attempting to seize control of the Republican party organization in Wayne County.

NO KNOWLEDGE

The four defendants said they had no knowledge of the letter and nothing to do with its preparation.

Moynihan ruled that Durant had failed to prove their complicity, and the high court said he had produced "not one single piece of admissable evidence from which it could be found that the defendants participated" in preparation or publication of the letter.

$89 Million for SE Asian Aid Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved President Johnson's request for an added $89 million in the foreign aid bill to start a new economic development program for Southeast Asia.

Today the Senate considers a significant amendment which would channel much of the military assistance to Latin-American countries through the Organization of American States. The amendment was prepared by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations committee.

★ ★ ★

Monday's 42-26 vote added the $89 million to the pending two-year $3.35-billion-a-year foreign aid authorization bill.

The Senate rejected, 45 to 22, an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to cut down the foreign aid measure by $89 million, to provide the extra financing for the new Asian projects in South Viet Nam, Laos and Thailand.

JOINS MORSE

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., joined Morse, saying the new program should have been offered six months before the U.S. bombings of North Viet Nam. This would have ensured a better reception for it, he said.

★ ★ ★

The OAS amendment, if it gets final approval, would require military assistance to Latin America be given "to the maximum extent possible" under joint plans "approved by the OAS."

Trailer Park Attempt Loses in Waterford

4-3 Decision Follows Three-Hour Hearing Before Packed House

A proposal to rezone a 40-acre parcel in Waterford Township for use as a trailer park was voted down last night by the township board following a lengthy hearing before a packed house.

The board's 4 to 3 vote against the zoning change followed a three-hour hearing.

Some 350 persons were present, and most opposed rezoning of the land on Pontiac Lake Road west of Airport.

As residents of this general area, opponents felt a trailer park would downgrade their community because it would encourage transients.

They thought the parcel should remain in its present zoning status that calls for single family residential development.

Albert Rottman, proponent of the trailer park, argued that the proposed trailer village would provide needed low income housing without downgrading the area.

TRUSTEES VOTE NO

The board's four trustees — Loren Anderson, William Dan, Rudy Mansfield and Frank Richardson — opposed the rezoning.

Voting for the zoning change were the township's three officials — supervisor James E. Seeterlin, treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Olson and clerk Elmer Fangboner.

Previously, the township planning board had been deadlocked in a 4-4 vote on the zoning request.

Junk Yard Trial Is Scheduled to Resume July 20

The Sam Allen & Sons scrap yard trial will resume in Oakland County Circuit Court July 20.

The nonjury trial was to have started this week, but City Attorney William A. Ewart asked for the postponement.

Ewart, who resigned effective July 1, said he did not know who would handle the case.

The city and 15 residents are seeking a permanent injunction against the scrap firm's operation, charging that it is a nuisance.

Snead in Field at Birmingham

Making His 25th Try for U. S. Open Title

Sam Snead will be making his 25th attempt to win the U. S. Open Golf Tournament when he takes the field today at the Birmingham County Club course in a sectional qualifying meet.

Snead, winner of more than 100 pro golf tournaments, will compete against a star-studded field of pros seeking the 65th U. S. Golfers Association (USGA) Open title. The open, to be held June 17-20 in St. Louis, is the only major tournament Snead has never won.

He finished as runner - up in 1937, 1947 and 1953, and today he will be seeking one of the 13 berths qualifying for the trip to St. Louis.

Two former USGA champions, Cary Middlecoff and Tommy Bolt, are in the 35-player field at Birmingham along with former PGA champion Wally Burkemo, ex-Masters' champion Art Wall and former World Open champion Ted Kroll.

There are 27 pros and eight amateurs in the local field.

Amateurs include Pete Green of Orchard Lake, Chuck Kocsis of Red Run and present state medal play champion Bud Stevens of Western Country Club.

Stevens and 24-year-old pro Bob Panasiuk of Hydeaway Ontario, were medalists in the local qualifying field three weeks ago at Meadowbrook, each firing 144.

Believe Russian Moon Shot New 'Soft Landing' Attempt

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched a rocket toward the moon today in what appeared to be its second try in a month to make history's first soft landing on the lunar surface.

The Russians first tested their soft landing system in Luna 5, which crashed on the Moon May 12. But they said at the time that the flight had collected valuable data for further attempts.

★ ★ ★

Luna 6 appeared to be the next try at a soft lunar landing, a key step toward putting a man on the moon.

The announcement of the launch by Tass, the official Soviet news agency, made no mention of plans to test a landing system.

ORIGINAL ANNOUNCEMENT

The original announcement of the Luna 5 launch did not mention such plans either. But later the Russians announced that an easy landing on the moon would be attempted. Previously they had waited until they had results and then said everything went according to plan.

A return to the earlier pattern of waiting for results was thought likely with Luna 6.

★ ★ ★

The official announcement called Luna 6 an "automatic station," the term the Russians normally use to describe an unmanned space craft.

The launch came a month after Luna 5 rocketed into space on May 9 and less than a day after the American Gemini 4 spacecraft returned safely.

SOFT LANDING

A soft landing on the moon, something the United States has not yet accomplished, might be designed by the Russians to detract from the American Gemini success.

By 5 a.m. EST, Luna 6 was 12,600 miles from the earth, Tass said, and all instruments aboard were functioning normally.

Bloomfield Twp. Voters Turn Down Milleage Hike

Voters in Bloomfield Township yesterday defeated by a 1,699-1,199 margin a request for additional millage. The funds were sought for improvement of township road, police and fire service.

Of the 16,229 registered township voters, 2,901 visited the polls. Sixteen ballots were invalid.

While the election was limited to property owners, township officials noted that most of the unit's voters — certainly more than 75 per cent — own property.

The turnout "is not representative of the township residents," Supervisor Homer Case said today.

"A minority group certainly spoke," he said. "This often happens, showing that the majority does not rule. Where public safety is involved, I blame the 13,000 that didn't get out to vote."

★ ★ ★

The proposition sought a higher tax rate to replace the 2-mill levy which will expire next year.

BOOSTED TAX

It would have boosted the tax to 3½ mills in 1965-66 and 3 mills for 1967 through 1976.

Aimed at adding some 24 men to the police and fire department to take them to the national average, the levy also would have been used to pave and improve 18 miles of collector roads.

For the last of the projects, the township would have split costs with the county.

★ ★ ★

"We will continue to give limited protection in police and fire, but any more matching funds for roads will have to wait," Case said.

WORK LIMITED

Road work will be limited strictly to maintenance, he said.

★ ★ ★

Township Clerk Mrs. Deloris Little concurred, commenting that "we'll do the best by our residents that we can do with no money."

"We had so many requests to do something about the roads, but we can't do any thing if we don't have money," she said.

★ ★ ★

The special election was set up in April after representatives of the majority of the 91 subdivisions in the township indicated they would support the millage increase.

114 Miners Feared Dead in Yugoslavia

KAKANJ, Yugoslavia (AP) — The technical director of the Kakanj mine said today "most probably there were 114 victims" in Yugoslavia's worst mine disaster since World War II.

Dr. Muriz Osmanagic said the toll might go higher when rescue teams reach all parts of the shaft, ripped by a methane gas explosion yesterday.

Rescue workers recovered 111 bodies. Three other miners were listed as missing.

Osmanagic said there were 183 men in the shaft when the explosion hit 450 feet underground 1½ miles from the entrance.

★ ★ ★

Only those near the entrance survived. Their exact number was not known.

SLOW PROGRESS

Rescuers working around the clock made slow progress because of a rock slide, a fire and coal dust.

Tax Limitation Pattern Ends

Allocations to Pass Fifteen-Mill Barrier

The Oakland County Tax Allocation Board yesterday broke the 15-mill tax limitation in apportioning tax rates to the county, school districts and townships.

Traditionally, the total of county, school and township taxes apportioned to governmental units has been limited to 15 mills ($15 per $1,000 of equalized valuation).

Besides allowing variable millage to nine county school districts, the board also raised the county allocation from 5.26 to 5.30 mills and Oakland Schools share from .11 to .14 mills.

Total millage in communities ranged from a low of 13.82 in the Springfield Township portion of Clarkston Community Schools to a high of 16.52 in the Milford portion of the South Lyon School district.

★ ★ ★

The average was about 15 mills, according to allocation board members.

ONLY CHANGE

The only change in the preliminary allocation set by the board last month involved a reduction of .20 mills to Farmington Township and an added .20 mills, according to allocation Schools.

School officials had threatened to appeal the allocation of 1.40 mills to the township. The board's compromise split the disputed .40 mills.

A tax rate of 15.14 mills will apply in several communities where variable millage was allowed school systems.

Spacemen Face Busy Schedule

ABOARD USS WASP (AP) — Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II endured their four-day flight with even less apparent physical difficulties than did some of the Mercury astronauts on much shorter missions, the physician in charge of manned space flight medicine said today.

Even so the physician, Dr. Charles A. Berry, notified Adm. William McCormick, recovery force commander, it probably will be necessary to keep the astronauts on the Wasp until tomorrow morning.

At Houston, Tex., officials of the Manned Spacecraft Center said no decisions has been made on when the astronauts will leave the Wasp and return to Houston for a news conference.

Berry said the Gemini physicians were "tremendously optimistic" as to the implications for longer space missions of the future, from observations to date as to symptoms of ill effects on heart or blood vessel systems.

The symptoms have not been as marked as on the three- or four-hour Mercury missions such as the one made in 1963 by Air Force Maj. L. Gordon Cooper, he said.

Berry flew to the Wasp yesterday from Houston after the end of the 1,609,684-mile space mission.

Dr. Howard Minners, one of

the first physicians to examine the astronauts, had said yesterday both were sound and "active, talkative and cheerful."

DRAMATIC LANDING

Other Americans across the land, who stayed glued to their televisions during the dramatic landing sequence which ended with splashdown at 12:13 p.m. (EST) yesterday, were equally cheerful — including the President of the United States.

"I just wanted to say to you and Maj. White 'well done'," President Johnson said to McDivitt by telephone shortly after the two had been plucked from the Atlantic and landed safely on the deck of the Wasp at 1:09 p.m. to a thunderous ovation from the ship's mighty crew.

"We're all in this country very proud of you," the President continued, "and I think the entire world is grateful for what you've done and particularly for your safe return.

★ ★ ★

"You've both written your name in history and in our hearts."

★ ★ ★

Then the President invited White and McDivitt to his Texas ranch this weekend where he said he had been "saving a little something for you" —presumably some sort of award.

The mayor of New York also invited them there for a traditional ticker-tape parade.

Judging from the reaction of space officials at the Houston Mission Control, the pair plain-

Flight Hailed by Europeans

Astronauts Saluted by Allies and Reds

LONDON (AP) — Both Communist and non-Communist Europeans saluted the Gemini 4 space flight today.

The non-Communists applauded the full publicity given the hazardous undertaking by the United States.

Communist party newspapers joined in congratulating "America's space twins."

The Guardian, British Liberal daily, while joining in the applause for the feat, deplored the obvious "space race" between America and Russia which it said showed "how far our politics lag behind our technology."

★ ★ ★

The Daily Worker, the British Communist organ, pointed out that Maj. Edward H. White II's walk in space was second to that of Soviet astronaut Alexei Leonov. But it said this "does not diminish the importance or the courage, of his (White's) step."

"Now there is discussion whether the United States is ahead, or level or still behind the Soviet Union. The very fact of such a debate is a tribute to the Socialist system operating in the Soviet Union," the Worker added.

In Moscow Anastas I. Mokoyan, president of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, cabled congratulations to President Johnson for "the American astronauts and also to the scientists, engineers and workers who ensured this flight," the Tass news agency said.

News of the American success drew banner headlines throughout Europe, except in Yugoslavia where top play was given to the Kakanj mine disaster. Yugoslav papers published the space story fully, however, but without editorial comment.

French newspapers, including the Communist Organi L'Humanite, hailed the flight as a "grand success" in front page spreads.

French national radio commentators said the flight was a "major scientific accomplishment which may put the Americans ahead in the race to the moon."

Woman JP Raps Bronson in Suit to Halt New Court

By JIM LONG

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson was charged yesterday by the county's only woman justice of the peace with squandering taxpayer money by establishing a central court system in Pontiac.

Bloomfield Township Justice Alice Gilbert accused the Democratic prosecutor in a Circuit Court suit.

She is asking that the court halt the operation of the magistrates court, which she claims was established illegally.

Bronson, who has been ordered to appear 10 a.m. Friday before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams to defend his position, termed the charges of the attractive justice as "hogwash."

The central court was recommended by Bronson in February and endorsed by the Oakland County Justices of the Peace Association. The endorsement, however, was not unanimous.

50 JUSTICES

The court went into operation May 17 and serves some 50 justices north of 14 Mile Road.

It is located in the old Board of Supervisors auditorium in the county annex office building, 1 Lafayette.

Various justices use the court at prearranged times for preliminary examinations and trials in contested state law cases only.

* * *

Mrs. Gilbert said that the State Legislature has the sole power to create courts and it "has passed no law creating or providing for a centralized justice court in Oakland County."

REFERS TO MEMO

Since making it known that she would continue to hold court in her own courtroom in the Bloomfield Township Hall, Mrs. Gilbert said that an interoffice memo has been circulated to all assistant prosecutors stating "No further orders are to be written on state offenses and directed to Justice Alice Gilbert."

The memo, she said, directs that the cases be sent to one of three justices elected elsewhere in the county who hold court in Pontiac.

"No one said Alice could not hold court in her own courtroom," said Bronson, "but as chief law enforcement officer in the county, I have the authority to direct warrants to particular justices of the peace.

"She will continue to hold court in Bloomfield Township, but she will hold court without state offense cases because of her obstinacy and refusal to abide by the decision of her justices in north Oakland County," Bronson said.

MONEY WASTED?

Bronson is wasting money, according to Mrs. Gilbert, by the "reckless disregard of the taxpayer's rights and at great expense to the public by requiring the unnecessary use of public vehicles, unnecessary loss of time by public employes, citizens and the total disregard of taxpayers expenditures for presently existing adequate facilities."

Bronson refuted this by saying that the Sheriff's Department "no longer runs a shuttle service for defendants which has tied up vehicles and personnel because of this chauffer service to the various courts."

"They have more time to apprehend law violators and patrol the highways," added Bronson.

* * *

"No longer are prosecutors trooping en masse to all points of the compass leaving no one here in the office to serve the public."

LONE ASSISTANT

"Only one assisstant prosecutor is needed in the central court."

Bronson said, "It is not my court as Alice claims, but the justices. And it only evolved after many, many months of consultation with them."

"In fact, their acceptance of the court was forwarded to me by Albert Carr, another Bloomfield Township justice. Alice isn't the only JP in Bloomfield Township."

"My feelings toward her have not changed because of this," said Bronson. "She is a delightful, charming person."

"It is unfortunate that her presence won't grace our court for the next 3½ years of this administration. We will miss her."

Hubbard, Officials on Trial Today

DETROIT (AP) — The civil rights violation trial of Mayor Orville L. Hubbard of Dearborn and two co-officials of the Detroit suburb opens in U.S. District Court today.

A jury of seven women and five men was chosen last week to hear the case before Judge Wade H. McCree Jr.

* * *

The government brought charges under an 1870 federal law which amended a post-Civil War 1866 statute.

The law forbids the wilfull subjection of "any inhabitant of any state, territory or district to the deprivation of any rights, privileges or immunities secured or protected by the Constitution or the laws of the United States."

TWO COUNTS

Hubbard, 62, and his codefendants, Dearborn's public safety director George W. Lesis, 57, and Police Chief Garrison Clayton, 46, are accused on two counts of conspiring and refusing to protect a home owner against an alleged attack by a mob. The defendants deny the charges.

Giuseppe Stanizone claims he was denied police protection when a mob stoned his Dearborn home on Labor Day, 1963, on the mistaken assumption he was renting to a Negro.

Spacemen OK After Flight

* * *

They were jubilant over the success of the mission, which included White's 20-minute adventure outside the capsule, and said they see no barrier to moving ahead in the Gemini program to a seven-day flight in August.

DOCTORS PLEASED

Doctors especially were pleased with the flight.

Dr. Berry, the chief medical officer, said the astronauts were "in much better physical condition than we anticipated."

Doctors aboard the Wasp examined the pair carefully and pronounced them in excellent shape.

After initial medical tests — and after telling their wives by phone that they were feeling fine — the astronauts showered, shaved their four-day beards, and ate a hearty meal of steak and potatoes at the admiral's table.

* * *

Then they went out to the carrier deck and inspected their spacecraft which had been brought aboard shortly after the astronauts' arrival.

'FINE SHAPE'

"It's sure in fine shape," said McDivitt. White agreed, and patted the capsule affectionately.

They inspected the heat shield, then poked their heads inside and explained to the Navy men gathered around some of the inner workings.

The Wasp steamed from the splash-down spot 425 miles east of Cape Kennedy toward the coast of Florida where it will circle off the Jacksonville area until the astronauts are flown back to Houston.

* * *

A motorcade is planned for the astronauts from Ellington AFB near Houston to the space agency nearby, but surely the most heartfelt reception the pair will receive will be from their wives and families.

SIVES PROUD

"This is great! This is great!" Pat McDivitt cried when the Gemini 4 capsule splashed down safely and the speedy recovery operations got under way.

"I'm speechless. Oh, I'm just speechless," she said.

Mrs. White was equally jubilant.

* * *

"I'm the happiest person in the whole world," she exclaimed. "I can't tell you how proud I am. This is the happiest day of my life."

CARO, GIFT

Mrs. White said she was sending her husband an early Father's Day card, a bottle of shaving lotion, and a birthday card to McDivitt who will be 36 Thursday.

When her husband returns, she said, "We'll have the biggest celebration we can have."

The astronauts' safe return to earth was all the more dramatic in view of the broken computer aboard the spacecraft which would have been used for an intricate prelanding maneuver.

* * *

Instead of the pilot performing the maneuver, ground controllers had to do it — somewhat less precisely because of the split-second calculations involved.

ON TIME

Nonetheless, the capsule came home right on time and only 40 miles off the bullseye.

Cmdr. Luther W. S. Laubach of Georgetown, Tex., circling the area in a Navy plane, watched the spacecraft descend beneath its billowing orange and white canopy.

"I saw it hit the water," Laubach said. "There wasn't a terrific splash — it didn't seem to hit too hard."

* * *

Within minutes a helicopter piloted by Cmdr. Clarence O. Fiske of Williamsport, Pa., was hovering overhead, at times a mere 10 feet above the gently bobbing spacecraft. Navy frogmen Neil G. Dow of Princeton, Maine, and Everett W. Owl of Virginia Beach jumped into the water, followed by Lt. J. G. Martin Every.

WINDOW FOGGED

Everyone swam to the right side of the capsule, found the window fogged over, then swam to the other side where McDivitt wiped the window clean and gave him an "okay" sign.

McDivitt climbed out and into a raft. White followed.

Both splashed their faces with water, then the two — first McDivitt, then White — were hoisted into the helicopter. Within 34 minutes they were airborne, heading for the Wasp.

McDivitt had radioed to earth during the 62nd and final orbit, "Don't forget, I want to be recovered in a hurry." And that's precisely what happened.

GOOD HUMOR

The astronauts, whose good-humored banter added a delightfully human dimension to the highly technical mission, seemed in high spirits right to the end.

"Hooray! Hooray! We're going to the Wasp!" McDivitt cried while the frogmen were splashing around the spacecraft.

Later, while strapped to a tilt table undergoing a medical test aboard the carrier, he suddenly burst out with a jubilant warwhoop. "Yahoo!"

Township with the following breakdown: county—5.30 mills; school system—8.70 mills; township — 1 mill; and Oakland Schools — .14 mill.

BASE ALLOCATION

Pontiac Schools received a base allocation of 8.30 mills plus a variable of 1.40 mills to be levied in the city.

The final allocation for school districts was as follows:

Avondale, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Walled Lake and West Bloomfield, 8.30 mills; Berkley, Dublin, Ferndale, Holly, Huron Valley, and Oak Park, 8.70 mills; Brandon, Clawson, Hazel Park, Lamphere Madison, Royal Oak, South Lyon, Southfield and Troy — 9.70 mills.

* * *

Other school district allocations were Clarkston, 8.38, Farmington, 8.50; Lake Orion, 8.56; North Oxford, 8.17; Novi, 8.69; and Oxford Area and Rochester, 8.59.

MILL ALLOWANCE

Townships allowed an even one mill were Groveland, Highland, Holly, Rose, Royal Oak, Waterford and White Lake.

Other township allocations were Addison, 1.29; Avon, 1.32; Bloomfield, 1.40; Brandon, 1.26; Commerce, 1.38; Farmington, 1.20; Independence, 1.32; and Milford, 1.38.

Still others were Novi, 1.01; Orion, 1.14; Oakland and Oxford, 1.11; Pontiac, 1.35; Southfield, 0.53; and West Bloomfield, 1.40.

Lyon and Springfield townships requested no millage allocation and received none.

Vinh Supply Depot Is Blasted in Big Raid

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Thirty-three American jets hit the Vinh supply depot in North Viet Nam again today and pilots reported heavy damage to the target despite intense antiaircraft fire.

The raid on Vinh, 160 miles south of Hanoi, was the heaviest reported as American planes continued to hammer at targets north of the demilitarized zone. Spokesmen said all planes returned safely to their land bases or carrier bases.

* * *

Vinh had been hit Monday by U.S. Air Force planes. After the 10-minute attack today, pilots reported they inflicted extensive damage on the 40 or 50 buildings still standing in the supply depot area. They said exact damage assessments were difficult to make because of the intense ground fire.

Spokesmen said 23 tons of 750-pound bombs were dropped. They said no enemy planes were sighted.

HIT PLANT

Navy pilots said they destroyed 50 per cent of the Co Dinh power plant about 9 miles south of Thanh Hoa. Six Air Force bombers claimed they sank two barges and four sampans near the North Vietnamese coastal town of Ron, 220 miles south of Hanoi.

Another target was the Lan Van radar station near Vinh. Air Force pilots said they damaged numerous buildings, destroyed two antiaircraft positions and also damaged a secondary bridge.

* * *

In the ground war, U.S. Marine patrols killed five Viet Cong and wounded two others in the Da Nang and Chu Lai areas late Monday, spokesmen reported. The Marines captured one of the wounded men and detained 28 others as suspects.

A Viet Cong force overran a government rehabilitation center for Viet Cong defectors 25 miles southwest of Saigon. U.S. military authorities said the guerrillas killed seven government troops, wounded six others and 10 more were missing. One Viet Cong was killed in the hour-long assault.

YANK WOUNDED

Authorities said reinforcements sent into the area failed to find the attackers.

U.S. military spokesmen also announced that a U.S. Army helicopter gunner was wounded in the knee on a combat mission 320 miles north of Saigon Monday. He was reported in good condition.

* * *

A strong Vietnamese government force moved into the central highlands village of Ple Chi, which the Viet Cong occupied during the weekend and said they would hold for 15 days. They pulled out before government troops reached the town.

U.S. military sources announced that the Navy cruiser Canberra carried out six missions last week in support of U.S. Marine and Vietnamese troops. The cruiser pounded suspected Viet Cong positions along the coast with her eight-inch and five-inch guns, the spokesman said.

U.S. Navy warplanes ranged over North Viet Nam for an hour Monday night, bombing and strafing bridges, warehouses, an oil depot and railway cars.

Public Hearing Slated About Parking Structure

BIRMINGHAM — A public hearing will be held June 28 by the City Commission to determine the necessity of an estimated $1,174,800 parking structure in the central business district.

Methods of financing the five-story structure also will be discussed at the 8 p.m. meeting.

The commission set the date for the hearing at its meeting last night.

No decision has yet been made on how the structure will be financed but two methods have been discussed at length among commissioners and merchants who would benefit from the 566-car facility.

* * *

One proposal requires property owners in the district to pay 40 percent of the cost, while the other plan only provides for a rate increase to retire revenue bonds.

HIGHEST RATE

Forty per cent is the highest rate ever assessed property owners in a parking district and was used in improving the present parking lot where the structure is to be built.

The proposed structure is to be constructed on the L-shaped lot fronting Woodward and Willits. It will give the parking system an additional 370 spaces.

Surface parking for about 200 cars will remain in the lot.

* * *

Construction bids for the new structure will be opened July 1.

NEED CITED

City Manager Robert S. Kenning told the commission that it is "imperative that we resolve as soon as possible the method of financing this program."

The structure was designed by the Birmingham architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc.

Mayor Robert Page's plan to warn residents of tornados through the use of the city's civil defense siren met with mixed reaction from commissioners.

He made his proposal several weeks ago but it was tabled until last night.

Plans for additional warning were discussed but no decision was reached.

The Chamber of Commerce also offered its public address system as a means of warning residents but the plan was rejected.

Installed in the downtown district, the system's volume could be increased easily, according to the organization. Normally, the system only operates at 10 per cent of its capacity when piping music through the downtown area.

Peter Lawford Denies Report of Separation

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor Peter Lawford was quoted today as denying a report that he and his wife plan a legal separation.

Lawford, in Hollywood, was quoted by Earl Wilson, whose column appears in The Pontiac Press. Wilson quoted him as saying:

"We have a geographical problem because of my work" but no plans for a separation.

His wife is the former Pat Kennedy, sister of the late president.

The report appeared in Time magazine and Lawford was quoted as laughing at several errors in the text.

"It refers to our three children—well, I've got four of them. It says we're both Roman Catholics. Pat is but I'm not," he was quoted as saying.

MRS. WILLIAM G. WRIGHT

Woman Leads UF Committee

Calvin J. Werner, general chairman of the 1965 Pontiac Area United Fund Campaign, today announced the appointment of Mrs. William G. Wright, 184 Chippewa, as women's committee chairman for this year's drive.

A life-long Pontiac resident, Mrs. Wright has had previous United Fund experience working as a residential and commercial division solicitor.

She is a past president of the Pontiac Area Council of Camp Fire Girls and was women's division chairman for the Y.M.C.A. building fund drive.

"Women have a definite interest in community service and the necessity for it. By working with the United Fund, women can direct this interest into an action program for the whole community," she said in accepting her appointment.

TV Ruling May Affect Ruby

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A Supreme Court decison voiding a Billie Sol Estes conviction because of television cameras at his trial echoed today in arguments over its possible effect on the death sentence assessed Jack Ruby.

By a 5-4 vote the high court held Monday that Estes, the West Texas promoter sentenced to eight years on a state charge of swindling, failed to get a fair trial because part of the proceedings were telecast.

This had no effect, however, on Estes' conviction of mail fraud and conspiracy, for which he drew 15 years. The onetime fertilizer tycoon, now 40, is serving that term in federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan.

Fresh debate arose almost at once over the influence of television and other news coverage at the state court trials of both Estes in Tyler and of Ruby, who killed presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, two years later in Dallas.

TO PROSECUTE ANEW

Dist. Atty. A. R. Archer Jr. said at Monahans, that he would prosecute Estes anew on the state charges —either the same case or companion indictments. Archer said he would be accused of neglecting his duty if he did not prosecute and of "trying to stomp the old boy when he is down" if he brought Estes to trial again.

A nationwide television audience saw Ruby, operator of a Dallas striptease joint, shoot Oswald in the City Hall basement two days after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy here Nov. 22, 1963.

Ruby heard a court jury pronounce him guilty of murder and call for the death penalty at the end of his Dallas trial before Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown. Before letting lawyers argue for and against reversal of this verdict, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has ordered a sanity hearing for Ruby.

In Ruby's case, television cameras were allowed in the courtroom only as the jury returned its verdict.

OVER DEFENSE PROTESTS

Live television was permitted —over defense protests — until a jury was completed in the Estes trial and as jurors reported their decision, with only silent filming of the testimony and none during final arguments.

Judge Brown said the Supreme Court ruling on Estes had no bearing on the Ruby case: "Only the verdict was televised, so his rights were not infringed. Besides, the defendant agreed to it."

Joe Tonahill, still recognized by the appellate court as counsel for Ruby although removed from the case recently by a district judge, took a different view.

Tonahill, in Jasper, Tex., said he is incorporating an argument that television "damaged Ruby's public and appeals image" into a brief contending his client did not receive a fair trial.

AGREES W""H JUDGE

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade of Dallas, the chief prosecutor, agreed with Judge Brown. By the time the jury reported its verdict, Wade said, "the situation had gone too far for the television to affect the outcome."

A lawyer engaged by Ruby's family to replace Tonahill, Sol Dann, declared in Detroit: "If publicity, television and any other such thing was responsible for Estes not getting a fair trial, that certainly applies with more force in the case against Ruby."

Space Officials Look to Stars After Gemini Success

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A space agency official, commenting on the remarkable flight of Gemini 4, said: "You ain't seen nothing yet."

He was looking to future U.S. man-in-space flights which will be launched on an accelerated schedule as a result of the success of astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II.

* * *

Gemini spacecraft will hook up with other satellites; the pilots will perform intricate maneuvers during trips up to two weeks; and men will walk and work outside their orbiting spacecraft for longer periods than the excursion made by White.

Then on to the moon — perhaps only three years from now — and man's greatest adventure.

READY TITAN 2

Even as McDivitt and White were being hoisted from the Atlantic Ocean Monday after their four-day trip, the Titan 2 rocket for Gemini 5 was being erected at Cape Kennedy.

* * *

The crew will be veteran Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr., whose 34-hour American space flight record was shattered by Gemini 4, and rookie pilot Charles Conrad Jr. They have a late August date with the stars.

* * *

Cooper and Conrad are to stay in space for seven days, but space agency officials hinted they could be up for a longer time — based on preliminary data from Gemini 4.

* * *

Dr. Charles A. Berry, director of Gemini medical operations, said that preliminary examination of McDivitt and White indicates that "we've knocked down a lot of straw men with this mission."

He said that weightlessness apparently is not as dangerous as was feared, at least not for four days. Cooper had shown some disquieting symptoms, especially in the heart and blood vessel systems, as did Soviet cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky after his record five-day space trip.

Berry said that a rigid exercise schedule with a stretch cord apparently helped McDivitt and White to overcome any aftereffects of weightlessness.

Berry also listed the buildup of heat in a spacecraft as another toppled "straw man." He said a steady temperature of around 65 degrees, with no humidity, was maintained throughout the flight.

The physician said White experienced no dizziness during his space walk — as the Russian Alexei Leonov reported on his March 18 stroll.

A MILESTONE

Gemini project director Charles Mathews called Gemini 4 a milestone, "and now we're looking forward to the real interesting things contemplated in the future."

He said the Gemini 5 spacecraft will be somewhat different than Gemini 4. For one thing it will generate electrical power from a fuel cell — a device which converts liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen into energy. It will replace bulky batteries with a great saving in weight.

The fuel cell will give Gemini 5 a long-life capability. A similar cell is being developed for Apollo man-to-the-moon flights.

* * *

Cooper and Conrad also will launch their own satellite from the nose of their spacecraft. It will be an instrumental sphere the size of a beach ball. Then they will use a radar system to practice rendezvousing with it. McDivitt and White had no radar to help in their futile attempt to maneuver close to the orbiting second stage of their booster rocket.

VITAL REHEARSAL

The rendezvous exercise will be a vital rehearsal for the first U.S. attempt to hook up a manned spacecraft with another orbiting satellite.

The flight is scheduled in October, with astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford in Gemini 6. The target satellite will be the second stage of an Atlas-Agena rocket launched one or more orbits before Gemini 6.

Stafford plans to leave the spacecraft after the hookup and practice working with tools on spacecraft nuts and bolts. He could be the forerunner of space repairmen who ferry between satellites to fix balky equipment.

Gemini 7 is planned as a 14-day mission in December. The remaining five flights in the Gemini program then will practice various rendezvous, docking and astronaut emergence maneuvers.

* * *

Mathews said that the schedule will be flexible and that the success of Gemini 4 certainly should encourage attempts at bolder steps than originally envisioned.

The Gemini program is expected to conclude late next year if it maintains a schedule of a flight every two months.

* * *

Starting in 1967, three-man Apollo teams will be launched into earth orbit to rehearse for moon shots. Initially, they will be boosted by the Saturn 1 rocket — a vehicle four times more powerful than the Titan 2.

Then will come the pulse-pounding earth orbit flights with the full 92,000-pound Apollo capsule boosted by the giant Saturn 5 with 20 times the power of Titan 2.

SATURN 5

If there are no hitches, Apollo program director Dr. Joseph Shea said that the first team of three astronauts could be launched to the moon on the third manned Saturn 5 rocket. That could mean a landing in 1968 instead of the present target date of 1969, he said.

After that?

* * *

Moon colonization; year-long trips to Mars, Venus and other points in the solar system; space stations that orbit for years.

All are being considered. Such will be the legacy of Gemini 4, the shots that preceded it and those that will follow.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Pontiac Press Photo

Mrs. Donald C. Weaver of Kalamazoo (left) returned to Pontiac Monday evening to attend a meeting of the Waterford Child Study Club which honored many of its former members. With her is Mrs. John Sawyers, Olympic Parkway, new president of the group. Mrs. Weaver was the first president.

Study Group Celebrates 15th Year

Ten charter members of the original 19 were present at Monday night's meeting of the Waterford Child Study Club.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Erwin Greer of Southward Drive was hostess, assisted by Mrs. William J. Emerson.

★ ★ ★

The group's first president, Mrs. Donald C. Weaver of Kalamazoo, installed officers for the coming year.

★ ★ ★

Serving as president will be Mrs. John Sawyers. Vice presidents are Mrs. Robert Holan and Mrs. Richard Kuhn.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bruce Gorte and Mrs. Richard Ladouceur are secretaries; Mrs. Morton Jacobs, treasurer and Mrs. Thomas Spragle, historian.

15th ANNIVERSARY

This was the 15th anniversary of the club. Since its beginning, 150 children have been influenced by what their mothers learned at meetings.

★ ★ ★

All the past presidents were present. In addition to Mrs. Weaver, they are Mrs. James DenHerder, Mrs. Dean Toles, Mrs. Harlan Oakes, Mrs. Edmund Windeler, Mrs. Greer, Mrs. William Freyermuth and Mrs. Norman Cheal.

OTHER GUESTS

Former members who were guests were Mrs. William Bowden, Mrs. Lauren Manhart of Birmingham, Mrs. Paul McCoy and Mrs. C. H. Alden.

★ ★ ★

Completing the list are Mrs. Gordon Bennett of Grand Blanc, Mrs. Donald Redmond, Mrs. William Shunck and Mrs. Neil Hunter.

Milliner Sews Astronauts' Hats

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — United States astronauts who go to the moon will wear headgear designed and produced by a ladies' milliner.

★ ★ ★

Anne Sary, for 33 years proprietor of a hat shop in Hartford, where her originals sell for $15 and up, has won a National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) contract for the protective headgear to be worn by the Project Apollo astronauts under their bubble helmets.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Sary can't say much about the headgear or what it looks like because "the Apollo program is all in the future."

★ ★ ★

But, she explains, it meets three basic NASA requirements: it's comfortable, durable and not too warm.

SIX WEEKS

About six millinery designers were asked to submit ideas, and Mrs. Sary won.

"I'm just as proud as I can be that it was awarded to me," she says. "It was lots of hard work while I was designing it."

★ ★ ★

That alone took six weeks, she says. And that was just a beginning.

★ ★ ★

"I thought all I'd have to do was design a helmet — a cap type thing that fastens under the chin," she says.

But after she sent in her prototype, back came "a sheaf of papers listing changes they needed."

★ ★ ★

"NASA is terribly exacting," she explains. For instance, NASA told her some of her stitches were off by a thousandth of an inch. She had measured with an ordinary tape measure.

"Good heavens, do you measure these things with a micrometer?" Mrs. Sary asked.

"As a matter of fact, we do," NASA told her.

Mrs. Sary works on the headgear by herself in a locked room in her home.

Astronauts' milliner Mrs. Anne Sary, who is designing headgear for Project Apollo, works in her hat shop on chapeaux for her women customers.

She says she makes them with a regular professional sewing machine, a "special machine," and a lot of hand work.

At first she used her son, Wilfrid, 16, as a model, but his head hasn't developed enough yet.

So she asked NASA for a model, and received a "Yul Brynner" — a wooden block model of a man's head.

PARTTIME

She works on the NASA contract only at night and on weekends, because during the day she has her millinery business to attend to. She says she stays up all night sometimes to get a model finished.

"I have to have a model ready when they have a space suit ready," she says.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Sary, a native of Luton, Bedfordshire, England, a millinery center, worked in high fashion shops in Paris and Boston before coming to Hartford to establish her own shop.

She says she likes designing spacemen's hats. "It's a challenge to do something different. I'm quite elated that my creations may end up on the moon, and very, very proud."

Case of Missing Hairbrush Is No Longer a Mystery

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago you had an item in your column telling the party who had picked up her beauty operator's favorite hairbrush please to return it quietly and there would be no questions asked, as someone had witnessed her little stunt.

ABBY

Well, Abby, I am not the beauty operator who wrote to you with that problem, but someone did steal my favorite hairbrush about a year ago, and one day last week it suddenly was back in my drawer. So thanks a lot.

LUCY AT THE LOOKING GLASS

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

DEAR "JUST": No, but return it anyway.

Father Can Be Stylish!

Father may pretend he isn't interested in clothes, but he can be persuaded to try something new if he gets it as a gift.

Shown here are a few ideas for Fathers Day gifts.

★ ★ ★

All men will appreciate the new lightweight fabrics being used in suits; these often combine both natural and synthetic fibers.

There's more color in sport jackets and in evening wear. Interest in madras remain high.

★ ★ ★

More and more clothing for men is the wash-and-wear type. This includes some ties and lots of sportswear.

Big news in shoes is the use of the new material Corfam which needs only a damp cloth for cleaning.

R. J. Nikoras Heading North for Honeymoon

In northern Michigan for their honeymoon are P.O.3.C. Electronics-Radarman Robert James Nikora USN and his bride, the former Penny Ann Guy.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are the Alton R. Guys of North Cass Lake Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Nikora of Ferndale.

★ ★ ★

The bride chose a street-length dress of white nylon lace over satin. She carried white carnations and pink rosebuds.

★ ★ ★

Carol Warden and Charles Dearing attended the couple at the ceremony performed by Justice of the Peace Patrick K. Daly.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom is stationed on the USS Okinawa at Norfolk, Va.

Bridal Couple Guests After Rehearsal

The Ervin Barnowskys of East Rundell Street will host the rehearsal dinner for their daughter Gloria and her fiance, Michael D. Gilbert of Detroit, June 18, at Devon Gables.

A shower on Sunday in the Berkley home of Mrs. Charles Mersino honored the bride-elect.

★ ★ ★

Earlier this month, Mrs. Louis Humphreys and Catherine Barnowsky were cohostesses at a shower in the home of Mrs. Frank Bilyeau on Auburn Avenue.

Parents of the bridegroom-elect are the David D. Gilberts of Oscoda.

Mrs. Clark J. Adams Hosts WNFG Picnic

Mrs. Clark J. Adams was hostess to Pontiac branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, for the annual meeting and picnic luncheon, Monday, in her home on West Walton Boulevard.

A new slate of officers was elected for the coming year with Mrs. Robert Alton again serving as president.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Frederick Cockle is first vice president and Mrs. Oscar H. Lundbeck, second vice president; Mrs. Harold W. Dudley, will continue as recording secretary and Mrs. Vaughn Garrison, as treasurer. Mrs. Edward P. Barrett is corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Adams, who is conservation chairman, announced that the branch will sponsor two teachers at the conservation camp at Higgins Lake this summer.

It will also send a local woman to the Homemakers' Conference at East Lansing.

SCHOLARSHIP

A young student of agriculture at Michigan State University will be the recipient of the annual scholarship award. A contribution to the YWCA building fund was approved.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Vernon C. Abbott and Mrs. Loren C. Sheffield, social cochairmen for the day, were assisted by Mrs. Louis H. Schimmel, Mrs. Clarence T. Starker, Mrs. C. T. Ekelund, Mrs. Goodloe H. Rogers and Mrs. Mahlon A. Benson Jr.

K. of C. Hall Brunch Site

Our Lady of the Lakes Circle No. 479, Daughters of Isabella, will host a "luncheon Is Served" brunch Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall on South Saginaw Street.

Proceeds will go to the Pontiac Central Catholic High School building fund.

Rose Griffin is chairman of the affair.

Puppeteers Will Present June Shows

An unusual entertainment for children and adults will come to Detroit when the Puppeteers of America hold their 30th annual Festival at the Detroit Institute of Arts, beginning June 24.

Festival puppeteers will present three evenings of cabaret-style shows 'for adults only' in the museum's Kresge Court.

Performances are at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. on June 24 through 26.

Especially for children, are four afternoon performances scheduled at 2 p.m. Thursday is Pinocchio; Friday, Hansel and Gretel and Variety Marionettes; Saturday, Cinderella; and Sunday, the Golden Phoenix and Punch and Judy.

Black and white speak of fashion in summer shoes, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. The new poromeric Corfam material takes the worry out of keeping whites white. Both the all-white saddles and the black-and-white three-eyelet oxfords can be kept immaculately clean with a damp cloth. The black leather slipons show one of the many ways elasticized gores are incorporated into summer shoe styling.

Stretch debuts this season in a casual hat that takes to the rain or the golf course with equal aplomb. A bucket design in Klopman's Mills' double-duty poplin of dacron-cotton and Lycra, it incorporates another important fabric innovation in its stretch band that adjusts easily to the head size. Literally "no higher than a man's head," this hat by Dobbs would be a most comfortable choice for wear in an automobile. About $6.50.

Bond's sport coats for summer have pattern interest. Shown here are two natural shoulder, three-button models with notched lapels and flap pockets. Fashioned in tropical dacron and worsted, both styles are tapered slightly at the waist but with enough ease to allow for comfort. Left, the Ashley; right, the Penn. Each about $33.

This beige suit—a light shade in a season of darker tones—is a smartly cut two-button model in a dapper "silk look" fabric of dacron polyester and wool with fish mouth lapels and center vent. By Varsity Town, about $85. Available locally.

Trading Is Dull

Mart Moves Irregularly Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market drifted irregularly lower early today in dull trading.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional. Many were unchanged.

A big drag on the averages was du Pont, down 2.

The top four steelmakers were all unchanged. General Motors erased its initial fractional loss.

MONDAY'S LOSSES

Recovering from Monday's losses, U.S. Rubber and IBM moved up a point each.

A steady to higher tone prevailed among airlines, drugs and tobaccos.

* * *

The trend was lower among nonferrous metals and mail order-retails.

* * *

Moderate gains were made by Zenith, Polaroid, Schering, Pfizer, Eastern Air Lines, United Airlines, Southern Pacific and Standard Oil of Indiana.

Hunt Continues for Slayer of 3

Attention Centers on Texas Mystery Girl

BIG SPRINGS, Neb. (UPI) — A nationwide hunt for a college graduate charged with killing three persons in a Nebraska bank holdup continued today while attention centered on a mystery girl in Texas.

Federal authorities declined to say whether they were closing in on Duane Pope, 22, charged with last Friday's $1,500 robbery in this Nebraska Panhandle ranch town.

But a cafe owner in Hutchinson, Kan., said he was "just about positive" Pope was in his cafe yesterday, and federal agents were reported closely watching the mystery girl in Fort Worth, Tex.

Sources said the girl attended McPherson (Kan.) College with Pope and that the well-liked McPherson football captain had dated her.

* * *

TELEPHONED GIRL

Shortly after the bank robbery Friday, sources said Pope had telephoned a girl in Fort Worth.

Pope's whereabouts have remained a mystery since he rented a car in Salina, Kan., the day before the robbery and slayings. The car was returned to Salina Friday night.

Formal murder charges against Pope were filed Thursday while the three victims of the bank robbery were buried.

* * *

Bank President Andrea Kjeldgaard, 77, cashier Glen Hendrickson, 59, and Mrs. Lois Ann Hothan, 35, a cashier and widowed mother of two children, were slain by the bank robber while they lay helpless on the bank floor.

Confidence Seems Unshaken

Business Pulse Okay

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Business health continues apparently unshaken by disputes over monetary policies or government guidelines for the behavior of industry and labor unions.

DAWSON

Judged by the latest flow of statistics, business confidence seems little affected even by nervous twitches in the stock market over international trouble spots or comparisons of today's prosperity with the 1929 boom and bust.

* * *

Key industries report sales still strong, some records being set in production, and a steady flow of new orders that promise busy months ahead.

Autos and steel, the two segments where an early summer letdown has been most feared, have entered June at record, or near-record, speed.

2-WEEK CLIMB

Steel output has climbed for two straight weeks. The latest weekly tonnage is 2,727,000, just 79,000 tons below the record poured in the week ended April 24. The drop from that record in the first three weeks of May appears to have been due as much to repair work at overstrained mills as to any easing of demand.

Most mills report orders on the books will keep them going near top speed through June and July. Any inclination of steel users to live off built-up inventories may have been postponed till after the strike deadline of Sept. 1, or until a wage pact settlement is reached.

Auto production has set a monthly record for six straight months. The spurt of sales and output in the opening months of the year at the time had been thought due largely to shortages caused by last fall's strikes.

But figures for May show that Americans are still buying cars at a great rate, setting a record for that month.

PERCENTAGE UP

Assemblies in May rose to 837,168 cars, or 15 per cent higher than the previous record for May, set last year. The first five months of 1965 saw 4,259,628 cars produced, compared with 3,654,697 in the like period of 1964.

Auto industry confidence rides high. June assemblies are expected to rise to 902,000 cars, or 16 per cent more than a year earlier. This would make the second quarter output of around 2,600,000 cars higher even than the first quarter which many had forecast would be the high for 1965 model production.

* * *

The fast pace continues in many other industries.

New orders for all U.S. factories rose to a record in April of $41.2 billion, up a half-billion from the previous record set in March.

NEW ORDERS

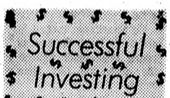
Business puts special emphasis on new orders because they indicate activity in the weeks and months ahead, as distinguished from production figures which show how business is doing now, or has been doing in past weeks.

Order backlogs on factory books have been pushed close to $59 billion by the upsurge in new orders.

* * *

These are the health statistics businessmen watch while government economists and officials debate whether the ups and downs of the business cycle have been licked.

The stock market may wonder how long the four-year-old economic upswing can continue without a breather or a downturn. But many of the current statistics, and many important indicators of things to come, still point upward.



By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "I am 77 years of age and have heavy medical bills. I live with a son and his family who cannot afford any expense on my account. I own 900 Pacific Gas & Electric; 300 Safeway Stores; 100 Chesapeake & Ohio and 50 U. S. Steel. I have a considerable capital gain on all my stocks. These, with Social Security, provide my entire income and I am anxious to guarantee that I don't become a burden to my family. Do you suggest any changes?" I. C.

(A) Your list requires little change. You are overly represented in Pacific Gas & Electric, but I should not be concerned about that in your particular stiuation.

The only stock I suggest switching is U. S. Steel, which is subject to wide price variations and yields less than four per cent. I advise exchanging this stock for Green Shoe, offering a better than four per cent return.

* * *

(Q) "I plan to retire at age 60 with a small pension. Our home has a $15,000, six per cent mortgage. We have $15,000 in savings at 4¼ per cent. I should like to pay off the mortgage with my savings, unless you think it would be wiser to invest in stocks for more income." R. B.

(A) I would use my savings to retire the mortgage. I believe generally that long-term debt at a low rate is sound in principle, provided you can afford it. Inflation is not dead in this country and future indebtedness is likely to be paid off with a cheaper dollar.

If you have given me the whole story, I don't see how you can continue to carry your mortgage, even after deducting interest earned on savings. There are no safe stocks that would give you sufficient income to cover your mortgage costs.

If Needed—Romney

'May Offer Fiscal Plan'

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney declared yesterday that if necessary, he'll present his own program of specific tax reform at the fall legislative session.

But he warned lawmakers they should bring expenditures and revenues into line before they go home for their summer recess.

Democrats announced Friday that the House and Senate would come back to the capitol this fall to consider taxes.

Romney took credit at his news conference for changing the minds of the legislative leadership, whom he said told him last December that there would be no tax action in 1965 or 1966.

* * *

The governor said he would press forward in his attempts to develop a bipartisan program of tax reform. As he has said since January, "a bipartisan program . . . is more likely to produce results than any program developed on any other basis.

SPECIFIED REFORM

"However, if this approach should not prove successful," he said, "I will submit a program of specified reform at the fall session of the legislature."

The Republican governor said that "this apparent decision of majority leaders of the House and Senate does not change my position on safeguards for our state's fiscal integrity one iota.

"As I have made clear previously, appropriations bills at this sitting of the legislature should not establish a level of expenditure for the next two fiscal years in excess of the funds that we can confidently expect to be available without the necessity of tax action at some future date."

* * *

Last week Romney said legislature appropriations thus far approved in one or the other House would mean a deficit of $58 million by July 1, 1967.

Yesterday he said that "if expenditures exceeding revenue from present taxes and surplus are considered essential, then tax action supporting such expenditures should be taken now, not next fall."

Romney said three key steps toward fiscal reform have been accomplished since December.

- Legislative leaders appointed committees to work with him in developing a program.
- There have been indications legislators accept the notion that the state must maintain fiscal integrity—or spend within its means.
- By calling the fall session, the legislative leadership has answered positively the question, "do we need tax reform now?"

"I'm hopeful this change means they are prepared to work out a bipartisan tax reform program," said Romney.

3 Trustees for Hospital to Be Named

Appointments to the board of trustees of Pontiac General Hospital are expected to highlight tonight's City Commission meeting.

* * *

Three terms on the hospital board expire June 30. Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, a two-term board member, has indicated that he does not wish reappointment.

Other terms expiring are those of Aleck Capsalis, board chairman, and Isaac Smoot.

In other business, appointments are also to be made to the Housing Board of Appeals.

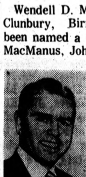
* * *

Still other business is to include a public hearing on rezoning for a multiple housing-shopping center complex on Pontiac's east side.

Developer Charles L. Langs of 3631 Dorothy, Waterford Township, is scheduled to request that the commission delay final action on his rezoning request.

Business Notes

Wendell D. Moore, 6910 South Clunbury, Birmingham, has been named a vice president of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc.



MOORE

Account executive on the Cadillac Motor Car Division account for the Bloomfield Hills advertising agency, Moore joined the agency in 1961 after being advertising manager of the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. and later director of advertising and sales promotion for Dodge.

Norman J. Ellis, 7425 Lahser, Bloomfield Township, will receive the Distinguished Alumni Award at Michigan State University's annual spring commencement exercise Sunday.

Ellis, of the class of 1935, is general director of personnel for the Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors. He joined the company in 1935 as a personnel clerk in the Flint plant and has held his present title since 1957.
